Two Men Plummet to Death Off Straits Bridge

State Officials Exchange Blasts in Highway Department Mixups

LANSING (AP)—Democratic and Republican state officials exchanged verbal blasts today in a pre-election tangle of words involving a mixup in highway bonds and a charge of poor bookkeeping in the State Highway Department.

Involved were Gov. Williams, Aud. Gen. Victor Targonski, a Democrat, and Charles M. Ziegler, Republican State Highway Commissioner.

Targonski told reporters his auditors had found a "serious breach of sound internal control procedures" in the State Highway Department.

He said Ziegler had instructed his employes they do not have to comply with a state regulation requiring them to fill out daily logs of trips in state-owned cars.

"He told them they could fill out the reports every month, just listing the total mileage traveled," Targonski said.

This practice, Targonski alleged, would encourage the use of state-owned cars for personal trips.

'HAVEN'T HEARD YET'

Involved are some 460 department-assigned cars which are driven about five and a half million miles a year, Targonski said.

"We asked Ziegler to correct this situation in a letter dated April 17," he said. "We still haven't heard from him."

Targonski added his auditors also complained highway department cars are not marked with decals identifying them as state vehicles.

This, he said, would also encourage illegal use of state automobiles.

INTENTION TO CORRECT'

Ziegler contended his assistants have been working with Targonski since April, with every intention of correcting the practices with the start of a new fiscal year July 1.

He said the streamlined method of accounting for state car travels was instituted three years ago for "convenience."

Ziegler insisted that his cars do carry proper identification. Meanwhile, Ziegler and Williams argued about who was responsible for the mixup over highway bonds.

WHATEVER POLEMICS'

Ziegler said the Governor should take the responsibility for the mixup because he is an attorney and signed the bill. Williams replied that Ziegler had been asleep at the switch and had not noticed the discrepancy until it was too late.

"Whatever polemics Ziegler wishes to engage in now I hope he can spare enough time to start building roads," Williams said.

The mixup involves the wording of a provision in the 1955 Highway Act dealing with sale of bonds for highway construction.

Ziegler says a group of private bonding attorneys fears the wording is contradictory and may hamper the sale of the bonds.

The highway commissioner also accused Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh of failure to act in the mixup.

Williams called the Legislature into special session June 13 to correct the language in the Highway Act, consider boosts in unemployment compensation and appropriate more money for a medium security prison at Ionia.

Pair Reveal Marriage

WED MAY 31 — Film starlet Janet Lake and actor Robert Dix are pictured in Hollywood last night after the bride revealed their marriage May 31 at Las Vegas, Nev. They were married by a Nevada justice under their real names of Robert Brimmer and Janet Linkey. Both are members of the Bahai religious sect, and plan a ceremony under that faith at a later date.

Truman Meets With Adenauer

HST Arrives in Bonn for One-Day Visit; Rail Accident Delays Trip

BONN (INS)—Harry S. Truman arrived in Bonn today for a one-day visit and a talk with German chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

The former U. S. president was chipper and smiling this morning on his arrival at the suburban Bad Godesberg rail station despite a minor rail accident which forced him to sit up all night on a second class sleeper.

The main spring of the luxury rail car in which he was riding from Munich to Bonn was discovered to be broken during a routine check at Wurzberg, forcing the switch.

Truman said he went without sleep most of the night and would try to cut out some scheduled sightseeing in Bonn to compensate for it.

Truman and Adenauer agreed today that world peace was possible with patience and effort in that direction.

The two statesmen met for a half-hour in Adenauer's office.

Truman later described the conference as "one of the most pleasant visits since I left the White Hous.."

He said a "great variety" of subjects was discussed. "The key word was world peace," Truman told newsmen.

Dragnet for Niles Killer Spreads to Chicago Area

NILES (AP)—Search for the killer of Mrs. Marion Davenjay shifted today to Chicago where she worked as a secretary and office manager for the Canadian Consul General.

Niles Police Chief Arthur N. Pears said he had asked Chicago police to question friends and associates of the 27-year-old brunette and check her activities up to the time of her death.

All other leads in the killing have fizzled out, he said.

Two men and a woman, all magazine salespeople, were cleared of implication last night after they underwent lie detector tests at South Bend, Ind., Pears said.

State police in East Lansing said neither of two guns brought to state police laboratory for ballistics tests was the murder weapon.

Both were .22 caliber guns, the type that felled Mrs. Davenjay early Sunday on the steps of the Club 66, a Niles nightspot.

One of the guns was a rifle found along a Berrien County road. The other was a revolver owned by Gene McClane, 40-year-old magazine salesman from New York City and Mrs. Davenjay's escort the night of the killing.

TAKE LIE TESTS

McClane was one of the three given the lie test yesterday. The others were Rita McGraw, 23, of Greensburg, Pa., and Dan McClellan, New York City.

Capt. John Forte of the South Bend police submitted McClane and McClellan each to 45 minutes questioning with the lie detector. Miss McGraw was questioned for 4½ hours but remained cheerful throughout the ordeal.

Pears released all three and they left immediately for Norwalk,

Settle Walkout on City Project

Public Safety Building Steel Work Scheduled to Resume Friday

Steel workers are expected to return to work tomorrow on construction of the city's Public Safety Building, after a three week strike during which work was at a standstill.

The strike was settled yesterday, which will send general contractors and some 400 reinforced steelworkers in the Pontiac and Detroit areas back to jobs.

The agreement was reached by the Detroit chapter of the Associated General Contractors and Local 426 of the Reinforced Steelworkers Union.

William E. Stewart, assistant to the AGC secretary, said the major feature of the settlement was a 15-cent hourly wage boost in each of the two years of the contract.

A spokesman for the local building project said the men could not return to work until Friday as many were on vacation and could not be reached.

During the strike, work on the building fell four weeks behind, according to architect Leo J. Heenan.

Helpless Invalid Drives Tractor When Dad Dies

A young man who is ordinarily a helpless invalid forced himself to crawl from his Lapeer County home and drive a tractor to a nearby farm this morning, when his father died of a shotgun blast.

Neighbors are caring for Lowell Harris following the death of his father Ova John Harris, 51. Lapeer County Coroner Dr. W. C. Heitsch said Harris, of 3864 LeValley Rd., Columbiaville, took his own life about 8:30 a.m. today.

Law officials are seeking the man's divorced wife, believed living in Wheelerburg, Ky.

Adlai's Victory Ends Dreams of Williams

DETROIT (AP)—Democratic national committeeman Ernest J. Lacey of Michigan says Adlai Stevenson's victory in the California primary election "erases the political ambitions" of Gov. Williams.

Lacey, who faces removal from his post by the Williams faction in the Democratic party, said yesterday the governor "took a miscalculated risk opposing Stevenson." Williams has gone on record as opposing Stevenson's "moderate" stand.

Lacey said he hoped Stevenson and Estes Kefauver join forces for the nomination for president and vice president respectively.

"If they would team up, nothing could stop them," he said. "Not even Gov. Harriman (of New York).

Williams had no comment on the Stevenson victory. His forces favor Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh to replace Lacey as national committeeman.

Avon Youngster Killed by Auto

Gary D. Gibson Struck Crossing Auburn Road Near His Home

A 12-year-old Avon Township boy died last night of injuries suffered when struck by an auto about six blocks from home.

Gary D. Gibson, 2761 Vendome Rd. was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital at 7:15 p.m. He had suffered a fractured skull, leg fractures and internal injuries, according to Deputy Coroner Dr. Leon F. Cobb.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said the boy was running across Auburn road towards home near Crooks road about 7 p.m. when struck by the auto driven by Gerald R. Hill, 37, a factory worker of 2904 St. Clair St., Auburn Heights.

Hill stated the boy darted out from in front of another car and he was unable to stop in time, skidding 90 feet, deputies said.

He was to make a full statement this morning, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said.

Gary is survived by his parents, Wylie and Ruth Gibson; a brother, Richard, 17, and two sisters, Joanne, 15, and Nancy, 7.

Aw, Come On, Fellahs! Someone's Got to Give

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP) — The Burlington Board of Aldermen has taken 609 ballots and still is without a president.

The board tried 289 times Tuesday night and 320 times last night to reach a decision.

Every time the result was a deadlock—6-6.

The board is made up of six Republicans and six Democrats.

Close Vote Seen Over Reduction on Ike's Aid Bill

Party Lines Expected to Split Despite Pact of Rayburn and Martin

WASHINGTON (INS) — A "very close" vote was predicted today as House Democratic and GOP leaders joined forces to increase President Eisenhower's committee-reduced foreign aid bill.

Party lines were expected to split despite an alliance between speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas) and Republican leader Joseph W. Martin Jr., (Mass).

The House convened today, two hours earlier than usual, in an effort to complete action by nightfall. Yesterday was devoted to general debate.

At issue was whether the House would back the President in his request for restoration of the funds which the foreign affairs committee cut from the four billion 700 million dollar bill. The funds are for the 1957 fiscal year which begins July 1.

Party leaders decided to put the "big push" behind an amendment restoring 600 million dollars of the one billion dollar cut in military aid. The committee also reduced economic and technical assistance by 109 millions.

The big fight was over restoration of the military aid cut, which the President told House leaders Tuesday night was "dangerous to national security."

Foreign affairs committee chairman James P. Richards (D-SC), led the opposition to the proposed amendment, pointing out that the administration already has five billion dollars in unspent military aid funds. It was Richards who predicted a "very close" vote.

The 600 million dollar amendment will be offered by Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark) a committee member, in strategy worked out by the House leaders. Hays said cautiously that the amendment has "a chance" of adoption.

The decision to have a southern Democrat rather than a Republican, possibly Martin, offer the amendment was based on the strategy that to be successful it must obtain a large bloc of Democratic as well as GOP votes.

Hays was selected because southern members represented the hard core opposition on the Democratic side to restoring the funds.

Second only to this battle were proposals to bar further U. S. aid to Communist Yugoslavia. These two proposals generated the most heat.

Trucker Rams Into Tree as Brakes Give Out on Hill

His heavily-loaded truck out of control when the brakes failed near the top of a Woodward avenue hill yesterday morning, a Detroit trucker deliberately rammed into a tree rather than risk striking another car.

Lucius Cresswell, 38, suffered a fractured hip when the truck turned over, spilling a load of lumber over two northbound lanes in Bloomfield Township, south of Long Lake road.

A helper with him, Sidney McCloud Jr., 41, of Detroit, was released from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after treatment for elbow bruises.

Hospital authorities said Cresswell was in good condition prior to his transfer yesterday to a Detroit hospital.

Township police directed traffic from 9:30 a. m. to 3 p. m., while the truck and lumber were removed.

The driver noticed the failure as he first started to brake in descending the hill, they said.

Sen. Russell Says Visits May Prevent World War

WASHINGTON (INS) — Senate Armed Services Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) said today an exchange of visits by top U.S. and Soviet defense officials could help prevent a world war.

President Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday that he will invite Russia's air chief to visit this country. He said also that if the Soviets invite defense secretary Charles E. Wilson to Moscow, "I will invite . . . Marshal Zhukov."

Russell said in an interview that he sees no objection to the President extending an invitation to Zhukov, the Soviet defense minister.

The Senate's military chairman continued: "An exchange (of visits) can be helpful in preventing an armed clash between the Communists and the democracies."

However, Russell said he would doubt the wisdom of inviting Communist party chief Khrushchev and Soviet premier Bulganin to Washington "at this juncture."

TWINING OPENS DOOR

The door for exchanges was opened when Eisenhower approved acceptance by Gen. Nathan F. Twining, U.S. Air Force Chief of staff, of a Soviet invitation to the Russian air show this month. The President said he knew he would be expected to reciprocate with a bid to the Soviet air chief and he will do so.

Sen. Russell Long (D-La) said that U.S.-Soviet exchanges may present some problems but he said that "obviously the situation is changing behind the Iron Curtain and we should encourage Russia to change its previous policy."

Long added in an interview that the change "has to be for the better because it couldn't get worse."

But he warned that if top Communists come to this country, there may be "difficulties in avoiding unpleasant incidents and protecting them physically."

GOP, Dem Berries Deluge White House

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower was deluged today with both Republican and Democratic strawberries.

Former GOP Sen. John Townsend of Delaware arrived at the White House first with eight crates of plum-sized strawberries grown by his son, Julian E. Townsend, in Delaware's Sussex County.

* * *

Right on his heels came Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) with a crate of equally luscious Tennessee berries.

Gore conceded that the Delaware berries were larger but said they couldn't compare with the Tennessee product in taste.

The Tennessee strawberries came from Crossville, which Gore described as a "Republican stronghold." Small in size, they were developed from a native wild berry.

* * *

Both gifts were accepted for Eisenhower by White House aide Earl Chesney.

Admiring the Delaware strawberries, he quipped: "These are Republican berries — they're larger."

Work Is Delayed as Fatal Count on Span Hits 5

2 Others Escape Harm From 552-Foot Tower Fall; 1 Body Recovered

ST. IGNACE (AP) — Two workmen who fell to their deaths from a 552-foot tower of the Mackinac Straits Bridge brought to five the number of workers killed since work started on the giant span.

In keeping with bridgemen's tradition, crews did not work today following the fatal plunge of the two men yesterday, their first day on the job.

Veteran bridgemen recalled an other tradition that one workman is killed for every 10 million dollars of a high bridge's cost. The Straits span is a 100-million dollar project.

A four-man crew was stringing catwalk mesh on cables from the main north tower when the mesh snapped loose from its moorings. Two of the men, Jack C. Baker, 28, of Pagosa Springs, Colo., and Robert Koppen, 28, Plymouth, plunged to death in the water 500 feet below.

The other crewmen, foreman Robert Anderson and Louis Stepman, both of St. Ignace, clung to the mesh and were pulled to safety by fellow workers.

SEARCH CONTINUES

Anderson suffered a fractured ankle when his foot became entangled in the mesh. Stepman was unhurt although he was badly shaken up.

Baker's body was recovered four hours later from 150 feet of water. Coast Guardsmen, Sheriff's officers and State Police continued the search today for Koppen's body.

It was the first deaths since work began on the bridge superstructure.

During construction on the foundation, a diver died after surfacing too fast. Two other workmen were killed in falls.

Anderson and his crew were anchoring a section of fence-like mesh and wood for the catwalk that will run between the two bridge towers for the cable stringing job.

The broken section of mesh slid down the 2¼-inch cable, tossing Baker and Koppen into the air. Anderson dangled several minutes with his foot caught in the mesh. Stepman clung frantically to the buckled end of the platform, then was pulled to safety.

* * *

Although Baker and Koppen were experienced bridgemen, it was their first day on the job. Identification of the crew was delayed several hours because the accident occurred at shift change.

* * *

Work on the bridge superstructure is being done by American bridge division of the U. S. Steel Corp. The five-mile span linking Michigan's Upper and Lower Peninsulas is scheduled for completion in September, 1957.

Search On for Complete Khrushchev Speech

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials believe a big chunk is missing from the version of Nikita Khrushchev's attack on Joseph Stalin which the State Department released this week.

American diplomats and agents abroad have been ordered to hunt for any missing portion — which may run between 10,000 and 15,000 words—and get it to Washington at once if they find it. The search has been assigned the highest priority.

What is missing, authorities here feel, is a long section believed to have dealt with a denunciation of Stalin's conduct of foreign affairs.

It could be especially significant for the free nations to know what Communist party boss Khrushchev said about these matters because it would indicate Khrushchev's own thinking.

IKE'S OPINION

President Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday he thinks the Khrushchev speech was designed primarily for Soviet domestic purposes. If this appraisal is correct, whatever Khrushchev said on foreign policy would be written not for foreign but for Soviet ears. The speech was delivered in late February to a secret meeting of the Soviet Communist Party Congress.

Subjects not covered in the text given out Monday by the State Department include Stalin's handling of Russia's relations with Red China, the Korean War, Soviet pressures against Iran and Turkey, Western formation of the Atlantic Alliance, postwar treatment of Germany, the Marshall Plan for European recovery and the anti-NATO Warsaw Pact.

All these are matters which might logically be expected to appear in such a speech.

The State Department said its version of Khrushchev's denunciation of the dead dictator had been prepared for the guidance of Communist party leaders in some country outside Russia.

DID FRENCH HELP

It is understood this was one of the Eastern European satellites and not Yugoslavia. There have been reports that the speech reached Washington through the French government. It is possible also that it fell into non-Communist hands from the Communist party leadership of some country in Western Europe.

* * *

His speech has been reputed to have run six hours or more. In that time, he might have spoken 10,000 to 15,000 words more than was released. And he might have discussed—and the belief here is that he did discuss — the whole range of Soviet foreign policy in the bitterest years of the cold war.

The Day in Birmingham

20 Recreation Leaders Meet; May Organize

BIRMINGHAM—An organizaton of recreation leaders in Oakland County communities may develop following the interest awakened in an idea-exchange group by a meeting last night at the Community House.

Robert Girarden, new recreation director of Birmingham was asked by Charles Kass, chairman of the Birmingham - Bloomfield - Franklin Council of Community Services, to call an organizational meeting in the fall.

Last night's meeting drew 20 leaders of Southfield, Birmingham, Bloomfield Township and Hills, Royal Oak and Franklin, called by the BBF council to gain information on special services offered for children.

But the offiicals exchanged ideas so enthusiastically, discussing such recreation needs as land reserved in fast-growing areas, that the recreation organization was suggested.

* * *

Land must be reserved in most towns, especially where population growth is expected, officials said at the meeting. Bloomfield Hills, with no land reserved but with smaller homes increasing, may need it soon, a Hills representative explained.

Southfield is faced with high land prices but a population that will demand recreation space. Birmingham officials offered advice from their skating rink construction experience.

Southfield is forming a Citizens Committee tonight, a resident of that town explained.

Birmingham's Girarden is among the few professional directors hired by local cities to guide programs.

Graduation of nearly a hundred eighth graders of Holy Name School will be marked by ceremonies at a Mass at 9 a.m. Sunday at Holy Name Church.

Talking to the students, who will disperse to attend other schools since Holy Name has no high school, will be the pastor, the Rev. Fr. Eugene Paddock. The graduation concludes eighth grade classwork, but other classes will continue until June 12.

Except for parents of the graduates, parish members are asked to avoid the 9 a.m. mass, since the service at that hour usually has highest attendance, even on regular Sundays.

Holy Name's flower show is set for next Wednesday, when members of St. Veronica's guild will show what they learned in a four-month workshop. Time is from 2 to 4 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Taught by Mrs. Charles Obermeyer, a guild member and a leader in local garden club activities, the course has one lesson yet to come—one on dried arrangements next fall.

The 50 guild members will have their entries judged by qualified judges for ribbons and one top prize. Those who attend the show and a donation tea later will vote on the most appealing arrangement.

Heading arrangements are Mrs. William Reilly, chairman of the event and Mrs. Donald Scriven, guild chairman. Judges will be Mrs. G. W. Chesley and Mrs. Seth B. Slawson.

UF Budgeters Hold Meeting

Quotas for 7 Agencies Under Discussion by Panel Members

At an orientation meeting last night for United Fund budgeters, UF president William P. Hartman told 47 members of seven Community Chest-UF budgeting panels their quotas for 1957 should be ruled by two factors.

* * *

First, he said, is the real needs of the organization. Second is the amount the Pontiac Area United Fund drive can be expected to raise.

The panel members attended the meeting last night in Pontiac's City Commission chambers in preparation for hearing budget requests from 15 Community Chest agencies.

City Manager Walter K. Willman, campaign chairman, outlined prospects for the 1957 campaign and told committee members he will try to raise whatever is budgeted as quota for the drive.

Panel chairmen this year are John B. Wilson Theodore E. Wiersema, Donald G. Berryman, Robert S. Nelson, Henry D. Price, D. B. Eames and Howard Fitzgerald II.

Western Auto Plans Shop in New Center

Officials of Western Auto Supplies, Inc. have signed a lease for space in the $35 million "Michigan Miracle Mile" shopping center to be built at Telegraph and Square Lake Rds.

The store will occupy a space 40 by 150 feet and will include the most up to date design in merchandise planning, according to Don M. Casto, developer of the center.

Previous leases have been signed by J. C. Penney Co., S. S. Kresge, Robinson's Apparel, Thom McAnn Shoes, Jane Lee Dresses, Richman Brothers, and W. T. Grant Co.

Although weather has been a deterring factor, construction is expected to be under way on the shopping center in a few weeks, Casto announced. Completion is expected by early 1957.

200 From Area Rally for Higgins

Dinner Starts Campaign of Turnpike Chairman Seeking Nomination

An estimated 200 county residents last night attended a dinner in Waterford Township honoring Michigan Turnpike Authority Chairman George N. Higgins, a candidate for the Republican nomination to Congress.

Last night's dinner, which launched Higgins' campaign, was the first of seven scheduled throughout the county.

Toastmaster Bruce W. Annett, a former GOP county chairman, told the crowd that Higgins, "a vigorous 56," has had six years' experience as state legislator and was state senator for eight years.

"He has always been effective in committee work, and in guiding bills through the legislative process," Annett said.

Higgins reviewed the accomplishments of the Eisenhower administration, and pledged full support of its policies.

"I know how to get bills through Congress as well as I know how to get bills through the Legislature in Lansing," Higgins said.

Higgins opposes State Sen. William Broomfield, 34, his former protege, for the GOP nomination. Both announced they would run when Congressman George A. Dondero said he would not seek another term.

Death Halts Sentence of Hazel Park Youths

Three Hazel Park youths sentenced last week to life imprisonment for the robbery slaying of a Ohio tavern owner, cannot begin their sentences until a new Auglaize County Clerk of Courts is appointed.

Clerk of Courts Adrian Seitz, whose signature was needed on a warrant to convey the youths to Mansfield Reformatory, died Monday.

County Commissioners have 10 days from Seitz's death to appoint a new clerk. They are scheduled to meet Friday but have not indicated they will take action then.

Meanwhile, Willie Thomas, 20, Bernard Harris, 18, and James Thornton, 18, are being held in the county jail. They pleaded guilty last Thursday to second degree murder in the January slaying of Charles Stolzenbach, 54, a Wapakoneta tavernkeeper.

Court Upholds Passport Denial of Paul Robeson

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals today upheld the State Department's denial of a passport to singer Paul Robeson, who refused to say whether he is or has been a Communist.

* * *

The court unanimously upheld the ruling in which U. S. Dist. Judge Burnita S. Matthews dismissed Robeson's complaint against Secretary of State Dulles.

* * *

Writing for the court, Judge Edward Barrett Prettyman said Robeson made no reply to the State Department's request that he execute an affidavit concerning present or past membership in the Communist party.

* * *

Robeson then was told, Prettyman said, that he could have an informal hearing but would be expected to answer questions about past and present membership in the party. He made no reply to this, but instead filed suit contending the passport regulations violated his constitutional rights.

Courage Wins Out Against All His Handicaps

Ingerson attended classes in a wheel chair. He typed out all his papers. He dictated answers to his mother on examinations.

2 Waive Examination on Charges of Larceny

Two Hamtramck men who allegedly invaded a Madison Heights factory yard Tuesday night to steal aluminum sheets loaded on their truck, yesterday waived examination on charges of grand larceny.

Madison Heights Municipal Judge Heinrich Smit set arraignment in Oakland County Circuit Court for Monday and remanded to jail under $500 bonds each Raymond Cornell, 42 and Albert Carter, 24.

Police claimed that Cornell's alleged arrest at the scene, 31301 Stephenson Highway, led to apprehension of his partner.

Caught in Bus Door, City Woman Tells Police

A woman bus passenger told Pontiac police she suffered "severe" ear injuries when the rear doors of the bus closed on her yesterday morning.

Mrs. Mary Lovelace, 59, of 82 S. Ardmore Ave. said she was leaving the bus at the corner of Saginaw and Huron streets.

According to police, the woman sought medical aid from a private physician.

Charged With Stabbing, Bound to Circuit Court

Charged with stabbing a friend four times during an argument May 18 in a N. Perry street parking lot, Charles Shedd, 32, of 32 W. Chicago Ave. yesterday was bound over to Oakland County Circuit.

Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum remanded Shedd to jail under $500 bond pending arraignment Monday on a charge of felonious assault.

The American hemlock, unlike the tree whose juices killed Socrates, is not poisonous.

Deaths in Pontiac Area

William J. Gamache

A Moose Service will be held at 9 o'clock this evening in the Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home for William J. Gamache, 54, of 95 E. Huron St. who died Tuesday in Pontiac General Hospital.

The funeral service will be at 1:30 p.m. Friday from the Voorhees-Siple Chapel with the Rev. Harvey J. McCann of Auburn Heights officiating. Burial will be in White Chapel Cemetery.

Bruce E. Davis

Bruce E. Davis, 65, of 54 Ellwood Ave., died early this morning in Pontiac General Hospital. He had been ill a month.

Born in St. Cloud, Minn. March 21, 1891, he was the son of Harry and Lyda Davis and was married to the former Ella Larson in Minneapolis, Minn.

A resident of the community 28 years, he had been employed at Pontiac Motor Division.

He leaves his wife and daughter, Mrs. Katheryn Slinter of Pontiac and two grandchildren.

Other survivors include several brothers and sisters, Cederic C. and Fay A., both of Pontiac; Burton and Harry of St. Cloud and Lelith of Chicago.

Service will be at 3 p.m. Saturday from the Brace-Smith Funeral Home with the Rev. Theodore R. Allebach of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial will be in Oakland Hills Memorial Cemetery.

Colleen Grant

Service for Colleen Grant, two-year-old daughter of Paul and Opal Grant of 2541 Mann Rd. will be at 1:30 p.m. Friday from the Huntoon Funeral Home. The Rev. Chester H. Dundas of Center Line Calvary Baptist Church will officiate with burial in Ottawa Park Cemetery.

She was born in California, Dec. 14, 1953, and died May 29 from injuries received in an accident in Winslow, Ariz.

Besides her mother and father she is survived by a brother, Craig; two sisters, Paulette and Teresa.

Walter Lewis Jr.

Walter Lewis Jr. infant son of Walter and Janice Calloway Lewis of 114 Center St., was taken this morning to Tennessee where prayers will be said at the Zion Cemetery, in Henry County.

The baby had been ill since birth, Feb. 28, 1956, is survived by his mother and father. He died Monday in Pontiac General Hospital.

Arrangements were by the Pursley Funeral Home.

Mrs. Fred C. Rikerd

Mrs. Fred C. (Mary A.) Rikerd, 74, of 3281 Rockhaven Rd. Avon Township, died late yesterday afternoon in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after a three weeks illness.

She was born in Axton, Va., the daughter of Sidney and Betty Deering and married here Sept. 10, 1949.

A member of the Emmanuel Baptist Church, Mrs. Rikerd had been a resident of Pontiac 30 years.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three children, Mrs. Ethel Turner of Waterford, Owney Carter of Axton, Mrs. Dorothy Foster of Pontiac and seven grandchildren.

Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Martha Carter of Monroe; three brothers, Daniel Deering of Axton, Charles and Benjamin, both of Monroe.

Service will be at 1 p.m. Monday from the Farmer-Snover Funeral Home with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Ohio, to join other members of their magazine subscription team. Pears said "they are free to resume their work but have given us their itinerary and agreed to return if they are wanted."

TALKED OF MARRIAGE

Police said Miss McGraw told them she had known McClane for six years and they had often talked of marriage, but not lately.

McClane, who had been held in the Niles city jail for questioning said he had renewed an old friendship with Mrs. Davenjay two weeks ago and had seen her several times since.

McClane took her to the night-club with McClellan and the latter's wife, Jane, Saturday night. Mrs. Davenjay walked to a nearby tavern about 1:30 a.m. to get some beer to take back to South Bend. On the way back she was shot.

A coroner's jury of six men ruled yesterday that her death was a homicide and that she was killed by a "bullet fired at relatively close range by a person or persons unknown."

NOT A PRANKSTER

But they ruled out a theory that she met death from a stray bullet fired by a prankster.

Among those who came to testify at the inquest was Gerald A. Newman, Canadian deputy consul general at Chicago and Mrs. Davenjay's immediate superior. He did not testify but told William White, assistant Berrien County prosecutor, that Mrs. Davenjay's work had been efficient and that her character was "exemplary."

Mrs. Davenjay has been separated for eight months from her husband, Joseph, who lives in New Orleans. Police there have exonerated him in the slaying.

Senate Bill to Encourage Building of Lake Vessels

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a bill designed to encourage construction of modern vessels on the Great Lakes by granting large government allowances to shipping operators.

Passage yesterday was by voice vote after a sharp debate. The bill now goes to the House.

Sen. Williams (R-Del) denounced the measure as a "hidden subsidy" and declared it would cost the government as much as one billion dollars.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich), principal sponsor of the bill, insisted, however, that the assistance to Great Lakes operators was fully justified. He said the allowances would be less than the outright subsidies now provided for ocean going vessels.

AMENDMENT ACCEPTED

The Senate, however, accepted a Williams amendment to bar any reduced travel rates on ocean or lakes ships for members of Congress or any government officials who pass on maritime subsidies.

Williams said such a law was long overdue. He said there are similar restrictions already on the books affecting airlines and railroads.

The Potter bill would permit operators to build new ships on a trade-in allowance arrangement. The government would pay allowances for the obsolete vessels equal to the difference between the cost of building a new ship in an American yard and a foreign yard.

Williams said this could amount to as much as 3½ or 4 million dollars per vessel.

Great Lakes shipping operators have bought some vessels recently from the government for as little as $102,000, ships which cost Uncle Sam seven million dollars, he said.

Yet, Williams said the allowances for these ships could be as much as four million dollars on these same vessels.

"How much subsidy do you want?" he demanded. "This is the loosest subsidy arrangement I have ever heard of."

Potter, however, urged that 65 per cent of the lakes vessels would be 50 years old or more by 1960. Something must be done to modernize the fleet, he said, adding that ore and grain carriers are vital to the nation's defense in time of war.

Williams said about 300 ships were eligible to be turned in under the bill. U.S. Steel Corp. owns 58 of these, he said, adding that he did not believe that company needed any financial help.

Spelling Makes 'Em Quit

Medical Stenos Needed

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — There's quite a turnover these days among stenographers for doctors and hospitals and it's no wonder when they have to spell words like he-patocho-langio-cystoduo-duodenos-tomy!

• • • • • •

That is the reason the University of Oklahoma Medical Center is offering on-the-job classes in medical terminology, hoping to head off the rapid resignations.

"Medical terminology is quite foreign to most employes when they start to work here," said Mrs. Jessie Collier, administrative secretary in the Department of Surgery.

The classes are aimed at helping the secretary who takes dictation from a man who figures anybody should know how to spell chole-cysto-duo-denosto-my and know what it means.

Simply, it means the formation of a communication between the gall bladder and duodenum.

And a hepato-cholan-gio-cysto-duo-denostomy? That's an operation to drain the ducts into the duodenum by way of the gall bladder.

Mrs. Collier said that one stenographer typed a report on a patient on whom an "incision was made from the pointed chin to the Oxford."

She should have written that there was an incision from a point on the chin to the occiput, or back of the head, Mrs. Collier explained.

• • • • • •

The course in medical spelling thus quite naturally grew out of a demand from some of the medical center workers who kept suffering pains in the occiput as the result of a deficiency of medical vocabulary.

Ex-City Woman Writes Second Book of Poetry

A former Pontiac woman, Mrs. Cara Scarborough Thomas, is author of a newly published book of poetry called "We Came Through:" and other poems.

• • •

Mrs. Thomas lived here with her son Leon B. Thomas on Utica road several different times in 1943, 1944 and 1947 and 1948.

Her poems concern different experiences she has had when her children were growing up.

Mrs. Thomas taught school for several years before her marriage to Charles Delamere Thomas, now deceased. It was not until her children were fully grown that she turned to writing.

"We Came Through" is her second book of verse to be published. She is a regular poetry contributor to periodicals.

Of Pontiac, Mrs. Thomas says, "I enjoyed my years in Pontiac. The residents are such fine people."

Clare Youth Drowns

MT. PLEASANT (AP) — Wallace DePuy, 16, of Rt. 3, Clare, drowned yesterday in a swimming mishap in Stevenson Lake 12 miles northwest of here. Witnesses told state police the youth was swimming with a friend near the public landing on the south side of the lake and suddenly went under.

Boys With Matches Caused Plant Fire

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Authorities said two small boys playing with matches probably started the fire which destroyed a Doehler-Jarvis plant warehouse Tuesday night. Damage was estimated at $75,000.

Chief Fire Inspector Adrian Rigney said playmates implicated two boys, aged 7 and 8, who told officers they had been playing with matches in the warehouse. Rigney said no official action was planned against them.

The blaze destroyed the 100-foot-long wooden warehouse and its contents of cardboard boxes and quantities of zinc and aluminum. Officials of the company, which manufactures die castings and ornamental hardware, said the metals were recoverable.

Red Cross Committee Plans Special Session

Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, announces a special meeting of newly elected members of the executive committee on Wednesday, June 13, at 7:30 p.m. at the chapter house, 118 Franklin Blvd.

Chapter activity on disaster relief will be discussed. Any persons interested in learning about or working with the chapter's disaster program have been invited to attend.

The chapter's regular meeting of the excutive committee will be held June 20 at the chapter house.

Shortage of Engineers Industry's Big Problem

As almost everybody knows, one of the biggest problems confronting American industry today is shortage of trained engineers.

What isn't quite so widely known is what industry is doing about it. Revealing sidelights on the situation are provided in the survey reported in the June issue of Mill & Factory.

This shows, for example, that nearly half of the firms answering the magazine's questionnaire maintain regular programs to recruit engineering graduates. Many companies, also, are easing the shortage by training less skilled workers for routine tasks related to engineering.

Among the replies were several suggestions that women be encouraged to help ease the shortage. The general idea was that they be urged to take training in science so they could become technical secretaries to engineers.

Besides all this, some firms are awarding four year engineering scholarships. Others encourage employes to enter engineering training through company subsidized programs.

★ ★ ★

With Russia training more engineers than we are, this problem isn't one that concerns American industry alone. It is closely connected with national security. As one industrialist recently put it, we've got to devote more attention in this country to the study of science and mathematics or prepare to learn Russian.

Convicts Aid Science in Cancer Study

Ninety-six inmates of Ohio State Penitentiary are playing a highly commendable role in a new study of cancer.

They have volunteered to act as guinea pigs in what amounts to a different scientific approach to the problem of this deadly disease. The experiment is being conducted under the direction of the Sloan-Kettering Institute and Ohio State University's medical research department.

Fortunately the public can rest assured that the inmates are in no danger as a result of the experiments planned. Those chosen for the tests are to receive injections of live material from malignant tumors. If cancers are incited, they can be easily removed at the point of injection.

For many years cancer researchers have concentrated their attention on the cell where the disease starts. They studied its normal and abnormal growth. In this new study the manner of resistance to the disease is to get major attention. The purpose is to learn why it often is difficult if not impossible to start a cancer in healthy tissue.

Considerable work has been done along this line in experimenting with rats and mice. But what holds good for them doesn't always apply to man. Hence the new approach.

It is to be hoped that the experiments bring conquest of cancer nearer. But regardless of whether they prove beneficial, these prisoners by volunteering have made considerable down payments on their debts to society.

A Regrettable Tragedy

There is a grim and heartbreaking lesson in the untimely death of 17-year-old Gerald E. Cullens.

Gerald enjoyed target practice and with three like-minded friends had gone for that purpose to the Collier Road area of Pontiac Township.

While they were walking up a hill, 16-year-old Danny D. Kniffen stumbled and his gun was discharged. Gerald, who was walking directly ahead, was hit in the back of the head by the .22 caliber cartridge and was dead when help arrived.

The shooting was investigated by Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Paul Mandel. After hearing the story from the three boys he had no difficulty in deciding it was a case of accidental death.

That decision, however, won't lighten the burden of sorrow which has fallen on the dead boy's parents. Neither will it ease the grief felt by Danny.

Nonetheless, this regrettable tragedy should serve a useful purpose. It should remind all who like and use guns how imperative it is to observe all safety rules.

Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf!

David Lawrence Says:

Ike's Impromptu Press Comments Can Sometimes Cause Repercussions

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower doesn't often make mistakes with his impromptu remarks at press conferences but, when he does, it usually has international repercussions. Eisenhower almost pulled the rug from under his whole foreign-aid program by letting it be implied that nations which stay "neutral" in the "cold war" against Communist imperialism can still get financial benefits from the United States.

* * *

The President fell victim to the oft-repeated alibis of the "un-committed" nations which argue that, since the United States stayed "neutral" during the first century or more of her existence, such a policy now is justified for them. This inaccurate statement of American history has been repeated often by various spokesmen for and champions of the "neutralist" cause in Asia, but it is surprising to see the President accept it and give it to his press conference as a valid argument.

Eisenhower's exact words were these:

"If you are waging peace, you can't be too particular sometimes about the special attitudes that different countries take. We were a young country once, and our whole policy for the first hundred years was—or more, 150—we were neutral. We constantly asserted we were neutral in the wars of the world and wars in Europe and antagonisms."

The American republic was less than 25 years old when it entered a world war, known on this side of the Atlantic as the war of 1812. The United States entered that war on the side of the French, who were fighting Britain. The main causes were the impressment of American seamen on the high seas by the British, blockade of American ports by the British, and violation of U.S. neutral rights on the high seas.

MONROE DOCTRINE

In 1823, the United States served notice in what became known as the Monroe Doctrine that the American continents were no longer to be considered as subjects for future colonization by European powers and that this country would consider dangerous to its peace and safety any attempt on the part of the European powers to extend their system to this hemisphere. This was a participation in world affairs which, coming from the young republic, was bold and defiant.

In 1895, President Cleveland served notice on Great Britain that, if it interfered in a boundary dispute in Venezuela, it "will be the duty of the United States to resist by every means in its power, as a wilful aggression upon its rights and interests, the appropriation by Great Britain of any lands or the exercise of any governmental jurisdiction over any territory which after investigation we have determined of right belongs to Venezuela."

In 1898, the United States intervened in a war to save Cuba from Spanish oppression.

In 1900, the United States joined with five European powers and landed American Marines on the mainland of China to do battle against the Boxer rebels who had besieged the foreign legations in Peking.

In 1917, the United States intervened in a world war to protect her territories against attack.

EXTENSION OF DOCTRINE

What the United States has tried to do in southeast Asia by its pact there and in the treaties with Korea and Nationalist China and the Philippines is to arrange for common measures to resist aggression. The SEATO pact and the NATO treaty are really extensions of the Monroe Doctrine principle.

Eisenhower's words also will plague him with respect to West Germany. The Soviet regime wants Germany to be "neutralized." Eisenhower speaks of the dangers that countries face which have "military associations" because they may have difficulties along their borders.

Certainly the President didn't mean to give the impression that he favored neutrality for West Germany and a withdrawal from NATO, yet that's what his remarks can readily be construed to mean. His closing words—uttered with reference to Yugoslavia — were somewhat inconsistent with his other statements but they better express the American point of view. He said:

"The reason we help and assist others is in the belief that this will help us, also."

That's the only basis on which a foreign-aid program will be voted—and "neutrals" will have a hard time getting any American taxpayers' money out of Congress.

Vitamin D Is Necessary to Insure Calcium in Body

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Algesia is a medical term of Greek origin, meaning the sense of pain or sensitive to pain. Analgesia or analgesic means absence of the sense of pain or benumbed sensation.

Here recently I described a case illustrating the wise use of analgesia. A doctor with a large and successful practice but little experience, wearied of waiting for a patient who had been in labor all night, decided to use forceps. He called a colleague to give the anesthetic. The poor woman had been tossing and wailing and pleading for help until she was almost exhausted. The doctor asked his colleague to start the anesthetic while he was sterilizing instruments, etc.

As soon as the patient took the first few inhalations of chloroform she became quiet, listened to instructions, relaxed between "pains" (contractions), worked with the "pains," and in the "obstetric stage" of anesthesia—the edge taken off the pain, without loss of consciouness—bore her baby before the doctor was ready to apply the forceps. That was analgesia, not anesthesia.

Physiologists tell us one of the functions of lime (calcium) in the body is to "regulate excitability of nerve fibres and never centers."

Nutritionists tell us that "the ordinary mixed diet of Americans and Europeans is more often deficient in calcium than in any other chemical element." Especially, if I may say so, the namby-pamby diet of Americans today.

Although a testimonial is worth little more than an odd coincidence as a rule, I cannot help being impressed by the reports received day by day from readers who follow the high calcium diet and-or supplement their diet with an adequate daily ration of calcium and vitamin D. The D is necessary to insure normal utilization of calcium in the body.

These readers declare that they have enjoyed great and lasting relief from neuralgic headaches, periodic sick headaches (migraine), adult tetany (nocturnal cramps in legs), chronic low back ache, bursitis and the rheumatiz.

I hope no you-know-what will get the idea that a few "doses" of calcium will have any appreciable effect on these painful conditions. The calcium I recommend isn't medicine. It's food. So you don't "try" it for a week. You eat it every day.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Dr. Crane Tells Teen to 'Ape' Others but Only Their Most Desirable Traits

The usual professional lecturer considers a 50-minute evening performance as a full day. But I relish the additional "warmups," such as Willard Wade scheduled for me. In this way I have addressed more than 1,000,000 teenagers in person as my hobby in the field of moral psychology.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-376: Willard L. Wade, aged about 58, is the livewire head of the YMCA at Covington, Kentucky.

He recently invited me back for another typical day of speeches. At 9:30 a.m. I thus addressed the assembled students at Dixie Height High School.

* * *

Then we moved on to the Lloyd High School at 10;15. At 1:30 I had a session for an hour with a women's audience at the YMCA.

Then at 4:30 I addressed a mass meeting of Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y youth from all the various high schools in the area.

The above mentioned sessions were just "warm ups" for the main event, which was my address at 8 p.m. before a mixed adult audience on "How to Improve Family Relations."

I mention the above program, for that is the typical plan I follow when I am on a speaking date.

And I don't mind the extra strain for I try to punch home some salient facts to teenagers.

BE A GOOD APE

At such high school or college convocations I generally talk on the subject, "Be a Good Ape."

Then I explain that imitation is a desirable thing in the teens, for that is a good time to pick a hero or heroine, whom we aspire to emulate.

But we should be intelligent in our aping of such a hero and not blindly imitate his use of cigarets or liquor or profanity and other bad habits.

For those bad habits did not help him reach the top rung on the ladder to success even though they are visibly more evident than some of his less obvious virtues.

"Suppose somebody in this large audience decided he wished to imitate me," I suggested.

"And because I happen to have a little excess upholstery around my equator he decided to take double desserts and otherwise add to his waistline.

"Wouldn't that be silly? For you realize there is no connection between a man's belt line and his hat band. A bay window doesn't make me a newspaper columnist or psychologist or psychiatrist.

"But it is no more silly than for a lot of high schoolers to suck on a certain brand of cigarette just because their hero sold his name on such a cigarette endorsement for $500.

"And it is no more idiotic than for you to drink liquor because your athletic or medical or movie hero endorses a certain brand of whiskey.

* * *

"So be a good ape! Imitate wisely, even successful folks have bad habits. The bad habits haven't added to their success, so ignore the bad and diligently imitate their virtues that really pushed them upward on the ladder to success."

ST. PAUL'S IDEA

Then I offer 15 minutes of advice on how to win friends and carry on an interesting conversation.

If I have a full 50-minute period, I usually close with a five-minute rapid-fire peroration in which I give them the logical proof of God, so they will not need to rely solely on faith to justify a Divine Creator behind this universe.

These teen-age audiences are my hobby. For sometimes a person does far more good in his spare time than on his main job.

St. Paul thus worked as a tentmaker for 10 or 12 hours per day. Only when the quitting whistle figuratively sounded, did he engage in his vital hobby of founding Christian churches.

* * *

But St. Paul's spare time hobby has done far more to make this world a better place for you and me, than all his tentmaking.

Maybe my heavy speaking schedule to youth does more good than my formal night lecture. Anyway, I buoy up my morale with that hope. Time will tell.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Wants Pontiac Ordinance Against Men's Bermudas

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

It's that time of year again, when men seem to think the order of the day is making fools of themselves. Not all men, of course, but certainly those who run around in those silly Bermuda shorts.

I think there should be a law against wearing them in public. Why, they might just as well go out on the street in their undershorts. It wouldn't look any more indecent.

There are plenty of places where women aren't allowed to wear shorts, so I think a city ordinance should be passed to keep men's legs covered.

U. N. Studies Legal Confusion

Marriage, Divorce Laws Add Up to World Jumble

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
(For Hal Boyle)

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—In Pakistan, a Moslem may have four wives and a Hindu any number. But in Tennessee a man can get 21 years in prison for having only two.

So says a lately published U. N. survey of marriage and divorce laws in 24 countries. Such laws were studied because of their effect on population, a concern of the U. N. Economic and Social Council. They show great diversity.

VARIETY OF AGES

In Sweden, under ordinary circumstances, no man may marry under 21 years old nor woman under 18. In Argentina, Honduras, Panama and Northern Ireland, on the other hand, a boy may marry at 14 and a girl at 12, given parental consent. The lowest minimum ages in the United States are 14 and 13, in New Hampshire.

The report states, without elaboration, that in Queensland, Australia, "where either party is under the age of 7, the marriage is absolutely void." It sets out that in the Netherlands, no person under 30 may marry without his parents' consent—though he may appeal to a justice of the peace if they stand in the way.

When a minor marries in Czechoslovakia, as he may do from 16 up with court approval, he immediately becomes an adult before the law with as many legal rights as any Czechoslovak citizen has.

BETWEEN RACES

Whites are barred from marrying Negroes in more than half the states of the United States; Mongolians in 11; Malayans in 6; American Indians in 4. Whites may not marry Koreans in South Dakota, or Hindus in Arizona.

Sweden allows the marriage of prisoners. Pakistan forbids the marriage of Shia-Moslem pilgrims who have entered the sacred territory of Mecca.

Pakistan law also says a man who has already divorced his wife nine times may not remarry her.

In Ontario, Canada, a clergyman can be fined $500 and jailed for a year if he marries a man and woman who are drunk.

DIVORCE GROUNDS

In India, a Hindu or Parsee can get a divorce if his spouse becomes a convert to another religion. In Florida, a divorce may be granted for "an ungovernable temper;" in Rhode Island for "wickedness."

France penalizes the sale of contraceptives with prison terms up to three years. Eight states in the United States also forbid their sale. Connecticut forbids their use. But Alabama, Florida, South Carolina and Virginia finance birth-control programs.

A woman who aborts her unborn child can get three months in jail, or less, in Denmark. A woman who merely tries to do so can get life in prison in England, Wales and Scotland.

STERILIZATION LAWS

Twenty-six states of the United States enforce sterilization of mental defectives to keep them from passing on their failings to children. Some also sterilize epileptics, syphilitics, sex perverts and habitual criminals. Minnesota and Vermont have laws for voluntary sterilization. In Finland, Denmark and Sweden, dangerous sex fiends may be castrated by court order.

Court Rules for Birds

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A 200-bird aviary owned by financier Sam Kay migrated under court order to a suburban Miami site. Judge Albert Saperstein heeded neighbors' pleas that too many assorted bird calls came night and day from a giant cage on Kay's grounds housing ostriches, swans, peacocks, pheasant, parrots, emus, ducks, pigeons and geese.

Red Conspiracy Case Prosecution Rests

NEW YORK (AP) — The prosecution has rested its case in the Communist conspiracy trial, and adjournment has been ordered until June 13 when the defense will start.

* * *

The government rested yesterday before Federal Judge Alexander Bicks and a jury. The trial had been in progress for 5½ weeks.

Seven second-string Communist leaders are on trial under the Smith Act, charged with conspiracy to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the government.

* * *

The defendants are Sidney Stein, William Norman, James Jackson, Fred M. Fine, Aexander Trachtenberg, George Blake Charney and Mrs. Marion Bachrach.

Music Needs Dubbers

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, noted composer, author and music critic, says people who would like to play a musical instrument but have no talent should make a stab at it just for their own pleasure. Like golf, tennis or baseball, music needs a great many dubs," he says.

Truman Exults on Adlai's Win in California

BONN, Germany (AP) — Former President Truman said today he is "glad" that Adlai Stevenson defeated Sen. Estes Kefauver in the Democratic primary in California.

* * *

Arriving in Bonn for a one-day visit with West German leaders, Truman sad Stevenson's victory was "good news."

He said he had "no comment" on a report from New York that Stevenson had picked up several delegates in New York state. There have been widespread rumors that Truman would like to see New York Gov. Averell Harriman get the nod.

* * *

In answer to a question, the ex-President said he doesn't believe the California win assures Stevenson the Democratic nomination.

"I won't know until the convention meets," he declared. "I have no candidate and no favorite."

Admiral Joy Is Dead; Korean Truce Leader

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Retired Adm. Charles Turner Joy, who headed the United Nations truce team for 11 months of tedious armistice negotiations with the Communists in Korea, died yesterday. He was 61.

Joy died in the naval hospital here. His widow Martha Ann said he had leukemia the past four years.

The admiral was commander of U.N. naval forces in the Korean War and in 1951 was named senior delegate of the U.N. Command delegation to the Korean armistice conference.

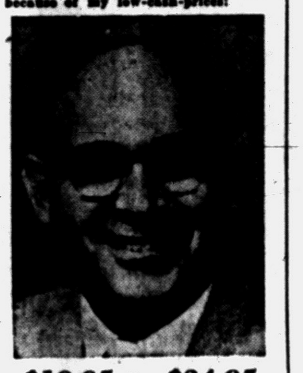

He asked to be relieved as chief negotiator on May 22, 1952, expressing distrust of the Chinese Communists but agreeing the talks were the desired course for the United Nations.

Batty Court Room

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—A district court jury panel ducked and dodged as a little bat divebombed them. Judge Paul Tackett called a 15-minute recess while employes tried to nab the intruder. Finally he parked on the ceiling. Court took up again. So did the bat. But a calm onlooker raised his hat. In went the bat. It was freed outside.

Army to Shuffle Reserve Groups

New Plan Announced to Terminate Liability of WW II Vets

By C. YATES McDANIEL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army announced today it will discharge 475,000 ready reservists and transfer 500,000 others to the standby reserve list.

It described the action as a wholesale effort to terminate the military service liability of World War II and Korean veterans and to weed out dead wood.

* * *

An Army announcement said this screening process will take place in the 12 months starting July 1. When completed, the Army said, it will leave in the ready reserve only those who are fit, who possess needed military qualifications and who will be available for immediate active duty in time of war or national emergency.

The ready reserve is composed of individuals and organized units who would be called to active duty promptly in time of war or a national emergency declared by Congress or the President.

STANDBY IS LINABLE

The standby reserve is liable for active service only in time of war or in an emergency declared by Congress.

The Army's ready reserve now has a nominal strength of 1,885,000, exclusive of the National Guard, which will number 407,000 by the end of this month. The present strength of the standby reserve is only 8,500.

The Army said most of the reservists who will be discharged from the ready category are those who saw active service prior to June 19, 1951. Most of this group also served during the war in Korea.

* * *

Priority for transfer from the ready to the standby reserve will be given to reservists who served in Korea at any time between June 26, 1950, and July 27, 1953.

Santa Cruz City Can Rock, Roll—but No Chicken

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP)—City officials intent on dispelling any notion that Santa Cruz is the lair of the square, want it known that resort.

* * *

Rock and roll, "along with other harmless types of swing music, enjoyable to young and old," is welcomed, said City Manager Robert Klein last night.

"We have nothing against rock and roll music," chimed in Chief of Police Al Huntsman. "It's just what some people do while listening to it."

Huntsman had said Monday public dancing to the more energetic type of R&R "will not be tolerated in the future anywhere in Santa Cruz." His police had cracked down on a dance at Civic Auditorium Saturday night because, they said, the music incited some teen-agers to "obscene and highly suggestive dancing."

Teen-age fans had protested the reported ban.

Al Judah, manager of the auditorium, said rock and roll "may lead to excesses among adolescents."

He reported he had canceled an engagement for a one-night stand by another rock and roller "because his music attracts a certain type of crowd that would not be compatible to this particular community."

Welsh Miners Struggle to Assure Future Work

GWAUN-CAE-CURWEN, Wales (AP)—Two hundred and seventy-nine tired miners dug deep for their goal this week, fighting for a reprieve for this little Welsh mining town and the 1,000 families who make their livelihood here.

* * *

This is the second half of a two-week test for survival ordered by Britain's National Coal Board. Annoyed by low production figures and a total of 249 strikes in the mine since 1947, the coal board last month washed its hands of this little town in the Amman Valley and ordered the mine shut down.

'PROPER STANDARD'

The miners appealed for another chance. The coal board, which had fired all 1,065 men in the mine, offered a two-week test. It said it would hire back 279 men and let them show if miners in the valley here could maintain "a proper standard of work."

The coal board, the government body which runs Britain's mines, said the miners here had been producing only 7.4 hundredweight of coal per man per day. This compared to an average for the rest of the area of 19 hundredweight.

The men of Gwaun-Cae-Curwen tried to call out miners of neighboring areas in a protest strike but were rebuffed. They agreed finally to the test, and the 279 men went to work on trial last week.

An official of the National Union of Mineworkers says the men are exhausted but "there is definitely a big improvement." The 786 other miners and their anxious families meet nightly at the pithead to check the production figures.

The Man Says 'No' at Wedding

Father Slaps His Face, Bride Breaks Into Tears, Doctor Orders Rest

PARIS (INS) — "Monsieur François Blanquet, do you take Mademoiselle Francoise Bleiron as your lawful wedded wife?"

* * *

"No."

This dialogue took place in the City Hall of Orleans, about 65 miles south of Paris. The deputy mayor, who was officiating, and the 60 wedding guests were dumbfounded.

The father of the bride was the first to take action. He slapped the bridegroom in the face.

The groom's own two sisters followed suit, but Blanquet accepted the blows without changing expression.

The tearful bride was led away and the 60-place wedding dinner at a leading Orleans restaurant was cancelled. Doctors examined Blanquet, diagnosed a nervous depression and ordered a two-week hospital rest.

The bride's family bluntly said he was crazy.

Young Blanquet was known as a brilliant wood sculptor who worked in the medieval style. His father said Blanquet was a sensitive artist — who disliked his wife-to-be's father.

* * *

"He loves the girl," Blanquet Senior said. "But the thought of getting into a family like that was just too much for him."

The number of rattles on the rattlesnake's tail indicates the number of times the snake has shed its skin and does not necessarily mark its age in years.

Man Pinned to Garage

MANISTEE (AP) — Earl A. Judd, 78, was in critical condition in Community Hospital today with injuries suffered when a car driven by his wife pinned him against the center post at the entrance to their two-car garage. Mrs. Judd, who was learning to drive, threw the car into reverse instead of forward gear as she was parking the car in the garage. An open door on the car slammed Judd against the post.

Ecuador President to Respect Vote Count

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra says the results of Sunday's national elections will be "fully and completely" respected.

The President told reporters last night his government "has clear and concrete evidence that certain citizens have been conspiring against the country's peace in various ways and with various machinations for a long time." He added that both before and after the Sunday voting, "certain politicians have intensified their criminal and illegal activities."

But he said his government "will use all means to crush the seditious plots" and promised the election results will be enforced.

Incomplete unofficial election returns gave Conservative Camilio Ponce Enriquez 185,635 votes to 176,221 for Raul Clemente Huerta, candidate of the Democratic Front.

Police Discuss Crime

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — More than 120 delegates to the international criminal police commission gathered here today for their annual conference on methods of fighting global crime.

This Pup Knows Where to Head in Emergencies

HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—Even a little puppy knows where to go when he needs help.

Last week, the puppy appeared at the back door of Harlan Hospital. He was still there Sunday so an orderly examined him and found a broken leg.

Now the puppy, believed to have been hit by a car, is in the hospital with a splinted leg awaiting his master. His collar had a nameplate but no name on it.

Nurses are caring for him until his master shows up.

It was the second Syrian announcement of an archeological find in two days.

Syria's chief archeologist, Dr. Salim Abdel Abdulhak, said the British team had reported uncovering the ancient city north of Aleppo after 45 days of excavations. The women reported evidence it was the capital of an ancient state known as Arbad.

* * *

Abdulhak reported yesterday the discovery in northern Syria of the 4,000-year-old seaport city of Semira. The find, rich in archeological treasure, had eluded excavation teams of four nations for a century.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

HOME ON THE RANGE—4
RUSTY AND HER FAWN

Sally, who is called Rusty by her friends because of the color of her hair, lives on the "J-Bar-E" ranch with her brother Red.

She rides the range every day in summer after school, and knows a lot about the work that goes on all over a big cattle ranch. She has many pets on the ranch, and is particularly fond of "Fenna" the fawn, who is so tame she will eat an apple from Rusty's hand.

Color the picture with your crayons, using a red-brown for both Rusty's hair and for the fawn's back and sides. Paste the picture down on cardboard, and cut out the parts carefully.

Fasten Rusty's left arm to her shoulder with a brass fastener or a bent pin, and fold the picture down the center so it will stand up. Rusty's arm will then go over the fawn's shoulder affectionately. Don't forget to put Rusty's big western hat on her head.

(Dolores Young, Honolulu, Hawaii, was the first to submit this idea. Junior Editors awards $10 each for useable ideas. Send in your suggestions care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

U. S. Bond Sales Dip

DETROIT (AP) — Purchases of series E and H savings bonds in Michigan during April fell off nearly 16 per cent compared with the same month a year ago. Combined purchases total $23.7 million this April against $28.2 last April. The drop was attributed to layoffs in the automotive and allied industries.

Bank checks written in pencil are generally accepted but are not the globe, the world will have about five billion people in the next 40 years.

Harper Woods Picked

HARPER WOODS (AP) — The Army is considering this city as a site for a $250,000 reserve training center. City Manager Robert J. McNutt said the Army was interested in locating the center on part of a 15-acre parcel which the city may acquire for a new city hall.

At present rates of population increase in almost every part of the globe, the world will have abo five billion people in the next 40 years.

Drive-In Church Rites

Shrimp comprises the most lucrative of all American commercial fishing enterprises, 225 million pounds worth $50 million are taken during the course of a normal year.

Zhukov First to Be Invited— Who Is Next?

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower opened the door today to an invitation to Soviet Defense Minister Marshal Georgi Zhukov to visit the United States later on — if Zhukov shows an interest in coming.

• • •

Eisenhower told a news conference that if Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson was invited to visit the Soviet Union that he would certainly ask Zhukov, whom he knew well at the end of World War II, to come to Washington.

In effect the President declared in this respect, and in commenting on the forthcoming visit of Gen. Nathan F. Twining to Moscow, an American policy of exact reciprocity. It was the first time the U. S. position had been so precisely spelled out by Eisenhower.

The possibility of a Zhukov visit is important because contacts between the former top American commander in Europe and the top Soviet military figure have long been the center of speculation about improving United States-Russian relations.

Eisenhower has always been extremely careful, while praising Zhukov, to avoid creating situation which might be embarrassing to his old comrade in arms against Nazi Germany.

The two met at the summit conference at Geneva last July. Their conversations there were reported to be very cordial.

Security for You

Income Will Determine Satisfaction of Retirement

BY RAY HENRY
(AP Writer)

The satisfaction you'll get from retirement, if you're like most people, will depend largely on your income.

* * *

This interesting, but not surprising, attitude showed up in a recent survey made by John J. Corson and John W. McConnell as part of their new book on the "Economic Needs of Older People."

The reason: To be satisfied, you've got to have enough income to meet your basic living costs.

How much income do you need these days to retire and have a modest, but adequate, living?

$2,000 PER YEAR

The government figures you need — if you're living like average retired couples — about $2,000 a year for you and your wife at today's prices. That's a nationwide average. It could be higher or lower depending on where you live and other circumstances.

And the government qualifies the amount by saying that no figure can completely show individual differences in income needs. Your housing costs depend on whether you rent or own your home. The cost of your food depends, to a degree, on whether you live in a city or a rural area. The money you pay out for heat and other utilities depends on what section of the country you live in.

But the degree of difference from city-to-city isn't as great as you might think. A 1950 government survey of a number of cities showed that it costs a retired couple about the same to live in New York City, Baltimore, Minneapolis, Jacksonville, Fla., Norfolk and Richmond, Va., Memphis, Portland, Maine and Philadelphia. No comparable survey of cities has been made since then.

How does a retired couple spend its money, assuming its income is near the average?

No up-to-date nationwide figures are available on this. But in October, 1954, the Welfare and Health Council of New York City did some checking on the subject. It came up with a budget for a retired couple which it describes as a "yardstick of average needs and average costs."

The budget — totalling $2,137 — only misses by $137 what the federal government considers the nation-wide average.

ONLY A YARDSTICK

It breaks down this way per month:

Food — $56.94; clothing — $11.26; housing — $64.14; transportation — $4.33; medical care — $13.00; personal care — $3.46; other — $24.92.

This budget, like the government's average income figure, should be viewed only as a rough yardstick and not as an ideal. The food we eat, the clothing we wear, the entertainment we seek depend on individual tastes, even within the narrow bounds of an average budget.

And it applies to New York City which, although offering a reasonable comparison of costs with a number of other cities, only permits a rough comparison with lots of other places.

* * *

You may write Ray Henry in care of this newspaper about your Social Security or retirement problems. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin.)

And a Whey We Go!

MENOMINEE (AP) — Firefighters ran out of water battling a stubborn blaze at a cheese factory. So they hooked up their hose lines with a 50,000-pound tank of whey, the watery part of milk drained off in cheese making. The whey doused the flames.

Christmas Again

HAWESVILLE, Ky. (AP) — This little town lit up like Christmas when Charles Butler's house caught fire just after dark. Half the residents turned out excitedly and, during the uproar, someone turned on the Chirstmas lights that had been hanging over the streets since December.

Carriage Classes Become Real Cool Cats

High Society Discovers the Charm of Jazz

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—It has become the smart thing to do—chic, that is, not brainy—to appreciate jazz.

* * *

You don't have to understand it, enjoy it, play it or listen to it. Just appreciate. When the name of Dave Brubeck or Peanuts Hucko comes up in polite conversation, try to be sophisticated.

Force open your jaws and say "Ah."

"Jazz in its pure form is true art," explains Mrs. Louis L. Lorrillard of the Newport, R. I., Lorrillards, a real blue blood.

"It is almost wonderfully classical. We have succeeded in removing jazz from the smoky beer rooms and putting it into its proper setting—in concert form, under a beautiful moon."

* * *

Devotees of the smoky beer room may not like this slur at all. But the undeniable fact is that since Mrs. Lorrillard originated the idea of holding a jazz festival in staid, social Newport three years ago, the "400" and some 40,000 of their friends have swarmed the place annually to hear jazz.

ROCKEFELLERS ROCK

They have not "jumped," as we say in the beer room, but the social set has come to regard such figures as Satchmo Armstrong, Count Basie and Chico Hamilton as having class and respectability. The festival has rocked the Rockefeller world, so to speak.

* * *

Mrs. Lorrillard herself is a Boston girl who has recovered from her adolescent run-ins with Bach and Beethoven, and she puts it this way: "It has certainly livened Newport, which for some time was rumored—quite prematurely—to be dead."

The result of this mutual attraction between the cats and the carriage classes is that everybody in these parts is "taking up" jazz, as if it were Palm Beach or a glass of Mumm's.

"We have abandoned a lot of the usual places, like El Morroco and the Stork—too square— and we're going to Basin Street and Nick's.

"They," said Mrs. Lorrillard, casually waving her diamond-crusted hand, "are just the greatest."

* * *

The Newport Jazz Festival, featuring top singers and instrumentalists who will perform under the stars on July 5, 6 and 7, was devised as a plan to put the pretty port city back on the map, culturally.

PHILHARMONIC FLOPS

"We had sponsored a concert by the New York Philharmonic in 1953, and it was an enormous failure, financially. So we got the idea of bringing truly fine jazz musicians to Newport. My husband became president of the plan, and from the first year, in 1954, it was a success.

* * *

"Of course, there was some resistance at first. You know what some people think of jazz." Mrs. Lorrillard raised her eyebrows significantly. "They think it is associated with the very lowest kind of dives."

Most of the dissenters have become enlightened now, particularly under the influence of progressive jazz. That's the kind where you can't make out a melody.

"It's like abstract art," says Mrs. L. "If you're going to make any progress at all, you must get farther and farther away from the realistic approach."

Weighty Trouble

CHICKASHA, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. C. W. Harrell is going to double check from now on when she give away anything to the junk man. She discarded an old set of scales from her place of business. Several days later the hauler reported he examined the old scales and took out 256 pennies. The scales had been out in back of her store for eight years.

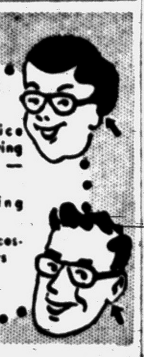

Good-Bye License

READINGTON, N. J. (AP)—The driving license of Bruce Gabriel, 17, was revoked before it was issued. Police said he was driving 70 miles an hour on a learner's permit and did not have a licensed driver beside him. The court suspended issuance of his license for three months.

DIAGNOSTIC CLINIC — Dr. Meyer Perlstein, noted cerebral palsy specialist from Chicago, is shown testing one of the 32 children he has seen yesterday and today at Stevens Hall, All Saints Episcopal Church. The little girl is four-year-old Sharon Mosey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mosey of Royal Oak. The clinic is sponsored by the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children in cooperation with the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Disabled Adults.

1,500 Expected at Elk Parley

Final arrangements were being completed today for the opening of the 1956 state convention of Elks at the modernized Temple on Orchard Lake Avenue Friday morning.

A three-day Elk ritualistic contest got under way this morning at the Knights of Columbus Hall in connection with the convention.

Over 1,500 Elks and their ladies from every part of Michigan are expected to be visiting Pontiac for the annual event. They began arriving today for the ritualistic contest and were expected to continue to pour in tomorrow with registration slated for 9 a.m.

A festive appearing city of flags and decorations will greet the visiting Elks, Clifford Maison, publicity chairman of the convention said today.

Welcome banners, flags, and signs have been put up throughout Pontiac to honor this occasion of the third such gathering here of Elks. Decorations chairman Archie Barnett and his staff expected to complete their work early today.

A full schedule of events has been planned for Friday through Sunday. A Sunday morning Memorial Service at 11 a.m. will close the convention.

Some of the highlights of the big weekend will be the president's banquet honoring state leader Louis Koepfgen, of Port Huron; a meeting of the state committee, a dinner-dance, and the previously mentioned ritualistic contest which involves teams from 23 lodges.

There will also be business meetings, sporting events, sightseeing, and special activities for the women.

The ritualistic contest will be completed Saturday with awards to be presented the team and individual champions at the president's banquet that night. Awards will also be given for scholarship and youth activities.

The Friday program calls for golf at the Silver Lake Club for Elks and their ladies in the morning and a scenic tour for the ladies in the afternoon. Bowling will also be enjoyed during afternoon with a dinner-dance getting under way at 5 p.m. in the Elks dining room.

President Koepfgen will preside at the opening business meeting Satuday morning with welcome addresses to be given by Mayor William Donaldson and Exalted Ruler Jack Bender of the Pontiac Lodge 810.

A brunch and fashion show is planned for later that day for the women and all the guests will be invited to take part in bowling and golf during the afternoon.

Pontiac City Manager Walter Willman will give the welcome address at the president's banquet beginning at 6:30 p.m. New state officers will be introduced during the affair and dancing will follow.

A final business session will precede the Sunday service. The convention comes a close following the noon luncheon.

Visiting Elks and their wives will be quartered throughout Pontiac and surrounding areas during the busy weekend through previous arrangements made by the Lodge's housing committee.

Russell Dodd is general chairman of the convention. He has had some 150 committee workers working and planning for several weeks in hopes of making the convention one of the most successful ever held in Michigan.

Weeds in City Must Be Cut by July 1 or Owners Will Face Bill for Work

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept. has warned residents that all weeds on private property must be cut by July 1 or the department will do the work and charge $6.00 for a 50 foot lot.

This is provided for under the city's weed ordinance passed last July. Last year the deadline for cutting the noxious weeds was Aug. 1.

Notices will be published in the Pontiac Press every Saturday during this month to remind citizens of the deadline.

If a citizen does not pay the $6 charges (last year it was $3), they will be collected through a special assessment against the property, according to David R. Ewalt, department head.

The city will be taking care of its vacant property this month, Ewalt said, by spraying to eliminate the hazardous weeds. It will also be mowing areas between the sidewalks and curbs during the summer months.

Last year by Sept. 15, the city had to enter 250 private lots to cut weeds. In all but 11 of these cases, the people paid the charges.

Ecorse Workshop Set

EAST LANSING (UP) — Michigan State University will conduct its second annual "down river community resources workshop" for teachers in the Ecorse area June 25-Aug. 13. Classes will be held at Ecorse High School.

Telegraphers Threat Ends in Pay Boost

WASHINGTON (UP) — Agreement on a two-year contract has ended the threat of a nationwide walkout of Western Union Telegraph Co. workers.

* * *

The company announced the agreement provides a 13-cent hourly pay boost for its 45,000 workers retroactive to June 1, along with improved pensions and messenger allowances. Effective next Jan. 1, another 5 cents an hour is to be provided to adjust individual wage scales.

* * *

The workers had averaged $1.88 an hour. The unions had sought a 15-cent hourly pay boost and another 7 cents for adjustments. The agreement was reached with the Commercial Telegraphers Union and the independent American Communications Assn.

Delray Beach Owner Will Ban All Negroes

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (UP)—The owner of a mile-long section of private beach five miles north of this resort city said he will post the property against Negro bathers.

* * *

Phil Phillips, owner of a sea food restaurant, said Negroes have been using the beach without permission on weekends for some time.

He said last night he was posting the property "because it's come to the point that I can't even get on my own beach."

* * *

North of Phillips' beach is a 150-foot section bought by the city for use by Negroes but Negro leaders say it is unacceptable.

The City Commission voted Tuesday to ask the Legislature to exclude the Negro district from Delray Beach city limits in the wake of racial tension that has lasted a month. About 2,000 Negroes now live here.

Envoy Bishop 'Ill'; Cancels Asian Trip

SINGAPORE (UP)—A "slight illness" has caused U.S. Ambassador Max Bishop to cancel the Indonesian vacation to which some Indonesians objected.

Bishop, American envoy to Thailand and U.S. representative to the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, arrived here yesterday en route to Jakarta. U.S. consulate sources disclosed he would not go on as scheduled, and attributed the change in plans to his health.

* * *

Indonesia has proclaimed a neutralist role between the East and West. Some Indonesians feared Bishop, during his visit, would try to pressure their government into joining SEATO.

Gets Diploma From Work at Home

A plucky eighteen-year-old is the first student to receive his high school diploma after completing school work on the home bound teaching program through the Oakland County Board of Education.

* * *

Jerry Aurand, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garold Aurand of Lake Orion will receive a diploma tonight from Lake Orion High School.

He has been taught at home for the past three years by Mrs. Mildred Williams, home bound teacher from the county Board of Education office.

Jerry, a victim of muscular distrophy, has been unable to attend regular classes since his family moved to Lake Orion from Brutus three years ago.

The home bound teaching program has been in effect in Oakland County for seven years now, Mrs. Williams said, but Jerry is the first of the students to graduate from high school.

* * *

Mrs. Williams is one of three teachers in the county, each instructing 15 students who are unable to attend regular classes because of physical disabilities. The teachers go to their students' homes twice a week.

"Most of the children we're instructing are in the lower grades," she said.

"We work as closely as possible with the schools in setting up the curricula," she continued. "Jerry has taken all the regular subjects, four years of English, mathematics, history, economics and sociology."

"He taught himself to type. I got a book and worked with him. He does very well."

Jerry's mother, Mrs. Aurand says that Jerry hopes to find a job that he can do at home now that he's finished with school.

Rep. Wolcott Ponders Re-Election Decision

WASHINGTON (INS) — Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott (R-Mich) was reconsidering today his decision not to run for office again.

Wolcott several weeks ago said he would not seek re-election but he now says "a lot of pressure" has been brought to bear and he may run again.

Leader Dogs Agency Gets $38,000

Michigan United Fund Distributes 3 Million

Leader Dogs for The Blind of Rochester was granted $38,000 as a share of $2,925,000 allocated to 32 member agencies by the officers and directors of the Michigan United Fund.

The state-wide organization, meeting at Michigan State University, allotted $1,762,080 to Michigan agencies and $890,931 to national groups.

The largest state grant, of $500,000, went to the Michigan Heart Association. The largest national grant was $700,779 to United Service Organizations.

William D. McIntyre, of Monroe, chairman of the United Fund Board, said the goal for the funds to be raised this fall represents an increase of about 20 per cent over last year's figure of $2,493,642.

The fund now covers 94 per cent of the state's fund-raising agencies, 50 of the state's counties and 92 local United Fund and Community Chest organizations, McIntyre said.

He said that only six major agencies now remain outside of the United Fund, listing these as: The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Muscular Dystrophy Assn., American Cancer Society, Michigan Association for The Mentally retarded, Michigan Association of Crippled Children and the Michigan Tuberculosis Assn.

McIntyre was re-elected chairman of the Board of Directors, and Irving A. Duffy, a Ford Motor Co. vice president, and Birmigham resident was re-elected fund president.

The complete breakdown of the grants to Michigan agencies:

Michigan Heart Assn., $500,000; Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory, $23,000; Michigan Chapter Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, $200,000; Michigan League for Nursing, $9,500; Cerebral Palsy Association of Michigan, $170,000; Michigan Epilepsy Center, $113,000; Michigan Mental Health Society, $85,580; Michigan Chapter Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation, $275,000;

Michigan Association for Retarded Children, $45,000; Michigan Children's Aid Society, $134,000; Michigan Association for Better Hearing, $62,000; Michigan Chapter National Multiplesclerosis Society, $75,000; Michigan Welfare League, $57,000.

French Raiding Rebels in Africa

Mechanized Division in Algeria Kill 500 Arabs in Mountain Battle

ALGIERS, Algeria (UP)—France's highly mobile 7th Mechanized Division fanned out through a sector of Agleria's Grand Kabylie Mountains today in a drive to clean out nests of nationalist rebels. French spokesmen termed the operation's initial results "good."

* * *

The 7th Division, supported by elements of the 27th Alpine Division, sealed off a mountainous section in north central Algeria yesterday in a second big sweep against rebel bands.

French headquarters expressed hope that the new Operation Basque would be as effective as the "Iron Gates" offensive in the Riban Mountains farther east. In that operation the French claimed some 500 rebels killed or captured, the biggest bag of the 19 month-old rebellion.

* * *

The French said their mobile columns swept the roads, knocking over about 100 roadblocks and taking some 200 prisoners.

Masked Bandits Steal Diamonds

3 Costumed Gunmen Grab Gems From Two Men on Gotham Street

NEW YORK (AP) — Three identically costumed gunmen snatched two gem brokerage firm employes off a Greenwich Village street yesterday and fled with $211,000 worth of cut and uncut diamonds.

* * *

Albert C. Schmitt, 32, and Eugene Epsky, 27, said each gunman wore dark goggles, white gloves, peaked hats and denim work clothes similar to those of subway motormen.

The bandits warned Schmitt, secretary of the Traders Service Corp., not to reach for "your right pocket. We know you have a gun there."

* * *

Schmitt and Epsky were hustled into an apartment house cellar, and bound with adhesive tape and their own belts. Adhesive also was used to tape their youths.

After the gunmen fled with two briefcases, containing five packets of cut diamonds and four of uncut ones. Schmitt managed to partially free himself. His cries brought the building superintendent, who called police.

The diamonds were to be delivered to five midtown Manhattan firms. Police said the gems were insured.

Chiang Navy Claims Artillery Duel Win

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Defense Ministry claimed today that Nationalist warships operating near the offshore island of Matsu had silenced Communist guns on the China mainland in two duels.

* * *

The ministry said the Red guns fired a total of 91 rounds during the exchange early yesterday. The Nationalist ships were on patrol off the mainland.

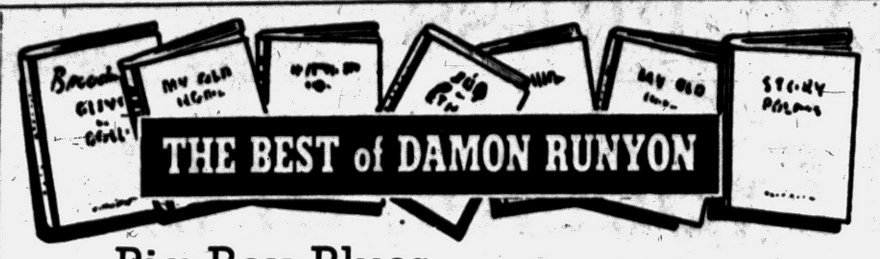

The Nationalists also denied Peiping radio reports that Red shore guns had sunk two Nationalist warships off the mouth of the Min River, near Matsu, on June 4, and that Red antiaircraft guns had downed a Nationalist jet off Swatow June 5.

Jailee Tells on Police in Slot Machine Thefts

MANILA (AP) — Authorities have arrested six policemen accused by a disgruntled jail inmate of stealing $300 from 49 slot machines impounded in a local hoosegow.

Police said the prisoner complained he had failed to get the share of the loot promised him.

The machines were picked up during a city campaign against gambling. Police records showed they contained about $300. But the machines were empty when investigators open them.

Big Boy Blues

By DAMON RUNYON

Sitting in Mindy's restaurant I learn from West Side Willie the erstwhile ticket speculator of Broadway who is now a ticket taker for the Army show "Gee Eyes" that he is scared what will happen when the show hits the big street. Seems the star of the show is Little Boy Blues, who is the son of Big Boy Blues, and Willie is more than apprehensive of what will occur when Big Boy finds out the kid is a ballet dancer in the attire of a doll. Big Bob is six feet three and weighs anyway 200 pounds and has a record at police headquarters that consists mainly of mayhem.

Now Rosie Flynn, who married Big Boy and is the mother of Little Boy, tells me as we watch the soldiers march to the theater that she tells Big Boy that Little Boy is with Coogan's Cobras fighting overseas getting the reputation as the fightingest outfit in our Army. So Big Boy is bragging all over town about what his son is doing cleaning up on the enemy. Now Rosie tells me she wakes up at night trembling at the thought of Big Boy's anger when he learns of large fees she pays for Little Boy to learn to dance so he can be attired as a doll in an Army show.

PART FOUR

I commence trembling myself right then and there thinking of such a situation and at this point I unload Rosie Flynn and go on my way because I realize that if Big Boy learns of the fees she mentions he may not only wipe out Rosie but anyone who ever even knows her.

* * *

To tell the truth, I am a little disappointed in Rosie as I always figure her to have some sense and while I do not say it is wrong for anybody's son to dance I consider it sinful to pay fees to encourage him to do it.

Well, the day of the opening I am surprised more than no little when West Side Willie hunts me up and gives me a skull, which is a way of saying a free ticket for the show and I figure it must be because business is not up to expectations but when I mention this idea to Willie he becomes quite provoked.

"Why," he says, "we are sold out in advance for half the entire engagement already. This show is the biggest thing since nylons. If you examine your ducket you will observe that no seat is specified. That means you have standing room only."

IN A GOOD POSITION

But standing room is by no means undesirable in a New York theater especially at openings because where you stand is in back of the last row which places you in a position to leave quickly and quietly in case the show is bad and this is where I am located for the opening of Gee Eyes.

I am a little late getting to the theater and the audience is pretty well seated when I arrive and as I am going in West Side Willie who is taking tickets with great skill holds back a Broadway columnist and his wife a minutes and says to me:

"What do you think we have with us tonight?" he says. "Why nobody but Colonel Billy Coogan, the commander of Coogan's Cobras. He is a tall slim guy with a lot of ribbons on his chest and he is in the third row center."

* * *

"Yes," the columnis says. "He flies in from the Pacific only today to get a new decoration tomorrow from the President in Washington."

Naturally on taking my place in the rear of the house I spot Colonel Coogan at once by his uniform away down front and I am somewhat astonished to observe next to him a head and a pair of shoulders that even at long distance and from behind I identify as belonging to Big Boy Blues, and what is more he seems to be chatting with Colonel Coogan.

I am standing there wondering about this spectacle but just then the curtain opens and I dismiss the matter from my mind as I can see at once that this is a pretty good show although personally I like a little more sex appeal than it is possible to get into shows in which all the performers are hairy-legged guys with no bims whatever around.

The one thing I am looking for which is Little Boy Blues does not come on until the finale and this is a very large number, indeed, with the entire cast on stage when out comes a slim and graceful young ballet dancer in a flaring short skirt and all who can easily pass for a doll if you do not know it has to be a guy in this company unless somebody makes a serious mistake.

A GENIUS AT BALLET

I can see that the dancer is undoubtedly Little Boy Blues even without looking at the programme to make sure and while I am by no means a judge of ballet dancing and in fact can do without same entirely in a pinch, I realize that he gives a great performance.

In fact, I realize that he is no doubt a genius at ballet dancing and as the curtain closes on him the audience lets out a roar of applause that I afterwards hear shakes the glasses off the back bar in the gin mill next door to the theater.

Then the curtain opens again as is always the case when there is great applause and Little Boy Blues stands there on the stage panting as if he just finished a fast hundred yards and taking bows with one hand on his stomach and also perspiring no little and the audience applauds with even greater vigor than before and at this moment I observe Big Boy Blues jump up from his seat down front.

DROPS ON HIS SCONCE

I notice his mouth is wide open so I judge he is yelling something and thinks I to myself well, here it somes, although there is too much noise for me to hear what he is yelling about, and besides at almost the same instant he jumps up a guy in the seat directly behind him jumps up too and practically simultaneously with Big Boy's mouth opening a blackjack drops on his sconce and Big Boy sinks back quietly in his seat. Then I recognize the guy behind him as Captain Caswell in civilian clothes.

Well, the uproar from the audience continues but of course it is all over Little Boy Blues' dancing and no one notices what happens to Big Boy although a couple of coppers come down the aisle and lift him out of his seat and drag him away still unconscious.

Furthermore, no one pays any attention to Colonel Coogan who is up on his feet and saying to everyone around him that the slugging of Big Boy is the worst outrage since Pearl Harbor though no one seems to listen to him.

* * *

By this time Little Boy Blues is panting and perspiring more from taking bows than from his dancing so the curtain closes in on him and the first act for good and nearly everyone in the audience moves out into the lobby for the intermission to smoke and gas and all they are gassing about is Little Boy's dancing.

Illiterate Confesses Strangling Young Boy

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police said a 20-year-old youth they describe as illiterate and with a record of sex offenses against children today held to his story that he strangled Richard Townson, 5, in an alley May 20.

* * *

But the youth's parents insisted he could not be guilty, declaring their son William Roy Watson was at home during the day and evening that Richard was strangled with his own belt. A similar story came from other children of Mr. and Mrs. William Watson.

Earle and Russell Jackson, who took the youth's signed statement, said Watson re-enacted the strangling at the scene. They said he gave "intimate details, all correct."

* * *

Charges have not been filed in the case as officers continued their investigation.

Britain Shutting Down Naval Base in Orkneys

LONDON (AP) — Britain is shutting down its huge Scapa Flow naval base, in the Orkneys, where the Kaiser's high seas fleet was scuttled after World War I.

* * *

A naval spokesman said the Admiralty could no longer foresee sufficient use for the installations either in peace or in war to justify the expense of retaining them.

Scapa Flow, big enough to harbor a whole navy, is 15 miles long and 8 miles across.

All maples yield sweet sap, but only two are significant as syrup producers—the sugar maple and the black maple.

Michigan's shoreline (touching Lakes Erie, Huron, Michigan and Superior) is the longest of any state, 2,302 miles.

Production of castor oil once centered in southern Illinois. It was used mostly for lubricating purposes, not as a medicine.

Adenauer May Be Ousted in '57

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A member of the German Bundestag has predicted that Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democrat party will lose its majority in the 1957 elections, but the West German government's course will remain fundamentally the same.

Dr. Karl Atzenroth of Coblenz made the prediction to a reporter while on a two-day visit to Grand Rapids.

Atzenroth operates a furniture factory and is president of the 10-Nation European Assn., of Furniture Manufacturers. Calling himself a part-time politicial, Atzenroth is a member of the Free Democratic party.

His post corresponds to that of a member of the American House of Representatives and he is serving his second four-year term.

Atzenroth asserts that Adenauer's popularity won the Christian Democrats their absolute majority.

WILL STAY BIGGEST

"The people have seen that is not good," he says, "but the Christian Democrats will remain the biggest party—44 or 45 per cent." He believes that West German party coalitions will lead the country on its present course.

"We are all against the Communists—all parties," he emphasizes. "We must help the defense of the western world, the free world, against dictators. All Germans think so—even the socialists."

Atzenroth fervently says German reunification "must be."

He believes Russia might be persuaded to permit free, inspected elections in East Germany if the West will lift some trade restrictions and admit more goods to Russia.

* * *

East Germans will vote 90 per cent against the Communists, Atzenroth states.

UNIFICATION DISTANT

He terms a United States of Europe a "long way" off, but adds "it is a necessity."

An Arizona furniture dealer can come 2,000 miles to Grand Rapids to buy, he explains, but a Luxemberg dealer cannot buy from Atzenroth's factory at Coblenz—only 100 kilometers away, without surmounting border obstacles.

The 10-nation trade group was organized five years ago to combat such problems, he said.

Dr. Atzenroth returns to Detroit today to rejoin four other members of the Bundestag—one from each party—who are on a six-week, 30-state tour as guests of the State Department.

2 Union Groups Facing Censure

Dave Beck's Teamsters, Building Trades Under AFL-CIO Crackdown

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two key union groups faced a possible crackdown from AFL-CIO leaders today on charges of flouting rules of the merged labor federation.

One alleged rules violator is the Teamsters Union, biggest single AFL-CIO affiliate with about 1½ million members. The others is the 19-union building trades group, with more than three million members.

* * *

The complaint against the teamsters involves that union's continued alliance with the International Longshoremen's Assn., ousted from the former AFL for alleged criminal influences. Under AFL-CIO rules, member unions are barred from dealings with expelled unions.

At the urging of AFL-CIO President George Meany, the teamsters several months ago dropped plans to extend the ILA a $400,000 loan, but teamsters union chief Dave Beck says his union and the ILA will continue to remain friendly and work out common problems.

MUST CUT ALL TIES

The council was expected to tell Beck the teamsters must cut off completely even their remaining ties with the ousted ILA.

The building trades member unions have decided as a group to try to block any further mergers of AFL and CIO organizations on state and local levels until their renewed jurisdictional war with former CIO unions can be settled.

Meany went before the building trades' executive board last week with a plea that their unions reverse this policy and support state mergers. They decided to maintain the policy anyway.

* * *

The teamsters also are advocating a "go slow" policy on further mergers.

The AFL-CIO Council yesterday ordered a special 1-cent monthly assessment on the 15 million AFL-CIO members to meet a revenue deficit. Meany said it was due to the big staff formed when AFL and CIO combined.

Bob Considine Says:

Baruch Sees New Hitler Starting A-War

NEW YORK (INS)—Bernard M. Baruch, the American elder statesman whose plan for international control of atomic energy was vetoed by Russia, believes as a consequence "it is only a matter of time before every nation on earth will have atomic weapons."

* * *

Atomic warfare is bound to follow, he contends, as a matter of course and tradition.

"There has been a Hitler at every stage in history," the vigorous 85-year-old adviser to presidents since Woodrow Wilson observed at his memento-laden Fifth avenue apartment, after hearing a reporter's account of a recent H-bomb test in the Pacific.

"Can we say that another Hitler won't appear?" he asked. "You know very well that if he had come up with the atomic bomb he would have used it without a qualm. What's to prevent some new power-mad fellow in any two-by-four country from doing the same thing when he gets his own batch of nuclear weapons?

"He'll get them, too, if the world goes along without proper atomic energy control very much longer. Quicker, cheaper ways always are found to build things."

PLAN SABOTAGED

Baruch, who will be 86 Aug. 19, does not find it easy to dismiss from his mind the Communist sabotage of the plan he submitted as U. S. representative to the U. N. Atomic Energy Commission nearly a decade ago.

* * *

The plan, which calls for control of all fissionable material, peaceful development of the atom, and inspection, remains the policy of the U. S. which Russia has steadfastly refused to accept.

"Not long before Vishinsky died I attended a party for him over there at U. N.," Baruch recalled. "Had to pass through a picket line to get there. A pretty young thing carrying a banner recognized me and asked me how I could do a trick like that.

"I said, 'Young lady, if you have a disagreement with a person it's better to see them than not see them.' And in I went.

* * *

"Well, after a time I saw Vishinsky wasn't too surrounded, so I went over to him, real close, and I said to him, 'Vishinsky, you're a damned fool. He looked surprised.

"Then I said, 'I'm a damned fool, too. You and I have the worst weapon man ever devised. And while we're growling at each other and threatening each other, by God, every other country is fixing to get the same thing.

* * *

"One of these days we'll wake up and find ourselves threatened by a place no bigger than your hand because it has the few bombs needed to knock us out. Why don't we get together and see that nothing like this ever happens?'

NOTHING HAPPENS

"Vishinsky called over some of the other Russians and had me repeat what I had said. They seemed impressed, but nothing ever happened, of course.

* * *

"Lately I've been telling the Russians when I see them that the Russian people will despise them as they now despise Stalin when the people find out that the new leaders are as bull-headed about control as Stalin was.

"A world without control of the atom is a world building toward greater and greater fear and extermination. The rejection of this control plan is one of the great tragic blunders of all time."

Baruch is convinced the Russian people have yet to hear of his plan. He believes, too, that in the event of an atomic war involving the U. S., this country would find itself morally restrained from waging it to the hilt, for fear of harming neutral nations with wayward radioactive fallout.

* * *

Baruch told U. N. on Dec. 5, 1946, "In all my life, now past the Biblical allotment of three score and ten years, never before have I seen so rich an opportunity for deathless service as is presented to us here.

"I want my country associated with victory in this great crusade. For myself, as I look upon a long past and too short a future, I believe the finest epitaph would be—'He helped to bring lasting peace to the world.'"

STILL PLUGS PLAN

He will continue to plug for his control plan out of which all other atomic overtures we've since made have evolved. Later in the month he's going over to see his friend Winston Churchill. Baruch is delighted to note that Churchill is speaking again.

* * *

He wrote him a worried note some time back when he had not heard from Churchill for a while. President Eisenhower also had not heard from Churchill, and expressed similar concern to Baruch.

Baruch's letter called Churchill "Champ" and urged him to "get on the ball." Churchill responded with several speeches, one in Germany, and a nice letter to Baruch.

The next day there was another letter in the elder stateman's mail box. It was from Ike.

* * *

"Had a nice note from Winston Churchill today," the President reported.

Yugoslavs to Import Wheat From Russia

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Yugoslavia, whose wheat barrel has drawn on the United States in recent years, today announced plans to import the grain from Russia.

* * *

Belgrade radio made the disclosure in announcing that Yugoslavia and Russia had agreed to boost their trade volume by 20 million dollars this year.

* * *

The broadcast said the new agreement calls for wheat, crude oil, aluminum, machineries and industrial equipment from Russia.

In exchange, Yugoslavia will export metallurgical products, agricultural articles, woodwork, shoes and textiles.

About 15,100 hotels provide meal service for their guests.

Metropolitan Opera Settles With Guild

NEW YORK (AP)—Agreement has been reached between the American Guild of Musical Artists and the Metropolitan Opera, erasing a threat to cancel out the 1956-57 season starting in the fall.

The opera had said it would call off next season's program unless it could come to terms with the union.

The union had sought $2.70 an hour rehearsal pay, $1 above the present rate. The agreement included payment of an unspecified amount after a certain number of unpaid rehearsal.

Whooping Cranes Late on Arrival in Canada Wood

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Julian Howard believes if the folks up in Canada will just be patient all the whooping cranes will reach their summer home.

* * *

A dispatch from Ottawa said the Canadian government is worried because only six of the rare whoopers have been spotted in Vast Wood Buffalo Park, the summer nesting area. The park covers hundreds of square miles.

Howard, director of the Arkansas wildlife refuge near here, where the whoopers spend their winters, said "we sometimes have difficulty in finding all the birds in a small area here, and we can feel for them in their efforts to find 26 birds in so vast an area of Canada."

* * *

Howard said the migration northward began on schedule about March 30 but one pair of the nearly-extinct birds still was at Arkansas on May 6, unusually late.

Cheap Mudpack

ANADARKO, Okla. (AP) — Neil Dikeman is going to be a little more careful from now on when he helps his wife in the yard. He picked up a chunk of sod and began shaking it into a hard-blowing wind. Then he looked around—and standing windward was Mrs. Dikeman whose cold cream-covered face was plastered with dirt.

Russians Are Convinced West Will Decay From Inner Contradictions

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

On the threshold of a long struggle, Americans are doing some soul searching.

* * *

Conscious of their great strength on the edge of an economic-political war, they're beginning to take stock of their weaknesses too.

Moscow has thrown out a fateful challenge. In 10 to 15 years, it says, Communists will prove their regimented way of life is superior.

DECAY WILL HAPPEN

Communism bases itself on a belief the capitalist world will decay from inner contradictions. They reckon without the American revolution of 1929. The United States economy today seems equal to the challenge.

This will be more than an economic war, however. The political, the cultural and the military all play a part. Are the United States and its partners ready on all fronts? The answer is No. There are many weaknesses to be corrected.

No Soviet citizen has dared dream of sharing in his economy the way the American worker does in his. The share of American employes in the national income for 1955 was about 322 billion dollars.

Moscow charges that American business must have war to make profits. But in the World War II years, corporate profits were held to an annual 10 billion dollars. In the postwar years net profits after taxes hit 40 billions.

That is the bright side. On the political, cultural and military fronts, there are obvious weaknesses.

* * *

The first objectives of the Communist side remain military. Before Red leaders will risk further adventuring, they are determined to destroy what they call the West's positions of strength.

The Red drive gradually is changing some American concepts. Many in Washington express belief the changes are for the better.

NO STRINGS

The American approach to underdeveloped nations is changing. President Eisenhower has indicated more effort will be made to show respect for the aspirations and traditions of such countries and to the right of any nation to consider itself neutral in the struggle between the two great blocs. This implies offers of aid with no strings attached.

* * *

The Communist trade lure is being recognized as an attempt to break the unity of the West. The Soviet Union and Red China aim at forcing an open break on the issue of the strategic goods embargo. The United States is cautiously countering with a review of its embargo policies.

Communist trade with the West must depend, however, upon mutual confidence in contracts. Western businessmen can still see many reasons why trade with Red nations could be hazardous. There is a proved lack of Communist ability to perform except where political considerations make performance a must.

WEAK EDUCATION

In the fields of science and education, "there has been a tendency in the West to take Soviet claims at face value and thus overestimate Soviet gains. But this also has provided a spur for the West. There is evidence of more willingness to face up to Western weaknesses in the fields. President Eisenhower's recent call for free world cooperation in research and education is part of this picture.

* * *

The United States, leader in the free world's struggle to remain free, has a shortage of scientific and technical personnel, more in research and development than in production. A broad campaign to correct this is about to get under way.

GLARING DEFECT

There is a glaring defect in the American educational picture which can put the nation at a disadvantage in a political contest. Some consider it more important than a shortage of engineers. The U.S.S.R. is far ahead in its pool of people trained in languages and cultures of many millions of people in underdeveloped areas. For example, fewer than two dozen people in the United States are trained to teach any of the entire group of Turkic languages which extend all the way through the Central Asian belt from Turkey to the Chinese and Indian frontiers.

* * *

The Soviet Union trains specialists in languages and cultures, setting up special sections for Soviet salesmen in trade missions with their offers in equipment and technicians. No area is considered unimportant.

Marine Corps Report April Enlistment Drop

WASHINGTON (AP)—Marine officers attribute a sharp April drop in enlistments chiefly to raised Corps standards but acknowledge that another factor may be the drownings of six recruits on a forced night march.

The Marine Corps signed up 1,321 recruits in April—a figure nearly two thirds less than the average for the six preceding months.

JUST MEDIUM — Author Ernest Hemingway came back from a fishing trip in Peru, showing "a medium size one I caught," a 14-foot black marlin weighing over 1,000 pounds.

Not Easy to Do

Wife Spends $4 Million and Mate Says Nothing

DETROIT (AP)—Here's a woman with a job like a dream come true—four million dollars a year to spend and her husband doesn't say a word about it.

That's because the money dispensed by attractive Eileen Lane O'Reilly belongs to the Ford Motor Co. Mrs. O'Reilly is the only woman buyer in the huge auto firm's construction purchasing department.

She buys construction materials and labor, often seeing a new building through from the architect's blueprint to the final foot of fencing around the completed plant.

Mrs. O'Reilly believes women make good purchasing agents "because, by nature, they're rather cold blooded about money. There's nothing as relentless as a woman on the trail of a bargain."

NOT AN EASY FIELD

It's still not an easy field for a woman to crack. Mrs. O'Reilly learned her job in years of typing purchasing orders, contracts and other correspondence as a stenographer in Ford's plant engineering department.

Her 26 years experience qualified her to be named assistant to the head of the purchasing engineering department. She worked up to a buyer's post—one of five in the division—with the aid of night school college courses.

In Detroit there are only 32 members in the women's division of the Purchasing Agents Assn. The men's division has some 500 members.

Mrs. O'Reilly wouldn't trade her job for anything.

"Sure, if you slip up when you're spending someone else's money, it can cost them thousands and you your job," she says. "But that's what keeps you on your toes."

In her personal shopping Mrs. O'Reilly doesn't go in for too much serious consideration of an item—"If I like it, I buy it."

But as in any kind of purchasing, she says, "I weigh the price against the quality. I know what's good and I've learned to say 'no' to salesmen."

Although she keeps the accounts at home, her husband of less than a year, Leo F. O'Reilly, a power engineer at Ford's, does the grocery shopping.

"I don't mind going myself," says Mrs. O'Reilly, "but he is fascinated with supermarkets so I just turn him loose."

Mr. America Wins Out Over Mr. Universe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two muscular members of a night club troupe headed by Mae West got into a fight in her dressing room last night, police reported, and one of them received hospital treatment as a result.

* * *

Police said Mickey Hargitay, 26-year-old "Mr. Universe," filed an assault complaint against Charles Krause, 24-year-old "Mr. America." A hearing was set for today in the U.S. attorney's office.

The fight came during a news conference, police said. Miss West reportedly was discussing plans to replace "Mr. Universe" in her show. Officers quoted Krause as saying he hit Hargitay when "Mr. Universe" ignored Krause's suggestion that he "stop making remarks" about Miss West. She was said to have escaped injury in the row.

* * *

Police said Hargitay was treated at a hospital for facial contusions and a sprained knee, then released.

Both men are from Hollywood.

Muscular Tension Blamed for Energy Use

(This the fourth of five articles providing valuable advice from America's top experts on how to get the most out of your leisure time, to combat anxiety and tension).

By EDWIN DIAMOND
(INS Science Writer)

If you are overdrawn on your bank account your checks bounce and new deposits are needed to keep you from going bankrupt.

Dr. Edmund Jacobson of Chicago says the same thing happens with your body energy—overdraw on your supply and you face mental and physical bankruptcy.

For more than 40 years, Dr. Jacobson has been searching for the way to prevent this bankruptcy and keep the body's health accounts balanced.

First at Harvard, later at the University of Chicago and now at his own laboratory for clinical physiology, Dr. Jacobson evolved his theory and developed his techniques.

HINTS SOLUTION

Today, he believes he knows how we overdraw on our energy reserves and what we can do about it.

In addition, he has an instrument to measure how much energy is being expended—just like the monthly bank statement of your account.

Dr. Jacobson believes muscular tension accounts for "practically the entire energy output of the body above its basic living needs." Other tissues, he says, such as the nerves, brain or kidneys, take up a small, almost constant, energy amount.

For this reason, you may be sitting in what you believe to be a relaxed position and appear outwardly calm—but Dr. Jacobson says this is not necessarily the correct picture.

To get an accurate "health account statement," Dr. Jacobson designed the neurovoltmeter—an instrument that measures muscular nerve-currents. Here is how it works:

Two fine platinum electrodes are inserted into the biceps muscle in left arm about an inch apart. The electrodes are connected to an extra-sensitive amplifier; an oscilloscope is hooked into this current to record the electric action of the muscle on a television-like screen.

On this screen is flashed the amount of muscle contraction (a measure of muscle tension). If the person is tensed up internally, a fluorescent green line dances wildly on the screen. Thus real tension or real relaxation can be measured tangibly by the jumps and dips of the green line.

CONCLUSION DRAWN

Dr. Jacobson concludes:

"There is no evidence to support the common belief that the neuromusculature really 'relaxes' when persons play games like golf or cards or when they are quietly sitting and conversing, reading, smoking or resting.

"Our findings are that many such persons continue in a chronic state of efforts and sub-efforts by day and by night. Even in their sleep they fail to relax."

He adds: "Rest is inadequate treatment for the over-reacting, overly-tense person. What is needed is to teach the patient to relax each of his chief muscle groups so that excess tension measurably disappears."

In the series of scientific relaxation steps Dr. Jacobson prescribes, the chief target is the head muscles, particularly those related to seeing and speaking.

Try this eye un-tensing procedure:

First, wrinkle your forehead, then frown; then gradually unfurrow the brow, taking care not to wrinkle your forehead in trying to smooth your brow.

Next, shut the eye lids tightly. Gradually loosen up on them until winking has become infrequent or absetnt.

Then, with the eyes still closed, 'look' to the right, left and forward. Then try to let your eyes 'go'—don't try to look in any direction.

This and other scientific relaxation tips are contained in Dr. Jacobson's book, "You Must Relax." There are two measures of the Jacobson theory's effectiveness:

1—Dr. Jacobson himself, and his calm, quiet, un-tense manner.

2—Dr. Jacobson's business executive patients who, so impressed with their own recoveries, formed the Foundation for Scientific Relaxation, Inc.

Unique Gotham Shop Offers Charms for Any Occasion, Purpose or Person

MEMENTOES — Shirley Booth's charmed career: awards on the wrist.

NEW YORK (NEA) — On any nice, normal day at the store on Fifth Avenue, they sell a few lamp-posts, birdcages, airplanes, roulette wheels, fire engines, love letters and a flock of mustard seeds

This is because the establishment is the world's largest purveyor of the current hottest item in jewelry — charms. Charms are nothing new; once known as amulets, they've been worn in one form or another by virtually every civilization the world has known. Ours is no exception and today the business of designing, making and selling tiny replicas of all kinds of things is a big industry.

It is also a fascinating industry, because, besides stocking 2,500 different charms, this store (Marchal) will also make up to order virtually anything any normal mind can conceive.

One lady walked in and asked for a charm showing a map of the Aleutian Islands with a salvage ship at work and a half-submerged diver heading down under the waves. They asked no questions; they just made the charm.

EVEN KIDS LOVE THEM

Another customer was a leading obstetrician. Hanging from the watch chain across his chest was a tremendous assortment of charms, all dealing with babies. He carried an oddly-shaped package. Unwrapped, it turned out to be his trusty forceps. He wanted a new charm made, exactly duplicating this instrument. It was done forthwith.

The collection of charms is presently not confined to girls and obstetricians. Kids love them. So do old people. The hobby knows no income brackets, either. One of the store's steadiest customers is a New York hackie who parks his cab illegally outside, runs in, buys a charm, while keeping one eye peeled for the police.

Some of the big names in show business are violent charm-collectors. Shirley Booth had an expensive bracelet-full made to order, each one a miniature duplicate of her many show business awards, like the Oscar. Alene Dalton, the "Fairy Princess" on Howdy-Doody, keeps adding special charms that signalize her advancing career. The latest, of course, is a charming Howdy-Doody.

CAN BE PRETTY COSTLY

Lloyd Nolan had a charm made to simulate the first-night ticket stubs from his smash appearance in "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial." Jazz pianist Hazel Scott has a charm designed for every record she makes—and also does the same thing for her friends.

Charmes can be pretty expensive. They look less costly than they are, but good ones are made of sold gold with painstaking craftsmanship. Some stock charms—like the best-selling mustard seed, a symbol of faith—come as low as $5.

But one Park Avenue matron, for her daughter's wedding present commissioned a replica of the church as a diamond-sprinkled charm. The bill was $1,800, which is a lot for something to dangle on the wrist.

Anong other odds and ends created for special orders have been an elaborately engraved tombstone, a ball of yarn, the rear view of a lady and horse leaping a fence, and a miniature replica of a fashion show, complete with commentator and a model dressed in a fancy gown.

All these are first modeled in clay by the firm's artists, then turned into a rubber cast. The final gold charm is made from this rubber cast.

* * *

Most collectors buy their charms one at a time, but some come in and get a wrist's worth in one sitting. Many prefer "biographical assortments—each charm means something in the person's life. But there are some who lean to accumulations on one particular subject. Mrs. Del Webb, wife of the co-owner of the New York Yankees, collects baseball charms. One little old lady buys everything she can get with a gambling motif.

Charmes seem to have a strong fascination for many people, especially women. Just as the amulets of olden times were often supposed to ward off evil, the charms of today can frequently soften up an irate lady. Which only proves that charms hath beauty to soothe the savage wife.

AEC to Assist Firm in Developing Power

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Atomic Energy Commission today announced the signing of a contract with the Yankee Atomic Electric Co. of Boston, to assist the company in development and operation of a large-scale power plant in Rowe, Mass.

* * *

The contract is the first to be concluded under AEC's power demonstration reactor program. The aim of that program is to bring private resources into the development of engineering information on nuclear power reactors and, AEC said, "to advance the time when nuclear power comes economically feasible."

* * *

Yankee will bear construction costs estimated at 34½ million dollars. Of an additional five million dollars needed for esearch and development, the commission will perform up to a million dollars worth in its own facilities and underwrite up to four millions in private facilities.

* * *

Yankee will pay any research and development expenses above the estimated five millions.

Regains Her Breath

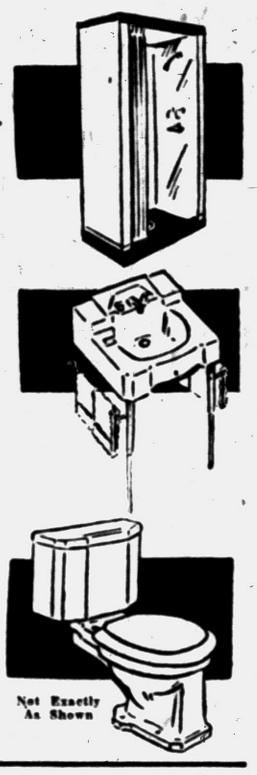

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Detective Ned Brennen wrote a laconic report on a visit he made to the home of a woman who made a breathless call to police headquarters. "Woman had difficulty catching 6-year-old daughter to take corrective measures. However, before officer's arrival woman had regained breath and taken care of matter."

Right Time to Call

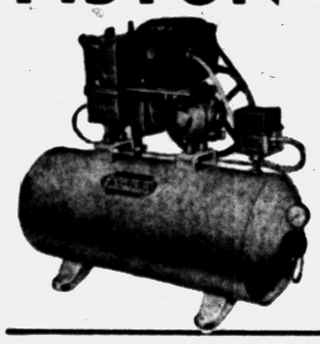

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Lt. J. B. Williams of the fire department knocked on a door in a routine residential inspection. When the occupant opened the door Williams smelled smoke. Engine Company 11 quickly put out the fire in a chair the occupant had been using.

PLANNING DRIVE-IN SERVICE — The Rev. James H. Luther, (left) pastor of the Silvercrest Baptist Church; Mrs. Tom Malone, wife of the pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church, and Floyd Losee, Spiritual Aims Chairman of the North Kiwanis Club, are checking names of shut-ins and the aged who will be given transportation to the Blue Sky Drive-In Theater for a church service at 3 p. m. Sunday. The North Kiwanis Club is sponsoring the outdoor service.

Out-Door Church Service Is Scheduled for Sunday

Shut-ins and the aged will be the special guests of a drive-in church service planned for Sunday afternoon at the Blue Sky Drive In theater, 210 Opdyke Rd.

Sponsoring the event, which will be held from 3-4:30 p.m., will be the North Kiwanis Club.

Laymen of the various churches will call at rest homes, hospitals and private homes for those otherwise unable to attend.

Residents have been urged to bring the neighbor who can't attend a service in the church.

• • •

The choir of 400 voices under the direction of Mrs. Tom Malone of the Emmanuel Baptist Church will sing "Wonderful Grace of Jesus" and "The Awakening Chorus."

Mrs. Malone has invited members of all church and school choirs to join the massed chorus. Singers are requested to be on the platform at the theater at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

The male quartet of Christian Missionary & Alliance Church is scheduled for several selections.

Doug Brown, Clyn and Eugene Stone, a trumpet trio of the Memorial Baptist Chruch will give special nuumbers.

• • •

"Something to Live For" is the topic chosen by the Rev. James H. Luther who will preach the afternoon sermon.

The Rev. Mr. Luther, pastor of Silvercrest Baptist Church, is program chairman.

Abortions Top Births in Japan During 1955

TOKYO (AP)—The Welfare Ministry calculated today that abortions exceeded births in Japan last year.

The ministry said 1,170,000 abortions were reported. It estimated that the figure would have topped two million if all such operations had been reported.

• • •

Births for 1955 totaled 1,727,040.

Abortion is considered the most common form of birth control in Japan. The operation is legal if a physician certifies it is needed for the economic or physical welfare of the mother.

• • •

The Welfare Ministry expressed concern at the number of abortions—five times as many as in 1949. The ministry called for a stepped-up program of education in contraceptive birth control.

Report Sharett Will Leave Post

Tel Aviv Newspapers Say Foreign Minister, Ben-Gurion at Odds

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—Israeli newspapers predicted today that Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett, former premier and one of the founders of the Jewish state, is on his way out.

The papers alleged a growing rift on foreign policy between Sharett and Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion, the senior statesmen who have been Israel's only premiers.

• • •

Well-informed unofficial political circles forecast that if Sharett leaves the Cabinet, Mrs. Golda Myerson, the present labor minister, is likely to succeed him as foreign minister.

The left-liberal Tel Aviv Daily Haaretz said that Ben-Gurion is trying to maneuver Sharett into the secretary generalship of their Mapai Social Democratic Labor party. Sharett was said to be unwilling to accept.

CAUTION CRITICIZED

Sharett's opponents have strongly criticized his policy of caution in dealing with the Arabs. His opponents have demanded that he stress the so-called Ben-Gurion line of a "policy of active defense" against possible Arab aggression.

Sharett, in dealing with the Arab problem, has had the advantage of an upbringing in an Arab Palestine village. He speaks Arabic fluently.

• • •

During World War II he helped form the Jewish brigade which fought with the Allies. After creation of the Israeli state, he became foreign minister under Ben-Gurion and then prime minister when the latter retired in January 1954.

When Ben-Gurion returned to the premiership last November, Sharett continued as foreign minister.

Vote of Two Thwarts Annexation

TROY—Though Troy is one of the largest cities in area in Oakland County, and the 500th to incorporate in the state, its plans can still be thwarted by the votes of two people.

When Troy incorporated a year ago, it did not include two mile-square sections in the northern part of Troy Township. The plan of officials then, according to Norman Barnard, was to take in the area later.

Its population of only 34 persons kept officials from taking the area in originally. City requirements of 500 persons per square mile were cited, Barnard recalls, in discussions when he was supervisor of the township before most of it incorporated into a city.

Tuesday, two voters in Troy Township voted against adding the areas to Troy City. Two voters voted for the annexation to Troy. The annexation won 409 to 31 in the city, but doesn't carry without approval by both areas.

Their votes also kept out a small area on 14 Mile road, where eight persons live in the Parmenter home.

The 34 residents of the two mile-square sections, bounded by Crooks, Cooley, 17 and 19 Mile roads, along with the eight residents of a small section on 14 Mile road remain in the township.

The supervisor, Lyle Walker, and four of the five members of the township's board of trustees reside in the area that voted to join the city of Troy. It leaves only one board member.

The Township Board will meet next Wednesday night to consider how to continue. After the two areas that voted to join Birmingham and the others to Troy City on Tuesday, are annexed 30 days from the vote-canvassing set for today, little land remains.

Two other parcels were not voted upon—an unused lot north of Clover Hill Cemetery and the site of a steel-door firm on 14 Mile near Woodward.

The City Commission met last night to canvass the affirmative vote on the city's taking over of the township water system. The county board of canvassers must handle the annexation vote.

Troy, which has been the largest city in area in the county, has included 26½ square miles and with the new addition will have 30 square miles of area.

To its approximate population of 15,500, 423 persons are being added.

Taking in the seceltions that were held away by a tie vote may be possible, according to City Clerk Lawson Lockhart, if 35 per cent of the residents sign petitions. A vote then could be held either at the primary or regular election this fall.

JAYCEES PAINT — Fourteen members of the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce wielded paint brushes last Saturday, completely covering the home of Mrs. Mary Goodwin, 1150 Lakeview street, Huron Gardens, in less than five hours. Paint for the project was donated by the Sherwin-Williams Paint Co.

To Receive Bids for School Bonds

Rochester, Lake Orion Districts to Sell Bonds Totaling $1,900,000

Two school districts—Rochester and Lake Orion—have set deadlines for receiving bids for the purchase of school district bonds.

Sealed bids on $1,150,000 for the Rochester Community School District will be received by the school board at 8 p.m. Monday in Rochester High School and publicly opened.

The bonds will be coupon bonds in denominations of $1,000 each, with interest not to exceed 4 per cent.

Lake Orion Community School District will receive bids for the purchase of Series 2 bonds on $750,000 at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Blanche Sims Elementary School. These also will be coupon bonds in denominations of $1,000 each, and are part of a total issue of $1,500,000. Maximum interest is 4 per cent annually.

Auburn Heights Bible School to Open Monday

AUBURN HEIGHTS—The ninth annual Daily Vacation Bible School of Stone Baptist Church will begin at 9 a.m. Monday morning and continue through June 22. The school will be in session from 9 a.m. to 12 noon daily, Monday through Friday. An enrollment of over 400 is expected in the school.

The church will have in operation its new 48-passenger bus each day to bring children to and from the school.

The sessions are open to all children aged 4-16. There will be woodwork, art, sewing, plaque making, and many other types of handwork.

A staff of over 50 teachers and officers that will be working in the school, under the direction of Mrs. Esther Dickens. Classes will meet in the new Sunday School building to handle the expected larger enrollment.

Crescent Hills Church Sets Children's Program

WATERFORD — The Crescent Hills Baptist Church, holding services in the John Monteith School on Crescent Lake road, will present a special program Sunday for Children's Day, at 11 a.m., according to the Rev. Benjamin A. Bohn.

The beginners department will sing songs and recite Bible verses, and the primary children will present a Bible story. The junior girls also will participate.

Proud of Honor Roll

METAMORA—Metamora MOMS are proud of the Honor Roll placed at a cental intersection, with its new coat of paint and reprinting of names of servicemen. Material and labor were donated by C. W. Albertson and James Whiteman.

CAI Library to Mark Birthday Wednesday

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A tea and open house celebrating its 12th anniversary will be held at the Waterford Township Community Library next Wednesday from 2 to 4 p.m. in the CAI Building, 5640 Williams Lake Rd.

The library now boasts 4,000 volumes. There are 1,200 nonfiction books, 1,500 adult current and classical novels, 500 adult mystery books and 800 volumes classified for children and juniors.

Strictly a volunteer project, the library is supported mainly by the Book Review Club.

Hostesses for Wednesday's affair will be Mrs. Mark Stewart, Mrs. Edward Cox, Mrs. Francis Kinkle, Mrs. Alton Banfield, and Mrs. Dalton Ettinger.

Assisting at the tea table will be Mrs. Kenneth Valentine, library chairman, and Mrs. Ralph Eaton, chairman of the Book Review Club.

Mrs. Richard Flick and Mrs. Arthur Arnold are co-chairmen for the open house. Mrs. Carl W. Carr and Mrs. Carl Putnam are in charge of publicity.

U. S. Friendship Still Mine: Tito

Yugoslav Dictator Says He'll Visit States Only if He's Invited

MOSCOW (AP) — President Tito says his visit to Russia will not affect Yugoslavia's friendly relations with the United States.

Talking with reporters at a Kremlin reception last night, the Yugoslav chief brushed aside as "not important" Sen. McCarthy's move in the Senate to cut off U.S. aid to Yugoslavia because of Tito's trip to Moscow.

"Our relations with the United States will not suffer," Tito said, when asked about the McCarthy resolution. "Our friendship with the United States will continue as before our trip here."

'MUST BE INVITED'

When an American remarked that he should journey to Washington to make sure there was no misunderstanding of his intentions, Tito replied: "If I am invited, why not? But first I must be invited."

Some 1,000 diplomats and Soviet leaders, including Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev and Premier Bulganin, attended the gala reception in the Kremlin's gold and marble St. George's Hall.

Richard Smith to Speak at Drayton Plains Sunday

DRAYTON PLAINS—Richard C. Smith will preach at the 11 a.m. service Sunday at the Drayton Plains Community United Presbyterian Church. Former assistant to the pastor of the church, the Rev. Mr. Smith recently returned from Omdurman, Africa, where he was a teacher in the boys school for the past three years.

Because of the Waterford High School baccalaureate service there will be no Sunday evening church service here.

New Officers Picked by Justices of Area

At an organization meeting last night at Devon Gables, the newly-formed Oakland County Judicial Association elected officers and voted to take disciplinary action aganst a county justice of the peace.

Assembled JPs, municipal judges, and circuit court judges voted to censure Madison Heights Justice Charles O. Williams for his alleged practice of soliciting marriages, and take such action as may be necessary to make him desist from the practice."

Elected officers were Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle, president; Royal Oak Municipal Judge Fletcher R. Renton, first vice president; Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback, second vice president; Milford Justice James VanLeuven, secretary; and Bloomfield Hills Justice Alva J. Richardson, treasurer.

The judges also directed their officers to write the Oakland County Board of Supervisors asking that funds be allocated for a full-time probation officer to serve justice courts.

Clawson to Build School Additions

$1,250,000 Expansion Will Not Raise Taxes, Board Says

CLAWSON — A school building program of $1,250,000 has been approved by the school board here.

School taxes will remain the same as last year—$40.50 on each $1,000 of local assessed valuation.

School superintendent Paul Schalm said it was possible to keep the tax rate the same because of a $3 million increase in valuation.

The money will cover the cost of a 12-room addition to Kenwood School and a five-room addition to McDonald School.

Bids have been accepted for the building of the additions.

Avon School District Votes in 2 Elections Next Week

AVON TOWNSHIP—Two days of voting are in store for the voters of Avondale School District next Monday and Tuesday. Two school board members will be elected Monday, and an $850,000 bond issue election will take place Tuesday.

The Avondale School District includes a good portion of Avon and Pontiac Townships and smaller portions of Troy and Boomfield Townships.

Five candidates are trying for the two three-year board terms, including both incumbents. A. E. Atwood from Avon Township and R. Grant Graham from Pontiac Township are up for re-election.

Bevan Bates and Oscar E. Hysmith from Avon Township and Gordon Hamilton from Pontiac Township round out the list of names on the ballot.

Tuesday's bond issue vote is divided into two separate items. Two mills are being requested for bonding for additional rooms: to be added to the high school, junior high, Stone Elementary, and Stiles Elementary.

Added operational expense, due to the increase in enrollment, has resulted in a request for a three-mill increase in the operational levy, school officials said.

Superintendent Raymond Baker pointed out that one grade in the district will be on half-day sessions next year and the situation will grow worse.

Millage for school taxes will drop from 28.6 mills in 1955 to 19 mills in 1956 due to the retirement of a portion of the high school bond debt. The requested money would bring the tax to approximately 24 mills.

Oak Park Tax Hike Up for Vote Monday

OAK PARK — Monday is the date set when residents here will be asked to vote on a three-mill tax increase at the annual school district election.

Superintendent Dr. James N. Pepper said this morning that the money would be used to defray mounting school operating costs.

U.S. used 230 million pounds of oleomargarine in 1931; 1,200,000,000 pounds in 1952.

County Deaths

Everett Henry Bromley

LAKE ORION — Service for Everett Henry Bromley, 53, of 1351 Miller Rd., will be held at 11 a.m. Friday at Allen's Funeral Home, with burial in East Lawn Cemetery. He died of a heart attack Tuesday. A graveside service will be conducted by Orion Lodge No. 46, F&AM.

Mr. Bromley leaves his wife, Margaret; three daughters, Mrs. Burton Bowerman of Lake Orion, Mrs. Charles Ortwein of Clarkston and Gloria, at home; three stepchildren, Georgia Brown, Judy Brown and George F. Brown with the U. S. Navy, stationed in California; four sisters, Mrs. Jessie Shippey of Goodison, Mrs. Leslie McBride of Englewood, Fla., Mrs. Enda Carey of Detroit and Mrs. Mary Swift of Grosse Pointe; and three grandchildren.

Richard Harold Brooks

MILFORD—Service for Richard Harold Brooks, 5-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Brooks, 698 Baker Rd., will be held at 1 p.m. Friday at Richardson-Bird Funeral Home, with burial in Waterford Center Cemetery. The baby died Wednesday after a two-day illness.

Surviving, besides the parents, are two brothers, Timothy and Terry at home; grandparents Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hamilton of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brooks of Clarkston; and great-grandmothers, Mrs. Grace Deming of Adrian, Mrs. Fred Jewel of Onaway Onoway.

Stephen William King

HIGHLAND—Burial service for Stephen William King, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John King of 3175 Central Blvd., will be held Saturday at Amsterdam, N. Y. The baby was dead at birth Tuesday.

Surviving, besides the parents, are three sisters, Rachael, Terry Elizabeth and Brenda at home; the grandfather, Martin Crawford of Midland; and his great-grandfather, Joseph Crawford of Flint.

JAMES HOAG

LAKE ORION—Selected by the Board of Education to be the new principal of Lake Orion High School is James Hoag. Mr. Hoag, a 1948 graduate of Western Michigan College, in 1953 received his masters degree in administration and education at the University of Michigan. Before coming to Orion four years ago he taught in Sunfield. At Lake Orion he has served as assistant principal, athletic director and football coach. Hoag is replacing Fred Wiegman, whose last official duty is presenting the class at the high school commencement tonight. Weigman resigned his post in April, to accept a position as elementary superintendent of Stoner School District near Lansing, where he will resume his work for a doctor's degree.

4 More Seeking Queen's Title

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Four new names have been added to the list of aspirants for the title of CAI Fair Queen of 1956, according to Mrs. George A. Dean. Bringing the total up to 11 are Betty Clark, 3130 Sashabaw Rd.; Priscilla Boyd, 5501 Pleasant St.; Marlene Shell, 4250 Seeden St., and Nancy Winslow, 3729 Hatfield Dr.

The CAI Fair will be held June 22-24 on the grounds at 5640 Williams Lake Rd., and will feature games, rides, merchants' displays, and hobby exhibits. Many of the township's organizations will be selling articles to help swell the CAI fund.

The Farm and Garden Club will have a Wayside Market where members will be selling homemade articles, plus plants and garden supplies. Mrs. Fred Bohlman is chairman of this project.

Williams to Explain Special Session on TV

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams will discuss the approaching special legislative session on a four-station television hookup at 6:30 p.m. Friday.

The session, scheduled to open June 13, was called to consider increases in unemployment compensation, correction of a mixup in highway construction law and more money for a new medium security prison at Ionia.

Williams said his speech will be "non-partisan," financed by personal funds.

"The people are entitled to know the reasons why it is necessary to call the Legislature back to Lansing," Williams said. "They have a right to know about the threat of our road program and the need for action on unemployment."

Motor City Murder Trial Awaits Jury Completion

DETROIT (INS) — The first degree murder trial of Mrs. Victoria Hermiz, 25, and Maurice Hamilton, 20, in the death of her husband, Aziz, went into its second day today with selection of a jury still to be completed.

Mrs. Hermiz and Hamilton are charged with fatally stabbing Hermiz, a Detroit grocer, last Feb. 10 to cover up an illicit romance between the married woman and the youthful student.

Additional policemen were scheduled to be on hand today at the courtroom of Recorder's Judge Frank Schemanske to handle the expected overflow crowd of spectators.

A three-week trial has been predicted by the Wayne County Prosecutor's office.

The proceedings will be slowed by the same language barrier that hampered the original murder investigation. Both defendants, like the victim, are natives of Iraq and speak little English. Their language is ancient Chaldean, the tongue believed spoken by Christ.

Mrs. Hermiz' counsel has indicated he will argue she is insane and thereby innocent. However, a court-appointed commission has ruled that both she and Hamilton are sane.

The youth whose parents have come to Detroit all the way from Baghdad for the trial, recently named a third person as the actual killer.

Hamilton made the statement while under the influence of truth serum and the prosecutor's office contends such accounts are inadmissable as evidence.

Vandals Break Windows

Vandals heaved rocks through four windows of a summer cottage in Springfield Township sometime Tuesday, according to a report to Oakland County Sheriff's deputies.

Mrs. Mary Olszewski who owns the cottage at 11871 Scott Rd. told them that rocks were found inside the building.

Drayton Church Sets Bible School Time

DRAYTON PLAINS — Plans for the Daily Vacation Bible School to be held June 18 through 29 at the Drayton Plains Community United Presbyterian Church have been completed, according to W. J. Teeuwissen Jr., pastor.

The school program has been outlined for children 3 years old through those who will be in the seventh grade in the fall. An enrollment in excess of 300 is expected.

Department superintendents in charge will be Mrs. Vern Green, nursery; Mrs. Harold Trexler, beginners; Mrs. Basil Thompson, primary department, and Miss Charlotte Baird, junior department. There will be approximately 40 teachers and helpers.

Extension Club to Meet

LEONARD — Country Corners Extension Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Rowland Hall, for a lesson on the care of new fabrics.

Hollywood Headlines

Publicity Spells Success for Marilyn's 'Bus Stop'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Bus Stop" is just about wheezing to the end of the line.

* * *

Principal photography on the picture is finished and a few odds and ends are being put together this week. This intelligence is offered for those who want to keep tabs on the movements of Marilyn Monroe. Judging from the deluge of propaganda in the national magazines, their number is legion.

BIZARRE PROJECT

"Bus Stop" has been one of the more bizarre of film projects, partly because of the changed status of Monroe. She left the lot a year ago a contract player and returned a corporation.

* * *

Being incorporated, she naturally needs officers. Most notable is Milton Greene, a magazine photographer who now acts as buffer for president Monroe. Vice president Greene is in constant attendance to sift requests and messages for Monroe. He in turn has his own buffer, who sifts requests and messages for Greene.

* * *

Getting to Monroe is as easy as reaching Howard Hughes, though not as hard as seeking out Greta Garbo. One Hollywood columnist traveled all the way to Phoenix without seeing her. Since her illness, which was genuine, she has been incommunicado to the press.

BIGGEST SPLASH

The picture is presold by the biggest magazine splash in recent memory. Besides, you don't have to publicize Monroe. She seems to have an uncommon knack for attracting the headlines, no matter what she does.

According to various of her buffers, Marilyn will be leaving for New York as soon as she finishes up her work in the picture. She is working on dubbing this week, and that should end her chores. She plans to leave for London around July 15 to begin her project with Sir Laurence Olivier, "The Sleeping Prince."

"What a combination!" rhapsodized a publicity man. "And you know how excitable the British press can be. I can see the headlines already. Wow!"

Wow, indeed. Little Norma Jean Baker has come a long, long way.

Dad, Son Both Running - - - but on Rival Tickets

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—A father son were nominated in Montana's primary election — on opposite tickets.

* * *

John C. Harrison was renominated as a Democrat for Lewis and Clark County attorney in Helena.

His father, Dr. Francis R. Harrison, won nomination for state senator from Wheatland County as a Republican.

Lanza Will Pay $9,000 for Property Damage

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Mario Lanza has settled for $9,000 a $40,000 suit filed against him for damage to an estate he leased.

* * *

A stipulation provides that Lanza will make full payment within 180 days to Mrs. Norman Kaiser, owner of the Bel-Air property.

* * *

Mrs. Kaiser said the Lanzas marred and scarred wall and floor coverings and ceilings, besides damaging the grounds.

Treasure Hunters Die

MANILA (AP) — Three Filipinos were burrowing for Japanese wartime treasure in the town of Rosario when their tunnel collapsed. Police recovered the bodies today.

Jan Peerce Encores in Moscow Concert

MOSCOW (INS) — American Tenor Jan Peerce received an enthusiastic reception and sang eight encores last night in the first concert by a Metropolitan Opera star in Russia since World War II.

* * *

More than 2,000 persons attended the performance at Tchaikovsky Hall in Moscow.

* * *

Peerce's regular 17-song program included selections by Brahms, Schubert, Faure, Handel, Bach and Carissimi.

Peerce is on a one-month visit to the Soviet Union during an extensive concert tour under State Department auspices.

* * *

He is accompanied on the trip by his wife, Alice, and his accompanist, Warner Bass.

Flightless, Tailless Birds

Adlai Still Needs 420 Delegates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirty-eight states, including all those selecting by primaries, have now chosen Democratic National Convention delegates. They will cast 1,108 votes.

* * *

With 686½ convention votes needed for a presidential nomination out of a total vote of 1,372, the latest Associated Press tabulation of pledged votes and first-ballot preferences expressed in polls showed today:

Adlai Stevenson	266
Estes Kefauver	166
Others	306
Uncommitted	307
Total	1108

* * *

The "others" column covers 11 individuals, the five top men being Gov. Averell Harriman, 93, including 80 won in New York Tuesday; Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, 56½; Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio, 54; Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, 46; and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, 44.

13 UNCONFIRMED

Ten states and three territories still must name delegates with 252 votes. New York also has delegates-at-large with 12 votes yet to select. Even if all the remaining 264 votes went to Stevenson he still would be far from a majority. His supporters, as well as Harriman backers, see prospects for picking up many more votes for their candidates in the now uncommitted column.

The 10 states still to name delegates are Arkansas, Arizona, Colorado, Connecticutt, Kentucky, Mississippi, New Mexico, Tennessee, Virginia and Washington, Hawaii, Canal Zone and Virgin Islands also have not yet selected.

* * *

Forty states have named Republican delegates with 1,121 national convention votes out of a total of 1,323. President Eisenhower has 960 delegates favoring his renomination with only 662 needed. He also has 70 others being held for him by favorite sons in Ohio and Montana. One favors Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts, and 90 are uncommitted.

Some 79,000,000 more quarts of milk were sold in half-gallon containers during 1955 than in quart containers.

3 Educators Attend Conference at MSU

Three local educators attended the second annual Industry-Education Cooperation Conference at Kellogg Center, Michigan State University, Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Fred J. Beckman, chairman of the Oakland County School Board, William J. Emerson, Oakland County school superintendent and Richard Fell, director of vocational education for the Pontiac Public Schools, attended the meeting.

* * *

One suggestion advanced at the conference was that industry should loan specialists to schools to help train the much needed technicians.

The conference is sponsored by the Michigan Manufacturers Association, the Michigan Association of School Administrators, Michigan Association of School Boards and the MSU College of Education.

Williams Won't Act in Brighton Dispute

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams has refused to intervene in a tangled Brighton labor dispute in which a group of workers claim they cannot vote on whether to organize a union shop.

About 50 employes of the advance stamping company's Brighton plant descended on the capitol yesterday and demanded to see Williams.

Alfred B. Fitt, the governor's legal advisor, told the group the governor was out of the office.

"Anyway," he said, "there is no state agency that can handle this. This is a problem for the National Labor Relations Board."

The group carried hand-painted signs which said: "We demand the right to vote and the right to work."

They stationed themselves throughout the capitol. Told they could not see Williams, they went home late in the afternoon.

* * *

Robert Huff, an employe of the Brighton firm for 10 years and spokesman for the group, said the group objects to "having a union thrust down our throats without a chance to vote on it."

Desi Injures His Back Rehearsing for Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Television actor and bandleader Desi Arnaz is being treated for a back injury he suffered while rehearsing a dance for a TV show with his wife Lucille Ball and comedian Bob Hope.

A spokesman for Desilu Productions said Arnaz and Hope had a scene in which they were to throw Miss Ball into the air. Arnaz slipped and tore ligaments in his back.

Arnaz was scheduled to enter Cedars of Lebanon Hospital for observation.

Information, Yes, but We'll Think About Sawbuck

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A Capetown, South Africa, schoolboy with a fascinating hobby penned a letter to Mayor Allen Street of Oklahoma City.

* * *

Derek Wilson asked for information about Oklahoma City and Oklahoma and then added: "My hobby is collecting foreign currency and I'd be ever so gratified if you could send me an American $10 bill."

* * *

Mayor Street said he would be glad to tell the youth all about Oklahoma City. But he didn't promise to boost the boy's bill collection.

California's population gain is 2,666,000 from April 1950 to the end of 1955 according to unofficial estimates.

Unemployed in State on May 15 Was 207,000

DETROIT (AP)— Michigan unemployment totaled 207,000 on May 15, according to Guy Tracy, statistician for the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

Tracy said yesterday a calculation of 220,000 unemployed, made on May 25, was in error because some firms reported their figures twice. He made his report to the Emergency Industrial Production Commission set up by Gov. Williams.

An average passenger automobile body has about 4,000 parts.

June Is National Dairy Month: Local Milk Producer Stars

BOTTLE BABY — Aletha May Boomus of South Lyon feeds one of the pet lambs, Patsy. Patsy was born in March, is still a bottle baby. Aletha takes on this chore in addition to the work she and her sister do in the house.

June is Dairy Month. In Oakland County that is more than just a slogan. According to Lyle Abel, County Agriculture Agent, over a thousand farms in the county can be classified as dairy farms. In 1955 they did a $2,473,524 business.

* * *

Dairy month is the time when cows give the most milk. It is the time when cooks should use more dairy products in their menus. No one in their families—regardless of age — outgrows his need for milk.

* * *

The Darold Heidt farm on Pontiac Trail, near South Lyon, is a typical Oakland county dairy farm. It is typical, save for one thing. The barn has no roof.

* * *

The May 12 tornado neatly took the roof off the barn, tore off the doors of the corn crib, wrecking a combine inside. It uprooted four ancient pine trees in the front yard and broke a couple of windows in the house. Never touched the silos.

* * *

Mr. Heidt was in the barn at the time with his 28 registered Holsteins. Thirty heifers were in a shed behind the barn. He was uninjured, and all the cattle escaped without a scratch. However, not one of the six cats belonging to the farm has been seen since.

* * *

Until the barn is repaired, Mr. Heidt drives 16-18 miles every day to milk his cows. They are sheltered in a barn on the farm of Albert Kessler in New Hudson.

* * *

In addition, he drives another 5-6 miles each way to work in the fields where he has planted his corn. His father and he work together on this enterprise on his father's farm.

* * *

Mrs. Heidt takes care of chores around the home. She has a few hens, some hogs and a number of lambs. Born in March, these lambs are still bottle-fed.

* * *

Three young people make their home with the Heidts. Joan, Aletha May and Elwood Boomus are the children of the Heidts' in every way short of legal adoption. This is the way everyone wants it. All three children are active 4-H club workers.

* * *

Twelve-year-old Elwood loves farming and intends to make it his life. He enjoys helping "Aunt Nell" with the chores. In his spare moments he likes to engage in sports.

* * *

Joan and Aletha are in high school, Joan a junior and Aletha a senior. They take care of the housework and the cooking.

* * *

In addition to having all the dairy products they want for their own use, the Heidts send milk to a Detroit creamery daily. They like dairy farming and do not intend to let even a tornado put them out of business.

* * *

Ten years ago they were burned out of one place. It didn't stop them. Hats off to the Heidts, their children, and to all dairy farmers in our county.

CLEANING THE SEPARATOR — Like all women who live on a dairy farm, Mrs. Heidt has to scour the milking utensils after each milking. She concentrates on outdoor chores with Elwood and her husband, letting the girls do the work inside.

"LOOK, NO ROOF!" — Elwood points to the barn that lost its roof in the May 12 tornado. Mr. Heidt was inside with the cows when the wind struck. Neither man nor beasts was injured. The heifers were in the small shed behind the barn, also escaped injury. In addition to the damage done the barn, the wind uprooted four huge pine trees in the front yard and broke several windows in the house. Since the day of the storm, none of the Heidts' six cats has been seen around the place.

CURIOUS, YET RELUCTANT — The 30 heifers being raised by the Heidts are a bit camera shy. It took time and patience for Mrs. Heidt to get this close to the skittish creatures. They were curious about the Press photographer and his equipment, but wanted nothing to do with him or any other humans at close range.

FUTURE FARMER — Elwood Boomus, age 12, lives with the Heidts. His enthusiasm for farming has decided him to make it his career. When not busy with chores, he likes sports. Here, Elwood shovels up a bucket of corn for the hogs. The recent tornado took the doors off this corn crib and smashed a combine stored inside.

EXPERIENCED HANDS — Seventeen-year-old Aletha May Boomus and her sixteen-year-old sister, Joan, make their home with "Aunt Nell" and "Uncle Darold" Heidt. Experienced cooks, the girls get most of the meals and do the housework. Using eggs and milk from the farm, they're making custard for dinner.

MILKING, 1956 STYLE — Darold Heidt attaches a milking machine to one of his Holsteins in preparation for the nightly milking. Since the May 12 tornado that unroofed his barn, Mr. Heidt has been driving sixteen to eighteen miles a day to do his chores. His cows are being sheltered in a barn on the Albert Kessler farm in New Hudson. Milk from the Heidt cows goes to a Detroit dairy.

Frozen Beef Steaks Is Ideal Picnic Treat

For a real picnic treat, try Frozen Flaked Beef Steaks with this tangy beefsteak barbecue sauce. The steaks can easily be prepared on-the-spot by pan-frying in regular cooking foil or in a convenient disposable foil pie pan.

The barbecue sauce, on the other hand, can be prepared in advance and stored in the refrigerator until you are ready to pack your picnic basket.

Barbecue Sauce

1 onion, chopped
2 tablespoons oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
¼ cup lemon juice
1 cup chili sauce
1 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon prepared mustard
½ cup water
½ cup chopped celery
Salt
Cayenne

Brown onion in fat and add remaining ingredients. Simmer 30 minutes. Makes 2 cups.

Here's Meaty Treat

Thin slices of frankfurter mixed into your favorite batter turn pancakes into a new kind of meaty treat. Use one skinless frankfurter per serving (3-4 pancakes depending on size). Serve with catsup or mustard gravy.

REFRIGERATOR CHEESE CAKE — This recipe for a favorite dessert calls for frozen lemonade concentrate which eliminates all grating and squeezing of lemons. With nice, smooth texture, the flavor is tart and delicious.

Refrigerator Cheese Cake Is Top Specialty of Cooks

Refrigerator Cheese Cake has appeared fairly late on the culinary scene. In fact, it is difficult to find a recipe for it in cook books going back more than a dozen or so years. Baked cheese cake, yes, but the easy-to-fix uncooked kind is a comparative newcomer.

Especially popular with cooks now that warm weather is just round the corner is the unbaked variety. And just in time to help celebrate Dairy Month is a recipe for Refrigerator Cheese Cake featuring lemonade concentrate and cottage cheese.

We like cottege cheese for this cake, it's much lower in calories than the cream cheese variety. We like too, the idea of using frozen lemonade concentrate. It gives a full, tart, refreshing lemon flavor without all the to-do of grating lemon rind, then squeezing and straining lemon juice and measuring it.

A pointer here, whenever you cook eggs over hot water we mean just that. The water should never be allowed to boil or you may end up with eggs that are something less than smooth.

Refrigerator Cheese Cake

1 cup fine Graham cracker crumbs (approx. 12 crackers)
¼ cup butter or margarine melted

Blend together cracker crumbs and melted butter or margarine. Take ⅔ of mixture and press firmly on bottom of 8-inch spring form pan. Chill. Reserve remainder for top crust.

Cheese Cake

2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
2 eggs, separated
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
2 cups (1 lb.) *cottage cheese, sieved
1 6 ounce can frozen lemonade, thawed and undiluted
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup heavy cream, whipped

Blend unflavored gelatin and water in small saucepan and melt over low heat. Remove from heat and cool slightly (if gelatin tends to 'set' just place over heat again for a few minutes). Combine egg yolks, slightly beaten, with milk, salt and sugar, in top part of double boiler. Stir over hot water until mixture thickens. It must not boil. Remove from hot water. Stir in melted gelatine. Mix well and place pan in bowl of cold water, stirring constantly. When mixture is cool, remove from water and add sieved cottage cheese, fresh-frozen lemonade, thawed and undiluted, and vanilla. Fold in whipped cream. Beat egg whites until stiff, not dry, and fold into mixture. Pour mixture into prepared pan. Sprinkle with remaining crumbs. Chill in refrigerator at least 2 hours before serving. Makes 8 servings.

Barbecue Soup First

At your next barbecue, serve soup as a first course—anything from black bean to bouillon—but just before you take it off the fire don't forget to add some Spanish sherry—either a dry fino or nutty amontillado, a quarter cup of wine to each can of soup for extra zest.

Next time you make up a package of fluffy white frosting mix tint it pink.

Barbecue Time for All Weather

The barbecue season is under way, but if wet weather interferes with outdoor cooking, it's just as easy to barbecue those young chickens in the oven, declares Mary Hixon, Oakland County's Home Demonstration Agent.

Slow, even cooking with occasional turning and basting with a savory sauce develops the most flavor and prevents scorching before the meat is done. Young chickens, 1¼ to 3 lbs. (ready-to-cook weight) generally are best to use. Split the chicken in half or cut in serving pieces; dip in the barbecue sauce; place skin side up on a grill over hot coals or in a pan under direct heat; and turn often, basting with barbecue sauce.

Chicken should be nicely barbecued, says Mrs. Hixon, in 1 to 1½ hours, depending on the heat and the size of the pieces.

Much of the success of the barbecue depends on the sauce. Usually this is a tart-sweet-spicy mixture with cooking oil included to give rich flavor to lean meat such as that of young chickens. Then, for red color, use catsup, paprika, chili powder, and, if you like it hot, a dash of red pepper.

For a sauce that's on the sweet side, try this one on a 3 pound chicken: Combine 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 1 tablespoon paprika, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, ¼ teaspoon chili powder, few grains of pepper, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, 1 cup tomato juice, ¼ cup chili sauce or catsup, ¼ cup vinegar, ½ cup chopped onion, 2 or 3 tablespoons cooking oil and cook over low heat for 15 minutes.

Children Will Enjoy Making Picnic Dish

So many mothers and hostesses believe in the do-it-yourself idea that they are letting children and guests make their own sandwiches at picnics or backyard buffets.

Pack the fillings, such as chicken, egg or ham salad, in paper cups. Provide two kinds of sliced bread or rolls and a small jar of real mayonnaise for spreading same. Wrap the lettuce leaves in foil or put in a plastic bag.

At eating time lay everything out and let each picnicker create his own masterpiece. It's nice to have a tomato or two as well. Tomatoes can be sliced on the spot and add a lot to any sandwich. Crisp pickle slices are always a happy thought, too.

ZESTY LOAF — French bread is dressed up with thin slices of onion, heated for 15 minutes, and served with hamburgers, frankfurters or small steaks. Fancy breads add interest to any meal and are so easy to prepare that they can be served often.

Special Breads Pep Up Meals

Often a little extra touch such as a bread trick will make an ordinary meal seem company-special. The menu needn't be changed at all, since bread, a feature at almost every meal, can be dressed-up to add the special something.

A hearty bread extra that's easy to make is an attractive cheese loaf. To make it, just spread a slice of bread with generous amounts of a delicate, natural-flavored margarine.

Then, reassemble into loaf shape inserting a slice of quick-melting cheese between each bread slice. For added convenience, choose a cheese with interleaved slices that will separate easily without tearing.

Hold the loaf in shape by forming foil around the base in "basket" style. Before serving, heat in a hot oven (400) for 15 minutes or until the bread is heated and the cheese partially melted.

Serve hot, on a cutting board or in a napkin-lined basket, leaving the bread in foil in which it was heated.

A "two-way" mealtime extra is this Zesty Onion Loaf. It's made of thick, crunchy bread slices that are spread generously with a flavorful margarine mixture before inserting thin onion slices between each two slices of bread.

A quick trip to the oven makes this a hot bread. Serve it as the bread feature of a meal with juicy hamburger patties, franks or little steaks.

Zesty Loaf

¾ cup margarine
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 loaf unsliced French bread
1 onion
1 clove garlic

Cream margarine and mustard. Slice bread into 1-inch slices, slicing three-fourths of the way to the bottom of the loaf. Spread the inside cut surfaces with the margarine-mustard mixture.

Cut onion into thin slices and insert a slice of onion between each two slices of bread.

Rub the outside of the loaf with the clove of garlic. Tie string around the loaf to hold it together and toast in a hot oven (400) for 15 minutes.

Keep Bread Fresh With Dry Container

Hot weather increases bread-keeping problems. Clean, dry containers are an unquestionable necessity for giving bread the care it deserves. All storage containers should be thoroughly washed weekly.

Baking soda dissolved in warm water is the preferred agent for odorless cleaning. Then, the unit should be dried well, including all joinings and it should be free of crumbs. Any remaining moisture or crumbs may lead to mold growth.

Nutritious cold beverage: bottled prune juice mixed with homogenized milk. Add a dash of nutmeg or allspice, or both, just for an extra flavor twist.

Stay Healthier by Drinking Quart of Milk Each Day

A lake a mile wide, seven miles long, and 10 feet deep, and all of it milk. That's what we'd have if we assembled all the milk produced in the United States in one year and poured it intot one spot, so the Department of Agriculture says.

Of course the Government agency is quick! to point out that it would be silly to use milg just to make a lake, even to celebrate June Dairy Month. A more sensible way of using the milk would be to give of us his share every day.

That would be about one quart apices for every man, woman and child in the United States. That would do a lot to make all of us healtthier, so the doctors and the nutritionists tell us. But a quart a day is an average, and like all other averages, some of us are above and some are below.

And in case you'd forgotten, we don't use all the milk our nation's cows produce. The surplus is bought by the Government, in the form of butter, cheese and dry skim milk. The surplus is smaller now than it was a couple of years ago, but there's still a lot more milk that we could drink or eat if we wanted to.

The reason for milk, as old Mother Nature planned it, is to feed calves, and about 3 per cent of all our milk—or rather, the cows' milk—goes to calves. But cows give more milg each year, and farmers substitute other feeds for milg, so less milk goes to calves and more of it is left over for people.

The people on farms where the milk is produced use about twice as much as people in the cities and towns, and they keep about 10 per cent of the milk supply and sell the rest.

Of the milk sold off the farms, about 45 per cent gets sold in bottles. About 25 per cent goes into creamery butter, making about 9 pounds for each person If the butter is made from cream separated on the farm, then there is some milk left for livestock feed. If the cream is separated at the factory, then the skin milk usualy is dried into non-fat dry milk solids.

About 12 per cent of all milk goes into cheese, and your share is about 8 pounds a year. Something like 6 per cent of the milk is used in evaporated and conrensed milk, and 7 per cent goes into ice cream and other frozen desserts.

Jigtime Main Dish —Chili Con Carne

Jigtime main dish!

Chili Con Carne

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 medium-sized onion (chopped)
½ pound ground beef
1 can (1 pound) red kidney beans
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes
1 garlic clove (crushed)
Chili con carne seasoning
Chili powder
¼ teaspoon cumin seed
Salt

Melt butter in 10-inch skillet over low heat; add onion and cook, stirring occasionally, until yellowed. Add beef; mash with a 2-tined fork over moderate heat until beef loses its red color. Add beans, tomatoes, garlic, chili con carne seasoning and chili powder to taste and cumin seed. Stir well and add salt to taste. Cook, covered, over low heat about 45 minutes; stir occasionally. Serve over rice in soup plates. Makes 4 small servings. Note: If you like chili very hot, use about 1 tablespoon chili con carne seasoning and 1 teaspoon chili powder.

REALLY FRESH ASPARAGUS — Miss Clara Gaylord of Miami road purchases a bunch of really fresh asparagus from Mrs. Ralph E. Meek of Lake Orion at Oakland County Farmers Market. Mrs. Meek said the asparagus had been cut early that same day. Home grown asparagus is now at its peak.

Follow Basic Seven Rules When Purchasing Food

Looking for easy meals for busy days? Food shoppers will find plenty of easily prepared foods in today's market, says Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent, but using these foods need never mean skimping on good health. A design for better living always includes foods from the basic-seven food groups.

DAIRY PRODUCTS — Supplies of milk are at their seasonal peak as Michigan begins the observance of June Dairy Month. A lot for a little is offered by milk and dairy products. A lot of nutritional values, appetite appeal, and varied uses are obtained from the expenditure of a little money in the purchase of these food items.

Special Milk Programs have encouraged youngsters to develop better milk habits, but with school days over, homemakers will need to help the children keep these good habits. A special corner in the kitchen where refreshing milk drinks can be made and served for family and friends may be the answer in some homes. An effort to use more milk in soups; oh cereal; in creamed dishes, custards, or souffles will increase the family's use of milk.

CANNED FOODS—This may be a good time to stock pantry shelves. As a new processing season approaches, last year's stocks of canned foods are frequently offered at real values to the customer. Canned applesauce, red tart cherries, beans, corn, peas, peaches, apricots, pears and fruit cocktail, are among the foods being offered at special prices.

POULTRY—Chicken every Sunday may now be changed to chicken any day for better methods of breeding, feeding, processing, and marketing have brought reasonably priced chicken to American tables any day of the year. Most fryers are now about 3 to 3½ pounds and wear an economy tag at the meat counter. Count on ¾ to 1 pound per person.

Some local retailers say that when chicken legs, thighs, or breast cost no more per pound than twice the price per pound for the whole chicken, it is just as economical to buy chicken by the piece. Stewing chickens averaging 4½ to 6 pounds are attractively priced in some stores. Stewers are mature hens over ten months of age that require long slow cooking at low temperature.

MEAT—The meat outlook for the week is one of continued rising pork and beef prices. Pork loins show an increase of as much as 3½ to 4 cents a pound. For economy and lean meat, Boston Butt is the number one pork choice, with picnics a close second. Bacon has not increased as rapidly as other pork cuts, and remains a good value for the season when bacon and tomato sandwiches are favorites.

All cuts of chuck are exceptionally good buys in beef. The outlook for beef steaks is a few cents higher than last week. Lamb is high, but quality of young spring lamb is superb. Veal prices remain steady with quality offered creating about a twenty cent per pound difference in most cuts.

FRUITS—Homegrown rhubarb is especially easy on the purse, if shoppers can find it.

Crisp stalks with rose-colored stems indicate freshness and quality. Strawberries from states south of Michigan are now about 39 cents a quart, with the large fancy California strawberries about 29 to 39 cents a pint.

The very first Michigan strawberries are starting to market this week. Local stores will have them in volume about the 10th or 12th, with peak supplies expected the week of June 17. The supply of lemons is good with both the small (180) to medium (150) size available.

Strawberry Milk Shake

1 pint strawberries
2½ cups milk
⅓ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Wash, hull and drain strawberries. Crush and press through coarse sieve. Combine with milk. Add other ingredients and mix thoroughly. Chill. Garnish with whipped cream. (4 servings).

* * *

Apple Milk Shake

½ pint ice cream
1 cup apple sauce
1 cup milk
Cinnamon

Add chilled apple sauce to ice cream and beat. Add milk and continue beating until blended. Pour into tall glasses, top with sprinkling of cinnamon.

VEGETABLES—More Michigan asparagus is available, with quantities for freezing at Farmer's Markets and on the farm. Snapped asparagus will yield more than cut asparagus, both for freezing or for immediate use.

Basket of Groceries Ideal for a Newly Wed Couple

For those who can buy the great big shrimp, bigger even than the so-called jumbo size—so big that they weigh 10 to a pound—here is a recipe par excellence.

It's shrimp stuffed with crab, a specialty of the Golden Parrot, a well-known Washington restaurant.

Although the Golden Parrot, located in a fine old mansion on the fringe of Washington's downtown section, is famous for its delicious food, perhaps none of it is as exotic and unique as its Baked Stuffed Shrimp. And here is the recipe, given by the chef to the Shrimp Association of the Americas.

Baked Stuffed Shrimp

1 pound fresh or frozen shrimp (the size that comes 10 to a pound)
¼ cup milk
1 egg
½ cup bread crumbs
½ teaspoon paprika
1 pound lump crabmeat
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper to taste
1 teaspoon Tabasco
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
2 slices white bread, crusts removed and cut into small cubes
1 medium-sized onion minced
½ green pepper, finely chopped
½ cup margarine, melted

Shell uncooked shrimp, leaving tail shell on. Split shrimp down the back and spread apart, butterfly fashion. Dip uncooked shrimp into milk and egg mixture. Next dip shrimp in bread crumbs and paprika, which have been combined.

Combine crabmeat, Worcestershire sauce, salt, pepper, Tabasco, mustard, mayonnaise and bread cubes. Saute onion, green pepper in 2 tablespoons melted margarine and add to crabmeat mixture.

Firmly stuff breaded shrimp with crabmeat mixture. Place shrimp tail side up on a greased shallow baking dish. Baste shrimp with melted margarine. Bake in 400-degree oven until brown. Serve piping hot. Makes five servings.

A Quick Meal: Ham 'n' Cheese

Quick food stunt—that's Ham 'n Cheese on a Bun. Whether it's Dad's Monday night bowling team or junior's hungry crowd on Sunday night, it's a treat hard to beat.

Reba Staggs, meat expert, mentions that this dish actually performs a double purpose. It features leftovers from the refrigerator and provides wholesome fare for the male population in the household.

Ham 'n Cheese on a Bun

2 cups coarsely chopped cooked ham
3 large English muffins
3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1½ cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¾ cup grated sharp cheddar cheese
1 10-ounce package frozen asparagus spears, cooked
Paprika, if desired

Split English muffins and toast under broiler. Melt butter or margarine. Stir in flour and gradually add milk, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Add salt, pepper and grated cheese. Stir until cheese melts. Combine ham and cheese sauce.

* * *

Arrange cooked asparagus spears on toasted muffin halves and spoon ham-cheese mixture over each. Yield: 6 servings.

First Course Dish

Sliced cucumbers, black olives and canned pimientos make a delicious and attractive first course. Serve with cruets of olive oil and wine vinegar, salt and freshly ground pepper. French or Italian bread, or crusty rolls to accompany this of course.

Asparagus Now at Peak

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Now — and only now — can we serve really fresh asparagus. The cold spring weather held it back, but this week will see a great flood of it in the stores and the Farmers Market.

We talked with a grower, Mrs. Ralph Meek, of Lake Orion at market a few days ago. The bed of asparagus she and her husband tend is about 25 years old. On good warm days they cut four bushels from their half-acre plot.

The Meeks cut their aspargus rather than snapping them. They bundle them into pound packages, having the stalks as near the same size as possible.

Their season runs around four to six weeks, concurrently with rhubarb. In dry years they irrigate the asparagus with water from Paint Creek. Every 8-10 years they reset plants that are poor producers.

Mrs. Meek usually cooks her asparagus in the pressure cooker for one minute. She serves it with butter. Sometimes she browns the butter and adds almonds to it before pouring over the cooked asparagus.

Florence's Cookies —a Delicious Treat

Don't miss trying these cookies. They're extra delicious!

Florence's Cookies

1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese
½ pound (½ cup) butter or margarine
½ teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups sifted flour
⅛ teaspoon salt
¼ cup red jelly
1½ teaspoons sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon

Cream together the cream cheese and butter; add vanilla, flour and salt. Mix thoroughly. Chill. Divide dough in half; roll one-half on a prepared pastry cloth so it is about ⅛-inch thick. Cut out rounds with a floured cutter. Roll out remaining half of dough and cut out matching rounds with a floured doughnut cutter. Put together in pairs, having the cut-out round on top. Fill centers with jelly. Sprinkle with a mixture of the sugar and cinnamon. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 15 or 20 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes about 30 cookies.

For Health and Vigor the Thrifty Way
Drink 3 Glasses Every Day!

When you buy delicious, refreshing milk you receive double your money's worth in food value. The average housewife spends fifteen per cent of her food budget for milk and milk products. But she is actually buying thirty per cent of her family's nutritional needs.

This unsurpassed bargain in good living is one of nature's bountiful gifts, assisted in large measure by your dairy farmer. During June, recognized across the land as Dairy Month, pure, wholesome milk is in abundant supply. Add to your pleasure and health by making fresh milk your drink, this month and every month.

Coin Machines May Cook Meals

NEW YORK (INS)—The housewife of the future will have no excuse for not serving hot meals.

Neither bridge clubs, nor Red Cross nor gloom of supermarkets will keep her from serving a piping hot dinner—she'll just put some coins in a machine and get the stuff ready-made.

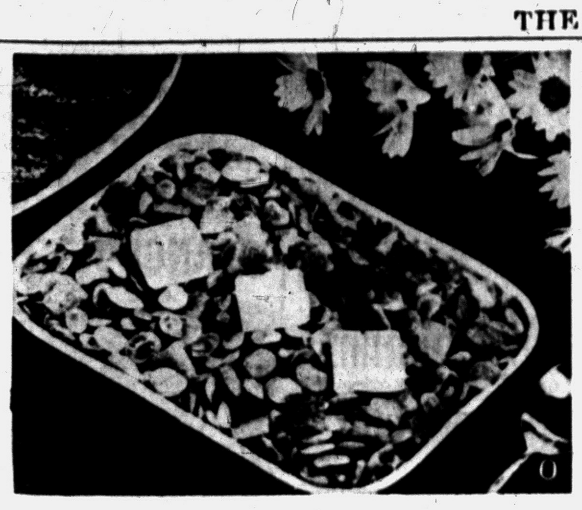

"Vending machines will be a big help to the housewife of tomorrow," said Robert W. Wagstaff, executive vice president of a vending machine firm.

"There have been terrific strides in processing and freezing of precooked foods," Wagstaff said, "in the last 10 years. And we can vend any packaged commodity.

"Sometime in the not too distant future we will be vending pre-cooked foods of all kinds for the housewife to take home. We'll have vending machines in apartment house lobbies, supermarket and public parking lots—place where the house wife can go after store hours to get a ready-made meal for her family.

"I don't think this is too far in the future," the vending machine executive continued. "It will probably be a lot like the bread question. I guess homemade bread is still better than the packaged variety, but ready-made bread is good and it is so much more convenient."

Want steamed vegetables to taste their best? Douse them with a couple tablespoons of butter when they have finished cooking.

Keeping the Meals Varied Calls for Culinary Tricks

Keeping family meals varied and interesting calls for an up-to-date bag of culinary tricks. Of course, appetite conscious homemakers have their own favorite food flairs, but new ideas are always welcome.

A good trick to enhance the flavor and appetite appeal of bland vegetables is to use different seasoning or sauces. Tempting sauces are easily made by using economical melted margarine as a base and adding such ingredients as lemon juice, catsup or horseradish to taste.

Green lima beans, a popular vegetable selection in most families, are available frozen, fresh, or canned, just ready for year around service. Green or white dried limas are also available, but these require several hours soaking and then long cooking to make them fork tender.

No matter which type of lima you choose, flavorful margarine will make them family favorites. A unique recipe for making limas rich and tasty calls for tossing toasted bread croutons, that have been mixed with a zesty margarine dressing, into the limas right before serving.

Flavor is the most important factor in this delightful lima crouton dish, so it's wise to select a margarine with a delicate natural flavor for the dressing. A margarine that's just right for flavoring and for spreading and cooking too is a fine choice.

Here's how to make the lima dish that's sure to tempt your family and please your guests.

Limas and Zesty Croutons

1 box frozen lima beans (or 2 cups cooked or canned limas)
¼ pound margarine
1 tablespoon horseradish
4 slices bread, toasted

Cook limas in boiling water until tender (about 15 minutes). Drain. Melt margarine in skillete. Stir in horseradish.

Cut toast into ½-inch squares. (Or cut bread into squares and toast in oven.) Just before service, add toast to melted margarine. Stir to coat evenly.

Turn hot limas into a heated dish. Pour melted margarine and toast cubes over top. Stir gently so that limas are coated with margarine. Serves 4.

Danish Fruit Soup Different

On that first sizzling Summer night, when you simply haven't a thing to put on the table, make the Danish Fruit Soup described here. After the soup you may want only to present slices from the roast or cold cuts and cheese with assorted bread, olives and relishes, and let the guests pick and choose.

• • •

Danish Fruit Soup is cool, easily collected, and truly appetizing to look upon. Once you try it, this recipe will be one for the book.

Danish Fruit Soup

1 cup strained plums with tapioca
1 cup water or fruit juice
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup halved, seeded grapes such as Tokay
½ cup diced, unpeeled red apple
Sour cream for garnish

Combine strained plums with tapioca, water or fruit juice, salt and lemon juice. Chill. Just before serving, add fruits. Garnish with sour cream. Makes 4 servings.

Hot Potato Salad With Frankfurters

Old-fashioned dish!

Hot Potato Salad With Frankfurters

6 frankfurters
4 large potatoes
3 tablespoons bacon drippings
¼ cup diced onion
¼ cup diced green pepper
¼ cup cider vinegar
3 tablespoons water
2 teaspoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon black pepper

Cook potatoes; peel and cut in ½-inch cubes. Place frankfurters in saucepan of boiling water; remove from heat and let stand about 8 minutes. Heat drippings and cook onion and green pepper in them until wilted. Add vinegar, water, sugar, salt and pepper. Cook over low heat a short time to blend flavors. Pour hot sauce over potatoes. Top with frankfurters. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

Here's the Way to Prepare Hot Potato Salads

Hot Potato Salad

3 to 6 medium size potatoes (2 pounds)
½ cup diced celery
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
2 teaspoons salt
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
3 tablespoons sugar
½ cup cider vinegar
¼ cup water
Pepper
1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley

Cook potatoes in skins until tender, peel and dice. Put in a 1½-quart casserole; add celery and onion. Sprinkle with 1 teaspoon of the salt.

Melt butter over low heat; add flour, mustard, sugar, and remaining 1 teaspoon salt; stir until smooth. Add vinegar, water, and pepper to taste. Cook over moderately low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil.

Pour over potatoes; sprinkle with parsley. Mix lightly with a fork, being careful not to break potatoes. Let stand 1 hour. Cover and reheat in a moderate (375 degrees) oven, 20 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Use Your Cake Pan as Picnic Relish Tray

Here's a tip to picnickers: There is no need to have an assortment of bottles and jars to open for a relish tray at a picnic, Mrs. Irving Gillies suggests the following method.

Line your cake pan with a sliding lid with aluminum foil. With other pieces of folded foil make separate compartments in the pan. Drain pickles and olives well. Fill sections of your relish "tray," slide the cover on and off you go to your picnic. Save the juices at home, if you like, for any leftovers.

Hot Bread Adds Special Touch to Simple Menus

A hot bread makes a simple menu seem special.

Quick Orange Date Bread

1 cup sifted flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
1 cup uncooked rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned)
Grated rind of 1 orange
½ cup chopped pitted dates
1 egg
½ cup milk
¼ cup butter or margarine (melted).

Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Stir in rolled oats, orange rind and chopped dates. Beat egg enough to combine yolk and white; add milk and beat again to combine. Stir in melted butter.

Add liquid ingredients to dry mixture; stir just until dry ingredients are moistened. Turn into buttered cake pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches).

• • •

Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven 20 to 25 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cut in squares in pan; remove with spatula; serve hot.

Summer Decor Tip

Trays and bowls of summer fruit and vegetables make decorative arrangements for summer cottages instead of flowers and will last much longer. The vegetables—such as squash, eggplant and cucumbers—and fruits like apples, pears and pomegranates, will be much prettier if given a coat of self-polishing wax. They also will last longer.

Whip a cup of cream and fold in two tablespoons of sugar and one-quarter cup of undiluted frozen tangerine juice. Serve as a topping for apple pie.

Try This Casserole as Variety in Serving

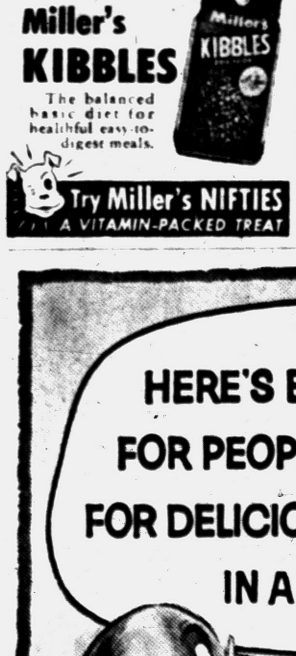

Like most women, you probably like to be a culuinary impressario once in a while. Here's an easy off-beat casserole to assist your flight from the usual main dishes.

• • •

Cool 1 package of frozen peas (10 ounce size) in ½ cup salted water. Do not drain. In a casserole combine the peas and liquid with 2 can (3½ cups) macaroni with cheese sauce, 1 cup flaked crab (6½ ounce can) and 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion. Dot the top with 2 tablespoons butter or margarine.

• • •

Bake in a 400 degrees F. oven for about 25 minutes. Lemon gelatin salad with shredded raw vegetables—and fresh-baked refrigerator biscuits complete a happy springtime supper.

APRICOT LIME SALAD — Pale green lime gelatine filled with golden apricot halves and cottage cheese makes a tempting summer salad. Chilled evaporated milk is whipped to give the gelatine a seafoam appearance. Celebrate Dairy Month with this salad.

Apricot Lime Salad Is Tasty

This tempting gelatin salad combines two dairy products, creamed cottage cheese and double-rich evaporated milk. The evaporated milk is chilled and whipped to make the salad high and fluffy. Chopped celery and pecans add contrasting crunchiness.

* * *

Rolls of cold sliced ham and an assortment of hot dinner rolls with plenty of butter will complete your luncheon menu nicely.

Apricot Lime Salad

8-inch ring mold
1 No. 303 can peeled whole apricots
1 package lime flavored gelatin
Apricot syrup plus water to make 1 cup
1 cup creamed cottage cheese
½ cup diced celery
½ cup chopped pecans
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup evaporated milk, chilled icy cold

Drain apricots and save syrup. Remove pits from apricots and cut in half. Place apricot halves in the bottom of an 8-inch ring mold. If there are a few halves left, cut into small pieces and add to gelatin when other ingredients are added. Place gelatin in a medium size mixing bowl. Heat apricot syrup and water to boiling.

* * *

Pour the hot liquid over gelatin and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Chill gelatin until it is the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Add the cottage cheese, celery, pecans and lemon juice. Whip milk in a chilled bowl until it is stiff and will hold a peak. Fold into chilled gelatin mixture. Spoon into mold. Chill until firm, about 3 hours. Serves 8.

Beat an egg yolk with a couple of tablespoons of milk; use as a glaze for yeast rolls to make them extra special.

Mix Salad Dish With Some Sour Cream

Do you know that . . .

For a simple basic salad dressing made with sour cream, combine ½ cup of sour cream with a dash of pepper, 1½ teaspoons sugar, ¾ teaspoon cider vinegar, ⅛ teaspoon prepared mustard. Good served on any "slaw" combination.

For a cottage cheese fruit dip: mash 1½ cups creamed cottage cheese, mix with ½ cup drained crushed pineapple, add pineapple juice to make dipping consistency.

The mixture is fine for dipping carrot and celery sticks and low in calories, too.

When you serve simple vanilla pudding with several fruit toppings, the young folks in the family can have fun making their own favorite combinations of pudding and fruit. All members of the family will enjoy fine milk desserts that much more.

Special Curried Rice Tasty With Chicken

Special Curried Rice

1 cup converted-type rice
2¼ cups boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon curry powder
¼ cup currants (rinsed in hot water and drained)
2 drained canned pimientos (cut in fine strips)
¼ to ⅓ cup chopped toasted blanched almonds

Add rice to boiling water and salt in saucepan; bring to a boil; turn heat very low and cover tightly. Cook about 25 minutes or until rice is tender and water absorbed.

Stir in butter, curry powder, currants and pimientos with a fork, tossing rice grains gently. Stir in almonds just before serving. Makes 6 servings

Cheese Rarebit Is Ideal for Fast Snack, Main Dish

Do you call it "rabbit" or "rarebit?" At any rate, it's a tasty cheese dish, and we know you'll call it good. Seasoned with natural cheddar cheese, tomatoes and curry, this easy rarebit is sure to bring applause whenever it's served.

Cheese rarebit is ideal for a speedy luncheon or supper main dish. Simply make a white sauce, add the grated cheese and seasonings and serve it over crisp toast or crackers.

A successful rarebit is best when you serve it piping hot! If you have a chafing dish, here's a perfect time to use it. However, any heavy covered dish will do the trick.

To assure that rich, mellow cheese flavor in your rarebit, be sure to use natural Cheddar cheese. It is made from sweet cow's milk and ranges in color from creamy white to deep yellow-orange. But it's the age of the cheese rather than the color that determines the fine flavor. Depending on your personal likes, you may select mild, medium aged or sharp aged cheddar cheese.

Because cheddar cheese is a year 'round gold mine of vitamins, minerals and proteins, you'll want to serve it to the kiddies as well as the grown-ups. Cheddar cheese contains the same food nutrients as milk only in far more concentrated form. One pound of cheese gives the same amount of nutrients as 3 to 4 quarts of milk.

Always store cheddar cheese, tightly wrapped, in the refrigerator. You'll find it on the market in rind-free, air-resistant packages which seal in the fine cheese flavor. And there's no need to measure the grated cheese in this rarebit recipe because each handy 8-ounce package makes exactly 2 cups of grated cheese.

Tomato Cheese Rarebit

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
¾ cup milk
¾ cup drained canned or cubed fresh tomatoes
2 cups grated sharp aged cheddar cheese (8 ounces)
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon curry powder

Melt butter in top part of double boiler, blend in flour and add milk. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add tomato, grated cheese and seasonings and stir until cheese is melted. Serve over toast or crackers. Makes 4 servings.

Orange Muffins Perk Appetites

Sugar and spice and everything nice, that's what these muffins are made of! That's likely to be the comment when you surprise your family with piping hot Orange Muffins tooped with cinnamon and sugar and served with generous amounts of a delicate, natural flavored margarine.

Orange muffins are fun to serve any time of day. Feature them at breakfast to perk up lazy appetites, as a dressed-up bread course for the evening meal or as a special snack surprise. Since the season for popular fresh-berry shortcakes is so fleeting, you might serve these tempting orange muffins with assorted cheeses for dessert.

Orange Muffins

¼ cup melted margarine
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup shredded orange peel
¾ cup milk
1 egg, well beaten
¼ cup orange juice
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon

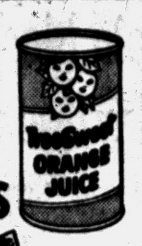

Sift together flour, baking powder and ¼ cup sugar. Stir orange peel into dry ingredients. Combine milk, egg, orange juice and margarine. Add all at once to flour mixture, stirring quickly and vigorously until just mixed and of a lumpy appearance.

Rub muffin pan lightly with margarine. Fill ⅓ full. Combine 2 tablespoons sugar and cinnamon. Sprinkle mixture of sugar and cinnamon over top of muffins. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) about 20 minutes. Serve with pats of margarine. Makes 24 small muffins.

Strawberry rhubarb, with its tender pink stalks, needs no peeling.

Everyone Works on Heidt Farm; Teenagers Can Cook

When we visited the Heidt farm recently to get our story on Dairy Month, we spent some time in the kitchen talking with Joan and Aletha May Boomus.

The girls, who make their home with the Heidts, are in their last years at high school. Joan is a Junior next fall, Aletha a senior.

Joan loves spaghetti, likes to dance and intends to join the WAVES when she is old enough.

Aletha likes southern fried chicken and claims music as her hobby. She wants to be a nurse.

They are experienced cooks and were making custard for dinner that night. We are giving their recipe here.

BAKED CUSTARD
By Joan and Aletha Boomus

1 quart milk
6 eggs
1½ cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
Sprinkle of nutmeg
Pinch of salt

Beat eggs until foamy. Add milk, sugar, salt and vanilla. Pour into a casserole. Sprinkle with nutmeg.

Bake 30 minutes in a 325-degree oven. If desired, set in a pan of hot water while baking. Test for doneness with a silver knife. When it comes out clean, the custard is done. Serves 5.

CORN FOR THE COWS — Darold Heidt of South Lyon loads his corn planter. He was working in his father's fields, some 5-6 miles from his own place. Here they plant and grow food for the Heidts' 28 registered Holsteins.

Spinach Dressing

With fresh spinach coming to produce markets in larger quantities, here's a suggestion for a tempting dressing. Cook diced bacon until crisp, add 1 tablespoon vinegar for each 2 tablespoons bacon and drippings. Heat and pour over spinach.

Dry Sugar Flavor

For the fullest flavor in frozen strawberries, the best sweetening is dry (granulated) sugar mixed thoroughly with the fruit. But, for appearance (holding shape and texture of whole berries), packing in sirup has the advantage and is less likely to bruise the fruit.

Dagwood Diet Tip

That bottomless pit your child calls his stomach can be filled with a minimum of effort and a maximum of nourishment. Keep buttered bread slices wrapped in waxed paper on a lower shelf in the refrigerator beside an open covered can of tasty Maine sardines, so that he can help himself. If he's a Dagwood devotee, add tomato and onion slices for a real challenge to his capacity.

Add finely diced green pepper and canned pimiento to corn muffins. Serve with fried chicken.

Macaroni Buffet Salads Always Eagerly Sought

It's easy to earn the reputation of a topnotch hostess. All that's needed is the ability to know what people like to eat, and the skill to know how to serve it as attractively as possible.

Macaroni salads, for instance, are always eagerly sought after. To make the Macaroni Buffet Salad arrange rows of your favorite salad ingredients . . . macaroni, chopped hard-cooked eggs, chopped green pepper, crumbled bacon, crumbled American blue cheese, chopped pimiento, diced chicken and diced avocado on a bed of chickory or your favorite salad greens. Serve with a delicious salad dressing quickly made with packaged salad dressing mix.

Macaroni Buffet Salad

2 tablespoon salt
4-6 quarts boiling water
4 cups elbow macaroni (1 pound)
1 medium-sized avocado, pared and diced
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Chicory
3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1 medium-sized green pepper, chopped
6 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled
¾ cup crumbled American Blue cheese (about 4 ounces)
3 canned pimientos, chopped
1-½ cups diced cooked chicken
1 cup torn chicory
1 package old fashion French salad dressing mix

Add 2 tablespoons salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Rinse with cold water and drain. Chill.

Combine avocado and lemon juice; mix lightly. Line salad bowl with chickory. Arrange macaroni, eggs, green pepper, bacon, cheese, pimientos, chicken, 1 cup chicory and avocado in rows over chicory.

Prepare salad dressing mix according to package directions. To serve: sprinkle part of dressing across one end of salad at a time; toss lightly.

Almond Sauce Delicious

When the chicken is baked in a perfect "smoothie" of a sauce, it comes to the table in real Sunday-best style. And condensed cream soups stand way out in front as sauces to enhance the flavor of chicken. Could be cream of chicken soup dotted with crunchy chopped almonds. Or mushroom soup-sauce, made extra mellow with cheese.

Chicken in Almond Sauce

2 packages (1-pound size) frozen chicken thighs, breasts, drumsticks or wings
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of chicken soup
⅓ cup finely chopped blanched almonds

Thaw chicken as directed on package. Arrange pieces in a shallow baking pan. Pour soup over chicken; sprinkle almonds on top. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F) about 1 hour, or until chicken is tender. Six to eight servings.

Mushroom-Cheese Baked Chicken

2 packages (1-pound size) frozen chicken thighs, breasts, drumsticks or wings
⅓ pound small white onions
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of mushroom soup
½ cup shredded process cheese

Thaw chicken as directed on package. Arrange pieces in a shallow baking pan. Peel onions; place around chicken. Combine soup and cheese; pour over chicken and onions. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 1 hour, or until chicken is tender. Six to eight servings.

Chocolate Nut Makes Fine Pie for Dessert

A substantial pie for dessert!

Chocolate Nut Pie

2 cups milk
1 tablespoon instant coffee
½ teaspoon salt
1-16 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons granulated rice cereal
2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate (coarsely shaved)
2 tablespoons soft butter
2 eggs (separated)
¾ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup chopped walnuts
9-inch unbaked pastry shell with high fluted rim

Heat milk, instant coffee, salt and cinnamon in top of double boiler. Sprinkle in rice cereal and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Cover and continue cooking slowly for 10 minutes. Remove from heat, stir in chocolate and allow to cool slightly.

Blend together soft butter, egg yolks, ½ cup of the sugar, and vanilla. Combine with slightly cooled rice mixture. Stir in nuts.

Beat egg whites until frothy; gradually beat in remaining one-fourth cup sugar, continue beating until glossy and stiff. Fold egg whites into rice mixture. Pour into unbaked pastry shell.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 1 hour. Cool to room temperature before serving. Note: Top of pie will crack.

SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

SAUCE JIMMY HARRIS is one of the finest cocktail sauces for shrimp we've ever met, and incidentally, elegant elsewhere. Tired of tomatoes on shrimp? We will ever be grateful to the manager of our favorite Kalamazoo hotel for this one.

This will serve from six to ten, depending on how everybody likes it. We serve it over shrimp placed atop a generous quantity of fine shredded lettuce. Serve extra sauce on the side, and the lettuce will disappear along with the shrimp.

6 hardboiled eggs, chopped very fine
3 cloves garlic, mashed fine
½ cup prepared mustard
½ teaspoon black pepper
1 tablespoon chopped chives
2 teaspoons capers, mixed (with liquid)
1 cup olive oil
1½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire

Mix everything together, chill, stir thoroughly again and serve over shrimp, cold lobster, crabmeat, or whatever.

CORN ON THE COB. Ralph Clark of Kalamazoo taught us this fine idea which is excellent for corn that is not "just picked," or that you buy in off-season when it may have started to dry up a little.

For each ear of corn you need a square of vegetable parchment paper big enough to wrap the ear, (no other paper will do), and a piece of heavy aluminum foil of the same size.

Husk and remove silk from the corn and trim ends. Dip each sheet of parchment paper in water until thoroughly soaked, then wrap and soak again, then wrap the the ears tightly in the wet paper, wet ears in foil, crimping tightly.

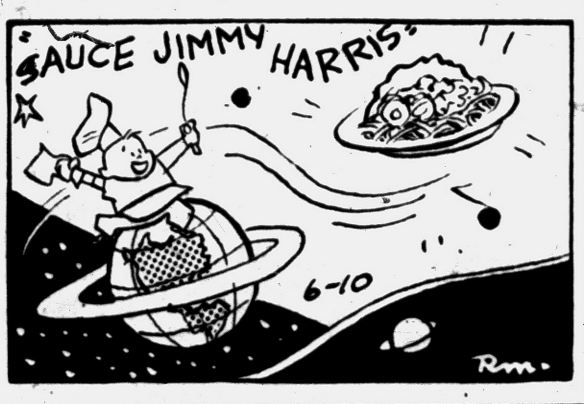

Bake 15 minutes in a 450 degree oven and serve wrapped in the paper and foil. They'll keep hot and are they ever something!

FOUR STAR COLESLAW is without a doubt the most delicious thing we've ever done with a head of cabbage. We've seen "light eaters" take four helpings of this elegant stuff. We commend it unhesitatingly to you.

4 cups finely shredded cabbage
1 cup seedless green grapes
½ cup blanched almonds, halved and toasted
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon cider vinegar
½ teaspoon fresh onion grated with juice
½ teaspoon sugar
Mayonnaise

Allow the cabbage to crisp in ice water in the refrigerator. Drain well and dry with a towel — preferably "terry cloth." In a chilled bowl, combine the cabbage with grapes, (if they are large, split them) salt, sugar, mustard, vinegar and onion juice and toss thoroughly.

Add almonds and enough mayonnaise to bind things together, toss well, check for seasoning, chill again, and serve cold.

Use Aluminum Foil

With everyone's thoughts turning to delicious ice cream desserts, it's important that you know how to store ice cream correctly.

If you have a freezer, you'll probably buy ice cream in the economical half gallon containers. At serv-ice time, dip the ice cream across the surface uniformly, but not too deep in spots. Then smooth off the surface and cover with aluminum foil pressed against the ice cream to prevent air contact which produces a waxy surface.

Use ice cream which is stored in the freezer, within 3 to 4 weeks of purchase. You can't expect even the best freezer to keep the original quality of ice cream stored over 30 days.

Team Up Corn and Mushrooms

Our English cousins shop each weekend for a "joint," but we call our Sunday entree a roast. By either term, this delectable piece of meat often becomes the center of several meals, perhaps as many as three of four.

Foods served with the roast should add interesting variety to each of these, and here we can use our imigination in planning attractive vegetables and salads.

• • •

Suggested as excellent accompaniments for the roast-inspired meal are Mushrooms 'n Corn and Sparkling Cranberry Mold. This hearty vegetable and delightful salad go equally well with any "joint" of beef, pork or lamb.

Mushrooms 'n' Corn

1 tablespoon butter, or margarine
1 can (4 ounces) sliced mushrooms
1 can (16 ounces) whole kernel corn
Salt, pepper

Melt butter, add drained mushrooms, and brown lightly. Remove mushrooms. Add liquid drained from mushrooms and corn and cook down to about a fourth cup. Add mushrooms and corn; heat. Season to taste. Six servings.

Sparkling Cranberry Mold

1 package lemon flavored gelatin
2 cups bottled cranberry juice
1 can (16 ounces) fruit cocktail
Crisp salad greens
Whipped cream mayonnaise

Dissolve gelatin in hot cranberry juice; cool. Add drained fruit cocktail and chill until partially thickened. Stir and pour into a salad mold; chill until firm.

Unmold on salad greens and garnish with whipped cream mayonnaise. Four to six servings.

For Liver Lovers: A New Method of Preparation

A new way to serve liver is a "find" for any homemaker.

Cook ½ pound sliced liver for about 5 minutes in 1 tablespoon melted lard or drippings. Grind liver with one small onion. Cook ½ pound ground beef until brown but not hard.

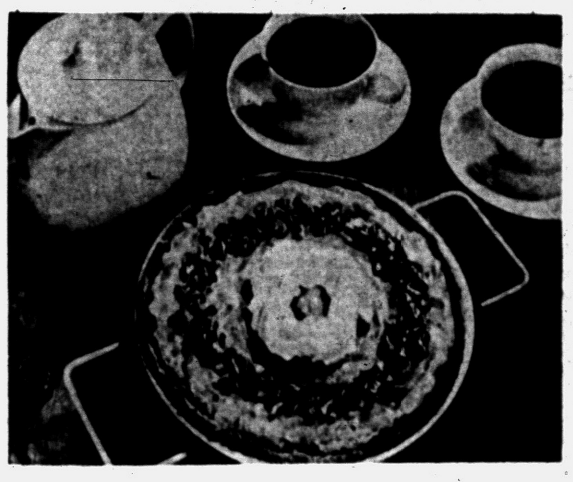

Combine liver and cooked ground beef. Season with 1 teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Cover and cook slowly for 10 to 15 minutes.

Stir in 3 tablespoons flour. Add 1½ cups of either milk, water or vegetable juice and stir constantly until thickened.

• • •

Serve piping hot on corn bread or biscuits. Yield: 4 servings.

You can flatten small balls of cookie dough by pressing them with a floured fork in two directions to make a crisscross pattern.

PEANUT BUTTER CHIFFON PIE — There IS a new kind of pie, impossible as that seems. This one has a smooth creamy peanut butter chiffon filling. Watch the children go for this pie, that is, if there is any left after the adults get through eating.

Family Will Like This New Pie

This pie might well have been invented strictly for the children—except that it's sure to be favored by grown-ups as well!

A chiffon pie with rather more substances than most, it's flavored lightly but distinctly with peanut butter—which makes a particular taste treat when flavor-blended with the crisp, Corn Flakes crust. Chill this no-bake pie thoroughly, and then just before serving, top with chopped nutmeats and sweetened whipped cream.

Peanut Butter Chiffon Pie

4 cups corn flakes
¼ cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons sugar

1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1 cup cold water
2 eggs, separated
¾ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup peanut butter
½ teaspoon vanilla flavoring

Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs. Blend butter and sugar. Stir in corn flakes crumbs; mix well. Press evenly and firmly around sides and bottom of 9-inch pie pan. Chill.

Soften gelatin in ¼ cup water. Beat egg yolks slightly; combine with ½ cup of the sugar, ¼ cup water and the salt. Stir in softened gelatin. Cook over boiling water until thick and fluffy, beating constantly with rotary beater. Cool. Measure peanut butter into a bowl; add remaining ½ cup water gradually, beating until smooth. Add egg mixture and vanilla; blend with beater. Chill until slightly thickened. Beat egg whites until foamy, add remaining ¼ cup sugar gradually, beating until stiff but not dry. Fold into peanut butter mixture. Spread in pie shell. Chill until firm. Just before serving top with chopped nutmeats and sweetened whipped cream.

Yield: 1 9-inch pie.

Orange rind and date strips added to a loaf of quick bread give it fine flavor.

Quick Trick— Hamburgers and Tomato Sauce

Quick trick with hamburgers!

Hamburgers With Tomato Sauce

1 pound ground beef
1 medium-sized onion
1 tablespoon fat
Salt and pepper
1 can (10¾ ounces) spaghetti sauce with mushrooms (meatless)
2 tablespoons cooking sherry

Make 8 thin flat oval patties of the beef. Cut 4 very thin round slices from the middle of the onion, do not separate into rings.

Place an onion slice in the center of four of the patties; cover with remaining 4 patties; press edges together well. Heat fat in 10-inch skillet; brown patties quickly on both sides, sprinkling them with salt and pepper; turn heat low and cook to desired doneness, turning as necessary.

Pour off fat from skillet, but leave browned particles. Add spaghetti sauce to skillet; heat slowly scraping up browned particles from bottom of skillet with wooden spoon. Stir in sherry. Makes 4 servings.

Note: Tighty wrap the part of the onion not used in waxed paper and store in refrigerator crisper for other use.

Liederkranz Tops

If you're in doubt about whether or not to eat the light colored coating around Liederkranz Cheese, the answer is simple. Eat it if you like it, otherwise, it's perfectly proper to slice the thin coating away and eat the soft mellow cheese on the inside.

Easy Cheese Sauce

For a quick and easy cheese sauce, try this. Blend a fourth teaspoon of dry mustard and a few drops Worcestershire sauce with a cup of evaporated milk. Stir over low heat until hot. Then add one-fourth pound of shredded cheddar cheese, and continue stirring until cheese is melted and sauce is smooth.

Medical Auxiliary Reviews Year of Aiding Others

The day was perfect for the picnic held Wednesday by members of the Auxiliary to the Oakland County Medical Society. Among the members attending were (left to right) Mrs. Charles Patrick of Waterford, Mrs. Edward Elder of Starr avenue and Mrs. M. G. Prosser of Orange Grove avenue. Mrs. Prosser is president-elect of the auxiliary.

Elected president of the Auxiliary to the Oakland County Medical Society Wednesday was Mrs. John P. Williams (left) of Commerce road. During the annual meeting Mrs. Kenneth VandenBerg (right) was honored for the work carried out last year under her direction.

Gathering at the Williams Lake home of Mrs. Robert L. Segula Wednesday for their annual meeting were members of the Auxiliary to the Oakland County Medical Society. Photographed (left to right) were Mrs. George M. Virga of Royal Oak, first vice president; Mrs. Lynn F. Webber of Cooley Lake road, Mrs. John Norup of Berkley, treasurer, and Mrs. Donald S. Smith of Wenonah drive, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Robert L. Segula (left) was hostess to members of the Auxiliary to the Oakland County Medical Society for the annual meeting Wednesday at her home at Williams Lake. Assisting her were Mrs. Ivan A. LaCore (center) of the State Hospital Grounds and Mrs. Robert Lyons of Oneida road.

Countywide Group Conducts Election of New Officers

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Women's Editor, The Pontiac Press

Clubwomen have come a long way in their thinking and planning for each year's activities. No longer do they think in terms of purely social gatherings.

• • •

Today they have much more important things to think about. And they're grateful to the local agencies and organizations which have explained their needs to them, and have mapped out ways in which clubwomen can be of service.

The Auxiliary to the Oakland County Medical Society is one group which can count many such services. But members don't take time for this, they're much more interested in looking ahead to next year when they can help many other needy organizations.

However, we thought you'd like to know what they accomplished last year under the direction of their president, Mrs. Kenneth VandenBerg.

• • •

First of all they gave a scholarship, which they do each year, to a girl who is capable and deserving, and who wants to become a nurse.

GRADUATION INVITATION

The women gathering yesterday at Mrs. Robert Segula's home at Williams Lake were more than rewarded when their president told them of the invitation received from Arlene Meloche of Berkley, recipient of their first scholarship, to attend her graduation exercises at Mount Carmel School of Nursing, Detroit, on Saturday.

• • •

This year they are sending Jean Joslyn of Holly to Borgess Hospital School of Nursing, Kalamazoo.

Still the 177 active members from throughout Oakland County find time to devote to service organizations.

• • •

A few of them include the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children, the American Cancer Society, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the American Red Cross and the Cerebral Palsy Fund.

• • •

LEADER HONORED

Members of the auxiliary honored Mrs. VandenBerg yesterday for her outstanding work as president during the year and presented her with a gift and a bouquet of red roses.

• • •

They plan to carry on the same work under their new president, Mrs. John Williams, whom they elected yesterday.

Fellow officers are Mrs. M. G. Prosser, president-elect; Mrs. George Virga, first vice president; Mrs. James Quinn, secretary; Mrs. John Norup, treasurer; Mrs. Maxwell Shadley, auditor; and Mrs. Donald Smith, parliamentarian.

Committee chairmen include Mrs. George Petroff, budget; Mrs. Robert Bannow, civil defense; Mrs. John Marra, courtesy; Mrs. R. Hamilton White, program; Mrs. N. E. Durocher, representative to the press; Mrs. James McConkie, public relations, and Mrs. Harold Kendrick, house.

• • •

Patent Leather Bag, White Accessories

CHICAGO (INS)—Patent leather purse and white gloves—the traditional accompaniment for a new suit—are as fashionable as ever this year.

But, keep the patent bag small in scale and thin and the gloves should be either very short—just covering the wrist bone—or very long—up to the elbow.

Constance Haaseth Introduced at Dinner

Chapter Meets Winner of Scholarship

By JOAN RITTER

Constance Haaseth, scholarship winner of Tipacon Chapter, American Business Women's Association, was introduced to ABWA members at their dinner meeting Wednesday evening at Hotel Waldron.

• • •

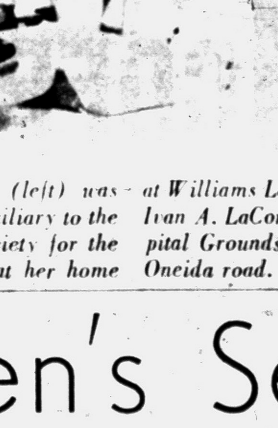

Miss Haaseth, who will graduate next week from Pontiac High School, was introduced by Julie O'Brien of the scholarship committee. She was selected to receive the award by Miss O'Brien and the counselors at the high school.

A member of the Retail Club at Pontiac High, Connie has worked in the school bookstore. She is still undecided about her choice of a school to attend this fall, but expects to continue the secretarial studies which she started in high school.

The scholarship, given as the club's educational project for the year, is the first annual award planned by Tipacon Chapter.

• • •

Mrs. Dorothy Brooks presided at the meeting and introduced Herschel Peters of Michigan Bell Telephone Company, who spoke on the extended service which will be available to Pontiac subscribers after July 8.

ROGER L. YOUNG

Roger L. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Young of Spence street, will graduate June 10 from Michigan State University with a Bachelor of Arts degree. Roger majored in radio and television and is affiliated with Sigma Nu fraternity.

In the correspondence read by Mrs. Ossie Gates was an invitation to attend the sixth annual national convention Oct. 20-21 at the Cosmopolitan Hotel, Denver, Colo. Announcement was made of the audio-scope service made available to service clubs by a local radio station.

• • •

Joy Van Hise, speaking for the ways and means committee, reported on the recent style show and mentioned the possibility of a card party and hat show as the first money - making project of Autumn.

Plans were made by the group for a picnic in July, an attendance contest during the months of July, August and September, and a Hand of Friendship Tea Sept. 25 to introduce prospective members to the club.

"Tipacon Tidbits," the chapter's newsletter, was distributed to members by Lillian Laska.

Thyme Will Tell

A pinch of thyme on a meal tray, under the cloth, may give off just the appetizing odor that will make a convalescence easier. A few grains of lavender may do it, too.

Service Guild Holds Meeting, Installs Officers

The Junior Wesleyan Service Guild of Central Methodist Church met Thursday evening with Elizabeth White of Crooks road. A cooperative dinner was served.

• • •

Following devotions by Helen Kinney, the goals for 1956-60 were outlined by Mabel Smith with the motto, "The Spirit of Christ — For All of Life."

Officers installed for the coming year by Miss Kinney were Barbara DeWolfe, president; Miss Smith, vice president; Elizabeth Rockefeller, recording secretary; Delores Smith, promotion secretary, and Jean McLeod, treasurer.

Mabel Smith is chairman of the program committee assisted by Miss Kinney and Miss White.

• • •

A scrapbook made by Ruth Dennis showing the group's activities for the past year was presented to the club.

WILLIAM J. FLYNN

William J. Flynn will be graduated from Michigan State University June 10 with a degree in mechanical engineering. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Flynn of West Walton boulevard, he is a member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity.

Bamboo Jewelry Now

The new bamboo jewelry looks particularly fashionable with an umbrella or handbag with a bamboo handle or clothes with bamboo buttons. There are also Parisian bamboo-printed cotton dresses as a stylish background for bamboo jewelry.

Be Careful!

The print silk dress must be bought knowingly. But a pretty combination is made up of a small, neat print in a dress with matching lining in the coat.

Alexandra Color Seen in Handbags

PARIS (INS) — Fashion experts in Paris are getting inspiration for leather goods colors from cocktails.

* * *

The latest leather shade is that of an "Alexandra Cocktail." The creamy beige of this drink comes from its ingredients and the Alexandra's brown-beige color is the coming fashionable shade for ladies' handbags, shoes and leather gloves.

Spicy as a drink, "Alexandra" is neutral as a fashion shade. Leather accessories of this color look elegant with black, brown, grey and navy-blue.

One smart Alexandra colored bag of supple lid leather is shaped like a large, old fashioned change-purse. Another pouchbag in the creamy beige color has the upper part of a curved cane as handle, so one can hang it on the arm like an umbrella.

Crocodile leather will also be fashionable this autumn in the new Alexandra color. A pair of high heeled crocodile pump-shoes and a matching crocodile bag will be the new Parisian classics in de luxe leather accessories.

* * *

The most stunning leather fashion in the new Alexandra color has just been presented in Paris by a specialist. It is a leather suit made entirely of washable suede. The leather is so supple that it is worked just like fabric into a smartly tailored style.

Before buying a sweater, check for size, elasticity, workmanship and washability.

Sisterhood of B'nai Israel Holds Installation

Pontiac Press Photos

Among Sisterhood of Congregation B'nai Israel members attending the annual luncheon and installation of officers Tuesday were (left to right) Mrs. Charles Eilender of Wenonah drive, Mrs. David E. Utley of Henry Clay avenue and Mrs. Daniel L. Foxman of Maddy lane. Mrs. Eilender served as installing officer.

Coming Events

The Better Home and Garden Club will hold a benefit card party Tuesday at the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building at 12:30 p.m. Proceeds will be used for civic projects.

Daughters of Union Veterans of Civil War will meet tonight at 8 at 128 W. Pike St.

June group of First Presbyterian Church will meet at 12:30 p.m. Friday at the home of Mrs. Milton Cooney, 56 E. Washington, Clarkston.

Mrs. E. Proffitt Entertains Class

Mrs. Elbert Proffitt was hostess to members of the Booster Class of the First Methodist Church recently. Twenty five members attended the meeting held at the home of the hostess on Green street.

Elected to serve during the coming year are Mrs. Proffitt, president; Glen Williams, vice president; Mrs. Perry Ruffing, secretary and Mrs. John Rawley, treasurer.

Committee chairmen include Mrs. Chester Caughell, devotions; Mrs. Floyd Crawford, flowers and Mrs. Viola Tallman and Mrs. Edna Worden, ways and means.

Summer's Coming

Outdoor protection against insect bites can be achieved by rubbing an insect repellent on the skin. Most convenient of these are the ointment forms in fold-up metal tubes that can be carried in pocket or purse without fear of breakage.

Mrs. Utley Assumes Presidency

Group Hears Speaker From U. of M.

Dr. Mordechai Kreinin was guest speaker at the annual luncheon and installation of officers held Tuesday by Sisterhood of Congregation B'nai Israel. A native of Israel, Dr. Kreinin has lived in the United States four years.

* * *

He received his Ph.D. in economics from the University of Michigan, was recipient of the Rackham Graduate Fellowship and was given the Fred M. Taylor Award for his doctorate.

At present he is study director in economics for the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan. He was introduced by Mrs. Irving Koper.

Sisterhood officers installed by Mrs. Charles Eilender were Mrs. David Utley, president; Mrs. George Surowitz, Mrs. Morris Kampner and Mrs. Sol Newhouse, vice presidents.

* * *

Others serving will be Mrs. Jack Gamburd, treasurer; Mrs. Sidney Czeidler, recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph Kornov, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Marvin Finkelstein, financial secretary, and Mrs. Alvin Jacobson, parliamentarian.

Committee members appointed at the meeting were Mrs. Abe Avadenka, Mrs. Jack Bodner, Mrs. Nathan Crone, Mrs. Koper, Mrs. Maurice Schlossel, Mrs. Morris Bletstein, Mrs. Edward Blumeno, Mrs. Stanley Elbling, Mrs. Ralph Merkowitz and Mrs. Leon Sirlin.

The opening prayer was read by Mrs. Daniel Foxman, and Mrs. Bletstein gave the closing prayer.

Sylvanites Gather

Members of the New Sylvanites Club and their husbands were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnson of Lakeview avenue at a cooperative dinner Saturday evening. A program of games followed, and plans were discussed for future meetings of the group.

'Lucky' People Grab Opportunities

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Do you believe in luck? Really believe in it, I mean, and not just consider it an ephemeral kind of magic that other people have and you don't have?

The way you feel about luck is really one of the most decisive factors in your life.

I remember discussing this with a very "lucky" real estate man, who made a fortune when others were losing theirs.

"I don't 'get' lucky breaks," he told me. "I manufacture my own lucky breaks!"

How did he do it?

* * *

"Well," he said, "It's hard to explain, but what it amounts to is, when some crazy thing is in the air, I figure I might as well get in on it and take a chance.

"If I were more sensible, maybe I'd see all the good reasons why it couldn't work for me. But then, I'd rather be lucky than sensible."

SAME SYSTEM

A radio announcer, Dave Estes, in a station in Springfield, Mo., got into radio much the same way.

* * *

He had always thought it would be fun, and had done some amateur theatrical work, but radio seemed a far-off and impossible goal. But then, as he told me:

"One day I overheard a friend telling somebody of an opening, so I decided to try my hand at auditioning. I did so, in the basement of a funeral home on the public address system.

"I got the job and have been in radio now for seven years.

* * *

"Unlucky" people would overhear that remark and think, "Oh well, what's the use? They probably want somebody with experience. Besides, I have no contacts and they might not even let me audition."

But not Dave Estes—Dave figured, "Why not give it a try"?

MIGHT HESITATE

"Unlucky" people might hesitate to audition on any old PA system. They would feel it might not do justice to their voice and so on. Or they would insist on preparing and preparing, until the chance had vanished.

* * *

But Dave Estes just hied himself over, gave it the best he had on the spur of the moment and got the job!

Young people are always writing me, asking how to get into radio and TV, asking for lists of books on the subject.

I always send them my list, but I always wish I could send them, along with it, a tiny slice of the "lucky touch" which people like Dave Estes were born with!

News From Bloomfield

Fly to Sweden for Olympic Games

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Mrs. Irving A. Duffy and Mrs. J. Philip Moses flew to Stockholm, Sweden, last Friday to attend the Olympic Games.

Mrs. Duffy's son, Frank, is a member of the U. S. Equestrian Team competing June 10 through the 17. Col. Duffy will join his family before this weekend is over.

The Duffys will remain in Europe during the rest of June and all of July, but Mrs. Moses will come back for the June 20 opening of the Detroit Horse Show at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club. She is chairman of junior activities at the club.

* * *

Saturday will see the opening of the pool at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club, and hosts will be members of the club's Swimming and Tennis Club, Mrs. Everell E. Fisher, Jack R. Davis, Harold Havermale and Joseph Monaghan.

There will be swimming events during the afternoon followed by a cocktail party (Cokes for juniors) and picnic supper with dancing in the evening.

On Sunday a morning ride with Edward E. Wilson in the lead will end in a picnic luncheon on the Koch estate.

SHOWER PLANNED

Mrs. John A. Reid, Mrs. Charles J. O'Connor, Mrs. Edward A. Christie and Mrs. Alvin Lambert will give a tea and shower Tuesday at Bloomfield Hills Country Club for bride-elect Elaine "Trixie" Darden.

On Wednesday, Mrs. Charles Richert and her daughter, Mrs. Frederick M. Darden, will be hostesses at luncheon for "Trixie" at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club.

* * *

Orchard Lake Country Club will be the setting Saturday for a swimming party for JoAnne Wellman and her fiance, James Nelson, whose wedding will take place June 23.

The following Saturday Mrs. L. L. Colbert and Mrs. Richard L. Campbell will give a luncheon in the Colbert home for JoAnne, and on June 17, Mr. and Mrs. S. Gordon Saunders will give a picnic supper for the couple in their home on Orchard Ridge road.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Colbert will have as their guests for dinner Friday evening Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Bell and son, Brian, of Palestine, Tex.

Ensign L. L. Colbert Jr. arrived home Wednesday for a week's leave from the Navy. His ship is in drydock at Boston Harbor.

Answer This Quiz About Weight!

You can decrease some of your measurements by improving your posture. True or false?

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today I want to give you a little questionnaire. Write "true" or "false" by the number of each question and compare your answers with the correct ones which will appear in this column on Saturday of this week.

1. You can decrease some of your measurements by improving your posture.

2. The usual weight and height charts you see tell you accurately what you should weigh at your age.

3. People do not grow any taller after their 21st birthday.

4. Your figure can never be the same after bearing a child.

5. You should pull your shoulders back when standing correctly.

6. You can lose weight by standing up for 20 minutes after each meal.

7. You will lose weight if you eat a light meal at night, the heaviest in the middle of the day.

8. You can usually tell what kind of a figure a girl will have at middle age by looking at her mother.

9. You cannot lose weight because fat runs in your family.

10. Exercise has no influence on weight reduction.

11. You can decrease measurements by exercise alone.

12. The important thing to do is to cut out sugar, potatoes and bread, when reducing.

13. You are overweight because of your glands.

14. You can lose pounds by cutting salt out of your diet.

* * *

Watch for the answers on Saturday.

Mah Jong Player Gets Upset When She's Watched

By EMILY POST

A reader writes me as follows: "I look forward to playing mah jong every week. I do not get a chance to go out very often and would like to continue playing except for this problem: There is always one person who bets and that person is free to stand over your shoulder and watch you play.

"This makes me extremely nervous and I play poorly. I have tried (in a nice way, of course) to tell the person that I cannot play easily with someone looking over my shoulder, but it is always resented. Is it wrong to make such a request?"

Answer: I think you are quite right in asking her please not to look over your shoulder as it makes you very nervous. But if she persists in doing it, and if no one else in the group objects to her doing so, there is nothing you can do except learn to get used to it, or else not play.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Our son's wife died seven months ago. He has two young children. His wife's death was a great shock to him and he has become very nervous.

"His father and I feel that he should start to go out a little, but he thinks it is much too soon and doesn't want to do so—unless you say it is proper. May I hear from you please?"

Answer: I feel your son should endeavor to develop some outside interests. If he continues too long a solitary life, results may be serious.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if it is ever proper for a woman to wear a ring over her glove? I saw a very well-dressed woman the other evening who wore her ring over her glove and I wondered whether this was in good taste?"

Answer: It was in very worst possible taste!

Even when you're traveling to the tropics, don't leave a sweater out of your suitcase. And drape a light coat over your arm. Both will come in handy.

MSU Social Events Rival Studies

By BARBARA JOHNSON

EAST LANSING — Students at MSU have been concentrating on studying this past week since final exams are not too far away. However, many events have distracted the minds of bookworms momentarily.

* * *

Last week 23 coed living units were serenaded by Mortar Board and Tower Guard members in honor of the seniors. The singers carried lighted lanterns which were very effective and seemed to add warmth to the singing.

The annual yearbook of MSU, The Wolverine, is being distributed in the Union. On the first day of distribution approximately 2,300 books were purchased.

Highlighting social events have been term parties held by sororities and fraternities. Decorations at all of the parties were reported to be original and very impressive. Some of the themes were South Sea Islands, Hernando's Hideaway, and Diamond Shadows.

* * *

Pontiac junior Jim Panks of Sherbourne road was photographed in the State News this week garbed in Bermuda shorts. The picture preceded an article on the pros and cons of Bermuda shorts for men and women.

Varying opinions were expressed by students. Jerry Hughes of Bloomfield Hills feels that they are the most comfortable and functional apparel available.

KATHRYN A. KRAMP

To be graduated Sunday from Michigan State University is Kathryn A. Kramp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Kramp of Auburn road. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, educational honorary fraternity, and Delta Delta Delta sorority. She will receive her degree from the College of Science and Arts.

However, some students were quite emphatic in stating that the shorts are "ridiculous." But, despite slighting remarks, it is certain that Bermudas are here to stay!

* * *

On Tuesday night seniors were attired in their caps and gowns for the annual "Senior Swingout." The marching band led the class officers in a procession to various buildings where they picked up more seniors.

The destination was Fairchild Theater where a program was held. Commencement exercises will be held on Sunday.

* * *

Preparations are being made for the Water Carnival to be held this weekend on the Red Cedar River. The theme of the show this year is "Media Mania" and each of the floats will illustrate the name of a radio or television show. Thirty-four floats will be entered in this, the largest Water Carnival in MSU history.

* * *

It is obviously quite a struggle to keep up on assignments and still attend all of the social activities offered on campus, but collegians seem to be bearing up very well under the strain.

Seniors Entertained by Dolores Lutzkiw

Dolores Lutzkiw of Willard street entertained at a come-as-you are breakfast Monday morning for several members of the senior class at Pontiac High School.

Guests were Glena Piatt, Joanna Sherman, Beverly Tatu, Jeanne May, Barbara Kenny, Pat Donelson, Marsha Stapp, Chris Selden, Nancy Armstrong, Virginia Sherman, Alice Brandenburg, Carey Charles, Carol Donaldson, Barbara Calhoun and Judy Learned

Others were Madeline VanMatre, Jackie Dubay, Sadia Tuttle, Fran Glisky and Jeannette Cockle.

THE POWERHOUSE

By JIMMY POWERS

DAVIES WENT ALL THE WAY UP

Jack Fried, in "Veteran Boxer," tells one of the greatest inspirational stories in the history of the sport. He relates the career of famous flyweight Willie Davies.

At 16, Willie went into the Pennsylvania coal mines to work alongside his father, a 12 hour day at 30 cents a hour.

He became a headline boxer and, ten years later, with his meritorious boxing career behind him, his own family to support, and no skill of any kind to help him provide for them, Willie started all over again.

He went back to school in the ninth grade the same day his six-year-old son, Willie Jr. registered for the first grade.

Willie, who boxed Midget Wolgast, Frankie Genaria, Corporal Izzy Schwartz and others in his career of 287 fights (he lost 24), finished with a Master's Degree. Today Willie Davies is teaching in the Pittsburgh public school system.

★ ★ ★

"This soul-storring story will never make a Hollywood B picture," adds Fried, "merely because it is true-to-life. I am thinking of Willie Davies, well educated, respected, living with his family in a cultural atmosphere, and I think of Willie's start as a grimy kid, poor as a church mouse, in the bottom of a mine pit."

AIR CONDITIONING AIDS DIXIE ALLEYS

Poor Al Simmons' life ended all too quickly. Last time I met Al he was in the Hialeah pressbox.

He gave me a good one-liner: "Nobody but a ballplayer knows how long a baseball season is."

★ ★ ★

Air conditioning has turned bowling alleys into gold mines, especially in the Deep South.

I was hoping Walter Hagen would let his hair down and tell all in his memoirs. Book turned out to be routine stuff, no credit to a rainbow-splashed gent who lived high, wide and handsomely.

There is a silly controversy over the source of his dust jacket line, "I never wanted to be a millionaire—I just wanted to live like one."

To my mind the Haig's best quote was framed and hung over his bed in the Detroit Athletic Club . . . "You're here only a short time . . . Don't hurry . . . Don't forget to smell the flowers."

SWIMMER DIES — John Glover, 23-year-old swimmer at Dartmouth, collapsed and died after a few laps yesterday in Yale's practice pool where he was practicing for the forthcoming Olympic trials.

Bosox Rally to Snap Tiger Streak, 5-4

BOSTON (AP) — Can the Detroit Tigers pick up the pieces or was their seven game winning streak just a flash in the pan?

These were the questions today and on the answers rest the Tigers' future in the 1956 American League pennant chase.

The winning streak snapped suddenly yesterday when the Tigers blew a 5-4 decision to the Boston Red Sox.

A diagnosis shows that the things that had been going so right for the Detroit team through its winning streak went wrong.

The Tigers had gone six games without an error. Yesterday they made three.

* * *

Detroit pitchers had gone the distance in five of the seven victories. In the two games when relief was needed it was promptly and effectively provided. Yesterday Paul Foytack ran out of steam suddenly in the 8th inning, was left in long enough to issue three walks and a wild pitch that put the Tigers three runs behind.

The Tigers had been hitting for distance and with men aboard. Yesterday they got 10 hits, twice as many as the Red Sox, but all were singles.

Coming up today was the finale of the three game set in Boston with Frank Lary due to oppose Frank Sullivan. Lary has sparkled like a world-beater in taming the New York Yankees three straight times this season but so far he's only 1-5 against the rest of the league.

After Boston comes a pair of night games and a Sunday contest in Washington followed by two more night games and a day game in Baltimore. Then the Tigers go home to face the Red Sox in three starting the night of June 15.

* * *

All this was yesterday. If the Tigers can snap back in a hurry there is still plenty of time. During the winning streak they made that electric brain that picked them to win the pennant look might good.

* * *

In yesterday's game the Red Sox scored first, pushing across two runs on an error by Ray Boone, a double by Ted Lepcio and a two run single by Sammy White in the second. Earl Torgeson singled home one Detroit run in the third and Bob Kennedy drove in the equalizer in the 6th.

* * *

Boston wrapped it up in the 8th although the Tigers tried hard to pull it out of the hat in the 9th. With one out Wayne Belardi, up as a pinch hitter, drew a walk. Charlie Maxwell drilled a pinch hit single. Harvey Kuenn singled home one run and knocked out Tom Brewer. Ike Delock came on to strike out Torgeson. He got two strikes on Al Kaline before Kaline banged his 3rd hit off the wall in left field for another run. But Bill Tuttle tapped in front of the plate and White nailed him at first, ending the game.

Detroit Signs College Hurler

TCU's McDaniel Gets Minor Contract; Ford Pitcher Signed, Too

DETROIT (INS)—Detroit Tigers today announced the signing of a 3rd member of the Texas Christian University team which won the Southwest Conference title this spring.

Pitcher Bob McDaniel, who won eight and lost only one at T. C. U. has been signed to a minor league contract by scouts Jess Lamdrum and Schoolboy Rowe.

McDaniel, a 22-year-old right-hander from Fort Worth, won a total of 21 games over a four-year span at T. C. U.

In addition, the Tigers also signed a Detroiter from Henry Ford Community College. He is Vince Cummings, a right-hander with an outstanding record at Henry Ford community.

Cummings, a 6-foot-one inch, 165-pounder, fanned 19 batters to give his school the junior college conference title in 1956.

New Dartmouth Captain

HANOVER, N.H. (AP)—Doug Brew of Ithata, N.Y., today was named Dartmouth's track captain for 1957 while college officials approved his entry in the NCAA championships at Berkeley, Calif., June 14-16. Brew, a junior geology major, is a half miler.

Price Dominates Speedway Races

Dick rice won four events, including the feature, to dominate Wednesday's old model stock car races at the Pontiac Speedway as the M59 oval opened its 1956 night racing season.

Price captured the 25-lap feature race, with Dale Priest and Bob Gatton taking 2nd and 3rd respectively. Price also won the dash, pursuit and 4th heat in addition to posting the top qualifying time.

Rusty Kelley won the 12-lap, semi-final, with Bill brown finishing 2nd and Jack Harvey 3rd. Other heat winners were Don Dunlow, Priest and Harvey.

4-Point Advantage

Mary Lena Faulk Leads

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — Pace-setting Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., served notice today she's playing some of her finest golf and intends to win the $12,000 (Triangle) Round Robin Tournament.

* * *

Miss Faulk carried a 4-point advantage into today's second round of the 90-hole tourney being played over the 6,065-yard, par 71 Cavalier Yacht and Country Club course.

Miss Faulk's chipping and putting are the strongest part of her game. She was hitting the ball "better than normally" yesterday and matched par for a pace-setting score of plus 20. Four points behind was 21-year-old Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif., who carved a two-under-par 69 that tied the competitive women's record for the course, set by Miss Faulk during the 1950 Southern Women's Amateur. Miss Wright had a plus 16.

* * *

Close at Miss Wright's heels were Marlene Bauer Hagge of Sarasota, Fla., with 2 plus 15 and Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis., with a plus 14. The rest of the field lagged considerably with Beverly Hanson of Fargo, N.D., and Marilyn Smith of Wichita, Kan., tied for fifth, each with a plus 3.

Louise Suggs, the defending champion from Sea Island, Ga., was seventh with a plus 2.

Miss Wright picked up $150 for her record-tying performance. She collected $100 for shooting the lowest medal round and $50 for putting her tee shot on the 148-yard eighth hole closer to the pin (4 feet, 9 inches) than any other player.

* * *

Betty Jameson, Patty Berg and Bonnie Randolph were all even in the "plus and minus" derby. Everyone else was in the red, including Alice Bauer with minus 4, Betty Hicks minus 6, Betty Dodd minus 10, Betsy Rawls and Gloria Armstrong minus 16 and Betty Bush minus 21.

WEDNESDAY'S HOME RUNS

Snider, Dodgers; Aaron, Braves; Castleman, Giants; Lopata, Phillies; Robinson, Bell, Redlegs; Long, Thomas, Clemente, Pirates; Berra, Skowron, Yankees; Rivera, White Sox; Herzog, Paula, Senators.

2 Run Shutout Marks Church Loop Action

Galloway Lake Methodists handed Central Christians a whitewashing, last night in the Church Softball League, 2-0. Jerry Byerly gave up only two hits for his shutout victory.

One other of the 4-game opening card, at GMC Athletic Field, was close. Liberty Baptists defeated Marimont Baptists 7-5, but the First Baptist win over Oakland UP (8-2) and the swamping handed First Presbyterians by Five Points (16-3) were runaways. Liberty, Marimont game went an extra inning after being tied at 5 runs.

Ed Foust, Gene Fiest hit homers in the Presbyterian victory, Foust with two.

Great Things Seen for Morrall

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Coach Frankie Albert of the San Francisco 49ers says he's counting on great things from Earl Morrall, Michigan State's All-America quarterback—but not during the coming season.

"Some linemen can move in the first year, but learning the signal system and pass patterns takes time—unless Morrall is a superman," said Albert, who played quarterback himself for Stanford and later the 49ers.

He returned yesterday from East Lansing, Mich., where he signed the field general of last season's Rose Bowl champion Spartan football team.

Morrall was the 49ers No. 1 draft choice.

* * *

"All our eggs are in (Y. A.) Tittle's basket for 1956," Albert continued. "But our plan is not to over-play him. During pre-season games.

Morrall has two strikes on him because he's one of our four top draft choices who have to play in the Chicago All-Star game. So he'll miss a lot of valuable early practice. But I plan to bring him here a week early and work with him."

"He's got poise and throws the long ball," Albert added, "but you never know until they get under fire just how they'll go. I hope to work Morrall in a lot of exhibitions and I can tell better then if he's got it."

Albert said coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns told him Morrall could step into a defense back position in his first year as a pro.

"But I don't want Morrall getting a shoulder cracked up playing defense," Albert added. "I've got bigger plans for him."

EML Repeaters

Maples Retain Golf Title

For the 3rd year in a row, Coach Joe Borovick's capable Birmingham High School links squad has taken the Eastern Michigan League golf title.

Playing over the tough Port Huron Country Club's course at Port Huron yesterday, the Maples compiled a 317 four-man team total to capture the loop tourney championship.

A surprise for Borovick and the squad was the fine medalist round of 73, fired by Maples' sophomore Pete Green.

Mt. Clemens placed 2nd with 334, Port Huron 3rd with 359 and Ferndale last with 388. However, Dales' No. 1 player, Jack Aldred, was runner-up to Green, with 74.

Another nice surprise for the Maples was the play of junior Jon Overgard, filling Captain Tim Baldwin's spot while the Maple ace was at home taking senior exams. Jon fired a 45-32—87, not his best card, but still a big help.

Cards for other Birmingham players: Green 36-37 — 73; Bob Emde 43-39—82 and Mike Conroy, 38-37—75, total 317.

Birmingham also won the league's dual meet title this year and was unbeaten in EML action.

For 1957 Maples will lose Baldwin and Emde, both seniors.

Junior Pilots Meet June 12

The final meeting of Junior baseball managers will be held Tuesday, June 12, in the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's office on the ground floor of City Hall.

Managers of Midget and Class F team will meet at 7 p.m. Class E and D pilots are scheduled to convene at 8 o'clock. All managers who wish to enter teams in the Parks and Recreation Department's Junior baseball leagues are urged to attend this meeting.

Teams classifications are as follows:

Midgets—12 years of age and under; Class F—14 years of age and under; Class E—16 years of age and under; Class D—18 years of age and under.

Managers are requested to use the entrance off the City Hall parking lot.

EVERYBODY EATS — Frank Koenen of Sherman Oaks, Calif., started the Bimini Tuna Tournament off with this 565-pound catch.

TKO in 10th Wins for Boyd

Bids for Middleweight Shot After Defeating Milo Savage

BY CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Gangly Bobby Boyd of Chicago has made a strong pitch for a chance at Sugar Ray Robinson's middleweight crown—but he is finding the line forms on the right.

* * *

Boyd, 22, won his ninth straight victory last night before a national television audience and a somewhat baffled ringside turnout of 2,091 at Chicago Stadium.

He scored a 10th-round TKO over 30-year-old Milo Savage, a trial horse who was the last fighter to defeat Boyd. That was on April 18, 1955.

* * *

But revenge lacked some of the sting. The squatty Savage, of Salt Lake City, was wrestled out of the ring and fell in a heap on the arena floor in the fourth round.

* * *

By the eighth, Jr. seemed to be favoring his left leg. In the ninth he slipped once and then folded again for what passed as an official knockdown. In the 10th and final round, Boyd landed a sharp right to the head and Savage buckled to the canvas.

Hockey Coach Has First Losing Season; Is Fired

CLEVELAND (AP)—After his first losing season in 13 years, Fred (Bun) Cook has been fired as coach of the Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League.

The club asked for his resignation six weeks ago, the 52-year-old Cook told the Cleveland Plain Dealer in a telephone conversation yesterday from his home in Kingston, Ont.

* * *

"I suppose you have to expect such things," he said. "I guess I'm like an elderly salesman, and they decided it was time to make a change."

General Manager Jim Hendy en route home from Montreal after the annual draft meeting was unavailable for comment. No successor to Cook has been announced.

* * *

In his 13 years as coach, the Barons won seven league championships and five Calder Cups. They won 488, tied 83, and lost 276 games, exclusive of playoffs.

Last season the Barons won 26, tied 7 and lost 31; finishing fourth. In the playoffs they beat Pittsburgh in three overtime games, but lost four straight in the finals to Providence.

The Barons were under new ownership, with more than 100 stockholders. They acquired young talent, looking to a possible entry into the National League.

The decision to release Cook apparently was made at an executive meeting shortly after the close of the season.

Cook took his dismissal philosophically and said he wasn't angry with anyone on the club.

Montreal 3 Games Up

MONTREAL (INS) — Montreal moved three full games out in front of the International League today thanks to a 10-to-2 win over Richmond as second-place Rochester was idled last night because of rain.

BAREFOOT RUNNERS—Opposing runners of the Wilson and Whittier shuttle relay teams reach the finish line, one in socks and the other barefooted in the Junior Olympics held yesterday at Wisner stadium. The Wilson team made up of Martin, Henry, Kellar and Allison (on left) won the race. The Whittier team, with McDaniel (right) running last leg, was runner-up but was disqualified for getting out of lane.

New York Giant third baseman Henry Thompson suffered a severe concussion last night when struck on the head by a pitched ball thrown by Tom Poholsky of the Cardinals.

* * *

Two dates were revised on the Detroit Tiger schedule according to the American League. The day game schedule for June 22 with Baltimore at Briggs Stadium will be a night game, and on June 24th the Orioles will play a doubleheader in Detroit.

* * *

Jockey Jimmy King was suspended at Hazel Park for three days because he made what the track stewards claimed was a "frivilous" charge of foul in Tuesday's 5th race.

John Glover, 23 year-old Dartmouth College swimmer, who was considered a possible Olypic candidate collapsed after taking several laps in the Yale practice pool yesterday. He was taken to the hospital but pronounced dead upon arrival from what was believed to be a heart attack.

* * *

Alan Luce, MSU cather from Farwell Mich., is captain-elect of the Spartans' 1957 baseball team.

* * *

A breakfast cereal company has started another gimick involving Major League baseball. The company will add a $100 into a pot for every homer hit by either Mickey Mantle, Willie Mays, Ted Kluszewski and Al Kaline and at the end of the season a drawing of mailed in cards will be made to determine the winners.

Rod Treais, Pontiac High basketball and track star, may be heading for college at Michigan Normal in Ypsilanti.

Pontiac Golfers Play in State's Publinx Tourney

By H. GUY MOATS

Pontiac public fee golfers will be represented by at least four top players in the Michigan public links championship, starting Friday. This much was certain today, according to the publinx association's tournament director, Don Nelson.

"I'm certain that Pontiac will have at least four players in the 72-hole event," Nelson reported this morning. "Because we are accepting post entries, there may be some additional entries from Oakland County."

Play will begin at 8 a.m. Friday over the testing Rolling Green Country Club, at Saginaw. Course was said to be in excellent condition.

"With preliminary entries coming in pretty good, we expect around 150 or more entries when play gets under way," Nelson stated.

Defending champion Jim Seltzer of Flint will again be in the field. Seltzer is Flint Northern's golf coach. He is rated a good chance to repeat. He won the title last year at Fenton's Shore Acres.

Trophy will go to the championship team. More than $1,000 worth of merchandise will be distributed to winners.

Pontiac's entries up to this morning include Roy Icebert, one of the area's leading amateur shotmakers among public fee course players. Iceberg is the present head of the Michigan Publinx Golf Association, which is conducting the tournament.

Other Pontiac players are Charley Barker, Ed Wasik and Mike Andonian. Andonian, former collegian golfer, city tourney veteran, has been assisting John Maturo at PHS with the Chiefs golf squad. Barker, Wasik and Iceberg are also veterans of area links competition.

The Saginaw tourney will go 18 holes, medal play. Friday and Saturday, with the final day on Sunday stretching into a marathon 36 hole test.

Fish License Sales Lag in State for '56

LANSING (AP) — Resident fishing license sales are lagging in Michigan this year.

In the first five months of 1956, 278,000 were sold, a seven per cent decline from the corresponding period of 1955. Non-resident licenses sales were down 22 per cent.

The conservation department, in reporting the figures today, attributed the drop to unfavorable spring weather.

Sports Scribe Honored

DETROIT (AP)—James F. Henderson, sports editor of the Muskegon Chronicle, is the winner of the Knights of Columbus award for journalism. It will be presented at the state K. of C. convention opening Friday in Grand Rapids. Henderson was cited for his work in promoting clean sports through his newspaper columns, the K. of C. said.

Long Shot Wins Wolverine Trot

Bonnie Queen Victor in Grand Circuit Test ; M and M on Tonight

DETROIT (INS)—A 62-to-1 shot won part of the victory song trot last night in grand circuit racing at Detroit's Wolverine Raceway.

The second half of the two-dash stake for three-year-olds was taken by Bonnie Queen, a bay filly who paid $127 to win in the first victory of her life.

The initial stanza of the feature race saw Bold Rodney cross the tape three lengths in front. Saboteur, winter book Hambletonian favorite, ran out of the money.

vorite, ran out of the money.

The second oldest trotting race in the country—the $23,800 merchants and manufacturers stake—highlights tonight's card at Wolverine.

The trot, first held in 1889 at Hamtramck, Mich., has attracted 20 entries and will be raced in three or four dashes.

$250,000 Put Up for Buying Baseball Club

Football Organization Is One of Half Dozen Interested

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions professional football club yesterday put up $250,000 to show good faith in a decision to investigate the possible purchase of the Detroit Tigers baseball club.

* * *

The security bond entitles the Lions to look at the Tigers' financial set-up.

More than half a dozen syndicates are expected to post similar amounts in escrow to get in the bidding for the baseball properties.

The Tigers are to be sold in a package that includes Briggs Stadium, the franchise, farm clubs, players and equipment.

* * *

Trustees of the estate of the late Walter O. Briggs have ordered the sale on the grounds the enterprise is not an appropriate trust fund investment.

Other groups reportedly interested in bidding for the Tigers include one headed by Tiger owner Walter O. (Spike) Briggs Jr.; a Chicago Syndicate headed by Bill Veeck, former Cleveland Indians owner, and another organized by George Storer, Detroit radio and television executive.

Bids for the club will be accepted up to July 2. Trustees have until July 30 to examine the bids but explain it is not mandatory that they dispose of the club at that time.

PIGSKIN PITCHER — Harold Dyer of Whittier school was the winner of the Class A football throwing event in the Junior Olympics held yesterday at Wisner stadium. The husky lad threw the football 133 feet, 2 inches to aid the Whittier squad in winning the Junior Olympics with 69½ points. He got 4 points on the toss.

Yogi Berra of the Yankees has hit 20 or more home runs seven straight years.

61-Foot Shot Put Is Nieder's Goal

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Mild-mannered Bill Nieder, the greatest collegiate shot put man in history, intends to consistently break 60-feet with the 16-pound shot by the time the next frost falls.

The 220-pound University of Kansas senior figures that sort of work will earn him a berth on the United States' team in the Olympics at Melbourne next winter.

* * *

Nieder reached 60 feet 3 inches in a Kansas-Oklahoma dual April 14. He's bettered 59 feet in every meet since last winter.

Only the great Parry O'Brien, former University of Southern California ace now competing for the Travis (Calif.) Air Force Base, tops the husky, 22-year-old Lawrence native in exploiting the shot. O'Brien holds the official world record of 60 feet 10 and has an indoor, leather-covered ball shot of 61 feet 5½.

Nieder excelled O'Brien's national collegiate record of 59 feet 2¼ with a toss of 59 feet 9¼ in the Big Seven indoor meet last March. He beat it again in the Texas and Kansas relays.

Nieder got into the shot put business by accident. He just "picked up" the ball one day while a junior at Lawrence High School and "threw the thing" 41 feet. The next spring, 1952, Nieder put the 12-pound ball 60 feet 9⅜ inches for a national high school record.

A knee injury suffered in Kansas' opening football game with Texas Christian in 1953 ended a promising grid career for Nieder. An operation of the torn knee ligaments cost him most of his 1954 track activity.

Heavy Hitting in Softball League

Heavy hitting abounded as Walled Lake Market, North Side Merchants, Pulver Tire and North Side Auto Parts chalked up wins in Wednesday's City Softball League action at Beaudette and North Side parks.

Max Burt clouted two home runs and Harry Blake slammed another round-tripper to spark Walled Lake to an 8-2 verdict over Franklin Products and the North Side Merchants picked up 10 hits while trimming Pontiac Select a Drink, 10-6, in men's National division games at Beaudette.

* * *

In girls' league contests at North Side, Pulver Tire utilized six hits and 10 enemy errors to wallop Gingellville, 20-0, and North Side Auto Parts collected 15 hits during its 16-2 rout of GMC.

Left-Handed at Nine Is Now Right-Handed

COLD SPRING HARBOR, N. Y. (AP) — Pete Burke is really living these days. He can play golf whenever he feels like it. And with his own right-handed clubs.

* * *

Burke, who won the PGA National Seniors golf championship in January the first time he played in the Dunedin, Fla., event, has been playing the game since he was nine. He's now 50.

* * *

Burke came from the Naugatuck, Conn., caddie ranks. In 1915 he got 15 cents for toting a golf bag nine holes.

* * *

"Caddies couldn't play in those days. We played only when it rained. When the greenskeeper caught us he used to take our club and break it.

* * *

"I had more left-handed clubs broken You see I caddied for a left-handed golfer and I used his clubs."

* * *

Pete had always lived in the shadow of his brother Billy who won the 1931 U. S. Open after a double playoff against George Von Elm of Inverness, Toledo. Billy, now 53, is pro at The Country Club in Cleveland. Then there is Eddie, 48. Pete also played second fiddle to him for Eddie once beat Sam Snead in the PGA tourney and twice won the Connecticut Open. Eddie is pro at Woodbridge, New Haven, Conn. Another brother, Joe, 35, is a clock firm's assistant paymaster in New Haven, Conn.

* * *

For Pete Burke, the PGA Seniors win with rounds of 70-70-75 for a 215 was his biggest golfing victory. It had to be. It was the only tourney he ever won.

* * *

Burke's PGA Senior win, coming against 200 other veterans in a record field that included Gene Sarazen, Denny Shute, Tony Manero, the Dutra Brothers, Olin and Mortie, and brother Billie Burke—means more in prestige than in monetary terms.

Whittier, Willis Tops in Junior Olympics

A total of 554 boys representing 18 Pontiac elementary schools participated in the city's annual Junior Olympics yesterday at Wisner Field.

No records were broken as winners were determined in five events—the 50-yard dash, broad jump, high jump, football throw and the 200-yard shuttle relay. Based on age, height and weight, all youngsters competed in two groups in classes A, B and C.

Whittier School was the Group 1 champion with a total of 69½ points, followed by Bagley with 48, by Willis with 55½ points while McCarroll was runner - up with 32 1-3.

Harold Dyer, a husky youth from Whittier, heaved the football 133 feet 2 inches for one of the day's top individual efforts. McDaniel of Whittier clocked 6.7 seconds in the 50-yard dash to turn in the best time in that event.

Knox of Bagley leaped 13 feet 2 inches for the No. 1 broad jump effort and Williams of Whittier led all high jumpers by clearing 4 feet 4 inches. Wilson and Willis schools won the shuttle relay in their respective groups.

The Junior Olympics are sponsored by the Board of Education in conjunction with the Kiwanis Club. Junior high schools did not take part in the Olympics this year for the 1st time in the history of the event.

GROUP 1

Class A

50-yard dash—Shaw, Wilson, 7.0; broad jump—Knox, Bagley, 13'2; high jump—Brown and Douglas, Whittier, 4-2 (tie); football throw—Dyer, Whittier, 133-2.

50-yard dash—McDaniel, Whittier, 6.7; broad jump—Williams, Whittier, 13-1¾; high jump—Williams, Whittier, 4-4; football throw—Gracey, Whittier, 91-8.

Class C

50-yard dash—Williams, Bagley, 6.9; broad jump—Williams, Bagley, 12-9; high jump—Coleman, Whittier, 4-2; football throw—Tinkis, Baldwin, 70-9.

GROUP 2

Class A

50-yard dash—Shields, LeBaron, 7.1; broad jump—Shields, LeBaron, 13 feet; high jump—Snead, McCarroll, 3-10; football throw—Mirovsky, Malkim, 89-10.

Class B

broad jump—Anderson, McCarroll, broad jump—Anderson, McCarroll, 13-1¾; high jump—Maynard, Hawthorne, 3-11; football throw—Anderson, Central, 84-9.

Class C

50-yard dash—Procter, Willis, 7.2; broad jump—Procter, Willis, 12.3; high jump—Davis, Wever 3-10; football throw—Weyer, Owen, 76-10.

Group 1 200-yard shuttle relay—won by Wilson School (Martin, Henry, Kellar and Allison), 27.3.

Group 2 200-yard shuttle relay—won by Willis School (Dosh, Hillock, Sadler and Bentler).

School team scores:

Group 1—Whittier 69½, Bagley 48, Wilson 27½, Wisner 15½, Baldwin 10, Crofoot 8½, Longfellow and Whitfield 5, McConnell 3½, and Webster 2½.

Group 2—Willis 55½, McCarroll 32½, Central 25½; LeBaron 22½; Hawthorne 20, Wever 18, Owen 15, and Malkim 6.

Pulling All Stoppers

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Bobby Bragan, pulling out all the stops to give his league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates more power, yesterday put slugging outfielder Frank Thomas on third base. It worked wonders as Thomas had 3-for-3, including a home run. Thomas last started a game at the hot corner in 1949 when he played for Davenport, Iowa, of the three-I league.

Giants Aren't Owls

Connelly Denies Fix Actions in Tax Case

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Matthew J. Connelly, White House appointments secretary under former President Truman, testified at his tax-fixing trial that he "never discussed the Sachs (tax evasion) case with T. Lamar Caudle or anyone else at any time."

Connelly also said Harry I. Schwimmer, attorney for Sachs, "never asked me to do anything improper."

Connelly and Caudle, former head of the Justice Department's Tax Division, are charged with conspiring to defraud the government by fixing the tax evasion case of Irving Sachs, St. Louis shoe manufacturer.

If convicted, they face a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Oldest MSU Graduate to Preside at Festivity

EAST LANSING (AP)—Elwyn T. Gardner, 96, of Calhan, Colo., will be a special guest of honor at Michigan State University this weekend.

Gardner, who received his B.S. degree in 1885, is the oldest living graduate of Michigan State. He will preside at a Patriarch's Club dinner Friday for alumni of more than 50 years standing and honoring the golden anniversary class of 1906.

Campus tours, the annual student water carnival opening tonight and the 98th annual commencement exercises Sunday are other major events of the MSU weekend.

Only Shag Crawford, imported from the American Assn. circuit, is new this year among the 16 umpires who offiicate in the National League games.

Redleg Hal Jeffcoat broke into the majors as an outfielder with the Cubs in 1948 after he had starred for the Nashville, Tenn., club.

Race Gets Cozy in National League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

So the Pittsburghs win five of seven and the Cincys win five of six and St. Louis takes four of five. But how about those Brooklyns? They win four straight the hard way—with Roy Campanella in a slump.

* * *

Campy, three times the National League's Most Valuable Player, is hitting .230, without a home run since May 3, no extra base hit since May 15 and no run batted in since May 22. This can't be what the world champions had in mind when they made him the highest paid Dodger yet with a $42,500 contract.

What's more, the big catcher isn't alone. Duke Snider, at .305, and Randy Jackson, at .351, are the only Brook regulars hitting over .300. And Jackson just made the first string six days ago, taking over third base from Jackie Robinson (.228).

What's the answer? Pitching.

The Dodgers made a sweep of a three-game set at Milwaukee last night with Don Newcombe's five-hitter beating the Braves 5-2. Milwaukee, losing six of seven, had only 10 hits in the series as the Dodgers got three complete games from their pitching staff.

Sal Maglie three-hit the Braves Monday 3-0. Roger Craig two-hit 'em Tuesday 6-1. Then came Newk winning his eighth. The three righthanders gave up just one walk apiece, and struck out 14.

Brooklyn now is but 8 percentage points shy of the fourth-place Braves. Both are two games behind first-place Pittsburgh, which walloped the Chicago Cubs 8-2. Cincinnati, 4 points back, smacked Philadelphia 7-3. And St. Louis, 4 points farther back, cracked New York 3-2 in 11 innings.

* * *

The American league got back to normal. Boston ended Detroit's winning streak at seven games 5-4 and the New York Yankees kept their 3½ game lead by breaking their four-game losing string 10-5 against Kansas City. Cleveland remained in second, beating Baltimore 5-1. Chicago's White Sox lost at Washington 12-7.

* * *

Both Milwaukee runs were unearned, coming on Hank Aaron's seventh homer after a two-out error in the first. Snider hit his 10th homer in the top of the first, then the Dodgers added one in the third and scored the clincher in the fifth when Jackson walked with the bases loaded. Newk fanned six. Campy was 0-for-3. Gene Conley (1-2) was the loser.

Dale Long, Frank Thomas and Roberto Clemente homered for the Bucs as Ron Kline won his fifth and Paul Minner lost his fifth. Long, hitting his 16th homer, retired in the third with a pulled leg muscle, which wasn't considered serious. Clemente had 4-for-4, giving him seven consecutive hits at the moment.

* * *

Yogi Berra's 15th homer and Bill Skowron's second helped the Yanks, who chased Tom Lasorda with an 8-0 edge by the third. Mickey Mantle had a single, but was hitless both times the A's pulled their new shift. Bob Grim won with Tommy Byrne's relief.

Cleveland bunched five of its seven hits in the fourth and fifth off Connie Johnson to score all its runs. Art Houtteman, leaving with a sore shoulder in the sixth, and Ray Narleski blanked the Birds for 8 2-3 innings.

* * *

Washington beat Chicago a second straight time with 15 hits, including third-inning homers by Whitey Herzog and Carlos Paula. Six runs in the sixth did it. Connie Grob won it, Millard Howell lost it, both in relief. Minnie Minoso was hit on the arm by Washington starter Bob Wiesler and left the game for X-rays.

Midget League Tilts Wind Up as Shutouts

Two games were played last night in the Federal Savings Baseball League.

Senators foiled Yankees' attempt to go into 1st place by a 5-0 defeat, at the Boys' Club last night.

Doug Gray limited Yankees to one double as he posted his 3rd victory of the season. Larry Threet bagged two doubles to pace the winners.

In another shutout White Sox trimmed Orioles 14-0 as Bob Sutton pitched a one-hitter. John Whiteman paced the White Sox with two doubles and a single.

Right Behind

Pirates Surprising, How About Redlegs?

CINCINNATI (AP) — Everyone keeps talking about the surprising Pittsburgh Pirates, but how about the Cincinnati Redlegs?

They have been buried in the National League's second division for even a longer time than Pittsburgh but a power-laden lineup has boomed them into a virtual tie with the Pirates for the National League lead. They're only 4 percentage points back of the Bucs.

* * *

Cincinnati hasn't finished out of the second division since 1944 while the Pirates managed to get up as high as fourth in 1945 and 1948.

Shell-shocked National League pitchers can attest to the power that is packed in the Redleg lineup.

* * *

Everyone knew there was a lot of potential hitting when the season started but most observers figured it couldn't make up for a shaky pitching staff.

The Reds lost five of their first six games but then the power boys began to find the range, the pitching looked better than anyone expected and that fancy-fielding second base-shortstop combination of Johnny Temple and Roy McMillan started reeling off double plays.

* * *

Brooks Lawrence, picked up in an off-season deal with the St. Louis Cardinals, has won seven straight games, and Johnny Klippstein has turned out to be a consistent winner. Only Joe Nuxhall has failed to carry his share of the load.

* * *

But it's the hitting that is wrecking opposing teams.

Starting with rookie Frank Robinson, who bats second, here has been the home run output of five batters in a row— Robinson 12, Gus Bell 12, Ted Kluszewski 9, Wally Post 13 and Ray Jablonski 11.

Bass Fishing to Start Soon

100,000 Expected to Turn Out for Season Opening June 16th

LANSING (AP) — The last of the major game fish still on the closed list—Bass—will become fair game for anglers June 16.

A large outpouring of fishermen, as many as 100,000 if last year's experience is any criterion, is expected to turn out for the opening.

The Conservation Department reported today that largemouth and small mouth bass are abundant in many Lower Peninsula lakes and that Upper Peninsula lakes have a few large mouths but a fair proportion of smallmouths.

Minimum legal size for both species is 10 inches. Daily creel and possession limit will be five bass in any combination.

The season will continue through Sept. 9 in trout waters and through Dec. 31 in other lakes and streams.

Colt Misses Mark at Belmont Track

NEW YORK (AP)—The turf world was excited today over a 2-year-old colt named Bold Ruler, trained by Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons and ridden by Eddie Arcaro, and the magic touch just could spell another spectacular champion.

Bold Ruler ripped down the straightaway Widener chute yesterday at Belmont Park, scorching the 5 furlongs in 56 seconds flat, only a fifth of a second slower than Jet Master's 55 4-5 track record set in 1951.

The occasion was the 80th running of $33,975 Juvenile Stakes, and none has ever run faster in the famous race for 2-year-olds. Polly's Jet cracked the old Stakes mark a year ago when he toured the course in 56 4-5, giving Arcaro his third juvenile in a row.

Elizabeth Lake Man Gets Biggest 'Gill

A resident of the north shore of Elizabeth Lake for the last three years, Randy Vought, 4299 Lanette, yesterday landed his biggest bluegill a day after netting his 1st trout from the lake.

The 'gill was a 10½ inch, 4-inch wide specimen that would weigh about a pound. A popper bug was the lure. Vought's trout was a nicely-colored 13-inch rainbow, that hit a royal coachman dry fly.

Soccer Feature in Detroit

DETROIT (INS) — The Ukrainians, top favorites to capture Detroit's soccer league championship this year, meet the defending champion Bavarians in the feature of a two-night, twin-bill at McCabe field in Detroit Saturday night.

The Ukes, in their first start last Saturday, were held to a 2-2 tie by their Hamtramck rival White Eagles. The tie, coupled with an earlier victory puts them in second place in the league's first division race.

St. Andrew Scots, defeated in their initial start, will try to snap back in the twilight game starting at 6:30 where they meet the colorful Armenians. The Armenians are one and one so far this season.

Fastest 800 Meter Is Run

Army Trackman Points for Berth on Olympic Team After 1:47.5

COMPTON, Calif. (AP)—Tom Courtney of the 1st Army, pointing for a berth on the U. S. Olympic team, has run the fastest 800 meters in the nation this year.

The former Fordham star won the event in the All-Army track and field championships yesterday in 1:47.5 as the two-day meet ended.

Courtney took over an early lead and beat Gene Maynard, also of the 1st Army, whose time was 1:49.6, and Ernest Castillo, 4th Army, 1:51.9.

The 110-meter high hurdles event was won by Charlie Pratt, 1st Army, who set a meet record of 13.8.

Another meet record was set by Lou Jones, 2nd Army, who holds the world 400-meter record at 45.4. His 46.6 brought him in 12 yards ahead of William Jones, 4th Army and Elwood Robinson, European command. Lou Jones' time lowered the 48.8 meet record of Edward Washington.

Art Dalzell, 5th Army, set still another meet mark in the 1,500-meter run in 3:51.6. The old mark was 3:53.6 by Warren Drutzler, 2nd Army.

County Drivers Seek Victories at Motor City

Mickey Katlin of Brighton will bid for his 3rd hardtop victory of the season tonight at Motor City Speedway, Eight Mile and Schoenherr roads. Stiff competition is expected from Pontiac's Benny Howell and other standout drivers.

Joy Fair of Pontiac, Jack Harvey of Brighton and Detroit's George Cooper shoot for further honors in Saturday's old model races on the Motor City track. Cooper has two victories thus far, Fair and Harvey one each.

A 30-lap feature will climax tonight's 9-event hardtop card while a 25-lap feature tops Saturday's 10-event old model show. Time trials for both programs start at 7 o'clock, with the 1st race at 8:30.

Veteran Game Man to Quit

LANSING (AP)—Joseph H. Stephenson of Mason, assistant chief of the conservation department's game division, plans to retire next month after 40 years state service.

Stephenson, who started work as a game, fish and fire warden five years before the present department was formed, developed and built a dree trap now used throughout the United States and Canadian portions of the world's deer range.

He played a part in the state's early moose investigations made on Isle Royale and in the original release of elk in Pigeon River State Forest.

He has been game division assistant chief since 1934.

Stephenson says he will spend most of his time in retirement hunting and fishing.

Oliver Buick Trims CIO in City League

Oliver Buick cut loose with a 19-hit attack to trounce the CIO 14-3, in a Class A City Baseball League game Wednesday night at Wisner Field.

Jim Long, Ernie Zubalik and Brent Falbo collected three hits apiece and three others each made two as Oliver's batters feasted at the expense of four union hurlers. Only Duane Sheffer failed to hit safely for the Buick club.

August Eichhorn pitched a 5-hitter and struck out seven for the winners.

Pitching Biggest Problem for 1957

With the 1956 prep baseball season wound up, tucked away for the school year, Coach Ed Heikkinen of Pontiac High has been scanning the next season's outlook.

* * *

Chiefs bowed out, on a 3-0 shutout from Bay City, in which the upstaters won the Valley title.

"Way I look at it now," says Heikkinen, "we're going to have a tough time with our pitching. We have to find boys to fill the shoes of Jim Jones and Arnold Larson, both of whom will be lost."

Chiefs also lose Clay Wilhams at 2nd base, Art Poe in right field, Bob Murphy in left field.

Warms Up in Round Robin

Burke Sets Sight on National Open

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP)—The hardest golf tournament to win is your first. Then it's your first major championship. After a golfer gets past those two barriers he can figure on winning consistently.

That's the opinion of Jack Burke, who staged his big breakthrough two months ago in the Masters and now has his eyes on the U.S. Open championship.

* * *

Burke faced 15 other top pros in the first round of the unique Round Robin Tournament today on the hilly, rocky Wykagyl course. Off his Masters victory, he should be listed among the favorites but he's more concerned about how he'll do in the open next week.

* * *

"I've been playing a little too much golf lately and I haven't been putting well," he explained before starting out with former British Open champion Henry Cotton, Tommy Bolt and Bob Rosburg in the first tussle for plus and minus points. "On those short courses we've been playing, you can't do anything unless you're putting."

* * *

Along with Burke, Peter Thomson, two-time British Open champion and winner of the rich Texas International; defender Sam Snead, winner of four out of 14 round robins; long-hitting Mike Souchak and steady - shooting Gene Littler and Ted Kroll were listed among the leading contenders.

* * *

A player is credited with a "plus" point for each stroke by which he outscores a member of his foursome. He loses a "minus" point for each stroke by which he is beaten. Thus it is possible to shoot a 74 and win points or a 69 and lose them. Groupings are changed for each of the five rounds to make it a round robin competition.

* * *

Burke's quartet was scheduled to tee off at 12:30 p.m. (EST) today. Following were 1950 winner Lloyd Mangrum- Billy Maxwell, Fred Haas and Souchak; Kroll, Littler, Snead and Fred Hawkins and Thomson, PGA champions Doug Ford, Dow Finsterwald and Art Wall.

Two 18-hole rounds are scheduled tomorrow and one each Saturday and Sunday.

Krishna Menon Expected to Oppose H-Bomb at U. N.

UNITED NATIONS, New York, (AP) — V. K. Krishna Menon, roving ambassador for Prime Minister Nehru and a member of the Indian Cabinet, is coming here next week to renew his fight on U.S. H-bomb tests in the Pacific.

* * *

Menon has been the most vocal supporter of the Russians in opposing such tests before the U.N. Trusteeship Council, which opens its 18th session here today.

A report on the U.S. administration of its three million square miles of islands and water in the west Pacific—site of atom and hydrogen bomb tests—will reopen the question. The Indian government's stand is that all such tests should be halted, everywhere, including Russia.

TWO ARGUMENTS

"You know how terrible a weapon you've developed, why further tests?" has been Menon's theme on debate here.

* * *

So far as the United States is concerned, he has two subsidiary arguments: One is that such tests should not be conducted over ocean expanses which are international; the other is that the United States commits a special wrong by doing it in an area where it administers a U.N. trusteeship of dependent peoples.

The Council in general has gone along with the U.S. defense that it took administration of the former Japanese mandated territories in the Caroline, Marshall and Mariana islands with the proviso that strategic needs would allow it to make use of the area as it saw fit if it protected the people in it.

ONLY AFTER SAFETY

The Council has urged that the bomb tests be held only after all safety precautions have been taken.

The Indians will have a first-hand report from one of its delegations here on conditions in the islands. The Council sends out visiting missions every year to check up on administration on the spot. This year an Indian member was on the mission that visited the U.S. territories. In Samoa the mission heard a petition from the islanders protesting against reported plans of the British to test an H-bomb at Christmas Island next year.

State Ad Men Meet

DETROIT (AP) — Three hundred representatives from major advertising agencies in the state will attend the annual spring meeting of the Michigan Council of the American Assn. of Advertising Agencies June 12 at the Rackham Memorial Building here.

Approximately 7,000 persons are victims of drowning in the U.S. annually.

Decline Paced by Soybean Oils

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains fell lower on the Board of Trade today, influenced mostly by weakness in soybean oils.

* * *

Wheat at the start was easier on scattered selling by commission houses and local traders. Better harvesting weather in Oklahoma and no moisture in the Southwest overnight also was a factor in the decline.

Profit-taking also appeared in the corn and soybean markets.

* * *

Wheat at the end of the first hour was ¾ to 1⅛ lower, July $2.05; corn unchanged to ⅝ lower, July $1.52¼; oats ⅛ to ⅜ lower, July 64⅝; rye unchanged to 1 lower, July $1.22; soybeans ¼ to 3 lower, July $3.08½, and lard 8 to 30 per 100 pounds lower, July $11.70.

Sue City Doctors in Kidney Case

Charges of Malpractice Levied by Husband of Dead Woman

Circuit Court trial of a suit charging malpractice and assault and battery by two city doctors, moved into its fourth day today.

The suit, filed by the husband of the late Yvonne Pilgrim, 20, of 13 Crawford St., charges Dr. A. J. Zujko and Dr. Wilfred M. Green were negligent in removing Mrs. Pilgrim's only kidney under the impression it was a tumor.

Mrs. Pilgrim died in 1953. Pontiac General Hospital pathologist Dr. John J. Marra is expected to testify today.

Milton Henry, attorney for Harold Pilgrim, contends the doctors were guilty of assault and battery when they allegedly removed a kidney without Mrs. Pilgrim's consent. Testimony has indicated she consented to an "exploratory" operation and removal, if necessary, of a tumor.

Drs. Zujko and Green testified the kidney was not in normal position.

Testimony also has indicated Mrs. Pilgrim apparently was born with only one kidney, instead of the usual two.

Damages totaling $158,210 are asked.

Measles on Decline, Health Report Says

Slight changes were noted in the Oakland County health report for this week prepared by Dr. John D. Monroe, health director.

Book Value of Stocks Continues to Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The book value of stocks in the hands of manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers continued to rise in April and by the end of the month was estimated at $85,700,000,000 the Commerce Department reported today.

Automotive dealers' stocks showed considerably less than the usual seasonal gain because of cutbacks in car output. This accounted for most of the decline in durable goods stocks.

Studebaker-Packard Gets Air Force Job

DETROIT (AP)—The Air Force has awarded Studebaker - Packard Corp. a $1,050,000 contract for the production of aircraft engine parts at its East Grand Boulevard plant in Detroit.

* * *

The contract will finance the installation of tools and machinery.

A company spokesman said the work force may be expanded when production of parts gets under way.

There are 1,529,757 members of Parent Teacher societies in California.

Market Shows Bullish Trend

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced today with the steels, motors, and the oils out in front of the rise.

By far the greatest number of gains were fractional, but there were a few key issues that pushed up around 3 points. Losses were between 1 and 2 points at the most.

* * *

The interest of buyers sharpened as prices rose, and business hit a pace around 1,750,000 shares for the day. That compares with 1,460,000 shares traded in yesterday's lower market. Expansion of trading at higher prices was considered a bullish development.

Steels, motors and oils were out in front of the advance, but they had excellent support from the aircrafts, radio-televisions, utilities, nonferrous metals, chemicals, airlines and the railroads.

* * *

Higher stocks included Baltimore & Ohio, Royal Dutch Petroleum, United Airlines, U. S. Gypsum, American Telephone, Phelps Dodge, DuPont, International Paper, Long Bell Lumber, Alleghany Corp., U. S. Steel, General Motors and Douglas Aircraft.

* * *

At noon the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 90 cents at $179.60.

Enters Guilty Plea in Theft of Battery

One of two men pleaded guilty yesterday to the theft Saturday of a truck battery from a loading dock at the General Motors Truck and Coach plant.

Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum deferred sentencing to June 21 Herbert R. McEachern, 35, of Waterford Township.

An alleged companion in the theft demanded examination on a charge of grand larceny and was remanded to Oakland County Jail under $100 bond.

McCallum scheduled June 14 as the examination date of Jessie Williams, 31, of 579 Montana Ave.

The charges were brought by Lt. Claude J. Rickard of the plant protection department.

'World Business Better Off'

Reciprocal Trade Bars Lowered for 21 Nations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States announced today a long list of reciprocal tariff cuts negotiated with 21 other countries at Geneva and said "free world trade in general will be better off" as a result.

Four months of give-and-take bargaining among the 22 nations lowered tariff barriers on trade items aggregating more than 2½ billion dollars a year among the nations concerned.

The United States gave direct tariff cuts or concessions on foreign imports valued at 677 million dollars in 1954. Other indirect cuts brought this total to 811 million dollars, the State Department said in an announcement on behalf of nine U.S. agencies.

In return, the United States obtained direct duty concessions on American exports valued at 400 million dollars in 1954. Indirect benefits were not estimated.

None of the U.S. tariff reductions apply to imports from Soviet bloc countries, but they do apply to all free world nations whether or not they participated in the Geneva meeting.

There was no estimate of the amount of tariff revenue that would be lost.

The first phase of U.S. reductions are due to go into effect June 30. The U.S.-trade agreements team was authorized to cut tariffs up to 15 per cent of their level on Jan. 1, 1955, with the reductions divided equally over the next three years. Most cuts by other countries are to be made effective all at once.

COVER WIDE RANGE

Concessions obtained by the United States covered a wide range of agricultural and industrial products, ranging from iron and steel products to beer, shrimps and oysters.

Sixteen countries gave concessions on a variety of chemical products including plastic resins, antibiotics, photographic film and synthetic textile fibres. Seven countries including Japan, Britain and Germany dropped duties on U.S. iron and steel products; Canada lowered rates on beer, shrimp and oysters among other items.

Other cuts affect exports of heavy machinery, office equipment, canned fruits and vegetables, airplanes and petroleum products.

Benefits for other U.S. exports, the amount of which cannot now be estimated, will result from partners which apply to all countries, the announcement said. For example Canada gave Cuba a cut on cigar leaf tobacco which will benefit U.S. exports of cigar leaf to Canada.

TO HELP BRITAIN

Among concessions the United States granted other countries was a cut on duties for Scotch whisky, expected to help Britain earn more dollars.

Other U.S. tariff cuts were given on synthetic rubber, vermouth, smoked sardines, fish oils and fish liver oils; woven fabrics of silk; fine linen fabrics; copper, aluminum; carpets, rugs and mats; chemical elements; inedible molasses; silk handkerchiefs.

There were two increases in tariff rates—on liquid sugar from Cuba and the Dominican Republic and on fur-felt hats and hat bodies, mostly from Italy.

Frank Parker Dumps Godfrey

Gotham Paper Reports 'Switch Firing'; Singer Dislikes Policy Change

NEW YORK (INS) — The New York Journal-American said today that Singer Frank Parker "is firing Arthur Godfrey."

* * *

Radio-TV columnist Jack O'Brian said Parker is leaving the Godfrey gang of his own decision, "somewhat unique in the history of departing 'Little Godfreys' through the past few years."

"Brian quoted a CBS source as stating "Frank is too much of a professional to just sit around and wait for anyone to summon him to an occasional job."

"The public for years has heard Arthur Godfrey swearing loyalty to Frank, and Frank assuring Arthur he would never leave his shows, but things simply have changed, but mostly on Godfrey's side.

"Recently Arthur announced he was dropping all contracts with his performers, from his oldest employe, Janette Davis, to his newest. Frank feels it is all right considering show business always is in a state of change, no matter how fervently anyone insists his loyalty will continue in the future.

* * *

"If Godfrey had renewed Frank's contract for radio and TV Frank gladly would have stayed on. But in light of being declared a free agent, with no promise of work for the future, Frank feels he will be better off severing future ties.

"Frank was 53 April 29, you know, and feels he has only a few more years to stash away a little more security for his old age.

"He has been earning between $60,000 and $65,000 a year with Arthur, which has not been much more than minimum scale for all the shows on which Parker appears, and the fact is that Frank has earned just about double that in outside bookings in the last year.

"He was paid $50,000 for four Las Vegas weeks, and gets $1,500 a week when he plays night clubs."

Planners of Area Discuss Off-Street Parking Topic

Planners from six South Oakland County communities gathered in Birmingham last night to discuss off-street parking problems and progress in overcoming them.

* * *

Herman Herzberg of Birmingham told the group the "fallacy" in Birmingham's comprehensive downtown parking program is that merchants are assessed for municipal parking lots and then released from obligation to provide any further off-street parking.

Herzberg said the Birmingham municipal lot now proposed, in the northeast quadrant of the business district, would provide a 1 to 1 ratio between square feet of parking space and square feet of floor space in nearby stores used by the public.

"We knew 1 to 1 just isn't enough," Herzberg said, "but we've reached the limit of our financing."

Joseph McEvoy of Royal Oak said planners there are contemplating closing some business street to autos, making them pedestrian malls.

"We think the plan would encourage retailers in addition to eliminating a serious traffic hazard at some intersections," McEvoy said.

Smith Falconer Jr., of Berkley, said his city has three municipal lots now in operation, but a "mistake" was made in locating them. He said one of the lots is seldom used, and urgent parking needs are cropping up in other parts of the business district.

Roy F. Goodspeed of Ferndale reported a plan to lease parking spaces to individuals for all-day use has been highly successful. He said a parking stall is rented for $7.50 per month and reserved for the renter.

Reports also were heard from Robert Bach, of Ferndale, and James H. Hickey of Southfield Township.

The group's next meeting will be held in September.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals will be received by the City Clerk, City Hall, 35 So. Parke St., Pontiac, Michigan up to 3 o'clock p.m. Eastern Standard Time of June 12, 1956 for the demolition and removal of buildings in the City of Pontiac at the following locations:

1. Dwelling at 129 W. Lawrence St.
2. Dwelling at 131-133 W. Lawrence St.
3. Dwelling at 121-123 W. Lawrence St.
4. Dwelling at 34 Lafayette Street.
5. Dwelling at 30 Lafayette Street.
6. Tabernacle (on Jacokes) 79 Oakland Avenue.

Successful bidder will be required to cut off and plug all sewer connections and arrange with the Public Utility companies to cut off and remove all gas and electrical connections.

Successful bidder must demolish structures, removing all materials and debris from site and shall be entitled to all salvage materials except Structural Steel in Tabernacle at 79 Oakland Avenue shall remain the property of the City. All demolition and removal from site shall be completed not later than July 15, 1956.

Successful bidder shall enter in contract and furnish the City a cash deposit or acceptable Surety Bond in the full amount of bid to guarantee faithful performance.

The City Commission reserves the right to accept any bid, to reject any or all bids, and to waive defects in bids.

PRICES ON WINDSHIELD

YES SIR—Honesty is the Best Policy. Did you ever walk into a Used Car lot and ask the salesman the price of a car and get the run around—Such as—"What'a ya got to trade Mac?" or "We're asking such and such'—"What'll ya pay? Well, this doesn't happen at Oliver Buick. All prices on our jammed-packed lot will be on the windshield in big bold lettering—Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday—So drop in and shop honestly. Pick the car of your choice and get the deal of a lifetime. Open till 9 p.m. 70 cars to choose from . . .

Two Programs Included in Deal

Husband Buys Novel to Dramatize on Video for Rosalind Russell

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Robert Q. Lewis has signed a CBS radio network contract frankly fabulous in these TV-mad days . . . It's a 3-year pact calling for $135,000 net the first nine months, $165,000 for second and third years . . .

* * *

It covers his Saturday show and a new nightly program . . . he'll use the same cast as his TV shows (Ray Block Orchestra, Judy Johnson, Merv Griffin. The new schedule starts right after Labor Day . . .

Best codicil to R.Q.L. is permission to take outside TV guest shots and even a half-hour regular TV show if he gets an offer—and no TV exclusively to CBS . . .

Means he could take the "What's My Line" chair, John Daly permitting, or emcee a quiz or whatever . . .

Frederick ("Pajama Game" producer) Brisson bought the Helen Howe novel "Circle of the Day" as a TV spectacular for his wife, Rosalind Russell.

He did the same before with "Never Wave at a Wac" and cleaned up with the movie after a TV showing . . .

If Roz chooses to do it "alive" it will be on TV before Aug. 15, when she starts rehearsing "Auntie Mame" on Broadway . . . If film, it will be shown on TV in the fall.

HIGH FEE FOR CAROL

The Hal March spectacular, "The Bachelor," due July 15 on CBS, has hired Carol Haney for the feminine lead at her highest TV fee to date . . .

Also signed, at $3,500 for display of her attributes that Sunday evening, is Jayne Mansfield, who might have showed up anyway if assured a photog would be present . . . This is the show with a musical score by Steve Allen . . .

The GOP will slice its convention running time one full day to keep it interesting on TV . . .

Looks as if Ernie Kovacs will win the bidding for singer Richard Hayes' fine services. Richard (Peggy Ann Garner's ex) is fresh out of Army service; fine lad, good singer . . .

Hostess Pat White (of the Jan Murray cast), recently back from a pleasant siege of motherhood, shunts her new offspring into show biz awfully fast: Her new son, Marc, will play Rocky Graziano's daughter in the Rock's film biography.

SHOW TO BE 'LIVE'

The Buddy Hackett fall series, sold via a pilot film, will be "live" . . .

Nielson says hour variety shows keep audiences better entertained than hour dramas . . .

Norman Bel Geddes' grandiose plans for a huge NBC color spectacular have been dropped . . .

ABC radio is moving toward all-music-and-news.

A CBS clerk two weeks ago, Jim Howell caught the brass ring with the role of Capt. Middleton on "Adano" Saturday, then learned it was pure gold when he was signed by a big agency and offered a movie pact . . .

George and Gracie Are Butt of Jokes by Actors

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—George Burns and Gracie Allen were Fall Guy and Fall Gal for the Washington Saint & Sinners—and Irving Fisher again played Harry Truman as he did in "Call Me Madam."

"Oh, I know you, you're President Coolidge," an actor playing Gracie said to "Truman". He corrected her. Gracie said, "O yes, your daughter Margaret married that English group captain. I," Gracie raced on, "am married to Mr. Burns."

"Why, that dirty, double-crossing——!" roared "Truman."

"Georgie's a darling!" insisted Gracie.

"George Burns!" exclaimed Truman. "I thought you were married to Jimmy Byrnes!"

★ ★ ★

There was this Texan (according to Lee Segall of Dallas and NY) who didn't like the way they were washing the top of his Cadillac; so he bought a Jaguar to stand on so he could supervise the job.

Mae West's sorer'n a beri about her muscleman Mickey Hargitay romancing Jayne Mansfield. Hankered for him herself . . . Isn't Rocky Marciano training at Easton, Mass., to fight Floyd Patterson after the latter's ballyhoo build-up? . . . William O'Dwyer, at 63, studies Spanish an hour and a half a day, but his heart is in New York . . .

Bob Ruark got a Rollys-Royce in Madrid, but is dejected 'cause he can't get a Rolls emblem for his chauffeur's cap. "You see," was the snooty word from London, "you have to be a Rolls-Royce owner for three years, and the chauffeur must graduate from our training course." Drat!

★ ★ ★

William Gargan, one of TV's first big stars goes to London for 18 months to make a new Martin Kane TV film series. He was hesitant about moving to England until he met Ronald Howard, son of the late Leslie Howard, in Hollywood. 'Twas Leslie Howard's movie, "Animal Kingdom," in which he played a Brooklyn-born butler, that started Gargan. Young Howard will help Gargan get settled in London. "Young" Howard is now 36.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Portland Allen's off to Europe with her sister, Mrs. Arthur Hershkowitz . . . The government is pumping TV big shots furiously about network monopoly—and is snickering at how the networks now suddenly fire their own shows to hire outside packages after so long doing it the other way . . . Collie Small, the author and onetime boulevardier, back after a year in London, got lost on 5th Av. "All the landmarks seem to have been torn down for new buildings," he says.

Frank Sinatra got lonesome in Spain, so Jimmy Van Heusen, flies to keep him company . . . James Conkling resigned as president of Columbia Records; Goddard Lieberson may succeed him . . . Victor Borge's fee for his TV one-man show June 14 will be 175G's . . . Churchill will buy a home on the French Riviera . . . Penny Duncan, a former Mrs. America, is Saga Magazine Girl of the Month.

PENNY DUNCAN

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

Hoot Thompson offers this homely philosophy: "We hear that many a man adjudged happy is nothing else but proud of his teeth."

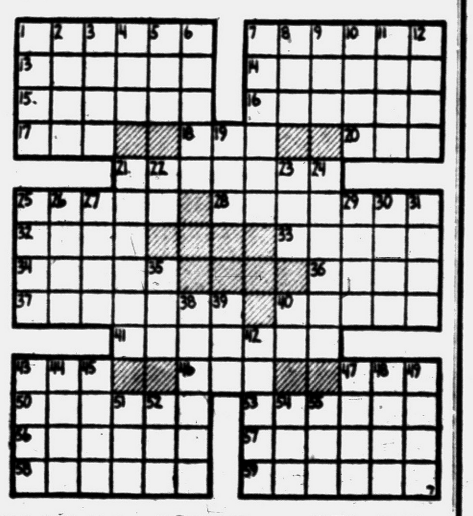

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "When a man has torn socks and buttons missing from his jacket he should do one of two things—either get married or divorced." —Harry Douglass.

Sidney Allen fears a pal of his is gonna be henpecked. At his wedding when he was supposed to say "I do," he asked his bride, "Do I, dear?" That's earl, brother.

No Evils Seen in FHA Work

Housing Chief Contends Irregularities, Frauds of '54 Conquered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole says he sees "no substantial danger" of a repetition of the kind of housing irregularities aired in 1954.

A "full check" of current operations of the Federal Housing Authority, Cole said in a statement, "discloses no evidence of windfalls, fraud or corruption."

* * *

Cole reported on his survey three weeks after Sen. Byrd (D-Va) wrote President Eisenhower that "the elements which breed housing scandals still persist."

Byrd based his statement on checks by the General Accounting Office which he said showed "irregularities and inefficiencies" in FHA offices in New York City, Kansas City and Cleveland, and in 22 slum clearance projects in 15 cities.

Cole said the GAO recommendations concerning the three FHA offices dealt largely with need for increased supervision, and added FHA is seeking "to bring about necessary improvements" of the kind suggested.

The slum clearance projects are the direct responsibility of local housing authorities, and Cole said the problem there involves "some fairly basic questions of federal-local relationships." Cole said the GAO suggested more supervisory and advisory services to the local groups.

* * *

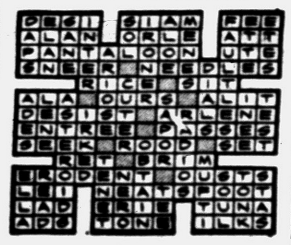

The 1954 housing investigation developed evidence of cases in which some building promoters obtained FHA loan commitments larger than the actual cost of their projects, and pocketed the difference.

Gov. Leader Arrives in Israel for Week Visit

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania arrived at Lydda Airport today for one-week's stay in Israel during which he will be received by President Izhak Ben-zvi and Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett.

Leader will take part in the dedication of a forest for which funds were donated by the Pennsylvanian Friends of Israel.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Tell It to the Marines

Push for Single Uniform

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash) claims it is "imperative" that the three military sedvices be merged into a single unit as soon as possible.

* * *

Jackson, a member of the Armed Services Committee, said the Army, Navy and Air Force "certainly" will be wearing the same uniform eventually.

He told a newsman that unless this is done, "you end up with roles and missions based on scientific development only in one department."

Jackson added: "Scientific accomplishments in a given service could change the roles and missions of that service.

* * *

"The one-uniform concept should be the continuing objective of the defense department."

ONE UNIFORM

The one-uniform proposal was advanced recently by former Air Secretary Thomas K. Finletter, who said the current inter-service argument over weapons and missions "symbolizes the waste" of taxpayers' money.

He called for a consolidation of the Armed Forces, with one uniform for all personnel.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La) is backing Fineletter's plan, said it would save money by preventing duplication, particularly in military research.

* * *

During a hearing of the Senate Military Appropriations subcommittee Tuesday, Ellender told Defense Department witnesses: "I am very hopeful we can have unification of the Armed Forces and some day you will all wear the same uniform. I feel a lot of money is wasted by the separation."

Coast Merchant Ends Third Solo Atlantic Flight

PRESTWICK, Scotland (AP) — Peter Gluckmann, 30-year-old San Francisco watchmaker, flew in here today in his single-engine plane after a two-stop solo flight from New York.

* * *

It is Gluckmann's third solo Atlantic flight.

Climbing out of his small yellow and brown plane, Gluckmann said the trip was uneventful except for bad weather on the 1,800-mile stretch between New York and Greenland. He left New York Monday and stopped at Greenland and Iceland.

"I'm not tired," he said. "And I don't get lonely. There's plenty to do."

* * *

Gluckmann plans to fly to London to visit his parents and then on to Switzerland, Greece, Israel, Egypt, across Africa to Natal, over the Atlantic to Argentina and home.

"It's my hobby," he explained.
