On Demand for U.S. Pullout

S. Viet Sees Reds Yielding

From Our News Wires

SAIGON — A South Vietnamese official said today his nation's peace talks delegation was convinced the Communists will back down from their demand for the total withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam.

This, he said, would provide a breakthrough in the negotiations which began in January and bogged down with the Communists promising progress only after American soldiers left the war zone.

Meanwhile, Mme. Nguyen Thi Binh, the deputy Vietcong negotiator in Paris, returned today from a mysterious trip deep into the jungles of South Vietnam where she conferred with leaders of the National Liberation Front. The allies here said they thought her trip could lead to a more flexible negotiating position by the NLF.

Communist sources in Paris said almost three weeks ago that they would accept a withdrawal of perhaps 50,000 GIs as fulfilling their demand for the U.S. to start pulling out its forces from Vietnam.

However, President Nixon, despite increasing congressional pressure for some immediate U.S. withdrawals, evidently has begun a campaign to convince the public such a move is inadvisable at this time.

In talks with reporters over the weekend, White House officials said the President has a carefully worked out strategy that he feels still shows sign of getting somewhere and would be disrupted by starting troop withdrawals now.

Last week, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the No. 2 Republican in the Senate, and Sen. George Aiken of Vermont, top Republican on the foreign relations committee, called for the return home of a substantial block of U.S. troops as a means of inducing North Vietnam to begin serious bargaining in Paris.

For the first time, Hanoi yesterday hinted that the United States was "de-escalating" the war, something the North Vietnamese would look on favorably in the context of the vietnam peace negotiations.

U.S. officials are analyzing a speech by Premier Pham Van Dong to see whether it advances Vietnamese peace negotiations in any way. For the moment they are skeptical.

They said the reference to de-escalating military operations, if accurately reported, probably referred to President Johnson's action last Oct. 31 in halting the bombing of North Vietnam.

White House sources conceded over the weekend that North Vietnam still seems not to have made the basic decision to accept for some years an independent South Vietnam. Without such a decision, officials here believe, a negotiated settlement of the war is impossible.

Nixon's major hopes for the future, therefore, evidently rest more on his confidence in the buildup of South Vietnamese military and political stability and on what he judges to be the declining striking power of the North Vietnamese-Vietcong forces in South Vietnam.

Madison Police, Youths Clash

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Hundreds of University of Wisconsin students erected flaming street barricades early today in sympathy with hippies whose attempts to hold a block dance were smashed by police using clubs and irritant gas.

The students poured out of dormitories and fraternity houses, following two nights of battle between the hippies and the police, and surged into the business area, where for several hours they defied efforts to disperse them.

More than 1,000 young persons were involved before scattered disorders subsided. The throngs also included hippies and scores of their fellow student residents of the off-campus Mifflin Street neighborhood.

The weekend of disorder resulted in about 80 arrests. Two of those detained were city aldermen Paul Soglin and Eugene Parks. Soglin, 24, accused the police of shearing off his long hair before he was freed on bond.

TRIED TO INTERVENE

Soglin, a university student known as "the hippie alderman," said he was arrested when he tried to intervene.

The trouble began Saturday when police began breaking up barricades which residents of the Mifflin Street neighborhood had used to mark the site of a planned street dance. The police said the dance would block traffic.

Police waded in in a cloud of gas with nightsticks flailing, and began making arrests. When police moved back yesterday and the gas blew away, hippies quickly rebuilt their barricades.

Peace was shattered yesterday when officers tossed more gas and waded into an afternoon gathering of about 300 young residents of the Mifflin Street neighborhood. Arrests resumed, most for unlawful assembly.

Last night, the Mifflin Street residents began picketing the Dane County jail to protest police actions.

The throng swelled to more than 1,000 when other students joined forces with the Mifflin Street residents.

As more clouds of the gas rolled down streets hundreds of students marched down State Street to the city's business district.

Police followed, and the gas flowed into shops and hotels.

New Parochiaid Plan Unveiled

LANSING (AP)—Backers of parochiaid today unveiled a revised legislative program which would establish the principle of public aid to nonpublic schools by appropriating a token $100,000 this year and $44 million for the 1970-71 school year.

Details of the new formula were outlined at a news conference by House Speaker William Ryan, D-Detroit, and Rep. J. Robert Traxler, D-Bay City.

Traxler said the proposal would be included in a proposed amendment to the Earlier Story, Page B-9

Senate-approved school aid bill, now being considered by the House Appropriations Committee.

In explaining his plan, Traxler said a preparatory administrative grant of $100,000 would be appropriated to the State Board of Education to establish such programs as they deemed necessary to get the whole project implemented by the fall of 1970.

Under the formula, he explained, the estimated apropriation for the 1970-71 school year would be $44 million, which equals 3 per cent of the combined annual federal, state and local tax support for public, elementary and secondary schools.

The 1970-71 nonpublic school aid program would be based on a per pupil allocation of at least $600 less than the average annual cost of educating each public school child, he said.

Court to Rule on Residency Curbs on Voters

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court agreed today to examine the contention that millions of Americans are unfairly deprived of a vote in presidential elections by varying state residency requirements.

The court will hear arguments and hand down a written decision next term. The suit at issue challenges Colorado's residency requirement of six months in order to vote for president.

The Supreme Court on April 21 struck down state one-year residency requirements for welfare and at the time Chief Justice Earl Warren, in a dissent, suggested that the decision might have ramifications involving residence requirements for voting.

The voting suit was brought by a lawyer and his wife, Richard and Christine Hall. Shortly after they moved from California to Colorado Springs in mid-1968, they found they would be ineligible to vote in either state in last November's presidential election.

LITTLE RELEVANCE

They contended Colorado's six-month requirement was unreasonably long and had little relevance to the state's avowed aim of insuring that voters are members of the community to be governed by the person elected.

Acording to a December Gallup poll, the suit said, 5 million Americans were denied a vote in the presidential election because of state residency requirements —many more than enough to have changed the outcome.

Most states have one-year requirements for presidential elections and only a handful require less than six months residency. Mississippi requires two years and New York at the other end of the scale, requires less than three months.

The Supreme Court last touched on the issue in a 1965 Maryland case almost identical to the Halls' suit except that the residency requirement in that case was one year.

It affirmed a lower court ruling then that in the absence of requirements "so unreasonable as to amount to an irrational discrimination," the courts are not at liberty to substitute their opinions for those of state legislatures.

City Police Chief Declares War on Obscene Matter

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Pornography is a growing business. How is it affecting Pontiac and the nation? Can it be banned by law? What are the views of those for and against it? These topics are examined in a four-part series, starting today.)

BY DICK ROBINSON

ROBINSON

Even though Kathy wears no makeup and looks a lot younger than 18, the cashier takes her word for it, then takes her $3.50.

That was easy, Kathy thinks to herself as she walks out the door with the illegally purchased magazine.

Sale of obscene material to youngsters under 18 is illegal. But it is being done almost everywhere.

It shows men and women tumbling about in postures which would challenge a contortionist and wearing nothing but leers.

Pontiac police cracked down on such sales last week with the aim of removing "smut" — magazines, paperback books, photographs and movies — from all city stores.

3 CASHIERS ARRESTED

Cashiers at three Pontiac stores were arrested on charges of selling obscene magazines to a minor. They face a preliminary court examination tomorrow.

Heading the three-month old investigation is 43-year-old Chief William K. Hanger, the father of three children. He argues:

"I want this stuff taken off the stands completely. It is unwholesome for juveniles, and I don't feel it is healthy even for adults.

★ ★ ★

"Often this type of literature promotes crime. It's possible that someone who is a borderline case can see this filthy stuff, get excited and engage in window peeping, indecent exposure, rape or an immoral act with someone," he claims.

'POLICE RESPONSIBILITY'

Hanger said he feels it is "the responsibility of the police to protect the welfare and morals of the people in the community."

The chief personally initiated the antismut drive because he wants to stop the sales of these publications before they get worse.

"This dirty material has reached a serious level now," he insists. "I worry

Showers Possible Tonight, Tuesday

During the night, a cloud cover moved into the Oakland County area to filter this morning's sunshine and bring with it the threat of showers and thunderstorms by tonight and tomorrow.

Today's temperatures are due to range in the mid 60s with tonight's low falling between 50 and 55.

Winds, east to southeast at 8 to 15 m.p.h., will stabilize out of the southeast at 10-15 m.p.h. by tonight and swing to the south at 10 to 18 m.p.h. by tomorrow.

Wednesday's outlook will be partly cloudy and cooler.

Zap---That's Where It's At?

Yes, Zap's where it's at this spring vacation for at least 3,500 college students from 10 schools next weekend.

This prairie hamlet of 339 persons—an unlikely candidate for the title of "Fort Lauderdale of the North"—is awaiting the arrival of the students with a program of hayrides, horseback rides and a beer-drinking contest.

The "Zip to Zap" movement began with an article in the "Spectrum," the North Dakota State College student newspaper. The paper urged students to zip on up to the village, 75 miles northwest of Bismarck, for a mother's day "zapout."

★ ★ ★

Gov. William Guy conferred with the National Guard and State Police about coping with the situation.

$15,000 in Stolen Goods Found

Loot in Area Thefts Is Traced

Police made considerable headway Saturday in solving the wave of house break-ins that has plagued Bloomfield Hills since Jan. 1.

A raid on a house in Redford Township by state police detectives and officers from four suburban police departments produced nearly $15,000 in stolen goods ranging from snow blowers and shovels to mink stoles and jewelry.

Police charged the occupant of the house, Emmett Boll, with possession of stolen goods and possession of unregistered firearms. He was arraigned in 48th District Court yesterday and will face preliminary examination May 13.

The major break in the case came Friday when police arrested a Birmingham man and his wife and charged them with passing a bad check with identification reportedly stolen in a Troy burglary.

The couple was identified as Mr. and Mrs. David L. Bishop, 1275 Humphrey. Bishop's role in the burglaries is under investigation.

Bond was set at $1,500 for Bishop, 21, and $500 for his wife, Pamela, 26.

Most of the merchandise found Saturday was taken from the residences of Henry Hogan, 400 Dunston Road, and Raymond Eppert, 295 Lone Pine Court, both in Bloomfield Hills.

Bloomfield Hills Police Chief Walter Sluiter said the goods yet to be identified are believed to be also from residences in Bloomfield Hills.

★ ★ ★

Chief Sluiter said the multi department investigation into the theft ring, which police believe has been responsible for thefts in Bloomfield Township, Troy, Birmingham and other suburban communities, is continuing.

Burglaries in Bloomfield Hills since Jan. 1 have reached 24 with the biggest haul coming Feb. 2 at the James Zeder residence, 1040 Orchard Ridge Road — nearly $30,000 in silverware.

Police believe there are four or five persons involved in the theft ring. Footprints found at some of the burglary sites indicated at least one woman was involved.

LOUIS E. WOLFSON

Fortas Denies Taking Fee, Aiding Jailed Industrialist

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Abe Fortas received a $20,000 fee from the family of industrialist Louis E. Wolfson three months after he was seated on the Supreme Court and did not return the money until 11 months later, according to Life magazine.

Fortas confirmed Sunday that he was offered and considered a fee but flatly denied that he accepted or that he stepped in to help Wolfson, a former client who went to jail last month on a federal securities law conviction.

The justice said he returned the fee, "tendered" in 1966, "with my thanks." His statement, issued at the court after he had read an advance copy of the Life article, did not say how large the fee was or when he returned it.

Life's account was that the Wolfson Family Foundation, a tax-free charitable organization set up by Wolfson and his brothers, paid Fortas $20,000 in January 1966, three months after he was sworn in as an associate justice.

RETURNED MONEY

The article, by William Lambert, said Fortas returned the money in December 1966, three months after the financial tycoon and his long-time business associate, Elkin Gerbert, had been indicted on charges of selling a large block of unregistered stock in a company Wolfson and Gerbert controlled.

Life said "whatever services he may or may not have rendered to the foundation, Justice Fortas' name was being dropped in strategic places by Wolfson and his business associate, Elkin Gerbert, in their effort to stay out of prison."

The Justice Department, meanwhile, said it "is aware of the contents of the article in Life magazine and currently has the matter under consideration."

Hart Hits Inequities in Federal Spending

By JEAN SAILE

An imbalance of spending at the national level was blasted by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., as he addressed a crowd of 700 persons Saturday night at Oakland University.

HART

Hart cited budgetary overruns on development of the C58 Galaxy cargo plane and the Cheyenne helicopter amounting to $3.1 billion.

"That's one-third more than Congress is debating for commitment to the war on poverty," Hart noted at the 12th annual Phil Hart dinner.

★ ★ ★

"Who is screaming?" he asked. "Not many. Is it any wonder that our kids are motivated to scream?"

'APPETITE FOR WAR'

The senior senator from Michigan blamed "an insatiable appetite for war" for the fact that 75 cents of every tax dollar is spent on war "past, present and future."

Hart's speech was nevertheless an appeal to young people to remain within the established system of government.

"It is possible to change the system," he said, and he cited changes wrought by the Voting Rights Act of 1965. Hart appealed for support to extend the act.

The senator, one of the chief congressional opponents of the proposed antiballistic missile (ABM) system, affirmed to newsmen before the dinner that the Pentagon has an alternative plan "half as expensive" should Congress defeat the ABM development.

'DUAL SYSTEMS'

He said it was his understanding that Defense Department officials could propose that existing and future intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBM) could be equipped with dual guidance systems so they could function as ABMs if needed.

Hart said he was sure that had the military and Congress known in advance of the furor that deployment of ABMs would create, they would have proceeded with expansion of existing systems.

★ ★ ★

It's still possible, but not likely, the senator said.

The vote on ABMs is expected in the Senate next month.

'MOST SUCCESSFUL'

The dinner Saturday night was termed the "most successful of them all" by dinner chairman Elbert Hatchett, 66 Murray, Pontiac.

Dignitaries present included former gubernatorial candidates Neil Staebler and Zolton Ferency. James Hare, Michigan secretary of state, and Robert Nederlander, University of Michigan regent, also were present.

Hussein, Nasser Confer on Israel

By United Press International

Jordan's King Hussein today met with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser to discuss the coordination of efforts against the Israelis. The Egyptian defense budget for the coming year was reported to be the highest ever.

Israeli military spokesmen said their aircraft hit an Arab guerrilla base yesterday between Elath and the Dead Sea near the Jordanian-Israeli border and reported that all planes involved in the raid returned safely.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Hussein also was expected to brief Nasser on his recent European and American tour which included talks with Nixon.

Weekend Accidents Claim Two in Area

Killed in a head-on collision on Airport Road in Waterford Township early yesterday was Joan M. Harrison, 21, of 6243 Adamson.

She was the driver of a car which collided with a car driven by Thomas G. Kilian, 26, of 2661 Littletell, West Bloomfield Township, about 1:15 a.m.

Township police, who arrested Kilian on a drunk and disorderly charge, said they are seeking a warrant today charging him with manslaughter.

PASSENGERS HOSPITALIZED

Reported in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital are John Guzanics, 24, of 143 Ascot and Carol Hodges, 16, of 2485 Jones, Waterford Township. They and two others, both of whom were treated and released, were passengers with Miss Harrison.

Kilian and the driver of a third car which struck the wreckage reportedly escaped serious injury.

Killed about 2:15 a.m. Saturday was Timothy Brocher of 6828 Spruce.

2 IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Bloomfield Township police said Brocher was driving a car which crossed the center line while traveling south on Telegraph and collided with a car driven by Richard M. Proulx, 39, of 105 S. Corbin, Holly.

Proulx and his wife, Dixie, 37, are reported in serious condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Two passengers in the Proulx vehicle were reportedly treated for minor injuries and released.

Senate Vote Confirms Rights Unit Choice

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate confirmed by voice vote today the nomination of William H. Brown III as a member of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), with Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen joining in support of the Philadelphia lawyer.

Dirksen had blocked a previous confirmation vote on Brown, who has been serving on an interim basis as a commission member.

Still pending was another appointment by President Nixon being opposed by a leading GOP senator. Dr. James V. Allen's selection as new U. S. education commissioner has been opposed by Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., because of Allen's position on busing students.

Hanger Declares War on Pornography

what next year will bring if action isn't taken.

'STEP AWAY

Men and women are a "step away" from intercourse or unorthodox sex acts, and homosexuals and lesbians are committing multiple perversions upon each other in the publications, he claims.

★ ★ ★

Graphic descriptions of sex acts are found in magazines with such titles as "Swap," "Sin Game," "Suburban Swingers," "Busty" and "Nymph." There are hundreds of different magazines.

★ ★ ★

One magazine described itself as "an educational, scientific, sociological and cultural publication." It "illustrates":

● "That the human body is clean and wholesome."

● "That increasing public understanding of the nudist point of view will contribute to the well-being of and advancement of the public, whether practicing nudists or not, as well as to the American heritage of the free press."

MANY FROM CALIFORNIA

Fulsome paperback books are also trucked into this area by the $500-million-a-year pornography industry, said Guy White, head of the Pontiac vice squad. Most of them come from the pornography capital of the United States — California.

★ ★ ★

Los Angeles alone prints and sends out across the land more than 700,000 copies a month of sex-oriented magazines.

★ ★ ★

Attractive, inexpensive paperbacks describe the "lives" of allegedly real people — high school students and their teachers, young executives and their secretaries, doctors and nurses, for example.

Their days and nights are spent, without pause, in sexual activity.

It is an endless parade of heterosexual and homosexual liaisons and indescribable sadism, sodomy, bestiality, lesbianism and masochism told in meticulous detail.

Parents and school officials in Pontiac and across the nation have been finding immoral literature turning up with increasing frequency in the hands of millions of schoolchildren, Hanger said.

"Juveniles are the pornographers' natural prey," a police school counselor remarked. "They're curious, they're naive, they want to pose as adults and they have plenty of money."

Cost of a "skin" magazine is anywhere from $2.50 to $5, White observed.

WHAT TO DO?

But no one seems quite sure what, if anything, to do about the problem — at home, at school or in the community.

Pontiac's police department, though, is considering action beyond normal enforcement of the law, Hanger revealed.

Police officials may be sent into the community to familiarize citizens with obscenity problems and laws. The police would use visual aids.

The lewd material problem in this area was recognized as early as 1960. Former Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor ordered a crackdown on unexpurgated literature.

MERCHANTS PRESSURED

Four years later the problem erupted again. Parents and police pressured Pontiac and Waterford Township merchants to remove materials from their stands.

The businessmen cooperated, but the objectionable material soon reappeared.

"Look what we have today," Hanger pointed out. "We have what I'd call real hard-core obscenity on the racks for anyone to see.

"It must — and can — be stopped."

Cost-Effectiveness Doubted

Toll Taken by B52s Withheld

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command is withholding reports of damage the B52 bombers are inflicting in their campaign along the Cambodian border, the heaviest of the Vietnam war.

About 300 of the big bombers have rained $18 million worth of bombs along the frontier in the past two weeks, but there has been no official announcement of any results.

"We have no bomb damage assessment to report," the U.S. briefing officer says each day.

Informants said U.S. forces are constantly assessing the B52 strikes, but information officers for the U.S. Command have been instructed not to discuss damage assessment. The official line is that disclosure of such information would compromise American methods of gathering intelligence.

Some informants are skeptical, however. They said one reason for the official silence is that the U.S. Command fears an unfavorable public reaction to the skimpy results confirmable in relation to the money spent.

'VITAL WEAPON'

"We found some enemy bodies," said one officer, "at least four or five here and there."

But Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, and the Strategic Air Command consider the B52s a vital weapon in the war. Officers say the huge bombers harass enemy troops, deny them sanctuaries, keep them on the run and prevent them from getting organized for an offensive.

"Harassment of troops is our biggest accomplishment," said one B52 officer. "We don't let them get organized."

Three North Vietnamese and Vietcong divisions are the primary targets in the current campaign. The raids have struck at base camps in War Zone C, including bunker complexes, trenches and stockpiles of munitions and other supplies.

'REFUGE DENIED'

"We're not able to show you enemy bodies killed by the B52s," said one infantry officer. "But they've denied refuge to enemy troops in areas where you'd have to go in with ground troops and suffer men killed and wounded."

Four more B52 raids in War Zone C were reported today. Twenty-five Stratofortresses dumped 750 tons of bombs on enemy bunker complexes and storage areas, the U.S. Command reported.

A ground clash also was reported in War Zone C, 65 miles northwest of Saigon.

Troops of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division ran into 150 North Vietnamese who opened fire from bunkers. American fighter-bombers put the enemy to flight after an hour's fight. The bodies of three North Vietnamese were left behind. Four Americans were killed and seven were wounded.

MORE COPTERS LOST

The U.S. Command also announced that four more helicopters were lost over the weekend, two shot down by the enemy

French Leftists Splintered on Aspirant Against Gaullist

After a convention and negotiations with other parties that lasted until 3 a.m. today, the New Socialist party picked Gaston Deferre, mayor of Marseille, as its candidate for president.

The New Socialists chose Deferre after an unsuccessful attempt to reach an agreement on a single candidate with another large Socialist group, the Convention of Republican Institutions (CIR).

WON'T RUN AGAIN

In the 1965 race against Charles de Gaulle, the Socialists and the Communists united behind CIR candidate Francois Mitterand, and he received 45 per cent of the vote. After Sunday's meetings, Mitterand said he would not be a candidate again.

The Communist party had delayed its conference until today in hopes that the other leftist parties would come up with a candidate with whom it could cooperate. But the Communists consider that Deferre tends toward the center, and they may nominate their secretary general, Waldeck Rochet.

Labor Party Rebels Blasted by Wilson

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson told the rebels in his Labor party Sunday they won't divert his government from its task of trying to put the British economy in the black.

Addressing opponents of his antistrike legislation who launched a "Wilson must go" campaign last week, the British leader said: "I know what is going on. I am going on. Your government is going on.

★ ★ ★

"I do not intend to allow this government to be diverted from its task by petty divisions on policies, procedures and personalities."

HELPING TORIES

Wilson warned rebellious factions in the party: "If this Labor movement insists on weakening itself by divisive action, the only beneficiaries will be the Tories, and I mean the possibility of a Tory government elected as a result of our divisions."

Unpopular austerity measures and proposed legislation to curb wildcat strikes are "priorities of government against an economic background, against a world background, which has been changing rapidly for the past 2 years," Wilson said.

"The Tories never faced up to that change. That is why we have inherited the continuing problem of paying our way in the world," he declared.

Researcher Bruce Pince Checks Heartbeats

Pontiac Press Photos

Socially Useful Ideas Bud in Birmingham Think Tank

By NED ADAMSON

BIRMINGHAM — Rockets, crabs and potato buds make for a divergent product mix — to say the least.

Researching and experimenting with these items is all part of a Space Defense Corp. attempt to go into the industrial and commercial markets with socially useful products originally devised as a result of aerospace and military contracts.

Space Defense, located in the Gleaner Insurance Building on Woodward, is one of many small technically oriented think-tank companies that have sprung up over the past six to eight years.

★ ★ ★

ONCE DEFENSE ORIENTED

As with many other firms, the vast majority of its business has been with the Defense Department and directly related to defense and aerospace-oriented activities.

But now the trend is starting the other way.

Plans call for a gradual phaseout of defense business over the next few years as the firm finds new ways to convert previously defense-oriented projects and products into what chief researcher Bruce Pince labels "socially useful products."

Among the current projects illustrating this market philosophy are:

● Development of a rocket system which shoots weather data-collecting instruments into the atmosphere.

● Perfection of an electronic device, originally designed as part of the navigational and communications equipment for the Apollo spacecraft project, which will help in heart-disease research by measuring the heartbeat.

● A study of tiny crabs which has revealed they sense the gravitational pull of the moon. This research is geared to finding how rhythms of the body react to gravitational pull.

● Research with potato buds to test the hypothesis that the sprouts are equipped with a form of sensitive gravimeter.

The implications of the crab and potato study could be vital in predicting how the rhythmic cycles of human beings will react to gravitational forces — incurred in both spacecraft trips to the moon and jet aircraft trips.

Pince said of the rocket project: "There is no denying that our rocket contract with the Navy can produce data that might be helpful in determining if the weather conditions are right for a bomber run.

"But that same data can also be used to help determine the weather for the upcoming Sunday picnic as well."

"All of the data we work with is innocent — we really don't know the capabilities of that data until we research it. And it is certainly our responsibility to do this research regardless of whether the end result may be defense oriented or have industrial and commercial market application," Pince said.

Says Utica Educator

'Sex Education Lags'

UTICA — A school district official has called for an accelerated sex education program at the elementary level throughout the district.

Leo Morrison, director of the elementary education curriculum, maintains the district is very deficient in the area of sex education.

★ ★ ★

"We are certainly not attempting to overemphasize sex education — but until it is definitely realized on a national level what role the school should play in sex education, our own program should at least be brought up to an adequate level," he said.

Sex education at the elementary level here is limited to a film on menstruation for fifth-and sixth-grade girls and a film on male physical development for boys.

PILOT PROGRAM

The district also operates a pilot sex ecucation program in Switzer Elementary School, as part of the general health-education program with more emphasis on sex education than elsewhere in the system.

Morrison believes that sex education should be treated as an incidental addition to a broad health education program, with possibly two units in the course being devoted to an "anamatical approach" to the human reproductive system.

He said the program, if adopted systemwide, would probably be labeled "human growth and development."

Development of any program would be done through a close cooperative effort with parents and teachers, Morrison said. A parents committee for this purpose is now being organized.

ALMOST DAILY CALLS

Morrison said the board of education office has been receiving almost daily calls for several months from residents inquiring into the district's existing programs and attitudes on sex education. Most of the calls, he added, have been of an inquiring nature rather than in support or protest.

The administrator added that before any book is selected or any course of study changed, the subject will be reviewed by the steering committee, the curriculum council and the parent-curriculum council.

Lapeer County Bingo Ban to Be Enforced

LAPEER — An all-points bingo ban is in reluctant effect throughout Lapeer County in compliance with state statutes outlawing gambling in this form.

A hesitant County Prosecutor John Spires says of the statute: "I don't agree with it, but it is the law. I'm under obligation to enforce it."

★ ★ ★

"Confidential sourecs" put state troopers on the trail of bingo games and "feather parties" in Imlay City, Almont and North Branch, according to Spires.

"The State Police called me a few weeks ago and wanted to raid a bingo game. I thought it would be only fair to warn the people involved before we simply raided," Spires said.

PRIMARY OPERATORS

Spires said that primary bingo operators in the three communities were the Knights of Columbus and the American Legion posts.

The operator of a bingo game, Spires explained, can be charged with a high misdemeanor punishable by a maximum 2 years imprisonment and/or $1,000 fine.

Bingo players arrested can also be charged with a high misdemeanor, "loitering in a place of illegal gaming."

"Generally, county prosecutors are reluctant to get involved in this sort of thing. Most of the bingo games are for charity, you see. We usually act only when there is a complaint," Spires said.

Berkley Police on Duty; 'Blue Flu' May Be Over

BERKLEY (UPI) — The three policemen regularly scheduled to work the day shift yesterday reported to their jobs after a "blue flu" epidemic kept the great majority of the 21-man force off duty during the weekend.

Fifteen of the officers in this Detroit suburb of 24,000 had called in sick from the Friday evening to the Saturday night shift.

The "blue flu" apparently was to protest a lack of progress in negotiations for a new contract. The city and the Berkley Police Officers Association (BPOA) are $140 a year apart on a new pact.

County to Pay Back Taxes on Its Airport Land in Orion

ORION TOWNSHIP — Oakland County has agreed to pay $5,055 in 1967 back taxes on the Oakland-Orion Airport and to Orion Township.

Supervisor John Lessiter last week claimed the county was in arrears for taxes on two parcels of land the county leases to Wilfred McGran, who operates the airport.

★ ★ ★

County Board of Auditors Chairman Daniel T. Murphy, informed of Lessiter's claim by The Pontiac Press, asked the county's corporation counsel to determine whether the county actually owed the taxes or whether the private operator was responsible for payment.

"It's actually a question of who is responsible for initiating payment of the taxes," Murphy explained.

TO BILL McGRAN

"I have authorized the county to make tax payment, but we will still have to bill McGran for the $5,055," Murphy said.

The parcels in question were removed from the lease between McGran and Oakland County when reevaluation increased taxes on airport land, Murphy explained.

"If the property lease cutback was made before January of 1968, then the county should have initiated payment. If, however, the cutback agreement was made after January of 1968, then McGran should have paid the taxes," Murphy stated.

"Either way, the county's understanding with McGran is that McGran ultimately pays taxes for that year. It's just a question of timing," Murphy said.

LESSITER SATISFIED

Lessiter is simply satisfied that the taxes have been paid. It clears the matter from the township tax books.

If the taxes had remained unpaid until May of 1970 — one more year — the tax bill could have been declared delinquent and the land would have gone on the public auction block, Lessiter pointed out.

School Bond OK Under Fire

The recent decision of the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission to approve the sale of $500,000 in bonds by the Oakland County Intermediate School District is under fire from taxpayers.

The money is to be used to purchase a computer system now rented by the district.

George H. Williams, president of the Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers Association, charged, "This decision, made in spite of the commission staff's recommendation, could allow every municipality to treat the nonvoted property tax levy as debt retirement and therein allow each municipality to levy an equal amount of nonvoted millage for operating expenses."

Those that object to the approval contend that the district, in order to meet payments, would levy taxes beyond the 15-mill limit.

'LEGISLATORS AT FAULT'

Williams also faulted legislators in allowing approval to go through. "Not a single elected representative was interested enough in the taxpayer to look into the matter," he claimed.

Williams noted the taxpayers of Oakland County will now support "two computer systems within a stone's throw of each other on Telegraph Road." The county currently has a computer system, and the Intermediate School District has been renting such a system and charging its usage to individual school districts.

Political implications were also pointed out by the taxpayer-protest president.

"It is significant," he contended, "that a leading figure in the State Democratic Party just happened to be an attorney for the Oakland County Intermediate School District appearing before the Municipal Finance Commission April 29 when the bonds were approved; and the attorney general is a leading Democrat in the State of Michigan."

★ ★ ★

Western Michigan Voters Answer Solon's Questions

Michigan Congressman GUY VANDER JAGT announces the results of his current poll among the voters of his own district in Western Michigan. More than 21,000 citizens replied.

Some of the answers are positively startling, there's such an unbelievable unanimity of opinion. For example, take this question:

"Do you favor the expulsion of students who violently disrupt the academic life of colleges and universities?"

The answer is:

YES 97%
NO 3%

The agreement here is simply overwhelming.

★ ★ ★

Then the question, "Are you satisfied with the present method of selecting the President?" found this result:

YES 21%

★ ★ ★

Further he asked: "Do you favor stricter handling of rioters and 'demonstrators' by the police and courts?"

The answer was a great big, one-sided thump:

YES 96%
NO 4%

This shows only too graphically what the people really think.

Asking: "Are you in favor of more programs for the improvement of slum areas elicited this response:

YES 63%

★ ★ ★

The question as to whether the Government should proceed with Senator PHIL HART's Sleeping Bear Dunes along the shores of Lake Michigan brought this reply:

YES 62%
NO 38%

These polls are very interesting and probably very significant. Certainly Western Michigan citizens are a fair-minded group that represent the great, big thoughtful segments of the Nation.

Committee Renamed . . .

We should not overlook the fact that the House Un-American Activities Committee started the year with a new director and now has a new name.

Congress has shifted the title to the "House Committee on Internal Security." The new administrator is Representative RICHARD ICHORD, a Democrat from Missouri.

The titular head assured his colleagues in Congress that the change in title will not affect the constructive activities. The committee has carried these on for years, to the anguish of law-breakers, political bums and the minions that owe allegiance to the Kremlin.

★ ★ ★

Leftists and fellow travelers will probably step up their unending attacks on this patriotic group and some of the bleeding hearts and professional do-gooders will sidle along with them. The ever vigilant and inquiring eyes of this committee concentrate on shenanigans, wrongdoing and subversive activities.

★ ★ ★

Encouraging Vote . . .

The two sectors visited the polls to indicate whether they favored a plan to set up a university senate of students, faculty members and university officials. This new group would take over various administration duties.

The "yes" vote won.

The count was nine to one.

★ ★ ★

The rabid Students for a Democratic Society entered fierce opposition and fought the move with the aid of other campus radicals and nincompoops. The subversive element was crushed.

There's hope ahead.

And in Conclusion . . .

North Dakota has introduced a law forbidding discrimination against girl jockeys. There's just one hitch: North Dakota hasn't a single race track. . . . . Golf professionals admit the longest hitter in the game today is a big boy from Holland named ROESINK. . . . . British built Rolls-Royce cars sell from $19,000 to $31,600. All that were built in the last four years have been recalled for possible steering defects.

The Unintentional Lobbyist!

David Lawrence Says:

College Profs' Stand off Base

WASHINGTON — Maybe the United States has passed the critical point in its era of violence and disorder. For there are signs now that the concept of law and order has not been forgotten. State governors are beginning to talk about new state laws to tackle disturbances in the colleges.

LAWRENCE

Atty. Gen. John Mitchell, moreover, is emphasizing the right of the federal government to prosecute persons who plan movements that stretch across state lines and provoke local riots.

But what is still unexplained is the lack of perception or realism being displayed by so many college professors and administrators.

It is amazing to read, for example, that a resolution full of mistaken assumptions was adopted by 800 professors at a convention in Minneapolis presumably representing 90,000 members of university faculties throughout the country.

The document criticized Atty. Gen. Mitchell's statement of last week for allegedly using "dangerous" language in assailing the tactics of campus militants.

'THREAT TO FREEDOM'

His remarks were described as "a direct threat to academic freedom and autonomy." The university authorities, the resolution said, should not be interfered with in their handling of student problems.

Is it really possible that many college professors do not understand the fundamental concept of discipline and that they look upon seizure of college buildings and even the carrying of arms by participants in demonstrations as beyond the jurisdiction of police — federal, state or local?

There is a tendecy to shift the blame. Dr. Calvin H. Plimpton, head of Amherst college in Massachusetts, sent a letter last week to President Nixon "in behalf of an overwhelming majority of Amherst students, faculty and administration" in which the responsibility is placed on the shoulders of the federal government.

The Amherst president wrote that "much of the turmoil" in the colleges will continue "until you and other political leaders of our country address more effectively, massively and persistently the major social and foreign problems of our society."

'NO ADEQUATE PLANS'

Dr. Plimpton added: "The pervasive and insistent disquiet on many campuses throughout the nation indicates that unrest results not from a conspiracy by a few but from a shared sense that the nation has no adequate plans for meeting the crises in our society."

★ ★ ★

There is ample evidence, however, of a conspiracy to break down law and order on the campuses of American colleges.

One can only wonder why these palpable conspiracies have not been detected by university authorities.

Maybe the focus is at last being fixed on the groups and their leaders who are responsible for the riots in the colleges.

Bob Considine Says:

French Journalist's Book Gives View of Pompidou

CONSIDINE

"Georges Pompidou comes from the Massif Central, like the late unlamented Pierre Laval; he has a roundness of style that reminds the political old hands of Edouard Herriot, and he has all the ambitions of a De Gaulle, his master and his model, even to the chain-smoking which used to be the trademark of the general's.

★ ★ ★

"Pompidou is the crown prince of the Gaullist movement and a clever man by any reckoning; he started out as a teacher of Latin, Greek and French and was not a politician at all until De Gaulle made him premier; but he is now, and a shrewd one.

"He is the manipulator of the masses, a smiling man with black bushy brows and hard eyes in a soft face. His will is strong and his bite is sharp, and nobody is ever deluded twice by the mildness of his manner."

When I was a kid, anybody the size of Bill Russell or Wilt Chamberlain couldn't make the team. Being excessively tall, they were, therefore, excessively knock-kneed, clumsy, slow-witted and surely incompetent.

But now in pro basketball and pro football, anybody under 6-2 or 200 is considered a freak of sorts. The fast, superbly coordinated big man is the rule.

"On the average the players ran a hundred yards in about 12 seconds. In 1967 . . . the Virginia team averaged 240 pounds on the line and 190 pounds in the backfield. Yet in spite of the increased weight, the players averaged close to 10 seconds for the 100 yards.

Views on Present Affairs Expressed by Serviceman

My son in service, Bob Butcher, wrote me stating the Reds are winning. When I wrote to ask what he meant, he replied: "I didn't really mean the Reds are winning the war. They are doing just what they planned — causing all kinds of unrest back in the U.S. and upsetting the economy. Every once in awhile I pick up a paper and all I read is riots, demonstrations, assassinations, killing, Negro uproars. It's just a mess back in the States. I feel safer over here because you know who is shooting at you. What we are doing over here is the right thing. We can't pull out because they asked us to come and we did. If we pulled out now America would lose all its power and glory."

Answers Recent Letters on Gas Service

To Mrs. Jerry Runyan: I am sure your husband, with such a loyal wife, would not commit vandalism. Nor would 90 per cent of the other union men. But there are a few who think such underhand harassment is the way to bring the company to its knees.

Question and Answer

Why does Consumers charge for pipelines from road to house when Edison will put up a pole and wire from house to to pole, give outside box and water box in and out, exchange bulbs, repair water heater and most appliances free?

S. R.
CLARKSTON

REPLY

Mr. Brown at Consumer's Power tells us gas lines and overhead line construction are separate entities and are handled differently. Consumers charges for gas service to the road because that is part of the rules and regulations on file with the Michigan Public Service Commission. Also, at one time service was provided to all residences free of charge, but many were not used. This way, they know residents actually want the service. Cost of the service must be charged in some way, and if it were included as part of the gas rate, it would be discriminatory for all rate payers. The cost would have to be averaged, and that would mean customers with short services would pay too much, those with long services too little.

Flawed Logic

Battle Creek Enquirer & News

There is some flawed logic in the drive of a Lansing citizens' group — the Citizens of Michigan Tax Relief Committee — to abolish the State Senate in favor of a one-house Legislature.

Without a doubt, there would be some economy achieved in eliminating one of the Legislature's two arms. But, considering the public's desire for thorough review and checking of all legislative proposals, lopping off the Senate is surgery that's too drastic.

The reason the group singled out the Senate is obscure, unless it's simply that there are only about one-third as many Senate members as House members.

In Nebraska, which has had a unicameral legislature since 1937, the 43 members are all senators. We also note that no other state has chosen to adopt the unicameral idea.

We recognize that the Michigan citizens' group is moved by a yearning for less expensive government. However, legislatures were created with two chambers so that one could be a check on the other.

Link of Odd Genetic Makeup to Violent Impulses Disputed

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Perhaps 200,000 American male males have the "XYY" genetic makeup that is being linked with impulses to commit violent crimes, a psychiatrist said today.

But "there is growing evidence that many XYY individuals are stable, law-abiding citizens," Dr. Gerald R. Clark of Elwyn, Pa., declared. "It appears that the XYY male in general has been falsely stigmatized."

Normally each body cell has 46 chromosomes, the carriers of genes that determine inherited characteristics. They receive an X chromosome from the mother, and a Y from the father. Occasionally, some accident adds an extra Y or X chromosome.

For several years there has been speculation that men with the XYY chromosome were genetically inclined toward aggressive criminal behavior. In courts, defense attorneys have argued that such men were not responsible for their crimes.

Reporting new studies to the American Psychiatric Association in convention here, Dr. Clark said the frequency with which XYY men are involved in crime and other antisocial behavior "may not be appreciably different from the average citizen."

Dr. Clark is president of the Elwyn Institute, which began a study of the XYY chromosome in 1966. He is also associate professor of psychiatry and pediatrics at the University of Pennsylvania Medical School.

Men with the XYY chromosome are usually taller than average. So the Elwyn Institute researchers studied 680 tall inmates in prisons, institutions for the criminally insane, for defective delinquents, for the mentally retarded and in state mental hospitals in Pennsylvania.

ADNORMALITIES

Twenty men were found to have sex chromosome abnormalities. Seven had the XYY makeup, while 13 had a different genetic makeup known as Klinefelter's syndrome, which is highlighted by an abnormal body build almost female in character.

Dr. Clark cautioned that comparatively few men with the XYY makeup have been identified and studied to date, and he pointed to some limitations in his own study.

Recent studies of chromosome typing in newborn babies indicate that one in 500 males has the XYY abnormalty. So "perhaps some 200,000 XYY males live in the general population of the United States," he said.

Being very tall might influence a boy's behavior, for "he may be teased and react with resentment and antisocial behavior" and, if picked up for some transgression, "his fearsome height and build could bias the courts or the psychiatrists to institutionalize him at a younger age than a small or normal-sized delinquent," Dr. Clark said.

From a legal viewpoint, said Dr. Clark, "a chromosome abnormality may be attractive in a plea of diminished responsibility. It is an objective finding that can be easily and clearly demonstrated. Nevertheless, there is growing evidence that many XYY individuals are stable, law-abiding citizens, and accordingly, such a condition by itself should not diminish responsibility."

No Holes Barred in This Crime

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Just before closing time at the Joker Bar, a man leaped from his stool, drew a pistol and yelled: "This is a robbery—Everyone freeze!"

Everyone broke for the nearest exit. As the bar emptied, the infuriated gunman tried to halt the stampede by firing three shots into the air.

Bartender Clifford Andrew looked up and saw that the shots made no holes in the ceiling. The man obviously was using blanks. The barkeep wrested the gun from the would-be robber and hit him over the head with it.

A customer, whom police believe was the thief's partner, picked up a brick and hit Andrew with it. Another customer hit the thief in the face with a lead pipe. The would-be robber ran out the door.

Andrew called his friend, Melvin Kinnson, an off-duty sheriff's deputy, and early yesterday they went to the home of the suspect, Rudolph Marts. He was outside by his garage.

Andrew threw a punch at Marts, but missed. He hit the deputy instead, knocking him to the ground. They finally managed to take Marts to jail, where he was booked on suspicion of robbery.

Food-for-Poor Plan Behind Schedule, Short of Goal

WASHINGTON (AP) — An $8.8-million federal program aimed at improving diets for nearly a quarter-million impoverished mothers and children is far behind schedule and 50 per cent below the target.

The program's intent is to supply a $7 package of nutrients—iron-enriched cereal, fruit juice, canned meat—each month to malnourished families.

But, after six months, the program has reached less than 100,000 of the target figure of 225,00 mothers and children.

However, the Nixon administration will continue to press the project which was initiated by the Johnson administration, along with other federal food programs, say Agriculture Department officials. The administration has asked for a $15-million increase in the department's food program budget over-all.

★ ★ ★

The problem centers on poor federal-local cooperation and little local awareness of what all department programs can and should do, spokesmen say. Without cooperation, little can be done, they add.

The department hopes to cure some of the trouble with an educational campaign among labor unions, churches, business groups and universities.

"Many states are developing plans aimed at operating the program," says Neill Freeman, the department's director of commodity distribution.

Freeman said it is expected the department will make its original target for the special food packages sometime later this year. In 1970 the program is intended to reach a million mothers, infants and children up to the age of 6. The cost estimate for this level is $140 million a year.

Jurist: Color Not Excuse for Breaking Law

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The first Negro member of the U.S. Supreme Court says black militants who defy the law should be made to face the consequences.

"Anarchy is anarchy," Justice Thurgood Marshall said Sunday, "and it makes no difference who practices it, it is bad; it is punishable and it should be punished."

"You can't use color for an excuse for not doing what you should be doing," he declared.

'NO EXCUSE'

"Race is not an excuse for not keeping up your house properly, nor is race an excuse for not keeping your children in school, even though they may still be segregated."

Marshall said he realized that "so far as race problems and minority rights go, the problems are not yet solved and I have no idea when they will be, but there has been some progress."

"The seeds are here," he added. "But nothing will be settled with guns, fire-bombs or rocks. The country can't survive if the perpetrators go unpunished. It's that simple."

Urging Negroes to reject black militant leadership, Marshall said:

"We should stand up and say, 'Look, man, you do what you want to do and I'll do what I want to do. But don't tell me I have to do what you want me to do just because you said it."

★ ★ ★

The associate justice called for leadership through education, and said student demanding black studies and African culture should not discard other studies and cultures.

"You are not going to compete in the world until you have training exactly like everyone else, and, hopefully, better," he said. "Because when you're a Negro, you've got to be better."

Deputies Vote on Teamsters

ANN ARBOR (AP)—About 70 deputies of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department vote today on whether to name the Teamsters Union as their bargaining agent.

If approved, affiliation with the Teamsters would be the first by any law enforcement agency in Michigan.

The Michigan Labor Mediation Board set the election date after deputies and Teamsters officials held several meetings to discuss joining the union.

Last year, the independent Washtenaw Deputies Association failed in an attempt to gain the right to bargain for the deputies.

The move to join the Teamsters came after a monthslong dispute between deputies and the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors over payment for overtime work.

Deputies have objected to a $1,100 ceiling placed on overtime pay within any single pay period of two weeks.

Independence Begins

Nursery School Is First Crucial Step

By YOLANDA BENAVIDES

How will Johnny react that first school morning as mother slips her hand out of his and nudges him past the classroom door?

Hopefully, his first 'go' with the stranger at the front of the room and the other bewildered Johnnys and Marys will conclude on a successful note.

Success, however, is not always an easy route to find on first try, even for the very young.

For this reason a group of concerned mothers have organized the Lone Pine Co-op Nursery, where learning is a full time project intricately assimilated with traditional play activities.

Formed some three years ago, the Co-op is a self sustaining operation with funds for materials and facilities at Birmingham Unitarian Church financed through tuition fees.

MOTHER HELP

In addition to the fee, mothers are required to spend an alloted time at the nursery according to the class her child is enrolled in (the first session meets on Monday, Wednesday and Friday; the second on Tuesday and Thursday) Each session runs from 9:30 until 11:30 a.m.

Here, the role of educator is primarily that of guide and disciplinarian for a variety of play areas structured to aid emotional and physical development.

For example, to develop an awareness of one's place within the outside world (until this time a child is family centered) there are field trips to parks, museums, fire stations, etc.

Preliminary art instruction, which includes easel painting, simple collage and clay sculpture, is a useful tool in developing the imagination and any dormant creative ability.

To provide muscle activity, the nursery is equipped with a variety of outdoor, as well as indoor equipment that sharpens physical coordination.

FREE TO PLAY

However, of greatest importance at this stage is providing the child with a sense of freedom to participate in whatever 'play' experience he pleases.

Oddly enough, by comparison to his school experiences, where group activities are planned on a regular hour by hour, day-to-day basis, the nursery philosophy appears in direct conflict.

★ ★ ★

In explaining the polarity, however, program coordinator Mrs. Roger Evans feels that at age three a child's first need is to develop a self image, rather than to acquaint him with formal structuring.

"At this stage, freedom of choice is a necessary means of encouraging his confidence," she says.

Confidence in turn serves as food for initiative and increases his capacity for a harmonious group relationship. Only then is he ready to 'learn' in a classroom structured by set rules.

In relation to providing realistic group experiences, Mrs. Evans feels the program falls short in respect to the unproportioned racial composition.

Of the two classes, which are made up of some 10 to 15 children, only three are Negro.

TWO PROBLEMS

"The problem," says Mrs. Evans, "Is frequently based on lack of transportation. Others may be enthusiastic but are holding down jobs and don't have the time to work at the nursery."

With registration for the fall quarter now beginning, Mrs. Evans hopes the problem will alleviate itself.

Co-op mothers, likewise concerned, are visiting Negro church groups in an attempt to encourage membership as well as organizing car pools on their own.

Anyone interested in having her child attend this nursery school may contact Mrs. Arthur Krehbiehl, Royal Oak.

Hostess May Turn Off TV if She Wants

BY ELIZABETH L. POST
of the Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it ever be considered in good taste to turn off a television program when you have visitors? So often now I find a program objectionable in regard to the language, I am uncomfortable sitting there watching it. And I don't know what to do.—Ethel.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ethel: Stick to your guns. When you feel a program is in poor taste or offensive, you certainly need not show it in your home. In fact, unless you specifically arrange with friends to get together to watch a special program, I feel the "tube" is a poor substitute for conversation or a game of cards.

★ ★ ★

We are surely losing the art of making a visit pleasant when we sit glued to scenes of violence, questionable humor, and maudlin drama. Next time you have guests don't turn on your TV at all, or if you do, turn it off again if the programs are not worthwhile. And incidentally, write your feelings to the sponsor of the program and the station — that is the only way the quality of TV will improve.

SWEET SIXTEEN

Dear Mrs. Post: What do you serve for a Sweet Sixteen brunch for 24 people? —Harriet

★ ★ ★

Dear Harriet: A great big chafing dish of scrambled eggs, a platter of sausages and bacon, and a stack of waffles. Melted butter and syrup for the waffle-eaters, and English muffins, marmalade and jellies for the egg-eaters. Strawberries with cream and sugar, and a pitcher of orange or orange-pineapple juice for everyone. Finally, plenty of coffee, hot chocolate and milk on a side table.

★ ★ ★

If you prefer, instead of scrambled eggs you may serve creamed chicken to go on the waffles for those who don't like sweet syrup.

Readers' Views on Drugs Vary With Personal Facts

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This writer is an ex-policewoman and knows that what you printed about marijuana and drugs are the straight facts.

I was recently asked, "What would YOU do if you found your son or daughter using marijuana?" My answer: "I would ask the chief of police to show my child a prisoner who was coming off narcotics, 'cold turkey.'"

Secondly: "What would you do if you found your child using LSD?" My reply: "I would ask the judge to sentence my child to the state hospital, not as a patient, but to care for some of the teen-aged patients who are incapable of feeding themselves, or keeping themselves clean, but just lie there, and stare at the ceiling with unseeing eyes."

I believe that a picture is worth 10,000 words. Please accept my congratulations, Abby, one a fine letter. Very sincerely yours, C. B., TUCSON, ARIZ.

DEAR ABBY: Your pitch about marijuana and drugs was one-sided. All pot heads don't necessarily wind up on the heavier stuff. I know something about this as I have been in the drug trade for a number of years, although I have never been an addict, and wouldn't touch it with a 10-foot needle.

The idea that dope pushers are lurking around school grounds trying to sell dope to kids is ridiculous. It's not sold that way. It's sold strictly through contacts. A guy would have to be out of his mind to approach a strange kid. The Feds would be on his neck in 10 minutes.

★ ★ ★

Abby, if you really want to help kids, tell their PARENTS that kids turn to dope because they've been put down, belittled and ignored. Kids prefer scorn to disapproval and being ignored. Parents who raise their children in a stable environment with love and understanding will never have to worry about drugs. I have seen what it does to people, and I wouldn't wish the habit on my worst enemy. And believe me I have plenty. NO NAME OR TOWN PLEASE

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have had an almost abnormal fear of dope addiction ever since I was 17, and witnessed a display of depravity that will haunt me to my grave.

I saw a 19-year-old kid who needed a fix of dope so desperately, he CARRIED his 17-year-old sister into a room to have sex relations with a man. (She was too sick and weak to walk, so he carried her there.)

After major surgery I laid in agony rather than to take the needle offered to ease my pain. I told them to keep their dope, I'd rather be dead than end up a dope head. I know for a fact that some have become innocently addicted in this manner. God help them.

DEAR ABBY: I have had kids look at me with wide, innocent eyes and actually tell me that marijuana does less harm to the body than cigaret smoking! They say it gives them a "high" feeling and there is no hangover.

Well, as a drug addict I can tell you that first I got hooked on that "high" feeling I got from marijuana, then I wanted something even "higher."

BEEN THERE IN NEW MEXICO

DEAR ABBY: No one can tell me that marijuana is not physically harmful. My 18-year-old son admitted he'd been smoking "grass" since he was 14! Today, he can't pour a glass of orange juice without spilling it all over the table. Also, his eyes, which once were clear and bright, are now chronically bloodshot. And he can't sit for 20 minutes without going to the bathroom.

I was also told I was making "too big a thing" out of it. I agree with you, you CAN'T make too big a thing out of it. Sock it to 'em, Abby!

Soaking Combs

Combs and hairbrushes should be washed as often as your hair. An easy solution in which to wash them is about a tablespoon of baking soda and a good dash of liquid ammonia. No scrubbing, just soak and rinse well.

Mr. and Mrs. William Barry of Lum announce the recent marriage of their daughter, Patricia Anne, to William Martin Kleeman. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. George Kleeman of Oakland, Calif.

M. Joyce Barry and George E. Kleeman were honor attendants, for their sister and brother respectively, for the wedding in St. Joseph's Church, Alameda, Calif.

Practical Pretty

One of the most practical things for a girl-on-the-go to own is a culotte jump suit—it's great for quick trips to the market, an all-day hike, a walk on the beach, a drive, a last-minute date.

Here Is a List of People to Avoid

By BETTY CANARY
NEA Writer

One of the predictions I sincerely hope will not come true in the near future is the package deal, including a new car with the "basic home package." That basic home package (My New House is what most of us call it) already includes stove, refrigerator, automatic washer and the like, thereby lumping many mortgages in one money lender's basket. With service records being what they are, I don't see having only one place where I can complain.

The other prediction is the one about placing contraceptive vending machines in public buildings and on college campuses. Sex does not belong on the same level as bubblegum, cigarettes and chocolate bars.

And while we're on the subject of what hopefully can be avoided in the future, let's include some of those people. Surely the lead-off position still belongs to the sales clerk insisting the name of the costomer is Dearie. Close second place still goes to the customer who calls a salesclerk Hon.

Others to be avoided, not necessarily in this order but whenever yours is the misfortune of meeting them, include:

Anybody using the term, "humanity as a whole" more than one time per conversation.

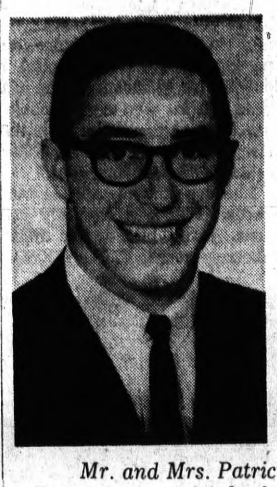
Those who say "dialogue" instead of "conversation," and especially those who say, "meaningful dialogue."

Obviously we're going to avoid the woman who speaks with strange tongue and asks little girls, "Do you need to refresh yourself?" when she means, "Do you want to go to the bathroom or wash your hands or something?"

Children usually aren't strong on euphemisms and they think the nice lady is going to give away mints or start spraying with an aerosol bomb.

We're certainly going to avoid those offering us the "opportunity" or the "privilege" of becoming their customer. If they have something to sell, let them come right out with it. Who knows? I might be in the market for a genuine simulated leather jacket, but I hardly consider paying $39.95 for it a privilege.

Like the plague is how we're going to avoid the gossip who always prefaces her statements with, "I probably shouldn't tell this, but . . ."



Mr. and Mrs. Patrick A. Nutter (nee Connie Everett) received bachelor of arts degrees in ceremonies held recently at Western Michigan University. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robbert J. Everett of Lotus Court and the Richard A. Nutters of Baybrook Drive.

Jennifer Cook, 21, of Fairbanks, Alaska, won the 75th annual Hoop Rolling race for Wellesley College seniors on Saturday. By tradition, Jennifer wins the honor of being the first in her class to marry, but her plans for the summer call for her to serve as photographer on a team which will climb Canada's 19,850-foot Mr. Logan.

Summer Vows Are Planned by Couples

The engagement of their daughter, Mary Ann, to Richard Van Trease, is announced by Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Galloway, Jr., of Lake Orion. The couple will wed July 26.

★ ★ ★

Valdez - Gonzalez

Mr. and Mrs. Ricardo C. Valdez of Keego Harbor announce the engagement of their daughter, E. Olinda Cruz, to Jesus Gonzalez. He is the son of Mrs. Brethu Gonzalez of El Paso, Tex., and the late Mr. Gonzalez.

June 28 vows are planned.

Hair Needs Oil

After a shampoo, protect hair from dryness and the effects of weather by rubbing a small amount of dressing between both palms and massaging it through the hair. Always concentrate on the ends; they have a tendency to take more of a beating than the rest of your hair.

W. T. Bacons Wed Saturday Afternoon

Attired in silk organza, Kathryn Ann Kennaday was escorted to the altar of St. Benedict's Catholic Church Saturday where she became the bride of William Thomas Bacon.

For the afternoon ceremony, the daughter of Mrs. Quintin L. Kennaday of Mark Street and the late Mr. Kennaday held a nosegay of white daisies, miniature pink roses, white feathered carnations and babies breath.

ATTENDANTS

★ ★ ★

Soap Is Drying

If your skin has a tendency toward dryness, the best thing to do is to use a minimum of soap. Use cleansing creams instead, limiting soap to once or twice a week. Be sure to apply a moisturizing cream right after you've used soap on your face.

Antique Doll Began Hobby

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — When Mrs. J. T. Koelling 17 years ago purchased in an antique store a doll that resembled her childhood dolls, she didn't know it, but she had started a hobby.

Since then Mrs. Koelling, who admits she has always loved dolls, has collected more than 200 of them. She buys small antique dolls, does research on their time period, clothes them, makes human hair wigs on a loom and in general reconditions them.

★ ★ ★

In a big sunny room of her home the dolls are in a glassed-in lighted cabinet, on a table, the floor, on book shelves and in rockers. The room also has a three-story white frame doll house she and her husband built.

Experiment Indicates

Sex Segregation Aids Learning

Females—small, as in classmates; large, as in teachers—were excluded from the experimental kindergarten and first grade at Jackson Elementary School in Greeley, Colo., beginning two years ago.

SETTLE DOWN FASTER

But boys exposed to the all-male classes taught by male teachers are different, according to a report in "Nation's Schools," a journal.

Compared with a group of boys in coed classes, those in the all-made experiment had better attendance records, were more aggressive in attacking learning situations, and were better able to enter discussions.

Plainly, they had lost cold feet about school.

As Dorwin Borman, kindergarten teacher, and Cyecil Matthews, first grade teacher, explain it, this magic was achieved by changing the traditional standard for classroom behavior: That children remain quiet and orderly at all times.

INFORMAL ATMOSPHERE

There was an atmosphere of informality, action and some horseplay. Teachers occasionally would pick up their charges and toss them in the air. Instead of passing things, at other times they would throw them to the boys.

★ ★ ★

Other marks of the all-male kindergarten and first grade:

—In readiness for language arts, the boys were introduced to typewriters.

December vows are planned by Sally Jane Mapley of Ann Arbor and John Robert Fuller. The bride-elect, a graduate of Mercy College of Detroit, is the daughter of the Burl U. Mapleys of West Brooklyn Avenue. Her fiance, who received his master's degree from the University of Arkansas, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Fuller Jr. of Grosse Ile.

The Frank G. Armstrongs of Overbrook Road, Bloomfield Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Judith Lynne, of Wilmette, Ill., to Stephen Rouse Walgren of Milwaukee, Wis. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin M. Walgren of Rock Island, Ill. The couple, alumni of the University of Michigan and Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa, respectively, will wed July 26.

Facial Blusher Slims Cheeks, Sheds Pounds

Women born with a round shape face are the recipients of a mixed blessing. While the round face, more than any other shape face, usually maintains its youthful appearance well into the middle years, it may also add unwanted pounds to a woman's overall appearance if it is not made up properly.

Beauty authority Max Factor has this advice to maximize the advantages and minimize the drawbacks. After a woman with a round face completes her make-up in the current fashion, she should shadow her cheeks with Softly Amber UltraLucent Blusher to get rid of the appearance of any extra pounds.

Court Appointee to Replace J.P.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Starting in 1971, couples popping into Nevada for a quick wedding may hear the words "I now pronounce you man and wife" from a clerk behind a counter.

Justices of the peace, sometimes known as Marryin' Sams, will be confined to courtroom duties under a law passed this week by the Nevada Legislature. They'll be replaced in wedding ceremonies by courthired marriage commissioners.

"People won't run for justice of the peace," said Justice of the Peace Roy Woofter of Las Vegas.

"The new marriage commissioners had better be good-looking men," said Dist. Atty. George Franklin, who supported the bill. "A lot of people just won't want a woman marrying them."

Justices of the peace have interrupted murder arraignments to perform weddings for $5 and tips. State Sen. Mel Close said they averaged an estimated $100,000 a year, making them the highest paid public officals outside of the presidency.

★ ★ ★

In Las Vegas, the county began collecting on Jan. 1 the $5 fee previously retained by the justices.

Pavlokowski performed 7,500 weddings in 1967.

Sometime he'd get $20 tips, he said, "but a lot of times I'd get only a quarter and I'd give it back."

Gov. Paul Laxalt said he would sign the bill, which he called "healthy legislation since it will permit justices of the peace to concentrate on their judicial functions."

Women Shirk Night Jobs; Cite Rising Street Crimes

By PHILIP WECHSLER
(AP Business Writer)

The fear of crime in the streets, particularly in major cities, has prompted more and more women to refuse night shifts or overtime work during evening hours.

As a result companies are spending millions of dollars, in addition to higher night pay, on safety precautions to attract women to evening work.

A survey by The Associated Press found, for example:

—Eastern Airlines regional office in an Atlanta suburb installed closed circuit television on its grounds and employs guards with two-way radios.

—The Republican Inaugural Committee spent five per cent of its total budget on cab fares for its female workers in Washington.

—An electrical workers union local in Fort Wayne, Ind., had a clause written into its contract with the General Telephone Co. of Indiana to provide cab service for all women working after 10 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Gary R. Davie, a regional manager for American Girl Service, a nationwide agency furnishing temporary help, says its workers are turning down overtime, especially during winter when dark comes earlier.

SAFETY FACTOR

"The women refuse based on the fact of safety in the streets," he said.

In some instances the reluctance of women to work at night has cut down on production.

The United California Bank said it had to abandon overtime shifts in most of its offices in Los Angeles because women refused to work at night.

★ ★ ★

"With our younger women applicants safety is a very important factor," says the bank's vice president for personnel, Charles Sherman. He added that the bank's data processing center near Hollywood had to provide a guard for the parking lot.

★ ★ ★

Helen Brogan, a Chicago cocktail waitress, says she "used to work late at night and I always took a taxi home . . . But I know women who work at other lounges are turning down night work because they're afraid."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Charlotte Cole, an employment agency official in Newark, N. J., says, "Young women just don't like standing on a street corner waiting for a bus at night." She added that companies now building downtown offices are providing employe parking facilities.

Women of course turn down night work for other reasons: interference with their social lives of lack of adequate public transportation.

A New York City employment agency reports that 20 per cent of the women refusing night work cite the fear of going home on the subways or waiting on a corner for a bus. The agency says it is extremely difficut to recruit women for work after 9 p.m.

Are You Bride-to-Be?

Are you planning a wedding?

We are interested in having your engagement and wedding news. But we need your cooperation.

The Pontiac Press has printed forms for both engagement and wedding announcements. But you may send in the details, giving full names and addresses (husband's names for a married woman) and other pertinent details.

Please include a telephone number so that we may check if necessary.

TIME LAPSE

There must be four months between engagement and wedding stories, if there is to be a picture with both.

If pictures are taken at the wedding, we must have them no later than two days after the ceremony (that is, by noon Tuesday for Saturday weddings.)

BEST PICTURES

Pictures should be black and white, preferably glossy prints. Snapshots cannot be used. Color and tinted prints are not acceptable.

While The Pontiac Press makes no promise to use every picture submitted, some printed mention of the event will be made.

There is no charge for editorial space, but it cannot be reserved nor can we promise the size of picture or its position.

Engagement and wedding pictures are kept for two months, then discarded. They may be called for any time after publication.

Widow Honored for Cheerful Job

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — "Our great lack today is that people are not concerned about other people."

So said Mrs. Elizabeth Watson, a 79-year-old widow when she was honored at Philadelphia General Hospital for 28 years of service as a volunteer.

Mrs. Watson, former buyer at a center-city department store, has been spreading cheer at the hospital since 1941. She chats with patients or reads to them.

★ ★ ★

She also carried a basket containing toiletries and religious tracts, explaining, "I give them a lot of little things they need and would not otherwise get."

Her rounds include the tuberculosis ward, where she does not fear contagion because the work she is doing is "what the Lord wants me to do."

Clubs Plan Meetings

Mrs. Malcolm Norris of Bloomfield Hills will open her home for the annual business meeting of Birmingham Junior Woman's Club Tuesday.

A skit entitled "Fashions for the Modern Woman" will be presented by Mesdames Donald Van Loo, V. J. Brennen Jr., Ronald Denton and Norris.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Kenneth Hurst, Mrs. Richard Stone, Mrs. John Romig and Mrs. Francis Walker.

WEST OAKLAND LAWYERS' WIVES

Mrs. Douglas L. Paterson, state president, Lawyers' Wives of Michigan, will be guest speaker at Wednesday's annual meeting and luncheon of West Oakland Hills Lawyers' Wives.

Election and installation of officers will also take place in Shenandoah Golf and Country Club. Mrs. Anthony Vernava will lead the group as president during 1967-70.

Hostesses for the day, which begins with a business meeting at 11 a.m., will be Mesdames: Brent K. Hogshead, Robert Nichols, Edward Miller, Samuel Garzia and Roger Wardle.

Kitchen Carpet Has Advantages

Carpeting in the kitchen muffles noise and saves breakage of dishes. You aren't as likely to skid as on a highly waxed floor and baby crawling around will be warmer. This carpeting can also be bought in tiles, which is a saving because you don't pay for wasted carpet and they can be reshuffled to regulate even wear. You can install them with double-face tape.

'M' to Close Teaching-Laboratory School

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A 300-student elementary and junior high laboratory school at the University of Michigan will be closed by the end of the 1970 school year.

★ ★ ★

U-M regents Friday unanimously voted to close the 40-year-old school after hearing Wilbur J. Cohen, former secretary of Health, Education and Welfare and now dean of the School of Education, say the school of education "connot do all things to all people."

The 100-student junior high school will be closed at the end of this school year.

Of the lab school, Cohen said, "there still would be a justification for retaining a high-cost-per-pupil demonstration school if the students represented a cross-section of the most urgent, difficult and challenging problems in American education—the lower income people in the inner city, the crowded family in the ghetto, the black child, the ethnic minorities or other disadvantaged children. But the student body (in University School) does not meet this criterion."

CERTIFICATION PROCESS

Cohen, who said he intends to question "the entire teacher certification process," stated:

★ ★ ★

"A great university should not and need not copy the standard version or the prevailing pattern set by the several hundred U.S. schools and colleges of education."

★ ★ ★

"I venture to suggest," he added, "that the present teacher certification system results in keeping out of teacher highly motivated people who are deeply needed now, but at the same time assures that those who doggedly thread their way through the routine of the ordinary and the obvious become the ones who stay in the teaching profession."

Stout Life Ending

Shane Goes on Wagon

UXBRIDGE, England (UPI)—Shane the German shepherd has been ordered to go on the wagon.

Shane belongs to Sean O'Shea, who runs the White Horse Pub. She's 14 months old and had been drinking stout, courtesy of the customers, for almost a year.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

"She was as miserable as sin in the morning, moping about the place," O'Shea said.

11,595 Buyers Corralled Ford's Frisky Maverick

Ford said it had sold 11,595 of the minicars through the end of April, which, said Ford Division General Sales Manager W. A. Heller, "substantially exceed—our division objectives."

The little car with crazy colors such as "Freudian Gilt" and "Original Cinnamon" was aimed at competing with tiny foreign imports, both in performance and price. Ford said it had succeeded.

"Through April about 25 per cent of the trade-ins for Mavericks were imported models with another 42 per cent coming from other domestic makes and about 38 per cent coming from other Ford Motor Co. models," Heller said.

★ ★ ★

He said about half of the Mavericks sold were with no trade-ins, apparently indicating its popularity among first-car buyers or those adding a second or third car.

MSU Finishes Intensive Hunt for Able Blacks

EAST LANSING (AP) —Michigan State University reports it has completed its most intensive hunt in history to recruit able black freshmen.

Terrence Carey, MSU director of admissions and scholarships, said admissions plus all needed financial aid were offered to 1,244 black students for classes starting next September.

Carey said this represents more than 11 per cent of all admission offers made to prospective freshmen.

"Not all black students accepted our offer, or having accepted, actually will register," Carey added, "any more than all nonblack students have accepted or will enroll."

Only 8 per cent of all persons living in farm households in the United States are nonwhite.

Who Buys New Cars? Playboy Tells

DETROIT (UPI)—What kind of person buys a new car?

A recently completed survey indicates there is no average age group. But nearly half, 47.2 per cent are college graduates, more than 75 per cent are married, and more than 81 per cent of the buyers are men. Less than 5 per cent of new car buyers had only a grade school education.

★ ★ ★

The median income of the car-buying family is just under $13,000 a year. That is, half the families buying new cars had incomes over that figure and half had under.

READER'S DIGEST

One magazine, Reader's Digest, led all others by a wide margin. A total of 44.1 per cent of all new car buyers responding to the survey read Reader's Digest. Others were Life 30.5 per cent, Look 23.4 per cent, Time 22.4 per cent, and Playboy, finishing fifth with 21.7 per cent. Many, of course, read more than one magazine.

The average new-car family has two adults and one child under 18. The family lives in a large city or a suburb of a large city. Only 33 per cent of new-car buyers live in small cities or rural areas.

In the breakdown of different makes of new cars, magazine preference was headed by Reader's Digest on virtually every make except the specialty and high-performance vehicles.

In this field, Playboy was listed first by male buyers of the Pontiac Grand Prix, Pontiac Firebird, Ford Mustang and Ford Torino GT. It placed second to Reader's Digest among men buyers of the Chevrolet Malibu and third to Reader's Digest and Time among Mercury Cougar and American Motors Javelin buyers.

★ ★ ★

A surprising result of the survey was that among women buyers of specialty and performance vehicles, Playboy, which styles itself a magazine for men, also rated well. It was listed sixth among women buyers of the Pontiac Firebird, seventh by women Javelin and Torino GT buyers, ninth by female Malibu buyers and eleventh among women buying Mustangs and Cougars.

Boycotts Are Asked in S. Carolina Strike

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Negro children were urged to boycott public schools today and their parents not to shop at downtown stores to demonstrate sympathy for striking hospital workers.

"If we can't march on King Street, we're not going to shop on King Street," the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), told a rally at a Negro church Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Andrew Young, executive vice president of the SCLC, told newsmen: "The kids will go back to school when the hospital workers go back to work."

Vandalism, including window-breakings and fires, occurred again Sunday night despite a dusk to dawn curfew imposed last Thursday by Gov. Robert McNair.

About 400 Negro nonprofessional workers at the state-supported Medical College Hospital and the Charleston County Hospital have been on strike since mid-March. Their demand for higher pay and recognition of the Drug and Hospital Workers Union Local 1199B has become a major civil rights crusade.

More than 1,000 strike sympathizers, including white Roman Catholic priests and Negro clergymen, marched almost three miles roundtrip Sunday from the Fourth Street Baptist church to the hospitals.

Abernathy, clad in a dark business suit instead of his usual blue denim marching clothes, joined them at the intersection of King and Calhoun streets, three blocks from the finish line. He arrived by private jet accompanied by Hosea Williams, one of the SCLC's top "action" men in civil rights confrontations.

The only reported injury was the shooting of a white man Saturday after the car he and his wife were riding in was stopped by Negro youths. He was not seriously wounded.

Oakland County's growing water armada made its first appearance of the spring in force.

Boat launching sites at Cass Lake and other waters were continually busy. But all boaters weren't using high-speed craft.

Bruce Landry, 1637 Cass Lake, and Dennis Murry, 1609 Cass Lake, both 12, decided to use old-fashioned arm power to reach Apple Island in Orchard Lake.

Meanwhile, Jim Fritz, 13, and Mark Knight, 12, also of Cass Lake Road, were deciding how to mechanize their boat. The boys were given a powerless 16-foot runabout which will need considerable work before being seaworthy.

Parochiaid Foes Turn Guns on Milliken

From Our News Wires

LANSING — Forces against tax aid to parochial schools are turning their guns on Gov. William G. Milliken as the Legislature moves toward a showdown on the controversial issue.

They are feverishly circulating antiparochiaid petitions across the state for presentation to the governor in hopes that he will swing over to their side.

* * *

Petitions containing some 2,000 names from the Berkley, Huntington Woods and Oak Park areas of suburban Detroit are to be turned over to Milliken today by the Citizens to Advance Public Education (CAPE).

Some parochiaid opponents see Milliken as the only chance for blocking legislative passage of a bill granting tax funds to nonpublic schools for teaching nonreligious subjects.

The governor, however, has indicated so far that he leans toward, rather than away from the parochiaid camp, though he has never stated flatly that he supports tax aid to private schools.

* * *

The closest he came was in his April 3 education message to the lawmakers. Milliken said only that "If any nonpublic school aid bill is passed, it should be passed with only a nominal appropriation to allow time to test its constitutionality, possibly through a Supreme Court advisory opinion."

* * *

Antiparochiaid forces see significance in the word "if." They feel that Milliken would have used much stronger language had he definitely favored parochiaid.

There is little doubt that the governor could deliver a fatal blow to parochiaid legislation by speaking out against it. His Republican party owns a 20-18 edge in the Senate, and the Democratic State Central Committee is on record against parochiaid.

INITIAL TESTING

The first test vote on the politically sensitive issue is expected in the House this week when the lower chamber takes up appropriation committee amendments to the governor's $845-million public school aid bill.

The committee, headed by Democratic Rep. William R. Copeland of Wyandotte, plans to recommend a $100,000 or less appropriation to the nonpublic schools to establish the principle of parochiaid in Michigan this year.

SEES EASY SAILING

Rep. J. Robert Traxler, the Bay City Democrat who is spearheading the pro-parochiaid fight in the Legislature, predicts easy sailing of the token-funded approach in the House and Senate. He based the forecast on an informal poll among legislators.

An attempt to appropriate state funds for increased state payments to Detroit public schools also was expected in the House tonight.

The appropriations committee was expected to increase the $115 million earmarked for Detroit schools by the Senate.

Thief Provides a Sermon Topic

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — The Rev. E. B. Dodson, pastor of the First Methodist church at Camden, says the topic of his sermon next Sunday will be "Thou Shalt Not Steal."

3 Suspended by AFSCME

DETROIT (UPI) — The International Board of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFSCME) has suspended three top-ranking local officials for alleged misuse of union funds, the Detroit Free Press reported yesterday.

The paper said William Charron, president of Council 23 of the AFSCME; Ray Richards, the council's treasurer; and Arthur Rolaff, treasurer of Local 101 (Wayne County Road Commission employes), were suspended on charges of misappropriating an estimated $8,500.

* * *

Charron, an international vice president of the union, announced last December he would run for secretary-treasurer of the international.

After he and the other two officers received telegrams over the weekend notifying them of their suspensions, a spokesman for Charron said the charges were "a political move to stop Charron from running."

College Gives Fully Free Class Choice

MOUNT ANGEL, Ore. (AP) — Students will be able to take and complete any 48 courses they choose for a bachelor of arts degree at Mount Angel College, beginning next fall.

At present, as do most colleges, Mount Angel prescribes about half of the courses necessary for graduation.

* * *

A college spokesman said the change "is a shifting of priority, from what a college thinks a person needs to be educated, to what a student thinks on the matter."

what's a funny place for a phone?

That depends a lot on your sense of humor. If making tracks across a clean carpet to get to a telephone leaves your wife a little less than happy, then perhaps there's nothing so funny about an extension telephone in the garage or workshop.

Extension telephones make sense. They save time by letting you use a telephone wherever you are.

Call your Michigan Bell Business Office or ask your telephone man. For as little as ninety-five cents a month (plus tax) you can put an extension in any funny old place you'd like.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N. Y. (Special): A scientific research institute has discovered a medication which has the ability in most cases — to actually shrink hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from the itching, burning and pain. Then this medication starts right in to gently reduce the swelling of inflamed, irritated hemorrhoids.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so. And it was all accomplished without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H® — an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! In addition to actually shrinking piles and relieving the painful distress — Preparation H lubricates, makes bowel movements less painful and soothes the irritated tissues. It also helps prevent further infection.

Preparation H comes in ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

Biafra Easing on Peace Talks?

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — While promising to fight the Nigerians "to the last man, to the last inch," Biafran leader C. Odumegwu Ojukwu has hinted the secessionists might become more flexible in their attitude toward peace negotiations.

Radio Biafra reported Sunday the secessionist state's elders and consultative assembly had promoted Ojukwu from lieutenant colonel to general and given him a new mandate to continue the war against Nigeria's federal government.

The broadcast said Ojukwu, in a May Day speech in Owerri, called again for peace talks without preconditions but added: "In order to create the right atmosphere for such talks, there must be a cease-fire or, failing that, a truce for a limited period ... We remain prepared to reach an accommodation with Nigeria."

If Nigeria rejects appeals for peace talks, said Ojukwu, "I will fight him with the best I have. I will harass him and make his life miserable for as long as there is breath within me. To the last man, to the last inch, I will fight him until he leaves my people alone."

EXPECTED CALL

The Nigerians have insisted the Biafrans end their secession and agree to return to a federation. The Biafrans refuse to commit themselves in advance.

Nigerian officials had expected a call for talks from Ojukwu following the fall of secessionist headquarters at Umuahia. But Ojukwu said the Nigerians were telling a "mischievous lie" in claiming control of Umuahia.

"Biafra, far from being destroyed, in actual fact is stronger," he said.

The recapture of Owerri, after eight months' occupation by the Nigerians, was a major morale booster for the Biafrans. A few civilians were reported returning to the battle-scarred town and planting crops to help alleviate Biafra's chronic food shortage.

POST NO THREAT

The Nigerians originally claimed their troops had only withdrawn to the outskirts of Owerri. But the Nigerian chief of staff, Brig. Hassan Usman Katsina, said federal forces were 32 miles southwest of Owerri, apparently posing no immediate threat to the strategic junction town.

Four Escape Plane Mishap

DETROIT (UPI) — Four persons "miraculously escaped injury" when their light plane flipped during an emergency landing, authorities said yesterday.

The four-seater Cherokee, piloted by William Lethman, 21, of Redford Township, had run out of gas. The engine failed to catch while Lethman was switching to an auxiliary gas tank, officials said.

Lethman made an emergency landing near the Rouge River, but the plane sank into soft ground and flipped over on its back.

Dearden Gets Welcome on Detroit Return

DETROIT (AP) — More than 200 persons, plus a band and a bagpipe orchestra, greeted John Cardinal Dearden as he returned to Detroit Sunday night after being installed as a prince of the Roman Catholic Church.

"I'm very glad to be back in Detroit," said Cardinal Dearden. He was wearing traditional black priestly garb rather than the red robe of his new office.

DIVING OUT — Detroit Tiger centerfielder Jim Northrup races in from center field to make a one-handed diving catch of a short fly hit by George Scott of the Boston Red Sox in the fifth inning of their game at eFnway Park yesterday. The Red Sox won the game in the 11th inning 4-2 on a home run by Rico Petrocelli to sweep the three games from Detroit.

Bengals Fall 7 Games Back

Red Sox Sweep Series From Tigers

Jim Campbell uttered his disheartened words after the Tigers lost 4-2 to the Boston Red Sox in the 11th inning Sunday night.

Rico Petrocelli clouted a two-run homer of Tigers reliever Don McMahon, scampering to the plate behind Reggie Smith who had walked.

THREE HITS

One bright spot in the hard-fought game was Jim Northrup's prowess at the plate. Returning to the lineup after having been benched for weak hitting, Northrup smacked a triple and two singles, indicating he may have shaken his batting slump.

"That may be all Northrup needs to get going," said Red Sox Manager Dick Williams. "He's too good a hitter to hold down."

★ ★ ★

The Red Sox tied the contest 2-2 in the ninth when Pat Dobson, who had walked seven batters in the first eight innings, walked Joe Lahoud and Petrocelli with one out.

Nagy had shut out the Tigers until the eighth inning when Northrup's triple gave Detroit its only runs. The blow sent Al Kaline and Norm Cash across the plate.

SCORING PLAY

"But the hitting. That's the part," he said, "You've got to think that somebody is going to get hot—Cash maybe or Willie (Horton)—and carry this team for a week.

"If that happens," Smith said, "then they'll all start to hit."

McLAIN RELIEVES

After an exhibition game today against the Phillies at Philadelphia, the Tigers return home Tuesday and play Kansas City in the first of 35 consecutive contests Detroit plays against West Division teams.

Astros Use Seven DP's to Beat Giants

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros turned in a record seven doubleplays en route to beating the San Francisco Giants 3-1 Sunday.

The record came in the top of the ninth inning when Jim Ray Hart lashed a single, advancing Dick Dietz, who had walked.

Rookie Bobby Etheridge then hit a Fred Gladding sinker on the ground to Joe Morgan at second.

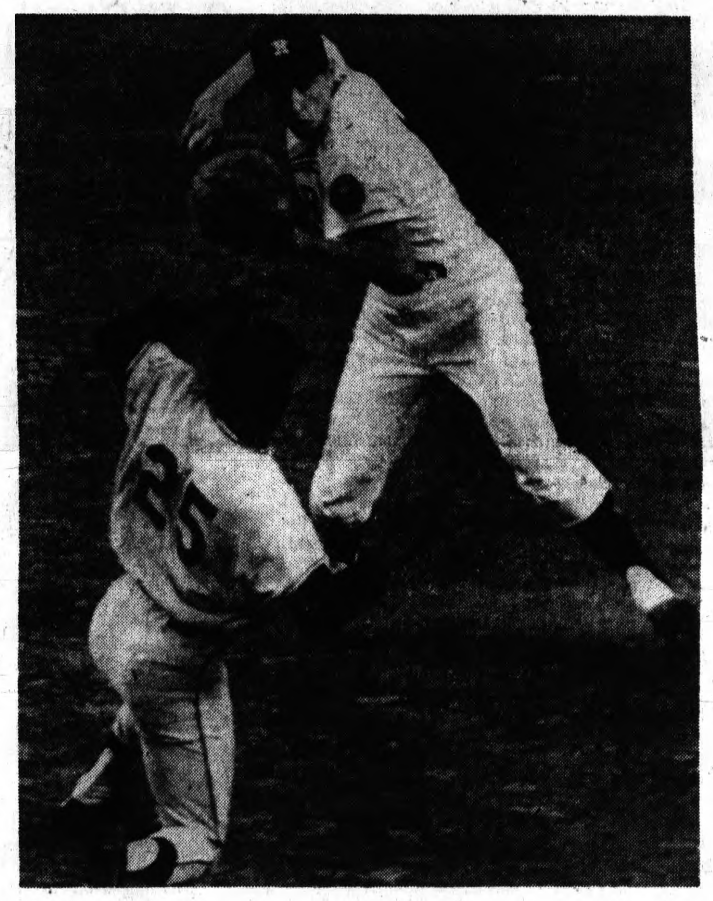
Morgan turned and made a quick, short toss to Denis Menke, who flipped to Curt Blefary at first for the seventh double-play, the final out and the ball game.

★ ★ ★

Champagne poured in the Astro locker room after the game. "What is this? Did we just win the pennant or something?", Blefary asked.

"Just as soon as they got a man on, I knew we'd get a chance at it with a guy like Fred pitching," Menke said.

"I could almost hear Etheridge pleading, 'Please let me beat it out. Let me beat it out' coming down the line," Blefary said, grinning. "But he didn't have a chance."



AP Wirephoto

RECORD-SETTING PLAY—Houston Astro's shortstop Denis Menke sets to fire to first for the seventh double play for the Astros in nine innings to set a National League record and tie the all-time baseball record. San Francisco's Bobby Bonds, a pinch runner for Jim Ray Hart, was forced at second as teammate Bob Etheridge grounded to Menke to end the game. Houston took the game, 3-1.

Nats' Shortstop Has Williams Singing Praise

Who would have thought that Ted Williams would be heard one day singing the praises of a .264-hitter?

Williams himself would have been among the last to think so and, yet, there he was in Washington's Robert F. Kennedy Stadium Sunday doing just that about shortstop Eddie Brinkman of the Senators.

A 27-year-old native of Cincinnati, Brinkman started the 1969 season with a .208 lifetime average in the majors and .187 and .188 marks to show for his last two seasons. But that was before he came under the "positive thinking" of the last of the game's .400-hitters and began to hit line drives instead of pop flies.

Brinkman, who never batted more than .229 in a full big league season, raised his average to .264 and singled in the winning run Sunday when the Senators defeated the Cleveland Indians 4-3 for their fifth straight victory and 10th in 11 games.

LOOKING DOWN

"He used to hit a lot of pop flies," said Williams. "That's the worst thing he can do. What good is a pop fly to Brinkman? Now he concentrates on hitting the ball on the ground."

"It feels great," said Brinkman, who is choking up on his bat and concentrating on meeting the ball this year instead of trying to hit every pitch out in the park.

Consecutive homers by Frank Howard and Mike Epstein tied the game at 3-3 in the sixth inning and Brinkman's single drove in Jim French with the winning run in the seventh. Dennis Higgins shut out the Indians on two hits during the last 3 2-3 inning for the victory while Jack Hamilton suffered the loss.

The Baltimore Orioles whipped the New York Yankees 5-3 an 14-2, Bob Oliver went 6-for-6 as the Kansas City Royals routed the California Angels 15-1, the Minnesota Twins edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 and the Oakland Athletics won 11-7 after a 6-4 loss to the Seattle Pilots.

FIFTH STRAIGHT

Dave Johnson's two-run double was the big blow of a five-run sixth-inning rally which carried the Orioles to their first game victory. Dave McNally received credit for his fifth straight win although Dave Leonhard, Eddie Watt and Pete Richert shut out the Yankees on one hit during the last four innings.

Canadiens Again Score Sweep in Hockey Playoffs

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Claude Ruel can get some sleep now. The Montreal Canadiens can sip champagne and enjoy their money.

The Canadiens edged the Blues 2-1, Sunday to sweep the National Hockey League Stanley Cup finals in four games. It was the 16th time the Canadiens took possession.

St. Louis has yet to beat Montreal in 17 games over two seasons.

WINNING GOAL

John Ferguson scored the winning goal in the third period less than four minutes after Ted Harris tied the game 1-1. The Blues took a 1-0 lead, the first time they led in the finals, on Terry Gray's second-period goal.

Ruel indicated winning the Stanley Cup was anticlimatic for him, not because he didn't think much of the Blues.

★ ★ ★

"It's a personal victory for me," the Canadiens' coach said. "No one knows what I went through all year. I was always worried and I've been having trouble sleeping all year. To finish first was better for me than to win the Stanley Cup."

★ ★ ★

Bowman had to be content with what he considered a moral victory. The Blues had been clearly outclassed in the first three games, but showed in the last game they could give the Canadiens trouble.

"You know it's too late now, but I'll know how to play them next time," Bowman said.

SHORT STAY

The Blues leave Wednesday for a one-day vacation at the Florida motel of club owner Sidney Salomon Jr. But it wasn't until Sunday that Bowman or any of the Blues felt like going.

"It's hard to take a vacation when you don't really feel like it," Bowman said. "You don't like losing."

Doctors Pair Up to Win Best Ball Tournament

Checking in with the hot round were Dr. Adolph Spiro and Dr. Norm Kanter, finishing three shots ahead of the runner-up team of Ed Rosenberg and Harold Warren of Southfield.

Big Triumph for School

Lahser Wins Relays

Although still a young school, the fast-stepping Knights of Bloomfield Hills Lahser are proving they've come of age in track circles.

The Knights, just completing their second year, cracked a pair of records and placed in six of seven relay events Saturday in claiming the Class B crown of the Central Michigan University Relays Championship.

The triumph was the biggest for Lahser in track competition and established the squad as one to be reckoned with in the state championship.

Lahser totaled 43 points, followed by Oscoda (37), Mount Morris (32), Rockford (21), Alma (17), Bullock Creek (16), River Rouge (15) and Holly (14½). Northville and Waterford Mott finished well down the list.

SENIOR RUNNERS

Two senior quartets were responsible for the two records at CMU.

★ ★ ★

Bill Hafstad, Rich Craig, Mike Oviatt and Jim Stewart teamed for a 8:10.3 time in the two-mile relay that broke the old mark of 8:17.5 set by Detroit St. Anthony in 1967. The time was also one-tenth of a second better than the Class A record held by Bloomfield Hills Andover.

★ ★ ★

Hafstad, Oviatt and Stewart then joined Harry Perry for a 3:30 time in the mile relay that erased the mark of 3:32.9 set by River Rouge in 1965.

The Knights' other victory came in the sprint medley with Jeff Shanks, John Ulrich, Ron Samarian and Perry posting a time of 2:31.8.

Camarian and Ulrich teamed with Dave Shagena and Kurt Leithauser for a 1:34.4 time and a share of fourth in the 880 relay, while Joe Caserio, Tim Lewis, Steve Young — all sophomores — and John Glazer were fifth in the distance medely at 11:24.2.

Midland was paced to its two relay victories by quarter-miler Mike Murphy, who anchored both squads and clocked a 48.4 leg in one.

Track Crash Fatal for Michigan Man

Ruttman was the son of Troy Ruttman Sr., winner of the 1952 Indianapolis 500.

Young Ruttman was coming into a turn in the 65th lap of the 100-lap race when the accident occurred. He was driving an Indianapolis Roadster.

Ruttman was pronounced dead on arrival at a Monore County hospital.

Elroy Defeats Pirates

Two Wins for 'Unwanted' Face

By the Associated Press

But even though Allen was $1,000 poorer when he came back to the Philadelphia line-up, he wasn't minus any of his hitting prowess.

The controversial slugger, who was fined $1,000 for missing the previous two games without permission, drove in two runs as the Phillies whipped sagging St. Louis 5-2 Sunday.

Cloninger, meanwhile, bounced back in Cincinnati's second-game, a 12-0 decision over San Diego, pitching a masterful two-hitter just about 24 hours after he failed to get a Padre out in the first inning. The Reds also won the opener 3-2.

SECOND VICTORY

Face, 41-year-old veteran who was out of work last month until Montreal took a chance on him, relieved for the fourth time in the past week and gained his second victory against no defeats in the Expos' 6-4 victory over Pittsburgh.

In other National League games, Atlanta downed Los Angeles 4-1, Houston tripped San Francisco 3-1 and the New York Mets took the Chicago Cubs twice by 3-2 scores.

Allen's latest troubles started Friday when he missed two planes from Philadelphia to St. Louis and thus the Phillies' night game with the Cardinals. He didn't make it in time for Saturday's game either, showing up an hour after it started.

He was there and in the lineup for Sunday's contest, though, and responded by driving in runs with a double in the third inning and a sacrifice fly in the sixth as the Phillies completed a sweep of the three-game series.

EVERYTHING GREAT

"We had a great weekend, we had beautiful weather, we won three games and Richie Allen came back and had a great day," beamed Phils Manager Bob Skinner, carefully skirting any mention of the AWOL incident.

Cloninger started for Cincinnati against San Diego Saturday but was battered for five runs in the first inning.

★ ★ ★

However, Manager Dave Bristol came back with the righthander in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader, and Cloninger responded by holding the Padres hitless after the second inning.

The pitcher also contributed a homer and a single to the Reds' 11-hit attack as he picked up his first victory against four losses.

Mason Keglers Third

MIDLAND (AP) — Guerriero Insurance of Mason swept into third place in handicap team competition of the Women's State Bowling Tournament by rolling 2,958 over the weekend.

It was the only change among top leaders of the tourney, which passed its 13th week and has five weekends to go.

Orchard Ridge '9' Posts Two Wins

Chuck O'Brien and John Stoyka, who did their prep pitching at Walled Lake and Royal Oak Dondero, respectively, blanked Highland Lakes on five hits Sunday as Orchard Ridge swept an Oakland Community College baseball doubleheader.

The Raiders registered a 14-0 victory behind O'Brien, who posted his third straight win with a two-hitter, and then captured a 7-0 decision as Stoyka scattered three safeties in his first hill outing.

Dave Hubbard from Southfield clouted a three-run homer in the opener and a solo shot in the nightcap. O'Brien had a two-run single to help himself, while Mike Zipser drove in two and scored one while rapping three singles in the second game.

Saturday, Oakland University (4-8) downed the Highlanders, 13-3. Larry Baugh allowed only three hits and whiffed nine.

Title Time Tonight for Lakers, Celts in NBA Action

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Boston's Sam Jones succinctly sums up the National Basketball Association's championship struggle in seven words: "It all comes down to this one."

The Celtics, who make a habit of winning titles, and the Los Angeles Lakers, who haven't done it yet, tangle in their playoff payoff tonight at 7 p.m. PDT before a national television audience with the local area blacked out.

To the winning club goes $48,000 from the playoff kitty and to the loser $32,000.

For Jones, the game also marks the end of a Celtic career dating back to 1957. The veteran guard has announced his retirement to enter collegiate coaching.

Boston and Los Angeles, with their big men Bill Russell and Wilt Chamberlain, each has won three times in the best-four-of-seven series. Every victory has come on the home court, an advantage the Lakers hold in the finale at the Forum before 17,500.

Their big question centers on the physical condition of Jerry West, the sharpest shooter on the Los Angeles club. He pulled a hamstring muscle in game No. 5 and wasn't up to par when the Celtics evened the series with a 99-90 victory at Boston on Saturday.

Derby Outcome Still Leaves Fans Asking Questions

Majestic Prince Not 'At Peak?'

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — They run the Kentucky Derby in just a fraction more than two minutes, but the fans spend weeks, months and years pondering its outcome and arguing what might have been.

Does Majestic Prince's victory in Saturday's 95th running prove he is the "super horse" he was touted to be?

★ ★ ★

Would Arts and Letters have beaten the Prince if Bill Shoemaker hadn't been injured?

What on earth happened to Top Knight?

If the Derby had been longer than its 1¼ miles, would the fast closing Dike have collared Majestic Prince?

NOT AT PEAK

Trainer Johnny Longden said the Prince wasn't at his peak for the Derby, but "was two to three lengths the best horse in the race," even though he won by only a neck over Arts and Letters.

Longden predicted Majestic Prince "will be a better horse in the Preakness" May 17, but declined to speculate on the possibility of having the first Triple Crown winner since Citation in 1948.

"I just don't like to look that far ahead," he said.

Longden said he felt it wouldn't have made any difference had Shoemaker been aboard Arts and Letters instead of Braulio Baeza, but Elliott Burch, Arts and Letters' trainer, wasn't so sure.

"Perhaps there could have been a difference, I don't know," Burch said, noting that Shoemaker had ridden the colt before while Baeza was on board for the first time.

JOCKEY PRAISED

"I'm not taking anything away from Baeza when I say that," Burch went on. "He rode a great race and got everything out of the horse."

Ray Metcalf, trainer of Top Knight, a disappointing fifth in the Derby, said Majestic Prince would never beat the Florida Derby winner again and offered to bet $20,000 to back it up.

"I'm not a betting man," Longden said when told of the offer, "but I think he can get one if he wants to."

Burch said he still wouldn't plant the title "great" on Majestic Prince and added "he might be a freak horse.

"He's got a long way to go before he can be called great. After all, he has won just one classic. I was afraid of him before the race, though, because I tried to pick holes in him and couldn't find any."

Gophers Lead by 2 Games in Big 10 Baseball Race

Minnesota's Gopher's couldn't reach the halfway mark in the Big Ten baseball race undefeated but the defending champions did manage to carve out a two-game lead with eight games to play.

The high flying Gophers finally suffered their first loss Saturday when they dropped a 3-1 decision to Wisconsin in the second game of a doubleheader after clobbering the Badgers 16-1 in the opener.

Ohio State climbed back into contention by downing Michigan State 2-1 and 7-6 as the Buckeyes boosted their record to 5-3, two games behind Minnesota and into a fourth place tie with Wisconsin.

Michigan, the only other team with less than four losses, defeated Indiana 9-4 and 6-5 to take over sixth place with a 3-3 record and Northwestern finally recorded a Big Ten triumph as the Wildcats defeated Iowa 6-5 after losing the first game of a doubleheader 5-0.

Inman Wins North-South

Golf Coach Sees Wake Forest Finale

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Perhaps the most interested spectator in the gallery watching Joe Inman defeat Lanny Wadkins 2 and 1 in the 36-hole finals of the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament Saturday was their Wake Forest University coach, Jesse Haddock.

When they reached the turn for the final nine holes, a newsman walked up to Haddock and said, "Congratulations on winning the North and South for the second year in a row."

★ ★ ★

"Thank you, but remember, I also lost it," said Haddock, mindful that one of his charges would win—at the expense of another.

EARLY LOSER

The 5-foot-11, 170-pound Inman finished even par for 121 holes in seven matches over the testing 7,000-yard No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club. He was even par in the finals.

Wadkins, only 5-foot-8 and weighing 145, played 125 holes and was two over par.

Inman, after leading the morning round twice by three holes, went to lunch with a 1-up lead on a one-over-par 73.

After he won the first two holes in the afternoon, he was caught by Wadkins birdies on Nos. 8 and 9. The freshman missed a hole-in-one by about four inches on the 162-yard ninth.

★ ★ ★

A par on the 11th and a 20-foot birdie putt on No. 13 gave Inman a two-hole lead and they halved the rest.

LONGER DRIVES

Wadkins usually hit the longer drives as both kept the ball in play most of the day, and had the edge in putting, but Inman's outstanding iron play won the tournament.

His classiest shot, a No. 5 iron approach on the 398-yard seventh, tore part of the lip of the cup, missing an eagle by an inch.

His irons were so accurate that he lost only four holes because of missed greens. Wadkins missed a dozen greens and lost eight of the holes.

Georgia Pro Blooms With Golfing Triumph

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Folks back in Georgia's Coffee County didn't think Larry Hinson would ever amount to much on the pro golf trail. But look at him today.

The 24-year-old Hinson, on the tour exactly a year, beat bespectacled Frank Beard on the third hole of sudden death Sunday to capture the $20,000 first prize in the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open.

They had finished 72 holes over the lush Lakewood Country Club course with 275s—13 under par.

"Everyone back home just thought I'd never make it because I didn't make good in my studies—a C average going through college—and they said, 'He's not bright and he can't knock the ball far enough and his handicap will probably keep him out," said Hinson.

WEAK ARM

Hinson's handicap is a left arm weakened by a bout with polio when he was five years old. But he has proven he can play with the best.

Hinson, who shot a closing round 67, started the final round five strokes behind Beard and Dave Hill of Jackson, Mich.

Hill slipped to a 73 and a three way tie for third at 276 with Bobby Mitchell, who had a 67, and Joel Goldstrand, who shot 70. Each won $5,300.

This was Hinson's first tour victory, his previous best was a second place at Hattiesburg, Miss. The big paycheck here boosted his winnings for the year to slightly over $31,000.

Miss Haynie Winner of Golf Event

BENTON, La. (AP) — Sandra Haynie, winner of the $15,000 Kiwanis Club Golf Tournament, said she felt certain she could win it after getting a birdie on the 13th hole—the toughest on the course.

"You're lucky to get a par on it," she said. "After that birdie, I figured I was the winner if I could only play steady."

Mickey Wright and Sandra Palmer came in two strokes back at 216.

Andy Etchebarren drove in five runs with a homer, triple, infield out and sacrifice fly and Paul Blair knocked in four with a three-run homer and a single as the Orioles stretched the Yankees' losing streak to seven games in the nightcap. Jim Hardin pitched a seven-hitter for the orioles, who have won seven of their last eight games.

Oliver hit a homer and five singles and Joe Foy and Lous Piniella each hit a two-run homer in the Royals' 19-hit attack. Oliver's 6-for-6 feat was the first time it had been performed in the American League since Floyd Robinson in 1962. Roger Nelson pitched a four-hitter with his second win. Pinch-hitter Graig Nettles' homer tied the score and Cesar Tovar delivered a game-winning single in the eighth inning as the Twins ran their winning streak to eight games. Joe Grzenda was the winner with ninth-inning relief help from Ron Perranoski while Bob Locker was the loser.

Pitcher John Odom drove in six runs with a homer and a double as the Athletics gained a split of their doubleheader after homers by Tommy Harper, Wayne Comer and Don Mincher paced the pilots to their first-game victory.

Curtain Falls for Red Sox' Brother Act

The Red Sox sent 21-year-old Billy on option to Louisville of the International League Sunday to make room for veteran outfielder Don Lock, 32, obtained from the Philadelphia Phils.

"It's hard to tell a boy who's hitting over .300 he's being sent out, but once again we're doing what we think is best for the club," Manager Dick Williams said.

"We think Billy will benefit by playing regularly," Williams added. "We also think we'll be better off with more experience."

Conigliaro headed for Louisville with a .313 average, four homers and six runs batted in in 16 games. He had 10 hits in 32 times at bat, but struck out 12 times.

★ ★ ★

Lock was acquired for minor league outfielder Bill Schlesinger and cash. Schlesinger also was involved in the deal which brought Ray Culp to Boston, but the outfielder later was returned to the Red Sox by the Chicago Cubs.

In seven years with the Washington Senators and Philadelphia, Lock has a .239 average and 121 homers. He was hitless in just four times at bat with the Phillies this year.

In Montreal, Face came in to pitch in the eighth inning, shut off a Pirate rally and then held his former team in the ninth after the Expos rallied for three runs in the last of the eighth.

John Boccabella doubled home two runs and scored the third on a throwing error by catcher Manny Sanguillen.

Atlanta completed a sweep of its three-game series with Los Angeles with the help of a wild throw by Wes Parker. The first baseman tossed away a relay throw, enabling two Braves to score in the fourth.

★ ★ ★

Houston pulled off a National League record seven double plays in defeating Juan Marichal and San Francisco. Doug Rader scored two of the Astros' three runs after tripling and doubling.

Rochester, PNH, Kettering 9's Better Records

Rochester, Pontiac Northern, Waterford Kettering and Northville all enhanced their successful baseball records this spring with victories Saturday.

Rochester whipped Pontiac Catholic, 7-1, for its fourth win in a row and fifth over-all against one defeat. Northern (6-3) split a twin bill with Kettering (5-2), losing 8-6 after a 7-5 opening game triumph.

★ ★ ★

BREAKS LOOSE

Avondale escaped its hitting doldrums by erupting for 32 hits in sweeping Oxford, 14-3 and 17-6, to end a four-game losing skid. Romeo and Ferndale swapped power displays, the host Bulldogs cracking five homers in a 10-8 opening triumph, then dropping an 11-1 verdict to Ferndale who scored six times in the opening inning.

Larry Heltsley, the PNH leadoff batter, ignited early two uprisings with a triple and single as PNH took a 5-0 lead. Teammate Larry Crivea homered in the Huskies' victory.

Dave Clancy clouted a two-run shot in the nightcap, but the PNH defense crumbled in the fourth inning when WKHS scored six times. Winner Wayne Smith put the Captains ahead to stay with a two-run single.

Fred Holdsworth struck out 12 and scattered five hits in tossing his second shutout for Northville (10-2). Terry Mills had three hits and five RBI's in the two games for the Mustangs.

Orv Campbell went the first six innings as Rochester built up a 5-0 lead quickly against PCHS (1-7). Stan Babiuk had a long home run and a single to pace the Falcons' attack with four RBI's.

STARTS STRONG

Rick Walker retired the first 10 Oxford hitters before Frank Leitheim homered. The Avondale pitcher was touched for only one other hit, struck out 1 and had two singles and a triple at the plate to produce four runs.

Avon's Harry Ramsey clouted a grand-slam homer in the nightcap and teammate Bob Davis had two singles, a double and triple to back Craig Medlen's three-hitter.

Mike Semp, who went five-for-seven in the twin bill at Romeo, drilled two homers in the opener and teammates Greg Schneider, Jerry Bryan and Bill Lasslett also connected for the home team (6-7).

Ferndale's Craig Fahoome, enjoying a seven-for-seven day, blasted a bases-loaded three-bagger in the opening inning of the wrapup game to send the Eagles (5-4) to their win. He had four singles, a double and homer in addition to the triple.

'Black Studies Help Whites'

Researcher: Classes Improve Attitudes

Do white children gain a better attitude toward black people when they are taught black history in an integrated classroom or in a segregated classroom?

Dr. Rodney Roth, a curriculum specialist at Oakland County Intermediate School District, found that attitudes of white children are more improved in an integrated classroom.

Black children gain self-esteem when studying black history and culture courses, whether the classroom is integrated or segregated, he said.

Dr. Roth based his conclusions on research made in 11 Pontiac fifth-grade classes last year. Some of the classes were all-black, some all-white and some integrated.

DOCTORAL DISSERTATION

The results of his survey on the effects of black studies in the various classrooms were published in his doctoral dissertation for the University of Michigan.

Roth said that the combination of integrated classrooms and black studies courses is the reason for improved attitudes toward blacks by white children.

"In an all-white school, teaching about blacks does nothing. Simply integrating does nothing either. But if you combine the two, you get a big gain," he said.

Roth also said black students don't reject the whites, but rate themselves higher than whites. Their attitudes toward whites are positive, however, he said.

2 Hospitalized by Avon Crash

A Warren teen-ager and an Avon Township man are hospitalized in fair condition after their car went off an Avon Township road early this morning.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said the car was a total wreck and had stolen license plates. The car may have been stolen, deputies said.

In fair condition at Crittenton Hospital in Avon Township are the driver, Karren Karpen, 16, of Warren, and Jimmy D. Jaynes, 23, of 1900 Ruby, Avon Township.

Deputies said the car was traveling east on Auburn Road at an unreported speed, crossed the center line and veered off the road.

More than 300 students and employers are reportedly expected.

—even for thousands who perspire heavily

A different formula has been found to keep underarms absolutely dry—even for thousands who perspire heavily.

After decades of common "deodorants," it took a chemical invention to make this truly effective protection possible — with the same safety to clothing — the same skin mildness as popular "deodorants." Called Mitchum Anti-Perspirant, it is the product of a trustworthy 56-year-old laboratory. By the thousands, women with problem perspiration are finding the protection they need —and never could find before. And fully effective as a deodorant, too, of course.

If you perspire more than average — even heavily — get the positive protection of Mitchum Anti-Perspirant. Liquid — smoothes on thru satin. Or Cream — vanishing, non-sticky. Each $3.00.

BOTH HAVE MONEY BACK GUARANTEE — If you are not entirely satisfied with Mitchum Anti-Perspirant, liquid or cream, return package to the store where you bought it. Stores are authorized to refund full cash price.

Jim: "We really jumped the gun when we wrote about Dorothy Hayden's new book, 'Winning Declarer Play,' back in early March."

Oswald: "It was really Dorothy's fault. She sent us preliminary proofs instead of final ones."

Oswald: "Let's take a fairly simple one that is a variation on an old theme. As a matter of fact, Sidney Lenz made almost this identical play with me back in the Lenz-Culbertson match of 1931."

Jim: "I like the title for the hand which is, 'Think Now, Play Later.'"

Oswald: "South's jump to five clubs is all-purpose. He doesn't know who can make what but he knows he can't be hurt there and wants to crowd the bidding."

Jim: "Against any lead but a heart, South would try to work out some sort of end play against East. The heart lead changes his whole campaigne."

★ ★ ★

Oswald: "The play of the deuce from dummy is rather easy. West might have led from the heart king but East produces it."

Jim: "This is the time for South to think. If he plays his four of hearts right away he can think for hours but he won't make the hand if East and West defend properly. If he thinks first, he will drop his queen of hearts under the king."

Oswald: "Once he gets rid of this card he will have a simple finesse against the jack of hearts. He will go down two if it doesn't work, but he should take that extra risk. It does work and he makes his game."

Mace Fells Loose Bull

CRESSON, Pa. (AP) — Vernon Wilder has found a new way to keep them down on the farm —roaming bulls, that is.

The director of the Cresson State School and Hospital ended the three-day romp of a runaway bull with one well-aimed spray of chemical Mace.

Cocktail Book Seeks to Help Russians Mix

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Russians have published a cocktail recipe book with a difference: They hope it will reduce instead of increase drinking.

The volume of 300 recipes, tips on enjoying alcoholic and nonalcoholic beverages, and other bar lore is believed to be one of the first compilations of its kind in the USSR.

It appeared in Minsk, the capital of the Byelorussian Soviet Republic.

A book reviewer in the weekly Nedelya pinpointed its aim, writing "It is a pity the author did not spell out criticism of the persistent prejudice here that all mixed drinks are harmful."

THE ONLY ANSWER

Briefly—Straight vodka is the only answer.

"What to drink, how much to drink, when and how to drink . . . if this is not a science, it is at least a subject for serious conversation," the reviewer wrote.

It will be an uphill fight. In the Russian tradition, the virile way to drink is to tip the vodka bottle and swallow.

At more refined parties, vodkas or Soviet-produced cognacs are drunk from shot glasses—but still straight except perhaps for a shake of ground pepper, a custom from the old days of unrefined vodkas when the pepper grains carried dangerous fusel oil to the bottom of the glass.

QUIVER AT SIGHT

Many a westerner, sipping his imported Scotch, has quivered at the sight of his Russian friend tossing down two ounces of straight whisky is a single gulp and happily accepting the other half.

Such two-fisted drinking leads inevitably to an admitted major alcohol problem in the Soviet Union. The fact there are no equivalents of the comfortable bars or companionable pubs of Western cities doesn't help.

A routine sight in shops selling vodka is a man standing near the counter, his fist across his chest and his thumb pointing up to fellow-thirsters, this means "I have a ruble ($1.10) towards a bottle of vodka. Who's sharing?"

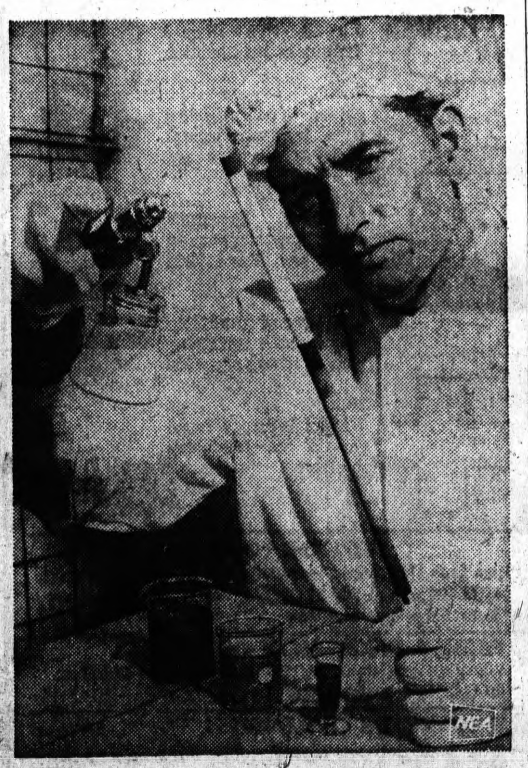
Eventually a second man will join him and the finger sign changes to two digits extended, meaning "two rubles in the kitty and waiting."

FINISH IT FAST

A third volunteer's contribution brings the fund to the three-ruble price of a bottle, and all three new acquaintances then adjourn to a dark doorway or a quiet corner of a park and finish the bottle as fast as possible. Probably a second bottle follows. And likely a night in a "sobering-up station."

It's hard to persuade this kind of drinker that a cocktail in which the liquor is diluted with fruit juice or soda can be anything but a dangerous mixture.

The new cocktail book makes the effort. But even it warns that "a mixture, taken in horse-draught quantities, still will ensure a headache."



'GNOMON' KNOWS — This color-striped aluminum stick is scheduled for a trip to the moon with the Apollo II astronauts, who will frame it within their photographs of the moon, so scientists can compare its color with those of the lunar surface. It was developed by engineers at NASA's Manned Space Center in Houston, Tex., who call it a "gnomon" — Greek for "one who knows." A Hughes technician sprays the gnomon with inorganic paint which will resist ultraviolet radiation and withstand the moon's 250-degree temperature.

New Record Is Claimed in Transatlantic Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Contestants in the great transatlantic air race of 1969 are using elevators, ambulances, antique cars, jet planes, balloons. Anything to cover the distance between the observation deck of the Empire State Building and the top of London's Post Office Tower in the shortest possible time.

Lt. Paul Waterhouse piloted a Royal Navy Phantom jet across the Atlantic Sunday in 5 hours, 4 minutes and 25 seconds. When he landed in London, a Navy spokesman said it was the fastest transatlantic flight ever. His trips to and from the airport took another 26 minutes.

The race, sponsored by the London Daily Mail to mark the 50th anniversary of the first nonstop flight over the Atlantic, offers $144,000 in prizes. It has drawn 390 entires in 21 categories.

HISTORIC FLIGHT

John Alcock and Arthur Whitten Brown flew a Vickers-Vimy biplane from Newfoundland to a bog near Galway, Ireland on June 14 and 15, 1919, taking 15 hours, 57 minutes.

Some entrants have elaborate schemes for coping with traffic jams, including ambulances with red lights flashing, motorcycle escorts and helicopters. Two entrant used a speedboat to reach a helicopter pad in the middle of London's Thames River.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Cooper Walker pulled away from the Empire State Building in a 1919 Stutz Bearcat. Walker, a Baltimore travel agent, will finish in a 1919 Rolls Royce, and in between he'll use a horse-drawn coach, six planes and two balloons.

'MOST MERITORIOUS'

He said he's aiming for the "most meritorious" prize.

Among the more daring adventurers in Ben Garcia, 32, of East Brunswick, N.J., who left New York's Flushing Airport in the race's smallest entry, a Piper Colt.

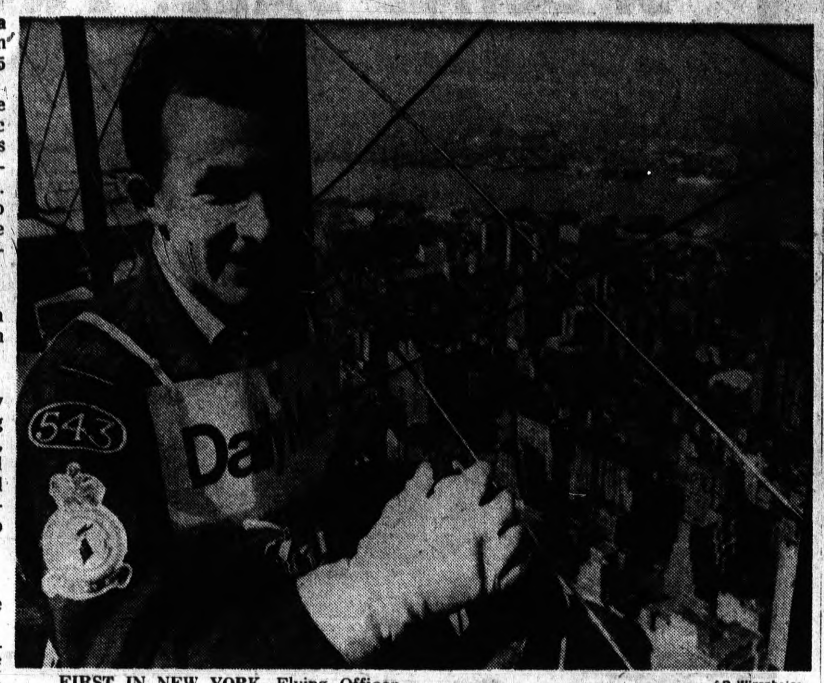
"I'm a bit apprehensive," he said after arriving in Saint John, N.B., on the first leg of his trip. "I'll have a problem making the 700-mile hop from Iceland to Ireland."

★ ★ ★

His 108-horsepower plane has a range of 600 miles, but Garcia said he'd "wait for a good tail wind" in Iceland, climb high and glide to Ireland.

"I have seven pounds of peanut butter, a bottle of cognac donated by the BBC (British Broadcasting Co.) and 500 biscuits for emergencies, but I'm afraid I won't have enough gas."



FIRST IN NEW YORK—Flying Officer William Fuller of the RAF was first to reach the top of the Empire State Building yesterday. He had left London's Post Office Tower six hours and 28 minutes earlier. AP Wirephotos

OFF AND RUNNING—Gail Shepherd, 12, clutches a flying helmet and stewardess Louise Humphrey's hand as they sprint across London's Heathrow Airport yesterday, headed for a transatlantic flight. Gail is the youngest entrant in a race marking the 50th anniversary of the first nonstop transoceanic flight. It is the first time she has flown.

Public Relations Staffer Is Picked

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Marion Corwell Shertzer of Dearborn, Mich., was installed Sunday as president of the American Women in Radio and Television. She is educational affairs representative on the public relations staff of Ford Motor Co. in Dearborn.

'Love In' Lives Up to Its Name

SOUTH MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — About 1,200 young people held what some labeled a "love-in" at Grant Park along Lake Michigan in this Milwaukee suburb yesterday.

The police loved it.

There was a lot of singing, dancing, horseplay and old-fashioned fun.

Ninety miles to the west in Madison, young people were hurling rocks and bricks at police who retaliated with tear gas and Mace in the second consecutive night of violence during a young people's "block party" near the University of Wisconsin.

The difference was a permit. Here they got one, there they didn't.

The biggest headaches for South Milwaukee police here were traffic and parking jams caused by some 6,500 curious people-watchers who came to see if anything was happening at the happening.

TALUS Staff, GOP to Meet

The 18th Congressional District Republican organization will participate in a dialogue with the Detroit Transportation and Land Use Study (TALUS) staff at 7:30 p.m. next Monday, at the Daily Tribune Auditorium, Royal Oak.

John A. Gibbs, 18th District Republican chairman, said the meeting was scheduled as a part of the organization's investigation into local issues.

★ ★ ★

"Eighteenth District Republicans are attempting to approach the district's problems on a regional basis," Gibbs said.

"We expect to continue our study of current issues so that we may bring the influence of the party to bear on solving the problems of the entire metropolitan area."

★ ★ ★

A preliminary land-use study recently was released by TALUS and approved by its administrative committee, 8-1. It calls for the development of new "metro" areas at four sites in Oakland County.

House Action Due on Cycle Helmet Bill

A bill to that effect is now ready for final House of Representative action, but its outcome is considered uncertain.

The Michigan Appeals Court has previously ruled such a law unconstitutional, despite the fact that some other states do have a similar statute.

★ ★ ★

Also ready for house action are two other bills.

● Grain, fruit and vegetable stores would be exempt from personal property taxes now paid by canners and food processors.

The bill has been branded a $2-million giveaway by one Democrat, but others have backed it, pointing out the bill is a holdover attempt from past years.

● Small loan companies would be allowed to lend as much as $5,000 to one borrower under a revised bill. Such loans at annual interest rates varying from 24 to 30 per cent are now limited to $1,000.

★ ★ ★

Democrats say the change would only add to the financial problems of unsophisticated borrowers denied credit by banks, credit unions or savings and loan companies.

3 Robberies Are Reported to City Police

About $340 was reported stolen in two armed robberies and one unarmed robbery in Pontiac over the weekend.

The attendenat, Larry Shenkle, 22, of 1406 Ora, Oxford, told police two men drove up in a 1965 or 1966 red Buick and ordered $2 worth of gas.

One of the men pulled a luger-type pistol on Shenkle when he tried to collect the $2. The gunmen demanded all his money, Shenkle said. After giving them $45, Shenkle said, he was struck in the mouth and about the body by one of the gunmen.

PURSE SNATCHED

Evelyn Osley, 42, reported to police Saturday night that her purse, containing $95, was snatched from her as she was going into her home at 310 W. Wilson.

Wilbur Givens, 48, of 30 Clovese said a man he knows robbed $200 from him Saturday night after squirting him in the face with a blinding liquid from a water gun and allegedly pulling a gun on him. A complaint was to be signed today.

U.S. Protests Czech Quiz of 3 Students

PRAGUE (AP) — The American Embassy is asking the Czechoslovak government to explain the treatment of three American students who were arrested in Wenceslas Square on May Day and questioned for seven hours.

A U.S. consul said the students were George M. White, Christopher Ottenweller and Walter James Kelly, members of the Notre Dame University international study program at Innsbruck, Austria. They had come to Prague as weekend tourists.

CTK, the Czechoslovak news agency, said the three Americans were expelled from the country over the weekend along with three Dutch TV newsmen, a three-member team from the British Broadcasting Corp. and two West German students.

All 11 "violated our laws and Czechoslovak legal norms," CTK said.

The U.S. Embassy said the three Americans were not expelled but were allowed to stay until their visas expired Sunday night.

Project Won't Curb Walton Traffic Flow

Construction of two additional traffic lanes in a boulevard plan on East Walton between Squirrel and Adams Road is not expected to affect the east-west flow of traffic along Walton.

★ ★ ★

County Road Commission spoeksmen, who report work has begun on the $691,934 project in Pontiac and Avon Townships, say a detour will become necessary later on Adams when the Adams-Walton intersection is resurfaced.

★ ★ ★

The commission intends to build two new lanes for eastbound Walton traffic south of the present roadway. Groundwork is currently being done, according to the commission.

An Old Dutch Cookbook Says:

"Throw papa down the stairs—his hat
And make shut the door."

So, throw papa down the stairs his hat make shut the door already and point him north on US 10 to Davisburg Rd. Then west to beautiful Lake Braemar and ask him to buy a lot at the present low prices on this lovely spot.

See the well build quad level model home. (Open for the present Sat. and Sun. PM. Hours 2 to 5) at the low price of $35,500. Blacktop drive (to be installed). Eavestroughed. Lawn (to be seeded). 3 bedrooms. 2½ baths. Large carpeted family room with fireplace. 2 car attached garage. Thermopane picture living room window and dining room doors. Huge storage room. Utility room. Large walk in cedar closets and many other features. We call this "Our House With No Round Corners" because the builder didn't cut any. House can be duplicated on any other Lake Braemar lot for $32,000, at present price.

After seeing this scenic, highly restricted area — if papa doesn't buy a lot and build a house — you may even consider holding papa's hat and throwing papa down the stairs, but you wouldn't.

To us it's paying 50 cents for parking to avoid paying $1 fine for over parking, while going in to pay 10 cents for a 5 cent cup of coffee. Quoted from T. C. News, Winter Garden, Florida.

BUT

The price of this farm is not inflationary — at $1750 per acre — in an area where land is selling for $3,000 per acre.

Approximately ½ mile road frontage, approximately 1 mile lake frontage. By surveyors report: 87 workable acres out of 113. Some of the 113 acres extend into the lake. Has the making of a beautiful development with island or recreational area or overnight camping site. On Nelsey Rd. just off Andersonville Rd.

BEAUTIFUL LAKE BRAEMAR

President Honors a 'Duke' at Lively White House Party

By EARL WILSON

WHITE HOUSE, Washington—Seventy-year-old Duke Ellington had his arms around old buddy Cab Calloway in the East Room of the White House, and even though President Nixon and Pat had gone "upstairs," there was still a riotous jam session at 1 a.m., and Vice President Agnew said to this reporter, "You know, I play a little Duke Ellington on the piano, too."

WILSON

That's the kind of night it was, the White House turned into the Cotton Club or the Apollo Theater, although there were people there who'd never heard of the Cotton Club or the Apollo.

"Can you imagine Coolidge having done this?" said composer Harold Arlen.

"It's never been done before," remarked the President, who had been rocking and shoulder-rolling with the rest of the 250 guests.

He had also played "Happy Birthday" on the piano to Duke, who saluted him with a kiss on each cheek.

★ ★ ★

Then the President got a laugh out of the black tie crowd by noting that Duke Ellington's name in the program was "Edward Kennedy (Duke) Ellington," as though asking, "Now what can one make of that?"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

Alice Faye says she's unhappy about the Broadway scene: "Nearly all my favorite old night clubs are now either clothing stores or office buildings" . . . Shelley Winters decreed no more mother roles for her: "I want a sexy image—which is the real me, anyway."

TODAY'E BEST LAUGH: According to TV, there are only three kinds of shopkeepers: Your favorite dealer, your neighborhood dealer, and your friendly dealer.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: In some stores cigarets are now 50 cents a pack. "Among the things that cigarets cause," says E. G. Rosenblatt, "is poverty."

★ ★ ★

EARL'S PEARLS: Tact is the ability to close your mouth—before someone else does it.

Power Loss Hits Coldwater Sector

COLDWATER (AP) — An estimated 4,000 residents—about half the city's population—lost electric power for about two hours Sunday in Coldwater.

A Look at TV

Special Is Eye-Catching

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK—There was a costar without big billing on last night's "H. Andrew Williams' Magic Lantern Show Company." It was the fellow who dreamed up those spectacular optical effects that were the attention-grabbing feature of the first part of the NBC special.

Andy Williams' programs, whether the old weekly series or his recent specials, invariably are almost 100 per cent music. His final special of this season was no exception.

With some solid and diversified assistance from guests Aretha Franklin, Roger Miller, Sergio Mendes and Brasil '66, Williams pretty well covered the current musical waterfront. The range was from "The Spanish Flea" to "Little Green Apples"—there seems to be an unwritten rule that the latter must be sung once in every variety show.

★ ★ ★

But had it not been for these extraordinary camera tricks, it would have been just another of those handsome, tuneful and slick musical specials that a number of producers have learned to turn out.

SMALL BOXES

Roger Miller rode a motorcycle from box to box. At one point, when all the guest stars were in boxes, it appeared by some cinematic legerdemain that Andy was climbing up the side of one aperture and even was able to jump across to the top of another.

All this was highly diverting and—fortunately—did not continue through the show. The principal disadvantage in using sophisticated motion picture tricks is that the average TV screen is too small. A hard close-up is still the most effective TV shot. This was used imaginately, too, with a close shot of Roger Miller singing while in a corner of the screen a pair of dancers performed in slow motion.

The final "On Stage" drama of the season will be "The Skirts of Happy Chance," to be broadcast on NBC May 28. The original play by Albert Ruben is described as a comedy about people in an antipoverty program. It will star William Shatner, late of "Star Trek."

General Sets Fitness Rule

SCOTT AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. (AP) — Brig. Gen. Paul R. Stoney, 50, has issued a challenge to the 50,000 officers and airmen under his command:

"Beat my record for the three-mile run and you have an automatic exclusion from individual physical fitness testing."

The feat, however, may not be all that simple for the youngsters of the Air Force Communications Service, of which Stoney is vice commander.

The general, a former trackman at Emory University, runs from two to five miles a day and has been clocked at 21 minutes in the three-mile run.

Junior Editors Quiz on ACCENTS

ANSWER: The writer of this article spent a number of years as a child in England and quite naturally spoke English in the way every one else around him did. Later, coming to America when 11 years old, he was astonished at the new way his new schoolmates spoke English. They were equally astonished at the way in which he talked.

Later, the American way of speaking became entirely familiar and natural. People speak according to the manner in which others about them speak. It never occurs to them that they might be speaking with an accent.

This is one of the great values of travel. You see that the customs and habits of other people are not necessarily the same as your own, and you learn respect for the other fellow's ideas and traditions.

Language is a living thing. New words are constantly creeping into it, as well as expressions originated in some particular place, yet which people in other places find to be valuable too.

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University journalism students plan to pull off a new type of protest aimed at upgrading facilities in their 1892-vintage classroom building.

"We're going to take our old typewriters over there to show him," said Patricia Anstett, a Detroit senior active in the movement.

Some 45 "J-students" met Friday with Dr. Erwin Bettinghaus, assistant dean of the School of Communication Arts. "He just told us to see Dr. Adams," Miss Anstett said.

"There are two typing labs for 343 undergraduate and graduate students in the department," she said. "The johns overflow in the basement when it rains."

On Demand for U.S. Pullout

S. Viet Sees Reds Yielding

From Our News Wires

SAIGON — A South Vietnamese official said today his nation's peace talks delegation was convinced the Communists will back down from their demand for the total withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam.

This, he said, would providde a breakthrough in the negotiations which began in January and bogged down with the Communists promising progress only after American soldiers left the war zone.

Meanwhile, Mme Nguyen Thi Binh, the deputy Vietcong negotiator in Paris, returned today from a mysterious trip deep into the jungles of South Vietnam where she conferred with leaders of the National Liberation Front. The allies here said they thought her trip could lead to a more flexible negotiating position by the NLF.

Communist sources in Paris said almost three weeks ago that they would accept a withdrawal of perhaps 50,000 GIs as fulfilling their demand for the U.S. to start pulling out its forces from Vietnam.

However, President Nixon, despite increasing congressional pressure for some immediate U.S. withdrawals, evidently has begun a campaign to convince the public such a move is inadvisible at this time.

In talks with reporters over the weekend, White House officials said the President has a carefully worked out strategy that he feels still shows sign of getting somewhere and would be disrupted by starting troop withdrawals now.

Last week, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the No. 2 Republican in the Senate, and Sen. George Aiken of Vermont, top Republican on the foreign relations committee, called for the return home of a substantial block of U.S. troops as a means of inducing North Vietnam to begin serious bargaining in Paris.

For the first time, Hanoi yesterday hinted that the United States was "de-escalating" the war, something the North Vietnamese would look on favorably in the contest of the vietnam peace negotiations.

U.S. officials are analyzing a speech by Premier Pham Van Dong to see whether it advances Vietnamese peace negotiations in any way. For the moment they are skeptical.

They said the reference to de-escalating military operations, if accurately reported, probably referred to President Johnson's action last Oct. 31 in halting the bombing of North Vietnam.

White House sources conceded over the weekend that North Vietnam still seems not to have made the basic decision to accept for some years an independent South Vietnam. Without such a decision, officials here believe, a negotiated settlement of the war is impossible.

Nixon's major hopes for the future, therefore, evidently rest more on his confidence in the buildup of South Vietnamese military and political stability and on what he judges to be the ddeclining striking power of the North eVietnamese-Vietcong forces in South-Vietnam.

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Pornography is a growing business. How is it affecting Pontiac and the nation? Can it be banned by law? What are the views of those for and against it? These topics are examined in a four-part series, starting today.)

BY DICK ROBINSON

ROBINSON

Even though Kathy wears no makeup and looks a lot younger than 18, the cashier takes her word for it, then takes her $3.50.

It shows men and women tumbling about in postures which would challenge a contortionist and wearing nothing but leers.

Pontiac police cracked down on such sales last week with the aim of removing "smut" — magazines, paperback books, photographs and movies — from all city stores.

3 CASHIERS ARRESTED

Cashiers at three Pontiac stores were arrested on charges of selling obscene magazines to a minor. They face a preliminary court examination tomorrow.

Heading the three-month old investigation is 43-year-old Chief William K. Hanger, the father of three children. He argues:

"I want this stuff taken off the stands completely. It is unwholesome for juveniles, and I don't feel it is healthy even for adults.

"Often this type of literature promotes crime. It's possible that someone who is a borderline case can see this filthy stuff, get excited and engage in window peeping, indecent exposure, rape or an immoral act with someone," he claims.

'POLICE RESPONSIBILITY'

Hanger said he feels it is "the responsibility of the police to protect the welfare and morals of the people in the community."

The chief personally initiated the antismut drive because he wants to stop the sales of these publications before they get worst.

"This dirty material has reached a serious level now," he insists. "I worry

Madison Police, Youths Clash

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Hundreds of University of Wisconsin students erected flaming street barricades early today in sympathy with hippies whose attempts to hold a block dance were smashed by police using clubs and irritant gas.

The students poured out of dormitories and fraternity houses, following two nights of battle between the hippies and the police, and surged into the business area, where for several hours they defied efforts to disperse them.

More than 1,000 young persons were involved before scattered disorders subsided. The throngs also included hippies and scores of their fellow student residents of the off-campus Mifflin Street neighborhood.

The weekend of disorder resulted in about 80 arrests. Two of those detained were City Aldermen Paul Soglin and Eugene Parks. Soglin, 24, accused the police of shearing off his long hair before he was freed on bond.

TRIED TO INTERVENE

Soglin, a university student known as "the hippie alderman," said he was arrested when he tried to intervene.

The trouble began Saturday when police began breaking up barricades which residents of the Mifflin Street neighborhood had used to mark the site of a planned street dance. The police said the dance would block traffic.

Police waded in a cloud of gas with nightsticks flailing, and began making arrests. When police moved back yesterday and the gas blew away, hippies quickly rebuilt their barricades.

Peace was shattered yesterday when officers tossed more gas and waded into an afternoon gathering of about 300 young residents of the Mifflin Street neighborhood. Arrests resumed, most for unlawful assembly.

JAIL PICKETED

The throng swelled to more than 1,000 when other students joined forces with the Mifflin Street residents.

As more clouds of the gas rolled down streets hundreds of students marched down State Street to the city's business district.

Police followed, and the gas flowed into shops and hotels.

Plumbing Firms Face Lawsuits in Price Fixing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of the nation's largest makers of plumbing fixtures face the possible loss of billions of dollars from damage suits by customers who bought their equipment at what a federal grand jury found were illegally fixed prices.

Nearly every state and numerous cities already have filed suits seeking treble damages against the three firms convicted of criminal price fixing last week and 12 other companies who earlier pleaded no contest to the charges, according to a Justice Department official.

★ ★ ★

Besides the state and local governments, other major purchasers of plumbing fixtures — building contractors, and even individual homeowners — are expected to file suits, the official added.

★ ★ ★

Under federal law, those found guilty of criminal violations of antitrust acts are liable, if convicted in subsequent civil suits, for treble damages.

BATHTUB PRICES

The prospect for the mammoth damages arose Friday when a federal jury in Pittsburgh found the Borg Warner Corp. of Chicago, American Standard Corp. of New York; and the Kohler Corp. of Kohler, Wisc., guilty of illegally raising and presetting the price for bathtubs and other bathroom fixtures.

Three officials of the firms also were found guilty.

The 15 companies and eight officials were accused in federal indictments Oct. 6, 1966, with fixing the prices on all fixtures they sold between September 1962 and 1966.

★ ★ ★

The government said the total sales amounted to $1 billion or 98 per cent of the enameled cast iron plumbing fixtures and 80 per cent of the vitreous china plumbing fixtures sold in this country during the period.

Stay-Alive Point Plan Dropped

DAU TIENG, Vietnam (AP) — A U.S. battalion commander who charged competitive points against platoons losing men in combat says he dropped the program after learning his men were opposed to it.

Lt. Col. James T. Bradley, a 40-year-old Korean War veteran from Arlington, Va., started the competition three weeks ago. He said it was designed to prevent needless casualties among his men, some of whom "just weren't being alert."

Platoons of the 25th Infantry Division's 1st Battalion, 27th Infantry, were awarded points for enemy troops killed, weapons captured and rice caches discovered. Platoons that suffered battle casualties lost points. The winning platoons received two or three days off at a rest center.

★ ★ ★

The battalion's operations officer, Maj. Jerry Holiday of Memphis, Tenn., said the point-deduction system was decided on after one company had constant mishaps with booby traps in the enemy-infested Bo Loi Woods and Michelin rubber plantation northwest of Saigon.

Showers Possible Tonight, Tuesday

During the night, a cloud cover moved into the Oakland County area to filter this morning's sunshine and bring with it the threat of showers and thunderstorms by tonight and tomorrow.

Today's temperatures are due to range in the mid-70s with tonight's low falling between 50 and 55.

Winds, east to southeast at 8 to 15 m.p.h., will stabilize out of the southeast at 10-15 m.p.h. by tonight and swing to the south at 10 to 18 m.p.h. by tomorrow.

Wednesday's outlook will be partly cloudy and cooler.

Zap---That's Where It's At?

Yes, Zap's where it's at this spring vacation for at least 3,500 college students from 10 schools next weekend.

This prairie hamlet of 339 persons—an unlikely candidate for the title of "Fort Lauderdale of the North"—is awaiting the arrival of the students with a program of hayrides, horseback rides and a beer-drinking contest.

The "Zip to Zap" movement began with an article in the "Spectrum," the North Dakota State College student newspaper. The paper urged students to zip on up to the village, 75 miles northwest of Bismarck, for a mother's day "zapout."

★ ★ ★

Gov. William Guy conferred with the National Guard and State Police about coping with the situation.

$15,000 in Stolen Goods Found

Loot in Area Thefts Is Traced

Police made considerable headway Saturday in solving the wave of house break-ins that has plagued Bloomfield Hills since Jan. 1.

A raid on a house in Redford Township by state police detectives and officers from four suburban police departents produced nearly $15,000 in stolen goods ranging from snow blowers and shovels to mink stoles and jewelry.

★ ★ ★

Police charged the occupant of the house, Emmett Boll, with possession of stolen goods and posession of unregistered firearms. He was arraigned in District Court yesterday and will face preliminary examination May 13.

The major break in the case came Friday when police arrested a Birmingham man and his wife and charged them with passing a bad check with identification reportedly stolen in a Troy burglary.

2 UNDER INVESTIGATION

The couple was identified as Mr. and Mrs. David L. Bishop, 1275 Humphrey. Bishop's role in the burglaries is under investigation.

Both were arraigned Saturday before Birmingham District Judge Alice L. Gilbert. Their preliminary examination is scheduled for Thursday.

Most of the merchandise found Saturday was taken from the residences of Henry Hogan, 400 Dunston Road, and Raymond Eppert, 295 Lone Pine Court, both in Bloomfield Hills.

Bloomfield Hills Police Chief Walter Sluiter said the goods yet to be identified are believed to be also from residences in Bloomfield Hills.

OTHER COMMUNITIES

Chief Suiter said the multi department investigation into the theft ring, which police believe has been responsible for thefts in Bloomfield Township, Troy, Birmingham and other suburban communities, is continuing.

Burglaries in Bloomfield Hill since Jan. 1 have reached 24 with the biggest haul coming Feb. 2 at the James Zeder residence, 1040 Orchard Ridge Road — nearly $30,000 in silverware.

Police believe there are four or five persons involved in the theft ring. Footprints found at some of the burglary sites indicating at least one woman was involved.

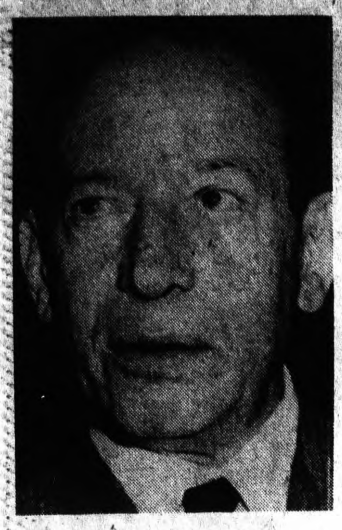
Fortas Denies Taking Fee, Aiding Jailed Industrialist



LOUIS E. WOLFSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Abe Fortas received a $20,000 fee from the family of industrialist Louis E. Wolfson three months after he was seated on the Supreme Court and did not return the money until 11 months later, according to Life magazine.

Fortas confirmed Sunday that he was offered and considered a fee but flatly denied that he accepted or that he stepped in to help Wolfson, a former client who went to jail last month on a federal securities law convitcion.

The justice said he returned the fee, "tendered" in 1966, "with my thanks." His statement, issued at the court after he had read an advance copy of the Life article, did not say how large the fee was or when he returned it.

Life's account was that the Wolfson Family Foundation, a tax-free charitable organization set up by Wolfson and his brothers, paid Fortas $20,000 in January 1966, three months after he was sworn in as an associate justice.

RETURNED MONEY

The article, by William Lambert, said Fortas returned the money in December 1966, three months after the financial tycoon and his long-time business associate, Elkin Gerbert, had been indicted on charges of selling a large block of unregistered stock in a company Wolfson and Gerbert controlled.

Life said "whatever services he may or may not have rendered to the foundation, Justice Fortas' name was being dropped in strategic places by Wolfson and his business associate, Elkin Gerbert, in their effort to stay out of prison."

The Justice Department, meanwhile, said it "is aware of the contents of the article in Life magazine and currently has the matter under consideration."

Hart Hits Inequities in Federal Spending

By JEAN SAILE

An imbalance of spending at the national level was blasted by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., as he addressed a crowd of 700 persons Saturday night at Oakland University.

HART

Hart cited budgetary overruns on development of the C58 Galaxy cargo plane and the Cheyenne helicopter amounting to $3.1 billion.

"That's one-third more than Congress is debating for commitment to the war on poverty," Hart noted at the 12th annual Phil Hart dinner.

★ ★ ★

"Who is screaming?" he asked. "Not many. Is it any wonder that our kids are motivated to scream?"

'APPETITE FOR WAR'

The senior senator from Michigan blamed "an insatiable appetite for war" for the fact that 75 cents of every tax dollar is spent on war "past, present and future."

Hart's speech was nevertheless an appeal to young people to remain within the established system of government.

"It is possible to change the system," he said, and he cited changes wrought by the Voting Rights Act of 1965. Hart appealed for support to extend the act.

The senator, one of the chief congressional opponents of the proposed antiballistic missile (ABM) system, affirmed to newsmen before the dinner that the Pentagon has an alternative plan "half as expensive" should Congress defeat the ABM development.

'DUAL SYSTEMS'

He said it was his understanding that Defense Department officials could propose that existing and future intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBM) could be equipped with dual guidance systems so they could function as ABMs if needed.

Hart said he was sure that had the military and Congress known in advance of the furor that deployment of ABMs would create, they would have proceeded with expansion of existing systems.

It's still possible, but not likely, the senator said.

The vote on ABMs is expected in the Senate next month.

'MOST SUCCESSFUL'

The dinner Saturday night was termed the "most successful of them all" by dinner chairman Elbert Hatchett, 66 Murray, Pontiac.

Dignitaries present included former gubernatorial candidates Neil Staebler and Zolton Ferency. James Hare, Michigan secretary of state, and Robert Nederlander, University of Michigan regent, also were present.

Dinner guests were met outside the entrance to Vandenburg Hall by several women with picket signs asking more funds for Aid to Dependent Children and noting Sen. Hart's help in this field.

Israeli military spokesmen said their aircraft hit an Arab guerrilla base yesterday between Elath and the Dead Sea near the Jordanian-Israeli border and reported that all planes involved in the raid returned safely.

★ ★ ★

Hussein's visit with Nasser today is the second high-level conference between the Egyptian president and an Arab leader in three days.

★ ★ ★

Food Poisoning Hits 13 Tourists, 1 Fatally

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) — A trans-Pacific jetliner made an emergency landing at Anchorage Airport yesterday after 13 members of a "cherry blossom tour" of the Orient were stricken by food poisoning, one of them fatally.

Authorities said the victims apparently ate the contaminated food in Hong Kong, where they boarded a connecting flight for Tokyo earlier.

The tourists became ill shortly after leaving Tokyo for Seattle on a Northwest Orient Flight, and the pilot, Warren Abenson, radioed Anchorage that he intended to make an emergency landing.

what next year will bring if action isn't taken.

'STEP AWAY

Men and women are a "step away" from intercourse or unorthodox sex acts, and homosexuals and lesbians are committing multiple perversions upon each other in the publications, he claims.

★ ★ ★

Graphic descriptions of sex acts are found in magazines with such titles as "Swap," "Sin Game," "Suburban Swingers," "Busty" and "Nymph." There are hundreds of different magazines.

★ ★ ★

One magazine described itself as "an educational, scientific, sociological and cultural publication." It "illustrates":

● "That the human body is clean and wholesome."

● "That increasing public understanding of the nudist point of view will contribute to the well-being of and advancement of the public, whether practicing nudists or not, as well as to the American heritage of the free press."

MANY FROM CALIFORNIA

Fulsome paperbak books are also trucked into this area by the $500-million-a-year pornography industry, said Guy White, head of the Pontiac vice squad. Most of them come from the pornography capital of the United States — California.

★ ★ ★

Los Angeles alone prints and sends out across the land more than 700,000 copies a month of sex-oriented magazines.

★ ★ ★

Attractive, inexpensive paperbacks describe the "lives" of allegedly real people — high school students and their teachers, young executives and their secretaries, doctors and nurses, for example.

Their days and nights are spent, without pause, in sexual activity.

It is an endless parade of heterosexual and homosexual liaisons and indescribable sadism, sodomy, bestiality, lesbianism and masochism told in meticulous detail.

Parents and school officials in Pontiac and across the nation have been finding immoral literature turning up with increasing frequency in the hands of millions of schoolchildren, Hanger said.

★ ★ ★

"Juveniles are the pornographers' natural prey," a police school counselor remarked. "They're curious, they're naive, they want to pose as adults and they have plenty of money."

Cost of a "skin" magazine is anywhere from $2.50 to $5, White observed.

WHAT TO DO?

But no one seems suite sure what, if anything, to do about the problem — at home, at school or in the community.

Pontiac's police department, though, is considering action beyond normal enforcement of the law, Hanger revealed.

Police officials may be sent into the community to familiarize citizens with obscenity problems and laws. The police would use visual aids.

The lewd material problem in this area was recognized as early as 1960. Former Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor ordered a crackdown on unexpurgated literature.

MERCHANTS PRESSURED

Four years later the problem erupted again. Parents and police pressured Pontiac and Waterford Township merchants to remove materials from their stands.

The businessmen cooperated, but the objectionable material soon reappeared.

★ ★ ★

"Look what we have today," Hanger pointed out. "We have what I'd call real hard-core obscenity on the racks for anyone to see.

MRS. LOWE
I've worked at Penney's for 10 years. The most exciting thing for me has been to watch year after year of Mother's Day Shoppers and how they've changed. I've seen a lot of little ones grow up.

I remember when Miracle Mile wasn't even here. And Union Lake was only a crossroads. We moved from Pontiac thinking we were moving to the country, but look at it now.

Well, one thing I remember is when Wigland wasn't at Miracle Mile. In fact, I remember when Miracle Mile was still a field. I also remember Mt. Clemens Street before it was one-way; that I learned the hard way.

Independence Begins

Nursery School Is First Crucial Step

By YOLANDA BENAVIDES

How will Johnny react that first school morning as mother slips her hand out of his and nudges him past the classroom door?

Hopefully, his first 'go' with the stranger at the front of the room and the other bewildered Johnnys and Marys will conclude on a successful note.

Success, however, is not always an easy route to find on first try, even for the very young.

For this reason a group of concerned mothers have organized the Lone Pine Co-op Nursery, where learning is a full time project intricately assimilated with traditional play activities.

Formed some three years ago, the Co-op is a self sustaining operation with funds for materials and facilities at Birmingham Unitarian Church financed through tuition fees.

MOTHER HELP

In addition to the fee, mothers are required to spend an alloted time at the nursery according to the class her child is enrolled in (the first session meets on Monday, Wednesday and Friday; the second on Tuesday and Thursday) Each session runs from 9:30 until 11:30 a.m.

Here, the role of educator is primarily that of guide and disciplinarian for a variety of play areas structured to aid emotional and physical development.

For example, to develop an awareness of one's place within the outside world (until this time a child is family centered) there are field trips to parks, museums, fire stations, etc.

Preliminary art instruction, which includes easel painting, simple collage and clay sculpture, is a useful tool in developing the imagination and any dormant creative ability.

FREE TO PLAY

However, of greatest importance at this stage is providing the child with a sense of freedom to participate in whatever 'play' experience he pleases.

Oddly enough, by comparison to his school experiences, where group activities are planned on a regular hour by hour, day-to-day basis, the nursery philosophy appears in direct conflict.

★ ★ ★

In explaining the polarity, however, program coordinator Mrs. Roger Evans feels that at age three a child's first need is to develop a self image, rather than to acquaint him with formal structuring.

"At this stage, freedom of choice is a necessary means of encouraging his confidence," she says.

Confidence in turn serves as food for initiative and increases his capacity for a harmonious group relationship. Only then is he ready to 'learn' in a classroom structured by set rules.

In relation to providing realistic group experiences, Mrs. Evans feels the program falls short in respect to the unproportioned racial composition.

Of the two classes, which are made up of some 10 to 15 children, only three are Negro.

TWO PROBLEMS

"The problem," says Mrs. Evans, "Is frequently based on lack of transportation. Others may be enthusiastic but are holding down jobs and don't have the time to work at the nursery."

With registration for the fall quarter now beginning, Mrs. Evans hopes the problem will alleviate itself.

Co-op mothers, likewise concerned, are visiting Negro church groups in an attempt to encourage membership as well as organizing car pools on their own.

Guidance Unit to Meet

Hostess, Mrs. Gerald Moore will open her Emerson Street home tonight for a meeting of the Pontiac Township Child Guidance Club.

The program, which includes a film entitled, "The Red Piper," begins at 7:30.

Hostess May Turn Off TV if She Wants

of the Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it ever be considered in good taste to turn off a television program when you have visitors? So often now I find a program objectionable in regard to the language, I am uncomfortable sitting there watching it. And I don't know what to do.—Ethel.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ethel: Stick to your guns. When you feel a program is in poor taste or offensive, you certainly need not show it in your home. In fact, unless you specifically arrange with friends to get together to watch a special program, I feel the "tube" is a poor substitute for conversation or a game of cards.

★ ★ ★

We are surely losing the art of making a visit pleasant when we sit glued to scenes of violence, questionable humor, and maudlin drama. Next time you have guests don't turn on your TV at all, or if you do, turn it off again if the programs are not worthwhile. And incidentally, write your feelings to the sponsor of the program and the station — that is the only way the quality of TV will improve.

SWEET SIXTEEN

★ ★ ★

Dear Harriet: A great big chafing dish of scrambled eggs, a platter of sausages and bacon, and a stack of waffles. Melted butter and syrup for the waffle-eaters, and English muffins, marmalade and jellies for the egg-eaters. Strawberries with cream and sugar, and a pitcher of orange or orange-pineapple juice for everyone. Finally, plenty of coffee, hot chocolate and milk on a side table.

★ ★ ★

If you prefer, instead of scrambled eggs you may serve creamed chicken to go on the waffles for those who don't like sweet syrup.

Readers' Views on Drugs Vary With Personal Facts

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This writer is an ex-policewoman and knows that what you printed about marijuana and drugs are the straight facts.

I was recently asked, "What would YOU do if you found your son or daughter using marijuana?" My answer: "I would ask the chief of police to show my child a prisoner who was coming off narcotics, 'cold turkey.'"

Secondly: "What would you do if you found your child using LSD?" My reply: "I would ask the judge to sentence my child to the state hospital, not as a patient, but to care for some of the teen-aged patients who are incapable of feeding themselves, or keeping themselves clean, but just lie there, and stare at the ceiling with unseeing eyes."

I believe that a picture is worth 10,000 words. Please accept my congratulations, Abby, one a fine letter. Very sincerely yours, C. B., TUCSON, ARIZ.

DEAR ABBY: Your pitch about marijuana and drugs was one-sided. All pot heads don't necessarily wind up on the heavier stuff. I know something about this as I have been in the drug trade for a number of years, although I have never been an addict, and wouldn't touch it with a 10-foot needle.

The idea that dope pushers are lurking around school grounds trying to sell dope to kids is ridiculous. It's not sold that way. It's sold strictly through contacts. A guy would have to be out of his mind to approach a strange kid. The Feds would be on his neck in 10 minutes.

Abby, if you really want to help kids, tell their PARENTS that kids turn to dope because they've been put down, belittled and ignored. Kids prefer scorn to disapproval and being ignored. Parents who raise their children in a stable environment with love and understanding will never have to worry about drugs. I have seen what it does to people, and I wouldn't wish the habit on my worst enemy. And believe me I have plenty. NO NAME OR TOWN PLEASE

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have had an almost abnormal fear of dope addiction ever since I was 17, and witnessed a display of depravity that will haunt me to my grave.

I saw a 19-year-old kid who needed a fix of dope so desperately, he CARRIED his 17-year-old sister into a room to have sex relations with a man. (She was too sick and weak to walk, so he carried her there.)

After major surgery I laid in agony rather than to take the needle offered to ease my pain. I told them to keep their dope, I'd rather be dead than end up a dope head. I know for a fact that some have become innocently addicted in this manner. God help them.

DEAR ABBY: I have had kids look at me with wide, innocent eyes and actually tell me that marijuana does less harm to the body than cigaret smoking! They say it gives them a "high" feeling and there is no hangover.

Well, as a drug addict I can tell you that first I got hooked on that "high" feeling I got from marijuana, then I wanted something even "higher."

BEEN THERE IN NEW MEXICO

DEAR ABBY: No one can tell me that marijuana is not physically harmful. My 18-year-old son admitted he'd been smoking "grass" since he was 14! Today, he can't pour a glass of orange juice without spilling it all over the table. Also, his eyes, which once were clear and bright, are now chronically bloodshot. And he can't sit for 20 minutes without going to the bathroom.

I was also told I was making "too big a thing" out of it. I agree with you, you CAN'T make too big a thing out of it. Sock it to 'em, Abby!

U-M to Close Teaching-Laboratory School

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A 300-student elementary and junior high laboratory school at the University of Michigan will be closed by the end of the 1970 school year.

★ ★ ★

U-M regents Friday unanimously voted to close the 40-year-old school after hearing Wilbur J. Cohen, former secretary of Health, Education and Welfare and now dean of the School of Education, say the school of education "connot do all things to all people."

The 100-student junior high school will be closed at the end of this school year.

Of the lab school, Cohen said, "there still would be a justification for retaining a high-cost-per-pupil demonstration school if the students represented a cross-section of the most urgent, difficult and challenging problems in American education—the lower income people in the inner city, the crowded family in the ghetto, the black child, the ethnic minorities or other disadvantaged children. But the student body (in University School) does not meet this criterion."

CERTIFICATION PROCESS

Cohen, who said he intends to question "the entire teacher certification process," stated:

★ ★ ★

"A great university should not and need not copy the standard version or the prevailing pattern set by the several hundred U.S. schools and colleges of education."

★ ★ ★

"I venture to suggest," he added, "that the present teacher certification system results in keeping out of teacher highly motivated people who are deeply needed now, but at the same time assures that those who doggedly thread their way through the routine of the ordinary and the obvious become the ones who stay in the teaching profession."

Michigan fronts on four of the Great Lakes, Lake Ontario being the only one not touching the state.

Stout Life Ending

Shane Goes on Wagon

UXBRIDGE, England (UPI)—Shane the German shepherd has been ordered to go on the wagon.

★ ★ ★

But now O'Shea has put up a sign: "No more beer for the dog."

"She was as miserable as sin in the morning, moping about the place," O'Shea said.

11,595 Buyers Corralled Ford's Frisky Maverick

Ford said it had sold 11,595 of the minicars through the end of April, which, said Ford Division General Sales Manager W. A. Heller, "substantially exceed—our division objectives."

The little car with crazy colors such as "Freudian Gilt" and "Original Cinnamon" was aimed at competing with tiny foreign imports, both in performance and price. Ford said it had succeeded.

"Through April about 25 per cent of the trade-ins for Mavericks were imported models with another 42 per cent coming from other domestic makes and about 38 per cent coming from other Ford Motor Co. models," Heller said.

He said about half of the Mavericks sold were with no trade-ins, apparently indicating its popularity among first-car buyers or those adding a second or third car.

Carey said this represents more than 11 per cent of all admission offers made to prospective freshmen.

"Not all black students accepted our offer, or having accepted, actually will register," Carey added, "any more than all nonblack students have accepted or will enroll."

'Black Studies Help Whites'

Researcher: Classes Improve Attitudes

Do white children gain a better attitude toward black people when they are taught black history in an integrated classroom or in a segregated classroom?

Dr. Rodney Roth, a curriculum specialist at Oakland County Intermediate School District, found that attitudes of white children are more improved in an integrated classroom.

Black children gain self-esteem when studying black history and culture courses, whether the classroom is integrated or segregated, he said.

Dr. Roth based his conclusions on research made in 11 Pontiac fifth-grade classes last year. Some of the classes were all-black, some all-white and some integrated.

DOCTORAL DISSERTATION

The results of his survey on the effects of black studies in the various classrooms were published in his doctoral dissertation for the University of Michigan.

Roth said that the combination of integrated classrooms and black studies courses is the reason for improved attitudes toward blacks by white children.

"In an all-white school, teaching about blacks does nothing. Simply integrating does nothing either. But if you combine the two, you get a big gain," he said.

Roth also said black students don't reject the whites, but rate themselves higher than whites. Their attitudes toward whites are positive, however, he said.

— even for thousands who perspire heavily

A different formula has been found to keep underarms absolutely dry—even for thousands who perspire heavily.

After decades of common "deodorants," it took a chemical invention to make this truly effective protection possible — with the same safety to clothing — the same skin mildness as popular "deodorants." Called Mitchum Anti-Perspirant, it is the product of a trustworthy 56-year-old laboratory. By the thousands, women with problem perspiration are finding the protection they need —and never could find before. And fully effective as a deodorant, too, of course.

If you perspire more than average — even heavily — get the positive protection of Mitchum Anti-Perspirant. Liquid — smoothes on thru satin. Or Cream — vanishing, non-sticky. Each $3.00.

BOTH HAVE MONEY BACK GUARANTEE — If you are not entirely satisfied with Mitchum Anti-Perspirant, liquid or cream, return package to the store where you bought it. Stores are authorized to refund full cash price.

New Record Is Claimed in Transatlantic Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Contestants in the great transatlantic air race of 1969 are using elevators, ambulances, antique cars, jet planes, balloons. Anything to cover the distance between the observation deck of the Empire State Building and the top of London's Post Office Tower in the shortest possible time.

* * *

Lt. Paul Waterhouse piloted a Royal Navy Phantom jet across the Atlantic Sunday in 5 hours, 4 minutes and 25 seconds. When he landed in London, a Navy spokesman said it was the fastest transatlantic flight ever. His trips to and from the airport took another 26 minutes.

The race, sponsored by the London Daily Mail to mark the 50th anniversary of the first nonstop flight over the Atlantic, offers $144,000 in prizes. It has drawn 390 entires in 21 categories.

HISTORIC FLIGHT

John Alcock and Arthur Whitten Brown flew a Vickers-Vimy biplane from Newfoundland to a bog near Galway, Ireland on June 14 and 15, 1919, taking 15 hours, 57 minutes.

Some entrants have elaborate schemes for coping with traffic jams, including ambulances with red lights flashing, motorcycle escorts and helicopters. Two entrant used a speedboat to reach a helicopter pad in the middle of London's Thames River.

* * *

* * *

Cooper Walker pulled away from the Empire State Building in a 1919 Stutz Bearcat. Walker, a Baltimore travel agent, will finish in a 1919 Rolls Royce, and in between he'll use a horse-drawn coach, six planes and two balloons.

'MOST MERITORIOUS'

He said he's aiming for the "most meritorious" prize.

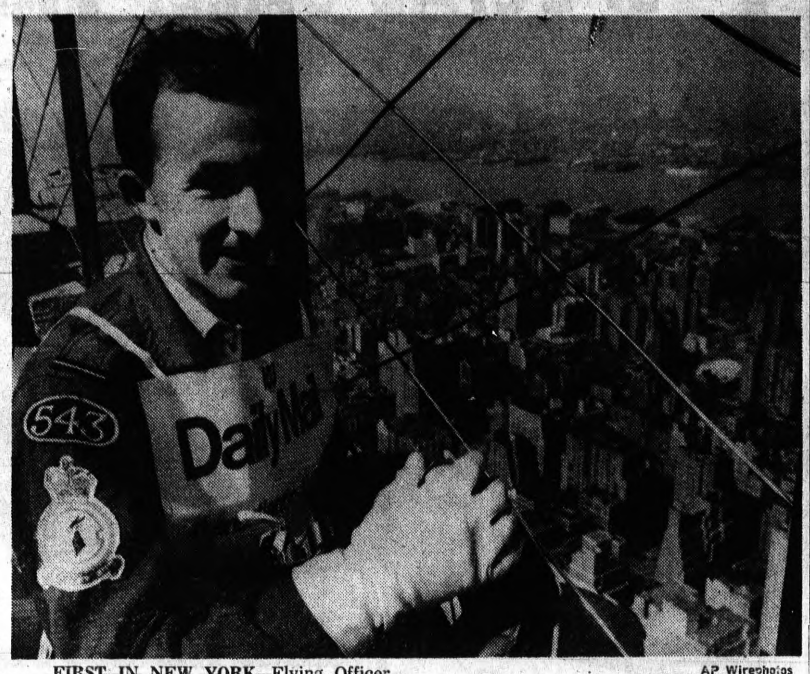
* * *

"I'm a bit apprehensive," he said after arriving in Saint John, N.B., on the first leg of his trip. "I'll have a problem making the 700-mile hop from Iceland to Ireland."

* * *

His 108-horsepower plane has a range of 600 miles, but Garcia said he'd "wait for a good tail wind" in Iceland, climb high and glide to Ireland.

"I have seven pounds of peanut butter, a bottle of cognac donated by the BBC (British Broadcasting Co.) and 500 biscuits for emergencies, but I'm afraid I won't have enough gas."



FIRST IN NEW YORK—Flying Officer William Fuller of the RAF was first to reach the top of the Empire State Building yesterday. He had left London's Post Office Tower six hours and 28 minutes earlier. AP Wirephotos

OFF AND RUNNING—Gail Shepherd, 12, clutches a flying helmet and stewardess Louise Humphrey's hand as they sprint across London's Heathrow Airport yesterday, headed for a transatlantic flight. Gail is the youngest entrant in a race marking the 50th anniversary of the first nonstop transoceanic flight. It is the first time she has flown.

Public Relations Staffer Is Picked

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Marion Corwell Shertzer of Dearborn, Mich., was installed Sunday as president of the American Women in Radio and Television. She is educational affairs representative on the public relations staff of Ford Motor Co. in Dearborn.

'Love In' Lives Up to Its Name

SOUTH MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — About 1,200 young people held what some labeled a "love-in" at Grant Park along Lake Michigan in this Milwaukee suburb yesterday.

The police loved it.

There was a lot of singing, dancing, horseplay and old-fashioned fun.

Ninety miles to the west in Madison, young people were hurling rocks and bricks at police who retaliated with tear gas and Mace in the second consecutive night of violence during a young people's "block party" near the University of Wisconsin.

The biggest headaches for South Milwaukee police here were traffic and parking jams caused by some 6,500 curious people-watchers who came to see if anything was happening at the happening.

"You must be tired of apples, Miss Kaff. Here's one of the Green Parrot ads telling about their famous 'Tuesday-Only' all-you-can-eat Spaghetti Dinner for only $1.25 with coleslaw, rolls and butter.!"
