Russia Receives U. S. Proposal for Atomic Pool

Dulles Hands Zarubin Copy of America's Plan for A-Development

WASHINGTON (INS)—The United States today handed Russia a "concrete plan" to carry out President Eisenhower's proposal for the peaceful development and use of atomic energy.

A State Department announcement said that during talks at Berlin between Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov it was agreed that the United States would shortly transmit to the Soviet government in writing a concrete plan to further the peaceful development and use of atomic energy.

The State Department said: "This proposal has now been prepared by the United States government in consultation with other friendly governments concerned.

"A copy of the proposal was handed today to the Soviet Ambassador by the Secretary."

Dulles met today for five minutes with Soviet Ambassador Zarubin, the Department said, "for a continuation of the talks which have been under way since January on the subject of the atomic energy proposals made by President Eisenhower before the U. N. General Assembly on Dec. 8, 1953."

President Eisenhower at that time proposed that countries with atomic know-how and fissionable material, pool their resources and knowledge for the peaceful use of atomic power for the betterment of mankind.

The State Department said that the Soviet government "has also transmitted to the United States government certain proposals in connection with the general subject of atomic matters. These proposals are under study."

Prior to the meeting, State Department spokesmen declined to comment on whether Dulles and the Russian envoy would continue discussions on procedural arrangements for the atom pool plan or would take up "substantive" matters.

Following the meeting, Zarubin evaded newsmen by taking a private elevator to the ground floor.

JOHN A. HANNAH

Resigns Position as President's Manpower Aide

Returning to MSC as Soon as Possible; Will Keep 8nd U. S. Job

LANSING (INS)—Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College at East Lansing, announced today he will retire as assistant secretary of defense for manpower on July 1.

Dr. Hannah was originally on leave from MSC for a year. That period was extended six months.

He stated: "I definitely will resign as assistant to Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson July 1. But if Congress adjourns in the meantime, I will be back at the college as quickly as possible."

The resignation of Dr. Hannah was another break in the "Michigan group" which was brought to Washington by the President. Roger M. Kyes, former General Motors vice president who was deputy secretary of defense, announced his resignation two weeks ago.

The MSC president said he will continue as chairman of the Joint Board of defense for the U. S. and Canada, a post given him recently by President Eisenhower.

Dr. Hannah stopped in Lansing en route on a joint American-Canadian Mission to inspect the continent's polar defenses. He commented:

"If war comes with the Soviet,

Goes to Senate; Ike Chalks Up Major Victory

Measure Lists Slashes but Dem Move to Hike Exemption Fails

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower chalked up a big victory in House passage yesterday of a major tax revision bill without a personal income tax cut he opposed.

However, an even tougher fight is shaping up in the Senate today.

With party lines holding unusually firm, the House beat down 210-204 a Democratic move to slash income taxes $2,400,000,000 a year by raising the personal exemption for each taxpayer and dependent from $600 to $700.

The President went to the country by television and radio Monday night to urge defeat of this proposal.

He said it was politically inspired and would be a serious blow to the government's finances, even endangering national defense.

The whole tax issue is certain to be aired at length in the coming campaign for control of Congress. There were sharply varying appraisals of yesterday's House action.

Rep. Kirwan of Ohio, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, said that as a result he has raised from 45 to 60 his estimate of anticipated Democratic gains in the House in November.

His Republican counterpart, Rep. Richard M. Simpson of Pennsylvania, replied that the tax action will bring votes to the GOP. He predicted Republican gains of 25 House seats.

In the showdown, only 10 of the 211 Republicans voting supported the exemption increase. Nine Democrats opposed it as compared with 193 who voted "aye." The lone independent voted for it.

The House afterwards passed by a 339-80 vote the 875-page tax revision bill to which the Democrats had tried to attach the reduction in income levies.

This measure would rewrite the entire tax code for the first time in 70 years. It covers such a broad range of subjects that Senate floor

Europe Needs Ground Forces

Ridgway Is Dissatisfied With 'New Look' Policy Stressing Airpower

WASHINGTON (INS) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway maintained today that only "powerful ground forces" could stop the Soviet Army from sweeping across Europe.

The Army Chief of Staff, who has expressed dissatisfaction over the so-called "New Look" military strategy of relying primarily on airpower to inflict "instant retaliation" against an aggressor, made his remarks in a speech prepared for delivery to the National Press Club.

Ridgway declared that if Russia should overrun Western Europe, the Allies might reject the idea of destroying the industries captured by the Soviet Armies.

He said: "Allied destruction of captured industry might even be balanced by denying its use to the enemy, but the havoc which such destruction would create in the Allied countries would be a powerful deterrent to the adoption of such a course by the free nations of the world, and might well be so repugnant as to cause its rejection."

Long Way From St. Louis

'African Prince' TV Star Just an American Hoofer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "Prince Onaga of the Watsui in the Belgian Congo"—star of a five-year song-and-dance hoax and of television shows and a movie—turns out to be plain Fred Williams of East St. Louis.

But Fred—against whom no charges were filed—refuses to abdicate.

"I think a black face should be somebody," the middle-aged son of a laborer said today.

Besides, before he and his wife donned their regal robes, they often were hungry. Then he discovered it's so much easier for a royal dance team to find work than for two ordinary dancers, home towns East St. Louis and Los Angeles. His wife is the former Margaret Cabelle of Los Angeles.

He insisted he still be called prince. And his chief worry was:

What will happen at the box office at Marines Memorial Auditorium here April 5. On that date he and his wife were scheduled for a recital of African folk songs and dances.

Fred needn't have worried: that appearance was canceled.

Drug Addiction Bill Ready for Signing

LANSING (AP) — A bill permitting courts to hospitalize drug addicts for medical treatment was passed unanimously by the House Thursday and sent to the governor for his signature.

The bill, written by Sen. Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit) was hailed as a progressive step to meet the problems of an estimated 5,000 drug addicts in Michigan.

Under the bill, addicts may now come forward for treatment without being branded as criminals. It places the addict under the supervision of the State Health Commissioner for hospitalization and rehabilitation.

It states specifically that the commitment of any patient cannot be deemed a conviction and the proceedings under which he is committed cannot be used against him in any criminal case.

Bentley Holds Press Meeting

Wounded Congressman Says Doctors Foresee 100 Per Cent Recovery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich) said today doctors have told him he will recover "100 per cent" from wounds suffered March 1 when Puerto Rican Nationalist fanatics sprayed the House of Representatives with bullets.

Bentley, at a news conference in his hospital room, said he has been given "every assurance that there is not going to be anything, given time, that would be wrong with me."

The 35-year-old multi-millionaire and former career diplomat who is serving his first term in the House said he will be a candidate for reelection in November.

"I want to stay down here," he said, adding that the many messages of sympathy and support he has received from his district since the shooting helped him make up his mind to run again.

However, Bentley declared he favors outlawing the Puerto Rican Nationalist party to which the assailants belonged. He said the party leader, Albizu Campos, "is apparently somewhat of a madman who holds some sway or charm" over his small band of followers.

Detectives Seek to Halt Breakins

Every Available Man Assigned to Investigate Burglary Wave

Capt. Clark M. Wheaton, chief of Pontiac detectives, said today he is assigning every available man to investigate the worst two-week wave of breakins in years.

"I've been working nights myself on the cases as we are shorthanded," Capt. Wheaton said. "This is the largest number of breakins over any two-week period I can recall."

Twenty-eight business places, schools and restaurants have been burglarized here since March 6, Police said most of them appeared to be professional jobs.

The number of breakins over the past 13 days matches the number reported here during the entire month of March 1953.

Police have questioned about 12 suspects but all have been released pending further investigation.

Two teams of detectives have been assigned to the cases, but other members of the bureau have helped them track down leads.

Capt. Wheaton said he thinks several burglary rings are involved.

Chiang, Kuomintang Win Sure in Nationalist China

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Independent candidates for the presidency and vice presidency of Nationalist China withdrew today, leaving only the ruling Kuomintang (Nationalist party) and the Democratic Socialists in the race.

There was no question but that the Kuomintang, headed by President Chiang Kai-shek, would win handily.

Baby Grabs Wheel; Car Strikes Tree

An 18-month-old baby grabbed the steering wheel away from her mother yesterday and swerved the car into a tree along Airport road. The girl's mother and sister were injured.

Mrs. Donna S. Hendricks, 2839 Kenford, Waterford Township, said Debra caused her to lose control of the car near Hatchery road.

Mrs. Hendricks' eldest daughter, Barbara, 5, is reported in fair condition today in Pontiac General Hospital with leg fractures and cuts. The mother was treated for bruises. Debra and her brother, David, 3, another passenger, were unhurt.

France Orders All Planes Into Dien Bien Phu Battle

HANOI, Indochina (UP)—France threw every available warplane into the battle for Dien Bien Phu today, hoping to wipe out the Russian-style artillery concentrations that are turning the encircled outpost into a smoking shambles.

U. S.-made Bearcat fighter-bombers and B26 light bombers were mustered for the attack. French Gen. Henri Navarre told the pilots that his hopes of victory are riding on their wings.

"In these decisive moments, I am counting on you," Navarre said in an order of the day. "The whole of our aerial forces, without exception, must join in the battle. Success depends on the efficacy of their action."

The Communists have at least temporarily abandoned the "human sea" infantry attacks that cost them 12,000 casualties in the past week. They appeared to be depending on their 75 and 105 mm. field guns and 120 mm. mortars to smash Dien Bien Phu's defenses.

The French outpost's vital airstrip is now within range of the Communist guns, and the Reds appeared determined not only to halt the supply airlift to the surrounded fortress but to prevent the evacuation of wounded.

The Reds had allowed a few hospital planes to land during the battle, but they put 20 shells through the wings and fuselage of a Red Cross plane that tried to touch down on the airstrip Thursday.

Post Office Thrift Is Not for the Birds

Wheat Damaged by Dust, Snow in Plains States

DENVER (AP)—Dust and snow-bearing winds blew south and east out of Colorado and Arizona today, after a two-day assault, leaving in their wake crop damage estimated at 16 million dollars and up to 11 inches of snow.

The estimate of crop damage covered eastern and southeastern Colorado and came from State Agriculture Commissioner Paul W. Swisher. He said the wind and lack of moisture combined to destroy wheat crops capable of producing eight million bushels.

Snow Flurries on Tap

March came in like a lion and so will spring—if the weatherman is correct. Saturday's temperature is expected to range from 34 to 36 degrees and snow flurries are forecast. A low of 32 is due tonight. The mercury rose from 34 at 8 a.m. today to 44 at 2 p. m. in downtown Pontiac. Yesterday's range was 39 to 53 degrees.

Spring Due Tomorrow but Her Manner Apt to Be on Coolish Side

By PATRICIA A. WOOD

Spring will arrive in Pontiac at 10:45 p. m. Saturday, but you won't recognize the lady.

The long-awaited lass won't be anybody's idea of an ideal Saturday night date, the U. S. Weather Bureau says. She'll be damp and cold and spitting snow flurries.

The weather bureau's Washington office says temperatures should average a bit cooler than normal for the next 30 days. A normal day in late March has a temperature range of 32 to 49.

For Pontiac, Saturday will mark the end of a tough, cold, snowy winter—generally colder than the one before it.

The heating season of the past winter (September through March), however, was slightly milder than the same period a year ago, due chiefly to a mild October.

The city has dug out from under 23.3 inches of snow since winter blew in Dec. 21, dragging a 3.5-inch snowfall behind it. Last winter's snows totaled 10.83 inches, less than half as much.

Temperatures dropped to 10 above zero—or lower—on 14 days this winter. Last inter had only 10 such days. And the thermometer got down to zero this year for the first time in several years.

Pontiac residents had their first real sample of the winter to come on Dec. 14, when three inches of snow blanketed the city and sent motorists scurrying for anti-freeze.

A second snowstorm marked the first day of winter Dec. 21, and ushered in a cold wave that put the snow in the freezer to keep 'til Christmas Day.

January bowed in with mild temperatures in the 30s and 40s but the mercury suddenly fell Jan. 10 to six above zero. It stayed in that icy neighborhood for several days.

A brief respite sent temperatures up to the 30s Jan. 16-17; then the weatherman slammed the deep-freeze lid on Pontiac again with a low of four above zero.

February brought the coldest and warmest weather of the winter.

The mercury dived to zero Feb. 12. It ricocheted back to 54 degrees two days later and started a high-speed thaw with a 15-hour downpour that left the city awash in almost an inch and a half of rain.

A 63-degree reading Feb. 15 tumbled the all-time record of 57 degrees and helped soften roads already mushy from the rain. Roadbeds washed away and four schools closed. Autos sank helplessly into the mire. Hundreds of

McCarthy to Answer Adlai Despite Laryngitis Bout

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) was in bed with a case of virus laryngitis today but said he would deliver his counterattack against Adlai E. Stevenson despite the illness. His temperature had been 103.

Dr. Raulf Hanson examined McCarthy on his arrival here and said the senator had "a virus laryngitis with a sore throat and a high temperature."

The doctor said he strongly advised against McCarthy working today and tonight, "but he insists he is going to."

McCarthy tonight will answer, in a speech before the Milwaukee Young Republican Club, what he calls a personal attack upon himself by Stevenson.

Clear channel radio station WGN of Chicago, affiliate of the Chicago Tribune, will carry the speech from 9:30 to 10 p.m. EST and pipe it to at least four other stations.

The broadcasting arrangements were the best the senator could get after the National Broadcasting Company and the Columbia Broadcasting System refused to grant him free air time to answer Stevenson's recent Miami, Fla., speech.

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — A slightly increased budget gained final approval of the recreation board last night, and will be submitted to city commissioners before April 1.

The total proposed cash budget of $15,110 is $1,700 higher than last year. Anticipated revenues of $2,820 would reduce the total sought to $12,290, raising the city's 1954-55 share by $1,290.

Mrs. William Jackson, chairman, reported progress is being made by a nine-member committee working on initial steps to combat rising juvenile delinquency in the area.

Three fields of possible attention have been outlined, she said: the immediate field of youngsters already in trouble with police; facilities for children not causing difficulties, and possible long-term education.

Mrs. Jackson pointed to the city's annual Halloween Party as exemplifying the last point. Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley has estimated the juvenile problem for that night would be doubled if not for the party.

Roland W. Reese, board member, came up with a breakdown of cost estimates for a possible portable artificial ice skating rink. A rink approximately 85x185 feet, complete with music, lighting and fencing, would run about $60,000, he said.

He proposed and stated advantages for utilizing the four tennis courts to be built at Eton Park as a winter ice rink.

The board agreed that Reese should discuss with City Manager Donald Egbert methods of financing the rink and also minor changes in the tennis court construction which would be necessary before any recommendations are made.

Parents moving from one attendance area to another will have to transfer their children to the school in the new attendance area.

Families planning to move into the school district will not be allowed to place their child in school until the move is made.

The board also moved to discourage the circumvention of such policy by securing guardianship papers for the sole purpose of establishing a legal residence within the school district for children wishing to attend the Birmingham schools.

As guest of the Civitan Club breakfast meeting at 8 tomorrow at Colonial Manor, Jack McLeod will show movies of the Le-Mans car race.

Canada will be the crossroads.

"No one can foresee the importance of Canada in the future of the world. Its undeveloped resources are beyond imagination."

At a dinner attended by the State Legislature last night, Dr. Hannah said a nuclear device exploded in the Pacific a few days ago had the force of a million tons of TNT.

"Yet," he said, "it was merely a preliminary trial for a more powerful one that will be exploded very shortly."

Dr. Hannah supported the Pentagon's "new look" defense emphasis on air power rather than ground troops by explaining:

"If the next war is fought by armies we could not win, for Russia and its satellites far exceed us in manpower.

Spring to Arrive Wearing Topcoat

lanterns marked deep washouts and caveins on local roads.

But the weather spelled spring.

Sunny skies and soaring temperatures reaching into the high 40s and 50s warmed Pontiac's winter-weary heart for a week until blustery winds spat rain and colder weather on the city Feb. 20.

Many Pontiac folks (and the weather bureau's 30-day forecast) thought winter was about over.

But winter, saving its strength for one last fling, was planning a wild week for Pontiac.

March trudged into Pontiac burdened with four inches of snow, shook it off on the astonished city, then blew up winds which whipped it into drifts.

The winter's heaviest snowfall sent road crews scurrying to trucks and plows—equipment that hardly had a chance to let its engines cool for three straight days.

March 3 brought another storm—an inch and a half of snow. Some 54 schools closed and thousands of youngsters stayed home.

A third storm—packing another four inches of snow—swept down on the area March 3. More schools closed; and almost half the county's 100,000 youngsters were away from classes.

Exhausted road crews stumbled home for a few hours' sleep and trudged back to work again. Four-foot snowdrifts marooned cars and blocked side roads.

This was Winter, 1953-1954.

Let's hope we've seen the last of it.

migration people to reveal this now, just before our concert," complained Fred, er—the prince.

"They might have waited just a little. I haven't passed any bad checks, or hurt anyone. The people have got their money's worth from our shows."

The people have been seeing Fred and his wife on tours of the United States and Canada . . . on Ed Sullivan's Toast of the Town and other television shows . . . in the movie "King Solomon's Mines" . . . at opera and ballet first nights.

Williams was exposed because the Belgian consul general couldn't understand why a Watusi prince who'd been quite a celebrity here for days hadn't made an official call. He queried the immigration office.

Williams told all to immigration officials—later, to newsmen.

Tax Revision Bill Passed by House

consideration of it may not come for two or three months.

* * *

The permanent revision program in the general tax bill would cost about $1,400,000,000 in revenue the first year. Democrats say the loss would mount to 3½ billions when all provisions take full effect; Republicans dispute this.

The bill would permit corporations to make bigger depreciation deductions during the first years of use of plant and equipment. It also would cut taxes on dividends paid to stockholders.

* * *

It would carry a wide variety of fringe benefits for individuals, including increased deductions for medical expenses, deductions for widows, deductions to farmers for soil conservation expenses, dependency deductions for college students even though they earn more than $600, and additional deductions on retirement income.

* * *

Another provision would extend for a year from April 1 the present 52 per-cent corporate income tax rate. Under present law it is due to drop to 47 per cent at the end of this month, which would mean a revenue loss of $1,200,000,000.

Wife Conspired to Kill Spouse

Investigators Maintain Woman Tried to Hire Them as Gunmen

DETROIT (INS)—A 42-year-old Wyandotte housewife today was accused of trying to hire two Toledo gunmen to kill her third husband so that she could cash his $4,000 double indemnity life insurance policy.

Held for investigation of attempted murder is Mrs. Hattie Bowlin, tripped up when her two hired killers turned out to be investigators for the Wayne County prosecutor.

Mrs. Bowlin was quoted as saying she wanted her husband out of the way because he was stingy and never took her any place. Later, when confronted by her 52-year-old husband Walter, she claimed the whole thing "was just a joke."

Although Bowlin has not yet decided to prosecute, one thing is certain, he said:

"I'm gonna change my place of eating. And I'm gonna change the beneficiary on that insurance policy too."

The plot was uncovered when Charles Cross, 16-year-old cousin of Mrs. Bowlin's second husband, told police she approached him a week ago and offered him $1,000 to kill Bowlin.

Investigators George Rose and Nick Grabowksi were assigned to pose as Toledo henchmen and rendezvoused with Mrs. Bowlin in a bar Thursday.

They said she offered them $1,000 out of the insurance money if they would kill her husband and even took them home to demonstrate where and how to ambush her husband when he returned from work.

Williams Asserts Faith in Police Despite Scandal

DETROIT (UP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams believes most Detroit policemen are "good, honest and effective law enforcement officers" despite the current investigation into alleged payoffs to some officers on the force.

The governor made the statement Thursday night at a dinner meeting of the Detroit Police Lieutenants' and Sergeants' Assn. He was given an honorary membership in the organization.

"The current charges affecting a few officers should not, and I am sure do not, reflect upon the honesty of the thousands of others who are doing every day a good and loyal job of protecting the public," Williams said.

"I welcome the opportunity to testify to my firm belief that the personnel of the Detroit Police Force, as a whole, is a corps of good, honest and efficient law officers," the Governor said.

"That opinion, I am certain, is shared by the vast majority of the people of Michigan."

UP Development Bureau to Consider New Era

MARQUETT (UP) — Leading Upper Michigan into a new economic era will be discussed by members of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau next Thursday.

The eventual construction of a pipeline across the penisular, an expected increase in tourist trade, construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway and building of a bridge to span the international rapids at Sault Ste. Marie are topics on the agenda.

Van Valkenburg Ailing, Broomfield Takes Over

He had been resting in his hotel room here, but was driven home Thursday to be under his own doctor's care. He expected to return to the Capitol Monday.

In his absence, Speaker Pro Tem William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) has been presiding over the House sessions.

Miss Universe of '53 Planning Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The two-month-old marriage of Christiane Martel, Miss Universe of 1953, and Ronnie Marengo, Stockton, Calif. department store heir, is on the rocks today.

The 17-year-old French beauty's marital rift was disclosed by her sister, Georgette, who married film director Vincente Minnelli a short time after Christiane became a bride.

Mrs. Minnelli said Christiane, who met the wealthy 21-year-old Californian when she appeared at the merchandising establishment owned by his father, Peter Marengo, already has seen an attorney about a legal separation. She added:

"It's too bad, but sometimes things work out that way."

Today's Uranium Search Like Old Gold Rush Days

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign News Editor

Out in the Pacific, the scientist are touching off atomic devices at a great rate, creating quite a bit of noise and stir.

But another group, operating silently and behind the scenes, is busily digging up the wherewithal for the scientists to make the noise.

Part of the workings of this group have been revealed by British government sources.

U. S. and British are negotiating new world-wide agreements to guarantee the free world's superiority in peace or war.

Their job is to dig up new sources of uranium—the atomic fuel—and to see to it that full production goes to the Anglo-American atomic industry.

An interesting sidelight is that the United States and Britain have continued close cooperation in seeking out and tieing up the vital element, despite the fact that, by law, the United States cannot share its atomic secrets and that the U. S. and Britain are pursuing their atomic research independently.

As of now, the chief sources of uranium are the Belgian Congo and Canada.

Important new finds have been reported in Australia where a favorite outdoor sport is to sally forth with a Geiger counter.

In both canada and Australia fortunes have been made by stock market speculation in shares which skyrocketed overnight from a few cents into the upper brackets even on a vague "report" of some new uranium find.

The Belgian Congo now supplies about 70 per cent of the West's atomic fuel supply, but a contract negotiated in 1944 runs out late this year. Negotiations to renew it are under way through "diplomatic channels."

However, the Belgians have not been entirely satisfied.

Belgian scientists said a part of 1944 deal was that, in return for sole access to the Congo ore, the United States was to give Belgium technical information.

The information has not been forthcoming, they say, and as a result Belgium trails other nations in atomic development.

Wisconsin Man Uses Car Horn to Call Cows

Whenever Murphy has to gather a herd of cows he just blows his special horn. Instead of giving out one of the usual horn sounds, it makes a noise like a bellowing cow. The cows come a-running.

Judge Gives Advice to Beating Victims

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UP) — District Judge W. W. McCrory says wives whose husbands come home and beat them up should "show their husbands a good sharp razor."

If they do that, McCrory said, "the husbands will jump out the window."

"Some husbands are like tomcats," he said. "They go out and howl and then they come home and slap the female around."

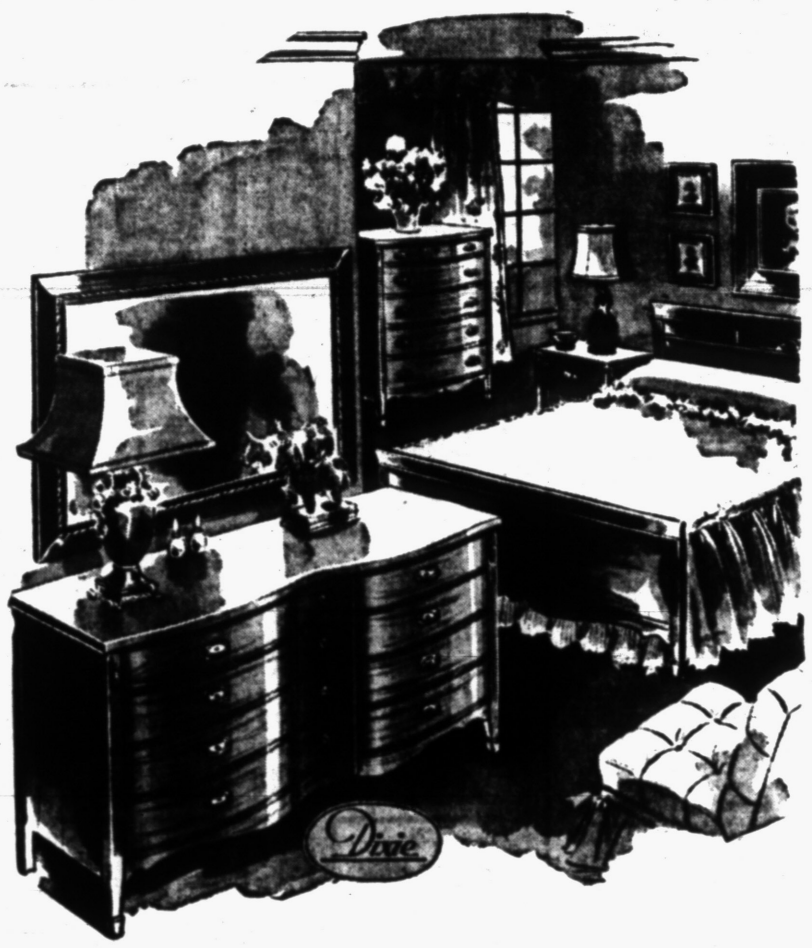

McCrory's statement came while he was empaneling a criminal grand jury. He told the jury he did not think a "murder with malice" indictment would stand against a wife who killed her husband while he was beating her.

Reds Try Drip, Drip of Mental Torture Against Ex-Counterspies, Never Quit

HERBERT PHILBRICK AND WIFE: For anyone else, a perfumed letter from the Commies would be a household H-bomb.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Recently the postman delivered a heavily scented letter to the residence of Herbert Philbrick in White Plains, N. Y.

If Eve Philbrick had been the typical wife, this sweet-smelling epistle would have been a household H-bomb. Addressed to her and signed with a fancy feminine name, it described romantic evenings the writer had spent with Herb.

It told of burning love shared by the two and asked Eve to give Herb up. It contained the line:

"Of course you never believed Herb was spending all those nights out working for the FBI, because he was really seeing me."

The writer wasted perfume, ink, paper and time. Mrs. Philbrick knew full well that the letter was just another tactic in the never-ending war of nerves and mental harassment which the Communist Party wages against those individuals who infiltrated it for the FBI.

"It's just as calculated and constant as the war of nerves which the Russians wage in their international affairs," Philbrick says.

Philbrick and his wife, and the rest of the group, have learned to live easily with this over their heads. But some of the acts recall bitter memories and aren't easy to forget, especially when directed at their children.

When the Philbricks lived in Melrose, Mass., sometime after his FBI work had been revealed, a man approached the oldest Philbrick daughter on her way home from school. In a sad voice he said that her father had just died.

Periodically when Herb leaves in the morning he finds his lawn strewn with dead rats, another favorite trick of the Commies.

The endless barrages of anonymous threatening letters and mysterious annoying phone calls late at night which the group receive is shrugged off by them as inconsequential now, it has been going on so long. They all have unlisted numbers.

"But they just start this calling late at night to let you know they can get unlisted numbers and haven't forgotten you," explains Angela Calomiris, a professional photographer who did her stint for the FBI in New York.

"They don't dare strike back at you physically. They just figure to wear you down and make a nervous wreck out of you eventually," she explains.

In spite of her apparent nonchalance to the danger of physical reprisal she admits she never walks down dark streets.

She keeps the location of her house in Connecticut a secret and is very careful about making travel plans when she moves around the country taking pictures and lecturing.

Another well-used Commie technique is the whispered insult or threat delivered at a crowded street corner, in an elevator, while leaving a theater.

In recent weeks, even though most of their work for the FBI was ended years ago, Miss Calomiris, Philbrick, Matt Cvetic of Pittsburgh, William Cummings of Toledo and Mariane Kowall in Los Angeles all report similar incidents.

Cvetic explains it this way:

"They just want to keep impressing you that there are Comrades everywhere and that they don't intend to ever forget that you are their enemy."

Such tricks are trotted out each time one of the group is about to testify. They have never successfully intimidated one of them, but the Comrades never fail to try.

Unfortunately most of the group are pretty much on their own against such varied and aggressive Communist retaliation.

By alerting local police, periodic checks and special protection when one of the group is actually testifying, the FBI does the maximum in providing safety from physical violence.

It has also helped some of them get jobs, willingly furnished character references and repeatedly affirmed the job they did when their past association with the Party hadn't been completely cleared up.

In many cases the Department of Justice knows who the individuals are behind them — in some instances influential and prominent people—but it can't publicly name them as Reds or left-wingers short of instigating Smith-Act charges of criminal subversion against them.

Looking back on their experiences working for the FBI, in spite of any current troubles or heartaches and inconveniences they suffered while doing this work for the government, not one of those interviewed would pass up the chance to do it again if he could.

"It's a chance to serve which few people get in a lifetime and there's no question that our lives are richer for it," says petite Mary Markward of Washington, who did much toward reducing the Communist menace in the area of the nation's capital.

Pale Pope Blesses Crowd of 200,000

VATICAN CITY (INS) — An estimated 200,000 Romans cheered joyfully today when Pope Pius XII, recuperating from a stomach illness, appeared at a Vatican window and blessed the throng in St. Peter's Square.

It was the first time the pontiff had appeared in public since he became ill two months ago.

The Pope, garbed in white, stood for two minutes at the window of his study. He responded to the crowd's delighted greeting by waving and making the sign of the cross.

The 78-year-old pontiff was pale and obviously had lost much weight during his long illness. But his gestures to the faithful were as graceful and unhesitant as always.

Forecasts Per Cent of Atom Electricity

DETROIT (INS) — A Cornell University physicist predicted today that as much as 10 per cent will be generated by atomic energy within 30 years.

The forecast was made by Dr. H. A. Bethe, president of the American Physical Society, at the opening banquet of the society's three-day annual meeting in Detroit.

Dr. Bethe was clearly pessimistic about the possibility of using atomic power to run automobiles, however. He said the necessary shielding would make an atomic car unwieldy.

BERLIN (INS) — An ancient Roman house heating apparatus has been discovered in Germany still in working order. The heat from the ancient furnace, on passing through modern pipes, maintains a temperature of sixty degrees, according to the German tourist office.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Secrecy on Capitol Hill

For generations members of Congress have been wont to demand, at least in speeches, that national Government be kept out in the open. Back in 1946 the lawmakers even wrote the open door principle into the LaFollette-Monroney Reorganization Act. One section of that act reads:

"All hearings conducted by standing committees or their subcommittees shall be open to the public, except executive sessions for marking bills or for voting or where the committee by majority vote orders an executive session." The phrase "marking bills" means routine handling of bills.

A survey made by Congressional Quarterly reveals that two out of five Congressional hearings now are held behind closed doors. The survey also shows that out of 3,105 committee meetings in the first seven months of the current Congress 1,357, or 44 per cent, were secret. That does not include some 80 meetings for which no records are available.

Senator Monroney was not overstating the danger when he said:

"Of all the places in Government where open transaction of business should be scrupulously adhered to, it's Congress. . . . For Congress through its committees to set a pattern of secrecy, would tend to make this insidious pattern spread throughout Government."

Tidelands Bill Upheld

The long and bitter politico-legal fight over submerged oil deposits worth billions has ended in a Supreme Court victory for the coastal States.

By a vote of six to two the Nation's highest tribunal has ruled constitutional transfer from the Federal Government to California, Texas, Louisiana and Florida of title to these submerged oil deposits.

★ ★ ★

The ruling came in a decision denying Rhode Island and Alabama permission to file suits testing the constitutionality of the act. Its effect undoubtedly will be to kill Arkansas' suit for the same purpose now pending in a Federal District Court. The opinion also reverses the high court's previous offshore oil decisions.

Because Chief Justice Warren is a former governor of one of the four interested States, he took no part in this case. The two dissenters were Justices Black and Douglas. The latter said "powerful political forces are marshalled to wipe out our prior decisions for the benefit of a favored few."

The Press opposed this bill believing that these oil deposits rightly belonged to all the people and that it would be a mistake to transfer title to the States. Now the court has declared, in effect, that Congress has unlimited power to give away public lands.

Despite this decision we can hope that this and future Congresses will have the wisdom and the will to resist the already great pressure for further breakup of national park and forest lands.

If that wisdom and will are lacking, it won't be long before there won't be any public domain.

State Solons Ask Raise

Unless we misinterpret current opinion, there is little public enthusiasm for State Legislators' plan to give themselves fatter pay checks.

This plan has progressed to the point where the House at Lansing has voted 55 to 41 to increase legislative salaries. Present salaries are $2,900 plus $1,000 a year expenses. Under the bill now before the Senate this total would be increased to $5,000 effective in 1955.

In the matter of their own salaries our State lawmakers are much like members of Congress. One of the arguments used in support of the House bill is that the higher salary would bring abler men and women into the Legislature.

We share that view but it also strikes us that there are counter-balancing arguments. For example, in many States, including Michigan, legislating is considered part time work. Some States pay on a per diem basis. In others salaries are paid by the session, year or term.

Legislative pay in the country ranges from $200 for a two year term in New Hampshire, to $5,000 a year in Illinois and New York. The higher figure is far above the average of all State legislative pay.

We don't venture to say whether the present salary is high enough to attract the ablest candidates or adequate for the part time services rendered. But we do suggest that the Senate in considering this bill, remember that the State still has a sizeable deficit.

Dogs belong to the animal kingdom. As we have signs warning motorists to "drive carefully we love our children," so we must also realize that all are not dog lovers.

Progress is painful. To teach man regard for another's dog is to instill in the man respect for another's property.

A child wanders loose from its mother. It is endangered by wandering dogs. To prevent accidents the county police car should report the dogs to the dog warden whose duty it is to keep the community free from such nuisance.

McCormick Sells His Washington Paper to Competitor and Capital Awaits Policy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — People living outside of Washington can have little idea of the excitement which the national capital has experienced in the last 48 hours as it read the announcement that Col. Robert R. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune had sold his Washington newspaper — the Times-Herald — to the only morning competitor, the Washington Post.

Maybe if there had not been such a vigorous campaign carried on by the Washington Times-Herald against Communists in the government and if the Washington Post had not as a rule taken the other side of the argument so vigorously, the merger would have passed off with little notice.

But now demands have arisen from many Times-Herald readers for another morning newspaper, and there are rumors in the air that millionaires from Texas and elsewhere are being importuned to put up the 10 to 15 million dollars which would be required to finance such a project.

Starting a new newspaper in Washington would be quite a problem for anyone, even with a big bankroll, since the Times-Herald has been losing an estimated $1,000,000 a year — possibly because there are too many papers dividing the market.

But it is fair to say that today there is sadness among those in and outside the government who have regarded the Times-Herald as a champion of their point of view.

A feeling prevails that the anti-Communist crusade has lost its most articulate exponent in the national capital.

Just why Col. McCormick decided to sell has not been revealed, but it is generally accepted that his health has not been good. He is 73 years old, and Mrs. McCormick has been urging him to shed some of his responsibilities, especially in Washington.

He made his principal fortune in investment banking in Wall Street. Members of his family are active in the paper.

The new owners paid approximately $8,500,000 for the privilege of burying their competitor on weekdays and eliminating one competing paper on Sundays.

It is believed that the purchase contract provides for the acquisition of the plant and equipment of the Times-Herald and that arrangements to dispose of the printing presses and machines to some enterprise outside of Washington have been or will be made. So any new newspaper would have a hard time starting right away, no matter how much capital it might be able to mobilize.

Hence those who today feel that the only Washington morning paper for the President and members of Congress to read will be a paper with news items and editorials slanted to a so-called "liberal" or New Dealish point of view will have to trust to the good sense of the Post management to recognize that in the long run one-sidedness never pays where there is a monopoly.

For there is always the possibility of a morning paper being issued by one of the present evening newspapers if the competitive situation should really encourage it.

The theory of the critics that only one viewpoint has been printed in the Washington Post, both in its news and editorial columns, may be refuted by the experience in other cities where mergers have occurred. Again and again the merged publication has recognized the wisdom of printing articles from contributors presenting a view opposite to its own editorials.

It has usually led to an elimination of bias in the handling of front-page news and in a balanced selection of dispatches from the press associations, which normally cover both sides of a controversial subject in an objective manner.

Two other newspapers remain in the field here — the Evening Star, owned by and operated now in the main by the fourth generation of the Noyes-Kauffman-Adams family, which founded the property 101 years ago — and the Washington Daily News, owned by the Scripps-Howard chain. They do not publish morning editions, though the Star has a Sunday issue.

It is reliably reported that neither the Star nor the Daily News intends to publish a morning edition. People in the national capital, of course, read New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore newspapers, which come in here in large numbers but do not have the wide distribution through home delivery that a local newspaper would maintain.

The Evening Star, according to the latest figures of the audit bureau of circulation, has an average of 234,660 daily and 264,437 on Sundays. The Times-Herald had 253,332 daily and 287,300 on Sundays. The Washington Daily News has 138,778.

The comparable Washington Post figures are 201,645 daily and 200,163 on Sundays. It is not expected that the Post will be able to retain all the Times-Herald circulation, as much of this will go to the Star, especially on Sundays when the public will have two Sunday papers to choose from — the Post and the Star.

Many readers of the Times-Herald are telling their friends they are canceling their subscriptions to the merged paper, and the Star is finding itself with an abnormally large number of new subscriptions flowing in.

Agencies in advertising centers were being told, it is reported, that the Post expects to average 300,000 daily and 330,000 on Sundays. Officials of the Star and the Washington Daily News were not prepared as yet to estimate their expected increase.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Choose Interesting Topic When Preparing Speech

Jesus gave us the best public speaking formula ever discovered by man, so be sure you profit from it. If you belong to a club of any sort, you will often need to make a speech, even though it be short. So paste this Case Record in your scrapbook. And send for the bulletin below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case K-353: Horace H., aged 29, is a new member of that famous organization called the Toastmaster's Club.

"Dr. Crane, I'm just a novice at making a speech," Horace admitted.

"But I realize the importance of being able to express one's self in public.

"I almost die of cold sweat every time I get up to talk, but I make myself keep on, anyway.

"And it does get a little easier every time. Now I shed only a pint of cold sweat instead of a gallon!

"Do you have any pointers for us amateur speakers? How can I be sure of making an interesting talk?"

The focus of human interest lies within each person's epidermis.

Every inch that the speaker moves away from my skin in space, and every second that he moves away from the present moment in time, my interest wanes.

So shoot your remarks at the people in the audience. Use stories that are drawn from close home. And keep your eyes on the crowd so you can see when they grow inattentive.

Save most of your jokes for such times, too. Don't waste all your humor at the start, for you don't need it then.

Jokes are prods to wake up a sleepy audience. And at the start of your talk, you have the undivided attention of the group, anyway.

They'll stay with you for a couple of minutes, just to size you up and detect your peculiarities of dress or gesture.

Here is the best formula for a successful speech. It was used by Jesus as the standard pattern for his addresses, and almost every great orator in modern times has spontaneously hit upon it.

First, pick an interesting text or vital topic. And it helps to enrich your take-off if you can quote a relevant comment by some famous character in history.

For example, suppose you were to address a Music Club on some such topic as the value of music in enriching the human soul. You might lead off as follows:

"Music is the only language," said John Erskine, "in which you cannot say a mean or sarcastic thing."

After deciding upon your dynamic text, then select two or three stories to document and illustrate it. I don't refer to humorous stories, but to narratives.

Then conclude your address with a punchy terminal paragraph that "ties the wheat in the sack."

One of the chief differences between an oration vs. an ordinary lecture or expositional address, is the fact that the oration lifts the audience up to a high emotional peak for an instant at the climax.

To obtain this effect, try to enter your peroration (home stretch) in rhythm. Quote a relevant poem or stanza which perfectly epitomizes your concluding thought.

For rhythm stimulates our emotions better than prose. But don't try to "emote" about mundane things, such as the making of bricks, etc.

Send for my bulletin "Public Platform Strategy," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus a dime. It offers many further bits of practical strategy.

Have You Had Your 3 Large Glassfuls of Milk Today (to Prevent Rheumatiz)?

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

One of the characteristic signs of aging, as observed by Dr. Nathan W. Shock and his team experts in the U. S. Public Health Service's study of the aging process in some 2,000 patients in Baltimore City Hospital in the last several years, is the tendency to resist new ideas.

We can't help it if a lot of old geezers resist and reject the idea that consumption of a quart of milk every day will prevent the development of chronic rheumatiz.

I can't guarantee this. I conceived the idea only a few years ago and it has one great drawback, namely, that people who have not yet developed any serious signs of the rheumatiz are not interested in prophylaxis.

By the time they become interested in it their joints have already degenerated, even if they are still capable of accepting a new idea.

The reason why I believe the liberal use of milk in the everyday diet will stave off the rheumatiz will become obvious when or if you read the pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatiz, available on written request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope.

First there's Sherman's dictum that the diet of Americans is probably more often deficient in calcium than in any other chemical element.

Readers have sent me hundreds of reports of their relief from chronic rheumatiz, in some instances enough to enable them to resume work they had been compelled to give up, by (a) high calcium diet and (b) supplementing the diet with an optimal daily ration of Ca and D, as advised in the pamphlet.

Here it may be well to remind you doctors and folks that up to a point it is always possible to arrest degeneration and even reverse the process — bring about regeneration of cells and tissues and restoration of health. Up to a point, I say.

If you think your joint disability is a more fashionable or exclusive ailment than that of the washerwoman or day-laborer below the tracks you may derive some satisfaction from calling it arthritis.

Arth (joint) itis (inflammation) does occur, from infection of joint lining by streptococcus, staphylococcus, hneumoccus, gonococcus, tuberculosis, syphilis etc., but it is usually weeks or months in duration.

If the joint trouble continues for a year or more it is probably just plain rheumatiz—degeneration and not inflammation.

As a result of the calcium deficiency of the ordinary American diet, adults experience long-continued . . . depletion through the years, their bones and joints become poor in calcium and more fragile . . . osteoporosis (Boas).

The best food source of calcium is M I L K.

Have you had your 1½ pints (three large glassfuls) of milk today, or are you training for the rheumatiz?

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

U. S. Not Likely to Buy Off Reds

French Peace Hopes for Indochina Appear Doomed

WASHINGTON (AP) — French hopes that the United States will try to buy peace in Indochina by making concessions to the Chinese Communists seem destined to end in disappointment.

A check of official opinion indicated today that this country has no intention of holding out to Red China at the forthcoming Geneva conference on Far East peace problems either the prospect of recognition or the lure of trade as payments for peace.

There have been news reports from Paris that at least some responsible French leaders believe only such American inducements can offer any real hope of an end to the Indochina fighting.

U.S. officials do not necessarily agree with this point of view. There is no indication that the Reds at Peiping care about American recognition or are enough interested in trade with the United States to give up their bid for Indochina.

The real difficulty between Washington and Paris on the problem, however, is their different approaches to the problem of Indochina peace. The French government undoubtedly feels itself under pressure to get peace in Indochina at some price. But the United States has been willing to consider only a settlement which did not bring in outside issues and which would secure the strategic land against new Communist aggression.

* * *

In the Geneva talks the world powers will tackle first the problem of Korea and second that of Indochina. A trade embargo was imposed by the United States on Red China because of the Korean War. At the moment it appears that only Communist agreement to the unification, freedom and independence of all Korea would bring an agreement to lift or substantially modify the trade barrier.

On the recognition issue Secretary of State Dulles now has a completely frozen policy. Powerful political elements are absolutely opposed to recognition to the Red regime in China and opposition to this view, if it exists, is seldom heard. Diplomats believe that only a long period of good behavior on the part of the Chinese Communists could bring any change in the national attitude on recognition.

* * *

Indochina came up for discussion yesterday at a private White House chat between President Eisenhower and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, former supreme commander in the Far East. MacArthur, confirming this, declined to give details.

We say this to America...

It took Studebaker, the great independent, to build the FIRST really modern car!

IT HAD to be done—and Studebaker did it! Studebaker—the great independent of the automobile world—once again has set the pattern for car design for years ahead!

Today's new Studebaker—styled by Raymond Loewy—is Studebaker's answer to America's growing demand for lower cost motoring.

The speedlined new Studebaker silhouette is designed to save gasoline sensationally because it's free from power-wasting excess bulk.

Studebaker has no "family" of cars to consider when it introduces a new model. Pace-setting Studebaker builds no other cars. Studebaker is completely independent.

That independence is the reason the far-advanced new 1954 Studebaker has swung on the scene so fast.

Drive the car! Get the proof!

Get the out-ahead styling—the stand-out operating economy—of a far-advanced '54 Studebaker. You're sure to get more for Studebaker's modern design when you trade.

PLEASES NATION'S PAPAS — Eddie Fisher is the proud owner of the "George" medal, presented by the National Father's Day Committee in recognition of what his recording of "Oh, My Papa" had done for fathers across the nation. The "George" (for Washington, Father of His Country) was presented to Fisher in Hollywood, Calif., after the committee adopted the record as its official song.

Berlin Visitors Many

BERLIN (INS) — The number of foreign visitors to Berlin last year increased sixty percent over the previous years, while the reservations for 1954 indicate an even greater growth.

Bob Considine Says:

Foreign Papers Missing Inside Stories on America

NEW YORK (INS) — Mrs. Anny Haller, a naturalized American, was watching a movie I was showing about a recent achievement of American know-how — the location and exploitation of natural gas in the mountains of Eastern Utah, Western Colorado and Northern New Mexico.

"I see nothing in the newspapers about this example of what a great nation we are," she said, watching the war between the men and nature.

"All I read about are Sen. McCarthy and his arguments," Mrs. Haller continued. "Is there not some way we can also tell the people throughout the world that we can do more than argue and call names?"

Maybe. But it's not easy. eOur friends in journalism overseas adamantly opposed to printing1 news about what goes on in the U.S. They print only the news of violence, sex and of a shoddy sort, when they do.

The gas strikes in Utah, Colorado and New Mexico were achieved in all but inaccessible areas, often on slopes that fall dizzily away to the Wasatch Plateau.

Geologists have known for years about these huge gas reserves. Economical development was something else. A Lowell, Mass., lawyer named John A. McGuire was the driving force that made this dream come true.

McGuire and his group cleared 54 miles of mountain roads sometimes less than 12 degrees from vertical. The furies of Nature put the group millions of dollars in the hole before the first strike.

In 1952 McGuire was offered close to $10,000,000 for a half interest in the group's holdings. He was tempted. He had a well at the time where the drilling had reached a point only a few hundred feet from the pay zone, if any.

He was in this predicament: If he sold and the well became a great producer, he would have been damned by those he had brought into the deal. If he did not sell, and drew a dry hole, his name would have been doubly damned.

The luck of the Irish held. As he wavered back and forth, the Texas oil man who was to be the purchaser developed a toothache and asked for a 24-hour delay before a meeting where a deal very easily could have been made.

Exactly one hour and a half before the meeting word reached McGuire from Utah that the well had just blown in for an initial potential twice that previously attained in the field.

"Forty million dollar toothache," grumbled the Texan, probably in the tone of a man who had just lost two bucks on Seabiscuit. He could use that tone. His name is Clint Murchison.

Cadillac

It Speaks a Universal Language!

It's the great 1954 Cadillac—and it speaks not only with great eloquence, but in a language which is known and understood wherever there are roads to travel . . . and people to behold.

First of all, it speaks of its owner—the minute its beautiful hood comes into view.

"Here is a man," it says—almost as plainly as the words are written here—"who has earned the right to sit at this wheel—by his industry and deportment and enterprise. Be he merchant or lawyer or businessman—or doctor or farmer or financier—the odds are great that he's a credit to his calling and to his fellow men.

And then, as it comes closer, it speaks its special message for 1954.

Its beautiful silhouette—graceful, free-flowing and dynamic—announces a whole new era in automotive design . . . "expect me to be copied for years to come!"

And its smooth, silent, easy movement—a true symphony in motion as it glides past and on and away—says with clarity and eloquence that the world's standard for performance has been raised again.

It comes in addition to all the priceless fundamentals which make a Cadillac a Cadillac: unrivalled endurance and dependability—incomparable comfort and handling ease—and unbelievable economy of upkeep and operation.

Have you considered letting a Cadillac speak for you? Better investigate today.

By AMELIA ANTHONY

Founder of Girlstown, U.S.A.

The distressed voices in the corridor awoke me. Then came the knock on my door.

"Mama. Myrna is running away. Mama."

Putting on my robe, I looked at my watch. It was 2 a.m.

"Myrna's packing," Ellen said. "She says she doesn't want to stay here anymore."

"All right, dear," I said. "Go back to your room. I'll talk to Myrna."

Amelia Anthony

Dressing, I realized that "talk" was about all I could do with Myrna. We could not prevent her from running away. When Girlstown was established in 1949, I wanted it to be a true home, so there were no fences or barriers. Only the quality of love and sense of belonging would keep Myrna and any others from leaving.

But love had seemed a weak weapon against Myrna. Since the day three weeks before, when juvenile authorities had turned her over to me, she had rebuffed my every attempt to get close to her. Myrna seemed hardened at 15 in a way that would have been pitiful in a mature woman.

She had parents but they neglected her. She was not eligible for an orphanage. Since she had done nothing wrong, there was no need to send her to a detention institution. Myrna had no suitable relatives. No one wanted her.

But I did. For youngsters like her I had founded Girlstown.

And now she had decided to go.

I hurried to her room where she was packing her suitcase with grand flourishes. When she saw me, her taut face set in determined lines.

"You're leaving?" I asked.

"It looks like it," she said curtly.

The window was opened—obviously her escape. I helped her pack. "Ladies leave by the front door," I said, picking up her suitcase, led her into the living room.

I opened the door and handed her the bag. "Good-bye, Myrna," I said. "I know that God will watch over you."

She looked up at me quickly, and for an instant her dark eyes filled with confusion. Then she clinched her teeth and walked off into the dark night. I watched her until she was out of sight. Defeated, I closed the door and went to my office.

Too crushed even for tears, I sat there, numbed by my first failure. And when words finally came to me, they were a prayer. I begged God to show me what I had done wrong, what to do next.

Girlstown had been my lifelong dream. As a social worker I had seen countless young girls who were unwanted, had nowhere to go and slipped off eventually into the darkness of serious delinquency. For years I searched for some way to protect them from that black future.

When enough money had been save, I opened a small home for girls in Buffalo Gap, Texas. Four months later I received, by deeded gift, surface rights to a 1,425-acre property nine miles south of Whiteface, Texas. The buildings we constructed became Girlstown, U.S.A.

We have made it as homelike as possible, and accepted full responsibility for girls of all ages and the duty of preparing them for constructive womanhood.

Myrna had been the fifty-third girl to arrive. And the first to run away . . .

The knock at the door was so light it almost escaped me. It was Myrna, uncertain but still defiant.

"I want to talk to you," she said, "but just for a few minutes. I'm not staying. But there's something I must know." Her voice trembled, but she tried to keep the bitterness in it.

"Why did you say God would watch over me?" she demanded.

"Because He will," I said.

"He never has," she said. "Why should He start now? He's left me alone all these years. Why should He suddenly care for me? I don't care for Him. I hate Him."

"No, you don't." I said, suddenly realizing her terrible loneliness and hunger for the love her unfortunate childhood forced her to reject. "Good has cared for you in many ways."

"Like what?" she challenged. "Such as giving me a prostitute for a mother and a drunkard for a father? Like giving me a murderer for a grandfather and a bootlegger for an uncle?

"Like putting me in the streets so the police can pick me up? Like giving me a life that can only make me like my mother? Well, if that's how God has cared for me, I might as well get started now."

The words tumbled through the wall of hate she had built for herself. She was shaking and I wanted to take her into my arms.

"God hasn't given you those things," I said. "He couldn't because they're evil. If you think you have this same kind of life ahead of you, it's only because you're making the mistake your family made: You won't let yourself love God. And you can't be aware of His love until you do."

"What has God done to show me that He wants my love?" she said.

"He has brought you back here."

She stood there, and her eyes mirrored the conflict between what the hard years had taught her and what she now suddenly wanted. Abruptly, the sobs came. And she was in my arms.

The next day, she was so different the others were slightly reticent.

But I kept hoping for something more. That moment came on a Sunday morning.

Accompanying other girls, Myrna had joined a congregation whose people wanted to build a new church. This Sunday, the pastor suggested that men of the congregation contribute a portion of their salaries to meet remaining expenses. Myrna was suddenly on her feet.

"Most of you know I'm from Girlstown. I have my dollar a week allowance I can give. But I want to do something more. I want to work to earn money for the new church."

Other girls joined her. At Girlstown, they baked pies and cakes and sold them. In one week, they made $60. Their example inspired the rest of the congregation, and everyone did something special to raise the necessary funds.

Weeks later, I saw Myrna and five other girls kneel at the church altar and, through baptism, accept their responsibilities as Christians. Afterwards, Myrna came to me.

"You've always said you've built Girlstown on a foundation of faith," she said. "Well, I think everything must be built that way, if it's to endure."

Pooch's Subconscious Disconcerting to Judge

HIGH WYCOMBE, England (AP)—Witnesses testified that E. J. Britnell's dog wagged its tail at the postman, the milkman and the baker, but when the rent collector came along he seized him by the seat of his pants.

Judge J. Norman Daynes awarded the rent man damages of 6 pounds 4 shillings ($17.36) yesterday. He mused:

Burks Tells Federation That Odds Favor West in Cold War

Prof. Richard V. Burks, of Wayne University, told some 65 Pontiac teachers Thursday that "the odds favor us" in the cold war between Russia and the Western world.

Burks spoke at a Pontiac Local 417, American Federation of Teachers dinner-meeting at Lincoln Junior High School. Music by Pontiac High School's Girls Ensemble and a business session completed the program.

The local voted to raise dues from $12 to $15 a year. Members gave the salary committee the green light to call a mass meeting of all Pontiac teachers to explain the recent teacher's salary raises and to ask for a vote of opposition or agreement—if the committee thinks a meeting is needed.

Burks, an associate professor of history, pictured Russia as a tense restless nation, plagued by industrial weakness, low standards of living, discontented citizens and a lack of natural barriers such as seas and mountains—to protect it from invasion.

He predicts no letup in the cold war for the next 20 years, but said Russia doesn't want an all-out "hot war," either.

Pontiac General to Get 8 Interns

Hospital Trustees Hear Announcement of New Members Thursday

Pontiac General Hospital has secured eight new interns to work from July to January.

Hospital Director Lauretta Paul made the announcement at the institution's board of trustees meeting Thursday night. The figure is the largest number of interns obtained by Pontiac General in several years, Miss Paul said.

The board received notice that Dr. Ralph Meng is resigning from the staff to go into practice in the Washington, D. C., area.

Assignments by the staff credentials committee were approved to permit additional surgical privileges for Dr. George Hardy and Dr. Leonard Blackwell.

A revised schedule of operating room charges was also approved. The next regular board meeting was set for April 22.

Farm Dairy Burglarized

The Richardson Farm Dairy, at 7350 Highland Rd., was broken into, according to a report received Thursday by the Waterford Township Police. Change from two vending machines was taken. Police Chief Frank Van Atta said burglars forced open a door and ransacked the store, late Wednesday night.

Michigan has 175,268 farms with a total acreage of 18,392,227.

'Record Hop' Plans, Basketball Highlight Week

"Approach with care. Blind man driving."

Dance at PHS Set for April 2

Parochial Schools Give Attention to Intramural Playoffs

Dance plans and a pep assembly had Pontiac High Students cheering this week; basketball news highlighted parochial school activities in the city.

At Pontiac High, Student Council chiefs have revealed plans for the "Record Hop" which is a social must for every disc fan in the high school.

ST. MICHAEL

MARGARET

Vocational subjects also took a goodly share of time as Dr. Maurice Thome presented a talk to seniors on the field of chiropody.

Biology enthusiasts heard a talk from a representative of the Pontiac Fire Department. He presented facts about artificial respiration to accentuate their current study of first aid.

ST. FREDERICK

On March 16, members of the St. Fred junior class donned "thinking caps" and assembled to take the required I. Q. tests.

MARY

School reporter Mary Drake relates that basketball fever reached a high pitch with the intramural playoffs getting under way. As yet all teams were struggling to get in the top position.

Members of the freshmen English classes divided into groups and held a series of panel discussions following their study of the biography.

A soothing interlude in the busy school day was enjoyed by the high schoolers recently as the St. Frederick Choral Club began practice for the annual spring concert.

PONTIAC HIGH

VICKY

A basketball game in which the Chiefs were victorious was main reason for the assembly but a skit from the play "Mr. Peepers" which will be presented for the last time tonight, was another highlight of the day.

School teeners crossed their fingers as that dreaded day of report cards loomed once more. Students will receive their "greetings" this Monday.

Pontiac Press Photo

Senior Class Committees Revealed at Pontiac High

Handling Class Day doings will be chairman Mike Rosenberg, with Norm Levin, Bill Viands, Judy Morrow, Marion Reeder, Fred Smith, Nancy Aldrich, and Jimmie Williams assisting.

Martha Burris was chosen head of the announcement committee and will have the aid of Jo Malams, Alonzo Watson, Nancy Welch, Pat Webster, Jo Osmun and George Paulson. Jim Schellenberg, Eddie George, and Glen Logan are the students who complete the committee.

Other senior committeemen will be announced later.

Latin Classes Observe Death of Julius Caesar

Miss Iama C. Hook, latin instructor, also hung a black bow with purple helmets from her classroom door. Thus Julius Ceasar was honored by those who cope every day with his Gaellic Wars.

Child Cheerful Despite Frequent Hospitalization

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Eight year-old Sandra Franco has been in and out of the same hosuital 58 times in her long fight for health but still has a spunky, cheery disposition—also a straight-A average in her studies.

In between her stays at the hospital she keeps up in her studies at All Saints Sshool in nearby El Sereno.

Long Ad Is Laughable, Short One Is Pathetic

By BILLY ROSE

I have before me two advertisements. One is only a few words long and says a great deal. The other runs longer than this column and says very little.

BILLY ROSE

Let's look at the long ad first. It appears on page 60 of the current issue of Art News. I quote it in part:

"NEW GALLERY TO OPEN NEXT SEASON

"GLORIFYING THE BLESSED LOGSDOWN EXCLUSIVELY

"Logsdon is the greatest artist who ever lived or who ever will live. This statement means that he is greater than Michelangelo, Titan. Velasquez, Rembrandt or Rubens. This includes all artists, known or unknown, of the past, present of future . . .

Millionaires have been forced to stand bankrupt and penniless before Logsdon's masterpieces simply because they did not have enough money to buy them . . . A Logsdon just cannot be had for love or money . . . You can look but you cannot buy. Logsdon is not for sale . . .

"The entire gallery will be given over to the Great Logsdon . . .

"Members will be admitted by invitation only. The membership list and gallery address will always remain a permanent top secret. All members will be required to sign a witnessed, binding agreement to this effect, and those who divulge gallery address or names of members will be permanently withdrawn from the gallery membership list, after paying the agreed heavy fine . . .

"Logsdon is self-taught. He is self-discovered. And — because this gallery is so ultra-exclusive in its policy, we wish to give it a very appropriate name: THE ULTRA-EXCLUSIVE GALLERY . . ."

Well, unless I miss my guess, the author of this self-effacing piece of prose about a painter named Logsdon is a painter named Logsdon. And I shudder to think what might happen if this self-discovered genius should come across the story of Van Gogh who, when a lady refused to pay attention to him, cut off his ear and sent it to her in an envelope.

Now for the ad which is short on words and long on message. It appears on the cover of a book of matches, I gather, has been printed up in the hundreds of thousands by the New York Telephone Co. for distribution among the half million Puerto Ricans now living in New York.

This ad contains about 20 simple words in Spanish, and is illustrated with elementary drawings which show how to operate a dial telephone.

One of these drawings seeks to make clear the difference between "0" the zero and "O" the letter.

And I assume the drawing is being circulated because the phone company has been plagued by hundreds of incorrect calls made by Puerto Ricans who don't know the difference between "0" the zero and "O" the letter.

As I see it, this matchbook pretty much sums up what editorial writers are pleased to call "the Puerto Rican question."

It is evidence of the melancholy fact that many Puerto Ricans in New York — and, inferentially, many in Puerto Rico have never had a chance to learn their A-B-C's.

Just conceivably, if there were less need for these matchbook ads, there might be less chance of incidents such as the one which took place in the House of Representatives at 2:55 o'clock on the afternoon of March 1st.

Test Well Near Malkim School Shows Promise

"Good well possibilities" are indicated at a test water well being drilled by Pontiac near Malkim School, according to City Manager Walter K. Willman.

The well is down about 300 feet and is in a good gravel formation," Willman explained.

Similar tests recently completed near Silver Lake have cleared the way for construction of three wells to produce an estimated 2,700,000 gallons per day.

Ancient Norsemen believed the lights of the aurora were the Valkyries riding their ghostly horses through the sky.

Bad Check Passer Named in Warrant

A warrant charging issuance of checks with insufficient funds was issued Thursaay against Irving Stein, 27, of Detroit, according to Robert C. Miller, investigator for the Oakland County prosecutor's office.

Stein is reported to have left the state last weekend after Commerce Township citizens charged that he and his brother Lacey, 22, also of Detroit, had failed to deliver L & I Sales Co. merchandise purchased by them.

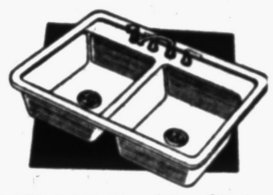

It is thought the checks were written as commissions for Commerce people who brought customers to the Steins, Miller explained.

The charge against Stein constitutes a felony because three checks were issued within 10 days, Miller added. Miller said authorities would talk with Lacey Stein today.

Dead Rabbit Avenged by Persistent Pursuers

DURHAM, N. H. (UP) — A conservation officer, Dave Dupee, related one of the most freakish hunting accidents of the season.

A member of a party hunting with dogs shot a rabbit and picked it up to see if it was dead or wounded. He had laid down his shotgun.

Bond Issue Voted Down

Junior Girls Spoof the Government With Annual Play, 'Tickled Pink'

By JUNE GRANSTROM

ANN ARBOR—Seven hundred coeds nearing the end of their college careers at the University of Michigan had their "Senior Fling" Thursday night when junior girls presented a play for seniors alone to view.

The premiere performance of "Tickled Pink," the annual junior girls' play, was the highlight of Senior Fling, the theme of this year's traditional Senior Night honoring the graduating class.

Singers and dancers spoofed the government in the three-act musical farce, presented in the Michigan League's Lydia Mendelssohn Theater.

Jane Kohr of Birmingham directed the dancers throughout the play, which began in the government "Office of the Exterior" and ended on a South Pacific island, where office secretaries had gone seeking adventure and love and officials had gone to investigate the effects of a misplaced atomic bomb.

Among those acting as native dancers welcoming the island's visitors was Catherine Shinnick of Birmingham.

Miss Shinnick also danced as a secretary in the first act, along with Mary Barton of Bloomfield Hills, and as a native in a spectacular ceremonial tribal dance, along with Deeon Utley of Ottawa drive, Jan Kindley and Peggy Perkin of Birmingham.

Since all the natives had pink hair, a congressional investigating committee was attracted to the island, and was greeted by Robin Renfrew of Birmingham, singing "We Have Nothing to Hide." At the play's end, the island's visitors have reached the various goals they were seeking.

Senior coeds could interrupt the performance to call for encores of numbers with which they were tickled pink — one of their traditional Senior Night privileges.

Another tradition requires them to declare their marital status. Married students carried candles, while engaged seniors sucked lemons. Girls who were pinned left their fraternity pins at the door and wore safety pins for the rest of the evening.

Among the 700 seniors for whom the evening was reserved were several from Pontiac: Barbara Boegehold of Erie drive, Patricia Cochran of Kemper avenue, Joby Cooper of Chippewa road, Carolyn Dalley of Chippewa road, Mary Joan Dickie of Woodland avenue, Sophia Fedonis of South Anderson street and Mary Rose Hall of Washington street.

Also among the honored seniors were Helen Hayes of Chapman street, Jeanne Killoran of Voorheis road, Suzanne Stolpe of Starr avenue, Virginia Voss of Miami road, Beverly Warwick of Island Court and Donna Westerlund of Avondale avenue.

The play, a tradition on campus since 1904, will be performed for the public tonight, with two performances scheduled for Saturday.

Some People's Generosity Is Only a Bid to Be Thanked and Admired

Psychology Not a Crutch for the Lazy

It Can't Substitute for Our Individual Moral Efforts

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Last summer a young friend of ours worked as counselor in a children's day camp. One morning as she prepared to organize a game, she noted that a spirit of sadness had descended on a small boy named Jake.

Turning to one of his friends, she said, "What's the matter with Jake this morning, do you know?"

Jake's friend stared over at him for a long moment. Then he shook his head. "No, I don't," he said worriedly. "I guess he needs to be anopsychalized."

It turned out, however, that Jake did not need to be psychoanalyzed. All he needed to regain his serenity was a moral value.

He needed to be told that if he had conscientiously searched for the lost dime his mother had given him for lunch milk, actually finding it was not important. He needed to be reassured that his moral duty consisted, not of finding his dime, but of making a sincere effort to correct his carelessness.

But Jake's friend, a child of his time, prefered to complicate this simple solution. Like many of his elders, he seems to have got the idea that the way to meet any problem is to at once regard oneself as a candidate for psychological attention.

A reader seems to have this idea. She is angry at her community for failing to support a psychological clinic.

"It is terrible," she writes, "to live in a small town where you cannot consult a psychologist when you want one. My depression over a recent quarrel with a sister is affecting my family. Where can I get help?"

She can locate the nearest psychological help by writing to the National Association for Mental Health, 1790 Broadway, New York, N.Y.

Meanwhile, may I remind her that if her town doesn't contain a psychologist, it does contain a library?

In it, if she wishes, she can confer with the wisdom collected by Western civilization over many centuries for just such problems as hers. All any psychologist can do for her is to open her eyes to it.

Are we becoming morally lazy people who regard psychology as just another labor-saving device? Sometimes I think so.

We can avoid the work of chewing by feeding ourselves vitamins, and attend baseball games without leaving our armchairs by turning on our television set.

But we haven't yet devised the labor-saving device that can spare us individual moral effort. As Mrs. G. will discover if she locates a good psychologist.

Women Buyers Wield Big Stick

Women's influence in buying power is so strong that industry is giving the ladies just what they ask for.

An example is a new clock-radio put out by a major firm. The company discovered that women didn't like the dull cardboard backs on most radios because they could only be jammed up against a wall.

So the manufacturer styled the new clock-radio front and back. The back is almost fancier than the front, with delicate gold lines traced on pure white plastic.

Big dots, little dots—any dot is smart fashion for neckline accent this spring. One designer dots a large white scarf square with brilliant colored circles, both large and small, in a wide-spaced "solar dot" design that makes any tie-way effective.

Pie Blends Butterscotch and Maple

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

At the time of the All Saints antique show Mrs. C. R. Gatley promised to give us her original recipe for butterscotch pie flavored with maple syrup.

She has had time to work out the proportions for us and we're happy to follow our recent article on maple syrup with her good recipe.

Besides working with her church group, Mrs. Gatley is active in the Farm and Garden Association. "Horti-therapy," or the art of helping to cure sick people through teaching them to work with flowers, is her present interest.

In close cooperation with the Birmingham garden group, Mrs. Gatley and her committee spend one day a week at Pontiac State Hospital teaching patients how to arrange flowers.

MAPLE BUTTERSCOTCH PIE
By Mrs. C. R. Gatley

2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup maple syrup
2 eggs, separated
¾ cup evaporated milk
¼ cup water
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 tablespoons granulated sugar
¼ teaspoon baking powder

Mix together in a double boiler the cornstarch, flour, butter and brown sugar. Add some of this mixture to well-beaten egg yolks, then return to boiler and gradually stir in the milk diluted with the water, and the maple syrup.

Stir constantly over hot water until thick and smooth. Cool. Add vanilla. Pour into baked pie shell.

With a wire whip, beat the egg whites stiff. Add the baking powder and the granulated sugar, a tablespoonful at a time. Spread meringue over the pie and bake 15 minutes at 350 degrees. Makes a 9-inch pie.

Rearrange Corsage to Suit Costume

The next time you are the happy recipient of a corsage, don't think you must wear it on your dress when it doesn't lend itself to the design.

Take it apart to arrange in your hair, or pin it to your purse. Or tack a few of the flowers to some velvet ribbon to make a wrist corsage.

Play, Party Scheduled Same Night

Must Theater Date Be Sacrificed for Bridal Shower?

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "In this morning's mail I received an invitation to a shower that is being given for my brother's fiancee. It so happens that I had planned to go to the theater with a group of friends that very same night. We have had these tickets for weeks and I have been looking forward to seeing this play.

"Now the question is, would it be wrong for me not to go to the shower? My brother seems to think that I should give up going to the theater, as people will think my absence strange. Will you please advise me?"

Answer: If you could possibly change the tickets for a week later, I think you should do so. But if this is not possible, I think it would be unfair to expect you to give up your tickets, and as long as you send a shower present that is really all that is necessary.

It may even be possible for you to put in an appearance before the shower is over.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married soon and would appreciate your answering the following two questions for me. (1) My father has always signed his name as James E. Greene. He has a very unusual middle name and has never used it, and he absolutely refuses to use it now on my wedding invitations.

I know that names are supposed to be written in full on an engraved form, but would it be too far outside the realm of good taste to use the initial in this case, or would it be better to omit it entirely?

(2) Can champagne punch, served from a punch bowl, be served in punch cups or must champagne glasses be used?

Answer: (1) Mr. James Greene would be in better taste on an engraved invitation than using the initial. (2) Either would be proper.

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me how one goes about asking pallbearers to serve at a funeral, and also are they asked by the family or are intimate friends of the deceased supposed to volunteer to serve in this capacity.

Answer: The member of the family who is in charge telephones, or telegraphs if they are at a distance, six or eight men who are best friends of the deceased and asks them to serve as pallbearers.

Windows Steam?

Most cases of steaming windows can be cured by using insulated glass, heating experts agree. The double-paned units contain a "dead air" space which allows the inner pane to remain at room temperature, thus preventing condensation.

The correct method of joining two sections is to put the lower end of the upper section into the upper end of the lower section. If you do the reverse, water will seep out through the joint and stain the adjoining siding.

It's a sad but true fact that you don't make or keep friends just by feeling kindly toward them. Unless you express your feelings in some kind of action, the persons never know they stand high with you.

So don't expect the friend in the hospital to know you are concerned about him unless you express your concern with a note, flowers, or a visit.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

These Good-Deed-Doers Will Sulk If Not Praised

"In connection with that quest of yours for happy people," writes a Miami, Fla., reader, "I'd like to tell you a true story about a once-happy man who is now a most miserable-seeming, grumpy fellow.

"When we first moved here several years ago, our neighbor Eddie impressed my husband and me as just about the nicest, kindest, most generous person we'd ever met. He was the first to welcome us after the moving men left, and when we began settling into our house, he loaned us tools, gave us a hand with the garden, taught us to cope with the temperament of the power mower, unstuck freshly painted windows, fixed a recalcitrant door.

MISS McBRIDE

"He appeared like a magician whenever anything went wrong. You could call him at midnight for an emergency and he would appear instantly, cheerful and competent.

"As time went on, we naturally adjusted, bought necessary equipment so that we didn't have to borrow any more, and enjoyed puttering around on our own. We finally had to be rather firm with Eddie, who still wanted to do everything.

"Then we noticed that as our need for him decreased, his good humor lessened in proportion. Apparently, he's only happy when he's doing something to be thanked for.

"We prayed that a new neighbor moving in would want what Eddie has to offer, but alas, Mr. Roberts is a very self-sufficient, well-equipped man with plenty of ideas of his own. We feel sad about Eddie, but we don't know what to do."

I don't know, either, what to do about the Eddies of this world. They seem to have within them some deep-seated urge to scatter largess. I've never met Eddie but imagine I'd recognize him because I'm sure that he shares at least some of the attributes of the Lord and Lady Bountifuls with whom I've had considerable experience.

Our Miami reader gave me the clue when she said he's apparently only happy when he's doing something to be thanked for.

Such people, I believe, do good as a sort of buildup to their own egos. If they are prominent, they expect as a reward to see their names in big headlines. If they're less well-known, like Eddie, they regard it as their due that everyone should stand around admiring them, saying at intervals, "Thank you, thank you. I never in my life saw such a clever, generous good neighbor!"

If these results aren't immediately forthcoming, this kind of good-dee-doer is disgruntled and sulks. That's what Eddie's doing now—sulking.

Of course I don't mean to say that all the good, kind people in the world are like this. Plenty really prefer to obey the Biblical injunction not to let the left hand know what the right hand doeth.

They give, not to be seen and praised by men, but because they like to share. Eddie's brief satisfaction, on the other hand, comes not really from giving, but from being hailed as a giver.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I have trouble enough getting decent grades without being distracted by the flirting my girl friend does with my boy friend!

"In this one class (my worst subject) they're always talking and laughing together so that I can not concentrate—I hardly can listen to the teacher.

"She claims I'm her best friend, but I don't feel that way about her. My boy friend is too important to her—she practically ignores me when the three of us are together.

"I'm too jealous, I suppose. He knows how I feel and I guess he enjoys it all. It's not that I'm afraid of losing him to her — I'm afraid of flunking!

"I haven't told her to keep away from him because it wouldn't do any good. But what can I do? Every day after class is over I feel just miserable!"

A fine way to treat a best friend—moving in on your boy friend and your work like that! Your two pals are having a heap of fun at your expense. Protesting loudly isn't likely to spoil their game, either.

There are some very practical things you can do to rid yourself of your constant irritation.

If you can't see the shenanigans they're putting on for your benefit, perhaps you can concentrate in class.

You're not likely to turn around to watch, either, if you're on the front row. How about putting it up to your teacher on the grounds that you're having trouble seeing and hearing and concentrating, and see if you can't have your place changed? They're not likely to carry on too enthusiastically if you aren't watching. Fix things so you don't.

If the subject is so easy for your boy friend, enlist his aid after school. He may see a way to make it easier for you that you hadn't even dreamed of.

Then get yourself a girl friend you can consider your best friend. Choose one who already has a boy friend so there won't be further complications.

Get your tormentor out of your hair in class and out. She should make you flunk, indeed!

"Dear Miss Woodward: Pat and I went together last summer and then we broke up, but started to go out together again three weeks ago. There was a party that weekend, but Pat told me he couldn't take me because he already had a date.

"When I saw him with this girl, I broke into tears. He got very angry with me and hasn't talked or called me up since. I keep waiting, utterly frustrated. Please help me!"

What a scene you must have put on—heaving ho with tears all over the place! Enough to put Pat off you for life. You thought Pat belonged to you because of a brief get-together after a long separation? Well, he didn't.

It sounds as though you drowned your chances with Pat. Until he gets over his mad, he won't call. So pull yourself together and get perking in other directions!

Chicago Honors Father of the Late Flo Ziegfeld

CHICAGO (AP)—Dr. Florenz Ziegfeld, who organized the Chicago Musical College in 1865 and was the father of the late Flo Ziegfeld of Follies fame, was honored yesterday. A marker with his family name was erected on a court 100 feet wide and 76 feet long running north from Van Buren St., between Michigan and Wabash Aves., in the loop.

The U. S. Army streamlined its service school structure by shortening 68 courses, eliminating 29, and consolidating 28 into 14 courses during fiscal 1953.

Israel to Protest Massacre of 11

Prepares Demand for U. N. Action as Tension With Arabs Mounts

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel readied a demand today for United Nations action on the ambush slaying of 11 Jews on a desert bus. The government blamed neighboring Jordan for what it termed an organized attack by armed Arabs from that Middle East country.

Jordan promptly denied any responsibility for the assault, which occurred Wednesday 12 miles from its border at Scorpion Pass in the barren Negev Desert. A spokesman at Amman, the Jordan capital, said his country was ready "politically and militarily to meet any developments that might arise."

• • •

The incident was the most serious in Palestine since the 11-nation U.N. Security Council censured Israel for the slaying of 53 Arabs last October in the Jordan border village of Kibya.

Tension over the latest incident mounted amid unconfirmed reports of Israeli and Arab troop movements. Lebanese newspapers said in dispatches from Jordan that Israeli troops were concentrating at the frontier between the two countries. Travelers reported on arrival at the Lebanese capital of Beirut they had seen Syrian military equipment moving southward through Damascus toward that country's border with Israel.

The Arab and Jewish nations still are technically in a state of war, although an uneasy cease-fire ended the Palestine War of 1948.

• • •

In Wednesday's incident, a woman and child, seriously wounded, and two Israeli soldiers were the only survivors. Nine men and two women were killed.

Two U.N. observers, accompanied by Israeli army and police trackers and a pack of bloodhounds, trailed the attackers for 10 miles in the direction of the Jordan border.

Man's Sister May Have Wed Him to No Avail

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Chin Tong Foot, who reportedly married his sister in Hong Kong so she could enter the United States, was arrested by immigration authorities as he stepped off the liner President Cleveland yesterday.

He was held as an alien who doesn't have proper papers for admission into the United States although for 15 years he has been known as an American citizen.

As a sister of a citizen the "bride" could not enter the United States. But as a wife of an American she could. American authorities in Hong Kong said Chin apparently planned to arrange for her entrance after his return.

Immigration Commissioner Bruce Barber said, "We have evidence that this man is an imposter and not a citizen at all."

Wants Parade to Ban Blackface Comedians

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—City Councilman Raymond Pace Alexander has asked City Council to ban "blackface caricatures" from Philadelphia's annual New Year's Day Mummers Parade.

Alexander, a prominent Negro attorney, introduced a resolution saying:

"It's an insult and an affront to the intelligence, the standing and accomplishments of the American Negro as well as a degrading influence in the life of the community in which the Negro lives."

Harry W. Tyler, director of the parade's comic division, replied: "Why pick on us? Everybody has blackface comedians—radio, television and theatricals."

Schoolboy Takes His Dynamite Stick to Class

SILVER CITY, N. M. (AP)—Police Chief Bartley McDonald commented wearily on the habits of school kids.

He said youngsters "bring to school anything—gum, rattlesnakes and dead frogs."

Then the chief told of the latest. Found on the desk in the high school's study hall was one stick of dynamite. There was no cap or fuse.

Measles Hits 226 in County

County Health Director Says Peak Season for the Disease Nears

"Catching" diseases struck hundreds of Oakland Couhty folks last week as measles hit 226 people and whooping cough, scarlet fever, mumps and chicken pox sickened 200 more.

Dr. John D. Monroe, Oakland County Health Department director, said new measles cases totaled 218 in the county outside Pontiac, compared with 120 the week before.

"We're nearing the peak of the measles season," he warned. "There doesn't seem to be any one 'epidemic' area — the new cases are pretty well scattered."

The county department's weekly report, released by Dr. Monroe, listed 82 new cases of mumps last week—almost twice the previous week's 49 cases. Scarlet fever cases climbed to 28 from 21 the week before.

The department's complete report reads as follows:

	Past Week	Week Ending Mar. 6, '54	Mar. 14, '53
Chicken pox	95	85	125
Measles	218	120	105
Pneumonia (all forms)	6	1	1

Mumps	82	49	33
Rubella (German measles)	6	4	87
Hepatitis	5	3	1
Diarrhea	10	8	4
Rheumatic fever	2	1	1

Pontiac City Health Department listed rises in mumps, measles and chicken pox on its weekly report, also released by Dr. Monroe.

The city found 14 new chicken pox cases, as against nine the week before. Twelve new cases of mumps were reported, compared with the preceding week's eight cases.

The city report follows in full:

	Past Week	Week Ending Mar. 6, '54	Mar. 14, '53
Chicken pox	14	9	39
Gonorrhea	3	3	7
Measles	6	4	84

Prosecutor's Illness Delaying Road Trial

MUSKEGON (AP)—Illness of Robert A. Cavannaugh, Muskegon County prosecutor, will cause postponement of a preliminary hearing of conspiracy charges against G. Palmer Seeley, fired state road right of way buyer, and Mrs. Lois Moon Ley, of Muskegon, who is held with Seeley in the State Highway Department probe.

The hearing was to have started Monday before Muskegon Municipal Judge William T. Caughey.

Cavannaugh said he has been ill for two weeks and will take medical tests at Mercy Hospital Friday. However, he said he does not plan to enter the hospital for treatment.

CHECK CLINTON LEVEL—Joseph W. Gable, acting Pontiac city water superintendent (left) and Herbert Libby, of 469 Mount Clemens St., measure the Clinton River level where the stream flows under W. Lawrence St. west of Cass Ave. The Water Department takes daily readings of the river level at four check points to control against possible floods in Pontiac.

Water Department Checks to Prevent Possible Floods

The City Water Department is making daily checks of the Clinton River level to guard against possible spring floods in Pontiac, according to Joseph W. Gable, acting water superintendent.

Check points are located at Sylvan Lake, Dawson Mill Pond, W. Lawrence St. west of Cass Ave. and at the waterworks, Gable explained.

If the river height becomes threatening, readings are taken several times daily. But there has been little threat of flood so far this spring, Gable pointed out.

The river level is controlled by the dam at Dawson Mill Pond. If the river is low, more water is let through. If high, the water is held back, Gable explained.

Melting snow and rains make spring the most critical period, but measurements are taken throughout the year, Gable said. The problem is to keep the river and lakes above the dam all at a desirable level, he added.

Need Dump Site by Midsummer

Orchard Lake Avenue Refuse Land Is Now Nearly Filled In

With the present dump site expected to be full by midsummer, Pontiac is negotiating for a new area to be used for garbage and rubbish disposal, according to City Manager Walter K. Willman.

The land now used is located on the south side of Orchard Lake Ave. at the Airline Railroad. It is the only legal dumping area in the city.

Pontiac has used the "land-fill" method of disposal at the site which formerly was an abandoned gravel pit. After several years of settling, the land will be suitable for construction of buildings, said Willman.

The area is listed for development as a park on the city master plan, Willman explained, but this may not be done because Beaudette Park is located nearby.

In the land-fill method a large trench is dug. Trash, garbage and waste are dumped into the trench, then covered with earth and compacted, according to Morley Cameron, waste and refuse supervisor.

During 1953 some 80,000 cubic yards of garbage and 40,000 cubic yards of rubbish were put into the site.

Pontiac first started the land-fill in September 1947. Previously the incinerator on South boulevard was used.

Advantages of the present method cited by Cameron include:

1. The cost is cheaper than by incineration.
2. Land which was of little value and an eyesore is being reclaimed.
3. Trash collection on a city-wide basis has been made possible because of less costly disposal methods.

McCarran Plans to Ask Renewal of Bricker Fight

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev), back in Washington after a month's absence, declared today he will do his utmost to get the Senate to reconsider the Bricker treaty-limitation issue.

The influential Democrat said: "It has got to be passed, either at this session or the next. It is as essential today as the Bill of Rights was at the beginning of our national existence."

McCarran was in a Nevada hospital when the Senate by one vote defeated a constitutional amendment to prevent an executive agreement made by a President from becoming domestic law except through specific approval by Congress.

In its final form, the amendment was the work of Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga). It was a watered-down version of the proposal originally introduced by Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) who has lent his name to the issue.

Reported by Scientist

Big-City, Smog Chemicals Cause of Cancer in Mice

NEW YORK (INS) — A scientist reported today he has used chemicals extracted from Los Angeles "smog" and from automobile exhausts to produce cancer in mice.

He said the same cancer-causing chemicals probably are present in the air many big-city residents breathe, wherever there are factories and plenty of automobiles pouring them out in exhaust fumes.

Dr. Paul Kotin of the University of Southern California reported his findings in the current archives of Industrial Hygiene and Occupational Medicine, a publication of the American Medical Association.

The scientist and his colleagues said "suspicion might be directed" at the fumes from cars and buses in the hunt for the shocking increase of the incidence of lung cancer, explaining:

"The introduction of the gasoline engine as the most prominent source of motive power is one of the chief characteristics of industrialization . . . petroleum combustion and oxidation products have become one of the main air-pollutant materials."

Dr. Kotin pointed out that the lung cancer increase has been especially sharp among big-city residents and said it parallels "most dramatically" the industrialization of society with consequent air pollution.

In the mouse experiments, the research team extracted chemicals from samples of Los Angeles air taken during both smog and non-smog periods of the year.

These chemicals were painted on the skins of 76 black mice three times a week. Dr. Kotin reported:

"The first tumor appeared in 15 months and three days after the initiation of the painting. There were 31 survivors at the time of the appearance of the first tumor.

Saturday at 10:45 p.m. (EST) is the day and time that the season officially changes to spring. At that time, as shown above, the northward moving sun will be directly over the equator at 123 degrees, 21.9 minutes longitude east of Greenwich. This point is in the Molucca Strait, just east of Celebes Islands, located in Indonesia.

Post Office Adopts Hoover Plan

A Hoover Commission plan aimed at curbing the postal bottleneck that has been strangling the efficiency of the U. S. Post Office Department will become a reality in the Oakland County area in mid-April.

The new program hinges on decentralization.

Under the setup, district and regional offices will be established so decisions can be made on the local level.

Previously, postmasters reported directly to Washington where red tape slowed decisions and grass roots information was lacking.

Rep. George A. Dondero (R-Mich) sums it up neatly:

"This will eliminate one of the major bottlenecks in the postal service and will enable our own local personnel to solve local problems at the local level."

The top office for the Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin region will be located in Chicago.

This new Chicago region will be divided into eight districts, according to Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield of Flint. Detroit will house one of the district headquarters.

When these offices are established, postmasters in Oakland County no longer will report directly to Washington. They will report to the district manager in Detroit.

If the problem cannot be solved in the district, the region will be called upon for aid. A weighty problem that has both the district and region stumped could be channeled to Washington.

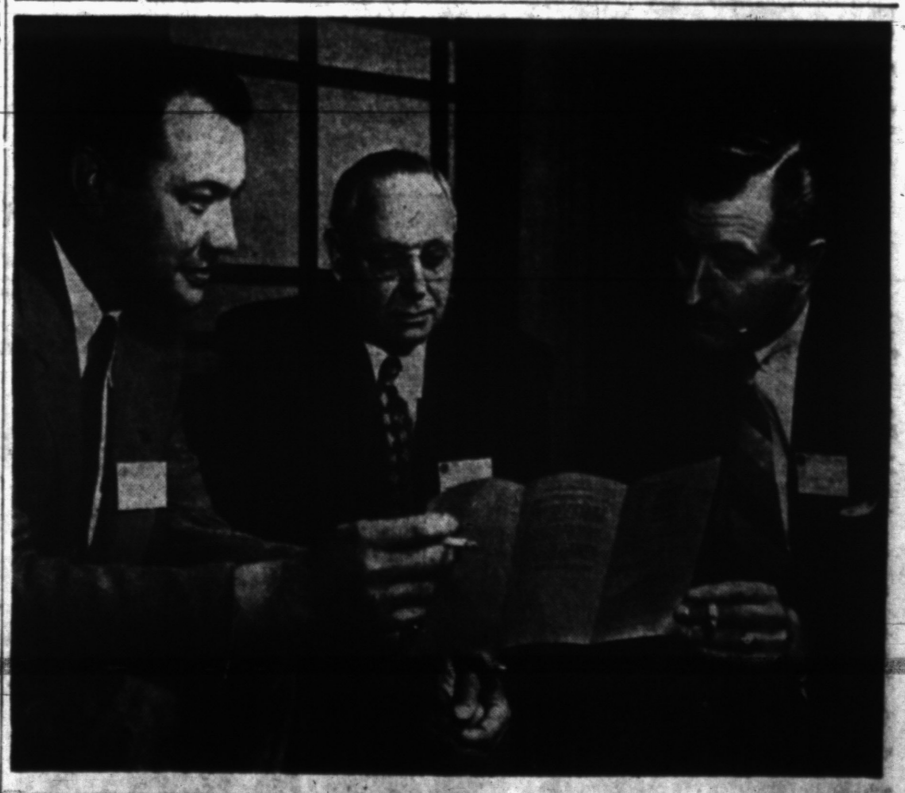

Acting Pontiac Postmaster Leslie H. Dean said he believes the decentralizaion will aid local post office operations immeasurably.

That the plan is practical has been shown by a "pilot" operation in Cincinnati. An office was opened there Nov. 24, 1953.

The success of the Cincinnati tryout prompted the decision to spread the program.

Six other new regions are scheduled. When established, the Post Office Department will be able to boast that over half of its system is decentralized.

"In the Cincinnati region, we have been able to improve service and save the taxpayer money," Summerfield said. "We expect this to hold true for the rest of our new regions."

FINANCE OFFICERS MEET—Among the estimated 90 persons who attended the University of Michigan-sponsored Municipal Finance Officers Institute at Ann Arbor this week were (l to r) Robert J. The two-day meeting is sponsored annually by the Michigan Municipal League and Finance Officers Assn., in cooperation with the University.

Stevenson Calls Economic, Military Power Mandatory

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Adlai Stevenson said last night the current world scene is dominated by "two immense facts:"

1. "The constant, overhanging threat of aggressive communism . . ."

2. "The revolution of rising expectations and the new political independence of masses of awakening peoples from West Africa to Indonesia now emerging from its foreign domination and fiercely demanding relief from hunger, pestilence and oppression."

Speaking before a Harvard University audience, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee said:

"The Soviet objective, of course, is victory without war. Our objective is neither war nor victory, but an opportunity for all to work out their own destiny—in their own way—in independence and freedom.

"To accomplish that, military strength to deter or defeat aggression, and economic strength to resist subversion are the first requirements. The second is a community of interest and purpose among us in order to keep our strength intact and in order to negotiate as one, not as many."

Stevenson said: "Our end being peace, our means must be negotiation. The first phase has been accomplished. America returned to Europe not to intrude but to restore the imbalance of power.

And the second phase, maintenance of the coalition and negotiation is upon us. And here our adversary has opportunities and advantages in the dignity and multiple sovereignties of the non-Communist world."

Polish Premier Resigns Office

Boleslaw Bierut Takes Party Secretary Post in Big Shift

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Boleslaw Bierut, No. 1 Communist leader in Poland since the end of World War II, has resigned from the premiership to become first secretary of the ruling United Polish Workers Communist party, it was announced today.

Vice Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz, who held the premiership until the government reorganization in November 1952, was restored to his old post as premier.

Western observers in Vienna believed the switch in the Polish leadership was made on Moscow orders as part of a general Kremlin plan to end the "cult of heroes" that prevailed in the Communist world during Stalin's time, replacing one-man dictatorships with "government by committee."

• • •

The changes were the first official act yesterday of the new Central Committee just elected by the party at its second postwar congress meeting in Warsaw. Aside from these two changes, the party's powerful Politburo remains virtually the same.

The announcement said Bierut resigned from the premiership because he could not hold that post and be party secretary at the same time. He proposed that Cyrankiewicz take his place and the Central Committee concurred.

Bierut was president of Poland from the end of World War II until that post was abolished in 1952. He then took over the premiership from Cyrankiewicz.

• • •

In the new regrouping, the post of chairman of the party—held by Bierut—was abolished. Stefan Matuszewski, chairman of the Polish-Soviet Friendship Society, was dropped from the party Politburo but was made a member of the party's Revisions Commission.

Named as first vice premiers were Hilary Minc and Zenon Nowak. Jacob Berman was named vice premier.

Minc resigned from his old job as chairman of the State Commission on Economic Planning. In addition to the first vice premiership, he also was elected to the Central Committee's secretariat along with Edward Ochab, Franciszek Mazur and Wladislaw Dworakowski.

Dworakowski, who had been a vice premier, was removed from the government.

Investigators Added for Police Scandal

DETROIT (AP) — Secret investigators have been added to a staff of nine probers already selected to delve into the alleged connections between Detroit Police and local gamblers.

Recorder's Judge John P. O'Hara, who has been selected as a one-man grand juror in the investigation, announced selection of the additional investigators Thursday.

Said the judge: "These men will make secret investigations for the grand jury. I am not disclosing their names because if we tell who they are they will not be able to do a creditable job."

Red Outlawing Forges Ahead

Commie-Banning Bill Expected to Pass if It Reaches House Floor

WASHINGTON (AP) — A determined drive to enact legislation to outlaw the Communist party appeared to be gathering surprising headway in the House Judiciary Committee today.

If approved there and sent to the floor—as some Judiciary Committee members were predicting—such a bill would be almost certain to House passage. Few if any members would be likely to go on record against it.

Nearly a dozen bills were discussed by a Judiciary subcommittee yesterday, with Chairman Graham (R-Pa) declaring an "all comprehensive" measure would be put through the House "at this session."

• • •

Rep. Ruth Thompson (R-Mich), a subcommittee member, in an interview today predicted favorable committee action and said she foresaw no opposition in the House to passage.

Rep. Celler of New York, senior Democrat on the Judiciary Committee, also told newsmen he favored a bill "to strike a death blow to the Communist party." But he cautioned against hasty or ill-conceived action.

Graham said his subcommittee will hear Atty. Gen. Brownell and FBI Director J. Edgar Hover, along with others.

Pontiac Man to Face Auto Theft Examination

He faces examination March 26 before Birmingham Judge John C. Emery Jr. Unable to furnish $2,000 bond, Stovall is being held in Oakland County Jail. Police said Stovall took the auto last Friday night from Birmingham. He was arrested later that day in Pontiac.

Drove 23 Years Without Bothering to Get License

EPHRATA, Pa. (AP)—It was a little embarrassing when the state policeman stopped 60-year-old Martin L. Sites, and asked to see his driver's license.

Sites had to explain that he hadn't "bothered to get one" for some time—something like 23 years.

Called before a justice of the peace, he explained he began driving 30 years ago and got a license annually for seven years. Then, he said, he decided it "just wasn't worth the trouble" and never got another. He said it was the first time he had been stopped by police.

Voters OK School Bonds

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Oakview School voters Thursday authorized a $200,000 school building. Balloting was 231 for and 70 against a bond issue in this amount and 233 for and 6 against a tax boost to pay for the bonds. The school district is in Kent County.

Cement Company Gets Bridge Order

PETOSKEY (AP)—Petoskey Portland Cement Company Thursday reported receipt of a large order for cement from Merritt, Chapman and Scott Corp., of New York, for the Mackinac Straits Bridge.

H. H. Lucas, vice president and sales manager for the local concern, said the order would mean no expansion of facilities or boost in employment now at 300 men as the plant has been at capacity since World War II.

The plant can turn out 5,000 barrels daily and expects to furnish 350,000 barrels of cement for the bridge.

Shoulders Divorced in St. Louis Court

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Mrs. Florence Shoulders, wife of ex-police Lt. Louis Shoulders, who was instrumental in the capture of the Greenlease kidnapers here, was granted a divorce yesterday.

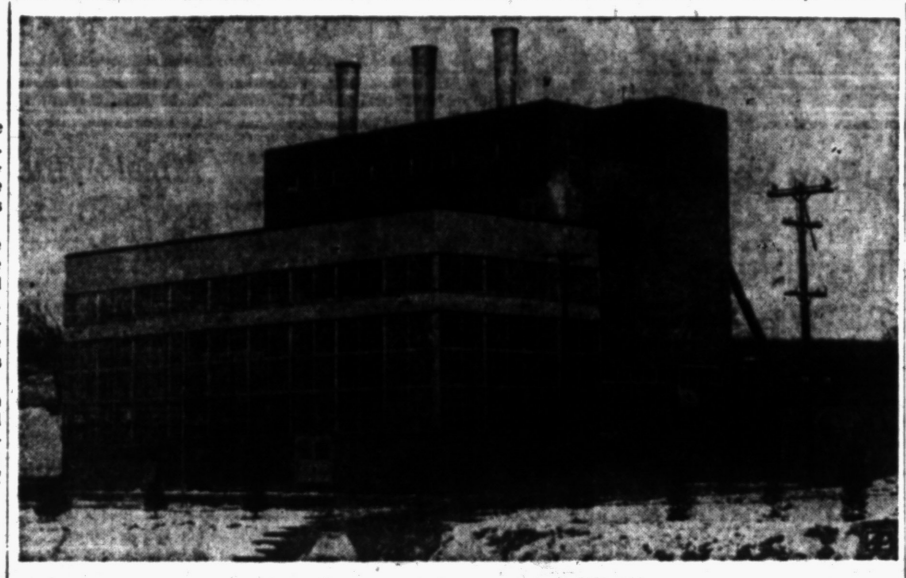

Circuit Judge James F. Nangle ruled Mrs. Shoulders was the "innocent and injured party" and granted her $200 a month alimony.

Shoulders previously told newsmen he would marry Miss June George, his landlady, as soon as he was free to do so.

He goes on trial for perjury in Kansas City Federal Court April 12. The charge is based on Shoulders' testimony before a federal grand jury on his handling of Greenlease ransom money.

Red Reporter Faces Loss of Citizenship

LONDON (AP)—Daily Worker correspondent Alan Winnington, one of the two Western newsmen who covered the Korean War from the Communist side, was reported faced with the choice today of coming home or losing his citizenship.

The Worker, organ of Britain's Communist party, said the British consul in Peiping, China, refused to renew Winnington's passport and confiscated it when he presented it for renewal yesterday.

Winnington has been accused by the United States of helping extort a germ warfare "confession" from U.S. Air Force Col. Walker Mahurin of Fort Wayne, Ind., a war prisoner who later was freed. Winnington has denied the charge.

Waterford Education Board Calls in High School Bonds

$200,000 Worth to Be Redeemed

Increase in Valuation Allows Action on Notes Due in 1969-70

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Due to increased valuation in Waterford Township School District, the Waterford Board of Education voted Thursday night to call in $200,000 of the high school bonds.

These bonds, scheduled to be paid in 1969-70, carry a 2.75 per cent interest rate.

The Board of Education stated that if the valuation continues to climb, the bond issue originally planned to span 20 years will be completely paid off in less than ten years.

Preliminary plans for elementary school building additions were approved at last night's regular meeting.

Four rooms will be added to Waterford Center and two rooms to the Jayno Adams school. Williams Lake will get a four room addition and the board previously approved a three room addition at Four Towns School.

A bond issue to finance an elementary school expansion program for the district was approved by the electors on February 25 in the amount of $1,400,000.

James DenHerder, assistant to the superintendent, said that as soon as the bonds are sold, bids will be let on these buildings.

The board hopes to have these facilities ready for the 1954 fall school term.

Also included in the February bond issue were provisions for four new elementary schools for the district. Several architects are being interviewed now by the Board of Education for these new structures.

Action Stalled in Legislature

All Major Measures Stopped Until Policies Can Be Formulated

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Legislature was stalled today on all major decisions, waiting policy decisions to be made next week.

These factors prevented action on major bills:

1—The House and Senate Appropriations Committees asked Gov. Williams to redraft his budget recommendations to accommodate a civil service pay raise estimated to cost 6 to 10 million dollars.

2—A Republican caucus in the House could not reach an agreement on the Senate-approved unemployment compensation bill.

3—The House State Affairs Committee postponed until Tuesday decisions on a fair employment practices (FEPC) bill and a bill stiffening lobbyist controls, both of which have passed the Senate.

4—The Senate Judiciary Committee delayed until Tuesday a decision on the controversial McCune bill to censor television advertising of beer and wine. This has passed the House.

Wednesday is the deadline for reporting all but money bills from committee.

The appropriating committees virtually threw up their hands in disgust at the thought of having to redraft all their appropriation bills to provide for the across-the-board pay raise granted last Friday by the State Civil Service Commission.

Some members talked of letting the budget bills go until the sine die (final) adjournment May 14. Others said "let tempers cool off until next week and see what we can work out."

The two committees wrote Gov. Williams that his request for a balanced budget was wrecked by the civil service pay boost.

"Give us a new budget," they said, in effect.

They noted that long-standing policy forces them to hand out comparable pay raises to the employes of state colleges, even though these are not covered by civil service.

As a sidelight, Sen. Robert E. Faulkner (R-Coloma) sponsored a constitutional amendment to take away the Civil Service Commission's power to order pay raises regardless of legislative policy. The commission would be limited to recommending pay scales.

May Widen Road to Zoo

Detroit Asked to Share Cost of Adding Lanes to 10 Mile Road

DETROIT (INS) — The Regional Planning Commission today proposed to Common Council that Detroit pay half the cost of widening an Oakland County road.

The plan asks that two lanes be added to Ten Mile Rd. between the Detroit Zoo administration building and Woodward at a cost of $125,000.

Commission Director T. Ledyard Blakeman pointed out that the stretch of road is consistently clogged with traffic — mostly Detroiters traveling to and from the zoo.

He said Oakland County has agreed to pay 25 per cent of the cost. The remainder would be divided between Huntington Woods Oak Park, Pleasant Ridge and Royal Oak.

India Missionary Among Mourners at Hayden Rite

TECUMSEH, Mich. (AP)—The man who gave Perry Hayden the idea for his "dynamic kernels" project was here today for the famed miller's funeral Saturday.

Hayden died yesterday at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor. By chance the Rev. Clifton Robinson, Indian missionary, was in Hayden's home town of Tecumseh at the latter's death. The Rev. Robinson accepted an invitation to assist at services to be held at the Tecumseh Friends Church.

Farm Machinery Destroyed by Fire

GINGELLVILLE—Valuable farm machinery was destroyed, $1,700 worth of wheat burned and some 35 head of cattle perished in a barn fire early Thursday at the Mrs. Ella Gingell farm, 3805 Maybee Rd.

There was no estimate of the total loss from the fire. Firemen were unable to determine its origin.

Firemen from the Gingellville and Lake Orion Departments battled the flames for several hours after the fire was reported shortly before midnight.

Legislators Hold Off on Water Survey Bill

Michigan House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee has postponed action on a bill asking for $155,000 for a water and sewage survey of Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties.

Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) said the committee members couldn't agree whether to support the bill and postponed action untill Tuesday.

The bill asks the legislature to give the funds to Michigan Water Resources Commission. The commission would then use them to match money put up by cities and townships to pay for a study of water supplies and sewage needs.

5 Former Champs Battle for Prep Title Chances

By JOE FALLS

EAST LANSING (AP)—Sixteen title-minded teams, headed by five former champions, converged on this basketball hotbed for the semi-finals in the state high school tournament tonight.

They are survivors in a field which once numbered 632 teams. By midnight, only eight will remain, and they'll scrap for titles in Classes A, B, C and D Saturday afternoon and evening in Michigan State College's Jenison Field House.

As everybody knows, Highland Park is a big favorite to rumble to its second Class A title in three years. But the Parkers will have to play solid basketball to win, for there are three determined teams also shooting for honors.

Highland Park, however, has won all 18 of its games and, furthermore, won every one in a breeze. Parkers have perhaps the best one-two punch of any team in the tourney in George Lee and George Duncan, a pair of 300-point scorers.

Flint Northern and Jackson, which meet in the other Class A semifinal, also have definite goals.

Coach Carl Stelter's Flint Northern team is gunning for an unprecedented sixth Class A title. Vikings won the crown in 1933-36-39-40-47. They and Kalamazoo Central are the only five-time winners but Central was eliminated in the quarter-final round.

Jackson's goal is to prove that its team is not a fluke, that it deserves to be in the fight for the title. There are those who say that Jackson, winner in 1929 and 1948, reached the semifinals through luck and nothing more.

The other two champions are Holland Christian (Class B) and Lansing St. Mary (Class C.) Both are given excellent chances of adding to their sparkling string of titles.

Holland Christian, a Class B standout all season, is favored to get past St. Johns in tonight's first game in Jenison Field House. This will be followed by another Class B game, pitting River Rogue and Ludington. The latter game could develop into the best of the night.

These two games will be followed by the Class A battles, with Highland Park and Muskegon Heights playing at 8 p.m., and Flint Northern and Jackson at 9:30.

At Boys Vocational High School, in Lansing, two Class C games will be played.

Capacity crowds of 11,500 are expected for Saturday's finals. Class C and B championships will be decided in the afternoon, while D and A will be determined at night.

If nothing else, four new champions are assured of being crowned. All of last year's winners failed to make the semifinals.

Trade Pleases Eddie

By GAYLE TALBOT

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Though he is, naturally enough, highly pleased with the great pace his Philadelphia Athletics have been setting in their exhibition games, Eddie Joost is too smart to have any illusions about where they will go when the firing begins in earnest next month.

* * *

The American League's only freshman manager declares he would rather be where he is, starting to build a team and his own career at the same time, than taking over a first-division outfit where he would be expected to produce or else. He could have had in mind the trials facing Walter Alston, Brooklyn's new field general.

"I hear everybody is picking us to finish dead last, even below Baltimore," he said equably. "That's great as far as I'm concerned. Now if we surprise them and finish sixth or seventh we will feel we have accomplished something.

* * *

"I know this much already, that we got what we wanted in our trade with the Yankees. We got some young players who are showing me the kind of hustle I want to see. They're really fighting for regular jobs now that they know they have a chance, and I would say now that all four of them will be in my lineup on opening day."

The deal, most discussed of the winter, brought the Athletics outfielders Vic Power and Bill Renna, first baseman Don Bollweg and catcher Al Robertson from the Yankee system in exchange for pitcher Harry Byrd and first baseman Ed Robinson.

The jury still is out on Bobby Shantz, the little left-hander who had a sensational 24-7 record two years ago but fell off abruptly to 5-9 last year when he had the miseries in his throwing arm. Joost is hopeful, but the hard truth is that very few pitchers ever have regained their former effectiveness after such an experience.

Kid Shoots at Heavy Title

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Kid Gavilan is really throwing his weight around.

He owns the welterweight title. He talks as if he had already taken the 160-pound crown from Bobo Olson, an issue he says he will settle with a knockout in Chicago Stadium April 2.

"Twenty years ago small fellows like myself fought big boys in ring, but today, no. I can lick that Marciano. My feet and legs good and fast and there is plenty of clever up here (pointing to his head). Marciano no hit me solid on chin. He may break one, two ribs hitting me on side, but Gavilan will go on.

"By 10 rounds, Marciano's head be like this (making shape of a big balloon with his hands) and Gavilan still be fresh and ready for full speed last five rounds.

"(Billy) Conn was small boy (174) when he meet (Joe) Louis and he have him beat until 13th. Then Conn thinks this guy not so much—and wham! Louis knocks him out.

"That never happen to Gavilan. I have no fear Marciano who is no Louis or (Jack) Dempsey. I would go at him at 165 pounds.

"I watch his right foot. When he lifts it up I know he gonna swing his right. I move away—bang, bang. I hit him. He come at me, I tie him up, then jump back fast. When he get me into ropes. I weave and duck and turn. Then he in ropes.

Just for the record, the only little man to beat a big man for the heavyweight crown was Bob Fitzsimmons. At 167, he knocked out James J. Corbett, 183, in the 14th round back in 1897.

8 Schools Send Fencing Teams to Pontiac Test

City Recreation Body Sponsors 4th Annual Event on Saturday

Fourth annual state high school fencing championships, sponsored by the Pontiac Department of Parks & Recreation, will be held here Saturday.

High school fencers from Pontiac, Waterford, Lapeer, Flint, Highland Park, Detroit, Saginaw and Bay City will compete in the meet.

Competition will start at 1 p.m. in the girls' gymnasium at Pontiac High School. Eldon Gardner and Frederick Rodeck are in charge of the affair.

Only defending champion returning will be Judy Goodrich, of Lapeer, 1953 girls' titlist. Pontiac contenders include Dick Bexter and Art Schultz in the boys' division and Vicky Micer in the girls' section.

Boys' Club Basketball Titles Are Determined

Championships were decided in two divisions of the Pontiac Boys' Club Basketball League last night.

Hot Rods, sparked by Clarence Montgomery's 6 points, beat Vikings 14-9 to win the Pee Wee loop crown. St. Mary edged the Bums 35-29 for the intermediate title. Paul Franchowiack led the winners with 12 points, while Dave Runyon had 13 for the losers.

Wendt in KC Games

Former Walled Lake High School track star Dick Wendt will be with the Michigan Normal College track team as it appears in the Knights of Columbus Relays in Cleveland this weekend. Wendt will be a member of both the mile and 2-mile relay teams for the Hurons.

Giardello-Troy Match Is Rated Tossup Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Boxer Joey Giardello and puncher Willie (No Clinch) Troy clash tonight in a Madison Square Garden 10-rounder that has most everyone but the fighters puzzled over the outcome.

"I'll take him," said the cocky, 23-year old Giardello. "That stand-up style of his is my dish. I'll outbox him."

"Giardello is a good boxer and I expect he'll stay back," said confident, 21-year-old Willie. "That's okay with me. I'll go after him. I can beat him."

The two middleweight contenders are practically the only ones making a firm stand. The betting is a tossup—6-5 and take your pick.

No Big Changes in Cage Rules

Coaches Appear to Be Satisfied With Things as They Are

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP) —The nation's basketball coaches, frequently vocal with criticism of the rules governing the cage sport, apparently will have no major changes to recommend.

Their rules committee met Thursday as a part of the National Association of Basketball Coaches' annual convention, but chairman Floyd Stahl of Ohio State indicated no major revisions would be sought.

"The coaches appear to be generally satisfied with things the way they are," Stahl reported after Thursday's meeting. The committee was scheduled to make a formal recommendation to the national rules committee, which will meet Sunday.

Members of the senior group include Bruce Drake, Oklahoma coach and chairman, and representatives of the NCAA, National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, the YMCA, Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union, Canadian Amateur Basketball Association, and the American Athletic Union.

Sawchuk Gets Scoring Assist as Wings Tie

But Terry's Chance for Vezina Hurt by Three Boston Goals

DETROIT (AP)—Goalie Terry Sawchuk of the Detroit Red Wings made a bit of hockey history at Olympia stadium last night but he left the rink an unhappy young man.

Sawchuk came up with a rarity when he helped to score a goal. But he let three goals slip past him, and that virtually cost him $1,000.

Detroit played a 3-3 tie with Boston Bruins in a game which was highlighted by Sawchuk getting credit for an assist on Gordie Howe's goal in the first period.

The Red Wing goalie stopped a shot and cleared the puck out to the blue line. Howe picked it up, skated into Boston territory and fired his 32nd goal.

The last time the trick was done in Olympia was 14 years ago, in the 1940-41 season. Then Red Wing goalie Johnny Mowers was credited with an assist on a goal scored by Sid Howe against Boston.

But Sawchuk not doubt would have been happy to give back the assist if he had been able to score a shutout. The three Boston tallies dropped him five goals behind Toronto's Harry Lumley in their battle for the Vezina trophy.

Rest of the wings had a fairly profitable evening. They fought from a two-goal deficit to earn the tie and snap their three-game losing streak. Ted Lindsay scored the tying goal with less than four minutes to go. It was his 24th.

Detroit concludes its regular-season play this weekend, playing in Montreal Saturday and entertaining Toronto Sunday.

Trout Hearing Slated Tonight

LANSING — Fisheries workers are looking forward to a hot session at the 2nd public hearing on proposed trout law changes, slated in Detroit tonight.

First hearing, held at Roscommon in January, drew nearly 200 anglers who took turns voicing criticisms and suggestions on the knotty problem of trout fishing laws. After that meeting, the commission noted its appreciation of the high interest shown by fishermen.

Lowered creel limits, increased size limits and bans against "hardware" lures, all-night fishing, use of salmon eggs as bait and use of more than one rod and line were discussed.

Agenda for the meeting in Detroit, however, has been broadened to trout and "flies only" regulaquestions of bait-fishing in relation to trout and "flies' only" regulations will also be thrown open to discussion.

Meeting is scheduled in the Rackham building's ESD auditorium at 7:45 p.m.

Hot Scramble for Top Football Honors Shaping Up in Midwest; Five Teams in Big 10 Title Chase

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—The softer breezes and somewhat bluer skies have started another epidemic of spring practice in football. This doesn't apply to the Ivy League and a few other eastern colleges.

* * *

But there are busy times ahead on many football fields, preparing for one of the most interesting seasons of many years. The hot spot will again be the Midwest. Here there will be a head-on collision for the Big-Ten title in a hot scramble in which Iowa, Illinois and Michigan State appear to be chiefly concerned with Ohio State and Michigan close up.

* * *

In this same sector the team always to watch is Notre Dame, whether it be Frank Leahy or Terry Brennan will be thoroughly capable as Notre Dame's coach in every detail. He may lose a game here and there, but his 1954 Notre Dame squad will be tough.

* * *

Recently, in an article in Look, Frank Leahy predicted that Ralph Guglielmi will be the greatest quarterback Notre Dame ever had in the autumn ahead.

Others have said the same thing. But J. E. Pratt of Buffalo disagrees. Mr. Pratt writes:

"Your comments about Guglielmi and Ronnie Knox of California prompt this note. A boy by the name of Jim Morris will enter Notre Dame as a freshman this fall who will make Irish fans forget all about Johnny Lujack, Angelo Bertilli, Bobby Williams and Guglielmi.

At 6-3, 205 pounds, he was selected as the Chicago district's outstanding back for 1953. He hails from Quincy, Ill., where he scored 128 points last season, missing one game because of injuries. He will be Notre Dame's all-time top."

* * *

Another boy to be heard from is Hal Duffy, of Portland, Oregon, a 6-5, 220-pound center. He may go to Notre Dame.

No one has to worry about how strong Notre Dame will be in football. Spirit is the greatest part of the game.

That's how my old pals, the Four Horsemen, averaging around 158 pounds, romped over gridirons from the Atlantic to the Pacific against 185-pound competitors. They had spirit plus brains.

Turning back to the outlook at spring practice—the best teams we can see now are: Army, very good in the East; Iowa, Illinois and Notre Dame in the Midwest; California and UCLA in the Far West; Oklahoma and Texas in the Southwest; Georgia Tech in the Southeast and Duke and South Carolina in the Atlantic.

It's Time Out!

Pat Lauds Al Kaline

Bonus Rookies May Force Mullin Off Tigers, but Veteran Still Has Hopes

LAKELAND, Fla. (INS) — Detroit outfielder Pat Mullin, getting gray around the temples at 36, faces two hurdles as he heads into his 14th season in a Tiger uniform.

Mullin is trying to anticipate the physical problems that confront all aging ballplayers. At the same time he is working under the knowledge that Tiger bonus babies may well shove him into the baseball graveyard for keeps.

Mullin, with 864 major league games under his belt and a lifetime batting average of .271, says it isn't as easy as when he played his first few games for Detroit way back in 1941. He adds:

"It gets tougher, of course, but I'm going to hang in there as long as I get a contract each season."

The fleet outfielder from Brownsville, Pa., has shown good condition at the Detroit training camp in Lakeland. Mullin still can outrun most members of the squad—including the eager rookies.

However, Mullin is not unaware that the Tigers have three bonus players to carry. He might be forced off to the sidelines to make room for one of them.

He realizes that even though an older player's experience might be worth a lot to the club in the clutches as a pinch-hitter or utility man, someone has to be cut from the roster.

Mullin points to 19-year-old Al Kaline as an example: "Al has looked as though the club didn't waste any bonus money on him."

Mullin believes the Baltimore youngster might be "a real good one before he's through." He describes Kaline as having the tools to break in—good running, strong arm, and improved hitting.

Then Mullin points out:

"Kaline might be the reason I end my career with Detroit. But I haven't given up. It was tough getting here and I hope to stay for another year or so."

Probe Into Detroit Racing Unnecessary

Greene, chairman of the senate affairs committee, said yesterday that he considers the dispute between the Thoroughbred Turf Assn. and the Michigan Racing Assn. a closed incident.

The Senator had indicated earlier that he would demand such an investigation to clear up ownership of the MRA track in Detroit.

CLEVELAND (UP) — Six defending champions will be favored to retain their crowns tonight in the 14th annual Knights of Columbus track meet at Cleveland's arena.

Main competition for Wiesner, Navy dentist at Great Lakes, is expected to come from Vic Fritts, formerly Penn State; Milt Mead of Michigan, and Ron Mitchell, big 10 champion.

Richards' meet record is 15 feet 3¼ inches, spurring him on tonight will be his longtime rival, Don R. Laz, who twice has tied him here, and Jerry Welbourne, National AAU king from Ohio State.

Other defending champions include Harrison Dillard in the 45-yard high hurdles; Mal Whitfield in the 600-yard run; Len Truex in the mile; and Horace Ashenfelter in the two-mile.

Indiana's Big 10 champion team rates an edge in the three-section university mile relay which also includes teams from Ohio State, Pittsburgh, Notre Dame, Iowa, Fordham, Purdue, Illinois and Michigan.

White Sox Prepared for Platoon Game

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP) — The Chicago White Sox are preparing for 2-platoon baseball.

"Against right-handed pitching," Manager Paul Richards said, "I can load the batting order with six lefthanded hitters, and even seven when either lefties Billy Pierce or Jack Harshman is pitching.

"When we face a southpaw, I can load the lineup with such righthanded hitters as Sherm Lollar, Minnie Minoso, Chico Carrasquel, Cass Michaels, Johnny Groth, Bill Wilson and Bob Winkles."

Lowry Wins Decision in Grand Rapids Bout

Johnny Pesky Has Edge Over Mullin So Far

Drives in Winning Run Yesterday as Bengals Down Bosox, 1-0

LAKELAND, Fla. (UP)—There's a minor battle taking place in the Detroit Tigers' training camp this spring.

Pesky, the last of the Tigers to sign, has batted twice this spring, delivering a single in each instance. One time he scored a run and the other he batted one in.

Mullin, on the other hand, has pinch-hit four times without success. Last season the Tiger outfielder batted .268 in limited duty while Pesky hit .292. Big point in Mullin's favor is that he hits a longer ball, and that usually is the man a manager will pick to pinch-hit in the later innings.

Pesky came to bat for the 2nd time this spring yesterday — and stroked a game-winning single to left field. He drove home Al Kaline in the 8th inning and gave the Tigers a 1-0 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Kaline had reached 3rd with a triple to the centerfield fence. It was the youngster's 2nd hit of the game, giving him a batting average of .563. He's the leading Tiger hitter with nine hits in 16 at bats.

Steve Gromek opened for Detroit and turned in his 2nd straight impressive performance. He gave up four hits in four innings.

He was followed by Frank Lary, who did his first effective hurling with a 3-hit effort in four innings.

Bob Miller, bonus pitcher, took over in the 9th. After yielding an inning-opening double, he worked out of trouble with the help of a complicated double play.

Victory was Detroit's 5th against six exhibition losses. But even more important than the victory itself was the fact that the Tigers received solid pitching for the full nine innings.

Team will be idle today but returns to action Saturday, journeying to Sarasota to meet the Red Sox again.

Bowling Clinic

CASE—Creating an Arc.

Drop Ball into Swing — Three valuable points are emphasized in the action sketch of Dick Hoover, former national match king, as he moves into his second step in four-step footwork.

1—His feet are straight-on, forward. No zagging off line. This keeps shoulders, body squared. 2—Ball swings back close to body in straight line. Result of allowing it to drop downward freely into backswing after push-away. This creates perfect arc. Keeps body relaxed.

Pitcher Frank Sullivan, Boston Red Sox rookie up from Albany of the Eastern League, is 6-6½ and weighs 215.

Sen. Johnson Optimistic on Bill Passage

Feels Certain Supreme Court Would Back Its Protection of Game

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) said today he feels "pretty optimistic" about his chances of pushing through Congress his bill to drive business out of baseball.

• • •

Johnson said in an interview that the Justice Department is moving in on baseball right now in an effort to get the Supreme Court to overturn its decision that baseball is not subject to the nation's antitrust laws.

• • •

"If my bill doesn't pass," he said, "I feel certain the Supreme Court will take back its protection of baseball."

Johnson, president of the Class A Western League and the leading congressional spokesman on baseball matters, said this is so because the Justice Department now has a clear antitrust case which it can bring against August A. Busch, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Nats Remove Negroes From Training Base

City Officials Deny Ban, but Club Gets Two Warnings

WINTER GARDEN, Fla. (UP) — Washington Senators baseball officials report a second warning to remove Negro players from their farm team training base here and said they will do it, although city officials insist they have imposed no racial ban. The FBI is investigating.

A man drove up to the camp Wednesday and reportedly told Zinn Back, general manager of the Chattanooga Lookouts:

"Have those Negroes out by sundown and don't bring them back."

It was first reported the man was a uniformed policeman, but Ossie Bluege, director of the Washington farm system, said that was a mistake, that the man wore no uniform.

Joe Engel, president of the Chattanooga Lookouts, reported the second warning. He said an anonymous phone caller told him: "Get those Negroes out right away."

Seven Cuban Negroes assigned to Charlotte, N. C., of the Class A South Atlantic League were shifted to the parent Washington team's training base at nearby Orlando.

"We leased the park to the club," the mayor said. "It's up to them whether they have Negro players there or don't. It's none of our business."

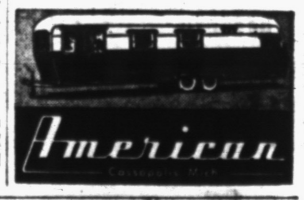

The FBI in Florida said an inquiry was started to determine if federal law was violated.

Pirates Obeying Giles' Order

By RIP WATSON
AP Sports Writer

President Warren Giles of the National League is getting help from an unexpected source in his plea to the senior circuit clubs to beat the American Leaguers in spring training games.

The league president undoubtedly was confident the Brooklyn Dodgers could do well but who could expect the hitherto impotent Pittsburgh Pirates to win five games in as many starts against American League teams?

* * *

Frank Thomas, the Bucs' leading slugger last year with 30 homers and 102 runs batted in, tagged Bob Porterfield for a home run in the fourth inning yesterday. Before the frame was over, Dale Long and Toby Atwell also had homers, and newly acquired Sid Gordon slammed one out of the park to account for the winning margin in the seventh inning.

The Dodgers recorded their seventh interleague victory — and ninth straight over-all—by making the most of three singles for a 4-1 victory over the New York Yankees.

Another winning streak was snapped when Freddie Marsh's ninth-inning home run brought the Chicago White Sox a 5-4 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics, cutting short a string of seven successes.

The Baltimore Orioles, like the Athletics regarded as second-division material once the regular season begins, continued to fly high with a 7-6 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Wisconsin Girl Ignores Jinx in N-S Golf Event

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — The jinx which has been attached to winning the medal in recent years in the North and South Women's Amateur Invitation golf tournament apparently holds no terrors for jolly Joyce Ziske, stocky swinger from Waterloo, Wis. Only once in the last six years has the medalist gone on to win the 52-year-old tournament.

Nineteen-year-old Miss Ziske, whose 76 won the qualifying medal two days ago, played the best golf of yesterday's opening round of match play to spank Virginia Dennehy, Northwestern student from Lake Forest, Ill., 4 and 3. Joyce was two under par as she advanced a second round pairing today against Marjorie Burns, Greensboro, N.C. Miss Burns won from Mrs. Holbrook Platt, Pinehurst, 2 and 1.

First round play produced only one surprise. Mrs. George Noble, a three handicap player from Washington, overcame an early two-hole lead of Carol Diringer of Tiffin, Ohio, to gain a 2-up victory. Miss Diringer was a semi-finalist last year.

had the closest call of the winning had the cloest call of the winning favorites when her fellow Californian, Gloria Armstrong of Oakland, carried her to the 18th before Barbara prevailed, 1-up.

Boston Pitching Staff Appears in Good Shape

Young Billy Consolo Is Hottest Item in Camp at Moment

By JOE REICHLER

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — "It all depends on the big guy. With him we've got a chance. Without him we have no chance."

That was the way Lou Boudreau, manager of the Boston Red Sox, summed up his team's pennant chances for 1954.

"The big guy," of course, is Ted Williams, baseball's greatest hitter and currently the game's most celebrated convalescent. Sidelined by a cracked collarbone, Ted is not expected back in the lineup for at least seven more weeks. That means he is certain to miss at least three weeks of the regular campaign.

Even without Williams, the Red Sox have talent in abundance this year. Unlike a year ago, they seem to be pretty well set in every position. For the first time in years, they're going to have a strong bench, too.

Boston's pitching staff again will be headed by southpaw Mel Parnell. Five of his 21 victories last year were against the champion Yankees, four by shutouts. Left-hander Leo Kiely, recently discharged from service; righthanders Hector Brown (11-6) and Sid Hudson (6-9) and southpaw Bill Henry (7-3) give the Red Sox a good starting five. Ellis Kinder again will be the No. 1 relief man.

Rave of the camp at present is 19-year-old Billy Consolo, the $65,000 bonus beauty who may blossom into a full fledged star in his sophomore season. The youngster, only a year out of high school in Los Angeles, has been switched from 3rd to 2nd base and has been playing his new position as if he were born to it. His long distance hitting has been the talk of the camp.

Leahy Joins Chicago Firm as Vice-Prexy

Neighbor of Ex-Irish Football Coach Owner of Business

TAMPA, Fla. (UP) — Frank Leahy, recently resigned football coach of Notre Dame, today entered the business world as a vice president in charge of sales.

Leahy, who has been vacationing here for the past week, announced Thursday night that he has accepted that position with the Exothermic Alloys Sales and Service, Inc., a Chicago firm.

He was scheduled to leave here this morning for an afternoon meeting in Cleveland, presumably with officials of the firm.

John J. Grady, president of the company, is a long-time friend and neighbor of Leahy.

Leahy said that he would visit Notre Dame "whenever I can," but emphasized that his appearances there from now on would be only as "an interested spectator."

32 Teams Begin Play in '54 ABC Event

SEATTLE (AP)—The biggest indoor sports tournament in the world begins a six-week program tomorrow when 32 teams launch the 1954 American Bowling Congress.

More than 16,000 bowlers will fire at the clustered pins before the 51st ABC ends May 3. They'll be shooting for championships — and for approximately $200,000 in prize money.

Family Title Battle

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Senior men's competition of the United States Figure Skating championships opens today. Two brothers from Colorado Springs, Colo., are expected to be in the battle for the crown. Defending champion Hays Alan Jenkins is favored to retain the title. One of his four competitors will be his brother, David.

Lewis Leaves Adrian

ADRIAN (AP) — Al Lewis, Adrian High School's football coach, resigned Thursday to take a position as athletic director, football and wrestling coach at Rock Island, Ill., High School.

He gave no reason for leaving. Lewis, who came to Adrian in June of 1952, had a 1-7 football record last season.

Deportation Suit's Legality Questioned

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Crooner Dick Haymes' attorney doubts the constitutionality of a law that barred the Argentina-born entertainer from entering the United States after visiting Rita Hayworth in Honolulu last summer.

David C. Marcus, the attorney, said today he is filing a brief that maintains that the exclusion of "lawful resident aliens from the United States because of a sojourn in a territory of the United States . . . is unreasonable and unconstitutional."

The government seeks to deport Haymes for what it maintains was his illegal re-entry into this country after his visit to Miss Hayworth, whom he later married.

It took Christopher Columbus 71 days to reach America. Today, his entire 90-man crew could travel 131 times as far in a sinble modern air transport in the same amount of time.

Fashion Set by Friends Irresistible to Girl, 23

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (UP) — Mary Louise McNerney, 23, hurled a pop bottle through the plate glass window of a Zanesville cafe yesterday.

After her arrest, a matron asked why she did it.

Municipal Judge Robert J. Merry obliged. $35 and costs. She chose to serve it out at the rate of $3 a day.

Kansas Women Have Dirty Job

Spring Housecleaning Impossible Until Dust Storms Let Up

GARDEN CITY, Kan. (UP)—Mrs. Wayne Campbell stood, broom in hand, in a foot-wide path through dunes of dust on her front porch and vowed she would sweep no more "until I can see the sun."

Inside, sheer curtains hung in awkward folds, weighted with dust. Dust blanketed table tops and rose from the carpets in small puffs with each footstep. It fromed symmetrical little patterns on the window sills. It was something you could taste, literally, in the air.

The worst dust storm in 15 years—since the dust bowl era—had subsided.

But Mrs. Campbell, like thousands of other home-makers on the great plains of the Southwest, knows that the wind probably will rise again. New billows of dust borne on the wind will seep through every hairline crack and cover every cranny of the house.

Spring cleaning under such circumstances, Mrs. Campbell said, is futile. For her and others like her there will be no cleaning until the windy season ends, or until steady rains fall.

Mrs. Campbell, wife of a Garden City abstractor, said she hoped that would be about Easter.

In the meantime, she keeps a path swept from the front door to the public walk. She dusts superficially each day. And she hopes to take the curtains down and shake them some clear day. She plans to wash the dust-grimed windows on the north and west "so we can see out."

But there will be no general cleaning for a while, she said.

Mrs. Campbell was philosophical about the dust, recalling that in the seven-year drought of the 1930s the housekeeping problem was much worse.

Houses are built tighter now, she said. And, in a prosperous era, they have been kept in top repair.

"I remember back in the 30s everybody hung wet sheets over the door and windows when a duster was blowing hard," she said. "Now everybody has storm sashes that do the job better."

Homely Men Rate Highest With Actress

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—With women who know dating best, it's homely men 2 to 1. That's the claim of Patricia Medina, one of Hollywood's most beautiful actresses.

"You can have the pretty boys," she says. "I'd rather have homely men for dates. They are better in many ways. They are more attentive. They are not conceited. They listen to what you have to say. They appreciate what they have, since they haven't relied on their looks.

* * *

"Homely men have a sense of humor about themselves, and that's important in a man. They are inclined to be more old-fashioned in their wooing; you get more flowers from them. They put more effort in their courting of a girl."

On the other hand, she added scornfully, there is the Handsome Harry. What about him?

"He spends half his time looking in mirrors to see if his hair is combed properly. He overdresses and tries to steal the spotlight from the woman. He considers his date fortunate to be out with him, and expects her to hold up the conversation. He is forever making entrances. I'm sick of entrances!"

* * *

This English doll seemed to feel strongly about the matter. So strongly that she threw caution to the winds and offered to name the 10 most attractive homely men she knows. Or maybe it's the homliest attractive men. Anyway, she's taking a chance.

"This will probably ruin me socially," she sighed between takes of "Pirates of Tripoli." "The handsome men won't talk to me, and the others will be incensed because I called them homely."

But she rattled off these choices: "Humphrey Bogart is one of the sexiest men on the screen, but even the kindest person wouldn't call him handsome. Jack Palance has a tremendous appeal in a menacing sort of way. Frank Sinatra certainly made hearts flip, and he' no pretty boy.

Hal Boyle Says:

NEW YORK (AP)—In the dim days before the juke box, America's favorite musical instrument was the old-fashioned foot-pumped reed organ.

Its quavering notes sounded in nearly every rural church and most prosperous farm homes. In great grandmother's heyday, many a girl turned the heart of her beau to quivering jelly by her masterly rendition of "Annie Laurie" on the old parlor organ.

"You pump, Hiram," she said, tenderly, "and I'll play." And the next thing dazed Hiram knew he had signed up to buy her pork chops for the rest of his life.

* * *

Then the piano came into high fashion and swept the organ out of favor. But today the organ—it's glamorized now and electronic—is making a big comeback. It's a 75-million-dollar industry and growing rapidly.

"In ten years the electronic organ will be America's most popular home musical instrument," predicted Burton Minshall, 46, one of the leading manufacturers in the field.

"By that time it will sound like a one-man symphony. We've learned a great deal just in the last three years about electronic reproduction of sound. In the lab we can reproduce any known musical sound, including those of the percussion instruments, such as drums, cymbals and castanets.

Minshall, who has helped revolutionize the industry, got into it by accident—trying to please his wife. He was a young radio repairman back in 1929 when his wife, Madaline, expressed a desire for an old-type organ such as she had played as a girl in the home of her grandmother.

* * *

"We didn't have any money," Minshall recalled. "So I decided to take a crack at building one for her.

"I knew nothing about it, and made more than a dozen false starts over the years, using seat-of-the-pants engineering. It became my hobby."

Ten years after he started out on the project Minshall finally presented his wife with a successful home-made electronic organ, constructed largely out of old radio parts that cost him $40.

"Some of our neighbors heard my wife playing the organ and suggested I ought to make another one and sell it," Minshall said.

"So, in 1940, I made a second organ. I tried to sell it to 13 funeral directors. Twelve said there was no market for an electronic organ—but the 13th bought it."

* * *

He built a third organ. He and his wife put it in a truck he borrowed from a friend and toured all the funeral homes and churches in a 60-mile radius. Madaline played the organ, Minshall pitched the sales talk.

Within a year the couple had built and sold 40 organs and brought in $30,000. They were in business, and the business began doubling every year.

"My wife worked as hard as I did," Minshall said.

Today they have 200 employes, two plants—in London, Ont. and Brattleboro, Vt.—and in 1953 had a $5,000,000 volume. Their market has spread from the United States and Canada to 19 foreign countries.

* * *

"In 1948 less than five per cent of our organs went to private homes," said Minshall. "Now the picture is reversed. About 80 per cent are bought for home pleasure. People are interested in a simple musical instrument with a variety of tone colors that is easy to play. Some 40 per cent of our customers never played a musical instrument before.

"The big advantage of the electronic organ over the piano is that even a horrible musician gets by beautifully on it."

Therapy for Headaches Raises Public Comment

KENT, Ohio (UP) — A baker's assistant, Ed Dorvee, has aroused much comment here because of the gold earrings he wears, but his explanation for them has nothing to do with his adventurous past as a circus hand, cowboy and sideshow helper.

The 57-year-old Dorvee said the earrings were part of a treatment prescribed in his boyhood at Glenn Falls, N. Y. to cure persistent headaches.

"After the Doc pierced my ear lobes," Dorvee explained, "the ache and throbbing just seemed to disappear."

Feed Grains Continue to Lag

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans and wheat had a firm tone on the Board of Trade today as feed grains continued to lag without showing any large losses.

Soybeans jumped a couple of cents at the opening, the March contract leading. March wheat also was quite strong at the start. Evidently there was considerable short covering in both of these months as dealing in all March futures end Monday.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ⅞ higher, March $2.28⅞, corn ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, March $1.52¾, oats unchanged to ⅜ lower, March 77¾, rye ¼ lower to ¼ higher, March $1.15¼, soybeans ¾ to 2½ higher, March $3.54¼ and lard 2 cents lower to 8 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $18.95.

Stocks Climbing but in Fractions

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market in early trading today was higher, the third straight session of recovery.

Just about all segments of the market enjoyed the better prices. The extent of the rise, however, was limited to occasional major fractions at the most.

American Telephone opened up ⅝ at 164⅝ on a block of 1,400 shares. Columbia Gas produced a block of 5,000 shares up ¼, and General Motors was on the tape with 5,000 shares up ½.

Among higher stocks were New York Central, Texas Co., Du Pont, General Electric, International Paper, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Boeing, and Lockheed.

The market yesterday moved up strongly and sent the Associated Press average of 60 stocks up 60 cents at $116.40, equal to the 1953-54 high.

Thirteen of the 18 car makers will turn out more cars this week than last, reported the trade paper Automotive News today.

The publication said this week's output will climb to 121,848 cars and 22,624 trucks. This compares with 110,592 cars and 21,583 trucks last week.

At week's end 1954 output will reach 1,242,027 cars. This is 6.4 per cent under the 1953 output for a like period.

Move to Get UM Regents Meetings Opened to Press

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The opening of Michigan Board of Regents to accredited representatives of newspapers and wire services was a step toward reality today.

A subcommittee of the Freedom of Information Committee of the Michigan Press Assn. met with a committee of regents yesterday. And from the conference came a report that some progress had been made toward opening regents meetings to the press.

Kenneth M. Stevens, Detroit regent, said he personally thought there would be no objections to Bailey's proposal "if good, reliable reporters covered the meetings."

The regents were scheduled to hold their regular monthly meeting today but Stevens said he doubted if the proposal would be brought up.

Picket Fence Restaurant Owner on Probation

Boyd E. Burch, 41, owner of the Picket Fence Restaurant, 161 W. South Blvd., paid a $25 fine and was placed on 60 days probation Thursday after pleading guilty before Pontiac Judge Odin H. Johnson to a charge of operating a restaurant with a suspended license.

According to Charles S. Cohen, Pontiac Health Department sanitarian, the restaurant was ordered closed Jan. 11 because of unsanitary conditions. The establishment's reopening depends on repairs and other corrections ordered by the department, said Cohen.

Italy has more than 800,000 licensed motorcycles.

Fire Protection Costs Run High

Sylvan City Manager Sees Total Exceeding Budget Estimate

Fire protection costs at Sylvan Lake through Feb. 28 of the present fiscal year totaled $1,050, some $250 over the budget estimate, according to City Manager Ernest Ethier.

The West Bloomfield Fire Department serves Sylvan Lake at cost of $75 for each fire truck run, Ethier explained. A fee of $300 was paid the township on signing the contract and $750 has been paid for truck runs.

Ethier urged citizens to "help reduce this expense by. . . removing all possible fire hazards," such as unsafe electrical wiring, debris, inflammable liquids and materials plus checking oil heaters and chimneys.

In other Sylvan Lake business, Ethier said unpaid special sewer assessment and service charges for 1953 will be certified this month to the Oakland County treasurer for collection. Payment with interest and penalty can be made at the county office after March 31.

Sanitary sewer service bills for Oct. 1, 1953 through April 1, 1954 will be mailed this month and are payable without penalty through April. A 10 per cent penalty is added May 1, according to Ethier.

A $1 penalty is added to the dog license fee March 1, the city manager said, and dog owners who have not complied with the city dog ordinance by April 1 will be contacted by the police department.

A mobile chest X-ray unit will be at Keego Harbor April 13 through 16 for the convenience of Sylvan Lake residents, said Ethier.

Indochina Town Fails to Live Up to Its Good Name

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) —International News Service asked a simple question at the United Nations and received a rather startling reply.

The question: What is the English meaning of the name Dien Bien Phu — the Indochina town which for the past week has been the center of the bloodiest, most furious battle of the eight-year Indo-Chinese war?

Natives of Burma, Indonesia, Afghanistan and South China went into a huddle and reported after several hours that "Phu" means prefecture or district, "Bien" indicates a frontier and "Dien" mean to pacify.

Families Offer Home for Boy

Youth, 13, Is Being Held for Psychiatric Exam After Fleeing Home

At least half a dozen families have offered to care for Joe Pilat, the 13-year-old who fled from his guardian's Brown City farm home Monday morning and holed up with a shotgun and 18 shells in a nearby barn.

Lapeer Undersheriff Neil Gass said today the offers had come from as far away as Detroit, but most came from the Brown City-North Branch area.

In Ann Arbor, Clare Golden of the Michigan Children's Institute, a branch of the State Social Welfare Dept. said:

"Naturally we're interested in any expression of interest and as soon as we know what kind of plan the youngster needs we will talk with these people."

Meanwhile, Joe is in Flint Juvenile Home awaiting psychiatric examinations. A case worker quoted Joe as saying he wanted to stay in the community where he had been living.

Miss Golden said Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kreiner, with whom the youth had been living for the past nine years, "are interested in helping him."

After firing off the shotgun on a dare, Joe was persuaded to surrender to State Police and sheriff's deputies. He said he barricaded himself in the barn so authorities would pick him up.

Y Clerk Linked to Red Activity

Detroiter Refuses Any Comment During His Committee Testimony

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit YMCA clerk declined comment last night on congressional testimony linking him to Communist activities.

Joseph S. Nowak, a room clerk at the downtown YMCA, was mentioned yesterday during questioning of th Rev. John A. Hutchinson of Williams College before the House Un-American Activities Commitee in Washington.

Frank Tavenner Jr., committee counsel, told Hutchinson that a former Communist, Earl C. Reno, had testified at a secret session that when Hutchinson and Nowak went to Baltimore to begin theological studies in 1935, they "reported to Communist party headquarters before going to their churches."

"That statement is false," said Hutchinson, 42-year-old professor of religion at the Williamstown Mass. College.

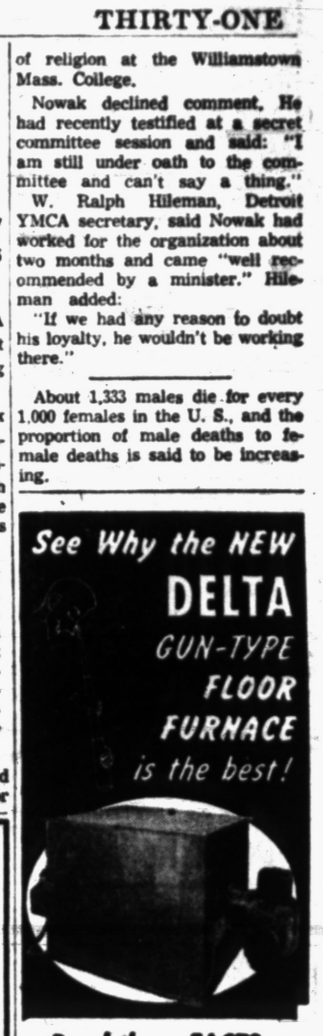

Nowak declined comment. He had recently testified at a secret committee session and said: "I am still under oath to the committee and can't say a thing."

W. Ralph Hileman, Detroit YMCA secretary, said Nowak had worked for the organization about two months and came "well recommended by a minister." Hileman added:

"If we had any reason to doubt his loyalty, he wouldn't be working there."

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MIchael David Overbaugh who passed away March 17, 1953. It was St. Patrick's Day in the morning,
One year ago today,
That Jesus in his loving arms,
Took little Mike away.
The vision of his little smile,
Shall never, never die,
While he plays in God's beautiful Garden of happiness in the sky.
Sadly missed by mommy and daddy.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ROSAlie Claxton.
A wonderful friend, whose name will not fade.
One who is sweeter, God never made.
A wonderful friendship, so loyal and true,
One in a million, and that friend is you
Just in your judgment, and always right.
Honest and liberal seldom a flight.
Loved by your friends, and all whom you knew
A wonderful friend, that friend was you.
Sincerely missed by Audrey.

IN MEMORY OF DAGMAR ANN Thompson, who passed away March 19, 1952.
Your not forgotten, Daggie dear
Nor ever shall you be
As long as life and memory last
I shall remember thee.

Hurries Home After His Show

Aims to Be Ordinary Neighborhood Daddy to His Kids' Friends

NEW YORK — For all his energy and exuberance, Bert Parks, the jet-propelled emcee of television's "Double or Nothing," is a show business personality who goes out of his way to avoid the spotlight once the curtain drops on his "act."

Bert's personal life is just that — personal. He's big time, he works on Broadway, but he's seldom seen in that vicinity once he's off the air.

"We want our kids to have a chance to be normal," explains Bert. "Autograph hunters show up when I put up my name. They make a fuss over Petty and the twins. I don't think that ought to happen until they're old enough to understand.

Of late, with the twins in public school, Bert has made it a point to get to know their school cronies. "At first it was a little embarrassing," he notes, "but by now the glamour has sort of washed off me through repeated elbow-rubbings and now, thank goodness, I'm just another of the neighborhood daddies."

Gulls Fly Russia

CHALCIS, Greece (INS)—Schooner captain Mike Marangos recently turned in a seagull to the harbor authorities with a ring around its leg stamped "Moskva E 278646" and said it was the fifth Russian gull he had caught in Greek waters.

Public elementary and high schools in the U.S. cost about $6 billion in 1951 and private schools about $1 billion. Colleges and universities cost an additional $2 billion.
