City, Waterford School Enrollments Pass Projections

Enrollment in Pontiac public schools increased by 653 students during the last year, while that for the Waterford Township School District jumped by 883 students.

Each figure is more than 200 above projections made last spring.

The fourth-Friday tabulations put the Pontiac district's enrollment at 23,425 and Waterford Township's at 17,029.

The head counts, used as the basis for state reimbursement, were made Sept. 30 but not released until this week.

Pontiac's figures are still unofficial — they do not include adult basic education, high school credit evening classes and apprenticeship classes.

BIGGEST JUMP

In Pontiac, the largest enrollment increase came at the elementary school level, which jumped 506 to 14,291. Included in the figure are 2,379 kindergarteners, 11,644 first-through-sixth graders and 268 special education students.

Junior high school enrollment totals 5,061, marking a 100-pupil increase. A 47-student increase was recorded at the senior high schools, where the total is 4,073.

Increases in regular classroom enrollments at the junior and senior high schools are greater than reflected in the above figures, but special education enrollments at both these levels fell this year.

Pontiac Central High School, with a 2,148-student enrollment, is exceeding the building's reasonable capacity by 273, according to school officials.

There are 1,925 students at Pontiac Northern High School, which has capacity for 1,902.

Junior high capacities are being exceeded at three schools by a total of 150 pupils. These are Eastern, with 963 pupils; Lincoln, 741; and Lincoln, 1,052.

In addition to Waterford's kindergarten-through-12th grade enrollment, 207 students are registered in adult education credit courses, raising the grand total to 17,236.

2 Yanks Get Nobel Prize for Medicine

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)— Two American professors today were jointly awarded the 1966 Nobel Prize for Medicine. They were Dr. Peyton Rous, 87, of the Rockefeller University, New York; and Dr. Charles B. Huggins, 66, of Chicago University Hospital.

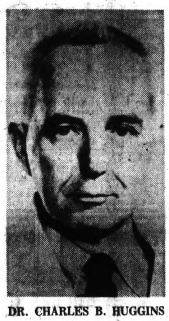

Rous was awarded his prize for his discovery of tumor-inducing viruses and Huggins was cited for his discoveries concerning hormonal treatment of prostatic cancer, the awarding faculty of the Caroline Institute.

They share the prize of $60,000.

DR. PEYTON ROUS

Rous, a native of Baltimore, Md., received his medical degree from Johns Hopkins University in 1900. Since 1909, he has been connected with the Rockefeller University, formerly known as Rockefeller Institute.

DR. CHARLES B. HUGGINS

Huggins is a native of Halifax, N.S. He was graduated from Harvard Medical School in 1924 and holds degrees from several schools. He has been at the University of Chicago since 1927. He has been director of the Ben May Laboratory for Cancer Research since 1951.

Huggins is a specialist in studies of the male urogenital tract, cancer of the prostate, and mammary cancer. He is a native of Connecticut, is married and has two children.

Rous is a world-famed pathologist and specialist within the field of viruses as causative agents of cancer and the mode of action of carcinogens, which are factors involved in the invasive growth of cancer, the Swedish Medical College said.

State Funds to End OU Facility Delay

A $120,000 state allocation approved yesterday by the Legislature will allow Oakland University to proceed with plans for its Engineering Building.

Awarding of contracts for the $5-million facility has been stymied for a month but now is expected to take place next week.

"The capital outlay increase was necessary because the federal funds available for the project fell short of previous estimates," State Sen. Carl W. O'Brien, D-Pontiac, said.

He noted the increase brings to $3,620,000 the state's share of the project.

The original appropriation was approved by the Legislature as part of the general fund budget this year, O'Brien said.

JCs Endorse Taubman Plan for Downtown

The Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce has come out in favor of the Taubman redevelopment plan for downtown Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

At a general membership meeting last night, the Jaycees endorsed the City Commission's action in accepting the Taubman plan agreement.

"It is the feeling of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce that the action taken by the City Commission is an aggressive move to rejuvenate downtown Pontiac," said Jaycee President Ronald H. Lockhart.

Lockhart added that the Jaycees thought little could be gained through "dissension and debate."

★ ★ ★

The Jaycees urged all civic-minded organizations and individuals to unite in support of the City Commission's approval of the Taubman plan for downtown.

★ ★ ★

The Taubman plan proposes an enclosed mall-type shopping center on land south of Lawrence. A parking area would surround the projected 80-store center.

Forecaster's Dull; Real Wet Blanket

Occasional light rain and a chance of thundershowers may be expected tonight and tomorrow with temperatures a little warmer.

Lows will register 52 to 56 tonight. Highs will reach 56 to 62 tomorrow.

Showers, windy and colder is the outlook for Saturday.

Morning easterly winds will continue at 6 to 14 miles per hour.

The weatherman predicts scattered showers for all of Upper and Lower Michigan through Saturday.

A low of 49 was recorded at 6 a.m. in downtown Pontiac today. By 2 p.m. the mercury had edged up to 59.

Israel Levels Blast at Syria

Asks Security Council Meeting on Charges

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)— The threat of a new Middle East crisis confronted the United Nations today as Israel charged Syria with murder, sabotage and open incitement to war.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban called for an emergency meeting of the Security Council. The 15-nation council was expected to meet tomorrow.

Israel went to the council after a long series of incidents along the Syrian-Israeli border which the Israelis blame on a sabotage organization based in Syria. On Saturday, a land mine explosion killed four Israeli policemen and injured two.

The Syrian government has disclaimed responsibility for the raids, which are the work of a group of Palestine Arab refugees known as El-Assefa — storm — or El-Fatah — conquest. In retaliation, Israeli planes attacked a Syrian engineering project north of the Sea of Galilee in July.

Israel's chief delegate, Michael S. Comay, submitted the two-point complaint to the council.

THE CHARGES

It charged:

—Acts of aggression committed by armed groups operating from Syrian territory against the citizens or territory of Israel.

★ ★ ★

—Threats by Syria against the territorial integrity and political independence of Israel.

In Damascus, Syria's army chief of staff, Gen. Ahmed Souridani, said his government was preparing general mobilization.

McNamara Ends Viet Trip; War Progress 'Satisfactory'

NEW YORK (AP) — Ending his eighth visit to South Viet Nam since May 1962, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said today "I saw nothing that indicates any need for a change in the rate of deployment of U.S. forces in the months ahead."

"The military operations have progressed very satisfactorily during the past year," he told newsmen in Saigon.

"The rate of progress has exceeded our expectations.

★ ★ ★

"The pressure on the Viet Cong, measured in terms of the casualties they have suffered, the destruction of their units, the measurable effect on their morale, has been greater than we anticipated."

Here is what McNamara had to say after each of his previous seven trips to Viet Nam:

May 1962 — The United States had "no plan for introducing combat forces into South Viet Nam. The South Vietnamese face a long war, not of months but of years."

September 1963 — in a joint statement with Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, presidential military adviser, expressed belief that "the major part of the U. S. military task can be completed by the end of 1965."

December 1963 — "I am optimistic over progress to be made during the coming year. Operations against the Communists from here on will be many and will be effective."

★ ★ ★

March 1964 — "I did not meet a single responsible official who doesn't believe that if a proper effort is made victory can be obtained. The path to victory may be hard. There is no magic formula for winning an anti-guerrilla war."

★ ★ ★

May 1964 — It may be necessary to increase the 15,000-man U. S. military training force in South Viet Nam, but "I think, on balance, the number is not likely to increase substantially. There will be both increases and decreases associated with the strengthening of the Vietnamese forces."

Teen Is Killed Duck Hunting

A duck-hunting trip by two South Lyon youths ended tragically last night when one of the boys was accidentally shot and killed as he stood up to fire at a duck.

Dead is Johnny D. Lane, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lane Jr. of 10988 W. Nine Mile.

Brighton State Police said the youth died almost instantly about 6 p.m. when hit in the head with a shotgun blast.

The victim's partner, James H. Deaton, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Deaton of 12913 W. Nine Mile, told troopers the accident occurred when the Lane youth suddenly stood up in Deaton's line of fire.

The mishap took place on Nickwagh Lake, about two miles west of South Lyon in Livingston County.

Sales Surge for Pontiac

Sales of Pontiacs and Tempests in the United States during the first 10 days of October increased 7 per cent over the same period of last year.

Thomas L. King, general sales manager of Pontiac Motor Division, said today that a total of 23,829 units were sold Oct. 1-10, compared to 22,336 in the same period a year ago.

Sales since Jan. 1 of this year total 637,503 cars, breaking the previous record of 633,010 set last year.

Senate Dems' Bid to Override 2 Vetoes Fails

Bill Provides for Use of Tax-Free Bonds for Low-Rental Dwellings

LANSING (AP) — Legislators approved last night a plan to use tax-free bonds to make better housing available for poor citizens — an item which still needs approval from the State Supreme Court.

Then the lawmakers headed back for the campaign trail after a two-day session in which they dealt with five bills, two vetoes and a handful of resolutions.

Senate Democrats were unsuccessful in trying to override Gov. Romney's vetoes of an unemployment compensation bill and a measure to abolish coroners and replace them entirely with medical examiners.

The compensation bill would have eliminated the one-week waiting period before a jobless worker becomes eligible for unemployment compensation benefits.

★ ★ ★

Romney was unsuccessful in persuading the Democratic-controlled Legislature to act on his full list of 13 areas in which he said action is needed now, but lawmakers did act in four of the 13 areas.

BILL ON DYING LAKES

Besides the low-rental housing bill, the legislators approved measures aimed at reviving dying lakes and at guaranteeing suitable housing for persons displaced by highway construction projects — before the construction could start.

Some lawmakers felt Romney might veto the highway measure.

While favoring aid to displaced families, he has said this particular bill is too rigid and "would needlessly jeopardize Michigan's highway construction programs."

★ ★ ★

Both houses approved a bill regulating investments by life insurance companies and the House agreed on a property condemnation measure aimed at helping the Ann Arbor area bring in a giant federal atomic research facility.

'Mr. Angelo' Key Figure in O'Brien Morals Case

LANSING (AP) — Although he isn't expected to testify at the Justice Court morals trial of State Sen. Bernard F. O'Brien Jr., the mysterious "Mr. Angelo" is the most talked about person there.

Three Michigan State University coeds have testified that "Mr. Angelo" asked them to engage in sexual intercourse and pose for pictures in the nude—and they have identified O'Brien as the same man.

O'Brien, on the other hand, contends a mysterious stranger named "Mr. Angelo" lured him to a meeting with one of the girls, Marion Lukens, after which she charged him with "soliciting indecent acts."

The trial, before a six - member jury and Lansing Township Justice George J. Hutter, began Monday and was scheduled for two days. It has lasted three and it isn't over yet.

The trial is in recess today because of the illness of Hutter's wife. The defense is to resume presentation of its case Friday.

Defense witnesses Richard Price and William C. Hunter, both assistant sergeants at arms of the Senate, testified Wednesday they saw O'Brien in the capitol building at about 11:30 a.m. last May 27.

That is the date and approximate time the prosecution alleges O'Brien was on the MSU campus, about four miles away, making indecent proposals to Miss Lukens.

The charge is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of as much as $100 and up to 90 days in jail.

O'Brien said he will take the stand in his own defense. He is expected to testify that a stranger, giving his name as Angelo and posing as a friend of a senate colleague, asked O'Brien to consider hiring Miss Lukens as his secretary.

Institute Names Researcher

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Dr. Karl Sax has been appointed to the Distinguished Scholars Chair at Cranbrook Institute of Science.

He and his wife will be the first occupants of the all-electric Thomas Alva Edison House.

While here, Dr. and Mrs. Sax will continue their research on chromosomal aberrations occasioned by alcohol, coffee, some of the antiauseant drugs and by mutation-provoking agents.

Sax will also lecture and write while at the Institute and serve as consultant to the staff.

He has held such positions as biologist at Maine Agriculture Experimental Station in Orono, Me.; director of Arnold Aboretum at Harvard University; Guggenheim Fellow at Oxford University, visiting professor of genetics at the University of California and Sigma Xi National Lecturer.

From 1959 through 1966, he was a visiting professor at the University of Florida, Yale University, North Carolina State College, University of Tennessee, University of Georgia and Cornell University.

James Beresford, chairman of the Institute's Board of Trustees, said that the beginning of the Distinguished Scholar program is a "real plus" for the Detroit area.

"We feel that Dr. Sax's work on chromosomal aberrations is very important research and we are pleased to be the host location," he said.

The second annual Cranbrook School Alumni Award has been granted to Capt. Peter Dawkins. He will receive the award at a banquet Oct. 28 at the University Club in Detroit.

Dawkins, Cranbrook class of 1955, was chosen as "the alumnus who has made outstanding contributions to his field of endeavor and to his community or country."

An honor student at Cranbrook, Dawkins is the only cadet at West Point to hold four of the academy's top distinctions — brigade commander, class president, football captain and star student. He also received a Rhodes Scholarship and studied at Oxford University in England.

He is currently an instructor in history and social studies at West Point.

He has just returned from a year of active duty in Viet Nam where he served as an advisor to the Vietnamese.

Forming Safety Group Is Goal

Formation of a permanent traffic safety committee in Oakland County has been announced as the goal of a luncheon conference scheduled tomorrow at Oakland University.

The safety campaign, calling for a professional staff backed by private and public funds, is expected to be launched with a special noon address by Gov. Romney.

The meeting will be the second general conference of the Traffic Safety Committee in 12 months.

Last October the group met for distribution of seven fact-finding studies.

Target of the studies was the county's traffic death toll, which hit a record high of 201 in 1964, then declined sharply to 164 in 1965.

KICKOFF FOR DRIVE

Tomorrow's luncheon is designed to serve as a kickoff for a fund-raising drive to back the committee, according to Bruce Madsen, director of the program.

Madsen, administration specialist for the traffic safety center at Michigan State University, cited the county's "resource and abilities" as favoring the program's success.

Specific projects included in the program, Madsen said, are study of accident facts and trends; establishment of a master plan of traffic improvement priorities; and rallying of public support for engineering, enforcement and educational activities of traffic officials.

Gems Taken From Area Man in Ohio

A West Bloomfield Township jewelry salesman was robbed of jewelry reportedly worth $35,000 to $40,000 while staying in a motel near Troy, Ohio, yesterday.

Troy Police Lt. Don Linder said a thief took two sample cases loaded with diamond, pearl and sapphire rings from the room of Rudolph Dormaier Jr., 5574 Abington, West Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

"The robber forced open the door, grabbed the two cases, and fled while Dormaier was in the bathroom," Linder said.

Linder said Dormaier worked for the Gold Master Corp. of New York City.

Examination Delayed for 4

The preliminary court examinations of four persons indicted by the Oakland County Grand Jury was adjourned today until later this month.

The hearing for three persons charged with extortion will be held next week. The exact date has not been set, according to Bloomfield Hills Justice of the Peace Jack Baldwin.

Those charged by one-man Grand Juror Phillip Pratt with blackmailing a Troy woman are Ben L. Faeder, president of the J-Z Buyers Service, Inc., Detroit; his wife, Leatrice; and Allan H. Mann, a Highland Park car dealer.

They allegedly threatened to accuse the woman of forgery and fraud and demanded $5,000.

The fourth person, charged with perjury and obstructing justice following an appearance before Pratt, was Southfield attorney Frank E. Holtzman.

★ ★ ★

His hearing has been rescheduled for Oct. 28 at 10 a.m. before Baldwin.

Burglars Hit Board Office in Waterford

A safe — containing petty cash, several rolls of stamps and official papers — a police radio monitor and machines were taken early today from the Waterford Township Board of Education building, 3101 W. Walton, during a break-in reported to township police.

Also broken into this morning was nearby Silver Lake School, 3145 Beacham, Waterford Township. Intruders escaped with at least an adding machine from that school.

The safe was hauled from the board of education to the Saginaw Trail-Oakdale area where it was recovered this morning.

About $50 in cash and the postage stamps were missing from the blown-open safe, while papers were strewn throughout the immediate area.

School officials were busy collecting the rain-soaked papers this morning.

Other loot taken from the board of education offices consisted of two calculators, three adding machines and two electric typewriters.

The intruders made their entrance and exit through rear windows.

Senate Passes Bill to Boost Bank Backing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate sent to President Johnson today a compromise bill increasing the maximum for federal insurance on deposits in banks and savings and loan institutions to $15,000.

The measure also gives regulatory agencies new flexible powers to deal with unsound or unsafe practices on the part of the savings institutions.

★ ★ ★

These powers would include authority to suspend or remove officers after a hearing and to issue cease-and-desist orders. The agencies thus could act to forestall trouble without being forced to close a bank — action they said would be too drastic sometimes.

Enrollments Up at Schools

10,033 pupils are enrolled in kindergarten through sixth grade; another 3,694 in junior high school and 3,141 in the district's two high schools.

Some 161 students attend special education classes.

Heaviest enrollment is in kindergarten where 1,582 children are registered. Next come first grade with 1,491 pupils, fourth grade with 1,466 pupils and fifth grade with 1,417 students.

Enrollment at the secondary schools is Kettering High School, 1,584; Township High School, 1,573; Pierce Junior High School, 1,398; Crary Junior High School, 1,196; and Mason Junior High School, 1,087.

Largest elementary school with 577 pupils is Schoolcraft, followed by Riverside, 508; Grayson, 490; Cooley, 459; Manley, 454; Donelson, 435; and Beaumont, 422.

The district includes 22 other elementary schools.

Stennis: GIs in Viet May Hit 500,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., told the Senate today that U.S. combat forces for Viet Nam may climb to more than 500,000 by next year.

Stennis, chairman of the watchdog Senate Preparedness subcommittee said one general believes as many as 750,000 U.S. forces will be needed in the Southeast Asia conflict.

Law on Draft Card Is Upheld by Court

NEW YORK (AP) — The 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld today the constitutionality of a law making it a crime to destroy a draft card.

In a unanimous decision, the first ruling on the law, the court affirmed the conviction of David J. Miller, 24, of Voluntown, Conn., and formerly of Syracuse, N.Y.

Miller burned what he said was his draft card at a street rally here on Oct. 15, 1965, as a "symbolic protest" against U.S. involvement in the war in Viet Nam.

Area Youth Badly Burned in Fiery Auto Accident

A Bloomfield Hills youth is in critical condition at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, today with severe burns over his entire body as the result of a two-car accident at Woodward and Quarton, Birmingham, last night.

Birmingham police said Mark Arminski, 15, of 281 Warrington, Bloomfield Hills, was burned when the car in which he was riding burst into flames after colliding with a second car.

The driver of the car, Allen Keogh, 16, of 565 Catalpa, Birmingham, is in satisfactory condition at Beaumont.

Police said the boys had just pulled out of a gas station on Woodward when they collided with a car driven by Robert W. Stonto, 36, of Royal Oak. Stonto was not injured.

★ ★ ★

They said the gas tank of young Keogh's car exploded and burst into flames.

★ ★ ★

The Arminski youth was thrown into the back seat, they said, and it was several minutes before patrolmen Douglas Marble and Lawrence Cooper and an unidentified person were able to extricate him.

Rusk Awaits New Red Peace Reply

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says the United States hopes for "a more considered reply" despite the Communists' public rejection of latest American proposals for peace in Viet Nam.

Washington does not accept the turndown as final, Rusk said Wednesday night in a speech to the Association of the United States Army.

If the Communists are uncertain about the meaning of the new set of proposals for scaling down or ending the war, he added, "the way to clear it up is through discussion."

He did not elaborate on this comment, made to reporters after he briefed the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

RED BUILDUP

Rusk was asked whether there were indications the North Vietnamese were preparing for a major offensive. "We know there has been a buildup of North Vietnamese in and just outside the demilitarized zone "separating North and South Viet Nam, he replied, "and they are not there just as tourists."

Rusk plans to arrive in Manila three days before the opening of the Oct. 24-25 summit meeting there, then accompany President Johnson on the rest of his Asian tour. Rusk's early arrival will enable him to hold informal talks with other foreign ministers, a State Department spokesman said.

* * *

As Rusk discussed the war's diplomatic side effects, another Cabinet officer was reviewing its impact on the U.S. economy.

Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor said the President stands ready to request wage and price controls if needed to support the military effort in Viet Nam.

NO INDICATION

But Connor quickly added: "There is no indication now that we will not be able to give our fighting men everything they need to prosecute our cause in Viet Nam and throughout the world just the way we are doing it now — without controls."

Connor addressed members of the American Ordnance Association, as did Arthur M. Okun, a member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

School Dropout Trend Concerns All

The times presents no greater challenge to the youth of America than that of attaining educational fitness for the years of economic and cultural fulfillment that lie ahead.

There was a time in this Country when a boy or girl could leave school with a limited education and still have reasonable expectation of building a rewarding career. That, unfortunately, is no longer true.

Tragically, however, an alarming number of our future citizens have slight regard for the value of education, and to a great extent contribute to the economic and social ills besetting the Country, while consigning themselves to lives of frustration and maladjustment.

This year 900,000 youngsters will become school dropouts. This shocking exodus from our school system—the finest in the world—bodes ill for the strength of character and independence of spirit so traditionally American.

To counter this drift from the Nation's halls of learning, President JOHNSON has launched a national Youth Opportunity stay-in-school drive. Employers and other community leaders are urged to help make the campaign effective.

How can they contribute to it? First, by exerting continuous influence on youngsters to stay in school; or, if they have dropped out, to return to their classrooms. Second, by providing as many school year part-time jobs as possible, especially in cases where such a job might spell the difference between finishing school or dropping out.

★ ★ ★

Every American adult has a stake in the educational development of the Country's youth and owes it to himself and his homeland to enlist in the President's campaign in furtherance of it.

Food Quackery Feeds on Hopes of the Afflicted

Health nostrums tend to run in cycles. A few years ago radioactivity was the hotbed of quackery. Today it is the old health food fads that put first claim on the dollars of the fearful, the sick in spirit, and the elderly.

The entire spectrum of present day "fads and fallacies" in the health field was explored at the Third National Congress on Medical Quackery held in Chicago last week. The meeting was sponsored by the American Medical Association and the National Health Council.

Warnings will be issued on the health food fads, obesity nostrums, cancer and arthritis cures, bust developers and spurious psychological counseling on which a gullible public will spend $1 billion this year.

★ ★ ★

Quackery has been a menace, of course, since the earliest days of medicine. Indeed, the healing arts originated with the priest-magician and the witch doctor. The first recorded prescription for a hair grower was that made up for Queen SES of Egypt at about 3400 B.C. It was a mixture of dogs' toes, date refuse, and asses' hooves.

★ ★ ★

The ingredients used today in flimflamming the public are more aesthetically appealing, but the results are still the same.

Prison Death Seen for Last of Nazi Leaders

Sunday marks the 20th anniversary of the execution in Nuremberg of 10 Nazi leaders for war crimes. Another, HERMAN GOERING, had cheated the executioner by taking poison in his cell two hours before he was to have led the death parade.

The 10 corpses were photographed and the pictures published to abort any possible rumors, as in the case of ADOLF HITLER, that they might still be alive. All of the bodies were cremated and the ashes dispersed secretly to prevent their remains becoming a shrine.

★ ★ ★

The seven other Nazis convicted at Nuremberg were sent to Spandau prison in Berlin to serve prison terms of varying length. Three were released because of illness before their time was up, died shortly afterward.

Three others freed on expiration of their sentences (two last month) are alive.

Now only RUDOLF HESS, once HITLER's right-hand man, remains in the brick fortress. Seventy-two years old, HESS in all likelihood will stay in prison until death ends his sentence. The Soviet Union has refused to agree to his release, for it regards Spandau's lonely occupant as "a symbol of Naziism and a symbol of the defeat of Naziism."

U.S.-Kremlin Deals Analyzed

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A seeming Soviet willingness to do business with the United States may be due in part to Red China's setbacks in the struggle for leadership of the Communist world.

This opinion comes from some U.S. diplomats after four exploratory sessions with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko —three with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Gromyko's call on President Johnson.

A year ago Gromyko stayed away from Washington, though he was in New York for the U.N. General Assembly opening. U.S. forces were then going into Viet Nam in a big way, and a seemingly potent Peking was accusing the Soviet Union of conniving with the "imperialist" enemy.

This fall Gromyko agreed to final talks aimed at starting direct U.S.-Soviet commercial air service. He abandoned some earlier objections to a treaty to preserve outer space for peaceful use and he showed interest in a pact to outlaw the spread of nuclear weapons.

U.S. Kremlinologists who see in this a warming-up of U.S.-Soviet relations are inclined to give some credit to Mao Tse-tung —for the Chinese leader's Red Guard rampage which has tumbled Peking's prestige inside as well as outside of the Communist camp.

According to this theory, Moscow has forged so far ahead in the Sino-Soviet rivalry that the Kremlin can shrug off China's charges and feel free to pursue its own foreign policy ends.

Moscow may also have decided, it is said, that Peking would accuse the Soviet Union of conniving with America no matter what Moscow does, and therefore the Soviets might as well enter into deals with the West that suit their interest.

There is another school of thought among Washington experts which fails to find any marked improvement in Moscow-Washington relations at this time.

★ ★ ★

They say the Kremlin leadership has kept the door open right along for East-West accords which might suit the Soviets. They note Gromyko continued to brand America as the aggressor in Viet Nam, voice support for Hanoi and rebuff peace approaches.

PRAGMATIC POLICY

This analysis sees Kremlin policy as partly harsh, partly accommodating toward the West, and pragmatic in dealing with any specific item. So what looks like a smile from Moscow today on one issue could turn to a frown tomorrow on another.

But the differing interpretations do come to one common conclusion: That a wide gulf still separates Washington from Moscow and bridging it will not be easy.

No. 2 Is Trying Harder!

David Lawrence Says:

Social Security Deficit Is Huge

WASHINGTON — The Social Security system has an unfunded deficit of more than $321 billion, but nevertheless President Johnson will recommend to Congress that the benefits to the citizenry be increased by at least 10 per cent.

LAWRENCE

If the government were to limit its benefits to the persons who are at present paying Social Security taxes and to those who are already retired and receiving benefits, it would require at least $321 billion in excess of future taxes plus the assets of $21.6 billion at present in the Social Security system.

These are the 1962 figures — the most recent available — and it is estimated that the unfunded deficit today is even larger. The federal government, therefore, operates the Social Security plan on the assumption that new workers in the future will bring in more money.

The assets in the present fund of $21.6 billion are only slightly more than one year's benefit payments, and this is why increased payroll taxes have become necessary.

A 22-year-old college graduate who starts working now and retires at age 65 would pay a total of $15,606 in Social Security taxes, while his employer would equal this amount, so that the grand total of $31,212 would be paid in for the individual. But, under Social Security, his retirement benefits would total only $25,704, or $5,508 less than the combined taxes paid by the worker and his employer.

ADDITIONAL INCOME

Although it is true that a retired individual is covered by Medicare, it is also to be noted that if the same tax money had been invested by either the employer or the employe or both, there would have been an additional source of income for this purpose, too.

Many individuals are aware that an amount invested at 2½ per cent to be paid to them at age 65 would guarantee them the same monthly benefit as will be paid under Social Security and would cost about $25,160, which is much less than Social Security taxes over the years prior to retirement at age 65.

Some statisticians have figured out that maybe a person would be better off by taking out a private insurance policy.

There are some extra advantages in the government plan, such as possible benefits for the family. But the amount of money paid by the new employe and his employer prior to retirement age will in many cases be in excess of what the government doles out in the form of benefits.

Now, moreover, as Social Security taxes are going to be increased to offset the rise in benefits, the individual will be paying far more than he will ever receive unless the benefits are increased in the future and the added costs are to be passed on to be collected annually from the next generation.

Bob Considine Says:

Strong GOP Comeback May Mean Jolt for Ho

NEW YORK — One of the several misconceptions under which Ho Chi Minh appears to be laboring is that the defeat next month of a sufficient number of congressional candidates riding LBJ's coattails would mean a deceleration of the U.S. war effort in Viet Nam.

CONSIDINE

A strong GOP comeback on Capitol Hill — and in the 35 governors' chairs which will be filled — could produce the opposite result. By and large, Republican noses are harder than the Democrat president's on the question of how best to get Ho to holler "uncle."

Recent guidelines laid down by Gen. Eisenhower, Dick Nixon and Gen. LeMay suggest that if they were back in power they would play to "win" much more aggressively than the President thinks is now proper.

Any substantial rejection of Democrats who base their campaigns on total support of the way LBJ is now running the war may put a crimp in the future course of the Great Society, particularly in its massive welfare projects and civil rights aims.

★ ★ ★

But the only effect it could have on the war would be a strong and perhaps compelling demand that it be vigorously stepped up.

MIGHT TIGHTEN SCREWS

Whether the President and the Democratic majority in both houses of the Congress would yield to demands of this nature is not known positively.

But chances are that if the future of the Great Society legislation was imperiled, the majority would accede and tighten the screws of war a bit more.

The military involved in carrying out LBJ's Viet Nam policy believes it can swing much harder against the Viet Cong and North Viet Nam without serious danger of bringing Red China into the war. This is notably true of the Air Force.

★ ★ ★

The elections in the U.S. will be carefully watched in Hanoi. The war is only one of several current Johnsonian postures which could be altered by the results at the polls, but it is the stance that most deeply interests the enemy.

Ho has nothing to gain, no matter which way the straws blow. But it is unlikely that he know this.

What Ho clearly does not sense is that if the election rebuffs the Administraion and diminishes its overpowering majority in the halls of Congress it will double rebuff him and the peoples he has choesn to lead against a patient giant who could swat him like a fly.

'Black Americans Must Recapture Pride'

Hundreds of years ago when our African ancestors were inhumanly enslaved, they were deprived of their identities, cultures and languages. Still they maintained a deep spiritual sense of pride and dignity that we, their African-American descendants, do not have today.

We must go forth with pride and dignity once again. We must throw off our self-made impotency and racial indifference. These shortcomings are continuing to divide us as a race and are stunting our progress as individuals.

'Public Hearing Handled Undemocratically'

We feel something must be done about the undemocratic manner in which the public hearing on the Taubman proposal was handled by our City Commission.

Your City Commissioners ignored the need for our city to become a city instead of a parking lot. They ignored the Citizens Improvement Advisory Committee on our City's most significant investment. They ignored the City Planning Commission. They ignored a recent $250,000 investment by taxpayers for the Auburn-Orchard Lake intersection. They ignored an opportunity to save the taxpayers eight to ten million dollars.

Question and Answer

Isn't there a law that a man arrested for a felony must have a hearing within 10 days of arraignment? Can a case be thrown out if this isn't done? Can the man be arrested all over again?

D. B.

REPLY

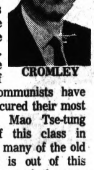

Yes to the first question, but the 10-day limitation or the preliminary examination may be waived by the defendant. If it isn't waived and there's no hearing within 10 days, the case can be thrown out, but the man could be arrested again, according to Chief Assistant Prosecutor Plunkett.

In Washington:

Cong Victims of Own Excesses

By RAY CROMLEY

SAIGON (NEA)—Viet Cong sources say their leadership has become worried over the silent antagonism of the small middle-class farmer in many areas.

CROMLEY

These middle-class farmers are the backbone of Viet Nam. This is the class out of which the Communists have in the past secured their most able cadres. Mao Tse-tung came out of this class in China. So did many of the old hierarchy. It is out of this class that most of the new young leaders of the Communist party must come in the future.

If the Communist party fails to solve this problem of antagonism, the Viet Cong could eventually wither away for lack of upcoming, vigorous, able leadership.

It's not only for party leadership but also for local economic leadership that the Communists must depend on the middle-class farmer group. Without their leadership, control goes completely into the hands of the Chinese merchant.

In part, the Communists have been victims of their own propaganda. They shouted about the wickedness of all landlords so loudly that local party cells went whole hog and attacked the middle class along with the "rich" farmers.

To the best of their ability, the Viet Cong have driven out the "rich" peasant. They have done this in part by terrorizing him and his family. In some places they have levied taxes on him which are greater than the value of his crops. Because he has been terrorized or cannot pay his taxes, he runs away. The Communists then take over these "abandoned" farms and either divide them or rent them out.

The Viet Cong so far have been quite successful in many places with the very poor peasants. They have succeeded in part by confiscating land from the rich and distributing it to the poor at no cost to themselves.

Though in many places they have since raised taxes to high levels, they have convinced many of these poor farmers that if the government comes back they will lose their land. By constant reiteration they have sold them on the idea that it's better to pay high taxes and "own" the land than it is to have no land at all.

When the poor farmer has doubts, the Communists tell him to go look at the national government's official land books. He will see there that his land is still officially in the hands of absentee landlords and others.

He is told that if he is to keep his land, therefore, he must fight the government that "wants to" take it away from him. He doesn't know what happens to poor farmers when a country is completely Communist, as in Red China or North Korea.

But in many places the VC have already alienated the middle-class farmer. The order from above was not to destroy him, but to take away from him only what he and his family could not farm themselves. In practice, local Communist cadres often treated him as they did the "rich" farmer.

As one Communist administrator of three provinces puts it in a report to his superiors:

"Our actions have frightened the middle-class peasant and he has become unproductive . . . While before it had been easy to mobilize the middle-class peasants to take part in the direct struggle and an average of 300 per village participated in every operation, it is now difficult to mobilize even 50 men."

In rural Viet Nam, the poor farmer traditionally was carried along in bad years and between crops by his landlord — often a small middle-class peasant who owned a little land and farmed some and rented out a piece or two. The landlords charged very high rates, but the farmer at least had someone to carry him.

Now, a Viet Cong official reports, "The middle-class peasants no longer lend money to the poor. The poor farmer has become angry with us because he could not borrow money to buy a paddy for planting his crops."

Public Bank Folds; $1 Million in the Red

DETROIT (AP)—The Public Bank of Detroit, nine years old and more than $1 million in the red, collapsed Wednesday in one of the biggest bank failures since the Depression.

A secret, midnight meeting certified the demise of the faltering institution and stunned the 3,000 stockholders and president James H. McGuire alike.

The bank's directors scheduled a meeting for today amid reports that they would file a suit—but who the defendants will be remains to be seen.

★ ★ ★

The Bank of the Commonwealth immediately took over and backed the liabilities of the Public Bank.

State Banking Commissioner Charles D. Slay said the bank "simply owed more than it owned" because of "sabotage and conflict of interest" among its directors. He named no names.

GETS NEWS BY PHONE

McGuire got the news in a telephone call shortly after midnight. The stockholders—some of whom filed suits against the action late Wednesday—learned of it from news media.

"I had no prior knowledge or I wouldn't have been in bed," said the 51-year-old McGuire, who took the helm of the Public Bank in February. "I was sound asleep."

★ ★ ★

The call came from general counsel of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. (FDIC), which had been named by Wayne County (Detroit) Circuit Judge Benjamin Burdick as receiver.

Burdick took the action at the request of Slay, who asked that the bank be put in involuntary receivership — meaning the bank's liabilities were bigger than its assets.

$58,000 Blaze in East Detroit

EAST DETROIT (AP)—Fire caused an estimated $58,000 damage to the International Accordion Co. in this Detroit suburb Wednesday. The cause of the blaze, which broke out in a rear workshop, was not immediately determined, said Fire Chief Frank Molnar. He said two dozen firemen from East Detroit and three neighboring communities battled flames for 2½ hours before bringing the fire under control. No one was injured, Molnar said, because most employes were at lunch when the fire broke out.

Jim Bottomley of the St. Louis Cardinals drove in 12 runs in one baseball game in 1924, a major league record.

Sheriff Defends Handling of 2

DETROIT (AP) — Two men sentenced to 18-month prison terms for Taft-Hartley Act violations got special treatment while awaiting transfer to a federal prison, Wayne County sheriff's deputies claimed Wednesday.

Rolland B. McMaster, a Teamster business agent, and William F. Wolff Sr., president of Youngstown (Ohio) Cartage Co., were transferred to a federal prison later in the day.

★ ★ ★

Deputies at the Wayne County Jail said the two men were housed in an area called witness rooms, allowed special kitchen privileges, given special rights to have visitors and allowed access to a telephone.

Sheriff Peter L. Buback said the two men were treated according to the merits of their conditions.

HEART CONDITION

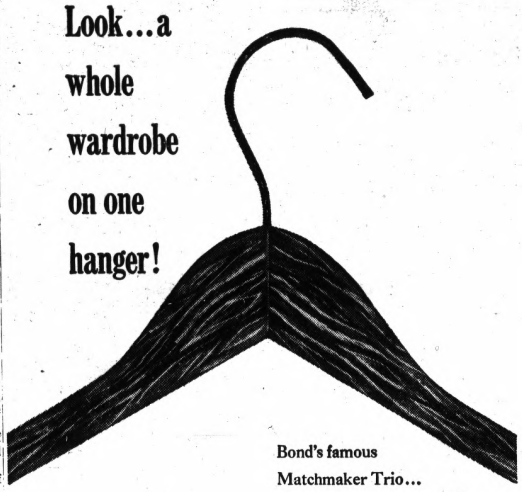

Buback said Wolff suffered from a heart condition and hypertension and needed to be kept where he could receive medication and rest.

He said McMaster was "quite a controversial Teamster" and: "Put him in with a bunch of prisoners and you can't tell what might happen."

A federal jury convicted Wolff and McMaster, then secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 299 in Detroit, of 32 counts of giving and receiving money illegally from people they served.

LBJ Attacks White Backlash

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson, drawing large crowds on a campaign tour of New York City, headed for more stumping today after issuing an appeal against white backlash.

★ ★ ★

Addressing an Italian-American audience in Brooklyn Wednesday night — it was Columbus Day — Johnson reminded his listeners that "it hasn't been too many years since Italian-Americans have felt the raw pain of discrimination right here in America."

★ ★ ★

In his first appeal of this sort since "backlash" began figuring as an election-year issue, Johnson said:

"For those other Americans who are now feeling that need for fairness to all, regardless of religion, ancestry or race, I ask those of you who have crossed over the river to extend to them a helping hand."

BRINGS CHEERS

The response was cheers from the dinner audience in Brooklyn's Hotel St. George.

Johnson stayed overnight in Manhattan so he could meet today with Prince Souvanna Phouma, neutralist prime minister of Laos.

En route back to Washington, where he holds an afternoon news conference, Johnson scheduled a campaign appearance at Wilmington, Del.

In four formal speeches in the New York area, the President was an unrestrained partisan — seeking Democratic votes in the Nov. 8 election — until his final appearance before the Italian-American Professional and Businessmans Association.

Apart from the absence of straightaway party line appeals, the talk there was noteworthy for the folksiness of Johnson's bid for tolerance.

Building Slated

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A $26-million office building to be owned in shares by its tenants is planned here. The 26-story building would be constructed near City Hall.

NY Union Official Is Beaten to Death

NEW YORK (AP) — A union official was beaten to death Wednesday night as he walked with his dog near his Flushing, Queens, home.

Police were searching for a well-groomed man wearing a shirt with a ruffled front who neighbors said stood over the victim and kicked him in the head before fleeing in a black and white auto.

★ ★ ★

The dead man was identified as James P. Fox, 62, business agent for Local 608, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

Fox died at Flushing Hospital while undergoing surgery for head wounds.

Ex-Envoy Hits Latin Dealings

NEW YORK (AP) — A veteran of U. S. diplomacy has criticized tactics of the Johnson administration and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., in dealing with Latin America.

Ellis O. Briggs, who was ambassador to eight nations from Korea to Brazil, warned the White House to move cautiously on plans for a summit meeting of President Johnson and the chiefs of state in Latin America.

"If the American government now rushes into another presidential outing," said Briggs, "without awaiting the accomplishment of something to ratify or to celebrate — something remotely commensurate with the hoopla involved in cranking up so gargantuan a fiesta — then the responsible Washington officials need to have their heads examined."

Briggs spoke at a banquet Wednesday night at the Metropolitan Club, where he received the annual award of the American Foundation, a nonprofit corporation which fosters relations among the American republics.

Briggs said the idea of a "grand conclave of presidents to promote inter-American cooperation" has merit. But he noted "the last meeting of chief executives was held in Panama 10 years ago, and it proved to be one of the most futile barbecues of the century."

Briggs, 67, retired from the Foreign Service after 41 years in U.S. missions and embassies. From 1945 to 1956, he was ambassador in four Latin countries — the Dominican Republic, Peru, Uruguay and Brazil.

Without mentioning Kennedy by name, Briggs criticized the senator's three-week tour of five South American nations last fall.

Referring to the activities of the "youthful senator," Briggs said:

"In a reverse situation, an invading foreigner who presumed to harangue a North American audience about civil rights, the slowness of desegregation or inadequate taxes would be lucky to escape with his shirt on his back. He would almost certainly lose his bombachas" — Spanish for breeches.

The visitor, Briggs said, offered unsolicited advice to the nations on how to "comport themselves in their domestic responsibilities."

Report From Aboard the James K. Polk

Nuclear Submariners Wait for Armageddon, Hope It Will Never Come

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

AT SEA WITH THE JAMES K. POLK — There's a gag among men who sign aboard the Polaris submarine fleet that the profession certainly has its ups and downs.

Well, the sailors think it's funny, anyway.

But then the gobs serving on these nuclear orgasies (the U. S. now has 41) will chuckle at just about anything. For relief mostly. Because the people of this particular silent service have possibly the grimmest, least humorous job in the history of man.

As one crewman here puts it:

"We're waiting around for Armageddon."

* * *

In essence he's correct. Inside the massive, but cramped hull of the USS Polk are 16 atomic missiles with a holocaustic capability in excess of all the bombs dropped (by both sides) during the six years of World War II.

ENEMY TARGET

Each of these warheads (they cost $1 million apiece) is continuously aimed at an enemy target. Peking? Moscow? Hanoi? The Navy, naturally, isn't saying.

But if they are ever launched in anger, history's final battle will have begun. Continents will be rubbled. Hundreds of millions will be dead. Water and air will be poisoned. Civilization will be destroyed.

In such instance only a few people in the world would have any chance of survival. Submerged Polaris crews, for example, might well end up as some of the last men on earth.

* * *

"It's a heck of a thing to think about," says Homer Shepard, 18, of Ferndale, Mich. "Down here we might be safe. We might survive such an all-out war . . . but our families and our friends probably would be wiped out."

DOESN'T SET WELL

The thought naturally doesn't set well with Shepard, a Polk machinist mate on his first Navy, first nuclear and first submarine assignment.

"Actually it's frightening," he says.

Survival?

"Of course."

But why?

"Because if the button is pushed, everything would go. We'd have a good chance to get through but what of it? I mean what would we have to live for then, anyway?"

Shepard's point is the same one made by the Department of Navy ever since the fantastic $12 billion Polaris project was initiated 10 years ago. World destruction, they stress, is not the goal of the subs. World preservation is.

* * *

The Navy insists that the Polaris mission is a deterrent one. The idea is that no enemy would be brainless enough to attack the United States with as many as 656 virtually undetectable, enormously accurate underwater missiles pointing at them.

And it does seem probable that potential foes would think twice. The Polaris A-3 missile can hit a blemish on a gnat at 2,800 statute miles and carries an explosive punch which dwarfs the Hiroshima bomb.

The $100 million, 425-foot, 8,000-ton vessel itself can travel under water for years at a time with all of the anonymity of a minnow in the Mississippi.

Thus, though concerned, there are few nuclear neurotics aboard these subs. The men are not preoccupied with war. They feel their profession is peace.

* * *

"I've got a mom and dad in Michigan," young Shepard explains. "And I've got a girl there too. I can't waste time worrying about whether somebody will explode a hydrogen bomb in my home town. I'm too busy trying to help insure that nobody ever will."

SPEAKS FOR ALL

The lad speaks for all this ship's crew. Together, they possess the most awesome, sneaky and destructive force in history. They know how to use it and, if called on, they will.

Yet they fell that possibility remains unthinkable. In the first place, snickers Homer Shepard, there would be nobody left to hand out the war medals.

Well, the sailors think it's funny, anyway.

TRIES NOT TO THINK — Homer Shepard, 18, of Ferndale, Mich., knows full well the enormous destructive power of his ship, the nuclear submarine James K. Polk, but he tries not to think about it.

Volunteers Hear Theatre Head

By JANET ODELL

Committee women working on the Meadow Brook Theatre at Oakland University had an opportunity Wednesday to meet the new director, John Fernald, and to hear more of his plans for the upcoming season.

An organization similar to the one that has proved so successful for the Meadow Brook Music Festival has been set up.

Mrs. Charles Adams who with her husband is heading all committees for the theatre venture presided at the meeting.

Prior to that, the women had met Fernald and his staff informally on the stage of the Matilda Wilson Auditorium. Tea was served near the wings.

Chancellor D. B. Varner gave a quick look at the background of the new performing arts project,

He noted that it is closely tied in with the music festival. Oakland University considers that just the beginning of a cultural development for the entire metropolitan area.

The school has assumed a role here unlike that of any other university.

He stressed that the theatre will not be a student operation; that it is a purely professional company. Six key people from the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London are here or are coming to assist Fernald as staff members.

★ ★ ★

Fernald was head of the Academy for many years before returning to his native land and Oakland University in July.

"Ventures succeed because good people make them go," Varner concluded.

Fernald told the nearly 100 women present that the new theatre will not have stars.

He prefers the type of company in which all are strong professional actors who have perfect rapport with one another and who play together with the symphony of a musical quartet.

Rehearsals will begin in about four weeks.

"Then I go into purdah," Fernald said, "and have no time for this kind of social life."

This committee method of working may not be the way Fernald is used to getting things done. But he said he is approaching the project with "confident anticipation."

★ ★ ★

Shortly after this group of women left Wilson Auditorium, drama teachers from three counties were expected to arrive and to hear the same story.

In addition to regular evening performances, Meadow Brook Theatre will present matinees for area high school students.

Season tickets for all performances are now on sale at Oakland University.

Interested individuals who have not received a brochure may contact the theatre by phone at Oakland University or may write directly to the box office there.

The first play will be presented Jan. 3, 1967.

Coffee onstage was the preliminary to Wednesday's meeting of the volunteer committees for the upcoming Meadow Brook Theatre at Oakland University. Mrs. James Howlett, Ottawa Drive (left) is Pontiac area chairman. Working with her are Mrs. Marvin Jaffee, Ottawa Drive (center) and Mrs. Marvin Schrock, Rolling Rock Drive.

Romeo Will Never Kiss and Tell Even if He Isn't Very Romantic

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have met a remarkable man who does not believe in the delightful practice of kissing for the simple reason that it spreads germs.

ABBY

He is sincere and practices his belief to the fullest.

How can a normal man resist the urge to kiss someone he cares deeply for? Surely there must be some temptation!

★ ★ ★

Or do you think this is a characteristic to be admired. A victory of intelligence over the emotions? Personally I would risk getting a few delicious germs, but he doesn't feel that way about it. What do you think? Sign this:

KISSABLE BUT UNKISSED

★ ★ ★

DEAR UNKISSED: I'm all for a clean relationship, but this is ridiculous. A kissless romance, as I see it, is not likely to hatch into anything as intimate as marriage, where it's share and share alike, germs included.

★ ★ ★

So if that's what you had in mind, kiss this germ-conscious Romeo good-by. And be careful not to breathe on him.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law problem is different from any I have ever seen in your column. She can't do enough for me. When I call and invite her and dad here for dinner she says, "It's too much work for you — come here instead." And she won't take no for an answer. So we go, and she always sends us home loaded with tasty leftovers. She is constantly sending my husband and me gifts.

★ ★ ★

She sounds perfect, doesn't she? Well, she's far from it. On two occasions I've bought her gifts. She returned both of them and credited them to MY account. She's the most ungracious guest I have ever known. When I finally got her to come over one afternoon, she sat with her coat on and stayed only a few minutes. She wouldn't even have a cup of tea because she didn't want to put me to any trouble. What on earth is wrong with her?

BEWILDERED

★ ★ ★

DEAR BEWILDERED: She means well, but she has never learned how to accept anything graciously. The burden of gratitude is too heavy for her to say "thank you." I doubt if she'll ever change, so try to understand her.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO "UNHAPPY" IN ENGLEWOOD: Your unhappiness appears to be caused not so much by what you don't have as by what your neighbor has. Reflect on it.

BPW Week Starts With a Breakfast

District 10, Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, will join in the state-wide observance of National Business Women's Week Oct. 16-22.

★ ★ ★

Margaret Fleischmann will give the meditation as the 23 clubs attend breakfast and a devotional service, Sunday, in Greenfield's Birmingham Restaurant.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. John J. Shada of Ferndale will speak concerning "The Wonderful World of Women" at the closing banquet at 7:00 p.m. Sunday in the Statler-Hilton Hotel. Districts 5, 8, 9, 10 and 11 will be represented.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Shada is presently chairman of the Speaker's Bureau, Detroit Round Table of Christians and Jews Women's Division, and one of Detroit's outstanding speakers.

Music will be by the Choral Group of the Ford Motor Company.

PURPOSE

The purpose of National Business Women's Week is to publicize the aims and objectives of the Michigan Federation:

- Elevation of standards for women in business and the professions;
- Promotion of the interests of business and professional women;
- To stimulate cooperation among business and professional women in the United States;
- To extend opportunities to these women through education along lines of industrial, scientific and vocational activities.

Animal Look on the Loose

The animals are coming with a pow, zowie and zoom, says Women's Wear Daily. One example: Jacques Kaplan's idea — covering a girl from head to toe with fur. The look features, among other things, lion's manes, shaggy shoulders, shaggy legs, shaggy all over. And the feet? Why they're covered with black Indian broadtail booties.

Can Reduce Accidents on Road

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Although the writer of today's letter prefers to remain anonymous, I am delighted to print some excerpts from her letter on driving manners, and a book has been sent to her as the prize winner of the week.

Dear Mrs. Post: Your appeal to "driving courtesy," if followed by your readers, can reduce accidents. As a driver for a national organization, transporting blind and handicapped, I can confirm that etiquette on the road is most important.

* * *

The impatient motorist that blocks an intersection, when traffic is halted, creates his own annoyance. The road hog that straddles lanes and assumes he is privileged to ignore "passing on the left," invites disaster on the right.

The importance of two hands on the wheel (10:00 and 2:00 positions) cannot be overrated. Impatience isn't new, but we have all seen the obstreperous personality who, when the light changes, makes a hazardous attempt to pass every car.

* * *

Driver education has proved to us, irrefutably, that "stopping on a dime" with power brakes is relative to speed, weight and driver control, so anyone making a sudden stop cannot ignore the unpreparedness of others behind.

If we can only realize that our modern roads are only as good as we who use them, we will reduce the unnecessary slaughter.

Dear Miss X.: There is little I can say except to express my appreciation for those thoughts and suggestions. The more people who take the trouble to think about highway traffic problems, the safer our roads will become.

I would greatly appreciate hearing any further suggestions or ideas for improving automobile safety.

BUFFET TABLE

Dear Mrs. Post: Must a buffet table always be covered with a tablecloth? I have seen pictures of buffets served without. — Marjorie K.

Dear Marjorie: If you have a table with a lovely finish, you may certainly set up the buffet without a tablecloth. Be sure to use protective mats under hot dishes.

The cloth makes the buffet seem more formal, I think, especially if silver candelabra or an elaborate centerpiece are used. The cloth also serves to protect the surface of the table from spilled liquids, but it is a matter of choice, not etiquette.

So you're planning to give a shower! A new booklet by Elizabeth L. Post tells you everything you need to know for a bridal shower, a welcome party for a new neighbor, the local minister or anyone else.

To get your copy, send a quarter in coin to cover booklet and shipping expenses, to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Women to Hear of Zambia

The Episcopal Church women of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church will explore the Republic of Zambia, Central Africa, at 1:00 p.m., Monday in the parish house, North Adams Road.

Rev. Everett W. Francis, associate director of program-development for the Diocese of Michigan will show a film strip of St. Francis Hospitals in Katete, Zambia.

* * *

St. Stephen's ECW have selected as its special missionary project the hospital's nurses' training school. The Diocese of Zambia maintains this one large hospital and four small hospitals and dispensaries connected with its rural missions.

* * *

Some 76,000 of the 3,500,000 population of this new nation are Europeans. Zambia is the 'companion' diocese of the Diocese of Michigan chosen as its partner in the program of mutual responsibility and interdependence.

* * *

Cohostesses will be Mrs. Thomas W. Roberts Jr., and Mrs. Edwin H. Cox. Refreshments will be served and nursery services provided.

Try Using Both Hands

Two hands are better than one for housecleaning efficiency. When washing the kitchen or bathroom floor, use one hand for the sudsy cloth, the other for the rinsing cloth. Wall-washing and window cleaning are other sudsy jobs done better the two-handed way.

* * *

Besides saving time, the muscles of both arms will get equal exercise to preserve their symmetry.

Saves Time

When putting small boys' clothes away after ironing, first fold the over-alls. Next fold the polo shirt you want him to wear with the overalls and place the shirt inside the over-alls. This way it is easy for either you or him to find them when needed.

Aids in Dusting

For better-looking wood picture frames, apply a coat of paste wax and polish. It also makes the dusting of them an easier task.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Mrs. Farmer:

I would like to make a corduroy jacket in my sewing class in high school this fall so I have been looking at the ones in the store to see what I would like. My favorite jacket was made of a wide corduroy, but instead of the stripes going up and down, they went crosswise. I can't find any corduroy like this, can you help me?

NANCY W.

Dear Nancy:

Yours is just one of the many questions readers have sent me concerning corduroy. The jacket you are referring to was made with the grain of the corduroy running crosswise instead of lengthwise. Ordinarily, we make quite an issue of cutting with the lengthwise grain, however, for style reasons these rules are occasionally broken.

Since corduroy is so closely woven and firm, you may cut it in this way and still have satisfactory results.

One word of advice again on corduroy. Be sure to cut each and every piece of your garment in the same direction, if you don't there will be a noticeable change in the color of the fabric. When you are using the lengthwise grain of the corduroy, it is generally accepted that you will cut it against the grain. This gives a darker richer color and seems to prevent the nap flattening out so fast.

Corduroy does not need to be underlined; simply use a firm, woven interfacing for the jacket fronts and the undercollar. Press with great care, never on the right side, to prevent flattening the nap and giving it that ironed look. A good steaming and simply flattening with your fingers does an excellent job.

Dear Mrs. Farmer:

A friend of mine makes the most beautiful clothes for herself. One dress she showed me recently was so simple and looked so easy to make that I was shocked when she commented, "Isn't this smashing, it just has to look expensive because of its simplicity." I never thought of it that way before and perhaps not only I but others have the tendency to try too hard to add gimmicks to our clothes.

Mrs. M. M. B.

Dear Mrs. M. M. B.:

This brings to mind my very favorite story, one which I always tell my new students on their first day in class. It's about the woman who is shopping for ready-made dresses and finds one that has contrasting braid, beautiful buttons, contrasting collar and cuffs for only $20.

Then she sees another dress that appears absolutely plain with no detail, just unusual seaming and cut of fabric. It was marked over $100.

Upon questioning the sales girl about the price of the two and comparing the amount of workmanship, not understanding why the simple dress cost the most, the sales girl's reply was a classic, "Madam, you pay for the restraint!" So let's all remember this when we are trying to be our own designers.

Use beautiful fabrics with just one focal point to a garment! Too many women who do their own sewing get carried away and want to use every "cute detail" they have seen on one dress.

Folksy Myths in New Book

DENTON, Tex. (UPI) — Girls who want an easy way to good looks might derive some comfort from a book by an English professor. One of its bits of advice is, "Eating a chicken neck will make you pretty."

The book, "Mirrors, Mice and Mustaches: A Sampling of Superstitions and Popular Beliefs in Texas," is by Dr. George D. Hendricks of the North Texas State University English faculty.

Hendricks spent three years going about Texas, searching for material for his book. The result: a list of 6,000 superstitions — from courtship rules to medicine.

"These superstitions reveal much about the American character and form a definite part of our culture," he said. He hopes to publish a book some time about superstitions throughout America.

Here are some gems from his Texas collection:

— "No cure for a cough is as good as smoking a pipeful of dry cowchip. This will also keep the mosquitoes away.

— "If you have a cold, tie a red ant on a string around your neck.

— "If you find a button and put it in your shoe, you will have a date before the day is through.

— "If a girl eats from a frying pan, it will rain on her wedding."

When Appreciation Is Needed, Ask for It

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: For the past three weeks I have been working my hands to the bone to get our apartment settled after a complete repainting job.

★ ★ ★

Before that there was all the confusion of getting it ready for the painters. I want to tell you that my 15-year-old daughter hasn't lifted her hand to do one thing but settle her own room.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday, when I asked her to make me a cup of tea because I was so tired, she said, "Do you want waiting on or do you want me to finish my ironing?" To say such a thing to me who . . .

ANSWER: Could you be weak, dependent, "immature" —all those bad things — and tell your family that you want credit for all this hard work you've done? Could you say to them, "Please tell me that I'm a good, industrious, devoted woman because my engines are balking and need some gasoline"?

It is vital that you acknowledge your need for appreciation.

It's a perfectly reasonable need. Most of us have it. The trouble is, our pride won't let us acknowledge it. Like you, we think that others should spare our pride by giving up appreciation without forcing us to ask for it, running to us with solicitous cups of tea and other attentions to which our virtuous labors entitle us.

When they don't, we get wild at them, regarding them as ungrateful and mean.

Now I'm going to say something you're not going to like one bit. It is that your daughter, too, deserves some credit for settling her room amid all this confusion and trying to get her ironing done.

And had you given her some appreciation for these efforts, you'd have gotten that cup of tea.

You're not going to like my saying that because our unadmitted desire for appreciation invariably insists that we are the only person who merits it.

Indeed, the more pressing is this unadmitted desire, the more we have to belittle our daughter's right to credit. She's got to be put down. The more successful we are in making her appear to be a lazy good-for-nothing, the more industrious, responsible and hard - working we can appear to be.

We exactly resemble one of those applause - craving theatrical stars who screams with fury if another actor is given a good line. And we can do nothing at all about our bitterness until we can become aware of our applause-craving passion for our family's appreciation — and sacrificing pride to the truth, ask for it.

A Junior Editors Quiz About ANCIENT GLASS

QUESTION: Why were glass objects so valuable in ancient Egypt?

ANSWER: Glass is sand, with some other ingredients, heated to a point where it melts and fuses into a hard, transparent substance. We use a great many glass objects.

They are cheap because it is easy to blow molten glass into the shapes we want, to press it into moulds or to cast it in various forms.

But when glass was first discovered by the Egyptians or Syrians by 3000 B.C. or before, they did not understand these ways of handling it. Glass objects were built up by laborious methods.

A bar of iron would be made, around which a shape of clay and mud would be constructed. A core of hot glass, often a brilliant blue because of impurities, would then be worked around the clay.

Around this would be coiled differently-colored threads of molten glass, which could be pulled up and down by delicate wires, producing a rich zig-zag effect.

Small jars and vases, such as we illustrate, were made in this way to hold the unguents and perfumes of the few high born ladies who could afford to own them. These glass objects were few in number and highly sought after, hence exceedingly valuable.

After glass blowing was invented in 300 B.C., glass objects became much more common.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Color the picture, with the ancient glass bright blue or green.

'Noise Pollution' Danger Has Scientists Worried

NEW YORK (UPI) — Scientists who worry about the increasing "noise pollution" of American towns and the American home want everyone to realize 150 decibels are much more forceful than 150 times 1 decibel.

They hit ear drums with 1,000,000,000,000,000,000 (1 quadrillion) times the force of 1 decibel. When you understand the decibel scale mounts by giant logarithmic leaps, you may get concerned with noise pollution, too.

One decibel is the pressure on ear drums of a noise barely detectable by healthy young ears. Jet engines and explosions produce 150 decibels of pressure. Between the extremes are all other noises.

A household food blender stirs up a noise pressure of 93 decibels, for instance.

The noisiest power mower produces 107, the outboard motor 102, an automobile in a tunnel 99, a subway train 95.

WOULD WONDER

"Armed with this knowledge, many citizens would wonder if one motorcycle should be allowed to create the same sound hazard as 100 automobiles, especially when noise created by the automobile is injurious," wrote Drs. John D. Dougherty and Oliver L. Welsh, in the New England Journal of Medicine.

Hearing naturally becomes less and less sharp as people age but there now is no doubt that "noise pollution" increases the natural rate of decline.

There Are Some Far, Far Better Things That Are Left Undone

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Autumn turns the mind to things undone, goals unwon.

BOYLE

No matter how fruitful the harvest, there are some berries that failed to ripen or that you failed to pick.

For example, here is one man who has never—

Climbed a molehill or the Matterhorn.

Wing-walked on an airplane aloft.

Beat the bass drum in a St. Patrick's Day parade.

Run down an ascending department store escalator.

Owned a pair of dancing pumps, a cape, or a sword cane.

RESTLESS NATIVES

Put down a native rebellion.

Had a new variety of rose or cauliflower named in my honor.

Passed the barbecue sauce to Lyndon B. Johnson.

Asked for a press pass on a trip to the moon.

Sat in Gypsy Rose Lee's lap.

Learned to drive a tractor or a covered wagon.

Pulled a hidden ace from the sleeve of a Mississippi riverboat gambler.

DIDN'T BATTLE

Bathed in the Ganges River or taken a sauna bath in Helsinki.

Been able to sell one of my daughter's kindergarten paintings to the Louvre.

Taken the cap off a beer bottle with my teeth.

Nobody Shows Up for OEO Aid

By JANICE KLOUSER

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP— In sparsely populated rural areas, the war on poverty can be a lonely struggle.

The first in a series of subcenters to be operated by the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity opened yesterday without a single client.

George Daily, counselor aid, who is manning the subcenter here, could have conducted his first day's business in a telephone booth.

Daily attributed the lack of response to the fact that it was the first day of the new operation.

* * *

He said the North Oakland Opportunity Center in Pontiac also got off to a similar slow start but that business eventually picked up.

OFFICE HOURS

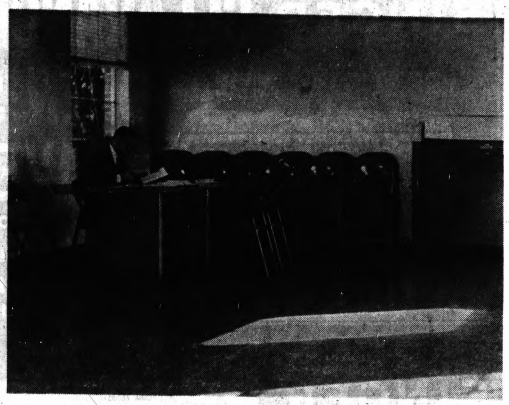

The subcenter, which will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. each Wednesday and Thursday, will be used as an initial interview office for clients. It is planned to better serve low-income residents living in outlying areas.

Daily explained that the subcenter will be used to screen clients and determine what their needs are before they are referred to Pontiac for the service which will best serve their needs.

"This way people can avoid several trips to Pontiac," he said. "They could conceivably come here two or three times before they have to go to Pontiac."

The idea of the subcenter, he explained is to take the service to the clients. He said that commission workers often had to travel out to parts of the county which the subcenters will now serve.

Daily said he expects that the majority of problems coming in to the subcenter will have to do with budgeting.

Lonely War On Poverty Is Waged By George Daily

There are a lot of older persons on fixed incomes living in the area, he explained, who are unsure how to budget what money they have.

Other problems will probably concern family counseling, job counseling and employment and medical and dental referrals, Daily said.

* * *

"We hope we can reach more people here who ordinarily wouldn't come in to Pontiac," he said.

ANOTHER SERVICE

Another service of the subcenter is neighborhood organization under the direction of Mrs. Clarence Williams.

Her job is to go door-to-door to explain the program and what it hopes to do. She will help residents form groups to work on community needs.

She said it will take time for people to see what they can do for themselves.

* * *

All of the proposed 25 subcenters are to be financed by local governing bodies.

* * *

The OCCEO staff plans to meet with govenment officials in other cities and townships to seek their support for the subcenters.

Utica Council Votes Raises

Pay Hikes Likely to Go on March 6 Ballot

UTICA — City Council members have voted a request for pay raises for themselves, the mayor and the assessor.

The matter will probably be placed on the primary ballot March 6.

Requested increases are from $1,000 to $2,500 for Mayor Fred Beck and Assessor Kenneth Titsworth and from $10 to $25 for each meeting attended by councilmen.

The council voted to increase its rezoning petition fee from $50 to $150.

A public hearing was set for 7:30 p.m. Nov. 10 in the council chambers on rezoning two pieces of property.

TO DECIDE REQUEST

A request for two-family dwellings on Russell between Custer and Remer and another for multiple dwellings on Deshon between Hahn and McClellan will be determined.

The latter project would consist of three buildings holding a total of 34 units, the largest apartment project to date for the city.

Bids on a new patrol car were turned over to the police board for study.

* * *

A bid in the amount of $875 from Utica Tractor Sales for the purchase of a new street sweeper was accepted.

The job of paving Harry Street between Hahn and Nancy was awarded to Peake Asphalt Paving Co. for the sum of $3,180.

Area News

Zoning Vote Nixed at Avon Meeting

AVON TOWNSHIP — Last spring's rezoning of 46.6 acres in the Hamlin - Avon - Livernois area from general farm to light industry still stood after last night's township meeting.

A resolution was passed denying the request of Mount Clemens attorney Raymond G. Glime for a special election on the rezoning.

The decision was questioned at length by Mrs. John Chastain, home owner in the affected area.

Following last spring's rezoning, home owners in the area circulated a petition obtaining 1,800 signatures calling for a referendum election on the rezoning.

* * *

Attorney Roscoe E. Martin, acting for landowner Calvin Robertson, challenged the petitions in Circuit Court, and the election set for the Aug. 2 primary was canceled.

ATTORNEYS HIRED

About two months ago, according to township attorney Rex Bebout, four residents of the area hired attorneys to reopen the case.

They sought to intercede in the case, charging that the previous denial of election was only for the one on the Aug. 2 date.

Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore two weeks ago denied permission to interplead on the basis that the original petitions were inadequate as to number, improper in form, and not certified properly by circulators.

* * *

The home owners who had started the latest action are Norman Parmalee, Richard McElwee, Miguel Parets and Jean Davis.

RECOMMENDATION

In other business, the board asked for a police recommendation on cars to be used by the Avon Township auxiliary police and accepted the resignation of Dallas Likens from that group.

The board voted to raise the price of rezoning petitions from $25 to $75 with the provision that $25 would be returned to the petitioner should the matter not go to a public hearing.

An investment of $200 to make Vardon Street off Auburn usable was okayed by the board.

A decision to buy a two-way communication system for use in township cars was tabled until next meeting.

Board members were advised of the public hearing on the new zoning ordinance set for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday and of the Avon-Rochester meeting on sewers set for 4 p.m. next Thursday.

Brandon Twp. UF Drive On

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — The United Fund campaign here was officially launched at a kickoff luncheon at the Roto-Jay Hall yesterday.

O. C. Reed Jr., 71 Cedar, Ortonville, drive chairman, announced a goal of $2,221 for the 54 agencies serving the township which includes the Brandon Township community recreation program.

The campaign is to run until Nov. 4.

Appointed by Reed to assist with the drive are Jack Ferris, education chairman, with David Blomquist and Dean Baker serving as co-chairmen.

Louis Williams and Arnold Seelbinder will head commercial calls.

RESIDENTIAL

Mrs. O. C. Reed Jr., residential chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Norman Kapson, Mrs. Herbert G. Truemen, Mrs. Jay McCaughnna and Mrs. Mead Meyers.

Speaker at the luncheon was Dr. Don O. Tatroe, general chairman of the Pontiac Area United Fund. Also included on the program were Donald J. Frey, executive director of the Pontiac Area United Fund and Donald Millar, associate director.

E. W. Watchpocket and Mrs. Manny Zalants, members of the PAUF speaker's bureau, presented a picture story of agency services.

The luncheon was sponsored by the Genessee Merchants Bank and Trust Co., Ortonville.

Benefit Sale Planned

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Lakeland Nursery School will conduct a benefit sale from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturday at 1515 Union Lake Road. Proceeds will buy equipment for the school playground, according to Mrs. James Lowery, 7990 Marshalsea, chairman.

Antique Show Set by Activities Club

TROY — The Metropolitan Club, composed of handicapped adults, will conduct an antique show tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday at Har-Ver Hall, 3273 Rochester.

Fran Rupe, impressario of several antique shows in the state, is presenting the exhibit. Hours will be from 11 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday and from 11 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Workers say nearly a quarter-million dollars worth of merchandise will be on exhibit, and prices and treasures have been geared to both beginning and advanced collectors.

Dryer Quits as Chief of Holly Village

HOLLY—Village Council President Keith Dryer has resigned from the position he has held since March in order to accept a job promotion.

Dryer of 128 Park, an employe of the Society Security Administration in Pontiac, said he has received a promotion to central headquarters in Baltimore, Md.

"This was a real challenging opportunity that I just couldn't pass up," he said.

His resignation will become effective Oct. 25, by which time, he said, a replacement will have been selected from among the council.

He said a new council member will also have to be selected to replace the one which becomes president.

Dryer was elected to the one-year term as president in March.

In Clarkston

Phone Switch Sunday

CLARKSTON—Michigan Bell Telephone Co. announced today that its new Clarkston center office will go into operation at 12.01 a.m. Sunday.

Telephone numbers of 1,300 Bell customers in Clarkston will change at that time, according to E. Eugene Russell, district manager.

Directories listing the new numbers will be distributed in Clarkston, Lake Orion and Oxford before the changeover, said Russell.

Following the switch-over, Clarkston customers will not have to dial "1" on message unit calls to Auburn Heights, Rochester and Walled Lake.

* * *

It will still be necessary to dial "1" for long-distance calls.

Romeo School District to Vote on Building Issue

ROMEO — Voters in the Romeo School District will be asked to approve a $560,000 building bond issue Dec. 19, according to Schools Supt. T. C. Filppula.

The board of education has voted the bond issue as a stopgap in a long range program to meet expanding enrollment needs.

At the same time a Citizens' Advisory Committee was activated to help pass the issue and to present by next March 14 a five-year study plan of district needs.

Filppula said the money will be used to construct an additional 13 classrooms, library, art center and instructional materials center to the original Indian Hills Elementary School which is just now being completed.

* * *

The original structure contains eight classrooms and a multi-purpose room. The board proposes to keep the same architects, Ederle M. Smith Association, Inc., of Detroit for the addition.

Filppula reported a total enrollment this year of 3,114 as opposed to last year's 2,909 students. He says a minimum of 10 classrooms in addition to the original Indian Hills school structure will be needed by next fall.

A successful bond vote would also change the very small classroom at Washington Elementary School into an art instruction room, Filppula reports.

Oxford Allows Tuition Pupils

OXFORD — Oxford Board of Education has voted to open its doors to tuition students from the North Oxford area for the remainder of the 1966-67 school year.

Policy of the board previously was to allow only children of school district employes to attend as tuition students.

The board made the move as a community gesture as a result of the recent vote to merge North Oxford District with Oxford.

In other business Tuesday, the board recognized the Oxford Education Association as sole bargaining agent for teachers in the district, and approved a contract with custodians, bus drivers and teacher aides.

* * *

Schools Supt. Roger Oberg reported 169 more students enrolled this year for a total of 2,339 — a 7.8 per cent increase which he said "is more than normal and which we were not prepared for."

SCHOOL BUS

The board voted to purchase a new 66-passenger school bus at a cost of $6,981.

A gift from the Donald Tripps in memory of John Buechler to the Oxford High School library was accepted.

Members approved the fall statistical report; reviewed the summer Head Start program and the federally sponsored Title I program.

Dinner Planned

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—A spaghetti dinner, sponsored by the PTA, will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. Saturday at Sashabaw School on Maybee Road.

Girl Scouts Sponsor Sale

ROCHESTER — Girl Scout Troop 518 will sponsor a benefit sale from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday at the Avon Pavilion.

Proceeds will be used for the group's trip to Mexico in June of 1967.

* * *

Frank Strubler and Stanley Bailey, trip chairmen, report the group has collected half the money necessary.

Mrs. Elma Fingel is leader of the troop.

School Fair Set

ORION TOWNSHIP—A school fair featuring Skeeter the monkey, a spook room, a country store and baked goods is planned for 3 to 6 p.m. Saturday at Carpenter School, Judah Lake Subdivision.

Utica Teacher Vote Dropped

UTICA — In a hearing yesterday before the State Labor Mediation Board, Utica's Federation of Teachers withdrew its petition to represent district teachers as sole bargaining agent.

The group's withdrawal eliminates the need of an election in the district, according to a board of education spokesman.

School Merger Law Is Effective

By HUDSON WILLSE

Public Act 289, the state statute which, coupled with an Oct. 5 election, paved the way for mergers of the Dublin-Walled Lake and North Oxford-Oxford school districts, has helped diminish by 596 the number of school systems in Michigan.

When the law was passed by the State Legislature in June 1964, Michigan school districts numbered 1,496. Now there are 900.

With several school reorganization elections slated for the remainder of this year, it's a safe bet the number of districts will be cut some more.

Effective date for annexations approved by voters this year is next July 1.

* * *

65 PCT. SUCCESSFUL

Although not a strong law, Public Act 289 has been about 65 per cent successful, according to George Scutt, an assistant superintendent for the Michigan Department of Education.

The law was really a state-conceived plan to eliminate school districts without complete kindergarten - through-12th grade programs.

In Scutt's words, the chief intent of the law is "to be sure that every child has a high school he can attend."

News Analysis

* * *

According to Scutt, some districts are opposed to nonresidents attending their high schools on a tuition basis and not without good reason.

INSUFFICIENT CONTRIBUTION

The nonresidents, since they are not on school district tax rolls, are not really contributing their fair share of the revenue.

Ironically, the number of high school districts in Michigan increased from 438 to 452 at the same time the number of school districts was dropping from 1,496 to 900.

"But a number of new ones (high school districts) were created in the suburban areas," asserted Scutt.

* * *

The law, however, has eliminated several small high schools, Scutt pointed out.

CITES ADVANTAGES

Nelson O'Shaughnessy, superintendent of the Dublin District, is quick to point out the advantages of Dublin's annexation to Walled Lake as approved 2,700 to 2,248 by voters of five districts Oct. 5.

"It's something that should have happened a long time ago," said O'Shaughnessy.

"We had no guarantee Walled Lake would continue taking our senior (high school) students," he said. "This means security of education with equal opportunity for all."

* * *

Some 867 Dublin students presently attend classes at Dublin School. The other 320 are enrolled in ninth through 12th grades at Walled Lake schools.

EFFECTIVE JULY 1

The Dublin school will become part of the Walled Lake district when the annexation becomes effective July 1, but it's uncertain whether the present eight grades will be retained or be whittled to six grades.

However, at present, the school is about 70 children over capacity.

As a result of the merger, additional programs will be available to Dublin children, especially the seventh and eighth grades.

* * *

'History: State Weak Point'

LANSING (AP) — Historically speaking, Michigan's state government reorganization in 1965 was not all it should have been, Secretary of State James Hare said Wednesday.

Hare appeared before a House committee studying what further moves are needed to eliminate overlapping and duplication of work among the 19 principal state departments.

Only problem in his department, Hare said, is that it does not have complete control over official state historical work.

He said history is too important to Michigan's tourist industry to be split up inefficiently among various state agencies.

Hare said figures of the National Trust for Historic Preservation show that if a historic site attracts an average of 24 tourists a day throughout the year, it would be economically comparable to acquiring new industry with an annual payroll of $100,000 a year.

The historical commission division of his department, Hare said, is the only state unit with a professional staff of historians trained and experienced in historic site work.

But, he said, the Conservation Department has charge of park land having any historic association and a commission assigned to that department is involved in the restoration of Mackinac Island and Fort Michilimackinac.

GROUND TEST OF SPACE TV — A space-suited engineer at North American Aviation in Downey, Calif., practices with a television camera similar to one which NASA hopes to use in the first Apollo space flight scheduled for December. Pictures would be transmitted to earth for broadcast live on commercial television. They would show space scenes and the astronauts at work.

Campaign Financing

Senate OKs Long's Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted for federal financing of future presidential campaigns but the House is likely to reject the actions as an empty gesture.

A plan worked out by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., would permit each taxpayer to contribute $1 a year by stating on his tax return he wanted $1 of his tax money to go for this purpose. The proposal won 39-33 support from the Senate Wednesday.

Under the Long proposal, each party could dip equally into a pot with a lid linked to the total of ballots cast in the previous presidential election and on the basis of $1 a vote. Presumably this would make $70 million available, to be shared on an equal basis, for financing the major party campaigns in 1968.

The Senate sustained its finance committee action in attaching the campaign contribution plan as a rider to a foreign investment tax bill. Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., who called it extraneous, lost his fight to knock it out of the measure.

IMPORTANT ISSUE

However, the House is allergic to that method of legislating by the Senate, particularly when it involves an important issue. Even Long, who heads the finance committee, had little hope that his plan would survive a conference of the two houses on the investment tax bill.

But Long got the public attention he wanted for his proposal, with the long-range objective of getting the House, which must originate all tax measures, to take a look at it next year.

The federal government purchases about 60,000 passenger cars each year.

Nigerian Rulers' Split Spurs Drift Toward Partition

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Growing disagreement between two of the young colonels governing Nigeria appears to be accelerating the nation's drift toward partition along tribal lines.

Lt. Col. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu, 33, governor of the eastern region and its 8 million Ibo tribesmen, at a news conference Tuesday questioned the authority of Lt. Col. Yakubu Gowon, 31, head of the central government in Lagos and a northerner.

An estimated 7,000 Ibos have been massacred by the feudalistic Hausa tribesmen of the northern region since May, 4,000 of them within the last two weeks, eastern officials say. The Hausas bitterly resent the success in business and government of more advanced Ibos who migrated to the north.

★ ★ ★

In an effort to end the killing, Gowon has used troops and called the military governors of the four regions to a meeting in Lagos. But Ojukwu said he would not go to the federal capital until his safety there could be guaranteed.

'NOT TRULY IN CONTROL'

He told newsmen in Enugu, the eastern capital, he had suggested that commonwealth troops be stationed in Lagos but wasn't sure of the federal government's reaction because he believes Gowon is "not truly in control."

"I don't know who is," he said, "but he is not in control here."

Ojukwu said he still regards Gowon's predecessor, Maj. Gen. Johnson T.U. Aguiyi-Ironsi, an Ibo, as the nation's supreme commander. Ironsi was kidnaped during the army mutiny July 29 that brought Gowon to power and is presumed dead. However, the new government has never said what happened to him.

Ojukwu said his biggest problem is restraining the Ibos from retaliating against the Hausas. But he said Gowon's government does not see the urgency of the situation because of the "ostrich posture of Lagos."

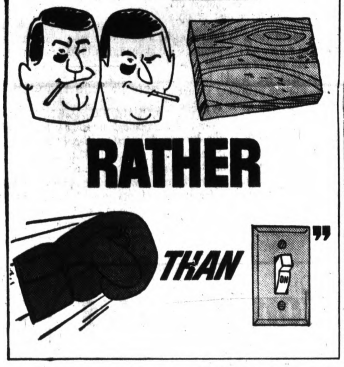

He called for each region of Nigeria to have its own army — a situation that virtually prevails now — and said the federal government is importing arms and not giving any to his region.

The President has ordered the establishment of a computer-based file of information on the poisonous potentialities of all chemicals and drugs used by modern man.

Computers Try Playing Cupid

Amusing Mix-Ups in Programmed Dating

NEW YORK (UPI) — Computers, everywhere: Watch it, will you?

Maybe you know what you're doing. But for goodness sakes be careful. Romantically, you've got a heavy responsibility.

"Programmed dating has taken the U.S. by storm! Computer-matching services operate in every part of the country," said the questionnaire of an outfit that held a cocktail party here for its recent computer selectees.

Natural selection by humans has been a going institution since long before Darwin, and if the machine is going to replace it, it'll have to stop trying to match a Brooklyn bachelor, 5-feet-5, with a lady three inches taller who, when the machines wants her to list her other characteristics, replies: "Like what, for instance?"

Or a college boy with a lady psychologist and guidance counselor who got out of college some years ago. Or does the computer have something there?

★ ★ ★

The party was held at the Golden 20s, a discotheque. Right off, it was so jammed that it was virtually impossible to move, much less find a date by using slips of paper from the computer.

FILL OUT FORM

The data-date service that pulled this stunt requires you to fill out a form about yourself, answering queries running from what's your opinion of sex before marriage, to which of the following characters you'd enjoy bringing to life to be with:

James Bond, Circe, Dr. Kildare, Jack the Ripper, Sidney Carlton, Helen of Troy, Sir Lancelot, Batman.

You pay $5 and you get back slips on at least five people, sometimes many more, with their brief bigographies, phone numbers, characteristics and (sometimes) photos.

★ ★ ★

Since the slips were only given out after the people arrived, very few found any of the recommended matches.

'OUT OF RANGE'

"She's 5-feet-8," said the Brooklyn bachelor, a U.S. customs employe, eying a slip. "That's out of my height range. They think maybe I'm a Mickey Rooney?"

"Oh, come on," he was told, "Little guys like jockeys go out with normal-size girls."

"Yeah, big blonde showgirls," he said. "And look at this other one. Under 'Other characteristics' she puts down, 'Large brown eyes and very pretty face.' That makes me nervous.

"I had a blind date once with a girl who told me on the phone she was quite attractive and when I met her she was repulsive."

One of his others was a lady mathematician who had graduated from three universities and had a Ph.D. degree, and the slip advised: "Your match is realistic and quite urbane."

The New Breed of Screen Writer Displays Quiet Competence

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Beset with formula writing and beleaguered by insensitive producers and directors, the film writer sometimes suffers fits of despair. At such times, he can refresh his spirit by pondering the example of Ernest Lehman.

THOMAS

Lehman has made it.

He composed the script for the financially most successful movie of all time, "The Sound of Music." In a dazzling change of pace after that warm-hearted — some critics said saccharine — musical, he wrote the film version of the corrosive drama, "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" and produced the film as well.

Just as "The Sound of Music" dominated the 1965 Academy Award race, "Virginia Woolf" is favored for this year. And — adding further satisfaction to his fellow writers — Lehman shares in the profits of both.

Lehman is the prime example of the new breed of screen writer. He is not a slick salesman like Sammy Glick, Budd Schulberg's hero of "What Makes Sammy Run?" nor does he have the flamboyance of a Ben Hecht. Rather he has ascended to top rank as a film creator by his own quiet competence.

He now is writing and producing another prized property, "Hello, Dolly." He operates from a tastefully decorated three-room suite at 20th Century-Fox, and he has his own bathroom, a status symbol in the Hollywood scheme of things.

Once a copy editor of the Wall Street Journal, Lehman became a free-lance writer of fiction and articles in his native New York. Two of his novelettes attracted studio interest, and Paramount offered a contract of $600 a week.

His first assignment was a loanout to MGM for "Executive Suite." Although Paramount dropped his option, he returned there for "Sabrina" with Billy Wilder. "The King and I" and "Somebody up There Likes Me" followed. Then he met his crisis with the film version of his "Sweet Smell of Success."

"I had expected to direct the picture, but United Artists decided it was too risky. I ended up with a tense colon, and my doctor advised me to get off the picture and take a rest."

"I went to Tahiti, feeling romantically bitter about being driven away from my home, my family, my job. I blamed the world for not accepting me unless I was successful. But as I walked the beaches, I realized the world wasn't at fault."

He returned after three weeks to write his first original screenplay, "North by Northwest." For research, he climbed Mt. Rushmore and rode the 20th Century Limited, "though not with Eva Marie Saint," as Cary Grant did in the movie.

For "West Side Story" he studied the street gangs of New York. Before writing "The Sound of Music," he went to Salzburg so he could envision locations where the action would take place.

Lehman, 49, is compactly built, with the tanned, well-tailored appearance that bespeaks Hollywood success. Yet he retains the same wife with whom he arrived here — they have two sons — and they have lived in the same Brentwood house for a dozen years.

Teddy Will Join Soapy Today

DETROIT (AP)—G. Mennen Williams turns from what northern Michiganians call "God's Country" to "Lyndon's Country" today in his bid for the United States Senate.

Following a two-day tour of the bright autumn-colored Upper Peninsula, Williams was to fly to Washington and bring back U.S. Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., for a campaign assist.

On his return to Detroit early today, Williams released a position paper "Older Americans," calling for automatic adjustment of Social Security benefits to reflect increases in the cost of living and a hike in the present $1,500-a-year limit on outside income for Social Security recipients.

The position paper, released in conjunction with a pretaped statewide television appearance, also proposed extending Medicare to include the cost of prescription drugs used on an outpatient basis outside of hospitals and nursing homes and improved low-rent housing programs for the aged.

2-DAY TOUR

Kennedy was to campaign with Williams in Flint, Saginaw and Bay City late today and Friday.

Williams, who carried the sparsely settled Upper Peninsula six times in six tries, found it difficult at times finding enough hands to shake.

The crowds were light at airports and on the streets of Sault St. Marie, Menominee, Escanaba and Marquette.

It was a combination of weather, timing and the lack of hard issues in the U.P., observers said.

"He caught us between the tourist season and deer season," an Escanaba bartender said. "And people up here are hibernating."

"People are making money and spending it; there are no penetrating issues to get them aroused right now," said George St. Louis, Delta County Democratic chairman.

Propeller Mishap Claims Young Heir

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — R. Roland Reynolds, unconscious since Monday when he walked into a whirling airplane propeller, has died. He was 29.

★ ★ ★

Reynolds, a member of the Reynolds Metals family, had been inspecting a twin-engine seaplane he was considering buying.

★ ★ ★

The Federal Aviation Agency said Reynolds, a licensed pilot, had started the plane's motors and then climbed out to remove wheel chocks. He was hit by the right propeller.

Revise Draft Laws, Says Griffin

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., called Wednesday for congressional revision of draft laws, saying local draft boards have too much leeway in deciding who should be deferred.

Griffin, opposing G. Mennen Williams in the Nov. 8 election, planned to return to Detroit tonight to resume his campaign with a speech at the East Grand Boulevard Methodist Church.

Griffin, calling for establishment of a board of review that would automatically study all deferments, said: "It's the federal government that's drafting these people, not the local governments. Federal policies should apply."

Griffin said he and other congressmen called for a draft law revision in 1964. He said President Johnson headed off the move by announcing a Pentagon review. Since that report was presented, Johnson has called for still another study, Griffin said.

UP TO CONGRESS

It's up to Congress, not the Johnson administration, to rewrite the draft laws, Griffin said.

★ ★ ★

Griffin said the deferment of George Hamilton, the actor who often escorts the President's daughter, Lynda, was an example of a young man from a wealthy family avoiding military service. However, he noted that Hamilton was deferred long before he dated Miss Johnson.

In making his recommendation for revision, Griffin said he opposed the lottery approach used in World War II.

Land Auctioned

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The State of Arizona auctioned off 23 acres of land recently appraised at $2,333. An unexpected bidding contest ensued, and John Chudy of Gila Bend bought the land for $11,050.

40-Seat Gain Seen for GOP

LATROBE, Pa. (UPI)—House Minority leader Gerald Ford of Michigan predicted yesterday Republicans would gain 40 or more seats in Congress in the November elections.

Speaking at St. Vincent College, Ford said the Democratic Party has become the party of the "extremists." He cited Alabama Gov. George Wallace and Lester Maddox, Democratic nominee for Governor of Georgia, as examples of "extremists."

"Skyrocketing prices" and an "atmosphere which breeds disregard for law" are the two biggest problems facing the Johnson administration, he said.

Ford called for reduction of federal spending in public works projects and in the space program.

The poverty program should be continued at its present level but with more spending by local and state governments and private industry, he said.

BOMB THREAT

Noting that a recent conference on communism at the college was curtailed by a bomb threat and right-wing demonstrations, Ford supported the institution's right to hold the conference.

"I have total faith in young people and their capacity to decide and understand various forms of government. I'm sure they'll select ours."

Seaway Link Closing Set

OTTAWA (AP)—Closing date for the Montreal-Lake Ontario section of the St. Lawrence Seaway will be Dec. 3, it was announced Wednesday. The Welland Canal will close Dec. 15.

If weather is favorable in the Montreal-Lake Ontario section, it will be kept open on a day-to-day basis beyond Dec. 3.

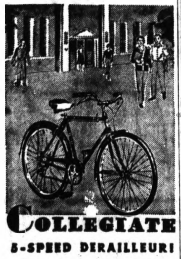

★ ★ ★

There would be no extension beyond Dec. 15 for either the Montreal-Lake Ontario section or the Welland Canal.

Sealed-in Power
Strong 100% epoxy-bonded case and top form a permanent seal. Won't deteriorate as will ordinary asphalt.

Stays New Looking
One-piece top stays far cleaner than any conventional battery because there are no links to corrode and drain-off power. Does away with messy, old-fashioned tar tops.

More Starting Power
Through-the-Partition Connectors . . . shortest path between cells for minimum resistance and more starting power. Turns starter up to 15% faster, 15% longer, for up to 24% more turns. That's power!

Recharges Faster
Less resistance lets the High Voltage Battery recharge quicker. Summer stop and start driving are less of a threat to the life of your car's battery.

Factory Fresh Batteries
Shipped weekly to assure you of a fresh, lively Sears Battery.

30-Month Guarantee
Free replacement within 90 days of purchase, if battery proves defective. After 90 days, we replace the battery, if defective, and charge you only for the period of ownership, based on the regular price less trade-in at the time of return, prorated over number of months of guarantee.

TESTS SCHEDULED—Test firings of this unique guided missile, lightweight enough to be launched out of a tube resting on a man's shoulder yet packing a punch capable of destroying tanks, will begin at Cape Kennedy, Fla., early next spring. The weapon, with a 5,000-foot range, uses tiny jets on its sides to steer it in flight.

Romeo, Romeo, or Is It Juliet? The Debate Continues in Italy

VERONA, Italy (AP) — A statue of Juliet, a statue of Romeo, or one of each? Or does either deserve a memorial?

The questions are being debated in this town made famous by Shakespeare. The tourist office likes the debate, though it is backing the idea of a statue for Juliet as a lure to more tourists. Her tomb here attracts 150,000 a year.

Critics of the statue for Juliet complain that Verona already has the tomb, as well as a Juliet's house and a Juliet's balcony.

This faction likes to point out that the tourist office itself has its quarters in Juliet's house, right under Juliet's balcony, and that there's not a marker to recall poor Romeo in the whole town.

Letters to Milan's paper suggest neither side deserves any memorial.

One woman wrote that "Juliet was certainly not a very nice girl. She received her lover during the night."

Another letter called Romeo "a sort of playboy who deserved to be jailed for his attempt to seduce a virgin."

Laotians Bid to Settle War

U. S. Receives Offer From Asian Nation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has received a new offer of help toward settling the Viet Nam war — this one from the kingdom of Laos, which is itself deeply involved in the conflict.

Laotian Premier Souvanna Phouma, who meets with President Johnson in New York today, extended the offer during a 75-minute conference in Washington yesterday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

After the meeting Souvanna said he told Rusk his neutral country would do its utmost to help find a settlement of the war raging in the nation it borders.

He said that Laos was too small to mediate the dispute but that its contacts with Communist China and North Viet Nam might be useful.

★ ★ ★

"We all know no problem—particularly concerning a war, can be settled by force of arms," Souvanna told newsmen. "I think any war must end by meeting around a green table."

Souvanna said the Viet Nam war must be settled before the problem of Communist infiltration in Laos can be settled.

Laos was neutralized under the 1962 Geneva accords and thus is not participating in the Manila conference on Viet Nam.

But it was believed Souvanna received a fill-in from Rusk on the seven-nation meeting which President Johnson will attend Oct. 23-24.

★ ★ ★

It is through eastern Laos that the Viet Cong has established a major infiltration route to South Viet Nam—the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

Souvanna's government has never been able to take complete control of this jungle area, and U.S. planes have bombed it heavily.

UNAWARE OF SLAYING — Joe (left), 12, and Tommy 9, the youngest of nine children of Dr. and Mrs. Carl J. Hochhausler, turns down a neighbor's offer to fix them lunch yesterday. Seconds later, they learned their mother had been murdered. The picture was taken before the two went into the house. The killing marked the fourth time in 10 months that a rapist-strangler had struck in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati Rapist Kills Fourth

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The most massive manhunt in the city's history is under way as authorities seek a rapist-strangler who struck Wednesday for the fourth time in 10 months.

In addition, this city of half-a-million persons is concerned about six other unsolved slayings — including the murders three weeks ago of a suburban couple and their small daughter.

City Manager William C. Wichman ordered Wednesday unlimited overtime on an emergency basis for the city's 950 policemen. He also pressed firemen into police duty.

The latest victim was Mrs. Alice Hochhausler, 51, wife of a surgeon and mother of nine children. Her body was found in the Hochhausler garage.

Police said Mrs. Hochhausler had gone to Good Samaritan Hospital Tuesday night to drive her daughter, Elizabeth, 22, home after she got off work. Mrs. Hochhausler had said she was afraid for her daughter, a nurse, who lives alone in an apartment, to be out at night by herself.

When Mrs. Hochhausler arrived back at her own home about midnight, she was attacked, police said.

Mrs. Hochhausler was raped and strangled with a cord from her bathrobe, which she had worn to the hospital, officials said. The body was discovered by her husband, Dr. Carl J. Hochhausler, who had gone to bed about 11 p.m. and did not know his wife was missing until he awoke Wednesday morning.

Firemen will join police in street-by-street visits, advising housewives in methods of self-protection and how to summon help when needed, Safety Director Henry Sandman said.

Like Mrs. Hochhausler, the other three victims of the strangler were in their 50s.

Seventeen per cent more than the one million foreigners who visited America last year are expected this year.

Mexico's Unofficial Death Toll From Hurricane Inez Put at 23

TAMPICO, Mexico (AP) — Mexico's unofficial death toll from Hurricane Inez stood at 23 today as thousands of others sought high ground, rooftops or trees to escape swirling floodwaters unleashed by the storm.

Fifteen members of a rescue team drowned Wednesday when their boat overturned in the turbulent Tamesi River north of Tampico. Eight others were reported dead in the Gonzalez-Manuel area.

The total unofficial death toll from the hurricane, which roamed the Caribbean for 18 days before hitting mainland Mexico Monday, stood at 251, including five Cubans reported Wednesday.

The Panuco and Tamesi rivers and lagoons around Tampico approached the danger point. Silt deposited by the hurricane's heavy seas clogged the mouth of the Panuco, hampering its flow into the Gulf of Mexico and increasing the flood threat. Residents feared a repetition of the 1956 floods that followed Hurricanes Janet and Hilda in which more than 30 persons were drowned.

Aircraft and boats were pressed into service to aid victims of Inez and those imperiled by the rising waters. Gov. Praxedes Balboa of Tamaulipas state said 210 flights were made by a variety of planes and helicopters Wednesday.

An airlift from Mexico City has brought 100 tons of food, medicine and clothing into Tampico since Tuesday.

Unofficial damage estimates range as high as $160 million for Mexico, with $24 million in the Tampico area. An extensive area of Tampico is without water. Food is scarce. There is no electricity or telephone service.

Many small ranches and villages are still isolated.

Thousands were reported homeless around Gonzalez, Estacion Manuel, Aldama, Santa Clara and Villa Cuahtemoc.

Alpena Project

ALPENA (AP)—The federal government has authorized a $77,755 grant to train 20 unemployed persons in northern lower and eastern upper Michigan in automotive mechanics, Rep. Raymond Clevenger, D-Mich., said Wednesday. The 48-week training program will be at Alpena Community College, the fourth such program at Alpena.

Police Warn of Drug Taken by Teen Trio

ST. CLAIR SHORES (AP) — Police have warned druggists and school officials about an asthma medication (Asthmador) taken internally by three high school boys now hospitalized after reportedly suffering from hallucinations.

The boys, ages 15 and 16, were hospitalized Friday, said Sgt. Peter Buchholz, chief juvenile officer in this Detroit suburb. He said Wednesday he had reports of at least 10 boys from different high schools who have taken the medication.

Buchholz said the medication, sold for less than a dollar in powdered form, without a prescription, contains two poisonous substances, stramonium and belladonna.

Label directions state the medicant should not be taken internally, but that it should be burned and the smoke inhaled to relieve symptoms of asthma.

SWALLODED

Police said the boys were hospitalized Friday after swallowing the powder. Reactions included vomiting and hallucinations, police said.

Police said one of the boys stated he took the powder Thursday and began suffering hallucinations early Friday.

On Saturday, police said, "he was still talking to friends who weren't in the room, stamping on bugs that weren't there and smoking a cigarette that didn't exist."

Police said they have notified school officials and police in neighboring communities about the incident and have asked local drugstores to restrict sales of the powder to adults.

Man Guilty in Gun Case

FLINT (AP) — Claud High Jr. pleaded guilty Wednesday to charges that he shot at Oscar Lowe Jr.

High, 21, of Flint was sentenced to two years probation by Circuit Judge Stuart A. Newblatt.

Lowe was playing basketball near a Flint school when fired at after an argument. The two shots missed.

Judge Mulls Sheppard's Site Plea

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Judge Francis S. Talty today weighed accused wife-slayer Dr. Samuel Sheppard's plea to move his second trial from the courthouse where "bedlam reigned" when he was convicted 12 years ago.

If no change of venue is granted, Sheppard will go on trial next Tuesday in a courtroom across the hall from the one used at his first trial for the bludgeon death of his pregnant wife, Marilyn, 30.

Sheppard and his attorneys took a stack of newspaper clippings 15 inches high into yesterday's brief hearing in an attempt to prove local prejudice would prevent the 42-year-old osteopath from receiving a fair trial in Cleveland.

The judge will announce his decision tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Sheppard was convicted of second-degree murder and served nine years of a life sentence before the U. S. Supreme Court set aside the verdict on the grounds his trial had been a "circus" where "bedlam reigned at the courthouse."

★ ★ ★

In addition to the newspaper clippings, which covered the period from the time of the murder in July 1954, to Sheppard's conviction in December of the same year, his attorneys also introduced copies of the Cleveland Press from Jan. 4, 1966 to Jan 7. They contained interviews with jurors in the original trial.

Patent Office in Paper Crush

Microfilm System Will Ease Situation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans are the most inventive people in the world and they've got the U.S. Patent Office swirling in acres of paper.

The end of American inventiveness isn't in sight but the Patent Office already has taken steps to ease its paper crush — by ordering the installation of a $2-million microfilm system for patent documents.

A record 66,586 patents were issued during the fiscal year which ended June 30 — the vast majority of them to Americans — and the figure this year is expected to exceed 70,000.

That's a far cry from the Patent Office's first year of operation when only three were issued — the first on July 31, 1790, to Samuel Hopkins of Pittsford, Vt., for an improvement in "the making of pot ash and pearl ash by a new apparatus and process."

★ ★ ★

Since 1836 when the current numbering system began, the office has issued 3,278,942 patent numbers — the latest Tuesday.

HISTORY

The history of patents reads almost like a history of the nation. It is studded with such names as Edison, Marconi, the Wright brothers and Alexander Graham Bell. Mark Twain held Patent No. 121,992 for "an improvement in adjustable and detachable straps for garments."

★ ★ ★

One problem still nagging the Patent Office, in addition to the acres of documents it must keep on file, is the time it takes to process patent applications, which are being filed at a rate approaching 100,000 yearly. The average time has been reduced from 3½ to 2½ years with a goal of 18 months by 1970.

★ ★ ★

The office figures its inventories of patent copies cover more than two acres of storage space. It receives more than 25,000 orders daily for these copies from business, industrial, scientific and technical sources throughout the world.

The new microfilm system, scheduled to go into operation in June 1968, will relieve much of this paper burden and even save the taxpayers about $500,000 annually, the office says.

★ ★ ★

The system will produce, on order, a printed paper copy of an individual patent and make available for public inspection microfilm files of patents arranged by subject matter.

A patent gives the inventor the right to exclude all others from making, using or selling his invention for 17 years.

NEW ROOMMATES — Lt. Le Van Trinh of South Viet Nam is greeted by his new roommates at Westminster College in Fulton, Mo. Lt. Trinh was paralyzed fighting the Viet Cong. He was given a scholarship by the school and will stay with the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Unable to Get Figures on Cost of War---Russell

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell said today he and other senators have been unable to obtain any firm Pentagon estimates on how much the Viet Nam war has or will cost.

The Georgia Democrat, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he had pressed top aides of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara for a cost figure when they testified in connection with their request to shift more than $400 million in an unsigned $58 billion annual defense money bill to meet combat aircraft and helicopter losses.

Russell estimates current cost of the war at between $1.5 billion and $2 billion monthly, while Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of a Defense subcommittee, has put war costs at $2 billion monthly.

Stennis estimated that, under existing conditions, McNamara must ask Congress for an additional Viet Nam fund of $10 billion to $15 billion shortly after Congress meets in January under existing conditions.

Robert N. Anthony, Defense Department comptroller, and Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze were subjected to a barrage of questions at the closed Senate hearing but insisted they could supply no firm data until later, Russell said.

Republicans and administration critics have contended that President Johnson and McNamara are holding back cost data until after the November congressional elections.

Russell, in an interview, declined comment on this.

Crippled Viet in U.S. College

FULTON, Mo. (AP) — On a hot day in December 1964, Lt. Le Van Trinh — at 26 a veteran of four years fighting the Viet Cong — was struck in the back with a 50-caliber bullet. Twenty-four hours later he was found, paralyzed from the waist down, by a U.S. Army captain.

Capt. James Behnke, now an ROTC instructor at Westminster College, never forgot him and through Behnke's efforts, Lt. Trinh today began a new life as a student at Westminster.

★ ★ ★

The 38 men of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity were outside their house singing "Won't you show me the true heart of Phi Gamma Delta" when Behnke drove up with Trinh Wednesday night. As the lieutenant was wheeled up the walk they stepped forward one at a time to shake his hand.

"So happy," murmured Trinh to each one. "So happy."

SPECIAL ORDER

The lieutenant was one of 56 South Vietnamese paraplegics brought to this country for therapy through special order of President Johnson. It took another order from the President, and permission from the Vietnamese government, to allow his attendance for a year at the Presbyterian college.

★ ★ ★

Trinh had been commanding a ranger company that came under heavy Viet Cong attack, Behnke said. He was shot in the spine and will never walk again.

★ ★ ★

"The next day I found him. And he had a smile on his face, even though he couldn't move," Behnke added. Behnke was a military advisor to the Vietnamese.

★ ★ ★

When the lieutenant was brought to the Castle Point, N.Y., Veterans Administration hospital he wrote his old friend.

"That's when I got the idea to bring him to the college," Behnke said. Dr. Robert L. D. Davidson, president of the college, arranged a full-tuition scholarship for Trinh. At Behnke's request, the fraternity enthusiastically granted Trinh free room and board. Civic groups put up money for books, clothes and incidentals.

George Alvord, an English major from Verona, N.J., whose father spent years in a wheelchair, offered to look after Trinh. He visited the lieutenant at Castle Point last summer and helped teach him English.

★ ★ ★

Alvord built a special ramp for the wheelchair at the back door and ordered handholds in the bathroom. Trinh shares a room with Alvord and Jim Davis, a psychology major from Vicksburg, Miss.

★ ★ ★

He wears the red beret of the Vietnamese rangers and on his tunic is the Cross of Valor with Palm Leaf — Viet Nam's highest military decoration. He also has this country's equivalent of two Silver Stars for gallantry in action.

★ ★ ★

"I like to be soldier," he said, "and now I like to be student. Someday I go back to my country and help others who are not so fortunate."

Happy Note for Prisoners

LOUISVILLE, Ky (AP) — Thirty-three prisoners sang their way out of jail.

Brought before Police Judge William Colson Wednesday, the prisoners — some wearing paper party hats — burst into the strains of "Happy Birthday."

★ ★ ★

Later, Mayor Kenneth Schmied passed out cake to the prisoners, who had been arrested on drunkeness charges.

★ ★ ★

Chamber Execs

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Dwight Havens, president of the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce, was named president-elect of the American Chamber of Commerce Executives at the organization's 52nd annual conference here Wednesday.

Russian Plan for Red Summit to Condemn China Policy Fails

LONDON (UPI) — Russian plans to call a world Communist summit meeting to condemn Red China's splitting tactics and warlike foreign policy have failed, authoritative diplomatic sources said today.

The reluctance of some of Moscow's allies to go along with an open rebuff to Peking's maverick policies had forced the Kremlin to shelve the plan for the time being.

But the sources said the Russians have not abandoned the idea altogether.

Soviet Communist party leaders have been sounding out their counterparts in eastern Europe and other world parties on the practibility of calling a major summit meeting to condemn Red China's wayward Marxism-Leninism and its Viet Nam war strategy.

Most of the parties consulted were said to have agreed with Moscow that China is off course and that her latest internal developments — particularly Peking's "cultural revolution" purges — have strayed far from the accepted stratagem of international communism.

The overwhelming majority of the Communist countries polled also were unanimous in deploring Peking's refusal to cooperate in efforts for a joint Communist-front on Viet Nam.

Red Chinese sabotage of Soviet aid efforts to Viet Nam has severely hampered the flow of arms and supplies to embattled North Viet Nam, the sources said.

But despite these considerations, Moscow apparently ran into hesitation among some of its allies and friends over the suggestion that Peking be condemned publicly.

★ ★ ★

Viet Nam Inflation Worries U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee expressed strong reservations today about the efforts of the government to control inflation in South Viet Nam within a free enterprise economic system.

"It is highly improbable that a 'free enterprise' system which is in any sense comparable to the West could exist in Viet Nam under present circumstances," the House Foreign Operations and Government Information subcommittee said in a 91-page report on the United States aid program in Viet Nam.

The report noted "corrective action" is being undertaken to give the Agency for International Development greater control over the Commodity Import Program, under which $1.7 billion in consumer goods has been pumped into Viet Nam since 1955.

"If fully and properly implemented by the AID mission," it said, the changes "should establish within the CIP a system of record keeping and some of the basic controls essential to the determination of sound and realistic requirements for certain commodities."

REPORT RELEASED

The report of the subcommittee, whose chairman is Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., was approved last week by the full committee or government operations and released today.

★ ★ ★

Although large segments of the report are critical of the U. S. effort over the past year, the subcommittee also says significant steps have been taken by AID to improve the program.

★ ★ ★

But it says there must be continuing evaluation of "priorities and basic objectives in the U. S. economic assistance program for Viet Nam.

Life Is No Drag for Woman, 27

LINCOLN PARK, Mich. (AP) — Three years ago, Jo Ann Inglett was a cute 27-year-old mother of three who liked to swim, play golf, ice skate and bowl.

Today, Mrs. Inglett is a cute 30-year-old mother of three who likes to swim, play golf, ice skate, bowl and race across a drag strip in a machine called "Hoss" at speeds of more than 100 miles an hour.

★ ★ ★

"Pretty good for a girl who didn't know a spark plug from a carburetor a year ago," said her husband, Preston.

Inglett, who operates a trucking business in nearby Wyandotte, used to spend his spare time modifying cars and racing them at Detroit area drag strips.

TIRED OF WATCHING

His wife and their children, Bruce, 11, Sandra, 9, and Kathy, 8, went along. Mrs. Inglett packed lunch.

"I got tired of standing around watching," she said, "so I decided to try my luck.

★ ★ ★

"The first time I was so scared I kept my foot on the brake all the way," she recalled.

"I couldn't believe my eyes," said Inglett. "The brake light was on, but she went like the devil and won the race.

'CHICKEN NOODLE'

"We called her 'chicken noodle' for that one but not anymore," said Kathy.

In her first big race last Sunday, Mrs. Inglett won a two-out-of-three match race against a male driver, hitting 113.94 m.p.h. for the quarter-mile.

Johnson's Bill on Cities Faces Racial Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's demonstration cities bill, embroiled in charges that it would be used to achieve racial balance, comes up for debate in the House today.

Opponents charge, and the administration denies, that the bill's provisions would become the basis for pressure on cities and suburbs to adopt policies they would not institute on their own. These allegedly include busing of children away from neighborhood schools and zoning and location of facilities to hasten racial balance.

Supporters planned to offer — probably Friday — amendments designed to establish that this is not an aim of the bill.

They said privately they have the votes to pass the main portion of the bill — a two-year, $1.17-billion program of federal aid to help selected cities undertake massive physical and social upgrading projects affecting large areas.

But the backers were less confident that they could block efforts to knock out a section designed to encourage over-all metropolitan area planning. It is on this title that opponents have concentrated much of their fire.

One principal objector, Rep. Paul A. Fino, R-N.Y., charges that the program would give Robert C. Weaver, secretary of housing and urban development, and Commissioner of Education Harold Howe II "dictatorial powers over city living patterns."

"My people know what Dr. Weaver wants this control for," Fino wrote in a report separate from that of the Democratic-controlled House Banking Committee, of which he is a member. "He wants to control zoning, location of rent supplement housing and other facets of so-called 'open occupancy.'

"They know why Commissioner Howe likes this bill. It will give him the tools to undermine the neighborhood school in the name of 'racial balance.'"

HITS CHARGE

Weaver calls the charge "untrue and ridiculous." He points out that the bill says nothing about education.

Howe, in an interview, said: "As far as I know, nobody in government wants to impose any such things."

But he adds, "I do think you'll find people in government — myself among them — who would like to encourage local school boards and local governments to confront the fact of school segregation and the problems that result from it."

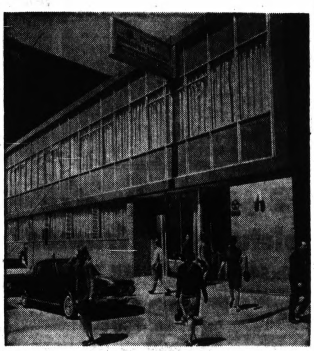

Howe said he thinks racial balance "would be a good thing but it must be planned locally. I don't think we ought to try to force this."

Urging support of the bill, the majority of the House Banking Committee said the demonstration cities plan provides a way in which "federal programs of physical and social assistance of our cities can be meshed and coordinated."

Lettuce Stuffing Is Pink

There's a wonderful relish-like taste to this "Pink Stuffed Lettuce" salad. A list of the ingredients only partially tells the story.

The base is mixed vegetable flavor gelatin — and part of the liquid mixed with it is a can of tomato sauce with cheese. Another cheese is added in the form of cottage cheese. Hot pepper sauce, ripe olives and minced green onions provide dash and crunchiness.

Much of the spicy-satisfying richness of this unusual salad can be attributed to the tomato sauce with cheese. The cheese in this convenient canned sauce is robust Romano. It blends beautifully with the cottage cheese to achieve a complete and wonderful taste.

Although this salad is a natural for your next noon-time gala for the girls, serve it to family, too. It goes well with all kinds of meats. Here it's served with fried chicken, green peas, warmed poppy seed rolls and fruit pie for the finale.

Pink Stuffed Lettuce

1 head iceberg lettuce
1 pkg. mixed vegetable flavor gelatin
⅔ cup boiling water
1 (8-oz.) can tomato sauce with cheese
½ teaspoon salt
Dash Tabasco
1 cup cottage cheese
¼ cup sliced ripe olives
2 tablespoons minced green onions

Remove core from lettuce. Carefully remove lettuce from center of head leaving a 1-inch wall around.

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; add tomato sauce with cheese, salt and Tabasco. Chill until syrupy. Stir in cottage cheese, olives and onion. Pour into lettuce. Place in bowl so lettuce will stand up. Chill until gelatin is firm.

Slice and serve with mayonnaise or your favorite dressing. Makes 4 servings.

Parsley Coats Wee Appetizers

For appetizer or snacks, combine 1 cup of pancake mix, ¼ teaspoon of garlic powder and a dash of cayenne. Beat in ½ cup of grated cheddar cheese, and cup of milk. Shape into 30 small balls. Roll each in chopped parsley.

Bake on ungreased cookie sheet in preheated 425-degree oven 8 to 10 minutes. Makes 2½ dozen.

VEGETABLE SOUP STEW — Mix one pound ground beef; one-half cup fine dry bread crumbs; 1 clove garlic minced; 1 small onion chopped; one beaten egg; one teaspoon salt; one-eighth teaspoon pepper; one-half teaspoon organo; and one-third cup juice from a pound can of tomatoes. Mix well, shape into small balls and brown in hot shortening. Add two cans condensed vegetable soup, two soup cans water and remaining tomatoes, broken in pieces. Mix lightly and heat. Makes six servings.

YAMS ON THE HALF SHELL — You're in step with the season when you serve Yams on the Half Shell flavored with orange marmalade, nutmeg, and chopped pecans. They're wonderful with roasts — turkey, ham, beef, or pork.

Serve Salad on Lettuce Rafts

Serve thin rafts (cross-wise with cheese-sprinkled tomato cuts) of western iceberg lettuce as a crisp base for potato salad or tuna, ham or chicken. Top half and, if you wish, run under the broiler to heat until cheese melts.

Very Special Recipe for Yams

Whether you ever tackle such gourmet goodies as pheasant under glass or lobster thermidor, you'll want to try a new recipe called Yams on the Half Shell. It was developed especially for the 1966 Newspaper Food Editors Conference by the White Cap Company, division of Continental Can Co., Inc.

★ ★ ★

Although they look elegant and taste wonderful, there's nothing difficult about making Yams on the Half Shell.

Yams on the Half Shell could be called Yams and Jam, for they borrow flavor from orange marmalade. Other flavor-makers are butter or margarine, nutmeg, and chopped pecans. Either yams or sweet potatoes may be used in this recipe.

From an appearance standpoint, choose yams that are on the short, fat side rather than the long thin ones. After baking, slice off the top third and scoop out the pulp from both tops and bottoms. Mash and stir in butter, marmalade, salt, nutmeg, and pecans.

★ ★ ★

Spoon the mixture back into the bottom skins, swirling it attractively on top. Pop them back in the oven, drizzling a bit of marmalade over the top of each yam for the last five minutes. Serve piping hot.

★ ★ ★

Yams on the Half Shell are a wonderful accompaniment for turkey, ham, roast beef, roast pork, or pork chops. A good recipe to try right now as a rehearsal for Thanksgiving.

Yams on the Half Shell

4 large yams or sweet potatoes
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¾ cup thick orange marmalade
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon nutmeg
¾ cup chopped pecans

Bake yams in moderate oven (375 degrees) just until done, about 35 to 45 minutes. Slice off top ⅓ of each potato, lengthwise. Scoop pulp from tops and discard top skins. Scoop pulp from bottoms, leaving a ⅛-inch layer of potato next to skin.

Mash yam or potato pulp until free of lumps. Stir in butter or margarine, ½-cup marmalade, salt, and nutmeg; beat until smooth. Stir in nuts. Spoon mixture into hollowed out bottom skins.

Arrange on baking sheet; heat in moderate oven (375 degrees) about 15 minutes. Drizzle a tablespoonful of marmalade over top of each yam during last 5 minutes of heating time. Yield: 4 servings.

Saute halved chicken livers in butter, then add a little dry sherry; serve over cooked rice.

Apricot Preserves Spill Down Sides

Make your Fire Mountain as large as you wish. One quart of ice cream with a cup of Apricot Sauce (combine one cup of apricot preserves with one tablespoon of lemon juice for best consistency and zip) will generously serve four.

★ ★ ★

Shape fire mountain by packing soft vanilla ice cream into a metal bowl lined with several thicknesses of cheesecloth or a clean linen towel and freezing firm. Or, wrap ice cream in large piece of heavy foil and shape with hands when slightly softened; freeze.

★ ★ ★

Gelatin Dessert Nutty Tasting

A dessert incorporating peanut butter is Peter Pan Cream. Although it's really quite simple to prepare, your finished mold is a delicate, elegant dessert.

Peter Pan Cream

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
1¼ cups milk
½ cup smooth peanut butter
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Fresh mint

Mix together in top of double boiler gelatin, ¾ cup sugar and salt. Beat egg yolks, milk and peanut butter until smooth. Stir into gelatin mixture; cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until gelatin is dissolved and peanut butter melts, 5 to 8 minutes.

Remove from heat; add vanilla. Chill until mixture mounds slightly from spoon.

Meanwhile, beat egg whites until soft peaks form; gradually add remaining ¼ cup sugar, beating until stiff but not dry. Fold gelatin mixture into egg whites. Fold in whipped cream.

Turn into 6-cup mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with mint. Makes 6-8 servings.

Two Decades for School Lunches

Pontiac Press Photo

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Over a million and three-quarter lunches were served to students and teachers in Pontiac schools during the 1965-66 school year.

Twenty years ago, the National School Lunch Act was created "to safeguard the health and well-being of the nation's children, and to encourage the domestic consumption of nutritious agricultural commodities and other foods."

Federal, state and local agencies combine to bring well-balanced lunches to students at a reasonable price.

In Pontiac, all students pay 35 cents and all adults 50 cents. Extra milk is available for two cents a carton.

In the few schools where there is no lunch program, milk is three cents; Pontiac has 31 programs and only three schools without lunch programs.

Through the entire 20 years, the directives have stated that children who could not afford to pay the cost must be given free lunches or meals greatly reduced in price.

Nearly 44,000 Pontiac youngsters received free or earned lunches last year.

New directions are being taken by the program in parts of the country where schools have no lunch facilities of any kind or money, space or resources to set up a program. These often have students who most need a nourishing meal.

DEMONSTRATIONS

Last year $2 million was appropriated to carry out demonstration programs of special assistance to needy schools. These schools get more cash reimbursements per lunch and more food.

Technical advisers for the USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service and the states helped schools set up makeshift kitchens with borrowed or donated equipment.

Mothers and teachers worked together to prepare the lunches.

Youngsters paid what they could—or nothing—and participation in the program jumped with correspondingly increased health among the children.

Children will fuss about food, whether they come from poor homes or today's affluent middle or upper class homes. The experts see a different kind of problem in working with the latter children.

They are trying to steer the child with money in his pocket to the school lunch line instead of to the nearby "greasy spoon" where he usually lunches on a soft drink, french fried potatoes and candy.

By the time the student in Pontiac gets to junior high school, he is given a choice of foods at the serving counter. Candy, soft drinks and potato chips are not sold.

At Pontiac Central High School on Tuesday of this week the student could choose a "Sloppy Joe" on a bun or western steak and mashed potatoes.

There were buttered green beans, coleslaw, roll and butter, a peanut butter cookie and milk. In addition, there is always soup, other sandwiches, salads and fruit.

GUIDE LINE

The Type-A lunch is the guiding line for all school lunches:

- 2 ounces of protein food, such as meat, poultry, fish, cheese, eggs, beans or peas, or peanut butter, or a combination of any of these foods;
- ¾ cup of vegetables and/or fruit
- one slice of whole grain or enriched bread or one roll
- 2 teaspoons butter or fortified margarine
- ½ pint fluid whole milk served as a beverage.

Other items may be added and the size of the servings is geared to the age of the child.

In the past, the schools have received many surplus foods from the government. But Barbara Wilson, school lunch coordinator in Pontiac, says nothing has come this fall.

She expects the schools to get turkeys and chickens by the end of the month. Maybe they will also receive apricots and raisins. There is always peanut butter available.

There are 140 adult workers in the Pontiac school lunch program. They prepare food for an average of 10,000 individuals a day. Last January, 9,909 students alone were served daily.

It's big business — nonprofit business in the financial sense, but very profitable in the way it pays off for the children.

Braise Oxtails Day Ahead, They'll Mellow

You can prepare this main dish ahead and reheat.

Oxtails With Tomatoes and Peas

3½ to 4 pounds oxtails, cut up
1 teaspoon salt mixed with ¼ teaspoon pepper and 3 teaspoons paprika
3 medium onions chopped
1 clove garlic, crushed
1 can (1 pound) whole tomatoes, undrained
1 can (1 pound) green peas, drained.

Rub oxtails with mixture of seasonings. In a heavy saucepan, brown the oxtails, adding a little fat if necessary. Add the onions and garlic.

Cover tightly; simmer, turning several times, until very tender — about 3 hours. Add a very little water from time to time if necessary.

With a slotted spoon, remove oxtails to a container; cover and refrigerate. Refrigerate gravy separately.

After chilling, usually overnight, skim off fat from gravy; reheat with oxtails, tomatoes and peas, adding salt and pepper to taste. Makes 6 servings.

Simmer Apples in Spicy Taffy Syrup

Most people find apples one of nature's most delicious gifts to man — or woman. Bite through the skin and the tangy, juicy fruit itself lends a cool fillip to the taste buds. There is something one feels is correct about the fruit's botanical origin having been the Garden of Eden.

Simmer the apples in a taffy sauce, serve with a dollop of whipped cream, and the forbidden fruit is at its sweetest—and perhaps most delectable.

Unlike its near relative, the baked apple, Molasses Taffy Spiced Apples are prepared in a skillet. Unsulphured molasses combines with lemon juice and spices to provide a taffy sauce that is a perfect foil for the tangy flavor of the apple.

For maximum flavor, be sure to use unsulphured molasses. This virtuous product is the concentrated juice of sugar cane, aged and blended.

★ ★ ★

Because it is a primary and natural sweetener, not a molasses produced as a by-product of sugar-making, it requires no bleaching, nor does it contain sulphur dioxide or any chemical preservatives.

Unsulphured molasses, therefore, has the most mellow possible flavor — and no "bite."

Molasses Taffy Spiced Apples

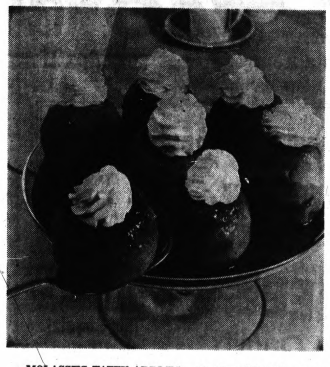

¾ cup unsulphured molasses
¾ cup sugar
¾ cup water
½ teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg
¼ teaspoon each ground clove and ginger
6 tablespoons lemon juice
7-8 large apples
Whipped cream

In 10-inch skillet combine molasses, sugar, water, spices and lemon juice; bring to a boil. Peel and core apples. Add to molasses mixture; cover and simmer 15 minutes.

Uncover and simmer 30 minutes longer. Spoon syrup over apples frequently. Cool in syrup. Serve with whipped cream. Yield: 6 servings.

Wants Recipe

One of our readers asks for a recipe we do not have in the files. Can some one help her? She wants the recipe for a date nut pudding cake in which the date-nut mixture is poured on the cake mixture before baking and ends up on the bottom of the cake after baking.

MOLASSES TAFFY APPLES — Apples with taffy sauce . . . Molasses Taffy Spiced Apples are skillet-cooked, require no baking. The apples simmer in a delectable sauce based on unsulphured molasses, come to the table with a dollop of whipped cream.

Best Potatoes Will Look Good

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The proverbial "don't judge a book by its cover" doesn't apply to picking potatoes at the market.

Pick the ones that look the best, suggested the Agriculture Department's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Medium-sized potatoes are usually the best for general use, but the size doesn't necessarily affect quality. Select potatoes that are sound, firm, relatively shaped.

Avoid wilted, leathery and discolored potatoes and try different types — round red, long white and russet.

Count on a 1-pound package of small link sausages containing from fourteen to sixteen.

India's Students Are Posing No. 1 Problem for Mrs. Gandhi

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — When she was 12, Indira Gandhi formed a "monkey brigade" of schoolchildren who carried messages for Indian leaders in defiance of the British rulers.

Today, India's students are on the rampage from one end of the country to the other, threatening law and order, and posing the current No. 1 problem for Mrs. Gandhi, now prime minister.

Riots, marches and strikes have occurred on and off the campuses in nearly all 16 states in recent weeks.

While Mrs. Gandhi paid a four-day visit to Nepal, students attacked government vehicles, railway property, university officials and police. Officers fired rifle and tear gas and made baton charges to restore order.

MUST BE STOPPED

The prime minister on her return made it clear the violence must be stopped.

Perhaps remembering the days when student vigor helped liberate the nation, she said police must show restraint and the nation's leaders must look for ways to eliminate problems behind the unrest.

Mrs. Gandhi called for a forum for students to bring up grievances and thresh them out in "an atmosphere of understanding which is free from violence or disorder."

She pointed out that one problem was India's great population growth, which has outstripped school facilities. She also said that more developed countries had extracurricular activities available for students, whereas in India there were almost none.

OPPOSITION GROUPS

A number of government officials blame the violence on agitation by opposition political groups seeking to discredit the ruling Congress party before elections next February. Students can vote at 18.

Mrs. Gandhi has warned that students "must also guard against exploitation by antisocial elements or those motivated by narrow political considerations."

★ ★ ★

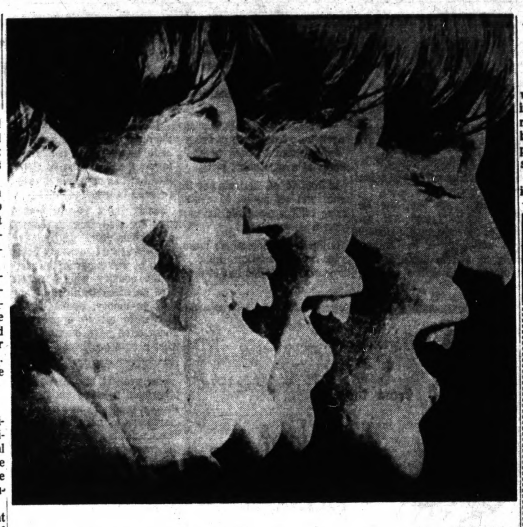

Home Minister G. L. Nanda has called a meeting of university administrators who may be asked to look into the use of semimilitary student groups to maintain order on the campus. The university Training Corps and National Cadet Corps are similar to the Reserve Officers Training Corps on American campuses. Use of these might reduce the need to call in civilian police.

Education is free and compulsory but India lacks enough classes or teachers.

SHORTAGES CITED

Foreign exchange troubles have resulted in shortages of textbooks and laboratory equipment. For those fortunate enough to earn degrees, the job openings are few and the pay is low.

Much of the student violence results from frivolity that gets out of hand. Student strikes have been called because one group felt an examination professor was too strict, or because a medical examination was made compulsory for first-year students.

Anxiety Inhibits Aged

By Science Service

DURHAM, N.C. — Part of what has been termed a "learning deficit" in elderly people is not reduced capacity to learn but slowness to respond under pressure, says a Duke University researcher.

Older people are more anxious than the young when faced with the necessity of learning something, said Dr. Carl Eisdorfer, assistant director of the Duke Center for the Study of Aging and Human Development.

Their anxiety inhibits their speed of performance. But when the pressure is off, said Dr. Eisdorfer, the elderly learn as well as younger people.

Power of Suggestion Is as Old as Adam

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON — We have in this country probably a thousand or more national associations of various sorts. But only one that I know can trace its origin back to the Garden of Eden.

That distinction belongs to the National Association of Suggestion Systems, which is holding its annual convention here this week.

NASS, as I shall call it, is composed of executives who operate employe suggestion programs. They have come a long way since Eve started it all with her suggestion to Adam.

For one thing, they know better than to put a suggestion box near an apple tree.

Even the old suggestion box itself has become outmoded. It served mainly as a depository for nasty anonymous notes composed by the office soreheads.

★ ★ ★

Nowadays, employes get paid for their suggestions — at least the acceptable ones. This makes them less reticent about identifying themselves.

NOT EXACT TOTAL

Last year, according to NASS, workers in business, education and government submitted 2,477,539 suggestions, give or take a few that suggested where the boss could go.

Of these, 575,062 were adopted, for which the employes were paid nearly $25 million. They resulted in money-saving measures estimated at $800 million.

However, as I learned when I paid a visit to the NASS convention, some of the suggestions still do credit to Ever.

★ ★ ★

A lady who works for an airline received a $10 award for suggesting that venetian blinds be put up in the office.

VERY RESPONSIVE

A NASS official told me that management has become so responsive to employe suggestions, it occasionally leads to subterfuge.

Suppose a junior vice president gets a bright idea and runs it up the flagpole. Nobody salutes. He then persuades a rank-and-file worker to submit the same proposal through the employe suggestion program.

This time it is received with ruffles and flourishes.

★ ★ ★

In one case, a railroad president got so carried away with the program he began putting suggestions in his own suggestion box. He found that he got faster action than when he issued orders.

GOOD THINKING?

Nobody, however, is likely to match the enthusiasm of an employe who suggested that his job be eliminated. He received a $1,300 award for good thinking and is now in the process of being retired.

A pound of grapes contains about 435 calories.

Rubber Heart Use Foreseen in Five Years

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) —Heart surgeons are predicting that, within five years, rubber artificial hearts will be used frequently to save the lives of sufferers from heart disease.

* * *

Texas heart surgeon Dr. Michael E. Debakey wrote a new chapter in medical history by implanting a "half-heart" in a rheumatic heart victim.

The patient died a little more than four days after the historic operation, but death was attributed to a ruptured lung and not the failure of the left ventricle bypass, as the "half-heart" was called.

Since then, comparable operations involving portions of the heart have been performed by medical teams in various parts of the country. A Mexican woman survived the bypass which allowed her weakened heart to rest.

* * *

Now, another team of scientists is at work here seeking to perfect a completely artificial heart.

RESEARCH UNIT

They are rubber chemists, engineers, physicists and experts trained in physiology, hydraulics, electronics and other disciplines, working for the research division of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.

The company entered the synthetic heart business nearly six years ago when Robert M. Pierson, manager of synthetic rubber research, heard Dr. William J. Kolff of the Cleveland Clinic discuss the clinic's work on artificial heart valves.

Pierson thought since rubber is more like cardiovascular tissue than any other substance Goodyear could help. Dr. Kolff agreed that rubber might be the answer because it is flexible and expands and contracts like natural tissue.

* * *

Their search focused on air-driven designs, one of which closely resembled the human heart. It had the same shape as well as two inner sacs that alternately received and expelled blood by squeezing.

MODIFICATIONS

Successful implants of this first artificial heart were made in animals, but Pierson and Kolff continued to improve their laboratory heart, making a variety of modifications.

Today, six years later, the improved rubber heart is smaller and lighter than its predecessors. Parts of the new model, Pierson explained, are more readily sutured to real tissue than earlier prototypes.

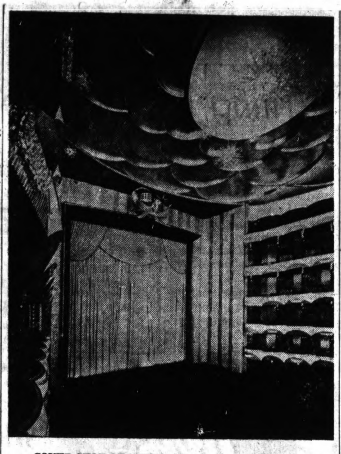

Less external instrumentation and control machinery is needed. A new type of fabric used for the chambers above the ventricles promotes rapid build-up of tissue-like surfaces and prevents clotting.

* * *

The heart has undergone endurance tests on a mock circulatory system in Goodyear's laboratories of up to 500 consecutive hours.

PUMPING BLOOD

"These tests," Pierson said, "show the heart is capable of pumping blood through a system that simulates the circulatory system of a calf."

Camera Angles

'Big Shot' Gets Big Play

By CHARLES E. KURTAK
Project Manager, Photo Lamp, Sylvania Electric Products Inc.
Written for the Associated Press

PHOTOGRAPHY has played an important role in getting the new home of the Metropolitan Opera at Lincoln Center off to a successful beginning.

During the last few weeks, photographs and stories about the Met's new home have been featured in practically every major publication in this country.

It appears the trend is now spreading onto the international press scene.

One photograph that has been taken of the opera house will continue to be of a major importance to opera-goers throughout the coming season.

That is the photograph that appears on the cover of each performance's program.

SUPERCOLOSSAL

The program cover photograph was taken by Joseph Costa for Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., as one of the company's continuing "Big Shots" — a photograph of a supercolossal subject taken with multiple flashbulbs.

Costa has taken other "Big Shots" for Sylvania, including the curtained stage of the old Metropolitan Opera House, which appeared on the program cover for seven years, the Diamond Horseshoe of the old Met, and the USS Antietam.

Big Shots taken by other photographers for Sylvania have included Carlsbad Caverns; Levittown, Long Island; Chicago Museum of Science and Industry; Horseshoe Curve of the Pennsylvania Railroad in Altoona, Pa.; the New York Stock Exchange; the Great Pyramid of Cheops in Egypt; the St. Louis Airport, and Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

* * *

These photographs have required from 36 flashbulbs (Met Diamond Horseshoe) up to 6,500 (Great Pyramid of Cheops), and a lot of time and patience on the part of the electrical crews, liaison people, and particularly, the photographer.

COMPANY CONTRIBUTION

Most of them were done because Sylvania wanted to show what could be done with multiple flash.

The new one is the company's contribution to the Metropolitan Opera.

Each "Big Shot" has had to face its own special kind of problems and the latest was no exception.

Since the final result was aimed at publication, deadlines had to be observed all along the way.

MAJOR DIFFICULTY

The major difficulty in facing some of these deadlines was that other developments taking place in the construction of the opera house did not always coincide with the photographic schedule which Costa and Sylvania tried to maintain.

If the result was to get a photograph of the procenium arch and the gold curtain, certain things had to first be accomplished — like the installation of a gold curtain.

Therefore, the newness of the opera house complicated the photographic assignments, not only for Sylvania, but all publications who tried to have timely photographs of it.

* * *

But as the photographic results have already shown in many publications, the problems were solved admirably.

CAREFUL CALCULATION

From the beginning conception of the new Sylvania "Big Shot," Costa calculated every circumstance required in shooting a multiple flash photograph.

He began with Polaroid test shots to determine camera angles and positions in the many-tiered house.

Pontiac Man Bound Over

Charged with burglarizing a Pontiac market, a Pontiac man yesterday was bound over to Circuit Court for arraignment Oct. 19 on a count of breaking and entering.

Larry E. Stephens, 23, of 109 Henry Clay was remanded to the Oakland County Jail in $10,000 bond following preliminary examination before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

McCallum adjourned until Oct. 18 Stephens' scheduled examination on a charge of escaping from custody in connection with the same case.

Stephens was apprehended early Oct. 3 by Pontiac police after a break-in at People's Market, 100 Bagley.

He walked out of a detention room at the station minutes after being taken into custody, but surrendered to authorities three days later.

Winds, Waves to Be Forecast

By Science Service

WASHINGTON—Ocean winds and waves throughout the world may soon be forecast more than half a day in advance, thanks to a super-weather-system with a satellite sending an endless stream of data to a huge electronic computer.

* * *

Predictions covering the entire Northern Hemisphere and part of the Southern Hemisphere may be possible within a year, Dr. Willard J. Pierson Jr., of New York University School of Engineering and Science, reported here.

Mathematical techniques for a computer-based system created by Dr. Pierson and a flat-map projection of the world's oceans developed by scientists at Lockheed - California Co., Burbank, are ready to go. What they need is to be fed with accurate initial information.

Trying to make forecasts from present data is like playing the stock market with yesterday's tapes, Dr. Pierson believes.

State Draft Down From October

DETROIT (UPI) — Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state director of the Selective Service Commission, said the November draft call would be 14 per cent less.

Although figures will not be available until next week, Holmes expects 350 fewer men to be drafted than in October.

Science Writing Is 5,000 Years Old

By Science Service

LOS ANGELES — More than 3,000 years before Christ, an anonymous Egyptian physician wrote:

"If thou examinest a man having a break in the column of his nose, thou shouldst cleanse it for him with two plugs of linen. Thou shouldst apply for him stiff rolls of linen by which his nose is held fast. Thou shouldst treat him afterwards with lint, every day until he recovers."

In ancient Greece, Homer, though a bit flowery for an instruction manual writer, gave some poetic instructions on how to forge a stout shield.

Science writing, sometimes thought of as a Space Age art, goes back at least 5,000 years, according to Jackson E. Morris in "Principles of Scientific and Technical Writing," just published by the McGraw-Hill Book Co.

★ ★ ★

The first true scientific writer, which Mr. Morris defines as a scientist writing for other scientists, was Aristotle, he says, whose well-researched "Parts of Animals" contains a few early observations on flight dynamics.

The ancient Romans excelled as technical writers (engineers writing for engineers). Julius Caesar himself put down a very workmanlike description on how to build a floating military bridge in 10 days while Lucretius (96-55 B.C.) wrote poetry about atomic theory.

The English, who were great on experimental research, entered the picture in the Middle Ages. Geoffrey Chaucer wrote an excellent equipment handbook on an early type of sextant, although he is somewhat better known for "The Canterbury Tales."

With the public interest aroused by Sir Isaac Newton's experiments, the forerunners of today's journalistic science writers took pen in hand to popularize science for the layman.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Morris, an aerospace researcher at North American Aviation and sparetime poet, has been teaching for University of California engineering extension in the Los Angeles area during the past 10 years.

America's pioneer technical writer was Cotton Mather, who wrote extensively on native animals, plants and diseases; that is, Mr. Morris notes, when he was not hunting witches.

Pennsylvania Race Is Stormy

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Democrat Milton J. Shapp, in formally opening his campaign for governor, said the middle initial of his Republican opponent, Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer, stands for "phony." A few days later, Shafer said Shapp was obsessed with personal power and wild-eyed schemes.

These were, as it turned out, some of the milder things Shapp and Shafer have been saying about each other in a campaign devoted more to invective than to issue.

Both parties admit to a certain amount of frustration in finding a clear-cut, central issue.

Shapp's campaign is built primarily on two themes: Pennsylvania has not progressed in these recent years of national prosperity as rapidly as her sister states, and a program of free higher education for all Pennsylvania youths, to be financed by a $4-billion to $7-billion bond issue.

SCRANTON RECORD

Shafer is running on the record of Gov. William W. Scranton's administration and says Shapp is a "prophet of gloom and doom" who would spend the state into bankruptcy.

Shafer has likened Shapp to "an old medicine man who bottled up a lot of worthless promises and is trying to flimflam the public into buying them."

Shapp has said Shafer and other Republican leaders "are either financial idiots or knaves," adding: "In my opinion, they are both."

Scranton, ineligible to succeed himself under state law, solidly supports Shafer, his second in command the past four years. He has described a Shapp position as "numbskullery," and has said:

"Our opponent is obsessed with power. He will do anything, say anything, promise anything, spend any amount of money to get what he wants."

Two campaign publications have set off controversies.

Democrat David L. Lawrence, the governor before Scranton, has accused the Republicans of "committing a great fraud on the President of the United States." This was a reference to a publication put out by the GOP State Committee which quotes Johnson as saying "Pennsylvanians have a lot to be proud of. You have been a leader" and listing a number of things such as education. Johnson made those comments in a "nonpolitical" visit to a Dallastown, Pa., centennial celebration this summer.

REFERRING TO PAST

"I've checked it out with the White House and I've been authorized to say the President's references were to the past and not the present state government," Lawrence told a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner.

"Sneaky, measly, arrogant and shoddy." That's the way Republican Sen. Hugh Scott described the distribution of a 48-page booklet at a Shafer dinner in Philadelphia. Using as its title a frequent quote from Shafer — "Something wonderful is happening in Pennsylvania," it showed pictures of slum areas, polluted streams, and poverty-stricken people — and urged a vote for Shapp.

Shapp, a Philadelphia businessman, spent $1.4 million of her personal fortune to upset the Democratic organization candidate in the primary. These huge expenditures have been a major GOP target.

★ ★ ★

In return, Shapp has claimed that Shafer "is bankrolled by the Republican party's traditional fat-cat hidden bosses, and these bosses have him on a string."

Adds Shapp: "Nobody has bought me."

★ ★ ★

Shapp also has pointed out that Shafer was campaign manager for Barry Goldwater in Pennsylvania two years ago, and calls him "the darling of the archconservatives." To counter such claims, the Republicans have brought in Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York among others, to speak for Shafer.

2 Bank Holdups

DETROIT (AP) — The FBI said two Detroit branch banks were robbed Wednesday in apparently unrelated holdups. The National Bank of Detroit was robbed of $600 by a man who handed a teller a note and ordered her to place the money in a brown paper bag. Shortly afterwards, a bandit robbed the Manufacturers National Bank a few blocks away, agents said, and fled with an undetermined amount of currency.

New England Elections to Test Bobby's Strength

By TOM NOLAN

MANCHESTER, N.H.—(NEA) — It was in this important New England city that John F. Kennedy personally opened his first presidential campaign headquarters, launching the drive that led to the White House.

Now veteran politicians instinctively look to New England to read any new signs in what is generally believed to be a second Kennedy movement in the same direction.

This Kennedy, of course, is New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, who stands to gain much, lose little according to how New England votes Nov. 8.

The opposite seems to be true for a fellow Democrat, President Johnson.

★ ★ ★

The President's ebbing popularity — and he's slipped in the Northeast more than anywhere else except the South — is the only consistent political thread woven through the six New England states this fall.

DISASTROUS VISIT

The President's visit to Rhode Island recently was a disaster, according to politicians of both parties who used crowd size and enthusiasm as measuring sticks.

An LBJ stopover in Maine the following day seems to have been of little political benefit to anybody except Republican Gov. John Reed, who got much-needed news photo coverage.

Influential New Hampshire Democrats privately debated asking the President to cancel his visit to their state.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy, on the other hand, was welcomed with open arms.

INTERPRETATIONS

Here is how many political observers will "interpret" the results of some of the region's key races:

● Should former Air Force Gen. Harrison Thyng (R) defeat Sen. Thomas McIntyre (D) in New Hampshire, score a big minus for LBJ.

Thyng, "discovered" in an obscure Labrador DEW Line installation by Manchester publisher William Loeb, is antiadministration on civil rights, foreign aid and Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

New Hampshire voters repudiated this kind of stuff pretty overwhelmingly in 1964, but times — like the President's popularity — change.

★ ★ ★

McIntyre, never the world's best campaigner, was hurt by the closing of Portsmouth Navy Yard. He could be in trouble.

● Should McIntyre (he considers himself more of a "Kennedy" man than a "Johnson" or "Humphrey" man) win, give an assist to Bobby.

● Should Endicott ("Chub") Peabody (D) defeat Edward Brooke (R) in the Massachusetts Senate race, score a small plus for LBJ and a bigger one for Bobby.

Peabody is not hesitant about declaring his support for any or all of the Great Society programs, but insiders say he will lick Brooke because the powerful Democratic party in the state is at last unified.

★ ★ ★

Though this unification will be mainly the work of brother Teddy (Sen. Edward M. Kennedy), some of the credit should rub off on Bobby, who will stump hard for Peabody.

● Should Sen. Claiborne Pell (D) lose in Rhode Island — or even win narrowly — over little-known Ruth Briggs, a former WAC lieutenant colonel, score it bad for LBJ.

Pell, originally figured as a shoo-in, has run into a buzz saw in the form of the needling colonel who is trying to convince Rhode Island voters that Pell's vote is the true cause of the "inflationary" Great Society spending programs and the "no-win" Viet Nam policy.

★ ★ ★

The only other New England senator up for re-election, Maine's Margaret Chase Smith (R), is regarded a certain victor.

★ ★ ★

All six New England governors are running this year. Four — Connecticut's John Dempsey (D), Vermont's Philip Hoff (D), New Hampshire's John King (D) and Rhode Island's John Chafee (R) —appear safe bets.

View Offered on Evolution

Forest Is Called Mankind's Birthplace

LONDON (UPI) — About 20 million years ago the ancestors of man and the baboons came down from the trees at about the same time — and it would have taken an expert to tell them apart.

Both moved about on all fours and probably had tails.

Yet today it is man who visits baboons in the zoo, not the other way around. Why man won the evolutionary race has long intrigued anthropologists, and Dr. John Napier recently gave British scientists his version.

The story begins in the Miocene Period when a major upheaval destroyed so many of the forests several tree-living species were forced down to the plains and grasslands.

★ ★ ★

"Man is an escapee from the forest," Dr. Napier said. "Many of his most valuable physical traits, such as his opposable thumb and binocular vision and his most acceptable behavorial ones are aboreal in origin.

TAKES TO WOODS

"When man is an outcast from society — for whatever reason, criminal or iconoclastic, he takes to the woods. Here is security, a plentiful supply of food and a deep sense of belonging. The forest is the birthplace of mankind.

"Conversely, many of his less desirable characteristics, his aggressiveness and killer-instinct, are products of his early experiences in the African savannahs (plains)."

Dr. Napier said this evolutionary process of millions of years ago is going on before our eyes right now in Tanzania where forest-living chimpanzees are vegetarians while woodland-savannah chimpanzees hunt and kill other animals for food and have learned to use tools.

★ ★ ★

Once out of the trees man found himself with one disadvantage in his forays into the open grasslands. He had no cheek pouches to bring back his food. He had to carry it in his hands and thus he, alone, forced himself to walk on two feet.

FORCED TO WALK

All the primates had this ability — but only man had to do it. And this theory, Dr. Napier said, probably accounts for his unique characteristics — his big brain and his sophisticated use of his hands.

Scientists dislike the popular phrase "missing link," but Dr. Napier said "homo habilis" — discovered in Olduvia Gorge in Tanzania in 1960 by Dr. Louis Leakey — "undoubtedly, in my view, marked the point at which an advanced ape became a primitive man."

The United States has been the largest steel producing nation since 1890.

Russian Dominance Replaced

Mao Forming New Leadership

By LEON DENNEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — Mao Tse-tung is reported to be organizing a new Communist International to replace the defunct Comintern and Cominform that were once dominated by Russia.

According to East European diplomats, representatives of pro-Chinese Communist parties in Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America met in Peking in the early part of September to lay the foundation of the new organization.

They gathered in Red China's capital, significantly enough, at the very time that Mao's Red Guards were assaulting and heaping scorn on Russian and other "revisionist" diplomats.

Prominent Maoists who took part in Peking's conclave included Jacques Grippa, leader of the pro-Chinese Communist party of Belgium; Marc Tibert, editor of the French newspaper l'Humanite Nouvelle, and E. F. Hill, chairman of the pro-Peking Communist party of Australia.

★ ★ ★

OTHER LEADERS

Also present, according to some reports, were the secretary general of Japan's Communist party and Mouyabi Andre Georges, president of the National Assembly of the Brazzaville Congo.

In the view of specialists on communism, a new Red International dominated by Peking will intensify the bitter conflict between pro-Russian and pro-Chinese Communists that is already raging in many parts of the world.

It will also accelerate the final diplomatic break between Moscow and Peking.

★ ★ ★

Mao is certainly aware that his hand-picked organization will irrevocably split world communism into two hostile camps.

GROWING ISOLATION

What apparently prompted him to take the risky step at this time is Red China's growing isolation and the declining influence of Peking's policy of revolutionary brinkmanship.

Many of Mao's former adherents, especially leftist intellectuals, now regard him as a "paper dragon" who wants to fight American imperialism to the last Vietnamese.

They deplore his failure to give greater military aid to the Viet Cong and North Viet Nam.

However, Peking's doctrine of purer-than-pure Marxism-Leninism-Maoism continues to have vocal adherents in all countries of Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America, including the Progressive Labor party and other splinter groups in the United States.

Colors to Measure Gulf Stream Speed

By Science Service

WASHINGTON—Weather permitting, the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey will soon begin coloring the Gulf Stream silver and red.

★ ★ ★

The aim is to gather hitherto unknonw facts on the speed and direction of the Stream, as well as its tubulence and circulatory patterns.

★ ★ ★

For red, the Survey is using 80 gallons of dye, dumped overboard from the ship "Pierce."

★ ★ ★

For silver, the Survey chose aluminum powder, some 800 pounds of which will be dropped in bags from the air. As each bag smacks the water, it bursts, leaving a silvery target on the surface.

Third Twin Type Listed

By Science Service

LONDON — A third variety of twins has been reported in which a female hermaphrodite reulsted from two sperms fertilizing one egg.

The usual twins are either monozygotic (identical and developed from one egg) or dizygotic (dissimilar and originating from two fertilized eggs.).

In the case of the twin of mixed sex, all the tissues investigated were mosaic with mixtures of male and female cells.

It was possible to show that she had inherited both of her father's genes instead of only one of them, both his Rh complexes and both his genes controlling eye color. This twin was an XX-XY mosaic female hermaphrodite.

Device Reads Written Digits

By Science Service

NEW YORK, — The handwritten numbers on everything from checks to sales slips can be read by a machine just introduced here.

A company using the new reader does not have to convert pencil-written or printed numerical data into punched card machine language before entering it into a computerized filing system.

It is transmitted directly from source documents into the computer, saving time and money, and eliminating conversion errors.

Developed by International Business Machine Corp., the machine has read more than 18.5 million handwritten numbers at IBM's World's Fair exhibit and in field tests with a number of companies.

★ ★ ★

The problem of identifying variations in handwritten numbers has been solved by IBM with a tiny "flying spot" of light only five one-thousandths of an inch in diameter.

Negro Leaders: No Prevote Lull

ATLANTA (UPI) — Despite the current quiet on the "racial front," Negro leaders deny there has been any slowdown in civil rights campaigns because of a possible "backlash" at the pools in next month's general elections.

The lull, they contend, is the result of the normal course of events which see the campaigns in their less-active phases.

There was speculation that recent racial rioting in Chicago, Cleveland, Atlanta, San Francisco and St. Louis had stirred white resentment which would show itself at the polls, and that civil rights leaders were "tiptoeing" until after the Nov. 8 voting.

Suspicion that there was a "backlash" came last month in Georgia where arch segregationist Lester Maddox soundly defeated Gov. Ellis Arnall, a racial moderate, for the Democratic nomination for governor.

★ ★ ★

Maddox, a three-time loser in quests for public office, had not been considered a serious contender before he ran second to Arnall in a six-man primary that set up the runoff.

SPECULATION

Some observers have speculated that recent riots in Atlanta induced many persons to vote for Maddox.

Negroes insisted, however, they have no fear of creating "Frankenstein monsters" in other states by continuing to press for civil rights.

"We will not be intimidated by an backlash," said Junius Griffin, public relations director for Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) in Atlanta.

★ ★ ★

"We have great faith in the ability of the American public to distinguish right from wrong," he said.

'MOVING RIGHT ALONG'

Griffin said SCLC currently was conducting campaigns in Grenada, Miss., Chicago and Georgia, among other areas, and that these activities "are moving right along."

In Mississippi, Charles Evers, state field director for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), said he thought "that one little flare-up got Lester Maddox nominated."

But, he pointed out, there haven't been any significant racial demonstrations in the state of Alabama for nearly a year "and look what's happened there—Mrs. Lurleen Wallace is going to get elected governor."

★ ★ ★

"There's been a white backlash all the time, so it can't get any worse in Mississippi than it has been," said Evers.

NO CHOICE

"We don't have any choice here, because no matter what we do, Ross Barnett is going to win anyhow."

Evers was referring to the 1967 gubernatorial race in Mississippi, in which former Gov. Ross Barnett is expected to seek nomination.

Ivanhoe Donaldson, New York director of the militant Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), said his group had no plans to hold back on demonstrations until after the elections.

★ ★ ★

"We take the same position as in 1964 when Johnson and Goldwater were running," he said.

Salt Price-Fix Charge Made

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — The state's second charge of price-fixing by salt companies was brought yesterday by Erie County Commissioners in Sandusky.

★ ★ ★

The commissioners charged, in a letter of Gov. James A. Rhodes, Ohio Senators and Congressmen, that three salt companies — Morton, International and Diamond Crystal of St. Clair, Mich. — have listed the same price offer for the past three years.

★ ★ ★

Earlier, Willoughby Law Director Louis A. Turi Jr. charged that Morton and International fixed prices on bids to that city.

Erie County Commissioners said the three firms made identiacl bids of $12.40 a ton this year, compared with identical bids of $11.40 in 1965.

★ ★ ★

In 1964, the commissioners said, two firms bid $10.60 and the third offered $10.80 a ton.

India Train Crash Leaves 2 Killed and 64 Injured

BOMBAY, India (AP) —Two passengers were killed and 64 injured Wednesday night in a train crash 20 miles from Hyderabad, the South Central Railway reported Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The express train on which the victims were riding crashed into a stationary freight train at a small station. Most of the passengers were asleep.

Both trains were derailed.

Impaneling Jury Just Not in Cards

WASHINGTON (AP) — General Sessions Judge Charles W. Halleck went through two jury panels of 48 persons Wednesday and could find only 10 persons who said they had never played a game of chance.

★ ★ ★

So Halleck had to put off a gambling case for a month, when a new group of prospective jurors will be available.

Early Diets Ruined Teeth, Built Jaws

By Science Service

LOS ANGELES — The eating habits of earlier civilizations may have produced bad teeth but strong jaws.

The teeth and jaw structures of 62 skulls of young adult Maoris who lived in New Zealand before European settlers arrived were studied by Dr. Michael McCann of the University of California at Los Angeles School of Dentistry.

He found that the teeth of these early Polynesians were often worn down below the original level of the pulp chamber. He attributes this to their coarse diet. One of the major culprits in the diet was probably fern root, which has a very gritty quality.

Modern young adult Maoris, who eat a refined European diet, have healthy teeth, Dr. McCann said, but their jaw structures are significantly smaller.

Some authorities have maintained that the form and size of jawbones are determined by inherent genetic factors, and that environmental factors are not significant influences. Dr. McCann's study implies that functional stimulus is also important, and without it jawbones may not develop to their fullest extent.

Air Pollutants Tough as Team

By Science Service

BELTSVILLE, Md. — Two air pollutants are better than one — at damaging crops, that is.

Tobacco, spinach, cereal grains, grapes and citrus fruits are among plants that can be damaged by a combination of ozone and sulfur dioxide in quantities too small to cause harm alone, scientists have discovered here.

Some of the air pollutant damage that is found in plants in the late spring and early fall, when individual levels of ozone and sulfur dioxide are not high enough to be a problem, can be explained by their joining forces.

Research by H. A. Menser and H. E. Heggestad of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service upsets the theory that the two pollutants act independently of each other on leaf tissue.

★ ★ ★

Ozone and sulfur dioxide are common air contaminants, the former being a photochemical smog formed when sunlight and car exhausts react together. Sulfur dioxide is a product of fuel combustion for power and heating.

The male ostrich, not the female, incubates the eggs.

Device Is Used for Injections

By Science Service

SAN FRANCISCO—The same gas cartridges used by restaurants to whip cream can supply gas to be injected in different organs of the body for a contrast medium preceding Xray study.

A small gas syringe developed at the University of Oregon, Portland, facilitates the use of gas without fear of the formation of bubbles.

★ ★ ★

It replaces cumbersome equipment required for gas as a contrast medium, Dr. Charles Dotter of the university's research team told the meeting of the American Roentgen Ray Society here.

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

When you hold the ten spot in addition to the ace and jack you can be sure of two tricks in the suit if you play your ace on the king or queen. In that situation when you hold up you aren't executing a Bath coup. You are doing the exact opposite, because you may be throwing away a trick.

JACOBY

South saw that he could be sure of two spade tricks if he simply put his ace of spades on the queen. Further thought showed that he would not be likely to make his contract if he did that.

It looked to him as if West had opened fourth best from a five card suit headed by the king. This left East with the ace-queen of clubs and ace of diamonds for his opening club bid. South would lead a spade and West would hold back his king. The next time in West would collect three spade tricks.

Therefore South let East hold that first spade trick and ducked the second spade lead also. A third spade cleared up the suit for West but did him no good at all. He never was able to get in to take them.

After winning the spade and discarding a club from dummy South entered dummy by overtaking his queen of diamonds with the king. East held back his ace.

Then South led the ten of clubs. East rose with the ace of that suit and returned a heart. South won in his hand and overtook his ten of diamonds with dummy's jack. This time East rose with the ace and led a second heart to dummy's ace. South cashed dummy's last two diamonds, discarding a club. Then he led another club toward his own hand and made his contract.

♠♥♦♣ CARD Sense ♠♥♦♣

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♥	Pass	2 ♣
Pass	4 ♥	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ A K 7 6 5 ♥ A 3 2 ♦ 6 ♣ A K 7 4 3

What do you do now?

A—Bid six hearts. There is no reason to try for seven since if your partner held the ace of diamonds and good enough hearts to warrant a seven bid he would not have bid four hearts over your two spades.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding four hearts your partner has bid three diamonds over your two spades. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow

There are nearly 50,000 deaths a year attributed to automobile accidents and four million injuries.

Del Rio Loses Traffic Appeal

DETROIT (AP)—A state legislator's fight against a $10 fine took a turn for the worse Wednesday—at least for him.

Traffic Judge Richard M. Maher reviewed the appeal and upheld the conviction and fine against Rep. James Del Rio, who was charged with entering an intersection despite a stop light.

★ ★ ★

Del Rio contended he was innocent because he didn't go all the way through the intersection.

Maher then looked over Del Rio's four-page traffic record and revoked his license for six months.

★ ★ ★

Del Rio, who failed in an attempt to pass a law to allow only the secretary of state to see individual driving records, said he would appeal again.

Jean Arthur Says She's Relieved as Show Folds

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jean Arthur, fabled comedienne of the movies' golden years, quit 13 years of retirement to play a lady lawyer in a television series this year, — and the show was one of the first to be axed.

So how does she feel?

★ ★ ★

"Relieved that I don't have to read any more of those awful scripts."

Miss Arthur, whose candor is as refreshing as it is uncharacteristic for this part of the world, told an interviewer she was "disappointed, of course" when CBS handed her the pink slip. But she's game for another try — with the right kind of show.

British Official in Detroit for Address Today

DETROIT (AP) — British Foreign Secretary George Brown arrived here Wednesday, taking a break from his Viet Nam peace project to address the Detroit Economic Club.

Brown speaks to the club today.

★ ★ ★

The British peace proposals, unveiled at a Labor Party conference last Thursday, probably will be the subject of his meeting in Washington Friday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Brown had his second meeting in four days this week with Andrei Gromyko, the Soviet foreign minister.

★ ★ ★

The peace plan calls for a halt to bombing of North Viet Nam, a cease fire agreement, withdrawal of all foreign troops from South Viet Nam and the neutralization of the area with enforcement by an international peace-keeping force.

Projections on Enrollment Point Up Future City Needs

Pontiac School Affairs

Pontiac will need a new elementary school and additional junior-senior high school facilities next year, according to tentative enrollment projections received last night by the board of education.

★ ★ ★

A serious elementary classroom shortage is forecast for the western portion of the city in addition to the existing problem at McConnell Elementary School.

Secondary-level relief will be most needed on the east side of the school district, Assistant Schools Supt. Richard C. Fell said.

Current enrollment figures show 14,023 pupils attending elementary schools, 4,984 in junior highs and 4,023 at the two high schools. Added to these are 395 special education students.

Elementary enrollment could increase by 264 in 1967, going to 14,457 by 1969, Fell said.

SUBSTANTIAL GROWTH

"While the total elementary school capacity in 1967 appears to be adequate for the estimated growth, there are several elementary schools that show substantial growth," he noted.

Now overcrowded, McConnell Elementary School is slated to be the first replaced by a human resources complex to be jointly developed by the City Commission and school board.

The concept has been endorsed by both bodies and a planning director for the project is to be appointed soon.

Meanwhile, the board is in the process of purchasing a house adjacent to the school property to use as a kindergarten classroom.

INTERIM MEASURES

Additional interim measures are being considered by staff members and parents, Fell said.

He cited as serious trouble spots for 1967 the Alcott, Wisner and Crofoot elementary school areas.

These schools are expected to have a total of 148 more first through sixth graders than they can accommodate at maximum capacity.

★ ★ ★

Fell commented that temporary relief could be provided by altering the boundary lines for these schools and for Webster Elementary School.

BETTER IDEA

"A better solution would be to build a new elementary school between Wisner and Alcott," he said.

In addition to the homes already located there, various parcels of property in the Alcott district have been rezoned in the last year to permit construction of 1,452 multiple-residential units, Fell noted.

He said there is no way of estimating how many children these units will bring to the district until development plans are more definite.

School trustees concurred that boundary changes could be only a temporary solution to classroom shortages in the area and would breed additional problems in terms of parent dissatisfaction and interruption of school continuity for pupils.

ENROLLMENT GAP

For the senior high schools, projected enrollments for 1967-68 exceed reasonable capacity by 591 students. By 1969, the gap is expected to reach 727 students.

Enrollment problems also are predicted for Eastern, Kennedy, Lincoln and Madison junior high schools, although the situation at Kennedy reportedly should not be critical.

Administrators see construction of a junior-senior high school on the east side of the city as the best long-range solution to the problem.

Trustee Russell L. Brown suggested that the board might start thinking about development of two educational parks in the district, rather than plan school construction on a piecemeal basis.

ENTIRE DISTRICT

While the human resources center planning director will concentrate on the immediate need for facilities in the southeast quadrant of Pontiac, he also should consider the entire district to some extent, Brown said.

Board member Mrs. Lucille Marshall expanded on Brown's idea.

She said a second human resources center might include educational facilities for all 13 grades as well as providing services for adults.

Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer estimated that such a complex would require a 75- or 100-acre site.

30-ACRE SITE

The human resources center concept currently being developed calls for a site of about 30 acres, with a facility initially to replace McConnell and eventually accommodate pupils from the Central and Wilson elementary school areas.

As the board began its consideration of future classroom needs, Whitmer said he hoped to present within two months the results of a two-year study of the space situation at Pontiac Central High School.

OCC Fete to Be Held Tomorrow

An "Occah-baloo" — including a rally, parade and dance — is to be held tomorrow night at the Auburn Hills Campus of Oakland Communtiy College.

The 7 p.m. rally will include the crowning of "Miss Nike." She will be selected from among 17 contestants on the campus. New Student Senate officers also will be announced at the event.

★ ★ ★

A parade of floats representing student organizations will begin about 8 p.m., traveling down Squirrel to M59.

Following the parade, students will return to campus for a dance, featuring the music of the Bishops from Royal Oak. Trophies will be awarded to the queen and best float.

For Eastern, Wilson

Two Directors Appointed

Community school directors for Eastern Junior High and Wilson Elementary School last night were appointed by the Pontiac Board of Education.

Huevon S. Peery was named to coordinate the Eastern program and James R. Davis was appointed to the Wilson post.

They will handle their new assignments on a part-time basis until their present teaching positions are filled.

Peery, 31, has been an industrial arts teacher at Jefferson Junior High School since 1963. He holds two bachelor's degrees from Bluefield State College in Bluefield, W. Va., and currently is doing graduate work at Michigan State University.

★ ★ ★

Davis, 29, was a part-time community school director at Bethune Elementary School last year. He has taught classes at Bethune and, since 1964, has been an elementary vocal music instructor.

TRAINING PROGRAM

Holding a bachelor's degree from Bob Jones University in Greenville, S. C., and a master's degree from Eastern Michigan University, Davis also has completed the Pontiac school system's management training program.

The community school program to be initiated at Eastern is financed by the board of education while that at Wilson is supported by federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act funds.

'Singing Nun' Leaves Convent for New Life

BRUSSELS (UPI)—Belgium's "Singing Nun," whose recording of "Dominique" catapaulted her to fame three years ago, today took up a new life outside her Dominican convent as a lay member of the order.

An announcement yesterday by the Dominican convent of Fichermont said Sister Luc-Gabrielle, known on her recordings only as Soeur Sourie (Sister Smile), was giving up convent life to become "an apostolate amidst the masses."

It said she would remain a member of the Dominican order "in a lay form—a Dominican in the full world."

Deepening of World Hunger Crisis Feared

ROME (AP) — World population rose by 70 million in the past year without an increase in food to feed them. The U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization said today there was an average of 2 per cent less food for everyone on earth.

★ ★ ★

This raised fears that the gap between population and food production would increase and that mankind is moving deeper into its worst hunger crisis.

FAO's report on the state of food and agriculture for 1965-66 found serious reductions in food output in parts of the world where malnutrition already is worst.

"Any remaining complacency about the food and agriculture situation must surely have been dispelled by the events of the past year," said Director General B.R. Sen.

TOTAL DECLINE

"But for good harvests in North America, world production would almost certainly have declined. In fact, in each of the developing regions except the Near East, food production is estimated to have fallen by 2 per cent in total and 4 to 5 per cent on a per capita basis.

"The poor harvests of 1965-66 are all the more serious since they come, not in the midst of plenty, but after a long period in which production has only barely kept up with the rapidly mounting population.

"When millions of people are already inadequately nourished, there is little if any margin against the effects of a bad season."

The FAO report said international trade, and particularly the huge grain imports by the Soviet Union and mainland China, had reduced the formerly huge grain surpluses of North America "to their lowest level in well over a decade."

"Thus," Sen said, "the world food situation is now more precarious than at any time since the period of acute shortage immediately after the second World War. Because of the depletion of stocks the world has become much more dependent on current production, and hence on weather conditions.

"It is therefore with some anxiety that we await the outcome of the 1966-67 harvests."

★ ★ ★

FAO reported that while per-person production throughout the world dropped by 2 per cent in 1965-66, production rose 4 per cent in North America and about 1 per cent in Western Europe. There were slight losses in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union. Per-person production dropped 4 to 5 per cent in the developing regions of Africa, Latin America and the Far East.

U. S. Mop-Tops' Cry

It's 'Remember the Mane'

By DAVID SMOTHERS
United Press International

In Dallas, they made a federal case out of it.

In Brownsburg, Ind., an entire football team had to take a trimming.

In Oakland, Calif., two 17-year-olds with tresses down to their shoulders chose their locks over a high school education. Defying expulsion, they said proudly "no rock 'n' roll man worth his salt would ever wear a crew-cut."

These were some of the skirmishes this autumn in the continuing battle between youth's yen to be outlandish and his elder's admiration of the buttoned-down, all-American look.

As high schools and colleges opened across the country this fall, there were some signs that the cold folks were gaining ground in their guerrilla campaign against the long-haired adolescent and other symbols of youth's scorn of uniformity.

SOMT SUSPICION

But there was also a suspicion that what was reprehensible in a teen-age rocker a year ago had become barely acceptable in 1966.

Parents and principals didn't wince as perceptibly when Sonny combed his hair down to his eyebrows. Daughter might still have trouble getting by in a mini-skirt at high school, but her mother could be tolerant of her girl's bared kneecaps when the modesty of her own hemline was measured by only an inch or so more.

The badges of youth's rebellion — the emancipated mane, slung-low Levis, helitrope skirts, and large expanses of young feminine leg and unshaven cheek — had become familiar, if not yet respectable.

Still, there were indications that when battle lines were drawn, the middle-aged apostles of the crew-cut and the demure frock were holding their ground.

STRUCK A BLOW

In Dallas, U.S. District Court Judge W. M. Taylor Jr. struck a blow for the clean-cut look.

Before him came Phillip Ferrel, 17, Paul Jarvis, 17, and Stephen Webb, 18, unbarbered members of a rock 'n' roll combo called "Sounds Unlimited."

The youths had been ordered to get haircuts or get out of W. W. Samuel High School. They took their stand on the constitution and the ethics of show biz.

★ ★ ★

To insist on a haircut as the price of an education, their lawyers said, was to violate "the constitutional right of the plaintiffs to equal opportunity for a public education." What's more, the boys said, they had signed a contract promising not to cut their hair.

NO SALE TO JUDGE

Judge Taylor wouldn't buy it. "The conditions or terms upon which a public free education are granted in the high schools of Texas cannot be fixed or determined by the public themselves," he wrote.

The unclipped ones of Sounds Unlimited said they would take their case to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans.

There was no appeal for the 39 youths who turned out for the football team at the Brownsburg, Ind., High School. Coach James Ware took one look at his Tigers' coiffures and ordered them to the barber shop or off the team.

★ ★ ★

Long locks wouldn't fit into a football helmet, he said. What's more, he didn't want his men fussing over their hair in the locker room. Four of the players stood on their rights. They are no longer in the Brownsburg lineup.

JUST AS BLEAK

Things were just as bleak for 17-year-old Roger Kennedy and Robert Birdwell, who turned up at Oakland's John F. Kennedy High School with hair down to their shoulders.

They said they had cultivated their curls under wigs all summer to quality for a group called "Peter Wheat and the Breadmen."

Principal Ellis Mertens held that "when hair curls down over the collar of a young man, it is not in moderation."

★ ★ ★

When last heard from, Kennedy and Birdwell were as unshorn as Samson before Delilah.

SIMILAR RESULTS

The battle was fought on other fronts with similar results:

- In Waupun, Wis., Mrs. Bep White went to bat for her son, leader of a rocking group called the Warlords, when Principal Erwin Pfefferkorn urged 12-year-old James to see a barber.

"Why should the school take authority over parents?" she demanded. "It's un-American. It's Communistic. Haircuts would ruin the image of the Warlords." At last word, Mrs. White and Pfefferkorn were still fighting it out.

- At Oyster Bay, N.Y., five shaggy youths were segregated from their peers for 11 days in a separate classroom. High school Principal Richard Nodell said they looked like "apparitions."

The boys were allowed to go back to their regular classrooms when they promised to "do something" about the situation — Although only one went so far as to get a haircut.

- Pittsfield, Mass., High School forbade youths with flowing tresses from taking shop. Teachers professed fear the locks would get caught in the machinery.

The DRC Story

NOTES IN THE LITTLE BLACK BOOK REVEAL SECRETS WORTH BIG MONEY

The Notations Are Cryptic, But Meaningful.

Seven men working in obscurity compile them. The notes are based on long years of experience gained from working closely with the complex characters in The World of Horses.

A footnote to the chart of each race at the Detroit Race Course often goes unnoticed. Yet, it is vital to the success of the Sport and to the satisfaction and enjoyment of the Racing Public.

A typical footnote will read:

"IN GATE—4:22. OFF AT—4:22."

Doesn't look important, does it?

Yet it is. It is a tribute to the efficiency and skill of Ed Anthony, the veteran DRC starter, and six assistants. It is a guarantee to the Owners and Trainers that their horses have been handled properly at the gate. It is an assurance to Fans that each Thoroughbred on which they wagered received the equal chance at the start to which he is entitled.

Anthony and his Starting Gate crew play their role in the growing popularity of racing with Michigan Sports Fans. They contribute to the thrills and excitement and the unmatched drama of the Thoroughbreds. We are racing daily, except Sundays, from now through November 5.

There is an age-old saying around race tracks which goes:

"Without a GOOD START, you can't have a GOOD RACE."

Ed Anthony subscribes whole-heartedly to that philosophy. Ed has had 40 years experience devoted to the Thoroughbreds as a jockey, trainer, assistant starter and starter. He dates back to the days when races were started from a web barrier, as still is the case in Europe. The starting gate, now standard equipment at United States tracks, was introduced in the mid-1930's.

"I remember when one of my jobs as an assistant starter was to put bacon grease on the 'arm' that raised the web barrier," Anthony says. "In those days it was common for horses to be at the starting position for 15 or 20 minutes. Now, they average about 30 seconds in the gate."

The job of Anthony and his assistants isn't limited to the afternoon races however. Each morning, throughout the DRC's 84-day meeting, they conduct "schooling sessions" for horses. Being schooled from the gate is one of the important parts of a Thoroughbred horse's education.

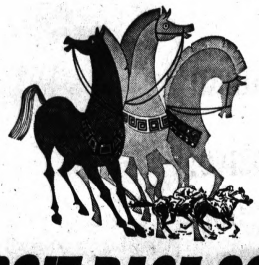

"Horses are much like children," Anthony says. "Some learn much faster than others, but it usually requires a minimum of two to three weeks to school a young horse from the gate."

It is from the schooling sessions, as well as the actual racing, that Anthony and his aides compile "The Little Black Book." The names and traits of each of the 1,200 horses at the DRC are in it. On this information, and the proper use of it, can rest the outcome of races and the many thousands of dollars wagered on them daily.

Before the races each day, Anthony makes up a program for each assistant starter, with notes on the habits and peculiarities of each horse. This determines the manner in which they are handled as they come to the gate.

On your next visit to the DRC, and I hope it will be soon, observe closely the work of the Starter and his aides. I think you will find it adds to your Racing interest and enjoyment.

Class A Powers Clash Friday Night

Vikings, Ann Arbor in 'Dream Game'

Michigan Stadium has been the site of many memorable football contests but nearby Ann Arbor High School field will draw the attention Friday night.

A fan's "dream game" looms when Ann Arbor's Pioneers entertain Walled Lake with coaching milestones, state ranking and perhaps individual recognition intertwined with the spirited hitting of two successful high school teams.

Ann Arbor's fourth-ranked Pioneers (weekly state Associated Press Class A poll) will be favored entering the contest. They won last year's encounter at Walled Lake and have the home field advantage this fall.

Both teams are unbeaten and have potent offenses. But the Pioneers have shown an inconsistency on defense that could be their downfall against the determined Vikings, who are the fifth-rated squad.

Walled Lake has yielded two touchdowns in only one game and its front four of Tom Carl, Ron James, Dave Horton and Mike Richards is a hard hitting unit.

The foursome will have a stern test from the talented Ann Arbor backfield that features quarterback Mark Carrow's accurate aerials and the speedy runs of wingback Bruce Sharemet.

In addition, injured runner Fred Smith is expected back this week and cocaptain Dave Beemer handles the other running back duties.

THREAT

Carrow is the real threat, though, both on rollouts and with his passing to slender, shifty split end Tom Conner, a 135-pounder. The Pioneer quarterback is an All-State candidate as the team continues to record the victories.

Walled Lake can counter with a candidate of its own in fullback Gus Maragos, who also is akin to a mighty mite at 5-8 and 160 pounds.

Maragos is complemented by halfbacks Steve Fogle and Russ Herron, both of whom have garnered five touchdowns this year. Rich Schmaltz is a fine ball handler at quarterback.

★ ★ ★

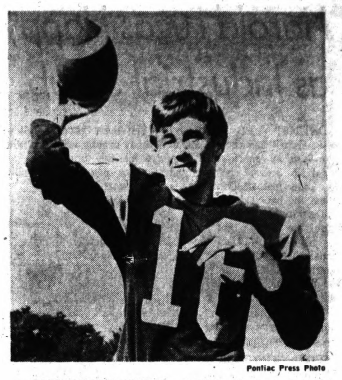

The game also will find Viking coach Dave Smith in quest of his 75th victory at Walled Lake in his 89th game there. Ann Arbor mentor Jay Stielstra will be after his 50th triumph in his 61st contest with the Pioneers.

Game time is 8 p.m. with tickets still available. The field, located directly katykorner from Michigan Stadium, has seating for 7,000-8,000 fans — including 3,000 seats on the visitors' side.

While challenging for state ranking, Walled Lake likely will lose its share of first place in the Inter-Lakes League since unbeaten Farmington will visit punchless Livonia Stevenson Friday night.

★ ★ ★

Ann Arbor holds first place in the Six-A League. The Pioneers have a two-year five-game success string, while Walled Lake hasn't lost since its Ann Arbor defeat nine games ago.

PLAY-CALLING VIKING — Walled Lake's quarterback duties in tomorrow night's big invasion of Ann Arbor will be handled by Rich Schmaltz.

PNH, Waterford Try to Regroup Grid Forces

Northern 11 Homecoming Foe of WTHS

Skippers Have Slim Title Chance; Huskies Out of Contention

PNH SPEEDSTER — Junior halfback Leon Chism moved into the lineup last week for Pontiac Northern and scored the Huskies' only touchdown in a 35-7 loss to Walled Lake.

Pontiac Northern and Waterford, both with high Inter-Lakes League football hopes before the season started, try to pick up the pieces against each other Friday night.

Both teams have lost three straight after impressive opening victories and PNH, 0-2 in I-L play, has been eliminated from the title picture.

Waterford opened league play last week and lost a key game to Farmington. The Skippers will have to down PNH, Walled Lake and Stevenson to tie for the crown — providing Walled Lake gets past Farmington.

This will be Waterford's homecoming and the Skippers are expected to be at full strength. However, the same can't be said for Northern, current holder of the Jimmy Dey AMVET Trophy that is awarded each year to the winner of the football game between the two schools.

The PNH backfield has been riddled by injuries.

Dana Coin, the Huskies' triple threat tailback, is a doubtful starter because of a hip injury suffered in last week's loss to Walled Lake.

Tony DeLaRosa reinjured his ankle and is doubtful. Others out of action are Gary Collins and Larry Gilyard. The defensive backfield has been hardest hit.

"We haven't been able to get three boys together for a game since our opener," said Coach Dave Schmidt. "This makes it difficult for our defensive backfield to function properly."

Schmidt said there were no injuries along the line and that it "has been doing a good job."

BIG WEAKNESS

If Coin is sidelined or not up to par even if he is able to play, PNH will suffer in the passing department. And this is one area where Waterford has shown a major weakness.

On the other hand, the Skippers have a better than average passing attack. Halfbacks Steve Goit and Bruce Saffron are the primary receivers of quarterback Bob Thomas' slants.

Sophomore signal caller Brad Potter impressed coach John Moffatt during his brief stints against Farmington and may see more action in future contests.

Another sophomore, center-tackle Bruce Carlson was named lineman of the week and Saffron was tabbed the top back.

Grid Merger Suffers Jolt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Efforts to negotiate an antitrust exemption for a combined National and American Football League collapsed today, dimming prospects that the merger will be completed.

The failure of counsel for the leagues and the House Antitrust Subcommittee to agree on a proposed exemption law made it unlikely a bill can be passed before Congress adjourns.

The impasse was disclosed at a third session of the subcommittee with Commissioner Pete Rozelle. Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said alternative proposals suggested by the lawyers had all been rejected by the other side.

Italians Triumph

MOSCOW (UPI) — Inter of Milan held Torpedo of Moscow to a scoreless tie before 103,000 spectators in Lenin Stadium Wednesday night to advance to the next round of the European Cup Soccer competition.

Inter won the first leg at Milan 1-0.

SPORTS

PCH in Running for Valley Crown

The Saginaw Valley Conference football race is normally a one-team show — Bay City Central.

Not this year. Going into the fifth week of the 1966 season, any one of at least six teams could win the title.

Pontiac Central is one of them.

The Chiefs are 2-2 in the league race, but only one game back of the leaders — Midland, Saginaw Arthur Hill and Flint Southwestern. Those three are 3-1.

★ ★ ★

All the Chiefs have to do is finish unbeaten and hope for some help from the other teams. That's a big chore, but it can be done.

MEETS SAGINAW

PCH will get started tomorrow night at Wisner Stadium, entertain old rival Saginaw in the 34th meeting between the two.

After Saginaw, the Chiefs face Southwestern and Bay City Central on the road and Flint Central at home in league games.

In the only other SVC game tomorrow night, Midland plays at BC Central. Flint Southwestern entertains BC Handy Saturday night. On the nonconference slate tomorrow evening, Flint Central is at Flint Northwestern and Saginaw Arthur Hill plays host to Douglas MacArthur.

The Chiefs are a slight favorite to hand Saginaw its third setback of the season.

PCH has a solid ground game built around fullback Bennie Williams, halfbacks Bruce Turpin and Hardiman Jones and quarterback Lee White.

White's also an able passer and he has a good receiver in Walter Terry, who has caught two touchdown passes.

After dropping their first two games, the Trojans have come on to whip Bay City Handy, 48-0, and city rival Douglas MacArthur, 27-6.

Saginaw has been relatively easy prey for the Chiefs in the past 14 games. During that span, PCH has posted a 14-4 won-lost record.

Baseball Aide Joins Yankees

NEW YORK (AP) — Lee MacPhail, former president and general manager of the Baltimore Orioles and more recently administrative assistant to Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert, was named executive vice president and general manager of the New York Yankees for the next three years today.

He will replace Dan Topping Jr., the acting general manager since last May, on Dec. 3. MacPhail will receive about $65,000 annually in his new position. His salary with the Commissioner's office was estimated at $40,000. He joined Eckert's staff last November.

LION BOOTER — Garo Sarkis Yepremian, 22-year-old Cypriot, who never saw a football game until four months ago on TV, signed a contract with the Detroit Lions it was learned this morning.

Soccer Style Booter Is Signed by Lions

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The Detroit Lions today signed a 22-year-old Cypriot, Garo Sarkis Yepremian, who is a left-footed soccer style kicker.

Yepremian, who stands only 5-8 and weighs 165 pounds, had never seen a football game until four months ago on TV, when he came to this country hoping to enter Butler University in Indianapolis.

Garo, who never received a high school diploma because of the conflict between the Turks and Greeks on the Island of Cyprus, speaks Armenian, Greek, Turkish and English.

Four months ago, his brother, Kriker Yepremian, Indiana University's soccer captain in 1963 sent for Garo.

Unsuccessful in getting into Indiana University because of the high school diploma factor, Kriker started showing Garo how to kick a football and he started working out with the Butler University team.

But again the entry problem came up and he was unable to gain admittance to the school, but Butler coach Bill Sylvester said he was impressed with Garo's booming kicks.

Atlanta Falcons' coach Norb Hecker gave Garo a trial this week and said, "he's not big but he was consistently knocking them in from 55 yards in practice.

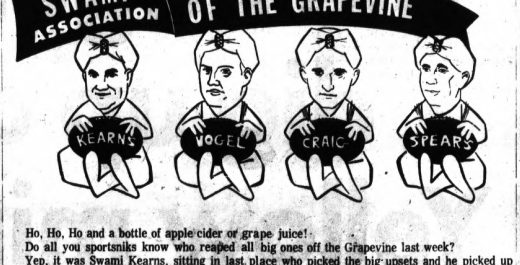

FALCONS' TRYOUT

Before Hecker had a chance to "take another look at him" as he wanted, Garo signed with the Lions and Hecker said, "We were interested but couldn't offer him what Detroit did."

At Butler, the coach said Garo was successfully splitting the uprights from the opposite 45, which on a college field would be a 65-yard kick. He was called "better than the Gogolaks" comparing Garo with the Hungarian kickers Pete and Charley now in pro football.

The Lions said his signing was conditional and that they will seek U. S. government approval of a temporary work permit and possibly letting him kick Sunday against the Baltimore Colts.

Personnel director Russ Thomas said this morning that Garo signed last night and returned to Indianapolis to gether his belongings and would be with the squad possibly this afternoon.

Ho, Ho, Ho and a bottle of apple cider or grape juice!

Do all you sportsniks know who reaped all big ones off the Grapevine last week?

Yep, it was Swami Kearns, sitting in last place who picked the big upsets and he picked up seven games on Swami Vogel and four on our leader Swami Craig.

His big pick was Chicago over the Baltimore Colts.

Harold Lucas Happy as Industrial Scrub

DETROIT (UPI) — Right now, Harold Lucas, the Michigan State all-America and wayward No. 3 draft choice of the St. Louis football Cardinals, is about the happiest steel worker in Detroit.

But the football that got into his blood last fall on the national champion Michigan State Spartans may lure him back to the big game, the bright lights and fat paychecks.

"I wouldn't quite say my football days are over," said the 6-foot-3, 286-pounder.

THINKING FOOTBALL

He doesn't make a bold-faced confession that he'd like to get back into football but the 22-year-old gridiron giant hesitantly admits, "I've been thinking about it."

"You don't have to tell everybody exactly what you're doing all the time," he said. "But you make your own plans. I know what I'm doing."

What Lucas is doing now, instead of trying to make the grade in the National Football League, is trying to make the grade with a Detroit steel corporation.

His pay, less than $3 an hour, is considerably less than the $300,000 football contract he spurned, and he's still a scrub in the steel mill.

★ ★ ★

Lucas strolled out of the St. Louis training camp last summer after just eight days of training. He said football was no longer fun. It had become just a job and he wanted to get out.

If he should decide to return for a shot at pro ball, he doesn't know where he'd play.

"All I know is that after I left, they put me on waivers. But nobody said they wanted me, so I don't know what that means.

"I did receive a couple phone calls while I was at home but I more or less said I wasn't really interested in playing at that time."

Pontiac Player Squash Champ

Detroit's Uptown Athletic Club doesn't believe in rushing through a squash tournament.

Last night Pontiac jeweler Glenn Whitcroft defeated Milton White of Detroit — 15-12, 15-11, 15-18, 18-14 — to take the club's 1965-66 championship and its Yellow Diamond Summer Tournament title.

Due to injuries, business commitments and the change from winter to summer equipment, Whitcroft and Dr. White hadn't played their finals match from last spring's club championship.

They reached the finals of the summer tournament and after some delay, consented to playing both finals in one match using the winter equipment.

In all, 198 entered the six divisions of the club tournament. Whitcroft is the present Western U.S. Veterans champion. The immediate past president of the Pontiac Optimists, he is a two-time state doubles champ and former table tennis titlist.

Maple Leafs Fall to Quebec Squad

QUEBEC (AP) — The Quebec Aces of the American Hockey League defeated the Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League 3-2 Wednesday night in an exhibition before 5,176.

Dave Keon and Brian Conacher, with goals in the first period, scored for the Leafs. Wayne Hicks, Bob Rivard and Jean-Guy Gendron got the Aces' goals.

Goalie Garry Bauman made 40 saves in the Aces' net, including 14 in the third period. Terry who took turns in tending Toronto's goal, blocked 28 shots.

Hoople Gloats Over Three Upset Choices

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Fabulous Forecaster

Egad, friends, your deluge of congratulatory telegrams was embarrassing to a man possessed of my inherent modesty —hak-kaff!

Nevertheless it was heart-warming to hear from so many of you, especially following a weekend that saw most of the collegiate football experts reduced to the status of rotten-eggsperts—heh-heh!

★ ★ ★

However, veteran followers of the Hoople System know there was nothing unusual about my correctly forecasting the colossal upset of Arkansas by Baylor, the Oklahoma triumph over favored Texas, or the Illinois 10-9 comeback victory over Ohio State—Har-rumph!

Incidentally, in the latter game, the final score was only two points away from our 10-7 forecast. (Ed. Note: Look out, Puffy, you'll explode.)

As a token of my appreciation for your complimentary messages, I have several goodies for you in this week's forecast.

In the tough Southeastern Conference's headline battle, I predict the Tennessee Vols will deal rugged Alabama its first defeat of the year, 16-14.

At Ann Arbor, in the game which may decide the Big Ten representative in the Rose Bowl, watch for host Michigan to upset Purdue's Boilermakers, 28-20.

Other contests worthy of special note match Notre Dame and North Carolina, and Arkansas and Texas. Watch for well-rested North Carolina to give the Irish a stiff battle before succumbing, 25-22.

The Arkansas Razorbacks will resume their winning ways with a hard-fought, 19-12 victory over Texas.

WEDNESDAY'S FIGHTS
By The Associated Press
NEW YORK—Genaro Soto, 138, Puerto Rico, outpointed Roscoe Gregory, 140½, New York, 8.

Hayes, Bucks Awaiting MSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Woody Hayes has the knack of getting his football team charged up at least once a year for that super effort that knocks off giants.

But veteran observers who have seen Ohio State in action figure it will take a small miracle for the Buckeyes to beat No. 1 ranked Michigan State Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The Buckeyes simply do not have the horses to contend with Coach Duffy Daugherty's slick machine.

Still, Hayes, an eternal optimist, probably will come up with something new in a bid to entertain the 84,000 partisan fans expected to watch the Big Ten tussle.

Ohio has been unimpressive this season winning its opener against Texas Christian, 14-0, but then bowing to Washington 38-22 and Illinois last week, 10-9.

Washington literally tore the Buckeye line apart with 413 yards rushing while running up the most points against a Hayes-coached club since 1953.

And Illinois, pushed all over the field by the bigger Bucks, came up with the only touchdown of the game to offset a three field goal performance by Gary Cairns.

★ ★ ★

Standout performers are plentiful and if they could all blend their talents in one unified effort, mighty Michigan State can be had.

TOP PERFORMERS

Top offensive performers are right halfback Bo Rein, a glue-fingered pass received who runs well in the open field and Billy Anders, a fine end who has caught 21 passes for 251 yards and one touchdown. Most of Anders' receptions have been on the spectacular side.

Fullback Paul Hudson is the workhorse of the backfield with 199 yards in 51 carries, almost four yards a crack. And sophomore quarterback Bill Long has shown flashes of brilliance while completing 38 of 59 passes for 382 yards and two touchdowns. Only two of Long's tosses have been intercepted.

Ohio, basically a running team, is a cinch to throw against the defensively tough Spartans. The Bucks are well aware that Michigan State has allowed 46 pass completions for 587 yards.

And Woody remembers last year when that rugged Spartan line checked the Buckeyes with minus 22 yards rushing. Ohio lost that one, 32-7, and trails in the series, 4-2.

Prep Takes Long Route

GREENFIELD, Mass. (AP) — On the day of the great navigator Christopher Columbus, give a thought to the navigation problems of cross-country runner Ed Moriarty, who got to the finish line by bus and car.

Moriarty, from Holyoke High School, took a wrong turn during a run Tuesday over the Greenfield High School course. He ended up in downtown Greenfield in running togs.

Unabashed, he took a bus to Greenfield High School and principal Robert Vail drove him to the finish line.

But by that time the race had been over an hour and coaches and runners from both teams had gone back over the course looking for the stray.

Michigan Set for Purdue Tilt

U. of M. Will Try to Avenge '65 Loss

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — For the Wolverines of Michigan, Saturday's battle with Purdue marks the start of a new football season — one which, incidentally, still has the Rose Bowl within reach.

Michigan's record is a deceiving 2-2. Only one of those losses was a Big Ten setback — at the hands of No. 1 ranked Michigan State, which can't attend the Rose Bowl because it went last year.

"This is a must game for us," said Michigan Coach George Mans, who handles offensive ends. "Our morale is high."

"As far as the team's concerned," said quarterback Dick Vidmer, "this year's season begins Saturday.

"We're still in this thing to go to the Rose Bowl," said linebacker Frank Nunley. "If we beat Purdue, we think Michigan State can beat them, too. We have to win all the rest, though."

STOP BLITZES

After two straight defeats — at the hands of North Carolina and Michigan State — the Wolverines have spent the week building to stop Purdue's Bob Griese.

A year ago, Griese kicked a field goal that gave Purdue a 17-15 nod. His passing ability was no less formidable than now.

★ ★ ★

But Vidmer says the Wolverines played well enough against Michiga State to win if we could have cut our mistakes.

"We sort of helped beat ourselves," Mans said. "We've got to overcome that problem."

"Purdue has about the best pass defense we've played this year," Vidmer said. "We're going to have to play a lot more diversified game than we have so far.

★ ★ ★

"Their defensive line is strong and they've got a well balanced secondary," he said. "But I think we'll be set for them."

Top Scorer, 'M' Receiver Across Line

ANN ARBOR — The nation's leading pass receiver and the top major college scorer will be on opposite sides of the football here Saturday when Michigan plays Purdue.

Jack Clancy of Michigan leads the nation's pass catchers with 35 receptions good for 479 yards.

★ ★ ★

Purdue sophomore Perry Williams, who is supposed to be a defensive back, is the leading scorer. He has crossed the goal line nine times for 54 points.

★ ★ ★

Clancy is one of the few receivers to lead at this stage of the season and still not have scored a touchdown.

★ ★ ★

Williams was originally recruited as a defensive back and played exclusively on defense for the Purdue freshmen last year. He is an offensive halfback this fall.

Yellow Pages

The Rogulas dig up a Yellow mine!

Steve and Michael Rogula, Managers, Continental Motel, Dearborn

Steve and Michael Rogula, Managers of the Continental Motel in Dearborn, write: "We began to get results from our Yellow Pages advertising even before we were open for business. The only place the telephone number was listed was in the Yellow Pages. At least six calls a day came in, which proves to us conclusively the effectiveness of our Yellow Pages advertising."

You may call it a yellow mine or a gold mine or whatever. The point is that the Yellow Pages is an advertising medium that brings results. The Rogula brothers' story is typical. The fact is, 20% of all the people who looked for motels, hotels, camps and resorts in Michigan during a 12-month period consulted the Yellow Pages before making a selection. And 94% took action.* The figures are even higher in many other businesses.

Make sure your Yellow Pages advertising tells these ready-to-act prospects enough about you to make them your customers. Call 883-9900 today—Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

In W-O League Race

Another Challenger Testing Hills

Bloomfield Hills will have an opportunity Friday afternoon to discourage one more pretender to its Wayne-Oakland League football crown.

The Barons will entertain Clarenceville's surprising Trojans in a 3:30 p.m. tilt on the Hills' field. The Barons have rolled over all the opposition to date in defending their title.

Clarenceville, Northville and West Bloomfield are the serious challengers remaining, each having 2-1 records for second place in the race.

West Bloomfield will play host to Holly and Northville will visit Clarkston. Both the Lakers and Mustangs are picked to win, but Clarkston could prove a difficult hurdle.

Clarenceville has shed its doormat label of previous W-O campaigns. Speedy Mike Nye has put sting in the attack.

But Bloomfield Hills has plenty of offense, too, featuring perhaps the area's outstanding inside-outside combination in driving fullback Randy DeArment and fleet halfback Dick Kraatz. They have combined for 15 touchdowns.

* * *

Quarterback Bob Calhoun has a hand in two or three touchdowns per game. The Barons have compiled 169 points in four games. Tom Kuzma is a key receiver, blocker and punter for them.

West Bloomfield must rebound after a loss at Northville to retain its title aspirations. The Lakers' reliable offense stalled last week, but figures to be revived for once-victorious Holly.

Homecoming celebrations are planned for both the West Bloomfield and Clarkston gridirons. The Wolves' fans may enjoy theirs if Dan Fife and Tom Allen are able to return to the lineup.

Milford will have its homecoming against Brighton and has hopes of cracking the win column despite its inexperience.

OAKLAND A

The Oakland A League will have its action concentrated away from Pontiac. Pacesetting Fitzgerald and Madison will meet Warren Cousino and Lake Orion, and are heavy favorites to stay unbeaten.

Avondale will attempt to hand Clawson a second straight surprise loss; while Rochester will be wary of an upset when it ventures into Troy.

Troy spilled unsuspecting Clawson at home last week and now would like to Clip the Falcons' wings on homecoming night.

* * *

Avondale may also benefit from scouting Troy's handling of Clawson's Larry Pinchback, a talented quarterback. It will be homecoming for the Trojans, also.

HILLS' HOPE — Elusive, quick-starting halfback Dick Kraatz plays an important role in the Bloomfield Hills' grid success story both offensively and defensively. He has scored nine times this season.

Madison Speedster Takes Scoring Lead

A speedy senior from Madison has moved into the top spot in the Oakland County scoring race.

Greg Keller, a 190-pound fullback, scored 25 points last week as Madison trimmed Warren Cousino, raising his season total to 62 points.

Cliff LaFond of Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows holds down third with 58 marker.

In the Saginaw Valley Conference scoring race, Kennon Murphy of Bay City Central continues to set the pace.

LEADER BLANKED

Murphy was blanked last week as BCC was losing to Saginaw Arthur Hill, but his 42 points keeps him in front, three points ahead of teammate Mike Smith, who scored all 25 points in the BCC setback.

Gordon Schwartz of Utica owns a three-touchdown lead among the area scorers.

Schwartz has tallied 10 TDs for 60 points. Holding second are Glen Riley of East Detroit and Mickey Thiry of L'Anse Creuse.

Ypsilanti Offers Challenge to Arrows' Top Spot in MFL

The Ypsilanti Vikings take a lot of pride in their defensive squad, which is considered one of the best in the Midwest Football League.

The Vikings are big and quick and proud. They have the best pass rush in the league. Any of the opposing quarterbacks will tell you that.

Coming up is the biggest test of the season for the Ypsilanti defenders. They meet Pontiac's Arrows at Willow Run High School field Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

The Arrows will take the highest scoring team in the league to Willow Run, along with several of the leaders in individual statistics.

* * *

In six games, the Arrows have averaged 28.6 points a game, a little better than the Vikings' 20.0 mark.

BIG TASKS

The big tasks for the Vikings will be trying to stop the league's leading scorer and one of the loop's best passing combinations.

* * *

Jim Johnson, the Arrows 190-pound fleet halfback, has scored nine touchdowns for 54 points to lead the league in the scoring race and he has picked off 16 passes for 314 yards to rank fourth in that category.

Quarterback Tom Myers, who came to the Arrows from the Detroit Lions, has connected on 44 of 92 passes for 524 yards and nine touchdowns and holds down the No. 2 spot in league passing.

Myers' favorite receiver is Tony Odneal, a 218-pound product of Mississippi Industrial College, who has picked off 21 tosses for 343 yards and five touchdowns.

* * *

Odneal, who also sees action at defensive end, is second in the receiving department to Lansing's Jim Stewart, who has hauled in 23 tosses for 378 yards.

TOP RUSHER

Chuck Malloy of Dayton has collected 247 yards rushing to top that department, while teammate Pete Mikolajewski is setting the pace among the quarterbacks with 63 completions in 156 attempts for 877 yards and 13 TDs.

* * *

Jesse Parrish, a 170-pound defensive back for the Arrows, has picked off six passes for lead the loop in interceptions. Dayton's Al Thorto is second with five, while Roy Kornnenberg of Dayton and Jim Kearney of Ypsilanti share the third spot with four apiece.

More Ducats for Ypsi Tilt

More tickets for the Pontiac Arrows game at Ypsilanti will be available at Osmun's and Griff's Grill downtown. Both places ran out of tickets yesterday.

A bus trip is being planned for the game Saturday night. Two buses have already been filled and a third will be arranged if enough sign up for it.

The total price is $5.00 and reservations can be made by calling Don Frayer at FE 2-9204.

Avon Harrier Finishes 5th

Avondale's best was a fifth place by Tim Haney who ran a 10:59 yesterday as the Yellow Jackets dropped a 16-43 verdict to Clawson in Oakland A League cross country.

Avondale is now 0-4 in its first season of harrier competition. Bob Monroe of Clawson ran the course in 10:02 to win.

French Rider World Champ With Jumpers

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Olympic champion Pierre Jonqueres D'Oriola of France won the world horse jumping championship Wednesday with top handling of two difficult horses.

Spanish Marquis Jose Alvarez de Bohorquez was second. Former world champion Capt. Raymondo D'Inzeo of Italy finished third and Brazil's Nelson Pessoa, the European champion, fourth.

At Little Olympics

U.S., Russia in Diving Duel

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The main confrontation between Russia and the United States in the Little Olympics comes this week on the diving boards.

★ ★ ★

"The Soviets came over determined to win the diving," said Harry Hainsworth, swimming director for the U.S. Amateur Athletic Union. "They are good and, if we aern't careful, they just might do it."

Swimming and diving began today at the Zacatenco Pool. The blue ribbon track and field competition doesn't start until next Tuesday.

Diving is an event which traditionally has been Uncle Sam's private property in the Olympics, but the Russians have come up fast in style off both the springboard and the platform.

Their chief hopes in the Little Olympics are Natalia Kusnetsova, a 19-year old student who won the women's platform title in the European Championships, and Mikhail Safanov, Europe's springboard men's champion.

There are two other formidable girl divers — Vera Baklanova, winner of Europe's springboard event, and Alena Anohina, silver medalist in the 1964 Tokyo games.

STOUT TEAM

The United States will depend upon a stout team of national champions.

Sue Gossick of Tarzana, Calif., finished fourth in the springboard at Tokyo. Shirley Teeples of Compton, Calif., is national platform champion and Joel O'Connell of Sunnyvale, Calif., won the U.S. crown off the one-meter board, not contested here.

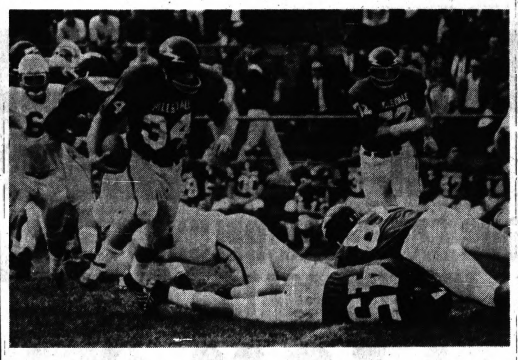

★ ★ ★

Opposing Safanov in the men's diving will be Bernie Wrightson of Tucson, Ariz., U.S. outdoor champion in 1965, and Keith Russell of Mesa, Ariz., a last-minute replacement for the ailing Richard Gilbert of Lancaster, Pa.

The Russians have only one Olympic gold medalist on their track team-Romuald Kilm, who threw the hammer 228-9½, but they will be represented with strong, promising youngsters in other events.

Klim's rival will be Ed Burke of Los Angeles, a member of the 1964 Olympic team.

The Americans will have Al Oerter, three-time Olympic champion, throwing the discus; Ralph Boston, world record-setter in the broad jump; Bob Seargren, the 17-5½ pole vaulter, and world sprint champion Tommie Smith on its track and field squad.

SPARKS HILLSDALE — Fullback Mel Patterson (34) former Kettering High School star, is shown here lugging the ball for Hillsdale in a recent game against N. E. Missouri State. The 214-pound speedster, in his second year as a starter, will be in the lineup when the Dales entertain Central Michigan Saturday.

Veteran Goalie Quitting Pros

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Goalie Marcel Pelletier, a veteran of 16 years in professional ice hockey, has quit the Los Angeles Blades and will seek reinstatement as an amateur.

★ ★ ★

Pelletier, 39, played for the Blades in 1961-62 and last season, and for the Chicago Black Hawks and New York Rangers in the National Hockey League and Baltimore in the American Hockey League.

LA's West Sidelined

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Guard Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers will miss his team's National Basketball Assn. opener Saturday at Baltimore because of a torn ligament.

Floyd Leads Sahara Golf

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) —The $100,000 Sahara Invitational Golf Tournament swung into the second round Thursday with several intriguing possibilities.

Could Ray Floyd, the first-round leader, hang onto it with his first round three - under-par 68?

Could the more celebrated Bill Casper, Jack Nicklaus or Arnold Palmer break par in quest of the $20,000 first prize?

Can Casper go on to win the event twice in a row?

Would the gusty desert winds continue?

Would another dark horse hog the scene?

So it was as play resumed over the par-36-35—71 Paradise Valley Country Club course and its 7,069 yards of golfing real estate.

The weatherman predicted winds of 25-30 miles per hour all day. The big breeze blew only the last part of the first round Wednesday.

Floyd, an early starter yesterday, had no complaints. He had six birdies and three bogies in his first competition since the Cleveland Open in August.

"I just needed to get away from golf," said the man from Fayetteville, N.C. "I had just lost interest after Cleveland and needed a rest. I feel like playing now."

Punt, Pass, Kick Finals Set Tonight

The finals of the Pontiac Punt, Pass and Kick competition are 6:30 tonight at Wisner Stadium.

The 300 finalists were determined from an original field of more than 1,000 in the competition cosponsored by the city Optimist and McAuliffe Ford.

"Dink" Welden and Tom Kennedy are the contest directors and have been aided by various local high school football players throughout the eliminations.

Tonight's winners in each division (8-13 years of age) and their parents will be feted at the Oct. 20 Optimist Club luncheon at the Elks Temple.

Fords Take Front Row '500' Posts

CHARLOTTE (AP) "Those Ford boys are hungry." It has been a long time between paychecks, and they're out for bread and butter."

That was the way one veteran stock car racing official summed it up Wednesday after ace drivers Fred Lorenzen and Gordon Johncock teamed in new Ford Fairlanes to win both front row spots for Sunday's National 500, a $75,000 event that normally doesn't claim the attention in the auto racing world that it is now getting.

TESTING GROUNDS

The National 500 and the American 500 at Rockingham Oct. 30, are said to be the testing grounds from which a decision will come later from Dearborn.

And, most sources believe, Chrysler Corp. is looking across the fence to see what Ford comes up with for next year before deciding its own future in the sport.

Johncock, a 24-year-old Hastings, Mich., driver, finished fourth at Indianapolis Memorial Day. Other drivers in the Dearborn stable are A. J. Foyt, two-time Indianapolis winner; Cale Yarborough; Dick Hutcherson and Darel Dieringer.

Pistons Tumble to Chicago Five

KOKOMO, Ind. (AP) — The rallying Chicago Bulls outscored Detroit 46-13 in the third quarter to post a 113-99 National Basketball Association exhibition victory Wednesday night.

Paced by Guy Rodgers, Don Kojis and Bob Boozer, who combined to notch 39 of the Bulls' third quarter total, Chicago rallied from a 52-36 halftime deficit to rack up its sixth games.

★ ★ ★

Detroit, 9-6 for the exhibition season, opens the regular NBA season at Cincinnati Saturday.

Kojis, lost to the Bulls by the Pistons in the NBA expansion draft, tallied 25 points to lead all scorers. Rodgers picked up 17 points and added 13 assists.

MONTREAL (AP) — George Chuvalo, Canadian heavyweight champion from Toronto, scored a fifth-round technical knockout Wednesday night over Dick Wipperman of Buffalo, N.Y., in a scheduled 10-rounder.

Aboard Cargo Plane

Close Call for Top Pacer

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — One of two horses involved in a near-collision between a cargo plane and a jet airliner near Buffalo, N.Y., was identified Wednesday as Bret Hanover, world's fastest trotter.

Trainer Frank Ervin identified the other horse as True Duane, who set a two-heat record of 3:45 1-5 at the recent Lexington Trots Association meeting here.

Bret Hanover, the world's leading money winning harness horse set a world record for a mile trotting of 1:53 3-5 at the same meeting.

★ ★ ★

A report from the Federal Aviation Agency said a cargo plane carrying the horses en route from Lexington to Montreal almost collided with a 73-passenger jet near Buffalo Monday.

Oakland College Harriers Running Along Unbeaten

Oakland Community College's Highland Lakes campus cross-country team ran its winning streak to eight yesterday with a triangular triumph over Henry Ford and OCC Auburn Hills campus.

Highland Lakes took five of the first seven places to total 21 points, Henry Ford (36) placed second and Auburn Hills (89) last.

Henry Ford's William McClarren won the event with a time of 16:05 over the three-mile course.

Dave Johnson ran second for Highland Lakes, followed by teammates Bill Hollis (third), Don Balkwell (fourth), Dave Kay (fifth) and Nick Ochoa (seventh).

Bruce Gibson ran 13th for the Auburn Hills squad.

Negotiations Aimed at Averting GE Strike Continue in Pessimistic Atmosphere

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiations aimed at averting a General Electric Co. strike continue today in a pessimistic atmosphere. The talks were described by a special White House mediation panel as "dead center."

About 125,000 members of 11 unions are threatening to strike the huge company at 12:01 a.m. Monday.

★ ★ ★

The government has been making a major effort to avert the strike, claiming the firm's production is vital to the U.S. war effort in Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

The company made a new offer Wednesday which Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor described as a "slight improvement." The unions rejected it.

'INSIGNIFICANT'

Paul Jennings, president of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, which represents 80,000 workers in the contract dispute, called the new company offer "insignificant."

The new offer was made at the first joint negotiating session since shortly after President Johnson won a two-week strike postponement and moved the talks here from New York.

Relations between the two sides were extremely touchy.

AFL-CIO President George Meany called a meeting for Friday of the chief officers of the 11 unions to map strike plans which Meany said would be supported by all 129 unions embracing 13.5 million workers in the labor federation.

★ ★ ★

Johnson reportedly was prepared to delay any strike for 80 days with a Taft-Hartley Act injunction to keep General Electric's defense plants operating.

Neutron Effect on Cancer Eyed

Britons Call Device '50-50 Bet' for Cure

LONDON (AP) — A group of British scientists is working on a new radiation machine, using neutral beams, which a spokesman said today "looks like a 50-50 bet" to cure cancer.

Scientists at the electronics research laboratory at Baldock in Hertfordshire, say they believe their idea will prove more effective than X rays in treating many forms of cancer.

★ ★ ★

James D. L. H. Wood, heading the project, said: "We cannot say definitely whether it will be a cure yet, but it looks like a 50-50 bet. It will take about three years to develop a neutron generating tube with the high-power output required."

The scientists expect to have a machine compact enough to install in an ordinary radiotherapy treatment room.

ATTACK CANCER

Wood said they are using nuclear reaction characteristics of hydrogen bombs to attack cancer with beams of high-energy neutrons. The beams are produced in a vacuum tube, part metal and part glass. The neutron generator will be encased in 14 inches of steel with a small opening for the neutron beam.

Wood said high-power output was needed so treatment could be cut to a few minutes, the maximum time tolerable to a conscious patient.

The first use of the neutron to attack tumors was with a massive and costly cyclotron at London's Hammersmith Hospital where it was found that tumors deficient in oxygen because of poor blood supply were less susceptible to X-ray treatment.

Scientists said radiation from fast neutrons is much less dependent on oxygen tension. They say the advantage of neutron treatment is that conventional radiotherapy works best on actively dividing cells. In the middle of a large cancer, the blood supply may be inadequate for cells to divide actively.

S. Viet Split Stalled Until After Manila

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The simmering crisis in Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's Cabinet appeared today to have been pushed into the background until after the Manila summit conference on Viet Nam.

Evidence of this grew out of a series of conciliation meetings in the past few days between dissident ministers from the southern provinces and Ky, informed sources reported.

Foreign Minister Tran Van Do, 62, acted as go-between in easing the Cabinet crisis.

The revolt by southern Cabinet members six of whom wanted to quit — confronted Ky less than two weeks before the Manila conference. The Vietnamese premier urged the dissenters to submerge their complaints and present a united front before their Southeast Asian neighbors.

NO STATEMENTS

The sources said the ministers agreed to issue no public statements but insisted that their resignations remain on Ky's desk. Ky told them he would not accept the resignations at this time.

Deputy Premier Nguyen Luu Vien and the ministers for youth, education, public works and agriculture submitted their resignations several days ago in protest against the dominant roles in the government of natives of North Viet Nam and the northern provinces of South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Finance Minister Au Truong Thanh who is out of the country on business promised to quit when he returned, it was understood.

Trade Week's Heaviest

Stock Mart Remains Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — A turbulent stock market remained higher early this afternoon despite profit taking. Trading was the week's heaviest.

The ticker tape ran late as stocks pushed their recovery drive into the fourth straight session.

Many early gains were either pared or canceled. Losses of fractions to a point were spotted among gains that ran as much as 3 points or higher among glamor issues.

The follow through from yesterday's rally was linked with hopes that this time the great stock market slide of 1966 had found a bottom.

Analysts said, however, that last week's low would have to be "texted" before there would be any firm basis for such theory.

★ ★ ★

Statements from Washington minimizing the likelihood of price and wage controls because of the Viet Nam war powered the major portion of yesterday's big rally.

AVERAGES UP

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.68 at 782.85. The average backed away from a rise of 7.18 in the first hour.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.9 at 282.3 with industrials up 2.4, rails up 1.2 and utilities up 1.1.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were higher in heavy trading.

Bronson Target of Judge's Ire

Defense Lawyer Sides With the Prosecutor

Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson today was bombarded with criticism from Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn for what the judge claims is a deliberate delay in pursuing a controversial burglary case.

Arguments on a motion to dismiss the case against Harvey (Raffles of Hollywood) Allen of Oak Park and Charles Fields of Detroit were to be heard yesterday, but neither the assistant prosecutor handling the case nor the defense attorney appeared, said Thorburn.

The defense attorney, Carlton Roeser of Pontiac, said this morning that Bronson was not to blame since it was agreed on the record Monday that the hearing would be adjourned from yesterday to Monday.

Roeser said that the judge was not present at the time since he had to attend a memorial service, but according to his clerk, the judge had said he would agree to any stipulation.

"It isn't true," said Thorburn. "A clerk cannot adjourn a case. "I'll have' to dismiss the case if they don't get into court."

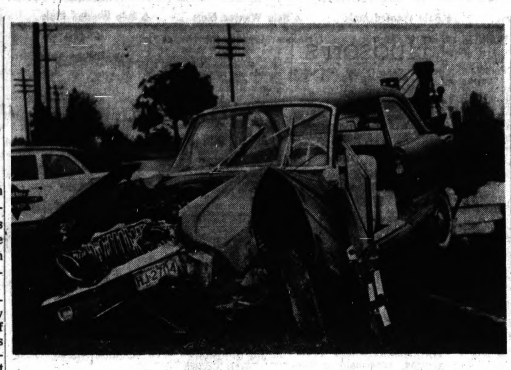

Bronson said he was "appaled" at the attacks made on him and his office by Thorburn. "As chief law enforcement officer of this county I have strenuously disagreed with Judge Thorburn discharging of this case."

Thorburn tossed the case out of court in declaring a mistrial against the two men last month on the basis that the charges against them were not defined. Renewed charges were made a week later and the pair arraigned again.

"A possibility exists that these men might be freed because of these erroneous rulings of this judge," said Bronson.

★ ★ ★

"The so-called delay yesterday was done openly and on the record, he added." "The reason for agreeing to the adjournment was because the assistant familiar with the case was in California on a contested extradition."

Lynda Bird Seen Flying to Munich to Join Beau

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Lynda Bird Johnson's friends prophesy that she'll follow George Hamilton to Munich in a couple of weeks (he departed over the week-end on a carpet of her tears). That'd increase the likelihood they're on the Merge Verge.

WILSON

Funny proof of Lynda Bird's devotion the other night: While already watching George film a movie "The Jack of Diamonds" in an apartment building at 77th and York, she wanted to break in and see George on the Milton Berle TV show. A friend went to some 15 apartments and asked to borrow a TV set for Lynda Bird to watch George. The tenants either didn't care, didn't believe it, or thought somebody was just trying to steal their TV set — until Mrs. Martin Goodfriend opened her door. Mrs. Goodfriend was a real goodfriend and lent Lynda Bird her set. Anyway, in Broadway language, that's "being hung on a guy."

★ ★ ★

Irving Berlin gave Irving Hoffman a fresh-caught trout for his dinner. Hoffman was carrying the trout when a friend invited him to dine at the Voisin. Hoffman ate chicken pie and left the trout in the checkroom — first time, so far as is known that Voisin's fancy cloakroom has been used to check a fish.

Top "family" picture magazines want to "go nude." Singer Fran Jeffries'll be nude in one, excuse being "she was aerial-photographed by a new super camera in infrared light reflected from her own body heat waves at Miami Beach's Eden Roc Hotel Solarium" . . . Singer Petula Clark bought a Rolls — and drives it barefoot.

Kiwanis Schedules Annual Film Series

Photography of distant lands from Peru to the Balkans — and a bit of the United States — is part of the Travel and Adventure Series presented annually by the Downtown Kiwanis Club.

Seven noted adventurers will show their films while offering narrative travelogues on various Tuesday nights from Oct. 25 through next April 4.

Season tickets are $5. For further information, contact Curtis Patton, 314 S. Tilden, or any other club member.

Fire Damages Area Home

Fire caused an estimated $11,200 in damage to the Lawrence Sinclair residence at 2960 Mott, Waterford Township, last night.

No one was injured in the blaze. Utilizing three pieces of equipment, fire fighters received the call at 7:49 p.m. and stayed at the scene until 9:35 p.m.

Damage was estimated at $8,000 to the frame building and $3,200 to the contents. The cause is under investigation.

Lower Voting Age Endorsed

Unanimous Approval by County Dem Unit

The Nov. 8 statewide election proposal to lower the voting age to 18 has received endorsement of the Oakland County Democratic Committee.

A movement to gain further support is being led by William T. Roberts of Walled Lake and William Heaton of Pontiac.

Democratic County Chairman George Googasian said the proposal won unanimous approval from members of the committee.

Robert said, "The 18- to 20-year-olds of today are second-class citizens. The 18-year-old is asked to give his life in the service of our country, yet he isn't given a voice in national affairs."

★ ★ ★

"The 18-year-old is asked to pay taxes, yet he doesn't have a say as to how his tax money is spent," said Roberts. "The 18-year-old vote is long overdue."

Republicans gave their support to the 18-year-old vote when they adopted their platform at the state convention in Detroit in August.

Gas Is Blamed for State Blast

PORT HURON (UPI) — Authorities theorize gas accumulation caused the explosion yesterday which destroyed a new medical building and injured two persons.

Dr. Forest Weiskopf, an optometrist and one of two doctors with offices in the building, received first-, second- and third-degree burns to his hands and face.

Frank Jehl, 44, a telephone repairman, suffered first-, second- and third-degree burns to the face. He was also cut on the head by a flying brick.

Neither man was injured seriously.

The clinic was scheduled to open Friday.

Half of the building is still standing, but authorities report everything is a total loss.

Church Accepts Pike Resignation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Episcopal Diocese of California has accepted James A. Pike's resignation as auxiliary bishop as the controversial clergyman prepares to face heresy charges.

★ ★ ★

The most outspoken of Pike's critics, Episcopal Bishop Henry I. Louttit of South Florida, says that the resignation is only "a step in the right direction.

★ ★ ★

"What we want is for him to resign the episcopate. The common word is unfrocked," Bishop Louttit added.

Local GI to Be on News Show

A Pontiac serviceman, Pfc. William J. McLauchlin, is scheduled to appear on the Huntley-Brinkley news program at 6:30 p.m. today on Channel 4. He will be one of four servicemen from Fort Hood, Tex. on the program.

★ ★ ★

By City Police

Strike Possibility Eyed

The Pontiac Police Officers Association (PPOA) last night directed its leaders to obtain a legal opinion on the right of the association to strike against the city.

Sgt. Herbert C. Cooley, PPOA president, said counsel would be sought on legal consequences of a strike because at present the PPOA has no contract with the city.

The association did not reach agreement with the city during wage negotiations last fall and winter.

A $349 pay raise was implemented by the city following the bargaining talks, but formal agreement with the association was never reached.

Although prohibited from striking by the Hutchinson Act, public employes under an amendment to the act are not necessarily subject to dismissal if they do walk out.

Cooley said a PPOA strike as a consequence of the present wage impasse with the city was being explored only as a "possibility."

Marine to Get Medal; Gave His to Dead Pal

★ ★ ★

Klein, of Grand Rapids, lost a leg in Viet Nam and was awarded the Purple Heart.

His prewar friend, John Edgerly, 21, also a Marine, was on guard duty when he was struck by lightning and killed. He was buried in Dowagiac last month.

Klein, now convalescing in Great Lakes Hospital, attended the funeral and placed his Purple Heart in the coffin of his friend.

★ ★ ★

"Anyone who has guts enough to fight in Viet Nam deserves a medal. If he gets killed, no matter how, he should be recognized," Klein said.

RECEIVES LETTERS

President Johnson, in a letter to Klein said he received many letters from the battlefield and from families of fighting men, but "of them all, few have touched me more than those telling of your heroism and great sacrifice.

"They were written by your friends and some were written by Americans who had only read about your gallantry—but who admired you enough to want to share their admiration with their President.

"I am proud to join them in saluting not only your courage but your compassion," the letter continued.

"To give your Purple Heart, earned at a great personal cost, to your close friend and fellow Marine is an act of rare sympathy and significance.

"I believe you have helped advance the day when all men will care for their fellows as deeply as you did for John Edgerly . . .

"You have also given your President great personal comfort and encouragement. It is a small thing to give in return, but Mrs. Johnson and I felt that you should have your Purple Heart restored."

The letter was signed "LBJ" in longhand.

Pontiac Man Linked to 2nd Bank Holdup

A Pontiac man currently in federal prison was named by authorities in Ohio today as one of two bandits who robbed a Warren, Ohio, bank of $68,000 about a year ago.

Rentz Nicholson Jr., 32, behind bars for the holdup of the Pontiac State Bank branch in Bloomfield Hills last December, was linked to the Ohio robbery by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI).

★ ★ ★

Charged with Nicholson, and arraigned yesterday before a U.S. Commissioner in Youngstown, Ohio, was Ernest Holt, formerly of Cleveland.

FBI agents said a detainer has been placed on Nicholson at the federal penitentiary in Terre Haute, Ind., where he is serving a 15-year sentence.

Deaths from cancer among life insurance policyholders in the United States rose to the highest level in history in 1965. 19.2 per cent of all ordinary life insurance policyholder deaths during 1965 were caused by cancer.

The foregoing is a statement of the accounts of Oakland Schools for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1966. Expenditures reflect the activities of the district in providing special education for handicapped children, for operating a speech clinic, a reading clinic, a psychological center, and a vocational rehabilitation center. It afforded highly qualified professional attention to the academic areas of reading, language arts, mathematics, science, the social studies, and as well dealt with guidance, and most extensively, with educational testing. Operations in the year to come will continue to give emphasis to these fields and their excellent, orderly development throughout the district.

1966 was the first year of collections in special education at the one mill rate. Revenue from this source has been committed to local districts who have claims for thirty-three special education rooms built prior to 1966.

HAVE YOU NOTICED?

These chilly nights are just a warning. Unfortunately, it means winter's just around the corner!

Why try and make it though another winter season with your present automobile when it it is so easy to own a completely "Winterized" used car from Matthew-Hargreaves "OK" Used Car Lot.

Their selection is at its finest and now is the time when you can really save on that first or second car you have always dreamed about.

It's never been easier to deal with MATTHEWS-HARGREAVES, "Your Chevy-Land Headquarters for fine used cars."

Cubans Facing Another Year of Rationed Coffee

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cubans, who like their coffee black and sweet — and lots of it — have been told they must go through another year of rationing.

Havana Radio said Wednesday coffee rationing will end in 1967.

The broadcast, monitored in Miami, said coffee production will increase to about 30 million pounds this year. It added that about 20 million pounds will have to be exported because of the country's need for agriculture equipment, fertilizer and plants. The coffee is used as a down payment.

Cubans now are rationed only 1½ ounces of coffee a week, the broadcast said. Foodstuffs, clothing and shoes have been rationed since 1962.

Latin-American Art Display Set

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — The Museum of Art of the Rhode Island School of Design has established what it calls the first permanent exhibition of modern Latin-American art in the world.

Twenty pieces have been initially purchased for the exhibition which opens Oct. 23.

Beaten, Robbed

DETROIT (AP) — The Rev. Edward C. Simmons, 60, a Ford Motor Co. employe and part-time Baptist minister, was beaten, stabbed and robbed of $78 and a number of household items valued at several thousand dollars by four men who terrorized him for several hours Wednesday, police said. He refused hospital treatment.

Three-fifths of Peru is covered by little-known jungle.
