Overcrowding May Lead to Violence, Judge Moore Says

Relief at Children's Home Asked

BY MAX E. SIMON

In a plea to relieve overcrowding at the Oakland County Children's Home, Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore yesterday warned the County Board of Supervisors that the possibility of an outbreak among the home's youngsters must be averted.

MOORE

Such a possibility has existed in the past, Judge Moore warned. "Only throug good fortune and excellent management on the part of the staff has an 'incident' been averted," he said.

The Home's clinical staff and psychiatrist have repeatedly expressed fear over the consequences of herding youngsters into inadequate living space, Judge Moore said. He revealed that recent plots among some of the youngsters to "beat up" staff members have been discovered in time to be squelched.

If the board does not act immediately to raise the living standards at the home, he pointed out, the state may not appropriate aid funds. Last year the Home received $142,000 in state aid.

However, Judge Moore said, the state is under no obligation to provide money to such institutions when they do not meet certain minimum requirements required by law.

LISTED VIOLATIONS

He listed a number of violations at the home, caused by overcrowding conditions.

There is supposed to be an arrangement of rooms to permit segregation among the types of children, he said. But incorrigibles, delinquents, children with nervous disorders and dependent youngsters are now lumped together in violation of the law.

Other violations of the state law pinpointed by Judge Moore were:

1. Boys sleeping in hallways without adequate window space, light or ventilation, making the building a fire hazard

2. Closeness of beds which are required to be three feet apart.

3. Lack of space for youngsters to place their personal belongings.

"In the past," Judge Moore told the supervisors, "I know that you have used wisdom in constructing a new county garage, the new public health center and buildings of lesser stature. For reasons I do not question and which must have been apparent to you, they have been given top priority.

"But it is now time to put the problem of our county's children at the top of your emergency agenda."

City Receives Top Safety Award

Defense Ready to File Appeal in 'Clinton Trial'

Attorneys Are Stunned; Kasper Claims He Will Continue Fight

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Counsel for John Kasper and six Clinton segregationists convicted of interfering with racial integration of Clinton High School vowed today to appeal.

Obviously stunned by the verdict returned yesterday by an all-white jury, defense attorneys said they will appeal if denied a new trial.

Kasper's lawyer, J. Benjamin Simmons of Washington, D. C., said he too will file an appeal if U. S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Taylor rejects the defense plea for a new trial.

Taylor deferred sentencing pending argument on the defense's new trial motion. He gave defense counsel until Aug 14 to file formal motions for a new trial.

Earlier, Taylor had given the lawyers 20 days to prepare their briefs. But when they pointed out to the judge today that this deadline would fall on Tuesday, Aug. 13, he agreed to an additional day.

Those convicted face a maximum sentence of six months in jail and $1,000 fine, or both.

Meanwhile, at the nearby town of Clinton there was some bitterness, some shock and some satisfaction over the verdict.

Last fall, a dozen Negro students were enrolled in Clinton High School with some 800 whites. It was the first state-supported school in Tennessee to mix the races, following the Supreme Court ruling that segregation is unconstitutional.

At first, everything went smoothly. A Negro girl was elected chairman of her classroom.

Then violence flared . . . mobs . . . rioting. A trim young Baptist minister, the Rev. Paul Turner, was badly beaten after he escorted six Negro students past segregationists in the streets to the school.

Out of that came the "Clinton trial."

Sheppard Case Confession Called 'Complete Hoax'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two men who helped send Dr. Sam Sheppard to Ohio Penitentiary for the bludgeoning of his wife were back from Florida today with a 26th name to add to their list of fake confessors to the three-year-old murder.

The two are Dr. Samuel R. Gerber, Cuyahoga County's veteran coroner, and James E. McArthur, who headed Cleveland detectives' investigation of the July 4, 1954, crime.

The name added to their list was that of Donald Joseph Wedler, 23, a petty criminal and narcotics addict who was jailed in Deland, Fla., as a fugitive from a road camp where he was doing time for robbery.

Only two or three of the previous "confessors" got much publicity. Wedler, a blond-sideburned young vagabond who has been brushing with the law since he was 14, was showered with attention for eight days.

It began Tuesday of last week when he told Sheriff Rodney Thursby of Volusia County, Fla., that he had bludgeoned a woman to death with a piece of pipe near Cleveland in July 1954.

After questioning Wedler for 3 hours and 45 minutes yesterday, Gerber concluded: "He's a liar."

McArthur said: "He's never even been in Cleveland."

There were two reasons why Wedler's confession made more news than the others. The Court of Last Resort, sponsored by Ar-

Seek 'Madman' in New Mexico

Predawn Bullet Deluge Leaves Truck Driver, 2 Young Women Dead

HOBBS, N.M. (AP)—A merciless killer, whose predawn rain of bullets shot down a truck driver and two young divorcees on isolated desert roads yesterday, was sought today in a statewide roadblock net.

The killer may have later tried to abduct a third woman.

There had been speculation the slayer was the same man who shot down two policemen Monday at El Segundo, Calif., but police at Oakland, Calif., said today they were holding a 25-year-old fugitive from Illinois who had admitted the crime.

Officers called the killer "a madman." He pumped at least five bullets into the body of truck driver J. D. Cantrell, 27, Carlsbad, N. M.

He then drove the two women, Mrs. Barbara Edwards Lemmons and Mrs. Dorothy Fern Gibson, both 23, of Hobbs, about 29 miles from where Cantrell's body was discovered and left them lying dead in a quiet, grassy draw. Six empty .22-caliber shells were found near the bodies.

In the afternoon, a sleepy-eyed man in his 30s tried to kidnap the postmistress of Tinnie, a village 158 miles northwest of the scene of the slayings.

Postmistress Virginia Guest, 40, routed her would-be abductor with a shot from her .38-caliber pistol after he started for his car, where he said he had "something which would make her" accompany him.

Sheriff Jewell McAdoo of Lea County said apparently Cantrell had stopped to help the two women fix a flat tire on U.S. 180 about 36 miles west of this southeastern New Mexico oil center. He was slain there.

Committee Says 'No' to Hells Canyon Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Interior Committee today voted 16-14 to kill a bill to authorize federal construction of a high Hells Canyon dam on the Snake River.

Two Democrats—Reps. Shuford (NC) and Haley (Fla)—joined the 14 committee Republicans in voting against the bill.

The action was taken on a House bill introduced by Rep. Pfost (D-Idaho). It left alive in a subcommittee a second bill already passed by the Senate.

However, opponents of the project said today's vote means it is dead.

The Pfost bill would have authorized construction of a high federal-built dam in the Snake River stretch of the Idaho-Oregon border where Idaho Power Co. has been given Federal Power Commission approval to build three smaller dams. The bill has bordered on defeat in the House committee for three weeks.

Senate Expected to Limit Scope of Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate pointed today toward a mid-afternoon vote expected to convert the administration's civil rights bill into one aimed primarily at protecting Negroes' right to vote.

Two defeats for the bill's supporters yesterday posted clear signs of approval for an amendment by Senators Anderson (D-NM) and Aiken (R-Vt), unless there is a totally unexpected shift in sentiment.

The amendment would strip from the bill House-approved powers for the attorney general to initiate civil suits for the enforcement of a wide variety of civil rights, including racial integration in schools and public places.

Proponents were rebuffed in two last-ditch efforts yesterday to salvage some of these powers by limiting others.

By a 61-29 vote, the Senate rejected a proposal by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to permit the attorney general to move in the broad field of civil rights only when directed to do so by the President.

DEFEATED 81-8

Then the chamber rolled up an 81-8 count against an amendment by Sen. Cooper (R-Ky) to authorize the attorney general to seek injunctions when an individual complained a conspiracy existed to deny him any civil right in defiance of a court order.

Adoption of the Anderson-Aiken proposal would confine the bill's enforcement provisions to cases involving alleged denial of the right to vote. In these cases, the attorney general could move on his own initiative, with violators of federal court injunction orders subject to contempt punishment without jury trial.

Half a dozen or more proposals are pending to insert a jury trial provision. The adoption of any of them would be made less certain by the expected approval of the Anderson-Aiken amendment.

Leaders of the coalition of Republicans and Democrats supporting the measure indicated they will delay any showdown on this issue while they work on other sections of the bill.

The conviction in Knoxville, Tenn., of John Kasper and six other defendants in the Clinton segregation trial seemed likely to have some bearing on the jury trial issue when it is reached.

DEMONSTRATES FALLACY

Sen. Russell (D-Ga), captain of the civil rights bill foes, said that action demonstrated the fallacy of arguments that federal enforcement without jury trials is needed because Southern juries won't convict.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), quarterback of Northern Democrats who favor the bill, told reporters he can't see why the Clinton verdict would affect the Senate vote.

For one thing, he said, "Tennessee is one of the more advanced of Southern States." For another, he said, "Kasper was a Northerner, and Southerners don't like a Northerner to come down and stir up trouble."

Explode Ninth Atom Shot in Current Series of Tests

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) — The ninth shot of the Atomic Energy Commission's current test series exploded in a brilliant, blue-purple flash at 4:50 a.m. here today.

The blast sent a great cloud of dust rolling across the desert, past trenches some 3,000 yards away, where 700 military observers crouched. The dust and accompanying shock wave also struck hard at News Nob, where newsmen and 31 foreign civilian defense observers watched.

For long seconds after the shock wave blasted past the observers it could be heard rumbling in the mountains behind the AEC's Yucca Flats test center.

Two bright spots of orange flame flared briefly as the indigo flash subsided. Then the familiar mushroom cloud mounted into the clear, pre-dawn sky.

In 50 seconds — the time observers estimated it took the shock wave to jar News Nob — 13 miles away — the dirty, purplish-looking cloud mounted to an estimated 20,000 feet.

The device was detonated atop a 500-foot tower. Its size was estimated as being roughly equivalent to the power of 10,000 tons of TNT.

A Navy blimp was tethered on the test site within the blast area in a continuing study of blast and radiation effects. Dust and darkness hid its fate in the moments after the detonation.

At a range of 44 miles, more than twice the distance from ground zero than the military observers, 18 scientists withstood the blast in a heavy shelter. They were there to study instruments measuring blast and radiation effects.

Throw on Extra Quilt, Cool Again Tonight

The weatherman predicts fair and cool again tonight, with the low temperature around 53 degrees.

Thursday will be fair and a little warmer with the high near 74-78. Tomorrow night will be somewhat warmer with the low about 60.

The lowest thermometer reading preceding 8 a.m. was 58 degrees. The mercury rose to 77 at 2 p.m.

Segregation Again Issue in School Aid Bill Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A segregation issue which helped kill a federal school aid bill last year comes up again today in a House already divided over the need for such a program.

Voting was expected to begin today on amendments to a 1½-billion-dollar measure which would authorize 300 millions a year for five years, to be matched on a 50-50 basis by the states, to build needed classrooms.

Proposals to tack on an anti-segregation amendment, opposition on grounds of economy and objections to any federal participation all combined to make chances of final passage uncertain.

Rep. Wainwright (R-NY) said he expected to offer an amendment which would bar federal aid to any school district practicing racial segregation in the schoolroom.

The office of Rep. Powell (D-NY) said he was expected back from a rest and would continue to press for adoption of his own antisegregation proviso.

Last year Powell was author of an amendment similar to Wainwright's. The House adopted Powell's amendment and then killed the bill.

Rep. Roosevelt (D-Calif) announced on the House floor yesterday he would not support the Powell amendment this year. Roosevelt said House passage of the civil rights measure had led him to reverse his stand.

President Eisenhower has said the segregation issue should be kept out of the school construction measure.

The school bill also would authorize 750 million dollars for purchase of bonds of local school district's unable to find markets at reasonable interest rates, and another 150 million dollars to help the credit of state school financing agencies. Total federal participation thus would amount to $2,400,000,000.

Plane Explosion Kills 10 Fliers

Navy Patrol Bomber Third to Crash Since Last Friday

HONOLULU (AP)—A Neptune patrol bomber, third to crash since last Friday, exploded and fell into the Pacific yesterday, killing all 10 Navy men aboard.

Divers recovered four bodies.

The twin-engine P2V was the same type bomber as the one found earlier yesterday in rugged northern Italy mountains. The Navy said the plane which vanished Friday had 11 aboard, but rescue teams said they found what appeared to be remains of 15 or 16.

The Hawaii plane, from Patrol Squadron 28, had been on a four-hour flight in the area. It blew up near shore and the wreckage dropped into water 20 feet deep, 300 yards off Barbers Point Naval Air Station.

Names of the victims were withheld.

Think Earth Tremors in Aleutian Islands

NEW YORK (AP) — Four fairly sharp earth tremors, probably in the Aleutian Islands, were recorded last night and early today on the Fordham University seismograph.

The shocks were recorded at 9:08:45 and 9:17:56 p. m. and 5:58:43 and 6:07:18 a. m.

Senate Rackets Probe Continues

Want to Know Why Milk Stools Are on Union Expense Accounts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The purchase by union officers of brassieres, milk stools and golfer's lamps comes under scrutiny today of Senate rackets probers.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the special Senate committee named those items, along with radio and television sets, yesterday as appearing on union-paid expense accounts of United Textile Workers officials. The question now is: Who got them, and why?

Among witnesses summoned to explain them are the union's President Anthony Valente and Secretary-Treasurer Lloyd Klenert.

Neither McClellan nor Klenert could describe a golfer's lamp or say what it is used for. And Klenert told newsmen he didn't recall buying any milk stools either, although he said they may have been prettied-up articles of furniture.

Klenert said the brassieres may have gone to woman delegates attending union meetings, but he didn't remember who could have received radio and TV sets at the union's expense.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said the committee would explore at least $100,000 worth of items charged to the union in what he termed flagrant "misuse of UTW funds."

Kennedy said the total includes $57,000 of union money used in the purchase of plush new homes for Valente and Klenert in 1952.

Reservations Close for Fall Trip

Full House for Press Theater Tour

O. K., boys and girls.

This is it.

That big special trip to New York by de luxe air liner and then a merry whirl in Gotham including the five biggest shows in town are all set.

A year ago we reserved 100 tickets for this happy event and the affair was so successful that we marked down 150 reservations as the number for 1957.

All places are gone.

Nearly a dozen mailed in checks after the lists closed.

Miss Rose Ajoian of 72 Washington St. may be interested in knowing that she was the 150th reservation. Had she been a wee bit later, she wouldn't be on the trip.

Welcome aboard, Miss Ajoian.

When those big United Air Lines planes start down the runway at Willow Run, Miss Ajoian can shake hands with herself all over again.

Beyond the 150th place is . . . well, maybe next year.

The Big Day is still six weeks away but those of you who are "in" can indulge in day dreams in which you see yourself sauntering down Fifth Avenue, crossing Broadway at 43rd or 44th or comfortably situated in a class A seat as the house darkens and the curtain starts to raise on "My Fair Lady."

Expect something big and wonderful.

Hold Hearing on 'Dope' Count

The horse, Melody Air, won the second race and paid $10.80 to win. The 6-year-old mare also was part of the daily double that paid $41.20.

The hearing was called after track stewards announced official state tests given all race winners revealed the presence of procaine in Melody Air. Procaine is a prohibited drug.

Trainer P. E. (Gene) Simmons blamed a nasal condition and kidney ailment for the presence of the drug. He denied any intended wrong doing.

Connell said he was embarrassed and humiliated by the finding which was the first affair of this nature that has involved his family in the 25 years it has been connected with racing.

Enter Innocent Plea for Lawrence Turner

DETROIT (INS) — Lawrence Richard Turner, 50, confessed slayer of six-year-old Mary de Caussin, stood mute today as a plea of not guilty to murder in the first degree was entered by his attorney.

The plea was entered by court-appointed attorney Patrick J. Keating in Circuit Judge Neal E. Fitzgerald's court.

Judge Fitzgerald denied a motion to re-examine Turner, made by Keating on the ground that defendant had not been represented by counsel at his preliminary hearing.

Federal Aid to Schools Hit by Pontiac C. of C.

The Governmental Affairs Committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce is seeking some 200 letters to be sent to Rep. William S. Broomfield and Senators Patrick V. McNamara and Charles E. Potter, opposing the proposed federal aid for education.

Committee members yesterday said the state would not gain from the bill, but would pay $5 million more in taxes than it would receive.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

What determines the course of a hurricane? Why does it suddenly change direction, or speed up its forward motion?

Unfortunately, the answers to these questions are not yet known, although there are various theories about why hurricanes do what they do. What is known is that hurricanes always move to the north, and eventually, to the east, in this latitude.

They travel slowly, but they sometimes pick up speed and travel as fast as thirty miles an hour. Often, though, they crawl at five miles per hour and seem to be pondering what direction to take. Why they change direction suddenly is not finally established.

However, they do follow the line of least ressistance and if you are in a high pressure system when a hurricane nears your area it will probably detour around you. A hurricane itself is a low pressure area.

ROBERT J. McQUIGGIN

Name Pontiac Bell Assistant Manager

Appointed assistant manager of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., Pontiac office is Robert J. McQuiggin. The announcement was made by Ray H. Storm, district manager.

The new assistant manager has been with Michigan Bell since 1953. His most recent assignment has been with the Detroit office.

McQuiggin will be in charge of residential sales and the service section here, which handles all service order work for telephone subscribers in the Pontiac area.

The appointee is married and the father of two daughters. He is a veteran of the Navy and Air Force and is a graduate of Michigan State University.

Twist of Fate Brings Death

DETROIT (AP)—But for a twist of fate, a young mother yesterday might have been able to prevent the death of her 2-year-old son.

The boy, Charles W. Bates, had run to an ice cream truck when he heard the tinkling bell and had waited in front of the vehicle for his mother to bring some money for ice cream.

The mother, 23-year-old Mrs. John Bates, also heard the bell and had started from her home in Taylor Township to buy the boy his daily treat.

Thinking she had forgotten the money, she turned back into the house. But she found some coins in her apron pocket.

"Just as I got back to the front door," she said, "I saw the driver start up and Chuckie standing in front of the truck. He hung onto the front bumper but then he dropped off. A front wheel ran over him."

The truck driver, Alfred Simms, 20, of Melvindale, told police his back was turned in order to serve another young customer and he did not see the boy. Simms was not held.

Mrs. Bates and her husband, John, 25, a maintenance machinist in the Ford Motor Co.'s Rouge Plant, have another child, Susan, 7 months old.

gosy magazine and headed by mystery writer Erle Stanley Gardner, interested itself in Wedler's story. Upon the "court's" intercession, Gov. C. William O'Neill agreed to give Sam Sheppard a lie detector test. Later the governor ruled the test out. Gardner and his colleagues waited in Columbus yesterday in hope O'Neill might reconsider., then left for New York, sorely disappointed.

After two hours, most of which was spent getting a life history, McArthur and Gerber were convinced Wedler's story was "a complete hoax." And Sheriff Thursby agreed he didn't "see how he could be connected with it."

After the interview McArthur said: "Now the case is closed as far as this man is concerned. We don't want to hear anything more from him or that guy that called the sheriff from some place in Iowa and said he was picked up by Wedler."

McArthur referred to Ernest James Kolofolias, 32, of Long Beach, Calif., who called Sheriff Thursby from Waterloo, Iowa. Kolofolias, a 5-foot-3 merchant seaman, saw Wedler's pictures and said "without a doubt that must be the fellow" who gave him a ride near the Sheppard home around July 4, 1954. He said the "nervous young man" had told him "he had just had a fight with a woman and then her husband."

Wedler, however, during questioning, said he gave nobody a ride.

Probably the most familiar of all opera's, Bizet's "Carmen," was first performed in Paris in 1875.

Faces Charge of Embezzling

Find $200,000 Gone From County Funds, Arrest Treasurer

CANNELTON, Ind. (INS)—Perry County Treasurer Earl C. Kieser, one of Cannelton's most respected citizens faced charges today of having embezzled $200,000 in county funds.

Kieser, 34, was arrested at his home yesterday and later released on $25,000 bond.

Sheriff Frank Mueller said the treasurer confessed he had been dipping into the county funds since 1952 and had put most of the money into his contracting business.

Kieser declared that he had planned to reimburse the treasury with profits from the private business venture.

The shortages were discovered two weeks ago after Irvin Werner, Perry County Auditor, issued some checks which were not paid.

Werner notified Thomas Hindman, Chief of the Indiana Board of Accountants, and the shortages were uncovered. Hindman commented:

"There is danger of a big blow up in Perry County since there is only $228 left in the treasury."

The accused official told authorities:

"I am really sorry for what I have done, but I was glad the anchor is off my back and broken now."

Margaret's Latest Plans to Resign His Commission

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret's latest favorite, about to be packed off on military assignment to Cyprus, was quoted today as saying he intends to resign his army commission.

Lord Patrick Beresford, 23, a lieutenant in the exclusive Royal Horse Guards, is slated to leave within two weeks on what the War Office announcement called a routine assignment.

The Daily Mail quoted the polo-playing nobleman as saying, "I intend to resign before the end of the year, so it is nonsense to say I will be going out to Cyprus."

Rumors circulated last week that engagement of Beresford and 26-year-old Margaret was imminent. Newspapers hinted Beresford's transfer was arranged to save the royal family embarrassment over the rumors.

Judge Boots Out Hoffa Booster, Leaves Quietly

WASHINGTON (AP)—When Midwest Teamsters leader James R. Hoffa was acquitted of conspiracy-bribery charges in Federal District Court here last week, a spectator arose in the audience and cried:

"God bless this judge and jury."

Yesterday, Judge Burnita S. Matthews spotted Joseph T. Touma in the courtroom and called him to the front of the room.

"Mr. Touma, you were present in this courtroom on Friday and you arose and made a statement out loud," she said. "You are fortunate in not being held in contempts. I want you to leave my courtroom."

Jury Lacks Accord in Johnny Dio Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—After night-long deliberation, an all-male jury reported this morning it was unable to agree on a verdict in the union labor shakedown case against racketeer Johnny Dio. The jury was sent to bed and told to return for further deliberation at 11 a. m. tomorrow.

General Sessions Court Judge John A. Mullen gave the jury the directive when it reported its failure to reach agreement at 8:30 a. m. The jury had been given the case at 7 o'clock last night.

Dio and two union officials had undergone a month-long trial on charges of conspiracy to extort $30,000 from two companies anxious to keep labor peace.

Dio also has been accused of engineering the acid-blinding attack on labor columnist Victor Riesel. His trial in the Riesel case has been delayed indefinitely by refusal of prosecution witnesses to testify.

State Police Probe Breakin at Golf Club

State Police of the Pontiac Post, are investigating the breaking and entering of the Twin Beach Golf Club, located in Oakley Park, Commerce Township sometime Monday night or Tuesday morning.

It was reported to state troopers yesterday that someone had broken into the main building, stealing a variety of golfing equipment valued at over $300.

Troopers said that the stolen equipment included golf bags, clubs, putters, a cart, and numerous golf balls.

HOWARD W. HUTTENLOCHER

Huttenlocher Named to United Fund Post

Clarkston resident Howard W. Huttenlocher has been named special gifts committee chairman of the Commercial Division in this fall's Pontiac Area United Fund drive.

He will direct the pre-campaign solicitation from business leaders, according to Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, campaign chairman.

A Pontiac area resident for the past 25 years, Huttenlocher has been active in United Fund work and is a member of the Rotary and Elks Clubs.

The special gifts division was reactivated last year after being dropped in 1955. Its success in 1956 under the chairmanship of H. Wayne Gabert promoted its continuation this year. Dr. Whitmer said.

Michigan to Promote Opportunities Exhibit

U.S. Defense Department representatives will be on hand to help promote a Business Opportunities Exhibit Oct. 8 to 10 at Port Huron, Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) announced yesterday.

In a letter to the County Board of Supervisors, Broomfield stated that "recent concern over the movement of industrial plants out of Michigan" prompted three other congressmen and himself to ask the Defense Department to participate in the exhibit.

Opportunities for bidding and contracting for more than 2,000,000 Defense Department items will be explained at the exhibit, according to Broomfield, ranging from small plastic and wood products to large ships and aircraft.

The total amount of Defense Department procurement during a year is more than $14 billion.

Adams' Resentment Cited by Lindsay

DETROIT (AP) — Ted Lindsay said today the "personal resentment" of General Manager Jack Adams of the Detroit Red Wings made it "impossible" for him to continue playing hockey in Detroit.

Lindsay, the key player in a six-man trade announced last night between the Wings and the Chicago Black Hawks, said at a press conference rumors and what he termed derogatory statements prompted his decision to accept the trade.

Walter Brennan, on a backwoods location for his ABC-TV show, "The Real McCoys," saw this sign in a fork in the road: "Be careful which rut you choose — you'll be in it for the next 40 miles" . . . Taffy Tuttle's a natural golfer — on each hole she gets only sevens and elevens. —Earl Wilson

But There's Still Hope

Trucker's 'Dream House' Now Hole in the Ground

DETROIT (AP)—Where his dream house once stood, truck driver John Korenic now has a hole in the ground.

He also has a mounting list of creditors.

The 35-year-old trucker's troubles started last month shortly after he borrowed $4,000 to buy a small white bungalow. After 15 years of marriage, he was happy at the thought of moving his wife and two children into a home of their own.

Before he moved, however, he decided to install a basement. He paid a contractor $600 down on the $2,550 job.

One day he and his wife Ann, 34, sat on the porch of their rented flat watching workmen put a basement under their bungalow across the alley. The house slipped its supporting jacks and crashed into the basement.

Next he received a note from the city informing him that his capsized bungalow constituted a hazard and would have to be removed. For $350 a wrecking crew hauled away Korenic's dream house, leaving only the basement excavation.

Then Korenic borrowed another $1,000 and bought a brick home, condemned for the route of a new expressway. For another $1,000 he contracted to have the house moved. He paid $500 for lifting utility wires on the route.

The moving date is next week, but now he has hit another snag.

His lot is 30 feet wide. The building code requires a house to be at least three feet from the lot line. The house's blueprints show it is 25 feet wide.

"The ordinance is specific," he said dismally. "The house is 12 inches too wide."

After listening sympathetically to Korenic, the suburban Hamtramck City Council last night said it would consider waiving the restriction if the neighbors don't object.

Korenic said the neighbor on one side appeared "a little reluctant" and the other wants to consult an attorney before committing himself.

"This seems to be the house that Jack didn't build," he said.

7 Segregationists to Appeal Verdict

They were William Brakebill, service station operator; Lawrence Brantley, unemployed; Alonzo Bullock, carpenter and itinerant preacher; Clyde Cook, farmer; W. H. Till, machinist; and Mrs. Mary Nell Currier, housewife—and John Kasper, segregationist organizer.

Kasper, 27, came into Clinton from Washington two days before the Negroes started to school late last August. The government charged that he was the "hub of the conspiracy" organized to force them out.

Four other Clinton people were found innocent.

The jurors who returned the verdict — which surprised the courtroom and many people out side it — were 10 men and two women, all of them white Tennesseans.

Kasper said his conviction will not change his plans.

"I am going to Nashville when the schools open there and they try to integrate them," he said. "I'm going to fight this out."

Defense lawyers, announcing that they will ask Judge Taylor for a new trial, were preparing briefs which must be submitted in 20 days. If Taylor denies it, they can appeal to the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati.

"We're going to fight this out to a finish," said Ross Barnett, former president of the Mississippi Bar.

Britain Delays Strikes Against Desert Tribes

LONDON (AP)—Britain held up air strikes against rebel tribesmen in the Persian Gulf Sultanate of Muscat and Oman today after expiration of an ultimatum for them to call off an uprising.

Reports to London papers from the desert domain said rocket-firing jets had opened offensive sorties against tribal mountain strongholds at dawn to assist Sultan Said bin Taimur.

But a Royal Air Force spokesman at Manama, Bahrein, said tonight no jet planes had taken off from Aden or elsewhere in the area.

There was no explanation of the delay in action.

VIENNA (AP) — Asian flu has reached Romania and spread to epidemic proportions, said the latest issue of the Romanian Communist party paper Scanteia, received here today.

The Day in Birmingham

Schone Okays Purchase of Property at Quarton

BIRMINGHAM — City Manager Harold K. Schone this week recommended the purchase of property known as Outlot B in Quarton Lake Estates. Schone's report showed the property had been offered to the city at one time for $12,500.

He said the current asking price is $20,000. After considerable discussion, commissioners determined the assessment to be $3,000 and on that based their offer of $9,500 for negotiation purposes.

It was pointed out that while the property might be made usable for dwellings, it would be an exceptionally high expense to put it in first-class condition. Schone said that in addition to the lowness and general wetness, the property contains several fallen trees and others that are dead or dying and represent an extensive clean-up job before anything can be done.

While no definite statement was made as to city usage, it was suggested that at some future date it might become an area suitable for the development of a nature study section.

A new twist in traffic problems took place in Birmingham yesterday when a house being moved from Worth street to Webster avenue got stuck. In making the turn from Adams road to Webster, the house damaged a traffic sign at the intersection and itself was damaged when sections of the siding were torn off.

Practically the entire afternoon was spent by the house moving crew of Pariseau Brothers of Hazel Park in getting the house only the matter of a few feet down the street.

City officials have approved purchase of a water billing machine from the National Cash Register Corp. The company has given a quotation of $3,365 and an allowance of $200 on the old machine.

Pontiac Trooper Gets His Man in Hectic Chase

A State Policeman from the Pontiac Post finally got his man this morning, but it took a wild 100-mile-an-hour, 15-minute chase from the outskirts of Pontiac to Warren Township, in Macomb County.

Trooper Richard F. Gordenier said he first saw the car, driven by Stephen Stanislaw, 50, of 28409 Everett St., Royal Oak, heading east on Square Lake Rd., Bloomfield Township.

"Stanislaw appeared to be traveling at excessive speeds, so I turned and followed him," said Gordenier. "He turned south on U.S.-10 and then began trying to outrun me at speeds sometimes hitting 100 miles an hour."

Stanislaw cut from one lane to another and up onto the center island many times, in an effort to pass cars, it was reported.

Once, he hit a small tree on the island, bounced back sideswiping a southbound car, and continued on, dragging the tree with him.

Several police departments — including Madison Heights, Royal Oak, Birmingham and Clawson — had been notified and were attempting to cut Stanislaw off.

Stanislaw finally pulled over on 12 Mile Road and ended the chase.

He refused to talk to anyone, said Gordenier, and was booked at the Oakland County Jail on charges of reckless driving and leaving the scene of a property damage accident.

Judge Asks Relief at Children's Home

which may soon be vacated by Pontiac General Hospital, should be assigned for the care and education of children, he said. This would provide 11 classrooms which are needed by the Home.

If the building cannot be made available soon, he advocated the prompt construction of a new school building including an all-purpose room with adequate group recreational facilities.

Prior to Judge Moore's appeal, the Board of Supervisors asked its Ways and Means Committee to explore the possibility of building two cottage-type units and to employ an architect to draw up plans. This move was endorsed by Judge Moore following the meeting.

He also called for the construction as soon as possible of additional cottages to meet the growth of the county.

After his speech, Judge Moore asked the board to go on record as approving the report "in substance" and to authorize the recommendations contained in it when approved in detail by the committees of the board.

However, the board postponed consideration of the report until the next meeting.

Commenting on this action, Judge Moore said, "I felt that the Board of Supervisors could have approved the general substance of the report. What I was trying to do was to point out the serious needs of the Children's Home.

"They have now set the wheels in motion to give us two cottages which we need desperately."

But much more still needs to be done, he said.

Pickle Picking Problem Promised Plenty Probing

EAST LANSING (AP) — Professors, pretty perturbed, have promised to probe for practical progress in the problem of picking a peck of pickles.

Toward this end, Michigan State University has received a $12,000 grant from the cucumber industry for basic research on a mechanical cucumber harvester.

Cucumber growers are finding it increasingly difficult to hire hand labor for the harvesting of cucumbers for pickling, MSU agricultural engineers explained.

Two Girls Plead Guilty to Post Office Robbery

Two Royal Oak teenage girls have pleaded guilty to a charge of violating U.S. postal laws, U.S. Asst. District Attorney Donald S. Welday Jr. said in Detroit today.

LaVerne Friberg, 17, of 502 S. Campbell, and Carol Frazier, 18, of 703 E. Lincoln St., are charged with breaking into a Lakeville post office and stealing $120 on the night of June 15.

Both are free on $1,000 personal bonds. Date for sentencing has not been set.

Discarded Check Leads to Arrest

A thrown-away check led to the arrest of a suspected bad check passer who was being sought in Pontiac.

Gawne is accused of passing a bad check for $76.24 in Pontiac on July 8 using the name of a Lincoln Park resident.

Lincoln Park police allege also he passed a bad check there. He was arrested there when he signed his true name to a check and then threw it away. A passerby found the check and turned it over to the Lincoln Park police.

Gawne is also sought for allegedly passing $1,500 in phony checks in Bay City, and another $1,500 in Flint and Saginaw, all within the past month.

He may be turned over to Bay City for prosecution.

Henry Stands Mute on Assault Charge

Appearing before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum yesterday on charges of assault and battery, Pontiac attorney Milton R. Henry, 38, of 34 Crawford St., stood mute.

A plea of not guilty was entered for him by Judge McCallum, and he was released on personal bond, pending trial August 8.

Henry was arrested after he allegedly attacked Patrolman Clarence Smith in the alley behind the Oakland County Court House, after Smith had ticketed his car for being illegally parked, and was about to have it towed away.

Smith was treated for facial cuts and bruises at Pontiac General Hospital, and released. Capt. Joseph Koren of the traffic bureau said today that Henry owes approximately $65 on 18 parking violations issued over the last three years.

Two Injured Slightly in Headon Collision

A headon collision on Fisk road, in White Lake Township, Tuesday afternoon sent two persons to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with minor injuries.

Drivers James G. Morten, 23, of 228 S. Anderson St., and Bale O. Howland, 58, of 1711 Fisk Rd., were treated and released.

While in Foreign Ports

Sailors Leaning to Innocent Dates

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Old salts may blush and gulp, but the truth must be told: young sailors visiting foreign ports today seem to lean toward innocent dates, guided tours and souvenir hunts.

This is not to say that there's not some hell-raising and chasing after the bolder type of woman. There is. But the shore patrol has a lot more time on its hands than it did twenty years ago.

The change in sailors' habits was apparent when a U. S. Naval task group sailed into Rio De Janeiro and Santos in July for a 10-day stay. Eleven of the ships with about eight thousand men docked in Rio. The others continued to Santos.

Among the personnel were groups of midshipmen from the Navy Academy at Annapolis and from the Navy Reserve Officer Training Corps (NROTC).

GOOD SOUVENIRS

"There are a lot of tours and I'm picking up some good souvenirs. What I like about Rio is that the people are nice and you get a chance to mingle. There's a lot of good will."

Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Phillips of Battle Creek, sipped his coffee at a lounge in the U. S. Embassy. Teenage girls from the American school served the coffee and tea as matronly women bustled busily about offering tips on Rio's refinements. Phillips, a husky, soft-spoken lad, brushed back his dark hair.

"Tomorrow, for instance," he said, "I'll be able to take a trip to Sugar Loaf Mountain or maybe to Corc, how do you prononce it? That's right, Corcovado Mountain, to see the big statue of Christ. There's also a tour to a nearby town named Petropolis, but it costs a little too much for me."

There's another side of Rio's life for those who think they have some sort of rough and tough tradition to uphold. But, surprisingly, even the most popular dives have numerous vacant tables despite the fact two thousand Navy men invade Rio at a single time.

Perhaps much of the credit for this attitude, at least in Rio, goes to the women's club. About 700 women donated their time. They arranged small parties and just about every one of the ladies invited some sailors for family dinners.

Telephone nuumbers of young ladies for "proper dating" were made available and the sailors usually met their dates at the swimming pool of one of the best hotels in Rio.

GIRLS' CHAPERONED

At one point, a party was organized at the American Club. Sixty girls — most Brazilians who were well chaperoned — attended.

On the first night in port, two midshipmen were driven to the navy yard gate by two young girls in a shiny, new car. The midshipmen and the girls talked and laughed politely for a few minutes. Then they shook hands and the girls drove away after inviting the young men to dine with the girls' families.

The two sailors walked toward the gate. One slapped the other on the back and said:

"Oh boy, I guess we hit the jackpot."

French Theater Star Guitry Dies at 73

PARIS (AP)—Sacha Guitry, one of the great names of the French theater who wrote, produced and acted in more than 100 plays and movies, died today. He was 73.

A performer to the end, he was heard to mumble before death came, "I must not miss my cue."

Born in Russia of French parents, Guitry was a prodigy who performed before Czar Alexander III when he was 5 and went on to become a French national idol. But he became the target of bitter criticism in World War II when he stayed in France and performed before applauding members of the German Wehrmacht. After France's liberation, he was interned for two months, then was cleared of collaboration charges and released.

Man Given $20,000 Fine, Probation on Tax Charge

OAK PARK — A manufacturer of airplane parts here yesterday was fined $20,000 and placed on five years probation after pleading guilty to an income tax violation charge.

The manufacturer, George N. Atkinson Jr., pleaded guilty last April, admitting liabilities of more than $145,000 for the years 1950 through 1953.

U. S. District Judge Theodore Levin in Detroit imposed the sentence.

In addition, Atkinson faces a civil suit by the government which seeks to collect $218,344 in unpaid taxes, interest and penalties.

Sisters, 15 and 24, End Marriages With Same Plan

Grace Dorothy Newberry, 15, won an annulment.

Amelia Annamae Newberry, 24, got a divorce.

The sisters told Judge Beryl Johnson the mixup started when Grace Dorothy and her mother came to Topeka to visit Amelia Annamae and her husband Ira Lee.

Grace Dorothy and Ira Lee sneaked away to Lawrence, Kan., July 13 and were married by a minister. Amelia Annamae objected when she found out about it. Grace Dorothy met the objection by pointing out her sister and Ira Lee hadn't had a legal ceremony.

Judge Johnson invalidated the second marriage on the ground Grace Dorothy lied about her age when she and Morris got their license. He found Amelia Annamae was legally married to Morris under the Kansas common law statute but had grounds for divorce.

Morris is a 40-year-old lathe operator at Forbes Air Force Base on the outskirts of Topeka and has been married six times. He sat in the back of the courtroom and didn't say a word.

Area Air Force Man Takes English Bride

LAPEER — Mr. and Mrs. Clifford E. Welt, 231 E. Oregon St. are announcing the marriage of their son Airman 2.C. Dale E. Welt to Doreen Hammond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Hammond of Horondon-on-the-Hill, Essex, England on June 1.

The marriage was solemnized in the Episcopal Church there, followed by a reception honoring the couple. Welt is stationed with the Air Force in England.

Rochester Boy Hurt in Accident at Home

ROCHESTER — Daniel L. Snyder, five-year-old son of Lloyd and Laura Snyder, 145 Romeo St. was reported in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital this morning after an accident at his home yesterday.

Policeman Bob Worth reports that playmates released the brake of a car, while playing in it. As the vehicle rolled back, the boy was pinned between it and another automobile.

Tourists to See Wild West Scene at Pony Auction

CHINCOTEAGUE, Va. (UP)—Thousands of tourists lined the streets and shore here today to watch a wild West scene recreated on this Atlantic Ocean island.

Cowboys-for-a-day, wearing hip boots, will herd some 200 of Assateague's wild and shaggy ponies across the 2,000-yard water separation between the two islands.

Tomorrow the ponies will be auctioned off at the Firemen's Carnival. Those not sold will be returned to Assateague and another year of freedom.

Origin of the ponies—in reality horses stunted after generations of grazing on windswept grasses and brush—is clouded with uncertainty.

Some say they are descendants of horses carried aboard a Spanish ship which went aground centuries ago. Others say they come from horses turned loose or escaped during colonial times.

Pickets of Union Leave Finances in 'Safe' Place

DETROIT (UP) — It was bad enough when four office workers at Iron Workers Local 25 went on strike and began picketing the union headquarters.

But the four girls, members of another AFL-CIO union, locked the office safe before they walked out.

Warren Speaks to ABA Meeting

Mayflower Pact Still Core of U.S.'s Creed, British Hosts Told

LONDON (UP) — The American Bar Assn. opened a week's meeting in London today with Chief Justice Earl Warren telling the British hosts that the Pilgrims' Mayflower Compact is "still the core of the American's creed."

British jurists took part in the opening ceremony with 3,000 American lawyers in historic Westminister Hall, for centuries the seat of the chief law court of England. The bar association's annual convention is being held in two parts this year, in New York earlier this month and now in London.

In his speech prepared for delivery at the opening session, the U.S. chief justice said the Mayflower Pilgrims "covenanted to combine themselves together into 'a civil body politic, for (their) better ordering and preservation' to enact 'such just and equal laws. . . from time to time, as shall be thought most meet . . . the general good of the colony.'

". . . We, in all parts of America, have tried to keep the faith with that compact. And except for the deviations occasioned by the frailty of human nature and the fallibility of the human mind, we have pursed a steady course to this day.

"It is still the core of the American's creed and our concept of 'government of the people, by the people, for the people."

In another address prepared for the opening program, U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. called for development of a system of international law to "bind the world into solemn voluntary pacts governing their great interests of the world scene, in contrast to unilateral exploitations by the mighty."

Child Starts Fire in Waterford Home

Two-year-old Sharon Geliske, of 4525 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township, turned on the switch of an electric stove yesterday, setting fire to paper on the stove and the entire kitchen.

Her mother, Mrs. Max Geliske, in the living room at the time, heard fire crackling in the kitchen and saw smoke pouring from the area.

After picking up the baby, she ran to a neighbor's house to call Waterford Township firemen, who extinguished the flames.

Captain Clayton Soncrainte estimated the damage at $250. Mrs. Geliske said the house and contents were covered by insurance.

Israel-Bound Ship Clears Suez Canal

JERUSALEM (UP) — The Danish freighter Birgitte Toft, en route to Israel with a cargo of Burmese rice, radioed early today she had cleared the Suez Canal and expected to reach Haifa by nightfall.

Egyptian officials said they had arrested Eylon, a crewman on the ship, at the southern end of the canal because he was taking photographs of the waterway and his behavior was "suspicious." They said the case was under investigation.

Israel awaited a reply from U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and the Security Council to her appeal for action in the Eylon case. The U.N. gave no public indication of what action it might take.

Message From the Past

Museum Finds Articles Hidden in Bison Exhibit

WASHINGTON (AP) — From beneath a bison's hoof at the Smithsonian Institution has come a message from the past.

Henry Setzer, curator of mammals, found in the box two copies of Cosmopolitan magazine for 1887. They contained an account by William T. Hornaday on "The Passing of the Bufufalo."

Hornaday was chief taxidermist for the Smithsonian National Museum in the 1880s. At the top of one article he had written a note addressed to "my illustrious successor."

The note read: "Dear sir, enclosed please find a brief and truthful account of the capture of the specimens which compose this group. The old bull, the young cow and the yearling calf were killed by yours truly.

"When I am dust and ashes I beg you to protect these specimens from deterioration and destruction. Of course they are crude productions in comparison with what you produce, but you remember that at this time (A.D. 1888, March 7) the American School of Taxidermy has only just been recognized. Therefore give the devil his due, and revile not.

W. T. Hornaday."

Hornaday became the first director of the Bronx Zoo in New York in 1896. He died in 1937.

The Smithsonian said it will save Hornaday's bison and set them up in a new exhibit.

Herbert Hoover Pleads for Federal Economy

At the meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors in San Francisco, former President Herbert C. Hoover presented a strong plea for greater Federal economy.

HOOVER

Mr. Hoover received a tremendous greeting from the group of newspaper executives who were assembled from all sections of the United States. He was given a rising ovation when he was introduced. This is befitting a former President. But when he concluded the spontaneous and vociferous applause was an open expression of the editors' approval.

This wasn't perfunctory.

It was from the heart.

The current problem in Mr. Hoover's trained and observant eyes lies in "excessive Federal spending, uncontrolled Federal debt, oppressive and demoralizing taxation."

Those are strong words.

They are sharply critical.

The former President was named as the chairman of two commissions to figure out legislative measures to rectify the current errors. Senator Kennedy of Massachusetts, Senator Byrd of Virginia and Senator Payne of Maine have prepared such a bill and the Senate has already given approval. This would restore Congressional control of outgoing moneys.

The executive branch has charge of large unexpended sums which revert to it instead of Congress. This can be used at will and currently amounts to about as much as one year's budget.

Congress once forfeited control of the Federal purse. Former President Hoover wants this corrected. If we interpret the approval of the nation's editors correctly, they do, too. It becomes more and more apparent in the United States that the people are very tax conscious and are determined to reverse the current trend of bigger budgets, more cost and greater demands on them.

The editors are probably closer to the people than the Administration.

Fighting Air Pollution

Attention is called by two recent news articles to the increasing efforts being made to reduce air pollution in the larger centers of population.

One is from Midland, Michigan, where the home offices and original plants of the Dow Chemical Company are located. The other comes from Los Angeles, California, where the residents for years have suffered from smog.

The Dow Company announces that it plans to spend two million dollars to end air pollution from its Midland plants. It already has been spending large sums to reduce water pollution there.

Los Angeles reports that great progress has been made in that city's campaign to reduce air pollution. The city has worked with the industries there to reduce the pollution from factory smokestacks. It has gradually extended an area-wide rubbish and waste collection service. This is eliminating the individual incinerators formerly maintained by residents in many of the suburban communities. As a result, complaints of smog have become much less frequent.

Los Angeles' problem is greatly aggravated because the city lies in a great valley, surrounded by hills and mountains. Fog frequently sweeps in from the Pacific Ocean. It holds down smoke and other particles of refuse in the air, sometimes for days at a time.

St. Louis and Pittsburgh are two other cities which have made great strides in their efforts to maintain purer air for their residents. Such campaigns may well prove to be factors in the many recent campaigns which have begun to revitalize downtown shopping areas.

Pure air means a cleaner, more attractive area. This is of added importance when it is remembered that women form the big majority of today's shoppers.

Modern urban life with its huge industries, its heavy motor and train traffic, is being forced to face up to the dangers of air pollution. The success these pioneer cities are attaining should encourage others to do likewise.

David Lawrence Says:

Clinton Proves Need for Jury Trial

WASHINGTON — On the surface it looks as if a Southern jury of white persons did convict seven white persons for failing to obey a Federal Court injunction against interference with integration in a public school at Clinton, Tenn.

This is being hailed in Congress as a vindication of the right of trial by jury. But actually the case isn't as simple as it appears.

For the defendants at Clinton were really not entitled by law to a trial by jury and got that privilege only after a lot of pressure from public opinion throughout the country.

The truth is the Department of Justice did its utmost to prevent a trial by jury and used precisely the same tactics as are now proposed in the pending "civil rights" legislation. It sought to change the docket in the case from one filed by private individuals to one in which the "United States" would be a party.

LAWRENCE

Under existing law, of course, any contempt case in which the United States government is a party automatically takes away the right to trial by jury. To resort to the device of a change from private persons to the "United States" as a party is like changing the rules in the middle of any game.

JUDGE WAS ON THE SPOT

The judge in the case was on the spot. The Department of Justice was on the spot, too. Public criticism was mounting. The judge finally devised his own solution. He decided not to grant the request of the Department of Justice to change the docketing in the case. This removed the barrier against jury trial, and the case was tried in the names of the parties who originally filed it and a jury was then empanelled.

Some interesting comments came from the judge during preliminary arguments. In the May 2 proceedings, Mr. Dobbs, an attorney for one of the defendants, was arguing before the judge that the injunction was "too broad" and that it "enjoined everyone from everything."

"Well, of course," replied Judge Taylor, "you are entitled to your interpretation, and I am not saying that you are wrong in any respect. You are entitled to your views about it, but I want to say to you that in that injunction it was not the intention of the court to enjoin everybody and everything; it was the intention of the court to enjoin the persons that were named from interfering, hindering, or impeding the carrying out of this order which was granted, I believe, on January 4, 1956.

"If the language used was construed that way by you, Mr. Dobbs, and by others, then it was an unfortunate choice of language by the court. In other words, when these matters are presented, the court is required to act. That was the language of the court. The court didn't have the time to spend a month, like you do on a brief, putting every sentence and exactly every word just where it ought to be . .."

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT LOSES

Yet, out of the original 17 persons arrested and named as defendants in this case, six were released before the trial and four more after the jury acquitted them. Here were 10 law-abiding citizens hastily hauled before a judge for allegedly disobeying an injunction.

They were not indicted by any grand jury. Their reputations were besmirched. They were led from their homes, handcuffed, and thrown into jail — all for allegedly violating a court injunction. If the Department of Justice had had its way, when it sought to change the docket in the case, there would not have been any jury trial.

In the cases which would be brought under the injunction power by the pending "civil rights" legislation, the "United States" would be party to the suits from the beginning.

Hence, unless Congress actually inserts the requirement that a jury trial be given to those who are charged with acts committed or words spoken outside the courtroom, there will be no jury trial such as was granted by an accidental turn of events to the defendants at Clinton, Tenn.

The case now goes up on appeal through the higher courts, and eventually the Supreme Court will have to decide whether those defendants who stand convicted today given the same benefits so generously bestowed on members of the Communist Party.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Names More Harmful Than Sticks, Stones

"Sticks and stones will break your bones, but names can never hurt you," we used to chant derisively at our playmates. But the names did hurt some of us—and and some of us carried the hurt into adulthood!

DR. BRADY

By this time, parents, if not playmates, ought to know better than to call their children anything but pleasant, loving names. No little guy must ever be told that he is bad, or naughty, or dumb or silly.

He can certainly be informed that what he did was bad, what he said was naughty. But he remains a good person. He has to be sure of his inner goodness. He has to know that his parents love him with a constant and unswerving love, no matter what he does or says.

A child who is told repeatedly that he is bad or dumb, will come to think of himself as just that. He will believe, finally that it must be true, since they say it so often. Isn't this the basis of successful advertising?

MAY BELIEVE IT FOREVER

He may go on believing it for the rest of his days. And of course, since he is bad, he lives up to his appointed role, plays bad games, thinks bad thoughts, seeks bad playmates.

Naturally he feels mother and father don't really love him; nobody loves a bad person. But he can get all kinds of attention and take up hours of their time so long as he finds bad things to do. For he has to have attention, and if he can't get loving attention he'll settle for just attention—even if it's on the back of the lap.

Do your youngsters get as much of your time and attention for their routine good behavior as they get for the occasional bad spot? They need it.

Does one of your children perchance wet the bed? If so send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet on the Bed-Wetting Habit.

One of the finest things parents can do is treat the habit with patience and kindness. I think of this whenever I hear some blankety-blank sub-human complain to me that his child persists in wetting the bed despite many whippings.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Statehood Opponent Says Hawaii, Alaska Not Ready

I am absolutely opposed to statehood for either Alaska or Hawaii and I get aroused when I read stories from Washington that indicate the Senate Interior Committee will vote out a bill providing admission for both territories.

They seem to expect a favorable vote next year. Everyone that is interested should write his Congressman. Neither place is prepared to help solve our national problems. It will be another 20 years before they can qualify.

By JAMES J. METCALFE

As long as I remember, love . . . My heart has been your own . . . And to this very day I still . . . Belong to you alone . . . How could I care for someone else . . . In all the wide world blue . . . When there is really nobody . . . To quite compare with you? . . . Nobody else could have your charm . . . Or your inviting smile . . . And no one else could do so much . . . To make this life worth while . . . I loved you many years ago . . . And in the time between . . . The vision of your countless charms . . . Has never left the scene . . . Oh, let me take you in my arms . . . And hold you close to me . . . And blend today and every day . . . With our sweet memory.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Because I will publish the name of the Lord: ascribe ye greatness unto our God. —Deut. 32:3.

Is there any other seat of the Divinity than the earth, sea, air, the heavens, and virtuous minds? Why do we seek God elsewhere? He is wherever you see; He is wherever you move.

—Marcus Lucan

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Earned Love Is Safer in Long Run

Charlotte wonders if this second romance can ever materialize, for her former fiance was killed in an airplane crash. Be sure you understand the difference between love at first sight and "earned" love. The latter is much safer and leads to fewer divorces.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, when I was in college, I fell madly in love. But my sweetheart was killed in an airplane crash.

"For a time I felt as if I could not even go on living, but gradually I got reasonably adjusted.

DR. CRANE

"In fact, for the past few months I have started going to dances and have been dating several boys.

"Six weeks ago I went on a blind date and met the athletic coach at a high school in the neighboring village.

"He has dated me several times since then. He isn't handsome and I don't feel any strong magnetic attraction to him the way I did for my fiance who died in the plane crash.

"But he tells me he loves me and wants me to marry him. So do you think I could ever learn to love him?"

EARNED LOVE

Yes, there are two types of love. One develops at first sight, but that is more hazardous than the "earned" love which arises from casual acquaintance which later turns to steady dating.

Many love at first sight romances become very happy. But there is always a greater danger in such romances, since at least one of the victims becomes madly infatuated without first getting well acquainted with the other.

If you thus fall in love at first sight with a wonderful person, as in a church gathering, then your romance may remain permanently happy.

On the contrary, if you are hypnotized by such sudden romance with a person very unsuited to you, then it may require years before this fatal fascination may be shattered.

'FIRST SIGHT' LOVE

Technically, there would be no love at first sight, except for the fact that the stranger possesses some resemblance to previous loved relatives or friends.

Maybe the stranger's nose or voice or mannerism vaguely reminds you of a favorite cousin or uncle or aunt, mother or father, or other relative who actually earned your affection during childhood.

You thus have a figuratively erotic "bank account" stored up in your memory with reference to the beloved relative.

Later, a stranger figuratively steals the bank book of that favorite relative by some minor resemblance and then you suddenly shower upon that stranger all the pent-up love that was deposited in the name of your favorite relative.

The stranger thus serves as a trigger to set off a torrent of wild emotions that makes you infatuated.

"I never had seen her before, yet I fell in love with her the moment she smiled at me," said Frank, whom we described earlier this week.

That "smile" was probably a duplicate of his mother's, and he didn't realize it, so the strange Rita hit the jackpot and Frank showered upon her all the earned affection that his mother had been accumulating for 24 years.

EARNED LOVE SAFER

So, in the final analysis, even love at first sight is a case of "earned" love, except that the person who actually earned that love is not the one who now gets its full benefit.

In Charlotte's situation you see the usual case of earned love where the athletic coach is dating her regularly and building up good will in her eyes.

Charlotte says she doesn't love him, but a continuation of this happy arrangement may change her mind. See tomorrow's follow-up.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Biggest Non-Military Colony Abroad

40,000 Americans Riding Prosperity Wave in Venezuela

CARACAS (AP)—Forty thousand Americans are riding a wave of prosperity in Venezuela.

They constitute the biggest colony abroad of Americans not connected with the U. S. armed services.

They work for U. S. oil and industrial concerns that have invested more than three billion dollars in Venezuela.

Millions more seem to be added almost every day, for there seems no end to the natural riches in this country on the northern coast of South America.

The government's income—running well over $1,300,000,000 annually—comes mostly from oil wells drilled into Lake Maracaibo.

Oil alone accounts for more than 73 per cent of the nation's revenue—and more than half of it is spent on public works programs that have made part of Caracas look like the canyons of New York City.

With its income from oil, the national treasury has nearly a 500-million-dollar surplus, and it's steadily climbing. So Venezuelans keep busy day and night dreaming up projects on which huge sums can be spent.

They have just completed construction of the nine-million-dollar "Circulo Militar"—military center—on the broad Avenida de los Proceres in the heart of the city.

It contains a glittering, marble-floored, gold ornamented, four-story, glass-enclosed dance hall with modernistic stairways. There are a swank hotel, swimming pools, clubs, and every conceivable recreational facility to keep army officers happy.

Venezuelans, too, are building a 300 to 400-room luxury hotel near the port of La Guaira, about 20 minutes down the six-lane superhighway from Caracas to the sea. It's going to cost a mere 30 millions.

Americans find upon arrival that the costs of living are as much as 50 per cent higher than anywhere in the United States. A cheap shirt costs $10, a head of lettuce $1, and cigarettes 67 cents.

That doesn't seem to frighten anybody. Americans who work for the big oil development an industrial firms get cost of living allowances and good salaries.

They also find that the cost of living is partly offset by low income taxes. It is rare that an American will pay more than three or four per cent of his salary in Venezuelan taxes.

Most Venezuelan laborers get from $4 to $6 a day, and top office workers earn $500 a month. They sometimes find it hard to make ends meet, but most of them appear well-fed and clothed.

Americans find it pleasant living, particularly in Caracas, which lies in the mountains 3,000 feet up. Most pay from $200, $500 a month for a modernistic apartment or home. They trade in supermarkets and smart shops of every description. They have their own schools, clubs, churches, and English language daily newspaper.

There are golf, tennis, horse racing, football and baseball stadiums.

There is probably less "anti-Yanqui" sentiment here than in any other Latin American country.

One answer seems to be is that Americans generally have pursued a high standard of conduct, and have readily taken to full cooperation with the Venezuelans in social, cultural, industrial and commercial activities.

Property Crimes Rise

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Police Superintendent William A. Johnson said property crimes in Grand Rapids are "increasing at an alarming rate." Reporting for the six months of this year ending June 30, Johnson said robberies were up 63 per cent over the 1956 period. He said the total of 36 robberies reported for the period was an increase of 14 over last year.

Commissioners to Meet

LUDINGTON (AP) — The Michigan Assn. of County Drain Commissioners will hold its annual convention in Ludington Thursday through Saturday.

To Award Doctor Degree to Eddie Rickenbacker

COLUMBUS, Ohio (INS) — Eddie Rickenbacker, 66-year-old aviation executive whose formal schooling ended in the seventh grade, returns to Columbus next month to receive the highest honor that Ohio State University can bestow.

The board chairman of Eastern Airlines will be awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of Science at the summer quarter commencement Aug. 30. This will be his 14th honorary degree.

Hal Boyle Says:

She Ghostwrites for Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street, famous for its bulls and bears, also has a lady ghost writer.

She is Miss Julia A. Wilson, a onetime Southern belle with blue-gray eyes who at 50 has become one of the nation's top specialists in writing financial literature.

The titans of the financial world, expert in the art of investing of money, sometimes find it difficult to express their facts and figures in the king's English.

In their hour of need they often turn to Miss Wilson, a past master at writing corporate reports, company histories, sales brochures and manuals, and stock prospectuses. She has the knack of making obscure financial terms understandable to the public.

"There's no mystery about it," she said smiling. "I simply use language that even men can understand."

"Behind her present skill with words, however, lie 25 years of hard study of economics and business prose. She was moved also by a challenging remark once made by her father:

"No subject is dull—you are dull for not finding something interesting in it."

After graduate study in economics at Columbia University, she became a securities analyst for a Wall Street firm. Later she became a researcher for Time Magazine, then became a copy writer for an advertising firm specializing in travel accounts.

In 1944 she decided to specialize in investment writing, and became one of the first women to enter the field. Today her clients include some of the top investment firms, and she is currently engaged in writing a definitive study for the National Assn. of Investment Companies.

One reason for the easy-to-read quality of her financial studies is the fact she usually writes them four times.

"I dictate the first draft," she said, "then go over it three more times before I am satisfied with it."

Using her upper East Side apartment as an office, she usually is at the desk in her study (its walls are lined with heavy financial tomes) by 7:30 a.m., and she works right through until 5 or 6 o'clock in the afternoon. Many writers think 800 words a day is a fair output. Under deadline pressure Miss Wilson sometimes turns out 5,000.

But she hasn't let work turn her into a dull girl. She likes to dance, go to the opera, and recently learned to play the piano. She takes three months off each year to travel, and last year visited Moscow.

"I have no patience with people who let themselves become bored with life," she said. "The only people who are happy are the people who are busy."

One of the penalties of her unusual specialty is the fact so many persons she meets ask her how they can get rich on Wall Street.

"One of my ambitions when I first started out was to find what made the stock market go up and down," she said. "It took me a long time to decide there were too many unknown factors.

"I don't believe much in stock market tips, and if I got what I thought was a really good one, I rather doubt if I'd pass it on. After all I'm an investment writer, not an investment counselor.

"I put my own savings into investment firms, and let them worry about the decisions. And I've done quite well.

"I learned long ago my own defects as an investor. I would buy a stock, but if it went up I wanted to hold on to it—and if it went down, I was too stubborn to let go of it."

Civilian labor force of the United States increased by 13.9 per cent in the period from 1939 to 1951.

Meet to Work on States Rights

Ike's Aides, Governors to Consider Proposals Made by President

CHICAGO (AP)—A meeting of governors and aides to President Eisenhower to consider how states may take over some services now performed by the federal government will be held next month.

The joint Federal State Action Committee's meeting is slated for Hershey, Pa., Aug. 9-10. The group is the outgrowth of a suggestion by Eisenhower in a speech at the annual Governor's Conference in Williamsburg, Va., last month.

Members of the federal committee have been named by Eisenhower and Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois, the conference chairman, has appointed a committee of governors.

Named to the federal committee by the President were Robert Anderson, secretary-designate of the Treasury, chairman; Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell; Marion B. Folsom, secretary of health, education and welfare; Percival Brundage, director of the budget, and presidential assistants Howard Pyle, Meyer Kestnbaum, and Maj. Gen. John S. Bragdon.

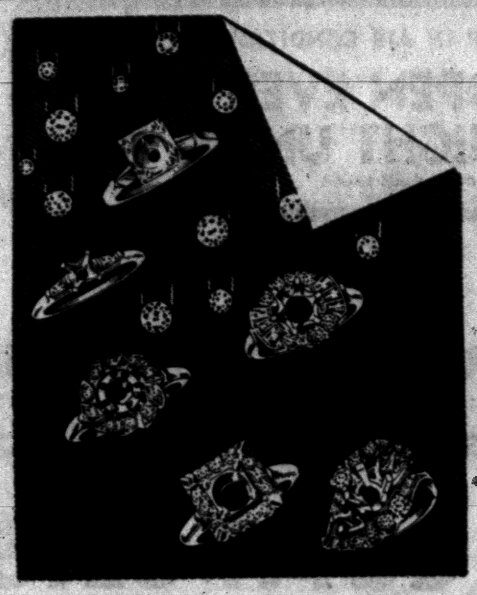

In his speech Eisenhower asked state leaders to join with the federal administration in setting up "a task force for action" which would have these objectives:

Designate functions that the states are ready and willing to assume and finance that are now performed or financed wholly or in part by the federal government; to recommend the federal and state revenue adjustments required to enable the states to assume such functions; identify functions and responsibilities likely to require state or federal attention in the future, and to recommend the level of state effort or federal effort, or both, that will be needed to assure effective action.

The only coast to coast railway line in South America at present is the route from Buenos Aires, Argentina, to Valparaiso in Chile.

Lake Superior, western-most of the five Great Lakes, is the largest fresh water lake in the world. It is 31,820 square miles in area.

CATS

QUESTION: What makes a cat's whisker's so special?

ANSWER: When people use the slang phrase "the cat's whiskers," they usually are speaking of something they think is pretty good or important.

Cat's whiskers are indeed important—to a cat. Without its whiskers, which are a number of stiff hairs standing out around its mouth, a cat would not be able to get along nearly as well as it does. That's because a cat cannot see as well at night as it is supposed to. So it uses its whiskers like feelers to let it know when it is through too narrow an opening or getting too near some object.

Money's Yours for Answering Pot-O-Gold

More and more entries are coming closer and closer to the right solution, so if you want to get in on the $1,800 this week's Pot-O-Gold is worth, you'd better do it now. Even if there's a winner for last week's puzzle, the prize for this one will be $100, so what have you to lose?

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

S. The opinions of a strong-minded boss are likely to be ——— throughout his firm. (37) PERVASIVE; (38) PERSUASIVE.

T. A do-it-yourselfer would probably replace a broken ——— window himself. (39) BASEMENT; (40) CASEMENT.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. Entries must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an enury the contestant must print his answers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securly to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 60 must bear a Tuesday, July 30 postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Columnist Can't Forget His Soft, Troubled Face

Confession Recalls Dr. Sam's Ordeal

BY PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Down in Deland, Fla., the countryside is green and clean, but the air has been muddy. Another man has "confessed" to the frenzied fatal bludgeoning of Marilyn Sheppard, and amateur and professional murder-solvers are up in the murk again.

In Ohio Penitentiary, No. 98860 — in better days known as Dr. Samuel Sheppard — is going through one more in a long series of spasms of suspense.

Whether he's guilty as the jury decided, or not guilty, as many hobbyist sleuths persist in hoping, he must be prescribing for himself artificial sleep-inducers.

As one of the less-than-privileged few whose professional life has led to direct contact with the Sheppard case, I must admit to a certain sleeplessness, too, reminiscing.

It was a hot August night nearly three years ago in Ohio when they picked up Dr. Sam and charged him with the murder of his wife. My first reaction, seeing him damp under a white sweatshirt and bewildered and silent, was one of sympathy.

FRIENDS OF HIS

The county police in Bay Village (near Cleveland) who led him, handcuffed, into the courthouse were friends of his, and the osteopath tried to smile at them. It wasn't much good.

He had a chubby, soft face and two barely perceptible chins above the stiff white neck brace he had worn (in public, anyway) since the early a.m. of July 4 when he claimed a bushy-haired intruder beat his wife to death and then slugged him unconscious.

He squinted miserably into the flashbulbs as he entered and was led to a conference-sized table. His hands, usually calm from years over operating tables, were shaking, and his voice matched.

He had expected arrest at any moment, no doubt, because the Cleveland newspapers had demanded the action for days — but on a starry evening, at about 10 o'clock, when you have just returned from an evening on Lake Erie and are settling down your nerves for the night — well, it came as a somewhat blow.

The small town officials gathered around him looked, if possible, more disturbed than he. There was not much interchange of glances; the tension and embarrassment, stirred up with the oppressive heat and humidity, made me think idiotically — if someone were only to strike a match, this picture of misery would explode, and Bay Village would be placid once more.

FOOLS FOR FACES

Women are fools for faces, particularly soft ones and troubled ones, and Dr. Sheppard's was both.

Feeling like Agatha Christie herself, I spent the following days touring the small suburban streets, stopping in the near middle-class houses to ask opinions about the community's youngest osteopath. I discovered that the women were on Sam's side. The men were on the fence, non-committal.

The ensuing trial made the fact even more plain: Women had been eternally on, or at, Dr. Sam's side.

Largely because of women, then, and of unanswered questions, discrepancies and a chain of circumstantial evidence, Dr. Sheppard was convicted of second-degree murder. The jury was not certain enough of his guilt, apparently, to send him to the chair.

But they refused to believe him innocent.

It's been a horrid story from beginning to what apparently is not quite-the-end. No novelist, however facile, could sell a publisher on such a poorly constructed whodunit.

As for me, someday I'll write an essay on "What's in a Face?" Have no idea, at the moment, what my conclusions will be . . .

They were having a wonderful time with our house!

A true story based on an actual case

When burglars broke into our house they took all they could — wrecked everything else! Police called it one of the most flagrant cases of vandalism on record, but fortunately we didn't suffer a total loss. Our Hartford Residence and Outside Theft Insurance Policy paid us $5000!

Figure out what it would cost to replace your valuables if stolen or damaged by burglars. Then let us show you an effective, low-cost way to protect yourself against such loss. (It costs only pennies a day!)

Bob Considine Says:

Radio Free Europe Lies Truthfully

NEW YORK (INS)—The passing show—

Radio Moscow, in a broadcast beamed at Germany, staged an elaborate spoof featuring a Europe-wide search for the biggest liar of them all. The big punchline of the script was that the medal was awarded to Radio Free Europe, a privately backed Voice of America that names names.

An RFE man, asked to comment said, "One of the most persistent 'lies' we've broadcast over the past year or so is that Nikita Khrushchev would overcome all contenders for the throne in the Kremlin."

Next!

In his appeal to the American Bar Association to alter its stand that TV and radio coverage of trials would "degrade" American courts, ABC's John Daly summed up:

". . . I think our critics give us too much credit. We are not capable of producing miracles. A camera can only record what is there.

"Some of you may feel we'll turn the courts into a circus. A camera can no more produce a circus than a seismograph can cause an earthquake.

"Both simply record what is there. We've taken our cameras into cathedrals and never heard the complaint that we've changed worship into a sacrilegious carnival—or the clergy into clowns.

GET IT RIGHT!

Wrote a piece not long ago about a checker-playing IBM electric brain taking time out, while playing the U. S. champion, a human being, to wink at a passing female Univac.

Well, sir, the josh didn't sit well with the board at Remington Rand one little bit. The editor of the New York Journal American is in receipt of the following:

"Dear sir:

"It has been brought to our attention that in a recent column by Bob Considine, reference is made to a female Univac.

"We would like to draw your attention to the fact that Univac is a trademark of this company utilized in the marketing of its electronic data processing machines and accessories, and we would appreciate having you and your staff refer to 'Univac Computer,' which would reflect correct usage of our trademark.

Very truly yours
Francis J. McNamara
Vice president and general counsel."

Have a care there, F. J., or I'll take this whole matter up with MacArthur!

We've seen some of the letters which didn't win the electric train set in a Father's Day contest, and I guess this is the most thought-provoking tribute of them all:

"Dear Daddy is nothing but a hound dog. That's what I call him. He laughs at me. He fixed cars and trucks at Kaiser Metal.

"He takes me down the river to see the boats and fish. We both have a fishing pole. I love my daddy and he's nothing but a hound dog. Joie Kovacs, 56 Kirby Ave., Trenton, N. J."

(Dad-dee, dear olllid Dad-dee, you've been more than a hound dog to me.)

The heat has been snapping men's reason left and right in New York. A sweaty cab driver turned around to me during a sizzler, breaking a long and moody silence, and said, "Mac, you know what I'd do if I had a million bucks? I'd marry every dame in town."

We asked to be let out at the first cool dark saloon.

MR. and MRS. FORREST TAYLOR

To Reside in Pontiac

Connie Lee Elie Marries

AUBURN HEIGHTS — After a trip to Washington D. C. and the east coast, the new Mr. and Mrs. Forrest L. Taylor, will reside on S. Marshall street in Pontiac.

The Rev. J. Harvey McCann performed the 7:30 p.m. service Saturday at United Presbyterian Church, in the presence of 175 guests.

The couples' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Elie, 265 Oakmont, and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest C. Taylor, 13347 Bathurst, Avon Township.

The bride, the former Connie Lee Elie, chose a gown of silk crysetta featuring a sweetheart neckline with a French lace applique. The short sleeves were of lace and the fitted basque waist accented the very full skirt.

Her headpiece was of seed pearls forming a full crown and securing a fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with pink baby roses.

Maid of honor was Anna Lee Dunbar of Pontiac with Kay Williams of Illinois, one of the bridesmaids. Completing the attendants were sister of the bridegroom, Nancy Gisse of Illinois, Christine and Susan Taylor of Avon Township. Flower girl was Jenny Lou Leathers of Illinois.

Fix Farmington School Boundaries

Sell $2,000,000 in Bonds

FARMINGTON — The Farmington Board of Education here has agreed to the sale of $2,000,000 in school bonds for new school construction.

The bonds will be sold to Halsey-Stuart Co., of Chicago, low bidder for an average of 4.4262 per cent.

Board also heard and approved reports on the straightening of boundary lines between the Novi and the Farmington School districts and between the Walled Lake and Farmington districts.

The line between Novi and Farmington was settled July 1, to be effective Aug. 1. All of section 6 of Farmington will be in the Walled Lake District. All of section 5 will be in the Farmington district.

Previously both sections had been divided, half and half in each district.

The report on the south boundary, between Farmington and the city of Livonia was tabled because it has not yet been approved by the Oakland County and Wayne County Boards of Education.

Approval was given for the purchase of bleachers for the senior high football field, at $9,960.40.

Members also agreed that the German school, the oldest in the township, must be used again this year, "But only until the housing situation is eased by construction of new buildings," members agreed.

Bids were received for the construction of additions to three elementary schools.

However, board will wait for recommendations from the architect before taking final action. James M. Read, assistant superintendent, stated that work on both O. E. Dunckel Jr. High in Kendallwood and William Grace Elementary is progressing nicely, and that both schools may be opened by October.

This will ease, somewhat, the situation in the district, where all pupils to and including the fourth grade, are now on half day sessions.

Aid Flows to Widow, 10 Children at Dryden

DRYDEN — Five hundred sixteen dollars have been deposited in the First National Bank here to date for the benefit of Mrs. Agnes Waterman and her ten children.

Her husband, LeRoy, was killed in a farm accident here last week.

The women's auxiliary here held a bake sale which brought in $60 to be used in purchasing bedding for the family. A veteran's group spokesman reports having received several checks in the mail from Pontiac, Detroit, Flint and Wayne.

St. John Episcopal Church has started a drive to secure furniture and one Sunday School class of the Methodist Church is also conducting a drive.

Lead in Farm Acreage

WASHINGTON—Texas, Montana and Kansas lead all other states in the nation in the number of acres actually farmed.

'See America First' Program Ready for Youth

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Grange has inaugurated a "see-America-first" program for its farm youth.

Under this program, farm boys and girls from one part of the country trade summer homes with their counterparts in other parts of the country.

The program is operated along the lines of international youth exchange programs except that the young people involved stay in this country.

Program is open to boys and girls between ages of 14 and 21 and the exchange is for a month's time. The exchange is arranged through the farm organization's national headquarters here.

Futurama Fair Friday at Oxford

Congregational Church Plans 2nd Event With Show, Dance, Auction

OXFORD — Plans for the second Futurama Fair, sponsored by the Congregational Church here, are being completed. The Fair will be held Friday and Saturday, at Daniel Axford School, and will start with a parade at 1 p.m. from the high school.

Mrs. Fred Skibowski Sr., the Rev. Robert Harrison and Harold Campbell are general chairmen.

Women's Fellowship members will serve dinners and lunches each day at "Grandmother's Kitchen." There will be a midway under the direction of The Couples Club, and the Sunday School will have a fish pond.

The auction sale is scheduled for Friday evening with A. A. Case in charge.

Saturday's special events will be a variety show, and a square dance. The variety show will be in the auditorium at the fair grounds, while the square dance with Mr. and Mrs. James Teays in charge, will be at the high school auditorium, from 8:30 to 11:30.

There will be pony and horse rides and a cake walk.

BETTIE ANN DILLON

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Dillon of Greenfield, Ohio, formerly of Westacres, announce the engagement of their daughter, Bettie Ann, to Thomas Elwood Dodd. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil A. Dodd of Clarkston. August 17 is the date set for the wedding.

Citizens of Troy to Be Assessed $2.50 Tax Levy

TROY — Money for teachers' salaries and bus transportation for some 3,200 children who attend Troy's six elementary schools, a junior high and a senior high, will be raised after voters approved Monday assessing a $2.50 tax levy per thousand for two years.

Voters who passed the proposal 570 to 466, turned down a three-mill levy for five years, in June.

Leonard and Lakeville Cemetery Auxiliary will hold a bake sale Saturday afternoon at Rowland Hall in place of the regular July meeting.

'Peaches' Ride Float to Herald Festival

Cuties Parade 'Til Labor Day

Traditional Events at Romeo to Determine State Peach Queen

LEE WINBORN
Romeo Correspondent

ROMEO — Five attractive local girls began paying visits to neighboring communities on July 4, when they appeared in the Utica Lions parade riding on the Romeo Peach Festival publicity float.

Every Sunday since then they have taken part in a parade — in Algonac, Roseville and most recently in Fraser. All this to publicize Romeo's most important event of the year — the traditional Peach Festival celebration which takes place here annually over Labor Day weekend.

The lovely quintet includes the new Miss Romeo, 19-year-old Barbara Moskow, who rides in the place of honor on the decorative publicity float. She is accompanied by the two runners-up in the Miss Romeo contest, Mary Imbler and Carol Le Fever.

The other two girls chosen to ride the float are selected from the 10 remaining entrants in the local contest, or may be a substitute. Thus far, Mona Wheaton, Carol Hiller, Judy and Norma Kegler, Barbara Stark and Judy Gass have had turns representing the "Heart of the Fruit Country" in Macomb activities.

Whenever Miss Romeo is unable to participate in a parade her place is taken by one of her two alternates. She (Miss Romeo) presently is attending summer school at Central Michigan and is unable to come home every weekend for the brief parade appearances.

The Romeo float, designed by Mrs. David M. Rose, features a giant size fan at the rear with a brilliantly decorated butterfly in front. Each girl holds a basket of peach colored flowers to carry out the peach motif of the float. Edward J. Battani makes arrangements for the local entry's appearances and often pulls the float with his car.

Miss Romeo is looking forward to another event which is an important forerunner to the festival — the Queen's contest. At 8 p.m. on Aug. 6, she will compete with nine other beautuous contestants for the honor of reigning over the 25th annual Festival celebration.

Most of the names of candidates from Rochester, Utica, Armada, Almont, Davison, Lake Orion, Oxford, Mount Clemens and Capac already have been received, according to contest chairman Mrs. J. Gerald McLean.

Romeo High School auditorium will again be the scene of the annual competition. Disc Jockey Bob Maxwell will act as master of ceremonies.

Plan Cafeteria Night

ORTONVILLE — The Mt. Bethel Methodist Church will hold a cafeteria supper and ice cream social there on Wednesday, July 31 beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Some trees reach maturity, or cutting age, in 50 years.

Ice Cream Social to Be Held Sunday

The annual ice cream social of the Walther League of St. Paul Lutheran Church Canal and Hayes roads, Mt. Clemens, will take place at the church grounds on Sunday afternoon. Lunches and a variety of ice cream desserts will be featured from 2 to 7 p.m.

Committee members planning the event are: Eileen Steinkopf, John Lembke, Kenneth Bahlman, Gertrude Schultz, Raymond Burk and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sochowski.

CONSTIPATED?
new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98c for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

DENVER (INS) — A 60,000,000-year-old amphitheater provides the setting this week for an unusual all-American cast of Wagner's "Die Walkure."

The sound and fury of the opera will be presented against a natural 100-foot-high rocky backdrop and between two red sandstone rock formations—both higher than Niagara Falls—which form the sides of an acoustically perfect amphitheater.

Dr. Herbert Graff, world-famed Wagnerian director of the Metropolitan Opera, who is staging the production, said nowhere on earth is there an emphitheater which matches so closely Wagner's description of Valhalla.

There is no need for a papier-mache setting in this "house," which has a seating capacity of 10,000. An army of Valkyries, heroic maidens who escort the heroes who died in battle to the grandeur of Valhalla, ride live steeds to enhance the exciting "Ride of the Valkyries."

FIRE NOT MYTHICAL

The immolation scene, in which Wotan commits a sleeping Brunnhilde to a surrounding fence of flame, was worked out with the cooperation of the Rocky Mountain Arsenal experts in fire and smoke and pyrotechnics.

The stage is 6,338-feet above sea level and those sitting toward the back of the huge amphitheater can see part of Denver's lights, 15 miles away.

Colorado pioneers named the area "Garden of the Angels" in 1870. John Brisben Walker purchased the site in the first decade of the 20th century and re-christened it the "Park of the Red Rocks."

Presentation of "Die Walkure"—tonight and Thursday — at Red Rocks takes on added significance. It marks the first time the opera has been presented by a cast entirely American—including Margaret Harshaw, Heidi Krall, James Pease, Kenneth Smith, Albert da Costa and Sandra Warfield.

IDEAL FOR MUSIC

The Rocky Mountain range was formed during the Laramide Revolution about 60,000,000 years ago. Sediments of the Rockies formed and uplifted, leaving a jagged edge at roughly a 60-degree angle.

During these past years, erosion has cut away all but the heartiest rock, and sandstone, extremely hard, has survived. The red sandstone, thus provides for us today the area where great masterpieces of music are heard.

French Give OK to Two Treaties

Atomic Pool, Common Market for Europe Pass Crucial Test

PARIS (AP)—The French Senate today put a 222-70 stamp of approval on the treaties setting up the West European common market and Euratom atomic pool. The action completed France's parliamentary ratification of the measures.

The treaties passed their crucial test in the French National Assembly July 9 and now go to President Rene Coty for signature.

Ratification also has been completed by the West German Parliament. Approval by the legislatures of the other four nations in the pacts—Belgium, the Netherlands, Italy and Luxembourg—is expected without difficulty this fall.

With the French parliamentary hurdle passed, the backers of the treaties were confident they could go into force Jan. 1, 1958, as scheduled.

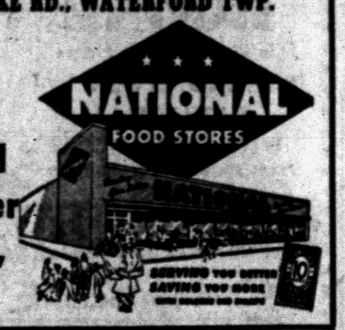

The Euratom plan will pool the resources of the six nations for joint development of peacetime atomic energy.

Under the common market plan, the member nations will begin lowering their tariffs on trade with each other with an initial 10 per cent cut Jan. 1, 1959. Then will come a progressive elimination of tariffs within the new European Economic Community over a three-stage transitional period of 12 to 15 years. The six nations at the same time gradually will adopt a uniform tariff schedule on imports from non-member countries.

Boys Open Switch to See Train Wreck

LINCOLN, Ill. (AP) — Eight boys were seized last night after, police said, they threw open a railroad switch so they could "see a train turn over."

Their target, an Illinois Central freight train, chugged to a halt just in time as an alert engineer spotted the open switch. The engineer, who police did not identify, said the train would have been derailed if it had ru n into the open switch.

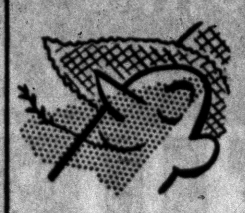

The boys, from 8 to 10, were captured by city and railroad police as they fled across tracks at the eastern edge of this central Illinois city.

Police quoted the youngsters as saying they wanted "to see a train turn over."

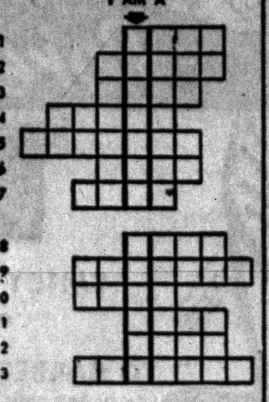

No charges were filed. he boys were released to the custody of their parents pending further questioning.

Warns Against Scalpers

CAB Raps Black Market Plane Tickets for Resorts

WASHINGTON (NEA) — You can help the Civil Aeronautics Board fight an expected black market in air line tickets to resort areas this summer.

Just don't be in such a sweat to get to the cool shore that you'll pay a ticket scalper extra for a plane ticket. Patience will probably get you the same seat for the legitimate price under new rules governing air line ticket sales.

This advice come from CAB investigators who are alerted for a boom in black market air line tickets to northern resorts and Europe this summer.

Illegal air ticket sales got out of hand in Miami, Fla., and at spots all over the Caribbean last winter. CAB probers discovered that some unscrupulous travel agents and hotel employes were booking big blocks of air reservations weeks in advance and selling them at premium prices.

In some cases travelers with an emergency need to get home paid as much as $100 extra to scalpers for seats, it is said. On some flights, CAB investigators learned, as many as 19 out of 25 passengers on one plane had bought their seats from scalpers.

CAB has a bill in Congress which would make it a federal offense, with a fine up to $5,000, for scalping air line tickets. In the meantime, however, CAB's chief enforcement official, James Anton, explains that new regulations governing the "no show" problem will also help to beat the scalping problem.

The "no show" is the person who makes a reservation, or even buys a ticket, but does not show up for the flight. This has been an expensive loss to the airlines.

The new rules adopted by the airlines with CAB approval, penalize a passenger who has bought a ticket, and doesn't ues it, three dollars.

The three dollars is deducted from the refund, or added to the cost of the ticket when it is validated for a later flight.

The new rulesalso make it necessary for a passenger to buy his ticket at east six hours before a flight in order to hold a reservation. In most cases the airline ticket agent makes a specific arrangement with the passenger on the time the ticket is to be purchased. If the passenger does not buy his ticket at the time he loses his reservation.

Anton explains how these rules affect the scalping operation:

"Every passenger knows now that at least six hours before the flight all fake reservations made by a scalper and not validiated by a ticket purchase will automatically be released to legitimate customers. This greatly increases the odds of getting on a plane that may be all booked up weeks or days in advance.

"If the scalper wants to buy the tickets to support his fake reservations it means he'll have to invest a lot of money in his illegal enterprise. And he stands to lose three dollars on each ticket as well as reval his operation.

Oh, Mr. Smith What's That 'D' on Your Belt?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A defendand in a burglary case stood in court here and vehemently denied any guilt, protesting that his confession was a frameup, given under coercion.

Then the victim of the theft, Walter L. Dodson, pointed to a belt with a large initial "D" on its buckle which the defendant, Harold Smith, 42, was ewaring.

Assistant Dist. Atty. Charles Peruto asked Smith to explain the initial. Smith conferred with his attorney, Cecil B. Moore, fo fe few moments. Moore announced that his client was changing his plea to guilty.

Judge James C. Crumlish imposed a sentence of 7½ to 15 years.

Christmas in July

ATHOL, Mass. (AP) — The eighth annual Christmas in July party was held last night for physically handicapped boys and girls from the Boston area. The sponsoring Rotary club had a sleigh filled with toys and Santa Claus distributed gifts to 90 children from under a gaily decorated Christmas tree.

Hollywood Headlines

Colman Is Recuperating, Expects to Do Some TV

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—An early morning visitor to my home was director Frank Borzage, who tells me that he is returning to active duty after five years, to direct Victor Mature in "Time Is a Memory."

"I have made a deal with John Wayne's Batjac Productions, with a United Artists release," said Frank.

He then went on to tell me he hadn't found the right story until he read "Time Is a Memory," which is a beautiful love story with all the warmth too many of our motion pictures lack today.

Frank starts his film Aug. 15 at the Goldwyn studio, and said, as he was leaving, that he considers this the most tender love story since "Seventh Heaven."

I talked with Ronald Colman, who was reported to have retired, and I am happy to say that Ronnie is leaving the door open and, when he is completely well, expects to do some more TV.

"I've had trouble with my lungs," said Ronnie, "and the doctor told me it would be a long, slow convalescence, which it has been. I do not expect to make any motion pictures for a long time. I want to get completely well, and I'm improving and feeling better."

He and Benita (Mrs. Colman) are at their home in Santa Barbara where he gets the sun every day.

OPPORTUNE VISIT

The visit of Ingrid Bergman's daughter, Jenny Ann, couldn't have happened at a more opportune time. Rossellini won't be back from India for at least six weeks and Dr. Lindstrom was opposed to the young girl going to Italy while Rossellini was there, despite the fact that the doctor himself has remarried and has another child.

Jenny Ann is now visiting with her mother at Santa Marinella, the Rossellini summer home outside of Rome.

When I was in London last summer, Ingrid told me she heard regularly from Jenny, and pulled out pictures of her beautiful daughter, who is fortunate enough to resemble her mother.

Motion picture studios were never able to clear the rights on the life of Col. "Teddy" Roosevelt, 26th President of the United States. As a soldier and statesman, his colorful career is just perfect for a motion picture, but his family always objected to filming his biography.

Now agent Carlton Cole, who arranged for the sale of the Diana Barrymore book and many others, has closed negotiations with two of Teddy's children, Alice Roosevelt Longworth and Archie Roosevelt, to have the Rough Rider's story written in book form.

MOVIE UNDECIDED

It isn't decided yet whether the first of the three pictures Tommy Sands has signed for at 20th will be "The Singing Idol." This is the takeoff on that other singing idol, Elvis Presley, which Tommy did on TV — and it may be Tommy's kickoff in the movies.

One thing that is certain is that young Sands does another TV show immediately, "The Promise" with Gary Merrill. It's a Western for Dick Powell's Zane Grey Theater, but I couldn't believe my ears when I heard Tommy doesn't sing in this!

It's all right for Bing Crosby and Frank Sinatra, who are well established, to do non-singing roles, but shouldn't they keep Tommy warbling?

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Visitors are allowed director Raoul Walsh, who has been quite sick in Good Samaritan Hospital.

Rita Hayworth, rumored as being remembered in the Aga Khan's will, went out of town for a few days to get away from questioning.

Before Barbara Rush returns from her hurried trip to Greece, where she appeared at a Red Cross benefit at the request of Spyros Skouras, she'll visit Paris. She has to be back at the end of the week for "The Young Lions."

Concocts Own Recipe for Gaining a Divorce

Pour the contents of fruit jars, vegetable cans, milk cartons and other bottles over the garments. No mixing required.

Mrs. Shirley A. Morris, 34-year-old waitress, complained in a divorce suit that her husband Kenneth, 37, plumbing company foreman, concocted such a recipe.

League Gets New Head

DETROIT (AP) — Russell G. Albrecht, director of Goodwill Industries at Flint, has been named executive director of the Detroit League for the Handicapped. He assumes the new job Sept. 3.

Wood Paneling Varies

In a room with lots of windows, wood paneling with a clear finish will seem to change color slightly as the intensity of sunlight varies. This provides warmth and a variety of appearance impossible to achieve with other wall-covering materials, leading architects point out.

The first railway horsecars were started in Scotland in about 1812.

ATTENTION ALL MEN WITH ARTHRITIS

During the 42 years that O-JIB-WA BITTERS has been available, thousands of other remedies have come and gone. The very best medicine you can use for arthritis in your back, legs, shoulders and arms is still the one and only, Genuine O-JIB-WA BITTERS. READ WHAT OTHER MEN SAY ABOUT THIS WONDERFUL MEDICINE.

"I tried many other medicines and treatments before O-JIB-WA, and am sorry that I wasted both time and money. I was barely able to dress myself or even walk before using your medicine."

"I spent over $200 for arthritis treatments in my hips and legs without results, but then tried O-JIB-WA BITTERS, and results were quick in coming."

"For over 25 years I suffered from rheumatism and arthritis in my back, shoulders and legs, and never found a thing that would help me, until I tried O-JIB-WA."

"Arthritis in my back and legs crippled me for five years. After using O-JIB-WA for a month, I threw my cane aside, sleep like a log and get up feeling fine."

"I knew that I would have to quit work if my arthritis got any worse, so I was willing to try anything. My druggist told me that O-JIB-WA BITTERS was the leading seller and that he had many good reports on it. Well, I bought a bottle and in three weeks the pains began to leave and a short time later, I was all better. It is one medicine that lives up to its claims."

P.S. OF COURSE LADIES—ITS FOR YOU TOO!

U. of M. Student Takes Own Life

Faced 30 Days in Jail for Stealing Camera Equipment

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Washtenaw County Sheriff's Deputy Irvin Hollis said a 19-year-old University of Michigan student, facing 30 days in jail for larceny, committed suicide today in his cell.

Hollis said Clyde Vrough, of Taylor Township, apparently took poison in his cell in the Washtenaw County Jail. He said Vrough apparently had smuggled the poison into his cell.

Vrough was discovered lying on the floor of his cell at 3:25 a.m. during a routine cellblock check. He was rushed to University Hospital where he died at 4 a.m.

An autopsy was ordered to determine exact cause of death.

Hollis said other prisoners told him they saw Vrough take something from his shoe shortly before deputies found him.

Vrough was sentenced yesterday in Circuit Court to a 30-day jail term and five years probation on a grand larceny charge stemming from the theft of $3,000 worth of camera equipment from Ann Arbor stores.

The youth was arrested last May 24 and had been free on bond until his sentencing.

Vrough was a first year student at the University. He was an honor student in the University's Naval ROTC Unit.

Summer Day Camp to Open in Waterford

The Waterford Township Recreation department is ready to begin summer Day Camp activities at the 5,200-acre Highland State park next Monday, according to director Tom Belton.

This is the fourth year youngsters from nine through 14 years of age, living in the school district, will participate in the outdoor program.

The youngsters will be transported by bus from elementary schools to the Recreation Area, Monday through Friday for five consecutive weeks. There will be charge of $3.50 per week for each child.

CAREFULLY SELECTED STAFF

"All of the camp staff are carefully selected people, whose qualifications will prove beneficial to the camping program," Belton said.

Camp counselors, trained high school and college students, will direct the more than 200 boys and girls expected to register.

Planned activities include nature hikes, swimming, learning woodcraft and outdoor cooking. Each camper will be picked up at 9:30 a.m. and returned home by 4:30 p.m.

The schedule is as follows:

July 29 to Aug. 2 — reserved for children from Waterford Center, Four Towns and Monteith schools;

Aug. 5 - 9 — Burt, Lambert and Stringham schools;

Aug. 12 - 16 — Donelson, Covert and Leggett schools;

Aug. 19 - 23 — Drayton Plains, Adams and McVittie schools.

TO MEET OUT-OF-DOORS

During the last week, Aug. 26-30, Pontiac Lake, Waterford Village and Williams Lake schools will have use of the camp.

"All activities will be conducted in a spirit of "gaining new acquaintance with the out-of-doors'," Belton said. "This Day Camp is designed to help promote family camp-outs," he added.

Northville Denied Tax Share Revision

Northville's appeal to the Michigan State Tax Commission protesting its share of this year's county equalized valuation has been denied, the Oakland County Board of Supervisors learned yesterday.

The equalization of the city's Oakland County portion was called equitable with the surrounding area, the Michigan State Tax Commission declared in a letter to the board.

Northville Supervisor Stanley Frid had objected that the county equalized Northville last year at $508,190, while this year the figure jumped to $747,086.

Big Business Sparks Tribal Councils in Arizona Oil Country

'Black Gold' Brings End of Old Ways for Navajos

A reporter for the Tucson, Ariz., Citizen, on a 3,000-mile trip through the Mammoth Four Corners oil fields, saw an ancient Indian tribe made suddenly wealthy from the black gold underfoot. Here is his story).

By JOHN RIDDICK
Of the Tucson Citizen

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP)—This is a meeting of the Navajo tribal council. Every seat is occupied. Everyone is alert to the subject at hand—oil money and what it will buy.

Less than half the 74 members speak English. Half wear the long hair and clothes of the rural Navajo. To overcome the language barrier, a translator is present.

BRINGS CHANGES

They are talking about the first returns from the new-found oil gushing up out of Navajo Land. Until now, money meant the prospects from a few uranium leases and, more visibly, the few sheep that grazed on sparse grass and gave the Indian his meager living.

The oil is bringing sudden changes to the Navajo reservation.

Millions of dollars are being spent by the oil companies for pipelines, leases, drilling. The oil land lies on the corners of four states: Utah, New Mexico, Colorado and Arizona.

One oil company official called it "the hottest area in the country, with the possible exception of the Gulf Coast."

The tribal council will receive an estimated $15,000 a day in royalties from one pipeline alone. Three are planned now, including a 40 million dollar line from Arizona to Los Angeles.

So far, the tribal council has received 33 million in oil bonus lease money.

THEY ALL TALK

The meeting goes like this:

Dillon Latero of Kinsit reports on the proposed budget items for some welfare and education needs. One item is $25,000 for eyeglasses.

A council member interrupts to say that "many children are going into town and getting one-dollar glasses, ruining their eyes."

Latero continues with an item for clothing:

"We found that a lot of our children weren't going to school because of inadequate clothing. And so we made a contract with clothing businesses. We raised the amount by $100,000 last year to $500,000. This year it is the same."

Another member is recognized: "A lot of reports come to me that say these clothes are old. You put them in the washing machine once and they are gone.

Another speaks:

"I'm in favor of this. But some study should be made. I think we can save money. Take shoes. When a few stitches are broken, children stick their fingers in and tear them. Some types of shoe repair shops might be built at the schools.

Still another says, "the trouble lies in the school administration. They compete with each other to see who can give out the most."

There is no doubt that the lot of the Navajo is improving under the influence of the oil money. But generally speaking the attitude of the Navajo is conservative. He's not off with a fat pocketbook to buy out the market.

Perhaps some of the conservative feeling comes from the tribe's experience with uranium—which at one time seemed like a bananza too. Last year the tribe received nearly half a million dollars from uranium royalties but now production is down 60 per cent. In general, the ore is not competitive with higher grade ores.

So far 1,183,250 acres of tribal land have been leased to the oil companies. Individual Indians who have their own land on the reservation have leased another 92,186 acres, for which they have received $2,037,000.

BUYS A TRUCK

One of these individuals is Slim Whitehorse, a longhair Indian who speaks no English. He received $200,000 for 183 acres of land. With some of the money he bought a pickup truck and had his land surveyed.

But for the entire Navajo aribe there seems to be too much money to keep and not enough to spend.

Maurice MacAbe, executive secretary of the council, calls 50 million dollars—which is probably roughly what the council has in the bank—an "awkward" amount.

"Spread over 80,000 people on a per capita basis, that would pay a few grocery bills and liquidate a few debts. Then we'd be back where we started."

The great oil companies are pouring their power into the Four Corners area, which they believe will become one of the major petroleum producers.

A thousand oil and gas wells will be drilled this year, estimates the U. S. Geological Survey. Shell alone plans to drill over 100.

POTENTIAL IS GREAT

Conservatives want no part of the oil companies and the threat to their way of life they believe would follow. There has been no drilling on this reservation yet. But observers believe it's only a matter of time until the oil companies are invited in.

It would be hard to exaggerate the potential effect that the discovery of oil holds for the Navajos.

Radical changes have been taking place among these Indians who are gradually exchanging their sheep economy for off-reservation work. Since 1953, the number of Navajo children in school has risen from 65 to 92.8 per cent.

On the other hand, the Indians don't believe they have enough money to wean themselves away from the support of the U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs.

The council is feeling its way along with projects such as three million dollars for water development, a half million for clothing for school children, and other expenditures for industrial development.

"Our greatest needs are education and know-how" says MacAbe. "Our greatest problem is to make people understand that although we have some money, we don't have a lot."

Oil men think they will have a lot more.

Ask Parking Meter Bids

HASTINGS (AP) — The City Council has authorized asking bids for about 235 parking meters to be installed on four off-street parking lots here.

Football Wives Build Lives Around Game

By GRETTA PORTER

"Did you have a hard day on the field, dear?"

No, not double talk but a probable question for a professional football player's wife to ask.

For an answer we'll look at four Pontiac-Birmingham area families, all of whom are headed by a member of the Detroit Lions football team.

A football player doesn't carry on the regular hours of a business man. Instead he is gone long hours to practice and often over night for away-from-home games and meetings. Does this upset family routine and activity?

On a shady tree-lined Birmingham street lives the Leon Hart family. In addition to the Lions' halfback (who hasn't re-signed a contract for the coming year yet) and his wife, are four little Harts. They range from Lee, who at six and one-half hasn't decided what he's going to be yet, through Billy, who is five and Marty, two and one-half, to six month old Kevin.

The Harts live in a gracious two story brick home which is of modified modern design. When you walk into the living room of this home it would be difficult to detect it as that of a professional football player. There are no trophies or football pictures present. But, here, the presence and importance of children is felt.

Children also play an important part in the Dorne Dibble home. The husky Lions' end is likely to be seen, complete with Bermuda shorts, in the backyard playing with his two daughters, Lori, four and one-half and Kimberly who is two.

Or, as in many homes, Dorne is seen leaving for the club to shoot a few holes of golf.

"We all experience a little bit of loneliness as football wives, but we have to be patient. The fellows have meetings they must attend and it's just part of their jobs. The night before the game the team stays at a hotel, they all eat together, have final meetings and observe curfew hours.

"Before a game," says Harriette in her soft Southern drawl (she's from Tennessee), "I feel tense with anticipation. I worry about Tom and I think I feel part of the way he does."

So, unlike the average wife, Harriette Tracy is most concerned for her husband's welfare when he is working.

As for housework, Mrs. Tracy explains, "During the season I have to plan around things. I can't always do my laundry on Monday and ironing Tuesday, for instance. We have to live from one day to the next. Tom eats a lot lighter during the season, but it doesn't make much difference in my cooking. Actually, we always eat quite light."

There are routine differences between the average family and that of the professional football player but basically things are the same.

Children play the same important role in both situations. And, though, perhaps the football player spends more time away from home during the season, when he is not playing football he devotes much time to his family and family activities.

Children May Whine to Force Attention

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

"I WANT A DRINK" whined Peter.

His mother snapped at him: "Peter, if you don't stop that whinning, I'll give you a good licking."

"But I want a drink. Can't I have a drink?" Peter drawled out his whine.

"All right, you asked for it." His mother gave him a good hard slap that sent Peter sprawling and changed the whine to a loud bellow.

Whining is perhaps one of the very most irritating things children can do. There is something about that high pitched nasal twang that can get under the skin of even the most placid mother.

But slaps and punishment don't cure whining. The best that can be said for them is that they relieve mother's feelings, at least for the moment.

WHY THEY WHINE

Why do children whine and what is there to do about it?

Most children experiment with this device for getting attention. If your youngster only does it a little, your best bet is to ignore it completely. He will get over it as he grows up a bit. Some time between 3 and 4 years of age is the time children discover they can use their voices in this particular fashion. If when they do it nothing special happens, children will soon get tired of whinning and stop.

But some children whine a great deal, and then we need to look into it. Why do they do it and how can we stop it?

When whining is done to excess it becomes a way of getting attention. The child who must resort to this objectionable behavior needs his life made more satisfactory.

Take a good look at your whiner. You are with him all day long, you say; how can he need more attention? Yes, maybe you are in the same house, maybe in the same room with him, but does that mean you are with him in mind and heart, or is only your body there? Maybe you are busy doing all the hundreds of things a mother has to do, shooing him out of the way most of the time.

ATTENTION NEEDED

Peter will whine when mother pushes him out of the way while she makes the beds, but Peter does not whine if mother lets him help with the beds. He will chortle with glee to make waves with the sheets and he adores hiding in the blankets. It takes ten times as long to make the beds with 3-year-old assistance, but after Peter really had his mother's undivided attention for half an hour in this sort of play he may wander off by himself for a time and play happily alone.

It is the child who seldom or never has his mother's complete attention who is constantly finding means of dragging her away from her preoccupations. Like Peter, many a child would rather have a slap than a brush off. At least when he is slapped mother is devoting her undivided attention to him.

The whiner may need more of mother's whole-hearted companionship. Or maybe he needs some playmates his own age. If you can get together with a friend or a neighbor with a child of about the same age, take turns keeping the children. They are likely to need a good deal of supervision, plan to do most of your housework the morning both children are at the friend's house; when they are with you you'll have to keep a close eye on them.

If there is an organized play group or a nursery school near you, this may be the perfect answer to the whiner.

Make sure your whiner isn't tired. Is he getting a long night's sleep and a good nap in the daytime?

Says Anita Ekberg

No More Cheesecake

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS) — Anita Ekberg is "tired of arriving everywhere with my skirts up and my neckline down."

That's why she's banning cheesecake photos — NOT because of any loss in weight or dimension.

"What I've got, I've got," she said matter-of-factly. It's just those "greasy old staircases" that Anita resents. She explained:

"I get all dressed up a beautiful white dress and a picture hat and they ask me to sit on a greasy old staircase and pull up my skirt. Nobody even noticed my hat!"

Besides, Anita is "tired of bikinis and negligees."

"Cheesecake is good for a girl at the start," she noted, "But I'm past that. From now on I pose only for movie publicity, maybe in sweaters and shorts. But no negligees."

Sitting hand-in-hand with her husband, English actor Anthony Steel, the king-sized Swedish blonde cheerfully discussed everything except 1. her bosom, 2. her other dimensions.

"I don't talk about that any more," she said firmly. "I am going to be choosy."

"I'm not that old," pouted Anita.

But she said she would display her assets in movies if the part calls for it. She wears street clothes in her latest, "Paris Holiday," but recalled:

"Once I wore a rhinestone in my navel. It was part of the role, and besides, you can't show your navel in an American movie."

Did she consider a rhinestoned navel more dignified than a skirts-up cheesecake pose? Anita fluttered her eyelashes and said:

Local Girls Take Role of 'Alice'

Marcy Agree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Agree of Murphy street and Susie Bunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bunt of Faculty Row, Cranbrook, will be double cast as Alice when the Cranbrook Summer Theatre presents "Alice In Wonderland" in the Greek Theatre on Lone Pine road July 31 and Aug. 1.

Directing the presentation are Barbara Bigge of Bloomfield Hills and Marcia McLintock of Cherokee road, assisted by Kathleen Tenney, Marcia Nelson, Sharon Seibert, Jo Burr Frederickson and Carole Kilpatrick.

Lutheran Rites Unite Couple in Lake Orion

A ceremony performed at 4 o'clock in the St. Paul Lutheran Church Saturday united Glenda Earlene Sontag and Pvt. Neil Henry Haselhuhn.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sontag of Lake Orion. Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Haselhuhn of Dexter road are parents of the bridegroom.

Use Most Flattering Shade Often, but Also Have Variety

Color Plays Important Role in Life

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This week I've been telling you about courage and clothes, two of the five important C's. Today let us think of the remaining three—namely Color, Cooking and Calisthenics.

For many years artists and psychologists and cosmeticians were the only people who realized what a great impact color has on our lives and our appearance. Some colors are soothing while others are exciting, and some cosmetics flatter us while others are aging and unbecoming.

One school of thought is that the effect of color on our emotions is due to the action of the color on the nerves of the eyes.

The psychological impact of color is carefully considered today in the décor of hospital and schoolrooms and by those who design stage sets. The smart woman in the home uses colors on the walls of her house and in the materials of decoration which are flattering to her and restful to her family.

The right shade in powder, rouge and lipstick can make a sallow complexion bloom and a muddy skin look fairer. Color can bring out the eyes or mask them, make the mouth alluring or dull.

We all know what colors can do for us when it comes to clothes! There are certain colors which always bring us compliments while there are others which do nothing for us. Use your most flattering shade often but also have variety.

There are many colors you can wear. It is boring to become correlated with just one color in the minds of our friends so that they think of us as blue, yellow, black, purple, red or brown.

OLDER OR YOUNGER

If you have been knocking yourself over the head with little color or the wrong ones, in either your house or your clothes or makeup, give it a thought. You can be stimulated or depressed by color and made to look and feel older or younger because of it.

Cooking is another one of the important C's. Cooking was started early in the history of man, probably by a man, no woman in her right mind would have started it.

Today cooking has a new connotation. We only strive to make food as attractive looking and as tantalizing as possible but we are interested in retaining all of its health value.

We broil and bake as much as feasible. We no longer pour water off vegetables but use a pressure cooker or cook them with as little water as we can. We do not add soda to the water.

We do not soak vegetables before cooking them. We do not peel fruit or cut up vegetables long before mealtime. We eat as many of the natural or vital foods as we can.

KEEP IN ICEBOX

We keep vegetables in the icebox until time to prepare them. We leave the skins on fruits. We do these and many more things in order to save as many of the valuable vitamins and minerals as possible.

Calisthenics is the last but not least important of the five C's which are so essential to all of us who would remain youthful.

I have written so often in this column about the value of exercise to health and to beauty that I will not linger on the subject today except to say that there is more and more evidence of its importance. We die of the sedentary life and boredom rather than from work or exercise.

If you would like to have my short routine of exercise planned especially for women send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 19 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Light Cake—Rich Filling—Luscious!

Mrs. Giese Cooks Custard Base for Creamy Frosting

By JANET ODELL

Today's recipe is for a luscious cake dessert. We tried the cake without the filling and frosting the day we got the recipe. It lasted just under twenty-four hours! There is no fat in the cake, except for what is contained in the eggs.

Mrs. Carl R. Giese whose recipe this is a new resident of the Pontiac area. She moved here from Cleveland. Her interests include as much volunteer work as she can manage, plus the care of a huge yard. She belongs to the Pontiac General Hospital Auxiliary.

ANGEL CUSTARD CAKE
By Mrs. Carl R. Giese

8 eggs, separated
1½ cups sugar
½ cup water
1 cup sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
Dash of salt
1 teaspoon flavoring

Add cream of tartar to egg whites and beat until stiff. The secret of this cake is in the beating. Make a syrup of the sugar and water and cook until it spins a thread.

Beat yolks until they are lemon color and add the cooked syrup gradually, beating all the time. Beat until mixture is thick. Fold in flour and egg white mixture.

Bake in an ungreased angel food cake pan 1½ hours in a 300-degree oven. Remove cake from oven and invert to cool.

Filling and Frosting

½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
1 egg
1 cup milk
Dash of salt
½ pound sweet butter
½ cup powdered sugar
Vanilla and almond flavoring

Mix all ingredients except butter powdered sugar and flavoring. Cook in a double boiler until mixture is thick. Cool. Beat butter and cold custard together until thick and creamy. Add flavoring and sugar. Use to fill and frost cake.

Wool Jersey Is Summer Material

The term, wool jersey, applies to a summer fabric. It means a tightly-knitted fabric with a rib clearly discernible on one side. Golfers prefer all-wool jersey shirts for their comfort in action, their softness, their ability to absorb perspiration and the way they hold their shape.

Short-sleeved and in bright solid colors, they strike a handsome match with flannel walk-shorts and lightweight tropical wool-worsted slacks. Wool jersey is also available in sport coats, where it imparts a more casual air. In seven- and eight-ounce fabrics, wool jersey sport coats are cool, comfortable and good-looking.

Consider Husband

Before you make social chitchat about anything that concerns your husband's job, think first whether or not he would like to have you mention the matter.

Need to Protect Porcelain Skin From Sun Rays

The season of sunning is here and most of us will spend hours on the beach or lawn. But not all of us. Some of us just can't take the sun. And others prefer to keep a porcelain skin.

In either case, there are many ways to avoid the summer sun. A sunshade is a help and very much in vogue, too.

A big hat is another aid. Pick your summer dresses with three-quarter or wrist-length sleeves. Even if the fabric is filmy, it helps to ward off the sun's rays.

You won't, of course, want to deny yourself the pleasure of going to the beach with friends. But you can take along beach jacket and hat and keep yourself well in the depths of shade.

If there isn't natural shade, make sure in advance that you can provide your own by means of a beach umbrella.

Shoes Should Fit

Shoes should fit and feel comfortable the first time you try them on. Don't go along with suggestions for stretching, inner soles or other alterations to make them fit. You won't be happy with the results.

Imagination Makes Knitting Useful

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Maybe it's my imagination, but it seems to me that almost everybody is showing more imagination these days.

I walk down the street and the shop windows seem so much more charming, so much more imaginative than they were just a few years ago.

MUCH MORE STYLE

The girls who pour out of offices at five in the evening are dressed with much more style than they were in my time.

They aren't all carbon copies of each other. They use a lot of imagination in fixing up the standard type of dress or they make their own.

Even the knitters, the little ladies who used to knit reams and reams of uninteresting and unusable gadgets, are turning out very attractive and imaginative things.

For example, the other day I went to visit friends in the country. On my arrival, I found their little girl, aged 4, was on her way to a birthday party.

She had on a charming cotton dress and the most adorable "dress-up" cardigan I ever saw.

It was pale blue, to match her dress, and on the pocket was a glittery black dog, made of tiny sparkling jet beads. I found that it was a "copy" of Tinker, her own black cocker spaniel.

TOLD THE STORY

It seems that her neighbor loves to knit, particularly sweaters for little girls.

For years she had been knitting things, but the market was limited. Hand-knit sweaters were more expensive than machine-knit and they weren't that special.

One day, this woman got the idea of putting applique beads on the sweaters, in designs that would have special significance for each little girl.

She found that any parent will pay a special price if the sweater is a custom-made party sweater, with a symbol on it that makes it uniquely her daughter's own.

SUESSFUL BIRTHDAY

She uses pets, houses, gardens or even favorite toys or favorite flowers. She even told me about one little girl whose birthday was a great success because she received a sweater which bore replicas of three of her favorite kinds of cookies!

Knitting is relaxing and fun and many women spend hours at it. But how much better it is to make things people want, than just things they tuck in the back of a drawer.

If you're interested in knitting and would like more variety in your wares, send me a stamped self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you a list of good pamphlets in the field.

Honeymoon to Bermuda Follows Church Rite

On a wedding trip in Bermuda are Mr. and Mrs. William Warne Wilson. Before their marriage at 8 p.m. Saturday in First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham she was Virginia Anne Smillie.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Smillie of Bloomfield Hills, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Warne Wilson are the bridegroom's parents.

Maid of honor was Elaine Cabot. Mrs. Andrew P. Diamond of Detroit, Mrs. Frank F. Hare Jr. of Charleston, W. Va., Mrs. J. Thomas McGrath of Sarnia, Ontario and Elinor McKay of Oakland, Calif. were the attendants.

They all wore gowns of yellow silk organza with shirred scoop necklines, full skirts with floating back panel and their hats were of yellow horsehair. The attendants carried bouquets of yellow roses with blue agapantha and tropical foliage.

Nuns to See Our History Come Alive

Teachers to Attend Summer School in Washington

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Sister Joan, young head of the history department at Trinity College here, believes that the best way to know American history is to "see it come alive."

Through her efforts, a group of 36 teachers of American history, sisters of the Notre Dame de Namur ord from 30 high and junior high schools throughout the country, have gathered in the capital to participate in a six-week Summer School of American Studies at the college.

ALL-EXPENSE TOURS

The school is financed by a $9,000 grant from the Coe Foundation and includes all-expense tours for the nuns.

Besides the usual seminars and lectures by distinguished historians, Sister Joan expects to make full use of Washington's resources with visits to Capitol Hill, the Library of Congress and various government agencies.

There will be trips also to points of historical interest in New York, Jamestown, Williamsburg and southern Maryland.

NEW ENTHUSIASM

Play Clothes Abound

Now that school is out, harried mothers are using their dryers daily to lighten the increased load of soiled play clothes. With the speed and simplicity of modern home laundry appliances, it's possible to keep kids in clean clothes daily with a smaller wardrobe supply.

Decorate Salads

Try a decorative touch on lettuce, tomatoes and salads. Roll a cone of waxed paper, fill with mayonnaise and fold shut at top. By opening the point a little, you can squeeze mayonnaise out, forming any design desired.

BY CHARLES WIGHTON
International News Service

Beautiful Soraya, the young betrothed of the Shah of Iran, recovered slowly from the attack of typhus which felled her in the fall of 1950.

Finally, early in 1951, she was well again and the happy Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi fixed the wedding for February 12.

The day before the ceremony, the Queen Mother handed over to Soraya the crown jewels. As she admired the priceless diamonds, rubies and sapphires in their gold and silver settings, she must have found it hard to believe that only nine months before, she was in a London finishing school.

The next day a white-faced Soraya drove to the Marmore Palace in the Shah's golden state car. In the great hall of mirrors, the Shah met her in his full-dress uniform. Side by side they sat in two brocade armchairs.

But when she was asked to make her responses, Soraya was overcome. Her eyes filled with tears and she could say nothing.

She was Queen of Iran.

Then an old Persian tradition had to be fulfilled. The royal couple crawled through a ceremonial arch while the Queen Mother sprinkled them with sugar mixed with pearls and gold coins. Once again Soraya was overcome. She seemed about to faint.

Supporting her, the Shah hurried his bride into a private room.

Two hours later the Shah and Soraya arrived at Goaleston Castle for the marriage banquet. But Soraya was still far from well. As they mounted the castle steps, the Shah heard her whisper: "Help me, Machmed, I'm going to faint."

Again she was hurried to a private room where the court physician, Dr. Agadin, made her take an energy pill. The Shah took a box of them in case she felt faint during the banquet. At last the feasting came to an end. As floodlights blazed on the castle and fireworks burst over Teheran, the royal couple were able to go hand in hand to their own apartments.

Month after month in 1951, Iran waited to hear that Soraya was pregnant. Gradually the first murmurings came into the open.

So the Shah had her flown to Europe for a medical examination. Various remedies were tried but without result.

As 1952 passed into 1953 it was obvious to everyone that the Shah and Soraya were even more passionately in love than when they had first met, but still there was no sign of a baby.

Iranian Prime Minister, Mohammed Mossadegh, began to hint openly that the Shah must get rid of "the childless Christian woman."

By the summer of 1953, a showdown between the Shah and Mossadegh was imminent.

On the night of Saturday, Aug. 16, the Shah suddenly told Soraya: "We must go tonight, Raya. Take only what you need for the next couple of days."

Two hours later, with the Shah at the controls of his private aircraft and accompanied only by an aide and a personal guard, they took off from the darkened private airfield — and headed west to Baghdad.

Next morning the world press broke the news: "The Shah and Soraya flee from Iran." And 48 hours later the Shah, tense and strained, led a weeping Soraya down the gangway of an airliner at Rome's arport.

Next morning Soraya told him, "Machmed, I've no clothes. We must go shopping."

They had scarcely returned from the shops before they were surrounded by reporters who told them excitedly, "You've won. . . Mossadegh has been overthrown."

The Shah decided to leave at once for Tehran but he persuaded Soraya to remain in Rome for a short holiday.

For days Soraya moped, reluctant to be parted from her husband. On the phone every night to Tehran she pleaded with the Shah to let her return. But conditions were unsettled and he persuaded her to spend the time seeing more European specialists on sterility. Again their treatments failed.

Early in 1955, accompanied by the Shah, Soraya visited America. Doctors examined her — once more without results.

On their return to Tehran in the spring, preparations were begun for Soraya's coronation.

Arrangements were complete when the Moslem priesthood intervened. The priests told the Shah they could never agree to the coronation of a childless woman whom they also suspected was still a Christian at heart.

Suddenly the coronation was postponed, and has still not yet taken place. Since then, the power of Soraya's enemies has been rising.

She is being attacked from all sides: by the priests who want the Shah to get rid of her, by the politicians who, although they favor Soraya, are faced with a serious crisis over her childlessness.

They have been demanding that the Shah must safeguard the future of their dynasty by getting as heir.

Under moslem law the Shah can take four wives. But such is his love for Soraya that he has always refused, knowing it would break her heart.

The latest medical examination of the couple took place in Switzerland. Upon the findings of the Swiss experts may rest not only the future of a throne, but the fate of one of the world's greatest royal romances.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Easton of Cooper street announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Anne, to William Alan Rookard of Dearborn. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Betty Lee Rookard of Denver, Colo. and the late Mrs. Rookard. William is a student at Wayne State Univeristy.

Finish Resists Stain

A new silicone finish has been developed to make upholstery fabrics water-repellent and resistant to non-oily stains. Spots can be sudsed of without having water penetrate into the padding.

Keep Lettuce Moist

Lettuce is largely water. Thus it turns up its toes easily and wilts when the water evaporates. Lettuce keeps best in a hydrator or plastic bag in the refrigerator. This helps keep it cool and moist.

Fall Colors Set Pattern for Fashion

Little Black Dress Bows Out for Riot of Reds, Sapphires

Each fall we are newly enchanted by the riot of color with which autumn overwhelms us. This year fashion tkaes a leaf from nature's notebook, and inspiration from her palette, to give us the most colorful mode we've had in years. Fall '57 may well be remembered as the time when the "little high color dress" supplanted the "little black dress."

Red is a fashion favorite as are intense sapphire blues, greens (emerald for evening, softer greens for daytime wools), greys, and many, many browns — caramel, amber, cigar and that most subtle mutation, "Autumn Haze."

In one of the most exciting and newsmaking collection, a maker of fine fashion jewelry, has complemented these gorgeous colors with fabulous "Black Diamonds," (a muted tone to harmonize with the new soft fabrics) smoked pearls and textured silver for blacks and greys; soft Indian sapphire shading to dark Montana sapphire for the various blues; emeralds for brilliant evening greens; pale tourmalines for daytime wools and rubies for red.

Unusually beautiful textures of gold blend perfectly with the multitude of browns, as does the deep smoked topaz. Dark smoked topaz and green tourmaline combined match the new tweeds for the ultra chic.

Dust With Dryer

You save time and energy by using your automatic dryer to dust nylon, Orlon or Dacron curtains.

Take care not to overcrowd the dryer since curtains need plenty of room to fluff up. Two or three pairs will be fresh, wrinkle-free and ready for rehanging in approximately five minutes. Such occasional fluffing to loosen surface dirt cuts down on necessary laundering, too.

'Hang' Camp Dishes

To simplify camp dishwashing, transfer tableware from the hot soap or detergent suds to a mesh bag. Then dunk the bag in a boiling water rinse, and hang it on the nearest tree until the clean dishes are dry.

Stop Pretending You Don't Care

BY MURIEL LAWRENCE

Amy's towel is stuffed untidily over the rack. Splashes of toothpaste spatter the basin, and over everything is sprinkled the powder Amy's applied to herself before rushing to her room to dress for a date.

Coming upstairs, we note this disorder. Mechanically starting to put it straight, we call out to Amy, "What do you take me for — your personal maid? What a disgrace for a 15-year-old girl to leave a mess like this. Honestly, I don't know."

Amy interrupts. Glaring, she dashes to her door, yelling, "Shut up! Stop nagging me!" — and slams the door in our face.

We stop tidying the bathroom. For a moment we just stare at the shut door. We imagine that we're furious — but what we are really feeling is terror — the painful knowledge of our helplessness.

It's so upsetting that our first impulse is to run away from it.

AN OLD HABIT

So this time we stay with it. We stand before the shut door fully experiencing our helplessness.

After a minute or two, we find ourselves thinking, "I could not feel more alone than I do now. I could not feel more unhappy than I feel now. So nothing Amy could ever do to me again could make me feel worse. I am not afraid of her any more."

Now we are ready to go over to the slammed door, open it and say, "Please tidy the bathroom before you leave."

We don't care if she obeys or not.

Amy's response to us has simply stopped mattering. What matters is our discovery that we can make a straightforward demand on her without terror of what she may do with it. We have felt helplessness right through to its end — and have discovered that we have survived it.

Up to now we've evaded it. We've neither pretended she wasn't humiliating us or that we didn't mind it.

'Put Best Face Forward'

Job Hunting Requires Extra Grooming Care

Regardless of her chosen field, a girl wants to look her best when job seeking. In the old days they used to advise young men, "Put your best foot forward." Nowadays our advise to young lady job seekers is, "Put your best face forward." Learn the cosmetic tricks that help make the most of what nature gave you.

For instance, if you have protruding eyes, apply darker eye shadow over the upper eyelids. If your eyes are sunken use lighter foundation. Bright eye shadow will also help.

Pinched nostrils will look more natural if lighter foundation is applied on the sides and blended into the regular foundation.

A receding chin will look more resolute if light tone is applied to chin starting from a point at the bottom of the lower lip and descending in a widening triangle to the sides of the jaws. Blending with the regular foundation must be carefully done to maintain the illusion.

In all cases, keep the young skin in tone by a daily massage with good quality witch hazel. Use light, upward strokes with the tips of the fingers. Be generous with the witch hazel and pat dry — makes a good "pores closed" base for your foundation.

A young lady who is careful of her own appearance will be bound to be careful in her business duties, and that's one of the big things employers look for.

Follow Directions

When you buy any garment read the hang-tag that comes with it with care. And then follow the directions. If it says "dry clean" don't decide that you'll just see how it washes. It won't and you'll be out your money.

Going Steady Gives Girl Feeling of Being Admired

Teenagers Have Found Easy Way to Gain Sense of Importance

By RUTH MILLETT

Want to know why teenage girls are so set on going steady?

One of my teenage readers has, I believe, given the main reason in a few well-chosen words.

She says: "What do teenagers get out of going steady, especially the girls? Well, it's very simple. We get attention and admiration and the knowledge that someone thinks we are pretty nice."

No matter how many surveys adults make or how many theories they advance to explain "going steady" they will never get any nearer to the heart of the matter.

At an age when parents find their children hard to understand and teenagers are convinced their parents have forgotten what it is like to be young, there is a great need for the teenager to feel admired and understood and important.

If a girl can wear some symbol showing she has a steady boy friend, she feels important.

ENOUGH ATTENTION

No wonder parents are fighting a losing battle against this "going steady" craze that has swept the country.

The need to feel admired and appreciated is so important to teenagers that once they have discovered an easy way to achieve that feeling they aren't going to give it up without a fight.

The pity is that the way they have found is too easy. It lets them coast along in a dream world in which, if they always manage to have a steady, they are completely satisfied with themselves.

But how can you make them see that getting the slavish attention of one person isn't much of a goal and that it's just an easy way of gaining a feeling of importance?

Test Color Fastness With White Towel

Pre-washing tip: Keep an old white bath towel near your washer or laundry tubs and use it to test color fastness. When there is doubt about a garment, soak a small inconspicuous section briefly in lukewarm water, then blot it between folds of your "test towel." If the dye stains the white, even slightly, be sure to wash the garment separately in lukewarm soap or detergent suds and rinses. It's wise to wash it as quickly as possible and give it an extra thorough rinsing.

She Snubs Passerby by Mistake

Wondering How to Make Amends for Rudeness

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other day while I was walking on the street, a woman came toward me in the opposite direction. She smiled as she passed, but as she did not look familiar to me, and my mind was on something else at the moment, I simply assumed that it was a case of mistaken identity and walked past her without recognition.

"A short while later it dawned on me who she is. She is a relative of a close friend, and I met her several weeks back at this friend's house.

"I feel terrible about this and certainly don't want her to think me a snob. Will you please tell me what I should do? Do you think I should call and apologize, or would it be best to just let it go?"

Answer: I think that if I were you, I would tell my close friend just what happened, and ask her to explain it to her relative.

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening my sisters and I, along with our husbands, were invited to a brother's house to meet our nephew's fiancee. As I left the house to go I thought of a bottle of perfume I had, untouched, which might be nice to take to the girl as a gesture of welcome.

"The other sisters brought nothing and because they didn't they were much upset and said that I made them appear cheap. Was it wrong of me?"

Answer: It was certainly not wrong of you, but it was perhaps thoughtless not to have remembered to tell them that you were doing so and give them a chance to find some little thing that they also might have taken.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My fiance's mother insists that her name be included on the wedding invitations along with my parents' names. I have never seen this done before, at least it is not customary among my friends, and I don't want to do anything that will cause criticism.

"On the other hand, I don't want to start married life with any unpleasantness. Would it be very wrong to include both sets of parents?"

Answer: You might have your fiance explain to his mother that she is the honored guest of your parents at the wedding and therefore her name cannot appear as a hostess.

Patterns, Prints Emerge to Make Gay Cotton Hats

Big or little, narrow or wide, hats this year are gay, patterned, and printed.

Cotton chapeaux are causing attention with their vivid blossoms—so real they're almost fragrant.

Styles range from dainty rosebud-printed cloches to enormous flowered cartwheels. Some are simple, others are splashy but they're all so pretty.

Even toques and turbans appear in exciting cotton polka dot or printed chintz, some accented with a flower, a jeweled buckle or a veil.

Before a fabric softener was used by women, clothes were smoothed with a stick to keep them wrinkle-free, looking new and feeling soft.

Hoeft Gains 3rd Decision

Tuttle Leads 5-2 Victory

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maybe it's coincidence, but Bill Tuttle went to work with his bat for the Detroit Tigers last night like a man with competition for his job.

He banged out three hits in five trips to the plate and scored two runs in the Tigers' 5-2 triumph over Baltimore. The victory gave the fifth-place Tigers a two-game edge over the sixth-place Orioles.

The coincidental part of Tuttle's performance is that he does have new competition for his job.

Jim Small, a former bonus player who did some work in centerfield last season while Tuttle sat on the bench, is back with the Tigers. The Detroit club recalled Small from Charleston of the class AAA American Assn., Sunday.

Tuttle, whose troubles started in spring practice when manager Jack Tighe accused him of being overweight and failing to give full effort, has been in a hitting slump almost the entire season.

Lefty Billy Hoeft scattered seven hits in holding down the Orioles for his third victory against five losses this season.

The game opened a three-game series. Frank Lary, the winningest pitcher in the American League last season with a 21-13 mark, is expected to start for the Tigers tonight, seeking his 5th victory. He has lost 12.

Billy Loes, a Brooklyn Dodger castoff from the National League who has blossomed in fine form with the Orioles this season, is expected to start for Baltimore. Loes, a member of the American League All-Star squad, has a 10-4 record.

The Tigers, still one game out of the first division, opened up with two runs in the first inning on two singles, two walks and a sacrifice off loser Billy O'Dell.

The Orioles got one back in the second but Tuttle again struck the first blow when the Tigers added another run in the third. He socked a double to left, took third on an infield out, and scored on Charley Maxwell's double to left center.

Gus Triandos' home run into the left field seats cut the Tiger lead to one run in the home half of the third.

The Tigers wrapped it up in the 6th with a two-run rally helped along by a Baltimore throwing error.

Six Players, Cash, Figured in Latest Deal

Veteran of 13 Years With Detroit Accepts Chicago Offer

DETROIT (AP)—Controversial Ted Lindsay, 31, who scored 700 points in 13 brilliant seasons with the Detroit Red Wings, has been traded along with All-Star goalie Glenn Hall to the last-place Chicago Black Hawks.

The fast-dealing Red Wings got in exchange four players — Johnny Wilson, Forbes Kennedy, Hank Bassen and Bill Preston — and what Detroit officials called "a considerable sum of cash."

The most penalized player in Detroit hockey history, Lindsay and general manager Jack Adams haven't seen eye-to-eye over the past couple of seasons. A Red Wings standout since 1944, the brash little forward was stripped of the team captaincy last season and frequently had been publicly criticized by the general manager for his outside business interests.

But Adams said: "All these wild rumors of personal differences between Lindsay and myself are without foundation. My job is to afford the hockey fans of Detroit and Michigan with the best possible team, and considering Wilson's youthfully proven experience and Kennedy's promise, I would be unfaithful to those fans if I hadn't done what I feel is best for the team."

Lindsay, a first-team All Star choice eight seasons and once placed on the second team, scored 85 points—second only to teammate Gordie Howe—last season. One of the smallest players yet one of the fiercest competitors in the NHL, Lindsay ranks as the fourth highest goal scorer of all time with 321 goals.

He called a press conference for noon (EST) today, explaining "there are some things I would like to say. . . nothing startling and nothing derogatory. I just feel that after 13 years in Detroit, I'd like to say a few things."

Lindsay, who broke in with the Red Wings when he was only 19, had insisted all along as the trade rumors popped up that he never would accept a trade and that he wouldn't play for another team. It is clear that the Black Hawks made him such an attractive proposal that he could not afford to turn it down.

This is the second major trade worked by the Red Wings in the past several weeks. Only recently they gave up several players to get back goalie Terry Sawchuk, whom they traded to the Boston Bruins in 1955.

TRADED—Goalie Glenn Hall will next season wear the uniform of the Chicago Black Hawks after he and Ted Lindsay were traded by the Detroit Red Wings.

16 Grid Lions Still Unsigned

Campbell Inks Contract Bringing Those Signed to Seventeen

DETROIT (AP) — Offensive guard Stan Campbell, a 225-pound six-footer from Iowa State, has signed his fourth contract with the Detroit Lions.

Campbell came to terms last night in a conference with general manager Nick Kerbawy, bringing to 17 the number of veterans signed to 1957 contracts. Sixteen veterans remain to be signed.

Campbell broke in with the Lions in 1952, was in service the next two seasons and returned in 1955. He had his best season in 1956.

The Lion rookies report Thursday with the first workout scheduled for Sunday morning.

Willie Opposes Willie in Arlington Handicap

CHICAGO (AP)—Bill Hartack, the nation's leading jockey and Willie Shoemaker, his No. 1 challenger, meet today in the $50,000 added Arlington Matron Handicap.

Hartack will be aboard Calumet Farm's Princess Turia and Shoemaker, flying in from California, will ride Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Pucker Up.

A field of 16 fillies and mares is entered in the one mile event and if all start, the race will be worth $58,425, with the winner picking up $35,450.

McDermott Takes Shot At a First Base Job

BOSTON (AP) — Maurice McDermott, the lefthanded pitcher who never lived up to expectations, is going to take a shot at first base for the Kansas City Athletics.

"I'm not going to give up pitching," McDermott said last night after working out at first prior to the A's 1-0 loss to Boston.

THE POWERHOUSE
By Jimmy Powers

Fred Haney hooked one spiked shoe on the bench, rested his chin on his knee and looked out across the heat waves that danced over the baked Polo Grounds infield . . . "How are things over in the San Francisco dugout?"

"I saw you talking to Bill Rigney. Tell him not to be so concerned over me and my ulcer. I should have an ulcer I admit, but if someone told me at the start of this season that I'd be struggling along without Adcock, Bruton and Aaron, I'd have worse than an ulcer. I'd have the gaudiest slit throat you ever saw."

Did he miss Adcock? "Silly question. Of course I miss him. I think I know what you mean. Frank Torre is better defensively. He played in 111 games for us last year, and now he is hitting around .300. He's a greatly improved player. He's a life saver."

"But those pitchers don't fear him as they did Adcock. When they would see Joe up there they would have to bear down on every pitch. That robs them of some of their stuff later in the game."

CONVINCED BRAVES CAN WIN FLAG

Did Haney honestly think the Braves can take the pennant? "Yes, I do. When the season began, pitching was the least of his worries. Every one of you writers said we had the best staff in the league, but all of a sudden our pitching went sour."

"In 10 games preceding the All-Star game only one pitcher was able to finish what he started. We were worried about Lew Burdette. Now he's starting to click, we will be in good shape.

"He has won a couple of fine games for us since the All-Star game."

Pitching made Milwaukee a strong pre-season choice, and pitching now appears to be the big factor in the race.

Wimp Johnson Hurls No-Hitter at Drayton

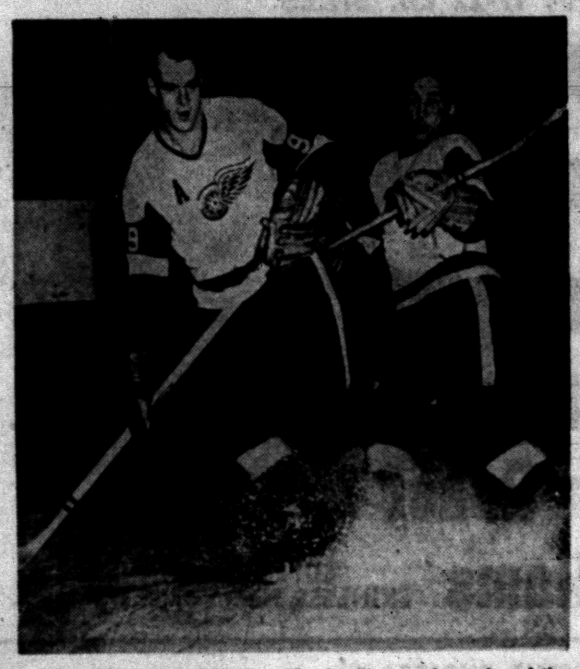

Glenn (Wimpy) Johnson hurled a no-hit, no-run game last night as Emmanuel Baptist downed Welden-Thrifty, 7-0, in Waterford League softball action at Drayton Plains.

It was the 3rd no-hitter of the season in the Waterford loop and the 1st for Johnson. "Wimpy" struck out 18 while walking only two.

Johnson's bat spoke almost as loudly as his arm. He slammed a three-run homer in the 2nd inning, clearing the left field fence with his blast.

SCORING TWINS SPLIT — The familiar scoring twins of the Detroit Red Wings were separated today when it was announced that Ted Lindsay (right) was traded to the Chicago Black Hawks along with Glenn Hall. Lindsay and teammate Gordie Howe (left) were for many years the one-two punch of the Red Wings.

Lindsay Leaves Wings With Colorful History

Despite his size—he is only five-feet-eight and 165 pounds—Lindsay neither asked nor gave favors on the ice. A bitter campaigner who once said "I hate to lose—even in an exhibition game," Lindsay ranks with hockey's all-time greats.

He's the highest scoring left winger of all time. Only three players have scored more goals than this mighty mite who will reach his 32nd birthday next Monday.

In 13 years as a Red Wing stalwart, Lindsay has achieved nearly every honor in hockey. Nine times he was named to the NHL All-Star squad—eight times on the first team.

Lindsay led the league in scoring in 1949-50 with 78 points. He was runner-up three times to teammate Gordie Howe.

Christened Robert Blake Theodore Lindsay, he came from the town of Renfrew, Ont., began playing hockey—as most Canadian youngsters do—before he was 10 years old. Lindsay had to overcome a serious leg injury to make the grade in hockey and finally made the jump directly from the junior ranks to the National League.

General manager Jack Adams figured Lindsay was nearing the end of his playing career and certainly could not be expected to perform as ably as he has over the past 13 seasons.

"I have no qualms about the trade," said Adams. "I feel confident that we got the best of the deal and that it will strengthen us considerably."

2 Pontiac Pairs Win U.S. Titles

(Special to the Pontiac Press)

John Beeding and Penny Money of Pontiac, Mich., won the intermediate dance final. Carl Masters and Shirley Brumley of Kansas City placed second and Donald Kenney and Lorraine Coney of Elmont, N.Y., were third. The dance win was the first for Pontiac since 1939.

Danny Riedl and Carol Rye of Pontiac captured the American juvenile pairs title. Brian Marchewka of Pontiac was fourth in the novice men's singles.

'Unsung' Netter Upsets Gil Shea

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Henry Van Renssalaer, a 37-year-old unseeded player from Greenwich, Conn., moved into the third round of the Pennsylvania Lawn Tennis Championships today after scoring the only upset of the second round.

Van Renssalaer, a former Princeton player, knocked off third-seeded Gil Shea of Los Angeles 6-3, 1-6, 6-3 yesterday.

Such Crust III Out of Gold Cup Races

DETROIT (AP) — Jack Shafer withdrew his big, twin-engined hydroplane Such Crust III from the Aug. 11 Gold Cup race in Seattle yesterday after driver Fred Alter said he would drive for rival race boat owner, George Simon.

"Fred told me last year and again this spring that he would drive for me," said Shafer, owner of a Detroit bread company. "Then I got a call from Fred telling me that he had promised to drive for George Simon."

"We were more ready for the Gold Cup than we ever have been But we've got too much money in the boat to try and break in a new driver now," Shafer said.

Pee-Wee League Scores

Furtney's breezed to a 6-2 victory over Motor City and the Whitfield Cubs defeated Sylvan P&H, 8-5, in Pee-Wee League baseball games Tuesday on the Whitfield School diamonds.

Pitching Key to Surge in Simmering NL Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pitching, the asset that made Milwaukee and Brooklyn heavy pennant favorites in springtime guessing, now has begun to edge the Braves and Dodgers ahead of the pack in that simmering National League race.

At the moment, anyway. The way this scrap is going, today's "facts" usually wind up as tomorrow's fancies.

Since the All-Star game break, the Braves have bolted back into the lead by winning 10 of 14, and they've received six complete games in the rally. The Dodgers, winning 11 of 13 in that same span, have had only two complete games from their staff, but have had the depth to provide a winning bullpen.

Pitching was the highlight again last night, with Bob Buhl trimming Philadelphia's failing Phils 1-0 on a two-hitter to retain the Braves' one - game lead over Brooklyn. Johnny Podres five-hit St. Louis in a 1-0 Dodger victory that dropped the third place Cards 2½ games back.

It was a good day for pitching all around. Pittsburgh's Vern Law worked through 14 1-3 innings as the Pirates defeated fourth place Cincinnati 6-3 in 15; and last place Chicago beat the New York Giants 4-0 as Dick Drott spiced a four-hitter with 14 strikeouts.

Buhl, a 27-year-old righthander who won 18 a year ago, gained an 11-6 record with a 4-0 mark against the Phillies. He struck out six, walked four and permitted only an infield roller by Harry Anderson in the fourth and a sixth-inning single by Ed Bouchee. The fifth place Phils now trail by 4½, losing seven of their last eight.

Podres, a 24-year-old southpaw, gained his first complete game ever at St. Louis with his fifth shutout of the season for an 8-3 record. He walked only one, fanned three and got Stan Musial on an inning-ending doubleplay ball with runners on third and first in the sixth.

Richard's Bolsters Lead, Commerce Moves Into 1st

Richard's Tavern reinforced its National League lead and Commerce Drive-In Theater took over 1st place in the women's circuit in city softball action last night at Beaudette and North Side parks.

Behind the steady seven-hit pitching of Art Weiss, Richard's defeated Pontiac Select-a-Drink, 7-2. The Tavern club now leads the National loop by three full games.

Commerce had a pair of three-run innings for a 6-3 triumph over North Side Auto Sales in their 1st place showdown. The two teams were deadlocked for the lead with 7-2 records. Nancy Carrothers homered in the 3rd for the losers.

Louie's Tavern made 12 hits, twice as many as Eddie's Bar, but still had to come from behind for a 5-4 victory. Two runs in the 6th tied the score and Bob Hobson's 7th-inning single tallied the winning run for Louie's.

In another Women's League game, Gingellville pushed the West Side Merchants deeper into the cellar with an 8-4 win.

Mantle's 'Cycle' Trips Hose

NEW YORK (INS) — New York Yankee haters aren't completely wrong when they attribute the team's success to luck and the umpires.

Last night, the Yanks got a break from each but they got a whole lot more from the booming bat of Mickey Mantle.

The slugging centerfielder, opening his stretch drive for a second straight triple crown, hit for the cycle to overshadow the brilliant shutout performances turned in by Milwaukee's Bob Buhl, Brooklyn's Johnny Podres, Dick Drott of the Chicago Cubs and Boston's Frank Sullivan.

The Yankees took a 10 - to - 6 decision from the Chicago White Sox as the teams opened their "crucial" three - game set and the Bronx Bombers took advantage of the breaks in the first inning.

With two out and none on, Bob Keegan fired a two-strike pitch to Mantle that looked good. All the White Sox players and even Mantle started to leave the field in anticipation of a strike call. But the ump called it a ball.

Mantle hit the next pitch to center and it fell for a double. Given two breaks the Yanks took charge of matters as Harry Simpson followed with a homer and a two-run lead.

The White Sox, who could muster only six singles, took advantage of some of the 13 walks handed out by the Yanks to regain the lead. But it all disappeared when Mantle hit a bases - loaded triple in the seventh that snapped a 6 - all tie.

Mantle's third-inning homer was a tape - measure job that traveled some 465-feet to the base of the huge scoreboard behind the bleachers.

Mantle, who also singled, tops the league in hitting (.367) and runs batted in (69). His 26 homers leaves him one behind Ted Williams.

The Yanks now lead the White Sox by 5½ games. Sullivan pitched his 1 - to - 0 shutout against Kansas City as he scattered 10 hits and struck out nine. Cleveland was rained out at Washington.

Sullivan's ninth victory of the season came against Virgil Trucks of Kansas City. Boston's lone run followed Joe Demaestri's error on what appeared to be an inning-ending doubleplay grounder. Billy Consolo's single scored Jackie Jensen.

Injuries Bench Gridders

WINOOSKI, At. (AP) — The World Champion New York Football Giants have lost veteran linebacker Bill Svoboda and rookie tackle Ed Hayes for at least six weeks because of injuries.

Svoboda, a defensive captain, suffered a sprain of the deep ligaments in the lower spine x-rays revealed today. The mishap occurred when Svoboda slipped on wet turf while warming up prior to Monday afternoon's practice session.

Player Drafts, Reserve Clause Needed by Pros

Bell Says These Factors Necessary if Pro Game Is to Survive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League told Congress today pro football needs both a player draft and a reserve clause to survive.

Bell said in testimony prepared for the House Antitrust Subcommittee that without these and other "equalizing" practices "the highly competitive and colorful sport that we know today would come to an end."

Bell, a thickset former player and coach, was the kickoff witness as the subcommittee delved into football as part of its investigation of the legal status of pro sports enterprises.

Chuck Bednarik, a linebacker for the Philadelphia Eagles, and Sid Luckman, former Chicago Bears quarterback, also were called for opening day testimony.

Bell said football would be "pleased to see" Congress enact bills that would either declare pro sports wholly free of antitrust controls or immune except for purely commercial activities.

Bell said that without the draft, wealthy clubs would corral the best performers and football would backslide to the old days when a few teams dominated the league. That kind of situation, he argued, would produce "disgruntled fans and empty parks."

"The larger the crowds," he said, "the higher the players' salaries go."

The average NFL salary last year, Bell said, was $9,216.

Carrier Pigeon Lands at Pontiac Lake Home

Residents at 9267 Camelot, Pontiac Lake had a feathered guest for several days this week. A wing-weary carrier pigeon, bearing a aluminum leg-band arrived at 9 p.m. last Friday, perched on the eave-trough of the home and was still there next day. Occupants of the home fed and watered the beautiful white brown-tailed bird. It appeared healthy, but not inclined to leave. It was still there Monday.

Leg-band bore the inscription; a diamond, followed by 46-W, 4692. The bird was caught in a net in order to read the band's figures.

Conservation officers advised the householders to release the bird, which they say will continue its flight when fully rested.

The Brooklyn Dodgers own five minor league clubs—Los Angeles, Montreal, St. Paul, Macon, Ga., and Thomasville, Ga. They have working agreements with seven other teams.

Archery Booklet Coming Out Soon

"Archery, The Family Sport," a 36-page booklet sponsored by the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club, will be released to the public in the Oakland County area early in August, it has been announced by Marshall Johnson, OCSC public relations director, and editor of the booklet.

"Archery" will be distributed free through cooperating archery dealers.

The booklet is designed to "give the residents of Oakland County a better idea of this rapidly growing family sport." Archers of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club welcome beginners into the sport and hope the new booklet will answer basic questions on sportsmanship afield, archery instructions, safety, and type of equipment to use.

According to a recent survey by the Athletic Institute, archery is one of the fastest growing sports, from participation standpoint. From 1946 to 1956 the total number of archers in the U.S. rose from 1,700,000 to 4,600,000, a jump of 170 per cent.

Brookies Ignore Weather

Fishing OK; Pollution Bad

By JACK PATTERSON

PATTERSON

There's a long-standing theory, cherished by fishermen, that when the hot days of mid-summer come along fishing goes to pot. So far we haven't noticed any sign of the big decline. Take last weekend for example. Without checking into figures compiled for the Press Hot Weather Contest, we assume it was the hottest one so far. Saturday it was 94 on the cabin porch up in Alcona County, and if anything, hotter at streamside. By rights all sensible brook trout should have been taking their ease in the deep holes and undercuts, spurning invitations to fight.

But where were they? All over the stream, basking in the shallows under the blazing sun as well as under cover. Anything that resembled food was instantly and eagerly accepted. This untroutlike behavior, in the heat of mid-day, cost a number of respectable fish all chances of seniority.

What the foregoing proves, if it proves anything at all, is that generalities about weather and fishing don't serve any useful purpose and that the time to go fishing is when you feel like it.

Not to change the subject but we wonder how long it will be before somebody does something constructive about stopping the pollution of Oakland County lakes. It's a big job, getting bigger every day with increased building activities around the lakes. Septic systems are not 100 per cent effective. Some soils can handle septic systems; others can't. We doubt if original designers of such systems ever envisioned their use on small lots in subdivision quantities. No combination of soil structures can take this forever. Put such a development at lakeside and pretty soon you've got a polluted lake. Add to it older residences whose dispersal systems are long overdue for relocation and you have a very pretty picture indeed.

Hand-Propelled Only

There seems to be a lack of knowledge on the part of skin divers and aqualung anglers regarding the use of powered underwater spears. Any type of powered spear, rubber-band, cross-bow, spring, or C02 guns is illegal in Michigan waters, says conservation officer Howard Johnson. Anglers may use only hand-propelled spears.

One may buy these pieces of equipment, use them, but not in state waters. One arrest was made two weeks ago involving use of the spear-gun and is now pending in local courts.

One way to lick the problem would be to institute a metropolitan sewer system. Unfortunately this would cost money and therefore is the type of idea that's a natural to die in committee.

In case our lakes still sound clear and sparkling let's not overlook the results of aerial sprayed insecticides. While a bit of DDT may add zest to the swimmer's normal intake of water, the many dead fish resulting from incidental spraying of the shallows offer little inducement to wallow about among them.

Angling 'Rodeo' on Thursday

Youngsters Have Date With Fish

They're going to have a whinging of a fishing rodeo (maybe it should be called a fisheroo), out at Beaudette Park millpond. But the city's elders better keep their fingers out of it, unless they just wish to be spectators, Thursday afternoon.

And the adults should find vantage points removed from the banks, otherwise they could find themselves in the "drink." There's going to be room only for the active anglers, some 500 of whom are expected for this annual fishing contest for Pontiac's youngsters from six to 15 years of age. City Parks and Recreation Department will conduct the affair from 2 to 3:30 p.m.

Young contestants will come from the city's playgrounds. More than 100 prizes will be awarded winners. Major awards go to the boy and girl catching the longest fish and the boy and girl getting most fish, regardless of sixe.

The contest is open to all youngsters in the city, between the specified age limits. Any one interested should see his or her playground director for detailed instructions.

Only the time-honored "garden hackle" (worms, or nightcrawlers) may be used — artificial bait is banned along with the casting and spin rigs and artificial flies. Fishing must be done only from the banks of the pond, boats are taboo.

There will be a Red Cross first aid tent to take care of any minor cuts or bruises.

Air 'Dusting' Called Reason for Fish Kill

Officials Investigate Report of Incident at Union Lake

By H. GUY MOTTS

Investigation of complaints from certain Union Lake waterfront residents that a heavy fish kill had occured there a few days ago has placed the blame for the fish deaths on a mosquito control aerial "dusting" job on adjoining Green Lake. There have been no additional complaints since the first report to sheriff Frank Irons and conservation officer Howard Johnson.

"When I looked the situation over that day," Johnson says. "I didn't see so very many dead fish. We've had worse conditions at other times. However, we have had a couple other similar, earlier reports affecting other lakes of the area. It is assumed that a plane using DDT caused the trouble and in order to get any action, the plane must be identifed by its wing numbers." There has been no action up to the present.

Borsum Winner of Skeet Test

Ains Borsum, Baldwin, Mich., veteran skeeter, is the 1957 Chief Pontiac tourney high-overall champion. Borsum not only grabbed the big title but he almost made it a one-gun sweep of the event at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club at Waterford last weekend. Borsum won the title with 246x350. He took the all-gauge with 99x100, the 20-gauge with 99x100 and the small (28) gauge with 100 straight. Chet Crites, Detroit, won the only other single event, the sub-small gauge with 49x50.

Borsum also teamed with Floyd Gilmore (Det.) to win all four 2-man events (410) 92x100; (28) 193x200; (20) 198x200; (12) 195x200, and shot a spot with the Detroit Gun Club, that won the 5-man title. He shot with Crites, Howard Confer, P. Harvey and Gilmore. They shot a 487x500 total.

Ontario Begins Probe

Seeks Cause for Erie Fish Kill

AMHERSTBURG, Ont. (INS) — Several biologists and conservation officials from the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests are conducting an investigation to find out why tons of fish are being washed ashore around Amherstburg.

During the past weekend, "fierce amounts" of fish of all species and sizes piled up on the shore from Amherstburg east to Colchester and beyond.

"I for one, believe it is a combination of things; hot weather, a certain amount of pollution and gill nets used by commercial fishermen.

"We have had tons of sheepheads, carp, bass, perch, smelt and walleyed pike washed ashore recently.

"I'm going out this week with some department officials and we are going to investigate this thing further."

Michigan state police and conservation officers said there have been no dead-fish reports on the American side of Lake Erie and the lower Detroit river.

Gerald Calhoun, in charge of the water resources commission was out reportedly checking reports that Michigan industry along the waterfront was dumping poisonous waste into the water.

So far, the cause of death is still a mystery. But dead fish continue to pile up on the banks.

All Hunters Wear 'Em

Must Have Tags on Back

LANSING — Small game hunters will have to wear back tags at any time they are hunting wild birds or animals in Michigan, the Conservation Commission decided at its recent meeting at Higgins Lake.

Now, however, hunting for varmints, predators and other types of off-season targets fall under this rule.

$10,000 Winner Back

DETROIT (AP) — Ed Lubanski, who rolled a 300 game and won $10,000 for doing it last week on Detroit television, returns tonight to face Joe Joseph of Lansing, Mich., on "bowling champions."

Game Regulations Set Up

LANSING — The Conservation Commission approved a number of small game hunting regulations at its recent meeting at Higgins Lake training school, but deferred action on deer, ruffed grouse and waterfowl until August.

Included in a long agenda were regulations on pheasants, rabbits, sharp-tailed grouse and prairie chickens, shooting hours and several minor points.

Pheasant season, which normally opens Oct. 20, this year will open at 10 a.m., Oct. 21. Oct. 20 this year is a Sunday and many counties prohibit Sunday hunting. The state legislature earlier this year enacted a law providing for an Oct. 21 small game season opening in the southern Lower Peninsula whenever Oct. 20 falls on Sunday.

Drummond Island will be open to sharptail and prairie chicken hunters this year, as will most of the Upper Peninsula. A portion of Chippewa county will be closed, as last year.

Near 6-Pounder Ineligible for Press Contest

Biggest bass of the season taken from a Pontiac area lake has missed out as a new leader for the 1957 Pontiac Press "big fish derby."

Only reason it doesn't top the list in the black bass division is that the fisherman who landed it at Walt's place, 8226 Highland road, is not a full time Oakland County resident. Present leader is a 5-pound-9½-ounce fish.

The largemouth weighed 5-pounds-10½-ounces, was 22 inches long. Walter Gdula, 18882 Dwyer, Detroit was fighing alone, using a No. 4 flatfish when he hooked the big fellow on a spin rig. He took two others that went four pounds.

Eligible fishermen must be full time residents of the county and fish must be taken in Oakland county waters.

Solunar Tables

The following solunar tables were prepared especially for the Pontiac area by the noted outdoorsman, John Alden Knight. They are designed to aid in selection of the best periods for fishing and other sports in season.

One-Hit Game for Zellhart

Zellhart struck out eight, walked three and allowed no one to advance beyond 2nd base. John Osler's 2nd-inning single ruined his bid for a no-hitter. Zellhart's teammates provided eight-hit support, three by Chuck Johnson.

In Class E action, Jeff Brady blasted a 6th-inning home run and Jerry Bates and Val Sansser each drove in three counters to pace Oxford's 10-3 rout of A & R Cartage. West Side Kiwanis dumped Clarkston, 5-1, behind the one-hit pitching of Fred Staley.

The Glenn Stewart team defeated Boys Club No. 2 by a 7-5 score and the Sheriff's Department gained a forfeit victory over the Auburn Heights Boys Club in Class F play.

In the National loop, the Yankees outscored the North Side Tigers, 21-12, and the Orioles massacred the Athletics, 26-3.

The Boys Club drubbed the White Sox, 25-2, and the Tigers chalked up an 11-5 decision over the Little Eagles in the American division.

Griff's Pours It on Thomas, 20-7

Grill Club Garners 18 Blows, Six by Zittel, in City Baseball Rout

Griff's Grill really "lowered the boom" on Thomas Die & Stamping last night, pounding out 18 hits for an overwhelming 20-7 victory in a Class A City League baseball game at Wisner Field.

Dave Zittel had a perfect record at the plate to pace the attack, making six hits in as many attempts. Starting and winning pitcher Jim Jones added three safeties to the cause and two other players collected two apiece.

John Shanks clouted a solo home run for the Grill club in the 4th inning. Griff's broke the game wide open in the 3rd stanza with nine runs as 14 men batted, then tallied seven more times in the 4th with 12 players hitting.

CIO Local 594 and the Pontiac Jets battled to a 2-2 tie in another Class A attraction yesterday at Jaycee Park. Darkness halted the contest at the end of the 9th inning.

Class B Title in Yacht Race Still Unsettled

Corona, originally declared first in Class B at the finish of the 333-mile race Monday night, was penalized by the protest committee on the complaint of the third-place Princess' crew.

The protest committee said, however, that race rules require the final decision to be made by the race committee of the Chicago Yacht Club, sponsor of the race.

Weather Eases Grain Trading

CHICAGO (AP) — Most grains were a shade easier in early dealings on the board of trade today.

Wheat held around even, while corn and soybeans eased on the basis of continued favorable growing conditions. There was little news to effect the trend of wheat in either direction.

Wheat traders appeared content to wait for flour business to develop. Liberal receipts by barge and lake steamer brought an estimated 400,000 bushels of the bread grain to Chicago overnight and this brought a little selling into the market.

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was unchanged to ¼ lower. Sept. $2.15; corn was ⅝ to ¾ lower, Sept $1.32½; oats were ⅛ to ⅜ lower, Sept 65⅝; rye was ⅞ to 1¼ lower, Sept $1.28, soybeans were ⅜ to 1⅝ lower, Sept. $2.46¼; and lard was 10 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower, Sept $13.50.

WINNER — Dolores Hart, 19, didn't win the contest for the role of "Saint Joan," but she's not worried about it now. She wound up playing Elvis Presley's girl friend in "Loving You" and found another part in "A Woman Obsessed." Dolores comes by her career naturally—her grandfather was a movie projectionist and she saw them all free.

To Question Board in Monroe Firing

MONROE (AP) — After talking to dozens of teachers and parents, a National Education Assn. committee today will discuss the firing of school principal Ruth Amen with members of the Monroe Board of Education.

Dr. Richard B. Kennan, secretary of the NEA's defense committee, said more than 70 persons have been interviewed since the NEA investigation opened Monday behind closed doors.

Miss Amen had been principal of Boyd Elementary School for 11 years until last March, when school Supt. Fred Strong refused to renew her contract. The Michigan Education Assn. asked the NEA to investigate after the Monroe School Board refused to restore Miss Amen as principal.

Strong has charged Miss Amen with "incompatability." He called her a "perfectionist" who had "her own ideas" about school administration.

Living Cost, Buying Power Rise in June

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's cost of living index bounced up another one-half of one per cent in June to its tenth record high in as many months.

The increase, reported today by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, means that some 650,000 workers in the electrical manufacturing, aircraft, trucking and construction industries will have their pay increased by from two to four cents hourly under contracts geared to the consumer price index.

The spendable earnings of factory workers and the buying power of their paychecks also turned upward slightly in June, causing the first rise in "real earnings" since last December.

Graham to End Crusade Aug. 10

Crowd Second Smallest as Meetings Resume in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—A spokesman for Billy Graham said last night the evangelist will end his New York crusade Aug. 10. The campaign began May 15 and has been extended twice.

Roger Hull, chairman of Graham's local sponsoring committee, said an extension beyond Aug. 10 had been discussed but finally ruled out.

Graham affirmed the decision in his appearance before 15,000 persons at Madison Square Garden last night. He said he and his wife plan a vacation starting about Aug. 15. He gave no location.

In his hourlong sermon, Graham said, "Prayer is a proof of God" and "is God's method whereby we approach him."

At Graham's call 396 persons made "decisions for Christ." That brought the over-all total for the crusade to 35,632. Total attendance rose to 1,218,000.

Last night's crowd of 15,000 was the second smallest of the campaign. The attendance low for the crusade was set May 16, the second day of the revival, when 13,500 showed up.

The Garden seats 18,500.

A Graham spokesman described the attendance "as very good under the circumstances." The crusade was scheduled to end last Saturday. The decision to extend it was made the day before.

There was no time to arrange for mass attendance by church groups and other delegations last night, the spokesman said. But he added that the system of group reservations is being invoked again for the rest of the extended

AEC May Withdraw Subsidy to Monroe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House-Senate Atomic Energy subcommittee wants to eliminate a five-million-dollar subsidy to the atomic power plant under construction at Monroe, Mich.

The decision was announced yesterday by Rep. Holifield (D-Calif), chairman of the joint congressional subcommittee.

The full committee will receive the recommendation.

While the denial of the money would not prohibit the atomic energy commission from authorizing construction and operation of the plant, it would prevent the AEC from contributing to the cost of the project in the form of services and research.

Holifield said he did not know what effect the subcommittee's decision would have on the future of the plant.

The 57-million-dollar installation, known as the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant, is being built by Power Reactor Development Co., a combine of private firms.

New Advertising Head

DETROIT (AP)—Rene L. Linden, employe information manager, is the new general advertising manager of Michigan Bell Telephone Co. He succeeds Thomas M. Pegram, who was named general public relations supervisor in charge of production. The announcement was made by Vice President W. C. Patterson.

Rails, Aircrafts Early Gainers

Leading issues posted gains or losses running from fractions to around a point.

The market showed an irregularly higher trend at the opening which was fairly active. But once initial blocks were disposed of, the pattern became mixed and turnover slowed.

Leading rails had an edge to the upside and aircrafts were slightly higher. Nonferrous metals leaned to the downside. Oils showed practically no change. Despite predictions of higher prices for tires this summer, Goodyear and Goodrich were off fractionally.

The description of the economy as "spotty" by Commerce Secretary Weeks who also said indications are that 1957 will be a record year for the economy and the new tensions in the Middle East were background factors

Ford, Caterpillar, American Smelting, Phelps Dodge, International Nickel and Illinois Central were among the losers.

'Intimate Friends' Say Kennedy to Be Father

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—"Intimate friends" are quoted by the New Bedford Standard-Times as saying John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Mrs. Kennedy are expecting their first child in the fall.

Kennedy, 40, and the former Jacqueline Lee Bouvier, 27, of Newport, R. I., were married Sept. 12, 1953 in St. Mary's Church Newport, by Archbishop J. Cushing of Boston.

AWARD WINNER — Henry E. Gotham, right, manager of the Pontiac Retail Store, 63 Mt. Clemens St., accepts the Knudsen trophy from S. E. Knudsen, general manager of the Pontiac Motor Division. The award was made in recognition of Gotham's superior sales record during the recent "Drive the Champ" contest. Nearly 50 per cent of Pontiac's dealers either met or exceeded their sales quotas during the sales campaign.

Unexpected Plane Trip to New York Raises Gloomy Speculation

ROME (INS) — Comedian Red Skelton and his family unexpectedly boarded a New York - bound plane tonight, leading to speculation that the condition of his leukemia-stricken son has deteriorated.

Skelton gave no explanation of the change of plans. He, his wife, daughter Valentina and son Richard, 9, who has been predicted to die within a year by doctors, left Rome aboard a Pan American World Airways plane due in New York at 7:30 a.m. (EDT) Thursday.

Earlier, the Skeltons had literally fled Rome by automobile, the comedian complaining about a swarm of pursuing newsmen.

They previously had announced they would go to the monastery of San Giovanni Rotondo today to allow Richard to see Italy's famous Padre Pio, a 68-year-old monk known for his piety.

But Skelton then announced, possibly to throw Italian reporters off the track, that the family had decided to go to Paris this afternoon.

The comedian complained: "This trip is turning into a three-ring circus. There are altogether too many reporters and photographers and too much publicity. We now would like some peace."

Richard, Skelton said, has been tired out by the visit to Italy.

Piggins in Hospital

DETROIT (INS)—Doctors said today Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins who collapsed this morning in his home will be confined to Receiving Hospital for several days. Piggins' illness was tentatively diagnosed as a kidney stone attack. He was listed in good condition.

Pakistan's Chief Sees Night Life

DETROIT (AP) — After a look at Detroit night life, the Prime Minister of Pakistan inspected Detroit's industrial might and prepared his departure today

Huseyn Shaheed Suhrawardy is on a one-week tour of the United States at the invitation of President Eisenhower

Carrying a 16-MM. movie camera, he visited the Chrysler-Plymouth automobile assembly plant and Greenfield Village yesterday. He was the guest of honor at a banquet last night.

Suhrawardy, sporting a 10-gallon cowboy hat given him at a Rodeo in Arizona, arrived Monday night and overturned the itinerary laid out for him.

Advised that the first order of business was a good night's sleep to prepare him for a hard day of touring industrial centers, he said: "Silliest itinerary I ever heard of. Let's go out on the town."

After a brief discussion among the Pakistani and the U.S. State Department officials, the party set out in Taxis. Aides said they would visit a cabaret or two.

Dental Fears Scouted

CHICAGO — Dentists estimate that only 45 per cent of the American people see a dentist each year, because of fear of pain. But they say that today's anesthetics, treatments, and particularly newly developed highspeed drills make this fear largely groundless.

Market Booms in Venezuela

By LARRY ALLEN

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — A booming stock market in the capital of oil-rich Venezuela is making some Venezuelans wealthy almost overnight.

The volume of operations in the "Bolsa de Commercio de Caracas" now is nearly ten times that of 10 years ago — and there seems to be no end to the mounting turnover.

Organized back in 1946, the stock exchange has steadily developed into one of the major financial institutions of the country. It has become a primary source of capital for the thriving Venezuelan industry and an outlet for investors to employ their capital.

The exchange started with 22 seats, selling at 1,000 vollvares (about $330) each. Recently, a seat was sold for 300,000 vollvares — about $100,000.

Approxdmately 100 stocks and bonds now are quoted on the exchange. Oil and oil products shares and bonds usually lead each day's brisk trading.

The prosperity evident everywhere in Venezuela — spurred by the government spending hundreds of millions of dollars it gets out of oil production, mainly by American companies, on huge public works projects — is reflected daily in the stock exchange.

Some investors have made huge profits virtually overnight. Others have seen their investments double or triple within a six-month period.

Cement Supply Short Steel Holds Steady

NEW YORK (AP) — A cement shortage caused by strikes is slowing down construction in some areas "but this is having little or no effect on demand for structural steel," Iron Age said today.

Major steel users may be touching bottom on inventories, the publication said, adding, "the apparent reduction of steel stocks to near-working levels is just one reason for growing optimism for second half steel demand."

"August sheet demand," Iron Age said. "will be little better than July. But the tail end of August is expected to mark beginning of the upswing. Some steel men foresee a relatively tight sheet market in November and December."

X-Rays Provide Much Radiation

Report Says Nearly Half Safety Limit Reached in Medical, Dental Use

WASHINGTON (INS) — Americans are getting almost half of present radiation safety limits from medical and dental X-rays alone, according to a new scientific survey.

The Academy, a non-governmental group composed of the nation's top scientists, concluded a year-long study of potential health hazards from radiation in June of 1956 by declaring:

—Each person should not receive more than 10 roentgens of radiation to the reproductive organs from all sources during the first 30 years of life.

(Roentgens are units of measurement for the invisible, odorless, silent and tasteless radiation that emanates from certain kinds of atoms. Amount of exposure of the sex cells is considered crucial, since radiation can cause damage in these cells which might turn up in future generations in the form of disease-proneness, defectiveness and early death.

(A 30-year-span was chosen because most children are born to people 30 years of age or under.)

—At present (1956) the average person receives 4.3 roentgens to the sex glands over a 30-year-period from natural background radiation — earth, atmosphere and water. Some three roentgens come from X-rays and about one-tenth of one roentgen from nuclear weapons tests.

Dr. John S. Laughlin and Ira Pullman, two scientists of New York City's Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research, undertook a new survey of the amount of radiation individuals get from X-rays because there was a controversy as to the accuracy of the figures at the time of the 1956 study.

In a preliminary report, the Sloan-Kettering scientists estimated X-rays are delivering 4.6 roentgens to the sex organs during the reproductive period.

If correct, their estimate is expected to give strong support to moves to outlaw shoe fitting machines and other non-medical uses of X-rays. It will also give impetus to efforts to make X-ray machines with less "scatter."

Location of Body of Eva Peron Still a Mystery

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Five years after her death the fate of Eva Peron's body is a secret to the Argentine people.

She rose to power with dictator Juan D. Peron in the 40s, and died of cancer July 26, 1952.

When Peron was overthrown in 1955, the corpse, preserved by a costly embalming job, was found in a secret room of the General Confederation of Labor Building.

The men who booted out Peron vowed to wipe every vestige of Peronism from Argentina. They ordered Eva's body carted away to a place known only in the highest councils of Gen. Pedro Aramburu's revolutionary regime.

Peronists have charged Eva was cremated and her ashes strewn from an airplane into the muddy Plata River. Others say Eva lies in a secret grave.

If Eva's burial place were revealed it would almost certainly awaken new fervor in diehard Peronists, such was her hypnotic hold over her followers. Clandestine Peronist leaflets that appear in this capital's streets often bear Eva's picture.

In Arabian Desert

Fear Rich Oil Supply Threatened by Uprising

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Another of those tribal uprisings in a remote southeastern Arabian Desert threatens international repercussions because the area is believed to be very rich in oil.

Clashing British and American oil interests, old Arab family feuds and Saudi Arabian claims all are in the background.

Britain is going to send military aid to the Sultan of Muscat and Oman, said Bin Taimur, who for years has been feuding with the Imam, or spiritual leader, of Oman, Ghaleb Bin Ali.

The London government said that the rebels in the interior of the country near the entrance to the Persian Gulf have been getting outside aid—a clear reference to King Saud of Saudi Arabia.

Any shift in local control in the area affects the claims of Saudi Arabia and the Sultan of Muscat and Oman. The latter has appealed to the British for aid and put his interests in the hands of the British.

Saudi Arabia, however, is working closely with the United States, whose oil interests have been pumping oil from that country. Thus, British-American relations are directly involved in any dispute in Eastern Arabia.

Britons are suspicious that the United States is trying to replace them entirely in the Middle East. One of the first questions asked in the House of Commons Monday was whether American arms were being shipped into rebel hands in Oman. Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said he had no evidence that they were American.

The present struggle in central Oman, about 200 miles inland from the coastal capital of the Sultan, is parallel to the struggle for control over the Oasis of Buraimi, at the northern end of Oman.

In 1952 Saudi Arabia backed a long-standing claim to Buraimi by sending a force of irregulars to occupy it. Levies under British officers kicked out the Saudi Arabians in October, 1955.

These British-led levies were operating on behalf of the Sheikh of Abu Dhabi and the Sultan of Muscat, whose territories, in the British view, meet at the oasis.

Neither Buraimi nor central Oman to the south are of great importance in themselves. But Buraimi commands desert trails in all directions. Any group controlling the oasis can send arms and money freely throughout Oman.

The Sultan thinks he might have great oil royalties beneath the disputed sands. He thinks King Saud is moving greedily into his own land by supporting the rebal Imam. The British in effect think the same and will support the Sultan. If the British refused they would risk alienating other oil sheikhs in an area whose production is vital to British economic life.

Injections Make Ducks Change

26 Ducklings Appear to Have Inherited New Characteristics

PARIS (AP)—A French scientist claims to have changed some characteristics of ducks by injections and that many of the next generation inherited the changed characteristics.

"It is possible that this has been done for the first time," Prof. Jacques Benoit of the College of France said in a paper read yesterday before the Academy of Sciences.

Benoit suggested that application of his discovery to humans could have "far-reaching effects," possibly in increasing resistance to certain diseases.

Benoit reported that last April a team of researchers under his direction altered the characteristics of 12 Peking ducks with injections. Of 26 ducklings hatched, about 70 per cent displayed the parents' new characteristics, he said.

The paper emphasized that further experiments would be necessary before drawing any conclusions but said the results noted so far "could be considered as significant."

In the experiment, three male and nine female eight-day-old Peking ducks were given injections of desoxyribonucleic acid, also known as DNA, which had been extracted from testicle cells of ducks of the khaki Campbell species. The injections were made into the tissue protecting abdominal organs.

Benoit said marked changes were produced in the color of the beaks and feathers of the ducks, their size, the shape of their heads and bodies and the way they walk.

The feathers changed from yellowish white to snow white. The beaks took on a dark green hue instead of the normal yellow. Size was reduced about one third.

The paper read said the ducklings, which are now old enough to give definite indications, had taken on the same color of beaks and feet as their parents.

Lana Turner, Crane See Injured Daughter

ESTES PARK, Colo. (AP)—Actress Lana Turner and actor Steve Crane will fly today to the bedside of their daughter, who was injured in a fall from a horse.

A day before her 15th birthday, Cheryl Christine Crane is recovering today from a compression fracture of the vertebrae, internal injuries and a slight brain concussion. Dr. J. O. Mall said, however, she is out of danger.

The fall occurred Sunday while Cheryl was riding bareback near the lodge where she has been visiting with her grandmother, Mrs. Mildred Turner of Beverly Hills, Calif.

Her mother and Crane are divorced.

Arab Tribesmen Bombed by Jets

Attack Strongholds Held by Rebels Who Oppose Pro-British Sultan

LONDON (AP) — Rocket-firing British jets opened "offensive sorties" today against mountain strongholds held by tribesmen in revolt against the pro-British Sultan of Muscat and Oman, press reports said.

The aerial strikes, ordered at dawn following the expiration of an ultimatum to the tribesmen, were aimed against "pinpoint targets" in the mountain area of Nizwa, capital of the sultanate in the southeastern area of the Arabian Peninsula. The planes were reported to have taken off from the Royal Air Force base Sharjah on the Persian Gulf.

RAF planes dropped thousands of leaflets over rebel-held areas of the Arabian Peninsula state Monday and yesterday warning dissident tribesmen to end their revolt against the British-allied Sultan, 47-year-old Said bin Taumur, by last night.

Fighting broke out last week when followers of the exiled religious leader of Oman swept down from the mountains to attack villages in the sultanate. The religious leader, Imam Ghalebe ben Ali, was driven into exile in Saudi Arabia two years ago.

An estimated 1,500 rebels have seized control of some 5,000 square miles of the 82,000-square-mile sultanate in the southeast corner of the Arabian Peninsula.

Britain has pledged "full support" for the Sultan of Muscat and Oman, with which it has had treaty relations since 1829.

City Has No Plans to 'Get Tough' With Teenagers

Pontiac has no plans to "get tough" with teenagers, but Police Chief Herbert W. Straley hopes the prosecutor and courts do.

Straley said today that his department is participating in the exchange of information on juvenile gangs which the Tri-County Juvenile Officers Assn. is establishing.

Detroit judges have announced they will cooperate in the crackdown by handing out stiff sentences to youthful brawlers.

Straley said the idea for the information pool originated with the Southeastern Chiefs of Police Assn. and was worked out by the Juvenile Officers Assn. in which Pontiac is represented.

"All we can do, is keep arresting the trouble makers, as we always have done," the chief said, "and hope the prosecutor and the courts will not turn them loose to repeat their crimes."

"We find it is the same bunch of young hoodlums that give us trouble over and over again," he added.

Criticize Method of City Assessing

Willman Will Be Asked to Study Formula Used in Certain Projects

The city's method of assessing for sidewalk projects for odd-shaped lots came in for some criticism from Kenneth G. Hampstead, Pontiac insurance salesman, last night.

But City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn defended the formula and told commissioners they had approved it. Upon his return from vacation, City Manager Walter K. Willman will be asked to study it.

Hempstead, of 102 Huron St., in a letter to the commission, protested being assessed for five lots on Monterey boulevard, which he said only had a frontage of 50 feet, but that the city was assessing for 62 feet.

He criticized the formula for odd-shaped lots of adding the front and rear frontage, and dividing by two for the frontage on which owners are charged for the sidewalk work.

"For the life of me I cannot see any sense in such a formula," the letter read, "since a sidewalk goes on the front of the lot and not half way between the front and rear."

Wrenn said the formula was established to make the charges for non-rectangular lots more uniform. But he admitted the assessments are "higher for some and lower for others."

The assessed cost for the work will be $4,863.85. The city cost of the total $17,622 project will be $12,758.15. Cost for the 105-foot side lot will be $315.

Estimates were also presented by the city clerk on a proposed reconstruction of five-foot concrete sidewalk and chance of grade for the west side of Jessie street from Auburn avenue to approximately 385 feet north, and for grading and graveling of the alley west of Telegraph road from Voorheis to Hazel.

Public hearings will be held next Tuesday on both jobs.

No objections were voiced last night on the intention of the city to construct curb, gutter, and related work on Fairmount avenue from Baldwin to Carlisle.

In final action, commissioners accepted special assessment rolls for two sidewalk projects, and set payments for a third.

Woman Wants Half Her Ashes Buried With Dogs

LANSING (AP) — In accordance with the provisions of an unusual will, the ashes of a Lansing woman will be divided following cremation and buried in two separate resting places — one a dog cemetery.

Miss Mary Ellen Blaich, 92, a dedicated dog-lover and former rooming house operator who died here Saturday, specified the burial arrangements.

Following funeral services today, her body will be cremated and half the ashes buried in the family plot at a Dansville Cemetery and half interred with her pet dog in the Humane Society Pet Cemetery here.

A native of White Oak Township, Ingham County, Miss Blaich taught in a one-room school at Dansville and at Jackson High around the turn of the century. She operated a boarding house for students at Ann Arbor between 1918 and 1924 and later operated a similar boarding house in East Lansing until 1928.

She was an enthusiastic gardener and a baseball fan who could quote all the batting averages as well as a pet lover. She has no known survivors.

Seek Reason for Death of Fish in Lake Erie

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Canadian health officials are trying to find out what caused the death of thousands of smelt and pickerel in western Lake Erie.

Mackinnon Phillips, Ontario Minister of Health, ordered an investigation yesterday after summer residents and picnickers in the area around Pointe Pelee complained.

Robert Ferguson, an Ontario Department of Lands and Forests biologist, said he believed depletion of oxygen in the shallow lake and a fungus disease probably were responsible.

Williams Asks for Plan to Cut State Drownings

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams has directed State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs to start working on a plan to cut Michigan's rising toll of drownings.

Williams issued the order through his office yesterday after taking stock of the state's 22 drownings last weekend. He described the toll, second highest in the nation, as "shocking" and said it indicates "that we have a public safety problem in this area which is second only to the problem of highway accidents."

Copper is the metal most frequently used for the hardening of silver.

Pontiac City Affairs

Reappoint Municipal Court Clerk

Leo F. McDonald last night was reappointed to another two-year term as clerk of Municipal Court by the City Commission.

McDonald, 60, of 37 Omar St., was first appointed as clerk in 1942. His new term will run from Aug. 1 through Aug. 1, 1959.

He was recommended for reappointment by Municipal Judges Maurice E. Finnegan and Cecil B. McCallum. There were no other niminations for the post by the commission.

Also placed before commissioners last evening were several bids for furnishing the $875,000 Public Safety Building.

Upon the recommendation of Assistant City Manager Robert A. Stierer, the commission only accepted a low bid of $2,323 from the International Venetian Blind Co. of Detroit.

Postponed was action on bids for courtroom benches and counters for the building, so as to permit further study of specifications of the bids, Stierer explained.

Commissioners approved the cancellation of an option previously granted the Army for a five-acre Orchard Lake avenue plot, propose at one time to house a new Army Reserve Training Center.

Army officials requested the cancellation when they learned the site could not be used unless additional funds be provided for footings, as the area once was a city sanitary fill.

The Marine Corps League received permission to hold a carnival in Pontiac next year from May 22 through May 31.

Added to this year's public improvement program were the following projects:

Curb, gutter, and related work on Bagley street from South boulevard to Arthur street. A public hearing will be held next Tuesday on this proposed job.

Grading and graveling of Palmer drive from Mt. Clemens to the north end of the drive.

Grading, graveling, and related work for the alley between Sanford and Ardmore, and north of Auburn.

All three projects were offered as public necessities by the commission. The city engineer was instructed to prepare planned profiles and estimated costs for the last two. Costs were presented on theBagley street project last evening.

A. — Our tremendous buying power directed through streamlined buying sources makes this price possible.

B—TO SERVE YOU BETTER WE HAVE enlarged and redesigned the area's only authorized HOME PLANNERS CENTER.

C—We have added a new KING SIZE magnetic HOME PLANNER AND VISUALIZER. It will enable you to see how furnishings, cabinets and other arrangements will be in the plan of your choice or help you rearrange the plan to meet your requirements.

D—To help you we have vastly increased the number of our plans to 1500 and working blue prints and material lists to 600 in our 20 ft. long filing cases. These plans are by the world famous designer, Richard B. Pollman, with architects Palmquist & Wright, A. I. A. We will price any of these or your own special plan.

Please phone for an appointment, we'll be pleased to help you with your building problems, including financing and a lot.

UNBELIEVABLE BUT TRUE

Columnist Doubts That Singers Will Take Over Video

Debunks Trend Against Comedy

Believes Public Merely Grew Tired of Some TV Funnymen

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Vic Damone's new CBS-TV show emphasizes one vital and frightening fact so far as the "trend" toward singers on TV lording it over comedians is concerned.

The very fact that a singer performs satisfactorily as a singer is not enough to make any TV show a success. The success of Dinah Shore and Perry Como and, in his few TV solo appearances, Frank Sinatra, does not make the world safe for singers nor unsafe for comedians.

In fact, one has little to do with the failure of the others. It simply came as a matter of broad coincidence that certain comedians had been around too long and too often—Caesar, Gleason, Buttons, etc.—and so they sank in their channels of their own over-exposure and under-imagination.

But their failures do not mean comedians can't make a go of it on TV. Else, Groucho, Phil Silvers, Jack Benny and Burns and Allen likewise would have dived to the bottom instead of remained floating atop the channels and ratings.

It's not enough to say the public is "tired of comedians." The public isn't tired of comedy. It's merely tired of the same old concepts framed in the identical fashion week after week.

IT KILLS ITSELF

Broad, violent comedy kills itself, for once the public sees through the tricks of comedy it doesn't stop on the way to switch a dial to realize it has managed a mighty feat of mass psychology in seeing through such entertainment mysteries.

Still, because a lot of such comedians have failed recently and a few singers have succeeded doesn't mean perforce the singers will inherit the channels.

The pretentiously inexpert Vic Damone show and the less than expert writing, direction and general assistance given Julius La Rosa should halt singers generally from any calm certainty they are next season's automatic idols.

We have serious doubts, for instance, that Pat Boone will either make it big or permanently in TV to match his present peak of bobbysox appeal.

SURE OF GISELE

We have almost no doubt at all that Gisele MacKenzie will make it importantly next season.

As for comedians, we watched Jimmy Durante recently in one of his old filmed segments which weren't even his best, and had a fine full hour of laughs.

Meaning TV is like any modern farm: To get the best crops you must revolve them often, as the ground in which they flower (in this case, the public) gets tired of them.

Therefore, the "trends" may swing back one season soon to make Caesar, Gleason, even Pinky Lee popular once again.

Water's Radioactivity Said Over Safe Limit

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The State Health Department today reported spot checks disclosed "radioactivity higher than the safe limit for continuous ingestion" in runoff water from Sierra Mountain snow in three northern counties of California.

The radioactivity is nothing to get alarmed about, said Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill, state health director.

Dr. Merrill said the "continuous ingestion" phrase meant "some danger might be involved if a person were to drink the runoff waters over a period of months.

He said a follow-up check will be made when the current series of atomic tests in Nevada is completed.

HOLLYWOOD—Bing Crosby wants to retire!

He's only 52—but this is the rock 'n' roll age. Bing would like just to travel. But the government won't let Bing retire. It needs the tax money.

Uncle Whiskers says to Bing, "Be a nice guy, and keep workin'—we got to have that tax bite we put on you every year or we're in trouble."

WILSON

So Bing'll do maybe one film a year. He's given Herb Polesie and O.K. on a picture about composers Harry Warren and Al Dubin—with fat Jackie Gleason playing the late Dubin, who was also fat. Bing envisages it as a picture which "would introduce Jackie to Europe."

Polesie, by the way, tells me that when the rich Beverly Hills High School students graduate, they tip the principal.

Cy Howard's hoping to put on TV the Pilot Film he and Zsa Zsa Gabor made two years ago titled, "Just Plain Folks." It's about a simple Hollywood writer and his wife who have a four-acre home in the middle of Beverly Hills. The opening scene shows Just Plain Zsa Zsa polishing her diamonds. Later a photographer wants to shoot a tender at-home scene.

"Vahnderful, dolling," says Zsa Zsa. "Vere's de kitchen?"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

A BIG MYSTERY: Tommy Manville says his tenth wife, ex-follies girl Pat Gaston, has gone home to her mother after a big fight, adding, "I don't know if we've had a bustup. She's due back next week—I'll know then. I guess she can't get used to living in a small town." Pat, mystified, said in San Antonio, "What's going on? I just talked to Tommy, and he never mentioned it. I told my mother how happy we are. I'm just visiting my family, that's all."

Gina Lollobrigida's husband, Dr. Milko Skofic, flew into N.Y.C., signed two movie deals for her, and flew back to Rome the same day . . . Mrs. Joe Louis gave a party for the ex-Mrs. Joe Louis—but Joe didn't show up . . . Evelyn Keyes writes from Spain she'll probably be married to Artie Shaw by Sept.

Frankie Lyman's quitting his Teen-Agers vocal group . . . Milton Berle underwent the second of his three throat operations' . . . After being on their payroll for two years, Valerie Allen'll finally get a Paramount screen test. Frank Sinatra's reported calling off his Australian tour again . . . Elia Kazan's talking to Sugar Ray Robinson about a movie role.

EARL'S PEARLS . . . Definition of a budget: Planned worrying.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Jack E. Leonard says a local restaurant is so new the waiters are still polite to small tippers.

Use 'Company' Cash to Finance Gambling

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A charge of embezzlement has been filed against a veteran Marine Corps finance officer whom the FBI said has admitted "dipping into the till" to finance gambling sprees here.

When Capt. George Henry Willers, 38, Camp Pendleton, Calif., was arrested Monday night, all he had was $15 in rolls of pennies.

Agents said Willers told them he dropped $13,000 in the casinos July 13 and came back Monday in an attempt to make good his losses. Instead, he lost $23,000.

The embezzlement complaint was filed yesterday with the U.S. commissioner at San Diego, near Camp Pendleton. The FBI said a check with Camp Pendleton showed a shortage of $37,956.40 in the 1st Marine Division disbursing office.

Admits Shooting Several Officers

Claims Police Victims in El Segundo, Calif., St. Louis, Nebraska

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Police said today a 25-year-old Illinois fugitive admitted shooting two policemen in El Segundo, Calif., and officers in St. Louis and Nebraska.

The dark-haired, husky six-footer was identified as William T. Allen, who escaped Feb. 9 from deputy sheriffs who were taking him from a mental hospital in Chester, Ill., to Chicago to stand trial for robbing some taverns.

Officers John Dailey and Lamar Dunster, who arrested Allen last night, said he told them he shot the El Segundo policemen early Monday.

The officers said the talkative suspect also told them of shooting police in St. Louis and in Nebraska near one of its state lines. He did not give the dates.

Allen said he used a .22-caliber revolver in shooting the southern California officers, the same type actually used, but that he threw the gun into San Francisco Bay.

Allen is held for investigation of holding up an Oakland tavern and for Chicago, St. Louis and Los Angeles police on five robbery counts.

Arrested with him were a girl companion, Betty Aguilar, 21, Los Angeles, and Peter Bologna, with whom he was staying. Both are booked for investigation of robbery.

The officers said the girl told them she drove up from El Segundo with Allen late Monday night. She said he told her he shot the two officers.

Allen's picture, the Oakland police said, was shown to two El Segundo girls terrorized by a husky gunman before the policemen were shot but they could not identify him.

46-Game Win Streak Ended for Vaughn

Perry Vaughn, who had not lost a game in the last three years in the Church Softball League, finally lost one, last night. First Presbyterians upset Vaughn's team, the First Baptists, 10-2, getting four hits off Vaughn. Presbyterians' Shafto gave up three. Young's homer and double paced Presbyterians' win.

A 6-1 no-hitter for Jim Smith of Salvation Army over Columbia Baptists, win for First Social Brethren, 10-2 and Christian Missionary Alliance's forfeit from Oakland Ave. UP and a forfeit for Brethrens, from Stone Baptists, were other church loop results.

Whisky and Soda on Another Floor at 'Bar' Meeting

LONDON (AP)—The London meeting of the American Bar Assn. contributed mightily last night to an Englishman's thirst.

After standing in a long line of delegates — registering at the Savoy Hotel for the meeting—the Briton finally reached the head of the queue.

"A whisky and soda, please," he said.

"Sorry, sir," answered the man behind the desk. "This is the American Bar Assn. What you want is the American Bar. That's on another floor."

One acre out of every 10 planted in the United States is lost annually to insect damage, the Twentieth Century Fund reports.

Begin Port Study for Seaway Traffic

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The U. S. Corps of Engineers will start in Toledo next week on a study to decide which Great Lakes ports should receive priority in improvements to handle St. Lawrence Seaway traffic and deep-draft lake carriers.

To be concluded in about six months, the study will include dozens of port cities. It will deal primarily with general cargo and foreign trade.

A later study by the corps will be concerned with the area served by the port of Toledo. The local port authority has informed the corps that this region extends south into Tennessee, west almost to Chicago, and east almost to Cleveland.

Veterans' Confab Friday

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Some 500 members of the World War I Veterans of the U.S.A., Inc., will gather in Grand Rapids Friday for a three-day state convention. Also attending will be Sen. Potter (R-Mich) and Gov. Williams.

Liquor Commission Gets New Member

LANSING (AP) — The appointment of Louis G. Jarboe, Republican of Rogers City, as a member of the State Liquor Control Commission for a term expiring June 12, 1959 was announced by Gov. Williams.

Jarboe, 44, is an attorney and graduate from the University of Detroit law school in 1938. He served as Presque Isle County prosecuting attorney for two terms and as city attorney for Rogers City for the past 10 years.

Jarboe, a World War II veteran, is married and has three children. The appointment requires Senate confirmation.

California has 1,944 miles of freeways, and no toll roads in the state.

Urge Fixing Building for Retarded Children

NORTHVILLE (INS) — The Northville Training School Committee has recommended the Wayne County Board of Supervisors spend $9,000 to remodel a building on the grounds for a school for mentally retarded children.

The committee said the school would provide 45 students, four to eight years old, with an education. These retarded children, from Northville, Plymouth, Livonia and two districts in Redford Township, have been denied an education because of lack of facilities.
