'Dems Misuse Poverty Funds'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Republicans today charged "scandalous misuse of funds" in the Johnson administration's war on poverty and demanded a congressional investigation.

Rep. William H. Ayres, Ohio, ranking GOP member of the House Labor Committee, was joined by other Republicans on the panel in his call for an inquiry.

The Republican lawmakers did not produce any detailed evidence to back up their allegations.

They said they relied on widespread news reports of misuse of antipoverty funds.

"We can't find many poor people who have been helped," Ayres told a news conference.

THEY SHOT SUSPECTS — Detective Sgt. J. F. Egger (left) and detective B. L. Bork of the Beverly Hills, Calif., Police Department hold weapons and masks they said were recovered from two men the officers fatally shot in a reported attempt to kidnap Leonard K. Firestone.

Pair Believed Set to Kidnap Industrialist

Deaths End 3 Weeks of Undercover Work for California Officers

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Pistols raised, two men crashed into the home of Leonard K. Firestone last night in an apparent attempt to kidnap the wealthy industrialist. Staked-out police killed both with shotgun blasts.

Cal Bailey, 40, was killed instantly as he attempted to rush into the living room of the palatial home.

George Scalla, 28, fell wounded on the threshold and died three hours later in the prison ward of General Hospital.

They held three guns, but never got a chance to fire a shot.

★ ★ ★

Police said the men may have planned to ask $2 million in ransom.

UNDERCOVER WORK

The deaths ended three weeks of police undercover work, during which the proposed kidnaping was tipped by an undisclosed source. Firestone, 58, was warned to leave the city.

"This has been a very distressing and upsetting thing to have gone through," said the president of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. of Calif. at the home of a friend in San Francisco last night.

He complimented the police for a "thorough, intelligent, masterful job."

★ ★ ★

Capt. John E. Hankins, chief of Beverly Hills detectives, told this sequence of events:

FIRST HINT

First hint of the kidnap came three weeks ago in connection with a burglary that took place in the jurisdiction of the Los Angeles police.

Ten days ago, the tipster disclosed that the intended victim was Firestone, the handsome son of rubber empire founder Harvey S. Firestone.

"I was very much disturbed and concerned," said the industrialist. "I just made up my mind that I would try to work with the police as best I could."

★ ★ ★

Hankins advised him to leave his home on Alpine Drive, a tree-shaded street where millionaires live amid movie stars.

Police officers moved in, along with a policewoman who posed as a domestic to answer the door and phone.

Days passed uneventfully, no unusual phone calls came, no suspicious cars drove by.

The identity of the two suspects was known, and they were known to have long rec-

Weaver LBJ's Cabinet Choice

Expect Senate OK to Be Easier Than in '61

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert C. Weaver appears likely to have an easier task winning Senate approval as the first Negro member of the Cabinet than he did in 1961 as housing administrator.

President Johnson announced yesterday he would nominate Weaver as Secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

Weaver, 58, has been acting head of the new department since its formal creation in November.

As administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, he has directed the agencies now under the new Cabinet department.

Johnson said he would name Robert C. Wood, 42, chairman of the political science department at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, as undersecretary of the new department.

HEADED TASK FORCE

Wood headed a task force that advised Johnson on its organization and functions.

"I am very proud of this team," Johnson said.

The nominations were scheduled to go to the Senate today.

★ ★ ★

The new department — the 11th in the Cabinet — has under its wing the Federal Housing Administration, the Public Housing Administration, the Urban Renewal Administration and the Community Facilities Administration.

NO DECISION

Johnson said no decision has been made on a reported proposal by Wood's task force to move the community action part of the administration's antipoverty program from the Office of Economic Opportunity to the new department.

Johnson, NY Mayor Differ on Settlement

NEW YORK (AP)—The wage package that got New York's transit system back on the track is described by President Johnson as inflationary, but Mayor John V. Lindsay says settlement of the strike was in the public interest.

Johnson criticized the settlement as exceeding the voluntary national wage-price guidelines recommended by government economic advisers to prevent an inflationary spiral.

"I do not believe that any settlement that violates the guideposts to this extent is in the national interest," he said at a news conference yesterday in Washington.

Mayor Lindsay—the man who had been in the middle during the 12-day bus and subway strike that ended yesterday—saw things differently, however.

"I suppose people will argue and debate as to whether the settlement was too high or too low," Lindsay said even before Johnson spoke. "The agreement was best for the workers, the Transit Authority, the city and the country."

★ ★ ★

He said it "obviously serves the public interest."

Old City Form Is Still Legal

Despite a state law setting up new forms, Pontiac can continue to use existing nominating petitions to file for the March 7 primary.

City Clerk Mrs. Olga Barkeley said she has been told that the old forms can be used in conformity with the City Charter.

A conflict arose over which nominating form to use when a new state law took effect Jan. 1, establishing a standard form for nominating petitions.

The new form set by the state is different from the existing petitions required by the charter.

Mrs. Barkeley said she had contacted the office of the state elections director today and was told the old petitions could be used.

She said she asked that the ruling be sent to her in writing.

The question of which petition form to use has been asked by city clerks across the state, said Mrs. Barkeley.

State Elections Director Robert M. Montgomery was to have soliciated the opinion of the state attorney general on the question.

The city's primary is March 7. The deadline for filing nominating petitions is Feb. 15. Voters have until Feb. 7 to register to vote in the primary.

Cong Activity Slows

Fatal Accidents Plague Yanks in Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Viet Cong activity continued on a reduced scale today. Mishaps dogged American forces, but the South Vietnamese reported some successes.

Government militiamen killed 40 Communists in beating off an attack on an outpost near the provincial capital of Quang Ngai, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, scene of repeated Comfunist thrusts.

Casualties among the 100 defenders were reported light.

Two U. S. planes — a two-engine C123 flare ship and an Air Force single-seat Skyraider—collided in the air on an operation in support of Korean ground troops 15 miles northwest of Qui Nhon on the central coast. All seven men on board were killed.

★ ★ ★

The Skyraider crashed into the bigger plane from underneath after pulling out of a strike, a spokesman said:

OTHER MISHAPS

Other mishaps plagued the U. S. Marines in the Da Nang area, resulting in U. S. and Vietnamese casualties.

On the diplomatic front, Saigon awaited with rising interest the arrival Saturday of U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

It was assumed they would try to still misgivings in the South Vietnamese government about President Johnson's peace efforts.

★ ★ ★

There was speculation that Rusk and Harriman would try to assure the Saigon government that the American peace overtures do not mean any lessening of U.S. determination to defend South Viet Nam from Communist aggression.

NEW WARNINGS

The dual visit brought a new round of warnings from Vietnamese officials about the danger of negotiations with the Communists before a military victory over them in the field.

In the Da Nang area, 380 miles northeast of Siagon, two U.S. Marine jets called in by a forward air controller sank four sampans manned by government militiamen in the Thin Yen River, 20 miles southwest of Dan Nang, after being told they were carrying Viet Cong.

Four civilians on the river bank were killed and 16 civilians and five militiamen were wounded.

★ ★ ★

The Marines accepted full responsibility for the mistake, a spokesman said.

16 MARINES DIE

Sixteen Marines were injured, two seriously, when a mortar exploded during a training class at the Chu Lai beachhead 53 miles down the coast.

Testimony Ends in Murder Trial

Testimony was completed yesterday in the first-degree murder trial of a Waterford Township teenager. The case was slated to go to the jury next Tuesday.

The three-day trial of Alan Ross Pearson Jr., 17, closed with Pearson himself giving the main defense testimony elicited by Attorney Clarence Smith.

ALAN ROSS PEARSON JR.

Closing arguments by the prosecution and defense were scheduled for 9 a.m. Tuesday by Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn.

Pearson is standing trial on a murder charge in the stabbing June 27 of Jeffrey Talbot, 17, of 2045 Watkins Lake, Waterford Township.

Defense attorney Smith has centered his case on the premise that Pearson acted in self-defense.

★ ★ ★

The youth testified yesterday that both young Talbot and his father, Dr. Frank G. Talbot, pulled him from the car prior to the fatal fight.

THROUGH WINDOW

Pearson said the doctor stuck his arm through the car window and helped the younger Talbot to pull him from the car.

"When I stood up," said Pearson, "I had the knife in my left hand."

Earlier Pearson testified that the hunting knife had been stuck in a spring under the car seat. He said the handle was sticking out where it could be seen by looking down.

★ ★ ★

Asked why he grabbed the knife, Pearson said, "Because I thought I had had it."

KNIFE THRUST

He claimed he thrust the knife at young Talbot twice after the latter tried to hit him.

Portions of Pearson's testimony conflicted with statements made earlier in the trial by Dr. Talbot. The 43-year-old industrial physician emphatically denied he pulled Pearson from the car.

"'They pulled you out, I saw them,'" Pearson quoted Robert Green, 17, his companion in the

Mall Auto Show to Display About 50 New Models

Spectators at next week's fourth annual Pontiac Mall Auto Show will get the chance to view an estimated 50 new 1966 model cars.

Cochairmen John McAuliffe and Paul Newman indicated the event, to be held from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday, will be the biggest and best ever held on the Mall concourse.

In addition to the new car display, futuristic cars, new equipment and "cutaway" automobiles and engines will be featured, according to Newman.

Salesmen, representing the 10 new car dealerships participating in the show, will be on the floor to answer questions and explain innovations.

★ ★ ★

The show is sponsored jointly by the Pontiac Trade Association and the Mall Merchants Association.

New System May Clear Air

Foundry Pollution Curb Eyed

A method may be near to control smoke and dust from Pontiac Motor Division's foundry, according to division officials.

A new system — the Venturi scrubber — may be the answer to the smoke, dust and soot that is an "old story" in northside neighborhoods near the foundry.

The fourth in a series of meetings on the foundry smoke problem, held last night at City Hall, was attended by a large contingent of citizens, city administrators and City Commissioners.

Frederick T. McDermott, a state health officer invited by State Sen. Carl W. O'Brien, D-Pontiac, supported the contention of Pontiac Motor Division officials that an effective dust control system has not been available until recently.

★ ★ ★

The meeting was called by City Commissioner John A. Dugan to inform citizens of progress made on the air pollution problem.

ASSURED RESIDENTS

John F. Blamy, general manufacturing manager of Pontiac Motor Division, assured residents of the auto firm's "desire to elminiate the foundry smoke problem."

Blamy said various control systems have been under study for the past three years.

Norris Luther, superintendent of plant engineering, detailed some of the equipment studied. He said numerous field trips have been made to study the problem.

★ ★ ★

According to Luther, contact has gone as far as Mexico and Australia in the division's efforts to solve the problem.

FOUR TYPES

He said four types of collectors have been tried in the past three years. He said that until last year there basically wasn't satisfactory collector available.

Luther, however, disclosed that a new system placed in operation on a plant in upper New York State last August may be the answer to Pontiac's smoke problem.

He said the unit is being studied during the winter to see if it is as effective as it has been in moderate weather.

★ ★ ★

Luther said it already has proven successful in warm weather.

INSTALLATION TIME

In a question and answer session, residents of the area objected to Luther's prognosis of 18-24 months to install the new collectors.

McDermott, district engineer for the Division of Occupational Health of the Michigan Department of Health, agreed the installation was "a substantial engineering problem."

Wright C. Cotton, division comptroller, commented, "The key question is the final engineering decision. After that we are in a position to give definite dates."

★ ★ ★

Reacting to a charge that the City Commission had been lax on the pollution problem, Commissioner Dugan said the city has "kept constant pressure on GM."

★ ★ ★

Urging the speedy installation of the new dust control system, if it proves effective, were Sen. O'Brien, area residents, and John B. Maye, president of UAW Local 653.

Temperature to Dip Tonight

Temperatures are expected to plunge to 5 to 15 above tonight aand will continue cold through tomorrow with highs reaching 26 to 33.

There's a chance of some snow by or during tomorrow night. A little warmer with some light snow or rain is the outlook for Sunday.

Twenty-two was the low recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury registered 26 at 2 p.m.

North Viets Using Lull for Rebuilding

ROBERT A. LANDRY

GEORGE GRBA

Announce Candidacy

First 2 Enter City Election

A former Pontiac mayor and an employe of the Oakland County Department of Public Works today became the first to announce they will seek nomination in the March 7 City Commission primary.

Robert A. Landry, who served in 1962-64 as mayor, said he would seek a fourth term as District 7 commissioner.

George Grba, of 28 Kimball, announced he would seek the District 4 nomination.

Grba was an unsuccessful candidate in 1964. He said he currently is circulating his nominating petitions.

Landry, 51, of 47 Center, will try for the District 7 seat he lost to the late Emmett S. Wellbaum in the 1964 election.

NEW APPROACH

In announcing his candidacy, Landry said a new approach was needed to community problems. His statement indicated the city's urban renewal program would be a campaign issue.

He claimed any further expansion of downtown urban renewal would be an injustice to several depressed areas in the city.

Landry is employed as a senior clerk at the Fisher Body Division Livonia Plant, while Grba is chief maintenance inspector with the county DPW.

Vocational Schools Are Proposed

Seven vocational high schools may be in the offing for Oakland County.

The proposal was made last night at a meeting attended by more than 100 local school board members and administrators at North Farmington High School.

Several school officials concurred that it appears the best solution to close the "skill gap" between current curriculum and employers' demands.

Dr. Dana Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac Schools, was one of four education leaders to offer recommendations for future action, following a report of a year-long survey of existing and future requirements for vocational education.

★ ★ ★

Whitmer said that expanding current local high school offerings to train young people would be an inadequate solution.

COUNTY'S SHARE

According to the report given by Dr. Loyal Joos, Oakland Schools director of systematic studies, the county receives only 2.7 per cent of the total state reimbursement for vocational education.

In contrast, the county enrolls 10 per cent of the state public school population, he noted.

The report indicated that 50,000 new jobs will be open in the county in the next nine years.

★ ★ ★

Interviewed were personnel from high schools, businesses, industries and county residents, aged 14-50.

AREAS LISTED

If the plan succeeds, seven vocational high schools would be established in the following areas: Clarkston, Holly and Brandon; Waterford Township, Huron Valley and Walled Lake; Pontiac, Rochester, Lake Orion and Oxford.

Others would include Oak Park, Hazel Park and Ferndale; Birmingham, West Bloomfield, Avondale, Troy and Bloomfield Hills; Clarenceville, Farmington, Southfield, Novi and South Lyon, and Lamphere, Madison Heights Clawson, Royal Oak and Berkley.

Johnson Expects Few to Oppose Tax Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he detects "a minimum of opposition" to his proposal to restore excise tax cuts on cars and phone bills.

"I think most of the legislators would prefer receiving revenues in this form than revenues in new taxes on corporations and individuals," Johnson told a news conference at the White House yesterday.

Amid a burst of criticism from congressmen over his tax proposals announced in Wednesday night's State of the Union message, Johnson said he had sounded out sentiment in advance and "I did not detect overwhelming resistance to it."

However, the world's two biggest corporations, General Motors and American Telephone & Telegraph, expressed displeasure today with the President's proposal.

★ ★ ★

GM said restoration would be "unfortunate." AT&T said it "regretted" the President's proposals but recognized the nation's need for additional revenues.

WILL ACCEPT

Much of the business community, however, appeared to accept the tax proposals set forth in the President's State of the Union address Wednesday night.

James M. Roche, president of General Motors Corp., termed the proposal to restore the level of auto excise taxes "very unfortunate."

A spokesman for American Telephone & Telegraph Co. said the firm regretted the President's proposals, but added: "It should be pointed out that telephone service would be the only utility so taxed.

★ ★ ★

However, we fully recognize our country's needs for added revenues at this critical time and some of the problems involved in recommending appropriate legislation."

Lines to China Being Fixed

Priority Is Given to Rail, Bridge Links

WASHINGTON (AP) — The North Vietnamese are using the bombing lull to rebuild railroad lines and bridges over which war gear has flowed from Red China, it was learned today.

Aerial reconnaissance indicates that the Reds are giving priority in reconstruction to rail links reaching northwest and northeast from Hanoi into Communist China.

★ ★ ★

These rail lines and bridges were pounded heavily by U.S. fighter bombers for about three or four months before the strikes were halted three weeks ago.

The northwest line had been pretty well knocked out and the northeast leg nearly so, sources said.

WORKING HARD

Now, the Reds are working hard to repair those lines and bridges while they are free of attack.

Another area where communication lines are being rebuilt lies above the demarcation border separating Communist North Viet Nam from South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

There was no clear explanation as to why this sector should be getting priority attention in repair work.

But it was suggested the Communists may be trying to get this route back in shape to reduce reliance on certain roads passing through Laotian territory being worked over by U.S. warplanes.

SCOUTING DENIED

Despite official denials, it is known that American reconnaissance planes range over North Viet Nam during this lull period at both high and low altitudes.

Among other things, the photo reconnaissance has detected the rebuilding of storage facilities, the patching up of roads and an increase in vehicular traffic on the infiltration routes.

★ ★ ★

There has been no indication as yet that the Communists are taking advantage of the lull to regroup or intensify their antiaircraft defenses.

One interesting development, still being evaluated, involves a surface-to-air missile site in the Hanoi area.

BACK TO FARM

Photographs show that this site has been returned to farming uses.

Although the antiaircraft missiles used by the North Vietnamese have been relatively unsuccessful in downing U.S. planes, there are no indications thus far that the Soviets may be supplying a more advanced weapon called the SA3.

★ ★ ★

Some officials believe the SA3, which has a better capability to deal with low level air attacks, may ultimately show up in North Viet Nam.

The North Vietnamese evidently have made no effort during the lull to add to their fleet of Soviet-built MIG jet fighters.

NO CHALLENGE

About 60 MIGs, mostly early models, are based at the Phuc Yen base northwest of Hanoi. Although some have been seen in the air during U.S. attacks, the Red pilots have made no attempt to challenge American warplanes for months.

Birmingham Area News

High School Societies Revived as Court Issue

BIRMINGHAM — The board of education's ban on high school sororities and fraternities may be tested in Oakland County Circuit Court after all.

★ ★ ★

Nearly two years have passed since 12 girls were suspended from Birmingham high schools for admitting membership in TAE.

The parents of the girls filed a suit aginst the school board which would have been a test case of the constitutionality of a state statute forbidding secret socieites in public schools.

The landmark decision is yet to be rendered.

★ ★ ★

Standing between the case and its day in court is the possibility that the question is moot and litigation should be dismissed.

ALL GRADUATED

Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem told attorneys last month that the question apparently had been resolved since all of the girls affected have graduated from high school.

The board of education 22 months ago decided to refrain from disciplining the girls until a Circuit Court decision was handed down.

Attorneys Bethel Kelley and Frederick Colombo are seeking to have a current student replace Kelley's daughter Nancy in the case.

★ ★ ★

A petition for intervention has been filed in behalf of Jeanette Stark, a Seaholm High School junior.

★ ★ ★

Jeanette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stark Jr., 20810 W. 14 Mile, Bloomfield Township, would like to be a member of TAE, according to the attorneys.

Kelley said the school board was asked if the organization still is considered illegal.

It is, and the girl could be punished for joining, was the reply.

★ ★ ★

The suit is a friendly one, with both sides anxious for an answer, Kelley said.

WANT ANSWER

"We want to get this settled once and for all," he said. "There is a very strong desire on our part to have the thing determined without subjecting anyone to any undue threat of punishment."

Hearing on whether Jeanette will be allowed to enter the case will be held Jan. 24.

If the suit itself does get to court, the judge will be asked to decide whether the organization is a secret society within the meaning of the law and whether that law is constitutional.

★ ★ ★

The case originally was filed before Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero, who died last June.

car, as stating as the duo left the fight scene.

★ ★ ★

Green's earlier testimony supported Pearson's contention.

MET ON LAKE

Pearson related in his testimony a confrontation with young Talbot earlier in the same day while both were piloting boats on Watkins Lake.

He quoted the victim as telling him, "You know you got 10 guys looking for you." Pearson said Talbot pointed his finger at him and reeled off the names of the alleged "guys."

In cross-examination by Assistant Prosecutor Bernard Paige, Pearson revealed he had had some training in judo.

★ ★ ★

He admitted throwing a railroad spike out of the car prior to going to the Pontiac State Police Post with Green to turn himself in.

NO WEAPON

Pearson also admitted to Paige that he saw no weapon in Talbot's hands and that no one else touched him after he was out of the car.

Paige yesterday offered as evidence a handwritten statement by Pearson detailing the stabbing.

Earlier in the trial, the prosecution received a setback when a verbal statement allegedly made by Pearson was ruled inadmissible as evidence.

1,000 Marines to Go to Gitmo

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The defenses of Guantanamo Bay Naval Base in Cuba will be strengthened this month by the addition of about 1,000 Marine fighting men, it was disclosed today.

The Marine Corps said the replacement will "not materially increase the number of personnel" at the base, but added that the new outfit will "become the nucleus of the ground defense mission" at Guantanamo.

The outfit is the 2nd Battalion, 8th Marine Regiment, commanded by Lt. Col. Russell L. Silverthorn at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

This battalion was described as "at reduced strength," which would be about 1,000 men. A Marine battalion normally is 1,200 men.

Pontiac Man Arrested in Knife Slaying

Pontiac police today were questioning a 25-year-old man in connection with a knife slaying in a bar yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Held for investigation in the death of Jessie Anderson, 20, of 168 Crestwood is Eugene F. Douglas, 494 Bloomfield.

Douglas was taken into custody by police late yesterday afternoon as he was making a call in a telephone booth on Sanford.

Anderson was killed during a fight in Harry's Bar, 568 S. Sanford, shortly after midnight.

★ ★ ★

He was cut several times around the face and neck and suffered deeper wounds in the chest and shoulder.

No Guarantee by OCC Board

Oakland Community College trustees concurred last night that no lifetime guarantee could be made banning use of the newly established administration building as an instructional facility.

★ ★ ★

The board had been requested by nearby residents to certify "administration use only" of the building on Opdyke near Hickory Grove, Bloomfield Hills.

Indications were that the pending Circuit Court suit filed by residents which alleged violation of zoning and deed restrictions, might be dropped if the board agreed to the guarantee.

Board members, however, decided against the guarantee after being advised by the college's attorneys that such action was illegal because it would bind future boards.

★ ★ ★

The college contends that it has not violated zoning or deed restrictions in moving into the former Palmer-Bee building last month.

'VERY VAGUE'

Attorneys for the college termed the complaint filed in behalf of the residents as "very vague" and have filed a motion asking that the complaints be clarified in a revised motion.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, the City of Bloomfield Hills continues to threaten legal action against the college, contending that the zoning for the site reverted back to single family residential when sold to the college.

★ ★ ★

It had been used as an office facility by Palmer-Bee under a nonconforming zoning agreement between the city and George Bee.

To Introduce Bill Seeking Funds for OU

A bill seeking an additional $250,000 to buy books for Oakland University's library will be introduced by State Rep. Robert J. Slingerlend, D-Lake Orion at Monday night's meeting of the House.

★ ★ ★

"This amount will cover the purchase and cataloging of approximately 35,000 books," said Slingerlend.

OU's Kresge Library, as of June 30, 1965, was 75 per cent below the national standard, according to the American Library Association.

Verner Clapp, of the Council on Library Resources, lists the library's deficiency as 32 per cent, or 38,000 volumes, short according to Council standards.

★ ★ ★

OU's book collection numbers 80,272, stated Floyd Cammack, librarian.

STORED IN BASEMENT

"We have 7,000 volumes stored in the basement," said Cammack, "because we do not have the money to pay for the labor to process them.

"A new library in a new school requires over-average support to get started."

A similar request for OU library aid was rejected by Michigan legislators in June.

Poverty War Post Accepted

George H. Wilhelmi, assistant director of Pontiac's urban renewal program, disclosed today that he would accept the anti-poverty post offered him Wednesday.

The 39-year-old Wilhelmi was named director of the South Oakland Community Action Center of the Oakland County Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), effective Jan. 31.

The city official said his only reservation on the OEO appointment had been that the job of director was bigger than the post for which he had applied.

"I sought more details and clarification of the director's responsibilities and duties," said Wilhelmi.

Joining the city's urban renewal department in April 1963, Wilhelmi was named assistant director Jan. 20, 1964.

His $10,000-a-year salary will remain the same in his new job, he said.

Wilhelmi said he would submit his resignation today, effective Jan. 28.

DALE A. WINNIE

County Leader Named for 1966 Michigan Week

Dale A. Winnie, 135 Chewton, Bloomfield Township, has been appointed Oakland County chairman of Michigan Week for 1966.

This year's observance of Michigan Week is scheduled for May 15-21.

★ ★ ★

Winnie, a patent attorney in Birmingham, is president of the Oakland Citizens League and has served on the executive committee of the Oakland County Republican Party.

County School Board Seeks $20,000 Grant

The Oakland Schools Board of Education yesterday authorized the administration to apply for a $20,000 federal grant to conduct a study of instructional materials needs in local districts.

The study would be in conjunction with Title II of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 which provides funds for books and other instructional materials.

2 Killed in Plot on Firestone

ords of burglary, robbery and robbery with violence.

★ ★ ★

All attempts to locate them for surveillance failed.

PHONE CALL

At 6 o'clock last evening the telephone rang. The policewoman, Barbara Ezell, told the male caller that Mr. Firestone could not come to the telephone. The caller hung up.

At 6:20 a black 1965 Ford drove into the semicircular driveway and stopped in front of the door.

Policewoman Ezell gazed through the peephole and saw two large men emerge from the car.

★ ★ ★

One wore a Halloween mask over his face and carried a gun in one hand and a sack containing adhesive tape in the other. He was later identified as Bailey.

SURGICAL GLOVES

Scalla wore a hat pulled down on his face and carried a gun in each hand. Both men wore surgical gloves.

The doorbell rang and Miss Ezell asked, "Who's there?"

"Parcel post, ma'am," came the reply.

Behind Miss Ezell stood three veteran Beverly Hills policemen: Lt. B. L. Cork, Sgt. Jack Egger and Det. Jack Mourning. They were armed with two shotguns and a pistol.

OPENED DOOR

Egger motioned Miss Ezell out of the room. Then he reached for the knob and jerked open the door.

"They moved in fast and saw us," Cork said later. "Bailey raised his gun and pointed it at us. In my opinion, they were prepared to shoot us. We shot first."

It was all over in two shotgun blasts and three pistol shots.

★ ★ ★

Bailey's wallet contained a cryptic note that may have indicated the high stakes the two gunmen were aiming for.

★ ★ ★

On a fragment of blue paper were written the calculations: 200,000 times 10 equals 2,000,000 and 20 times 400,000 equals 8,000,000.

Police theorized that Bailey and Scalla may have been aiming for ransom in the millions.

Also in Bailey's wallet was a slip of paper on which was written Firestone's telephone number.

★ ★ ★

In the car were another pair of gloves, a rope, blanket, another mask, a 7mm rifle and ammunition.

SAN FERNANDO VALLEY

Bailey and Scalla were both from the nearby San Fernando Valley.

The case did not necessarily end with the deaths of the two men.

Hankins said police were still investigating the possibility that others were involved in the kidnap attempt.

★ ★ ★

Firestone, a personable man who has been active in civic affairs since moving here in 1943, lived alone in the modern, white-stucco house.

Rio Death Toll Climbs to 355

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — The death toll in the Rio de Janeiro disaster climbed to 355 today, and many more bodies were believed buried in the mud and debris left in the wake of the worst rains in the city's 400-year history.

★ ★ ★

A total of 185 deaths were confirmed in the city and another 170 in Rio de Janeiro state, including 100 in the mountain resort of Petropolis, 26 miles north of the city.

★ ★ ★

Many more were feared dead in isolated areas.

Doctors and attendants at the city morgue worked around the clock trying to identify bodies brought in.

MOST SUFFOCATED

"Most were suffocated in landslides," said Dr. Ivan Ferreira. "Many had broken spines and legs."

"The children were the hardest hit. The little ones drowned in as little as a few centimeters of water. Others were unable to withstand even minor slides and were dragged away."

★ ★ ★

Most of the dead came from the Favela shantytowns on Rio's hillsides. They were brought in by the truckload. Hampered by frequent power failures, doctors performed autopsies on each body.

★ ★ ★

Many families did not have the money to buy coffins or pay for burial. Radio and television stations broadcast frequent appeals to undertakers for donations of coffins and asked cemetery officials to waive burial fees for the poor.

Authorities estimated at least 4,000 were homeless in the city and another 10,000 in the state.

An undetermined number of persons was killed Thursday when a huge mud slide roared off a hillside in Rio, buried two houses, two trucks and four floors of a seven-story apartment house.

★ ★ ★

Eight bodies were recovered, but many more were believed buried.

The rains, which started Monday, tapered off to a drizzle during the night.

A massive inoculation campaign was under way to prevent epidemics.

Nearly 50 U.S. Peace Corps volunteers were helping in rescue work. Warren Fuller, Peace Corps director in Brazil, said all of the volunteers were safe and in good health.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Embassy said more than 60 tons of foodstuffs were distributed.

Kelley Calls for Police Salary Drive

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley called Thursday for a three-point program to increase police salaries.

Kelley told a conference of Michigan police chiefs that:

Each community should increase its financial commitment to police.

—Police departments should be relieved of non-crime fighting activities such as bicycle registration, parking meter patrols and finding lost animals.

—A program of state salary aid should be developed and related to local contributions.

USUAL RESPONSE

Kelley declared that "resistance, timidity, delay and shortsightedness" too often greet requests for public support to fight crime.

"The citizen who nods his head in silent approval while, with lightning speed, we approve the spending of billions of dollars for emergency defense programs, often expresses dismay if we ask for modest sums of money to assure reasonable police salaries or to bring crime detection and police technology into the second half of the 20th century."

★ ★ ★

Kelley continued, "At the very same time he is voicing his opposition to these expenditures, he is continuing to complain about the impact of crime upon his community and his life."

Kelley said police salaries should be increased by up to 5 per cent in metropolitan areas and up to 20 per cent in some outstate areas.

Asks if Tax Break Applies to Co-ops

LANSING (AP) — House Speaker Joseph Kowalski asked the attorney general Thursday to rule whether residents of cooperative housing units are entitled to senior citizen property tax relief.

★ ★ ★

Kowalski said some assessors have turned down such applicants because the resident does not hold title to his particular dwelling unit. He instead holds a share in an association which holds over-all title.

Kowalski said it was the intent of the legislature to provide tax relief for such persons.

Teachers Pick Agent

FRASER (AP) — In an unopposed election, Fraser teachers voted Thursday to have the Fraser Education Association represent them in bargaining with the school board. The vote was 151-2.

'Farmington Hills' Leads Poll

News of the Area

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—Residents of the township not only are giving serious thought to the possibility of converting the unit to a city — they're also wondering what that city would be called.

"What's in a name?" township officials asked in an informal questionnaire distributed to the township's 12,000 voters early this month.

They've been deluged with answers.

More than 1,500 responses have been mailed to the Township Hall, and more are coming in daily.

★ ★ ★

"Farmington Hills" is on top of the heap with 490 votes.

NEXT FOUR

The next four in order are Farmington Woods, 207; Farmington Heights, 201; Quakertown, 168; and Wood Creek Farms, 56.

But these were among the official suggestions.

Real ingenuity is being shown among the write-in contenders.

Many residents have yielded to the temptation of that line on the questionnaire that says "Other name you would prefer . . ."

WIDE RANGE

In their desire to be creative, they've come up with ideas ranging from the exotic to the eccentric.

Many are historical.

The largest group consists of names referring to the Quaker settlers of the area, like Quaker Farms, Quaker Heights, Quaker Orchards and Quaker Village.

Or Quakertown, Quakertown Farm, Quakertown Hills, Quakertown Woods and Quakerwood.

★ ★ ★

Some pay homage to Arthur Power, who led the Quakers here. These are Powersburg, Powerscity, Powersdale and Powerston.

INDICATE PREFERENCE

While there already is a City of Farmington right under their noses, a few township residents indicate a preference for that name.

Or they embellish it a bit by adding words like Acres, Farms, Meadows, Orchards, Valley or Centerland.

Other place-oriented names are Oakland, Orchard Lake Heights, Orchard Farms, Oakland Hills, Franklin Hills and Kensington.

Some used one of the area's telephone exchanges — Mayfair and Mayfair Hills.

STREET NAMES

Streets also lent inspiration—Freedom, Larkshire and Wellington.

Subdivision names frequently pop up — Coventry, Foresthills, Glen Oaks, Kendallwood, Kimberley, Meadowbrook Hills, Normandy, and Woodbrooke, among them.

Two voters thought Ajalon, the Biblical city of hearts, would fit the proposed municipality.

Another offered Cairnsville, and Township Clerk Floyd Cairns swears he had nothing to do with it.

PRESIDENTIAL TOUCH

While Farmington Township has no Pedernales River, two persons suggested Johnson City.

How about IV Farms? The contributor noted this refers to Farmington's past as the fourth gate, or fourth stop between Detroit and Lansing.

Along those lines is Botsford, the name of the inn built for travelers of the frontier era.

In the descriptive category are Picturesque City, Progress, Rolling Hills City, Scenic City and Scenery.

GET TWO VOTES

Also receiving one or two votes are Barrington, Beaumont, Burlingame, Farmville, Glendale, Kent, Kingsley, Scottsdale, Staford, Westwood, Wilmington, Woodcreek Hills, Woodcrest, Woodhaven, Winchester and Worthington.

Suggestions on the official list which now appear to be out of the running are North Farmington, Clarenceville and Farmington Township.

Voters eventually may or may not decide to incorporate the township as a city.

The second meeting of the committee studying the proposal will be held at 8 p.m. Monday at East Junior High School, 2500 Middle Belt.

CHARTER COMMISSION

If incorporation is approved, a nine-member charter commission will have among its chores the choosing of a name for the unit.

★ ★ ★

Not bound by the current survey, the charter drafters "certainly would have to take the wishes of the people into consideration," Township Supervisor Curtis H. Hall noted.

Hallsville? Hall Meadows? Hallsfield? Hallston? Curt City? . . .

Pontiac Press Photo

HOW'S IT LOOK?—Now firmly in the lead in Farmington Township's name-the-city survey is "Farmington Hills." Here trying the name on for size is Township Supervisor Curtis H. Hall. Officials are pleased with the number of responses they've received to their questionnaire. While "Farmington Hills" has been favored by 490 voters, there also has been a deluge of other intriguing—not to mention amusing—suggestions.

Attendance at Area Park Tops Region

Dodge No. 4 State Park on Cass Lake led all the state parks and recreation areas in southeastern Michigan in attendance in 1965, according to Alfred Masini, southeastern district director.

★ ★ ★

Although it is among the smallest of the state parks in the district, some 400,000 persons used the swimming, picnicking and boating facilities in the lakeside park last year.

The Rochester-Utica Recreation Ara ranked second in attendance with a total of 375,000 visitors.

The Holly Recreation Area took third place with an attendance of 300,000.

★ ★ ★

The Proud Lake Recreation Area near Milford accommodated the largest number of campers, with 5,000 utilizing the area's 180 modern campsites. Another 1,000 were turned away, Masini said.

IMPROVEMENTS

Improvements completed at Proud Lake last summer included a new sanitation station and blacktopping of roads throughout the campground.

A new camper registration building is presently under constuction and will be ready for use in the spring, Masini reports.

Construction of a new office, shop and storage building in the Holly Recreation area is due to begin soon.

★ ★ ★

A $100-million state park expansion program is scheduled for completion by 1975.

For Lake Orion District

State OKs Remedial Reading Program

LAKE ORION — The school district has been given the green light on its plan to set up a remedial reading program for educationally deprived children.

★ ★ ★

The project, approved by the State Department of Education, will be financed through funds provided under Title I of the Secondary - Elementary Education Act of 1965.

The amount granted to the district is based on the number of children found to be educationally and culturally deprived.

Based on 166 such children, the district will receive $39,564. Pupils who are reading two grades below what they should be will participate in the program.

★ ★ ★

The classes are scheduled to start next month.

COOPERATIVE PROGRAM

The board of education has also approved a $4,000 budget appropriation to establish for the first time next year a cooperative education program.

★ ★

Under this program, about 20 students will work part time and attend school part time.

After the program is established, the state will reimburse the school district for 25 per cent of the initial cost.

Area Lad Starts Duty as a Page in State House

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Cadet William Smith, 13, of Clarkston Composite Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, began his duties as a page in Michigan's House of Representatives Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

The son of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith of 6360 Eastlawn, Smith was recommended by Rep. Francis A. Crowley, D-Clarkston.

★ ★ ★

He will serve as a page four days a week while the House is in session, returning to Clarkston Mondays to attend school.

While in Lansing, Smith will continue his studies in the evening with a tutor.

Liquor Sale Issue on Ballot in Milford

MILFORD — A proposal to permit the sale of liquor by the glass in Milford will be on the March 14 village ballot.

A petition calling for the vote was submitted to Village Clerk Margaret Knight this week. The petition carried 251 valid signatures, she said.

★ ★ ★

The proposal was defeated by a two-vote margin in 1962, the last time it was considered. The official vote, determined by a recount, was 506-504.

The question can be placed on the ballot every four years.

Troy Tower Overflows to Flood Intersection

TROY — The water tower at Crooks and Big Beaver overflowed this morning, flooding the intersection.

★ ★ ★

Police said County Road Commission trucks were called in to salt the area so the water would not freeze. They said the flooding caused no accidents.

Contracts Let in Utica for Study of Proposed Renewal Project

UTICA — A study of the city's proposed urban renewal project has moved forward another step with the City Council's approval to let several contracts.

Urban Renewal Director Stanley Swierczynski was given permission to let contracts for fixture appraisals, property acquisition studies, studies of property utilization and land reuse appraisals.

The contracts are expected to total about $14,000.

The proposed project involves 17½ acres of the central business district and would cost about $1.3 million. Of this amount, the city would furnish about $340,000 and the federal government the rest.

The study portion of the project is being financed by an $80,000 federal grant.

★ ★ ★

The council has also asked the Detroit Edison Co. to relocate its utility poles on Hahn Street, east of Van Dyke because of the proposed improvement of the Utica drain there.

City Clerk Eunice Kopietz said the poles are not uniformly located. She said the council is asking that the poles be realigned to within one foot of the south property line on Hahn.

Church Group Plans Event

TROY — The Women's Association of Northminister Presbyterian Church, 3633 W. Big Beaver, will start the new year's activities with a luncheon program at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Guest speaker will be Rev. Jack Angerman, assistant minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

Reservations may be made until Sunday by calling Mrs. Jay VanZoeren, 937 Rock Spring, Bloomfield Township, or Mrs. Charles Lewitt, 1411 Dorchester, Birmingham.

Stiles PTA Will See Film on Modern Math

AVON TOWNSHIP — A film entitled "The Need for Modern Math" will be shown at the Stiles School PTA meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Modern math teachers Mrs. Doris Miles and Elizabeth Ladue will conduct a question and answer period after the film.

No Refrigeration Needed

MSU Scientist Develops Sterilized Milk

EAST LANSING (AP) — A Michigan State University scientist has a supply of milk that he says will keep for up to two months at temperatures as high as 90 degrees, or six months in the refrigerator.

Dr. H. I. Hedrick hopes some day that the housewife and the grocery store will be able to handle and store fresh-tasting whole milk as easily as canned goods and without a significant price increase.

He also hopes that the new style milk will boost milk sales by allowing use of milk in areas where refrigeration is difficult or impossible, or even areas where fresh water is scarce.

But the sterilized milk being developed at MSU is not quite ready for the housewife. Some sterlized milk is sold commercially now, but is not yet commercially important, Hedrick said.

★ ★ ★

One of the problems, he said, is coming up with sterilized milk that doesn't taste like sterilized milk.

Not that MSU's sterilized milk tastes bad. Hedrick gave a newsman some samples, some of them as old as one month standing at room temperature.

As Hedrick put it, though "people who had fresh milk wouldn't drink this."

Sterilization is a difficult process. MSU researchers now are seeking a cooking time and temperature that will kill all bacteria in the milk, yet have a minimum effect on its flavor.

★ ★ ★

Beyond that, any air that comes in contact with the milk must be sterile and the package must be sterile, too.

PAPER CARTONS

MSU is putting its milk into the ordinary paper cartons seen on grocery shelves.

"It's very difficult to sterilize paper," Hedrick explained. "It's limited by how much heat treatment it will take."

Glass containers are tricky to work with, too, since there is a danger of breaking, he said. Cans are the easiest to sterilize.

Hedrick does not view sterilized milk, even at its best, as a replacement for fresh milk.

TOTAL USAGE

It should increase total usage of milk, he said. For example, family which runs out of milk on the weekend, rather than having to go without milk, could turn to a sterilized supply in the cupboard.

Or persons who don't buy cream or whipping cream because they would not use it fast enough to prevent spoilage could buy sterilized products, he suggested.

Stores and delivery trucks would find handling easy because refrigeration would not be needed, he added, and this could cut costs.

Sterilized milk also could go to such places as the front lines in Viet Nam, Hedrick said.

MILK JUDGES

Experienced milk judges rate milk taste on a scale which lists 45 as perfect. Most milk in the stores would rate between 38 and 40, Hedrick said.

Sterilized milk has been rated as high as 38½, he added.

Dry whole milk, he said, does not compare in flavor with fresh milk. The flavor of the water used in reconstituting the dry milk has an effect, too, said Hedrick.

A tasting panel of 150 persons in Detroit, chosen to represent a cross-section of the adult population, tried some samples of sterlizied milk from MSU last year.

SATISFACTORY

"The results were reasonably satisfactory," Hedrick said, "but we still want to improve on this milk some more."

MSU's sterilized milk comes in flavors, too — chocolate and cherry-vanilla.

"The flavored milk has come out very well," Hedrick said, but, again, he still sees room for improvement.

★ ★ ★

Would this country's first men on the moon be likely to take along sterilized milk?

That's possible, said Hedrick but until rocket ships are a bit bigger, the astronauts probably will stick to concentrated foods.

'Sukarno Trying to Outflank Military Chiefs and Restore His Mastery of Indonesia'

LONDON (AP) — President Sukarno appears to be maneuvering to outflank Indonesia's military leaders and restore his mastery of Indonesia, Western diplomats in London say.

★ ★ ★

The diplomats report that Sukarno has teamed up with Deputy Premiers Subandrio, Leimena and Chaerul Saleh to strengthen his hand against Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, the defense minister, who is generally regarded as Indonesia's real ruler now.

★ ★ ★

The diplomats listed these key maneuvers in the last two weeks:

—Sukarno kept Subandrio in control of Indonesia's central intelligence agency despite demands for his dismissal.

OPERATIONS COMMAND

—The president kept his own men as advisers to—or members of — KOTI, the supreme operations command and the country's top policy-making body. Nasution, however, is KOTI's deputy commander for military affairs.

★ ★ ★

—Sukarno ordered his own 100-man political cabinet to launch economic and other measures without army approval. This may boomerang to the army's advantage since the decrees have sent prices soaring, touching off daily demonstrations against Subandrio and Saleh.

—Sukarno restored several Communist sympathizers to influential posts.

★ ★ ★

Embassy sources in Jakarta agree that Sukarno's once-dominant position has slipped and he now rules in name only. But they note that he has clung to enough power to avoid ouster and to resist army pressure for him to name Nasution vice president.

U.S. diplomats say as many as 200,000 Communists and sympathizers may have been killed in the bloodbath which Moslem villagers and the army unleashed over much of Indonesia after the abortive coup on Oct. 1.

LBJ Envisions Great Gains in State of Union Message

The State of the Union message delivered by President JOHNSON Wednesday evening to the Congress and a nationwide TV audience was a blend of optimistic assessment of the past year, a firm enunciation of proposals for new and expanded social measures at home and abroad and a determination to pursue the Nation's Viet Nam involvement to an honorable conclusion.

JOHNSON

There were few bases left untouched or issues skirted in the President's 5,000-word hour-long report.

★ ★ ★

Domestic proposals covered plans to combat urban crime and the creation of a new department of transportation with cabinet rank.

Also asked for were laws to provide Negroes more equality in the courts and access to housing; and appropriations to push on with health and educational programs enacted last year and to expand the antipoverty program.

LBJ envisioned Federal involvement in programs aimed at rebuilding slum areas in cities and elimination of stream pollution. He would also launch an all-out attack on highway slaughter.

★ ★ ★

Labor was given a pat on the back when JOHNSON again recommended the repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act (the section that permits states to enact right-to-work laws). The repeal passed the House during the last session of Congress but became stymied in the Senate.

A proposal that won resounding applause from the Congressional audience would increase the term of representatives from two to four years. The issue is not a new one, having had the blessing of former Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy. Its pros and cons are about evenly divided, with a good chance that it will pass.

Looking abroad, the President asked for "a new, daring direction to our foreign aid program with help to nations trying to control population growth," and expanded trade with the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe.

★ ★ ★

JOHNSON had little to offer on Viet Nam except to detail the administration's efforts to bring North Viet Nam to the conference table with the object of initiating a ceasefire and negotiating a workable peace.

The fiscal status of the government as seen by the Chief Executive reflected optimism — too much of it, we think. Although the 1967 budget is pegged at a record $112.8 billion, revenue is projected to so increase that the deficit would be held to $1.8 billion.

The President spoke well, better than on some of his previous TV appearances, and appeared to be sound and healthy. As master of the U. S. Ship of State, he has our best wishes for a wise and resultful voyage in the year ahead.

Mongol Moguls Make Genghis Khan Outcast

Word comes from Outer Mongolia that, for reasons best known to Communist theoreticians, that country's sole claim to fame—GENGHIS KHAN—is being given the de-Stalinization treatment.

The official Communist journal describes him as a reactionary and an aggressor. Most serious charge of all is that he fostered a "cult of personality."

As everyone knows, you can't hardly do a worse thing than that.

WE have learned that "All that goes up is certarin to come down" isn't true of satellites, and many fear that it soon may not be true of prices.

Lot More Guns, Bit More Butter

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Probably no president ever has avowed more firmly the policy of guns with butter.

"We will not permit those who fire on us in Viet Nam to win a victory over the desires and intentions of the American people," President Johnson promised Congress Wednesday night.

But there were strong hints, in the next 5,000 words of his State of the Union message, that — as far as federal spending goes — the country will get a lot more guns and only slightly more butter.

Johnson made clear his view that, while the nation can afford a record $112.8 billion budget in fiscal 1967, it cannot afford the costlier spread called inflation.

★ ★ ★

So if it was a guns-and-butter message, it also was an anti-inflation message — an elaborately pieced together plan for keeping prices in reasonable restraint while waging a war, without sacrificing homefront progress and without imposing a general tax increase which might precipitate a recession.

FIRE EXTINGUISHERS

To prevent an overheating of the economy in the military buildup phase of 1966, Johnson proposed some fiscal fire extinguishers.

One is an apparently rigorous downhold on domestic spending. He said that while the outlays for Viet Nam will climb another $5.8 billion next year, all other federal spending will rise only $600 million.

Johnson reassured those who feared that his "Great Society" programs would come under the ax, saying "I believe we can continue the Great Society while we fight in Viet Nam." But some programs, he admitted, will suffer.

★ ★ ★

Whatever his budget cuts may prove to be, they cannot cushion the strongly inflationary pressure of an arms program on top of a boom.

SPECIAL ACTIONS

So Johnson called also for three special tax actions — quickie, one-shot doses of anti-inflation medicine, to cool the spending fever of industry and consumers during the build-up period.

- Rescind temporarily the telephone and auto excise tax cuts that took effect 13 days ago.
- Alter the income tax withholding system. Instead of withholding 14 per cent from all paychecks, scale the rate up to, say 20 per cent, for higher-paid taxpayers.
- Speed up corporation tax payments — not increasing the amount to be paid, but collecting more of it in 1966.

Johnson has served notice: If his plan doesn't work, he'll come back for something more drastic— more military appropriations and a real tax increase.

James Marlow, who usually writes this column is ill.

—And Then After That—

David Lawrence Says:

LBJ Omitted Key Facts in Talk

WASHINGTON — What President Johnson told the American people in his address to Congress Wednesday night was only part of the story that affects their pocketbooks and their future.

LAWRENCE

The omissions on some very important subjects can be enumerated as follows:

- The President didn't tell why he wants to open up trade between the United States and eastern Europe as well as the Soviet Union, notwithstanding the fact that the Moscow government is supplying arms and ammunition to help kill American boys in Viet Nam.
- The President didn't mention that the current budget, ending June 30 of this year, will show a deficit of $6.4 billion, but said that the deficit in the budget which begins July 1, 1966, and ends June 30, 1967, is expected to be what he describes as "one of the lowest in many years," or "only $1.8 billion."
- The President didn't tell the people what he meant when he said that "on a cash basis," the federal budget next year "will actually show a surplus."

★ ★ ★

He didn't explain that all the money received from Social Security — including a substantial increase in such taxes this year — should really be kept apart as a trust fund to pay benefits due taxpayers when they retire.

PRAISED BY PRESIDENT

But under the method of bookkeeping "on a cash basis" praised by the President in his message, a "surplus" will be constructed out of Social Security receipts.

- The President didn't give the American people an explanation of what the effect will be of his proposal to make changes in the withholding system "so that Americans can more realistically pay-as-they-go."

What it means is that a larger amount will be withheld from an employe's earnings and paid currently to the government, so that the take-home pay will be less for many individuals.

★ ★ ★

- The President didn't spell out what he meant when he said that he would ask Congress "to consider measures which, without improperly invading state and local authority, will enable us effectively to deal with strikes which threaten irreparable damage to the national interest."

THE 19 STATES

For he still wants to strengthen the power of unions, and he continues to insist that the 19 states which do not have compulsory unionization will have to give up the right to protect the freedom of an individual to get a job without sacrificing his disbelief in trade-unionism.

★ ★ ★

There are many other things dealt with in the President's speech on which the American people might well become informed.

★ ★ ★

They will not do this through a reading of the presidential message, which is confined to generalized statements, many of them ambiguous due to political expediency.

Bob Considine Says:

DC3s Keep On Rolling Despite Advancing Years

NEW YORK—"A few of our designs attained some degree of fame, and one of them, the DC3, has become almost legendary," writes Donald W. Douglas Sr. in the foreword of "The DC3 —the Story of a Fabulous Airplane," published by Lippincott.

CONSIDINE

In his modest way, this titan of the aviation industry continues: "It seems to go on forever. More than 10,000 of these transports were built, and several thousand remain in service today, representing a 30-year span of service

"It is fairly safe to predict that a few of these hardy veterans will be flying at the century mark."

And then some, I'd guess.

★ ★ ★

Author Col. Carroll V. Glines and Lt. Col. Wendell F. Moseley, good men with words, tell us that the first Gooney Bird—the affectionate nickname of the plane in which most of today's air travelers cut their eye teeth—is still flying for the Pacific Lumber Co. of San Francisco. It rolled off the production line June 28, 1936.

100 ENGINES

The second one, completed July 19, 1936, is owned by Ozark Airlines. Ozark bought it from American Airlines 16 years ago, after it had flown the equivalent of many trips to the moon and back.

It's still chugging along after more than 50,000 hours of flight—or some six years in the air. It has worn out 100 engines.

The Civil Aeronautics Board announced in 1942 that it could not certify the airworthiness of DC3s to carry passengers beyond 1947.

★ ★ ★

Each year after 1947 until 1953 the CAV said, "Well, we'll let them go one more year." Then it threw up its arms in despair. Like Old Man River, the DC3s just kept rolling along.

MOST FEARED

Today the DC3 is one of the most feared weapons in the U.S. arsenal being used against the Viet Cong.

Destined for honorary retirement years ago, they turned out to be perfect slow-flying platforms for the Gatling guns developed by the Air Force to hurl 6,000 rounds of ammo per minute at a target.

The Russians were the first to arm DC3s, but they called the plane the LI2 after accepting 700 of them and building 2,000 more with the aid of Douglas tools and plans.

★ ★ ★

Aeronautical engineer named Lissunov invented the DC3, the Russians said, hence the LI (pronounced lie) in LI2.

The first DC3s cost American Airlines, which laid down the specifications, $110,000 each. DC3s a quarter of a century old bring more than that today.

STILL IN USE

More of them are still in scheduled airline use around the world than any other type of aircraft.

★ ★ ★

"It was the first airplane that could make money just by hauling passengers," American's C. R. Smith, one of its fathers, says of the DC3.

It scored a lot of other firsts in its time.

'Games Are a Small Part of Total School Program'

In answer to the letter by Pat Geiger concerning the use of "subs" in basketball games, hard work and practice, although absolutely necessary, are not always the complete determining factor as to who will do the most playing. Much of the time, God-given abilities such as speed, coordination and physical stature will separate the regulars from the "subs." Also, Pat, remember that this year's subs are usually next year's regulars.

★ ★ ★

Basketball at Pontiac Northern is only a small part of our total program. We should have pride in our team and we do. More important, however, is the fact that our pride should be centered around the very fine educational facilities provided for us by the people of Pontiac, the fine faculty of which over 60 per cent hold master degrees in education, our administrators who have developed a complete and diversified curriculum to handle the educational needs of all our students, and pride in the students who are "the greatest."

Comments on Practice of Some Teachers

Teachers always want more money but it's disgusting that they don't even earn the money they get now. They ask the children to pass out milk and pick up papers. They don't go out to watch the children play or look after them like they do in some cities. They have to have coffee breaks and smoke breaks and when a child tells the teacher he got hurt, he's told to sit down. I am a mother of eight and I can keep busy all the time. I don't stop for smoke and coffee breaks. Kids don't learn much any more.

Why will people argue the evils of communism and in the same breath call the school board because little Johnny has heard the word "God" mentioned at school? How can we expect to remove everything our country was founded on and expect to oppose external subversive forces?

Comments on Uninsured Motorist Law

Our automobile insurance agent has now informed us that the State requires everyone who is insured to carry insurance against uninsured motorists. I was under the impression that the new Michigan law would hold uninsured motorists financially responsible for their accidents.

★ ★ ★

Now who is benefitting from this new law? It certainly isn't the responsible, hard-working, honest citizen. We will now pay a dollar more for our license plates and be forced to take more insurance. I wish someone would enlighten me on this issue.

Debates Begin

The Atlantic Monthly

The opening of a new session of Congress in an election year is always a signal for the launching of political debate. Both parties in 1965 worked together under the prod of the great compromiser. President Johnson was unrelenting in applying pressures on Congress because he knew that 1965 must be the year of his greatest domestic legislative acomplishments, when Republicans and Democrats alike were free of a political campaign.

★ ★ ★

Now all factions will have their eyes on the November elections. It will be harder for some Democrats as well as all Republicans to support the President as often. All members of the House and a third of the senators must attempt to make their own records to the satisfaction of their own constituents. The President already has suggested a short session. The discouraging news from Viet Nam makes it clear that the President will be caught between those who want to do less militarily and those who want to do more.

★ ★ ★

The President has told Vice President Humphrey that it is his responsibility to help reelect the seventy-one Democratic congressmen who were elected for the first time in 1965. They both know that the task is next to impossible. In mid-term elections the party in power generally suffers. Democratic losses should be somewhat larger than normal because the Democrats won a larger number of marginal seats in 1964 as a result of the Goldwater debacle. However, because of the redistricting that has been done in the last few years, the Democrats may be in a somewhat more favorable position than previously.

★ ★ ★

In the 1965 elections, Republicans fared well in several important urban areas, including, most important of all, New York City. Some notable middle-of-the-road party leaders like Charles H. Percy of Illinois and Robert Taft, Jr., of Ohio, who surely would have won in 1964 but for Goldwater, would like to make political comebacks.

Satisfaction . . .

The Holland Evening Sentinel

An encouraging thing happened in this town — the affirmation vote on the school and swimming pool proposals. Only a few years ago, if the board had requested money from the community they would have been almost automatically refused. The recent voting shows to what extent the relations between the board and the community have improved, how much more it is able to ask and have granted.

★ ★ ★

The fact that all proposals on the ballot were approved in the recent poll reflects a greater confidence in the methods, purposes, and responsibility of those citizens now in charge of these operations.

★ ★ ★

The favorable vote is a source of satisfaction. Not only does it insure necessary improvements in our system but also it reflects a degree of community understanding that was lacking only a few years ago.

We are living in an electronic and scientific age in which more of our young people must continue their educations. We can only hope that this education will help correct many of our modern-day problems.

Alabama Police Wield Clubs as Demonstrators Jam Traffic

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)— Police used billy clubs yesterday to disperse about 450 Negro marchers who turned the downtown sections of Birmingham and suburban Bessemer into nerve-rending traffic jams of screaming, milling demonstrators and angry, horn-blowing motorists.

At least three demonstrators suffered slight injuries, and several others claimed to have been struck by officers. Also during the melees, about 13 miles apart, a policeman fainted, another got his hand cut and a woman collapsed.

Three civil rights workers were arrested in Bessemer and one in Birmingham.

Later, a three-judge federal court issued an injunction prohibiting demonstrators in Jefferson County from "obstructing the public streets in any manner so as to prevent or delay the orderly flow of traffic."

★ ★ ★

The court order also enjoined the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), which has been conducting a Negro voter registration campaign in the two cities, from trying to 'entice or encourage school children to engage in street demonstrations." It also forbade school picketing or boycotts.

Around 300 Negroes paraded through Birmingham in orderly fashion last night and held a rally at city hall, under the watchful eyes of scores of policemen.

The Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, president of the Alabama Christian Movement, a branch of SCLC, told the marchers, "I think we were unjustly punished today.

"I'm not concerned about it (the injunction)," he said. "Let's march and keep on marching."

★ ★ ★

Two racial mediators from the U.S. Community Relations Service, Paul Jones and Irving Tranen, were to meet with Shuttlesworth today. But Shuttlesworth indicated the demonstrations would continue.

"I think it's always worthwhile to take time to talk to these people, but on the other hand, we certainly can't forget the violence that occurred Thursday," he said.

"Well certainly march again sometime during the day."

Common Market Door May Be Opening for Britain

PARIS (AP) — Three years ago today, Charles de Gaulle slammed the European Common Market door in Britain's face.

The crash is still echoing down diplomatic corridors but there are signs that the French president has — perhaps reluctantly — relented, and now may be ready to welcome the British into the European family.

★ ★ ★

This assumes that Britain would like to get in. At least one outstanding advocate of European union feels that the real decision lies in London, not Paris.

Some of these advocates link the sound of that slamming door to the crisis within the Common Market, the disputes over Atlantic political planning, the stalemate in the "Kennedy Round" tariff negotiations, and controversy over the shape and role of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

ELECTION ECHOES

Echoes certainly cropped up in the recent French presidential election.

Late in the campaign — too late, for many voters — de Gaulle began saying that the six-nation Common Market eventually should be extended to other countries.

De Gaulle repeated this theme in his New Year's Eve address to the nation. He said France is ready to resume negotiations on the Common Market's agricultural policy "on conditions which are equitable and reasonable, and with the hope that on such a base, other neighbors will join in."

On Nov. 22, de Gaulle received Edward Heath, leader of the British Conservative party, whose nose was caught in that slamming door.

De Gaulle — according to a spokesman — later told his Cabinet that Britain had evolved and now seemed more prepared for Common Market membership. This was a marked shift from Jan. 14, 1963, when de Gaulle denounced Britain as an "insular people" unfit for a European role.

Chiefly as a result of the French elections, advocates of European union feel there will never again be a French veto against Britain. They also feel de Gaulle will never again dare to send the Common Market partners an ultimatum such as one that produced the present crisis on agricultural policy.

★ ★ ★

This refers to de Gaulle's recall of French delegates from Brussels, Belgium, last June 30.

Some pro-Europeans even feel that as soon as the agricultural policy crisis is settled, de Gaulle would welcome British membership for three reasons:

1. Britain could counterbalance or offset West Germany's influence.

2. Britain would bolster de Gaulle's own struggle against "federalist" or supranational tendencies within the community.

3. It would enhance de Gaulle's domestic political position in advance of next year's legislative elections.

This is one explanation advanced for de Gaulle's choice of ex-Premier Edgar Faure as agriculture minister in the new French Cabinet. Faure, known for his pro-European views, will have the task of resuming and successfully concluding the Brussels negotiationn.

It generally is agreed that this must be achieved before the question of British membership can be revived. As long as the Labor party is in power, another requisite, of course, would be a decision by Prime Minister Harold Wilson to seek entry. Wilson would not be expected to decide until the Common Market surmounts its own crisis. He might also prefer to await a British general election.

If the Conservatives won such an election and Heath became prime minister, the situation conceivably would be simpler. But even Heath would not be expected to move until the six nations had put their own house in order.

★ ★ ★

In the three years since that door was slammed, what have been the practical effects?

The advocates of European unity see it this way:

There was little if any effect on the community's basic economic policies. The community prepared and submitted a liberal trade position in the Geneva "Kennedy Round" negotiations. Although unwilling, or unable, to widen its own circle, the community remained an "open" one in terms of world trade.

One practical effect went somewhat unnoticed at the time. It severely restricted the application of the American Trade Expansion Act which otherwise would have authorized the U.S. administration to remove tariffs completely from a wide range of goods in the "Kennedy Round" talks. As things stand now, in nearly all cases Washington can cut tariffs only 50 per cent instead of 100 per cent.

The veto of Britain also indirectly caused the present Common Market deadlock on agriculture. Had Britain been inside the market, France's diplomatic leverage would have been much less at Brussels last June. If Britain had entered the community, most likely Denmark, Ireland and perhaps several other nations would have, too, leaving France just one of nine or 10 states, instead of one of the major components of six nations.

The veto of Britain also damaged the community's mutual confidence. This, of course, can be regained but it will take time.

While there are now no British government plans for asking entry, the idea remains a serious factor in national thinking and no serious group opposes membership outright.

The perils of last year's sterling crisis had an effect on British thinking in an indirect way: Businessmen realized that Common Market membership would have helped force the nation to be more competitive, and this in turn possibly would have blunted the crisis somewhat.

In the deepest and probably the most important sense, the question of Britain's joining the market hinges on the direction the nation chooses for its future. Will Britain be content to be an offshore island of Europe? Does Britain want to continue posing as a great power, or can Britain best exercise its influence on world affairs as a leading member of a European community?

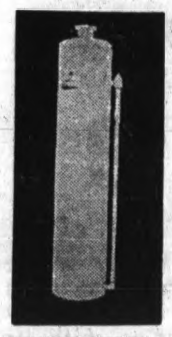

These questions must be answered first, and the British people as a whole have not really made up their minds.

This is what, apparently, de Gaulle now thinks they may do.

Injunction Bid Likely

ACLU to Contest School Law

DETROIT (AP)—The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) plans to file a lawsuit Monday in Wayne County Circuit Court in an attempt to quash a new state law providing public money for private and parochial school children, the Detroit Free Press reported Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The newspaper said the ACLU would represent 39 persons, including 10 clergymen, in the suit to be filed against the Detroit School Board.

It said the suit was expected to include a request for an immediate injunction forbidding implementation of the law until the constitutional question can be resolved.

★ ★ ★

The ACLU contends, the newspaper said, that the law violates the U. S. Constitution by breaching the policy of church-state separation.

The law provides that local school boards shall offer auxiliary services to private schools on an equal basis with public schools. These include remedial reading, counseling, for physically handicapped and mentally retarded children, health, visiting teacher, and other nonteaching services.

Dr. Hilberry Rites Set

DETROIT (AP)—A memorial service for Dr. Clarence B. Hilberry, the late president emeritus of Wayne State University, will be held Jan. 19 on the WSU campus. Dr. Hilberry, who retired last June after 55 years at Wayne State, including 13 as president, died in New York Jan. 10 of a heart attack.

Mob's Racket Outlined

CHICAGO (UPI) — More than 20 witnesses—four hidden behind a concealing curtain—were expected to testify further today about the Chicago underworld's seamy and terror-filled "juice" loan racket.

They were expected to further detail the testimony of Frederick P. Ackerman, 43, a former attorney who told the Illinois Crime Investigating Commission yesterday he had penetrated the mob's secrets.

He outlined several murders and tortures allegedly committed by mobsters on loan victims who had reneged on the high interest, or "Juice," payments to the mob.

Chief among the figures he named was Sam de Stefano, who also was subpoenaed to testify. De Stefano invoked the 5th Amendment more than 300 times in his testimony.

★ ★ ★

De Stefano, smiling, his teeth clenched around a long, white cigarette holder, was named by Ackerman as allegedly participating in the slayings of William (Action) Jackson and Leo Foreman.

BODY FOUND

Jackson's body was found in August 1961, stuffed in the trunk of a car. An autopsy showed he died of a severe beating.

Foreman, according to other testimony, was said to have been murdered in the basement of de Stefano's brother Mario.

De Stefano was asked by the commission about "Action" Jackson: "Did you strike him with a knife in the legs, thighs and stomach and then beat him with a baseball bat? Did you apply a blowtorch to his face? Did you then shoot him?" De Stefano declined to answer.

★ ★ ★

He was asked about the death of Foreman:

"Did you knock down Foreman with a blow from a baseball bat? Did you not pull Foreman's shirt and jacket over his head and pull his pants down over his knees? Did you fire a pistol into his head, shoulder, left forearm and buttock? Was not his body still twitching so that you then stabbed him in the chest, right arm and back . . . and left the body in a trunk?"

De Stefano declined to answer.

Commodore Reelected at County Boat Club

Emil Still of 955 Myrtle, Waterford Township, recently was reelected commodore of the Oakland County Boat Club, Sylvan Lake.

Other 1966 officers include Robert Hatch, vice commodore; Johnnie Johnson, rear commodore; William Webster, secretary; and Ed Baxter, treasurer.

Nonwhite Employment Up in Civil Service

LANSING (AP) — State Civil Service employment of nonwhites has increased steadily during the past year, the Civil Service Commission reported Thursday. Franklin DeWald, state personnel director, said a study showed the percentage of nonwhites in state service increased from 8.6 per cent in May 1964 to 9.6 per cent in November 1965.

Road Violence, Death Plague Nigeria

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Between Lagos, capital of Nigeria, and Ibadan, capital of the country's western region, a thin strip of asphalt snakes its way for 90 miles through dense rain forest. Along the road, violence is the rule and the machete the enforcer.

NEWSOM

Death by violence, especially the lawless kind, seldom has dignity and neither death nor violence is particularly new among the emerging nations of Black Africa.

But in Nigeria, the most populous country in Africa, it lends to a special melancholy.

* * *

For in its nearly six years of independence, all of them spent under the leadership of Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa, Nigeria had gained a reputation as a haven of stability and Balewa as an African moderate.

CLOSED MEETING

In this atmosphere which scarcely could enhance the prestige of Nigeria nor bolster black Africa's claims of readiness for rule, delegations of 19 British Commonwealth nations met behind closed doors in a tight circle of security.

The object of the conference, attended by both prime ministers Harold Wilson of Britain and Lester Pearson of Canada: to seek new ways to hasten the downfall of the rebel all-white government of Rhodesia and turn rule over to the country's four million blacks.

If the irony of Premier Balewa's position was lost upon him, it was not among opposition politicians and student demonstrators.

* * *

Politicians roundly condemned Balewa for calling a conference to settle Rhodesia's problems while "our own house is in flames."

HOUSE IN ORDER

Student placards read: "Put our house in order before Rhodesia."

The round of murder, arson and rioting began as result of an election last October in the country's western region.

Opposition forces, with evidence to show for it, charged the election was rigged and demanded new elections supervised by the army and federal police instead of politicians.

* * *

In the violence which has followed, Western Nigerian police list 91 civilians dead and another 138 injured.

Soviets End Asia Mission

Troubleshooter May Join Mongolia Talks

MOSCOW (UPI) — A high-level Soviet delegation headed by Kremlin troubleshooter Alexander Shelepin left Peking today on its way home from a week-long aid mission to Hanoi and talks with Chinese Communist officials on the war in Viet Nam.

The delegation, including top Russian arms and rocket experts, left aboard a special plane after a one-day stopover in the Communist Chinese capital and was expected to return directly to Moscow.

However, there were unconfirmed reports that Shelepin might fly to Outer Mongolia to join party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev in talks with Mongolian leader Yumzhagin Tsedenbal.

Brezhnev led a delegation to the Mongolian capital of Ulan Bator last Friday, reportedly to conclude a friendship treaty with the pro-Soviet state and to tighten border defenses against Red China.

★ ★ ★

Mongolia shares a common border with Communist China and Russia, including the sensitive Sinkiang Province.

SOVIET PROTECTION

Mongolia has been under Soviet protection through a 20-year treaty which expires this year. There was speculation that the Soviet mission would sign a revised military alliance with the Mongolians.

The Shelepin delegation ended its visit to Hanoi on the same note with which it arrived — renewed support for the Communist cause in Viet Nam, promises of additional aid for North Viet Nam and scorn for the current U.S. peace offensive.

Diplomats here said there was no evidence to support speculation that Shelepin might have tried to push North Vietnamese leader Ho Chi Minh toward peace talks.

Russia Has No Right to Pose as Hanoi Ally---China

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China said today the Soviet Union has no right to pose as an ally of North Viet Nam and was working "hand in glove" with the United States "to peddle the Johnson administration's peace talks hoax."

The Peking Reds also charged the U. S. was committing "heinous crimes" in Viet Nam and said President Johnson cannot "escape the fate that befell Adolf Hitler and Hideki Tojo."

The latest Chinese denunciation of "U. S. imperialism" in general and President Johnson in particular came in an editorial entitled "Johnson Administration Cannot Escape Justice."

It was carried in today's edition of the Peking Peoples Daily, official organ of the central committee of the Chinese Communist party.

★ ★ ★

The editorial said, "The U. S. aggressor army in South Viet Nam is madly pursuing a 'scorched earth' plan marked by its large scale and unprecedently barbarous and bloody method.

'WIPING OUT ALL LIFE'

"Wherever the aggressor troops go, they burn all, kill all and destroy all. They are attempting to wipe out all life in vast areas in South Viet Nam.

"The atrocities committed by the U. S. aggressors in South Viet Nam have far surpassed the enormity of those committed by the Hitlerite Fascist brigands and the Japanese militarists."

"Lyndon Johnson can never escape the fate that befell Adolf Hitler and Hideki Tojo," the editorial said.

Tojo, wartime Japanese premier, was executed as a war criminal after the end of World War II. Hitler is believed to have committed suicide.

REMAIN INDIFFERENT

The paper then indirectly accused Soviet leaders of remaining indifferent and working "hand in glove with U. S. imperialism to peddle the Johnson administration's 'peace talks hoax.'"

"Does this not mean that they have lost the last iota of their sense of justice?" it asked. "In this case, what right have they to talk about 'supporting' the Vietnamese people?"

The editorial said, "We Chinese people feel the sufferings of the Vietnamese people as intimately as if they were our own.

"Blood debts must be paid with blood," it added. "The Johnson administration cannot escape justice."

PROTEST COLLUSION

Communist North Viet Nam meanwhile protested against what it charged was the "ever-closer military collusion between the United States and Nationalist China," the Communist Viet Nam News Agency reported today.

The protest was filed by the liaison mission of the North Viet Nam army to the International Commission on Viet Nam, the report said.

The liaison mission also charged that the United States was planning to base the giant B52 bombers of the American Strategic Air Command in Formosa so as to shorten their bombing flights to Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

The B52 bombers currently being used for bombing raids to Viet Nam are stationed in Guam.

RACE IS ON — Doing double-time on the way to the auditorium's weigh-in station are Pontiac Central High School students (from left) Phillip Fotinias of 47 Summit, Nick Collias of 174 Auburn, and Deborah McDermott of 1386 Avondale, Sylvan Lake. Each is anxious to beat the school's deadline in the annual community clothing drive. Homerooms contributing the highest poundage of used clothing receive awards.

Homerooms, Classes Compete

PCH Launches Clothing Drive

By HELEN COLLIAS

This past week Pontiac Central High School students launched their portion of the annual community clothing drive.

Each homeroom accumulated boxes and bags full of used clothing ranging from baby blankets to combat boots.

Goal of the drive is to top the 30,000-pound mark of last year.

The administration has turned the drive into a contest with senior, junior and sophomore classes competing against each other for the highest poundage.

A party at the Huron Theater will be given to the top homeroom in the winning class. Each homeroom brought its collected clothing to the auditorium to be weighed this morning. The clothing will be distributed among needy families.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Central was awarded the Saginaw Valley Debate Championship this week at the fourth and last tournament.

22 ATTEND

Twenty-two students from Central attended the Flint tournament, winning 8 of 12 debates.

The Pontiac Central record is 40 wins and 8 losses making a season total of 52 points. It's the best score Central has had in 10 years. Central topped its nearest competitor by 14 points.

The varsity debate team consists of Net Barker, Thomas Hahn, Marjy Rosner and Roberta Wine.

★ ★ ★

Second team members are Bertie Brady, Cynthia Bryant, Stephen Embree, Carol Johnston, Donna Whiteman and Wendy Wold.

Comprising the third team are Valerie Bunce, Jerry Murphy, Theodore Fisher, Marianne Rollo, Charles Smith and Veta Smith.

Other debaters are Nancy Appleton, David Barker, Donald LeCornu, Janet Godoshian, Christopher Lewis, and David McNeely.

The banner will be displayed among the other awards and citations in the debate room. Walter Smith is the debate coach.

★ ★ ★

Because the last stag dance was such a success, the administration granted permission to the Student Council to hold another after the next home basketball game in the boys' gym.

Providing entertainment will be a group of five Central students called the Provocatives.

Members of the group are Calvin Birdette, David Finley, Vernon Hodge, Sylvester Robinson and John Webb.

Accompanying them will be Ruben Rice, piano; James Crump, bass; and Charles Anthony, drums.

★ ★ ★

Also on hand will be a group called the One Nighters consisting of John Harrington, Skip Harrington and Alan Wessley.

All three attend Central. They played at the last stag dance.

Exchange Student

Argentine Attends Oxford

By ANN ASHLEY

A new addition to Oxford Area Community High School is Dan Schindelhein, exchange student from Argentina.

Born in Buenos Aires, Dan is on his first trip to the United States. Sponsored by Youth for Understanding, he is staying at the home of the Edward Stewarts.

The Stewarts' daughter Mary was an exchange student to Argentina.

Although he has finished high school in Argentina, Dan is participating in a six-hour schedule at OHS.

At Colegio Nacionac De San Isidro High School, 12 subjects a day are required. Dan attended classes daily from 12:45 to 5:45 p.m.

NATIONAL SPORT

Talking about sports in Argentina, Dan greatly stressed soccer, the national sport. Basketball and rugby, similar to football, also also popular activities.

Hamburgers are rated as Dan's favorite American food. When asked for his comment on the snow, Dan replied "Cool!"

Upon graduation from OHS in June, Dan plans to attend a university to study economics.

"College Night" will take place at OHS Monday at 8 p.m. Program director is Larry Ferrigan, guidance counselor at OHS. All students and parents are invited to attend.

Holly Student From Brazil

By LINDA LONGSTRETH

Holly High School welcomes Fatima Varella, its new foreign exchange student from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Fatima is visiting the United States under the Youth for Understanding program.

★ ★ ★

As a sophomore she is studying English, typing, United States history, government, and French.

Tuesday activity and sports pictures were taken for the Tell-Tale yearbook.

'Parisian Rendezvous' Theme at Walled Lake Junior Prom

By RON MOORHEAD

Tomorrow night, from 8 p.m. to midnight, Walled Lake High School's class of 1967 will present "Parisian Rendezvous," the annual junior prom.

For one night, the gym and lobby will take on a French air.

Couples will be served refreshments in the lobby transformed into a sidewalk cafe for the occasion.

Park benches and flower decorations will add to the typically French atmosphere.

On the stage, colored water will fall rhythmically from a small fountain.

Argentine Students at Northern

By ALICE TURNER

Students at Pontiac Northern recently welcomed two new exchange students who arrived from Argentina.

Lucia Rain will stay at the home of Carolyn and Troy Bell, both of whom are seniors at Northern this year. Lucia speaks English, Spanish and German.

Adela Ginemez, the second new arrival, will reside at the home of Kathy Schweitzer, also a PNH senior.

Adela will be in the U.S.A. for only eight weeks. Lucia will remain for the rest of the year.

★ ★ ★

Lucia arrived over the Christmas vacation, Adela arriving this week.

Lucia plans to join the Ski Club, Catalinas, International Club and the a capella choir. Adela hasn't decided yet since she has been here only a week.

The ALSAC dance entitled "Paris by Moonlight" will be held Jan. 22. The dance will be from 8 p. m. to 1 a. m. in the Pontiac Boys' Club, 530 E. Pike.

Proceeds will be donated to St. Jude's Research Hospital to aid leukemia stricken children.

★ ★ ★

Tickets for the semiformal dance can be purchased at the door.

The Northern Players are planning a trip to New York for its more active members in the spring.

Students desiring to attend must have been an active participant in the club and must also have a good scholastic average.

The trip is to last five days. Plans are still tentative and the cost of the trip, as well as other details, will be decided at a later date.

Activities at Area Schools

Clarkston

By CATHY RICHARDSON

Senior mock election ballots were tabulated and the winners were announced recently at Clarkston High School.

Clarkston's Girls Athletic Association will host a basketball game with Lake Orion's girls team this afternoon.

This evening, the girls' club will sponsor the dance to be held after the home game with Holly High School.

Members of Clarkston's band and their sponsor, Barton Connors, attended the Wayne-Oakland County League Band tryouts Tuesday.

Varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders, their managers and their sponsor, Janet Gabier, English instructor, will host a league cheerleading clinic tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Cheerleaders from the other high schools in the league will meet in Clarkston's gym to work on the various problems facing cheerleaders.

Brandon

By ROSE THERIOT

The Brandon High School Ski Club took its first excursion Wednesday evening at Mt. Holly. The club plans to tour other ski areas in the coming weeks.

Officers include Sue Gullett, president; Frank Paschal, vice president; Patti Poli, secretary; and Kurt Keener, treasurer.

The club has been organized by Larry Meier, special education teacher.

Troy

By RICK SHAVER

Three new additions to Troy High School have kept students continually standing in line.

Two are pop machines in the student lounge for use through the day.

The Student Council put in the machines. It receives 30 per cent of the profits, or $28 a day.

The other convenience is a frozen custard machine in the cafeteria which is in operation during the lunch hour.

★ ★ ★

The Future Teachers club is planning a bake sale Jan. 19 during school hours so students can buy the pastries.

Members are taking part in a project of teaching in the elementary schools of Troy.

Rochester

By KATHY MORGAN

A 30-day fund raising drive for a community war memorial began Tuesday at Rochester High School.

Planned by the Rochester Area Beautification Council, the monument will be dedicated to the "honor and sacrifice of men and women of Rochester who served our country." It will be placed on the Rochester Civic Center property.

The war memorial program raises funds through the sale of tickets. Each ticket is valid for one show at the Hills Theatre.

Distributing tickets through first hour classes, the Student Council urges participation of all the students. For selling 10 tickets, a student receives a pass to the Hills Theatre, 25 tickets, 2 passes; 50 tickets, $5 and a season pass; 100 tickets, $10 and a family pass.

West Bloomfield

By MARGIT MISANGYI

American Field Service at West Bloomfield High School is planning a swimming party Feb. 19 at the Oakland University swimming pool from 2-4 p. m.

Cheerleaders of West Bloomfield will attend a cheerleading clinic at Clarkston High School.

St. Fred's

By ERNESTINE MOORE

During the past week, six students of St. Frederick High School received letters stating that they had qualified for further consideration in obtaining scholarships offered by the State of Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority.

Qualifications were based on scores received on the Michigan Competitive Scholarship Test administered in November.

The six students are Marilyn Hiller, Kerry Kammer, Ernestine Moore, Darryl Swanson, William Webster, and Gary Yapo.

The subscription drive for the yearbook began yesterday. In charge of the drive are Marilyn Hiller, business manager; Mary Gatton; Thom Guoin; Nancy St. Clair; and Jacquelyn Anderson.

Our Lady

By CECELIA PARKER

The seniors of Our Lady of the Lakes High School will soon be facing the adult world. Wednesday, several girls represented OLL at an open house sponsored by the Mercy School of Nursing, Pontiac St. Joseph Unit.

They were given a tour of the residence halls and classrooms and attended a lecture which gave an over-all view of the school and its operations. Attending included Cynthia Dunckley, Ilene Elias, Frances Hungerford, and Cecelia Parker.

★ ★ ★

Students submitting entries to the Scholastic Writing Awards Contest are Barry Bradford, David Miller, Ann Longo, Carl Matzelle, Susan Sirbaugh, John Shaughnessy, Dennis Gardner and Cecelia Parker.

St. Mike's

By MIKE THORNBERRY

St. Michael's yearbook, "The Michaelite," is well under way following the Christmas vacation.

Sister Callista, supervisor, and Judy Crickon, editor, have completed the layout and theme of the book.

Seniors have compiled the character sketches and student quotations, and preparations are being made for student activity pictures.

Judy Crickon's poem entitled "Spring" has been accepted by the National Poetry Press for publication in the "Anthology of High School Poetry."

Bloomfield Hills

By VIRGINIA WAYLETT

Ellsasser, the world renowned organist, will appear at Bloomfield Hills High School Feb. 2.

Sponsored by Clarence A. Luchtman, head of the music department, a girls' vocal group, the Jills, broadcast from the WJR studios during December. Karl Haas, the radio announcer, invited the girls back for another performance.

Lake Orion

By NADINE WILLIAMS

To help the cheerleaders in the promotion of school spirit, the Pep Club of Lake Orion High School presented a comedy skit at the pep assembly today.

Officers of the club are John Horner, president; Suzanne Vaillencourt, vice president; Linda Leach, secretary; and Linda Waggoner, treasurer.

Barbara Knudson, librarian, is the adviser of the cheerleaders and Pep Club.

Swim Club at Kettering Sponsored

By JAMIE SCHUTT

Waterford Kettering High School Swim Club has found a sponsor, Mary Ann Feltzer, physics and physical science teacher.

Members met this week for a reorganization meeting.

Kettering debaters won three of the debates in the Inter-Lakes League Debate contest held last week.

Winning teams were Michael Roberts and Jon Grambeau, Peter Teeuwissen and Judith Beilfull and Penelope Young.

Patty Looman's play production classes presented Penny Theater shows during lunch hours this week. "Red Carnations" and Edward Albee's "Sandbox" were spotlighted.

13 SELECTED

Thirteen students were selected this week by the counseling department to attend a series of six two-hour lectures on "Explorations in Ideas" to be held Saturdays at Oakland University.

The ski team has organized for the season under the direction of coach George Perry.

Boy members are Andrew Blain, Michael Borer, David Chambers, John Dika, Joseph Filka, Andrew Honchell, Paul Knox, Stephen T. Peterson, Greg Quick, Gary Quitiquit, James Roe, Roger Scarlotti, Bruce Stone, Robert Trepp and Andrew Wigg.

Members of the girls' team are Pamela Hicks, Pamela Meyer, Hazel Newmarch, Chris Quinn, Jamie Schutt, Mary Strohmeyer and Penelope Young.

By JEAN PRIESTLEY

Helen Bulla, assistant principal of Waterford Township High School, was honored at an open house in her office Tuesday to celebrate her 15th anniversary at WTHS.

★ ★ ★

Miss Bulla came to Waterford in 1949, two years after it opened.

She has played a large part in developing the school to its present position, both as a teacher and assistant principal.

Sixty-six exchange students from all over the world visited Waterford Township High last Friday to participate in the Foreign Exchange Club Brotherhood Day.

★ ★ ★

Some of the countries represented were Argentina, Finland, Germany, Holland, Ireland and Japan. Others were Kuwait, Spain, Sweden, Swtizerland and Wales.

SPOKE TO CLASSES

American students who spent the summer in foreign countries also spoke to classes. A WTHS student was assigned to each visitor to acquaint him with our school.

"Mutual understanding is the only way to world peace," said Mrs. Marjorie White, biology instructor and sponsor of the Foreign Exchange Club.

★ ★ ★

Biology II students visited science buildings and other facilities at Michigan State University Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Earl Freeman, biology instructor, showed the group science classes and labs.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-six students achieved all A's in the second marking period. Seniors boast the highest number of honor roll scholars as they did in the first period.

Much Ado at Milford High as Exam Zero Hour Nears

By RICHARD WIXOM

Milford High School students have been caught up in a dizzying flurry of activity this week, including preparations for first semester examinations Tuesday and Wednesday.

Since no one may be exempted from first semester exams, each student is busy preparing for five or six tests.

Most are hitting the books harder than usual.

Extra activities effectively occupy students' spare time and, some ruefully admit, a large part of their allotted study time.

This week, seniors took time to order their announcements, pay a deposit on caps and gowns, and plan a party featuring portions of their past floats and decorations from earlier parties.

★ ★ ★

Theme, appropriately enough is "Forget-Me-Not."

Cast members of Drama Club's current play, "Harvey," put in 8-12 hours of rehearsal each week, often working until 9 p.m.

Over 14 MHS bandsmen auditioned for positions in the Wayne-Oakland County League Band Tuesday. The band has scheduled evening concerts at Brighton and Holly high schools, and daytime assembly programs at Milford and Bloomfield Hills during February.

Four WOCL Choir concerts are planned later in February.

★ ★ ★

Six Milford Student Council members attended today's classes at West Bloomfield in an exchange day.

Considering these activities, whatever studying gets done seems little short of miraculous.

As usual, though, students will survive the two-day exam period somehow, and return after a long weekend's rest ready for another semester.

CRAM TIME — Midnight oil will burn as Milford High School students hit the books for Tuesday and Wednesday's semester exams. Roger Chapman of 4212 Duck Lake, Highland Township, checks his slide rule as he studies to be ready for the fateful two days. The second semester will begin Jan. 24.

MRS. GILBERT MILLER

Name Most Fashionable; Jackie in Hall of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Does an elegant sense of fashion run in families?

Mrs. Carter Burden at 22 tops the 1965 list of the best dressed women in the world, announced Thursday.

★ ★ ★

She is the wife of a Columbia University law student from a socially prominent family, but more importantly, from a fashion viewpoint, she is the daughter of Mrs. William Paley, a member of the Fashion Hall of Fame.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. John F. Kennedy, who usually heads the best-dressed, was elevated to the Fashion Hall of Fame.

The former First Lady's younger sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, often on the list, lost out.

Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, mother of the late President Kennedy, repeated from last year.

FORDS NAMED

The Ford sisters — Anne and Charlotte — who recently became Mrs. Giancarlo Uzielli and Mrs. Stavros Niarchos, again were cited as one entry.

"Their taste is identical, representing the best of the young international way of dressing," a list committee noted.

Their mother, the former Mrs. Henry Ford II, is in the Fashion Hall of Fame.

★ ★ ★

Among the royal members on the list is Mrs. Agnes Ogilvy, the Princess Alexandra of Kent, daughter of the Duchess of Kent, also in the Fashion Hall of Fame.

★ ★ ★

Then there are the Vanderbilts.

Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt of New York placed second, and the former Gloria Vanderbilt, now wife of New York television director Wyatt Cooper, came in third.

COMPLETE LIST

The best-dressed list — compiled by a fashion committee from perhaps 2500 votes cast by style experts around the world — goes in this order: Mrs. Burden; Mrs. Vanderbilt; Mrs. Cooper; the Ford Sisters; Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy; Mrs. Kirk Douglas, wife of the actor; Mrs. Ogilvy; actress Barbra Streisand; Mrs. Charles Engelhard, wife of the mining magnate; Mrs. William McCormick Blair, wife of the American ambassador to the Philippines; Princess Luciana Pignatelli of Rome; and Princess Paola, wife of the Belgian crown prince.

★ ★ ★

To make way for newcomers, perennials on the list are frequently named to the Fashion Hall of Fame.

★ ★ ★

Besides Mrs. Kennedy, five other list regulars were elevated for 1965: Mrs. Charles Wrightsman, of New York and Palm Beach, Fla.; Queen Sirikit of Thailand; Dame Margot Fonteyn, British ballet star; actress Dina Merrill and Mrs. Gilbert Miller, wife of the theatrical producer.

PROFESSIONALS

Six women in the fashion profession also received Hall of Fame rating: Sybil Connolly, Irish fashion designer; Enid (Mrs. Ira) Haupt, Seventeen magazine publisher; Mrs. S. I. Newhouse, wife of the owner of Vogue, Glamour and Mademoiselle; Geraldine Stutz (Mrs. David) Gibbs, president of the New York store Henri Bendel; author Anita Colby, and Princess Irene Galitzine, Rome fashion designer.

Two Entertain Pi Omicron

Mrs. E. Verne McCall and Mrs. Nettie Collins were cohostesses for the Thursday evening meeting of Iota Eta chapter, Pi Omicron sorority, in the former's home on Dwight Street.

This chapter will host the state board meeting Sunday at Devon Gables.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hugo Harnack will host the cooperative dinner on Feb. 10 at 6:30 p.m. in her Lexington Drive home.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Leon Skelly continued the question and answer program on "Religions of the World."

Beta Chis Set Party for Public

A "Millionaire's Party" will be held by Beta Chi chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority it was announced at a recent meeting in the YWCA.

Mrs. Joseph Orosey and Mrs. Jere Donaldson reported that the event to take place at Waltz Hall on Jan. 22 is open to the public.

Mrs. Ralph Allen gave a history of music from the 17th century to the present. Mesdames Orosey, Donaldson and Dorsey Underwood provided the rest of the program.

Mrs. Fred Mueller described the costumes members will model at the state convention. Mrs. James Vincent has set Jan. 31 aside for a meeting in her Schoolhouse Drive home for further convention planning.

Mrs. Lacy Schiefler, city council president, announced that a meeting of the council would be held at Devon Gables at 1:30 p.m., Jan. 22.

Delegates to the council meeting will be Mrs. James Stone, Mrs. Edgar Plympton and Mrs. Harry Rhodes.

Mrs. Clarence Hardenburg was a guest.

Van Leuven Talks to ABW Chapter

A recent meeting of the American Business Women's Association, Oak Leaf chapter, took place in the Elks Temple.

James VanLeuven, director of the Oakland County Child Facility, spoke before the group.

Top Man Has Rights

Granny Has Short Fuse

DEAR ABBY: Today I wore a granny dress to school. After lunch I was called to the principal's office.

ABBY

He had the audacity to complain about my dress. We have a dress code at our school and it doesn't say anything about LONG dresses but, in either case, the principal doesn't go by the dress code anyway.

He makes all the decisions when there is a question. The thing that burns me up is you don't get yelled at for wearing SHORT, TIGHT SKIRTS, or even the boys for not wearing SOCKS, but I get yelled at for wearing a granny dress because it's TOO LONG!

Tomorrow I will wear a real short, tight skirt and not one word will be said. Please print this and tell me what to do. I won't take this from him!

"GRANNY"

DEAR "GRANNY": My, what a short fuse you have! Don't provoke a revolution, but do suggest that the code be revised to include the granny dress.

Whatever else may be said about it, it is certainly the most modest fad that has come along for teenage girls in a long time. And don't blame the principal for making the decisions when there is a question.

He is the highest authority at your school, and the privilege is his.

DEAR ABBY: I have naturally curly hair that kinks and curls and frizzes when it's wet or damp or humid. I was told that if I gave myself a reverse permanent, it would straighten my hair out.

Please don't tell me to go to a hairdresser because I have heard that they use a very strong solution that makes your hair break off. Thank you.

KINKY

DEAR KINKY: I would certainly not advise you to give yourself a "reverse" permanent in hopes of straightening your hair. Put your head in the hands of a top-notch hairdresser.

CONFIDENTIAL TO S. J. IN ATLANTIC CITY: I would say if your man keeps you cool in the summer and warm in the winter, stocks a plentiful cupboard, comes home sober right after work without having folded, spindled or mutilated his paycheck, you've got a prince. Take good care of him.

News Editor Sims Reports His Views on Latin America Before Town Hall

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

Despite a snowstorm that would have kept an Eskimo indoors a Birmingham Town Hall audience turned out in full force on Thursday to hear Watson S. Sims discourse on Latin America.

The news editor of the world services division of the Associated Press, whose global peregrinations make Marco Polo look like a provincial homebody, blended the black and white shades of the southern half of the Western Hemisphere into an over-all gray.

★ ★ ★

With revolutions in Latin America as common as colds in North America, the speaker saw the continent's deep problems as stemming from a basic fault in the form of colonization and exploitation it experienced.

"Whereas," he said, "North America was settled by people of learning and enterprise and experience in self-government who intended to make America their homeland, Latin America was set upon by a horde of adventurers whose only aim was to despoil it before returning whence they came.

ONE COUNTRY

"Moreover, when the revolution in North America took place, one country emerged — the United States. But in Latin America, the freedom from despotism that evolved in the early 1800s produced 20 countries — with dissimilar geography, natural resources and interests."

★ ★ ★

Into the governmental vacuum thus created moved the oligarchy — a minority composed of those possessed of wealth, power and purpose — who took over control of country after country, and held the masses in a state bordering on bondage.

"It is this entrenched wealth and power of the few over the ignorant and impoverished majority that has kept Latin America from taking meaningful strides along the road of democracy," Sims asserted.

Inflation has been rampant.

With a population of 240 million, Latin America has an unemployment rate of 15 per cent (the rate in the U. S. is 4.1 per cent).

It is estimated that during the next ten years, 38 million will be added to the labor force with no more than 5 million new jobs foreseen by experts to meet the demand.

But despite the gravity of the current climate, the observer thinks a start in the direction of enduring government and fiscal responsibility has been made.

★ ★ ★

"Thanks to aid provided by the Alliance for Progress and a dawning sense of obligation to the masses on the part of Latin America leaders, civil and private, 14 countries have now adopted the self-help programs prerequisite for assistance from the U. S.-supported organization. These countries have instituted equitable tax programs and land-ownership reforms."

★ ★ ★

But, he warned, the course ahead to general well-being is a long and tortuous one.

LUNCHEON FOLLOWS

A celebrity luncheon at Village Women's Club followed the speaker's address at Birmingham Theater. During the question period, Sims touched on the threat of communism in Latin America.

He thought, contrary to common belief, that it had not made much headway there for three reasons:

★ ★ ★

- The predominance of Catholicism with its active opposition to communism.
- The oligarchic form of government that still prevails in most Latin American countries and exorcises with an iron hand any movement that holds threat for vested interests.
- The idealogical cleavage between the Russian and Chinese brands of communism that has retarded unified, militant programs of subversion.

New Plans Discussed

The Italian-American Club auxiliary discussed tentative plans for spring social activities, Monday, in the home of Mrs. Verne P. Sinkler on Arlene Avenue.

Mrs. Robert J. Ranzilla assisted the hostess.

Mrs. James Campoli reported on the January meeting of the Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs.

Offers Talk on Children

Mrs. Maxine Smith, head supervisor of Oakland County's Children's Village was speaker for the January Oakland County Medical Assistants' Society meeting. Members gathered at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital's nurse's home.

Mrs. Smith explained the function and operation of the center for youngsters.

Members voted to donate proceeds from a March 26 fashion show to Children's Village.

Proceeds Going to Charity Fund

Mrs. Larry Hollister was hostess for the January meeting of the Philia Theta Club, Wednesday, in her home on Pontiac Lake Drive.

Proceeds from a 'white elephant' sale were tagged for the group's philanthropic fund. Mrs. Robert Haire reported on a Christmas donation to a needy area family.

The Shoe Budget Can Be a Real Killer

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Ask the father of a growing family what he stews most about in January and he'll say "Taxes." Ask the mother, and she'll say "Shoes."

MARY FEELEY

She has good reason to stew. The children have outgrown the shoes she bought them in September just before they started school. So now she has to do it all over again — and the family budget doesn't allow for it.

Since I get so many letters from mothers saying "My husband just doesn't understand that the cost of shoes has gone up," I think this is a good time to put a few facts on the line.

Actually, the cost of shoes hasn't gone up that much. In the last 17 years, there has been just a 4.3 per cent increase in the average factory selling price (wholesale) of shoes.

In 1947, for instance, an average pair of shoes sold wholesale for $3.72. The estimated cost for that same pair in 1964 was $3.88; the 1965 price reached $3.98.

What's really troubling you mothers of growing families, is that your children's feet grow. I talked to a spokesman for the National Shoe Institute, and she pointed out these statistics, based on just plain human experience:

Shoe sizes change in a period from one to two months, when the child is one to six years old.

Now listen to these other findings:

From 6 to 10 years — shoe sizes change from 2 to 3 months.

From 10 to 12 years — shoe sizes change within 3 to 4 months.

From 12 to 15 years — shoe sizes change within 4 to 5 months.

From 15 years and over — shoe sizes change within 6 months or more.

Somewhere along the line, you're going to have to adjust the budget to fit the feet. This is one expense you can't escape.

* * *

Here are some other pointers the Institute offers, in order to get the most for the family shoe money:

- Be on your feet at least two to three hours before buying a new pair of shoes. Your feet are larger then than they would be if you just stepped out of bed early in the morning. Therefore, the new pair will be more comfortable for the duration.
- Take a shoe-break. Change shoes twice a day — for the sake of the shoes as well as your own comfort.
- Fit the larger foot. Almost everybody has unmatched feet. You can make adjustments for the smaller foot, by means of padding.

NEED VARIETY

- As the individual's weight fluctuates, so does the shoe size. So have your feet measured each time a new pair of shoes is bought.
- One pair of shoes can't serve all purposes. Don't expect it. (Active boys, for example, who participate in sports can use three to four pairs of well-constructed sneakers a year, along with regular daytime shoes. A boy's shoe bill can total about $46 a year, so allow for it. Start saving about $4 a month—or you'll wish you had.)
- Try to sell the children on the idea of using shoe trees. They'll hate you for it, but it does help make the shoes last longer and look better.
- You can't save money by buying ill-fitted shoes. You only invite a doctor bill.

Kingswood Students Set a Supper Saturday Night

Students at Kingswood School, Bloomfield Hills, are busy today with final arrangements for Saturday evening's Pancake Supper which will benefit their Foreign Exchange Program.

★ ★ ★

The school's two international students Anna Kirstine Moller of Denmark and Cleotilde Hidelgo, The Philippines, will participate in the program being presented . . . "in the interest of international understanding and friendship."

★ ★ ★

Supper will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. at Kingswood, followed by ski movies shown by Warren Miller and a sock hop. Music for dancing will be by the VanDels.

★ ★ ★

Three Cranbrook School for Boys and Kingswood School singing groups also will entertain. Cranbook boys will be in charge of parking.

★ ★ ★

Highlight of the evening will be a ski fashion show by Don Thomas' Sporthaus. Tickets may be purchased at Sporthaus, Bloomfield Township and Ferndale, and The Silverwolf, Inc. in Royal Oak.

Teens and Diet

(UPI) — A study by the U. S. Department of Agriculture shows six of every 10 teen-age girls have poor diets. The lack is due to their habit of skipping breakfast and to reliance on sanacks with insufficient nutrients.

Fast Defrosting

(UPI) — Defrosting time can be shortened with the use of a fan or, better yet, electric hair dryer. Turn the refrigerator off, remove food and wait a half hour. Then turn on the fan or dryer and direct it toward the refrigerator.

Four factors determine the value of gems. Brilliance, size, color and rarity.

Cake Rack Helps

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — When you need to defrost meat or other frozen food fast, lay the package on your cake rack and the air will get to the bottom and help speed things up a bit. — MRS. T.A.M.

DEAR GIRLS — Most of us like monogrammed bath towels but it is quite expensive to have this work done and perhaps, like me, you have never been able to do them with a regular hand monogram stitch.

I saw a friend of mine working beautiful monograms on terry cloth towels in the following way: She had stamped the monogram pattern on to a piece of organdy, basted the organdy in position on the towel and and was working the monogram through organdy and towel. When the work was finished she cut away the excess organdy with small embroidery or manicure scissors.

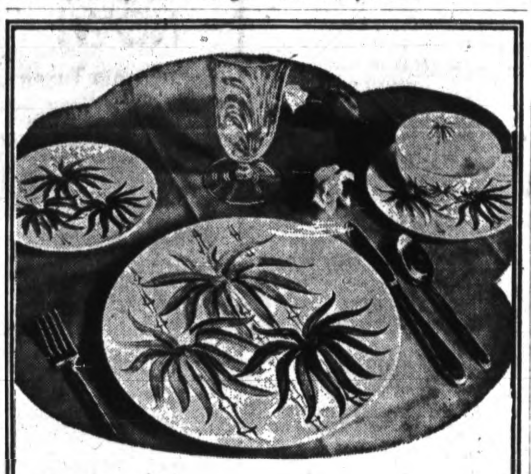

Any loose organdy threads that "work out" later, after laundering or using, can be removed with tweezers.—POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — If you have a hat that is too large in head size, I have the remedy. Take a nylon stocking, double it and then twist until it is about one-half to three-quarters of an inch wide. Sew this into the edges of the crown and your wobbly hat will fit quite comfortably.

Some adjustment might be necessary, depending on how loose the hat is.—ELSE

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY — My 5-year-old Nancy saw me trying to get the last of the liquid hand cream out of a bottle without luck. She reminded me to put the bottle in hot water, which I did and it worked. I like to use every drop but Nancy is the bright one as I never gave hot water a thought. — ELLEN.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth in a 15-article series by Josephine Lowman which gives you instructions on how to lose unwanted inches and up to 20 pounds in an eight-week period. The next article in this series will appear next Monday. Be sure to clip the menus and exercises each day so you may refer back to them.)

Procrastination is often more to blame than time for aging. Time does not suddenly attack us. He is much more subtle, than that and therefore much more dangerous. Also, he never gives up. He works on us line by line, pound by pound, droop by droop, hour by hour, day by day and year by year.

★ ★ ★

This gives women a chance to fight him in the same way. We can slip up on him, too, in many small ways but our determination must be consistent. The women who look years younger than they are have been faithful in daily care. Even if time has made some headway, we can definitely slow deterioration. Don't let the line deepen or the five pounds too much turn into 15 or 20 or more.

Those of you who have been reading my column this week know that this is the fifth day of my Eight-Week Beauty Improvement Plan. Today I want to talk to you about exercise and its place in a reducing routine.

EXERCISE

Exercise should be included in any slimming program or self-improvement routine unless there is some medical reason for not doing so. In the first place it increases your energy output and burns calories. It increases tone and is therefore valuable in avoiding flabbiness. It is the only way you can redistribute your weight more attractively.

★ ★ ★

Those are reasons enough, but there are more very important ones. I have seen it happen so often. Chronic fatigue disappears, and stiff joints and constipation are no longer problems. Many women who would never have exercised except for figure control continue afterward because of these benefits. There are certain things you should remember about exercise.

- Have your heart and blood pressure checked before beginning.
- Start in slowly and build up gradually. Even then you can expect some sore muscles. Keep on. This will pass.
- Follow directions carefully. The WAY you do an exercise is important.
- During this eight weeks concentrate on those exercises which are specific for your figure defects.

★ ★ ★

There are 12 exercises in my Beauty Improvement Plan which I call "Champion Exercises" because they are the best I know for the most usual feminine figure faults.

SAMPLE MENUS

BREAKFAST

One-half grapefruit
One slice toast
Two slices crisp bacon
Coffee or tea with artificial sweetener
One teaspoon butter or margarine on toast

DINNER

One cup consomme with parsley; two small crackers
Celery and carrot sticks
Generous serving of baked or broiled chicken, without gravy or dressing
One-half cup green baby lima beans
Two canned peach halves with one tablespoon syrup

SUPPER

Two scrambled eggs
Lettuce and sliced cucumber salad with reducer's dressing
Eight ounces skim milk
One slice whole wheat toast
One teaspoon butter
TOTAL calories for the day — 1139

If you have missed some of my BIP routine this week or if you would like to have it in a booklet for future reference, you may want my BIP Kit. This has complete directions, a calorie chart, a weight and height chart and the BIP wall chart on which you can chart your weight daily and watch your beauty line rise as your weight drops.

★ ★ ★

If you wish to have the Kit send 25 cents, plus 15 cents for postage and handling, with your printed name and address, to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

A Thread Ahead

When shortening a coat, jacket or skirt by cutting it off at the bottom, save the piece of material that you cut off. If a tiny snag or moth hole occurs in the garment, you can pull threads from this piece to make an invisible darn in the garment.

Inefficient Skill Learned

1st Grader Must Alter Habits

By LESLIE J. NASON

Dear Dr. Nason: Our 6-year-old daughter, in the first grade, is doing very poorly in school. Her teacher says she is not competitive. She says the girl doesn't care that her friends are in the first while she is in the second and doing barely well enough to stay there.

DR. NASON

She states further that my daughter is not enthusiastic and doesn't follow instructions. She is particularly upset that the child traces over the letters when she prints.

My daughter has always been quick and alert at home and easy to teach. When she was 3 and 4 she could repeat almost word for word a whole book when it was read to her four or five times.

Can you help us?

Mrs. H. T., Lebanon, Ind.

It will not be easy to correct the inefficient learning habits your daughter has already established. The memorization of stories read by others overstressed the place of memory in learning. She will need practice in reading outisde the classroom.

Only after she has gained sufficient skill to compete with her classmates will she take a more aggressive attitude in the classroom.

The retracing of letters is evidence of her lack of confidence in this area as well. Repetitive writing of the same short sentence during which she tries to discard the retracing of letters will solve this problem

Dear Dr. Nason: Would you please tell me what I should tell my daughter to do about her son who is 7 years old? He started in the first grade last year but failed because he wouldn't pay attention and wanted to play. This year, in the first grade again, he won't mind the teacher and wants to pick fights with the other children.

N. F. A., Troy, O.

Your grandson's behavior is typical of children who lack kind firm discipline at home.

Your daughter and her husband should inaugurate a program of complete cooperation in seeing that he carries out their instructions about going to bed, putting his toys away and such activities. Once the boy has become accustomed to the new regime at home, they can talk to him firmly about the behavior they expect at school.

Dear Dr. Nason: It was only two years ago that I began to realize the importance of an education. Now I sincerely want to get one.

I graduated from high school in 1961 and business school in 1962. However, college is what I really want. I would like very much to become a teacher. In high school, I received just passing grades in college entrance courses and did not pass my regent's examinations.

What does one do who has actually let the years and knowledge pass by before waking up and realizing what has happened?

N. J., Lowville, N. Y.

I suggest that you register for one college course in evening school or university extension. In studying this course, strive to perfect the skills you should have developed in high school. Learn to read and to understand what you read. Learn to listen and to understand in class. Learn to express yourself orally and in writing. Learn to organize materials.

Measles Tops Polio as Threat

LANSING (AP) — Measles, commonly thought of as an unimportant childhood disease, now is more of a health threat to children than polio, says the State Health Department.

Commissioner Albert Heustis said only one case of paralytic poliomyelitis was reported in the state during 1965. There were no deaths.

The incidence of measles remained high with 18,104 cases reported.

Heustis said 15 per cent of the children who have measles are hit by complications which can affect mentality, vision, hearing or produce chronic respiratory diseases.

"Although we have effective vaccines to prevent measles, a great number of children are not being innoculated," said Heustis.

THE FLINT EXTENSION SERVICE AND GRADUATE STUDY CENTER

University of Michigan credit courses offered in Oakland County are administered by the University's Extension Service and Center for Graduate Study in Flint. All inquiries should therefore be addressed to that Center.

The Flint Center of the Extension Service, which has been designated a Center for Graduate Study by the Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies, offers in Flint a broad program of courses at the graduate level, which may be elected for residence credit by students who have been admitted to an appropriate graduate unit of the University.

This term, graduate courses in Flint are scheduled in anatomy, anthropology, art education, business administration, conservation, education, electrical, industrial, and mechanical engineering, English, French, geography, German, history, library science, mathematics, philosophy, political science, psychology, public health, social work, sociology, and speech.

Descriptions of these courses, together with other pertinent information, will be found in the bulletin issued by the Flint Center, available on request.

Advisers from the campus will be in the Flint office each day, Monday through Thursday, January 10-13, to counsel with students. Those wishing an appointment, are urged to call the Flint Center, CEdar 8-1651, Ext. 266, as early as possible so that all records may be cleared.

For FURTHER INFORMATION, Call Flint, CEdar 8-1651, ext. 266, or Write:

Highway Safety—5

When You Boil It Down, Driver Is Key to Problem

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Highway safety is not a utopian dream. Cars are safer than before — and can be made safer yet. The interstate highways have a dramatically superior safety record — and other highways can follow suit. And even the driver can be made to be safer. But it takes a national will. This is the last of five dispatches.)

By ROBERT J. SERLING

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The utopia of highway safety would involve a perfect car being driven on a perfect road by a perfect driver.

Nobody, including the safety experts, expects to achieve any such utopia. But it is possible to approach it to a greater degree than we are.

Roads and vehicles are improved, and there even has been some progress in reforming that most difficult target of all — the human being.

These are the basic needs in the three areas:

The Automobile

- Better means of restraint for both passenger and driver, with seat belts plus shoulder harnesses, the latter needing the same kind of promotion accorded belts to win public acceptance.
- More research into effective padding, particularly the instrument panel. Present padding is effective in preventing minor injuries, but almost useless in a high-speed crash.
- Steering wheels should be desined to recoil or "give" on impact.
- Bucket seats, believe it or not, are safer because they give more lateral support to the hips.
- Dual or standby braking systems (available on only two U.S. cars)
- Power steering that retains the feel of the road, and better schock absorber control.
- Better lighting because blinding by headlights is a frequent cause of accidents. Nonglare windshileds have been suggested.
- Disk brakes are a frequent recommendation of many experts who say the conventional brake tends to overheat and fade.
- Improved de-fogging and defrosting systems are badly needed — and for rear windows as well as windhields.

The Highway

The dramatically superior safety record of the interstate highway system and turnpikes in general is proof that it's possible to engineer danger out of a road.

★ ★ ★

Obviously, not all roads can be turned into limited-access superhighways. But even the secondary roads, both urban an rural, should be studied by traffic experts for elimination of hazards — whether it be construction of new shoulders or installation of lights where needed.

The Driver

The American motorist is the pivot around which the highway safety problem revolves.

★ ★ ★

Any safety porgram — local state or federal — must rise or fall on the driver's acceptance of what amounts to awesome responsibility: the fact that his two-ton mechanism of chrome, steel and glass can be a lethal killer.

No highway reform, whether it be safer cars or better roads or efficient law enforcement, is worth much without this acceptance.

A drunken or careless driver can kill people on the best-engineered road in the world while operating the safest-designed automobile available.

How to get this message across to the motorist is the biggest facet of the highway safety problem. There is evidence that once the message gets across, it does some good.

★ ★ ★

Some years ago, when a popular magazine published a grisly, hard-hitting article called "And Sudden Death," there was a drop in the nation's accident rate.

And almost every driver can testify to an inevitable reaction — the tendency to slow down after witnessing the results of a bad accident.

'SHOCK TREATMENT'

The so-called "shock treatment" can be overdone. For one thing, it collides with what is easily the biggest handicap facing any kind of safety propaganda or promotion — the feeling of the average motorist that "it can't happen to me."

Combined with this is the overconfidence or inflated opinion most drivers have of their ability behind the wheel.

These are factors in the failure of safety campaigns to have much more than a temporary of even little effect.

VIRTUALLY FUTILE

The holiday highway death tolls played up by wire services and newspapers — including all the advance warnings to be careful — are almost futile as an accident deterrent, according to the experts.

On a local or state basis, there have been some effective campaigns and many of them have emphasized the brutal, sickening aspects of a fatal accident.

Some highway safety experts think motoring organizations do drivers an injustice by protesting against such "unfair" enforcement gimmicks as unmarked police cars and speed traps.

★ ★ ★

There are pros and cons on these subjects, but the experts claim that once the driver knows unmarked patrol cars, speed traps and radar may nab him, he's less likely to break the law.

★ ★ ★

A badly worn cliche still sums up the crux of the highway safety problem:

"The most important thing is the nut that holds the wheel."

To Air Youth Problems

LANSING (AP) — The House Committee on Youth will hold a two-day conference on youth problems Feb. 10-11, Chairman David Holmes, D-Detroit, said yesterday.

2 Flint Men Indicted in 1964 Murder Case

CROWN POINT, Ind. (AP)—Thomas J. Anderson, 34, and Tommie Pugh, 29, both of Flint, Mich., have been indicted by a Lake County grand jury on first-degree murder charges.

The pair is charged in the Nov. 13, 1964, slaying of Dwight Burke, 16, also of Flint. Burke and Carlos Reeves, 18, Flint, were shot in the head and their bodies dumped on Gary streets. They were not identified until last November.

Ayub Defends Kashmir Pact

Peace Pledge Comes After 2 Die in Rioting

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (UPI) — President Mohammed Ayub Khan today pledged continuing efforts to find a peaceful solution to Pakistan's Kashmir dispute with India. The pledge followed antigovernment riots that left two dead.

Police in Lahore yesterday shot down two demonstrators after a tear gas barrage failed to disperse a swirling mob protesting Pakistan's Tashkent peace pact with India.

In a nationwide radio broadcast, Ayub Khan said the Tashkent declaration, which pledged the two nations to a peaceful settlement of their differences, had "not done any harm to our cause in Kashmir."

He said Pakistan would stand by its commitment to renounce the use of force in settling the dispute. He appealed to the nation to reject "propaganda of interested elements" — an apparent reference to members of the political opposition who have called for the replacement of Ayub's government.

★ ★ ★

In the Lahore outbreak, police waded into an estimated 400-500 demonstrators with sticks, and, then were bombarded with a volley of bricks.

SWIRLING MOB

An official government statement today said officers opened fire after one policeman was wounded by a shot from the swirling mob of students.

★ ★ ★

The brick-throwing demonstrators — mostly college students — converged on police from two sides and officers had to fire in self-defense, the statement said.

Major Crimes Up 19 Pct. in Detroit in '65

DETROIT (AP)—The largest major crime increase in this city in eight years—19.3 per cent—was reported by Detroit police for 1965.

The FBI added that Detroit led in percentage increase of major crimes for the first three quarters of 1965 among the nation's six most populous cities.

★ ★ ★

Police Commissioner Ray Girardin said the main reason for the increase was juvenile offenses.

He said arrests for major crimes increased 6.9 per cent in 1965.

INCREASED ARRESTS

"The increased number of arrests shows this is a crime-fighting department," Girardin said.

★ ★ ★

The largest increase in major crimes, including homicide, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny over $50 and auto theft, was in auto theft which rose from 9,610 in 1964 to 12,661 in 1965.

Controversial Bill to Ease Taxes on Aged Renters Resurrected in House

LANSING (AP)—One of the first, last and most controversial issues of the 1965 legislative session was resurrected in the second day of the 1966 session, shortly before lawmakers adjourned for a long weekend.

Rep. Lucille McCollough, D-Dearborn, introduced a bill Thursday to extend the equivalent of property tax relief to senior citizen renters.

★ ★ ★

A similar measure died in a special one-day meeting Dec. 9 in which Democrats tried in vain to pick up the one House vote and three Senate votes they needed to override Gov. George Romney's veto.

The defeat of the bill climaxed nearly a full year of fighting between the Republican governor's office and the Democratic majority.

CHIEF SPONSOR

Mrs. McCollough was chief sponsor of a bill passed last year to give tax relief to home owners over 65 with annual incomes of $5,000 or less. It will exempt the first $2,500 of homes with a $10,000 state equalized valuation ($20,000 cash value).

The renters bill, a companion to the home owners law, would reimburse the oldsters an amount equivalent to the local tax on the state equalized value of their residence, up to a maximum valuation of $2,500.

★ ★ ★

It would mean cash reimbursements averaging $93 a year for about 175,000 elderly renters, Mrs. McCollough said.

The measure, she added, is cosponsored by virtually every Democrat in the House, meaning it already has enough support to pass.

Libya exported its first barrel of oil in 1961. Today it is the Free World's seventh-ranked oil exporter, sending out more than one million barrels a day.

Three U-M Profs Find Evidence Lasers May Take Bumps Out of Future Plane Rides

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Airline passengers who have had coffee flung into their laps by unexpected air "bumps" may have fewer dry-cleaning bills one day, thanks to lasers.

Lasers are defined as devices that utilize the stimulation of high energy atoms by light for amplifying a beam of light. The term stands for "light amplification by stimulated emission of radiation."

Three University of Michigan physicists reported Thursday they have found evidence lasers may be useful in detecting clear air turbulence, dubbed "CAT" by pilots.

The scientists have been searching for their evidence with a light plane equipped with a laser radar (optical wavelength radar) into widely scattered regions of severe turbulence.

Profs. Peter Franken, Joe Jenney and David Rank said they will continue their experiments under Franken's direction with even more advanced equipment this year.

Clear air turbulence has been blamed for sending jetliners into uncontrollable attitudes which occasionally have resulted in fatal crashes—the aircraft plunging sharply and unexpectedly in a near-cloudless sky.

★ ★ ★

Franken told newsmen his team's investigations of CAT are based on the fact that so-called clear air really isn't.

The air always contains aerosols such as tiny dust particles, ice crystals or other matter about one micron (1-25,000th inch) in size, which cannot be detected by conventional microwave radar.

OPTICAL WAVE-LENGTHS

Lasar radars are used because optical wave-lengths are not.

For example, he said, "weather radar goes through clouds, but optical radar cannot see through them."

★ ★ ★

Severe clear air turbulence often is associated with the interaction of two air currents of significantly different temperatures and dynamic conditions.

Franken and his colleagues believe there might be abrupt changes in the particle concentration at the interface between these currents which could be detected by the laser radar.

CURRENT WORK

The current work is based on 1964 experiments which showed that otherwise invisible aircraft wakes could be detected by laser radar.

The early experiments were conducted by the laser systems center of Lear Siegler, Inc.

★ ★ ★

Data from more than 1,300 experiments was gathered by flying into severe storm areas near Norman, Okla., mountain wave air current regions near Denver, Colo., and the air near Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Of these experiments, about 1,200 failed to reveal either turbulence or the presence of aerosols in a form described by the physicists as "discontinuities in particulate matter."

Of the remaining 100 experiments, however, the physicists reported about one-third showed particulate discontinuities alone, a third turbulence alone, and the rest showed them together. Clear air turbulence, being a localized phenomenon, is hard to find, Franken said.

The critical question now is whether there are characteristic differences in the distribution of the particulate matter in turbulent versus quiet areas, he reported.

"We have in mind the possibility that turbulent regions could provide a bunching or 'blotchiness' of particulate matter that might have a merely layered structure in calm atmospheres," he explained.

The experiments will continue this year using a new type of laser now under development which is expected to provide a two-dimensional map of the forward areas, which have not been available from the one-dimensional explorations conducted so far.

Cuban Exiles Plan Anti-Castro Raids

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Resuming anti-Castro forays into Cuba is high on the agenda for 1966, say Cuban exile representatives.

★ ★ ★

"This year there will be continuous actions, effective actions that will help bring about Fidel Castro's fall," said the Cuban exile representation in its newspaper. "These actions will start soon."

★ ★ ★

Andres Nazario Sargen, head of the Revolutionary Alliance, whose commander, Eloy Gutierrez Menoyo, is Castro's prisoner, said: "This will be the most violent year except for the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion."

If your furnace
can't face another winter,

consider the heart-warming advantages of electric heat

We've got some good news about replacing your tired old furnace. It's easier and faster when the switch is to electric heat. Less trouble, less muss and fuss.

In fact, some of the nicest things about electric heat are the things you don't get: no flame, no soot, no chimney or chimney connections. You do get even, clean heat.

There are many different kinds of electric heating systems available. So you can be sure of getting one that best fits your modernizing plans—big or small. Choose from drop-in floor units, wall units, ceiling panels or baseboard units; all give you room-by-room temperature control.

Or choose from two types of central electric heating systems—forced-air or hydronic. Either system can be tailored to give you comfortable "zone" temperature control. The forced-air system can be set up for room-by-room control.

Cost? That depends on your home. One thing is certain—it won't cost a cent to find out. Just call us at Edison. We'll send out one of our Heating Specialists. He'll gladly answer any questions and will give you accurate estimates on monthly operating costs. We think you're in for a heart-warming surprise.

Barber Shop Event

Songfest Is Set Jan. 22

A barbershop songfest is planned for Pontiac Northern High School at 8:15 p.m., Jan. 22.

Called the Pontiac Holiday of Harmony, the program will feature both local and national barber shop quartets.

Headlining the program will be the Four Rascals, a Boston group that was runner-up last year in the International Finals.

Also, the Four Fits, Michigan District Champs, will perform. The program is sponsored by the local chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Singing in America, Inc.

★ ★ ★

Tickets are available at Osmun's, Hallman Drugs in Waterford Township, Grinnells at the Pontiac Mall and the Center Pharmacy in Clarkston.

Congress Allergic to Change

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in "The Image of Congress" series. This deals with committee handicaps including seniority. The third will predict which recommendations likely to be approved.)

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty

WASHINGTON — Pupils in a civics class know that the Congress does its work through the committee system, but how clumsily and ineffectively it operates is known best to the 535 members of Congress.

Many want reforms, but Congress as a whole is allergic to change fearing that something new may be worse than living with what is known.

Yet some recommendations for improving the committee setup are expected to come out of the Joint Committee on Organization of Congress, which convenes again on Jan. 18.

An unflattering public image of Congress often comes from the dependence on seniority for leadership. Just because a man manages to build seniority by getting elected repeatedly doesn't mean that he's the most qualified man to be chairman of a committee.

★ ★ ★

For years, because Democrats from the South came from "safe" districts they mounted the seniority ladder to the chairmanship.

10 FROM SOUTH

Today, 10 of the Senate committee chairmen of the sixteen standing committees are from the South.

A chairman has a lot of power. He can delay action on a bill by not calling meetings, by putting it low on the agenda, by naming to a subcommittee the members who agree with his opinion of the proposed legislation.

Here are some suggested changes:

- Let the committee members elect their chairman by secret ballot . . . they know best which man is best qualified.
- Let the entire membership of the party in power vote from the top 3 or 4 members.
- Prohibit any one section of the country from having more than one half of the chairmanships of major committees.
- Rotate chairmanship between top two senior members.
- No member should serve as chairman of more than one committee.

★ ★ ★

Highly favored is a recommendation to permit a majority of the committee to decide the committee agenda, call meetings, and establish priorities . . . for action so that the chairman does not completely dominate.

TOO MANY COMMITTEES?

Then there is a question of too many committees.

Twenty years ago, the old La Follette-Monroney reorganization committee did reduce the number of committees but the result of that reform was the sprouting of many subcommittees.

Yet again there is some desire to reduce the number of standing committees with overlapping jurisdictions.

In the Senate, for example, merge the post office and civil service committee with the rules and administration committee.

ANOTHER MERGER

Another suggestion would transfer the House Committee on Un-American Activities to the House Judiciary Committee.

Eleven members testified in favor of more joint committee hearings considering the same subject matter in order to conserve witness time and avoid duplication of testimony. (Secretary of State Rusk and Secretary of Defense McNamara spend endless hours away from their jobs to testify at hearings.)

More committees should be open to the public and attendance by members should be a matter of public record, it is proposed.

Republicans have been bitterly complaining about inadequate minority staffing. Bipartisan support exists for an improvement of the quality and background of the staff.

How to Save on Taxes—11

Distinction Required on Contributions

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the 11th of a 14-part series, "Cut Your Own Taxes," by tax expert Ray De Crane, designed to help readers save money on their income tax returns.)

By RAY DE CRANE
NEA Special Writer

Form 1040 for 1965 calls for a clear-cut distinction in your contributions between cash gifts and those other than cash. For this purpose, checks and money orders are treated as cash.

★ ★ ★

Purpose of the change is to exercise greater control over claimed contributions of used clothing, furniture, appliances to welfare organizations, even over the donation of works of art, property and securities to libraries, museums and churches.

Whenever anything other then cash is contributed, a statement must be attached to the return explaining how the value of the contributed article was arrived at, the description and date made.

Most common charitable contributions are to your church, Community Chest, Red Cross or your college.

★ ★ ★

Also properly deducted are contributions made to a nonprofit hospital, Salvation Army, Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, health funds, societies for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals.

MAXIMUM LIMIT

Your contributions are generally limited to a maximum of 20 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

However, an additional 10 per cent of income is allowed if the contributions were in general to churches, tax-exempt educational institutions and hospitals, for certain medical research organizations, and governmental agencies using the gifts for public purposes.

Many housewives frequently have another form of allowable charitable contribution which is generally overlooked.

★ ★ ★

That is the out-of-the-pocket expenses they incur while performing work as a volunteer to a qualified religious, charitable or similar organization.

STANDARD RATE

Such expenses could include transportation from your home to the place where your volunteer work is performed. IRS will permit a standard rate of five cents per mile of auto use.

Also properly deductible by a volunteer are the cost of meals while away from home rendering his services and the initial cost and upkeep of any required uniforms which do not have any general utility.

Under no circumstances may you claim as a deduction any value placed on your time while performing such volunteer work.

Whenever such out-of-pocket volunteer expenses are claimed, an explanatory statement should be attached to your tax return.

(Next: Deductible taxes.)

Drops Mop, Hops Home

ODESSA, Tex. (UPI) — Jose Sandoval, 21, left his mop in the Ector County jail and went home.

Sandoval was serving time for a traffic violation.

He returned three hours later and told jailers:

"I just wanted to visit my wife and family."

'Stop Blocking New Freeway'

DETROIT (UPI) — The State Highway Department yesterday said a proposed interstate highway across the southern part of Oakland and Macomb Counties would carry between 120,000 and 125,000 vehicles a day.

Highway Director Howard E. Hill predicted the congestion-relieving potentials of the superhighway in a letter to seven towns which have withheld approval of the proposed route for Interstate 696.

"All information obtained leads us to conclude that it is imperative that the freeway be constructed and that there remains little time for changes in the route's location through your community," Hill wrote to the city councils of the communites involved.

Hill asked Oak Park, Southfield and Pleasant Ridge to reverse their decisions against the highway.

Those towns' councils previously rejected the proposed route, claiming it would disrupt their area.

Hill urged the councils of Huntington Woods, Hazel Park, Roseville and St. Clair Shores to consider the location questions as soon as possible.

READY FOR SESSION — Herb Alpert (left) has his boys of the Tijuana Brass aggregation all tuned up for a recording session in Hollywood. The group is currently riding a wave of popularity with a sound combining ancient music heard at bullfights with a north-of-the-border beat.

Tijuana Brass Combination Is Old Sound, New Beat

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Music fans are often astonished when they encounter Herb Alpert, leader of a band with the unlikely name, Tijuana Brass.

THOMAS

They expect to find a jolly Mexican of the type Leo Carrillo used to play in "The Cisco Kid." Instead, they meet an intent and coolly handsome Jewish boy of 28.

This mixture is part of the power and charm of the Tijuana Brass, which combines an ancient musical sound — the Mariachi band — with a north-of-the-border beat and recording know-how.

★ ★ ★

The combination has proved a heady mixture for Alpert, once a movie musician. His albums are selling in the millions; two are among the top three current best-sellers. He and the band have appeared on every TV variety show, and his concerts are sellouts.

Some long-sighted observers are predicting the Tijuana Brass is the greatest thing to happen to the band business since Benny Goodman first tootled his clarinet at the New York Paramount.

CALMER VIEW

Alpert takes a calmer view.

"Bring back the band business?" he muses. "I don't know if anyone can do that. There will always be a few great old bands like Count Basie and Woody Herman. But I'm afraid the days when a Harry James could play one-nighters from coast-to-coast are gone forever.

"The economics of the music world just won't permit big traveling bands any more. But I do think there is a chance for new bands which are smaller and specialize in frequency sounds — seeking new patterns instead of the same color tones of saxes, trumpets and trombones that once existed in bands."

★ ★ ★

Alpert would allow that the Tijuana Brass brought trumpets back in style, and that was what he was after. His original concept was actually born at the bull ring in the Mexican border town for which the band is named — and where he never actually has played.

★ ★ ★

"I was enjoying the Mariachi music between the bullfights, and I wondered why it had never become popular in the United States," he recalled. "I decided to cross the Mariachi sound with the pulsation of American jazz."

FIRST RECORD

His first record even incorporated the bullfight cheers. He and partner Jerry Moss put up $100 apiece to record "The Lonely Bull" in 1962. It was a success, particularly on the West Coast, but the two partners were told that their music was strictly regional.

★ ★ ★

They didn't think so. They were convinced by a Tijuana Brass gum commercial that became a hit in Minneapolis, Philadelphia and Washington, D.C. The newly formed A&M records issued "Whipped Cream," which logged over a million sales.

★ ★ ★

"A Taste of Honey" is approaching the million mark. With both teen-agers and their doddering parents as fans, there seems to be no limit on future high notes for the Tijuana Brass.

Set to Redirect Poverty Attack

Powell Plans to Aim at Jobs and Training

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell plans to ask Congress to rewrite its anti-poverty legislation, scrapping all cultural and social programs and concentrating on job training and employment.

In an interview Thursday, the New York Democrat said he will sketch in details for his proposed new look for the controversial $1.5-billion program when the House Education and Labor Committee, which he heads, holds hearings on it in a week or two.

★ ★ ★

The program should be directed solely at providing jobs for the hard-core unemployed, Powell said.

"Jobs is going to be the name of the game," he said.

FEW TO TESTIFY

The only witnesses will be Cabinet officials and agency heads involved in the program.

If Powell gets his committee and the Congress to go along with him, it could lead to an administrative upheaval in the Office of Economic Opportunity, which now directs the varied programs making up what President Johnson calls the "war on poverty."

★ ★ ★

Powell should have little trouble getting his committee to go along with him. Many of its leading Democrats are known to share his views.

He should also be able to expect some Republican support in the House since he is borrowing heavily from GOP proposals, including reliance on private industry to provide on-the-job training.

Powell did not say what cultural and social programs he wanted to see dropped. But he said anything that wouldn't provide training or a job would have to go.

Rocket to Carry a Pinch of Dirt From Lab Site

RICHLAND, Wash. (AP) — A pinch of dirt from Richland will be placed in a Thor rocket to be fired into orbit around the earth from Vandenburg Air Force Base, Calif.

The plan was announced Thursday by C. J. Dorrenbacher, Douglas Aircraft Co. vice president, at ground-breaking for the $1.7-million Donald W. Douglas laboratories.

The first shovelload of dirt, from which the pinch will be pinched, was placed in a metal canister. Dorrenbacher said the mission of the rocket which will carry the dirt is secret.

Douglas is a contractor for operation of reactors at the Hanford Atomic Works here.

It's Curtains for Crooks if She's Chief

CAMDEN, Maine (AP) — This town of 3,500 may soon have lace curtains in its jail and its police chief may be a woman.

June Kincade, 37, who has applied for the job says, "I'm very good with a .22 rifle and a .12 gauge shotgun. I practice target shooting and, yes, I can hit the bullseye."

★ ★ ★

A second woman, Marjorie Knowlton, 38, who also applied for the job along with 22 men, told the town officials: "The experience of policing three children for 16 years" is all the training anyone needs.

Town Manager Percival H. Wardwell said women will get the same consideration as men. But he said that the selectmen are looking for a person with at least five years experience with police problems, not children.

BOTH DECIDE

Mrs. Knowlton said she and Mrs. Kincade made the decision together to apply for the job made vacant by the resignation of Chief Herbert Litchfield on Jan. 5.

"We wanted to see if women really have equal opportunities," Mrs. Kincade said.

★ ★ ★

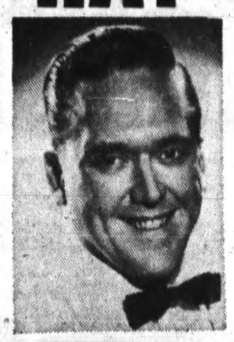

She said there was only one change she was going to insist upon in the police department.

She's going to hang curtains in the windows of the two-cell jail house, she said.

Female sea turtles seem to weep copiously during their visits to land to lay eggs. Actually a special gland between the eyes is ridding the turtle's body of salt absorbed from food taken at sea.

Jacoby on Bridge

By JACOBY & SON

Here is a hand from the International team trials that shows that experts don't always make as many tricks as ordinary players. Practically every South player reached the spade game even though the play for it is less than a 50 per cent chance. The trials were scored on International Match Points and that scoring method encourages the bidding of doubtful game contracts.

JACOBY

The ordinary player would not like his contract but he would make it because both the king and queen of clubs are located in the East hand. Now let's see how one expert managed to go down.

He won the king of diamond lead with the ace, promptly led a spade and finessed dummy's eight. East was in with the king and returned the three of diamonds. West won this trick with the queen and led the queen of hearts, whereupon South took dummy's ace and king of hearts and got back to his hand by ruffing a third heart.

Then South led a spade and finessed dummy's jack. East showed out and South proceeded to count the hand and concluded that West had probably started with exactly two clubs.

South played the jack of clubs from dummy. East covered with the king, and South won with the ace as West dropped the eight.

Now South led another trump to dummy's ace and played a second club. East played low and South had to decide whether West's remaining club was the queen or the nine.

He decided wrong and played a low club, whereupon West won the trick with the nine. South still had to lose to the queen of clubs and was one down.

Octopus Memory Discovered

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — There are, of course, memorable octopuses — such as those seen in horror movies — but now, alas, comes an octopus with a memory.

And, according to Dr. John Z. Young, it's a most important memory — both for octopuses and people.

★ ★ ★

Young, professor of human anatomy at University College, London, says he has discovered that the brain — of an octopus, at least — has two kinds of cells instead of only one type.

The newly discovered cells, found with the aid of an electron microscope, apparently secrete a substance that prevents repetition of harmful acts, Young said.

So, there's a memory, be it ever so primitive.

The British scientist, speaking at a conference at the California Institute of Technology, said he was certain the newly found cells exist in the brains of all animals, including man.

★ ★ ★

He said that the special cells give off an enzyme that blocks the passage of signals through other cells when those signals would tell the body to do something the brain has learned is harmful.

Young said he discovered the existence of the cells and the message-blocking enzyme while studying an octopus to see how it learns when to attack and when to retreat from a strange object.

SIMPLE CREATURES

And why pick on the octopus?

"All memory systems depend on making choices among alternatives. The reason we study how these choices are made by octopuses and other relatively simple creatures is that we can keep the choices simple and study the reactions more easily," he said.

"They have to be fast learners. In nature they don't get many opportunities to choose wrong."

Small Traders Return

Mart Boils to Record Ground

NEW YORK (AP) — A boiling stock market pushed further into record high ground early this afternoon amid inflationary fears and a return of many small traders and investors.

The ticker tape ran as much as 10 minutes late as a swarm of modest transactions crowded the reporting system of the New York Stock Exchange. The end of the New York City transit strike not only caused President Johnson to term the strike settlement inflationary but once again made it easy for the "little fellow" to get to his broker's office by bus or subway.

Fears of inflation were fed further by other factors, such as the rise in sulphur prices and a further rise in shoe prices.

The approach of the Dow Jones industrial average toward the "mythical" level of "Dow 1,000" was another emotional factor.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 2.0 at 368.8 with industrials up 2.0, rails up 2.0 and utilities up .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.11 at 987.80.

★ ★ ★

Both averages were above their historic closing highs on an intra-day basis.

Aside from the small transactions, a swarm of big blocks boosted volume.

★ ★ ★

Prices moved generally higher in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange. Gulf Sulphur rose 2. Up 1 or more were Jefferson Lake Petrochemicals, Duval and Solitron Devices. Smaller gains were scored by Banff Oil, Kilembe Copper, Argus and Syntex.

Corporate bonds were mostly unchanged. U.S. Treasury bonds declined.

To Reach LBJ Goals

Economy Must Boom

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — The economy will have to grow even faster if President Johnson is to achieve all his defense and "Great Society" goals without monetary inflation.

DAWSON

And some business economists may wonder if the proposed new tax schemes might slow the business boom a bit just when it is supposed to gather speed.

The boom will have to furnish the U.S. Treasury with the money it will need to hold down a deficit that could be inflationary.

The government itself would be pushing the boom along. The President urges Congress to appropriate nearly $113 billion for the fiscal year starting July 1. This would pump perhaps $8 billion more government money into the economy than in the current fiscal year. If inflation is avoided, the new money would be a big help in keeping prosperity rolling.

★ ★ ★

But the President also counts on the business boom increasing personal and corporate incomes enough to furnish the federal tax collectors with considerably more revenue than this year. He also wants to get more revenue quickly by earlier tax collections. Together, greater prosperity and faster tax collections are supposed to give the Treasury around $6 billion more revenue than in the current fiscal year. This would hold the Treasury deficit just below $2 billion and thus help stave off inflation.

Earlier collections means withholding more from pay checks of individuals without changing his total tax bill, and ordering corporations to pay more of their income taxes before 1966 ends, rather than waiting until 1967.

★ ★ ★

The catch is that earlier collections by the Treasury will be taking money out of the economic stream in the months just ahead. This could more than offset the greater spending by the federal government, which often lags behind appropriations.

And consumer spending is the biggest prop of the current economic boom. Less take-home pay this year might slow down such spending.

SPENDING PLANS

Business spending for plant and equipment is a prop of the economy, too. Much of the outlook for greater prosperity in the months ahead has been built on the announcements that corporations plan to spend even more than last year.

Some economists fear that if the Treasury collects around $3 billion more in corporate tax this year, without affecting the total bill that would be settled eventually, some companies might be pinched for cash and trim their spending plans.

Other economists, however, think that business is more likely to go right ahead with its capital goods investments. It would go into the money market and borrow the $3 billion it otherwise might have available in its cash tills. The demand for loans already is high and growing, and interest rates have been raised and could go still higher. This, too, could chill some business spending intentions.

Some businessmen shrug the whole thing off. They note that it will be 18 months before the fiscal year the President is talking about ends. And when the Treasury settles its books in July 1967, government spending may be $113 billion, or it may be more; and tax collections may be the projected $111 billion, or they may be less.

Politicians State Reactions to State of State Message

LANSING (AP)—Republican Gov. George Romney's State of the State message Thursday sounded like a Democratic program, Democratic legislators said.

It was distinctly Republican, the Republicans said.

The speech produced other "mixups."

Rep. Arnell Engstrom, R-Traverse City, former chairman of the ways and means committee, and traditionally a fiscal conservative, said the speech drew "the line between responsible progress and dangerous excesses."

OTHER END

At the other end of the spectrum, Senate fiscal watchdog Garland Lane, D-Flint, whose party generally is more liberal in money matters, called it "a giveaway."

Romney, predicting a budget of "well in excess of $900 million," called for "total Michigan progrses" in 1966. He outlined a program ranging from water pollution control to better marriage laws.

Such progress, he said, requires stimulated individual and private effort, stronger local government, better and broader state activities and full utilization of federal programs.

OTHER SUBJECTS

His nearly 4,000-word text went on from there to pinpoint such areas as increased support for education, improved property tax relief for veterans, more money for mental health, and parks and recreation.

Avoiding all criticism of the Democratic-dominated legislature, Romney proposed they work together to study problems, particularly urban renewal, condemnation procedures, mass transportation and law enforcement.

The severest criticism of Romney's fourth annual policy address to the state's lawmakers came from outside the legislature.

Zolton Ferency, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee and a potential gubernatorial candidate himself, went far beyond his fellow party members. He called the speech "a public confession of failure and an abdication of political leadership.

"At a time when Michigan needs desperately to move ahead with new and expanded programs in education, mental health, conservation and recreation, our governor has adopted the motto: 'don't just do something—stand there,' he added.

IN CONTRAST

In contrast to the lawmakers, Ference criticized Romney for not recommending tax reform.

No Sign Expansion of Formosan Role in Viet War Is Planned

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Speculation arises from time to time in the Far East that Formosa may become involved in the Viet Nam war as a staging or operational base, but nothing has been announced to indicate this is planned.

U.S authorities decline comment and Chinese military sources disclaim knowledge of any expanded role for Formosa.

★ ★ ★

Part of the speculation arose out of objections in Japan to use of Okinawa as the base for a bombing operation some months ago. The United States recognizes Japanese residual sovereignty over Okinawa and other islands in the Ryukyus.

The Chinese Nationalist island possesses a number of good bases. The Kung Kuan base in central Formosa is one of the finest and most modern in Asia.

OKAY AGREEMENT

One possible obstacle to stationing of substantial American forces in Formosa was cleared Tuesday when the Parliament approved an agreement governing the status of American forces in the Republic of China.

The United States has been formally committed since March 1955 to the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores. Years before that — in June, 1950, after the oubreak of the Korean War — the U.S. 7th Fleet was assigned to safeguard Formosa against aggression.

★ ★ ★

The United States maintains no operational forces in Formosa on a permanent basis.

The U.S.-Taiwan defense command can be transformed into a combat command at a moment's notice.

DURING CRISIS

This was done during the crisis in the Formosa Strait in the summer of 1958 when the Chinese Communists launched a bombardment intended to force the submission of the Quemoy Islands.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group was activated in May 1951 to train and advise the Chinese Nationalist forces. Its peak strength of 2,341 has been whittled down to about 800.

★ ★ ★

For years U.S. Air Force squadrons have served on rotation duty in Formosa.

Consequently, a sizable segment of the U.S. Air Force is familiar with this island.

★ ★ ★

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, was here last month. He told newsmen he knew nothing about reports that the United States would station B52s in Formosa.

The average age of the crews of the American fishing fleets in the North Atlantic is 60. The average fishing boats they use are 40 to 50 years old.

County Athletes Compete in Cobo Track Meet

If Dennis Wirgowski, Bay City Central's all-everything football player, was a drinker and smoker at the ripe old age of 18, he'd probably have his closet already filled with the best scotch and imported cigars.

Fortunately, these habits haven't become part of his routine, social or athletic, as yet.

★ ★ ★

He's a darn good football player and umpteen colleges are on his travel agenda, with an itinerary of wining and dining, under-21 style, of course.

Just recently Dennis sat on one of the huge airliners headed for Houston, Texas, with television and everything first class at his finger tips.

When he de-planed, a big Texan sporting a multi-gallon hat had a handshake awaiting him at the bottom of the stairway.

"Dennis Wahgahski, suh, muh name is . . . . . , welcome to our fair city."

Then on to a motel near the Houston University campus the limousine rolled.

TEXAN WEAR

Led to his motel room, the Bay City star found the attire for his visit laid out on his bed, including a 10-gallon hat, pair of beautiful boots and a pair of tight jeans.

★ ★ ★

Everything fit and the jeans were even bowed to the ankle to give this big youngster that ride-em cowboy look.

Now, Dennis mah boy, I've got to run along," said his cordial host.

"But what do I do now?"

"Don't fret, ya'll is in Houston and everything will be taken care of," said the Texan with the oil man's touch.

He didn't have a chance to break the spell he was under when the phone rang and the male voice on the other end immediately started talking.

★ ★ ★

Dennis, someone will be by to take you to dinner after which some of the boys will show ya'll 'round the campus and there's a movie ya'll will enjoy with your date later."

"But I don't know anyone in Houston."

Like a broken record all Houstonians must memorize the answer was, "Don't fret, suh, ya'll is in Houston, everything will be taken care of."

No sooner said than done. He hung up and the phone rang again. From the other end came a charming voice which drawled, "Heilllo Dennisss, ah guess ahm your date for the movie, and ya'll be with the boys when they pick us up when leaving the campus."

After finishing with his dress and a long glance in the full-view mirror of his 6-4 and 210-pound frame in the Texas outfit, plus a little practice with his Polish-accented Michigan English in Texan style, he heard a knock and off he went for the full schedule of learning, the three R's—ridin', rockin' and rollin'.

RETURNS HOME

With his glorious visit of learning the higher educational values of college behind him, Dennis made his first appearance to class Monday morning Texas style and unbending naturally for fear of possibly splitting the tight trousers.

★ ★ ★

Just a few days ago Houston was hit with a three-year probationary period, as quoted by the wire services "because of persistent infractions of recruiting, financial aid and football practice operations."

Before any of our high school heroes start thinking that this is common practice with our reputable colleges, they ought to ask themselves, "Should I take what is easily given to me, or should I earn what is ethically offered to me?"

Dennis will be a fine catch for some college team, but some college team might just get caught in its own web to overplay this lavish recruiting practice once too often.

UCLA Mentor Bests 'Duffy'

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

WASHINGTON (AP)—UCLA's Tommy Prothro didn't have much luck against Duffy Daugherty last fall, but he's 2-0 against the Michigan State coach this year.

The latest victory, edging out Daugherty for Coach of the Year honors Thursday in balloting by the 812 members of the American Football Coaches Association, came as a result of the first win, a 14-12 upset over Michigan State in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day.

★ ★ ★

Prothro began the 1965 season, his first at UCLA after a decade at Oregon State, by losing 13-3 to Daugherty's Spartans.

Michigan State rolled unbeaten the rest of the year and was anked No. 1 when the two teams next met in the Rose Bowl.

After losing to Michigan State, UCLA was unbeaten, although tied by Missouri, until it lost a wild 37-34 decision to Tennessee in the final game of the regular season. UCLA finished with a 7-2-1 record, unbeaten in its own league.

★ ★ ★

Prothro, who has been a finalist in AFCA voting before, said, "I'm the same coach I have been for a number of years, so it had to be fine players and assistant coaches."

CLEAN SWEEP

Jack Curtice of the University of California at Santa Barbara was chosen small-college Coach of the Year to make it a clean sweep for California. UCLA stands for University of California, Los Angeles.

"We work for the same boss and run the same offense, running quarterbacks and flankers," Curtice said as the two awards were announced.

Both colleges are units of the University of California system largest college system in the nation.

★ ★ ★

Curtice, former head coach at Stanford, Texas Western and Utah, is a past AFCA president and chairman of its rules committee. His team has an 8-1 record and lost 18-10 to heavily favored Los Angeles State in the Camelia Bowl.

The 45-year-old Prothro was an assistant at UCLA from 1949-54 under Red Sanders before moving to Oregon State in 1955.He was a staunch advocate of the old single wing formation, only recently switching to the wing T.

Asked about his secret for the Rose Bowl victory, he said, "Just a bunch of fine boys who wanted to win."

HARMONY FOR YANKEES — Phil Linz played a tune on his harmonica yesterday as New York Yankees pitching ace Whitey Ford signed his 1966 contract. Ford, who posted a 16-13 record last year, agreed to a contract calling for a reported $60,000. Linz, a utility infielder who was traded by the Yanks to Philadelphia last December, hosted the signing at his restaurant.

World's Top Thinclads Set to Participate

Brother Rice, Kimble Enter Teams; Olympic Runners Scheduled

Oakland County athletes from Royal Oak Kimball and Birmingham Brother Rice high schools will be rubbing elbows with some of the world's greatest track stars tonight.

They all will be participating in the first Motor City International Track Meet at Cobo Arena in Detroit. Pontiac's Gold Medal Olympian Hayes Jones is the meet chairman for the sponsoring Detroit Varsity Club.

Three eight-lap relay races for high school entries are included on the event schedule. Kimball, which won the state cross-country crown last fall, will vie in the Suburban Prep race. Also included are Roseville, Ecorse and Bentley.

Brother Rice will run against Catholic Central, Bishop Gallagher and others in the Parochial section; and Detroit's public schools will comprise the third division.

Olympic runners, world record holders, national and Big Ten champions are included in the star-studded lineup of competitors. There will be both men and women's races.

TOP STAR

Ralph Boston, now with the Los Angeles Striders Track Club will participate in two events: the long jump, in which he is the world's record holder; and the 60-yard high hurdles.

★ ★ ★

In that event, he will come up against Willie Davenport (the American who defeated Jones in the 1964 U.S. Olympic trial finals at Los Angeles), and also Richmond Flowers of Tennessee — the 1965 National High School champion.

High jumper John Thomas of Boston will meet Californian Max Lowe who beat him last month in a Canadian Indoor meet.

One of the stars in last winter's NCAA Indoor championships at Cobo Hall, Southern University's Theron Lewis, will run in the 600-yard run against Ollan Cassell, the New Yorker who was on the U.S. 1964 Olympic gold medal 1600-yard relay team.

The pole vault figures to be all John Pennel, the high-soaring Miamian who set the American indoor mark last week.

John Whetton (who ran a 4:02 behind Kansas's Jim Ryun last week at San Francisco) and Alan Simpson both of England are in the mile run Friday along with Dave Bailey of New Zealand and Dave Bartell from Miami of Ohio.

Among the outstanding women athletes will be Tennessee A&I stars Wyomia Tyrus and Edith McGuire who will run the 60-yard dash against each other.

Britain's Ann Smith — an 800-meters Olympic finalist — will vie against Canadian Olympian Abby Hoffman, U.S. Olympian Sandra Knott and Ann Arbor's Francine Kraker.

Colts, 49ers to Dominate West Offense

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two teams — Baltimore and San Francisco — will dominate the West All-Star squad's starting line-up on offense in the 16th annual Pro Bowl game Sunday.

All but two offensive starters for the West in the National Football League finale will be Colts or 49ers.

The exceptions are rookie halfback Gale Sayers of Chicago and guard John Gordy of Detroit.

FIVE STARTERS

San Francisco will furnish five starters, including quarterback John Brodie and fullback Ken Willard, also a rookie.

The Green Bay Pakcers, NFL champions, won't have a man on the starting offensive unit. But there may not be much squawking about that — because Packer coach Vince Lombardi is directing the West.

Lombardi says he has enough worries without listening to complaints from players.

"The main problem in getting ready for a game like this is terminology," Lombardi says. "Take pass routes.

★ ★ ★

"What we (Green Bay) call a 'fly' (meaning the receiver scoots downfield), San Francisco calls a 'streak.' What we call a 'post' (the receiver heads for the goal post) somebody else calls a 'pole'."

★ ★ ★

Rounding out Lombardi's starting offense will be end Dave Parks, tackle Walt Rock and center Bruce Bosley, all 49ers; flanker Jimmy Orr, tackle Bob Vogel, guard Jim Parker and end John Mackey, all Colts.

East Coach Blanton Collier of the Cleveland Browns released this starting line-up:

Tie Chicago, 1-1

Hull Checked by Bruins

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins are in last place in the National Hockey League, but they appear to have found a formula to stop scoring leader Bobby Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks.

The formula: assign Ed Westfall, a converted defenseman, as Hull's virtual skating partner whenever the Bruins play the first place Hawks.

Westfall allowed the Blond Jet only one shot on goal, a long flip from the blueline in the second period, as the Bruins earned a 1-1 tie Thursday night on defensemen Ted Green's 45-foot screen shot in the third session.

DESPERATION MOVE

Boston Coach Milt Schmidt assigned the rugged Westfall to shadow Hull in a desperation move early in the season. In the last four games, Hull hasn't been able to score when Westfall has been on the ice.

"I sympathize with Bobby," Schmidt said. "It's really frustrating for him, or anyone else, to be checked so closely. But you've got to do it to stop him. He's a great hockey player."

★ ★ ★

Westfall didn't even try to score as he matched stride for stride with Hull. He kept the 27-year-old left winger off balance from the opening face-off.

"I got a chance to (body) check him early and hit him," Westfall said. "I like it that way. It helps get me in the game and lets him know, 'here I am again. It's my job again tonight.' He gave me a couple of swats on the head, but they didn't hurt."

★ ★ ★

Hull, who leads the NHL with 32 goals and 55 points in 31 games, became irritated with Westfall's defensive tactics and received three minor penalties in the second period.

In the only other game played Thursday night, 41-year-old Johnny Bower turned in a 40-save show for his first shutout of the season as Toronto whipped Montreal 6-0.

It was the 27th career shutout for the Maple Leaf veteran.

Eddie Shack scored with the game just 21 seconds old when he swooped in on Montreal's Gump Worsley and beat the Canadiens' netminder with his 15th goal of the season.

City Jr. High Tankers Start

The city Board of Education's Operation Waterproof — Junior High School will begin tomorrow morning at Pontiac Northern High School's swimming pool.

The program is open to all city junior high school age youngsters and has two classes each Saturday morning. Registration will be tomorrow preceding the classes.

Those wishing to learn swimming in the 9 a.m.-10 a.m. class will register at 8:30 a.m.; a 10:30 a.m. sign up will precede the 11 a.m.-noon class.

An $8 registration fee must be paid for the 10-Saturday program. Junior and senior life-saving instruction will be given those eligible.

Boys will furnish their own suits, towels and soap.Girls, in addition, must bring their own caps. Directing the swim classes will be Robert Spence, assisted by Alice Parker and Dale Caswell.

Injury to Shoulder May Slow Mantle

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A mysterious shoulder injury that could curtail his baseball career is a matter of serious concern to New York Yankee baseball star Mickey Mantle.

Contacted at his Dallas, Tex., home, Mantle said he would go to the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., early next week for a three-day check-up which will determine his baseball future.

Yankee General Manager Ralph Houk revealed the new injury to the baseball great Thursday, announcing at the same time that southpaw Whitey Ford, ace of the New York pitching staff, had signed his contract for next season.

Ford reportedly signed for $60,000, the same money he received last year when his season record was 16-13.

Mantle said he is taking the injury seriously, but indicated he would not actually know what it means to him until the check-up is completed.

"If I am physically able to play and won't embarrass the fans, I desperately want to play another year," Mantle said.

LEG TROUBLES

Mantle's legs and a knee injury have troubled him for several seasons, but he said his legs are in "good shape." He said he has been playing golf and running to get into condition for the approaching season.

Mantle said he did not know what caused the injury, but said that he "aggravated" it while playing touch football with his children on Christmas, 1964.

Mantle said the shoulder injury bothered him some during the 1965 season. He only played in 122 games last year, batted .256, hit 19 homers and had only 46 RBI.

★ ★ ★

He said that he had not been doing any throwing in his preseason conditioning. The brilliant but brittle outfielder said he would have to wait about throwing until the check-up allows the physicians to determine the extent of the injury.

Continues Golf Habit

Aaron Leads at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Tommy Aaron, who led in the first round in 11 PGA golf tournaments last year, but never won one, and husky Chris Blocker, whose name may ring a bell with television fans, led the way into the second round today of the $40,000 San Diego Open.

The pair shot 6-under-par 65s in the first round, but a small army of rival professionals was too close for comfort as play resumed today over the par 35-36—71 Stardust Country Club course.

Blocker, a 195-pounder from Jal, N.M., is the cousin of Dan Blocker, "Hoss" of the Bonanza TV series.

SECOND YEAR

Chris is starting his second year on the circuit. He won $1,400 in the Los Angeles Open last week.

Aaron, 28, is rated one of the most consistent pros in the business, although he has never won a national title.

★ ★ ★

Thirty-nine players bettered par in Thursday's first round. But the carnage wasn't as bad as a year ago when 51 shattered regulation figures in the initial round.

Unheralded Lou Graham from Nashville, Tenn., started today's round one shot back of the co-leaders and tied at 67 were Mason Rudolph, Paul Bondeson, Harold Kneece and Bob Zimmerman.

Better known name players trailed.

SF May Raise Pay for Mays to Top Phase

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The annual guessing game has started: How much will Willie Mays earn this coming season?

The San Francisco Gaints center fielder already tops all baseball players at $105,000 and is the sport's acknowledged top gate attraction.

Because he led the majors with 52 home runs in 1965 and became the National League's Most Valuable Player, the 35-year-old Mays is in for a raise. But for how much?

Two guesses have been made by newsmen who get paid for covering the Giants. One speculates Mays will draw a little under $150,000. Another figures the figure at closer to $115,000 because of Mays' tax bracket.

Ted Williams reportedly once was paid $125,000 by the Boston Red Sox. When confronted with this figure, Giants' vice president Charles (Chub) Feeney commented:

"I suspect the $125,000 figure for Williams might be a little high. But regardless, Willie will probably top all past figures."

Winter Sports Areas in Use Around City

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department has announced additional winter sports facilities ready for use this weekend.

In addition to tobogganing at Murphy Park, there is also sledding and ice skating, a warming area and lights for nighttime participation.

Some unsupervised tobogganing and sledding is available at the Municipal Golf Course; and ice skating has been provided at Oriole Field, LeBaron, Crofoot and Washington Schools.

There is also skating at several Waterford Township areas, including a lighted ice area at the Drayton Plains Softball Park.

Titans Whip Notre Dame

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Detroit handed Notre Dame its eighth straight college basketball defeat Thursday night, 97-84, after the Irish got into serious foul trouble.

Notre Dame starter George Restovich was lost on fouls with 27 seconds left in the first half while starter Brian Keller went out with 14:22 left in the second half.

★ ★ ★

The Irish led at 16-10, and the score was tied six times before Detroit went ahead 30-29 on a rebound shot by Lou Hyatt. The margin was extended to 49-40 at halftime.

Commission Takes Action

Deer Policy Review Ordered

LANSING (AP) — The State Conservation Commission today ordered a complete review of its deer management policies following a drastic drop in hunter shooting success last season.

"We believe that some of the disappointment over last year's deer season was caused by a new pattern of season dates," the commission said.

It said it will ask the Legislature to return to the statewide Nov. 15-30 season.

Shooting started a week earlier in the Upper Peninsula than in the Lower Peninsula during the 1965 season.

The commission ordered deer experts to review their methods of obtaining deer population and kill figures and to study alternative methods of harvesting anterless deer.

One suggestion was to allow a deer or fawn to be shot as a "camp deer" in addition to the regular hunter quota. At present, anterless deer permits are issued in areas where the department thinks the animals are in danger of starvation because of food shortages.

The game division also was instructed to develop immediate proposals for a deer habitat improvement program. This would consist of such measures as additional timber cuttings to provide browse.

★ ★ ★

Legislators will be invited to tour deer yards this spring to get a first-hand look at the problem.

The commission was told Thursday that hunters bagged about 32,000 fewer deer this past season than in the previous year.

Beaver and otter trapping regulations were approved.

Beaver regulations will be slightly more liberal than last year, particularly in the western Upper Peninsula. Bag limits will range from eight a season in the western Upper Peninsula to four a season in sections of the northern Lower Peninsula.

Otter regulations generally will be more restrictive, ranging from three a season in the Upper Peninsula to a closed season in some sections of Lower Michigan.

The commission accepted a gift of some 150 acres of land on Lake Huron, in Presque Isle County. The tract, valued at $80,000 and donated by Jesse Besser of Alpena, will become part of the Black Lake State Forest.

Illinois Breaks Ahead in Cage Race

CHICAGO (AP) — Illinois, breaking ahead in the Big Ten basketball title chase with a 3-0 mark, tries to extend the lead at Purdue Saturday in one of four conference games on tap.

Purdue is 0-2 despite having the nation's top major collegiate scorer, Dave Schellhase, with a 32.2 average. Schellhase, however, is second to Michigan's Cazzie Russell in Big Ten scoring. Russell has 29.5 in two games and Schellhase 28.0.

In other Saturday encounters, Ohio State (0-1) is at Michigan State (2-0) for a televised game, Indiana (0-2) is at Minnesota (0-1) and Michigan (2-0) is at Northwestern (1-1).

Illinois has two players in the top 10 of the scoring list, Don Freeman third with 27.3 and Rich Jones 10th with 21.7.

The old song goes "I wish I was in Peoria." But the Bradley Braves undoubtedly wish Drake had been somewhere else.

Drake, which lost 64-52 to Bradley last Saturday at Des Moines, Iowa, invaded the Illinois home of the fifth-ranked Braves Thursday night and upset them 75-66.

★ ★ ★

Brigham Young, No. 7 in The Associated Press poll, also came a cropper, bowing 81-78 to New Mexico at Albuquerque, N.M.

The only other member of the Top Ten to see action, Duke's No. 1 Blue Devils, badly scared before nipping Clemson 87-85 on the road Tuesday, found things more comfortable at home, trouncing Maryland 76-61.

★ ★ ★

Bradley's defeat was the first at home this season after 10 straight victories and left the Braves at 13-2 over-all and 3-1 in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Brigham Young, held to only 28 points in the first half of its Western Athletic Conference game, rallied in the second half but could get no closer than one point, 66-65, to the Lobos.

TOUGH TIME

Duke had a fight on its hands for a while at Durham, N.C., before winnings its 11th straight for a 12-1 over-all record and a 5-1 Atlantic Coast Conference mark.

★ ★ ★

Tulsa took advantage of Bradley's loss to move into first place in the Missouri Valley with a 3-0 record by edging North Texas State 62-60 at Tulsa, Okla., on Gene Demaree's lay-up with 28 seconds left.

★ ★ ★

Boston College, a major Eastern independent, suffered a scare before defeating Northeastern 70-63.

Two Million Fans Expected by Braves

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Braves' baseball team says it expects nearly two million fans to buy tickets to National League games in Atlanta next season.

★ ★ ★

William C. Bartholomay, chairman of the board, told a federal court here a total of 2,200,000 tickets already have been printed for the 1966 season.

Advance ticket sales already are underway, and Atlanta sports fans have exceeded expectations.

★ ★ ★

Bartholomay made the remark in the state of Wisconsin's antitrust suit against the baseball team's transfer to Atlanta from Milwaukee.

New Format Used by AFL in Bowl Tilt

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The two-time champion Buffalo Bills meet a one-week old All-Star team Saturday in the American Football League's All-Star Bowl — an old game with a new name that closes the season and opens a new chapter in football.

★ ★ ★

The game, which will be televised nationally by NBC starting at 2 p.m., EST, is a radical departure from the usual post-season All-Star game matching teams from the East and West and thus presents some intriguing situations.

★ ★ ★

"You've got a highly coordinated team like Buffalo playing against one that's only been together a week," said All-Star Coach Sid Gillman of San Diego in putting his finger on one of the situations created by the new format.

In addition, this first All-Star Bowl marks the debut of Joel Collier, who succeeded Lou Saban when the AFL Coach of the Year quit for a coaching job at the University of Maryland.

★ ★ ★

Collier will have the same offensive weapons that were available to Saban as the Bills won the AFL championship — quarterback Jack Kemp, the league's most valuable player, running backs Wray Carlton and Billy Joe and receivers such as Bo Roberson, Paul Costa and either Ernie Warlick or Ed Rutkowski.

Monte Carlo Auto Rally Under Way

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (UPI) — The 35th Monte Carlo auto rally got under way Thursday night when 19 cars set out from Oslo, Norway.

The cars were to attack what were described as the worst pre-race weather conditions for many years, with most of the roads throughout northern, western and central Europe under several inches of snow and ice.

A total 213 cars of the original 244 entries still were officially registered when the race began and were to set out from the following cities at staggered times: Bad Homburg, Germany (25 cars), Lisbon (30), Monte Carlo (35), London (42), Rheims, France (34), Oslo (19), Warsaw (16), Minsk, Soviet Union (3) and Athens (9).

Among the top entrants this year were the British B.M.C. Mini teams led by Paddy Hopkirk and Henry Liddon, and Timo Makinen and Paul Easter, both previous winning teams.

Fish Biologist Is Promoted

Henry J. Vondett, district fish biologist of the Conservation Department at Pontiac Lake, will become regional fish biologist for the Upper Peninsula Jan. 23.

Vondett, a department fisheries man for 22 years, will succeed James A. Scully who is being assigned new duties at the Marquette regional office as supervisor of hatchery and public access programs above the Straits.

★ ★ ★

The region's newly-named fish biologist has been at Pontiac Lake since early in 1965.

Immediately prior to that, he was district fish biologist at Plainwell, having been promoted to that post after working a number of years at the Hunt Creek and Hastings fisheries research stations.

Scully, a 34-year veteran of the department, has been in charge of fisheries activities for the Upper Peninsula since 1947.

The department has not designated a new district biologist for Pontiac Lake

ICE FISHING

On the ice fishing front, activity has picked up in the area with two good fish being reported.

William Schroeder, 942 Wolverine, Walled Lake, speared a 12-pound, 3-ounce northern pike Wednesday at Walled Lake.

A 6¼-pound walleye was taken at Lakeville Lake this week by Brian Frank, 225 Kingston, Addison Township. Not many walleyes are caught from this lake, but those hooked are usually five pounds or better.

A dangerous condition exists at Pontiac Lake. There was a large area of open water over the pike fishing grounds off the state park this morning.

Conservation Department officials fear that the open area may freeze over with a thin coat of ice and become snow covered so that fishermen can't see the danger.

Chief Matmen in SVC Win

Pontiac Central made its Saginaw Valley Conference wrestling record 2-1 and won its fourth dual meet in six starts by defeating Bay City Central, 38-8, last night.

The Chiefs lost the first and last match but in between, overwhelmed the host Wolves. Bill Hollis, Dan and Ben Rodriguez posted consecutive falls and Cecil Powell pinned his foe earlier.

At Farmington, Our Lady of Sorrows remained winless when Whitmore Lake won the final decision to protect a 27-22 triumph.

The host Lancers were down by 9 points then climbed within two before dropping the heavyweight verdict to Doug Burton of Whitmore.

Cliff LaFond (154 pounds) and Terry Caillouette (180) scored late pins for FOLS.

Umpire Quits National Loop

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Veteran National League umpire Vinnie Smith notified National League headquarters Thursday he will not be able to continue as an umpire because of a leg ailment.

He wrote league President Warren Giles that "I am retiring because of the serious condition of my leg which makes me unable to do the perfect job required of one in the position of an umpire."

Smith's leg ailment stems from a knee injury suffered when he was an active player as a catcher. He caught for the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1941 and 1946 and now lives in Pittsburgh.

Smith had to quit umpiring in mid-August of 1965 because of the ailing leg.

Gridiron Post at New Trier to Heikkinen

Former Pontiac Northern football coach Ed Heikkinen has been named head gridiron mentor at New Trier East High School in Winnetka, Ill.

He replaces Walter Aschenbach who is retiring at the end of the school year.

HEIKKINEN

Heikkinen has been an assistant football coach and physics teacher at New Trier East since 1963. He moved to the Illinois school after being PNH's first football coach.

In four seasons at Northern, Heikkinen directed the Huskies to an 18-16-2 record. He moved to PNH when the school opened after spending nine years as an assistant football and basketball coach and teacher at Pontiac Central.

A graduate of Bessemer (Mich.) High School, Heikkinen won Little All-America mention as a quarterback while studying in the Navy's V-12 program at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

He also lettered in baseball at the University of Michigan.

Semifinals Reached by Phyllis Preuss

ORMOND BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Defending champion Phyllis Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla., led the field into the semifinals of the South Atlantic Women's Amateur Golf Tournament Thursday with a 4 and 3 victory over Mrs. Harton Semple of Sewickley, Pa.

Miss Preuss will play Lynn Esau of Rochester, Minn., who edged 16-year-old Cindy Meyers of Ormond Beach 1-up.

Another teen-ager, Canadian junior champion Sandra Post of Ontario, overwhelmed Connie Day of Cleveland, Tenn., a national amateur semi-finalist, 5 and 4.

Miss Post will play Alice Dye of Indianapolis, who eliminated Maureen Crum of Plant City, Fla., 1-up with a par on the 18th hole.

Claims Joe Foss Out as AFL Commissioner

DETROIT (AP) — Dave Diles, sportscaster for Detroit radio and television Station WXYZ, said on his sports show Thursday that "Joe Foss is about to be fired as commissioner of the American Football League."

Foss was not immediately available for comment, but a league spokesman in Houston for the AFL All-Star game denied that Foss would be replaced.

VACATION OVER — A two-week vacation ends for Cranbrook's basketball team Saturday. The Cranes play at home against Howe Military of Indiana. Roger Cummings (left) and Ted Lowrie are expected to be in the starting line-up for Cranbrook which is 1-6 for the season.

PCH on Road, Huskies Home

Skippers Visit PNH; Romeo at Kettering

League games dominate tonight's prep basketball schedule.

Pontiac Central's Chiefs, ranked No. 1 in the state Class A poll, have a road date while Pontiac Northern entertains Waterford in an Inter-Lakes League contest.

The Chiefs move into Flint to take on Northern in a Saginaw Valley tilt, and the unbeaten team will be looking for its seventh victory of the season.

Waterford and PNH are both 1-0 in league play, so tonight's winner will claim the lead. The other I-L game has Walled Lake (0-1) visiting Farmington (0-1).

OTHER TILTS

In the Oakland A, Rochester, which dropped its first three games, has won four in a row and will be looking for No. 5 in a home encounter against Avondale (3-3).

Elsewhere in the O-A, Lake Orion (1-5) visits Troy (2-4), Madison (1-5) has a date at Warren Fitzgerald (4-2) and league-leading Warren Cousino (6-0) journeys to Clawson (4-2).

Kettering will entertain Romeo and the Captains will be looking for their seventh win of the season. They'll also be trying to protect their 2-0 lead in the Tri-County League.

★ ★ ★

Another Tri-County game has Oxford (1-2) visiting Lapeer (1-1).

KEY CLASHES

A couple of key contests are on the docket in the Southeastern Michigan Association where four teams share the lead.

★ ★ ★

Ferndale (2-1) meets Royal Oak Kimball (2-1) in one of the key tilts while Hazel Park (2-1) entertains Southfield (2-1) in the other. A third SEMA clash has Birmingham Seaholm (0-3) playing at Berkley (1-2).

In the Southern Thumb, Capac (5-0) entertains Anchor Bay (4-1), New Haven (1-4) visits Armada (0-5), Almont (3-2) plays at Brown City (1-4) and Dryden (4-1) journeys to Memphis (2-3).

In other games, Ortonville (3-2) entertains Flint Hamady (4-1) in a Genesee Suburban C contest, Utica (5-0) plays host to Warren and South Lyon (3-2) visits Saline.

Small Lens Found

Navel Maneuver Seen

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Take it from the whole Capital University basketball team and especially take it from Gary Walters — the contact lens Tom Koehler lost during the game really did show up in Walter's navel.

★ ★ ★

It wasn't enough that Capital lost its seventh game in seven Ohio Conference starts, 93-77 to host Ohio Wesleyan Thursday night. Koehler lost the lens once and the game was stopped until it was found.

He lost it again and a 15-minute search, replete with sweeping the floor with towels, was fruitless.

In the dressing room after the game, Capital player Bob Miller was nearby as Walters removed his jersey. Look there! said Miller.

★ ★ ★

There was the contact lens, embedded in Gary's navel. Walters said it must have popped out of Koehler's eye and slipped down his jersey during the action.

Four Games in Rec Play

'C' Township Quintets Paced by Buckner

The Waterford Township Class C men's basketball race began with three games last night; while one game was played in the city National League.

★ ★ ★

Stanfill's Sinclair took over third place by defeating UAW No. 653, 54-43 in the NL contest. An American League game was a forfeit win for McDonald's Drive-In over the All-Stars.

At Crary JHS, Buckener Finance, Ryeson's Market and the Yapo's Five won the "C" openers.

Jerry Paul's 34 points paced Buckner to a 66-49 win over Zilka Heating.

Jim Spadafore and Bob Peoples each hit 19 to lead Yapo's past Wayne's Service, 70-48.

Bundy Built Homes played without a fifth man for the final two-thirds of its game with Ryeson's and lost 66-58. Ryeson's had 10 players in the scoring column to offset Randy Parson's 23 for the losers.

Dan Fife Tops Scorers

'Must Game' for Barons

The sands of basketball time are running out on Bloomfield Hills in the Wayne-Oakland League race.

The Barons must beat first place Northville tonight at Bloomfield Hills or put the crown they won last season up for grabs. And if everything goes right for Northville, the Mustangs could lay early claim to the throne room.

★ ★ ★

West Bloomfield, and possibly Clarkston, are the only teams that appear to have a chance of overtaking Northville. Title dreams for one or the other or both could be shattered tonight.

Clarenceville plays at West Bloomfield, Holly goes to Clarkston and Brighton is at Milford.

Northville has had trouble only against Holly in running up a 5-0 league mark. The Mustangs are favored to add another win at the Barons' expense.

Bloomfield already has three losses and one more would take care of any title aspirations.

★ ★ ★

West Bloomfield is expected to up its record to 5-1 against last place Clarenceville.

The Trojans have looked good in some games and poor in others. If they are good against West Bloomfield and the Lakers are looking ahead to the engagement with Northville next week, Clarenceville could pull an upset.

TOP SCORERS

Opponents of Clarkston have been stopping the Wolves as a team, but none of them have been able to keep the Wolves' Dan Fife in check.

Clarkston has posted only a 3-3 record as a team, but in Fife, the Wolves have the hottest scorer in Oakland County.

In those six outings, Fife has pumped in 181 points for an average of 30.1.

The 6-2 guard has picked up 59 field goals to go with 63 throws in sparking the Clarkston attack.

★ ★ ★

Just a notch behind Fife are brothers Ken and Tim Baughman of Country Day who own 30.0 and 29.0 averages, respectively. The Baughmans, however, have played in only one game.

Royals Follow Stage Script

2nd Half Comeback Tops Hawks, 107-102

By the Associated Press

Fans in Indianapolis, Ind., saw the Cincinnati Royals in two acts.

The first act was an almost unbelievable one for the Royals — they hit on only 29 per cent of their field goal attempts, fell behind St. Louis by 21 points at one time Thursday night and trailed 63-45 at halftime.

But the second act was different as the stars moved front and center, and the Royals roared home for 107-102 victory over the Hawks to remain just a game behind the first-place Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

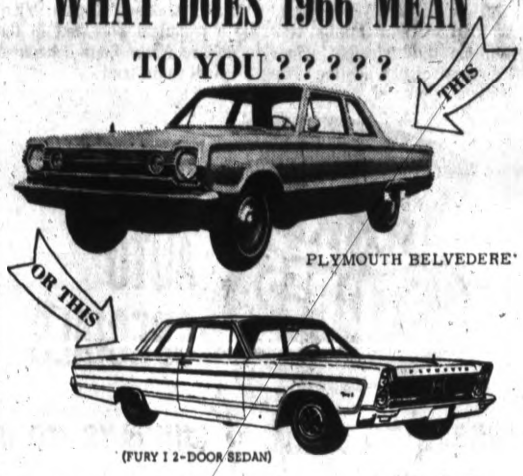

Happy Hairston, usually a supporting player in the Royals' cast — Lucas, Robertson and Smith are All-Stars — led all scorers with 26 points. Robertson netted 25, and Lucas and Smith got 20 each. Len Wilkins topped St. Louis with 22.

Dressen Aids Heart Fund

BOSTON (AP) — Two major league baseball managers who survived heart attacks will help kick off the 1966 Massachusetts Heart Fund at a luncheon Jan. 26.

Managers Birdie Tebbetts of the Cleveland Indians and Charlie Dressen of the Detroit Tigers accepted invitations from Loui Perini, state chairman of the Heart Fund drive. Tebbetts and Dressen formerly were managers of the Milwaukee Braves when Perini was sole owner of the club.

A very prominent name at this year's National All-Star Bowling Tournament in Joe Joseph's Lansing Pro Bowl won't be on the scoreboard, but is expected to revolutionize the tournament administratively.

Burroughs Corporation of Detroit will introduce its B300 computer that will record, tabulate and report the results daily in the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America $100,000 competition.

What normally takes quite a few people considerable time to do at the end of each squad will be done now in seconds.

In addition, the computer will have background information on the participants that it will provide to the news media upon request.

So quickly does the machine accomplish these details that Burroughs calls the speed "lickety split." However, to avoid any misunderstanding, let it be said that the B300 doesn't roll the ball or keep score.

The All-Star tourney will have a Pro-Am event Tuesday night. The 432 men will begin bowling Wednesday—first squad, 8 a. m. —and will be cut to 216 Saturday when the women will join them for five-games-per-day for three days.

This field will then be trimmed to 72 men and 72 women for two six-game blocks Tuesday, Jan. 25. Then Wednesday the top 16 men and 16 women (total pinfall) will begin bowling head-to-head, three-game matches through Saturday.

Sunday, Jan. 30 will find the top two men and top two women going before the national television cameras for the two All-Star titles.

Tickets are $1.25 general admission and $2 reserved until the cut to 72 men and 72 women. At that time, the prices go up to $1.50 and $2.50.

★ ★ ★

Although there has been a good advance ticket sale for the approximate 800 seats each session, there are tickets available for each day. They may be obtained by mail from Johnny Johns, Joseph's Pro Bowl, 2122 N. Logan, Lansing.

For those interested in seeing the tournament, the Pro Bowl is located in northwest Lansing, about one mile east of the airport.

Pontiac and Rochester teams did well during the first weekend of action in the 63rd annual State Bowling Association Tournament at Muskegon's Northway Lanes.

Rochester's Hazelton's Lettering (captain Carl Harris) and North Hill Lanes No. 3 (captain Bob Gronzo) hold the lead in the handicap and actual team events, respectively.

Hazelton hit 3,058 and North Hill 2,844. West Side Lanes' team, led by Les Pennell, is fifth in the handicap field with 3,002.

Individually, Bob Lawson and Hank Besancon of Pontiac are fourth in the handicap doubles (1,290); and Milford's Bill Diedrich (686) and Rochester's Ken McIntosh (672) are fourth and fifth in the handicap singles.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Women's Bowling Association secretary Gen Bradley has announced a week's extension of the deadline for entering this year's women's city tournament. The deadline now is midnight, Jan. 23.

★ ★ ★

She also advises all PWBA league secretaries that their report sheets as of Dec. 31 are due in her office—B-2, Pontiac State Bank—by tomorrow.

Winners Selected in Youth Bowling

Huron Bowl has announced the winners of its annual Youth Bowling Association program's Holiday Doubles Mail-O-Graphic handicap tournament.

Four boys' doubles teams won the trophies for the junior and prep leagues at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Saturdays.

Huron officials also submit their top scores to Detroit for the state contests. Those results will be announced later.

Dave Soutar PBA Leader in Colorado

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Lanky Dave Souter of Detroit has apparently found a bowling home in Colorado. The 25-year-old Motor City bowler came up with a six-game series of 1357 Thursday night to take the lead in the $35,000 Denver Professional Bowlers Association Tournament.

★ ★ ★

Souter had night games of 196-212-225-268-245-211 to add to his afternoon block of 1268. His resultant 24-game total of 5320 gave him the lead in a field of 16 top-ranking professionals into the round-robin match-game play Friday.

★ ★ ★

Souter just last spring won the $27,500 Pikes Peak PBA Open in Colorado Springs. His 739 series for his three games on national television was the highest recorded on a PBA TV final.

Souter also won the PBA National Championship at Cleveland in 1961.

Engineers Pacing Race in Table Tennis Action

Elliott Engineering moved two games in front of Dorris & Son Realty Thursday night in the Pontiac Table Tennis Association competition at Pontiac Central.

The engineers took a 6-4 win from Buettner's Cleaners while the realtors were losing, 6-4, to Richardson's Dairy.

Kennerly's Service climbed closer to fourth place by sweeping Francis Fuel, 10-0, and dropping the latter out of third place which was taken by Club 99, a 7-3 winner over Pepsi-Cola.

Enrollment Drop at OCC Expected, Say Officials

Oakland Community College's enrollment drop of about 13 per cent last semester was termed a normal decrease by college officials last night.

Dr. Albert Canfield, OCC vice president for curriculum, said that the loss of about 500 students of some 3,800 enrolled at the outset was about as expected.

He conceded that some of those who left were unable to adapt to the tutorial system at the college which lets the student set his own pace.

"Some students, a small proportion, just didn't adapt to our educational approach that doesn't involve ringing of bells and attendance taking," Canfield said.

★ ★ ★

College President John E. Tirrell said the first semester drop in enrollment was actually below average for community colleges.

FINAL MARKS

"Many experience enrollment decreases of 25 per cent from the start of a semester until final marks are issued," Tirrell said.

The second semester at OCC began Jan. 6 with an enrollment of approximately 3,000.

In other business last night, the board received petitions from faculty members at both campuses who seek recognition of the existing faculty senates on the two campuses as bargaining agent.

★ ★ ★

Faculty members present at the meeting said they had bypassed representation by either the Michigan Education Association or American Federation of Teachers to form the internal bargaining agency.

WITHHOLD ACTION

The board withheld action on the petitions pending further study. No faculty member vote would be required as in situations where two organizatoins are seeking bargaining rights.

Also last night, the board approved purchase of 7.12 acres of land adjacent to the Orchard Ridge Campus in Farmington Township for $16,376.

The road commission had requested the college to acquire the land and construct a turnaround area where Power reaches a dead end.

★ ★ ★

Suren Pilafian, architect for the master planning of the Auburn Hills Campus, presented a progress report to the board

MASTER PLAN

He said the master plan would be complete by March 15 and presented then for consideration of the board.

★ ★ ★

Groundbreaking on the first phase of the project is earmarked for April 1967 with completion of this phase by September 1968.

In other business, several letters from residents of southeastern Oakland County urging location of a campus in that area were received by the board.

Rail Union Exec Here to View Goals

International Vice President E. F. Brehany met with local officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen in Pontiac this week to discuss major wage and job goals for 1966.

Brehany said the BLF&E has launched moves on all major railroads for the restoration of jobs for locomotive helpers (firemen), wage hikes of 25 per cent, and other fringe benefits.

★ ★ ★

"With nearly 50 per cent of the freight and year locomotives being operated without firemen, the train accident rate has soared," the rail union official asserted.

The railroads contend that outdated work rules cost them some $600 million per year in unnecessary "featherbedding."

Officers Reelected by Planning Group

The Oakland County Planning Commission has reelected its three officers to one-year terms.

Serving a new term as president will be Donald A. Kalmbach.

Ralph A. Main and Roy F. Goodspeed were reelected vice-chairman and secretary respectively.

4 Suspects Arrested in Italian Art Theft

ROME (AP) —Police have arrested four Italians on suspicion of stealing art objects worth $720,000, including an Italian Renaissance painting.

The art works were found undamaged in an apartment at Ostia, a beach resort south of Rome, police said yesterday.

Mississippi Klan Probe Near End

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House committee investigating the Ku Klux Klan pushed today to complete testimony into the organization's activities in Mississippi so it can turn to Alabama.

One source said there is a chance the House Committee on Un-American Activities can complete testimony by Mississippi witnesses late today but another expected it will be early next week.

★ ★ ★

Schemes of violence and money were the prime targets of committee questioning Thursday including a suggestion that Klansmen bomb the train carrying Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson on a campaign swing through the South in 1964.

★ ★ ★

An investigator said this idea, attributed to Louis Di Salvo, a Waveland, Miss., barber, and a proposal to set up a firing squad to eliminate Klan informers were too scary even for Klansmen.

FIFTH AMENDMENT

Di Salvo, 38, a New Orleans native, invoked the protection of the Fifth Amendment against possible self-incrimination when asked if he sponsored the schemes.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La., the committee chairman, questioned Elmore D. Greaves closely about Greaves' fears for safety in coming to Washington to testify.

★ ★ ★

Greaves, 39, who said he was a cotton farmer and publisher of the Southern Review in Jackson, Miss., acknowledged he had sent the committee a telegram asking closed sessions.

Among other things the telegram blasted Washington as a "crime ridden city" where a citizen with Mississippi license plates on his car wasn't safe to travel.

UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES

The telegram said the committee under former Chairman Martin Dies, D-Texas, was one Greaves would have been honored to appear before but that the present committee was itself carrying on un-American activities.

"How long have you been here?" asked Willis during the afternoon testimony.

★ ★ ★

"Since Tuesday," replied Greaves.

Willis then asked the witness if he has found it unsafe to drive, walk around the Capitol or attend committee sessions.

"No," said Greaves.

Cong Executes Two U.S. Pilots

Third Man Captured off Private Transport

SAIGON (UPI) — The Viet Cong today executed the pilot and copilot of a privately operated U.S. transport plane after shooting it down, and led a third crew member away with a rope around his neck, a company spokesman said.

The guerrillas donned the flying suits of the men they had killed and tried to lure a U.S. Army rescue helicopter into a trap. However, the helicopter escaped when the Communists opened up with automatic weapons fire and hurled grenades, the spokesman said.

The plane was shot down near the Mekong Delta town of Vi Thanh, 100 miles southwest of Saigon, while on a freight-hauling mission for Air America, a civilian - operated charter line under contract to the U. S. Operations Mission (USOM).

An Air American spokesman said the pilot radioed he was wounded in the shoulder, leg and arm while flying at about 1,200 feet and crashed into a small canal. The copilot radioed to another C45 freight plane and it called for a U.S. rescue helicopter. The copilot was wounded by groundfire during the crash-landing.

★ ★ ★

A U.S. Army helicopter landed at the scene an hour or two after the first attempt was driven off and recovered the bodies of the pilot and copilot. Both had been shot in the face and their bodies mutilated, crewmen reported.

Villagers living nearby said the third crewman, an air freight specialist, had been led away with a rope around his neck and his hands tied behind him.

Solon Arranging to Get Documents for Library at OU

Arrangements to provide copies of 1965-66 official state records for the Kresge Library's documents collection at Oakland University are being made by State Rep. Robert J. Slingerlend, D-Lake Orion.

The documents collection contain authorized material from Michigan, U.S., Great Britain, Canada and the United Nations.

★ ★ ★

"As an official government depository," said Alan Gamble, department supervisor, "the collection is available to the general public as well as the students on campus."

Home in Waterford Is Damaged by Fire

A fire, originating in a bed mattress, caused an estimated $250 damage yesterday afternoon to a home at 39 N. Telegraph, Waterford Township.

Owner of the home is Walter Findley. Paula Crompton is the occupant, according to township firemen.

Noted Businessman to Be Buried Saturday

MONROE (AP)—Funeral service will be held in Monroe Saturday for B. D. McIntyre, prominent businessman who had interests in Michigan, Florida and Ohio.

McIntyre, 60, died Thursday at Bethesda Memorial Hospital in Boynton Beach, Fla. He had entered the hospital Monday for surgery. He had a winter home at nearby Boca Raton, Fla.

Catches Baby

Wrong Turn to Heroism

NEW YORK (UPI) — Trapped with her infant in a burning tenement yesterday, a Harlem mother dropped the child toward the street four stories below.

By a miracle, an unemployed glazier, who happened to be at the scene only because he made a wrong turn while driving home, spotted one-year-old Sandra Monzon and caught her before she hit the pavement.

James Oliver, 26 of the Bronx, said he was driving home with his wife when he inadvertently turned into West 122nd Street. Noticing smoke coming from a building he jammed on his brakes, and jumped out of the car to see what he could do to help.

★ ★ ★

Oliver heard a woman scream and looking up saw the child plummenting toward him. He thrust out his arms almost instinctively and caught the infant.

MOTHER RESCUED

The child's mother, Mrs. Helen Monzon, 22, was rescued from a ledge by firemen who used an aerial ladder.

A-Smasher Plans May Be Scrapped

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission may scrap its plan to build a $348 million atom smasher.

A source outside the commission said Thursday three alternative proposals are under consideration.

★ ★ ★

He said each would be cheaper, and each would be for a machine of lesser intensity than the proposed 200 - billion electron volt (BEV) accelerator which would be used for basic research.

Some 85 communities in 43 states have been scrambling to win the $348 million project for their area.

TOLD OF REPORT

Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., a member of the joint Senate-House Atomic Committee, was told of the report and said:

"To me, it looks like possibly the beginning of the end for the 200-BEV, $348 - million machine. When you start talking about alternatives it adds up to that."

The source said the AEC has scheduled a late January meeting to get the views of some of the nation's leading high-energy

Ex-County Official Is Ruled a Suicide

The death of a former assistant prosecutor, George E. Hallock, early this morning has been ruled a suicide, according to the Pontiac police. Death was attributed to a gunshot wound.

Hallock, 64, of 30 Cadillac was found dead in bed with a pistol in his hand at 4:30 a.m. by his housekeeper Ilean Nelson.

Greeks Help Yanks Hunt for Lost Plane

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — American and Greek forces joined in a land and sea search today for a U.S. military plane believed to have crashed with 10 persons aboard on a flight from Turkey to Italy.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said the plane, a C47 twin-engine transport, carried nine Americans and one Italian. He said it was en route to Naples from Cigli airbase in Turkey.

25 Korean Fishermen Drown in Yellow Sea

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Police reported today that 25 Koreans drowned off Sosan, on the west coast about 50 miles southwest of Seoul, when their fishing boat capsized in the stormy Yellow Sea. Eleven persons were rescued.

The boat was returning from oyster fishing, police said.

Firm Gives $100,000 to Highway Safety Unit

DETROIT (AP)—The Fruehauf Corp. has donated $100,000 to the University of Michigan's new Highway Safety Research Institute.

The joint announcement was made Thursday by Fruehauf President William E. Grace and Harlan Hatcher, university president.

Airplane Thief Gets Probation

Buzzed Birmingham With Stolen Craft

A Belleville man who stole a $65,000 airplane from the Pontiac Airport nearly three years ago was placed on two years probation yesterday for his flying antics.

★ ★ ★

The sentence was imposed on LaVern A. Anderson, 25, by Oakland County Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore.

Since pleading guilty March 16, 1963 to stealing the twin-engine, six-passenger craft, Anderson has spent most of the time in Kentucky, serving a jail term for another offense He voluntarily returned to Oakland County for sentencing.

He was arrested in Kentucky after walking away from Pontiac State Hospital. He had been committed to the hospital prior to sentencing to determine his psychiatric condition.

★ ★ ★

Anderson was arrested by Waterford Township police March 8, 1963, after returning the plane to the airport following a wild ride of several hours in the skies over Oakland County.

DIVED LOW

During his ride, he buzzed downtown Birmingham three times, reportedly diving as low as 200 feet, landed on Northwestern Highway and narrowly missed killing two men as he took off from Berz Airport in Troy.

★ ★ ★

He told police at the time he had taken the plane with the intention of inducing his estranged wife to take a trip with him. Their marriage was later annulled.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Anthony George Retsel, who passed away 1 year ago today January 14, 1965.
God saw you getting weaker,
So He did what he thought best:
He came and stood beside you,
And whispered come to rest:
You wish no one a last farewell:
Not even to say good bye,
You had gone before we knew it:
And only God knows why.
Sadly missed by wife Patricia, children and grandchildren.

IN MEMORY OF MY LOVING wife Ida May who passed away one year ago today. She is greatly missed by her husband Richard Wm Lake, her brothers and sisters, her grandchildren and her many friends. (She is not gone, just away.)

DEACON. LOVING MEMORIES OF a dear husband and Dad, Charles Alfred Deacon, died January 14th, 1958.
"Remembrance is the golden chain
That binds us till we meet again

Rating Systems Said Improved

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Commerce Committee believes radio and television audience rating systems are improving through industry selfregulation.

The committee issued a report yesterday saying government regulation "would not appear to be in the public interest at this time."

It said, however, that "the reliability of ratings and their proper use by broadcasters is and must remain a matter of serious concern to the federal government."

Committee hearings two years ago produced testimony that:

- Radio and television sets left on to amuse babies and dogs helped determine how advertising dollars were spent and which programs remained on the air.

★ ★ ★

- As few as nine families were providing audience measurements in metropolitan areas served by 10 radio stations.
- In one of the A. C. Neilsen Co.'s samples, two neighboring families on relief were used to represent 100,000 families in oil-rich southwestern Oklahoma.

Cab Gets a Stubborn Customer

DENVER (UPI) — The streets were jammed and the buses were crowded, so the 70-pound German shepherd decided to take a cab. The driver had other ideas.

Maceo V. Rabb, 30, said he stopped his cab to let off passengers at a downtown Denver hotel. He felt something brush past him.

"Then there was this huge dog in the front seat," Rabb said.

Rabb, another cab driver and a hotel bellman tried to coax the dog from the car. The other driver tried bravely to push the German shepherd.

★ ★ ★

Police then called a dog catcher, who roped the dog, but it didn't budge.

After nearly an hour, the dog, pushed at the point of a long stick, finally left the cab and was taken to the city pound.

Every day 3,800 Americans become 65; every day 3,000 Americans over 65 die.

Foil Firestone Kidnap Try

Testimony Ends in Murder Trial

Testimony was completed yesterday in the first-degree murder trial of a Waterford Township teenager. The case was slated to go to the jury next Tuesday.

The three-day trial of Alan Ross Pearson Jr., 17, closed with Pearson himself giving the main defense testimony elicited by Attorney Clarence Smith.

ALAN ROSS PEARSON JR.

Closing arguments by the prosecution and defense were scheduled for 9 a.m. Tuesday by Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn.

Pearson is standing trial on a murder charge in the stabbing June 27 of Jeffrey Talbot, 17, of 2045 Watkins Lake, Waterford Township.

Defense attorney Smith has centered his case on the premise that Pearson acted in self-defense.

★ ★ ★

The youth testified yesterday that both young Talbot and his father, Dr. Frank G. Talbot, pulled him from the car prior to the fatal fight.

THROUGH WINDOW

Pearson said the doctor stuck his arm through the car window and helped the younger Talbot to pull him from the car.

"When I stood up," said Pearson, "I had the knife in my left hand."

Earlier Pearson testified that the hunting knife had been stuck in a spring under the car seat. He said the handle was sticking out where it could be seen by looking down.

★ ★ ★

Asked why he grabbed the knife, Pearson said, "Because I thought I had had it."

KNIFE THRUST

He claimed he thrust the knife at young Talbot twice after the latter tried to hit him.

Portions of Pearson's testimony conflicted with statements made earlier in the trial

Weaver LBJ's Cabinet Choice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert C. Weaver appears likely to have an easier task winning Senate approval as the first Negro member of the Cabinet than he did in 1961 as housing administrator.

President Johnson announced yesterday he would nominate Weaver as Secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

Weaver, 58, has been acting head of the new department since its formal creation in November.

As administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, he has directed the agencies now under the new Cabinet department.

★ ★ ★

Johnson said he would name Robert C. Wood, 42, chairman of the political science department at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, as undersecretary of the new department.

HEADED TASK FORCE

Wood headed a tack force that advised Johnson on its organization and functions.

"I am very proud of this team," Johnson said.

The nominations were scheduled to go to the Senate today.

★ ★ ★

The new department — the 11th in the Cabinet — has under its wing the Federal Housing Administration, the Public Housing Administration, the Urban Renewal Administration and the Community Facilities Administration.

NO DECISION

Johnson said no decision has been made on a reported proposal by Wood's task force to move the community action part of the administration's antipoverty program from the Office of Economic Opportunity to the new department.

LBJ Sees Few Foes on Tax Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he detects "a minimum of opposition" to his proposal to restore excise tax cuts on cars and phone bills.

"I think most of the legislators would prefer receiving revenues in this form than revenues in new taxes on corporations and individuals," Johnson told a news conference at the White House yesterday.

Amid a burst of criticism from congressmen over his tax proposals announced in Wednesday night's State of the Union message, Johnson said he had sounded out sentiment in advance and "I did not detect overwhelming resistance to it."

However, the world's two biggest corporations, General Motors and American Telephone & Telegraph, expressed displeasure today with the President's proposal.

★ ★ ★

GM said restoration would be "unfortunate." AT&T said it "regretted" the President's proposals but recognized the nation's need for additional revenues.

WILL ACCEPT

Much of the business community, however, appeared to accept the tax proposals set forth in the President's State of the Union address Wednesday night.

James M. Roche, president of General Motors Corp., termed the proposal to restore the level of auto excise taxes "very unfortunate."

A spokesman for American Telephone & Telegraph Co. said the firm regretted the President's proposals, but added: "It should be pointed out that telephone service would be the only utility so taxed.

★ ★ ★

However, we fully recognize our country's needs for added revenues at this critical time and some of the problems involved in recommending appropriate legislation."

Mishaps Dog Yanks; Cong Activity Slows

U.S. Planes Collide, Killing 7; 2 LBJ Aides Due in Viet Tomorrow

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong activity continued on a reduced scale today. Mishaps dogged American forces, but the South Vietnamese reported some successes.

Government militiamen killed 40 Communists in beating off an attack on an outpost near the provincial capital of Quang Ngai, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, scene of repeated Communist thrusts.

Casualties among the 100 defenders were reported light.

Two U. S. planes — a two-engine C123 flare ship and an Air Force single-seat Skyraider—collided in the air on an operation in support of Korean ground troops 15 miles northwest of Qui Nhon on the central coast. All seven men on board were killed.

★ ★ ★

The Skyraider crashed into the bigger plane from underneath after pulling out of a strike, a spokesman said:

OTHER MISHAPS

Other mishaps plagued the U. S. Marines in the Da Nang area, resulting in U. S. and Vietnamese casualties.

On the diplomatic front, Saigon awaited with rising interest the arrival Saturday of U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

It was assumed they would try to still misgivings in the

Mercury Expected to Plunge Tonight

Temperatures are expected to plunge to 5 to 15 above tonight and continued cold through tomorrow with highs reaching 26 to 33.

There's a chance of some snow by or during tomorrow night. A little warmer with some light snow or rain is the outlook for Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Morning southwesterly winds at 5 to 15 miles per hour will become northwest at 10 to 22 miles late today diminishing tonight and becoming variable tomorrow.

Twenty-two was the low recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury registered 26 at 1 p.m.

City Can Use Present Form for Petitioning

Despite a state law setting up new forms, Pontiac can continue to use existing nominating petitions to file for the March 7 primary.

City Clerk Mrs. Olga Barkeley said she has been told that the old forms can be used in conformity with the City Charter.

A conflict arose over which nominating form to use when a new state law took effect Jan. 1, establishing a standard form for nominating petitions.

The new form set by the state is different from the existing petitions required by the charter.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Barkeley said she had contacted the office of the state board elections director today and was told the old petitions could be used.

WRITTEN COPY

She said she asked that the ruling be sent to her in writing.

The question of which petition form to use has been asked by city clerks across the state, said Mrs. Barkeley.

State Elections Director Robert M. Montgomery was to have soliciated the opinion of the state attorney general on the question.

The city's primary is March 7. The deadline for filing nominating petitions is Feb. 15. Voters have until Feb. 7 to register to vote in the primary.

The general election is set for April 18.

LBJ: Pact Is Inflationary; Lindsay: In Public Interest

NEW YORK (AP)—The wage package that got New York's transit system back on the track is described by President Johnson as inflationary, but Mayor John V. Lindsay says settlement of the strike was in the public interest.

Johnson criticized the settlement as exceeding the voluntary national wage-price guidelines recommended by government economic advisers to prevent an inflationary spiral.

"I do not believe that any settlement that violates the guideposts to this extent is in the national interest," he said at a news conference yesterday in Washington.

Mayor Lindsay-the man who had been in the middle during the 12-day bus and subway strike that ended yesterday—saw things differently, however.

"I suppose people will argue and debate as to whether the settlement was too high or too low," Lindsay said even before Johnson spoke. "The agreement was best for the workers, the Transit Authority, the city and the country."

★ ★ ★

He said it "obviously serves the public interest."

Even as the argument raged over the merits of the settlement, the nation's largest city returned to normal after the painful and costly tie-up.

Mall Auto Show to Display About 50 New Models

Spectators at next week's fourth annual Pontiac Mall Auto Show will get the chance to view an estimated 50 new 1966 model cars.

Cochairmen John McAuliffe and Paul Newman indicated the event, to be held from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday, will be the biggest and best ever held on the Mall concourse.

In addition to the new car display, futuristic cars, new equipment and "cutaway" automobiles and engines will be featured, according to Newman.

Salesmen, representing the 10 new car dealerships participating in the show, will be on the floor to answer questions and explain innovations.

★ ★ ★

The show is sponsored jointly by the Pontiac Trade Association and the Mall Merchants Association.

2 Fatally Shot by Undercover Police Officers

Armed Pair Believed Planning to Demand $2-Million Ransom

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Pistols raised, two men crashed into the home of Leonard K. Firestone last night in an apparent attempt to kidnap the wealthy industrialist. Staked-out police killed both with shotgun blasts.

Cal Bailey, 40, was killed instantly as he attempted to rush into the living room of the palatial home.

George Scalla, 28, fell wounded on the threshold and died three hours later in the prison ward of General Hospital.

They held three guns, but never got a chance to fire a shot.

★ ★ ★

Police said the men may have planned to ask $2 million in ransom.

UNDERCOVER WORK

The deaths ended three weeks of police undercover work, during which the proposed kidnaping was tipped by an undisclosed source. Firestone, 58, was warned to leave the city.

"This has been a very distressing and upsetting thing to have gone through," said the president of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. of Calif. at the home of a friend in San Francisco last night.

He complimented the police for a "thorough, intelligent, masterful job."

★ ★ ★

Capt. John E. Hankins, chief of Beverly Hills detectives, told this sequence of events:

FIRST HINT

First hint of the kidnap came three weeks ago in connection with a burglary that took place in the jurisdiction of the Los Angeles police.

Ten days ago, the tipster disclosed that the intended victim was Firestone, the handsome son of rubber empire founder Harvey S. Firestone.

"I was very much disturbed and concerned," said the industrialist. "I just made up my mind that I would try to work with the police as best I could."

★ ★ ★

Hankins advised him to leave his home on Alpine Drive, a tree-shaded street where millionaires live amid movie stars.

Police officers moved in, along with a policewoman who posed

LEONARD K. FIRESTONE

To Introduce Bill Seeking Funds for OU

A bill seeking an additional $250,000 to buy books for Oakland University's library will be introduced by State Rep. Robert J. Slingerlend, D-Lake Orion at Monday night's meeting of the House.

★ ★ ★

"This amount will cover the purchase and cataloging of approximately 35,000 books," said Slingerlend.

OU's Kresge Library, as of June 30, 1965, was 75 per cent below the national standard, according to the American Library Association.

Verner Clapp, of the Council on Library Resources, lists the library's deficiency as 32 per cent, or 38,000 volumes, short according to Council standards.

★ ★ ★

OU's book collection numbers 80,272, stated Floyd Cammack, librarian.

STORED IN BASEMENT

"We have 7,000 volumes stored in the basement," said Cammack, "because we do not have the money to pay for the labor to process them.

★ ★ ★

"A new library in a new school requires over-average support to get started."

★ ★ ★

A similar request for OU library aid was rejected by Michigan legislators in June.

New System May Clear Air

Foundry Pollution Curb Eyed

A method may be near to control smoke and dust from Pontiac Motor Divisions' foundry, according to division officials.

A new system — the Venturi scrubber — may be the answer to the smoke, dust and soot that is an "old story" in northside neighborhoods near the foundry.

The fourth in a series of meetings on the foundry smoke problem, held last night at City Hall was attended by a large contingent of citizens, city administrators and city commissioners.

Frederick T. McDermott, a state health officer invited by State Sen. Carl W. O'Brien, D-Pontiac, supported the contention of Pontiac Motor Division officials that an effective dust control system has not been available until recently.

★ ★ ★

The meeting was called by City Commissioner John A. Dugan to inform citizens of progress made on the air pollution problem.

ASSURED RESIDENTS

John F. Blamy, general manufacturing manager of Pontiac Motor Division, assured residents of the auto firm's "desire to elminiate the foundry smoke problem."

Blamy said various control systems have been under study for the past three years.

Norris Luther, superintendent of plant engineering, detailed some of the equipment studied. He said numerous field trips have been made to study the problem.

★ ★ ★

According to Luther, contact has gone as far as Mexico and Australia in the division's efforts to solve the problem.

FOUR TYPES

He said four types of collectors have been tried in the past three years. He said that until last year there basically wasn't a satisfactory collector available.

Luther, however, disclosed that a new system placed in operation on a plant in upper New York State last August may be the answer to Pontiac's smoke problem.

He said the unit is being studied during the winter to see if it is as effective as it has been in moderate weather.

★ ★ ★

Luther said it already has proven successful in warm weather.

INSTALLATION TIME

In a question and answer session, residents of the area objected to Luther's prognosis of 18-24 months to install the new collectors.

McDermott, district engineer for the Division of Occupational Health of the Michigan Department of Health, agreed the installation was "a substantial engineering problem."

Wright C. Cotton, division comptroller, commented, "The key question is the final engineering decision. After that we are in a position to give definite dates."

★ ★ ★

Reacting to a charge that the City Commission had been lax on the pollution problem, Commissioner Dugan said the city has "kept constant pressure on GM."

★ ★ ★

Urging the speedy installation of the new dust control system, if it proves effective, were Sen. O'Brien, area residents, and John B. Maye, president of UAW Local 653.

ROBERT A. LANDRY

GEORGE GRBA

Announce Candidacy

First 2 Enter City Election

A former Pontiac mayor and an employe of the Oakland County Department of Public Works today became the first to announce they will seek nomination in the March 7 City Commission primary.

Robert A. Landry, who served in 1962-64 as mayor, said he would seek a fourth term as District 7 commissioner.

George Grba, of 28 Kimball, announced he would seek the District 4 nomination.

Grba was an unsuccessful candidate in 1964. He said he currently is circulating his nominating petitions.

★ ★ ★

Landry, 51, of 47 Center, will try for the District 7 seat he lost to the late Emmett S. Wellbaum in the 1964 election.

NEW APPROACH

In announcing his candidacy, Landry said a new approach was needed to community problems. His statement indicated the city's urban renewal issue would be a campaign issue.

He claimed any further expansion of downtown urban renewal would be an injustice to several depressed areas in the city.

Landry is employed as a senior clerk at the Fisher Body Division Livonia Plant, while Grba is chief maintenance inspector with the county DPW.

Pontiac Man Arrested in Knife Slaying

Pontiac police today were questioning a 25-year-old man in connection with a knife slaying in a bar yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Held for investigation in the death of Jessie Anderson, 20, of 168 Crestwood is Eugene F. Douglas, 494 Bloomfield.

Douglas was taken into custody by police late yesterday afternoon as he was making a call in a telephone booth on Sanford.

Anderson was killed during a fight in Harry's Bar, 568 S. Sanford, shortly after midnight.

★ ★ ★

He was cut several times around the face and neck and suffered deeper wounds in the chest and shoulder.

County School Board Seeks $20,000 Grant

The Oakland Schools Board of Education yesterday authorized the administration to apply for a $20,000 federal grant to conduct a study of instructional materials needs in local districts.

The study would be in conjunction with Title II of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 which provides funds for books and other instructional materials.

Eruption of Volcano Seems to Be Dying

CATANIA, Sicily (UPI) — A two-day eruption of Mount Etna which had worried scientists appeared to be fizzling out today.

A small lava flow which started Wednesday had gone only 300 feet by this morning and volcanologists at the observatory on the slopes of the volcano said it "probably" was dying out. Explosions in the bowels of the mountain were continuing, but at a slower rate.

Vocational Schools Are Proposed

Seven vocational high schools may be in the offing for Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

The proposal was made last night at a meeting attended by more than 100 local school board members and administrators at North Farmington High School.

Several school officials concurred that it appears the best solution to close the "skill gap" between current curriculum and employers' demands.

Dr. Dana Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac Schools, was one of four education leaders to offer recommendations for future action, following a report of a year-long survey of existing and future requirements for vocational education.

★ ★ ★

Whitmer said that expanding current local high school offerings to train young people would be an inadequate solution.

COUNTY'S SHARE

According to the report given by Dr. Loyal Joos, Oakland Schools director of systematic studies, the county receives only 2.7 per cent of the total state reimbursement for vocational education.

In contrast, the county enrolls 10 per cent of the state public school population, he noted.

The report indicated that 50,000 new jobs be open in the county in the next nine years.

★ ★ ★

Interviewed were personnel from high schools, businesses, industries and county residents, aged 14-50.

AREAS LISTED

If the plan succeeds, seven vocational high schools would be established in the following areas: Clarkston, Holly and Brandon; Waterford Township, Huron Valley and Walled Lake; Pontiac, Rochester, Lake Orion and Oxford.

No Guarantee by OCC Board

Trustees Fail to OK Building Use Promise

Oakland Community College trustees concurred last night that no lifetime guarantee could be made banning use of the newly established administration building as an instructional facility.

★ ★ ★

The board had been requested by nearby residents to certify "administration use only" of the building on Opdyke near Hickory Grove, Bloomfield Hills.

Indications were that the pending Circuit Court suit filed by residents which alleged violation of zoning and deed restrictions, might be dropped if the board agreed to the guarantee.

Board members, however, decided against the guarantee after being advised by the college's attorneys that such action was illegal because it would bind future boards.

★ ★ ★

The college contends that it has not violated zoning or deed restrictions in moving into the former Palmer-Bee building last month.

'VERY VAGUE'

Attorneys for the college termed the complaint filed in behalf of the residents as "very vague" and have filed a motion asking that the complaints be clarified in a revised motion.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, the City of Bloomfield Hills continues to threaten legal action against the college, contending that the zoning for the site reverted back to single family residential when sold to the college.

★ ★ ★

It had been used as an office facility by Palmer-Bee under a nonconforming zoning agreement between the city and George Bee.

as a domestic to answer the door and phone.

Days passed uneventfully, no unusual phone calls came, no suspicious cars drove by.

The identity of the two suspects was known, and they were known to have long records of burglary, robbery and robbery with violence.

★ ★ ★

All attempts to locate them for surveillance failed.

PHONE CALL

At 6 o'clock last evening the telephone rang. The policewoman, Barbara Ezell, told the male caller that Mr. Firestone could not come to the telephone. The caller hung up.

At 6:20 a black 1965 Ford drove into the semicircular driveway and stopped in front of the door.

Policewoman Ezell gazed through the peephole and saw two large men emerge from the car.

★ ★ ★

One wore a Halloween mask over his face and carried a gun in one hand and a sack containing adhesive tape in the other. He was later identified as Bailey.

SURGICAL GLOVES

Scalla wore a hat pulled down on his face and carried a gun in each hand. Both men wore surgical gloves.

The doorbell rang and Miss Ezell asked, "Who's there?"

"Parcel post, ma'am," came the reply.

★ ★ ★

Behind Miss Ezell stood three veteran Beverly Hills policemen: Lt. B. L. Cork, Sgt. Jack Egger and Det. Jack Mourning. They were armed with two shotguns and a pistol.

OPENED DOOR

Egger motioned Miss Ezell out of the room. Then he reached for the knob and jerked open the door.

"They moved in fast and saw us," Cork said later. "Bailey raised his gun and pointed it at us. In my opinion, they were prepared to shoot us. We shot first."

It was all over in two shotgun blasts and three pistol shots.

★ ★ ★

Bailey's wallet contained a cryptic note that may have indicated the high stakes the two gunmen were aiming for.

On a fragment of blue paper were written the calculations: 200,000 times 10 equals 2,000,000 and 20 times 400,000 equals 8,000,000.

Police theorized that Bailey and Scalla may have been aiming for ransom in the millions.

Poverty War Post Accepted

George H. Wilhelmi, assistant director of Pontiac's urban renewal program, disclosed today that he would accept the anti-poverty post offered him Wednesday.

The 39-year-old Wilhelmi was named director of the South Oakland Community Action Center of the Oakland County Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), effective Jan. 31.

The city official said his only reservation on the OEO appointment had been that the job of director was bigger than the post for which he had applied.

"I sought more details and clarification of the director's responsibilities and duties," said Wilhelmi.

★ ★ ★

Joining the city's urban renewal department in April 1963, Wilhelmi was named assistant director Jan. 20, 1964.

SAME SALARY

His $10,000-a-year salary will remain the same in his new job, he said.

Wilhelmi said he would submit his resignation today, effective Jan. 28.

Lines to China Being Fixed

Priority Is Given to Rail, Bridge Links

WASHINGTON (AP) — The North Vietnamese are using the bombing lull to rebuild railroad lines and bridges over which war gear has flowed from Red China, it was learned today.

Aerial reconnaissance indicates that the Reds are giving priority in reconstruction to rail links reaching northwest and northeast from Hanoi into Communist China.

★ ★ ★

These rail lines and bridges were pounded heavily by U.S. fighter bombers for about three or four months before the strikes were halted three weeks ago.

The northwest line had been pretty well knocked out and the northeast leg nearly so, sources said.

WORKING HARD

Now, the Reds are working hard to repair those lines and bridges while they are free of attack.

Another area where communication lines are being rebuilt lies above the demarcation border separating Communist North Viet Nam from South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

There was no clear explanation as to why this sector should be getting priority attention in repair work.

But it was suggested the Communists may be trying to get this route back in shape to reduce reliance on certain roads passing through Laotian territory being worked over by U.S. warplanes.

SCOUTING DENIED

Despite official denials, it is known that American reconnaissance planes range over North Viet Nam during this lull period at both high and low altitudes.

Among other things, the photo reconnaissance has detected the rebuilding of storage facilities, the patching up of roads and an increase in vehicular traffic on the infiltration routes.

★ ★ ★

There has been no indication as yet that the Communists are taking advantage of the lull to regroup or intensify their antiaircraft defenses.

One interesting development, still being evaluated, involves a surface-to-air missile site in the Hanoi area.

BACK TO FARM

Photographs show that this site has been returned to farming uses.

Although the antiaircraft missiles used by the North Vietnamese have been relatively unsuccessful in downing U.S. planes, there are no indications thus far that the Soviets may be supplying a more advanced weapon called the SA3.

★ ★ ★

Some officials believe the SA3, which has a better capability to deal with low level air attacks, may ultimately show up in North Viet Nam.

The North Vietnamese evidently have made no effort during the lull to add to their fleet of Soviet-built MIG jet fighters.

NO CHALLENGE

Mishaps Dog Yanks

South Vietnamese government about President Johnson's peace efforts.

★ ★ ★

There was speculation that Rusk and Harriman would try to assure the Saigon government that the American peace overtures do not mean any lessening of U.S. determination to defend South Viet Nam from Communist aggression.

NEW WARNINGS

The dual visit brought a new round of warnings from Vietnamese officials about the danger of negotiations with the Communists before a military victory over them in the field.

In the Da Nang area, 380 miles northeast of Saigon, two U.S. Marine jets called in by a forward air controller sank four sampans manned by government militiamen in the Thin Yen River, 20 miles southwest of Dan Nang, after being told they were carrying Viet Cong.

Four civilians on the river bank were killed and 16 civilians and five militiamen were wounded.

★ ★ ★

The Marines accepted full responsibility for the mistake, a spokesman said.

16 MARINES DIE

Sixteen Marines were injured, two seriously, when a mortar exploded during a training class at the Chu Lai beachhead 53 miles down the coast.

Operation Crimp, the 8,000-man U.S.-Australian mop-up on the edge of the Communist iron triangle stronghold 25 miles northwest of Saigon, slowed down.

★ ★ ★

With the fighting continuing in a low key, U.S. officials in Washington were keeping a careful watch for evidence that the Communists were deliberately scaling down their military operations. But sources in Washington said the North Vietnamese are using the suspension of U.S. bombing attacks on North Viet Nam to rebuild railroad lines and bridges between Hanoi and Red China which U.S. bombers had destroyed.

★ ★ ★

The bombing lull began its third week today.

High School Societies Revived as Court Issue

BIRMINGHAM — The board of education's ban on high school sororities and fraternities may be tested in Oakland County Circuit Court after all.

Nearly two years have passed since 12 girls were suspended from Birmingham high schools for admitting membership in TAE.

The parents of the girls filed a suit aginst the school board which would have been a test case of the constitutionality of a state statute forbidding secret socieites in public schools.

The landmark decision is yet to be rendered.

★ ★ ★

Standing between the case and its day in court is the possibility that the question is moot and litigation should be dismissed.

ALL GRADUATED

Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem told attorneys last month that the question apparently had been resolved since all of the girls affected have graduated from high school.

The board of education 22 months ago decided to refrain from disciplining the girls until a Circuit Court decision was handed down.

Attorneys Bethel Kelley and Frederick Colombo are seeking to have a current student replace Kelley's daughter Nancy in the case.

★ ★ ★

A petition for intervention has been filed in behalf of Jeanette Stark, a Seaholm High School junior.

Jeanette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stark Jr., 20810 W. 14 Mile, Bloomfield Township, would like to be a member of TAE, according to the attorneys.

Kelley said the school board was asked if the organization still is considered illegal.

It is, and the girl could be punished for joining, was the reply.

★ ★ ★

The suit is a friendly one, with both sides anxious for an answer, Kelley said.

WANT ANSWER

"We want to get this settled once and for all," he said. "There is a very strong desire on our part to have the thing determined without subjecting anyone to any undue threat of punishment."

Hearing on whether Jeanette will be allowed to enter the case will be held Jan. 24.

If the suit itself does get to court, the judge will be asked to decide whether the organization is a secret society within the meaning of the law and whether that law is constitutional.

★ ★ ★

The case originally was filed before Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero, who died last June.

by Dr. Talbot. The 43-year-old industrial physician emphatically denied he pulled Pearson from the car.

"'They pulled you out, I saw them,'" Pearson quoted Robert Green, 17, his companion in the car, as stating as the duo left the fight scene.

★ ★ ★

Green's earlier testimony supported Pearson's contention.

MET ON LAKE

Pearson related in his testimony a confrontation with young Talbot earlier in the same day while both were piloting boats on Watkins Lake.

He quoted the victim as telling him, "You know you got 10 guys looking for you." Pearson said Talbot pointed his finger at him and reeled off the names of the alleged "guys."

In cross-examination by Assistant Prosecutor Bernard Paige, Pearson revealed he had had some training in judo.

★ ★ ★

He admitted throwing a railroad spike out of the car prior to going to the Pontiac State Police Post with Green to turn himself in.

NO WEAPON

Pearson also admitted to Paige that he saw no weapon in Talbot's hands and that no one else touched him after he was out of the car.

Paige yesterday offered as evidence a handwritten statement by Pearson detailing the stabbing.

Earlier in the trial, the prosecution received a setback when a verbal statement allegedly made by Pearson was ruled inadmissible as evidence.

Rio Death Toll Climbs to 355

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — The death toll in the Rio de Janeiro disaster climbed to 355 today, and many more bodies were believed buried in the mud and debris left in the wake of the worst rains in the city's 400-year history.

* * *

A total of 185 deaths were confirmed in the city and another 170 in Rio de Janeiro state, including 100 in the mountain resort of Petropolis, 26 miles north of the city.

* * *

Many more were feared dead in isolated areas.

Doctors and attendants at the city morgue worked around the clock trying to identify bodies brought in.

MOST SUFFOCATED

"Most were suffocated in landslides," said Dr. Ivan Ferreira. "Many had broken spines and legs."

"The children were the hardest hit. The little ones drowned in as little as a few centimeters of water. Others were unable to withstand even minor slides and were dragged away."

* * *

Most of the dead came from the Favela shantytowns on Rio's hillsides. They were brought in by the truckload. Hampered by frequent power failures, doctors performed autopsies on each body.

* * *

Many families did not have the money to buy coffins or pay for burial. Radio and television stations broadcast frequent appeals to undertakers for donations of coffins and asked cemetery officials to waive burial fees for the poor.

Authorities estimated at least 4,000 were homeless in the city and another 10,000 in the state.

An undetermined number of persons was killed Thursday when a huge mud slide roared off a hillside in Rio, buried two houses, two trucks and four floors of a seven-story apartment house.

* * *

Eight bodies were recovered, but many more were believed buried.

The rains, which started Monday, tapered off to a drizzle during the night.

A massive inoculation campaign was under way to prevent epidemics.

Nearly 50 U.S. Peace Corps volunteers were helping in rescue work. Warren Fuller, Peace Corps director in Brazil, said all of the volunteers were safe and in good health.

* * *

The U.S. Embassy said more than 60 tons of foodstuffs were distributed.

Kelley Calls for Police Salary Drive

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley called Thursday for a three-point program to increase police salaries.

Kelley told a conference of Michigan police chiefs that:

Each community should increase its financial commitment to police.

—Police departments should be relieved of non-crime fighting activities such as bicycle registration, parking meter patrols and finding lost animals.

—A program of state salary aid should be developed and related to local contributions.

USUAL RESPONSE

Kelley declared that "resistance, timidity, delay and shortsightedness" too often greet requests for public support to fight crime.

"The citizen who nods his head in silent approval while, with lightning speed, we approve the spending of billions of dollars for emergency defense programs, often expresses dismay if we ask for modest sums of money to assure reasonable police salaries or to bring crime detection and police technology into the second half of the 20th century."

* * *

Kelley continued, "At the very same time he is voicing his opposition to these expenditures, he is continuing to complain about the impact of crime upon his community and his life."

Kelley said police salaries should be increased by up to 5 per cent in metropolitan areas and up to 20 per cent in some outstate areas.

Asks if Tax Break Applies to Co-ops

LANSING (AP) — House Speaker Joseph Kowalski asked the attorney general Thursday to rule whether residents of cooperative housing units are entitled to senior citizen property tax relief.

* * *

Kowalski said some assessors have turned down such applicants because the resident does not hold title to his particular dwelling unit. He instead holds a share in an association which holds over-all title.

Kowalski said it was the intent of the legislature to provide tax relief for such persons.

Teachers Pick Agent

FRASER (AP) — In an unopposed election, Fraser teachers voted Thursday to have the Fraser Education Association represent them in bargaining with the school board. The vote was 151-2.

County Athletes Compete in Cobo Track Meet

If Dennis Wirgowski, Bay City Central's all-everything football player, was a drinker and smoker at the ripe old age of 18, he'd probably have his closet already filled with the best scotch and imported cigars.

Fortunately, these habits haven't become part of his routine, social or athletic, as yet.

★ ★ ★

He's a darn good football player and umpteen colleges are on his travel agenda, with an itinerary of wining and dining, under-21 style, of course.

Just recently Dennis sat on one of the huge airliners headed for Houston, Texas, with television and everything first class at his finger tips.

When he de-planed, a big Texan sporting a multi-gallon hat had a handshake awaiting him at the bottom of the stairway.

"Dennis Wahgahski, suh, muh name is . . . . . , welcome to our fair city."

Then on to a motel near the Houston University campus the limousine rolled.

TEXAN WEAR

Led to his motel room, the Bay City star found the attire for his visit laid out on his bed, including a 10-gallon hat, pair of beautiful boots and a pair of tight jeans.

★ ★ ★

Everything fit and the jeans were even bowed to the ankle to give this big youngster that ride-em cowboy look.

Now, Dennis mah boy, I've got to run along," said his cordial host.

"But what do I do now?"

"Don't fret, ya'll is in Houston and everything will be taken care of," said the Texan with the oil man's touch.

He didn't have a chance to break the spell he was under when the phone rang and the male voice on the other end immediately started talking.

★ ★ ★

Dennis, someone will be by to take you to dinner after which some of the boys will show ya'll 'round the campus and there's a movie ya'll will enjoy with your date later."

"But I don't know anyone in Houston."

Like a broken record all Houstonians must memorize the answer was, "Don't fret, suh, ya'll is in Houston, everything will be taken care of."

No sooner said than done. He hung up and the phone rang again. From the other end came a charming voice which drawled, "Helllio Denniss, ah guess ahm your date for the movie, and ya'll be with the boys when they pick us up when leaving the campus."

After finishing with his dress and a long glance in the full-view mirror of his 6-4 and 210-pound frame in the Texas outfit, plus a little practice with his Polish-accented Michigan English in Texan style, he heard a knock and off he went for the full schedule of learning, the three R's—ridin', rockin' and rollin'.

RETURNS HOME

With his glorious visit of learning the higher educational values of college behind him, Dennis made his first appearance to class Monday morning Texas style and unbending naturally for fear of possibly splitting the tight trousers.

★ ★ ★

Just a few days ago Houston was hit with a three-year probationary period, as quoted by the wire services "because of persistent infractions of recruiting, financial aid and football practice operations."

Before any of our high school heroes start thinking that this is common practice with our reputable colleges, they ought to ask themselves, "Should I take what is easily given to me, or should I earn what is ethically offered to me?"

Dennis will be a fine catch for some college team, but some college team might just get caught in its own web to overplay this lavish recruiting practice once too often.

UCLA Mentor Bests 'Duffy'

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

WASHINGTON (AP)—UCLA's Tommy Prothro didn't have much luck against Duffy Daugherty last fall, but he's 2-0 against the Michigan State coach this year.

The latest victory, edging out Daugherty for Coach of the Year honors Thursday in balloting by the 812 members of the American Football Coaches Association, came as a result of the first win, a 14-12 upset over Michigan State in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day.

★ ★ ★

Prothro began the 1965 season, his first at UCLA after a decade at Oregon State, by losing 13-3 to Daugherty's Spartans.

Michigan State rolled unbeaten the rest of the year and was ranked No. 1 when the two teams next met in the Rose Bowl.

After losing to Michigan State, UCLA was unbeaten, although tied by Missouri, until it lost a wild 37-34 decision to Tennessee in the final game of the regular season. UCLA finished with a 7-2-1 record, unbeaten in its own league.

★ ★ ★

Prothro, who has been a finalist in AFCA voting before, said, "I'm the same coach I have been for a number of years, so it had to be fine players and assistant coaches."

CLEAN SWEEP

Jack Curtice of the University of California at Santa Barbara was chosen small-college Coach of the Year to make it a clean sweep for California. UCLA stands for University of California, Los Angeles.

"We work for the same boss and run the same offense, running quarterbacks and flankers," Curtice said as the two awards were announced.

Both colleges are units of the University of California system largest college system in the nation.

★ ★ ★

Curtice, former head coach at Stanford, Texas Western and Utah, is a past AFCA president and chairman of its rules committee. His team has an 8-1 record and lost 18-10 to heavily favored Los Angeles State in the Camelia Bowl.

The 45-year-old Prothro was an assistant at UCLA from 1949-54 under Red Sanders before moving to Oregon State in 1955.He was a staunch advocate of the old single wing formation, only recently switching to the wing T.

Asked about his secret for the Rose Bowl victory, he said, "Just a bunch of fine boys who wanted to win."

SF May Raise Pay for Mays to Top Phase

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The annual guessing game has started: How much will Willie Mays earn this coming season?

The San Francisco Gaints center fielder already tops all baseball players at $105,000 and is the sport's acknowledged top gate attraction.

Because he led the majors with 52 home runs in 1965 and became the National League's Most Valuable Player, the 35-year-old Mays is in for a raise. But for how much?

Two guesses have been made by newsmen who get paid for covering the Giants. One speculates Mays will draw a little under $150,000. Another figures the figure at closer to $115,000 because of Mays' tax bracket.

Ted Williams reportedly once was paid $125,000 by the Boston Red Sox. When confronted with this figure, Giants' vice president Charles (Chub) Feeney commented:

"I suspect the $125,000 figure for Williams might be a little high. But regardless, Willie will probably top all past figures."

Injury to Shoulder May Slow Mantle

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A mysterious shoulder injury that could curtail his baseball career is a matter of serious concern to New York Yankee baseball star Mickey Mantle.

Contacted at his Dallas, Tex., home, Mantle said he would go to the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., early next week for a three-day check-up which will determine his baseball future.

Yankee General Manager Ralph Houk revealed the new injury to the baseball great Thursday, announcing at the same time that southpaw Whitey Ford, ace of the New York pitching staff, had signed his contract for next season.

★ ★ ★

Ford reportedly signed for $60,000, the same money he received last year when his season reeord was 16-13.

Mantle said he is taking the injury seriously, but indicated he would not actually know what it means to him until the check-up is completed.

"If I am physically able to play and won't embarrass the fans, I desperately want to play another year," Mantle said.

LEG TROUBLES

Mantle's legs and a knee injury have troubled him for several seasons, but he said his legs are in "good shape." He said he has been playing golf and running to get into condition for the approaching season.

Mantle said he did not know what caused the injury, but said that he "aggravated" it while playing touch football with his children on Christmas, 1964.

Mantle said the shoulder injury bothered him some during the 1965 season. He only played in 122 games last year, batted .256, hit 19 homers and had only 46 RBI.

★ ★ ★

He said that he had not been doing any throwing in his preseason conditioning. The brilliant but brittle outfielder said he would have to wait about throwing until the check-up allows the physicians to determine the extent of the injury.

Titans Whip Notre Dame

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Detroit handed Notre Dame its eighth straight college basketball defeat Thursday night, 97-84, after the Irish got into serious foul trouble.

Notre Dame starter George Restovich was lost on fouls with 27 seconds left in the first half while starter Brian Keller went out with 14:22 left in the second half.

★ ★ ★

The Irish led at 16-10, and the score was tied six times before Detroit went ahead 30-29 on a rebound shot by Lou Hyatt. The margin was extended to 49-40 at halftime.

Continues Golf Habit

Aaron Leads at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Tommy Aaron, who led in the first round in 11 PGA golf tournaments last year, but never won one, and husky Chris Blocker, whose name may ring a bell with television fans, led the way into the second round today of the $40,000 San Diego Open.

The pair shot 6-under-par 65s in the first round, but a small army of rival professionals was too close for comfort as play resumed today over the par 35-36—71 Stardust Country Club course.

Blocker, a 195-pounder from Jal, N.M., is the cousin of Dan Blocker, "Hoss" of the Bonanza TV series.

SECOND YEAR

Chris is starting his second year on the circuit. He won $1,400 in the Los Angeles Open last week.

Aaron, 28, is rated one of the most consistent pros in the business, although he has never won a national title.

★ ★ ★

Thirty-nine players bettered par in Thursday's first round. But the carnage wasn't as bad as a year ago when 51 shattered regulation figures in the initial round.

Unheralded Lou Graham from Nashville, Tenn., started today's round one shot back of the co-leaders and tied at 67 were Mason Rudolph, Paul Bondeson, Harold Kneece and Bob Zimmerman.

Better known name players trailed.

HARMONY FOR YANKEES — Phil Linz played a tune on his harmonica yesterday as New York Yankees pitching ace Whitey Ford signed his 1966 contract. Ford, who posted a 16-13 record last year, agreed to a contract calling for a reported $60,000. Linz, a utility infielder who was traded by the Yanks to Philadelphia last December, hosted the signing at his restaurant.

Colts, 49ers to Dominate West Offense

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two teams — Baltimore and San Francisco — will dominate the West All-Star squad's starting line-up on offense in the 16th annual Pro Bowl game Sunday.

All but two offensive starters for the West in the National Football League finale will be Colts or 49ers.

The exceptions are rookie halfback Gale Sayers of Chicago and guard John Gordy of Detroit.

FIVE STARTERS

San Francisco will furnish five starters, including quarterback John Brodie and fullback Ken Willard, also a rookie.

The Green Bay Pakcers, NFL champions, won't have a man on the starting offensive unit. But there may not be much squawking about that — because Packer coach Vince Lombardi is directing the West.

Lombardi says he has enough worries without listening to complaints from players.

"The main problem in getting ready for a game like this is terminology," Lombardi says. "Take pass routes.

"What we (Green Bay) call a 'fly' (meaning the receiver scoots downfield), San Francisco calls a 'streak.' What we call a 'post' (the receiver heads for the goal post) somebody else calls a 'pole'."

Rounding out Lombardi's starting offense will be end Dave Parks, tackle Walt Rock and center Bruce Bosley, all 49ers; flanker Jimmy Orr, tackle Bob Vogel, guard Jim Parker and end John Mackey, all Colts.

East Coach Blanton Collier of the Cleveland Browns released this starting line-up:

Tie Chicago, 1-1

Hull Checked by Bruins

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins are in last place in the National Hockey League, but they appear to have found a formula to stop scoring leader Bobby Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks.

The formula: assign Ed Westfall, a converted defenseman, as Hull's virtual skating partner whenever the Bruins play the first place Hawks.

Westfall allowed the Blond Jet only one shot on goal, a long flip from the blueline in the second period, as the Bruins earned a 1-1 tie Thursday night on defensemen Ted Green's 45-foot screen shot in the third session.

DESPERATION MOVE

Boston Coach Milt Schmidt assigned the rugged Westfall to shadow Hull in a desperation move early in the season. In the last four games, Hull hasn't been able to score when Westfall has been on the ice.

"I sympathize with Bobby," Schmidt said. "It's really frustrating for him, or anyone else, to be checked so closely. But you've got to do it to stop him. He's a great hockey player."

Westfall didn't even try to score as he matched stride for stride with Hull. He kept the 27-year-old left winger off balance from the opening face-off.

"I got a chance to (body) check him early and hit him," Westfall said. "I like it that way. It helps get me in the game and lets him know, 'here I am again. It's my job again tonight.' He gave me a couple of swats on the head, but they didn't hurt."

Hull, who leads the NHL with 32 goals and 55 points in 31 games, became irritated with Westfall's defensive tactics and received three minor penalties in the second period.

In the only other game played Thursday night, 41-year-old Johnny Bower turned in a 40-save show for his first shutout of the season as Toronto whipped Montreal 6-0.

It was the 27th career shutout for the Maple Leaf veteran.

Eddie Shack scored with the game just 21 seconds old when he swooped in on Montreal's Gump Worsley and beat the Canadiens' netminder with his 15th goal of the season.

City Jr. High Tankers Start

The city Board of Education's Operation Waterproof — Junior High School will begin tomorrow morning at Pontiac Northern High School's swimming pool.

The program is open to all city junior high school age youngsters and has two classes each Saturday morning. Registration will be tomorrow preceding the classes.

Those wishing to learn swimming in the 9 a.m.-10 a.m. class will register at 8:30 a.m.; a 10:30 a.m. sign up will precede the 11 a.m.-noon class.

An $8 registration fee must be paid for the 10-Saturday program. Junior and senior life-saving instruction will be given those eligible.

Boys will furnish their own suits, towels and soap. Girls, in addition, must bring their own caps. Directing the swim classes will be Robert Spence, assisted by Alice Parker and Dale Caswell.

Winter Sports Areas in Use Around City

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department has announced additional winter sports facilities ready for use this weekend.

In addition to tobogganing at Murphy Park, there is also sledding and ice skating, a warming area and lights for nighttime participation.

Some unsupervised tobogganing and sledding is available at the Municipal Golf Course; and ice skating has been provided at Oriole Field, LeBaron, Crofoot and Washington Schools.

There is also skating at several Waterford Township areas, including a lighted ice area at the Drayton Plains Softball Park.

World's Top Thinclads Set to Participate

Brother Rice, Kimble Enter Teams; Olympic Runners Scheduled

Oakland County athletes from Royal Oak Kimball and Birmingham Brother Rice high schools will be rubbing elbows with some of the world's greatest track stars tonight.

They all will be participating in the first Motor City International Track Meet at Cobo Arena in Detroit. Pontiac's Gold Medal Olympian Hayes Jones is the meet chairman for the sponsoring Detroit Varsity Club.

Three eight-lap relay races for high school entries are included on the event schedule. Kimball, which won the state cross-country crown last fall, will vie in the Suburban Prep race. Also included are Roseville, Ecorse and Bentley.

Brother Rice will run against Catholic Central, Bishop Gallagher and others in the Parochial section; and Detroit's public schools will comprise the third division.

Olympic runners, world record holders, national and Big Ten champions are included in the star-studded lineup of competitors. There will be both men and women's races.

TOP STAR

Ralph Boston, now with the Los Angeles Striders Track Club will participate in two events: the long jump, in which he is the world's record holder; and the 60-yard high hurdles.

★ ★ ★

In that event, he will come up against Willie Davenport (the American who defeated Jones in the 1964 U.S. Olympic trial finals at Los Angeles), and also Richmond Flowers of Tennessee — the 1965 National High School champion.

High jumper John Thomas of Boston will meet Californian Max Lowe who beat him last month in a Canadian Indoor meet.

One of the stars in last winter's NCAA Indoor championships at Cobo Hall, Southern University's Theron Lewis, will run in the 600-yard run against Ollan Cassell, the New Yorker who was on the U.S. 1964 Olympic gold medal 1600-yard relay team.

The pole vault figures to be all John Pennel, the high-soaring Miamian who set the American indoor mark last week.

John Whetton (who ran a 4:02 behind Kansas's Jim Ryun last week at San Francisco) and Alan Simpson both of England are in the mile run Friday along with Dave Bailey of New Zealand and Dave Bartell from Miami of Ohio.

Among the outstanding women athletes will be Tennessee A&I stars Wyomia Tyrus and Edith McGuire who will run the 60-yard dash against each other.

Britain's Ann Smith — an 800-meters Olympic finalist — will vie against Canadian Olympian Abby Hoffman, U.S. Olympian Sandra Knott and Ann Arbor's Francine Kraker.
