Oak Park Majorette Chosen Junior Miss

In second place was Marcia Lawton, 18, of 17143 Melrose St., Southfield, and in third place Penny Weaver, 17, of Crosswell.

All the contestants were seniors in Michigan high schools.

The winner is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Shutty, 13708 Wales St. Shutty is a quality control technician for Ford Motor Co.

Sharon had earlier dazzled her audience with a performance that is a specialty in her repertoire of baton tricks.

On a tiny nine-feet-square platform, surrounded by knee-high flames, she went through her paces with two flaming batons.

SINCE SHE WAS 11

"I've been doing it since I was 11," she explains.

Sharon has been winning honors for her twirling since the age of six.

Her first contest—also in Pontiac — resulted in a first prize for her age at seven, and she's been maintaining that fast pace ever since.

In 10 years of competition, she's won more than 250 honors and 120 trophies.

She's proudest of three titles she currently holds—International Senior Baton Twirling Champion, Michigan's Most Beautiful Majorette for 1960 and Miss International Blue Water.

For more than eight years she's been a halftime performer at Briggs Stadium.

She was international novice champion at age six.

At school she's editor of the school newspaper, a debator, member of the Student Council, president of the French Club and, — naturally — head majorette of the Berkley High School Band.

Milk Price Rise Expected Next

'Big 4' Dairies Agree to Pay Half Cent More, Wholesale, Per Quart

A jump in the retail price of milk was expected in the Pontiac area today after dairy farmers and big creameries agreed on terms of a new contract.

The agreement, reached yesterday, averted the threat of a milk strike throughout the Detroit area.

A spokesman for the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. said that the "Big Four" dairies have agreed to an average wholesale price increase of about a half-cent a quart.

One-year contracts containing the increase were expected to be signed today by the Sealtest, Borden's, Wilson and Twin Pines creameries.

It is expected that the companies will pass the increase to consumers this week. Smaller dairies are expected to follow suit.

LAST-MINUTE SETTLEMENT

The MMPA, which represents about 12,000 farmers, had threatened to withhold milk from the dairies starting today. Smaller and medium-sized dairy companies in the Detroit area agreed to the MMPA price demands Friday.

Jack Barnes, general manager of the MMPA, said the half-cent increase would serve as bargaining ammunition in 10 other cities where the MMPA is negotiating with dairies.

"This is a clear-cut victory for us," Barnes said. "It will set the pattern for negotiations in all markets in southern Michigan."

Farmers had asked for continuance during February and March of the present wholesale price of $4.95 a hundred pounds. They said the dairies offered only $4.49.

Barnes said farmers had won the $4.95 price through March. He said it was agreed the price would then drop to about $4.55 from April through July and rise again to about $5.05 for the rest of the year.

Pontiac Sets Speed Mark

Pontiacs also came in second, third and fourth in the record-setting qualifying race for the Feb. 14 National Association of Stock Car Racers 500-mile sweepstakes at the Daytona International Speedway.

The previous high for stock cars over a closed track was set last year by a 1959 Chevrolet Impala. This was 143.198 m.p.h.

Finishing 2-3-4 behind Owens were Jack Smith of Atlanta, Ga., in a 1960 Pontiac Catalina, Bobby Johns of Miami, Fla., in the 1959 Catalina, and Glen (Fireball) Robert of Daytona Beach, in a 1960 Catalina.

Cars in the races are not sponsored by the Pontiac Motor Division, which is included in a manufacturers agreement to de-emphasize horsepower, speed and racing. Most of the cars are driven for auto dealers.

Informed by timers that his 10 laps in the first 25-mile qualifying was the fastest ever driven by a stock car, Owens, a veteran of 14 years of racing, said he didn't "see anything unusual about the ride."

The victory gives Owens the inside position for the big NASCAR race in two weeks.

Beside him will be Smith, who yesterday nosed out Johns in the second 25-mile qualifying event over the same track. Smith, in his 1960 Pontiac, recorded a 148.157 run to clip Johns in his 1959 Catalina. Smith will get the outside pole position Feb. 14.

Finishing third behind Smith and Johns in this race was last year's grand champion NASCAR driver Lee Petty, 44, of Randleman, N. C., in a 1960 Plymouth.

Owens finished second behind Petty in the national standings last year. He also set the fastest qualifying time of 143.190 m.p.h. for the 1959 big race.

Fireman Killed in Truck Mishap

Orion Township volunteer fireman Walter L. Elmy, 31, was killed Saturday night when he fell from a fire truck en route to a fire at 622 Detroit St., in Orion Township.

The accident happened on Heights road at Britton drive about 10 p.m. Fellow firemen said Elmy was changing position from the rear of the truck to the side.

He lost his balance and fell when the truck went around a curve, witnesses told sheriff's deputies. Elmy, the father of three boys and part owner of the Gingellville Service Station, lived at 3366 Pasadena St., Orion Township.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital by Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. Isacc Prevette. Cause was listed as a basal skull fracture, and crushed chest.

Elmy's brother, Gerald, 28, was riding in the cab. Driving was his father-in-law Harold M. Gingell. Neither knew of the accident until reaching the scene of the fire.

The fire caused a total of about $5,000 damage to the two-story frame house occupied by two Lake Orion Community High School teachers, John Bixby and Peter Bailey. They escaped with the clothes they were wearing.

The blaze is believed to have started in a downstairs closet. The upstairs was gutted on the fireman's first run. The Orion department was called back later when the blaze broke out again in the front corner of the building.

Two departments, Orion and Oxford, were first summoned because of the close proximity of the houses on that street.

Temperatures to Top Normal Next Five Days

Although the forecast for Pontiac and vicinity is for colder weather tonight, temperatures for the next five days will average 5-10 degrees above normal for this time of year.

Normal high is 26-32 degrees, normal low 7-18.

Skies will remain cloudy with little day-to-day change. There will be little if any precipitation. But occasional snow flurries are possible near the end of the week.

The low reading on the thermometer is expected to be from 18-25 degrees, rising to a high of 30 to 35 on Tuesday.

This morning in downtown Pontiac, wind velocity was 10-14 m.p.h. from the north-northwest, rising to 36 by 11 a.m. and dropped to 32 by 2 p.m.

Temperatures remained fairly steady over the weekend, with a high of 31, low of 27 on Saturday. Sunday had a high of 29 and a low of 27.

MacArthur Remains in Critical Condition

NEW YORK (AP) — General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, undergoing treatment for a nonmalignant obstruction in the urinary tract, spent a fairly good night but suffered some discomfort, it was reported at Lenox Hill Hospital today.

An Army spokesman Sunday said MacArthur, who last week celebrated his 80th birthday, probably will stay longer at the hospital than the two weeks planned.

The general's condition was described as improving but still serious.

MacArthur, who fought in two world wars and the Korean war, entered the hospital Friday.

To Charge Pair With Murder

McKay and Shirk Feud Over 'Lies' in Vitale Fatal Shooting

Two feuding ex-convicts were to be charged today with first-degree murder in the fatal shooting of hoodlum Carlo Vitale.

Exchanging glaring looks, Gerald R. McKay, 23, and Richard Shirk, 29, were taken by State Police to the West Bloomfield Township Justice court of Elmer C. Dieterle, a few miles from the shallow grave in which Vitale's body was found Jan. 9.

It was expected that the two Detroiters would be held in Oakland County Jail for preliminary examination and trial.

After arraignment, the two were to be returned to Oakland County Jail until a preliminary examination of the charges.

They are accused of shooting Vitale to death in an automobile while driving in the Oakland County area last November.

The charges are based mainly on statements by McKay, who admitted the shooting—police say —but maintained it was triggered by an accident.

Shirk has denied any part in the shooting, according to Det. John Ware of the Detroit Homicide Bureau.

The contradictory stories of the two men apparently have led to

Scientist 'Got the Jitters' but Didn't Panic

Dr. Pauling Rescued From High Cliff

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — "I guess I'll stay off of steep places and avoid climbing for a while," says Dr. Linus Pauling. The controversial Nobel Prize-winning chemist was rescued Sunday after 24 cold, thirsty hours on a high, rugged cliff overlooking the Pacific.

He was unharmed, in high spirits, sleepy — and highly respectful of the danger of straying onto shale-slippery cliffs. It's rugged territory where he was stranded, 80 miles south of Monterey.

Dr. Pauling said a search party had passed him by Saturday night —and he decided to stay put in his nearly hidden aeire until today, if necessary. Beyond that, he hadn't planned.

Pauling had started a walking inspection about his 160-acre ranch Saturday morning. He followed a deer trail, then became stranded on an 80 degree slope facing the ocean.

Halfway up, he felt he had reached a dead end. He was on a small ledge below an overhang. He was on blue shale—so treacherous for walking that it is called greasy. The time was late Saturday morning.

"I got the jitters," Pauling said. "I decided to stay there until I was found."

Dr. Pauling is professor of chemistry at California Institute of Technology at Pasadena.

INSURGENT LEADER BEATEN — Pierre Lagaillarde, one of the major leaders of the revolt in Algeria, is a beaten man. The reserve paratroop lieutenant gave up his rebellion today after the population of Algiers ignored his call to continue the general strike. He marched 300 remnants of his followers out of his stronghold, Algiers University, which he had held for eight days.

Insurgent Chief Turns Self Over to Army Officials

2nd Upstart Boss Flees After Morale-Shattering Military Display

The insurgent irregulars, who resisted French President Charles de Gaulle's policy of self-determination for Algeria, surrendered their downtown barricades to an overwhelming display of army strength.

The Algiers corps commander, Gen. Jean Crepin, announced that insurgent leader Pierre Lagaillarde was "in the hands of the authorities" and that insurgent political chieftain Joseph Ortiz was in flight.

The insurgent band itself will be sent into the fight against the nationalist Algerian rebels, Crepin said.

The French Cabinet granted Gen. Charles de Gaulle full emergency powers and Parliament was summoned into special session tomorrow to ratify the decision.

Delegate General Paul Delouvrier and Gen. Maurice Challe, supreme military commander in Algeria, officially returned to Algiers.

The fiery Lagaillarde was given a military salute as he marched out of the barricades, followed by a haggard band of some 300 irregular troopers.

The rebel remnant climbed into trucks parked near the barricades. They headed in the direction of a little village west of Algiers.

FATE UNKNOWN

It was not immediately known what the French army, which had stuck with De Gaulle, would do with Lagaillarde and his men.

Lagaillarde, a reserve paratroop lieutenant, gave up after the population of Algiers ignored his call for a continuation of the general strike.

Most stores opened for business, and most office workers reported for work.

The other chief leader of the revolt, onetime cafe proprietor Joseph Ortiz, did not come from behind the barricades immediately. But his followers were streaming out.

LaGaillarde still wore his paratroop uniform and carried a French flag as he led his small force from the stronghold.

A French paratroop unit in front of the barricade stood at attention as the insurgents marched solemnly out. As he crossed the square, Lagaillarde exchanged salutes with French officers commanding the troops before the barricades.

The crowd began to cheer and clap for Lagaillard, and there were cries of "Algerie Francaise!" (Algeria is French!)

Somebody started singing the

Rep. Bentley May Reveal Senate Intentions Tonight

From Our News Wires

MIDLAND—Rep. Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso is scheduled to speak here tonight and may announce his plans regarding a try for the GOP nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Bentley, a veteran of eight years in Congress, said in Washington that he expected to make a "personal decision in the next day or two." He announced, "I've said before, that if I don't go for the Senate this time, I probably wouldn't go at all."

Rep. Robert P. Griffin is already being pushed as a Republican candidate to oppose Sen. Patrick McNamara, the Democratic incumbent.

Reverberations from the door that George Romney slammed on his own political aspirations for 1960 today appeared to be opening doors for some of Michigan professional politicians.

ROMNEY OUT

Bentley admitted Romney's withdrawal removed one of the "obstacles—if you want to use that word"—from the possibility that he might seek the Senate seat.

"If drafted, I will not accept and if nominated, I will not run —and that applies to any political office," he told a news conference after the board meeting.

"I consider the public service I can make through Citizens for Michigan more important than being a candidate for public office in 1960.

"I hope this will make it completely clear that I'm not available as a political candidate and I'm not using Citizens for Michigan as a stepping stone to political office."

Previously, Romney had been mentioned as a possible candidate for governor, U.S. senator and vice president—all on the Republican ticket.

He appeared to be giving the possibility of running for the Senate consideration at one time, but he had made political hopefuls throughout the state uneasy.

Russians Fire Second Rocket

Claim It Hit Target Thus Ending Pacific Test Series

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union fired off a second powerful rocket Sunday, hitting the target area in the Pacific and ending the current tests, Tass announced today.

The official news agency said the 44,000 square miles of the mid-Pacific marked off by the Soviet Union Jan. 8 once more is open to planes and shipping.

The first rocket was fired Jan. 20. Moscow announced that it landed little more than a mile off target. The announcement of the second shot did not specify how close it came to the actual target.

The announcement did not give the distance the rocket traveled Sunday. It calculated the first rocket covered a distance of 7,760 miles and missed the target by only 1.24 miles. (The second rocket presumably was launched from the same site, believed to be in the Caspian Sea area).

The announcement said the latest firing had completed the tests of a new rocket intended to launch heavy earth satellites and make space flights to planets of the solar system.

The rocket announcement was made as the top Communist leaders of Soviet-bloc countries gathered in Moscow for a top-level meeting.

Timmy, 4, Naps in Secret Spot; Police Search

While searchers fanned out in the neighborhood, little Timmy Artes snoozed in his secret hideout in the basement of the family home, unaware that he was the subject of a wide search in Waterford Township yesterday.

Timmy's mother, Mrs. Ronald D. Artes, of 3688 Breaker St., Drayton Plains, became worried and called township police after a futile four-hour search for her four-year-old son.

"He has a reputation for getting lost, but not for this long," Mrs. Artes told searchers.

Reinforcements from the state police and sheriff's deputies were called in at 5 p.m. to assist township police, civil defense workers and neighbors in the hope that the boy would be found before dark.

Fear Mine Toll in Japan Is 43

TOKYO (AP)—Rescue workers reported finding the bodies of 25 miners after a gas explosion early today in an ill-fated coal mine in north Japan.

Eighteen other men were were trapped 3,600 feet below the frozen earth. Officials of the mine said they still hoped the men would be found alive, but as the hours went by, fear for them increased.

Nine other men crawled to safety after the first searing blast, and rescuers brought out 10 miners despite a fire licking around the pit where the men were trapped. Only one of the 19 was seriously injured.

The flames burned for nearly four hours, then were checked.

It was the second major disaster at the mine at Yubari, on the northern Japanese island of Hokkaido. A gas explosion killed 160 men there in 1938. The mine is one of the richest owned by the Hokkaido Colliery and Steamship Co.

More than 500 men, women and children surged around the mine entrance, waiting tensely for news. A cry went up as each survivor came to the surface, faces blackened and hair singed.

Meanwhile in Coalbrook, South Africa, the South African Broadcasting Corp. said today all 435 miners trapped for 11 days in the Clydesdale Colliery have been given up for dead.

The broadcast observed one minute's silence after the announcement.

The disaster, worst in South African mining history, occurred Jan. 21, when 429 Africans and 6 whites were trapped more than 500 feet below ground by a massive rockfall.

Railroads Leave U.S. for Strike Insurance

NEW YORK (AP) — The chairman of the Eastern Railroads Presidents' Conference says the railroads have set up an insurance firm in the Bahamas to get strike insurance.

David I. Mackie, conference chairman, said yesterday the railroads went to the Bahamas "where you wouldn't be faced with the necessity of trying to comply with the different laws" in the various states.

He gave no other details about the company or type of insurance. But presumably the insurance would protect the railroads against financial loss in the event of a strike.

The railroads and the rail brotherhoods have been negotiating since Oct. 20 on wage demands and other issues.

The matter now is in arbitration. If this fails a strike vote probably will be taken, a union official said.

what Ware described as "bad blood" between them.

Asked today to pose with McKay for a newspaper photographer, Shirk at first angrily refused.

"I'm not going to be shown with that guy until he tells the truth about me," he said.

Later Shirk consented to the pose, but stipulated: "Just be sure to say I had nothing to do with the killing of that guy."

The slaying was discovered after McKay led police to Vitale's makeshift grave in the Proud Lake Recreation Area of Commerce Township.

Vitale was a suspect in a $3,500 holdup in Detroit that occurred shortly before his death. Police say the holdup and shooting are connected.

Camp Oakland Building Burns

Winter-Mess Hall Loss Estimated at $20,000; Cause Unknown

A large building at Camp Oakland, used primarily as the winter camp mess hall, was destroyed by fire early this morning. Loss was estimated at $20,000 by Camp Director William J. Matus.

The blaze was discovered by the winter camp boys upon arising about 6 a.m. They saw it through their windows and summoned staff member Robert Kelley.

Kelley saw the phone lines were down and had to drive around the lake to call the Oxford Fire Department.

By this time the fire was raging, and the firefighters sought to save the main summer mess hall nearby. It escaped damage.

The building that was destroyed, in addition to being the winter mess hall, also housed an office, kitchen and an equipment storage room that was filled with recreation supplies for summer camp use.

CAUSE UNKNOWN

It was also the summer camp infirmary, Matus said.

Firemen said they were unable to determine cause of the fire but believe it could have been smouldering for most of the night. They said there was paint stored inside that could have ignited at the height of the blaze.

Camp Oakland is located on E. Drahner road near M24 in Oxford Township. There are four projects in operation there. One is the pilot program of work education winter program (revised version of the CCC) for boys who drop out of school.

The others are the Boys' and Girls' ranches for needy children and the summer camp for underprivileged youngsters throughout the county.

The building that was destroyed was built by the Men's Bible Class of the United Presbyterian Church, Drayton Plains, with money from the Hi-Twelve Club of Birmingham and the Royal Oak Rotary Club.

The equipment inside was donated by a large number of service clubs throughout the county.

Oxbow Lake Road Crash Injures 5

Five persons were reported injured early Sunday morning when their car ran off a curve of Oxbow Lake road and smashed into two trees, according to Pontiac State Police.

Two passengers, JoAnne Young, 16, of 1825 Bass Lake Rd., Milford, and James L. Butler, 21, of 2107 Welch Rd., Walled Lake, were taken to Pontiac General Hospital.

Butler was treated and released. Miss Young is listed in fair condition today.

Her brother, Robert, 18, Alice Graybill, 17, of 2526 Oakfield St., Walled Lake, and the driver, Daniel C. Fair, 19, of 2913 Potter Rd., Wixom, suffered minor cuts and bruises, police said.

Community National Bank Leaps to 278th Spot in U. S.

Community National Bank's 1959 deposits of $99,272,525 jumped the Pontiac bank up 28 spots to become the 278th among the 300 largest commercial banks in the United States.

MEMORIAL TO MEMBER — The new Winifred Van Wagoner Room at First Congregational Church was dedicated following the 10:30 a.m. service Sunday by Jacob L. Van Wagoner for family and friends. The Rev. Malcolm K. Burton, pastor, made the acceptance. The 25 by 25 foot room strikes a note of gold and white. Walls are ivory white with gold mural design. Draperies are gold. Upholstered sofas and chairs are covered with materials in shades of gold and beige. Four crystal chandeliers and tall brass table lamps provide the lighting. The dedication plaque at the entrance to the room quotes a verse from Isaiah 30:15: "In quietness and confidence shall be your strength." Mrs. Van Wagoner had served as president of Women's Fellowship and the Pilgrim Group and as a member of the board of deaconesses and the building committee.

Parcel Post Rate Rise Takes Effect

An increase authorized last fall became effective at midnight Sunday, boosting fourth-class rates an average of 17.2 per cent. This covers catalogues as well as parcels.

The higher rates are expected to net the government about 88 million dollars a year and will be used to cut down the deficit on this class of postal service.

Here are some examples of the new rates: A five-pound parcel mailed between Washington and New York now costs 44 instead of 33 cents. A three-pound parcel between Chicago and New York went up from 44 to 55 cents. A six-pound package between Boston and San Diego now costs $1.40 instead of $1.23.

Mayor Rowston 1st in City Race

It is expected that the six other members of the present City Commission also will compete for new terms.

Deadline for entering the primary contest is Feb. 16. There will be primary runoffs in those districts in which there are three or more candidates.

The two municipal judgeships also will be an issue in the primary if there are five or more candidates.

The city's seven commissioners and two judges will be selected by voters in the biennial municipal election April 18.

Congresswoman Trim and Active Practicing Yoga

WASHINGTON (AP) — What helps make Rep. Frances P. Bolton (R-Ohio) about the most energetic and active woman on the public scene?

"If you know anything about me at all," Mrs. Bolton, 74, answered in a radio interview Sunday, you know I have practiced yoga for a great many years—stand on my head and turn somersaults and do a few things like that."

A 48-year-old Auburn Heights man was beaten and robbed of $200 by two bandits early this morning.

Cliff Shaw, 410 Squirrel Rd., told Pontiac Police the two men forced their way into his car at Bagley and Wessen streets at 2 a.m.

MISS CHINATOWN, U. S. A. — Carole Ng (you can pronounce it "Ing") is Miss Chinatown U. S. A. for the new year 4685, welcoming The Year of the Mouse. Carole, 19, and a sophomore at San Francisco State College, was crowned Sunday over 18 other young Chinese-American beauties from all over the United States. Here she poses in San Francisco, site of the crowning, with her jeweled tiara.

Man Strolls Down the Avenue

'Casually' Stabs Six

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — It was a sunny afternoon, unseasonably warm for January. The hordes of shoppers and movie goers bustled along the busy downtown Minneapolis avenue.

Among them walked Kenneth A. Johnson, 36, an unemployed man with a history of mental disorder dating back 18 years.

Johnson casually stabbed six persons he met during a two-block stroll Saturday. The stabbings covered the brief span of about five minutes.

Most of the victims were stabbed in the buttocks. One was knifed in the groin. Three remained hospitalized today, all in poor condition. The others had been treated and released.

"I found myself on Hennepin avenue and all those people were coming at me," Johnson told police. "I thought they were Russians. I stabbed them because we are at war with Russia."

A six-inch steak knife was used on each person. Police said Johnson also carried a butcher knife and a pocket knife—and a sharpener. He didn't say a word to any of the persons he stabbed.

Oliver H. Giebler, 61, was the first. He was waiting for a light to change when Johnson came up behind him.

"All of a sudden I felt something sharp," said Giebler. He felt blood running down his leg, looked up, and saw Johnson walking away rapidly.

Rail Credit Union Re-Elects Morrow

Re-elected vice president was Richard Fox of 244 Pioneer Dr., and re-elected secretary-treasurer, was Ray Crane, of 6411 Williams Lake Rd., Waterford Township.

Re-elected to the board were Jack Deering of 1124 Boston St., Waterford Township, Leo Martell of 85 Dwight Ave., and Edwin Haywood of 452 Linda Vista Dr.

A seventh and new member of the board is Guerdon Artley of 6055 Carroll Lake Rd., Commerce Township, elected for the first time at Saturday's meeting, which was attended by some 145 railroad workers in the Pontiac area.

CFM Meetings Set in Pontiac and Waterford

The Pontiac and Waterford Township chapters of Citizens for Michigan will hold meetings tomorrow night in continued efforts to see what citizens can do to improve state government.

The Pontiac group will hold its meeting at 8 in the Community Services Building, 132 Franklin Blvd. Ross S. Manchester, chairman, urges all interested in the CFM movement to attend.

At the Waterford meeting, scheduled for 8 at the Donelson School, 1200 W. Huron St., members will probe further into the questions of state governmental structure and organization. Constitutional conventions will also be discussed.

Daniel T. Murphy Jr., county clerk-register, will be on hand to answer questions for the Waterford group, according to Byron L. Cole, chairman.

Algerian Revolt Collapses, Leader Lagaillarde Caught

A MOTLEY GROUP

Lagaillarde's men were a motley group. Some wore uniforms, some had only parts of uniforms. A few wore steel helmets and others wore paratroop berets.

At 12:18 p.m. a big, blood-smeared French tricolor which had fluttered above the insurgent holdout was slowly pulled down. It had flown there since the bloody start of the revolt Jan. 24, when 27 persons were killed in street fighting.

The insurgents began helping to take down the barricades of paving stones and rubble which they had thrown up.

Dr. Bernard Lefevre, a right-wing political figure in Algiers, said the surrender had come as a result of nighttime negotiations between the insurgents and the army.

He said the conditions asked by the insurgents were that the surrender go off with military honors and that no sanctions be taken against them.

De Gaulle, in demanding that the army bring the insurgents under control, had called the rebel leaders liars and conspirators, indicating they could expect little mercy from him.

If the letter of the law were followed, Lagaillarde and Ortiz probably could be executed for treason, having violently challenged the authority of the state and waged armed warfare against it. But the insurgent leaders' continued popularity with the French colonials in Algeria ruled out this extreme punishment.

Waterford Township Looks Into Insurance

A possible retirement plan for township employes, and creation of a new township water system, will be matters of discussion tonight at a meeting of the Waterford Township Board.

An engineering firm will report on what they found in five test wells drilled preliminary to a possible new water system being started in the Sunnyslope subdivision.

Following this report, an insurance company representative will tell trustees about setting up the retirement program for employes.

The regular business agenda will be rounded out with Lotus Lake subdivision real estate developers presenting a revised plan, suggested by the board Friday, concerning future building.

The Day in Birmingham

Women Painters Launch Broadened New Program

BIRMINGHAM — The Society of Women Painters here has launched a new, diversified program for its second semester of activities, according to Mrs. Herbert Gardner, president.

"For the past number of years, working and exhibiting artists painted together under the direction of one of several teachers such as Emil Weddige, Sarkis Sarkisian and Frances de Erdely," she said.

"However, this year finds the group receiving direction and criticism from Albert Mullen, an associate professor at the Univerity of Michigan, every other Monday and lectures from well-known artists and other instructors on alternate Mondays," Mrs. Gardner explained.

She said Mullen has a wide background of training in arts and crafts, both here and abroad.

The first alternating program brings Owen Brainard from Michigan State University to lecture on "Structure."

Brainard is head of continuing education in art at the school, she said.

The City Commission is expected tonight to reject a proposed amendment that would allow the Citrin Oil Co. to erect a sign that does not conform with a city ordinance.

In a recommendation to the City Commission, City Manager L. R. Gare said "it would not be in the best interest of the city to consider the adoption of any proposed amendments to the sign ordinance."

The proposed sign, for which a permit had been refused, contains approximately twice the area permitted and would be installed above the roof line twice as high as allowed under the ordinance.

It was to be erected on a Standard Co. gas station now under construction on the east side of U.S. 10 between Forest and Chestnut streets.

"There is no doubt that the proposed sign, because of its size and height, would be a great aid in attracting customers to the gasoline station," Gare said.

"However, if such a sign were permitted, an undesirable precedent might be established."

Alfred H. Knight Sr.

Service for Alfred H. Knight Sr., 81, of 292 Fairfax Rd., will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Bell Chapel of the William B. Hamilton Funeral Co. Burial will be in Glenwood Cemetery, Flint.

Mr. Knight died Saturday at his home following a brief illness.

He had been an engineer with the Chrysler Corp. until his retirement in 1943. In recent years he had been a consulting engineer for the firm.

He was a graduate of the University of Michigan and received a master's degree from Cornell University in New York. He served three years as an associate professor at the University of Michigan from 1907 to 1910.

Surviving are his wife, Emma; a son, Alfred H. Jr., of Nashville, Tenn.; two daughters, Mrs. Robert C. Restrick Jr., and Mrs. E. M. Mulock Jr., both of Birmingham; a sister at Flint, seven grandchildren and a great-granddaughter.

Trucks Blasted in Paper Strike

10 Delivery Vehicles Dynamited in Oregon; No Injuries Reported

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Two strings of parked trucks — which hauled for Portland's two struck daily newspapers—were blown up late Sunday night in Portland and nearby Oregon City.

Dynamite charges were used to blow up four trucks here, police said, and apparently was used on the six trucks blasted in Oregon City.

There were no reports of fatalities or injuries.

The explosions here occurred at a warehouse in the heavily-industralized northwest section of the city.

DYNAMITE FOUND

A spokesman for the Oregonian said the trucks were owned by firms which did contract hauling for the Oregonian and Oregon Journal, the city's two dailies which were struck Nov. 10 by the Stereotypers Union.

The papers have merged forces and have continued at the Oregonian plant to publish a joint edition despite the strike.

Shortly after the explosions the Oregonian switchboard operator received a call from a man who said a bomb was planted in the building. Police failed to find any explosives.

FTC Charges False Claims on Encyclopedia

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Trade Commission has charged that Crowell-Collier Publishing Co. and a subsidiary made false claims through door-to-door salesmen of Collier's Encyclopeia.

The FTC cited the publishing company and P. F. Collier and Son Corp., both of New York City, in a formal complaint last night.

The complaint said prospective customers were told they would be given sets of the encyclopedia free, or at reduced cost, in return for a letter of comment on the books and written permission to use their names in advertising.

The FTC said that actually customers do not receive the encyclopedia free for advertising purposes or any other reason, but must pay the full price.

The concerns were given 30 days to file an answer.

2 Women Injure Spines in Fall From Toboggan

Two Waterford Township women suffered fractured spines Sunday when they fell from a toboggan on Stoops Hill at Van Zandt and Pleasant streets, in Waterford Township.

Pontiac State Police said Mrs. Evelyn Appleton, 38, of 4397 Kemps St., and Mrs. Alice Pickup, 38, of 6752 Hatchery Rd., were thrown from the toboggan when it struck a culvert at the bottom of the hill.

Both are listed in satisfactory condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Cites Political Tension

Scientist Mum on Resignation

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Prof. Leo Goldberg, chairman of the University of Michigan's astronomy department, says he will not disclose his reasons for leaving the university because "The result would be to sharpen further political dissensions in the sate."

Goldberg was identified by State Rep. James F. Warner, (R-Ypsilanti), as the "outstanding scientist" who planned to leave the university because of a lack of state funds to support his department's research facilities.

Earlier, Gov. Williams said "reckless" neglect of Michigan's higher education needs was about to cost the university one of its top scientists, but he declined to name him.

After Goldberg's name came to light as the departing scientist, he issued a statement yesterday explaining his position.

"It is clear that if I were to make public my reasons for leaving the University of Michigan, the result would be to sharpen further the political dissensions that already have caused so much damage to the University of Michigan and to the state," he said.

"Certainly, the inability of the state to provide badly needed facilities has frustrated what appears to be an exceptional opportunity for the university to achieve the top rank in astronomy," Goldberg added.

However, he said his views of this matter have been frequently stated in the past and are well known. Instead, he urged the people of Michigan to realize that the university is "one of their greatest resources for the future and its support must be of the highest priority."

Goldberg, regarded as one of the nation's top scientists in space exploration, reportedly was offered the chairmanship of Harvard University's astronomy department last year but was prevailed upon to stay at Michigan another year. He declined to discuss his future plans.

Ford Compacts Sell at High Rate

Account for 34 Pct. of Sales; Prices Out on Falcon Wagons

WASHINGTON (AP)—James O. Wright, general manager of Ford Division of Ford Motor Co., said today his company's compact car is accounting for about 34 per cent of the division's total sales. This is considerably higher than had been anticipated, he added.

The Falcon so far has been the fastest seller among the American compact cars introduced last fall.

Wright spoke at a news conference where he announced prices on forthcoming station wagon models of the Falcon. The prices, including federal tax and handling charges, will be $2,225 for a two-door model and $2,287 for a four-door model.

Wright made these other observations:

1. Ford is studying the market for a car smaller than current compacts which would compete directly with Volkswagen and Renault.

"We have reached no conclusions," Wright said, "but it is no secret that we are investigating."

2. So far the seven-million-car year generally predicted by industry executives has not materialized.

"Unquestionably the sales rate will accelerate," Wright said.

3. Ford's daily sales rate is the highest of any postwar year.

4. Production schedules for the first quarter have been cut, but still are the highest in the company's history.

Israelis, Syrians Waging Ground and Air Battles

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Israeli and Syrian forces fought today in ground and air battles. Tension mounted along the border as the shooting continued for the fourth straight day.

Three Israeli and two Syrian soldiers were killed in a four-hour predawn artillery duel on the southeast shore of the Sea of Galilee. Seven Israelis and four Syrians were wounded.

Israel also reported that one Israeli policeman was killed and two wounded by Syrian shots Sunday.

An army spokesman said two Israeli fighter planes drove away four Syrian MIG jets after a dogfight over Metullah, closest to the border in northern Galilee. No casualties were reported.

The Syrian press in Damascus challenged Israel to an all-out showdown battle to "settle pending accounts."

Israeli sappers during the night moved into the Arab village of Tawafik, in the demilitarized zone between the two countries, and blew up 50 houses the Syrians had vacated. The Israelis claimed the United Arab Republic's army had fortified the village and was using it as a base for firing into Israeli territory.

After the Israeli advance into the village, an artillery duel developed and lasted for four hours. Israeli sources said damage on their side of the frontier was slight.

The Syrians reoccupied the village this morning. U.N. observers intervened, and a cease-fire was arranged.

Sideswipes Auto and Runs Into Tree

A 30-year-old Pontiac man was injured Sunday morning when his car sideswiped another auto and crashed into a tree.

Ellie B. Greene, 40 Lynn Ave., was treated for minor injuries at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released.

His car collided with one driven by Raymond J. Raboin, 30, of Detroit. The accident occurred on East Huron street west of Douglas street at 2:10 a.m.

JA Group to Sell Their Products 5 to 9 Tonight

An open house will be held tonight at the Pontiac Junior Achievement Center, 20½ E. Pike St., from 5 to 9.

Hundreds of JA products will be on sale at low bargain prices during the four-hour sales jubilee, says Douglas Presto, center chairman.

The open house will also give area residents a chance to see the local group's facilities and accommodations. The event is being held in connection with National Junior Achievement Week, now in progress.

Budget Goes Up in New Jersey

But Gov. Meyner Says No New Taxes Needed; Plans Million Over

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Gov. Robert B. Meyner today proposed a record New Jersey state budget of $431,365,104 for next year, balanced without any increase in taxes.

The budget was 24 million dollars higher than last year's, which also proposed no added taxes. Meyner attributed the increased spending to growing state needs, particularly in education, welfare, health and highways. The increase was matched by rising income from present taxes.

The Democratic governor put forth no big new spending programs and made no mention of the state's transit problem.

He noted that New Jersey—"a most fortunate state in many ways"—was one of three in the nation without a personal income tax or general sales tax.

The budget would pay the cost of state government for the fiscal year beginning July 1. Meyner estimated the state would start the year with a surplus of $3,989,409 and end it with $1,109,953 in the treasury.

McLouth Steel Strike Remains Unresolved

DETROIT (AP) — Attempts to end the United Steelworkers strike at three McLouth Steel Corp. plants failed yesterday.

The Union, representing 4,200 McLouth workers, agreed at a mass meeting yesterday to return to work during a 10-day truce. However, the company refused to take them back on those conditions.

There was no indication when negotiations on a new contract would be resumed.

The workers struck last week when an 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction expired without a new contract having been reached.

Tom Shane, USW district director, said, "We've got picket lines out there and we're going to keep them there. Let's see what happens now."

International Cooperation on A-Detection Plan Urged

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—The nuclear powers of the world should work together to develop better detecting devices as a step toward disarmament, according to a group of top scientists.

The experts made their recommendation yesterday at the close of a three-day conference on nuclear weapons and disarmament called by Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

They said the United States should propose "a joint agreement among the nuclear powers to conduct a joint research program" aimed at the improvement of testing devices as a step toward eventual disarmament.

This would involve the unique possibility of conducting joint tests with Russia in order to have an effective joint research program, the experts said.

The group said this would be an effective "next step" beyond the present so-called "informal" test ban. The experts called on this country, Britain and Russia to set up a joint research program as quickly as possible.

Efforts to reduce the output of other types of weapons as well as nuclear weapons were also urged by the conferees.

SEEK NATIONAL AGENCY

The conference also produced a recommendation that the federal government establish a national peace research agency to investigate technical aspects of disarmament proposals and development of international control and inspection systems.

The group's concensus report also stated that "In any substantial arms control program, the participation of Communist China must be considered."

This was the third in a series of conferences sponsored by the governor to discuss problems facing the nation. Previous conferences dealt with economics and education.

Debra Sue Jennings, 3, Burned by Hot Grease

A three-year-old Pontiac girl suffered first and second degree burns of the face, hands and legs yesterday when she pulled a pan full of hot grease off the stove in her home.

Debra Sue Jennings, 65 E. Longfellow St., was reported in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital. She was taken to the hospital by her father, Bruce D. Jennings.

Voters Want a Rematch of Bagwell and Williams

DETROIT (AP)—Voters in both political parties want Gov. Williams and Paul D. Bagwell to face each other again in this year's election race for governor.

Williams, now serving his sixth consecutive term as governor, led all rivals for the Democratic nomination.

The poll showed Williams' strongest threat would come from Secretary of State James M. Hare should he decide to oppose the governor in the August primary.

It added that Williams' standing has weakened among Republicans who once split their tickets for him as well as outstate Democrats and independents.

The governor, however, retains his hold in Detroit and Wayne County.

The newspaper said the poll also turned up these results:

"—The failure of Democratic Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson, Williams' immediate backstop, to stir the enthusiasm of Democrats.

"—The potency of the name Henry Ford II, especially in Wayne County, where labor's power is concentrated."

"—The apparently waning Democratic political strength of Supreme Court Justice George Edwards, who many wanted to draft for the governorship race.

"—The strange twist that George Romney, an auto corporation president, demonstrated remarkable voter strength among Democratic and independent voters in a state where politicians normally are suppose to shun UAW employers."

The News said balloting showed that 45 per cent of Michigan's voters are Democrats, 31 per cent Republicans and 25 per cent independents.

But Admit 2nd in Missiles

American Defense Chiefs Again Assert Readiness

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's over-all military strength is "first rate, first position" although the Soviet Union will have moderately more missiles for a couple of years, says Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr.

Gates said again Sunday he believes the United States is strong enough to prevent the Soviet Union from starting a war. He said the nation will begin catching up with the Soviet missile lead in 1962.

Gates said in a television interview "we are expanding our missile program, putting missiles on our bomber force and bringing into operations Polaris submarines which we believe will offset any so-called missile gap, at least from the point of view of the validity of our deterrent."

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, spoke along similar lines in another television interview. He said the Soviets may be ahead in missiles but in the whole defense picture "I don't think we're behind at all."

White said the American missile and defense program is properly balanced and "will continue to give us the detereent capability we desire."

The statements by Gates and White were in sharp contrast to defense appraisals by several congressional Democrats. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said Friday the U.S.S.R. wil have an enormous advantage in missile striking power in the near future.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

No matter what you've used without results – here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids – without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) – discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as *Preparation H. Ask for Preparation H suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Pontiac Should Consider Milwaukee's Mall Plan

The plan is to transform ten blocks of the main street in downtown Milwaukee into a mall, with a covered moving sidewalk in the middle of the street. George Bockl, a large scale builder and realtor, is independently sponsor of the development.

He has proposed closing Wisconsin Avenue to vehicular traffic for ten blocks, with cross traffic permitted at only three intermediate intersections. The strip would be, of course, landscaped with gardens, shrubbery and trees. It would have fountains and a canopy for pedestrians along the buildings on each side of the street.

The principal innovation would be a covered moving sidewalk in the middle of the steet, with benches for tired shoppers moving from store to store.

Like the Milwaukee downtown business groups, Pontiac should continue to investigate and study all such plans. Some definite changes are taking place and we should follow the trend.

Clean Elections Bill Could Die in House

The first important election reform in 35 years is promised in a Senate bill to make campaign spending more realistic, passed by the overwhelming vote of 59 to 22.

The purpose of Sen. HENNINGS' bill is to require more complete and more honest reporting of campaign expenditures. It rewrites the Corrupt Practices Act of 1925 which was so full of loopholes that it was generally disregarded.

Major reforms of the bill, strongly supported by Majority Leader Johnson, include extending Federal regulation of campaign spending to primary elections and campaigns. This provision was vigorously opposed by Southern Democrats and by conservative Republicans, particularly Rep. Leader Dirksen.

Individual campaign contributions also are to be limited to $10,000 in an effort to cut the political influence of wealth. The measure requires political committees everywhere to report all spending in excess of $2,500 in behalf of any candidate for Federal office. At present state and local committees, which account for more than half of the campaign spending, are not required to make Federal reports.

Another important provision requires that detailed financial statements be filed with the Federal District Courts where they will be open to the press, as well as with the clerks of the Senate and House.

The Hennings bill does not apply to 1960 elections and Senate passage doesn't mean House approval. In fact, the prediction is that it will die in committee because of the opposition of Speaker Rayburn and fellow Democrats.

But in this election year it is to be hoped that many members will not wish to share responsibility for killing this very necessary reform which voters are demanding.

High Rates Handicap Alaskan Development

Because the Government is the largest shipper of goods to Alaska, the General Services Administration has joined the new state in protesting a 10 per cent freight rate increase granted by the Maritime Board to the Alaska Steamship Co.

For years Alaska has been trying to get rid of the shipping monopoly. Only two years ago this company, the most powerful of the shipping lines serving Alaska, and already with the world's highest shipping rates, obtained a 25 per cent increase.

In the present case the Federal Maritime Board granted the increase without the hearing requested by Alaska and without any fact finding, say the state's Senators, GRUENING and BARTLETT. They are asking for a Congressional investigation of this handicap to their state's development.

When a refrigerator can be shipped from Detroit to China or Australia at less the cost of shipping it to Alaska, as Sen. GRUENING claims, the matter of rates should be thoroughly gone into. Consumers in Alaska will now pay 10 per cent more on stateside goods and the Federal Government, that is the taxpayer, will have 10 per cent added to the freight bill on Alaskan shipments.

The Man About Town

Forty Years Ago

Oakland County Even Then Leading State Road Work

A beautifully printed 107-page book given me by

of 766 West Huron Street, portrays the annual report of the Board of Oakland County Road Commissioners of 40 years ago.

It is embellished with 87 illustrations of scenes taken in all parts of the county, and shows that in the 1920-21 period Oakland County was leading all others among Michigan's 83 counties in the laying of hard surface roads.

In that fiscal year 129 miles of concrete or blacktop highways were being laid in the county, at an average cost of about one-third of what such work would be today. It probably was our biggest year in building such roads.

Traffic counts on the leading highways of the county showed figures in many cases of less than one-tenth of what such counts are today. But grades were being reduced and curves eliminated with a keen foresight of what was to come.

Chairman of the Commissioners was

of Addison Township, the other two members being

G. Ross Thompson

of Farmington Township.

The County Highway Engineer was

Leon V. Belknap,

who was just starting his campaign to lift Oakland County out of the mud, and

H. G. Rofe

was the Commissioners' Clerk, with

E. F. Glasgow

as Assistant Engineer.

Field Engineers were

J. B. Jewell and H. C. Towle, with the Office engineer in the person of

N. W. Strait,

and the Bridge Engineer work in the hands of

C. K. Redfield.

A boxed long sentence prefaces the book, which qutie thoroughly covers the subject both then and now, as follows: "Good roads decrease the cost of transportation, permit the cultivation of crops not otherwise marketable, permit the marketing to be done when prices are most favorable, tend to equalize traffic between the different seasons of the year, facilitate the consolidation of rural schools and rural mail delivery, and are a material factor in inducing tourist travel."

David Lawrence Says:

Dems Want to Gag GOP on 'Gap'

WASHINGTON — Is the Democratic Party to continue to attack the Republican administration on the subject of defense policies, missiles and outer-space problems while urging that the Republican Party be deprived, in effect, of an opportunity to make authoritative replies?

LAWRENCE

This question is asked because of the nature of certain statements which have all the earmarks of having been prepared by the Democratic publicity experts, though issued in behalf of two Democratic senators.

One statement says that the appearance of top Defense Department civilian officials as speakers at a Republican fund-raising dinner was "unethical and beneath the dignity of this administration."

Another senator is quoted as accusing the administration of a "callous disregard of even the most elementary proprieties," and his statement adds:

"In view of the 40-odd billions of defense contracts to be let to our big businessmen by the officials of the Department of Defense, it is not surprising that in one evening the Republican Party should be able to collect seven million dollars for the next campaign. . . . In due course there is . . . many more millions to be expected. This is just the initial down payment to get the ball rolling."

The implication is that only defense contractors attended the $100-a-plate dinners in 82 cities last week, which, of course, is not true, since a total of more than 100,000 people were there.

CITE DANGEROUS 'GAP'

For several months now Democratic senators and representatives have been getting headlines by crying out that the United States is weak in defense and that there is a dangerous "gap" between this country's armed forces and the Soviet Union's.

This issue now has reached into the political campaign.

So the other night the Republicans decided to make reply. They lined up their top civilian officials from the Defense Department to speak at a coast-to-coast dinner over closed-circuit television.

Persons in the audiences were for the most part the influential Republicans who are expected to debate with the opposition at the "grass roots" every issue of the coming campaign.

No better opportunity for the Republican administration to tell its story to its own supporters could have been devised.

Yet when the Republicans publicly endeavor to give authoritative information direct from the administration officials in the Defense Department, they are immediately accused of being "unethical."

It may be questioned just what is ethical or unethical about dragging the defense problem into politics—and who, after all, started partisan treatment of the defense problem?

It might also be asked if any of the Democrats have received inspiration, financial or otherwise, from those defense contractors who either want bigger appropriations or are resentful because some of their contracts have been canceled.

One thing is certain—the beneficiaries of defense work are by no means confined to one party.

It will be recalled that, in one of the early campaigns in which the late Franklin D. Roosevelt was a candidate for vice president, there was sent out over his signature a circular letter soliciting campaign funds from defense contractors who had benefited by projects in World War I when he was assistant secretary of the Navy.

FAIR PLAY?

Fair play would seem to require that defense contractors not be singled out as any more "unethical" if they attend dinners given by political parties than are other businessmen.

To imply that the total sums received from everybody who bought a ticket to a fund-raising dinner given by the Republicans is "an initial down payment" from defense contractors and doesn't mean the same thing when contributed on the Democratic side is a bit of rationalization that doesn't sound like fair play.

Smiles

It seems that it takes a lot more than being pinched to make some speeders wake up.

The Country Parson

Dr. William Brady Says:

I'll Not Cease My Attacks on Atrocious Tonsillectomy

In a piece published recently I said tonsillotomy is a minor operation, no more dangerous than extraction of a tooth and as quickly done.

DR. BRADY

I said this instantaneous removal of the obstructing portion of tonsil should be standard treatment for enlarged (hypertrophied) tonsils.

In contrast with tonsillotomy, which WAS standard treatment for enlarged tonsils in the good old days, the present-day atrocity, called tonsillectomy, is in every instance a major operation—extensive dissection of the throat in the attempt to "get every bit of tonsil tissue," as though tonsil tissue were malignant or harmful — involves risks of "cardiac arrest" (sudden heart failure), atelectasis (collapse of lung), hemorrhage, strangling by blood clot or portions of excised tonsil or throat tissue, and such sequels as ether pneumonia or lung abscess.

In the piece I said that "tonsillectomy has a frightfully high death rate."

Two months later, in a paper down east which, I suppose, printed part or all of the Sept. 29th piece, appeared a letter to the editor, signed by 10 physicians, saying that in all their years of practice they had "never encountered a more vicious, uninformed and misinformed medical article."

If the 10 angry doctors would not call the tonsillectomy death rate frightfully high, just how would they characterize it?

How many children must be sacrificed to the puerile pride and bumptiousness of the ever-ready operators before they will acknowledge that the death rate of tonsillectomy is frightfully high?

I have been around long enough and my perception and judgment are clear enough to realize that the effects of the major operation, tonsillectomy, differ in just one respect from the effects of the minor operation, tonsillotomy—the major operation is more likely to prove fatal.

If it is vicious to urge parents, grandparents, uncles, aunts and others who may be responsible for the well being of young children to take time to think—think—think before subjecting a child to the needless hazards of tonsillectomy, then for the children's sake I shall continue to be as vicious as I can as long as the good Lord wants me to teach people the ways of health.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Prisoner Joins Compliment Club

Charles is a prisoner in a Pennsylvania state penitentiary. But he is profiting from his sojourn there and improving his personality. Read his letter closely, for he surpasses the usual college student in composition and correct grammar. Then follow his lead by launching a Compliment Club in your church or club. It harnesses your idealism in everyday living.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE D-467: Charles K., aged 25, is serving a prison term in a Pennsylvania state penitentiary. Notice his verbatim letter.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I appreciate very much your encouraging letter to me and the Compliment Club booklet.

"But I felt the Compliment Club idea wouldn't work here. A few days passed and I read that booklet again. So I decided I'd at least give it a try.

"Naturally, I at first chose those fellow prisoners who showed the most obvious characteristics that deserved a compliment.

"In other cases, it was their sportsmanship on the recreation field. And then I also began to notice their table manners.

"To my surprise, I found from the very beginning that these men still have a conscience. And they are hungry for recognition.

"Day by day, my project of complimenting others became more enjoyable. And in less than a week's time, I found it rather easy to compliment the obvious ones, especially those of my own race.

"So then I decided to branch out and include both races in my compliment project.

"My having been born in Tennessee made this step in life a new adventure for me. But now I'm glad it happened. Because now I have many new friends among both races.

"And by the time I was in the third week of the compliment project, I saw that others were becoming imitators. Casually, I asked a few of them why they had begun to openly compliment their neighbors.

"Several answered something like this: 'I have noticed the way you seem to make others happy. So I tried it and it works.'

"Dr. Crane, this is a maximum security type of state prison. And the men represent all walks of life. Some have been doctors, lawyers and successful businessmen. Others have come from skid row.

"Yet beneath the false front which many of them carry (in hopes of impressing others), there lies a heart that can be melted. If your Compliment Club system were introduced in our prisons and reformatories, it would do far more good toward rehabilitating men, than all the punishment that could be directed by the voice of a judge.

"Sir, now that I have completed the 30-day trial period of the Compliment Club, I would really appreciate your diploma.

"But I haven't stopped passing out compliments. And from my Bible study of the book of Acts, I find that the Apostle Paul was himself an Applied Psychologist and a member of the Compliment Club."

GOLDEN RULE APPLIED

The Compliment Club simply harnesses your desire to follow the Golden Rule by asking you to pay three sincere compliments per day.

"Faith without works is dead," said St. James, meaning that we need to apply our high resolves and religious idealism.

Pioneer psychologist William James said too many people enjoy a concert or sermon during which they are exalted and make high resolves, but then let that fervor dissipate. Prof. James called this an emotional "jag."

So send for the Compliment Club booklet, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

COMP CLUB

Use it with church or school groups, the Boy Scouts, Hi-Y or Tri-Hi-Y, etc.. Every livewire church should operate a continual Compliment Club and cite the interesting results at Sunday School.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Kennedy Clarifies Position on Candidacy of Catholics

I appreciate the opportunity to comment on a letter from the Pontiac Pastors Association which appeared in your paper recently.

Speaking as a candidate for public office, I can say without any reservations that I fully support the First Amendment in all of its traditional meanings including the freedom of all citizens to worship or not to worship, as they please. American Catholics, both lay and clergy, have repeatedly declared their unqualified adherence to American Constitutional principles and what is more important have clearly demonstrated by their actions as private citizens and public officials their unswerving loyalty to our traditional Constitutional doctrines.

'Women Would Solve Everything'

Many comments have been made about the serious conditions of the police department, and I've heard many men say "Women are the root of all evil." Now I say put the men out, one and all, and let the women root out the evil. Perhaps they would choose Herb Straley as their chief.

Denies We Must Accept Decrepitude

Whoever wrote that column about accepting age should keep his negative conclusions to himself. The woman in the article, Miss Hopper, was wrong in that she really did what the writer accused her of not doing. She accepted the illusion of age and then fought against it.

Don't accept it. No law says decrepitude is a must. Belief in youth comes from the mind and won't come from limited measures such as face-lifting, etc.

This kind of negative thinking does a world of harm and benefits only those financially involved. It's ironic that the column, Why Grow Old?, appeared on the same page.

'His Good Memory Slipped Up Here'

I'd like to remind Just a Better Memory that he forgot something. He said a President said no mother's son would fight on foreign soil. However, what Mr. Roosevelt said was, "Not a mother's son will spill his blood on foreign soil unless we're attacked." I guess you forgot what happened.

Roosevelt inherited about 10 million unemployed from that two-cars-in-every-garage-and-a-chicken-in-every-pot deal Mr. Hoover had cooked up, and before that was over, most of us didn't even have the pot to put the chicken in.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up what is planted. —Eccl. 3:2.

'Lottery Answers Tax Problems'

Why don't we have about four national lotteries a year like they suggest, so we can pay off some of our debts? Holding the Olympic games is very expensive, and Italy is paying the entire bill with a series of lotteries and I read the seats will be marble.

Many of the biggest and best countries have lotteries and why don't we have them here? The people that don't believe in them don't have to take part, so only voters who want to spend any money do so.

This is the fairest tax I ever heard of. Who has ever thought of a cleaner taxation method?

I'll Take Part

'Help Does Not Deserve Increase'

Increasing hospital rates to increase the help's wages is very ironic, as the help I got while there twice in the past year was lamentable. The nurses are slow, and the wards are only for survival of the fittest. On top of that, the food isn't good, in my opinion. I don't think the help deserves a raise in wages.

'Divorce Is Too Easy in America'

Divorce is too easy in this country and it has got so if a man and his wife think they might like to live with someone else, why they just change. If everyone knew when he got married he or she couldn't get a divorce at all, marriage would be more serious. Isn't there something in the ceremony about "better or worse," and don't all couples swear to this?

Contends Bigotry Is Fading Away

To the militant Catholic who cries out against pure, unadulterated bigotry, there's little of this type of bigotry in such countries as Spain, Colombia, etc. In fact, as close as Detroit we find it fading out.

Your help is needed to stamp it out, but not in a militant way.

Easy-Pay Plan Opens U. S. Visit Gates to Britons

LONDON (AP) — Now Britons can see the United States on the easy payment plan.

About two million persons in this country are expected to travel abroad this year. Most will go to old favorites like France and Italy. Travel agencies and carriers are also urging that America can be fitted into vacation budgets.

The BOAC (British Overseas Airways Corp.) advertises a round-trip package vacation in New York for $46.20 down and the $500 balance payable over two years.

Travel agents suggest summer sea trips to the United States for $439 round trip.

The $439 covers nine days in New York, Philadelphia and Washington. Everything is taken care of except meals.

It's too early to say how many British tourists will take advantage of the chances to see the United States. But prerush-season estimates are that at least 100,000 will.

O'Hara Pushes Bomb Detection

Utica's Congressman May Demonstrate Way to Safeguard Airliners

WASHINGTON (AP)— Rep. James G. O'Hara of Utica (D-Mich) said Saturday he may arrange a public demonstration soon to prove the practicality of his plan to prevent airliners from being bombed out of the air.

O'Hara has introduced a bill which would require airliners to inspect luggage and mail carried on passenger airliners for evidence of bombs or other destructive materials.

He said he had been informed by chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) of the House Commerce Committee that the committee will hold early hearings this year on all such air safety proposals.

"I've seen some stories to the effect that bombs encased in plastic or glass can't be detected by instruments we have now," OHara said.

5 OR 6 COMPANIES

"But that's not so. I have heard from five or six companies who say they have the equipment."

He said he also has written to U.S. customs officials for information about equipment they use to search for contraband in articles brought into this country.

"I am not claiming that I have the final answer to the problem of airplane bombings," O'Hara said.

"But I think we must get the facts on this problem and legislate on it as quickly as possible. I'm willing to back any proposal that will help."

State's Sales Tax Take for December Tops All

LANSING (AP) — Michigan took in it biggest sales tax collection in history this month — $32,569,560 —the State Revenue Department reported.

Clarence W. Lock, deputy revenue commissioner, said January collections on December business were up $806,374 or 2.6 per cent from the same month last year.

The all-time monthly record was set despite a drop in auto sales tax collections which totaled $3,314,202 —down about $700,000 from a year ago.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID's unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! Introductory size 43c.

Three Michigan Counties Emergency Feed Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Michigan counties of Baraga, Houghton and Ontonagon have been designated as emergency areas where farmers and stockmen can buy government-owned feed grains at current support prices.

The Agriculture Department took the action after it was determined there was a shortage of feed grain in these counties due to bad weather, insects and plant diseases.

The action was recommended by Gov. Williams.

Will He See His Shadow?

According to fable the groundhog is supposed to come out of his hibernation headquarters on February 2nd for a preview of coming weather . . . if he sees his shadow he rushes back to his winter quarters and we have six weeks of cold weather; if the day is dark and no shadow is forthcoming the fable states that we are to have an early spring.

Your Ideas About Gamble?

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

WE'LL LIVE ON LOVE — Despite threats of disinheritance, Gamble Benedict, 18, heiress to typewriter millions, wears a happy expression while she was in Paris. She is shown with her finance, 35-year-old Andre Porumbeanu. They intend to marry when he obtains his divorce. In the meantime, she is back home with her grandmother.

NEW YORK — Everybody is talking about the unfinished story of Gamble Benedict, the runaway filly who's been dragged back to her field of clover after partaking a few wild oats, and everybody has a different opinion in the case.

Some people think: it's shocking — a young innocent in a liaison with a mature sophisticate in a wicked city like Paris.

Others think it's a rather wholesome tale, as compared with the other big news of the day. When you stack Gamble Benedict's story up against the yarns about Finch and Frank and Fidel, it can seem pretty refreshing.

At least it has love involved in it and, in these days of various bombs, love is not to be knocked.

But there is a danger in discussing, publicly, the case of the lovely heiress who ran off with the slick chauffeur, only to be returned home forcefully by her brother and lawyer, at the request of her multi-millionaire grandma.

There is a danger of giving away one's age, and one's attitude toward life, in the most transparent manner.

SKELETON IN CLOSET?

After all, for ~~almost~~ all of us there is a closet containing the skeleton of a busted romance. This is particularly true of women.

Any woman worth her salted tears has recollections of the man who got away and, although she wouldn't have him back garnished with diamonds, she cherishes the memory.

When, therefore, a story like Gamble Benedict's comes into the public spotlight, our sympathies — or lack of them — tend to give away our age and our attitude toward life.

This is a broad generalization, of course, but doesn't it figure that if one feels extreme sympathy toward the girl, it is an indication that one is young enough to flinch painfully at the recollection of love lost?

Whereas, if one takes the side of Gamble's granny, and can't understand what the kid sees in a possible fortune-hunter, then one is virtually admitting that senility is breathing down her rather stiff neck.

ANALYZE YOUR FRIENDS

So here is an analytical study we have been pursuing lately. Analyze your friends through discussion of the Benedict case. We call it "Gamble's geriatrics game." It is excellent diversion at high teas and cocktail parties.

Bring up the subject of the heiress and the chauffeur and observe:

If a woman considers the romance a tragedy of major proportions, and predicts that Gamble will never fall in love so deeply again — she is extremely young and sentimental.

If she looks upon the affair with disgust, and says "I don't know why things like this take up so much space in the papers" — she is well past her prime; and her prime was so dull, it is just as well passed.

If she feels, adamantly, that the chauffeur was a fortune-hunter — she was double-crossed by her first love.

If she thinks Gamble has been silly — she has quite a poor memory.

If she thinks the chauffeur was dashing, and considers it amusing that he gave it a good try — she has delightful memories of her first romance.

If she considers the entire story a big bore — she is middle-aged and has lost interest in her husband.

If her main concern is for the health of Gamble's granny — she is growing old and takes pills.

If she can't understand how such a thing could happen — she has led a dull life, and so it will continue.

If she believes Gamble will forget the chauffeur in good time and marry a well-adjusted millionaire — she is a well-adjusted millionairess.

If she just smiles and has no opinion — she is either very old or very wise or very happy, or all three.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A no-good bug from the Orient—Asian flu—has been busy this winter, but appears now to be losing its punch.

This winter's outbreaks have been major health problems in Los Angeles, Detroit, Pittsburgh and parts of Texas. But health service doctors say that nationally "it's not getting any worse and it certainly isn't spreading widely as it did in 1957."

Public Health Service doctors say Asian flu has broken out in parts of 20 or more states in the last few weeks. But they predict that by next month flu-like diseases will be "pretty well a thing of the past for this year."

It's Up to You to Keep the "Credit Circle" Unbroken

You are mighty important in today's great "CREDIT CIRCLE" — a system so very important in today's way of life. Like a chain with the producers, manufacturers, retailers, professional men and you as its many links it keeps revolving and permitting all responsible parties its many advantages.

It takes prompt payments by all to keep this circle unbroken. A delayed payment of a bill or two means a certain amount withdrawn from circulation which in turn causes one link to be weakened, eventually broken. This deprives others the chance to earn what they need.

This breaks the "CREDIT CIRCLE."

Industrial Stocks in Worst Fall

A steady erosion of values for this average brought it down in 15 of the month's 20 sessions. The loss for January amounted to 56.74 points or 8.35 per cent.

The only monthly decline in all history that exceeded this wide loss was October 1929 when the average fell 69.94 from a much lower level.

That month was the biggest in stock exchange history with sales of 141,668,410 shares, a total never approached since.

BULL MARKET TOOPLED

It was the month the bull market of the 1920s collapsed.

The past week's volume fell off to a mere 14,005,490 shares, a daily average of 2,801,098 shares, lowest for a full week since Oct. 23.

For January the volume was 69,932,362 shares, well below last year's 83,253,414 shares.

Private woodland owners in the United States saw good growth outstrip forest removal in the past 10 years for the first time in this century.

Pontiac Press Photos

A reunion for three area members of the 1959 Michigan Chorale which toured Europe brought broad grins of recollection when the scrapbook was hauled out. From left are Kathy Olmstead of Green Lake, a freshman at the University of Michigan; Joel Beam of Milford who is entering Eastern Michigan University; and Becky Obenauf of the Pontiac State Hospital grounds, a sophomore at Butler University's Jordon School of Music. Becky, a talented dancer, will join the 1960 Chorale tour of South America.

Alumnae to Sponsor Nixon

Sell Tickets for Money to Pay Girls' Tuition

Michigan alumnae affiliated with the Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges are selling tickets for their annual fund-raising project, which this year will feature Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Scheduled as a lecture and question and answer period, the program will be the only occasion during the vice president's day in Detroit which will be open to the public.

Mr. Nixon will speak on world affairs at the Ford Auditorium at 10:30 a.m. Feb. 15. Tickets are available from alumnae of Barnard, Bryn Mawr, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith, Vassar and Wellesley, or from general ticket chairman Mrs. Walter Crow of Berkshire road in Grosse Pointe.

* * *

Mrs. Nixon will be honored at a reception and luncheon at the auditorium after the event. The demand for tickets has made it necessary to limit the luncheon to all but patrons and the officers and board of the committee. Mrs. John C. Chapin of Grosse Pointe Farms may be contacted for further information.

* * *

Mrs. J. A. Rammes of Rosedale street, at left, beams with pleasure as committee members report on ticket sales for "Taming of the Shrew." Sharing her pleasure are Mrs. R. E. Gegoux of Adlake drive, in charge of window displays; and Mrs. H. T. Baker of Navajo drive, chairman of student ticket sales. Some seats still remain for the Feb. 26 performance of the Stratford Canadian Players at the Oakland Theater.

Double Duty Denounced

Brother's Wife's Keep-her Law Changed

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We are having a big mix-up in our family. A cousin of ours recently died and left a young widow. A brother of the dead man is doing double duty and has been acting like a husband to this widow. He is married. He says the Bible says it is all right. Where in the Bible does it okay such goings on?

ABBY

DOUBTER

DEAR DOUBTER: Your cousin is probably referring to DEUTERONOMY 25:5 and following verses wherein it states that a woman who has been widowed without offspring may seek relations with her husband's brother. Your cousin is using this passage to suit his own purpose. He must surely know that this Deuteronomic law has fallen out of use because of the moral and legal changes in our civilization.

DEAR ABBY: After our company Christmas party there was a lot of talk because the husbands and wives of the employes were not invited.

I was on the Christmas party planning committee and I think the public should know that all the employes in OUR company were asked for a secret ballot to decide whether or not the husbands and wives of the employes should be included. It was almost 100 per cent in favor of the husbands and wives staying home.

ON THE COMMITTEE

DEAR ABBY: Last summer the plant where my husband works gave their annual picnic and it was one of those "no wives and no husbands" deals. I wish you could have heard the stories they told about it afterwards. They gave prizes for "mixed wrestling matches." (Men and women.) Some men fell in the lake with their clothes on and my own dear husband came home at two the next morning stiffer than a billygoat.

So when the plant announced their annual Christmas party, also without husbands and wives, I wouldn't let my husband go. He's still mad at me. Was I wrong?

MRS. C.

DEAR MRS. C.: Not under the circumstances. Don't worry, he'll get over it in time to butter you up for the annual picnic.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HOPING": Don't look for a reconciliation. She loves hating you too much.

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Group Studies Indians

Colonel Stephen Mack Society Children of the American Revolution met Saturday at the West Iroquois road home of Mrs. Everett Peterson, senior president.

The American Indian was the study theme. Members will send school supplies and gifts to St. Mary's Indian School for Girls, Springfield, S.D.

Susan Raymond was welcomed as a new member by the local CAR Society.

Kathleen Ross McDonnell, daughter of the Thomas Edward McDonnells of Orchard Lake, exchanged vows with Richard Dawes Griffith, son of Mrs. Howard T. Griffith of Scranton, Pa., and the late Mr. Griffith, Saturday, in First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham.

MRS. RICHARD D. GRIFFITH

Veil of Imported Lace Adorns Bridal Gown

Reception at Orchard Lake Country Club followed late afternoon nuptials of Kathleen Ross McDonnell and Richard Dawes Griffith Saturday at First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham.

Dr. W. Glen Harris officiated.

The bridegroom, who lives in Birmingham, is the son of Mrs. Howard T. Griffith of Scranton, Pa., and the late Mr. Griffith.

An imported Brussels lace mantilla-type veil fell over the ivory taffeta bridal gown styled with scalloped neckline, fitted bodice and long sleeves.

WHITE ORCHIDS, ROSES

Identical sheath gowns of turquoise organza with full matching overtunics were worn by honor matron Mrs. Miles Chapline McDonnell and bridesmaids Mrs. David Manley of Birmingham and Mrs. Richard J. Matthews of Kalamazoo.

Their semicascade bouquets were of pink miniature roses and ivy.

Dr. Richard J. Matthews was best man. Guests were seated by T. Stephen Hauser, Ross C. Morgan and Robert G. Neale.

PICKS GOLD CHIFFON

The couple will live in the Birmingham Manor Apartments.

Zonta Hears TV Director

Pontiac Zonta Club's luncheon speaker Thursday at the Hotel Waldron was Frank Bouwsma, director of Detroit's educational television channel.

His subject was "What Educational TV Will Mean to Michigan."

Mr. Bouwsma was formerly with Wayne State University and the University of Michigan.

Educational TV, according to the speaker, has been proven mathematically better and more effective than classroom teaching and opens a new field of endeavor in the educational field.

In four years, the station has submitted over 2,000 different series, covering languages, medicine, art, industry and history, plus sports events.

White Chrysanthemums Flank Wedding Altar

Chapel vases of white chrysanthemums flanked the altar of Columbia Avenue Baptist Church for Thursday vows of Geraldine Anderson and Larry Allen Campbell, repeated to the Rev. M. F. Boyd.

Crushed elbow-length white gloves complimented the ballerina-length wedding dress of white lace, styled with scoop neckline and short sleeves.

MRS. LARRY A. CAMPBELL

NIECE IS ATTENDANT

Merlene Bell of Kalamazoo, in rose chiffon, was her aunt's only attendant. She held a cascade of white carnations. Roy Farmer was best man.

Mrs. Anderson appeared in blue lace with brown accessories.

Women Work at Older Age Than in Past

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—The woman worker is getting older, according to a female labor expert.

Mary M. Cannon, chief of the International Division of the Women's Bureau in the U. S. Labor Department, said that the "average age of women workers today is 40 compared to 32 only 20 years ago."

She explained this rise by saying that "there are more older women in the population and women generally are returning to jobs after their children grow up.

"We are now struggling to break down barriers of employment for mature women."

The Labor Department predicts that an additional 6,750,000 women will be holding jobs in the next 10 years.

"About 47 per cent of them will be between 35 and 45," she said.

Missionary Unit of Baptist Church Sponsors Dinner

Miniature world globes and napkins printed with the map of Africa marked places for 100 at a chicken dinner sponsored by the Womens Home and Foreign Missionary Society of First Baptist Church, Thursday evening.

Ladies of the Maranatha Bible Class prepared the meal.

Jill Hicks was accompanist for solist Tom Eley, and for group singing led by Kyle Wilson.

Mrs. Fred Ludwig, missionary on furlough from the Belgian Congo, spoke concerning conversions and the practice of witchcraft in Africa. She stressed the word for Jehovah, "Elohim" which means the "strong, faithful one."

Rev. W. E. Hakes gave the invocation and Kenneth Hempstead closed the meeting with prayer.

Scandinavian Tales Related

The Pontiac Story League met Thursday evening with Mrs. Joseph Swift on Camly street.

Mrs. Oscar Schmidt opened the program with a poem, "At the Setting of the Sun," by Margaret Sangster.

Julia Dalzell reviewed the history of Scandinavian folk tales and mythology, based on the Scandinavian theme chosen for January. She also told the story "The Boaster."

50,000 Are Expected

Visitors Arrive at MSU as Farmers Week Opens

The first several hundred of an anticipated 50,000 visitors arrived at Michigan State University today for the opening of the 45th annual Farmers Week.

Farmers from throughout Michigan and from Ohio and Indiana were on hand to see more than a million dollars worth of agricultural equipment and farm machinery which will be displayed from now until Friday.

Dr. Arthur W. Farrall, head of the MSU Agricultural Engineering Department, said the anticipated 50,000 visitors will see a display of farm machinery unequaled anywhere else in Michigan.

One tractor on display in the agricultural engineering building is operated by an electric motor with current generated from a small tank of propane gas. Another, designed for the handicapped farmer, has all hand levers on the dashboard.

Almost every major farm implement manufacturer will show off the latest models. Implements on display will range from huge, self-propelled combines to automatic conveyor belts for eggs.

"City people as well as the farmers flock to see the farm machinery," Farrall said. "Start up a tractor and you'll always draw a crowd."

MANY ANNUAL MEETINGS

The farm machinery display is only one facet of the five-day Farmers Week program. Numerous farm groups will hold annual meetings.

Speakers will include Sen. Philip A. Hart (R-Mich), George S. McIntyre, director of the State Department of Agriculture, Glenn S. Lake, president of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn., and Warren S. Shaw, head of the crop production research branch of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Farmers will be cited for achievements in dairying, crop production and management practices. Prize steers, lambs and hogs will be judged in the livestock pavilion and then be sold at public auction Thursday.

Discussion topics will include the bargaining power of farmers, the effects of a state milk price law and the challenge of Soviet agriculture.

Dairymen will be he first group to arrive and a number of breed associations have scheduled annual meetings.

The two top Holstein men in North America will be the featured speakers at the annual meeting of the Michigan Holstein-Friesian Assn. today.

They are George M. Clemons, who is in his 30th year as secretary-manager of the Holstein-Friesian Assn. of Canada, and Robert H. Rumler, executive secretary of the American Assn.

The climax of the day, and one of the highlights of Farmers' Week, is the All-Breeds Dairy Banquet, which is to be held at 6 p.m. in the ballroom at Kellogg Center.

After the meal there will be entertainment, announcement of the 500 pound butterfat winners for 1959, and an address by Dr. Malcolm Trout of the MSU Dairy Department entitled "A Dairy Professor Visits in the Soviet Union."

MARJORIE DEFFENBAUGH

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Deffenbaugh of Erie, Pa., announce the engagement of their daughter Marjorie to Russel J. Bradford. He is the son of Ruby Bradford of Saginaw and Clarence J. Bradford of 5973 Honert Rd., Ortonville. A summer wedding is planned.

KAY LORRAINE TINDALL

An August wedding is planned by Kay Lorraine Tindall and Stanley H. Hiselman. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Tindall of 5890 Hosner Rd., Addison Township. Her fiance's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Hiselman of 30165 Brentwood St., Southfield.

SHARON KAY WILKES

The engagement of their daughter Sharon Kay to H. Jon Applegate is announced by Dr. and Mrs. J. V. Wilkes of 1290 Green Ridge Rd., Avon Township. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Applegate of 580 Utah Rd., Avon Township.

Hill-Butler Rite Double-Ring in Oxford Church

The bride is the former Lois Beverly Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Empson of 1360 Granger Rd. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Hill of 64 Dennison Rd.

Her sister, Barbara, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Rose Beardsley and Marilyn Smith. Cheryl Powell was flower girl.

Duties as best man were performed by the bridegroom's brother, Wendell. Ushers were the bride's brothers, Fred and James. Their nephew, Hugh Wood was ringbearer.

PTA Session at Sims School

Panel Discussion Tonight

LAKE ORION—A panel discussion will highlight tonight's PTA meeting at the Blanche Sims School—the first since November.

The topic will be "What Makes a Good Parent, Teacher, Principal and Board Member."

Panelists will be Mrs. Ruby Rhodes, a past PTA president of Will Rogers School, Pontiac, and a parent in Blanche Sims; Jack Meyers, a teacher in the Rochester school system and also a Blanche Sims parent; and Mrs. Virginia Yasaitis, assistant principal and girls' counselor at Lake Orion Junior High School.

The school board member's viewpoint will be expressed by Henry L. Purdy, president of the Rochester Board of Education.

Dr. Justice Pearson will serve as moderator. He is a professor of English at Michigan State University Oakland and a parent of a Blanche Sim's pupil.

The meeting will start at 8 p.m. and the committee in charge is urging all junior and senior high school parents to attend in addition to those with children in the elementary grades.

Refreshments will be served.

Bakery Burglarized

The Thomas Bakery, 121 W. Huron St., was burglarized Sunday, it was reported to Pontiac Police. The intruders took an undetermined amount of change from vending machines and a dtsk.

Principal Cloud Taught Them

British Students Friendly

By LEE WINBORN

OXFORD — "Once you break through that traditional reserve, you find that English students are much the same as their American counterparts," commented Roy B. Cloud, Oxford Junior High School principal who spent last year as an exchange teacher in England.

Cloud traded positions with John G. Simpson, a teacher in a boys' grammar school in Lytham, Lancashire, England, for the 1958-59 school year. The school is in the Liverpool-Manchester area.

It was quite an adjustment for both men because of the differences in the educational systems, they said. Cloud, for example had been used to teaching in a coeducational public school — instructing the students in all subjects on one grade level.

From this customary routine, he went to England to teach two subjects — geography and history — to boys from nine to 19 in every grade at King Edward VII School.

TWO SYSTEMS

Cloud said the grammar school in Britain, like King Edwards, is the traditional secondary school. All 11-year-old boys are required to take government examinations to see if they are qualified to enter.

If they do not make the grade, they usually go to a "secondary modern" school which is coeducational and resembles more closely the American high school, the school administrator said.

The similarity is mainly in its attempt to cover a broader curriculum, he added.

The government tests are given at each grade level, and by the final year in an English grammar school the class of about 30 has dwindled to six or eight ready for university examination.

By that time, Cloud said, the remaining boys in the class are strictly interested in their work and thoroughly cooperative.

In America, the whole group of students in high school is taken to the graduation level. "The price we pay is that we cannot give the top-notchers the highest quality training," he commented.

In England, the boys in grammar school wear uniforms and their teachers (masters) academic robes. A chapel service begins the day, and the boys address their masters as "sir" and are called by their last names when asked to recite.

"I think American and British school officials are aiming at the same objective of giving identical educational opportunities to all," Cloud reflected.

"Here we have a broader base, but we must improve our quality. They have a narrower base and, without lowering their standards, they should broaden it," he asserted.

PURELY ACADEMIC

In their grammar schools, the emphasis is purely academic — geared toward university entrance. "By comparison, we train students for pre-college and also for trades," the administrator pointed out.

Professionally speaking, there is a greater gulf between students and teachers in Britain — "a remnant of the English class system of society," the Oxford teacher said, adding that once he got to know the boys they responded the same way as those at home.

The other English schools (secondary modern) are fighting a "tough battle" to win prestige because most of the boys' fathers went to grammar schools. Consequently, it is hard for them to understand and accept the different courses of study and requirements for their sons, Cloud reported.

He said he found his stay in England "most interesting" both from an academic and personal viewpoint.

Cloud took along his wife and two children, Mark, 5, and Mary, 4. They traveled to the continent, visited the Brussels World's Fair and saw many other points of interest in England and across the Channel during their year-long stay.

Cloud commented that having their two youngsters with them was a great asset because the English love children, and the pair helped break down the Briton's natural reserve about talking to strangers.

RELATES EXPERIENCES — Currently speaking to PTAs in the Oxford Area Community School district is Roy B. Cloud, junior high school principal, who was an exchange teacher in England last year. He taught in a boys' grammar school in the Liverpool-Manchester area. To illustrate his talks, he shows films of the places he visited and of the school.

Two Area Weeklies Win Quality Awards

Two area weekly newspapers were among those selected from more than 300 in the state to be honored for "general excellence" at the 92nd annual meeting of the Michigan Press Assn. at Michigan State University.

The Lapeer County Press won first place award for weekly newspapers with over 4,000 circulation. The Birmingham Eccentric tied with the Dearborn Press for third place in the metropolitan weeklies class.

Awards were presented to 22 of the state's leading weekly newspapers. Entries were judged by a panel of working newspaper men from the Kansas Press Assn.

Dr. Fred S. Siebert, director of mass communications and the school of journalism at MSU made the presentations.

Troy to Eye Assessment Refunds

TROY — Two items on the comparatively short agenda for the Troy City Commission meeting tonight are consideration of the proposed refund of over-assessments and the licensing of trucks delivering food products in the city.

The first item, a charter revision proposal, results from the city auditor's report recommending that over-assessments on special assessments found in the 1958-59 city audit be refunded.

Owners of trucks delivering food to grocery stores in Troy are asking that the special annual $15 fee they are required to pay be removed. The ordinance setting the license fee has been in effect since 1956.

Other matters to come before the commissioners are appointment of a deputy civil defense director, the quit claim deed proposal adopted by the school district and the resolution regarding the use of surplus county general funds for road and bridge improvements within unincorporated areas of the county.

Southfield Trailer Ruined by Flames

SOUTHFIELD — Two small children playing with matches yesterday set fire to their trailer home at Fons Trailer Park on Southfield road between 12- and 13-Mile roads. No one was hurt.

Damage was estimated at $3,000 by Southfield firemen.

Lloyd Burns, 35, told Southfield police the fire started in the couch of the living quarters. He tried unsuccessfully to drag the flaming piece of furniture outside.

He then hustled his wife and their two children, 6 and 2, from the trailer before calling the fire station.

By the time firefighters arrived the 27-foot trailer and an 8x12-foot wooden addition were destroyed.

Want Over $70,000 for Boy's Club

West Bloomfield Needs Soar Above Estimates

By JIM LONG

KEEGO HARBOR — More than $70,000 will be needed to start construction of the West Bloomfield Boy's Club building program, Director Carl R. Misfeldt announced today.

Originally, only $20,000 was thought necessary for construction of the clubhouse in Keego Harbor, Misfeldt said.

"We had intended to build a clubhouse with the help of the boys' parents. Now we find that to follow building restrictions and the fire code it will be necessary to have contractors do the work," he explained.

"A good portion of the $70,000 will go toward construction of a gym," Misfeldt noted.

Plans to raise the additional money will be formulated at a meeting of the board of directors at 8 p.m. Feb. 11 at West Bloomfield High School, he said.

Misfeldt said that a candy sale late in December was successful but did not raise nearly enough to begin construction.

"We had anticipated a larger sale but during the Christmas season we had a lot of competition from other youth groups in the area attempting to raise funds," he said.

The proposed clubhouse and gym will be built on property donated to the club at Willow Beach road and Summers street by VFW Post 2706.

"Though our plans are rather vague at the moment, we will probably need an elaborate brochure to distribute in order to raise funds explaining the aims of the club and the purpose of the building program," Misfeldt said.

Members of the club have been using recreation facilities at Whitfield school in Sylvan Lake and Roosevelt School in Keego Harbor, he said.

Milford Asking $15,000 for Hall

MILFORD — The 1920 vintage village office here publicly goes on sale today when a $15,000 "For Sale" sign is posted in the window.

Bids were asked last month but none were received, so the Village Council directed Village Manager Oliver Taylor to hang the sign in the office window at 351 N. Main St.

The village is selling the one-time former bank since officials are moving into new offices at 124 E. Commerce St., the former Weisbrod residence.

It is expected that the village government will move its operation to the revamped home in three weeks, Taylor said.

The new office, purchased in September for $18,000, will double the present village office space, he said.

Reconstruction of the home has been done by village employes in their spare time in order to keep cost down, Taylor said.

"Only the electrical work is being done by outside help," he said.

Student Finance Plan

OUR school has made available to its students a plan for financing tuition payments with a national organization that is devoted exclusively to educational financing. Through The Student Finance Plan students may make reduced monthly payments that extend beyond the completion of their course.

There is no good reason why any worthy young man or woman should forego the admitted advantages of specialized training just because they might feel their present financial condition should delay this opportunity.

It is immaterial to the school which plan of payment you adopt. The Student Finance Plan will enable you to act NOW. Ask for details at the school.

Charges European Auto Tariffs Too High

DETROIT (UPI)—An American Motors Corp. exports official has charged European auto-building nations use "discriminatory practices" against cars built in the United States.

W. H. Thoreson, director of exports for AMC, asserted that "not only are duty and taxes in European countries set at almost prohibitive levels, but shipping charges from East Coast ports to Europe are double those for the same car coming back to the United States."

He said total shipments of U.S. cars in 1959 fell to a postwar low of 116,520 units. In 1955, 252,000 autos were shipped.

Imports to this country, meanwhile, soared from 30,000 in 1954 to roughly 650,000 in 1959.

Thoreson said Rambler exports, however, rose to a peak of 5,180 units in 1959, up 58 per cent over 1958 shipments. The total included 423 Ramblers shipped abroad for U. S. government use, he said.

The official said "duty rates and taxes imposed on U. S. cars by European countries which have their own auto-making facilities range from 35 to 69 per cent, based on landed cost price, including ocean freight and marine insurance, on engine cubic inch displacement and/or weight."

He said in contrast the United States charged only 8.5 per cent of the price, less ocean freight, plus the 10 per cent federal excise tax.

"Shipping charges established by the international ocean shipping conferences also work to the disadvantage of U. S. auto manufacturers," Thoreson said. He said it costs $328 to ship a Rambler from New York to Germany, but only $158 to ship the same car back.

He said the United States has reduced its tariff rate in recent years to help bring about tariff reciprocity, "which has not been realized from an automotive point of view. It's time we stopped making automotive tariff reductions a one-way street."

Big Detroit Project to Be Cut in Size

DETROIT (UPI) — The huge, $100,000,000 downtown riverfront real estate development project announced about a year ago is going to be reduced in size.

Real estate circles, including the project planners, said Saturday changes in planning have been required.

As originally announced, the project would have spread over 23 acres off Detroit's civic center and would have included a large hotel and a cluster of apartment houses. Both these have been dropped.

The Smith-Bisschop Development Co., which announced the big program, said that 13 acres of land belonging to the New York Central Railway are no longer available.

Karl H. Smith, president of Smith-Bisschop, said the project necessarily must be reduced in expanse.

However, Smith said the project would be carried out to include construction of a merchandise mart, automotive and industrial exhibits building, and a 20-story office building.

Prominent Marne Man Dies in Rest Home at 83

MARNE, Mich. (UPI) — Dr. Thomas Davidson Dow, long active as a teacher, civic leader, dentist and historian, died Friday at a nursing home here after an illness of six weeks. He was 83.

He practiced at Stanton and long served as Michigan State Dental Society historian. Dr. Dow served several terms as Stanton mayor and was prominent in Montcalm County Republican activities.

Sheriff's Dept. Has Banner Year -Adds to Efficiency, Manpower

By DICK SAUNDERS

The Sheriff's Department had a red letter year in 1959, increasing in manpower, equipment and efficiency.

And it was the county residents who benefitted, getting well over a million miles worth of police protection from sheriff's deputies.

Crime increased in the county for the fourth consecutive year, but the percentage of cases solved also increased.

A stepped-up water patrol gave boaters and swimmers more protection than ever before, although the drowning toll went up.

The traffic death toll was lower than expected, and there was a decrease in the number of personal injury and property damage accidents handled by deputies.

Of 1,102 felonies investigated in 1959, 432 cases were closed, for a mark of about 39 per cent, solved by seven detectives.

In 1958 there were about 200 fewer cases. A four-man detective staff solved about 33 per cent that year.

THEFT INCREASES

Cases of theft, including breaking and entering, grand larceny and simple larceny, have risen from 493 in 1956 to 948 last year.

In 1958 there were 861 or these cases investigated by detectives who closed 275 for a record of 32 per cent. Of last year's total, 340 cases were closed for an increase to 36 per cent solved.

Of the three classifications of theft, breaking and entering cases decreased while grand and simple larcenies increased.

There were 514 break-ins investigated in 1959 and 550 the year before. The percentage of those solved went up from 38 to 45 per cent.

Grand larcenies rose from 207 to 246 and simple larcenies from 104 to 188. In both classifications last year detectives solved 25 per cent of the cases.

The total of armed or unarmed robberies in 1959 reached 20. Only five were reported in 1958. Six were closed last year and one in '58, raising the percentage here from 20 to 30 per cent.

Most impressive is the department's record on murder and nonnegligent manslaughter investigations. There were eight such cases handled by detectives last year and all were closed by Dec. 31.

Sheriff Frank W. Irons said: "We usually find that our theft investigations suffer when the men have a high amount of major crimes to handle."

Last year's total of eight murders and manslaughter cases is considered high. There were only two in 1958, seven in 1957 and three in 1956.

In other categories involving plainclothes investigation there were 11 cases of forcible rape, 10 solved; 9 felonious assaults, all solved; 12 auto thefts, with 6 solved; 11 suicides; one accidental shooting; and 99 miscellaneous minor crime investigations.

JUNE BIGGEST CRIME MONTH

The year's biggest month for crime reports was June, when 104 felonies were investigated. August was close behind, with 102. The quietest month was March, with 60 felony investigations.

The same month was unusual in that more cases were closed than were reported. Arrests led to the solution of 61 cases.

As for drownings, there were 21 compared to 19 the previous year. The addition of 10 water patrol deputies and more new equipment barely kept up with ever increasing lake traffic.

Deputies and plainclothesmen drove some 1,091,900 miles in 1959. The department's new rescue ambulance drove 17,000 miles and a rescue truck 7,160, according to records.

This totaled 1,116,160 miles driven by Irons' law enforcers during the year. About 950,000 miles were driven in 1958.

The total number of prisoners in the jail last year was 5,819, a drop from the 6,350 in 1958.

The department gained two new marked patrol cars and two new unmarked detectives cars. About six patrol cars were replaced by new models.

A new $6,000 ambulance donated to the department handled 102 emergency runs, 21 of them for drownings and 6 near drownings.

Other new equipment included a special pickup truck, an $8,000 mobile disaster unit and an emergency generator to keep the jail and sheriff's facilities running in case of a major power failure.

Deputies investigated 17 fatal accidents of the 78 in Oakland last year; 408 accidents in which 589 persons were injured, and 3,828 accidents involving only property damage.

There were 800 boat inspections and 41,084 drivers licenses issued. There were 142,738 meals served at the jail.

Don't Scream Too Late . . . Register

Protect Business Name

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Let's assume you're about to open a business in Oakland County. You start off with a bang and along comes a shyster who wants to get on your gravy train by opening up a similiar business under the same name.

You scream in protest but to no avail. You had forgotten to protect your profitable business by registering its name with the Assumed Names section of the County Clerk's Office.

Had you made a brief visit to this office in the Courthouse, laid down $2, this conniving intruder of a "businessman" could not have opened up with your same company name.

Of all the functions carried on in the clerk's office, that of Assumed Names is one of the lesser known. It is not so with the alert businessmen who are aware of its existence and appreciate its value in protecting their investments.

A state law says anybody engaged in business must register the name. But the law is seldom enforced, clerks assigned to the office will tell you.

"Two young boys came in to register the other day," declared Mrs. Katie Blackmon, one of three clerks working in the office.

"At first we thought maybe they had the wrong office," she added, "until they said they wanted to register their tropical fish business."

THEY RUN THE OFFICE

Co-partnerships also must be registered, Mrs. Blackmon said. The fee is $3.

Running the office with Mrs. Blackmon are clerks Mrs. Naomi J. Burch, of 501 Alton Ave., and Mrs. Aileen Lindstrom, of 181 Coleman St., Waterford Township.

Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr. warns that the protection of the public from shrewd operators is the major goal of the office rather than guarding an individual registered businessman.

"The law says the office can reject a name that is similiar to one already on file so that the public will not be misled or confused," Murphy said.

There are some 45,000 businesses, co-partnership and corporation names on file in the office in the southeast wing of the Courthouse. Some $9,500 in receipts was received last year for the filing of about 4,000 names of businesses and co-partnerships.

Once you're registered, the clerks warn, don't forget you must re-register every five years to keep the name protected. Notices are sent out to remind businesses when expirations approach.

You'll find if you're opening up a new business that a bank won't honor your account without a certificate of registration.

Don't bother to visit the office if you plan to open up a business under your own name. It's not necessary. But add "company" or "corporation" to the title and you must register.

Files of these names are reliable sources for law agencies investigating businesses.

Legal prosecution to collect a debt is impossible for the unregistered business, according to Murphy's chief deputy, David Lang.

Although corporations situated in Oakland County are recorded in the office, registration is made through the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission in Lansing.

Now that you have a business or co partnership opened here, there's another thing you shouldn't forget. If you, for one reason or another, must dissolve your company, you must register and pay for the discontinuance.

UP Legionnaires Urged to Back Safety Campaign

NEGAUNEE (UPI)—State American Legion Commander Lewis B. Bricker yesterday urged Upper Peninsula legionnaires to join in support of the state legion's "Operation Example" program to reduce traffic accidents and in its drive to win support for community polio clinics.

Bricker made the closing address at the legion's midwinter meeting here. He said "If you succeed in preventing one accident, saving the life of one child, through these worthwhile community programs, they are a success."

Two Primary Rivals of Kennedy Dumped

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Two of Sen. John F. Kennedy's three Democratic rivals were ruled off the New Hampshire presidential primary ballot Saturday.

Removed from the list were the names of TV cowboy singer Elton Britt of Damascus, Md., and Lar (America's First) Daly of Chicago.

Kennedy's aides charged—and state election officials agreed—that nomination petitions filed by Britt and Daly included signatures of dead men and nonexistent persons.

Waterford Cub Pack Sets Annual Banquet

Waterford Township Cub Scout Pack 165 will hold its annual Blue and Gold Banquet Tuesday on the eve of the national celebration of the Boy Scouts golden jubilee.

The banquet is scheduled for 6:15 at Leggett School. Scouts across the nation will commemorate 50 years of character-building scout work next week, Feb. 7-14.

Some 65 boys and their parents will participate in Tuesday's program which includes a song fest, movies on boy scouting and a handicraft achievement display.

A pack charter will be presented to Mrs. Frances Dawson, principal of the school. Ottawa District Commissioner Reo Brink of Milford will be the featured guest of the evening.

In other ceremonies Billy Franklin will be "pulled across the plank" into boy scout ranks and 19 cubs will receive awards.

Members will also sign a scroll and contribute to the Boy Scouts National Commemorative Tribute soon to be built at Washington, D. C., honoring scouts and their eight million leaders since 1910.

Cub master of the pack is Gerald Scott and Mrs. Charles Hoetger is general chairman of the banquet.

The event will be photographed throughout the evening for the cubs scrapbook.

Traffic Death Toll 12

2 Weekend Crashes Kill 8 Young People in State

By United Press International

Two accidents took the lives of eight young persons to send the traffic death toll in Michigan during the weekend to a total of 12 victims.

Two teen-age couples, out riding after a dance, were killed early yesterday when their speeding car shot off a curve on a rural road near Adrian and struck a tree.

The victims were trying to flee from a state police car when they died.

Killed in the grinding impact were John Steffens, 17; Barry L. Williams, 16; Marie C. Parker, 15, all of Petersburg, and Mary H. Ritch, 16, Adrian.

State Troopers James Henderson and William Wisney said they chased the car, apparently driven by Steffens, at speed up to 100 miles per hour. They lost sight of the car when it ran a red light and weaved around a curve.

When the officers saw the car again it was a pile of twisted wreckage.

Two young airmen and two 15-year-old boys in another car were killed Saturday night when their cars collided head-on on U.S. 2 south of Rudyard in the Upper Peninsula.

The victims were Airman Roy L. Mayhorn, 20; Airman Mitchell L. Neuberger, 20, both of Kincheloe AFB; Leonard Yax, 15, and Gary Shankleton, 15, both of Fibre. Shankleton died yesterday in a hospital.

Police said the car driven by Neuberger veered over the center line into a car driven by Donald H. Thompson, 16, of Fibre. Thompson and two other airmen, William W. Loy, 22, and Ray L. Land, 19, both of Kincheloe, were in critical condition.

Walter L. Elmy, 31, a Gingellville volunteer fireman, was killed when he fell from a fire truck as it rounded a sharp curve on its way to a fire in Orion.

A 64-year-old Hazel Park man, John F. Olson, died when his car hit a truck, caromed off a car and slammed into a utility pole on East Eight Mile road.

Theodore C. Crain, 54, Warren, was killed when he walked into the path of a truck near his home. The driver was released after he and witnesses made statements.

Leon Selley, 68, Detroit, was the victim of a hit-run accident. He was struck while walking near his home and died later at a hospital. Police arrested a suspect.

Red Wings Should Skip the 3rd Period

Rangers Net 3-3 Tie and Boston Wins in Finale

Detroiters Have Lost 3 of 4 NHL Contests in Last Stanza

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings, two-period wonders, did it again last night.

The Wings went into the final period with a 3-2 lead over the battered New York Rangers, but the Rangers, cellar-dwellers in the National Hockey League, came back for a 3-3 tie.

Detroit previously had lost three games in four starts, the losses all coming in the final period. The Wings started their brief road trip by losing to the Bruins 3-2 Saturday at Boston.

The Rangers, who meet the Red Wings again at Detroit Thursday, were winless in nine outings. They lacked forwards Larry Popein and Eddie Shack going into the game and lost forward Camille Henry in the first period.

Henry, a 150-pounder, slammed into the right post of the Detroit net when trying for a goal and broke his left forearm.

Dean Prentice scored the third period goal at 7:37, giving the Rangers the tie. It sailed over prostrate Detroit goalie Terry Sawchuk.

Prentice also scored New York's second goal at 14:28 of the second period.

New York tied the score at 39 seconds of the second period on a goal by Bill Gadsby, but Detroit came right back on Gordie Howe's 24th goal at 1:23. Gary Aldcorn upped the Detroit lead to 3-1 at 10:07 of the second period with his 16th goal. Then Prentice triggered the two goals that kept Detroit winless for six games.

Boston raced to a 5-0 lead over league-leading Montreal last night and then hung on for a 6-5 victory. Vic Stasiuk's third goal proved to be the winner for the Bruins, who ended the Canadiens' unbeaten string at nine.

Eric Nesterenko and Murray Balfour's late goals enabled Chicago to tie Toronto 3-3 in the other NHL game. The tie kept the Maple Leafs a point ahead of Detroit in the fight for second place.

It's No. 1 Game on Tuesday's Prep Cage Slate

By BILL CORNWELL

Pontiac Central's high-flying basketball team was back down to earth today as coach Art Van Ryzin put his warriors at hard labor in preparation for Tuesday night's headline battle at Highland Park.

Van Ryzin had plenty to say to his charges in the wake of last Friday's 45-41 Saginaw Valley Conference loss to Arthur Hill at Saginaw.

It was Central's 1st setback of the season in eight games and Van Ryzin had a lot of talking points for ammunition following a drab, cold-shooting performance by the Chiefs.

The Chiefs were a mighty subdued bunch after the licking and their realization that strong Highland Park was next on the schedule helped sober them even more.

Arthur Hill's upset victory suddenly made them realize that they were human after all.

The Pontiac Central-Highland Park game takes the spotlight on tomorrow night's slim but attractive high school basketball slate in the Oakland County area.

A full Oakland B League card, a Saginaw Valley tussle at Flint and a pair of non-conference games are additional highlights Tuesday.

In the Oakland B, Avondale fights to stay alive in the title race at Madison, Lake Orion meets runnerup Fitzgerald on the latter's court and Oak Park plays host to Clawson.

Front-running Troy faces Romeo at Romeo in a non-league contest. Defending champion Troy holds a one-game lead over the Fitzgerald cagers. Romeo of the Tri-County loop has won its last four starts and currently sets the pace in that circuit.

Flint Northern and Flint Central resume their city feud at the Flint IMA Auditorium in a Saginaw Valley game and Saginaw invades Bay City Handy for an "outside" tilt.

On the local front, Milford and Walled Lake collide at Walled Lake in a rematch, winless Cranbrook entertains Detroit Lutheran West and Hazel Park goes to Royal Oak Dondero to fight John Meadows and Company. Lake Shore visits Utica for a Bi-County duel.

West Bloomfield and Inkster renew their infant rivalry at Keego Harbor. The two teams met for the 1st time last season at Inkster and the Lakers lost the decision.

Pontiac Central's squelched and serious-minded players face a king-sized barrier at Highland Park against a team boasting a 7-2 record and a reputation for being almost unbeatable at home.

The Parkers, coached by Eldon Rouse, dropped a four-point verdict to River Rouge and a two-point tiff to Grosse Pointe, both strong clubs. The latest Parker success was a 72-36 rout of Monroe last Friday in Border Cities action.

This is the 1st year at Highland Park for Rouse following phenomenal success at Berkley where he guided the Bears to four consecutive Inter-Lakes titles.

Eaglets, Mikemen Meet, Rams Lose

Parochials on Final Lap

Mired in one of their less successful seasons of Suburban Catholic League competition, St. Frederick cagers today welcomed a brief interlude after losing a tough, see-saw battle Saturday night against St. Clement.

The Pontiac club once again just didn't have enough to outlast a stubborn Crusader five, 48-43. Coach Gene Wright figured lack of hustle, particularly in the 3rd period, hurt most.

Rams had managed a 22-20 halftime edge, but couldn't make it stick, although squaring the total several times, and grabbing brief leads in the finale. The clubs were never more than two points apart in the hectic windup, that left the Rams with a 2-8 record and two to go.

Mike Reed and Jim Kennedy, with 18 and 11 points respectively, led the Rams. Game high point man was Crusaders' George Mayernik with 19.

There was a note of quiet confidence at Orchard Lake St. Mary and at Pontiac St. Michael today on the eve of Tuesday's "game of truth" in Pontiac Central's big court. This setto, only parochial (SCL) tilt slated for Tuesday, is a playoff of an earlier postponed tilt. It can determine what either club can hope in the way of staying in the title competition.

A loss by Eaglets would almost wipe out their chances. By the same token, a victory would put them back solidly in the race, with the Friday clash at St. Benedict's the payoff contest. Shamrocks are 7-2, Eaglets 8-1 and Ravens 9-1.

Starters for both Shamrock and Eaglet fives will be unchanged from last weekend's tests, in which St. Benedict defeated St. Michael and OLSM outlasted St. James.

Reserve teams open Tuesday's meeting at 7 p.m. with the varsity going at 8:15 p.m.

Pistons Lose to Celts for 6th Time, 146-128

BOSTON (UPI)—The records show the Boston Celtics have lost 11 games this season and the Detroit Pistons are wondering how the defending National Basketball Association champions dropped that many.

The Pistons and the Celtics have met six times this season and Detroit has yet to score a victory.

Boston coasted to a 146-128 victory over Detroit here yesterday afternoon and it was only through the mercy of coach Red Auerbach that the Celtics didn't pile up a much higher score.

Auerbach gave his reserves more time on the court than the regulars in an effort to hold down the score.

The Celtics raced into a 44-28 lead in the opening period and appeared well on their way to topping their own NBA one-game scoring mark of 173 points before Auerbach decided to give the reserves a chance early in the second period.

It was Boston's 14th victory in 15 meetings with the Pistons in the past two years. The Celtics have a 41-11 record over-all this season.

Five Boston players scored 20 points or more. Tom Heinsohn was high with 28, Bill Sharman had 23, Gene Conley had 21 and Frank Ramsey and Bob Cousy had 20 each.

Gene Shue was the Detroit leader with 22 points.

About the only excuse the Pistons could muster was that it was their third start in 40 hours with each game in a different city.

The Pistons dropped a 130-125 loss to the Hawks in overtime at St. Louis Friday night and beat the Hawks, 117-107, in Detroit Saturday night.

Detroit plays host to the Cincinnati Royals on Wednesday night.

All-Star Pin Points

THE 'T' FORMATION

By ED KAWOLICS

The T-formation is fine in football, but I'm one of the few people to use it successfully in bowling.

I make the "T" with my feet while taking my stance. My left foot points toward the No. 10 pin and my left heel is against the arch of my right foot.

Because of my odd starting position, I must first step over my left foot. With such a beginning, they tell me it is difficult to figure out how I achieved the smooth timing necessary for big pin totals.

Let me mention one other deviation or fault, and then I'll explain how I overcame them. I'm a spot bowler. Now most spot bowlers pick a spot out on the lanes on which to fix their gaze during delivery of the ball. I'm a little bit different; I pick a spot on the foul line itself and fasten my eyes on it.

Troubles? Sure I should have them. I should be out of timing because of my peculiar stance. I should be further out of timing and coordination because my "spot" must necessarily disappear from view as I reach the foul line.

The reason I am able to bowl accurately and well despite these little deviations is actually the secret of all good bowling. I am able to reproduce mechanically my bowling actions exactly the same way time after time. While I get more practice at it than most people, I want to re-emphasize this as a goal for all bowlers—try to reproduce your bowling actions the same way time after time. The more you practice, the easier this will be for you.

'M' Loses Another; De Busschere's 38 Paces U-D

Battered State Still Hopeful

By United Press International

Forddy Anderson, Michigan State basketball coach, is optimistic at a time when most coaches would be pessimistic.

"Michigan State is very definitely still in the Big Ten race," Anderson said after watching his Spartans absorb a 111-79 trouncing at Ohio State Saturday.

It was the biggest score ever run up against a Michigan State team and the worst conference loss suffered by the Spartans — 11 points had been the widest winning margin over Michigan State in the Big Ten.

But Anderson noted that Michigan State will be at home for most of its remaining conference games this season while front-running Ohio State will be on the road a bulk of the time.

The Spartans have two home games this week, against Minnesota tonight and Purdue Saturday. Michigan State is the defending Big Ten champion and has a 3-3 conference mark.

Ohio State is unbeaten in five Big Ten games.

Michigan dropped its fourth conference decision in a row Saturday, an 83-63 loss to Purdue. The Wolverines are still looking for their first Big Ten win.

De Busschere poured in 38 points —his high for the season — and picked off 39 rebounds to lead the Titans to their 14th victory against only two setbacks—road losses at Indiana and Notre Dame.

Wolverine Trackmen Capture Six Events in AAU Meet

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Host University of Michigan won six events Saturday night to dominate the annual state AAU track relays.

Les Bird of Michigan won the broad jump with a leap of 23 feet 11¾ inches and teammate Dick Cephas won the high jump with a six-foot four-inch effort.

Michigan's Tom Robinson gave the Wolverines a third individual title with a 6.2 clocking in the 60-yard dash.

The other three Michigan triumphs came in the 220-yard shuttle hurdle relay, the spring medley relay and the University mile relay.

Ron Hopkins won the two-mile run in 9:39.1 for Western Michigan and the Broncos also won the two-mile relay, the distance medley relay and the college and club 880-yard relay.

Essig Is 'Sunkist'

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Don Essig of Louisiana State came from far back Sunday to win the Sunkist Mid Winter Invitational golf tournament by one stroke.

Edges Pott by Single Stroke

Souchak San Diego Victor

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Mike Souchak, one of the most popular professionals in golf, led a contingent to the rich gold diggings of Palm Springs today, still jubilant over his victory in the $20,000 San Diego Open.

Souchak won the $2,800 top money here yesterday after a seesaw battle with unheralded Johnny (Tee) Pott of Shreveport, La., that was not decided until the final putt.

Pott, 24, a relative newcomer to renown, had a chance to tie when he came to the 18th.

The only provision, and a big one it was—he had to sink a 25-foot putt for a birdie. He came within a whisper of making it, but missed.

It got him a 69 for the day and 270 for the tournament.

Art Wall Jr., made a great challenge to unseat the leaders but his 68 gave him 273.

Johnny Pott, $1,900 Shreveport, La.	69-66-66-69—270

Drayton 'Diana' Named Winner of 'Golf' Shoot

Shooting a smooth 22 (handicap) round, in Sunday's golf shoot, over Pontiac Country Club's course, Mrs. Jessie Toteff, Drayton Plains, emerged as the top bow. Event was held by Giles White Buck Archers' club, with a fast field of 72 archers in action. Mrs. Toteff is a Giles member.

Other places went to Frank Toth (Giles), Birmingham, 23; Walter Tate (Royal Archery, Det.), 24; Ronald Frank (Royal Archers, Farmington) 25.

Helen Orr, (Pontiac Archers) shot an actual 66 and Dick Bently (Waterford) had an actual 53 for the day's best shooting. In a clout shoot Charlie Black (Pontiac) was 6-inches off target for first; Harry Ruks (Pontiac), 2nd at 6-feet; Bill Creamer (Pontiac), 3rd.

Watrous 13 Behind

Metz Wins PGA Seniors

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Two Michigan veterans finished among the leaders yesterday in the windup of the 21st seniors golf tournament here.

Al Watrous of Birmingham, who had led in the first round, finished with a 71-75-74-77—297. Jim Barfield of Grand Rapids was two strokes back with a 299 on rounds of 72-74-77-76.

Dick Metz of New Orleans won first prize of $1,500 with a 286 and he will be America's senior golf ambassador to Great Britain this year.

The 51-year-old veteran from New Orleans earned that honor yesterday in a great come-from-behind finish over the 6,609-yard PGA national course. He left his closest rival five strokes behind.

It was the case of the bridesmaid finally getting married. The handsome Metz never had won a real big one during his long career as a touring pro, although he was close many times.

There was no fluke about his victory yesterday. Trailing big Charles Farlow of Greensboro, N. C., by two strokes as the final round started, Metz uncorked a sparkling two-under-par 70 as Farlow faded to a 79 which dropped him to fifth place with 291. with 291.

Other contenders given a chance at the start of the final day made a try at it, but couldn't match the pace of the handsome New Orleans sharpshooter, whose 70 was the only subpar round of a cold and windy day.

Tony Longo of Clark's Summit, Pa., who was five strokes back after 54 holes, carded a 72 to finish in a tie with Paul Runyan of La Jolla, Calif., for second place. Runyan had a 73 for his final round. Defending champion Willie Goggin of Coyote, Calif. also five strokes back at 217 at the three-quarter mark, soared to a 76 and a tie for seventh at 293.

Tony Long, $875 Clark's Summit, Pa.	74-72-71-72—289
Paul Runyon, $875 LaJolla, Calif.	71-75-70-73—289
Charles Sheppard, $650 Highland Park, Ill.	68-72-78-72—290
Char s Farlow Greensboro, N.C.	72-66-74-79—291
Leland Gibson, $500 Kansas City	68-75-75-74—292
Willie Goggin, $375 Coyote, Calif.	72-73-72-76—293
Jack Isaacs, $375 Langley, AFB, Va.	73-74-71-75—293
Pete Burke, $275 Cold Springs Har., N.Y.	70-75-74-75—294
Clarence Doser, $275 Vero Beach, Fla.	76-71-73-74—294

Golden Glovers Advance to Finals

There were 12 bouts staged in Saturday night's preliminaries with one kayo and a pair of TKOs recorded along with nine decisions.

Featherweight Alex Trevino of Pontiac scored an impressive third round TKO over Lawrence Colman of Port Huron and welterweight Ruben Flores of Pontiac took an unanimous decision over Harry Jones of Port Huron.

Thomas Pethor of Pontiac gave Port Huron's Doug Ashford a severe pounding and won the only kayo of the night. Ashford was taken to the hospital for observation after the fight.

In the featherweight novice class Gerald Gemmell of Pontiac took a unanimous decision from Lavon Howell of Port Huron.

A good performance was turned in by Glenn Uhl in the middleweight open class as he hammered Ray Williams to win an unanimous decision. Uhl has an experienced background of service boxing behind him.

Lone double winner of the night was Port Huron's Charles Lloyd who defeated Pontiac's Bill Robertson on an unanimous decision in a lightweight bout and then came back to earn a decision of Edwin Brown also of Pontiac.

The winners will join an additional list of fighters in the heavier classes next Saturday night.

The Jaycees, sponsors of the 2nd annual tournament, have made tickets available at various locations around the city. Winners next Saturday night will then represent this area in the state championships at Grand Rapids Feb. 12-13, and from there the champs will go to Chicago for the National tournament early in March.

Houston Quits MVC Seeking Top League

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The University of Houston resigned from the Missouri Valley Conference last night and will renew its efforts for membership in a major football conference.

The reason given by Dean Ralph C. Bursiek of Cincinnati, president of the conference, and the league's commissioner, Norvall Neve, was that Houston had "a conflict of interests in scheduling football games."

Skin Diving Classes Offered at Pontiac Y

The five week course is being offered by the Y for all men and women over 18 with Bill Jackson of the County Water Safety Division as the instructor.

Further information can be obtained by calling John Moreau, aquatics director at the YMCA.

Jones Crosses First Hurdle Toward Olympic Bid

Hayes Equals World Mark in High Hurdles

(From Our Wire Services)

NEW YORK—Hayes Jones, the fleeting timber topper from eastern Michigan, has crossed his first hurdle toward a possible U.S. olympic berth with a world record-equalling race in the winter's first big meet.

The Pontiac speedster skipped over the 60-yard high hurdles in seven seconds flat Saturday night at the Millrose games.

How high is up for John Jones? No one in his right mind would set a limit on the high jumping talents of the gangling Boston University sophomore.

But one thing appeared certain today. This newly acquired indoor record of 7 feet 1½ inches won't be on the books for long. He set it Saturday night in the Millrose games and there wouldn't be an eyebrow raised if he upped the record a half inch or so this week before his hometown folks in the Boston AA meet.

If there is a nervous bone in the body of the 18-year-old whiz, it doesn't show. He has progressed to the point where he analyzes his task as a physician does a patient.

His 7-1½ was just a quarter of an inch better than his previous mark, but when you get up that high, it means a lot.

"The quarter of an inch is all in your mind," he said. "I don't do anything different, but is think about it, look at the signs and somehow set my sights higher."

Matter of fact, it didn't look like John's night at all. He missed twice at 6-11 after Charlie Dumas of Southern California, the world's first 7-footer, had cleared the height.

He tried 7-2½ three times, but the edge off and he didn't come close.

Thomas' record, incidentally, won't be submitted as a world standard because the International Amateur Athletic Federation doesn't pass on ndoor marks. Yuri (elevator shoe) Stepanov of Russia still holds the listed outdoor record of 7-1 but only because Thomas hasn't done much outdoor jumping. He should take care of that this spring or summer.

Thomas' performance took some of the glitter off Hayes Jones' 7 second flat 60-yard high hurdles. That tied the indoor record and marked the third time the Eastern Michigan runner has been clocked in 7 flat, Milt Campbell, who did it twice, is the only other timber topper who has done it in 7 seconds.

Other winners included Don Bragg in the pole vault (15-4 and missed three times at 16 feet), Tom Murphy of the New York A.C. in the half mile 1:53), Frank Budd of Villanova in the 60-yard dash (6.2), Mal Spence of Arizona State in the mel sheppard 6000 (1:11.5), Jim Grelle of Oregon in the Wanamaker mile (4:06.4), and Al Lawrence of Houston in the 3 mile run (13:38, second fastest ever indoors).

Heiss and Jenkins Head Skating Team

SEATTLE (AP) — The U.S. Olympic skating squad was due to take to the air today, but it appeared one and possibly two members of the team would be grounded by flu.

Heading the dozen skaters who will represent the United States at the Winter Olympics will be Carol Heiss and David Jenkins. Each won his fourth consecutive title at the National Figure Skating Championships that ended here Saturday.

Lucille Sandow Takes Elks' Ladies' Singles Lead at 662

Pontiac bowlers are being pushed hard but they still hold the leads in two of the five divisions of the Elks' Ladies International Invitational after three weekends of action here.

Lucille Sandow paced a local delegation yesterday by replacing fellow townsman Eileen Wheeler atop the singles pack by hitting 518 to go with a 144 handicap for 662.

LaBatt's Ale & Pilsner of Pontiac has held on as the No. 1 team since opening day with 2984. Burd of Ann Arbor came up with the best bid Saturday with 2944 for third.

Keglers from Gary, Ind. took over the other three 1st places yesterday overshadowing a strong performance by some Kalamazoo contestants.

Jean Kent and Julia McKeny moved in front in doubles with 1278 bowling 993. McKeny also gained the lead in both all events departments with 1581-1896.

MICHIGAN STATE

Don Campbell of Royal Oak hit 686 to take singles actual lead. Len Biallas of Pontiac is 4th in all events at 1,999 after three weekends at Muskegon. Pontiac Strohs is 2nd among teams.

EAGLES STATE

WOMAN'S STATE

Birdbrain took the team lead with 2,979 and Mary Glover went ahead in singles on 664. Both are from host city Detroit.

STATE K OF C

New pacesetters in all four divisions including Ed Reband of Utica with 723 in singles, Paul Korte-Bruno Morianti of Southfield 1,295 in doubles. Southfield St. Francis took 2nd in team action at 3,016.

Surprise Bay City Y

YMCA Swimmers Impress

Pontiac YMCA swimmers scored impressive victories in three divisions over a strong Bay City team Saturday in the Bay City pool.

The Pontiac swimmers got revenge for the defeats handed them in December by the same team by winning the midget division (10 and under) 36-10; the prep division 54½-41½, and the junior division 47-35.

John Mason and John Storrie took first and second in the breaststroke of the midget division. Freestyler Brian Stoutenberg did a fine :12.1 second in the 20 yard breaking his own record of :12.3.

The prep division was very close with Skip Ervin winning the butterfly and Rob Powers the backstroke. Ross Coppersmith and Dave Edgington went 1-2 in the breaststroke and Chuck Ries grabbed the diving event to expand the local lead.

Pontiac Y swimmers will participate in the Michigan Amateur Aquatics Meet to be held at PNH next Sunday.

'Dale's Bad Ankle Gets Checkup

Retirement 'Just Rumor'

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Hillsdale's owner says a report that the Indiana Flyer will be retired to stud because of an ankle injury is "strictly a rumor."

Detroit industrialist C. W. Smith told a reporter last night: "We haven't said a thing about his retiring. I don't know how this rumor got started."

A swelling in the horse's left front ankle forced Smith to scratch Hillsdale from the San Carlos Handicap Jan. 9. The swelling went down and the 5-year-old son of Take Away worked five-lengths in 1:02 Wednesday. But afterward, the ailing leg failed again.

Smith said Dr. Alex Harthill, Louisville veterinarian, had been summoned to examine Hillsdale but that his arrival was delayed.

"I consider Dr. Harthill the best 'leg man' in the business," the owner said. "After he's had a chance to make a thorough examination we may have something to say. But not before."

It was Harthill who recommended that Smith buy the horse for $25,000 from Murlogg Farm. Since then Hillsdale has won more than $600,000 for Smith, a former professional football player.

Kennedy Looks to June Primary

But Wisconsin Ruling on Vote Count May Help California Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) has told friends he will decide by mid-March whether to oppose Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown in the June 7 California Democratic primary.

Brown wants to head his state's 81-vote delegation to the Los Angeles party convention and be able to shop around among the candidates during the balloting there. He has told presidential hopefuls to stay out of the California primary.

Kennedy's strategists had been aiming for a 21-10 defeat of Humphrey in the battle for Wisconsin's 31 delegate votes. They had hoped to gain 11 delegates named from the state at large and win in five of the 10 congressional districts which pick two each.

But Wisconsin's Democratic party administrative committee changed the apportionment Saturday to give 2½ delegate votes to each congressional district with six named from the state as a whole. This tended to cut down the significance of the statewide totals on which Kennedy had been counting.

He protested from Salt Lake City that it was "unfair to change the rules of the game after the game has started." He said, however, he would remain in the contest.

State Tourist Imports Higher Than Exports

LANSING (AP) — There are more out-of-state people traveling in Michigan than Michigan people traveling in other states.

That's the finding of the State Highway Department in a survey of all 21 trunklines crossing Michigan's southern border.

Out-of-state vehicles crossing the border outnumbered Michigan cars by 16 per cent, the department said.

Fifty-two per cent of the vehicles were from other states, 36 per cent were from Michigan and the rest were trucks and buses.

The survey showed an average of 48,746 vehicles crossed the border heading north each day, but the northward flow dropped to 5,840 in the Lansing area, 611 at Crawford and 187 at the Straits of Mackinac Bridge.

The figures were a by-product of a study to help determine future expressway routes and highway construction priorities.

Los Angeles County Claims 6 Million People

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Los Angeles County today claims a population that surpasses six million persons and makes the area larger than all but seven of the 50 states.

The Regional Planning Commission announced latest estimates set the population total at 6,016,405 persons, a gain of 197,148 over 1959.

Some 2,473,261 county residents live within the Los Angeles city limits while the remainder resides in unincorporated areas and 65 cities within the county.

The commission estimated the population has increased by one million within the past five years.

Navy's Reserve Head to Address Lions Club

Pontiac Lions Club members will hear Lt. Cmdr. William C. Remick at their luncheon meeting Wednesday.

The meeting will be at the Waldron Hotel.

County to Call Only 6 Men for Draft in March

The draft quota for Oakland County in March will be only six men, all from Pontiac Draft Boards 65 and 67, according to Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state selective service director.

Board 65 will furnish one man and 67 will furnish the remaining five.

A total of 248 will be called by draft boards throughout Michigan. Most of the call will be filled by volunteers.

Another 300 registrants in Michigan will be called for preinduction physical exams.

Graham Draws Biggest Crowd

40,000 Nigerians Jam Lagos Race Course to Hear Evangelist

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Billy Graham is leaving for Ibadan today after drawing the biggest crowd so far of his African tour Sunday night.

An estimated 40,000 persons packed Lagos Race Course to hear the American evangelist. This was 15,000 more than turned out for his opening meeting in Nigria Saturday, when 1,000 came forward to make decisions for Christ.

"I believe the spirit of God is in many hearts and interest in Christianity is growing," Graham told the crowd.

The chief Moselm missionary in West Africa, Nassem Saifi, came to hear Graham both nights, but there was no repetition Sunday night of the distribution of anti-Christian pamphlets that had been passed around on Saturday.

Homemade Rocket Kills Youthful Experimenter

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — A homemade rocket changed direction immediately after launching, police said, and killed one of three back-yard experimenters.

John J. Bergl, 13, was pronounced dead at Valley Receiving Hospital Sunday. Attendants said the improvised rocket — a 4-foot aluminum pipe—had pierced his chest.

Troops Getting New M14 Rifle

Weapon Fires Faster Than Machine Gun; Will Replace Older Styles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has begun issuing its new rifle, the M14, to the troops. This is a versatile weapon, capable of firing faster than a machinegun.

The first to get the M14 are units of the 101st Airborne Division at Ft. Campbell, Ky., one of the four crack divisions of the Strategic Army Corps. STRAC is a force kept in readiness to rush to any world trouble spot on short notice.

The new rifle is a major part of the Army's modernization program. It is designed to replace the M1 Garand rifle, the M2 carbine, the Browning Automatic rifle and the M3 submachine gun.

The M14 fires the new 7.62 mm cartridge adopted by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The rifle weighs 10 pounds with a fully loaded 20-shot magazine.

The weapon, considered highly accurate, can fire at the rate of 750 shots a minute when equipped with a fire selector, compared to a maximum of 525 rounds a minute of the .30 caliber machinegun now in general use. The M14 is capable of either automatic or semi-automatic fire.

"If," said Weeks genially, "you want to learn things you never dreamt of, come and travel with us for a month. Human nature we'll teach you, and the work of nimble fingers, and the ease with which yokels can be made to bilk themselves. Sharpers, Mr. Applegate, don't have to be so sharp. It's the cupidity of people makes it easy for us. Smart Alecs trying to overreach us. Get something for nothing.

"Now offhand, you might say, Mr. Applegate, that we played tricks on folks and maybe weren't a hundred per cent honest. But if there wasn't a broad streak of dishonesty in the crowds that come to see us, we'd have no luck."

I was enjoying myself; of such frank rascality I never had dreamed. These people did not seem to me to be so much immoral as amoral. They made no effort to justify themselves, but seemed to be convinced that they were merely holding their own in a dog-eat-dog world, and that there was no wrong in cheating somebody before that somebody could cheat them.

"But," I protested, "everybody in the world isn't trying to cheat everybody else. Syracuse is full of people of rectitude and integrity, living normal, honorable lives."

"To be sure," said Weeks. "Like those upstanding citizens who are making money hand over fist exhibiting a fake stone giant. I even hear rumors you had a murder here not so long ago."

"Oh, that!" I said. "It was a dreadful thing. The victim was found in my father's barn, sitting in his carriage."

"And nobody," said Weeks, "has been arrested for it. Why not, Mr. Applegate? Somebody have influence?"

"No, indeed," I protested. "The dead man has not even been identified. No one in Syracuse ever had seen him alive."

"Somebody must have," Weeks said. "He didn't strangle himself, did he?"

"No. But he was exposed in the undertaking parlor as long as it was possible, and hundreds looked at him without identifying him."

HAD POP EYES

"What kind of looking hairpin was this feller?" asked the pickpocket, who sat next to me.

"A large beefy man," I told him, "with burnside whiskers, kind of reddish color, and pale pop eyes."

"Dew tell," exclaimed the man with the deft fingers. "Naow he wouldn't maybe have had him on his right cheek a kind of a purple mole about the size of a sixpense?"

I sought to visualize the horrid face of that dead man as I had seen it in our carriage on the Sabbath morning. There was, indeed, if my memory served, a round discoloration on his cheek.

"And another thing," I said, recollecting, "the second finger of one of his hands—I think it was the right—had been cut off at the second joint."

There was silence about that table—an ominous sort of silence. The members of the troupe looked at one another with narrowed, malicious eyes. Then, after a moment, all was as it had been.

Mr. Weeks shrugged. "For a moment," he said, "we thought it might be someone we knew."

"It was," mumbled the dull-witted boy who was able to disjoint himself. "I knowed right off when he said about the cut-off finger. It was the Dook."

"Aw, shucks," said Mr. Weeks. "It couldn't have been."

"It was the Dook," reiterated the half-wit.

"All right," Weeks said after a moment. "It was the Duke. And if we didn't have to skedaddle out of town like we have, I'd make it my business to find out who treated our friend so."

A HEAVY MAN!

"Me," said the slovenly girl who looked so lovely under the flaring lights at night, "I always said he'd come to a bad end. Always snoopin'. Always apryin'. Always tryin' to find out secrets. What I repeat is he come to the end I expected. He found out one secret too many."

"The Dook," said my light-fingered neighbor, "was a stoutish, heavy sort of man. Anybody that hung onto him and throttled him with his hands would have to be stronger'n that feller that fit battles with the jawbone of an ass."

"Only man I know of stout enough to do that, 'n' then hoist him into a carriage and set him down all neat and peaceful," declared the girl who sang ballads, "was Bigfoot Swede."

"If he done it," said the mesmerizer, "then I calc'late not to make it none of my business."

"What I asked, "was the Duke's real name?"

"Seems like I forget," Weeks said. "He was kind of chary of mentioning it."

Weeks stood up politely and extended his hand to me. "It has been educational meeting you. Mr. Applegate," he said graciously. "I hope we meet sometime again."

After that I had to shake hands with all the members of the troupe, including the boy who could disjoint himself. And then I strolled back toward my office.

As I walked along, I had to face the fact that the most promising piece of law business that had come my way had blown up in my face and Lossie would laugh at me for being so thoroughly taken in by a scalawag.

And I would have been taken in, had it not been for Madam Janeway and her warning. I might even have become an innocent party to a fraud and a sharer in its profits.

Grain Futures View Numerous Losses

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain future market had numerous losses running to major fractions and some to a cent or more today in early dealings on the board of trade.

A slightly easier market for soybean oil and soybean meal probably influenced selling of soybeans somewhat although traders said the related market was by no means the controlling one.

Cash corn receipts were described as moderately heavy over the weekend both here and at other terminals. Hedging met a slow acceptance.

29 Oil Firms Face Price Fix Charges

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Twenty-nine major oil companies go to trial in federal court here today on charges they violated anti-trust laws by plotting increases in oil and gasoline prices.

All indications are the nonjury trial will be a long one, perhaps two to six months.

The defendants include some of the nation's most prominent. One—Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey)—is rated the petroleum world's largest. Four of its affiliates also are accused.

So are such other industry titans as Sinclair Oil Corp., Standard Oil Co. (Indiana), Cities Service Co., Phillips Petroleum Co., Shell Oil Co., The Texas Co. (now Texaco Inc.), Socony Mobil Oil Co., Gulf Oil Corp. and Tidewater Oil Co.

Waterford Man Hurt in Fall From Haulaway

Alfred Nelson, 47, of 6641 Cloverton St., Waterford Township, was hospitalized Saturday afternoon when he fell from the top of a haulaway truck on Tennyson Ave.

Nelson was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with an injured right ankle. He was reported in satisfactory condition today.

News in Brief

Mrs. John Karaban, of Hamtramck, reported that vandals had Police yesterday that vandals had attacked her cottage at 3088 Barbary St., Commerce Township, breaking 20 windows and two storm door panes, totally valued at about $200.

Burglars took a car battery and an undetermined amount of change from vending machines in a break-in of Ed Border's gas station, 243 Auburn Ave., it was reported to Pontiac Police Sunday.

Ten windows were broken and a canvas awning slashed by vandals Sunday at a cottage at 1849 Watkins Lake Rd., Waterford Township, owned by Robert Sdunek of Detroit, said state troopers.

A 12-inch table model television set was reported stolen yesterday from the Sherwood Motel, 2460 Dixie Hwy., Waterford Township, according to state police.

Stock Market Starts Upside

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market perked up early this afternoon, raising the hope among some Wall Streeters that a "Blue Monday" might be avoided for the first time in four weeks.

Steels and motors were active in a recovery movement which lifted the market to a fair gain by midsession.

A number of high quality issues, hit badly in last week's steep decline, recouped nicely. Union Carbide, which fell 10 points last week, regained about 4.

Gains of fractions to a point or so were made by most leading issues. A few wider movements, to the upside or downside, occurred among the "glamor" stocks.

The business news looked favorable to brokers and the end of France's colonial revolt in Algiers eliminated one uncertain factor. Some analysts believed that the market may be at or near an "oversold" condition.

The market was irregular in early trading, steadying after Friday's severe setback. The ticker tape was late at the start. Prices grew better gradually.

General Electric rose more than a point. GE said it is experimenting with a radically new rocket engine. United Aircraft, which was firm, has developed a new concept for solid fuel propellants, according to a published report.

Ford, which had higher output for January, was up a point. Similar gains were made by Chrysler and Studebaker-Packard. General Motors erased a small early loss and was steady. American Motors and Studebaker-Packard when issued were fractionally higher.

In the "science" group, Beckman Instruments picked up a couple of points while Polaroid slid about 3. Moderate gains were posted for Sperry Rand, Raytheon and Radio Corp.

Rails and utilities supported the rise of industrials by advancing on balance.

The top four steelmakers were all on the upside moderately. Oils, electrical and airlines were up.

Whereas, on July 21, 1959, an application, in writing, was filed with me as County Drain Commissioner of Oakland County, Michigan, praying that I lay out and designate a Special Assessment District with reference to the establishment and maintenance of the waters of Watkins Lake at a certain height above sea level, namely, the normal height thereof and

Whereas, such application was filed pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 319 of the Public Acts of the State of Michigan for the year 1941; and

Whereas, as a means of determining the practicability of said proposed lake level establishment, I did cause a survey to be made by Robert M. McGinnis, a competent Registered Civil Engineer, which survey and preliminary report in reference thereto is on file in my office.

Now, therefore, I do hereby determine and order, as follows:

1. I hereby determine that the said application is sufficient and is signed by not less than ten (10) freeholders owning land abutting the lake in question, the eligibility of the signers to said application having been determined by me according to their interest of record in the Office of the Register of Deeds, in the Probate Court or in the Circuit Court of the County of Oakland.

2. I do further determine that from said survey and other field investigation made by me that the proposed establishment of the level of said lake is practical and that said application should be granted.

3. I do further order and determine that the official name of said project shall be "Watkins Lake Level Control" and that the official name of the drainage district shall be "Watkins Lake Level Control Special Assessment District."

4. I do further order and determine that the drainage district for said project shall be constituted of all lands abutting on said Watkins Lake and which are described as follows:

TV News and Reviews

2 Hours of 'Fabulous 50s' Couldn't Be Much Better

By FRED DANZIG

Henry Fonda and Eric Sevareid served as narrators.

NO VILLAINS

The only barb in the show was contained in the routine by Mike Nichols and Elaine May, a water cooler summit meeting in which they sprinkled us with tantalizing comments on the TV quiz scandals.

The fact that just about everything else was on a happy-happy kick didn't bother me because, let's face it, folks, we weren't told to expect a definite survey of the past decade by Prof. Arnold Toynbee.

The great emphasis in the show was in molding the many titillating fads, fancies and furies of the '50s in cohesive, entertaining chapters.

As a result, our TV, motion picture and Broadway achievements received most of the attention.

Controversila figures in the world of politics and statesmanship were either given non-controversial, cursory mention or overlooked completely.

NOT PROPER HISTORY

While I wouldn't take the show seriously as proper history, I would not hesitate to take it seriously as an example of TV entertainment at its best.

The numbers may have ranged from hilarious to mildly interesting, but they were never dull.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: For those who have wondered just what Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt will do when she is Frank Sinatra's guest on his Feb. 15 ABC-TV special: She'll recite a special set of lyrics to the song, "High Hopes." . . . Maureen O'Hara has the leading role in the 90-minute adaptation of "The Valley of Decision," to be seen on CBS-TV Sunday, March 20.

Jack Benny's May 18 special on CBS-TV will be a rerun of his Nov. 7, 1959 show. . . . TV's latest gossip deals with a cold war involving Producer Hubbell Robinson and Ford Motors, sponsor of those Tuesday night Startime specials on NBC-TV. . . . Jack Paar's next NBC-TV special is set for Tuesday, April 26, for a watch company. Same outfit, Elgin, is planning two other Paar specials for next fall. . . . CBS-TV's Mr. Lucky now calls his floating hangout a "Supper Club" instead of a gambling ship in order to avoid complaints.

New Yorkers Eying $66 Million Surplus

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller submitted to the Legislature today a pay-as-you-go budget that calls for record state spending of $2,035,000,000 and a 66-million-dollar cushion that could touch off new demands for tax relief.

The Republican governor did not recommend any general tax cuts or increases.

Columbia Assistant Dean Amherst College Prexy

His election by the trustees as successor to Charles W. Cole was announced Sunday. Cole will retire in June after 14 years as president.

Dr. Plimpton is a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy, Amherst and Harvard medical school.

Poll Tiff Makes School Bill Late

Slows Measure Which Asks Federal Aid for Constructing Buildings

WASHINGTON (AP) — A continuing squabble over anti-poll tax measures today imperiled Senate leadership plans for early action on a bill to provide federal aid for school construction.

The school aid bill is the next major legislation scheduled to be taken up in the Senate, but time is running short before a full-scale battle over civil rights measures breaks out about Feb. 15.

* * *

The Senate now is arguing over a two-pronged drive to bar states from requiring payment of poll taxes before a person can vote in congressional and presidential elections.

PLAN LISTED

Sen. Spessard L. Holland (D-Fla). is sponsoring a constitutional amendment to outlaw the poll tax as a voting requirement; Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) is seeking the same goal by an act of Congress.

Five states will require voters to pay a poll tax. They are Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, Texas and Virginia.

Some Southern senators are battling against any federal action to wipe out poll taxes, on the ground that the qualification of voters is a state matter. Others are backing Holland's constitutional amendment.

Arraign Dr. Spears in Theft of Taylor Car

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Robert Vernon Spears, the heavily insured ex-convict once believed killed in a plane crash, was to be arraigned today on a federal auto theft charge.

The portly Dallas naturopath is accused of stealing the car of an old friend and former fellow convict, William Allen Taylor, 60, of Tampa, Fla., and driving it from Florida to Phoenix.

In Dallas, Tex., Mrs. Spears has said her husband told her Taylor took Spears' seat on a National airliner which plunged into the Gulf of Mexico Nov. 16, killing 42.

The FBI is trying to determine if Spears planted a bomb on the plane. He had been listed as a passenger and was carrying $100,000 in travel insurance.

Sleeping Pill Deaths Call for Investigation

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The strange death of Diana Barrymore emphasizes the peril of the liquor-and-sleeping-pills combination which Miss Barrymore resorted to frequently when depressed—as do so many others on B'way.

WILSON

Miss Barrymore, when in her cups, could be served water instead of vodka, without detecting the difference. Then she'd forget how many pills she'd taken. "Did I just take a pill or didn't I?" she asked a friend a few nights ago. "Oh, well, I'll just take another one," she said, adding that hers had to be strong enough "to knock out a horse, or a Barrymore."

Quite a few headlined mystery deaths have been due to this combination. An investigation as to how users get enough pills to "hoard" them for their gloomy nights, might be in order.

A friend told Marlene Dietrich she sings "One More for the Road" better'n Frank Sinatra. Marlene said: "I think so too" . . . We thought Sterling Hayden preferred blondes, but there he was dancing with brunette model Betsy Pickering.

The wife already told me she doesn't see any point to this story. Anyway: Sacha Guitry, who had five wives and numerous sweethearts, was asked why he hadn't tried living with one woman for 25 years. "I love women too much," he replied, "to see one grow old" . . . B. S. Pulley, the burlesque comic, wired Eva Marie Saint an offer to join his act.

Jackie Gelason went up to the director of "The Fabulous Fifties" on which he taped his "Sid, Old Kid" song—and said: "Look, I'm going to do this twice—one dress rehearsal, then the final performance, and that's it." In short, no fooling around for hours and hours. Actually, when he started the rehearsal of the song, which he does in "Take Me Along," he suddenly said, "What's the use of this rehearsal? I know it"—and stopped. He insisted on doing the performance at once. Even with costume changes and preliminary introductory shots, it took less than an hour—for which he receives $35,000.

PAN MAIL: "We are getting so nauseated reading about Walter Troutman's try-outs with movie stars, it would be a relief to read something like this: 'If Walter Troutman is so busy squiring D. Reynolds, M. Reynolds, G. Rogers, R. Fleming and A. Meadows around, when does he have time to take care of business?' "—A.D.R., Los Angeles.

Doris Day wants British singer Frankie Vaughan to appear in a film with her . . . 20th Century-Fox liked Pat Boone's work in "Journey to the Center of the Earth," wants more straight acting roles for him.

EARL'S PEARLS: Nothing makes you more tolerant of a neighbor's noisy party than being invited to it.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: One thing about getting old is that you no longer have to worry about avoiding temptation—it avoids you.—H. C. Diefenbach.

Ken Nichols of Akron tells this: "Real estate agent to house-hunting couple: 'First you folks tell me what you can afford, then we'll have a good laugh and go on from there.' " That's earl, brother.

Youth, 17, Hurt by Rocket Blast

U. of D. Teacher's Son Mixing Chemicals; Side of House Blown Out

DETROIT (UPI) — The 17-year-old son of a university professor was in critical condition today with injuries suffered when his home-made rocket exploded in the family basement.

Joseph Hollis suffered third-degree burns over 75 per cent of his body and a broken left leg in the accident. His mother, Alice, 45, suffered a cut foot.

The blast blew out all the windows in the basement and tore out a section of the side of the house, causing $15,000 damages.

The blast was heard throughout the neighborhood and many persons rushed into the street. Some said they thought a plane had crashed.

Joseph was blown into a coal chute by the force of the explosion. He apparently was mixing chemicals for his rocket when the blast occurred. He is the son of C. Carroll Hollis, head of the University of Detroit English department.

Wal, Son, 'Tain't Pa

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Fourteen-year-old Dave Ranus couldn't think of a good name for his pet garter snake until she gave birth to more than 100 wiggling youngsters. Now he calls her "Ma."

Elusive Adlai Not a Delegate for Convention

NEW YORK (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson says he won't be a delegate to the Democratic National Convention in July.

Does this mean he has closed the door on the possibility of a draft for the party's presidential nomination?

"The door," commented Stevenson Friday, "is the same geographical position it has been—and don't ask me where that is."

Stevenson told reporters he had asked a Chicago district leader "to send someone else in my place."

"I'm going to be replaced by the president of the corset-makers' local union," he said.

"That is not exactly the epitaph I had hoped for my political career."

World Bank Has Subsidiary Unit

Wants an OK for Group to Finance Projects in Backward Countries

WASHINGTON (AP) — The World Bank has urged member nations to give quick approval to the charter for a subsidiary institution which will finance projects in underdeveloped countries.

The nudging came Sunday when the bank announced the framework for the billion-dollar organization to be known as the International development Assn.

If Congress approves, the United States will contribute 320 million dollars over a five-year period—a larger share than any other nation. The United Kingdom would put up $131,140,000, Germany and France each $52,960,000. Contributions of the 64 other member nations would be smaller.

IDA will be able to make hard currency loans on easy terms at the rate of about 160 million dollars a year if all 68 members join.

IDA's charter follows closely U. S. recommendations made in proposing creation of the association. The Eisenhower administration pushed the idea after it was proposed by Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla).

Dollar Is Returned After 40-Year Wait

LYNDHURST, N. J. (AP) — When Dr. Lambert Klopman was a young soldier on a World War I troop train in Philadelphia, he gave a dollar to a boy to get him some bread and sardines. He never saw the boy again.

More than 40 years later, the dentist says, he got a letter from C. O. Perkins of Philadelphia, apologizing and offering to return the dollar. Perkins said he still had the change and the key to the sardine can.

* * *

Dr. Klopman replied that Perkins could keep the change and offered him free dental work.

3 Buck SA Jitters
Buy 2 Million Acres

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — American capital is shying away from Cuba and becoming jittery in Venezuela and several other countries in Latin America.

But three young United States business men, Christian R. Holmes and William L. Dugger Jr., San Antonio oil producers, and John G. Eidell, San Francisco broker, believe that what Horace Greeley should have said was "Go south, young man."

Matter of fact, a man with somewhat more standing than Greeley, as least so far as Texas is concerned, once said " 'You ask me how I'd accumulate my fortune if I had to start all over again in these days.' Well, I would go to the frontier countries of South America and start collecting some ranches."

That was said by Sid Richardson, whose Texas oil made him one of the world's richest men.

Holmes, Dugger and Eidell, ignoring the explosive anti-U. S. feeling that Vice President Nixon's trip unveiled, and the subsequent problem of Castro, have bought in Paraguay (for $750,000) the largest ranch purchased in fee and under one fence in the world.

It is known as Puerto Guarani and spreads out over 2,179,000 acres — which makes it more than twice as big as the King Ranch in Texas. It covers 2 per cent of the entire nation. A person walking across the property, if he could, would be asked to cover 150 miles from the main gate to the back door.

Included in the purchase price were 50 miles of railroad track complete with rolling stock, a town, a fully equipped tannin factory and about 20,000 head of cattle — many long since gone wild.

They hope to raise everything from rice to citrus fruits, export the black palms that grow in profusion and log quebracho trees — used in the tannin industry and for drilling muds for the oil industry.

It's a wild and wooly experience for the young men. The cattle operation on the property is similar to the ranching operations of our Far West 75 years ago.

The Chaco region in which the huge place sits comes complete with Longhorns, armed cowboys (gauchos), rustlers and all the other dangers of a frontier existence. The game that abounds includes wild boar, crocodiles, ostriches, boa constrictors, tigres, 15-pound ducks, and fish galore.

Mikoyan Off to Cuba to Open Red Exhibit

HAVANA (AP) — The Kremlin is sending one of its top officials — and salesmen — to Havana this week to open the Soviet Scientific and Cultural Exhibition.

Moscow newspapers said First Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan had accepted an invitation to open the Soviet exhibition Thursday. It was not known how the invitation was relayed since Cuba and the Soviet Union do not maintain diplomatic relations.

Mikoyan also opened the Soviet fair in Mexico City last November.

Flint District Court Not Necessary: Picard

SAGINAW (AP) — U. S. District Judge Frank A. Picard said Friday he does not think a federal court is needed at Flint at the present time.

"However," Picard said in an interview, "Now is the time to prepare for a federal court which eventually will have to be there (at Flint)."

Picard suggested sufficient space for the court should be reserved at the old post office building in Flint. The new Flint post office opens next week.

Last week other federal judges of Michigan's Eastern District voted to uphold the Genesee County Bar Assn. in its contention that a federal court should be established at Flint.

At the present time federal cases arising in Genesee County are handled by the U.S. District Court in either Bay City or Detroit.

Commercial Building Up 24 Pct. in State

LANSING (UPI) — Commercial building contracts in Michigan last year totaled $51,800,000, up 24 per cent from 1958, according to a survey by Construction Daily, a McGraw Hill newsletter.

Michigan's gain was 4 per cent above the national average of 20 per cent. But the state's dollar value of contracts reported was far below the figure in the top commercial building states of New York, California, Texas and Illinois, each having more than 100 million dollars.

Construction Daily said Michigan in 1958 had $41,800,000 worth of commercial building contracts, $54,800,000 in 1957 and $77,600,000 in 1956.

The same McGraw Hill reporting service earlier this month said Michigan was third in the nation in industrial building contracts with $193,800,000 during 1959.

Oak Park Majorette, 17, Reigns as Junior Miss

In second place was Marcia Lawton, 18, of 17148 Melrose St., Southfield, and in third place Penny Weaver, 17, of Crosswell.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS

All the contestants were seniors in Michigan high schools.

The winner is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Shutty, 13708 Wales St. Shutty is a quality control technician for Ford Motor Co.

Sharon had earlier dazzled her audience with a performance that is a specialty in her repertoire of baton tricks.

On a tiny nine-feet-square platform, surrounded by knee-high flames, she went through her paces with two flaming batons.

SINCE SHE WAS 11

"I've been doing it since I was 11," she explains.

Sharon has been winning honors for her twirling since the age of six.

Her first contest—also in Pontiac — resulted in a first prize for her age at seven, and she's been maintaining that fast pace ever since.

In 10 years of competition, she's won more than 250 honors and 120 trophies.

She's proudest of three titles she currently holds—International Senior Baton Twirling Champion, Michigan's Most Beautiful Majorette for 1960 and Miss International Blue Water.

Detroit Lions fans are familiar with Sharon's skills.

For more than eight years she's been a halftime performer at Briggs Stadium.

She was international novice champion at age six.

At school she's editor of the school newspaper, a debator, member of the Student Council, president of the French Club and — naturally — head majorette of the Berkley High School Band.

Her good grades have earned her membership in the National Honor Society.

OK Milk Pact; Price Increase Expected Here

'Big 4' Dairies Agree to Pay Half-Cent More, Wholesale, Per Quart

A jump in the retail price of milk was expected in the Pontiac area today after dairy farmers and big creameries agreed on terms of a new contract.

The agreement, reached yesterday, averted the threat of a milk strike throughout the Detroit area.

A spokesman for the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. said that the "Big Four" dairies have agreed to an average wholesale price increase of about a half-cent a quart.

One-year contracts containing the increase were expected to be signed today by the Sealtest, Borden's, Wilson and Twin Pines creameries.

It is expected that the companies will pass the increase to consumers this week. Smaller dairies are expected to follow suit.

LAST-MINUTE SETTLEMENT

The MMPA, which represents about 12,000 farmers, had threatened to withhold milk from the dairies starting today. Smaller and medium-sized dairy companies in the Detroit area agreed to the MMPA price demands Friday.

Jack Barnes, general manager of the MMPA, said the half-cent increase would serve as bargaining ammunition in 10 other cities where the MMPA is negotiating with dairies.

"This is a clear-cut victory for us," Barnes said. "It will set the pattern for negotiations in all markets in southern Michigan."

Farmers had asked for continuance during February and March of the present wholesale price of $4.95 a hundred pounds. They said the dairies offered only $4.49.

Barnes said farmers had won the $4.95 price through March. He said it was agreed the price would then drop to about $4.55 from April through July and rise again to about $5.05 for the rest of the year.

To Seek Senate Seat

DETROIT (AP) — Ray Shoulders, a Negro public relations man, said Saturday he will seek the Democratic nomination for election to the U.S. Senate in the primary Aug. 2.

Temperatures to Top Normal Next Five Days

Although the forecast for Pontiac and vicinity is for colder weather tonight, temperatures for the next five days will average 5-10 degrees above normal for this time of year.

Normal high is 26-32 degrees, normal low 7-18.

Skies will remain cloudy with little day-to-day change. There will be little if any precipitation. But occasional snow flurries are possible near the end of the week.

The low reading on the thermometer is expected to be from 18-25 degrees, rising to a high of 30 to 35 on Tuesday.

This morning in downtown Pontiac, wind velocity was 10-14 m.p.h. from the north-northwest. At 8 a.m. the mercury stood at 31, rising to 35 by 1 p.m.

Temperatures remained fairly steady over the weekend, with a high of 31, low of 27 on Saturday. Sunday had a high of 29 and a low of 27.

MacArthur Still Seriously Sick

Feels a Little Better, but Faces Hospital Stay of at Least Two Weeks

NEW YORK (AP) — General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, undergoing treatment for a nonmalignant obstruction in the urinary tract, spent a fairly good night but suffered some discomfort, it was reported at Lenox Hill Hospital today.

An Army spokesman Sunday said MacArthur, who last week celebrated his 80th birthday, probably will stay longer at the hospital than the two weeks planned.

The general's condition was described as improving but still serious.

MacArthur, who fought in two world wars and the Korean war, entered the hospital Friday.

MacArthur said he felt stronger Sunday, but a hospital bulletin said "considerable time will be required to complete a full evaluation of the general's condition."

Michigan Roads Busy

LANSING (AP)—Traffic on Michigan highways, considered a good indicator of business activity, increased 7.6 per cent last month compared with January of 1958, the State Highway Department reported today. The metropolitan area of Detroit led the state with an 11.7 per cent jump.

INSURGENT LEADER BEATEN — Pierre Lagaillarde, one of the major leaders of the revolt in Algeria, is a beaten man. The reserve paratroop lieutenant gave up his rebellion today after the population of Algiers ignored his call to continue the general strike. He marched 300 remnants of his followers out of his stronghold, Algiers University, which he had held for eight days.

Insurgents Quit at Might Display of French Army

Cheer Lagaillarde as He Leaves Fortification; Ortiz Flight Reported

The insurgent irregulars, who resisted French President Charles de Gaulle's policy of self-determination for Algeria, surrendered their downtown barricades to an overwhelming display of army strength.

The Algiers corps commander, Gen. Jean Crepin, announced that insurgent leader Pierre Lagaillarde was "in the hands of the authorities" and that insurgent political chieftain Joseph Ortiz was in flight.

The insurgent band itself will be sent into the fight against the nationalist Algerian rebels, Crepin said.

The fery Lagallarde was gvens

The fiery Lagaillarde was given a military salute as he marched out of the barricades, followed by a haggard band of some 300 irregular troopers.

The rebel remnant climbed into trucks parked near the barricades. They headed in the direction of a little village west of Algiers.

FATE UNKNOWN

It was not immediately known what the French army, which had stuck with De Gaulle, would do with Lagaillarde and his men.

Lagaillarde, a reserve paratroop lieutenant, gave up after the population of Algiers ignored his call for a continuation of the general strike.

Most stores opened for business, and most office workers reported for work.

The other chief leader of the revolt, onetime cafe proprietor Joseph Ortiz, did not come from behind the barricades immediately. But his followers were streaming out.

LaGaillarde still wore his paratroop uniform and carried a French flag as he led his small force from the stronghold.

A French paratroop unit in front of the barricade stood at attention as the insurgents marched solemnly out. As he crossed the square, Lagaillarde exchanged salutes with French officers commanding the troops before the barricades.

The crowd began to cheer and clap for Lagaillard, and there were cries of "Algerie Francaise!" (Algeria is French!)

Somebody started singing the Marseillaise and it was soon taken up by the crowd.

A MOTLEY GROUP

Lagaillarde's men were a motley group. Some wore uniforms,

Rep. Bentley May Go for U. S. Senate Seat

From Our News Wires

MIDLAND—Rep. Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso is scheduled to speak here tonight and may announce his plans regarding a try for the GOP nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Bentley, a veteran of eight years in Congress, said in Washington that he expected to make a "personal decision in the next day or two." He announced, "I've said before, that if I don't go for the Senate this time, I probably wouldn't go at all."

He was to address a Junior Chamber of Commerce dinner here tonight.

Rep. Robert P. Griffin is already being pushed as a Republican candidate to oppose Sen. Patrick McNamara, the Democratic incumbent.

Reverberations from the door that George Romney slammed on his own political aspirations for 1960 today appeared to be opening doors for some of Michigan professional politicians.

ROMNEY OUT

Bentley admitted Romney's withdrawal removed one of the "obstacles—if you want to use that word"—from the possibility that he might seek the Senate seat.

"If drafted, I will not accept and if nominated, I will not run —and that applies to any political office," he told a new conference after the board meeting.

"I consider the public service I can make through Citizens for Michigan more important than being a candidate for public office in 1960.

"I hope this will make it completely clear that I'm not available as a political candidate and I'm not using Citizens for Michigan as a stepping stone to political office."

Previously, Romney had been mentioned as a possible candidate for governor, U.S. senator and vice president—all on the Republican ticket.

He appeared to be giving the possibility of running for the Senate consideration at one time, but he had made political hopefuls throughout the state uneasy.

Russians Fire Second Rocket

Claim It Hit Target Thus Ending Pacific Test Series

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union fired off a second powerful rocket Sunday, hitting the target area in the Pacific and ending the current tests, Tass announced today.

The official news agency said the 44,000 square miles of the mid-Pacific marked off by the Soviet Union Jan. 8 once more is open to planes and shipping.

The first rocket was fired Jan. 20. Moscow announced that it landed little more than a mile off target. The announcement of the second shot did not specify how close it came to the actual target.

The announcement did not give the distance the rocket traveled Sunday. It calculated the first rocket covered a distance of 7,760 miles and missed the target by only 1.24 miles. (The second rocket presumably was launched from the same site, believed to be in the Caspian Sea area).

The announcement said the latest firing had completed the tests of a new rocket intended to launch heavy earth satellites and make space flights to planets of the solar system.

The rocket announcement was made as the top Communist leaders of Soviet-bloc countries gathered in Moscow for a top-level meeting.

While searchers fanned out in the neighborhood, little Timmy Artes snoozed in his secret hideout in the basement of the family home, unaware that he was the subject of a wide search in Waterford Township yesterday.

Timmy's mother, Mrs. Ronald D. Artes, of 3688 Breaker St., Drayton Plains, became worried and called township police after a futile four-hour search for her four-year-old son.

"He has a reputation for getting lost, but not for this long," Mrs. Artes told searchers.

Reinforcements from the state police and sheriff's deputies were called in at 5 p.m. to assist township police, civil defense workers and neighbors in the hope that the boy would be found before dark.

Fireman Killed in Truck Mishap

Orion Township volunteer fireman Walter L. Elmy, 31, was killed Saturday night when he fell from a fire truck en route to a fire at 622 Detroit St., in Orion Township.

The accident happened on Heights road at Britton drive about 10 p.m. Fellow firemen said Elmy was changing position from the rear of the truck to theside.

He lost his balance and fell when the truck went around a curve, witnesses told sheriff's deputies. Elmy, the father of three boys and part owner of the Gingellville Service Station, lived at 3366 Pasadena St., Orion Township.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital by Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. Isacc Prevette. Cause was listed as a basal skull fracture, and crushed chest.

Elmy's brother, Gerald, 28, was riding in the cab. Driving was his father-in-law Harold M. Gingell. Neither knew of the accident until reaching the scene of the fire.

The fire caused a total of about $5,000 damage to the two-story frame house occupied by two Lake Orion Community High School teachers, John Bixby and Peter Bailey. They escaped with the clothes they were wearing.

The blaze is believed to have started in a downstairs closet. The upstairs was gutted on the fireman's first run. The Orion department was called back later when the blaze broke out again in the front corner of the building.

Israelis, Syrians Waging Ground and Air Battles

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Israeli and Syrian forces fought today in ground and air battles. Tension mounted along the border as the shooting continued for the fourth straight day.

Three Israeli and two Syrian soldiers were killed in a four-hour predawn artillery duel on the southeast shore of the Sea of Galilee. Seven Israelis and four Syrians were wounded .

Israel also reported that one Israeli policeman was killed and two wounded by Syrian shots Sunday.

An army spokesman said two Israeli fighter planes drove away four Syrian MIG jets after a dogfight over Metullah, closest to the border in northern Galilee. No casualties were reported.

The Syrian press in Damascus challenged Israel to an all-out showdown battle to "settle pending accounts."

Israeli sappers during the night moved into the Arab village of Tawafik, in the demilitarized zone between the two countries, and blew up 50 houses the Syrians had vacated. The Israelis claimed the United Arab Republic's army had fortified the village and was using it as a base for firing into Israeli territory.

After the Israeli advance into the village, an artillery duel developed and lasted for four hours. Israeli sources said damage on their side of the frontier was slight.

The Syrians reoccupied the village this morning. U.N. observers intervened, and a cease-fire was arranged.

Scientist 'Got the Jitters' but Didn't Panic

Dr. Pauling Rescued From High Cliff

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — "I guess I'll stay off of steep places and avoid climbing for a while," says Dr. Linus Pauling. The controversial Nobel Prize-winning chemist was rescued Sunday after 24 cold, thirsty hours on a high, rugged cliff overlooking the Pacific.

He was unharmed, in high spirits, sleepy — and highly respectful of the danger of straying onto shale-slippery cliffs. It's rugged territory where he was stranded, 80 miles south of Monterey.

Dr. Pauling said a search party had passed him by Saturday night —and he decided to stay put in his nearly hiden aerie until today, if necessary. Beyond that, he hadn't planned.

Pauling had started a walking inspection about his 160-acre ranch Saturday morning. He followed a deer trail, then became stranded on an 80 degree slope facing the ocean.

Halfway up, he felt he had reached a dead end. He was on a small ledge below an overhang. He was on blue shale—so treacherous for walking that it is called greasy. The time was late Saturday morning.

"I got the jitters," Pauling said. "I decided to stay there until I was found."

Dr. Pauling is professor of chemistry at California Institute of Technology at Pasadena.

LEARNED HIS LESSON — Dr. Linus Pauling, Nobel Prize winner, stands with his wife, Helen, after his rescue from the rugged cliffs near his ranch 80 miles south of Monterey, Calif. He had been missing since Saturday and was found 24 hours later, cold and thirsty. He "got the jitters" and decided to stay on the ledge until found, he said.

Fear Mine Toll in Japan Is 43

TOKYO (AP)—Rescue workers reported finding the bodies of 25 miners after a gas explosion early today in an ill-fated coal mine in north Japan.

Eighteen other men were were trapped 3,600 feet below the frozen earth. Officials of the mine said they still hoped the men would be found alive, but as the hours went by, fear for them increased.

Nine other men crawled to safety after the first searing blast, and rescuers brought out 10 miners despite a fire licking around the pit where the men were trapped. Only one of the 19 was seriously injured.

The flames burned for nearly four hours, then were checked.

It was the second major disaster at the mine at Yubari, on the northern Japanese island of Hokkaido. A gas explosion killed 160 men there in 1938. The mine is one of the richest owned by the Hokkaido Colliery and Steamship Co.

More than 500 men, women and children surged around the mine entrance, waiting tensely for news. A cry went up as each survivor came to the surface, faces blackened and hair singed.

Meanwhile in Coalbrook, South Africa, the South African Broadcasting Corp. said today all 435 miners trapped for 11 days in the Clydesdale Colliery have been given up for dead.

The broadcast observed one minute's silence after the announcement.

The disaster, worst in South African mining history, occurred Jan. 21, when 429 Africans and 6 whites were trapped more than 500 feet below ground by a massive rockfall.

Railroads Leave U.S. for Strike Insurance

NEW YORK (AP) — The chairman of the Eastern Railroads Presidents' Conference says the railroads have set up an insurance firm in the Bahamas to get strike insurance.

David I. Mackie, conference chairman, said yesterday the railroads went to the Bahamas "where you wouldn't be faced with the necessity of trying to comply with the different laws" in the various states.

He gave no other details about the company or type of insurance. But presumably the insurance would protect the railroads against financial loss in the event of a strike.

The railroads and the rail brotherhoods have been negotiating since Oct. 20 on wage demands and other issues.

The matter now is in arbitration. If this fails a strike vote probably will be taken, a union official said.

Winter Skips Off for Vacation as February Arrives

By The Associated Press

February started its short stay today with a mixture of wet weather and temperatures above wintry levels.

Stormy weather which hit areas in the Southeast over the weekend, threatening floods in the eastern Carolinas, diminished. Heavy rain doused the Carolinas Sunday and winds were clocked up to 70 m.p.h. in some sections.

Rain continued in parts of Virginia as the storm moved out into the Atlantic Ocean.

No severe wintry weather was reported.

Camp Oakland Building Burns

Winter Mess Hall Loss Estimated at $20,000; Cause Unknown

A large building at Camp Oakland, used primarily as the winter camp mess hall, was destroyed by fire early this morning. Loss was estimated at $20,000 by Camp Director William J. Matus.

The blaze was discovered by the winter camp boys upon arising about 6 a.m. They saw it through their windows and summoned staff member Robert Kelley.

Kelley saw the phone lines were down and had to drive around the lake to call the Oxford Fire Department.

By this time the fire was raging, an the firefighters sought to save the main summer mess hall nearby. It escaped damage.

The building that was destroyed, in addition to being the winter mess hall, also housed an office, kitchen and an equipment storage room that was filled with recreation supplies for summer camp use.

CAUSE UNKNOWN

It was also the summer camp infirmary, Matus said.

Firemen said they were unable to determine cause of the fire but believe it could have been smouldering for most of the night. They said there was paint stored inside that could have ignited at the height of the blaze.

Camp Oakland is located on E. Drahner road near M24 in Oxford Township. There are four projects in operation there. One is the pilot program of work education winter program (revised version of the CCC) for boys who drop out of school.

The others are the Boys' and Girls' ranches for needy children and the summer camp for underprivileged youngsters throughout the county.

The building that was destroyed was built by the Men's Bible Class of the United Presbyterian Church, Drayton Plains, with money from the Hi-Twelve Club of Birmingham and the Royal Oak Rotary Club.

The equipment inside was donated by a large number of service clubs throughout the county.

Oxbow Lake Road Crash Injures 5

Five persons were reported injured early Sunday morning when their car ran off a curve of Oxbow Lake road and smashed into two trees, according to Pontiac State Police.

Two passengers, JoAnne Young, 16, of 1825 Bass Lake Rd., Milford, and James L. Butler, 21, of 2107 Welch Rd., Walled Lake, were taken to Pontiac General Hospital.

Her brother, Robert, 18, Alice Graybill, 17, of 2526 Oakfield St., Walled Lake, and the driver, Daniel C. Fair, 19, of 2913 Potter Rd., Wixom, suffered minor cuts and bruises, police said.

Community National Bank's 1959 deposits of $99,272,525 jumped the Pontiac bank up 28 spots to become the 278th among the 300 largest commercial banks in the United States.

MEMORIAL TO MEMBER — The new Winifred Van Wagoner Room at First Congregational Church was dedicated following the 10:30 a.m. service Sunday by Jacob L. Van Wagoner for family and friends. The Rev. Malcolm K. Burton, pastor, made the acceptance. The 25 by 25 feet room strikes a note of gold and white. Walls are ivory white with gold mural design. Draperies are gold. Upholstered sofas and chairs are covered with materials in shades of gold and beige. Four crystal chandeliers and tall brass table lamps provide the lighting. The dedication plaque at the entrance to the room quotes a verse from Isaiah 30:15: "In quietness and confidence shall be your strength." Mrs. Van Wagoner had served as president of Women's Fellowship and the Pilgrim Group and as a member of the board of deaconesses and the building committee.

Parcel Post Rate Rise Takes Effect

An increase authorized last fall became effective at midnight Sunday, boosting fourth-class rates an average of 17.2 per cent. This covers catalogues as well as parcels.

The higher rates are expected to net the government about 88 million dollars a year and will be used to cut down the deficit on this class of postal service.

Here are some examples of the new rates: A five-pound parcel mailed between Washington and New York now costs 44 instead of 33 cents. A three-pound parcel between Chicago and New York went up from 44 to 55 cents. A six-pound package between Boston and San Diego now costs $1.40 instead of $1.23.

Budget Goes Up in New Jersey

But Gov. Meyner Says No New Taxes Needed; Plans Million Over

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Gov. Robert B. Meyner today proposed a record New Jersey state budget of $431,365,104 for next year, balanced without any increase in taxes.

The budget was 24 million dollars higher than last year's, which also proposed no added taxes. Meyner attributed the increased spending to growing state needs, particularly in education, welfare, health and highways. The increase was matched by rising income from present taxes.

The Democratic governor put forth no big new spending programs and made no mention of the state's transit problem.

He noted that New Jersey—"a most fortunate state in many ways"—was one of three in the nation without a personal income tax or general sales tax.

The budget would pay the cost of state government for the fiscal year beginning July 1. Meyner estimated the state would start the year with a surplus of $3,989,409 and end it with $1,109,953 in the treasury.

Man Strolls Down the Avenue

'Casually' Stabs Six

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — It was a sunny afternoon, unseasonably warm for January. The hordes of shoppers and movie goers bustled along the busy downtown Minneapolis avenue.

Among them walked Kenneth A. Johnson, 36, an unemployed man with a history of mental disorder dating back 18 years.

Johnson casually stabbed six persons he met during a two-block stroll Saturday. The stabbings covered the brief span of about five minutes.

Most of the victims were stabbed in the buttocks. One was knifed in the groin. Three remained hospitalized today, all in poor condition. The others had been treated and released.

"I found myself on Hennepin avenue and all those people were coming at me," Johnson told police. "I thought they were Russians. I stabbed them because we are at war with Russia."

A six-inch steak knife was used on each person. Police said Johnson also carried a butcher knife and a pocket knife—and a sharpener. He didn't say a word to any of the persons he stabbed.

Oliver H. Giebler, 61, was the first. He was waiting for a light to change when Johnson came up behind him.

"All of a sudden I felt something sharp," said Giebler. He felt blood running down his leg, looked up, and saw Johnson walking away rapidly.

Rail Credit Union Re-Elects Morrow

Re-elected vice president was Richard Fox of 244 Pioneer Dr., and re-elected secretary-treasurer, was Ray Crane, of 6411 Williams Lake Rd., Waterford Township.

Re-elected to the board were Jack Deering of 1124 Boston St., Waterford Township, Leo Martell of 85 Dwight Ave., and Edwin Haywood of 452 Linda Vista Dr.

A seventh and new member of the board is Guerdon Artley of 6055 Carroll Lake Rd., Commerce Township, elected for the first time at Saturday's meeting, which was attended by some 145 railroad workers in the Pontiac area.

CFM Meetings Set in Pontiac and Waterford

Daniel T. Murphy Jr., county clerk-register, will be on hand to answer questions for the Waterford group, according to Byron L. Cole, chairman.

At 12:18 p.m. a big, blood-smeared French tricolor which had fluttered above the insurgent holdout was slowly pulled down. It had flown there since the bloody start of the revolt Jan. 24, when 27 persons were killed in street fighting.

The insurgents began helping to take down the barricades of paving stones and rubble which they had thrown up.

Dr. Bernard Lefevre, a right-wing political figure in Algiers, said the surrender had come as a result of nighttime negotiations between the insurgents and the army.

He said the conditions asked by the insurgents were that the surrender go off with military honors and that no sanctions be taken against them.

De Gaulle, in demanding that the army bring the insurgents under control, had called the rebel leaders liars and conspirators, indicating they could expect little mercy from him.

If the letter of the law were followed, Lagaillarde and Ortiz probably could be executed for treason, having violently challenged the authority of the state and waged armed warfare against it. But the insurgent leaders' continued popularity with the French colonials in Algeria ruled out this extreme punishment.

Waterford Township Looks Into Insurance

A possible retirement plan for township employes, and creation of a new township water system, will be matters of discussion tonight at a meeting of the Waterford Township Board.

An engineering firm will report on what they found in five test wells drilled preliminary to a possible new water system being started in the Sunnyslope subdivision.

Following this report, an insurance company representative will tell trustees about setting up the retirement program for employes.

The regular business agenda will be rounded out with Lotus Lake subdivision real estate developers presenting a revised plan, suggested by the board Friday, concerning future building.

The Day in Birmingham

Women Painters Launch Broadened New Program

BIRMINGHAM — The Society of Women Painters here has launched a new, diversified program for its second semester of activities, according to Mrs. Herbert Gardner, president.

"For the past number of years, working and exhibiting artists painted together under the direction of one of several teachers such as Emil Weddige, Sarkis Sarkisian and Frances de Erdely," she said.

"However, this year finds the group receiving direction and criticism from Albert Mullen, an associate professor at the Univerity of Michigan, every other Monday and lectures from well-known artists and other instructors on alternate Mondays," Mrs. Gardner explained.

She said Mullen has a wide background of training in arts and crafts, both here and abroad.

The first alternating program brings Owen Brainard from Michigan State University to lecture on "Structure."

Brainard is head of continuing education in art at the school, she said.

The City Commission is expected tonight to reject a proposed amendment that would allow the Citrin Oil Co. to erect a sign that does not conform with a city ordinance.

In a recommendation to the City Commission, City Manager L. R. Gare said "I would not be in the best interest of the city to consider the adoption of any proposed amendments to the sign ordinance."

The proposed sign, for which a permit had been refused, contains approximately twice the area permitted and would be installed above the roof line twice as high as allowed under the ordinance.

It was to be erected on a Standard Co. gas station now under construction on the east side of U.S. 10 between Forest and Chestnut streets.

"There is no doubt that the proposed sign, because of its size and height, would be a great aid in attracting customers to the gasoline station," Gare said.

"However, if such a sign were permitted, an undesirable precedent might be established."

Alfred H. Knight Sr.

Service for Alfred H. Knight Sr., 81, of 292 Fairfax Rd., will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Bell Chapel of the William B. Hamilton Funeral Co. Burial will be in Glenwood Cemetery, Flint.

Mr. Knight died Saturday at his home following a brief illness.

He had been an engineer with the Chrysler Corp. until his retirement in 1943. In recent years he had been a consulting engineer for the firm.

He was a graduate of the University of Michigan and received a master's degree from Cornell University in New York. He served three years as an associate professor at the University of Michigan from 1907 to 1910.

Surviving are his wife, Emma; a son, Alfred H. Jr., of Nashville, Tenn.; two daughters, Mrs. Robert C. Restrick Jr., and Mrs. E. M. Mulock Jr., bothe of Birmingham; a sister at Flint, seven grandchildren and a great-granddaughter.

Trucks Blasted in Paper Strike

10 Delivery Vehicles Dynamited in Oregon; No Injuries Reported

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Two strings of parked trucks — which hauled for Portland's two struck daily newspapers—were blown up late Sunday night in Portland and nearby Oregon City.

Dynamite charges were used to blow up four trucks here, police said, and apparently was used on the six trucks blasted in Oregon City.

There were no reports of fatalities or injuries.

The explosions here occurred at a warehouse in the heavily-industralized northwest section of the city.

DYNAMITE FOUND

A spokesman for the Oregonian said the trucks were owned by firms which did contract hauling for the Oregonian and Oregon Journal, the city's two dailies which were struck Nov. 10 by the Stereotypers Union.

Shortly after the explosions the Oregonian switchboard operator received a call from a man who said a bomb was planted in the building. Police failed to find any explosives.

FTC Charges False Claims on Encyclopedia

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Trade Commission has charged that Crowell-Collier Publishing Co. and a subsidiary made false claims through door-to-door salesmen of Collier's Encyclopeia.

The FTC cited the publishing company and P. F. Collier and Son Corp., both of New York City, in a formal complaint last night.

The complaint said prospective customers were told they would be given sets of the encyclopedia free, or at reduced cost, in return for a letter of comment on the books and written permission to use their names in advertising.

The FTC said that actually customers do not receive the encyclopedia free for advertising purposes or any other reason, but must pay the full price.

The concerns were given 30 days to file an answer.

2 Women Injure Spines in Fall From Toboggan

Two Waterford Township women suffered fractured spines Sunday when they fell from a toboggan on stoops Hill at Van Zandt and Pleasant streets, in Waterford Township.

Pontiac State Police said Mrs. Evelyn Appleton, 38, of 4397 Kemps St., and Mrs. Alice Pickup, 38, of 6752 Hatchery Rd., were thrown from the toboggan when it struck a culvert at the bottom of the hill.

Both are listed in satisfactory condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Commie Chiefs Map Strategy

Red Bloc Leaders Go to Moscow for Summit Huddle With Nikita

MOSCOW (AP) — A high level political conference of the Communist world today appeared shaping up as premiers and party chiefs of the Soviet-led bloc converged on Moscow.

The Red leaders came for what was officially billed as an agricultural conference opening Tuesday, but the big brass in the delegations gave the gathering more important political overtones.

There are increasing indications that Premier Nikita Khrushchev called the conference as a prelude to his talks with the Western Big Three in Paris in May. Western sources likened the meeting of Red leaders to the NATO conference held by the West in Paris last December.

Khrushchev can be expected to disclose his strategy and get an endorsement to strengthen his position when he confronts President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and French President Charles de Gaulle.

The Moscow session has a global scope, Among the arrivals were North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and Mongolian Communist chief U. Tsedenbal.

Red China's delegates are awaited hourly. Their names were not made known. The makeup of the delegation could be significant.

Among the first arrivals were East Germany's two leaders, Walter Ulbright and Otto Grotewohl. Romania is represented by party leader Gheorghe Gheorgiu-Dej and Premier Chiuu Stoica, Albania by party chief Enver Hoxha and Bulgaria by Communist leader Todor Zhivkov.

Poland's Wladyslaw Gomulka and Hungary's Janos Kadar and Ferenc Muennich were expected today.

McLouth Steel Strike Remains Unresolved

DETROIT (AP) — Attempts to end the United Steelworkers strike at three McLouth Steel Corp. plants failed yesterday.

The Union, representing 4,200 McLouth workers, agreed at a mass meeting yesterday to return to work during a 10-day truce. However, the company refused to take them back on those conditions.

There was no indication when negotiations on a new contract would be resumed.

The workers struck last week when an 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction expired without a new contract having been reached.

Tom Shane, USW district director, said, "We've got picket lines out there and we're going to keep them there. Let's see what happens now."

But Admit 2nd in Missiles

American Defense Chiefs Again Assert Readiness

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's over-all military strength is "first rate, first position" although the Soviet Union will have moderately more missiles for a couple of years, says Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr.

Gates said again Sunday he believes the United States is strong enough to prevent the Soviet Union from starting a war. He said the nation will begin catching up with the Soviet missile lead in 1962.

Gates said in a television interview "we are expanding our missile program, putting missiles on our bomber force and bringing into operations Polaris submarines which we believe will offset any so-called missile gap, at least from the point of view of the validity of our deterrent."

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, spoke along similar lines in another television interview. He said the Soviets may be ahead in missiles but in the whole defense picture "I don't think we're behind at all."

White said the American missile and defense program is properly balanced and "will continue to give us the detereent capability we desire."

The statements by Gates and White were in sharp contrast to defense appraisals by several congressional Democrats. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said Friday the U.S.S.R. wil have an enormous advantage in missile striking power in the near future.

Investors Forsaking Stocks

Ticker Tape Tells Sad, Sad Story

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Investors seem to be looking at every market today except the stock market.

It has finished our an unhappy month with the price averages back to their low point of last October.

Small investors are showing up in numbers for the first time at the U.S. Treasury bill auctions. They are subscribing to other marketable Treasury securities. They are taking more interest in corporate debt offerings.

Brokers are divided as to whether the investor is wary of common stocks after the long price rise that cut yields (percentage of income return) or whether he is becoming more sophisticated and learning about other forms of investing for the first time.

The stock market's statistical story in January was a sad one. The Associated Press price index of 60 stocks started the month at 231 and ended at 216 for a loss of 15 points.

The tumble in the Dow Jones industrial stock index was even more arresting since it is figured on a higher numerical level. This index started January at a record 686 and ended at 622 for a tumble of 64 points.

Such rallies as January provided were mild and short lived.

Bond salesmen, on the other hand, seem to have found customers easily. Corporate bond offerings found a fairly ready market. Whenever the Treasury invited individuals (small investors as contrasted to big financail institutions, the usual bond buyers) to buy government securities the response was hearty.

From these marketable U.S. securities of one to five year maturities, individuals of late have branched out into the 91-day Treasury bill auctions.

Each Monday the Treasury asks for bids for around one billion dollars of these bills. They pay no interest, but are sold below par as the money market conditions dicate. The difference between what you pay for them and the par value at which you redeem them three months later is your yield. The bids are received at a special Federal Reserve Bank window

How much of the public's interest in high yielding government securities is at the expense of the stock market is debatable. But banks and savings and loan associations have noted a jump in withdrawals from savings accounts whenever the Treasury has invited individuals to buy securities at yields of around 5 per cent.

The Treasury has profited in two ways by the new public interest.

First, it has got some of its debt into the hands of individuals less likely to sell U.S. securities than are the institutions that treat them as all but the equivalent of cash. Keeping the bills off the market is considered noninflationary.

Second, the public investing surge has helped bring down the interest rates that for a time were steadily rising and making Treasury financing constantly more expensive.

Some brokers think the change in investing mood will be short lived. They expect stock prices to rally. And the public usually returns to the stock market when prices are rising.

They also count on the expected increase this year in personal income totals to provide the investing money which stocks could attract.

Economy Theme Has Short Run

Souping Up Compact Cars

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT—The auto industry's new small cars are growing up in a hurry.

Although they are only about four months old, the Corvair, Falcon and Valiant already appear to be in a compact horsepower race.

Chevrolet, which started out with only 80 horsepower in its Corvair, set it off earlier this month by announcing it would offer a "performance package" which would boost the Corvair's horsepower from 80 to 95.

Less than a week later, Ford announced at the Chicago Auto Show that it has plans for an option engine package which would boost the Falcon's horsepower from 90 to over 100.

The latest — and the biggest — step was taken by Chrysler Corp. Chrysler said its Valiant, which started out with the highest horsepower of the three, would offer a new "hyper-pack" which would boost its horsepower from 101 to 148.

All of the companies deny, however, that a junior-sized horsepower race is on.

They all say customers asked for more power in the small cars, even if it means a sacrifice in economy which was the central theme of all three of them when they were first introduced.

They also point out that even with the boosts, the horsepower of their entries fail to match the maximums offered by Rambler and Studebaker Lark, the two early entries in the field.

Rambler offers its American six with 90 horsepower, the Rambler six with 127, and the Rambler V-I with 200.

The Lark offers 90 horsepower in its six cylinder engine and 180 in its V8.

In keeping with the Automobile Manufacturers Assn.'s ban on advertising horsepower or speed, however, none of the companies made a big point of the increased power of the small cars.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles". It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results—here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids—without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as *Preparation H. Ask for Preparation H suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Absolute satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

29 Oil Firms Face Price Fix Charges

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Twenty-nine major oil companies go to trial in federal court here today on charges they violated anti-trust laws by plotting increases in oil and gasoline prices.

All indications are the nonjury trial will be a long one, perhaps two to six months.

The defendants include some of the nation's most prominent. One—Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey)—is rated the petroleum world's largest. Four of its affiliates also are accused.

So are such other industry titans as Sinclair Oil Corp., Standard Oil Co. (Indiana), Cities Service Co., Phillips Petroleum Co., Shell Oil Co., The Texas Co. (now Texaco Inc.), Socony Mobil Oil Co., Gulf Oil Corp. and Tidewater Oil Co.

O'Hara Pushes Bomb Detection

Utica's Congressman May Demonstrate Way to Safeguard Airliners

WASHINGTON (AP)— Rep. James G. O'Hara of Utica (D-Mich) said Saturday he may arrange a public demonstration soon to prove the practicality of his plan to prevent airliners from being bombed out of the air.

O'Hara has introduced a bill which would require airliners to inspect luggage and mail carried on passenger airliners for evidence of bombs or other destructive materials.

He said he had been informed by chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) of the House Commerce Committee that the committee will hold early hearings this year on all such air safety proposals.

"I've seen some stories to the effect that bombs encased in plastic or glass can't be detected by instruments we have now," OHara said.

5 OR 6 COMPANIES

"But that's not so. I have heard from five or six companies who say they have the equipment."

He said he also has written to U.S. customs officials for information about equipment they use to search for contraband in articles brought into this country.

"I am not claiming that I have the final answer to the problem of airplane bombings," O'Hara said.

"But I think we must get the facts on this problem and legislate on it as quickly as possible. I'm willing to back any proposal that will help."

State's Sales Tax Take for December Tops All

LANSING (AP) — Michigan took in it biggest sales tax collection in history this month — $32,569,560 —the State Revenue Department reported.

Clarence W. Lock, deputy revenue commissioner, said January collections on December business were up $806,374 or 2.6 per cent from the same month last year.

The all-time monthly record was set despite a drop in auto sales tax collections which totaled $3,314,202 —down about $700,000 from a year ago.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID's unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate th, vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! Introductory size 43¢.

Three Michigan Counties Emergency Feed Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Michigan counties of Baraga, Houghton and Ontonagon have been designated as emergency areas where farmers and stockmen can buy government-owned feed grains at current support prices.

The Agriculture Department took the action after it was determined there was a shortage of feed grain in these counties due to bad weather, insects and plant diseases.

The action was recommended by Gov. Williams.

LOS ANGELES—First commercial orchard for prunes was planted in California in 1870.

Losing the right to drive because of unsatisfied judgment were Michael L. Nanos, 427 Leon Rd., Walled Lake, and Jimmie Licavoli, 329 W. Kenneth Ave., Hazel Park.

The licenses of Charles E. Clark, 605 E. Jarvis Ave., Hazel Park, and Ralph T. Derrick, 521 S. Williams St., Royal Oak, were revoked for unsatisfactory driving records and failure to appear for re-examination.

Others losing their licenses were Timothy L. McLaren, 900 Brookwood St., Birmingham, for unsatisfactory driving record and incompetency; Jean C. Brown, 1812 Bowers St., Birmingham, for physical reasons; and Lloyd G. Krimmel, 2056 Dunwoodie St., Ortonville, for driving while his license was suspended.

Retired U. S. Diplomat, Messersmith, Dies at 76

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Retired career diplomat George S. Messersmith, who helped smooth over troubles with Argentina as U.S. ambassador to that country at the close of World War II, died Friday at the age of 76.

Messersmith left the State Department in 1947 to assume direction of the Mexican Power and Light Co. in Mexico City. He served for more than 30 years in the U.S. foreign service, including ambassadorships to Cuba and Mexico.

Mack Harrell, Concert Singer, Dies at Age 50

He was professor of voice at Southern Methodist University. Since 1953 he had been chairman of the music festival at Aspen, Colo.

Will He See His Shadow?

According to fable the groundhog is supposed to come out of his hibernation headquarters on February 2nd for a preview of coming weather . . . if he sees his shadow he rushes back to his winter quarters and we have six weeks of cold weather; if the day is dark and no shadow is forthcoming the fable states that we are to have an early spring.

Michigan weather has never reacted to the woodchuck's predictions and to insure yourself and your family of a truly warm, clean, comfortable home for the balance of the cold weather be sure to have a good supply of cleaner burning . . .

White Chrysanthemums Flank Wedding Altar

Chapel vases of white chrysanthemums flanked the altar of Columbia Avenue Baptist Church for Thursday vows of Geraldine Anderson and Larry Allen Campbell, repeated to the Rev. M. F. Boyd.

* * *

Crushed elbow-length white gloves complimented the ballerina-length wedding dress of white lace, styled with scoop neckline and short sleeves.

NIECE IS ATTENDANT

Merlene Bell of Kalamazoo, in rose chiffon, was her aunt's only attendant. She held a cascade of white carnations. Roy Farmer was best man.

Mrs. Anderson appeared in blue lace with brown accessories.

Women Work at Older Age Than in Past

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—The woman worker is getting older, according to a female labor expert.

Mary M. Cannon, chief of the International Division of the Women's Bureau in the U. S. Labor Department, said that the "average age of women workers today is 40 compared to 32 only 20 years ago."

She explained this rise by saying that "there are more older women in the population and women generally are returning to jobs after their children grow up.

"We are now struggling to break down barriers of employment for mature women."

The Labor Department predicts that an additional 6,750,000 women will be holding jobs in the next 10 years.

"About 47 per cent of them will be between 35 and 45," she said.

Missionary Unit of Baptist Church Sponsors Dinner

Miniature world globes and napkins printed with the map of Africa marked places for 100 at a chicken dinner sponsored by the Womens Home and Foreign Missionary Society of First Baptist Church, Thursday evening.

Ladies of the Maranatha Bible Class prepared the meal.

Mrs. Fred Ludwig, missionary on furlough from the Belgian Congo, spoke concerning conversions and the practice of witchcraft in Africa. She stressed the word for Jehovah, "Elohim" which means the "strong, faithful one."

Rev. W. E. Hakes gave the invocation and Kenneth Hempstead closed the meeting with prayer.

Scandinavian Tales Related

The Pontiac Story League met Thursday evening with Mrs. Joseph Swift on Camly street.

Mrs. Oscar Schmidt opened the program with a poem, "At the Setting of the Sun," by Margaret Sangster.

Julia Dalzell reviewed the history of Scandinavian folk tales and mythology, based on the Scandinavian theme chosen for January. She also told the story "The Boaster."

Sheriff's Dept. Has Banner Year -Adds to Efficiency, Manpower

By DICK SAUNDERS

The Sheriff's Department had a red letter year in 1959, increasing in manpower, equipment and efficiency.

And it was the county residents who benefitted, getting well over a million miles worth of police protection from sheriff's deputies.

Crime increased in the county for the fourth consecutive year, but the percentage of cases solved also increased.

A stepped-up water patrol gave boaters and swimmers more protection than ever before, although the drowning toll went up.

The traffic death toll was lower than expected, and there was a decrease in the number of personal injury and property damage accidents handled by deputies.

Of 1,102 felonies investigated in 1959, 432 cases were closed, for a mark of about 39 per cent, solved by seven detectives.

In 1958 there were about 200 fewer cases. A four-man detective staff solved about 33 per cent that year.

THEFT INCREASES

Cases of theft, including breaking and entering, grand larceny and simple larceny, have risen from 493 in 1956 to 948 last year.

In 1958 there were 861 or these cases investigated by detectives who closed 275 for a record of 32 per cent. Of last year's total, 340 cases were closed for an increase to 36 per cent solved.

Of the three classifications of theft, breaking and entering cases decreased while grand and simple larcenies increased.

There were 514 break-ins investigated in 1959 and 550 the year before. The percentage of those solved went up from 38 to 45 per cent.

Grand larcenies rose from 207 to 246 and simple larcenies from 104 to 188. In both classifications last year detectives solved 25 per cent of the cases.

The total of armed or unarmed robberies in 1959 reached 20. Only five were reported in 1958. Six were closed last year and one in '58, raising the percentage here from 20 to 30 per cent.

Most impressive is the department's record on murder and nonnegligent manslaughter investigations. There were eight such cases handled by detectives last year and all were closed by Dec. 31.

Sheriff Frank W. Irons said: "We usually find that our theft investigations suffer when the men have a high amount of major crimes to handle."

Last year's total of eight murders and manslaughter cases is considered high. There were only two in 1958, seven in 1957 and three in 1956.

In other categories involving plainclothes investigation there were 11 cases of forcible rape, 10 solved; 9 felonious assaults, all solved; 12 auto thefts, with 6 solved; 11 suicides; one accidental shooting; and 99 miscellaneous minor crime investigations.

JUNE BIGGEST CRIME MONTH

The year's biggest month for crime reports was June, when 104 felonies were investigated. August was close behind, with 102. The quietest month was March, with 60 felony investigations.

The same month was unusual in that more cases were closed than were reported. Arrests led to the solution of 61 cases.

As for drownings, there were 21 compared to 19 the previous year. The addition of 10 water patrol deputies and more new equipment barely kept up with ever increasing lake traffic.

Deputies and plainclothesmen drove some 1,091,900 miles in 1959. The department's new rescue ambulance drove 17,000 miles and a rescue truck 7,160, according to records.

This totaled 1,116,160 miles driven by Irons' law enforcers during the year. About 950,000 miles were driven in 1958.

The total number of prisoners in the jail last year was 5,819, a drop from the 6,350 in 1958.

The department gained two new marked patrol cars and two new unmarked detectives cars. About six patrol cars were replaced by new models.

A new $6,000 ambulance donated to the department handled 102 emergency runs, 21 of them for drownings and 6 near drownings.

Other new equipment included a special pickup truck, an $8,000 mobile disaster unit and an emergency generator to keep the jail and sheriff's facilities running in case of a major power failure.

Deputies investigated 17 fatal accidents of the 78 in Oakland last year; 408 accidents in which 589 persons were injured, and 3,828 accidents involving only property damage.

There were 800 boat inspections and 41,084 drivers licenses issued. There were 142,738 meals served at the jail.

Don't Scream Too Late . . . Register

Protect Business Name

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Let's assume you're about to open a business in Oakland County.

You start off with a bang and along comes a shyster who wants to get on your gravy train by opening up a similiar business under the same name.

You scream in protest but to no avail. You had forgotten to protect your profitable business by registering its name with the Assumed Names section of the County Clerk's Office.

Had you made a brief visit to this office in the Courthouse, laid down $2, this conniving intruder of a "businessman" could not have opened up with your same company name.

Of all the functions carried on in the clerk's office, that of Assumed Names is one of the lesser known. It is not so with the alert businessmen who are aware of its existence and appreciate its value in protecting their investments.

A state law says anybody engaged in business must register the name. But the law is seldom enforced, clerks assigned to the office will tell you.

"Two young boys came in to register the other day," declared Mrs. Katie Blackmon, one of three clerks working in the office.

"At first we thought maybe they had the wrong office," she added, "until they said they wanted to register their tropical fish business."

THEY RUN THE OFFICE

Co-partnerships also must be registered, Mrs. Blackmon said. The fee is $3.

Running the office with Mrs. Blackmon are clerks Mrs. Naomi J. Burch, of 501 Alton Ave., and Mrs. Aileen Lindstrom, of 181 Coleman St., Waterford Township.

Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr. warns that the protection of the public from shrewd operators is the major goal of the office rather than guarding an individual registered businessman.

"The law says the office can reject a name that is similiar to one already on file so that the public will not be misled or confused," Murphy said.

There are some 45,000 businesses, co-partnership and corporation names on file in the office in the southeast wing of the Courthouse. Some $9,500 in receipts was received last year for the filing of about 4,000 names of businesses and co-partnerships.

Once you're registered, the clerks warn, don't forget you must re register every five years to keep the name protected. Notices are sent out to remind businesses when expirations approach.

You'll find if you're opening up a new business that a bank won't honor your account without a certificate of registration.

Don't bother to visit the office if you plan to open up a business under your own name. It's not necessary. But add "company" or "corporation" to the title and you must register.

Files of these names are reliable sources for law agencies investigating businesses.

Legal prosecution to collect a debt is impossible, for the unregistered business, according to Murphy's chief deputy, David Lang.

Although corporations situated in Oakland County are recorded in the office, registration is made through the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission in Lansing.

Now that you have a business or co-partnership opened here, there's another thing you shouldn't forget. If you, for one reason or another, must dissolve your company, you must register and pay for the discontinuance.

Traffic Death Toll 12

2 Weekend Crashes Kill 8 Young People in State

By United Press International

Two accidents took the lives of eight young persons to send the traffic death toll in Michigan during the weekend to a total of 12 victims.

Two teen-age couples, out riding after a dance, were killed early yesterday when their speeding car shot off a curve on a rural road near Adrian and struck a tree.

The victims were trying to flee from a state police car when they died.

Killed in the grinding impact were John Steffens, 17; Barry L. Williams, 16; Marie C. Parker, 15, all of Petersburg, and Mary H. Ritch, 16, Adrian.

State Troopers James Henderson and William Wisney said they chased the car, apparently driven by Steffens, at speed up to 100 miles per hour. They lost sight of the car when it ran a red light and weaved around a curve.

When the officers saw the car again it was a pile of twisted wreckage.

Two young airmen and two 15-year-old boys in another car were killed Saturday night when their cars collided head-on on U.S. 2 south of Rudyard in the Upper Peninsula.

The victims were Airman Roy L. Mayhorn, 20; Airman Mitchell L. Neuberger, 20, both of Kincheloe AFB; Leonard Yax, 15, and Gary Shankleton, 15, both of Fibre. Shankleton died yesterday in a hospital.

Police said the car driven by Neuberger veered over the center line into a car driven by Donald H. Thompson, 16, of Fibre. Thompson and two other airmen, William W. Loy, 22, and Ray L. Land, 19, both of Kincheloe, were in critical condition.

Walter L. Elmy, 31, a Gingellville volunteer fireman, was killed when he fell from a fire truck as it rounded a sharp curve on its way to a fire in Orion.

A 64-year-old Hazel Park man, John F. Olson, died when his car hit a truck, caromed off a car and slammed into a utility pole on East Eight Mile road.

Theodore C. Crain, 54, Warren, was killed when he walked into the path of a truck near his home. The driver was released after he and witnesses made statements.

Leon Selley, 68, Detroit, was the victim of a hit-run accident. He was struck while walking near his home and died later at a hospital. Police arrested a suspect.

Lack of Quorum Halts Oxford Zoning Hearing

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — Because of lack of a quorum, the Oxford Township Zoning Board did not conduct its scheduled hearing on establishment of Commercial II district in the township Friday night.

Acting Zoning Board Chairman Roger Oberg said today that he will consult the township attorney to find out if the hearing must be re-advertised and scheduled again before action may be taken on the proposed ordinance.

UP Legionnaires Urged to Back Safety Campaign

NEGAUNEE (UPI)—State American Legion Commander Lewis B. Bricker yesterday urged Upper Peninsula legionnaires to join in support of the state legion's "Operation Example" program to reduce traffic accidents and in its drive to win support for community polio clinics.

Bricker made the closing address at the legion's midwinter meeting here. He said "If you succeed in preventing one accident, saving the life of one child, through these worthwhile community programs, they are a success."

Two Primary Rivals of Kennedy Dumped

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Two of Sen. John F. Kennedy's three Democratic rivals were ruled off the New Hampshire presidential primary ballot Saturday.

Removed from the list were the names of TV cowboy singer Elton Britt of Damascus, Md., and Lar (America's First) Daly of Chicago.

Kennedy's aides charged—and state election officials agreed—that nomination petitions filed by Britt and Daly included signatures of dead men and nonexistent persons.

Waterford Cub Pack Sets Annual Banquet

Waterford Township Cub Scout Pack 165 will hold its annual Blue and Gold Banquet Tuesday on the eve of the national celebration of the Boy Scouts golden jubilee.

The banquet is scheduled for 6:15 at Leggett School. Scouts across the nation will commemorate 50 years of character-building scout work next week, Feb. 7-14.

Some 65 boys and their parents will participate in Tuesday's program which includes a song fest, movies on boy scouting and a handicraft achievement display.

A pack charter will be presented to Mrs. Frances Dawson, principal of the school. Ottawa District Commissioner Reo Brink of Milford will be the featured guest of the evening.

In other ceremonies Billy Franklin will be "pulled across the plank" into boy scout ranks and 19 cubs will receive awards.

Members will also sign a scroll and contribute to the Boy Scouts National Commemorative Tribute soon to be built at Washington, D. C., honoring scouts and their eight million leaders since 1910.

The event will be photographed throughout the evening for the cubs scrapbook.

Ex-U. of M. Math Prof, Card Expert Love Dies

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Clyde E. Love, retired professor of mathematics at the University of Michigan, died yesterday at the age of 77.

He was considered an authority on bridge and wrote two books on the subject.

COUNT TO 10!

Take 10 average Americans, and one of them will be in the hospital this year. How many are in your family? What are the chances you'll be faced with hospital and surgical bills? No need to worry about heavy expenses if you have Life of Virginia's modern hospital and surgical protection plan. Let me tell you how large the protection is—how small the cost.

WHAT A WAY TO TRAVEL — This car is doing 100 miles an hour and isn't using any gas at all. It's suspended by sky-hook under a huge experimental Sikorsky S60 helicopter which has been used for everything from uprooting trees to sweeping mines. The two 2,100 horse power engines easily lift the 3,450 pound car over the Connecticut countryside near Stratford. And the 'copter sets it down gently, too. What a way to bypass a traffic jam!

Blue Chips Take Steadying Trend

U.S. Steel held steady while Bethlehem gained a fraction. Jones & Laughlin and Republic Steel were down a bit. Small losses were taken by Standard Oil (New Jersey) and American Telephone.

While the general economic news remained good, Wall Street looked for some sign that the 1960 market break was bottoming out. Many observers hoped for a "selling climax" that would clear the air.

Whereas, on July 21, 1959, an application, in writing, was filed with me as County Drain Commissioner of Oakland County, Michigan, praying that I lay out and designate a Special Assessment District with reference to the establishment and maintenance of the waters of Watkins Lake at a certain height above sea level, namely, the normal height thereof and

Whereas, such application was filed pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 319 of the Public Acts of the State of Michigan for the year 1941; and

Whereas, as a means of determining the practicability of said proposed lake level establishment, I did cause a survey to be made by Robert M. McGinnis, a competent Registered Civil Engineer, which survey and preliminary report in reference thereto is on file in my office.

Now, therefore, I do hereby determine and order, as follows:

1. I hereby determine that the said application is sufficient and is signed by not less than ten (10) freeholders owning land abutting the lake in question, the eligibility of the signers to said application having been determined by me according to their interest of record in the Office of the Register of Deeds, in the Probate Court or in the Circuit Court of the County of Oakland.

2. I do further determine that from said survey and other field investigation made by me that the proposed establishment of the level of said lake is practical and that said application should be granted.

3. I do further order and determine that the official name of said project shall be "Watkins Lake Level Control" and that the official name of the drainage district shall be "Watkins Lake Level Control Special Assessment District."

4. I do further order and determine that the drainage district for said project shall be constituted of all lands abutting on said Watkins Lake and which are described as follows:
