Dulles Will Offer News Agencies China Entry Plan

WASHINGTON (INS)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and representatives of America's news media meet today to try to devise a plan permitting U. S. journalists to enter Red China.

Officials said the way may be cleared within the next few weeks for American newsmen to take up the year-old invitation from Peiping to visit the China mainland.

But they said it depends on whether the press representatives accept Dulles' ideas. The secretary reportedly is willing to allow a limited number of newsmen to travel to Red China, but only for a specified—and probably brief—period of time.

Sources said Dulles is thinking along the lines of several proposals he has received from the news organizations themselves, principally those favoring entry into Red China of representatives of the 12 U. S. news agencies that were there before the Communists took over in 1949.

Officials said Dulles is not firmly committed to this idea, although he feels it is reasonable.

Highly placed sources emphasized that the secretary is still opposed to a general abandonment of the travel ban, even for the press.

The 12 organizations which had correspondents in China before the Reds took over were: International News Service, Associated Press, United Press, National Broadcasting Company, Columbia Broadcasting System, American Broadcasting Company, New York Times, New York Herald Tribune, Christian Science Monitor, Chicago Daily News, Chicago Tribune and Time Magazine.

MET LAST FEBRUARY

The group meeting with Dulles this afternoon is substantially the same as the group that conferred with him last February to discuss the long-standing ban which has been under heavy fire from news organizations and Congress.

At that time, Dulles requested suggestions as to how the administration could lower its bar to travel for only a limited number of groups without allowing a general breakdown in its travel restrictions against the Peiping regime.

Civil Rights Bill Change Gaining

Backers Fight Against Growing Senate Feeling to Limit Scope

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supporters of the administration's civil rights bill fought today against mounting Senate sentiment to confine the measure's terms to the protection of voting rights.

An influential senator who asked not to be quoted by name said leadership polls indicate a majority of the Senate now favors an amendment by Senators Anderson (D-NM) and Aiken (R-Vt) to narrow the bill's scope.

Anderson and Aiken have proposed eliminating a section which would authorize the attorney general to seek injunctions to enforce all civil rights.

If the amendment were adopted, the proposed authority of the attorney general to intervene would be limited to cases involving voting rights.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) told reporters he believes the vote on the amendment "will be close but at this point I don't believe the section would be stricken from the bill."

Malenkov to Start Work

PARIS (INS) — Georgi Malenkov will begin his new job as manager of a power station in distant Ost-kamenogorsk with his subordinates already on record as wanting nothing to do with him.

New Road Law Will Cut Costs on Perry Street

Contract Negotiations Reopened by Mackie's Announcement

Pontiac's share in the cost of widening Perry street (M24) will be trimmed in half, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie indicated yesterday.

The Pontiac cost cut was part of an announcement by Mackie that he would renegotiate old agreements with nine cities to provide them with an additional half million dollars in state funds for trunkline improvements within their borders.

Mackie's action was dictated by the new highway bill which slashes each city's share of financial participation on trunkline projects.

Pontiac's saving was estimated to lie between $125,000 and $185,000.

COST SPLITTING

The cuts affect projects in which the federal government is paying one half the total cost, and the other half is split by the state and local governments. The new law:

Cuts from 50 to 25 per cent the cost to cities, like Pontiac, with more than 50,000 population.

Cuts from 45 to 22½ per cent the cost to cities of from 40,000 to 50,000 population; and Cuts from 35 to 17½ per cent the cost to cities of from 30,000 to 40,000 population.

Cities under 30,000 population won't have to pay anything.

Mackie said he would renegotiate contracts with all nine cities providing construction contracts had not been let as of July 1, when the new law took effect.

MISS U.S.A.—Leona Gage, a tall, shapely beauty, poses with her royal trappings after being named Miss U.S.A. during the Miss Universe contest in Long Beach, Calif., last night. She weighs 118, and her measurements are 36-23-36. She is 5 feet 9½ inches tall.

MISS MICHIGAN—Valerie Joy Strong, of Williamsburg, was chosen Miss Michigan from 16 other candidates at finals in Muskegon last night. She entered the contest as Miss Central Michigan.

Face Questions From Senators on Use of Funds

Seeking to Determine if They Bought Homes With Treasury Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two top officials of the United Textile Workers Union were summoned today to tell whether they used union money to buy expensive homes for themselves.

President Anthony Valente and Secretary-Treasurer Lloyd Klenert, who have denied any irregularities, go before the special Senate Rackets Investigating Committee to reply to testimony that they used $57,000 from the union treasury to buy homes for themselves, and another $57,000 from the same source to "reimburse" the union.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark), in a statement launching this new phase of the committee's search for evidence of racketeering, graft and other wrongdoing, said the public hearings would explore also allegations that Klenert dipped into the union's treasury for $40,000 more to buy things for himself, his family and friends.

After plans for the hearings were announced, the two union officials said in a joint statement that "all expenditures of union funds have been made either with the authorization of the convention or the International Executive Council, the organization's highest governing body."

McClellan announced AFL-CIO President George Meany will be called as a witness Monday. He said "it has been reported to the committee that Mr. Klenert and Mr. Valente took steps to return this money for the 1952 home purchases only after their misuse of these union funds had been discovered by George Meany, then secretary-treasurer of the AFL."

AFL UNION

The UTW is a former AFL union blanketed into the AFL-CIO in the big union merger.

It still goes its separate way from the rival Textile Workers Union of America, a former CIO union, also now embraced in the parent AFL-CIO.

Martin J. Quigley, president of the Mutual Title Co. here, testified he personally closed the real estate deal in early May 1952. Quigley said that to finance it, Valente and Klenert "originally put up $95,000" in the form of a check drawn on their union's funds.

COST OF HOMES

He said this was what the two houses cost—$42,500 for Valente's and $52,500 for Klenert's. But they used only $57,000 of the $95,000, he said, because they agreed to take over and pay off mortgages totaling $38,000 outstanding against the two properties.

Quigley then identified a batch of bank drafts and cashier's checks he said he had received about May 15, 1952, from Valente and Klenert amounting to another $57,000.

Top Beauties Named for Michigan, U.S.A.

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A "go-for-broke" gamble in which two beautiful girls pooled their money to back one of them in the Miss Universe contest paid off today for lovely Leona Gage, 21, the new Miss United States of America.

The tall, raven-haired beauty from Glen Burnie, Md., who came west with her 24-year-old cousin, a $45 gown and high hopes, won the coveted crown last night and will now compete in the international phase of the contest.

The gamble that led to the thrill-packed climax was taken two months ago when Leona and her cousin, Barbara Gage, who make their home together, scraped together $45 and went shopping for a gown so Leona could enter the Miss Maryland contest.

"I had $35 and she had $10," said Barbara, breathless with excitement as she watched the pearl-studded Miss U.S.A. crown being placed on the dark locks of her cousin. She added:

"We had made the money modeling and it was all we had. We found a dress marked down from $60 to $45, so we bought it. And she won!

STILL NO MONEY

"But we still didn't have any money. They gave Leona a two-way ticket to Long Beach so we used both ways so I could come out, too... and now she's won again!"

MUSKEGON (AP)—For the second consecutive year a beauty of Swedish extraction, "and proud of it," will carry Michigan's hopes into the Miss America Pageant—this time in the person of 21-year-old Valerie Joy Strong.

The daughter of a Grand Traverse County cherry grower, Valerie last night was named Miss Michigan for 1958 from a field of 17 entries in the state contest before more than 2,000 spectators.

A poised and shapely (34-24-35) senior at Central Michigan College, Valerie entered the contest as Miss Central Michigan.

She stands a trim 5-foot-6, weighs 114 pounds and has blue eyes and light brown hair.

Valerie is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Strong, who operate a 300-acre cherry orchard at Williamsburg. She has a younger sister, Cheryl, 12.

MISS AMERICA PRESENT

The new Miss Michigan was crowned by Shirley Ann Swanson of Muskegon, title holder last year who described herself as a "Swede on both sides" and Marian Ann McKnight, presiding Miss America.

Pleasant Weather Ahead for Area

Outdoor enthusiasts may continue to revel in fair and pleasant weather, says the U.S. Weather Bureau.

The outlook for tonight is fair and pleasant with little temperature change, low near 60.

Winds will be east to northeast at 6 to 12 miles an hour today and tonight.

Tomorrow will be warm and sunny with a high near 82 degrees. In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 59. At 2 p.m. the mercury registered 86.

Hot Weather Grips Area

CHICAGO (INS)—Baking temperatures reaching up to the 100-degree mark gripped the Southeast, Southwest and Plains states again today while the Northeast enjoyed moderately pleasant weather.

More Reservists Heading for Camp

READY FOR CAMP — Pontiac area reservists are preparing for their annual two-week summer field training at Ft. Riley, Kan., from July 21 to Aug. 4.

An advance party from the 307th Headquarters Ordinance Battalion (shown above) left today to arrange housing, supply and mess facilities for the main body.

The 307th Battalion, oldest reserve unit in the area, will control the training program for the participating units, which are the 888th Ordinance Company, Pontiac; 883rd Ordinace Company, Allegan; and the 979th Ordinace Company, Flint.

Going over plans with the headquarters detachment commander, 1st Lt. John Kish, of Clarkston, seated, are M Sgt. C. W. Salton, Sp-2 Ester Eason, M Sgt. Paul Jones, and 2nd Lt. John Sawyers, all of Pontiac.

Briggs Leads Fleck in PGA Dayton Event

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Former National Open champion Jack Fleck, of Rochester, Mich., an early starter, was three down to Elden Briggs of Lansing, Mich., who also went out in 34 in today's PGA championship.

Tommy Bolt, who didn't even get a practice round before the tournament started, scrambled to a 2 up lead over Gene Littler in the big early morning second round match.

Says Hoffa Schemed Against Senate Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government prosecutor told a federal court jury today James R. Hoffa and Hyman I. Fischbach "cooked up a scheme to subvert and destroy the usefulness of the Senate Rackets Committee."

Asst. U. S. Atty. Edward P. Troxell, opening final arguments to the jury in Hoffa's bribery-conspiracy trial, acknowledged that John Cye Cheasty "deceived" both Hoffa and Fischbach.

Hoffa and Fischbach are accused of bribing Cheasty to get a job with the Senate committee and feed Hoffa confidential data on its operations.

Troxell said that if Cheasty had not pretended to go along, "the scheme cooked up by Hoffa and Fischbach" might have destroyed the committee.

Hoffa has testified that he hired Cheasty to help represent the Midwest Conference of Teamsters which Hoffa heads. Not until his arrest, Hoffa said, did he know that Cheasty worked for the committee.

Troxell said "the evidence is abundantly clear that Hoffa wanted a spy in the committee."

2 Finalists Settled in Women's Tourney

Finalists in the Michigan Women's Closed Golf championship were settled at noon today when Margie Watkins of Grosse Pointe defeated Mrs. E. O. Reynolds of Lansing 1-up after a see-saw battle.

The other finalist is Mrs. Don Weiss of Flint, who defeated Mrs. C. U. Wilson of Ann Arbor 4 and 3.

4 Clinton Men Freed in Court

U.S. Case Collapses; Other Defendants Ask Dismissal of Charges

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Charges of criminal contempt against four of the defendants in the "Clinton trial," landmark civil rights case, were dismissed today and the defense promptly moved for acquittal of the remaining 11.

The lawyers entered a blanket denial of the government's accusation that the defendants conspired to violate a federal injunction prohibiting interference with the enrollment of Negro students in Clinton High School last year.

The four were cleared on the motion of U. S. Dist. Atty. John C. Crawford Jr.

He said, "In my opinion," the evidence is not sufficient to warrant conviction of these men. Therefore, I move to dismiss the charges against them."

★ ★ ★

Those freed, all from the Clinton area, were:

Chris Foust, 35, school bus driver.

John B. Long, 31, house painter.

J. L. Coley, 43, carpenter.

Can't Refuse Dinner

OAKVILLE, Ont. (AP) — Warehouse worker Bob McCue made his customary visit last night to a corner of the warehouse being used as a nursery by an alley cat and her five new kittens. The cat lay complacently feeding her young ones. She apparently didn't know a 1½-inch field mouse was at the dinner table.

Board Voids 4 Police Promotions

Four Pontiac Police promotions, made by Chief Herbert W. Straley, were revoked by the three-man Civil Service Commission last night because the men did not take the necessary competitive examinations.

★ ★ ★

Disregarding the objection of Straley, the commission unanimously voided the promotions of provisional Captain Joseph Koren, provisional Lts. Harry E. Nye and Charles Gale and acting Lt. John A. DePauw.

EXAMS NEEDED

The action was taken in pursuance of a 1953 opinion of the attorney general which states promotions made six months previous to the passage of the law would be void unless competitive examinations were taken.

The commission also moved to have city personnel director Harold Marshall set up the time, dates and eligibility list of the lieutenant and captain ranks which will be open if Straley's further objections are overridden.

During the discussion of the proposed motion, Chief Straley objected and requested the commission make a formal request of him through the city manager for information and an answer as to why the men were promoted.

Chairman Theodore Carlson said the commission was complying with the law which, in this clause, was made so "chiefs can't fill positions with men of their choice before the law is enacted."

In other business, the commission tabled the proposal to allow all full-time paid employes of the police department to be protected under civil service.

Four grievances, concerning vacations, promotions and pay increases were presented to the commission by Detective Herbert C. Cooley, president of the Pontiac Police Officers Association.

The department's Civil Service Committee had presented them on June 24 to City Manager Walter K. Willman, who was to give a disposition on the cases within 10 days or forward them on to the Civil Service Commission for further study and action.

Willman, who is on vacation now, has not complied with the procedure, according to Carlson.

A second objection of Chief Straley was overruled. He objected to Cooley and the association presenting grievances for men like a "union bargaining committee."

Carlson said the commission recognized the association and he saw nothing wrong with them presenting grievances for the men.

The commission decided to study the four grievances and take them to Willman when he returns to find out why nothing was done, Carlson said.

Doubts Taxes Causing Move

Many Factors Influence Steel Firm's New Site, Williams Asserts

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams says it is "extremely doubtful" that Michigan taxes have been the sole influence in the decision of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. to locate a new $16,000,000 operation in Ohio.

★ ★ ★

It is "much more likely," the governor said, that the existence of a steel plant on the site was the "deciding factor."

LOCATE IN OHIO

Jones & Laughlin, big Detroit area firm, has said it is locating the new plant in Ohio because the tax outlook for corporations in Michigan is "not at all encouraging."

The company's announcement came in the wake of dispute over the effect of Michigan tax policies on business.

Critics of the Democratic administration have said the tax policies have driven business from the state. The Democrats have denied this, charging in turn the criticism is Republican - inspired in an effort to blame the Democrats for unemployment.

ASKED COMPANY

Williams, commenting yesterday on the Jones & Laughlin decision to build at Louisville, Ohio, near Canton, said his administration has been trying "for several months" to persuade the company to locate the new plant in Monroe. "From what we know of the background in this matter," Williams said, "it is extremely doubtful that taxes were really the important factor in their decision to go to Ohio.

"It is much more likely that while taxes may have had some influence, the deciding factor was the existence of a steel plant on the site at Canton."

Williams said the Chicago Journal of Commerce has quoted Jones & Laughlin as saying that it can get into production earlier by using this plant rather than building a new one in Monroe.

"We can expect from now until the next election," Williams said, "that any misfortune of this kind will be blamed entirely on taxes and all other factors ignored. The people will just have to be smart enough to weed out the economic facts from the Republican propaganda.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Where is the greatest danger from lightning in a thunderstorm? Do most discharges of lightning strike the ground?

The summer thunderstorm, the greatest producer of lightning, features maximum lightning danger in its later stages, not as the low, dark leading-edge squall passes above.

It is after the dark leading edge passes overhead, and after the rain is at least half finished, that maximum lightning danger occurs. It is still a danger after the rain has ended and the thunderhead has apparently passed on.

The leading squall line overhang of a thunderhead is sometimes a producer of lightning so it cannot be ignored. It does constitute a danger and precautions are in order. But maximum danger comes later, during the last of the rain and for a time thereafter.

Interestingly, most lightning discharges do not strike the ground, but strike oppositely charged cloud areas.

The Day in Birmingham

Police Expect to Occupy New Quarters in August

BIRMINGHAM — New quarters for the Birmingham police department are expected to be ready for occupancy about the middle of August, Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley revealed this week.

The shift came about with the removal of the fire department from the section of the city hall it had occupied prior to the completion of the Bowers street station. Other municipal departments have, or will have, revisions of their offices and facilities as the remodeling progresses.

The new police department area will include a special room where prisoners are booked, and a room for interrogation. Witnesses will view suspects through a one-way mirror arrangement without their identity being known.

In the past booking has been done at the desk where traffic business was conducted, and it was often necessary to question suspects in an office where other officers were carrying on other business.

A "cell within a cell" will provide a steel barred cage inside the regular cell, where prisoners may be placed when they show signs of violence or belligerence.

A waiting room will provide space for persons to stay without coming in contact with on-duty desk personnel, prisoners or persons at the station to conduct other business.

Special offices also are being established for the chief, clerical personnel, juvenile officer and a staff room where officers may discuss business with patrolmen in private and without interruption.

The department will, for the first time, have its own well equipped darkroom to handle photographic work.

Adequate lighting, cabinet and storage space, a room for parking meter repairs, and other modernization features will bring the department up to what Chief Moxley describes as "one of the best equipped outfits of its size in the state.

"We will have everything we need," he said, "with all of it modern, top quality and handy. Our garage space is the only thing that will remain the same as in the past.

"The best feature, perhaps, is the room where prisoners will be booked. The door they enter from outside will be opened by electronic control by the officer at the desk. The room where booking will be done will be isolated from the rest of the department.

"With barred windows and automatic locking of the door, there will be little oppportunity of anyone making a bid for freedom while being booked.

"While all those things are fine, we also are glad to have prisoners and those wanting nothing more than a new driver's license, situated so there is no need or chance of contact."

Young Heiress Jumps to Death

'The Only Way Out,' 24-Year-Old Socialite Said in Note

NEW YORK (AP)—Saying she was taking "the only way out," an attractive 24-year-old Milwaukee heiress plunged to her death yesterday from a 28th-floor Park Avenue penthouse.

Patricia E. Philipp, socialite daughter of a man prominent in Wisconsin Republican circles and granddaughter of a former governor of the state, left an unsigned 13-word note.

"Dear Hon—This is the only way out. You are not to blame," read the note. There was no clue as to the identity of "Hon."

The body of the brunette, a secretary to John Roosevelt, youngest son of the late President, was found on the seventh-floor terrace roof of an adjoining office building.

Miss Philipp, who would have been 25, July 28, was the daughter of Cyrus Philipp, president of Milwaukee's Union Refrigerator Transit Co. and a former Republican national committeeman. His father, Emanuel, was a former Wisconsin governor.

For the past two months, she worked as a secretary at the Allied Public Relations Associates. Roosevelt is a vice chairman of the firm's board.

Miss Philipp, a 1951 debutante and graduate of Vassar College, lived on Madison Avenue, with another girl. Prior to joining the public relations firm, she had worked for the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee and the American Refugee Committee.

The penthouse from which she plunged, located atop a hotel at Park Avenue and 34th Street, is retained by a downtown investment and securities firm for the convenience of out-of-town guests. There was no explanation of her presence in the penthouse.

Father Strangles Daughter in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Police said a 42-year-old father admitted strangling his 2½-year-old daughter early today as the child slept.

Homicide Det. Lt. Edward Jocque said the child, Virginia Knittle, was dead on arrival at East Side General Hospital at 2 a.m.

Jocque said the girl's father, Ralph Knittle was arrested a short time later at a downtown bus station.

Knittle, in an oral statement, told police he strangled the child after a quarrel with his wife, Josie 37. He said she ordered him to get out and he killed the child rather than leave her behind.

Knittle was taken to the Wayne County prosecutor's office to make a formal statement. Jocque said he would be charged with first degree murder.

Hope Appeal by Ike Blocks Further Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supporters of the administration's embattled foreign aid bill hoped today President Eisenhower's new appeal would block further House cuts in the multi-billion-dollar measure.

Eisenhower said last night a 400-million-dollar cut the House voted tentatively in his defense support economic aid request "can be considered as no less than a threat to our nation's security and that of the free world."

His statement came shortly after the House voted 106-100 to allow 500 million dollars for the program. Eisenhower originally had asked 900 millions. The Senate cut the request to 800 millions, and the House Foreign Affairs Committee reduced the figure to 700 millions.

Injured Man Recovering After Milford Accident

One of two drivers injured in an auto accident yesterday on N. Milford road near Rowe road in Milford Township is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital with a concussion. The other has been released.

Sheriff's deputies report he is Robert E. Doty, 17, of 162 Main St., Clyde.

Doty's auto collided with one driven by Ronald C. McCormick, 16, of 1645 N. Milford Rd., Milford, who was attempting to make a left turn into his driveway, deputies said.

McCormick was treated for bruises and then released from the hospital.

Find Wreckage of Missing Plane on Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A Chinese rescue team today reached the wreckage of a U.S. Air Force plane with 16 aboard and found no survivors, police reported.

The team could identify only 10 bodies in the wreckage on a mountain slope. Seven crewmen and nine passengers were aboard the two-engine C47 transport when it vanished Tuesday night near the end of a trip from Clark field in the Philippines to its base at Taipei.

★ ★ ★

The search team came across the wreckage in the jagged mountains between Taipei and the Formosa Strait. It was spread along the forested slopes of Mt. Chatien near Hsinchu.

A spokesman at U.S. Air Force headquarters said American search parties are en route to the scene.

James Truman Barnard Jr.

Eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Barnard, 1060 Kennesaw, James Truman Jr., died yesterday in Shelby (Mich.) Hospital. The child drowned while swimming in shallow waters near a Lake Michigan camp. A native of Evanston, Ill., he was a member of the First Presbyterian Church Sunday School and was in the second grade at Adams School.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a sister Eliza, his paternal grandparents Dr. and Mrs. E. P. Barnard of Bryn Mawr, Pa. and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. George M. Hubbard of Summit, N. J.

The body is at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home with service scheduled for 11 a.m. Saturday at the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. W. Glenn Harris, Ph.D. will officiate.

Ozark Mountaineer Makes Violins With Simple Tools

CASS, Ark., (INS) — Far from the breakneck pace of today's cities, a 73-year-old Ozark mountaineer still practices the ancient craft of hand carving violins.

Hughes Marcum, who lives near Cass, Ark., has carved 26 violins, two guitars and a mandolin using nothing but a pocketknife, a piece of broken glass, some sandpaper and a metal scraper.

SIMPLE MAN

Marcum is a simple God-fearing man with a mane of white hair who has lived close to the earth all his life.

He carved his first violin almost 25 years ago when one was needed in his community for an old fasioned mountain square dance. He has never received more than $50 for an instrument.

It takes the violin maker about two months to fashion a sensitive musical instrument from the raw wood.

FAIR HAND

Marcum, himself a "fair hand with a fiddle," says he carves his violins from "curly walnut" or "curly maple." "Curly" is his term for wood that comes from near the roots of a tree, where the most beautiful grain is found.

He uses dogwood for the neck, pegs and tailpiece of his instruments and gumwood for the "belly" of the violin's "chest."

Marcum says he begins a fiddle by drawing the pattern on a half-inch board. After the pattern is carved out the old mountaineer makes the back in two sections and glues them.

TWO WEEKS

He said he believes he could complete an instrument in two week except for the glueing.

Next comes the tedious job of carving, scraping and polishing the wood to attain the arched shape of a violin's chest. When this is done the wood will be almost razor thin but it will be exactly the right shape.

He no longer makes the bows, preferring to buy them from commercial dealers.

DATED VIOLINS

Each of the violins Marcum carved is numbered and dated. He thinks number 21, now owned by a neighbor, was his best. He had intended to keep it himself but let the old friend talk him out of it.

Marcum, a widower for the past few years, lives in a small cabin near the home of a sister.

He earns a little money by selling hand fashioned hicory-bottomed chairs and does the little blacksmithing work available in the area. He supplements his small income by trapping in the winter and picking berries in summer.

20,000 Pilgrims, Tourists Hail Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Twenty thousand pilgrims and tourists hailed Pope Pius XII yesterday in what probably will be his last audience of the summer in St. Peter's Basilica.

The 81-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church is expected to leave Vatican City Saturday for his Castel Gandolfo summer residence on the shore of Lake Albano, 18 miles southeast of Rome. He will probably stay there until early winter.

Leaders Tour Steere Tract

Librarian Tells Group Outside Monies Would Aid Financing

Another "test-tour" was held yesterday on the 18-acre tract of land that Frank Steere proposes to give to Waterford Township residents for a $200,000 library.

The luncheon-reception was held in the century-old barn located on a scenic knoll just back of a cleared area which Steere says is "ideal for a cultural center."

The property is now being used as a Bird Sanctuary and is located on Pontiac Lake road and M-59.

Present were more than seventy representatives from the Junior Chamber of Commerce, various churches, P.T.A.'s civic associations, Home Extension groups, firemen and Township board members. The Business and Professional Womens' club is sparking the interest in the project.

At the conclusion of the lunch, Steere gave a short informative talk, and asked for discussion from the audience.

The feasibility of attempting the library project now, due to recent police department cuts and other township budget reductions was questioned.

Mrs. Kenneth Valentine, present librarian, explained that if Waterford Township were to support a library there would be some funds available for maintenance and books and grants from the state.

Monies from traffic violations now go to the state library fund and Waterford Township does not benefit because the local library is operated solely by volunteer help.

Women, Children Have One

Ask Charter to Protect Elderly

MERANO, Italy (AP)—A plea was made today for the framing of an international charter "guaranteeing the special rights and care of the elderly."

Something like it already has been done for women and children, said Italian sociologist Umberto Colombo, and "old people undoubtedly deserve an equally solemn act."

Colombo, in a paper submitted to the fourth Congress of the International Assn. of Gerontology, the study of old age, said the charter should be part of a general covenant on human rights and should be applicable to all old people in any country belonging to the United Nations.

These are some of the items Colombo would put in his "Bill of Rights for the Old:"

Honor and respect old people as "the symbol of our own parents and the symbol we hope descendants will revere in ourselves..."

"Cooperate in all plans for improving the welfare of the aged ..."

Help old people "to retain their health as long as possible."

Assist the aged "to escape from the state of despair and inferiority into which they may have leaped ..."

"Let us not condemn old people to inactivity."

"Safeguard family solidarity and assist good relations between the old and their descendants..."

Judge Gives Advice Costing Him $1,500

DEFUNIAK SPRINGS, Fla. (AP)—Circuit Judge B. Stuart Gillis recommended to the County Grand Jury that it investigate property assessments.

The Grand Jury, headed by A. B. Covell, recommended a general reassessment.

The county commissioners yesterday advertised increased evaluations on properties of Gillis and Covell. Each parcel would be raised $1,500 in value for tax purpopes.

Charge Cattle Rustling

MENOMINEE (AP)—Two Menominee youths have been charged with cattle rustling. Water Crossman, 21, and Donald Kline, 18, pleaded guilty to cattle theft before Justice George Kramer Wednesday. They were bound over to the October term of Circuit Court. They are charged with stealing and selling two head of cattle.

Norway factories produce approximately 50 million matches each working day.

Khrushchev's Gift of Gab Alienates Yugoslav Reds

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Nikita Khrushchev, the Soviet party boss, is a hard man to stop talking—and is sometimes hard for the loyal Reds to follow.

His gift of gab saved him in the power struggle with V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov and the others in the recent Kremlin shakeup.

He kept talking against an unfavorable Presidium vote until the full Central Committee members could assemble and swing the vote in his favor.

In his Prague speech he made some wounding references to Marshal Tito's Yugoslav Red dissidents. He said he did not want to speak about his differences with Yugoslavia—then went to considerable length in doing so.

★ ★ ★

"To put it plainly," he said at one point, "let us not talk about who is more clever and who is more stupid. If you, Comrade Yugoslavs, have invented your workers' councils, don't think that this is the cleverest thing of all. We won't criticize you, and you must not interfere in our affairs."

A LOT OF LAUGHS

Khrushchev got a lot of laughs and applause from Czech Reds and warmed to his subject. There is some belief that he did not know he was on the air during this informal part of his speech.

★ ★ ★

Czech Reds deleted the passages from their press although censorship did not extend to the air waves at the time.

All this must be puzzling to some of the party faithful, and it is downright wounding to Yugoslav pride.

Yugoslav Communists who broke with the hated Stalin in 1948 welcomed the recent switch in Soviet leadership, particularly the removal of Belgrade's old adversary, Molotov.

But what Khrushchev has said during his Czechoslovakian visit was a double shock to Belgrade—not only because it was unexpected but also because the garrulous Khrushchev seems to have gone out of his way to offend the Yugoslav leaders.

HUMILIATED THEM

Mr. K. minimized the importance of Yugoslav ideas amid the many difficult current problems in the Communist world. He humiliated the Yugoslavs also in front of Czech leaders, who are regarded as the most rigid and unrelenting disciples of Stalinism in Eastern Europe.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev's blast against Yugoslavia was sharper because of the fact that Tito's main party and government comrades, Vice Presidents Edvard Kardelj and Alexander Rankovic, are at the moment in Russia as guests of the Soviet government.

They were sent there in the wake of the recent Kremlin purge, presumably to discuss the chance of improved Moscow-Belgrade relations after Khrushchev's return from Czechoslovakia.

That chance seems more remote after the cockiness shown by Khrushchev.

Endless Supply

Scapegoats Back in Style in World of Communists

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Scapegoats now are again in fashion. The Communist world never seems to run out of them.

Bulgaria has joined the purge parade launched two weeks ago when Soviet Communist Chief Nikita Khrushchev emerged victorious in his struggle against former Premiers V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov and other old line Stalinists.

The Bulgarian Reds ousted the first deputy premier, Georgi Chankov, Labor Minister Dobri Terpechev and Janko Panov, a former army general, from high party posts on "anti-party activities" charges.

Khrushchev was not very enlightening during his Czechoslovakia trip beyond what already had been announced in Moscow about the purged Soviet leaders. They were accused of opposing his policy of mending relations with Yugoslavia, of balking at his plans for decentralization of industry and of being skeptical of his "peaceful coexistence" goal.

MIGHT BE OPPOSED

The "Khrushchev line" calling for decentralization of industry understandably would be opposed by some Soviet leaders who had soft jobs in Moscow and who had built up a personal following and feared being exiled to some distant post.

Defense Minister Marshal Georgi Zhukov's backing of Khrushchev on this point easily is explainable. Dispersal of industry fits into strategy in a hydrogen bomb war age.

Khrushchev doubtless would lose Zhukov's backing if he put less emphasis on heavy industrial, or war potential, production. Malenkov got demoted from the premiership in 1955 for trying to give more consumer goods to the masses.

IS ARMS PACE TOO MUCH?

Mr. K's goal of halting atomic weapons production in a step toward disarmament suggests that the Soviet Union is finding the pace too heavy—keeping up with the West and still trying to divert more men to the farms.

But for his own peoples and those in the satellite states Khrushchev offers only promises of distant aid, of a time when he says the Soviet system will catch up with and surpass meat, butter and milk output in the United States.

Mr. K is a big man today in the Soviet Union, but he will be a scapegoat tomorrow unless he makes good on his promises.

Will Build A-Reactor for Research in Italy

CANOGAN PARK, Calif. (INS)—Atomics International, a division of North American Aviation Inc. has announced that a 50-kilowatt nuclear research reactor will be built by the company in Milan, Italy.

The "solution-type" reactor will be built for the Centro di Studi Nucleari Enrico Fermi of the Politecnico of Milan for research use in the fields of radiochemistry, materials and associated nuclear studies.

Parts of Home Stolen

WARWICK, R.I. (AP)—Floyd Howe of Major Potter Road who told police earlier in the week that a 100-foot section of the wall at his summer home had been stolen, made another call last night to report additional stones were gone.

Vehicle Insurance Plan Succeeds in New York

In a report to his fellow commissioners of Eastern States, Joseph P. Kelly, New York's Motor Vehicles Commissioner, describes the success so far of the compulsory automobile liability insurance law.

★ ★ ★

Since the new law went into effect in that state February 1, Mr. Kelly says that only a fraction of one per cent of vehicles has been operating without insurance. In this four month period only seven uninsured accidents involved New York registered vehicles. Last year in the same period there were about 25,000 such accidents.

A survey of New York vehicles in 1955 showed that more than 14 per cent had no insurance. Today the uninsured percentage is very small, due, no doubt, to the severe penalties for driving without proper insurance.

There had been some fear that counterfeiting of company-issued certificates showing possession of insurance would become a common subterfuge, but this has not proved the case. In a random sampling of 20,000 certificates not one was found to be fraudulent.

Everyone should have liability insurance for his own protection as well as for other potential accident victims. Although New York seems to be solving the problem, the four month trial reported may not be long enough to have furnished conclusive evidence.

Hazel Park Paving

There was an unusual kickback from the recent heavy rains in Hazel Park. Residents on several streets there are opposing a paving program which many of them formerly favored.

★ ★ ★

The heavy rains flooded their basements. The residents believe that paving of their streets will carry off rainwater all the faster. This would cause more flooding. They prefer dry basements, even at the cost of rougher and dustier streets.

★ ★ ★

All of which emphasizes anew Pontiac's good fortune in missing the worst of the recent storms. Not only did less rain fall here than in most other sections of Oakland County, but the winds and lightning were less severe.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac is not wholly out of the woods in its storm sewer program, but it is much further along than most of its sister cities in Oakland. These drains cost money, but they save a lot of money when heavy rains come.

France Votes for European Market

Despite strong opposition from the Communists on the left and Poujadists on the right, the French National Assembly has approved the European Common Market (ECM) and a European atomic pool (Euratom).

Middle-of-the-road parties, to which most Frenchmen belong, showed their belief that Western European nations should work together if the Continent is to survive and prosper next door to the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

The pact is expected to be ratified soon by the other five nations involved — Germany, Italy, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg. When finally approved it will create a great economic and scientific pool with these countries working together as never before.

★ ★ ★

Under the program a trading area serving 160 million persons will be created in which quotas, tariffs and other trade barriers will be eliminated gradually. The first reduction is set for January 1, 1959. At the same time a nuclear energy pool is to be set up with all the countries cooperating to aid in peaceful development of nuclear energy.

★ ★ ★

Although French statesmen were in the lead after World War II in backing federation, the National Assembly rejected it in 1954. Their reversal now is significant. It will be many years before ECM and Euratom are functioning fully but a good start is being made to modify old rivalries.

The middle-of-the-roader believes that, with respect to finance, the U.S. should adopt a foreign policy about halfway between, "Couldn't you use another sizable roll of money?" and, "Root, hog, or die."

Many Americans are trying so strenuously, even desperately, to raise their standard of living that they don't have time to live.

The Man About Town

To Stay Until Fall

Oakland County Man May Be Offered Other Big Job.

Pontiac: A name that always gives us a head start in introducing ourselves in any part of the world.

I have some of the sharpest eared scouts in all Washington, and they report to me that Secretary of Defense, of Oakland County will not vacate his post until well along in the fall. Just privately, I think he will surrender a bit reluctantly then, but Mrs. Wilson thinks he has made a full contribution and should take a permanent rest from Washington duties.

Charles E. Wilson,

My old friend has done a wonderful job down there, and all of us here at home are very proud of him. He has saved the taxpayers billions and billions.

I hear that one of the big unions has offered him their top job.

The other evening the Press' own

Howard H. Fitzgerald II

had occasion to talk to his cousin in San Francisco.

He used his Birmingham dialing system, and in ten seconds the phone was ringing in San Francisco.

I still think that's incredible. With 30 million possible connections, his own small dial and simple dialing operations rang the party he wanted, and the phones were 2,500 miles apart.

"Don't Bother to Unpack When We Get Home"

David Lawrence Says:

Needed 'Civil Rights' Bill Ignored

WASHINGTON — The whole business of Congress — including many a vital measure desired by the executive branch of the government—is stagnated because of the efforts of a few politicians to gain some votes in the next election by enacting now a so-called "civil rights" bill.

LAWRENCE

Weeks and weeks of debate are ahead, and the really important "civil rights" that ought to be protected are being ignored.

Communists can openly preach the overthrow of the government, and subversives can plot against the security of the United States and infiltrate the government itself, but not a single law of prevention is being pressed for passage.

All the Senate's time is being spent to pass a bill to punish, without jury trial, officials of state or local governments for offenses they have not committed but theoretically may commit in ruling on the eligibility of voters.

This could mean eventual intrusion into and direct supervision of the manner in which state and city elections are conducted everywhere in the United States. It could mean investigations into alleged impairment of voting rights by the use of undue influences before election day.

HOW TO POLICE

The whole controversy is centered on how to police the states of the Union, which have always had full authority to make their own vote-eligibility laws. There is talk of using troops to coerce the states.

President Eisenhower says he can't imagine any circumstances under which Federal troops would be used to enforce school integration or other provisions of the pending "civil rights" bill. But the natural question which this in turn propounds is why any such statutes should remain on the books or any new measures be proposed that could be used to invoke military force.

The truly liberal point of view abhors military intimidation in any form in a democracy. Only in a Fascist or Communist state is the military threat held over the heads of the people in order to get them to conform to a centralized government's edicts.

Every day that passes widens the gap between those in Congress who understand and those who do not understand the problems of the South. The debate in the Senate has brought out some significant information: It has revealed, for instance, that white juries generally do convict white persons accused of harming Negroes.

Basic is the misconception of the South's true position on the matter of mixing the races. It is often remarked in the South that the "Southerner dislikes the Negro race but likes the individual Negro, whereas the Northerner likes the Negro race but dislikes the individual Negro."

Day after day charges are being made in the Senate debate that the Southern people cannot be trusted to give fair trials by jury to Negroes. This is the justification claimed for passing a law making it possible to try, through the device of "contempt" proceedings, those persons accused of offenses growing out of disputes over voting eligibility. And, of course, in contempt cases trial by jury is automatically denied.

As to the fairness of Southern juries to Negroes accused of crime, Senator McClellan (D-Ark) said this to the Senate:

"In the South, if a white jury gets the impression that someone has imposed upon a helpless Negro, they will immediately find the Negro not guilty. I have een that happen many times.

"If we are going into these matters a little, I have said that I have no prejudice against the Negro race. When I was a prosecuting attorney, I defended a number of Negroes who were not able to employ a lawyer. I defended them without pay, because I believed they were innocent."

The debate on "civil rights" indicates that the proponents of "civil rights" legislation have been persuaded, as were the "radicals" of reconstruction days, that "the end justifies the means." This certainly is not liberalism.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Guard Against Danger of Inhaling Toxic Fumes

Anyone who uses hair or fur dye containing paraphenylenediamine, or shoe dye containing anilin oil or nitrobenzene, or cleaning fluid containing carbon tetrachloride, or gasoline containing tetraethyl lead, or quick drying paints, varnishes, enamels or stains should first make sure of adequate ventilation.

DR. BRADY

If you don't inhale the toxic or poisonous stuff, it probably will not impair your health.

For instance, carbon tetrachloride is an excellent spot remover and non-inflammable — but don't monkey with it in a closed room or building!

For many years readers with more or less knowledge of chemistry have been telling me I'm wrong when I say no chemical, food, vitamin, hormone, oil, drug or poison can be absorbed through unbroken skin.

This includes carbon tetrachloride (solvent, cleaner, fire extinguisher), tetra-ethyl lead gasoline, tobacco solutions, nicotine mixtures used as insecticides in greenhouses, etc.

PUT IT TO TEST

If any physician or chemist does not agree, I'd like to submit to any test of the matter he or she may make upon my skin under proper scientific control, which means making sure I won't inhale any of the substance applied to my skin.

The chemists who skipped physiology cite experiments made by Kahlenberg and Barwasser who reported that they detected boric acid in the urine promptly after submersion of the subject's feet in a solution of boric acid. My retort to this has been "Oh, yeah?" Now I believe the criteria on which Kahlenberg and Barwasser based their opinion were similarly in error.

Anyway you'll have to show me that the unbroken skin absorbs anything! Volatile substances are inhaled! This happens when tetra-ethyl lead gasoline is spilled on skin or clothing; when shoes are worn immediately after application of dye; when a phenylene-diamine dye is applied to the hair; when nitroglycerin is spilled on skin or clothing; when camphor, turpentine etc. are applied to the chest or throat; when cyanide is handled frequently as in gold plating, polishing etc.; or when iodine is painted on goitre.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Money Won't Fill Dad's Obligations

College insurance policies and $100 bills can never take the place of an understanding dad! So every father of children under the age of 10 should be sure to vaccinate his youngsters against social tragedies like that confronting Johnny. Rate yourself on the "Parents' Tests" below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-340: Johnny R., aged 10, is a wistful youngster, who stood up as tall and straight as possible while a sand lot group of kids were choosing baseball teams.

★ ★ ★

DR. CRANE

But the two leaders never selected Johnny. He was left with a few younger boys, dejected and unhappy.

"Oh, they call me 'butter fingers' 'cause I can't catch very well," he answered slowly.

"And I strike out when it's my turn to bat. So they never want me unless they run out of other kids to choose from.

"But how can I ever learn to be a good player, for Dad never plays catch with me? And I don't have any other brothers to play with," he added and turned away to hide tears in his eyes.

RATE YOURSELVES

Dads, how do you rate as playmates and coaches of your kids?

It isn't enough to bring home an adequate pay check for Mother to parcel around among the various bills.

Every dad has certain social obligations to his children.

It is our job to see that our kids learn to catch a baseball long before the age of 10.

And we should pitch to them so they can get the feel of the bat and size up an oncoming ball so they at least foul it off the bat with reasonable frequency.

And have you personally taught your child to swim? And ride a bike? Or a horse?

Even if you are a business tycoon with a fat pay check, you dare not let other men try to assume all of your parental obligations for you.

The YMCA and the Boy Scout Leaders, plus Sunday school teachers and other fine men of the community may do a lot to help your son.

But you yourself are supposed to introduce your boy to the many social situations which he must face in childhood. And don't be irritable or fault-finding in the process.

Don't think you can slip out from under such vital obligations by paying others to tutor your child.

Take him on a fishing trip or a canoe trip. Or camp out with him at least for one night. Play games with him and be a pal.

Dollars don't take the place of good dads:

And your major opportunity lies between the child's 1st to 10th years, for that's when dads are supermen to their children and exert their greatest influence.

After the age of 10, the kids look elsewhere for heroes and pals.

But until they reach 10, we male parents have an obligation to our children to prepare them, at least in a moderate degree, for the many problems they will face.

★ ★ ★

"But, Dr. Crane, I am so busy and out of contact with the problems of modern kids," many a busy executive has tried to excuse his failure to play with his youngsters.

To which I often reply with the Biblical quotation:

"What shall it profit a man to gain the whole world and lose his own son (soul)?"

We men have 25 years AFTER our children are past the age of 10, in which to devote our major attention to our business or profession.

So we should give our kids a break and learn how to be topnotch parents.

Send for my 200-point "Test for Good Parents", enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit). Rate yourself thereon each month:

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Tells of Past Recreation Planned for Local Teens

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I'd like to answer Two Restless Teenagers who asked the people of Pontiac to provide them with recreation. Last spring, in an effort to raise direly-needed funds for the Auburn Heights Boys Club, the board of directors staged a series of dances for the teenagers in the Pontiac area.

Although we had received an excessive amount of newspaper, radio and word-of-mouth advertising, the first dance was attended by only 62 people. This was in spite of the fact we had hired two rock 'n roll orchestras for entertainment. The admission price was $1.25 per couple.

We had been told that Pontiac teenagers wouldn't support the dances and that they had been tried numerous times without success. It took four dances before we were convinced.

We don't regret the dances for two reasons. The young people themselves seemed to have a wonderful time and one of the main aims of Boys' Club is to provide this type of clean, wholesome recreation for teenagers.

I would sincerely suggest to Two Restless Teenagers that the next time anyone attempts to provide the recreation they seek that they and their friends support them by attending.

Letters Continue Topic of Teachers

I'm in favor of teachers getting a good shake and a fair break. For a time they were underpaid. Now they're doing better than most of the rest of us. They're very adequately compensated.

And may I suggest that The Pontiac Press drop this subject for a while? Most of our readers have read both sides of the subject and have come to their own conclusions. Heaven bless the teachers. We love them. But we aren't going to break our own 12-months financial backs for their nine months of fine work.

Weary

If all teachers worked as hard as the man who's married to Teacher's Wife, everyone would be willing to pay them much more. That's why the merit raise system would be a great improvement over the present pay scale.

Most of us realize that many teachers work devotedly to be good teachers, but we also know many others who don't turn a finger after they leave school, and spend no more time or effort in school than they must. Why should teachers like that be paid as well as the really dedicated educators who are doing so much to help our young people?

Parents

Doesn't Feel Rules Should Be Altered

I hope J.E.B. and D.H.O. reread their letter in The Press. They'd like to have teenagers barred from pediatrics. Maybe they can suggest how. Their answer is obviously a loud "No."

Whether they are 15 or 50, the most important thing in that department is rest. At least for the first three or four days. That's all the average woman stays and any woman can get along without friends that long.

Sorry, the rules are for the best and should not be changed.

'Red China in U.N. Would Be Folly'

Why don't some people stop siding with the British in wishing to recognize Communist China? Don't they realize that such recognition would probably give Communist China the seat of China in the United Nations? Let's not upset the U.N. applecart any more than it is.

Prince Poses Biggest Problem

'Ifs' Surround Crown

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

The crown that Generalissimo Francisco Franco apparently wants to will to young Prince Juan Carlos is itself crowned by many "ifs."

And not the least of these is the young prince himself.

For instance, many friends of royalty in Spain say the 20-year-old Bourbon has been a brooding, melancholy young man — ever since a pistol he held went off and killed his beloved, three-year-old brother.

Franco's choice of the prince as the future king of Spain was hinted at again the other day in a report to parliament by Luis Carrero Blanco.

He is minister in charge of Franco's office, and one of the dictator's principal aides, and he said that when Franco died or gave up power he would be replaced by a monarchy.

Two years ago, Juan Carlos arrived in Madrid to begin an education that just about all Spain believed was aimed at making him ready for that monarchy.

Ever since then, the good-looking youth has been getting what Franco has called a "Spanish Education."

He entered the army academy at Zaragoza and has been under the rough direction of Gen. Carlos Martinez Camps, the Duke De La Toree, and Admiral Fernando Abarzura, brother of the commander of the Spanish fleet.

Despite his education and discipline, the prince himself is perhaps the most imponderable question in the problem of Spain's future rule.

No one knows for sure if he has the temperament, skill and ability to rule the country or to out-maneuver his political rivals.

They include his father, the active Don Juan, Count of Barcelona, who is now in Lausanne and has never publicly bowed out of the line of succession to make way for his son, and Alfonso, cousin of the prince.

During the Spanish civil war, Jaime, Duke of Segovia and eldest son of King Alfonso XIII, renounced his claim to the throne in favor of his younger brother, Don Juan. But there was no government in power to accept that renunciation.

T. N. T. Charge Explodes on Navy Vessel Killing 3

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)—A 2½ pound T. N. T. charge went off accidently aboard a cruising Navy escort patrol craft last night, killing three men and injuring four others seriously.

The explosion occurred aboard the 180-foot, U.S.S. Somersworth, which was on routine maneuvers in the Atlantic, about 120 miles southeast of here.

Two of the dead were identified as Anthony Fozza, pipefitter first class, whose widow lives in nearby Groton, and John R. Turley, quartermaster first class, whose widow lives in New London.

The Navy said the vessel had been engaged in text exercises since Monday morning. It docked here at dawn bearing the bodies of the three dead men.

The fatal charge was the last of about 135 discharged during the exercise, the Navy said. The charges are used in experiments to study the transmission of sound under water.

Capt. Harold E. Ruble, commander of the underwater sound laboratory, told newsmen such charges have been used by the Navy for at least 11 years. This is the first accident of its kind he was aware of, he said.

The wounded were placed aboard another Naval vessel which headed for the Newport, R. I., Naval base.

Capt. Ruble said the T. N. T. charge was contained in a metal casing, with a 40-second fuse attached. The fuse went off prematurely, he said.

The explosion apparently did not damage the Somersworth severely or set it afire.

The liner Queen Mary, outward bound from New York to England, took the injured off the stricken ship, and was held up a little more than four hours in the process.

The Navy sent the U.S.S. Sunbird, a submarine rescue ship, from here to pick up the injured from the Queen Mary. Then the Sunbird, with two doctors aboard, headed for Newport.

The Navy said the Somersworth, which survived 125 air raids and three typhoons off the Philippines in World War II, was on a routine training cruise, accompanied by the submarine Tirante. Both are based here. The Somersworth carries a crew of 60.

Old Rancher, 82, Won't Let Army Take His Land

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP)—John Prather, 82, who has spent the last 60 years on the ranch he built in southern New Mexico, has spurned the latest Army proposals to let him remain on his land.

The Army wants the land for its McGregor Firing Range close to Ft. Bliss, Tex.

The military has offered Prather a life-time lease on his Otero County ranch house and a few acres surrounding the buildings with the provision that the property reverts to the Army upon Prather's death.

Prather told his attorney, J. Benson Newell of Las Cruces:

"You send that paper back and you tell those colonels and generals down there at Ft. Bliss that John Prather isn't giving up his birthright. If they want me off that ranch, they'll have to carry me out in a box, and," the old rancher added, "I'll have company when I go."

Prather and his neighbors have been given an extension until Aug. 1 before the government takes over their lands for the big missile range.

Eight-Year-Old Youth Hit by Baseball, Dies

DETROIT (AP) — Eight-year-old Virgilio Madrigal died last night shortly after being struck in the chest by a baseball.

The boy was pronounced dead on arrival at Lincoln hospital. His father, Joel, 42, told police Virgilio was struck over the heart by a batted ball.

Examination was scheduled today to determine the cause of death.

Junior Editors Quiz on STIFF UPPER LIP

QUESTION: Who has the stiffest upper lip?

ANSWER: Of all the characters pictured here the mildest-looking, the llama, probably has the stiffest upper lip.

While its upper lip looks soft enough, he uses it instead of teeth to gather in fodder while grazing, and through foraging among the rocks for every bit of greenery, its upper lip has become extremely powerful.

It's the tiger's jaw that is particularly powerful, and it's the walrus' long tusks that give it a ferocious look.

Knights of course were supposed to "keep a stiff upper lip," but that expression has to do with courage and does not mean that a person's lip actually is stiff.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Color these pictures, making the llama gray, the tiger yellow with black stripes, the walrus gray, and the knight wearing golden armor.

Largest Plastic Roof Flying to Brussels

MANCHESTER, N. H. (INS)—The first sections of the world's largest plastic roof—341 feet in diameter—started yesterday on a flight across the Atlantic. The huge roof will cover the $5 million U. S. pavilion at the 1958 World's Fair in Brussels, Belgium.

Federal, state and local dignitaries attended ceremonies attached to loading the first panels aboard a Pan American World Airways plane.

The panels consist of a sandwich of plastic sheets over an interior aluminum grid. The entire translucent roof resembles a huge bicycle wheel.

The U.S. pavilion, which will exhibit American art and culture in Brussels, will be located between the exhibits of the Soviet Union and Vatican City. The panels were built by the Kalwall Corp. of Manchester.

U.S. Autos Average One Breakdown a Year

WASHINGTON — The American Automobile Association's annual survey of car trouble has found that one breakdown a year is about average for each of the nation's 54,000,000 passenger cars.

The AAA reported that it answered an emergency road-service call once every 6 seconds in 1936. It estimates there were 53,486,000 breakdowns last year, an increase of 3,347,000 over 1935.

Shut-Ins Attend Church by Listening on Phone

SPRING GROVE, Minn. (AP) — Trinity Lutheran church in this farming village of 1,200 people has found an unusual way to keep in touch with the shut-ins of its scattered parish.

The church has set up a radio system which broadcasts worship church meetings through a hook-up with local telephone circuits to special receiver sets in the shut-ins' homes.

The service now is carried into some 40 private homes, and to the local infirmary and hospital.

Need X-Way Rapid Transit

May Be Incorporated Into Detroit's System, Mayor Hints

DETROIT (INS) — Expressways of the future may be equipped for rapid mass transit lines that will whip passengers across the city on swift rail cars.

Mayor Albert E. Cobo and DPW Commissioner Glenn C. Richards agreed today engineers must study the practicability of rapid transit for the city's new super highways.

Both also agreed with highway commissioner John C. Mackie's prediction that metropolitan Detroit will need about 250 miles of expressways by 1980.

Mackie said future expressways must be built with a center mall available for transportation other than motor vehicles.

Richards explained that planning already calls for the proposed Hastings-Oakland expressway to have four lanes of pavement in each direction compared to three lanes on the Lodge and Ford expressways.

Richards said the extra lane might be reserved for some method of rapid transportation.

All the road builders were in accord that an extra lane or the center malls already on present expressways may be needed for some form of rail system.

Mayor Cobo has instructed Charles A. Blessing, director of city planning, to "look into" a new expressway in Chicago where a center mall is being reserved for a rapid transit line.

Police Patrol for Water Safety

Enforce Rules at Walled Lake

By STANLEY BOK
Press Correspondent

WALLED LAKE—In an effort to promote and maintain safety on the waters of popular Walled Lake, a group of Novi Township citizens are asking boat owners and operators to observe a set of rules and regulations.

★ ★ ★

An accident which occurred early this week has focused attention to the importance of observing safety rules.

Involved in the mishap was Mrs. Owen Clevering, wife of a special police officer who is authorized to patrol the lake. Mrs. Clevering suffered serious arm injuries while water skiing on Sunday in an accident allegedly caused by the operator of another boat.

According to Mrs. Clevering, the operator of a second boat swerved in front of the boat which was pulling her on water skis, forcing it to stop to avoid a possible collision. The sudden stop upset Mrs. Clevering, her arm becoming entangled in the ski rope.

Mrs. Clevering maintained that the operator of the boat which reportedly caused the accident had violated a rule which forbids the overloading of boats.

The set of rules was drawn up by interested citizens with the cooperation of the Novi Township police department several weeks ago. Four residents volunteered to serve as special policemen to enforce the rules, receiving badges from the Novi police department. They are Dan Spisak, Cliff Compton, James Thomas and Clevering.

The officers wear blue caps and blue shirts. Novi Township furnishes gasoline to power the patrol boats. One of the boats, a white one marked "Police," is either patrolling the water or anchored for emergency duty at all times.

The special police are under the supervision of Vernon Loessler.

Both the Novi and Walled Lake police departments intend to cooperate fully with the special policemen.

Following is a list of 10 rules which have been established to promote safety on the lake:

1. No overloading of boats.
2. Do not operate boats at high speeds among swimmers.
3. All power boats operating after dark must have red, green and white lights.

4. All other boats after dark must have a 360 degree white light (including row boats anchored or moving).
5. All boats pulling skiers must be 100 feet from swimmers and fishermen.
6. All diving equipment must be accompanied by a surface boat.
7. No littering the water.
8. All sailing craft have priority over power craft.
9. All boats must be provided with adequate safety equipment.
10. If in doubt or needing help, contact Novi Police Department (Northville 705) or Oakland County Sheriff's Department (FE 5-8194).

Novi Township officials also are making an effort to reduce the chance of drowning near the township bathing beach. One drowning occurred near the township bathing area this summer.

Fun Site for 30 Boys to Be Dedicated in Fall

Outpost Camp Named for Naval Cadet

By SYLVIA de STEIGER

Area explorer scouts now have a special outpost campsite at Camp Agawam, a boy scout camp on Tommy's Lake near Lake Orion.

★ ★ ★

This 20-acre addition, named the "Ted Garlick Outpost Camp," opened last week in memory of Lake Orion Explorer Scout Edward "Ted" Garlick.

The 21-year-old Naval cadet was killed in October when the Texan Trainer he was flying collided with another over Barin Field, Foley, Ala., a navy air training field.

The camp was financed with money, totalling over $800, given by Garlick's friends and relatives, at the request of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark J. Garlick, of 1205 Nakomis Dr., Lake Orion.

Contributions to Camp Agawam, where "Ted had spent many thrilling summers," according to his mother, were requested at the time of the funeral instead of flowers.

Volunteer labor cleared the land and erected the buildings.

Garlick was an active scout in his boyhood and had achieved Eagle rank, the highest rank in scouting.

The addition has increased the capacity of the camp to 190 scouts, Edward H. Leland, scout executive director of the Clinton Valley Council announced.

The camp is centered by an Adirondack type cabin which houses six boys. Surrounding this structure are 12 new two-boy tents, a hand pump, wash rack, outdoor grill and year-round latrine. It can accommodate 30 boys.

Formal dedication of the camp is expected to be held in the fall, Leland added.

By then, an entrance arch and additional shrubs to beautify the camp will be added, he said.

POPULAR SPOT TRI-DAILY—Explorer scouts camping at the new Ted Garlick Explorer Outpost Camp can enjoy cooking their own meals as one unit on this large outdoor grill. This coincides with the National Boy Scouts program of working together in smaller patrols instead of joining large scale meals prepared for the entire group attending Camp Agawam.

Pick 2 Instructors for Oxford Schools

OXFORD — Richard Daley, new agricultural instructor for Oxford Area Schools, began his duties with students and their summer projects.

A native of Elba, and a graduate of Michigan State University, Daley and his wife became the parents of Richard Jr., June 30.

Roger Oberg, who has been agricultural instructor at Oxford since 1941, also assumed the duties of assistant superintendent when the area schools combined last fall.

Oberg, a graduate of Michigan State University with a Master's degree in administration, will now be able to devote his full time to his new duties.

Call Hearing on Suit Against Ford Motor

MT. CLEMENS (INS) — Macomb County Circuit Judge James E. Spier has called a hearing for 2 p.m. Monday in a $75,000 suit brought against the Ford Motor Co. by the Plum Brook Golf Club.

The club is seeking an injunction prohibiting Ford from pumping water from its Sterling Township parts plant during heavy rains or high water table.

Mayor Hears Complaints

Consider Water Situation at Keego Council Meeting

KEEGO HARBOR — Complaints were heard and considered on the water situation at the monthly meeting of the City Council held here. About 200 residents attended.

Mayor Samuel Whitmore said he would personally call on the complainants, who believe that the principal cause of the condition is the rise of Cass Lake water, and lack of drainage.

Representation from Sawyer Keego Harbor subdivision and supervisor plat No. 4, turned over some abstracts to the city attorney. They will be checked to establish property lines.

A request from the West Bloomfield School district to vacate land from William street to Wilbur street was taken under advisement until the next council meeting.

City supervisor, Pete Quinland, presented a resolution to the board of supervisors to give priority to the Farmington and Evergreen sewage interceptor. Several meetings have been held in this regard, and action is expected within a short time.

Ordinances controlling dogs not confined, and also the condition of running wash water into streets, are to be enforced.

Parking meters have been in operation in the city and have been enforced since July 15. A favorable report was made by several of the business men as to an increase in business since their installation.

The Police Department will patrol beaches to prevent the various types of boats interfering with swimmers.

The Zoning Board reported a meeting with representation of the Planning zone committee with Mr. Schonerock, real estate department of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad, to discuss grade crossing at the end of Summers Rd.

The estimated cost of building from June 1 to 30th is $10,735, for new residents and garages. The amount of permit fees collected is $46. Several fire inspections were made, also 15 health inspections. The Police Department reported 947 hours worked by four men. A total of 49 complaints were received, and 264 citations issued.

Hurt as Ladder Breaks

SEYMOUR LAKE — Decoration of Seymour Lake Church was halted yesterday as C. Wesley Tindall, 56, and his son C. Wesley Tindall Jr., 19, of 4642 W. Walton Blvd. fell 10 feet when a scaffold and ladder collapsed. Along with a broken heel, the senior Tindall is suffering from shock, while his son received a broken foot bone.

Board Receives 17 Applications for New Position

The new Oakland County Board of Public Works will begin consideration today of the first 17 applications for the job of Public Works Department director.

Applications have been received from Michigan, Ohio and Ontario for the new post of coordinating water and sewer projects.

Board chairman Delos Hamlin, of Farmington, said a man with administration, engineering and public relations experience is being sought. No salary has been set.

The board is expected to adopt a set of by-laws and begin study of two projects that have been turned over to it for completion.

These are the Farmington and Evergreen Interceptor Sewer systems. A report on their progress so far will be submitted by Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry.

Begin Training Plan

MT. CLEMENS (AP) — Macomb County's newly formed "rehabilitation committee" has set up a training program for physically and mentally handicapped persons. It is a six-week summer course at a St. Clair Shores high school.

Oak Park Asking Action

Southfield Indecisive on Twelve Towns Drain

By NANCE BELLEFLEUR
South Oakland Correspondent

SOUTHFIELD—This city is still on the fence in the controversial 12 Town drain issue.

At a public hearing held this week, called by the township board, to decide whether Southfield would join or get out of the 12 Town drain network, the matter was again tabled, township clerk Fanny Adams said. A further hearing will be held July 23.

★ ★ ★

Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry of Oakland County has suggested that Southfield add 1,360 acres to its present 588 acres to be drained by the huge storm relief network at an additional cost of $4,000,000.

★ ★ ★

In the meantime, adjacent Oak Park is asking Southfield to take some action to relieve Oak Park of Southfield's storm waters running into Oak Park territory.

City Manager Thomas R. Knowles said this morning that Oak Park was ready to participate in the drain project at a cost of $5,000,000 but that no action could be taken until Southfield either joins the drain network or builds additional drains.

★ ★ ★

Royal Oak is considering building its portion of the inter-community drain by itself.

★ ★ ★

There, Mayor Howard K. Kelley received the unanimous support of the city commission in a move to start preliminary work on the 12 Town drain at its regular meeting this week.

Oxford Begins Water Plans

Long Range Program Is Costing $125,000 After Analysis

OXFORD — At a special meeting here the Oxford Village Council has voted to begin a long-range water improvement plan which will ultimately cost about $125,000.

Initial plans to be undertaken immediately will cost about $75,000 and will be financed by 20-year revenue bonds covered by a moderate increase in water rates.

The Albert Knowles firm of Ann Arbor, consulting engineers, made a complete analysis of present and future needs of the community and recommended a program to include increased reservoirs and an iron filtering plant.

Most corrosiveness, color and odor in the water would be eliminated in the filtering plant, and the new reservoirs and pumps will give storage and pressure for adequate fire protection.

In other recent action the council recommended the village manager, Ralph Precious, appoint Chief of Police Albert Roberts to assume the duties of health inspector.

Fear Big Loss to State Farms Due to Storms

A huge crop and financial loss to farmers of central Michigan as a result of abnormal midsummer rains is now feared.

An unofficial survey today indicated a loss of at least 3 million dollars to 25,000 farmers of the Saginaw Valley and adjoining areas.

There has been no official analysis, however, at least one Federal source, the farmers home administration, described the conditions as an "Emergency."

"It definitely is an emergency situation," said Leland H. Small, chief of FHA program operations.

An unofficial spot check showed extreme losses to the wheat, bean and sugar beet crops. Losses also were incurred in oats, hay, soybeans, corn, potatoes and truck gardens.

Saginaw County was reported particularly hard hit.

In some areas combines are helpless to do anything with the wheat crops because the fields are sodden with water.

One result of the reported extensive damage may be an appeal to the federal government for "disaster" loans to the farmers.

County agents of the affected areas are to meet at Lansing Friday with federal and state officials and loans may be discussed at that time.

Lapeer Bloodmobile Slated for July 29

METAMORA — The Lapeer County Bloodmobile will be at the Presbyterian church in Lapeer on July 29 from noon to 3 p.m. and from 4 to 7 p.m. Metamora's quota is 10 pints. Ages for giving blood are 18 to 60.

IT'S A BUSY LIFE—Walter Sacket of Milford shows here one of the ways in which he keeps active and busy as he nears the 80-year mark. To fill orders received from all over the state, he weaves rugs, stoles and other articles in a variety of colors.

'Life Begins at 80'

Finds Fine Philosophy

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

MILFORD — A weaver of fine rugs, Walter H. Sacket of Milford, who will be 80 years old in October, lives at 301 Canal St. People travel from all over the state to his neat home for the purpose of placing orders for stair runners, stoles, placemats and hand-woven rugs, of every size and description.

★ ★ ★

Sacket, a widower of two years, was a captain in the coast artillery during World War I and his rugged individualism is one of his most outstanding characteristics.

He is a retired civil engineer of high merit, having graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1906 with a Civil Engineering degree.

Last June, Sacket went back to his Alma Mater to attend the 50th anniversary of his graduating class. Of the 32 that graduated in 1906 there were 26 present at the reunion.

Walter's forefathers were Scotch and English and one of them settled the famous Sacket's Harbor on Lake Ontario in New York state in 1800. As a youth, Sacket loved playing football. He was halfback for four years in high school and played the same position for four years in college. Living alone in the big nine-room home poses no problems for Walter. He has domestic help periodically but most of the time he cleans and cooks for himself.

When the metropolitan authorities started the big project of Kensington Park, Sacket was with the crew that laid out the 3,000 acre development.

From a 60 acre lake he was instrumental in building a dam near Grand River to make a 1,200 acre lake that is used by thousands of people every year. This was his last job before retirement.

Sacket has a theory about life. He says, "if you are worrying about something either correct it—or forget it." To prove this, last winter's sewer trouble developed just outside Walter's house, and heavy equipment was brought in to break up the pavement and frozen ground.

The pounding of the machinery literally shook the house. The project seemed endless and as Sacket could not "forget it," he corrected it by getting in his car and driving as far away as he could—Houston, Tex. He has just returned from that 2,600 mile trip alone to find the quicksand trouble in the sewer remedied and his lawn back in first class shape.

The rugs that Walter makes are woven on a four-harness, 48 inch hand loom. He can design rugs with every color of the rainbow as he has 23 different colors and shades of weaving warp. The biggest rug he ever made was a custom job measuring 13 by 13 feet.

★ ★ ★

In his spare time Walter does electric arc welding for townspeople and is an expert saw sharpener.

Life has been good to Walter. He has had no real illnesses, traveled all over the country and feels sure that now "life begins at 80."

Paint Thinner Fatal to Detroit Child

DETROIT (INS) — A 15-month-old girl was dead today after swallowing paint thinner despite frantic efforts by her mother to save her.

★ ★ ★

Sheree Pavlik died in Redford's Receiving Hospital late yesterday less than two hours after she had sipped at a bottle of paint thinner her father, Michael, 25, had placed on the sidewalk while painting the family garage.

★ ★ ★

Sheree's mother, Joyce, 21, saw the baby pick up the bottle and shouted a warning. She immediately began administering quantities of milk to the child while her husband called police.

Let Bus Go to Berlin After Stopping Five

HELMSTEDT, Germany (AP) — East German Communist police today let a French bus with 66 passengers pass through to Berlin after stopping six others—Belgian, Dutch and Danish—at the Marienborn checkpoint.

★ ★ ★

West German border police reported yesterday that five foreign buses were stopped by the Communists for lack of "an invitation to Berlin." Passengers continued their journey by other means of transportation.

Members of Auxiliary to Meet in Dryden

METAMORA — The Metamora unit of the Lapeer County General Hospital auxiliary will be guests of the Dryden unit at General Squier Park on Aug. 14. All members of the Metamora unit have been invited along with any prospective members. Those wishing transportation should call Mrs. Harry Best or Mrs. Harry Whittaker. A potluck dinner will be served at noon.

Sanilac Board Selling Home

Infirmary and Farm Ordered to Be Sold Within 90 Days

MARLETTE — Sanilac County Board of Supervisors in a special session here has voted to sell the county infirmary and farm.

The Social Welfare Board was directed to find boarding homes for all the infirmary patients, 13 men, in order that the infirmary can be closed "in a reasonable time."

The supervisors' decision to sell came after Social Welfare Chairman, Harold E. Phelps, said a letter from the state fire marshal stated that a sprinkler system would have to be installed throughout the rambling infirmary building.

The fire marshal's letter said that without the sprinkler fire protection, the county would not be allowed to continue to house the elderly patients on the second story.

Phelps told the board bids on equipping the infirmary with an adequate sprinkler system ranged between $27,500 and $36,000.

The Social Welfare Board was authorized to advertise the infirmary and farm building and 200 acres of farm land with realtors for the next 90 days, with the final sale price subject to approval by the board of supervisors.

The motion provides that in the event of a promising bid on the property, the board could be called into special session by Chairman Stephen H. Welch, Brown City.

The special session provision was amended to the motion when one supervisor pointed out that any prospective purchaser might wish to plant wheat long before the expiration of 90 days.

Entertainment for Kids Isn't Played Down

NEW YORK (AP) — A series of "quality" productions is hitting the summertime strawhat circuit for the entertainment of vacationing moppets.

The small fry project, called Peter Piper Productions, is dedicated to the proposition that children's shows "should never play down to the audience."

The four shows scheduled include "Many Moons," based on a James Thurber story; "Clown Face," a musical that is to appear on television next fall; "Calypso Carnival" and "Pied Piper Circus."

Sensitive Missile Units

WASHINGTON — If placed atop the Washington Monument, a missile-guidance unit could detect the vibrations caused by a baby entering the ground-floor door.

Avert Gas Explosion

DETROIT (AP) — Three schools were evacuated and a thousand homes in suburban Warren were on edge for a time Wednesday because of a broken gas line and danger of an explosion. An excavator shovel had cracked a Consumers Power Co. supply line. Repairs were made and the danger averted.

Pleads Guilty in Court

DETROIT (AP) — Donald Ososkie, 23, of suburban Allen Park, pleaded guilty in U. S. District Court Wednesday to a charge of rifling the mails. Judge Theodore Levin ordered Ososkie released on personal bond pending a probation report. Ososkie had been a letter carrier for six years.

HARPSICHORD COMES BACK—A clever Romeo area craftsman, 37-year-old Norman Louis Scheck is currently contributing his talents to the restoration of interest in an instrument of a by-gone era, the harpsichord. The gifted Romeo hobbyist spends all his spare time building the harp-shaped, wire-stringed instruments in his studio workshop at 71413 Dequindre Rd. He has converted the ground floor of a stable into a workshop and has a modernistic studio-apartment on the floor above. Scheck is an organ builder by profession. He began to design and build harpsichords about three years ago and has completed eight of them to date—spending about three months on each instrument.

"A MERMAN MIRTHQUAKE"—That's what New York critics are saying about "Happy Hunting," one of five hits which 150 Pontiac Press Theater Special playgoers will see during their Sept. 9-14 junket East. Ethel Merman, one of Broadway's titans, is presently making a big splash return in the musical comedy which co-stars handsome Fernando Lamas. It's a hilarious bit about a big-hearted Philadelphia widow who goes husband hunting to Europe for her daughter, but winds up with a royal catch for herself big enough to awe those who snubbed her socially. It's Miss Merman's first smash performance since her phenomenal success in "Call Me Madam." This picture shows one of the scenes from the play. Other plays to be seen include "My Fair Lady," "Tunnel of Love," "Visit to a Small Planet," and "The Bells Are Ringing."

Threat Three Ways

NEW YORK (AP) — Actor Arnold Moss has a three-way assignment on the summer strawhat circuit of Shaw's "Back to Methuselah."

He is co-producing with the Theater Guild, editing the lengthy opus down to conventional length and impersonating the author. Celeste Holm is to star in the production.

At present rates of building the U.S. may have 3,300 miles of super-toll highways in use by the beginning of 1958.

Spike Spot Historic

PROMONTORY, Utah — A 7-acre site at Promontory on which is the spot where a golden spike was driven May 10, 1869, to complete the first American transcontinental railroad has been designated by the Department of the Interior as a historic site. The United States Park Service will help preserve and maintain it.

About 13 per cent of all U.S. pupils still attend rural one-room schools.

Largest Coal Dock Built

MEMPHIS — The world's largest coal-barge-unloading dock is being constructed at Memphis. Each of the two unloading towers will be able to handle 1,300 tons of coal an hour.

Berlin-Bound Buses Halted

Reds in East Germany Refuse Entrance to 270 Going to Exhibition

HELMSTEDT, Germany (AP)—Five foreign buses with 270 passengers en route from West Germany to Berlin were denied passage across the zonal border by Communist authorities Tuesday night.

But, West German border police said today, all the passengers continued their journey to Berlin by other means of transportation.

The busses — three from Belgium and two from Denmark — were stopped at Marienborn, Communist checkpoint opposite Helmstedt, on the 110-mile Autobahn linking West Germany with Berlin.

Communist police said passage was denied to the buses because the "passengers had no invitation to Berlin." They said they acted on orders from the East German Interior Ministry.

West German authorities were unable to explain why the passengers were allowed to go if such was the case. All aboard were bound for Interbau, the International Building Exhibition in Berlin.

Traffic across the zonal border ran smoothly yesterday.

"A nickel saved," according to Rube Rustic, "is a penny earned." Earl Wilson

U. of M. Not After Small Schools

Future Growth Limited

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan has assured the state's smaller colleges they have nothing to fear from U-M expansion plans.

Harold M. Dorr, dean of statewide education, told the third annual Institute of College Administration yesterday that the university will not become involved "in a policy of expansion which threatens to supplant or to narrow the educational scope of existing institutions, either public or non-public."

He added, however, that the university will "accept a full share of responsibility either in Ann Arbor or outstate" to meet the "tidal wave" of increased enrollment expected by 1970.

Dorr said the university has no immediate plans to expand beyond the Flint and Dearborn centers. He said that as a matter of policy, however, the school will consider the establishment of other branches.

But any expansion, he declared, would be a matter of cooperation, not "dictation of educational policies."

Dorr said it was the university's desire to supplant junior colleges but only to supplement existing facilities to provide four or more years of educational opportunities.

Dorr illustrated the university's expansion policy by discussing the factors that influenced the decision to establish branches at Flint and Dearborn.

In Flint, he said, discussions of expansion were begun as early as 1944. An informal agreement to supplement Flint Junior College's two-year program was reached 10 years later, he said. A three-year program went into effect in 1956 and this September a four-year course will be offered.

Last week the university Board of Regents formally accepted the preliminary plans for a Dearborn center. One senior college will be ready in 1959 to supplement the two-year course of study at Henry Ford Community College, thus affording Dearborn a four-year program, he said.

Dorr said the problem facing school administrators is that of planning for the influx of students which enrollment experts predict will double within the next decade or so.

East Germany Admits Failure With Machinery

BERLIN (AP)—Communist East Germany admitted today it has fallen behind by more than 100 million rubles in promised deliveries of heavy machinery to Russia. By Red accounting, that's more than 25 million dollars.

Trade Minister Heinrich Rau confessed this "irresponsible failure" before the party Central Committee. He joined other ministers in warning that the satellite nation's economy is in serious difficulty.

Part of the blame was placed on a power shortage. The official reports also complained of a wrong attitude among factory managers and the "enemy outlook" of some workers. Rau condemned the heavy machine industry for its lagging export program and said its managers now declared they could not meet their 1957 Russian orders before 1960.

"I have no words, comrades, for characterizing such an irresponsible attitude," Rau said.

Disruption of the export program would hurt the entire Soviet bloc. East Gemany now ranks second only to Russia as an industrial power among the Communist nations.

School Board to Set Taxes

Problems of Personnel Also Slated for Talk in Waterford

When the Waterford Township Board of Education meets tonight, it will establish the school tax rate for operation and debt retirement for 1957, according to superintendent William Shunck.

A building committee report will be presented regarding the progress of construction work on the new John D. Pierce Junior high school on Hatchery road, and the Henry R. Schoolcraft elementary school on Maceday Drive.

APPOINTMENT DUE

The board will appoint members to the Personnel and Building committees and a representative to the Waterford Township Recreation board.

Shunck said that he will make a recommendation for additional teaching personnel for next school year. The Board of Education is minus some teachers due to retirement, marriages and various other reasons.

More teachers are also needed to round out the staff for the two new schools, which are expected to be in operation by fall, Shunck said.

Other business will include an application for advance in State Aid, and authorization of the purchase of Treasury Bills for Building and Sight Fund, Series No. 2.

Representatives of Custodial, Maintenance, Engineering and Bus Driving personnel are expected to ask for further consideration of their previously presented requests.

Man Killed in Crash With Truck in Ohio

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—A car that smashed broadside into the trailer of a semi truck carried Boyd Maxwell Turner, 48, of Delta, Ohio, to his death this morning, the Ohio highway patrol said.

Patrolmen said the truck driver, Herman R. Warner, 33, Rt. 2, Coldwater, apparently escaped injury because the cab of his east-bound semi was past the intersection on U.S. 6 when Turner's car came out of Liberty-High Road, two miles west of here.

Both drivers were alone. The force of the collision tore the tandem wheels from the truck trailer.

Killed While Skiing

DEARBORN (AP)—Julius Stranyak, 42, of Dearborn, drowned Wednesday when he was knocked unconscious in a fall while water skiing in Edison Lake near Belleville.

Sees Longer Life Expectancy With Pipes, Cigars

Expert Cites 'Overwhelming' Evidence in Lung Cancer-Cigarette Smoke Link

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for the American Cancer Society told Congress today that in his opinion "the evidence is overwhelming" that cigarette smoking leads to lung cancer.

Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond also testified that cigarette smoking appears to increase the likelihood of heart and arterial disease, and declared further the evidence would seem to give pipe and cigar smokers a better life expectancy than cigarette users.

Dr. Hammond prepared his testimony for a House Government Operations subcommittee starting a probe of advertising claims as to the protective value of filters on cigarettes. He did not discuss filters.

Much of what Dr. Hammond said was based on a publicized report that he and Dr. Daniel Horn made last month to the American Medical Assn.

Before the hearings started, Chairman Blatnik (D-Minn) told newsmen that cigarette manufacturers may be "kidding" smokers about the effectiveness of filters.

Dr. Hammond reported in these words on an American Cancer Society study of cigarette smoking:

JOHN LINDGREN

"We found lung cancer death rates to be extremely low among non-smokers and high among heavy cigarette smokers, the rates increasing with the amount of cigarette smoking.

* * *

"In my opinion the evidence is overwhelming that cigarette smoking is a causative factor of great importance in the occurrence of lung cancer. This does not imply that smoking is the only cause of lung cancer."

* * *

Dr. Hammond likewise testified that he was of the opinion that "cigarette smoking causes an increase in the death rate from coronary artery disease."

"Our study also indicated that giving up cigarette smoking results in a reduction of the overall death rate," he added.

Open Honors College at MSU This Fall

EAST LANSING (AP) — A group of 300 undergraduates will write their own ticket as far as courses of study are concerned this fall at Michigan State University.

The students, all with outstanding academic records, will be the first to enroll in the new Honors College at MSU.

They will be allowed to map out their own independent courses of study and all requirements for graduation—except total number of hours—are being waived.

"It is doubtful if any university in the United States has an across-the-board honors program of this scope," said Dr. Stanley J. Idzerda, Honors College director.

"We want to allow the serious student to move as fast as his talent and desires dictate—no matter what his field. All students will be eligible whether their educational field is practical or classical, in science or the arts.

* * *

Accredit Michigan Tech

HOUGHTON (AP)—Michigan Tech has been accredited in forestry by the American Society of Foresters, president J. R. Van Pelt announced Wednesday. The school has graduated 237 foresters since the department was established in 1936.

Lindgren Installed in K. of C. Ceremony

The Msgr. A.X.M. Sharpe Council 600, Knights of Columbus, of Pontiac, recently installed John Lindgren as grand knight.

Other officers installed were: Raymond Bernier, deputy grand knight; Andrew Hoehn, chancellor-Anthony Stiel, warden; Edward Leonard, lecturer; and Jerome Barry, advocate.

Others were: Richard Jacklow, treasurer; Robert McKeever, secretary; Dean Hall, recorder; Richard Aiken, inside guard; Bernice Newton, outside guard; and Diamond Wright, Wallace LaFave and Cedric Davis, trustees.

District Deputy Edmund R. Condon, of Detroit, conducted the installation.

Group to Explore Iron Ore Reserves

CLEVELAND (AP)—Formation of a corporate partnership with M. J. O'Brien Ltd. of Canada "to explore some indicated iron ore reserves at Lac Albanel, Quebec, Canada," was announced here yesterday by the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co.

The Cleveland firm gave no indication as the size or investment requisite for the development. Iron ore circles here, however, believe the Cliffs-O'Brien deal will be comparable in size to the Wabush Lake, Labrador, iron ore exploration which will entail the investment of some 500 million dollars.

The latter exploration is being undertaken by Pickands, Mather & Co. of Cleveland, Canadian Javelin Ltd., of Montreal and several U. S. steel companies.

Cleveland-Cliffs owns 55 per cent of the common stock of the new corporate partnership, which is known as Albanel Minerals Ltd.

Spots Tax Fraud, Gets $500 Reward

WASHINGTON (AP)—For spotting a fraudulent income tax refund scheme in his flow of mails a Detroit postal boss has received a $500 reward from the Treasury Department.

* * *

The reward is said to be the largest ever paid by one federal department to an employe of another department.

Lowell I. Mackenzie, superintendent of a postal substation in Detroit, was given the reward yesterday for helping to "break" a fraud case.

Some time ago Mackenzie alerted Treasury men because a large number of change-of-address cards appeared at his post office directing mail to one particular address. Mackenzie also noticed that Treasury checks were in this mail.

An investigation led to fraud indictments of two men, Edward J. Zacharski, 40, and Norman G. Zachary, 28. They are accused of a fraud that ultimately would have netted them $250,000.

Allegedly, they sent fictitious tax returns to Washington, requesting refunds which they sought to channel back to themselves.

OK Fast Tax Writeoff on GM Missiles Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) yesterday approved a speed up tax authorization for a General Motors Corp. $10,913,000 guided missiles plant at Oak Creek, Wis.

General Motors was authorized to write off 45 per cent of the cost in five years in depreciation for federal tax purposes. A normal depreciation period would be 20 to 25 years.

State Korean Bonuses Now Total $57,015,110

LANSING (AP)—State bonus claims paid to Korean war veterans now total $57,015,110, the State Adjutant General's Office reported today.

Of 212,830 claims received, 207,266 have been certified for payment, 4,975 rejected and 589 are still in processing. The average bonus payment was $275.

13 Area Men Join 'Michigan Company'

The "Michigan Company" is complete and will be officially sworn in at special formal ceremonies this Friday night, according to officers at the Navy Recruiting Station in Pontiac.

The company will be composed entirely of young men from Michigan, 13 of whom are Oakland county men. It has been formed in connection with the homecoming week for Michigan alumni of the Great Lakes Naval Training Center, which is to be held from September 16 through 22.

Those joining the company from Oakland County are: John M. Groner, of 243 S. Jessie St., Pontiac; Richard O. Russell, of 29123 Elizabeth Lane, New Hudson; Norman Wilson, 69 Cloveport St., and Carl E. Langdon, Jr., 634 Renshaw St., both of Rochester; and Richard T. Birchfield, of 465 Ada St., South Lyon.

★ ★ ★

Others from the county are: Frederick J. Winstanley, Jr., 101 Washington St.; Philip Metevia, 1838 Portlock St., and Lawrence T. Lucas, 2216 Honeywell Rd., all of Milford; and James W. Bray, Jr., of 114 Calvert St., Waterford Township.

Rounding out the list are: Herman E. Sparks, of 693 Grey Rd., Auburn Heights; Joseph J. Pinter, of 2400 Massena St., Commerce Township; Norman L. Gidcumb, of 6410 Upper Straights Blvd., Orchard Lake; and William E. Savallisch, of 130 N. Main St., Clarkston.

CEREMONY IN DETROIT

The swearing in ceremony is to take place at the Michigan Theater, Detroit, at 9 p.m. Friday night. Parents are invited to attend and may spend the afternoon with their sons at the U.S.O. located on Lafayette Blvd., in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The men in this company will remain together throughout recruit training and will return home on leave at the same time. They will be graduated Sept. 21, as part of a ceremony expected to be one of the highlights of the homecoming week.

Sweden's Tourists Increase Spending

STOCKHOLM — The number of foreign visitors to Sweden and the money they spend are increasing by 10 to 15 per cent each year.

Annual proceeds from these tourists will soon exceed 500,000,000 kronor (about $100,000,000).

Income from tourism amounts to about two-thirds of the country's exports of ships or half its iron-ore exports.

In 1956 some 470,000 non-Scandinavian visitors toured Sweden, and increase of 16 per cent over 1955 and four times the 1938 total, which was the highest of the years between the World Wars.

Check Mishap Drivers

WILMINGTON, Del. — Delaware gives special attention to the problem of drinking drivers. Whenever possible, law officers take blood tests of persons injured in traffic accidents.

Intoximeter tests are given if permission is obtained; if injuries don't permit testing or if a driver refuses to take the tests, police record their opinion of the motorist's condition.

They have found that drinking drivers make up 40.6 per cent of all drivers involved in traffic fatalities in Delaware.

Reasserted Feudal Rights

U. S. Lawyers Dedicate Magna Carta Memorial

WASHINGTON — Along a quiet, green stretch beside the Thames, representatives of the American Bar Association this summer are dedicating a memorial to the Magna Carta—a reminder of the establishment of England's fundamental principle of government by law.

★ ★ ★

Near its site, 742 years ago, King John unwillingly accepted limitations on his power imposed by the rebellious barons of his realm.

TENSE, DRAMATIC MOMENT

The exact spot at which the historic document was sealed during the mid-June conference of 1215 has long been disputed by local contenders for the honor.

The atmosphere of the scene, contemporary history records, was heavy with tension, fear, and the suppressed fury of the king. For the meeting represented John's capitulation after a bitter, years-long struggle involving both church and nobles.

The basis of the Magna Carta was the "Articles of the Barons," derived in turn from the coronation agreements made by John's great-grandfather, Henry I, but repudiated by his successors.

Listed among the Great Charter's provisions were feudal rights and privileges, definitions and limitations concerning the respective spheres of king, nobles, church, courts, merchants, towns, and — more vaguely — benefits to seep down from ruling to dependent groups.

CORNERSTONE FOR FUTURE

Modern interpreters have often read into the Magna Carta far more liberal principles than the drafters could have imagined. But its guarantees of personal and property rights, and security against extortion and despotism were specific and broad enough to serve as a cornerstone for individual liberties eventually extended to all classes.

★ ★ ★ ★

King John himself soon renounced his concessions, only to die before the war that ensued could be resolved. From then on the charter, with changes and modifications, was frequently reissued and confirmed by England's rulers. Its ideas crossed the ocean to form part of the legal and political heritage of America.

Work Forces Move of Emergency Door

Construction work at Pontiac General Hospital has caused the relocation of the emergency ambulance entrance, accordding to Warren W. Simonds, acting hospital director.

The new entrance is adjacent to the present hospital entrance off Johnson avenue and is about 50 feet from the Johnson-West Huron corner. It is marked by a sign and reserved parking for emergency vehicles is indicated by red curbing, Simonds said.

The former entrance, further south on Johnson, has been closed to permit its conversion into a receiving entrance when the hospital construction work is completed.

The new ambulance entrance is only temporary, the official said. When work is done, a permanent entrance will be provided off Seminole avenue.

Invitation to Zhukov to Visit U.S. May Be Brewing

WASHINGTON (INS) — A high ranking Soviet military attache apparently floated a deliberate trial balloon the other day by letting it be known that Marshal Georgi Zhukov would like to be invited to America.

The attache expressed the opinion that Zhukov would especially be interested in coming for the national air races, which normally coincide with Labor Day weekend.

The Russian made his disclosure at a Soviet embassy party which was attended chiefly by Pentagon and State Department officials. Indications are that the "balloon" was carried back to Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, who may have spoken of it to President Eisenhower while entertaining him Tuesday night at a dinner party in his Pentagon suite.

Other guests at the Cabinet-level party revealed that Ike and Wilson spoke at length to each other out of ear-shot of their colleagues.

Certainly the decision must have been of very recent origin, since White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty stated only Tuesday that the President had absolutely no intention of inviting Zhukov or any other Soviet officials to America.

The President at yesterday's press conference surprised Hagerty as much as the newsmen by declaring that a meeting here between Zhukov and his American opposite number, Wilson, might produce some results in bringing about better relations between the two countries.

Wilson, who is anxious to resign his Cabinet post as soon as the President can choose a successor, might well regard a meeting with Zhukov as a fitting climax to his government service.

Soviet Press Secretary Anatole Myschkov was asked if he felt Zhukov would be prepared to accept an official invitation to visit America.

Myschkov replied that while he did not yet know the attitude of the Kremlin ot this particular situation, "It is our position that such contacts with foreign governments are most valuable in any case."

Ike made it clear at his news conference that considers Zhukov an "honest man" who can be dealt with on satisfactory terms.

While emphasizing that the Russian military boss is a dedicated Communist, he said that during their years together in Berlin they had a most satisfactory and agreeable friendship.

While jointly occupying Berlin after the war, Eisenhower continued, he and Zhukov used to hold long discussions about the relative merits of communism and democracy.

One such session, he revealed, lasted three hours, during which the Russian general insisted that the Communist system appeals to man's ideals, while the democratic system is plainly materialistic.

Confessing that he was "hard put to it" to find a satisfactory answer, he said Zhukov claimed that democracy tells a man he can make as much as he wants, keep as much as he wants, and do as he pleases, while the Soviets teach their people that their primary duty is to support the state.

A startled reporter asked if the President meant to leave the impression that Zhukov had presented the better arguments.

Ike disavowed this with a smiling response that you can find some people who will put up a strong argument that the sun is not hot and the earth is not round.

Like Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at his press conference Tuesday, the President seemed cautiously optimistic about the recent upheaval in the Kremlin leadership.

Ike said the ousted group represented the hard core of Bolshevik doctrinists, while victorious Nikita Khrushchev and Zhukov are apparently taking a more flexible attitude.

Cigarette Filters Kidding Public?

Subcommittee Opens Hearing on Ads, Claims of Value, Protection

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Blatnick (D-Minn) said today cigarette manufacturers may be "kidding" smokers about the value of filter cigarettes.

Blatnik is chairman of a House Government Operations subcommittee opening hearings on filter cigarette advertising and manufacturers' claims for filter values.

In advance of today's session, Blatnik told a reporter that smokers presently are paying more than half a million dollars a day extra for filter "protection" — a premium of about two cents per pack.

"This is conservative — it may be as high as $800,000 a day," he added.

As filters have come into wide use, Blatnik said, tests appear to show the tobacco content of the cigarette is "souped up" — that stronger tobaccos are used—to add "flavor" to the smoke.

"The result is," Blatnik said, "that you have cases where some filters are now giving you as much or more nicotine and tars as you got from the old unfiltered cigarettes.

"We want to know what people are paying for — what protection they are getting for their money. Maybe they're being fooled."

Social Security Benefits Growing in Oakland Area

The impact of federal social security on Oakland County has zoomed upward during the past year as Congress liberalized the law and as more covered workers reached retirement age.

The astounding amount of $1,359,944 a month is being paid out to county residents under various provision of the law, according to William E. LaRock, Pontiac district manager, Social Security Administration.

22,400 IN OAKLAND

LaRock said that more than 22,400 Oakland residents were getting benefits as of the end of 1956, which are the latest figures available. Of this total, 11,122 are retired workers receiving $826,378 a month, as compared with 9,662 workers in 1955.

At the end of 1956, benefits were also going to 3,655 wives or aged dependent husbands of old-age beneficiaries and to 2,838 aged widows or dependent aged widowers in Oakland, he said.

The jump in beneficiaries is partly due to the lowering of the age at which women may receive benefits from 65 to 62 under the 1956 amendments to the Social Security Act, he pointed out.

The average payment to a retired worker in Oakland County last year was $74.30 a month, compared with a national average of $63.09.

MANY ELIGIBLE

Social security coverage has really taken hold in recent years, said LaRock. Three-fourths of the men becoming 65 this year will be eligible for benefits.

Of all people over 65 years of age, 62 per cent are now drawing benefits or will be entitled to do so when they quit work.

Besides the aged, children are major beneficiaries of social security, he noted. In December, 1956, 3,953 children in the county received a total of $182,748 monthly These were largely the minor children of deceased insured parents, although some were children under 18 whose insured parent had retired.

LaRock stated that a new amendment to the law now makes some children over 18 eligible if they are disabled and permits payments to a mother who has a disabled child in her care.

He added that 809 widowed mothers who were caring for child beneficiaries received $64,817 per month last year.

Commenting on the growth of social security during the 20 years of its operation, LaRock recalled the original law covered about 26 million workers. Today some 55.5 million are covered, or nine out of 10.

AEC Postpones A-Test Explosion

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission today postponed detonation of the eighth shot of the current test series. It had been set for 6:30 a. m. today.

★ ★ ★

The AEC said "unacceptable wind conditions" forced the postponement.

A spokesman for the agency said the postponement would be for "at least 48 hours."

The testers now have two shots ready to go, the one that had been set for today—to have been detonated from a balloon, and an air-to-air shot scheduled for 7 a.m. tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

The AEC says the air-to-air shot has precedence. A spokesman said that if conditions are acceptable the air shot will be fired tomorrow and the balloon shot rescheduled for Saturday morning.

State Farm Announces Toronto Trip Winners

Robert J. Gibbons, Pontiac district manager for State Farm Insurance Companies, announced Wednesday that seven local agents have won trips to the State Farm Career Club meeting July 22-25 at Toronto.

The seven men selected are Lester Oles, of 2043 Knollwood; Vern Hartman, 215 Starr; Earle Davis, 60 Sanderson; Leo Huffman, 418 E. Beverly; Harvey Perry, 136 Alice; Howard Bratt, 1101 Joslyn, and Frank Aherns, 52 Murphy.

The trip winners have also been invited to take along their wives to the convention, to be held at the Royal York Hotel.

Executives of the company will address the three-day meeting and panel discussions will cover insurance trends.

Pontiac Woman Speaks

Mrs. Frances Kessler, director of the Pontiac Alcoholism Information Center, was the featured speaker before two Pontiac area groups this week.

Tuesday evening she showed a film at the First Baptist Church and gave a talk on the problems of alcoholism. Monday evening she appeared before the Romeo Lions Club.

Two Couples Lost on Short Ocean Trip

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two couples who ventured on a short ocean cruise in Gail Wilkes' new 26-foot cabin motorboat are feared lost. One couple has four children, the other three.

The Pen Jay was found overturned last night on Point Ano Nuevo, 40 miles south of San Francisco, by a Coast Guard helicopter pilot. He landed and said no trace was found of the missing four.

Wilkes, 40, and his wife, Helen, 40, left Moss Landing Tuesday noon with Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Wymer of Santa Clara, bound for Half Moon Bay about 50 miles away.

U.S. Completes Shift of Envoys

Five Career Diplomats Head Western Europe Embassies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration has now completed a sweeping diplomatic shakeup which has involved naming 31 new ambassadors in the past six months.

Hundreds of lower-echelon diplomats also have been shifted as part of the worldwide reshuffle which coincided with the beginning of President Eisenhower's second term.

The shakeup has left but five career diplomats heading embassies in Western Europe — an all-time diplomatic low.

The total number of career service ambassadors remains about the same as in Eisenhower's first term, however, with many assigned in the Far East and Latin America.

Political appointees now serve as ambassadors in 11 West European nations including Germany, Britain, France and Italy.

One-third of the 78 diplomatic missions of the United States maintains overseas are now led by non-career men, mostly former Republican office holders and businessmen.

Two Democrats have been given top diplomatic jobs. They are David Bruce, ambassador to West Germany, and Ellsworth Bunker, former Red Cross president who now is ambassador to India.

State Department officials said the shakeup now can be considered over, with only the American Legation post in Hungary vacant because of differences with the Hungarian Communist puppet regime.

Political appointees, they said, head all major overseas embassies except in Russia and Japan.

Pittsburgh Police Bring Down Steer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Using radio scout cars instead of horses, Pittsburgh policemen put on something of a rodeo last night — and they brought down a 1,400 pound steer which had sent pedestrians and motorists scurrying.

The steer escaped from a truck being unloaded at the Bloomfield Packing Co. It headed for the bright lights of Liberty Ave. in the Bloomfield district with four police cars in hot pursuit.

After an hour, two policemen maneuvered their autos expertly and pinned the steer against a fence. Ten shots killed the animal.

Lignite or brown coal has somewhat the appearance of decayed wood.

Hal Boyle Says:

Secret Mail Brings Thrill to Youth

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the great delights of growing up when the world was young—I keep telling myself, now that the world is old—was getting secret mail.

Every adult is sure in his heart he did something when young that no one else ever did before or since.

One of the things I am surest of in my heart is that, as a child, I must have been responsible for the fact the U. S. Post Office ran so deeply in debt. Certainly it complains to this day that the stamps it sells don't buy it out of the red ink.

Looking back now, I find it hard to figure just why I went overboard for secret mail. I think that basically, as one of the junior citizens in a seven-member family in a one-bathroom (indoors) house I was reaching for some kind of privacy.

If so, I never got it. My private mail got to be pretty public in our neighborhood. The mere size of it was hard to hide on a street where a postcard from out of town signed by a stranger would stir more lives than the influenza.

Since nobody had ever written to me in my lifetime, I decided to write to them first.

The magazines of that day—as some still are to this day—were full of advertisements which invited correspondence. Once I started answering these invitations I hardly knew where to quit.

Opportunity didn't seem to knock at one's door. It merely awaited the lick of a two-cent stamp.

I began by deciding I wanted to be a ventriloquist. My mind was made up by seeing an ad which showed a man carrying a heavy box on his shoulder, and a muffled voice supposedly from the box startled bystanders by calling:

"Let me out!"

★ ★ ★

Naturally the voice came from a ventriloquist on the sidelines, just having fun. The idea of being able to do this appealed to me then (it still does), and I spent at least 12 cents in stamps investigating the price of becoming a ventriloquist by mail. The cost came to more than I could afford at the time, but even now when I pass someone carrying a trunk I always halt and murmur, "Let me out!" Fortunately, no one pays any attention.

This has gone on for so many years that in my own mind I have reached the conclusion it's not a matter of ventriloquism at all: There is somebody in that trunk!

Other invitations I explored by mail were how to build yourself from a skinny joke at the beach into a muscled man who could whip any bully, how to become an electrical engineer in 12 easy shocks, how to grow chinchillas for profit in grandfather's beard during the uneasy summer months, and how to make quick money by selling Christmas cards to the neighbors just before Easter.

The postman got interested in some of these situations himself. I remember the day I got the reply to the ad saying send one dollar and receive 12 different pictures of 12 beautiful girls in 12 different poses. The postman opened that letter himself, looked at the enclosed pictures—harmless photos of old movie stars—sighed in disappointment, and marched bravely forward on his rounds.

Those were the magic days of enchantment, however, to a small eager boy anxious for learning. All that I ever know—or even suspect—I owe to the U. S. postal service. I still regard every stamp I invested as a worthwhile investment. Never since has the world seemed quite as glamorous.

This whole golden age of youth collapsed when my mother intercepted the reply to an ad on how any girl can develop bigger busts in the privacy of her own home. Mama tore up that letter, and to this day I wonder what it said.

Anyway, after that, the postman wasn't allowed to knock once—let alone twice—for me, and I went back to studying algebra, whatever that is.

Electric Brain Will Simplify Shopping Job

Electronic brains have now invaded department stores, making the job of the salesgirl simpler and giving the customer more time to shop.

★ ★ ★

A new transactor system, which automatically writes a customer's sales check in less than a third of the time required to handle sales-books and hand-written receipts, was introduced recently.

The machine prints all sales information electronically on punched tape for processing through a "brain," making errors on the bill almost impossible.

Four Clinton Men Freed in Court

was made by J. Benjamin Simmons of Washington, D. C., who represents John Kasper, Northern segregationist leader.

Barnett argued, in attacking the conspiracy charge, that the fact that some of the accused were seen in the back room of a Clinton restaurant with Kasper was no evidence of conspiracy.

"But no one knows what they said," Barnett said. "We can't speculate when a man's liberty is at stake."

Similarly, he said, membership in the Tennessee White Citizens Council was no evidence of conspiracy. "Every man and woman has the right to belong to a White Citizens Council," Barnett said.

OPENS ARGUMENTS

Referring to the riots on Clinton's main street on the night of Friday, Aug. 31, Barnett said, "Yes, there were a thousand or more people there. They were excited. They were nervous. Those things have to be taken into consideration."

"But I say again this is no evidence of conspiracy."

Barnett said people have a right to be opposed to integration of the schools.

"They have a right to talk about it, and once in a while to fight a little about it," he said.

After chief defense counsel Robert L. Dobbs of Memphis moved for the directed verdict of acquittal, Taylor merely nodded his head without committing himself as to what his decision would be.

student, was first runnerup as Miss Lansing. Miss Newaygo, 22-year-old Marilynn Thayer, was named second runnerup.

Marguerite Michel, 19, born in Tientsin, China, was named "Miss Congeniality" by a vote of fellow candidates. She was entered as Miss Flint.

Miss Strong, at ease before footlights, has been a professional pianist since she was 15. A music major at Central Michigan, she currently is on the teaching staff at the National Music camp at Interlochen.

★ ★ ★

"I've played piano since I was nine," she says. Her background includes piano engagements at hotels in Detroit, Chicago and Grand Rapid. She also is the star of three television shows a week at Traverse City and plays a weekend stint at a Traverse City hotel.

Valerie appeared last night in a white, floor-length satin and tulle evening gown and a black bathing suit.

Her own arrangement of the popular samba "Brazil," performed as a piano solo, drew top honors in the talent competition.

Her parents were unable to witness their daughter's triumph. "My father suffered a heart attack a few weeks ago and has not been able to do much since then," Valerie explained.

She has "no romantic ties" at present, says the new Miss Michigan.

A former 4H Club member for eight years, Valerie includes water skiing, boating and travel among her hobbies. She plans to use her first prize Miss Michigan scholarship to further her education, "probably in the field of educational television."

Detroiter Faces Trial for Illegal Purchase

Alexander T. Bermudez, 23, of 409 W. Palmer St., Detroit, will be examined in Municipal Court July 24 accused of illegally purchasing five tires from a local gas station with a credit card.

Bermudez was freed on a $200 bond by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum after he demanded examination when arraigned.

The uttering and publishing complaint, made by Buddy Giles, owner of Giles Standard Service Station, 23 Oakland Ave., who accuses Bermudez of using a Royal Oak man's national credit card with the company.

Bermudez was arrested in Detroit after Phillip M. Rogers, of 1805 Roseland St., Royal Oak, told authorities he had lost his credit card.

Plane Carrying Menon Makes Forced Landing

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — An Air India plane carrying Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon and 56 other passengers developed engine trouble 15 minutes after taking off today and had to return for repairs. Krishna Menon took off for Bombay after a seven-hour delay. He is returning to India after talks with Egyptian President Nasser in Cairo.

Dog Delays Subways

Security Racket Catches Many

Victims Learn Stock Is Worthless; Have No Recourse Later

NEW YORK — A vicious and wide-spread security racket that victimized the American public out of $100,000,000 last year is revealed in a recent issue of a national magazine.

Known as the "Boiler Room," a group of fraudulent stock brokerage firms have stopped at nothing to milk victims of all available cash, lure them into selling sound securities and invest in worthless ones and high pressure them into debt, asserts a recent issue.

The operation is simple, and yet so effective, that "stockateers" have been eluding and amazing investigators from the Security and Exchange Commission for some 22 years.

Among the swindles is the case of an elderly woman who bought 300 shares of an American chemical company, at $3 per share, from a boiler - room salesman. When the woman later became suspicious and went to the company office in Manhattan, she found the concern has closed. It had lost its plant, there was no market for its stock — and the last quotation — a year before the victim had purchased shares had only been 25 cents.

Paul Windels, Jr., New York regional administrator of the SEC admits in the article that "brokers allowed to unload worthless stock would not — because of their long criminal records — be allowed to unload ships."

Among the rules presented to help the unwary security buyer avoid falling victim to the boiler-room rackets are:

1. Deal with only security firms you know.

2. Be skeptical of any securities offered on the telephone from any firm you do not know.

3. Beware of promises of quick spectacular price rises.

4. Request written information about the corporation, its operation, net profit, management, financial position and future prospects.

Highway Bill Cuts Perry Work Costs

The Pontiac contracts have not yet been let.

Then actual construction of the projects "will be assigned priority when my five-year highway construction plan is completed," Mackie said.

The highway department's estimate yesterday of the total M24 cost was $1,000,000. Previous estimates by the city put the total cost around $1,300,000.

In effect, the new law means Pontiac will only have to pay one-eighth of the total cost. Future trunkline projects within Pontiac city limits also will come under the new law.

Other cities named in Mackie's announcement are Ann Arbor, Bay City, Detroit, Highland Park, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Lansing and Saginaw.

Relive Old West at 'Indian City' in Oklahoma

ANADARKO, Okla. (INS)—Tourists visiting the Southwest can get an unusual glimpse of that area as it used to be with a trip to "Indian City, U.S.A."

This unique 160-acre reconstruction of Indian life is situated near Anadarko, Okla., on federal highway 281. That's 68 miles south of Oklahoma City and 38 miles north of Fort Sill, with motels and hotels close at hand.

"Indian City," site of the annual August "American Indian Exposition," is open every day of the year, but is best seen between May and September, when Indian dances are staged.

One of the guides, Dixon Palmer, is also the Kiowa Indian "Blue Hail," one of the best known Indian dancers in the U.S.

Admission to "Indian City" is a dollar for adults and fifty cents for children. In addition to dances, there are real Pawnee earthen lodges, Wichita grass houses, Caddo adobe houses, Apache wicki-ups and Plains Indians teepees, all built exactly as they were built during wild west days.

Ammonia Escapes, 2,000 Evacuated

RED BUD, Ill. (AP)—Most of the 2,000 residents of this town were evacuated today when ammonia fumes from a broken line at a fertilizer plant spread through the area.

Two or three persons were reported to have been temporarily overcome by the fumes, but none required hospitalization.

Mayor Elmer Schuchmann had the fire alarm sounded when he was notified of the break in the ammonia line shortly after 5 a.m. An estimated 1,500 residents walked or drove out of the affected area. Firemen went from door to door warning the residents.

★ ★ ★

The residents began returning to the town about two hours later after the break was repaired and the fumes dissipated.

Red Bud is some 35 miles southeast of St. Louis.

Ernest Veigh, of 41 Pine St., was revived and rushed from Neisner Brothers, 42 N. Saginaw St., to Pontiac General Hospital by Pontiac firemen about 3 p.m.

Firemen report Veigh's hand was caught in the machine when it rotated unexpectedly. He was released after treatment for bruises.

Atomic Energy Courses Taken

Industrialists in Britain Study Nuclear Energy in Unique Classrooms

LONDON (INS)—Atomic power is becoming such a potent force in British industry today that industrialists have to bone up on the atom.

To help industrialists acquire a basic knowledge of nuclear energy, the United Kingdom Atomic Energy Authority is now opening its unique classrooms to men from private industrial companies.

Special six-week courses will be held at the Atomic Energy Research Establishment at Harwell starting in June for people in industry who are concerned with atomic energy development but who are not directly concerned with reactor design.

For a long time Harwel lhas been offering standard reactor school courses lasting 14 weeks. Instruction has been primarily on reactor physics and engineering. Some students have been permitted to attend courses for the first six weeks during which the basic principles of these subjects were outlined, but the demand for places on the full standard course has been so high that the number of short-term students has had to be strictly limited.

Besides covering the basic principles of the physics and engineering of reactors, lectures will be given on such subjects as reactor metallurgy, shielding and health physics.

Maryland Beauty Named Miss U.S.A.

herself, said Leona came to live with her two years ago after her widowed mother had remarried. Glen Burnie is a suburb of Baltimore.

Barbara said while Leona, as a contestant, has been living like a princess, she's been staying "in a tiny place down the street" and "living on fruit."

Leona wore her $45 Miss Maryland dress as her formal gown on the first night of the contest, but blossomed out last night in a dazzling white dress loaned to her for the occasion by a Long Beach dress shop.

Leona won out in the final balloting over four others, the final survivors of the 44 U.S. girls who originally entered the contest.

As Miss U.S.A., Leona goes up against 32 foreign beauties tonight when eliminations begin to pick Miss Universe. Fifteen semifinalists will be selected tonight with Miss Universe being chosen tomorrow night.

Decide Tomorrow on Crusade Extension

Graham Raps Indifference to Church

NEW YORK (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham says "the greatest problem the church has today . . . is indifference. People just don't care.

Speaking to another overflow crowd last night at Madison Square Garden, Graham declared:

"They don't realize that every second, that every heartbeat brings them closer to eternity."

Some 700 standees were included in the 19,200 persons within the arena. Another 3,000 were unable to enter. Graham delivered a short sermon to them prior to his regular appearance in the arena.

Graham told his arena audience that the Apostle Paul "wouldn't be acceptable" for membership in the average church today because of his record. "He spent most of his time in jail," Graham said, referring to Paul's frequent imprisonment as a result of his preaching.

The evangelist said the world, and particularly New York, has great need for a man of Paul's stature at the present time.

"Oh, would that New York today had men with the passion and burden that Paul had to preach Christ to this city," Graham said.

Total attendance at 58 crusade meetings is 1,076,900 with 33,846 "decisions for Christ." The crusade is scheduled to end Saturday night with a mammoth rally in Yankee Stadium.

The Graham crusade committee meets tomorrow morning to decide whether to extend the crusade for another two or three weeks. A possible indication that the crusade will be extended came yesterday from the American Broadcasting Co. It has been televising some of Graham's recent Saturday appearances in the Garden. It said the network had definitely scheduled a telecast from the Garden for July 27 with the understanding that Graham would appear. There was no confirmation or denial from the Graham crusade team.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Martin Luther King, who led the successful Negro bus boycott in Montgomery, Ala., is to appear at tonight's crusade meeting, a Graham team spokesman said.

Pope Composes Prayer for Silent Catholic Church

VATICAN CITY (AP)— Pope Pius XII has composed a prayer asking Jesus to strengthen "our brothers of the church of silence"—the name he has given to the Roman Catholic Church in Communist countries.

★ ★ ★

Directed to Jesus, "King of martyrs and comfort of the afflicted," the prayer asks that Roman Catholics in Communist countries be strengthened so that they will "never become faint in the battle" and that they may experience consolation in their trials.

★ ★ ★

It concludes with a plea that Communist oppressors of the Church may be converted. "Grant, O Lord," it says, "that the days of trial will be shortened so that very soon all—with the oppressors converted—may freely serve and adore You." The prayer was published today by the Vatican's L'Osservatore Romano.

Mammoth Cave Has Many Miles of Long Tunnels

MAMMOTH CAVE, Ky. (INS)—If you have a yen to go underground this summer, there are 150 miles of explored corridors in Mammoth Cave, long considered one of the seven wonders of the world.

The National Park System conducts many tours every day of the year through the four main entrances. The tours last from two hours to all day.

Located in south central Kentucky, midway between Louisville and Nashville, Tenn., there are cottages and cabins, a hotel and restaurant in the park as well as additional accommodations in small towns close by.

For anti-cave dwellers there are many miles of trails above ground through the heavily-wooded and flowered land atop the cave.

Discovered by the white man about 1799, there is evidence that the cave had long been used by pre-Columbian Indians. Geologists say its formation began some 240 million years ago when Kentucky was submerged by the Mississippi Sea.

Cabaret Taxes Slashed 50 Pct.

House Committee OKs Cuts Despite Opposition of President

WASHINGTON (INS) — The House Ways and Means Committee voted yesterday to reduce the federal cabaret tax 50 per cent.

The committee action was taken despite the opposition of President Eisenhower who told tax lawmakers last Monday he opposed any reduction that would result in loss of revenue to the Federal Treasury.

The federal tax on admissions to cabarets and night clubs is now 20 per cent. The committee action would reduce the tax to 10 per cent. All other admission taxes have been 10 per cent since 1954.

While Eisenhower and Treasury Secretary George Humphrey opposed reduction of the cabaret tax it had at least the tacit support of Labor Secretary James Mitchell as well as several labor organizations, principally the Musicians Union headed by James C. Petrillo.

The federal government now gets an estimated 43 million dollars from the cabaret tax. Committee sources said there was no way of estimating exactly the loss of revenue that would result from a 50 per cent cut, but supporters of the reduction contend that revenues actually might increase from boosted attendance and through more income for musicians.

Summer Plays Give U.S. History

Sagas of America's Past Seen at Festivals Around the Country

WASHINGTON — At summer festivals up and down the land, ghosts of the American past are coming to life again in sagas of Colonial, Revolutionary, pioneer, and Civil War times.

"The Lost Colony," presented on Roanoke Island, N. C., and "The Common Glory," at Williamsburg, Va., are two of the oldest and best known of the many dramas and pageants that have sprung up over the last 20 years to attract and entertain vacationists.

of the many dramas and pageants that have sprung up over the last 20 years to attract and entertain vacationists.

Among the youngest on the historical circuit are "The Wilderness Road" (Berea, Ky.), and "Chucky Jack" (Gatlinburg, Tenn.). Another newcomer, "The Founders," is making its first appearance this season at Williamsburg, where it joins "The Common Glory" as part of the 350th anniversary celebrations in the Jamestown area.

A popular technique for today's open - air productions — introduced by Pulitzer prize-winner Paul Green — makes use of a narrator, symphonic and choral music, and large casts of actors, singers, and dancers.

Since the 1937 debut of "The Lost Colony," Green's first "symphonic drama," more than a million people have seen this portayal of Sir Walter Raleigh's ill - fated effort to establish an English settlement in the New World.

"The Common Glory," a Green drama that opened at Williamsburg in 1947, deals with a larger canvas of history. Laid in Revolutionary times and focused on the life of Thomas Jefferson, it points up the human side of the struggle between George III and Colonists.

Man Held in Pontiac Also Sought in Detroit

Jerry McDonald, 31, of 27 Myrtle, St., waived examination and was bound over to Circuit Court yesterday accused of issuing two checks, totalling $85, without an account.

McDonald was commited to the Oakland County Jail pending arraignment in the higher court Monday. He failed to pay the $500 bond requested by Muncipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

Following prosecution in Pontiac, McDonald will be turned over to the Detroit office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

He is wanted by FBI agents for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution of raping a 15-year-old Hazel Park girl, according to Pontiac Police Detective Robert A. Emery.

Find No Negligence in Elevator Fatality

No evidence of criminal negligence turned up yesterday in the death of a 17-year-old stock boy at Waite's Department Store, Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor said.

Taylor made the announcement after statements were taken concerning the accidental death of Leroy Crow, 221 State Ave., struck on the head by a descending freight elevator.

The youth apparently had peered through a small window in the elevator shaft on the fourth floor to call a message down to a lower floor when the elevator descended with a load of trash, Taylor said.

The window was protected by a raisable steel screen, Taylor said, and employes had been warned not to place their heads or hands within the opening.

The elevator operator told Taylor there had been no signal to stop at the fourth floor.

Crow, an honor student who had worked part time at the store during the past school year, had been employed full time since his graduation from Pontiac High School in June.

Because it is in error by 26 seconds a year, the Gregorian calendar, started in 1582, will be one full day off the true astronomical year by the time 4900 A. D. arrives.

Univac Scores Zero on Advice

Needs Romance Checkup

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—It appears that science cannot replace the heart as a barometer of love—at least not yet.

The romantic computations of Univac, the electronic brain, came to zero today when it was revealed that a couple pronounced ideally suited for marriage by the machine has parted.

Friends disclosed that secretary Barbara Smith, 23, and advertising executive John Caran, 28, who became engaged last December after Univac picked them for each other on the "People Are Funny" television show, have cancelled their marriage plans.

As one friend, Norman Kahn, put it:

"Univac blew a fuse, and she gave back his ring."

Kahn said Caran now hopes to meet a nice girl and fall in love—without scientific assistance.

Bob Considine Says:

Courts Still Shut Out Radio and TV

NEW YORK (INS)—John Daly's appeal to the American Bar Association to drop its resistance to television, radio and newsreel coverage of court trials was based on a truth too obvious for either the bar group or the judicial system to challenge.

But the cameras and microphones will not appear overnight in our courtrooms. Change is fought more vigorously than sin.

It was regarded as a pretty daring feat, years ago, when the incessant demands by Fulton Lewis finally won a little studio space in the Capitol in Washington. Graybeards among the statesmen and begrudging old line Washington correspondents considered it an indecent intrusion.

Today, the TV people practically tell the President when to begin his speech to the assembled houses.

It took newspapermen several years after the establishment of the Congress to gain admission to its galleries. The First Article of the Constitution could go hang, an influential number of the post-revolution solons decreed.

Until Jefferson had his way, and the Sedition Act was swept into discard, printed criticism however richly deserved was a crime.

NO CONFERENCES

There were no White House press conferences, really, until F.D.R.'s regime, no room set aside for the press at the executive mansion during the century that spanned the administrations of John Adams and Theodore Roosevelt.

★ ★ ★

In later years the name of these seances has been changed to "news conference," but the title of the fellow in Jim Hagerty's office remains "press secretary."

Sheer force of habit caused the Eisenhower official family to announce a ban on TV coverage of his availability speech at Abilene in 1952, before the GOP convention.

To their credit, the TV people simply walked into the theater and set up shop. They had as much right to be there, under the Constitution, as did Ike, or the handful of reporters who grumbled "they're trying to turn us into actors."

Today, the President has Robert Montgomery as his TV coach. He was plainly reluctant to announce his decision to run for a second term, on Feb. 29, 1956, at his regular morning news conference because he preferred to save the story for television that night.

TELLING THE PEOPLE

Daly's point is that it is unconstitutional to separate the several means by which the American people are kept informed of what is happening about them.

The Bar Association's attitude is not necessarily in accord with the thinking of all American judges, though some—if not most—will resist the expansion of knowledge of precisely what takes place in their courtrooms.

It would seem that the legal eagles have taken a lot upon themselves in attempting to limit coverage and therefore curtail general knowledge of the course of jurisprudence. Some, of course, would bar newspapermen, too, if they dared buck the solid tradition of such coverage.

The day is sure to come when the lens and the microphone are as much a part of the courtroom scene as the reporter's pencil and the bored bailiff.

It is simply a question of the constitutional rights of those media to attend public hearings if they so choose, plus an obligation on their part to disturb as little as possible the decorum of the court and an interested party's claim on a fair shake.

I see a day when the TV camera will be as unobtrusive as a knothole in the paneling, when the cameraman will need no blinding lights, and the comments of the radio fellow will be as remote to those in the courtroom as the meeting halls of U.N. are remote to the delegates.

NEED NOT FEAR

No honest judge or prosecutor need fear what a camera reveals or a microphone records. A continuation of the ban on even discreet TV and radio coverage must, in the end, lead the public to conclude that judge, prosecution and defense have entered into an unholy alliance to deprive the people of their right to know.

Only the scoundrels in our halls of justice can suffer from such additional exposure.

ALTAR BOUND — Argentine movie actor Carlos Thompson, right, will wed Hollywood actress Lilli Palmer, left, as soon as he completes the film he is making in Italy. Miss Palmer is the former wife of Rex Harrison. A spokesman, who made the announcement for the actor, said they would be married in Munich, Germany, in mid-August.

Midday Sun Isn't Best for Camera Portraits

By International News Service

The Caribbean, its lovely islands and you in a bathing suit all photograph beautifully. But not at midday. They say outdoor portraits taken around the noon hour suffer from the overhead sun which throws deep shadows around the eyes and cheeks.

Because light is deceptive and is reflected strongly off beaches and light pastel walls, a small lens opening is advisable to keep from over-exposing your films.

Soviets Ponder British Proposal

Suggest Detailed Study by Working Committees Toward Disarmament

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet disarmament delegation has promised to ponder a British proposal that working committees be named to begin a detailed study of steps toward a first stage disarmament agreement.

U.S. officials said they attached no major significance to the Russian reaction but that it was one of several signs that the U.N. disarmament subcommittee talks had taken a more hopeful turn.

It was the first time in the four-month-old sessions that Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin had not rebuffed suggestions for setting up working committees.

Zorin neither accepted nor rejected the proposal put forward at yesterday's meeting but said he would study it and reply later.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, who made the working committee proposal, said agreement in principle had been reached on a number of steps but there had been no move to get down to details on carrying out such general agreements. He suggested that working groups be established to study how:

1. Nuclear weapon testing could be suspended;
2. Conventional armaments might be reduced;
3. Armies could be cut back to previously agreed levels, and
4. An inspection system could be organized to guard against the possibility of suruprise attacks.

★ ★ ★

The negotiators have agreed in principle that those items should be included in a first-stage agreement.

The next session of the five-nation subcommittee—made up of Britain, the United States, the Soviet Union, France and Canada—is scheduled for tomorrow.

Tread Should Be a Thing of Beauty Plus Utility

She's Artist—Sculpturing Auto Tires

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

AKRON, Ohio (INS) — A lot of people indulge in a lot of unusual professions these days (who hasn't thrilled at the thought, for example, of "zoster makers" and "woomerangs"?), but Mrs. June Black is in a class by herself.

Mrs. Black, a damsel with dainty hands and the patience of a flagpole sitter on a weekday, holds a job that no other woman in the world holds. This makes her distinctive no matter how jaded America has become in this matter after eight years of "What's My Line?"

"It's not hard," she says, sitting high aboard a stool which looks like it belongs at a drug-store counter but does not. "Anyway," it's not hard most of the time. Only when I pound . . ."

John Daly would not divulge the occupation this quickly, but we don't have $50 to fool around with here, so the answer is Mrs. Black is salaried—a good chunk, too—and she is a "tire sculptor." That means she sculpts tires. Any questions?

★ ★ ★

"I'll try very hard to answer your questions," says June, shifting self-consciously on the leather-cushioned highchair, "but it's pretty technical and maybe it would be better if you'd watch the process. First I take some clay."

BIG GOOEY CHUNKS

She takes great chunks of gooey gray clay out of a huge can and grips it around a metal mold which is shaped to the exact dimensions of a quarter-section of auto wheel.

Then she pretends that she weighs more than her 115 pounds and begins to pummel it with her small fists until it looks exactly like a quarter-of-a-tire, only smooth.

(This is the part that hurts—not so much her hands as her lips. She bites them, in the traditional female gesture of honest, vicious endeavor.)

"There. Now I have a picture of a new tire tread design." She holds up a photograph, showing a lovely arrangement of geometrical grooves which she is to cut into her clay mold—sort of a puncture-proof Picasso design.

"Now with my molding tools and cutting wires, I must make an exact duplicate of this picture, dimension of the grooves exact to the fraction of the fraction.

"It'll take about a week. Can you stay?"

MAN TAKES OVER

When the tire mold is finished, presumably next Thursday, a male tire sculptor will take over, hand-cutting a real rubber tire to match. This will be tested on the road, to see if it is silent, safe and high-traction enough to be put into the Firestone Tire & Rubber Company's 1958 line.

"I think this one'll be good," June says, peering from experienced eyes. "Plenty of tire surface on the road, should wear forever. Also, it's pretty."

The aesthetic quality of a tire tread had somehow never occurred to us as important, but Mrs. Black knows best. "I understand only 16 per cent of the tires sold are bought by women, but you'd be surprised how design conscious men are.

"Well, after all, if you have a big, beautiful car you may as well have a set of big, beautiful tires on it. Don't you think?"

An aesthete herself, 32-year-old Mrs. Black graduated from the Cleveland Art School and taught ceramics at the Akron Art Institute before Firestone lured her to the job of sculpting some 52 treads a year.

You might call it "out of the kiln and into the tire."

Many Inventions Credited to Early Chinese Emperor

HONG KONG — One of the most noted rulers of China's First Dynasty was Huang-ti, the "Yellow Emperor." He lived in the 28th Century B.C.

He is believed to have been the first to teach the people to make bricks and build houses with them. His wife, Hsi-ling Shih, unraveled the cocoon of a silkworm and inaugurated the art of silk weaving.

Ancient records pertaining to this ruler carry the first mention of an objection to short skirts. They say of Huang-ti, "He lengthened the official robes."

He is said to have invented alchemy, originated divination, discovered copper and iron, ivented the art of pottery, and divided the Chinese into tribes, giving each a name.

Producing More Cars

TOKYO — April automobile production in Japan totaled 16,055 vehicles, a postwar record. It was the first time monthly production had gone above 10,000. Passenger cars smaller than American ones sell in Japan for $2,500 and up.

This puts them beyond the ordinary Japanese pocketbook and is the main reason auto-making has not developed into a real mass-production industry in Japan.

Witness Against GI Indicted in Japan

MAEBASHI, Japan (AP) — A key Japanese witness against U.S. Army Specialist 3.C. William S. Girard was indicted today on charges of injuring another American soldier in a brawl.

★ ★ ★

The witness is Hidetsugu Onozeki, 29, who told police he saw Girard entice a Japanese woman onto a military firing range before she was hit and killed by an empty cartridge case fired from a grenade launcher.

The Girard defense is expected to try to use the brawl to discredit Onozeki's testimony.

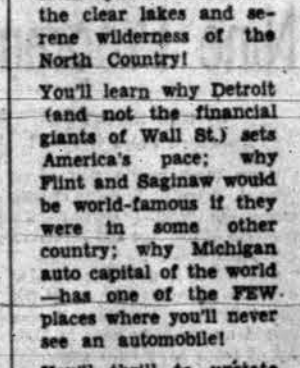
Onozeki is accused of slugging and injuring Pfc. Wilbur R. Smith, 25, of Mound City, Mo., in a brawl near the camp gate last June 9.

The temperature range in the United States has varied from 134 degrees in Death Valley, California, to 60 below zero in parts Montana.

A salute to Michigan

IN THE AUGUST ISSUE OF



Bruce Catton, Pulitzer Prize winner and native son, portrays the real Michigan! Now, in this 14-page, 17-photo salute, you'll learn why the "Water Wonderland" is the strangest state in the Union!

Here's all Michigan—from dynamic Detroit to the clear lakes and serene wilderness of the North Country!

You'll learn why Detroit (and not the financial giants of Wall St.) sets America's pace; why Flint and Saginaw would be world-famous if they were in some other country; why Michigan auto capital of the world—has one of the FEW places where you'll never see an automobile!

You'll thrill to upstate Michigan's famous vacation lands . . . discover the quiet beauty that draws throngs of city dwellers year after year . . . see nature's own air conditioning at work!

Now, in August Holiday Magazine, you'll see all Michigan—past, present and future! You'll relive the brawling, boisterous days of the lumber boom—when Michigan's giant forests were cut to house the world! You'll meet Detroit's production geniuses—who grabbed the Industrial Revolution by the tail! You'll get a glimpse of things to come—and learn right here why the future belongs to America!

You'll read about: Bay City . . . Midland . . . Hartwick Pines State Park . . . Traverse City . . . Clare . . . Benzonia . . . Crystal Lake . . . Sleeping Bear Point . . . Charlevoix . . . Mackinac Island . . . Sault Ste. Marie . . . Marquette . . . Eagle Harbor . . . and much, much more!

Security for You

Nine Programs Give Wide Assistance

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

When most people talk about "Social Security," they usually mean the federal government's program of Old Age and Survivors Insurance (OASI).

But, OASI is only one of nine separate programs set up by the Social Security Act when it was passed by Congress back in 1935. All of them have been expanded since then and are still going strong.

Four of the programs cover cash assistance to the needy aged, disabled, blind and dependent children. Three help the states give various kinds of services to mothers and children.

The other program provides a system of unemployment insurance for some 42 million workers. Under it, most of these workers can collect weekly unemployment pay for a limited time if they lose their jobs through no fault of their own.

Last year nearly five million jobless received nearly 1½ billion dollars in unemployment pay to bridge the gap between jobs.

IF YOU LOSE YOUR JOB

Perhaps, thousands more could have collected had they known they were eligible. Here's a broad-stroke picture of the program to help you if you should lose your job:

The program is run jointly by the federal and state governments.

The federal government sets down the broad operating rules and handles the money taken in. The states pay out the money and set the rules as to how unemployed workers may qualify for payments, how much they may collect each week and how many weeks they receive payments.

The money for the program comes from a tax on the payrolls of all employers who have at least four workers during 20 or more weeks of the year. The amount of tax paid varies from state-to-state and from employer-to-employer, generally depending on how much unemployment an employer has in his business.

The average tax paid is about two per cent of an employer's payroll. In two states — Alabama and New Jersey — employees also must pay an unemployment tax.

Because the state requirements to draw the payments vary widely, it's impossible here to be very specific about eligibility in individual states. But, in general, here are the basic requirements you must meet to get unemployment pay:

1. You must make a claim for the pay at a state employment office and register for work.

2. Your previous job must have been covered by a state unemployment pay program.

3. You must have had a certain amount of pay for work in a covered job in a specified period during the year or two before you lost your job.

4. You must be able to work and available for it.

5. You must be ready and willing to take a suitable job if one is offered.

How much you'll get if you meet these requirements will depend on your state's program. Usually, it's less than half of what you were earning for a full-time week on your previous job. The maximum ranges from $24 to $45 a week.

The length of time you'll be able to draw the pay will also depend on your state's unemployment system. It can be as little as four weeks and as much as 30 weeks.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

CEREAL SUSAN — In these days of make-your-own and do-it-yourself, it's fun to carry this trend right to the breakfast table. If your family has varying ideas about what each wants to eat for that first meal of the day, serve them a Cereal Susan and let them select their own cold cereal with their favorite fruit topping. Simple to do, too. Just take that lazy susan tray off the kitchen shelf and pile each dish high with fluffy white kernels of puffed rice cereal and toasty brown puffed wheat. Alternate the cereals for variety on the susan. In the center, arrange a bowl of the fresh fruit in season. A summertime suggestion might be golden peach slices, ruby red strawberries and juicy blueberries. A pitcher of milk or cream and a bowl of sugar are the only trimmings this breakfast calls for.

Variety of Meats for Grill Available at Good Prices

It's berry picking time again, the time when freezers and jam kettles are the center of interest in most households. With the current supplies of raspberries, and the blueberry season about to begin, no cupboard should be bare come wintry weather.

The meats for summer meals won't break the food budget, if you compare prices of different cuts before you go to shop, and then re-check when you stand at the meat counter, remarks the MSU Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Pork supplies are lighter at this season, so naturally pork prices are higher than when supplies are large in fall and winter. This does not mean you can't find good values in pork compared to other meats. It only means you must check more carefully.

FRUITS — Raspberry picking in the Benton Harbor area is expected to be finished about July 20 with berries in this area expected to last a few days longer. If you still have plans for freezing or jam, this is the time to be busy.

Taylor and Latham are the red raspberry varieties best for freezing. Cumberland and Logan are the black varieties to choose.

With weather so warm, if it's jam you want, hunt up your recipe for uncooked jam. Uncooked jam is the type you can store for several months in the refrigerator or up to a year in the freezer at zero degrees.

MEATS — Mid-July brings many demands for meat served outdoors. A poultry fry might be a broiler, stewer, or turkey. A poultry fry of either of these will be reasonable compared to red meats usually cooked on a grill.

Whole or cut-up fryers are 39 to 53 cents a pound. Stewers are 47 to 49 cents a pound. Hen turkeys are 39 to 49 cents a pound.

Stewing chicken can be browned in a frying pan then simmered in liquid for about an hour. Drain and dry the chicken. Get it cold and keep it cold 'till grill time. Finish the chicken with an hour over red hot coals.

If you plan to grill turkey, choose one five pounds or under. Then bake it in a 325 degree oven for 30 to 45 minutes before taking to the grill.

VEGETABLES—Weather brings abundance of some crops and light supplies of others.

In the vegetable department supplies of late spring and early summer onions are predicted to be 58 per cent larger than last year, 47 per cent above average. If the family enjoys onions, keep them on the market list. Beef kabobs with onions, creamed onions or onion rings in salads are just the beginning of ways to use more onions in summer.

Fine quality potatoes can go to picnics in more ways than salad. Oil them, wrap in foil, and cook over the grill. Turn several times while cooking.

Blueberry Pudding

Line bottom and sides of glass baking dish with slices of bread from which the crusts have been removed (not too fresh). Add a layer of stewed blueberries. Add alternate layers of bread and berries until the dish is filled, ending with the berries. Then place in the refrigerator overnight. Serve plain or with whipped cream.

WINNING TRICKS — Novel bridge party refreshments to win you new honors as the hostess with the most finesse can be made in a jiffy using only cookie cutters and a brick of ice cream. Remove ice cream from ½ gallon carton and slice into one inch pieces. Cut the ice cream into playing card designs using the cookie cutters. Linerless rectangular paraffined carton, that can be ripped open lengthwise, makes it easy to remove ice cream brick in one piece.

Glaze Ham With 2 Fruits

Pineapple glaze and raisin sauce are two time-proven favorites with ham, so why not combine the two in one delicious tasting sauce: Combine 2-3 cup drained crushed pineapple with 4 tablespoons seedless raisins, 4 tablespoons orange juice, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind and 4 tablespoons brown sugar. Simmer in saucepan for about ten minutes. Spread over sliced ham at serving time. Makes 4 servings.

Do your youngsters make their own sandwiches for lunchtime use? Make sure their hands and fingernails are clean before they start this food preparation.

Makes Own Hot Mustard

Here's how to make hot mustard to accompany Chinese egg rolls. (The egg rolls come frozen). Mix a half cup of dry mustard with three tablespoons of water until smooth. Any of the mustard left over may be put in a small tightly covered jar and refrigerated.

SEA FOOD SPAGHETTI — Everyone will want seconds on this spaghetti with sea food sauce. It's a delicious dish that combines shrimp and lobster in a tomato sauce. You'll want to serve it often this summer.

Spaghetti Takes to Sea Food

With easier, more gracious living every homemaker's goal these days, it's important to have some good recipes at your fingertips. Here is a spaghetti treat that is simple to prepare and above all delicious to eat.

Spaghetti With Sea Food Sauce

¼ cup butter or margarine
1 medium-sized onion, chopped
1 medium-sized green pepper, chopped
1 cup chopped celery
2 8-ounce cans tomato sauce
1 cup water
½ teaspoon marjoram
½ pound shrimp, shelled and deveined
2 cups lobster meat
Salt and pepper to taste
1 tablespoon salt
2 quarts boiling water
8 ounces spaghetti

Melt butter or margarine; add onion, green pepper and celery. Saute until tender, stirring occasionally. Add tomato sauce, water and marjoram; heat to boiling point, stirring occasionally. Simmer, uncovered, 20 minutes. Add shrimp and lobster; cook, covered, 10 minutes or until tender. Season with salt and pepper.

Meanwhile, add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Serve sea food sauce over spaghetti. Makes 4-6 servings.

Summer Sauerkraut

You'll find sauerkraut a popular vegetable to serve anytime of year. In summer, it's a real treat to go with barbecued hamburgers or hot dogs. Of course it's always good indoors, too, along with roast beef or pork, chops and steak. Sauerkraut comes in cans of several sizes; choose a big one, for the family's bound to want seconds.

Colorful Veal Platter

Puree a couple of packages of cooked frozen peas and season with butter, salt and pepper. Spoon the puree down the center of a platter; arrange breaded veal cutlet (cut in serving-size pieces) and broiled tomatoes around the peas. Nice for company.

Float a Quick Bouquet

Quick trick: arranging flowers artfully for a dining table often takes a good deal of time. Float them instead! Pink roses look lovely in a black bowl, a few yellow roses are charming in a shallow white container.

Meet the Churkendoose

Shopping for churkendoose? Then take along your buying guide, the chart entitled "Know the Poultry You Buy." Of course, you won't ask your butcher for a churkendoose; there isn't any such animal. But you might shop for chicken, turkey, duck or goose. Scramble the letters of those names and you've got "churkendoose."

Since fryer chickens and turkeys are so numerous now that the U.S. Department of Agriculture has named both of them on the July list of Plentiful Foods, this offer of the Government's free chart on buying poultry is well timed to help you get the most quality and satisfaction from the "churkendoose" you buy.

It will come to you folded, small enough to fit into your purse or into a cook book, but it opens up into a colored chart 11 x 16" you'll want to keep for frequent reference.

Can you tell by looking at a chicken in the poultry counter whether it's Grade A, the very best, or Grade B? You'll be able to do it after looking at the colored pictures in your USDA poultry chart.

Some of the poultry you buy has been inspected for wholesomeness by Government inspectors. The chart shows exactly what kind of a label to look for if you want the benefit of this safeguard. Some of the poultry also is graded for quality by Government graders. It bears a different kind of label (also pictured in the chart).

You can shop with much more assurance if you have a chart to study before going shopping. Or perhaps, you would rather take it with you.

The chart is free: If you'd like a copy, send a postcard to:
Office of Information
U.S. Department of Agriculture
Washington 25, D. C.
Ask for chart, "Know The Poultry You Buy."

Windows for Boxes

Someone ripped away the wrappers from look-alike cookies and cracker boxes on your pantry shelves? Don't fret . . . simply cut out a hole in the top of the box . . . cover it with some clear plastic household wrap . . . seal in place with adhesive tape and "voila" . . . a box with a view is ready.

To Use When It's Hot

Quick supper: Add a can of chunk-style tuna fish to a can of macaroni and cheese sauce along with some grated onion and minced parsley or green pepper. Top with grated cheese and bake in a hot oven.

The variety of peppercorns, how they are ground and their purity all affect the flavor of ground pepper.

SPICY SWEET CHERRIES — Either canned or fresh cherries may be made into a sauce that is delicious. Its rich deep color will add drama to the simplest meal. Accented with cloves and cinnamon, it is superb to serve with ham or poultry — or as a dessert sauce.

Spicy Cherries Accent Meat

Canned dark sweet cherries are noted for their ability to give personaljty to any menu. Even the standard school boy's lunch of peanut butter sandwiches takes on interest when a cup of dark sweet cherries is served for dessert. And speaking of lunch, a particularly attractive and appetizing salad or dessert can be made from cherry flavored gelatin and canned sweet cherries. Use the cherry syrup for liquid in making the gelatin . . . not only enhances the flavor, but the color, too.

★ ★ ★

Sweet cherries, though universally popular, are a western fruit. Though cherries have been known since the days of the caveman, the modern sweet varieties are the result of the ingenuity of western pioneers, who experimented with cherry seedlings until the big, plump Bings, Royal Annes and Lamberts emerged.

Spicy Sweet Cherries

1 No. 2½ can dark sweet cherries or 3½ cups fresh cherries
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ cup sugar
Few grains salt
1 teaspoon whole cloves or ¼ teaspoon ground cloves
½ teaspoon cinnamon or 2 sticks cinnamon
2 tablespoons cornstarch

Drain cherries and pit; save syrup (about 1½ cups). Add lemon juice, sugar, salt and spices to syrup. Use 1½ cups water for fresh cherries. Add small amount of syrup to cornstarch and stir until smooth, then add to remaining syrup. Cook until thick and clear. Stir in cherries. Cook slowly for 4-5 minutes longer. Chill until ready to use. Serves 5-6.

TWO-IN-ONE HAMBURGERS — Here is good news for back yard gourmets. Hamburgers with pimientos and American blue cheese cooked in them will delight your family and guests and give you a reputation as a chef with a flair for the unusual.

Two-in-Ones Double Treat

What is better than a hamburger? Two hamburgers, of course, especially when they are two-in-one. Here's how: Slim, slim patties are sprinkled with crumbled American blue cheese, and then a slice of flavorful canned pimiento is placed over this. On top of it all goes another slim patty, pressed down—and then on to the sizzling griddle!

When the tantalizing aroma from these doubly-good 'burgers comes drifting in you'll be glad you planned those extra helpings.

Two-in-One Hamburgers

1½ pounds ground beef
3 ounces American blue cheese
1 or more 4-ounce cans or jars whole pimiento
4 tablespoons minced onion (if desired)
Milk to moisten (if needed)
Salt and pepper

Add chopped onion to ground beef and season with salt and pepper. A small amount of milk is sometimes needed to make ground beef easier to handle. Divide into 12 pieces and form into very thin patties.

On half the patties place a generous amount of crumbled American blue cheese, and on top of that half of a canned pimiento. Top this with another patty and press together. Place on broiler rack about three inches from heat. Broil until brown—about 6 minutes.

Turn and top with a little more blue cheese, if desired. Continue cooking on that side until done—another 5 to 6 minutes. Serve in heated buns with additional garnish of pimiento. 6 servings.

Weight Watchers: Pimientos Do Trick

Canned whole pimiento is low in calories, high in vitamins, and delightful in taste.

Try it on cottage cheese.

Delicious dressing for salads: Beat one-fourth cup nonfat dry milk into one-fourth cup ice water until stiff, add three-fourths cups cottage cheese, salt, two teaspoons chopped canned pimiento, a dash of cayenne pepper, one-fourth teaspoon garlic salt, one teaspoon celery seed and two tablespoons lemon juice. Blend until smooth. This is delightful served with carrot sticks or celery strips.

Majestic Bowl of Fruit

Choose popular, easy fruit bowls for dessert. Here's an attractive one: Drain and combine chilled canned fruits for salad with drained canned prunes and sliced banana. Add a bit of grated lemon rind to the drained syrup and pour over the fruits.

Skillet Meal Is Cool Cooking

Ground beef balls, whole potatoes, and a savory tomato sauce make this a meal in a pan. Add a salad of head lettuce wedges with French dressing, a fruity dessert, and a beverage to complete the menu.

Meat Ball Skillet

1½ pounds ground beef
1 small onion, chopped
¼ cup bread crumbs
½ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon chili powder
⅓ cup milk
1 egg, slightly beaten
Salt
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1¼ cups tomato juice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
6 small potatoes
2 medium onions, sliced
2 stalks celery, sliced

Mix ground beef with chopped onion, crumbs, mustard, chili powder, milk, egg and 1½ teaspoons salt; shape into medium-sized balls. Brown in hot fat.

Add tomato juice, Worcestershire sauce, vegetables and 1 teaspoon salt; cover pan and simmer 20 to 30 minutes, or until potatoes are tender. Six servings.

French toast looks pretty topped with a spoonful of red jelly.

Q. What is the name of these cuts of meat?

A. Lamb Loin Chops.

Q. Where do they come from and how are they identified?

A. They come from the loin section of the lamb carcass. Muscles include the eye of loin (larger) which is separated from the tenderloin (smaller) by a T-shaped bone. The flank muscle is the smallest amount of lean on the chops and is located at the tip of the chop.

Q. How are they prepared?

A. They may be broiled, panbroiled or panfried. Chops cut 1 inch thick require 12 minutes for broiling. This time is slightly reduced for panbroiling or panfrying.

Brown Chops With Vegetables in Skillet

Skillet-Browned Lamb Chops

4 shoulder lamb chops (about 1½ pounds)
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 medium-sized onion (cut in thin strips)
1 cup thin crescents celery (2 large ribs without leaves)
1½ cups thin round slices carrot
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Cut away most of fat from outside edges of chops. Melt butter in 12-inch skillet until very hot. Add lamb chops and brown on both sides.

Add onion, celery and carrot so they are on bottom of pan; brown slightly. Sprinkle chops with salt and pepper. Cover and simmer until chops and vegetables are tender—about 20 minutes.

If dome-type cover for skillet is used there will be enough steam; if not, it may be necessary to add 1 or 2 tablespoons of water. Serve with brownest side of chops uppermost. Makes 4 servings.

The best chicken soup is made by simmering a nice fat hen; the slow cooking yields fine flavor.

Toast Rye Bread Strips

Cut a loaf of party rye bread into thin slices or cut rye bread into narrow strips. Toast until light brown. This dip is particularly good for the toasted rye slices: With ½ cup prepared sour cream, combine finely-cut anchovies (2-ounce can), 2 tablespoons chopped pickled onions and ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Put sour cream dip into a bowl and surround it with vegetable relishes — celery, carrot sticks, radishes and cauliflower.

French Style Dessert

Camembert is delicious when spread on slices of pear for dessert. Be sure to allow time for this cheese to soften and mellow before serving (several hours at least).

Know your vinegars! There are many types available and each has a distinctive flavor. Vinegars are made chiefly from cider, wine, malt, grain or spirit.

LAMBURGERS — Ever try a Lamburger Cook-Out on your porch some summer day? Easy and fun to do when you have one of the new electric griddles, sized to serve lamburgers to a crowd and to accommodate a casserole of baked beans or chili beans to put over or under the grilled lamb patty in a butter-toasted bun.

Grind Your Meat, Then Quickly Cook Lamburgers

Want something different in Burgers? Use Lamb — boneless, trimmed meat from shoulder or breast and flank, ground with just the right amount of lamb fat. Shape into patties, grill, house in round sandwich buns, and — there you have it — the Lamburger!

This is a do-it-yourself production—from the selection and grinding of the lamb on to the building of the Lamburger as the lamb patty comes sizzling hot from the griddle, to be housed in the butter-toasted bun with whatever partners fancy demands.

Most ready-ground lamb has too high a proportion of fat to the meat. Some fat is necessary, for it adds flavor and juiciness. Lamb shoulder, boned and ground with some lamb kidney fat, makes choice lamburgers, lamb patties, and loaves, well worth the effort of getting out and cleaning up your food grinder.

Lamburgers

TO PREPARE: In making the "burgers," use just the unseasoned lean ground lamb shaped lightly (don't knead!) into patties of varying thickness. Planning four to a pound gives a nice thick patty that fits well into the accepted round sandwich bun. But don't feel that one to a person is necessarily enough!

STUFFED LAMBURGERS: To make eight to a pound, flatten each cake to an ⅛-inch thickness. Still four servings, place a slice of natural or process Cheddar cheese, a spoonful of minced onion, or a dollop of butter creamed with herbs—fresh or dry—on one of the thin patties. Top with a second patty and press the edges together tightly so the filling won't come out during the cooking process.

TO COOK: Lamburgers must be cooked quickly and served at once. Lucky You—if you're the possessor of a temperature-controlled electric griddle. There'll be no guesswork. Just don't overcook. Have the lamb patty a crusty brown outside with a slight pink tinge to the interior.

Turn once. Season with salt and pepper after turning. Add a dash of thyme, a sprinkling of garlic salt or curry powder, or depend upon the mustard, catsup, barbecue sauce, relish or what-have-you to add that fillip of flavor.

TO SERVE: House between two sandwich bun halves, buttered before browning on the griddle. Provide plenty of opportunity for individual styling in lamburger architecture. You'll find ideas here:

1. Cheese: place slice of Cheddar cheese under or over the hot lamburger—in the bun. Serve with small whole tomatoes, to be eaten out of hand.

2. Blue Cheese: combine ¼ pound Blue Cheese crumbled, with 2 tablespoons softened butter, and ½ to 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Cream well. Top each lamburger, immediately after turning, with a teaspoon of the mixture. Serve between slices of hot French bread, adrip with butter. Celery goes well with these.

Chicken Is Low Caloried

Calorie counters know, of course, that broiled chicken is their meat!

And yet while watching weight to achieve a fashionable silhouette, a steady diet of plain food can become monotonous. For variation, we offer our recipe for Chicken L'Orange as a main dish feature to perk up menus for weight conscious diners.

Chicken L'Orange is broiled chicken with a tasty orange sauce made with instant nonfat dry milk. It is nutritious but low in calories. An individual serving — including approximately one-half pound of chicken with one-fourth cup of orange sauce — costs a calorie counter only 293 of the day's precious total. On the other hand, one-half pound of hamburger has a count of 825 calories.

Chicken L'Orange

2 (2-lb.) broilers, cut in quarters
2 cups liquefied instant nonfat dry milk
2 teaspoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons frozen orange juice concentrate
½ teaspoon parsley flakes, optional
Grated Orange rind

Broil chicken pieces until well browned and tender, about 25 to 30 minutes, turning once. Pour liquefied nonfat dry milk into top of double boiler; sprinkle cornstarch, salt and pepper over surface. Beat with rotary beater until blended. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Remove from heat. Blend in orange juice concentrate and parsley flakes. Serve over chicken. If desired, garnish with grated orange rind. Serves eight.

A Cake for Everyone

Place slice of angel food cake from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department on individual serving plates. Add a scoop of a brightly colored ice cream topped with coconut. Insert a small candle into center of the ice cream scoop and light when served.

Sherbet Gets New Texture

If you like apple sauce, and everyone seems to, then you'll enjoy this sherbet. You'll like the lively tang of the apple sauce given an edge with lemon and orange, the hint of creaminess in the sherbet texture, the pure chilled delight of its eating.

You might make the sherbet in the morning, to rest in refrigerator trays until you're ready to serve it . . . maybe as dessert for noon or evening meal . . . maybe as a pleasant any-hour surprise treat for family and guests.

And how simple this sherbet is to make!

Frosty Apple Sauce Sherbet

2 cups canned apple sauce
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
¼ cup orange juice
½ cup confectioners sugar
1 can (14½ ounces) evaporated milk
Few grains salt

Mix apple sauce, lemon juice, lemon rind, orange juice and sugar; stir until sugar is dissolved. Add evaporated milk and salt. Pour into freezing trays of automatic refrigerator with cold control set at point recommended by manufacturer for freezing ice cream. Freeze to mush.

Place in chilled bowl, beat with rotary beater until fluffy. Return to freezer trays; freeze until firm, stirring several times. Yields 8-10 servings.

Good new breakfast cake flavor combination for Sunday brunch.

HONEY COCONUT
Coffee Cake

2 cups sifted flour
¼ cup sugar
3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
¾ cup quick rolled oats
⅓ cup shortening
½ cup milk
⅓ cup butter or margarine (melted)
½ cup honey
⅔ cup flaked coconut

Sift together the flour, sugar, baking powder and salt into a mixing bowl. Add rolled oats. Cut in shortening until particles are tiny.

Beat eggs until thick; beat in milk enough to combine. Add to dry ingredients; stir only until dry ingredients are moistened. Turn into greased baking pan (7 by 11 by 1½ inches).

Mix honey with melted butter; pour over dough. Sprinkle with coconut. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 20 to 25 minutes. Cut in squares in pan and serve hot with forks; split any leftover and toast.

Tea Cubes Are Quick to Use

If you've ever had the experience of not being able to find exactly the right thirst-quenching beverage at a moment's notice, you'll appreciate this recipe for Lemon Iced Tea Cubes.

Frozen Lemon Iced Tea Cubes

2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
1 cup fresh lemon juice
1 cup sugar
½ cup loose tea
1½ cups freshly boiling water
Mint flavoring to taste

Combine lemon juice, peel and sugar, stirring well to dissolve sugar. Pour boiling water over tea. Brew 5 minutes. Add the tea concentrate to the syrup. Pour into ice cube trays and freeze. Makes one tray of cubes (14 cubes 2"x1-½").

To serve put one or two cubes of concentrate in a glass and add ¾ cup cold or ice water. Add additional ice cubes if desired. This drink has a good full-bodied flavor of lemon and tea. It is delicious any time of the year, but is especially thirst-quenching during the hot summer months.

With plenty of Lemon Iced Tea Cubes on hand, you're ready to serve either your family or friends a truly refreshing, thirst-quenching drink instantly. Why not keep a supply of them in the freezer or in refrigerator trays so that you can serve Iced Tea more often?

Although the beverage made from frozen Iced Tea cubes will not be the clear amber color you're accustomed to seeing in Iced Tea, neither the flavor nor thirst-quenching qualities will be affected. Both the freezing and the lemon concentrate tend to turn the Iced Tea cubes dark brown in color. But the convenience of having these delicious cubes handy for instant tea is worthwhile preparing them well in advance for any thirst-crisis or unexpected company.

Topped with a sprig of mint, this lemon-iced-tea-mint flavored combination is one of the most pleasant and refreshing summer beverages yet to be discovered.

Slimming Salad Can Be Filling

For chubbies on slimming diets, salads sans dressing are the general rule. But if munching on plain carrot sticks and lettuce wedges begins to pall, some other way must be found to add palatability to these essential vitamin rich foods.

When that day arrives, here's a molded salad that answers the problem. Dressing actually is superfluous.

The salad is a nicely seasoned blend of vegetables, much on the order of the old-time perfection salad, with the addition of filling cottage cheese. According to nutritionists, one serving contains no more than 85 calories.

Slim Trim Salad

1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 cup hot water
½ cup sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ cup vinegar
1 cup diced celery
½ cup cooked green beans
½ cup grated raw carrots
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup sliced radishes
½ teaspoon grated onion
1 cup creamed cottage cheese

Soften gelatin in cold water; dissolve in hot water. Stir in sugar, salt and vinegar. Chill until partially thickened. Add rest of ingredients and mix lightly. Spoon gelatin into 8 oiled individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp salad greens.

Makes 8 servings.

Never Waste the Juice

Planning to serve drained canned pineapple rings or chunks with lamb chops or a chicken curry? Refrigerate the pineapple syrup leftover and use as the liquid for cooking apples for applesauce, adding sugar to taste and a dash of salt.

Vegetables may be seasoned with a little very finely minced onion and melted butter.

ICE TEA CUBES — Now you can have iced tea at a moment's notice. Make up several trays of tea cubes flavored with lemon and mint. Then when you are ready to serve just add cold water. You'll want to keep these on hand all summer.

Give Glamor to Cabbage

The most difficult family will eat its vegetables and like them — if extra trouble is taken to make such dishes appetizing in appearance. Some of the less popular vegetables, for instance, demand a little more attention to glamorize them. Don't pass them up.

★ ★ ★

Even the members in your family who don't ordinarily care for cabbage will like it if given this glamor treatment. Golden pineapple tidbits and crumbled bacon make an excellent flavor addition to the steamed cabbage.

Pineapple Steamed Cabbage

4 slices bacon
1 medium-sized head cabbage, shredded
½ cup water
1 cup pineapple tidbits, drained
Salt and pepper

In a large, heavy kettle with a tight fitting cover fry bacon until crisp and brown. Remove bacon and set aside. To the drippings left in the pan, add cabbage and stir lightly to coat each piece well. Add water, cover pan and steam for 5 to 10 minutes or until barely tender. Add pineapple tidbits, crumbled bacon and salt and pepper to taste. Serves six.

Clear Stock Is Useful

When you use meat as the base for a soup stock, be sure to simmer it a long time so that you extract full flavor and richness from the bones and the meat. The seasoned clear stock will make an excellent jellied soup for hot-weather use if you thicken it with unflavored gelatin.

Play Up Saffron Noodles

Pennsylvania Dutch favorite: Noodles cooked with saffron. Use one-quarter teaspoon of saffron to four cups (½ pound) medium-wide noodles; add the saffron just after the noodles are turned into the boiling salted water.

When You Go Shopping Look for These Things

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Writer

"There's nothing new under the sun," says the old proverb. It doesn't seem that way in the food business. Something new is always turning up.

Take, for instance, strained creamed corn for babies. Thoroughly tested in the laboratory and in hospitals with babies, this offering for the infant diet is brand new.

Have you seen new varieties of "chips" on your grocers' shelves? Made in the same shape as chocolate chips, these are butterscotch, lemon custard and cherry flavored. They are good just to eat out of hand, and they may be used in cookies, cakes and other desserts. We have seen two different brands of them.

Remember about a year ago that we raved over a new cake mix called Lemon Flake? We searched all over for this variety because we had liked the sample; and we know some of you people did too. Finally, last month we found a chain store that carries this delicately flavored white cake. If you're still interested, give us a phone call and we'll be glad to pass on the information.

Are you using the convenient shaker can of flour for all small flour uses now? One of the country's leading flour mills has put out a 14-ounce can of flour to be kept on the stove. The top has both small openings for shaking and a larger one for spooning or pouring. It's most convenient to have around.

You know how exasperating it is trying to punch a hole in the top of an evaporated milk can. No ordinary opener will do the job. Now there is a new multi-purpose can opener with a little center hook which catches under the rim of the milk can and permits the pointed punch to penetrate the metal. You can get one of these convenient little kitchen tools by sending 25 cents and your name and address to Box 6363, Chicago 7, Illinois.

Have you used the new cream puff mix yet. It comes in stick form, like butter, two to a box and will make 12 large, 16 medium or 80 bite-size puffs. Instead of cream puffs you can make 20 chocolate eclairs.

The quickest filling for the puffs is sweetened whipped cream. Often the midget puffs are filled with seafood or chicken salad for cocktail or late evening parties.

Eclairs call for a custard filling, and a thin chocolate glaze. One quick way of filling them is to use prepared vanilla pudding. It is, however, simple to make your own filling.

One word of warning! Keep eclairs refrigerated until just time to serve them. The custard filling is the kind that germs multiply in if it is left in a warm room. Eclairs are nothing to take to a picnic. But you will be perfectly safe if you keep the eclairs in the refrigerator from the time you make them until they are eaten.

Rich Custard Filling

Mix in saucepan:
½ cup sugar
½ tsp. salt
½ cup flour
Stir in:
2 cups milk

Cook over medium heat, stirring until it boils. Boil one minute. Remove from heat. Stir a little over half of this mixture into . . .
4 egg yolks (or 2 eggs), beaten
Blend into hot mixture in saucepan. Bring just to boiling point. Cool and blend in . . .
2 teaspoons vanilla or other flavoring

Developing New Juice to Brighten Breakfasts

Breakfast menus may be brightened soon with a new fruit beverage—Boysenberry juice.

A frozen juice concentrate is being developed in the food research laboratories at a university campus. And official tasters at the lab report the tangy, purple juice is a very tasty product.

The juice is processed in much the same way frozen orange juice concentrate is handled. It is mixed with water for serving.

Use Artistic Sense to Arrange Platter

Plan an attractive design for your cold cut platter. Arrange the slices to make service from the platter easy. Roll some of the larger slices, fashion them into cones, or cut them into halves for easier service.

Avoid overcrowding the platter, and keep garnishes to a minimum. Garnishes with flavors that go with the meat and add color to the tray are best choices.

Keep the arranged meat platter covered and refrigerated until time of service.

Cold cuts left after a meal can be used in sandwiches or casserole dishes. Keep the leftover cold cuts wrapped and refrigerated. Plan to use the meat within two or three days.

Hospital Auxiliary's Tea Draws 400 on Ideal Day

The day was perfect . . . the attendance just right—more than 400, and the Women's Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital goes right on planning further means of benefiting the hospital.

The auxiliary held its annual membership drive Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Edwin R. Dreyer on Ward's Point. The Dreyer Sisters, nationally known baton twirlers, entertained the group with special acts, and the trio harmonized for three songs.

Presiding at the punch bowls during the tea held from 2 until 6 p. m. were Mrs. Walter K. Willman, Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Clark J. Adams, Mrs. Cecil McCallum, Mrs. Maurice E. Finnegan and Mrs. William Dean.

Others were Mrs. P. Eugene Miller, Mrs. George B. Hartwick, Mrs. Arthur E. Moore, Mrs. Warren Simmonds, Mrs. William H. Bedard, Mrs. Raymond Rapaport and Mrs. William B. Dean.

Mrs. Edwin R. Dreyer (left) and Mrs. Raymond Rapaport found a quiet spot on the bridge to talk over the day's activities. Mrs. Rapaport is president of the auxiliary.

Pinks News in Nightwear From Paris

PARIS (INS) — Taken from "movie-land," lingerie styles in Paris go into "dream-land" with high-waisted empire nighties or tailored shocking pink pajamas.

Do you look like Audrey Hepburn? Sleep in a "dress," advises lingerie designer Candide. Made of white handkerchief linen, the 1957 "nightdress" has a front-buttoned blouse-top with frills of eyelet embroidery around the neckline and the sleeveless armholes. The "dance-length" skirt is frilled at the waist to fullness and trimmed with eyelet embroidery at the mid-calf high hem. Cerise-red satin ribbons are slotted through the eyelet embroidery for an added touch of coquettery.

For the ultra-feminine type of female, Jeanne Parent has designed an ankle-length shirt with high empire waistline and wide-strapped top. It's made of white nylon and is trimmed with white lace and pale-blue ribbons.

Next autumn the "pajama game" will again be fashionable. Classic, tailored pajamas will stage a come-back. But instead of the traditional pastel colors smart girls will sleep in cerise-red, shocking pink, cornflower blue or violet sets.

If you are boyish and slim Roger Gallet advises pajamas and a matching knee-length dressing-coat in shocking pink corduroy.

Silk Hose Not Modish but Medical

By OLGA CURTIS
INS Women's Editor

NEW YORK (INS)—If you ever doubted that fashion can do complete flip-flops, here's a sad fact:

Silk stockings, which only 17 years ago decorated every shapely leg in the U. S., are now "medical" instead of 'modish!"

★ ★ ★

This bit of information, calculated to make every women old enough to remember silk stockings feel very old indeed, came to light in an odd way.

A movie company publicizing a picture called "Silk Stockings" made the red-faced discovery that every single stocking in the picture was nylon.

This reporter went hunting for silk stockings to see if there were any lift at all. There are plenty, at every big department store in New York, but they're sold "for medical wear!" The stores reported that silk hose were bought only by women allergic to nylon.

Reason: Nylons are sheerer, last longer and are cheaper, too. Silk hose were priced generally at $1.75 for walking weight and $2.95 for sheers. The sheerest nylon in the same stores could be had for $1.35.

Sally, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Wilkinson, will be married July 27 to Dr. John M. Harper.

Maryland Beauty Wins U.S.A. Title

By LEE BELSER

LONG BEACH, Calif. (INS) —Leona Gage, a willowy, 21-year-old brunette who represented Maryland but who spent much of her life in Texas, will represent the United States in the "Miss Universe" contest.

★ ★ ★

Miss Gage, the tallest girl in the contest at 5 feet, 9½ inches, was named winner over five finalists last night in the "Miss U.S.A." contest, a preliminary event of the "Miss Universe" competition.

The runners-up in the order selected were:

Miss Utah, Charlotte Sheffield, 20, of Salt Lake City; Miss West Virginia, Ruth Parr, 18, of St. Albans; Miss Nevada, Joan Adams, 23, of Las Vegas, and Miss Nebraska, Carolyn McGirr, 18, of Sidney.

VITAL STATISTICS

Miss Gage, whose home is Glen Burnie, Md., measures 36-23-36 in the vital statistics areas, weighs 118 pounds, has green eyes, and bears a marked resemblance to actress Myrna Loy.

★ ★ ★

Now that she has completed the first hurdle in the contest, she will compete Friday night with the foreign finalists for the "Miss Universe" crown.

The "Miss U.S.A." title carried with it an all-expense trip to London to compete in the "Miss World" contest, a complete wardrobe from California designers, and a $2,000 personal appearance tour. This year the prize plum of a studio movie contract was not included in the "Miss U.S.A." loot.

★ ★ ★

Although Leona now lives in Maryland, much of her life was spent in Wichita Falls and Dallas, Tex. She explained that her family went there to live after her father, Frank, died.

HELPED FAMILY

She said she only went through the 10th grade in school because she had to go to work as a clerk to help support her family.

★ ★ ★

Leona surprised newsmen who interviewed her by disclosing that she is not engaged, has never been engaged, and in fact, has no boy friends.

She explained:

"I want to wait until I'm 26 before I become seriously interested in the opposite sex."

Leona said she likes to sing, play the piano, paint (pictures) and cook fried chicken. She said she is "very interested" in a movie career.

She was crowned by Carol Morris, last year's "Miss U.S.A." who went on to win the "Miss Universe" title. By coincidence, both Carol and Leona were born on the same day, April 8, 1936.

TYPICAL U.S. BEAUTY

Tomorrow, the foreign beauties will compete for 15 semi-finalist positions, and "Miss Friendship," the friendliest girl in the contest, will be selected.

★ ★ ★

Attitude Is Key to Success

Your Career Can Bloom

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (INS)—Provided you aren't a tone deaf musician, an illiterate copyreader, a one-armed paperhanger or similarly unsuited for your job, there's no reason why you can't hold onto it and even advance in it.

According to the Bureau of Business Practice, a division of the management advisory firm of Vision Incorporated, attitude is the key.

"It costs your firm far more than your salary to have that job done," they say.

Stop and think. Your position entails the expense of all the tools you use, from typewriters to paper, pencil and more specialized articles. This means it is necessary to your firm to have that particular job done. And you're it.

"If you feel your job is important," the Bureau of Business Practice continues, "you will also feel responsible for the way it is done. You won't use half measures. You'll get a kick out of mastering your job, doing it faster and faster."

Lifted bangs of height emphasize the feeling of lift in this coiffure. Coiffure fashions for fall and winter have soft, deep waves to carry the upward feeling around to the back of the head. The sweep of bang over the forehead accentuates the eyes

The new "siren lift" is introduced in this coiffure which has rhythmically moving bangs of lifted waves. According to the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, the upward movement is in keeping with fall and winter hair fashion trends.

Donna Lee Seese and Albert J. Murray were married Saturday in St. Vincent de Paul Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seese and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Margaret Stegert.

MR. and MRS. ALBERT J. MURRAY

Donna Lee Seese Weds

St. Vincent de Paul was the scene of the 10:15 a.m. wedding Saturday of Donna Lee Seese of Osceola drive and Albert J. Murray. The Rev. Jerome Frazer performed the ceremony.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Seese of Johnstown, Pa., are the parents of the bride, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Margaret Stegert of Roseville.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, long tapered sleeves and a chapel train.

Her tiara of seed pearls and iridescent sequins held a fingertip veil of silk illusion. The bride carried a cascade arrangement of pompons and pink roses.

Mrs. B. W. Burke served as the matron of honor. A niece of the bride, Penny Stamas, was the flower maid.

Frederick J. Harder Jr. of Roseville, served as the best man.

The bride's mother chose a pure silk sheath with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Stegert wore a blue lace sheath with white accessories and a yellow carnation corsage.

For a trip to northern Michigan the bride changed to a powder blue linen suit with white accessories and a corsage from her bridal bouquet. The new Mr. and Mrs. Murray will live in Alameda, Calif.

Reader Has Suggestions for Potatoes

Quick Meal Tips Essential to Cook With Outside Job

By JANET ODELL

Occasionally instead of just one recipe we get several cooking suggestions from a reader and use them in this column. Today's column is that kind.

Mrs. Frank Babcock has been a homemaker with a full-time job outside her home for many years. She has learned that her meals must be simple and easily prepared. Even company food can't take hours and hours of preparation.

Potato salad is often served when the Babcocks have guests. Mrs. Babcock peels and cubes the potatoes before she cooks them. That eliminates handling hot potatoes.

Another potato trick she likes is to make a hole in a baking potato with an apple corer. Fill this hole with a pork sausage and bake the potato as usual. For children use a hot dog instead of a sausage.

When guests come for the evening, they are likely to get the special Babcock cheese sandwich. This calls for hamburger buns, cut in half. Cover buns with cheese and two strips of bacon. Place under the broiler until the cheese melts and the bacon is done. Serve at once.

Fashion Hint

Eyeglasses have won a place in the fashion world. For those who wear them all the time, there are ways to highlight the face. Comb your hair away from your face so you don't disappear in a shaggy-dog coiffure.

Eliminate Unsightly Pads of Fat

Trouble Spots Call for Exercises

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Even the woman who is only a few pounds overweight often has trouble spots so far as her figure is concerned. I am just the trouble shooter to help you with those!

★ ★ ★

One of these is prevalent in most women past 40 — fat under the shoulder blades and across the shoulders. Exercise can be most effective. Try the following ones:

Raise the truck and continue. After a while place your left arm around the back of your head with fingers touching the right ear. Bend to the right. Continue.

2. Stand with your feet separated. Raise your arms overhead. Bend your trunk and swing your arms between your legs trying to spank yourself. Raise trunk and arms. Continue.

SWING YOUR TRUNK

3. Stand tall. Place both hands on the top of your head, feet separated. Lower trunk to right angles to body. Keep the trunk and hands in this position as you swing your trunk from side to side, moving as far in each direction as possible. Do this slowly, feeling the pull.

The pads of fat just below the waist on the back hips are also annoying to figure-conscious women. For this defect do the next two exercises:

1. Lie on the floor on your back with your arms extending out from your sides and resting on the floor, palms toward the floor. Bend both knees up close to the abdomen. Keep the knees in this position as you roll from side to side.

Janice Yvonne Chamberlain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chamberlain, became the bride of Kenneth Warren Nichols Saturday evening. He is the son of Henry A. Nichols and Mrs. Celia Nichols.

MR. AND MRS. K. W. NICHOLS

Janice Chamberlain Wed in Auburn Heights Service

Janice Yvonne Chamberlaind and Kenneth Warren Nichols exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening in the United Presbyterian Church of Auburn Heights. Two hundred guests heard the Rev. J. Harvey McCann read the 7:30 o'clock ceremony.

Janice is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chamberlain of Auburn avenue. Henry A. Nichols of Whittemore street and Mrs. Celia Nichols of Tilmore street are Kenneth's parents.

A crown of seed pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil. She carried an arrangement of roses, feathered carnations and stephanotis on a white Bible.

Ruby Edwards served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Janet Leineger and Patricia Christopherson.

Their gowns were fashioned identically in princess styling, the honor attendant's of pink taffeta and the bridesmaids' of lilac taffeta. Their hats matched their gowns and each carried a cascade bouquet of carnations.

OTHER ATTENDANTS

Debby Stockdale served the bride as flower girl and Terry Lee Ruffatto performed the duties of ringbearer.

Gerald Christopherson served Henry as best man. Seating the guests were Duane Chamberlain, brother of the bride, and Donald Nichols, brother of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Chamberlain chose a dress of Wedgewood rose lace accented with scattered sequins. Her accessories were of black velvet and she wore a pink carnation corsage.

Mrs. Nichols' choice was a beige lace dress with pink accessories. Her corsage was also of pink carnations.

Casual Shoes Easily Washed Keep New Look

News are casual shoes that step through the seasons spotlessly — without retaining traces of spring grass, summer dust, autumn mud, or the sometimes-soiled insides of winter boots.

They're made of super-scrubable sailcloth, washable twill, denim, and other completely sudsable fabrics.

Such shoes can be washed in soap or detergent suds, or with a lathered brush, or in the washing machine. Either way, they'll regain their look-new appearance.

Stainless Steel Leaves Kitchen for Sideboard

Stainless steel tableware has emerged from the kitchen to sparkle on the sideboard in new designs carried out in high quality metal.

Hollow ware, such as water pitchers, comes in satin-finishes which never tarnish and have an unusually high resistance to corrosion. However, certain foods, if left on the steel for long, may cause stains so it is wise to whisk stainless steel pieces through hot soap and detergent suds immediately after use. Rinse and dry thoroughly to keep shining bright.

Most Youngsters Concede Mom, Dad Are Smarter

Parents Win Vote of Approval From Teens

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Despite what you may hear and read about the brazen, cocksure, know-it-all attitude of modern American youth, most kids today don't think they are as smart as their parents.

When it comes to brain matter, Mom and Dad rate pretty high with their offspring in most families throughout the land.

Only 12 per cent of the teenagers we interviewed in a nationwide survey regarded themselves as smarter than their parents.

The vast majority—more than 59 per cent—stated emphatically that Mom and Dad were a good deal smarter than they were.

★ ★ ★

A minority faction of 24 per cent hedged a bit and looked upon themselves as being just as smart—but no smarter—than Mom and Dad. Less than 5 per cent took the tactful way about by avoiding the question altogether.

PARENTS' SKILL

This was only one of the questions we asked in trying to determine what young people today think of their parents' skill at child raising.

What we wanted was a candid, no holds barred appraisal of Mom and Dad as seen through the loving eyes of their offspring.

How do parents rate with their children as disciplinarians? As guidance counselors and home psychologists? As friends? As confidants?

Will there be any changes made when the youth of today take over as the parents of tomorrow? Would Mom and Dad have done better by sticking closer to the child psychology books?

It took some courage to answer these questions in a frank manner, but most of the young people charged in fearlessly.

The answers we received were often painfully frank, amazingly shrewd in a way that only youth can be, and, at times, heartwarming and heartrending.

WORLD CHAMPIONS

In the overall standings, the parents of today ranked as world champions in any league. Fully 68 per cent of the youngsters interviewed reported that their parents handled them right "most of the time."

Another 18 per cent went all out and said their parents did right by them "all the time."

At the other end of the spectrum, 10 per cent reported their parents handled them properly "half the time" and 4 per cent checked "hardly ever."

When it came to complaints, discipline—too strict or too lenient—led the list by a wide margin.

One girl, 16-year-old Brenda Brindley of Little Rock, Ark., even had a doublebarreled complaint in this department.

"Parents, at least my set," she commented, "are too particular. They are either too strict or too lenient. You never know where you're at with them."

Another girl said her parents "tend to be overbearing when they only mean to be helpful."

Married Saturday evening in First Free Methodist Church were Sandra Lee Andrews and Dennis Nelson. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Andrews. Mr. and Mrs. Lark Nelson are parents of the bridegroom.

MR. and MRS. DENNIS NELSON

Sandra Andrews Speaks Vows With Dennis Nelson

A gown of French lace fashioned with a fitted bodice, Sabrina neckline and long sleeves that ended in points at the wrists was worn by Sandra Lee Andrews for her marriage to Dennis Nelson.

Alternate tiers of lace and nylon tulle formed the floor-length skirt. A cloche-type headpiece secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion, and she carried roses and stephanotis on her prayerbook.

Sandra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Andrews of Willard street. Mr. and Mrs. Lark Nelson of St. Clair street are parents of Dennis.

The Saturday evening ceremony was performed in First Free Methodist Church by the Rev. James Andrews, uncle of the bride and pastor of Union Chapel in Northville.

Ballerina-length gowns of dotted nylon were worn by Leona Hubbert, maid of honor, and Edith Barbour, bridesmaid. They wore pink and mint green colors, respectively, with matching picture hats. Each carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Hubert Walls served his brother-in-law as best man. Seating the guests were Harold Andrews Jr., Lark Nelson, Eldon Montross and Mike Smith. Ronald Wolf performed the duties of groomsman.

★ ★ ★

At the reception held immediately following the ceremony in Amvets Hall, Mrs. Andrews greeted her guests wearing a pink silk organza gown with pink accessories. Her corsage was of Happiness roses.

Mrs. Nelson wore a gown of pale blue lace over taffeta with white accessories. Her corsage was also of Happiness roses.

Following a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the newlyweds will reside in Auburn Heights until Sept. 1 when they will occupy their new home in Crescent Highlands.

Wife Who's Wise Cooks Her Husband's Breakfast

Couples Are Closer When They Share Morning Meal, Plan Day Together

By RUTH MILLETT

The wife who lies in bed in the morning while her husband either fixes himself a breakfast of cold cereal or leaves without eating is loafing on the job.

★ ★ ★

A man who has to get up each morning to earn a living for his family has a right to expect his wife to cook him a good, hot breakfast.

He shouldn't be tiptoeing around in the morning, the only person awake in the house, feeling that his wife doesn't care enough about him to get up and help him get off.

Furthermore, the wife who regularly sleeps through her husband's morning leave-taking is missing a good chance to strengthen the marriage bond.

A couple who start each day as a team having the morning meal together, and sharing each other's plans for the day, just naturally feel "more married" than the couple who don't keep the same hours.

DON'T BELIEVE HIM

Even if a husband tells his wife there's no need for her to get his breakfast, she shouldn't take him at his word.

Chances are he won't be getting the kind of breakfast he should have before starting a working day. He wouldn't be human if it didn't occasionally occur to him that his wife has it pretty easy, sleeping late every morning.

And a husband whose wife isn't awake to kiss him goodby when he leaves his house to be gone all day is sure to have moments of feeling lonely and neglected.

Any wife who doesn't want to get up in the morning and see her husband off to work can find logical reasons why it isn't necessary.

But a wise wife won't look for excuses for sleeping through. She'll just get up and share the start of her husband's day.

If you're tall and slender you can have the down swept brim but for short figures and especially full-short, sweep-up the brim of your pre-fall velvet hat.

Draping is a feature of brims, swept up or down, on transitional velvet and felt hats. Front draping is flattering because it breaks the stiffness of the brim and naturally you get a taller look in the upsweep.

Find Complement to Exercising in Soap, Water

The active sportswoman respects soap and water as the perfect complement to exercise.

Watch her dash from the tennis court or the golf links straight for the shower, the rub-down, clean clothes, and the social whirl. Her whole body has been in action, her circulation has been stimulated, her muscles have been exercised. Now she wants to wash off all the dust, excess body oil, and perspiration.

She knows that this helps her body to relax — and helps her to enjoy a feeling of well-being.

You can almost always get a laugh by making fun of someone. However, if the comment is cruel enough the laugh is likely to be an embarrassed one. You can even sometimes win a reputation as a wit by such cleverness.

Secretary Has Nine VIP Bosses

She Serves Every Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Eleanor Margaret Bumgardner has nine bosses.

As "floating" secretary she has served the justices of the U. S. Supreme Court the past eight years, substituting for their private secretaries when they are ill or away, sometimes several weeks, even months.

"Lady," as she was called by the late Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy, whose devoted personal secretary she was for 18 years, says this unique responsibility is harder than being a Girl Friday to just one scholarly Crusoe.

"But it's very interesting," she says, "the justices are all so individual, and each office is different. It's a challenge. Keeps you on your toes. I often make the rounds of all the offices in a year. I've learned a lot."

Some of what she has learned in serving these distinguished gentlemen over the years no doubt will be reflected in a manual for secretaries which she is in the process of writing.

This she's doing in spare moments she can squeeze in between secretarial stints and the reference and research work she must do.

POPULAR PERSON

Her long association with Justice Murphy began when he was mayor of Detroit in 1933 and ended with his death in July 1949, after his 9½ years on the bench of the high court.

In between, she had accompanied him to the Philippines where he was the first high commissioner and its last governor general, and back to Michigan when he became its governor.

Many years ago Lady began a collection of more than 1,000 dolls from all parts of the world, including one that belonged to Thomas Jefferson.

She says, though, her "prize doll" has been Patsy Li, the little Chinese girl adopted by the Marines in 1942 on Guadalcanal after she'd been left for dead by the Japanese.

LEGAL GUARDIAN

Lady is legal guardian to Patsy Li, now 21, who is simultaneously training to be a nurse and working for a degree at Catholic University. She is also legal guardian to two American children.

Lady, who was appointed "floating secretary" by the late Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson and occupies her own private office suite, is looking forward to a visit to Ireland in August as a member of the "Dublin Horse Show Aircruise Houseparty."

Her maternal grandfather, John Hartnett, was born in County Limerick.

Must Hubby Offer Rides to Others?

Wife Is Afraid He'll Become Chauffeur for Whole Club

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I play cards every other week with a group of women. We play at a different house each time. Some of these women live quite a distance from me and when I play at their houses my husband usually picks me up with the car at a certain time as I do not like to go home alone at night.

"Usually the other women are ready to leave about the same time. Is it rude not to offer to drive them home?

"While we all live in the same vicinity, nevertheless it does mean going out of our way to drop them off at their houses and I don't think it is fair to expect my husband to be taxi driver for them. Could he be thought discourteous to let them go home on the bus when he has the car?"

Answer: It does seem unfriendly not to offer a ride home to the others as long as they live near you. On the other hand, it would be only fair to your husband if occasionally one of their husbands relieved him.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What are the obligations of the best man? In particular, is he supposed to pay for more than his own clothes and a present to the bride and bridegroom?"

Answer: Correctly, he has no expenditures other than those you name. His duty is to stay with the bridegroom most of the day, see that he gets to church on time.

He also takes care of the bride's ring and the clergyman's fee, which the bridegroom should give him in an envelope. This he gives the clergyman immediately after the ceremony.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have a friend who insists that you have said lately that you now approve of taking a small chicken bone in the fingers to eat the last few hard-to-cut-off morsels. Is this sure?"

Answer: I never have said that this was proper when seated at a correctly set dining table. It is, of course, permitted at a picnic or similar type of meal.

Background for Nursing 'Inadequate'

The three-year hospital and classroom training program to become a graduute nurse is inadequate, one nursing group has decided.

Demands of the profession and modern living require the more complete background of a Bachelor of Science degree, say the Sisters of Mercy, pioneer San Francisco nursing group, which will convert its three-year nursing college into a four-year program.

When a girl finishes her training there she will be able to add three sets of initials after her name—R. N. (registered nurse), B. S. (Bachelor of Science), and P.H.N. (public health nurse).

Sister Mary de Paul, director of nursing at the school now known as St. Mary's College of Nursing, believes more nursing schools will turn to the four-year program in this atomic-paced era.

"A nurse needs a full academic course plus her hospital training today," the school head says. Sister Mary de Paul's only regret is the loss of the school name as the nursing college becomes part of the University of San Francisco.

The Sisters of Mercy opened the West Coast's first hospital in San Francisco on Dec. 8, 1854. Their nursing college was one of the first to be nationally accredited in the area.

Develop Interest Along With Skill

By ANNE HEYWOOD

We're so concerned these days with technical proficiency that we forget that there are other factors which are equally important to success.

★ ★ ★

For example a photographer can be very skillful; but if he has no love for the thing he is pnotographing, his picture will be cold and unappealing.

But someone who has a feeling for the subject can take a quick casual shot, on a small inexpensive camera, and get real art.

I thought of this the other day when I saw some pictures which a neighborhood boy had taken of his friend's kittens. They were perfect. Each kitten came out clearly and appealingly, with a real personality.

MOSTLY ANIMALS

Almost all of them were of animals — cats, dogs, horses, cows pigeons, sparrows, geese — and they were unbelievably good. I couldn't help staring and turning back the pages to stare again.

You got the feeling that this boy was on close, friendly terms with all of nature's creatures and that he almost knew how it felt to be, say, a sparrow!

As we talked, I learned that he wants to be a photographer of animals, professionally. He's already making pin money taking pictures of new litters of puppies for a couple of kennels nearby.

He has studied and read as much about animals as if he were planning to be a zoologist or a veterinarian, and every bit of it fascinates him.

★ ★ ★

He plans to go to photography school and work his way through, partly with a scholarship and partly with his animal photographs.

MARTHA JUNE EHLERS

The engagement of Martha June Ehlers to Phil M. Bowser is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Ehlers of South Paddock street. Phil is the son of Mrs. Rita Bowser of Myrtle avenue and William Bowser of Detroit.

SHOULD BE THE RULE

This boy is the exception, but he ought to be the rule.

★ ★ ★

Each of us, when we are young, has a natural bent, a thing we take to like ducks to water.

Once we find what it is—and it isn't complicated if we listen to our own intuition — then we have a reason for the studies, for developing the technical proficiencies.

But too often we slavishly dedicate ourselves to getting the techniques and overlook the fact that we have nothing to apply them to.

For example, photographers with wonderful skills but nothing that interests them as subjects; writers with good skills but no beliefs; expert public speakers with nothing to speak about.

Too many of us put the cart of technique before the horse of interest.

If you have young people around, give them a climate in which they can develop their inborn interets. Don't get them thinking too soon about the techniques and the training.

Give them a little time to find what interests them. It's much easier when they're young than it will be later.

★ ★ ★

If you'd like my "Pointers to your basic Interest," send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send it to you.

Loose Curls Best

A timid touch of a comb to a new hairdo is wrong. Those tight little curls may have looked good on Shirley Temple, but not on the average woman. Brushing actually is good for a hair setting because it loosens the set and makes it appear more natural.

Cotton Goes Silken

Even cotton goes "silken" in the new Paris fashions. Polka-dotted cotton shirt-waist dresses and rose-printed dance dresses are legion. They owe their silky look to a rough weave or a satin finish.

A silk shantung suit will be fashionable women's "basic" Spring and Summer outfit. Silk blouses will take over from sweaters.

PLAIN—OR IODIZED TO HELP PROTECT YOUR HEALTH

MADE IN MICHIGAN

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

To the average Michigan fight fan, Julius Piazza might be the big time boxing promoter who just wallows in the financial receipts of fight stadia gates around the state.

"Evybody think I'm a-makin lots of money promotin' fights," said Piazza in his Italian nurtured English the other night here in Pontiac when he announced the feature pro fight between Micky Crawford and Sammy Rodgers, August 13th.

"You know, I tinka dat if this cycle soon don't start turn around and go the other way, maybe I get out of this business and start selling pizzas," he laughed. "And I gotta the best pizza recipe you ever ever tasted," he added.

What Julius meant by the cycle was that in 1956 from the start to the finish everything went right for his promotions. "Every fight we arranged last year seemed to work out. The weather would be on our side. We always managed to get around competition with other events and the gates were good."

★ ★ ★

"This year, I think, should have stayed in bed from New Year's Day," he said, "the cycle seems to be going in reverse, everything has been going wrong."

OUTSTATE BOXING PROMOTED

Things weren't going too well at the Motor City, so Julius moved out and around the state to set up his boxing shows. Favorite spot has been Saginaw, although he has arranged cards in Flint, Muskegon and also back in Detroit.

The feature naturally has been Crawford, the young Saginaw welterweight, who is making his way up the ladder by knocking off a few big names as they go by down the ladder.

Names like Paddy DeMarco, Bud Smith and Pat Lowry have given fight fans many entertaining nights on TV and at ringside, but new faces led by Crawford have moved in and are steadily moving up.

★ ★ ★

It's funny though, even in Crawford's home town of Saginaw, the gate hasn't been exactly most profitable for Julius, although Saginaw has a warm spot in the smiling Italian's heart. He remembers the show in that city in September 1953 when the Davey-Andrews fight drew 11,089 and a $42,000 gate.

RECALLS PONTIAC FIGHT

But Julius also remembers that since then, his best gate was a $10,000 bout right here in Pontiac when Gene Linscott and Al Andrews fought at Wisner stadium two years ago.

In the last four fights in Saginaw and Flint, Julius was lucky to get away with an average $200 profit for his two weeks of promotion each time.

"The Gray-Giardello fight in Detroit really took me for a bath," he said.

Now Julius wants to see what Pontiac has in the way of fight fans, and he's bringing here the best Michigan has to offer in Crawford.

He knows one thing for sure, that Saginaw, Flint and Pontiac will be good spots to open his pizza chain. What a mouthful, "Piazza's Pizzas."

WITH PISTONS — Bill Veeck, who tried unsuccessfully to buy the Detroit Tigers, is back in the Motor City sports picture however, but with the Detroit Pistons basketball team. Veeck will be a public relations counsel for the Pistons of the NBA.

Sam Jones Puts Cards on Top

Lead Changes Again in NL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It may have been kids like the McDaniel boys who perked up St. Louis pitching, but at the moment it's late-comer Sam Jones who has won the big ones to put the Cardinals in the National League lead.

★ ★ ★

The righthander, who came to the Cards from Chicago's Cubs in one of Frank Lane's deals last December, has won four in a row for the first time in a five-year major league career and each has figured in the Redbirds' rise to the top.

He got them back in first place last night, breaking the Cards' four-game losing streak with a 7-3 victory over fourth-place Brooklyn that ended the Dodgers' spurt at five games and finally junked Don Newcombe's six-year whammy.

St. Louis regained the lead by one percentage point as Milwaukee dropped Philadelphia out of first with a 10-3 decision that lifted the Braves to second with a .570 percentage. The Cards are .571.

Cincinnati remained fifth, two games back, on a 5-4 victory over New York Giants with Redleg Frank Robinson shrugging off Tuesday's beaning to return to the lineup. Chicago scored twice in the seventh to beat Pittsburgh 4-3.

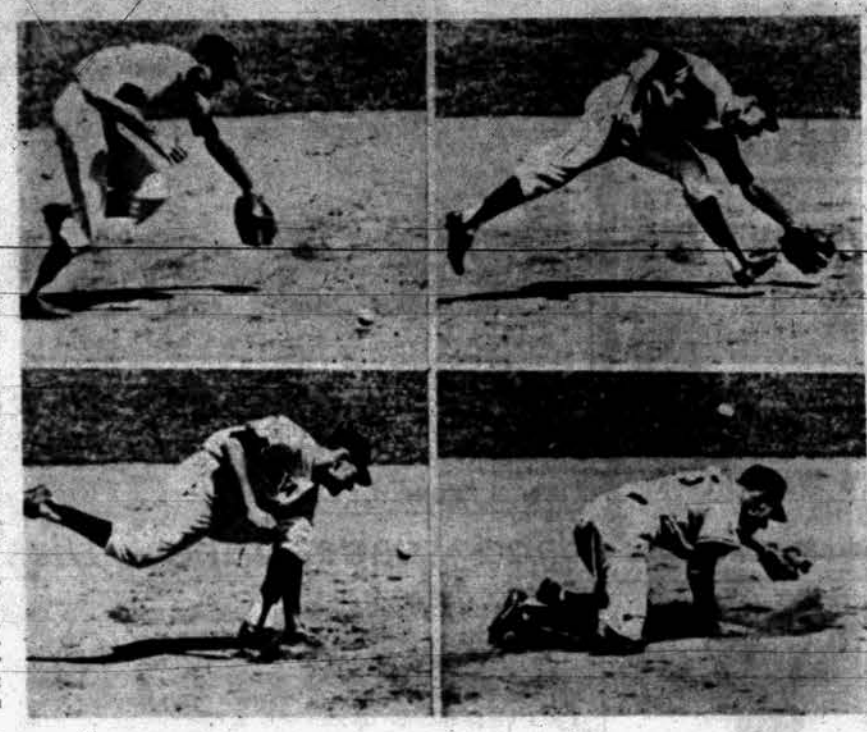
Jones, 31, tagged "Toothpick Sam" because he's never without one on the mound, has had three complete games in the four-game string that has put his record at 8-3, gaining his first full-route job over at Ebbets Field last night. The big guy gave up 10 hits, three to Sandy Amoros who homered, but struck out 12 and never was in much trouble. At one point he retired 10 in a row, six on strikeouts.

Newk, who had won 12 in a row from the Cards since Aug. 23, 1951, finally got his lumps in a four-run fourth sparked by Wally Moon's two-run homer.

The Braves made it six out of nine with a five-run seventh to chill the Phils, who protested the game in losing their second in a row since taking the league lead Monday. The big beef came on a first-inning Milwaukee doubleplay, leading to a quick shower for starter Robin Roberts when he menaced umpire Jocko Conlan in the row. Jack Meyer lost it while Lew Burdette won his eighth with Don McMahon's help in a three-run Philadelphia sixth.

George Crowe, replacing Ted Kluszewski again, drove in four runs with his 19th and 20th homers for the Redlegs as Brooks Lawrence won his 10th with relief help. Robinson, who suffered a concussion from the beaning, had a single in four trips and figured in two runs. Rookie Curt Barclay lost it.

SPORTS



IT'S HUMILIATING—Eddie Bressoud, New York Giant shortstop ends up on his hands and knees chasing a grounder which got by him against the Cincinnati Redlegs at the Polo Grounds yesterday. The ball, hit by Redleg Alex Grammas, went for a single and Cincinnati won the game, 5-4.

They dropped back under the .500 mark last night, bowing, 5-1 to the New York Yankees.

The only comforting thing—to the box office anyway—about the world champions' latest visit to Briggs Stadium is that now the eight games between the two teams in Detroit have pulled a quarter of a million fans into the park.

The crowd last night was 40,715, bringing the eight-game total to 242,152.

That lucrative figure, plus the total season attendance mark of 821,368, offers little solace to manager Jack Tighe and the Tigers who now have suffered five straight setbacks at Yankee hands.

Lanky Jim Bunning, whose spectacular pitching recently prompted the Tiger front office to give him a new contract calling for a sizable increase, could stretch his latest winning streak to no more than four games. The big righthander who has held the Tigers together suffered his third defeat against 11 victories.

Bunning wasn't as sharp as usual—walking three batters, hitting two and yielding eight hits — but it didn't matter as his mates could collect only six, and never more than one an inning, against Bob Turley.

The strong-armed Yankee righthander won his fourth straight with home run help from Jerry Coleman and Yogi Berra. The Tigers' only run came in the sixth inning on Charlie Maxwell's 19th home run into the lower right field deck.

It wasn't a night of lost opportunity for the Tigers. Only once did they have a chance to explode. That was in the second inning when Dave Philley—subbing for first baseman Ray Boone who suffered from an all-day headache after being hit by Johnny Kucks Tuesday night—doubled down the first base line. Red Wilson walked but Ron Samford grounded out and Bunning fanned.

An afternoon game today wound up the current Yankee series and Don Larsen was to oppose southpaw Bill Hoeft in the windup.

Verbal Battle Follows Fight

Vejar Manager Says He Was 'Bounced' Out of Dressing Room

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Post-bout verbal clashes produced almost as much excitement last night as the nationally televised fight in which Joey Giardello took a unanimous—but unpopular—decision over Chico Vejar.

After the nearly 5,000 fans at Freedom Hall shouted their disapproval of the decision, the action continued on into the dressing room where Steve Ellis, who handled Vejar, announced he had been tossed out of Giardello's dressing room.

Ellis, in a verbal battle with Tony Ferrante, Giardello's manager, challenged the winner to a rematch—winner take all.

Ferrante accepted.

Then promoter Bill King said "Giardello never will fight here again as long as he has anything to do with Ferrante."

King said the statement was the result of financial differences between himself and Giardello's manager. King claimed Ferrante wanted 30 per cent of the gate instead of the 25 per cent he had originally agreed upon.

JUDGE FINNEGAN IN 1953

Finnegan Now on the 'Bench'

Remember the Sports Stars of Yore?

(This is the seventh of a series of articles about outstanding athletes from Pontiac and Oakland area and what they are doing today. We feature today Maurice E. Finnegan, former prep star at St. Frederick's and now in his 17th year on the bench of the Pontiac Municipal Court. Tomorrow we feature one of Pontiac High's outstanding gridders, Alger Connor.)

One of the outstanding local athletes of the 1920s who ranks with the all-time stars at St. Frederick High School has just completed his 16th year on the bench of the Pontiac Municipal Court.

He is Judge Maurice E. Finnegan, a former baseball, basketball, football, tennis, track and golf participant.

A four-year member of the basketball and baseball teams at St. Fred and captain of both as a senior in 1923, the Judge also played some prep football. The Ram hoopsters went unbeaten in his senior year during the regular season but bowed in post-season playoffs in Detroit. "We would have gone on to Chicago by winning at Detroit," recalls Finnegan.

He played one year of basketball at the former Pontiac Junior College before going on to the University of Detroit where "I went out for track but didn't make it."

The Judge managed to keep active during the summer months those days also. He was a member of the Oakland County doubles championship team in tennis in 1927 defeating such former Michigan greats as Ron Klein and Ed Hammer to win the title.

In golf, he was the 1st person to make a hole-in-one at the Pontiac Municipal course. "I can't remember if that was in 1926 or '27, said the laughing city resident today, but it was lucky."

Judge Finnegan also kept his hand in baseball. He played a few seasons as an outfielder for the Wilson's Foundry team and later pitched for the Elks. Even got in some softball as a member of a lawyer's team.

★ ★ ★

All of these activities and many more enabled the Judge to mix fun with work as he battled his way up the rugged ladder of a career in law.

He started as a lawyer in 1928 and went on to serve as court clerk, deputy county clerk and deputy probate register before being appointed to the Judgeship in July, 1941.

A member of several professional and social organizations, Judge Finnegan still finds time to follow sports closely and often takes his four young children along to various events. His favorites are the city high schools, U. of D. and Michigan State.

★ ★ ★

A World War II Army veteran, he has turned in some excellent feats both as an athlete and Judge over the years. During one three-year period he had only one decision, on appeal, reversed by the Oakland County Circuit of, 25,282 filed in Municipal Court.

★ ★ ★

That's a pretty fair batting average in any league and he has many more well known accomplishments to his credit.

'Bigger' Gil Mains Signs 5th Contract

DETROIT (AP) — A "bigger and stronger" Gil Mains — by his own description — has signed up for a fifth year as a defensive end for the Detroit Lions football team.

★ ★ ★

Mains, who signed yesterday, said he carries about 250 pounds now, or 15 more than last season, and that he intends to work at about 245 in the 1957 campaign.

Drugmen Down White's

A two-run single by Paul Atkins and some good clutch pitching by veteran Pete Mihey resulted in a 4-2 Drayton Drug win over White Brothers Realty in the Waterford Softball League last night. Monty Tipton had a double and triple for the losers.

OLD BOWLER DIES—Roy Spencer, who just four months ago received recognition as the oldest entry in the Press Bowlerama, died yesterday at the age of 77 following a heart attack. Spencer, from Clarkston, rolled a 547 with handicap in the tournament. He was an active bowler in a weekly league in Clarkston.

'Oldest Bowler' Dies Suddenly

A heart attack, striking suddenly as 77-year-old Roy Spencer, 49 North Main St., Clarkston, sat down at lunch yesterday removed Oakland County's reputed "oldest active bowler." Spencer had been working in the yard at his home, but had never been ill before. He was an active kegler for between 40 and 45 years.

Oldest entry in The Pontiac Press Bowlerama, Spencer failed to qualify with his 547, (415 actual) score. He had been active in Howe's Lanes leagues for many years.

Chisox Win, Boston and Cleveland Bow

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

Fine relief pitching by Bill Fischer in the 9th inning saved a 3-1 victory for starter Bob Keegan and the Chicago White Sox against Baltimore last night but the Chisox failed to slice New York's four-game American League lead. The Yanks kept rolling by beating Detroit's All-Star winner Jim Bunning 5-1.

The Kansas City Athletics came from behind in the 12th inning to nip Boston 4-3 and Chuck Stobbs registered his 3rd victory beating Cleveland 11-6 in other loop action.

Starter Keegan had a shutout going until the 8th in the Chicago win although the Sox were out-hit. Loser Bill Wight gave up single markers in the 1st, 4th and 7th.

Frank Sullivan and Ralph Terry dueled 11 innings at Kansas City before both were relieved. Everything happened in the 12th.

★ ★ ★

The Bosox went ahead 3-2 in their half when Billy Klaus doubled and Dick Gernert, batting for Sullivan, drove him across with a single.

But the A's bounced right back in their half to give the verdict to fireman Tom Morgan. Irv Noren singled in the tying run and catcher Tim Thompson accounted for the clincher.

Bob Chakales took the defeat. Jackie Jensen and Bob Cerv had home runs in the contest.

At Cleveland, Stobbs was backed by a 13-hit attack off three pitchers in beating the Indians for the 2nd time. He needed relief help in the 9th.

Washington overcame a 3-0 deficit with four in the 3rd and kept pouring it on the rest of the night to keep Stobbs out of danger of losing No. 14.

Roy Sievers had his 21st homer with one aboard to help the attack. Dick Williams' 3rd homer of the season with a man on chased Stobbs in the 9th. George Strickland accounted for the three early markers with a circuit clout. Starter Don Mossi was the loser.

Three-Run 6th Inning Clinches 10th Victory for Local 594

Local CIO 594 remained the only team with a chance of catching Shaw's in the Class A baseball league today after a 4-1 victory over Griff's Grill last night at Wisner Field.

The victory left the Union tossers two games behind 1st place Shaw's.

A three-run 6th, two of them accounted for by Chuck Graves' long triple, broke up a tight battle. Graves scored the other on an infield out.

Winner Don Picman hurled shutout ball until the 7th when Griff's came to life on a walk, error and single to score a run with two men on and no outs. Picman settled down then to end the uprising with a strikeout and two infield outs, both of which he handled himself.

In Junior Golf Tourney

Green, Grace Advance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sixty-four open round survivors, headed by Oklahoman Jim Wright, moved into the settling down stages of the U. S. Golf Association's junior championships today.

Wright, a slender 17-year-old from Enid, Okla., slashed two strokes from par for the 13 holes he had to play yesterday to thrash Tom Sisolak of Waukegan, Ill., 6 and 5.

Four of Michigan's entries survived first round play yesterday.

In three instances the victors won decisively. But Joseph Brisson of Grosse Pointe Woods, one of the four, had to go an extra hole, Brisson won from Bill Moore of Downey, Calif., on the 19th hole.

Peter Green of Birmingham won from Donald Stickney of Columbus, Ohio, 7 and 6. Thomas Grace of Southfield, defeated Glen Gruenemeier of Lincoln, Neb., 4 and 3. Calvin Cooke of Detroit defeated Michael Mallon of Barrington, Ill., 4 and 3.

Others in the Michigan contingent bowed to their foes.

Bud Badger of Bloomfield Hills to Dave Leon of Tucson, Ariz., 3 and 2. Charles Mitchell of Saginaw was defeated by William Hyndman IV of Abington, Pa., 4 and 2. John Walsh of Lansing was eliminated by John Barcello III of New Orleans, 5 and 3.

Murchison and Owen Pace U.S. Team Win

LISBON (AP) — America's touring track and field team now boasts an easy victory over a Portugese team, thanks partly to Michigan's sprinter Ira Murchison and shotput star Dave Owen.

Murchison, from Western Michigan College, won both the 100-meter and 200-meter dashes in a meet last night in which the Americans captured 12 of the 14 events. Murchison ran the 100 in 10.4 seconds and the 200 in 22.1.

★ ★ ★

Owen, the University of Michigan ace, threw the shot 16.62 meters, or 54 feet 6 1-3 inches.

Watrous Meets Snead in PGA Match

(Special to the Pontiac Press)

DAYTON — The field of the 39th annual PGA championship will be whittled down to "sweet 16" today, but a couple of golfers who themselves have passed that wonderful age long ago, Sam Snead and Al Watrous, met in a real feature match today.

Snead, three-time winner of the PGA, enhanced his rating as favorite yesterday by downing 19-year-old John Serafin of Pittston, Pa., 4 and 2.

Watrous, the National PGA Seniors' Champion and recent International Seniors' winner, had a long day of it yesterday as he went 22 holes before defeating Don Munday of York, Pa.

Watrous, from Oakland Hills Country Club in Birmingham, is the oldest player the field. He is 58 and Snead is 45.

Other Michigan golfers feared all in the first round yesterday.

Former champion, Wally Burlyons of Jamestown, N. Y., 1-up. Burkemo, of Franklin Hills, won the title in 1953 and finished runnerup to Snead in 1951 and to Chick Harbert in 1954.

Harbert, however, ran into trouble yesterday by losing a duel in 19-holes to Skee Riegel of Ithan, Pa.

Jack Fleck of Rochester Golf and Country Club scored a 4 and 3 victory over Teri Johnson of Wilmington, Del., and Bob Gajda of Forest Lake was an easy winner over Armand Farina of Schenectady, N. Y., 6 and 5.

In other matches involving Michigan men, Max Evans of Utica, and assistant pro at Rochester, was a 2-up loser to Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La. Eldon Briggs of Lansing won from Hanger of Heraldsburg Calif., 3 and 2 and John Dalrymple of St. Clair Shores lost to Bob Moor of Fairfax, Calif., 3 and 2.

Ted Sleichter, 39-year-old Gettysburg, Pa., pro who gives lessons to President Eisenhower's grandchildren, Barbara and Davis, lost a one-down match to young Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., on another penalty.

His tee shot remained imbedded in the green on the 170-yard 17th hole, while the match was all square.

As he putted, the ball popped from the hole and came down on top of the putter blade. Sleichter called the penalty shot on himself, lost the hole by a stroke and the match by a single hole.

While Snead, brandishing a new driver in place of the one he's used for two decades, was the outstanding favorite, some of the galleryites were pointing the "new champion" finger at Gene Littler, the 1953 amateur king.

Gene got into this one at the express invitation of the PGA executive committee, without qualifying, and he could turn out to be the man who came to dinner and stayed right on—defying all efforts to eject him.

He celebrates his 27th birthday Sunday, the day the 36-hole championship round is played, and after his 33-34—67 for a one-up first round win over Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill., Littler could still be around.

MEETS WATROUS—Veteran Sam Snead, thrice winner of the National PGA, meets another oldtimer of the game today in his match against Al Watrous, pro at Oakland Hills Country Club. Snead is 45 and Watrous 58, and both were winners in their first round yesterday.

HELLO THERE!—Ted Sleichter, who is the pro for President Eisenhower at Gettysburg, Pa., looks like he is saying a few words to the ball on the 17th green in the National PGA at Dayton yesterday. Sleichter lost the hole and was eliminated from the tourney by Dow Finsterwald.

Milford Gains Playoff Berth

One of the best played games of the season in the 18th District Junior American Legion baseball loop last night gave Milford's Huron Valley club a chance in the coming zone playoffs at Owosso. Milford edged Berkley 4-3 in a pitching battle that went 10 innings. Milford and Berkley had tied for the district first half lead with identical 9-1 records and last night's playoff was necessary to name a representative for the zone test.

In the first second-round game for the loop, Rochester slugged out seven runs in the third frame to beat Clawson 8-1. Larry LaForge, Rochester hurler, had a no-hitter going into the sixth, when Clawson got its only safety, a single.

Milford took a 2-run lead in the fourth on John Zeman's triple, Terry Hoy's double and Ed Olds' triple. Berkley squared the count in the top of the sixth, but Milford snatched the lead again in the same frame when Zeman, who walked, scored on Olds' second double. Then Berkley knotted the count in the ninth, with Aldridge scoring on a past ball after tripling.

Clinching run in the 10th was made by Andre LaVoy who had walked, scoring on a sacrifice, a single and Hoy's popfly. LaVoy beat the throwin.

Miss Devaney was paired with Jo Ann Prentice of Birmingham, Ala., against Marlene Bauer Hagge and Dianne Garett of Houston, Tex.

Tiger 'Legend' Ends

Band Leader Finzel Dies

DETROIT (AP)—Opening day at the Detroit Tigers baseball park will never be quite the same again—never. For band leader William (Bill) Finzel is dead.

Finzel, the band leader for more than 50 years at Tiger openers, died yesterday in Grace Hospital. He was 77 years old.

Star players and managers, and even owners, came and went. But Finzel, who became a legend within his own lifetime, was always at hand.

Since 1903 he had led the band on the march to the flag pole on each opening day until injury forced him to miss out in 1956.

But "Finzel's Band" was there nevertheless.

Finzel was an orchestra and bandsman all his life, virtually. He was a native Detroiter and the dean of the city's popular orchestra men. One of his proteges was the late Ted FioRito.

Survivors include the widow, Lilly May, and a son, Arthur.

Rocky Didn't Lose, Draw

In answer to several phone inquires as result of a TV quiz program yesterday afternoon, Rocky Marciano and John L. Sullivan were the only two heavyweight boxers who did not lose a fight or fight a draw before winning the heavyweight title.

Marciano did not fight a draw with Roland LaStarza. He defeated him March 24th in New York on a 10 round decision. Rocky won the title September 23, 1952 from Jersey Joe Walcott.

State Tourney Starts Friday

Ruth Teams Play

The annual state Babe Ruth tournament with a record number of 30 entries will get started Friday morning at four locations in Oakland County.

Southfield High School will be the major scene of activity with its three diamonds in use. Two diamonds at Berkley, one at Birmingham, and one at Walled Lake will be used.

The games will get under way at 9:00 a.m. tomorrow and will continue throughout the day.

The big game to start the tourney will take place at 9:00 a.m. tomorrow at Southfield when defending champion Lincoln Park meets Birmingham, former state titlist and a strong challenger this year.

Also at Southfield tomorrow morning will be the game between Southfield and Port Huron. At the Birmingham site, Berkley will tangle with Ypsilanti and at 11:30 on the same diamond, Walled Lake faces Escanaba.

Winners of the three-day affair will go to Wisconsin, August 4th for the regional tourney, and from the scene will change to Ann Arbor for the national meet, August 20-25.

There will be 14 games tomorrow with two byes. The quarterfinals are set for Saturday morning at Southfield and the semi-finals at the same diamonds Saturday afternoon.

The championship game will be played at Southfield Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m.

There are three teams from the Upper Peninsula in the tournament. One is from Escanaba and two from Iron Mountain.

Softball Perfect Game

Peec McConner hurled a perfect game and belted a home run as Shaw's Jewelers made it 15-1 for the season with a 4-0 triumph over 2nd place Birmingham in an American League softball game last night.

In other softball around the city, Stadium Inn got a one-hit performance from Bud McManus to upset the Elks nine 6-1 in another AL tilt, while Commerce and North Side were winning women's tilts.

McConner became the 2nd Shaw's hurler to flip a perfect game and hurled his 2nd no-hitter. He had nine strikeouts and only allowed one ball to be hit to the outfield.

Stadium, winning only 3rd game of the year, scored four runs in the 1st two frames and coasted from then on. McManus gave up a double to the 1st batter he faced but was invincible the rest of the way.

Commerce and North Side remain deadlocked for the lead in the Women's League. Commerce scored eight times in the 5th in blasting West Side 11-5 with a homer by Jo Tibbetts among the eight hits.

North Side trailed 2-1 early but got rolling in the 3rd to romp 13-4 over Gingellville. Baykins hurled the victory, surviving a two-run homer by Nancy Johnson in the 1st inning.

Four games are scheduled for tonight. At Beaudette Park, Pontiac Police vs Lane's in the International and Richard's plays Louie's in the National. A Northside twin-bill will have Dostal battling Franklin and State Hospital against Denie's, both in the IL.

Win at Waterford

Indianwood Homes scored 15 runs in the 1st inning and went on to wallop Drayton 5 & 10 19-8 in a yesterday.

In the Junior League, Rocco's held off a gallant Nubrite rally in the 7th to win 10-9.

24 Events on Holly Benefit Horse Show

Plans have been completed for the third annual Holly Loyal Order Moose benefit horse show. There will be 24 events on the Sunday program at the Mayrand Stables, 6031 East M-57.

★ ★ ★

Oral Maccomb is show chairman and Bill and Ardie Grubaugh are the ringmasters. Show gets under way at 10 a.m. and in case of continuing rain it will be held over to July 29.

★ ★ ★

First section is for juniors. The grand parade takes place at noon, after which parade horses, stock and pleasure horses, bending race, three-gaits and many other classes will be held. Oakwood mounted drill team will be a feature.

Many prizes and awards will be given.

GM Golfers Shoot for 'Hydra' Award

General Motors Truck & Coach golfers will shoot for their second "leg" on the Detroit Hydramatic Golf Trophy, Saturday, at Davisburg course. They will oppose a 30-man team from the Flint AC Sparkplug plant, current holders of the award. GMT won the trophy in 1954.

Stan Savage and Rube Wideman head the GMT squad of 30 while AC's top stars include former U. of M. links captain Brown and one-time Flint Brookwood pro Ed. Frechette.

Tourney is a 18-hole medal play event, with lowest total team score determining the winner.

SMASH AT TRABERT—Frank Sedgman, Australian pro leaps high to smash a lob at Tony Trabert in their match in the "Tournament of Champions" at Forest Hills, N. Y., yesterday. Sedgman defeated Trabert, 2-6, 6-4, 8-6 and 6-3.

Women's Champion Dethroned

Hot Finishes Mark State Test

By H. GUY MOATS

Hot finishes marked the quarter-final round in the Women's Michigan Amateur Golf Championships at Orchard Lake Country Club, yesterday.

When top-flight results were chalked up only one of the few non-champions who started the tournament was left. But Margie Watkins of Grosse Pointe had disposed of what had been figured as the toughest obstacle.

The 23-year old brunet eliminated Birmingham's Sally Sharp, the defending champion, 2 and 1, after dissipating a 3-hole lead at the turn. Sally squared the match on the 13th after taking the two previous holes.

A "cold" putter betrayed Sally on the 16th. She had to win this one to keep her chances alive, after Margie sunk her chip from off the 15th green.

Miss Sharp's seven-iron was on nicely. Her ball was 25 feet from the pin. Sally lined the ball up, stroked, but too softly and the ball traveled only about 10 feet. Her second putt rolled to within 18 inches and she then flubbed the short one.

Miss Watkins also failed to get down a two-footer but held her position. The 17th was taken by Margie with a par 4 and the girl from Birmingham bowed out.

Sally won her title at Muskegon a year ago. She may play in the Wolverine Women's Open at Lochmoor next week.

Hottest battle of the day was the 20-hole victory for Mrs. C. U. (Betty) Wilson of Washtenaw CC over her golfing "buddy" Mrs. Keith (Susie) LeClair of Barton Hills.

Susie had evened the battle on the 18th after Betty took the 17th. Mrs. Wilson, Women's District Medal Play champion had lost an early two-hole edge. Both went down on the first extra hole on par fours, but Mrs. Wilson clinched the win with a birdie four on the 11th green.

A close contest in which she was never trailing gave Mrs. Don Weiss, wife of the former Flint Central athletic star, a 2-1 win over Mrs. Harley Higbie. Both players are former champions and veterans of the tourney.

Mrs. E. O. (Fonnie) Reymonds of Lansing, a "portside" swinger, eliminated Mrs. Richard Babcock of Grand Haven, and meets Miss Watkins in today's semifinals. The former champion took a four hole lead at the 14th, kept the match in status quo from there on.

Two good first flight matches were also set for today, Mrs. Joseph Koss, one of two Women's Metropolitan Golf Association players in the semifinals, was paired with Bloomfield Hills star Mrs. S. E. Gawne and Mrs. T. O. McLaughlin of Western GC met WMGA's Mrs. Charles Fox.

A press-player round was an afternoon feature today.

FIRST FLIGHT PAIRINGS
Mrs. Joseph Koss (WMGA) vs. Mrs. T. O. McLaughlin (Western).
Mrs. S. E. Gawne (Bloomfield) vs. Mrs. Charles Fox (WMGA).

TODAY'S PAIRINGS
(Semifinals)
Margaret Watkins (CCD) vs. Mrs. E. O. (Fonnie) Reynolds ((CC Lansing).
Mrs. Don Weiss (Flint CC) vs. Mrs. C. U. (Betty) Wilson (Washtenaw).

WEDNESDAY'S RESULTS
Miss Watkins defeated Sally Sharp (Forest Lake) 2 and 1.
Mrs. Reynolds defeated Mrs. Richard Babcock (Spring Lake) 2 and 1.
Mrs. Weiss defeated Mrs. Harley Higbie (CCD) 2 and 1.
Mrs. Wilson defeated Mrs. Keith (Susie) LeClair (Barton Hills) 1 up in 20 holes.

Johnstone Tests Romack Today

Pair Tangle in Feature of Women's Amateur 3rd Round

OMAHA (AP) — Ann Casey Johnstone, 34, a Mason City, Iowa, veteran, gets a return shot today against Barbara Romack Porter, 24, in the feature match of the third round in the Women's Western Amateur golf tournament.

Ann had her first shot at the little California blonde last winter. It was a wide miss—she lost 8 and 7 in the semifinals of the St. Augustine tournament.

Three other afternoon matches to determine the semifinalists send Anne Richardson, 21, Columbus, Ohio, against Mary Ann Downey, 31, Baltimore; Andrea "Andy" Cohn, 17, Waterloo, Iowa, against Meriam Bailey, 20, Palatine, Ill., and Polly Riley, 31, Fort Worth, Tex., against Mary Mills, 17, Ocean Springs, Miss.

Fishermen Say 'Gills, Calicos 'Biting Like Mad'

Fishing in murky waters of Schoolhouse Lake the other day Bill Carter, 347 South Jessie hooked and landed a whopper "calico." The fish, says Carter, was 12 ounces in weight, about 11½ inches long. With Carter were his wife and small son, 7-year-old Billy.

Digging bait for the fishing jaunt, Mrs. Carter found a couple snails, took them along. She took a nice calico on one. "We fished in deep water along some weeds and the fish were biting like mad," she reported.

Can't Cope With Rugged Pro Grind

Trabert Sorry He Entered Net Tourney

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—Tony Trabert, practically a national hero when he led the United States to victory in the Davis Cup in 1954, is just an also-ran as a professional but it doesn't bother him a bit.

On the other hand, he said today, he's sorry he ever entered Jack Kramer's Tournament of Champions — the first major pro tennis event in many a year.

"I'm well established in business now," said Trabert, "and I got what I wanted out of pro tennis. When I turned pro, it wasn't so much a matter of what I wanted to do. It was simply that I couldn't turn down $100,000."

Tony, whose record in the Tournament of Champions stands at 1-3, said that in the long run he was lucky he got thrashed by Pancho Gonzales in their tour right after he turned pro.

"If I had beaten Pancho, it would have meant that I'd almost be forced to go on a tour the next year, too," he said. "I don't think I would have wanted that.

"But this business of playing here is ridiculous. I have six blisters on my right hand and another big one on my foot. That's from inactivity. To be any good in this crowd you've got to be playing tennis all the time."

"I'm not and I don't intend to. In fact, I will not play in the next pro tournament in Los Angeles if they play best-of-five sets. When I was an amatuer, I won pretty nearly everything. Now I can hardly keep my head above water when I play a tournament."

Trabert said he could have played on the coming tour of the Kramer troupe but decided against it.

"I could have made $20,000 or maybe $25,000, but it wouldn't have been worth it," he continued. "This way I'm making a little money in endorsements and the like and still holding a job. In fact I think I'm the only pro here who is trying to keep a fulltime job. I understand Frank Sedgman is starting to work, though.

Sedgman, who has played hardly any serious tennis since January licked Trabert, 2-6, 6-4, 8-6, 6-3, and Lew Hoad, newest member of Kramer's stable whipped Pancho Segura, 6-1, 7-5, 6-2, in yesterday's singles matches.

Games on Coast Seen in 1958

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers definitely will be playing their regular season home games in San Francisco and Los Angeles, respectively, in 1958. The Associated Press was told that today by a source close to one of the local National League teams.

No contracts have been signed, no money has changed hands and no negotiations have even been originated with member clubs of the Pacific Coast League.

But, according to the informant, Presidents Horace Stoneham of the Giants and Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers have given their word to San Francisco and Los Angeles officials that they'll bring their clubs there provided all promises made last May are kept. The California politicos have no intention of reneging, he said.

"Stoneham intends to contact Tom Yawkey of the Boston Red Sox very soon," the informant said, "to discuss a deal involving San Francisco and Minneapolis, similar to last February's Brooklyn-Chicago Cubs deal involving their Ft. Worth and Los Angeles farm clubs. The Red Sox, you know, own San Francisco and the Giants own Minneapolis.

★ ★ ★

"No matter what the outcome, the Giants and Dodgers definitely will speed up action to move to the coast, now that the cat is out of the bag. Stoneham, in fact, has a meeting scheduled Friday with San Francisco leaders who are expected to bring a definite proposal from Mayor George Christopher. Horace is awaiting only that before he officially recommends the move to his board of directors. O'Malley will make his recommendation to the Dodgers board the same day."

★ ★ ★

The informant said contracts have been signed with Skiatron television to pipe closed circuit telecasts of home games into private dwellings in the San Francisco and Los Angeles areas.

"Skiatron has guaranteed the two clubs a million dollars a year," the man said. "As for that San Francisco official's recent statement that the pay TV system might cost millions of dollars to install and require as much as four years . . . Let's just say that the gentleman has been slightly misinformed. All that was considered before the contracts were signed."

★ ★ ★

The informant said negotiations for the drafting of the San Francisco and Los Angeles territories will begin as soon as baseball law allows—on Oct. 1—and the two New York clubs will be in California before the major league winter meetings get under way in Colorado Springs, Colo. in December.

★ ★ ★

The Giants, he said, will play their 1958 games in Seals Stadium, capacity 21,000, until a new 45,000 seat municipal stadium is completed. The Dodgers will play weekday games in Wrigley Field, 25,000 capacity, and weekend and holiday games in the Coliseum until their proposed new park is built in Chavez Ravine.

Cagers in Detroit Pro Picture

Eckman-Veeck Comedy Team of Pistons

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT—The Detroit Pistons may or may not set the professional basketball world afire but one thing is sure—the Motor City now has itself a colorful pair in the sports picture.

At the Piston's open house, attended by press, radio and top officials of the organization at the Olympia, coach Charley Eckman had the gathering literally "in stitches."

To add to the humor of the Piston coach, it was also announced that Bill Veeck, the colorful showman of baseball while at Cleveland, was added to the organization as public relations counselor.

Eckman, whose bellowing voice pauses only to catch his breath, said he was happy to be in Detroit and he was looking ahead to "some happy days here."

He told several stories which sources close to the Pistons said, "only Eckman could get into."

One story was about a basketball clinic in which he was the guest speaker. Eckman was pointing out the different styles played by various basketball powers across the country.

"Adolph Rupp of Kentucky was at the clinic he talked of how well his boys worked the plays, and Eddie Hickey then got up and talked about the fast break. He talked for two hours, and didn't get past mid-court," said Eckman.

"Then Dudey Moore from Duquesne got up and talked about defense, and the way he talked they hadn't taken a shot at the basket yet."

"Then came my turn," said Eckman, "and I told them I have five boys. We put the center in the middle, two forwards to the sides and have the two guards bring the ball up. Someone passes to someone and if that someone hasn't got someone else to pass to then he shoots, and if it doesn't go in then everyone yells 'defense,' and we run like the blazes to the other end of the court."

"I wonder why they haven't invited me back to that clinic," he finished.

★ ★ ★

With Veeck on the promotion end of the new Detroit pro franchise and Eckman putting on the show on the floor, the Pistons may give the fans more than just basketball next season.

Lady Golf Pros Tee Off Today in 4-Ball Test

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Fourteen teams of leading lady golf professionals, none a predominant favorite, teed off today in the opening round of the $7,500 Hot Springs Four-Ball golf tournament.

Six of the 14 twosomes loomed strong in the 72-hole tournament over the 6,375-yard, par 72 Cascades course. Among these teams was the combination of Beverly Hanson of Apple Valley, Calif., and Mrs. Kathy Cornelius, Lake Worth, Fla., who won the tournament last year with a scorching 276 total, 20 strokes under par.

Althea Wins, State Girl Misses Upset

CHICAGO (AP)—All 17 top seeded men and women in the National Clay Courts tennis tournament grimly are holding on to their chances as play advances into the fourth day.

The elimination of at least three of the top-ranked men, however, is due today.

Pilar Herrero, Cuba's women's champ, barely avoided an upset yesterday. Miss Herrero struggled to defeat June Stack, Hamtramck, Mich., 8-6, 2-6, 6-4.

Althea Gibson, first Negro Wimbledon champion, raced past Sally Bockwinkle, River Forest, Ill., 6-0, 6-2.

Miss Gibson and Wimbledon runner-up, Darlene Hard, Montebello, Calif., entered as partners in the doubles tournament. The No. 1 and No. 2 seeded woman, respectively, won a one-sided match over Susan Hixson and Susan Medway, both from Highland Park, Ill., and both 15.

Williams Takes AL Bat Lead

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox is the new American League batting leader today. He replaced the Yankees' slumping Mickey Mantle, who had been on top since June 16.

Williams, 38, had three singles in three official times at bat last night while Mantle went hitless in four trips. Their performances put Williams' batting average at .367 and Mantle's at .356.

Wally Moon of the St. Louis Cardinals broke into the National League by hitting .304 in 151 games in 1954.

Swoon's Son Victor Despite Big Impost

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When it comes to consistency there are few horses in recent years who can match the record of Swoon's Son.

When E. Gay Drake's 4-year-old homebred son of The Doge, carried 132 pounds to victory in the $58,000 Equipoise Mile handicap at Arlington Park Wednesday it marked his 22nd victory in 31 starts since coming to the races in 1955. He has been out of the money once, and that as a juvenile, as he finished second six times and third on two other occasions.

The $34,900 he earned for carrying 132 pounds, the heaviest weight to victory in the 17-year history of the race, boosted his total winnings to $665,530, some $3,000 less than was won by Social Outcast, eighth on the all-time money winning list.

Name Mrs. Redmond State Tourney Veep

Only routine matters occupied the Women's Michigan Amateur Golf official body yesterday at Orchard Lake CC, except for the election of a vice president. Decision on location of the 1958 championship was delayed.

Mrs. Arthur Redmond of Western GC replaces Mrs. L. W. Smead of Orchard Lake as vice president. She was named to a two-year term.

"We are waiting to get a club for next year's event, but an early decision is expected" said Mrs. Joseph Stapchinksas of the tourney committee.

Top Players to Clash in Kentucky Tourney

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Top-seeded players in the Kentucky Junior Invitational tennis tournament, who have been taking comparatively easy victories for two days, will find the going rougher today.

The "select few" are pitted against each other in many of today's matches with the winners going into quarterfinals play tomorrow.

Bill Hartack, who leads the jockeys in victories in quest of his third straight riding championship, was an exercise boy 20 months before he rode his first race.

Lack of Comic Training Deplored by Danny Kaye

By GENE HANDSAKER

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Danny Kaye remarks sadly that aspiring comedians today have "no place to be lousy."

★ ★ ★

In the old days there were burlesque, small-time vaudeville and big-time vaudeville. Now a newcomer goes on television—and has to be good.

"Or he's told, 'You'll never have it,'" the comic continued.

"There's less opportunity than ever to develop a number of sides of your talent.

"Suppose you wanted to be a doctor. You wouldn't wake up some morning, go to a hospital and say, 'I've decided I want to be a doctor. Give me a scalpel.'"

Comedy also requires a lot of training, but, said Danny: "A lot of newcomers don't realize it's an art, a profession, and you have to study hard."

Kaye has "done everything in show business you could do"—except TV. That included summer-resort entertaining, traveling shows, night clubs, vaudeville, Broadway, radio.

"Everybody has to go through a painful learning process," he advised. "There are a lot of talented comedians around. But if they don't develop, they'll find they're not going ahead."

Even for veteran, however, he is against "overexposure." If he ever goes on television, it won't be oftener than once a month.

"Only a few can go on week after week and not have their work deteriorate. Mr. (Jack) Benny is a prime example of one who can. He'll go on for a hundred years. All of his experience has accumulated into a rounded character."

Swedish Actress, Husband Break Up

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—It's strictly business now between blonde actress Inger Stevens and Anthony Soglio.

Her marital ties with the New Yorker were severed yesterday—but under terms of a property settlement Soglio, 34, remains as her business agent and will continue to get five per cent of her earnings.

The Swedish-born actress charged cruelty.

U.S. Top Coffee Buyer

CARACAS — Venezuela's 1956 coffee exports totaled more than 51,000,000 pounds, worth $33,335,000. Shipments went to 13 countries.

The United States bought more than 80 per cent of the coffee. The next largest buyers were Western Germany and France.

U.S.-French Striplomacy

Few Measly Dollars Trip Art of Formal Undress

DALLAS, Texas (INS)—Cultural relations between the United States and France recently suffered a severe blow and all over a few measly dollars.

Take it from Professor Bernie Weinstein of the Dallas Theater Lounge School of Striptease.

It isn't every year that the U.S. can repay France for its contributions of legal and governmental ideas, the Statue of Liberty and Dior designs.

Opportunity knocked when the Weinstein campus, a converted movie house in south Dallas, was notified that the French college of striptology in Place Pigalle, Paris, wished to inaugurate a student exchange program between the two schools.

ALL IN FAVOR

Weinstein, in the interests of culture, education and cash, was all in favor of the idea until he learned about French monetary regulations.

"My girls couldn't bring back their earnings," says Weinstein of his students who work their way through his college, "so I had to say no dice to this Pigalle deal."

"I got more applications than I know what to do with," says Professor Bernie, also Director of Admissions.

HAVE SCARS

"Lotsa real stacked girls have scars that eliminate them. Plenty more don't know how to step with music. Some of the best looking babes you ever saw are a zero when they take off their clothes and try to walk."

Once accepted, the girls get a three-week course in Essentials of the Strip, which teaches them the time and place to remove the right garment, and a brand new name.

Weinstein Academicians well known to after-hours scholars include Holly Day, Tanna Leigh, Candy Barr and a recent Summa Cum Laude grad, Nikki Joye.

★ ★ ★

"The next one," says Bernie, "I'm going to name Tutti Frutti. People are very conscious of food these days."

Tiny FM Radios Being Developed

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — The Radio Corporation of America announced that micro-miniature FM radio receivers, so small they can be carried in a shirt pocket, have passed their first field test and now are undergoing experiments by the New York City police department.

C. M. Lewis, of RCA said the receivers are expected to go on the market later this year. He said they will be the first commercial pocket size miniature FM receivers for mobile communications service.

A fully transitorized, 10 ounce instrument, the miniature set is designed to provide extensions of several miles for radio systems now operating in the 150 megacycle band.

Steels, Aircrafts Market Leaders

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels and aircrafts were on the upside in a mixed and quiet stock market early today.

The opening was fairly active, with a slight trend to the upside. It failed to carry through, however, and turnover slackened.

The market was seen by analysts as still undergoing a corrective process after its long advance and its recent unsuccessful attempts to hurdle the upside barrier represented by historic 1956 high. The run of news offered little in the way of stimulus to the list as a whole.

But Sunshine Mining, yesterday's most active stock, forged ahead to an added gain as a report was published of an encouraging show of oil and gas at a test well. It rose well over a point.

Schering, which has made some good progress lately, made a similar gain.

United Aircraft rose more than a point. Boeing, Douglas Aircraft and North American Aviation gained fractions. Republic Steel was ahead around a point and Youngstown Sheet a good fraction.

Losses were taken by Sinclair, American Telephone, International Paper, U.S. Rubber, Kennecott and Loew's.

News in Brief

Claude J. Trimm, 32, of 1155 Fairfax St., is in the Oakland County Jail awaiting arraignment Monday in Circuit Court charged with cashing a $20 check May 25 without an account. Trimm, who waived examination when arraigned before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan, was sent to jail until Monday after he failed to furnish a $1,000 bond.

Noah Henry Lee, 31, of 269 Orchard Lake Ave., paid $31 instead of one week in jail after he was found guilty by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum of four traffic tickets including two for failure to halt at a stop sign, driving with an expired operators license and driving without brake lights.

A 40-day jail sentence was given to Charles D. Gatzmayer, 27, of 71 Ellwood St., after he pleaded guilty to a drunk and disorderly charge before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum and failed to pay a $100 fine plus 20 day sentence yesterday.

R. C. Stromon, 24, of 391 Orchard Lake Ave., is accused of fraudulently displaying another person's operator's license. He pleaded not guilty before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum and was freed on a $100 bond until trial July 31.

Ronald J. Savage, 24, of 477 Irwin St., will be on trial in Municipal Court July 25 accused of reckless driving. After pleading innocent to the charge, Savage was freed on a personal bond by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum until then.

Accused of creating a public nuisance by storing foundry sand on Peacock street, Stephen L. Secora, 65, of 319 Orchard Lake Ave., pleaded innocent before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan and was freed on a personal bond until trial July 25.

Harry Edward Geyer, 52, of 15 Bennett St., pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum and paid a $40 fine instead of eight days in jail.

Lei Etiquette Important to People of Hawaii

By International News Service

Hawaiians don't care if you don't know the difference between a luau and a hukilau, but you had better get your lei etiquette straight.

If a man is presented with one of the floral necklaces, he shouldn't stick it around his wife's neck. This is sticking his own neck out and asking for "pilikia," which means trouble.

Hawaiians believe a lei has certain "mana" or mystical powers. When a lei is given, the powers are transmitted to the owner. But when the recipient passes it along, the flowers stay fresh but the "mana" is gone for good.

The Columbia river, the boundary between Washington and Oregon, is believed to carry more water than all other American streams located in the Pacific coast region combined.

Buying Brings Wheat Strength

CHICAGO (AP)—Commercial buying brought a little strength into wheat futures in early Board of Trade dealings today, but the market failed to show much improvement except for a runup in July soybean prices.

Traders said the buying in wheat might represent flour business. There was some family flour business yesterday, but no substantial baker business has been reported.

Sharp gains in July beans largely were caused by short covering, due to lack of deliveries on the tract. New crop contracts were weak. Corn held steady to firm and oats were lower again, due partly to current harvesting of the new crop.

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was ¼ to one cent higher, July $2.16⅝; corn was ½ higher to ⅜ lower, July $1.30¼; oats were ¼ to ⅝ off, July 66¾; rye was ½ lower to ¾ higher, July $1.31¾; soybeans were unchanged to ¾ higher, July $2.50; and lard was seven to 13 cents a hundred pounds lower, Sept. $13.90.

Khrushchev Talks With Yugoslavians

LONDON (AP)— Moscow radio announced today that Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev has conferred with Yugoslav Vice Presidents Alexander Rankovic and Edvard Kardelj.

The talks in the Soviet capital took place in a "frank and friendly" atmosphere, the broadcast said. Rankovic and Kardelj are officially on holiday in the Soviet Union.

In ousting the Molotov-Kaganovich-Malenkov "antiparty" group from power in the Kremlin, Khrushchev claimed these men, and particularly former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, had worked against any repairing of the breach between Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union.

Coupled with its intercontinental range and accuracy is its ability to carry a nuclear warhead at high sub-sonic speeds and high altitudes.

Labor-Management Shun Ike's Pleas for Restraint

WASHINGTON (AP)—Statistics indicated today that both business and labor are substantially ignoring President Eisenhower's repeated pleas that they exercise self-restraint on wages and prices to curb inflation.

★ ★ ★

Wages keep on going up and so do prices — and the data indicate they have been going up more since January than before. It was in January that Eisenhower told the nation in his annual economic report it was time for some labor-management self-denial.

Data available from the government and reliable private sources show that wage rate settlements, although they have been few, have been somewhat higher so far in 1957 than in the comparable period in 1956.

Prices as reflected by the government's Consumer Price Index —the most widely used measurement of the nation's living costs —have never stopped going up in 1957.

The living cost index has risen to new records for nine straight months in a climb that started 15 months ago. Government economists have forecast another new living cost record will be announced in a few days.

On June 26 and again on July 3 the President said business and labor will have to help hold the line against inflation because the government cannot do it alone.

Unless there is some statesmanlike action by business and labor in avoiding uncalled-for price and wage boosts, Eisenhower said, the alternative may be government controls.

He has made clear he doesn't want such controls in peacetime.

Cousins Wed in No Man's Land in Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) —A young woman from Jaffa and a young man from Amman were married today in the "no man's land" of divided Jerusalem.

While smiling Arab Legion soldiers and Israeli policemen watched, Michale Kara, 30, took Renee Nachleh Kara, 24, as his bride in a Roman Catholic ceremony. They are cousins.

The bridegroom works for the U. N. Works and Rehabilitation Agency in Amman. His bride has lived in the largely Arab city of Jaffa near Tel Aviv. They met for the open air ceremony at Mandelbaum Gate, the official border post. Afterward the newlyweds went to Amman.

Holding the wedding in the "no man's land" area was the only way relatives and friends could attend. Travel is restricted between Israel and Jordan, whose relations are governed by the 1948 armistice agreement.

Democratic Lawmaker Dies Today in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Rep. James B. Bowler, Democratic representative from the 7th Illinois District (Chicago) since 1953, died today.

The 82-year-old lawmaker had been in declining health since a heart attack several years ago. He was unable to attend sessions of the present Congress.

His death reduces the Democratic House membership to 233. There are 200 Republicans.

U.S. Employes Get Pay Hike

Civil Service Committee OKs 11 Pct. Increases for Million Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Civil Service Committee overrode administration objections today and voted for an 11 per cent, 532-million-dollar pay raise for a million government workers.

The committee headed by Rep. Murray (D-Tenn) acted by a reported vote of 14-10 shortly after hearing Robert E. Merriam, the assistant budget director, say such a raise would be inflationary.

The group had voted earlier for a 12½ per cent, 320-million-dollar increase in the pay of some 518,000 workers.

Merriam said a general federal pay hike, if it leads to deficit financing, would be "more devastating to our economy at a time when we are trying to control inflation." The resulting inflation would hit the employes getting increases as well as all other Americans, he said.

The maximum increase in any federal salary would be limited to $1,000 and the salary ceiling in such jobs would be $16,000 a year.

Merriam said the total number of civilians on the federal payroll as of last January was 2,374,000, about 10 per cent below the 2,623,000 number when the Eisenhower administration took over in January 1953.

But the payroll has gone up from a $10,100,000,000 annual rate to $11,800,000,000, he said, because of pay increases and other factors.

Tentatively OK Clinton Survey

Flood Control Program for Macomb, Eastern Oakland Counties

The Clinton River federal flood control survey in Macomb and eastern Oakland Counties was one of 130 projects tentatively approved yesterday in Washington, D.C.

The House Public Works Committee approved a measure authorizing the administration to spend $1,456,461,800 on flood control and navigation projects. The bill went to the House floor for final debate.

The Clinton River project is sponsored by Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) and has been estimated by the Army Corps of Engineers to cost about $50,000.

★ ★ ★

Broomfield believes the survey results can profitably be incorporated in future planning for the Detroit Metropolitan Area. The study, mostly in Macomb County, would affect smaller streams flowing into the Clinton.

Potto Is Distant Relative of Man

Animal of West Africa Prowls at Night; Noted for Powerful Hands

WASHINGTON — Making people look foolish is easy for the potto, an enigma that looks pretty foolish itself.

★ ★ ★

This West African animal, whose scientific name (Perodicticus potto potto) is no less whimsical than the common name, has been confusing students since its discovery by a European in 1699.

★ ★ ★

The fun is all in the family, though, says the National Geographic Society, because the potto is a distant relative of man. Somewhat monkeylike, the potto is a member of the loris family, a branch of the primates that split off before man and the great apes came along.

BACKBONE SPINES

The potto has a backbone unique among mammals. Three neck vertebrae have elongated upper parts that stick up under a thin covering of skin. This bone structure, and the potto's habit of curling up to present an armored neck to an attacker, have been exaggerated by some writers into an exposed, spiny backbone extending to the base of the tail.

★ ★ ★

Other habits of the potto have caused confusion as well. A nocturnal animal that prowls trees in search of insects and fruit, it often hangs upside down as it moves along, giving the impression that it is a sloth.

The hands are peculiar, having just a tiny stub where the index finger could be expected. But the thumb and other fingers are long and strong.

The tremendous gripping power of both hands and feet frighten the tribesmen who know it. They believe that if a potto grabs them, nothing, including death, can make it let go. The only hope is to cut off the part to which the animal clings. Those who have experimented find the potto strong, but not that strong.

The first European who described the potto was William Bosman, a Dutch navigator, who saw one in 1699. He didn't like it at all. After telling of its soft brownish fur and stumpy tail, he wrote:

"I know nothing more of this animal than that it is impossible to look on him without Horrour, and that he hath nothing very particular but his odious Ugliness."

ROYAL MOUNTY IN THE FAR NORTH—The horses are gone, but the dog sled is still standard equipment. Last year the famed Canadian police "mushed" 59,000 miles.

Royal Mounties No Longer Mounted — but They're Still Getting Their Men

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA STAFF CORRESPONDENT

OTTAWA (NEA)—Although the "Mounties" are no longer mounted —except for exhibitions—they're still getting their man with impressive efficiency.

And their more interesting cases continue to be in the Far North where they are blending old-fashioned perseverance with new techniques of crime prevention. Here's a good example:

A little more than a year ago an Eskimo woman killed her husband because he was too lazy to hunt and fish. Quick, efficient detective work by a Mounty got the woman, in this case, and she was sentenced to a year in jail.

As soon as she was released she remarried but to a man who didn't know about her record.

When he did find out what she had done, trouble developed in the igloo. If his day's efforts failed to produce fish or game he was afraid to come home. He'd get drunk and sometimes stay away days before getting up nerve enough to return to his loafer-hating wife.

With some improvised marriage counseling, however, a Mounty got the wife to promise that she would not resort to murder if the day's catch was bad. In this case the Mounty saved his man.

The overall arrest and conviction record of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police continues to be tops even though it now polices more area and enforces more complex laws with fewer men—4,500—than any police force in the world.

MOUNTS OBSOLETE

A fleet of 1,300 squad cars, an RCMP air force which flew 636,000 miles of patrols and an RCMP navy which did 78,000 miles of sea patrol last year have made the Mounty's famous mounts obsolete.

Horses are still used for training, and the famed Musical Ride exhibition is now touring England. But the dog sled is the only original means of transportation left to the RCMP since their founding in 1873 as the Northwest Mounted Police. Last year Mounties "mushed" a total of 59,000 miles in the north country.

The first assignment of the orginal Mounty force of 150 men sent north was to halt bootlegging among the Indians. They're still at this. But Canadian law enforcement is more complex today for the Mounties.

There are RCMP intelligence agents all over the world. Mounties are charged with investigating income tax evaders. This past year they broke up rings smuggling Cadillacs and TV sets across the border. Seagoing Mounties enforce customs and other maritime laws. Mounty lecturers tour the country trying to curb juvenile delinquency. And Mounties protect migratory birds.

The RCMP crime lab has developed a new test for drunk drivers. Drunk driving shows the biggest increase in Canadian crime. The lab has perfected a new chemical process to identify forgeries and an ingenious mathematical method of analyzing causes of auto accidents.

Pontiac Cars, Train Presented by Kroger

Kroger stores in the Pontiac area have given away a 1957 Pontiac automobile and a miniature train set this month as part of the firm's promotion campaign.

The car went to Mrs. Sadie Berry, 670 Scott Lake Rd., Waterford Township; and the train to Mrs. Bessie Ruggles, 3900 Maplelead, Waterford Township.

Last month, a Pontiac car was won by Mrs. Iva Caverly, 3440 Curwood, Drayton Plains.

Open New Store in Waterford

Cunningham Outlet at 5250 Dixie Highway 116th in State

A new Pic 'N Pay Cunningham's store is celebrating a grand opening today, at 5250 Dixie Highway, in Waterford Township.

This complete one-stop shopping center is the 116th Cunningham store in Michigan, according to new store manager, Cecil Powers.

Powers, who has been with the company for more than 25 years, was manager of the Royal Oak store.

The new store is air-conditioned for comfort of shoppers. At this season of the year the store is featuring resort merchandise along with its many other lines. Fishing tackle, bathing suits and picnic equipment fill a current need.

Fishing licenses are available, and the store also accepts money orders, Powers said.

Powers said the store represents more than a quarter of a million dollars investment, which is the second store to open in the 12-unit project.

A merry-go-round is located on the black-topped parking lot for visiting children. The lot accommodates some 800 cars, Powers said.

Asks Citizens to Honor Dead

Gen. Marshall Urges Americans Overseas to Visit Cemeteries

WASHINGTON — General of the Army George C. Marshall has issued a call to Americans traveling abroad to visit the memorial cemeteries where United States servicemen lie.

The bereaved, he write in the National Geographic Magazine, need no urging to visit the graves of their sons, husbands, and brothers.

"But, "in a higher sense, they are the sons of every free man," he says. "Therefore I ask every reader who can . . . to visit the cemeteries and pay tribute."

Chairman of the American Battle Monuments Commission, General Marshall recently returned from a long pilgrimage to the graves of Americans in Europe.

WENT AS SOLDIER

"I went as an old soldier seeking fallen comrades," he said. "The hours I walked among our lost legions were among the most poignant of my life.

"Each site evoked old memories of decisions made, of battles waged and won, and, above all, of the young Americans who paid the highest price that war can exact . . .

"In the course of my pilgrimage there grew a very great, if melancholy, satisfaction in the work of the American Battle Monuments Commission, entrusted with the care of our war dead in foreign lands. We were keeping faith with the fallen. We were taking to them all that we could of home, of beauty, and of remembrance."

Special Planning Aids Railroads in Family Trade

By International News Service

Railroads are appealing to the family trade.

Family plans, sponsored by most U. S. railroads, are billed as inexpensive, safe and comfortable. The accent is on how easy it is to take the children along.

One railroad reports its new astra-dome cars are especially enjoyed by children who like to watch the passing scenery or dine while watching the countryside.

Hotels are also making it easier for mother and dad to travel with the entire family in ease and comfort. Hotels are providing baby sitting services, playgrounds and special children's menus.

Many railroads feature special children's menus with meals at popular prices. Dining car stewards present older children with a coloring book and a box of crayons.

Menus for children represent nursery - rhyme characters and tiny tots get a souvenir bib. Porters take care of bottle heating and first-class trains are well stocked with baby foods.

The late Robert Benchley once said, "There are two classes of travel—first class and with children." Railroads are trying to disprove that.

When railroads appeal to the entire family, they really mean it. If you occupy a roomette, bedroom or drawing room space, you can even take Fido along.

Koss, Printz Named to S-P Dealership

Koss and Printz Motor Sales, 7675 Highland Rd., Pontiac, has been appointed an authorized Studebaker-Packard dealer, the corporation announced today.

The firm is owned by Leroy N. Koss and Anthony J. Printz and will have a complete sales and service program. Prior to the new franchise, the firm handled International-Harvester trucks.

A used car department will be established along with the new dealership.

French Postpone Vote on Recognizing China

PARIS (AP)—The Foreign Affairs Committee of the French National Assembly today postponed until October a vote on a motion to recognize Communist China.

The committee voted 26-15 in favor of ratification of a treaty handing over the small French territories of Pondichery, Karikal, Mahe and Yanaon in India to the Indian government. The treaty now goes to the Assembly floor for final vote.

Smog Damage Said in Billions

Los Angeles Agency Warns That Problem Is Spreading

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Los Angeles' smog control agency has warned that air pollution will cause more than two billion dollars in crop, livestock and property damage in the United States during the next 12 months.

In addition, the Los Angeles air pollution control district said, millions of persons in cities from cost to coast will suffer varying degrees of discomfort from contamination of the air they breathe.

The district, which is charged with curbing and, if possible, eventually eliminating Los Angeles' infamous, eye-smarting smog, said in one of a series of reports that the smog problem increases and spreads constantly.

It said such American cities as New York, San Francisco, San Diego, Baltimore and Philadelphia and a number of foreign cities also suffer from severe air pollution.

Smog, the district went on, is "rapidly becoming a problem to every large urban area."

The report noted that studies conducted by Dr. Frits W. Went, of the California Institute of Technology, show evidence of continuing smog growth in cities throughout the world.

"In 1949, none of the characteristic smog damage to vegetation could be detected in San Francisco," the report said. "One year later, the damage was observed there . . . and since then . . . has increased.

"Surveys in New York revealed no plant damage in 1950 and 1951, yet by 1952 the damage was detected."

Convict to Get Lie Test in Sheppard Case

May Have Killed Doctor's Wife

DELAND, Fla. (INS) — Donald Joseph Wedler, 23, Florida convict who says he believes he may be the slayer of Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard, undergoes a lie test today.

He was questioned by polygraph expert Alex Gregory of Detroit and Rodney Thursby, Volusia County sheriff, for three and a half hours last night.

NOT LYING

They said early today that they found no evidence to indicate that Wedler is lying in his "confession" in the Sheppard murder case.

Mrs. Sheppard was found bludgeoned to death July 4, 1954, and her husband, Dr. Sam Sheppard, an osteopathic surgeon of Bay Village, a suburb of Cleveland, was convicted of second degree murder. He is serving a life sentence in the Ohio State Prison.

"Dr. Sam" was convicted after a highly publicized trial in which the state failed to produce either a weapon, an eye witness, or a clear motive for the crime.

Sheppard insisted his wife was slain and he was attacked by a shadowy figure with bushy hair who invaded his home after midnight and killed her in an upstairs bedroom.

LIE TEST

Sheriff Thursby has agreed to allow the Court of Last Resort, an organization headed by mystery writer Erle Stanley Gardner, to conduct the lie detector test on Wedler. Gregory flew from Detroit at Gardner's request. He was joined by Park Street, of San Antonio, Tex., an attorney who is one of the members of the Court of Last Resort.

Dr. Stephen Sheppard, brother of "Dr. Sam," and William J. Corrigan, an attorney, had first intended to go to Deland, Fla., to question the Florida convict but changed their plans when they learned that the Court of Last Resort had stepped into the newest development in the Sheppard case.

Wedler, 23, serving a 10 year prison sentence for a Tampa, Fla., robbery, said he was in Cleveland about July 1, 1954, that he used an iron pipe to beat a woman in an upstairs bedroom and that he "bolted" out of the room to meet a man on the stairs, whom he also hit with the pipe.

★ ★ ★

Authorities said he told of the Cleveland attack to "ease his conscience" and that "it could be that I killed Dr. Sheppard's wife."

★ ★ ★

In Cleveland, Capt. David E. Kerr of the homicide division, who aided in the investigation of the Sheppard murder, said he places no credence in the Wedler statement.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert of Ohio has disclosed the name of a merchant marine seaman regarded as a missing witness in the Sheppard murder trial. Herbert was associated in the defense of "Dr. Sam."

Returns Home for Last Time

Aga Khan's Funeral to Be Held at Aswan on Banks of Nile

CAIRO (INS) — The Aga Khan returned to his favorite home at Aswan on the banks of the Nile today for the last time.

A coffin carrying the body of the Aga, who died in Switzerland at the age of 79 last Thursday, was transferred from one plane to another this morning during a brief stopover at Cairo Airport.

Members of the Moslem Ismaili sect, of which the Aga was spiritual leader for nearly three-quarters of a century, lined up at the airport to kiss the coffin as a mark of respect.

The plane bearing the body and members of the family was met by the governor of Cairo acting for Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

He extended condolences to the widow, the Aga's eldest son, Aly Khan, and the late Aga's successor, young Prince Karim, who traveled with the body.

ON ANOTHER FLIGHT

The Aga's other son, Sadruddin, and a group of Ismaili leaders arrived three hours earlier on another flight from Geneva.

The Aga's widow, the Begum, was first to emerge from the plane during the Cairo stopover. She wore a black sari and no makeup except a trace of lipstick. There were tears in her eyes.

A mass of wreaths was piled on the coffin before it was loaded aboard an Egyptian charter plane for the 600-mile flight to Aswan where burial will take place tomorrow. The largest of the wreaths was inscribed "From Gamal Abdel Nasser."

The Aga's body will be buried in a temporary tomb while a large granite and marble mausoleum is being built on a sandy hill overlooking the Nile's west bank.

Lawyer's Offense Helps His Client

PARIS (INS) — A retired French general, turned lawyer, won justice for his first client by citing his own trial for a similar offense 15 years ago.

★ ★ ★

General Robert Delissagary, former commander of France's most modern motorized division, was defending a young Spaniard charged with illegal border crossing.

The General told the court at Pau, a town near the Spanish frontier, "Fifteen years ago, while trying to rejoin the Free French Forces in North Africa, I was arrested in Pamplona and charged with illegal entry into Spain. I was given six days in jail."

The boy was sentenced to 15 days in jail but released immediately since he had already been in jail for 16 days.

Bean Problem Ended

He's in the Soup Again; This Time It's Cherry

LANSING (AP)—Gust Mellios is in the soup again.

★ ★ ★

Last time it was bean soup—a spy found out he wasn't using Michigan beans in the some 40 gallons of soup he serves a day at the two State Office Building cafeterias catering to state workers.

★ ★ ★

Mellios, who operates the food concessions, declared himself aghast that his chefs were using Nebraska and Utah beans and pledged that every drop of soup would be made with home-grown beans hereafter.

★ ★ ★

Mellios said he would even like to serve cherry soup to promote another important state agricultural product, but didn't have a recipe.

HARE HAS RECIPE

Secy. of State James M. Hare came to the rescue today with a recipe for cherry soup which he said had been used in Germany and the Scandinavian countries for years and was imported to Michigan by early settlers.

Use two pounds of Michigan black cherries, one quart of water (from the Water Wonderland), a quarter of lemon peel, a touch of cinnamon, half bottle of light Michigan red wine, two ounces of sugar and two thirds of an ounce of cornstarch.

★ ★ ★

Pit the cherries. Take a little less than half of the stoned cherries and put them in the water with the lemon peel and cinnamon and let boil for eight minutes. Stir the cherries through a sieve, add the sugar and uncooked cherries.

Mix the cornstarch in a little water and add slowly to the mixture, stirring constantly. Let cook for four minutes, add the red wine and serve chilled.

Hare noted that some like to pound open the cherry pits and let them cook separately in the red wine before adding the wine to the soup. This adds a tart flavor well worth the effort, he added.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Eugene and Herbert Sallee, who passed away July 18, 1952.
It is lonesome here without you,
Also sad and weary the way;
Life has not been the same,
Since you were called away.
Mother, Dad, and little sons, Mike and Pat and brother Lavern.

Quartet Tackles Jazz and Bach

New-Sounding Singers Are TV Regulars With Rosemary Clooney

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — Talk to anyone in the music business today and the conversation will almost automatically take one predestined course—the abnormally low state of music, except for the Hi-Los.

These are four young men who came out of the West, and brought new life and new musicianship to the field of quartet singing. They are good and they can sing almost anything — from jazz to Bach chorals.

They are Gene Puerling, Clark Burroughs, Bob Strasser and Bob Morse. The two Bobs are the His (physically tall) and Gene and Clark are Los. Puerling and Strasser are from Milwaukee, the others from California. All had choir training, all were pros individually before they teamed up.

"And we decided, when we teamed up," says Clark, "to sing the best we know how."

★ ★ ★

"If we couldn't make the grade that way," adds Gene, "we said we'd go into some other business."

WASN'T EASY

They've made the grade, of course, but it wasn't easy. They spent six months rehearsing. Three of them lived together (Morse, the holdout, lived by himself and worked with a small combo) with Burroughs doing the cooking.

★ ★ ★

"We spent six months eating tunafish casserole and lamb ribs and inexpensive stuff like that," Clark says. Perhaps because of his cooking experience, he's now the only married Hi-Lo.

The work paid off. After one false start — they went with a record company that promptly folded — they've come on strong. Now they're regulars with Rosemary Clooney's TV show, they make records, they're big hits in clubs and on TV. One reason is that they'll sing anything — anything good.

"We're determined," says Strasser, "not to be stereotyped or categorized. We've sung jazz and ballads and folks songs and Bach chorales."

★ ★ ★

At the moment, they're planning an album of Bach chorales, as well as one with a background chorus of children. And they want to do a Broadway musical. They're aiming Hi.

Foreign Beauties Could Do Without Elvis' Motions

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Do European girls dig Elvis Presley?

Miss Sweden, Inger Jonsson, 20—"Oh, he is very popular in Sweden...I think he is too loud. But the teen-age girls love him."

Miss France, Lisa Simon, 22—I like his songs but he himself I don't like...I think Frank Sinatra is sexy. Presley is vulgar."

Miss Italy, Valeria Fabrizzi, 21—"Why doesn't he stand still? Maybe then we could find out if he has a voice."

★ ★ ★

Miss Belgium, Janine Hanotiau, 19—"I like his records but not him. He's too active, too jumpy. He's tops now but he'll die out quickly, I think."

Seek Culprit Who Stole Polio Victim's Bicycle

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (AP)—Police in this suburban community are particularly anxious to lay hands on the culprit who took 13-year-old Leslie Pricer's bike yesterday. The boy is a polio victim.

The bike was taken from the rack at the Sunnyvale Swim Center — the same place where someone stole Leslie's special support shoes and wallet Sunday.

Vacationing America's at Slap-Happiest Now

By EARL WILSON

SAN FRANCISCO — It appears to us Flying Wilsons that vacationing America's at its slap-happiest now in these frivolous fifties.

The Elks' national convention caused amusement and jammed the hotels here. The Elks wore loud shirts and voices to match.

The editors were just closing their convention. One of them, George Benson, of Toledo, said, "There are 10,000 Elks in town but they've declared San Francisco a private preserve and you're not allowed to shoot them."

RHONDA

Everybody was gay and unworried about Russia and the H-Bomb, probably figuring that "Krushy" has enough troubles at home.

Great commotion was caused in the Fairmont lobby by Rhonda Fleming, Ann Jeffreys and Bob Sterling, and Margaret Whiting. They'd entertained the editors.

The Barefoot Wife and I flew over here from Las Vegas. As soon as we got into our plane seats, the B. W. whipped off her shoes.

"I've been reading about those bare feet for years. Now I've seen them."

Maybe the general gaiety's due to kind of a resignation.

Agent for FBI Fined by Judge

Move Follows Refusal to Turn Over Records in Alleged Fraud Case

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) — Federal District Judge Mac Swinford yesterday called an FBI agents' refusal to turn over his records to the court in an alleged fraud case "defiance of the worst kind," and fined the agent $1,000.

Judge Swinford voiced his reluctance to fine Agent Marcus Wallace, but said a recent Supreme Court decision relating to FBI records must be followed in the case.

The Supreme Court ruled June 3 that the FBI must make its files available in court cases.

Wallace said he refused to hand over the records on the advice of the attorney general's office in Washington. Swinford said, in view of that, he would wait until Oct. 18 to impose sentence. The judge gave the agent that amount of time to confer "again with your superiors."

The fine came as E. H. Hall, a local contractor, went on trial on a charge of filing false statements and documents to obtain federal Housing Authority loans. Hall was one of seven contractors indicted.

The defense asked July 8 for dismissal of the cases, but the petition was refused. The defense then asked to see government records and Swinford instructed Wallace to produce them yesterday.

After Wallace failed to produce the records, Swinford said he could not understand "why the U.S. government would object to full compliance of a Supreme Court decision."

The judge added, however, that he realized Wallace was merely "acting on orders from your superiors."

The FBI in Washington declined comment.

For Florida's Sake, Drink Orange Juice

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Florida Highway Patrol has been placing stickers on automobiles which read: "For safety's sake slow down and live. Stop for a coffee break."

This coffee plug aroused the ire of R. V. Phillips, a leading citrus man. He protested to the Florida Citrus Commission which carried the complaint to the patrol.

From now on the stickers will read: "Stop. Never drive while tired. Refresh with orange juice."

Drop Auction Prices

MADRID—Each evening in Spanish fishing villages the catch is auctioned off when the fleet returns. But the auctioneers don't start at the bottom and work up; they open high and lower their price until someone is willing to pay it. Sales are made to the first bidders, not the last.

Sailor Dies in Canada on Navy Good Will Visit

QUEBEC (AP)—The first day of a U. S. Navy goodwill visit to Quebec ended in tragedy last night with the drowning of a sailor from the cruiser Des Moines.

★ ★ ★

The body of the victim, identified as Robert E. Jones, 26, was recovered from the St. Charles River, where he had been swimming.

Blame Overload for Five Deaths

Safe for Only 3 Persons, Craft With 7 Aboard Capsizes Near Shore

FRONT ROYAL, Va. (AP) — A bus driver and a 16-year-old girl were the only survivors of what began as a family outing for seven here last night and ended with five drowned.

State Game Warden James Simpson said the boat had a safe capacity of three persons.

Drowned were Mrs. Bessie Strickler, 43, of Riverton, Warren County; her son, Charles Strickler, 7; Mrs. Gladys Drummond, 36, of Stephens City, Frederick County; Ray Williams, 7, of Riverton, and Wayne Lansbury, 7, of Fairfax.

The survivors were Mrs. Strickler's husband, Harry Strickler, a Trailways bus driver, and Sandra Drummond, 16, daughter of Mrs. Drummond.

Strickler and Sandra managed to reach shore.

The bodies were recovered.

Mother Allowed to Keep Children After Poisoning

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A Japanese mother yesterday won custody of her three children, whom she once tried to poison.

Two months ago Mrs. Tomiko Samuel, 28, gave poison to Roy, 4, David 2, and Dorothy Ann, 3, and took some herself after her husband, Army Sgt. Roy Samuel, had told her he wanted a divorce.

The children recovered from t ehpoison quickly. Tomiko was hospitalized several weeks and Juvenile Court took custody of the children.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Samuel won the sympathy of several church groups.

Yesterday her husband, stationed at Tacoma, Wash., announced he was dropping his efforts to get a divorce and custody of the children.

The announcement was made by his attorney in a dramatic courtroom scene ending a two-day custody hearing.

Soldier Headed for Germany —Minus Animals

LAWTON, Okla. (AP)—Maj. George R. Post says he simply can't take all of his "family" along when he transfers next month from nearby Ft. Sill to an Army base in Germany.

The couple, along with sons, George, 13, and Robert, 8, share their home with 71 birds and animals.

Maj. Post said he hopes to take a South American honey bear called Kinky and a French poodle to Germany. But he's busy these days arranging to "board out" the other pets—two poodles, two rabbits, three cats, two Java temple birds and 60 canaries and parakeets.

Asks Police Powers for Use in Algeria

PARIS (AP) — Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury today staked his government's short life on his demand for special police powers to cope with Algerian terrorism in France itself.

★ ★ ★

The Premier cut off hours of almost uninterrupted haggling after an all-night session of the National Assembly by calling for a vote of confidence on the issue. It was his second confidence demand since taking office June 13.

Defeat would throw the Cabinet out of office and put the nation into another political snarl.

The vote will come on a bill to continue the government's special police powers in rebellious Algeria as well as extend part of them to France. But their application to the homeland was the only point of issue.

Taking up the provisions of the bill individually, the Assembly earlier this morning voted 362-173 to continue the virtually free hand in Algeria it first granted Premier Guy Mollet's government.

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP) — Chubby Jack King, 13-year-old Boy Scout from Pasadena, Calif., really has jamborree trade bait—personal pinups of Jayne Mansfield.

Tax Return Shows Fred Allen's Estate

CHICAGO (AP) — The estate of comedian Fred Allen was placed at $1,341,421 in an inheritance tax return filed in the Cook County Clerk's office yesterday.

Allen's will was filed in New York City, his home, but the tax return was filed in Illinois because he owned three parcels of property in Illinois valued at $62,980. The return placed federal tax at $141,411 and state tax at $635.

Canadian Oil Booms

TORONTO—Increases in 1956 in the production of crude petroleum in Canada were reported in all producing areas. Total output was 33 per cent greater than in 1955. Deliveries of oil through Canadian pipelines totaled 275,000,000 barrels, an increase of nearly one fourth over 1955.

Smooth-Top Mattress

1. Smooth on top—and on the bottom too. Not a button or tuft anywhere. It's the modern way to sleep!
2. ...feel how the upholstery is firmly anchored under the frame so it can't ever shift, slide or bunch up.
3. Electrically Tempered Steel Coils
4. Permalator Reinforced Construction
5. Luxurious layer-on-layer upholstery of fine felted cotton.
6. Crush-proof border that won't break down. Crush it hard... see how it bounces right back into shape!
7. Heavy-woven fabric cover—tough enough to last a lifetime—yet so smooth to the touch, so lovely to look at.
8. 8 Vents—not 2 or 4—give free-flow cross ventilation inside the mattress so it can breathe.
9. 4 Handles make it easy to turn. And the smooth top and bottom make it easier still.
