HAPPY NEW YEAR (AND BIRTHDAY, TOO!) — Midnight tonight not only opens the door to 1961. It marks the beginning of Pontiac's centennial year as well. Pretty Judy Wagner, 18, dons a fancy cap and admires a birthday cake in observance of the double occasion. A clerk in The Pontiac Press bookkeeping department, Judy joins us in wishing everyone a happy New Year and Pontiac a happy birthday. (Yes, there're 100 candles on the cake.)

Ike, Aides Discuss Crisis

Laos Invasion Perils Peace

Red Viet Nam Denies Reports, Then Boasts

Radio Vientiane Says Over 7,000 Attacked Border Towns

By United Press International

Radio Vientiane reported today that Communist North Viet Nam troops had crossed into Laos in force, creating a situation so dangerous to peace that President Eisenhower called in State and Defense Department officials to discuss the crisis.

The Communist North Vietnamese news agency denied the invasion reports but boasted that two columns of Red Laotian forces under paratroop Capt. Kong Le were driving on the Royal Laotian capital of Luang Prabang in heavy fighting.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty announced that the President is "in close touch with departments of the government that are receiving reports on Laos."

Hagerty said that officials in the various departments, including the Central Intelligence Agency, were holding their own briefings. After this, they will meet with the President.

Radio Vientiane, in the administrative capital of Laos, said seven battalions of Vietminh troops—upwards of 7,000 men—had attacked the border towns of Nong Het and Ban Ban in a region 115 miles southeast of Luang Prabang.

It called it an "invasion."

Fragmentary diplomatic reports reaching Washington tended to support the invasion reports but American authorities warned that it was too early to say whether the operations across the border were of the magnitude reported by the pro-Western Latoian government.

WILL KEEP IN TOUCH

Hagerty said the President would continue to keep in close touch with the Laos situation after the meeting is concluded.

He said "certain people will be over after they have finished their own critical review."

A Laotian government spokesman in New York said there was no immediate plan for Ambassador Sisouk Na Champassak to confer with UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold or to convene the Security Council.

He indicated no official reports had been received.

A delayed dispatch from UPI correspondent Robert Udick in Vientiane said the reports from the border towns were too sketchy to determine whether a thrust deep into Laos was under way or whether it was a renewal of the border clashes frequent in recent years.

Communist North Viet Nam appeared to be setting the stage for a possible invasion despite its denials.

It said troops from free South Viet Nam and Thailand had entered Laos and were fighting under command of American, Filipino and Thai officers.

Holiday Death Watch Off to Grim Beginning; State Toll Rising Fast

A Pontiac couple was killed instantly in a car-truck collision near Eaton Rapids late yesterday afternoon as the long, dangerous New Year's holiday weekend got under way.

Charles V. Spratt, 48, and his wife, Margaret, 46, of 459 Raeburn St., were killed about an hour before the official holiday count began at 6 p.m. yesterday.

By the middle of the day, traffic mishaps had claimed three lives in Michigan and 44 across the country. Fires and miscellaneous accidents brought the nation's accidental death toll to 60.

The Spratts were driving to Lansing to get a copy of a birth certificate for the oldest of their two sons, Curtis, 26, so he could enter Officer's Candidate School.

Their car was struck broadside by a beer truck at Columbia Highway and M99 about five miles north of Eaton Rapids shortly before 4:30 p.m.

Also killed was the truck driver, Richard A. Stanton, 34, of Holt. Eaton County Sheriff Elwin Smith said all three victims were thrown from the vehicles.

The Spratts were going east on Columbia Highway. Smith said it "couldn't be determined if Mrs. Spratt, who was driving the car, missed a stop sign but witnesses said the truck driver didn't have a chance."

Chilly Arrival Forecast for '61 in Pontiac Area

Cold weather is forecast for New Year's Day over most of the country.

Snow flurries and a freezing 18 degrees is predicted for tonight in the Pontiac area. Sunday's high will be near 27. The outlook for Monday is partly cloudy and continued quite cold.

Southerly morning winds at 5 miles per hour will become northerly at 10-20 miles by tonight.

In its 30-day outlook, the U.S. Weather Bureau says temperatures would average below seasonal normals over the Great Lakes Region. Subnormal precipitation was indicated for this area.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 24 degrees. At 1 p.m. the recording was 32.

Falls at Niagara Gorge, Suffers Leg Scratches

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Wayne Ganesworth, 18, tripped and fell through a guard rail along the Niagara River gorge below Niagara Falls early today and plunged 55 feet straight down into a snowbank.

Police, using ropes and a basket, got him back to the top in 1½ hours. At a hospital, doctors examined him and reported these injuries: leg scratches.

Brussels Strikers Put On Silent Mourning March

Strike leaders called it a "mourners'" demonstration for Francois van der Strappen, 30, who was killed in Friday's fighting between state police and demonstrators in the worst outbreak of violence during the 12-day-old strike.

The marchers shouted no slogans and ignored the police for the first time since the demonstrations began in the Belgian capital. There were no incidents.

Police say the man who shot Van der Strappen came to the aid of a policeman who was being mauled by demonstrators.

As Belgians uneasily awaited the new year, fearing it would bring new violence, informants said Eyskens plans to talk to the nation by radio and television, perhaps tonight.

MARCH IN SILENCE

Before today's marchers moved off from Socialist party headquarters, a union official told them: "Make this a silent demonstration. Perhaps silence will do more than shouts, slogans and broken windows."

The strikes and violence which have raged for 12 days throughout Belgium showed signs of easing during the holiday, but the grave political differences remain as large as ever.

The first week of the new year brings several events officials fear could spark new violence.

Premier Gaston Eyskens goes before Parliament Tuesday in an effort to ram through the government's controversial economic reform program of his Catholic-Liberal government over bitter Socialist opposition.

Socialist leaders have scheduled huge demonstrations and walkouts for Wednesday in Brussels and Antwerp.

Did You Get Under Sales Tax Wire?

How will the new 4 per cent sales tax affect retail transactions started, but not completed, before Jan. 1, the date the new rate goes into effect?

The Michigan Retailers Association has analyzed several typical situations for the benefit of its member agencies across the state.

The 4 per cent sales tax is an increase of the present 3 per cent sales tax. The 1 per cent increase also applies to the present 3 per cent use tax. The increases go into effect at midnight Dec. 31.

The deciding factor in transactions that are not completed before Jan. 1 is the date that the contract was signed and the title passed. If the contract were signed and the title passed before Jan. 1, tthe 1 per cent increase will not apply.

Chamber officials said the association's presentation was a good guide for retailers and consumers.

Richard O. Cook, executive vice president of the association, said the examples "have been cleared with the Michigan Department of Revenue."

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Q. The customer purchased a washer and dryer Dec. 10. She made the required down payment, the balance to be paid monthly on extended payment contract. Is the tax 3 per cent or 4 per cent?

A. Title passed when the customer signed the time payment contract and delivery was made. This being prior to Jan. 1, the tax is 3 per cent.

Q. We have taken orders for furniture wherein the customer selects the style and fabric. These orders were placed Dec. 10, but delivery will not be made until sometime in the future. As the orders were taken prior to Jan. 1, we assume that the tax will be 3 per cent. Is this correct?

A. No, the tax will be 4 per per cent. Even though the order was placed prior to Jan. 1, delivery will not be made and title passed until after the effective date of the 4 per cent sales tax.

Q. Mrs. Jones selected a coat from our stock Dec. 10 priced at $100. She paid $10 down and had

Crime Persists in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — A man who was beaten and robbed by three thugs Friday night died today and a woman was rapped and robbed in the latest outbreaks in Detroit's crime wave.

The new cases came despite a crackdown by police that included putting the entire force on a six-day work week in an effort to end the wave of murders and holdups.

Cyrill B. Campbell, 71, was attacked Friday night as he walked near his home.

The three thugs all Negroes according to Campbell, knocked him to the ground and kicked and beat him, then took his wallet containing $120.

Campbell died this morning at Receiving Hospital. An autopsy was scheduled to determine if his death resulted from the beating.

Also Friday night, a 44-year-old woman was attacked by a Negro who looped a piece of rope around her neck and dragged her between two houses.

She said the man raped her and took her purse which contained $80.

Police said the woman lived outside Detroit's biggest crime area where the crackdown is concentrated.

One shooting occurred on Detroit's East Side today when a policeman who was driving home after duty spotted two Negro men carrying television sets from an appliance store.

The officer, Detective Jack O'Kelly, ordered the men to surrender and shot and wounded one of the men, identified as Joseph Tolliver, 26, when he tried to flee.

Tolliver was struck in the chest and was rushed to Receiving Hospital. His companion escaped during the shooting.

The crackdown was ordered after the death Tuesday of a nurses aide who was beaten repeatedly on the head with a brass bar by a Negro man who stole her purse.

All of Detroit's policemen were placed on six-day work weeks as part of the crackdown.

About 600 persons have been arrested in three days and many have been jailed for carrying concealed knives, or other weapons, or for parole violations or crimes for which they had been sought.

Housing Post Goes to Negro

Kennedy Also Appoints W. Averell Harriman Roving Ambassador

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-Elect John F. Kennedy today gave to a Negro crusader Robert C. Weaver the high-level job of directing the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy today names a Negro—first to be picked for a top job in the new administration—as chief of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Kennedy scheduled a late morning news conference for formal announcement of appointment of Robert C. Weaver, 51, now vice chairman of New York City's Housing and Redevelopment Board. He has a Harvard doctor of philosophy degree.

He also has served for the past year as national chairman of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Selection of Weaver became known Friday night after the Averell Harriman, former envoy to the Soviet Union and former governor of New York, to serve as his roving ambassador on important special missions abroad.

Kennedy said the overseas assignments he has in mind for Harriman will be carried out by a man "who has the full confidence of the president and an intimate knowledge of all aspects of United States policy."

Weaver arrived in Palm Beach Friday night for a meeting with the president-elect at the Kennedy seaside home in advance of today's news conference. He told newsmen he was sounded out earlier in the week about his availability for housing post, and later got word he had been confirmed for the job.

ONE FORM OF ANGUISH — A hangover's wrath knows no favorites as this Fort Wayne, Ind., man found when he dared look in his mirror one New Year's Day morning. Bud Fry's head tapped out the message that his New Year's Eve was a real gasser. In other parts of the world there is a different kind of anguish, with the blood bath in Laos, rioting in Belgium and war in the Congo.

Time, as measured by man, will die for a flashing instant. And instantly it will be reborn.

The year 1960 ends; 1961 begins. But time, in this brief void, cannot be measured by man as he would measure a meadow — in rods. Nor as he would measure an ocean—in miles.

But he also said he was searching on the dawn of this new year "to find in the uncertainty of an agitated world, some glimmer promising serenity."

ANGUISH AND STRIFE

As the 79-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church spoke, there was anguish and strife on three continents.

In Asia, it was the blood bath in Laos.

In Europe, it was rioting in Belgium.

In Africa, it was war between opposing factions in the Congo, and racial tension further to the south.

So, on the first day of the new year, the head of the world's peace organization, United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, will be flying to some

Cuban Papers Warn U.S. to Invade Soon

HAVANA (AP)—Progovernment newspapers declared today Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime has been informed U.S. Marines will invade Cuba before Jan. 18.

Both the semiofficial Revolucion and the government-owned El Mundo said "reliable sources" had told the government of an invasion plan which they reported was arranged by the Pentagon and the Central Intelligence Agency.

They added that it has already been approved by President Eisenhower, who will be succeeded by President-Elect John F. Kennedy Jan. 20.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House today described as absolutely untrue reports in Cuban newspapers that U.S. Marines plan to invade Cuba by Jan. 18. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty answered with "nuts" when told of the reports.

Shortly before the newspapers appeared, the government supended regulations that long have allowed American tourists to enter Cuba easily.

The Cabinet decided in a marathon session that the Foreign Ministry will determine in the future what tourists from the United States may enter the country without visas.

In almost identical language, Revolucion and El Mundo said Cuba will live "under imminent danger of U.S. attack in coming days."

They charged the Eisenhower government will take advantage of the change in administration to bring off the invasion and thus present Kennedy a war situation before the incoming president can do anything to stop it.

PERU BREAKS

The papers said these developments support the invasion warning:

Peru broke relations with Cuba Friday night.

Venezuela announced it will not recognize the new Cuban ambassador.

The U.S. Embassy has called in all U.S. residents of Havana to give them "very important news."

This apparently alluded to a notice sent out Friday by the embassy to representatives of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee.

Some of its members and supporters are touring Cuba, and an embassy spokesman said U.S. officials would be available at 10 a.m. this morning to answer their questions—and present the U.S. side—on Cuban-American relations.

The dispatch from the Uruguayan capital quoted "a well informed source" as saying the U. S. State Department had sent a secret message to Latin American governments expressing U. S. preoccupation at the reported installation of missile bases in Cuba and advising that the United States will intervene in Cuba with troops.

The purpose of the purported message, Prensa Latina said, was to convince Latin-American nations that multilateral intervention would be preferable to action by the United States alone.

The Cuban government stirred up similar invasion jitters just before the end of 1959, warning repeatedly of an invasion that never came.

Sources once very close to Castro and now broken away from him have said Castro has been personally convinced for some time that the United States would send Marines to destroy his revolution.

ANGER GROWS

Growing anger among leaders of hemispheric neighbors was evident over the activities of Cuban agents charged with spreading revolutionary propaganda among the masses.

There was speculation among diplomats in Lima that Columbia, Venezuela and Chile may follow suit and freeze out Castro agents.

Snow and Rain Dulling Center of the Country

By The Associated Press

Generally cloudy skies with occasional light snow extended from the Dakotas to the Upper Great Lakes today with another cloud cover with occasional rain or drizzle extending from the Southern Plains eastward to the Gulf.

Snow flurries in the Northern Rockies changed to rain along the Washington coast. Generally fair weather prevailed elsewhere.

Temperatures ranged from near zero along the Canadian border to the 60s and 70s in Florida. The eastern sections of the country were generally in the 20s from the Ohio Valley and Lower Great Lakes into the Northeast.

NO VACATION FOR THEM — These teachers and counselors at Pontiac Northern High School are among the many for whom there is little or no vacation this holiday season. They've been working regular hours this week, planning the second semester of a new pilot English-social studies course for college preparatory seniors at Northern. Charting the course are Peter Evarts, Wallace Schlorke, Betty Murphy, and John Maturo.

It's Vacation Time for Pupils but Not So for Many Teachers

By DICK SAUNDERS

Christmas vacation is just about over in the Pontiac School District.

But much of our school personnel chortles, "Vacation! What vacation?"

Administrative offices have been open while administrators spend long hours pouring over next year's budget, policies, new materials, building and maintenance programs, recruitment programs, teacher pay schedules and many other items.

It hasn't been a vacation for them.

Take the case of Arden Sears, a vocal music teacher at Madison Junior High School.

HOURS BUSY

He's been trying to divide his time between work on school papers and materials for next semester, preparing a research paper, and studying for his final exam in a graduate course at Wayne State University.

Somehow he found time to arrange several afternoon rehearsals at Madison for a group of eight area teen-agers who are "interested" in forming a combo (2 guitars, a drummer and 5 vocalists).

But this isn't why he sports the harried expression.

If he hits a clinker on the piano it's because his wife is expecting her first child "in a week, or 10 days, or anytime now."

Then there's Duane Steele, chemistry and math teacher at Pontiac Central High. He doesn't have any domestic worries (he's still single), but he's plenty busy anyway.

Steele is using his vacation time to put in more time on a text-workbook elementary science series he began some four years ago.

"I worked all last summer on the project and have now completed outlining the study course for each grade," said Steele.

"Right now I'm working on the third grade book and am roughly half way through it."

The books will range in size from about 90 pages for third to 120 for sixth grade.

Each book will be a complete science text and workbook in itself covering the fields of chemistry, physics, geology, astronomy and biology.

Steele hopes to find a publisher for his works when they are finished.

At Pontiac Northern there are four teachers who have been working their regular hours on a course for college prep seniors called "Studies in American Democracy."

The four are Peter Evarts, head of the English Department; Wallace C. Schloerke, head of the social studies department; John E. Maturo, social studies teacher; and Betty Murphy, English teacher.

Both Maturo and Miss Murphy are also counselors.

The course was introduced last September. These staff members are now mapping out the second semester.

"Its purpose is to relate more closely the two subjects through integration of literature and social studies concepts on a college level," said Evarts.

At the instructional materials center at Webster School, Mrs. Phyllis Wilson, a clerk, is holding down the fort surrounded by some 3,000 books.

The center staff usually consists of about eight people under direction of Mrs. Janet Gauthier.

Mrs. Wilson has her hands full this week as books are delivered, orders processed and books prepared for delivery to Pontiac's 28 schools.

WORKS ON FILE

The center is also in the process of getting book orders ready for the 1961-62 school year.

At Washington Junior High School, Elizabeth King, librarian, is undertaking a mammoth task of starting a verticle, or information file.

"The Washington library has never had one and this file is excellent for reference work," she said.

It will list reading material by subject and include an author section and picture section.

Probably the hardest workers of all are the maintenance men under Cloyd I. Houts, director of building operation and plant maintenance.

Major projects this week have been the remodeling of a basement classroom at Baldwin Elementary School and installing two new gas ranges in the cafeteria at Eastern Junior High School.

At Pontiac Central the crew is revamping lockers in the locker rooms to make the lockers vandal-proof.

Heating facilities and equipment at many schools is being renovated and repaired where needed.

All schools in the Pontiac School District are getting their hallway and classroom floors washed and waxed or sealed.

Gymnasiums and multipurpose rooms where there are lunchroom programs will have their floors rennovated and sealed.

All tile floors are waxed. Wood and terazza floors are sealed.

"It's a pretty big order with only four days to work in but we'll have everything in shipshape by Tuesday," said Houts.

through the first night without a fatality or serious accident.

Last year five perons were killed in Oakland County between 6 p.m. New Year's Eve and noon New Year's Day.

The first accident investigated by the Pontiac State Police Post in 1960 was a triple-fatality on Dixie Highway.

TOT 1ST FATALITY

Last night a 1-year-old boy became Michigan's first traffic victim of the holiday weekend in an accident near Battle Creek.

Rodney Hudson of Battle Creek was killed when the car in which he was riding tried to pass a bus and collided head-on with an oncoming auto. The accident happened on M37 in Bedford Township near Battle Creek.

Two men died in a crash Saturday morning to boost the death toll to three.

Phil Chavous, 21, of South Bend, Ind., and Albert Keith, 27, of Cassopolis, were killed when the car in which they were riding went out of control 14 miles southeast of Cassopolis and crashed into a utility pole. Both victims were thrown from the car.

EXPECT 340 TO DIE

Restaurant concessionaries along a number of highways offree coffee to motorists.

Police were on special alert in many communities and in some were directed to transport overly happy revelers to their homes rather than let them risk driving.

Just a year ago, a record number of deaths for a three-day New Year's weekend were counted with 374 in traffic, 63 in fires and 76 in miscellaneous accidents for a total of 513.

it put in layaway. She will pick up the coat in January and pay the balance. What tax applies?

A. The tax will be 4 per cent on the entire amount because title did not transfer until after the new tax was effective.

Q. Mrs. Brown selected a dress from our stock Dec. 10. It was charged to her regular open account and will be paid in January. What rate of tax applies?

The 3 per cent tax. The dress was charged to her and title passed in December.

Q. We purchased supplies out of state, subject to use tax, that were shipped and billed in November but will not be received until Jan. 2. Is the purchase subject to 3 per cent use tax or 4 per cent.

A. The purchase is subject to 4 per cent use tax. Even though shipped and billed in November, the supplies will not come to you for use until after Jan. 1. This is somewhat technical, but the Department of Revenue has ruled that the tax in question is a "use" tax, and inasmuch as you could not "use" the supplies until they were received, after Jan. 1, that date must be the deciding factor.

gression" in Laos—a move that would bring Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) into action immediately.

The border towns reported under Communist attack are on a strategic road leading to centrally located Xieng Khoung, site of a complex of three airfields, best in the area.

The Plain of Jars, an ancient invasion route, leads from there to Luang Prabang.

Diplomatic reports reaching Washington said there was some sort of Communist North Viet Nam military action taking place in Northern and Northeastern Laos but that was dificult to say just what was involved at this point.

Urbanites Not Too Well Mentally

NEW YORK (AP) — A study checking on mental health of city folk finds only 18.5 per cent of them completely well.

Psychiatrists classified 36.3 per cent as having mild symptoms, 21.8 per cent moderate symptoms and 23.4 per cent impaired—having symptoms interfering with life functions.

The findings are part of a long-term community health study in a midtown area of New York City conducted by researchers of New York Hospital and Cornell University Medical College.

The risk of poor mental health is determined by the number of stresses met through life. Dr. Thomas S. Langner, a sociologist, said in a report prepared for the closing sessions of the American Association for the Advancement of Science today.

The study finds little to support the idea that mental illness is brought on by one single stressful experience which suddenly snaps the string, he said.

"Events in the life history seems to 'pile up' increasing impairment, but there is no one event which automatically spells disaster for all those who experience it," he said.

Princess, Tony Visit His Mom in Ireland

SHANNON, Ireland (UPI) — Princess Margaret and her husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones, arrived by plane today for a visit with Tony's mother in Ireland.

It was the first visit to Ireland by a member of the British royal family in 32 years.

Irish authorities, fearing protest demonstrations by anti-British Irish Republicans, took strict security measures to protect the couple.

The Day in Birmingham

First Methodist Church Mission Class Dates Set

BIRMINGHAM—The First Methodist Church of Birmingham will hold a School of Missions on four successive Sundays beginning Jan. 8.

The programs, which will be held from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m., are planned for adults and children in the primary and junior grades.

The Rev. Kenneth Enright, a Methodist missionary in the Congo for 10 years, will be the guest speaker at the first session of the school.

The Rev. Enright is district superintendent of the Sandoa District and has been engaged in evangelistic work and the opening of new churches in the bushlands of the Congo.

He is an ordained minister in the Southern Congo Conference and has worked among the Lunda, Tshokwo and Sanga tribes. He came home last April and is expecting to return to the Congo in the spring.

On Jan. 15 a film entitled "Household of Faith" will be presented. It explains the Protestant Ecumenical Movement as it is in the world today.

The third program in the four-part series will have Raj Kumar Michael of the Ingraham Institute in India as guest speaker.

Michael, who has been aiding his government with social and economic development in the villages of India, will show films of the work carried on at the Ingraham Institute.

Films and tape recordings of the work carried on in Wembo Nyama, Congo, will be the presentation at the last class.

The films and tapes are the work of Dr. and Mrs. Robert White, missionaries supported by the First Methodist Church.

Hutcheson, who has been associated with the company for 38 years, began his career in the Chicago branch of GMAC in 1922 after his graduation from the University of Michigan.

HUTCHESON

He held various supervisory positions in the Chicago office until 1928 when he was named manager of the Peoria, Ill., branch.

After brief service in Birmingham, Ala., Hutcheson returned to Chicago in 1931 as branch manager for GMAC and held this position until 1935 when he was designated manager of the Chicago region.

In 1955 he was transferred to Detroit as regional manager and assumed the additional responsibilities of vice president.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutcheson plan to continue living in Birmingham.

Hammarskjold will talk with Congo President Joseph Kasavubu in an effort to avoid possible civil war between followers of Kasavubu and his leading rival, Patrice Lumumba, former Congolese premier now imprisoned by Kasavubu's army.

Then Hammarskjold will journey to South Africa to discuss steps aimed at easing the tension caused by South Africa's racial segregation policies.

Hammarskjold also will visit Gamal Abdel Nasser, president of the United Arab Republic, and Prime Minister Nehru of India.

FOR AMERICA!

On the home front, 1961 promised to be an eventful year for Americans.

On Jan. 20, a new president, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, will assume the heavy cares of the most important public office in the free Western world.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower on that day will retire from eight years of the same heavy cares, a period of constant world turmoil. Government economists closed their books on the old year and expressed cautious optimism about the new.

They said they expected the American economy to pick up no later than spring although unemployment was likely to continue heavy for the next few months.

Mishap Fatal for Warden

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — Two game wardens, each thinking the other might be a poacher, chased each other on a back country road early today with the lights of their cars off. They crashed head - on and one was killed.

Q. My eight-month-old puppy has tartar on his teeth. I give him large bones to chew on but the tartar seems to increase. What can I do? V. M. Williams, Kirkwood, Mo.

A. Dental care in the young dog is often neglected. People seem to think that a dog's teeth are naturally healthy. This may have been true under natural conditions, but eating civilized foods such as candy will soon wreck the puppy's chewing apparatus.

If your young dog's teeth become discolored, brushing twice a week with a firm tooth brush and a little salt water or one half teaspoon of hydrogen peroxide per one pint of water will soon restore the sparkle.

* * *

Your veterinarian should check your dog's teeth once a year. Tartar will have to be removed mechanically. This is no job for the layman.

Physician Upset Over UAW Idea

Claims Woodcock Asks Wayne Medical School to Furnish Care

DETROIT (AP)—Leonard Woodcock, United Auto Workers vice president and chairman of Wayne State University's board of governors, has been charged with "exploiting" Wayne's medical school "for the selfish aims of UAW insurance plans."

Dr. Don W. McLean, president-elect of the Wayne County Medical Society, made the charge Friday in the society's weekly publication, the Detroit Medical News.

McLean's charges were prompted by Woodcock's statement to an American Association of Medical Colleges Institute Nov. 2 that "the CHA (The UAW-sponsored Community Health Association) in Detroit would welcome a direct affiliation with a medical school."

"Union people," Woodcock said, "are looking for good medical care and know it can be furnished in the medical school and in the teaching hospital. Unions would not be after bargain-basement prices or cut-rate service, but would be willing to pay full price for good care."

McLean said in his editorial, . . . "we would remind Mr. Woodcock that it is the primary function of the medical school to train doctors of medicine.

"The purpose of the medical school is the teaching and not the practice of medicine," McLean continued. "The proposal that a great school of medicine be reorganized on a trade-school basis must have been a startling proposition to the assembled medical educators.

"The doctors of the entire state are deeply concerned by this assumption of license to exploit their medical school for the selfish aims of UAW insurance plans."

Woodcock denied the charges, and said, "I made no specific reference to Wayne's medical school."

Legislators Eye Method for Con-Con Delegates

LANSING (AP) — Chances that delegates to a constitutional convention would be elected on a nonpartisan basis appeared slim today, but legislators want more time to think about the idea.

A plea for the nonpartisan selection was voiced before a joint legislative committee hearing Friday by George Romney, president of American Motors and a leader of the "Citizens for Michigan" group.

Romney also urged the lawmakers to allow the delegates to be elected at the same time a vote is taken on whether a constitutional convention should be held.

Reaction of the committee was cool. Rep. Russell H. Strange Jr., R-Clare, said he once was in favor of electing delegates on a nonpartisan basis but had since changed his views.

"I believe the citizens have a right to know the political philosophy of those running as delegates. I want to know something about the candidates I vote for."

Others who indicated opposition to the nonpartisan idea were Reps. Joe Kowalski, D-Detroit, and Robert E. Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, and Sen. John W. Fitzgerald, R-Grand Ledge. Waldron and Fitzgerald are cochairmen of the committee.

The committee met in a closed-door session after questioning Romney on his views, then announced later that no decisions had been reached on recommendations to be made to the legislature, which must decide on procedures leading to a constitutional convention.

Fitzgerald said the group would reconvene Jan. 10 and probably would come up with its recommendations before the end of the day.

During the questioning, Romney was asked if he would run as a delegate on either a nonpartisan or a partisan basis He said:

"I haven't made a decision on the matter yet, but I think I probably would run even if I had to take a partisan status. There are some well-qualified men who would not do so, however.'"

Romney told the committee he felt delegates to any constitutional convention should be elected on the basis of character, capacity and ability to put the state's interest as a whole above lesser considerations.

Branded Communist by FBI

Delegates Hold Meeting

CHICAGO (AP) — Delegates from throughout the country held the first of three weekend sessions in a neighborhood meeting hall Friday night in what has been branded by the FBI as a Communist-directed youth movement.

Flashing credentials at a guarded door, the delegates—most of them under 30—gathered at an unassuming hall above a bowling alley on the Northwest Side. Estimates of the number attending ranged from 30 to 75. Newsmen were barred.

Pickets, who identified themselves as members of the Fighting American Nationalists, marched outside watched by police.

In a keynote speech released to the press, Mrs. Alva Buxenbaum, 23, of Philadelphia, heaped scorn on FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover and called on the youth of the nation to ignore his charges of Communist direction.

"We welcome participation by anyone, regardless of whether they are Democrats, Communists or Republicans, if they are favorable to the purposes for which the conference was called," she said.

* * *

Earlier this month, Hoover announced that the conference would be held in Chicago under auspices of the Communist party in an attempt to revive its American youth movement. He described Mortimer Daniel Rubin, 29, of New York City, one of the organizers, as the man with full responsibility for youth affairs of the national Communist party.

Williams Makes Last Appointment

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams has announced his final appointment after 12 years in office.

Adelaide Hart, a music teacher the Detroit public schools, was appointed to the State Mental Health Commission. She will succeed Rev. Ralph H. Richards, director of the Saginaw diocese Catholic charities.

* * *

The appointment requires Senate confirmation and has the approval of Gov.-Elect Swainson, Williams said. Miss Hart is vice chairman of the Democratic State Central Comittee and has been an active party worker since 1947.

Temporary Court Order Bars Eviction of Negroes

The Justice Department won the preliminary victory in its historic first test of a section of the 1957 Civil Rights Act which bars intimidation or coercion of potential voters.

Negro leaders here in Fayette County and in adjoining Haywood hailed the two court rulings with delight but cautiously declined to predict the future.

The big legal tests are yet to come. The government has civil suits against landowners, merchants and bankers in both counties charging organized economic pressure against Negroes who register to vote.

The effect of the temporary orders is to stay eviction notices until trial is held. No date has been set.

Some lawyers feel the trials may plow new legal ground. It seems certain that the issue of property rights will loom large in the arguments.

The temporary orders against eviction came at the 11th hour Friday. Most of the sharecropper contracts expire Sunday.

In Cincinnati, the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals temporary injunction barred eviction of 300 sharecroppers in Haywood County.

In Memphis, about six hours later, Dist. Judge M. S. Boyd issued a restraining order barring eviction of 400 sharecroppers in Fayette County. A hearing for a temporary injunction was scheduled for Jan. 5.

The Justice Department contended that the eviction notices were part of an economic drive against Negro voters. Over 60 per cent of the population in the two counties is Negro.

The defense said the notices were simply the result of farm mechanization which reduced the need for human hands.

Trust funds of the state of Minnesota, raised primarily from royalties and income from iron ore, total $225 million, second among all states in the nation.

Chrysler, Continental Get Big Tank Contracts

DETROIT (AP)—Two contracts for M60 tanks totaling $16,627,516 have been awarded Chrysler Corp. and Continental Motors Corp. by the Detroit Army Ordnance District.

Chrysler is assembling the 50-ton tanks at the Army-owned Detroit arsenal tank plant, Center Line. Continental is manufacturing engines at its Muskegon plant.

Lipstick and Powder Future Awaits Mankind

NEW YORK (AP)—Men will go in for makeup in the not too distant future, Dr. Glen J. Sperandio of Purdue University told a group of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

"We will find he-men using creams and lotions for their skins and possibly using conservative forms of makeup," he said.

"It remains only for an advertising campaign to convince the public that a man does not sacrifice his masculinity by using cosmetics freely."

Cosmetics will be made better, too, Sperandio said. One preparation being made ready, he said, is called "peaches and cream" because it is made mostly of fruits. Another product which may appear on the market, he added, is a hand cream made of tapioca.

Man Asking $150,000 for Car-Crash Injury

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Suit for $150,000 is on file at federal court in Grand Rapids by Donal Smith of Chicago against Thomas and Olaf Flatland of Constantine as the result of an auto crash.

Smith claims he suffered permanent injuries Nov. 15, 1959, in the collision of his car and one driven by Thomas Flatland at Elkhart, Ind.

Palm Beach Golf Goers Spot Jackie

The future first lady went golfing with her husband, who has the golf bug bad, and Oleg Cassini, the American designer she has picked to outfit her for the white house and for some of the big inaugural doings.

An electric cart was provided at the Palm Beach Country Club for the 31-year-old dark-haired Mrs. Kennedy who is recuperating from the caesarian birth of her son John F. Kennedy Jr. on Nov. 25.

Mrs. Kennedy has remained in seclusion behind the Kennedy villa walls since her arrival here with her baby on Dec. 9.

The fact that she went out on the golf green Friday indicated that she is on the mend and ready to face the limelight she will soon be thrown into.

There is a chance that Mrs. Kennedy may have decided that the best way to see her husband and not become a golf widow was to go along with the game.

She may have gotten a tip on the subject from Mrs. Pierre Salinger, wife of Kennedy's press secretary who is on the links often.

This is the second time tall slender sophisticated Cassini, an independent thinker in the designing field, has played golf with the President-Elect. The first time he played with Kennedy — about a week ago — the President-Elect beat him "one-up." Kennedy's score on the nine was 41 and Cassini's was 42.

FROZEN TIGHT — Forty-two barges and five tows are shown Friday jammed in the ice of Upper Peoria Lake, part of a 327-mile waterway north of Peoria, Ill. The barges are laden with fuel oil and coal bound for Chicago. The tough going in the lake is an expected winter hazard for the barges. In warmer weather, however, the sailing is free of difficulty.

Not Interested, Say State Men

Smith and Ramsey Say Federal Posts Would Be Refused

LANSING (UPI) — Two state officials who were approached about their interests in federal posts said Friday they were not seriously considering the overtures.

"I understand from what you would call an unimpeachable source that my name is being mentioned in connection with a federal regulatory agency appointment," said auditor general Otis M. Smith.

"I told this party, who I believe was acting as an agent for someone on (President-Elect John F.) Kennedy's staff that I appreciated the honor of being mentioned but I consider my election as a contract with the people of Michigan," Smith said.

The auditor general, first negro to hold an executive post in state government, said he did not have any intention of leaving Michigan "at this time or in the forseeable future."

RAMSEY MENTIONED

James D. Ramsey, director of the State Aeronautics Board, reportedly was being mentioned as a possible chief of the Federal Aviation Agency.

"I don't even know if they (the president-elect and his staff) know that I'm alive," Ramsey said.

"Several different people connected with national (aviation) organizations have asked if I might be interested in the position," he said.

"I told them I am not seeking the post and did not think it appropriate to comment on whether I was interested unless someone within the administration mentioned it to me."

Forward to a stronger, more productive, more prosperous America . . . with greater individual achievement and success for everyone. That's how we're headed for 1961.

New Red Trade Pact Leaves Berlin 'As Is'

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany signed a new trade agreement with the Soviet Union today that leaves unchanged the economic status quo of West Berlin.

West Berlin was not specifically mentioned in the treaty. But Deputy Foreign Minister Hilger van Scherpenberg gave Soviet Ambassador Andrei Smirnov a statement saying the new trade agreement's area of application will be the same as that of the present one, which expires at midnight.

Smirnov's acceptance of the statement indicated the unofficial tolerance shown by the Soviet Union toward West Berlin being treated as part of the economy of West Germany will continue under the new three-year agreement.

Begin Spadework on Worldwide Message Net

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, under an order of President Eisenhower, will begin experiments leading to a commercially run communications network in the space age.

The worldwide network would use space satellites to transmit radio, telephone, television, and telegraph communications.

Romney Sees Boom Decade in Appliances

DETROIT (AP)—"By 1970 the major appliance industry will be selling 30 to 40 per cent more appliances a year," George Romney, American Motors Corp. president, said Friday in announcing a new consumer-dealer program for the firm's Kelvinator Division.

"In a few short years we will begin replacing the appliances sold in unprecedented volume during the 1950s, and supplying new customers among our booming population at the rate of a million a year," he said.

These replacement customers and new first-time buyers are either going to be the appliance industry's biggest boosters, or the largest agglomeration of dissatisfied customers in history, depending on the industry's ability to build products the way they ought to be built, and to sell them on an honest, clear-cut basis of discernible consumer benefit."

Says Russia Could Land Moon Rocket

LONDON (AP) — Britain's top space scientist said Friday night the Soviets already know how to land a working instrument-packed rocket on the moon.

Prof. Sir Alfred Charles Bernard Lovell, director of the Jodrell Bank radio-telescope station, predicted the big space news of 1961 will be serious attempts by Americans or Russians to put a man into orbit around the earth.

"I also think," he told a TV audience, "that the Russians have the capacity to make a soft landing of working instruments on the lunar surface."

Dow Swapping Stock With Allied Laboratories

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Dow Chemical Co. acquired Allied Laboratories, Inc., with headquarters in Kansas City and annual sales of approximately $30 million, in a stock swap Friday.

Two-thirds of a Dow common share will be exchanged for each share of Allied. Dow will issue 533,116 shares to acquire a total of 799,674 of Allied.

Allied stockholders voted to dissolve the firm Friday. The stock swap plan was approved Nov. 30. Allied has 1,600 employes.

It Seems to Me . . . .

Business Outlook for Pontiac Area Reasonably Good in 1961

What about 1961 business?

This concerns us all.

Across the country, the nationally recognized soothsayers, the financial authorities and the hesitant amateurs take the rostrum at this time of the year. I'm classified toward the tail end of this last list and my main concern is our own area.

Apparently there seems to be a reasonable unanimity among the established sages of business prognostications. They feel 1961 will open with a tendency toward "softness" in general business. This seems to be predicated upon the belief that things will be relatively quiet in the heavy industries and that new construction will follow a leisurely pattern during the early part of 1961.

Of even greater interest and significance to us, is the fact that these same predictions grant that the automobile business may be a bit better than things in general. FREDERIC G. DONNER, GM, says it may be the second best in history. That would be bully.

Automotive men are fairly confident that the year 1961 will be a good one. Pontiac and this area can rejoice if this comes about.

We did well in 1960.

I've talked to "Bonneville Tempest" Knudsen and he doesn't predict how many cars will be built by the nation as a whole, but he says emphatically: "Pontiac will sell its share. Bank on that."

Bunkie, we will.

The dynamic General Manager of Pontiac Motor Division has steadily increased our percentage of the total market. The man's an automotive wizard. He has tremendous stalwarts around him and a keen organization along the assembly lines. Pontiac is steadily becoming a bigger and bigger factor in the automotive picture.

"We lack as big a backlog of former owners as some of our competitors," said Knudsen informally at the Summerfield luncheon. "A few years ago they had much greater sales than we did and so they face an easier approach with more old customers." But for several years in a row now, Pontiac has hacked away at this velvety cushion with great success. They're still in there swinging.

Glory be.

The introduction of this new Tempest was a ten strike. Our smaller car has caught the public fancy from coast to coast. All new transportation of this type started "cold." No one had a list of "satisfied owners" who dropped back easily for another deal. This business was hewn out of solid rock by all concerned and it has developed a tremendous battle.

At the Truck Plant, C. J. Werner believes the heavy duty vehicles will be in relatively modest demand during the first part of 1961, following the general outline for heavy industries. "This should strengthen later on," he says, "and 1961 ought to finish briskly for us. Our payrolls for 1960 are running the largest in history."

Well, there you are.

The best indications I can find for the nation can be summed up in the simple statement that 1961 may be similar to 1960, according to the smart boys and the crystal ball set.

But whatever happens, 1961 in Pontiac should be slightly better than the average across the country.

Can you ask for more?

Keep Gold Here . . . .

Secretary of Commerce, Michigan's own FREDERICK H. MUELLER, declares that less than 5% of our manufacturers market their products in foreign lands.

He says that if a tenth of the 300,000 producers could cut into the overseas trade, the export business would settle the question of gold leaving Fort Knox. U.S. manufacturers may be overlooking an outlet in overseas markets.

Perhaps we should establish a PONTIAC PRESS newsstand on the French Riviera. It ought to require at least two business trips a year to inspect the location and check up on sales.

And in Conclusion . . . .

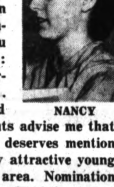
The mama cannibal was pointing out an airplane to her two youngsters. "They're sort of like lobsters," says she. "You have to throw a lot away but the inside is simply delicious." . . . . CHRISTINE NORDEN, Broadway showgirl, startled cosmopolites by smoking cigars and they thought it was a publicity stunt. But she keeps on and on and on . . . . O. E. HUNT, former Executive Vice President of GM, has driven a million and a half miles, personally.

Word spreads that Russia is increasing the spy shuttling on Red missions between Mexico and the U.S. . . . . "Wap" John told me once that the only two ordinary words in the English language that you can't rhyme are: orange and purple." . . . . Trusted and tested scouts advise me that Nancy McAfee deserves mention as an especially attractive young lady in our area. Nomination made . . . . Hold the phone! My gal Friday got herself a new hairdo and less than a week later April blossoms out with a spiffy re-do. I'm thinking of getting a crew cut myself . . . . Chicago advice says TV quiz shows may try a few experimental programs and study the public reaction. Would anyone believe anything after all the phony shady, crooked stuff they fed us before?



NANCY

England had a good summer in 1960 after a steady run of bad ones and a British limy wrote a Canadian pal: "This year we had the first normal summer in 30 years." . . . . Overheard: "Genius may have its limitations but stupidity is never so handicapped" . . . . New York is actually considering fingerprinting all high school pupils. Things are that far out of hand . . . . An expert told me that if you soak oysters in carbonated water for five minutes, they open easily . . . . A N. Y. Santa Claus was fired in midafternoon for giving too little attention to the little girls and too much to the big ones . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—The anonymous who gave $100 to the widowed mother of ten; the J's—Flint's "Vice" Mayor.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

The spirit of New Year is manifest in these lines by the great poet, Alfred Lord Tennyson, who believed: "Different language does not always imply different opinions, nor different opinions any difference in real faith . . . On God and God-like men we build our trust . . . The love of God is the true basis of duty, truth, reverence, loyalty, love, virtue and work . . . I should infinitely rather feel myself the most miserable wretch on the face of the earth with a God above, than the highest type of man standing alone . . . Closer is He than breathing and nearer than hands and feet . . . That God which ever lives and loves."

Days of All Faiths:

'Light of World' Commemorated

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Both Jews and Christians have their "feasts of lights" and both at this time of year. Only last month Jews observed their happy Hanukkah; now comes the Christian Epiphany, which begins Jan. 6 and goes on until the Pre-Lenten season.

The two, however, are not alike. Hanukkah is a memorial to the time when the light in the Temple at Jerusalem was rekindled after a painful time of pagan desecration. Epiphany has to do with Jesus as the light of the world, the world being symbolized by the Three Wise Men who were the first Gentiles to honor the Lord.

The word Epiphany is Greek for "manifestation" or "showing." Traditionally the Wise Men represented China, India and Ethiopia — in other words, all races—and this festival commemorates the whole world's realization that Jesus was the savior of all, not only of His own Jewish people.

Included in the Epiphany theme of light there is also the idea that the festival has to do with the star that was followed by the Wise Men to the stable in Bethlehem where Christ was born. This star, too, was in a sense the light of the world.

But different as the various faiths and their festivals are, there seems to be some underlying urge in all mankind to think of light now in the dark of the year.

Christians today, or tomorrow, or sometime within the Epiphany season, will have their special candlelight services, with altars brilliant and tapers carried in procession and all participants feeling the drama of God's great and sudden illumination of the pagan gloom.

CANDLES IN FOLKLORE

But no matter how modern one's thinking or sense of symbolism may be, when he gets into the matter of candles and candlelight he is on very ancient ground. He goes back at least to Vesta, the Roman mother goddess, who was served by flame and the Vestal Virgins who kept the flame alive.

And on down to the present, something about candles has always affected people in strange, almost mystical, ways. Candles have always been used in rituals and festivals and processions. The point is that although they are designed for light nobody ever thinks of them as such a solely utilitarian item. The hostess, for example, who lights her dinner party with them, or the bride who fills the church with them at her wedding, could certainly provide more efficient illumination. That just isn't quite what candles are for.

In them man finds, besides a soft romantic glow, all kinds of omens, superstitions and forecasts. Every country, even the United States, has its lore about candles.

A candle lighted at a birth will keep evil spirits away from the baby. This obviously goes all the way back to Vesta. A flame will please the mother goddess and give the child her protection.

Other superstitions are not so obvious in their origin. It is not easy to see why a candle at a marriage will keep the Evil Eye off the bride and groom, or why sparks from a candle mean a letter for the person sitting opposite the sparks.

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag

Says Injection Treatment Cured Bleeding Piles

I had suffered for many years with bleeding piles. I sent for your pamphlet "It is Stupid to Suffer from Piles." Dr. —— —— of Hamilton gave me the injection treatment. No pain at all. Completely cured. I am now 73 and in excellent health. (E. M. S.)

Ans. — Some readers resented the title, so I changed it to "You Need Not Have Piles." For a copy, send me a stamped envelope bearing your address.

Had $25 worth of X-ray treatments for fungus infection of nail, with no effect. Dipped thumb in white gasoline for 30 seconds three times in a week. Infection cleared up and has not recurred. (N. K.)

Does (a new nostrum) dissolve blackheads and pimples and clear the complexion, as is claimed: (F. M.)

Ans. — No. Send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet.

ALCOHOL

If alcohol is depressant from first to last, as you claim, wouldn't a person under the influence be less likely to do wrong? (B. C.)

Ans. — No. Alcohol is a narcotic, and one under the influence of one drink or several is not guided by his higher scruples or conscience and therefore more likely to do things which he would not do in his right mind.

GASOLINE FOR FUNGUS

A skin specialist gave me two or three X ray treatments for a fungus infection around my thumb nail, for $25 without effect. I dipped my thumb in white gasoline for 30 seconds three times in a week, as you suggested, and the infection cleared up and has not recurred. (Mrs. K. M. J.)

Ans. Thank you, Ma'am, "White" gasoline is plain gasoline — not ethyl or other antiknock gasoline.

Can you suggest any way to remove a tattoo? (R. M. R.)

Ans. — Only excision of the skin and filling the defect with a skin graft.

'Couldn't City Issue Tickets to Pedestrian Violators?'

I noticed in The Press that people in Cleveland, Ohio get a ticket for jaywalking and the fine is $3. Pontiac should have something like this for jaywalkers and people who cross against the light. If drivers run a light they would be fined. Why not pedestrians?

Just Wondering

'Christmas Gift Exchange Is Great'

These people who complain about the "commercialism of Christmas" are bigots in their own rights.

There's nothing nicer than the free exchange of gifts. It brings happiness to the one that gives and the ones that receive. Some of these five and ten cent purists give me a pain in the neck.

I hope we have a bigger and better Christmas next year with everyone in America taking part except the few Scrooges who can sit around and wail.

Compact Car Avalanche May Hamper Road Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — A growing parade of compact economy cars on American highways may make it more difficult for federal and state governments to balance their budgets and finance new roads.

Because the new small cars cost less initially, Uncle Sam's take from the 10 per cent auto excise tax already has been hurt. And since the compacts burn less gasoline, both federal and state governments are finding that their collections from gas taxes are suffering.

The dollar impact hasn't been great enough yet to cause much howling. However, projections by the Bureau of Roads and by a major oil company indicate the developing trend will be an important factor within five years.

The Sun Oil Co., Philadelphia, estimates that by 1965 passenger cars will burn 3.3 billion gallons of gas less a year than would be the case if all were of standard size.

"This means $330 million which the tax collectors will not get per year," the Sun study concludes. Of this amount, Uncle Sam would lose about $130 million.

Sun, which forsees an even greater impact after 1965, says its estimates are conservative.

ESTIMATES CUT

The Bureau of Roads has estimated that gasoline consumption may be cut by 10 to 20 billion gallons because of compacts during the 1960's, with the reductions mounting year after year.

However, the Bureau says the picture isn't entirely one-sided. Without the compacts, it says, Americans might buy fewer cars and drive them fewer miles.

For a significant number of families, for example, the economy of the compacts is making it possible to own two cars when, in other circumstances, they would get along with one.

A number of other factors also will work to increase gasoline consumption despite the new fuel-saving autos.

These include the trend toward a shorter work week, giving Americans more time for travel; increased annual incomes and the migration to the suburbs where families are more dependent on autos.

A few 1960 statistics already suggest the potential importance of the reversal in the postwar trend toward bigger, costlier cars with higher-horsepower engines.

These figures are the first to reflect production of compacts by General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

First of all, federal excise tax collections on new autos have lagged far behind the increase in the number of autos produced here or imported.

In the first nine months of 1960, auto excise collections were up less than one-fourth of one per cent over January-September 1959 while the number of cars on which these taxes were paid increased about $8\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

These figures suggest that the first compacts — now 30 per cent of the new car market — hurt excise collections by about $90 million during the nine months.

However, the loss probably wasn't that great because some Americans bought compacts instead of used cars on which no excise tax is levied.

Crane Offers Various Resolutions

Laverne's query is doubly valuable right now. New resolutions are the first step in personnel inventory and build yourself a happy, popular self. Plan your future habits carefully, for that is the proper way to insure health, wealth and many friends.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

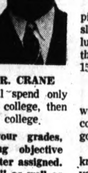
CASE G—466: Laverne D., aged 18, is a smart college coed.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "is it smart to make new resolutions when you realize you may fail to live up to them?

"If so, what would you suggest as some of the best we could adopt?"

For different age groups, I'll list the following:

Students, try to go to college, for Dr. Paul C. Glick has shown that a high school diploma brings you $49,000 during your later earning period, and each year of college adds an extra $25,000.



DR. CRANE

If you think you'll spend only one or two years at college, then enroll in a business college.

To help raise your grades, construct a running objective quiz over each chapter assigned. Use the "True-False" as well as the 4-answer (multiple choice) plan.

It zooms your grades and reduces much anxiety prior to final exams, for you can review your entire textbook in an hour via your own objective quizzes over each chapter.

Housewives, scrapbook this daily column on family problems, for it contains the contents of a dozen college courses in Applied Psychology.

And avoid those wifely "sins of omission" that are as likely to cause divorce as actual sins of commission, such as unfaithfulness.

Affect more ardor and never let your husband get so despondent that he flees into alcoholism, as Pat did in yesterday's case.

Keep a folder in which to insert the various rating scales and booklets offered via this column, for they are non-profit aids to happier homes, released by this newspaper to benefit you wives.

Take inventory each month on the "Tests for Good Wives." Do the same via the "Tests for Good Parents." Urge your children to use the appropriate rating scales for teen-agers, too.

To increase your output at no greater fatigue, budget your tasks by writing down tomorrow's duties before you go to bed at night.

This "agenda" enables you to pick out jobs to suit various time slots, for if you have a 15-minute lull, just look at the agenda on the kitchen wall and devote those 15 minutes to a brief chore.

Husbands, remember that women want words. Especially a spoken compliment per day. And the same goes double for your children.

Don't think your family will know you love them just because you bring your pay check home each week.

Tell them so. Drape your arm around your wife in front of your children to show them you still regard her as your sweetheart.

And squeeze your son and daughter affectionately, for this non-spoken sign of your regard will be a remarkable tonic to their deflated ego.

If you ever quarrel with your wife, as most good husbands occasionally do, at least, apologize afterwards and in your children's sight, so they don't go to sleep worried lest a divorce may disrupt their emotional security.

Bosses, verbalize a bit of praise for your co-workers. They, too, grow hungry for spoken compliments. And a smile is a helpful non-verbal compliment that helps erase the tension caused when you blow your stack.

For all readers, join a neighborhood church and make it the center of your social as well as religious life.

When you team up with God Almighty, he will take over the night shift so you can slumber without tranquilizers and sleeping pills.

If you are overweight, or addicted to tobacco and liquor, send for the appropriate booklet thereon, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Church News

Witnesses Schedule Assembly

Fourteen hundred members of Jehovah's Witnesses are expected to attend the three-day Circuit Assembly Friday through Sunday at Pontiac Central High School. The theme is "Be Taught by Jehovah."

Nicholas Kovalak Jr. from Watchtower Headquarters in Brooklyn, N.Y. will be the principal speaker.

Edward C. Thornton, presiding minister of the Pontiac West Congregation, said assemblies are held semiannually to instruct members in how to carry out the teaching plan from house to house.

The program beginning Friday evening will include morning, afternoon and evening sessions on Saturday and Sunday.

Featured will be Bible talks, discussions and demonstrations on home teaching. A water baptism of new converts is arranged for Sunday afternoon.

The climax of the assembly will be the lecture at 3 p.m. Sunday when Mr. Kovalak speaks on "Is God Interested in the Affairs of Men?"

Edwin W. Kriefall, supervisor over the 21 Eastern Michigan congregations, will conduct the Friday symposium on "Search for Jehovah While He May Be Found."

Mr. Thornton will speak on the Friday program and preside Sunday afternoon.

The color film, "Divine Will International Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses" will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Kingdom Hall, 600 E. Pike St.

The color picture depicts the eight-day International Assembly held in Yankee Stadium and Polo Grounds in New York City.

Opening sequences show the mass baptism of 7,000 persons at a New York beach; the audience of 194,000; foreign language sessions; and the teaching activity around the world. Mr. Kovalake will narrate the film.

No collections will be taken at any of the sessions.

Oakland Ave. U.P. Church to Observe Communion

The Rev. Theodore R. Allebach will preach on "What Is the One Thing That Will Bring the Greatest Blessing to Our Church in 1961" at the 10 o'clock service Sunday at Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

The Sacrament of Communion will be observed at both morning and evening Sunday services.

At the 7 p.m. service the last film in the Life of Christ series will be shown. The picture is entitled "Crucifixion and Resurrection."

Following the cooperative 6:30 dinner Wednesday evening the annual congregational meeting will be held. At this time reports will be reviewed, officers elected, and the budget for the coming year adopted.

First Baptists Offer Musicale

Quartets, Trios, Duets Listed for New Year's Eve Entertainment

A New Year's Eve Musicale will be presented from 8:30 to midnight at First Baptist Church.

Cooperating in the concert program are the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, the West Bloomfield Baptist and the Halsey Baptist Church of Detroit.

Recording artist Bill Pearce of Chicago will be featured in trombone and vocal selections throughout the evening.

The Reeser Sisters' Trio will be present from Owosso to add to the festive affair as well as Johnny Shev of Detroit with his trumpet.

Other performers will be the Gospel Echoes Trio of Pontiac, Jerry Kirk, pianist from Flint; the Redeemer Quartet from Detroit and the 80-voice choir of First Baptist Church.

The Erickson Sisters will sing a duet, Connie Barron will be heard in solos, and the Girls' Trio of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church will present numbers.

Youth director of First Baptist, Kyle Wilson, said church groups and the general public are invited.

Religious Leaders Discuss Differences

COLLEGEVILLE, Minn. (AP) — Ten Catholic and Protestant religious leaders discussed issues dividing and uniting the two faiths a theological coloquy recently at St. John's Abbey.

Participants of both groups accepted invitations to attend in private capacities, not as representatives of their respective institutions.

The meeting was organized by the American Benedictine Academy and held under auspices of the Most Rev. Peter W. Bartholome, bishop of St. Cloud, Minn.

Services Will Include Installation

The Rev. F. William Palmer will ordain elders-elect at the 11:15 morning service New Year's Day in the United Presbyterian Church at Auburn Heights.

Included will be Mont Bodman, Francis Gazzett, Shelby Lockamy, John McKee, Sam Sheehy and Virgil Weston. They will be installed with elders Ray Isanhart, Grant Graham and Herman Douglas to serve on the session of the church.

Serving on the board of trustees will be Dorothy Churchill, Walter Meyer, and Roy Wahl. The pastor's topic will be "God's Outstretched Arm."

Various committees will be organized when the men meet Tuesday evening.

NEW HOPE

Joseph Williams of Detroit will speak at the 11 a.m. service Sunday in New Hope Baptist Church. He is the cooperative field worker of Wolverine State and American Baptist Conventions.

GRACE LUTHERAN

Holy Communion will be celebrated and congregational officers installed at the 10 a.m. worship service in Grace Lutheran Church on New Year's Day.

Mitzie Schroeder will sing "New Year's Prayer." David Stuckmeyer, son of the pastor, and a seminary student, will preach.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN

The Rev. Gerald W. Gibson will speak on "A Credit Card Religion" at the 11 o'clock morning service at Central Christian Church tomorrow. At 7 p.m. his subject will be "Fountain of Youth."

SALVATION ARMY

Speaking at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday at the Salvation Army will be Major and Mrs. H. L. Rawlin of Detroit. Infants will be dedicated at this time. The evening service will begin at 7:30.

PINE HILL

"Looking Into the Future" will be the theme of Dr. Alfred D. Grey's sermon at 11 a.m. New Year's Day at the Pine Hill Congregational Church. Services are being held in the Pine Lake Elementary School on West Long Lake Road, one mile west of Middlebelt Road.

Holy Communion will be celebrated and new members received on Jan. 8.

COLUMBIA AVENUE

Young people of Columbia Avenue Baptist Church will have a question and answer session immediately following the evening service Sunday.

The "What Is Your Question Session" comes from requests made by youth of the church. This will be the second meeting. According to leaders, the first session held about three months ago, was a tremendous success.

Frank Dillon, Baptist Training Union director at Columbia, will be moderator. Panel members consist of the Rev. Marion F. Boyd Jr., pastor, and Clarence B. Jackson, minister of education.

Light refreshments will be served.

ALL SAINTS EPISCOPAL

Holy Communion will be celebrated at 8 a.m. on New Year's Day at All Saints Episcopal Church. Choral Eucharist with sermon and Church School are scheduled for both 9:30 and 11:15 a.m.

'Good Morning' Sermon Theme

Mrs. Norman Legge and Mrs. LaVerne Cox Singing at 1st Methodist

The Rev. Paul T. Hart will preach on "Good Morning—1961" at the 10 a.m. worship hour Sunday in First Methodist Church.

The Sanctuary Choir will sing "Onward Ye Peoples" by Sibelius. During the offertory Mrs. Norman Legge and Mrs. LaVerne Cox will sing "He Shall Feed His Flock Like a Shepherd," a duet or contralto and soprano from Handel's "Messiah."

Students home from college and young people in service will be recognized during the worship hour.

The official board will hold a business session at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Bible study and a prayer fellowship hour is planned for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Art Mansfield will conduct the business meeting of the Methodist Men when they get together for dinner and program at 6:30 Friday evening.

Pastors to Hear Talk on 'Congo'

Rev. Kenneth Enright Addresing Ministers Friday Morning

The Rev. Kenneth Enright, Methodist missionary to the Congo, will speak to the Pontiac Pastor's Association at 10 a.m. Friday in the First Presbyterian Church.

Currently on furlough, he will address the association on "Understanding the Congo."

During his 10 years as missionary to the Congo, the Rev. Mr. Enright taught school in Mulungwishi for five years and served as district superintendent of churches five years, supervising 30 schools.

A graduate of Taylor University and Asbury Seminary, he received his master's degree from Hartford Theological Foundation. He has served churches in Indiana and Ohio.

Following the address, pastors may visit with missionary Enright at the noon luncheon provided by First Presbyterian women.

Pastors of all races and denominations are invited to attend, the Rev. Galen E. Hershey said.

End Apartheid, Cleric Advocates in New Book

CAPETOWN, So. Africa — Apartheid measures in South Africa should be repealed, declares a Dutch Reformed missionary in a new book published here.

The Rev. D. P. Botha, clergyman of a church which officially supports the South African government's aparthied policy, proposes full assimilation of Africans into the socalled white community, in his book, "The Rise of Our Third Class."

Class differences rather than differences in skin color should be considered in communities, he says. Opposition to the presence of colored people in European churches, he writes, "is absolutely indefensible in the Scriptures."

He recommends ending job discriminations and wage differentiations; restoring the franchise to qualified adults; permitting election of colored people to legislative bodies; and unrestricted social contact.

'Stand Up for Jesus,' Theme of Sermon

"Stand Up for Jesus" will be the theme of Fletcher W. Pollard, minister from Detroit, when he speaks at the 11:30 a.m. service Sunday at the Church of God, 296 W. South Blvd.

The guest speaker attended Detroit Bible Institute specializing in theology and religious education. His wife and daughter, Lillie, will sing a duet.

Confident Living

Old Shoemaker Invites the Lord Unknowingly

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Through the length and breadth of the land today there are colorful decorations and glowing lights; the swell of joyous music; everywhere the happy geniality of people saying "Happy Holiday."

So pervasive is the atmosphere of festivity that a person can easily be caught up into the spell of it even if he has no inkling what it is all about. But we should not let the sparkle and gaiety of this great festival blind us to its meaning.

The Gospel tells us it had been prophesied of Jesus that a virgin would bear a son who would be called Emmanuel, meaning God-with-us. The greatest fact of human experience is that we are not alone, for God is with us.

How may this spiritual truth become for you and me a practical part of our lives? The secret is simply to practice love toward people.

Tolstoy tells about an elderly shoemaker, Martin Avdeyich by name, whose wife had died years earlier leaving him with a three-year-old son to bring up. Several years later that son, Martin's only child and greatest joy, had fallen ill and passed away. Martin had then been engulfed by such overwhelming despair that he prayed he too might die. He stopped going to church.

One day a very old man from Martin's native village paid a friendly call and said, "We cannot judge God's ways. If God willed that your son should die, it must be best so. As to your despair — that comes from wanting to live for your own happiness. When you have learned to live for God, you will grieve no more. Can you read? Then buy the Gospels and read them. There you will see how God would have you live."

So Martin bought a New Testament, printed in large type — and so much comfort did he find in it that he took to reading it every evening.

Then one winter evening he came to a passage in the Gospel of Luke relating how Jesus accepted a rich Pharisee's invitation to supper and how later He reproached the Pharisee for his lack of hospitality. He pondered this and wondered how he, Martin Avdeyich, would behave if the Lord should come to him. And somehow he thought he heard a voice say, "Martin, look out in the street tomorrow, for I shall come."

Three times that day he left his work to befriend another human being. First there was feeble old Stepanich, shoveling snow, and looking very tired and cold. Martin asked him in, gave him hot tea and even read a little from the Gospel so the old fellow might have comfort for soul as well as body.

Later, he saw a shabbily dressed, shivering young woman with a wailing infant in her arms, and he insisted she come inside, shared his soup with her, and gave her his old cloak to better wrap the child.

And at dusk he left his room once more to rescue a frightened boy from the wrath of an old woman from whom he had mischievously tried to snatch an apple; calmed the two and sent them on their way in peace.

By evening he had forgotten his experience of the night before. But as he opened the Book it came back to his mind. Then he got the impression there were people standing in the dark corner of his room.

And Tolstoy's tale concludes:

" 'Who is it?'

" 'It is I,' said the voice. And out of the dark corner stepped Stepanich, then smiled and vanished.

" 'It is I,' said the voice again. And out of the darkness stepped the woman with the baby in her arms. She smiled, the baby laughed, and they too vanished.

" 'It is I,' said the voice once more. And the old woman and the boy with the apple stepped out and both smiled, and then they too vanished.

"And Martin understood that his Voice had come true; and that the Saviour had really come to him that day, and he had welcomed Him."

Love people, help them all you can and you will know by the warm glow in your heart that God is with you.

'New Mission Image Needed'

Minister Says Church Must Realize Changed Conditions in America

The church needs a new image of the mission in America, the Rev. Dr. Willard M. Wickizer told the meeting of the Division of Home Missions of the National Council of Churches at General Assembly.

"Protestant home mission forces have yet to realize the full significance of changed conditions for their program and ministry," he said. Because old geographic frontiers are gone, local churches, local and state councils of churches, and strong denominational regional bodies have a stake in brining the Christian gospel to bear on "every phase of national life."

Dr. Wickizer cited population mobility which calls for the relocation of thousands of congregations. These vast numbers of communities - in - transition, he said, call for a complete readjustment of church structure and program.

He recommended that the churches enlist sociologists, economists, theologians, and government personnel in their home missions planning. In these fields, he said, are many sincere and dedicated Christian men and women who would be glad to make their specialized knowledge available to the churches.

"We should not be complacent," he said, "until every eligible home mission board in America is a member of the Division of Home Missions of the National Council of Churches and shares actively in its program.

Dr. Wickizer is chairman of the Division and executive chairman for Home Missions and Christian Education of the United Christian Missionary Society of the Disciples of Christ.

Trinidad Church Spire to Rise, Thanks to Youths

ANDERSON, Ind.—The spire of a new church building will rise in the small village of Chaguanas, Trinidad, British West Indies, because Church of God youth in the United States have voted to spend their moneys and their energy in the next year to make it possible.

Approximately 25 representative young people from throughout the world, selected by the church's department of youth work at general offices here, will be laborers next summer in the construction project.

Thousands of other Church of God Youth Fellowship members around the world will share in the program with their gifts to purchase materials. According to Alan Egly, executive director of youth work, construction will get under way next summer.

Young workers from far corners of the world will be brought to the project site through funds raised by youth groups and other organizations of local congregations. Mr. Egly said, for example, that children in vacation church schools would help raise funds to be used for transportation. Many types of projects are being undertaken for this aspect of the work camp.

Workers will be housed in the West Indies Bible Institute of Port of Spain, where the Rev. Don Johnson is director. He will be supervising construction activities and also will guide work campers as they visit other Youth Fellowship groups during the six-weeks program in Trinidad.

315,000 Attend Church of God Sunday Schools

ANDERSON, Ind. — Sunday church school enrollment in the Church of God, which has international offices here, is in slight excess of 315,000 at the close of 1960—an increase of 41 per cent in the past decade.

A breakdown shows almost 260,000 communicants in the United States and Canada, with the remaining 55,000 in other countries.

The Rev. R. Eugene Sterner, director of the Division of Church Service, also reveals a 19 per cent increase in the number of local congregations. There now are 3,170 around the world.

Indicating further growth in the movement, the church official said property of local congregations, colleges and schools, national agencies and mission stations is valued at approximately $90 million.

'New English Bible' Coming Out in March

NEW YORK (AP) — A completely new translation of the Bible from its original languages will be published jointly next March 14 by the Oxford University Press and Cambridge University Press.

Crescent Hills Youth in Charge of Service

Young people of Crescent Hills Baptist Church will have charge of the morning service on New Year's Day. Speakers will be Carol Wood, Jaynall Whittaker and Kenneth Main.

To emphasize the building campaign which will begin in January, Rudy Schettling will speak to members on "Our Church Responsibility" tomorrow.

The Junior Baptist Youth group presented $50 to the Gerald Whittaker, building fund treasure. Money was made by making Christmas wreaths.

Expelled for Religion

LONDON (AP) — A senior student at the Tallinn Agricultural Academy in Estonia was expelled just before his final examinations after it was learned he attended a Baptist church, the Baptist Times reports. It said the Communist Youth Organization at the academy secured the expulsion of Tiit Nillo as a warning to students to give up religious faith.

'Children of God,' Sermon Subject at Bloomfield

The Rev. Wallace A. Alcorn will preach on "The Children of God" at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday at the Bloomfield Hills Baptist Church.

In addition to the adult sermon, the pastor speaks each Sunday to the children. His talk tomorrow will be on "Nails."

The pastor said until the congregation is in the new building, the church will be unable to have a junior church. Currently services are held in the Hickory Grove School on Lahser Road.

Sunday School is scheduled for 10 a.m. tomorrow. At the 6 o'clock evening service the Rev. Mr. Alcorn will speak on "God Glorified in You." The text may be found in Paul's letter to the Galatians.

Layman Heads State Council of Churches

Dr. Howard Y. McClusky, University of Michigan Professor and Presbyterian layman, was elected President of the Michigan Council of Churches this week at the Council's General Assembly held in the First Baptist Church in Flint.

Dr. McClusky, the first layman in the last twenty-five years to hold this high church position, has been active in the Council's affairs for a number of years, having served as president in 1948 and first vice president for the past two years. A member of the First Presbyterian Church, Ann Arbor, he is Professor of Educational Psychology at the University of Michigan, a national authority in the adult education field, author, lecturer and consultant.

Scandinavian Methodists Advance Church Plans

The social outreach of the church through both institutions and programs, is receiving much attention from Methodists in the Scandinavian countries, reports the Rev. Dr. Arne-Jacob Kristofferson, Methodist news correspondent.

The first hospital ward for treating alcoholics in western Norway has been opened in the Bethany Methodist Hospital in Bergen. The director of the hospital, the Rev. Paulus Pytte, has expressed the hope that through its rehabilitation program Bethany will be able to guide many alcoholics to a new and happier life free from liquor.

In Sweden the Rev. Nils-Erik Ohlsson, pastor of the Methodist Church in Motala, is working to establish rapport between his church and labor organizations in the community. An experimental series of meetings between church members and labor representatives has provided for a worthwhile exchange of ideas and led to better understanding, Dr. Kristoffersen writes.

Two Methodist social welfare organizations in Scandinavia are observing anniversaries in 1960, Dr. Kristoffersen reports. The Central Mission in Copenhagen, the organization fo Methodist social work in Denmark, is observing its 50th anniversary. In Sweden "Betanienstiftelsen," the organization of Methodist hospitals, homes and nurses' training schools, is 60 years old.

Several of Sweden's leading physicians and psychiatrists are related to Methodist hospitals, and the church's training program for nurses is recognized by the Swedish Ministry of Health, Dr. Kristoffersen writes.

Relative to the layman's program, Bishop Odd Hagen (episcopal leader of Scandinavian Methodism) says in a new book that these is no part-time Christianity, that the layman is as much a full-time witness for Christ as is the minister.

Claims Homes Failing Children

Clergyman Notes Lack of Orientation Caused by Technology

Our homes are failing to give their children a normal childhood, Dr. R. H. Edwin Espy declared in San Francisco, addressing the Division of Christian Life and Work. He asserted that the American home is one of the institutions affected by the profound disorientation caused by technology.

"Actually, our children and youth are so little integrated in community life that they become flotsam and jetsam in a vast sea of impersonal humanity," he said.

Discussing other causes of their sense of insecurity, Dr. Espy cited the cold war program, amounting to compulsory military training, in which youth become either apathetic about future plans and education or despondent that "their plans for children and grandchildren may be futile because of imminent global destruction."

The drive for more science in the schools, the race for outer space, the desperate pace of international talks, charges and countercharges of communism and advice to build public fallout shelters cannot help but make profound impressions on the minds and spirits of our young people, Dr. Espy declared.

"Sensing the depth of their spiritual disorientation," he said, "we must bring the total gospel of the total chuch to the total person in his total environment."

'Round of the Clock' Subject of Sermon

"The Round of the Clock" will be the sermon subject of Dr. William H. Marbach at the 11 a.m. worship hour at First Presbyterian Church Sunday. Lyndon Salathiel will direct the choir in the anthem, "Under Thee Al, Praise Be Given" by Protheroe.

At 9:30 a.m. Mrs. Richard Harris will sing "Eye Hath Nor Seen, Nor Ear Heard" by Gaul. The Rev. Galen E. Hershey will speak on "Religious Ruts."

Women of the church will attend the annual meeting of Detroit Presbytery at Littlefield Presbyterian Church in Detroit Wednesday.

Dr. Samuel Weir, executive secretary of the Presbytery, will speak in the afternoon. Leading the circle study group will be the Rev. Donald Schroeder.

Orchard Lake Pastor to Preach New Year's Day

"The Hope of Creation" will be the sermon topic of the Rev. Edward D. Auchard, pastor of Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian, when he preaches at 9 and 11 a.m. services on New Year's Day.

The Chancel Choir will sing "Thou Must Leave Thy Lowly Dwelling" by Berlioz at the second worship hour.

A panel under the leadership of Charles Kurzweil will discuss the topic, "Communism—Why Does It Appeal?" at the meeting of the Council of Men at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The Rev. Mr. Auchard will participate in the discussion on Boy-Girl Relationships at the Junior High Fellowship session following the 5 p.m. supper Thursday.

Rev. Joseph W. Moore to Preach New Years

The Rev. Joseph W. Moore will preach on "Go Forward — To What?" at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday at Trinity Baptist Church. The ordinances of Baptism and Communion will be observed. Furnishing music will be the Senior and Youth Choirs.

Church School is scheduled for 9:15 a.m.; and Church service at 10:15 a.m.

Emancipation to Be Celebrated

Members of 12 Area Choirs to Sing at This Annual Observance

The annual Emancipation Day celebration will be held at Macedonia Baptist Church, Pearsall at Motor, on Monday at 11:00 a.m.

This is sponsored by the Oakland County Ministerial Fellowship.

Guest speaker is the Rev. Dr. Joseph L. Roberts, pastor of Bethel A.M.E. Church of Detroit. He is also vice president of the District Council of A.M.E. churches.

Music will be rendered by a Union Choir made up of choir members of 12 area churches.

During the service the 1961 officers of the Oakland County Branch N.A.A.C.P. will be installed.

A plaque will be presented to the Outstanding Citizen of the Year, also a citation will be presented in recognition of a new institution in our community.

The public is cordially invited.

SEARCHING THE SCRIPTURES
THE GOODNESS OF GOD

This expression, or its equivalent appears many times in the Bible. The frequency with which it appears highly illustrates its importance. Goodness is one of the attributes of God and a virtue which every earthborn but judgment bound creature should endeavor to acquire and magnify. Since goodness is associated with God, surely those who aspire to be Godly will strive to possess and readily practice this noble characteristic.

GOODNESS EXEMPLIFIED

The goodness of God is not a passive possession, a non-manifested quality, nor an inactive force but to the contrary it exemplifies itself toward benefiting man. A quality which benefits no one is needless. This possession of God which showers man with blessings can certainly be appreciated by the sinful, wayward strugglers of the world. We read, "Every good and perfect gift is from above and cometh down from the Father of lights." James 1:17. Someone has said COUNT YOUR MANY BLESSINGS, NAME THEM ONE BY ONE, AND YOU WILL BE SURPRISED TO SEE WHAT THE LORD HAS DONE. Have you ever tried to itemize your life span blessings? Have you ever tried to numerate the yearly blessings? Have you ever thoroughly considered your daily blessings or do you just take them for granted, constantly refusing to consider how fortunate you are? Think of the blind, think of the hungry, remembering that a large percentage go to bed without food at night. Think of the physically persecuted, think of the mentally tormented, the enslaved hostages, the unclothed bodies and unshod feet. Maybe this will assist you in a correct evaluation of the goodness of God toward you. Possibly you have seen the sign which reads I COMPLAINED BECAUSE I HAD NO SHOES UNTIL I MET A MAN WHO HAD NO FEET. Some people cannot appreciate their blessing until they observe the unfortunate circumstances of others.

GOD BLESSES US MATERIALLY

God bestows His bountiful blessings upon us constantly in the material realm, we read, "For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater", Isa. 55:10 and again; "Take no thought for you life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink . . .". "Behold the fowls of the air; for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?" Matt. 6:25, 26. These passages indicate rather conclusively that God will provide for man materially.

GOD BLESSES US SPIRITUALLY

The entire scheme of redemption is attributed to the love, mercy, and goodness of God. The New Testament, salvation from past sins, the gospel story, all is centered in the COMING AND CROSS OF CHRIST. These things manifest the highest concern of God for lost degenerate man, they demonstrate the extent to which the goodness of God will reach in an effort to lift a helpless human. Will you expose yourself to the blessings of God which have been made available to us by the goodness of God. You can become a recipient of all spiritual blessings if you will but obey the voice of God by faith, Heb. 11:6; Repentance, Acts 17:30; Confession, Acts 8:37, Baptism, Acts 2:38. BELIEVETH THOU THIS?

Area Students in U. of M. Band Planning Extended Soviet Tour

The University of Michigan Symphony Band has become the first university band invited to tour Russia and other foreign countries under sponsorship of the United States Department of State.

Under the direction of William D. Revelli, 94 students will leave Feb. 18 for an extensive tour of the Soviet Union as well as several satellite countries and the Eastern Mediterranean area. The President's Special International Program for Cultural Presentation will cover all expenses for the trip.

The group will travel until the end of May. Plans are under way for a June 2 concert in New York's Carnegie Hall to mark the band's return to the United States.

The State Department is mapping the band's itinerary. Exact dates and places for concerts, however, are pending the Soviet Union's announcement as to the length of time and number of appearances which will be scheduled within the U.S.S.R.

The possibilities of concerts in Poland, Bulgaria and Romania are being considered. Egypt is also on the schedule.

Travel arrangements are being completed through the American National Theater and Academy which recommended the university's symphony band for the cultural exchange program. ANTA, a nonprofit organization chartered by Congress and located in New York City, provides administrative services under contract with the Department of State.

Pontiac U. of M. students who will tour with the band are Harold A. Jones of Thorpe Street, William J. Scribner of Augusta Avenue and Donald R. Tison of Pontiac Road.

Area musicians touring will be Marjorie A. Stettbacher of Birmingham; Sheila L. Murphy of Keego Harbor, Robert F. Garrels of Orchard Lake, Loren B. Mayhew of Ortonville, and David C. Rogers of Oxford.

Preparations for overseas travel, including shots and passports, are keeping U. of M. Symphony Band members happily on the move in anticipation of their Russian tour in February. Area students (from left) Donald R. Tison, Pontiac Road; Harold A. Jones, Thorpe Street; Marjorie A. Stettbacher, Hillcrest Drive, Birmingham; and William J. Scribner, Augusta Avenue discuss the group's itinerary with George R. Cavender, assistant band director.

Area Folk Busy With Trips, Parties

The Bloomfield Hills Country Club was the setting for a family dinner-dance Thursday hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Semon E. Knudsen of Bingham Road. Some 160 guests from 14 to 60 were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Christie Jr. of Yardley, Pa., are sharing their holiday visit with her parents, the Knudsens and Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Christie of Southfield Road, Birmingham.

Judith Newberg, who returned Monday from Mount Holyoke College, North Hadley, Mass., was surprised to find herself hostess at a dinner party Friday planned by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Newberg in their home on Kirkway Drive, Bloomfield Hills. Judith's birthday was on Dec. 23.

Juanita Christie entertained members of the senior class of the Convent of the Sacred Heart, Bloomfield Hills, and their dates Wednesday at a dinner-dance in the Detroit Golf Club, transformed into a "Pink Christmas" for the occasion.

Sharing honors as hosts with Dr. and Mrs. Edward A. Christie of Muirfield Drive, Wing Lake, parents of Juanita, were the Arthur C. Bartleys and the Frederick F. Strales of Detroit; the Frank J. Bradys of Huntington Woods and the Arthur S. Moores of Orchard Ridge Road, Bloomfield Hills.

Greeting the New Year in Highland Estates, Waterford Township, will be the Robert J. Petersons entertaining at midnight buffet and dancing in their home on Strathdon Way.

The George Beaudrys, also of Strathdon Way, will be hosts this evening for games and dancing with guests arriving from Bay City, Dearborn, Royal Oak, Walnut Lake and Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Fizzard, who have been spending the holidays with his parents, the William Fizzards of Lowell Street, have returned to Madison, Wis.

Mr. Fizzard is attending law school at the University of Wisconsin and Mrs. Fizzard teaches school in Madison.

The J. Thomas Knights will be hosts at a New Year's Eve buffet dinner in their home on Jaycee Drive, Waterford Township.

Included in the guest list are the Michael J. Ashleys, the Richard Essers, the Dale A. Feets, the Roy E. Linns, the Thomas Reeds, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald E. Starkweather, the Richard I. Templetons, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Voorheis, the E. J. Waterburys and the J. M. Websters.

Others are the Donald Weydemeyers of Clawson, the Alvin Pinkstons of Reed City and the J. Brooke Bennetts of Clarkston.

The Charles Scribers of Stoodleigh Drive, Rochester, formerly of Ottawa Drive, were hosts at a holiday dinner in Rotunda Inn.

Their guests were the Robert Stones and family, Mrs. Earl Stone of Saginaw and the Konrad Becks of Adelaide Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Theron G. Rorison of Pioneer Drive will be house-guests of Dr. Joseph W. Christie of Northport through the New Year weekend.

They also saw their son and daughter-in-law, the junior Lloyd Bighams of Flint, and left for home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bigham and son Harry of Hutchinson, Kan., visited their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Vanderworp and son Michael of West Strathmore Street.

Joyce Mann Is Married

Joyce Eileen Mann, daughter of the William J. Manns of Ruth Street exchanged wedding vows with Roland D. Tollefson, son of the Alfred Tollefsons of Stanley Avenue, Tuesday evening in Central Methodist Church.

Dr. Milton H. Bank officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

A Little Tired

HOT SPRINGS, N.C. (UPI) —Mrs. Callie Stamey, 80 years old, mother of 19 children, finished canning more than 300 cans of foodstuffs, fed her four pigs, did a little other work around the farm and then had to call a doctor for the first time in her life Friday.

The doctor said Mrs. Stamey had suffered a mile heart attack brought on by overwork. She admitted she was "a little tired."

Cut Down Glitter

Many mature women make the mistake of affecting too much glitter. In addition to shiny eyeglass frames in vivid color, they'll wear earrings, a pin, a necklace and several bracelets. This creates a busy effect which is unattractive.

For Quick Repair

(NEA)—Keep a supply of make-up remover pads in your desk at the office. They're perfect for quick repair jobs when there's no chance to wash thoroughly.

September vows are planned by Jo Ann Giroux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Giroux of Orchard Lake, and Ronald D. Lovisa, son of the Hans Lovisas of Grosse Pointe. The bride-elect attended Ferris Institute where her fiance is affiliated with Delta Tau Epsilon.

Organ Club Will Meet On Tuesday

The first 1961 meeting of Pontiac's Hammond Organ Society is scheduled Tuesday evening in the Grinnell Auditorium on South Saginaw Street.

Both students and professionals will participate in the program. A 15 minute interval of popular numbers will be played on the chord organ preceding the meeting.

Herbert W. Alford, organ and xylophone artist and teacher, will entertain and explain the tone bar system. Claudia Combs, widely recognized by the organ industry, also will present several numbers.

Neal Hale, pantomime artist and organist, will entertain preceding a voluntary playing period, and question and answer symposium.

Mrs. E. A. Moriarity, special representative of the Hammond Organ Co. in Chicago, and Melvin Hornstein, state representative of the organ industry, will attend the meeting.

Not Proper for Gals to Go Alone

By The Emily Post Institute

Question: We are a group of four young women in our early twenties. One of the young women in the group had a birthday recently and we went out to celebrate the occasion. Our husbands could not go because of their work so we went together, without escorts, to a supper club of good reputation.

After the show we stayed awhile to listen to the orchestra. However—and here is where the criticism comes in—one of the young women accepted a dance with a stranger. We have been severly criticized by neighbors for having gone to such a place unescorted and were told that no "lady" would do so.

We were also called "pick-ups" because of the one young woman's dancing a single dance with a stranger. Our husbands knew where we were and consented. In what way did we violate either convention or decency?

Answer: You should not have gone to a supper club unescorted, and most certainly none of you should have danced with a stranger.

Question: My daughter has just turned 13. She has been asked to a school dance by the brother of one of her close girl friends. She is to have dinner and stay overnight at the home of the boy's parents.

Would you be so kind as to advise me if it is necessary that she take a gift to her hostess?

Answer: There is no necessity for your daughter to take a gift, but she must write her hostess a bread-and-butter letter when she returns home.

Abby Says It's Getting Late

Your Husband Is a Bad Wolf ---Better Start Caging Him

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been married to an incurable flirt and philanderer for 22 years. I can pick his next victim 10 minutes after I enter a roomful of strangers with him.

ABBY

He is a handsome, respected, professional man. He has a wonderful personality and is such a charming kidder no one would suspect he'd seriously follow up a cocktail party flirtation. Believe me, I know better.

I have covered up for him many times. I've stayed with him for the sake of the children and to avoid scandal, hoping each fling would be his last. He adores the children and suffers no loss of love at home. Everyone thinks we are the ideal family. Can you ever change the spots on a leopard, Abby?

LEOPARD'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: You've confused your animals. Yours is a wolf. "Covering up" for a philandering husband for 22 years is no way to cure him. The wife who raises Cain early in her marriage may not change her leopard's spots, but she can train him before he gets too wild. Better start now. It's later than you think.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married less than a year and already I am having problems. My wife calls me at work. I wouldn't object if she had a reason for it, but she will call me just to "hear my voice."

She does this at least once every day. It is very embarrassing, and the guys at work fire me dirty looks when they have to call me to the phone.

JUST A HUSBAND

DEAR JUST: Explain it to her exactly as you have explained it to me. Tell her it is embarrassing and an imposition on your co-workers. Punctuate it with a kiss, take her out to dinner and it won't hurt her a bit. (P. S. Why not call HER once a day—at noon, perhaps?)

DEAR ABBY: My 14-year-old daughter is beautiful, but her posture is terrible. I tell her a hundred times a day to stand up straight, but it doesn't help. She says maybe if I quit nagging her about it, she'd straighten up. I've even tried that, but it didn't work. I'm afraid pretty soon she'll look like an old lady. I heard there was a brace contraption you could strap on growing children. Would you advise it?

TIRED OF NAGGING

DEAR TIRED: I wouldn't use a "brace contraption" without first consulting my physician. When someone she's eager to impress — like a boy — remarks on her slovenly posture, she'll probably react as though she's never been corrected before. Quit nagging her. This too shall pass.

Campus Notes

Five Pontiac residents are among the 37 from Oakland County who have enrolled at Ferris Institute, Big Rapids, for the winter term.

Gerald C. Erickson of Osceola Drive will major in marketing; Dorothy M. Dwyer of Bay Drive, West Bloomfield Township, in general education; Joseph L. Keller of Menominee Road, Robert D. Ewart of West Iroquois Road and Thomas Selhost of Grey Road, Auburn Heights, in Commerce.

Elaine Garrett, daughter of Mrs. Velma Garrett of Mark Street, freshman at Hillsdale College, was recently pledged to the Rho Gamma chapter of Chi Omega social sorority. She was recently initiated into full membership in Kappa Delta Chi Christian Service Fraternity, the purpose of which is to promote Christian ideals among students.

Gerald Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lewis of Hatchery Road, Waterford Township, was recently initiated into the biology club. Membership is attainable by invitation only.

William Bryce, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bryce of Lansdowne Street, Drayton Plains, was recently pledged to the Beta Kappa chapter of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity. He will be initiated in the early spring after 13 weeks of pledge training.

Eugene H. Pattison will return to Harvard Divinity School at Cambridge, Mass. where he is a freshman in the bachelor of divinity program. He is a graduate of Alma College and holds a master's degree from University of Michigan.

Miss Jean McQueen Wed in Birmingham

Dr. Glen Harris officiated at the marriage of Elizabeth Jean McQueen to James T. Robertson Jr. Friday evening in the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham.

Hosts at the church reception were the bride's parents the Henry C. McQueens of Henley Drive, Birmingham. The James T. Robertsons of Chesterfield Road, parents of the bridegroom, joined them in the receiving line.

MRS. JAMES ROBERTSON JR.

A cap of antique Brussels princess lace caugh the fingertip veil of silk illusion which billowed over the bride's gown of white Chantilly lace over silk faille. The molded bodice was styled with Sabrina neckline and wrist-point sleeves.

White roses and ivy comprised the bridal cascade.

Catherine I. McQueen attended her sister as bridesmaid, with Mrs. William D. Ahnen. Irene A. Roberson of New Orleans served as maid of honor. Nancy Parr Coryell of Cincinnati, Ohio, was flower girl.

GOWNED ALIKE

They were gowned alike in scoop-neck blue velveteen frocks and held hand-cascades of green Fuji chrysanthemums.

George A. Robertson stood as best man for his brother. Comprising the usher list were Hugh and John McQueen, brothers of the bride, Clifford Whitfield of Ferndale and James Kuhlman of Washington, D.C.

To begin the honeymoon trip to New York City, the new Mrs. Robertson was wearing a marine blue knit costume suit with white accents. The couple will be at home in Detroit.

How to Buy Hat

Petite women may be surprised to know that they can wear large hats. But the hats must be well proportioned. To find out if a hat is really right for you, take a long look at yourself full-length. Never pick a hat by glancing at yourself in a hand mirror.

Wishing You a Happy NEW YEAR

We want to thank all our friends for their expression of good cheer at Christmas and the confidence and evidence during the past year by the business they have given us.

Know Right Terminology

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

In the large general field of beauty and health there are many words and names that are either ambiguous or obscure to most of us.

Often women write me to ask about them, and today I am going to publish a list of definitions. Some of the words have similar meanings. Who knows — you may win a bet some day by having the correct definition of one of the words.

An ophthalmologist is a physician specializing in the examination of the eye. In other words he is an M.D. especially trained to discover and treat diseases of the eye and also to perform eye surgery.

An oculist is another name for an ophthalmologist.

MEASURES EYES

An optometrist is trained to measure eyes for glasses and fits the glasses.

An optician is especially trained to make and fit glasses from the prescription of an eye doctor.

I hope this clears up the confusion of the "O's." Actually, few people can describe accurately the functions and qualifications of each person who works with the eyes.

Cosmetic wax is a depilatory. A depilatory is a cosmetic for removing superfluous hair. These come in wax or cream form.

Perfume is the strongest scent you can buy. Toilet water is next strongest and cologne is weakest.

Many people confuse a chiropractor with a chiropodist and/or a podiatrist with a chiropodist.

A chiropodist and a podiatrist treat ailments and disorders of the feet. All, of course, have special training in their fields.

Jackie Getting a Taste of Life as First Lady

Jackie Kennedy already is getting a taste of life as first lady where even her personal mail is opened by someone else.

Even before she goes into the White House her insulation against the outside world has begun. Her old haunts along Worth Avenue where she used to shop leisurely and to drop in charming little French restaurants for lunch are out of bounds for her now.

They are restricted areas only because she knows she will stop traffic even if she goes for a stroll.

The days when she could move around this winter resort in flat shoes and sports clothes are gone.

The chic darkhaired future first lady will have her hairdresser and manicurist come to her at the Kennedy's ocean front home where she has remained behind the scenes since her arrival with her infant son John Jr.

But even if they do not get a glimpse of her, the curious come miles just to take a look at the villa where the Kennedys live—and sometimes to, take a picture.

Miss Georgia Redl, a Chicago schoolteacher, and Mrs. Kathryn Hagy of Washington, D.C., drove from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to the Kennedy home recently to take pictures of themselves in front of the famed residence. They admitted they were motivated by "plain curiosity."

As for the mail, the Kennedys were getting 5,000 letters a day right after the election. Now it's down to a mere 2,000 a day, many of them marked personal for Mrs. Kennedy.

But instead of going to 1095 N. Ocean Blvd., the mail is forwarded to Washington to be opened by the staff. Packages go to the house directly but are screened first by the Secret Service.

Bathing Suits to Be Briefer, Lighter in '61

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A prominent swimsuit manufacturer predicts American women will spend more than $200 million for briefer, lighter bathing suits in 1961.

Paul Haberfield, president of Rose Marie Reid, said yesterday the expenditure will be more in terms of industry volume for less in terms of both weight and coverage.

"New lightweight fabrics such as Vyrene will cut the weight of some of the suits to as little as four ounces, including the zipper," Haberfield said.

Hands Perspire?

(NEA)—Hands that perspire can be uncomfortable. Try using an antiperspirant on them each day, and apply alcohol at intervals when needed.

Does Shoe Fit?

(NEA)—Shoes that fit badly not only hurt your feet, but affect your posture. So be sure that your shoes fit properly so that you can walk in comfort and grace.

(NEA)—What could be prettier than a basketweave wool in mossy green? It's a color flattering to many women.

We can't keep it under our hat a moment longer: "Happy New Year!" We're brim full of good wishes for everybody and especially for you! Even Instant Coffee Is Too Fast, Friends

RUTH MILLETT

Well, what do you know. Now they're advertising a percolator that makes coffee "faster than instant." How anything can be faster than instant, I don't know, even in this age of speed. But let's not worry our heads about that problem.

One of the most pleasant things about brewing up a pot of coffee is hearing it gurgle, smelling its wonderful aroma while it gaily perks away, and waiting impatiently for it to reach the right degree of strength.

The sound of a pot of coffee perking on the stove is as heartwarming and comfortable as the sound of a fire crackling in an open fireplace or the quiet patter of rain on the roof when you are warm and cozy inside.

When a friend or neighbor offers you a cup of coffee mixed in a cup with the apology, "I hope you don't object to instant coffee" she is, to be sure, giving you a cup of coffee.

But when she says, "If you'll excuse me a moment I'll go and put on a pot of coffee" and the wonderful fragrance of perking coffee comes drifting in from the kitchen, the gesture of hospitality seems to have more meaning.

That this so is indicated by the phrase we still use, "stop by and see me when you can. The coffee pot is always on." That old time invitation has never been bettered. And it isn't likely to be replaced by, "I can make coffee faster than instant."

Buckeyes, Bonnies Battle for Crown

By The Associated Press

The wild Christmas tournament week roars to a bone-rattling close tonight with two battles of the behemoths on tap—Ohio State against St. Bonaventure and Duke against North Carolina.

Ohio State and St. Bonaventure clash for the Holiday Festival title in New York's Madison Square Garden and when it's all over, one perfect record will be shattered. Both are undefeated going into the big battle.

The Buckeyes rank No. 1 in the country in the current Associated Press poll, while the Bonnies are No. 3.

Ohio State is the favorite, but ace Jerry Lucas has been battling the flu all through the tournament and missed practice Friday. It's doubtful if the slick All-America will be in top shape.

Duke, ranked No. 6 in the country and also undefeated and North Carolina, which just missed the top 10 in this week's voting, gained their final spots in the Dixie Classic at Raleigh, N.C., Friday night.

The Blue Devils, sparked by Art Heyman's 29 points, came from behind to whip Marquette 86-73 for their ninth triumph, while North Carolina coasted to an 87-67 victory over Villanova.

A whole fistfull of tournaments were decided Friday night. Here's how they went:

WCAC at San Francisco — San Francisco fought to a 51-48 decision over St. Mary's in overtime.

Poinsettia at Greenville, S.C.—Furman came from behind to defeat The Citadel 62-56, in double overtime.

Navy staved off a closing ball-stealing act by Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl final. The Middies stalled for the last five minutes as Dave Tremaine scored the winners' last eight points.

Iowa, trailing by four points at the half, found the range in the second half and finally went ahead at 48-47. They never trailed thereafter. The Hawkeyes Don Nelson was high man with 26 points.

Wichita held a comfortable 47-40 margin over Baylor at the half in Oklahoma City and appeared headed for an easy victory. But the Wheatshockers had to fight off the Bears right down to the end.

Tom Booker, demoted to the second-string not long ago, scored 23 points for Richmond as the Spiders rolled to their first championship in the seven tournaments they have hosted. Nineteen of Bookers points were in the second half.

South Carolina, hitting on 50 per cent of its shots from the floor, had no problem with Mississippi as Art Whisnant led the attack with 31 points.

Henry Johnson and Ed Thomas each made good on one-and-one fouls in the overtime period for San Francisco and that spelled St. Mary's defeat.

Oregon State raced to an 8-0 lead against Seattle, then coasted to victory despite a 21-point performance by the Chieftains' Dave Mills. The Beavers have won all five Far West tourneys.

Furman had to overcome a six-point halftime deficit to oust The Citadel, which won the tournament last year. Only Thursday night, Furman was forced into three overtimes to defeat Louisianna State.

While all the tournament hoopla was going on, Bradley, No. 2 team in the country, stayed in its own Peoria, Ill., back yard and defeated Dartmouth 92-60. The victory was Bradley's 10th of the campaign and 16th straight since last season.

In other major games, Butler stopped Yale 71-64, Rice edged Clemson 66-65, DePaul won its seventh straight by polishin goff Western Michigan 81-60 and Los Angeles State halted Bowling Green 82-78.

Huskies 'Fed' Up With PCH Quintet, 73-48

Central Jumping Jack Sets Rebounding Mark at Northern Gym

By BILL CORNWELL

Backboard control, the Pontiac Central weapon feared most by Pontiac Northern coach Dick Hall, was everything he anticipated — and then some — in Friday night's crosstown basketball game at PNH.

With a brilliant record-breaking performance by George Fed as the stimulating tonic, the Chiefs outjumped, outshot and outscored the outmanned Northern cagers for a runaway 73-48 triumph before an overflow audience.

Fed covered both boards like a blanket and personally picked off 38 rebounds to set a new one-game rebounding record for the West Huron Street high school.

The old record of 34 was set by Harrison Munson at Flint's Wildanger Fieldhouse on Feb. 20, 1959, when the Chiefs clinched the Saginaw Valley Conference title with a 50-42 victory over Flint Northern.

Fed, whose control of the boards makes him tremendously valuable even if he never scores a single point, also captured individual scoring honors yesterday by netting 22 points on 10 field goals and a pair of foul shots.

Big Bradell Pritchett, who did most of his rebounding in the 2nd half, and junior center Paul Brown joined Fed on the backboards to give the Chiefs complete charge of the game in that department—and eventually in every other department, too.

The shorter Huskies made a fight of it for nearly three quarters, but the Chiefs were taking an average of three shots to every one for PNH and this was far too great a handicap for the Northsiders.

It was the first defeat of the 1960-61 season for the Huskies following three wins. The triumph was Central's 3rd in five games.

Northern, which has yet to beat PCH in four tries, jumped off to a quick 5-0 lead and clung to a 7-6 edge after four minutes of play.

The score was 12-12 with two minutes to go in the 1st period, but a free toss by Fed and successive buckets by Brown, Dennis Diehm and Fed gave PCH a 19-12 margin entering the 2nd stanza and the Huskies never caught up again.

Central's halftime advantage was 33-24 and the count stood 50-36 at the end of the 3rd session. The closest the Huskies could come to PCH after the first eight minutes was 21-15 in the 2nd quarter, 35-30 in the 3rd and 52-42 in the finale.

Each team had three players in double figures in the scoring column. Fed's 22-point effort was supported by Clarence Douglas, who bagged 17, and Brown with 10. Mike Fedynik and Bruce Norton each tallied 11 points for PNH and teammate Jim Capistrant added 10.

Dave Shields and Steve Thompson, Northern's leading rebounders, both fouled out in the 3rd period in a futile attempt to jump with Fed and Company. Shields hurt his ankle in the 1st period and that aided Northern's general ineffectiveness on the boards.

An oddity of the game was Northern's steady scoring pace, which found the Inter-Lakes champs scoring a dozen points in every quarter.

PCH coach Art Van Ryzin and Hall both emptied their benches and let all of their players see action before the contest was over as the Chiefs ran away from the Huskies in the final eight minutes.

Central's victory handed the Chiefs another 50 points in their quest of The Pontiac Press All-Sports Trophy. The Chiefs won the traveling award last year and now hold a 300-50 bulge in their bid to retain it. Another 50 points will be at stake in the Feb. 7 rematch at PCH.

Central's junior varsity quintet brought PCH a clean sweep last night by drubbing the Northern reserves, 63-32.

Elsewhere, Royal Oak Kimball bowed to Melvindale 56-43 in the finals of the Redford Union Christmas tourney. Redford whipped Walled Lake 44-37 for 3rd place despite 13 for John Maragos of the Vikings. Farmington nipped Southfield 59-58 in a consolation on Tom Thomas' free throw after the final whistle. Bob Salay of the winners and Bluejay Ted Malen each hit 16 points.

Millington dumped Imlay City in the Caro tourney title tilt, 49-45. Imlay took a two-point edge into the final period. Ned Lockwood paced the Cards with 14, Rog Lomerson hooped 13 in defeat. South Lyon, with Jack Wren's 50 points an individual school record, also set a new team high in walloping Pinckney, 103-74, for the Lions' only win in three tries at the Chelsea Invitational.

Coach Has Two Good Signal Callers Ready

Washington Has QB Problem

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The uncertain role of 1959 All-America Bob Schloredt of Washington raised a tall question mark today over the Huskies' Rose Bowl struggle with Minnesota.

Unless Coach Jim Owens switches at the last minute, the quarterback in Washington's 44-8 conquest of Wisconsin last New Year's Day will be on the bench Monday when the Huskies start against the national champions.

But Schloredt, inactive since he broke his collarbone against UCLA two months ago, is certain to be in action soon thereafter.

"He's still rusty," said Owens. "He's healed but he hasn't hit the conditioning and timing he had in mid-season. He'll play at least half the time, though, and we hope he can make a contribution."

Rusty or not, westerners who watched Schloredt transform Washington into a team of dash and daring last year are sure the 197-pound 6-footer will be in the thick of it.

Washington and Minnesota coaching staffs agree that the starter, Bob Hivner, is a quarterback of high ability. He demonstrated it by leading the Huskies through one tight scrape after another in the late season.

But the question is whether the one-eyed star, playing for the first time since mid-October, can move with his old assurance against one of the toughest defenses in the land.

Minnesota remaied a 6½-point favorite 48 hours before its first Rose Bowl appearance in history. Sunny skies, with temperatures in the 70s, are forecast for Monday.

Washington made a last-minute shift in its starting lineup, promoting 6-foot-6, 240-pound end John Meyers to the first team in place of Jim Skaggs. Meyers is considered a better pass receiver.

Minnesota will be in its best physical shape of the year, but the Huskies will be without No. 2 fullback Joe Jones, who underwent an appendectomy last week.

Johansson Calls Moore 'Nuts' for Cringe Claim

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Ingemar Johansson, former heavyweight world champion, laughed Friday at Archie Moore's efforts to picture him as a cringing boxer.

"Let him talk," said Johansson, "he needs all the publicity he can get."

The Swede, who is preparing for a third title fight with Floyd Patterson on March 13, listened to a Swedish translation of a Los Angeles Examiner interview of Moore.

Sweating heavily after a 10-round workout Johansson said in the crowded dressing room of a tiny cellar gym in downtown Stockholm:

"The guy is nuts. I don't need to boost my self-confidence by talking. Maybe I would, if I had been knocked down as many times as he has."

Predict Damp Weather for Sugar Bowl Game

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Sooner or later, the weatherman always slips into the bowl picture and for Monday's Sugar Bowl football game between Mississippi and Rice, he says it might be wet.

But dam underfooting shouldn't bother either Mississippi, runner-up to Minnesota for the national title, or the Owls, who tied for second place in the Southwest Conference.

Mississippi rules a 10-point favorite, but support is growing for Rice. And with a wet field in prospect, the 80,000 fans in Tulane Stadium and others watching via NBC television might see a pretty close game.

Wet conditions could hamper the passing of Rebel quarterback Jake Gibbs, an All-America and one of the most versatile performers in college football.

Gibbs also is backed by some good running backs in halfbacks Bobby Crespino and George Blair and fullack Jim Anderson.

Rice will have the same burden since a wet ball probably would hamper Owl quarterback Billy Cox. But again, Rice has capable runners in halfbacks Bob Wayt and Max Webb and fullback Roland Jackson.

The kickoff is set or 2 p.m., EST.

Pistons Record Another Victory

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's high-scoring Bailey Howell and Gene Shue led the Pistons to their third straight victory last night and the No. 2 spot in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

Howell scored 15 points and Shue nine in a last quarter effort that erased a 20-point deficit and gave the Wings a 121-112 victory over Syracuse at St. Louis.

Howell finished with 33 points and Shue had 26 in the game, the opener of a doubleheader. St. Louis played Los Angeles in the nightcap.

The Pistons trailed 66-52 at halftime and were once down 20 points before Howell and Shue showed the saw Detroit outscore Syracuse 40-way in a fourth quarter which 18.

Foul trouble contributed to Syracuse's woes. Dave Gambee foul out near the end of the third quarter and Dolph Schayes followed him with nearly five minutes left in the game.

Detroit will play the Los Angeles Lakers at Olympia Sunday night.

Robertson Helps Celtics Into 1st

Royals Down Warriors While Boston Defeats New York

The Boston Celtics were back in sole possession of first place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association today chiefly because of the fine shooting of Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson.

The Celtics upheld their end Friday night by downing the inept New York Knickerbockers 120-106. Robertson got into the act by pacing the Cincinnati Royals to a 136-130 victory over Philadelphia. The two results gave the Celtics a game lead over the Warriors.

In other games, the St. Louis Hawks, Western Division pacesetters, beat the Los Angeles Lakers 107-99 in the second game of a doubleheader which saw Detroit turn back Syracuse 121-112 in the opener. The doublebill was played at St. Louis.

The Celtics ran away from the Knicks in the last eight minutes with Tommy Heinsohn climaxing a 30-point performance with a 48-foot hook shot at the final buzzer. Willie Naulls led the Knicks with 28 points.

Robertson, held to nine points in the first half, broke loose for 29 in the final two quarters to help offset a 49-point performance by Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain.

The Hawks trailed 29-25 at the end of the first quarter, but they found the range in the second period and ended the half leading 54-50. While limiting Elgin Baylor to 23 points, the Hawks got 28 from Cliff Hagan, 25 from Bob Pettit and 24 nrom Clyde Lovellette.

AFL Title Game 'Mud Bowl'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The Los Angeles Chargers, losers in the first American Football League game played in Houston, worked out today with hopes of closing the season with an upset victory here.

The Chargers and Houston Oilers meet in the AFL's first championship game Sunday before an expected 25,000 and a national television audience — ABC, 3:30 p.m., EST.

Houston is a 6½-point favorite. The Chargers lost to Houston 38-28 in the Oilers' first league home game in September, and won 24-21, on a muddy field in Los Angeles later.

The game is certain to be played on a muddy, torn field after week-long rains and the Prairie View Bowl at Jeppensen Stadium tonight.

The Chargers, with a 10-4 record, are the league's Western Division champion. Houston, also 10-4, took the Eastern Division crown.

Sid Gillman, the Los Angeles coach, brings the best-balanced team in the AFL into the game.

The Chargers weren't tops in any of the league's six team statistical categories, but they never were worse than fourth in any department.

Los Angeles was third in total offense, fourth in rushing, second in passing defense, third in rushing defense and fourth in total defense.

But Agajanian may be the Chargers' best defensive weapon against Houston.

If Agajanian sails his kickoffs out of the end zone, he can single—handedly stop the threat of the league's top kickoff return specialist, Ken Hall of Houston who has a 31.8 average on 19 kickoff returns.

Billy Cannon, another top-flight Houston back, returned only eight kickoffs during the season, but he averaged 33.3 yards on each one.

Kicking, in fact, could be the big factor in the game.

Agajanian, called out of retirement by Gillman, kicked 13 field goals and 46 extra points for the Chargers this season. George Blanda of Houston kicked 15 field goals and 42 extra points. Agajanian scored 85 points by kicking, Blanda 87.

Kramer, Italian Net Ace in Disagreement

SYDNEY (AP)—Jank Kramer, pro tennis magnate, said Friday night he had signed Nicola Pietrangeli, half of Italy's surprising Davis Cup team, to a contract in August and had paid him $17,500.

Pietrangeli, standing a few feet away, said he had "signed an agreement not a contract and I sent back the check."

Kramer said, "Since the signing I have given the matter much thought and will not make a decision until I return to Rome next year. I don't see any difference between an agreement and a contract." He added that Pietrangeli had returned the check.

Orange Bowl Rivals End Drills

Crying Towels Needed at Cotton Bowl

DALLAS (AP)—Coaches Frank Broyles of Arkansas and Bill Murray of Duke today told each other how good the other's football team was while preparing to beat its ears off in the Cotton Bowl Monday.

Murray said Arkansas was the quickest team he had seen this season and that it "comes near going at everything 100 per cent."

"Arkansas has good, solid running, good passing and an effective kicking game while it is great on defense and well-trained," said Murray.

Broyles said Duke had a powerful running game and excellent passing and that he thought it, too, gave 100 per cent even in it defeats.

"The result of the game hinges, I believe, on what we can do against their running because they have an excellent passing game that makes their running go," he declared. "We can't hope to stop both but we'll concentrate on stopping the running as it is the most dangerous to our chances."

Broyles also had some glowing words for Tee Moorman, the fine Duke wingman whom the Arkansas coach termed 'A truly great pass-receiver." But he also admitted hat his own Jimmy Collier was quite a pass-catcher.

Broyles said he figured Duke would have an advantage if it's a muddy field because of the Blue Devils' superior weight.

Murray said his team would be going at it 100 per cent in an effort to atone for losses in its last two games. 'People who don't respect a good beating (27-6 to UCLA) aren't worth much," said the philosophical coach. 'I don't have to remind my boys of that."

Both teams worked out Friday afternoon with Arkansas winding up training with a short drill this morning. Duke, However, will work again this afternoon and Murray said, "we will do something Sunday, I'm not sure yet what."

Orange Bowl rivals Missouri and Navy take their final workouts today for their football meeting Monday. Tomorrow they will look over the bowl and confine themselves to limbering up exercises.

The Missourians have been much better on pass defense this past season than in 1959, when the opposition completed 50 per cent of its tosses. Credit for the improvement is shared by defensive backfield coach Clay Cooper and safety man Charley (Skip) Snyder.

Together in 'Butterfield 8'

Eddie's Movie Role 'Excites' Wife Liz

Elizabeth Taylor, who has photographic memory and a normally unruffled composure before the camera, promptly muffed a line in her first scene with Eddie Fisher for "Butterfield 8."

"Excuse me," said Miss Taylor to Director Daniel Mann, "I'm a bit excited."

Fisher, on the other hand, had all the assurance of a show business veteran, which he is.

Not that costarring with his beautiful wife for the first time in a major dramatic movie role was any the less of a memorable moment.

'NATURAL ACTOR'

After the Fishers had been working together for a few days, Director Mann declared, "Eddie will be established as an important film star within a year.

"He is a natural actor with an unusually appealing warmth of personality that registers strongly on film. That is what we were looking for in the role of Steve, an emotionally demanding characterization.

"His test was a revelation. He proved to have every quality we wanted for the role."

There was nothing contrived about Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's selection of Fisher to play Steve in the adaptation of John O'Hara's novel, with Laurence Harvey and Dina Merrill also starred.

It was a case of the right part coming along at the right time. For some time Fisher had been giving thought to expanding his career as a record, nightclub, television and radio star by going on the screen.

That Mrs. Fisher encouraged her husband in his decision goes without saying. She is more interested in his career than her own.

NOTHING NEW

He is following in the pattern set by Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin, among others, who began as singers and today are leading dramatic actors.

"All the popular singers are basically fine actors," asserts Director Mann.

"They have to be. The ability to sell a song is as essential as a good voice.

Red 'Pals' Visit Burma

TOKYO (UPI) — Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai headed a 400-man "friendship delegation" to Burma today to participate in ceremonies celebrating the Southeast Asian nation's 13th year of Independence, the New China News Agency reported. The agency said it was the biggest delegation ever sent aboard by the Peiping regime.

Britain Spends U.S. Dollars

Aids This Country by Buying Pounds From International Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States got some indirect help with its gold problem Friday as Britian used dollars to buy $47.4 million worth of pounds sterling from the International Monetary Fund.

Had Britain not transferred the dollars to the IMF, it presumably would have used them to buy more American gold.

Foreign governments and central banks have purchased $1.9 billion of gold from this country in 1960, reducing the U.S. supply to $17.8 billion.

The British transaction announced by the IMF brought its contribution to the fund's resources into line with requirements. The IMF normally requires countries to make 25 per cent of their contribution in gold and dollars and the balance in their local currencies.

By using dollars to buy back pounds contributed to the fund earlier Britain brought its gold and dollar contribution up to 25 per cent.

Kennedy to See W. Berlin Mayor in Near Future?

BERLIN (AP) — President-Elect John F. Kennedy has written to West Berlin's Mayor, Willy Brandt, that "I hope to see you in the not too distant future."

A city government spokesman said, however, no date or place has been set for a meeting.

Brandt disclosed Friday at a reception for political prisoners released from jails in Communist East Germany that he had received the personal letter from Kennedy.

New Delaware Governor Faces an 18-Day Term

DOVER, Del. (AP)—David P. Buckson was inaugurated Friday for what will be the shortest term a Delaware governor has ever served — 18 days.

Buckson, 40-year-old outgoing lieutenant governor, was appointed to serve as governor until the Jan. 17 inauguration of Democratic Gov.Elect Elbert N. Carvel.

Buckson succeeds Gov. J. Caleb Boggs, who resigned to be sworn in as a U.S. Senator Jan. 3.

COIN MYSTERY — This is a British farthing, worth about a third of a U.S. cent. As of New Year's Day is ceases to be legal British tender. If the coin is not turned into a bank by then, it becomes worthless. British banks say only 480,000 of the 750 million modern farthings have been turned in for redemption and officials are wondering who has them.

U.S. Auto Businessmen Slowing Up on Tiny Cars

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UPI)—The market for small imported cars is shrinking to a point where many American manufacturers are reconsidering plans to introduce smaller compact cars to compete in the field.

A year ago more than 66 makes of foreign cars were being offered on the American market. This number has shrunk to less than 60 at the present time and many foreign companies that have "temporarily suspended" shipments to the United States are not expected to resume shipments unless the market takes an unexpected upward turn.

Imported cars no longer offered on the American market include the Riley, Jensen, Wartburg, Taunus, Maico and Gogomobile. Moretti has halted imports temporarily and Vespa currently is without a distributor in the United States.

The U.S. Department of Commerce predicts the number of imports sold in this country in the next year will shrink to about 400,000. Estimates of imported car sales during 1960 settled at about 500,000. Sales of foreign cars peaked at more than 600,0 during 1959.

All of this, coupled with an expected slump in the over-all car market in the United States in the year ahead, has made the American companies wary about plans to introduce smaller compacts to compete with the imports in the American market and elsewhere in the world.

Studebaker-Packard has placed its program for a smaller compact in a state of suspended animation. It is going ahead with work on an engine for the car but has stopped all work on body components.

S-P has not killed the program but has delayed it to see if some other company will blaze a trail and test the ability of American producers to compete effectively in the minicar market now dominated by Volkswagen.

That leaves Ford as the most likely trail blazer. But industry sources said Ford was revising its plans too and there was a possibility that Ford might market its small compact in Canada and European countries first to test its sales potential.

$70,000 Awarded Air Crash Widow

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Mrs. Juanita Nims has won court approval of a $70,000 settlement in the death of her husband in the June 1956 collision of two airliners over the Grand Canyon in Arizona.

Superior Judge Clyde C. Tripplett specified $10,000 be placed in trust for Mrs. Nims' daughter, Jennifer, 9. The remainder went to the Van Nuys, Calif., widow.

Dwight Nims, 36, a Lockheed Aircraft Co. worker was among the 128 persons killed when a United Airlines DC7 and a Trans World Airlines Constellation collided and plunged into the scenic canyon.

Lansing Employes on the Job

LANSING (AP) — You could call up any state agency in Lansing right up to 5 p.m. Friday night and get an answer.

The word was around — Civil Service is watching.

It has been traditional that state workers are allowed to slip out early before major holidays, as the Christmas and New Year.

But there were complaints that on the Friday before Christmas major state agencies were unmanned or only had skeleton crews working.

Franklin K. Dewald, state civil service director, ruled any hours off allowed workers must be accounted for.

State employe reaction to the ruling was mixed. Those allowed the hours off termed civil service a "Scrooge" for the policy statement. Those who worked through the day thought it was only fair and right.

We pause in our work to wish old and new friends a heartfelt Happy New Year!

Furcolo Tears Into Kennedy

Feud Bubbles Over Appointment of Bundy by President-Elect

BOSTON (UPI) — A long-simmering feud flared up today between President-Elect John F. Kennedy and Massachusetts Gov. Foster Furcolo who attacked Kennedy's selection of a Harvard dean for a top security post even before it was made.

Furcolo, a Democrat like Kennedy, blasted the scheduled appointment of McGeorge Bundy, a Republican, as special assistant for national security affairs in a surprise statement issued Friday night. Then the governor, who is going out of office next week, "left town" while attempts were made to reach him.

Furcolo's statement was sharp and brief.

"It is completely incredible that President-Elect Kennedy would name a person so completely unqualified as McGeorge Bundy," the statement said.

"I am getting in touch with the president-elect because I do not believe it is possible he would even consider a person so lacking in qualification for any position of trust or confidence as Bundy."

Kennedy declined comment on the statement by Furcolo, whose political ambitions in Massachusetts have been jolted several times by Kennedy.

Engle Says Quesada Talking Too Much

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., says federal aviation administrator Elwood R. Quesada made "a self serving statement" in announcing that ground radio and radar equipment was functioning properly at the time of the New York City airliner collision.

Engle, a member of the Senate Commerce Committee, said, "The decision as to whether or not it was functioning properly will be made by the Civil Aeronautics Board which has the responsibility of reporting formally on the accident."

The senator said Quesada "is not prosecutor, judge and jury in this matter — and he should not be sounding off to the public as if he is."

Set Examination of Pontiac Woman in Fatal Shooting

Examination of Mary S. Kennedy, 61, 442 Harvey St., was set for Jan. 4 by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum. He put bond at $10,000.

Miss Kennedy admitted shooting Oscar E. McCloud, 59, of 147 W. South Blvd., in the neck with a 25-caliber automatic pistol, police said. He died at Pontiac General Hospital Dec. 27.

She told officers McCloud threatened to shoot other persons in her home just before she shot him. When police arrived they found a 45-caliber automatic under McCloud's body.

MSUO Dean to Talk on Education Steps

Dr. Robert G. Hoopes, dean of faculty at Michigan State University Oakland, will discuss the steps taken to meet the education crisis since Russia launched its first Sputnik, in an address Jan. 11 before the Wisconsin State Forum in Eau Claire.

His address will be titled "What We Have Launched Since Sputnik."

Hoopes will also be guest speaker at the annual dinner Jan. 20 of the Parents Council of Kingswood School, Cranbrook. His topic will be "Learning in Spite of College" and will deal with students' choices of colleges.

680 Left Foot Shoes Stolen From Wagon

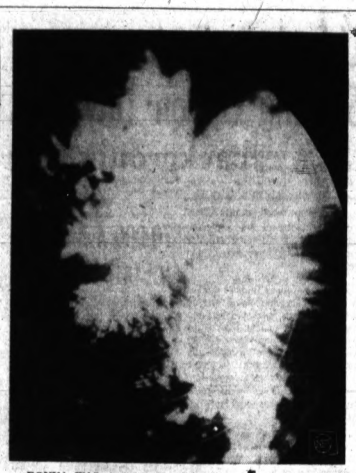
ST. LOUIS (AP)—A St. Louis wholesale shoe firm official reported to police Friday that a dozen sample cases containing 680 shoes worth $1,400 were stolen from his station wagon.

But, said Isadore Perlstein, they'll be worth something less than that to the thieves. All were for the left foot.

Twin Boys Weight Total of 18 Pounds, 6 Ounces

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Bruce Mencke has given birth to her second set of twin boys in 20 months. But that's not the story. The weight of the new set has Lakewood hospital buzzing.

Paul weighed in Tuesday at 10 pounds, 2 ounces. His brother, David, was 8 pounds, 4 ounces. A total of 18 pounds, 6 ounces.



DONNA WAS A DOG—Hurricane Donna, said by the U.S. Weather Bureau to be the most destructive hurricane it ever recorded, appeared on radar as a Scotty dog as she snarled over Hartford, Conn. White portions on radar are rain. Picture was taken from the radarscope of Raytheon Co. at Wayland, Mass.

Patrol Mexican City With Machine Guns

CHILPANCINGO, Mexico (UPI) — Federal troops manned machine guns at corners and patrolled the city in trucks today to prevent further outbreaks of antigovernment violence that killed 11 persons and injured at least 40 others.

The federal senate in Mexico City ordered an investigation of public grievances against the state governor which led to Friday's clash between demonstrators and armed troops who fired into the crowds.

The interior ministry was expected to step into the situation.

Will Give Blood to Cuba

HAVANA (UPI)—Thirty of the 380 Americans visiting Cuba as guests of the government on a tour organized by the "Fair Play for Cuba Committee" volunteered to donate blood today for the 16 victims of a department store bombing earlier this week.

British settlers founded the town of St. George in Bermuda in 1612, eight years before the pilgrim fathers landed at Plymouth, Mass.

Firemen Ignorant of Ships, Terms

NEW YORK (UPI)—A veteran fire fighter said Friday that city firemen who were called to battle the $75 million blaze on the carrier Constellation lacked knowledge about ships and Navy procedure.

Bernard J. Lally, former city fire battalion chief and Navy fire fighter in World War II, testified before a Navy board of inquiry investigating the Constellation fire two weeks ago in which 50 workmen at the Brooklyn Navy Yard were killed.

Lally said the city firemen, although charged for more than 100 years with the responsibility of fighting shipboard fires here, did not know the construction of a ship, Navy nomenclature or other needed specialized data.

Horton of Wagon Train to Wed This Afternoon

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Actor Bob Horton, star of NBC's television series "Wagon Train," and singer Marilynn Bradley marry at 4:30 p. m. today at a hotel (the Sands).

It will be the third marriage for Horton, 35, and the second for Miss Bradley, 24, of Boston.

Christianity was introduced to Iceland in 981, and was legally adopted about 30 years later.

CONTENTMENT — Here is a man whose appearance spells contentment. He is symbolic of all the happy home owners represented on this page. Joseph Hubbard, a retired farmer, lives in a brand new home on Allen Road in Clarkston, right across from the century-old farmhouse in which he spent over 40 years. We introduced the Hubbards to you on Dec. 3.

RENOVATED — An old remodeled farmhouse up in Romeo has this interesting bathroom. The Roger Toothackers have succeeded in combining modern materials with old-time charm. Plants fill the old bowl and pitcher which sets on modern formica. The lamps, unusual for a bathroom, fit well with the decorations. The Toothackers did their own remodeling and were presented to Press readers on Oct. 15.

Your Neighbor's House As Seen Through 1960

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Once again we have had the fun of going through the year's Home Sections and picking out some of the most interesting pictures to show you. After we had made a final decision on which pictures to include in this year-end review, we were surprised to see how well northern Oakland county is represented. We had made no conscious effort to pick them this way.

Two of the homes started from old buildings—the Roger Toothackers remodeled a farmhouse; while the Charles Hannans incorporated an old barn in their multi-level home. The rest are all new.

Owners range from the typical young family to our senior citizen who's enjoying a modern house for the first time. In size also the houses vary; there are three above-average size homes and two small ones.

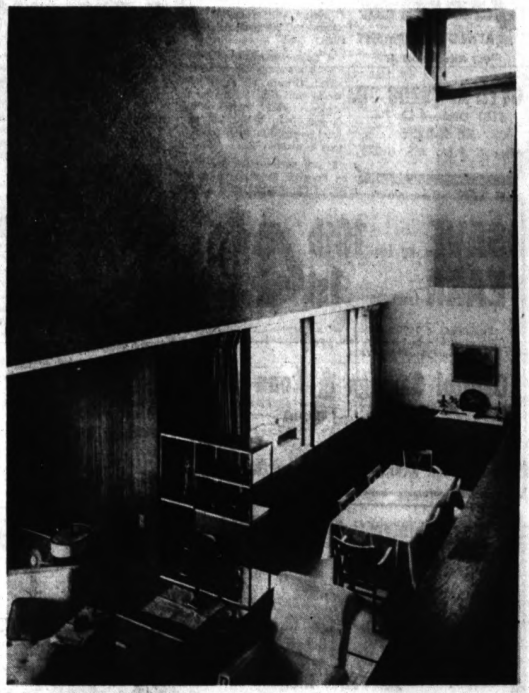
It's been a good year. We have enjoyed meeting Oakland county residents in their homes. We are unendingly fascinated with the way people live.

As usual, we welcome your suggestions on other homes to feature. Sometimes it takes us a little time to get around to using the ones you call us about; but we want you to continue calling.

BEAUTY AND UTILITY — The Louis Snyder home on Lower Long Lake has a kitchen that combines beauty with efficiency. The Formica covered counter in the center of the room is movable on four large rubber wheels. It serves as a breakfast bar as well as a work unit. There are two ovens and a separate barbecue oven in the brick chimney wall and a fireplace at the far end. This kitchen can be closed off from the family room end with a 400-pound folding birch door that runs on a track in the beam. This home appeared in The Press on March 5.

background for LIVING

BALCONY BEDROOMS — One way of getting more space in small houses is to stagger the levels. In the Ernest Brown home on Phillips Drive in Pontiac the bedrooms are half a flight up from the living room. Underneath on the ground level is a recreation room. This open planning makes the living room look larger. The Brown home was featured on Aug. 20.



MANY LEVELS — The sprawling home of the Charles Hannans in Farmington has many levels. This picture, taken from the balcony bedroom, shows the dining room and part of the living room. Hannan, an architect, started with an old barn and designed an interesting livable house. Part of the house is a studio room that's over 40 feet long. The Hannan house was featured on Sept. 3.

COLONIAL BEDROOM — Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Campbell have a new home in Milford. Their daughters' bedroom with the Early American furniture is typical of the house. Mrs. Campbell made the quilted pink spreads, the sheer pink canopies, bed skirts and curtains. The wallpaper is pink and gray. You first saw this picture on Jan. 9, 1960.

Give Home and Family Fire Safety Check-up

Can your house pass a fire-safety test? How about you and members of your family—are you prepared to cope with this deadly peril?

These questions are more important than ever today as statistics show fire loss on the increase in the United States. Nearly a million fires in 1960 caused more than a billion dollars in damage for a new record. Losses ran 3.5 per cent over the disastrous year of 1959.

Fatalities are expected to surpass the 11,300 lives lost in the previous year. Yet three out of four of these fires could have been prevented with sensible precautions, say experts of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

VITAL CHECKUP

See how you and your home measure up on the safety chart by answering the following questions compiled by the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information:

1. Is smoking in bed taboo and are matches and cigraette lighters kept where children cannot get at them? (Careless smoking habits and use of matches cause the most fires—25 per cent.) Yes...... No.......

2. Are you careful not to overload electrical circuits and do you avoid running extension wires under rugs or over nails? (This second leading cause of fire accounts for one-fifth of all blazes.) Yes...... No.......

3. Do you have electric lights in closets or at least use a flashlight when searching for something? (Lighting matches in closets is still a favorite way of getting rid of clothes—and the house with them.) Yes...... No.......

4. Have you employed fire-resistant materials wherever possible? (Floors of easily-maintained vinyl asbestos tile for instance, retard flames eating through from below and may provide precious time for firemen to arrive.) Yes.... No.....

5. Are portable heaters placed on fireproof pads and in a spot where they can't be easily overturned? Yes...... No.......

6. Is your main heating system in good condition and has it and the chimney been checked recently? Yes...... No.......

7. Have you gotten rid of all oil-soaked rags and similar waste? (Spontaneous ignition caused 24,884 fires in the period 1953-58 with a loss of $101,498,809.) Yes...... No.......

8, Have you and members of your family staged fire drills so that everyone knows exactly what to do in case of emergency, and is familiar with at least two escape routes? Yes...... No.......

If you have answered "Yes" to each of the foregoing questions, you and your home are reasonably safe from the crackling destroyer which claims more victims daily.

Quality Counts With Eggs

An egg is an egg in appearance, but when it comes to quality, there can be a great deal of difference, says the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

Egg quality goes down when temperatures (60-70 degrees or higher) start to soar, and this is true in the country as well as in the city. No matter where you live, if the eggs do not get the cool treatment, quality starts to go down. Cool treatment means refrigeration for maintaining quality for short periods of time, ranging from 35 to 45 degrees F. with humidity about 85 per cent.

Why is quality so important It might not be so important when it comes to cooking because here you can get by with the less-high quality grade of eggs, namely: Grade B and Grade C. Grade A quality eggs count when you are frying, poaching, scrambling, soft-cooking eggs for breakfast, lunch or dinner. It's the top quality, good tasting egg that wins the compliments.

To a person who buys eggs, the U.S.D.A. grading program for eggs is one of the best buying gules for quality. U.S.D.A. Fresh Fancy Quality and Grade AA are tops in quality. Next comes U.S.D.A. Grade A, Grade B and then Grade C. Many egg cartons are marked Grade A, and this is a top grade. Also, in some stores in Michigan, shoppers will find Fresh Fancy Quality which is a new grade for eggs and compares to the Grade AA.

Grade has nothing to do with size . . . because small, medium or large size eggs can be any grade.

Our Ancestors Painted Walls Bright Color

The popularity of Early American style furnishings and decoration continues to skyrocket. While yellow and tomato red wall colors come to mind as being associated with this period decor, the clear greens and blues are also appropriate for this type and color of furniture.

The popularity of Early American is not limited to one geographical area. A Florida home decorated with this period furnishings combines clear blue painted walls, russet carpeting and the accent hue is strong yellow-gold. The blue family of hues is particularly flattering to maple furniture, as the lady of this house knows very well.

Cherry is another type wood frequently found with Early American style furniture and, while blue is also flattering to this wood hue, one young homemaker in the midwest provided rich olive-green painted walls as a background for her lovely cherry furniture. Her choice of a secondary color was turquoise, and many white accessories were used.

Copper and brass are important touches in any Early American room and one collector of these relics of the pineers of this country displays his possessions proudly against sandy beige walls and uses accent colors of blue and orange in the charming livable room.

White woodwork is particularly appropriate with period decor and one lovely living room in a southwest city has white enamelled woodwork, bookcases, large mantle, moulding and trim. The beauty of the details of the room is enhanced as the white contrasts with the rich turquoise of the walls.

IT'S AN ILLUSION — A cottage window scene on wallpaper mural brings life to this windowless dining room, gives it a country village air.

Charm of Country Can Come to City Rooms

By KAY SHERWOOD

Any pitch that promises to show you how to have a beautiful room at practically no cost is a surefire lure for snaring your attention.

I can be hooked by model room settings on this theme even though I know in my heart that to duplicate this charming room or that homey kitchen would take the support of a generous banker, a topnotch stylist and ancestors with impeccable taste in choosing furnishings.

Have you noticed how often the choicest piece in a setting is a fascinating antique that just happened to come to light in an attic or was picked up for a song in a quaint backwoods store?

Every now and then I meet a homemaker who is shaping a bona fide setting with skill and grace against familiar handicaps of little money and time. She restores my faith that such miracles are possible.

A case in point is the city apartment of a young business woman-homemaker. Her tastes lean to the cheerful country cottage atmosphere and simple "antique" furniture of early New England colonial styling.

An old apartment with a dismal outlook in the heart of the city is scarcely the right background for tastes like these. But this is the challenge.

Slowly she is investing it with the charm of a colonial cottage on the village green. The dining room—a small windowless room off the living room—gives an idea of how she's doing it at a modest price.

To lighten up the dining room, a garden scenic wallpaper is used which simulates cottage windows complete with flowers, plants and hanging bird cages. This scenic has a three-dimensional effect. The illusion is heightened by the addition of a simulated wood paneled dado.

INEXPENSIVE

On the polished wood floor is a circular Spanish grass mat. Straw, grass or rush mats are a good solution for floor coverings; they have texture, design and color and are inexpensive.

With no time to go antique hunting, this young woman managed to furnish her dining room with authentic Early American reproductions.

A harvest table, four Windsor chairs and a Windsor settee were bought unfinishd and unassembled, then put together. They were stained and waxed to give a soft mellow finish.

She reports that, although reasonably priced, they were not difficult to assemble according to the explicit directions which come with each piece.

No wall decorations or pictures were needed because of the mural. Tableware accessories of wood, wicker and pottery, and a hurricane lantern add to the informal country spirit.

Wallpaper will help carry the theme through the rest of the apartment; simulated wood in the living room, patchwork quilt in the bedroom, crisp country check in the bathroom and a documentary pattern with matching curtains in the kitchen.

Labor is a variable cost. In this case, our heroine and her friends assembled and finished the furniture. Hanging the paper had to be turned over to a professional because the walls were in bad repair and needed preliminary preparation.

Get Free Booklet on Improvements

Dozens of ideas for home improvements appear in photos, sketches and narrative in the Masonite Home Improvement Guide, issued by Masonite Corporation, a charter member of the Home Improvement Council.

Specific ideas for up-dating various rooms and increasing the storage facilities of your home are included in the colorful booklet, which is available free by writing the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill.

Included are photos showing remodeled bedrooms, recreation areas, garages, workshops and other rooms. For some, a free plan is available. A section describes various hardboards and shows how easy it is to work with them.

Burn Out Wood Stump With Charcoal Briquets

Anyone who has had to cut down a tree on his property has faced this problem: how to get rid of the stump? Here is a solution that is both easy and economical — burn it away. This can be done with the aid of wood charcoal briquets, a staple that is now readily at hand in almost every household as a result of the recent trend to outdoor and indoor barbecues.

The charcoal method of removing tree stumps is particularly helpful where stumps are close to a built-up walkway or curbing, flower bed or driveway, or anywhere else where digging out the roots would be difficult.

Small stumps (20 inches in diameter, or less) can best be removed by using an old 55-gallon oil drum with both ends removed. On larger stumps, a piece of light-gauge sheet metal can serve the purpose, using two small "C" clamps to hold it in circular shape around the stump to be removed. For best effect, shape the metal so that there is a space two to four inches wide between it and the stump.

Before placing the drum or sheet metal around the stump, remove the sod or dirt from 4 to 6 inches around the stump to a depth of 3 or 4 inches. Set the drum or sheet metal on 3 or 4 bricks, stones or other non-combustible material to provide adequate draft.

Kindle a fire around the stump and when it is burning well, fill the space between the stump and encircling metal with wood charcoal briquets. A cover must then be placed on top so the charcoal will burn only at the bottom. The intense heat will disintegrate the stump.

Additional wood charcoal briquets can then be added as needed (about once a day) until the stump is consumed. The length of time to burn stumps depends on their size and on whether the stump is old or freshly cut.

Sunlight Colors Best in Home

Sunlight colors are recommended for homes by one of the nation's top color consultants.

The color yellow, says this authority, which is the color of sunlight, sets up a reaction in the eye which implies good cheer, liveliness and happiness.

In a search for colors which suggest sunlight, architects today are utilizing the natural colors and hues of wood. This undoubtedly accounts for the strong trend in modern design towards the use of light-hued native woods for interior walls, trim and built-ins in contemporary homes, one leading architect suggests.

Woods like west coast hemlock or Douglas fir, which are so widely in demand today for interior home wall panels and exposed ceilings, are almost true usnlight colors.

Fortunately, new long-lasting lacquers and varnishes make it possible to capture and retain the incomparable sunlight hues in these woods.

Use these sunlight colors, the expert advises, in rooms where you live.

Colors, this man points out, can influence the actions of people. Orange is exciting and will induce action and keep people awake. Green is conservative and restful and good for libraries. All through the color spectrum, varied hues set up different reactions in people.

Wood a Poor Conductor

Hardwood lumber used in the manufacture of flooring is a low conductor of heat. Hardwood floors, therefore, do not vary at different temperatures and they are always a comfort to the feet.

Heating Tests at Illinois U

The practical operation of hydronic heating and cooling systems is being observed by engineering experts in the new I-B-R. Hydronic Research House at the University of Illinois.

This is a typical tri-level house constructed especially for the study of the performance of hydronic heating and cooking systems. The house, opened in 1959, replaces the two-story I-B-R Research Home which has been used for research in a similar manner since 1940.

Studies so far have shown that the tri-level house design in itself presents some problems not encountered in the conventional one- and two-story house construction, says the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau.

The trend in all tri-level houses is for the warm air to go up and the cool air to go down. Thus there is a transfer of the heating and cooling load from one level to another.

One of the objectives of the studies being made at the University of Illinois is to determine the extent of this transfer of the heating and cooling load from one level to another, and to find out what can be done to correct it.

It was found that in winter the heat distributors on the second level and on the first level had to carry more than their normal share of the total load.

The opposite happened in the summer when the cool air moved from the third level down to the first. Oddly enough, it did not stop on the second floor on its way down.

Engineers found that with hydronic heating and cooling it is a relatively simple matter to design the system so as to balance the distribution of heating and cooling through zoning so that occupants at all levels will be equally comfortable.

New Screens Storm Sash Part of Frames

A new, aluminum, horizontal slide window featuring combination storm sash and screens as an integral, permanent part of the frame, has been announced by the Truscon Division of Republic Steel Corporation.

The windows range in types and sizes from narrow units where privacy, as well as ventilation, is desired, to 6'x6' and 4'x9' picture windows for wide-open viewing.

Main frame sections of all Series 764 types are of extruded aluminum. They are mitered and welded at the corners for rigidity. Fin trim is an integral part of the frame, the company states, simplifying installation and eliminating the need for outside wood trim. However, the outside nailing fin is easily snapped off for use in wood buck construction.

All windows have aluminum latch handles, weatherstripping of extruded vinyl, nylon glides, stainless steel vent slide channels, and vent sections of extruded aluminum. Ventilators and storm sash are easily removed for washing from the inside.

Depends on Surface

The question often arises as to where cement paint should be used and where a heavy duty waterproofing compound should be used. Cement paint is prescribed for masonry surfaces where there is no resurfacing problem and any voids or spaces are small enough to be covered by a material with the consistency of paint. Heavy duty surfacers are designed for covering imperfections in porous masonry such as unfinished concrete, masonry block, rough brick and stucco.

Bright-colored asphalt roof shingles make a house look taller. Subdued roof colors, on the other hand, are recommended to make a tall house appear to be lower.

second floor apartment

expansion attic

INCOME PRODUCING — An upstairs apartment in this 1½ story home is designed to provide the home-owner with some help in meeting the mortgage. If finances are not a problem, the upstairs space would add two big bedrooms to the two downstairs.

Upper Rental Unit Helps Owners Pay for House

By DAVID L. BOWEN

As most home-owners know, the worst thing about owning a house is making the monthly payments.

This design takes even that formidable financial fact of life into account. It is arranged to provide the owner with 1,310 comfortable square feet of living area on the first floor. Upstairs, there's an unusually attractive apartment which should yield in rent a healthy share of the monthly payment on the mortgage.

Of course, if you have both a big family and a big budget, you could build the home as a one-family house and develop the second floor as an expansion attic. In this case, you would get two extra bedrooms — one of them luxuriously equipped with fireplace and dressing room — and two extra baths.

The arrangement would be particularly happy when the family included grandparents, who usually want some privacy of their own while remaining an integral part of the family group.

However it's handled, the second floor in this 1½ story house adds 813 sq. ft. of living space to the first floor total.

Architect Rudolph A. Matern created B-45 in the House of the Week series, aiming primarily at the two-family goal. Each floor has its own private foyer, with an additional common foyer at the main entrance serving as a convenient traffic hub. Location of the stairway to the basement off the common foyer gives both families access to below-grade storage and utilities.

The second-floor apartment has an efficient stepsaving kitchen with close-by compact dining space. The living room is good-sized and has in addition to the fireplace a balcony off the triangular shaped window wall.

B-45 is 48' 2" in width by 28' 7" in depth.

ADDITIONAL DETAILS

Particularly outstanding in the plan for the first floor is the big, effecient kitchen, which features two countertop cooking units, built-in oven and lavish counter space. Most of the meal preparation facilities are concentrated in a step-saving U-shaped arrangement.

Snack space adjoins the kitchen, with the dining room just beyond that — both convenient for meal serving. From the dining room, sliding glass doors lead to an outdoor living terrace.

Highlights of the big living room are its fireplace and the long, attractive front window. Traffic circulation — aided by the foyers and hall — is good. One of the two downstairs bedrooms has two closets and the other five closets.

Stone and shingles are combined to present a pleasing exterior appearance. The roof in front is unbroken by dormers, giving the impression of greater length and a low-to-the ground modern look. Front entry is sheltered by a small porch.

B-45 Statistics

This 1½ story house is designed to provide an income-producing rental apartment on the second floor. If extra income is not a factor, the upstairs area would provide additional bedroom space—with one suite especially suitable for grandparents.

The living area of the first floor is 1,310 sq. ft., with two bedrooms, kitchen, dining and living rooms. There are an additional 813 sq. ft. on the second floor.

Over-all dimensions are 48' 2" by 28' 7".

Change Room 'Size' by Means of Color

Color is the most valuable tool for creating the illusion of greater space. Repaint a dark colored room white and it will seem to expand immediately. The same magic can be achieved by painting the walls a light version of any of the cool blues, blue-grays, blue-greens and lavender. Such colors will make the walls seem to retract, giving the entire room a larger look.

Woodwork should be painted the same color as the walls to further the impression of size. Only particularly decorative woodwork should be painted a different color to call attention to it. The ceiling will look best painted white or a paler tint of the wall hue. The vivid shades of red, orange, gold and pink should be limited to accents.

Let's Put Some Sparkle on Metal Hardware

In every house there are doors, drawers and cabinets that are adorned with gleaming hardware. Keeping this hardware bright can be a more involved job than polishing the trim on an auto.

Almost any hardware stocks a variety of metal polishes that will speed your job. The polish generally consists of a chemical that dissolves the oxides that form the tarnish and a mild abrasive that aids in the final polishing.

Most are applied, permitted to dry and then wiped off. Others must be rubbed briskly to remove tarnish and to polish.

Pick a non-gritty polish for plated metals and use it sparingly. Too much polishing will cut through the thin plating and reveal the dull metal underneath. Thin with water if necessary.

Rub only hard enough to remove the tarnish. Shine with a dry cloth. Then clean away any of the polish that might remain with lacquer thinner or denatured alcohol. Wipe absolutely dry and apply a coat or two of clear lacquer.

Lacquering will be easier if you remove the hardware first if possible. If it can be removed, finish by spraying on the lacquer. Otherwise use a soft camel's hair brush.

BRASS, COPPER

Solid brass or copper should be cleaned with a polish designed for that metal, washed with soap and water, wiped with lacquer thinner and coated with lacquer.

Chromium and stainless steel, though one is coated and the other isn't, can be kept bright and shiny with soap and water and thorough drying. Spilled substances should be wiped quickly. If a stain results use metal polish sparingly. Avoid using it on chromium if possible. After washing, dry thoroughly to avoid water spots.

Aluminum requires little maintenance. The oxide that forms, if the metal is outside, will actually prevent further weathering. But while aluminum won't rust away it will often become pitted when exposed to the weather. Use a light coating of wax, auto wax if outdoors, to protect it.

If aluminum needs cleaning avoid strong soaps, any strong alkaline substance, any preparation that contains lye or potash. Any of these items will cause discoloration. Use fine steel wool. The soap-filled pads used in the kitchen are generally mild enough to do a good job without harming the metal.

NICKEL

Nickel-plated surfaces respond well to plain soap and hot water. After washing, dry and rub briskly. If not polished often, nickel gets dark.

Lacquer—Never use this on any surface that is exposed to the weather, is washed frequently, or is used for food.

New Plastic Tape Insulates Outside

A new plastic electrical tape that can be used to insulate outdoor wiring in patios and gardens as well as indoor wiring has been introduced by Arno Adhesive Tapes, Inc.

The new C-300 plastic electrical tape is made of black vinyl film with pressure-sensitive adhesive. It is unaffected by sun, weather, water, acids, alkalies and oils.

The ¾" wide tape is packaged in 66-foot lengths in a convenient metal container. Unlike many insulation tapes that deteriorate in storage, it can be kept in the home for periodic minor repair jobs as well as for more ambitious do-it yourself projects.

Dream Kitchen in the Works

The dream kitchen that will take care of everything automatically may still seem a long way off to you — but not to U.S. manufacturers.

They're now claiming that new super-kitchens designed to do everything but serve the food and eat it for you are just over the production horizon.

For instance, how would you like to have a "program cooker"? This electronic marvel will combine food freezer and oven, and when you want a meal you press a button. Presto chango, a full-course meal whips from the freezer, speeds along a conveyor into the oven, and in less than 30 minutes everything from appetizer to dessert emerges from a handy serving window.

Or perhaps a plastic dishmaker might intrigue you. Here again you'll merely dial for a plate, bowl, cup or glass—press another button — and in short order out it pops, pressed from a sheet of plastic.

Another item designed to do away with elbow grease and the apparent need for all other kinds of cleaning implements or ingredients will be a sheet-like panel of ceramic tile. Prefabricated to countertop or wall panel size, tile in this ceramic "sheet" will be bonded with stainproof grouting as tough, colorful and easy to clean as real tile itself.

And then there's the ultrasonic dishwasher. What will it do? Well, believe it or not, this one will wash dishes with sound waves!

Driveway Needs Style

The driveway is as important as the lawn when you are planning the setting for your home.

Fortunately, concrete is not only a favorite driveway material, but also extremely versatile. Different colors can be added and the surface texture varied. The drive can be laid out in a graceful curve or straight, with interesting geometric patterns and contrasting borders.

Many effects are possible to create a drive in keeping with the architectural style of your home and its natural surroundings.

Economical Powder Room Can Fit Into Older Home

Sometimes space for an additional powder room can be found in areas under stairs or by enlarging a seldom-used closet. Frequently the space occupied by an old-fashioned pantry becomes available through the installation of new cabinets in the kitchen.

With plumbing supply lines already in the house, the addition of new fixtures in a powder room or in an extra bathroom can be carried out quickly and economically under the supervision of an experienced plumbing contractor.

Mississippi's Al Is Old Legend

Giant Aligator Plucks Rivermen Off Barges for Evening Meal

WASHINGTON—Mississippi River folks have a legendary figure to match mid-America's great waterway. They call him Old Al, and picture him as a giant alligator wearing a gold crown and clutching a huge pipe of tobacco in his scaly paws.

'Old Al takes delight in humping up a sand bar to block a passage, or in plucking a riverman off a barge for his dinner," writes William Price in an article in the National Geographic Magazine.

"With his tail he switches this way and that to throw a tow up against a bridge pier, smash a levee, or toss floods over farms and villages."

Yet like many another old-timer, the river king isn't what he used to be back in steamboat days when roustabouts created him. Though hoodoo doctors of the Deep South still sell good-luck charms to keep him in his place, the United States Army Corps of Engineers has developed more practical devices to thwart his playful destructiveness.

By levees and spillways—by constant dredging and the laying of "mattresses" of willow and concrete to cushion erosion's assaults on the banks — the Army Engineers control and maintain the Mississippi as a vital artery of commerce and traffic.

The levees' earthen breastworks rise three or four stories high, extend 200 to 300 feet thick at the base. One of the Engineers' greatest achievements is Louisiana's Bonnet Carre Spillway and Floodway. It can carry almost two million gallons per second out of the river through Lake Pontchartrain to the Gulf, sidestepping New Orleans.

To gather material for his article, Mr. Price accompanied by his wife, followed the lower Mississippi from Cairo, Illinois, a thousand miles south to the Gulf. He found this part of the river a startling contrast to that above Cairo, where the stream has carved a trench for itself in rock walls rising as high as 600 feet.

Below Cairo, he remarks, the river "rides brazenly atop the land, almost like an aqueduct." He often looked up to it from land behind the levees. New Orleans lies five feet below average river level; in floodtime it is 14 to 18 feet below the river. Rainfall in the city does not drain off—it must be pumped up and away.

Under such conditions, the Mississippi can still cause plenty of trouble at floodtime, or when blinding thunderstorms sweep up the river. Big logs swirl by, stand up on end and are sucked down as the powerful current heaves and struggles against furious wind. Once Mr. Price saw a barge 300 feet long, and nearly 50 feet wide, torn loose from its moorings and turned about like a toy vessel.

But the men charged with keeping in check the violent rages of "Old Big Strong" believe that the great disasters of the past, such as the flood of 1927, are not likely to happen again.

State Men Elected

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cal Scott of Ypsilanti, Mich., and Deanne Yek of Ann Arbor, Mich., were elected president and secretary, respectively, of the Midwest Achievers Assn. Friday at the annual Junior Achievers Management Conference in Cleveland.

DONALD W. PORTER

Exchangites Install Porter President

The Pontiac Exchange Club installed Donald W. Porter of 3736 Mariner St., Waterford Township, as president for the coming year yesterday.

Porter was officially installed during ceremonies conducted at the Waldron Hotel by Francks P. Kirchner of Detroit, the club's state president.

Other new officers for the coming year are Floyd Temple, first vice president; Gelston Poole, second vice presidebt; Don Dodman, third vice president; Smith Falconer, secretary; and John Carter, treasurer.

State Registration Law Unconstitutional

DETROIT (AP)—U. S. District Judge Ralph M. Freeman has ruled Michigan's registration law for architects and engineers is unconstitutional.

Freeman said Friday the statute violated the U.S. constitution because, he said, it was "too vague and indefinite."

Freeman also ruled Ohio's registration law unconstitutional in its application to the case before him.

The statute, Freeman said, violates Michigan's consitution, which prohibits laws that have "more than one objective."

Inside Job Hinted in Platinum Heist

ASHTON, R. I. (AP) — Police say the thieves who cut through a roof and stole at least $150,000 worth of platinum bushings from the Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp. "knew a good deal about the layout."

Police Chief William J. Boyle of Cumberland said "it was done by someone who had access to the building, or received information from someone who had access."

The bushings, weighing 120 to 150 pounds, were stolen in a daring break early Friday. The building in which the platinum was stored—supposedly burglar-proof—was locked for the night, but nearby sections of the plant were in operation.

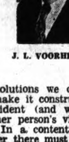
HAPPY NEW YEAR



J. L. VOORHEES

I overheard, ". . . and her house was a mess." How much more tolerant it would have been if she had chosen a constructive criticism. Two cars bumped; no damage but exploded tempers. Those men lived in the same block, children went to the same school, their wives belonged to the same social set, attended the same church. Angry words, and nothing else destroyed a friendship.

One of the nicest resolutions we can make is to avoid gossip; make it constructive. If we have an accident (and who doesn't) try to see the other person's view point; he could be right. In a contention be ready to yield; remember there must be two people to make two points of views. If we must relate unpleasant situations, tell them as situations we think would be news. Visiting by telephone can be a happy occasion. Fill 1961 with constructive efforts and kind deeds and you will have the happiest, most prosperous new year and old year too that you've ever had.

Keep this in mind! You cannot take more out of a vessel than you put into it. Put kindness into it and you'll take kindness out of it.

Sir Arthur Dies; Worked for Queen

LONDON (AP)—Sir Arthur Penn, household treasurer to Queen Mother Elizabeth for the last 14 years, died Friday in a hospital. He was 74.

Sir Arthur had been in ill health for a month and planned to retire from his royal post today.

In May there were rumors that Sir Arthur, a bachelor, would marry the queen mother, widow of King George VI.

He took the unusual course of having his lawyers issue a formal denial, since royal protocol barred the queen mother from taking public notice of the reports.

68 Crewmen Flee Burning Freighter

HELSTON, England (AP)—The 7,600-ton freighter Indian Navigator, out of Calcutta, was swept by fire in the Bay of Biscay today and abandoned by her 68-man crew.

Radio messages received by the British Coast Guard said the seamen took to the lifeboats in rough seas when efforts to control the fire failed. Nineteen were quickly picked up by other vessels. Two British ships and a Dutch craft set out to rescue the other.

Cut Pensions of Retired Coal Miners by $25

WASHINGTON (AP)—The pensions of all retired bituminous coal miners were cut Friday from $100 to $75 a month, starting with the February payments.

The action was taken by the trustees of the United Mine Workers welfare and retirement fund because of reduced income from the 40-cent royalty on each ton of coal produced.

More than 65,000 retired miners are affected. The pensions of anthracite miners previously had been cut from $100 to $50 monthly because of even more depressed conditions in the anthracite industry.

Decatur Plant Burns With $25,000 Damage

DECATUR (AP)—Fire of unknown origin Friday destroyed the Vlied & Sons cold storage plant in Decatur with losses estimated by Ted Vliek at more than $25,000.

No one was injured in the fire which ruined 3,000 bushels of produce, a truck, a boat and packing and refrigeration equipment.

Urge Talk With Rebels

AIX-EN-PROVENCE, France (AP)—A group of French politicians, including former Premier Pierre Mendes-France, Friday wound up a discussion of the Algerian conflict with a resolution urging France to negotiate with the rebel National Liberation Front (FLN).

Police Need No Aid From Broadcaster

MEDWAY, Mass. (AP)—Ronald Greene, 26, an announcer for radio station WMRC, went on the air Friday night with his usual program of recorded music and newscasts.

Several times he asked his audience to notify police immediately if they had information about a hit-and-run motorist who earlier had struck and killed a Medway boy.

Police Chief William Giallonardo was standing just outside the broadcast studio when Greene completed his final news announcement and arrested him as the hit-and-run driver.

Green was booked on a manslaughter charge early today in the death of Domenick de Fazio, 12.

The boy was killed by an automobile while wheeling his bicycle along Route 109 Friday. The motorist did not stop.

Giallonardo said a fender ornament about the size of a half-dollar found near the scene led to Greene's arrest.

He said it matched a piece missing from an automobile parked in the municipal parking lot. The car was traced through its registration number as Greene's.

The police chief said Greene had gone on the air with news of the boy's death three times while police were tracking down the automobile.

Giallonardo said Greene admitted driving along Route 109 Friday but said the broadcaster told him: "I don't remember hitting anything or seeing anything unusual on the highway."

Winter Means Time to Sew

With proper care, the sparkling azalea you received as a Christmas or holiday gift plant will reward you with handsome performance and months of indoor and outdoor beauty. Azaleas should be kept in a porous red clay pot, easy to water indoors, to set right into the soil outdoors in summer.

After the flower-laden plant comes into your home, keep it out of the sun in a cool room so blossoms last longer. Regular watering is important. Set the pot in a deep bowl or saucer and fill this with water every day so the plant can absorb moisture through the porous pot walls. Water left in the saucer after an hour should be spilled out.

Once a week soak the plant thoroughly by placing the pot in a dish pan or bucket of water so the entire pot is submerged. As soon as air bubbles stop rising, let the pot drain well and return it to its saucer.

When May brings warm weather, move the plant outdoors. Plunge the porous clay pot up to its rim in the soil of a shaded garden bed where moisture and air will travel through its porous walls. A non-porous pot cannot be plunged into the ground since rains would flood it and the soggy soil inside would become water-logged and harm the plant.

Water the plant daily all summer. In fall, before frost, bring it into the house again and place it in a cool room in good light. Water regularly and spray the leaves until the buds show color. By the new year, your azalea should be in full bloom again.

Supplies left over from last summer's gardening may be conveniently stored in galvanized steel garbage cans. Bags of fertilizer, peat moss, bulbs and seeds are protected from damage by moisture and rodents when kept in the sturdy cans. If more than one storage can is used, mark the contents on the sides of the cans.

Do you like exotic flowers which can be used for dramatic effect in either a traditional or contemporary decor, that you can grow yourself? Here is a choice one that blooms almost continuously and provides lush foliage that is handsome at all times. It is the newest indoor plant, a giant white Spathiphyllum named Mauna Loa. The result of a cewtseebosr The result of a cross between a dwarf everblooming species, S. floribundum and a husky plant with large green flowers, S. commitatum.

Large oval leaves are dark green, have dramatic furrows along the veins. The big, beautiful white flowers are fragrant and are produced almost continuously, often with a dozen or more on the plant at one time. They will last for 3 weeks on the plant and for several days when cut. Commercial growers find the cut flowers in great demand for weddings and for holiday table decorations.

Native to South American tropics, Spathiphyllum inhabits the floor of the jungle, where it thrives in the rich organic debris. Indoors it needs a planter mix containing peat moss and fir bark and grows well in the warm, relatively dark interiors of our homes. When exposed to diffuse light it grows faster and blooms more frequently. However, it can be maintained for long periods in a dark location.

Your green thumb need not suffer frustration during the winter months. Many plants thrive indoors and provide the gardener with many pleasurable hours in their care and the delight of watching them grow. Window sills, countertops and other level surfaces, if covered with a waterproof material such as ceramic tile, may serve as settings for plant pots and boxes throughout the house.

Declares 10 Ct. Dividend

DETROIT (AP) — Continental Motors Corp. Friday declared a 10-cent per share dividend, payable Jan. 31 to stockholders of record Jan. 13. A dividend of 15 cents was paid last Oct. 31.

Dr. Sullenberger Settles Suit . . . to Pay $15,000

A Probate Court settlement for $15,000 was reached yesterday between the widow of a Commerce Township man and Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger.

Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore signed the settlement order in which Mrs. Marion L. Mero of 1545 Larkspur Road, agreed not to sue the former Pontiac General Hospital surgeon further in the 1957 death of her husband Eli N. Mero.

Mrs. Mero, the mother of two children, had dismissed a $250,000 lawsuit filed in October of 1959 in Circuit Court after, she claimed in the suit, that Dr. Sullenberger admitted he "goofed" during the ulcer operation on her husband.

Yesterday's order showed that Dr. Sullenberger had agreed to pay the $15,000 damages to Mrs. Mero, administratrix of the estate of her late husband.

63 Patients Saved in Hospital Fire

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — A fast spreading fire heavily damaged the Park Place Hospital near dawn today but all 63 patients, including eight tiny babies, were evacuated without injury.

The fire broke out around a sterilizer in a surgery room of the 155-bed hospital and spread through one wing and the main section of the modern one-story brick building. There was no patient in surgery at the time.

The fire broke out about 7:30 a.m. (Pontiac time), as the staff of nurses were changing shifts. The fire was brought under control at 8 a.m. Many of the patients were asleep.

Police Subdue Dad After Murder Threat

DETROIT (AP) — A father of four children who reportedly threatened to kill all his family was flushed from his barricaded basement today by using tear gas.

Cucchiara dropped a shotgun and grappled with officers as he ran out of the basement. He was subdued and held for investigation of assault with intent to murder.

Cucchiara's wife, Zena, 39, had gone to a police precinct station with the children, aged 10 to 17, saying her husband had threatened to kill them all. She said she and Cucchiara had quarreled over financial problems and his drinking.

Art May Give Aid to Retarded

U. of Wisconsin Doctor Has Assembled First International Exhibit

With such possibilities in mind, Dr. Ionel Rapaport, University of Wisconsin psychiatrist, has assembled the first international exhibit of art by the mentally retarded.

Its 64 exhibits from 13 countries range from oils and finger paintings to collages and tapestry. The artists, both children and adults, have IQs from as low as 23 to the high 60's.

In organizing the show, Dr. Rapaport said that in art there are "new possibilities of evaluating and developing the nonverbal intelligence of the retarded, new insights in the creative process . . ."

Intelligence quotients (IQ's) are evaluated on verbal and problem solving bases, leaving a gap in evaluation of nonverbal abilities. Although some retarded may not be able to communicate intelligently through words, in the exhibit they communicate through the medium of art.

Dr. Rapaport raises the question that perhaps the retarded are not so deficient in such creative fields. He suggests establishment of a permanent collection of mentally retarded art for further studies and as part of an art therapy program.

Most of the works in the exhibit are as vividly colored and as seemingly gay as a child's imagination. Some simply are crude drawings that might be found in many a coloring book, others are similar to the primitives, and still others are imaginative, stimulating abstracts.

Neighbors Rouse Lake Orion Man as Home Blazes

W. J. Roehler, 34, of 602 Detroit Ave., had gone to bed early. His wife and daughter were away at the time.

Roehler was awakened at about 10:30 by neighbors breaking windows in his home and shouting at him.

The house was filled with smoke. Orion Fire Chief Jack Taylor said he believed the fire was started by a defective cord on the Roehlers' Christmas tree lights.

A front room was gutted. Damage is estimated at between $3,000 and $4,000 by Taylor who said the home suffered extensive heat and smoke damage.

Discoverer 17 Done, Burns Up in Space

HANSCOM FIELD, Mass. (AP) — The National Space Surveillance Control Center says the Air Force Satellite Discoverer 17 burned up in the atmosphere Wednesday.

The center said Friday the satellite apparently was consumed between its 720th and 725th revolutions. That left 17 objects in orbit around the earth, including one Soviet and 16 U. S. satellites.

Discoverer 17 was launched Nov. 12 from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

Executive Sees Good '61

MIDLAND (AP)—President Leland I. Doan of the Dow Chemical Co. today predicted an upturn in the nation's economy by the middle of 1961. In a year-end statement Doan said that 1961 should be a better year than 1960. He said there should be a gradual strengthening of the economy after the first few months of the new year.

Farm Prices Higher

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Farm prices rose slightly in the month ended Dec. 15 and averaged about 5 per cent higher than at the same period a year earlier. Farm costs also went up slightly for the month to a point about one-third of 1 per cent above those of a year ago.

RING OUT THE OLD Ring in the New in a beautiful new home of your own. Only recently completed, owners business compels sale of his grey brick tri-level complimented with purple Included is a 25' recreation room paneled in Japanese Ash and featuring a pale lavender ranch brick, floor to ceiling fireplace. GE oven and surface burners. Bath and a half gas heat. Oversize insulated 2 car garage. Aluminum combinations carpeting, a coach light plus professional landscaping all contribute to gracious living in '61 and many years to follow.

LIVE WELL IN '61 A very nominal down payment will start you toward ownership of a fine family home in Indian Village. 3 generous bedrooms, an honest to goodness dining room and a big living room with a fireplace will make this truly a home for a family who want shopping centers, schools, and church's close at hand. Full price? Only $13,500.

A BIT OF EXTRA LAND, a lot of practically new house for $11,900!! Built in '58; it has a lovely newly carpeted living room, a smart 22' kitchen and 3 bedrooms on one floor. Excellent dry basement nice enough to live in. $2400 is the complete down payment (no mortgage costs on this one) and payments of $75 per month on a 6 per cent land contract. Good garden spot; West suburban location.

ELIZABETH LAKE ESTATES can be your home. We're now offering a delightful 4 bedroom Cape Cod. Best of decorations, lovely carpeting in both living room and the family dining room. Of course, there is a basement and its divided for recreation too! Meets all competition at $14,900, terms.

SO MANY OF YOU HAVE asked for a home with all large rooms, but not an excessive number of them. The living room is 19 x 13, each bedroom large enough for twin beds plus accessories galore! You'll love the kitchen, too; its also 19' long. Dandy basement. Carpeting, venetian blinds and cornices are included at $11,500, but requires good down payment. You'll be GLAD YOU LOOKED!

Some Election Jokes Retold by Columnist

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — That was a funny year we just had. And there was one very funny thing about it—

When I printed the best jokes for the first half of 1960, there wasn't one about Jack Kennedy—and the leadoff quip was one by Jan Murray who had said:

WILSON

"I wouldn't say that Nixon is confident, but during a rainstorm he called the White House and asked Mamie to close the windows."

As Bob Hope has since said, "I had the world's greatest file of golf jokes and they elected a guy that plays touch football!"

"Kennedy's mother is going to let him stay up and watch the election returns" was an early entry. Jack Kennedy purportedly went crying to his mother that "Bobby wants to play with my country." When the future First Lady had a son, all the comics predicted "there are going to be a lot of changes made around the White House."

"Never mind how Kennedy's doing, is Sinatra carrying Hoboken?" was an election day line. Joey Bishop claimed he'd wired Sinatra, "Remember, you promised me I could be postmaster of Englewood." Bobby Rydell claimed an L.A. banker was heard saying to a customer, "One more thing, Mr. Lawford—do you have a reliable reference?"

The Kennedys captured the gags as they captured the country. Jack Paar and the W.C., Castro and his cotton-pickin' chicken pickin', Anthony Armstrong-Jones, Sammy Davis and May Britt, Khrushchev, David Merrick, Jackie Gleason, Marilyn Monroe, Bobby Darin, Beverly Aadland and of course "Rocky" were the other principal gag targets.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: One of the "Gypsy" chorines said it this way: "He's the last of the Big Spenders. He spends every evening at my place."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "If the Russians don't twist your arm, they twist your statements"—Honey Sanders.

A Kansas father advised his marrying son, "Make it clear to your bride you're reserving the right to spend one night a week with the boys. But don't waste it on boys" . . . That's earl, brother.

China's 'Bad Crops' Not True, Says U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—American experts believe Red China is trying to cover up mismanagement of its agriculture by claiming the worst weather in 100 years ruined much of the 1960 crops.

At the same time that the Chinese Communists have kept countless millions hungry under strict rationing, they have been sending sizable exports of food to the outside world, State Department analysts said Friday.

The Red shipments include large amounts to places like Cuba and Guinea where the aim is to promote communism, not economically sensible trade.

Peiping radio says wind, pests and a drought that almost dried up the great Yellow River in 1960 affected 150 million acres of farmland, half of Communist China's total cultivated acreage.

U. S. authorities estimate that actually, the Reds' 1960 harvest roughly equaled that of the year before and was close to average. They admit China suffered some natural disasters, but doubt they were of the size proclaimed by Red propagandists.

Says Michigan Growth Assured

Walker Cisler Cites Natural, Human, Water Resources of State

In a year-end statement on industrial and economic prospects, Cisler said Southeastern Michigan has the advantage of strategic location on the St. Lawrence Seaway and Great Lakes.

Southern Michigan also has the advantage of an electric power supply which probably is unexcelled anywhere in the world, Cisler said.

This electrical system should be judged, Cisler said, on the size of the financial investment involved. Cisler said Detroit Edison's six major power plants and other facilities now account for $1.16 billion.

Only about 100 companies of all kinds in the United States have plants exceeding one billion dollars in value, Cisler said.

Second Nuclear Sub Now Off on Patrol

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—The armed submarine Patrick Henry is sliding silently beneath the surface of the Atlantic Ocean today, ready to launch her powerful Polaris missiles at any aggressor.

The big sub was sent to sea on a war-ready basis Friday, joining her sister sub, the George Washington, and doubling this nation's striking power from undersea launching sites.

De Gaulle's Speech to Ask Policy Support

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle makes a New Year's appeal to the French people today to support his plan to make war-torn Algeria a semi-independent republic.

Algeria was the main topic of De Gaulle's television-radio address on the government's policies for 1961. The address was scheduled for simultaneous broadcast to both metropolitan France and Algeria.

As is his custom, De Gaulle kept the text of his speech secret before air time.

France Has Big Reserve

PARIS (AP)—France is ending the year with a healthy $2.1 billion in gold and foreign currency holdings. This nest egg has been built up from almost zero two years ago when President Charles de Gaulle returned to power and the French recovery started.

Sicily's Mt. Etna Erupts

CATANIA, Sicily (AP) — Mt. Etna, Europe's biggest volcano, breathing fire after a three-month lull, today hurled red hot rocks and ashes 600 feet into the air with explosions at the rate of one a minute. Lava rolled down the north of the 10,705-foot volcano but the nearest farms and villages were miles away and in no immediate danger.

HAPPY NEW YEAR (AND BIRTHDAY, TOO!) — Midnight tonight not only opens the door to 1961. It marks the beginning of Pontiac's centennial year as well. Pretty Judy Wagner, 18, dons a fancy cap and admires a birthday cake in observance of the double occasion. A clerk in The Pontiac Press bookkeeping department, Judy joins us in wishing everyone a happy New Year and Pontiac a happy birthday. (Yes, there're 100 candles on the cake.)

DEATH CAR—This is the car that carried a Pontiac couple to their death yesterday afternoon when it was struck broadside by a beer truck near Eaton Rapids. Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Spratt of 459 Raeburn St. were killed instantly. Also killed was the truck driver. Police said the three victims were thrown from the vehicles.

Truck Rammed Car Broadside; Driver Killed

Traffic Death Watch Under Way in State; 36 Was Last Year's Toll

A Pontiac couple was killed instantly in a car-truck collision near Eaton Rapids late yesterday afternoon as the long, dangerous New Year's holiday weekend got under way.

Charles V. Spratt, 48, and his wife, Margaret, 46, of 459 Raeburn St., were killed about an hour before the official holiday count began at 6 p.m. yesterday.

By the middle of the day, traffic mishaps had claimed three lives in Michigan and 44 across the country. Fires and miscellaneous accidents brought the nation's accidental death toll to 60.

The Spratts were driving to Lansing to get a copy of a birth certificate for the oldest of their two sons, Curtis, 26, so he could enter Officer's Candidate School.

Their car was struck broadside by a beer truck at Columbia Highway and M99 about five miles north of Eaton Rapids shortly before 4:30 p.m.

Also killed was the truck driver, Richard A. Stanton, 34, of Holt. Eaton County Sheriff Elwin Smith said all three victims were thrown from the vehicles.

The Spratts were going east on Columbia Highway. Smith said it "couldn't be determined if Mrs. Spratt, who was driving the car, missed a stop sign but witnesses said the truck driver didn't have a chance."

Their oldest son is in the Army. Another son, Guy, 19, lives at home.

Local police braced for the weekend today after getting through the first night without a fatality or serious accident.

Last year five perons were killed in Oakland County between 6 p.m. New Year's Eve and noon New Year's Day.

The first accident investigated by the Pontiac State Police Post in 1960 was a triple-fatality on Dixie Highway.

TOT 1ST FATALITY

Last night a 1-year-old boy became Michigan's first traffic victim of the holiday weekend in an accident near Battle Creek.

Rodney Hudson of Battle Creek was killed when the car in which he was riding tried to pass a bus and collided head-on with an oncoming auto. The accident happened on M37 in Bedford Township near Battle Creek.

Two men died in a crash Saturday morning to boost the death toll to three.

Phil Chavous, 21, of South Bend, Ind., and Albert Keith, 27, of Cassopolis, were killed when the car in which they were riding went

Castro's Papers Declare U.S. to Invade Cuba

Say Marines Will Land Before Jan. 18; Action Taken to Stop Tourists

HAVANA (AP)—Progovernment newspapers declared today Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime has been informed U.S. Marines will invade Cuba before Jan. 18.

Both the semiofficial Revolucion and the government-owned El Mundo said "reliable sources" had told the government of an invasion plan which they reported was arranged by the Pentagon and the Central Intelligence Agency.

They added that it has already been approved by President Eisenhower, who will be succeeded by President-Elect John F. Kennedy Jan. 20.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House today described as absolutely untrue reports in Cuban newspapers that U.S. Marines plan to invade Cuba by Jan. 18. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty answered with "nuts" when told of the reports.

Shortly before the newspapers appeared, the government suspended regulations that long have allowed American tourists to enter Cuba easily.

The Cabinet decided in a marathon session that the Foreign Ministry will determine in the future what tourists from the United States may enter the country without visas.

In almost identical language, Revolucion and El Mundo said Cuba will live "under imminent danger of U.S. attack in coming days."

Chilly Arrival Forecast for '61 in Pontiac Area

Cold weather is forecast for New Year's Day over most of the country.

Snow flurries and a freezing 18 degrees is predicted for tonight in the Pontiac area. Sunday's high will be near 27. The outlook for Monday is partly cloudy and continued quite cold.

Southerly morning winds at 5 miles per hour will become northerly at 10-20 miles by tonight.

In its 30-day outlook, the U.S. Weather Bureau says temperatures would average below seasonal normals over the Great Lakes Region. Subnormal precipitation was indicated for this area.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 24 degrees. At 1 p.m. the recording was 32.

Radio Vientiane reported today that Communist North Viet Nam troops had crossed into Laos in force, creating a situation so dangerous to peace that President Eisenhower called in State and Defense Department officials to discuss the crisis.

Brussels Strikers Put On Silent Mourning March

Strike leaders called it a "mourners'" demonstration for Francois van der Strappen, 30, who was killed in Friday's fighting between state police and demonstrators in the worst outbreak of violence during the 12-day-old strike.

The marchers shouted no slogans and ignored the police for the first time since the demonstrations began in the Belgian capital. There were no incidents.

Police say the man who shot Van der Strappen came to the aid of a policeman who was being mauled by demonstrators.

As Belgians uneasily awaited the new year, fearing it would bring new violence, informants said Eyskens plans to talk to the nation by radio and television, perhaps tonight.

MARCH IN SILENCE

Before today's marchers moved off from Socialist party headquarters, a union official told them: "Make this a silent demonstration. Perhaps silence will do more than shouts, slogans and broken windows."

The strikes and violence which have raged for 12 days throughout Belgium showed signs of easing during the holiday, but the grave political differences remain as large as ever.

The first week of the new year brings several events officials fear could spark new violence.

Premier Gaston Eyskens goes before Parliament Tuesday in an effort to ram through the government's controversial economic reform program of his Catholic-Liberal government over bitter Socialist opposition.

Socialist leaders have scheduled huge demonstrations and walkouts for Wednesday in Brussels and Antwerp.

Did You Get Under Sales Tax Wire?

How will the new 4 per cent sales tax affect retail transactions started, but not completed, before Jan. 1, the date the new rate goes into effect?

The Michigan Retailers Association has analyzed several typical situations for the benefit of its member agencies across the state.

The 4 per cent sales tax is an increase of the present 3 per cent sales tax. The 1 per cent increase also applies to the present 3 per cent use tax. The increases go into effect at midnight Dec. 31.

The deciding factor in transactions that are not completed before Jan. 1 is the date that the contract was signed and the title passed. If the contract were signed and the title passed before Jan. 1, tthe 1 per cent increase will not apply.

Chamber officials said the association's presentation was a good guide for retailers and consumers.

Richard O. Cook, executive vice president of the association, said the examples "have been cleared with the Michigan Department of Revenue."

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Q. The customer purchased a washer and dryer Dec. 10. She made the required down payment, the balance to be paid monthly on extended payment contract. Is the tax 3 per cent or 4 per cent?

A. Title passed when the customer signed the time payment contract and delivery was made. This being prior to Jan. 1, the tax is 3 per cent.

Q. We have taken orders for furniture wherein the customer selects the style and fabric. These orders were placed Dec. 10, but delivery will not be made until sometime in the future. As the orders were taken prior to Jan. 1, we assume that the tax will be 3 per cent. Is this correct?

A. No, the tax will be 4 per per cent. Even though the order was placed prior to Jan. 1, delivery will not be made and title passed until after the effective date of the 4 per cent sales tax.

Q. Mrs. Jones selected a coat from our stock Dec. 10 priced at $100. She paid $10 down and had

Woman Raped in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — A woman was assaulted and robbed near her East Side home last night despite a giant police crackdown aimed at curbing such attacks.

The woman, who is 44 years old, told officers she got off a bus and was walking down a residential street when a Negro man about 25 years of age looped a rope around her neck and dragged her between two houses.

She said the man raped her and took her purse which contained $80.

Police said the woman lived outside Detroit's biggest crime area where the crackdown is concentrated.

One shooting occurred on Detroit's East Side today when a policeman who was driving home after duty spotted two Negro men carrying television sets from an appliance store.

The officer, Detective Jack O'Kelly, ordered the men to surrender and shot and wounded one of the men, identified as Joseph Tolliver, 26, when he tried to flee.

Tolliver was struck in the chest and was rushed to Receiving Hospital. His companion escaped during the shooting.

The crackdown was ordered after the death Tuesday of a nurses aide who was beaten repeatedly on the head with a brass bar by a Negro man who stole her purse.

All of Detroit's policemen were placed on six-day work weeks as part of the crackdown.

About 600 persons have been arrested in three days and many have been jailed for carrying concealed knives, or other weapons, or for parole violations or crimes for which they had been sought.

Chiang Hints to Kennedy He Values Offshore Isles

TAIPEI (UPI) — President Chiang Kai-shek gave a veiled warning to the incoming administration of President-Elect John F. Kennedy today against surrender of the Chinese Nationalist offshore islands.

Chiang, in a New Year's message, said Formosa as well as the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu occupy a "pivotal position in the anti-Communist line-up in Asia."

Falls at Niagara Gorge, Suffers Leg Scratches

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Wayne Ganesworth, 18, tripped and fell through a guard rail along the Niagara River gorge below Niagara Falls early today and plunged 55 feet, straight down into a snowbank.

Police, using ropes and a basket, got him back to the top in 1½ hours. At a hospital, doctors examined him and reported these injuries: leg scratches.

Housing Post Goes to Negro

Kennedy Also Appoints W. Averell Harriman Roving Ambassador

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-Elect John F. Kennedy today gave to a Negro crusader Robert C. Weaver the high-level job of directing the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy today names a Negro—first to be picked for a top job in the new administration—as chief of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Kennedy scheduled a late morning news conference for formal announcement of appointment of Robert C. Weaver, 51, now vice chairman of New York City's Housing and Redevelopment Board. He has a Harvard doctor of philosophy degree.

He also has served for the past year as national chairman of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Selection of Weaver became known Friday night after the Averell Harriman, former envoy to the Soviet Union and former governor of New York, to serve as his roving ambassador on important special missions abroad.

Kennedy said the overseas assignments he has in mind for Harriman will be carried out by a man "who has the full confidence of the president and an intimate knowledge of all aspects of United States policy."

Weaver arrived in Palm Beach Friday night for a meeting with the president-elect at the Kennedy seaside home in advance of today's news conference. He told newsmen he was sounded out earlier in the week about his availability for housing post, and later got word he had been confirmed for the job.

ONE FORM OF ANGUISH — A hangover's wrath knows no favorites as this Fort Wayne, Ind., man found when he dared look in his mirror one New Year's Day morning. Bud Fry's head tapped out the message that his New Year's Eve was a real gasser. In other parts of the world there is a different kind of anguish, with the blood bath in Laos, rioting in Belgium and war in the Congo.

Time, as measured by man, will die for a flashing instant. And instantly it will be reborn.

The year 1960 ends; 1961 begins. But time, in this brief void, cannot be measured by man as he would measure a meadow — in rods. Nor as he would measure an ocean—in miles.

But he also said he was searching on the dawn of this new year "to find in the uncertainty of an agitated world, some glimmer promising serenity."

ANGUISH AND STRIFE

As the 79-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church spoke, there was anguish and strife on three continents.

In Asia, it was the blood bath in Laos.

In Europe, it was rioting in Belgium.

In Africa, it was war between opposing factions in the Congo, and racial tension further to the south.

So, on the first day of the new year, the head of the world's peace organization, United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, will be flying to some

Northern Has Fill of Fed; Loses 73-48

Pontiac Northern's basketball players saw almost nothing except big George Fed on their backboards last night as Pontiac Central whipped the Huskies for the fourth time, 73-48, before a capacity crowd in the Central High gymnasium.

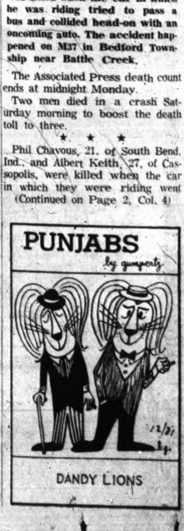
The nimble 6 - foot - 3 Fed grabbed 38 rebounds, a new single-game record at Central, and tallied 22 points to take individual scoring honors as the Chiefs ran away from their intracity rivals in the second half for an easy conquest.

It was Northern's first defeat compared to three victories and Central's third triumph against two losses. For further details of this and other area games yesterday turn to page 13 of the sports section.



Laos Invaded by Troops of Red North Viet Nam

From Our News Wires

Communist North Vietnamese troops were reported today to have entered Laos, but United States officials in Washington said they had no information to confirm it.

The Paris newspaper "L'Aurore" said seven battalions of Red North Vietnamese soldiers marched across the border and were engaged in fighting with Laotian forces.

In Bangkok, Thailand the U.S. Embassy said it had no reports of alleged troop movements across the Northern Laos border.

A spokesman said "our total information of past 36 hours indicates increasing activity in Laos' northern border region, but no Viet Minh troops have crossed as far as we know."

RADIO BROADCAST

"L'Aurore" said the following communique was broadcast over the Laotian government radio in Vientiane:

"Five battalions of Vietminh (Communist North Vietnamese) troops, well-armed and equipped with artillery, marched across the border separating the Popular Republic of North Viet Nam from Laos in East Tsien Koong Province. Two other battalions have attacked Laotian troops at Ban Bao. Fighting is now going on."

In London, the British Foreign Office said it has received nothing so far to confirm the Laotian government's claim.

A spokesman refused formal comment on the report. But it was clear that Britain's attitude was being shaped by two urgent considerations:

1. Whether Laotian Premier Prince Boun Oum will be able to substantiate his "intelligence reports" of the invasion.

2. Whether Boun Oum's government will invoke its right to appeal for the military protection of the Southeast Treaty Organization (SEATO).

U.S. officials were skeptical about the accuracy of the reports. They said they felt the Communists, realizing that a foreign penetration of Laos might bring SEATO into action, would not undertake any overt operation.

"L'Aurore," quoting "reliable sources" in Laos, said the Laotian government was preparing an immediate appeal to the United Nations.

Moscow Radio said last night "The world has never in recent times been so near to conflict as now" because of the Laotian crisis.

"The situation in Laos has reached a boiling point," Moscow radio said.

"Even the American press cannot but admit that Washington's gross interference has created a situation in Laos which is very much similar to the situation which arose as a consequence of the aggression against the Korean people."

* * *

American officials said they doubted that anything could be accomplished by another U.N. discussion of the Laotian crisis since the Soviet Union undoubtedly would veto any Security Council action.

Did That Purchase Beat Sales Tax Hike?

it put in layaway. She will pick up the coat in January and pay the balance. What tax applies?

A. The tax will be 4 per cent on the entire amount because title did not transfer until after the new tax was effective.

Q. Mrs. Brown selected a dress from our stock Dec. 10. It was charged to her regular open account and will be paid in January. What rate of tax applies?

The 3 per cent tax. The dress was charged to her and title passed in December.

Q. We purchased supplies out of state, subject to use tax, that were shipped and billed in November but will not be received until Jan. 2. Is the purchase subject to 3 per cent use tax or 4 per cent.

* * *

A. The purchase is subject to 4 per cent use tax. Even though shipped and billed in November, the supplies will not come to you for use until after Jan. 1. This is somewhat technical, but the Department of Revenue has ruled that the tax in question is a "use" tax, and inasmuch as you could not "use" the supplies until they were received, after Jan. 1, that date must be the deciding factor.

Snow and Rain Dulling Center of the Country

By The Associated Press

Generally cloudy skies with occasional light snow extended from the Dakotas to the Upper Great Lakes today with another cloud cover with occasional rain or drizzle extending from the Southern Plains eastward to the Gulf.

NO VACATION FOR THEM — These teachers and counselors at Pontiac Northern High School are among the many for whom there is little or no vacation this holiday season. They've been working regular hours this week, planning the second semester of a new pilot English-social studies course for college preparatory seniors at Northern. Charting the course are Peter Evarts, Wallace Schlorke, Betty Murphy, and John Maturo.

It's Vacation Time for Pupils but Not So for Many Teachers

By DICK SAUNDERS

But much of our school personnel chortles, "Vacation! What vacation?"

Administrative offices have been open while administrators spend long hours pouring over next year's budget, policies, new materials, building and maintenance programs, recruitment programs, teacher pay schedules and many other items.

It hasn't been a vacation for them.

Take the case of Arden Sears, a vocal music teacher at Madison Junior High School.

HOURS BUSY

He's been trying to divide his time between work on school papers and materials for next semester, preparing a research paper, and studying for his final exam in a graduate course at Wayne State University.

Somehow he found time to arrange several afternoon rehearsals at Madison for a group of eight area teen-agers who are "interested" in forming a combo (2 guitars, a drummer and 5 vocalists).

But this isn't why he sports the harried expression.

If he hits a clinker on the piano it's because his wife is expecting her first child "in a week, or 10 days, or anytime now."

Then there's Duane Steele, chemistry and math teacher at Pontiac Central High. He doesn't have any domestic worries (he's still single), but he's plenty busy anyway.

Steele is using his vacation time to put in more time on a text-workbook elementary science series he began some four years ago.

"I worked all last summer on the project and have now completed outlining the study course for each grade," said Steele.

"Right now I'm working on the third grade book and am roughly half way through it."

The books will range in size from about 90 pages for third to 120 for sixth grade.

Each book will be a complete science text and workbook in itself covering the fields of chemistry, physics, geology, astronomy and biology.

At Pontiac Northern there are four teachers who have been working their regular hours on a course for college prep seniors called "Studies in American Democracy."

The four are Peter Evarts, head of the English Department; Wallace C. Schloerke, head of the social studies department; John E. Maturo, social studies teacher; and Betty Murphy, English teacher.

Both Maturo and Miss Murphy are also counselors.

The course was introduced last September. These staff members are now mapping out the second semester.

"Its purpose is to relate more closely the two subjects through integration of literature and social studies concepts on a college level," said Evarts.

At the instructional materials center at Webster School, Mrs. Phyllis Wilson, a clerk, is holding down the fort surrounded by some 3,000 books.

Mrs. Wilson has her hands full this week as books are delivered, orders processed and books prepared for delivery to Pontiac's 28 schools.

WORKS ON FILE

The center is also in the process of getting book orders ready for the 1961-62 school year.

At Washington Junior High School, Elizabeth King, librarian, is undertaking a mammoth task of starting a verticle, or information file.

"The Washington library has never had one and this file is excellent for reference work," she said.

It will list reading material by subject and include an author section and picture section.

Probably the hardest workers of all are the maintenance men under Cloyd I. Houts, director of building operation and plant maintenance.

Major projects this week have been the remodeling of a basement classroom at Baldwin Elementary School and installing two new gas ranges in the cafeteria at Eastern Junior High School.

At Pontiac Central the crew is revamping lockers in the locker rooms to make the lockers vandal-proof.

Heating facilities and equipment at many schools is being renovated and repaired where needed.

All schools in the Pontiac School District are getting their hallway and classroom floors washed and waxed or sealed.

Gymnasiums and multipurpose rooms where there are lunchroom programs will have their floors rennovated and sealed.

All tile floors are waxed. Wood and terazza floors are sealed.

"It's a pretty big order with only four days to work in but we'll have everything in shipshape by Tuesday," said Houts.

Crash Kills City Couple

out of control 14 miles southeast of Cassopolis and crashed into a utility pole. Both victims were thrown from the car.

EXPECT 340 TO DIE

Restaurant concessionaries along a number of highways offer free coffee to motorists.

Police were on special alert in many communities and in some were directed to transport overly happy revelers to their homes rather than let them risk driving.

Just a year ago, a record number of deaths for a three-day New Year's weekend were counted with 374 in traffic, 63 in fires and 76 in miscellaneous accidents for a total of 513.

Urbanites Not Too Well Mentally

NEW YORK (AP) — A study checking on mental health of city folk finds only 18.5 per cent of them completely well.

Psychiatrists classified 36.3 per cent as having mild symptoms, 21.8 per cent moderate symptoms and 23.4 per cent impaired—having symptoms interfering with life functions.

The findings are part of a long-term community health study in a midtown area of New York City, conducted by researchers of New York Hospital and Cornell University Medical College.

The risk of poor mental health is determined by the number of stresses met through life, Dr. Thomas S. Langner, a sociologist, said in a report prepared for the closing sessions of the American Association for the Advancement of Science today.

The study finds little to support the idea that mental illness is brought on by one single stressful experience which suddenly snaps the string, he said.

"Events in the life history seems to 'pile up' increasing impairment, but there is no one event which automatically spells disaster for all those who experience it," he said.

Princess, Tony Visit His Mom in Ireland

SHANNON, Ireland (UPI) — Princess Margaret and her husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones, arrived by plane today for a visit with Tony's mother in Ireland.

They were greeted by thousands of young Irishmen and women who defied police barriers at the airport.

It was the first visit to Ireland by a member of the British royal family in 32 years.

Irish authorities, fearing protest demonstrations by anti-British Irish Republicans, took strict security measures to protect the couple.

bring off the invasion and thus present Kennedy a war situation before the incoming president can do anything to stop it.

PERU BREAKS

The papers said these developments support the invasion warning:

Peru broke relations with Cuba Friday night.

Venezuela announced it will not recognize the new Cuban ambassador.

The U.S. Embassy has called in all U.S. residents of Havana to give them "very important news."

This apparently alluded to a notice sent out Friday by the embassy to representatives of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee.

Some of its members and supporters are touring Cuba, and an embassy spokesman said U.S. officials would be available at 10 a.m. this morning to answer their questions—and present the U.S. side—on Cuban-American relations.

The dispatch from the Uruguayan capital quoted "a well informed source" as saying the U.S. State Department had sent a secret message to Latin American governments expressing U.S. preoccupation at the reported installation of missile bases in Cuba and advising that the United States will intervene in Cuba with troops.

The purpose of the purported message, Prensa Latina said, was to convince Latin-American nations that multilateral intervention would be preferable to action by the United States alone.

Sources once very close to Castro and now broken away from him have said Castro has been personally convinced for some time that the United States would send Marines to destroy his revolution.

ANGER GROWS

Growing anger among leaders of hemispheric neighbors was evident over the activities of Cuban agents charged with spreading revolutionary propaganda among the masses.

There was speculation among diplomats in Lima that Columbia, Venezuela and Chile may follow suit and freeze out Castro agents.

The Day in Birmingham

First Methodist Church Mission Class Dates Set

BIRMINGHAM—The First Methodist Church of Birmingham will hold a School of Missions on four successive Sundays beginning Jan. 8.

The programs, which will be held from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m., are planned for adults and children in the primary and junior grades.

The Rev. Kenneth Enright, a Methodist missionary in the Congo for 10 years, will be the guest speaker at the first session of the school.

The Rev. Enright is district superintendent of the Sandoa District and has been engaged in evangelistic work and the opening of new churches in the bushlands of the Congo.

He is an ordained minister in the Southern Congo Conference and has worked among the Lunda, Tshokwo and Sanga tribes. He came home last April and is expecting to return to the Congo in the spring.

On Jan. 15 a film entitled "Household of Faith" will be presented. It explains the Protestant Ecumenical Movement as it is in the world today.

The third program in the four-part series will have Raj Kumar Michael of the Ingraham Institute in India as guest speaker.

Michael, who has been aiding his government with social and economic development in the villages of India, will show films of the work carried on at the Ingraham Institute.

Films and tape recordings of the work carried on in Wembo Nyama, Congo, will be the presentation at the last class.

The films and tapes are the work of Dr. and Mrs. Robert White, missionaries supported by the First Methodist Church.

Hutcheson, who has been associated with the company for 38 years, began his career in the Chicago branch of GMAC in 1922 after his graduation from the University of Michigan.

HUTCHESON

He held various supervisory positions in the Chicago office until 1928 when he was named manager of the Peoria, Ill., branch.

After brief service in Birmingham, Ala., Hutcheson returned to Chicago in 1931 as branch manager for GMAC and held this position until 1935 when he was designated manager of the Chicago region.

In 1955 he was transferred to Detroit as regional manager and assumed the additional responsibilities of vice president.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutcheson plan to continue living in Birmingham.

Hammarskjold will talk with Congo President Joseph Kasavubu in an effort to avoid possible civil war between followers of Kasavubu and his leading rival, Patrice Lumumba, former Congolese premier now imprisoned by Kasavubu's army.

Then Hammarskjold will journey to South Africa to discuss steps aimed at easing the tension caused by South Africa's racial segregation policies.

Hammarskjold also will visit Gamal Abdel Nasser, president of the United Arab Republic, and Prime Minister Nehru of India.

FOR AMERICA!

On the home front, 1961 promised to be an eventful year for Americans.

On Jan. 20, a new president, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, will assume the heavy cares of the most important public office in the free Western world.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower on that day will retire from eight years of the same heavy cares, a period of constant world turmoil. their books on the old year and expressed cautious optimism about the new.
