South Carolina Snowfall Sets 44-Year Record

Cold Worst Since 1899; Rest of Dixie, Florida Also Hard Hit

From Our News Wires

COLUMBIA, S.C. — The possibility of more snow was predicted today as South Carolina began to thaw out from the heaviest fall in 44 years and the coldest temperature in 59 years.

Government business and school people looked forward to a resumption of normal activity by Saturday as sun thawed heavily snow-blanketed central state areas.

The 4 above zero at Columbia was the coldest for the capital city since two degrees below zero was recorded in the winter of 1899.

The snow measured up to 11 inches in the Columbia area.

This was the heaviest snowfall to hit South Carolina since 1914 when almost 12 inches were recorded.

It was freezing in northern Florida. And it wasn't so hot in the southern section, as temperatures dropped int othe low 50s during the early morning.

Driving conditions in the snow-stricken Southern areas was reported hazardous.

Schools were ordered closed in more than a score of Virginia communities. Five persons, including four children, died in fires in the Norfolk area.

Although no snow was reported in other Southern states, it was cold. Temperatures were in the 20s in parts of Georgia and near freezing in sections of Mississippi and Alabama.

The cold air embraced most areas from Montana eastward to the Atlantic Coast.

20 BELOW ZERO

Below zero weather again hit northern Midwest areas. The mercury tumbled to 20 degrees below zero at Rochester, Minn. It was -14 at International Falls, Minn., and -13 at Grantsburg, Wis.

Los Angeles Hot-Spot

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Residents of the Los Angeles area basked in sunny and warm weather yesterday with the thermometer hitting a Dec. 11 near-record high of 85 degrees. The U.S. Weather Bureau said today's high will be about the same. The warmest Dec. 11 temperature ever recorded here was 86 degrees — back in 1895.

Wall Street Tells Virginia—Santa Is Uncle Sam

NEW YORK (AP) — The Wall Street Journal today joined the old New York Sun yesterday in assuring Virginia that, indeed, there is a Santa Claus.

The business newspaper published a two-sentence editorial under the heading "There Sure Is." It read:

"The United States government is estimated to have given away more than 60 billion dollars in foreign aid since World War II.

"Now then, Virginia, what was your question?"

Virginia was the child who wrote a letter to the Sun many years ago asking if there is a Santa Claus. In an editorial now historically famous, the Sun assured her there is.

Train Hits Bus, 2 Pupils Killed

Driver, 8 Other Students Survive Crossing Crash Near Essex, Ont.

ESSEX, Ont. (AP) — A New York Central passenger train running 30 minutes late sliced a school bus in half at a rural grade crossing today, killing two boys aboard the bus.

The crossing is three miles east of Essex and about 17 miles east of Detroit in the southernmost tip of Ontario.

The bus was carrying 10 pupils to the Holy Names School in Essex.

The two boys who were killed were David Purvis and Paul Bossey.

The driver, Albert Slote, and three children were taken to the Essex Professional Center for treatment. Another boy, whose leg was broken, was sent to a Windsor hospital.

Dr. D. W. Clare said none of the children brought into Essex was injured seriously.

The grade crossing is marked but not protected by crossing gates. The approach is steep and icy.

Miss Margaret Seymour, who lives nearby, said several cars failed to make the grade on their first run up the incline this morning before the accident.

The 10-car train, the Detroiter, left New York City last night and was due in Detroit at 8 a. m. That was the time of the accident.

A spokesman for the railroad said the bus was knocked clear of the crossing by the train.

Union Ready to Fight Against Reform Edict

Court Threatens Hoffa Ouster if Teamsters Don't Clean House

From Our News Wires

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — The Teamsters braced for battle today in the face of a federal court threat to oust James Hoffa as their president unless they obey orders to clean house.

The Executive Board of the huge union voted to appeal U.S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts' ruling that the Teamsters must heed reform recommendations made by court-appointed monitors.

Hoffa, militant leader of 1½ million Teamsters, didn't seem worried by the court's vigorously worded opinion.

"H-l, it just means another fight," he said cheerfully. "We will appeal all the way. We've done nothing contrary to good unionism."

Hoffa said the union will cancel plans for a convention in Chicago next March if necessary.

The court forbade a convention that soon on the ground the union has not yet cleaned house or prepared for "return of control to the rank-and-file membership through democratic processes."

Hoffa had called the convention in an attempt to have himself re-elected and bring an end to the monitorship.

The union's lawyers will go to Washington to seek an order staying Letts' ruling.

"As of now there is no requirement, according to our lawyers, to change operations of the Teamsters Union," Hoffa said.

Two of the three Teamsters monitors complained Hoffa was ignoring their cleanup orders. Letts, who described the monitors as officers of the court, warned: "Remedies are not lacking in our judicial process if the orders of the court are violated, disregarded or ignored."

In Washington, the court-appointed monitors said they may bring corruption charges soon against Hoffa.

The monitor majority appeared likely to move in the wake of yesterday's court order giving them sweeping clean-up powers.

Kierdorf Story: Aug. 3—Dec. 12

Aug. 3—Late at night, the Latreille Cleaners in Flint goes up in flames. Later investigation shows the blaze was arson.

Aug. 4—Minutes before 1 a.m., an unidentified man stumbles into St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, his body 85 per cent covered by burns. A speeding black sedan is seen driving away from the hospital's main entrance.

Aug. 5—Frank Kierdorf refuses to tell who he is, but is identified through his fingerprints. Herman Kierdorf identifies Frank, persuades him to tell how he was burned. Frank tells police he was set afire by three thugs west of Pontiac.

Aug. 6—Authorities see too many discrepancies in Frank's confession and discount it. They learn of the Flint fire and investigate for a possible link. Herman drops out of sight, touching off a 13-day search. Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams takes charge of the case.

Aug. 7—Frank Kierdorf dies, his lips sealed to the end. Oakland County Teamsters officials are questioned, including James Hoffa's brother, William.

Aug. 8—Jack Thompson is arrested in Flint for investigation of arson. Authorities in Pontiac question the last persons to have seen Herman.

Aug. 13—Thompson freed on writ of habeas corpus. Adams admits he hasn't got enough evidence to prosecute him.

Aug. 14 — Herman's wife, Lila, says she doesn't know where Herman is.

Aug. 19—Herman surrenders, faces charge of possessing a silencer for a pistol. Takes lie test that clears him of participating in arson, stays mum about what happened later.

Aug. 20—Arson in a Pontiac apartment house adds fuel to Kierdorf case. The apartment belonged to the girlfriend of Leaun Harrelson, president of Teamster Local 614, who is requestioned.

Teamster Agent Jack Thompson Taken at Flint

Suspect in Torch Death May Be Arraigned on Arson Charge Today

The baffling mystery of how Flint Teamsters agent Frank Kierdorf was burned to death in August today was rekindled with the arrest of Jack Thompson, a fellow union official of Kierdorf's.

Thompson, 41, business agent with Flint Local 332, was taken into custody in Flint at 11:45 this morn on a charge of arson in the still unsolved burning of the cleaning shop in which police believe the 56-year-old Kierdorf was turned into a human torch in a bungled arson job.

Thompson, once a top suspect in the arson death, was freed by a court order back in August when Genesee County Prosecutor Jerome F. O'Rourke said he didn't believe he could obtain a conviction against Thompson.

The Flint official had been held for five days after his fingerprints were discovered by police on Kierdorf's station-wagon.

He had been described by many as Kierdorf's "closest friend."

Thompson, along with Herman Kierdorf of Madison Heights, Frank's uncle, and Myron D. Weiss, reportedly the last known person to see Herman before he disappeared for 13 days, had once been subpoenaed to appear before the Senate Rackets Committee in Washington to tell what part they may have played in the mysterious fire.

Later the committee said the appearances of the three men had been postponed indefinitely.

O'Rourke this noon announced the arrest of Thompson which, he said, came as the result of the combined investigation efforts of the State Attorney General's Office, and the Genesee and Oakland County Prosecutor's Offices.

Frank Kierdorf, who before his death had balked at questions from the McClellan rackets committee, stumbled into St. Joseph Mercy Hospital early Aug. 4 with burns covering 85 per cent of his body.

Thompson was arrested by three state police troopers at the Teamsters Union Hall and taken directly to Flint City Jail where he was booked on a charge of arson.

O'Rourke's announcement said, "Due to recent findings in the intensive investigation we believe we have evidence conclusive enough to warrant an arrest."

Thompson was expected to be arraigned on the arson charge this afternoon in Flint Municipal Court O'Rourke's office issued the arson warrant this morning.

George F. Taylor, chief assistant Oakland County Prosecutor, made the first announcement here of Thompson's arrest.

"The Genesee County authorities must have turned up something new against Thompson," he said.

Taylor saw no immediate reason to requestion such figures as Herman Kierdorf in connection with the Flint arson.

"During the (Frank) Kierdorf investigation, it was pretty well determined that Herman had nothing to do with the arson," Taylor said.

Taylor doubted Oakland County authorities would be drawn into the arson investigation, now that it has responded.

"The only Oakland County connection that ever appeared was the possibility of a conspiracy here to cover up what happened."

Soviets Again Gabbing About Summit Meeting

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union put in another bid Thursday night for a summit meeting on causes of international tension.

It included the Berlin situation, but ruled out discussion of German reunification.

The statement from the official news agency Tass also warned that any Western use of force to maintain access to Berlin would be met by Soviet force and would touch off a nuclear war.

Some Western officials have proposed that Berlin be discussed only in connection with the entire German unification problem.

RENEWS KREMLIN STAND

Tass renewed the Kremlin stand against negotiating on reunification and also rejected again the Western demand for all-German free elections.

The Soviet Union repeated, however, its readiness to talk about a World War II peace treaty for Germany.

The Communists contend that German unification should be negotiated by the East and West German governments, meeting as equals.

Preliminary negotiations for a summit conference broke down last June when the Kremlin published secret minutes of meetings in Moscow.

The West was insisting on searching talks at a lower level to insure likelihood of agreement before the heads of governments gathered. The Soviet Union wanted to get the government chiefs to do the actual trading.

The West also had insisted on restricting any summit conference to the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union, with possibly a few neutrals. It had rejected Soviet efforts to include such small Communist nations as Poland and Czechoslovakia for voting equality.

REITERATES TRANSFER

The statement reiterated that the Soviet Union will transfer its occupation powers to the East Germans in six months regardless of whether the West accepts Premier Khrushchev's proposal to make West Berlin an unarmed free city.

Chief of these powers is control of the Western Allies' supply routes to their garrisons in West Berlin.

Dulles Confers With President

Allied Unity in Face of Red Pressure on Berlin Topic of Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles confer today on efforts to obtain solid Allied unity in the face of mounting Soviet pressures against West Berlin.

Their afternoon conference was scheduled between Dulles' discharge from the hospital and his takeoff for a series of conferences starting next week in the French capital.

Dulles has been in Walter Reed Hospital since last Friday undergoing treatment for diverticulitis, an intestinal inflammation.

His chief task at Paris so far as the Berlin issue is concerned apparently will be to try to resolve a split between Britain and West Germany.

The two powers differ on the kind of reply which should be made to the recent Soviet proposal to convert West Berlin into a free city and end the Western occupation there.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany has taken the position that the Berlin issue should be disposed of before any new proposals on Germany are made to Soviet Premer Nikita Khrushchev.

Dulles' own attitude is reported to be that the Western powers must sternly reject the Khrushchev plan for West Berlin, but preferably at the same time put forth some kind of counterproposal based upon solving the Berlin problem through the unification of Germany with free elections.

No Colds at Pole!

LONDON (UPI)—Antarctic explorer Ralph Lenton said last night he "can't wait to get back" the cold continent because of the common cold. "All the time I was at the Pole I never had a cold," he said. "Since I came back to Britain, I've hardly been free of the perishing things."

Sub-Zero Weather Possibility Tonight

TODAY'S TEMPERATURES

12:30 a. m.	7	8 a. m.	5
2 a. m.	4	10 a. m.	9
4 a. m.	2	11 a. m.	17
6 a. m.	4	1 p. m.	20

Possible sub-zero weather was on the way here today on the heels of the lowest temperature so far during the eight-day cold wave.

The mercury tumbled to two degrees above zero at 4 a. m. today and may sink as far as a frigid 5 below tonight, the Weather Bureau said.

The freezing weather was setting in as fast here as the ice which clogged the St. Marys River, temporarily prevented downbound ships from passing through the Sault Ste. Marie locks.

No hopes for any real break in temperatures in the next five days were seen by the Weather Bureau, but there was some chance that the cold spell might relax a little bit Sunday or Monday.

The mercury is expected to remain at an average 10-15 degrees below normal, with a high today of about 20 accompanied by a few snow flurries. Northerly winds of 8-13 miles an hour are expected this afternoon and tonight and tomorrow's high will be around 20 again.

In Pelston, which has had the distinction of being the coldest point in the state this month, the mercury stood at a new low of -17 degrees. In Flint it was -8 and at Traverse City, -7.

The Coast Guard began clearing the St. Marys River again this morning after heavy fog kept ships out of the channel last night. The ice was reported 10-12 inches thick.

From Ann Arbor came a surprising prediction. Despite the coldest Michigan December since 1943, a University of Michigan astronomer said winter will be "a little shorter and a little milder this year."

Prof. Hazel M. Losh explained: The earth is a million and a half miles nearer the sun than usual. The earth will reach its closest point to the sun on Jan. 1. This tends to warm things up and make winter briefer, since the earth will be moving slightly faster in its orbit.

April Ballot Could Include County Issue

Voters May Decide Home-Rule

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Michigan voters next April may decide the question of providing home-rule type government for counties.

Such a possibility grew out of a meeting in Pontiac yesterday afternoon of two county government reorganization study committees from Oakland and Wayne Counties.

With the possibility comes a number of "ifs" before the vote could take place.

Biggest of them, as far as Oakland County is concerned now, is first to get approval on home-rule from the 82 Oakland supervisors.

Today, a meeting was called for Dec. 22 to take up the question of home-rule.

And time is important if the question is to be put on the April 6 ballot.

Should a joint resolution be sponsored by both the House of Representatives and Senate, state laws say the form of the proposed permissive constitutional amendment must be in Lansing 45 days before the election.

This would mean a deadline around Feb. 20 in order to get the proposal on the April 6 ballots.

Another possible stumbling block in initiating the constitutional amendment will be the necessary two-thirds vote required of both the House and Senate. Both convene Jan. 14 for the 1959 session.

Ready then to push the need for home-rule county government will be Sen. Frank Andrews (R-Hillman) and his special Senate committee, which has been studying this type of government.

Despite the many hurdles ahead, Oakland and Wayne counties are ready to press for the April vote,

U.S.-Alabama Clash Shaping

Power Battle Looms Over Court's Demand for Voter Registrations

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A federal versus state power clash loomed today on a federal court's demand that an Alabama judge and five voter registrars show their records to the U.S. Civil Rights Comission.

After District Court orders were issued Thursday, rapid-fire developments indicated further possible difficulty for the year-old federal agency probing complaints of discrimination against Negro voters.

Macon County Registrars E. P. Livingston and Grady Rogers, two of the five who silently defied the commisson at its first hearing Monday and Tuesday, resigned on grounds they were being intimidated.

They said they would obey orders to appear at a second hearing here before the six-man commission or a subcomittee Dec. 19.

Refusal to obey the orders could bring contempt citations and possible penalties of imprisonment or fines. This would be at the court's decsion.

May Transfer Youths Who Kidnaped Man

NEWBERRY (AP)—Three mental patients who kidnaped a State Highway Department employe and held a butcher knife at his throat may be transferred from Newberry State Hospital to a stronger security institution.

Luce County Prosecutor John Shimmens said yesterday he will demand that the three, all teenagers, be moved to Ionia State Hospital. They are Harold Gardner, 18, of Bark River; Roger Grove, 16, of Newberry; and Theodore Clark, 16, of Ontonagon.

Because they are mentally incompetent, they cannot be prosecuted, Shimmens said.

The youths, who have been habitual escapees, broke out of the Newberry institution Tuesday night and kidnaped 23-year-old James Archambeau from his trailer home near here. They threatened him with a knife, a deer rifle and a shotgun.

They were captured at a road block some 55 miles away near Manistique. Archambeau was not harmed.

State Junior Miss Contest Lacking Oakland Entrants

A Milford girl may become the first Oakland County belle to enter the Michigan Junior Miss contest to be staged by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce Jan. 16.

Milford Jaycees have asked for an application blank, indicating they have a candidate in mind, said W. B. Neal, contest chairman.

So far, Pontiac and Oakland County are still not represented in the contest, although entries have been received from such far away places as Niles and Middleville.

Neal urged area organizations to consider sponsoring contestants in the contest.

"Candidates shouldn't be hard to find—there are lots of lovely girls in Oakland County," he said.

Applications will be accepted through Dec. 27, Neal said.

The contest is open to any Michigan high school senior who will be at least 16 years old but not more than 17 on March 8, 1959.

Michigan contestants will be judged in Pontiac Jan. 16 and the winner will go to the national contest in Mobile, Ala., March 4.

Guest speaker at the event was Thomas J. Gearty, special FBI agent in charge of the Detroit office, who discussed "Public Relations in Law Enforcement."

The training course is designed for officers who have no basic knowledge of police work, Straley said, although classes are open to veteran policemen.

More than 600 persons have gone through the program, he said. The program is offered at schools in Lincoln Park, Grosse Pointe and Royal Oak.

Worst Storm in History

Sun Shines as Oswego Starts Tunneling Out

OSWEGO, N.Y. (AP) — Residents almost could look back on it all today. But not quite. There was still a lot of snow to be shoveled.

The worst snow storm in the history of this city of 23,000 by Lake Ontario appeared to be over. A bright sun broke through Thursday and no heavy snow was in sight today.

However, the Weather Bureau predicted periods of light snow or snow flurries in the area today with possibly heavier snow squalls tonight and Saturday.

The streets were open, the men were working, the women went shopping, and the kids still had a holiday.

But maintenance crews had a great deal of work remaining.

The storm, which began Sunday noon, had left extensive damage. Buildings and roofs had collapsed under the weight of the 6½ feet of snow that fell. Workers had lost nearly a week's wages. Merchants missed what was to have been the first big holiday sales week.

The schools, which remained closed today, were a week behind schedule.

The Chamber of Commerce expects that December business will show a 25 per cent drop. A Chamber official said hourly workers would not be paid for the time they lost.

Man Shoots Woman, Kills 2 Girls and Self

NEW PORT RICHEY, Fla. (AP)—A 35-year-old former Detroit woman remained in critical condition today from gunshot wounds suffered when a truck driver shot her, killed her two daughters and then took his own life.

Pasco County Sheriff Leslie Bessinger said the shootings, Tuesday night, were murder and suicide. They occurred at a nearby trailer park.

Bessinger reported William Cooper, about 30, shot Mrs. Dorothy Allen in her bedroom, then apparently shot Dorothy Allen, 14, and Catherine Allen, 17, as they ran out of their bedroom.

Child Will Compromise

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—The post office got this letter to Santa: "Will you give me a new bike, and if you can't find a new bike I will take an old one. If your eleves are too busy this year, wil you please make me the first one on your list next year?"

Brazil's crop harvest increased 14.3 per cent in 1957 over the year before, with coffee scoring the largest gain—10 per cent. The increase in livestock production totaled 9.1 per cent.

Voters May Decide Oakland Home-Rule

taking into account favorable reaction from the Oakland supervisors.

In the process of being drafted is a resolution recommending home-rule to the Oakland board. Working on such a resolution is William F. Kalwitz, a member of Oakland's Special County Government Study Committee, and James Sherry, research associate assisting the Oakland group in its attempt to win home-rule.

The committee of nine, headed by John L. Carey, Springfield Township supervisor, has already put its stamp of approval on home-rule government.

Nab Kierdorf's Pal on Arson Charge

to investigate the alleged conspiracy was turned down by the Oakland County bench and the investigation drew to a halt shortly after.

Taylor said that Ziem and Adams at that time turned over all their evidence to O'Rourke.

"It is this evidence that O'Rourke is referring to when he describes the marshaling of evidence against Thompson as 'a cooperative effort,'" Taylor said.

The heavy-set and bespectacled Frank Kierdorf died Aug. 7 with the secret of his burns sealed on his charred lips.

Shortly after his admission to the hospital, he once told a story how he had been abducted by two fellow union men from his home in Flint, set afire in a lonely spot just west of Pontiac, and then dropped off at the hospital by the same two men.

Authorities later discredited this account, claiming there were too many loopholes in it, believing Kierdorf might be covering up for someone.

His 68-year-old uncle, Herman, disappeared shortly after he had visited Frank at the hospital.

The uncle, a former aide to Teamsters president James R. Hoffa, returned from hiding only to find himself under arrest for possession of a pistol silencer.

O'Rourke declined to reveal what new evidence had been uncovered to warrant Thompson's rearrest.

Police had linked Frank Kierdorf to the burning of the cleaning shop, the Latrielle Cleaners just outside the city of Flint, after finding bits of flesh at the scene and in the station wagon used in the alleged arson job. It was in this car that Thompson's fingerprints were found.

Uncle Herman became a suspect when police theorized that he and another man had treated Frank's burns and left him off at the Pontiac hospital when they realized just how badly he was burned. However, Herman was released following a lie detector test.

Herman consented to the test with the stipulations that he be asked questions about his whereabouts only up to midnight of Aug. 3.

The cleaning shop fire occurred around 10:30 p.m. that night. Frank Kierdorf was discovered staggering into the hospital by a nurse just minutes before 1 a.m. Aug. 4.

Herman, too, had been an uncooperative witness before the Senate committee. It was days before he had been subpoenaed to reappear that he announced he had resigned from the Teamsters.

An Oakland County Circuit Court jury last month found him guilty of the charge. Judge Clark J. Adams sentenced him to from 1 to 5 years in prison, but the sentence has been held up while Kierdorf's attorneys fight for a new trial.

Every Christmas

One gift means more than any other. It stands out under the Christmas tree . . . is still useful months later.

But this year you can give your child a gift that will always be remembered . . . and useful for life.

It's the gift of Better Grades in School.

Fantastic? Impossible? No. It's simple.

Leading educators agree that students who know how to type learn more, actually do better work in school . . . and get better grades. So you teach your child touch-typing.

What's more, he can learn at home . . . through a recorded 10-day touch-typing course, developed by the country's leading author of typing instruction, Dr. John L. Rowe of the University of North Dakota and by Norman Saksvig, world's champion typist.

Actually, this can be a gift to the whole family, for the 10-day course is perfect for adults, too. Typing helps a man get ahead faster in his career and helps homemakers with their household bookkeeping and letter writing. Typing's value for every member of the family, has always been far greater than its cost even if each person pays as much as $150.00 to learn from a typing school.

But this course is free!

Free, without a penny extra charge, when you buy any new Smith-Corona portable typewriter. Most models are only $5.00 down with up to 24 months ot pay the balance.

Stop in this week and see our full selection of the world's first and fastest portables, the Smith-Corona, with all the features an expert demands, all the conveniences a beginner requires. General Printing & Office Supply, 17 W. Lawrence, Phone FE 2-0138.

Kierdorf Chronology

Harrelson's girl friend, Mary Ann Thon, all jailed on conspiracy charges. Mrs. Harrelson testifies her husband knew of the Flint arson shortly after it occurred.

Aug. 28—Mrs. Thon is released. Herman and Harrelson are freed on writs of habeas corpus. Adams admits he hasn't got enough evidence against them.

Aug. 28 — Adams and Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem ask for a grand jury to investigate "events in Oakland County after the Flint arson."

Sept. 9 — Oakland County bench denies a grand jury, the Kierdorf investigation comes to a halt.

Nov. 10 — Found guilty, Herman is sentenced to 1 to 5 years in prison. He begins appeal procedures, which are still under way.

Dec. 12 — Thompson is arrested in Flint, charged with arson.

The West Pontiac Kiwanis Club held its annual installation of officers last night at a dinner at Scrib's Restaurant, 130 S. Telegraph Rd.

Others installed at the ceremony were Robert Alton, John Stefanski and Daniel Murphy, vice presidents; Haig Barsam, treasurer; and Robert Lazelle, secretary.

Three new members of the board of directors installed for two-year terms were Max Evans, Donald Hicks and William Fox.

The president-elect presented Dr. Lynn D. Allen Jr., outgoing president, with a plaque in behalf of the club for "outstanding club leadership as president during the past year."

The Kiwanians and their wives were entertained by a Pontiac Central High School choral group which sang several Christmas season selections.

The father, Matthew M. Liflander of Toronto, finally gave in. In tears, he shouted from the stand:

"The kid is dead. She ain't got him. I ain't got him. Let him be buried."

So Tommy will be buried in a non-sectarian cemetery, following Christian services, as requested by his mother, Mrs. Elvera Liflander, 29, of Detroit.

Liflander wanted the boy to have a Jewish funeral.

When the parents were divorced in 1955, Mrs. Liflander was granted custody. Last September, the father was given one-year temporary custody at Thomas' request. The boy was struck by a car on a Toronto street Friday and died two days later.

Mrs. Liflander went to court to fight her ex-husband's announced plan to give the boy a Jewish burial.

Subsidize Students, Says Mrs. Roosevelt

IRVINGTON, N.J. (AP)—America should follow the Soviet Union's example and subsidize the education and living expenses of its college students, says Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

She spoke to a Parent-Teachers Assn. meeting here Thursday night.

Mrs. Roosevelt also urged higher salaries for teachers.

In a question-answer period after her talk, she was asked who would make the best president after Eisenhower.

"I really don't know and if I did I wouldn't tell you," she replied.

12 Hurt as Buses Collide

DETROIT (AP)—Twelve passengers were treated for minor injuries Thursday when two DSR buses collided at an east side intersection. Police said the dryer of one bus told them he skidded on slippery pavement and was unable to stop befre hitting the second bus.

Hotel Manager at 18 Tells Secret of Success

LONDON (AP) — Pretty, 18-year-old Diana Francis was named today as manager of London's newest hotel, the Ambassador.

Newsmen asked how she got the job at her age. They got a fast, frank answer: "My father owns the hotel," said Miss Francis.

Joseph Marinielli, who is 74, rode a bicycle from Bloomfield, N.J. to Miami, Fla.

Mental Patient Drowns Child, 3

Woman Kills Neighbor Girl Instead of Own Just on Impulse

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Mrs. Frank B. Nilles sent her 3-year-old granddaughter out to play in the snow. The next time she saw Toni Klobucher, the child lay dead in the bathtub at a neighbor's house.

The neighbor, three times a mental hospital inmate since 1950, told police she killed Toni Thursday "on an irresistable impulse." But first, Mrs. Emil Bormes, 39, told police she sent her own 3½-year-old daughter out of the house "so it wouldn't be her."

Toni, christened Antoinette Marie, was he only child of Mr. and Mrs. John Klobucher. Her father attends law school at Gonzaga University. Her mother works in a bank. Toni spent each day with Mr. and Mrs. Nilles.

Thursday, she went to Mrs. Bormes' house to play. Mrs. Bormes invited her inside. She took off Toni's snowsuit, filled the bathtub a third full of water and drowned her. Then she telephoned Mrs. Nilles and told her what had happened.

Mrs. Bormes was paroled from Eastern State Mental Hospital last August to the custody of her husband, a salesman. During her last stay, she was treated for "depressive episodes during which she was more likely to do away with herself than others," a hospital official said.

Parade Will Open Goodfellow Sale Here Tomorrow

A parade of newsboys and girls will open the 1958 Pontiac Goodfellow sales tomorrow at noon, according to Walter A. Baerwolf, chairman.

More than 75 police, firemen, postal employes and civil defense men, all members of the Pontiac Metropolitan Club, as well as the General Motors Girls Club, will march to The Pontiac Press from the Public Safety Building to pick up the Goodfellow newspapers. They will sell them all day throughout the city.

The Waterford Township High School Band will lead the parade.

Won't Start—No Wonder

MIDDLETOWN, N.Y. (AP) — William Jessburger couldn't get his car started. He called a service station about battery service. It turned out the car really needed it. During the night somebody had stolen the battery.

French Voters Leave No Doubt of Support

French voters have virtually given a blank check to a Gaullist party without knowing what it really stood for—except for CHARLES DE GAULLE. At least they have given the check to someone, and have stopped this everlasting floundering around.

There is little doubt about who will pull the strings from Elysee Palace. De Gaulle himself will control the Union of the New Republic. This may sound like a one man rule, but without the general, the U. N. R. is gutless.

Those close to the Premier are confident that the U.N.R. will shake down into a mass maneuver to carry out his aims, once they are clarified. This time is now near at hand. The next few months should definitely see some action.

On Dec. 21, some 80,000 "grand electors" — members of the Parliament and of the regional and municipal councils — will elect the President of the Republic. This is a formality of endorsing the choice of DE GAULLE made by the nation implicitly in the Sept. 28th constitutional referendum.

This will virtually complete the renovation of French institutions that DE GAULLE has regarded as the essential basis for constructive action. DE GAULLE'S concern for accomplishing this result has been advanced as an explanation of his slowness to take more decisive action on problems that might have stirred formidable opposition to his structural reforms.

But with his constitution, Parliament and Presidency all approved by the electorate, DeGaulle may be expected to employ more dramatically the powers he has been given.

Polish Learning Truth About Deceiving Reds

Some three million Polish children need anti-polio vaccine and the supply is coming from the United States.

This is a bit embarrassing to the Russians for they're supposed to be the "protectors" of these people. They have failed miserably as they haven't sufficient for their own needs. And as the world well knows, the Russians wouldn't share anything that they needed at home.

Hence, the Ruskies are doing their level best to conceal the fact the vaccine comes from the United States; but the truth is slowly creeping out and the Reds are further condemned in the eyes of the Polish people. And they batted something less than zero before this started.

Tax Increases Will Knock Us Cold Soon

Tax payers, prepare.

Judging from talk around the country, the political observers are convinced that the coming Democratic Congress will declare an open season on the man at home who pays the bills. This chap sent them to Washington and their program has always been based on more spending, more governmental intervention and more deficit financing.

Wilbur D. Mills (southern Democrat), the conservative Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, sounds a lugubrious note. "Tax reductions," says he glumly, "are unlikely and the same thing goes for any marked reduction in bureau spending." This is his comment in December and when those new Congressmen from the North and West swoop down on Washington after the first of the year, the taxpayers of the country will be socked and rocked some more.

RICHARD NIXON warned voters in all sections of the U.S. that an additional flock of Democratic Congressmen would loosen the tax dollar flood gates.

The Man About Town

Have a Busy Time

Heat and Cold Extremes Swap Places in 2 Weeks

Top pest: He who asks if it's cold enough for you.

My weather watchers are having a busy time. Only a couple of weeks ago they were reporting the most delayed cold weather in a third of a century. Today the same old reliables, of Pontiac Trail, and his equally observant partner in such statistics,

Alex. Vartigan

George Munsinger

of Rochester, say that we've already experienced a lower continued temperature in December than for any other year on their books.

My idea of a man who has everything required for such a position, and who knows how to use it, is retiring as assistant to the general manager at Pontiac Motors, after a service that goes back to the Oakland car days.

Basil B. Kimball,

The 1959 president of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital medical staff,

Dr. Norman F. Gehringer,

Charles Gehringer,

of the Detroit Tigers.

One of the first Christmas cards to arrive comes from the other side of the world, as now in Calcutta, wants to be remembered to his old Oakland County friends. It came through in three days by air mail.

People who have Oakland County grown venison in their deep freezes say it beats the northern grown variety in every way. According to of Waterford, it is much better tasting, cooks in a more tender manner, makes delicious gravy, and excels in every other way. A survey among others bears out his claim. Better foraging grounds is said to be the reason.

Glad to see my old friend,

Frank Ruggles,

win The Pontiac Press dairy trophy of the year. The Ruggles family has done much to keep our county among the top dairy areas.

My Rochester scout requests me to announced that the Santa Claus phone number for that area is and they should be very careful in asking for it correctly.

The fish house villages are accumulating on our lakes much earlier than usual, and

Public Troughs for Horses, Indeed!

(Editor's Note: The following article is reprinted from the Olde Newsboy issue of the Lansing State Journal published Dec. 5, 1858)

The demands of some citizens for installation of watering troughs for horses on Lansing's streets are a shocking indication that there are no lengths to which people will not go in seeking government services.

What is happening to the old spirit of individual initiative that has been a vital source of America's growth and the progress that has enabled Lansing to achieve the status of an incorporated city?

This great land of ours was not founded by people who expected a welfare state to solve all of their problems, even to the extent of demanding that facilities for quenching the thirst of horses be provided at the public expense.

Where would America be if Paul Revere had refused to make his historic midnight ride because of lack of public watering troughs?

REGRETTABLE ATTITUDE

The attitude exemplified by those who are making these unreasonable current demands upon this city's newly-formed government raise the spectre of even more fantastic demands upon government in the years ahead.

It might be a short step from socialized water for horses to demands that the city set aside lots where horses can be pastured while their owners are doing their shopping. Such a development would mean the end of the livery stables operated under the American free enterprise system.

Off-street parking facilities for horses and buggies to relieve congestion at hitching rails on the streets would be bad enough, but the time might come when the public would demand paved streets and city-operated carriages for transporting children to school.

It is even possible to envision future requests that the municipal government make provision for collection of garbage from the homes of Lansing citizens and removal of snow from our sidewalks.

DANGEROUS TREND

Fortunately the horse-drawn sleighs and cutters will always be with us in the winter as a vital means of transportation so there is no danger of demands for removal of snow from the part of the thoroughfares used by vehicular traffic.

The demands for watering troughs for horses present the danger of a trend which must not be allowed to develop.

It will be a tragic day for America if the common council bows to this fantastic demand. Who knows what will happen if our city officials take this step down the road to socialism?

The time might come in some distant year when our merchants would expect the government to put up American flags in front of their establishments on national holidays.

The Country Parson

"We've divided the church up into many beliefs—but I guess that doesn't mean we've divided God."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Both Tea, Coffee Serve as Stimulants for Heart

On page 30 of CVD, a booklet about heart and artery troubles (35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope), I explain why coffee is good for the heart. In all fairness I should have said tea and coffee, for the two beverages are almost identical in effect, except that one cup of good coffee is equivalent to two or three cups of good tea.

While coffee is the strongest source of caffeine, medicinal caffeine is usually obtained from damaged tea. The caffeine in tea leaves is called theine. The alkaloid or active principle of chocolate (the plant called Theobroma cacao) is theobromine.

Cocoa is the powder made by removing part of the cocoa butter from chocolate. The beverage is made by boiling powder with water or milk for at least five minutes. It must be boiled at least five minutes to convert the raw starch into sugar.

Properly prepared with milk and sweetened to taste cocoa is a beverage of food value with some of the virtues of tea and coffee.

The fat (cocoa butter, the oil in the seeds of the chocolate plant called Theobroma cacao) in chocolate has the same caloric value as butter, lard or suet and constitutes from a third to a half of pure chocolate. In the stomach this fat retards secretion of gastric juice and the motor or churning part of digestion. So it is advisable to go easy in your indulgence in chocolate beverage, cake or candy.

ALL STIMULANTS

There's no question in my mind but that caffeine, theine and theobromine are heart stimulants, nerve stimulants and kidney stimulants (diuretic, increasing the flow of urine).

Coffee is the strongest nerve or cerebral stimulant and chocolate or cocoa the strongest kidnew stimulant. Tea is milder, but a stimulant nevertheless.

None of these beverages is suitable for children under sixteen years of age. Any of them, taken in moderation, is healthful for adults—provided the beverage is not used to wash down unmasticated or insufficiently masticated food.

The good effect of moderate consumption of tea or coffee (two or three cups of good coffee or four or five cups of good tea daily) upon the heart is that it dilates the coronary arteries and so tends to maintain an adequate supply of oxygen to the heart muscle. Good tea or good coffee, I say. That means, steeped, brewed, but never boiled.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Tells Merits of Advertising

Tom adds a fascinating sequel to his wife's dramatic story, so file this with yesterday's Case Record. And be grateful to American Advertising and Selling, since they have won our past wars and are the great adult educators of America. If you wish to test your own advertising ability, send for the non-profit booklet below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Z-389: Tom S., aged 39, is the husband of Nora, who told us yesterday how they had become prize contest addicts.

"Nora didn't finish the entire story," Tom modestly commented, as we were visiting together.

"For I grew so interested in advertising as a result of reading so much copy on the various products, that I asked for a transfer to our advertising department.

DR. CRANE

"My boss wondered why I wanted to change and what qualification I felt would justify my shifting from Accounting to Advertising.

"So I finally had to tell him the whole story. And he seemed delighted to know that I was up-to-date on contesting as an aid to merchandising goods.

"For he then informed me he was debating a contest at that very moment, and he was glad to know somebody in the organization was a specalist in the matter.

"Well, I told him I was no specialist but my wife and I had devoured scores of leading contests the past year so we knew pretty well what was going on in the field.

"As a result, I not only got transferred to Advertising, but the boss even made me the head of our Contesting Division.

So Nora's simple act of clipping out one of your columns not only added zest to our home life and raised our bank balance $2,375 from our cash prizes, but caused me to win a much better job with my company."

SALUTE TO ADVERTISING

Advertising is the life blood of America. It has zoomed our factories till we were easily able to convert them to the making of the war goods that won World War I, as well as World War II.

In fact, our industrial capacity, which is a direct result of our go-getter American advertising and sales methods, likewise furnished England much of her war goods.

The Russians also rode triumphantly into the Balkans on American tanks and trucks!

So it is high time we gave a long merited salute to American advertising.

There are two kinds of nations on this earth. One type is characterized by "stagnation" whereas the other is concerned with industrial "creation."

And the creative nations are the heavy advertisers. When you see no billboards or radio and TV commercials and few newspaper or magazine ads in a country, you can write it off as a backward, agricultural nation.

America leads the world in its peppy advertising. In fact, we are the go-getter nation on this earth, due to our "free enterprise" system that lets advertising teach the people the facts about toothbrushes and orange juice, clothing and automobiles.

Advertising is really just a form of adult education, paid for by private industry instead of the state.

Our public schools carry on till kids reach 18. But advertising continues to educate and safeguard them the remaining 52 years of their adulthood.

So be grateful when you see advertisements, since they are synonymous with Uncle Sam and our luxurious standard of living.

And look on Advertising and Salesmanship as two great professions that do as much for America as any other profession, including Law, Medicine, Dentistry or Engineerng.

If you wish to take a test of your own advertising ability, send for my booklet "New Psychology of Advertising & Selling," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

City Postmaster Clarifies Public Misunderstanding

Many of our postal patrons have recently commented that "the Post Office Department has no business spending the taxpayers' money for music and Christmas decorations in the lobbies of our Pontiac post office."

As chairman of the Pontiac Postal Employes Council, I wish to make it clearly understood that employes of this office paid for all decorations and the rental of the public address equipment through which the public enjoys Christmas music at the main post office on West Huron Street. All decorations were installed by employes who volunteered their time that our patrons might more enjoy their "visit" to the post office in the Yuletide season.

We wish everyone a very Merry Christmas.

He's Discovered Why Ike's Great

What happened to that great man we have in Washington that we heard so much about from 1952 until 1957. David Lawrence has an article in our Indianapolis paper every day and never failed to remind us as many as two or three times a week of our great President, the greatest man the country has produced for more than 50 years.

I wracked my brain for five years to try to figure out just what was so great about him and could come up with only one conclusion—he's the greatest spender of other people's money the world has ever known, and the last election proved another thing that's great about him. That was for wrecking his own party. He has done an excellent job at both.

And Dulles has done an excellent job of wrecking our relationship with foreign countries, in spite of the billions Ike has handed over to them. I don't think Lawrence has mentioned Ike as a great President for more than a year.

Asks for Opinions on Such Treatment

Putting my question to the City officials of Pontiac, what do you have to do, or be, to be a good citizen of Pontiac?

I've lived in Pontiac 23 years, have owned property for 19 years, am a taxpayer and a registered voter. I've always taken an active part in all elections. I am a member of one of Pontiac's leading churches, Macedonia Baptist, whose pastor is Rev. L. R. Miner, I've worked for one of Pontiac's leading undertakers, Mr. Frank Carruthers, for a number of years.

My husband and I have never been in any trouble of any kind, have never been arrested, have never been in court on any charge. Yet last week an officer of the Pontiac police force came to my home, finding both my husband and me at work trying to make an honest living, kicked in my door, taking with him a neighbor, almost a complete stranger, rummaged through everything in my home.

I would like to ask the City officials, also the good citizens of Pontiac, to pass their opinion on a situation such as this. My sincere thanks to Voice of the People for a chance to express my feelings.

Favors Languages in Grade School

Was glad to read that MSU plans to promote the study of foreign languages in the grades. It's a waste of good students' time to have to take three years of required English and English literature in senio. high, especially when he's so much more interested in math, science, arts and mechanics. Perhaps just one semester of review grammar, spelling and reading and writing or speech would be more valuable to the average student along with another semester of foreign language.

'At Least Fish Know the Score'

That reference to the perch in last Saturday's editorial was correct. A news story Tuesday from Chicago says commercial fishermen have discovered the bulk of the perch have left the 60-100 foot levels and have descended to the more than 200 foot depths. You can fool a man, but you can't fool a fish.

Son Dies Trying to Save Father

Gas Also Kills Man; 2 Daughters Flee His Murder Attempt

MILTON — FREEWATER, Ore. (AP)—After placing two notes in front of the house, Alvin C. Gentry phoned police. Come quickly, he said.

Then the 54-year-old ranch foreman went into the basement and slit the lid of a can. It contained cyanide gas, the kind used to kill rodents.

Police arrived a few minutes later and saw a scribbled sign on the porch that said: "Keep out—poison gas."

Ralph Lee Gentry, 19, and his sisters Nita, 16, and Delores Ann, 12, dashed out of the house. Police told them it was filling up with gas.

Officers were able to restrain the girls, but Ralph dashed back in to rescue his father. He collapsed and died at the bottom of the stairs, near his father's body.

Later Thursday, police read the notes on a stake on the front lawn.

One said to contact Gentry's wife, who was away at work.

It said: "Better get her before she gets in this house or she will get it too. Poison gas in this house. I am getting tired of working and fighting for a living."

The other was to Gentry's wife, and touched upon marital troubles. Then it added: "We are all leaving you.

GMC TRUCK EXHIBIT — Studying a miniature layout of the GMC Truck exhibit for the Chicago Automobile Show in January are Ralph O. Moore (left), administrative assistant to the general sales manager, and B. W. Crandell, director of public relations. The GMC exhibit will have 10 trucks, several special cut-aways and a series of full color photographic transparencies of trucks at work near some of the nation's better-known landmarks.

Boy Will Inherit $42,000 in 1991, That Is, Unless—

BLACKPOOL, England (AP) — A 15-year-old British boy will inherit $42,000 in 1991 if he hasn't spent two years in jail for larceny. He appeared in Juvenile Court Wednesday — on a larceny charge.

The boy pleaded guilty to stealing a camera and a raincoat. The charge normally would result in sentencing to a juvenile detention center — not jail.

The boy's attorney said that would leave him still eligible for the inheritance.

The money was left by an eccentric seaside postcard seller. When he died in 1951, he said his adopted son could have the money when he became 48. But two or more years in jail for larceny would bar the boy from ever getting the money, the will stipulated.

Sentencing was postponed for two weeks to await a medical report. The youth's name was withheld.

Russell Hits Military Cuts

Not Much Congress Can Do About Reduction, Says Georgia Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga) said today the administration is wrong in ordering the armed forces' manpower cut, but that he doubts congressional critics can do much about it.

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said his group would start hearings early next year on the cutback, and on whether the top military people believe it to be safe.

He said he considers the planned reductions "are penny wise and pound foolish."

"But I don't know of anything affirmative the Congress can do," he said. He conceded the White House has the authority to refuse to spend money even if Congress appropriates it to permit a bigger uniformed service.

"You can't impeach the President, and he seems determined to increase foreign aid and reduce the defense establishment," Russell continued in an interview.

"If I had my way I'd reverse this, because we're inviting trouble all around the world with these reductions. We boast we are the richest nation, but are unable to maintain our defense establishment."

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy announced last month a directive to the four armed services to cut back their uniformed manpower to the hotly disputed levels President Eisenhower had set in a message to Congress last winter.

The order calls for completing by next July these reductions from uniformed personnel totals as of last Oct. 31: The Army, cut from 901,793 to 870,000; Marine Corps, from 189,361 to 175,000; Navy from 641,328 to 630,000; and Air Force from 863,800 to 850,000.

SQUEEZING THROUGH — The skipper of the carrier Lake Champlain wished that some yokel had bought the Brooklyn Bridge, and taken it home, too. The camera angle makes it look like a very close call, but actually the ship had 11 feet of clearance, after the lengthy radar mast was dismantled. She was en route up the East River to the New York naval shipyard for an overhaul.

1-Armed Man Drives Taxi Safely 27 Years

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Twenty-seven years ago, taxi driver Howard Vaughan lost his right arm by amputation after a cut became infected.

As soon as he left the hospital, he returned to taxi driving. Now, more than a million miles later, the 49-year-old Vaughan can boast a no-accident record.

He thinks the loss of his arm actually made him a better driver because he realizes that if he had an accident "I'd have two strikes against me so I am always thinking of what could happen and I'm ready to stop, swerve or do what's necessary."

Some scientists believe all the matter in the universe once was concentrated in a huge primordial "atom," which exploded into fragments consisting of the millions of galaxies that today are still flying off into space.

Writer, 8, Sees Dreams Come True, Then Dies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Michael Rollins' dream came true. It was the dream of every writer — to see his work published.

The Associated Press, along with hundreds of newspapers across the land, printed one of Mike's stories Monday.

"To have other people know you wrote it and know other people are reading it — it's a pretty good feeling," he said.

Mike saw only an edition of a local paper which carried two of his stories, along with a resume of his writing career. He didn't see a later edition which told of him having leukemia — cancer of the blood — and that he only had a short time to live.

never knowing he had leukemia.

"We made certain he never found out," said his father, James Rollins of Marion, Ohio. "Mike had a rough enough time as it was."

When nearly 1,000 letters poured in to Children's Hospital congratulating Mike on his stories, "it was the most wonderful thing that ever happened to him," his father said.

Legal Wife Swap

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)—Milton R. Smalling and William H. Butler have swapped wives. Their wives went to Las Vegas, Nev., earlier this week and shared a room while they waited for their divorces. Then the husbands arrived and married each other's ex-wife.

Wig Makers Find Plenty of Work

WASHINGTON—The wig-making business, which is as old as ancient Egypt, is undergoing one of its periodic flips of fortune.

A few years ago, pessimistic practitioners of the craft were deploring its apparent decline. Today, a surprising number of wigs are being worn by feminine fashion setters both in Europe and America.

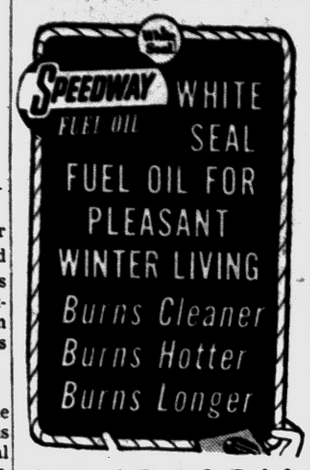

They are made up, moreover, to match dresses in colors such as green, lavender and pink, in defiance of the modern rule that false locks should copy nature as unobtrusively as possible.

The revival of rainbow-colored wigs recalls the impressive collection of England's Queen Elizabeth I, says the National Geographic Society. As the queen's own red hair grew paler and thinner, she had some 80 substitutes designed in shades of auburn, orange and gold.

Lance's Girl Determined to Become Star

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — According to 20th Century-Fox, which obviously snooped in the University of Southern California's files, starlet Jill St. John has a genius I. Q. of 168.

She is also intelligent in matters of the heart, having chosen for her "steady" young master Lance Reventlow, Barbara Hutton's pride and heir. Jill doesn't know whether they will marry or not, but in any case, she disclaims any particular awe of all that potential money.

"It's like moving into a house that's already been furnished," she says of marrying a rich man, "and you had nothing to do with it."

What interests Jill more, at the moment, is being a movie star in the old, glamorous, Gloria Swanson - Joan Crawford tradition.

"I want to become a real movie star — not a complete slob, like some of the stars you see walking around Beverly Hills. I won't mention any names because that's not considered ethical, but some of them just don't care how they look when the camera's pointing the other way.

"And I'm tired of the girl-next-door type in the movies. It's the last thing I want to be. Why should people go to see girls like that on the screen when they can go next door and have coffee with them . . . for free."

Jill is red-haired. She speaks, however, with a quiet firmness rather than temper.

"I am also weary of reading stories about what I've been planting in my garden," she says. "If people wanted to know about that, they should read it in a seed catalogue."

Miss St. John arrived in town this week to publicize her new movie, "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker," and found herself being questioned, instead, about the romance with Lance. It figures.

Her reputation in Hollywood, like that of many another over-publicized starlet, has been built on her personal life rather than her talents.

"I concede," she said, "that Lance has helped my career, in the sense that he has made my name well - known. But in Hollywood, the romance has hindered my chances maybe.

"Serious people in the business think I'm only interested in Lance. Quite the contrary, my main interest is in becoming a star.

"And Lance's main interest is his sports cars."

Just 18, and a native - born southern Californian originally named Jill Oppenheimer, she has been acting since the age of 5, in west coast stage, radio and TV productions. Her salary has been going into government bonds, which she will collect at the age of 21.

This, she claims, is another reason why the Hutton millions do not particularly impress her:

"I've never, ever, wanted anything — since I was five — that I couldn't afford to buy for my self."

On her engagement finger, she wears a ring that is a single white rose, studded with diamonds. It was a gift from Lance on her birthday.

"It is lovely, isn't it?" she said coolly. "Lance had it designed for me, because I love white roses. But the rose I remember best is the one he gave me the first night I told him how much I loved roses.

"There were no florist shops open, so he climbed over a fence and brought it back — a real living, breathing, white rose."

She stopped. Blushed. Stammered a little, as if her I. Q. were only average. "I'm very-ah-proud of him," she said.

South Pole Conditions Close to Space Life

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (AP)—Man's behavior in the cruel and eerie isolation of the South Pole may give explorers of another generation an idea of how to get along in space ships.

Palle Mogensen, polar transportation expert who has just spent a year as leader of a scientific party at the pole, said: "I don't know any other place on earth where you can come up with a situation so much like space."

The nine scientists and eight Navy men who spent a polar year with Mogensen were not selected indiscriminately. "They were picked by skilled people and psychologists," he said. "All went through the head-shrinker line."

The men had to spend nearly half a year in a weird world of darkness and desolation and in temperatures as low as 100 degrees below zero.

"There were no fights during the entire year," Mogensen said. "And no near misses. Not even the tendency. Disputes were always straightened out verbally.

"Some problems occurred as we began to get into the dark night. A man might become annoyed at the way somebody else blew his nose, or at the way he left his place at the table after eating, or even at the way he walked along the passageways between huts.

"Some people use the same phrases over and over, and this can be annoying too. You might feel like telling them to be quiet or say something new.

"But even what problems we did have were always over little things."

How about such things as politics and religion?

"You can safely say they're not nearly the problems as the little things," Mogensen observed.

"Nobody can become really annoying in a situation like that. He will be censured by the group. And group censure is a big thing in such a place."

Nearly all the men kept diaries. Some, including Mogensen's, are being turned over to Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, where psychologists will study them.

From such studies as this, Mogensen believes, man may get some idea of how to stay away from his neighbor's throat even after a year in a cramped rocket ship.

Jail Volunteer Gets a Short-Story Term

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — William Gates, 27, arrested on a forgery charge, told officers he wrote some $100 in bum checks so he would be sent to prison and thus obtain the background he needed for his novel.

When Gates came before Justice of the Peace Evangeline Starr, he pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of unlawful issuance of a check. He was sentenced to six months in the county jail.

Deputy Prosecutor Liem E. Tuai quipped to the court: "Instead of going to the penitentiary and writing a book, your honor, he'll go to the county jail and write short stories."

13-Day Dig Frees Dog From Crevice

FRANKLIN, N.C. (AP) — Old Touse is a blue tick-bulldog hound, one of the best coon dogs in mountainous Macon County. Luke Chastain of Otto is his master.

Two weeks ago, Old Touse and a smaller dog, baying joyfully, ran a coon through a crevice in a granite cliff just over the Georgia border.

Then they couldn't get out. It looked hopeless. Luke took his hammer and chisel, though, and began pecking away at the stone.

Five days later the smaller dog, thinned down from loss of weight, escaped. But as he did some rocks slipped and penned Old Touse even more securely.

The dog could only poke his nose through the hole for food and water.

Luke kept chipping away, and fellow hunters spelled him. The 13th day came and Old Touse still was alive, but time was growing short and there was only three inches of room to swing the hammer.

Luke decided. Red Talley, 15, of Satolah, Ga., wriggled into the crevice and set a dynamite charge then squirmed out. There was an explosion and a cloud of rock dust, closely followed by Old Touse.

Coons, beware. Old Touse gonna ride herd on you again.

Hal Boyle Says:

Light Comedy Decline Bothers Myrna Loy

NEW YORK (AP) — "I don't trust anyone who can't laugh at himself," said Myrna Loy.

Filmdon's "perfect wife" was talking about the scarcity now of light comedy roles which had brought her screen career to a pak.

"The real problem is why isn't the comedy being written," she said. "The trend has been toward realism on the part of the writers —and they furnish the material.

"There is such a tendency to conform among people that to laugh at anything or anybody is almost verboten. You can't write comedy without satirizing or being critical of something.

"We have lost the ability to laugh at ourselves. It's a very unhealthy thing."

After a two-year absence from Hollywood, Miss Loy recently completed her latest film in which she is costarred with Montgomery Clift and Robert Ryan. She plays the part of a wife with a past.

"This is something rather new for me—a really dramatic role," she said.

She is being hailed as "the new Myrna Loy," which rather tickles her.

"Being typed is always a danger," she said, smiling, "and I've been typed so often I feel like a cat with nine lives. But I'm glad to do roles that have more depth."

Born on a Montana ranch, red-haired, freckle-faced Myrna Loy was earning $30 a week teaching ballroom dancing while still in her teens. Then for seven or eight years Hollywood cast her as a slinky Oriental femme fatale in film after film.

When stars like Tab Hunter were still in their diapers, Myrna was earning $3,000 a week up as perhaps the screen's all-time favorite wife, the woman every man wanted to marry and bring home to mother. Off-screen, her four matrimonial ventures fared less happily.

The springboard for this phase of her career was the immensely successful "Thin Man" series in which she was teamed as the understanding wife of William Powell. They are popular all over again now as television reruns.

"It really is incredible to see them now—to see all the sins of your past brought back," said Myrna. "Here you are again in all your ignorance."

Miss Loy, although she has made a number of television appearances, has no desire to invade Broadway, wants to go on making pictures as long as she can find suitable roles.

"I've never really done anything in the theater," she said. "I grew up in the movies.

"I don't have the snobbery some people have toward the films. I think they are a great medium."

She has been one of the film colony's busiest workers in furthering the cultural activities of the United Nations.

"The years I haven't been so active in films weren't wasted," she said thoughtfully. "They have brought me much experience in life and living.

"The world consists of more than government moves. The artist used to be looked upon as suspect and unreliable. That was ridiculous.

"The theater has always reflected life, and creative people can be of real help to governments. I find this very exciting."

Miss Loy says she has "no permanent philosophy" but added:

"I do feel I am an optimist, although there is certainly much in the world to discourage one. You can't help but be hopeful. Life is more of a challenge now than ever—there is so much going on around us.

"Life becomes a dead end for people only because they don't know how to stay active."

Double-Deckers Going

LONDON (UPI)—London's old double-decker buses are up for sale. Transport officials said they have already sold some of the 500 buses declared surplus after recent cuts in service. Ceylon took 140 and 21 went to a private dealer and the Atomic Energy Authority.

Salvation Army's Bell Tells Us Christmas Almost Here

BRAVING THE COLD — Typical of the many Pontiac area volunteers who brave the cold to bring the warmth of Christmas to needy families is Mrs. Arthur J. McDonald of 117 Elm St. She stands in the frigid winter weather, watching over the familiar street-corner Salvation Army kettles. Contributions dropped in the bright red kettles will be used to make the joy of Christmas a reality for needy and unfortunate persons in the Pontiac area.

One of the surest signs of Christmas in Pontiac is the annual emergency of street corner booths, the steady tinkling of a small bell, and the Salvation Army volunteer worker standing over a collection kettle.

With the holiday season once again upon us, the Pontiac Salvation Army unit is entrenched in the yearly task of raising funds to assure that no family is missed this Christmas.

Contributions dropped in the familiar Salvation Army Christmas collection pots will be used in conjunction with various local groups to make Christmas a happier occasion for needy Pontiac area families.

The yearly street corner collection idea was not the brainstorm of a clever manager, an organizer or publicist for the Salvation Army. The idea was truly born out of need.

In 1894, a shipwreck on the West Coast sent survivors, shivering and hungry, to a Salvation Army shelter. As they were being cared for the food suddenly ran out.

A desperate worker hit on an idea. The worker seized an empty soup pot, carried it outside to a nearby street corner and placed a sign on it which read: "Keep This Pot Boiling."

That night there was soup enough, and a symbol of the Salvation Army was born. Since then, each year at Christmas time, volunteer workers have in the same manner carried out the receiving and giving of material gifts.

Today the bells ring on the streets of nearly every major city in the world. Pontiac workers have donned their heavy clothing and are again braving the cold weather to draw attention to the kettles.

The Salvation Army hopes that the people of Pontiac, people from all walks of life, will drop their contributions into the bright red receptacles as they have in past years, bringing joy to more unfortunate area residents.

Chevrolet Schedules Record Production

DETROIT (AP) — Chevrolet Motor Division says it has scheduled a record production of 45,000 cars this week.

The company said yesterday the figure tops the previous mark of 44,920 cars built in the week ended Dec. 14, 1957.

Edward N. Cole, Chevrolet general manager, said the production increase reflects the heaviest retail demand Chevrolet has expereinced since the record year of 1955.

Chevrolet has built more than 1,115,000 cars so far this year. It built 1,405,000 in the like 1957 period.

Cole said most of Chevrolet's assembly plants are working on a six-day weekly basis to meet the retail demand.

Hospital Contracts Let

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — Contracts for a new 42-bed hospital were let Wednesday by Cheboygan County Memorial Hospital. The new hospital is to be ready in June of 1960.

'So Happy' Weds 'Centre'

WEISER, Idaho (AP) — Marvin Bill Centre and Gladys Olivia So Happy were married before Justice Don Henderson. They are Umatilla Indians from Pendleton, Ore.

Full Postal Service Ordered for Dec. 26

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield today ordered normal service for the public on Friday, Dec. 26.

President Eisenhower recently designated that day as a holiday for federal employes but authorized department heads to use any employes whose services might be required "for public reasons."

Postmasters have been instructed to excuse employes not absolutely needed for such operations as window service pickups and deliveries. Regular employes working Dec. 26 will be granted equivalent time off later.

Late arriving packages will be delivered Christmas, largely by temporary holiday employes.

Named Warren Manager

DETROIT (AP)—Leon A. Garwood has been named manager of the Warren branch of the secretary of state's office.

Hare Urges Branch OK on Charity Typing Setup

LANSING (AP)— Secy. of State James M. Hare said that he was urging all his branch office managers to permit recognized local charitable or community service groups to set up auto license application form typing services for motorists who wish to use them.

Hare suggested that the local groups charge 25 cents for this service.

He said several reports have been received that March of Dimes groups, Lions clubs and similar organizations have expressed an interest in the proposal.

He explained that this year, as an economy move, the State Department was not sending out prepared auto license application forms.

With personnel reduced one third, French railroads now handle 20 per cent more passenger traffic and 65 per cent more freight than before World War II.

Bob Considine Says:

Our Supermarkets Are Smash Hits Abroad

WASHINGTON — My friend Jack Logan, representative of "creeping capitalism," has opened a supermarket in Zabrze, Poland.

The peaceful revolution there is now complete.

Handsome Jack, often the squire of Perle Mesta, who helped to democratize Luxembourg (which wasn't hard), heads up something called the National Association of Food Chains.

Lately it has become an international cracker-barrel operation, with overtones of smart diplomacy.

Apparently, the peoples of foreign lands take more readily to our supermarkets than any other American importation, including dynamic boll-weevil reports and reports on the outcome of knitting contests on the Voice of America.

Matter of fact, we have at hand and exclusive understatement from Logan:

"The supermarket is one American custom and system the people of other countries like, adopt and use without envy or restraint."

Reminds us of the curiosity shown by two delightful U.S. visitors of a year and more ago, Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip. They repaired immediately to a supermarket in a Washington suburb shortly after being released from the abominable boredom of a football game involving the Universities of Maryland and North Carolina.

It had been a hard day for both, what with Governors McKeldin and Hodges all but clapping them on their backs, in their hammy enthusiasm over the course of the game.

Her Majesty seemed to be saying, over and over again through the long afternoon, "Thank the Lord we lost the Revolution, else these might be my governors general."

Anyway, there they were, safe in their first supermarket, the agony gone. The manager had locked the door, imprisoning with the royal couple a lot of earnest young housewives bent on filling their wire baskets with the old man's meal.

The manager advanced on the Queen with a plate of diced American cheese, mit crackers. She nibbled daintily. "Delicious," she said. Philip took a bite. "Good for mice," he said wryly.

Anglo-American relations teetered on the brink, but a young housewife in slacks intended for a younger and smaller sister saved the situation.

"Say," she said to the Duke of Edinburgh, "what are you doing standing at the Queen's side? Aren't you supposed to stand one foot behind her, or something?"

Philip regarded the lady with glacial wit and replied, "You're quite right, madam. I am expected to stand behind Her Majesty. But we went to a football match today and became real chummy."

Getting back to the institution of these gigantic smorgasbords we call supermarkets, and the latest opening, seems that the big impetus has been demonstrations of same at various fairs through the world.

Yugoslavia liked the supermarket plan so much, after being exposed to it in the Zagreb Grand Fair of 1957, that it plans 60 of them. West Germany now has 3,100 such markets, 300 of them in West Berlin alone. East Berlin has one.

England and France have yielded slowly—tradition, you know—but surely. Seventy such markets have bloomed in Italy, another tough nut to crack, in the wake of the model exhibit which Logan's group and the Department of Agriculture set up in Rome.

The Iron Curtain countries like supermarkets for a different reason than you do. It builds the ego of their oppressed peoples. The report from Zabrze is that the store is popular because "it gives the customer the feeling that he counts."

Pathetic, isn't it? But liberty to select what one wants, freedom of choice, comes in many different sizes.

In Zabrze and elsewhere behind the curtain, a modicum of freedom emerges from such rights. It isn't much. But it is better than what went before.

We never thought of a supermarket as a tool in American diplomacy, but that's precisely what it is becoming.

Quit shoving.

He Wasn't Slighted at All

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My brother was divorced many years ago and has made his home with us ever since. He has a daughter who is living with his ex-wife, who is married again. However, the daughter has always been very fond of her father and comes to our house at least once a week to visit him.

"Now comes her wedding invitation, sent in her mother's and stepfather's names, just as though her own father didn't exist. He is very much hurt over this. Wasn't this very belittling to him?"

Answer: I'm sorry, but you are quite wrong! No matter what the feelings of the parents might be, it would be in very worst taste to have included his name on the invitations. In other words, the absence of his name is a requirement of propriety and is not in any way belittling to the bride's father. His importance is shown when he walks up the aisle of the church with his daughter and gives her away.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married shortly and was given a bridal shower last week. One of the women present at the shower is one I did not intend to invite to my wedding reception, as she is not a really intimate friend. Am I under any obligation to invite her to the reception because she was at my shower?"

Answer: If your reception is not going to be so overcrowded that there will not be room for her, you should invite her to it. The fact that she came to a shower given for you shows that she considers herself to be an intimate friend of yours.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have tickets for the opening night of a new play. I have been told that evening clothes are a must on a first night. Will you please tell me if ths is true or may day clothes be worn?"

Answer: Until a few years ago evening clothes were necessary at the theater on an opening night. Today, I am sorry to say, this is no longer so.

Persistent Female Needs Telling—Abby

Change Cold-War Tactics

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR MISS ABBY: I am a young man not long in your country who has problems with an aggressive young woman whom I met in my Adult Education class. I have been polite but did not give her any notions to encourage her friendship. She first requested a ride home from class. Now she expects it.

ABBY

"She found out my telephone number and rings me up during the week a shocking number of times. Twice she has taken the bus to my apartment, and was sitting on my front steps when I arrived home. (She asked my janitor to let her in, but was refused!)

"Almost daily I receive in the mail a long slender carton card with messages bluntly declaring her "affection." Lately I have taken the bus to class to avoid giving her rides home. Please, Madame, what can I do to discourage this woman without hurting her feelings?" NEW AMERICAN

DEAR NEW: This woman has about as much sensitivity as a Sherman tank, so don't be concerned about 'hurting her feelings." Tell her at the first opportunity that you have neither the time nor the desire to see her outside the classroom.

"DEAR ABBY: Could you please give me your opinion of a man with four growing children who has all four walls of his garage literally covered from floor to roof with pictures of nude women. Some of these are photographs from life. Very sincerely" J.M.B.

DEAR J.M.B.: He's not only sick—he's advertising it!

"DEAR ABBY: My son went off to college and left an $18 106 per cent wool sweater hanging in the closet "for the moths," he said. Of course this is his High School sweater with two colored stripes woven into the left sleeve and a large 'M' on the front. Now the sweater fits me perfectly and I want to know if I can wear it out in public. Say, to the grocery store or something like that?" MRS. E.

DEAR MRS. E.: Why not? You've earned your letter "M" for mother.

"DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have no children so we have always been very generous at Christmas time with the children of our friends. In many cases these children get so many gifts they can't even remember which is ours. I know it isn't their fault, but do you think we should continue sending them Christmas presents? How do you 'break the habit?" CHILDLESS

DEAR CHILDLESS: Simply write a note telling them that this year a gift to some underprivileged child has been sent in their name. Then get a list of needy children from a local orphanage, Salvation Army or Welfare Society. Your gift will mean so much more!

Diet for Teenagers

Plot to Parry Advocates of Weakmanship!

By RUTH WEST

In "Gamesmanship, Lifemanship, and One-upmanship," Stephen Potter, one of England's top humorists, concentrates on ways and means of beating people to the punch.

Now, I don't know a life situation where you can get more tangled up than when you're trying not to play follow the leader about what you eat. So here, with apologies to Mr. Potter, is our idea of The Theory and Practice of Dietmanship:

WATCH FOR TRAPS

What does dietsmanship mean? It means, in the plainest of English, that you, who plan to dodge the fat-fraught eating habits of your family and friends, need to maintain conversational control of all situations in which you might be trapped.

For this you need to be prepared with parrying remarks —ploys, as Mr. Potter would say, to distract the heckler who—let us face this squarely —wants you to waver.

"There is a vicious streak in some people that makes them want to make the fat fatter."

Susan Strasburg

The important thing is to remember to answer back with a will. If you mumble around, look furtive, or blame the whole thing on your mother, you will, before you know what has happened, find yourself fist-deep in a Marshmallow Delight Triple-Dip Chocolate-Nut Sundae.

BEWARE NUDGER!

For the purpose of convenience, we will refer to those who try to sway you as Nudgers. Some Nudgers mean well, some mean not so well; the effect is the same.

Here are some typical conversational patterns:

Nudger: You mean you're worrying about your weight?

Dietsman: Isn't everyone? (quick glance at Nudger's figure) well (embarrassed laugh), I guess not!

Almost no one can emerge unsquelched from this. Obviously not those who are overweight. Not the skinny ones who are just as worried about needing pounds as you are about shedding them. Not even the well-built who almost always have a vulnerable fat area.

Then there is intimidation, or the suggestion of superior knowledge gleaned from extensive research at the library.

Nudger: That's ridiculous, all this calorie-counting. You don't weigh any more than I do.

Dietsman: I wonder — have you ever checked your weight against a Wetzel Physical Fitness Grid? I'm perfectly healthy at this weight, I suppose, but I'm just not as fit as I could be.

Or:

Nudger: Why don't you just eat less? Skip sweets, for instance. That's what I do. Overweight is just a matter of eating too much.

Dietsman: (laughing) I guess if it was as simple as all that, overweight wouldn't be our biggest national health problem. Dr. Jean Mayer — Harvard, you know — says overweight can't be explained simply as the result of overeating —that's why doctors haven't had much success in treating it.

BRAZEN IT OUT

Then there's The Big Lie. Variations are: "Who me? I never diet," or "I don't know, somehow I'm just not hungry," or "I just had two chocolate bars, I couldn't eat another bite."

Look everyone straight in the eye. The shock of it—and the doubts it raises — practically guarantee it as a conversation-stopper.

Then there's this approach:

Nudger: My sister's been on a diet for weeks, and she hasn't lost a pound.

Dietsman: Sounds as though she's on one of those starvation diets that doesn't have enough excess protein to raise metabolism and burn up stored fat. Actually, I'm not dieting . . . I probably eat lots more than you do.

You will need specific methods to deal with the particular situations that come up in your own life. For instance:

Nudger: Why do you eat carrots instead of caramels?

Dietsman: Cavities — dentist's orders!

Or:

Nudger: How can you bear salad without gobs of mayonnaise?

Dietsman: How can you bear it with all that messy stuff on it!

This will take a bit of thinking, so when you hear a given remark more than once, make a note of it. Then figure out a nice, pleasant, knowledgeable —and confusing — answer or two, and you'll be all set.

Parents' Divorce Removes Safety Valve

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Jay's parents were divorced two years ago.

Last night as his mother was finishing the dishes, she heard a burst of television noises from the living room. Investigating, she found Jay relaxed on the sofa before the set, absorbed in a scene of violence between cattle rustlers and a virtuous pioneer marshal.

She turned off the set, saying, "No TV till your homework's done." Then picking up the arithmetic book Jay had let fall to the floor, she added, "Take this. And get going on those examples."

He knocked it from her hand. "Rotten old book!" he exploded. "I don't want to do examples for that rotten old teacher! I hate that stinky school anyway . . ."

Deeply discouraged by this wholesale condemnation of educational privilege, his mother thought, "Oh dear, what can I do about his rebellion against school?"

May I remind her that for some time now Jay has been attacking many obligations she requires of him as "stinky" or "rotten."

It is his indirect way of saying to her, "Mother, I hate you for an intolerable pest."

It is indirect because it is very hard for a child who lives with one parent to directly attack that parent.

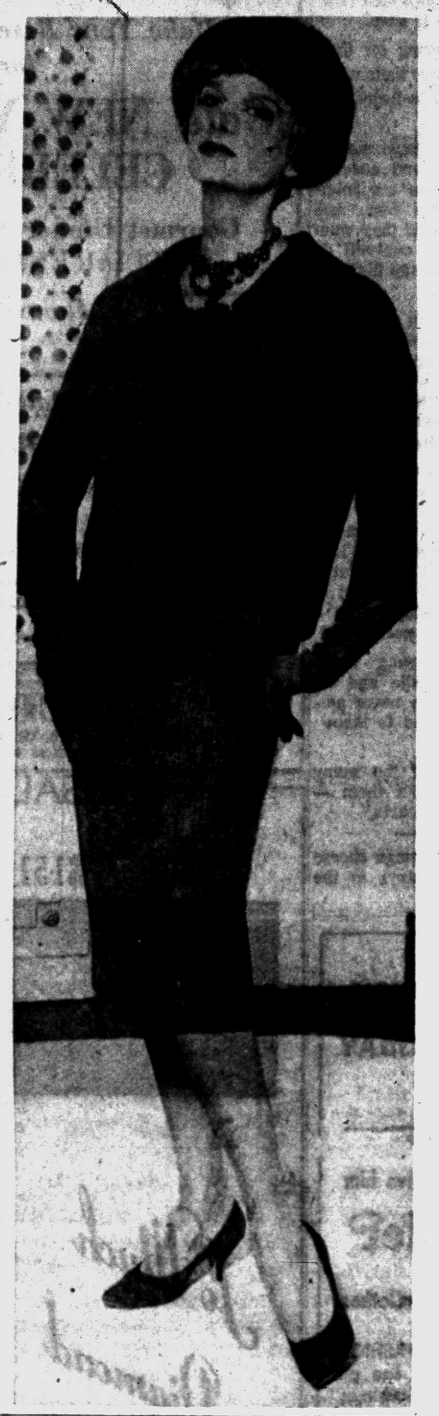

COULD COMPLAIN

One of the nice things we don't remember about living with two parents was the freedom it gave us to attack one or the other. If Mother seemed too unreasonable, we could complain of her to Daddy, knowing that his affection for her could absorb our rage at her. Our protest was safe with him.

But if, like Jay, we're a child of divorce, there isn't any Daddy around to make our rage at Mother safe. If we say, "I hate you for an intolerable pest," there's always the awful possibility she may get mad beak at us—and leave us completely orphaned.

So when we're furious at her demand that we detach ourselves from TV to do homework, we'll attack educational privilege as "stinky" and "rotten" because we don't dare say we hate her.

The divorced parent has a special obligation to make direct expression of anger safe for children. If he fills it, he is rewarded by a special trust and respect.

This elegant suit of imported shadow checked wool tweed by Ben Zuckerman features a loosely fitted jacket with a back-dipping side cape effect that drops over the straight skirt. The outfit is topped off with this season's fashionable fur type chapeau.

Middle Age Doesn't Exist for the Men

By RUTH MILLETT

"Men are either young or they are old—according to men. None of them likes to admit to middle age."

As you might suppose, that comment came from a woman who is frankly middle-aged and doesn't mind it.

There's a lot of truth in what she says. Look around and just notice how men cling to the enthusiasms and attitudes of youth.

They'll go through any kind of discomfort and tax their physical strength on hunting and fishing trips, long after their wives have admitted that their own idea of a vacation is to take it easy.

Men are still cheering for their alma maters long after their wives have relegated their college days to the dim past.

Long after women have started looking for comfort and ease of driving in a car, men are interested in small sports cars. And until they are really old they want to know what a new car will do when they get out on the highway and step on the gas.

The things a woman misses in her own youth she probably concentrates on seeing that her daughter has. But what a man couldn't afford in his yout he gets when he can, even though it comes at a late time of life.

A man never feels or acts middle-aged when there is a young and pretty girl in sight.

A middle-aged woman rarely turns her head to get a second look at a handsome young man, but a man has to be old to the point of senility before he quits taking a second glance at a pretty girl.

Yep, men are young until they're old and middle age is one period in life they never acknowledge — not even to themselves.

That is just one of the many fascinating things about them — bless their youthful hearts.

Bread, butter and cottage cheese were breakfast mainstays in the 17th Century.

No Fad Diets!

Teenager Deplores Her Figure

By JOSEPHONE LOWMAN

(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "I am 14 years old and need to lose 10 pounds. My mother tells me not to go on a stict diet. Please give me one to use. I had a perfect figure this summer. If I do not get it back I will go nuts. I also would like some exercise to slim my hips and waist and to build up my bust."

Watching your weight? Be sure that when you eat between meals you make it fresh fruit.

A Your mother is right. You should not go on a fad diet of any sort. Eat a well-balanced diet but leave off candy bars, rich soda fountain mixtures and pie. When you eat between meals make it fresh fruit, and do not take seconds at meal time. In this way you can lose your weight sensibly and painlessly.

The exercises would take too much space to describe today. If you (or any of my readers) would like to have the ones you mention, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Q. "I am sure I am overweight and it worries me. I am 14 years old and 5 feet 5 inches tall and weigh 110 pounds. My measurements are: bust 31½ inches, waist 22½, hips 35. Are my hips out of proportion?"

A. Far from being overweight, you are underweight about 10 pounds. Begin eating the things you may have left out of your diet and which you need — such as milk and cereals as well as meat and fruit. Your measurements are pretty good. You might exercise for some loss in your hip measurement.

Q. "I truly hope you can help me with my figure. I am so discouraged. My weight and measurements when put on paper don't look so bad. Maybe it is the clothes I wear! I don't know, but I look so tall, so thin, so up and down. In fact I look as straight as a board.

"I am a young married woman and my friends always are saying that I should gain some weight. I have gained 10 pounds since I was graduated from school three years ago, but still look thin. I hate to say this but I am beginning to get an inferiority complex.

"I am 5 feet, 6½ inches tall and weigh 136 pounds. My measurements are bust 35, waist 25 and hips 38 inches."

A. You are not much underweight. For a medium build you need to gain only about five pounds. However, if your frame is large, you could use another 10 or 15. Your measurements are in good ratio. You might take hip-slimming exercises in order to lose an inch or so there.

Maybe you do not hold yourself correctly. Even a good bustline is practically nil if you slump forward. To give the appearance of being heavier you should wear tops and bottoms of contrasting colors, horizontal stripes, large designs and shiny materials.

Tomorrow: "Want To Be Taller? Stand Up—Dress Right."

Guests' Illness Disrupts White House Banquet

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Illness plagued the state dinner opening the White House social season Thursday night.

Two of the guests of honor were absent because of illness and two guests became ill at the dinner table.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower launched the social season with a dinner for 80 in honor of the Supreme Court.

But Chief Justice Earl Warren, stricken with a virus infection, and Associate Justice Felix Frankfurter, still hospitalized from a mild heart disturbance, were unable to attend.

Then as the elaborate dinner got under way at the huge E-shaped table decked with pink carnations, two of the women guests became ill.

It was reported that Mrs. Eisenhower personally dispatched one of three doctor guests, Brig. Gen. Thomas W. Mattingly, to aid Mrs. Howard Simpson of Baltimore, wife of the president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Mattingly, a heart specialist, said Mrs. Simpson suffered from an attack of very rapid heart action, but it wasn't serious.

First to leave the table, even before she had a chance to try the food, was Mrs. Harold Tinney, one of a group of Newport, R.I., friends the Eisenhowers had invited specially.

The nature of her illness was not disclosed.

Earlier, Mrs. Warren, who came despite her husband's illness, stumbled as she mounted the steps of the north portico alone. Regaining her balance, she smilingly commented: "It's obvious I need my husband."

ONE COLOR

Spends 4th Chilly Night in Yard

Evicted Widow Stays On

NORTON, Va. (AP)—Mr. Ella Epperson Williams piled the blankets higher against the wintry winds Thursday night and spent a fourth straight night outdoors in the yard of the home from which she's been evicted.

Relatives pleaded with her to go inside. Neighbors coaxed. Officers all but demanded. But the white-haired widow, about 55, set her lip and told them: "That's the fartherest thing from my mind. Here I'll stay."

Surrounded by furniture from the old family home, warmed a little from the subfreezing temperatures by a small coal stove, and with a .38-caliber pistol for protection, she has remained just outside the house since being evicted last Monday.

Mrs. Williams claims nobody had a right to sell the house for her debts—about $3,000—because she owns it jointly with four other members of her family.

"I think it's just old meanness that's making her stay out there," says Police Chief Ray Wells. "She's stubborn as a mule."

As she sat in the chill, rocking in a family rocker and talking with passers-by, the telephone in the house rang. Someone answered it. It was from Mrs. Williams' son Lowel, a sailor stationed at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station in Illinois.

No one heard the conversation but Mrs. Williams came out of the house crying.

Moments later she was just as determined as ever. "I may stay out here forever," she said. "My parents died in that house, and I'm going to die there too."

Creditors brought the eviction suit three years ago. The house was sold by order of the Circuit Court. She stayed in it three months before she was turned out.

"Only after all peaceable means were exhausted did we turn her out," said a county officer.

The man who bought the house at auction, Oscar Sturgill, estimates it's worth about $7,000.

"But I'm not thinking about trying to claim it until all the commotion dies down," he says.

SECRETARY JAMES MITCHELL

Mitchell Against Hoffa Control

Secretary Says Public Workers Deserve Better Fate Than Teamsters

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said today that state, county and city employes "deserve a better fate" than to be organized by President James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters Union.

"Any effort of Jimmy Hoffa to enlarge his jurisdiction would displease me," the secretary said.

Why is that? Mitchell was asked.

Because, Mitchell said, it seems to him that "the people of this country, and union members particularly, have a right to union leadership that is respected and above reproach, and I don't think Mr. Hoffa has those virtues."

Hoffa announced at a teamsters meeting at Miami Beach that an effort will be made to organize state, county and municipal workers.

Mitchell said he doesn't know of any way to stop this.

Under questioning as to how police and firemen might be affected, Mitchell said: "It seems to me a public servant who has responsibility for law and order in a community should not have the right to strike."

He added, however, that policemen or firemen or any other groups who desire to organize in order to deal with city councils certainly have that as an American right.

Booth Talks Resume

LANSING (AP)—Although negotiations were to be resumed again today, there appeared little prospect that nine daily newspapers in eight Michigan outstate cities will resume publication this week. The newspapers, all members of Booth Newspapers, Inc., have been shut since Nv. 25 by a strike of some 500 members of the International Typographical Union (ITU).

Netherlands Has No Government

Five Socialists Resign From Dutch Cabinet After Tax Dispute

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—Five Socialists resigned from the Dutch Cabinet today, bringing down the two-year-old coalition government over a tax dispute with the Catholic People's party.

Queen Juliana began talks with elder statesmen and political leaders. The hope was that a new government could be formed quickly, since some controversial bills, including tax extensions, need to be approved before the end of the year.

Dr. Willem Drees, 72-year-old Socialist premier, resigned as promised Thursday when Parliament rejected two tax measures. They would have extended for two years temporary taxes first levied last year. The Catholics wanted to limit the extension to one year.

The measures won only 55 votes in the 150-member lower house, where the Socialists hold 50 seats. The Socialists and the Catholics, who have 49 seats, have run the Netherlands in coalition for 12 years.

Drees' 14-man Cabinet will act as a caretaker government until a new Cabinet is formed.

Detroit Police Recover Romeo Chief's Car

ROMEO — The Romeo police chief's car was reported recovered today by Detroit police who found it abandoned on Livernois road during the night with the keys still in it.

Police Chief Edgar Welsch said he will go to Detroit after work today to claim his car.

The vehicle was stolen from a parking lot opposite the Michigan Theater on Bagley street Wednesday night while Welsch and his wife were Christmas shopping.

Holland Airman Acquitted of Murder

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—Airman John Joseph Mahon, 18, of Holland, Mich., was acquitted today of a charge of murder in the candlestick bludgeon slaying of a chemical company executive, Jack Dobbins.

The jury returned the verdict at about 1:10 a.m. after about four hours of deliberation.

This climaxed three days of testimony, which ended when the young defendant went to the stand yesterday and gave his version of what happened on Halloween night, when Dobbins was slain with a candlestick holder.

Mahon, a slender, dark-haired youngster whose mother sat beside him, admitted he clubbed the 30-year-old Dobbins over the head after they returned to Dobbins' apartment after a round of night clubs.

But he said he did it during a struggle, after Dobbins had made improper advances to him.

Select Outstanding Northern Juniors

By BARBARA SHAVER

Twelve members of the junior class at Pontiac Northern High School have been selected as "outstanding" for the essay they submitted to the school newspaper's contest.

Each of the candidates interviewed wrote an essay about "The Importance of a Well Rounded Education".

The students cited for their outstanding essays were Nancy Adams, Geraldine Frady, Carol Mihay, Joanne Dembinski, Connie Smith, Johanna Lampi, Judy Casey, Stanley Hertel, Sandi Tinson, Ralph Clawson and Nancy Robinson.

Pontiac Northern and Central dramatics departments will present "The Bad Seed," a drama by Maxwell Anderson, tonight and tomorrow at Central's auditorium beginning at 8 p.m.

Northern's auditorium was used for the first time Wednesday. The boys chorus, girls chorus and ensemble presented a musical program.

Denita Bowers was named chairman of the caps and gowns committee for the seniors this week. Chairman of announcements is Donna Tate and Barbara Shaver, social committee.

The seniors are now selling coffee, hot chocolate and doughnuts in the cafeteria before school opens each day to raise more money for their project of buying a husky statue for the school.

Norman Lindebert and Janis Lund have been selected to reign as king and queen respectively of the B-15 senior homeroom throughout the year.

The senior high band will play Christmas melodies in the second portion of the trilogy.

The concluding portion will be of a religious nature by the Skitamard Players, the dramatic club. It will consist of a play entitled "Why the Chimes Rang."

The setting of the play is in medieval times and the cast includes the following: Sandy La Piner, Terry Nicholson, Bill Icso, Lynn Duncan, John Paget, Larry Cox, Jo Ann Welch, Margie Lang, Bob Ehrke, Stu MacKenzie, Bob Reimer, and Nina Hill.

Marjorie Crowder is the new editor-in-chief of the Tomahawk, the school's newspaper. Other editors on this publication include Joanne Wood, assistant editor, Dianne Flicker, news editor; Jim Moyer, assistant news editor; Sue Steinbough, feature editor, and Gail Gibson, asisstant feature editor.

Ivory Tower Cat Finally Succumbs to Tree Surgeon

CANTON, Conn. (AP)—For 72 hours the cat just sat there, giving them the cold stare from her 80-foot perch atop an elm.

Firemen tried everything.

The ladders wouldn't reach, so they tried to tilt her a little with a stick, hoping to get her to drop into a blanket. But she was in no stick-grabbing mood.

Nor did she reach for some of that tempting food they hoisted to her perch. She just sat there, shivering in the cold.

Things were getting desperate.

gnter the hero — Eugene Shipman, 24, former tree surgeon from West Hartford.

He crawed up the tree with hooks and ropes. Down he came with the cat eight minutes later.

The cat is home now to spend the holidays by the fireplace.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

FIVE ACES: It was obvious from first-week sales last week that "The Chipmunk Song" was destined to be another big seller for David Seville. My prediction that it would hit the top this week has turned out to be an understatement.

Seville has achieved the ultimate goal of a "clean sweep" in whirlwind fashion. This is only the third record this year to take all first place votes from area record shops.

This is not a singular honor for Seville. His "Witch Dr." was one of the previous two discs to turn the trick back in April. In second place is "To Know Him Is To Love Him" (The Teddy Bears).

Third spot goes to "Whole Lot Of Loving" (Fats Domino), with "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" (The Platters) and "I Got Stung" (Presley) in fourth and fifth, respectively.

Also looking good are: "Lover's Question" (Clyde McPhatter); "Lonely eardrops" (Jackie Wilson); "Beep Beep" (Playmates); "It's Only Make Believe" (Conway Twitty); and "Problems" (The Everly Brothers).

Good blues singers are hard to come by these days. This is mainly due to publicity blurbs and a record buying public confusing blues with torch singers and jazz singers.

One of the few really true blues singers recording today is Lizzie Miles. Most of her recorded work is the direct result of the unusual foresight and insight displayed by executives at Cook Laboratories.

An excellent example of her genius is "Torchy Lullabies My Mother Sang Me" (Cook—1184), a collection of blues and jazz masterpieces in which Lizzie belts out vocals backed by a Dixieland Band and Red Camp's piano.

Miss Miles, who is over 60 years old, displays a mode of expression lost in recent years. Present day singers use degrees of volume for expression.

Lizzie, a trooper from way back, sings with an intense, full-blown voice quality as the expressive medium, changing volume only to suit the song and setting.

Every record collection should include this terrific LP.

Pistol-Whipper Mute on Charge

Berkley Man Will Be Arraigned Monday for Beating Woman

BERKLEY — The confessed pistol-whipper of a woman clerk in the Piggy Bank Cleaners, 2829 Coolidge Highway, Walter H. Budry, 25, stood mute in court late yesterday before Justice of the Peace Ralph Finley on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to do great bodily harm.

Budry, who lives at 3665 Oakshire Rd., waived examination before trial and was bound over for arraignment Monday in Oakland County Circuit Court, Pontiac. He will come before Judge William John Beers.

The victim, Mrs. Marguerite Baker, 37, of 2130 Highland St., Ferndale, was reported in "very satisfactory condition" today, at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak. She is expected to be released soon. Mrs. Baker suffered multiple lacerations about the head and face.

Budry's bond was set by Judge Finley at $20,000. The accused was unable to post that amount and is being held in the Oakland County Jail.

Police are still searching for the pistol which Budry says he threw away in the Walled Lake Amusement Park area where he was picked up by Novi police on Tuesday, a few hours after the crime was committed.

Investigating officers in Berkley doubt that robbery was the motive as was believed earlier. Budry has been under a doctor's care for long periods in the past. No rational motive has been established.

Faulty Wiring Sets Area House Afire

Firemen said there was a defective light plug in the basement of the $17,000 frame home. Fire ate a hole in the living room floor, sending furniture tumbling into the basement, they said.

Children Escape Injury When Truck Rams Bus

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Forty pupils escaped injury today when a Clarenceville Elementary School bus was hit by a truck in Farmington Township.

Truck driver Samuel Deschamps of 35743 Minton Rd., Livonia, and his passenger, George Dunning of Detroit, were hurt, apparently not seriously.

Bus driver Charles E. Bissell of 21335 Renselaer, said he had stopped at a curb for a passenger when the bus was hit.

Bids on School Bond Slated for Monday

Bids on a $2 million general obligation bond issue to finance the 1959 Pontiac school construction program will be opened at a special Board of Education meeting called for 8 p.m. Monday.

The meeting, which will be in the Pontiac School District offices at 40 Patterson St., was set last night after Vernon L. Schiller, board treasurer, reported that early sale of the bonds would be advantageous.

The bond issue will be the first long-term loan made by Pontiac schools since voters approved extra millage for school construction and operation in 1954.

Running for 25 years, the bonds will be paid off through the extra millage until 1964, when the millage ends. No plans are formulated for financing after that.

In other business, the Board awarded building contracts for construction of the Square Lake School and a stage at Bagley School.

The Detroit architectural firm of Eberle N. Smith Associates, Inc., was authorized to proceed with the development of detailed drawings for an addition to Washington Junior High and to advertise for bids upon their completion.

Cost of the addition has been estimated at $493,365.

Two physically handicapped children who are not receiving orthopedic treatment will nevertheless be transported to classes by school bus, the Board decided.

Pontiac Central football coach Jesse MacLeay, principal, Francis Staley, and Thomas W. Dodson, supervisor of physical education, discussed the high school's football program with the Board.

MacLeay told the Board that last year's team had been riddled by injuries. He also said that some of the athletes had been guilty of insubordination.

He recommended bringing junior high football coaches under the wing of the high school staff so that they could teach the same fundamentals and plays used at the high school.

Board members, polled on whether Pontiac Central should remain in the Saginaw Valley Conference, unanimously felt that the high school should stay in the league.

Will Practice Initiation

It's a $2½ Million Project

Clarkston Will Open Bids on New School Tuesday

CLARKSTON — Approximately 35 construction bids for a new $2½ million high school will be opened at 2 p.m. Tuesday, according to superintendent Dr. F. F. Greene.

Bid specifications, which were divided into three sections, include general contractor, mechanical and electrical.

For more than a year, a group of 100 Clarkston residents, known as the School Steering Committee, compiled an extensive survey of school needs, before the proposition was put to a vote of the people, Greene explained.

The $2½-million school bond issue was passed by a two-to-one majority of registered voters at a special election held last May.

To be constructed on 40 acres of the 72-acre Clarkston elementary school site on Waldron Rd., the new high school will be the first separation of the Junior and Senior high school pupils.

There will be 37 teaching stations for 1,200 pupils, a gymnasium with seating capacity for 2,000 spectators, an auditorium and cafeteria to accommodate some 350 pupils at one time.

An ultra-modern science and labratory department has been included in the specifications, along with an up-to-date library, and fully equipped shop department.

At the present time, there are four elementary schools in the 48-square mile Clarkston school district, accommodating more than 4,000 pupils.

The present junior-senior high school will eventually house 7th, 8th, and 9th graders, exclusively, Greene said.

After the bids have been opened, reviewed and contracts awarded, construction on the building will probably get under way as soon as weather conditions permit, Greene concluded.

Trapper Moans Doleful Song of Muskrat Ramble

A Davisburg man has changed his tune to "Muskrat Ramble," and with good reason.

Sam Miller, of 8391 Bridge Lake Rd., a muskrat trapper, was pretty upset when he called the Pontiac State Police Post Thursday.

Someone had "rambled" to unknown parts with a string of 80 muskrat traps he'd set last Tuesday in Lake Waumegah, Springfield Township.

Forget the Pants: Try Red Flannels

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—The problem, the three stewardesses explained, is that area between a shapely knee and a well-turned ankle.

"Baby, it's cold down there," they said.

Noni Myers, Anchorage, Alaska; Marilyn Batey, Seattle; and Rosemarie Fliseck, Kent, Wash., were surrounded by an admiring cluster of newsmen Thursday as they explained their problem.

Miss Batey, chairman of Council 77 of the Airline Stewards and Stewardesses Assn., said her union was in contract negotiations with Pacific Northern Airlines, which flies Alaskan routes.

A lot of things are involved in the talks, she said, but two things the company wants have the girls in a particular frost.

First, said Miss Myers, the company wants to be able to retire its stewardesses at the age of 32.

THIN VEIL NO HELP

But worst of all, piped up Miss Fliseck, the airline won't let its stewardesses wear ski pants on Alaska flights.

"There we are, exposed," Noni said. "They want us to have just this thin veil of nylon between us and the elements at 40 to 60 below zero."

And Marilyn chimed in: "Every other airline that flies out of Anchorage requires ski pants, for comfort and as a safety precaution. If we crash in nylons, our legs would freeze stiff."

"The only reason they'll give us is that ski pants are not in keeping with the decorum of the company uniform," Rosemarie said.

"I asked the airline man what we should do to keep from freezing," Noni said. "He suggested we wear adequate underwear. I said, 'What do you suppose we should do to keep warm between here and there?'"

There was no immediate comment from the airline.

Doesn't Believe Con Killed Dad

Next Alabama Chief Doubts Prisoner's Story of Phenix City Murder

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—"I think it's all a hoax," says Alabama Gov.-elect John Patterson of a Virginia convict's confession that he killed Patterson's father during a robbery attempt in 1954.

Commenting Thursday night for the first time on the statement by Calvin W. Pruitt, 28-year-old Alabama native serving a life sentence in Virginia, Patterson said it appeared false to him. However, he plans to investigate it thoroughly.

The 37-year-old attorney general, who gained the post after the murder of his father Albert Patterson, reported two of his assistants have gone to Virginia State Penitentiary at Richmond to question Pruitt.

The elder Patterson was killed shortly after he had been nominated attorney general. He had proposed, if elected, to clean up rice-ridden Phenix City.

In Phenix City, meanwhile, unidentified official sources have hinted that at least a part of the murder gun, previously missing, has been found.

They also revealed that witnesses who had declined to come forward earlier did so after the conviction of former Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller on a murder charge.

Their testimony, the sources said, reinorces the state's case against Fuller, who had been charged along with former Solictor Arch Ferrell and ex-Atty. Gen. Si Garrett.

Fuller was given a life term, Ferrell was acquitted and Garrett never stood trial.

On the basis of the weapon and the new testimony, the officials said, they were skeptical of Pruitt's confession.

Leon Orbeli, 77, Dies; Was Red Physiologist

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet press reported today the death of physiologist Leon Orbeli, 77.

Orbeli was one of the Soviet scientists who stood most firmly against the dictatorship of Trofim D. Lysenko, apostle of the discredited theory of inheritance of acquired characteristics and was fired from several important posts.

They Read Newspapers to Collect State's Taxes

By TOM SHAWVER

LANSING (AP)—A national magazine recently carried a story about a Michigan art collector who had paid some $200,000 for a painting in a European mart.

Not long afterward, the collector got a letter from the State Revenue Department reminding him he owed $6,000 in use taxes on his objet d'art.

A Detroit newspaper once reported the theft of a valuable mink stole imported from Alaska. Another paper recounted the cruise of a boat bought in the Netherlands and sailed across the Atlantic by its Michigan owners.

In both instances, sharp-eyed revenue men read the accounts and sent tax reminders to the owners. Many people don't know Michigan levies a use tax on items bought in other states or countries for use, storage or consumption in Michigan.

Others know, but don't pay without a nudge from the collector.

Incidents such as these partially explain why Michigan has a higher collection rate on its sales and use taxes than any of the other 32 states with similar levies—better than $45 per capita.

It's part of the job routine for the Revenue Department's approximately 275 field examiners, all accountants, to keep a watchful eye out for tax monies that might not erbe paid without a friendly reminder.

KEEP EYES OPEN

Through newspapers and word of mouth and by keeping their eyes open in their travels around the state, they frequently spot untapped revenue sources which in the aggregate produce many thousands of dollars for the state.

Said B. C. Holderied, assistant director of the Revenue Department's sales and use tax division:

"After a man has been with the department a while, he doesn't read a magazine, newspaper or billboard the way most people do. He's always scanning them for possible unpaid taxes."

These days, revenue men are more important than ever to the machinery of state government. The state is deeply mired in debt and sinking deeper at the rate of about a million dollars a week.

Informed sources say the treasury may be in the red as much as 100 million dollars when the 1958-59 fiscal year runs out June 30.

That's one reason State Revenue Commissioner Louis M. Nims has no compunction about asking the legislature for money to hire 50 new field examiners, lebts notwithstanding.

Last year lawmakers turned him down, hewing to their strict "hold the line" policy against state spending.

CAN SHOW GAINS

Revenue officials can produce records showing the state can net more than $40,000 for every new examiner added to the payroll up to a point of diminishing return not yet established.

Deputy Commissioner Clarence W. Lock says 50 new examiners can bring the state at least two million dollars in clear "profit." He thinks more than 100 could be hired in the next few years to the state's advantage.

Most of the obvious gain comes from field audits of taxpayers' books and records. Last year, for instance, deficiences uncovered by the state examiners in nearly 7,000 audits netted about six million dollars in taxes, penalties and interest that otherwise would not have been collected.

Lock contends another 25 employees assigned to scan lists of Michigan taxpayers holding stock in various firms around the country could dredge up 2½ million dollars a year in additional taxes on intangible property.

Nims may not get his 50 new examiners under the present tax structure, but may find considerably more than that assigned to his department if the legislature adopts a new state tax plan proposed by a citizens' advisory committee.

Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), chairman of a legislative tax study committee, appointed the group to make tax recommendations. It recommended a graduated income tax and various other tax changes calculated to net the state about 137 million dollars in new revenues.

Lock estimated the plan would add about 2½ million dollars to the four million dollars it costs to run his department annually and boost the size of the staff from 640 to more than 1,000.

Scientists Plan Missile Detection Setup in Scotland

LONDON (AP)—U.S. and British scientists are reported discussing plans for a powerful radar station in north Scotland to warn against Soviet missile attacks.

It would immensely strengthen the North Atlantc Alliance's existing warning system.

The West already has a network of radar stations to warn of the approach of bombers, which do not reach the high altitude of missiles.

The aim of the Scottish station—which would be built at America's expense—would be to detect ballastic missiles within a minute or two of launching.

A spokesman emphasized building would not start for three or four years. He said the bill would be "hideous—even the Americans are a bit staggered by the cost." He declined to divulge the estimated total.

Thousands of 'Needy' Veterans Enjoying Juicy Income Flow

By FRANK ELEAZER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A survey by the House Veterans Committee indicates that thousands of veterans drawing non-service connected pensions on the basis of need actually enjoy, with their wives, either fair incomes or substantial holdings of stocks, bond and cash.

One such "needy" veteran had, with his wife, a net worth of $62,096, including $53,296 in liquid assets, and an income of $3,348.

He had drawn pensions checks totaling about $5,400 and on the basis of mortality tables could expect to draw another $9,450. His military service totaled four months, all in the United States.

The survey showed, on the other hand, that many thousands of less fortunate veterans are supporting themselves meagerly in their old age with no income but their veterans' pensions of either $66.15 or $78.75 per month.

PROPOSES CORRECTION

Veterans Committee Chairman Olin E. Teague (D-Tex) proposed to correct both conditions, at least partially. He said legislation is being drafted to pare from the pension roles some of those who don't need help and to increase payments for those who need it badly.

The White House has hinted it may sponsor legislation in the same field, as part of a drive to cut government spending. Teague's proposals, at least initially, probably would increase total outlays for veterans' pensions.

Pensions are not to be confused with compensation. Compensation is paid, as a matter of right, to veterans with disabilities incurred in military service.

Pensions are for disability incurred in civil life and are payable only where the veteran passes a test of need.

No allegation was made that dishonest claims of need were made by the veteran, even in the most extreme cases turned up by the committee. The blame was fixed rather on faulty law and administration.

The law tests need on the basis of annual income. The limits are $1,400 for single men and $2,700 for those with wives.

But the wife's income is not counted, even though she may be claimed for purposes of the higher limitation. Nor are assets considered, either of the veteran or his wife.

On the basis of a cross section of pension cases pulled from veterans administration files, the committee estimated that close to 20,000 of the 800,000 pensioners now on the rolls have incomes, with their wives, of $5,000 or more.

About 13,000 were estimated to control—again with their wives — liquid assets of $15,000 or more.

At the other end of the scale, the committee said an estimated 46,000 married pensioners have no income other than their pensions and about 114,000 appear to have outside incomes of not more than $500.

Also, many aged and disabled veterans in real need of help were found to have been disqualified for pensions because they held submarginal jobs.

A 60-year-old bell boy in a small hotel was turned down because he earned $60 per month plus room and board.

A 67-year-old farmer, suffering from a severe heart attack condition and arthritis, was held ineligible for a pension because he had sold 11 calves during the year for a gross take of $1,200.

Employes Help Needy Children

County Playing Santa

Oakland County employes are out to make sure that needy area children have a merry Christmas.

Women working for the county are making dresses and other clothes which will be presented to youngsters in county boarding homes who are wards of the Juvenile Court.

Directing their efforts are John Witherup, personnel director; Mrs. Ladeen Floyd, a child welfare worker in juvenile court; and Mrs. Kathleen Thomas, an equalization clerk.

This is the first time that county employes have participated in such a drive at Christmas time, according to Witherup.

He estimates there are 1,000 children in county boarding homes.

Clothes are being collected for children from preschool age through 16.

Twelve home-made dresses have been turned in to his office so far, Witherup reports. Many workers have purchased new clothes for the drive.

Items will be collected in Witherup's office through Dec. 15. They will be turned over to Juvenile Court workers who will distribute the apparel.

Prizes will be awarded for the best clothes made by women workers, he said.

Lawyer Turns Down Goldwater's Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A labor union attorney today rejected a suggestion by Sen. Barry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz) that labor and business leaders get together to limit political activities of both.

Arthur Goldberg, special counsel to the AFL-CIO and attorney for several labor unions, said politics should be the business of every citizen.

Goldwater had written Goldberg and indutry leaders suggesting a labor-management conference to discuss limiting political activities.

Goldwater said organized political activities had grown to the point where a candidate for office had to accept financial commitments either from business or labor unions.

Goldberg's reply said what is needed is not to narrow but to broaden political spending.

Tax Called Necessity

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) says a state income tax in some form is an "obvious necessity" to pull the state out of the red and put its finances on a sound basis.

Long Knife Blade Punctures Heart, Woman Survives

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 26-year-old woman propped an 11-inch blade knife in her jewel box on the floor and threw herself onto the point.

This happened Thanksgiving Eve. The story was told only today, with the young woman about ready to leave the District of Columbia General Hospital.

When the woman was found only the knife handle jutted from her breast.

She was taken to the hospital, the knife handle quivering with each breath.

Doctors said only one thing kept her alive. The knife had torn two holes in a sac around the heart before plunging into the right ventricle. The sac leaked just enough blood so that mounting pressure didn't stop the heart.

The sac was drained. The tears were repaired. Then the knife, its handle still pulsating, was withdrawn. The hole in the ventricle was closed with stitches.

Four days after the delicate operation the young woman—who name was not given—was taken off the critical list.

Kidney-Sharing Twins Healthy for Holidays

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) —Christmas this year should be the merriest of all for the Merriman twins Bill and Sam.

The reason for this happy outlook is that the 27-year-old brothers are in good health although each has only one kidney. And, actually, both of them belong to Sam.

It happened this way:

Bill was gravely ill from diseased kidneys. His doctors told him his only chance to live would be to take one of Sam's kidneys and transfer it to him. Then, if the kidney functioned properly, another operation would be made to remove his bad kidneys.

Sam was happy to help his brother, whom he had seen waste away gradually.

"It's the least I can do," he said.

A year ago today the first operation was performed at Virginia Medical College in Richmond. It was a success and Sam recovered quickly. Bill tayed on for the more serious surgery — taking out his diseased kidneys. This too was successful although medical authorities said it was the first time they had accomplished this with only one operation.

Bill, too, regained normal health several months ago and is now studying for a master's degree in accounting and management at Oklahoma City University. Sam gave up a career in the Air Force to return here with his family.

The twins also have something else in common—their wives are named Helen. Bill has two youngsters, Kathy, 3, and David, 4. Sam has a 2-year-old son, Danny.

A family reunion will highlight the Christmas celebration at Bill's home.

"We are really looking forward to a happy Christmas," Bill said, "and we are more than thankful for the many kindnesses during our period of trouble, especially by the people of Richmond."

Kupcinet Tells Jury He Had Only 2 Drinks

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Chicago columnist Irv Kupcinet, 46, says he had only two weak drinks of scotch and water before his arrest on a drunk driving charge in Hollywood last Aug. 26.

Kupcinet told a Municipal Court jury he was in Hollywood to attend a motion picture press preview that included visits to night spots.

Arrested with Kupcinet was Mrs Gregg Sherwood Dodge, 35, wife of auto heir Horace E. Dodge II. she was fined $100 for intoxication.

State Traffic Toll May Reach 1,375

EAST LANSING (AP) — State police forecast a total death toll of 1,375 on Michigan highways in 1958.

The prediction is based on figures for the first 11 months of the year and a study of fatality figures for December in past years. The death toll at the end of 11 months was 1,065 compared with 1,246 during the same period last year.

If the forecast holds up, the year will end with a 10.5 reduction in highway deaths from the 1,537 killed in 1957. Final figures will not be available until all reports are received in January.

This will be the third consecutive year there has been a downward trend in traffic deaths. The toll this year is expected to be 32 per cent — or 641 lives — under 1955 when 2,016 persons were killed.

Married 80 Years, Couple Planning Honeymoon Trip

FAIRVIEW, Utah (AP) — The Peter Petersons started their 81st year of married life today with another honeymoon trip in prospect.

He is 98 and she is 97. They hope to repeat the honeymoon trip they made by horse-drawn wagon. They were married in the Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) Temple at St. George Dec. 11, 1878.

One of their seven surving children, Andrew, said an automobile company (Plymouth) had offered them a new car to make the trip. Andrew said the trip may have to be postponed, however, until spring or summer.

Big Ten Tightens 'Redshirting' Rule

Change Limits Eligibility to 4-Year Period

Faculty Men Continue Stand Against NCAA's Television Policy

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Big Ten tightened its anti-redshirt rule yesterday and went on record without recommendation against the current NCAA policy on football television.

The rule to prohibit redshirting, the practice of holding an athlete out of competition to extend eligibility, previously permitted competition in 12 quarters or eight semesters of residence.

The change limits eligibility to a four-year period beginning with the athlete's initial registration in a university. Under the old rule a student could have retained eligibility by dropping out of school, but the new rule will prevent this.

The faculty representatives also reaffirmed a rules change barring any aid to an athlete who was graduated from high school in the lower third of his class. Such a student, however, could obtain aid later by achieving grades sufficient to become eligible for athletics in college.

The conference stand against the NCAA television policy has not changed, assistant commissioner Bill Reed said, but the group will make no recommendation to the NCAA for convention action. However, he said the league still favors an NCAA rule which would limit the number of appearances of any one school on the football TV program without any additional stipulations.

Athletic directors rejected a request from the track coaches to bar alien students from competition, but recommended a change in the current conference rule to charge a year of eligibility to foreign athletes for each year of their competition after their 19th birthday before they should enroll in a Big Ten school. The current rule specifies the 20th birthday.

The directors also recommended that the conference sponsor similar legislation in the NCAA convention for a national regulation.

The 1959 indoor track meet was awarded to Ohio State March 4-5, the 1959 outdoor track meet to Iowa, May 20-21 and the 1959 cross-country meet scheduled for Nov. 13 with a site to be determined.

The faculty also amended the financial rule to provide that a member institution must show cause to retain its membership if it retains on its staff a coach who encourages others to violate the rule or who withholds knowledge of violation by others.

Previously the show cause clause applied only to a staff member who violated the rule himself.

The faculty waived competition to grant an additional year of eligibility to three athletes, James Matz of Ohio State, Gerald A. Wood of Illinois, and Robert Griggas of Minnesota. Matz and Wood were injured in football with minor competition while Griggas was injured in basketball without inter-collegiate competition.

Dave Fahs of Michigan State was granted eligibility on a waiver for violation of the rule prohibiting participation on a team in any tournament in which a money prize was offered, and a aid tender returned after the deadline by Milton E. Nolff of Iowa was validated.

The athletic directors authorized Wisconsin to play Marquette in the Milwaukee arena in basketball on Dec. 19, 1959 and also to participate in the Queen City tournament at Buffalo, Dec. 26-28, 1959.

Pistons Defeat Hawks Again

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

By United Press International

George Yardley has recovered his scoring touch and the Detroit Pistons are beginning to roll.

Yardley, last season's National Basketball Association scoring leader, tallied 37 points last night to give Detroit its second straight win over the St. Louis Hawks, 107-101, and move within three games of the Western Division leaders.

The balding Yardley, aided by Gene Shue, gave Detroit the lead shortly after the start of the game and the Pistons were never headed as they won their third in a row, and 8th of last 11.

Shue, who scored 32 points, netted 19 in the first half as the Pistons gained a 53-45 advantage at intermission. St. Louis, paced by Bob Pettit and Cliff Hagan, staged a second-half rally that twice cut Detroit's lead to three points.

With four minutes to play and Detroit leading, 96-93, Yardley and Shue combined to stave off the Hawk uprising and give the Pistons their third win in five games with St. Louis. Pettit, the league's leading scorer, paced St. Louis with 27 points. Hagen had 22.

The Boston Celtics spoiled former Temple University star Guy Rodgers' NBA debut as they defeated the Warriors, 123-114, in the second half of the Philadelphia doubleheader.

Bob Cousy, with 28 points and Bill Sharman, with 26, paced the Celtic attack that moved Boston to within 14 percentage points of the Eastern Division leading New York Knickerbockers. Rodgers, on terminal leave from the Army, tallied 24 points in 28 minutes of play. Paul Arizin had 29.

In the only other game played, Syracuse edged Minneapolis, 101-22, as player-coach Paul Seymour dropped in two free throws with 24 seconds to go in overtime.

Rookie Elgin Baylor, the game's high scorer with 31 points, sank three straight baskets for Minneapolis in the final minute and a half to tie the contest at 93-all at the end of regulation time. Al Bianchi was high for Syracuse with 27.

CADET — Chuck Darby, captain of the Army basketball team from Sturgis, Michigan, will lead the Cadets when they play in the 7th annual Motor City tournament, Dec. 29-30, in the Detroit fieldhouse.

Iowa Grid Squad Working Out Inside

IOWA CITY, Iowa (UP) — Working in pads, the Iowa football squad went through a 45-minute indoor practice Thursday in preparation for the Rose Bowl game with California.

The first and second units alternated in running offensive plays and defensing California plays.

Coach Forest Evashevski was in charge of the practice after returning from the Big Ten meetings in Chicago.

State Quints Warm Up for Holiday Tourneys

tonight, then play host to Delaware, a week from Saturday, Dec. 20th.

Michigan will go into the Motor City classic with Army as its opening night foe, while the Titans play Princeton in the first game of the evening, Dec. 29th.

U. of D. has the advantage of playing five games before the tournament, but Saturday's game against NIT champion Xavier could hardly be called a "warm up" contest.

Xavier, one of the top ranked teams in the country, is unbeaten

Holiday time is basketball tournament time and all three of Michigan's major cage teams will warm up for entry into Christmas tourneys.

University of Michigan and U. of D. share co-host honors for the 7th annual Motor City Classic, Dec. 29-30 at the Detroit Memorial fieldhouse.

MSU, on the other hand plays two games before entering the Dixie Classic at Raleigh on the same dates.

The Wolverines with a 1-1 record, meet Butler at Ann Arbor in three games to date and the Ohio quintet will be heavy favorites to make four straight Saturday night in the U. of D. fieldhouse.

Michigan State plays Notre Dame away and Nebraska at home before going in the Dixie tournament. The Spartans have a 2-0 mark and currently are ranked 6th in the nation.

The field in the Motor City Classic this year is rated as one of the best.

Army posted a 13-12 record last year, but the Cadets led by Chuck Darby, a senior from Sturgis, Mich., have a veteran team returning.

Coach Franklin (Cappy) Cappon, former head basketball coach at the University of Michigan and a native of Holland, Mich., brings a strong Princeton team into the tournament.

Princeton had a 20-6 record last season and the key scorers of that team are back.

First game for the Motor City tourney starts at 7:30 on Monday the 29th, with the second game following immediately afterward.

Losers play the opening game the next night with Monday's winners playing for the championship.

Club Boss Says Grid Cardinals Will Not Move

CHICAGO (AP) — While rumors persist the Chicago Cardinals will move their National Football League franchise, Walter Wolfner, the club's managing director, said Thursday, "We'll play in Chicago next year."

Wolfner also said Card Coach Frank Ivy would be signed to a new long term contract in a day or two. Ivy reportedly has been considering a return to the Canadian League which he left to join the Cards this year. Vancouver is said to have made Ivy a fat offer.

Reports continue the Cardinals may wind up in Houston or Dallas. A year ago, a Houston group reportedly offered a million dollars for the franchise. Miami also has been mentioned as a new Cardinal home.

Two Pontiac Skaters in World Title Meet

Five Michigan roller skaters will be on the 18-member United States team that will compete in the World Congress roller skating championships in New Zealand, Jan. 2-10.

The skaters, who won national honors in Cleveland last summer, are Louis Parker and Mary Alice Clouse of Pontiac, Sally Richardson and her sister, Susanne Richardson Pickard and Marilyn Adams of Detroit.

Pontiac rink operator Bert Anselmy is the team's professional coach. The group will leave from San Francisco Dec. 27.

1st SVC Game at Arthur Hill for PCH Quint

Central to Play Six Straight League Tilts Starting Tonight

By BILL CORNWELL

SAGINAW — The Saginaw Arthur Hill basketball team, tall and hungry, gives Pontiac Central its first taste of Saginaw Valley Conference competition here this evening in the roomy Arthur Hill gym at 8 o'clock.

The Lumberjacks will begin a chain of six straight Saginaw Valley tests for the visiting Chiefs, who are sporting a perfect 2-0 record on non-league victories over Dearborn Edsel Ford and Detroit Catholic Central.

Central's collision with the Jacks is one of three SVC contests scheduled tonight as Valley schools officially tip of the 1958-59 title race. Saginaw at Flint Northern and Flint Central at Bay City Central complete the full slate.

Once a feared power in Valley cage circles, Arthur Hill's fortunes have declined in recent years.

Not since the Dick Rifenburg era in the early 40s, the Gene Glick period in the late 40s and the time of big Carl Diener at the turn of the current decade have the Lumberjacks been a true basketball powerhouse.

Now the Jacks are eager to end the famine and head coach Chuck Fowler thinks his cagers will give a good account of themselves this season. "We'll probably lose a few games," Fowler said, "but our opponents will have a fight on their hands."

There is sound reason to believe that coach Art Van Ryzin's Chiefs will find themselves in a blistering battle tonight against a rangy quintet which has won one and lost one.

The Lumberjacks have enough experience to be mean and Fowler has brought up good height from th junior varsity, headed by 6-foot-6 forward Pete Datema.

Arthur Hill's probable starting lineup includes four players standing six feet or better. Fowler will start Bill Riepe (6-0) and Datema or Dave Tingler (6-2) at forwards, Bruno Ansevics (6-3) at center, and Tom Dawson (6-0) and Bob Hart (5-8) at guards.

Hart and Riepe are returning regulars while Bill Brussow, a 5-foot-9 guard who was a starter last season, now serves as Fowler's top replacement.

Fowler was disappointed in his team's opening 62-54 loss to Ann Arbor, but he was quite pleased with the 57-56 overtime conquest of Bay City Handy last Tuesday.

PCH conquered Arthur Hill twice last season as the Jacks finished next to the cellar in the final Valley standings with a 2-8 record. Their overall mark was 7-11.

Kentucky and Xavier Stay Unbeaten

By the Associated Press

Kentucky and Xavier of Cincinnati, the two post-season college basketball tournament winners last March, know that "uneasy lays the head that wears the crown." But their opponents are finding out that it's going to be easier said than done when the time comes to knock the crown off the Wildcats and Musketeers.

Kentucky, currently the second team in the Associated Press poll, captured the National Collegiate championship in 1958 for the fourth time. Baron Adolph Rupp's Wildcats won their 18th Southeastern Conference title before posting four victories enroute to the NCAA diadem.

Xavier, cast in the role of a "Cinderella" team, also swept past four foes to gain the National Invitation Tournament championship. The Musketeers, a midwest independent, entered the NIT with a 15-11 record but had been improving as the season progressed.

Both Kentucky and Xavier, ranked nationally, looked impressive last night as they remained unbeaten. The Wildcats clawed Southern Methodist 72-60 for their fourth straight while the Musketeers coasted to a 69-52 triumph over Iona College for their third in a row.

A couple of sophomores, Billy Ray Lickert and Dick Parsons, paced Kentucky over 18th-ranked SMU at Lexington. Lickert clicked for 23 points and Parson chipped in with 19 as the Ruppmen pulled away in the second half. Max Williams was high for the Mustangs with 21 and Bobby James contributed 19.

Xavier came back to Madison Square Garden, scene of its NIT laurels and led all the way. The Ohioans assumed a 34-25 halftime advantage and then capitalized from the free throw line in the second half.

Hustling Hank Stein, the NIT most valuable player last season, and veteran Joe Viviano topped Xavier with 17 and 16 points, respectively. George Carter was high for the Gaels with 15.

Fourth ranked West Virginia was to play Duke at Morgantown, W.Va. but the game was postponed until Friday earlier in the day when a chartered plane couldn't land to pick up Duke because of excessive snow. The Blue Devils set out for Greensboro, N.C. to catch a train, but their bus became stuck in a snow bank, causing them to return to Durham, N.C. and leave the final scheduling to the athletic directors.

Oklahoma held Minnesota scoreless for a 12-minute span in the second half to turn back the Big 10 team 52-45; Wake Forest withstood a late surge to hand Florida State a 73-64 setback; Bill Telasky's 23 points sparked George Washington to a 91-67 lacing of Richmond in a Southern Conference fray; and Loyola of Chicago whipped Creighton 67-54 for its fourth straight victory in other leading games.

Ice Fishing in Swing

LANSING (UPI)—A spurt in ice fishing activity was expected to put Michigan's winter sports season in full swing this weekend—but state traffic safety experts had a word of warning to those on the highways.

State police said 28 will die on Michigan highways this weekend if there is a repeat of the comparable weekend last year — the worst of 1957.

The state tourist council said ice fishing was good in the Morley area, where lakes have five inches of ice.

The conservation department reminded sportsmen bluegill and perch fishing is allowed on non-trout waters year-around throughout the state.

The same is true with six less popular species—white bass, sunfish, crappie, rock bass, warmouth bass and whitefish.

Two shutouts highlighted action in the Pontiac Table Tennis League sponsored by the Recreation department.

Furniture, Auto Fives Win 'C' Hoop Games

Winglemire's Furniture and Oliver Buick posted victories in the city's Class C basketball league last night.

It took an overtime period before Winglemire's could clinch a 44-42 verdict over the Vikings on a field goal by Jim Jenson. Oliver whipped Pontiac Police, 53-52.

Roger Voorheis paced the Furniture five with 10 while Jim Mathis caged 11 and Bert Elzy 10 for the losers. Jack Johnson led three Oliver boys in double figures with 14. John Bridgewater was the top policeman with 13.

From The PRESS BOX

Maples' swimming coach, Jay Myers, was philosophical about the recent break in his club's long dual victory string. Grosse Pte. won the "breaker" and that loss proved, says Myers, "that reputation will not beat a good team." He also reminded that the Maples' 88-point win in RO Kimball's annual relays has provided an inspiration because of the fine times turned in by his splashers. "They showed a terrific competitive spirit," Myers commented today.

Red Wings Aim for 'Comeback'

Try to Catch Up With Canadiens in Weekend Home-and-Home Set

DETROIT (UPI) — Like Archie Moore, the Detroit Red Wings went down but not for the count and they'll try to imitate Archie's amazing comeback in that same Montreal Forum tomorrow night thanks to Terry Sawchuk's dazzling goaltending.

Two weeks ago the Red Wings went into the Forum tied for first place in the National Hockey League with the powerful Canadiens. Eyebrows were raised around the NHL since this was supposed to be another runaway year for the Stanley Cup champions.

Montreal blasted Detroit 6-2 and 7-0 in the weekend home and home series and seemingly crushed the Red Wing challenge for good.

But Sawchuk quickly recovered from the puck barrage and has yielded only six goals in the four games since with Detroit winning three of them and tying the other. The Wings now are right back on Montreal's heels just two points behind with another crucial home and home weekend set.

Karrigan Hits 24 in Waterford Tilt

Mel Karrigan was the hottest scorer in last night's Waterford Recreation basketball league action, that included two crushing defeats and a low-scoring, tight encounter.

The White Swan ace bucketed 24 points for the best total of the night at Isaac Crary gymnasium. He led his team's 53-27 win over Lakeland Pharmacy in a Class A game.

Cumberworth Five defeated Don & Ron's Marathon service, 26-22 paced by Bob Powers. Powers and D & R's Ralph Mears each had nine points. This was a Class B setto.

In another Class A game, Waterford HS Faculty defeated Burmeister Lumber 67-34, after leading all the way. Winners were led by Chuck Hengel and Stuart Thorell, each with 10.

Two games are scheduled for Monday's league action.

Aquinas Downs Dales

HILLSDALE (AP) — Aquinas College of Grand Rapids won a see-saw battle with Hillsdale 77-73 last night in a non-conference basketball game. Aquinas led at half-time 38-35.

Hillsdale's Jim Reynolds took high scoring honors with 36. Ralph Coleman scored 28 for Aquinas.

Big 'B' Schedule Tonight

By CHUCK ABAIR

There will be plenty of outstanding Class B action on the docket tonight for area fans to enjoy as the Oakland B and Wayne-Oakland league races swing into high gear.

Full schedules are carded in each of the popular local loops with the experts hard put to pick a favorite in either group. Both are well balanced since 1957 champions Troy (Oakland B) and Clarkston (W-O) were riddled by graduation and must rebuild.

Troy starts its campaign for a repeat at Lake Orion while Clawson visits Avondale and Fitzgerald is at Madison in other Oakland B games.

Avondale showed plenty of good basketball in dropping its opener at Oxford but will have its work cut out trying to avoid another setback tonight. Clawson divided two pre-league contests.

Fitzgerald is developing a sound unit while Madison goes pretty much with sharpshooter Rick Moos, one of the county's top scorers, so that one should be interesting.

Clarkston, 1-1 thus far, should at least start off still in 1st place since the Wolves debut at Clarenceville. West Bloomfield is at Northville. Milford at Holly and Brighton at Bloomfield Hills.

Clarkston could become a power if big boys Larry Landon, Bill Powell and Dick Caverly can come along fast enough.

West Bloomfield will give everyone trouble despite its size. Northville has a good nucleus in Bob Starnes, 6-9 Jeff Goodrich and 6-5 Nelson Schrader.

Holly has scored well in dividing two starts featuring George McDaniels' 44 digits. Milford appears ready to hold its own despite an 0-2 outside record.

Brighton has everyone baffled now after losing to South Lyon. The Bulldogs were pre-season favorites and they walloped Howell opening night. Bloomfield Hills is 2-0 and could get off to a big start with an upset.

Two opponents from different leagues will be involved in what may be the best 'B' contest of the night.

Oxford of the South Central and Romeo of the Tri-County clash at Romeo. Oxford, featuring Doug Stott, has been impressive winning once and losing by two. Romeo is 1-2 with one of the setbacks in overtime.

Other Class B non-league tilts will have Davison at Rochester, Cranbrook at Oak Park, Royal Oak Shrine host to Redford St. Mary and South Lyon beginning League of the Lake play at Manchester.

Rochester will be taking a 3-0 record against its traditional foe. Cranbrook has shown good scoring power winning two of three—the loss by one point to a Class A school. Oak Park is 1-3.

Shrine is 2-0 on a pair of four-point triumphs. South Lyon has enough experienced performers back to have a good season.

Michigan Tech Wins

HOUGHTON (AP) — Captain Carl Johnson led Michigan Tech to its first basketball victory of the season last night as his team defeated Northland College 69-49. Johnson was the game's high point man, with 18.

Double Overtime Loss

WINONA, Minn. (AP) — Dave Thies' pressure shooting drove St. Mary's to a 93-86 non-conference basketball victory over Northern Michigan in double overtime last night.

Class A and City Parochial Games Feature Hoop Slate

Play begins in the Inter-Lakes, South Central and Southern Thumb leagues while the Suburban Catholic has its first full schedule on tonight's biggest program of the new basketball season.

Waterford and Walled Lake will both be on the road in Inter-Lakes features. The Skippers, who have lost their only start, go against strong Southfield. Walled Lake has won a pair of squeakers against Cass B teams.

Defending champion Berkley opens at home against Van Dyke.

Two of the four Catholic contests will be on Pontiac courts. The big one will be at Pontiac Central where St. Michael entertains Orchard Lake St. Mary. St. Frederick will play in its own gym against Royal Oak St. Mary. St. Benedict seeks its 2nd win at St. James. St. Rita is guest of St. Clement.

St Mike lost its only game to St. Fred. Orchard Lake has walloped its two opponents — one being Royal Oak St. Mary. St. Fred is 2-0.

A big one in the South Central Conference has Ortonville at Imay City. Imlay has been dominating the loop and is currently 2-0 outside the SCC. Ortonville could very well upset the applecart, Millington and North Branch meet in the other game.

The compete Thumb schedule had Dryden at home to meet New Haven, Anchor Bay at Memphis, defending champion Almont host to Brown City and top contender Armada at Capac.

Non-loop Class A games will include Lapeer at Flushing, Roseville at East Detroit and Roya Oak Kimball seeking its 1st success in three starts at Mt. Clemens.

In Class C, Wayne St. Mary will visit Farmington Our Lady of Sorrow and Madison Lamphere plays Grosse Pointe University School.

How to Beat A Zone Defense

By BUNNY LEVITT

(This is one of a series of articles explaining basketball plays to use against the zone defense.)

Written for AP Newsfeatures

Having trouble working out a play to beat basketball's 2-3 zone defense? That's the setup used when the defensive team stations three men inside the foul line and two men outside.

The attacking players can be stationed much the same as they were in the play we diagrammed to beat the 3-2 zone. That means that No. 2 will be in the left-hand corner with No. 3 about 15 feet back near the left sideline and No. 1 close to the left of the foul line. No. 4 and No. 5 are again the backcourt men.

The play begins with No. 3 passing the ball back to No. 4. When No. 4 passes to No. 1, No. 5 fakes to the right and No. 2 cuts underneath the basket to the opposite side of the lane. After 4 passes to 1, he cuts to a spot across from No. 3. Then 1, who should be a good pivot man, passes either to 3 or 4 for a shot. Or if 3 and 4 are covered the one getting the pass can toss back to No. 5 for a set shot.

Brown of PCH Named to 2nd Team All-State by AP

Valley Puts 4 on 'A' Squad

DETROIT (AP)—The highest honor in scholastic sports—selection to the Associated Press Class A All-State football team—came to 11 Michigan high school athletes today.

The AP named its 18th annual Class A All-State squad today, and it features rugged linemen and talented backs who are certain to make tremendous college performers.

Here's the AP All-State Class A team:

Ends — Bob Bishop of Bay City Central and Ed Kulesza of Muskegon Catholic

Tackles — Ken Hardin of Flint Central and Howard Mudd of Midland

Guards — Ed Youngs of Jackson and Tim Bottje of Grand Haven

Center—Jim Kanicki of Bay City Central

Backs — Alex Valcanoff of Lansing Eastern, Ken Mike of Redford, Ron Watkins of Flint Central and Doug Eggleston of Grand Rapids Central

Kulesza was the top player on a Muskegon Catholic team that experienced only one defeat and the husky senior pulled down a huge number of votes as the AP polled every high school coach in the state to determine the most talented football players in the state scholastic ranks.

In addition, the AP drew from the sports writing and broadcasting ranks, sending ballots to some 40 writers and editors and more than 75 broadcasters.

Bishop, the other end, is a true All-Stater in every respect. President of the student council and a solid "B" student, Bishop is a varsity letter-winner in football, basketball, golf and tennis — and now has set his sights on winning an award as a baseball pitcher next spring.

Hardin and Mudd won the tackle berths in a walkaway, although the second-team tackles, Ed Budde of Detroit Denby and Ken Wenzel of Saginaw Arthur Hill, are among the top prospects to come out of Michigan high school ranks in recent years.

Bay City's state championship team placed its second man on the honor team when Kanicki beat out John Houtman of Adrian by a slender margin for the center position.

Kanicki, another top student, weighs 215 pounds and is still growing. Another two-way player, Kanicki played the middle position on defense and opened holes for the fleet of fine Bay City backs.

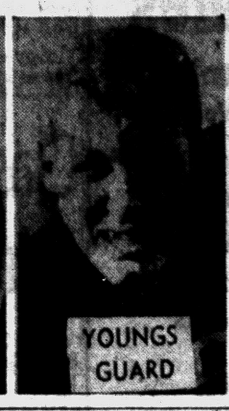

Another Bay City standout, quarterback Jerry Gross, wound up on the second team for the second year in a row. He lost out in a close battle to Valcanoff, and it was the Lansing star's defensive ability that turned the tide.

Watkins had a per-carry average of better than 12 yards as he sparked Flint Central's No. 2-ranked club. A 9.9 sprinter, Watkins is a talented pass receiver and one of the best breakaway running threats in the state.

Mike, finest back in the Detroit area in years, carries 190 solid pounds on a 6-feet-1 frame. A hard-going three-year veteran, Mike ran off tackle, through the middle and around the ends for 19 touchdowns, and passed for 6 more.

Eggleston sparked GR Central to second place in the City League, after the team had gone three years without a league victory. He averaged 6.5 on 140 carries, did passing and punting and was rated the best defensive back in the Grand Rapids area.

Blanton Denies He Will Replace Packers' McLean

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — Blanton Collier of the University of Kentucky Thursday denied reports he would succeed Ray (Scooter) McLean as head coach of the Green Bay Packers.

There had been rumors at Green Bay that Earl (Curly) Lambeau, Packers' kounder who led the team to six world championships, would be announced next Monday as general manager of the last place team in the National Football League's Western division.

Sanders Leads Florida Tourney

Miami Beach Golfer Scores 65 Opening Day

SANFORD, Fla. (AP) — For a resident of sunny Florida, Doug Sanders of Miami Beach is a pretty fair foul weather golfer.

The 25-year-old former University of Florida golf captain marched through a chill, biting drizzle Thursday to card a fine 32-33--65 and today started the second round of the $15,000 Sanford Open tournament with a one stroke lead over a classy field.

Sanders' six under par established a new record for the revised Mayfair Country Club course, whose par 71 was bettered by 31 players in the opening round despite a steady, chilling rain and fairways and greens mushy soft.

One stroke back of Sanders was National Open champion Tommy Bolt of Paradise, Fla., who came in with 33-33--66. He had a two-stroke lead over eight players deadlocked in the 68 bracket. Eight more had 69 and 13 carded 70.

The leaders:

World Keg Invitational Begins Finals Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Some of the nation's leading men and women bowlers make their final bids today for top honors in the World Invitational Tournament. There was a possibility both defending champions would fail to retain their titles.

Eddie Lubanski of Detroit held a fairly comfortable lead as the 16 men finalists started firing in the final 16 games of the 64-game head-to-head matches. However, two shooters, including Don Carter, 1957 winner, still were considered very much in the race for the $5,000 first prize.

In the women's division, the title held by Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., appeared up for grabs. At least seven of the 16 finalists, including Mrs. Ladewig, were considered in a position to take the crown. Only 1.33 Petersen points separated the first and seventh place bowlers.

Tonight's final match will be nationally televised (NBC, 10 p.m. CST) replacing the regular Friday night boxing program.

Lubanski, who has often been a contender but never a champion in this rough match game competition, led second place Don Ellis of Chicago by 4.04 points.

Included in today's matches will be a final position round in which the bowler in first place meets the bowler in second and so on down the line.

Lubanski, who finished yesterday's shooting with 240.15 points as compared to 236.11 by Ellis has knocked down 10,265 pins for 48 games while winning 35 games and losing 13. He is averaging 214 for the distance. Ellis has knocked down 10,211 pins and has won 32 games while losing 16.

In third place is defending champion Carter of St. Louis with 233.10 points. He has a good chance of making up part of the deficit when he meets Lubanski in his second match today.

Lubanski didn't lose a match yesterday, beating young Dennis Chapis of St. Louis, Ray Bluth of St. Louis, Buzz Fazio of St. Louis, and finally a fourth St. Louis bowler, Billy Welu.

In the women's division, pert Phyllis Notaro of Brant, N.Y., a suburb of Buffalo, squeeked into first place yesterday by the slender margin of .01.

Miss Notaro, who finished second in last year's tourney to Mrs. Ladewig has 109.41 points at the end of 24 of a scheduled 32 games.

In second place is former national doubles champion Elvira Toepfer of Detroit with 109.40.

Prep Front

By BILL CORNWELL

High school football players from Oakland County didn't take a back seat to anyone when it came to the Associated Press 1958 All-State teams in classes A, B, C and D.

A check of the four honor squads reveals that five Oakland gridders, four of them members of the Pontiac Press All-County team, made either the first or second squad in their respective classes.

The check also shows the authority carried by the power-packed Saginaw Valley Conference. The Class A team announced in today's Press is dotted with the names of nine Valley stars, four on the first 11 and five on the second unit.

Charley Brown of Pontiac Central, an All-County guard with little opposition for the honor, was named to the Class A second team as a junior and he just missed being a first team All-Stater by the slim margin of one vote.

Royal Oak Dondero's John Meadows, a 6-foot-5 end and also only a junior, was likewise given a 2nd team berth while quarterback John Lucadam of West Bloomfield and Avondale tackle Bill Jennings each crashed the top echelon of the Class B squad announced yesterday.

The other honored Oakland boy was South Lyon's Hollis Garrett, a guard who failed to land a spot on the All-County team. Garrett was handed a place on the 2nd unit in the "B" ranks.

Four boys who played their football outside county boundaries, two hailing from Almont, also wrote their signatures on the state honor roll.

End Jim Ostrander and fullback Frank Hartway, both of Almont, were accorded positions on the Class C All-State teams listed Wednesday. Ostrander received 1st team recognition while Hartway earned 2nd team laurels 1957.

To sum it up, a total of 88 players comprised the 1st and 2nd teams of the four classes combined with Oakland youngsters taking five places and county area youths getting four. That's a good average for any year on any All-State team.

The nine Saginaw Valley stars sprinkled among the first 22 players in the "A" division make s an even better percentage.

All in all, it can be safely said that athletes from Oakland County penned quite a success story on the gridiron during the 1958 season.

Switzerland Elects Its President for 1959

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—Paul Chaudet, Swiss minister of defense and owner of some of the country's best vineyards, Thursday was elected president of Switzerland for 1959.

Chaudet's election by a joint session of the Senate and House of Parliament was automatic and unopposed. By long tradition, the presidency rotates at one-year intervals among the seven members of the Federal Council, Switzerland's government.

He Seeks Retreat From City Life

Wanted: Ghost Town

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Know of any old ghost towns for sale? John L. Day is looking for one.

Why? "To get away from city life for one reason," says Day, a 30-year-old aircraft company employe.

"I don't intend to start a business there or to commercialize the town in any way," he added. "We just want some place to retreat. I've always had a yen for a ghost town and now is the time."

Day's ghost town requirements are simple: the town must be accessible by road and have drinking water nearby. He hopes to find one in Arizona or Nevada.

The Arizona State Land Department suggested he check county offices where deserted mining towns might be picked up for back taxes.

"I have no idea how much a ghost town will cost," Day said. "If it's too expensive I'll have to give up."

Day said he and his wife Darlene, and their daughter, Connie, 9, would visit the ghost town only on weekends and vacations.

He admitted he had another reason for finding a ghost town. "I'm a bug on Western Americana," he said. "I have a garage full of old lanterns, wagon wheels and other antiques. When I get my ghost town I'll move the junk out there."

Are his wife and daughter as enthusiastic as he is?

"My wife said, 'Go ahead, if that's what you want,'" Day said.

Connie? "Well, she said: 'Gosh, Daddy, it will be a wonderful place to play hide and go seek.'"

Hollywood Headlines:

Basketball Player Wins Coveted Role of Tarzan

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — When MGM made "Tarzan, The Ape Man," in a day or two to discuss a TV with Johnny Weissmuller as the hero of the jungle and Maureen O'Sullivan as Jane, author Edgar Rice Burroughs sold the rights to this specific tale to the studio. It's now to be revived with handsome, stalwart Denny Miller, former UCLA basketball player, in the Weissmuller role. And two pretty newcomers, Claire Kelly and Joanne Moore, are vying for the chance to play Tarzan's girl friend, producer Al Zimbalist tells me.

This probably will be very upsetting to Sy Weintraub who is already in Africa shooting his "Tarzan" series with Gordon Scott.

But on second thought the "Tarzan" movies have always been so popular, the world market can well stand two more of them. Before the cultural exchange pact admitted other pictures, the "Tarzans" were the only American movies shown in Russia.

And still they come along, these talented second generation youngsters. Juliette Payne, 18-year-old daughter of John Payne and Anne Shirley, makes her professional bow on Monday night on Collier Young's TV show. I, for one, will be looking in to cheer Juliette on in her career.

She could hardly help being a beauty with such handsome parents as John and Anne. They must be very proud of her even though their marriage broke up years ago and they are not together and have other marital mates.

I very much like Lew Ayres' philosophy and his courage. He hasn't let it get him down that he lost a fortune when his house burned down in the fire in Malibu Canyon, with all his religious books and art treasures plus the painting, "Venus, Bringer Of Peace," which took him seven years to finish.

He plans to restore the house because he likes the area. But this time he's going to build it of stone. He's skilled in masonry and stone work and he's going to start building the house as soon as the grounds are cleared.

What goes with Rhonda Fleming and Dr. Lew Morrill? They dined together at the Tallyho.

Mrs. Hal Wallis' (Louise Fazenda) checkup at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital was very satisfactory.

Lily Pons is in her Palm Springs home. She'll be in Los Angeles show, but on the subject of romance she is silent.

There have been several meetings at Burt Lancaster's office with the idea of Burt playing the title role of "Elmer Gentry," the Sinclair Lewis novel, for Richard Brooks.

"Escape" with Norma Shearer and Bob Taylor is the 29th picture made by Mervyn LeRoy that has been telecast.

Over 90,000 copies of Pat Boone's book, "Twixt Twelve and Twenty" have been sold in two weeks of publication.

It's a fair exchange—Fess Parker is teaching Nicole Maurey to square dance, and in return she is teaching him French.

Soviet Removal Points Up Peril

Security Chief's Job Is Filled With Power —and Danger

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

The removal of army Gen. Ivan Serov as chief of Soviet security—or the secret police—is a reminder that this powerful position is one of the most dangerous and thankless in the world.

Most men who have held it have come to a bad end.

Felix Dzerzhinsky was the first Soviet security and secret police head. He took office Dec. 20, 1917, when the "extraordinary comission," better known as the Cheka, was set up six weeks after the Bolshevik Revolution broke out.

Dzerzhinsky died of a heart attack July 20, 1926, after delivering a violent attack on enemies of Joseph Stalin.

Vyacheslav M)5c on nemies of seph Stalin.

Vyacheslav Menzhinsky held the security job eight years. The official record says that Menzhinsky was poisoned in 1934 "by the Trotskyite-Bukharinite enemies of the people." The surmise recently has been that Stalin himself ordered the murder.

Henry Yagoda lasted from February 1934 to September 1936. He was tried in the most famous "treason trial" of Stalin, convicted of poisoning Menzhinsky and others, and shot March 15, 1938.

Nikolai Yezhov, Yagoda's successor, was the bloodiest of the lot. He gave his name to the worst massacre of intellectuals the Communists carried out — Stalin's purge of 1937-38, known as the "Yezhovshchina." He lasted until Dec. 8, 1938, and shortly after disappeared into his own execution chambers.

Next came Lavrenty Beria, who was in and out of control of the secret police for nearly 15 years. Beria was arrested June 25, 1953, and executed as a traitor.

Shot with Beria was Vsevolod Merkulov, head of the "People's Commissariat of State Security" during wartime and up to 1946.

Victor S. Abakumov lasted from 1946 to late 1951 when he was arrested. Abakumov was shot in 1954 on charges of framing the Leningrad trial as a result of which many prominent Soviet Communists were executed.

More recent Soviet police chiefs include Semyon Ignatiev, appointed in 1952 and fired in March 1953 and subsequently blamed for participation in the so-called "doctors' plot" which was exposed as a frameup organized by Joseph Stalin. Ignatiev is now a party chieftain in an oil-producing province on the Volga.

Sergei Kruglov was made minister of internal affairs as successor to the arrested Beria in June 1953. He was dismissed without explanation in February 1956 and has since fallen out of sight.

The most recent security authority — called the KGB, pronounced "kay-gay bay" standing for committee on state security—was formed to take over intelligence, counterintelligence and key security matters generally. Gen. Serov was named chairman when it was set up in early 1954.

Lana Turner's Mother Retains Cheryl's Custody

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 14-year-old daughter of actress Lana Turner will remain indefinitely in the custody of her maternal grandmother.

Cheryl Crane was made a ward of Juvenile Court after fatally stabbing playboy Johnny Stompanato in her mother's bedroom last April. She is living in the home of Mrs. Mildred Turner, the actress' mother.

Superior Judge Allen T. Lynch, reviewing the custody phase of the case Thursday, said that Cheryl's father, restaurateur Steve Crane, Miss Turner and her mother were satisfied with the present arrangement.

Snow Saves Girls Fall

HOLLAND, Mich. (AP) — Six-year-old Kathy Langejans decided to try to imitate "a lady on television" by jumping from a second-story window. She said she meant to fly to the house next door. Instead she fell 25 feet into a deep snow bank. She was uninjured.

Dulles Speaks French, Knows 3 Other Tongues

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Secretary of State John Foster Dulles confers with his Atlantic Pact colleagues in Paris next week, he should not have trouble with the differences in language.

Dulles has long since mastered French. He has a nodding acquaintance with German and Italian, as well as a speaking and reading knowledge of Spanish.

Dulles, unlike some recent U.S. diplomats, picked up his knowledge of languages early in life.

Primarily, this was because he had an opportunity to travel often to Europe as a young man.

His first taste of diplomacy came in 1907 when he went to The Hague peace conference with his grandfather John W. Foster, who had been secretary of state for eight months during 1892-93.

Dulles, then 19 and a student at Princeton University, was made a secretary of the Chinese delegation.

"Because of his knowledge of the French language," grandfather Foster wrote in his memoirs, Dulles "was enabled to render useful service to the delegation."

Bar Dancer Sues

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — A woman who broke her arm trying to dance on the waxed surface of a Millbrae bar has sued the owners for $10,000. Mrs. Virginia (Ginger) Leong, 34, said the owners of Melody House Tavern were negligent in permitting her to dance on the bar.

2nd Regulus Missile Fired Successfully

EDWARDS, Calif. (AP) — The Navy has successfully fired a second Regulus II guided missile within a 24-hour period.

It was launched Thursday on the Mojave Desert. It sped 750 miles in a racetrack pattern over the inland missile range, then plunged from high altitude onto its target near Tonopah, Nev.

The missile, which has a top speed of 1,300 miles an hour, was destroyed on impact. The Regulus II fired from a test ship Wednesday had landing gear so it could be recovered for future training missions.

Furnaces Knocked Out in Near-Zero Weather

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—Gas furnaces in some suburban Baldwin homes were knocked out of operation in near-zero weather by a sudden increase of natural gas pressure Thursday, but repairs were made quickly.

Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. blamed the doubled pressure on failure of an automatic regulator. This extinguished pilot lights.

Jets flared on gas appliances and started minor fires in at least two homes.

For a while many residents used blankets and huddled around electric heaters for warmth.

Africa has about one-fifth of the world's land surface.

Eisenhower Still Vague About Handling the South's Resistance to Integration

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has consistently sidestepped saying whether he thinks racial integration in public schools is good or bad. He did say it should go slower.

He's been less consistent in deciding how to enforce the Supreme Court's 1955 order for ending enforced segregation. And he seems as vague today about handling Southern resistance as he was when the court first spoke.

This showed up again Wednesday at his news conference.

He said in the past he had taken an oath to enforce the laws. But as recently as Sept. 11, 1956, he seemed to think he himself couldn't do anything, that the job was up to U.S. marshals.

That day he said: "The federal government is not allowed to go into any state unless called upon by the governor who must show that he is unable with the means at his disposal to preserve order."

And on July 17, 1957, he was saying "I can't imagine any set of circumstances" that would ever induce him to send troops into a state to back up the court. He added that day: "I believe the common sense of America will never require it."

He reversed his field a couple of months later when Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas used National Guardsmen to block the court-ordered integration of Little Rock's Central High School.

Then Eisenhower sent in troops, not at Faubus' request but over his protests.

Eisenhower's main theme on achieving integration is that it is a slow process. He has talked of patience, of educating people on the issues. He has said laws can't change the hearts or prejudices of people.

But Wednesday he showed impatience with people who don't obey the law. He was asked how he feels about the refusal of Alabama officials to produce voting records demanded by the government's Commission on Civil Rights.

The commission, created by act of Congress, is investigating complaints of Alabama Negroes that state authorities have frustrated their attempts to register and vote.

Eisenhower said: "Well, I don't feel very well about it . . . I think this is a rather sad sort of thing, because all the way around we are running into this refusal of complying with the basic laws of the land, laws that have been upheld by our courts as legal and proper."

He called the performance of the Alabama officials "reprehensible."

But does he have any plans himself for handling Southern resistance, such as asking Congress for new laws? He was asked the question: "Do you favor new legislation to bring about the enforcement of integration?"

Eisenhower seemed to have no plans at all, beyond saying he thought the commission should be allowed more time to do the job of inquiring into civil rights violations. The commission's two-year term ends next year.

He said: "Now, with respect to any new laws which you are talking about in the whole field of civil rights, I simply will say this: This is something that is studied all the time."

Just where will all the studying lead to? Eisenhower said, "I don't know."

But Wednesday's anger at those who don't comply with the laws was not the same as the attitude he expressed last Aug. 8 when he said: "Mere laws will never solve this problem."

Michigan Barber Also Minister

46-Year-Old Follows Trade, Serves as Pastor in Elk Rapids

GREILICKVILLE (AP)—Rev. Gerald L. Hedlund aims to keep his sermons as sharp as barber Gerald L. Hedlund's shears.

Sermons and shears are handled by the same person.

The 46-year-old interim pastor of Calvary Lutheran Church at Elk Rapids has been a barber by trade since 1949. He was ordained a minister through studies at the interdenominational Burton College and Seminary at Manitou Springs, Colo.

Barbering provides his livelihood. There is no charge for his ministerial services.

"But," Hedlund says, "I never preach religion in the shop—unless the patron requests it."

With four courses in psychology in his educational background, Hedlund says:

"I would like gradually to be able to help troubled folks by getting them to come to me if they have no particular church or denomination.

"I've had some interesting experiences — I have helped dissuade people from suicide and have been told that I helped people pull through serious operations. I'd like to be able to do more of that."

Rev. A. W. Knock, his former Bible Institute instructor, has encouraged Hedlund to become a conference speaker at bible camps.

"I'm going to the Evangelical Lutheran Church synod convention at Minneapolis next January to find out more about it," Hedlund says.

He is married to the former Dorothy Schuitema of Muskegon. They have no children.

AMC Puts $10 Million in Rambler Expansion

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp., is going to back up its faith in the future of the undersized Rambler to the tune of $10,150,000 for expansion within the next year.

George Romney, president of AMC, announced the program to a meeting of suppliers here yesterday.

In a news conference afterward he said the expansion eventually would mean 4,200 more jobs in AMC's automotive plants at Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis., and would increase maximum production capacity from the present 330,000 units a year to 440,000. Current AMC employment is 18,475 compared with 11,076 at the corresponding time last year.

Romney said he was confident the expansion will serve to widen the head start of AMC over any small car plans of General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co., and of Chrysler Corp.

There have been reports the big three are planning to enter the small car field where AMC found amazing success but none of them has announced it.

American Motors was the only U. S. car maker that put out more cars in the recession year of 1958 than it did in 1957.

The decision to expand was made several weeks ago when American Motors decided the increased sales momentum of its Ramblers showed signs of speeding up rather than slowing down, Romney said.

"We hope to make 33,000 cars in December," Romney said, "and even then we will be about 11,000 cars behind dealer orders."

Aside from that, he said, applications for dealerships are at a peak.

Romney told the suppliers that much of the expansion program will be finished by next spring and all of it will be completed before the company swings into 1960 model production.

He said none of the expenditure will go for new plant construction.

"We will spend $4,600,000 at Milwaukee and $5,550,000 at Kenosha," he said. "At Milwaukee we will increase our body capacity. We will augment our facilities there by installing additional welding equipment, lengthening our trim lines and adding to our paint facilities.

"At Kenosha we will boost our six-cylinder engine capacity," he said. "Additional equipment will be installed to increase capacity of our rear axle and front suspension machine lines to the same rate of production."

Romney predicted the small car market will represent 50 to 60 per cent of the total market before the end of the 1960s.

"In the fiscal year just ended (Sept. 30) our U. S. dealers sold 154,372 Ramblers at retail," he said. "In the first two months of the current fiscal year they sold 48,637 Ramblers."

Counting time off for model changeover and other production interruptions, he said sales the first two months of this fiscal year indicated an annual Rambler sales rate of more than 300,000 units.

"The total smaller car market in 1958 including foreign and compact cars, should be about 600,000 units," he said. "In all probability it will approximate one million units in 1959, with the greatest rate of gain going to U. S.-built compact cars. We expect Rambler sales to be running at an annual rate of 400,000 early in the 1960 model year."

Futures Market Extends Losses

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market extended its losses in some contracts to the seventh consecutive session today as liquidation again hit the Board of Trade today in early dealings.

A good demand by a few commission houses stiffened the soybean prices with the nearby delivery advancing a major fraction of a cent. However, traders said the demand did not appear to be anywhere near general.

Most declines in the grain pits were in small fractions although offerings were liberal.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ⅛ to ⅜ cents a bushel lower, December $1.92¾; corn ¼ to 1⅛ lower, December old type contract $1.14½; oats ⅛ to ¼ lower, December 65⅝; rye unchanged to ¼ lower, December $1.29⅝; soybeans ⅛ to ¾ higher, January $2.15⅝.

No New York Papers as Strike Continues

NEW YORK (AP)—A newspaperless New York today awaited the outcome of a negotiation session aimed at ending a deliverymen's strike at the city's nine major dailies.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner offered his help.

The New York Central Railroad was distributing handbill-like digests to commuters with news supplied by The Associated Press as a public service.

The Long Island Daily Press, one of the nine papers at which presses were still, set up a projection slide news service in Pennsylvania Station for Long Island Rail Road commuters.

Also, a limited amount of out-of-town papers were seeping into the city, the largest newspaper pubfishing community in America.

Several of the papers announced they were furloughing most of their employes without pay for the duration of the strike.

There are about 2,800 different languages in the world.

Slight Change Rules Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market was narrowly uneven in active early trading today except for a few features.

American Motors was an exception on the upside, advancing more than a point following President George Romney's forecast of greater profit margins in 1959 and increased production.

News that the proposed merger of Warner-Lambert and R. J. Reynolds Tobacco had been called off brought gyrations to these stocks. Reynolds spurted more than a point and then settled back for a 2-point loss. Warner-Lambert sank more than 4, then recouped the loss and alternated between fractional gains and losses.

The opening was mixed with a few 1-point losers giving the list a slightly lower tendency. Goodyear, Gulf Oil and Westinghouse Electric took losses in the 1-point range while American Cyanamid dropped a bit more than that.

A bit lower were U.S. Steel, Republic Steel, General Dynamics, Philco, Amercan Smelting, Allied Chemical, Minute Maid, International Paper, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Standard Oil (New Jersey), Texas Co. and Royal Dutch.

Shareholders Vote A&P Stock Switch

NEW YORK (AP)—Stockholders of Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. today voted in favor of a plan which eventually will put the company's new common stock on the New York Stock Exchange.

The first public stockholders meeting in the company's 99-year history got underway with about 150 shareowners present and Ralph Burger, president, presiding.

U. of M. Professor to Dig for Fort, Mission in UP

ANN ARBOR (AP) A University of Michigan archaeologist will go digging in the Upper Peninsula next summer for a 300-year-old fort and Jesuit mission.

Prof. Emerson F. Greenman's underground hunt for a buried French military stockade and mission will be sponsored by the Michilimackinac Historical Society of St. Ignace. The two dirt covered relics are believed to date back to the mid-1600s.

Greenman said he would excavate the old structures if he can locate them.

He hopes to uncover stone foundations, evidence of the stockade's wooden posts,, chinaware, metal tools, glassware and religious objects.

Greenman recently helped unearth an Indian burial mound in the Upper Peninsula from which evidence of Festival of the Dead ceremonies was taken.

This is the kind of sale that is talked about all over town. We call it our "Full Up" sale and that's exactly what has happened. As most of you know, our used car lot is too small to take care of all our new car trade-ins, so we cut prices and let them go. As we have mentioned before, it's no secret our low overhead means we can sell for less. Folks, make that trip over to Rochester and take advantage of these wonderful buys. These prices stand good Thursday through Saturday.

Dinner Honoring Bagwell Tonight

1,000 Republicans Are Expected to Show Up for Lansing Banquet

LANSING (AP) — Nearly 1,000 Republicans are expected to converge on the capital city tonight to toast the man who gave Democratic Gov. Williams his toughest election race in three campaigns.

The "Salute to Bagwell" dinner, honoring Paul D. Bagwell, will highlight a weekend of GOP activity in Lansing.

House Republicans were to caucus today on proposals to resolve a 55-55 member deadlock in the lower chamber and the GOP State Central Committee will meet tomorrow for the first time since the Nov. 4 election.

Guests will pay $10 per plate or $15 per couple at the Bagwell dinner, co-sponsored by promoters of a post-election move to set up a statewide Bagwell booster organization.

Bagwell, freshly returned from a vacation in the south, will go back to Michigan State University as director of scholarships. He'll get the same salary he collected when he headed MSU's department of communications skills — $14,200.

State police said the bodies of Roy Cephas, 60; his wife Daisy, 58, and one son, Nathaniel, 38, were not immediately recovered from the ruins.

Dead on arrival at Cambridge-Maryland Hospital were Leroy, 21, and Ralph, 14. Dr. John Mace, deputy medical examiner for the county, said they had been suffocated. All the victims were Negroes.

Cone was to deliver them to an amusement company in New York but he hasn't been heard from since, said King to Municipal Judge Malcolm E. Trombley. The judge issued a warrant charging Cone with larceny.

NEW 'AMAHL' PERFORMANCE — Amahl (Kirk Jordan) sings to his mother, (Rosemary Kuhlmann) in 'Amahl and the Night Visitors,' the famous Christmas opera which will be given its ninth performance by the NBC Opera Company on Sunday from 5 to 6 p. m. The tender story of a crippled boy who is cured by a miracle was written by Gian Carlo Menotti, who also composed the music. The show is sponsored by Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors.

Christmas Opera in Ninth Year

Practically Same Cast Appearing This Year in Sunday Feature

"Amahl and the Night Visitors" will be presented by the NBC Opera Company under sponsorship of the Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors Corp., on Sunday, Dec. 14, from 5 to 6 p.m. The beloved opera by Gian Carlo Menotti will receive its ninth presentation by the NBC Opera Company, with virtually the same cast that created the memorable roles.

Kirk Jordan, who plays Amahl, has been seen in this part twice before, and all of the other singers have been in the eight preceding presentations. Rosemary Kuhlmann is the mother, Andrew McKinley, Leon Lishner and David Aiken are Kings Caspar, Balthaser and Melchior, and Francis Monachino is the page.

Menotti wrote this opera on commission from the National Broadcasting Company. Since its first presentation by NBC for Christmas of 1951, it has been given many hundreds of performances all over the world.

The new sets designed for the production last year by Otis Riggs again will be used, with the costumes by Eugene Berman.

Columnist in Jet Age Combines Datelines

By EARL WILSON

PARIS and LONDON — Please notice that I just invented the double dateline.

Shucks, why should we flying reporters be limited to one dateline when we make two world capitals in one day?

WILSON

So in the process of departing Paris, crossing the English Channel and arriving at London a couple of hours later, I bring you some tales of two cities, to wit:

Hear, Hear! Lady Beatty, Frank Sinatra's recent friend (whom the British papers even said he was going to marry), has been escorted round London lately by handsome, dapper, wealthy Jerry Herzfeld of the Miami, New York and California racetrack mint. Frankie told us in Miami Beach a couple of weeks ago that Lady Beatty (the former Adele O'Connor of Oklahoma, Madison avenue and Beverly Hills) wasn't hopping to Florida to be wooed and wed by him.

I told a Hollywood male columnist, whose office had advised him to hang around Florida and cover "the marriage," that Frankie wasn't a liar and that he could go back to California and forget it. He did, and I'm glad.

Ingrid Bergman's husband-to-be, Lars Schmidt, surely knows how to be firm with his secretaries. In his Paris producing office, one of the girls told me, "I don't know whether he's in." I expressed amazement—and she explained, "When his door's closed, I can't go in, so I don't know." It turned out he wasn't in—he'd whipped off to Sweden to produce "My Fair Lady." I learned this later from a pretty good source — Ingrid Bergman—who was "very happy just to be enjoying my home" —in the Westchester of Paris.

George Sanders has shown the manuscript of his memoirs to London friends, who report this wonderful excerpt: "When I was born, it was a lucky day for my father, whom I've been supporting for 20 years."

As one of the few Americans in possession of Brigitte Bardot's Paris phone number, I can tell you the two latest rumors are: (1) she's broken off with Sacha Distel and (2) she hasn't broken off with Sacha Distel.

BRIGITTE

BB now faces competition from, of all people, her ex-husband's new wife, shapely Annette Stroyberg. BB's ex, Roger Vadium, is going to direct a film test of his present wife Annette here in London for Carl Foreman's new picture, "Guns of Navarone."

Vadim's Svengali-ing is credited with making BB both famous and infamous: The experts and sexperts allege that Annette will try to demonstrate that she can act just as well in her birthday suit at BB can-can.

OSWEGO, Kan. (AP)—Herbert L. Hazley, 51, a trusty serving 30 days for drunkenness, jumped from the third floor of the Labette County Courthouse. He walked five blocks to the home of a friend and collapsed. He was taken to a hospital and treated for a possible back injury and a cut on the head.

Educator Denies Discrimination

Says Admission Rules for Georgia University Not Aimed That Way

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The chancellor of the university system of Georgia says regulations for admission were not adopted to exclude Negroes from state institutions now attended only by white persons.

Dr. Harmon Caldwell was testifying Thursday in the U.S. District Court suit of three Negro women attempting to break down segregation at Georgia State College in Atlanta.

Caldwell said that after talking to students of both races he was convinced that "both the white people and the vast majority of good Negro citizens want segregation" in public schools.

John H. Calhoun, former president of the Atlanta branch of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said that the NAACP was financing the suit of the three women.

Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook told newsmen he thought Calhoun's testimony showed that the plaintiffs were not actually interested in attending Georgia State College, but were only performing a function for the NAACP.

Earlier, Judge Boyd Sloan, who is hearing the case without a jury, turned down a bid by a fourth Negro, Edward J. Clemons, to intervene in the suit brought by Barbara Hunt, Iris Mae Welch and Myra Dinsmore Holland. Clemons, an Atlanta insurance man and a graduate of Clark College, had testified he tried to enroll at Georgia State and still wanted to attend that college.

The plaintiffs rested their case shortly after this ruling and the defense began calling witnesses.

As Governor of New York

Rockefeller to Live in Drafty Mansion

By CLAIRE COX

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nelson A. Rockefeller, the richest man ever elected to public office, will move into a creaky, drafty, rent-free old mansion when he becomes governor of New York Jan. 1.

He also will receive a $10,500 allowance with which to run the house.

Rockefeller already has four comfortable homes of his own, bought, furnished and landscaped with some of his estimated $100,000,000 fortune.

But as of Jan. 1, he gets a house complete with furnishings, a staff of six or eight servants and the housekeeping allowance, in addition to his $50,000 annual salary.

An aide to the governor-elect said the Albany mansion will be the least luxurious home ever occupied by the family.

"I understand it actually is rather decrepit," he said.

Right now, Rockefeller is resting at his ultra-modern glass, tile and stucco home on one of his three Venezuelan farms. He and his wife are occupying one wing of a rambling house built last year primarily for the manager of his 860-acre experimental cattle and potato farm 100 miles from Caracas.

In addition to the farm, the estate includes about 1,800 acres of rugged mountain slope on top of which the house is situated. This estate is called Monte Sacro — sacred mountain. The other two are called Palo Gorda and Mata de Barbara.

Rockefeller also has a 25-room, three story apartment atop a Fifth Avenue apartment house, a 12-room summer place near his father's estate at Seal Harbor, Maine, and a 12-room, 150-year old white shingled Dutch colonial home on the 3,000-acre Rockefeller family estate at Tarrytown, N.Y.

There was no doubt among any of Rockefeller's aides that the governor's mansion at Albany would be the least luxurious, although the largest, of the new governor's homes.

The Albany mansion is an 84-year old, three-story rambling structure of no particular architectural style situated on a half-acre plot in the heart of Albany's oldest section. The two-story garage formerly was a stable. A swimming pool was built by Franklin D. Roosevelt when he was governor.

The house has 28 drafty rooms with creaking floors. Its present occupant, Averell Harriman, has dressed it up with paintings from his personal collection. He has considered enlarging the dining room, which he complains is much too small for entertaining on a gubernatorial scale.

As of Jan. 1, the Rockefellers' usual schedule will be abandoned. They have followed the custom of living in New York in the winter and at Seal Harbor in the summer, with annual spring and fall visits to their Venezuelan farms.

The modern Seal Harbor house has a tower that looks something like a lighthouse, which often is used for drying sails after boating.

The Tarrytown home is furnished with antiques and paintings of Hudson River valley scenes. Rockefeller has diverted streams and replanted shrubbery around the white shingle house.

There is a greenhouse atop the family's city apartment. And Rockefeller has installed some of his favorite statuary in the gardens at Tarrytown and Seal Harbor.

The Venezuelan house has a sloping red tile roof, courtyards and patios.

"It is unpretentious," a Rockefeller aide said. "All the Rockefeller homes are comfortably furnished, but not luxurious. I doubt if the governor's mansion can measure up to that standard."

Trips on Way to Help

PRINCETON, Mo. (AP)—Mrs. Adeline Baldwin, 65, went next door to help her neighbor Mrs. Glen Shipley, 75, who was injured in a fall. In the Shipley home, Mrs. Baldwin tripped on a rug and fell. Both women were treated at separate hospitals for the same injury—a broken wrist.

R. J. Daley Runs Again

CHICAGO (AP) — Democratic Mayor Richard J. Daley, serving his first four-year term, will be a candidate for re-election in next year's municipal elections.

During 1958 the British motor-vehicle industry has been producing automobiles at a record rate—272,314 in the second quarter compared with 229,625 in the like period of 1957. If that pace is maintained during the rest of 1958, Britain for the first time will produce more than 1,000,000 passenger cars.
