Planners Move Toward Asking Courthouse Tax

4-Year Half-Mill Levy to Finish Project May Go Before Voters

Courthouse planning supervisors took the next to last step today before asking county taxpayers to approve a four-year half-mill tax levy to raise four million dollars to finish the project.

The full Board of Supervisors must pass on the proposal next month before the question will be placed before the electorate Aug. 2.

Although today's approval by three steering committees of the Board came unanimously, there was some pessimism about voters approving a tax hike.

"I think God you are all optimistic," said Paul W. McGovern, Oak Park supervisor. "But I don't see how we can expect this to be a successful issue."

McGovern cited what he believed was a fact, he said, that 62 per cent of millage voters for schools have been rejected by voters during the past year.

Stating the other viewpoint, Springfield Township Supervisor L. L. Carey said: "Put it on the ballot and see what happens. If you can't get it, we'll have to try something else."

The committees today took the action after their courthouse planning consultant, Dr. Louis L. Friedman, presented his space-cost study of future county office needs.

It showed that additional units for the courthouse tower unit now under construction in the County Service Center "is likely to reach $1,147,026."

The tower unit is costing the county $3,055,174. This money has come from non-tax surplus county funds, an annual levy of one-tenth of a mill for public buildings, and the sale of county properties.

Although the Board of Supervisors planned to pay for the several stages as monies accumulated from miscellaneous revenues and from the sale of various county owned properties, it will be necessary if the remaining stages of construction are to be commenced in the near future that a tax must be levied," the committee agreed.

Troy Truck Driver, 50, Held in Jail for Hearing Into Fatal Crash

Charged with negligent homicide in the traffic death of an Avon Township woman, D. R. McCluskey, 50, a Troy truck driver, was taken to a hearing yesterday before Avon Township Justice Luther C. Green.

McCluskey, of 1255 Eastport St., was driving the double-bottom trailer truck that smashed into a car driven by Mrs. Glenna M. Cooper, 35, of 583 South Blvd., killing her instantly Tuesday afternoon.

He was returned to the Oakland County Jail with bond set at $500. The hearing was scheduled for June 7 before Green.

According to an Oakland County Sheriff's Dept. check, with the secretary of state's office in Lansing, McCluskey's record showed six convictions for moving violations in the past five years, and four accidents, one of them fatal, in that time.

McCluskey was driving on a restricted chauffeur's license at the time of the accident at Auburn and Rochester roads. The truck was owned by North Elm Truck-ers, Inc., 411 E. Nine Mile Rd., Hazel Park, his employer.

McCluskey, in a statement to the prosecutor, said his brakes failed

She Didn't Expect Reply

LETTER FROM QUEEN—Sixth-grader Shirley Love, 12, of 229 Prospect St., wrote, "Dear Queen Elizabeth, congratulations on your third child." She did it as an assignment in letter-writing given her by Wilson School teacher Richard Johnson (proudly looking on) and didn't expect a reply. One came from Buckingham Palace.

"Dear Shirley, the Queen commands me to write and thank you for your very kind message of good wishes on the birth of her son. Her Majesty is deeply touched by your thought for her, and desires me to send you The Queen's most sincere thanks." It was signed by Kathryn Dugdale, Lady-in-waiting.

MSU Will Let U. of M. Take Lead on Fee Hike

The MSU Board of Trustees, governing body of Michigan State University and Michigan State University Oakland, is letting the University of Michigan take the lead in any move to increase student fees.

No official discussion of a tuition hike took place at the Board's monthly meeting in East Lansing yesterday. Members had in their folders, however, a report comparing MSU fees with other institutions in the Midwest and Big Ten.

It was reported that the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan will vote Friday on a fee raise proposal.

The unofficial U. of M. report said the proposal calls for jumping fees of resident students from $250 to $280 a year and out-of-state students from $600 to $750.

Fees at MSU and MSOU are currently $255 and $355.

MSU President John A. Hannah said the question would probably be discussed at the June Board meeting but that MSU would not necessarily follow any U. of M. action.

"If the Board raised fees at MSU, they'd probably do the same for MSOU," said Chancellor D. B. Varner.

Seeds of Expansion Have Been Planted

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL Jr., Pontiac Municipal Airport has been given a slight nudge toward becoming the second major metropolitan jet airfield for Southeastern Michigan.

There was general unanimity yesterday among members of a special Oakland County committee gazing into the crystal ball of future airport needs that the seeds have already been planted toward making the Pontiac field second only to Detroit's Metropolitan Airport.

Why stop the seeds from sprouting further, most of the members of Mayor Philip E. Rowston's committee agreed.

There was some talk, however, that maybe the field should

NEW YORK (AP)—Five disc jockeys and two other radio station employees were arrested today after being named in grand jury indictments charging commercial bribery, a misdemeanor.

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan announced:

Those arrested: Alan Freed, Peter Tripp, Tommy Smalls, Harold B. Jackson and Dick Walker, all disc jockeys; and Ariel Leeds, a program director, and Joseph Saccone, former radio station librarian.

Hogan said the indictments charged that the seven defendants and the eighth man, not yet arrested, took graft payments commonly known as payola from recording companies and record distributors in consideration for playing records on radio station programs.

NATO Pledges Full Backing to United States

Present Forces Suffice to Deter Only Sensible Foes, Says Gen. White

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — A U.S. Air Force Gen. Thomas D. White told senators today it might be wise to beef up this nation's defense because of irrational behavior at the Paris summit conference.

In Paris the North Atlantic Alliance pledged its complete solidarity with the United States today at a NATO council session which heard Secretary of State Christian A. Herter report that U2 spy flights had produced information of great importance for safeguarding the free world.

A NATO communique blamed Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for torpedoing the summit conference and agreed with Herter's ascription Khrushchev came to Paris determined in advance to wreck the meeting because of American pressure within his own country.

White's reference to irrationality came as he was questioned by senators about collapse of the Paris conference brought on by actions of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"I have seen indications recently that irrationality could enter into certain nation's decision to launch an attack," White told Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.).

The four-star Air Force chief of staff said that earlier this year he was convinced that United States defenses were so strong "that no rational decision could be made to attack us."

He said an attacking nation would face destruction from our deterrent.

"What would be a deterrent to a rational point of view might not be a deterrent to an irrational point of view," White said.

At Omaha, Neb. Gen. Thomas S. Power declared today the Russians may have more missiles than we have but their manned bombers cannot match ours in either quantity or quality.

ATSUBUJI AIR STATION, Japan (AP)—Two hundred left-wing Japanese today demonstrated in front of this U.S. naval station demanding the immediate removal of three U2 planes based in Japan.

Must Work Harder for Peace in Summit Wreckage, Says Ike

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the wrecking of the summit conference means "we must tighten our belts, keep our chins up" and work harder for peace with justice and freedom.

He spoke informally shortly after receiving a rousing, heart-warming welcome from 250,000 Portuguese upon arrival here for an overnight stop.

"There is no reason to be dismayed or disheartened. We have had these conditions before in dealing with the Soviets," he said.

"Rather than be dismayed we must tighten our belts, keep our chins up and each of us work a little harder for the great cause of peace with justice and freedom."

NIKITA IN BERLIN

At the same time in Berlin, Nikita Khrushchev, waving his right hand like a victorious boxer, flew into Communist East Berlin today from Paris to tell the world whether he intends to force the Berlin issue to the explosion point.

Khrushchev already had threatened to sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany—a move aimed at forcing the Western Allies out of West Berlin, isolating the city and splitting Germany forever.

He is expected to state his intentions tomorrow in another of his fiery speeches before a Hatzel stadium rally being prepared by the satellite nation. Today the Reds greeted him with deatulations of Eisenhower and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Meanwhile, a big welcome home was shaping up for the President in Washington.

The White House said it was flooded with calls from government workers and others asking his aid.

one of the first items of business after he returns will be preparation of a report via television and radio to the nation on the Paris meeting and the grave situation the Free World faces.

Eisenhower is expected to make the report early next week.

Eisenhower spoke to U.S. Embassy workers and members of the U. S. military mission in Lisbon after riding through streets lined by thousands of cheering, waving Portuguese.

Crowds showered confetti from office windows and balconies. Rockets exploded all along the line of march from the airport to downtown Lisbon.

The guns of a field artillery unit boomed out a 21-gun salute. Planes roared overhead. Seventeen military bands played from their stations along the route.

Eisenhower looked tired after the failure of the summit conference, which he said before leaving Paris had joined the Western Allies "even closer than before in a determined pursuit of peace with justice in the world."

But despite the gloomy prospects in an anxious world, the President grinned broadly and waved his hat in reply to the cheers.

Girl Hit by Car Dies in Hospital

Paula C. Williams, 10, One of Group Running Across Sasabaw

A 10-year-old Independence Township girl died this morning in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital shortly after being hit by a car as she dashed across a township road to catch a school bus.

The girl was Paula C. Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert L. Williams, 5272 Sasabaw Rd. She was a student at the Pine Knob School in Independence Township.

The driver of the car, Merle S. Helms, 40, 6473 Cranberry Dr., Independence Township, was released after giving a statement to Pontiac State Police troopers.

Also injured was Richard L. Langmaid, 5, of 2535 Sasabaw Rd. He was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for observation. He suffered abrasions of the face and hands. His condition is satisfactory.

Helms told authorities he was driving south on Sasabaw road at 9:30 a.m. when he noted a group of five children standing at the side of the road.

When they spotted a school bus coming north on Sasabaw road, they suddenly darted into the path of his auto and he was unable to stop in time to avoid hitting the children, he said.

Booster Defense, AF Chief Urges against the U2 flights which Herter said had started four years ago. However NATO ally Norway protested last week that the U2 shot down over Russia was to have ended its flight in Norway.

The council also expressed approval of Big Three readiness to take part in such negotiations at any suitable time in the future.

A NATO spokesman told newsmen the delegates "paid tribute to the spirit of conciliation of the three Western chiefs of government and the calm and dignity they showed" during the abortive negotiations to the summit conference going.

LETTERS REED SPYING

Herter said the U2 incident was only one case of espionage and that the Russians have been extremely active in espionage over the years and still are. He explained the U2 flights were undertaken in the interests of all NATO members who have a great stake in the security of the free world.

In Peiping Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai said today his country "firmly supported" Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's actions in Paris and urged the Russians to accusing the United States of "sabotaging" the summit.

Chou, speaking in Peiping at a banquet honoring a visiting Algerian minister, said the Soviet government was "attempting to shift its responsibility for sabotaging the conference on to the Soviet Union."

The NATO council expressed regret that "Khrushchev's position has made the negotiations in Paris impossible."

A spokesman said approval of the Western position was unanimous and none of the delegates expressed any criticism.

Asked whether any reference was made to tightening up Allied defenses following the summit breakdown, the spokesman said none of the delegates "seemed to have asked a question on this point, and received assurance from Lloyd."

"You can take it our defenses are being looked after," the spokesman told newsmen.

GERMAN CURBS

Later officials reported they plan to erase some curbs on West German rearmament in view of the summit conference breakdown.

A high NATO official said: "In the next few weeks a substantial revision of the 1953 Paris treaties will be undertaken."

These treaties spelled out detailed limitations on West German weapons production. They were designed to bar runaway rearmament.

The informant said a starting point is likely to be formal approval of a German request for permission to build warships—mainly destroyers.

It was emphasized by the informant that the planned revision of the 1953 treaties will leave untouched West Germany's pledge not to manufacture ABC—atomic, bacteriological, chemical—weapons.

At Edinburgh, Scotland, a member of a Russian cultural delegation asked British police for permission to build warships—mainly destroyers.

Reliable government sources identified the Russian as Anatoly Nakashidze, 28, an engineer and industrial manager from Soviet Georgia.

Nakashidze, a member of a Soviet miners' delegation touring Scotland under a cultural exchange agreement, walked in to an Edinburgh police station with his request, the sources said.

He was reported taken to Scotland Prison pending a decision from London on granting asylum.

Back in Paris, Herter told NATO the United States regrets the summit debate but is not sure the same thing might not have happened if there had been no spy plane incident.

He said the violent and extreme position taken by Khrushchev seemed to be a calculated effort.

He said Khrushchev apparently had reached the conclusion some time before he left Moscow that he was not going to succeed in achieving results at the summit that would satisfy him, and in particular, his critics in Russia.

Herter said there had been considerable evidence of dissatisfaction within some quarters of the Soviet world over Khrushchev's policy of striving for relaxation of tension with the West.

A nervous world faced a dangerously uncertain future today as the chiefs of the United States and the Soviet Union turned away from the East-West battle at the summit to plan their strategies for new cold war conflict.

All hope of a quick cooling of tempers and slow rebuilding of polite relations between Washington and Moscow was dashed—buried under the new barrage of insults hurled by Khrushchev at President Eisenhower.

To Western diplomats surveying the wreckage of the Big Four conference and the violence of the Soviet Premier's new conference Wednesday, the future looked ominous.

A breakdown of disarmament negotiations, a new flash over Berlin, a return to bitter propaganda warfare, a Red China flare-up in the Far East were all regarded as possible.

The Soviet ambassador said the Soviet Union would submit a resolution at the first meeting of the Security Council.

In requesting the meeting, Gromyko demanded that the 11-nation Council take measures to stop the spy flights.

He called the request from Paris last night after the summit conference broke down. The four Communist diplomats is a veteran of Cold War wrangling at the U. N.

The Russians charged the U. S. Air Force with aggressive flights against the Soviet Union, creating a threat to universal peace.

REDS GOT JUMP

Soviet met today with U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and said his delegation had not yet set a specific date for the Council session.

But in any event the Russians got the jump on a U. S. proposal for international aerial inspection against surprise attack.

In Washington, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) said the Soviet appeal to the U. N. might carry greater conviction if the Soviets were to demonstrate a real willingness to negotiate on "arms-control, the integrity of small nations, and the state of subjugated peoples."

Sen. Claude C. Rorabacher of Oregon, Council president for May, told a newsman he would decide today when to schedule the meeting.

Any Fee Increase in Lap of U. of M.

"on-and-off" discussions over student fees for a year, the MSU administrator said.

"The Board feels about the possibility of increasing educational costs which are already so high."

"There is no enthusiasm for raising fees—the Board feels it's had for the state of Michigan and for society in general."

"That's not to say there won't be such a hike," Varner added.

Some lawmakers urged such a hike by state institutions during the recent session, contending it was necessary to help ease the state's money problems. Republicans generally favored the proposal, and Democrats opposed it.

The Michigan Council of State College Presidents, of which U. of M. President Harlan Hatcher is a member, has opposed the increase.

The MSU Board, where Democrats have a 5-1 majority, has been opposed to legislative suggestions that a higher share of the cost of education be shifted to students.

The report furnished the Board showed that resident fees in the Big Ten range from $300 at the University of Illinois to $300 at Ohio State University.

As recently as 1940, the report showed, MSU resident students paid only $90 a year and out-of-state students $120.

Ponder Jet Future of Pontiac Airport brought out, would be that it would be in close proximity with the proposed re-location of U. of M. 10 or Woodward avenue (the new Oakland County expressway there).

Location of roads will play a big part in determining the site, said Robert O. Fell, chairman of the County Road Commission.

With this in mind, he was asked to have his department prepare an overlay of existing and proposed roads to compare with a study chart of proposed locations of the second field.

This will be reviewed at the June 1 session.

On the third and final question of what to do with the smaller private airfield throughout the county, there was some difference of opinion.

"They are useless except for use as feeder fields to the large airports," Carey said.

Rickey Asks Sports Bill

Break Up Crowds in Ankara

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI)—New demonstrations broke out against the government of Premier Adnan Menderes today in Ankara where 2,000 students gathered at the mausoleum of Kemal Ataturk to shout for freedom.

About 20 persons were detained by police and troops. There was no violence during the demonstration but afterwards police used tear gas to break up knots of people who began to reform after most of the crowd had dispersed.

Ataturk is the father of the Turkish Republic. The emotional and sobbing students met at his tomb to chant patriotic songs and pledge themselves to follow his path to freedom and independence.

One of the candidates who filed petitions to seek a place on the Waterford Township Board of Education, was omitted from the list of 17 printed in Monday's Pontiac Press.

Charles W. Mayka, 36, of 2683 Bayview Dr., is also a candidate. He is the father of two children, was graduated from Michigan State University, is a four-year Air Force veteran and is employed as an engineer at Pontiac Motor Division.

Okays $100 Million to Run Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House tentatively approved a 100-million-dollar appropriations measure to run Congress next year. But the Senate is expected to add another 30 million or so to the bill later.

Several House members grumbled at the high cost of legislative machinery and congressional activities in general.

Rep. W. F. Norrell (D-Ark.), chairman of the subcommittee which drafted the measure, said some cuts had been made from this year's budget but it was "not practical to make larger reductions."

Rep. Paul C. Jones (D-Mo.) suggested millions of dollars could be saved if the lawmakers would stop putting so much unnecessary stuff in the congressional record and also refrain from introducing identical bills. The appropriations measure contained $11,900,000 to cover congressional printing costs such as these.

Arizona has two pioneer villages named Roki (in Yavapai County) and Roki (in Yuma County).

Newspaper Delivery Methods Considered

EAST LANSING — Circulation managers of 25 Michigan dailies met here yesterday to discuss the best methods of getting newspapers to the home. The conference was sponsored by the Michigan Press Assn.

A panel on carrier routes and carrier boys was led by Robert O. Faler of the Saginaw News.

Dean Mallette of the Kalamazoo Gazette discussed "newspapers in the classroom."

Area Sincerely Thanks Kresge Foundation for MSUO Library

Residents in this big and expanding area will cheer lustily over the magnificent gift to MSUO by The Kresge Foundation.

This beautiful library constitutes one of The Kresge Foundation's major gifts and it happens at a most propitious moment. The actual expansion of MSUO in the next two years is predicated upon the acquisition of a Library and an Engineering and Science Building.

For four consecutive years, MSUO must accommodate an added class. All universities and colleges greet an incoming group each year, but they always graduate their seniors. MSUO will not experience this until June of 1963. Therefore, the Oakland County Institution must provide new facilities each year.

The Kresge gift guarantees that progress will not be interrupted during this formative period. "Every college and university in the world has a library," said Chancellor D. B. Varner. "It's a basic and fundamental part of their existence. Fortunately for us, the Kresge gift makes it possible to erect our ultimate library in size, although we can only fill a part with books at the start. The balance of the space will be utilized for important educational purposes in the interim."

The Kresge Library is to occupy the top of a rolling knoll and will overlook the balance of the campus. "I don't know a finer building as the pivotal point of a university," said Chancellor Varner. "It symbolizes the whole spirit of education."

Work will be started at the first possible moment so that the structure can be ready for occupancy with the opening of the fall term in 1961.

The Kresge Foundation has given millions to worthwhile projects over the years, but no gift will ever be received more thankfully or with more open arms. The Kresge Library marks an important cultural step in the development of Oakland County. Primarily, this is an industrial area and our main growth has been along these lines. Hence, something that falls directly under the heading of the finer things in life is doubly welcome.

To The Kresge Foundation, this newspaper says a heartfelt "thank you" for the entire community and in behalf of the thousands and thousands of students and faculty members who will profit through the years ahead.

The Man About Town

Beats All of Them

Oakland County Growth, as Compared with Some Others

Figures: What do not lie, and prove Oakland County's great growth.

As the final count simmers in on the 1960 census, Oakland County's marvelous growth is further accentuated. Nothing else in our state, or probably our nation, can match it.

The final figures on our neighboring Macomb County also are marvelous, they fall short by 71,294 of matching Oakland's increase over the 1950 count, although on a percentage basis they better us, having had a greater influx from Detroit.

Macomb's 1950 figures were 184,941. Its 1960 count was 405,257. Oakland had a 1950 count of 396,001. Its 1960 figure is 687,411.

Macomb jumps over Kent County (Grand Rapids) and Genesee County (Flint) to third place among Michigan's 83 counties.

Oakland holds its second position by a margin of 281,354 over Macomb, which is over two and one-half times the margin that it held over third place Kent in 1950.

Wayne County (Detroit) of course holds first place, but only with a percentage gain that's trivial when compared with Oakland or Macomb.

The dog and cat in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Alanson Diehl of Waterford, who sleep together in the garage, have added another bellow in the shape of a large warty toad.

Coming to Oakland County for its first president is the Genesee County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Health.

Mrs. William Dranton of Holly being chosen for the position.

The ground was so wet when Paul Ostendorf of Auburn Heights planted his garden that he wore hip boots. He left them out overnight, and they were stolen. Paul asks their return, with no questions asked, as his wife may need them in weeding the garden.

A question asked by many is: "What centennial was celebrated in Pontiac in 1916?" We're looking it up.

An apple tree in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fallsworth of Waterford, that was sentenced for execution because it appeared dead last year, is now in full bloom.

The Great Leveler

David Lawrence Says:

Why Deal With This Saber-Rattler?

WASHINGTON — It may well be asked why the United States government should continue diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union.

Every American ambassador to the Soviet Union is a personal representative of the President of the United States.

If the Soviet government refuses to deal with the President, how can the American government continue to keep its ambassador and his staff in Moscow? And if the United States withdraws its ambassador, wouldn't it be logical to hand passports to the Soviet ambassador to Washington? Routine business could be conducted through other governments' embassies, as is the case when no direct diplomatic relations are maintained.

Khrushchev has said that for the next six or eight months he doesn't want to negotiate or do business with the United States. He adds that if the kind of president he likes isn't elected in November by the American people, he will keep up the boycott and wait till the next election to see if a man who will do his bidding is chosen.

This sort of comment, made by Khrushchev at his lengthy press conference in Paris, is the outburst of an egomaniac who happens to possess governmental power for the moment.

There is no rule in the book which says the American people must continue to maintain diplomatic relations with a government that has publicly insulted the President of the United States. Indeed, the history of diplomacy shows that for less than violent language or discourtesies by another government, many an ambassador has been handed his travel papers.

The hypocrisy of Khrushchev is illustrated by what he said at his Wednesday press conference about how he knew in September 1959, when he visited President Eisenhower, that there had been U-2 flights over the Soviet Union's territory.

"I almost opened my mouth," said Khrushchev in referring to his knowledge of the U-2 flights. But, he added, because the atmosphere at Camp David was so cordial, he said to himself, "Why raise this matter with this friend then?"

But if the flights over Russia are as serious a matter as the Soviet Premier now pretends, why didn't he at least send a note of protest to the Department of State through his embassy and say in 1959 all that he now says about the seriousness of violations of Russian "sovereignty" by the flights of the U-2 type of plane?

The Country Parson

I believe a wee bit of iodine, the amount one gets in the daily iodine ration, will prevent goiter in the Great Lakes Basin, if one gets it every day.

A wee, wee bit of iodine daily, as described in the free pamphlet Iodine Ration, for which send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, prevents not only goiter in school children and teenagers but also many ailments of adults, particularly women in the fourth decade.

For the cure of goiter which has been apparent more than a month or two, at least 10, very likely a hundred times as much iodine as one gets in the daily ration is required.

Not only in the Great Lakes Basin but throughout the United States and Canada, a wee, wee bit of iodine in one form or another fish or shellfish from the sea, for instance daily or a greater quantity weekly is essential to maintain good nutrition.

Signaled letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. (Copyright 1960)

In that event, the Western Allies will have to decide whether they will submit to the expulsion of their armed forces from West Berlin—and then anything could happen.

So the easiest thing, Khrushchev doubtless thought, was to find a reason for cancellation of the trip.

But what happens next? The Soviet Premier has declared all negotiations off for several months. He pretends to be friendly to Prime Minister Macmillan and General de Gaulle, but he knows now that the West is united and will not be divided.

If he begins to show hostility to the British and French, it will be a sign that the Soviet Premier is getting ready to make a separate peace with East Germany and to complicate the European situation further.

Dr. William Brady Says:

That Wee Bit of Iodine Helps Prevent Goiter

A Minnesota reader, aged 33, has been a diabetic for 21 years and on insulin. She has not had any more infections than the average person has and has always worked hard and regularly. She has been married 10 years and has two sons.

When she became diabetic the family doctor sent her to a hospital for regulation of the diabetes. There the doctor insisted on removing her tonsils, as a possible source of infection, although she had never had any throat trouble.

Since removal of her tonsils she has had one "cold" after another and constant throat irritation. Now she has developed chronic sinus trouble.

For the past year, the Minnesota reader has been on an iodine prescription for external goiter, in hope of avoiding surgery. Her mother had a goiter removed 11 years ago, a younger sister had one removed 2 years ago, and another sister has one now. She says she is anxious to learn more about the iodine ration. She thinks her husband and young sons may need it as well as herself.

In the first place, it seems to me, the doctor who insisted on removing the child's tonsils, when the tonsils were perfectly normal, just because he thinks tonsils are a "source of infection," is no great shakes, even though the family doctor refers patients to him. Tonsillectomy put the girl's life in jeopardy, without justification.

I believe a wee bit of iodine, the amount one gets in the daily iodine ration, will prevent goiter in the Great Lakes Basin, if one gets it every day.

A wee, wee bit of iodine daily, as described in the free pamphlet Iodine Ration, for which send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, prevents not only goiter in school children and teenagers but also many ailments of adults, particularly women in the fourth decade.

'We're Passing Up Many Jobs That Should Be Ours'

I read of the wonderful work a group of Pontiac women did in raising some money to help some girl or boy go to college. There are a thousand and more better college scholarships than any millionaire gives that belong to Michigan young folks and are stolen from them — jobs in the classified civil service in Washington, D. C.

We are entitled to 2,318 according to the report of March 1958 and have 538. The District of Columbia is entitled to 267 and has 19,921, nearby Maryland and Virginia have far more than their quota.

Neglect on the part of the states to claim their share of these jobs results in inequity and wastes our great statesmen have tried for well over half a century to cure.

We can correct that. Get copies of that report. It comes out quarterly. "Condition of the Apportionment" of the Bureau of Departmental Operations, U. S. Civil Service Commission. We can start something in the next session of the Legislature.

'Voting by Mail Is for Lazy People'

In reply to Mr. Waterbury's letter, I couldn't have been more disturbed.

The school system is in dire need of additional funds due to the tremendous rise in enrollment over the past years. Better facilities and better compensation are greatly needed because teachers are in great demand and many of the better ones are leaving the profession to accept higher paying jobs.

How can anyone wish to have voting done by mail? When a person is too lazy to go out to the polls and cast his vote, then he should not voice an opinion such as yours. I suppose you could counteract my statement by saying freedom of speech is practiced in this country. Remember this country is great because of its freedoms. Voting is the most important. The poor turnout was a disgrace to our city.

As far as coverage on buses is concerned, The Pontiac Press should be commended for its excellent coverage. If you did not read these articles, there were many meetings held where you could have gotten more than your share of information. If anyone does not understand an issue, it is his duty as an American to investigate on his own for a clearer understanding.

The next thing people will want is someone to vote for them. The only excuse for not voting is being too sick to get out of bed.

'Follow God's Laws for a Better Life'

I can't prove there's a God or Divine Spirit that created everything and laid down all the laws to exist and live by. Neither can I prove that there is no such Divine Power.

When the time of my death comes and the spiritual body leaves my earthly body, my spiritual body will learn what the future holds. I sincerely believe there is a God who has laid down all the laws as contained in the Bible for proper living. If I live according to those laws I'll surely be in better shape to meet God when the time comes, than I would be if I did not follow these laws.

If it should develop there is no God, I have been much better off than I would have been had I disregarded these laws, for during my life here on earth I have been happier and contented by having faith in God and living by His laws. So, it behooves all of us to have faith in God, living according to His laws, have a happier life on earth and in a future life, to be in shape and ready for it.

Triton Test Great Feat, Despite Poor Timing

Unfortunately the completion of the around-the-world trek of our atomic submarine, Triton, came at the wrong time. It might well have been good propaganda for us on the eve of the summit conference.

It was an impressive military feat. It provided a strenuous test for both men and equipment. All the advantages of atomic submarines came to light from this scientific demonstration.

Yet the glamour and the advantages we might have had from the Triton's trip were overshadowed by Mr. K. and the U-2 incident. In this continuing propaganda battle we may have lost this round.

Nevertheless, this outstanding feat will not go unnoticed. The proven worth of this type of sub will be obvious to any and all enemy nations. The fact that this type sub can be used undetected as a mobile missile base makes it a powerful instrument of war. Or better still, it can be an instrument of peace.

Irrespective of our plane faux pas, the officers and crew of the atomic sub, Triton, should be praised for this outstanding, imaginative submarine test.

They have demonstrated to the world a new type of weapon while Premier Khrushchev continues his cold war ruthlessness.

Michigan Bell Lists $103 Million Projects

DETROIT — Michigan Bell Telephone Co. said Wednesday it would spend 103 million dollars on construction this year.

The company said the outlay was the second highest in its history, topped only by a record $105 million spent in 1957.

Michigan Bell said plans include the conversion of Big Rapids, Grand Haven and Iron Mountain exchanges from manual to dial service.

In Three More '61 Compacts

Engines to Be Aluminum

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT—At least three more cars will be equipped with aluminum engines when the 1961 models are introduced next fall, auto industry sources said today.

The sources said the new small Buicks and Oldsmobiles will be equipped with water-cooled V8 aluminum engines when they are introduced, and Rambler will feature a six-cylinder, aluminum, water-cooled, in-line engine in its 1961 models.

The Corvair became the first modern, volume-produced car with an aluminum engine when it was introduced last fall. It features an air-cooled horizontally opposed, six-cylinder engine.

The significance of the engines on the small Buicks and Oldsmobiles and on the Rambler is that they are water-cooled. This represents another breakthrough by the aluminum industry in its attempt to make the lightweight metal the basic ingredient in all automobile engines.

The Corvair engine was not water-cooled, in part at least because engineers feared antifreezes needed in water-cooled engines would set up a chemical action when they came in contact with aluminum.

Apparently the decision to build water-cooled aluminum engines for the small Buicks and Oldsmobiles and the Rambler means the auto makers are now satisfied that the chemical industry has developed antifreezes which can be used safely in aluminum engines.

One auto industry engineer said he could see no reason why the industry could not develop an aluminum engine for every car if it could develop such a water-cooled engine for a small car.

Chrysler Corp. already is testing an aluminum engine on some of its full-sized company-owned cars, industry sources said.

However, the source said Chrysler was having some problems with the engine and it was not likely the engine could be placed on the market until the 1963 models are introduced.

The source said Chrysler has a program under way to build up to 10,000 aluminum engines for testing purposes. These engines probably will be tested on car fleets and taxicabs this winter, the source said.

One of the problems Chrysler was having, the source said, was expense. The corporation just completed a costly transfer to unitized bodies on its cars in 1959 and did not feel it could afford another costly advance in 1961.

Some Canceling Trips
NEW YORK (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's summit blowup has caused "some, but not many" American tourists to cancel summer trips to Eastern Europe and Russia, a quick survey of travel agencies showed today.

Forests of the United States are now growing more wood than is being removed by harvest and by loss to fire, insects and disease.

Kidnaped Boy Found Dead

Son of Tokyo Merchant Stuffed in Rice Sack After Ransom Tries

TOKYO (AP)—The kidnaped 7-year-old son of a wealthy Tokyo leather goods dealer was found dead today—his body stuffed in a rice sack inside an abandoned automobile.

Police said they believed Masaki Ozeki was murdered. The boy's lips were battered and his face bloodied.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of the owner of the abandoned car, a 32-year-old dentist. The child disappeared four days ago on his way home from school.

The kidnaper, in phone calls and telegrams to the boy's father, Sumaru Ozeki, demanded two million yen—$3,535—and warned the family not to tip off the police. Ozeki sent a maid, trailed by a detective, to a designated spot Tuesday but no one showed up. The anonymous phone caller upped the ransom to three million yen, but again did not show up to collect.

Another call came later. "I'm tired of waiting," said the caller. "Consider the life of the boy lost."

Rail Worker Strike Spreads to New York

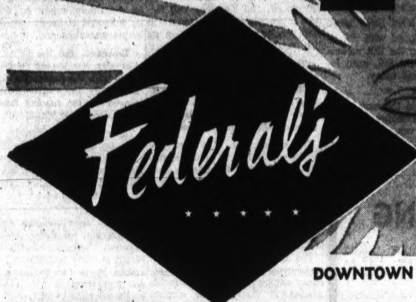

NEW YORK (UPI)—A work stoppage of maintenance men against the Pennsylvania Railroad threatened today to disrupt the line's passenger and freight operations between New York and St. Louis.

The walkout, which began Monday in Weldon, W. Va., spread to New York early today despite issuance of a restraining order by a federal judge in Philadelphia last night.

Maintenance workers reported for work here on the midnight shift but then began leaving their jobs, purportedly to attend "meetings" called by officials of the Transport Workers Union (TWU). Actually, the workers lingered nearby or went home. Supervisory personnel were pressed into service here as car inspectors, but a spokesman for the railroad said it appeared there would be service delays during the day.

Jumping Frogs Come From All Over World

ANGELS CAMP, Calif. — Summit conferences and their failures may come and go, but the international jumping frog olympics remain a beacon of international cooperation.

There are no entries from the Soviet bloc. But the Calaveras County Fair has frogs from the Netherlands, Lebanon, the Philippines, Japan, Germany, Switzerland, Jordan, England, Kenya, the British West Indies, Canada, Australia and South Africa.

The contest supposedly began in 1863, when some New York slickers fed the local champ, Daniel, a handful of buckshot so he could be beaten by an ordinary frog on which they placed bets. The yarn was immortalized by Mark Twain.

The frog jumps were revived in 1927.

Legislature Adjourns—but It May Return

LANSING (UPI)—The 1960 Legislature formally adjourned yesterday—but it may be back in special session late in the year.

House Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan) today reiterated his views on a special session following the sales tax referendum.

"I anticipate that the people of this state, when confronted with the choice of a sales tax increase as an alternative to the personal income tax, will favor the one-cent sales tax increase at the Nov. 8 election," Pears said. "Immediately after the election results are tabulated, I will personally request the governor to call a special session of the Legislature to convene as near Dec. 8 as possible."

The Act of Congress which established the Smithsonian Institution was signed by President James K. Polk on August 10, 1846.

Soviet, U.S. Demands to Be Dumped on U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Diplomats predicted today Soviet spy plane charges and American demands for measures to prevent sneak attack both may hit the floor of the U.N. General Assembly next month.

This belief grew as the Big Four summit conference broke up in a bitter dispute between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said last week the U.S.S.R. would put the spy plane case before both the Assembly and the U.N. Security Council "whenever it is necessary."

President Eisenhower said Monday that "in the near future" he would propose that the U.N. create a system of aerial surveillance against surprise attack to operate in all countries that would accept it. He did not say to which U.N. body he would send the proposal.

When Eisenhower refused to apologize to Khrushchev for the May Day flight of the U.S. spy plane downed by the Soviets over Soviet territory and the Paris conference collapsed, U.N. delegates said, both the Soviet Union and the United States probably would ask for a meeting of the 11-nation

Security Council, perhaps this week.

A Soviet resolution to condemn the United States as an aggressor would fail to get the seven votes necessary for approval. The Soviets would veto the American "open sky" proposal. Both countries then would seek special sessions of the 21-nation Assembly to act on their proposals.

Most diplomats believed it would be difficult for either proposal to get the two-thirds vote in the Assembly necessary for approval. But some thought the United States could win with a resolution referring the aerial surveillance plan to the 10-nation disarmament committee in Geneva—where the Communist bloc could veto it again.

Michigan was among the first states to remove treatment of tuberculosis from the welfare category and declare that payments for hospitalization were for the protection of the public health.

Convict Negro in House Blast

Bombed Little Rock Dwelling for Publicity and 'Lot of Donations'

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A Negro youth, reportedly seeking publicity and "a lot of donations" for the family of one of the Negro students who integrated Central High, has been convicted in the bombing of the family's home.

An all-white jury found Herbert Odell Monts, 17, guilty of taking part in the Feb. 9 bombing of Carolyn Walker's home. No one was injured. Carolyn Walker, a daughter, is one of five Negroes still attending Central.

The jury fixed Monts' sentence at a maximum of five years imprisonment. An appeal is expected.

June Texas Oil Output Set at 8 Barrels a Day

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The Texas Railroad Commission has set allowable oil production in the state for June at 2,643,216 barrels a day, on an eight-day schedule.

Most of the major companies asked for a nine-day producing month, while Atlantic Refining, Cities Service and Gulf Oil Co. asked for an eight-day schedule.

In Michigan Week, We Recall Firsts State Promotes Learning

MICHIGAN WEEK
MAY 15-21

DR. LYNN M. BARTLETT
State Superintendent of Public Instruction

Michigan's educational system is being honored today as part of the seventh annual Michigan Week.

We have every reason to take pride in the progressive, forward-looking educational system of our state, its modern physical facilities, enthusiastic, capable instructors and administrators, effective curriculum, and students at all levels who consistently call attention to their schools and Michigan with achievements in the arts, sciences, journalism, mathematics and other fields.

A glance at history shows that Michigan established the first separate state education department, the first state libraries supported by a constitution, the first state university, the first agricultural college and the first state college in the nation. Our state was also first to legalize tax support for high schools and led in the establishment of junior colleges.

Michigan's continued leadership in higher education should also be recognized on this day.

Our state ranks seventh in the nation in enrollment at the college level, with about 150,000 students enrolled in our 74 institutions of higher learning.

Michigan continually sets an example in such fields as dentistry, medicine, forestry, pharmacy and speech.

As we take inventory of our state's educational assets, perhaps the most outstanding evidence of our educational leadership is the fact that each year thousands of men and women who graduate from our colleges and universities make their homes in Michigan, contributing to the arts, culture, industries, agricultural enterprises and businesses of the state. As citizens of Michigan, our celebration of Education Day should include grateful recognition of educational pioneers who made possible our progress in this area, as well as an examination of the future needs which our system of education must expand to meet.

To Check Radiation 30,000 Miles in Space

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force announced plans today to measure radiation at altitudes up to 25,000 or 30,000 miles with sounding rockets.

Therefore measurements above 1,000 miles—and up through the Van Allen radiation belts—have been made only by satellites and lunar probe vehicles.

The Air Research and Development Command said a new four-stage solid propellant rocket, the Journeyman, will be used.

ARDC said the first of five launchings of the 40-foot, 12,000-pound Journeyman is planned this month from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

"Scientific instrument packages, carried by four-stage Journeyman sounding rockets, will telemeter measurements as they pass through both of the natural radiation belts surrounding the earth, and above the upper edge of the outer belt," the ARDC said.

Room for All on Wharf Except the Fishermen

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The fishermen at Fishermen's Wharf are complaining. They say there's room for everybody but them. The men who have been making the little crab boats for generations say tourists are all over the place, bay rubbish is scattering their boat hulls, and restaurants and curio shops are taking over spaces.

the wharf space. The fishermen can't find a place to park their cars.

"We're just dirt down here," said Albert Spadero, secretary of the Crab Boat Owners Assn. "They say it's a fishermen's wharf. What a laugh."

The Michigan Department of Health laboratory perfected the process for recovering serum albumin from placental blood. It is now used instead of plasma for treatment of shock in certain in-

Nikita Wants to Pick Up U.S. and Shake Us

PARIS (UPI)—Nikita Khrushchev told this story of his news conference Wednesday:

"Ladies and gentlemen, we all have mothers. I remember my mother. I was born in a very poor family and only very rarely mother could buy us some cream."

cat would creep up and steal some of this cream. My mother would pick up the cat and give it a good shaking."

"Then she stuck the cat's nose in the cream so that cat would not go at the cream again."

"Wouldn't it be better to take American aggressors by the scruff of the neck also, and give them a shaking and make them understand, they must not commit such aggression against the Soviet Union?"

PET DOCTOR
By A. W. Meher, D.V.M.

Question: We are about to purchase a poodlecock cocker spaniel. Is it necessary to have the tail cut or docked?

Answer: The docking of your puppy's tail (regardless of breed) has nothing to do with its well-being, comfort or health.

Since fashion has extended its dictates into the animal world, your new little friend will never win any blue ribbons or beauty contests without submitting to this simple operation.

Your veterinarian will prefer to dock the puppy's tail during the first seven days of its life. During this time, it can be done with a local anesthetic, no pain, very little bleeding and an assurance of fast healing.

When the dog is older, the operation is more involved and healing takes longer. If you don't want a show dog, you need not worry about docking.

(Address your questions to Dr. Meher in care of this paper. He will answer selected inquiries in his column, but cannot reply to them.)

Kennedy Stokes Oregon Express

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy stepped up the pace of his campaigning today on the eve of Oregon's Democratic primary.

His only active opponent, Sen. Wayne Morse, said he still thinks he'll pull in 60 per cent of the vote Friday as a favorite son candidate.

More and more people disagreed with his estimate.

Wherever he went Wednesday, Kennedy kept hearing people tell him they thought he could beat Morse. He kept saying he considered that unlikely and a most difficult task.

But after a day of warm receptions where throngs stood in the rain to hear him and to shake his hand, the Massachusetts senator decided on an earlier start today.

Three other senators are on the Democratic ballot — Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, and Stuart Symington of Missouri. Humphrey is out of the presidential race. Johnson and Symington haven't campaigned at all here.

Morse put it up to Oregon Democrats to repudiate Kennedy as an intruder.

The New England senator told

Desegregation Minister's Goal

New Presbyterian Head Says 'I Am Not Secure Until My Neighbor Is'

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — The Rev. Herman Lee Turner, newly elected moderator of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., today began working toward desegregation.

Rev. Turner, 69, of Atlanta, Ga., was elected presiding officer of the church in a close vote yesterday. He defeated Rev. Edgar V. Hawkins, Negro pastor of St. Augustine Church, New York, by two votes, 471-469.

The new moderator said he believes desegregation will be achieved by "steady pressure." The majority of the urban residents are ready to accept desegregation," he said. "But the rural areas are too strongly opposed—resisting any change."

He said he believes in obeying the law of the land. "I am not secure until my neighbor is secure, has the same rights as I have," he said.

The Rev. Turner has been minister of the Atlanta congregation for 30 years. He is also head of the Atlanta Christian Council and a past president of the Georgia Council of Churches.

The new moderator gained wide known as author of the "Atlanta Manifesto," that condemned racial hatred and pleaded for the maintenance of a sound public school system in the South.

The state's program to conserve the hearing of Michigan youngsters, started in 1945, was the first such comprehensive statewide program in the nation. A mobile unit to bring hearing conservation services to the rural areas, the first of its kind in the country, was developed by the State Health Department.

Woolworth President Defends Counter Bias

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (UPI)—The president of the F. W. Woolworth Co. said yesterday the firm will continue to abide by local customs in determining its lunch counter seating policies.

Robert C. Kirkwood told a stockholders meeting that antisegregation picketing or boycotting of Woolworth stores was "unjustified and misconceived" because no individual company could resolve

"local customs, established by the local people for the conduct of business in their community."

Promises to Help Us Catch Up, Sometime

Khrushchev Would Choose FDR

By BOB CONSIDINE

PARIS — You could have heard a pin drop in the camps of Messrs. Nixon, Kennedy, Stevenson, Johnson, Moore, Rockefeller, Stassen and Lay Daby when Nikita Khrushchev came to his feet to answer Dan (CBS) Schorr's question.

The question was: "Since you have become a factor in American politics, which of those running for the presidency would you prefer to deal with?"

Khrushchev had just before that repeated that the summit he ruined should be resumed in six or eight months, or after Mr. Eisenhower leaves office.

And in continuing his abuse of the President he had added that even at Camp David he sensed there was "something fishy" about the President's friendliness toward him — "and the U2 incident confirmed my suspicions."

Now he fielded Schorr's question with a pleasant look in his hard little pebble-like eyes. "Thank you," he said. "A good question! A difficult one, to be sure, but I shall try."

He spoke 10 minutes in Russian while 2,000 reporters spread all over the vast lobby of the Palais de Chaillot cupped ears in search of a familiar name, the sound of the kind of death.

As it turned out, Khrushchev threw his votes to Franklin Delano Roosevelt. "A great American, a worthy representative of the capitalist system. When he died his policy died with him."

REDS WILL HELP

Then he added in his glib manner that if the next U.S. president doesn't suit the Russians perhaps the one after that one might. "Well," he said generously. He foresaw, in time, a president who would lead the U.S. down the path to communism.

When that exalted day comes, he belittled on the Soviet Union will be far ahead of the U.S. in everything, thanks to its longer association with the Communist system.

"But we'll help you catch up," he pledged. "We'll share our experience with you."

A few "hordes of imperialism" gave him a big fat boo. A few ladies of the other system applauded him. It was quite a show Khrushchev put on, this press conference that preceded his take-off for East Berlin and home. He started off at the top of his lungs and stayed there for two hours and 23 minutes.

In the course of his fist-shaking, finger-pointing, arm-waving threats, declarations and pronouncements he figuratively and literally blew a fuse.

The building suffered a power failure that turned out the lights, killed his mikes and shut him off. TV. But Khrushchev kept yapping and threatening his arms about like a man heading off a flight of fleas, and in a few minutes he was back on the air.

The intemperate performance surely must have destroyed whatever sympathy he may have built up in the world in his role of righteous victim of American spying.

He strutted through this show like a nutty-bird pigeon. He threatened to shoot down the U2 which no longer flies, and to bomb the bases from which it is no longer launched. He will sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany in time because the U.S. signed a separate treaty with Japan. He came to Paris fully expecting an apology from Mr. Eisenhower. ("The U.S. apologized to Cuba over a plane incident. Why not to a great power like the Soviet Union?")

Personal Income Hits Another High

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Commerce Department has reported that personal income rose substantially in April and hit a record high for the seventh month in a row.

The report added to the picture of an improving economy already sketched in previous government reports for April.

With wage and salary payments leading the way, personal income of all kinds rose by $3,400,000,000 to an annual rate of $37,400,000,000, the new high.

The department said a pickup in construction which came with the arrival of spring weather last month accounted for about one-third of the income rise.

British Minister Due

WASHINGTON (UPI) — British Defense Minister Harold Watkinson will arrive here May 30 for high-level conferences which are expected to include possible British purchase of U.S. ballistic missiles.

Brazil is the fourth largest country in the world.

AP Begins Use of Transatlantic Cable Service

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press began receiving and transmitting news between Europe and the United States Tuesday over the first transatlantic cable circuit to be leased full time by a news service.

News of the summit conference in Paris was received here over the cable.

The new duplex teleprinter circuit for simultaneous sending and receiving has been leased 24 hours a day by The Associated Press from Western Union. It connects The Associated Press in New York directly to the London AP Bureau, central point for European news, and will result in faster transmission of news.

The leased cable circuit replaces a London-New York radioteletype circuit and the supplemental use of commercial cable for news transmission. It speeds the stories at 66 words a minute, a gain of 10 per cent over the normal operating speed of radioteletype. It also eliminates the delays caused by atmospheric conditions.

U.S. Tells Federal Drug Official to Quit

By JOE E. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has demanded the resignation of a federal drug official who reportedly received more than a quarter of a million dollars from outside activities involving firms his office policies.

Sensators heard testimony Wednesday that the $387,842 received by Dr. Henry Welch since 1953 came primarily from the sale of reprints of scientific articles used to advertise and promote drug products.

Welch, head of the Food and Drug Administration's antibiotic division, had told his superiors that he was receiving an "honorarium" for the outside work without saying how much money he got.

MISLED SUPERIORS

Within hours after the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee heard its staff investigators present a financial accounting of Welch's work since 1953 for M. D. Welch's outside work, Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming asked for Welch's resignation. Flemming said Welch had deliberately misled his superiors "in receiving compensation far beyond what is the commonly accepted concept of an honorarium."

Welch reported suffering from a heart ailment, earlier had applied for disability retirement effective June 1. Flemming said he should not be allowed to retire without the government taking some action, but that a resignation by Welch from his $17,500-a-year job would not affect his retirement rights.

Welch did not attend Wednesday's hearing and was not immediately available for comment. His attorney, Michael F. Markel, declined comment.

Senate investigators have been looking into drug pricing practices gave an accounting of Welch's work since 1953 for M. D. Publications Inc., a New York firm which publishes medical journals, and from other ventures.

The subcommittee counsel, showed that Welch received advance permission to take the job with MDP, describing his prospective pay as an honorarium. Welch severed his financial connection with the firm in January, after department rules were revised. After hearing the testimony about Welch, the drug hearing was recessed to an indefinite date.

Build B70 for Spying; Goldwater Advocates

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) has proposed that the United States fully develop its B70 supersonic bomber for world surveillance flights over either the United Nations or the North Atlantic Alliance.

Goldwater, a reserve brigadier general in the Air Force and a jet pilot, conceded yesterday that both the United Nations and NATO would probably turn down such an offer. He said that "as a last resort," this country should provide the surveillance at its own expense.

Two U.S. Officers Wounded in Ambush

SUBIC POINT, Philippines (UPI) — Five American naval officers were ambushed by unidentified persons early today near this U.S. Naval Base. Two were hospitalized with gunshot wounds.

Philippines constabulary was investigating the ambush, which took place on a public highway between the Subic Bay Base and the San Miguel Communications Facility.

Wounded were Ensign Daniel A. Elandi, 23, of Kaukauna, Wis., and Lt. (j.g.) Charles A. Webster, 24, of Minneapolis. Both suffered hot wounds and were not in serious condition.

Johnson's Push Will Get Going

Expect Texas Senator to Reveal Candidacy Early in June

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination will swing into high gear with the opening here probably next week of a "Citizens for Johnson" headquarters.

Shortly thereafter, the Texas senator is expected to make a formal announcement of his candidacy. That may come shortly after the last of the state presidential primaries early in June. Although obviously an aspirant, Johnson has avoided any announcement of his political plans and has stayed out of state primaries. He has said his duties as Senate Democratic leader require his attention.

Johnson's backers believe they can pick up enough pledged delegates between now and the start of the Los Angeles convention on July 11 to assure the Texas "considerably over" 400 votes on the first ballot.

They are counting on 300 or more delegate votes from the Southern and border states on the first ballot, unless some of these states scatter their support to favorite-son candidates on the first tally. Johnson's campaign strategists already have taken steps to head off favorite-son movements in several states.

They already are counting on Virginia's delegation which will be instructed next Saturday at the Democratic state convention, and say they expect the rest of the South to follow Virginia's banner into the first ballot. "It will be over 500 for Johnson on the first ballot," a top Johnson backer said in an interview. "Johnson will be as strong as Sen. Kennedy on the first ballot and will be able to hold his votes on later ballots."

Aristotle, some 2,300 years ago, said: "Even when laws have been written down, they ought not always to remain unaltered."

Angler Hooks Drowning Man With Hefty Cast

NEW YORK (AP)—Four members of a fishing club were casting off a jolly at Manhattan Beach in Brooklyn Tuesday night. They spied a drowning man floating some distance offshore. One of the four—Joe Bloder, gave a hefty cast, hooked the man's jacket and reeled him to shore.

The man, who was unconscious, was taken to Coney Island Hospital, treated for submersion and quickly revived. Police identified him as James McMann, 65. He said he had fallen into the ocean while fishing.

Kent County Grows by 73,627 in 10 Years

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—District Census Supervisor Carl Tugle announced that Kent County, excluding Grand Rapids, has gained a population of 73,627 in the past 10 years.

In 1950 the county, excluding Grand Rapids, had a population of 117,777 and today's figures, without the furniture city, gave the area a population of 191,404.

Grand Rapids 1950 population was 178,515, and it is predicted the 1960 census will show it to be about 195,000. Here is a breakdown on Kent County community populations with the 1960 census figures first: Paris Township 19,094-9,578; Walker Township 16,331-9,028; Plainfield Township 11,625-6,021; East Grand Rapids 10,859-6,403; Wyoming City 45,712-28,977; Grandville 7,949-2,022; Grand Rapids Township 16,573-9,241; Lowell 2,531-2,191; Rockford 2,076-1,537; Cedar Springs 1,748-1,378 and Sparta 2,738-2,327.

County Groups Offered Place in Cornerstone

Our great, great, great, great grandchildren will learn that back in 1960 there were many civic organizations proud of their new county courthouse.

That is, if these many organizations take up an offer being made today by county officials planning the contents for the cornerstone for the $3,000,000 courthouse at Telegraph road in the County Service Center.

They are extending an invitation to any civic organizations in the county to have placed in the 16-by-12-by-12-inch copper box resolutions commemorating the courthouses and a list of their officers and members.

They will be sealed in the box with many historic documents and newspapers at a special cornerstone laying ceremony planned for June 27.

"The space is so limited that we'll have to restrict each organization to one thin sheet of paper for their resolution," declared Norman R. Barnard, county corporation counsel.

Resolutions should be sent to the Board of Supervisors, 1 Lafayette St., Pontiac.

"So far the rest of the ceremony program is pretty much in the preliminary stage," Barnard said. The new courthouse is scheduled for completion around June of next year.

The historic public ceremony will have as its master of ceremonies Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Summit Flub Comedy of Errors; Blame Falls on Both East and West

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—When the skin divers of history probed around the wreckage of the 1960 summit conference, they'll find lots of reasons why it blew up and sank, more than are known now. But some stick out like barnacles.

For instance: The State Department was a little too clumsy, a little too cute: President Eisenhower helped give Premier Nikita Khrushchev lead for his black jack; and Khrushchev, whatever his motives, distorted the facts. First, the department permitted another government agency to say the U.S. atomic spy plane was on an innocent mission, gathering information on the weather. Then the department denied the plane was spying.

Both statements were lies. Khrushchev rammed them down America's throat by producing evidence. Then the department got honest and admitted the spy plane was spying.

This would have been enough if the government had just stopped there. It never had to deny, lie or admit anything. All it ever had to do was say it was investigating the case, let the heat die down, and keep its mouth shut.

ONE TOO MANY

It didn't. It took one more step, which turned out to be one too many. It said this government would fall in its responsibility to the whole free world if it did not do what it considered necessary to obtain information—including spying—to "overcome the danger of surprise attack" by the Soviet Union.

This might have gotten by if the department—actually Secretary of State Christian A. Herter himself—had phrased this in the past tense. Instead, it joggled the language in such a way that it seemed to apply to the future, too.

Was Herter saying such aerial spying would continue? Reporters asked Lincoln White, Herter's chief press officer, that question. White said: "Well, I will leave it to your interpretation."

So, the reporters did the interpreting—since they took White's answer to mean yes—and said Herter had indicated the spy flights would continue. All this information—State Department statements and American newspaper interpretations—were available to Khrushchev.

STOOD PAT

Since the department had had a chance to correct any wrong impression but chose not to, Khrushchev reasonably could assume the aerial spying was meant to continue.

Such an interpretation was an insult to Khrushchev and the Soviets. It meant this country intended to ignore Soviet sovereignty over its own air space and send in spy-planes, no matter how the Soviets felt about it. Two days later this government it-had still another chance to say this was an erroneous interpretation—if it thought so. This was when Eisenhower held his news conference last Wednesday.

But he talked in future terms, without actually saying more planes would be sent in over the U.S.S.R. This became one of the things Khrushchev wrapped around Eisenhower's neck when they met at the summit in Paris Monday.

In understanding this it is important to remember no one in this government, ever actually said spy flights would continue. But Khrushchev, like the news men—and maybe he got his interpretation from the newsman—interpreted the high-blown State Department statement as meaning the flights would go on.

At the summit, among other things, he demanded Eisenhower call off the flights. Then, to the surprise of a lot of people in the State Department, Eisenhower told Khrushchev the flights had been ordered stopped.

Khrushchev made other demands which Eisenhower couldn't agree to without crawling before the whole world. Khrushchev wanted him to apologize for the flight already made and punish those directly responsible for

Special Allowance Out for Congress Doctor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. H. R. Gross (R-Iowa) has blocked a $1,500 special expense allowance for the congressional physician.

In making the move, Gross said he had nothing personal against the physician, Dr. George W. Calver. But, the congressman added the allowance would give Dr. Calver more expense money than the majority and minority leaders and more income than members of Congress.

The allowance would give Dr. Calver a combined income and expense allowance of almost $25,000. Members of the House receive $2,500 in salary.

Longshoremen Told to Be Mum to FBI

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A union publication has advised San Francisco longshoremen not to talk to the FBI.

"Refuse to talk to any agent about anything—pilfering, your union, your politics, or what have you. Tell them to talk to your attorney," the Bulletin said.

Industry, Labor Meeting Today

6-Man Group to Thresh Out Plans for Future Business Peace Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor and management representatives get a chance today to decide whether they want to try to agree on mutual problems or continue to fight them out.

A six-man group—three representatives each from management and organized labor—arranged to meet at the bidding of President Eisenhower to lay out plans for a series of industrial peace talks.

These talks, as outlined by Eisenhower, would be designed to try to reach agreements that would lead to better employer-union relations, curb inflation, increase output, and spur economic growth.

Both sides publicly pledged to work at the job but privately said they had doubts about accomplishing anything. Like the participants at the ill-fated Paris meeting of the world powers, the labor-management conferees are apparently distrustful and suspicious of each other.

The meeting had an apparently simple goal. That is to agree on an agenda of matters to be discussed at future conferences at what additional men should be invited in by both sides.

There are about 22,500 Bedouins living a wandering life in Israel's Negev desert today. They sleep in goat-skin tents, and move in tribes across the sands, their directions being guided by winds, water supply and the will of their chieftains.

Lone Ranger to 'Ride Again'

Youth Needed for City Film

The Pontiac youngster who takes part in the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce film "The Pontiac Story of Progress and Promise" will play a dual role.

At the beginning, the youngster will play one of the Indian children who inhabited the Pontiac area many years ago. Later on in the film, the youngster will portray a modern teen-ager.

The story revolves around the youngster and an adult who will be portrayed by Bruce Beamer, a Detroit actor who once played the Lone Ranger on a Detroit radio station.

John W. Hirlinger said that any Pontiac girl or boy with dramatic experience, between the ages of 10 and 15, was eligible to enter the chamber's contest to determine who will play the juvenile role.

The age limits have been extended from the 12-15 limits previously announced, he said.

Deadline for applications is 5 p.m. May 31. Applications are to be filed at the chamber offices in the Waldron Hotel.

Smith Saw Horse, Buggy Vanish

He Lived Transition to Auto Age

By JOE HIAS

Nobody has been a closer affiliate of the transition from the horse and buggy days than W. Walter Smith, who for many years has lived on Mt. Clemens street, just at Pontiac's present east city limits.

He had an active part in the manufacture of horse-drawn vehicles, saw them succeeded by the auto, and pioneered in its manufacture.

Smith was born at Chatham, Ont., 85 years ago. His family moved here when he was less than a year old, and he has been with us ever since—except when engaged in his globetrotting activities.

His first job was as clerk in a downtown store when he was yet in school. For this work he received $1 per week.

UPPED TO $3.50

He considered this to be insignificant pay, so in 1893 he went to the O. J. Beaudette Co., makers of horse-drawn vehicles, as clerk, at a wage of $3.50 a week.

He stuck with Beaudette as bookkeeper, and when the firm incorporated, Smith was made secretary and treasurer. He was there 27 years.

The Beaudette interests foresaw the auto age, and sold out to Fisher Body Co., while later was taken over by General Motors.

Smith retired in 1922, and since then has spent much of his time traveling, circling the globe three times and visiting every continent and most of the countries on each of them.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith only recently returned from a tour around the world on the cruise steamship "Caronia."

He reports amazing progress in most nations visited since his last journey through them. This was particularly true of the African countries.

ACTIVE IN CIVIC AFFAIRS

Smith has devoted much of his life to the progress and betterment of his home community and its surroundings.

He was secretary of the Pontiac Rotary Club 32 years, and has been affiliated with All Saints Episcopal Church since early childhood, being vestryman there 40 years.

He was chairman of one of the Oakland County draft boards for several years and been connected with many projects to make Pontiac a better place in which to live.

His public showings of the fine results of his photography hobby have privileged thousands to get views of worldwide lands.

W. WALTER SMITH

He is looking either himself or the public," Walker said.

Mitchell declared that there has never been a set timetable of automotive development.

"If any of us knew without question what the car of 1970 would be like, we'd break our backs to get it into production next year to beat our competition," he explained.

Exner pointed out that just as today's cars, viewed by yesterday's standards, would be unbelievable, "it is equally impossible to envision the cars of the future if one tries to imagine them in terms of today's thinking and products."

PATTERNS TWO-FOLD

The stylists declared that the pattern of future auto developments will probably be two-fold:

1. An increasing number of specialized vehicles may be built as the tempo and variety of American life increases—three and four-car families may someday become common.

2. Significant breakthroughs in new materials and engineering components plus improved manufacturing methods should allow greater passenger space without increasing the overall size of the car.

Exner voiced the belief that cars in the future may evolve into three specialized types: a Highway Cruiser, large and luxurious for intercity travel on electronically guided highways; an Urbanite, a medium speed car for general use; and a highly maneuverable sports car with outstanding roadability for use on secondary roads.

Mitchell suggested that future cars may make increasing use of space age electronics to take over manual functions of driving, thus making cars simpler to operate, safer and more comfortable.

He said the GM single-stick Uniflex control combines the functions of accelerator, brake and steering wheel into a single wing shaped handle in the palm of the driver's hand has already proved feasible.

All-glass roofs made possible by new developments in steel and glass are envisioned by Walker. He also suggested that some cars in the future may not even have wheels, operating instead by balloons or a film of air above the surface of the ground—a principle Ford engineers have already developed and tested.

Special emphasis will be placed upon people in cars of tomorrow, the three designers agreed. Packaging the driver and passengers for maximum comfort and safety plus development of better seating and comfort controls are but a few of the plans for making automotive travel increasingly enjoyable.

"More and more thought is being given to locate people comfortably in a car and then placing the components around them," Mitchell said. "This trend will continue and there will be a new basic shapes in future cars."

Walker declared that "we've come to think of the average American car as having a hood, deck and passenger compartment in certain proportions but we may find that those proportions have been changed to provide even greater passenger space without increasing the overall size of the car."

Exner declared: "It is conceivable that power plants in cars of the future will not require replaceable liquid fuel. If they do use power plants such as the gas turbine Chrysler has operated in standard passenger cars, fuel might be carried in flexible fuel tanks built into otherwise unusable space in the body structure, thereby utilizing more room for passenger use."

But the auto designers are realists, too. They agreed that it would not be enough in the future to turn out better individual cars and more of them—even greater cooperation will have to be obtained between the auto industry and highway planners so that stress is placed upon improved and even safer traffic systems.

They foresaw that highways of the future, particularly between cities, would need automatic electronic controls to insure safe traffic flow. Several such systems are already being tested including a GM auto-control by which cars are steered by electrical signals from a wire in the highway. This system also provides automatic speed, spacing and braking controls plus obstacle detection.

"In designing for the future, we fortunately have complete cooperation from engineers and production men—all of whom, with the stylist, are complementing one another's creative efforts as never before," Exner, Mitchell and Walker agreed.

"This increased cooperation is vital to automotive advances because more and more a car is becoming a complete unit, dependent for perfection upon mutual understanding among all the specialists who design and build it."

The designers declared that the large styling staffs, technical teams and proving grounds operated by their firms in Michigan insure that automotive progress will continue to accelerate and that Michigan will continue to be the hub of auto design.

"They cited as further evidence that Michigan continues as the auto capital of the nation—if not the world—the fact that the National Automobile Show, held traditionally in New York since 1900, is to be held in Detroit this fall as the first major event in the new 600,000 square foot Cobo Hall.

Exner, Mitchell and Walker agreed.

While CD headquarters in many other states were besieged with phone calls the situation was relatively quiet in Michigan.

"We had no more calls than are normal when international tension increases," said W. C. Powell, field services director for the state CD office.

"Our office has really been pushing bomb shelters for a year and a half and we wouldn't feel any particular increase in inquiries due to international tension as some other states would," Powell said.

U.S. Envoys to Confer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U. S. envoys to all European countries, including Russia and her satellites, will gather in Paris next week for a series of strategy meetings.

State Department officials said the meetings have been scheduled "for several months" and have "no connection" with the collapse of the summit conference.

Time, not speed, is of the essence, says noted psychiatrist Dr. Bruno Bettelheim of the University of Chicago and Sonia Shankman Orthogenic School.

Bettelheim told the Oakland County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Health that time is the crucial factor for prevention of mental illness.

The group held its annual membership meeting yesterday at the Birmingham Community House.

"Our chief problem is that we won't have time for one another," the authority said. "Time, time and waiting . . . don't expect anything from the child. They get sick to their stomachs and stop doing anything at all. Wait for them to develop at their own speed."

"They must do it on their own because they want to do it. We plan everything in the life of the child to the convenience of the adults."

Bettelheim said the Society has a twofold purpose, the prevention of mental disease and to press for better service to the mentally ill.

"Education to mental health is a necessity," he said. Half of all hospital beds are taken up by mental patients. We cannot permit this to go on. Prevention starts with the children.

"One of our main tasks lies in specialized services . . . visiting teachers, social agencies in the community, child guidance clinics and mental institutions."

"A whole slew of services is needed and any one without the others will fail at its best. We need a total program. An ounce of prevention is better than 100 pounds in a mental hospital."

The society yesterday named 17 members to the Board of Directors.

They are Mrs. Carmel J. O'Dell, 1347 Osborn Lake Rd., Milford; Lyle Abel, 246 Middlebelt Rd.; Mrs. L. Jerome Fink, 4430 Quanton Rd., Farmington Hills; John W. Fitzgerald, 320 Cranbrook Ct., Bloomfield Hills; and Fred V. Hagedorn, 6909 Terrell Rd., Waterford.

Included also are John D. MacKay, 58 W. Huron St.; Mrs. William Norvell, 404 Lone Pine Rd., Bloomfield Hills; C. R. Palmer, 2400 Little Trail Rd., Walled Lake; James F. Spence, 111 Oneida Rd.; Paul F. Thoms, 228 W. Kreson Rd.; and Mrs. James Van Vleet, 25231 Parkwood Dr., Huntington Woods.

Others are Mrs. Edson N. B. St. 1265 Harrow Circle, Birmingham; Mrs. Frank A. Grady, 6700 E. Dartmouth St., Birmingham; Dr. Walter A. U.S. Envoys to Confer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U. S. envoys to all European countries, including Russia and her satellites, will gather in Paris next week for a series of strategy meetings.

State Department officials said the meetings have been scheduled "for several months" and have "no connection" with the collapse of the summit conference.

Time, not speed, is of the essence, says noted psychiatrist Dr. Bruno Bettelheim of the University of Chicago and Sonia Shankman Orthogenic School.

Bettelheim told the Oakland County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Health that time is the crucial factor for prevention of mental illness.

The group held its annual membership meeting yesterday at the Birmingham Community House.

"Our chief problem is that we won't have time for one another," the authority said. "Time, time and waiting . . . don't expect anything from the child. They get sick to their stomachs and stop doing anything at all. Wait for them to develop at their own speed."

"They must do it on their own because they want to do it. We plan everything in the life of the child to the convenience of the adults."

Bettelheim said the Society has a twofold purpose, the prevention of mental disease and to press for better service to the mentally ill.

"Education to mental health is a necessity," he said. Half of all hospital beds are taken up by mental patients. We cannot permit this to go on. Prevention starts with the children.

"One of our main tasks lies in specialized services . . . visiting teachers, social agencies in the community, child guidance clinics and mental institutions."

If in Market for New Automobile, You Should Like Summer Prices

By BEN PHLEGAR
As Automobile Writer
 DETROIT — If you're thinking of buying a new car and are interested mainly in price, this summer is shaping up as an ideal shopping period.
 This summer you won't be fussy about color, body style, power equipment or accessories — in other words willing to take what the dealers are trying to sell.

The auto industry has a record backlog of unsold 1960 model cars — more than a million — and factories continue to turn out more each week than are being sold.

Production of most models will continue until late July or early August. The first 1961 cars can be expected in dealer showrooms about Sept. 15 and they may well bear slightly higher price tags than comparable current models. About this time last year production was running considerably ahead of sales, but the buildup in inventory was necessary to meet the threat of a steel strike. The strike, when it came, permitted an orderly cleanup of the 1959 models.

THERE'S ONLY HOPE

But this year there is nothing on the horizon to indicate the need for a huge inventory except the industry's cherished hope that sales suddenly will explode.

While steadily better than a year ago, sales so far have shown no indication of exploding. In fact, some observers expressed considerable disappointment at the figures for the first 10 days of May when the daily selling rate was about 31,000 units compared with about 26,000 daily in the first 10 days of April.

New car sales have been averaging about 14 per cent ahead of last year. May's first 10 days showed only a 6.5 per cent improvement.

One reason for some disappointment, this month is that 10 of the 20 car lines started new sales contests, normally a sure way to boost sales. These contests offer everything from merchandise to expense-paid trips to Bermuda to cash bonuses for salesmen and dealers who exceed certain selling quotas.

One additional complicating factor this year has been the slowness of used car sales. When you trade your old car on a new one the dealer expects to make a profit on both deals—the new car sale and the sale of your old car. If used car action is slow he has less margin to play with.

The contests themselves help distort the sales picture because salesmen frequently delay closing a deal if a contest is about to start, or rush through everything possible in the closing days. The new Chevrolet contest, for example, offers a special bonus for a fast start.

May is about the time for such contests to begin. But this year almost every line ran one or more contests in the dead of winter. Only Cadillac and the new Comet have avoided them so far. One question bothering some sales executives: How often will the price magic work?

A recent national survey by Automotive News indicated most dealers believe the big clean-up push on 1960 models will begin July 5. During such a push most factories make cash rebates to dealers which enable them to cut prices and still salvage some profit.

Ford Stockholders Meet Today With No Rifts Due

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. holds its annual stockholders meeting today with no advance indication of any serious trouble.

Ford's meetings generally have been calm and folksy since they began in 1956. In fact, the first public meeting in 1956 was staged in a circus tent at nearby Rohnert Proving Grounds.

Most vocal of the stockholders has been Isadore Blau of Brooklyn who has a proposal on the agenda this time to amend the company's supplemental compensation plan.

Blau proposes bonuses be paid only in years when dividends are declared and that no individual shall receive more than $40,000 in salary and bonus in any year. The company opposes the motion.

Last year when Blau rose to speak, Board Chairman Ernest Breech told him he was glad to see him, because it took his presence to make the meeting complete.

The board of directors is up for re-election; a firm of public accountants is to be ratified and a stock option plan renewed.

Ford had record first quarter net earnings of 145 million dollars. Publishers reports say the second quarter net will drop about 10 per cent from the 151 million in the second quarter of last year, an all-time company record.

Last year at the annual meeting Ford announced the name Falcon for its first compact car. It was reported that some announcement concerning the future of the Lincoln and Continental lines might be made today, but a company spokesman denied this.

Industry reports have been that Ford will drop the Lincoln Premier series in 1961 and offer a Continental built on a Thunderbird body.

Block U.S. Try to Treat Victims of Japanese Crash

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—An attempt by U. S. military authorities to remove the scars of victims of a U. S. Air Force jet plane crash last June were blocked today. The victims apparently thought they could get more compensation from the United States if they kept their scars.

Two Army plastic surgeons were flown here last weekend to treat persons scarred when the plane crashed into a schoolhouse at Ishikawa. They began work Tuesday on four patients.

But 10 more persons scheduled for treatment balked today at boarding buses sent to Ishikawa to bring them to the U. S. Army hospital 20 miles away.

They were instigated by an Ishikawa group demanding additional compensation.

Military officials said all claims which have been legally submitted have been settled. Some persons have refused to submit claims, and their cases are still pending.

About 40 per cent of U. S. traffic fatalities occur on Saturdays and Sundays.

GOP Launched on Vote Drive

Aims to Keep Control of State Legislature in November Election

LANSING (AP) — Republican lawmakers are launched on an ambitious drive aimed at making certain that the Legislature stays in GOP hands next year.

House and Senate members of legislative campaign committees met with representatives of the GOP State Central Committee yesterday to lay the foundation.

Work will begin in earnest after intra-party battles are resolved in the Aug. 2 primary election.

The State Central Committee last month budgeted $100,000, more than ever before, for legislative campaigning. It will be paid from a hoped-for $1,250,000 operating and campaign fund.

The Legislature is the last stronghold of GOP strength at the state level and Democrats have been gaining ground there in recent elections.

Two years ago, the two parties wound up in a stand-off in the House, with each winning 35 seats. Republicans held on to firm control in the Senate, but Democrats added one seat to give them 12 of the 34.

Republicans are expected to concentrate a good share of their campaign guns on six House districts where Democrats won in 1958 by margins of five per cent or less.

Rocket Engine Firm Head Hits Big Contributions

Urges Employees to Give to Political Funds

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A California rocket engine firm wants its employees to back their political beliefs with their pocket books.

The experiment is getting a lot of attention, both from hard-pressed political fund raisers and from other industries. Two weeks ago Ford Motor Co. announced a somewhat similar program, under which its 152,000 employees were urged to support the party of their choice. Collection boxes were placed in all Ford plants.

Aerojet-General Corp., which has previous experience in the field, is going all out this presidential election year to get each of its 25,000 employees to put his money where his mouth is.

There's nothing mandatory about the drive, but every employee got a memo from the big boss, himself, Dan A. Kimball.

When the firm initiated the plan for the 1958 election campaigns, 2,000 new voters were registered in four days and $25,000 was sent from 11,000 employees to political coffers all the way from California to New York.

Kimball, who spent 1 1/2 years as secretary of the Navy during the Truman administration, hopes the contributions this year will average $5 per employee.

From those making $15,000 a year or more, he expects an average of $100 a head.

"That's not too much to pay for democracy," he says.

Kimball contends it is mainly wealthy men with political interests who finance campaigns.

"That they should expect special consideration in return is inevitable," he says.

NO OBLIGATION

"If 100 companies would do what we're doing, we could undederwrite all political campaigns in the state without these damn fund-raising drives."

And the elected candidates, being financed by a lot of small contributions instead of a few big ones, wouldn't be obligated to anyone, he adds.

But despite these arguments and a starry-eyed label of "good citizenship campaign," the plan ran into some stiff resistance from employees at both of the company's plants, here and at Azusa, in Southern California.

Almost automatically, employees fired these questions at supervisors: "What's the gimmick? What's Kimball getting out of this? Is everybody supposed to contribute to the Democrats just because he's a big party wheel? What's in it for Aerojet?"

Kimball answered with a detailed audit, kept in compliance with federal law, of last election's $25,000 in contributions.

The audit showed gifts totaling $13,206.50 to the Democratic party and its candidates, and $10,991.83 to the Republicans. Other parties, including the Prohibition, received $658.75.

Employees in the unionized Sacramento plant favored Democrats 2-1, but the Azusa plant, which also is headquarters for the higher paid corporate executives, favored Republicans 5-4.

Kimball himself kicked off the 1958 campaign with a $500 contribution, earmarked $400 for world.

Clair Engle's senatorial campaign and $100 for Edmund G. Brown's bid for governor.

This was countered promptly by a $500 gift to the Republicans by the firm's executive vice president, Arthur H. Rude, longtime GOP leader in the state.

Kimball inadvertently upped the Republican total by asking the board of directors of General Tire and Rubber Co., Aerojet's parent corporation. Thirteen $100 checks came by return mail—11 of them for the GOP cause.

"We kept the campaign on the level," he says. "There was no pressure of any kind—direct or indirect—to contribute to any particular party, candidate or cause."

Aerojet has had so many inquiries about its plan from big name corporations that it has had to print a detailed brochure.

One of the side-effects that interests Kimball, however, is how closely the 1958 contributions paralleled the election returns.

"I think you have a most accurate poll when people put up their money," he says.

But don't ask Kimball where the money is going this year—to Nixon, Kennedy, or whoever.

"We don't want to influence anybody. We just want to make democracy work."

Americans in Canada to Pay Less Exchange

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans planning a trip to Canada can get more Canadian money in exchange for their American dollars today than winter sports fans could two months ago.

The value of the Canadian dollar in terms of the U.S. dollar is now lower than at any time in more than a year.

American tourists will still have to pay a premium, but a smaller one.

American exporters may find their Canadian rivals in a better competitive position to sell in world markets than when the Canadian dollar was riding as high as $1.06 in comparison to the U.S. dollar. Today it is about two cents above the U. S. dollar. On big deals the difference is considerable.

The recent crackdowns by Canadians on American coins loses much of its point, too. A month ago big Canadian banks ordered a 6 per cent charge for handling U.S. coins. Before that they had circulated at par with Canadian silver, thus ignoring the fluctuating penalty on American paper money.

Some Canadian stores and hotels have since made it rough on visiting Americans by refusing to take American coins at all, or by accepting them at even more of a discount than the 6 per cent set by the banks.

As American and Canadian currency comes closer to parity once more, the overtime lure of U.S. coins at par which led to a stable flow of them across the border, and the current penalty of 6 to 8 per cent discount, both lose in point and edge.

American tourists will just shun U.S. coins, if Canadians persist in a big discount. And Americans will be getting a less stiff pocket-book jolt when they officially change their American paper money for Canadian.

CANADIANS HAPPY
Many Canadians are happy to see the fall in their currency's premium. Those selling to American businessmen won't have to make-up for the loss suffered when they exchange the American dollars they can spend at home. Or they can lower prices a bit to seek more sales volume.

And Canadians with goods for export are happier to quote prices abroad in a less expensive currency. It brings their prices closer to those asked by American exporters.

The reason for the turn-around is that the Canadian government began discouraging borrowing in the United States; interest rates fell north of the border while they were rising here; the big rush to buy Canadian stocks and to invest in Canadian resources slackened; and the Canadian government cut down its own borrowing, making more funds available at home for private Canadian borrowers and less need to seek funds here.

So the exchange picture has changed—to the benefit of American tourists and some Canadian businessmen. Full parity, however, isn't yet in sight, American bankers say.

$100,000 Drive Success for Sturgis Building

STURGIS (UPI)—A community campaign in Sturgis to raise $100,000 to erect a manufacturing building for a new Sturgis industry has been successfully completed.

The new building would house a division of the Glasspar Co. of California, a boat building firm.

Serves Good Right

ALBION, N. Y. (UPI)—Walter B. Good should have been Orleans County Judge J. Kenneth Serve sentenced Good, arrested in Michigan and returned here, to one year in jail on charges he abandoned his wife and children.

ARRESTED BY FBI—The Federal Bureau of Investigation Tuesday in New York arrested Elizabeth Spedding, 45, tall blonde ex-countess. The FBI labeled her the "leading madame in New York City." Miss Spedding is charged with sending call girls at $100 a night to Mexico, Caracas and Havana. She allegedly grossed up to $2,500 a week as her share of the charges.

Talk About Voter Apathy

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — An unidentified man complained to the elections board after a state constitutional referendum because he went to his polling place at 8 a.m. and had to wait until a sleepy-looking attendant appeared at noon.

An ancient Russian proverb reminds us, "When money speaks, the truth is silent."

More Pay; Long Hours

CAIRO (UPI) — Egypt's 7,000 muezins and mosque attendants have gotten a raise.

Reason for the boost: Mosques are now working longer hours.

AEC MEMBERS TO QUIT — John H. Williams, left, and John F. Floberg, two of the five members of the Atomic Energy Commission, are resigning. The White House announced Monday. Williams attributed his resignation to a recent serious illness. Floberg said he is leaving for personal reasons.

K Calls American Alert Effort to Deceive People

PARIS (AP)—The worldwide alertness test of the U. S. armed forces Monday was described by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev at a Wednesday news conference as an attempt to deceive the American people in order to "crush them with taxes."

U. S. Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. sent out the order for the test from Paris, where he is a member of President Eisenhower's summit delegation.

Khrushchev suggested that may be cowardice was a reason for the test.

"A coward is as dangerous as an aggressor," Khrushchev said. "I don't know Gates. But I know that my friend Malinovsky (Defense Minister Rodion Y. Malinovsky), who fought in World War I and won many decorations, is a courageous man. He told me he never gave an alert and had no intention of doing so."

At about this point all the press center power went off. Floodlights flickered out. Microphones went dead. Khrushchev continued talking. The interruption lasted three minutes.

The alert, Khrushchev said, "shows that in the United States the most reactionary forces are to the fore. It is they who sent their plane on a sortie into the Soviet Union, naturally with the knowledge of the President, and this explains the practice of the policy pursued by the United States."

It was James Ellis who observed: "Better an ugly face than an ugly mind."

Michigan Vacation Trail

Historic Beaver Island Had Only American King

Editor's Note: This is one in a series of dispatches that will continue through the summer vacation season detailing special festivals and points of interest for Michigan vacationists.

By United Press International
Beaver Island is a vacation retreat 32 miles off the Michigan mainland from the city of Charlevoix. The Lake Michigan island offers visitors sharply contrasting attractions.

There are modern accommodations on the island, fine beaches, approximately 90 miles of improved highways and good transportation facilities. On the other hand, much of the island is untouched forest and there are reminders everywhere of Beaver's historical past.

Beaver Island was settled in the early 1840s by a group of Mormons led by James Jesse Strang, the only king ever enthroned within the United States.

Strang's reign was marked by many clashes between the Mormons and a band of Irishmen on the mainland over the 1,815-acre grounds of the area which provided a living for both groups. Charlevoix is located on the site of one of the most famous clashes—the Battle of Pine River.

U.S. STEPS IN

The battle in the late 1840s was waged between Mormons approaching the mainland in boats and Irishmen who set out to meet them. The Pine River Irishmen moved out to take over the fishing grounds after Strang was assassinated by two of his subjects and the Mormons were banished by federal orders.

The island can be reached by ships and airplanes which run between Charlevoix and St. James, the only community on the island.

Campers, from the adventurers who like to "rough it" in a wilderness to those who enjoy many conveniences of home, will have no difficulty finding campgrounds to suit their tastes in Michigan.

The West Michigan area alone offers the trailer and tent traveler a choice of 18 state parks with a total of 2,200 campsites, most of which have electricity. In addition to state parks, also available are thousands of acres of space in 14 national forests and 22 state forests, in which campers retain as much of the natural aspect as possible.

As evidence that camping is one of Michigan's fastest growing recreational activities, 140,216 permits were issued last year, a new record for the eighth consecutive year.

From canoes to cabin cruises, thousands of boats head to northern Michigan on trailers each summer and Traverse City has provided ample launching ramps into the waters of East Bay and West Bay of Grand Traverse Bay.

Persistence May Get You Job: Abby

Don't Take 'No' Without Fight

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been looking for a job since last September. I am 22, a college grad and people tell me I am nice looking and have a pleasing personality. I'd like a selling job.

Everywhere I apply, I am told, "Sorry, but you have had no experience." Abby, how is a girl going to get experience if no-body will give her a job?

DEAR INEXPERIENCED: If you're after a selling job, the first thing you must do is demonstrate your ability to sell a would-be employer. Make a case for a chance to prove yourself. An employer is not likely to hire a sales person who is content to take "no" for an answer without a struggle.

DEAR ABBY: I met a man at a dance. He asked me to dance. He was a wonderful dancer and I fell in love with him at once. I asked him to take me home and he did. He explained that he was a married man but didn't get along with his wife. Divorce was out because of religion. I kept calling him at home.

I knew it wasn't right, but I couldn't help myself. I just went crazy over him. He came to my house a few times, but would never be seen with me in public. I bought him a watch for his birthday.

One day he mentioned he needed $300 to repair his car. He didn't ASK for it. I insisted he take it and told him to pay me back when he got the money. After that I never saw him again. I called him up and he said it was too risky to be seen going into my house. How do I get my money back? And also the watch.

FOOLISHLY YOURS

DEAR FOOLISHLY: The watch is HIS - but you got the works. Lady. Unless you want to make it a matter of public information, you'd be smart to write off the "loss" as tuition in the school of experience.

DEAR ABBY: I am going to marry a very nice fellow but I find myself in a peculiar situation.

Three weeks ago he took me to meet his mother, who seemed very charming. Soon afterwards she invited me over for tea and "a talk." When I arrived she had a friend of hers there who used to be a beauty operator.

They spent the whole afternoon debating on how I should wear my hair and what I should do with my eyebrows.

This afternoon my future mother-in-law telephoned and asked me to stop over after work. She wanted to "teach me how to dress."

Abby, I suppose everyone could use a little advice along these lines, but I used to model for a wholesale house, and I go to a good beauty shop every week. People usually ask ME for advice on grooming and fashion and I am very hurt by the whole thing. I would like to get off the "redecorating hook" and remain friends with this woman. But how?

HURT HURT: Go - listen courteously, and then do as you please.

DEAR ABBY: I am eight years old and am going to be nine on Sept. 10 and I have a question for you, Abby. Is there any such bird as the stork or did they make that up, too?

CHARLES: Yes, there is a bird known as the stork... but don't believe everything you hear about it.

Break It by Physical Activity

Worry Can Become Habit

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Do the screaming headlines tire you out? Are you tense from hurry and complexity? Do you jump when the telephone rings and do you have trouble sleeping? Many folks today are in this condition. They take tranquilizers to keep from jumping out of their skins. Physical activity long has been known as one of the most powerful antidotes for worry and nervous tension. Special gymnastics are especially beneficial in the battle to overcome the worry habit. You can mull over crisis in your personal relations while twisting your trunk to the left, and budget worries can cling in your mind while doing front bends. Such exercises are not absorbing enough to make you forget your troubles. Outdoor life and interesting, competitive games are most helpful. It is impossible to keep your mind on your problems while you are playing tennis, badminton, a fast game of table tennis or have your eye on the eighth hole.

The combination of exercise in the fresh air, good companionship and concentration on the game, are what the doctor ordered for the tense, worried person.

TAKES A TOLL

Worry takes a toll of your energy and will slowly undermine your health. Worry is a habit which we learn through practice, and practice is the only way we can "unlearn" it. Perhaps you had a batch of bad luck and formed the habit of fearfulness. Now it may still linger on although there is no current need for worry.

Break the worry habit and the accompanying tenseness with outdoor exercise which is fun!

Anaesthetists Set State Dinner

A dinner is planned at the club at 5:30 p.m., and refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting. Reservations are not required.

Area Newlyweds Head for Northern Michigan

After their marriage Saturday in St. Vincent de Paul Church, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel P. C. Aldrich left on a northern Michigan honeymoon.

The Rev. James J. Sheehan performed the nuptial rites at the altar lashed with white snapdragons and gladioli.

The bride, former Grace Marie Jenkins, is the daughter of the Patrick Jenkins of Braten Avenue, Bloomfield Township. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Aldrich of Clyde are the bridegroom's parents.

The bouffant tiered wedding gown of hand-embroidered white tulle over satin extended into a chapel train. The molded bodice featured a Sabrina neckline and shirred sleeves.

A crown of seed pearls secured the shoulder length cloud veil of illusion. White roses and carnations rested on the bride's white prayer book.

Patricia Ann Jenkins was her sister's maid of honor. A younger sister Mary Kay served as bridesmaid with Virginia Smith and Birdie Stark.

They were ballerina-length blue organza styled with fitted bodices of blue satin. Matching Juliet caps held short circular veils. Pink carnations centered colonial bouquets of white carnations.

John Wozniak of Clyde was best man. The bridegroom's brothers Frederick and Roy Aldrich Jr. of Clyde seated the guests, assisted by Thomas Derocier.

Over 250 guests attended the evening reception in Knights of Columbus Hall. Powder blue organza was Mrs. Jenkins' selection for the wedding. Mrs. Aldrich wore a beige ensemble with bodice and redingote of eyelet linen. Pink rosebuds and carnations comprised their corsages.

WSCS Meets, Picks Chairmen

Mrs. Clayton Gillies appointed new committee chairmen when Rebecca Circle was hostess to the Women's Society of Christian Service, Oakland Park Methodist Church.

Mrs. Fred Ridley was named chairman for servicemen and Mrs. George Carhart, telephone. Others named were Mrs. Joseph Wagley, music; Mrs. Rowley Chase, publicity; and Mrs. J. L. Slaybaugh, Sunshine.

Following installation of officers by Mrs. James Deeg, devotions were given by Mrs. Robert Walters. Mrs. Wagley was given a past president's pin at the Thursday meeting.

A meeting of past and new officers will be held at 7:30 p.m. May 25 in the church. Deborah Circle will hostess the June 9 meeting.

Teachers Need a Strap Handy

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Teachers should keep a strap handy to keep discipline in public schools, says Municipal Judge Charles T. Smith. "Today a great many families are ignoring discipline in the home on the theory that the schools are doing it. It's a vicious circle." Smith sentenced a parent to five days in jail for slapping a teacher, Ambrose Cosgrove, 51, said he struck Miss Helen Nies because he thought the teacher had slapped his 10-year-old son, Terry.

Be Frank, Get Okay to Change

By EMILY POST
Dear Mrs. Post: What may I do about exchanging a pair of lamps sent to me for a wedding present by a relative of my fiancé? The lamps were sent from a large department store, and while they are very pretty, they are completely out of keeping with the rest of my furnishings.

So what can I do? I certainly don't want to start out on the wrong foot by hurting her feelings, but I can't see spoiling my whole room because of them. Will you please come to the rescue?

Answer: Yours is an unhappy situation, that comes to many of us, and from long experience I believe the best thing you can do is to be frank and write, or tell, your fiancé's relative that the lamps are beautiful, and that she is spoiling you by sending such an expensive present, but that as they are ancient Chinese and will not look well in your strictly modern room, you wonder she would mind if you exchanged them.

Dear Mrs. Post: What can a hostess say when a guest (a man) calls and asks her if he may bring a woman friend to a party that she is giving? Must she be polite and say it is quite all right to bring her, or could she refuse without seeming rude, and if so how can this be done without offending?

Answer: The hostess may, with propriety, say that she is very sorry but she hasn't enough men to balance the women she has invited as it is and simply cannot have another woman guest.

Dear Mrs. Post: When an attendant in a dressing room of a theater or restaurant hands you a small towel on which to dry your hands, is it necessary to leave something on the plate which she has provided for tips? If so, how much does one leave? I have noticed that usually there are only quarters on the plate. Isn't this rather a lot for this small service?

Answer: Ten cents would be sufficient for this limited service, unless you are in a very expensive restaurant or night club.

For a different sweater look, try a heavy, pure silk pull-over knitted with a fancy stitch. Team it with a knitted skirt with the same or plainer stitch.

Honor 3 Retired Nurses

Recognition was given past presidents when Oakland County District Nurses Assn. held its annual dinner meeting at the Fox and Hounds Inn Tuesday.

On behalf of the association Mrs. George Gillette paid tribute to the Public Health Nurses Section for three of its nurses who retired in 1959 after outstanding service to the district.

The honorees were Martha Johnson, former assistant nursing director of the Oakland County Department of Health; Mrs. Joseph Skinner, a pioneer in the maternal and child health program of Detroit Welfare Department and 19 year employee of the Pontiac City Health Department; and Mrs. Louis Martinale, retiring after 15 years as a school nurse for Pontiac Board of Education.

Miss Johnson was responsible for the eventual organization of registered nurses in Oakland County into a district of the Michigan State Nurses Assn. and became the group's first president.

A total of 86 years of service in public health nursing has been given by the three nurses.

Three graduating nurses working on advanced degrees at Wayne State University discussed "Nursing in Other Lands." Faleth Agah who told of the recent introduction of nursing in Iran is working on a master's degree in administration.

Hsin Hain Chung of Formosa who informed the group that nursing schools in her country are on a level comparable with our high school programs is majoring in psychiatric nursing.

A comparison of the professional organization of nurses in Brazil with the system employed in the United States was made by Doralice Aires who is majoring in administrative nursing.

White Lake Township to Tackle Road Problems

NEW KIWANIS CLUB — President of the newly formed Walled Lake Kiwanis Club, James L. Lobdell, left, and First Vice President Ken Burks, center, receive the organization's charter from Michigan Kiwanis District Governor, Charles Saur at ceremonies last night at Devon Quiltes. The new club has 30 chartered members. More than 325 area Kiwanians and guests were on hand for the dinner meeting program sponsored by the Pontiac North and Detroit Denby Kiwanis Clubs. Toastmaster for the evening was Richard F. Huizinga, lieutenant governor of the 26th Division. Sidney F. Main, past governor of the Michigan District made the presentation of officers' pins.

Plans Survey to Qualify for Matching Funds Now

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — A thorough study of road conditions here will be undertaken by township officials to meet the requirements of the Oakland County Road Commission in order to receive matching funds for repairs and improvements.

Township Supervisors Edward Cheyz said today that the Township Board has approved $8,900 in matching funds for work on secondary roads.

The funds will be made available from the expected increase in sales revenue from the state due to the rise in township population, according to Cheyz.

Tentative census figures show that the township has more than doubled its population since 1950, from 4,100 to 8,300. This increase is expected to bring in an additional $20,000 in sales tax revenues.

"This is the first time the township has been able to take advantage of the County Road Commission funds. In the past we never had the funds to allocate for road improvements," Cheyz said.

MUST DECIDE

"There are quite a few roads in the township that need repairing, but we haven't decided which are the worst. That is why the study will be made," Cheyz added.

One of the township's biggest road problems results from washouts in heavy rain during the spring thaw.

"In most cases the money would be used to build up road beds that practically disappears during a heavy rain," he noted.

All the funds would not necessarily have to be used during the year, but could be put aside over a three-year period and be used for a large road project, according to Cheyz.

The road commission would do the maintenance on the roads or the work would be contracted to private firms.

PAVING NOT INCLUDED

Paving of roads would not be included in the matching plan, Cheyz said.

"If residents want their streets paved they will have to petition for the work and then be assessed the cost."

The purchase of a rescue fire truck has been approved by Township Board members to replace the present 1946 panel truck.

The cost of the emergency fire truck is $2,400 and does not include equipment. Present equipment will be used.

A trash dump, the first for the township, has been provided here for residents, Supervisor Cheyz said today.

Residents will be allowed to use the dump on Cedar Island road, just east of Bogie Lake road, two days a week, Wednesday and Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The township has rented the site for $50 a month.

Vote Will Decide Annual Meeting

ORION TOWNSHIP — Voters in Orion Township will be asked to decide on abolishment of the annual township meeting in the Aug. 2 primary.

Independence Twp. OKs New Subdivision

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—Having gained approval of the Township Board here, the new Cranberry Lake Estate subdivision will be developed immediately. Its promoter Howard Block announced today.

This is the second subdivision on Perry Lake road near Cranberry Lake that has been approved by the Board. It will offer 50 houses in the $15,000-$20,000 bracket, according to Block.

In other business, the Board formally accepted the township's new $20,000 fire engine on Fire Chief Donald Beech's recommendation, and after the meeting. Board members went to the fire station to give the vehicle a final check.

$45,375 Figure Given Council by Assessor; 17 Mills Is Rate

LAKE ORION — The tax spread for the Village of Lake Orion for the 1960-61 fiscal year will be $45,375, Village Assessor Geraldine Storey informed the Council Tuesday night.

With the two mills for garbage and rubbish collection authorized recently by the Council, the total millage levy for the coming year will be hiked from 15 to 17 mills.

The bids for cleaning and painting the water tower have been opened and turned over to the water and ways and means departments for a recommendation on acceptance.

Approval for $250 by Lake Orion recreation officials for their summer program has been approved. A like amount is given annually by Orion Township.

The Council has received a $1,000 check from the township to help defray maintenance costs and to pay the counselors salary at the Lake Orion Youth Center.

Charles Sharlow has been appointed building inspector and Lawrence J. Giddings named to patrol the lake during the summer season.

The Council also has authorized the erection of no parking signs at the eff of Lake street.

Called Road to Money for Most

Centralization Advocated for Underdeveloped Lands

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Most underdeveloped countries will have to form highly centralized governments before achieving rapid economic growth, Michigan's conference on economic development has concluded.

This conclusion highlighted a roundtable discussion reports presented at the final session of the three-day conference held at the University of Michigan.

The parley attracted some 150 experts in overseas economic assistance programs.

Paul Hoffman, director of the United Nations Special Fund, Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, and the ambassadors of India, Lebanon, Israel and Ghana spoke at the gathering.

One roundtable report stated bluntly that "only vigorous central leadership can bring about radical changes in productivity and mining necessary for an economic takeoff in underdeveloped nations."

"U.S. policy should not be directed toward the creation of certain political forms nor toward insistence on certain political rituals and functions, but toward the social end which democratic political systems serve—social security, social stability and growth."

Users of Luxury Carpet Please Note:

Beckwith-Evans carries an inventory of over two million dollars worth of carpeting and does an aggressive selling and advertising job in carpet falling in the popular price categories. This is normal because most carpet business is done in the $4 yd. to $8 yd. price range.

We don't often advertise or promote our luxury carpet, yet a great deal of our trade is in fabrics of the $15 yd. to $30 yd. range which we sell for $15 to $15 yd. This business has been built largely by the spoken word and recommendations from customers who deal with us regularly and know the difference.

Beckwith-Evans carries more luxury carpet on hand than any dealer or department store in the Midwest... and we're continually on the look-out for special buys in luxury goods, and when we make such buys, you can buy luxury carpet at very modest prices. For example, these:

TAMALE MEAT LOAF — An old favorite with a new spirit — tamales meat loaf. It lists chili sauce and aromatic bitters among its ingredients.

Special Sandwiches

Have you served French fried cheese sandwiches lately? Don't forget this family favorite. For each sandwich, dip 2 slices of bread into an egg-milk mixture, fill with cheese and grill on both sides in flavorful butter. Cheddar, Brick, Swiss or Gruyere make plentiful sandwich choices.

To keep egg yolks, place them unbroken in a dish and add just enough water to cover. Put egg whites in a jar or dish and cover tightly.

Enliven Meat

Meat loaf for dinner. Oh yes, and often. But what kind? Every cook has her favorite recipe. Well just for the fun of it try this lively version which combines chopped meat, chili sauce, corn and corn meal and most important of all aromatic bitters.

Tamales Meat Loaf
1 pound ground beef
1 onion, sliced
1 clove garlic
1/2 cup chili sauce
1/2 cup ketchup
1/2 cup white corn meal
1 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon aromatic bitters

Cook meat, onion and garlic in butter until meat is lightly browned. Add chili sauce and corn and bring to a boil. Remove from fire. Stir in corn meal and milk. Add beaten eggs, salt and bitters. Mix thoroughly and spoon into greased loaf pan. Pat down carefully to eliminate air bubbles, and smooth top. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 45 minutes. Garnish with pimiento strips and parsley.

Pink Color
Always Bad

EAST LANSING — Fresh pork roasts can be cooked to the well-done stage, yet occasionally develop a pink color near the surface of the meat. Beatrice Grant, professor of foods and nutrition at Michigan State University, says there is a simple chemical explanation when thoroughly-cooked pork shows this reddish color—and it has nothing to do with the "doneness" or "goodness" of the meat.

The harmless pink color may develop when traces of nitrates in the cooking water unite with natural pigments in the fresh meat. These nitrates are the same chemicals which help to produce the pink color in cured ham, bacon and corned beef.

Some vegetables, including celery, onions and even potatoes, contain nitrates which change to nitrites during the cooking process. Thus, pork chops braised with celery, or pork loin roasted with potatoes, may show a faint pink color on the surface or just below the surface of the meat.

This pink color may also develop when natural pigments in the meat unite with traces of carbon monoxide sometimes found in the exhaust of cooking fuel.

Miss Grant points out that this red or pink color is harmless and does not affect eating quality of the meat.

Pineapple Fingers

To delight friends at brunch-time — try Glazed Pineapple Fingers. Tangy pineapple and mellow sponge batter make a perfect team for refreshing flavor. Or, you might wish to frost these narrow bars with Lemon Icing while they're still hot. An elegant luncheon dessert or tea-time treat!

To make Glazed Pineapple Fingers, sift together 2 cups sifted enriched flour, 1 tablespoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 cup sugar. Cut or rub in 1/4 cup shortening until mixture is crumbly.

Combine 1 beaten egg, 1/4 cup pineapple sirup and 1 cup drained crushed pineapple. Add to flour mixture, stirring only until flour is well moistened.

Using 2 forks, drop batter on greased baking sheets, shaping the batter into long narrow bars about 1 x 4 1/2 inches. Press sides smooth.

Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 15 minutes. Frost at once with Lemon Icing.

To make Lemon Icing mix 1/4 cup confectioners' sugar, 1 tablespoon hot milk and 1/4 teaspoon lemon extract until smooth. Makes about 1 1/2 dozen Glazed Pineapple Fingers.

Tuna Tacos

A fiesta for children... it's possible with Tuna Tacos. Make up your favorite recipe for tuna salad. Use to fill packaged taco shells. Top each with shredded lettuce, a big dab of mayonnaise and a fresh lemon quarter for that squeeze of zip and tangy flavor.

Poultry and Eggs Coming to You
in New Forms

Someday you may not be able to tell a chicken from a hot dog—because it will be a hot dog. Chicken franks are almost ready for market-testing in New York state. They are just one of several new poultry and egg convenience foods being developed, reports Mary Hardy, county Extension agent in home economics.

Other products ready for consumers' reactions are chicken Bologna, which has a definite smoked flavor, and chicken loaf, for quick sandwich-making. Both products are designed to utilize heavy chickens.

The heavier birds of broiler flocks will be test-marketed as young roasters. These are extremely tender and weigh about three and a half pounds. On the egg side, there's frozen French toast. Each slice contains a half egg and is ready to serve after a minute or two in the toaster.

The search for better ways to market smaller sizes of eggs has produced the "Kid's Pak" — twelve small eggs in a container offered to children. The "Family Pak" contains four large eggs for Mom and Dad, along with eight medium or small eggs for the children.

These new products and merchandising ideas are aimed at greater variety, time-saving and ease of use and were developed to increase sales of poultry and eggs to consumers.

Fresh Asparagus Season Is Here

Pontiac Press Home Editor

According to a noted Swiss psychologist (our reference does NOT give his name), eating asparagus will help develop a sense of responsibility. We're a little sceptical, but it's nice to have one more excuse to serve asparagus.

How many other plants can you think of that serve as both food and decoration? We're all familiar with the tall delicate asparagus fern, once used routinely in corsages.

Asparagus is centuries old. The Phoenicians traders introduced to the Romans. Throughout the world 150 different species are grown for eating.

Asparagus contains vitamin A and some of the B vitamins. For dieters it is excellent IF you don't use gobs of butter or sauce on it. An average serving has only 15-20 calories.

Use it as soon after purchasing as possible. If you must keep asparagus, wrap a double thickness of foil around the bottom of the bunch, pressing tightly to make it leakproof. Four in about half an inch of water and store in refrigerator.

What do you look at when you buy asparagus? The tops, we'll bet. That's all right because you want tightly closed heads. But turn the bunch over and look at the size of the stalks. They should all be the same size.

If there are some very large or very small stalks hidden in the center of the bunch, don't buy it. You want asparagus that is all the same size.

Cook it quickly. Everyone has a different way of doing it. The best way is to tie the bunch loosely and place it in a tall can or bottom of a double boiler. Cover it. Then the stalks cook while the tender tips steam. Ten to fifteen minutes is usually long enough.

But here is another way of cooking asparagus:

Skillet, Asparagus Cuts
1 pound asparagus
1 tablespoon butter
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon oil
Break or cut off pale tough

ends of asparagus so stalks are even length. With a swivel-blade vegetable peeler, pare thin outer covering from stalks up to buds.

Wash well; drain. Slice on the diagonal into pieces that are about 1 1/2 inches long and very thin ovals. Turn asparagus cuts, butter (cut into tiny pieces), water and salt into an 8-inch skillet with a tight cover.

Simmer, covered, stirring a few times for about 6 minutes or until asparagus is just tender and water has evaporated. Makes 3 servings.

Note: Use medium-thick rather than jumbo asparagus in this recipe.

Cheese and eggs go happily with asparagus. This luncheon dish is delicate and delicious.

Fresh Asparagus with Cheese

Meringue
Wash 2 pounds fresh asparagus and trim tough ends. Cook in 1/2 inch boiling water and 1/2 teaspoon salt until crisp-tender, 20 minutes. Arrange asparagus in a buttered 10 x 6 x 2-inch baking dish.

Melt 3 tablespoons butter or margarine in a saucepan. Blend in 3 tablespoons flour. Gradually stir in 1 1/2 cups milk. Stir until of medium thickness.

Beat 3 egg yolks with 1/4 cup milk and gradually blend with the sauce. Stir and cook 1/2 minute. Remove from heat. Add 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon finely chopped onion and 2 tablespoons mayonnaise.

Pour over asparagus. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup grated sharp American cheese. Beat 3 egg whites until they stand in soft, stiff peaks. This Cheese with Bacon Salad has a tangy lemon flavor that's sure to be the attention-getter of your table.

Wrapped Up Wieners

Serve Frankfurts on thinly sliced white bread as a change from a roll. Place the Frankfurt cutty on the corner of the bread, bringing the two opposite corners of bread together and fastening loosely with a toothpick. Brush with butter and broil.

oven (300 degrees F.) 25 to 35 minutes or until meringue is brown. 6 servings.

Wilt Lettuce Pieces With Lemony Bacon

Lettuce, the "queen of your salad bowl," can be served countless ways to add crisp, refreshing appeal to your salads. Here's a new way to let lettuce help you create an unusual, nutritious salad to accompany a hot or cold meal.

Cheese With Bacon Salad

1 slice bacon, diced
1/2 cup shredded Swiss cheese
1/2 cup shredded lettuce, in bite-size bits to taste
Fry bacon until crisp. Add lemon juice to hot bacon and drippings. Toss lettuce and grated cheese together and sprinkle with salt. Top with hot lemon flavored bacon mixture and toss well. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

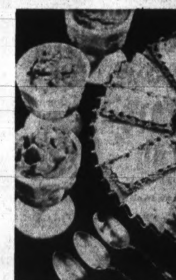

FRESH ASPARAGUS — Fresh asparagus spears add a springlike grace and flavor to this cheese and egg meringue dish. Not only is the resulting combination delicious, but it's full of healthful goodness. Serve it for luncheon.

Strawberry Mint Frappe Is a Delicious Appetizer

Cool, pink Strawberry Mint Frappe is just about the nicest possible thing to comfort your newly arrived luncheon guests on a warm May day. This semi-frozen, slightly tart appetizer served with crunchy Lemon Krisps will mark you as a sophisticated hostess with a flair for serving unusual foods. Naturally, you won't tell them that you prepared it in your blender in a jiffy. If you don't have a blender, use very ripe berries and prepare the frappe with an electric mixer.

Lemon Krisps are rye crackers that have been spread with lemon-flavored cream cheese. The combination is so good you'll be tempted to serve several to each person. Remember — this is only an appetizer; so don't spoil the rest of the meal for your guests.

LEMON KRISPS — Semi-frozen Strawberry Mint Frappe is a delightful luncheon appetizer for warm May days. Crunchy Lemon Krisps, lemon-flavored cheese on crisp rye crackers, give the perfect texture and flavor accent.

On the other hand, if sea travel bothers you, just remember that Dolly Madison glamorized it when she served mounds of pink ice cream piled high on a silver platter at a state dinner. Get out sherbet dishes, prepare this tasty frappe from juicy red, ripe strawberries and you'll be serving an lovely a meal as Dolly ever dreamed of.

Strawberry Mint Frappe
1 quart fresh strawberries, washed and halved
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup (1/2 pint) sour cream
1/2 cup water
2 tablespoons finely chopped fresh mint leaves
Fresh mint for decorating
Puree berries in blender. Add remaining ingredients. Blend. Freeze 2 hours or until icy. Return to blender. Blend to a mush. Spoon into chilled sherbet glasses. Decorate with sprigs of fresh mint. Serve as appetizer with Lemon Krisps. Yield: 6-8 servings.

Lemon Krisps
1/2 cup cream cheese
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon oil
8 crisp rye crackers
Combine cream cheese, lemon juice, mace and lemon rind. Chill 2-3 hours to develop flavor. Spread on single or double rye crackers. Yield: 8 double crackers.

Cream Celery for Change of Menu Pace

Creamed Celery
2 1/2 cups thin celery crescents
1/2 cup boiling water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/2 tablespoon flour
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
1/2 cup hot milk
Cook the celery rapidly in a 1-quart covered saucepan in the boiling water and 1/2 teaspoon of the salt just until tender-crisp — 8 to 10 minutes. Drain; add enough warm water to the celery liquid to make 1 cup.

Melt butter in saucepan over low heat; stir in flour until smooth, add remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt and the pepper. Remove from heat. Gradually add the 1 cup celery-water mixture, stirring until smooth. Remove from heat. Sprinkle dry milk over mixture; beat with a whisk or rotary beater until smooth. Return to low heat; cook and stir constantly until thickened. Add drained celery; reheat. Makes 4 servings.

Tuna and Asparagus Team Up in Salad

A salad that's a little different! Tuna and Asparagus Salad
2 tablespoons red wine vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup olive oil
1/2 cup (1 ounce) asparagus solid white (1/2 cup)
4 large green bean leaves (about 1 pound) all-green asparagus
1/2 cup (1/2 pint) strained creamed pintoles or 1/2 cup finely grated carrot
Mix vinegar, oil, salt, pepper to taste, garlic and onion in a bowl. Add tuna, including oil. Mix lightly with a fork, breaking up tuna but not too fine. Arrange remains on serving plate with drained asparagus at sides; turn tuna mixture over center. Garnish with pintoles or carrot. Makes 4 servings.

Cook Asparagus in Foil Easily

Here are two novel ways of cooking a favorite spring and early summer vegetable — fresh asparagus. The first of these makes for ease of handling in cooking and serving. First wrap quilted foil around asparagus using two long strips of foil as lifting handles. Or, as an alternative, divide the bunch of asparagus into individual portions and tie with quilted foil strips to prevent crumbling in cooking process and add a sparkle to your serving platter. Top off with creamy Spring Sauce.

Fresh Asparagus Cooked in Foil
2 pounds fresh asparagus quilted broiling foil

Snap off the woody ends of the asparagus stalks, then wash asparagus.

Stand stalks upright on a square of quilted broiling foil. Mold foil around base of stalks to hold bunch in place. Slip onto 3 crossed 16-inch x 3-inch strips of foil. Lift by foil strips and lower into deep saucepan (bottom of glass double boiler or 4-cup glass percolator is excellent) containing 1½ inches boiling water. Cover and cook about 12 to 15 minutes, or until crisp-cooked. Serve with Spring Sauce.

Or, divide asparagus into individual serving bunches. Use inch-wide strips of quilted broiling foil to wrap around each bundle. Twist ends together on top of the asparagus to secure and form lifting handle. Cook as above. Serve with Spring Sauce. Serves 46.

Spring Sauce
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup cream
1/2 cup onion
1/2 cup asparagus
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup pepper
1/2 cup mustard
1/2 cup ketchup
1/2 cup catsup
1/2 cup tomato paste
1/2 cup Worcestershire
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup pineapple juice
1/2 cup apricot jam
1/2 cup apricot preserves
1/2 cup apricot marmalade
1/2 cup apricot nectar
1/2 cup apricot syrup
1/2 cup apricot liqueur
1/2 cup apricot brandy
1/2 cup apricot rum
1/2 cup apricot vodka
1/2 cup apricot gin
1/2 cup apricot tequila
1/2 cup apricot rum
1/2 cup apricot vodka
1/2 cup apricot gin
1/2 cup apricot tequila

In saucepan, melt butter; add flour and seasonings. Stir to blend. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in milk. Return to heat and cook, stirring constantly until thickened and smooth. Stir in pineapple, green pepper and cheese. Cook until cheese is melted. Makes about 1 cup.

Lacquers Is Quick Drying

Lacquers is an extremely quick drying coating most often applied in the factory to manufactured products. There is a special type known as brushing lacquer that does not dry so quickly and is more suitable for home use.

Pyramid Sandwiches Eaten With a Fork

Turner is a spice with many virtues few people have as yet discovered. At pickling time it has always been indispensable, but otherwise it is usually ignored. The fact is it is delicious in all kinds of everyday dishes. For instance, try it with a speck of red pepper and it will over potatoes or rice; team it with a little cayenne to enhance buttered mushrooms; blend it with pepper, tarragon and onion as a seasoning for vegetables as bland as squash.

Use a little turmeric when you want the rich, creamy yellow, as for instance, in mayonnaise. Creamed eggs to serve four gain color as well as delicate flavor from a quarter teaspoon turmeric.

Perhaps you're looking to be the "innovator" in your crowd, the hostess who's always expected to serve something a bit different. Next time you're serving snacks to friends, try this idea — an impressive Pyramid Party Sandwich.

Slices of bread are spread with different fillings — Turneric Egg Sandwich Filling and Spiced Tuna Fish Filling, plus a pattern of sliced stuffed olives. When these savory slices are stacked the whole thing is topped with softened cream cheese. A real conversation piece, but not much more work than ordinary sandwiches.

Use Frozen French Fries for a Cheese Bake

This cheesy potato dish is delectable. To make six servings: in a buttered shallow baking pan, arrange frozen French fries, potato sticks. Brush with ¼ cup (½ stick) melted butter and sprinkle with one teaspoon onion salt and paprika.

Bake 20-25 minutes in a preheated 350 degree oven. Remove from oven and sprinkle with ½ cup grated Parmesan cheese, shaking pan so potatoes are evenly coated.

Pork and Beef Cuts May Be Found at Good Prices

Livestock marketings took a slight reversal at the end of last week. There is a large variety of good buys in pork available and some in beef and veal.

Weather conditions have been favorable to the harvest of fruits and vegetables in most producing areas. Moderate to heavy rainfall has occurred and temperatures have been slightly below normal over most of the country.

PORK: Recent hog receipts have been larger than expected for this time of the year and prices have held steady. This has been reflected this week in lower retail prices in loin roasts, center-cut chops, fresh ham and spareribs. In smoked hams—particularly canned hams—and frankfurters. The heavy receipts are expected to be only temporary for declining supplies should be in the market for the next several months.

BEEF: Unseasonably cold weather in many parts of the country have tended to increase the demand for beef and fractionally higher wholesales are indicated. However, retailers are generally unchanged and beef, chuck and standing rib roasts and in many rolled roasts.

VEAL: The recent wholesale decreases on veal continue to be reflected in features on leg, mutton and shoulder roasts and all chops in some markets. Quality of the calves which are coming to market is reported to be excellent.

FISH: There are still plenty of perch being caught in the lake waters and supplies of fresh ocean cod and haddock are still abundant. Whitefish is relatively scarce and high in price, though improvements in the catch are indicated.

Cottage cheese and cheese loaves are most in the limelight at the cheese counters. When buying cheese loaves check labels carefully. Remember that there is a great difference in both the amount of butter fat and the liquid content. The cheese products which contain high liquid content and little butter fat should be considerably less in cost.

Orange Souffle a Fabulous Dessert

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AF Newsfeatures Food Editor

Can you beat eggs? Then you can make a high and puffy, feather-light and fabulous dessert souffle. What more glamorous ending for a company dinner?

Sweet souffles come in various flavors—the best known among these the vanilla, the chocolate, the lemon and that golden beauty—the orange.

Although many recipes for orange souffle call for home milk along with the fruit juice, this procedure produces a two-layer effect. Our rule uses all orange juice and the texture and flavor are the same throughout the souffle; we think you'll enjoy its rich citrus taste.

ORANGE SOUFFLE
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup orange rind
1/2 cup lemon rind
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup cream of tartar

In a medium-sized saucepan melt the butter over low heat; stir in the flour. Add orange juice and stir until thickened. Remove from heat; stir in lemon juice and orange rind.

Beat egg yolks until lemon-colored and thickened; beat in sugar and salt. Stir a little of the hot sauce into the beaten yolks, blending well. Stir back into saucepan and again blend well; cool.

With clean beater, beat egg whites until foamy; add cream of tartar; continue beating until whites stand in soft peaks. Carefully fold cold sauce into whites so the two are blended.

Any Kind of Liver Is Good if Cooked Right

In purchasing liver, it is best to remember that veal, lamb and pork livers are more tender than beef liver, but all can be made tender if cooked properly.

Veal and lamb liver may be broiled, sliced beef and pork liver are best pan-fried or braised or ground for loaves or patties.

Turn into a buttered 1½-quart souffle dish; fasten a foil of waxed paper collar around top of dish so it stands a couple of inches above top. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven 35 minutes. Serve at once with Clear Orange Sauce and, if desired, whipped cream.

NOTE: Have collar ready to put around dish so souffle mixture does not have to wait before going into oven.

CLEAR ORANGE SAUCE
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup orange rind
1/2 cup lemon rind
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup cream of tartar

In a 1-quart saucepan stir together thoroughly the sugar and cornstarch. Gradually add the boiling water, orange juice and lemon juice, stirring until smooth after each addition. Stir in orange rind and a dash of salt.

Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until clear and thickened—5 to 6 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in diced orange. Serve hot or warm.

Deviled Eggs Baked With Sour Cream

This interesting way to serve hard-cooked eggs, casserole style may be new to you.

Deviled Oven Eggs
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup instant onion (fresh fine)
1/2 cup mayonnaise (fresh fine)
1/2 cup sour cream
1/2 cup ketchup
1/2 cup mustard
1/2 cup catsup
1/2 cup Worcestershire
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup pineapple juice
1/2 cup apricot jam
1/2 cup apricot preserves
1/2 cup apricot marmalade
1/2 cup apricot nectar
1/2 cup apricot syrup
1/2 cup apricot liqueur
1/2 cup apricot brandy
1/2 cup apricot rum
1/2 cup apricot vodka
1/2 cup apricot gin
1/2 cup apricot tequila

Hard-cook eggs and halve lengthwise; remove yolks and mash them fine with 3 tablespoons of the butter, onion, parsley, salt, pepper and mustard. Refill white cavities with yolk mixture.

Place stuffed side up in a deep heat-resistant glass pie dish (8½ by 1½ inches deep) or similar baking dish. Spread sour cream over top so eggs are covered.

Melt remaining 1 tablespoon butter and mix with crumbs; sprinkle over sour cream. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings — 3 egg halves per portion.

Match Spring's Newness With Chocolate Buns

Are you looking for something simply smashing to serve for a Spring brunch? Or perhaps the invigorating dash of Spring in the air gives you the extra burst of energy to fix hot yeast rolls for a family weekend breakfast?

At least there's a brand new type of yeast roll created in a famous test kitchen — CHOCOLATE. Just imagine combining this favorite flavor with the tenderness and delicious eating only a homemade yeast bread can offer. But the method is simple—for the beating can be done on an electric mixer and there is no kneading.

Sugar-Nut Chocolate Buns are baked in a ring mold and coated with sugar and finely chopped pecans. Try serving them warm with softened cream—cheese, flavored with lemon rind.

Sugar-Nut Chocolate Buns
1½ cups warm water (not hot—110 to 115 degrees)
1 package active dry yeast
¼ cup shortening
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
1 egg
2½ cups sifted enriched flour

Coating

1 cup sugar
1 cup finely chopped pecans or walnuts

In mixer bowl dissolve yeast in warm water. Add shortening, salt, sugar, egg, cocoa and 1 cup of flour. Beat 2 minutes; medium speed on mixer or 300 vigorous strokes by hand. Scrape sides and bottom of bowl frequently. Stir in remaining flour with spoon; blend until smooth.

Scrape batter from sides of bowl. Cover with cloth and let rise in warm place (85 degrees) until double in bulk, about 1 hour. (If kitchen is cool, place dough on a rack over a bowl of hot water and cover completely with a towel.) Stir down by beating 25 strokes.

Mix coating ingredients. Drop heaping teaspoonfuls of dough into sugar-nut mixture. Coat each piece of dough and place in a well-greased 9" ring mold. Make two layers of balls. Let rise in warm place (85 degrees) until double in bulk, about 40 minutes. Heat oven to 375 degrees (quick mod.). Bake 25 minutes. Remove from pan carefully so as not to break ring. Serve warm with butter or cream—cheese which has been softened with cream and flavored with a little lemon rind.

SUGAR-NUT CHOCOLATE BUNS — Nut coated sweet buns are not new, but adding chocolate to the dough is. These batter-method buns are made in a ring mold, are easy to make. Your family will have the best reason in the world to get up for Sunday morning breakfast when you serve this treat.

PONTIAC PRESS WANT ADS
FE 2-8181

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The sleeper trade pulled by the Tigers this year was obtaining Norm Cash from the Cleveland Indians for Steve Bilko.

There was no doubt in this corner at the season's start that Cash would be meandering around first base in place of minor league slugger Steve Bilko.

It was a surprise when the White Sox peddled Cash, a fine young prospect to the Indians, and it was even a bigger surprise when Frank Lane gave him up so easily for Demeter, considered only a fair third baseman.

It almost seemed that Lane was making the deal as an apology for embarrassing the Tigers in the Tito Francona trade a year ago.

However, this isn't like Lane. He'd take candy from a baby if he knew he would profit on the deal.

Tiger fans focused all their attentions on other deals especially the Colavito-Kuenn swap, figuring the Cash-Demeter trade was just a routine exchange of utility players.

Cash, who has a wry sense of humor, was with the Tigers for a week when the Colavito-Kuenn trade was announced. "They just threw Rocky in on my deal," he jested with a wink.

Right now, Cash's .357 average is the only little spot in the Tiger hitting department and it puts a little salt in the wound when one wants to look at Kuenn's .325 mark at Cleveland.

Of course Colavito, who is floundering below .200, still stands in Detroit's favor, especially when the other player in the deal, Demeter, was optioned out this week to Toronto.

Cleveland fans have mellowed in their griping about losing Colavito, but they now've started looking for answers as to why Lane let Cash slip through his fingers.

When manager Jimmy Dykes took Bilko off first base, as was expected would happen long before the season started, he told Cash, "The job is yours."

"That's all I needed," Cash said, who is out to prove he can hold the job.

Skippers Win I-L Title; Meyers Sets 3 Records

Led by a versatile pair of performers in hurdler Ed Stigers and Doc Falls, Waterford High's thin-clad last night captured the 1960 Inter-Lakes Conference track and field championship. Skippers compiled a 44-4 point total, with a strong Waterford Lake team runnerup at 40.

Five meet records were by the boards, three of them set by Berkley's ace sprinter and broad jumper, Steve Meyers. Meyers, Waterford miler, hung up a new mark for the distance with a fine 4:33.1 effort. The other record was Pontiac Northern's medley relay team's 2:58.1 mark.

Venetian-Bally Ache Duel Seen Saturday

BALTIMORE (AP)—The condition of the Pimlico racing strip seemed to have trainers of the top contenders for the $150,000-added Preakness in somewhat of a dilemma today. All agree the track is safe, but a bit on the sandy and deep side.

While the majority saw another duel between Venetian Way, the Kentucky Derby winner, and runner-up Bally Ache, the weather and track condition could swing the balance. The weatherman saw a possibility of showers for Friday or Saturday.

"If you're going to be a champion, you have to run over any kind of a race track," said Vic Sovinsky, who trains Venetian Way for owner Isaac Blumberg. Venetian Way worked over the track Saturday doing seven furlongs in 1:37.3 under a light hold by his exercise boy, Bill Root. Sovinsky seemed well satisfied, especially since Root weighs about 150 pounds.

"If my horse likes this track, I wouldn't trade his chances with anyone," the ex-baker from Kankakee, Ill., said. Sovinsky trained Lincoln Road in 1958, another Blumberg colt who finished second to Tim Tam in both the Derby and Preakness. He described the Derby track as clay, "while this is sandier." Jimmy Pitt, Bally Ache's trainer, wondered how his colt would do on this track.

Bally Ache, sold by Leonard Fruchman last Saturday for $125,000 to a Kentucky syndicate headed by Joseph L. Arnold, again is the horse to catch. He set the Derby pace in a track labeled "good" after Friday night rain, but turned gummy and holding by trainers. Venetian Way caught Bally Ache coming off the final bend and won away by 3 1/2 lengths.

The third horse in the Derby, Victoria Park, was seven lengths behind Bally Ache at Churchill Downs. The Canadian horse owned by E. P. Taylor of Toronto had an eye-popping workout Tuesday, clipping the seven furlongs in 1:25.3. The question is whether Victoria Park can say within striking distance of Bally Ache and then be able to give off a late surge by Venetian Way.

Bally Ache is the speed demon. He won the Preakness Prep at Lincoln Road in 1958, another Blumberg colt who finished second to Tim Tam in both the Derby and Preakness. He described the Derby track as clay, "while this is sandier." Jimmy Pitt, Bally Ache's trainer, wondered how his colt would do on this track.

Mackay Wins Opener at French Tourney

PARIS (AP)—Top-seeded Barry Mackay of Dayton, Ohio, won a straight-set victory over Wislaw Gasiorow of Poland in the second round of the French International Tennis Championship Wednesday, 4-6, 4-1, 6-4.

Mackay drew a bye in the first round, which saw the elimination of Judge Patty of Los Angeles and Paris by Mario Llamas of Mexico, 7-5, 6-2, 6-2.

Terry Miller Honored

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Terry Miller, captain of the 1959-60 Michigan basketball team, has been awarded the University's Western conference medal for proficiency in scholarship and athletics. Miller is a pre-medical student from Fort Wayne, Ind. He was second high scorer for Michigan last basketball season with 331 points in 22 games for a 15-point average.

Detroit Wallops Wayne
DETROIT (UPI)—The University of Detroit track team defeated Wayne State University yesterday 92-38.

George Heger racked up 19 points for the winners with first in the high jump, broad jump and 100-yard dash which he did in 9.8.

Braund Special of Birmingham Latest Arrival

Newcomer Hits 145.6
in Practice Run With Travelon Special

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Motor day shut off a driver's test for the Memorial Day 500 mile race with 13 newcomers approved and three oldtimers given passing grades on refresher courses.

Duke Dinsmore of Dayton, Ohio, 47-year-old veteran of seven 500s, came back after a four-year absence and took his refresher in the last possible hour. He finished the 130-mile-an-hour run soaked in oil from an ailing engine but was not burned.

Dinsmore moved into the Indianapolis-owned Safety Auto Glass Special after rookie Bob Wentz of St. Louis decided not to finish his test. Wentz said he would get more racing experience and come back next year.

Les Drollinger, Champaign, Ill., was the only rookie passed on a mild day.

Jim Hunsaker, Leavenworth, Calif., threatened to become the most sensational newcomer. He had his Travelon Special up to 145.6 miles an hour for the day's best practice speed. Jack Turner, Seattle, clocked a strong 144 in the new Kelso Auto Dynamics Special.

Sixty-two cars were in gasoline alley after the arrival of a new Braund Plywood Special, to be driven by Bill Chesborough, Tucson, Ariz. He got on the track for a low speed run late in the day.

Earlier Wednesday the auto racing fraternity took time out from 500 preparations and honored Jean Marcenac on his 40th anniversary as a racing mechanic.

Oxford, a new entry in the Class A City Baseball League, is off to a rocky start in the new campaign.

Clay Williams had two hits in three tries for the Jets. York struck out seven batters and walked only one. Chris Mersino was the starting and losing hurler for Oxford. The game was stopped after six full innings.

Loses No-Hit Game, 2-1

Chuck Johnson of Dave's Beef-burger team today owns the distinction of being the City Softball League's hard-luck hurler. Johnson twirled a no-hitter last night in an American League game at Beaudette Park, but lost a 2-1 decision to the Pontiac Merchants who received a three-hit pitching performance from Jerry Thomas.

Walters, hit batsmen, wild pitches and passed balls plus a sacrifice fly enabled the Merchants to score single runs in the 3rd and 7th innings without benefit of a hit. Thomas struck out 11 batters on the way to victory.

In an International loop contest at Beaudette, the Road Builders banged out nine hits, three each by Art Witt and Skeet Laidlaw, for a 7-3 triumph over the Pontiac Retailers.

Four home runs rocked Northside Park yesterday when Stadium Inn whipped the Moose, 6-4, in American League action. Marv Caswell of Stadium socked two homers and teammate Tom Spencer came through with another.

James was clocked in 22.7 in the 220-yard low hurdles and 13.8 in the 120-yard high hurdles then capped his record performance with a time of 4.5 in the 100-yard dash.

Dave Meyers of Central raced to a 47.8 field record in the 440-yard event in leading the Chippewas to victory.

U.S. Yacht Team Expects Scramble

NEW YORK (AP) — It's going to be a real scramble, says Julian Roosevelt, manager of the U.S. Olympic yachting team.

"We have lots of fine competitors in our Olympic trials, and we'll be sending a good team to Naples, but we're not sure winners in anything."

Roosevelt, of Oyster Bay, N.Y., a gold medal winner in the 1952 Olympics at Helsinki and manager of the 1956 yachting team at Melbourne, will supervise the team of 11 regulars and three alternates who will enter the five classes racing on the Bay of Naples from Aug. 29 to Sept. 7.

In the one-man fin class, the leading American contender for a berth on the team is John Marvin of Marblehead, Mass., who took third place at Melbourne. Top competitors include Allan Perry of Marblehead, Mass., Charles Sumway of Marion, Mass., and David Smalley of Larchmont, N.Y.

The flying Dutchman class is replacing the sherry class used at Melbourne. In these 19 foot 10 inch boats, manned by a crew of two, Harry Sindie of Little Falls, N.J., winner of seven first places at the Pan American Games, is an outstanding prospect. Other veterans are Eric Olsen, of Essex, Conn., John Powell of Madeira Beach, Fla., president of the class, and

Titans Win, State Loses

University of Detroit posted Toledo 15-6 Wednesday while Notre Dame was rapping five Michigan State pitchers for eight hits and an 8-1 victory.

The Titans blasted 19 hits out of the bullpen to lead 12-3. Nick Pallichich held State to four hits in the Irish's 15th triumph.

CHARTING FUN-COURSE — Mrs. R. E. Carlson pauses in her boat-cleaning work to take a look at a map of Lake St. Clair held by her husband, sons Richard, 17, Jack, 11, and conservation officer Tom Brooke. Carlson is the newly elected Cruise-Master of the 25-member Family Cruise Club who have fun on the water all summer long.

Family Club Enjoys 'Cruisin' Together

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

All week long, there's a certain group of Pontiac area folks that look forward to "cruising down the river on a Sunday afternoon," an dthat's exactly what they do come rain or shine.

Known as the Family Cruise Club, 25 families agree on a meeting place early Sunday mornings, haul their boats to the river and take off in one long straight line for parts unknown.

Everyone gets into the act of helping to load and unload the boats from trailers, and the entire boat launching takes less than one-half hour because of systematic coordination of the members.

Once launched, only the commodore, Walter Asher and the cruise-master R. E. Carlson leading the procession, know which island in Lake St. Clair they are headed for, and no one breaks the formation until they reach their destination.

At the caravan of cabin cruisers move out across the waters, spectators are amazed at the precision formation that each boat pilot follows. They cruise at about 20 miles an hour some 25 feet apart.

After all the cruisers are beached (bows outward), there is picnicking, singing, water skiing, swimming, fishing and downwind good companionship until the commodore gives the signal to load up and again prepare for straight-line embarkation.

All this fun started about three years ago when four men got together and decided to have organized all-day family outings with their average-sized runabout outboard boats. Soon more and more people wanted to join the group until now the membership of 25 families includes 100 people.

As time went by these families in the average salary bracket began to realize that the amount of real enjoyment derived from planned cruises, was worth all other pleasures put together, so many that formerly went for lesser entertainment was saved to purchase larger boats and motors.

DuPont Adds Second Entry for Harmsworth

BAY CITY (AP) — Samuel DuPont bought another racing hydroplane from Les Saudacher yesterday and said he is "going all out" to qualify for the Harmsworth trophy race.

"If one boat can't do it, two should," Dupont, a Wilmington, Del., sportsman, told newsmen. He already owned one Saudacher creation, the Nitrogen.

The new boat, designed and built here by Saudacher, is all aluminum except for a plywood mahogany deck. DuPont bought both an Allison and a Rolls Royce engine for power plants.

Saudacher turned the vessel up to 150 miles an hour Tuesday off Saginaw Bay.

Canada won the Harmsworth trophy, International emblem of speedboat racing supremacy, from the United States last year with Miss Superst.

The five-woman team bowled a 274 and displaced Salina, Kan., now second with a 2476.

The only other change saw a Cincinnati couple, Ruth Kemper and Alice Gilkey, Roll 1168 and gain a tie for fourth place in the doubles.

Boat Registrations Soar

Warm weather, blue skies, and the approach of the vacation season has accelerated the flow of motor boat registrations to the Michigan Department of State. Applications have jumped from a few hundred to more than 2,000 a day and the number is increasing as June draws nearer.

Secretary of State James M. Hare estimates that about 200,000 of Michigan's half million watercraft owners have thus far failed to register their motor boats.

"In anticipation of this accelerated flow of applications we have rented five additional IBM machines which, with our five permanent machines, will make it possible to double our daily capacity during the busy weeks ahead," Hare assured motor boat owners.

The Department of State, as it does in February for the motor vehicle license rush, has hired five temporary machine operators and two additional clerks to take care of the mounting creek of applications.

As soon as the motor boat registration rush is over and the flow is down to normal, these temporary employees will be released so that there will be no long-range or continuing expense to the State.

Under the new law, 200,585 watercraft have been registered. By the end of the week the State Department will be asked to take care of 3,000 applications or more each day. Applications received on Monday will usually be out by Wednesday.

Clinic Includes Canoe, Rowboat Scuba Methods

Pontiac Northern Pool Site of Demonstrations for Water Lovers

One of two boat and water safety programs jointly sponsored by the Michigan Department of Conservation and the Department of Public Instruction will be held tonight at Pontiac Northern High School's pool.

The Pontiac School District is hosting the program which is designed to emphasize safety on the water.

Last week the clinic was held in Kalamazoo. Demonstrations are being conducted by personnel of the Michigan State Police, the American Red Cross and the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

The program will start with registration at 7:00 p.m., with Hollie Lepley, director of recreation and athletics making the initial welcome.

Moderator will be Edwin G. Rice, of the Department of Public Instruction.

Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons and Don Kraft will speak on accidents in Oakland County waters.

Canoe and rowboat safety and methods of resuscitation will be demonstrated by the Red Cross with Mark Smith and Harold Heydon participating.

Scuba and Skin Diving techniques narrated by Gary Meyer of the Michigan State Police along with Lamar Ebb and Clifford Ellis as divers will follow.

A demonstration on fishing techniques by Ben Hardesty will conclude the program.

The swimming program of the city recreation department has been cancelled so that the clinic can be held.

Olympic Ring Trials Move Into Semifinals

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Action in the knockout-punctuated U. S. Olympic boxing trials reaches the semifinal stage tonight with favorites still in contention.

Eighteen of Wednesday's 40 opening bouts ended before the scheduled three rounds as aspirants to the trip to Rome displayed both power and finesse.

The quickest ending came in the 147-pound class when Jim Scott of Warren, Ohio, landed a body blow that knocked out Ken Shubovsky of New York City in 49 seconds of the first round.

Man May Be Aboard

Reds to Pull Ship Down

By United Press International
The Soviet Union reports it will bring down its latest satellite "ship" and one of America's top rocket experts says he has a "good hunch" there is a man inside.

The official Soviet news agency, Tass, said Wednesday night evening about the spacecraft, put in orbit May 15, was "working normally" and "the command will be given from earth shortly to start the . . . descent."

Major Gen. John B. Medaris, former commanding general of the U.S. Army Ordnance Missile Command, said in Chicago "I'm not one least bit sure that the Russians have a dummy in it."

It would not make sense, Medaris said, for Russia to put up a satellite of sufficient weight and space to carry a man, without trying to have a man in it or without trying to bring the vehicle back to earth intact.

Melvin V. London, a physics professor at Boston College, Springfield, Maine, even reported he had heard the "scrambled voice" of a man aboard the Russian spaceship. He said the voice sounded "like Donald Duck with a sore throat."

At Manchester, England the Jodrell Bank radio telescope station reported the pressurized cabin of the Soviet space ship may have been ejected today.

Officials at the huge listening post said the space ship's signals were 30 minutes late, indicating the cabin may have been ejected within the last few hours.

Japan House Ratifies U.S. Security Treaty

TOKYO (U) — The House of Representatives tonight ratified its new security treaty with the United States after a violent demonstration by leftist members opposed to the pact.

The pact, which authorizes U.S. bases to remain in Japan at least 20 more years, now goes to the upper house. It has 30 days in which to act or let the measure become law automatically.

The passage came after fist fights broke out in Parliament corridors and a swelling throng estimated at 15,000 snake-danced and shouted anti-American slogans in the rain outside in opposition to the treaty.

Waterford Park Cleanup Slated by Optimists

A gigantic cleanup-pickup campaign has been scheduled for 1 p.m. Saturday at the new Waterford Township Optimist Club park on Crescent Lake road, by club members.

All boys and men in the area who are interested in baseball have also been urged to participate in developing two proposed diamonds following the cleaning up session.

A baseball game has been scheduled at the conclusion of the work-bee, with two little league teams "batting" it out for the first time in the new park, according to president-elect Frederick Pankey.

More than 2,500 letters have been sent to organizations and individuals by the Optimists, appealing for donations to buy backstops and bleachers for the baseball area. Little league games will be scheduled at the park all summer under the supervision of the Waterford Township Recreation Department.

Workers have been asked to take shovels, rakes and other small tools to the Saturday project, Pankey said.

Sets Up Loan Fund for City Schools

The Downtown Kiwanis Club has established a $2,000 loan fund for the city's two senior high schools.

Pontiac Northern and Central schools will have $1,000 available for loans to students and teachers.

Under the bylaws of the respective foundations, funds may be loaned or advanced directly to worthy students and school personnel other than students, according to James Jenkins, president of the club.

An annual service charge of 1 per cent will be applied to those who use the funds.

The Board of Education praised the club for its "thoughtful and generous act."

Orion Twp. Tot Hurt Severely by Bulldozer

A one-year-old Orion Township girl, injured when a bulldozer driven by her father backed over her, is in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital today.

The child, Susan Chaffee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Chaffee, 274 Walden Rd., suffered a possible skull fracture and extensive head lacerations.

The accident occurred at 2:30 p.m. yesterday.

Chaffee told Oakland County sheriff's deputies he had checked behind him before starting the bulldozer but did not see his daughter.

Hospital spokesmen said the child's condition had improved overnight.

Capital May Merge With Another Line

NEW YORK (U) — The New York Herald Tribune today said merger talks are being conducted between Capital Airlines, Trans-Caribbean Airways and an unnamed major carrier.

The newspaper attributed its information to G. Roy Chalk, financier who is head of Trans-Caribbean.

Chalk could not be reached for comment.

According to the paper the merger would create an airline described by Chalk as "comparable to the strongest now flying in the United States."

Chalk described the third airline, only as a "strong, major carrier."

Capital is faced with serious financial trouble. It ranks fifth among the nation's domestic trunk carriers.

Trans-Caribbean flies from New York to San Juan, P.R., and to Aruba, a tiny island off Venezuela under Dutch control.

Test on Bond Issue Delayed to June 21

Attorneys for the state and the Pontiac School District have agreed to delay until June 21 further action on a Supreme Court suit to force state approval of a $500,000 bond issue.

This marks the third postponement of the test case to decide jurisdiction of school districts over income.

The Municipal Finance Commission had rejected Pontiac's request for approval of the bond issue on grounds that it exceeded the 15-mill limitation.

Pontiac contends that previous Supreme Court decisions have defined school districts' municipalities by virtue of interpreting the state school code as the charter of each school district.

Municipalities are not bound by the 15-mill limitation in levying taxes.

Typhoid fever, once a major health problem in our state, has failed to produce a single case since 1934 from public water supplies, according to the Michigan Department of Health.

Jones Sees Advertising Turning on Its Critics

DETROIT—A muscular attitude in organized advertising's attitude toward its "split-ball critics" was predicted today by Ernest A. Jones, president of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc. advertising agency.

Speaking before the Adcraft Club of Detroit, Jones, an officer of the American Assn. of Advertising Agencies declared:

"Organized advertising is about to stop being a pussy or whipping boy for every meandering ne-dash looking for a nice soft target."

"Organized advertising is tired of having flies brushed off its forehead by critics looking for publicity, bucks or votes."

"Organized advertising is through taking the rap for every national misdeed from the Chicago fire to rock and roll."

"Organized advertising is no longer stand still for the boob-theaters, the wilds of one, the Typhoid Marys, the Nervous Nellies and the Gritting Cassandras within and without its ranks."

Jones lashed out at some advertising people who, he said, "assist the sharpshooters... Popgun Peter who don't know of care which side their bread is buttered on... Machiavellis who couldn't scheme their way into the public library... and the group whose big daily critics may be the selection of a proper necktie or a chic place to have lunch."

Looking at the demands which will be made upon advertising by the late 1950's, Jones said that times "never were more apropos for a renaissance in advertising's self-respect and a growing militancy toward its detractors."

Characterizing 1960 as "the year Moscow exposed the far side of the moon and we exposed Charlie Van Doren," Jones said in which an atomic submarine circumnavigated the globe without surfacing and an electric razor was first used to shave peaches," Jones predicted that the late sixties will see nearly 20 billion dollars being spent each year for advertising... nearly double the amount spent today.

Rising costs will not allow the actual amount of today's advertising to be doubled, Jones estimated, but "at least 30 per cent more advertising will be directed at just 17 per cent more people."

"Only good advertising is getting through the static today," Jones said. "Only excellent advertising will be able to cut through the communication chaos a few years from now."

2 Will Vie for Other Posts

Three Oakland County residents seeking election have changed their plans, with one dropping out and the other two aiming at different posts.

They are Leo P. Meagher, Stanley M. Brown and Mrs. Elizabeth S. Adams.

Meagher, 1958 Democratic nominee for Oakland County's State Senate seat, set his sights higher for the county's 19th Congressional post held by U.S. Rep. William S. Broomfield.

"I was urged by many of the people who supported me for the Senate two years to make this change," Meagher, 42, of 5007 Utey Rd., Woodcreek Farms, said.

Stanley M. Brown, Birmingham manufacturer's representative, changed his mind, too, when he switched from the race for the Republican state senator nomination to run for the state representative from the Third District.

Brown's decision came after another politician - incumbent Rep.

Farrell E. Roberts, West Bloomfield Township attorney - changed his mind about not seeking re-election.

Roberts, who said he wouldn't try again to fill the Third District representative post, tossed his hat into the race for the State Senate after incumbent Sen. L. Harvey Lodge decided to try for the new second probable judgeship.

"We can't have too many horns in the firm," said Mrs. Adams, of 2711 W. Walton Blvd.

In announcing his move to the race for Congress, Meagher, a pharmacist and real estate broker, said his decision also rested on being "not too optimistic" of an equitable reapportionment of the State Senate.

A lawsuit in this direction now rests with the State Supreme Court.

With Meagher's plunge after Broomfield's seat, local Democrats say they are piling up one of the biggest lists of primary candidates for this and other county positions.

Strikes began July 11 days ago during negotiations on a new contract between Iron Workers Local 25 in Detroit and the Steel and Metal Erectors Assn. a group of major structural steel firms in the metropolitan area.

Wage increases are the principal issue.

George E. McKenough, main negotiator for the association, said his group offered to discuss a 2 1/2-cent-an-hour compromise wage increase, but the union refused and presented four new demands.

Iron workers, whose base pay rate is $3.90 an hour, plus 2 1/2 cents in fringe benefits, have demanded a 38-cent increase. The association originally offered 25 cents.

Strikes by Local 35 and two other unions - the Reinforced Steel Workers 426 and Plaster-Tenets Local 131 - have slowed work on millions of dollars worth of construction projects.

Northern High Paper, One of Staff Honored

The Pontiac Northern High School "Polaris" and one of its editorial staffers have received honorable mention for their contributions to Michigan Week.

They were among 14 high school newspapers and 21 young journalists to win recognition in the sixth annual Michigan Week Journalism Enterprise Contest sponsored by Michigan State University's school of journalism.

The individual honor went to Richard Pointon for his "Polaris" article, "Steam Engine Scraped."

"We are glad in a way he didn't get the boat. This way, the Russians won't be able to say next month that they invented the thing."

Detroit Man Injured in Local 2-Car Crash

A Detroit man was hospitalized early today following a two-car accident at the intersection of South boulevard and S. Saginaw street.

Albert Elam, 50, was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for treatment of a hand injury. He is in satisfactory condition.

He was a passenger in a car driven by Ervin Whitley, 39, of Detroit. Whitley was driving south on Saginaw street when his car collided with one driven by William L. Brown, 38, of 339 S. South Blvd.

Dr. Dooley, now on a nationwide lecture tour, will return to Laos next month to continue his work as chief of missions of the Medical-International Cooperation Organization (Medico).

The accident happened in Curry's yard.

Pathology Head Dies

DETROIT (UPI) — Dr. Osborne A. Brines, 57, head of the pathology department at Wayne State University college of medicine, was found dead in his automobile Wednesday, an apparent heart attack victim.

They are Leo P. Meagher, Stanley M. Brown and Mrs. Elizabeth S. Adams.

Meagher, 1958 Democratic nominee for Oakland County's State Senate seat, set his sights higher for the county's 19th Congressional post held by U.S. Rep. William S. Broomfield.

"I was urged by many of the people who supported me for the Senate two years to make this change," Meagher, 42, of 5007 Utey Rd., Woodcreek Farms, said.

Stanley M. Brown, Birmingham manufacturer's representative, changed his mind, too, when he switched from the race for the Republican state senator nomination to run for the state representative from the Third District.

Brown's decision came after another politician - incumbent Rep.

Farrell E. Roberts, West Bloomfield Township attorney - changed his mind about not seeking re-election.

Roberts, who said he wouldn't try again to fill the Third District representative post, tossed his hat into the race for the State Senate after incumbent Sen. L. Harvey Lodge decided to try for the new second probable judgeship.

"We can't have too many horns in the firm," said Mrs. Adams, of 2711 W. Walton Blvd.

In announcing his move to the race for Congress, Meagher, a pharmacist and real estate broker, said his decision also rested on being "not too optimistic" of an equitable reapportionment of the State Senate.

A lawsuit in this direction now rests with the State Supreme Court.

With Meagher's plunge after Broomfield's seat, local Democrats say they are piling up one of the biggest lists of primary candidates for this and other county positions.

Strikes began July 11 days ago during negotiations on a new contract between Iron Workers Local 25 in Detroit and the Steel and Metal Erectors Assn. a group of major structural steel firms in the metropolitan area.

Wage increases are the principal issue.

George E. McKenough, main negotiator for the association, said his group offered to discuss a 2 1/2-cent-an-hour compromise wage increase, but the union refused and presented four new demands.

Iron workers, whose base pay rate is $3.90 an hour, plus 2 1/2 cents in fringe benefits, have demanded a 38-cent increase. The association originally offered 25 cents.

Strikes by Local 35 and two other unions - the Reinforced Steel Workers 426 and Plaster-Tenets Local 131 - have slowed work on millions of dollars worth of construction projects.

The Pontiac Northern High School "Polaris" and one of its editorial staffers have received honorable mention for their contributions to Michigan Week.

The individual honor went to Richard Pointon for his "Polaris" article, "Steam Engine Scraped."

Detroit Man Injured in Local 2-Car Crash

A Detroit man was hospitalized early today following a two-car accident at the intersection of South boulevard and S. Saginaw street.

Albert Elam, 50, was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for treatment of a hand injury. He is in satisfactory condition.

He was a passenger in a car driven by Ervin Whitley, 39, of Detroit. Whitley was driving south on Saginaw street when his car collided with one driven by William L. Brown, 38, of 339 S. South Blvd.

Dr. Dooley, now on a nationwide lecture tour, will return to Laos next month to continue his work as chief of missions of the Medical-International Cooperation Organization (Medico).

The accident happened in Curry's yard.

Portuguese Dictator Entertains Ike Today

Salazar's High-Handed as He Is Durable

ANTONIO SALAZAR

By The Associated Press
A decade ago Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar decided that Portugal, with Western Europe's lowest living standard and literacy rate, needed to brighten its face. He promptly decreed that all citizens paint their houses every two years.

That decree is typical of the man who today plays host to President Eisenhower.

Salazar, whose 32 years in office give him the longevity record among the world's active rulers, runs his country like the stern and precise schoolmaster he once was.

"I believe democracy is a fiction. I do not believe in universal suffrage. I do not believe in equality (among men) but in hierarchy."

That is his announced credo.

HE'S DIFFERENT

In a century that has produced petty strongmen and great tyrants, Salazar is a dictator with a difference. Efficiency is his watchword.

His cold, hawk-nosed face has filled out with the passage of time. But he still keeps to himself and refuses to accept the popular adulation so common to totalitarian rulers.

He likes solitary walks and rises early for Mass. He was trained for the priesthood. He lives in a small, austere apartment behind a walled garden in Lisbon. He has never married. Salazar dresses in blue serge with white shirt, dark tie and high shoes.

This picture of order, neatness and restraint is his design for Portugal as well as his personal life.

He was born April 28, 1889, in a vinegrowing village, the son of a tenant farmer. He was a full professor of economics by the age of 28 and still is listed as on leave of absence from the University of Coimbra.

SEEN AS CABINET'S FALL

After the monarchy fell in 1910 he saw 40 new cabinets come and go and 16 revolutions erupt as politicians and ideologists struggled for power. The army seized the government in 1926.

Salazar became the real strongman when he took over as finance minister in 1928, and his rule actually dates from that year.

He has held the finance portfolio ever since and has balanced Portugal's budget for 32 years. Salazar became premier in 1932. The next year he promulgated his "new state" constitution. Industries were organized into government-controlled cartels; workers in government-run unions.

Along with this came censorship, the secret police and a single political party called the National Union. Portugal was neutral during World War II but leased an airbase in the Azores to the United States. During the cold war, Portugal has been a sternly anti-Communist member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

In 1958 Salazar allowed relatively free campaigning for elections to the figurehead post of president. Rear Adm. Americo Tomaz, Salazar's candidate, was elected but Gen. Humberto Delgado received 23 per cent of the votes. Salazar took that as an affront and Delgado fled to Brazil. Then the Roman Catholic Church spoke out. The Most Rev. Antonio Ferreira Gomes, Bishop of Oporto, asked Salazar for a discussion of church-state matters. He said: "The Portuguese corporate state (is) in reality the means of despoiling the Portuguese worker. He showed the letter to 15 fellow bishops. Salazar promptly banished him to the Vatican.

Salazar has decreed this as the national code: "God, country, authority, family, work." Woman's Addresser (of West Germany) place is the home; the worker has is 84."

Can Red Juice of Grapefruit

U.S. Research Group Develops Method for Natural Extraction

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Red grapefruit juice in its natural color or soon may be on the way to the canned goods section in grocery stores.

The Agricultural Research Service (ARS) has developed a method for producing naturally colored, single-strength canned juice from red grapefruit. In the process, some of the color-bearing pulp normally removed is finely ground and added back to the juice.

Before the product becomes available to the general public, a processing firm must pick up the patent from ARS and begin producing it commercially.

The Agriculture Department said the pulp-fortified juice does not develop the objectionable muddiness or browning characteristics of juice made from colored grapefruit by conventional methods. The product also has a higher pro-vitamin A content, ARS said. This is carotene, a substance the human body can convert into vitamin A.

Present U.S. grade standards set the limit of solids in grapefruit juice at 10 per cent. The new process is applicable only within these limitations if the product is to meet the standards.

The department said development of the new processing procedure is timely, as it permits more effective use of the rapidly increasing production of colored grapefruit.

An estimated 75 per cent of grapefruit plantings in the lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas, for example, is of the pink and red varieties. Florida grapefruit production is mainly of the uncolored varieties.

The department said the new process should make possible an increase in juice production by as much as five or six gallons per ton of fruit.

'Light' Travel With Wife Gets Pretty Tiresome

By EARL WILSON

CANNES—Every time my wife and I get ready to take off for somewhere, I say to her as patiently as possible, "This time, let's travel light."

"You sure," she promises airily. To the wife, traveling light seems to mean she positively won't carry any anvils in her suitcase. Anything else, however, she will and does.

So I arrive at each airport looking like a packmule. My pockets bulge with cargo I'm carrying on my person trying to beat the airline out of some excess weight charge.

When I huffed and puffed up the steps of the hotel here for the Cannes Film Festival, I was glad that I didn't run into Van Johnson, Anita Ekberg, Tina Turner have run from me, a bent-over gypsy whose pockets and hand luggage weighed more than I did.

First there's always my typewriter and portfolio, or, as I call it, my "grief-case."

Around my neck's my camera, the strap sawing the devil out of my collarbone. My topcoat's full of magazines, small foreign dictionaries, a pocket Bible, saccharine and cold tablets, a pocket shaving kit, film, notebooks, a washcloth I'm carrying for the wife, and some extra cigarettes.

"You know you look like a balloon," she says, forgetting I'm sacrificing myself so she can carry two suitcases to my one. But that's not all.

I've found you can also carry your raincoat and probably sneak candy bars, sandwiches, miniature bottles, shoes, trees, bedroom slippers, collapsible umbrellas, in fact about everything but another passenger, in those pockets.

And the books and the newspapers—how slippery they get!

It's always when I'm completely loaded down, the typewriter's heavy, the raincoat's slipping off my arm dragging under my feet, threatening to spill out everything, my books and portfolio are sliding out from under my other arm, that I cheerfully follow steps up and sing out:

"Your boarding card, please!"

There's one consolation. Almost always some chap from the airlines leaps forward to help me seeing I am about to drop. He takes most of my cargo.

I breeze along happily. My wife is carrying probably only her big black purse, but I know that she's got secret female junk that weighs almost as much as that anvil she promised not to bring.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y.
Arthur Godfrey signed with Steve Allen's record company... Charlton Heston'll be a "guest preacher" at the N.Y. Universalist Church... Louis Prima and Keely Smith are heading for a Hawaiian vacation... The Tony Martins celebrated their 12th anniversary... Salome Jens makes her movie debut in "Angel Baby."

EARL'S PEARLS: Snow and adolescence are the only problems that disappear if you ignore them long enough... That's earl, brother.

Planes Collide
6,000 Feet UpAlgerian Jet Lands at Paris Field; Two Die,
25 Injured

PARIS, (AP)—A twin-jet Caravelle carrying 37 persons, and a light training plane collided 6,000 feet up today. The airliner landed safely with a great hole ripped in the roof. The light plane's engine was still stuck in the jet's fuselage.

One of the passengers was killed by flying debris. The pilot of the light plane also perished. The airline said 25 persons were injured.

There were 37 crew members and passengers aboard the jet as it was coming in for a landing.

Khrushchev apparently was unaware of the accident.

The collision took place about five miles from Orly Field as the Algerian Caravelle was easing down into the tight pattern for a landing after a trip from North Africa.

The airline said only six of the passengers were seriously hurt. They said that one passenger was known to be an American. He was listed as Tiel Eisenberg, 56, of Forest Hills, N. Y. He was among the injured.

Kaline and Howe Called Owners of Race Horses

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit News said today that Detroit Tiger outfielder Al Kaline and Gordie Howe, star of the Detroit Red Wings hockey team, own and are racing a string of race horses.

The horse story, written by E. C. (Doc) Greene, said that the Kaline-Howe horses have run at the Toledo, Ohio, race track and will be at the Detroit Race Course beginning tomorrow.

William De Witt, Tiger president, expressed surprise at the report and said he planned to talk with Kaline about it. He said, "I don't believe baseball and racing mix."

There was no immediate comment from Kaline, Howe or the Red Wings.

Warsaw Ghetto Show
Gets Big 'A' for Effort

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI)—"In the Presence of Mine Enemies," the Rod Serling play about life and death in — and out — of the Warsaw Ghetto, promised more than it delivered last night on CBS-TV's "Playhouse 90."

Serling chose to pluck from this World War II "sea on insanity" his phrase — a set of characters whose words and actions could be coated with a romanticism that the perspective of history has given them.

Serling's dialogue, as usual, was elegant, sharp and rolled forth with great smoothness. Yet, the overall effect, dramatically studied calm, which served to appearing, was to create a haunting, uneasy atmosphere where raw, desperate human feelings were called for.

Of course, the play was unusual for prime time television and I give everyone a big "A" for effort. It was worth doing if only for the brief scene in which OK Homolka, a Christian, decided to sacrifice his life in order to protect another slaughter of Ghetto Jews by the Nazis.

Homolka had steadfastly refused to accept responsibility for anti-Semitism and the murders of others. But, in his final scene, he recognized that mankind's great sin is in standing by, saying and doing nothing, while evil is committed.

The principal character in the play, Rabbi Eliezer Wiesel, played by Charles Laughton, too, reality is one seed in a wasteland — again, Serling's phrase — or a moment of logic in a world gone mad.

There was a noble attempt on the part of Serling and director Fielder Cook to play out the story with low-key scenes and shut out ferocity — a fresh approach — but perhaps succeeded too well.

The actors — Laughton, Homolka, Sam Jaffe, Susan Kohner, and MacReady — seldom touched reality because of Serling's overriding idea. Robert Redford appeared as a German army sergeant.

Negro Wife Killed in Home Dynamiting

RINGGOLD, Ga. (AP)—An explosion, which officials said, apparently was caused by dynamite, blew up a Negro mechanic's home today, killing his wife and injuring him and a baby son. Three other children asleep in the house escaped unharmed.

Sheriff J. B. Stewart said about 25 to 30 sticks of dynamite apparently had been planted under the frame house. He said he has asked the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Georgia Bureau of Investigation for help.

Wagon and Oakland Counties accounted for 311,928, nearly all of the five-county increase. Macomb had a 119 per cent increase — from 184,941 in 1950 to 405,257 in 1960. Oakland had a 73.6 per cent boost, from 396,001 to 687,611.

Airline Must Face Charge of Pressure

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Court of Appeals today ordered a Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) hearing to determine whether American Airlines tried using improper pressure to obtain a non-stop route between New York and San Francisco.

Charges against American were advanced by United and Trans World Airlines, which already were authorized to fly this nonstop route while American was required to make at least one intermediate stop.

The CAB denied American's petition in 1955 to make the flight nonstop but later, after a study of air service patterns, granted it.

71 Per Cent Rise in 5-County Total

More Than Half State Residents Make Home in Detroit Area

DETROIT (UPI)—The five-county area surrounding Detroit and Wayne County experienced a population explosion of 71 per cent in the last 10 years, the Census Bureau reported yesterday.

The population increased 584,356 residents to a total of 1,492,339 compared to 817,983 in 1950 in Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw, Monroe and Livingston counties, the bureau said.

Wayne County figures have not been completed yet, the bureau said, but Wayne was expected to show a big increase from its 1950 figure of 2,435,335.

The six-county metropolitan area was expected to show a population of more than four million more than half the state's expected total of eight million.

If the expected figure is reached, the six-county area probably would get at least one of the two additional congressmen Michigan is expected to receive on a basis of the 1960 census. Large increases in state and federal aid to most of the counties and cities also would result.
