County 'Moon' Makers Eagerly Await Firing

By SYLVIA de STEIGER

Working on a new scientific adventure for the U.S. government, such as probing the universe by launching America's first satellite into outer space, is definitely an honor.

But, it also can be a mystery with much suspense.

MADE SHELL

Take today for instance. A magnesium firm headed by an Oakland County father and son "probably made the 6.4 shell of the satellite" which was slated to be rocketed through the skies today.

Theirs is the only company in the United States with which the Navy has contracts to make them.

Yet, they "don't know for sure," if it's their "Sputnik."

So reports Edward H. Perkins Jr., of Birmingham, vice president of Brooks & Perkins Inc., in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

"It's not a classified project that we are working on. But yet I'm not certain what the Navy want us to release," Perkins explained. His father, E. Howard Perkins Sr., of Royal Oak, is president of the company.

"All I can tell you is that we have made a number of these 6.4 inch satellites for the Navy. I understand they, too, have done some research in making them.

When asked how many satellites of this size the company had produced, Perkins reluctantly said: "All I can say is that we have made somewhere between 10 to 20. I don't even think I should give you the exact number."

NAVY MUM

Perkins went on to say that the Navy has not told him if the outer covering for the man-made moon to be launched at Cape Canaveral, Fla. today is or is not the one they made.

"We presume it is," he said.

The work of the Detroit firm in preparing for America's satellite program is constructing the outer coverings for the "moons."

Each shell consists of two hemispheres connected to a a central framework, according to Perkins. One half is connected to the frame by thousands of tiny jewelers' screws. This allows its removal so the highly intricate instruments can be installed. The other half is riveted to the frame.

The sphere is made of magnesium plated with gold with a skin thickness of approximately 28-1000 of an inch.

WASHINGTON'S TREE — Centerpiece of Washington, D. C.'s fourth annual Christmas Pageant of Peace is this 60-foot Minnesota white spruce. The tree is being erected on the Ellipse, near the White House (background). President Eisenhower will open the pageant by throwing a switch to light thousands of bulbs on the tree.

Ike Tells GOP 'No Overall Increase'

Cuts to Balance Boosts

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower reportedly indicated to Republican congressional leaders today that the administration hopes to avoid any over-all increase in spending in the next fiscal year despite plans for greater defense outlays.

That word came out of a White House conference at which the leaders were briefed on the domestic legislative program which the President will submit to Congress next month.

Eisenhower, still reported getting along fine in recuperation from a mild stroke, met yesterday with the congressional leaders of both parties to outline the administration's national defense and foreign policy programs.

He told that session that he plans to ask for about a two-billion-dollar hike in defense spending.

Leaving today's conference early, Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) indicated strongly that Eisenhower hopes to keep over-all spending — for domestic and international programs —from increasing much above the $71,800,000,000 he requested for the current fiscal year. The new budget will be for the year starting July 1.

Before today's session got under way Sens. Bridges (R-NH) and Saltonstall (R-Mass) said in separate interviews they believe the administration will be able to avoid deficit spending.

Bridges, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee,

Adlai Refuses Ike's Invitation

To Skip NATO Parley Because He Would Be 'Without Authority'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson started slipping out of his role as Democratic consultant to the Eisenhower administration today.

★ ★ ★

The titular head of the Democratic Party — loser to President Eisenhower in the 1952 and 1956 presidential elections — announced last night he had no desire to extend his consultations to the Dec. 16 Atlantic Pact (NATO) meeting in Paris.

He gave this reason: If he went, he would be "without authority."

Stevenson said he agreed with most of the Eisenhower proposals for revitalizing NATO, to be presented at Paris. But he acknowledged "differences between us."

★ ★ ★

The two met just before a briefing of Republican and Democratic congressional leaders on the plans for NATO and on other foreign and defense policy plans.

★ ★ ★

"The President could not have been more cordial," Stevenson told a questioner.

★ ★ ★

Stevenson himself first announced Eisenhower's invitation that he accompany the U.S. delegation to the Paris meeting, and said then he probably would wait a week or 10 days to decide.

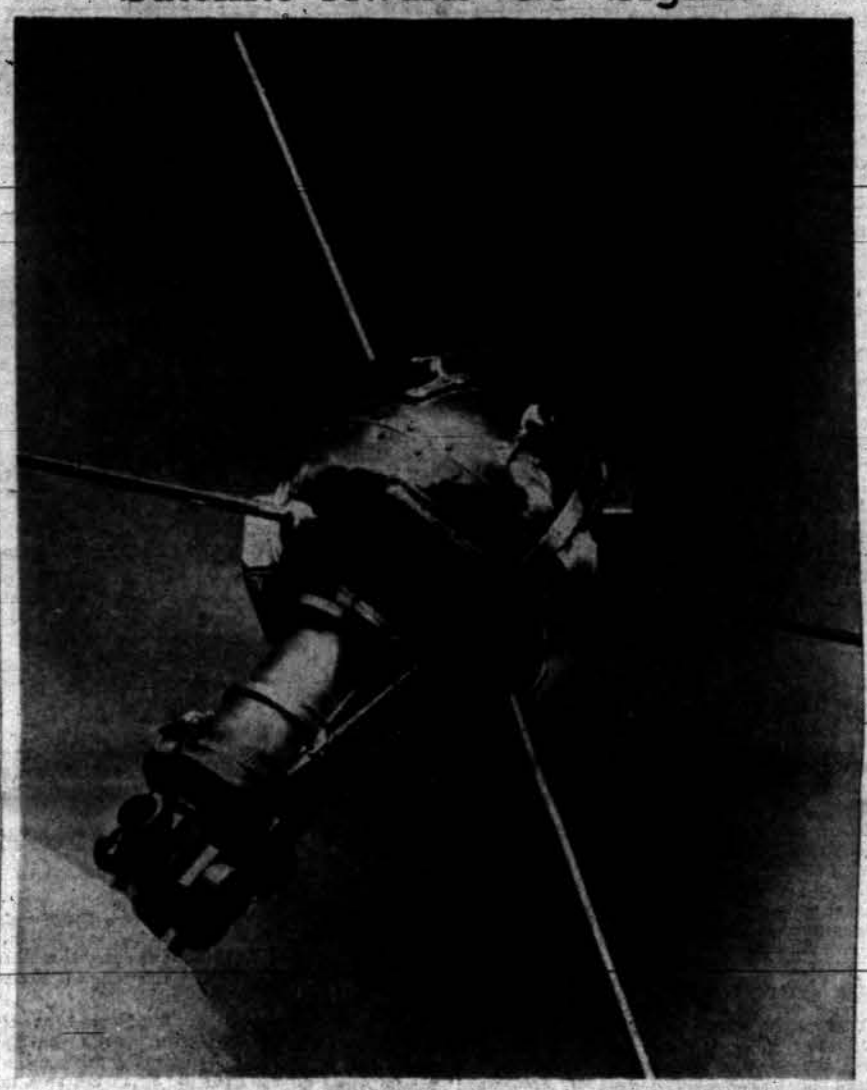

Tigers Fail to Make Deal With Washington

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—A Detroit Tiger deal for catcher Lou Berberet of Washington fell through because the Senators wanted Reno Bertoia included in the swap.

John McHale, general manager of the Tigers, said he would "start all over" in his attempts to obtain Berberet.

Washington manager Cookie Lavagetto broke off negotiations when the Tigers decided against including Bertoia, a 22-year-old infielder.

Satellite Awaits 'Go' Signal

MOONLET CLOSEUP—Poised atop the third stage of its Vanguard rocket carrier is the grapefruit-sized U.S. earth satellite, scheduled for a voyage into space late this afternoon from the Cape Canaveral, Fla. launching site. The tiny sphere has six antennas and two radio transmitters which can send signals to tracking stations on the ground hundreds of miles away. The rectangular objects on the surface of the aluminum sphere are solar (sun-powered) batteries which will supply power for the transmitters.

Excitement Prevails as Rocket Gets Checkup at Florida Base

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Overcast skies warned of prospect of rain and brisk winds today for the launching of the first U.S. satellite.

Air Force weathermen forecast possible showers between 2 and 4 p.m. Launching of the baby moon is set tentatively for 4 p.m. Winds of 13-15 miles per hour also were forecast.

Rain would not affect firing of the Vanguard rocket carrying the satellite, but the wind could.

Experts on the Vanguard project have explained any wind above 10 miles per hour would make itself felt on a rocket's flight.

While engineers and technicians prepared the Vanguard rocket for firing, fisherman went about their business as usual.

Sixty-four shrimp and commercial fishing vessels hovered in the Atlantic within sight of the top secret missile base.

WORK FEVERISHLY

A series of postponements was announced during the night as scientists worked feverishly to ready the 72-foot high Vanguard rocket for its firing from the launching pad at Cape Canaveral.

★ ★ ★

The new 4 p.m. target time was set when Herschel Schooley, Defense Department information director, disclosed that a fresh start was made at 5 a.m., on an 11-hour "countdown" for the firing.

Trooper Standing By Testimony on Hoffa

NEW YORK (AP)—All-day cross-examination yesterday by two lawyers failed to shake testimony by a former New York state trooper against James R. Hoffa, president-elect of the Teamsters Union.

The witness, Rudolph L. Doelicke, stuck to previous testimony that Hoffa and Owen Brennan, president of Michigan Teamsters Local 337, were responsible for ordering wiretap installations in Hoffa's Detroit office.

Doelicke also has testified that he helped Bernard Spindel, professional wiretapper of Holmes, N.Y., install equipment in the office so that Hoffa could find out what union subordinates were telling official rackets investigators.

Hoffa, Brennan and Spindel are being tried before Federal Judge Frederick VanPelt Bryan and a jury on charges of conspiring in New York to set up the wiretapping equipment in Detroit.

The trial continues today.

Meanwhile in Washington, a man who played a major role in deciding which delegates could vote at the Teamsters Union's Miami Beach convention was

City Buses to Run at Night

Beginning Friday night, bus service in Pontiac will be resumed through Dec. 24 for the convenience of Christmas shoppers.

★ ★ ★

E. W. Dreasher, superintendent of the Pontiac City Lines, Inc., announced regular bus runs at night through 9:45 will be restored Monday through Saturday nights.

Most downtown stores beginning Friday night will remain open until 9 p.m. through Dec. 23.

On Christmas Eve the shops will close at 5:30, according to Sidney Barnett president of the Retail Merchants Assn. of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

★ ★ ★

The resumption of bus service, in conjunction with these night store hours, follows a shutdown of all night runs, except for Mondays and Fridays, due to lack of patronage.

Partly Cloudy Today, Warmer Thursday

A snowstorm forecast for Lower Michigan yesterday failed to materialize, and the U. S. Weather Bureau said today temperatures are moving upward.

★ ★ ★

Jackson, Battle Creek and Monroe reported light snow late yesterday. For the most part, the snowstorm stayed south of Michigan, sweeping through Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York.

★ ★ ★

Partly cloudy and a little warmer is the prediction for the Pontiac area tonight and tomorrow by the weatherman. Tonight's low will be around 26. The high temperature for tomorrow will reach near 40 degrees.

★ ★ ★

The lowest thermometer reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 23 degrees. The mercury rose to 32 at 2 p.m.

Liner Reaches Ship Caught in Hurricane

HONOLULU (INS) — The liner President Monroe, with 67 world-cruising passengers aboard, reached the crippled Greek freighter Margarita Chandris in the storm-tossed mid-Pacific today to start the hazardous task of rescuing 31 crewmen.

The cargo-passenger liner arrived at the scene, 478 miles west of Honolulu, as the Margarita Chandris was drifting helplessly toward Hurricane Nina, the center of which was reported only 50 miles away.

Fragmentary radio messages from the cargoless Greek merchant ship indicated it had a disabled engine or faulty steering mechanism. It was being battered by heavy seas in 60 mile per hour winds.

The President Monroe was the first of three rescue vessels to reach the distressed freighter.

State, Local Officials Plan Study of Saginaw Lights

State Highway Dept. officials will come to Pontiac next week to study what they believe is an "obsolete" traffic signal system on Saginaw street between Lafayette and South Boulevard.

City Traffic Engineer Theodore M. Vanderstempel said he has conferred with officials who had traveled the route here and found the lighting "in need of revision."

Vanderstempel said he was aware of the weaknesses in the signal system but was handicapped in that revision needed state approval because Saginaw is a state trunkline.

A recent Press editorial pointed out the difficulty in traveling this one-mile stretch because of the number of lights and their timing.

Vanderstempel said the system, which has been in effect for many years, should be replaced with a multi-dial system whereby the lights could be timed for different times of the day.

"The timing is now 60 seconds 24 hours a day," he said. "It should be more during certain hours and less at other times."

State officials are expected to confer with him and City Manager Walter K. Willman Dec. 12 on the subject.

Plans are also being made, Vanderstempel said, for new and additional lights at the Oakland - Saginaw intersection as part of the proposal to re-time the Saginaw lights.

BLTN, Meaning 'Better Late Than Never,' Suggested

U.S. Gets Lots of Help Finding Name for Satellite

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia has the Sputnik but we still don't have a name for our own satellite.

★ ★ ★

This is not the fault of the American people. A newspaper writer—this one, as a matter of fact — invited suggestions some weeks ago and the replies are still coming in. Very ingenious, many of them. The public applied itself.

★ ★ ★

Trouble is not many of the suggestions are likely to appeal to those in authority.

They tend to be a bit sarcastic, to point up the fact that this country was a couple of months behind a certain other great power in getting a baby moon operating.

C. J. McQuade, managing editor of the Beckley (W.Va.) Raleigh Register, suggests the name "Fore."

"This golfing term is rightly or wrongly identified with the American government. Too, it sometimes denotes late comers who for one reason or another get in a hurry," he explained.

★ ★ ★

"Just name it 'The Laggard,'" proposes Telmer P. Vaughan of Charleston, S. C.—an idea that may not appeal to the planners of Navy Operation Vanguard, which was given the job of getting the moonlet and others like it off the ground.

"The name, naturally would be 'Disputnik,'" gibes Ed Ritcher of Nazareth, Pa.

"Why not call ours 'Me, Too?'" inquires Ralph D. Braisted of San Francisco.

And Dick Gibbons of the Battle Creek (Mich.) Enquirer and News suggests either "Mad Ball" or "BLTN," the latter meaning "better late than never."

Not all the suggestions are of a scoffing nature, to be sure.

Dallas Brightwell of Frankfort, Ky., offers "Ikenik" as a tribute to both President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon.

Mrs. J. H. Piper of Shelton, Wash., favors "Moon Scout," since her husband used to be a Boy Scout executive.

Adah Manning Young of Havre, Mont., will settle for nothing less than "Fastmostest."

And Winifred M. Flynn of Hammond, Ind., contributes "Red Herring II" as a reproach to Communists who have stolen U. S. scientific secrets.

Doubtless there is food for thought in all these proposed names, but none, somehow, taps you in the back of the head like good old "Sputnik," to say nothing of the later "Muttnik."

"Sputnik" is, of course, nothing more or less than the Russian word for "satellite." Maybe we'd be well-advised to follow the Russians' example, stop trying to be clever and just call a spade a spade—or, in this case, a satellite a satellite.

★ ★ ★

Maybe "satellite" sounds as crazy to the Russians as "Sputnik" does to us.

The shell is gold plated inside and out by the company. Four more coatings are added to the outside by the Naval Research Lab.

Besides the 6.4 inch satellite which will be used today, the company has also made "over 12" 20-inch satellites.

The company is the largest magnesium assembly fabricating concern in the country. It is one of the two largest in the nation that roll sheet and plate magnesium.

The tiny satellite, which may have been constructed under the direction of the two local men, will be placed in a 72 foot rocket today which is expected to shoot it into an orbit. The satellite weighs three and three-quarters pounds and is expected to be placed in orbit 300 to 1,200 miles above the earth.

Picks Paul L. Adams as New State Attorney General

LANSING (INS) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams officially named Paul L. Adams of Sault Ste. Marie as the new state attorney general.

The governor said Adams has been selected to fill the post being vacated by Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh who is moving up to the State Supreme Court in January.

Williams called Kavanagh "one of the state's best attorneys-general" who has gained a national reputation. He said:

"It is no small challenge to appoint a successor to so able an attorney general. However, in naming Paul Adams, I feel confident the people will continue to enjoy the same quality and integrity of legal work and the same keen devotion to good government.

"From close personal association over a long period of years, I am confident Adams will render outstanding public service."

Williams said he assumed that Adams would resign from the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan when he takes over as attorney general.

He said he had not checked the state law to determine whether Adams could hold both jobs concurrently.

The governor praised Kavanagh as an attorney general "whose civil opinions and court work have been highly regarded by bar and bench.

"He has vigorously and successfully worked to root out crime and corruption," he said. "His work for the St. Lawrence Seaway and in connection with Michigan's interests in the Great Lakes have made him well and favorably known throughout the country."

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Can you tell by the nature of winter rainfall whether a cold or warm front is passing in above you?

★ ★ ★

Yes, there are clues which will enable you to know, most of the time, whether winter rain is being caused by a cold or warm front. If the rain is hard and comes on suddenly and wind indicates a fast-moving front, chances are excellent that a cold front is moving over you.

These fronts move faster, the leading (precipitation) edge passes above in less time and cold, clear weather usually follows. If the rain is steady and dull and lasts a day or more, with winds moderate or almost non-existent, a warm front is probably passing in above you.

This means several hundred miles of stratus cloud, and a lengthy spell of moisture, quite probably.

Snow Up to Six Inches Blankets Area in East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow ranging up to six inches in depth covered a broad area in the East Wednesday.

The day's horse racing program at Pimlico in Maryland was canceled because of snow for the first time in the modern history of the track.

Snow fell along the eastern seaboard from Virginia northward to New England.

Brookville, in the mountains of Pennsylvania, reported six inches of snow. Lesser amounts were reported elsewhere in Pennsylvania, southern New York, New Jersey, western Maryland, and northwestern Virginia.

The storm in the East is expected to end by nightfall.

A band of snow took form Tuesday across Illinois, Indiana and Ohio while the storm center was moving eastward. Light snow persisted Wednesday west of the Appalachians from Ohio southward into eastern Tennessee.

Heaviest falls Tuesday and Tuesday night were five inches at Columbus, Ohio; four inches at Bradford, Pa.; and three inches in Springfield, Ill., Indianapolis and other cities.

★ ★ ★

Most of Maryland was coated with snow Wednesday. A maximum of 6½ inches was reported in the western counties. The fall in West Virginia ranged from a trace to 5 inches in the northwestern section.

Rain fell along the eastern seaboard from Washington southward.

★ ★ ★

Snowfall totaling nearly an inch and a half by morning slowed motor traffic in the metropolitan New York area here today. The Weather Bureau predicted an accumulation of as much as two inches before its end. The temperature stayed near the freezing mark.

★ ★ ★

For Detroit and vicinity for the next five days, temperatures will average near normal. Normal maximum 37, normal minimum 26. Warming Thursday and Friday, mild Saturday. Turning colder Sunday and Monday. Precipitation will total around ¼ inch chiefly as rain or snow about Saturday.

City Election Race Is On

1st Nominating Petition Taken Out Hints Rush for March 3 Primary

The first hint of the impending political merry-go-round which will whirl around the City Commission next year was evidenced in the city clerk's office this week when the first nominating petition was issued.

Clerks said they did not know whom the petition was for, except to say that it was for District 4 presently under Commissioner Floyd P. Miles.

The primary race for the seven-seat commission isn't until March 3. The general municipal election, where one commissioner from each of the seven districts will be chosen, will be held April 21.

The deadline for submitting nominating petitions is Feb. 11.

These petitions must be signed by a minimum of 25 persons and a maximum of 50 persons residing within the district represented. The candidate must also submit a sworn statement with the petition declaring he or she fulfills certain quaifications.

These state that the candidate must be at least 30, a resident of Pontiac five consecutive years, and a resident of the district for two consecutive years.

In 1956, the last city election, there were a total of 22 candidates in the race.

Winds Threatening Satellite Launching

countdown the men in charge of the launching run through a check list of 28 typewritten pages.

As a timing measure, the count is announced over the Cape Canaveral public address system once each hour in the initial stages.

As the launching hour approaches, the count is advanced to every five minutes, then to every minute, and finally to seconds.

This permits every man to check to see that each part for which he is responsible is functioning as it should at a given moment of time.

"Holds" are so frequent and so routine that it is rare for a launching to be accomplished in the exact time allowed.

Workers said no major troubles had developed but a myriad of minor electrical difficulties — frayed wires, short circuits and the like — had.

Much of the difficulty was with the first two stages of the three-stage rocket, because they involve the use of highly volatile liquid propellants.

Rocket engines using liquid fuel are much more complicated, and hence less reliable, than those employing solid propellants.

EXCITEMENT SWIRLS

While the 72-foot-tall white rocket, slender and graceful, stood in its launching stand, excitement swirled about it. The area, closed to all outsiders, blazed with floodlights.

During one of the Vanguard delays, attempts were made by other missile crews to squeeze in some of their work. Schooley reported that a Northrop aircraft crew started to launch a Snark guided missile but halted its countdown.

There also reportedly was a static test — a firing on the stand — of a Thor intermediate range missile.

The Navy has been assigned the responsibility for launching six or more small scientific satellites during the International Geophysical Year now in progress.

The project was given the name Vanguard, and the Martin Co. of Baltimore won the overall contract for the rocket.

LAUNCHING PROGRAM

Martin's Vanguard team also is directing the test launching program—the attempt to put three or four comparatively simple 6½-inch experimental spheres into an orbit around the earth before the instrument-filled, 21-inch moons are sent aloft.

This part of Florida developed a feverish interest in the missile test center.

During the early morning hours, there were automobiles and watchers on the beaches overlooking the closed area. At dawn, scores of persons waited on the sand, unaware of the fact that there could be no launching before midafternoon.

It will require two hours after the firing to determine whether the American satellite is in orbit. Scientists say they will not know this until the baby moon passes near the San Diego, Calif., tracking station in its predicted orbit.

If it is successful, the U. S. satellite will circle the earth once every 100 minutes. But because of its small size, it cannot be seen either with the naked eye or binoculars.

HOLDS 2 RADIOS

The satellite contains two radios to record temperatures in outer space and transmit the information back to earth. They will broadcast on wave lengths of 108 megacycles and 108.03 megacycles.

City Bird-E-Vict to War on Willow Run Starlings

A word of advice to the starlings seeking shelter at the Eastern Airlines hangar at Willow Run Airport: Scram, while you have the chance, or prepare to sit out a noise barrage.

★ ★ ★

Soon one of those two-legged creatures working way below these huge steel beams you call your home will plague you with a racket, the likes of which you've never heard before.

★ ★ ★

The racket will come from what man has labeled a Bird-E-Vict machine—which is nothing more than a small metal box containing a recording of thousands of your fellow starlings supposedly in distress.

The inventors say it will drive you from your roosts, such as the one you're enjoying now.

But the Pontiac fraternity of starlings scoff at this. The contraption was so futile here that as a last-ditch means to try and get its $99 dollars back, the City is renting it to the airlines for $25 a week.

"They will have to blast them every night to keep them on the wing," exclaimed David R. Ewalt, who earlier this year admitted defeat in the machine versus starling battle.

Stories of beatings, dynamitings and other violence came into testimony yesterday from Brownie Moore and Charles E. Stewart Jr., both of Teamsters Local 327 at Nashville, Tenn.

Moore testified he had the "heck knocked out of me" because of his opposition to officers of the local headed by Dan Vestal.

Stewart testified that on two occasions he was ordered by Vestal to "beat up" union members to keep them in line. He said he did not do so but didn't tell Vestal that, and Vestal, he said, never asked any questions after giving the original instructions.

Both witnesses testified that the 3,300 members of the Nashville local were unable to vote freely and said that because checkoff arrangements made most members' dues payments late, only 11 of the entire membership were ruled eligible for office.

GOP Heads Expect Ike to Avoid Deficits said he believes a two-billion-dollar boost in funds for missiles, stategic air bases, antisubmarine devices and outer space developments is justified by Russian advances in the missile and satellite field.

"I believe cuts can be made elsewhere in defense and other activities so that the over-all budget will be no higher than this year's," he said.

"I am sure President Eisenhower is making every effort to keep it within that framework."

This year's spending is estimated at 72 billion dollars, including about $38,400,000,000 for military purposes.

The Day in Birmingham

Commissioners Approve Parking District Changes

BIRMINGHAM — Three resolutions have been passed by commissioners approving changes in the city's parking districts.

The first concerns the removal of 14 four-hour meters in lot 4, replacing them with 12-hour meters. The changeover already has been made. The new meters will operate on a 90-day trial basis.

The northern section of the lot will show a parking fee change. It now costs five cents for two hours, 10 cents for four hours, 25 cents for 10 hours and 30 cents for 12 hours. All other meters are on the 5-cents-per-hour basis.

The second action places lot No. 3 in the parking meter zone. This Hamilton street lot also will operate on the 5-cent fee, continuing charges until 9 p.m. Fridays when stores remain open.

The installation last month of 11 meters between Merrill and Townsend streets on Bates street and the inclusion of that area in the parking meter zone was the final action. The section carries a four-hour parking limit.

The third session of the Teenage Traffic Court is scheduled for tomorrow morning.

Senior high school members of the civics class will serve again as judge and jury. Ten teenagers are scheduled to come before the court. Juvenile officer Robert Schaule said the majority of the offenses were speeding.

The Leo Arft home, 3375 Greentree Rd., Bloomfield Township, was damaged by smoke and fire Monday when a 2½-year-old child put her doll on top of the electric stove and turned on the burner.

Frank J. Howlett of 1160 Hillside Dr., Birmingham, yesterday was elected president of the Automobile Club of Michigan at a meeting of the club's directors held in Detroit.

Howlett, an executive of the Howlett-Barrett-Watson, Inc., has been a club member for 30 years and a director for 10 years.

He has served as a director of the American Automobile Assn. since 1954 and has assisted in formulating motoring policies in the state and country.

At the Tuesday meeting, held at the Detroit Athletic Club, other officers elected were vice presidents Howard C. Baldwin, Mervyn G. Gaskin and William G. Walters.

Retiring president Charles L. Wilson announced at the meeting that the Michigan AAA Club has reached 505,000 members, nearly 10 per cent of the entire AAA membership.

Heart Attack Kills Troy Motorist, 61

TROY — A 61-year-old Troy man suffered a fatal heart attack at 5:40 a.m. today while driving his car, which left Rochester road, just south of Wattles road in Troy, and hit a tree.

Pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, was Ignacy J. Slizewski of 1340 Lamb Rd., Troy.

Investigating Troy Police estimated damage to the car at $100.

★ ★ ★

Dr. John F. Naz, deputy coroner, said Slizewski suffered an acute coronary attack.

Jessie Wilson Hits Congress for Moon Lag

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Mrs. Charles E. (Jessie) Wilson, outspoken wife of the former secretary of defense, says "blame Congress" for any lag in this nation's satellite program.

★ ★ ★

Here for a shopping tour while her husband attends a General Motors board of directors meeting in New York, Mrs. Wilson yesterday told a news conference, "they (Congress) cut him down very badly."

★ ★ ★

"We don't deny the fact that Russia beat us out on this, (satellite)," she said, "and we've got to give them credit for it, they're smart men."

However, she added, her husband feels cuts in the Defense Department budget account for the United States being beaten in the satellite race.

"Now they want to blame him (Wilson) for it," she said. "Of course, he let them cut the budget, but never did he allow it to go below the danger point."

The Wilsons spent the last four weeks at the plantation home "Richland," near Baton Rouge.

Woman Killed in Fire

DETROIT (AP) — A 50-year-old woman died in her apartment today when fire destroyed a davenport on which she was sleeping. The dead woman was Miss Ann Scott, Cause of the fire was not known immediately.

Liberty in Navy Cut Short by Test

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The Navy today ordered all officers and men of Pacific Fleet ships in San Diego and Long Beach to return to their units immediately to take part in an alertness test known as "Operation Branding Iron."

"This is an exercise, not a real emergency," a Navy spokesman said.

The Navy had announced earlier that the exercise would be a test to determine how quickly ships and aircraft can be readied for offensive or defensive operations.

★ ★ ★

The Navy said today's order applied to personnel on liberty but not those on leave.

Let Dictionary Answer Their Endless Questions

What outdoor sport uses such words as tiller, serving, bullet point, rattail, billets, stave, nock, belly, boss and clout? Answer: Archery.

Could you explain these terms to your youngsters? Hand him a book, a dictionary, just to keep yourself out of hot water.

A new Webster's Elementary Dictionary has been published especially for children ages 8 to 12.

Thailand Prince Mission Failure

Will Report to U.N. on Attempted Probe of Red-Ruled Hungary

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Thailand's Prince Wan Waithayakon said today he must tell the General Assembly that his mission to find out what is going on inside Communist-ruled Hungary has ended in complete failure. The outcome had been expected.

★ ★ ★

The Assembly's special emissary said his three-month effort finally reached a dead end this week when Hungarian Foreign Minister Imre Horvath rebuffed his request to discuss the Hungarian problem.

★ ★ ★

The Red rejection aroused speculation that the U.N. Credentials Committee might retaliate by refusing to recommend seating the Hungarians in the Assembly, an action deferred during Wan's mission.

★ ★ ★

Prince Wan said Horvath denied his request for talks on grounds that it constituted interference in Hungary's internal affairs and that the Assembly resolution charging him with the mission was illegal. That has been the Soviet bloc position ever since the Assembly took up the Hungarian revolt.

★ ★ ★

The Thailand foreign minister was appointed by the 82-nation Assembly early in September to take "appropriate steps" to obtain compliance with previous Assembly resolutions calling for withdrawal of Soviet forces from Hungary.

Appetites Put Convicts Right Back in Prison

ROSHARON, Tex. (AP) — Wesley Stanford Emerson, 35, and Curtis Rogers, Jr., 22, two convicts serving time for robbery, escaped from nearby Ramsey Prison Farm.

Two nights later they were captured in a watermelon patch near here. They said they had stopped to raid the patch, and gorging themselves, they fell asleep.

Jailed Mother Had Hidden Child

Six-Months-Old Baby Returned to Its Father

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A six-months-old baby, hidden in a Kalamazoo home by a mother who chose jail rather than surrendering the infant to her divorced husband, was returned to its father yesterday by sheriff's deputies.

Deputies took the baby, Vincent T. Early Jr., from the home of Mrs. Laverne Hall here, and delivered him to his father Vincent, 35, a prominent Plainwell attorney. Mrs. Hall, 56, had cared for the child for three months.

The mother, Mrs. Joy F. Early, 38, is in the Allegan County Jail at Allegan serving an indeterminate sentence imposed four weeks ago by Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith.

Judge Smith held Mrs. Early in contempt when she refused to comply with a divorce decree granted Sept. 13 which gave custody of Vincent Jr. and her three other children to her husband.

Mrs. Early refused to surrender Vincent and a daughter Sally, 14. Two other children, Pamela, 8, and Robin, 4, are living with their father.

Undersheriff Glenn K. Hammel of Kalamazoo County said he and special investigator Charles Connor enforced a writ granted Nov. 13 in taking the children from Mrs. Hall.

Hammel said Early, who had discovered the whereabouts of the baby, brought in the writ and insisted it be enforced.

"Mrs. Hall was just an innocent bystander caring for the child," Hammel said. "Enforcing the writ prevented proceedings which would have endangered her."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Early, who was permitted by the divorce decree to keep Vincent Jr. until his nursing period ended, is appealing the custody decision.

In the divorce decree, Early charged his wife with adultery. Through her attorney, Mrs. Freida Washburn, Mrs. Early has denied the charge.

The Earlys were married in 1942. Five years later they were divorced. The next year they remarried.

ALPENA (AP) — Alpena held its second annual Christmas Tree show Wednesday, with ribbons awarded for best trees in various species. The show also featured a pruning demonstration and wreath - making.

Edwards to Be Feted

DETROIT (AP) — State Supreme Court Justice George Edwards, w recently defended working hours and vacations of Wayne County Circuit judges, will be honored at a $10-a-plate testimonial dinner. Co-chairmen for the event are Sam Panzer, an aide to Circuit Judge Victor Targonski, and Edgar C. Currie, a state representative and 13th district democratic chairman.

Sees Good Year Ahead

DETROIT (AP) — J. O. Wright, a Ford Motor Co. vice president, told the Norfolk, Va. Chamber of Commerce in a speech Tuesday night that "the nation can move into 1958 with the bounce of optimism in its step." He foresaw a good year, economically, and said sales of 1958 Fords were 4,000 ahead of 1957 models to the same date a year ago.

Moons Ignored Before Sputnik

Survey Shows Half of American People Knew Nothing of Satellites

NEW YORK (AP) — Just a few months before Sputnik I was launched, half the American people hadn't heard of the U.S. earth satellite program, the American Rocket Society heard today.

★ ★ ★

Social psychologist Donald N. Michael reported that a pre-Sputnik cross-section survey of Baltimore citizens indicated that five sixths of them didn't understand our satellite plans.

Even after the Sputniks were circling the globe, Michael said, 10 per cent of the freshmen and sophomores at one university said they didn't know the Russians had launched a satellite.

★ ★ ★

Michael made the statements in a talk prepared for a rocket society panel on the problem of getting public support for future rocket and space programs.

Space travel projects will be competing for public monies, he said, with such things as social security, city projects, highway building and airport construction.

★ ★ ★

In an aging population, he suggested, there was reason to doubt the inspirational value of space travel against that of old-age insurance. Yet, he said, public money will have to support both.

★ ★ ★

"My strong suspicion," he said, "is that urban and suburban dwellers of the near future will be much less interested in putting a dozen men on the moon or Mars than they will be in voting a man into the Senate who will vote funds for their pressing needs."

The future, he said, should relate the need and the benefits of space travel to the average man's way of life.

★ ★ ★

Michael is senior research associate for Dunlap and Associates, Inc., a Stamford, Conn., statistical and survey firm.

Does Cap Fit?

Gift caps for a tall, thin youngster should not be the long visor type and of bright colors. These combinations bring the eye directly to the top of the head. And this is the exact spot to keep subdued.

Entire Families Can Cooperate on Ornaments

Here are some ideas for decorations that the whole family can join in making:

★ ★ ★

PAINTED PINE CONES: Paint cones with thick poster paints and shake glitter on while paint is wet. Spray with lacquer.

★ ★ ★

MURAL OR BACKDROP: Paint a Christmas scene on a big piece of brown paper. Or it can be done with crayons or pieces of colored paper, pasted and cut.

★ ★ ★

MOBILES: For age 6 upwards, youngsters can tie all sorts of Christmas objects on strings and balance them on a coat hanger or other stiff wire

Until 1940, Wichita, Kansas got most of its water supply from the Arkansas River underflow. Then they began to drill wells 30 miles north of the city.

Population Grows Nearly 500 Per Cent

BRISTOL, Pa. (AP)—The population has increased somewhat in Bristol Township since the last census—nearly 500 per cent, in fact.

Township fathers arranged for a new count, knowing they could claim additional state highway fund benefits on increased population figures.

They found the township now has 56,293 residents — an increase of 44,109 over the 12,184 who lived there during the 1950 census.

An influx of industry and the new residential community of Levittown are responsible. The township is a few miles northeast of Philadelphia.

Dick Nixon Is Internationalist in His Foreign Policy Ideas

(This is the last of three dispatches in which the Washington bureau chief of NEA Service examines the record and policies of Vice President Nixon in the light of his new role in the national government after President Eisenhower's third illness in office.)

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — On foreign policy, Richard M. Nixon is unquestionably an all-out internationalist.

There may be some lingering doubts as to whether he is a modern Republican or a conservative on domestic policy. But in international affairs he follows the Eisenhower line 100 per cent.

During the 1956 Presidential campaign, Nixon constantly repeated the theme that President Eisenhower was the wisest and most experienced leader available. Less experienced men might easily have involved the United States in a major war, Nixon asserted.

That was the peace pitch for Eisenhower's re-election. But today the question is whether the young Nixon is himself the wisest and most experienced leader next to Eisenhower available to keep the country out of war and the world at peace.

Certainly, President Eisenhower has done everything he could to make his vice president an able successor in the White House. Nixon has sat in on Cabinet and National Security Council meetings and presided over both when the President was away from Washington.

"Even if Mr. Nixon and I were not good friends," the President declared in one of his press conferences, "I would have him in every important conference of government, so that if the Grim Reaper removed me from the scene, he would be ready to step in without interruption."

Nixon has also been the President's personal representative on six good will missions overseas. He has visited 44 foreign countries —six of them more than once— flying more than 119,000 miles.

These trips have taken him twice around the world, in 1953 and 1956. He went through Central America in 1955, to Brazil for the inauguration, to Austria to inspect the Hungarian refugee situation in 1956, to Africa in 1957.

★ ★ ★

In these countries Nixon met the heads of all governments. And he has been President Eisenhower's personal greeter and God-speeder for most high foreign dignitaries coming to Washington on state visits. So Nixon knows personally the free world heads of state he would have to deal with.

The Communist leaders he does not know. But who does?

There is no doubt about Nixon's anti-communism. During the debate on the Eisenhower Doctrine for the Middle East early in 1957, Nixon declared that Soviet opposition to this new policy illustrated dramatically why the free world must not leave a vacuum.

Nixon opposed a Congressional proposal to act solely on the military aspects of the doctrine. He said the economic phase of the program "would reduce the chance of internal subversion, which is perhaps a greater threat than external aggression."

As vice president, Nixon has been a consistent supporter of all Eisenhower administration foreign aid programs.

In his Michigan State University commencement address in 1957, the vice president even declared that the Polish loan of 95 million dollars was "a gamble worth taking" in the hope that Poland would eventually turn away from communism.

Nixon rejected Sen. Knowland's contention that the Polish loan might be the beginning of a Marshall Plan for the Communists. But the vice president added that "We are not writing off the Polish people or any of the other millions who are behind the Iron Curtain."

Receiving the Jewish Civil Rights Award, Nixon predicted that "the 1956 Polish and Hungarian uprisings were the beginning of an internal revolt that will ultimately sweep away the Communist Empire."

Nixon's stand on banning the H-bomb tests — as stated during the 1956 political campaign — was to blast Gov. Adlai Stevenson, who had suggested it, as being naive and as damaging America's interests abroad. Nixon branded Stevenson's proposal to end the peace-time draft as "irresponsible."

The vice president has been an advocate of adequate U.S. defenses, with superiority in atomic weapons. But Nixon has also expressed high praise for President Eisenhower's "Atoms for Peace" plan and his offer of a mutual inspection exchange with the Russians to bring about disarmament.

In summary: Nixon is on record as a dyed-in-the-wool Ike Republican; in practice he remains to be evaluated under the tests of responsibility.

New Labor Laws to Reach Congress

The McCLELLAN Senate investigating committee uncovered so much corruption and abuse in the labor-management fields that many restrictive laws will be introduced in the next Congress.

Senator IVES of New York, a member of the committee, has proposed four Taft-Hartley Act amendments which offer a well considered approach. As one-time chairman of New York's Joint Legislative Committee on Industrial and Labor conditions and later as dean of Cornell University's School of Industrial and Labor Relations, the Senator has practical knowledge of the realities of labor-management relations.

His remedial amendments would:

1. Make it an unfair labor practice for unions to vote on officers or other matters except by secret ballot;

2. Provide criminal penalties for failure to file union financial and other reports, now required but without penalty;

3. Make it an unfair practice for a union to picket for recognition when it had lost a representation election within a year or while another union sought recognition;

4. Prohibit payments through middlemen to employes or union representatives to interfere with union organization.

★ ★ ★

Right-to-work laws outlawing the union shop have been passed by 18 states and more such bills are likely to reach Congress. The major argument against these laws is that they are in the interest of "free riders" — non-union workers who accept the benefits of collective bargaining without paying union dues. Sen. Ives thinks that a Federal law banning all union security provisions from contracts would be disastrous.

★ ★ ★

It should be pointed out that most of what the committee uncovered is betrayal of labor by its own officers and not so much outrageous acts of labor against employers.

Sen. IVES' approach is a moderate one and in view of his past experience Congress should give his proposals careful consideration.

Prosperous Venezuela Able to Aid Neighbors

At the Presidents' conference in Panama early last year, Venezuela proposed that each American country contribute 3.75 per cent of its annual budget for an American aid program.

When the United States appeared cool to the idea, other countries lost any interest they might have had. Our share would have been around $270 million.

★ ★ ★

However, business now is good in Venezuela. Oil exports and sales of raw materials are at all time highs. So the Venezuelan Congress is about to pass legislation setting up a financial and technical aid program. Ecuador is first in fine for a loan of $15 million for irrigation, road building, low cost housing and harbor improvements. Bolivia, Colombia, Haiti and Paraguay also are expected to apply for aid.

★ ★ ★

The loans are being made without any strings attached and representatives from borrowing countries stress this aspect. Benefits will come to Venezuela in improved trade and from providing machinery and some technical supervision as well as the prestige of being wealthy enough to extend aid to others.

★ ★ ★

This role of being able to give assistance to the neighbors is something new in Latin American countries. If the idea spreads and economies grow stronger some of the burden of assistance would be taken off this country's taxpayers.

Achilles' Heel

David Lawrence Says:

Blame Union Heads for 'Recession'

WASHINGTON—The handwriting on the wall—the prospect that next year may see more unemployed than in any year since the 1930s—is being realistically faced by Richard J. Gray, head of the building and construction trades department of the AFL-CIO, as he recommends a suspension of wage increases for 1958.

LAWRENCE

It is true that the other labor leaders at the Atlantic City convention have coldly rejected any such suggestion. They never made a bigger mistake.

Unemployment, it is estimated by some economists, will run between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 by next spring. Had the labor leaders generally agreed with Mr. Gray, the whole atmosphere in the economic situation throughout the country would have changed overnight from pessimism to optimism.

For the biggest issue before the country in 1958, as it approaches the congressional elections in November, will be: "Who killed American prosperity and brought on the recession?"

Labor union leadership will have to bear the brunt of the blame. Certainly as the profits of corporations are studied—and they have been dropping drastically for several months in many lines—the favorite excuse for wage hikes, namely that that corporate profits are high, will be absent.

There used to be a time when labor leaders agreed with the philosophy that wage increases should be accompanied by a corresponding rise in the productivity of labor per hour.

But that has been superseded by the grab-while-you-can doctrine which insists that corporate profits must be shared with labor irrespective of whether there is an adequate surplus being accumulated to meet the needs of future expansion or "rainy days" ahead.

The responsibility for the present "recession," and what could turn into a "depression" before the end of 1958, is upon those who have frustrated the natural growth of the free enterprise system.

Nor is any form of state socialism going to be the answer if the Republicans are driven from power by the economic downturn.

The signs point to a different kind of political reaction next time if "recession" deepens into "depression." The Democratic Party, one of whose potential candidates —Senator Kennedy of Massachusetts—has not hesitated in recent months to help expose labor-union rackets, may find itself compelled to dig deeper into the misuse of economic power by national labor unions.

For the present "recession" is directly due to lack of capital formation. Other setbacks have been caused in the past either by excessive speculation or by inventory accumulation beyond demand, but today's recession is largely due to the inability of people and corporations to save enough due to high prices.

The cry from the companies is that profit margins have been squeezed by high labor costs. Yet taxes of all kinds remain high. Any economy in which the Federal government takes every year 52 per cent of the earnings of corporations, apart from state and local taxes, isn't healthy.

The cry from the individual citizen is that the cost of living is too high. Prices of all kinds are rising and "inflation" is blamed. But the principal cause of the continued inflation is the unrelenting pressure for wage increases every year irrespective of whether they are deserved.

In the year 1957, for instance, the built-in "escalator" clauses in union contracts and the size of the regular demands annually for more pay resulted in the largest total number of wage increases in American history.

If recovery is to be brought about as early as 1959, the Congress will have to do something soon about restricting industry-wide price fixing by labor unions.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Various Ways to Detect Riboflavin Deficiency

A lady reported here yesterday that although she is allergic to milk or milk products (Her nephew is an allergy specialist), she believes she had been cured of cataracts by supplementing her diet with a large amount of riboflavin (Vitamin G or B-2), calcium and other vitamins daily.

DR. BRADY

Whole milk, skim milk, butter-milk, cheese and other milk products are the best food sources of riboflavin and calcium and excellent sources of other vitamins.

★ ★ ★

In one of her nephew's medical books, the lady read that riboflavin is or should be present in every cell in the body.

While milk is the best source of the vitamin, one who gets insufficient milk may get enough riboflavin to prevent manifestations of nutritional deficiency from white of egg, fish roe, liver, heart, kidney, greens or leafy vegetables, fish, lean meat.

Familiar signs of riboflavin deficiency are bulbar conjunctivitis ($10 please)—bloodshot eyes, injected venules in the mucous membrane covering the eyeball, lacrimation ($1.80)—watery eyes, tears, burning, itching or irritation as by sand or cinder in the eye, photophobia (69 cents) dislike of strong light.

ARE LIPS PALE?

Equally significant, though less noticeable, is (here we go again) cheilosis, paleness of the lips, especially at the angles, with maceration and piling up of whitish matter on a pink background. Slight fissures may occur at the site of the natural wrinkles at the angles or corners of the mouth.

So you're not quite convinced you are a victim of malnutrition —ariboflavinosis, to be precise? All right. Open — wider, wider, please. There, now stick out your tongue. That's enough. Just let it lie there for a while. A rest will do no harm.

Um-m-m-m. Yes, indeed, you have the typical (ring up five bucks, nurse) glossopathy. Here, look at it in the mirror—magenta or purplish-red tongue instead of the pink appearance of a healthy person's tongue, and a patchy oval desquamation.

If you still think I'm trying to make a federal case of it, why don't you quietly try it out and see? Get a hundred 5-milligram riboflavin tablets and supplement your diet with three tablets daily. It can do no harm in any event.

If, in the course of a month, you find your nutritional condition much improved you'll know, if you have the brains God gives a goose, that intelligent revision of your everyday diet will improve your health and your personal appearance.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Offers Suggestion to Help Unemployment Situation

Unemployment is on the rise again. There are two things I suggest to help create openings.

Allow employes to retire if they so wish, irrespective of age, after 25 years seniority. There are many men who'd gladly accept severance pay and retirement pension but can't because of the age limit.

Industry could pension off all men who have reached retirement age. It would be surprising to know how many men over 65 are keeping younger men unemployed by not retiring.

'Reds Are Working as U.S. Celebrates'

An oddity of the age in these United States is the complacency with which most people contemplate the imminence of World War III. There is more excitement over Christmas.

But the Kremlin isn't celebrating Christmas. They're chortling over Sputniks, toasting the world's largest submarine fleet and counting the millions of Russian, Chinese and subject people they can draft as infantry and industrial labor. Since economic dominance is the chief goal of war, an actual invasion of this country isn't necessary. They know many nations will stay neutral if it appears the atomic devastation will be concentrated on this continent, with Canada as the No-Man's Land between Moscow and Detroit.

We have Dewline, radar warning network, and we have planes to retaliate, but we know a large number of planes can get through if pilots are dedicated. The realization of Kremlin dominance of the world will never be more opportune for them than today. We need not be defeated militarily to be toppled as the No. 1 force in world affairs.

After Christmas, perhaps those of us in prime target cities will begin to get ready for the worst, which at the moment seems to be as probably as possible. Merry Christmas, everyone, and don't spill your vodka.

Praises Operation of County Jail

Recently our Keego Harbor Business and Professional Women's Club had the opportunity of making a tour of the Oakland County Jail. We were interested not only as businesswomen but as taxpayers and mothers.

We were escorted so kindly by Elmer McQuern who related the functions of the jail. We also had the pleasure of meeting one of the matrons who explained the women's quarters to us. The kitchen, although not as modern as our own homes, was spotlessly clean.

Sheriff Irons should be commended for the way the jail is operated.

'Why All the Fuss Over Mantle?'

Why all the fuss about Mickey Mantle being selected most valuable player over Ted Williams? He didn't hit quite so much this season, but as a team player he was much more valuable and team play is what wins ball games.

Mickey bunted many times when possibly he could have hit a home run, and he sacrificed many times and stole bases to win games. But Big Self-Ego Williams never sacrificed anything in his whole major league career. I don't think he could even play on a Yankee team, for that reason, even with all his greatness.

It seems "nobody nohow" wants to give the Yankees credit. I wonder if we could be a teensy-weensy bit prejudiced because of their continued success. Here's hoping they show these bush leagues in the American League their heels next year.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger: but they that seek the Lord shall not want any good thing. — Psalms 34:10.

★ ★ ★

There is nothing the body suffers that the soul may not profit by. — George Meredith.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Immature Sex Attitudes Curable

Terry gives an autobiography of his own sexual background which is far more common than most adult Americans realize. But Terry can retain himself till he advances to the heterosexual (normal) stage of love. Scrapbook these critical cases or mail them to some friend who needs them badly.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W-363: Terry T., aged 17, has the sex problem mentioned yesterday.

"Dr. Crane, I feel terrible about it," Terry admitted. "And I am disgraced and humiliated now that my secret has been found out.

"It almost killed me when my parents learned of my sex difficulties.

"But all my life I have been abnormal. Even before I was old enough to go to school, I can recall being initiated into sex habits by the nurse my parents hired to look after me.

"They'd go out a great deal socially, so they would leave me alone. And I was nervous and jittery, so I'd keep pestering the nurse for a drink of water, long after I was supposed to be asleep.

"One night she taught me self sex practices. I suppose it was just to keep me quiet so I wouldn't be calling her away from her favorite radio programs every few minutes.

"Later, I was urged to take up the violin and had a male teacher who was very fond of me.

"He took me to movies occasionally, and my parents thought that was wonderful. But he later initiated me into homosexual practices.

"And it must be like trying to break the dope habit to get away from such a bad habit, once you are addicted to it.

"For I have tried and tried, but my resolution wavers, sooner or later. So I have actually considered taking poison or swallowing a bottle of my mother's sleeping pills.

"Dr. Crane, is there any hope that a person like me can ever change and become a normal adult?"

FRANK FACTS

Maybe some of these revelations are a bit frank to some of you shielded readers, but scientific progress is based on facing the facts. We cannot help teenagers by indulging in the faked prudery of the past or by imitating the proverbial ostrich and trying to hide our heads in the sand.

★ ★ ★

Millions of men and women in America are homosexuals. And tens of thousands of brilliant, brave men were washed out of the Army and Navy in the last war for this very reason. Indeed, some were high ranking officers.

The isolation of one sex from the other, as in military camps or prisons and one-sex schools, actually helps promote the development of homosexuality.

But a homosexual can change to a normal heterosexual and marry and have a happy family life—IF.

That big "IF" depends on whether the victim himself actually WANTS to change!

A chronic drunkard can seldom be converted into a sober individual just because his parents or wife or other friends and loved ones want him to do so.

No, indeed! Alcoholics Anonymous has found that the victim himself must sincerely wish to change; otherwise it is a waste of time.

★ ★ ★

And so it is with homosexuals. If the victim has enough desire to grow up to the more mature and fuller emotional stage of heterosexuality, he can do so.

I have personally seen scores of such dramatic changes and so have my psychiatric colleagues. But it requires will power and the right formula.

Such a person must pick a suitable member of the opposite sex and deliberately date her.

He must then go through the proper motions and even kiss her goodnight and consciously affect all the behavior of the heterosexual fiance until he reeducates himself to enjoy that type of emotional life.

So send for my 200-point "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit). Use them as your blueprint for normal love.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Prize Money's Now at $1,300 in Pot-O-Gold

There's nothing unlucky about the number "13" when it's thirteen hundred dollars you're talking about, especially if your chances of winning it are as good as anyone's. Come up with the right answers for this week's puzzle and we can almost guarantee you'll no longer feel "13" is one of the unluckiest numbers you ever heard.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. Entries must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his numbers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent post card. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 79 must bear a Tuesday, Dec. 10 postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest canot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp. originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press Judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Italian Actress Completes Contract With Hughes

Gina Plans for Hollywood

ROME (INS)—Gina Lollobrigida may make her first movie in Hollywood next year.

★ ★ ★

The famous Italian actress said her seven-year contract with Howard Hughes has expired and that she is free to make a film in the U. S. on her own. She never starred in any picture for Hughes.

"I am looking forward to doing a film in Hollywood," she said in an interview. "However, no definite plans have been made yet. I do expect to make a film sometime in 1958."

Her husband, Milko Skofic, who has been instrumental in her career, said the lovely brunette star is waiting for a suitable offer before taking off for the American film capital.

★ ★ ★

Asked if she had any choice for a leading man in a Hollywood movie, Miss Lollobrigida said no but mentioned actor Paul Newman. She indicated she might like to work with Frank Sinatra, in possibly a musical comedy.

Miss Lollobrigida, whose name is a household word among movie fans in America although she never made a picture there, had high praise for Hollywood.

"They have developed film making to the highest possible degree. Their technique is superb. We in Europe have much to learn from their methods," she said.

Miss Lollobrigida was interviewed in a huge, drafty studio in Cinecitta while at work on her new film, "Anna of Brooklyn," the first she has made since becoming a mother last July.

Appearing first in a white nightgown and later in pink pajamas, the dark-eyed, dark-haired actress showed that motherhood has not disturbed her well-publicized proportions.

Asked if motherhood had affected her career in any way, Miss Lollobrigida replied she found "no difference in being a mother."

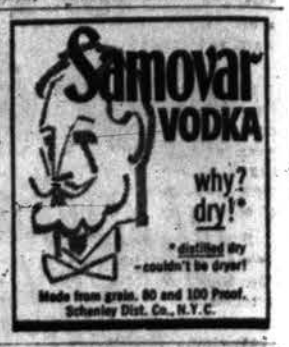

★ ★ ★

She said:

"I see the baby (Milko Jr.) every evening and I look forward to the end of each day so that I can go home again and hold my baby. But outside of that, having a baby has not made me want to work less. On the contrary, I'm surprised to find, I worry just as much as before about my work."

★ ★ ★

Russia, U.S. at Odds With Words

Nations Confusing Terms

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Soviet party boss Nikita Khrushchev appeals for "peaceful coexistence," but the most costly arms race in history plunges onward and upward.

★ ★ ★

The United States plans to launch its earth satellite, puny by Soviet comparison with Moscow's, this week. NATO nations are being urged to pool scientific and material resources in the conquest of outer space.

Pravda is wounded that the West has not responded to the Sputnick launching by acting "logically" — meaning acceptance of the Moscow "peaceful coexistence" theme.

But Western leaders long ago accepted the idea of peaceful coexistence. The big reason for the nervous state of the world is in the meaning of the term to the opposing sides.

To the West the term means just that — getting along together without going to war over rival ideologies, capitalism and Communism.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev has proclaimed that that is what Rusia wants. He said he did not want to thrust Communism on others. Yet, when asked about Hungary, he of course claimed that "reactionary cutthroats threatened to deprive the progresive people of their gains," hence Soviet military intervention. By "reactionary cutthroats" he lumped both communists and noncommunists in Hungary who defied Soviet rule.

Khrushchev's vista of peaceful competition in trade, culture and government clashes with all communist history. Red usage of words such as "peace" or "democracy" have totalitarian connotations. It took the communists to come up with those phrases which are paradoxical in the West but not to them: "Peaceful offensive," "strategy of peace" and "war for peace."

★ ★ ★

Through the cold war years the Soviets have studded their volcabulary with such phrases aimed at picturing them as the champions of peace compared to those Western "warmongers." Yet it has been the Soviet empire that has expanded territorially through World War II and post-war history, not the United States nor her allies.

★ ★ ★

Leon Trotsky, the bitter foe of Stalin, once used a sort of "coexistence" phrase when he suggested a temporizing policy of "neither peace nor war." Stalin first used the word in 1927 when he told a party Congress that until they had an upper hand the Soviets in their world-wide revolutionary goal should base their policy on "admitting the coexistence of two opposed systems."

Lenin, the father of the Revolution, wrote in 1920 that so long "as capitalism and socialism (communism) exist, we cannot live in peace."

If Khrushchev wished to quote fully from another of his favorites besides Lenin, he could refer to Karl Marx, who nearly a century ago said that Russian policy is changeless — that its maneuvers might change "but the polar star of its policy, world domination, is a fixed star."

AF Planning Assault on World Speed Record

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The U.S. Air Force plans to begin a five-day assault tomorrow on the world speed record of 1,132.1 m.p.h. held by Great Britain.

An announcement said Maj. Adrian E. Drew, a squadron commander in the 27th Fighter-bomber Wing, Bergstrom AFB, Tex., would make the attempt in a McDonnell F101A Voodoo jet fighter.

Wants to Sell Plane; Only Pieces Available

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Maj. William Hunt of Oakland Army Terminal wanted to sell his light plane. George Kotsotas, owner of nearby Lagoon Valley air strip, said he might bu yit.

Hunt flew the plane over and, while Kotsotas watched, tangled with some telephone wires on his landing approach.

"There she is," said Hunt, stepping from the wreckage.

"I'll bid on the pieces," said Kotsotas.

A Junior Editors Quiz About YOU

QUESTION: Does your hair ever stand on end?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Have you ever watched a cat when it sees a dog, or a dog when it sees a cat? The hair on the cat's tail will stand straight up, and so will the hair on the dog's neck. It's probably nature's way of making them look bigger and fiercer than they are, to scare whatever is scaring them. In much the same way, your own hair has a tendency to rise up a bit on occasion. Cold, shock or fright can make tiny muscles in your scalp contract and raise your hair. You're likely to feel a prickling sensation then as the muscles start to work. My drawing shows a boy, not yet old enough to know better, frightened by thunder and lightning outside the house even though he is safe within.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: The next time you get a chance, watch a thunder storm and try to figure out how far away the lightning flashes are. The way to do it is to watch for a flash, then note by a watch how many seconds pass before you hear the thunder. A five second interval means the lightning was a mile away.

AMA President Raps Bill as 'Peril' to Doctors

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dr. David B. Allman, president of the American Medical Assn., Tuesday urged the nation's organized doctors to fight a "new peril" to their professional freedom.

★ ★ ★

He called upon all 165,000 AMA members to wage a local-action campaign to enlist support of their communities against proposed national legislation which he declared would, if passed, mark the beginning of the end of the private practice of medicine in this country.

Specifically, he urged the doctors to campaign against a proposal introduced in the closing session of the 85th Congress by Rep. Aime Forand (D-RI).

Under the Forand bill, hospitalization and surgical benefits would be provided under the Social Security program.

His presidential address was prepared for the AMA's 11th annual clinical session, and presented at the opening session of the policy-making House of Delegates.

Dr. Allman, an Atlantic City retired surgeon, declared: "If passed, the federal government would withdraw Social Security taxes on a compulsory basis from almost the entire working population and use those taxes to reimburse hospitals and physicians for services rendered to all persons — some 12 to 13 million — eligible to receive old age and survivors benefits."

★ ★ ★

"This is socialized medicine," he said, and "national compulsory health insurance all over again."

"It is the beginning of the end of the private practice of medicine," he said.

"It is the death knell for the young, and growing voluntary health insurance industry.

"It is a serious threat to the well-being and local autonomy of the voluntary hospital at the community level.

"It is socialism under the auspices of the federal government."

"We can be sure that passage of the Forand bill would soon generate new proposals to provide government health insurance protection for the entire population," he added.

"As in our fight against national compulsory health insurance, the stakes are high for the American people, for the medical profession, for the hospitals, and for all allied health groups. We dare not lose."

AMAZING!

BUT THE TRUTH ABOUT O-JIB-WA BITTERS

"Before using O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I couldn't even raise my arms to comb my hair," says Mrs. Charlotte Coopersmith, 24608 Valley St., East Detroit.

Rheumatism and arthritis in my arms, shoulders, and neck, pained so bad that I couldn't even raise my arms to comb my hair. My neck bothered me too, as it was stiff and pained terribly when I tried to turn my head. Why, I could hardly wash clothes, as it caused my arm to pain just to have my hands in the water. Sleeping well at night was difficult as every time I turned in my sleep, the pains in my neck would wake me up again. Massages, liniments, heat lamps and electric pads all made my neck stiffer.

Mrs. Coopersmith

I just didn't know what to do to stop the pains. I suffered like this for about a year when a relative told me about O-JIB-WA BITTERS. He had rheumatism and arthritis in his legs and knees so bad that he could hardly walk or even stand up. O-JIB-WA had put him back on his feet, so I thought it might help me. In about three weeks I could actually feel the difference, and by the time two months had passed, I was all better. I could move my neck without fear of pain. I do all of my housework now, and sleep well every night. The good sleep helps my nerves and gives me lots of pep and ambition. Words fail to praise O-JIB-WA BITTERS enough for what it has done for me."

Santa and the Strong Boy: New Serial to Delight Children

Noodle, Tiggle, Livingstone Get All Mixed Up

A PRINCE IS BORN

Once upon a time, many years ago, there lived three little men named Noodle, Tiggle and Livingstone.

★ ★ ★

They were only six inches tall! They lived in a house made of half a watermelon rind and they fed on fresh boiled buttercups and acorn stew.

★ ★ ★

The watermelon house was also a workshop, for the three little men were good fairy wizards. They spent their entire lives making magic potions.

Three of their potions were Strength, Courage and Wisdom.

Whenever a price was born in the Kingdom of Mitzenpoo, Noodle, Tiggle and Livingstone would go, in invisible cloaks, to the palace and, before the prince was nine hours old, they would sprinkle him with their magic potions of Strength, Courage and Wisdom.

No one ever saw the three little men but it never failed that the princes of Mitzenpoo grew up to be kings of great courage, strength and wisdom. This was the way it had been for 300 years and, as a result, Mitzenpoo was the happiest and fairest kingdom in the land.

Now, by and by, it happened that there was a king of Mitzenpoo who had no sons. This made the king very sad for he was getting old and he needed a son to help him care for his people.

The king wished and wished for a son and finally his wish came true: a son was born.

★ ★ ★

While the whole kingdom rejoiced, Noodle, Tiggle and Livingstone were in a frenzy. It had been so long since a prince was born that when the three little men looked in their cupboard they found that their potions of Strength, Courage and Wisdom had completely dried up.

★ ★ ★

"We must make new batches!" groaned Tiggle. "And quickly, for the prince is already four hours old and if we wait past nine hours the magic will not work."

"Oh, dear! Oh, dear!" moaned Livingstone. "This rushing makes me so nervous. If only we had known a price was on the way!"

The Fairy Wizards rushed to make the magic potions.

"Never mind," said Noodle. "We must do the best we can. I'll read the recipe and you, Tiggle, measure the ingredients and you, Livingstone, do the mixing."

★ ★ ★

So they worked and the hours flew by one, two, three until the new prince was eight hours old.

Noodle's eyes were red from reading in ancient cook books. Tiggle was cross-eyed from measuring a thousand ingredients. And Livingstone was spattered from head to toes with all he'd spilled. But ready, in three separate bowls, were the three potions: Strength, Courage, Wisdom.

While the others cleaned themselves Noodle measured out several drops from the bowl of Strength. He moved that bowl to the floor to show he had used it and then he raced away to the palace.

Tiggle came next and seeing the bowl on the floor he thought Noodle had put it there for him. So he, too, took several drops from the bowl of Strength and raced away to the palace.

★ ★ ★

Then came Livingstone. "Ah," he said. "They've left the last bowl on the floor for me!" Carefully he measured out several drops of Strength before he, too, raced off to the palace.

Each little man stole into the palace nursery and sprinkled his magic potion on the sleeping prince. Then, their task done, they met again in the watermelon house.

"What a prince this boy will be!" cried Noodle. "I gave him a truly whopping sprinkling of Strength."

"Strength?" shouted Tiggle. "Why I myself gave him from the bowl of Strength."

"Great heavens!" wailed Livingstone. "I did the same!"

Aghast, they stared at one another.

Finally Noodle whispered "He'll be the strongest boy in the world!"

"A strong boy with no courage," groaned Tiggle.

"And no wisdom," cried Livingstone.

★ ★ ★

And the three little men broke into sobs of grief.

Mohammed V Pays Second Visit

Disneyland Thrills King

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Not even a king can resist the land of make-believe.

Morocco's Mohammed V made a formal visit to Disneyland yesterday, in native regalia and with full entourage.

★ ★ ★

He was so enchanted by what he saw that last night he slipped away from his hotel incognito and traveled 35 miles to visit the famous fantasy-land all over again, in the role of a commoner.

★ ★ ★

Some 22 members of the royal party went with him. But, like the king, they were in Western attire.

They paid their way in and went unnoticed for quite awhile. When Disneyland personnel learned they were there, the King asked that his party be permitted to go unattended, like any other visitors.

★ ★ ★

The management complied. No reporters or photographers were there. The King would not permit Disneyland cameramen to photograph him, although he had posed graciously for scores of pictures during his official visit earlier in the day.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman said Mohammed came back because he had been "enchanted" by his first trip and because his brother Khalifa Moulay el Hassan had missed that visit.

★ ★ ★

They saw all the sights the king had seen during his earlier three-hour tour of the 21-million-dollar playgrpund built by cartoonist Walt Disney.

★ ★ ★

Mohammed, on both visits, rode a locomotive and a river boat. He took an imaginary trip to the moon via the magic of motion pictures, darkness and sound effects. He explored the jungle and the Mississippi River.

Case, an agricultural implement manufacturer, operates plants in Racine, Wis.; Rockford andd Rock Island, Ill.; Burlington and Bettendorf, Iowa, and Churubusco, Ind.

Thailand Editor Fined for Insults to Envoy

BANGKOK (AP) — The Bangkok Court of Appeals today reversed a lower court decision to imprison newspaper editor Kukrit Pramoj for a month but upheld a fine of $25 given him for making a "disparaging" statement about U.S. Ambassador Max Waldo Bishop.

★ ★ ★

Kukrit, Oxford-educated editor of the Siam Rath Daily, recently referred to Bishop in an editorial as "An American hooligan." The Court of Appeals said the remark was not libelous, "only impolite and disparaging."

Poland May Press State Savings Setup

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Poland's Communist government may start putting pressure on Poles to put their money into state savings systems, Wladyslaw Gomulka indicated last night.

★ ★ ★

The Communist party boss said Poland suffers from serious economic difficulties with too much money chasing too few goods.

★ ★ ★

"Everybody who earns more than the minimum necessary for living should start systematic saving," Gomulka told a group of coal miners, who are the highest paid workers in Poland. "We shall present proposals on this matter very soon."

★ ★ ★

Such savings, he added, would be used to help alleviate the housing shortage.

★ ★ ★

For many years Russia used forced saving by 6 to 8½ per cent payroll deductions to reduce consumer demand. Last spring the Kremlin announced that the money put into savings bonds was frozen indefinitely without interest or repayment of principal.

Towering Empire State Building Is Like Big Christmas Candle

NEW YORK CITY — All the fun and excitement that stands for Christmas is magnified a thousand times in the holiday splendor of this city.

★ ★ ★

It is symbolized in the beautiful 65-foot Christmas tree in Rockefeller Center, captured in the breathtakingly lovely displays of a fairyland Christmas in the windows of department stores, reflected in the towering Empire State Building that looks like a giant Christmas candle.

New York has its traditions in this most festive season and millions of people plan annual visits during Christmas week to see the marvelous sights.

There is the lovely 'Nutcracker' ballet, a favorite of children and adults alike, which will be given all during Christmas week by the New York City Ballet Company at City Center. The Rockefeller Center Choristers will present their annual Candlelight Concert, Dec. 22 and 23 and the Vienna Choir Boys will perform at Town Hall on Dec. 27 and 28.

'The Christmas Star' will be conducted daily at the Hayden Planetarium and the New York Botanical Garden will feature a splendid outdoor Nativity scene with live animals from the Bronx Zoo.

★ ★ ★

Another of New York's charming holiday ceremonies is the annual Christmas Eve candlelight service at the Chapel of the Intercession, Broadway and 155th St. After the program the children process, carrying lanterns and wreaths, to the grave of Clement C. Moore, author of 'The Night Before Christmas,' where carols are then sung.

'Audrey' Doctor Picked by AMA for '57 Award

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dr. Cecil W. Clark, 37, a country doctor of Cameron, La., and medical hero when Hurricane Audrey roared into that small town last June, today was chosen by the American Medical Assn. as the nation's "most outstanding family physician" for 1957.

Dr. Clark lost three of his five children in the hurricane.

Clark, who was the only physician in Cameron at the time of the disaster, was named "General Practitioner of the Year" by the House of Delegates, the policy making of the AMA which opened its 11th annual clinical session today.

In announcing the award, which includes a gold medal, the AMA said that when Hurricane Audrey struck Cameron "Dr. Clark became this small town's 'big man.'" The AMA added:

★ ★ ★

"Despite severe personal tragedy, Dr. Clark worked around the clock for three sleepless days to attend the hundreds of wounded.

★ ★ ★

"Much of his effort was expended during a period when he was under the impression his wife and all five children had been killed. It was not until 24 hours after the storm abated that he heard Mrs. Clark and two of the children had been rescued."

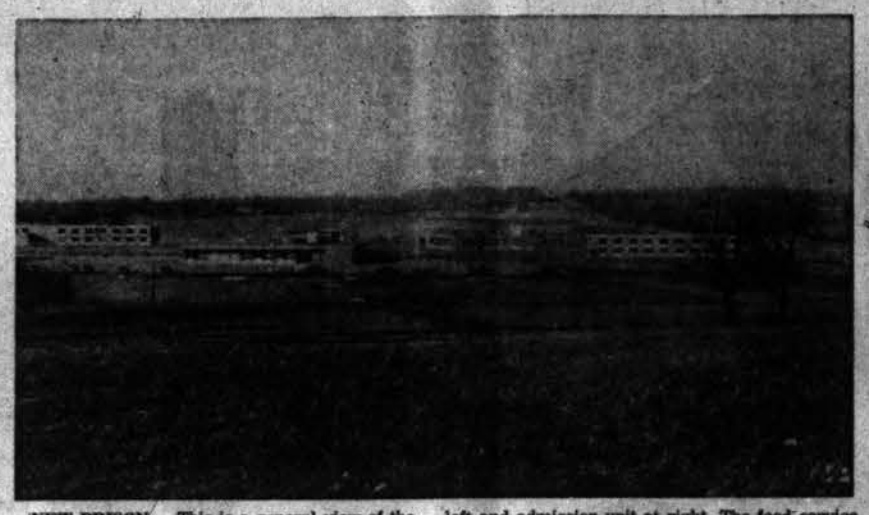

★ ★ ★

The AMA declared that Dr. Clark lost his entire physical possessions, including a new residence, a 12-bed hospital and clinic, his automobile and his medical equipment.

★ ★ ★

But the association added that Clark already has established a temporary hospital at Cameron and "is rebuilding his practice with the stouthearted people of Cameron."

NEW PRISON — This is a general view of the medium security prison at Ionia, Mich., taken from a hill overlooking the institution. Administration building is in foreground, housing units at left and admission unit at right. The food service building is in center background. Other building, baseball diamond and football field will be situated in vacant area in center background.

New Ideas Built Into Old System

Ionia Prison to Be Splash of Color

By ROGER LANE

(First of three stories on Michigan's prison system)

IONIA (AP) — Michigan soon will open here an institution destined to be a national showplace in the drab domain of penology.

It is the state's new medium security prison, designed to create an environment favoring rehabilitation for carefully screened first offenders with the desire and ability to learn.

The prison layout, symbolizing a significant trend in state corrections policy, resembles that of a small new college. The accent is on light, color and cheerfulness. None of the widely spaced, flat roofed, red brick buildings rises above two stories.

CAMPUS, NOT YARD

The prison "yard" will be a grassed, slightly rolling "campus." All exterior doors are painted red, and bright yellows are freely used in interiors.

Guy Harrison, state corrections director, says it is unique.

Disappointingly to state corrections officials, the institution will start operations about Jan. 1 as a kind of halfway house to the facility they had planned—and with few of its functional features.

The corrections commission even has talked of passing up dedication ceremonies until completion is nearer.

The prison originally was conceived as a 600-man, seven million dollar, 11-unit facility sprawled over 27 acres.

WILL HOUSE 240

It will receive first prisoners as a 240-man, $2,700,000, five unit institution. The rest of the work hinges on future appropriations by the Legislature, which this spring refused to provide funds for second stage construction.

Ready for use are an admissions building, with infirmary; one of four proposed housing units, an administration building, a food services building and a garage.

Lacking are a $1,100,000 vocational-academic building, the institution's heart; a recreation building, a three-faith chapel and three housing units.

SIMPLE AND PRETTY

Completed buildings are in the modern style, constructed of brick over steel and cinderblock. Free use of glass and enameled steel paneling breaks up exteriors and lends color while hewing to the economy theme.

Instead of the traditional outer stone wall, the grounds are encircled by two brightly lighted wire mesh fences, 11 and 13 feet high respectively, set parallel and 16 feet apart. Elevated guard towers are spaced at intervals.

Old fashioned cell bars are conspicuous by their absence, particularly in the housing units (not cell blocks).

Prisoners will sleep in individual, 7 by 10 feet rooms with sizeable outside windows, barless but set in heavy steel frames. The cinderblock walls are painted in blue, green and gray pastels.

In wings of the "L" shaped housing units, rooms are arranged in two tiers against the outside walls. A steel door with screened window opens from each room into a central hall.

An unaccustomed degree of privacy is thus afforded prisoners.

Where the wings join, there are two adjacent first floor dayrooms, largely glassed-in—one a "quiet" room for reading and the like, the other a larger "active" dayroom.

VISITORS EXPECTED

A large public visiting area is provided in the administration building where youthful inmates are expected to receive callers more frequently than is usual with hardened, prison system veterans.

Subject to the traditional searches, supervision will be comparatively light.

The food service building, cheeriest of the lot, is brightly lighted both artificially and through liberal window treatment.

In the dining area, prisoners will eat in groups of four around small fixed tables, rather than seated on long rows of wooden benches all facing the same direction. Five hundred can be served at one sitting.

The building has facilities for cook's and baker's schools.

Prison security equipment is largely centralized in radio and telephone apparatus situated in the administration building.

Harrison said that to start vocational and educational activities envisoned as the heart of the prison program will be improvised in the food service and housing buildings.

Planned for the lacking education unit are shops for auto repair, metal working, welding, carpentry, sheet metal, printing, refrigeration and air conditioning, electricity, radio and TV and mechanical drafting.

In addition, there eventually will be a library, music practice rooms and conventional academic facilities.

Harrison said the recreation program will be handicapped, without the building planned for this use, in bad weather. In the spring baseball diamonds, an open air basketball court and other outdoor facilities will become the recreation focus.

U.S. Army Cars Tail Red Vehicles

Trail Frankfurt Russians

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — U.S. military police have clamped an around-the-clock watch on the Russian military mission here in retaliation for Soviet harassment of a U.S. team in East Germany, Army sources said today.

★ ★ ★

Four olive-green U.S. Army sedans took up watch outside the high wire fence surrounding the Russian mission yesterday. The sedans have orders to follow any Russian vehicle leaving the compound.

U.S. Army sources said the measure was introduced because of repeated harassment of a U.S. military team at Potsdam in Communist East Germany.

★ ★ ★

Both the U.S. and the Russian missions date back to the four-power agreements. Both teams are supposed to have free movement.

The Russian officers of the mission, their wives and children live in eight houses in a small fenced-in park on the outskirts of Frankfurt.

The U.S. Military Police sedans took up positions opposite the driveways.

Each sedan carries two soldiers and a man in civilian clothes, presumably a U.S. agent.

Army sources said the Soviets recently have not only followed the U.S. team in East Germany, but have put certain areas on a restricted list.

U.S. Army headquarters in Heidelberg declined to comment on the Frankfurt action.

Pilfers Postal Petrol

MONROVIA, Calif. (AP) — Some villain may not want the mail to get through.

Postal authorities report that a gas thief was siphoning the tanks of trucks behind the post office here for 45 days.

They estimate the government is short $21.58 worth of postal petrol.

Meany Faces Problem in AFL-CIO

Ouster Major Issue

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

George Meany, honest plumber and labor's most powerful man, once more is facing the problem of ousting the less desirable.

★ ★ ★

The issue comes up at the AFL-CIO convention which opens at Atlantic City Thursday and will vote on expulsion of the Teamsters and three other unions.

★ ★ ★

Once before Meany was faced with a major problem of ouster. That was ten years ago. John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, was a major voice in the American Federation of Labor.

★ ★ ★

The 200-pound, cigar-chomping head of the AFL-CIO, 14 years younger than Lewis, was then merely secretary-treasurer of the AFL.

★ ★ ★

The question was whether members of the federation's executive committee should sign non-communist affidavits as required by the Taft-Hartley labor law.

BESTS LEWIS

In his usual rolling phrases, Lewis said no. In his vigorous, direct way, Meany said yes. The AFL accepted Meany's arguments. Lewis, beaten one of the few times in his life, quit the federation soon afterward.

★ ★ ★

Meany went on to become the most powerful man in the American labor movement and central figure for the big expulsion battle coming up at Atlantic City.

In 1952, after the death of William Green, he was elected president of the AFL. In 1955, he became head of the merged AFL-CIO.

Perhaps more than any other man Meany brought about the merger by convincing both sides it would mean peace with honor.

41 YEARS IN UNION

Now 63, Meany is the son of a union local president, a journeyman plumber and a union member for 41 years. He has battled the government frequently and fought other labor leaders. When winning, and when suffering some defeats he always has proved he is not a man who can be pushed around.

★ ★ ★

Four years ago he was called before a Senate committee investigating alleged racketeers in the International Longshoremen's Association.

When one Senator demanded that Meany kick the ILA out of the AFL, the union president answered, "What we do is something we decide. You won't decide it."

★ ★ ★

Before long the ILA was out of the AFL," but George Meany had made the decision.

Glass Factory Blaze Kills Six

Oil Heater Accidentally Knocked Over Believed to Be Cause of Fire

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio (AP)—An oil heater which was accidentally knocked over turned the Porter Glass Co. here into an inferno which killed six persons.

★ ★ ★

Firemen reported finding the sixth victim's body early today. Five bodies were recovered previously.

★ ★ ★

All the dead were employes at the small glass-blowing company. Five were women.

★ ★ ★

They were Miss Francis Good, Bellaire, Ohio; Mrs. Mary Jane Byard, Martins Ferry; Miss Goldie Gibbons, Yorkville, Ohio; Mrs. Rose McMahon, Martins Ferry; Hazel Stocia, Martins Ferry; and Matthew McElroy, Martins Ferry.

★ ★ ★

The five women are believed to have been trapped on the second floor of the two-floor, 75-year-old frame structure.

★ ★ ★

Six persons were injured in the fire. They include the plant owner, A. H. Porter, Wheeling, W.Va., and three other workers in the plant.

David Cuddihy, 19, one of the injured, told newsmen he believes he started the fire when he knocked over an oil heater on the on the first floor. Within minutes the flames had engulfed the building.

Military Families Overseas Enjoy Experiences in Spain

(This is an article on the lives and problems of American military families overseas.)

By ROSE McKEE

ZARAGOZA, Spain (INS) — An American airman caused a minor uproar in his Zaragoza apartment building recently by screening his balcony.

He doesn't understand Spanish as yet but he judged from the tone of his neighbors' voices that they were displeased with him. He got an interpreter and found out they were unhappy because he no longer "was taking in his share of the flies."

COLOR LIFE

Unexpected turns such as this color the day-to-day life of Air Force personnel and their families in this northeast Spanish city where Americans are still pretty much of a novelty. They are here to maintain the big Strategic Air Command base just outside town. It is the northern terminus of the pipeline the U.S. has built to provide oil for the string of bases constructed under agreement with Spain.

The city is less cosmopolitan than Madrid, and the language barrier is somewhat harder to break. Even so, the people-to-people contacts on which President Eisenhower has set great store spring up spontaneously to the delight of Americans.

An Air Force couple stopped their car along the highway the other day to watch operations at one of the concrete grape crushing vats that dot the vineyards. The head man of the crew, barefooted and barelegged, dashed merrily up to the car waving a half-filled bottle of the local wine. It obviously had been going the rounds of the workers.

PRANCED UP

A second man pranced up with bunches of the blue grapes held proudly aloft. The Americans sampled all offerings and internationalism ran high.

Most American wives are learning the language. One was impelled to do so when her five-year-old son, ill and delirious, cried out at night in Spanish and she couldn't understand him.

Children absorb the language like blotters. They pick it up from the maids in their homes and from the Spanish children with whom they play. Two six-year-olds, one from Michigan and one from Mississippi, were brought together the other day. They did not hit it off until one of their mothers suggested they speak Spanish instead of English to one another. They did, and got along famously.

* * *

Even with maids, housekeeping takes more time than at home. Water must be distilled. Utilities are often on the shaky side. Only key officers who would be the first summoned in event of a Communist attack, have been able to get telephones in their homes.

Wives do their shopping at the commissary on the base, where there is an array of groceries from home including even ice cream.

Children's clothes are bought at the post exchange, where the selection is meager and new shipments quickly snatched up. Most American women at European bases send home for their own clothes or try out a local dressmaker. A good one can save them a lot of money. One young woman looked smart in a green wool suit she had made for her at a total cost of $26. She figured it would have cost more than $100 at home.

* * *

One American woman told this reporter that she wouldn't exchange the experience of living in a foreign country for anything. She said that if such things as perfect plumbing were what she valued most, she would have stayed in the U.S. The fact that she, her husband and their five small children could be together while he served his foreign hitch "has meant everything to us."

She knows that her story may have an unhappy ending. Should "that alarm go off," her husband will not be around to help her. He has a vital defense assignment. He will have the car. She will be left to manage as best she can for herself and the five children.

Match Play Burns Two Small Girls

DETROIT (AP) — Two small Detroit girls suffered severe burns yesterday when matches ignited their clothing.

Raylna White, 7, was reported in critical condition in Receiving Hospital with burns covering her body. Beverly Head, 3, was in Providence Hospital with burns across 30 per cent of her body.

* * *

Police said Raylna was playing at the home of a neighbor with her sister Donna, 5, who lit a match close to Raylna's clothing. The girl's burning dress was extinguished by a neighbor, Mrs. Geraldine Calhoun.

* * *

Beverly was playing with several friends at her home. One of them struck a match and it set Beverly's dress on fire. Her mother, Hilda, 23, heard screams, rushed to her daughter and put out the flames.

To Speed Divorces

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Circuit Judge James R. Breakey Jr. has announced he will hear divorce cases on Saturdays, renewing a practice dropped more than a year ago.

Russell Against Aid Program

Urges Diverting Bulk of Money to Missiles; Hits Reciprocal Trade

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga) sought today to build opposition to the administration's new $3,940,000,000 foreign aid program even before its formal presentation to Congress.

Shortly after the program was outlined to congressional leaders at a White House conference, Russell called for diverting the bulk of the proposed spending to buying more military missiles.

* * *

But Rep. Albert (Okla), House Democratic whip, predicted Congress would approve most of the amount requested, though economic aid "might be cut some."

The administration's proposal to extend the reciprocal trade agreement program for another five years drew fire too. Many in both houses claimed it would be lucky to get a one-year renewal. The authority of the President to cut tariffs on a reciprocal basis now is due to expire June 30.

The opposition to both measures was noted in the face of advice from Secretary of State Dulles against concentrating so much attention on a military buildup that the "political, economic, psychological warfare" with which Russia seeks to extend its power is forgotten in the excitement created by the Russian Sputnik.

Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa) said he understood $1,800,000,000 of the money would be used to provide military weapons for allies, and $2,100,000,000 for economic help, including 625 millions for the economic development fund.

4 Seek Carey's Post

DETROIT (AP) — Three Democrats and a Republican have filed for elections in which a successor to State Rep. Ed Carey will be chosen in the Third District. They are John A. Smith, 50, Democratic employe of the City Election Commission; Thomas J. Murphy, 43, construction company office employe; Duane R. Jasper, 29, a Wayne University law student, and Vincent J. Murray, 40, a Republican who headed the Detroit Eisenhower Labor Committee last year. A primary is scheduled Dec. 20; a runoff election Jan. 10. Carey has been elected to the Detroit City Council.

BEGINNER or REVIEW STUDENT
Training Will Bring Results

The demand for well trained stenographers, secretaries, typists, accountants, and other office help is far greater than the supply. Beginning salaries are excellent. There are many good opportunities for advancement.
You can prepare for one of these desirable positions by attending either Day, Half-Day, or Evening School.

Texas Passes 3 School Bills

Legislature Goes Home After Close Votes for Segregation Measures

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Legislature went home yesterday after spending 21 days in special session passing three segregation bills.

Gov. Price Daniel, a Democrat, called the special session.

The first two bills, asked by the governor and passed last week, would close public schools when there are mob or riot threats, and would give the state attorney general $50,000 to help fight local integration suits in federal courts.

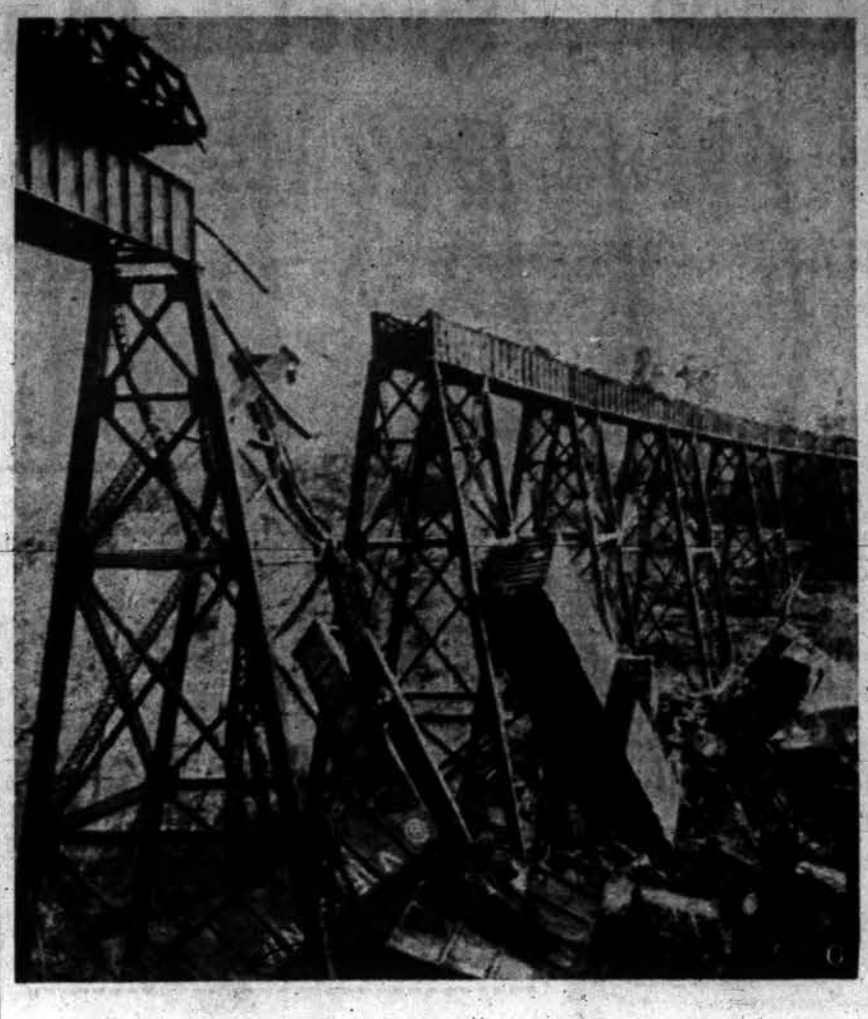

★ ★ ★

The final bill would allow county judges to require registration of organizations involved in school integration troubles. Backers of the bill openly said it was aimed at hamstringing the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People. It would require such groups to list members, officers and affiliations.

★ ★ ★

The 13-12 Senate vote on the registration bill yesterday was typical of the close legislative debate on segregation. Possible delaying tactics by Sen. Henry Gonzalez of San Antonio, a Democrat who has filibustered segregation bills three times in the various sessions, were beaten down by a 14-10 vote.

The school closing bill, probably the most controversial, allows the governor to close any school where it appears troops will be used to enforce racial integration orders or where there is the threat of mobs or riots.

FREIGHT TOPPLES IN VIRGINIA — Thirty-nine cars in the center of a Virginia Railway train plunged from this trestle near Phenix into Cub Creek and tore up the trestle in a derailment Monday. The engine crew on the front end of the train escaped as did four men in a caboose, which came two carlengths from plunging over the torn-up trestle.

Urges 4th Shot of Salk Vaccine

Doctor Says 'Booster' Should Be Taken by All With 3 Injections

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A fourth "booster" shot of Salk polio vaccine next spring for all persons who have previously received the usual three shots was recommended today by a University of Pennsylvania doctor.

At the same time, Dr. Lewis L. Coriell urged all persons under 40 who haven't done so to complete the usual three shot course of "properly spaced" injections.

Such a system, he said, offers the possibility for "virtual elimination of paralytic poliomyelitis as a significant disease in 1958."

Coriell, associate professor of immunology in pediatrics at the university's School of Medicine, said in a report prepared for the 11th clinical session of the American Medical Assn.:

"Three years of increasingly widespread use of . . . (Salk) polio vaccine have coincided with unprecedented reduction in reported cases of poliomyelitis. A particularly low incidence and low paralytic rate are the outstanding features of the 1957 season."

He said estimates suggest that protection against paralytic disease approached 90 per cent in patients who received "three or more" properly spaced injections of vaccine, and 75 to 80 per cent in those receiving less than three shots.

The doctor declared that in view of downward polio trends since the advent of the vaccine "it seems logical to predict that poliomyelitis will be reduced even more drastically in 1958 provided the vaccination program is continued, including a full course of three properly spaced injections for all persons under 40 years of age and a fourth booster dose in the spring of 1958 to all who have previously received three or more injections."

Medicare Pays Out $43 Million in 1957

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said today its plan for health service to military dependents has paid more than 300,000 doctor bills and 200,000 hospital bills totaling 43 million dollars in its first year of operation.

Almost 40 per cent of the patients were maternity cases, the department said. The physicians' bills paid totaled 22 million dollars and the hospital charges 21 million dollars.

"Medicare" went into operation a year ago next Saturday. It is designed principally for dependents of servicemen stationed in places where the services of regular military hospitals and doctors are not available.

Seeks Equipment for Scientific Work

WASHINGTON (INS) — Senator A. S. (Mike) Monroney yesterday urged that the U. S. step up its program in building equipment for the next decade's possibly crucial discoveries in high energy physics.

Monroney revealed that he had sent a telegram on Nov. 25 to Dr. James Killian, White House special assistant for science and technology, stressing U. S. lag in this area.

Monroney said his telegram to Killian reviewed what he had been able to discover about the high energy accelerator situation, as a non-scientist.

He has asked Killian his opinion on the Leland Stanford and Midwestern University Research Association proposals to the Atomic Energy Commission, Defense Department and National Science Foundation. These involve expenditures of $75 million and $100 million respectively.

The Oklahoma senator asked for machines comparable or superior to the 50 billion electron volt high energy accelerator Soviet Russia is building for 1961.

Wild Auca Indians Claim New Victim

The savage Auca Indians, who slaughtered five Protestant missionaries, including the husband of a Pontiac woman, in January 1956, have claimed another victim, according to mission headquarters in Quito, Ecuador.

Headquarters confirmed the death of a Quichua Indian who had wandered into Auca territory. A report said he had been killed 11 days ago by five-foot spears of the Aucas.

The Rev. T. Edward McCully Jr. was massacred almost two years ago along with four fellow missionaries who had sought to convert the Auca tribe. Mrs. McCully, who is carrying on missionary work in Ecuador, is the former Marilou Hobolth.

A Wonderful Gift for Christmas!
The SMITH-CORONA ELECTRIC PORTABLE

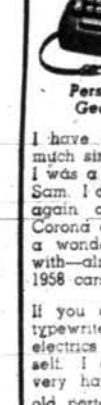

Personal Message from George Wasserberger

I have not used a typewriter much since World War I when I was a stenographer for Uncle Sam. I decided to learn to type again and bought a Smith-Corona electric portable. What a wonderful machine to type with—almost like floating in the 1958 cars!

If you or your family run a typewriter, try one of these electrics and prove it to yourself. I am sure you will be very happy to trade in your old portable.

Southfield Claims Twelve Town Project Unlawful

Suit Attacks '56 Drain Code Enabling County to Set Tax

By PETE LOCHBILER

The long-delayed trial of suits blocking the Twelve Town storm relief drain continued today after Southfield Township claimed the project has proceeded unconstitutionally so far and should be begun all over again.

It was agreed at yesterday's opening session before Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland that suits brought against the Oakland County Drainage Board a year ago by Southfield and Troy should be tried simultaneously in an effort to clear up legal entanglements stalling the drain's progress.

The proposed $44 million project, five years in the planning, is designed to relieve seasonal flooding in 13 southeastern Oakland County communities. It would provide a new network of combined storm-sewer interceptors for a 36-square mile area roughly bounded by the present Southeastern Michigan Sewage District.

Southfield attorney Harry N. Dell yesterday hit at the enabling legislation passed in the 1956 State Drain Code, under which the drain is being initiated by the county drain board.

Dell criticized the sweeping powers which the act grants the drain board to enforce construction of big, inter-community drains in instances where the communities by themselves have failed to solve their drainage problems voluntarily.

In announcing that he would move for Judge Holland to decree the legislation is unconstitutional, Dell maintained that even if it were constitutional, "the county has transgressed the law and failed to live up to its requirements."

★ ★ ★

The Twelve Town proceedings so far "should be tossed out and be initiated all over again, this time legally," Dell contended.

SOUTHFIELD SHARE HIKED

Dell complained that since the suits were filed last October, Southfield's apportioned share of the total cost has been boosted by the county from $811,000 to $4,295,893, "despite the fact that Southfield has never officially joined the project."

He said that if the suit had not blocked the drain last year, the township's tax capacity this year would have been "totally destroyed" by the Twelve-Town assessments.

At the same time, Dell pointed out, only the eastern, one-twelfth of the township is in the Twelve Town (Clinton River-Red Run) drainage area. "The rest of the township drains into the River Rouge and would in no way benefit by the proposed drain," he argued.

Dell's criticism of the statute (prepared by Oakland County to solve its drain problems) was three-fold: The statute (1) permits the county to violate the 15-mill constitutional limitation on township taxation, (2) conceivably forces taxpayers to pay for improvements from which they derive no benefits; and (3) forces communities to participate in drain projects against their will, contrary to due process of law.

"Under the law," he said, "the county could create a drainage district of any size, fix payments at any amount no matter how large, and then force communities to participate, whether they petitioned for the drain or not. This surely is unconstitutional," Dell argued.

Besides Southfield, Dell pointed out, Troy, Berkley, Madison Heights and Clawson are included in the drain, although they did not petition for it. Communities involved which did petition are Birmingham, Ferndale, Hazel Park, Huntington Woods, Oak Park, Pleasant Ridge, Royal Oak and Royal Oak Township.

HITS COUNTY POLICY

Dell turned his criticism to the property in Huntington Woods and to what he called the "one-sided" system of giving financial credits for existing drains.

Dell argued that it was "favoritism" for the county to pay the share of the total cost apportioned for the Detroit Zoological Park and Rackham Golf Course.

With Huntington Woods claiming it was impossible for it to pay these two shares, and with Detroit refusing to do so, the Board of Supervisors last March agreed to pick up the $450,000 bill for the 246 acres involved.

Dell yesterday labled this as grossly unfair," and charged that "there is nothing in the statute to permit the county as a whole to pay for the benefit of just one community, Huntington Woods."

He further charged that the policy whereby $17 million in credits have been allowed for existing drains that will supplement the Twelve Town system is based on "a fiction that favors established cities over newer communities, such as Southfield."

The fiction, propagated in this case by the county, Dell said, is that the total Twelve Town cost should be figured at $61 million, including $44 million in new construction and $17 million in existing drains.

AIDS OLDER CITIES

"By figuring this way, established communities are getting hundreds of thousands of dollars knocked off their apportioned shares of cost for drains that are already built and which, legally, will never be a part of the Twelve Town system," Dell maintained.

Because of these "rebates," the cost to communities such as Southfield is correspondingly higher, Dell indicated.

Dell then charged that the final plans adopted Jan. 27, 1956 by the drain board on the project's location have subsequently been changed illegally to include about 2½ square miles in Southfield, running along Greenfield road from just south of Nine Mile road to Fourteen Mile road.

"The board had no right to make this change after the final hearing, and yet it was made and Southfield's apportioned cost has soared astronomically," Dell concluded.

A Twelve Town official, J. Anton Berst, explained after adjournment yesterday that the additional Southfield territory was included because communities to the east had complained of storm waters flooding across Greenfield.

To drain the disputed area, Berst said, two additional pipelines as well as larger interceptors leading to the Red Run outlet are necessary.

★ ★ ★

Judge Holland said that the case "undoubtedly will be appealed to the State Supreme Court no matter what my decision is."

Troy's arguments against the drain and the county's initial defense of its plans were expected today before the first witnesses in the trial are called.

Seek Waterford 'Man of Year'

Urge Clubs, Individuals Make Nominations by January 4

A survey is being conducted throughout Waterford Township in an effort to find the most outstanding "man of the Year."

Sponsored by the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce, the annual project is attracting more attention than usual, because every church group, service club and PTA has been asked to assist in the search for the award winner.

When the project was started by the Jaycees in 1954, former principal of the high school Roy Larmee was the winner. The following year, director of the recreation department Tom Belton was top man.

★ ★ ★

Last year's most outstanding citizen was Charles Pappas, a former Waterford Township High School teacher.

★ ★ ★

Various qualifications are involved in making just the right selection, according to Byron J. Merritt, committee chairman.

WHAT IT TAKES:

"The Man of the Year must be between the ages of 21 and 35, and must have made outstanding contributions to the community, job, church and family," he said.

More than 100 letters and forms have been sent to organizations. However, any individual living in the township is qualified to nominate a candidate, Merritt added.

A panel of five judges, not affiliated with the Jaycees will make the final judgment from a study of all applications submitted. Deadline for entries has been set for Jan. 4.

The winner will be announced at the annual Boss's Night banquet, to be held at 7 p.m. Jan. 14 in the Community Activities Center on Williams Lake Rd.

Competition to Bridge Ruled Out

Dream of Using Ferries Around Straits Crushed

LANSING (AP) — Rep. James Goulette's dreams of a ferry service for northern Lake Michigan went a-glimmering today.

For all practical purposes, so did his hopes of retaining two boats in the Straits of Mackinac ferry fleet on stand-by duty — just in case something happens to the big new bridge spanning the straits.

KILLS PLAN

An attorney general's opinion all but killed one plan; the bridge authority put the damper on the other.

Goulette, Iron Mountain Republican, also admitted his special House committee which is looking for ways to dispose of the five boats in the ferry fleet will be hard put to stay in business.

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh held yesterday that any ferry service between Michigan's Upper and Lower Peninsulas would be "competitive" to the Straits bridge. The state law setting up the bridge authority prohibits any tunnel, ferry or bridge from competing for vehicle traffic in the general Straits area.

HOPED FOR FERRY

Goulette, who was hoping for a ferry service between Frankfort and Menominee across Lake Michigan, declared bitterly:

"This kills my dreams for the time being. I think the opinion is a stinker."

Meeting with Goulette's committee, Deputy Highway Commissioner Sidney H. Woolner said the authority had agreed to commandeer railroad ferries now in service in the event the bridge was damaged in a national emergency.

REPAIRS COSTLY

Maintenance of two ferries on a stand-by basis would likely be too costly, Woolner said, requiring probably between $80,000 and $90,000 a year.

★ ★ ★

At Goulette's request, however, he promised to check on the possibility of retaining one of the ferries as an excusion boat in the Straits area.

Between 15 and 20 parties, Woolner said, currently have "serious inquiries" before the highway department on possible purchase of one or more of the ferries.

George Lloyd, superintendent of the fleet, suggested the Straits of Mackinac be put into service ferrying visitors to Isle Royale in Lake Superior.

However, the National Park Service announced in Washington yesterday it had awarded a $1,159,680 contract to Christy Corp., Sturgeon Bay, Wis., for a 100-passenger ferry to be used at Isle Royale.

Kavanagh issued another opinion giving the highway department the go-head to dispose of the ferry fleet as surplus property without waiting for legislative approval. Any proceeds, he said, must go to the state trunkline fund.

Estimated value of the ferries and docking facilities is 10 million dollars.

Ferry dock sites, Kavanagh said, must not be sold or transferred to another state agency without legislative approval.

Oklahoma Says No to Dry Plan

County Option Beaten Decisively; Indications Mount for Legal Liquor

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Prohibition forces who wanted to dry up the sale of 3.2 beer in Oklahoma through individual county option took a bad licking yesterday and indications mounted that a big push for legalized sale of liquor will develop in this constitutionally dry state.

In a surprisingly heavy turnout, Oklahomans voted by a margin of some 61,000 votes against the county option plan sponsored by drys. Oklahoma and Tulsa, the two largest counties, provided most of the margin to keep beer sold statewide.

Unofficial returns from 3,196 of the state's 3,220 precincts gave 213,264 votes for county option and 274,944 against. Opponents of option had cast about 56.5 per cent of the total vote.

★ ★ ★

It was a victory for the beer industry, which had campaigned heavily on issues of tax revenue and claims that county option would make law enforcement more difficult. The vote was a severe defeat for the United Dry Assn., which had forced the election with the active support of Gov. Raymond Gary, a personal dry.

★ ★ ★

Spokesmen for both wets and drys predicted the outcome will mean a drive for a repeal election before long. Oklahoma has had legal beer, up to 3.2 per cent, since 1933. However, the state has been constitutionally dry since it entered the union in 1907 with the last vote on liquor being held in 1949. Repeal was defeated by 55,000 votes in 1949.

Your PTA Is Planning

Child Guidance Worker to Discuss Mental Health

ORION TOWNSHIP — Roger Cuneo, of the Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic, will speak on the "Mental Health of Children" at 8 p.m. Thursday at the meeting of the Webber School PTA in the school cafeteria.

Following a question and answer period, refreshments will be served.

Preceding the meeting, the executive committee will hold its session, at 7 p.m.

Gingellville

The Pontiac Mothersingers will present a Christmas program for the Proper PTA at 8 p.m. Dec. 9.

Mothers of the area hope the presentation will stimulate the formation of a similar choral group for Orion Township PTA organizations.

Robert Williams, well known local soloist, will lead the association in community singing. Refreshments will be served.

Drayton Plains

McVittie PTA will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the school. All children in grades one through six will participate in the second annual indoor Christmas carol sing, under the direction of Miss Janet Grimes, music supervisor.

Avon Township

Stone School PTA will meet at Stone School at 8 p.m. Thursday.

A short business meeting will be followed by a Christmas program. Scenes from the Nativity will be presented in pantomime with all of the students joining in the singing of carols.

There will be a trimmed Christmas tree and holiday refreshments will be served by third grade mothers.

Stiles School has postponed its regular PTA meeting for the Christmas party which will be held at a later date.

Rochester

The Woodward-Stony Creek School PTA will present a Christmas program at 8 p.m. Monday in the Woodward School.

The program will feature the Rochester High School Choir, under the direction of Frank Irish, in several numbers. Mrs. Morrel J. Clute will give the reading, "The Littlest Angel." Mrs. Mervin Mack is in charge of the program. A business session will be held at 7 p.m. preceding the program. Refreshments will be served.

Dryden

At the PTA meeting held at the high school Monday evening, the film, "Men, Mail and Machines," was shown. It dealt with electronic and super automatic devices now being installed in some of the major post offices.

New Hudson

The New Hudson PTA will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday at the school gymnasium. The main speaker of the evening will be Mrs. Beatrice Eowen, a member of the Wayne State University Depdrtment of Education.

A specialist in children's literature, she will speak on "Books for Christmas." She'll bring a mobile library.

Refreshments will be served by the fourth grade mothers.

Walled Lake

The annual Christmas program of the Walled Lake Elementary PTA will be held on Monday, with 102 children participating.

A chorus of 50 voices will accompany scenes depicting the Christmas story acted by representatives from each of the grades under the direction of Mrs. Carl Grapentine.

A short business meeting at 8 p.m. will precede the program. The public is invited.

Church to Hold Bazaar

ORION-OXFORD — The Ladies Auxiliary of the St. Alfred's Episcopal Church, north of Orion on M24, is sponsoring its first bazaar and bake sale Saturday from 1 until 5 p.m. in the church building. Light refreshments will be served, and all types of baked goods, handiwork and white elephants will be offered. Mrs. Hercules Husted is the chairman.

Union Council to Ask Teamsters' Ouster

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —The AFL-CIO Executive Council gathered today to recommend a formal expulsion of the Teamsters Union, which claims a tenth of the federation's 15 million members.

The council was acting on corruption charges developed in months of hearings before the Senate Rackets Committee.

★ ★ ★

It also was expected to vote expulsion recommendations for the Bakery, Laundry and Distillery Workers unions, similarly involved in charges of corruption.

The recommendations will go to the AFL-CIO convention convening here tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Expulsion of the four unions, with about 1¾ million members, was mapped by AFL-CIO President George Meany as a demonstration that organized labor can deal effectively with racketeering in labor's ranks.

Gingellville to Hold Goodfellow Drive

GINGELLVILLE — The Gordon Knickerbocker Spirit of the Metropolitan Club will hold its annual Goodfellow newspaper drive Dec. 13 and 14 in the Gingellville shopping district. The proceeds will be placed in the welfare fund to be used for Christmas baskets.

★ ★ ★

Recently elected officers of the club are William Stancombe, president; William Walrath, vice president; Robert Williams, recording secretary; Harold Van Camp, financial secretary; Everette Strine, sergeant at arms, and Harold Gingell, three-year auditor.

Pursue Driver of Stolen Auto in Wild Chase

State Police and Oakland County Sheriff's deputies pursued the driver of a stolen car through Waterford Township at 3:30 a.m. this morning at speeds of up to 85 miles an hour.

★ ★ ★

The car, a 1953 Pontiac, was spotted on Walton boulevard near M24, by Troopers Robert Trepkoski and Orville Dalman of the Romeo Post.

Their attention was attracted by the fact that the car's back up lights were on while it was going forward. They attempted to stop it, but the driver stepped on the gas and took off going west on Walton.

The troopers radioed ahead to the Sheriff's Dept., Waterford Township police, and Pontiac police. A county car set up a road block on Walton, but the speeder drove around it smashing into the corner of the bumper.

As the pursuit continued, the fleeing driver turned off to Maceday road, stopped and fled into a nearby wooded area.

★ ★ ★

The car, it was later learned, was stolen in White Lake Township at 11:30 p.m. last night. On the front seat were found another set of license plates.

Car Crash in Ohio Kills State Marine

KENTON, Ohio (AP) — A Michigan Marine was killed and his brother critically injured yesterday when their skidding automobile was struck by a truck on U.S. 68 about nine miles south of here, the state highway patrol said.

Killed was Gerald Van Keuren, 18, a passenger in the car driven by his brother, Carl, 21. Carl was taken to a hospital in Kenton, where his condition was described as critical.

The patrol said the brothers, both Marines stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif., had been on leave visiting their parents in Romulus, Mich., and were returning to camp when the crash occurred.

Major Quake in China Recorded in California

BERKELEY, Calif., (INS) — A major earthquake was recorded today 6,200 miles northwest of Berkeley, probably in Central China.

The University of California's seismograph indicated that the shock began at 7:50 p.m. (PST) yesterday and continued for four hours—or until about midnight.

University seismologist Don Tocher described the shock as one of the two largest in the world this year. It had a Richter scale magnitude of 7¾ to 8.

Describe 'Moon' Brain

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (INS) — Minneapolis-Honeywell engineers today described the guidance "brain" of the Vanguard rocket as about the size of a basketball and containing three ultra-accurate gyroscopes.

Avon Drive a Success

AVON — The Avon Community Chest drive went over the top, it was reported yesterday by drive chairman Mrs. Margaret Norton. A total of $26,235 had been collected by Tuesday, she said. The goal was $25,000, and indications are that contributions still coming in will send the total even higher.

Bonds Approved

MADISON HEIGHTS — Among the general obligation bonds winning approval of the Municipal Finance Commission in Lansing yesterday were part of city portion cost of street improvement, $56,000, in Madison Heights.

South Lyon High School Schedules Senior Play

SOUTH LYON—"Off the Track," the Senior High School play, will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday nights in the elementary school gymnasium.

The play, a three-act comedy by Silicia Metcalfe, is set in a small railway station. It will be directed by Mrs. William Grimes, assisted by student directors Sandra Latta and Sandra Stillwell.

Marion Thompson and Donald Norvey will play leading roles. Others in the cast include Gordon Bredvick, David LaBohn, Karl Kish, Bonnie Sweet, Margie Smith, Gale Heinz, Shirley Lowther, Pettengill, Tommie Underhill, Pat Glauque and Connie Nordux.

2,000 Letters to Jimmy OK Romantic Sheik

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif) says he has received about 2,000 letters giving advice since he mentioned last week an offer by an Arab shiek to marry his mother Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. The sheik now has 39 wives.

★ ★ ★

"Some said if I couldn't get her married off to that shiek to try another," Roosevelt said.

"Others asked why I should want to break it up — that if it was true love it should blossom.

★ ★ ★

"Still others, from women, said that if she turned him down, they would be ready to go in her place."

British Transportation Snarled by Fog, Ice

LONDON (AP) — The worst fog in two years and a 24-degree temperature that iced roads today tied up transportation in most of the British Isles.

★ ★ ★

Two persons were killed in traffic accidents. Hundreds of motorists abandoned their cars.

London Airport canceled both incoming and outbound flights. Shipping was held up. Smoke in London and other industrial cities combined with the fog to produce a choking smog.

CONSTIPATED?
New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Most constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that loses so much moisture that its contents become so dry they block the bowel; so shrunken they fail to stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE colon to action; to a normal urge to purge. And, of all laxatives, only new COLONAID, possesses its great moisturizing capacity plus its stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so gentle it has been hospital proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAID, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Sinatra to Be Top Guest at Boys Town of Italy Ball

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The boy who first saw the light of day in New Jersey, and rose to fame as an actor and singer, Frank Sinatra, has been given an honor that I am sure will greatly please him.

On March 27, he will be the guest of honor at the Waldorf-Astoria at the annual ball given for Boys Town of Italy. He is the first member of show business to be thus honored. Those who have been chosen in other years are General Mark Clark, Myron Taylor, special envoy to the Vatican, and Carlos Romulo, former president of the United Nations General Assembly.

On the dais at the Waldrof will be Monsignor Carroll, head of Boys Town in Italy, Governor Averell Harriman, Mayor Robert Wagner, Clare Boothe Luce, Leonardo Vitetti, Italian ambassador to the U.S. and U.S. Ambassador to Italy, James Zellerbach, and many more.

RUTH ROMAN RETURNS

Tempus certainly does fugit. I just couldn't believe that Ruth Roman had been gone a whole year until she told me that she and her bridegroom, Bud Moss, had just returned from Europe after a 12-month honeymoon.

"I was so shaken after the Andrea Doria tragedy I couldn't work, so Bud, my son Richard, and I spent some wonderful months in Spain. I made one picture, 'Bitter Victory,' in France with Richard Burton, however."

Ruth says she'll do some TV right away, and if the right part comes up in a movie, she'll be ready to work.

'THE BODY' ILL

From her bed in Lenox Hill Hospital in New York, Marie McDonald tells me her doctor diagnosed her illness as phlebitis, a blood clot in the veins, caused by a fall. She comes home Thursday but has promised to stay in bed another week.

Poor Marie's triumph at the Plaza only lasted two weeks. One of my friends tells me she was just great in her act. At the Sunday matinee she called a little boy from the audience and sang "I Found Myself a Guy," a tune Jimmy McHugh had written for her, and the children loved it.

Joe E. Lewis, who with Bob Hope appeared with her the first night at the Plaza, will be with her at the Riviera Hotel in Havana Jan. 22.

DEMPSEY BUYS CLUB

My old friend Jack Dempsey has bought an interest in the Howard Manor in Palm Springs which he and Dave Margolis plan to make one of the popular places there. I went there to dinner and must say the cuisine is superb. Jack was due next day and while Dave is running things, Jack has a big finger in the pie. Everything Jack is associated with, he always gives his personal attention.

Service to Humanity Wins Awards for 3

NEW YORK (INS)—The annual humanitarian awards presented by the National Institute of Social Sciences were given Monday night to former ambassador Clare Boothe Luce, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther and Evangelist Billy Graham.

★ ★ ★

The presentation of the institute's annual gold medal distinguished service awards was made by its president, former Army secretary Frank Pace, at a testimonial dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Luce, former ambassador to Rome was recognized for her "imagination, courage and broad human understanding" in advancing the interests of a peaceful world.

★ ★ ★

Gruenther, former NATO commander and now head of the International Red Cross, received the award for his "accomplishments" in numerous spheres of endeavor.

★ ★ ★

Graham was cited by the institute for his "international ministry" giving hope and new life to men and women everywhere.

★ ★ ★

A message from President Eisenhower praised the three recipients as the "sumbols of the diversified power of our nation."

Riverboat Hits Road From Michigan Town

SAUGATUCK (AP) — Threats of severe weather on Lake Michigan and the Gulf of Mexico have rerouted the riverboat Suwanee Belle by highway to Old Town, Fla.

The 39-foot, diesel powered sternwheeler is being trucked from Saugatuck to Old Town, where it will be used as a resort excursion boat.

Its builders, Saugatuck Village President Richard G. Hoffman and William Bale, originally planned to sail the craft to its new location by way of Lake Michigan and the inland waterways system. They canceled the plans because of storm dangers at this time of year.

The Suwanee Belle moved out by truck yesterday.

Watchmakers Use 1,400 Operations

PARIS — A typical French watch contains about 130 parts and its manufacture requires 1,400 machine operations. The complexity of producing a watch poses both technical and financial problems. If one firm were to make all the parts for its timepieces, it would call for an enormous investment.

For this reason the French industry now is organized along Swiss lines and consists of about 250 firms that make parts and incomplete works, 350 that assemble finished watches from parts made elsewhere, and about 10 companies that do most of their own work, but have a number of outside suppliers and subcontractors.

When Elizabeth Barrett Browning completed writing her exquisite poems, "Sonnets from the Portuguese," she told her equally famed husband, Robert Browning, to tear them up if he did not like them.

Pinch Hits for Man at Driver's Test

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — William L. Gardner, 34, of Toledo, showed up too late to take his driver's license examination recently.

When his application was given to State Highway Patrolman Merl Blay a few days later the officer didn't think he looked like the same man.

He wasn't. Questioning disclosed he was Roy L. Bryson, 41, who had agreed to take the test for Gardner, who cannot read or write.

Ironically, Bryson previously had been convicted three times for driving without a license. He couldn't pass the test either.

Municipal Judge Frank W. Wiley sentenced Bryson to six months in the workhouse and fined him $200.

Symphony Treats Audience to 2 Rarely Played Works

By MAX E. SIMON

Small community symphonies often give in to the tendency to fill their programs full of orchestral warhorses—the all-too-familiar music which is played over and over by orchestras throughout the world.

★ ★ ★

Unfortunately, these symphonic organizations do not realize that, more often than not, the community concert goer can travel to a nearby large metropolis to hear these masterworks performed by huge professional symphonic bodies under the best of conductors. Or the symphony lover can purchase multitudes of fine recordings and listen to them at his leisure in his home.

NOT IN THIS CATEGORY

Luckily for this city, the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra does not fall into this category. Under the direction of its musical director and conductor, Francesco Di Blasi, the Pontiac Symphony last night presented two works rarely heard in the metropolitan area, in its second concert of the season in Lincoln Junior High School auditorium.

★ ★ ★

The first of these was a concerto for violin, piano, and string orchestra by Franz Josef Haydn, which was not published until 1937 and which has never been performed before in these parts.

Playing the solo lines were the orchestra's concertmaster, Jack Boesen (who also performs in the Detroit symphony), and Norman Gifford, who is the organist at St. Christopher Episcopal Church in Detroit.

Although an unassuming composition, the Haydn concerto is a charming piece of music, and both soloists lent their best efforts to the performance. Boesen played the concerto on a priceless instrument, a violin made in 1740, by Carlo Bergonzi, a pupil of Stradivarius.

SYMPHONIC POEM

The second composition was the "Pines of Rome" by Ottorini Respighi. A symphonic poem, the "Pines of Rome" consists of four parts, of which the orchestra performed the last three, the "Pines Near a Catacomb," the "Pines of the Janiculum," and the "Pines of the Appian Way."

The second of these movements always stirs an audience's interest in that a gramaphone recording of a nightingale is played during the movement. The final movement of the "Pines of Rome" concludes with a triumphal march in which the orchestra displayed a rich and powerful sonority.

The symphony was supplemented by members of the Pontiac High School Band in the "Pines of Rome." Added trumpet players were Gerald Cunningham, Janice Pietsch, Robert Wiles, Delmar Benson and Charles Lavegue, with Everett Lane joining the percussion section. Four faculty members in the Pontiac school system also were added to the orchestra for the symphonic poem.

★ ★ ★

The program opened with a performance of the brilliant "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik" for string orchestra. This beautiful serenade is meant to be gay and pleasant. It was anything but that last night.

EXCELLENT STRINGS

Despite the fine playing of the strings, the serenade sounded heavy and flat because of the poor acoustics of the junior high auditorium. Instead of a small chamber orchestra, it sounded as though a full orchestra were blasting away at the light and graceful themes conceived by Mozart.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Symphony Orchestra is the focal point of the city's cultural activity, and, as such, deserves an adequate auditorium in which to perform. Perhaps the proposed civic auditorium or that in the new high school will provide the answer to this problem.

'Ballet' Is Theme of Workshop

"The Ballet" was the theme of a workshop held by members of the Student League of the Tuesday Musicale at the home of Gretchen Gaensbauer on Illinois avenue.

Records were played along with an explanation of the ballet. Connie Clinton demonstrated basic steps and concluded with a toe number.

Presenting piano selections at the Sunday afternoon meeting were Carolyn Wharton, Jane Bigler, Pamela Griffin, Kathy LaCore, Margaret Moreau, Joyce Livingstone, and Ann Fisher.

The group concluded the program with singing of Christmas carols.

PEO Entertains Infirmary Patients

Mrs. Ashton W. Emery opened her Dixie highway home to members of AW Chapter of PEO Monday evening. During the evening Christmas gifts and a party were given for patients at Oakland County Infirmary.

Mrs. Earl Rinker was in charge of the program entitled "What's New in Christmas Decorations?" Assisting the hostess was Marian Emery.

Legion Auxiliary Plans Tea, Dinner

Mrs. Milton Yerkes was named chairman of a Jan. 20 membership tea, to be held by Ladies Auxiliary to American Legion Cook - Nelson Post 20. New junior and senior members will be initiated at that time.

It also was announced at the group's Monday evening meeting that Mrs. Leo Mineweaser is chairman for a Feb. 16 beef dinner to be held at the post home.

Alumnae Plan Fashion Show and Card Party

Mrs. Martin-A. Gaare of St. Joseph Mercy Fospital Alumnae has been appointed chairman of the card party and fashion show, provided by Alvin's, which will be held in the nurses' home auditorium Wednesday.

Others serving on committees are Mrs. Charles Lawson, refreshments; Mrs. Katherine Wilkinson, fashions; Mrs. Fred Wyzgoski, Mrs. James Green, Geraldine Zettell and Mrs. James Ebaugh, prizes.

In addition to professional models, four models will be taken from the alumnae group.

Revival of 1920 Chemise Should Spur Shoe Sales

NEW YORK (AP) — Revival of the flapper-style "chemise" dress of the 1920s is expected to spur lagging sales of women's shoes, spokesmen for the nation's four-billion-dollar-a-year footwear industry predicted today.

Manufacturers and retailers aired their views at the 19th Popular Price Shoe Show of America sponsored by the National Assn. of Shoe Chain Stores and the New England Shoe and Leather Assn.

T-STRAP REVIVED

To go with the new raised hemlines, shoe stylists have come up with designs featuring tapered lasts, lower heels and open toes. The T-strap, popular in the 1920s, has been revived.

Also cited as a basis for a possible sales pickup is the fact that Easter will arrive two weeks earlier next year than in 1957. Retailers have held off buying because of a slow fall season, manufacturers assert.

Some buyers are reportedly balking at a 3 per cent price hike made by manufacturers of nationally advertised brands several weeks ago. Manufacturers of unbranded shoes have held the price line, despite complaints of rising costs.

Son Born to Reeds

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reed (nee Dolores McDonald) of Homestead drive announce the birth of a son, Peter Jerome, today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Grandparents of the infant are Mr. and Mrs. Carl McDonald of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. James Reed of Grosse Ile.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gagne of Birmingham announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane Elizabeth, to Robert R. Drabik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Drabik of Berkley. The prospective bridegroom attends Lawrence Institute of Technology. The couple plans a June 23 wedding.

Get Course in Informal Language

Latins in Capital Learn English as It's Spoken Here

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Consider the plight of the Latin diplomat's wife who had to master the art of scolding in English before her children understood her.

Being able to carry on an everyday conversation, contract personal business, shop, run a household, scold if need be — just to get about as an average individual — is a major problem for foreigners everywhere, be they ambassadors, clerks or youngsters.

LIMITED OPPORTUNITY

For the large numbers of Spanish-speaking people in the capital, who make up the majority of the town's foreign population, an opportunity to learn and speak everyday English is limited.

Envoys and their staffs are confined to speaking the language of diplomacy and business.

They and their wives can exchange pleasantries at the usual round of social functions. At home and among themselves they speak only Spanish.

★ ★ ★

The children, through their American schools and playmates, pick up English in its most common usage — so much so they begin to lose touch with their native language and often show embarrassment for their parents' inability to express themselves in their new language.

CENTER ESTABLISHED

In an effort to bridge the gap between formal and child's English, a non-profit educational organization, the Centro Angio-Español, was founded.

It's principally a workshop for professional men and women interested in exchanging each other's languages and customs, but it aims also to promote friendship and knowledge between English and Spanish-speaking peoples of all groups and ages.

For instance, it cooperates with the Children's Museum of Washington in working out programs for children. Recently a group of South American diplomats' children staged a performance for their North American "amigos" with a toy theater.

Currently the center and the museum are staging their second annual fair of children's books in Spanish.

It was opened by the Marquis de Santa Cruz, cultural attache of the Spanish Embassy, who spoke in Spanish to a bilingual audience.

"If you want to learn any language," says Matilda Young, director of the Children's Museum, "begin with children's books, plays, songs, games.

"All the lessons aren't worth a thing unless you get a chance to use them. This goes for adults as well as children."

Psychiatric Aides Hold Yule Party

Psychiatric Aid Association of Pontiac State Hospital met Tuesday evening at the hospital, with 40 members participating in a Christmas party which included a gift grab-bag. A gift was presented to retiring member Mrs. Fanny Seeley.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ethel Pettibone, Mrs. Nellie Young, Mrs. Mildred Davidson and Mrs. Gwenith Merwin. Decorations were in a Christmas motif.

Hospital Receives Auto

Busy Oakland County housewives have been making and selling kitchen items to buy a GMC Truck and Coach Suburban station wagon for emotionally disturbed children at Pontiac State Hospital. It was thought the vehicle would facilitate participation in projects to help rehabilitate the children.

★ ★ ★

Under the leadership of Mrs. Donovan Tubbs, project chairman of Oakland County Home Extension Service Clubs, dish towels, towels and kitchen items were the means for obtaining money, which was turned over to the Foundation for Emotionally Disturbed Children at Pontiac State Hospital.

The more than 60 children from 6 to 16 now will be able to travel to youth activities and participate in athletic and club functions.

Local volunteers give time to promote rehabilitation activities. Educational activities have been developed and clubs formed. Birthdays and other anniversaries important to children are remembered with parties and gifts.

U. of M. Alumnae Hear Program

University of Michigan Alumnae of Pontiac met Monday evening in the West Iroquois road home of Mrs. Charles Harmon. The hostess was assisted by Grace Heitsch, Janet Heitsch, Mrs. Robert Heitsch and Helen Travis.

Mrs. Harold Northon led in singing Christmas carols, and Doris Haynes presented a Christmas message.

Zeta Lambda Group Plans Yule Party

The State street home of Mrs. Wendell Doolin was the setting for the Monday evening meeting of Zeta Lambda Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Plans were made for a Dec. 15 Christmas party for members' children in the home of Mrs. Darrel Donaldson. A Christmas dinner for a needy family also was planned.

Sorority Makes Christmas Plans

Marie Schimmel opened her Wenonah drive home Tuesday evening when 16 members of Alpha Chapter of Beta Theta Phi sorority met. Plans were discussed for a Christmas party to be held in the Dover road home of Mrs. Hubert E. Evans.

It was decided to donate money to make up a Christmas basket for a needy family.

Watchmakers Use 1,400 Operations

PARIS — A typical French watch contains about 130 parts and its manufacture requires 1,400 machine operations. The complexity of producing a watch poses both technical and financial problems. If one firm were to make all the parts for its timepieces, it would call for an enormous investment.

For this reason the French industry now is organized along Swiss lines and consists of about 250 firms that make parts and incomplete works, 350 that assemble finished watches from parts made elsewhere, and about 10 companies that do most of their own work, but have a number of outside suppliers and subcontractors.

Pinch Hits for Man at Driver's Test

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — William L. Gardner, 34, of Toledo, showed up too late to take his driver's license examination recently.

When his application was given to State Highway Patrolman Merl Blay a few days later the officer didn't think he looked like the same man.

He wasn't. Questioning disclosed he was Roy L. Bryson, 41, who had agreed to take the test for Gardner, who cannot read or write.

Ironically, Bryson previously had been convicted three times for driving without a license. He couldn't pass the test either.

Municipal Judge Frank W. Wiley sentenced Bryson to six months in the workhouse and fined him $200.

Get Course in Informal Language

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Consider the plight of the Latin diplomat's wife who had to master the art of scolding in English before her children understood her.

Being able to carry on an everyday conversation, contract personal business, shop, run a household, scold if need be — just to get about as an average individual — is a major problem for foreigners everywhere, be they ambassadors, clerks or youngsters.

LIMITED OPPORTUNITY

For the large numbers of Spanish-speaking people in the capital, who make up the majority of the town's foreign population, an opportunity to learn and speak everyday English is limited.

Envoys and their staffs are confined to speaking the language of diplomacy and business.

They and their wives can exchange pleasantries at the usual round of social functions. At home and among themselves they speak only Spanish.

★ ★ ★

The children, through their American schools and playmates, pick up English in its most common usage — so much so they begin to lose touch with their native language and often show embarrassment for their parents' inability to express themselves in their new language.

CENTER ESTABLISHED

In an effort to bridge the gap between formal and child's English, a non-profit educational organization, the Centro Anglo-Espanol, was founded.

It's principally a workshop for professional men and women interested in exchanging each other's languages and customs, but it aims also to promote friendship and knowledge between English and Spanish-speaking peoples of all groups and ages.

For instance, it cooperates with the Children's Museum of Washington in working out programs for children. Recently a group of South American diplomats' children staged a performance for their North American "amigos" with a toy theater.

Currently the center and the museum are staging their second annual fair of children's books in Spanish.

It was opened by the Marquis de Santa Cruz, cultural attache of the Spanish Embassy, who spoke in Spanish to a bilingual audience.

"If you want to learn any language," says Matilda Young, director of the Children's Museum, "begin with children's books, plays, songs, games.

"All the lessons aren't worth a thing unless you get a chance to use them. This goes for adults as well as children."

Psychiatric Aides Hold Yule Party

Psychiatric Aid Association of Pontiac State Hospital met Tuesday evening at the hospital, with 40 members participating in a Christmas party which included a gift grab-bag. A gift was presented to retiring member Mrs. Fanny Seeley.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ethel Pettibone, Mrs. Nellie Young, Mrs. Mildred Davidson and Mrs. Gwenith Merwin. Decorations were in a Christmas motif.

Revival of 1920 Chemise Should Spur Shoe Sales

NEW YORK (AP) — Revival of the flapper-style "chemise" dress of the 1920s is expected to spur lagging sales of women's shoes, spokesmen for the nation's four-billion-dollar-a-year footwear industry predicted today.

Manufacturers and retailers aired their views at the 19th Popular Price Shoe Show of America sponsored by the National Assn. of Shoe Chain Stores and the New England Shoe and Leather Assn.

T-STRAP REVIVED

To go with the new raised hemlines, shoe stylists have come up with designs featuring tapered lasts, lower heels and open toes. The T-strap, popular in the 1920s, has been revived.

Also cited as a basis for a possible sales pickup is the fact that Easter will arrive two weeks earlier next year than in 1957. Retailers have held off buying because of a slow fall season, manufacturers assert.

Some buyers are reportedly balking at a 3 per cent price hike made by manufacturers of nationally advertised brands several weeks ago. Manufacturers of unbranded shoes have held the price line, despite complaints of rising costs.

Son Born to Reeds

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reed (nee Dolores McDonald) of Homestead drive announce the birth of a son, Peter Jerome, today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Grandparents of the infant are Mr. and Mrs. Carl McDonald of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. James Reed of Grosse Ile.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gagne of Birmingham announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane Elizabeth, to Robert R. Drabik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Drabik of Berkley. The prospective bridegroom attends Lawrence Institute of Technology. The couple plans a June 23 wedding.

Hospital Receives Auto

Busy Oakland County housewives have been making and selling kitchen items to buy a GMC Truck and Coach Suburban station wagon for emotionally disturbed children at Pontiac State Hospital. It was thought the vehicle would facilitate participation in projects to help rehabilitate the children.

★ ★ ★

Under the leadership of Mrs. Donovan Tubbs, project chairman of Oakland County Home Extension Service Clubs, dish towels, towels and kitchen items were the means for obtaining money, which was turned over to the Foundation for Emotionally Disturbed Children at Pontiac State Hospital.

The more than 60 children from 6 to 16 now will be able to travel to youth activities and participate in athletic and club functions.

Local volunteers give time to promote rehabilitation activities. Educational activities have been developed and clubs formed. Birthdays and other anniversaries important to children are remembered with parties and gifts.

U. of M. Alumnae Hear Program

University of Michigan Alumnae of Pontiac met Monday evening in the West Iroquois road home of Mrs. Charles Harmon. The hostess was assisted by Grace Heitsch, Janet Heitsch, Mrs. Robert Heitsch and Helen Travis.

Mrs. Harold Northon led in singing Christmas carols, and Doris Haynes presented a Christmas message.

Zeta Lambda Group Plans Yule Party

The State street home of Mrs. Wendell Doolin was the setting for the Monday evening meeting of Zeta Lambda Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Plans were made for a Dec. 15 Christmas party for members' children in the home of Mrs. Darrel Donaldson. A Christmas dinner for a needy family also was planned.

Sorority Makes Christmas Plans

Marie Schimmel opened her Wenonah drive home Tuesday evening when 16 members of Alpha Chapter of Beta Theta Phi sorority met. Plans were discussed for a Christmas party to be held in the Dover road home of Mrs. Hubert E. Evans.

It was decided to donate money to make up a Christmas basket for a needy family.

Mrs. Deyo Cooks Syrup for Divinity in Two Batches

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

It is especially nice to get old family recipes. Such a receipe is this one for Divinity. It comes from Mrs. Samuel Deyo of Bloomfield Knolls who got it from her Pennsylvania Dutch grandmother.

An artist, Mrs. Deyo teaches painting. Her husband is an architect which means the couple have many interests in common. They have one child.

DIVINITY
By Mrs. Samuel Deyo

2 cups sugar
½ cup light corn syrup
½ cup boiling water
2 egg whites, beaten stiff
Chopped nuts, if desired

Boil sugar, corn syrup and water until it forms a thread. Pour half of this mixture over stiffly beaten egg whites, beating constantly.

Boil the other half of the syrup until it hardens when tested in cold water. Pour over first mixture and continue beating. Add chopped nuts when mixture is stiff enough to drop from spoon and hold its shape. Or pour into buttered dish to cool. Then cut.

Dear Too Fast:

Take It Easy---or Those Bees in Your Bonnet May Sting You

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Dear Abby: I am a woman of 33 and certainly am old enough to know better, but here is my story: I met a man 43, and on our very first meeting we fell in love. I know it was love because I got butterflies in my stomach and he said he had them, too.

He asked me to marry him and I accepted (all on the first date) and I realize now that this happened too fast because every time I see him I find out something else about him I don't like.

Our religions aren't the same and he was married once before and has to support two children and pay alimony. He is pressing me for the wedding date. What should I do?

Too Fast

Dear Too: Those were not "butterflies in your stomach" . . . they were bees in your bonnet. Take your time or you might get stung!

★ ★ ★

Dear Abby: I am a boy, 13, and my father is supposed to be giving me two dollars a week for an allowance. He doesn't give it to me, though, he says he is "saving it for me" and when I want any money I have to ask him for it.

Sometimes he gives it to me and sometimes he doesn't, saying, "You don't need that." Do you think this is fair?

Pennyless

Dear Pennyless: What your father "saves" for you can hardly be called an allowance. The only way you will learn how to handle money is to get it.

Dear Abby: We live in an apartment building and it is only polite to say when meeting those who live in the same building, "Come in and see us sometime." Well, I said this to a bachelor and now every time I turn around he is "dropping in."

He is just like an old woman. He follows me around and chats and I can't get my work done. Should I just tell him to quit coming in or what? I hate to be rude, but he is driving me crazy.

Too Polite

Dear Too: If you don't want a friendly dog in your lap—don't pat him on the head. Ask him to please phone before dropping in, and when he phones . . . tell him you are busy and can visit for only a few minutes.

★ ★ ★

Dear Abby: What can be done about a mother who goes from house to house telling tales and making remarks about how dirty one person's house is to the other? If we were to repeat some of the things she has said about the others there would be no two people in the family speaking to each other.

She is my own mother and yet I shudder when she comes here because I know she'll talk about the family, and I am always worrying about what she'll say when she leaves here. Can you help this impossible situation?

D. E.

Dear D. E.: I'm afraid there is no "educating" your mother. Discourage her gossiping by remaining neutral, and don't worry—the rest of the family knows her as well as you, and they will discredit what she says about you, too.

Burden to Homeowners

Garbage and Trash Cause Big Headache

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

A big housekeeping headache is the prompt disposal of garbage and trash.

Pickup service, especially in burgeoning suburbs, is often overtaxed. Costs are rising; my bill from the waste removal company has jumped a third in the last two months.

Lugging trash cans to the curb for pickup service is required in places, garbage must be separated from waste paper and disposed of separately.

Homemakers looking hopefully for a single solution to the problem will be disappointed. No one appliance has yet been invented that can handle all the varied types of household trash.

However, one of the major items, food waste, can be directed down the drain instead of into the garbage can. Food waste disposers, installed in new or old sinks, are one of the fastest-growing sales items on the appliance list.

LIGHTER, CHEAPER

They've dropped both in weight and price since their introduction 20 years ago. Then they weighed 75 pounds and cost $300. New ones are as light as 20 pounds and cost as little as $60 plus installation.

★ ★ ★

Some are insulated to cut down on the noise they make in operation.

Today's food waste disposer can work as a team with a dishwasher. Most have provision for a dishwasher drain connection, a help if you plan to acquire this major appliance at a future date.

Requirements for installing a disposer are electricity, an adequate flow of cold water and compliance with local plumbing and wiring codes.

A disposer will use about 1½ gallons of water per person per day. For satisfactory operation, cold water should flow at the rate of about 1½ gallons a minute through the unit.

Food waste disposers can handle most ordinary garbage. This includes bones, fruit pits and rinds, egg shells, fats and greases, vegetable parings and fibrous materials.

TABOO ITEMS

There are items which should not be put into disposers, not only to protect the disposer but also to protect sewer lines or septic tanks. These include glass, ceramic, metals, rubber, sand or gravel.

★ ★ ★

It's pretty generally agreed among engineers that disposers are compatible with properly installed septic tank systems. They point out that a disposer adds a load to the tank that is equivalent to the addition of one adult.

Therefore it will shorten the time interval between clean-out operations. One authority suggests that a tank may need to be cleaned about twice as often as before the disposer unit was added

As easy and convenient as new disposers are to install in almost any type of sink, unless the man of the house is an unusually skilled person, it's a job for the plumber. What he will charge will vary, but it's not apt to be excessive in most homes.

Most manufacturers supply booklets with completed, diagrammed directions for operation and care. If yours doesn't be sure to have you exact details of its operation.

This may include an emphatic reminder to turn on the cold water before you turn on the disposer. In some disposers this is autotails of its operation.

Too Many Activities Mean Cheated Family

Do Good--but Don't Neglect Home

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It would be impossible to estimate the amount of good which women do in their civic activities, their club work and even some organizations which are thought of as social.

★ ★ ★

Just to mention a few, their work is of the greatest value in church groups, the PTA, Red Cross, Community Chest, League of Women Voters, Friendly Red Door, Business and Professional Women's Clubs, nurses' aide groups and the Junior League.

These are only a few. I cannot mention all of them. Thousands of women give their time freely and without charge to provide help and hope for millions of folks. I salute these women with all my heart and want this well understood before I go on to today's subject.

The subject for today's column was stimulated by a letter from a man who signs himself "Neglected Husband." His letter is humorous as he writes it, but I think he halfway means it (or all the way)and there is certainly more than the germ of truth here.

He writes, "Dear Mrs. Lowman: Who are you kidding? Oatmeal, eggs, orange juice and so forth for breakfast?

"My wife is a 'do gooder.' She belongs to several organizations which help everyone. She is so tired she can't get up in the morning. Her days starts by doing good for strangers. She is so exhausted that she canot get up in the morning until it is half over. Then she starts doing good again for people she doesn't even know."

I always have thought that although charity begins at home, it should not end there and that the greatest humanitarians are those who extend kindness and help every day to those with whom they come in contact in their daily lives.

Of course it is more dramatic to do it in more spectacular ways, far from home and neighborhood. And let us be honest, the average wife and mother gets more fanfare and expressed appreciation, and it is easier to see what she has accomplished away from home.

BUT, if you weigh your investment in life carefully, you will find, if you are a wife or mother or both, that the most important contribution you have to give is in your own home and neighborhood.

I long have believed that women are apt to try to spend themselves in too many different ways, that they fail to realize sometimes what important choices they make every day in the expenditure off their energy. Each individual has just so much.

The woman who neglects her husband or is away from home most of the time when her children are at home in order to help strangers is like the man who runs to save his neighbor's house while his own burns to the ground.

The woman who tries to do too much, and is therefore harried and tired and hectic in her relationships at home, is robbing her family and herself of their greatest happiness. The mood of the home is usually guided by the woman in it.

Tomorrow: 'What Do You Really Know About Exercise?"

It is commendable to be active and to do good for those outside the family, but don't neglect the duties in your own home. They are most important.

It's Correct to Accept Local Ways

Honoree at Party Should Not Have Spurned Prize

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: While I was visiting a friend in another city, she gave a bridge party in my honor. A prize was given for highest score. The person who won the prize turned it over to me. I was quite taken back at this procedure and refused to accept it.

"She said that it was customary to turn the prize over to the guest of honor. However, I could not see this at all as the prize was rightfully hers, and I would not take it.

"Now I am wondering if I was rude in refusing it. Will you please tell me what I should have done?"

Answer: I agree with your point of view on the prize, but since you were told it was the custom of the locality it would have been correct to follow the established custom rather than repudiate it. (When in Rome do as the Romans do!)

"Dear Mrs. Post: Many of my son's college friends are being married. They are sending separate wedding invitations to my son and to my husband and me. These generally come from distant places and I'm sure are a mere formality.

"We know most of these boys only through our visits to college to see our son and wonder whether a second present is necessary or expected. We do buy (and pay for) the presents our son sends."

Answer: Evidently your son's friends consider you special enough to add your names separately to their wedding list, which is, in my opinion, a rather flattering "formality." But it incurs no obligation to send a second wedding present.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When salad is served with the main course does it have to be eaten with the salad fork or may it be eaten with the dinner fork?

"A friend of mine tells me that two forks are proper. It seems ridiculous to me to have to switch from the dinner fork to the salad fork everytime you take a mouthful of salad."

Answer: Although two forks are considered correct, it is not necessary to use more than one if you prefer not to.

Finds Health Clues

An ophthalmologist who examines your eyes can give you quite a bit of "inside information." From looking at the only visible internal blood vessel—the retina vessel back of the eyeball—he can find clues that help him know how the rest of your body is functioning—your heart, liver, kidneys, blood pressure, thyroid, and even your teeth. Doctors say that disease-free eyes will never wear out from too much use.

Believes All Youths Should See Capital

"Every youth should be given the opportunity to visit the capital of the United States," says 17-year-old Camp Fire Girl Betty Chicky of Grand Rapids, Mich., who had that wish realized recently when she was chosen to represent some seven million teenagers at a planning session for the 1960 White House Conference for Children and Youth.

"Travel should be an essential part of our education," says brunette Betty. "There is no way to describe the thrill of sitting on the steps of the lighted Capitol at night, the grandeur of the Washington Monument and Lincoln Memorial. Every young American should see for himself."

Betty discussed that junket while enjoying another one — a trip to New York to attend the First Youth Conference of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, to help drum up teenage interest in polio shots.

Betty was and is on just about any committee you could dream of, from heading up the first teen-age traffic safety conference in Michigan to being an active member of the Girls Union Club, an athletic association, and Latin clubs. And you'd think from all that, perhaps, that she has little else to do.

"Actually I start my day at 6 a.m.," says vivacious Betty, whose mother died when she was 12. "That's when I prepare breakfast for Dad, my older sister and my baby sister Carole, who is 13. After that comes bed making and dusting. Then Carole and I walk off to school together. On the way home I pick up the groceries, then prepare dinner, and do the dishes. By that time it is 7 o'clock and I can settle down to study and school club functions."

Betty had planned to enter Michigan State this fall on a scholarship, but her older sister is getting married, so that put a damper on that plan. Betty must be nearer home, so she'll attend Grand Rapids Junior College, also on a scholarship.

You'd think Betty would never have time for dates, but she does. Lots of them, "mostly weekends," she says.

"I went steady until the 10th grade, then I broke off with that boy, went back with him in the 11th, and 12th, then we broke up again. I guess it is a mistake to tie yourself down to one boy, unless you are really engaged. It's better to have a number of good friends while you are busy with school activities," she muses.

It's Daily Executive Grind That Makes Wives Tired

Modern Conveniences Don't Lighten Mental and Emotional Burden

By RUTH MILLETT

"I'm fed up with hearing how a few automatic appliances in the kitchen have made the homemaker's job a snap," says a disgruntled young wife.

"Sure, I wash the clothes for my family of five in an automatic washer instead of on a scrubboard. I run a vacuum cleaner over the carpets instead of hanging the rugs on a line and beating them.

"But it's not actual physical work the housewife with small children is talking about when she says she is dead-beat at the end of a day.

"The business executive who does his work in a fancy office doesn't have any physical work at all to do. His day is made hard by decisions, interruptions, pressure of meeting deadlines, etc.

"Nobody claims that becasuse he uses a dictating machine, has an office intercom system to save him steps and so on, that all the work has been taken out of the job of executive.

"Well, first and foremost the modern housewife is an executive. Even though she usually has to run her own errands, and carry out her own plans instead of delegating the work, she is still the one who makes decisions all day long.

"She figures out the budget, tries to keep peace in the household, settles the children's squabbles, tries to fit every member of the family's individual needs and plans into the daily schedule.

"It's the daily executive grind that gets the housewife down, not the actual physical work she does in keeping a house and looking after children. Though that, in itself, is no small job, even with all the modern conveniences that lighten the work load.

★ ★ ★

"Maybe if we would start calling the housewife a home executive, it would make it clear that the demands of homemaking go far beyond cooking, washing, scrubbing and taking care of children."

Celebrate Christmas Season

Contractors Hold Dinner

A family-style dinner, lighted Christmas tree and carols highlighted the evening when Pontiac Master Plumbing Contractors and the Women's Auxiliary gathered at Hotel Waldron Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Arrangements were made to give a basket to a needy family. Decorations for the event were under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lloyd S. Thornton. Mrs. Bud Temple provided the music.

Present at the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd S. Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Temple, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. William Williams.

Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Temple, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Temple, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Mason Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn P. Seeley.

Women of Moose Told of Social Work

Horace Hatfield spoke when Women of the Moose set Monday evening in Moose Hall. His topic was social work of the county and delinquency.

Mrs. Leslie Coppersmith, chairman of social service, was in charge of Social Service Chapter Night. Mrs. Floyd Yeaman presented an achievement award certificate to the senior regent, and Mrs. Fanny Seeley was presented with a farewell gift.

Bazaar Scheduled by St. Trinity Guild

Mrs. Richard Regentin and Mrs. Albert Arps have been named co-chairmen for the Christmas bazaar to be held Thursday at the St. Trinity Lutheran Church. The affair is sponsored by the Ladies Guild.

At various booths will be aprons, fancywork, novelties, candies, baked goods, white elephants and a fish pond. At 5 p.m. a spaghetti dinner will be served.

Church Group Has Installation of New Officers

Installed Monday evening at a dinner meeting of Women's Association of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church was Mrs. Donald Wilson as president.

★ ★ ★

Officers installed to aid her were Mrs. Theodore Allebach, vice president of missions; Mrs. Robert McCormack, vice president of church service; Mrs. Ralph Nixon, recording secretary; Mrs. Noble Meredith, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Gerald Schultz, treasurer, and Mrs. Melvin Powell, assistant treasurer.

★ ★ ★

Others were Mrs. Richard Koch, literature secretary; Mrs. Eldon Powley, thanks offering secretary; Mrs. Omar MacNutt, women's secretary; Mrs. Walter Napersky, prayer group secretary, and Mrs. Guye Caswell, temperance and social education secretary.

Men Get Breaks

Hostesses are quick to invite a man whose wife is out of town to dinner or to an evening party. But the same hostesses often never think to invite a wife whose husband is away.

See Parade Scenes

Colored pictures of last year's Rose Bowl Parade were shown to members of the Proficiency Group of OES 228, which gathered at the home of Mrs. Lula Buckler on Rosshire court for its December meeting and Christmas party Monday.

Beauty Clinic

One Hour to Party Time

by Edythe McCulloch

The holiday rush is on . . . we offer these tips on getting ready for a party in one hour!

First, lay out everything you are going to put on . . . from undies to jewelry. Brush or polish your shoes. Let the water run into tub while you tuck a few pin curls in place. Cover your curls with a shower cap even though you are going to relax in a tub, it will protect it from dampness and steam. Allow 15 minutes for bath time. Use cologne lavishly (in the same scent as your perfume). Don your undies and brush out your hair.

Chances are you'll put your dress on before your make-up . . . so cover your shoulders with a cape or cotton towel.

Allow another precious 15 minutes for a careful make-up job and when complete touch it lightly with a moist wash cloth to "set" the job to last.

Now . . . give a last minute touch to your curls and put on your jewelry. (No more than three pieces) and slip into your party shoes. Have fun.

Severe Father Still Mistaken About Love

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

His sister-in-law writes: "He was a spoiled playboy when he married. The marriage failed. Six years later he returned to my sister, a changed man, eager to take family responsibility.

★ ★ ★

"But he treats his 3-year-old son so severely I can't stand it. If Eddie wriggles at the table, he gets slapped. If he cries, he gets hit again. Please warn this father that such treatment can damage the boy's later life."

To realize how our treatment affects children's later lives, we must first see how our own parent's treatment of us is influencing us right now.

What this father needs are not threats of a damaged child but the realization that his parents still control him. That his overseverity is not freedom from his overindulged past but reaction to it.

★ ★ ★

"He scoffs at child guidance advice," says his sister-in-law.

This is understandable. Much child guidance advice belittles a child's need of discipline.

CRUELLY PUNISHED

If you're a reformed playboy, you've discovered its importance. The world has cruelly punished your sloppy behavior. It has fired you from jobs, cracked your marriage and repeatedly humiliated you.

★ ★ ★

When you finally discover how badly you were prepared for it by the parents who claimed to "love" you, you may fear any show of parental love to your own child as dangerous. And put all your trust in the kind of ruthless discipline that "changed" you.

People who see us hit Eddie for crying over hurt will condemn us as "brutes." We are not. But we've been badly hit ourselves and are trying to protect Eddie against the shocks and hurts we have suffered.

Thus, instead of attacking Eddie's father for overseverity, I want to say this:

"You have already discovered much for yourself. You have corrected many effects of your overindulged childhood. But there's another discovery to be made.

"By your overseverity with your baby boy, you do not prove your difference from your parents but your likeness to them. You still operate on their mistaken idea of love."

REMAIN CHILDREN

So long as our parents still control our idea of love, we remain children.

I've respect for Eddie's father. He's struggled through to his own idea of discipline. Now all he needs is his own idea of love.

MSU Girds for Final Exam Ordeal

By RAY FREEBURY
MSU Correspondent

EAST LANSING—Students at MSU are now busy studying for final exams. Now that midterm has passed many of the new freshmen have grown accustomed to college life.

★ ★ ★

There are Pontiac area students in the news here at Michigan State. Don Bumgardner of East Beverly avenue was among those in the cast of the children's play, "Robin Hood." The players have recently toured the southeastern part of Michigan, presenting "Robin Hood" at various schools.

Dennis Simonson of North Cass avenue, a swimmer at Pontiac High for three years, is now swimming for Michigan State. Although he is not eligible to swim on the varsity team, he is swimming on the freshman team.

SORORITY RUSHING

Several freshman girls from Pontiac attended the annual sorority rush parties. Later these girls will get their invitations to pledge the one of their choice. The girls who attended were Sharon Clark, Betsy Bradley, Sharon McRae, Mary Sue Dahlgren, Mary and Martha Cowan, Janet Wiltgen, Helen Sue Spark, Carolyn Slater and Carol Cox.

★ ★ ★

Three Pontiac area men will be with the MSU Men's Glee Club when members travel to California during Christmas vacation. They will make stops in Illinois, Nebraska and Colorado. The men are Jerry Stone of Rochester, Phil Schultz of Keego Harbor and your correspondent.

The glee club has performed with the Naval Choir from Pensacola, Fla., and has sung at Chicago for the annual meeting of the Central Motor Freight Association of Illinois.

★ ★ ★

Held recently at Michigan State was the annual Military Ball. This dance was sponsored by the Army and Air Force ROTC programs. The music was furnished by the Glenn Miller Orchestra, under the direction of Ray McKinley.

YULE DECORATING

Bill Hampton of Cherokee road, a sophomore, is on the committee of the Union Board that is responsible for Christmas decorations in the Union Building.

★ ★ ★

Joni James, a popular recording star, recently starred in the Spartan Review. Also performing in the review were the Men's Glee Club and a rock 'n' roll group from New York. All of the acts were appreciated by the students.

Mother of Four Designs Greeting Cards as Hobby

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP) — Pert, blonde Lee Adorney runs a good-sized country home, takes care of four small children, pampers her New York adman husband—and in her spare time turns out a line of greeting cards which have caught on like wildfire among the modern-minded off-beat customers.

★ ★ ★

A former fashion illustrator, Lee met her husband, Charles, while both were students at Pratt Institute in Brooklyn. She wanted a home and children, and acquired them with no delay. But was that any reason to sink into a rut of unrelieved domesticity? Not for Lee.

When she was approached by the owners of a bookstore in nearby Darien to work up some sketches for a new line of greeting cards, Lee got out her sketch pad and went to work.

The result was a gremlin-like little character who promptly was christened Ad-Lib, looks like nothing human, but seems to have a strange appeal for the more sophisticated sector of the general public.

★ ★ ★

After an enthusiastic initial response from the public, Ad-Lib graduated to the sponsorship of a national greeting card manufacturer, and soon will be popping up all over the country.

The first batch of 36 cards, done in black and white, covered everyday occasions such as birthdays, anniversaries, get-well cards and so on.

The theme of each is a song title: "I'll Never Smile Again," "You Go to My Head," "Side by Side" and similar sentiments.

Hero by Long Sight

The inventor of spectacles is one of the unknown heroes of science — and an anonymous benefactor of mankind. Until spectacles were introduced more than 650 years ago, millions of nearsighted people didn't think the world they lived in was such an impressive place. They lived out their lives unable to see mountains, clouds

Romantic paillt d'esprit in two dramatic versions: flounces to flatter pretty curves. Sharp V's, through contrast, can emphasize extra pounds unflatteringly

Notice that full silhouettes are consistently longer length. Holiday and cruise wear enthusiastically accept this most of point d'esprit and dotted net fabric so it should be popular through the summer of 1958.

Eye accidents involving children number about 100,000 each year, according to the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

Want to Manage Woman? Give Her Security

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Aging bachelors are certain they understand women better than any other single classification of man.

That is why they don't marry.

With some instinctive sensation of genius, they feel that a woman often will heel under to a heel, and that she will remain delightfully subservient to a guy whose stature and deportment suggest security—but whose lips do not.

The bachelors' credo: By tying the (marital) knot, you are offering a woman rope; give her enough rope and she'll hang you.

* * *

A woman psychologist named Cleo Dawson this week refutes this age-old theory of the boutonniere lover-boys.

In a report titled "How to Manage a Woman," she agrees that a girl's goal always is security. But she contends that it's the lady who hasn't got security who'll give a guy the most trouble.

"A woman," she says, "operates on a constant straight line, never deviating. Her goal is security, and she'll never stop until she gets it. This search for security makes her supersensitive to danger."

HOBBYIST down to finer points — New sanding machine. Has two sanding actions in one piece.

* * *

Thus, she likely can spot a bounder sooner than he thinks. And though she may thereafter keep her spine and seams straight to reimburse him for his attention, her attention and heart are ready to veer off promptly to the first good man who comes along.

Cleo is convinced that "a woman's drive to feel secure also makes it essential for her to feel that she is needed. If she does feel needed, she will turn all the power of her progenerative urge into doing whatever is to be done.

"That is how a man gets the kind of loyalty no money can buy."

Miss, or Dr., Dawson is particularly concerned with the handling of women employes by male bosses.

GLAMOUR EQUIMENT — All tools of beauty are included in new doll accessories

After doing some research on this matter for the National Management Association, she reported that women's reactions to men are much the same on the professional as on the personal level.

She discovered two truths:

1. All women like to work under a ceiling of authority. In short, they like to be bossed.

2. All women must feel that they are needed.

These truths arise from the fact that "women FEEL while men THINK."

Thus, if you want to get the most out of this creature who feels her way through life toward an inevitable dream of security—give her love and your troubles to shoulder.

The aging bachelor can go just so long, giving her roses. Eventually, inevitably, she sneezes at roses. And it has nothing to do with allergies.

Red Nations Plan New Move

To Coordinate Efforts on World Propaganda Through New Journal

BERLIN (AP)— The Communist nations appear to be planning a fresh effort to coordinate their publication of a new journal.

The decision to publish an international voice of communism was disclosed in East Berlin by Friedrich Ebert, mayor, before the Central Committee of East Germany's Communist party.

* * *

Reporting on the Moscow meeting last month of Red leaders in connection with the Bolshevik Revolution anniversary celebration, Ebert said it was agreed to publish a theoretical periodical for the Communist and workers parties.

"It will be up to each fellow party to contribute to the periodical in whatever way they consider possible and appropriate," he said.

* * *

Western experts said the new journal might be similar to the old Cominform organ printed in Bucharest which was suspended in April 1956 when Moscow abolished the Cominform as part of its "new look" campaign designed to give Communist policy the appearance of noninterference and also to placate Yugoslavia.

* * *

The Cominform had coordinated international Communist propaganda and theory.

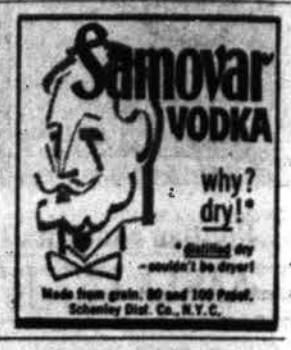

Ebert's report was published in Neues Deutschland, the East German Communist party newspaper.

Rue Bonne Foi, main street in Port-au-Prince, Haiti, means "Street of Good Faith." It is where all the main shops of the town are located.

Top 10 Appliances

Electricity rules the roost in most homes. Last year the 10 top-selling home electrical appliances were clocks, irons, fans, skillets, coffee-makers, washing machines, food mixers, toasters, vacuum cleaners and refrigerators, in that order. Television sets, radios and record players were not lumped with this group.

Bob Considine Says:

Big U.S. Embassy in Moscow Falling Apart

NEW YORK (INS) — Memories of a trip:

There must be two grades of building construction in Moscow. Moscow university and similar skyscrapers, and such edifices as Lenin Stadium and its nearby field house, should last a thousand years. The big U.S. Embassy building, built five years ago, is falling to pieces and has enough roaches to move it to Leningrad.

The Russian souse gets drunker than our native blotto artist. During the 40th anniversary celebration of the Bolshevik Revolution the streets and squares of Moscow reverberated from time to time with the impact of Muscovite winos bouncing off walls. They seemed happy about their condition. The fur-hatted cops let them go their way, some of them with half-empty Vodka bottle in hand.

There are three fine-looking radio towers on Petrin Hill, overlooking Prague. One broadcasts heavy music and such news as the rigid Czech Communist government permits on the air. The other two have another role: To jam the Voice of America, Radio Free Europe and BBC.

Yuri "No Relation, Please" Zhukov, Soviet minister in charge of establishing cultural relations with foreign countries, told us:

"Our children read literature. Your children read comic books. Your children have bad television shows. Our children are given a one-hour television show each late afternoon. It is always an educational program."

"These people don't look downtrodden, they look happy," I said to an old Russia hand as we stood in Red Square and watched literally millions of Muscovites frolicking, marching along arm-in-arm, and singing.

"Sure, they're happy," he said. "For the first time that they can remember they can walk ACROSS Red Square to get on the other side.

"When the anniversary weekend is over they'll go back to the rules. They'll have to walk half a mile around the square to get from, let's say, Lenin's Tomb to Gum, the department store, right across the square.

The attractive wife of the American ambassador to Moscow, Mrs. Llewellyn Thompson, is typical of the spouses of U.S. diplomats. Last year when her husband represented us in Vienna at the time of the Hungarian uprising, Mrs. Thompson set up a crafts school which is flourishing today and providing an income for many escapees.

In Moscow she has plunged into the imposing task of making a go of the Anglo - American school. And it is a task. Last Saturday night the good ladies involved in keeping the school open gave a "cabaret" to raise what Mrs. Thompson called "some good old capitalist money."

The school roster embraces 19 nationalities among its 65 children — mostly the kids of western diplomats assigned to the Soviet Union. The U. S. Information Agency, while sympathetic, cannot help the little school with any of its library. Against the law — American law. There are other unnerving taboos.

Mrs. Thompson's dream: a real American playground for the children. Swings, see-saws, basketball backstops, bats and balls.

"We get an audience of Russians looking over our fence every time the children go out for recess," she told us. "What a wonderful thing it would be if we could afford to show the Russian people the kind of facilities our kids have back home."

Bill Hearst turned to our nice lady guide from Intourist one day as we rode along in a Zis. "This Zis is our pre-war Packard," Hearst told her. "Same long thin upright grille, rounded fenders, running boards, separated windshield and so forth."

The Russian lady smiled patiently and shook her head. "That's not so," she said. "It is Russian, and brand new."

Wrestling may start on an informal basis at Rochester High this winter now that the school has a new gymnasium. Coach Bob Jereau is hoping to come up with a team to represent the school next year.

★ ★ ★

A Pontiac team led by Jim Carter and Jay Jackson finished 3rd in a Detroit bowling tournament over the past weekend.

★ ★ ★

Utica's John Kehring turned in a 300 game recently. He carries a 163 average. The feat was the first sanctioned league perfect game at Colonial Lanes in nine years.

★ ★ ★

Former Cranbrook wrestling coach Bill Stapp is on a leave of absence and studying for his Master's degree at Michigan. Bert McMahon is handling the Crane matmen.

★ ★ ★

Hazel Park tackle Lou Pavloff and Southfield center Todd Grant, members of the Pontiac Press' All-County team, received honorable mention on the United Press All-State eleven.

Statistics for the Holly team show fullback Bob Letson gained a total of 969 yards rushing and passing and Amos Bradsher 581 for the season to spark the Broncos.

★ ★ ★

National League umpire Frank Secory was guest speaker at the Romeo High football banquet Monday night.

★ ★ ★

Max Evans, former assistant pro at Rochester Golf and Country Club, has signed as head pro at the new Ranch Country Club in Palm Springs, Calif. Evans will begin his duties on Jan. 1. The Ranch CC course is owned by Joe Kirkwood Jr.

Giving instructions and demonstrations at Birmingham's first hockey clinic of the season Monday night were Red Wings Gordie Howe and Red Kelly.

White Sox, Baltimore in 3-for-3 Swap

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Billy Goodman, Ray Moore Go to Windy City

Orioles Get Harshman and Doby to Kick Off Player Trading

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) —The Chicago White Sox completed a 3-for-3 swap with Baltimore to kick off the player trading at the National Baseball Convention last night.

The deal sends White Sox centerfielder Larry Doby, pitcher Jack Harshman and another player to be named later to the Orioles for infielder Billy Goodman, pitcher Ray Moore and outfielder Tito Francona.

Doby, 33, and Harshman, 30, had disappointing records last season. Goodman, 31, veteran of more than 10 years in the majors, was injured part of the year. Francona, 24, is a promising slugger. Moore had a 11-won, 13-lost record with fifth place Baltimore.

Convention centers are bubbling with trade rumors. The Philadelphia Phillies are offering pitcher Robin Roberts and outfielder Richie Ashburn in proposed deals for younger talent.

★ ★ ★

The Phils readiness to deal off two of the top "Whiz Kids" of the 1950 pennant-winning club underlined Manager Mayo Smith's determination to keep the Phils' youth program rolling.

★ ★ ★

Roberts, 31, once the National League's greatest pitcher and a six-time 20-game winner, had his poorest season in 1957 with a 10-22 record. Ashburn, one of the circuit's finest outfielders, batted .297 last season.

Ashburn and lefthanded pitcher Harvey Haddix were offered by the Phils for St. Louis' third baseman Ken Boyer, but the deal was rejected.

Cincinnati offered an unidentified outfielder for Roberts and the Phils responded by asking for center fielder Gus Bell in exchange but the swap failed. It was reported the Reds offered outfielder Wally Post.

★ ★ ★

Washington and Detroit were trying to connect on a multi-player deal. The latest Detroit proposition being studied by Washington proposes:

★ ★ ★

1. Infielder Ray Boone and either pitchers Bob Shaw or Hal Woodeshick to go to the Chicago White Sox in a trade for pitcher Bob Keegan and outfielder Bubba Phillips.

★ ★ ★

2. Detroit would then send Phillips, infielder Jim Finigan, outfielder Jimmy Greengrass and catcher J. W. Porter to Washington for catcher Lou Berberet and infielder Pete Runnels.

★ ★ ★

Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane is busily shopping around for trades and as he put it: "I'll be awfully disappointed if I don't swing at least one deal." He said he talked with the Yankees, Senators, White Sox and Tigers.

Lightweight Title at Stake in 15-Rounder

Brown Favored Over Lopes

CHICAGO (AP)—Diminutive Joey Lopes puts his speed against the canniness and punching power of champion Joe Brown tonight in a lightweight title fight.

Brown, who has scored 28 knockouts in winning 67 of 90 bouts, is a solid favorite although the challenger from Sacramento, Calif., held the champ to a 10-round non-title draw four months ago at Chicago Stadium.

This accomplishment earned the 27-year-old Lopes a shot at the crown and the match was made by the International Boxing Club despite sharp criticism from some quarters that No. 2 ranked Kenny Lane deserved the chance.

Lopes, who stands 5-6 and is two inches shorter than Brown, is rated the No. 7 contender by the National Boxing Assn. and No. 6 by Ring Magazine. He has 43 victories in 57 starts and is credited with 16 kayoes.

★ ★ ★

The 15 rounder at Chicago Stadium will be televised nationally (10 p.m. EST, ABC) with Chicago blacked out. There will be no radio broadcast.

Brown, at least four years older than the Portuguese-born challenger, is unbeaten in his last 13 fights. He is one of the busiest fighters in the business, having had six bouts already this year. This will be his third title defense since winning the 135-pound crown from Wallace (Bud) Smith Aug. 24, 1956.

★ ★ ★

Brown, whose home is in New Orleans, this year scored an 11-round kayo over Smith and a 15-round knockout of Orlando Zulueta in title defenses. The odds that he will knock out Lopes are 2-1.

Brown weighed 139 pounds and Lopes 136 in their draw. Under the five-point must system, which will be used in the scoring tonight, Lopes had a 49-45 edge from one of the three officials. The other two had it even and the outcome was a split decision draw.

Lopes, who held AAU and Golden Gloves featherweight titles before turning pro, will get his biggest payday win or lose. The IBC hopes for a 5,000 attendance and a net gate of $17,000. It is one of the few times in a championship fight that the television proceeds — $20,000 — promise to be larger than the gate.

Brown will bag 40 per cent of the gate and 60 per cent of TV money. This will total about $18,000. Lopes' respective share is 20 and 40 per cent, totaling $11,400.

Minor Leagues Fight TV Invasion

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) —The minor leagues, angered by increased television invasion of their territory by the major leagues, have appointed a task force to combat the latest encroachment—a Sunday TV game of the week.

★ ★ ★

National Association President George M. Trautman, in a bitter denouncement of baseball leaders whom he called "selfish men who are permitting their own structure to crumble," vowed today to "battle to the bitter end" the majors' plan to add a Sunday TV game to their already established Saturday game of the week.

★ ★ ★

"The minors enjoyed their healthiest year in 1949, when there were no television networks," he said. "We drew 41 million people to our parks that year. We drew only 17 million this year. Why? Major league TV networks came upon us in 1950. Then we came in for the Saturday afternoon, televised game of the week. Now we are threatened with a Sunday afternoon game of the week. Why, Sunday is our payday."

★ ★ ★

The committee, a seven-man body comprised of the presidents of the seven classification leagues of the National Association, has been commissioned to make a formal protest to the major league owners and Commissioner Ford Frick and "take appropriate action" if the majors go through with their Sunday TV plan.

It was learned, however, that contracts with a major network already have been signed for that purpose. It also was learned that the committee, in that case, will demand that some of the television money from those games be channeled to the minors or it will recommend court action.

★ ★ ★

Although Trautman said "I don't like to go into a courthouse," the beleaguered minor league head left little doubt that the minors were determined to carry the suit to the highest court, if necessary, in an attempt to halt the majors' TV invasion of their territory. The International League already announced it intended to sue the majors over the proposed TV plan.

Heisman Award to Crow

NEW YORK (AP)—John Crow, the Texas Aggies' meat and potatoes guy, has a knife and fork banquet date Dec. 11 to receive the Heisman Trophy as college football's top player of 1957.

Selection of the 214-pound senior halfback for the coveted award was announced yesterday by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York. Crow, tabbed by Paul (Bear) Bryant as the best player he ever coached, was an overwhelming choice of 1,267 sportswriters and sportscasters participating in nationwide balloting conducted by the club.

The Aggies' standout defensive player as a tackler and pass defender as well as their steadiest runner, Crow drew 241 first place votes and 1,183 points to finish well ahead of runnerup, tackle Alex Karras of Iowa.

Karras drew 694 points while halfback Walt Kowalczyk of Michigan State was third with 630, tackle Lou Michaels of Kentucky fourth with 330 and Navy quarterback Tom Forrestal fifth with 232.

Others high in the balloting were Jim Phillips, Auburn end; Bob Anderson, Army halfback; Dan Currie, Michigan State center; Clendon Thomas, Oklahoma halfback; Lee Grosscup, Utah quarterback; King Hill, Rice quarterback; Bob Stransky, Colorado halfback; Bill Krisher, Oklahoma guard; and Don Clark, Ohio State halfback.

★ ★ ★

Crow, 22, from Sprionghill, La., is the third Southwest Conference player chosen for the Heisman Trophy since the award was inaugurated in 1935. Davy O'Brien, the TCU mite, won in 1938, and SMU's Doak Walker in 1948. Paul Hornung, former Notre Dame quarterback, won last year.

HEISMAN WINNER — John Crow, star back of Texas A&M, was named today as winner of the 23rd annual Heisman Memorial Trophy. He is a 22-year-old senior from Springhill, La. and is married.

Running, Passing, Scoring

Browns Dominate Offense

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Three players of the Cleveland Browns, one a Brown himself, monopolize the National Football League's offensive honors.

They are first in running, passing and scoring—a situation that aids considerably in keeping Cleveland at the top of the NFL's Eastern Division.

Jimmy Brown, the runner, increased his ground-gaining lead with a total of 826 yards in 171 attempts, an average of 4.8 every time he carried the pigskin. He picked up 57 yards last week.

Tommy Wilson of Los Angeles climbed a notch to second place with 601 yards in 125 attempts as the Chicago Bears' Rick Casares dropped to third with 599 yards.

Only two games remain in the regular pro season.

★ ★ ★

Cleveland's Tommy O'Connell is the No. 1 passer, having completed 63 of 110 passes for 1,229 yards, an average of 11.17 for each successful toss. Eight of his passes have gone for touchdowns.

The league's No. 2 passer is Eddie LeBaron, of the Washington Redskins, with an average gain of 9.04 yards on each completion.

Third is Johnny Unitas of Baltimore who has tossed 22 touchdown passes, in gaining an average 8.64 on each heave.

★ ★ ★

Lou Groza, the Brown's great place-kicker, leads in scoring with 66 points. He has 13 field goals and 27 extra points to his credit. Second is George Blanda of the Bears with 62, followed by Sam Baker of Washington and Fred Cone of Green Bay iwth 61.

★ ★ ★

San Francisco's Billy Wilson and Pittsburgh's Jack McClairen continue to wage a battle for pass receiving honors. Wilson and McClairen each caught four last week retaining their previous positions with Wilson slightly ahead, 42 to 40. Ray Berry of Baltimore is third with 37.

Pistons Battle Homecourt Jinx

Boston Slaps Detroit, 124-113, but Yardley Boosts NBA Lead

DETROIT (AP) — The homecourt jinx again hit the Detroit Pistons last night, but George Yardley continued on his merry way toward the National Basketball Assn. scoring crown.

The Boston Celtics, still red hot even though they lost twice in the past week after winning their first 14 games, rolled over the Pistons 124-113. It was the Pistons' sixth loss in eight starts on their shiny new court at Detroit Olympia.

Yardley went into the game leading the league with a 28 point per game average. He boosted his lead over Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks by a fraction or two. The balding Pistons ace tallied 34 points. Pettit, who led the Hawks to a 115-108 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers in the first game of the Olympia doubleheader, scored 31 points.

The Pistons now play their next two games on the road, meeting the Cincinnati Royals tonight at Philadelphia and the Syracuse Nationals Friday at Syracuse.

Expect Big Battle in 'Holiday Bowl'

KANSAS CITY, (AP) — The National Association of Inter-collegiate Athletics' "Holiday Bowl" football game in St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 21 promises a lively contest between Hillsdale College's air power and the strong ground game of the Pittsburg, Kan., State Gorillas.

The Hillsdale, Mich., school finished fourth among the NAIA's members in forward passing with an average of 169.5 yards a game. Pittsburg, one of the nation's undefeated and untied elevens, was tenth in rushing average at 306 yards a game.

Huron, S.D., College finished first in total offense with a 448.6-yard average. California Tech of Pomona won the passing honors with an average of 265.5 yards a game.

Denounces Reinstatements

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Spencer J. Drayton of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau today complained some state racing commissions have re-licensed what he termed some undesirable persons who had been expelled from racing.

★ ★ ★

In a report to the 16th annual convention of the Thoroughbred Racing Assn. of the U.S., Drayton said some commissions have succumbed to "sweet sounding promises of reform by undesirables."

"You cannot hope to continue to gain the confidence of the public if you accept people of this ilk back into the sport," he declared.

He said the protective bureau has listed 62 individuals as undeserving of further consideration but that some of these have been licensed by racing commissions.

Drayton told the track managers they should act on the facts supplied by the protective bureau.

"If you do not, you figure to be the loser in the long run," he said.

Drayton reported the protective bureau handled 1,600 investigations in 1957, and that these investigations resulted in 245 suspensions or denials of licenses.

First Annual World's Invitational to Open in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—The first annual world's invitational match game bowling tournament opens tonight with $30,000 in prize money over 16 new alleys at the Chicago Coliseum.

A field of 160 men and 64 women will complete for prizes and honors in nine days of competition.

The men's winner will receive $5,000 and the women's champion will be awarded $2,500.

The match games will begin tomorrow night with the men rolling 36 games through Monday to determine 15 finalists who will join top-seeded Don Carter of St. Louis in the match game finals.

The women will roll 24 qualifying games to determine 15 finalists who will join Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., in the finals.

Arizona State Gets 4 on All-Star Team

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Arizona State College at Tempe, one of the nation's two undefeated, untied major college teams, placed four men on the Border Conference All-Star first team today.

★ ★ ★

And the Conference champion Sun Devils put four more on the second squad.

★ ★ ★

Halfbacks Leon Burton, the nation's top scorer, and Bob Mulgado, runnerup in the national scoring race, were selected along with end Clancy Osborn and 172-pound tackle Bart Jankans.

★ ★ ★

Hardin-Simmons University of Abilene, Tex., which finished in a tie for third place, put three men on the first squad. West Texas State, runnerup in the league race, had two men; the University of Arizona, the same number; Texas Western of El Paso and New Mexico A&M, one each.

State Gridders Get High Spots in Heisman Vote

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Michigan State football players finished high up in the running for the Heisman Memorial Trophy behind winner John Crow, Texas A&M's hard-running halfback.

The Spartans were halfback Walt Kowalczyk, who was third, and center Dan Currie, who was eighth. Tackle Alex Karras of Iowa, the Detroit Lions' first draft choice, was second.

The balloting for the award presented annually to the outstanding college player in the country was conducted among 1,267 sportswriters and sportscasters.

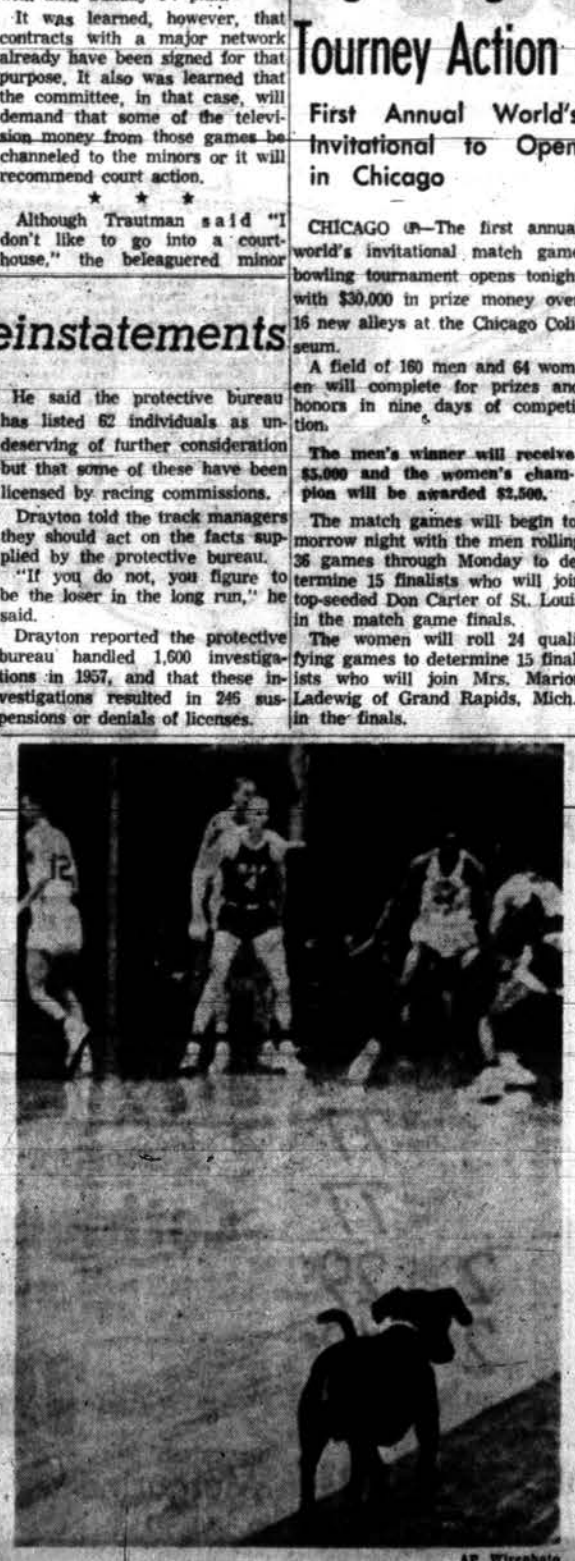

Sintz Sets School Mark as Maples Defeat Pointe

Birmingham's Pete Sintz, ace medley swimmer, last night hung up a new school record for the 150-yard event that turned a very close dual contest with a strong Grosse Pointe squad into a "going-away" victory 55-41. Pete turned the tricky event in 1:36.6, with teammate Dave Smith only a half-foot back and the Pointe's co-captain, Chuck Babcock, six inches behind Smith. Both Sintz and Smith were under Tom Bechtel's former record.

From that point Jay Myers' Maples maintained a comfortable lead, taking a total of six firsts to four for the visitors. All new pool records, set last week in the first meet, but two, were wiped out last night. The 50 and 100 freestyle held up. Victory was the 9th straight dual win for Birmingham, 2nd of this winter.

Sintz was the meet's only double winner, with his other victory the 100-yard freestyle, which he turned in 53.2 Other Maple winners were: Pete Palmer, 50-yard freestyle (25.1); Smith, 200-yard freestyle (2:09.4). Dave is usually a backstroker; John Hyde, diving; freestyle relay (Bill Buick, Palmer, E. J. McGinnis, Les Harber) 1:42.1.

Pointe won the 100-backstroke with a terrific race by Les Cutler (1:01.0); Jim Carne, 100-yard butterfly (1:07.0); 100-yard breast, Dick Law (1:15.3) and 200-yard medley relay (1:57.8).

Thumb Favorites Triumph

Defending champion New Haven and Almont, co-favorites in the Southern League this season, started off on the winning side of the ledger but had plenty of trouble in doing so as loop play began last night.

New Haven tripped Dryden 39-31 despite a 10-point effort by Herb Swagle of the losers and Almont had to hold off a big last quarter Brown City rally to eke out a 47-45 verdict.

Armada poured it on from the opening whistle to wallop Capac 46-27 in the other league tussle.

Almont had leads of 15 and 14 points at different times but a 26-17 last half advantage almost turned the tide for Brown City. The losers got to within one point before a final foul shot ended the scoring.

★ ★ ★

Jim Ostrander swished the nets for 16 and Gary Emery added 10 for Almont. Bob Fisher rang up 14 for the losers who garnered 21 of their points from the free throw line.

Sophomore whiz Terry Wills made it easy for Armada with 24 digits, almost matching the Capac total. Bill Abraham led Capac with nine.

Titans Score Romp in Season Opener

DETROIT (AP)—The University of Detroit, controlling both backboards, rolled over Assumption University 82-57 in its basketball season opener last night.

Assumption was in contention only in the first half, trailing 39-31 at intermmision.

Bob Kedzo and Don Hasse paced the Titans scoring attack with 20 points each. Jack Hool was high man for Assumption with 17 points.

All-State 'B' Grid Squad Named by AP

By DAVE DILES
State AP Sports Editor

Two of the finest football players ever to grace Michigan high school gridirons—end Art Brandstatter of East Lansing and halfback Bob Suci of Grand Blanc—head the Associated Press Class B All-State football team announced today.

It's a great one-two punch, the graceful and talented end from East Lansing High, and the triple-threat back from Grand Blanc. There were no other players even close to this pair in the balloting that included coaches, sports writers and broadcasters.

Suci compiled a record that staggers the imagination. In his senior year alone, the 176-pound halfback accounted for better than 1700 yards—despite the fact that he missed the first two games of the campaign because of injuries.

Suci scored 19 touchdowns, passed for four others and converted seven times. He rushed for 1,333 yards and passed for many more. On punts and kickoffs he accumulated another 370 yards.

Over a three-year span, Suci scored 45 touchdowns and gained nearly 4,000 yards.

Brandstatter, whose father was a fullback at Michigan State in the 1930s, caught 36 passes for 595 yards and 6 touchdowns this past season; returned 21 kicks for 505 yards and 2 touchdowns; made good on 17 out of 24 extra point tries; averaged 33.3 yards on punts, and intercepted 7 passes for 198 yards and returned one for a touchdown.

He's a safetyman on defense. His coach, Vince Carillot, calls him "the greatest football player I have ever coached" in an eight-year career.

The best comment on Suci came from Pete Fornari, the coach at Flint Mandeville High. He said, "This boy is a college back playing high school football."

Suci's teammates in the first-team backfield are quarterback Ed Trancygier of Wyandotte Mt. Carmel, halfback Jim Rowe of Marshall's Class B champs and fullback Bill Timm of Coldwater.

Trancygier, a dangerous runner as well as a sparkling passer, scored 10 touchdowns. Rowe is a "bread-and-butter" runner who scored 15 touchdowns and got the yardage when his team needed it most. He's an exceptional kicker, too, and is on both the throwing and receiving end of a lot of passes.

Timm is a transfer student from Marcellus who became the workhorse of the Coldwater team, carrying the ball an average of 25 plays per game. He played end on defense and coach Jack Flint said his end was "turned" only once all season, and that time it was on the old Statue of Liberty play.

Another Marshall player, tackle Ken May, made the first eleven. The big junior was the only underclassman on the honor squad. May, 6 feet 4 and 200 pounds, was the only player selected to both the offensive and defensive units on the All-Twin Valley League team.

May's running mate at tackle is Dennis Hall of Charlotte. His brother Duane made the same team a year ago and went on to gain a starting job in the Adrian College line as a freshman.

The guards are John Frey of East Grand Rapids and Joe Foster of Kalamazoo St. Augustine. Frey and Brandstatter are the only repeaters from the 1956 team. The East Grand Rapids star was used occasionally as a tailback this season and gained 152 yards in 29 carries. He also fired three passes for 50 yards and a touchdown. Primarily, though, he was used as a blocking guard on offense and middle guard on defense.

His coach said he handled 90 attempts at his position this season for a net loss to opponents of one yard. Also, he made 24 behind-the-line tackles for a total loss of 106 yards.

Brandstatter teams up with Larry Grewe of Allegan at the ends. Grewe is regarded as one of the finest ends to come out of west Michigan in some time.

The first team center is Dave Manders of Kingsford in the Upper Peninsula. Named "Lineman of the year" in Upper Michigan, the 6-foot-2 210-pounder played three years of varsity ball.

W. Bloomfield 5 Defeated, 63-47

Clawson put together some balanced scoring to defeat West Bloomfield 63-47 on the Clawson court last night.

The Lakers stayed within close distance for the first half as Clawson held only a 25-22 advantage, but in the third quarter the Trojans pulled away.

Pat Hanes with 16, Newt Acton with 15 and George Almashy with 13 led Clawson's attack while Jim Hollister had 18 and John Lucadem 13 for West Bloomfield.

Both teams had seven players in the scoring column.

Rochester, Romeo Win Opening Hoop Contests

By CHUCK ABAIR

Rochester and Romeo set the stage for their big game Friday which will help dedicate the new Falcon gymnasium by turning in impressive victories in season openers last night.

Rochester thumped Milford 36-23 at Milford, while Romeo was posting a 67-59 triumph at South Lake.

"Peanuts" Montross made the 1st two shots of the game and Rochester went on from there to a comparatively easy win.

The Falcons looked good in spots led by the smooth-working Montross. They romped to a 15-3 1st period lead and were never pushed very hard until Milford narrowed the gap from 19-6 to 25-20 at the start of the 4th quarter.

Nine successive points sewed up the issue at that point as Milford lacked the scoring punch to keep up the pace.

The Redskins had tallied only six points in the opening half and failed to make a field goal until the eighth minute of play. Reserve Bob Hoyt paced the last half surge with all of his 10 points. Montross topped Rochester with 15.

The winners peppered the home team's zone defense to the tune of 72 shots while Milford could only get off 48. Rochester converted eight of 16 free throw attempts. Milford was 3-for-10 on fouls showing poor percentages in both departments for the area rivals.

Better ballhandling and rebounding and the comfortable early lead was the dominating factor for the Falcons as the absence of injured scoring ace Pat Kelley weakened the Milford attack considerably.

Romeo also led all the way in its contest but had things more difficult after gaining a 41-32 halftime advantage.

Dave Proper paced the Bulldogs with 15 points followed by Frank Redman's 14. Butch Dallwitz was close behind with 13 and Ray Ritter had 12. Jack Gleason of South Lake topped them all with 21.

OL St. Mary Begins With 45-43 Victory

Captain Stan Moniuszko fired a 40-footer with only one second left to give Orchard Lake St. Mary a 45-43 victory over St. Stanislaus in the season opener on the Eaglet court last night.

St. Stan held the lead most of the way but faltered in the 4th quarter by getting only one point. The visitors led at halftime 28-24.

Arthur Godzinski led the St. Mary attack with 15 points while Rich Orkisz took honors with 22 for St. Stan.

Twins Confuse Cards

A pair of high-scoring twins were too much for Millington in its opener last night. The Cards bowed to Vassar 58-41 as Ray and Roy Landskroner combined for 31 points. George Kish topped Millington with 13.

Southfield Rips Cranes, 64-30

Cranbrook fell to its second defeat in as many games of the young basketball season by taking a 64-30 lacing at the hands of Southfield on the Crane court last night.

Ten Jays figured in the scoring led by Bob Shull's 16 points. Bob Klein led Cranbrook with 13 points.

Southfield held a wide 34-15 halftime advantage. The Cranes managed only 10 field goals in their scoring.

It was the second game for both teams. Southfield lost the opener to Livonia Bentley last week.

South Lyon Wins, 39-32

After trailing most of the 1st half, South Lyon rallied to dominate the final two periods and defeat Fowlerville 39-32 in a hoop lidlifter last night. Phil Peavyhouse sparked the triumph with 13 points. Mac Tomlin tallied 15 in defeat.

Russians Win Again

KINGSTON, Ont. (AP) — The touring Russian hockey team defeated Kingston 4-2 last night for its fourth victory in seven games against Canadian clubs. The Russians have lost two, tied one.

Holly Quint Gets Season Started With Win, 69-58

Holly's 14-man varsity basketball team all saw action as the Broncos easily downed Fenton 69-58 last night.

The Broncs were red hot in the first half in hitting 48 per cent of their shots and held a 36-13 first quarter lead.

Nine of the 14 players got into the scoring column for Holly led by Harold Haddon with 13, Amos Bradsher with 11 and Bill Taylor with 10.

Fenton had Jerry Young with 20 and Bruce McLenna with 18.

Farmington Blasted in Opening Contest

Farmington and Wayne High School cagers opened her 1957-58 season at the latter's gymnasium, last night and the hosts proved exceedingly inhospitable. Farmington bowed 40-26, never getting closer than the 6-3 count at end of the first period.

Wayne's Allen Betz led the scoring with 17 points. Tom Grimshaw was Farmington's best, with 10.

FARMINGTON ..... 3 10 8 5—26

Berkley Defeated, 60-49

Dearborn Fordson staged a second half rally to down Berkley 60-49 in the opener for both teams on the Berkley court. Dave Burris of Berkley and Giorgi of Fordson each had 18 points.

The Bears led after one period and were behind 29-28 at halftime but in the second half Fordson hit on 14 of 26 shots to break the game open.

Ex-MSU Tackle Lost to Eagles

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rookie Tom Saidock, 260-pound tackle from Michigan State, has been lost to the Philadelphia Eagles for next Sunday's clash with the Washington Redskins.

Saidock, who suffered a separation of the right shoulder in last Sunday's game against Pittsburgh, is expected to be back on active duty for the club's final game of the National Football League season — a Dec. 14 game with the Chicago Cardinals.

The bad news concerning Saidock was tempered by word that Chuck Bednarik, veteran linebacker, will be back in action for the Redskin game.

Kazoo Loses, 81-75

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Manchester College dominated overtime play last night to win 81-75 over Kalamazoo College in the season's basketball opener for both teams.

Kalamazoo led 38-36 at halftime and built up an 11-point lead with five minutes remaining in regular play. Paced by Gladden Schrook and Gerry Mitchel, the Indiana squad went on a scoring surge and tied the regular game at 71-71.

Clarkston Rips Ortonville

Clarkston's veteran cage team opened the season with an impressive 60-41 victory over Ortonville last night as three Wolves hit in double figures.

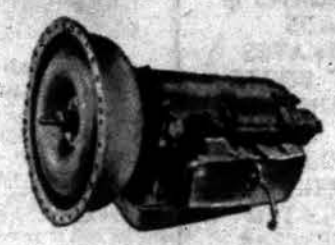

The Wolves took the lead from the start and never fell behind as Dick Lippert poured in 19 points for scoring honors. Bill Noles had 14 and Leon Decker 13 for Clarkston while two Ortonville players, Charley Graves and Earl Richardson each tallied 11 points.

Ortonville got within four points in the second period but Clarkston moved ahead at halftime 35-26.

The Wolves' junior varsity also won, 44-34.

Wolverines See Rise in Big 10

U. of M. Is Darkhorse

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Michigan again is cast in a darkhorse role for Big Ten basketball honors as it inaugurates its season here tonight in a non-conference game with Pittsburgh.

The Wolverines wound up in a tie for fifth place last year after a garrison finish which saw them upset both co-champions the last week. Those were lofty heights for Michigan, which hadn't finished in the first division in eight seasons.

Heading into the fray with the Panthers, the Wolverines are working on a three-game winning streak that extends over from last year. It's rare the Michigan cagers ever put two victories back-to-back much less three.

But coach Bill Perigo's team beat Michigan State and Indiana, the dual titlists, and Iowa on its home court. The rousing finish brought about a basketball renaissance at Michigan.

There are high hopes for a championship contender this year. But the backbone of last year's late flurry is gone. Ron Kramer and Jimmy Shearon have graduated. Between them they jelled Michigan into a well balanced quintet.

Three other starters return and Perigo, entering his sixth season at Michigan, says they are improved. They are Capt. Pete Tillotson, who seems to have discovered some scoring punch and the now-matured sophomore twins from last year, George Lee and M. C. Burton. Lee led the squad in scoring last year and Burton was third.

Perigo has two veterans rounding out his first five, Randy Tarrier and Jack Lewis. The Wolverines are just average in height with Tillotson at 6-6 being the tallest.

In Pitt, Michigan meets a team which it plays annually in the early season as a test for the rugged grind ahead. The Wolverines swamped the Panthers 90-75 at Ann Arbor last year. The victory was an omen of good things to come because Pitt usually is fairly strong. This year, the Panthers are led by little Don Hennon, an early season All-American choice.

Michigan will open at home Saturday in another non-conference tilt with Nebraska.

STRIKES AND SPARES
By Joe Wilman

Many women bowlers have the same problem—being pulled off line by the weight of the ball as they make their approach to the foul line. Even with perfect stance and flawless delivery, the results will be bad if you've been pulled off line during your approach.

The first remedy is to make sure you're not using a ball that's too heavy or one that doesn't fit. If you're in doubt about it, see your bowling instructor. Many women (and some men, too) feel they must roll a 16-pound ball when a lighter ball is what they need for better scoring.

Next, get used to swinging the ball. You can practice doing this right in your own home. It will strengthen your arm, wrist, and finger muscles so that the ball will feel more natural when you get out on the alley.

Push the ball directly out from your body as you take your first step. Don't let it just drop down as a dead weight, because it's this dropping motion that can pull you off line. This same motion also prevents you from increasing the arc of your armswing and adding additional natural speed to your delivery.

Layne Slated to Appear in Court Friday

DETROIT (INS) — Quarterback Bobby Layne of the Detroit Lions will appear in traffic court at 11 a.m. Friday on a drunk driving charge.

Layne won a delay Monday because his attorney was busy with another case and unable to appear before Judge John D. Watts.

Arrangements were made yesterday so the attorney, Joseph W. Louisell, can be in traffic court Friday.

Layne was arrested on the charge Sept. 17. He has denied the accusation.

Braves Figure Selves in Race for Top Honor

Iowa's Sophomore Team Defeats Highly Touted Southern Methodist

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bradley's hot-shooting Braves are still at it, declaring themselves "in" on the race for national honors in college basketball this season with an impressive, if one-sided 97-47 victory over Illinois Normal.

The Braves, retaining many of the kids who came hustling out of nowhere to win the National Invitation Tournament last season, fired at a spectacular .553 percentage from the field last night against outclassed Normal. Big Barney Cable, a 6-7 dandy, led the scoring with 15 points as coach Chuck Osborn used his first-stringers sparingly.

The shock troops built a 27-17 lead in the first 10 minutes before the reserves took over. Leading 56-26 at the half, Osborn set his boys loose again and they made it 70-31 before calling it a night.

Iowa, relying mostly on sophomores, defeated Southern Methodist 65-60 in overtime. It was the second straight loss to Big Ten foes (Minnesota did it Monday night) for the Mustangs, defending Southwest champs but no longer carried by Jim Kregs, who graduated. Holden Gentry, a 6-7 Hawkeye whose foul gave SMU the free throw it needed for a 54-54 deadlock at the end of regulation time, canned six points in the extra session. SMU's Bob James was high scorer with 23.

In other Midwest games, Notre Dame opened with an 82-63 decision over St. Ambrose of Iowa; and Detroit whipped Assumption (Ont.) 82-57. Tom Hawkins, who a year ago was hailed as Notre Dame's greatest sophomore, scored with ease with his jump shot for 28 points.

Kansas State, considered a challenger against Kansas in the big eight, ripped Texas Western 76-31 with Jack Parr scoring 18. The Wildcats had a 25-8 bulge within 6½ minutes. Missouri, figured to be improved in the Big Eight, defeated South Dakota 73-62, hitting 56.5 of its shots.

STATE'S COLLEGE STARS — Michigan small college stars were honored at Marshall, Michigan, yesterday. The first two teams as picked by coaches and writers were at the luncheon. This is the first team: (Sitting, left to right) Walt Beach of Central Michigan, Larry TerMolen of Hope College, Joe Grigg of Western Michigan, Doug Maison of Hillsdale, Kerry Keating of Eastern Michigan and Dick Nash of Albion. (Standing, left to right) Dick Gantos of Hope College, Dave Trippett of Hillsdale, Coach-of-the-Year Muddy Waters of Hillsdale, Jim Wickman of Northern Michigan, Ben Paolucci of Wayne State and Leon Harper of Adrian. This was the second annual all-state luncheon honoring the teams.

4 Pontiac Area Gridders Honored at Luncheon

By BILL CORNWELL

MARSHALL — Four young men from the Pontiac area, along with 18 others, took their bows here Tuesday afternoon at a luncheon honoring Michigan's small college All-State football players.

The 22 gridders represented the 1st and 2nd teams selected for All-State honors this year by coaches and writers and announced early last week by the Associated Press.

Pontiac area gridders, comprising the entire 1st team backfield, who shared in the glory were:

Doug Maison of Hillsdale, the Imlay City product who piloted the Dales to another undefeated campaign.

Walt Beach of Central Michigan, former Pontiac High star who made the 1957 squad as a sophomore.

Kerry Keating of Eastern Michigan, ex-Waterford High ace who was the state's leading scorer this season.

Dick Nash of Albion, the Royal Oak native who was the top ground gainer in the MIAA.

Other 1st team members who received gold footballs and certificates of merit for their accomplishments were ends Leon Harper of Adrian and Joe Grigg of Western Michigan, tackles Ben Paolucci of Wayne State and Larry Termolen of Hope, guards Dave Trippett of Hillsdale and Dick Gantos of Hope and center Jim Wickman of Northern Michigan.

Second team members were awarded certificates of merit by Bruno L. Kearns, sports editor of The Pontiac Press.

They included ends Tom Taylor of Albion and Jim Reynolds of Hillsdale, tackles Phil Perry of Kalamazoo and George Arrick of Alma, guards Joe Corbiel of Northern Michigan and Gordon Ringquist of Central Michigan, center Eric Sundeck of Alma, and backs Mert Vanderlind of Hope, Lovell Coleman of Western Michigan, Bob Coeling of Grand Rapids Junior College and Archie Jackson of Ferris Institute.

Frank (Maddy) Waters, head coach at Hillsdale, also came in for his share of the spoils. Waters, who has guided the Dales to 34 straight wins, the nation's longest victory string, was named "coach of the year."

Sam Ketchman of Ferris, president of the Michigan Chapter of the NAIA, presented an engraved plaque to Waters, whose name will be entered as a candidate for national small college "coach of the year."

Waters will take his Hillsdale team to St. Petersburg, Fla. on Dec. 21 to meet unbeaten Pittsburgh (Kansas) in the NAIA-sponsored Holiday Bowl game.

Lou Zarza, former head coach at Wayne and now a scout for the Detroit Lions, spoke briefly and discussed the small college contribution to pro football.

Dave Diles, state AP sports editor, was awared a plaque for his services to small college football.

Pheasants on Way Back in S. Dakota

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"They never come back," say some of the sages among the sitting down type sports experts — but then, they haven't heard the word from South Dakota pheasant hunters.

So here's the word: They do come back. The pheasants, that is, and subsequently the hunters.

What happens to the wily ringneck in South Dakota is of more than passing interest elsewhere, because pheasant hunting was practically invented there.

The history of the rise and fall, and rise again, goes something like this:

In 1947 — a date engraved in the memory of a smoothbore operator as deeply as the date that rich old aunt Emma died and left all her money to the animal shelter — more than 85,000 nonresident hunters journeyed to the promised land to try for the take-home limit of 25 birds. Most of them made it. The season's bag was 7,000,000 pheasants. State economists figured the visitors spent $7.50 for each bird they bagged.

That was the end of a great decade. Enormous chunks of prime country were swallowed up in private leases and posted against public hunting.

★ ★ ★

Farmers whose fields were inundated by visitors supported a law prohibiting the hunting in standing grain. More intensive farming practices put prime pheasant cover under the plow. The state passed a law prohibiting nonresident hunters from waterfowl shooting.

And the well went dry. By 1951, only 1,920 nonresident licenses were sold, and only about 50,000 pheasants were harvested.

Then even the stand-up, walk-til-they-drop outdoor sports experts echoed their indoor colleagues, and said that well, it was great while it lasted, but they never come back.

But hark, now. South Dakota conservation officials, who had accumulated a 5,000,000 surplus in those years when nonresidents were paying $20 a copy for licenses — plus $15 extra for an extra 15-bird permit — became a little wistful. So did the hotel, motel, restaurant and companion tourist industries.

The state acquired 60,000 acres of public hunting grounds; 5,000 acres of state game farm lands and 9,000 acres along the Fort Randall reservoir.

Auto Accident Hospitalizes Seven of Team

WASHINGTON (AP) — A highway accident in bad weather has sent seven members of the William and Mary basketball team to casualty hospital here. Two were in serious condition today.

The players were hurt last night in a collision between a car and their station wagon in which they were driving to a game with the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia tonight. The collision occurred on a hill near Rosaryville, Md., about 20 miles southeast of the capital.

There was no immediate word on whether the injuries to the seven would prevent the William and Mary team from operating.

Paolucci PAC Choice

DETROIT (AP) — Tackle Benny Paolucci of Wayne State University, named recently to the AP's small college all-state football team, received another honor this week. He was the only Tartar player selected on the Presidents' Athletic Conference first team. End John Poplawski, and backs Ron Kowalczyk and Jim MacMillan of Wayne State received second team berths.

PHS Natators 1st Test Friday

Area Has Full Round of Action

By H. GUY MOATS

Pontiac's hopeful prep swimming squad takes on another "building" club in the Chiefs' season opener Friday night (7:30 p.m.) in the home pool. The PHS-Ypsilanti Central dual test is the top swimming event of the weekend for the area which has its first full round of competition.

Other openers include the new Southfield team against a Hazel Park squad that is expected to be an improvement over last year's last-place EML team. Southfield is a member of Inter-Lakes conference.

In Saginaw Valley circles, where Arthur Hill is again the top power and defending SVC champion, most weekend action will be in the Arthur Hill Invitational Relays Saturday night. Valley clubs except Pontiac, and Bay City Central, will be in the event. Birmingham will compete as favorite in the Saturday afternoon and evening invitational relays at Royal Oak Kimball. Meet has attracted some 15 schools.

★ ★ ★

Chiefs have lost one of their lettermen. Pat Stinson, who would have left the squad at mid-term anyway, has been declared ineligible due to a misinterpretation of his status. He had some athletic time while a St. Fred's student that was found to have cut his eligibility at PHS. He was a freestyler and breast stroke swimmer. Sophomore Barry Horst will replace him in the two events.

Coach Robert (Des) Boyce said today he had not settled on his Friday starters, except for a few jobs that include capable Johnny LaMotte in the dives.

Ypsilanti is under the direction of a new coach, former University of Iowa breaststroke swimmer, Robert Higgins, who is making his debut here as a coach. His top threat is the veteran, Captain Joe Scovill, in the butterfly. "My squad is a young one, mostly freshmen and sophomores and we don't know yet what it can do, Higgins said today." He has 8 lettermen, three of them seniors. Two are the good divers, Bill Sorrell and Dan Townsend, juniors.

★ ★ ★

Coach Milton Hurd says the Bluejays first team is composed mainly of sophomores, all untried in competition. Jays face Dick Mosley's Vikings, led by ace backstroke and medley swimmer Neal Thompson, who will be lost at midterm.

MSU Cage Coach Wins but With Some Regret

EAST LANSING (AP) — Forddy Anderson admitted feeling a twinge of regret after his team beat Butler in the season's opener, 74-55.

The highly successful Michigan State basketball coach explained he wouldn't be in the basketball business at all except for Butler coach Paul Hinkle.

Back in 1944, Hinkle was basketball and football coach at the Chicago Great Lakes Naval Training Station—an outfit loaded with talent in both sports, thanks to the incoming servicemen.

Anderson, an enlisted man, was one of the players.

Hinkle was suddenly called to another assignment. Out of the blue, he asked Anderson to take over the basketball coaching assignment.

"It was almost unprecedented for an enlisted man to handle a job like that," Anderson explained. "But I won 10 out of the first 12 until a new man came in. And they figured I was doing so well they let me finish out the season—32-5."

Anderson won a "coach of the year" award from Chicago Writers for his work at Great Lakes and continued in the coaching game with successes that included the co-championship of the Big 10 with Indiana last year.

★ ★ ★

Speaking of friends, Anderson and an old pro teammate of his, Bob Calihan of the University of Detroit, will face each other Friday night on the Titan court.

Since coming to MSU, Anderson and Calihan have met each other twice, each owning one win.

They played on the same pro basketball team in the early 1940s.

Colt-49er Game Will Be on TV

DETROIT (AP) — Professional football fans in Michigan will get an extra dividend Sunday when the Baltimore Colts-San Francisco 49ers game will be telecast and broadcast following the clash between the Detroit Lions-Cleveland Browns game at Briggs Stadium.

Lions president Edwin J. Anderson said the Colts-49ers game at San Francisco will start at 4:30 p.m. (EST) and won't conflict with the Lions game. The Lions are tied with the 49ers one game behind Baltimore in the race for the National Football League's Western Conference title.

Anderson said the coast game will be seen on the regular Lions' TV network in Michigan and Northern Ohio. The Detroit outlet is WJBK-TV (Channel 2).

Ski Coach Named

NORTHFIELD, Vt. (AP) — Robert J. Axtell of Old Forge, N.Y., a veteran competitor in ski meets throughout the country, yesterday was named ski coach at Norwich University.

The 26-year-old Axtell succeeds Robert Wright who has resigned.

Dale's Tackle on Second Team

Lyles Ace of Small All-America 11

NEW YORK (AP) — A halfback, playing for a small college but so good he was chosen in the first round of the pro draft, is the bulwark of The Associated Press' annual Little All-America football team announced today.

The star of the team is Leonard Lyles of Louisville, who led the nation's scorers in the recently closed season with 132 points. His team won a berth in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., against Drake, because of his high scoring exploits. The Baltimore Colts of the National Football League made him their first draft pick this week.

★ ★ ★

Others in the backfield with Lyles are Norman Jarock of St. Norbert's in Wisconsin, the total offense leader among the players competing for the smaller colleges; Dan Nolan of Lehigh, the T-formation perfectionist drafted by the professional Washington Redskins; and Charles Bradshaw of Wofford, whose club battered eight of 10 foes, including some members of the Southern Conference.

All four of the ball carriers are seniors, averaging 6-1 on height and weighing about 185 each.

In front of this quartet of ball handling magicians perform seven robust linemen with the two tackles and end Howard Clark of Chattanooga outstanding.

★ ★ ★

The two tackles are Bruce Hartman of Luther College in Iowa, and Dudley Meredith of Lamar Tech at Beaumont, Tex. During Hartman's career at Luther his team twice won its conference title and twice was second in addition to compiling a 21-game unbeaten mark that was broken early this season.

★ ★ ★

Meredith was a junior college All-America player before playing for Lamar and also is an All-Texas senior college player, rating over the tackles on the numerous Southwest Conference teams.

Old-Style Samovars Finished in Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—The days of the old-fashioned, charcoal - burning Russian samovar are numbered.

No Russian home is complete without one of the metal urns simmering tea in the corner. One and a half million of the old-style ones were produced in the last three years in Tula, the Soviet Union's largest samovar production center.

★ ★ ★

A report from Tula today said the new line of samovars will make tea by electricity. As a concession to the diehards—and to rural areas not fully electrified—some of the charcoal burners will be produced for a while longer, the report said.

Bread mold destroys 150 million pounds of bread annually.

Mixing Follows Higher Opening

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned mixed after a higher opening today. Dealings were moderately active.

In early trading leading stocks showed gains and losses running to about a point. A number of leaders were unchanged.

★ ★ ★

The aircraft-missile division again was the most popular with traders, reflecting indications of increased defense expenditures.

Boeing, General Dynamics and Grumman moved ahead about ½ a point. Smaller gains were made by Douglas and North American Aviation.

Another group in demand was metals. This followed a higher price for copper on the London Metal Exchange. Anaconda, Phelps Dodge and Kennecott gained about ½ a point.

★ ★ ★

There was not much strength elsewhere, except in selected issues. Steels and rails suffered small declines. Oils were mixed and motors practically unchanged.

Polaroid raced up 1½ points to another new high for the year. Bath Iron Works jumped more than 3 on relatively few sales.

American Telephone and Telegraph was off a small fraction; but International Telephone continued to forge ahead.

Lack of Jury Stalls Beck Larceny Trial

SEATTLE (AP) — Still without a jury and faced with a reluctant panel of veniremen, the trial of Teamsters Union President Dave Beck on grand larceny charges ground into its third day today with no immediate progress in sight.

Eleven prospective jurors had survived preliminary questioning yesterday and had been seated when the defense and prosecution started exercising peremptory challenges — the right to remove a prospective juror without giving cause. Each side has six such challenges.

Both sides used two challenges and the replacements one after another said: "I can't be impartial. I have preconceived impressions."

Beck is charged with pocketing $1,900 received in the sale of a union-owned automobile.

Girl, 7, Believed Kidnap Victim

Several Hundred Fail to Find Child Offered Ride by Man in Car

SYCAMORE, Ill. (AP) — A 7-year-old girl was believed abducted last night by a man who had offered her and a girl companion a ride in a car.

Several hundred persons, headed by city, county and state police, failed after an all-night search to find the missing girl, Maria Ridolph.

Police Chief William Hindenburg said no clues had been found during the all-night search of vacant lots, corn fields, freight cars and vacant houses and buildings in this De Kalb County community of some 7,000, about 60 miles northwest of Chicago. A search also was made along the Kishwaukee River.

★ ★ ★

Hindenburg said the Ridolph girl, the youngest of four children of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ridolph, had been last seen about 7 p.m. She was playing with Cathie Sigman, 8, near the Sigman home.

Hindenburg said the Sigman girl told him a man who called himself "Johnny" stopped to talk to the girls and offered them a ride in a car or a bus. The Sigman girl said she told the man to wait until she got a pair of mittens. When she returned, she said, the man and Maria were gone.

A plastic doll owned by Maria was found on the street near where she and Cathie had been playing.

Stratojet Bomber Explodes in Mid-Air

ELGIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (INS) — A Strategic Air Command Boeing B-47 stratojet exploded in the air today over a water bombing range on Choctawhatchee Bay.

The Air Force said this type of bomber normally carries a crew of three persons.

Helicopters from the 48th Air Rescue Squadron and utility boats from the 3201 Bat Squadron at Eglin Air Force base were searching the bay area for possible survivors.

Grains Remain Nearly Steady

CHICAGO (AP) — Prices of grain and soybean futures held about steady with previous closes in light mixed dealings on the Board of Trade today.

Wheat gathered a little support from a private estimate which placed wheat impoundings under government support as of Nov. 15 at 173 million bushels, an increase of 20 million bushels in the past 30 days. There was little else in the news to affect the bread grains.

Most corn futures declined on clearing weather over the corn and soybean belt. Trading was mixed with a great deal of spreading apparent in early dealings.

Soybeans advanced fractionally at the outset, influenced by higher vegetable oil prices. Rye futures followed the action in wheat.

Furniture Store Gutted by Fire

Pontiac Blaze Causes Damage of $14,000 to Crib and Cradle Shop

Fire gutted a children's furniture store at 740 W. Huron St., at 9 last night. The blaze at the Crib and Cradle Shop caused $4,000 damages to the building and $10,000 damages to the contents.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Fire Dept. fought the fire for nearly an hour and prevented it from spreading to adjacent stores.

However, smoke damage did occur at Irving's Delicatessen, 738 W. Huron; Milo's Fur Shop, 742 W. Huron, and Barnes Hardware, 744 W. Huron.

The owner of the Crib and Cradle Shop, Irving Prizant, said he had ample insurance to cover the building but only $5,000 insurance on contents.

Cause of the blaze was boxes and shelving too close to the oil heater, according to Assistant Fire Marshal Allen Tunny.

To Help Pay for Their Care

Asks Seizing Mental Patients' Incomes

LANSING (AP) — Fixed incomes of mental patients at state institutions could be seized to help pay for their care under a proposal which will go before the legislature.

Rep. Ben. E. Lohman (R-Hamilton) said his special study committee of the House and Senate would draw up the plan for presentation to the lawmakers next year.

★ ★ ★

"We have patients who are getting Social Security insurance and retirement benefits which should be used for their treatment," he said.

The state now collects health insurance held by mental patients, he said, but all their other sources of income are held in trust.

CONTINUE STUDY

Lohman said he expects his committee will need another year to wind up its study on commitment procedures and civil rights of mental patients.

Nicholas N. Kittrie, director of American Bar Assn.'s project on the rights of the mentally ill, told the committee yesterday about commitment procedures in other states and abroad.

Illinois, he said, commits some patients as "in need of mental treatment," a designation allowing them to retain their civil rights. If they are described as "mentally ill," they are ruled incompetent.

Michigan's mental patients lose all their civil rights but the right to draw up a will.

Ninety per cent of England's mentally afflicted enter hospitals voluntarily, Kittrie said, as compared with only 10 per cent in the United States.

He called on local review boards to protect patients rights inside hospitals and to handle patient complaints.

Car Production Tops 5.5 Million Mark

DETROIT (AP) — U.S. automobile production for 1957 soared past the 5½ million mark in November, the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. reported today.

★ ★ ★

At the end of November, AMA said the industry had produced 5,583,868 passenger cars, 1,005,531 trucks and 3,624 coaches for a total output of 6,593,023 units in 11 months.

Through November, 1956, passenger car production for that year totaled 5,225,192, truck, 1,022,268 and coach 3,901 for an overall 6,252,361 units.

November production of 578,921 passenger cars was the highest since March, AMA said. In addition last month, 91,245 trucks and 245 coaches were built to bring total output to 670,867 units.

★ ★ ★

Production last week, however, was down from 151,937 cars the previous week to 114,883 because of the Thanksgiving holiday. Truck and bus output of 17,358 units brought the week's total to 132,241.

GM Delaware Plant Builds Millionth Car

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — The General Motors Assembly Plant, which started operations here in 1947, produced its one millionth car today.

★ ★ ★

GM's Buick - Oldsmobile-Pontiac Assembly Division Plant produces 57 different types of passenger cars on the same assembly line.

The millionth car to roll off the assembly line was a 1958 Buick.

Howard F. Settle said the plant assembled 102,775 GM passenger cars during the 1957 model year.

★ ★ ★

"General Motors manufacturing operations here play an important role in Delaware's economy," Settle said. "For instance, this year we will pay out approximately 18 million dollars in wages to our employes and an additional $3,500,000 to our 400 local suppliers."

4 Oakland Men Attend Public Health Meeting

Four Oakland County residents are participating in the statewide Citizens Public Health Advisory Committee meeting at the Lansing Civic Center today.

They are Ralph Main, Oakland County drain commissioner; Probate Judge Arthur Moore, Dr. Alan M. Potts of Royal Oak, and Lee White of Birmingham.

In preparation for the meeting 200 citizens representing all areas and interests in the state were invited by the Michigan Public Health Association, sponsor of the meeting, to take a freely critical look at public health needs and services and suggest topics for discussion.

Today's meeting is planned around the four centers of interest indicated by suggestions. They are community perils such as raw sewage and contaminated food, hazards to happy childhood such as hearing losses and tooth decay, nursing care at home or in institutions, and needless deaths.

At the conclusion of the meeting the citizens committee will vote on proposals and priorities recommended by the discussion groups.

Zhigarev told the newspaper Moscow News that similar talks already were under way with the Indians, French and Dutch.

Buys Minority Interest

NEW YORK (AP) — National Distillers & Chemical Corp. plans to acquire the minority interest of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. in National Petro-Chemicals Corp., presently owned 60 per cent by National Distillers and 40 per cent by Panhandle. In return for its 40 per cent interest, Panhandle will get 1½ million shares of National Distillers common stock.

Named Sales Head of Eaton Stamping

Appointed sales manager of the stamping division of the Eaton Manufacturing Co. of Cleveland was Robert B. Fisher of 32355 Eastlady Dr., Southfield Township.

FISHER

Fisher had been sales representative with the division for nine years before his recent appointment.

He was born in Detroit, educated in Ferndale and Saginaw, and received a degree from Western Michigan University in 1948. After his graduation he joined the stamping division, advancing to sales representative in 1949.

Ore Carrier Owner Fears Seaway Tolls

MONTREAL (AP) — Alexander T. Wood, president of the Wilson Marine Transit Co., Cleveland, Ohio, said yesterday he was "greatly concerned" that high tolls and pilotage fees might prevent free use of the St. Lawrence Seaway by specially built ocean-seaway freighters.

★ ★ ★

"It would be most unfortunate to remove nature's barrier to the heart of Canada and the United States only to impose an artificial barrier by short-sighted public policies," Wood said.

He spoke at the launching of a 20,000-ton ore carrier at Canadian Vickers Ltd. shipyards here. The 578-foot vessel, named after Wood, was christened by Mrs. Wood.

★ ★ ★

The Alexander T. Wood, a motor vessel with variable-pitch propeller generally used only on icebreakers, is the largest ship in the world designed with ocean and seaway navigation in mind. She was built for Westriver Ore Transports Ltd., a Montreal subsidiary of the Cleveland firm. Her chief job will be to haul iron ore — about 18,500 tons a trip — from Sept-Iles, Que., to U.S. seaports.

Selfridge Field Thefts Bared

AF Officer, 11 Civilian Workers Charged With Stealing From Base

DETROIT (AP) — An Air Force sergeant and 11 civilian employes at Selfridge Field today were charged with theft of a large quantity of government property.

"Some of their homes looked like government warehouses," declared Charles W. Brown, Detroit FBI chief.

Brown said the stolen items included tools, paint, brushes, food, clothing and sports equipment.

Assistant U.S. Attorney George E. Woods said the loot could run into thousands of dollars.

The sergeant and five of the 11 civilians were indicted by a federal grand jury for thefts which could carry 10-year prison sentences and $10,000 fines. The other six civilians were named in criminal informations alleging possession of stolen goods worth less than $100.

Named by the grand jury were Sgt. Ralph G. Beres, 46, of Detroit; Ralph O. Sheiden, 45, of Mt. Clemens, a warehouseman; Woodrow F. Soulliere, 39, of Fair Haven, a warehouseman; Ovila F. Vanasse, 44, of Anchorville, a carpenter, and John Elso, 40, of Mt. Clemens, a cook.

FBI agents said large quantities of stolen goods have been recovered.

The charges cover only thefts alleged to have taken place in November. Woods said the stealing has been going on for a long time.

City Auto Club Awaiting Move to New Building

Pontiac Automobile Club of Michigan workers are looking forward to moving into their new building at the corner of Williams and Pike streets around Jan. 15, an official said today.

It was reported that the modern office building is about 70 per cent completed. Some delays have been experienced due to inclement weather in November, the spokesman said.

The $125,000 structure, for which ground was broken in July, will replace present headquarters at 63 N. Perry St.

The one-story building will house offices of both the Auto Club and a branch of the Detroit Automobile Inter-Insurance Exchange.

School Chief Bartlett Revived After Fainting

LANSING (AP) — Dr. Lynn M. M. Bartlett, 53, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, collapsed with a fainting attack last night and was revived by a fire department inhalator squad.

The state's school chief was attending service at the Lansing St. Mary Cathedral at the time.

Lansing Fire Chief Paul Decker was among those in attendance at the religious services and called the department's inhalator squad. Bartlett was revived and taken to his home by private ambulance.

Decker said cause of the fainting spell was not immediately known but Bartlett will be examined by a physician today.

Christmas Card Mailers Helped

Post Office Establishes Courtesy Boxes to Aid Drivers Deposit Letters

Christmas card mailers will be especially interested in the time and energy they can save this season with the convenience of eight new "courtesy" mail boxes installed in Pontiac recently.

Leslie H. Dean, acting postmaster, reports each box has two openings. They are conveniently located near the street curb so mail may be deposited from the right side of the car as well as from the sidewalk on the other side of the box.

★ ★ ★

The openings are large enough to put in small bundles of letters so that mailers will not have to break bundles open or leave them outside on top of boxes, Dean explained.

The curb combination letter and parcel boxes are located on: Huron and Saginaw streets in front of the National building; N. Saginaw street in front of Mark Davis Camera Mart, across from Mt. Clemens street; and N. Saginaw street in front of Simms Brothers, Inc.

Other boxes have been installed on W. Huron street in front of the Community National Bank branch, west of Telegraph road, and two in front of the Huron Gardens branch post office, 1077 W. Huron St.

One box is located in front of the E. Huron street post office and another is on the south side of Huron directly across from the post office.

Opposition to Razing Old City Hall Grows

DETROIT (INS) — Opposition to Mayor Louis Miriani's proposal to demolish Old City Hall is mounting in Detroit.

Tradition-loving city officials, led by Council President Mary V. Beck, were quick to denounce the plan. She said:

"I think the old building has a certain meaning and significance to the people of Detroit."

Miriani himself now attending the San Francisco Mayors' convention denied ever making the proposition. He said, "All I did was suggest a citizens committee to study the Old City Hall."

He indicated however that he would be happy if such a committee would recommend removal of the Old City Hall.

Mrs. Wilson M. Mills, a member of the Detroit Historical Commission and president of the historical society, declared:

"We go abroad to look at all the historic things in Europe. Yet here everyone wants to tear down our older buildings. I'm sure other places for parking garages can be found."

Pontiac's Jaycees Eye New Chapter

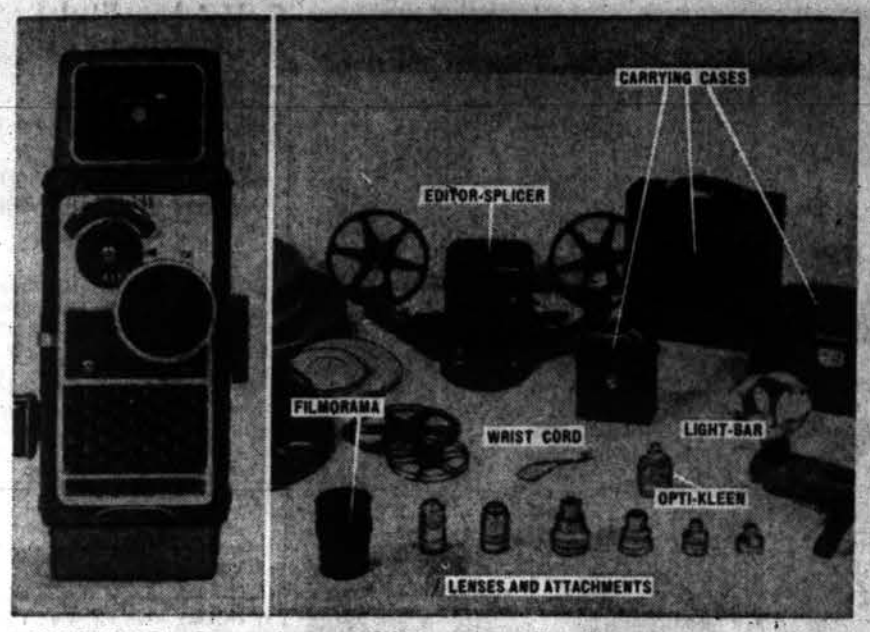

The Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its fourth meeting tonight aimed at establishing a Jaycee chapter in Rochester.

Officers and directors of the newly-formed group will be elected at tonight's meeting to be held at 8 at the Avon Township library in Rochester.

Clyle R. Haskill, a member of the Pontiac Jaycees, encouraged all young men between 21 and 35 to attend this evening's session.

Townships' Plan May Omit Pontiac

Seeking Sewage Solution

Five neighboring townships may seek Oakland County approval this month to plan a sewage disposal system independent of Pontiac.

The townships—Waterford, Avon, Pontiac, Independence and Orion—have been advised by Harold K. Schone, acting director of the county Department of Public Works, to prepare resolutions asking for development of a master sewage plan for the Clinton River basin.

★ ★ ★

Representatives of the five townships, meeting with Schone at the instigation of Waterford Township Supervisor Elmer Johnson, said that such a master plan may solve their sewage problems.

Schone said that the project could be assigned to the DPW by the Board of Supervisors, perhaps this month if formal approval by the individual townships comes in time.

The township resolutions would be presented to the Board of Supervisors via the DPW.

"A sewage system for the Clinton River area is one of the countys biggest necessities. If a plan for this area is developed, it should take in these five townships, plus some smaller fringe areas," Schone said.

Just what part Pontiac could play in the project was uncertain. The city, with its own sewage disposal system, lies in the middle of the proposed drainage district and has indicated from time to time that it may offer sewage treatment services to surrounding areas.

"Naturally, we don't want to plan anything that doesn't take into consideration Pontiac's plans," Schone said. "Pontiac will undoubtedly have a big interest in whatever proposals we make."

However, Schone pointed out, Pontiac so far has offered only to treat sewage for surrounding areas if they provide the pipelines.

"If the DPW designs a sewage system for the areas surrounding Pontiac to the east, north and west, this system will include the whole works—pipelines, interceptors, pumping stations and treatment plan," Schone said.

If the county approves the project, Schone figured, it may take from 10 to 12 months for an initial study, two years to develop final plans and another 30 months for construction.

No cost estimate is available, Schone said.

★ ★ ★

Schone hoped that the system could be planned on the basis of projected populations and would be obliged to provide ultimate capacity for the area.

"It should at least be designed to serve the area's needs until the year 2,000," he said.

Representatives from Michigan State University, which is opening a branch college near Rochester, also conferred with Schone about the plan.

Janitor's 'Lobbying' Costs $1,450

Van Dyke School Officials Under Fire on Fund Use

LANSING (AP)—Financial manipulations by Van Dyke School officials came under fire today after disclosure of expenditures for such items as trips to Washington by a school janitor lobbying for federal aid.

Questionable operations in the Macomb County District were brought to light by the Municipal Finance Commission yesterday. The commission put off approval of a $1,750,000 school bond issue approved by Van Dyke voters last March until it looks into apparent bookkeeping irregularities.

Called before the commission to explain the situation were Clarence Cryderman, president of the district school board, and Max Thompson, school superintendent.

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, commission chairman, cited these discrepancies reported by the superintendent of public instruction.

★ ★ ★

1. In violation of the state school code, district school officials transferred over half a million dollars voted for new construction bond issues to the General Purposes Fund. State records indicated that only about $175,000 has been returned to the construction funds.

9 TRIPS FOR JANITOR

2. Joseph Daylor, described by Thompson as a janitorial employe, collected $1,450 for nine trips to Washington, D.C., between February, 1952, and November, 1955. Thompson said Daylor was sent to "lobby for federal aid among other things."

3. Thompson, Cryderman and one "E. Hawes" drew $400 apiece for a five-day trip to a St. Louis, Mo., convention in February, 1952. All money illegally transferred from construction funds.

4. Attorney's fees and other expenses incurred in the sale of bonds "generally appeared to be high."

5. Invoices, purchase vouchers, records of receipts and reporting of all transactions were incomplete.

HIRED ILLEGALLY

6. Cryderman, now a postal clerk, was hired in 1951 as supervisor of a high school building project while serving as a school board member another school code violation.

★ ★ ★

Thompson, whose district embraces Van Dyke, and parts of Warren and Center Line, told Kavanagh he knew transfer of construction monies to the general purpose fund was illegal, but he added:

"Everything is all right and no wrong has been done, I'm sure of that."

Irregular bookkeeping practices, he said, were almost certainly to blame.

Schools to Get $190 Per Pupil

Despite Tax Shortages State Will Pay All It Promised

EAST LANSING (AP) — Despite predicted shortages in tax collections, Michigan's public schools will get all the state aid the Legislature provided for, a Republican Senate leader promises.

Sen. Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair), GOP caucus chairman and member of the senate education committee, said he didn't know where the money would come from, but declared:

"For the current school year the $190 per pupil will definitely be paid out. The Legislature does have the definite obligation to make good on the $190. You can be assured you will get that much, so you can plan your budgets accordingly."

Beadle's statement touched off a sharp round of applause Monday night from the 150 school superintendents and board members attending a joint conference of state school administrators and school board associates at Michigan State University. Many had expressed concern over how to meet rising school budgets.

★ ★ ★

Beadle did not question an estimate by Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction, that the school aid fund this year may be two to six million dollars short of expected revenue from existing tax sources.

Beadle said the 1958 Legislature must somehow find an additional 40 million dollars or more to maintain 1958-59 school aid payments on the leveled promise in this year's act.

Of that sum, 25 million dollars will be needed to replace current school aid income from cigarette and liquor taxes which expired June 30 and another 14 million to accommodate an expected 70,000 increase in school enrollments.

Shipping Season Ending Dec. 15

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — The Great Lakes shipping season will end Dec. 15 with closing of the last of the Soo locks.

The Coast Guard announced today that the Sabin Lock will be closed tomorrow, leaving only the MacArthur open. The latter is slated to close Dec. 15.

Canada will close its one Soo lock Dec. 14. The U. S. operates four locks here on the rapids of the St. Marys River, which connects lakes Superior and Huron.

Lake Winnebago, with an extreme length of 30 miles and a width of about 10 miles is said to be the largest of Wisconsin's inland lakes.

'My Girl Was Good—That's Why She Died'

Youth Confesses Killing

CHICAGO (AP) — "My girl was a good girl. That's why she is dead."

Thus, in a mother's words, an inquest jury yesterday heard an epitaph for 14 year old Mary Lou Wagner, slain in a lovers lane.

BODY FOUND

Her battered body was found face down in a shallow, frigid pond Monday night 20 miles northwest of Chicago.

Fleig led police to the body. Later, they quoted him as saying that when the girl resisted his advances, "I blew my top and started to hit her."

At the official inquiry yesterday, Mrs. Mildred Wagner, 53, told a story of anxiety which preceded the tragic end of her wait.

SAT IN ROOM

Young Fleig also sat in the crowded inquest room of the Cook County morgue, but did not testify.

He is held without charge during investigation of the girl's death.

The inquest session was attended by the slain girl's sister, Mrs. Carol Ann Young, 21, of Flint, Mich., and her aunt, Mrs. Helen Jelinek, 57, also of Flint.

The inquest was continued to Thursday morning when the jury will receive an autopsy report from the coroner's pathologist.

Fleig, employed in his father's bakery, first was picked up for questioning Saturday after investigators learned he had left a north side sandwich shop with the girl, the night she disappeared. Fleig denied knowing anything about the girl's disappearance in two questioning sessions, police said.

But a recheck of his separate statements showed discrepancies, they said. He was picked up again Monday night and asked to submit to a lie detector test.

As he was being prepared for a session of questioning with the lie detector, police said he suddenly balked and shouted: "I can't take the test. I can't pass it."

★ ★ ★

A short time later, he led police to the girl's body. It was fully clothed.

Fleig told police he had known Mary Lou about two months. Both lived in the same neighborhood on Chicago's North side.

Fleig served two sentences in state training schools for auto thefts. He quit high school two years ago.

WERDEN—WE WISH TO THANK the many friends and relatives for the floral offerings, cards of sympathy and help. Special thanks to Rev. Frank Hemingway and Mrs. Gerald Tilsworth. Also the Baird Funeral Home, and the Rebekah Lodge No. 319, and all branches of the Odd Fellows for their many acts of kindness in the recent bereavement of our husband and father, Walter E. Werden. Mrs. Werden and family.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF JAMES M. Perry, who passed away 2 years ago, Dec. 4, 1955.
Forever with the Lord.
Sadly missed by his Mother, Brother & Aunts.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF JOHN H. Jennings, who passed away Dec. 3, 1954.
Do not ask me how I miss him,
For there is such a vacant place.
Often I think I hear his footsteps
Or I see his smiling face.
For he left me broken hearted.
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they so little know the sorrow
That is in my heart concealed.
Sadly missed by wife, Grace and family.

IN PRECIOUS MEMORY OF OUR dear son and brother Cp. Billy C. Pike who was killed in action in France Dec. 3, 1944. Our star of hope is precious, we call this golden star, it shineth in our sorrow. Our loved one, lost in war. Sadly missed by Mom, Dad and Sister Laurine.

Girard Busted Down to Private

Conviction by Japanese May Mean Undesirable Discharge

CAMP DREW, Japan (AP) — The U.S. Army today broke Specialist 3.C. William S. Girard to buck private and indicated his Japanese manslaughter convictions might also mean an undesirable discharge for him.

★ ★ ★

The homebound GI took the news in stride and scrapped any plans he might have had for a military career after four years of Army service.

★ ★ ★

"I don't think I got a raw deal, and I'm getting out . . . I didn't think I had it coming, but it was legal," Girard said after the Army took its first punitive action against him for the Jan. 30 killing of a Japanese woman scrap scavenger.

★ ★ ★

The Army, which spent an estimated $90,000 on the controversial case, said Girard was demoted under regulations as a result of his conviction in a foreign court. The action cuts his pay from $252.40 a month to $173.90 for the 55 days remaining of his enlistment.

★ ★ ★

A second announcement said Girard will sail for San Francisco with his Japanese wife Friday, and Secretary of the Army Wilber Brucker will determine the type of discharge he gets.

★ ★ ★

An Army spokesman said the three possible discharges for Girard are honorable, general or undesirable. He would not say what the recommendation to Brucker would be.

★ ★ ★

The Army said regulations call for a demotion when a soldier has been convicted by a foreign court and sentenced to more than six months. Officers said Girard probably would not be allowed to reenlist for the same reason.

★ ★ ★

A Japanese court sentenced the Ottawa, Ill., soldier Nov. 19 to three years in prison but suspended the sentence.

Dulles Remark Brings Blushes to Adlai's Face

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was an embarrassing moment for most of those concerned in yesterday's lengthy White House conference on international problems.

As described by one of those who attended, the situation was like this:

President Eisenhower was presiding over discussion of North Atlantic Pact problems. Secretary of State Dulles was explaining the administration's proposals for sharing of nuclear weapons information with Britain and other allies.

★ ★ ★

Adlai E. Stevenson, twice defeated as a Democratic presidential candidate, sat in a corner, silently apart from the Democratic and Republican leaders participating in the conference.

A Republican senator asked how the administration would feel if it shared nuclear weapons information with the British government and suddenly found the Labor party had taken over in that country.

★ ★ ★

That would promote Aneurin Bevan, a Laborite leader, to the post of foreign secretary. Bevan has discounted the Russian menace and has called for a high-level meeting among the United States, Britain and Russia to attack world problems.

The senator, disputing Dulles' opinion that no such change was imminent, said he didn't like Bevan's utterances.

Well, Dulles was quoted as replying, it had been his experience that people out of power make some wild statements but they are sobered by responsibilities.

Eyes turned toward Stevenson, who was said to have blushed furiously. He had attacked both Dulles and Eisenhower in highly critical terms in the 1956 campaign.

★ ★ ★

Suddenly, there was a ripple of laughter from the assembled leaders as Dulles, realizing that protocol had not been served, turned and grinned sheepishly at Stevenson.

Bell Contract Ratified

DETROIT (AP) — The Communications Workers of America formally ratified this week a new 15-month contract reached with Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Nov. 11. Both the company and union have signed.

Boy, 8, Saves Eight Children as Shack Burns

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Ernest Pool, an 8-year-old boy, was in the kitchen of his ramshackle ramshackle home yesterday home yesterday washing dishes and minding eight of his brothers, sisters and cousins.

★ ★ ★

Ernest's mother and aunt were about half a mile away picking cotton.

★ ★ ★

Suddenly the tin pipe extending from the wood stove fell to the floor and fire destroyed the shack.

Beyond the ruins stood nine children, ages 13 months to 8 years, unharmed. Ernest had saved everybody.

★ ★ ★

"I just grabbed them and threw them out," he said.

Mrs. Dorothy Brown, mother of five of the children, and Mrs. Daisy Lee Jons, mother of three, were unaware of what happened until they returned to the ruins.

Mother, 7 Children Die in Home Fire

MARIANNA, Ark. (AP) — Fire started by an overheated wood stove swept through a farmhouse near here and killed a pregnant mother and her seven children.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff Courtney Langston Jr. identified the dead woman as Mrs. J. L. Bowers, 37, wife of a tenant on a farm at nearby Westor. The children ranged in age from 9 to 1.

The sheriff said Bowers had gone out hunting a few hours before the fire broke out.

★ ★ ★

The bodies were all in a bedroom. Langston said apparently the mother awakened and ran to the children's room in an attempt to rescue them, but was overcome and died with them.

Missouri Clod-Hopper Is Boy Wonder at 74

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Homer Croy's an old clod-hopper from Maryville, Mo., who made good on Broadway and in Hollywood at 74.

WILSON

The oldster from the catfish country suddenly finds himself droppin' backstage to say "Howdy" to Ethel Merman. Television, the Theater Guild, and Elsa Maxwell are already discovering he's quaint.

Homer quit plowin' corn to write corn around 1907. His 26th book, "The Lady From Colorado," is to be the theme of what Ethel Merman insists will be her last Broadway show, late next year. Homer was totin' a couple of the books when he went to see Ethel during an intermission of "Happy Hunting."

HOMER

"Gussie one of them books all up for me!" commanded Ethel.

"I never heard that word 'gussie' before," Homer told me later.

He rightly figured she meant for him to autograph it.

Since he also peddled the movie rights for $50,000, Homer knows how it feels to be a boy wonder at 74.

"I thought that was a pretty fair price till I heard some prices other writers got—now I feel like a share-cropper," he said.

This is the second time he's had a smashing success—in 1924 his "West of the Water Tower" sold to Hollywood for $25,000 . . . a record at the time.

A frustrated cowboy and Indian fighter, he was on his way west to write the story of "Sitting Bull"—"kind of an autobiography."

In his old home town, a woman friend spun him a true tale of a young Irish washerwoman who lived in Fort Collins, Colo., in the late 1880s.

★ ★ ★

The washerwoman married a titled British boy attending a ranch school nearby, became truly "The Lady From Colorado," and was presented to Queen Victoria.

"I let 'Sitting Bull' sit and went to Fort Collins to write this one," Homer says.

Homer was the first journalism student in the first journalism school (University of Missouri) but he flunked.

"Advanced Shakespeare," he explains.

Industry Makes Rapid Progress

Nine Stations Already Bringing Programs to Much of Country

By JACK RUTLEDGE

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico, first Latin-American nation to have television, now hopes to be the first to have it beamed to every corner of the country. The goal may be reached within a year.

★ ★ ★

The industry, privately operated, is growing rapidly despite the high cost of sets and the low budgets for productions.

Nine stations bring TV to most of central Mexico, some border sections and part of the Gulf Coast.

A half dozen more will make programs available to virtually every part of the country.

★ ★ ★

There are perhaps 250,000 sets in use.

SETS ARE COSTLY

Because of import duties, the cheapest table model set costs around $200. That is high even for white collar workers who average $60-$100 a month and buy on the installment plan.

★ ★ ★

When television was new, many stars performed just to be on the air. Now they want a little money, too. A little is what they're getting.

One of the top shows stars a gravel-voiced character named Chavillano. His leading men and women get about $12.50 a show, including rehearsals.

Other performers with good parts get $2.50 and $3, and extras are happy to pick up 50 cent or a dollar.

BEAMED FAR AWAY

Some stations are adding retransmitters on nearby mountain peaks to beam programs far away. Such major cities as Veracruz and Tampico depend on such retransmissions.

★ ★ ★

The most popular shows are sports events, musicals, plays, and films, mostly old, and in both Spanish and English. One channel has bought a flock of Italian films.

Mexican technicians are good and show ingenuity in bringing live shows to the public.

★ ★ ★

For example, when President Adolfo Ruiz Cortinez made his annual Independence Day talk in Dolores Hidalgo, 250 miles northwest of the capital, TV crews followed him.

★ ★ ★

Eighty technicians, four mobile units, four microwave units to boost signals over a series of mountains and eight trucks carrying lighting equipment, cables and auxiliary generators were needed.

FROM CITY TO CITY

The signals were microwaved from Dolores Hidalgo to Zamorano where channel 3 retransmitted to Altzomini, located between the old volcanos Popocatepetl and Ixtaccihuatl.

★ ★ ★

There the program was picked up by channel 7 and 9 and beamed to the capital. Channels 2, 4 and 5 broadcost it in Mexico City.

Red Scientific Films on TV Show Sunday

General Motors has announced the showing of official Russian scientific films on next Sunday's Wide Wide World show, on NBC-TV from 4-5:30 EST. (Channel 4).

The films, to be flown to this country from Moscow, will be shown for the first time outside the Soviet Union. They will attempt to show what scientists do in their everyday lives and to spark and develop the scientific thinking of today's youth.

Other highlights of the show will include Dr. Jonas E. Salk, discoverer of the Salk anti-polio vaccine and an interview with the skipper of the U. S. atomic powered submarine, Seawolf.
