Eyes Turn Skyward as Weekend Nears: Usual Rain in Store

Friday night.

Hmm-m-m-m.

It's time for the faithful to cast one eye skyward, take a deep breath and cogitate about the customary weekend downpours.

One of our boys here at The Press who possesses that unquestioned probity that everyone associates with all Press people, is authority for the statement that it has rained hard at least once every weekend since the middle of April.

"And," sez he, "I don't mean a light sprinkle or a puny drizzle. I don't mean one of those 'invigorating showers that stuffy Englishmen pretend to love and use for silly walks in their unpressed and messy tweeds. No, sir! I mean a gol-durned rip roaring downpour that spoils picnics, drives tennis players inside, breaks up golf games and ends nice summery meals on the lawn. Why, most of these weekend cloudbursts deserve names like the Florida cyclones. We'd be about down to Zenda."

Verily, he speaks the truth.

Frank Syron, entrepreneur of the Pontiac Country Club places his calloused left hand on the Good Book, raises his right skyward and swears it has rained or snowed every weekend since the 11th of February. Mr. Syron is another citizen of unimpeachable ways and his word carries the stamp of the Michigan P.G.A. and the Good Housekeeping Seal of Approval.

Whatever you do, and wherever you go, take a rain coat, a row boat and a sump pump. Leave your intended address with the Coast Guard and the nearest U. S. Life Saving station. And remember, pulmotor service is provided free by Oakland County. You won't have to put that in the budget. Good luck, everybody.

P. S. The forecast for Saturday is "showers."

Delegates to Hear Talks by Truman, Stevenson

CHICAGO (INS) — Here is the program for today—the final day—of the Democratic National Convention:

Noon (CDT) — Invocation, balloting for vice presidential nomination.

Night session, 8 p.m. — Invocation.

Address—ex-president Harry S. Truman

Address — Adlai E. Stevenson, 1956 presidential nominee

Nixon Heading West

WASHINGTON (INS) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon leaves Washington today for San Francisco where, according to most indications, he will be renominated next week at the Republican National Convention.

Another traveler to San Francisco is Harold E. Stassen, whose drive to replace Nixon with Massachusetts Gov. Christian Herter was abruptly sidetracked yesterday by Herter himself.

Toll Road Dead--Ziegler

State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler said today the proposed Rockwood-Saginaw turnpike "is dead, and has been for months."

Ziegler has been an opponent of the toll road since its inception, but has been a member of the Michigan Turnpike Authority, headed by George N. Higgins of Ferndale.

Ziegler said the 113-mile superhighway has been dead since December, when an attempt by Higgins to sell turnpike bonds was rejected by bonding companies.

Higgins has since been trying to obtain legislation which would satisfy the bonding companies. The toll road would go through Oakland County.

"As yet, the Turnpike Authority has not shown that the turnpike could be adequately financed. In fact, they don't even have adequate plans for the project," Ziegler said.

Higgins said today his plans are "ready to roll" as soon as bonds can be sold.

Michigan Gives More Support to Sen. Kefauver

By ROGER LANE

CHICAGO (AP)—The Michigan delegation today strengthened its support of Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee for the vice presidential nomination, giving him 36 of the delegation's 44 convention votes.

Following closed caucus, Gov. G. Mennen Williams announced the Kefauver total and that 10 delegates accounting for five convention votes were cast for Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota.

Six delegates with one-half vote each representing three convention votes, were absent from the caucus.

Williams told a news conference that he personally supported Kefauver.

In a caucus yesterday, Kefauver was an estimated three to one favorite over Humphrey on a show of hands.

Kennedy Stole the Show in Nominating Stevenson

CHICAGO (INS)—Adlai Stevenson's name was placed in nomination by the Senator from Massachusetts, John Kennedy, and the kid did it beautifully, says George Jessel.

He is so good looking and so young, that the late Harold Ickes might have said, "Who threw his 'beany' in the ring?" But nevertheless, they are talking about him as the candidate for the vice presidency.

Young Kennedy was the big hit of the matinee performance.

For the rest of the Democratic run the star is Adlai.

Watch Out Litterbugs! Police Cracking Down

DETROIT (INS)—War was declared today on the "litterbug."

Wayne County deputies will join other law officers to enforce state law against littering highways.

The law provides a fine of up to $100 or 90 days in jail for littering.

Cloudy, Cooler Weather Seen for Tomorrow

Tonight the Pontiac area will have partly cloudy weather with possible scattered thundershowers, says the U. S. Weather Bureau. Low tonight will be 68 to 72 degrees.

Tomorrow will also be cloudy, but will turn cooler late in the evening. High tomorrow, 84-88 degrees.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature reading preceding 8 a.m. was 69 degrees. The mercury rose to 88 degrees at 2 p.m.

Pot-O-Gold Intact

Prize Reaches $500 and Still No Winner

Sixteen of puzzledom's most elusive words clashed with the summer's biggest army of would-be conquerors this month, reeled in a series of skirmishes, and retreated with forces intact.

But the Pot-O-Gold legions will return to the field of battle again next week with another perplexing array of 16 words—and the prize will be $500.

Thousands of readers racked their brains over 9,890 entries in Puzzle No. 10 for two weeks without coming up with a solution, although a record number missed by only one word.

And horror of horrors!—85 entries were sent via envelopes while 78 others missed the deadline.

The reasoning that prompted the puzzle-makers to pick the winning words is explained on Page 16. You may not be very contest-minded after you've finished, but by all means turn to Page 23 for the last copy of Puzzle No. 11—solve this one and you'll have an extra $500 to spend next week.

Cobo Convention Bound

Throws 2nd-Spot Race to Convention Voters

Kefauver Says He'll Capture Spot on Ballot

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO — The red-hot battle for selection of Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson's running mate moved to the convention floor today. Sen. Estes Kefauver claimed enough votes for a second-ballot victory.

Kefauver's managers said shortly before the most sizzling session of the convention opened at noon he had 500 "guaranteed" first-ballot votes and would go over the top on the second roll call, with 686½ needed to nominate.

This scramble for the nomination was thrown to the "free processes" of the party convention last night by Stevenson.

Five hopefuls were opening bidding for support in frantic campaigning that sought to compress into hours the kind of effort normally spread over weeks. They were:

Kefauver, who appeared to be out in front.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City.

On the other hand, Texas' Lyndon Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader who could easily corral the votes of many Southerners, sought to take himself out of consideration.

...He told a news conference:

"My name is not going before the convention."

Johnson said he had been up most of the night talking to party leaders about the matter and had received several offers of support.

But he declared he had stuck to his original position that he was not interested in the vice presidency.

Despite claims made in behalf of Kefauver, it was plain there were swirling cross currents of sentiment among the haggard delegates caucusing in downtown hotels and

Vows to Fight 'All the Way' for Presidency

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson says he will "fight all the way" for the presidency of the United States.

Stevenson gave this pledge to jubilant supporters shortly after he won the Democratic presidential nomination last night. It confirmed word from his press secretary, Roger Tubby, that Stevenson planned a "fighting type" campaign.

"It will be like the California windup," Tubby said.

He was referring to the free-swinging battle Stevenson had with Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee when both were clawing for California's convention votes in that state's June presidential primary. Stevenson won.

A tumultuous demonstration marked Stevenson's unanimous nomination after Pennsylvania put him over the magic figure of 686½ votes on the first ballot last night.

Stevenson may have given a hint of things to come when he cautioned Democrats this week not to slug away at each other, but to keep their big blows for "the real enemy" — the Republicans.

Some — including former President Harry S. Truman—have said they don't think much of Stevenson as a scrapper.

But most of Stevenson's critics will concede that he has learned a few lessons in how to deal with rank-and-file voters since he was defeated by President Eisenhower four years ago.

Even Truman, who backed Gov. Averell Harriman against Stevenson, gave Stevenson that much.

Even before he won the nomination, Stevenson said he planned to "talk sense" to the voters on the issues of the day, as he said he did four years ago.

Back in 1952, candidate Stevenson would wait for people to come to him. Now, the former Illinois governor walks up to people, pumps their hands and starts talking.

He seems to enjoy the new role. During the convention he got on friendly terms with the maid who took care of his suite in the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel, and with two

Editor Visits Convention; Haas Describes Balloting

CHICAGO—Bedlam reigns supreme.

That's the impression this writer gets after viewing his first political convention.

It has all the appearance of a circus or carnival with side shows going on all the time.

The amphitheater is not unlike Olympia in Detroit. At one end is the podium where all major speeches take place. On either side the working press is located. This section holds 600 or 700 and to date is never completely filled.

Mounted on a scaffold 25 feet high in the center of the arena are cameramen. Both TV, movie and still photographers can cover the entire arena from this advantage point.

The entire main floor is taken up with the delegates from all 48 states and U.S. possessions. Their standard bearer with the name of the state plainly visible makes it easy to pick out any particular group of delegates.

Midway in the arena and mounted in front of the first balcony on both sides is another photographer's box. Each box contains 20 or more photographers covering for the various news services. Completely surrounding the arena are state signs and special posters designating who may sit in the various areas.

SOUVENIRS EVERYWHERE

The street or lobby floor is completely cluttered with souvenirs of all types. Anything from 10-gallon hats to cigarettes marked "Vote for Harriman" can be found. This section of the hall is mobbed with

Assembly Line Delivers 6-Millionth Pontiac

A milestone in Pontiac's 30-year production history was reached today when the six-millionth auto to bear that trademark came off the assembly line.

The car, a sleek Catalina coupe, was produced two years after the five-millionth Pontiac model was turned out, according to General Manager S. E. Knudsen.

Among the most significant aspects of the achievement, according to Knudsen, is its meaning in terms of steady acceleration in U. S. auto production over the years.

After turning out its first model, a 1926 sedan, in 1925, Pontiac reached its first million in 1935, the second in 1940 and the third in 1949. Since then, the division has built a million units about every 2½ years, the general manager pointed out.

The six million vehicles represent 9,600,000 tons of steel, over two million tons of iron and 1,200,000 tons of rubber, glass, fabrics, plastics and lubricants. Another 350,000 tons of aluminum, copper, lead, zinc and various other alloys went into the cars, Knudsen estimated.

"We are proud of the part Pontiac's six million cars have played in the economy of the country," Knudsen commented. "These cars have traveled over the roads and highways of America with an unestimable effect on the prosperity and happiness of every community in the nation."

Pontiac "traditionally is among the high volume producers in the industry," Knudsen said, and pointed out that Pontiacs are now assembled in seven plants throughout the U. S. in addition to the main plant here.

MILESTONE CAR AND PREDECESSOR—A 1926 Pontiac provides an interesting study in upright styling versus streamlining as it stands beside the six-millionth model to be produced by the GM division. Built in 1925, the car was the first to ever come from the Pontiac plant. Left to right as they inspect contrasting features: B. E. Starr, general manufacturing manager; F. V. Judge Adjourns Dope Hearings

No Decision to Dismiss Case Reached; Taylor Admits Evidence Scanty

The examination of evidence against 15 suspects in an alleged dope conspiracy in the city's southwest area yesterday was adjourned with no decision on a motion to dismiss the case.

Defense Attorney Milton R. Henry asked that the charges be dropped for lack of evidence.

Consideration of the motion was adjourned until Aug. 22 at the request of Chief Assistant Oakland Prosecutor George F. Taylor. At yesterday morning's session, Taylor completed presentation of evidence of the conspiracy.

EVIDENCE SCANTY

Taylor admitted the evidence was scanty. He blamed the failure of two defendants to testify and the inadequate testimony of a prosecution witness.

The case was built on the expectation that this testimony would incriminate the other suspects, he explained.

It is expected that McCallum will grant the dismissal next Wednesday. However the two defendants, Eddie May Yates, 28, and Paul Baity, 27, may be be bound over to Circuit Court on charges of sale and possession of heroin, Taylor said.

The conspiracy case may hold against these two and another suspect, even if it is dropped against the others, Taylor added. The third suspect is William S. Tymes, 22.

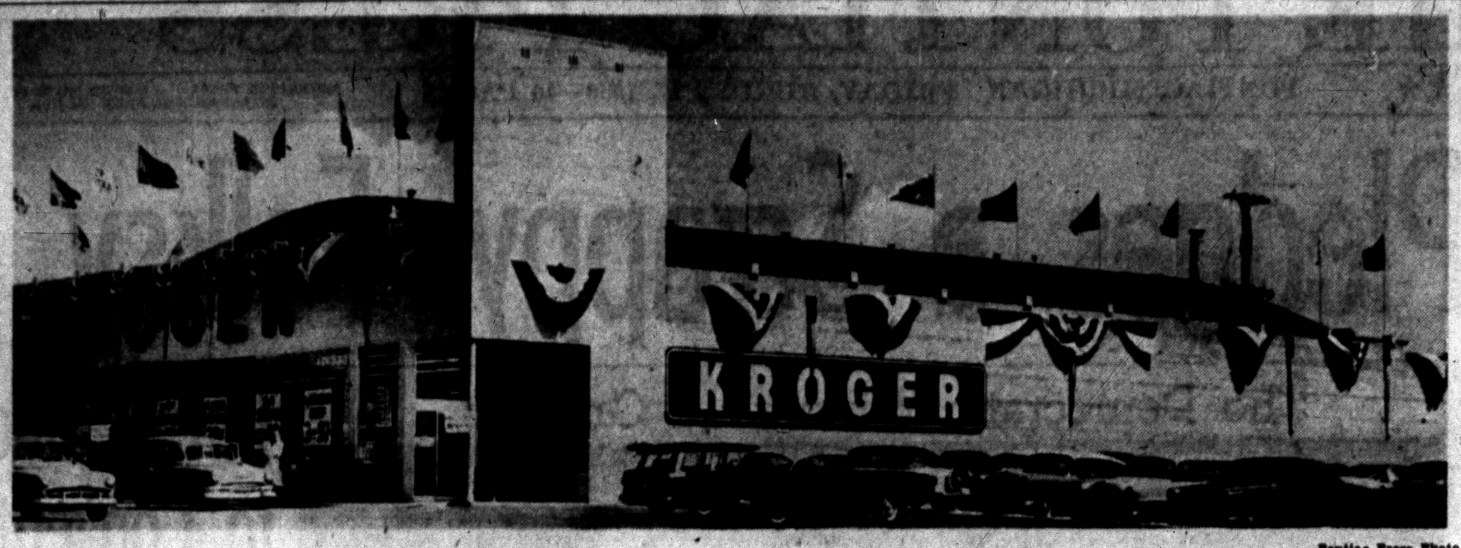

PAIR STILL HELD

Some evidence against Tymes was brought out in testimony, Taylor said.

The prosecution witness, John E. (Sunny) Samples Jr., 314 Wessen St. gave testimony that he tried to buy dope at the upstairs flat at 436½ S. Saginaw St. where Baity and Miss Yates lived. But he involved none of the other suspects, except Tymes, in a possible conspiracy, Taylor explained.

All of the suspects, except Baity and Miss Yates, are free under bonds. The pair is being held at Oakland County Jail after their failure to provide bonds following their arrests last week on different charges.

SUPERMARKET OPENS—Pennants and bunting give a festive look to the exterior of Pontiac's newest Kroger store. Located at 750 Perry St., the structure covers 15,000 square feet of ground area and has parking facilities for 115 autos. The interior has seven check-out stations and is completely self-service.

New Kroger Supermarket Open to Pontiac Shoppers

The Kroger network of supermarkets this week opened a second Pontiac store at 750 Perry St.

The modern, one-story structure contains 15,000-square-feet and has an adjoining parking lot that will accommodate 115 cars.

The interior of the building is equipped with seven check-out stations and six pickup points. Wide aisles and convenient placing of food items make possible the easy flow of self-served shoppers from one point to another, according to Manager Gerald McLarty.

The store employs a full-time staff of 35 and 10 part-time workers. Jack Fluker is assistant manager.

Shopping hours are from 9 to 9 Monday through Saturday.

A special opening celebration sale is in progress at the new store and at the other Kroger market, 178 N. Saginaw St.

Death at Birmingham Pool Linked to Mask Worn on Face

A nine - year - old Detroit boy drowned in the Birmingham Country Club swimming pool yesterday afternoon.

Bert F. Carothers III, of 16131 Ashton, was dead on arrival at Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak. His body was recovered by lifeguard George Stinnett.

All efforts to revive the boy through artificial respiration and the use of an inhalator failed.

A water mask, usually worn over the eyes, was believed to have caused the drowning, according to pool officials.

Stinnett told Oakland County deputies the mask was full of water and covering the boy's mouth and nose when he found him submerged in five feet of water. He said the mask apparently slipped while Carothers was playing.

city policemen who were posted outside his room.

Associates say he is sold on a folksy type of campaign—meeting people personally and making informal talks.

Tubby said an extremely active campaign with a "whole lot of traveling" is in the cards.

This will contrast sharply with the Republican campaign. GOP leaders have indicated President Eisenhower's campaign will consist principally of television talks, plus four or five speeches at key cities.

Tubby said the Stevenson campaign still is in the blueprint stage. He said it will start the first week in September with the making of TV campaign films. Stevenson plans to spend the next two weeks relaxing at his home in Libertyville, Ill.

The campaign, Tubby said, will take him into all sections of the country by plane or train. He said television appearances also are planned, but the number will depend on the amount of money the Democrats can raise.

Harriman Totally Out

CHICAGO (AP) — Averell Harriman, defeated for the Democratic presidential nomination, said today he is not interested in the vice presidency.

filtering back to this arena for an afternoon session.

This session was to be given over to picking the man to run with Stevenson against the anticipated GOP ticket of Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon.

The program calls for a final session of the convention tonight with windup addresses from former President Harry S. Truman and acceptance speeches by the vice presidential and presidential nominees.

Gore was a late starter in the scramble for the No. 2 place on the ticket. His bid came into the open when he showed up at the Pennsylvania delegation's caucus to seek support.

Newsmen asked if he were a candidate?

"I just became a candidate now," he replied. "This is the first stop."

The Tennessee delegation called a caucus to throw its weight behind Gore.

The plan was to withdraw Gov. Frank G. Clement from consideration.

Clement, endorsed by his delegation yesterday for the No. 2 spot, is at odds politically with Kefauver.

Thugs Rob, Beat Up Auto Dealer Wilson

Edward E. Wilson, Birmingham auto dealer, received hospital treatment yesterday morning after he reportedly was beaten and robbed by five thugs.

Wilson, 35, of 5380 Beach Rd., was treated for minor scalp cuts at Pontiac General Hospital.

He was taken there by Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Fred Pender shortly before 6 a.m. Wilson told hospital authorities the beating and robbery took place about 5:45 a.m. in his car on Oakland avenue near Baldwin avenue within the city limits.

Pender said Wilson did not wish to sign a complaint. The victim did not say how much money was taken or reveal any details of the crime, Pender said.

people who can not get in but glory in being close to the scene of action.

This is the over-all picture with some 17,000 people attending.

Noteworthy of course is the general attire. People come planning to stay six or seven hours. In many cases they are dressed to promote their favorite candidate or to symbolize their home state.

The big difference between Rose Bowl games, World Series, hockey games and championship fights, is the lack of interest in the proceedings. When someone is speaking from the podium very few people are attentive, unlike a similar sports event.

The people gather in small groups and plan off-stage maneuvers like two coaches discussing who goes in next. But out of this things get done. A good example was the stalling action Wednesday night on civil rights. Finally after five hours and a lot of dealing Sam Rayburn called for a vote and the civil rights plank passed in a matter of minutes.

Most outside action centers around the Blackstone and Hilton Hotels. They too have taken on a carnival atmosphere. The lobbies are jammed and caucuses took place 24 hours a day.

After Stevenson's one-horse race which has never seemed in doubt from here, all bars were down and the mob scene from the Amphitheater was one of general triumph.

The whooping it up lasted long into morning and the frenzy that had been generated all week finally exploded.

By JOE HAAS

CHICAGO—It's all over but the shouting—and most of that's over.

The Democrats nominated a man for the presidency in a convention that had all other conventions of history baffled, if you judge such things by their circus atmosphere.

It was the big top of big tops, and Barnum rolled over in his grave.

JOE

The ovations yesterday after each candidate had been placed before the delegates and spectators vied with each other for noise and duration.

Stevenson's lasted the longest, running considerably over the 20-minute limit placed upon them. Perhaps that gave him an advantage.

WORN DOWN

The others broke up close to the designated time limit. The ovationers who had taken part in all of them were getting tired, footsore and weary.

One woman confided that she had been carried around on men's shoulders in two of them, and was looking for another. The jam created an excellent setting for pickpockets, but I heard of none. Perhaps they'd heard the Democrats claim that it is the Republicans who have all the money.

Harry Truman was allowed three minutes to give his endorsement of Harriman, but used only half that time. I heard several assertions that if he had used the whole time Harriman would have run a bad fifth.

I admired the generosity and sympathetic feeling of the Michigan delegation who when they saw Harriman was being snowed under gave him five of the 44 votes they had intended for Stevenson.

It was a thrilling moment at 9:55 P.M. when the name of Pennsylvania was reached on the roll call and they gave Stevenson enough votes for the required majority. Then there was a real ovation, and Chairman Sam Rayburn had difficulty in convincing the crowd the rest of the states ought to be polled.

Perhaps the views of the sane public, whom we hope are in the great majority in our nation, are in line with those of a top Chicago police officer who has been through all of the hectic phases of the convention.

He said to me: "If this is what it takes for the wealthiest and most civilized nation in the world to nominate a man for President, then it is no wonder that the rest of the world thinks we're an easy touch and nuts."

I wonder will the Republicans show us anything new at San Francisco next week?

4 of 7 County Wills Filed in Arizona Air Disaster

Wills of four of the seven Oakland County residents killed July 1 in the tragic Grand Canyon air collision which took 128 lives have been filed in Probate Court.

Worst in the history of commercial aviation, the crash occurred when a United Airlines DC7 carrying 58 persons collided in flight with a Trans-World Airlines Constellation carrying 70.

The accident happened high above isolated Grand Canyon, Ariz., as both planes were threading their way through piled masses of clouds at about 21,000 feet.

The seven Oakland County residents were among 13 Michigan dead. Four whose wills have been filed are:

Walter M. Fuchs, Jr., and his wife, Stella, of Huntington Woods. President of Multicolor, Inc., of Detroit, he was returning from a convention of blueprinters in California.

FORD EMPLOYE

Ted Kubiniac of Birmingham, a member of the legal staff of Ford Motor Co.

Carl J. Snyder of Bloomfield Hills, vice president and operating manager of Chrysler Corp. Snyder had traveled to Los Angeles on business as a member of Chrysler's board of directors.

His wife, who had intended to accompany him on the plane, was unable to get reservations.

The four wills, which show preliminary listed estates worth $160,500, are expected to rise in value when standard and flight insurance policies are paid.

Three other county residents killed in the crash included:

L. Davis Cook Jr., of Oak Park, a salesman for the Bart Manufacturing Co. of Detroit and father of three children.

Noel Gottesman of Huntington Woods, an engineer for Bendix Aviation Corp

Driver Sleeps at Wheel, Rams Car Into Hydrant

James L. Gillespie, 42, of 101 S. East Blvd., suffered cuts of the left knee and chest when his car went off the road and struck a fire hydrant in Waterford Township early this morning.

He was treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital following the crash at West Huron and Tilden streets. Gillespie told officers the accident happened because he fell asleep at the wheel.

$19,200 in Jewels Taken

A Southfield Township home was broken into and looted of jewelry valued at $19,200 last night, it was reported today by State Police.

The jewelry was taken from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sucher at 27225 W. 10 Mile Rd. Sucher, co-owner of the Speedway Petroleum Co., told investigators the jewels were insured.

Sucher said he and his wife discovered the burglary early this morning when they returned home after spending an evening at the Knollwood Country Club. The fur jackets, valued at $8,000, and a box of costume jewelry were left behind, they said.

According to investigators, entry to the home was gained by forcing open a rear window. They found nothing else missing and no damage to the house.

FBI Jails 2 in Riesel Case

But Evidence of G-Men Reveals Acid-Thrower Was Murdered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI today arrested two ex-convicts in connection with the acid-blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel. The FBI said the actual acid-thrower is dead.

The announcement said FBI agents had developed evidence that the acid was thrown into the face of Riesel in New York City April 5 by Abraham Telvi whose body, with a bullet hole in the back of the head, was found on a lower East Side street in New York in the early morning of July 28.

Telvi, 22, and a resident of Brooklyn, had a long police record.

The acid attack on Riesel occurred at a time when he was actively cooperating with New York U. S. Dist. Atty. Paul Williams in a labor racketeering investigation.

The Day in Birmingham

Plan Recreation Survey; Start Ski and Sled Runs

BIRMINGHAM — A survey of recreational wants of Birmingham will be instituted by the recreation department.

Meanwhile, the department went ahead with plans to open ski and sled runs at Cranbrook and 14 Mile, to improve baseball fields for next year, and purchase new equipment last night.

The survey will give residents opportunity to list what they want in the way of activities, as a guide to the department's plan for developing the city's parks and activity programs. One of each seven homes will be polled.

Director Robert Girardin's suggestion for runs for skiing and sliding met with enthusiastic approval. His requested $200 was raised to $250 for the development when board member Coit Allee said, "That is a fine idea to round out our winter program."

Girardin's report on the excess of $6,300 in last year's budget was heard by board members and City Commissioner Florence Willett who said the commission was not criticizng but only questioning the surplus.

Reasons he cited were the $1,200 alloted for baseball diamond silt, unused because of rains when the lots were being prepared this spring. The fund is to be used for silt in late summer or early fall.

Some overage was because of payroll funds that must be on hand, as well as funds for equipment for the start of summer recreation activities, Girardin said.

Transition into having a director this year caused some overage, also. Items normally purchased in the spring were not secured pending arrival of Girardin, and he did all summer planning in the five weeks he worked before the program opened.

The short period that a director served in January also complicated purchase decisions, the board was told.

In response to numerous queries regarding the taste of the water in various sections of the city, L. R. Gare, acting city manager, offers the following solution:

"In periods of low demand," he advises, "because of lack of automatic controls at the point where Detroit water enters our system, we receive our entire supply from this source."

Gare added, "Automatic controls were ordered several months ago. Following delivery and installation, anticipated for this fall, the chlorine taste of the water from the Southeastern Water Authority should be reduced materially."

The city's water revenues, usually high during mid-summer heat waves, are lower than usual," Fire Chief Park Smith said here yesterday.

He definitely attributes the low water usage to the prolific rainfall. "Usage per day is ranging below two million gallons," he says, "and the six million gallon record of mid-June has not been even approached in tallies since then.

Chief of Police Ralph W. Moxley, reporting on accident totals for the month of July, summarized the toll as "almost identical to the record set for June, with the exception of a $5,000 reduction in estimated property damage." He cautions that "following too closely" was the cause indicated in 20 of the 52 accidents reported.

18 Die as Typhoon Crashes Into Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Typhone Babs killed at least 18 persons, police said, and swamped 223 small boats off Kyushu today, then threatened to strike again in northern Japan.

Storm warnings were sounded in northern Honshu and Hikkaido. The Central Meteorological Observatory warned that "Babs" appeared to be retracing the path of the great 1954 storm which caused the Toya Maru disaster.

Sixteen hundred persons drowned that September when a typhoon sank the Toya Maru and four other ferryboats between Honshu and Hikkaido.

Fearing the worst, big and little ships in the north hurried to their harbors.

The Cool-Necked Clan

Mercury Climbs to 90, Tieless Legions Alerted

Boys and girls, Paul Sparrow's mighty legions were technically in business Thursday.

At 12:30, the mercury touched 90, right on the nose. After a momentary pause of a few minutes it slid back to 89 and even dropped to a cool and refreshing 88, although at three o'clock it edged back to 89.

However, those few precious minutes were an official release for all of the Sparrow disciples. The mercury doesn't have to stay at or above ninety—it merely has to touch that aggrevating level.

Today's is dubious and tomorrow is slated for colder weather according to the weather man.

Men, be prepared, anyway.

The mercury may climb to 90 the first of the week, and if it does, the ole Prez wants his valiant warriors dressed in the height of summery fashion. He himself will be the first to leap into action, toss off the tie, open his collar and smile.

British Eying Cyprus Truce

Leaflets Circulated by Rebels Say Violence Halted; Talks Wanted

By ROBERT TUCKERMAN

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—The British today began a period of hopeful waiting to see whether EOKA extremists fulfill their suddenly announced halt in violence on the island of Cyprus.

Leaflets circulated by Greek Cypriot rebels last night proclaimed a "suspension of operations" of the underground's campaign of violence.

Many observers here felt a cease-fire — if genuine — could provide a face-saving opportunity for new negotiations towards a Cyprus settlement. They said such a situation could allow the British to return Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Greek Cypriots, from exile on the Seychelle Islands.

Gov. Sir John Harding and Prime Minister Eden's government have repeatedly stated if Makarios were to denounce violence on Cyprus publicly a "new situation" would be created.

The "cease-fire" leaflet was signed by "the leader Dighenis," generally accepted to be 58-year-old George Grivas, former Greek army colonel. The leaflet said that, in order to give Makarios a chance to settle the Cyprus issue, "I order from today suspension of operations of branches (Forces) under me."

Since EOKA extremists launched their campaign in April 1955, more than 150 persons have been killed. Of these, 51 were British servicemen and civilians. Most of the others were Greek Cypriots.

Church to Observe Christmas in August

DENVER (AP) — Sunday will be Christmas for members of the University View Christian Church.

The Rev. Lloyd J. Allen plans a yuletide service then so his congregation can "experience the joy of Christmas with no thought of the material side."

The church will be decorated in traditional Christmas manner, the choir will sing carols and the sermon will deal with peace and good will.

The Rev. Mr. Allen said the December Christmas season had become so "commercialized it is often looked forward to with dread."

Wayne GOP Elects 1st Woman Chairman

DETROIT (INS) — The Wayne County Republican Committee boasted its first woman chairman today, Leis V. Nair.

She was elected last night by more than 50 candidates and district chairmen who make up the committee.

Canada to Honor Inventor Bell With Museum

BADDECK, N.S. (AP)—A museum dedicated to the memory of inventor Alexander Graham Bell will be opened here tomorrow.

A structure of dramatic modern design on the shore of the Bras d'Or Lakes, it houses working models and notes of Bell's inventions, covering many fields besides the telephone for which he became world famous.

The $375,000 museum, built by the Canadian government, has a triangular architectural motif, based on the tetrahedral kite design Bell used in many of his aviation experiments. Some of the kites are exhibited in the museum.

The museum's high sloping roof dominates the estate where Bell, although a U.S. citizen, spent more than 35 summers and died in 1922.

At Baddeck, Bell pursued scientific research in fields ranging from aircraft to iron lungs. The museum's telephone exhibit includes the original instrument that carried Bell's words in the first telephone call ever made.

Under his direction, four airplanes were built. One of them, the Silver Dart, made the first flight in Canada of a heavier-than-air machine, here in 1909.

Flood Control Project

GRANT (AP)—A joint Kent-Newaygo County flood control project, estimated at about $50,000, is dredging eight miles of the Rouge River which has overrun its banks twice in two years. The program also includes construction of three new bridges. Rogue River floods have caused damage to extensive muckland onion plantings in the area.

There are 105 counties in the state of Kansas.

Widow in Mate's Job

SPRING LAKE (AP)—Mrs. Eva Workman has been appointeed to fill the unexpired term of her husband, the late Justice Frederick J. Workman, who died after a heart attack last week. Workman's justice of the peace term expires next June.

Phone Strikers Quelled in Ohio

Police End Outbursts of Violence, Vandalism — Union Denies Blame

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Four installations of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. were stoned late last night in another outburst of violence and vandalism in the tense five-week-old strike.

All available police in Portsmouth and nearby New Boston were called out to disperse a group of 200 to 300. Portsmouth Police Chief Hugh Rudity, who gave the estimate of the number involved, said mostly teen-agers were in the group that stoned the manual exchanges at New Boston and Scioto-ville and the company offices and an automatic exchange at Portsmouth. Damage in broken windows was estimated at $200.

The company immediately closed the New Boston and Sciotoville exchanges.

A spokesman for the striking Communication Workers of America denied that union members were responsible.

Rudity said gunshots were fired through the windows and a tire of a maintenance truck belonging to the General Telephone Co. of Ohio, parent company in the system to which Consolidated belongs.

No one was in the truck.

Police escorted two girls from the New Boston and two from the Sciotoville exchange. Supervisory personnel have been manning manual exchanges of the company in parts of 24 southern and eastern Ohio counties while some 600 employes are on strike.

Contract talks have been deadlocked over a proposed no-strike clause, union shop and reclassification of certain jobs to managerial positions.

Floods Threatening City in Manchuria

HONG KONG (AP)—Scientists, artists and university professors and students joined an army of laborers today in a desperate effort to hold back flood waters menacing Manchuria's big industrial city of Harbin.

The mud-yellow waters of the Sungari River, swollen by typhoon rains, rose Thursday to a record level. Peiping Radio said only superhuman effort prevents the collapse of big sections of the dykes protecting the city of 700,000.

Last night Peiping Radio reported a drop of just over 3 inches in the flood waters. River experts believe the danger is over unless more rains hit the area.

The latest floods came in the wake of typhoon Wanda, which the Communists said took more than 2,000 lives and left at least a million homeless.

Security Council, Ike Meet Again; 'No Emergency'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower meets with the National Security Council today for the second time in two days, but officials said there is no emergency involved.

The council met for 2¾ hours yesterday without finishing its discussions and decided to assemble again today, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said, adding:

"There is nothing unusual or urgent about it, and there is no emergency"

Hagerty noted that there will be no meeting of the council next week because President Eisenhower will be in San Francisco for the Republican National Convention which opens Monday.

The council, top advisory group to the President on national security matters, normally does not disclose the subjects or results of its meetings. Asked whether the Suez Canal crisis was among items discussed, Hagerty said it was not on the agenda, but may have been mentioned "just in passing."

New Chapter Added to Colorful History

GOP Elephant Ready to Take Over the Cow Palace

By JOHN H. AVERILL

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17 (AP) —A mammoth pavilion, normally the domain of the Western steer and bronco, plays host next week to something new — the Republican elephant.

In the Cow Palace, the cavernous arena on San Francisco's windswept southern flank, the GOP National Convention opens Monday.

Barring unforeseen developments President Eisenhower will accept renomination from the same huge floor that has seen some of the world's finest livestock on parade.

It will be a new chapter in the brief but colorful history of the sprawling, oval-topped building that was denounced just two decades ago as a boondoggle and a white elephant.

The Cow Palace, reputed to be the largest structure of its type in the nation, was erected in the 1930s by the depression era's WPA.

Many San Franciscans criticized the big expenditure. One newspaper editorialized on ground-breaking day Nov. 3, 1935:

"It seems strange that now, in the depths of the nation's deepest depression, with people walking the streets in search of employment and others selling apples to keep body and soul together, the city should be building — of all things — a palace for cows."

That's how the name originated. There were numerous but half-hearted attempts to find something more poetic. But the name stuck and now is official.

Today, Bay area residents are more than a little fond of the 5.3-acre landmark — billed as one of the most earthquake-resistant structures in California. Its giant, cantilevered roof of concrete and steel is mounted on rollers — a feature designed to keep it intact in the heaviest of quakes.

World War II came before the pavilion was completed. But there was time for one livestock show before the military took over the building as a supply depot and motor pool.

At war's end, the government transferred title back to the No. 1-A District Agricultural Assn., the California state agency which sponsors the famed Grand National Livestock Exposition, Horse Show and Rodeo — the livestock extravaganza staged in the Cow Palace each autumn.

State law originally limited use of the pavilion to livestock and agricultural shows. But under pressure, the Legislature relaxed the rules.

Since then the Cow Palace — now valued at nine million dollars — has been the scene of everything from world championship boxing matches and college basketball games to ice follies and a Liberace piano concert.

The building even has had a political baptism. Both Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson addressed packed audiences there during the 1952 campaign. But the Republican convention will be something new.

It is estimated that almost one million dollars has been plunged into preparing the Cow Palace for what GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall predicts will be "the finest convention of any political party in the nation's history."

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. says setting up the vast complex of television, radio, telephone and teletype circuits for the convention was "the most monumental job" it ever has undertaken to prepare for a news event.

There will be 32 TV microwave lines leading out of the Cow Palace to pipe proceedings to viewers all over the nation.

Parenthetically, Cow Palace manager Nye Wilson proudly points out that unlike most conventions the view will not be obstructed by pillars, beams or overhanging balconies. That's because of the arched, cantilevered roof.

The roof, incidentally, is 104 feet above the arena (outfielder Dominic DiMaggio once required six throws before he could hit the ceiling with a ball). But GOP officials say new acoustical installations will bring you every word of the proceedings.

To accommodate the hordes of spectators and press, radio and TV representatives, seating has been arranged for 16,834 persons — including the 1,323 delegates and an equal number of alternates.

To provide for convention news coverage, two huge livestock barns flanking either side of the pavilion have been compartmented for use by wire services, newspapers, radio and television.

Special arrangements also are being made for President Eisenhower. A two-room suite, paneled in polished pine, is reserved for him a few feet off the arena.

Hungary Unlocks AP Correspondent

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Endre Marton, Associated Press correspondent in Budapest, has been released from a Hungarian prison and reunited with his family.

A Hungarian Interior Ministry spokesman in Budapest said Marton had been given full clemency.

Marton, 44-year-old Hungarian national, was arrested in February 1955 in Budapest on charges of spying for U.S. intelligence agents. He had worked as a part-time AP correspondent in Budapest from 1947 until the time of his arrest.

His wife Ilona, who had worked for the United Press for about the same period, was arrested and charged with him. The Budapest radio said last Jan. 14 Marton had been sentenced to six years and his wife to three years. Mrs. Marton was released in April.

Explain GI's Heat Death

MUSKEGON (AP)—Gen. N. A. Costello has reported finding "no irregularities" contributing to the heat stroke death last Wednesday of Pvt. James L. Krauss at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. Krauss, 22, of Muskegon, collapsed and died about an hour after taking part in calisthenics under a blazing sun.

Rivers and Harbors Bill Vetoed by Eisenhower

That loud noise on the Potomac is the echo of Congressmen's vehement protests over President Eisenhower's veto of the Rivers and Harbors bill.

In rejecting this pork barrel measure, the President has shown both good judgment and election year political courage. The term "pork barrel" is a familiar one in American politics. Traditionally the Rivers and Harbors bill is loaded down with so called "pork" items which provide the lawmakers with opportunities for vote trading and logrolling.

Toward the end of all sessions, especially those in election years, Senators and Representatives mix good and bad items into the Rivers and Harbors bill and dump it on the President's desk. Then they go home to tell their constituents how much money they've got from Washington for their districts.

In vetoing the bill, the President objected to the fact that 32 of the projects involving $530,000,000 had not been reviewed as required by law. He also criticized lack of sufficient local participation in the various projects.

This doesn't mean that there aren't many worthwhile proposals in the bill. Neither does it mean that a veto will delay any essential work. Congress not only hadn't appropriated money for any of the items, but at the present rate of spending, it will take 22 years to build the flood control works already authorized but awaiting appropriations.

Millions of Investors Make Capitalism Work

Some very interesting facts about the United States as a Nation of investors are revealed in a 1956 Census of Shareholders compiled by the New York Stock Exchange.

The Census should help people in other countries to understand why ours is the world's most successful capitalistic economy. It is that because, among other reasons, one out of every 12 adults is the owner of shares in a public corporation.

In addition, says Keith Funston, Exchange president, "about 1,400,000 people own shares only in private corporations. Moreover, some 100,000,000 are indirect owners of business through their investments in insurance companies, pension funds and other financial institutions."

The typical American investor of 1956 is 48 years old, or three years younger than in 1952. His income is $6,200, compared to $7,100 four years ago. About 50 per cent of the four year increase in share ownership occurred in 1955.

It strikes us as important that two-thirds of all shareholders have incomes under $7,500 a year. Also, it is noteworthy that women shareholders outnumber men, with housewives and non-employed women constituting the largest single group of owners.

In other words, the secret of our capitalism's success isn't hard to find. It lies in the fact that such a large number of our people are true capitalists in their own right.

168,000,000 of Us Now

A Census Bureau announcement of interest to all Americans reveals that the population of the United States passed the 168,000,000 mark in July.

This figure is significant in view of the fact that our numbers have increased far beyond the expectation of census experts. Back in the 1930's they were predicting that our population growth would level off somewhere between 155,000,000 and 160,000,000.

In 1947 the bureau looked back and noted that the annual rate of increase was 3.1 per cent a century ago and that it had dropped to 0.7 per cent during the depression. After World War II it increased to 1.7 per cent but was expected to drop in a year or two.

Instead, the experts now believe that there will be 177,000,000 of us by 1960, about 190,000,000 by 1965 and 213,000,000 by 1975. These predictions are based on the fact that our population currently is increasing at the rate of 7,200 a day.

Undoubtedly, rapid population increase gives rise to many problems, such as schools and housing. At the same time, however, it exerts a favorable influence on the national economy by increasing the demand for goods and services. As long as the present trends continue, no one needs lose any sleep over our population boom.

The Man About Town

City's Centennial

Definite Plans Now Under Consideration for Event

Middle age: When the morning after lasts all day.

Originating in this column two years ago, MAT is pleased to see the movement to celebrate is under definite committee action in the Chamber of Commerce and otherwise. While the event is yet nearly five years away, those assuming charge of the contemplated event evidently realize that considerable advance preparation is necessary.

Pontiac's Centennial

It was on March 15, 1861, that Pontiac shook off the village status that it had assumed in 1837, the same year that Michigan was admitted to the union, and became an incorporated city. It then had around 4,000 population, and the business of its merchants mostly came from the surrounding farming area. We've gone a long ways since then, and surely should do something big in 1961.

Now on a western vacation trip, a card from mailed in Utopia, Wash., tells me that town's former name was "Hell-to-Pay."

Archie Sutton,

Word comes to me to inform all Pontiac residents of Indian descent that Michigan's largest remaining tribe, the Chippewas, will present a pageant at Fenton, Aug. 25-26. It will be attended by and his followers, migrating from their reservation near Mt. Pleasant.

A Pontiac coin collector tells me that the first coin minted in the United States was the large copper cent of 1787. It bore a motto suggested by which is just as appropriate today:

"Mind your own business."

What large city lies in two continents? That's a good question to ask that friend geographically wise guy. It is Istanbul, Turkey.

A letter over the signature of

"Oakland County Bird Lover,"

asks me if I've noticed that the crow is the wisest and wiliest of all birds. I surely have done that very thing and check on them every day. They patrol the Dixie Highway and feast on the birds and animals that have been killed. And did you ever see a crow take any chances on being struck by a car?

"In no other line of business is there more faking than in television," writes who points out that the clever use of multiple cameras can make a 10,000 crowd of people with less than a dozen actors.

"One Who's in the Game,"

"Never Laid a Glove on 'Im"

David Lawrence Says:

Is Stevenson Passing the Buck?

CHICAGO — Adlai Stevenson, nominee of the Democratic Party for the presidency, started his campaign with a stunt—a request that the convention itself exercise its own judgment in selecting the vice-presidential nominee.

Promising to turn away from what Stevenson called the "historical" method, whereby a presidential nominee indicates his preference for the number two man to be selected, the newly chosen presidential nominee asked the convention to do the job.

Practical politicians wondered how this could be done and whether anybody with the slightest knowledge of convention practices would ever believe a vice-presidential nominee had been chosen without a hint either from the presidential nominee or his managers.

TROUBLE TOO

But it is also true that a vice-presidential nominee out of harmony with the top of the ticket could cause embarrassments in the campaign. How can the determination be made that a particular candidate for the vice presidential nomination would be acceptable to the presidential nominee?

Only by asking him privately either to okay a tentative list or by asking for a list from his managers, who are supposed to be able to evaluate the handicaps or advantages of prospective nominees for the vice presidency.

In the end, the presidential nominee makes the decision and no amount of camouflage has ever obscured that fact effectively. Thus, the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt insisted that he didn't dump Vice President Wallace in 1944, but he did. The memoirs of the politicians show it. Henry Wallace himself has written about that episode, and it is clear that the influence of the top of the ticket remains all-powerful no matter what stunts are used to cover it up.

Two men were logical for the vice-presidential nomination ever since the convention assembled here on Monday. One was Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee and the other was Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota. Tennessee is usually a Democratic state, but Minnesota is considered doubtful. Sen. Humphrey is an effective vote-getter in his home state and a vigorous campaigner.

But while Stevenson had indicated that he liked them both, he publicly refused to make a choice. He preferred to let the convention do it—altogether a clever approach even if many folks will see through it and consider it an artifice. Certainly both Kefauver and Humphrey showed conspicuously beforehand that they were in favor of the platform adopted. In fact, most of the delegates from the northern states thought it an excellent piece of work—an adjustment of varying viewpoints.

But while the Democratic national convention wrote a plank on "civil rights" that didn't really satisfy either the North or the South, the politicians tried to convince themselves that it meant "unity" and they let it go at that. Hardly, however, had the platform been published when Adlai Stevenson issued a statement saying he would have preferred in the platform a "specific endorsement" of the Supreme Court's decision on segregation. And then the spirit of "compromise" seemed to evaporate. But there wasn't much the southerners could do about it except to pour forth some indignant comments in their speeches, as, for instance, the caustic address by Gov. Griffin of Georgia.

The presidential and vice-presidential candidates of the convention here will have to struggle with these inconsistencies in their campaign speeches. The Democrats will take the offensive. President Eisenhower is not the kind of man who makes a vigorous, hard-hitting campaign, so the burden of the Republican battle will fall on Vice President Nixon, whereas the Democrats will have two fighting candidates. It looks like a slugging campaign.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Small Dose of Iodin Ration Can Prevent Simple Goiter

The iodin ration is not medicine. The soil and drinking water in some localities is deficient in iodin, and so every man, woman, child, horse, cow, sheep, pig, chicken, dog, cat, pigeon, canary suffers from iodin deficiency unless he or she gets a suitable iodin ration by eating

(1) Animal or vegetable food grown in a region where soil and water are not depleted of natural iodin content,

(2) Sea fish and shellfish at least once a week,

(3) Iodized salt instead of ordinary salt at table and in cooking, or

(4) by supplementing the ordinary diet with tablets containing the nutritional requirement of iodin.

In a way it is regrettable that hitherto the doctors and health authorities have generally ignored iodin deficiency except one manifestation they couldn't ignore, goiter in school children.

Only a few years ago, most of the children in many schools in these places where soil and water are poor in iodine had goiter. Medical, school and health authorities in some communities have made fitful attempts to correct the deficiency by feeding the school children one or another fancy and expensive iodin-compound or by recommending the use of iodized salt, but they are timid about it, fearful that other medical or health authorities will consider such attempts "dangerous."

Drs. David Marine and O. P. Kimball demonstrated forty years ago in the public schools of Akron, Ohio, that "simple goiter is the easiest of all known diseases to prevent" — by giving each school child a small fraction of a grain of iodin or iodide once a week. At that time more than half the school children in some districts of the "goiter belt" had goiter. Today, thanks to the Akron demonstration, goiter is comparatively rare.

The manifestations of iodin deficiency in mature adults are not so striking as simple goiter (large neck) in growing children, but the effects of correction of the deficiency are nonetheless gratifying.

Many boys and girls with iodin deficiency mope in their 'teens, even though they show no enlargement of the neck.

Mature adults with iodin deficiency generally have a low body temperature and feel chilly where other people are comfortable enough. They no longer enjoy doing things that call for physical activity. They have sallow skin, lusterless dry falling hair, their hair tends to become prematurely gray.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Aims at Typical American

Educators enjoy seeing students pick up ideas and use them back again on their professors. That's why I doubly relish the generous compliments passed along by the church group in California. They typify my "target," too, for they are young adults. By the 1950 Census, our average American was found to be just 30 years old.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-341: My case today deals with a church group of young people, instead of just one patient.

"Dr. Crane," they recently informed me, "we wish to offer you a sincere word of thanks for all the help and psychological guidance you have so generously given to us."

Well, I am naturally very happy to think I have been of some practical aid to these Christian young people.

They are applying the "Compliment Club" upon me, but that is a good trait to cultivate throughout life, and I am very appreciative, too.

MY DAILY TARGET

In this psychological column, I try to shoot at a target which might be called the "average American."

According to our last U.S. census, this is an adult, 30 years of age, married, and with two children about ready for kindergarten.

As we educators, editors, clergymen and other leaders grow older, we become farther and farther removed from the average American.

And we may scarcely be aware of that fact, partly because we don't wish to admit consciously that we are aging.

"We girls want you to address our club next month," said the program chairman for a women's club, whose members actually average 55 years of age.

Some of them were long past 70, but they still called each other "girls," and we physicians have learned that it is deft to apply that same term to any female, regardless of her calendar age.

But advertisers and editors and educators, if they are to accomplish the most good, must never forget the target—that 30-year-old married adult with two children!

TOO FRANK?

"Dr. Crane, aren't you a wee bit frank in some of your cases?" asked a publisher recently.

He was a friend of mine and sincere in his query. But he was 72 years old. His only son had died in World War I, and he had no grandchildren to keep him abreast of the current teenage generation.

In over 20 years of writing this column on a coast-to-coast basis, I can't recall even one criticism about frankness from anybody 30 years of age.

In fact, there have been only a few score of criticisms (34 in the first 10 years) from all age groups.

For I write about the current dilemmas of housewives whose youngsters ask "Mommy, where did I come from?"

Or of married folks on the verge of divorce where a triangle is threatening the home.

Or I deal with teenagers coerced by demands from selfish suitors who insist that girls "prove" their love by yielding to illicit sexual desires.

Or I counsel with young men disturbed about the uncertain future due to the military draft and its conflict with their desire to go to college.

The cases I use in this column are disguised, but are taken right from my office practice. They are not letters from readers, except in rare instances.

As both a physiologist and a psychiatrist (Ph.D. and M.D.), I don't give you the "brush-off" when you ask any question about psychological problems.

This is an educational department in the "curriculum" of your great newspaper, and its aim is to spread proved facts for happier living so you can nip divorce and delinquency in the bud and help your entire family enjoy the more abundant life.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Says Solution for Crime Is Handwriting Analysis

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Sex, child crime, juvenile delinquency . . . can anything be done? Yes, it is time for all thinking people to realize that there is a solution here and now, by the study of grapho analysis.

Handwriting reveals the innermost thoughts of the individual. "As a man thinketh, so is he." Teachers, mothers and everyone may know themselves as well as those around them. It is just as essential today as a trip to the doctor for a checkup.

Children's writing should be watched closely at least every six months for any new development or over-balance in sex or all the various traits which make up an individual. Heartbreak and shame may be avoided if people would form a study group and at least get a workable knowledge of handwriting.

Continued and unceasing effort must be made by everyone in their individual communities. If interested, classes may be held in my home or yours or at clubs, etc.

Quotes Description of Administration

"Everyone must know by now that something has gone wrong, very wrong, in the capital of the United States. And it is deeply important to try to understand what has gone wrong in Washington, and why.

"What has happened is very simple. For the first time in American history, the United States is now faced with the threatened failure of American leadership in a time of great danger. And as a direct consequence of this threatened failure of leadership, a miasma of neurotic fear and internal suspicion is seeping over the nation's capital, like some effluvium from the marsh Potomac.

"A heavy share of the responsibility for this threatened failure lies squarely on the jaunty shoulders of that cheerful, likable, occasionally courageous man, President Harry S. Truman. For the first requisite of leadership is to tell the people the truth. And under the Truman Administration the people have been fed a bewildering mixture, consisting of some truths, many half-truths and quite a few untruths."

The above is quoted from an article by Joseph and Stewart Alsop, in the Saturday Evening Post of July 29, 1950, when Truman was running things "right."

Only the Commies Profit in Row Over Suez Canal

INS Foreign Director

The Communists are the only ones who seem to have gained thus far in the big quarrel over the Suez Canal.

Certainly, Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser has not gained any big chunk of money so far by nationalizing the canal.

Hanging over him is the threat by the old Suez Canal Company in Paris to order foreign ship pilots out of the canal zone.

These pilots are the key men in running the canal along with other European personnel. They are faced with court martial action and possible imprisonment by the Egyptians if they do pull out.

But Nasser doubtless would hesitate to toss them into prison at this stage because of the pretext it would give the British and French to move in troops.

LIFE OR DEATH

For Britain and Western Europe the freedom of navigation of the canal is a matter of industrial life or death.

The steady shipment of troops to the eastern Mediterranean goes on, but British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden's wish for a "united front" toward Egypt has been broken by the Laborites.

Opposition Labor leader Hugh Gaitskell caused cheers when he seemingly put up a "touch front" toward Egypt in the House of Commons shortly after Nasser seized the canal.

But Gaitskell, under pressure of his party, now is back-tracking and saying that he deplores the threat of force in the dispute.

Therefore the Eden government is in a weaker position at the current international conference in London.

Greece has refused to attend the parley—another crack in the NATO wall of allies. That crack merely has widened in the Suez dispute. It already was open when Greece supported Cypriot nationalist demands for union of the British crown colony of Cyprus with Greece.

DIGS AT AMERICA

The United States is getting digs both from the British and "neutralists" such as India for its part in the preliminaries that led up to the Suez grab, particularly for withdrawing its offer of financial aid for the Aswan Dam.

Moscow thus far is the only one that has profited in the bitter quarrel, which is a perfect propaganda dish from the Soviet viewpoint.

This dish has plenty of ingredients—the old Asian suspicions of the "colonial" powers of Britain and France, the tilt between "little" Egypt and the big Western powers, and the alleged "trickery" of American "capitalists" who led Nasser to believe they would help him and then reneged.

Pontiac High Teacher in School

Studies Math in GM Plants

A Pontiac High School math teacher is going to summer school in a local factory.

His classroom is a metallurgical laboratory and his chief line of study is learning how an automotive plant puts textbook principles into production-line practice.

The teacher, Edwin A. Heikkinen, 32, of 4049 Meigs, Drayton Plains, is observing engineering operations at GMC Truck and Coach Division.

He is one of 21 high school teachers assigned summer jobs in 13 General Motors' plants to see the way their classroom subjects are applied to industry.

GM initiated the program to show the teachers the value of the basic sciences in industry so they will be better equipped to stimulate more interest in the study of chemistry, physics and mathematics when they resume teaching this fall.

NEXT TO CENTER

After their firsthand look at divisional-level operations, the science and math teachers will attend an institute at GM's new Technical Center Aug. 19-25.

There they will review the need for basic science and mathematics for young people seeking careers in the automotive industry, observe the use of technical knowledge in engineering and research, and visit various GM experimental and educational facilities.

As one of the "pilot" group teachers selected by GMC and Pontiac school officials to take part in the program, Heikkinen was assigned to GMC's Metallurgical Laboratory after school closed in mid-June.

In the first five weeks he tested the hardness of metals used in GMC truck and coach component parts, X-rayed the metal samples for hidden flaws, and analyzed the constituents of steel alloys.

There is scarcely a single machine in the metal-testing lab that has escaped Heikkinen's attention.

FAMILIAR WITH MACHINES

He now is familiar with testing metal hardness and has tamed huge vises that can pull metal ingots apart with 60 tons of pressure. Microscopes that magnify metal particles 2,000 times their original size are no longer strangers to Heikkinen.

"When I first saw all those machines, I thought I would definitely be out of my element," Heikkinen said. "But surprisingly enough I found that mathematical formulas are a 'must' in interpreting the results of the various tests. That was right down my alley."

Although Heikkinen has spent most of his time in the metal-testing laboratory, he also has had a taste of analyzing fuels and lubricants. Before the program ends, he will be given assignments in the plastics and rubber laboratory and in the welding operations.

One thing that has impressed Heikkinen in his "summer school" work is the spirit of teamwork and cooperation that prevails in each laboratory.

"Everyone does his share to keep the operation moving along smoothly and efficiently," reports the math teacher. "It's almost like the functioning of a championship athletic team."

In analyzing "teamwork," Heikkinen is an expert.

For the past three years he has coached Pontiac High School's baseball team that won the Saginaw Valley title in 1954 and was the team to beat in the past two seasons. He also coaches junior varsity football.

UM GRADUATE

His interest in mathematics, science and sports blossomed during his undergraduate days at the University of Michigan. He won two baseball letters before receiving his bachelor of arts degree in 1949. Two years ago he earned his master of education degree.

SUMMER PROJECT—Edwin A. Heikkinen, mathematics teacher at Pontiac High School, prepares to examine a piece of metal through a microscope that can magnify metal up to 2,000 times its normal size. Heikkinen is one of 21 teachers currently taking part in an industrial education program conducted by General Motors during the summer.

Heikkinen admits he wasn't fully aware of the importance of mathematics to the auto industry before coming to GMC.

"This program has really opened my eyes to the many opportunities offered young people in industry, especially those equipped with special techniques and skills," he explained.

"And I'm sure the experience I have gained this summer ultimately will be of benefit to my students. For it can't help but make me a better teacher."

Highlights of Platform Adopted by Dem Convention:

CHICAGO (AP) — Here are highlights of the Democratic party's platform as adopted by its national convention early yesterday:

CIVIL RIGHTS—Sidestepped endorsement of the controversial Supreme Court decision outlawing racial segregation in public schools, but pledged the party to advance individual rights and liberties of all Americans. It declared the party recognized decisions of the court to be a part of the law of the land, but declined to pledge itself, in so many words, to carry out those decisions.

FOREIGN POLICY — Charged that American ties with friendly nations have been weakened by Eisenhower administration policies of what it called "bluster and bluff" without "dynamic action." It claimed also that these policies are increasing the risk of war in the Middle East.

The plank promised "bold" leadership to strengthen non-Communist countries against expansionist moves of Russia.

It called for supplying Israel with defensive weapons to offset what it called an arms imbalance in the Middle East caused by Communist munitions supplied to Egypt. And it declared support for the principle of free access to the Suez Canal under suitable international control of the waterway.

DOMESTIC POLICY — Charged that the Eisenhower adminstration is stunting economic progress and failing to provide prosperity for farmers, small business men, low income workers, old people on small pensions and inadequate savings, and young persons seeking an education. It asserted also that the administration is using public revenue to "benefit the few." It promised to "release the springs of abundance" to help all.

AGRICULTURE — Condemned Republican "failure" to halt decline in farm income, and promised Democratic program to restore "full 100 per cent parity" which it said agriculture received under Democratic adminstrations.

This program would replace Republican flexible price supports with 90 per cent price props on basic crops. It also would use government payments, purchase of surpluses, production controls and other measures to achieve the goal. And it would develop support measures for hogs, cattle, poultry and other perishable commodities not now under price guarantees.

Surpluses would be channeled to low - income groups at home through food stamp plan and to needy abroad through relief agencies.

LABOR—Pledged repeal of what it denounced as "the vicious anti-union "Taft - Hartley Labor-Management Act, and enactment of new legislation based on principles of labor laws enacted under President Franklin D. Roosevelt. It called for an increase of the minimum wage rate from the present $1 an hour to $1.25, and equal pay for equal work, regardless of sex.

FINANCIAL AND TAX POLICY —Favored an increase of $200 in the present $600-a-year personal income tax exemption. This would save low income taxpayers about $40 a year in taxes. It criticized Eisenhower administration increases in interest payments on government borrowings, contending this policy benefits the few at expense of taxpayers in general. It promised to reduce the rates.

* * *

GENERAL WELFARE — Pledged the party to expand and improve Social Security and other social welfare programs which it claimed the Democrats fathered. It charged that the GOP has opposed proposals to strengthen these programs. Besides greater aid for medical education and research, the plank promised expanded public housing programs, and financial aid to schools.

NATURAL RESOURCES—Claimed GOP administration has not safeguarded natural resources, and pledged doubling of government efforts to develop and conserve hydroelectric power projects, forests, grazing land, mineral resources, and recreational, wildlife and fishery resources.

ATOMIC ENERGY—claimed U. S. is lagging in nuclear energy field because of alleged failure of Republicans to use power of the government to speed development.

FREE ENTERPRISE—Charged that the present administration has allowed big business to dominate the economy to the detriment of small enterprises. It pledged aid to the latter in form of more credit, tax relief and more government contracts.

GOVERNMENT OPERATIONS —Promised extension of the civil service merit system, increased efficiency in the postal service—which the platform said the Republicans had crippled — and greater dissemination of information of government operations.

On other matters, it pledged renewed interest in veterans affairs; expressed favor for immediate home rule and ultimate national representation for the District of Columbia; and urged action to improve congressional procedures so that "majority rule" might prevail.

Ban Communist Party in Bonn

Raid Red Headquarters; Fear Ruling Will Drive Members Underground

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP) — West Germany today outlawed the Communist party as unconstitutional.

Within minutes after the Federal Supreme Court announced its long - awaited decision, police squads in major cities throughout the country swooped down on party headquarters.

Property was confiscated and the offices padlocked. No arrests were ordered.

Immediately after the ruling was announced by Court President Josef Wintrich, a police cordon was thrown around the court building to prevent any Red demonstration.

The ban does not affect West Berlin since the old German capital is not now a part of the federal republic of West Germany.

The official East German radio in East Berlin immediately issued a call to West German workers to hold mass strikes and protest rallies against the ban.

The broadcast compared the action with similar steps taken by Hitler's government. The radio charged that the decision would make it much harder to bring about reunification of East and West Germany.

Reliable reports said the Reds several months ago completed preparations to go underground if the court's ruling went against them.

The court also banned all substitute or successor party groups, spelling the legal finish for an estimated 200 Communist - front organizations operating alongside the party in West Germany.

Hal Boyle Asks:

Political Scene Loses Lovable Character

NEW YORK (AP) — Death has claimed "Slogan" Smythe, the only Republican in history who looked like two Democratic U.S. presidents.

Things won't be the same without him at the GOP convention in San Francisco next week.

J. Henry Smythe, who became America's first professional sloganeer (he coined 100,000 slogans), has been a leading figure —perhaps character is a better word — at Republican National Conventions for more than half a century.

As some men are fire buffs, Smythe, who never sought or held public office, became a political buff.

At his first Republican convention in 1904 he leaped to the platform during a lull and bellowed through a megaphone:

"Hurrah for Teddy Roosevelt."

The roar of applause that followed set fire to young Smythe's mild soul. He never again achieved the spotlight, but he could no more stay away from a Republican convention than a toper could turn away from a bottle.

Although ostensibly a publisher of children's books and a creator of trade mark names and advertising slogans, his real interests were in political conventions and, as he put it himself, "the promotion of patriotism."

One of his crusades that has so far failed: His attempt to get the Unknown Soldier named to the hall of fame.

But Smythe, who in middle age developed a passion to look like someone else (anyone who was famous), did achieve another goal after a friend remarked, "you look like Benjamin Franklin."

He got a number of governors to declare special days honoring Franklin and was instrumental in getting Franklin's profile on the half dollar.

During the first World War he coined more than 1,000 slogans and battle cries, such as "Lend to Defend," "Keep the Hun on the Run," and "Buy and Keep Liberty Bonds."

He came up with at least 1,000 more slogans in the second World War, including, "Ack! Ack! Flak! Flak! Back the Attack!", and "Back Our Men — Buy Bonds Again."

Swept by slogan fever (sometimes he threw off 150 in a day during a strong seizure) he put his muse to the unpaid service of organizations plumping for everything from a bigger Flag Day to litter-free America. He even tried to popularize one of the Ten Commandments with "Do Not Covet; Be Above It."

Smythe usually was impartial at a Republican convention, often showing up with as many as 50 slogans for each presidential candidate.

The acclaim accorded his 1936 masterpiece, "Let's Make it a Landonslide," went to Smythe's head. He showed up at the Democratic convention that year proudly wearing an oversized Landon button. The outraged Democrats removed the button and gave him the heave-ho.

A peculiar thing happened to Smythe in the 1940's. He began to look like Franklin D. Roosevelt. The resemblance was so striking at the 1948 GOP convention that many delegates did a startled double-take as Smythe went by. They thought "that man" was still haunting them.

Smythe, far from being annoyed, was flattered to be told he looked like FDR. Perhaps the only public figure in American history he did not want to look like was Aaron Burr.

A few months ago, thin and enfeebled from a long illness, he came into my office, turned his head sidewise and asked:

* * *

"Who do I look like now?"

I confessed I wasn't sure, and he said wistfully:

* * *

"Many people now tell me I look exactly like Woodrow Wilson."

And, by gosh, he did!

Smythe, a bachelor, died all alone in Bellevue Hospital this week, far from the convention excitement he loved.

Some thought him a busybody and a nuisance, but I liked him for what he was— a kind, gentle, publicity-loving eccentric who always was on the outside of things he wanted to belong to. Life doomed him to the fringes.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

AT CAMP — 5
Dick and Doris Make a Drum

Music always plays a part in camp life. Campers sing as they line up for meals, when they go on hikes and around the camp fire at night.

Many crude musical instruments are made in camp. One of the simplest to make is a drum from an old keg — the deeper the keg, the deeper the tone of the drum. Here is Dick who has just made one.

He painted the keg a bright orange, stretched a piece of inner tube over the top and bound it tightly in place. Now Doris is putting on the finishing touches by painting some Chinese characters on the side.

Using your crayons, color this picture, and then paste it down on cardboard. Cut out the parts carefully.

Cut an opening in Doris's sleeve on the dotted black line, then slip her right arm into the opening and fasten it with a brass fastener or bent pin in the indicated holes. Then she can paint the drum as Dick holds it steady.

Fold the two end panels under and the center one forward. Then the picture will stand.

(This idea was first sent in by Gwen Myers, Beamsvill, Ontario. Perhaps you have an idea for Junior Editors, if so send it in care of this newspaper and it may win you $10. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Loser for Congress Requests Recount

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—Dr. Ira McCoy of Bad Axe, losing candidate in the Democratic battle for Congress in the Seventh District, has petitioned for a recount in Macomb County.

McCoy, who trailed Jacob F. Theut of Center Line by 1,000 votes, posted $605 yesterday for a recount in all 121 Macomb precincts. In his petition he said he had been told of "discrepancies in the counting of votes."

All but nine precincts have voting machines.

The seventh district includes Macomb, St. Clair and four rural counties in the Thumb District. McCoy carried all but Macomb.

Election results gave him 9,779 votes in the primary to 10,878 for Theut, former Macomb County sheriff. The Republican nominee is Robert McIntosh, former Port Huron postmaster.

Flint Man, 98, Dies of Collision Injuries

FLINT (AP)—Samuel Sawyer, 98, died in St. Joseph Hospital last night of injuries suffered earlier in the day when a car he was riding in struck a parked auto.

Sawyer was riding with his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Geneva Kay Sawyer, 35. She was injured slightly.

Area Schools Listing Openings

Four Buildings Not Completed

Await Steel Orders and Start Half-Days in Clarkston

While some schools in surrounding towns have completed their schedules for registrations and classes' start, others are finding building problems that complicate opening plans.

Temporary measures are planned in Kingsbury School near Metamora, and at three Clarkston schools, while Rochester High School may have to postpone its opening date.

ROCHESTER SCHOOLS

At Rochester registration for the high school is set for Sept. 10 but may have to be delayed pending completion of the Senior High School building. Junior High registration is set for Sept. 6 and 7.

The high school bookstore in the junior high building opens Monday for both junior and senior high students.

Early calls for books are asked and hours will be from 9 a.m. to 12 and from 1 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

New students in Rochester may enroll before Sept. 1 in junior and senior high schools, at the principals' offices in the junior high.

KINGSBURY SCHOOL

Kingsbury School, a private elementary school near Metamora, founded by the late Carlton M. Higbie and Mrs. Higbie, plans building an addition this fall. Mrs. Higbie states that construction will start at once on the $30,800 extension of the present school.

New capacity will be 48 students. There are 35 now enrolled for the fall term of the third year of the school's existence.

Construction of the new building, being done by Linney and Bodwell, is expected to be completed in about ten weeks. While it is under construction, nursery students will be taught at the apartment formerly occupied by the school's former administrator, Mrs. Helen Glover, who has moved to San Alston, Calif.

Clarkston Schools

At Clarkston, delays in school construction caused by the steel strike will necessitate one-half day sessions in some grades at the start of the school term.

Contractors estimate that the Clarkston elementary and high school additions will be completed in about 30 days and the new elementary completed 60 days after steel is delivered. Delivery date is unknown.

Clarkston's school calendar has been announced, with bookstores opening on Aug. 27, faculty meetings set for Sept. 4 and 5 and enrollments following later that week.

Seventh and eighth grades enroll at 8:30 on Sept. 6 and will have a half-day of classes that afternoon, as will elementary students, who enroll at 9:30 a.m. that day.

Grades 9 through 12 enroll at 8:30 a.m. Sept. 7, with classes starting that afternoon. All elementary students will be present 9:30 a.m. until 11:30.

On Sept. 10, first full day for high schoolers will start at 8:15, and for Andersonville students, at 9:15. Half-day sessions will be held at Clarkston and Sashabaw Elementary. Cafeterias will be open.

Marlette Schools

At Marlette, school opening plans include the kindergarten individual conference and registration set for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at Bea McDonald School in kindergarten rooms.

Boys planning to take part in any of the four major sports are asked to take physical exams on Tuesday at 8 p.m. Football equipment will be issued at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Dublin School

In White Lake Township, Dublin School has set student registration for 8:40 a.m. Sept. 5.

All bus schedules will remain the same as last year. Regular classes start on Sept. 6 for all except kindergartners, who start on Sept. 7.

The faculty will meet Sept. 4 at 12:30 p.m.

Parents who are registering kindergarten pupils are reminded to bring birth certificates.

Imlay City Schools

The Imlay City Board of Education has hired Maurice Lavoie of Auburn, Me., whose education has been at Universities of Maine, Michigan State and Columbia, to teach English at the high school.

Traverse Man to Speak

WATERFORD—The Rev. Charles Sine of Traverse City will speak at the 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. services Sunday at the Waterford Community Church. He is a candidate for the ministry of the church.

One-third of the auto drivers in the U. S. are women.

PHS Instructor on Host Group of Press Parley

Robert Beauchamp, Pontiac High School English instructor and Tomahawk school newspaper advisor, will serve on the host committee for the 30th annual conference of the National Scholastic Press Association (NSPA).

The conference is slated Tuesday and Wednesday at the University of Michigan. Between 800 and 1,000 high school students from the United States and Alaska will attend the session.

George Grim, a feature writer for the Minneapolis Tribune, who has just returned from Russia, will be the speaker at the opening convocation Tuesday night.

School Districts Election Slated

Vote Results to Decide Consolidation; Building Contracts Awarded

The Oakland County Board of Education yesterday instructed Dr. Williams J. Emerson, superintendent of the county schools, to conduct an election in 11 school districts around Oxford.

The election, set for Sept. 13 will decide whether to consolidate all 11 districts. If carried, the number of school districts in Oakland County will be reduced from 45 to about 34, Dr. Emerson said today.

In other business at yesterday's meeting, educators awarded special education contracts to Farmington Public Schools, Avondale Schools and the Huron Valley School system at Milford. All three contracts are for two rooms for mentally handicapped students.

The Farmington rooms will be constructed on the new Farmington Junior High School scheduled for completion in September, 1957. The Avondale rooms will be added to the Stone School and are scheduled for spring completion.

The Huron Valley addition will be built on the new school on General Motors road and will be completed by spring.

Two eduction consultants were hired yesterday. One will be hired to help the blind students and the other will be a hearing consultant.

Dead Roofer's Wallet Returned to Family

A wallet lost by Pontiac Township roofer David Jerry Smith at the scene of the accident which took his life Monday was returned by mail yesterday to his family, friends reported today.

But Smith's helper, Frank Hill, now in Pontiac General Hospital suffering burns received in the accident, still has not received his billfold.

Both men lost their wallets when rolling on the ground trying to extinguish flames from an exploded bucket of tar.

Hill, 37, of 916 Fremont St., intended to use the money in his wallet to make a payment on his car. Now, unable to work, he is afraid the car will be repossessed.

CAI Tallies Its Fair Funds

Places $3,685 Aside for Building Up-Keep Next Summer

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Community Activities Inc. has placed the proceeds from its fair this summer in its summer months' building maintenance fund.

The fund totaled $3,685, according to Finance Chairman Jerry Root, who reported at the CAI meeting Wednesday night.

The many residents attending heard general fair chairman Lee Kaines thank them for aid in the committee work that made the fair possible, and remind them of the continuous expansion of the annual event.

Kaines pledged the efforts of the fair committee of the 1957 fair chairman, Robert Beattie Jr., who had assisted him in organizing this year's event.

Carlos Richardson, CAI president, accepted the recommendation of the fair committee to hold next summer's event on June 21, 22 and 23. He thanked the committee for efforts this year.

Democratic precinct delegates elected in the August 7 primary election will convene in the County Office Building Wednesday at 8 p.m. to select delegates to attend the Democratic state nominating convention Saturday in Grand Rapids.

In Grand Rapids, delegates will nominate candidates to the state ticket not included in the primary ballot. These are secretary of state, attorney general, auditor general and state treasurer.

Two justices of the State Supreme Court, to run on a nonpartisan ticket in November, also will be nominated.

Electors for president and vice president of the United States will be chosen.

Four Towns Artist Slates 1-Man Show

FOUR TOWNS — Maxwell E. Wright, architect, art instructor and watercolorist who lives, with his family, at 6821 Scotch Lake Rd., is planning a one-man show soon in a New York gallery.

It won't be the first time Wright's work has been nationally exhibited.

His paintings have appeared in the Chicago International Water Color Exhibit, the College Art Association traveling watercolor exhibit, Michigan Artists Shows, and others.

First junior member of the Scarab Club, he has belonged to that noted art group in Detroit for ten years.

His instruction has included such notables as Paul Honore and William Schimmel.

Born in Pontiac, he studied with Honore after beginning art at the Wichers School of Fine Arts in Detroit.

He took private lessons in Phoenix, Ariz., from Schimmel and at the Wayman Adams Old Mill art colony in Elizabethtown, N. Y. from William Kraeuter this year.

Wright himself teaches art, and has been an instructor in painting and drawing at Lawrence Institute of Technology for the past eight years. He is employed with Wiedmaier-Gay and Wright, Architects.

He, Mrs. Wright and their daughter, Linda, have lived many years in this area.

His art works range from water color, which he taught himself in his early years, to oil figure and portrait painting which he studied at the Arts Students League in New York City.

CENTENNIAL FARM—Leonard Field and his wife stand in front of the 120-acre farm which they have sold which is to become a part of a six lake real estate development. They plan to rest awhile and watch the landscape change formation.

6-Lake Development Engulfs Farm

Progress Terminating 46-Year-Old Milk Route

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

MILFORD—When Leonard Field loaded his milk can on the truck for the last time this week, he terminated a 46-year-old milk route from Commerce to Milford on Commerce road.

Field was the last survivor of the original milk route to give way to progress.

He sold his cows and all but two acres of his 120-acre farm for an extensive lake development now in progress. The only other two survivors of the route are Joe Long and Tom Field. However, they gave up the milk business years ago, according to Field.

The milk route was started by Tom Field, uncle of the present owner of the century-old farm. The route originated in 1914 and it took close to eight hours for the horse-drawn wagon to travel the gravel road between the two towns.

Harry Lutz acquired the first milk truck in 1920, according to Field and at that time, he recalls, there were only 12 farmers supplying milk to the truckers.

Although Leonard Field is not old enough for retirement, he and his wife plan to just "take it easy for a while and watch the landscape change formation."

Twelve big farms have been purchased for the 6-lake development in the area. Details of the gigantic project are not ready for publication, Field said.

Rochester Advances Toward New Parking

ROCHESTER — Appraisals of properties suggested for use for off-street parking were presented to city councilmembers this week, as first step towards purchases.

The appraisals by Dave Levinson, of Birmingham, were accepted and village Attorney Roscoe Martin was authorized to negotiate for options on the parcels.

He is to report back at the next meeting.

Republicans Unmoved

GOP chairman Leonard W. Hall said Stevenson in November will "go down to a more devastating defeat than he experienced in 1952."

Teenage Girls Hurt in Waterford Mishap

Two teenage girls suffered minor injuries in a three-car accident in Waterford Township last night.

Leonette N. Sharett, 13, of 193 Beach St., was treated for a bruised back and Martha M. Cox, 13, of 189 Judson, had cuts of the right eye. Both were released following treatment at Pontiac General Hospital.

The girls were passengers in a car driven by Frank Celesnick, 53, of 189 Judson St. The other vehicles involved were operated by Louis R. Bryant, 25, of 10046 Minock, Detroit, and Kenneth W. Pankey, 23, of 22201 Haskill, Dearborn.

Pankey told investigating Township police he was waiting at a stop sign at the corner of Cass Elizabeth Lake road and Parkway when his car was struck by the Celesnick vehicle which had been hit by the other car. Bryant said he struck the Celesnick vehicle when it made a turn in front of him without giving a signal. Celesnick said he thought he had plenty of time to make the turn.

Cancel Hospital Meeting for Lack of a Quorum

Pontiac General Hospital's seven-member Board of Trustees failed to meet as scheduled last night through lack of a quorum. Three members showed up.

It was the first time a meeting had been without a quorum in five years, members said. Attending were William E. Babcock, chairman; Harold B. Euler, and Charles E. Yeager.

Future Glows for Onaway Potato

New in Michigan potato fields and on Michigan tables is the Onaway potato.

"For the farmer, the new potato variety will mean higher yeilds earlier in the year," says Mrs. Josephine H. Lawyer, Oakland County consumer marketing information agent who attended a recent "potato field day" in which the Onaway starred.

The potato was seen by Mrs. Lawyer and 50 other farm and marketing experts of the state being harvested in its fields in the Bay County area, being sorted and being packaged.

"The Onaway potato came about by the crossing of two varieties, No. 1395 and Erlaine, two U.S. Department of Agriculture crosses, Mrs. Lawyer reports.

"Now, 14 years later, the Onaway emerges as a new variety for Michigan farmers to grow, retailers to know and shoppers to buy and try."

Farmers have been growning small acreages, and when the field day tour was on last week, they were harvesting the still-immature potatoes with yields of from 225 to 240 bushels an acre.

The Onaway is a smooth, white-skinned potato that is scab and blight resistant with a yield of one-third to one-half more than the popular Cobbler.

It has been tested in at least a dozen growing areas in the state, and for cooking quality as well.

Besides the higher price secured by farmers who harvest and sell before the potato's full season lowers the price, another profit was being shown in the Bay Area.

Machines were being used in many fields, with the crop being lifted directly into wagons as the equipment moved down the row. The row pickers cost from $3,400 to $5,000, according to Carl Hanson Bay County agriculture agent, but cause less bruising. Cost of the harvest is estimated to be much less by these machines.

"Uniformness of size, cleanliness, and eye appeal help the shopper decide to buy or not to buy," said one speaker at the field day. He reported that customers take potatoes in open net bags three to four times more than those in enclosed bags, and those in bags with open net windows twice as often.

Certified seed for the Onaway potato will be available from commercial seed outlets next year, according to Mrs. Lawyer.

Camp Minded Youth Still May Go to Tomahawk

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Two weeks remain for Camp Tomahawk, day camp sponsored by the Waterford Township Recreation Department. The five-week program is being conducted at the Highland Recreation Area.

Next week, boys and girls of 9-14 years living in the Lambert and Stringham Elementary School Areas will be going to camp. The last week children from Waterford Center, Four Towns and Monteith School will attend. A bus will pick them up at the schools at 9 a.m. Monday and return them at 4:30 p.m. Friday.

"Two hundred children attended camp during the first three weeks of this year and over 1,000 boys and girls have enjoyed Camp Tomahawk during the past several years," says recreation director, Tom Belton.

Camping activities include: fire building, cooking, hiking, camp craft, nature study and swimming.

Registration for camp may be still made by calling the recreation office, OR 3-9152.

Green Lake Sponsors Aug. 18 Rodeo Event

GREEN LAKE — A Rodeo Picnic is being held Saturday at the Green Lake Assn. on the clubhouse grounds.

Booths being planned by committees are being kept hush-hush in order to continue the surprise element. However a Western theme for the event is certain, with the workers and members dressing accordingly for the event.

Games are planned for the children and adults during the afternoon, with a picnic lunch to be held at 5:30. Entertainment will also be held in the evening.

This is an annual picnic and many friends and former residents return each year to renew friendships and make new friends.

Slaying Suspect Surrenders

Gives Up in Kalamazoo, Says He Doesn't Recall Butchering Wife's Body

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A diminutive butcher wanted in the dismemberment slaying of his 18-year-old wife in Dunkirk, N. Y., was held in federal custody today after he gave himself up to Kalamazoo Police.

Lonnie Buchanan, 23, had been sought since Sunday when parts of the body of his wife, Bessie, were found in a weed patch near their home.

Police said the 5-foot, 6-inch fugitive telephoned from the home of a cousin here yesterday and said:

"I hear the FBI's looking for me. Come out and pick me up."

Police Sgt. Leonard Dyke said Buchanan dictated an unsigned statement to police in which he said his wife died of an injury suffered when her head struck a bedpost during a fight Saturday night. He does not remember dismembering her body.

TELLS HOW

The police sergeant said Buchanan gave this account of the slaying:

Mrs. Buchanan left home with their two young children Saturday. Buchanan found her later that day in a nearby town with another man. This started a fight which continued into the night and ended when he hit her and she fell, striking her head on the bedpost. She died in his arms. Confused and panicky, Buchanan said he drank a quart of wine and didn't remember anything till the next morning when he discovered his wife's dismembered body on the kitchen floor.

He said he dumped the remains in the weed patch, returned to the house where he cleaned up the kitchen, the persuaded friends to drive him to Erie, Pa. From there he went by bus to Cleveland and Detroit, then hitchhiked to Lansing, Saginaw and Kalamazoo. A cousin here persuaded him to surrender to police.

William C. Hinze, assistant Detroit FBI chief, said Buchanan will be held in Kalamazoo County Jail here on a federal warrant charging unlawful flight across state lines to avoid prosecution. He said Buchanan is wanted by Dunkirk police on a charge of first degree murder.

Hinze said Buchanan probably will be taken before a U.S. commissioner in Grand Rapids for a hearing today and held there for authorities in New York.

OKs Radar Evidence

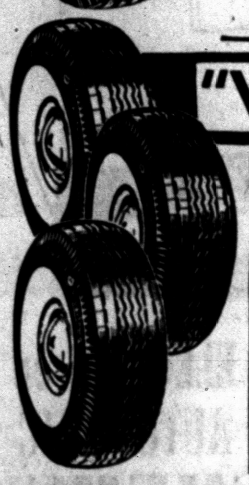

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — This city's radar speed trap has won its first court test. A Municipal Court jury convicted Jack R. Lincke, 49, of driving 42 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone last June 28. Lincke, arguing his own case, contended radar could be "mechanically inaccurate" and couldn't spot a particular car in a group.

Navy to Launch 3rd Big Carrier

'Ranger' Due to Slide Down Ways in Virginia Sept. 29

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy will launch its third supercarrier, the Ranger, at Newport News, Va., Sept. 29.

Three more of the Forrestall-class, 60,000-ton ships have been authorized for construction.

The Ranger, under construction for the past two years at the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co., is described by the Navy as "the world's most modern aircraft carrier." She will have all the improvements designed into the second ship of the class, the Saratoga, plus "major advances in her weapons handling equipment," said the announcement.

Among other improvements, the Ranger will be aquipped with an aluminum elevator instead of steel. This lift for bringing planes up from the hangar deck will be 63 by 52 feet and weigh 105 tons, substantially lighter than steel construction of the same size.

At 1,046 feet, the Ranger is equal to the Saratoga, and seven feet longer than the Forrestal.

Estimated cost of the Ranger is $181,015,000.

Typhoid in State at 10-Year Peak

39 Cases in 8 Months Turn Up; Officials Can't Trace Source

LANSING (AP)—The State Health Department reports there are more typhoid fever cases in Michigan now than in any time during the past 10 years.

From Jan. 1 to Aug. 10, Michigan had 39 cases. An increase of 24 over the same period in 1955 and the highest number since 1947.

Department physicians said cause of the increase may be buried in today's complex food distribution system.

Dr. George H. Agate, health department epidemiologist, said the increase is being studied but no conclusive findings have been made.

MAY BE BROUGHT IN

He said it is possible the source of infection is outside the victim's home community or even outside Michigan.

"All our experience with an increased number of cases and our search for the cause is similar to what has been happening in several other Midwest states this year," he said.

It is difficult to detect contaminated food because of the distance food travels from the point of its manufacture to the point of consumption, he said.

All cases of typhoid are traceable to persons who either have the disease or have had it. The germ can be transmitted through water, milk or other foods.

Agate said there are about 200 known typhoid carriers in Michigan, all of whom must register with the State Health Department.

About five of 100 persons who have had typhoid fever continue to transmit typhoid germs the rest of their lives.

All of the cases reported in Michigan during 1956 have occurred in the Lower Peninsula. The distribution of the cases have been even, Agate said.

Answers to Puzzle No. 10

Pot-O-Gold Easy . . . When You Have Solution

1. Idea is best. The maker of a new product needs to create a public demand for it, if his efforts are to succeed. With so much competition, some ingenuity is required to prove that this product is superior, or useful; an advertising IDEA is called for. This is better than a good Deal, or lead.

2. A BIN of food suggests grain primarily, which is always tempting to a mouse. A Bit of food could be almost any kind, not "always" tempting to a mouse—such as a piece of lettuce or cucumber.

3. UTTER or abolute, nonsense, in a speech would interest no one. There are millions of people who have no discrimination about TRITE speeches; they are happy to listen to a lot of tired, hackneyed phrases, with which they can heartily agree.

4. SKID is something for Dad to worry about when driving with the family on an icy road. Presumably, unless the car got out of control, as in a SKID, there is no particular reason for worrying about the Kids.

5. The LAWN of a country estate should be a matter of pride to the owner, if it is well-kept. On a large estate, some of the Land is often a wooded area, kept in its natural state. A lane is a rural path or road, and its application here is dim.

6. A TREAT, something usually enjoyable, would fit the apple pie which the dieter must deny himself. It would do no great harm to his calorie chart to have just a Taste or morsel of the pie.

7. A GYP is slang for a cheat or swindler, which no one likes to be called. A man who is overfond of food will sometimes admit cheerfully that he is a Pig; frequently the term is used in a jesting way.

8. SIDLE—to edge or move sidewise—fits the circumstance of a fugitive slinking into an alley when cornered. He would certainly cling close to the wall to avoid being seen by his pursuers. To SLIDE—slip along smoothly—does not pinpoint so accurately the extremity of a fugitive sneaking for cover.

9. A SLAM hand in a bridge game is likely to be exciting, particularly in a hard-fought game where every point is important. The Last hand might well be a very tame one, a sort of anti-climax to the game.

10. A lonely WAIF is certain to attract sympathy. Almost everyone is touched at the sight of a forlorn, uncared-for child. A Wail, or plaintive cry, might disturb a passer-by, but it is sometimes dangerous to meddle in the affairs of others, and sympathy could well get one into trouble. A passer-by would have no way of recognizing a lonely Wait on the part of a stranger.

11. PALMS—which, in Florida, are frequently lighted up at night—make a lovely setting for a patio dinner party. Softly lighted Lamps would furnish illumination; they are not in themselves a setting.

12. THINGS often seem more romantic in the moonlight. Things in general includes people, surroundings, the trees and stars etc., and covers the effect of moonlight more thoroughly than the word Nights.

13. The START of a campaign fund is usually a headache to party leaders; there is always the problem facing them of how and where they will get contributions. The State of a camaign fund is sometimes a worry, but if a candidate looks like a winner, financial backing is likely to get on the bandwagon.

14. A LIMP—weak, or spiritless—appearance certainly does not suggest vigor or agressiveness, but people with ambition often have a psychic energy that belies their appearance. A Mild looking man (even-tempered, gentle) keeps his feelings under control. There should be nothing surprising in his also being vigorous and aggressive.

15. RIVAL is the word. In dueling days, the braggart type of man would naturally be more inclined to challenge someone to a duel. It was socially necessary to accept the challenge, though often with secret reluctance and fear. But someties the challenger—the RIVAL in a duel—proved less formidable than expected. Since both men would fight as well as they could, it would be hard to estimate or judge their Valor, or personal bravery.

16. CREDIT inquiries would be necessary in selling a car on "time" payments. The dealer would naturally look up the customer's CREDIT rating—his reputation for paying bills etc. This would tell the story more completely than Direct inquiries which are incidental—name of customer's bank, charge accounts etc.—details which need to be verified.

Movie Star Says Acting 'No Cinch'

'Easy' Living Just an Illusion, Claims Anthony Perkins

By JOAN HANAUER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Some stars started out to become actors because they had a burning desire to perform—Anthony Perkins did it because he thought it would be a cinch.

"I thought it would be easy," Perkins said between takes of his latest picture, "The Jim Piersall Story."

He added:

"I thought I'd make a lot of money, be famous and not have to work very hard."

The money out Hollywood way is good, and he has achieved renown through his performances in "The Actress," "The Friendly Persuasion," and "The Lonely Man," but when it comes to easy living Perkins said:

"There are an awful lot of demands made on you and making movies takes more out of your personal life than I thought it would. If I said okay, I could have interviews, photographs, radio shows and TV shows 24 hours a day and still not get everything done that's available to me.

SAYS 'NO'

"I've learned how to say 'No.' When you do refuse, the publicity department gives you this stomped-on pigeon look. If you say no enough, that look is replaced by a look of belligerence and you become a negative, difficult, self-centered, surly character."

Perkins wants to walk the middle-of-the-road tightrope. He certainly doesn't want to be thought of as surly off-screen—not after the moody roles he portrays before the cameras.

"I got off on this foot in television," said Perkins, whose father was the late famed stage actor Osgood Perkins. "I'm always a complicated, introverted, sad, unhappy, tortured juvenile.

"I sure would like to go in another direction some time," said the 24-year-old actor who likes to dress in old pants, flying shirttails and a battered Confederate cap old enough to look like the real thing adding:

"TERRIBLE PROBLEMS"

"I step on the sound stage and I know I'm in for something horrible. I associate coming to the studio with terrible problems and I'm really not that way at all.

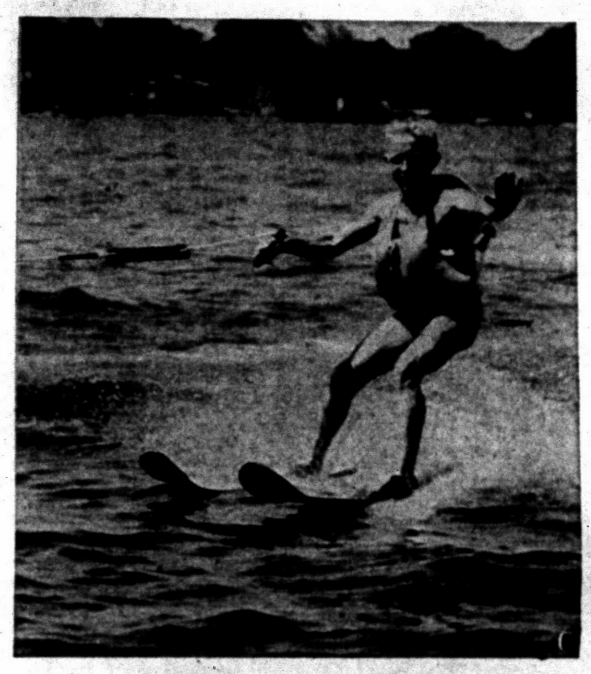

"I'm very lighthearted, but when I'm playing one of these 'Who am I, where am I, where am I going, what's the use of anything?' characters I don't know how I'm going to get through the day."

What Perkins would really like is a musical where he can get a chance to do a bit of singing, something he claims he's quite competent to handle. Dancing is a different sort of problem."

"I can't get a coat out of the closet without falling down," the lanky, six-foot-two actor said and added, with a doubtful look on his face: "Maybe they can teach me."

Perkins at present makes his home in New York and "commutes" to Hollywood for each picture. "It really is commuting," he explained, "but instead of going to work for the day I go for a picture."

Want Responsible Child? Try Praise

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

In the back yard Joel was excitedly demonstrating his climbing prowess to Gus, a friend. Ordinarily his raised voice doesn't bother his baby sister. But this morning prickly heat had made her fretful.

When Joel kept yelling at Gus to admire him, she awoke—and a wail went up from her carriage.

Running to her, Joel's mother said to him, "If you'll take Gus to the front yard to play, I'll give you both candy cigarettes."

She kept her word. As soon as baby sister had subsided, she gave the boys their candy. But she did not say, "Thank you, Joel. You were a great help to me just now."

By this omission, she drew Joel's entire attention to the candy she was giving him and left none for the helpfulness he had given her.

That is why the phrase, "If you give me this, I'll give you that," is a bad one for parents to use to children.

Recently this column defined a responsible child as one who respects his own helpfulness. Since then, many parents have written me asking, "How do you make a child respect his own helpfulness?"

By never missing a chance to direct his attention to evidence of it.

The phrase "I'll give you this if you give me that" destroys responsibility in children. By directing all their respect to our rewards of candy, new bikes and dollar bills, it betrays our own unconscious contempt for the helpfulness that produced the rewards.

Exposed to this contempt, children soon learn to depreciate their helpfulness, too—and are unable to exert any.

If irresponsibility seems our child's problem, the question to ask ourselves is, "Do I rate material things over the other kind?"

Stevenson Has Come Long Way Since '52 Campaign

'Intellectual' Has Picked Up Bag of Vote-Getting Tricks

This Time Adlai Will Try for Win With Hard Hitting Speeches, Warm Approach

By ED CREAGH

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, the man nominated for the presidency for the second time by the Democrats, is an egghead turned politican.

He is a witty man in an arena where deadpan earnestness pays off more often. He all but spurned the nomination in 1952. He fought tooth and nail for it in 1956.

There are some political parallels to Stevenson. Woodrow Wilson was an intellectual—indeed, a college president. Franklin D. Roosevelt was a well-to-do man with an itch for public office. Abraham Lincoln was a fast man with a funny story.

Still, no previous American political figure has combined all the special ingredients that go into the complex makeip of Adlai Ewing Stevenson.

Many a professional politican doesn't know what to make of Stevenson—any more than Stevenson seems to understand some of the pros.

The old pro himself, former President Truman, went all out for Adlai in 1952 — though with misgivings, as it later developed. This time Truman went all out for Averell Harriman. He said Stevenson couldn't win without help.

Whose help?

"The old man from Missouri," grinned Missouri's Harry Truman.

This old relationship between Stevenson and Truman points up the unusual position in which Stevenson finds himself.

Many Republicans pictured him in '52 as a head-in-the-clouds liberal, a captive of the trade unions and Americans for Democratic Action.

This year, Truman sought to write him oft as a "moderate" and a "conservative."

The drama of the Stevenson-Truman split, one of the few things to enliven a sluggish convention, was long in the making. Four years, in fact, though you wouldn't have suspected it from Truman's campaign for Stevenson in 1952.

The general outlines of the pre-convention skirmishing that year are plain enough now from Truman's published memoirs and other sources.

Truman was ready long beforehand to support Stevenson, then governor of Illinois.

In 1952, when he polled the largest vote of any unsuccessful candidate in American history, Stevenson was asked by a reporter if he meant to try again.

"Have that man's head examined," Stevenson said bleakly.

But the presidential bug had bitten deep. It wasn't long before he was flailing away at the Eisenhower administration on foreign and domestic matters alike. The plain implication was that Stevenson felt he could do it better. Finally, after another nudge from Truman to declare his intentions, Stevenson announced last Nov. 15 that he'd like the nomination—and that this time he was ready to fight for it.

Four years had wrought changes in the former Illinois governor.

The urbane but slightly distant platform speaker turned himself overnight into a handshaker who could all but out-Estes Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee. And the 1952 leader of devoted bands of amateur politicians installed professionals to help his 1956 campaign and to a large extent let them run it.

It was often said that Stevenson talked over the heads of the voters four years ago. The statement annoyed him at the time, but he has come to use shorter words and sentences since then. And he no longer feels obliged to lecture his audiences. Now, like any orthodox politican, he asks for votes.

A comparative newcomer to politics, Stevenson began seeking votes in 1948 when he took the governorship of Illinois from Republican incumbent Dwight H. Green by the biggest margin in the state's history.

Millions of Americans probably still were unaware of Stevenson's existence when he was pushed into the forefront of Democratic possibilities in 1952.

That was one of the strangest episodes in the memory of old-time political observers.

One night at a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner in Washington Harry Truman made the announcement some had hoped for and others had dreaded—he was not going to run for re-election.

Scarcely had the momentary surprise worn off when a mass physical movement toward Stevenson developed. Newsmen, cameramen, politicians flocked to the Illinois governor as if by some herd instinct.

Stevenson gave every evidence of being startled by the impromptu demonstration. As for his being a candidate—

"Horsefeathers," laughed the governor. And he kept right on saying it, though usually in more eloquent language, right up to convention time — while Harry Truman fumed and at one stage was ready to back the late Alben W. Barkley for the nomination.

As it turned out, Stevenson's misgivings about running were justified. He still was little known nationally—and his opponent was a world-renowned war hero. The Democrats were in trouble — the Korean War was unpopular, scandals or the appearance of scandals were in the headlines.

Mrs. John Stockwell of Henry Clay avenue will hostess the group at the next meeting, Sept. 11.

The crowning of The Immaculate Heart of Mary will be held at St. Joseph Church Wednesday at 8 p.m. Shown as she rehearsed for the event was (left) Diane Schoenemann of Delaware drive, who will crown the statue. Members of her court are (left to right) Glora Simerieta of Cooper street, Gwen Gallo of South Winding drive and Shirley LaFave of Cooper street. The crowning will be followed with recitation of the living rosary and with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Immaculate Heart of Mary Theme of Rosary Pageant

"The Immaculate Heart of Mary" will be the theme this year of the sixth annual Living Rosary Pageant to be held at St. Joseph Church under the sponsorship of the Daughters of Isabella, First Saturday League and the Knights of Columbus.

More than 1,000 persons are expected to attend the event Wednesday at 8 p.m. which will center around the Immaculate Heart of Mary Shrine. In honor of the feast of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, established on the octave of the Assumption by Pope Puis XII, there will be a crowning of roses by Diane Schoenemann and her court.

There will also be a presentation of roses to the Immaculate Heart of Mary by the officers of the Daughters of Isabella.

Fourth degree Knights will form a cross standing at attention while the "Magnificant" is being sung. Mrs. Margaret King, representing the Daughters of Isabella of Michigan, will lead the procession of more than 50 persons. The Legion of Mary, represented by Ignatius Sutherland, will honor a float presenting the "Annunciation."

The Living Rosary, formed by 200 persons, will be led in the torchlight recitation by the Rev. B. F. Jarzembowski. Taking part will be parishioners from St. Michael, St. Vincent de Paul, and St. Joseph Church of Pontiac, St. Joseph of Lake Orion, St. Peters of Mt. Clemens, Sacred Heart Church of Auburn Heights, Our Lady of the Lakes and St. Patrick Church of Union Lake Village.

The choral program will feature a recital by Mrs. Paul Miller, Leo B. Hogan and members of the choir of St. Michael Choir. The sermon will be given by Rev. Ladislaus Pelczynski, superior of the Marion Fathers of Detroit.

Spectators and those taking part in the program will light a candle in honor of the Immaculate Heart of Mary to show their active participation in the crowning.

Anti-Perspirant Is Aid to Daintiness

Be sure to use an anti-perspirant in hot weather.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q: "Is there such a thing as a deodorant which will actually stop perspiration? I have tried many but none was satisfactory."

A. Be sure that you buy an anti-perspirant. This is different from the plain deodorant. The latter simply takes away the odor of perspiration. I myself have never found an anti-perspirant which will completely stop underarm perspiration in hot weather, but they certainly help!

Q. "Will removing hair from one's face make the hair grow back in longer?"

A. No.

Q. "Please tell me the correct way to measure for buying a bra."

A. When taking the bust measurement the tape should pass straight around the body, over the fullest point of the bust. However, do not make the mistake of buying a brassiere simply by this measurement. There is such a difference in styles, the size of the cups, the width between the cups and so forth. Always try them on and ask for a saleswoman who knows how to fit bras.

WANTS TO IMPROVE

Q. "I weigh 125 pounds. My bust measures 32, waist 26 and hips 34 inches. I am 20 years old. Please help me."

A. You certainly are not badly out of proportion. Your bust and hips are in line. Your waist should be reduced an inch or so. Take waist slimming exercises.

Q. "When you have an allergy to the citrus fruits and cheese what do you substitute on the reducing diet?"

A. Substitute tomato juice for the citrus juices but take more of it because its vitamin C content is not so great. Cheese is a protein. Be sure that you get plenty of lean meat and skim milk.

HOW MUCH TO LOSE

Q. "I am 17 years old, five feet four inches tall and weigh 135 pounds. My doctor has me on a diet, but my problem is how much should I lose? My goal is 125 pounds. Am I right? My measurements are bust 35½, waist 26 and hips 38½ inches."

A. If you have a very large frame 125 might be just about the right weight. Take hip slimming exercises.

Q. "Do you know of any harmless bleach to use on hair on the legs which will not discolor the skin?"

A. Mix household ammonia with peroxide in these proportions; four drops of ammonia to three tablespoons of peroxide. Pat this on and allow it to dry before rinsing.

Fruit Bread Goes Well in Summer

By JANET ODELL

Fruit salad and Banana bread sandwiches: Tall frosty drinks and thin slices of Banana bread—either one is a simple, but good recipe for a warm August afternoon. Try Mrs. A.C. Kirby's recipe for the fruit bread.

Mrs. Kirby is such a pleasant person to know. She is a long-time resident of this area. Her health has somewhat limited her activities of late, but she is a member of the Colonial group of her church, the Pillar club and Entre Nous.

BANANA BREAD
By Mrs. A. C. Kirby

⅔ cup sugar
⅓ cup shortening
2 eggs
1¾ cups sifted flour
1¼ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
¾ teaspoon salt
1 cup mashed ripe banana
½ cup chopped walnuts

Cream sugar and shortening. Beat eggs, one at a time, and add to creamed mixture, beating well. Add sifted dry ingredients, then chopped nuts. Pour into greased loaf pan.

Bake 55 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Makes one loaf. It will slice more easily if it stands 24 hours first.

Chairmen for Dinner

Mrs. Robert Croasdel and Mrs. Phil Yapo are cochairmen of the spaghetti dinner sponsored by St. Joseph Guild of St. Vincent de Paul Church. The dinner will be served Saturday from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Parish Hall.

The veiling on a hat should never be wispy, shredded or torn. If it is, get rid of it.

They Suffer More Than 'Forgotten' Politicians

Let's Shed Some Tears for the Newsmen

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

CHICAGO (INS)—Now is the time for all good newsmen to write of the "forgotten men"—of their stomachs that ached for nothing, of their demolished dreams, of their brave smiles, of their noble, thick and thin women.

Now is the time to reflect upon the grandchild and the dog back home, those dear ones who heard the end on TV and wept or howled, as the case may be—o'er the death knell.

Now is the time to cry, in beer and in good taste, over the fate of politicians who have kept us awake 20 hours a day for a week, causing us to lose weight, weekends, temper and, almost, mind.

For the reporter, there is only to take one last B-complex, purchase a last container of coffee, turn down 10 last invitations to gay parties, and sit at the typewriter to impress the public that "the forgotten man" and his forgotten press secretary, not to mention his forgotten caucus salesmen, lay down the battle sword tonight and retired.

But those words, "lay down" and "retired," stick in the craw, wherever that is, and it is not going to be easy.

SUFFERING PRESS

I have been watching candidates and reporters all week and although my vision has blurred considerably in the last 48 hours, I believe it can still be stated factually that the press has suffered more keenly. At least, the deterioration and decomposure in this group is more apparent.

* * *

It is touching, in these last days of fiasco, to see a newspaperman talking to a political hopeful. After standing in, or racing down, a hall in pursuit of a candidate he is winded.

"Uh," says the newsman, slumping against his note pad, "how do you feel today, sir?"

The answer changes in vocabulary, but never in tone. Chipperly, Harriman says "fine." Stevenson says "very well," Truman says "like a million dollars." Happy Chandler says "swayull," Lyndon Johnson says so much it's too exhausting to go into now.

The newsman then has continued with a lot of questions which are so deftly answered that there is no story (the politically undeft, or blunt, answers are all saved for television), and the reporter returns to his office to write what is known as a "think piece."

CAUCUSES AND TEA

A think piece adds up, in mental and psychological discipline, to about eight caucuses and one Eleanor Roosevelt tea party.

Should some of the last-ditch stories about the sweeping out of the convention hall sound more like sour grapes than pathos, therefore, let the press urge indulgence.

The crumbling Fourth Estate, robbed of stories they might have won easily before politicians became video stars, are assured of little more than a sleepless night on a plane to another 140-hour work week in San Francisco.

Nominee Scores Comeback of '56

Primary in Minnesota Almost KO'd Stevenson From Politics

CHICAGO (AP)—Less than five months ago Adlai E. Stevenson was on the floor politically. He got up and went on to win the Democratic Presidential nomination.

And he did it against the determined opposition of Harry S. Truman.

In the March 20 Minnesota primary Stevenson was flattened unexpectedly by Sen. Estes Kefauver.

The clobbering raised the question: Should he fight or quit? He chose to fight.

HELLO, GOODBY

In Minnesota he had hustled from platform to platform. He had paused on each to read a prepared speech; and then, with a wave of his arm, he hurried off.

Thereafter, in Oregon, Florida, California and other points, he made a number of set, formal addresses. But he also chattered informally with folks on streets and in squares.

Nettled by "bossism" charges Kefauver had fired at his top-rank supporters, Stevenson told a Los Angeles crowd he was "plain mad"—a term you wouldn't expect him to use in his precision-tooled vocabulary.

Roger Tubby, Stevenson's press secretary, summarized their pitch this way:

"Stevenson got 27 million votes in 1952, when he was hardly known nationally.

"This time he starts out widely known and respected, even by many Republicans.

GOP VULNERABLE

"This time Eisenhower has a record we think is vulnerable on the farm problem, on Dixon-Yates, on the so-called giveaway programs by the Interior Department, on scandals of its own, on confusion and drift in foreign policy and with Nixon considered a handicap in light of Ike's condition.

"Since 1952 there have been nine new Democratic governors and over 500 new Democratic legislators. This means that in many states the Democratic party is a lot stronger."

Stevenson, who many thought was suffering from a mortal political wound in early spring, recovered to win the major primary contests in May and June and to build a steadily lengthening lead in the preferences of delegates.

By midsummer his strategists felt a "bandwagon psychology" was developing. They encouraged it with claims that Stevenson would go into the convention with more than 500 delegate votes and would win on an early ballot.

While Stevenson made some changes in the pace and style of his campaigning, he didn't retract on his political philosophy.

"Moderation is the spirit of the times," was the way he phrased it.

Some of his fellow Democrats didn't agree.

Special to Pontiac Press by AP Wirephoto

Harry Doesn't Regret Setback

CHICAGO (AP)—Former President Truman said today he has "no regrets" over his fight in vain for Averell Harriman's nomination as president and would fight just as hard to get nominee Adlai Stevenson elected.

Truman told reporters accompanying him on his usual before-breakfast walk that he feels "just like any other Democrat would after a party fight."

Last night's landslide nomination of Stevenson, whom he bitterly opposed, left Truman with only a trace of the power he once wielded in the Democratic party.

Truman said he will vote for whatever ticket is put together by the Democratic convention today. He said he stands ready to do whatever is asked of him in the way of campaigning.

But the lack of attention he is getting now is in strong contrast to the way he attracted party leaders when he arrived here.

A week ago, Truman made a triumphant entry into Chicago for the Democratic National Convention. Stevenson and emissaries from other contenders for the party's presidential nomination met him at the train, vying for his favor

SOMETHING TO BE HAPPY ABOUT — These four were happy as Adlai Stevenson was acclaimed the Democrats' presidential nominee last night. Left to right are: his daughter-in-law, Nancy; his sister, Mrs. Ernest Ives, wearing corsage; his son, John Fell Stevenson, and Mrs. A. B. Dick, chairman of the Stevenson-for-President campaign.

DELEGATES WHOOP IT UP FOR STEVENSON — Signs and state standards were poked up all over the floor yesterday at the Democratic convention in Chicago as delegates demonstrated for Adlai Stevenson after his name was placed before the Democrats for the presidential nomination.

No Voice in Selection

CHICAGO (AP) — Harry Truman has not expressed a choice for Democratic nominee for vice president. He said the choice is not up to him.

CHANDLER RUNNING — Joseph L. Leary of Kentucky places in nomination for the presidency at the Democratic convention the name of Gov. A. B. "Happy" Chandler of Kentucky. Chandler was a favorite son.

KENNEDY NAMES STEVENSON — Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts was on the speaker's podium yesterday to place before the Democratic convention in Chicago the name of Adlai Stevenson for the presidential nomination. Mention of Stevenson's name sent delegates into big demonstrations.

Gangster Limousines Carry Notables of World Visiting Export-Import Bank

WASHINGTON (INS)—The next time foreign finance ministers visit the U.S., they won't have to ride in an automobile with a criminal ancestry.

For this they can thank the messenger-chauffeur of Samuel Waugh, president and board chairman of the U.S. Export-Import Bank.

One day, when Waugh asked his chauffeur to deliver some documents to another government department, the employe asked permission to use Waugh's car.

When asked what was wrong with the agency's vehicle, the chauffeur explained: "It runs forward all right, but it ain't got no reverse."

The old car, it developed, was a Cadillac, which had once been owned by a dope-runner and had been confiscated five years ago by the government, as the law provides. Further investigation disclosed that luxury cars seized from gangsters involved in liquor or narcotics rackets are frequently decorated with the U.S. seal and attached to the government's motor fleet.

But there are some indications that this source of cars is drying up or is not as dependable as in the past. At least, this was what Waugh found out when he tried to get a replacement.

MAKES A PROFIT

The Export-Import Bank, principal governmental foreign lending agency, is the only branch of the federal government which is not only self-sustaining, but makes a respectable profit each year. The bank will handle about a billion dollars during the year and will show an annual gross profit of nearly 100 million dollars.

But the bank cannot use any of its income without congressional consent. For this year, Congress has allowed the agency $1,670,000 for its operating expenses.

So when Waugh discovered the agency's sole passenger vehicle would go forward but not back, he importuned the Narcotics Bureau for another suitable car. A source was found in Chicago, but just as Waugh was confident of getting a seized car, the court handling the narcotics case decided to restore it to the owner's widow.

Waugh next tried to rent a new car for official transportation, but dealers said they wouldn't have one available for several months.

So Waugh turned to the second-hand market where he found a good used Cadillac for about four thousand dollars.

The next time finance ministers from abroad call on Waugh and are transported to the White House or State Department, they may be assured they are riding in a car which, while second-hand when purchased by the bank, has no criminal ancestry.

And it will move backward as well as forward.

Top Aide Says GOP Convention to Be Well-Run

WASHINGTON (INS)—An aide of President Eisenhower has predicted the Republicans will have "a good, efficient and well-run convention" in San Francisco in contrast to what he called "the donnybrook" in Chicago.

Bernard Shanley, the President's appointments secretary, made the remark as he left for the GOP convention which opens Monday along with other members of the White House official family.

Shanley said: "I think the country will see a good, efficient and well-run convention in San Francisco in contrast to the donnybrook that has just taken place."

Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., who was also on the flight, told newsmen the Justice Department is interested in a number of matters which will be dealt with in the Republican platform. He said these will include civil rights, anti-trust enforcement, subversive activities, immigration, and "corruption in government."

The cabinet member was asked how the question of corruption in government could arise in connection with the platform since the GOP has been in power now for nearly four years. He replied that the emphasis will be on "no return to the old conditions" which he insisted prevailed in the previous Truman administration.

State Trooper Retires

HOUGHTON LAKE (AP) — Sgt. Hiram Grimason, commander of the Houghton Lake State Police Post, will retire Oct. 2 after 29 years of service. Sgt. Grimason joined state police in 1927 and served at the Flint, Bay City, Detroit, West Branch, East Lansing, East Tawas, Sandusky and Clinton posts prior to his transfer to Houghton Lake in 1951. He was commander at the West Branch, East Tawas and Sandusky posts.

Some 900 high school students from this country and Alaska will attend. George Grim, feature writer for the Minneapolis Tribune who recently returned from Russia, will address the group Aug. 21.

Pick 16 Words and Win Cash in Puzzle No. 11

On the track again after a week's derailment, POT-O-GOLD presents the 11th puzzle in its summer-long series of twisted word games. The Press wants a cash winner (the least you can get is $100), so read the rules carefully, consult the dictionary and fill in the blanks below after carefully studying the clues. Good luck!

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Cirle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 11 must bear a Tuesday, Aug. 21, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time, whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner, no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end, Labor Day. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries become the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Farmers Lag in Bid for Gas Tax Refund

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only 400,000 of an estimated three million eligible farmers have applied for refunds on taxes paid on gasoline used on farms, the Internal Revenue Service said.

This is the halfway point for filing refund claims for the tax paid during the first six months of 1956. The deadline is Sept. 30.

A revenue spokesman said no figures were available on the amount of refunds paid the 400,000 who have filed. One source estimated the average might run around $10 each, making total refunds to date about four million dollars.

Although there may be a big rush to meet the Sept. 30 deadline, the rough estimate of refunds to date contrasts sharply with the 30 million dollars the government had expected would be claimed.

Democrats to Woo Votes From Farmers by Vow to Kick Out Ike's Flexible Props

By OVID A. MARTIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Democrats will pitch their fight for the farm vote this fall on a promise to discard the Eisenhower administration's flexible price support system and restore higher price guarantees on major crops.

But the party's platform drafters turned back a drive by supporters of Gov. Averill Harriman of New York, and the National Farmers Union to pledge Democrats to legislation which would permit a program along the lines of one proposed by Charles Brannan when he was secretary of agriculture in the Truman administration. Congress rejected that program.

In a farm plank adopted yesterday, the party promised to support basic commodies—corn, wheat, cotton, rice, peanuts and tobacco—at 90 per cent of parity.

Supports for these products now range between 75 and 90 per cent of parity under the GOP flexible support program. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices they must pay.

BOOST PLEDGED

The plank promised to use other measures—including subsidy payments, government purchases, crop controls and other devices—in an effort to push the farm price level to full parity.

It further pledged the party to develop "practical" measures for extending price supports—it did not say at what level of parity—to such other crops as hogs, cattle, poultry and other perishable commodities.

Under the Eisenhower administration program, there are no direct supports for meat animals and poultry. Dairy products are the only perishables so protected.

An unsuccessful effort was made by a group of Midwestern and Western delegates headed by Rep. Coya Knutson of Minnesota to get the platform committee to promise full 100 per cent parity on the full production of all commodities on family type farms.

It was under such a declaration that the party would have been pledged to legislation to permit a program like that advanced by Brannan. Since that program was rejected by Congress, the Republicans have adopted it for wool.

The platform condemned what it called the "defeatist attitude" of the administration in "refusing to take effective action to assure the well-being of farm families" and, it said, for failing to reverse what it termed "the alarming fall of farm prices."

STAMPS PROPOSED

The platform also promised to set up a food stamp plan to channel surplus commodies to the needy, to expand the school lunch program, to provide easier farm credit, to promote international pacts aimed at stabilizing world farm prices, and to maintain strategic reserves of foods. It also calls for an increase in gifts of surpluses to the needy abroad.

And it would place control of farm-aid programs in the hands of farmer local committees. County office managers have been set up by the Republicans to do this.

The Eisenhower administration was charged in the platform with converting a new $1,200,000,000 a year soil bank program into a "vote-buying" device. The program, approved by Congress this year, pays farmers to reduce production by retiring crop land.

Expect A-Plane Within 2 Years

Atomic Engine, Tested on Ground, May Power Martin Seamaster

WASHINGTON (INS)—The United States has successfully operated an atomic-powered airplane engine on the ground and may have an A-powered plane airborne within two years.

This craft "in all probability" will be a Navy Martin Seamaster with turbojet engines propelled by nuclear-heated air.

This is the atomic airplane picture as of today according to the best informed nuclear scientists and aviation experts.

Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis E. Strauss is the authority for reports on the successful "run-up" of the nuclear turbojet engine.

The event took place "some months ago" at the National Reactor Testing Center, Arco, Idaho. Strauss told the Senate Appropriations Committee meeting in executive session:

"A turbojet engine of the type now used extensively in military aircraft has been powered in ground tests of a reactor at our test station in Idaho."

Hollywood Headlines

Hope Signs Diana Dors for Movie and TV Show

While Louella Parsons is traveling in Europe her column will be written by Dorothy Manners.

By DOROTHY MANNERS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Bob Hope had only to walk across the street from Paramount to the RKO lot to sign Diana Dors for his co-star in an upcoming picture — probably his next after "Beau James."

While Robin was about it he also signed the buxom British belle for his first TV show of the season.

He hasn't yet settled on the picture but Bob has been looking at the old Rogers - Astaire hit "The Gay Divorcee." It's owned by RKO where Diana is under non-exclusive contract.

Hope is going good these days, particularly after the London reviews on "The Iron Petticoat," his satire on Russia picture with Katharine Hepburn.

After weighing in her mind about working or not working, Lana Turner has decided not to make a picture before the birth of her expected baby.

But far from being idle, she's been setting up the details of her independent company, Lanturn Productions. "I like being the boss," Lana laughed when the lawyers brought the papers for her to sign Monday.

One of the first things "the boss" is trying to do is get Alec Guinness for her first, "Miss Plymouth Comes Across." This she'll produce on her own between the one picture she owes MGM and the one she's signed for at U-I.

HOSPITALIZED AGAIN

Seems so sad that Gene Tierney is again back in the sanatorium she left just a few weeks ago. Now many of her closest friends believe if she left the East where she has been recurringly ill and unhappy for two years and came back to Hollywood it might help.

Gene was always proud of her career and happy when she was working—and she has many friends in the industry who love her and would like to help revive her interest in movies again.

"Do you want to come over here and help me pack dog food, skis, a child's long underwear, short underwear, hot and cold weather clothes, football suits and everything else under the sun?" Roz Russell wailed.

I caught her the day before she and son Lance planed East for a long stint, Roz for "Auntie Mame" and Lance to re-enter school.

"I've never been so nervous about a show," she said, "no one expected anything from me in 'Wonderful Town,' so I was a surprise. But everyone is so crazy about 'Auntie Mame' and the book has been on the best seller list so long that I'll be expected to deliver big — or else."

If you ask me, the energetic Miss Russell has had very few "or elses" in her life, and "Auntie Mame" doesn't figure to be one.

SUITE FOR KIM

In case there's any remaining doubt about who is No. 1 girl on the Columbia lot, Kim Novak moves into Rita Hayworth's old dressing room suite today. She's pretty pleased you can bet because all she had expected was her old rooms redecorated.

Although Kim's next picture, "The Jeanne Eagles Story," doesn't get going immediately, she's on the lot daily to confer with George Sidney.

Does She Really Need 30 Convention Outfits?

By EARL WILSON

DEMOCRATIC SIDESHOW, CHICAGO—Betty Furness, who's not running for President (it just seems like it), bought 30 new dresses to wear to the conventions.

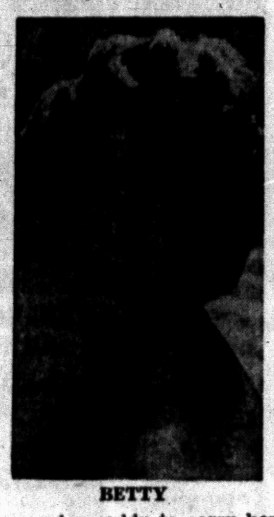

"Having been in TV for eight years, I knew exactly what I should wear," Betty gaily told me.

"Well, there've been some changes made—I had to throw away four dresses.

"Black-and-white used to be taboo," she explained out at the Amphitheater in what she laughingly calls her dressing room inasmuch as it's about big enough for her and one dress.

"But something's happened electronically and now if I don't wear black or white, I look like I've got a head and no body."

BETTY

Betty's probably on in two conventions as much as either convention chairman.

"My hair's long now and I'm a size smaller," she announced happily. "I watch myself in the monitor at rehearsal. I said 'Let's straighten out your figure, girl,' so now I'm a size 8.

"Once while looking at a monitor I said, 'Who's that frizzy dame?'

"It was me. Next day I decided to get a couple streaks in my hair. The guy goofed and bleached it. So I've been a blond for six years."

Betty needs a maid, secretary, somebody to run interference and a caddy to carry her cameras—"So my friend Mrs. Charles Lederer does it all for me. Who else but a friend would?"

Betty has jewels but worries about them less than cameras. "I've got a Rollei, a Stereo and I borrowed a Leica," she said. "I use the Rollei instead of a guest book."

She stuffs flash bulbs down her bodice when she isn't wearing pockets. Dashing out to the convention floor between commercials, she shoots many pictures. Photographers say "Hi, Betty"—secretly wondering, of course, if she's crazy or something.

Betty'll vacation at a two-room-house-with-a-swimming pool in Hollywood. She was in movies before TV and acquired a friend's guest house.

BEATRICE

New York-born Betty's name is rightfully pronounced "Furnace" but she got tired of all the jokes starting with "Hot as a furnace" and switched.

Betty's close to politicos only on the screen. She's never met any.

"I have a presidential choice, naturally," she says, "but it behooves me to keep my mouth shut."

Hollywood Star Bela Lugosi Dies

Dope Habit Conqueror Known for Horror Roles Dead at 73

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bela Lugosi, famous of his portrayal of the "Dracula" on stage and screen, and only recently conqueror of himself after 17 years of drug addiction, died late yesterday of natural causes. He was 73.

After a long and active career in motion pictures, the Hungarian-born actor surrendered himself to Los Angeles authorities last year, saying he was a hopeless drug addict and wanted a chance of rehabilitation. He said he had started taking demerol in England in 1938 and never had been able to completely free himself from the use of drugs in one form or another.

* * *

He was treated for three months at the nearby metropolitan state hospital in Norwalk, then passed a rigid examination and was released to resume his film career. His last role was in the movie "The Black Sleep."

* * *

Lugosi's second wife, the former Hope Lininger of Johnstown, Pa., said she found him dead when she returned home from work. They were married last August. She had encouraged Lugosi to appeal for help in his fight against drug addiction, and he said she was the inspiration for his decision to enter a hospital.

* * *

"We had been very happy together," she said. "It was a shock to find him gone. He was improving, little by little, and there was no inkling of his passing." An autopsy has been ordered.

* * *

Lugosi's first wife was Lillian Arch, by whom he had a son, Bela Jr. They were divorced in 1953.

To Show House Plants at Show

Inter-Garden Club to Open Exhibit Aug. 25 in Waterford

"Summer's Bounty," the theme for the inter-garden clubs flower show to be held Aug. 25 and 26 at the CAI Building on Williams Lake Road has a section for indoor gardeners and their unusual house plants and African violets.

House plants are immensely popular and their varieties are endless. Some grow well under the unnatural condition of being indoors and others are definitely difficult to grow.

Indoor enthusiasts who have seen to it that their plants have had the proper care for the past few months — or even years — can now display their treasures and win prizes.

The main requirement for entry is the scientific name. Plants will not be turned down if they do not have the scientific name but it is noted in the judging.

To help you out, here are the names of some of the more popular varieties. Christmas cactus is Epiphyllum truncatum. Crown of thorns is Euphorbia speldens.

Patience plants are Impatiens sultani, shamrocks are oxalis, the wax plant is Hoya carnosa, the Chinese evergreen is Aglaonema simplex and the piggyback plant is Tolmiea menziesi.

Glad Lover Shares Secrets

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

For sixteen years Fred Bridgman has been raising rare gladiolus in the same spot in Milford and some of his 'spikes' stand almost five feet high.

His state-inspected glads attract experts from all over the country and his ½-acre of ground is loaded with every color in the rainbow.

Some of the rarest gallolia include "Easter Parade" which grows so tall that it sometimes breaks with the weight of the huge blossoms.

The stately Rajah grows to the five foot height and the brilliant red of the Souci, blended with Lady Jane's delicate yellow, makes the garden a sight to behold.

The 70-year old Bridgman's favorite glad, is the Ace of Spades. With patient hours of cross-pollination the flower now bears blossoms that are almost jet black. The center is like maroon velvet.

Bone meal fertilizer and a compost pile are the only 'extras' used to produce the giant flowers. Fred plants the bulbs six inches deep in a long trench, "covers them nicely" and keeps raking the dirt up on the shoots as they grow. This prevents the wind from breaking them off, he explained.

It takes four years for a glad to grow from a seed. Bridgman snips off the pod after the flower is through blooming, and puts it in a 'cigar box' until the next year. The seed forms a small bulb and each year gets a little bigger, as it reproduces other bulbs.

After working for 16 years as head custodian in the Milford high school, Bridgman now takes it easy in his neat white house on East Huron street.

He loves to fish at his cabin near Roscommon and paddles down the back-water "to cacth those big pike," but most of all, he loves working to make his giant gladiolias grow bigger and better.

Stake Gladiolus Spikes for Protection's Sake

It's a good idea to stake your gladiolus spikes to keep them from falling over in heavy winds or rain.

If you are growing your glads in rows, put a few stakes along both sides of the row at short intervals and support the whole row with string stretched from one stake to the other.

From the Garden Editor

Pontiac and area is abloom this week with all kinds of flowers. Specially in the news this week (as you can see) are the ever popular and always beautiful gladiolus.

Mrs. J. L. Slaybaugh, 47 Glenwood, called us to say her gladiolus were up five feet high with none less than four feet and blooms are 20 inches. Mrs. Slaybaugh, a Better Home and Garden Club member, said she hopes to enter some in the Inter-Garden Flower show slated Aug. 25-26.

An interesting note from Mrs. M. S. Biggs of Drayton Plains said that glad bulbs she'd left in the ground all winter bloomed more beautiful than ever this year.

Somehow, they escaped the killing freeze of winter. As Wayne Seifert, assistant county agent for the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service says, glads don't survive freezing ground, they escape it.

Don't forget the Inter-Garden Flower show slated by four area garden clubs. It's on the agenda for next Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 25-26 at the CAI Building on Williams Lake Road.

Last week we heard from Mrs. Richard McGillivary, 2417 Sanders Place who told us about her golden banded lily of Japan known as Lilim auratum botanically. She had nine blooms on one stalk which is rather unusual for the saucer shaped flowers.

Mrs. Ross Aquino, 21 Clarence, called to tell us their garden was full of large plants this year. The Press wrote up the Aquino garden last year when they had a beanstalk 20 feet high.

MULCHING PAYS OFF — Tomatoes should always be mulched to keep weeds down and the soil moist.

Reduce Garden Worries

Of all modern devices to make home gardening easy—in the era of power tools and chemical weed killers — none eliminates more labor than the ancient and inexpensive practice of mulching.

Originated in the stone age, as a means of stimulating plant growth, research scientists are discovering today virtues about which its inventors never dreamed.

Dictionaries define mulch, or mulsh, as strawy manure or compost used to cover soil near plants, to conserve moisture. Modern practice applies the term to a long list of materials, which may be used to cover soil or plants for any beneficial purpose.

Any home gardener who can get suitable materials will save much labor in cultivation by covering the soil around his plants with a layer deep enough to shade the ground and prevent weeds from growing.

Dried lawn clippings make an excellent mulch. They are a waste product of gardening and when heavy should aways be removed from the lawn. If piled up, they heat and ferment, destroying vegetation beneath them. When spread thinly and occasionally aired they quickly cure and become safe to use.

Sawdust and ground corn cobs are used extensively where available. As they decay rapidly they may take nitrogen from the soil to feed the bacteria that break them down, unless some nitrogen fertilizer is mixed with them when they are spread.

When a mulch is applied to the vegetable garden the soil should first be well cultivated, and a thin layer of the mulching material worked into it. On this foundation the rest may be spread to the desired thickness.

The soil around tomato plants should always be protected by a heavy mulch.

The disease called blossom-end rot, black spots opposite the stem, is caused by changes in the moisture content of the soil, which mulching tends to stabilize. In watering tomatoes, avoid shallow sprinkling; apply a good soaking when needed.

Mulches as a means of preventing erosion are recommended by researchers. They increase the percentage of rain which enters the soil, decreasing run-off. They prevent spattering caused by rain falling on bare soil.

Garden Edging Appears Neat

Strips of Corrugated Building Material Used for Borders

It takes a trim, neat arrangement of grass and flower areas, as well as healthy plants, to make a lawn look its best. That is the advice of landscape experts, who also urge that lawn care begin early in the spring.

To facilitate planning and maintenance, the experts recommend the use of garden edging to define the various planting zones.

A standard industrial building material, corrugated asbestos-cement, has been found well suited for the purpose. It will remain in place indefinitely without rotting.

Strips cut from sheets of the corrugated material can be used for edging lawns and garden plots to prevent washaways, for edging raised flower beds and for retaining levels of earth in terracing.

Some building materials dealers carry ready-cut strips. Others usually can obtain strips or large sheets from the suppliers of asbestos siding and other asbestos-cement materials. Sheets can be cut lengthwise, with the corrugations, by scoring and breaking. The area to be cut should be wet with water and scored on both sides with an awl or other sharp cutting tool.

Then break over the edge of a work table or other straight, solid edge. A power saw equipped with a carbaloy-tipped blade will cut across corrugations and, of course, lengthwise of the sheet.

For continuous edging, strips can be joined by splicing with a scrap of the same material about two corrugations wide. Drill holes with a power drill and use rust proof stove bolts.

Edging strips should be embedded so that a minimum of eight inches or one third of the strips' depth is firmly in the ground. For high terraces, use two or more thicknesses of corrugated asbestos-cement.

Early Baldness May Hit Trees in Midsummer

Premature baldness is a problem in the tree world, too.

Shade trees should be wearing a thick, luxuriant head of leaves these days. If the leaves are thinning out already, there's something wrong.

A tree expert is the one to consult about this problem, for tree baldness often can be cured, unlike that which plages human skulls.

There are several reasons why leaves may be falling excessively in midsummer.

The trouble may be a case of summer sunburn. The remedy for this is to make sure the tree is fed and has an adequate water supply.

Insects also may thin out the leaves when they should be thickest. Aphids and leaf-eating pests take their toll of trees each year.

Order Spring Bulbs

Get the spring-flowering bulb order in as soon as possible. Planting of daffodils can start early next month, tulips should await cooler weather.

Two-fifths of the U.S. milk supply is used in fluid state.

THE POWERHOUSE

By Jimmy Powers

A golf date on West Point's sporty little course took me up the river from the home port at Tarrytown and from the Point's green acres it was only a short haul to Clair Bee's place.

Clair is director of athletics at New York Military Academy. In summer months he heads Camp All-America at Cornwall.

Clair looks the same, lean and tanned and crammed to the scuppers with energy. Bee will be remembered as coach of the Great Long Island University basketball team from 1930 to 1952. His percentage of victories was slightly under 88.

Long Island was generally regarded as national champion in 1936, 1939 and 1941, and during his tenure boasted winning streaks of 43, 38, 28 and 26, some over a two-year period.

Clair still has a consuming interest in basketball, but his current concern is for the youngsters just learning the sport. Perhaps, this is due to the fact that Clair Jr., is in his first year at Cornwall-on-Hudson High School.

When I visited Bee in his office he was discussing his program with assistant Tom Murray and basketball coach Ralph Petrillo, former Harvard athlete. Clair was saying:

"Ralph, I don't want to have anything to do with your varsity or junior varsity. I want to work with the freshmen and Bard Hellers (grades one through six). You can come to me for advice, but I want to concentrate on the little ones."

Turning to me, he continued: "Jimmy, the little fellow should be taught how to enjoy basketball and with the facilities we have here, 10 outdoor courts, the graduated-height baskets and the gym, I feel I can really pass along some talent for future teams."

EARLY TEACHING MUST BE SOUND

Murry, who directs the New York Military Academy intramural program, said: "They should get enough basketball this winter. We have 17 varsity games, 12 junior varsity tests, five for the freshmen and three intramural leagues as well as company and fraternity circuits. We'll play close to 100 games in our gym."

"That should certainly keep the kids busy," interrupted Bee, "but we want to be sure they play the game right, and more important, we want them to use their bodies correctly and learn good health habits."

"Won't you miss handling competitive teams, coach?" asked Petrillo.

As Clair spoke a gleam came into his eyes and you felt he had really made the transition from the big leagues to the little leagues.

Bee's Camp All-America has 250 boys enrolled, ranging in age from 8 through 16. When registration closed four months ago there was a waiting list of 100.

"I've had some good breaks and some really bad ones," Clair mused, "but I've always found that the real enjoyment in life for me was teaching kids."

Chisox Next for Tigers After 5-4 Loss

CHICAGO (AP)—The Detroit Tigers who used the Chicago White Sox last weekend as the springboard for a four-game winning streak, hoped to renew in Comiskey Park tonight what they started in Briggs Stadium.

Outside of a double loss to the Tigers last weekend, the White Sox haven't lost a game in their last 10.

Tonight's encounter, a day game tomorrow and a doubleheader Sunday are on the Detroit-Chicago schedule — which could chop the White Sox Margin in the 4th place to a mere three games over the Tigers.

At the same time, if Chicago won 'em all, the White Sox possibly could overtake the Boston Red Sox—only two and a half games ahead of the Chicagoans in 3rd place.

In an attempt to keep the Chisox on the victory trail, manager Marty Marian has nominated Billy Pierce, the ex-Detroiter with a 17-5 record, to oppose manager Bucky Harris' choice, veteran Virgil Trucks (5-5).

After sweeping two from Chicago and two from Cleveland, the Tigers blew the finale of a three-game series to the Indians at Cleveland yesterday, 5-4.

The victim was Detroit's winningest pitcher, lefthander Billy Hoeft, who suffered his 10th defeat against 14 victories.

Hoeft lasted only two innings. The winner was strikeout artist Herb Score, who won his 13th game against seven losses.

The difference proved to be rookie Rocky Colavito. The prize youngster hit his first Major League grand slam home run in the first inning to set the Indians winging, 4-0.

Al Rosen added run No. 5 for the Indians in the 4th with a bases-empty homer over the left field fence.

The Tigers got their first two runs in the 5th on two walks, two singles and a sacrifice fly. Until then, they hadn't got so much as a scratch hit off Score.

A walk to fleet Al Kaline and a double by Frank bolling added a third run in the 6th.

The Tigers added their 4th tally in the 7th after two were out, on a walk and two singles.

With victory in sight—the bases loaded and two out in the 9th—Bill Tuttle forced Kaline at second to end the game.

Musial Gains Another Mark

Cardinal Sets New NL Record for Extra Base Hits With Double

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Stan Musial was relaxing in the dressing room when a sports writer handed him an all-time National League record sheet which showed him high in almost every department.

"Get that thing outa here," said Hank Sauer, roommate of the St. Louis Cardinals' $80,000 - a - year man. "If he sees himself close to some new record, it'll take him nine years to reach it."

Musial, 35-year-old first baseman - outfielder, had just set a new National League mark for extra-base hits.

His 1,072nd was a scorching liner off the right field screen in the seventh inning last night. He'd been chasing the record since last Sunday, when he tied it.

The record was just one of many Stan holds, but it's one of the more significant. Mel Ott of the New York Giants needed 2,730 games and 22 seasons to set the old one. Musial, now in his 14th season, beat it in 2,102 games.

One-Hitters Mark Church Loop Games

A pair of one-hitters highlighted the first round of action in the Church Softball League playoffs at Jaycee park, yesterday.

Jack Koyle of Central Christian gave First Baptist one blow, but had to be satisfied with a 2-2 tie. Game was called at end of 6th on account of darkness. Errors cost Koyle his victory. Jim McIlrath scored in the 1st inning for Baptists on a 4-base error and the tying run in the 5th was the result of three throwing errors.

Wilson Garner of Five Points hurled a one-hitter against Church of Brethren but lost when errors cost two runs. C of B won 6-2, when darkness halted the game in the 6th. Ed Foust's 3-run homer was a big help in the win.

Takes 6-Pound Pike

Galloway Lake, near Pontiac's city limits yesterday yielded a nice 6-pound 10-ounce northern pike, taken by Travis Dishman, of Armada. Dishman was fishing with his brother Warren of Pontiac, and when the fish was brought in it was found to be too large to get into the anglers' landing net. So Travis grabbed it by the gills, tossed it into the boat. Fish was 32 inches long, Dishman reported. He used a light casting outfit.

The fishermen are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Dishman, 1357 Lake street, Pontiac.

THUMBED OUT—Boston Red Sox Shortstop Milt Bolling gets the "out" thumb of umpire John Stevens on a forceout at second base after teammate Billy Goodman's bounder to Bill Martin who threw to Gil McDougald shown making the pivot for the double play attempt. Boston won, 2-1.

7-Under in Milwaukee Open

Furgol, Burke Lead

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Ed Furgol and Jackie Burke shared the lead as the $35,000 Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament entered the second round, but they were by no means alone in the sub-par echelon.

Forty pros and two amateurs solved Tripoli's 6,380 yard par 35-35—70 setup with below par golf yesterday. Indications were that, with par busting rounds a dime a dozen, it might take a 265 or better to win the big money for 72 holes.

Furgol, 37-year-old St. Louis pro whose left arm is 10 inches shorter than his right because of a childhood accident, and the 33-year-old Burke, Masters and PGA champion from Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., fired identical 31-32 rounds to establish a new course record in yesterday's opening round.

Bracketed with 64s — equalling the old course standard—were Jim Turnesa of Spring Valley, N. Y., and Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif.

Babe Lichardus, young pro from Hillside, N. J., was alone at 65, thanks to a nine-putt front nine.

Shooting 66s were Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio, and Al Balding, well known Canadian pro from Erindale.

Twelve more pros were locked at 67, 10 pros and two amateurs carded 68s and 13 additional money players turned in scores of 69.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, 1956 U. S. Open champion, who won last year's Milwaukee Open with a 15-under-par 265 at Blue Mound, was in the pack with a 67.

Furgol, who won the U. S. Open title at Baltusrol, N. J., in 1954, didn't even have the benefit of a practice round before swinging for keeps yesterday amid several downpours.

The suntanned Furgol arrived by plane Wednesday night after deciding at the last minute to compete for the top prize of $6,000 in cash and a new station wagon. He scanned a map of the course before teeing off yesterday and then relied on his caddy to warn him of the pitfalls.

Olympic Preview

AAU Women's Meet Opens

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The women's National AAU track and field championship, a preview of next week's Olympic tryouts in Washington, opened here today with the first of the two day program on Franklin Field devoted to some 100 girls between the ages of 14 and 17.

On Saturday, the women, augmented by some of the better girls' prospects, will compete in an 11-event program which should give Uncle Sam a pretty good idea of the talent he can count on for women's track and field in next fall's Olympic Games at Melbourne.

Mrs. Frances Kaszubski, chairman of the Women's Olympic Track and Field Committee, predicts that this year's women's track team will make the best Olympic showing in 24 years.

America has won only one field event since 1932 and one individual track title since 1936 in international games. Alice Coachman won the high jump in 1948, and Helen Stephens the 100-meter dash at Berlin in 1936.

When the women take over, eleven defending champions will place titles in competition. They include Karen Anderson, Lansdown, Pa., Pan-American javelin queen; last year's only double winner, Mae Faggs, Tennessee State University sprint star; Nancy Phillips, New York broad jump champion; Wanda Wejzgrowicz, St. Louis, national shotput queen; Isabel Daniels, Tennessee State 50-meter dash titlist, and Mildred McDaniel, high jump champion.

Then too, Stella Walsh, holder of more records than any other woman in the history of track and field will be on hand. Miss Walsh has an extra incentive in this meet. She was married Tuesday night to Harry Olson, Northridge, Calif., and as a result is eligible to try for the U.S. Olympic team. She competed for Poland in 1932 and 1936. She is a U.S. citizen, but the International Olympic Committee has ruled that a woman who competes in the Olympics for one country can compete later for another one only if she is married to a citizen of that country.

Brave Eyes NL's Mark; Nixon Beats Yanks in AL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lew Burdette, with or without an illegal "spitter", stands a chance of becoming the National League's best shutout pitcher in 14 years while figuring as one of the big guys in Milwaukee's battle for the pennant.

The 29-year-old righthander, who had only seven shutouts in his five-year major league career before this season, added his sixth of the campaign with a neat five-hit, 8-0 victory last night over the St. Louis Cardinals—who, by the way, lead the claim that the stuff Burdette throws isn't always dry.

With his six shutouts, Burdette—who denies the "spitter" charges—is the first NL righthander to throw that many in one season since the Phils' Robin Roberts did it to lead the league in 1951. The 10 Mort Cooper hung up for the Cards in 1942 hasn't been touched since, and no NL pitcher has counted seven shutouts in one year since Harry Brecheen, another Card, in 1948.

Last night's job gave Burdette 15 victories and a league-leading earned run average of 2.53, but more important, it pushed the Braves' edge to three games before opening another crucial four-game series with third-place Cincinnati tonight. The Redlegs slipped to third with a 4-2 loss to the Chicago Cubs that allowed Brooklyn to regain second (by 7 percentage points) with a 13-inning, 10-9 victory over the New York Giants.

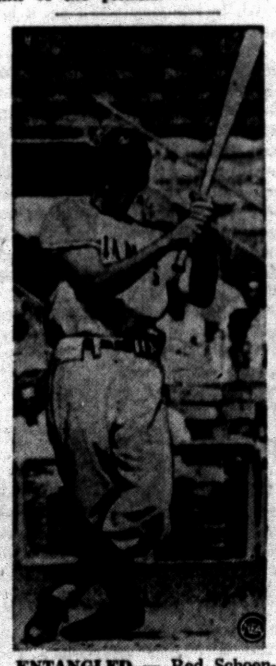

Pittsburgh made it two in a row over Philadelphia, 4-1.

In the American, Boston's Willard Nixon, riding a no-hitter for seven innings, two-hit the New York Yankees for a 2-1 decision. That trimmed the Yanks' lead to 9½ games as runner-up Cleveland beat Detroit 5-4. Chicago's White Sox defeated Kansas City 6-5 in the only other game scheduled.

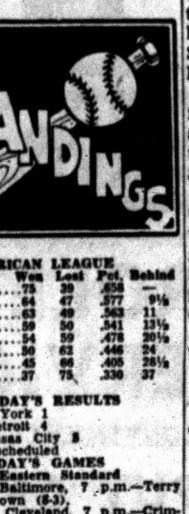

Yogi Berra's eight-inning single broke up Nixon's no-hitter bid, and the veteran righthander then hung on for his third victory over the Yankees this season as they scored on two errors and a pinch single by Mickey McDermott in the ninth. Jackie Jensen's 16th homer put it away for the Red Sox, who got just four hits off loser Don Larsen.

Rocky Colavito smacked his first major league grand-slammer and Al Rosen poled a solo shot to beat the Tigers for Herb Score's 13th victory.

Minnie Minoso's seventh-inning triple scored the winning run as the White Sox swept the three-game set with the A's and made it eight successes in the last 10 games to stay within 2½ games of third-place Boston.

ENTANGLED — Red Schoendienst appears to be a bit mixed up here, but the second baseman is no more confused than the N. Y. Giants.

Walled Lake 9 Takes Licking

Lloyd Durst of Mount Clemens pitched a no-hitter and Walled Lake Market was administered a one-sided licking in opening round games of the Class C district softball tournament Thursday night at Drayton Plains.

Durst silenced enemy bats as Mount Clemens defeated Southfield, 4-1. Three bases on balls and a hit batsman handed Southfield its lone run in the 1st stanza. Durst did not walk a man for the balance of the contest.

Roseville jumped on starting pitcher Cal Bidwell for three runs in the 1st inning and coasted to a 10-4 victory over Walled Lake. The Market team committed nine errors and Roseville's George Klein scattered seven hits.

The double-elimination tourney continues tonight with two games at the Drayton ball park. Roseville faces Drayton Drug at 7:30 and Mount Clemens meets Howell in the 9 o'clock nightcap.

LO Boat Races Sunday

LAKE ORION — Summer races sponsored by the Lake Orion Boat Club will begin at 10 a.m. Sunday with a sailboat race. This is an open event and boats of over 17 feet will have a handicap.

Seven events are open for motor boats, beginning at 1 p.m. with outboards in a Class M race (5 hp and under) which many children under 12 are entering; and continuing with Class A (7½ hp and under); Class B (16½ hp and under), and Class X (open). Inboards will have three events, 95 hp and under; 135 hp and under, and open.

Entries may be registered at either Squaw Island, or in the village park. Drivers have been asked to attend a meeting on Squaw Island at 12:30 p.m., previous to the races.

The boat club has installed a 6-foot starting clock on the island, as well as a public address system. Nine new buoys will mark the course on the south side of Squaw Island, between it and Park Island.

Entries are being made from Sylvan, Cass and St. Clair Lakes as well as the Orion area.

The new clubhouse under construction is nearing completion and may be finished in time for the races. It is at the village park on the harbor, so it will serve as a club center rather than a racing headquarters.

Turkey Shoot at LO

Lake Orion Gun Club has arranged a turkey shoot for Sunday at the outdoor range on Newman and Stanton roads. Signs are placed at Indianwood road, Orion, to point the way to the range.

Shooting starts at 11 a.m., continues until late afternoon. Shotgunners will fire from the 16-yard range and the riflemen shoot at 100 and 200 yard targets. Many fat fowls will be the prizes.

Rams, 'Skins Meet Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams and the Washington Redskins, both strong on defense but high scoring-minded, too, clash tonight in a National Football League exhibition game expected to draw 80,000 or more to the Los Angeles Caliseum.

The annual battle of these teams for Los Angeles Times Charities, Inc., shows a 6-4 record in favor of the Rams and they have a 9-point edge to win with the oddsmakers. Last year, thanks to Eddie LeBaron's four touchdown passes, the Redskins upset the local apple cart, 31-28.

Washington went on to finish second in the NFL Eastern Division while Los Angeles won the Western title, then lost to the world champion Cleveland Browns in the playoff.

Coach Sid Gillman, starting his sophomore year in the NFL, has a fearsome array of passing and running talent to send against the Redskins, who have been boning up on defense all week.

City 'F' Champs Name Starters for State Test

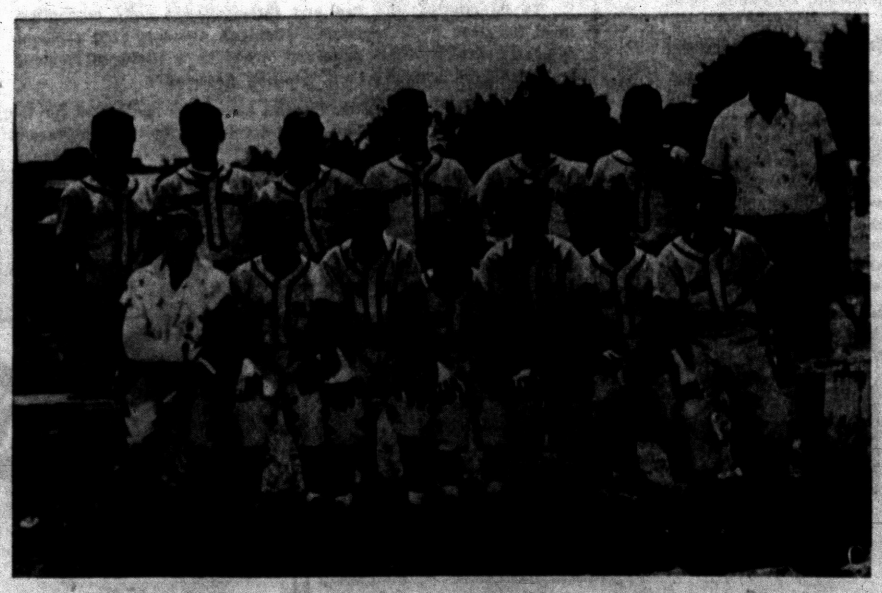

Rated one of the finest young baseball clubs in the area for many years, Pontiac's Class F city league champion Boys' Club nine Monday will make a try for a state title at Jackson.

Bill Coulacos' youngsters won the recent regional tourney in their division to win the right for a state tourney trip. Today, Coulacos named his starting lineup for the opener.

Davey Jones gets the call for mound duty, with Darrel Thorpe and Tommy Mayes in reserve. This trio gave up only seven hits in regional games with Centerline, Saginaw and Roseville.

Boys' Club made only one error out of a total 44 chances in the series, Coulacos reports. "We feel very strongly that the boys are 'up' for the tourney and can go all the way," Bill declared.

Other starters for Monday's 1st game are: Isaac Jones c; John Long 1b; Bob Robarja 2b; Ken Shaw ss; Dan Kimmel 3b; Stan Hertel lf; Dave McClintock cf; Roger Skosich rf. Thorpe and Mayes will also get some pitching work.

Brooks, Giants in Old Form

BROOKLYN (AP) — Brooklyn's Dodgers and the New York Giants battled for 4 hours and 48 minutes last night and into the early morning, but it was nothing new for the two old rivals.

They hold the major league record for drawn-out night games, struggling for 4 hours, 59 minutes before the Giants won 7-6 in 15 innings on Aug. 5, 1952.

Last night's game went to Brooklyn, 10-9, on Duke Snider's home run in the 13th inning.

The two clubs closed out nine innings last night in 3 hours, 43 minutes, which matched the National League record set by Chicago and St. Louis April 17, 1954, when the Cubs won 23-13.

The longest major league game on record: Brooklyn and Boston, in a 20-inning job won by the Dodgers 6-2, in 5 hours, 19 minutes July 5, 1940.

UNDER WATCHFUL EYES—Don McIlhenny will have most of the attention of the Detroit Lion coaches tonight in the exhibition game against Pittsburgh in Toledo. The former Southern Methodist halfback is expected to see plenty of action in view of the heel injury to Howard Cassady. The Lions are depending heavily on the recently arrived All-Star.

McIlhenny in Lions' Spotlight

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The Detroit Lions will field a predominantly veteran combination when they open their exhibition season against the Pittsburgh Steelers tonight at the Glass Bowl.

Coach Buddy Parker said the starting lineup will be made up of players who worked with the club last year—with one exception. Ollie Spencer, just back from an armed service hitch, will fill one of the guard spots.

Either Bobby Lane or Harry Gilmer will start at quarterback. Leon Hart, Bill Stits and Jim Doran will round out the quartet.

Rookies seeking berths on the squad will get a chance to perform later in the game.

Don McIlhenny will probably get the most work of the freshman backfield contingent. Howard (Hopalong) Cassady still is limping with a bone bruise suffered in the all-star training camp. He may not play at all.

With Cassady ailing, the Lions will give much of their attention to McIlhenny, the ex-SMU ace, on whom the coaches will be relying heavily this season.

The starting offensive lineup will have Dorne Dibble and Jug Girard at the ends, Lou Creekmur and Jim Salsbury at tackles Spencer and Harley Sewell at the guards, and Charley Ane at center.

The defensive lineup will see three new faces. Milt Davis will get the call at one of the halfback slots while Ray Krouse and Gene Cronin will be in the line.

Gil Mains, Sonny Gandee, Jim David, Yale Lary and Jack Christiansen make up the balance of the starting team.

Former Michigan college players are scheduled to start for the Steelers. Ted Marchibroda, former University of Detroit standout, will handle right half at the opening. Lowell Perry, former Wolverine, is slated for left end while Michigan State's Marv McFadden will be at guard.

The game with Pittsburgh is the first of six exhibition games before the start of the regular season.

Detroit must cut its current roster of 47 players to 35 by the time regulation play gets under way.

GMC Is Class C Entry

GMC joined city champion Pulver Tire and North Side Auto Parts as Pontiac representatives in girls Michigan Softball Assn. tournaments with a 12-6 victory over Gingellville last night at North Side Park.

It was GMC's 2nd straight win over Gingellville in their best-of-3 playoff to decide the city's Class C entry. The Coachers enter the regional tournament, Aug. 24-26, at Owosso.

Pulver in Class A and the Auto Parts in Class B will wade into state tourney warfare, Aug. 31-Sept. 3, at Port Huron and Battle Creek.

GMC scored six runs in the 1st two innings, then coasted to its easy triumph over Gingellville.

Pitcher Joyce McCaslin was supported by a lusty 13-hit attack, including home runs by Billie Snell and Janice Bendig. Snell's homer came with two aboard in the 6th while Bendig's round-tripper was a solo effort in the 7th.

The Coachers tallied 3-run pairs in the 1st two and final two innings. Arlene Martin pitched the route for Gingellville.

Hint Investigation of Detroit Boxing

DETROIT (INS) — State boxing commissioner Floyd Stevens said he was surprised to learn today that a special attorney general from Washington has been quietly investigating evils of boxing in Detroit.

Stevens said none of the other members of the State Athletic Board of control had been contacted by the special investigator, Max Goldschein.

He said, "It would seem logical that if such an investigation is being made the proper place to start would be in my office.

"If there is any skullduggery going on here, we would like to know about it . . .

"We welcome such an investigation."

Goldschein reportedly is gathering data to present to a federal grand jury which will be impaneled in Chicago to investigate links between professional boxing and hoodlums and the alleged doping of fighters.

One reliable source said some of "the biggest names in boxing—managers, fighters, promoters and trainers—will be called to testify."

Among those to be subpoenaed will be James D. Norris, president of the International Boxing Club and part owner of Detroit's Olympia.

Doctoring Your Golf Game

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Wind problems

DIAGNOSIS: Improper club selection

TREATMENT: It's good fun and valuable experience to play in a high wind. But the game is completely changed, and you will have to make certain adjustments.

As a starter, you have to evaluate the possibilities of your various clubs, and you have to change your stance. As the sketch shows, you advance your hands and position the ball farther back than ordinarily when you're playing into the wind. In this way you'll get a low and desired trajectory.

You also raise the strength of your club about two degrees—from the No. 8 to the No. 6, or from the No. 4 to the 2, conforming with the distance to be covered. You definitely hit down on the ball—with a descending blow, so that you contact the ball first and then take turf. And stay down to the ball, making certain that the left arm power is maintained through the ball and not in the line of flight.

If the wind is at your back, you reverse the procedure by reducing the club strength two degrees, or maybe only one, depending on how strong the wind is. It is expedient to keep the ball high and riding with the wind. Play the ball a little more advanced than on the regular shot—an inch or two farther toward the left foot, and swing normally. The club loft will provide the desired height.

In a cross wind raise the club strength one point—from the No. 6 to the No. 5, for example, and keep the ball low when possible. Practice in the wind. It will pay off.

3-Way Disqualification Puts 6th Finisher Third

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) When Eddie Arcaro finished last with his mount in a six-horse field yesterday and still wound up with third money, old-timers recalled another triple disqualification 22 years ago at Saratoga.

On the last day of the 1934 season, in the last of a seven-race card, the first three finishers — Anna V. L., Noble Spirit and Semaphore — were disqualified and the other three horses were substituted in their places.

The majority of the crowd, rushing to make travel arrangements, didn't learn until the next day that the bookmakers paid off on Just Cup, Celiba and Bahudur.

Yesterday's three-ply disqualification was a little more complicated. The Brookmeade Stable's Planchette, first across the finish line in the 6-furlong third race for 2-year-old fillies, was disqualified for crossing over a half-mile from the finish.

The number or C. V. Whitney's Snow White, second to finish, was taken down for repeatedly bearing in during the stretch run. Down with Snow White went stablemate Defilade, who finished fourth.

After the judges' decision had been made, the results showed Walter P. Chrysler's Jr.'s Tourbillonte first, R. N. Webster's Prophet's Bell second and Walter M. Jeffords' Baggage, arcaro's mount, third. Actually Arcaro was beaten by 17 lengths.

She toured the hilly, 6,019-yard Norwood Country Club course in 69—five-under-par — yesterday in the opening round of the four-day tourney.

Beverly Hanson of Apple Valley, Calif., with an opening-day 72, was in second place in the race for the $900 first prize money.

Five players were grouped at 73's. They were Marlene Bauer Hagge of Grossinger, N.Y., winner of the recent World Tournament at Tam O'Shanter; Joyce Ziske, Waterford, Wis.; Gloria Armstrong, Oakland, Calif.; Betty Dodd, Louisville, Ky., and Bonnie Randolph, Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Meinhart held only a slim 2-point lead over Mrs. Artie Palkowski of Norwalk, Calif., when they lofted their last arrows yesterday. Mrs. Meinhart picked up 6 more points than her rival to finish with 3,682 points in the three-day meet compared to 3,674 for Mrs. Palkowski.

1st Horse Show for Troy Club

Exchangites Plan 22 Event Affair Sunday, at Boulan Park

Big plans have been made for the first annual horse show, sponsored by Troy's Exchange Club. The 22-event affair is set for Sunday, Aug. 19 at Boulan park, off Crooks road to the west, (between 16 and 17-Mile roads). Show gets under way at 10 a.m. and will run most of the day, with a fine field of entries. In case of bad weather the show will be moved to Sunday, Aug. 26.

George Littleson is the show manager and Clark Gills supervisor of the grounds. Trophies and ribbons will be awarded in each event, with additional trophies going to the two top point winners.

A junior horsemanship event opens the competition, and the working stock horse open contest will wind up the fine program. Flag races, speed and action, bending, feature events, western features and other classes provide a full day.

Hamtramck Back in Williamsport as State Entry

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Hamtramck, Mich., will go to Williamsport, Pa., again next week for the Little League World Series.

The 1955 Midwest regional champions repeated here Thursday, beating Brainerd-Beverly of Chicago, 6-3, on Ron Orlowski's two home runs and seven-hit pitching.

Orlowski and Gary Sine, who hit a home run and a double, each drove in three runs for the winners. Howard Haegele homered with a man on base for Chicago in the 6th inning.

Richardson Gains Newport Semifinals

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Showing up in the semifinals of the Newport Tennis Tournament is getting to be a habit with Ham Richardson.

When the U.S. Davis Cupper from Westfield, N.J., turned back the challenge of young Mike Green of Miami Beach, Fla., yesterday, 10-8, 3-6, 6-2, 7-5 it marked the fourth straight year in which he reached the round of four.

Twice, 1954 and 1955, he went on to win the title to become the first two-in-a-row winner since Australia's Frank Sedgman put on the Casino Club toga in 1951 and '52.

Pirates Sign Collegian

PITTSBURG (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates today signed Thomas J. Casey Jr., 21-year-old first baseman from New Haven, Conn., for their Waco club in the Class B. Big State League.

Casey, a left-handed hitter and thrower, hit .345 for Villanova University this past season. He reports to Waco next spring.

U. S., Canadian Girls in Finals

WINNIPEG (AP) — It'll be the United States vs. Canada in the finals of the Canadian Women's Open golf championship regardless of the outcome of today's semifinal matches.

Judy Bell of Wichita, Kan., and Pat Lesser of Seattle meet in one of the semifinal matches. The other brings together defending champion Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont., and Rae Milligan of Jasper, Alta.

Two of yesterday's quarter-final matches went to the 18th green for decision. Miss Bell won one up over Mary Patton Janssen of Charlottesville, Va., and Miss Lesser turned aside a determined Betty Stanhope, Canadian junior champion from Edmonton, two up.

The Canadian representatives in the semifinals had an easier time. Miss Stewart ended her match with Mrs. Maurice Glick, the knitting golfer from Baltimore on the 16th with a 3 and 2 triumph. Miss Milligan had little trouble posting a 4 and 3 decision over Virginia Dennehy of Lake Forest, Ill.

Today's semifinals are 18-hole affairs but the distance for tomorrow's final stretches out to 36 holes.

Ex-Lion Signs Pact With Pro Canadians

CALGARY, Alta. (AP) — Jim Cain, a five-year veteran of the Detroit Lions of the National Football League, has come to contract terms with the Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian Football League.

Cain, 6-foot-3 defensive end, was released on waivers by the Lions Wednesday. He is expected to fill the gap created by the injury to Bill McKenna during the Toronto-Calgary exhibition game last week.

House-Building Falls Off in U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Construction of new housing in the U.S. continued to fall off last month, the Labor Department reported.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics placed the total of new housing units begun during July at 101,000—or 3,000 less than in June.

The total was 22,000 fewer than in July 1955.

The bureau said the decrease was entirely in privately owned housing, which has accounted for almost all new dwelling units started in recent years.

Grain Market Hit by Heavy Selling

CHICAGO (AP)—Fairly heavy selling hit all grains on the Board of Trade today, throwing most cereals back for major fractional losses and soybeans down more than two cents at times.

Pressure entered wheat while new crop corn and soybeans had to absorb selling based on the five day weather outlook which promised ample moisture for the main producing territory.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ to ⅞ lower, September $2.18⅝; corn ¼ to ⅞ lower, September $1.51⅝; oats ⅛ to ⅝ lower, September 75⅝; rye unchanged to ½ lower, September $1.42¾; soybeans 1¼ to 3¼ lower, $2.47¼; and lard 12 to 25 cents a hundred pounds lower, September $12.10.

Trading Active on Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Prices moved ahead in fairly active trading early today in the stock market.

Many pivotal issues rose fractionally. A few favorites gained a point or so. There were some losers.

The market was higher from the start, gained momentum, then some stocks eased a trifle.

Crucible Steel and General Dynamics, the latter one of the most active stocks yesterday, enjoyed heavy turnover. Each advanced a point or so.

Leading steels went ahead fractions but U.S. Steel was unchanged on an opening block of 1,500 shares at 65½.

Oils were mixed as the conference on Suez proceeded. Gulf Oil eased a major fraction while Royal Dutch edged ahead. Texas Pacific Coal & Oil was off slightly following its minor decline of yesterday when it had heavy turnover on news Sinclair had contracted to buy 1,100,000 shares of the company.

Parke Davis gained a good fraction following news it was manufacturing a new vaccine which caused "substantial reduction" in grippe infections.

Gainers included Douglas Aircraft, Goodrich, Anaconda, Union Carbide, Pan American World Airways and Radio Corp.

Boeing was up ¼ at 53¾ on an opening block of 1,400 shares and extended its advance fractionally.

Nash-Hudson Loses $7 Million

American Motors Still in Hole Despite Sale of Stock

DETROIT (AP)—Despite a profit of $10,652,229 from sale of stock in a subsidiary company, American Motors Corp. lost $7,871,802 in the nine months ended June 30, it was reported by President George Romney.

The figure compared with a loss of $4,522,171 in the comparable period in 1955, after a tax recovery of $4,723,000.

"Further loss from (Nash-Hudson) automotive operations in the final quarter of the year" will result from low summer production schedules and shutdowns for vacations and changeovers to 1957 models in August and September, Romney said yesterday.

He also said he expects AMC's operating costs to be reduced "many millions of dollars as a result of further steps in AMC's post-merger (Nash and Hudson) integration program."

* * *

Romney attributed a major portion of the nine-month loss to lower car sales and heavy costs resulting from advancement "by a full year of the introduction of the completely new 1956 Rambler, which also caused its late public announcement."

Earnings

NEW YORK (INS) — Pan American World Airways today reported a net profit of $5,965,000, equal to 97 cents a share, for the first half of 1956, compared with $4,550,000, or 76 cents a share, a year earlier. Total operating revenue rose more than 20 per cent to $131,922,000.

NEW YORK (INS)—American Gas and Electric today reported a 9½ per cent increase in earnings for the 12 months ended July 31. The 12-month net was $30,772,000, equal to $2.04 per common share, compared with $1.88 a share for the previous year. In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF GLEN McPhail, who passed away Aug. 14, 1949.
I seem to see in the soft, dim light,
A face I loved the best;
And think of him when the sun's last ray,
Goes down in the far off west.
I miss you no less as the time passes on,
Than I did on the day of your going.
For absence can never close the door of my heart.
And the lamp of my love is still glowing
Your heart was the truest in all the wide world,
Your love the best to recall.
For no one on earth could take your place,
You are still the dearest of all.
Sadly missed by Wife and Daughters

IN MEMORY OF GUS PANTEL, who passed away August 17, 1955.
He was a buddy, he was a pal,
Right up to the end.
He shared our good times, as he shared our bad
There was no other like him.
He was our dad.
Sadly missed by his children and their families.

House-Building Falls Off in U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Construction of new housing in the U.S. continued to fall off last month, the Labor Department reported.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics placed the total of new housing units begun during July at 101,000—or 3,000 less than in June.

The total was 22,000 fewer than in July 1955.

The bureau said the decrease was entirely in privately owned housing, which has accounted for almost all new dwelling units started in recent years.

Okay Liberalization of Rules on Gas Use

More liberal Consumers Power Co. rules on the installation of gas facilities were approved by the State Public Service Commission.

The change involves refunds to customers who have paid all or part of the cost of installing new mains and connecting lines in outlying areas.

The measure provides that if any new customers install space heaters within 10 years, Consumers will refund an additional amount equal to twice the revenue from the customer the first year, less any prior refunds made for gas used other than for space heating.

Britain's Forestry Commission will plant 5,000,000 acres of trees in the next 50 years.

Trading Active on Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Prices moved ahead in fairly active trading early today in the stock market.

Many pivotal issues rose fractionally. A few favorites gained a point or so. There were some losers.

The market was higher from the start, gained momentum, then some stocks eased a trifle.

Crucible Steel and General Dynamics, the latter one of the most active stocks yesterday, enjoyed heavy turnover. Each advanced a point or so.

Leading steels went ahead fractions but U.S. Steel was unchanged on an opening block of 1,500 shares at 65½.

Oils were mixed as the conference on Suez proceeded. Gulf Oil eased a major fraction while Royal Dutch edged ahead. Texas Pacific Coal & Oil was off slightly following its minor decline of yesterday when it had heavy turnover on news Sinclair had contracted to buy 1,100,000 shares of the company.

Parke Davis gained a good fraction following news it was manufacturing a new vaccine which caused "substantial reduction" in grippe infections.

Gainers included Douglas Aircraft, Goodrich, Anaconda, Union Carbide, Pan American World Airways and Radio Corp.

Boeing was up ¼ at 53¾ on an opening block of 1,400 shares and extended its advance fractionally.

Oakland County deputies today are investigating the theft of a typewriter from the office of the Howard Keating Subdivision at 2991 Pontiac Rd., Avon Township. The machine was believed to have been taken sometime yesterday.

Nash-Hudson Loses $7 Million

American Motors Still in Hole Despite Sale of Stock

DETROIT (AP)—Despite a profit of $10,652,229 from sale of stock in a subsidiary company, American Motors Corp. lost $7,871,802 in the nine months ended June 30, it was reported by President George Romney.

The figure compared with a loss of $4,522,171 in the comparable period in 1955, after a tax recovery of $4,723,000.

"Further loss from (Nash-Hudson) automotive operations in the final quarter of the year" will result from low summer production schedules and shutdowns for vacations and changeovers to 1957 models in August and September, Romney said yesterday.

However, he added, he foresees "substantial" improvement for American Motors in 1957, "with automotive sales benefiting from earlier announcement of 1957 models, increased popularity of the Rambler line and a reduced carryover of prior year models."

He also said he expects AMC's operating costs to be reduced "many millions of dollars as a result of further steps in AMC's post-merger (Nash and Hudson) integration program."

* * *

Romney attributed a major portion of the nine-month loss to lower car sales and heavy costs resulting from advancement "by a full year of the introduction of the completely new 1956 Rambler, which also caused its late public announcement."

Earnings

NEW YORK (INS) — Pan American World Airways today reported a net profit of $5,965,000, equal to 97 cents a share, for the first half of 1956, compared with $4,550,000, or 75 cents a share, a year earlier. Total operating revenue rose more than 20 per cent to $131,922,000.

NEW YORK (INS)—American Gas and Electric today reported a 9½ per cent increase in earnings for the 12 months ended July 31. The 12-month net was $30,772,000, equal to $2.04 per common share, compared with $1.88 a share for the previous year. AGE's earnings for the first seven months totaled $23,608,000, up 7 per cent from 1955.

Business Notes

DEARBORN — Ford Division of Ford Motor Co. today announced appointment of George A. Schumm as assistant parts and service operations manager. He joined Ford's central finance staff in 1947.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF GLEN McPhail, who passed away Aug. 14, 1949.
I seem to see in the soft, dim light,
A face I loved the best;
And think of him when the sun's last ray,
Goes down in the far off west.
I miss you no less as the time passes on,
Than I did on the day of your going.
For absence can never close the door of my heart.
And the lamp of my love is still glowing.
Your heart was the truest in all the wide world,
Your love the best to recall.
For no one on earth could take your place,
You are still the dearest of all.
Sadly, missed by Wife and Daughters

IN MEMORY OF GUS PANTEL, who passed away August 17, 1955.
He was a buddy, he was a pal,
Right up to the end.
He shared our good times, as he shared our bad
There was no other like him.
He was our dad.
Sadly missed by his children and their families.

National Bonded ONE FULL YEAR GUARANTEE

Consider these advantages of the NATIONAL BONDED guarantee. A dealer can garantee his cars only in his dealership. NATIONAL BONDED GUARANTEES THE CAR ANYWHERE IN THE U.S. AT THE REPAIR SHOP OF THE OWNER'S CHOOSING . . . The dealer's guarantee is actually a personal guarantee. If bad health or business failure should visit the dealer, the guarantee is void. NATIONAL BONDED is backed by $120,000,000 in assets. Regardless what happens to the individual, the owner's protection continues for the full year . . . The dealer's guarantee is on a percentage basis. The dealer pays a share of the repair costs and the owner pays a share. NATIONAL BONDED pays the repair bill in full; the owner pays nothing.

Nanette Sought for Spectacular

Rudy Vallee Will Sub for Allen This Monday and Tuesday

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—NBC hired—this is no joke—a lip reader to report what political convention delegates are saying when their faces are on camera in the control center but they can't be heard . . .

She's 26-year-old Dolores Mona, with a master's degree in her profession, who teaches at the New York School for the Deaf.

Dolores discovered Harry Truman and NBC's Chet Huntley have "a stiff upper lip" in common, meaning their upper lip stays over the teeth, difficult to "read." . . .

Smilers make lip reading rough, she said, and President Ike, an easy and frequent grinner, replaces much of the customary visual muscle-action with broad smiles . . .

Tom Dewey is the lip-translator's delight—direct, firm speaking manner. Adlai jokes and twists his head a lot "and that makes it rough on a reader."

Joe Cates (ex-64,000 shows) gets a $75,000 annual guarantee in his new NBC production pact, exclusived here weeks ago . . .

Cates' first assignment: "High Button Shoes" Nov. 24, for which NBC wants Nan Fabray . . . Nan has NBC and CBS still bidding for her services.

Jack Carson may get the "High Button Shoes" assignment opposite La Fabray or whichever doll gets the nod.

If Frank Sinatra does 15 minutes of free publicity for his new movie on the Steve Allen Sunday show and doesn't sing a note, it will turn out as one of the worst carnival come-ons since Ed Sullivan discovered the technique of announcing stars who aren't even there in person, but on publicity film clips . . .

Rudy Valle, bigger than anyone in his radio day, gets the Steve Allen sub show Monday and Tuesday . . . His guest: Kenny (Sen. Claghorn) Delmar another used-to-be radio star.

PUBLICITY TRAP?

The eager suit against NBC for $3,000,000 by Martin and Lewis suggests their feuding split may be the year's most revolting publicity trap . . .

Ernie Kovacs and ABC radio drift apart any moment. Leonard is one of six jokesters who'll audition for Ernie's deejay job.

H. Allen Smith, the inspired lunatic (Low Man on a Totem Pole, Life in a Putty Knife Factory, The Life of Rosey Rosner), has sold TV rights to his comedy "One Coat of White" to CBS-TV's big new spectacular, "Playhouse 90." . . .

Les Paul and Mary Ford make merry TV music, but as actors—play the music, kids . . .

Explosion Kills Baby, Injures 5

Gas Heating Leakage Believed to Be Cause; House Demolished

FARWELL (AP) — An explosion touched off by an accumulation of gas killed a 6-month old baby, injured five persons and demolished a five-room frame house last night.

The heating system in the house had been converted from bottle gas to natural gas earlier in the day. State Police said there apparently was a leakage.

Six-month-old Laura Roseland was killed in the blast, which occurred two miles northwest of this Clare County town, at the intersection of U.S. 10 and M115. The injured are Mrs. Shirley Roseland, 21, the infant's mother; Mrs. Roseland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Eastlick, both 39; the Eastlick's son, Albert, 17, and Theodore Thompson, 53, a plumber. All the injured were admitted to Clare Hospital in Clare.

Thompson, who was injured critically, was connecting a wall furnace and a hot water heater when the explosion occurred beneath the kitchen floor. The blast blew out all four walls, causing the roof to fall to the floor.

Thompson and the baby were buried beneath the debris and had to be dug out by rescue workers. The others were injured less seriously than Thompson.

The Eastlicks' other children were playing at the home of a neighbor at the time.

Egypt Reports Fighting in Gaza Strip Desert

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — The semi-official Middle East News Agency said Israeli forces attacked Egyptian positions in the Gaza coastal strip today. No details were given.

Garden Hose to Surprise Vacationers

DETROIT (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Roberts will return home from their vacation one of these days to discover they have a new underground sprinkling system.

Their garden hose when last seen, was burrowing like a mole, farther and farther underground.

Hans Neurath, 14, who is taking care of the Roberts' lawn while they're away, left the hose running all night. Yesterday the nozzle had burrowed far out of sight and the hose was disappearing inch by inch.

A geologist speculated that the stream of water washed sand and soil into recesses of the ground, creating a vacuum that sucked the hose into the earth.

Hans gave up digging for it when he hit four feet.

Detroit Leveling Onetime Skyscraper

DETROIT (INS) — A Detroit landmark, one of the Motor City's first skyscrapers will be only a memory after today.

The 10-story, 67-year-old Hammond building will be torn down to make room for a $12 million National Bank Building.

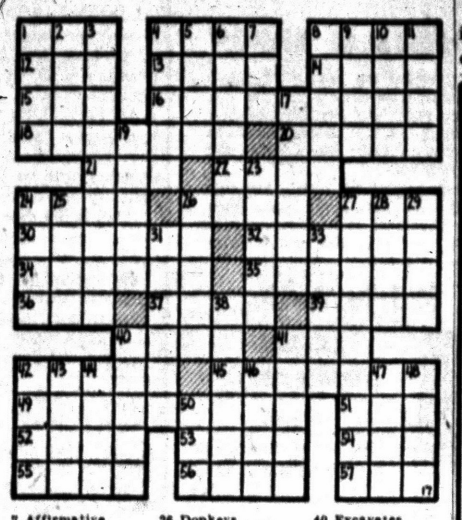

Another old structure, the Bankers Equitable Building, also will be demolished.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Says Rippe Cheated to Win Election

DETROIT (INS)—Taylor Township Justice William Ford told newsmen yesterday Supervisor Harold Rippe's henchmen altered voting records and stuffed ballot boxes to stay in power.

Before taking the oath of secrecy to appear at the Wayne County Graft Grand Jury, Ford, a political enemy of Rippe's, blasted the township's political czar," charging he used 400 absent voters' ballots to win the 1955 general election.

Ford said Rippe's opponent, Alexander Papp, was defeated by only 200 votes. He charged the phony ballots were solicited in bars and restaurants from persons "who were not even Taylor Township residents."

Extortionist Sentenced

DETROIT (AP)—Claude R. Spicer, 18, of Detroit, convicted of forcing a younger newspaper boy to give him $2 under threat of a beating, was sentenced Thursday to 1 to 10 years imprisonment.

Georgia Births Climb

ATLANTA (AP) — More children were born in Georgia in 1955 than during any previous year, L. M. Lacy, director of the State Division of Vital Records, said figures for 1955 showed 100,295 babies were born during the year, 104 more than in 1954.

Now High Schools Must Be Built

Michigan Expects 1,455,000 Public Students

LANSING (AP) — Michigan public school enrollment is expected to total about 1,455,000 this fall—an increase of 70,000 over last year's figure.

Dr. Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction, said the impact of an additional 70,000 students will be felt both in elementary and secondary schools.

This is the first time in several years, he said, that the rate of increase has been the same in both secondary and elementary schools. Usually, the biggest increase has been felt in elementary schools.

Taylor said the rapid rate of growth in secondary enrollments has two causes:

1. Students are staying in school longer than they used to.

2. The full impact of the wartime baby boom is hitting the high schools.

The school chief said most was babies are now in grades seven through 10. Secondary classes will continue to be jammed for several years.

The increase in secondary school enrollments has shifted the accent in school construction, Taylor said.

HIGH SCHOOL PROBLEM

For the past several years, most districts built new elementary classrooms or remodeled and enlarged old ones.

But now the building boom has extended to high schools. Taylor said about $1,000,000 worth of new school facilities will be ready for students this fall. The figure includes new buildings, remodelings and additions.

Taylor estimated 2,000 new classrooms will be ready for students this fall.

Meanwhile, he said, reorganization of school districts continues at a rapid pace. This year there are 400 fewer districts than one year ago.

NEED MORE TEACHERS

Taylor said school transportation facilities are also increasing. This year, an estimated 10,000 more students will ride school buses. Last year, 400,000 students used school buses.

The school superintendent said the teacher shortage in Michigan is less severe than it was a year ago.

This year, the state will have 53,000 teachers, an increase of 2,000 over last year, he said.

Taylor hastens to add that there is still a great demand for qualified teachers in Michigan.

This year's crop of teachers will be generally better qualified, he said. The number of special certificate teachers is 6,000, a drop of 1,000 from last year.

Teaching salaries this year will average $4,900, Taylor estimates. This compares with an average of $4,700 last year. Detroit teachers get an average salary of $6,000.

883 New Polio Cases Reported for Last Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—There were 883 new polio cases reported by the states last week.

This was an increase of 124 over those in the week ended Aug. 4 but less than half the 1,785 in the comparable 1955 week.

For the fourth straight week the total has been smaller than in any comparable week since 1947. The total of 6,198 cases this year through Aug. 11 also was the lowest for that date in any year since 1947.

Chicago continued to be the only "real hot spot," a Public Health Service spokesman said today.

Illinois reported 218 cases last week; California 87 and Iowa 42. A year ago in the comparable week Massachusetts had 411, with an epidemic in Boston, and 12 other states had more than 42 cases each.
