

UAW Workers Walk Off Their Jobs at Ford With One Issue Still Blocking New Contract

Judge Gillis Admits He Received Funds in Teamster Tieup

From Our Wire Services

DETROIT — Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Joseph A. Gillis Sr. admitted today he received $1,300 from a public relations firm that produced a television program for the Teamsters Union, but Gillis said he "helped incorporate" the firm and invested money in it.

"I loaned them money, about $2,000 and I got back $1,300," Gillis said. "I lost about $1,000 on the deal."

In Washington, the Senate Rackets Committee produced evidence yesterday showing that Gillis was paid $1,210.19 by the public relations firm of Joe Schneider and associates.

Quemoy Gets More Supplies

Carrier Essex Joins Formosa Fleet After
Dash From Lebanon

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Nationalists succeeded today in delivering two more shiploads of supplies to the besieged Quemoy islands through a hail of Communist fire.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said two LSTs unloaded all their cargo without suffering damage.

The ships were escorted across Formosa Strait by Nationalist warships and by vessels of the U.S. 7th Fleet, which remained outside the three-mile limit as usual.

The giant American aircraft carrier Essex arrived in Formosa waters after steaming a quarter of the way around the world from the 6th Fleet off Lebanon.

The 65,000-ton Essex is slated to replace one of the four attack carriers already in the 7th fleet.

Red shelling went into its 26th day and apparently is aimed now at knocking out Quemoy's artillery, which has been trying to silence Red guns on the mainland.

The Defense Ministry said the 1,561 Communist shells that hit overnight were mostly of deeper penetration quality than the anti-personnel (fragmentation) shells used earlier.

The larger guns apparently were brought up in an effort to blast the concrete underground emplacements which have for the most part withstood the Red fire.

Nearby Little Quemoy also received supplies from another parachute drop without Red fighter interference.

Gillis said he helped the firm get the television program account, "but their money ran out and they went out of business."

Robert F. Kennedy, counsel for the Senate committee, had asked Teamster President James R. Hoffa if Gillis had presided over cases involving Teamsters after his arrangement with the public relations firm.

Hoffa said Gillis "put four in jail" and a fifth was found innocent. Kennedy said the four pleaded guilty.

TRIED 2 CASES
But Gillis told United Press International he tried two cases involving Teamsters.

"The jury found the first defendant not guilty," Gillis said. He said three of the defendants in the second case pleaded guilty, the fourth claimed innocence but the jury "found him guilty, too."

Gillis said that "the jury never took a formal ballot" on the first (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Rain Ends Tonight; to Become Cooler

According to the U. S. Weather Bureau, this morning's rain will end tonight with temperatures somewhat cooler, the low near 32.

Tomorrow is expected to be mostly fair and continued rather cool, with the high 65-68. The low tomorrow night will be about 47.

Today's northeasterly winds at 10-16 miles an hour will become variable tonight and southeast to south at 10-15 miles tomorrow.

The lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 61 degrees. The reading was 61 at 2 p.m.

20,000 Strikers Desert Rouge Plant

LEAVING WORK — Thousands of UAW workers left their jobs at Ford Motor Co.'s huge Rouge plant in Dearborn this morning. A 10 a. m. strike deadline passed with no agreement reached by UAW and Ford negotiators on a new contract. Some 20,000 day-shift workers observed the union deadline and walked out of the plant.

Sputnik III Rocket to Be Visible in Next 3 Days

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (U.P.) — Sputnik III's rocket will be visible during morning hours over much of the nation, including Michigan, for parts of the next three days.

The rocket of the Russian satellite is circling the earth 175 miles out.

On its second pass Friday the rocket will be visible over Michigan at about 4:58 a.m. (EST).

The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory announced the schedule.

Counting on Public Pressure in South

Ike Delays School Action

NEWPORT, R.I. (U.P.) — President Eisenhower hopes public pressure will force reopening of closed schools in Arkansas and Virginia—and so has ordered federal legal action withheld "at this time."

The President's position in the school shutdown controversy over racial integration was set forth at the summer White House late yesterday.

'CLEAR TO ANYBODY'
After a 40-minute meeting with Eisenhower, Atty. Gen. Rogers told a news conference in connection with the wait-and-see policy the President approved: "I think it is clear to anybody that to just try to solve this problem by legal methods alone, just by law suits, is not very satisfactory."

Tense Little Rock was preparing today for a special election on school integration Sept. 27 while pupils at two schools in Charlottesville, Va., awaited word on whether classes would open Monday.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas advanced by 10 days the date for the vote but said it had nothing to do with any public demand to reopen the four high schools he closed in the face of a U.S. Supreme Court integration order.

'WITHHOLDING DECISION'
Rogers said in a prepared statement, the administration "is withholding a decision as to appropriate legal moves at this time."

Rogers, the government's chief law enforcement officer, made it clear there is likely to be federal legal action later if the schools closed in protest against the Supreme Court go-ahead on integration are not opened.

Rogers also talked of announced Justice Department plans to enlist the help of U. S. marshals for preservation of law and order in communities where there is resistance to admittance of Negroes to white schools.

Gov. Faubus yesterday in Little Rock attacked segments of the clergy as left-wingers and repeated his defiance of the federal government in Little Rock's seething integration dispute.

Faubus told a newsman, in reply to a question about some Presbyterian ministers' opposition to his policies, that he knew a large number of pastors in that church had been brainwashed by left-wingers and Communists.

He added that he firmly believed some clergymen were supporters of Communist views.

Angered by the charge, a group of Arkansas Presbyterian ministers and laymen issued a denial and a demand for Faubus' apology.

Keego AF Jet Pilot Missing in Pacific

First Lt. Curtis J. Pearsall, 24, of Keego Harbor has been missing in flight over Guam since yesterday. Air Force Headquarters in Washington, D.C., notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon L. Pearsall of 324 Stapleton Dr., this morning.

An extensive search is being conducted, the Air Force said. Lt. Pearsall is a jet pilot.

Buying TV Sets First

Reuther Asserts Talks Close to an Agreement

62,250 of 98,000 Force
Leave Posts Soon After 10 o'Clock Deadline

DETROIT (U.P.) — The United Auto Workers struck the Ford Motor Co. today.

Members walked out as company negotiators talked past the 10 a.m. strike deadline. All reports said a final agreement could be expected any minute.

In the first 45 minutes after the deadline, 62,250 men in 31 of 86 plants and parts depots had walked off their jobs. There are 98,000 Ford hourly-rated workers.

UAW President Walter Reuther returned to the talks with the statement that he expected it would be his last visit to the conference table. "We are very near agreement," he said.

Reuther said earlier this morning that Ford had improved its offer.

John S. Bugas, Ford's vice president for industrial relations, described the latest company move as not a new offer but rather a refining and modifying process.

Carl Stellato, president of the 50,000-man Ford Local 600, biggest in the UAW, left the bargaining table shortly before the strike deadline. At the huge Rouge plant he told some 6,000 workers the strike is on.

Stellato said a major unsolved issue is plantwide seniority. This is the setup under which the union maintains that a man employed as a sweeper in one department of a factory should have seniority in another department in the same factory if his own department is abolished.

Throughout the vast Ford empire, walkouts began from midnight on, affected as the deadline time moved westward across the time zones.

Stellato told newsmen the strike was on and that walkouts were beginning at Rouge.

Stellato told newsmen that the company had proposed a settlement of the retroactive pay issue, one of the major points at issue in the long negotiations, by offering to make its contract effective as of July 1.

Ford workers had been without a contract since the old pact ran out June 1 and the union had demanded that any new agreement be retroactive to that date.

Stellato also said Ford had offered to increase its basic pension (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

6,000 Ford Men Cheer Pact Gains

DETROIT (U.P.) — Six thousand Ford Motor Co. workers stood in a driving rainstorm today to cheer contract gains hammered out so far by United Auto Workers negotiators.

Some 20,000 workers on the day shift left their jobs at the Rouge plant at 10 a.m., but many headed for their cars without attending the mass meeting.

Local 600 President Carl Stellato told the gathering:

"As of now, the Rouge plant is on strike."
Workers massed in an eight-lane thoroughfare beside the plant foundry to hear Stellato address them from a pedestrian overpass. Local 600 is the largest in the UAW with a claimed membership of 50,000.

Three years ago, workers booted Stellato's announcement of a contract settlement with Ford.

Today, they cheered him time and again as he ticked off what he said were concessions wrung out of Ford negotiators.

"It is not everything we hoped for," he said, "but it is a beginning."

Stellato promised the plant would not resume production until Ford agreed to plantwide seniority and a contract retroactive to June 1, when the old pact expired.

Plantwide seniority is a union plan to guarantee job protection for workers whose departments may be abolished within a factory and who hold seniority over those with similar jobs in another department.

There were no lively demonstrations at the rain-dampened meeting. Some workers carried banners with the Local 600 name and joined in singing "Solidarity Forever" before Stellato spoke.

Fun-for-All Festival Starts Tomorrow

60 Merchants Join in Downtown Carnival

More than 60 Downtown Pontiac merchants will help create the carnival bazaar atmosphere starting tomorrow when they erect outdoor booths in front of their stores to offer super values, amusements, games, prizes and fun.

Bands will play, sports celebrities will make personal appearances, and a boating and sporting goods show will run during the five days of the festival which ends Tuesday evening.

Clowns from the Pontiac Fire Dept. will help entertain the crowds and carnival rides, along with an outdoor restaurant, will be in full swing at two locations — E. Pike at Hill and W. Lawrence at Wayne St.

Sponsored by the Downtown Merchants Assn., the festival days will feature outstanding bargains on brand new seasonal merchandise. More than 60 stores are participating and some already have disclosed their specials. A section of today's Pontiac Press carries their advertisements.

BARGAINS ON LOANS

Among the booths will be one for Community National Bank which will offer auto and improvement loans at a sensational 3 per cent interest, about half the regular charge.

Jacobson's Florists will have an outdoor garden on view. Griff's Grill will operate a Paris Cafe outdoors. Osmun's Men's Wear will have a fashion show, to list but a few.

With every dollar of purchases, merchants are giving out a ticket entitling a youngster to a ride on any of the carnival amusements at a reduced price of 10 cents.

During the festival days, downtown stores will remain open until 9 p.m. except Tuesday, the last day, when they close at 5:30.

Bazley Meats, Mark Davis Camera Mart, J. and R. Motor Supply, Neumode Hosiery, Pauli Shoes, Rogers' Sporting Goods, Scarlett Bicycle Shop, Sherwin Williams, Singer Sewing Machine, Tassi's Tavern, Ward's Home Outfitting, Market Tire, Grinnell's, Calbi Music, Burton's.

FESTIVAL FORERUNNER — Norman Pattison, owner of Connolly's Jewelers, 16 W. Huron St., checks the booth which his store will operate during Downtown Pontiac's five-day festival starting tomorrow.

Pontiac Finance Director Oscar Eckman to Retire

Oscar Eckman, Pontiac director of finance since 1938, last night announced his retirement after more than 25 years as a city official.

The 69-year-old City Hall veteran told City Commissioners that he desired to protect his health. Eckman suffered a heart attack last November and gave unofficial notice afterwards that he would retire soon.

Commissioners expressed their regrets and then, acting on the retiring official's recommendation, appointed City Auditor Marvin Alward to fill the $10,900-a-year post.

Alward will officially take over the city's financial reins Nov. 1, the date Eckman's retirement becomes effective.

But Eckman said he and his wife would take advantage of accumulated vacation time to leave Pontiac sometime next month for Florida, where they have a home under construction near Clearwater, north of St. Petersburg.

A native of Grand Rapids, Eckman came to Pontiac in 1918 and joined the city staff as auditor in 1933.

As finance director, Eckman has (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Finds Engineer Had Bad Heart

After Train Plunges
Into Newark Bay

BAYONNE, N. J. (AP) — The third coach of a Jersey Central Railroad train that plunged into Newark Bay was recovered from the water here today.

The train's engineer, Lloyd Wilburn, 63, Red Bank, died in the accident. An autopsy report said a weak heart caused by high blood pressure contributed to his death.

Medical officials were careful to point out, however, that the exact cause of death will not be known until further tests are made.

Dr. Chester R. Rydwin, who performed the autopsy, listed the contributory causes of death as "hypertensive heart disease, pulmonary edema and congestion of the lungs."

A hypertensive heart condition is a weakened heart caused by high blood pressure. Pulmonary edema is congestion caused by fluid in the lungs which can result from a heart condition or drowning.

The bodies of three men and a woman were taken from the coach while divers found two other bodies floating nearby. None of these has been identified.

Recovery of the six bodies brought the death toll to 27. The railroad estimates the final toll may go as high as 44.

The commuter train's two locomotives and three of its coaches plunged into the bay from an open drawbridge Monday.

Divers, coastguardmen and police worked into the early hours today to raise the coach as floodlights played on the glittering water.

Bodies taken from the water and from the train were removed to the Hudson County morgue for identification.

The coach itself was lifted up and swung into a lighter, next to the two coaches that were recovered earlier.

Late Summer Rains Dampen Widespread Area

By The Associated Press
Persistent late summer rains continued to dampen sections from Texas to New England today in the wake of the stormy weather and heavy downpours in Texas and Missouri.

Tornadoes skipped across areas in Missouri yesterday, causing extensive property damage. There were no casualties. Torrential rains drenched southwestern sections of the state as well as in the southern half of Texas, where more than 5 inches were recorded in some areas.

Rains hammered wide areas in the middle and lower Mississippi Valley and eastern Texas. The wet belt extended eastward along a front through the Ohio Valley, the lower Great Lakes region and New England.

In the Missouri storm belt, one small tornado struck South St. Louis, damaging several homes. More than 2 1/2 inches of rain fell during the storm. At least three other twisters were reported in southwest Missouri, west of Joplin, south of Cabool and southeast of El Dorado Springs.

In the South, Charleston, S.C., was drenched with nearly 4 inches of rain in a 90-minute period.

In Tokyo, typhoon Helen, packing winds up to 120 miles per hour over a 300-mile area, slowly closed in on Japan today.

As a foretaste Tokyo and other areas were hit by downpours of 1.8 inches of rain in one hour.

Judge Gillis Admits Union Fund Tieup case. "They knew there was no case. They were satisfied."

Gillis said he would have more to say about Kennedy's questions and statements later.

Gillis staunchly denied there was a connection with his trying Teamster members and the television program arranged by the public relations firm.

Robert F. Kennedy said Hoffa would be recalled during the day for more questioning about his financial affairs and other matters.

Hoffa presumably was to be quizzed further about testimony that he secretly fed to Judge Gillis a disguised $7,500 of campaign contributions from the union.

Hoffa said yesterday he did not recall any such arrangement.

Joseph A. Schneider, now minister of the Horton (Mich.) Universalist Church and a former Detroit publicity man, testified the money was contributed in the guise of payments for a union-sponsored television program in late 1953 and early 1953.

Schneider pictured this system of contribution as Gillis' idea, with the judge receiving $100 a week payments for 13 weeks as a "TV adviser" plus $6,200 to be used for his campaign. He said Gillis was a vice president of his firm at the time, and they laughed together because "Gillis didn't know much about television."

The committee promptly questioned why the judge did not disqualify himself from presiding over the trials of 12 Teamster members accused of felonies involving alleged extortion.

U.N. Steering Committee Ponders Admitting China

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N.'s powerful Steering Committee today faced up to its first major test—the question of seating Red China—after the election of Lebanon's pro-Western Charles Malik as General Assembly president.

Debate over the Red China issue undoubtedly will drag in the dispute over Nationalist China's offshore islands in the Formosa Strait.

The United States was confident the U.N. will follow past procedure and vote to shelve the Peking issue for another year. The Americans have made plain they are determined to prevent Red China from "shooting its way" into the U.N.

The Assembly opened yesterday, electing Lebanon's foreign minister, Malik, as its president. Malik's 45-31 first-ballot victory over Sudan's nationalist Foreign Minister Mohammed Ahmed Mahgoub, supported by all the Arab League states but Lebanon, was seen as a triumph for the United States and its allies.

Just before the vote, Czechoslovakia announced she was pulling her delegate, Jiri Nosek, out of the race. She made clear the nine-nation Soviet bloc was throwing its support behind Mahgoub.

Malik's open pro-Western stand had alienated many Asian-African states, especially those who support President Nasser's United Arab Republic. Many had believed this opposition—plus open Soviet support for Mahgoub—would cost Malik the election.

In a brief speech of acceptance, Malik praised the "sportsmanlike opposition that has occurred between me and one of my best friends."

The General Assembly was in recess today while the Steering

At Steelworkers Convention Expect Urgent Business

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — United Steelworkers delegates today opened the third session of the union's ninth constitutional convention forewarned by their president to expect "important business."

USW President David J. McDonald declined to elaborate on the statement he made in the closing minutes of yesterday's session. He held a brief meeting with the Executive Board immediately afterward.

'Dead Man Switch' Not Needed in State

LANSING (UPI)—Michigan does not require trains to have a "dead man switch," a Public Service Commission official said today.

The switch, a device that automatically stops a train in event the engineer has a heart attack, is used on many diesels in Michigan but is not required, said Walter Bussell, acting head of the commission's railroad division.

There was no "dead man switch" on the Jersey Central passenger train which tumbled off an open vertical drawbridge.

"If there are two men riding in the cab, it's not really vital to have a special switch," Bussell said. "I recall 15 years ago a fireman took over when the engineer of a Grand Trunk passenger train had a seizure near Port Huron."

and staff officers of the 1,200,000-member union.

There was speculation that the union's ninth constitutional convention concerned the Dues Protest Committee, headed by Donald C. Rarick, a McKeesport, Pa., mill worker.

McDonald has accused the committee of dual unionism, which he defined as organized opposition to policies adopted by the international convention. The committee was formed in protest of a $2 increase in dues at the 1956 convention.

Rarick, a delegate to the convention, said he waited outside McDonald's headquarters office for nearly 3 1/2 hours yesterday to ask the president for time to speak on the convention floor.

McDonald said the convention several times that any delegate will be given the floor for five minutes as provided in the convention rules.

Rarick said he wants more time to present the Dues Protest Committee's case to the convention.

McDonald and his party walked swiftly past Rarick as he stood outside the president's office.

In his keynote speech Monday, McDonald referred to the protest committee and told the delegates to "rid this cancer out of your bowels through your own doing."

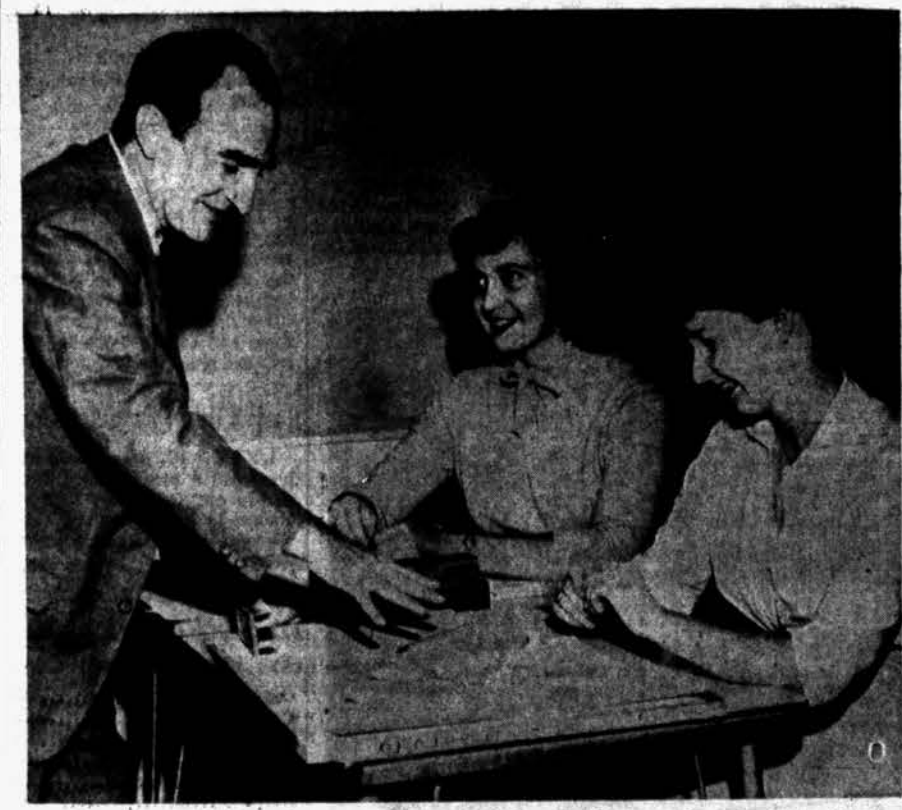

Still No Word Whether Adams to Leave Post

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said today he still has no information indicating Sherman Adams either will quit or be fired as President Eisenhower's chief aide.

Hagerty made the statement at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters in replying to questions about published reports that the resignation of Adams, under hot new fire in the Bernard Goldfine case, is imminent.

Adams returned to his White House office in Washington Monday after a vacation of about 10 days.

While Adams was away, Republican candidates took a trouncing in the elections in Maine, where the Goldfine case was an under-tone issue. That touched off a new clamor for his resignation.

Teamsters Set New Convention

Hoffa Says Conclave Called to Rid Truckers of Monitors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Teamsters Executive Board early today authorized a new convention of the giant union next February in an avowed move to rid itself of court-named supervising monitors.

The monitors quickly announced they will go to court to halt the move and to seek more authority for themselves in ordering what they consider needed reforms.

Teamsters President James R. Hoffa announced the union board's action and described it as an effort to end the monitorship. He said he expects to be re-elected president with little or no opposition.

But chief monitor Martin F. O'Donoghue said the Teamsters so far have failed to clean up corruption sufficiently for another convention so soon.

Hoffa was elected at a convention held a year ago, but it was attacked in court proceedings as rigged—a situation that led to the monitorship.

Hoffa balked at many monitor directives. He has not yet put into effect new rules drafted by the monitors seeking to guarantee fair union elections and to bar criminals from union office. He has refused to fire smaller-try Teamsters bosses accused of corruption and hoodlum tactics in hearings before the Senate Rackets Committee.

Once the monitors' petition is filed, Judge Letts is expected to arrange a hearing in a week or so.

The legal battle is one that, if the monitors lose, will free Hoffa of outside supervision in running the 1 1/2-million-member union. But it's one the monitors feel they must win if they are to be effective.

Eckman remodeled bookkeeping procedures in the middle 1940's, mechanizing many operations and modernizing methods of keeping tabs on the city's multiplying financial ventures.

As a result, Pontiac became the 18th city in the nation to be recognized by National Association of Municipal Finance Officers for compliance with its strict standards of municipal bookkeeping.

Eckman's financial reports first received the association's stamp of approval in 1947. They were similarly awarded in 1948 and 1949, a feat that won Pontiac wide recognition.

Many other honors have come Eckman's way since then.

A SELF-TAUGHT MAN

The tributes gain greater significance in light of the fact that Eckman is in many ways self-taught, gaining his only formal education in the field through a correspondence course with LaSalle College in Chicago. He took the course while employed in a piano factory in South Haven, the city in which he grew up.

With a knowledge of bookkeeping under his belt, Eckman was elected city treasurer of South Haven in 1915.

When he first came to Pontiac, Eckman joined the old Oakland Motor Car company as an accountant. He stayed on when General Motors turned the Oakland into Pontiac, and from 1932 to 1933 handled accounting in the Buick-Olds-Pontiac Sales Co.

Living at 2556 Woodbine Rd., Waterford Township, Eckman has a stepson and a stepdaughter and two grandchildren.

He is a past vice president of the Michigan Municipal Finance Officers Assn., and has been an active Mason and Lions Club member.

The Day in Birmingham Halloween Party Backed by City's Businessmen

BIRMINGHAM—A survey by the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce revealed that the city's business and professional men still support holding the annual children's Halloween party.

Charles Mortensen, C. of C. secretary, said the majority of those polled favored continuing the party under the management of the City Recreation Board, and indicated they will support it financially.

Roland Reese, party chairman, said: "The party has become an institution here, and I am pleased to get the opinions of our many contributors."

Dr. Sullenberger Sued in Dispute Over Alleyway

A feud over an unpaved alleyway behind Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger's new clinic at 494 W. Huron St. was brought into Circuit Court today.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Cissell brought the suit, claiming the surgeon deliberately destroyed their rock garden and picket fence, which are on the alley side of their home, 13 Lincoln Ave.

They were granted a temporary court order by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty, restraining the doctor from entering their property until a hearing can be scheduled.

The Cissells are also asking the surgeon to pay $200 damages.

Not yet served with notice of the suit, Dr. Sullenberger contended that the Cissells' garden and fence were located in the alley right-of-way.

The surgeon said that vehicles have to use the alleyway to get to the rear of his clinic, which he began remodeling in April and opened this month.

as a means of curbing Halloween pranks, the event has grown to the point where last year about 6,000 costumed youngsters took part.

Merchants donate food, prizes and cash. Service clubs, PTA groups and other civic organizations assist in handling the details of the affair.

The Recreation Board is preparing letters to go out to businessmen, soliciting funds.

Following the plan established last year, business contributions will be used only for the community party. Schools on fringe areas will be required to finance their own parties.

Although no final figure will be available until the end of the month, the Birmingham Board of Education announced today there are 11,513 pupils enrolled in the district's public schools. This is an increase of 451 over last year's total.

Late summer vacationers and transfers in and out of private and parochial schools will change the present figure by the end of the month, according to Dwight B. Ireland, schools superintendent.

State aid payments will be determined by the Oct. 1 enrollment, he said.

Mrs. Ruth Miller, the only woman in the Michigan State Corrections Dept., will speak tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at the first fall meeting of the Birmingham Business Women's Club at the Community House. She will talk on her duties as parole supervisor.

Mrs. Kenneth Kesler, 1077 Sutfield Rd., said today more books are needed for the annual book sale of the American Assn. of University Women.

Mrs. Kesler will arrange for pickup of donations. Held in the Detroit Edison Co. offices on Merrill street, the sale provides funds for the scholarships sponsored by the association.

rates to $2.35 from $2.25 for each year of service.

It also offered to continue the annual improvement factor which gives workers six cents an hour or 3 1/2 per cent of their hourly wage, whichever is greater.

The improvement factor is related to technological advances due to automation and other developments.

Negotiations were in recess at General Motors and Chrysler. Talks there will resume this afternoon with both sides obviously awaiting the outcome of the Ford talks.

Any Ford settlement would set a pattern for the other two in the auto industry's Big Three.

When old contracts ran out over the Memorial Day weekend, Reuther had backed down from an original demand that new contracts include a profit-sharing plan.

He demanded a substantial wage increase, extension and enlargement of company-financed Supplemental Unemployment Benefit payments to laid-off workers, severance payments or transfer rights for workers who lose jobs through factory abandonments or moves, and a cost-of-living increase in pensions of retired employees.

General Motors estimated the union's original demands would amount to 73 cents an hour. The union put no figure on its package, but termed GM's estimate fantastic.

Auto companies, with the exception of American Motors, were having a rough sales year. Reuther ordered his unionists to work without a contract for the first time since 1941.

"It would," Reuther said in May, "be insane to accommodate the auto industry by calling a strike now."

The industry labor situation in 1955 was almost identical with this one, going down past a Ford strike deadline with a nationwide walk-out. That one lasted less than 12 hours.

The 1955 Ford walkouts began at midnight June 6. A settlement was reached at 11:53 a.m., June 7. An original strike deadline of June 1 had been moved up a week. This time Reuther refused a delay, despite reports both sides were within reach of agreement yesterday.

BUGAS MAKES STATEMENT—John S. Bugas, Ford vice president and chief of industrial relations, gives a statement this morning after all night contract talks with Walter Reuther and associates. He met with Ford directors later this morning.

REUTHER AFTER ALL NIGHT SESSION—UAW president Walter P. Reuther emerges serious-faced from negotiating room this morning after all night contract talks. Aide behind Reuther is unidentified.

Romney Explains Small Car Boom

CHICAGO (AP) — Booming sales of foreign cars indicates "a general failure on the part of the U.S. industry to meet the American motorists' needs with complete adequacy," the president of American Motors Corp. declared today.

Faubus' Own Statement Defeats His Argument

Governor ORVAL FAUBUS has just been quoted as saying:

"The people of Little Rock feel even stronger against integration this year than they did before."

Well, Governor, right there you yourself give the lie to the statement that "delays will assist materially."

You confess yourself that in the past year, instead of becoming a little more reconciled to the inevitable, the people of Arkansas have put their backs up additionally.

Delay has increased opposition.

This merely goes to show that there will have to be a showdown SOMETIME and if that's true, it might just as well take place right now. Quoting the Governor of the State who must understand his constituents better than we do, they feel more belligerent to integration a year after the previous attempt than they did at the time.

Williams Should Keep Hands Off Negotiations

Industry united in requesting Governor G. Mennen Williams' stooges to keep away from the contract negotiations and refrain from muddying the waters.

Either:

A—In the light of serious business at hand, the corporations decided this was no time for a political pop-off to try and horn in for his own aggrandizement and make it appear as though the conquering hero had saved the day;

Or:

B—The Governor didn't plan it that way at all and merely got the nod from union headquarters and did as he was instructed.

In either case, it was a blunder.

If Governmental intervention were needed; or if it were thought desirable to have Government in the picture, it's a lead pipe cinch that a union puppet would never serve as a desirable "neutral element." Industry might just as well have summoned a representative of the N.A.M. to act. What a guffaw this would have evoked from REUTHER.

And well it should.

If Government had been needed, it's neutral Government and not Government acting under orders from one party to the debate.

TV Public Deserves Explanation on Quizzes

If TV quiz programs are degenerating to the level of professional wrestling with winners agreed upon in advance, the listening audiences will be quite unhappy.

TV is suffering the biggest blows of its relatively brief and successful career. First a little known program called "Dotto" was tossed out summarily when the sponsor washed his hands and walked away. Crookedness was charged, with the statements that one contestant got the answers in advance. Since then, "Twenty One" has been accused by a participant and now the "64,000 Challenge" falls under a cloud.

Sunday night "64,000 Challenge" was apparently shelved. Following its substitute, an announcement said that one week hence the "64,000 Question" would replace the Challenge.

Something must be wrong. The public deserves an explanation.

If quiz shows have degenerated into intellectual phonies, the listeners should be allowed to know WHAT'S GOING ON. If they're still on the up-and-up, that fact should be clearly established. If the truth discloses a mixture, the public should know which are straightforward and which are "under the table." There's no cause to bamboozle several million innocent listeners who have hitherto accepted TV at face value and been thrilled and pleased accordingly.

TV began to price itself out of the advertising market with its soaring charges and the commercials became so corny and so lengthy that the public was already growing uneasy. Now this misfortune compounds the situation.

Well, the westerns and the sports and the comedies are still available until they settle what's what and clean up the mess if a mess exists.

The Man About Town

This Is Cranbrook

Items in Connection With Our Great Cultural Center

TV: A nuisance that's sometimes enjoyed, but often only endured.

In a 60-page colorful insert in the current issue of Look Magazine the story is told, principally in pictures, about what the 12 middle western states mean to our nation and the world. Cranbrook gets most of the space devoted to Michigan. It portrays the work of the late who designed Cranbrook, and points out that his son,

Elle Saarinen,

Eero Saarinen, is brilliantly succeeding him as a leading architect of our time, "a second generation genius."

At Kansas City, Mo., on Saturday will be dedicated the last major work of eminent Swedish sculptor, who was connected with Cranbrook for 21 years. He died in 1955, and at the unveiling Saturday will be represented by his first assistant at Cranbrook.

Carl Milles,

Berthold Schweltz,

Dying on the Launching Pad—We Hope

David Lawrence Says:

14th Amendment's Origin Quizzed

WASHINGTON — Many people are writing in to learn more about the dubious origin of the Fourteenth Amendment — supposed basis for desegregation decisions — to which

LAWRENCE
Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mr. Hull was a district judge in Tennessee before he was elected to Congress.

In outlining the history of constitutional amendments, Mr. Hull said in a speech in the House of Representatives on July 12, 1908:

"Early in 1865 the Thirteenth Amendment, abolishing slavery, was proposed to the states by Congress, but not until after a heated struggle extending over many months. It became a part of the Constitution in December of that year."

"Mr. Speaker, very soon thereafter amendments were proposed in Congress looking to the adoption of what was afterwards known as the 'Fourteenth Amendment,' with the result that, according to the version of some, the Fourteenth Amendment was duly ratified and became a part of the Constitution in July 1868."

While the sole function of Congress with respect to amendments is to propose to the states such amendments as two-thirds of both houses see fit, to be ratified or rejected, either by state legislatures or conventions, yet Congress in this instance did not permit all the states to act upon this proposed amendment.

"What is known as the 'Reconstruction Acts' were in operation in 18 states, though President Johnson had held them unconstitutional, while a hurried act of Congress intercepted and prevented a consideration by the Supreme Court of the constitutional validity of these acts."

"Under these acts, existing state governments were abolished and new governments, created by a convention of delegates made up largely of Negroes, were substituted."

"Under this regime if a state government was about to reject the proposed amendment it was promptly deposed and one of those new governments at once installed, whose action would insure immediate ratification."

"This course seemed to have been at direct variance with the constitutional provision, which directs that only 'legislatures' or 'conventions' in the states are given authority to ratify or reject amendments proposed by Congress."

The Country Parson

"A fellow won't be overcome by his piety if he shares his religion with others."

"Lincoln's great secretary of state, William H. Seward, was an exceedingly able lawyer; he had remained in this official position under President Johnson's administration."

"The act of Congress of 1818 made it the official duty of the secretary of state to certify whether an amendment has become a part of the Constitution by being duly ratified by the states."

"Secretary Seward issued two proclamations with reference to the ratification of this amendment, instead of the usual one."

"When he issued the first proclamation, his legal knowledge and sense of justice did not permit him to recite therein that this amendment had been duly ratified by three-fourths of the states, but, instead, this proclamation declared that the amendment had been ratified by the legislatures of certain states—naming them—and that in six states it had been ratified by newly constituted and established bodies avowing themselves to be and acting as the legislatures, respectively."

"In other words, they were ratified by de facto legislatures."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Educated Folk Can't Dig What Hired Hand Savvies?

"I remember an old codger, a hired hand on my father's farm when I was a child, who would get all stiffened up and say his rheumatism was bothering him. That's the only type of person that would use that term. It isn't in the unabridged dictionary, except as dialect. If you expect educated folks to 'dig' you at all, please speak English. When you use such terms you are disgusting."

Your idiotic idiosyncrasies make me sick. (Mrs. N. S. F. Jr.)

If I can teach a few hired hands something about chronic joint disability, I won't mind disgusting educated folks."

To some educated folks it may sound smart to call rheumatism "arthritis." My natural inclination is to make a sarcastic crack about this, but let's keep the argument on a sensible plane.

Maybe I could have chosen a better name for degeneration of joint tissues. That's what I believe chronic joint disability is in the great majority of cases. And that's what I believe so-called chronic arthritis or chronic rheumatism is in the great majority of cases.

So far as I have been able to learn, no medical authority has given a more accurate description of the pathology of chronic joint disability than Dr. William Osler gave in his famous Practice of Medicine more than 50 years ago—even though he called it "chronic rheumatism." Indeed, I think Osler's description of the morbid anatomy (pathology) of physical degeneration of joint tissues (which he called chronic) could be improved in only one respect—by omitting two words, namely chronically inflamed, which would not in the least impair the pertinence of his definition.

In my booklet Chronic Joint Disability (for which send me 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope) I express my firm conviction that the cause of rheumatism is nutritional deficiency through the years from early childhood up to the present time. And I specify which shortages, in the everyday diet of most Americans, must be corrected. This, I believe, is the only way one with rheumatism is at all likely to arrest the degeneration or, if not too late, even bring about sufficient regeneration of joint tissues to restore a measure of useful function.

Mind, now, I do not mean to deny that arthritis (joint inflammation) does occur. When it does, it is generally of limited duration. If acute arthritis persists for more than a year, or becomes "chronic arthritis," it is probable that the diagnosis is wrong. In fact the theory or assumption of chronic inflammation in any part of the body is pretty difficult to substantiate by scientific evidence.

In view of the fact that a good many readers accept my teachings and follow my advice, is it not the duty of any physician or group of physicians who may believe I am wrong to disprove or at least contradict my statements?

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Insanity Can Often Be Prevented

Lola finally confessed the real reasons why she had to undergo a series of shock treatments. And by the material outlined below, we then were able to demolish the underlying causes for her trouble. Now she is happily adjusted and a popular girl, with many boy friends; so she will obviously not flee away from her present reality since it is a happy one.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE Z-321: Lola G., aged 17, is the high schooler who began to withdraw dangerously from life and verge on insanity.

After a series of shock treatments, Lola was restored to a reasonably normal adjustment, at least to the degree that she would converse about the underlying cause of her withdrawal. "Dr. Crane," she then confessed to me, "I have been very unhappy in school."

"It started when I was in the grades, for I was very shy. Never having had any brothers or sisters, I was lonely and not adept at joining in the games of other youngsters."

"Besides, they ridiculed me because of my freckles. And the one time I did have a date with a boy, I was humiliated because I didn't know what to talk about."

"All I knew was music and he had no interest in that. And all he knew was baseball, and I was ignorant of that."

"That date was torture. I cried

Supervisor Defends Ability of Township Fire Fighters

In answer to North Sider, who said the north side needs a fire station and the City shouldn't forget about the new MSUQ buildings; this office wishes to let him know that Pontiac Township is well equipped for fire fighting.

We have three fire stations, six fire trucks, three of which are 1,000 gallon tankers, two pumpers with 500 gallon capacity and one 300 gallon. We have a pickup used as a utility truck, three rescuers, 60 volunteer firemen, a full time fire chief and custodian of equipment. Each piece of equipment is a fire fighting unit in itself.

The Township recently appointed a committee to obtain specifications for a new fire truck for replacement, also to obtain bids for three 40 foot ladders. Our fire department operates on a two mill special assessment, and the budget for 1958 is $27,000. Pontiac Township consists of 18 square miles and 8,000 population. We feel that we are well equipped.

Leroy Davis,
Pontiac Township Supervisor

Two Feel Evidence Points to Removal

The City of Pontiac went to a great deal of expense to employ an expert to tell us what's wrong in the Police Department. He told them the morale was very low due to poor leadership.

Yet nothing has been done about it. Who should know better than the group of policemen who represent the larger per cent of men in uniform the abuses of their department? Remember, they work with it.

As for the Chief helping Burke get paroled, every man on the force is both blamed and praised by the actions of his Chief, as well as his fellow officers. As a worker under civil service myself, I say to Sven, you either have an in or are coaching the game from your arm chair. As far as moving to Waterford, we don't need your kind out here. We're not proud of losing our force. It was doing a good job.

Marie Harrison

'Get Rid of Reuther and Civil Rights'

Senator Potter comes to town and is introduced to the local yokels by none other than our peripatetic reporter. The good senator used most of his time in telling us what a menace Walter Reuther is to the labor movement and the senator is so right.

Reuther, as well as all of those who subscribe to his economic and social philosophy, should be burned at the stake and their remains shipped to Little Rock for burial along with civil rights and liberty.

Then perhaps the world will be safe for General Motors, the Republican Party, David Lawrence and The Pontiac Press.

Feels Her Case Supports Charges

The charges about Sylvan Lake Police I can fully believe now. My son was testing out a car for his friend, which was overheating, and was the first time he had driven it.

The Sylvan Police pulled him over and said the license plates were wrong for that car. My son, the driver, was unaware of this when he drove it, but the police fined him $15 and took away his driver's license for 30 days. There are the facts and they can be verified.

I understood taking away a license meant he did something seriously wrong, like excessive speeding, drunk driving, or being involved in a serious accident. What kind of a reputation do the Sylvan Police want?

Mrs. Arthur J. MacFadyen

Corrects Statement About Waterford

Sven appears to be a badly misinformed person. Should he move out to Waterford, he would find that a police department is still in operation. The regular force is nearly the size of the former department. He would also find that it is being supported by the taxpayers instead of fines from traffic violations.

Senator-Elect by Landslide Vote

No Wonder Maine Picks Muskie

AUGUSTA, Maine — (NEA) — "Politics don't mean much to me, but that Ed Muskie, he's the kind of a man I pray to God my grandsons will be like."

Those words, spoken by a little old lady at the Bean Hole Bean Festival in Maine's Oxford County, help explain why Edmund S. Muskie is on his way to the United States Senate.

By tradition, the soft-spoken, 44-year-old Governor is a lot of things conservative, a cracker-barrel Down-Easters used to suspect. He's the son of immigrant parents, a Catholic and a Democrat.

Yet, the people of Maine voted overwhelmingly to make Muskie their representative in "the most exclusive club in the world."

WHY DID THEY DO IT?

A life-long truculent Republican said of Muskie and his 28-year-old wife, Jane:

"They've got something — something deeply human and honest that makes a fellow want to warm his hands before them."

A tough fishery worker along the island-studded coast said:

"Even though I would never vote for a Democrat, I love the guy."

And in Aroostook County, where green potato fields stretch for miles to the horizon, farmers warned me not to believe that only the Democrats had elected Muskie governor twice and now made him senator.

"No," one protested, "it's the Republicans of this state who put him in. We know a straight-shooter when we see one — a fellow any honest man would like to ask home for dinner."

Muskie's office in the State Capitol gives some clues to his human qualities. On one wall hangs a framed certificate of the Boys Clubs of America presenting him with the 1956 Golden Anniversary Award. On the mantel there is a photo of one of his daughters, eight-year-old Ellen (Sissie) giving her favorite doll her bottle of milk, and against the mantel rests an Indian war club. On his desk a small plastic sign: "Ulcer Department."

On a table stands a framed photograph of Adlai E. Stevenson, inscribed, "For Ed Muskie, from his friend Adlai E. Stevenson — 1956." Near it is a hand-lettered scroll of honor presented to him by a Polish fraternal society.

In the midst of this hodgepodge, sits the tall, easily-smiling political phenomenon who symbolizes a revolution against traditions that have kept Maine out of step with so many of her industrial sister states.

I asked if he could explain the force behind the affection so many people feel for him. After a moment's thought, he answered:

"It's hard for a man to analyze himself. All I can tell you is this — as I go around the state, whether campaigning or on non-political missions, people show great warmth toward me."

"I think their warmth — sometimes it does seem like affection — has to do with what they think I am."

Asked if this popular affection for him was the reason his traditionally Republican state is sending him to the Senate, he said:

"It helped, certainly — but I think what the people want is to have my philosophy carried on to Washington. They are looking to the future of their children — they want government to have real and meaningful concern for all our people and they want political candidates to show responsible leadership."

During Muskie's eight years as governor he battled successfully to raise standards of education by consolidation of schools and better salaries for teachers through State subsidies. He advocated and won doubled appropriation for the University of Maine and more than double the appropriation for State Teachers Colleges.

HAVE 3 CHILDREN

The Muskies have two daughters and one son and expect another child in December. As we walked from the capitol across the street to historic Blaine House, the tree-shaded executive mansion, I asked him if moving to Washington will upset his family life.

"We do have mental reservations about moving. Jane has never lived any other place but in Waterville where she was born and here in Blaine House. And after I left the service, I turned down good out-of-state jobs because Maine offers me a way of life I live."

The wife of Maine's new senator met us at the back door of the executive mansion. Muskie put his arm around her.

"Jane's a good trooper. She can stay here until the baby is born and strong enough to travel," he said. "My term ends the first Wednesday in January and I'll fly to Washington next morning. Want to be sworn in as quickly as possible to get seniority."

Friendly, good-looking, an unfretting mother, Jane Muskie showed me through the house.

The family dining room looked like the dining room in any comfortable American home. A high chair stood by the table. "Ed always wants all the children to eat with him," she explained, smiling.

She said the children eat everything she and Ed eat. "We have plain food most of the time. Not many sauces. Ed is pretty much a meat and potato man. But I guess we'll have to learn to enjoy fancier things in Washington. That's what Ed's friends tell him."

Soviets' U.A.R. Policy: 'Keep Imperialists Out'

LONDON (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev says the Soviet policy is to see that "no imperialist boot should trample the soil" of the United Arab Republic. Moscow radio said today.

"We do not conceal our interest in the affairs of the United Arab Republic," Khrushchev said. "The only thing we want is that friendship between our countries should grow."

The broadcast, quoting from an article in the government paper Izvestia, said economic and cultural cooperation between the Soviet Union and the U.A.R. is gaining.

Hello, I'm Paul Bagwell . . . OUR STATE IS IN TROUBLE!

Michigan Lost 208,000 Factory Jobs from 1953 to 1958.

Everyone feels the effects . . . unemployed workers, corner grocery stores, filling stations, drug stores, taxi drivers.

Plants have moved out of Michigan. New industry has not come in to replace them. Other States, however, are gaining new industry at a substantial rate. For example: in 1957, Indiana gained 137 new factories; North Carolina, 167; and Ohio, more than 200—while Michigan gained only 16!

Your State Government has a responsibility to establish good conditions for industrial growth and new job opportunities for you.

The facts prove that the present State Administration has not lived up to this responsibility.

AS YOUR GOVERNOR, I will call on industry in other States for the purpose of selling Michigan's advantages for new plant location. I will ask labor and industrial leaders to join me. Labor, industry and your Governor working together will show that Michigan has established the conditions necessary to get new jobs. Working together, we will prove that NOW MICHIGAN MEANS BUSINESS!

My goal as your Governor, in the next two years, will be 100,000 new industrial jobs in Michigan.

You can help with your vote on November 4.

Sincerely

Paul D. Bagwell

Blind to Read Through Music

New Method Revealed by VA Greatly to Speed Interpretation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Veterans Administration announced today development of a machine it said can read printed material to blind persons.

The sounds the device gives out are not the words of ordinary speech, but patterns of musical tones similar to the chords of an organ. The blind person must learn to interpret these sounds into letters and words.

Based on tests during the last year, the VA said a trained user ultimately should reach a reading speed of 15 to 30 words a minute. But it cautioned that both the device itself and training methods for using it must be developed further before quantity production of the machine can be started.

Only five prototype models have been thus far.

Its advantage over the Braille system is that the blind person can read ordinary printed material, including books, magazines and typewritten correspondence.

The entire machine is about the size and shape of a portable radio. A scanning unit, which is held in the hand and moved along a line of printed matter, throws a pattern of light on photoelectric cells. These in turn set up sound patterns which vary with the black and white of the printed words and letters.

The machine was designed and is being evaluated by the Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, Ohio, under VA contract. A portable unit, it is designed for eventual home use by blinded veterans.

Dale Robertson Ailing

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Actor Dale Robertson was hospitalized yesterday for treatment of an infected foot. St. Joseph Hospital attendants said Robertson, star of television's "Tales of Wells Fargo," injured himself while on location.

You'll Look Charming in Green Hair, Dear

By PHYLLIS BATTLE

NEW YORK — A young woman was standing at the intersection of 57th street and Fifth avenue, limply eyeing the traffic signal and waiting to cross on the light that matched her hair.

"Why," said the curious young man, "do you have green hair?" Through lavender eyeshades she looked him over.

"Fresh!" she said.

Whether she was reprimanding

Margaret Truman Returns to Stage as Leading Lady

CHICAGO (AP)—Miss Margaret Truman, after several years in the role of a housewife, returned to the stage last night as leading lady in "Autumn Crocus."

"Chicago newspaper drama critics' comment on the performance by the ex-President's daughter at the Drury Lane Theatre:

Roger Dettmer, American—"To suggest here that Miss Margaret Truman . . . is genuinely an actress would tweak the nose of theatrical truth."

Seymour Raven, Tribune—"Until the play's thin emotions begin to shift their fragile gears and Miss Truman lapses into some immature stage mannerisms under the stress, she reveals a vibrant personality which is all that her fondest admirers have said to be."

"Carefully prepared, within present technical limitations, she could be a charming actress."

Hoke Norris, Sun-Times—"A nice American girl played the part of a nice American girl and that almost sums up the opening. . . ."

Sydney J. Harris, Daily News, who wrote his review as an open letter to Margaret's father—"All in all, Harry, it was a grim evening. The plain fact, H.S.T., is that Margaret just isn't to be the star of a professional play."

Miss Truman, who hadn't read the reviews, told reporters she is contemplating further stage performances and perhaps television work.

"If it doesn't take me away from home too long," said Miss Truman, wife of newspaperman Clifton Daniel Jr.

him, or merely answering his question, the man never knew. Because these are days when a woman buys a wig for any number of interesting reasons.

It is quite possible that the adjective "fresh!" might be applied to green hair in the same sense as it is applied to spinach.

Not since World War II have fashions been so skimpy in appearance.

It is a season, in fact, which appears made to order for ladies who gained weight over the summer and are now trying to make do with last year's outgrown wardrobe. If one appears to be "popping out" of one's dress, as granny would say, it is not disgraceful—it is de rigueur.

Everything should look slightly too small, especially the shoulders, bustline, and sleeve-length. The skirt should look fascinatingly out of proportion, like that of a 14-year-old who has suddenly elongated overnight.

It is probably this shrinking-in of the dress form that has prompted the sprouting-out of tall artificial heads of hair.

Something has to balance the legs.

There is another good reason why the wig fad has swept Paris, New York and other big and fashionable cities around the U.S.

The last decade of hair dyeing, bleaching and streaking has finally caught up with the dyed, bleached and streaked women who once had drab healthy hair and now have bright, broken-off remnants.

It takes a bit of time for hair to lose the luster and beauty nature endowed it, but with diligence and money and peroxide, it can be done. Wig makers admit that one big reason the crazy fashions have gone over so spectacularly is that it is "like owning an extra head of hair." And today's smartest women can use one.

Some girls choose red and white candy-striped wigs. Others choose purples and greens. Psychologists have analyzed this and figured out that the women who choose wild colors do it for one of two reasons:

1. They are confident enough to laugh at themselves.

2. They are so self-conscious they have to laugh at themselves. This is why psychologists and women are so hard to figure out.

The wig thing is so big that a good, conservative New York firm which used to specialize in Santa Claus beards has now concentrated on cocktail coiffures and dinner disguises. There are re-orders on the dizzy fashion from scattered cities all over the country.

It may be only a seasonal fad, though it started last March and is still skyrocketing. In preparation for the day when women will again become more conservative and want, once again, to look for real—one wigmaker is preparing false hairdos in natural colors like mouse, salt-and-pepper, and yellowed-white.

The day is coming when it will look phony to look natural, they say; and phoniness is the hot commodity in fashion.

They want to be prepared.

Mrs. Roosevelt to Speak

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, will speak at the University of Michigan Oct. 28. Mrs. Roosevelt will speak on the topic "Is America Facing World Leadership?"

PONTIAC AREA

by RAY STORM, District Manager

DO YOU SOMETIMES feel that it takes hours to cook a meal but only a few minutes for your family to eat it? If you do, count your blessings. There are some people who'd keep you busy cooking all day and night. Take the Belgian who once ate 44 boiled eggs in 30 minutes . . . the man from Chicago who put away 77 hamburgers at a sitting . . . the Australian who swallowed his way through a mound of 480 oysters in the hour.

YOUR HUSBAND and the children eat a great deal less than some, you see. Even so, to feed them well, you need to spend a lot of time over your pots and pans. That's why a handy extension phone in the kitchen is such a big help. It lets you answer the phone without leaving your cooking—or young children—to chance. The space-saving, wall type extension is most popular for kitchens. It comes in a choice of colors and costs only $1.10 a month, plus tax.

SCHOOL DAYS are here again, and with them comes the chore of outfitting the kids for fall and winter. Always reminds us of how much the youngsters grow from year to year (especially boys' feet). At a time like this remember there's no quicker, simpler way of buying things than to look in your phone book Yellow Pages to find the nearest dealer. And when you're in doubt, you can use your phone and call to make sure you've got what. Do your searching in the Yellow Pages and save time and shoe leather.

IF YOUR CHILDREN WILL be away at college, keep in touch by Long Distance. If they have a busy schedule, they might not be in when you call—but that's an easy problem to solve. Just have them call you "collect" one evening each week. It costs very little. And that familiar voice on the telephone will be the best cure for the blues ever invented.

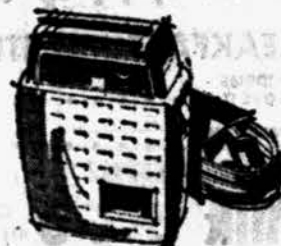

PARTING SHOT: Coroner's verdict on the lion tamer: something he disagreed with ate him.

FALSE TEETH
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plates dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEST, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEST at drug counters everywhere.

Realized His Error

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jaywalk-Malumud and his wife were dismissed yesterday after Malumud demonstrated he was properly contrite.

U.S. Can Prove It

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — The government feels it has a pretty good case against William Sidney Kennedy Jr., charged with filing false income tax claims. The indictment notes Kennedy filed for a refund for 1953, a year he spent in the Tennessee State Penitentiary.

Symptoms Match

Says Distressed Student
Similar to Combat Case

EAST LANSING (U) — An expert says many college students when placed under academic stress suffer an emotional disturbance similar to battle fatigue.

Dr. Byron Casey, a psychiatrist and mental health director of the Michigan State University Health Service, said this disturbance might account for as many as one half of student drop outs from college.

College stress differs from battle fatigue, he said, because of its source.

"But from the symptoms alone you can't tell what the source is. It might be fear of combat. It might be fear of failing a course or trouble with the family," Casey said.

"Everyone has a certain amount of tension. For some, the tension becomes too great. They become jittery and depressed, can't sleep and can't concentrate."

If all students who needed help turned in, he said, the health service would have triple its present load. About 600 students a year now seek assistance.

"When a student asks for help, we talk to him to help him clarify his thinking—to put first things first," he related.

"Quiet discussions and soothing medicines help. Sometimes the person is so fatigued that we put him in the hospital under mild sedation to help him catch up on his sleep. This is like the treatment for combat fatigue."

Eventually, the central problem is isolated, he said, and once it is clarified sufficiently, the student usually is able to deal with it adequately, and symptoms disappear.

Once in a while, brief hospitalization in a mental institution is required, but ordinarily the student returns and resumes classes. Casey estimates that he and four other members of his staff spend about six hours with each student, and that 98 per cent are ready to return to classwork after treatment.

Hypnosis Eases Allergy

LONDON — Doctors at a West London hospital report that a 27-year-old housewife recently was relieved of long-standing allergic asthma and hay fever by hypnosis. Skin tests, they report, confirmed that after hypnotic treatment she had a decreased sensitivity to allergens to which she had previously been sensitive. But tests with a nonallergic volunteer, in whom serum from the patient's blood was inoculated, showed that "allergic antibodies" were still present in the patient's blood.

Even More Wonderful in Fact than Fame!

If you number just one Cadillac owner among your acquaintances, then we would wager that you've heard the wonderful Cadillac story for 1958.

In all probability you've been told of its brilliant performance ... and of its marvelous Fleetwood luxury ... and of its great practicality.

And perhaps you've wondered if any motor car could embody so many virtues—in such abundant measure—in a single year.

Well, what an eloquent answer the magnificent new Cadillac could give to that conjecture!

In fact, a single hour at its wheel would tell you, beyond any doubt, that this "car of cars" is even more wonderful in fact than in fame!

Surely, there is no adequate way to describe the way a new Cadillac rides and handles—so smooth and quiet and effortless that even the longest journey is an occasion for rest and relaxation.

And certainly, only the experience itself can reveal the pleasure of commanding a motor car that is so respected by the world's motorists.

Those discoveries are reserved for the man who takes the wheel for himself. And if you have not already done so, then you should delay no longer.

Your Cadillac dealer will be happy to acquaint you with all the facts about the many Cadillac models, including the distinguished Eldorado Brougham.

Why not pay him a visit tomorrow?

Follow These Rules for Wedding Stories

With the current rush of brides, the Women's Department of The Pontiac Press once again offers several suggestions for a complete and timely wedding story.

We suggest you follow the guide below:

1. The wedding blank should be returned to The Press at least two days before the wedding, as this amount of time is needed for handling such detailed stories. (Those received more than two days after a wedding will not carry details.

2. Because of limited space, The Press can not publish every picture received, particularly during bridal seasons.

3. There must be two months between engagement and wedding pictures.

4. Photographs should be black and white glossy prints. Snapshots are not acceptable.

5. A complete address must be written on the back of each picture that is to be returned.

6. The Press will not assume responsibility for loss or damage to photographs.

St. George Group Sets Scene for Nautical Dance

Members of the St. George GOYA Chapter will hold their sixth annual "Septemberama Dance" Sunday at the Hellenic Hall, with a cruiser atmosphere planned for the affair. Here, committee heads lend a hand with the decorating. On the ladder is Sam Gabriel. Moshoula Athanas holds the netting, while Ann Savvas readies a ship's wheel for display.

Pontiac Press Photos

The nautical motif in decorations for the Septemberama Dance promises to be well carried out with workers busily gathering and arranging displays and props. Christine George (left), with the poster, Antigone Papanichola (center), dance chairman, and Shirley Pantel are busily engaged in dance plans. Proceeds from the affair will benefit the group's building fund.

Past Presidents Honored 65 Attend Pontiac Women's Club Event

Sixty-five members and guests of the Pontiac Woman's Club met at Bethany Baptist Church Monday for Past Presidents Day and a fall luncheon. Mrs. H. N. Watson introduced past presidents and presented each with a corsage. Plans were made for a Men's and Guest Night dinner to be held Oct. 20 at the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

The group voted membership in the newly organized Oakland County Chapter of the American Association of the United Nations. Two delegates from the club will be sent to the association's meeting, the date and place of which have not yet been determined.

Mrs. Potter, wife of Sen. Charles E. Potter, who was present at the gathering, spoke briefly of the advantages of seniority in Congress. Mrs. E. J. Kempf reviewed the book "Apple in the Attic."

Luncheon chairman was Mrs. Earl A. Eddy. Her committee included Mrs. Harry D. Chapman, Mrs. Ira Alvin, Mrs. F. R. Alspaugh, Mrs. Edgar Learned, Mrs. William Mustard, Mrs. Howard D. Hall, Mrs. George Spotts and Mrs. Charles Topham.

Foods May Gratify Emotions

NEW YORK — Over 30 million Americans are over-weight and most of them have tried to diet — unsuccessfully. Since the major factor in over-weight is over-eating, the important question to them is why they over-eat.

A magazine article reveals all do not over-eat for the same reasons. To some it is a vicarious means of obtaining emotional satisfaction. To others food is a symbol of strength and security or an expression of hostility and self-punishment. And to still others it represents an impregnable wall of defense.

You can stick to a diet by recognizing why you over-eat, by giving yourself a motivation to reduce, by setting up a reasonable goal in pounds, by realizing that it is quite natural to occasionally break a diet, and finally, by choosing a sensible diet for your successful reducing.

Virginia Pasugnod and Michael Yapo were married Saturday morning at St. Vincent de Paul Church. Parents of the couple are Mrs. Robert Hinojosa and Esteban Pasugnod and the George Yapos.

MR. and MRS. MICHAEL YAPO

Wed in St. Vincent Rite

St. Vincent de Paul Church was the scene of the wedding Saturday morning of Virginia Pasugnod and Michael Yapo. The Rev. James F. Sheehan officiated at the ceremony before 300 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Hinojosa of Raeburn avenue and Esteban Pasugnod of Ferry Avenue. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Yapo of Wall street.

A floor-length gown of imported Swiss organdy, featuring an Empire waist and Sabrina neckline, was worn by the bride. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was held by a crown of illusion and seed pearls. On a prayer book which carried a bouquet of white sweetheart roses centered by a white orchid.

Sandra Lee Pasugnod was her sister's maid of honor with bridesmaids Andrea J. Michu, Jeanne Andrews and Celia Cruz.

Ruth Ellen Hinojosa, another of the bride's sisters, was junior maid of honor. Flower girl was Robin Aputen.

Armand Salvatoriello of Detroit was best man. Ushers were William Barnett, Al Capogna, and Robert Yapo. The bride's brother Robert Hinojosa was ring bearer.

Dinner Planned by Auxiliary

The September meeting of the Typographical Auxiliary was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Reginald Rieth.

A cooperative dinner was planned for the October meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Phares. Mrs. Nile McCaffrey is chairman of the dinner. Mrs. Maude Ashwin, convention delegate, gave a report of the Typographical convention.

Laura Ballard Speaks Vows in Baptist Rite

Married Sunday were Laura Mae Ballard and Lawrence Washington. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ballard of Crestwood drive, and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Washington of Detroit. The Rev. Ames Johnson officiated at Trinity Baptist Church.

The bride chose a gown of Alencon lace and silk taffeta accented with seed pearls and sequins. The full skirt ended in a chapel-length train. She carried a white orchid, stephanotis and ivy on a white Prayerbook.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Augustine Wright. Bridesmaids were Lillie B. Johnson, Mary Washington, Gladys Washington and Jessica Ramsey. Flower girls were Bonnie and Jean Coleman. Daniel Quence was ring bearer.

Best man was Preston Washington of Chicago, and ushers were Joel Hatchett, Stuart Payne, Amos Bailey, Joe Anderson, Eddie McDonald, Edward Drayton and Rufus Anderson. A reception was held in the church parlor.

For a honeymoon to Chicago and in Canada, the bride changed to a pale green suit with rust accessories and a white orchid.

Guild Tea Held

St. Hugo of the Hills Altar Guild held a tea Tuesday afternoon at the Bloomfield Hills home of Mrs. John J. Raymond to welcome new members to the parish.

Minimize Them

Petty Irritations Can Affect Health

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

We seldom stop to think how much fatigue is produced and that a large amount of energy is consumed by the small irritations of everyday life. These add up to an important total and have a devastating effect on our health and appearance.

These irritations may be so petty that we fail to realize how drastically they affect us. Maybe you are irritated by a squeaky door in your house, by the blaring of a neighbor's radio or television, by the constant yapping of a neighbor's dog, by constant interruptions when you are trying to complete a task, or life may become hectic because you never can find anything you need.

Perhaps a member or members of your family may have the diabolical habit of never putting anything back where it belongs after using it. There's usually one in every family. Your life may be a constant search for nail files, scissors, tape measure, comb, the telephone directory, or car keys.

It really would give us a pick-up in energy if we could solve some of these petty annoyances. For instance, we could lock our cosmetics and grooming aids in a drawer, we could chain telephone directories in place, and we could take time to oil the squeaky door.

However, even when we do take such measures, we do not always win. For instance, it is almost impossible for me to keep pens and pencils in my office. Therefore, my husband bought me a desk set which was secured to the desk, the pen being chained to the base. What happened? Someone broke the chain and the pen has long since gone.

Often certain mannerisms or characteristics of those we must be in constant contact with are irritating. If this is your situation, it seems to me that there are only two courses open. One is to talk it over with the individual; the other is to change your own attitude toward it—just take it for granted and ignore it.

A happy outlook, an easygoing attitude, and the habit of looking for elements of humor in fretting situations will go a long way toward keeping our faces unlined and our energy at a high level.

If these small irritations take a terrific amount of energy, it is hard to imagine what real worries do to us.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Worry" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 64. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Fay Donelson of Voorheis road opened her home at a family picnic for members of the Teachers Exchange Club.

Members voted to continue the annual contribution of the club to the emergency dental service for Pontiac children. Mrs. Elmer Thorpe and Mrs. Mary Wagner were chosen delegates to the Greater Pontiac Community Advisory Council.

Assisting Miss Donelson as hostess were Mrs. H. Erwin Gottschalk, Mrs. Mary Wagner, Mrs. Wilson Roback and Mrs. Irene Albright.

Couple Married in Muskegon on Saturday

Dalto H. Mosure of North Saginaw street and Gwendolyn Webster of Muskegon were married Saturday in a ceremony at First Presbyterian Church of Muskegon.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Leroy A. Marx of Manchester and Lloyd S. Mosure of Parkhill, Ont.

A reception was held in the church parlor following which the new Mrs. Mosure changed to a lavender print dress with a harmonizing tweed coat for a trip to northern Michigan.

The couple will live on North Saginaw street. After Nov. 1 they will spend the winter in Tampa, Fla.

MR. and MRS. ALBERT LEO EZELL

Ezell-Bunker Vows Said

Leilla Catherine Bunker and Albert Leo Ezell were married Saturday morning at St. Linus Catholic Church, Dearborn. The Rev. Maurice Versey officiated at the Nuptial High Mass.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bunker of Pontiac. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ezell of Drayton Plains.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of rose point lace and tulle over satin. The train was chapel length. A seeded pearl tiara held her imported English silk illusion veil. On a misal of white mother-of-pearl, she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Ralph White was her sister's matron of honor. Nancy Ann Newcombe was flower girl. She carried a satin basket of leafed carnations.

John Newcombe of Drayton Plains was best man. Ushers were Gerald Ezell, the bridegroom's brother, and Ralph White, the bride's brother-in-law. Thomas Newcombe was ringbearer.

A luncheon was held for the immediate family and close friends at Ted's Restaurant and a reception was held in the evening at Pontiac Township Hall.

When the couple left for a honeymoon to Upper Michigan, the new Mrs. Ezell was wearing a gray box jacket and pleated skirt with black patent leather accessories and the

Young Coiffures

This is the year of youth in hair fashions. Taper off the long, long locks that could only be pulled back into an "old" knot. Have it tapered to a new length (about 9 inches) that lets you do a multitude of new styles. From this length it can be shortened with tight curl, lengthened with loose soft waves or upturned ends.

Keep it bright with frequent shampoos and occasional rinses.

Explain Situation in Letter

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently our club had a formal installation of officers. As there is no national or state officer within over a 100 miles of us, we asked one of our own officers to preside over the installation of officers. She is a widow and works, but she gave her free time for rehearsal with us and completely memorized the long service.

"The night of the installation, our state commander arrived unexpectedly. We gave her a corsage, had her escorted to the platform and called on her to speak, but some of our members thought we were wrong in not asking her to take over the installation of officers.

"They let her proceed mostly because of my objections but still think it was unpardonably rude not to let the state commander take over this duty, and that a note of apology should be written to her. I would very much like to have your opinion as it is causing quite a good deal of comment."

Answer: The situation should have been explained to the state commander upon her arrival, and she should have been asked to make the decision. As things are, I think it would be well to write a note of explanation and apologize to her.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I do not drink wine or any other alcoholic beverage. Very often when I am invited to a dinner party, wine is served. Would it be proper for me to turn my glass upside down indicating that I do not wish any and thereby preventing wine from being poured into it—and wasted?"

Answer: No, the correct thing to do is to watch and say, "No thank you," before anyone pours any wine for you.

Dear Abby . . .

Customs Puzzle Japanese Bride

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I came from Tokyo as a Japanese war bride. I am 36 years old and have two children. Ten out of ten people say I look 10 years younger than my years. Back in Tokyo this remark is meant as a compliment. Therefore, I always say 'Thank you,' softly and think nothing of it.

"However, I suddenly began to wonder if it is not a compliment but an insult in this country and perhaps I am making a grave mistake when I say, 'Thank you.' Please what is the proper attitude to take?"

ABBY

DEAR MICHICO: Youth is envied all over the world. When one is said to appear 10 years younger than her age, it is indeed a compliment.

"DEAR ABBY: I have been a sales person in women's dresses for 22 years and I still want to know what the customer means when she says, 'That is not what I had in mind?' I show them dresses that are the latest fashion and when they try them on they look simply beautiful, and still they look in the mirror and turn around and say, 'Sorry—that is not what I had in mind.' If they want a dress of a certain color or style, I bring it. I never misfit anybody. Now, if they don't want to buy a dress, what are they doing in a dress shop? Can YOU tell me what they had in mind?"

SALES PERSON
DEAR SALES PERSON: They are probably just killing time—and the only thing they had in mind was to drive you out of yours.

"DEAR ABBY: When a boy calls me up and asks me to go somewhere and I don't want to go with him, I never know what to say. I usually stutter a little and make an excuse like, 'We're having company.' My father says I should just tell them I don't want to go out with them, but that's too embarrassing. What is your advice?"

STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: It is too unkind to tell a boy bluntly that you don't want to go out with him. An excuse (like the one you offer) is more gentle. After you've turned down a boy three or four times, he will catch on and give up. In the meantime, he's salvaged his pride.

"DEAR ABBY: To the party who wanted to know how to keep the cat from chewing up the furniture: Any pet shop will sell you a 'clawing board,' which is just a board about two feet tall with a piece of carpet tacked onto it. It has catnip inside to attract the cat. When the cat claws the furniture, take her to the board with a sharp command and show her what it is for."

CAT'S FRIEND

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CONVINCED": Your fortune-telling friend may have guessed right but she is getting her information from left field. If anyone had the power to predict the future, we could have avoided the Chicago fire, the sinking of the Andrea Doria and Pearl Harbor, to name only a few catastrophes. Use your noggin!

CONFIDENTIAL TO CITY DWELLER: While you are pointing your finger at your neighbor, look at your hand. You will find three pointing at yourself.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

DOGGONE GOOD — "Folly" — the collie, is being congratulated by her master Tom Peterson of 6140 Andersonville Rd., Waterford Township on a fine review-performance. The pure-bred dog was one of many who learned to "sit, stay, and heel," during last year's course at the Community Activities Center. New classes in Dog Obedience Training will begin at 8 tonight in conjunction with the Recreation department and the Southern Michigan Dog Obedience Training club.

Host of Rockets to Mars Possible Within 2 Years

By JOHN A. BARBOUR
AP Science Writer
DETROIT (AP) — A monster team of rockets with power enough to boost a one-ton space capsule toward Mars could be within reach in little more than a year.

That's the indication from the men who make powerhouses for most of the major U.S. military missiles.

Scientists at Rocketdyne Division of North American Aviation, Inc., are working on two contracts for huge rocket complexes of 1 to 1½ million pounds thrust.

Either could boost a Mars-bound space bullet or land a 2,000-pound package on the moon.

Spokesmen for Rocketdyne, here for a meeting of the American Rocket Society, told newsmen that the latest contract, announced last week by the Army, would be a sort of short cut. It calls for clustering several rocket engines like those that power U.S. 1,500-mile ballistic missiles such as the Thor and Jupiter.

It is the basic Rocketdyne engine that powers most of the U.S. missiles in operation or nearing operation. The engine develops 150,000 pounds of thrust. Ten of these in a proper cluster could develop 1½ million pounds of thrust.

The other contract for a huge rocket engine at Rocketdyne was let this summer by the Air Force. It calls for developing from scratch a new rocket engine with up to 1½ million pounds of thrust.

Four such engines bound together could carry a 31,000-pound satellite around the moon or put a 150,000-pound satellite into orbit around the earth some 300 miles high.

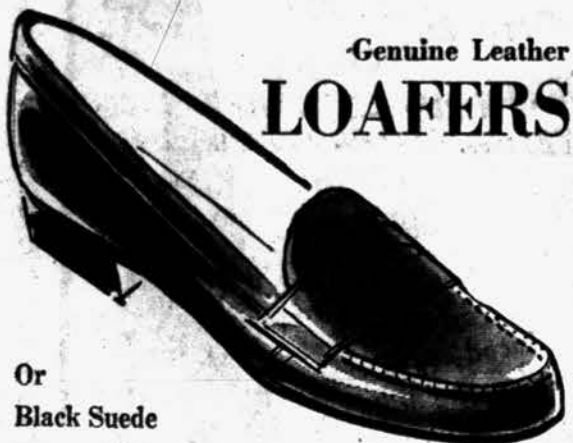

But George P. Sutton, chief of advanced design for Rocketdyne, said that under normal conditions it might take something like five years to develop a new engine from the drawing board stage.

With the Army contract calling for a cluster of already proved rocket engines, a power plant with major space capabilities could be ready within a fraction of that time, a Rocketdyne official said. He said it was conceivable that such a rocket engine could be proved feasible in about a year.

After battling the Sunday traffic, one driver says that the nice thing about the horse and buggy days was that not everybody owned a horse and buggy. . . . Before you start questioning your boss' intelligence and judgment, remember: He hired you. —Earl Wilson.

'State Won't Intervene in Auto Talks'

SAULT STE MARIE (AP)—Gov. Williams said last night there will be no state intervention in the contract negotiations between the United Auto Workers Union and the Big Three.

Williams conferred repeatedly by telephone yesterday with three labor relations experts he appointed to advise him on possible state action in the auto talks. He also conferred with his personal observer Circuit Judge George E. Bowles.

"Throughout these automobile negotiations it has been my belief that the parties involved should bear the responsibility of working out their own settlement without government intervention," Williams said, "but in view of the public interest I have also felt it my duty to keep informed and to be ready with any assistance which appeared to be needed."

"The situation has been very carefully surveyed and I have been in almost constant touch with the committee of advisers all day. It appears from their exploration that there is no state action which can be taken at this time with any hope of helping the situation."

Butler Lashes Foe of Reuther

Says Pamphlet Author
Once Accused Like of Being Communist

OGDEN, Utah (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said last night that the author of a pamphlet attacking Walter Reuther had once called President Eisenhower a Communist.

Butler referred to Joseph Kamp of Westport, Conn., author of a pamphlet entitled "Meet the Man Who Plans to Rule America." The pamphlet is about Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union.

"Is the Republican party going to approve this kind of campaigning?" Butler asked at a Democratic rally here. He called the pamphlet a "vicious, scurrilous attack on one of the nation's top labor leaders."

He also criticized Mrs. William F. Knowland, wife of Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) for endorsing it in "an effort to promote her husband's position."

The New York Times said a group of Eastern industrialists had financed distribution of thousands of the pamphlets in California to help Knowland in his race for governor. Kamp denied the report.

The Times said Mrs. Knowland told the newspaper she was unaware of Kamp's background.

Kamp is a veteran pamphleteer for right-wing causes. He once served a jail term for contempt of Congress.

Butler didn't say when or where Kamp called Eisenhower a Communist.

Kamp has said he published a pamphlet criticizing Eisenhower during the 1952 presidential campaign.

More than 40 nations throughout the world receiving United States military assistance have spent for their defense about $5 for every dollar contributed by the United States.

4-Year-Old Boy
Burglarizes Way Into Own Home

LANING (UPI)—No one knows how he did it, but a four-year-old boy outsmarted sheriff's deputies and Lansing Police yesterday.

Calvin Gaynor's mother left the youngster at a baby sister's house. The baby sister watched the boy for a while, but during an unguarded moment the lad slipped away.

The baby sitter phoned police. Police phoned the sheriff's office. The two law enforcement agencies combed the city.

Then young Cal's mother phoned the police. "I know I locked the door when we left," she said, "but somehow Cal slipped through it."

She had found him asleep in his own bed.

JAMES L. WEATHERLY
MILFORD — Service for James L. Weatherly, 74, of 3945 Van Stone Dr., will be held 1 p.m. Friday at the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home, Walled Lake. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Mr. Weatherly died Tuesday at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital following a long illness. He was a member of the Multi-Lakes Conservation Assn.

Surviving are his wife, Maude; two sons, James E. and John L., both of Commerce; three daughters, Mrs. Beulah Stry of Detroit, Mrs. Madeline Frasier of Longdale, Calif., and Mrs. Gladys Silver of Commerce and 11 grandchildren.

Police Catch Culprits Attempting to Sell Loot

TOKYO (UPI) — When thieves broke into the warehouse at the U.S. Showa Air Force Base and made away with 22 sets of golf clubs and 99 dozen golf balls Aug. 18 police were sure they would catch the culprits.

Today they announced they had arrested four suspects merely by keeping watch on sporting goods stores and waiting for the thieves to show up and try to sell their loot. They reported the arrest of two American sergeants, the Japanese wife of one sergeant and a "non-Japanese salesman."

Elvis Presley Parting Creates Traffic Jams

KILEEN, Texas (UPI) — Elvis Presley fans have been creating traffic jams in Kileen in their last minute attempts to get a look at the rock 'n' roller before the Army ships him off to Germany Friday as a truck driver.

Police reported that over 100 cars jammed the streets last night around the house Presley and his father rented here, near Fort Hood, where Presley has been stationed. Some neighbors complained that cars have driven across their front lawns.

With Government aid a council has been set up to promote the exporting of Indian chemicals and allied products. It will undertake market studies in foreign countries, send trade missions abroad, and collect and disseminate among exporters statistical and other information about pharmaceuticals and allied products.

Tourists Find Varied Attractions

Formosa Reveals China in Miniature

TAIPEI (UPI) — Taiwan (Formosa), the island stronghold of Nationalist China, is the only Chinese territory open to American tourists.

For the visitor, it is actually China in a nutshell, thanks to the vast representation among its population of people and customs from all parts of China. The upheaval on the mainland nine years ago when the Communists completed their conquest, brought more than two millions refugees to Taiwan.

Taiwan is now well-launched into the complexities of a growing industrial economy, of an agricultural development that produces food in surplus quantities, and finally into the mood for attracting tourists.

Lying directly on the airways between Tokyo to the north and Hong Kong and Manila to the south, Taiwan has become a natural and worthwhile stopover point for the Far Eastern tourist.

Food is cheap and plentiful. Restaurants specialize in the cuisine of the various Chinese regions—everything from Mongolian barbecue to Cantonese dumplings, pork, beef, chicken, and fish spiced and bedazzled with sauces that impart tastes as indescribable as a fourth primary color.

SEE CHINESE OPERA

Every visitor to Taiwan should see a Chinese opera, a rigidly stylized story largely without props or backdrops, wherein the performers can indicate everything from a shipwreck to a battle by pantomime, while the music goes on and on.

Tourists can visit the shrines of Islam, Confucius, and Buddha here, and they can find Christian churches as well.

The Japanese influence is also much apparent (Japan occupied Taiwan from 1895 to 1945). A charming park of miniature gardens and pools stocked with carp is located atop Grass Mountain, a favorite resort area for both Americans and Chinese. Here the hostilities offer sulphur baths and sliding doors in addition to their Chinese and Japanese decor, plus the kind of service Americans don't find at home.

GOOD PAVED ROADS

Out on the island south from Taipei the visitor will find wide, paved roads down the west coast, traversing agricultural country (mainly rice lands) of intricate patterns and shadings of green. The landscape is a patchwork of compact, intensively cultivated farms, broken by occasional towns and industrial areas.

The motorist driving south from Taipei along the east coast will run into spectacularly different country: a one-way highway takes him along the 6,000-foot cliffs that line Taiwan's eastern shore, one of the highest sea-side drives on earth.

In the center of Taiwan, much like a miniature Cour d'Alene, Taiwan's Sun-Moon Lake is framed by wooded blue-green mountains. This favorite resort area is rimmed by mountains that are part of a range covering most of the eastern two-thirds of the 250-mile long island. A road linking the west coast highway to the precipitous east coast highway is now under construction.

U. of M. Students Expected to Feel Money Shortage

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — College students will feel the money pinch more than ever before this year, according to University of Michigan officials.

Costs for students are about the same as last year — $1,500 to $2,000 or more for nine months.

However, students who planned to help pay part of their expenses by working will find jobs very scarce. For example, the number of full-time summer jobs off-campus filled by the U. of M. personnel office the past summer dwindled from 46 in 1957 to only four.

Escaped Blimp Perils Airliners

Floats Unmanned for Six Hours in Busy Sky Route Near Georgia

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP) — A runaway Navy blimp soared free and unmanned for six hours in one of the nation's busiest airline routes yesterday and then settled back to earth by itself.

The big craft came down about 25 miles east of nearby Glynn County Naval Air Station, start of the strange joy ride, just as authorities considered shooting it down as a menace to planes on the New York-Miami route.

Other blimps, helicopters and planes kept the runaway under observation during its flight to a height of about 7,500 feet a mile west of Sapelo Island off the Georgia coast.

The blimp's escape began when the pilot lost rudder control during takeoff and brought the craft in for an emergency landing, the Navy said. The blimp hit the ground so hard that gasoline tanks ruptured and the fuel drained out.

That lightened the 287-foot craft so much that the harried 10-man crew had to release helium to get the bucking blimp to earth again. Then the engines failed.

The crew leaped out, tried to moor the blimp but it slipped free and was gone.

A Navy spokesman said that apparently a helium escape valve, which the crew pulled, finally did its job, bringing the blimp down without assistance.

Output per man-hour in France is more than 30 per cent higher now than in 1949. The increase is higher than in any other Western nation.

Closing of High Schools in Little Rock No Glad Holiday for Students or Parents

By ADREN COOPER
and CLIFTON WELLS
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — For the kids, it's no holiday . . . and certainly not for the parents.

The proclamation that closed four high schools has not clogged the streets with boisterous teenagers. Most of them remain at home, waiting and wondering.

Sure, it's an extension of summer vacation, but the youngsters talk in terms of how soon they can resume their education—and they speak in restrained, serious tones.

Most concerned are students only one or two years away from a diploma.

"I just can't believe it's happening," said Mrs. Weldon Wallace, mother of 17-year-old Bob Wallace, a senior at Central High.

It seems superfluous to say that the great majority of students and parents are opposed to racially integrated schools—and the only choice now seems to be between integration and private schools.

Mrs. Wallace, a nurse, said: "He did want to finish at Central, but he heard that the school might not be accredited and it has upset him quite a bit. He wants to go to college and he might have to go to Phoenix, Ariz. and live with my folks. Maybe I'll go with him and work out there—we've made no definite plans."

Bob normally works after school and during the summer at a grocery store and he is continuing his job for the present.

Would he attend Central if classes are continued with Negroes and whites in the classrooms?

"He told me that he could go back to Central," Mrs. Wallace said. "He told me that he could cope with the situation, although the crowds outside bothered him some last year."

Only a small percentage of students have made definite plans for transfers. In most cases, there is no place to go. A few plan to attend private schools in other states—obviously a financial hardship for most parents, a few talked about moving to other cities to live with relatives, and some rural students who paid tuition to attend Little Rock Central will return to the rural schools.

Supt. Virgil Blossom said that out of 2,071 students enrolled at Central, only 54 had requested transcripts of the grades (indicating a transfer) and only 44 had done so among the 731 enrolled at Hall High. There apparently have been no transfers from among the 179 at Tech High, or the 717 at Horace Mann High School.

Central was forcibly integrated during the past school year. Hall and Tech are white schools and Horace Mann is all-Negro.

Some students expressed confidence in Gov. Orval E. Faubus' ability to solve the dilemma.

"It's awful dull," said Judy Green, a senior at Hall. "No football, no nothin'."

Judy, daughter of Little Rock furrier Milton Green, and some of her classmates have been investigating an offer by Hendrix College of Conway, Ark., to admit some seniors whose grades are good and who have a few extra credits on their records.

Judy's mother was pessimistic about this prospect and said she was considering sending Judy to live with relatives in Houston, Tex.

"I didn't get very worked up about it until this week," said Mrs. Green. "I thought they would open them by this week. But even if the schools open there's going to be trouble. It can't be right."

Fred Dunaway, 19, a senior, said: "I have been working most of the time. I plan to wait and see what the governor does—I'm with him."

"Since there is no place else to go, I suppose I'll go back to Central," said Martha Sue Dilbeck, a 16-year-old junior and daughter of city detective John C. Dilbeck. "I've found plenty to do—playing the piano quite a bit of the time . . . I do want to go back to school."

Elizabeth Dolan, 17, a junior at Central, said she wouldn't return to the school if it remains integrated.

"I wouldn't go through that again," she said. "Please say that I'm not against Negroes—just against the nine at Central—and those others who are trying to interfere."

Aids Missile Tracking

Radiation Is Keeping Man Out of Space

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Man's first space journey has been indefinitely postponed. Too much radiation.

So says Dr. Albert R. Hibbs, chief of research analysis at Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory. A band of radiation surrounding the earth is much more intense than was believed, he reported yesterday.

Dr. Hibbs, back from the International Astronautical Federation convention in Amsterdam, said the intensity was disclosed by the U.S. satellites Explorers I and II and reported in detail by Explorer IV.

He told a California Disaster Office meeting: "Until we can set the boundaries for this radiation field, we cannot even estimate the amount of protective shielding which will be required to enable a man to travel safely through this extremely hostile environment."

An electronic "noise detector" has been developed by a Groton, Mass., company for locating troublesome noise sources in rotating machinery.

Ike's Administration Waging War of Nerves at Home and Abroad

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration is now waging a war of nerves at home and abroad.

Overseas, it's against the Red Chinese. At home, it's against state governors who are trying to prevent integration of public schools.

In both cases it's administration policy not to fire the first shot—real abroad, legal at home—in the hope pressure will win the day.

President Eisenhower has warned the Chinese Communists not to get so tough as to try to take the Quemoy and Matsu islands by force.

The governors of Arkansas and Virginia, acting under state laws, have closed public schools ordered integrated by federal judges.

The administration, instead of starting court action to force reopening, is waiting for pressure within the states to build up for reopening.

The hope, of course, is that white parents, seeing the days pass without education for their children, will pressure their state governments into opening the schools, even if it means integration.

At the moment both sides—the state and federal governments—appear to be looking at each other over the barricades, waiting for the next move.

This leaves the people of Arkansas and Virginia somewhat bewildered as to what to expect next.

They're no more bewildered than Washington newsmen, who've been wondering the same thing and getting no answers.

That is, until yesterday.

Atty. Gen. Rogers flew up to a conference with Eisenhower at Newport, R.I., yesterday, and met with newsmen.

It was then he unveiled the administration's wait-and-see attitude on the closed schools.

The administration, he said, will take whatever legal action it can to get the schools opened if local authorities fail to do so, but—

He said the present strategy is to hold up on federal action "at this time" in the hope public pressure will force reopenings in Arkansas and Virginia.

Reports from those states, he said, "indicate that the serious impact of what it means to have the public schools closed is beginning to be keenly felt and its significance more fully appreciated."

Gov. Orval E. Faubus may already be feeling pressure from the white parents of Little Rock but he said this had nothing to do with what he did yesterday.

This is what he did: he shoved ahead—from Oct. 7 to Sept. 27—the date on which Little Rock voters will ballot on whether they want racial integration of all the public schools. He's just closed all the public high schools in Little Rock.

The longer Faubus waited for the voting, the stronger the pressure might become. But the reason he gave for setting the voting ahead was this:

Voters in September can use current voting lists; after Oct. 1 new lists would be needed.

It's hard to see the practical effect of a "no" vote, since the Supreme Court last Friday refused to delay earlier orders for integration at Central High School.

But two can play in a war of nerves. And the Eisenhower administration can only hope things get better instead of worse in Arkansas and Virginia, as well as around Quemoy and Matsu.

Worker's Companion Drowns Escapes Watery Grave

COUGAR, Wash. (AP)—A Portland steelworker was swept by raging waters into a dark dam diversion tunnel yesterday. He clung to a watery perch for seven hours.

After frantic efforts to rescue him failed, Charles R. McGhee swam with the current more than 2,000 feet to safety at the other end.

A companion, Earl Snodderly, 31, Portland, was drowned.

McGhee, 33, Snodderly and Frank Moser, of Beaverton, Ore., were thrown into the water near the mouth of the Swift hydroelectric project on the Lewis River at 11:40 a.m., when a beam they were riding suddenly dropped.

Moser was pulled to safety by other workers. Minutes later, Snodderly's body appeared at the other end of the 2,900-foot tunnel. Then frantic efforts began to rescue McGhee, who could be seen some 400 feet inside the tunnel—knee deep in frigid water and clinging to a steel rod that had been left there when workmen drilled the diversion burrow through a mountain.

Several attempts were made to float boats and rafts, with ropes attached, down to McGhee. But the rafts smashed up as they rammed against the sides of the 35-foot-wide tunnel.

Later in the day a rescue team from the Portland air base arrived with a large liferaft. The airman attempted to shoot the rapids in the tunnel, hoping to match McGhee as they passed by him. But the current upended the raft and both the airman—1st Lt. Arthur Bennett and Ssgt. Richard Grigby, both of Portland—were swept through the entire length of the tunnel. Both were banged up but not seriously injured.

Then McGhee, apparently seeing that his chances of rescue by raft were slim, decided to jump and take his chances. Shouting, "Here I come, Here I come," he plunged into the dark rapids at 6:40 p.m.

Later, at a hospital, he said he prayed all the way through the tunnel and "all the time I was in there." A nurse at the hospital quoted him as saying: "I was under water for at least a hundred feet. And I was swept under a number of times as I was washed out of there."

McGhee appeared to be in good condition despite his ordeal.

Says Polio Shots Cutting Severity

State Health Official
Notes 3 Inoculations
Give 90 Pct. Protection

LANSING (AP) — A state health official says only 11 Michigan polio victims who received a full course of immunizing shots have suffered crippling attacks of the disease.

And in most of these cases, the severity of paralysis was not as great as usually occurs in an unvaccinated victim, said Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner.

Heustis cited the figures yesterday in urging unprotected adults and children to take polio shots without delay.

"We know for sure that three doses of polio vaccine give about 90 per cent protection against crippling polio," he said.

"It's the cheapest and best defense you can get against having someone in your own family needlessly end up in an iron lung or a wheel chair."

The health commissioner observed that polio cases reported in Detroit and Wayne County this year are nearly triple the number in the remainder of the state.

But he said polio is erratic and there was no way to tell where it might strike next.

Children in Syracuse
Learn Habit of Saving

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI) — School children in Syracuse and Onondaga County saved more than one million dollars in the 1957-58 academic year.

Banks participating in a local school savings system said the pupils' average deposit was $1.37 and the accounts averaged $36.

Officials said the children, from about 100 schools, stashed away $1,277,000 during the year.

Judge Frees 6 Communists

High Court Decision
Forces Release of Top
Detroit Reds

BAY CITY (UPI) — Federal Judge Frank A. Picard "reluctantly" dismissed indictments against six top Detroit Communists yesterday.

Picard acted after Federal Attorney Fred W. Kaess was forced to ask that the case be tossed out in view of a decision by the U.S. Supreme Court. The six were accused of conspiring to advocate violent overthrow of the government.

"I do this reluctantly," Picard said as he dismissed the charges. "The Supreme Court and I disagree," he added.

Admitted Communists, the six were convicted in 1954 and fined $10,000 and sentenced to 4½ years in federal prison.

The Federal Court of Appeals in Cincinnati upheld the convictions, but they were reversed by the Supreme Court.

The nation's highest tribunal held that an overt act must be proved and that the statute of limitations had expired in the case.

After dismissing the indictments, Picard also canceled bonds of $1,000 to $5,000 on Billy Allan, Mrs. Helen Mary Winter, Saul Wellman, Nay Ganley, Thomas Dennis Jr. and Philip Schatz.

The court action yesterday was hailed by Schatz as a "victory for our bill of rights and constitution."

Election Muddle Ends Right Where It Began

WATERBURY, Vt. (UPI)—After James Eldredge was re-elected to the water commission here, officials realized he shouldn't have been a candidate because he still had a year to serve on his old term.

So Paul Bigelow, who should have been the candidate because his term had expired, was named to the post instead. Eldredge, his election nullified, will remain on the commission for the year he was entitled to.

Republican Thrift a Myth---Truman

NEW YORK (AP) — Harry S. Truman said today "the myth of Democratic extravagance and Republican thrift would be exploded" in the presidency, the budget has shown a surplus in two years only, and the net deficit for the period — until fiscal 1959 — is over six billion dollars. For fiscal 1959 he believes a deficit of over 12 billion dollars is expected, which will be the biggest deficit in history, except for the years of World War II.

The former Democratic President, here for the start of a speech-making tour on behalf of New York state Democrats, made the remark in an address prepared for delivery at the New York Advertising Club.

The occasion was a club luncheon celebrating the 50th anniversary of the University of Missouri's School of Journalism.

Truman, whose home is in Independence, Mo., said: "The press has the job of informing the people. This is not always the same thing as 'getting the news.'"

"In great public affairs," he continued, "a practice of printing just the clashes or controversies may be a long way from informing the public as to what the issues really are."

"It is surprising what just a little factual background will do for a news story."

He said the average newspaper reader, "if you asked him, would probably tell you: (1) that Franklin D. Roosevelt and the New Deal were wildly extravagant, (2) that the Democrats never balanced the budget, (3) that the Republicans are very economical, and (4) that even if the present administration has had to carry heavy defense expenditures, it has cut domestic expenses to the bone."

"These are all myths, the legacy of 25 years of reading inadequate public information about the budget," Truman said.

He said the biggest New Deal budget before defense spending began was in 1939 and totaled $8,858,000,000. "Compare that with our present budget of 74 billion dollars," he said.

"Of course, the dollar was worth more in 1939, but even if you double and triple Roosevelt's peak New Deal budget, you don't come to more than a third of today's programs."

"And now let's take the idea that the Democrats never balance the budget," he went on. "Over the four peacetime fiscal years between 1946 through 1951, the budget ran a net surplus of over four billion dollars. In fiscal year 1951, the first year of the Korean conflict, there was a budget surplus of 3½ billion dollars."

"The great defense program of 1952 and 1953 unbalanced the budget again. But in the so-called peacetime years of my successor in the presidency, the budget has shown a surplus in two years only, and the net deficit for the period — until fiscal 1959 — is over six billion dollars. For fiscal 1959 I believe a deficit of over 12 billion dollars is expected, which will be the biggest deficit in history, except for the years of World War II."

"I cite those figures not in a spirit of partisan pride or animosity, but simply to suggest that if they were widely known, as they ought to be, the myth of Democratic extravagance and Republican thrift would be completely exploded."

Discussing Republican domestic spending, Truman said domestic outlays in his last budget—1953—totalled 21 billion. He said President Eisenhower started out with a total domestic figure of 19 billion, but that the expected domestic spending for fiscal 1959 is now expected to be 30 or 31 billion dollars.

"I am not saying, you understand, that this is necessarily bad—but it does explode a myth," he said.

Truman suggested that the press "look into the whole question of public spending and taxing, and its place in our economy." Such a look, he said, would "upset some of the things we take for granted."

Posse Pursues Girl Fleeing From Home

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Twelve-year-old Sharon Miller, who loves horses, cowboys and Western films, played the starring role yesterday in her own epic.

She kept hop, skip and jump ahead of a 75-man posse, easily outmaneuvering her heavier footed pursuers.

The little girl left home early in the morning with a sleeping bag and high-powered rifle. Before she was corralled eight hours later, she fired two shots — one into the ground, one into the air.

The chase through the foothills of the Wasatch Mountains just east of here was watched by hundreds of residents.

Officials said the youngster apparently left home because she became despondent when her brother was sent on a Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) church mission.

Audit of City Books Set for Presentation Tuesday

A report stemming from state police exposure of a bookmaking ring here Aug. 30 will be ready for presentation next Tuesday. City Manager Walter K. Willman announced to City Commissioners last night.

Commissioners called for the report after deputy city treasurer LaRue Gullett was charged with belonging to the ring and Police Chief Herbert W. Straley admitted that he had once interceded in behalf of another of its members.

This was Basil W. Burke, an ex-convict, described by state police as "kingpin" of the ring. Straley admitted once asking state parole officials to consider a parole for Burke.

City Finance Director Oscar Eckman announced that a special audit of city records had uncovered no irregularities. Commissioners called for the audit two weeks ago after Gullett's arrest.

Willman has said he doubts strongly that any illegal activities were carried on from city hall.

Commissioners, in other business, confirmed the appointment of Police Capt. Walter C. Krause as municipal court process server. Krause resigned from his police position to take over the job left vacant by the death two weeks ago of Percy G. Newman.

The city manager was authorized to sign contracts for State Highway Department reimbursement of local expenses in maintaining state turnpikes next year.

The finance director was authorized to pay the highway department $24,400 as the city's share in the cost of resurfacing and partially recurring Telegraph road from James K. boulevard to the Orchard Lake underpass.

Two new projects were placed on the public improvement program.

One is for combine sewers on both sides of E. Walton boulevard from Baldwin avenue to the Pontiac, Oxford & Northern railroad.

The other is for extension of the Featherstone road water main from Kenilworth to the extension of Jordan road.

Commissioners approved platting of the Sallee Woods Subdivision No. 2, subject to filing of proper bonds by the building company.

They turned down a request for rezoning of property along Telegraph north of the underpass from a residential classification to the new trailer park designation.

Earlier this year, the commission resolved to prevent further location of new trailer parks here and, to do this, set up the new designation over which they have sole control.

3 Youths Charged With Beating Boy, 14

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Two Detroit youths and one from Hazel Park were to be arraigned today in Mount Clemens Justice Court on charges of beating a 14-year-old Fraser boy at Yates Cider Mill at Avon and Dequindre roads yesterday afternoon.

Robert Burns of Fraser was knocked off his motor scooter and severely kicked and beaten by the trio who thought the boy and his two companions had taken their car keys, according to Romeo State Police.

The boy's two friends rode away on their scooters and were not caught.

Arrested by Romeo State Police and charged with felonious assault were Howard Heilings, 20, Harry Grant, 18, both of Detroit, and Gerald Kwas, 20, of Hazel Park.

STUDY PTA SCHEDULE — Looking over the schedule of events for the year were (from left) Mrs. Harvey Haslock, acting president of the Oakland County Council of Parent Teacher Associations; Mrs. Dale McIntyre, secretary, and Mrs. William Wright, guest speaker at the council's workshop session held yesterday at the Christ Lutheran Church, Waterford Township.

21 Oakland Schools Represented

Over 100 Attend County PTA Workshop

"Better Parent-Teacher Associations" was the theme stressed yesterday at an all-day workshop attended by more than 100 representatives from 21 schools in Oakland County. It was held at Christ Lutheran Church in Waterford Township.

Program chairman for the Michigan Congress of Parent Teacher Association, Mrs. William Wright, told the group an intensive study of conditions in Michigan schools has been compiled by a group of professional people.

After this report has been studied at various workshops scheduled throughout the county within the next few weeks, an "opinionnaire" will be distributed to each member of every PTA unit.

When they have been filled out and returned, problems dealing directly with "what we want for our children" will be studied, and through PTA units, steps to rectify certain situations will be taken, Mrs. Wright said. This would probably be over a three-year period, she added.

One of the problems at the present time is the financial equality in school systems. Mrs. Wright pointed out that some schools pay as high as $553 a pupil per year, compared to others which pay only $186 per pupil.

Teachers' pay, which averages $5,300 a year, will be studied as well as the school's financial setups. "For years PTA's have skirted these important problems," Mrs. Wright said. "It's time we squarely face the situation and do something about them."

The first regional workshop to study the report, "What's Going on in Michigan Schools," will be held at 7 p.m. Sept. 25 at Doro High School in Royal Oak.

From 9:30 a.m. yesterday until late in the afternoon, new officers and interested PTA workers learned about budget financing, programming, parent education, correct parliamentary procedure and publicity policies of The Pontiac Press.

This was the first official meeting of the Oakland County Council of Parent Teacher Associations, and Clarkson Elementary School won the coveted banner for having the biggest representation from one school, eight.

Of the 115 present, there were 58 representatives from Waterford Township schools.

First Steps Taken

To Transfer Violations Bureau

City Commissioners last night began legal steps to transfer the Traffic Violations Bureau from the Police Department to Municipal Court.

An ordinance, giving the court authority over the bureau and authorizing it to draw up rules and regulations, was introduced last night. It is scheduled to come up for final action next Tuesday and, if approved would take effect Oct. 2.

Recommended by the Public Administration Service report on the Police Department, the switch has been a subject of study by the two municipal judges and a special three-member committee from the commission.

They have patterned details of the change after the system used in the Violations Bureau of Detroit Records Court.

Plans call for establishment of a bureau office on the second floor of the Public Safety Building and location of a cashier's office on the first floor.

Traffic tickets would be payable at the cashier's cage or could be contested before the judges in court.

It is expected that the judges will appoint Leo MacDonald, court clerk, to act as referee in contested cases.

All, or nearly all, of the employees in the present Violations Bureau will be retained in the new one, City Manager Walter K. Willman said. The judges have also asked for funds to hire two warrant officers and furnish them with cars.

Willman said he is preparing a list of expenditures involved in the switch. Most of the new equipment necessary, he said, would contribute to an elaborate filing system by which records could be kept up to date.

Under the new system, traffic tickets will be handled only by the cashier or the judges and permanent records of each disposition will be made.

As an additional safeguard, the city plans a system whereby each ticket must eventually be accounted for. Packets of tickets, each with a serial number, will be issued regularly to the police by the Director of Finance.

Ford Waged Bitter Battle Against Infant Auto Union

DETROIT (AP)—Back in the infancy of the United Auto Workers Union, Ford Motor Co. put up the toughest fight of all.

General Motors and Chrysler bowed to the power of the sit-down strikes and came to terms with the UAW in 1937.

It was not until four years later that Ford, still ruled by the strong hand of the late Henry Ford, gave the UAW the right to bargain for the workers.

The final days of the UAW's struggle for recognition at Ford were marked by the bloodiest strike in the history of the auto industry.

Scores were injured in the swirling mass of thousands of striking unionists and crowds of police and anti-union Ford employees.

They fought with anything they could lay their hands on—clubs of wood, wrenches, bricks, knives, hammers and iron bars.

In the midst of the brawling strike, the union said 39 of its people were hospitalized. The company said in one announcement that 41 of its people were hurt. Many others took home bruises and minor cuts.

The unionists fought to back up the cry of their leaders, "no body in and nobody out of the plant."

About 200 workers were trapped in Ford's key Rouge plant when the strike broke out in the early morning hours of April 2, 1941. The men on the gates kept them inside for two days.

The crowd of striking unionists, estimated at 10,000 by police on one of the violent days, blocked all the plants' gates and barricaded every avenue of travel in the area—even the nearby Rouge River.

Capturing a bridge, about 30 unionists held on in chain-like

West Coast's Oystering Pulls $20 Million Yearly

PORTLAND, Ore. — The West Coast oyster industry, a $20,000,000-a-year enterprise extends from Alaska to California. The bulk is centered in Washington and Oregon.

About 250 commercial producers, each with 5 acres of tidal land or more, cultivate their crop. The best land is worth $1,000 an acre.

Antiques—Move Over!

CHARLOTTE, VI. (UPI)—Town clerk Frank Potter recently received permission to move his office from the town hall to the town museum, where there was more room.

What's Happened and When Bargaining Background

DETROIT (AP)—Here is a chronological background of the United Auto Workers union's contract talks with the Big Three:

Jan. 13—UAW President Walter Reuther presents his "profit-sharing" proposal. The plan followed Reuther's abandonment of a four-day week demand.

Jan. 23—UAW convention votes support for Reuther's demands for profit-sharing; substantial wage increases; a change in annual wage formulas, and improvement in unemployment benefits. The convention also votes for a $5 dues increase for March, April and May which it said would raise 16 million dollars for a strike fund.

March 28—Negotiations start at General Motors.

March 31—Negotiations start at Ford.

April 1—Contract talks start at Chrysler.

April 28—UAW offers to extend present contracts until September. Ford and GM offer to extend present contracts for two years.

May 1—GM estimates UAW demands at 73 cents an hour and hints it might improve unemployment benefits.

May 20—Ford Motor Co. says it is willing to keep its plants open if no new contract is signed by June 1.

May 23—Reuther tells UAW councils "it would be insane to accommodate the auto industry by calling a strike now." He said the UAW would work without contracts if contracts were cancelled.

May 29—GM contract expires.

June 1—Ford and Chrysler contracts expire. Big three withdraws contract extension offer.

Sept. 5—Reuther and GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton renew top level negotiations and express optimism.

Sept. 8—Reuther indicates his demands have been narrowed down to improvements in unemployment benefits, pensions and wages and a transfer clause for workers who lose their jobs because of plant relocations.

Sept. 10—UAW International Executive Board announces Sept. 17 strike deadline against Ford.

Sept. 11-17—Negotiations stepped up as Ford and UAW meet to reach settlement before strike deadline.

Workers Get Rules for Strike

DETROIT (AP)—Ford UAW Local 600, the union's biggest, today set up "ground rules" for its members to follow in the event of a strike.

The union represents some 50,000 workers at Ford's Rouge plant in suburban Dearborn, by far the biggest single unit in its far-flung empire.

The practices it set forth:

1. All union members in key jobs will remain at work—all others will leave the plant in an orderly fashion.

2. A minimum number of union members on key jobs will be permitted to work with written permission from the union. The number of workers who will be permitted to remain at work will be negotiated in company and union sessions.

3. Until Monday, picketing will be by unit officers of the local, committeemen and general delegates.

4. Rank and file members will not be required on picket duty until Monday.

5. It will be illegal to block entrances of the plant in the event of a strike.

6. In case of a strike, all salaried and office personnel with authorization will be permitted to cross the picket lines.

Death Toll Climbs to 3 in Gaylord Collision

GAYLORD (AP)—The death toll in a head-on auto collision south of Gaylord yesterday has risen to three.

Mrs. Ethel Atkinson, 70, of Hudson died last night at a Gaylord hospital. Her husband, Harry, 73, and Allan F. Clark, 72, of Manitou Beach were killed in the crash.

The Atkinsons and Mrs. Nettie Williams, 76, of Toledo were riding with Clark. Their car and one driven by Sharon Morey, 19, of Escanaba collided on U.S. 27 about two miles south of Gaylord. Miss Morey, her father Omar, 46, and Mrs. Williams are hospitalized.

Driver Sends Thanks in Very Usable Form

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—State Police received a letter, postmarked Kittery, Me., which began: "I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to the state trooper who so courageously assisted me on Highway 60 out of Huntington on Feb. 20."

The letter, containing no other details of the incident, was signed, "Uncle Joe Santa—J. W. B." Enclosed was a $5 bill for the "Santa Claus Fund." Because the State Police Department has no such fund, the money was deposited in the State Police Disability and Retirement Fund.

Possession Rates First

SOUTH HAVEN, Mich. (UPI)—U.S. Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest replied to a suggestion that a woman's picture be placed on currency by saying she doesn't mind the men having their faces on the bills "just as long as we women get our hands on them."

48 County Men Go Into Army

13 Pontiac Residents Among Those Drafted During August

A total of 48 Oakland County men were drafted during the month of August through local Draft Boards 65 and 67, according to figures released by the boards today.

Of the 48 draftees, 13 were Pontiac men. They were as follows:

James E. Alumbaugh, 281 S. Anderson St.
John H. Quinn, 408 Harvey Ave.
Morris B. Jackson, 321 S. California Ave.
Sammy E. Pratt, 47 Thorpe St.
Harold R. Martin, 563 S. Fiddock St.
Joseph A. Guman, 24 Lincoln Ave.
George V. Lloyd, 123 Euclid Ave.
Garry A. Savary, 209 Keshorn St.
Larry D. Ross, 2610 Hwy. St.
Garry E. Evans, 450 Irish Ave.
Charles L. Brown, 184 Mill St.
John C. Rogers Jr., 328 W. Wilson Ave.
Shelly L. Ford, 422 Howland Ave.

Recheater, Benjamin J. Koch, Filroy E. Wilcox, Earl E. Ash, Kenneth B. Craig and Gordon C. Lampton; Birmingham, Neil E. Shelka, William G. Simpson, Russell W. Todd, John V. Shamblin, John L. Conroy, Allen W. Bengue, and Richard P. Dutton.

Other draftees from Oakland County communities were: Farmington, LeRoy D. Paschke and Richard G. Mathias; Walled Lake, Joseph A. Smolek, Stewart E. Glatfelter, Joseph A. Christensen, Harry E. Grames, Frederick P. Harris, and Charles D. Smith; Milford, Ralph M. Keller and George G. Johnson; Oxford, David L. Kattenberger; Troy, Robert H. Malott; Wixom, Stanley W. Ramsey; Orchard Lake, Robert H. Lindow and Richard P. Hendershot.

Rounding out the list of draftees were: Clawson, George E. Shaffer; Holly, Alfred D. Wychoff; South Lyon, Dale E. Buckland.

North America continued as the world leader in per capita production of footwear with 2.97 pairs per person in 1957, but Europe moved from 1.36 pairs in 1955 to two pairs per person in 1957.

20,000 Accidents Show Seat Belts Avoid Injury

(Following is the first of two dispatches on the controversial automobile seat belt—what new research has turned up on its advantages; arguments advanced against using it; and how scientists answer them.)

By ROBERT J. SEELING

Washington (UPI)—He was an Air Force sergeant driving a 1956 sedan on a furlough trip.

A large hog stepped into the path of the speeding automobile. The sergeant lost control. The car careened wildly off the road, turned end over end, and then sideways. At one time or another, every part of the car touched the ground with a sickening crunch of steel.

The sergeant unfastened his auto seat belt and walked away from the wreck—with a couple of minor bruises.

This is one of the 20,000 accident reports contained in the files of Cornell University Medical College's automotive crash injury research project. Those 20,000 case histories have convinced the Cornell researchers that:

If you wear an auto safety belt, you have a better chance of avoiding injury or death in a highway accident.

The Cornell case histories are more than just accident reports. They are accident autopsies. Collected from cooperating state and local police in 22 states over the past three years, they describe in grisly detail everything that happens in an accident—damage, injuries and exactly how they occurred.

CALLS FOR SEAT BELTS

John O. Moore, director of the Cornell project, began recommending the use of seat belts when his staff had dissected only about 8,000 accident reports.

Now he says: "From the additional evidence accumulated in more than 20,000 accidents involving about 50,000 persons, it is our considered opinion that there is no better single device available at the present time for reducing the risk of injury and death when automobile accidents occur."

How can a seat belt save lives? The Cornell researchers cite two reasons:

1. A belt keeps occupants IN-SIDE the car; Cornell experts have concluded it is five times safer to be inside a car than to be thrown out.

2. A belt keeps occupants from being thrown against lethal objects in the car's interior, such as windshields, steering wheels, instrument panels, radio and control knobs and door handles.

Unless you have been in a bad accident, you have no way of realizing the tremendous forces exerted on the human body when a car comes to a violent, sudden stop or rolls over at high speed.

When a car doing 50 stops suddenly or hits something, its occupants continue moving forward at 50 miles an hour. Try imagining yourself flying toward your windshield at 50 m.p.h.

BEAT CUTS FORCE

A safety belt, anchored to the frame of the car, accomplishes what the human body cannot do for itself—it lets the body decelerate at the same speed as the car. In a roll-over, it reduces the force applied to the doors to virtually nothing.

The Cornell studies emphasize that, contrary to common belief, belts are of value in low-speed accidents as well as high-speed.

Suppose you sit down in a chair. You are then applying a load against your body of one pound per square inch.

Now put an ice pick point-up on the chair. Sit down slowly. The point of the pick covers an area of 1/64th of an inch—which means you are putting the entire weight of your body on a far smaller area. The pressure now applied against your body is almost five tons per square inch.

That is what happens in an automobile when a relatively small but lethal object in the car even at low speed.

(Next: Arguments against the seat belt.)

Expect Huge Vote in Rhode Island

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—A bitter, personal fight to pick a gubernatorial nominee led campaign managers to foresee a record vote today in Rhode Island's hottest Democratic primary.

Gov. Dennis J. Roberts, seeking a fifth two-year term, is opposed by Lt. Gov. Armand H. Cote. Roberts is generally favored.

Sen. John O. Pastore, U.S. Representative, Aime J. Forand and John E. Fogarty and General Treasurer Raymond H. Hawkey are unopposed. There are contests for nominations for three other state offices.

Roberts charged Cote risks destroying the party by running against the endorsed slate. Roberts cited his accomplishments in education, highway construction and social welfare.

Cote called his rival a weak vote getter and charged Roberts' supporters have tried to intimidate state employees and those who live in public housing.

The Republicans hold their primary Sept. 25. Christopher del Sesto, their 1956 nominee, is unopposed for the nomination this year.

VISITS U.S.—Great Britain's First Sea Lord, Admiral of the Fleet Earl Mountbatten, will visit the United States and Canada next month. He will be in Canada from Oct. 4 to 10 and then in this country until Canadian Chief of Naval Staff and the American Chief of Naval Operations in his visits.

Giant Bomber Falls in Flames

AF. Copilot Parachutes to Safety; Fear Rest of Crew Dead

SOUTH ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — A B-24 bomber on a training mission crashed in flames on a farm last night. The copilot parachuted to safety. Seven other crew members were missing and presumed dead.

The giant plane, based at Loring Air Force Base, Limestone, Maine, missed the densely populated Minneapolis-St. Paul metropolitan district by three miles, and an oil refinery by a similar distance.

Exploding fuel tanks of the plane fired the house, barn and outbuildings on the August Kahl farm three miles south of here. Eight members of the Kahl family were hospitalized with burns, three in serious condition.

The plane was on a practice bombing mission to Minneapolis. Identification of the missing crewmen was withheld.

Capt. Jack Douglas Craft, 29, parachuted to safety. He said the plane "started to come apart in the air." He was hospitalized suffering from shock, cuts and bruises.

Witnesses reported seeing the plane streaking flame as it roared toward the ground. Fuel from the crash fired several acres of brush and grass.

Kahl, 51, his 81-year-old father Edward and his son Loren, 15, were severely burned. Mrs. Kahl and four daughters, 5 to 17, were treated for cuts and burns, but not hospitalized.

Although B-24s are designed to carry atomic weapons, Col. Edwin Ambrosen, commander at the Twin Cities World-Chamberlain Air Force Base, said the smashed plane carried no armament.

But He's the Teacher

DETROIT (AP) — Holloway J. Reese, a former driving school instructor, paid a $100 fine for an accumulation of traffic and parking law violations. Reese told Traffic Judge George T. Murphy he let the traffic tickets accumulate because he thought his driving school had paid them while he was instructing.

Lebanon's per capita income in 1937 averaged about 11 per cent during the year.

Negroes Appealing in School Dispute

NEW YORK (AP) — A small group of Negro parents protesting their children's assignment to heavily Negro schools in Harlem have appealed to state officials for intervention.

The parents of the nine seventh-graders involved have refused to send their children to the schools, which are almost entirely Negro. They want them assigned to better-integrated schools outside the Harlem area which, they contend, provide better educational programs.

There is no intended racial segregation in New York City schools. But neighborhood racial patterns sometimes create student bodies made up mostly of one race or the other.

In a telegram to State Commissioner of Education James Allen Jr., the parents' attorney asked for a hearing on the dispute and a state investigation of conditions in Harlem schools.

"The world's first absolutely drip-free water tap" is the claim made for a new invention of Baltzar von Platen, one of Sweden's leading inventors.

Postal Workers in Major Cities Can't Make Grade

CINCINNATI (AP) — Postal workers in big cities have almost no chance of becoming postmasters.

That's the view of Postmaster General Arthur B. Summerfield as expressed in an interview last night between convention sessions of the National Assn. of Postmasters.

"A large city postmaster does not need knowledge of postal matters when he starts," Summerfield said. "What he needs is managerial experience and knowledge of automation and mechanization."

"What does a man who has been carrying mail for 30 years know about such things?"

Summerfield said this means he will continue to draw his big city postmasters from business and professional fields.

Detroit Steel Output Up

DETROIT (AP) — Iron Age, the metalworking weekly, said Tuesday Detroit area steel mills are scheduled to operate at 75.1 per cent capacity this week as against 73.9 per cent last week.

Union Workers Vote to Take Cut in Wages

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — About 1,000 union employees of the O. A. Sutton Corp. voted yesterday to take a reduction in wages and benefits in an attempt to avoid suspension of production at Sutton's plant here.

H. F. Hildreth, president of the company, said the offer by Local 772 of the International Assn. of Machinists is being studied. Mrs. Lulu Reider, president of the local, said the employees' decision was almost unanimous. She did not say how much of a cut the employees would accept.

Hildreth recently announced that Sutton, which manufactures air-conditioning equipment, would stop production and liquidate inventories. He said cool summer weather had reduced sales.

Hildreth said the company would resume production when "we have placed ourself in a more liquid state."

The Alaskan annual birth rate now stands at 35 per 1,000 population, 10 points higher than the United States average and close to that of several Latin-American countries.

Bob Considine Says:

No Integration Problem in Van Buren Now

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — In Van Buren, Ark., there is no integration problem now. The 18 Negroes assigned to classes in "legally desegregated" schools there are too frightened to attend. A comparative handful of white students succeeded in forcing them out of their classrooms, thus successfully overruling the Supreme Court of the United States.

The government is indifferent to their plight.

"What are you going to do about this situation?" a reporter asked the chief of Van Buren's 6-man police force as the rebellious knot of students assembled to threaten the Negroes and taunt the white children who insisted on attending the school.

"Why don't you make a formal complaint?" the chief said.

This has become the prescribed reply to such questions. It generally ends the outraged complaint. Few plaintiffs, if any, have the means or the time or the stomach to take such matters to higher courts.

The cost of court actions by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People must be colossal. It requires the full-time service of a large battery of attorneys, law clerks and legal watchdogs.

"I don't want to make a formal complaint," the reporter told the chief. "All I want to know is what your force will be doing Monday morning when the trouble starts again."

The chief thought it over a moment and said, "Oh, about the same, I guess."

"What will you personally be doing?"

"Monday? That's my day off."

"What about the others? Where will they be assigned?"

"Well, I'll tell you, son," the chief drawled, comfortably. "Two of the boys work nights, so they won't be around, naturally. That leaves three, I guess."

"Two of them's got to check on the parking meters, to see nobody's cheating us. That leaves Smith. He might get out by the school. Never can tell."

The man from the New York Times asked, "What is officer Smith's first name?" and poised his pencil over his neat pad. The chief pondered for a time, then said, "Hanged if I know, son. He's only been around here two-three years."

Then he looked at the reporters, tilted back in his chair and reckoned, "Trouble with you boys is you come down here with a wrong slant on this problem. There ain't nothing wrong about what those white boys are doing out there at school. It's like those fellows who picket in front of places in New York and out in Detroit. There's something inside they don't like, don't intend to work with. The police don't go pushing them around."

"It all comes down to what happened 'way back there at Boston, or some place, when we threw that tea in the water." He turned to a caddy who had dropped in to pass the time of day. "What was that all about again?" he asked him.

"Taxation without no representation," the man said.

"That's it, boys," the chief said, "taxation without no representation. If there's anything I can do for you while you're in town, just give me a ring. 'Bye now.'"

Two jokes, one of them a "sick" one, are current in occupied Little Rock.

Seems that two Negroes were discussing a report that Precipice Point, a local promontory, was going to be moved. One vehemently scoffed at the very idea of moving a mountain.

"Who gonna move it?" he demanded of his friend.

"Governor Faubus gonna move it."

There was a long pause, then the doubter asked, "Where he gonna move it?"

The "sick" one concerns the well-armed, back-slapping platoon of State Police which convoys Faubus here and there—a la Huey Long at his peak. A timid-looking little guy taps one of the police on the shoulder and says, politely, "May I get through? My name is Dr. Weiss."

Only the United States and Russia, of the world's major nations, elect their judges.

GETTING A LIFT — Unable to stand upright after an injury, "Rani," 19-year-old elephant at the Nuernberg, Germany, zoo, is lifted to her feet with block and tackle. Unable to stand, "Rani" was also unable to eat and nearly starved before zoo workers came to the rescue.

Slate Adult Courses at Waterford High

Ten-week courses in Adult Education have been scheduled to begin from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday, September 23, at the Waterford Township High School, according to director Byron J. Merritt.

Early registrations will be taken from 7 to 8 p.m. Thursday at the high school. However, individuals may register the first night of the class, Merritt said.

Beginning and advanced typing, along with bookkeeping are among the office-education classes. Beginning and advanced sewing, ceramics and woodworking classes will also be available.

The registration fee of $6 per course is payable at the time of registration and there will be no refunds after the second meeting of the class.

Further information regarding enrollment in the Adult Education classes, may be obtained by calling the high school.

Colored Lens as 'Cure'

NEW YORK — During the 17th Century, sidewalk vendors promised wealth and power to wearers of their spectacles with colored lenses, according to the Better Vision Institute. Sungazing through these glasses, they swore, would straighten rheumatic backs, red lenses were considered a sure cure for corns, and disappointed lovers could win back their loved ones by gazing at the moon through amber lenses.

Congress Enacts Series of Laws for Conservation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rare deer will continue to scamper in Florida and scarce Nene Geese will continue to flock in Hawaii as a result of a series of conservation bills passed by the 85th Congress.

Congress appropriated funds for the establishment of a national refuge to protect the rare deer in Florida and the geese in Hawaii.

In addition, Congress passed other measures considered "vitally-important" for the conservation of land and wildlife in the United States. They provide for: — Acquisition of wetlands to assure that wildfowl will continue to migrate.

— Research by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service on the effects of chemicals used in controlling pests.

— A ban on the withdrawal of more than 5,000 acres of public land for use by the Armed Forces without Congressional approval and the observance of state hunting and fishing laws on military reservations.

Every living thing contains atoms of radioactive carbon 14. After death these atoms disintegrate at a fixed rate. By recording the impulses with sensitive radiation counters, scientists can estimate death dates even after tens of thousands of years.

Launch 1st Missile From Submarine

POINT MUGU, Calif. (AP)—A Regulus II missile, capable of carrying a hydrogen warhead, has been launched from a submarine for the first time.

The 57-foot, 11-ton missile swooshed up from the submarine Grayback yesterday and flew inland to Edwards Air Force Base, about 80 miles away in Southern California's Mojave Desert.

The wheels of the 1,500 m.p.h. missile failed to lower, however, and it skidded on its belly, caught fire and burned. Test models of the missile are equipped with wheels so they may be recovered after firing.

The Navy says this is the weapon that could be hurled from a sub surfacing off an enemy coast to strategic targets more than 1,000 miles inland. The Navy said yesterday's roundabout flight was about 200 miles.

1 Dies in Political Riots

PARIS (AP)—Political riots in Guinea, West Africa, left one dead and 15 injured, French government sources reported today. The riots developed during the campaign for the referendum on the new French constitution.

Pollo shots were given to 630,000 West Germans in 1937 and a million are expected to receive them this year.

Red Integration Issue: Gypsies of Hungary

BUDAPEST (AP)—Communist propagandists are fond of pointing to race problems in the United States and elsewhere as due to capitalist corruption. Now it seems that Communist Hungary has its own race problem—the Gypsies.

The official party daily Nepszabadsag has taken up the question: "Many Gypsies in Bekes County (southeast Hungary) have already broken away or are about to break away from the old fate of their race. . . . Tables, closets, beds, clean sheets or no longer missing from their homes and several have radios. A few families even have books on their shelves."

"But most still live at the edge of the villages, in huts. These huts are only a few yards long, and often 8 or 10 people sleep in them, on straw, under a single blanket. Their public health situation is not satisfactory. In courtyards only a few yards square the manure is piled in heaps and draws masses of flies. Most children do not attend school."

"The peasants of the village have a strong aversion to the Gypsies. . . . They know the Gypsy does not steal from his neighbor. Still, they threaten to sell their own land rather than have a Gypsy next door. They want the Gypsies to stay at the edge of the village."

"The Council chairman knows that giving land at the edge of the village for a new and more modern Gypsy quarter with better houses is in opposition with our principles, since it does not lead to equality but to segregation. Still, he gives way to the pressure of the village—loaded with prejudice—and regards this as the best solution."

"If the Gypsies see," concludes the article, "that not only do prejudices disappear but that they get sincere and effective support for their progress, their love of work will grow and they will more easily accustom themselves to the new way of life."

In the past eight years French exports have increased by 80 per cent and imports by 77 per cent.

Music for Cows, in Heated Stalls

Italian Farm Supplies
Rome With Milk, Wine,
Fruits and Flowers

ROME (UPI) — Cows are supplied with soothing swing music on a modern farm near Rome and feed is brought to them on a special conveyor belt in their centrally heated stalls.

This American-like farm is in the middle of the Agro Romano, an arid and rocky plain which half circles the Italian capital. The farm is situated about 30 miles out on the Via Aurelia behind Vatican City and is called Torre in Pietra.

Few Romans know much about Torre in Pietra farm, yet for 33 years they have bought its rich creamy milk, its big and pulpy Romano artichokes, its limpid muscat wines, its many fruits and vegetables and, especially, its beautiful flowers.

Even in the United States this farm would be something exceptional. In Italy it is like an oasis in the desert. Everything is mechanical, systemized, hygienic by the most modern means, and at the same time highly efficient. A far different story with most farms in the district where farmers still use hand ploughs and cows are made to work.

PLENTY OF WATER

Torre in Pietra farm was begun in 1925 by Sen. Luigi Albertini, one-time director of the Corriere Della Sera, daily newspaper of Milan, in collaboration with the well-known politician and industrialist, Count Nicolo Carandini.

Every morning at 5 o'clock the cows at Torre in Pietra are awakened by the sound of slow swing music played to them on carillon bells. The cows are washed before being milked and during this process they can get a ration of salt by licking at a salted paper which comes to them on a special conveyor belt.

The feed for the cows is weighed and rationed according to the weight and milk production of each animal.

Perhaps the greatest achievement at Torre in Pietra is irrigation. Water can be seen everywhere — in huge tanks, in wide, deep canals, and in big pipes that criss cross the farm. And every few square yards there is a spray showering the dry, rocky ground with water.

Misses Cultural Recreation

Russian Sees Life in U. S.

WALSBURG, Colo. (UPI) — Mrs. John Sandor, a Walsburg housewife, spoke English with all the confidence in the world.

It was hard to believe she was a Moscow school teacher named Viktoriya Katsorava only a few months ago.

"I drank milk all the time when I came here. I couldn't eat American food, it was so rich," she said. "Now I can eat it, but I still can't cook it. All I can make is hot dogs and beans."

Viktoriya married Pueblo, Colo., attorney John Sandor in Russia last November after a trans-Atlantic courtship of nearly two years.

After fighting American and Red red tape for six months, the couple finally arrived at Sandor's home in Walsburg, a town of 6,000, last May.

"A little town is pleasant but I don't intend to live here always," Mrs. Sandor said.

"We will move to a city where there is a university and I hope to teach Russian. I taught American in Russia. Perhaps we will move to Denver. I like Denver," she said.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandor made a whirlwind tour of the United States during the summer. They saw New York, Minnesota, Louisiana, Texas. "I loved Minnesota," Mrs. Sandor enthused. "There it is like Sweden and Denmark, which I like most of all."

MARVELS AT STORES

The young woman marveled at the bigness and variety of American super markets and department stores.

But she hasn't bought a sack dress yet.

"I didn't even try one," she said. "I think I am not created for the sack dress."

She was surprised that American women spend so much time at home.

"Married women in Russia work, but here, they take care of their babies. I think it is better here," Mrs. Sandor said.

She was distressed, however, at the lack of "cultural amusements" in America.

"There is so little cultural interest here," she said. "I was shocked that Denver had no permanent theater. In Russia, such a town would have five theaters, maybe more."

"Russians read much, especially translations of great writers of other languages. But Americans watch television."

Mrs. Sandor said people in America had been curious about her, but very good to her. She has liked Americans everywhere, she said, but is also a little homesick. "I miss my home and my mother."

Detroit Merits Title 'Missile Town, U.S.'

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit, long known as the Motor City, may have as much claim nowadays to the nickname "Missile Town, U.S.A."

This city of wheels, it is pointed out by Detroit Engineer, official publication of the Engineering Society of Detroit, is one of the nation's top missile producers.

The magazine said some made-in-Detroit missile products or parts include the Atlas, Bomarc, Corporal, Dart, Honest John, Nike-Hercules, Polaris, Redstone, Regulus I, Regular II, Sergeant, Talos, Thor and several other classified projects.

Man Finds 7-Foot Bone

DELTA, Col. — D. E. Jones, a lumber dealer in Delta, has presented to the Smithsonian Institution the world's largest dinosaur limb bone. He found it in Montrose County, Colorado. The bone is 7 feet, on inch long. It is the upper forelimb, the humerus, of the Brachiosaurus, perhaps the largest of all dinosaurs. With its very long neck the Brachiosaurus could easily have looked over the roof of a three-story building.

GOP Hopeful in Wisconsin

Party Strategists See Good Chance to Unseat Sen. Proxmire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican strategists apparently have decided their best chance of defeating a Democratic senator lies in an all-out effort against Sen. William Proxmire in Wisconsin.

Field reports to the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee have pictured Proxmire as the most vulnerable of 13 Democratic senators whose seats are at stake in November. Proxmire was elected last year after GOP Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy died.

Although the Republicans are reluctant to talk about it, their surveys are said to show no other contest giving their party what they regard as an even chance of picking up a seat from the Democrats.

Since they already have lost one seat in Maine, the GOP campaigners would have to hold the remaining 20 they have at stake and gain two others to be in a position to control the new Senate. In such circumstances they could do this with Vice President Nixon's tie-breaking vote.

Democrats outnumbered Republicans 49-47 before GOP Sen. Frederick G. Payne was beaten in Maine.

Republican hopes of defeating Proxmire rest in uniting party strength behind Roland J. Steinle, their nominee, in a state that ordinarily is counted in the GOP column.

The Republicans have been perked up somewhat by canvasses elsewhere. These indicate to them that some of the seats they now hold may not be in as much danger as they believed after Payne went down in Maine.

Privately Republican lieutenants say they regard only six GOP seats as certainly safe—those in Nebraska, Ohio, North Dakota, Delaware, Wyoming and Vermont. They are only a little less certain, however, about Utah and Nevada. They are frankly worried about Indiana.

Reports from field workers indicate that GOP prospects have been looking up recently in Arizona, California, Connecticut, New Jersey, New York, Maryland, Minnesota, Pennsylvania and in West Virginia, where two GOP places are being contested.

There has been no such cheering news, however, from Michigan, where GOP Sen. Charles E. Potter apparently is fighting a tough, uphill battle.

Republican hopes of holding on to the seat Sen. Irving M. Ives is vacating in New York have been raised by nomination of Nelson Rockefeller as the party's candidate for governor, as well as the choice of Rep. Kenneth B. Keating as nominee for the Senate.

Manila Hospital Reports 3 Encephalitis Deaths

MANILA (AP) — Mary Johnston Hospital physicians have reported the death of three patients apparently from encephalitis known as "sleeping sickness."

In Korea, Formosa and Japan some 2,000 deaths have been reported from the disease.

Poariasis, a skin-disfiguring disease, afflicts more than 3,000,000 Americans.

Snoopy U.S. Navy Plane Scouts Formosa Strait

AN AIRBASE IN SOUTHERN FORMOSA (AP) — Every day, a big U.S. Navy plane lumbers out to sea and ranges at low level up and down Formosa Strait on a snooping mission.

For its 11-man crew, it's a grueling nine-hour patrol not far off the China coastline.

These Navy Neptunes, heavily equipped with radar, keep an electronic eye on what's going on along the coast and in the strait.

They patrol at 1,000 feet altitude, sometimes dipping down to just 100 feet above the water to look over a suspicious vessel.

Merchant ships, some of them Communist vessels, have grown accustomed to the big black planes. Crews often wave hello.

Of late, the Neptunes have been helping provide air cover for Nationalist Chinese supply convoys headed for Quemoy.

"With our radar," says Cmdr. Peter Grier of Baltimore, "we can keep a constant picture of the coast. We can tell any time anything moves and we report it to the convoy flagship."

"We can pick up torpedo boats or MIGs on our radar."

"We have no guns aboard so we are not out to tangle with anybody. If we run into someone we turn on our jets and take off."

Although not equipped with guns, they carry bombs.

The Neptune operates under orders to go no closer than 20 miles of the Red China coast.

"Our basic job is antisub work," says Grier. "We haven't spotted any subs yet. The strait isn't favorable for submarines to operate."

"We keep an eye on sampans and junks. We're interested in whether they are really fishing. We know that some of the junks have radar aboard. When we spot a ship we go down to 100 feet and inspect it. MIGs? We see them in the sky all the time. Occasionally they come down to look at us, but they have never made a real aggressive pass at us, yet."

First 2 Polio Cases in Pontiac Reported

Pontiac's first two cases of polio this year were reported last week, according to Dr. John D. Monroe, health director.

They bring the total number of cases in the county this year to 12 compared to 17 during the same period in 1957.

The following is a list of the communicable diseases reported to city and county health departments last week.

Navy Ship Simulator Set for Polaris Shot

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Navy's ship motion simulator now is ready to fire the highly regarded Polaris intermediate-range ballistic missile.

Officials announced yesterday that construction had been completed on the huge machine which duplicates the motion of a ship at sea.

A vital part of the Polaris development program will be how the missile performs when it is launched from shipboard.

The ship simulator, nicknamed the "cocktail shaker" because of its weaving motion, will do the job during the ground phase of the test series.

The Polaris was designed to be launched from either nuclear-powered submarines or other vessels, submerged or on the surface. That makes the missile a threat to almost any target in the world.

Motor Vehicle Sales Show Steady Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A world survey of motor vehicle sales shows a steady increase in the motor population around the globe. The Commerce Department reported that higher living standards were responsible for the increasing sales.

World registration of passenger cars, trucks and buses totaled 108,012,260 last Jan. 1, an increase of 5.59 per cent during 1957.

The United States held a wide lead over all other nations with 62 per cent of the vehicular registration. The Western Hemisphere was credited with 70 per cent of the world total.

Spanks Son to Death, Gets 50-Year Sentence

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Criminal Court Judge L. A. Grayson has sentenced a Tampa man to 50 years in state prison for what he called "the cruelest murder I have encountered"—the spanking death of the man's 6-year-old son.

The sentence was given yesterday to Robert Deatherage, who was convicted last month of second degree murder. Deatherage admitted he had spanked his son hard with a 20-inch board because he had wet his trousers. The boy died the following day.

Grayson said the sentence was one of the stiffest he'd ever delivered.

Season ticket sales at Michigan State are nearing a record 21,000 mark. The Michigan State game has spurred the sale since there was no individual ticket sale for the game.

Detroit Lions coach George Wilson will be featured on his 15 minute television show each Monday night from 8:45 p.m. on channel 2 starting September 22nd. It will be called the "George Wilson Show," and it will highlight the previous day's game action.

Clyde Lovellette, one of the outstanding scorers in the National Basketball Association, was traded by Cincinnati to the St. Louis Hawks for five rookies. He had 23.4 average last season.

It took a no-hitter to beat Aurora, Ill., pitching sensation Harvey Sterkel in the World Softball tournament last night at Minneapolis. The run he allowed Clearwater, Fla., was only the 3rd he has yielded this season in 218 innings.

The New York Rangers officially opened their training camp yesterday and "badman" Louis Fontana wasted little time getting into a scrap. The short-tempered defenseman traded a few punches with rookie Jack (Red) Bonawase before teammates broke up the fight.

Johnny Lee, who set a season scoring record of 605 points during his sophomore year at Yale, has signed his first professional contract with the New York Knickerbockers.

The City Horsehoe League has named its new officers for the 1959 season. Elected were James Clarkson, president; Marion Collins, vice president; and Don Johnson, secretary-treasurer.

The 2nd annual Janczarek Memorial Best-Ball golf tournament, slated Saturday at Pontiac Municipal course, has been cancelled this year, according to chairman Mike Andonian. A conflict with the women's NGA tourney was the reason.

Five Recruits May Win Positions With Wings

DETROIT — After nine practice sessions, an air of optimism is rising in the training camp of the Detroit Red Wings.

This is a club, which in the words of General Manager Jack Adams, could finish anywhere in the National Hockey League from second to sixth.

A record number of newcomers are likely to don Red Wing sweaters for the first time when Detroit plays its home opener Sunday, Oct. 12 against New York.

The squad has a nice mixture of youth and experience. Only 13 players are returning from last year, which means that at least five recruits will make the grade.

Adams has said that there are only five players on the squad who can call their jobs safe.

Coach Sid Abel wants to give every player a chance to prove himself during the camp. He coaches the first shift in a two-hour drill that begins each morning at 8:15. He intends to give every youngster with promise

Lary Becomes All-Time Yankee Killer

Braves' Magic Number Now Three

Burdette Chalks Up 18th

By The Associated Press

Lew Burdette, a troubled World Series hero at the All-Star Game, now has a shot at 20 victories and his winningest season in the majors.

The big right-hander who had only a 6-7 record in early July, has won 12 of 15 decisions since. And he's won seven of his last eight over the past month, pitching two shutouts and three one-run games for a 1.08 earned run average over that span.

Burdette, whose best winning year was 1956, when he was 19-10, nailed his 18th last night as the Milwaukee Braves whipped San Francisco 4-1 and cut their magic number for a second straight National League pennant to three. It was Burdette's 12th in a row over the Giants, four years to the day since they last beat him.

Burdette should have two starting chances to join roommate Warren Spahn as a 20-game winner, and both will be against Cincinnati — a club that has beaten him only three times in the last 17 decisions. He should get one start at Cincinnati this weekend, and another next weekend in a final warm up for the World Series.

Elsewhere in the NL last night, Pittsburgh chopped its magic number for second place to two, beating St. Louis 3-1 after wrapping up a 2-1 victory in the completion of a game suspended August 3. Cincinnati took a two-night pair from Los Angeles, 5-3 and 7-5 in 10 innings. The Chicago Cubs beat Philadelphia 10-8 in 10.

Burdette, 19-7 lifetime against the Giants and 5-0 this season, gave up seven hits, one a fifth-inning homer by Bill White. He didn't walk a man, struck out four. The Braves beat Johnny Antonelli (15-13) with three in the seventh, when three errors followed Felix Mantilla's leadoff triple.

That gave the Braves a final 16-6 season mark against the Giants, who lost 10 of the last 11 meetings.

Rookie right-hander George Witt (9-2) backed up by Bob Skinner's RBI singles, became the first NL pitcher to win seven in a row this year as the Pirates finished last month's curfewed game. The Bucs, six games behind Milwaukee, won the nightcap with Dick Stuart and Skinner driving in all the runs. Each had three hits, with Skinner twice bringing Stuart home with singles. Ron Kline (13-15) won it. Wilmer Mizell (10-13) and Bob Mabe (2-7) were the losers.

A pinch, two-run homer by Smokey Burgess won the nightcap for the Redlegs, who took the opener on home runs by Jerry Lunch, Pete Whisenant and rookie Dutch Dotterer that doomed the Dodgers to their first sub .500 season since 1944. Brooks Lawrence (8-12) won the first game in relief of Joe Nuxhall, who hurt his arm in the first inning. Tom Acker (4-3) went all the way in the nightcap. Johnny Podres (13-14) and Johnny Klippstein (6-6) took the defeats.

Duke Snider, sidelined but not seriously injured when struck by teammate Frank Howard's line drive in the second game, hit his 15th home run for the Dodgers, tying Hank Greenberg for 10th on the all-time major league list with 31.

A two-run single by Al Dark bagged it for the Cubs and gave rookie John Buzhardt his first major league decision. Rookie Don Erickson lost his first for the Phils.

SPORTS

NO CRYING TOWEL — That's not a crying towel Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves is using to wipe the perspiration from his head. He won his 18th game yesterday as the Milwaukee Braves defeated the San Francisco Giants, 4-1. It was the 16th time Milwaukee has beaten the Giants this season.

'M' Injury List Shorter; Titans Play Friday

Flint Back Is Key to MSU Offense

EAST LANSING — They figure Art Johnson as the breakaway back on the Michigan State football team this fall.

Johnson, six foot, 190-pound senior from Flint, was noted for his long runs last season. And then he was second man at right half, behind Walt Kowalczyk.

Johnson carried 56 times as a junior for a net of 398 yards — an average of seven yards a try. Also, he scored seven touchdowns.

His most impressive was a 62-yard dash against Michigan. But included were scoring runs of 50, 28 and 26 yards.

"He's the fastest regular in the backfield," declared coach Duffy Daugherty. "Give him daylight and he's gone. And how we like to see him go."

Another coach real proud of Johnson is Bart Smith, offensive line coach. Smith coached at Flint Northern when Johnson was prepping there.

"I figure one of my major jobs is to teach the blockers either to clear the way for him or get out of the way," Smith commented. Johnson will be after his third letter this fall. He won numerals previously by playing 102 minutes as a sophomore and 185 minutes last year.

ANN ARBOR — Michigan's injury list was the shortest it has been since the opening week of the season yesterday.

Fullbacks John Hermannstein and John Walker, end Gary Prahet, halfback Brad Meyers all saw action in scrimmages.

The Wolverines worked on passing and defensive drills. The day's only casualty was letter-

Bob Placek is out-shuffling gambling Stan Noskin at his own game in the high-stakes battle for Michigan's quarterback assignment.

His passing, solid signal calling and overall command apparently have won Placek the first string job. He has been steadier than Noskin.

DETROIT — University of Detroit is back on the Titan campus after breaking camp at Brighton.

Players Invited for Hockey Team

Young men, 17½ years of age and up, from the Pontiac and Rochester areas, interested in trying out for senior amateur hockey are invited to contact A. R. Quessell, 262 Helen Street in Rochester, between 5:00 and 8:00 p.m. today through Friday.

A team will be entered in the Michigan Amateur Hockey Association which is expected to draw entries from Royal Oak, Berkley, Birmingham, Flint, Saginaw and Midland.

No. 11 Gives Up Ace

First ace of the season on Bald Mt. course's No. 11 hole was also the 4th of the year for the layout, and the lucky golfer's first hole-in-one.

Playing with Robert Boliere of Farmington and C. Ryan of Highland Park, John Holt, 1030 West Lewiston, Ferndale, holed out his tee shot on the 155-yard hole.

Lane Planning for Next Year

CLEVELAND (AP) — Plans being made for the Cleveland Indians in 1959 are based on the team's staying in Cleveland, General Manager Frank Lane said Tuesday.

"I have never heard any official of the Indians say that we are moving," Lane said.

"The 'working stuffs,' Joe Gordon and myself, are looking forward to next year. We are doing all we can to try to pull more people into the stadium by fielding a contending team."

Lane said he was not trying to speak for the club owners, but that in his conversations with them no word was mentioned about moving.

Scanlon, Rosi Signed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Undrafted Bobby Scanlon of San Francisco will fight Paolo Rosi, fourth ranking lightweight, in a 10-rounder at the Cow Palace Oct. 13, matchmaker Bennie Ford announced Tuesday.

The New York crew for such trouble generally is to buy or trade for the pitcher, but the Tigers will not part with Lary. He is one of the six or seven untouchables, although the front office appears ready to make several major moves in the off-season to improve its overall chances against the perennial champions.

"I don't pitch any differently against New York than against any other team," said Lary. "Sure, I have confidence when I go against them and everybody likes to beat the Yankees. But maybe they have the idea they can't beat me. That would help, wouldn't it?"

The three Yankee base hits yesterday were singles and only one of the runs was earned. Lary retired the first nine batters he faced and finished up strong by getting the last 12 in succession.

Blanked on four hits in the first five innings by hard-throwing Rinald Duren, the Tigers waited until the sixth before opening their scoring against Zack Monroe. Johnny Groth, subbing for injured Harvey Kuenn, walked.

He was bunted to second, and came home when shortstop Tony Kubek threw Al Kaline's infield dribbler into the New York dugout.

An inning later, Reno Bertola walked and Red Wilson singled. Lary moved both runners along with a bunt and big Gus Zernial, batting .311 in occasional duty, doubled home both runners. The Tigers got an insurance run off Bobby Shantz in the ninth.

Tiger Pitcher Beats Bombers for 16th Time

Three-Hit Performance Nets Detroit 4-2 Win Over New York

DETROIT (AP) — Don't drag out that old "break up the Yankees" routine around Frank Lary.

Without them, the drawing son of an Alabama peach farmer is just another pitcher. But because of them, the 27-year-old Detroit Tiger right-hander is a big league success.

This is the seventh victory and sixth complete game in eight starts this year for Lary against New York, and he has yielded only 14 earned runs in 67 2/3 innings.

Despite his so-so record against other clubs, Lary now ranks among the all-time Yankee killers. Big Ed Walsh, now critically ill with cancer, posted a 9-1 record against the cellar-dwelling bombers of 1908 and a 7-3 mark against the 1911 New York team that finished sixth. Ed Cicotte matched Lary's 7-1 mark back in 1916 against a fourth-place Yankee crew.

"Well, sir," said the craftsman who Casey Stengel calls the Little Bulldog, "I don't know where I'd be without those Yankees."

This year, for example, Lary would have a 9-13 record instead of the 16-14 mark he now has. His career mark, instead of reading 62-58, would be 46 wins and 53 losses.

The Yankee manager was in no mood to talk about Lary's accomplishments. "If I knew what was causing me a headache," said Stengel, "don't you think I'd go out and get me a cure?"

The New York crew for such trouble generally is to buy or trade for the pitcher, but the Tigers will not part with Lary. He is one of the six or seven untouchables, although the front office appears ready to make several major moves in the off-season to improve its overall chances against the perennial champions.

"I don't pitch any differently against New York than against any other team," said Lary. "Sure, I have confidence when I go against them and everybody likes to beat the Yankees. But maybe they have the idea they can't beat me. That would help, wouldn't it?"

The three Yankee base hits yesterday were singles and only one of the runs was earned. Lary retired the first nine batters he faced and finished up strong by getting the last 12 in succession.

Blanked on four hits in the first five innings by hard-throwing Rinald Duren, the Tigers waited until the sixth before opening their scoring against Zack Monroe. Johnny Groth, subbing for injured Harvey Kuenn, walked.

He was bunted to second, and came home when shortstop Tony Kubek threw Al Kaline's infield dribbler into the New York dugout.

An inning later, Reno Bertola walked and Red Wilson singled. Lary moved both runners along with a bunt and big Gus Zernial, batting .311 in occasional duty, doubled home both runners. The Tigers got an insurance run off Bobby Shantz in the ninth.

Indian Rookie Pitches Two-Hitter, Chisox Win

By The Associated Press

Although overshadowed by another Frank Lary victory over New York, Cleveland rookie Gary Bell had himself quite a day yesterday against Washington.

The 21-year-old right-hander flipped a two-hitter, the best effort by an Indian hurler this year, to defeat the Senators 6-1 and move the Tribe into a tie for fourth with the Boston.

The Red Sox were rained out at Kansas City, while the 2nd place White Sox nipped Baltimore 4-3 in the other American League contest.

Bell gave up singles in the first and final innings and had a key hit himself in a four-run seventh. He lost a shutout in the 8th when two walks and a sacrifice fly produced a run.

Among the 14 Cleveland hits was Rocky Colavito's 38th home run, while Bell had four straight safeties and Vic Power stayed in the batting race with two singles. Bell is now 11-4. Colavito and Roy Sievers are now tied for 2nd in homers, two behind Mickey Mantle.

Bubba Phillips' third hit of the game, a tie-breaking, run-scoring single in the 8th, helped the 2nd place Chicagoans trip Baltimore. It followed a single by Billy Goodman and a balk by Hoyt Wilhelm, who lost his 9th in a row working in relief.

Wilhelm had replaced starter Billy O'Dell in the inning after he developed a sore elbow. Dick Donovan settled down after a shaky beginning to win his 14th.

Baltimore held an early 3-0 lead featuring Gus Triandos' 28th homer and No. 15 for Gene Woodling but the Sox got even on a walk, Nelson Fox' triple, a sacrifice fly and Sherm Lollar's 20th circuit clout.

Pontiac boy Charley Oertel grounded out as a pinch-hitter for Baltimore. Boston and Kansas City had scheduled a two-night double-header.

Top-Seeded Netter Beaten in Tourney

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Big Chris Crawford of Piedmont, Calif., pulled a big upset in the Pacific Southwest tennis championships Tuesday by beating top-seeded Ashley Cooper of Australia, 7-5, 6-3.

The 19-year-old Californian hit the ball hard, playing much of the time from the back court, to eliminate the man who this year won the United States and Wimbledon men's titles.

Cooper, who suffered a sprained ankle about nine days ago, missed volleys and had trouble handling the hot balls that Crawford kept driving at him. However, Crawford, a 180-pound, 6-3 youngster who is on the Davis Cup squad, played the kind of tennis that would have given Cooper trouble in any event.

Another upset found Jackie Douglas of the American Davis Cup squad beating Aussie Neale Fraser 4-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Mayor Denounces Suggested Probe

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A suggestion the grand jury investigate the city's contract to build a stadium for the San Francisco Giants was denounced yesterday by Mayor George Christopher.

The mayor charges grand jury foreman Henry North, who proposed the probe, is not qualified for suggesting such an investigation.

Christopher said the city's contract with builder Charles L. Harney had been double checked and approved by many officials and departments.

Hak-kaff — a Hoople organizes quickly, then thrusts at the opposition immediately. This was the case when I first sprung my unbalanced line.

Resuming the role of America's greatest football prognosticator, my genius at rapid organization is clearly demonstrated.

When my astronomer, Dr. Vladimir McGrath, celebrated the launching of an Explorer satellite and then attempted to use it in his findings, he was summarily dismissed. In his place, Mr. Gaspar Swayhoeover, the famed wage-hour law expert, has been assigned heavier duties. He uses the canceled check system.

Prof. Quentin Zlobotny, the noted fourth dimension scientist, aided us at the start of this work. But in attempting to establish a toll booth at the headwaters of the St. Lawrence Seaway he has been delayed 30 days. I promptly placed Mr. Red Board Daily on my staff. He is a genius in the matter of turf resistance applied to players above 185 pounds.

So as you read on with the forecast, bear these facts in mind, and do not be dismayed when you find that the College of the Pacific will inundate California by three touchdowns! And that South Carolina will astound Duke—and those uninformed people who do not read this—by two touchdowns. Hartack Rides After 2,000th Win in Career

By The Associated Press

This could be the day Bill Hartack rides the 2,000th winner of his meteoric career, a brilliant feat accomplished in just six seasons in the saddle.

The sometimes controversial, and outspoken jockey rode his first winner at Waterford Park, Chester, W. Va., Oct. 14, 1952, on Nickleby.

Hartack made it No. 1,999 aboard Miss Royal ($3.20) yesterday in the fourth race at Atlantic City, and he'll go for 2,000 at that seashore resort track this afternoon.

Strikes and Spares

By Joe Wilman

One of the things I like about bowling is its unchanging rules and requirements. For instance, the three basic fundamentals of sound bowling today hold just as true today as they did almost 40 years ago. These fundamentals are:

1. Footwork.
2. Armswing.
3. Timing.

In your practice sessions, in your league bowling, in all your thinking about bowling, pay particular attention to these three fundamentals.

Now, at the beginning of the season, these points are very important for all bowlers. They should be checked one at a time — never all at once.

I'd suggest you do as the bowler in the drawing is doing — walk through your delivery without the ball. Make sure your footwork is proper. The steps should be just long enough without strain or rushing.

Then, consider your armswing. Straight forward and straight back and straight forward again, with the follow-through in line.

Timing results when the footwork and armswing are coordinated in an easy rhythmic movement with the rest of your body.

Rumors Flying in Majors

CHICAGO (AP) — Reports, rumors and denials today clouded the 1958 status of such Major League figures as Fred Hutchinson, Birdie Tebbetts and Eddie Stanky.

If Hutchinson, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, is headed for the same job with Baltimore, it's news to Orioles chief Paul Richards.

Reports that Tebbetts, ex-manager of Cincinnati, is going into an executive capacity with either St. Louis or Milwaukee, also brought denials.

And to top it all off, Cleveland coach Stanky would not confirm or deny a report that he will take over at St. Louis as director of player personnel.

With the New York Yankees having won the American League pennant and Milwaukee having all but clinched the National League flag, baseball officials and job-seekers are currently engaged in the greatest rumor spree since the closing days of World War II.

Richards, the only man in the Majors to hold the dual position of field manager and general manager, denied a story originating in St. Louis that Hutchinson would take over the Orioles on the field and that he, Richards, would remain in strictly an executive capacity.

Richards, in Chicago with the Orioles, said he hasn't spoken to or seen Hutchinson in more than a month. He added that he still has a year to go on his present contract.

"If there are any changes to be made," mused Richards, whose Orioles last night dropped a 4-3 decision to the Chicago White Sox, "I guess it would be up to the Baltimore owners."

In Pittsburgh, Hutchinson denied having been contacted by the Orioles.

"Indirectly, yes," said Hutch, "but not directly. I have been led to believe that if I lose my Cardinal job, the Baltimore club would be interested in me."

Now for Tebbetts.

Birdie, who a couple of days ago was reported going to St. Louis in an executive capacity only to have Cardinal officials deny such a move, yesterday was rumored headed for a similar job with Milwaukee. That, too, lost impetus when Braves' President Joseph C. Cairnes denied he would be replaced by Tebbetts.

Cairnes said he intends to remain as president of the Milwaukee club but added "I'll probably need some one to help me out."

Tebbetts' own announcement that he had several offers from Major League clubs has helped keep his name in the limelight.

And then there is Stanky.

The former St. Louis manager would not be pinned down whether he has accepted "a Cardinal job but the Cleveland Plain Dealer reported he will take over as director of player personnel with St. Louis.

Cardinal general manager Bing Devine admitted having talked to Stanky but refused to comment on the talks with the Cleveland coach until the end of the season Sept. 28. However, Devine said that director of player personnel would not be a correct title for any job he had discussed with Stanky.

Name Winners of MVP Awards

Cox, Konchis, Wickman Gain Top City Honors in Baseball, Softball

Gene Cox of the Jets in baseball and Fred Konchis of VFW Post 1370 and Nancy Wickman of Costello Trucking in softball have been awarded Pontiac's highest recreation honors for 1958.

All three have been officially named "Most Valuable Player" in their respective leagues.

The Pontiac Press will award an MVP trophy to each honored player in recognition of the achievement.

Although primarily an outfielder, Cox also rendered valuable service as a pitcher as he led the Jets to the Class A City League baseball championship and paced their impressive showing in the state tournament at Battle Creek.

Cox finished the season with a batting average of .383, only one point behind champion Hal Trott of Shaw's Jewelers.

Both Konchis and Wickman are pitchers. Konchis had a no-hit, no-run game among his victories for the VFW in the men's City Softball League. Wickman was a standout for Costello's, a 3rd place team in the women's softball division.

Toronto's Rocky Nelson was named most valuable player in the International League yesterday for the 3rd time in six years.

LEADS SKIPPERS—Waterford's top scoring threat in Friday's big opening night local midget football program for boys in the 5th and 6th grades.

Included in the program are two after-school sessions each week stressing basic fundamentals and scrimmaging and Saturday morning workouts.

The climax of the program will come Oct. 13 when the Midgets stage a 2½-hour exhibition of continuous football under the lights at Wisner Stadium with every boy getting a chance to participate.

Members of the Pontiac Board of Education elementary physical education staff make up the coaching staff for two divisions—55 pounds and under and 56 to 125 pounds.

Practice sessions will be held at Whittier, Wever, Bagley, Emerson, Bethune, Central, McConnell, Herrington and LeBaron schools. Franklin students can take part at Whittier, while Malkin and Hawthorne gridders should report to Wever.

Interested boys at all other schools can join the program by

Falcons Favored in Tri-County; Cranbrook Preps for Maples

Rochester 11 Strong Choice

(This is the final in a series of prep football roundups on Oakland County schools and area leagues.)

By CHUCK ABRAH

Despite Coach Gene Konley's annual pessimistic pre-season outlook, the Rochester Falcons loom as a strong choice to repeat as champions in the 2nd year of the new Tri-County Conference.

Lapeer, which will boast one of its fastest backfields in history, is figured to be the chief threat to Rochester again with Romeo and L'Anse Creuse finishing in that order.

Among 12 returning lettermen, Konley has hard-hitting 240-pound Chuck Eberole, an outstanding tackle last fall, experienced halfbacks Dave Hecht and Ted Knapp and linemen Gary Meissner and Howard Hin-kel. The latter pair total 460 pounds of beef.

Quarterback and end have been Gene's chief problems in drills thus far while getting ready for Friday's annual opener at Davison. Transfer Clare Gillespie, another 240-pounder, is expected to be a big boost to the Blue and White title hopes.

Lapeer has been progressing rapidly in drills with Jack Fitzpatrick building his team around eight starters from the 1957 eleven.

"Butch" McKillen and Rich Kohloff head the swift backfield while end Dick Coulter and tackle John Whitehead are among the top Panther linemen.

Ed Battani has moved up to the varsity ranks as head coach at Romeo after previously directing the reserves.

He expects to start the season with an experienced but slow backfield and a "green" line. Ray Ritter, Bob Galan, Tom Meyer and Ron Schmidt are slated to form the rugged ball-toting unit while Gerry Walker and Dave Wills are the only veteran line performers.

L'Anse Creuse lost all three loop starts and eight of nine for the season last fall but could better both marks with all the squad back and expected help from Carl Schmidt, a 190-pound transfer from Algonquin.

Lapeer opens Friday at home against Caro, Romeo hosts Richmond and L'Anse meets Fraser.

Cranbrook, Utica, Madison Lamphere, South Lyon, Royal Oak Dondero and Country Day are listed as Oakland County independents although each competes in an outside league.

Cranbrook preps for another rough Inter-State League race in its annual game with Birmingham Friday. The Cranes have 14 lettermen, featuring forward wall members Charles Odell, Bill Burnett, Tom Waylett, Elsie and Jim Williams and back John Batzel.

Utica tied for 3rd in the Bi-County League in 1957 and has the backfield to give everyone trouble this term. Jim Rooney is expected to finish:

1. Rochester
2. Lapeer
3. Romeo
4. L'Anse Creuse

South Lyon has hopes of winning the League of the Lakes crown in the loop's last year of existence. The Lions lost all around star Tom Underhill but his brother Paul and Milan Obrenovich should help form a capable backfield behind an experienced line. They host Brighton Friday.

Ivy Loftin at Dondero has been working with some big former reserve linemen in hopes of forming some adequate protection for such experienced ballcarriers as Dean Flippo, Jack Ruddleick and Bill Waldrup. Royal Oak travels to Garden City Friday.

Here is how the Tri-County League is expected to finish:

1. Rochester
2. Lapeer
3. Romeo
4. L'Anse Creuse

Tuesday Drills Displeasing to Coach Freeman

Opener Friday Night Against Chiefs to Be Played at Waterford

By BILL CORNWELL

Dave Freeman, head football coach at Waterford High School, wore that worried look Tuesday and it was easy to understand why.

He had just watched more than two hours of feeble and sloppy practice by his Skippers in preparation for Friday night's season opener against Pontiac Central on the Waterford gridiron.

Freeman was deeply concerned over the lack of progress by his squad in pre-season drills.

"Maybe I'm being too impatient with them this early," he said, "but how long am I supposed to wait. They're not hitting hard at all and they act lifeless out there—no drive."

If Freeman's gridders don't show any more "get up and go" Friday than they did yesterday, the game with the Chiefs will be a long one and the rest of the 1958 season even longer.

The Chiefs themselves are far from being a polished aggregation at this time, but Waterford still has a longer way to go.

Tuesday's workout was notably inept and sluggish. Waterford's No. 1 offensive unit met all it could handle against the JV team during a heavy scrimmage session.

Fumbles were the rule rather than the exception. The varsity ball carriers repeatedly let the pigskin get away from them and some eager JV player was usually there to pounce on it.

After putting up a stiff battle, the Jayvees finally yielded a touchdown. The regulars quit sputtering long enough to push down the field for six points with Wendy Meyer doing the scoring.

Meyer, a senior who quarterbacked the Skippers last year, has been moved from the signal-calling post to fullback in an effort to utilize his fine running ability.

Bill Bryce, a junior, has the inside track at quarterback, although senior John Saum is pressing him for the job. Halfbacks Mike Ewer and Jim Hoke are figured to complete Friday's starting backfield.

The starting offensive line will probably see Tony Hiller and Dave Ross at ends, Bill Wood and Don Windeler in tackle positions, Benson Weedon and Bob Nestor at guards and either Bob Ellixson or Jim Steck at center.

End Don Gibson, tackle Bruce Marti and linebackers Henry Wolf, Chuck Schram, Tom Goff and Dick Hetherington are slated for defensive duty, along with Hiller, Weedon, Windeler, Ewer and Hoke.

Saturday vs. Sceptre for America's Cup

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—Crewmen of the American yacht Columbia had cause to both smile and frown at incidents that occurred Tuesday as they prepared for Saturday's big America's Cup race against Britain's Sceptre.

The smiles were brought about by a visit from President Eisenhower who wished them luck and said he hoped to watch the start of the big event.

A British-prompted floatation test which showed the Columbia was floating below her mark caused the frowns. Crewmen had to remove 520 pounds of ballast although the yacht was less than one per cent off specifications.

Meanwhile, the men of the Sceptre were placed on a strict "no comment" standard until after the race. Lt. Comdr. Graham Mann, helmsman, will attend a press conference Thursday morning but will be restricted as to what he can answer.

Stirnweiss' Body Taken From Wreck

RED BANK, N.J. (AP)—George "Snuffy" Stirnweiss, onetime New York Yankee second baseman and American League batting champ, was among the dead in Monday's commuter train tragedy at Elizabeth.

His body was recovered Tuesday. He had been riding in the second car of the train, which plunged through an open lift bridge into Newark Bay.

FLEET FALCON — Halfback Dave Hecht, who paced Rochester in scoring with nine touchdowns last fall, appears headed for another big season as the Falcons aim for a repeat as Tri-County League champs.

GOOD DEAL*

In all of automobiling there is no such good deal as this deal:

The deal of belonging to the Auto Club and insuring with this Exchange at the Club.

The protective service, aids and insurance is far, far beyond the ordinary conception of an insurance policy. That's part of the deal. But in addition to that, the membership costs only $15.00 a year. And then the insurance premium is always modest, and for the past 36 years a substantial amount of the premium has been returned to the policyholder at expiration of his policy term. In every way, helps, aids, protection and cost, it is the supreme, good deal for good drivers.

Poorer Season Looms for 1959

Low Water May Hurt Trout

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan's 1958 regular trout season moved to a close last Sunday with immediate reaction of trout experts in the conservation department as being "pretty good" or "fair."

Trout fishing picks up again on the 3rd Saturday of April except for the special rainbow season in designated spots in 61 counties in the state through November.

The end of trout season also means the end of fishing on all designated trout lakes and streams.

One expert who thought the season was a good one, warned that next year, trout fishermen in Michigan might not have even as much luck as they did this year.

Wayne Tody, the department's watershed management man, said the extreme low water levels in many Michigan lakes and streams this year might have a bad effect on population in the next few years — especially next year and particularly in the Lower Peninsula.

Tody blamed a dry fall last year and a dry winter for the low water levels.

S. M. Bower of the department's fish division, said few reports had been received on the success of the regular season this year but fairly good rains and lack of long periods of extreme hot weather helped fishing success.

Bower said low water levels tended to keep the water warmer — driving trout to cooler waters and sometimes making "miles and miles" of trout streams troutless.

F. A. Westerman said at least part of the reason trout need cooler waters is that they require more oxygen than many other fish and warmer water doesn't have the capacity to retain much oxygen in suspension.

"In other words," the fish division chief said, "the oxygen saturation point for warm water is much lower than for cool water."

Experts said sometimes spring-fed streams weren't affected by low levels and warmer temperatures.

Following solunar tables are prepared especially for the Pontiac area, and should be of considerable help to fishermen in determining best times for their fishing efforts. Schedule covers the ensuing week. These tables are prepared by noted outdoorsman John Alden Knight.

Area Dogs Make Good in Obedience Events

Pontiac area dogs performed well in the recent Livonia Kennel Club's show, particularly in the obedience trial.

Charley Franks' Ch. Duckerbird Atomic 3rd CDV, was tops with a 199½ plus mark. He also was 2nd with Duckerbird Atomic 2nd LD in the open event. Both dogs are golden retrievers. Fred Eicher (Pontiac) took a top utility award with his fine Mitzi of Judan UD (195½) and in the open (196½). A 2nd in novice-A was taken by Eugene Hilliard of Commerce (198½ points) with Mitzie, a German shepherd.

Reg Armstrong's Ch. Lady Velvet Heide went best of breed for German short hair pointers, and his winner's dog, Blaze Von Jay Jan CD, added four points towards his championship. Blaze was handled by 10-year-old Linda, Armstrong's daughter.

Birmingham's E. W. Averill had a reserve bitch in his W. Luronne De Beauch. Other area winners included Mrs. James McKim-top miniature Pinscher in novice-B, Waterford Prince Mac Johann (184); Melinda Mauch's Pooville's Pepper (152) a standard poodle, was 189 in novice-A.

Averill's Duckerbird Our Boy, a Brittany, had 189 in novice-B.

In the Genesee County Kennel Club's show, Rudy Buchmann of Pontiac had a winner's dog and best of winners with his German shepherd Tux of Forjan.

Numbered areas on the map show where permit holders will be allowed to take one deer of any age, either sex, during special deer hunting seasons this fall. The special seasons were established by the state Conservation Commission to harvest more whitetails in 37 deer starvation and crop damage areas. Applications for special season permits can be obtained from hunting license dealers and must be mailed to Michigan Conservation Department, Lansing 26, not later than midnight, October 10. Each permit is valid for only one area.

Checking Ranges Can Aid Hunter in Field Shooting

By JACK PATTERSON

One thing every shotgunner should do before the season opens is measure off (measure, not pace) a few average ranges he can expect to encounter in the field. Twenty, 30-40-50 yards are suggested as handy distances to become familiar with. One thing sure, anyone who hasn't tried this stunt before is going to be mighty surprised at how far away that 30-yard marker is. And for a clincher, have the shooter put a duck decoy at 50 yards, gasp at its appalling distance and forever after hold his peace on those 30-yard shots he makes on wild fowl.

Birds in the wild don't get up at stipulated ranges and even yardages, and it doesn't make any difference to the bird, or to the successful hunter at what distance from the gun the bird was hit. But, the shooter who can differentiate between a 20-yard bird which will allow a calculated leisurely shot and a 40-yard bird that calls for an instant desperation shot, with an unbelievable amount of lead, has the battle half won.

If the subject of range may seem to be stressed unduly, it is because as recently as last Sunday an opportunity was offered to see how a very few yards increase in range can complicate the shooting problem, even for the experts.

The occasion was a handicap trapshoot and while everyone fared pretty well at the starting range of 27 yards it was amazing how a 28 or 29 yard range began separating the men from the boys. At 30 yards, even such nationally recognized skeet experts as Bill Brown, of Birmingham, and his three record-busting boys began to miss as handily as yours truly.

It doesn't seem possible that nine piddling feet would make any difference. But those nine feet made the difference between hitting and missing.

While hashing this unhappy development over with the senior Brown between heats, he suggested that the game of skeet shooting would be immensely benefited if a similar handicap setup were put into effect.

It was his thought, and we'll go along with it, that such an arrangement would give the average good shot a sporting chance against those automatons who have so perfectly grooved their swing that it's a bad day when they only go 99 straight.

There are a lot of competent field shots who would be interested in competitive skeet shooting if they felt their 22's, 23's and 24's had a chance of holding up in the company of the big boys.

Notice to local pheasant hunters: Jack Greathouse reports that there are so darned many birds around the county that he can't find a place to run his beagles on rabbits that is free of hordes of ring necks.

Open Training Class Set Up

A new type of advanced obedience training for dogs has been arranged by the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club, and the first class will assemble Sept. 25 at the Clara Barton School, Royal Oak.

Only those dogs with two "legs" toward a CD, or with a CD degree, are eligible. It's sort of a canine college where the dogs get advanced schooling.

Rudy Buchmann, Pontiac, is head trainer. Others include Fred Eicher and Charley Franks. For further information call Mary Larson, FE 5-3721, or FE 2-4867.

Little Stories About Outdoors

Area bow hunters have an open invitation to take part in Lewiston's 12th annual Archery Week, Oct. 1-12. Millie Collin, drummer for the upstate Booster Club says this is a grand time of year to get into the colorful Michigan woodlands, enjoy some good deer and bear hunting and maybe bring home a few nice prizes. Send a card along to the Boosters for registration.

There probably was some good-natured ribbing between Robert and wife Ruth, Handey, who placed 2nd and 3rd respectively in their divisions of Multi-Lakes' big Outdoorama contest recently. Both are inveterate outdoors people, but scored well back of the Medalists, Ben Hardesty's 350x600 points also was away off the top figure of a year ago, but Ben, and all others in this colorful sportsman's event were bucking a strong, gusty wind in every test.

Sports car driving is a fast-growing activity at OCSC. In recent weeks, says the club's racing publicist Bob Moody, 100 new members have been lined up. Their weekend meetings attract from 60 to 75 cars. For instance the Oct. 5 Michigan Sports Car club meet here is expected to have some 70 cars from a dozen state communities, as well as from several Ohio centers.

A real Texas-style fish story was the episode reported from San Diego, Calif., a few days ago. Texan Hugh Fallon was angling in the ocean off San Diego when he snagged a real big fish—even by Texas standards—but he didn't land it. Matter of fact Fallon helped it escape, by cutting the line. His fish was a whale!

No Fishing in Zoo

TOLEDO, Ohio (U) — Toledo Zoo has installed a picket fence around the pools in its aquarium. Too many visitors had been showing up with hooks and lines and one went so far as to spear a large sturgeon with a pocket knife.

Obedience Training Demonstration Today

Persons interested in training their dogs for obedience are invited to attend any one, or all, of three pre-season class training demonstrations arranged this week and first of next week by the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club. These demonstrations are free.

First program is at 8 p.m. today at CAI building, Waterford, with Jim Richmond in charge. Richmond may be called at OR 3-3810 for information about the coming fall classes.

A similar demonstration is set for Thursday, Sept. 18, at Daniel Whitfield School, with Reg

Armstrong in charge. (FE 2-7740). Third program is Sept. 22 at Bloomfield Hills High School (MI 7-0115).

Outdoor Writers From 5 States in Session

KALKASKA (UPI) — Outdoor writers from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin will attend the annual fall meeting of the Association of Great Lakes Outdoor Writers here this weekend.

The three-day meeting opens Friday at the Lake Valley Resort and will be highlighted by panel discussions on radio-television, motion pictures and still photography in outdoor writing, an archery demonstration and lamprey eel control demonstration.

Political Unrest Menaces Routes Pipelines Carry Vital Oil Over Near East Borders

WASHINGTON — Like arteries carrying blood through the body, a network of oil pipelines transports the essence of industrial and military power over the vast areas of the Near East.

Besides the many lines that reach out from the oil wells for varying distances within the countries of origin, thousands of miles of pipe leap the borders of neighboring and distant lands.

Three major systems extend to the eastern shores of the Mediterranean, says the National Geographic Society. Two start from Iraq's Kirkuk fields in the heart of the now turbulent Near East. A third streaks from the Persian Gulf coast across the desert wastes of northern Arabia. Together, the three systems cover more than 3,000 miles.

ECONOMIC, POLITICAL PROBLEMS

Building the long and massive pipelines (some have a diameter of more than 30 inches) represented a tremendous engineering feat by the big, internationally owned companies that extract Near East oil.

No less difficult is the job of keeping the oil flowing in regions beset by economic and political problems.

Israel has just completed a 225-mile pipeline that runs from the port of Eilat on the Gulf of 'Aqaba to Haifa on the Mediterranean coast.

Western Turkey now has two new carrier pipes of 250 and 260 miles each. In Iran, the Abadan-to-Ahwaz line has been extended to the capital at Tehran. It winds in all nearly 750 miles over deserts and mountains.

Many of the oil-rich states, including Saudi Arabia and near-by small sheikdoms, are preparing for increased output and transport needs.

Iraq, where violent revolt recently overthrew the monarchy, has been planning additional outlets to expand its oil exports. One proposed pipeline would pass through Turkey to reach the Mediterranean.

ALL-ARAB NETWORK

Iran and Turkey contemplate a 1,000-mile line from the Iranian fields of Qum to the Turkish port Iskenderun. Egypt works on a project to pipe oil beside the Suez Canal. The Arab League has called for an all-Arab network to link wells with Mediterranean, Red Sea, and Persian Gulf.

Meantime, protection and maintenance of existing lines require special techniques. To prevent corrosion, buried pipes are covered with coats of asphalt, glass and asbestos fabrics. Surface pipes, exposed to day-and-night temperature extremes, are laid zigzag to avoid damage from expansion and contraction. Atomic tools detect welding flaws. Oil leakage is checked against danger of explosion from the sun's burning rays.

Modern Art on View in Swedish Museum

STOCKHOLM — Stockholm has opened Sweden's first museum of modern art, the fruition of five decades of effort to create in Sweden a permanent exhibition of contemporary art. All paintings are hung at eye level and a new technique permits visitors to see all the paintings, even those not "on view."

In the storeroom, which is also open to the public, paintings are hung on a bank of sliding panels that can be pulled out one by one. The Modern Museum, a branch of the National Museum, also houses a restaurant and may add a sculpture garden.

Plastic 'Paper' Made

WILMINGTON, Del. — Newly developed drafting materials are being made of durable plastic film instead of the traditional coated cloth or paper. Since the plastic material doesn't absorb water, oil, or grease, soiled drawings made on it can be easily cleaned. Both pencil-and-ink and sensitized surfaces are available.

Crabgrass Controls Available, Effective

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Crabgrass, the top lawn weed pest in most of the nation, may be on the way out.

"Control have become so effective that crabgrass is no longer as troublesome," says Robert W. Schery, director of the Better Lawn and Turf Institute.

"Most home owners no longer feel that dandelions and broad-leaved weeds are a nuisance because they are so easily eliminated with 2, 4-D. Crabgrass control is reaching more or less this same stage, with the arsenical compounds especially effective."

Researchers are now turning their attention toward control of the coarser grasses, fescues, orchardgrass, timothy and timblewill for which there is not yet a good cure.

How to Judge Burns

CHICAGO — Know how to determine quickly the degree of a burn? According to rules listed in Today's Health, publication of the American Medical Association, in first-degree burns the skin is red, in second-degree burns it is blistered, and in third-degree burns the skin is charred.

Bank of Italy Gets Offer of 'System' by Counterfeiter

GENOA, Italy (UPI) — The "King of Italian Counterfeiters," 76-year-old Attilio Pollastri, has offered the Bank of Italy his invention for making paper money. He says his method is just as good as the government's — and cheaper.

"I studied my invention for a long time in jail," Pollastri said. "I achieved a relatively inexpensive system so asked for permission to offer it to the Bank of Italy."

Pollastri is proud of his creative work — lire bills of various denominations, dollars, pounds, marks and several types of coins. As long ago as 1948, Bank of Italy experts commended him on his creations, declaring they were the most nearly perfect counterfeits they had ever seen.

That was just before the "King of Counterfeiters" received a 12-year jail sentence which he is still serving.

He says he intends to go straight when he completes his term, and that all he wants for his invention is "just enough to live on, a small pension to live in dignity until the zero hour of my life."

Better Store Lumber Inside Before Using

Lumber should be thoroughly dry before it is used for cabinets and built-ins in order to avoid shrinkage. Best plan is to store lumber for several weeks in the room where it will be ultimately installed.

For best results, ordinary home craftsmen should use Douglas fir, west coast hemlock or western red cedar. These woods work easily, take excellent finishes and are long-lived and durable.

Relman Morin, Writing for Hal Boyle:

Street Called Straight Cloaked in Mystery

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Snapshots from a traveler's album:

It is only a short walk, but it crosses 2,000 years and brings you back to a strange and moving story.

You leave the modern section of Damascus, the hotels, theaters and department stores, and walk toward the east. The pavement ends. Soon you come to a narrow street. There are no signs, but without asking, you know its name.

"Go into the street called Straight."

It runs straight as an arrow through the bazaar to the crumbling remains of the city's old east wall. How old? Nobody knows. Damascus, they say, is the oldest inhabited city in the world. This street, surely, must have been seen by the ancient Egyptians, and by forgotten kings even before them.

"And inquire in the house of Judas."

In that house, the story says, a man named Saul lay sightless, stunned by what he had seen. Nobody knows what it was.

You try to picture how the street looked at that time. Probably very much as it does today.

It is narrow and choked with people. A man in long, loose robes rides past on a little white donkey. A dark-eyed woman veils her face. Day and night, they mill through the street, buying, bartering, haggling, or merely gossiping with craftsmen and storekeepers.

Always Best to Read Labels on Paint Cans

Every paint can has a paragraph or two of directions printed on the outside. Careful reading of these instructions may save you time and expense. Study directions carefully, even before opening the can.

The manufacturer knows his product better than anyone else, so it's wise to follow his instructions. Perhaps there will be a suggestion for thinning, or for care of the paint left in the can. In any case it is important to you to read the label.

The shops are open-fronted, without windows or doors. From the goldsmith's shop comes the tinkle of his hammer, shaping a bangle for a lady's wrist. There are stone cutters and carpenters, cobblers, tailors, leather-workers and merchants, jammed close together in a great, buzzing honeycomb. The air smells of spice, fruit and ancient dust.

You can buy everything here—gold, silver, precious gems, a saracen's armor, a spitted lamb or a yellow melon.

It is a very worldly street. "And inquire for one called Saul or Tarsus."

It is a very mysterious story and after nearly 2,000 years, men still puzzle over the meaning, and dispute the truth of it.

On the road to Damascus, the Bible says, Saul heard a voice, calling his name. Some powerful force swept over him. It left him blind and helpless. They had to lead him by the hand into the street called Straight.

For three days, he lay there stunned, unable to eat or drink.

Was it an hallucination, something Saul of Tarsus imagined?

The road to Damascus passes through bleak and forbidding mountains. Heat waves rise from the tortured rocks. The mirage floats across the desert floor. It would be easy to "see" strange things here in the heat of days.

10 Pct. of Milk in U.S. Is Made Into Cheese

MILWAUKEE — About 10 percent of the United States' milk output is used to make cheese. Most of the cheese is "natural,"—made directly from milk or, in a few instances, whey. The milk is coagulated, after which the curd is stirred and heated and then pressed after the whey has been drained off. The flavor and texture are developed by curing—holding the cheese at a certain temperature and humidity for a specified time. "Process" cheese is a blend or combination of one or more kinds of natural cheese.

Yet, the historical record seems clear.

This man had been a destroyer, savage and impetuous. The Disciples themselves were afraid of him. Then, in that blinding moment on the desert, he changed and the story says he became a totally different man — "All that heard him were amazed."

You walk along the street called Straight, remembering the story, and wondering.

But this is not all. You come to the east end of the street. There stands the ruin of the old Roman gate. The story says that, after his mysterious transformation, Saul's enemies determined to kill him.

"And they watched the gates, day and night. Then the Disciples took him by night and let him down by the wall in a basket." So he escaped.

Not far from the Roman gate, at a segment of the old wall, there is a kind of shrine and a sign.

"At this spot, St. Paul escaped from the city, having been let down the wall in a basket."

Structural Analysis Gets Steel to Order

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bridge cables made of piano wire, steel tanks as light as a feather and thin as paper, girders no heavier than a match stick.

These are the potential results of research into the atomic structure of steel now being conducted in university and industry laboratories, according to Steelways, official publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Once scientists know enough about the exact behavior of the atoms and molecules that make up steel, Steelways said, they will be able to "build" a steel capable of performing whatever particular functions are desired.

Hunting Rules in Force

BONN — In principle, every German citizen can go hunting who either owns a fixed minimum amount of land or leases the right to hunt on adequate landed property. Those who don't meet the requirements, including nonresidents, can still go hunting, but only as guests of authorized hunters. However, hunting is also authorized in Government-owned forests.

4 States Lead in Steel

NEW YORK — The leading states in American steel production in 1957 and 1948 were Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois. These four states accounted for 65.5 percent of the national steel output in 1957 compared with 70.1 percent 10 years ago.

Head Marshal Is Quiet Man

He Used to Be Teacher in His Native Arkansas; Returns in New Role

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Nothing about U.S. Marshal R. Beal Kidd, who may be required to lead an army of deputies to enforce school integration here, stamps him as a stern, unwavering law officer.

The gray-haired, quiet-spoken Kidd would seem more at home presiding over a classroom than wearing a badge.

In fact, Kidd, 42, was a school-teacher before he became a marshal.

Destiny, however, has placed Kidd in the center-stage of a struggle between the federal government and Gov. Orval E. Faubus. If ever U.S. marshals are ordered to enforce racial integration in Little Rock schools, it will be Kidd — a native Arkansan — who leads them.

Kidd and his wife, now parents of a high school age son, were teachers at an elementary school in the small rural community of Zinc, Ark., before moving to Little Rock.

He came here in 1953 to accept a position with the Arkansas State School for the Blind. He remained on the blind school staff until his appointment as marshal by President Eisenhower nearly six years ago.

Kidd thought he was having a rather eventful career as marshal before "Little Rock."

"There was the time when they moved the jail," he said. "That was eventful. We had to find another place for the federal prisoners."

A man of average build—5 feet 10 and 180 pounds—he was a side arm only "when the occasion requires it, such as when making an arrest or serving papers."

His seven regular deputies, he said, are always armed.

At the moment Kidd is awaiting the next move of the principals in the struggle which centers around Little Rock Central High School. His augmented force spends its time undergoing one briefing session after another—apparently waiting for the schools closed by Faubus to reopen.

Kidd has an air of being confident that he and his men can handle the situation, whatever occurs.

Year Shows Big Drop in Farm Support Costs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government spent $1,072,688,132 to support farm prices in fiscal 1958, about a quarter of a billion dollars less than in the preceding year.

The Agriculture Department reported that the cost represented the difference between what the government paid for surplus farm crops in the 12 months ended last June 30 and what it was able to sell them for.

The department's investment in farm surpluses as of June 30 was reported at $7,629,695,000 compared with $7,338,081,000 one year earlier.

Less Coffee Shipped

RIO DE JANEIRO — Brazil exported 14,306,605 bags of coffee in 1957 compared with 16,804,744 in 1956.

SHE'S THE GIRL — And Rossano Brazzi plays the married man who becomes infatuated with Dominique, the girl with "A Certain Smile." The love affair also involves his wife, Joan Fontaine, and Bradford Dillman, who plays his nephew and Dominique's fiancé. "A Certain Smile" will be playing at the Oakland Theater through Saturday.

Hollywood Headlines

Jack Oakie Given Role in 'Wonderful Country'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS. HOLLYWOOD — Always gives me a sense of happiness when one of our stars of yesterday gets a break. Jack Oakie, who hasn't made a picture in years, will be featured with Bob Mitchell in "The Wonderful Country."

Jack reports in Mexico to producer Chester Erskine and director Robert Parrish Oct. 6 for a role. What am I saying? Jack is really thinner than he was a few years ago when he put on an enormous amount of weight.

The company also includes Julie London and Gary Merrill, and Jack will have the top comedy role.

Another music man turning to straight drama is "Uncle" Bob Crosby, just signed to emote in "Five Pennies" with Danny Kaye at Paramount. It'll be the first time Bob has ever played "straight" on the screen.

One of the most successful comedy directors on the Columbia lot is Richard Quine. Now Dick is going to try his hand at melodrama. He will direct "The Image Makers" for Charles Schnee, which goes before the cameras either in late December or early January.

"Solid Gold Cadillac," "Bell, Book and Candle" and "Full of Life" are a few of Dick's comedies.

Donald O'Connor won't be going to Honolulu for the Jane Russell show. I was sorry to hear that because there were such preparations to welcome him to the islands. He told me that he had hoped to go, but he has just signed a contract with MCA, and they asked him please not to be out of town for the 24 days it would take. Donald said there are two spectaculars in the offing for him and a motion picture.

The best program David Rose has yet given, and he has given many great ones, was his pop concert in the new Santa Monica Civic Auditorium for the Santa Monica Hospital Clinic. David's selections covered a wide range. It was the first time I had heard the "Waukegan Concerto" dedicated to Jack Benny with many violinists.

Attorney for Policemen Charges Law-Dodging in Giving Promotions

Two city officials "circumvented" civil service law by placing ineligible acting officers in positions four Pontiac policemen claim they should have filled, Paul W. Hart, attorney for the policemen, charged in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday.

Hart, representing Sgt. Raymond E. Meggitt and Fred L. Goines, and Detectives Herbert C. Cooley and James H. LaPonsie, showed in opening testimony that eligibility lists for lieutenant and sergeant vacancies on the force were drawn up but never carried out by City Manager Walter K. Willman and Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

The four officers filed suit against Willman, Straley and the City of Pontiac in June seeking a court decree ordering the city to promote them. Goines and Meggitt were shown as placing second and third on a list for three lieutenant vacancies, while Cooley and LaPonsie finished in the same rankings for two sergeant openings.

Theodore Carlson, former chairman of the Civil Service Commission governing such promotions, was on the stand for more than an hour Tuesday. He told how he had received a letter from Willman saying, in effect, he was holding up the promotions, based on the lists derived from written and oral civil service examinations, until a survey of the Police Dept. was completed.

Judge Clark J. Adams, who is hearing the case after Judges Frank L. Doty and William John Beer disqualified themselves yesterday, told attorney the "real issue in this case" is whether the four positions had been filled by officers not certified by the commission.

Postal Penalty Being Protested

Nickel Fine to Be Paid by Receiver Criticized as Unfair Plan

CINCINNATI (AP) — Postmaster-General Arthur Summerfield ran into some protests yesterday over a penalty fee for insufficient postage.

Summerfield was here for the annual convention of the National Assn. of Postmasters.

The question of the plan to start charging a nickel penalty, plus the needed postage, for mail which carries insufficient stamps, brought a statement from William Roth, executive secretary of the Cincinnati Retail Merchants Assn., that "We do not believe the plan is entirely fair."

The penalty plan went into effect July 1 but was suspended Aug. 1 until Nov. 1.

Nation's Proudest Outfit Serves

'Marines Have Landed' - Since 1776

WASHINGTON—Some 300 times a stirring report has flashed to the American people, "The Marines have landed!"

The landings began even before the Declaration of Independence was signed, says the National Geographic Society. In mid-February, 1776—only a few months after the Continental Congress had called the Marines into being—220 Marines and 50 sailors attacked British forces on the island of New Providence in the Bahamas. In a few hours, they had seized the enemy defense works and a quantity of stores and cannon.

The glory-studded career of the Marines had begun.

'SHORES OF TRIPOLI'

During the early 19th-century operation against the Barbary pirates of North Africa, the Marines captured the pirate fortress at Derna on the "shores of Tripoli." For the first time in history, the American flag fluttered over conquered territory in the Old World.

Led by Stephen Decatur, the Marines also raided a warship anchored under the guns of a pirate fortress. British Admiral Horatio Nelson called the operation "the most daring exploit of the age."

In the Mexican War (1846-48), the Marines stormed the historic Castle of Chapultepec, at the site of Aztec emperor Montezuma's palace. An unknown Marine during that war penned the famous lines, "From the halls of Montezuma to the shores of Tripoli."

"First to fight for right and freedom," the Marines have since continued to build the tradition of daring and tenacity begun nearly 200 years ago. They captured John Brown and his followers at Harper's Ferry. They went with Dewey to Manila. They landed six times in Panama between 1885 and 1903 to put down uprisings endangering United States property and the building of the Panama Canal. They landed 17 times in China to protect American lives and property.

Marines were there when the tide turned at Belleau Wood, one of the decisive battles of World War I. And they made the heroic and hopeless stand on Wake Island at the outbreak of World War II. For 15 days, a little band of Leathernecks fought off a vastly superior Japanese force.

OPTERS IN KOREA

Marines entered the fighting in Korea in August, 1950, and made history the following year by conducting airborne assaults in helicopters. When trouble broke out in the Near East recently, the Marines went ashore at Beirut to maintain order.

Navymen sometimes rib the Marines as "glory boys," "jarheads" and "seagaling bollboys," but the sailors have a healthy respect for the Navy's land fighting force.

"Wherever you find the Marines," said the Navy magazine, All Hands, "you can be sure of one thing—that they will be one of the proudest outfits and one of the roughest in time of battle."

The story goes that during a riot in Tientsin, China, in 1927, frightened American civilians put in a call to the handful of Marines in the city. A little while later, the rioters had disappeared and the only man in sight was a lone Marine sergeant.

A civilian went up to him and asked where the rest of the Marines were. "Rest of the Marines?" replied the sergeant. "You only reported one riot, didn't you? Headquarters only sent one Marine."

Technical Experts Give Advice to India

NEW DELHI—One hundred Indian experts worked in various countries last year under the United Nations program of technical assistance. The total number of technical experts provided for under this program during the year was 2,513, an increase of 7 per cent over 1956. Last year 137 of these experts worked in India. Of the 132 countries and territories that benefited from the program last year, India received the largest amount, $1,907,000. India contributed $500,000 to the fund.

Expert Prefers Hoe to Use of Chemicals

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—Chemicals are less effective than hoes controlling weeds in home gardens, according to University of Wisconsin horticulturist John Schoenemann.

The home garden usually has small single rows of a dozen or more crops planted at different times, he said. For a complete job a weed control, more than half a dozen different chemicals would be needed.

Schoenemann said it is easier to kill weeds by carefully preparing soil before planting and getting rid of weeds every time they show up by cultivating the garden with a hoe.

Try Many in Hungary

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Numerous persons are on trial before a Hungarian Communist court on charges of illegal dealings in precious stones and watches, the Budapest newspaper Esti Hirlap reported today.

Crushed Under Tractor

COLDWATER (AP)—Kenneth Miller, 47, was killed Monday when a tractor he was using at his home in Kinderhook Township, 12 miles southwest of here, overturned and pinned him underneath.

LEG CRAMPS?

One of the most common causes of painful muscle cramps is lack of calcium, iron and vitamin D. A permanent deficiency of calcium, iron and vitamin D can lead to a chronic condition called osteoporosis, which weakens the bones and makes them more susceptible to fractures. When muscles are consistently deficient in calcium, iron and vitamin D, they become more prone to cramping. But don't confuse DYNAL-CAL Tablets with ordinary calcium-phosphate products. DYNAL-CAL Tablets contain no phosphorus which frequently interferes with the absorption of calcium. And DYNAL-CAL Tablets contain a special ingredient which helps to put calcium into the blood stream quicker — bringing faster relief to cramping, calcium-starved muscles. Permanent relief DYNAL-CAL Tablets with calcium, iron, vitamin D and vitamin B and C. Contains no drugs. They are safe, harmless, calcium food supplements. If you are suffering from muscle cramps, ask for DYNAL-CAL Tablets, today. Bottles of 90 tablets, $1.50.

PERISCOPE UP — Socrates, largest giraffe ever shipped into the United States, cranes his nifty neck past a crane boom for a peek at the Brooklyn waterfront before going ashore. Socrates, 17 feet, 5 inches tall, proved a good sailor on the 8,500-mile voyage from Mombasa, East Africa, aboard the freighter Samarinda. He is enroute to the Cheyenne Mountain Zoo at Colorado Springs.

Descendants Mark
Their Own Holy Day

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — On a storm-wrecked ship off the coast of Maryland on Sept. 17, 1831, some 40 German families vowed if they were saved, Sept. 17 would always be considered a holy day by themselves and their future generations.

Today, 127 years later, descendants of those families will go to Trinity Lutheran Church in nearby Jenera to celebrate their personal holy day.

The original immigrants were from Darmstadt, Germany. They came to America to settle on farm land set aside for them at Jenera. After the shipwreck, they were without tools and other necessities of farming and had to work their way across Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Cecile Dionne
First of Quints to Have Child

MONTREAL (AP) — Mama and Papa Dionne made plans today for the baptism of the first child born to one of their famous quintuplets.

Cecile gave birth Monday night to a chubby, black-haired boy. With the proud grandparents standing as godparents for the baptism next Sunday, the baby will be christened Claude after a middle name of his father, Philippe Langlois.

The baby weighed 7 pounds 4 ounces as compared with the quint's combined weight of 10 pounds 14 ounces at their birth 24 years ago in Ontario. Multiple births rarely occur in successive generations but sometimes come in alternate generations.

Harvester Will Sell
New, Smallest Van

CHICAGO (AP) — International Harvester will market a new light-weight van-type truck which it describes as the smallest multi-stop delivery vehicle produced by an American manufacturer.

The vehicle, powered with a 51-horsepower, four-cylinder engine, weighs 2,800 pounds and is of integrated chassis and body construction. It has body capacity of 200 cubic feet and a payload capacity of 1,000 pounds.

On a 96-inch wheelbase it has an overall length of 159 inches. Its box-like body has interior height and width of 66 inches.

International Harvester calls the truck the Metro-Mite. It adds that the vehicle incorporates low initial cost and operating economy along with ease of operation, utility and load accessibility.

BETHEL, Conn. (UPI) — Police Chief Louis Jackson observed his birthday by stepping into a church to pray. He wound up arresting a youth accused of robbing the poor box.

Runaway Lad Critically Burned
in Barn Blaze

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — William Blake, 13, who said he ran away from home so he wouldn't be a financial burden to his stepfather, was burned critically yesterday when fire swept a barn where he was sleeping.

Flames cloaked the boy as he leaped from the hayloft at a farm 20 miles southeast of here, near Mansfield.

"I was asleep and then the fire was all over me in the hay," he mumbled through burned lips. "I was running away, but I wasn't having any trouble at home."

He pointed a burned arm toward his stepfather, John Crabtree. "I didn't want him spending all his money on me. He doesn't make much money."

Another runaway, Benny Pannell, 16, of Fort Worth, dragged him from the flaming loft and made him jump. Pannell wasn't burned.

Pitcairn Island, where the mutineers of the Bounty landed in 1790, now has a population of 193. Its area is two square miles.

Cheese production in the United States last year was 1,400,000,000 pounds, highest in the nation's history. More than a billion pounds of American-type cheese, including the popular Cheddar, were made in Wisconsin. Forty-three per cent of the American-type cheese produced last year was made in Wisconsin.

 fashion
 coats

This is the year of great changes in coat fashions! Everything about these coats is new. Shapes are variations on the chemise, tapering, relaxed, feminine, flattering. Fabrics are rich mohair loops, solid or two-toned, curled, nubby or brushed. Velours, plushes and suede surfaces are velvety soft. There are polished zibelines, textured boucles and ribbon-weave wools, too. Colors are glorious harvest tones! Only great stores like Penney's can bring you all that's new in fashion at the greatest savings. Misses' sizes.

Donnell says:

"Please be our Guest"
LADIES . . .

A FREE HAIRCUT for you

. . . in appreciation of your enthusiastic response to our first year at the Miracle Mile!

ATTEND our first anniversary and inspect Oakland County's finest beauty salon.

Meet our staff of specially trained operators who are schooled in the art of imaginative styling to match your personality . . .

Then

when you have completed your inspection and meet our staff, we would like the privilege of cutting your hair (again as our guest . . . at no cost or obligation to you!) . . . to demonstrate the quality of work you can anticipate as our standard.

To avoid disappointment, we urge you to come early this Thursday morning, Sept. 18, or phone ahead for your appointment. Please bring this announcement as your personal invitation (or when calling, please mention this ad). In case you have just had your hair cut, we will honor this invitation through Saturday, Sept. 27, 1958. Young ladies 16 and under must be accompanied by an adult.
