United Fund Seeks $612,202 for 1957

October 23 Set for Drive Start in Pontiac Area

Twenty-Three Service Organizations Benefit From Contributions

The Pontiac Area United Fund will seek $612,202 during a three week drive between October 23 and November 16, top UF officials announced today.

UF President William B. Harman and 1956 Campaign Director Walter K. Willman said 14 Community Chest agencies and nine United Fund agencies will be financed in 1957 by contributions to the 1956 fund drive.

The 1956 campaign goal is an increase of 8.9 per cent over last year's goal of $562,175.

Of the current goal, $360,473 will be given Community Chest agencies, with $148,355 going to United Fund agencies and the Michigan United Fund.

Administrative expenses will cost $32,000, with an additional $16,168 earmarked for campaign expenses. The UF Board of Trustees also voted to set aside $55,000 as a pledge loss reserve.

The campaign and administrative costs account for less than eight per cent of the goal.

RED CROSS RAISED

Several United Fund agencies will receive substantial increases in their 1957 operating budgets. A $73,100 share of the total goal will go to the Oakland County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

This is a 5.9 per cent increase over that given Red Cross in 1956. The American Cancer Society has been approved for a 25 per cent increase over its 1956 budget of $12,000.

Party Leaders Meet

TRUMAN GREETED STEVENSON — Although he proclaims neutrality, Harry S. Truman has a handclasp for Adlai Stevenson, front-running Democratic presidential nominee hopeful. The former president (left) met Stevenson as he arrived by train in Chicago for the Democratic convention, which opens Monday. Stevenson was the party's 1952 presidential nominee.

'Any Dem Can Beat Ike,' Truman Tells Chicago

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

CHICAGO — Former President Harry S. Truman arrived in Chicago today for next week's Democratic national convention and declared that "any Democrat" can defeat President Eisenhower.

Alighting from a train after an overnight trip from Kansas City, Truman was asked by newsmen if he had any opinion as to whom the Democrats would nominate as their presidential candidate. He replied:

"I am not a prophet. I do not make predictions." He added: "Any Democrat can beat President Eisenhower."

Adlai Stevenson was among those greeting the former president and Mrs. Truman.

Truman said he "will see both Stevenson and Gov. Averell Har- (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Britain Recalls Troops, General From Germany

Planes Ready to Move Men to Mediterranean, Troopships Speeded

LONDON (INS) — A top British general—and reportedly a full infantry division—were recalled from Germany today as the world digested Prime Minister Anthony Eden's warning that Britain never will accept Egypt's Suez Canal seizure.

Eden brought to London "for consultations" the brilliant Lt. Gen. Hugh Stockwell. He has been commanding the First Corps of the British Army in West Berlin.

There were immediate reports Stockwell will be appointed commander of British Mediterranean forces in view of his past experience in that area.

Meanwhile at Hurn and Blackbushe Airports, mechanics tuned up civilian planes in preparation for a big troop airlift into the Mediterranean—the biggest in Britain's peacetime history.

At the same time, the government decided to move back the sailing of the troopship Dilware from Southampton to Friday instead of Sunday.

It also was disclosed 28 merchant vessels already have been chartered to carry troops into the area.

From Cyprus, Gov. John Harding told the Times of London the island is running smoothly as a British base, is not affected by "terrorists," and can make available special forces for any outside emergency.

Reports from Malta said "vast consignments" of military equipment and stores were being unloaded at British bases for "a massive military buildup."

As Eden held a morning meeting at 10 Downing St. with his top aides, rumors were rife in London the 2nd Infantry Division will be recalled from Germany to replace troops moving closer to the canal zone.

The 2nd Division infantrymen would become "strategic reserves," ready to proceed to the Middle East if necessary. This would leave two British armored divisions and one infantry division in Germany.

Kalamazoo Ups Its Population by Annexations

KALAMAZOO — Two suburbs have voted for annexation to Kalamazoo, boosting the city's population to about 75,000.

Burke Acres, on the northeast rim of Kalamazoo, voted 393 to 124 yesterday for annexation, and Knollwood, on the southwest perimeter, voted 292 to 65.

The two communities have a population of about 7,500. They will become a part of Kalamazoo next Jan. 1.

Two other suburbs, Oakwood and Westwood, will vote in November on annexation. Three more suburbs voted for annexation last fall.

There is a movement under way for a vote next spring on the annexation of all of Kalamazoo Township.

Ortonville Entry Wins Fair Honor

BEST FLOAT — The Wonder Workers 4-H members of Ortonville smiled in victory when judges announced their float won first prize in last night's parade of floats at the 4-H fairgrounds, Perry Street at Walton Boulevard. The 4-H motto furnished the theme of the float, "4-H to Make the Best Better." Main attractions on the float were a live calf, chicken and duck.

Floats, Livestock Fair Highlights

Ortonville 4-H Club members won top honors in the Parade of Floats, and three pigs were caught for different honors at the County 4-H Fair last night.

Fair weather drew thousands to the fairgrounds.

The Wonder Workers of Ortonville captured the float pageant top prize with their creation of 4-H projects under a banner "4-H To Make the Best Better."

The three pigs were the prizes in the annual greased pig scramble, which gives young members a chance to win a valuable prize and future project.

Judges eyeing the floats considered originality, attractiveness, and efforts toward 4-H, agriculture, citizenship or patriotism in making their decisions.

MILFORD SECOND — The Milford 4-H float took second place, and the Seymour Lake Club claimed third.

A running dive in the girls pig scramble brought a squealing prize to Charlene Sudia, 13, of the East Orion Club. Fred Barnard, 13, of Troy, and Larry Hudson, 16, of Milford, also got firm grips on pigs.

Stuart Hutchins, 19, of Rochester, captured five blue ribbons yesterday in dairy contests and dairy showmanship.

He won first in his class, senior yearling; Junior Champion which covers senior yearling down to junior calf; champion over all other Holsteins and champion of all breeds.

Stuart was also first in showmanship with Helen Miles of Troy 4-H runnerup.

OTHER JUDGING — In other judging yesterday, Bill Middleton of East Orion and Beth Rose of the Pontiac Junior Homemakers won demonstration awards. Bill showed how to cut up a chicken and Beth demonstrated bread making.

Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, consumer marketing agent for Oakland County, was judge of food entries.

Mrs. Frieda Bennett, home demonstration agent for Oakland County, said exhibits this year showed an increase in outdoor cooking ideas and freezing foods.

The annual Dress Review is slated for tonight in the arena at the fair grounds along with the 4-H talent show featuring county 4-H members as well as competition from surrounding counties.

Tomorrow tractor field day starts at 1 p.m. with the machinery parade and 4-H cavalcade of horses highlighting tomorrow night.

The fair at Perry Street and Walton Boulevard ends Saturday.

Recheck of unofficial tabulations in Tuesday's election in the sixth state legislative district of the county shows Bruce P. Wheeler won the Republican nomination with 996 votes. Gordon D. Haupt was second in the 4-man race with 977 votes. A tabulating error in the district Tuesday night gave Haupt 1077 votes. Democrats in the district renominated Walter T. McMahon, incumbent.

Sacrifice 30 in Mine Pit So 260 Might Be Saved

MARCINELLE, Belgium (AP)—Rescue teams sealed off upper levels of the burning Casler du Bois coal mine today, dooming an estimated 30 of the 260 men trapped below in hopes of saving the others from suffocation.

With oxygen tanks strapped to their backs, workers descended the main shaft of the 3,300-foot-deep mine in relays with big slabs of spun-glass fibers. With these, they shut off all passages from the smoke-filled shaft down to about 2,200 feet.

They hoped this would enable them to descend to lower levels where most of the trapped men are believed to be.

The miners were trapped when the fire, caused by a short circuit, melted an elevator cable and sent the lift crashing to the bottom of the pit.

Other escape routes also were cut off. Twenty-five miners escaped aboard the elevator before it was lost.

Rescue workers removed nine dead and six injured miners from upper levels. Another 230 were in levels 2,500 to 3,300 feet down. About 30 more were believed somewhere in the sealed-off passages. If they were not already dead, the closing of the passages doomed them to suffocation.

One worker who came back from the 2,200-foot level said the "heat and smoke are terrible."

"With my light I could not see six inches in front of me," he said. "But if the men in the lower levels have found holes to hide in (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Williams Offers New Proposal on State Jobless

Governor Scolds Group for Reluctance to Act on Unemployment

LANSING (AP) — Michigan legislators, some facing unemployment themselves after rejection by the voters in the Tuesday primary, returned again today to mull over the question of raising benefits for the state's jobless workers.

Waiting for them was a new proposal by Gov. Williams—a special message asking them to ease the unemployment payroll tax for some 28,000 owners of small businesses.

"Now that the heat and the emotion of the primary campaign are behind us," Williams said in his message, "it is my hope you will devote yourselves earnestly and diligently to the problem of improving our job insurance law."

"You are returning for the third formal meeting of the current extraordinary session, and thus far your adjournments have not resulted in the disappearance of the problem."

"The unemployed are still with us," Williams said, "only there are more of them since you went away."

Indications were that the Republicans, who contend there is no crisis, will give the Democratic governor little satisfaction in his demands for a jobless pay increase.

OPPOSITION HINTED

Rep. George Van Peursem (R-Zeeland), chairman of the House Labor Committee, said after a meeting of his committee Wednesday that he was not inclined to go along with the governor's proposals.

The House committee has been sitting on Williams' requests. These include a proposal to increase jobless benefits to 65 per cent of the worker's wage, plus five dollars for each dependent and an extension of the maximum payment period from 26 to 39 weeks.

"The unemployment hasn't been as serious as predicted," Van Peursem said. "The only increase has been because of the steel strike."

Van Peursem said he thought Republicans would ask for another recess of the Legislature to consider the governor's latest proposal for easing the payroll tax plan for small employers.

It was indicated that the Legislature may clean up some of the minor bills that are still hanging but that the only major question is how soon they will recess again.

"The governor's bill is dead, dead, dead," said one Republican legislator of Williams' proposal for a hike in unemployment benefits.

CHARGES FAVORITISM

Under the present payroll tax law, small employers must pay a payroll tax of 2.7 per cent for four years. Williams has charged this favors the big corporations who pay a smaller percentage under a "merit rating" which depends on the number of unemployed they have each year.

Williams asked for amendment of the law to permit an employer with one year's experience as a chargeable employer to qualify for the merit rating reduction.

One Man Can't Do It Alone

How About It, City Hall? Let's Get Rid of Starlings

You may have noticed They're back. Yes, those pesky, pestiferous starlings have descended once more upon certain hapless residential districts of Pontiac. The late evening is made hideous by their chirping and by their incessant flying from one roost to another.

One irate citizen on Cherokee road unsheathed his trusty muzzle loader and opened fire on the exasperating flocks.

His aim was good. Several fell to an ignoble death.

But the balance of the flock didn't seem to be particularly impressed. What's the loss of a few starlings when there are millions more to make up the deficit?

Oh, a few flew away. Some circled and returned.

And — so help me Hannah — some didn't even budge out of the tree from which their brother had just departed with such finality. A few on limbs immediately adjacent to the killing merely blinked.

It's discouraging. Various devices have been tried in the past by civic authorities. Some work and some don't. Some work one year and not the next. The whole problem is sufficiently acute to justify civic investigation. It's too big for a private citizen. One humble householder can't declare war on thousands and thousands of starlings without assistance.

Perhaps it's too big for the City Hall. We don't know. We aren't critical.

We'd just like to see the city authorities give it the old college try and see what can be accomplished for the peace of mind and more sanitary living of the citizens who pay the taxes and don't roost in trees.

Voting Machines Save City $1,633 on First Trial

Pontiac City Clerk Ada Evans, enthusiastic over the first use Tuesday of the city's new voting machines, estimated this morning the machines saved the city enough money in their first use to pay the full purchase price of one machine.

"The machines worked wonderfully, and the transition from paper ballots was quite smooth," Mrs. Evans said. "Everybody cooperated beautifully."

The degree of success attained, she said, was due to cooperation by precinct workers, the city staff and representatives Keith Spaulding and Jim Jensen of Automatic Voting Machines Corp.

Money saved by the machines, she said, is the figure that would have been paid to precinct workers working longer hours counting the old-fashioned paper ballots.

In 44 precincts, she said, about 284 workers were hired for Tuesday's election. Each precinct chairman earned $3 an hour, and the other workers earned an hourly wage of $1.

In former elections, the average precinct completed its returns by about 3 a.m. of the day following.

On Tuesday, the first returns were received from Precinct 23 at 9:23 p.m., and precinct 24 was last in at 12:05 a.m. Wednesday. Election time was 10:30.

Average time was 10:30.

Ballot-counting time may also be reduced in future elections, she said.

Delay in counting ballots Tuesday was partially due to absentee ballots, Mrs. Evans said. Under Michigan law, these must not be registered on the machines until after polls close.

averaged about six workers to a precinct, but I think we can reduce that number when our workers get used to working with the machines."

ANOTHER SAVING

Ballot-counting time may also be reduced in future elections, she said.

Delay in counting ballots Tuesday was partially due to absentee ballots, Mrs. Evans said. Under Michigan law, these must not be registered on the machines until after polls close.

The procedure took about three minutes for each absentee ballot, she said, and a total of 182 Pontiac voters, out of the city Tuesday, took advantage of absentee ballots.

Pontiac rented 80 machines for use on a trial basis this year. At the end of the year commissioners will decide whether to complete purchase of the machines or return to paper ballots.

Under the terms of the contract, the rental of $150 per machine will apply on the purchase price.

MAKE OVER TOWNSHIP WINS, SCHOOLS LOSE

State Tax Commission Upholds Appeal, Cuts Education Millage

Independence Township's 1957 tax allocation appeal yesterday was upheld by the State Tax Commission. The township was granted .61 of an additional mill. Three school districts tied to the township rate lost millage by the decision.

A similar appeal by Brandon Township was denied.

The decision was a boon to taxpayers, but school officials will have to cut budgets sharply next year.

In financial terms, township governments gained $8,778 by the decision. Clarkston schools lost $10,264, Orion schools lost $10,664, and Waterford schools lost more than $20,839.

PROTEST RATE

Independence Township government was granted 1.32 mills by the county Tax Allocation Board after protesting its original allotment of one mill at the Board's hearing May 21.

Clarkston schools, which first had a millage rate of 9.32, were dropped to 9.0 after the hearing. The tax commission's decision reduces the school millage again to 8.40.

Lake Orion School District No. 3 Fractional and Waterford Township school districts, both of which extend into Independence Township, also suffered losses by the decision.

The Orion district, granted 9 mills by the county board, was dropped to 8.40. Waterford schools, granted 8.73 mills with a .27 mill variable which applied in Independence Township, also lost 6 mill and can collect only 8.40 mills. County officials said this morning the drop in school district allocations would apply throughout the districts, not only in those parts which include Independence Township.

Commission Names Detroit Port Director

DETROIT (AP) — Carlis J. Stettin, general manager of the Port of Olympia, Wash., will take over Sept. 16 as director of the Port of Detroit.

Stettin, appointed by Detroit's Port Commission yesterday, was recommended by Robert H. Wylie, former port director at San Francisco. Wylie had turned down the job.

Stettin, who has directed port activities at Olympia since 1953, formerly was assistant manager of the Port of Seattle and before that was employed by several steamship companies. His salary will be $16,340, graduating in three years to a maximum of $18,860.

His appointment must be certified by the Civil Service Commission.

"We won't give up hope yet," he said.

Forty-five million Americans are protected by $94,500,000 worth of group insurance. The families of 29,000,000 workers are assured that, if their breadwinner dies, they will receive an amount equal to his salary for a year.

Commissioners to Canvass Vote on Pensions Tonight

Winding up a short 13-point agenda, Pontiac's city commissioners tonight will canvass the city's vote Tuesday favoring merging its employees' pension plan with social security benefits.

In other action, commissioners will hear the first reading of its proposed "near beer" ordinance, intended to regulate sale of beverages containing less than 1/2 of one per cent alcohol.

Chinese Change Clergy Prison

Catholic Mission Paper Says Four Prisoners Get Easier Treatment

HONG KONG (AP)—The Catholic Mission Bulletin today reported that the Chinese Communists have transferred four American missionaries from Shanghai prison cells to a guarded private house. They were said to be receiving much better treatment.

The Bulletin said the missionaries were the Rev. Paul Mackinson of Baltimore, a Lutheran, and the Revs. John Alexander Houle, Glendale, Calif.; John Paul Wagner, Pittsburgh; and Joseph Patrick McCormack, New York City, all Roman Catholics.

The four were among 10 American civilians still held in Red Chinese jails. The Bulletin said they were allowed to take recreation together, to walk in the house garden, to sleep as much as they wanted, and were given "three well-cooked meals daily — Western style, with steak, hamburger, and pork chops as frequent items on the menu."

Transfer of the quartet to house arrest was taken here as an indication that they might soon get their freedom. Two Catholic missionaries released June 13 — the Revs. John William Clifford and Thomas Phillips of San Francisco — were transferred to the house on Kao Yu Road a month before they were freed.

"Father Phillips is of the opinion that all of the remaining American prisoners may now be in that house as there would be sufficient room," the Bulletin said.

Find Burning Cross by San Antonio Road

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The third burning cross in a month was found last night at the San Antonio city limits.

The cross, about six feet high and four feet wide, was on the highway 90 right of way near two settlements, one occupied by Negroes, the other by a group of farmers. It was near Lackland Air Force Base.

Bexar County Fire Chief Cliff Holcomb said the cross seemed to have been wrapped in military blankets and soaked in an inflammable liquid.

He said it would be checked for fingerprints.

Congressman's House Burns in Massachusetts

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—U.S. Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill (D-Mass.) said today he will be so busy house-hunting that he may not be able to attend next week's Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

Fire swept the O'Neill residence yesterday causing damage he estimated at $15,000.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill and their five children were not at home at the time.

His will, filed for probate, directs that $100 of his estate be used "to furnish my fellow workers with an Xmas party on the Xmas following my decease."

He died July 18 at 60. The total value of his estate was not listed.

Japan-Soviet Treaty in 'Crucial' Stages

MOSCOW (U)—Japanese Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu had a 30-minute confidential conference with Soviet Foreign Minister Dimitri Shepilov today amid indications the Soviet-Japanese peace treaty negotiations are reaching a "make or break stage."

The one-legged veteran Japanese diplomat declined all comment on emerging from Shepilov's office but an aide said later the situation has reached a point where "either they or we must concede and they show no indication they will."

The deadline is over Japanese demands for return of the two small islands of Kunashiri and Etorofu, in the southern Kuriles. Well informed Japanese sources indicated Shigemitsu might be ready to concede.

"We cannot go on like this indefinitely," one such source said. "An over-all settlement is of first importance."

2 Men Killed, 3 Injured in Crash Near Lansing

PORTLAND (U)—Two men were killed and three persons were injured last night in a head-on auto collision on U.S. 16, two miles east of Portland in central Michigan.

Killed were James H. Blaine, 48, of Chicago, and Charles E. Haley, 52, of Fraser. Haley's wife and two children were hospitalized at Lansing.

Rhee, at 81, Begins Third Term

SEOUL (U)—An 81-year-old man who has guided this infant republic since its birth eight years ago begins a third term as president next Thursday. Syngman Rhee's political foe Chang Myon becomes vice president.

What is in store for this battered country? Can it ever achieve an independent existence without the millions in U.S. aid now pouring in? If Rhee does not live out his third term, is the country sufficiently stable and mature to avert political chaos?

There are no pat answers, but a canvass of informed opinion reveals areas of agreement. The key to Korea's future lies with the 16 million farmers, about 80 per cent of the population.

Most farm families exist on the output from less than an acre of worn-out land. Many have lived in misery for so many generations they are lethargic and unwilling to help themselves or each other.

The big estates built up during 40 years of Japanese occupation have been broken up and the land sold to former tenants, but many have been forced to sell off chunks of their tiny plots. They could not afford seed, or they faced starvation between harvests. Farmers who try to improve their lot find that interest rates range up to 15 per cent a month.

Fertilizer, brought to Korea under the American aid program, sells at government distribution points for as much as double the ceiling price.

Administration supported legislation would create a new agricultural bank operated without direct government supervision to provide low-cost credit for farmers. President Rhee hopes to promote the organization of loosely organized marketing cooperatives on a village level.

Chang, in his successful vice presidential campaign, promised the farmers cooperatives through which they could buy seed and fertilizer and market their harvest without paying exorbitant fees to middle men.

Few experts foresee serious political unrest or an attempted coup if Rhee dies.

"We would expect Chang Myon to take office and to follow all constitutional processes to the letter," one diplomatic source said.

Korea has made great political progress in eight years. In the last election voters demonstrated much political maturity. In Seoul and other major cities, where opposition parties are strongest, there appears to be political freedom.

Few Korean leaders expect military interference in the government. This hands-off attitude could change quickly, however. If after Rhee's death a situation developed which the army considered unstable or unfriendly.

Chang Myon, also known as John M. Chang, is 56. He is Korea's leading Catholic layman and was South Korea's first ambassador to Washington. He also is a former prime minister.

Chang was a compromise candidate to run with P. H. Shinicky, leader of the opposition Democratic party, in the last election. Shinicky died during the campaign. Chang easily defeated Rhee's candidate for the vice presidency.

Business Group Warns Democratic Platform Unit

CHICAGO (U)—The National Assn. of Manufacturers today told the Democratic Platform Committee that any tinkering with new national policies which the NAM said have restored business confidence could kill off prosperity overnight.

Cola G. Parker, NAM president, made no mention of the present Republican administration but said "the change in the economic environment" has fostered steady economic growth.

"We have not entered a new era in which prosperity can be taken for granted," Parker said. "Our problem now is to develop a program which will encourage and protect this confidence, and thereby keep our nation moving forward."

Parker, as head of the NAM, and John S. Coleman, as president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, gave their views as spokesmen for two leading business organizations.

Their prepared testimony was scheduled ahead of former President Harry S. Truman, due for a midafternoon appearance.

Parker said that for the first time in many years both party conventions can write platforms "in a situation of national prosperity which has not been created artificially by war or the aftermath of war and which is not beset by any tinkering with new national policies which the NAM said have restored business confidence could kill off prosperity overnight."

Republicans Gird for Fall Battle

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan's Republican leaders, with Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo at the forefront, today began girding themselves for an all-out try at deposing Gov. Williams and his lieutenants in the Democratic administration.

The main event in the state election will match two candidates who have never been beaten for public office. Cobo, three times mayor of Detroit and seven times city treasurer, will go against Williams who is seeking an unprecedented fifth term as governor.

Republicans predicted Cobo's ringing victory over Donald S. Leonard in the primary balloting Tuesday boosted their chances of unseating Williams.

"An Eisenhower-Cobo ticket will be the strongest the Republicans have had the pleasure of presenting to the state in many years," said John Feikens, Republican state chairman.

Democratic leaders also appeared heartened over the turnout their candidates attracted in the absence of any statewide competition.

Nell Staebler, Democratic state chairman, said he learned of the returns with "rejoicing." Williams, who polled more than 418,000 votes, called them "encouraging."

The governor's running mate, Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, also unopposed, polled 338,862 votes in his campaign for a second term.

In his impressive triumph, Cobo carried 77 of the state's 83 counties, collecting nearly 350,000 votes for a plurality of more than 190,000 over Leonard, a former State Police commissioner who lost out to Gov. Williams in the 1954 election. Cobo lost only Alger, Dickinson, Iron and Keweenaw counties in the Upper Peninsula and Benzie and Clare in the Lower Peninsula. Leonard carried five of these by less than 100 votes each.

In a radio talk acknowledging his victory, Cobo promised a "clean and constructive" campaign to be carried to all sections of the state. Leonard said he would work for Cobo and other Republican office seekers in the coming campaign.

FEW OTHER SURPRISES

In other contests there were few surprises. Robert P. Griffin, 32-year-old Traverse City attorney, pulled the biggest upset, trouncing Rep. Ruth Thompson, Whitehall Republican who was bidding for a fourth term in Congress. Griffin will oppose William E. Baker of Mesick, a member of the state board of agriculture, in the ninth congressional district race.

All the other Congress incumbents who are running for reelection came through, but two, Reps. August E. Johansen of Battle Creek and Thaddeus M. Machrowicz of Detroit, had narrow scrapes.

On the basis of complete unofficial returns, Johansen, a Republican, edged state Sen. Creighton R. Coleman, another Battle Creek entry, by a mere 531 votes in the third district. Machrowicz defeated state Sen. Cora Brown by more than 5,000 in the first district pulling away in the late stages in a race that was nip-and-tuck most of the way.

Two Negroes will oppose each other in the 13th district, situated in Detroit. Democratic incumbent Charles C. Diggs Jr., who won handily over two other primary candidates, is pitted against Willis F. Ward, a former University of Michigan football star.

Two former congressmen making comeback tries failed to win nominations. They are Democrat Frank Hook, who lost to Joseph S. Mack, in the 12th district; and Kit Clardy, who was swamped by Charles E. Chamberlain, Ingham County prosecutor, in the battle to oppose Rep. Don Hayworth, East Lansing Democrat, in the sixth district.

NEWCASTLE, England (AP)—Artist Scott Dobson reported today he has found a way to make posing easier for his model, 18-year-old Hazel Moffett. He said he hypnotizes her.

"The trance technique has given me perfect sittings," Dobson said. "I just sit there in a wonderful dream world while time flies by," said Hazel.

Babe Zaharias: Dedicated to Help Others

(This is the last of four articles on the greatest woman athlete the world has ever seen—now waging a battle against cancer.)

By BOB CONSIDINE

GALVESTON (INS)—One of the more absorbing phenomena of sports is that so many of its physical marvels experience profound physical disorders.

Lou Gehrig, Walter Johnson, Babe Ruth, and Jim Thorpe succumbed many aggregate years before their normal life span expectancy, dead from assorted aches while fragile folk who regarded them as supermen live on.

Joe Louis, who would be considered a young man in almost any calling except his chosen one, recently was declared physically unfit to engage in the sweaty horseplay of professional wrestling—though it seems likely the Bureau of Internal Revenue may insist he continue. The former heavyweight champion has a heart murmur and, his wrestling opponents say, an odd growth on his shoulders. Bobby Jones is on cancer.

Babe Didrikson Zaharias, floored here at John Sealey Hospital by her second great cancer surgery, has with the help of her massive husband, former wrestler George Zaharias (himself diabetic), set up "The Babe Didrikson Zaharias Fund, Inc."

NOT BIG BUSINESS

In a day and age when many organized charities necessarily or unconsciously assume the air of Big Business, a visit to the home office of the Babe Didrikson Zaharias Fund, Inc., can be immensely touching. It is confined to one room at the John Sealey Hospital, around the hall from which the girl for whom the fund is named is dazedly engaged in appalling strife with something she cannot reach out and hit.

Babe thinks of it as a living memorial. When she and Big George first thought it up they sought the best advice available, the doctors who had worked so closely with Babe through her cancer problems and who knew what was needed most where they and so many like them served. They wanted no duplication of any of the other and much better known cancer funds.

On the board are George, Fred Corcoran of New York, Dr. John H. Childers, of John Sealey Hospital, Dr. Hyman W. Paley, professor of medicine, John W. McCullough, chairman of the board of the philanthropic Sealey-Smith Foundation, former U. S. District Judge Charles G. Dibrill, V. W. McLeod of the Sealey-Smith Foundation, Dr. Martin Schneider, University of Texas professor, and Dr. John Otto, an especial friend of the Babe.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

THE BALLOON BOY

Polly is picking out a balloon to take home from the balloon boy who stands near the park gate. Polly is rubbing her fingers on the balloon to hear the funny squeak of the rubber.

When you color the picture with your crayons make the balloons different bright colors, so they will attract customers. Leave the little spot at the top of each balloon white. This is called a high light—where light is reflected on a smooth surface—and it makes the balloons look round. Next time you see a balloon in the sunlight look for the high light.

Paste the picture down on cardboard, and cut it out carefully. Cut out the separate balloon and fasten a string to the back of it with gummed tape. Bring the string through the boy's fingers from the back through the indicated hole, and then slip the lower edge of the balloon into the slit shown between Polly's hands.

Fold the two sides forward on the dotted line and it will stand up. (Carolyn Willis, Oklahoma City, Okla., first sent in this idea. Submit your ideas care of this newspaper, and Junior Editors will pay $10 for each used. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures).

Check Passers Await Hearing

Face Circuit Court Trial After Arrest in Berkley Supermarket

Two members of an alleged check forgery ring were bound over to the Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday following examination in Justice Court on charges of uttering and publishing and forgery.

John F. Weightman, 39, of Farmington, and John Freeman, 48, of Berkley, will appear before Circuit Court Judge George Hartwick Monday. They were examined yesterday by Justice Ralph Finley of Berkley. A third member of the group, Fred Bartz, 40, of Farmington, pleaded guilty to the charges earlier and awaits sentence.

Freeman was released on $1,000 bond. Weightman was remanded to the Oakland County Jail under $10,000 bond.

Weightman and Bartz were arrested June 22 when attempting to pass a false check at a supermarket in Berkley. Police found $600 in cash and 21 uncashed checks in their possession. Freeman was apprehended later as an alleged partner in the ring.

Police said the group admitted passing bad checks valued at $10,000 over a six month period, printing equipment, plates, and other materials were confiscated.

Privately-Owned Center Opened for Alcoholics

NEW YORK (INS)—Establishment of what is believed to be the first privately-operated center in the nation where alcoholics may be rehabilitated free of charge was announced last night by Vincent Tracy, director of the center.

The center, to be called Vincent Hall, will be located in Coneyman's Hollow, N. Y., 35 miles southwest of Albany, and is expected to be opened in October.

The location is close to Tracy farms, a 500-acre ranch were for almost 10 years Tracy has worked in the field of alcoholic rehabilitation. Financing of the center will be by private contribution.

Peerless to Benefit by Rouge Dredging

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Army Engineers Review Board has approved a plan for deepening a portion of the old channel of the Rouge River near Detroit.

The segment involved extends from the short cut channel to the north property limit of the Peerless Cement Corp. It would be deepened from its present depth of 17 feet to 21 feet.

The review board adopted a report of the Chicago Division Army Engineers calling for Peerless and the federal government each to put up one-half of the $203,000 cost.

Congress must authorize the project and appropriate money for it before any work can be started.

Take a Bike Course

Realizing the increasing popularity of the American bike as school transportation, recreation and school directors are now introducing special bicycle safety, repair and maintenance courses in the regular curriculum.

up. She, Big George and the others concerned, would disburse such funds as come in to the job of providing tumor clinics around the land and personnel to operate the modern means of diagnosing whether the tumor concerned is malignant or benign.

Since the fund was started last Sept. 12 about $40,000 has been received. There is one paid secretary who keeps tab of the mail—sometimes strange—that comes in to university station. Her salary is low. The rest of the work is done gratis by Big George, who even buys the stamps to mail the hundreds of thank-you notes and responses to queries, and by Babe's sister Lillie.

Big George let me look at some of the mail that has come in to his courageous wife. It was a strange mish-mash. Four little Tampa girls, ages nine, seven, six and three—they called themselves the "3 1/2 Club"—contributed $3.84 they had saved. The Cleveland Indians passed the hat and raised $411.

GEORGE IS WORRIED

Casey Stengel, the New York Yankee manager who has become a legend for his double-talk, wrote most plainly, "It is our hope that in this small way we can get the fund off to a good start. To a man the Yankees are flattered to be called friends by so great a lady, and each one of us sends his best wishes for a quick recovery and extended good health."

Big George wonders if the fund is getting too big for him. There have been many suggestions that he turn it over to a professional fund-raiser, but he's afraid Babe wouldn't like that. And what Babe wants, Big George wants.

"She's bearing the cross," Big George said solemnly. "I don't understand it exactly. Maybe it's so people will know about cancer, talk about it, think about it, do something about it."

A nurse came into the home office of the Babe Didrikson Zaharias Fund, Inc., and told Big George and the reporter loitering there that Babe was awake. Babe was awake indeed, but groggy. Always a great one with reporters—frank, honest, wonderful—she drowsily said, "Ask me anything you want to." But the reporter could only lean over her bed and kiss her on the cheek and say, "I don't want to ask you any questions, Baby. I just came by to tell you that we love you."

Neiman-Marcus Awards to Be Given Sept. 3-4

Dallas Fashion House to Honor 3 Europeans

DALLAS — Three international personalities whose influence, through design or projection, has effected a "continental look" in fashionable women throughout the world will receive Neiman-Marcus Awards at the Texas specialty store's 19th Annual Fashion Exposition in Dallas Sept. 3rd and 4th.

Cecil Beaton of London, Marie-Louise Bousquet of Paris and Giuliana Camerino of Venice will fly from Europe to Dallas to receive their fashion "Oscars".

Highlighting one of the nation's largest and most elaborate fashion shows, the 19th annual presentation will be made before two audiences, Monday night and Tuesday noon, at the new Statler Hilton Hotel.

Reiterating the fashion authority of Neiman-Marcus, the 19th annual showing of the premier collections of the great couturiers, furriers, jewelers and accessory makers of the world will be followed by an elaborate supper dance on Monday night. The three awardees also will be guests of honor at the exposition luncheon show Tuesday. Each audience will be limited to a thousand.

RELATE TO AUTO

Notable throughout the exposition collections is the relation of international fashion to the great new American car, the Continental Mark II.

Award citations, for their distinguished service in the field of fashion, are to:

"Cecil Beaton, a multi-faceted man who has won fame as an author, photographer of royalty, artist and designer of clothes for the stage and screen. His current costume designs for the Broadway hit, 'My Fair Lady,' have exerted a forceful influence on the clothes women will wear in 1956-57."

"Mme. Marie-Louise Bousquet, famous catalyst of French fashion. She is a fashion writer, reporter and the Paris editor of Harper's Bazaar. Her salon has seen every great couturier and most of the leading artists and writers of France of this century."

"She is a woman whose counsel, judgment and understanding have been sought and valued by a whole generation of fashion creators."

"Giuliana Camerino, a 'fair lady' from Venice, who has devised new forms using the century-old weaving facilities of her fabled native city to provide one of the freshest and most creative notes in the field of hand-bag design."

ROSTER GROWS

For nearly a score of years, the roster of Neiman-Marcus awardees has grown to represent a Fashion Hall of Fame. The award to Mme. Bousquet this year makes the tenth time the honor has gone to a French national.

Previous ones were made to Elsa Schiaparelli in 1940, Christian Dior in 1947 (the year of the revolutionary "new look"), Mme. Henri Bonnet in 1949 during the time her husband was French Ambassador to the United States, the late Jacques Fath and Alice Cadoile in 1949, Jacques Lesur, textile designer and industrialist, in 1951; the following year to Roger Fare and Gilbert and Helene Orcel, fine millinery designers.

In 1954, fashion's accolade went to Marchese Emilio Pucci of Florence and Capri for his original and exciting leisure clothes, to Herbert and Beth Levine for architectural perfection in fine shoes, and to James Galanos, brilliant young California designer, who received the Fashion Critics' Award the same season.

Last year's recipients of the award, which is the oldest existent one of its type, were:

Pierre Balmain of Paris, whose magic designing touch has kept him at the top in the highly competitive French couture.

Henry Dreyfuss, whose 25 years in the field of industrial design have made millions of people look better, work better—or just made happier with innumerable objects known and used in daily life.

Florence Eiseman, who clothes the wondrous state of childhood with understanding, beauty and rightness in fine, simple designs for young America.

Sally Kirkland, fashion's great reporter, interpreter and analyst, who, as fashion editor of Life Magazine makes what people wear constant news to 27,000,000 readers.

Vera Maxwell, who designs with talent and integrity in an American concept for the full and active life of today's woman.

The sixth award in 1955 was made to the former Grace Kelly, Her Serene Highness Princess Grace of Monaco.

MRS. M. B. HUNGERFORD

Versatile Coed Grandma Earns Bachelor's Degree

By MARY ANGLEMIER

Her zest for living belies the graying hair of Mrs. M. B. Hungerford (nee Mona L. Sergeant) of Liberty street, grandmother of six and mother of three children.

This summer all Mrs. Hungerford needed was a course in Shakespeare's tragedies to complete her work for a Bachelor of Science Degree. She took the course and was graduated from summer school at Eastern Michigan College.

Besides several poems, this grandmother has had a fishing story and an article on antiques published. For five years, she has been a member of the Writer's and Manuscript Club of Birmingham.

Mrs. Hungerford loves to hook rugs, collect antiques, study birds and go north with her husband to their cabin near Rose City.

When she was graduated in 1912 from the Vassar High School, she was given the assignment to write an oration on the class motto,

"We Will Find a Way or Make One."

She had always wanted to be a teacher so she determined to hold fast to the motto and "Find a Way."

After working two years as a bookkeeper and saleslady in Vassar, Mrs. Hungerford entered Central State Normal College at Mt. Pleasant. She was graduated from the state limited course in 1915.

She taught two years near Frankenmuth in the Hammond School, named after her grandfather, and one year at Reese.

When the Vassar High School burned down in 1917, little did she think that the contractor who came to build the new school would become her future husband.

RAISED 3 CHILDREN

The Hungerfords moved to Mt. Clemens after their marriage in 1918, returning to Pontiac a year later. For 2 years, Mrs. Hungerford kept books for her husband besides raising a family of three children.

In 1942, when teachers became scarce, she was asked to teach at the Hubbell School, on the corner of Adams and Rochester roads. Pupils from the Christian Hill School on the Dodge Estate also were placed in her school, making it necessary to hold 37 classes every day.

Mrs. Hungerford later taught eight years in Waterford Village, one year at the Webber School and three years in the Pontiac Public School System.

Since 1942 she has been taking extension classes at Wayne University and Eastern Michigan College. Her course this summer enabled her to earn four extra credits on a Master's Degree.

Unexpected Gift Poses Problem

Token Present Best in Return to Avoid Starting Precedent

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I received a birthday present from a friend last week which was very unexpected since I never exchanged presents with her before. She is to have a birthday in another month and I would like to know if it is necessary to give her a present in return."

"In the past I have always sent her a card but I don't want her to think me 'cheap' in view of the fact that she gave me a present. On the other hand, I certainly don't want to make this a practice. Will you please advise me what to do?"

Answer: I would send her something of small value, nothing important enough to obligate her to give you something next year.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a guest refuses something more to eat, isn't it wrong for a hostess to keep urging him (or her)?"

Answer: While it is a natural and generous impulse to ask a guest if he (or she) would like more to eat, to continue to coax will surely embarrass rather than please.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When guests in our house lose money at card games, should we take their money? Doesn't the fact that we are hosts make it seem inhospitable for us to consider their card debts seriously? Your opinion on this matter will be much appreciated."

Answer: No. You either play for money or you don't, and you are merely a player in the game and take exactly the same position as the other players do.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When sending a congratulatory wedding telegram, should it be sent to the bride's house to her alone, or to both? Or to the bridegroom at his house if he is the friend, and the bride unknown?"

Answer: It is always addressed to Mr. and Mrs. . . . and sent to wherever the reception is to be held.

Darow Leads Redskin Squad to 7-3 Victory
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Al Darow, former Michigan State quarterback, tossed a touchdown pass to Leo Elter in the closing minutes to give the "East" a 7-3 win over the "West" in the Washington Redskins' intra-squad game at east Los Angeles Stadium last night.

Fullback Elter raced 49 yards to score after the pass and Norb Hecker converted.

Pontiac, Milford Legion Winners

Boys' Club Clinches Win Over Rochester in Early Frames

Pontiac and Milford nines came through Wednesday's Junior American Legion games with clean-cut victories. In the night's 3rd contest, at Clawson, Birmingham took a forfeit from the Clawson club when the home nine couldn't get use of the field where the game was to have been played.

Boys' Club of Pontiac avenged the 1st round defeat by Rochester that beat Bill Coulaos boys out of the championship. They stopped their hosts 4-2 on the basis of some early frame runs. Victory was the 6th in a row for Pontiac, current league leaders.

At Berkley Milford's Dave Gaddis hurled a 1-bitter for his 2-0 victory. Teammates gave Dave solid support with seven safeties. Both clubs played errorless ball in a very interesting contest.

Coulaos' club collected seven hits off Jim Howe, three in the 2nd for two runs and two in the third when the winning run counted. Final tally came in the 6th helped by a single and Don Dayner's long double. Jerry Orr gave up five hits, hit a double himself.

Pontiac plays a double header Sunday at Washington playground. First game at 1:30 is with Clawson and the nightcap at 4:15 is a makeup game with Berkley. Berkley also plays two games, meeting Birmingham at 1 p.m. at Pierce Field before coming out to Pontiac. Rochester plays at Milford.

HUMAN BUTTERFLY—Bill Yorzky, 25, national champion from Northampton, Mass., swims to a world long course record for the 200-meter butterfly stroke in the Olympic trials at Detroit yesterday. He reeled off the distance in 2:19 to eclipse the Olympic record of 2:34.4 set by John Davies of Australia in 1952 and to break the world record of 2:23.8 set by Takashi Ishimoto of Japan in 1955.

Wisner Fights Saturday

Bout Pairings Made

Pairings for the Nephrosis Benefit Boxing show to be held Saturday night at Wisner stadium were listed for the 10-bout card.

Leonard Spencer, 120-pounder from Pontiac will tangle with Jack Slade of Flint in the opening bout.

Tony Joe Perez of Pontiac and Renal Burns of Flint, a pair of 128-pound gloves will follow.

A change was made in a welterweight bout with Dick Mitchell of Pontiac facing Willie Bray of Flint instead of John Conty.

Conty scored a 2nd round TKO over Mitchell in their last meeting in June at Waterford High School.

A pair of Golden Glove champions, Don McLane, 147, of Pontiac and Ralph Pierce of Flint will be the feature in 7th bout of the evening.

The heavyweight fight between Ken Carte, 200-pounder from Pontiac and 225-pound Sam Jones has been finally arranged.

Promoter Stan Allen is attempting to bring the two boys together in a rematch of the June fights in which Jones kayoed Carte in the 2nd round.

In a couple of middleweight bouts, Rodney Rainey of Pontiac will face Manuel Green of Flint, and Larry Lamphere also of Pontiac goes against Harry Walker of Flint.

A short feature of the program has Michael Allen and Terry Siverals both 5 years of age going in three 1-minute rounds.

Door prizes, donated by 20 merchants of the Pontiac area, will be given away at the fights, and all proceeds will go to the National Nephrosis Foundation for research work.

Tickets are available at numerous business places around Pontiac and also can be obtained at the gate Saturday night.

Observers along the shore of a lake in the Union Lake chain yesterday morning witnessed an unrehearsed bit of comic opera.

That's the way Mrs. Martin Distel, 5900 Commerce road, described the exciting piscatorial episode involving her 15-year-old son Allen David Distel.

"Allen was so excited, when he caught this fish (a 5-pound 8-ounce largemouth bass) that he just jumped right into the lake and grabbed the bass," the lad's mother reported.

Distel was fishing with his friend Fred Gregg of Keego Harbor. Both are pupils of West Bloomfield High School. They hooked the big bronzeback in deep water. Without a landing net the boys figured they'd best head for a nearby dock.

Near the landing spot Allen couldn't wait, jumped overboard in 10 feet of water, tossed the fish into the boat.

South Orange, N.J. (AP)—Sam Giammalva, who feels "lucky," can boost his future Davis Cup stock today in his third-round match with Neale Fraser, one of Australia's second-line Cuppers, in the Eastern Grass Court Tennis Tournament.

Giammalva, the defending champion, will be facing Fraser for the first time after rallying to stay alive yesterday, 6-3, 2-6, 7-5 over Michael Davies, England.

The chunky 5-11 Texan faces a battle to retain the title he won last year with victories over Vic Seixas, Kurt Nielsen of Denmark, and Gil Shea. If he gets past Fraser, Giammalva figures to play Shea, Seixas and Australia's Ken Rosewall.

Fraser the second-seeded foreign player, needed a 6-2, 3-6, 6-3 rally to stop Jack Lesch, Los Angeles, as his three Australian teammates — Rosewall, Cooper and Roy Emerson — all gained.

Rosewall, top-seeded foreigner whipped C. Maxwell Brown, Louisville, 6-1, 6-1, and third-seeded Cooper stopped Crawford Henry, Atlanta, 6-4, 6-4. Unseeded Emerson, winner at Southampton, ousted Allen Morris, Atlanta, 7-5, 2-6, 10-8.

Saginaw Bout Card Has Pontiac Boxer

SAGINAW (AP)—Yama Bahama, a 6-5 favorite, meets Pat Lowry in the 10-round feature of an outdoor boxing card in Memorial Stadium tonight.

Bahama is from the Bahamas. Lowry fights out of Toledo.

The supporting card is topped by a six-round bout between Sam Pillarik of Saginaw and Major Woodson, Detroit, middleweight.

Preliminary four-round bouts include: Len Richards, Van Dyke heavyweight, vs. J. C. Williams, Toledo; Paul Ozzie, Bay City welterweight, vs. Tom Hendricks, Windsor, Ont.; and Ronnie O'Berry, Pontiac welterweight, vs. Dick Kuster, Bay City.

The first bout starts at 8:30 p.m.

Worcester, Mass. (AP)—Johnny Saxton, welterweight boxing champion, will make another New England appearance before his title defense against Carmen Basilio.

Saxton gained a unanimous 10-round decision over Barry Allison of Springfield, Mass., in Boston Tuesday night.

Parker Satisfied

Lions Have 1st Scrimmage

YPSILANTI (AP)—The Detroit Lions came through their "first all-out workout" without serious injuries.

Coach Buddy Parker sent his charges through a tough hour and a half scrimmage yesterday and said he was "satisfied" with the team's performance. Another heavy scrimmage is scheduled Saturday at the Lions' training camp at Ypsilanti.

Parker cited the work of three veterans and a rookie in the rough head-bumping session.

He said Leon Hart, who has been shifted to fullback from his normal end position, was "running faster, harder and shifting better than any time last year."

The former Notre Dame All-America was moved to fullback during the 1955 season when the hapless Lions were searching for a line buster and blocker to help take the pressure off quarterback Bobby Lane and Harry Gilmer.

Parker also said he was pleased with the way Layne and Gilmer were throwing. Layne, the veteran Texan mainstay of Detroit's aerial attack, completed 7 of 14 passes, while Gilmer connected on 11 of 16. Both were passing short and deep.

Rookie Pete Retzlaff of South Dakota State also came in for a share of the praise. He caught two of Layne's aeriels for touchdowns.

MOSCOW (INS)—The track and field phase of the 11-day Soviet Olympic trials resumes today at the huge Lenin Stadium in suburban Moscow.

Russian weight-lifters set two new world records yesterday. Lightweight Raviil Khabutdinov pressed 271 pounds to top his own mark by one pound and featherweight Evgeny Minayev pressed 251 pounds, bettering by a single pound the record set by another Russian, Viktor Korzh.

'Husbands' Day' Set

Final arrangements have been made for the annual "husbands day" for Silver Lake Women's Golf League. The two-ball foursome tournament will be followed by a dinner at Club Tahoe.

In yesterday's play Mrs. Elbert Looney again had low gross, at 49 and also took the blind hole (No. 4) with a par four. Low net went to Mrs. Max Richardson with 37.
