State Highway Act Modified by Legislature

Williams Jobless Plan Faces Stiff Objections in Labor Committee

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's Legislature made swift progress on a series of minor bills today but left members guessing what action it would take on Gov. Williams' unemployment proposals.

Few legislators were willing to predict when the special session would end.

The Senate wrestled briefly with a bill correcting a flaw in the 1955 Highway Act, then passed it by a 23-9 vote.

Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek) said the bill would make highway construction bonds easier to sell by limiting the amount of money the State Highway Department can use for bonding purposes.

There was sentiment in both houses to complete action on the minor bills and recess for a week or two in order to give the House Labor Committee a chance to hold hearings on the unemployment compensation bills.

It was apparent at the outset of the session, however, that Republicans have no intention of yielding to Williams' proposals without a fight.

Williams' bill to boost unemployment benefits to a maximum 90 per cent of a worker's pay was tied up in the Republican-dominated House Labor Committee, which killed a similar bill during the Legislature's regular session last spring.

REPRISAL THREAT

In a surprise move, the Senate late yesterday voted an investigation of the state liquor regulation agency after a hot dispute over a Republican leader's interview with Gov. Williams.

The Republican, Sen. Edward Hutchinson of Fennville, told the Senate the Governor had threatened political "reprisals" against some of his colleagues "if you blow the lid off the State Liquor Commission."

Williams denied to newsmen that he ever did such a thing.

However, he sharply criticized senators, who he did not name, for practicing law before state

Sewage Dispute Gets New Airing

Pontiac and Waterford Resume Argument Over Hookup Issue

The State Supreme Court today will hear the opening arguments in the 1955 sewer hookup dispute between the city of Pontiac and a proposed shopping center at Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph Rds. in Waterford Township.

A Nov. 9, 1955, ruling by former Port Huron Circuit Judge Eugene F. Black was appealed in January by Waterford Township Attorney John W. Bell and the shopping center.

Judge Black, now a member of the high court, ruled the center could not connect to the city sewage system.

Pontiac filed a suit in August last year, contending Waterford's attempt to link the center with the city system violated a 1935 agreement setting up an area in the township which could send sewage through the city's treatment plant.

A temporary injunction was issued last September preventing the center from hooking up to the city system.

Dialing for Dearborn

DETROIT (AP) — New telephone equipment is being installed in suburban Dearborn to permit nationwide direct dialing, the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. said Wednesday. Eleven other communities in the Detroit metropolitan area have similar service.

Let 'er Sizzle--- We're Cool at Last

Let 'er sizzle!

Pontiac males are a happier, more comfortable, more contented lot today. Quite uniformly, they've shed their neck-ties and are appearing in sport shirts open at the throat.

"I'm proud of club members," said President Paul A. Sparrow this morning. "We have a tremendous list of disciples on the opening day and I look for steady progress as the summer continues. Even the ladies are pleased with our improved appearance. A couple of them saluted me today as they went by and I sure returned the greeting."

"PREZ"

All club members are officially entitled to wave happily at the head of the club when they pass him and call: "Hi, Prez." President Sparrow will unfailingly return the salute and reply: "Hi, pal."

The Press has heard comments from all sides and sectors.

Up to the moment there isn't a single dissenter, but we are prepared for some criticism from the die-hards who would prefer to see today's male with a high stiff collar, a formal coat and a derby hat . . . and a sun stroke by noon.

Several Pontiac citizens have asked whether their names were put into the IBM automatic calculator which we had designed for the purpose of finding the most suitable man as club president. Probably your name went in.

Thousands of prospects were reviewed with steady rejections until the name of Paul A. Sparrow was introduced. On 4 or 5 names the machine shuddered to a dismal stop and required hasty service from an expert from the home office that we kept standing by.

Shown here is President Sparrow as he happily contemplates the joy of today in a cool and sensible outfit.

If you haven't adopted this sane garb yourself, join the club and make a new man of yourself. Remember, even the gals applaud.

Furgol, Three Others Hit 34

Pete Cooper Fires 73 Over Oak Hill Layout in National Open

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Lame-armed Ed Furgol, 1954 champion, fired a one-under-par 34 on the front nine to share the early lead and Sam Snead almost blew himself out of the picture in the opening round of the 56th U.S. Open Golf Championship today.

Furgol's 34 matches scores posted earlier by big Julius Boros, the 1952 champion from Southern Pines, N. C.; bespectacled Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, and amateur Dr. Frank Taylor Jr., of Upland, Calif., on the surprisingly difficult 6,902-yard Oak Hill course.

About one-fourth of the field of 162 had completed the 1st nine when Furgol, Snead and 1947 champion Lew Worsham came through. Snead, playing miserably, reached the turn in five-over-par 40, with a double-bogey six on the 416-yard ninth hole. Worsham had a 41.

First round scores of some of the better-known golfers are: Pete Cooper, of Knollwood, 37-36—73; Dave Douglas, 36-36—72; Ed Oliver, 37-37—74, and Skee Riegel, 38-38—76.

1st Hole-in-One for City Golfer Is 320-Yarder

First time any Pontiac area golfer, as far as local observers are aware, holed out a tee shot over a distance of 320 yards happened yesterday on Silver Lake's No. 7 green.

SANDOW

Jay Sandow, of 2357 Maplewood St., blasted one of the longest tee shots that he could recall having ever hit. The ball struck a clay bank to the right of the green and taking a hook run, slipped in the low side of the carpet, straight to the cup.

Four players on the green looked around, startled. Later they signed Sandow's ace card, as did his playing partners, Dave Beal and Bob Green, all of the Pontiac Motor League. It was his first ace and the first for that hole.

3 Drown in County Lakes

7 Water Deaths in Heat Wave Counted in State

Two Oakland Residents, Detroiter Go Under as Area Swelters

Oakland County lakes claimed three of seven lives lost by drowning yesterday in Michigan's record-breaking heat.

The county victims were:

Gordon Teer, 32, of Keego Harbor, in Otter Lake.

Mrs. Beverly Ocpek, 18, of Southfield Township, in Walled Lake.

Grover C. Mullens, 27, of Detroit in Union Lake.

Their deaths raise the county toll this year to eight. All bodies had been recovered by noon today.

Also dead are a 77-year-old Lapeer man, two 12-year-old boys from Flint and Wayne County and a Grand Ledge youth, 18.

Deputy Robert Cannon was in charge of dragging operations in the three county deaths.

Mullens was the first victim, suddenly sinking at about 3:30 p.m. while swimming about 50 feet from shore in Union Lake, six miles west of Pontiac.

Two friends in a boat led deputies to the scene, Cannon said, where the body was recovered about half-an-hour later from 35 feet of water.

ATTEMPTS FAIL

Teer, of 2422 Cass Lake Dr. was fishing in the boat of a friend in Otter Lake, just west of the city, when he jokingly slipped over the side about 6:15 p.m. He failed to surface in about 60 feet of water.

The companion, Ralph Bensken, 2423 Cass Lake Dr. told Cannon that the victim joshingly had said, "Look, I won't come up."

Detroiters Killed in Truck Crash

Couple Thrown Out in Southfield Smashup While Making Turn

A Detroit couple died yesterday afternoon from injuries suffered when a dump truck struck their car at a Southfield Township intersection.

Harold E. Nickerson, 41, died instantly in the crash at 2:30 p.m. at W. Ten Mile road and Southfield road, according to troopers at the Redford State Police post.

Both victims were thrown from their auto when struck in the side by the truck driven by Richard Robinson, 21, of Detroit. Nickerson apparently was turning left onto Southfield when the truck entered the intersection, troopers said.

The truck driver was released to make a statement tomorrow morning at the Oakland County prosecutor's office.

Steel Unions Study New Contract Offer

NEW YORK (AP)—Union officials will spend today considering a counter-offer by the "big three" steel firms. Management proposals, while not made public, were understood to contain a wage raise and provisions for layoff pay.

Officials of the United Steelworkers of America have been meeting here since June 5 with a management team representing United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel and Republic Steel.

A union decision on the management offer is expected to be reached at a meeting of its 170-member wage policy committee here tomorrow at 10 a.m.

Hints for Heat Wave

Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director, issued several hot weather hints today in view of the first heat wave in Pontiac and other parts of the state.

Moderation is the key word for these hot days, Dr. Monroe said, and he lists several activities to watch.

1. Don't overheat. Turn your appetites to lighter foods especially milk, fresh fruits and evegetables.
2. Don't overexert.
3. Get an adequate amount of rest and sleep.
4. Bathing is of importance, if not too prolonged.

5. Avoid excessive exposure to the sun.
6. Wear clothing made of thin, light material.
7. Workers in the sun should wear some kind of head protection.
8. Replace the water and salt lost from the body through perspiration by drinking abundant quantities of water containing salt.

3 Rescued, Four Missing as Mississippi Tug Sinks

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Three survivors from the sinking of the tug May Dee, which went down off the Mississippi coast yesterday during a tropical storm, were picked up early today. Four men still were missing.

The tug O. J. Senac, out of Morgan City, La., rescued the three men northwest of the point where the May Dee went down. Last night the tug Cormorant had picked up eight men from the rough waters south of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Rescue ships roved over the Mississippi Sound during the night searching for survivors.

The 60-foot May Dee, owned by Stevens and Co. Inc., of New Orleans, sank in Grand Island Channel, about ten miles east of the Mississippi line as Gulf tides reached their highest point since the disastrous hurricane of 1947.

Clay Calhoun, general manager of the Stevens firm, said the May Dee went down while trying to rescue seven men from the barge. The May Dee was swamped and its eight-man crew was thrown into the water along with the seven men from the barge.

Calhoun said the names of the 15 men were not immediately available. But the rescued included the May Dee's captain who was not identified.

RESCUED NEAR BEACON

A radio report monitored by station WGCM at Gulfport from the tug Conrad said the captain was picked up while swimming near a beacon.

A Coast Guard cutter and two other ships continued to search through the night and were joined by two planes and a helicopter at daybreak.

Legislature Makes Bid for Voice in Turnpike

LASING (AP) — The Legislature has made another bid for a voice in the route of the proposed north-south turnpike.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a concurrent resolution creating a special legislative committee empowered to examine the plans and route of the controversial superhighway.

The committee would be composed of five senators and 11 private citizens, at least one of whom would be from each of the counties in the path of the turnpike.

A similar resolution was introduced but beaten at the Legislature's regular session last spring.

Mercury Hovers in 90's as U.S. Bakes 4th Day

Temperatures in 80's Slated Through Friday, Weatherman Reports

7 a. m.	76	11 a. m.	88
8 a. m.	78	12 m.	90
9 a. m.	82	1 p. m.	92
10 a. m.	86	2 p. m.	93

Sizzling temperatures in the 90's were roasting the Pontiac area and other parts of the nation today for the fourth straight day. But the weatherman said local residents could look forward to somewhat cooler temperatures tomorrow.

When the mercury soared to a record-breaking high of 96 degrees yesterday, relief sought at county lakes resulted in drownings of three in Oakland County and one person in Lapeer. These drownings brought to seven the number in the state yesterday and eight over a two-day period.

The forecast is for thunderstorms tonight with the mercury to lower to around 65 degrees. Showers are predicted for tomorrow also with temperatures to hover around the 88-degree mark.

The Oakland County Road Commission reported that two sections of M59, Telegraph road and one section on Cass Lake road buckled yesterday because of the intense heat. Traffic reportedly continued over the areas, however.

One heat prostration case, that of a 38-year-old construction worker returning from work, was reported by Pontiac General Hospital. The victim was treated and released.

Although 6,000 workers at a Detroit Chrysler plant were sent home because of a "heat strike" of 13 painters, no appreciable amount of heat absenteeism was reported at local plants.

Much of the nation continued to steam today in the heat wave. Temperatures reached 100 and above at Minneapolis-St. Paul, Baltimore, Albuquerque, N. M. and El Paso, Texas yesterday.

The thermometer climbed to 99 at Marquette, a record for the day.

The Pontiac city offices reported that 15,146,132 gallons of water were pumped out of the city wells. City Manager W. K. Willman said yesterday the city did not expect to impose a lawn sprinkling ban this summer.

A record high of water consumption was set in Birmingham yesterday when a total of 6,021,000 gallons were used.

But in Mt. Clemens a complete lawn sprinkling ban went into effect yesterday because of heavy drains on the water supply.

The blistering heat yesterday sent nearly 60 Michigan Bell Telephone Co. operators in Traverse City home, reportedly because of a ventilation problem aggravated by the heat.

On the local scene, the lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 74 degrees. The mercury reached 92 degrees at 1 p.m.

U.S. Jury Convicts Two Truman Aides

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Matthew J. Connelly and T. Lamar Caudle, top officials in the Truman administration, were convicted today by a federal jury on charges of conspiracy in connection with an income tax evasion case.

The jurors had deliberated eight hours and 43 minutes since they took the month-old trial yesterday.

Connelly, 48, White House appointments secretary under former President Truman, and Caudle, 52, former Justice Department tax head, could be sentenced to five years in prison and fined $10,000 each.

They were convicted of conspiring to defraud the government by trying to sidetrack the criminal prosecution of Irving Sachs, a St. Louis shoe manufacturer. Sachs eventually was indicted and on a plea of guilty was fined $40,000 for income tax evasion

No Glory for Man Who Designed 'Old Glory'

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP)—The man who designed the American flag we salute today was a naval hero of the war of 1812. In his time, people stopped on the street to cheer him as he passed. Congress had a commemorative gold medal struck in his honor.

Yet for 95 years, Capt. Samuel Chester Reid has lain in an unmarked grave in Brooklyn, his burial place unknown to all but a few descendants. Greenwood Cemetery has better known celebrities, Samuel F. B. Morse and Lola Montez.

Legend says that George Washington asked Betsy Ross to design the first flag, at the time of the Revolution. But by 1818, when Reid was a hero back from the War of 1812, the flag as originally planned was getting out of hand.

It had 13 stars and 13 stripes, for the original 13 states. Then the numbers went to 15. Finally, with five more states coming in, people began to see that the government couldn't go on forever adding stars and stripes.

The result was a suggestion from Reid for 13 stripes for the original states, but an indefinite number of stars, one for each state. Congress adopted the proposal on April 4, 1818, and nine days later Reid's wife had sewed the first flag based on the idea. It was raised in Washington April 13.

GOT LITTLE CREDIT

Capt. Sam Reid fought with saber and pistol on the blood-drenched deck of the Gen. Armstrong in the Battle of Fayal, but history has passed him over lightly. Now the American Pioneer Trails Assn., which marks historic trails and other spots, intends to see that he gets just credit.

It has enlisted the sympathetic interest of various patriotic groups. Several weeks ago, representatives of a dozen such organizations held a graveside ceremony and left a flag to mark the site.

Thomas Manning, the cemetery superintendent, learned from old records in December 1954 that Reid was buried in Lot No. 13108, Section 17. Rep. Dorn (R-NY) introduced a bill to erect a fitting monument. It is still pending.

A great-grandson of Reid, Col. Lewis Sanders, a retired engineer and veteran of both world wars now living in New York City, has a vast supply of stories about Capt. Reid, told him by his grandmother, Anna Johnston Reid, one of the captain's eight children.

He says the captain was invited to design the flag by Rep. Peter Wendover of New York in recognition of his naval exploits. The state of New York already has given him a gold sword for his victory at Fayal. What was Fayal?

It is a little island in Portugal's Azores. There the American privateer Gen. Armstrong, commanded by the 31-year-old Reid, came up against a British force of three heavily gunned ships in September 1814. It meant 90 men and 7 guns against 2,000 men and 130 guns.

The story sounded incredible, but after three boarding attacks by the British, the box score was: British dead and wounded, 350 to 600 (accounts vary); American dead 2, wounded 2.

No one seems certain how Reid

Change Routes in Drain Area

Pontiac Creek Project Prompts Brief Changes in Traffic, Parking

City Traffic Engineer Theodore M. Vanderstempel said yesterday construction of the Pontiac Creek storm drain has necessitated several traffic and parking changes on the city's northwest side.

Effective today, he said, Cass Avenue between Sanderson and Lafayette will be closed to traffic for about a week. Parking along Sanderson between Oakland and Cass will be prohibited for about a month during construction of the sewer.

"It is recommended that southbound traffic on Cass take either Oakland from Montcalm south or at Johnson either turn west to Norton and south thereon to Huron or turn east to Oakland and south thereon to its destination," Vanderstempel suggested.

Another change effective Monday, June 18, will close Sanderson between Cass and Oakland to traffic until work is completed.

All parking along Oakland between railroad tracks and Baldwin will be temporarily suspended. The traffic official suggested use of Allison and Close streets.

commissions while they sat in judgment over the qualifications of commissioners to hold their jobs.

'BEST IN ANY STATE'

Sen. Robert E. Faulkner of Coloma and Rep. George M. Van Peursem of Zeeland, labor committee chairmen in their respective houses, answered Williams yesterday.

The Republican defended the present jobless pay system as the best in any state, called the Governor's program "irresponsible" and said without "crippling" higher taxes it would soon bankrupt existing resources for paying benefits.

At present, Michigan awards are payable at the rate of $30 to $54 a week, depending on the number of an employe's dependents, for a maximum period of 26 weeks.

Williams asked they be computed on the basis of 65 per cent of the employe's average wage or 66 2-3 per cent of the average statewide wage of covered employes, with the addition of $5 for each dependent.

REUTHER TO APPEAR

In no case, however, could benefits exceed 90 per cent of the individual's average wage. The duration of awards would be lengthened from the present maximum of 26 weeks to 39 weeks for all eligibles.

Faulkner dwelt on the cost of the program, and assailed Williams for providing no estimate.

United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther was to explain to the House Labor Committee today how benefits could be increased without bankrupting the unemployment fund.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill appropriating an additional $125,000 for construction of a 600-medium security prison at Ionia.

Lawmakers appropriated the extra money after learning authorized units at the prison could not be completed with existing funds without using prison labor.

Adenauer Visits Ike in Hospital

German Premier Pays Brief Call; President Has Comfortable Night

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower held a hospital room talk with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today after what was described as the President's most comfortable night since he entered Walter Reed Hospital five days ago.

Adenauer and Secretary of State Dulles, who also took part in the brief courtesy call, arrived at the hospital at 9:45 a.m. They were taken directly to the President's third-floor suite at the hospital.

It appeared unlikely there was any detailed discussion with Eisenhower of the apparent differences between this country and West Germany over Russian relations.

Dulles and Adenauer joined in a statement yesterday assailing the Soviet Union's "brutal" partition of Germany. There were indications, however, that Adenauer is far from sharing the view of some U.S. officials that there has been a change for the better in the government of the Soviet Union since the death of Premier Stalin.

Resumption of nourishment by mouth and the permission to see someone outside of the personal and official family and hospital staff members indicated he was on the recuperation schedule predicted for him by his doctors.

terford Township police and firemen continued until dark and began again this morning. He was recovered about 10:20 a.m.

Mrs. Ocpek was swimming with two companions to a raft about 300 feet from shore in Walled Lake when she lagged behind about 10:15 p.m.

LOSE GRIP ON VICTIM

According to Cannon, James Fulmer, 20, and Jeanette Paulson, 19, swam back to help the woman, but she dragged them both under the surface where they lost hold of her.

After one and one-half hours of dragging, Cannon said, deputies marked the scene of the tragedy with a buoy. Dragging resumed this morning in 14 feet of water off Novi Township Park.

The Lapeer man, Robert C. Clark was fishing in a rowboat in Grant Lake, seven miles northwest of Lapeer, according to Lapeer County deputies.

Apparently he fell out of the boat into 18 feet of water, possibly a victim of a heart attack. The body was recovered at 10:30 a.m. by James Grant, 17, who lives on the lake.

Larry Brown, 12, of Sumpter Township in suburban Detroit, drowned when he stepped into deep water while wading in Edison Lake near Belleville.

James Stewart, 2, of Flint, drowned in Kearsley Lake at Flint. He went down in eight feet of water, 300 feet from shore.

Federal Contracts to Relieve State Due in 60 Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Ford (R-Mich) says the defense department plans to channel some 100 million dollars in defense contracts into Michigan within the next 60 days to help relieve the state's unemployment problem.

Ford made the statement yesterday after he and Rep. Rabaut (D-Mich) conferred with Asst. Secretary of Defense Tom Pike and his staff.

The two Michigan congressmen were named as a bipartisan committee by the state's 18 House members to contact Pentagon officials on additional defense contracts for the state.

Ford said they were told the defense department is well aware of rising unemployment in the automotive industry.

The Army, Navy and Air Force procurement offices have been directed to make a maximum effort to award defense contracts to Michigan industries at the earliest possible date, Ford added.

In addition to the 100 million dollars in contracts expected to be assigned to the state within two months, Ford said, military procurement will be stepped up as soon as the new defense department appropriation bill passes thorugh Congress.

Molotov Loses Out Again— at Auto Factory

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government has changed the name of the Molotov automobile factory to the Gorky auto works. Henceforth it will produce a car called the Volga.

The factory, at the town of Gorky on the Volga River, has been turning out the Zim car. The second most expensive Soviet automobile, its name comes from the Russian words meaning "factory named for Molotov."

The most expensive Soviet car is the Zis, initials of the Russian words for "factory named for Stalin." That factory already has been renamed the Moscow auto works, but as yet the car's name hasn't been changed.

brought it off, but the story goes that the British finally backed off and prepared to demolish the little brig, so Reid lowered boats, scuttled his ship and seized a stone convent ashore, daring the British to follow.

Instead, the English vessels limped back to England for repairs, carrying their dead and wounded. As a result, other troops and supplies diverted for the British attack on New Orleans arrived 15 days late—four days after Andrew Jackson reached the city with his Tennessee militia.

When Reid came home—famous but broke because $25,000 of his own money had been lost in the privately owned brig which he scuttled — Jackson greeted him with: "If there had been no battle of Fayal, there would have been no Battle of New Orleans."

Reid was never reimbursed for the loss. For a while he ran a boys' school, commanded a receiving ship for recruits, later was New York harbor master. He rejoined the Navy in 1842 and retired in 1856. He died in 1861 at 78.

Seek City Man on Check Charge

Accused of Cashing Blanks Stolen From Construction Firm

Joseph R. Freer, 26, of 111 Lafayete St., is being sought on an uttering and publishing charge involving the alleged cashing of a $432 check and is believed to have passed at least 13 others belonging to an Auburn Heights construction firm, the detective bureau of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department said today.

The bureau plans to call in the FBI if the man is traced out of Michigan. A warrant has been issued.

Detectives Leo Hazen and Harry Maur reported checks found throughout city stores and banks totaled $2,000. Frank Coulson, co-owner of the Newmyer-Coulson Construction Co., said several others are expected to be discovered in an audit. He estimated the total value of forged checks would reach $5,000 to $10,000.

Freer, who was working at the construction firm as a bookkeeper, is said to have altered and cashed the $432 check last Wednesday and stolen 44 blank checks from the company office Friday. Most of them were reportedly cashed Friday night when he was last seen in this sector.

The detectives told of finding some blank checks and several pieces of paper on which Freer allegedly practiced signatures of the owners in a check of his room.

Most of the checks known to have been passed averaged $90, according to the investigators. They said he made down payments on articles with the large checks made out to himself with forged signatures of the owners typed or written in most cases.

Transatlantic Plane Fare Reduction Seen

CANNES (INS) — An agreement to slash Transatlantic airline fares was near approval today at a meeting in Cannes of international airline representatives.

A spokesman for the International Association said:

"We are approaching a solution and another three or four days may produce one."

The spokesman said the main issue now is the desire of American companies to "cut fares as much as 30 per cent. He said such a large reduction is being opposed by European airlines because of their higher operating costs.

He said among the suggested compromises was the introduction of third class fares, in addition to present first class and tourist accommodations.

Afghanistan Rocked by Five Earthquakes

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Five days of earthquakes in Afghanistan may have killed more than 100 persons, reports from Kabul said today.

The tremors, described as the land-locked Asian nation's worst recorded earthquake, varied in intensity and gradually dwindled away today.

The Kabul reports said the shocks apparently were strongest in the mountains of northern Afghanistan, an area peopled largely by primitive nomadic tribes which borders on the Soviet Union. Scarcity of communications with that area indicated the full extent of the death and destruction might not be known for weeks.

Medics Reveal Salk Discovery

Polio Vaccination Given During Epidemic Peak Proves Effective

CHICAGO (AP)—A team of Navy doctors reported today that Salk polio vaccine apparently can be given during the height of an epidemic with little or no paralysis-provoking effect of its own.

Capt. John R. Seal of the naval Medical Corps reported on the vaccination of more than 26,010 children and married adults in Navy and Marine service families in Honolulu during what he called a "rather severe" polio epidemic there last fall.

The joint report, made with Naval Capt. Robert S. Poos of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, and Dr. Neal Nathanson of Atlanta, Ga., was prepared for the annual meeting of the American Medical Assn. (AMA).

Dr. Seal said some doctors feared that the act of vaccination during an epidemic might provoke paralysis in persons who might already have been infected with polio virus.

NEGLIGIBLE EFFECT

But the results showed, he said, that the "provoking effect, if present at all, was negligible."

Also, he said, the behavior of the epidemic, following the vaccine program, was "consistent with the vaccine being effective, although no conclusive proof of effectiveness was obtained."

Actually, there was a decline in the rate of cases following the launching of the vaccination program, he said, but regardless of whether this decline was due to the vaccine itself, "the vaccine program had a saluatory (sic) effect on morale."

Capt. Poos, when he first detected the outbreak, recommended that Salk vaccine "be given as quickly as possible to all Navy and Marine Corps families residing in Hawaii." About two-thirds of them were inoculated.

Future Industrial Plants May Contain More Radioactivity Than War Needs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Accumulated waste from industrial plants in the coming atomic power age may contain more latent, lethal radioactivity than would be turned loose in a nuclear war.

This is one of the conclusions of the National Academy of Sciences after a yearlong study of radiation dangers from all sources—nuclear weapon testing, atomic power production, medical uses.

At one point, the report forecast that when an atomic power industry has been developed on a worldwide basis, the accumulation of its radioactive waste products "may represent more radiation than would be released in an atomic war."

SAFETY URGED

The scientists said in a 62,000-word report and a news conference that steps should be taken now to guard man against radiation danger from all sources.

They suggested keeping a "radiological history" of each individual — a continuing record of the amount of exposure to radiation from X-ray pictures, medical treatment, in laboratories or power plants, and from fall-out as the result of bomb tests.

Dr. Warren Weaver, chairman of the academy's Genetics Committee, said he thinks people are spending unnecessarily too much of the slight tolerance to radiation which nature allows them. He called "stupid" the use of X-rays for fitting shoes and spoke out against X-ray snapshots of infants "just so the mother can see the skeleton of her baby is beautifully formed."

Genetics was a subject for major attention in the report. Overexposure to radiation by the parents can cause mutation of children born to them or their descendants, it said.

TABLE WORKED OUT

Up to 30 years of age, accumulated radiation on the reproductive organs should not exceed 10 roentgens (a roentgen is a measurement of radiation. An ordinary tooth X-ray gives an exposure of five thousandths of a roentgen.) Up to age 40, accumulated radiation should not exceed 50 roentgens.

This scale is based on statistics showing about half the children in the United States are born to parents under 30, none-tenths to parents under 40.

The report gave hydrogen bomb tests a relatively clean bill of health on radiation menace. Weaver said contamination as a result of fall-outs from tests, if continued at the present level with present type weapons, "does not constitute one of the major radiological risks for mankind."

Also, the scientists once more attempted to scotch a belief in some quarters that nuclear weapons tests are influencing weather. The report said that "no evidence has been found which indicates that the climate has been in any way altered by past atomic and thermonuclear explosions."

Death of J. Kovinsky Is Great Loss to Pontiac

A brave but kind and gentle soul has passed from the scene here below to join his forefathers in the Great Beyond.

After an eventful life of 72 years, Jacob Kovinsky leaves forever a community that was dear to his heart and uppermost in his thoughts. Frail in appearance and almost fragile, Mr. Kovinsky nevertheless had a soul of iron in his determination to do what was right and play fairly and squarely with everyone in every way.

Probably he played the leading role in the establishment of Temple Beth Jacob, both by inspiration and by example in what he did and what he gave.

He was always a leader.

And especially was he a leader in generosity, in thoughtfulness towards others and in self-effacement. Mr. Kovinsky never marched in the ostentatious ranks. When the bands played near him, it was because he was instructing them to honor someone else.

He died a wealthy man. Perhaps this is completely or relatively unimportant, but it bespeaks the determination with which he set about doing everything with which he was associated. Mr. Kovinsky knew the hard, lean years of want and even penury, but no one ever heard him whimper when the pathway was rocky and beset with trouble.

In the final analysis, we believe one of his greatest contributions lies in his unshaken loyalty and devotion to his own people—the Jews of this area. He consciously gave a definite portion of his life to this great cause without stint and without reservation.

Mr. Kovinsky was a well known downtown figure. He was a part of every forward looking move in Pontiac. This city had no more loyal citizen and no more sincere supporter. A great man, shy and humble in his approach to everything, lays down his tasks here below. Progress will continue — that's the way the world was designed — but progress has lost an invaluable ally.

GOP Balks at Plan for $90 Jobless Pay

There were no surprises at the opening of Michigan's special legislative session.

As expected, Governor Williams asked approval of his plan to increase jobless pay benefits to a maximum of $90 a week for 39 weeks. Also, as forecast, Republicans already have indicated they won't support what many consider to be an election year vote getting measure.

The lawmakers, however, should act quickly on the Governor's request that a defect in the 1955 highway bill be corrected. The change is necessary to make it possible to market $225,000,000 worth of bonds needed to finance 218 miles of superhighways.

There was little enthusiasm for the Governor's plea for an additional appropriation of $125,000 for the minimum security prison at Ionia. The extra money is sought so that construction can proceed on a basis of all free labor.

The Press believes Republicans in the Legislature are right in opposing the Governor's grandiose jobless pay plan. Our belief is strengthened by the fact that Michigan already has the Nation's most liberal unemployment compensation law. It provides maximum payments up to $54 a week for 26 weeks.

We also believe that the 38,500 employers and 2,500,000 employed workers covered have a stake in the State unemployment fund. No one should have to be told that higher benefits are impossible without higher premiums.

Therefore, it is the duty of the Legislature to make sure that the interests and insurance rights of these citizens aren't impaired.

"Northwestern University physicians believe a stomach ulcer accounted for Napoleon's classic pose. By inserting a hand in his blouse, he could relieve pain with pressure." —Science Digest. The concensus, however, is that instead of an ulcer, Napoleon had cooties.

Construction, expansion and improvement of highways, streets, hospitals, school facilities and various other things to meet the needs of the future will cost many billions of dollars. Many are beginning to wonder if the future won't be too expensive for us to afford.

The Man About Town

Extra Pavement

More in Our Parks Than in Other Entire Counties

Horseback riding: What takes your troubles off your mind.

In counting up the paved highway mileage in Oakland County, that within our parks and recreational areas often is overlooked. It amounts to at least 50 miles, most of it new black top. This is more than the entire paved mileage within the borders of some of Michigan's 83 counties. A large part of this new pavement is within the limits of Kent Lake Park and Camp Dearborn, both near Milford. The former is open to the general public and draws over 50,000 visitors on some days. Camp Dearborn is for the use of the people of the City of Dearborn, although over 20 miles away from it, and you are supposed to have the proper windshield sticker on your car when you drive into it.

Retiring after nearly 40 years with The Pontiac Press is a large part of that time being as chief linotype machinist. He will soon go to Florida.

Oakland County is such an attractive place that a Wayne County resident has contacted

County Clerk Lynn D. Allen, asking if a residence here is necessary in order to run for Congress from this district which does not extend outside of our borders. A queer quirk is that Lynn finds that there is nothing in the state or federal constitutions or any law that requires a candidate to be a resident of the congressional district which he seeks to represent. He must only be a resident of the state.

Getting broody a little later in the season than usual,

"Etheljohn,"

the tame pheasant with the neutral gender at the home of

now is setting on a nest of 18 pheasant eggs provided for it. For several years it has hatched out a brood. The University of Michigan has asked for a diagnosis of the vital organs of the bird when it dies.

Although it was reputed to be a late spring,

Ralph Bellingham

of Waterford says he has corn in his garden that beats "Knee high by the Fourth of July" by nearly a month.

Our thanks are going out to

Crusaders for Civil Liberties Err, Too, as Do Our Bureaucrats in Government

WASHINGTON — Former U.S. Sen. Harry Cain of the state of Washington says there have been tragic mistakes made in the handling of the security-risk program and he doubts whether any such progam is really needed.

Mistakes, however, in handling dismissals or suspensions of government employes have cropped up from time to time in government procedures, and many of them happened long before the Communist menace developed.

Even Cain, well-intentioned though he is, has himself made some rather serious mistakes of fact in his crusade to discredit the security-risk program of the government, as he pooh-poohs Communist efforts to infiltrate the government here. Doubtless they were unintentional mistakes, but so are the mistakes of the bureaucrats whom he criticizes.

Thus, on May 5, Cain made a speech in New York City before the National Trade Union conference on civil rights. Speaking of the administration's security-risk program, he said:

"In three years of effort, we have found no spies or traitors, saboteurs or Communists in positions of trust. Perhaps they are there but we have not uncovered them with the machinery at our command."

OVERLOOKED CASE

Cain overlooked the case of Joseph S. Petersen, Jr., who is now in jail serving a sentence for having passed on to an agent of a European government some of the most highly confidential codes of the United States government. For nearly five years prior to December 1952 Petersen was doing this and was caught in 1954 only when the Eisenhower administration put through its checking system under the existing security-risk program. Some of the codes stolen were of such a highly important nature that they were not introduced at the trial but were shown in chambers to the judge. Before he was arrested Petersen used to write letters to newspapers vehemently protesting that the security-risk program was unfair and unnecessary.

Another serious error made by former Sen. Cain concerns the unfortunate case of the Air Force analyst whom he publicly defended a few weeks ago because there was such a long delay in adjudicating the case by the Air Force. It will be recalled that the analyst, after a long period of suspension, advertised for a job in the classified-advertising columns of a local newspaper and was contacted last February by a member of the Soviet embassy staff in Washington.

Promptly the former Air Force employe told his attorney about it and arranged a meeting with the Russian for a few days later. Full information on the interview was relayed to the FBI. But here is what former Sen. Cain said about the episode in his May 5 speech:

"The Russian was smart in assuming that he had found his pigeon in an American whose government would not hire him or fire him. The Russian had reason to believe that his intended American prey was not likely to be employed by any other American until our subject's government had decided what to do with the body."

REMAINED LOYAL

From the foregoing, it could be inferred that the Air Force analyst unbosomed himself to the Russian and told him all about his status as a suspended security risk. But the Air Force analyst did nothing of the kind. He didn't reveal anything about his own case to the Russian. This information comes from reliable sources in our own government.

Then why does Cain say "The Russian had reason to believe that his intended American prey was not likely to be employed by any other American until our subject's government had decided what to do with the body"?

The Russian probably didn't know of the American's status or anything about the case because nothing about it had appeared in the press and nothing was said to him by the Air Force analyst, either. Cain, in his speech, was just a little free in his speculation and probably didn't realize he was embarrassing the man he was defending. For if the Air Force man had been as indiscreet as to advertise in a newspaper for a job and then to tell a stranger—a Russian—about his intimate relations with the Defense Department here, he would hardly have been reinstated later, as he was, even to a "non-sensitive" position in the government.

It must be concluded, therefore, that sometimes the crusaders for civil liberties make mistakes, as do government bureaucrats. In the long run, the Klaus Fuchses, the Alger Hisses and the Petersens are caught because a slow-moving security system is better than none.

Every year, however, thousands of persons throughout the country are indicted and then acquitted in court trials, but the stigma remains. No way has been devised to avoid this. Government security cases, on the other hand, are never publicized unless the accused, through his attorney, brings the case out in the open to try to get public support, and when this happens the government's side of the case rarely is revealed because it is based on confidential information.

Doctor's Advice Can Check Derangement of Bowels

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

For many years after the passing of Dr. John H. Kellogg, the sage of Battle Creek, Arbuthnot Lane, the London surgeon who advocated and practiced removal of the large bowel (colon) as a useless and dangerous organ, and Elie Metchnikoff, who thought the consumption of sour milk, particularly Bulgarian sour milk, accounted for the vigor and longevity of many Balkans, it was extremely difficult to manage patients with colon derangement. Particularly the wiseacres, who informed each new doctor they consulted—and they didn't fool around long with just one doctor—that they had "mucous colitis," or, if that didn't impress enough, they'd compromise on "spastic colon."

"What do you mean, for many years?" asks a medical colleague. "They're still extremely difficult to manage."

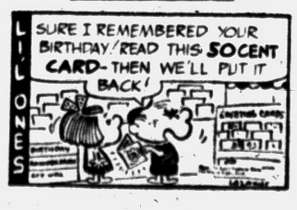

That's what I mean — many years.

Dr. Kellogg was obsessed with the morbid notion of protein putrfication in the intestine. I never came across anything in his writings that indicated he knew such putrefaction is a normal process.

Metchnikoff was only 71 when he slipped away. It's too bad—he left before I wrote the pamphlet Young Folks and Old Folks. If Metchnikoff had been privileged to read and follow the advice in the pamphlet I believe he might have enjoyed at least another five years of life. If you'd like to avail yourself of the chance Metch missed, send me a stamped envelope bearing your address and ask for the pamphlet.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Saginaw Resident' Says Pontiac Needs 'Clean Up'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

In driving through your city, I have learned that you have a movement on foot to "clean up." You should have. I think the number of small papers lying around on your sidewalks is a civic disgrace.

I refer to bags, candy wrappers, gum papers, etc. You can't blame the city management for this. The fault lies wholly with the citizens. I remained over night at the Waldron and spent some of the evening walking around your downtown streets. I'm very happy to say the city of Saginaw is not as unkept.

Resident Seconds Request for News of Legislature

I commend the motives back of the request for printing more legislative news in The Pontiac Press. Would it not be possible to give as much space as the New York Times does for "Major Bills in Congress" and "Proceeding in Washington?"

It doesn't take much space to inform us of how our legislators vote on major issues. Would you welcome requests from readers for more information on certain bills which might not be covered under "Major Bills in Congress?"

Hal Boyle Says:

Mary Roberts Rinehart Recalls Glory, Tragedy

NEW YORK (AP)—Mary Roberts Rinehart, nearing 80, is suffering from writer's cramp.

This comes as a terrible blow to the onetime nurse who became the most successful woman author in American history.

LOVES TO WORK

"I have trouble with my right hand," she said. "It's a chore for me even to write a check today. I do hope it will clear up soon, for I love to work. I'm very much at a loss now that I'm not writing."

Writer's cramp is a rare disease among modern authors. Most use typewriters, some even dictate their stories.

But Mrs. Rinehart is a painstaking craftsman who writes three drafts of every mystery story or novel she turns out by longhand with a fountain pen she has used for 24 years.

That fountain pen is her most cherished possession. She values it even more highly than the Gainsborough and Raeburn portraits that adorn the living room of her richly furnished 17-room Fifth Avenue apartment, where she lives alone. She has three servants. She even puts the pen in a box in a bedside table when she sleeps.

THE SAME POINT

"I might leave a diamond bracelet lying around," she said, "but never that pen. I've never even had to change the point in 24 years."

* * *

Mrs. Rhinehart took up writing after the panic of 1907 wiped out the family investments and left them $12,000 in debt. She had three young sons at the time.

"I never really meant to be a writer," she said. "I never wanted a career. And if I had to start all over again today, I don't think I would. The competition now is too keen."

But competition rarely bothered Mrs. Rinehart. Writing on a rigid schedule — from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. — she turned out from 2,000 to 6,000 words a day. The result: 60 books that made her the leading best seller American author of the 20th century. They have sold more than 11 million copies.

$27 MILLION PAID

A publisher recently estimated that in the last 49 years her world public has paid $27,000,000 to buy her books and see her plays.

* * *

Mrs. Rinehart is justifiably proud of that record. She feels it's "not a bad achievement for one woman working all alone with a pen at a desk."

She loves to live graciously, surrounded by the symbols of splendor and elegance. Her spirit leans on and is refreshed by the durability of lovely things.

"The nicety of living is going out of the world," she said. "But I like it and cling to it.

"My tenure of life has been uncertain. I must make the best of it I can.

MUCH TRAGEDY

"I've lived a life so filled with tragedy I could never take safety for granted. I've been so close to dying so many times, and yet I'm not a coward. Even at my age I'm not afraid of dying. I hope I'm not afraid of anything."

* * *

Mrs. Rinehart's life has been full of tragedy and illness. Her brilliant father, an inventor, committed suicide. Her mother, a paralytic invalid, was accidentally scalded to death in her bath, unable to cry for help.

In 1932 she lost her husband, a tuberculosis specialist. Fifteen times she herself has undergone surgery, once for cancer. She has survived four coronary attacks and, against the advice of her doctor, still smokes a pack of cigarettes a day.

Her greatest joys are "to be surrounded by my family"—she has more than a dozen great-grandchildren—"and to do a day's work."

ADMIRES COURAGE

Still mellow, warm, and cheerful, she admires courage and kindness above all other virtues and says today's generation is braver than it is given credit for.

Best Plan for Unmarried Mothers Is to Offer Child for Adoption, Crane Says

Alice will be an unwed mother. She must drop out of high school next term. Should she consider keeping her baby or let it be adopted? And where can she turn for confidential help during this critical period? Scrapbook this case record for future use when you are asked such questions. You teenagers should avoid this tragedy by using the booklet named below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-382: Alice G., aged 16, is a high school junior.

"Dr. Crane, we need your advice desperately," her worried mother said.

"Alice used to baby-sit for a family down the street. Somehow Alice got involved with the husband and is due to have a baby in six months.

"We feel there is no point in hounding the man in the case for he has only a modest income, barely enough to support his family.

"So we think it would be wise to let Alice go away to have the baby and then let some good couple adopt it.

"Alice wants to come back and finish high school. So what do you suggest?"

USE GUMPTION

Alice's mother is a sensible woman, and Alice is to be commended for wishing to complete her high school education.

Moreover, the best interest of all concerned will dictate that the baby be adopted into some good home.

"But how do we find out about the procedure to follow in such a case?" you may well inquire.

Olive H. Bigger, Executive Secretary of the Child Welfare Division in New York City, offers this helpful counsel:

"We recommend that such girls contact their State Department of Social Welfare, usually located at the state capital.

They are encouraged to seek help in their own part of the country rather than travel great distances."

In the large cities there are usually maternity homes for unmarried mothers. And the Salvation Army is always a safe and confidential source of information and aid.

Such agencies, whether private or state, offer confidential attention to the harassed and panicky unmarried woman who is in the same condition as Alice.

MORAL LOGIC

"Should I try to keep my baby or let it be adopted?" is the common cry of such young mothers.

In arriving at moral decisions we use the rule that whatever does the most good for the most people over the longest period of time, is the right course of action. It gives the mother heartache to part with her baby. But she would also suffer a lot of heartache if she kept it, because she would often see the social handicaps to her child which unwed motherhood produces.

On the other hand, if she lets the baby be adopted, it will be happier in the long run, for it will have no stigma in the community which it must try to live down.

The foster mother will also be delighted to have the baby and thus expend her normal maternal yearning upon it.

And the foster father will also be happier to have a child to make his home life more normal.

So baby, foster mother and foster father will all three be happier, while the real mother will not be much unhappier in the long run.

Indeed, without the baby she will be more likely to live down her mistake and marry successfully. So the wise plan is to let such a baby be adopted.

It is generally better for the unwed mother thus to have a short period of intense heartache than to torture herself for many years with visible evidences of the disadvantage to her child when she keeps it.

But to avoid these tragedies in the first place, don't engage in illicit sexual relations. Wait till you are married.

Steelman John Stephens Represents Industry in Vital Talks With Unionists

(Outcome of present contract talks in New York between the "Big Three" steel companies and the steelworkers union will effect industrial peace and prosperity in the U.S. John A. Stephens of the steel industry, and union president David J. McDonald, carry the responsibility in these conferences. James L. Kilgallen introduces you to the "Big Two" of the steel talks. First: Steel's John A. Stephens; tomorrow, the union's "Dave" McDonald.)

BY JAMES L. KILGALLEN

NEW YORK (INS) — A key figure in the "big three" wage talks in steel — now in progress in New York — is John A. Stephens, vice president — industrial relations of the United States Steel Corporation.

Stephens and other representatives of management are meeting daily with union officials headed by David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, in a seemingly amicable attempt to draw up new contracts to replace those which expire June 30.

What kind of a man is Stephens?

His friends call him "Jack." He's democratic, down-to-earth, forthright and friendly. He has a logical mind and is said to be about as good as they come as a negotiator. He has been "big steel's" industrial relations expert for the past 12 years.

Stephens is 61, quiet-spoken, 5 feet, 7½ and well dressed. He is deep-voiced and calm-mannered, and smokes an occasional cigarette. He likes to "reason things out" without any display of histrionics.

Stephens pointed out an extended steel strike would hurt the nation's economy, inasmuch as other industries would be adversely affected. But he made it plain he feels it would be equally harmful to the economy if the steel industry paid an excessive price to avoid a strike.

"I think the industry as a whole has been — and is — conscious of the place of steel in the economy of the country," said Stephens. "The interest of the men who work in steel is definitely tied up with the industry as a whole."

The union seeks a "substantial" wage increase, a supplementary unemployment benefit plan, premium pay for weekend work and various other contract improvements. McDonald says the union's proposals are "reasonable."

Stephens was born in Albany, N. Y., May 1, 1895, and was educated in Albany High School, Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., and Columbia School of Business Administration.

He lives with his wife at Sewickley, Pa., 14 miles northwest of Pittsburgh. His office is in Pittsburgh and he drives back and forth to his home "in a 1954 two-door car." The Stephens have two daughters—Mrs. Wallace H. Kirkpatrick of Pittsburgh and Mrs. W. W. Winfree Jr., of Greensboro, N. C. — and four grandchildren.

He has had his little ups and downs. He "took a licking" in the 1929 stock market collapse. After he resigned the presidency of Bush Terminal in 1933, he made up his mind to "get into something fundamental." It proved to be steel.

Stephens says that relations between the "union boys" and management are much more friendly than they were years ago.

"Management and labor have learned to understand each other better over the years. There are still many substantive economic areas in which our viewpoints differ. But we must continue to strive and hope that by working together we may narrow these areas of differences and misunderstandings."

Emu at Mesker Park Proud Papa of Five

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Hiram, the papa emu who has had his share of hatching troubles at Mesker Park Zoo, has a new brood of five babies.

Don Davis, zoo director, said the brood, now about a month old, is the largest ever hatched by Hiram and Emma in their 19 years at Mesker. The hatch came from nine eggs.

The only other surviving offspring, hatched in 1954, is in a separate pen with Emma. Hiram hatched two chicks from nine eggs in 1953, but both died. He didn't hatch a single chick out of 29 eggs five years ago.

Maggie the Moose Dies

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Maggie the moose will wander no more. The big animal, now a rare species in Michigan, was found dead in the Soo power canal. Conservation men said Maggie, who was frequently seen meandering in outlying Chippewa and Mackinac County areas, apparently stumbled into the canal and drowned.

PAUL E. McCARVILLE

Banquet Scheduled for Moose Governor

Supreme Governor of the Moose, Paul E. McCarville, will be the main speaker at a banquet honoring his visit to Pontiac at the Moose Hall on Mt. Clemens Street at 5:30 p.m. Monday.

He will be introduced by state Mooseheart representative Harold Kretsinger, of Kalamazoo. An enrollment ceremony will follow the banquet at 8. All Moose members and their wives have been invited to attend the affiar.

McCarville, an attorney from Fort Dodge, Ia., is a member of the Supreme Council of Moose and has served the organization for more than a quarter of a century. He holds all degrees of the Order and was elected Supreme Governor at the International Convention in Philadelphia in 1955.

Northern State GOP Will Meet Saturday

LANSING (AP) — Northern Michigan Republicans are planning at a weekend get-together to try and unite behind one of their own number for a place on the state ticket.

The Republican State Central Committee in Lansing said the effort will feature a Saturday meeting at Blaney Park sponsored by the Northern Michigan Republican Assn.

The Republican candidates for governor and lieutenant governor will be picked in the Aug. 7 primary. Later, on Aug. 24, the party's fall state convention will select nominees to fill out the ticket —for auditor general, attorney general, secretary of state and state treasurer.

It is one of these spots that the northerners hope to land.

Six-Time Candidate Tells of Ike's Chances

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Norman Thomas, who sought the presidency six times on the Socialist ticket, said yesterday that President Eisenhower will be re-elected if the voters "haven't been scared by his recent illness."

The 72-year-old Thomas, here for a speech, made the prediction in an interview. Saying he now is "just a loyal member" of the Socialist party, Thomas took a quick survey at the political picture and had this to say of the Democrats:

"If they compromise with the Southern Democrats on civil rights, they could lose the Negro vote. And if they come up with a strong civil rights platform, the Dixiecrats may rise again."

Credit Official Resigns

IONIA (AP)—Henry T. Welch of Ionia County says he has submitted his resignation as director and board chairman of the Farm Credit Administration's seventh district. It is effective June 30. Welch, who has been associated with the National Farm Loan Assn. for 28 years, said the resignation was prompted by personal plans. He was named vice president of the First Security Bank of Ionia Monday.

100 New Bombers for Air Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — Increasing its goal by 100, the Air Force now hopes to have 600 long-range B52 jet bombers by 1959.

* * *

Lt. Gen. C. S. Irvine, deputy chief of staff in charge of Air Force production, gave the figures in secret testimony released in heavily censored form yesterday by a special armed services subcommittee.

In his testimony, Irvine also expressed the "personal feeling" that this country still holds an over-all lead over Russian air power.

STUDY JUPITER

On the House side, the Armed Services Committee disclosed it will look next month into rocket development by the Army and perhaps also by the other services. The study will include specifically the Army's "Jupiter" intermediate range ballistics missile.

Rep. Patterson (R-Conn), a committee member who made the announcement, said the Jupiter may be so far ahead of other designs that concentrating on it would produce an intercontinental ballistics missile "at an early date."

Patterson made public an exchange of letters in which he proposed the hearings and Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) replied he intends to "hold precisely the type of briefing to which you refer."

Vinson said in an interview it has not yet been decided whether to call on the other services also for a report on their progress in the missile field.

Gen. Irvine told the Senate subcommittee that the old goal of 500 of the B52 bombers was increased recently when production goals were boosted from 17 to 20 a month. The planes, costing about 8½ millions each, now are being produced at the rate of about six a month.

Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, head of the Strategic Air Command, was quoted Monday as asking a Senate appropriations subcommittee for $3,800,000,000 of additional funds in each of the next four or five years to provide more planes, bases and men to handle them.

Whalers' Limit Cut Twice in Ten Years

OSLO — When antartic whaling was resumed after World War II, all participating countries adopted the International Whaling Convention, signed in Washington in 1946.

Under these rules the pelagic season was limited to four months, with a total maximum catch corresponding to 16,000 blue-whale units (one unit equals one blue whale, two fin whales, 2½ humpbacks, or six pollacks).

Because of a decline in the number of whales, Norway pressed for a quota reduction. As a result the limit was lowered, first to 15,500 units and again to 15,000. These decisions were reached at 1953 and 1955 meetings of the International Whaling Commission.

Jewish Schools Popular

NEW YORK — Ninety per cent of New York's nearly 400,000 Jewish children at one time or another attend one or more types of Jewish religious schools, each child receiving the equivalent of 2½ years of religious instruction.

Puerto Rico's birth rate dropped 18 per cent from 1947 to 1954, says the Population Reference Bureau.

YOUNG AND TAME — John Lind, of Littlefork, Minn., holds timber wolf cubs he offered to state game and fish department. If declined he'll destroy them for $25 bounty each.

Children's Stamps, with children's portraits painted by 17th century Dutch masters, are being issued by the Netherlands.

Curious Russians Ask About America

BELFAST—Now that the Russians are allowed to meet foreigners behind the erstwhile Iron Curtain, their curiosity is boundless, visitors say.

Four Irish seamen said here, after visiting Leningrad on a British aircraft-carrier, that interested Russians surrounded them on the street.

Some of their questions: "Are you a communist? Have you a radio? Does your mother work? Do you believe in God? Have you seen your Queen? Do you prefer opera to jazz? How many holidays do you get?" The Russians all said they hated war and wanted Britain's friendship.

But the visitors noticed that the only question asked about America was "Do you like Americans?"

Vatican Radio Active

VATICAN CITY — The Vatican Radio carries regular news announcements and special programs of interest to Catholics. It broadcasts 10 hours a day in 29 languages. More than 100 transmissions every week are made in 15 languages and beamed toward the people behind the Iron Curtain.

Panhandler Nabbed, 29 Times Since 1929

DETROIT (AP) — Genter Adams, veteran panhandler, was in trouble with the law again today—for the 29th time since 1929.

Adams, 66, was picked up Tuesday when he approached a couple of plainclothesmen and made his usual request for a nickel.

Officers found he was carrying 50 cents in pennies, $7 in nickels and dimes and $18 in one-dollar bills. He also had a bank book showing deposits of $5,702.36.

There is no evidence that mental deficiency can be cured.

Doe Kidnaps Calf

MONEY CREEK, Minn. (AP) — Kermit Hanson, searching his pasture for a newborn calf which had failed to come to the farmyard with its mother, found the calf had been kidnaped—or adopted—by a doe. The deer refused to leave the calf, and drove off Hanson's dog. The farmer chased the deer away and took the calf to the barn for safe keeping.

New African Railroad

ACCRA, Gold Coast — A new 51-mile railroad link has been opened that almost halves the travel distance between Accra, the Gold Coast capital, and Takoradi, its chief port. The line connects Kotoku with Achiasi and reduces the rail distance between capital and port from 367 miles to just under 200.

Wounded Woman Escapes

Plymouth Rookie Officer Talks Down Gun Wielder

PLYMOUTH (AP)—A former marine sergeant had to talk fast Tuesday to thwart a mass killing here, police said today.

Now a rookie on the Plymouth police force, Patrolman Daniel Johnson, 22, matched wits with a man who held him at gunpoint and threatened to kill everybody in sight, Police Chief Kenneth Fisher said.

The incident ended with one casualty, Mrs. Maude Garrett, 52, was shot and wounded in the abdomen and chest.

Police arrested Joe Clyde Joyner, 52, an unemployed laborer. He was held for investigation of felonious assault.

Chief Fisher said Patrolman Johnson, a veteran of the Korean War, snatched a gun from Joyner just in time to keep him from shooting his estranged wife and two small children and a rescue squad.

HERE'S THE STORY

Police gave this account:

Joyner walked into Mrs. Garrett's home where Joyner's wife, Faye, and their two children, Rickey, 21 months, and Deborah, six months, have been staying since their separation Friday. The man threatened to kill them all.

Mrs. Garrett was shot during a heated argument in the kitchen. But she was able to get to a phone and call police.

Johnson, a motorcycle officer, got there first.

"I walked in and Joyner was standing in the corner with a .22 caliber automatic in his hand," Johnson related. "I didn't have a chance to draw my gun. I walked right in on him.

'I WAS SCARED'

"He told me not to move and I said OK. Then he said he was going to kill everyone in the house.

"I was scared and don't remember what I said, but I sure talked fast. Once I remember saying it was awful hot—how hot you'll never know!

"All the time I was trying to get up close to him, but he kept jabbing that gun at me. I guess this went on for about five minutes."

Then the Plymouth fire department rescue squad truck, which is used as an emergency ambulance, pulled up.

"Joyner was aiming out the door at the firemen coming up the walk. I don't recall exactly what happened but I go the gun away from him. After that he didn't give me any trouble."

Police quoted Joyner as saying, "I was just kind of out of my head. I went there only to scare them."

Miami Braces for Invasion —of Mosquitoes

MIAMI (INS) — The Miami area is bracing itself for a possible mass invasion of saltmarsh mosquitoes which have been discovered in the Everglades.

John A. Mulrennan, director of the state board of health's bureau of entomology, said his men are watching the development of mosquitoes in the southern tip of the state. He declared:

"The vast brood of mosquitoes should be migrating sometime this week. However, it is not possible to determine accurately the direction of flight. Chances are 50-50 that they will not swarm into the heavily-populated East Coast."

Postal Drivers Honored for Accident-Free Years

City and County officials gathered with officials of the Post Office Department yesterday in the executive dining room of Pontiac Motor Division to honor 44 Pontiac post office drivers who have totalled 288 years of accident-free post office driving between them.

Manley Walmsley, top man on the list with 23 years of accident-free driving, was unable to attend the meeting. Walmsley is vacationing in Canada.

William C. Spadafore, safety coordinator for the Pontiac post office, said today yesterday's ceremony was the first time Pontiac drivers have been honored for their driving records.

He said that since the start of a safety program two years ago, Pontiac drivers, who cover 45,000 miles of local roads per month, have reduced their accident rate to 4½ per 100,000 miles driven.

The national average, he said, is 13 per 100,000 miles.

Drivers with more than 10 years of accident-free driving included Walmsley with 23; William Weaver, 22; Charles H. Moore, 19; Ira Barton, 19; Irving Quackenbush Sr., 18; Hamilton Vicary, 16; J. E. Smith, 14; and Norbert Kubiak, 10.

Quackenbush's son, Irving Quackenbush Jr., was honored for his five years of accident - free driving, as was Leslie Dean Jr., son of Pontiac's Acting Postmaster with three years.

Rural route drivers were not included in the totals, Spadafore said, because their records have not yet been compiled. They will receive awards at a special ceremony when this has been done, he added.

Red Cross in Moscow

NEW YORK (AP)—President Ellsworth Bunker and three other officials of the American Red Cross are enroute to Moscow for a two-week visit—the first time a head of the American organization has visited Russia since 1902.

New York harbor covers some 1,500 square miles, says the National Geographic Society. Sprawled across parts of two states the port handles about half the nation's foreign trade in dollar value.

Clash Predicted in Chotiner Case

Democrats Still Press for Continuance of Quiz Despite GOP Replies

By G. MILTON KEELY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats on the Senate Investigations subcommittee are quoting 1951 statements by Vice President Nixon in arguing their right to investigate the affairs of Murray M. Chotiner, his 1952 campaign manager.

Nixon, then a senator and a member of the subcommittee, asserted that the group had a right to inquire into dealings with the government by two attorneys who also were high Democratic campaign strategists. "The public generally is entitled to know what attorneys represent concerns who are operating before government agencies," he said.

Chotiner has appealed to members of Congress to halt what he terms a "political fishing expedition" by the subcommittee into his affairs and those of law clients he has represented before the government since the Eisenhower administration took office.

NOT ACCUSED YET

There have been indications that a clash may ensue between Democratic and Republican members of the subcommittee over the inquiry. The Democrats have not accused Chotiner of any wrongful act. Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) has argued there is no evidence of any and that the inquiry should be dropped.

Subcommittee staff members have been delving into Chotiner's affairs since his name came out as a former lawyer for some Army uniform manufacturers whose contracts it was investigating.

Old Gold Route

Visitors to Panama can see the remains of the old Las Cruces Trail winding from Panama City to Portobolo. Originally hacked through the jungle by the conquistadores to transport gold from the west Coast of South America to Spain, the road was again used by Americans rushing to the gold fields of California in 1849. At the point where the Las Cruces Trail is cut by the Transisthmanian Highway, visitors can see the original cobble stones laid by the Spaniards in the early 1500's.

The sun rises at six o'clock in the morning and sets punctually at six in the evening every day of the year in Quito, Ecuador. High in the Andes, 9,248 feet above sea level, and practically on the equator, this lofty capital has an average temperature of 55 degrees every month of the year except August and September, when it climbs to 56 degrees.

Peanut Output Rises

WASHINGTON — World peanut production reshed a record 12,100,000 short tons, an increase of 5 per cent from 1954. United States production totaled 869,400 tons, an increase of 70 per cent over the year before.

Red Chinese Announce Plan to Train Teachers

HONG KONG (INS)—Red China plans to turn out 1,440,000 secondary school teachers and build 120 teachers' colleges in the next 12 years.

This plan was adopted at the recent 12-day Secondary National Conference on Teachers Training in Peking.

The plan is now being studied by local government bodies before being submitted to the State Council for final approval.

At present Communist China claims to have 160,000 secondary school teachers and 40 teachers' colleges.

To turn out the additional number of teachers, the Conference suggested that in addition to teachers' colleges, correspondence and night schools should be setup in every city and province providing both regular and spart-time teacher's training courses.

'Lost' Scouts Benefit From Forest Sojourn

SHERIDAN, Wyo. (AP) — Each year, a group of Explorer Boy Scouts gets lost in the Big Horn Mountains. They do it intentionally.

Escorted by skilled supervisors, the scouts take only the basic needs for survival, and leave prepared foods behind. They forage for food, build rabbit snares and peel bark which they boil into soup. After two or three days of survival training, the scouts are led to safety by their supervisors.

The idea is to simulate emergencies common to this rugged area.

City officials said enforcement has become easier because of motorists' cooperation under the nominal fine system. Few motorists have overstayed their parking time and those who have, readily paid up, police said. Motorists who ignore into court for stiffer penalties.

Hurricane Hunters Are Poised — 1956 Atlantic Season Begins Today

MIAMI (INS)—The 1956 hurricane season opens officially today with storm headquarters in Miami ready to track the violent howlers with smooth working team of forecasters, Air Force and Navy filers and costly equipment.

The elaborate set-up under the direction of Gordon Dunn, chief meteorologist at the Miami weather bureau, is located atop the 14-story Lindsay-Hopkins Building with a good view of the storm breeder itself—the Atlantic Ocean.

Here the hurricanes will be mapped and charted, bulletins issued to the entire East Coast and Mexico. The infromation is gathered in stations as distant as Cuba, the Bahamas, Puerto Rico, Jamaica and other points throughout the Caribbean.

The hurricanes will be tracked from their points of origin until they either strike land or break up far out in the ocean.

Crews of Air Foce and Navy hurricane hunters will fly reconnaissance planes directly into the center of the storms. The vital information they compile will be quickly relayed to the Miami headquarters for use in adivsories or warnings.

RIDE IN THE EYE

The planes will have to fight their way in and out of areas where winds sometimes exceed 200 miles per hour—and there is always the chance they'll never make it.

On Sept. 26, 1955, a Navy hurricane-hunter headed into the center of Hurricane Janet with Toronto newspapermen aboard. They radioed Miami some 90 miles from the storm center, but were never heard from again.

Veteran forecaster Dunn said much is being done to combat the storms. Storm research directors have been placed in Washington, D. C.; Norforlk, Va.; Charles, S. C.; New Orleans, La., as well as Miami and points in the Caribbean.

Stations are being established from Brownsville, Tex., to northern Maine. Hurricane data from these points will be used for research and engineering purpose.

COMBINED OPERATION

An elaborate forecast center has been set up in West Palm Beach, Fla., which will also aid the Miami bureau. Known as the National Hurricane Research Project, it is a cooperative effort of the U. S. weather bureau, the Air Force and the Navy, with many universities also participating.

The project, which will last nearly five years, will be concerned primarily with the collection and analysis of new information on hurricane structure.

Five new air stations are being established in the Caribbean and adjacent areas by the Air Force, in cooperation with the countries involved.

Radar centers have been or are in the process of being installed at Nantucket and Worcester, Mass., Hartford, Conn., and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The Air Force, with headquarters in Bermuda, will track the stroms when they come within threatening range of any part of the United States.

This Year's Names

The first hurricane of 1956 will be named Anna. Other girl's names selected, in alphabetical order, are Betsy, Carla, Dora, Ethel, Flossy, Greta, Hattie, Inez, Kitty, Laura, Molly, Nona, Odett, Paula, Quendy, Rhoda, Sadie, Terese, Ursel, Vesta, Winny, Xina, Yola and Zenda. ... ..

Dinghy Is 'Sail Happy'

HAMILTON, Bermuda—The type of boat known as the Bermuda dinghy, reportedly the most overcanvassed craft in the world, can carry more than 1,000 feet of sail although it is only 14 feet one inch long.

U.S. Breweries Dip

MILWAUKEE—The number of breweries in the United States has been declining steadily in the past 20 years or so. In 1934 there were 725. By 1947 the number had shrunk to 440. Last year only 254 were left.

TIGER QUARTET — Pearl Steves dressed in a tiger suit holds three 10-week-old tiger cubs at Seattle zoo during program promoting Air Power Day in Seattle, Aug. 4.

Atomic-Powered Seaplane Set for Construction

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Convair will start construction of an atomic-powered seaplane here early next year, the San Diego Evening Tribune reported today.

The plane will be designed to retaliate with an H-bomb from some sheltered ocean hideaway even if a nuclear surprise attack has wiped out this nation's entire land-based bomber force.

* * *

Rep. Bob Wilson (R-Calif) announced the project after a conference with Navy officials in Washington, the newspaper said.

Money for the project is in the Navy budget for the fiscal year starting July 1. The sum is secret.

Convair, a division of General Dynamics Corp., will build the nuclear flying boat at an isolated plant to be located in the San Diego area, Wilson said.

"The Navy envisions the atom seaplane as the closest weapon to absolute retaliation capability," he said.

City School Board Will Consider Bids

The city Board of Education will meet at 5 p.m. today at 40 Patterson St. to consider bids on multi-purpose rooms and classroom additions at three schools and other minor construction.

The additions are propsed for McCarroll, LeBaron and Crofoot Schools. The multi-purpose structures alone are figured to cost slightly over $100,000.

Other construction is in the form of repair work of existing structures, according to Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, Superintendent of Schools.

Military Bases Overseas Play Vital Role in Defense Plan

This is the second of three articles on the newest weapons of the 20th century which the U.S. is developing as deterrents to war.

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Writer

There is no disposition on the part of U. S. military leaders to think the advent of guided missiles has in any way detracted from the importance of America's global system of foreign military bases.

The thinking instead is that the relative importance of these bases is steadily increasing, because Russia's acquisition of atomic and hydrogen bombs, and long-range jet bombers and missiles has offset some of the advantages America formerly held.

The military leaders concede the intercontinental missile if built probably would not require foreign bases, although a foreign base might be used in tracking the missile. But they add this would be "only one weapon," possibly only an incidental weapon, in a total war.

For all other weapons, and for the naval and ground operations that would certainly be required to follow up long-range blows in war, the foreign bases are held in increasingly high regard.

The use a base may have in connection with missiles is dependent in some cases on the location of the base and the type of missile under consideration. The missiles are of three major types: (1) strategic, (2) artillery, and (3) anti-aircraft.

The only U. S. strategic missile deployed abroad at present is the Air Force's "Matador," a rocket-launched, jet-powered, pilotless-plane type that has a range of about 600 miles.

SITED IN GERMANY

Three U. S. squadrons equipped with twenty-five Matadors each have been stationed in Germany. A fourth squadron is in training in the U. S., and other squadrons will be organized.

Should these missiles later be sent to the Far East, a glance at the map indicates they would be stationed on Formosa, since this is the only place available to the U. S. where the Matadors would have a number of important Communist targets within their 600-mile range.

When a 1,500-mile rocket is built, it conceivably could be placed on Okinawa or Japan, although the shorter range and the greater number of targets available from Formosa would strongly favor at least initial Far Eastern deployments there.

ARMY WEAPONS

The artillery rockets include the Army's "Honest John," with a range of about 25 miles, and the "Corporal," with a range up to 75 miles. These are no different in strategic value from the atomic cannon, which they also resemble in being able to fire conventional or atomic explosives. They presumably will go wherever the ground forces go.

The Army considers that its new Redstone rocket, with a range of about 300 miles, is an artillery piece. And the Army is vigorously arguing that the 1,500-mile rocket when built should be classified as long-range artillery.

Regardless of how the missile may be classified, it is certain such a large rocket will not travel around with the Army like the 27-foot long Honest John and the 40-foot long Corporal, which are only 30 inches in diameter and comparatively mobile.

FEW IN PRODUCTION

The present Redstone is five feet in diameter and 60-feet high. The 1,500-mile missile is certain to be much larger. Such weapons cannot be considered transportable over land. Their erection, fueling and firing can be carried out only at a large, well-supplied and well-equipped base, or on a large ship.

No rockets larger than Corporal are as yet in production. Redstone is in a testing stage.

The strategic missiles in production are the winged types, including Matador and Snark; Regulus, a Navy version of the Matador which can be launched from ship or submarine and has a range of 600 to 700 miles; and the Rascal, 20 feet long and 4 feet in diameter, which can be dropped from the belly of a large plane to precede the bomber to the target.

An entirely different situation exists in anti-aircraft missiles, which are now comparatively abundant and will probably be deployed overseas beginning in 1957.

CONTROLLING FACTOR

Assuming the U. S. is right in believing the anti-bomber missiles are a necessary counterpart of manned aircraft in a modern air defense, these could well be decisive in the next few years in the sense that the nation possessing them would be saved from destruction.

There is reason to believe the greater speed of the rocket will again prove the controlling factor. Even in comparatively short runs—about ten miles—the Army's 22-foot long Nike is said to develop a speed of about 2,000 miles an hour.

The value of the Nike as a high-performance, anti-aircraft missile came under attack by the Air Force in the recent inter-service dispute.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT TYPES

Late last month, the Army staged public tests of the missile at White Sands, N. M. Eight Nikes were fired over a two-day period. The Army said a number of shrapnel hits were scored, but only one drone target was destroyed.

The principal other anti-aircraft missiles are the Air Force's Falcon, about six feet long and six inches in diameter and launched from under the wings of fighter planes; the Terrier, a 15-foot long rocket launched from ships; the Talos, a rocket-launched, ramjet-propelled missile for striking bomber fleets from either land or ship; and the Bomarc, a larger missile similar to Talos.

All of these except Bomarc and Talos are in large-scale production. The task of installing Nike batteries around key American cities and strategic centers is said to be half completed. Such missiles will be used wherever there is territory to be defended.

Damon Runyon was a master of satire, especially on the prevailing romantic fiction about the Wild West raging in the 1930's. Drawing on his knowledge of what frontier days were like as told him by his father and grandfather, Runyon presented "At Dead Mule Crossing" to the American public to show the true situation and deflate the "heroic Indian fighters."

Dead Mule Crossing

By DAMON RUNYON

"Things certainly look mighty bad for us this night," my Grandpap is saying. "There we are, fifteen of us men with the women and children, behind the wagons and four thousand Injuns pressing in from all sides."

* * *

"What in time are you talking about, anyway?" my Grandmaw says, as she comes into the room just as my Grandpap makes this crack.

Well, my Grandpap seems no little confused for a minute, but he says to my Grandmaw like this:

"I am telling my grandson about the fight we have at Dead Mule Crossing with the Comanches back in the early days," he says.

"How many Injuns do you say are there?" my Grandmaw says, looking at my Grandpap over her specs.

"Well," my Grandpap says, "I say there are four hundred," although, of course, what he really says is four thousand.

"Tell him the truth," my Grandmaw says. "There are just four Injuns, and tell him what happens to these four Injuns."

"It is a very historical fight," my Grandpap says, "anybody knows this."

"Historical fiddlesticks," my Grandmaw says, "I will tell our grandson just what happens myself. I do not mind your lying to tourists, and the like, but do not corrupt the mind of our youth with misstatements of fact."

All of a sudden Mis' Wintergreen has the kettle by the handle and she has those Injuns squalling louder than they are whooping a few minutes before.

HEAR GRANDMAW

Then my Grandmaw draws up a chair and sits down and says to me like this:

"Bub," she says, "it happens away back when we are coming from St. Joseph, Missouri, in wagons, with the women doing all the work, as usual, and a passel of good-for-nothing men like your grandpap walking ahead and behind to keep a look-out for danger, and half scared to death they will find it.

"We come to Dead Mule Crossing on the Arkansaw one evening and make camp for the night. They are maybe a dozen wagons, and ten or fifteen men and twenty-five women and children, more or less, including the Wintergreen family from Fulton, Missouri.

"Mis' Wintergreen has a young baby, Ella May, and Ella May is teething, and raising Ned all the trip. Mis' Wintergreen sits up with Ella May most of the way from St. Joseph, and any time Ella May dozes off it is a great blessing to poor Mis' Wintergreen.

GONE GOSLINGS

"Well, along toward midnight there is a terrible whooping and hollering around the camp, and your grandpap, who is a very brave man, comes climbing into our wagon with his gun and says:

" 'My goodness, maw, we are surrounded by Injuns! There are thousands of them outside, and we are gone goslings!'

"From the noise they are making I can tell there are not thousands, although it sounds as if there may be twenty or thirty, because one Injun is like one frog. He can make plenty of racket.

"All the other men are running every which way trying to find some place to hide, and maybe fight after they get hid good, when I hear Mis' Wintergreen's voice saying:

" 'Please stop the noise, it will wake up Ella May. I just get her to sleep, and I wish to catch a few winks myself.'

"Then somebody tells Mis' Wintergreen it is the Injuns making all the racket, so all of a sudden I see her run to a campfire where there is a big kettle of water which she is heating in case Ella May wakes up and needs medicine or what not.

A GOOD SCALDING

"The next thing I see, Mis' Wintergreen has the kettle by the handle and is headed for the direction of the noises, and by and by we hear Injuns squalling louder than they are whooping a few minutes before. In two shakes of a lamb's tail these Injuns are tearing up the underbrush getting away, and Mis' Wintergreen is back looking to see if Ella May is awake.

"What she does to these Injuns is give them a good scalding," my Grandmaw says. "I can show you one of them to this day. He is old Chief Tomato who sells hot tamales, and he has no more hair on his head than a bald eagle. Old Tomato tells me many times there are only four in the bunch, and they are just looking to steal a horse or mule when out hops a crazy woman throwing liquid fire around.

"This is the story of the terrible fight at Dead Mule Crossing which your grandpap tells about," my Grandmaw says.

"It is a very historic battle," my Grandpap insists.

"Ella May Wintergreen grows up and marries this Dods Campbell," my Grandmaw says, paying no attention to my Grandpap, "come to think of it now, she will be a lot better off if the Injuns get her this night at Dead Mule Crossing.

* * *

"Furthermore," she says, looking at my Grandpap, "maybe some of the rest of us poor women will be better off if the same thing happens to us."

'Violated' Mother's Child Up for Adoption in Denver

DENVER (INS) — A housewife who made a pitiful but fruitless plea against abortion laws has given birth to the child of a rapist and put the baby up for adoption.

Mrs. Margie Anson, 27, of Denver, was raped last Sept. 16 in her apartment by an 18-year-old youth, Airman John D. Peters, of Lowry Air Force Base.

Rather than have the child of her nightmarish experience, Mrs. Anson appealed to legal authorities of Denver and Colorado but learned that state law permits an abortion only if three doctors decide that birth would impair the mother's physical or mental health.

Her husband, Joe R. Anson, revealed yesterday that his wife had complied with the law and had given birth to Peters' child. He said the baby was placed in custody of the city's welfare council and will be adopted through confidential proceedings.

In a national magazine article last month, Mrs. Anson told the story of her decision to file a criminal complaint against her attacker. He was sentenced Jan. 15 to the state penitentiary for a term of 40 to 80 years.

She said she discovered she was pregnant, and neither her husband nor she wanted the baby.

However, she learned that it was too late for an abortion even if it was legal, which it was not in her case.

Mrs. Anson said she could not bear to look at the child because it would remind her of her terrible experience.

She appealed for abortion laws that take rape into consideration and also effectively deal with sex offenders.

The response to her story was immediate and mostly sympathetic. Many persons asked to adopt the child. Others sided with her in her criticism of present laws against abortion, and expressed sympathy with her attitude toward the child.

British Alert Paratroopers

Cypriot Guerrilla War Forces England's Hand; Fighting Rages Daily

LONDON (INS) — The British War Office announced today that almost 1,000 paratroopers have been alerted for transfer to Cyprus.

The announcement means the entire backbone of Britain's emergency army has been committed to Cyprus, where Greek Cypriots are pushing a bloody guerrilla war in support of their demands for union with Greece.

At the United Nations, Britain's U. N. ambassador denounced a Greek memorandum accusing the British governor of Cyprus of turning the island into "a huge concentration camp."

The allegations against Field Marshal Sir John Harding were transmitted to U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold by Greek U. N. Ambassador Christian X. Palamas.

FIGHTING RAGES

Answering the vitriolic charges against British rule over the Mediterranean island, where fighting rages daily between British forces and Cypriots demanding union with Greece, Sir Pierson Dixon declared:

"There is nothing new in the Greek memorandum. It is mainly a further example of the worldwide Greek campaign of defamatory propaganda against my country.

"Such a policy must be doubly deplored when attempts are made to use the U. N. as a vehicle for Greek propaganda."

Palamas at the same time assailed British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden for stating Britain must hold on to the island as a means of defending British oil interests in the Middle East.

Ten AF Officers Moscow Bound

Gen. Twining to Lead U. S. Brass for Peek at Red Air Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Nathan Twining and nine Air Force officers, including an operations expert for the Strategic Bomber Force, will land in Russia June 23 for as good a look as they can get at Soviet airpower.

They were invited to watch a fly-over of samples from the Reds' swiftly expanding and thoroughly modern jet air force. How much more they may see is in doubt.

Up to this morning, Moscow reportedly had not sent along any detailed program.

What the Air Force visitors are permitted to see in Russia probably will set a pattern for any return visit by Soviet air officials to the United States.

Among those who will make the trip to Russia with Twining is Brig. Gen. William H. Blanchard, the operations chief for Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, chief of the Strategic Air command and boss of this country's long-range bomber fleet.

Man-Made 'Miracle' Fiber Rivals Nature

WASHINGTON—What the sheep takes months to do and the cotton plant a full summer, the "miracle" fiber fabricators of today toss off in an infinitesimal fraction of a second.

One inch of a man-made fiber can be extruded and stretched in less than half a thousandth of a second, the National Geographic Society says. Made into fabric, it not only may outwear the natural fiber, but save wear and tear on the housewife.

Most of the new fabrics, requiring at least a touch-up on the ironing board, aren't yet completely wash-and-wearable. But they soon will be. Conservative chemists recently predicted that within two years it will be possible to create a tailored suit that will go direct from washing machine, through mechanical dryer, onto a man's back.

FIRST CAME RAYON

Such success with synthetics explains why one New York store, which a few years ago pridefully refused to foist any "artificial" cloth on its public, today is one of the leading boosters. It also explains why demand for the man-mades shot up 25 per cent in the last year, and why they now account for 28 per cent of all fibers used in the United States.

Although chemical fibers are new in the last two decades, rayon from cellulose has a long history. Sir Joseph Swan, an associate of Thomas A. Edison, made the first usable rayon fiber in 1883 while looking for a filament for electric lights bulbs.

In 1891, in France, Count Hilaire de Chardonnet, a student of Louis Pasteur, started the first sucessful rayon manufacturing plant.

The first spool of rayon yarn made in the United States was spun on a Sunday night seven days before Christmas, 1910, at Marcus Hook, Pennsylvania. Originally called "artificial silk," the fiber is known today either as rayon or acetate, depending on how it is processed.

The newest cellulose fiber, trade-marked Arnel, is classed as a tri-acetate. Beginning to appear in women's suits, dresses and lingerie, it has all the ease-of-care traits of other miracle fibers. It maintains its whiteness through laundering, and can be made to drape like silk, shimmer like stain, or rustle like taffeta.

The acetates and rayons, made of the cellulose from wood pulp or cotton linters, are not truly synthetic. The synthetic fibers grew out of a basic research project started by the Du Pont Company in 1928.

BY-PRODUCT: NYLON

Setting out to learn why nature unites certain molecules in matter to form "giant" molecules—such as those in cotton, silk, wood and rubber—the chemists discovered they could duplicate the chainlike structure. They found, moreover, that when the molecules were molten, they could be drawn into a long fiber. The new fiber was announced in 1938. Its name was nylon.

While Americans queued up for nylon stockings, the British took up the study of other large molecules called "polyesters." Thus came Terylene. Imported in 1946 by Du Pont, it became known here as Dacron. Prized for its ability to hold a crease and shed wrinkles, Dacron fast became a favorite for men's suits.

Ten years after Du Pont's chemists introuduced nylon, they released Orlon. It is made from acrylonitrile, which had been used during the war to devise oil-resistant rubber. Not a new discovery, acrylonitrile had been awaiting discovery of a dissolving solution that would make it usable for fabrics.

American Viscose and Monstanto Chemical, which arrived at the same formula as Du Pont, soon formed the Chemistrand Corporation and produced their own acrylic fiber known as Acrilan. The Union Carbide & Carbon Corporation launched Dynel. This spring Tennessee Eastman Company added Verel.

Sometimes called "wool sweeteners," the acrylics usually are mixed in fabrics with wool, cotton, or rayon. It is said that they: "Fight wrinkles like an aging beauty, balk flame like a picnic fireplace, and hold a crease like a taxpayer's brow." Most important, they provide bulk and warmth without weight. Acrylics serve admirably in sweaters, socks and coats—fleece as well as the popular simulated fur.

NEW COTTON COMING

Oddly, the same chemical which produces the acrylics can also change the molecular structure of cotton. Such cotton fibers, now being made experimentally, are not only stronger and easier to dye than ordinary cotton, but resist mildew.

Most of the newest man-made fibers start out as chemicals, derived either from petroleum or coal by-products. But there are others that begin as proteins (such as Vicara, made from corn) or minerals (such as the glass fibers introduced in 1936.)

Variously mixed, woven and finished, all of the fibers turn up in an ever-enlarging patchwork of new fabrics. Some are being made into a new paperlike cloth that is not even woven but bonded together by heat and pressure.

Gas Tax Income Given for Roads

$9.5 Million Allocated for State, County, City Artery Improvement

LANSING (AP)—The State Highway Department just announced it is distributing nine and one half million dollars in road revenues collected under a 1955 law increasing the state gasoline tax.

The enactment hiked the gas tax by one and one half cents and boosted truck weight taxes. The present allocation divides funds received in the first quarter of 1956.

Since the 1955 law reserved three quarters of revenues collected for state trunkline highway projects, more than seven million dollars of the total will remain with the state.

The counties' split amounts to $1,581,086 and the cities' share half as much, or $811,909.

THE DIVISION

Allocation of the first three months receipts from the old highway financing law, covering the bulk of the truck weight tax and the first four and one half cents of the state gas tax, also was announced.

The division of these funds is 44 per cent to the state, 37 per cent to the counties and 19 per cent to the cities.

The respective amounts—covering the first quarter of 1956—are: about 29 million dollars for the state, 25 million for counties and 12½ million for cities.

The total net collections under the law applying to the first four and one half cents of the gas tax and responsible for the bulk of truck tax receipts amounted to About 29 million dollars for the crease of roughly 5½ million over the first quarter of 1955.

Over 450 Youngsters Learn Swimming

'Y' Pool Coolest Classroom in City

If this week's temperatures continue, Pontiac youngsters couldn't find a better time to learn how to swim.

Next week some 230 boys are expected to plunge into the YMCA's cool swimming pool during the annual drive to teach children the basics in swimming.

The week after a similar number of girls will go through the same routine. Children age 9 to 14 are eligible.

According to Floyd Wainscott, physical director who will head the classes, at least 60 per cent of the children will learn how to paddle the 20 feet across the pool, although they may never have been in the water before.

"Mostly, we want them to get used to the water," Wainscott explained. The youngsters will be urged to dip their heads under the surface, encouraged to float on their backs and helped to swim in any fashion they find natural.

The program is designed to save lives on county lakes this summer.

Funds for the classes are provided by the Rotary Club Boys Committee, of which Karl D. Bailey is chairman.

More than 18,000 letters have been sent to parents, explaining the program and its safety features, according to George Balch, YMCA community secretary, who will assist in the instruction along with high school-age "Y" members.

Parents must have boys registered by tomorrow afternoon and girls by next Saturday, Wainscott said.

Classes will be held Monday through Friday at these hours: 9 a.m., 9:45 a.m., 10:30 a.m., 11:15 a.m., 1 p.m., 1:45 p.m. and 2:30 p.m.

According to Ted Slosson, YMCA general secretary, the classes are extremely popular and the few openings left will be filled on a "first come, first serve" basis.

Slossen said tha the yearly drive is part of a nationwide YMCA program in which approximately 360,000 persons annually learn how to swim.

Tank Battalion Mobilizes for Field Training Period

EQUIPMENT CHECK—Testing out equipment has been among the most important tasks being carried on by the 703rd this week in preparation for the trek to summer camp. Cpl. Arthur McQuinn, left, is pictured checking out radio gear under the watchful eye of SFC Earl Johns.

LOADING FOR TRIP — Packing and loading of clothing and equipment has been keeping members of the 703rd Tank Battalion busy all week. Shown loading duffle bags on a truck are SPC3 Clayton Simms, in truck, and SPC3 Robert White. SFC Leo Nicholson directs the operation at left.

Pontiac's 703rd Tank Battalion, 147 men strong, embarks Saturday night or Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, to begin two weeks of rigorous training under the Army Reserve's annual summer program.

Lt. Col. Lloyd A. Gabler, commanding officer of the unit, will direct operations throughout the training which begins Monday and continues until July 1. The battalion will be the largest Pontiac group ever to attend summer camp.

Among the highlights of the camp will be a two-day visit from Pontiac Mayor William W. Donaldson. The mayor will go on an annual air lift to Camp McCoy June 19 to tour the base and review area troops.

An advance party of three officers and three enlisted men, under the command of Capt. Robert Cissell, left Pontiac Wednesday to prepare the barracks for use upon the unit's arrival. SFC. Leo Nicholson will leave by truck Friday to transport the battalion jeep and organizational baggage to the camp.

Preparations and final plans are being completed for the Saturday night movement to the Wisconsin camp. Clothing and equipment was inspected and packed, paper work completed, and Articles of War read to new members at the last regular meeting Monday.

The group will travel by bus to Flint late Saturday night and proceed on to the camp by train, arriving Sunday afternoon. The busy training schedule gets under way Monday at 7 a.m. The Pontiac men will be among 15,000 troops training at McCoy.

The training program will be concentrated on tank operation, maintenance, driving, firing and communication. All drills will culminate in a command post exercise of the 70th Division.

Current plans call for the battalion to devote two days to firing practice with M47 and M48 tanks, two days of firing with small weapons, two days and one night on a cross-country march and bivouac, demolition classes and field work on vehicles.

The unit will be in scoring competition with other reserve units throughout the two week encampment. Old cars will be used as targets for the tanks.

Each man will also be required to fire such smaller weapons as the carbine, pistol, and submachine gun.

The 703rd will take part in a camp parade June 23 when all the troops will be reviewed by the commanding general of the post and other high officials of the Fifth Army.

But it won't be all work and training for the Pontiac area men. There will also be time for recreation, Col. Gabler said. All will be given weekend passes following the Saturday parade.

There will be theaters, clubs, athletic fields, golf and swim facilities, tours, and other activities to entertain the soldiers. Sparta and Toma, the nearest towns, are each 25 miles away.

Colonel Gabler expressed optimism in looking forward to the two-week grind remarking: "They are as ready as they ever have been. All companies are now up to strength and we expect to maintain our reputation as being among the best units in the division.

Oregon Woods to Provide Chow for Editors' Parley

PORTLAND, Ore. (INS) — A gourmet's delight, or possibly despair, with a menu including everything in the forest primeval from bobcat to porcupine awaits delegates to the American Association of Sunday and Feature Editors' convention in Portland Monday.

The assignment for "something unusual" for the visiting editors was given to Arthur W. Priaulx of the West Coast Lumbermen's Assn.

Priaulx, whose association has been promoting tree farms throughout the Pacific Northwest, decided to let the fields and forests of Oregon provide the feast.

Here are a few of the entrees already in cold freeze:

Deer, elk, moose, raccoon, bear, bobcat, crow and the main dish, salmon. A hunter is out after a cougar and expects to have it ready for the banquet on the shores of Lake Oswego near Portland.

CHEF'S SERVICES HIRED

Priaulx said they have lined up the services of one James Dimitriabes, veteran chef who specializes in game, to prepare the wild assortment.

The meat will be marinaded with rare wines and herbs to banish the wild flavor.

Convention delegates will come in from the cocktails of smoked sturgeon, oysters and fried crab leg hors d'oeuvres and look a bobcat and raccoon in the eye, spitted and roasting nicely over an open fire.

Porcupine, recognized as a woodland delicacy, will be dipped in batter and fried like chicken.

Centered in the feast will be a yard-long chinook salmon.

Priaulx is concerned about the cougar. He has cougar hunter Cliff Rolinson and his dogs out in the woods trying to round up this rapidly disappearing member of the big cat family. The meat, says Priaulx, is "beautifully white" and something that should not be missed, if not eaten.

VARIETY OFFERED

Those who may be fussy about bear meat can have cuts from 10-pound hams taken from a pair of roasted cubs or, if they prefer, there will be "bearburgers" from a medium-sized bruin which boasts hams weighing 25 pounds.

Crows will be prepared like squab "to a king's taste." So far, Priaulx complained, they are a little short of crows—they only have two dozen. Crow hunting grounds along the Columbia have been flooded and the birds may not be quite as plump as desired.

Eagle egg salads will be on hand for any who might be a trifle faint-hearted.

Invitations have been sent to the delegates on delicate thin slabs of Douglas fir plywood.

Sports shirts for men and cottons for women will be acceptable attire. But double-bitted axes must be checked at the door.

Device Removes Air

THE HAGUE — A vacuum-packaging machine that draws the air from plastic bags enclosing objects that might be damaged by exposure to air has been developed by a Dutch company. The machine removes the air from the bags and seals them at the rate of 40 a minute.

Abdication Talk Denied by Dutch

Papers Thrash Story of Move Due to Amity With Faith Healer

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—Dutch newspapers today denied speculation abroad that a faith healer's reported influence over Queen Juliana might force her abdication.

The local editors, who had held off several days on the story after it broke in a German news magazine, branded reports of the faith healer's sway over Juliana an invasion of the royal privacy.

They denied there was any constitutional conflict between the Queen and the government.

The reports had no apparent effect on the Dutch parliamentary elections yesterday. The Communist newspaper De Waarheid printed the story here first in apparent hope of touching off a political bomb. But the Reds in the latest balloting lost 2 of the 6 seats they had held.

The story came out in the German weekly Der Spiegel at Frankfurt. It said Juliana fell under the influence of 61-year-old Miss Greet Hofmans after Prince Bernhard brought her to the palace eight years ago to treat their partially blind daughter, Princess Maria Christina, now 9.

The article alleged that Miss Hofmans later extended her influence to matters of state. It said a breach developed between the Queen and her husband after he barred the healer from the palace.

Most Dutch papers labeled the affair a private concern of the Queen and no one's business.

Holdup Band's Getaway Car Wouldn't 'Get'

car that wouldn't run trapped four men accused of taking $66 and spark plugs valued at $46 from a service station.

Deputy sheriffs said the men drove into the station and ordered 50 cents worth of gas. While the owner, Ben Cook, pumped the gas three of the men went inside the station.

When their balky car wouldn't start, Cook got a battery and tried to get it going but the men waved him off.

"We'll just push it," they said.

New Jap Destroyer Called a 'Slow Poke'

KOBE, Japan (AP) — Ikazuchi, first Japan-built destroyer since World War II, is a slowpoke. The 1,070-ton escort destroyer on its maiden cruise provided a junket for scores of old navy officers living in the Osaka-Kobe area.

The men who remember Japan as a naval power say the ship compares with warships of the navy—if you go back to 1900. Ikazuchi cruised at 20-25 knots in the quiet Inland Sea. Four bigger destroyers leased to Japan by the U.S. Navy can do 35.

"What can a destroyer with 25 knots speed do?" one veteran murmured. "A modern submarine may outrun it."

Mochitsura Hashimoto, who captained the submarine I-58 and sank the U.S. cruiser Indianapolis in July 1945, said: "wait a bit. We'll make one making 40 knots before long."

U.S. and Canada Testing New Methods to Save Ocean Salmon From Extinction

WASHINGTON — The Atlantic salmon, a staple food since the days of the cave man, may be saved from extinction by the United States and Canada.

Both countries are surveying spawning streams, providing for elimination of dams or the construction of fish ladders and reduction of commercial pollution in rivers favored by the species, says the National Geographic Society.

Canada still has a comparatively small commercial fishery but work in the United States is largely confined to preserving the salmon as a game fish.

BEGAN WITH ROMANS

The Romans relished the firm, pink flesh of the Atlantic salmon. They imported the fish in quantities from British and Gallic provinces. In the first century A.D., Pliny the Elder wrote: "In Aquitania (France) the river salmon surpasses all the fishes of the sea." Pyrenees district of southern France have uncovered an ancient piece of reindeer bone decorated with a picture of a salmon.

In American colonial days the breed was so plentiful that indentures of apprentices specified they could be fed salmon not more than twice a week. The Atlantic salmon goes through five distinct phases. Eggs are laid and fertilized on the gravel bottoms of streams when the temperature is approximately 50 degrees Fahrenheit.

Months later, the alevin or fry emerges. A large yolk sac sustains the little fish for about a month. Then it begins to feed on small insects. Soon after, the still tiny salmon reaches the parr stage. In this period it is marked with vertical bands, red and black spots, and a forked tail.

Nourished by aquatic life, the parr lives in the fresh water stream from ten months to two years. Then comes the migration urge. At this point the parr sheds its distinctive marking and attains the silvery hue of the adult salmon. It is now known as a smolt.

GROWS AT SEA

Flashing downstream to the ocean, the smolt begins its sea water career. It feeds largely on crustaceans and grows rapidly. Presently, it changes its tail and fin structure and becomes a grilse.

Although grilse have been known to return to spawning streams in their first year, most remain in the ocean two years or more, feeding heavily and reaching weights of 30 and 40 pounds.

Before fish experts proved that the Atlantic salmon undergoes major physiological changes, in each phase the fish was thought to be a separate species.

One trait of Salmo salar works in favor of the conservationists. Unlike the five distinct kinds of Pacific salmon, the Atlantic salmon does not die after spawning. Some go back to the sea and return for egg-laying as many as four times. Atlantic salmon are called kelt in this final stage of their lives.

Calamity to Some— Scotch Source Is Dry

GLASGOW—There is grim news here. Because of prolonged drought last summer many of the Speyside burns (brooks) dried up.

And without water one cannot make good whisky. It is water from the Spehside burns that is essential, distillers say, for it has a special quality derived from the red granite deposits through which they flow. It brought about a serious situation which postponed some production.

There is some comfort for drinkers from the fact that as Scotch cannot be sold until it is three years old — most makers mature it for seven years—the shortage may take some time to catch up with the consumers.

Many Work Past 65

WASHINGTON —Census Bureau figures indicate that if 65 is the age at which a working person is supposed to retire, a lot of people are simply not following the rule. Of all the nation's workers, 5½ per cent are between 60 and 65 years old compared with 5 per cent 65 and over.

Secrets May Be Exposed

Watch Yourself When You Order Steaks!

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Some psychologists are mighty nosy people.

They look at the way you dress, and ask you why you have repressions, as evidenced in the cut of your shoulder pads.

They watch you blow your nose and sum you up as an extrovert with a cold.

They prod your dreams, investigate your habits, analyze your past, after your ego and, if you're not careful, destroy your most coveted conceits.

They are, to put it bluntly, like your maiden Aunt Amanda who knows you better than you know yourself and doesn't hesitate to say so.

REVEALING STEAK

"You'd be surprised what you reveal about your personal emotional patterns," says Dr. Charles Winick, "when you order a steak. The way you order a steak is almost as revealing as a thorough psychological test . . ."

And so it goes. They even purloin your sirloin phobias.

"For instance," continues Dr. Winick, an instructor at Queens College and a researcher on human motivation, "those imaginative persons who want their steaks 'rare' are gourmets and adventurers.

"They love to try new things and seek new experiences — the only experience to eschew being that of eating a steak well done.

"The men like to think of themselves as directly descended from the cave. Women really rarely like the taste of a rare steak, but they eat it so to show off their stamina. It is also a sign of a female's domination over the man she is dining with."

MEDIUM-RARE TYPE

Dr. Winick says that women are almost invariably the medium-rare type. This means that "they are well-dressed and quiet. They want to be doing what would be called 'the right thing.' "

"Medium is the intensity of steak broiling for the type of man who wants to straddle the fence. He feels less strongly about the preference than the others. In fact, he doesn't particularly like steak, perhaps.

"The attitude of the 'medium' man is that if he goes right down the middle, he can't get burned. Nor can his food."

Winick thinks that the men and women who order, calmy, a "well-done" steak are ultra-conservatives.

"They take life seriously," he says, "and food is usually an excuse to sit down and hold an intelligent conversation. They like all their foods well-cooked, and they don't linger over their food."

A CATSUP GLOPPER

Dr. W. pauses, sighs, smiles ruefully. "A well-done man is a catsup-glopper," he concludes.

The professor arrived at his psychological steakopsis after several weeks of studying customers at a Manhattan eatery called "The Charcoal Room," where a man is allowed to broil his own beef if he's fussy.

It was such a rewarding experience for the restaurant—having a professor tip off its waiters as to how best to handle the steak eaters—that they have a new plan in mind.

They may put a psychologist in the bar to analyze the emotional patterns of drinkers—from rare to broiled.

Truth Makes Him Free

DETROIT (AP) — Otto Weyer, 19, of Detroit, whose truthfulness got him in trouble with immigration officials, became an American citizen Tuesday. The youth's voluntary admission that he had posed as an American citizen when returning from a trip to Canada nearly resulted in his deportation to Germany.

The pygmy marmoset of South America's Amazonia is the Western Hemisphere's smallest member of the monkey family. Full-grown specimens weigh only three to five ounces.

It takes a GIANT to do the job

Whether the job be picking up fifty tons of logs or picking up more and more customers, you need the powerful services of a giant. In selling, you need the newspaper — the giant who lives in every town.

Each day more than 56,000,000 newspapers are bought by people in big cities, middle-sized towns and crossroad hamlets. The newspaper reaches deep into America's markets, influencing your every possible prospect.

Wide-awake retailers, wholesalers and distributors know and use the powerful selling punch delivered by their daily newspapers. And they know, also, that nothing gives a bigger boost to the products they sell than to have the manufacturer's ads backing up their own in the same newspapers.

Whatever you sell, wherever you sell, you need a giant. That giant is the newspaper. Put it on the job. Keep it on the job.

All business is local... and so are all newspapers.

Negroes in Florida Advising Caution

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Negro leaders advised caution today in two Florida cities where there has been talk of bus boycotts similar to those at Montgomery, Ala., and Tallahassee, Fla.

The Rev. Enoch D. Davis, leader of a Negro citizens cooperative committee at St. Petersburg, Fla., requested a meeting with the City Council to discuss equal seating of all races on city owned buses.

At Miami, Fla., the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People issued a statement last night advising "all citizens to comply with existing" city and state laws governing seating on buses."

* * *

The meeting followed the arrest of two Negroes during the week on charges of disorderly conduct for failing to move to the rear of buses.

St. Nicholas Was Turk

ANKARA—St. Nicholas, the original Santa Claus, was born, lived, and died in Turkey. He was born in the old port of Patara, in southwestern Turkey on the Mediterranean coast, in the later part of the Third Century. For many years he was bishop of Demre, the ancient Mpra, which is near Patara.

Phoney Priest Refused Refuge All Over World

PARIS (AP) — Nicolas Benjamin, a man without a country, has traveled 15,000 weary air miles to nowhere. And he's still flying.

One June 8, Mexico expelled him. He was denounced as an imposter by the Roman Catholic Church for masquerading as the Rev. Georges Gabriel.

Born in Turkey before the turn of the century, Benjamin apparently belonged to what is now Lebanon as well as anyone could figure it. The Mexicans packed him aboard a plane bound for Paris and Beirut. En route he destroyed his identity papers, air line officials said.

At Beirut, Lebanese authorities wouldn't let him stay. Back he went to Paris by Air France plane. He was kept at Orly Field while new papers were obtained from the Mexican Embassy.

Then Air France and Benjamin departed once more for Beirut. Lebanon still didn't want him. He arrived back in Paris yesterday. The French tucked him aboard another plane last night, bound back to Mexico.

Mileage on Upgrade

CHICAGO — Traffic in 1955 exceeded all previous peaks. The nation's cars, trucks, and buses piled up 590 billion vehicle-miles. Experts estimate that by 1956 more than 80,000,000 motor vehicles will be traveling a total of 814 billion miles a year.

Cinder Pile Cave-In Claims Boy's Life

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — A 20-foot pile of cinders at a dumping ground collapsed on two 7-year-old boys, burying both of them and killing one. The second boy dug his way free.

A group of 25 workers recovered the body of Anthony Bonadio, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bonadio of Scranton, after digging 45 minutes.

The second boy, Larry Miller, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller, summoned help after digging his way out. He was not injured.

Wilson Yet to See Proposal

Twining Explains LeMay Plan Lacks Endorsement

By ROSE McKEE

WASHINGTON (INS)—Air Force Chief of Staff Nathan F. Twining has revealed that the huge increase asked by Gen. Curtis E. LeMay for the B52 bomber program lacks administration endorsement.

Twining told a reporter that the request for a three billion, 800 million dollar boost in spending for more intercontinental bombers was LeMay's "own program." LeMay heads the Air Force Strategic Command.

Twining was asked if Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson had approved LeMay's request before it was made to Congress. He replied that Wilson had not seen it in advance.

The strategic bomber command chief, in testimony before the Senate Military Appropriations subcommittee, asked for eight billion, 800 million dollars for the long-range striking force for each of the next four or five years.

BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

The administration has requested five billions for LeMay's strategic air command. But LeMay said this should be boosted by an additional three billion, 800 million, principally for more ocean-spanning B-52 bombers, but also for men and bases.

The request was made behind closed doors but was revealed by subcommittee chairman Dennis Chavez (D-NM).

It won quick support from Democrats and is expected to touch off fireworks when the military money bill gets to the Senate floor later this month.

Chavez himself said he personally would approve the expanded program.

RESTS ON U. S. A. F.

Senate Armed Services Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) said the additional funds could come out of the foreign aid program.

Russell, in supporting more money for air striking power that could reach behind the Iron Curtain, declared: "The peace of the world rests on the American Air Force, particularly the strategic air command."

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee which has heard much secret testimony on the comparative strength of the U. S. and Russia, said: "I know we have big problems in aircraft and weapons procurement. I surely think some increase is necessary. I couldn't pass on the size of it."

But Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass), top GOP member of the Senate Armed Services and a member of the Military Fund subcommittee, indicated he is not convinced that the huge expansion should be voted.

Saltonstall pointed to President Eisenhower's military record and said that "thoughtful consideration must be given" before making any change in the President's defense recommendations.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla), said he would be for giving LeMay the money he asked because "I consider him the greatest living authority on the needs of this country's Air Force."

Oil Executive Called in Gas Bill Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—An oil company executive was called for questioning today by Senate lobby investigators inquiring into the fight over the vetoed natural gas bill.

Listed as the lead-off witness was Leonard F. McCollum of Houston, Tex., president of the Continental Oil Co. and chairman of the Natural Gas and Oil Resources Committee.

The committee is one of eight organizations whose activities for or against the bill are being checked, but Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) said in advance of the hearing that "there shouldn't be any implication that they're suspicious."

"We had to start somewhere," he told newsmen.

McClellan is chairman of the special senate committee set up last February and allotted $300,000 to search for any improper or illegal efforts to influence senators or other government officials through campaign contributions, lobbying or other activities.

Dad Has 'Swelled Head' After Kiss by Son, 4

CONWAY, N.C. (AP) — "Daddy, come kiss me," welcomed four-year-old Barry when father Harry Jenkins came home from work.

Daddy obliged. Then Barry told his daddy that the doctor had left only a short while before—'daddy, I've got the mumps." So has Barry's twin brother, Larry.

Today, the twins have daddy at home with them—all three pairs of jaws swollen with mumps.

12 Insurance Salesmen Receive Quality Awards

Twelve outstanding insurance salesmen were honored yesterday when they were awarded the National Quality Award at a breakfast session of the Pontiac Life Underwriters Assn.

Former Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner addressed the session, which was the ninth year of local awards by the association. Robert H. Wilkinson was chairman of the event.

Recipients of the award, and the number of years they have previously received it, were: Wesley B. Allen, 3; Robert J. Eisle, 1; Howard C. Fowler, 11; Glen T. Harding, 1; Douglas D. Harger, 1; Harold W. Kruger, 1; Clifford F. Maison, 2; D. H. Pritt, 5; Earl F. Steiner, 1; Robert J. Vance, 1; and Robert H. Wilkinson, 9.

Based on the principle that policy holders benefit from the higher standards of persistency and from the high quality of service agents are encouraged to render, the award was instituted some 12 years ago by the National Assn. of Life Underwriters and the Life Insurance Agency Management Assn.

3 Doctors Back Up Operation on Kidney

Three Pontiac doctors testifying yesterday in the malpractice suit brought against two of their colleagues testified the two doctors who removed a Pontiac woman's only kidney under the impression it was a tumor had acted in accordance with "the usual and ordinary standards of practice" in Pontiac.

Doctors A. J. Zujko and Wilfred Green are being sued for $158,210 in damages by relatives of the late Yvonne Pilgrim, 20, of 13 Crawford St., who died 17 days after the kidney was removed in 1953.

The three doctors testifying yesterday were Dr. Charles Sempere, Dr. Ferdinand Gaensbauer and Dr. Harold Furlong.

The trial moved into its eighth day of testimony today before Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Teenagers Prepare to Face the Music After One-Day Spree

HONOLULU (AP)—Two teen - age stowaways, with less than $4 between them, had one day of plush living in Honolulu, then headed homeward by plane.

Joan Damon of East Palo Alto, Calif., and freckled Dudley Taylor of Redwood City departed with new tooth brushes, bathing suits and a few apprehensions.

$300 JOURNEY

Their parents paid about $300 for their brief trip. It started Friday aboard the liner Lurline.

Although Joan's mother, Mrs. Nadine L. Damon, had said, "I applaud her; I've wanted to do that all my life," the 17-year-old girl said:

"It's not going to be easy to face our parents or the kids in school."

Both she and Dudley are to be graduated from Menlo - Atherton High School today.

The two arrived, bright and smiling, on the Lurline yesterday morning.

They told reporters they got aboard in San Francisco "just to look around.

"We thought we could get off on a launch out by Golden Gate, but it didn't work out that way," Dudley said.

They were chaperoned by a wealthy vacationing Los Angeles businessman Earle C. Anthony, who said he wanted them to see a little bit of Hawaii.

TASTE OF LUXURY

He treated them to lunch at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel, bathing suits, swimming and surfing at Waikiki and dinner.

Battles Are Often Bloody

Coon-on-the-Log Contests in Missouri Are Outlawed

LEXINGTON, Mo. (AP)—The law came to the raccoon's defense today and was set to squelch the revival of an old frontier pastime — 'coon-on-the-log contests.

A formal ruling by Missouri Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton held the sport violates a statute prohibiting the "baiting of any bull, bear, dog, cock, or other creature."

The opinion was issued at the request of D. W. Sherman, Lafayette County prosecutor.

"There's been quite a rash of contests," Sherman said. "We've had some complaints from humane society people.

A WORTHY FOE

"The business dates back to pioneer days, and there was a question whether you could regard it as a legitimate sort of trial for 'coon dogs. So I decided to ask the attorney general."

For the benefit of city folks who think of raccoons in terms of coats or politician's caps, it should be noted that the 'coon is a worthy foe when hunted legitimately.

A relative of the bear, he lives mostly in trees and is hunted by dog packs at night throughout the hill country. Hunters generally agree the cornered 'coon, on land or water, is a match for a single dog, though some dog fanciers are usually ready to argue the point.

HOW IT WORKS

That's how coon-on-a-log contests apparently got started in frontier days and why ready money betting has usually attended the contest.

It usually works like this:

A raccoon is chained to a log in deep water, some 60 feet off shore. A dog is allowed a given time to swim out and yank the ring-tailed captive into the water.

The 'coon has free use of teeth and claws. Officials in a nearby boat are supposed to separate the animals if the dog manages to drag the raccoon off the log. The encounters often are bloody.

Sherman said no prosecutions were planned but the contests will be stopped.

Drunk Swings on Church Cross to Amuse Crowd

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Godfrey A. Sherman Jr., 26, swung perilously from the cross of a 185-foot-high church bell tower for 90 minutes last night as he drank gin and ate a sandwich and an orange.

At first he appeared not to have noticed the crowd of 2,000 watching, but later he emptied his pockets of small change and tossed it to the throng.

When he drank the last of the gin he threw the empty bottle to the crowd.

TALKED DOWN

And as if to entertain the watchers, Sherman at times swung from the horizontal part of the cross with his feet dangling.

Eventually, the man was talked down from his dangerous perch by his brother Henry J. Sherman, the Rev. Joseph L. Collins, a Roman Catholic priest, policemen and firefighters.

Dr. Patrick Fleming, city physician, ordered him to Westboro State Hospital for a mental examination.

Henry J. Sherman said his brother had been sent to Westboro once before but was discharged when doctors found nothing wrong with him.

Gotham Paper Sees Czech Student Unrest

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today university students in Czechoslovakia have confronted their government with demands for greater democracy that are said to be the most sweeping submitted to a Communist regime in years.

Harrison Salisbury, former Times correspondent in Moscow, said the text of the drastic demands has just reached the United States. They include requests for a factual press, circulation of foreign litrature, an end to jamming of Western broadcasts and no more sycophancy before things Soviet.

* * *

Salisbury said the Prague government could hardly grant the demands without upsetting the whole basis of Red rule.

Morocco Receives Powers From Spain

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Spain last night announced the shift of some powers in her former North African protectorate of Spanish Morocco to Moroccan Sultan Mohammed ben Youssef. New talks to complete the transfer of rule were scheduled.

A communique issued after two days of negotiations did not specify what the Sultan's government was taking over, but it was believed it included control of police, the courts and cultural affairs.

Spain ended her 44-year-old protectorate in Morocco last April 7 and declared the area independent and fully sovereign. This action, along with a similar declaration by France in March, freed all the Moslem sultanate except the small international zone of Tangier.

Racial Question Biggest Trouble, Study Shows

NEW YORK (AP) — A Catholic Digest survey reports that Negro and white race relations take precedence in public thinking over the atomic bomb and juvenile delinquency.

The survey, made public yesterday, asked persons to name "the biggest problems in the United States today."

The result: 45 per cent of those interviewed listed the racial question; 32 per cent cited the atomic bomb and the "cold war," while 36 per cent listed juvenile delinquency.

Poultry, Seasonal Fruits Best Buys for Father's Day

Father's wishes will be granted when this week's market list is made. There are tempting values in every department, but special emphasis is placed at poultry counters and on fruits in season.

POULTRY—The special day for father will be more than special if tender, meaty broiler-fryer is the meat choice. Chicken has been a good buy compared with the red meats this spring and summer, and particularly this week. At present prices, it might be wise to freeze several fryers for future use.

Many ready-to-cook fryers now weigh between 2½ to 3 pounds with some stores packaging two of the smaller birds together. Shoppers will find fryers sold whole for broiling or barbecuing, or cut-up for frying or baking. Cut-up fryers, sold by the piece, may be most desirable and economical for some families.

When selecting chicken, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent, suggests these guides to good eating—absence of bruises, tears, and pinfeathers, and a good proportion of meat in relation to bone. Chicken with a wide body, plump round breast, and thick short legs will have more meat.

This is the time of year when brooder hen turkeys come to market. In some stores, these 11 to 15 pound turkeys are being offered at 10 to 15 cents less per pound than the younger, more tender, hen turkeys. the brooder hen turkey will have a thicker covering of fat and will require longer cooking time, but should be roasted at the same low temperature as other poultry, 325 degrees, to assure tenderness.

FRUITS—Fruits in season are the attention getters in produce departments, and what could be finer than luscious red strawberries served the way the family likes best? Michigan strawberries arrived in larger quantities this week, with quarts selling at about 49 to 59 cents. Until Michigan berries are available in larger volume, those from Indiana are popular contenders, price-wise.

More 17 to 25 pound watermelons are arriving, and prices have dropped as much as a cent a pound within the last two weeks. Some stores are selling them at about 5 to 6 cents a pound. A deep velvety bloom on the outside rind and a yellowish color underneath are the best tests for ripe watermelon.

California cantaloupe (27 size or 27 to a crate) are starting to market. Most retailers say these have much better flavor than those which have been offered the past few weeks.

MEATS — Beef and pork are still the major interests in red meats. The market on both has dropped slightly on some wholesale cuts, raised on others, so few changes will be noticed at retail levels. shoppers may find pork loins a few cents less per pound than last week. Economical pork values include picnics, Boston Butts, and roll sausage.

Summer weather has caused a stronger demand for steaks, and they are a few cents higher in many markets. There are good values to be found in the steady supplies of veal. Veal leg, rump, and sirloin roasts and shoulder chops or roasts are moderately priced. The best quality veal is a light pinkish color, while the older or lower grade veal is darker and more red in color. For elegant eating, genuine spring lamb (lamb born this year) is of excellent quality.

VEGETABLES—The old law of supply and demand explains many of the fresh vegetable prices. The demand for potatoes is almost exceeding supplies, and costs are up. Cucumbers of better quality are expected, but supplies are not large so they are still about 12½ to 15 cents each.

Ike's Uncertainty Boost for Adlai, Says Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) said today new uncertainty about President Eisenhower's intentions is boosting Adali E. Stevenson's prospects for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Monroney, a Stevenson supporter, said he believes there is less talk among Democrats that Stevenson, because of his defeat by Eisenhower four years ago could not win this year.

Wayne Profs Raised

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's board of education Tuesday voted a 5 per cent across the board increase for the faculty of Wayne University. Wayne teachers already have received most of the raise in a pay adjustment last November. Instructors now get from $4,036 to $5,400. Full professors' salaries range from $9,000 to $10,800.

Bob Considine Says:

Sergeant Falls Victim to His Own Weapon

NEW YORK (INS)—People . . . places . . . things . . .

Lt. Gen. E. R. "Pete" Quesada, the brilliant young airman who supervised construction of the Eniwetok Atomic Proving Ground before leaving the service, tells us a story about that far-off place. We can't get the spooky yarn out of our mind:

Coral is quarried on Eniwetok atoll to save costs and transportation of cement for structures, runways and the like. One night a new shift arrived at the quarry to find the lights out.

A boy stepped over to the fuse box and noted the apparent reason. The switch had been pulled. With little or no thought to what he was doing he pushed the switch shut.

The act killed a sergeant who, unbeknown to the arriving shift, was standing in quarry water up to his knees piecing together the broken light wire. He had taken the precaution of shutting off the power before he undertook the job.

He was electrocuted.

"The only man we lost on that job," Quesada remembered today. "And one of the strangest stories I've ever encountered."

I asked him why.

"The sergeant was the executioner at Nuremburg," Pete said.

DOLLAR MYSTERY

There are 1,500,000,000 dollar bills more or less in circulation in this country. How many of their owners know what the pyramid and the eye above it mean on the back of each buck?

Thanks to Ray Bolger, who clears up the matter as a fine guest on one of Father James Keller's Christopher TV shows, here's the dope:

It's the reverse side of the familiar spread-eagled Great Seal of the U. S. The question of the needed seal arose on the afternoon of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Jefferson, Franklin and John Adams were appointed to prepare the seal's design and its inscription. There was much haggling, especially by Franklin.

He held the eagle in low repute. It had the manners and appetite of a vulture. He held out for the turkey, and lost.

The final design, the work of William Barton and Charles Thomson, was approved by Congress after six years.

FAMILIAR PROBLEM

The problem of who wrote "Anna Karenina," which has been told on successive generations of despots, pops up again in London. It gets better through the years—since I first read it in Winchell's piece.

Khrushchev claimed during his visit to 10 Downing that once in Moscow he asked a student, "Who wrote Ann Karenina?" The frightened student said, "Not me. I didn't do it."

Khrushchev claims he sent for the MVD man and bawled him out for terrorizing the student. He demanded a report.

The MVD man came back the next day with bruised knuckles and a report. "The student has finally admitted writing Anna Karenina," he asserted.

World Federalists to Meet in Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—The United World Federalists, a national organization proposing "a system of world law applicable to all nations," opens its 10th annual national assembly Friday in Detroit.

More than 300 delegates representing 25,000 members are expected to attend the three-day meeting.

The organization's aim is to enforce world disarmament through amendments to the United Nations charter. The proposed amendments would strengthen the U. N. into a world federation having powers limited to prevention of aggression and control of armaments.

A panel discussion Friday at which a group of experts will present prospects of utilizing the force of atomic energy for peaceful purposes will highlight the meeting.

Norway Proud of Museum

Within the Norwegian capital of Oslo, the tourist can simulate a trip through the countrysides. There is a unique open-air museum only 15 minutes away by ferry from Oslo's business section which contains farm buildings reconstucted from each of the well-known valleys and agricultural districts. The museum, resembling a large park, also boasts an authentic stave church and is located near the Kon-Tiki and Viking ship exhibits.

Motorist Has Scare With Locked Trunk

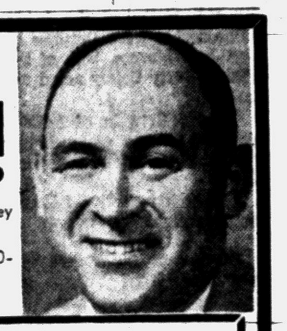

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — When Julius Ramirez' auto trunk-lid sprang a leak, Ramirez sprang into the trunk and shut the lid to see if he could spot the trouble from within. Then it occurred to him the key to the automatically-locking lid was in his pocket.

Ramirez set up a muffled tumult. His wife telephoned police. Police dispatched a Fire Department rescue suad. It's leader, Lt. Harold V. Carleton, instructed Ramirez to drop the key through the spare tire drainhole to the ground, and with it released him.

Newspaper Article Reaps Benefits for 74-Year-Old

By RAY HENRY
AP Writer

Thumbing through his Sunday paper a few months ago, a 74-year-old Denver newspaper photographer found directions for locating about $100 a month for life.

It wasn't a treasure hunt. He didn't have to enter any contests or save soap wrappers. And he hadn't been left a fortune by a relative.

For Harry Rhoads, it was as simple as reading the paper. The directions were in a story telling of recent changes in the Social Security law. The changes appeared to Rhoads as if they might make him eligible for a monthly old-age pension—despite his full-time job and full-time income.

A couple of days later, he stopped by the Denver Social Security office and asked about the story.

Yes, he was told, you're eligible not only for about $100 a month, but you can claim six months of back payments.

Rhoads was so pleased about his discovery that he gave the Social Security people permission to tell his story publicly. Normally, Social Security records are confidential.

BENEFITS FROM CHANGE

He was eligible for the payments under a change made in the Social Security law in 1954. First, he was found to be "fully insured"—a term used to describe someone who's paid into Social Security long enough to be eligible. Second, he was eligible under the law change which makes benefits payable for any month after a worker reaches 72 no matter how much money he earns.

Until the change he would have been barred from getting payments because his income was to high.

But for reading that news story, Rhoads might have gone for a couple of years or more without knowing he was eligible for payments. If he had, at least part of the money he had coming would have been lost. Social Security regulations only permit back payments of up to 12 months.

Paying the money also pleased the Denver Social Security director and he pointed out:

STAFF ALWAYS HELPFUL

"We have no funds to advertise the program, but we do have a staff to help people who want to know if they have any money coming."

If you're protected by Social Security insurance—9 out of 10 Americans are—there are four times when you should talk with your local office:

—If a disability occurs that keeps you from working for an indefinite length of time, you should apply to have your earning record "frozen." This is important because your benefits are based on your average monthly earnings. If the Social Security people must average in a long period of no income, your future benefits will be lower. With the freeze in force the period of disability will not be counted.

—When you're 65, you may be eligible for old-age pension payments. For example, if your earnings from all types of work are not over $2,080 a year, or if there are even a few months of the year when you don't work after you're 65, you may be eligible.

—When you reach age 72, even if you're still fully employed. Harry Rhoad's case illustrates the reason.

—After the death of a person whose work was covered by Social Security, some member of his family should find out if survivors insurance benefits are payable.

Underworld Beauty Sends Police Word

ROME—While Italian police are seeking her on a murder charge, "Doll" Simonetti has issued a statement from her hideout. The former Naples beauty queen announced: "I will give myself up after my baby is born."

Two gunmen killed her husband, Pasquale, when she was a bride of a few months. He had clashed with a gang leader, and "Doll"—real name Anna Maria Assunta—swore to avenge him.

Later, in her mourning costume, she and her brother called on the rival gang leader. There were shots and the gangster fell mortally wounded. By the time the police came the lovely young widow had vanished.

4,000 Attend Waterford Rite

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — The skies threatened but held back last night as commencement exercises were held for the first time on the lighted athletic field. It was mainly through the efforts of the 1956 graduating class and the student council that the lights had been obtained.

Some 4,000 parents and friends witnessed the graduation of the 243 students.

Dr. Carl S. Winter, of the First Baptist Church, Oak Park, Ill., praised the young people for their perseverance and likened the stadium to a cathedral because of the natural surroundings.

Commerce to Improve Roads

Township Board Decides on Proposal for Fall Ballot

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — It now seems a certainty that residents of Commerce Township will get an opportunity to vote for or against a road improvement program when the Presidential election rolls around in November.

The Township Board decided at its meeting last night to draw up a proposal for the fall ballot, placing the major problem in the hands of the township voters.

Additional taxation will be needed to finance a road improvement program.

The board heard a periodic report from the Township Road Study Committee, represented by Ewald E. Schaffer, chairman, and Claude Garvey, a member.

Schaffer suggested that a tax levy of four mills on assessed valuation would be needed to produce about $140,000 per year to carry out a suitable road improvement program.

It was estimated that the average home in Commerce Township carries an assessed valuation of about $2,500. This would mean a tax increase of about $20 for the average home owner if the proposal is adopted.

If passed, the road improvement plan will continue for five years. The Oakland County Road Commission has agreed to make a traffic count if the proposal is adopted, Schaffer said.

In other action, the board authorized Township Clerk George F. Feller to sell the township's fire hall in Walled Lake to that city. It also authorized Feller to sign a mutual fire protection agreement with the 504th AAA Missile Battalion, U. S. Army, which is stationed in Commerce Township.

Too Much Duplication, Senators Told

Ask State Printing Expert

LANSING (AP) — Michigan senators have been told the state government is getting out of bounds in its printing and duplicating activities.

A delegation of three persons with an interest in reproducing letters, figures and pictures on paper said a professional printing engineer ought to be called in to straighten out the situation.

This might lead to a savings of from $125,000 to $250,000 a year, C. C. Means of Detroit, representing the Graphic Arts Assn. of Michigan, told the Senate Appropriations Committee Wednesday.

The recent survey showed that the various state agencies in Lansing operated at least 193 duplicating devices of various kinds — ranging from mimeographs to complicated pieces of printing equipment.

Girl Freezes Hand With Mercury at 100

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Robert Olson, Ramsey County deputy sheriff, did a double take when, with the mercury pushing 100, he heard the alert over his squad car radio:

"Assist a girl with a frozen hand."

Olson went to the home of J. W. Jwanouskos in suburban Arden Hills to find the report all too true.

Geraldine Jwanouskos, 11, had put her hand into the family freezer, found it quite cooling and left it there until it "froze in."

Olson said he poured water onto the imprisoned hand until it was freed and reported Geraldine was "just as good as new."

Church Boards to Meet

Board Votes $3 Per Trip

Yield to Association Raise Request; Deny 10-Man Limit

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — An increase in volunteer firemen's pay was approved at the Waterford Township board's meeting this week.

Rates were set at three dollars per man per trip, with a limit of eight men to each pumper. The increase was to take effect immediately.

Previously volunteers received $2.50 per man per trip, with a limit of five men for each pumper. The Waterford Township Firefighters Assn. asked several weeks ago for $3 a man, with a ten-man limit, retroactive to April 1 of this year.

The pay goes, rather than to volunteers, into their association's fund, for fire fighting equipment and hospitalization and life insurance for members.

CANBERRA — Australia's wool clip for the 1955-56 season reached a record 4,219,000 bales, an increase of 300,000 bales from the previous peak clip of the year before. Total value of the clip, however, was about £37,000,000 ($83,000,000) less than the previous year.

Bridegroom Falls a Mile to Death From Airliner

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — President Airline officials were trying to find out today how a honeymooning bridegroom happened to drop to his death from a plane more than a mile in the air.

The victim, identified as Oren A. Pruitt, 38, of Charlotte, was said by neighbors to have been married Tuesday — just a day before his death — to Blande Tidd, also of Charlotte. The neighbors said the couple was honeymooning.

Pruitt's body — described by police as "broken all to pieces" —was found in a church graveyard near Shelby after he plummeted from the plane while it was flying at an estimated 6,000 feet.

John Newell, Pedimont's agent here, said Pruitt apparently was swept out of the plane when a cabin door opened unexpectedly as he was walking toward the men's room in the rear. Newell said it probably would not be known until sometime today why the door flew open.

Oakland Dems Set Musical

Hazel Park Attorney, Birmingham Mayor in Cast

A cast of 30 Oakland County Democrats will stage a musical parody, June 23 at 8:30 p.m., at Berkley High School. Eighteen songs are included in Gullible's Travels, an original play with original lyrics by Mrs. Harriet Arnowitz of Oak Park.

I. M. Gullible will be played by Hazel Park's city attorney, Jack Moskowitz, and James C. Allen, mayor of Birmingham, will take the role of the ever present public relations man.

The ambition of the 18th Congressional District Democrats is to spark interest in their campaign—just as the minstrels of old used rhymes to rib, criticize or praise public officials in Robin Hood's time.

Gullible is a character who tours Republican and Democratic offices. He first visits the office of the Oakland County drain commissioner and then travels to the office of the state highway commissioner where two outstanding tunes — "Sixteen Miles" and "Chuckhole Charley's Freeway"—are introduced.

Ezra Taft Bumpkin makes his appearance in the farm scene and then Gullible goes on to a foreign policy committee meeting and then finally to a national cabinet meeting. Art Lazarow, radio and TV announcer, will narrate and Emil Sutt's orchestra will play.

John Kronenberg of Royal Oak is property manager and Mark Wallexcz, Berkley, is production manager. Tickets may be obtained from Hayward Whitlock, George Hicks, Willis Brewer, or by calling Dem headquarters, FE 4-0546.

Dr. Moore is professor of Speech and Drama at Central Michigan College of Education. Introducing him will be Marvin L. Kitchen, class president.

Harlan Johnson, principal of Rochester High School will present the class, A. R. Musson, of the Board of Education will present the diplomas.

More than 40 scholarships were presented to honor students of the Rochester High School at The Honors Conference Tuesday night. Presentations were made by the service clubs, Avon Players, University Club, W.R.C., (Nursing Scholarships) Lutheran Women's Missionary League, American Legion, Auxiliary, Band Boosters Club, Rochester Tuesday Musicale and U. of M.

J. A. Forner Resigns Post

Walled Lake Schools Award Bids to Re-Do Junior High

WALLED LAKE — Resignation of James A. Forner, assistant superintendent of schools, was accepted by the Walled Lake Board of Education at its meeting this week.

The board also opened bids and awarded contracts for the remodeling of the Junior High School.

Forner has been in the employ of the Walled Lake schools for 11 years, beginning as bookkeeper and advancing to his present position where he has charge of all cafeterias, transportation, and purchasing, including bookstores.

His resignation is effective July 1, but the board will continue to employ him until such time as a replacement can be trained, providing Forner is agreeable.

There were unofficial indications that his resignation was first among possible others, since a two mill increase for salary increases and other operational expenses did not pass voters this week.

Ernest Hull was awarded the Junior High School's general contract for his low bid of $28,787. He will work on the main hallways, the band room, and the lavatories. The Canton China Co. will remodel the kitchen at a cost of $7,019.

Money for this was voted a year ago, when funds were authorized for the Decker Road School and other elementary expansion.

The bank depositories for the school year 1956-57 were designated as the Community National, general fund; Pontiac State, debt and building and site funds; and Michigan National, investment funds.

The school term was set as ten months for the coming year.

Husband Dies, Home Burns Within Week

LAKE ORION — Sympathetic neighbors here are trying in a quiet way, to help a widow with four children who has lost her husband and her home within one week.

Mrs. Marge Bromley buried her husband, Everett, June 8, after he died suddenly of a heart attack on June 5.

Then Monday, Mrs. Bromley's basement home at 1351 Miller Rd. burned completely, leaving the family destitute.

The children are George, 22, (home on emergency leave from the Navy) Georgia, 13; Judy, 11 and Gloria, 2½.

The family has no income and the children are without clothing. Earl Bixby, owner of the Wagon Wheel Tavern at Lake Orion has provided the family with a cottage temporarily. Neighbors and some Lake Orion merchants are trying to help with small contributions and groceries.

Persons wishing to help may send donations to the Wagon Wheel 27 South Broadway.

Voting Begins Today on Foreign Aid Funds

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee expects to start voting today on restoring part of the $1,100,000,000 slash in foreign aid funds voted by the House.

President Eisenhower, through his aides, issued an appeal from his hospital bed Tuesday for a return of at least 600 million dollars.

Administration supporters expressed mounting hope that perhaps as much as half of the reduction might be put back.

There were indications that Senate debate on the big foreign aid bill might get under way by the end of this week.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said he thought the administration has made a "strong case" for restoration of at least some of the House cut. But he declined to say what figure he would support.

Meanwhile, there were indications of revolt among Democrats who, up to now, have supported the administration on the issue.

LAKEVILLE — On the occasion of its 100th birthday, Lakeville Methodist Church has slated a centennial service to be held at 11 a.m. June 24, at the church.

One hundred years ago, May 21, 1856, a small group of pioneers met and decided to build a church. That very year, a handsome little church was built on its present site. A Sunday School was organized in the church as soon as it was built. This was the only church edifice in Northeastern Oakland County.

Rev. John Gray was the first pastor in this new place of worship. The Church circuit at this time consisted of three preaching places; Mt. Vernon, Leonard and Lakeville.

The Rev. Alfred Eddy, presiding pastor, has invited Bishop Marshall R. Reed from Detroit, and Rev. Arthur E. Smith, District Superintendent of Port Huron, as guest speakers. New furnishings of the church will be dedicated at this time.

INVITE SPECIAL GUESTS

Some of the special guests invited include former pastors; Hedley Bennet of Vernon; George Woomer of Belleville; Karl Patow of North Branch; Ellis Hart of Romeo; Anne Campbell, poetess of the Detroit News; Stillman Elwell of Dryden, and Joe Haas, of The Pontiac Press.

After the service there will be a luncheon. At 2 p.m., there will be an informal gathering with the ministers and friends of the church.

Ach, Mein Herr! Das Ist Music From Der Hills

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The old world is rocking these days to the noisiest import yet—hillbilly music.

The American Forces Network puts on a show called "Hillbilly Gasthaus."

Gasthaus is German for small hotel.

The program is so popular among Germans that a number of cafes have been renamed "Hillbilly Gasthauses." AFN gets hundreds of letters from hillbilly music enthusiasts, many American GIs but quite a few European citizens. Letters come from England and Scandinavia as well as Germany.

A pushbutton ticket printing machine at the ticket windows of British railway stations prints, dates and issues tickets at the rate of 240 a minute, eliminating the waiting cues of travelers, human error and clerical fatigue.

Train-Wise Autoist Warns Freight Crew

KALAMAZOO (AP) — E. L. Chapman, brakeman on a New York Central freight train, saw a motorist stopped at a crossing, waving and holding his nose.

Chapman quickly stopped the train. He explained: "That (holding the nose) is the universal language of trainmen to tell of a journal (axle) box burning."

When the train stopped the crew found a journal box had overheated, caught fire and set ablaze a car loaded with creosote-soaked logs. Kalamazoo firemen put out the flames.

The crew didn't learn who the motorist was, but suspect he's a trainman.

Seeks Seat in Congress

DETROIT (AP) —Zigmund J. Niparko, former mayor of Hazel Park, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for representative in the 18th congressional district. He was defeated in the mayoralty election this spring by Louis Elias.

Y's Summer Fun Plan Will Keep Junior Busy

Parents of about 200 youngsters will find at the YMCA an ideal answer to that summertime question: What shall we do with Junior during vacation from school.

The solution is the Summer Fun Club, designed for both boys and girls at least eight years old.

According to Morrie Tubergen, youth director in charge, there still is room for about 15 more boys and about 25 girls for the first session July 2.

The youngsters will find lots to do. Boys' days are scheduled for 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Mondays and Fridays and girls at the same hours on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Trips will be arranged for both groups on Wednesdays, Tubergen said.

Crafts, games, archery, swimming and woodshop will be enjoyed, as well as rifle practice, movies, singing and general sports.

Trips are planned to the Detroit Zoo, Greenfield Village and Ford Museum, a Detroit Tigers baseball game and to Bob-Lo Island.

Parents may register children at the YMCA building, 131 Mt. Clemens St.

Argentina Lifts Martial Law

Aramburu Government Seems Confident That Rebels Are Curbed

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentina's provisional government appeared confident today it has the country well under control.

This was the conclusion drawn from the lifting of the martial law imposed during last weekend's revolt. But one Cabinet member said privately it is known that not all the active enemies of the government have been executed or arrested.

27 EXECUTIONS

Firing squads carried out 27 death sentences under the state of martial law, and the revocation order said specifically there would be no more executions. The emergency decree was put in effect shortly after the revolt broke out Saturday.

The Cabinet minister said President Pedro Aramburu's regime was trying to get rid of disaffected members of the armed forces, while at the same time endeavoring to assure labor the government is not antiworker.

He said the government is aware that many supporters of ousted President Juan Peron still can be found among the workers, but it believes their influence is diminishing.

800 IN CUSTODY

Some 800 persons now are in custody on charges of plotting or participating in the fight against the Aramburu government.

The latest announced arrests those of two army officers at the city of Rosario. Police there seized retired Gen. Enrique Ludgan and a Col. Frascogna.

Ludgan was mentioned in Rebel radio broadcasts as one of the leaders of the rebellion.

PREMATURE REVOLT

It was widely believed that the rebellion broke out prematurely after police seized a courier carrying a suitcase full of plans. Some officials who have studied seized documents reported the plans were expertly drawn up but poorly carried out.

* * *

Aramburu in an interview told Copley News Service Correspondent Russell Brines the uprising was inspired by "Communist organs outside the country." He indicated he meant Red groups in other Latin-American countries.

Boy Kills Legless Father for Hitting Him With Sod

ORANGE, Tex. (AP) — Sheriff Chester Holts said yesterday a 12-year-old Bridge City boy shot and killed his father, 41, at the family home because, the youth said, "my father hit me with a piece of sod."

The father, Charles A. Lieby, a legless amputee of World War II, was shot and killed by a bullet from a .32 caliber German automatic pistol as he worked in the yard Tuesday night. Holts said the shot was fired from a window of the home 70 feet away.

Holts said the boy, Tim Lieby, was being held in the Orange County jail pending completion of the investigation.

Edison Pension Plan Wins Official Okay

An increase in retirement benefits for employes of the Detroit Edison Co. has been approved by the Michigan Public Service Commission and the Internal Revenue Service, according to Edison officials.

The amended plan boosts retirement payments for service before 1943 and will apply to persons already retired as well as present employes of the utilities firm.

Some 1,200 retirees and about 4,800 present employes who began their service before 1943 will benefit by the new plan.

British Baron Expects Screen Career in U.S.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lord David James Nugent, seventh baron of Clonlost, embarked on a new venture today after failing in his attempt to land a starring role in a television series.

The 37-year-old British nobleman, far from downhearted at the collapse of his plans, adjusted his monocle and announced that he was about to begin making a movie about Hollywood.

Just in case something unforeseen should crop up, he added, he has also taken a job as a sales clerk in an antique store. He plans to live here permanently, he said.

Nugent came over from England several months ago accompanied by a great deal of fanfare about the proposed television series, but the plan failed for lack of a sponsor.

Steaming Boiler Hinted as Cause of Cincy Blast

CINCINNATI (AP) — Excessive steam pressure in a basement water heater may have caused the spectacular explosion that ripped out two sides of an apartment building here Tuesday night, killing one man and injuring 18 others persons.

Charles W. Gruber, city heating inspector, said the shattered boiler still is buried in the wreckage. A close examination will be required to determine definitely the cause of the blast, Gruber said.

U.S. Liner Unaffected by Loud Sea Explosion

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — A loud explosion in the sea startled 740 passengers aboard the liner United States yesterday as the pride of the American Merchant Marine was approaching Southampton.

The 53,000-ton ship did not slow her speed. No one was injured and the liner was in no danger.

3 Counties Endorse Community College

BAY CITY (AP) — A committee of 300 citizens voted unanimously last night for a public referendum on a proposed two-year community college serving Bay, Saginaw and Midland counties.

The committee, organized a year ago t study possibilities for organizing such a scholo, approved a report recommending an eight million dollar original capital outlay for the college.

Taxpayers also will vote on a bond issue to finance construction, the bonds to be retired over a 15-year period by a one-mill increase in the tax levy. It is expected to come to a vote early next year.

The proposed school would be located near the center of the triangle formed by Bay City, Saginaw and Midland.

The study committee, headed by editor Otto C. Pressprich of the Saginaw News, was formed by 100 citizens from each of the three counties.

Humphrey Hit on Economy Note by McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McNamara (D-Mich) has taken issue with Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey that the economy is proceeding "satisfactorily" and now having a "refreshing pause."

McNamara, speaking to the Senate, said:

"I am doubtful that the more than 220,000 unemployed workers in my state of Michigan are enjoying this 'refreshing pause' or the 'long hesitation' in receiving paychecks."

McNamara said he was surprised when Humphrey told a Senate-House economic subcommittee that it was "just as well to hesitate a little" in a rising economy.

Humphrey was speaking of the April increase of Federal Reserve Board discount rates — the interest charge to borrowing member banks.

In other speechs, McNamara asked for five million dollars to begin deepening Detroit River channels in advance of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

He also called the recent "Michigan Declaration," a statement of civil rights, of the Democratic state convention, "a moderate document."

None of the six was trapped under the metal and glass marquee of the Sheraton-Gibson Hotel. But at least two of them were shoved through a restaurant window which was shattered.

It was not known hwether a lightning bolt or an accumulation of rainwater caused the collapse of the front part of the marquee.

The SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

Edward J. Leary of Omaha, Nebraska, sent us his Creole Hash recipe, which is quite an idea for baked onions. He uses, for six people:

6 very large onions
2 cans corned beef hash
2 tablespoons bacon fat
1 green pepper, diced
1 can tomato sauce
¼ cup beer
Bread crumbs
Salt and pepper

Peel and parboil the onions until slightly tender. Make shells by scooping out much of the center of each onion, saving the center part to be chopped for the sauce. (We like to mix some of the chopped onion center in with the corned beef hash.) Then stuff the shells with the hash.

Make a sauce by melting the bacon fat in a skillet, then gently sauteeing the diced green pepper and remaining onion centers, then stir in the tomato sauce and the beer. Check for seasoning.

Place onions in baking dish, pour sauce over, and bake 25 minutes at 350 degrees. Buttered bread crumbs may be used to top the onions if you like.

The Chicago Daily News Chapter is represented this week by Mrs. Jewel Blazek with Beef Tenderloin Stroganoff. Beef Stroganoff has been one of our favorites, and this is an excellent recipe for it.

2 pounds beef tenderloin
1 medium onion, chopped
2 tablespoons butter
⅛ pound mushrooms
1 small clove garlic, mashed
1 cup white wine
1 cup sour cream
Salt, pepper and cayenne

Cut tenderloin in two-inch pieces about ⅜ inch thick, and saute with the onion in butter over a high heat. Saute mushrooms separately. When tenderloin is nicely browned, combine all ingredients, simmer about five minutes, season, and serve.

From our Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman Chapter comes a mighty good recipe by Mrs. Mary H. Coppock —"Nippy Carrots." She simmers three cups of thin sliced carrots in slightly salted water until tender. "Watch carefully," she says, "or they will burn. Add a little more water if necessary."

Drain the carrots when cooked. In the saucepan combine one teaspoon cream-style horseradish; one tablespoon sugar; two tablespoons butter and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Stir the carrots at low heat for about five minutes in the mixture until well glazed.

Blue Cheese Mustard Sauce is good with cold cuts in hot weather. Miss Corinne Saltzman of New York City proceeds as follows.

Mix one cup mayonnaise with ¼ cup prepared mustard; ¼ cup crumbled blue cheese; one tablespoon grated onion and juice and 1½ tablespoons chopped parsley. Mix all well together and chill a few hours, and there you are!

Want to make a hit with dad on Father's Day? There are two ways to do it. First, make dad his favorite dinner. That's fried chicken with a sparkling cranberry relish, says the National Father's Day Council.

Then, serve the dinner picnic style. Outdoors, if the weather's nice. Indoors, if not.

Let dad enjoy eating his fried chicken out-of-hand. And whip up a Cranberry Jubilee Relish to serve with it.

Better buy an extra chicken for this special Father's Day dinner. That will assure "seconds" for dad. Be sure to have plenty of Cranberry Jubilee Relish ready too. Dad's sure to ask for more.

To fry the chicken: Wash and dry chicken pieces. Shake in paper bag with a mixture of 1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon celery salt, 1 teaspoon paprika. Brown in skillet containing ½ inch of hot fat. Brown on both sides and cover tightly. Cook slowly for 35 to 40 minutes. To crisp the crust . . . remove cover and cook 5 to 10 minutes longer.

Cranberry Relish Jubilee

1 lb. can whole cranberry sauce
1 cup drained canned, pitted Bing cherries, halved
1 tablespoon grated orange rind

Hot? Serve Chilled Soup

A flavorful chilled soup is a delightful start for a meal during warm weather. June Dairy Month might be a good time for many Americans, who have not enjoyed the experience of eating this gourmet type soup, to try it. Most chilled soups are easy to make and they are made in advance of the meal so that the homemaker does not have extra work at meal time. A chilled soup is a splendid choice when the temperature soars and the thought of a hot kitchen at meal time makes the preparation of hot food an uncomfortable chore.

Of interest to menu planners too, will be the ease in which milk can be added to the meal. Milk as a beverage at any time of the year—at any meal, should be a part of every meal, should but when extra quantities of milk can be supplied in such a pleasant way, it is certain that serving a cold soup will increase everyone's milk consumption.

The serving of chilled soups requires some special attention. The bowls in which it is served should be thoroughly chilled in advance and put on the table the instant the family or guests are seated. If you wish to be real glamorous, the bowls may be set into a bed of ice and the ice may hold such garnishes as carrot sticks, celery curls, radishes and olives.

Chilled Seafood Deluxe is a savory combination of seafood, milk and choice seasonings. Other chilled soup recipes are also given hre, perliaps the best known being Vichysoisse. This is a chilled soup made with potatoes, onion and milk and the combination is both refreshing and enjoyable.

Cool Salad Dish Relieves Hot Weather Entertaining

Hot weather entertaining is a pleasure when you know a recipe like this one for making a salad that has eye appeal and taste satisfaction. Special bonus for you is the fact that it's made with packaged pre-cooked rice to eliminate that "over a hot stove" feeling.

Combine diced fresh pears and ham with grated cheese, rice and mayonnaise flavored with lemon. Chill the mixture well and serve in crisp lettuce cups garnished with additional sliced pears.

Pear Ham 'n Cheese Salad

1 1-3 cups (5-ounce package) packaged pre-cooked rice
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups boiling water
¾ cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup diced fresh pears
½ cup diced cooked ham
½ cup coarsely grated Cheddar cheese
Sliced fresh pears

Add rice and salt to boiling water in saucepan. Mix just to moisten all rice. Cover, remove from heat, and let stand 13 minutes. Then uncover and let cool to room temperature.

About an hour before serving, mix mayonnaise and lemon juice. Combine diced pears, ham, and cheese in a bowl. Stir in the mayonnaise mixture. Then add the rice and mix lightly with a fork. Chill. Serve in mounds on crisp lettuce. Garnish with sliced pears and serve with additional mayonnaise, if desired. Makes about 4½ cups, or 4 or 5 servings.

Potato Salads Still Top Plate

Potato salad is an American favorite. Spark it with American Blue cheese, serve it at your Fourth-of-July picnic and it's all-American. Once you discover how well American Blue Cheese and potatoes team together you'll want to combine them often. The tangy American Blue cheese gives substance and interest to the bland fruit of the earth whether crumbled into a cold salad or a hot croquette.

American Blue Cheese Egg Potato Salad

½ cup crumbled American Blue cheese (about 3 ounces)
¼ cup chopped parsley
1 medium-sized green pepper, chopped
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup French dressing
3 cups sliced cooked potatoes
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped

Combine cheese, parsley, green pepper, onion, salt and French dressing; mix well. Add potatoes and eggs; toss lightly but thoroughly. Chill 1 hour. Garnish with hard-cooked egg slices, as desired. Serves 4-6.

American Blue Cheese Potato Croquettes

2 cups seasoned, mashed potatoes
½ cup crumbled American Blue cheese (about 2 ounces)
Fine dry bread crumbs
1 egg, beaten
2 tablespoons water
Fat

Combine potatoes and cheese; mix well. Shape into croquettes and roll in crumbs. Combine egg and water; beat well. Dip croquettes in egg mixture and again in crumbs. Fry in hot deep fat (350 degrees) 1 to 1½ minutes, or until browned. Drain on absorbent paper. Serves 6.

The Onion Can't Be Beaten for Soup and Dish Variety

The onion can't be beaten for versatility. What other vegetable can make its appearance in the soup, the main dish and the salad, glorifying each in a subtle and unique manner, yet never seeming repetitious?

The smart hostess knows that onions outrate diamonds as a girl's best friend when guests arrive on the scene unexpectedly. With onions she can serve a real "company" dinner no matter how bleak the state of her larder.

Scalloped Meat With Eggplant And Onion

(Bulgaria Mouska)

1 medium eggplant (1½ pounds)
4 teaspoons salt
1½ cups chopped onion
2 cups diced fresh tomatoes
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
1 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 pound ground lean beef
½ pound ground lean pork
1 cup soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
½ cup sharp Cheddar cheese

Wash and cut eggplant, crosswise, into ½-inch slices. Peel slices and sprinkle each side with salt, using 1 teaspoon of the salt and set aside.

Saute onions and tomatoes in the 3 tablespoons butter or margarine. Add remaining salt, spices, beef and pork. Mix well and cook 5 minutes or until lightly browned.

Rinse salted eggplant in cold water. Place alternate layers of the meat mixture and eggplant in a 13x9x2-inch casserole or baking dish, beginning and ending with the meat mixture. Cover with aluminum foil and bake 40 minutes in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees).

Remove cover and sprinkle with soft bread crumbs mixed with melted butter or margarine and cheese. Bake, uncovered, 10 minutes or until brown.

Russian Salad Just Right for Cool Serving

Summer is the time for that fresh crisp cool look—in food as well as dress fashions.

Russian Salad is just the type of a recipe to present a fresh, healthy look but it also holds another surprise in store.

Even the men in the house will say yes to this luncheon salad.

Russian Salad

2 cups julienne-style cooked meat
½ cup cooked peas, drained
½ cup coarsely grated carrots
½ cup diced celery
¼ cup French dressing
4 lettuce cups
Mayonnaise

Marinate vegetables in dressing for 15 minutes. Drain. Add 1 cup meat. Serve mixture in lettuce cups. Top with remaining strips of meat. Serve with mayonnaise. Yield: 4 servings.

Have Youngsters Drink Molasses Milkshakes

Once school is out, the soft drink battle begins with the children. How to control the gallons they want to consume? Tempt and divert them from too many carbonated beverages by keeping a delicious molasses milkshake ready mixed in the refrigerator.

To each cup of cold milk add one tablespoon of real New Orleans molasses and a dash of cinnamon. Shake well before serving.

Going on Picnic? Food Spoilage Thing to Avoid

LANSING (AP) — With the picnic season getting under way, the State Health Department today warned against do-it-yourself food poisoning.

Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of the department's Bureau of Disease Control, said that the trouble comes from not keeping hot foods hot or cold foods cold.

Bacteria grow when foods—especially creamy salads or custard-filled pastries — are left standing around at room temperature or are allowed to improperly heat.

Food poisoning can, and does every summer, cause everything from a mild upset stomach to death, the health expert said.

"Unless the food is in an ice chest," Dr. Leeder said, "both locations give germs the warmth they need to grow, multiply, manufactuure their poisons and spoil the fun of an outing."

You buy a refrigerator only two or three times in your lifetime.

Yet you don't hesitate to buy one without getting so much as a look at the intricate "works" that makes it run.

How do you dare make such an important purchase without having an expert check it over for you? What makes you so sure you're getting your money's worth when you say, "I'll take that one"?

No matter what kind of product you want to buy, you know a good brand won't let you down. You know the maker stands back of it—guarantees it. And so, when you buy a good brand you know you're right.

Read this newspaper to find out which are the good brands (and the stores that sell them.) The more good brands you know, the surer you are about all your shopping.

VEAL RISOTTO — The solo cook today finds fresh menu variety on each shopping trip. With a can of Junior Veal and one of Strained Mixed vegetables the woman who cooks for just herself can make a gourmet dish. Slivered almonds and rice are two other ingredients that go into Veal Risotto.

Luncheon Meat Still Tops the List for Canned Foods

Canned luncheon meat, the 12-ounce pack originated in 1937 and still the best selling canned meat, is easily varied with a fruit glaze or garnish. For example, since this canned meat is predominately pork, it is natural to combine it with applesauce. Delicately spiced applesauce glazes the meat during a short baking period, and the meat and fruit flavors offer an interesting flavor medley.

For two other serving variations, luncheon meat may be sliced and studded with orange slices or spiced peaches. The light fruit touch harmonizes excellently with the savory meat.

Each 12-ounce can of luncheon meat provides four generous servings.

Spiced Apple Glazed Luncheon Meat

1 can (12 ounces) luncheon meat
Whole cloves
¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 can (1 pound) applesauce

Place meat in shallow pan. Score with sharp knife, making diagonal lines ¾ inch apart. Place a whole clove in the center of each square. Combine brown sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg and vinegar in saucepan. Add applesauce; blend well; heat. Spoon part of applesauce mixture over scored meat loaf. Bake in moderate oven, (350 degrees) 30 minutes. Heat remaining mixture and serve with loaf. Serves 4.

Glazed Peach Luncheon Meat

1 can (12 ounces) luncheon meat
1 can (1 pound) cling peach slices
¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 tablespoon vinegar

Place meat in shallow pan; cut loaf into 6 slices about ½ inch from bottom. Drain peaches; reserve syrup. Place some of the peach slices between meat slices. Combine peach syrup, brown sugar and vinegar in saucepan. Bring to a boil; boil rapidly 2 minutes. Baste loaf with part of the syrup. Bake in a moderate oven, (350 degrees) 30 minutes, basting occasionally. Add remaining peaches to remaining syrup; heat. Use to serve with loaf. 4 servings.

Orange Glazed Luncheon Meat

1 can (12 ounces) luncheon meat
1 orange
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon flour
¼ cup orange juice
2 tablespoons unsulphured molasses

Place meat in shallow pan; cut loaf into 6 slices about ½ inch from bottom. Cut peel from orange in circular motion removing white membrane with peel. Cut orange in 4 slices; halve; insert between meat slices. Dice remaining orange; reserve. Combine sugar, dry mustard and flour in saucepan; stir in orange juice, molasses, and diced orange. Bring to a boil; spoon over meat. Bake in a moderate oven, (350 degrees) 30 minutes, basting occasionally. 4 servings.

Peel Onion Right, Avoid Crying Jag

NEW ORLEANS (INS)—There's no reason for tears to flow down your face every time you peel an onion.

In fact, says onion expert C. R. Rice of Boise, Idaho, you can make the onion cry.

Rice, during a meeting of the United Fresh Fruit Vegetable Association in New Orleans, explained:

The substance that makes you cry—the volatile sulphurous oil, or pepper—is all stored in the root of the onion.

If you remove this root, the cone-shaped portion at the bottom of the onion, the remainder is "sweet."

Rice maintains that an onion a day is better than apples for keeping the doctor away. "I eat one every day," he said. "It's full of vitamins and the stuff that makes red blood cells."

Veal Risotto Is Easy Dish for Busy Woman to Cook

The busy business woman may do "pick up" or "fill in" shopping on her way home from work, but at least once a week she likes to make the grand tour through her food market. Always she finds surprises, new table treats that are waiting to add zest to home dining.

Walk along the store aisles, read labels, grow an appetite. Everything from soups to canned and frozen fruits are here, waiting to be opened and carried with loving hands to the table.

Pick a main dish that is ready to heat and serve, or contrive your own from the abundance of convenience foods. For instance, notice the way Junior Meats get along with pre-cooked rice. What you need a sauce? Just open Strained Mixed Vegetables and a full ½ cup sauce is smoothly ready.

Take a look at this Live Aloner's menu. Here's substance, flavor, crunch and a happy ending dessert.

Veal Risotto—almond garnish
Waldorf Salad—Greens, Olives
Gingerbread, Strained Fruit Whip
Coffee or Tea

For the dessert, use a ginger bread mix, make gingerbread from your favorite recipe or buy a cut from the bakery. Use any Strained Fruit as topping, simply adding the chilled fruit to stiffly whipped egg white with 1 teaspoon lemon juice and a tablespoon or so of sugar. Strained Fruit Dessert makes a fine-flavored topping.

Veal Risotto

1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 tablespoon chopped tomato
1 tablespoon butter
1 (3½ ounce) container Junior Veal
½ cup Strained Mixed Vegetables
1 tablespoon slivered almonds
1 cup cooked, hot rice

Cook onion and tomato in butter until tender but not brown. Add chopped veal, vegetables and slivered almonds; reserve a few nuts to sprinkle on top. Stir and heat well. Serve over hot rice or in a rice ring. Serves 2.

Tips: Use the pre-cooked rice in this quick main dish, preparing as directed on package. Substitute finely chopped green pepper for tomato, if desired.

Dad'll Like Mincemeat Dessert

If Dad likes ice cream and looks on mincemeat with favor, he will surely appreciate this tempting dessert that combines these two favorites with a delectable, meringue. Looking like a real culinary triumph, it is really easy to prepare, and it may set the pattern for a dessert you will want to serve again and again this summer.

It's just meringue shells — which can be made hours ahead of time, in the cool of the morning kitchen — filled with ice cream and topped with instantly ready-to-use mincemeat that comes either from a big 28-ounce jar or is prepared from a nine ounce condensed package. These meringues are a melt-in-the-mouth triumph, worthy to crown Father's Day dinner as a real tribute to the man of the house.

Mincemeat Meringues

3 egg whites at room temperature
⅛ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cream tartar
¾ cup sugar
1 pint ice cream, chocolate, vanilla or coffee
1 9-ounce condensed package mincemeat prepared according to directions or ready-to-serve mincemeat from 28-ounce jar

Add salt and cream tartar to egg whites and beat until mixture forms rounding peaks. Add sugar, a tablespoon at a time, beating after each addition until blended and continue beating until mixture forms soft glossy peaks.

Cover a baking sheet with heavy unglazed paper and form meringue, either with two spoons or with pastry tube, into five cups. Bake in a very slow oven (250 degrees) for an hour, until faintly golden brown.

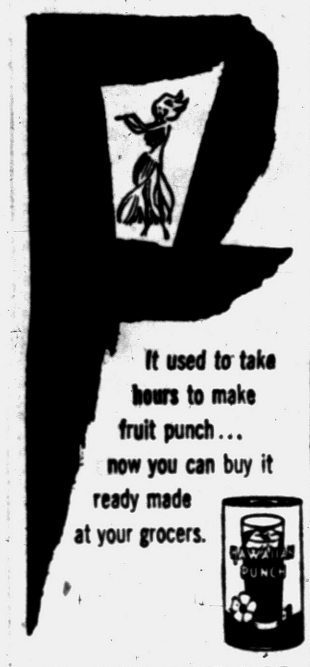

Turn off heat and let meringues cool in oven. When cold place a fifth of the ice cream in each and top with two tablespoons mincemeat.

HAPPY FATHER'S DAY — You want to serve a super-special dinner on Father's Day. Include his favorite dishes. But if you are uncertain what to make for dessert, try meringue shells filled with ice cream and mincemeat as a worthy climax to your feast. Father will probably call for this dessert again.

These Recipes Will Appeal If You Like Coconut

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Fresh coconut is good to eat out of hand. Simply crack the heavy outer shell, peel off the inner brown husk, and cut the meat into pieces.

You can grate it on a regular cabbage grater (watch your fingers!). If you have a blender, check your directions to see if it will grate coconut.

There are lots of good ways to use coconut. One of our favorites is to toast the coconut and use it to top chocolate sundaes. It burns easily, so watch it carefully.

Ambrosia Cream Pie

1 baked 8-inch pie shell
1 cup whipping cream
½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar
¼ teaspoon almond flavoring Dash of salt
1 can (17 ounces) fruit cocktail, drained (or other fruit, sugared to taste)
¼ cup toasted coconut

Let pie crust cool. Whip cream, fold in sugar, flavoring and salt, then fruit. Place in pie shell, top with coconut. Chill thoroughly. Six to eight servings.

Coconut in cookies is always welcome. These easy-to-prepare Coconut Butter Bars have extra nourishment in them because of the use of nonfat dry milk solids.

Coconut Butter Bars

1 cup sifted flour
¾ cup nonfat dry milk solids
1 teaspoon double acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter
1 cup brown sugar
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons water
½ cup chopped nuts
½ cup shredded coconut

Sift together the flour, nonfat dry milk solids, baking powder, and salt. Cream the butter and brown sugar. Add beaten eggs, vanilla, and water and mix well. Add dry ingredients, chopped nuts and coconut and pour into a buttered 9-inch square pan.

Bake in a 350 degree oven for 30 minutes. Cool slightly, then cut into bars and remove from the pan.

Coconut is good on fruit salads. Sprinkle it too on puddings and cake frostings. Add it directly to your cake batter.

Heat smoothly mashed sweet potatoes in a buttered casserole. Top with bits of butter and thin flakes of coconut. Add the new flaky coconut to chicken casserole dishes.

SCALLOP KABOBS — Next time you schedule a cook-out, try this recipe for scallops. You'll find it's no great chore to cook scallops for larger groups, too. Bacon, green pepper and mushrooms are used with the scallops.

Amateur Backyard Chefs Can Cook Scallops Easy

Summer time is cook-out time, and legion are the amateur backyard chefs who go forth into the picnic area to do battle, armed with their spatulas and skewers and favorite recipes.

Getting variety into the outdoor menu is a greater challenge than it is in the well-equipped kitchen, but the open air chef lets nothing deter him from mustering up tasty and unusual fare for the family or guests.

One of the big outdoor favorites these days is that succulent shellfish from the cool Atlantic, the scallop. This nutty-flavored mollusk is sure to bring a tangy breath of the sea to the picnic area.

Popularity of scallops has shown a marked rise in the past few years. Harvested principally by draggers out of New Bedford, Massachusetts, scallops are shipped, fresh, frozen or precooked to all parts of the nation. Only the muscle is eaten, and its distinctive flavor seems to find favor even among those who don't ordinarily care for seafood.

Scallop Kabobs

1½ dozen sea scallops
1½ dozen mushrooms
Melted butter or margarine
6 bacon strips, cut in thirds
1 large green pepper, cut in 1-inch squares

Dip sea scallops and mushroom caps in melted butter or margarine. On six 8-inch skewers alternate scallops, bacon pieces, mushroom caps and green pepper squares. Arrange on grill.

Broil 6 to 8 minutes, turning several times and basting with melted butter or margrine. Makes 6 servings.

Sweet and Flavorful Muffins for Dessert

Orange Bran Muffins

1¼ cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup butter or margarine
⅓ cup sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
½ cup ready-to-eat bran
½ cup orange juice
¼ cup milk

Sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg and orange rind thoroughly; stir in bran, orange juice and milk well. Stir in sifted dry ingredients until moistened. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven about 25 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Makes 12 muffins if muffin wells are about 2¼ inches across top.

Serve Delicious Banana Frozen Salad as Dessert During Summer Parties

When outdoors it's simply melting, serve a salad that's simply freezing. That's literally true of Delicious Banana Frozen Salad, ideal for entertaining in warm weather.

Calling on cream cheese and whipping cream for its basic ingredients, Banana Frozen Salad is most appropriate to serve during National Dairy Month. Dairy products furnish so many of our best dishes that we owe them a hearty salute.

A beautiful blend of fruits frozen in a smooth, creamy mixture is Banana Frozen Salad. When you've finished and frozen this masterpiece, cut it into squares for serving, and surround with crisp, curly greens. It's the sort of salad that just begs to be served at a ladies' luncheon, committee meeting, or supper. You can make it and forget it in the refrigerator until ready to be hostess to your guests, a decided advantage in hot weather when one likes to cook in the cool of the day.

Use Bananas Fully-Ripe

To get the utmost mellowness of flavor and sweetness in bananas for this salad, do choose those that have yellow peel flecked with brown. This is nature's signal that the banana is at peak of ripeness, flavor, sweetness and digestibility. Bananas are very popular salad ingredients because their flavor is distinctive and liked by all, and their texture lends a substantial something that is welcome in ordinarily "light" dishes such as salad. You do not always have to buy bananas at the yellow flecked with brown stage of ripeness. All-yellow or slightly green-tipped bananas will ripen to the brown-flecked stage at home if you leave them at room temperature. Do not put bananas in the refrigerator as a low temperature arrests the ripening process and impairs the banana's delicate flavor.

Banana Frozen Salad

2 3-ounce packages cream cheese
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup drained crushed pineapple
½ cup coarsely cut maraschino cherries
½ cup coarsely chopped nut meats
1 cup whipping cream
2 cups diced ripe bananas (3 to 4 bananas)
Salad greens

Use fully ripe bananas—yellow peel flecked with brown. Soften cheese with a fork. Add salt, mayonnaise and lemon juice. Mix well. Fold in pineapple, cherries and nuts. Whip cream until thick and shiny but not stiff. Fold into cheese mixture. Fold in bananas. Turn into freezing trays of automatic refrigerator. Freeze, with indicator at coldest setting, about 2 hours, or until firm. Cut into squares for serving. Garnish with crisp greens. Eight to ten servings.

Warm Snack Buns

Hamburgers or frankfurters might be classified as "good," "better" and "best." They're good on buns, better when the buns are warmed and best when the buns are split, brushed with real mayonnaise seasoned with mustard and toasted lightly near the edge of the grill while the meat is broiling in the center. If the mustard isn't flavored add a little grated cheese to the mayonnaise instead.

But then, there's never been a margarine like it! Imperial is the first margarine unconditionally guaranteed to bring you the tantalizing flavor formerly found only in the expensive spread for bread.

Imperial's Got That Flavor

Flavor is what's been missing in margarine. And flavor is what Lever Brothers devoted seven years to achieve . . . seven years of testing formula after formula to bring you the incomparable flavor of the expensive spread for bread. It wasn't hard to make Imperial spread smoother and easier than any other margarine. And it wasn't hard to make Imperial as nutritious as even the most expensive spread you can buy. The trick was flavor. And Imperial is the first margarine to capture and hold that unmistakable flavor everybody loves.

Tastes Like the High-Priced Spread

We know you may find it hard to believe that a margarine could live up to all we claim for Imperial. So, we want you to give Imperial the toughest tests you know. Spread Imperial on bread or toast... use it for seasoning vegetables . . . plop a generous chunk of Imperial in your frying pan and set it sizzling with eggs for your fussy husband. Any way, and every way, new Imperial tastes like the high-priced spread.

Aroma to Match That Flavor

Imperial's superiority shows itself in many ways—as a matter of fact—in every way you use it. For instance, when you fry with Imperial, just lean over and sniff its sweet, fresh goodness. Imperial smells so good it makes you hungry just watching it melt. Hot or cold, in your frying pan, or spread on bread, Imperial is the one margarine you'll never have to make excuses for—no matter how fussy the company.

You Agree, or We Return Your Money!

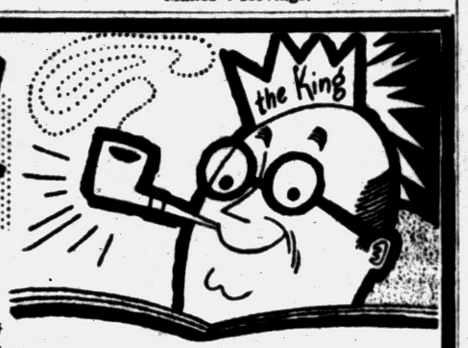

Try Imperial and see. Remember—when you take home a pound of Imperial, you're not buying, you're just trying. Because Lever Brothers unconditionally guarantees Imperial will taste like the high-priced spread to you, or they'll return every penny you spent to try it.

P.S. Like the high-priced spread, Imperial is delicate and perishable. So to protect its perfect flavor, always keep Imperial in your refrigerator!

Some of Country's Best Equines Will Be Displayed

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Women's Editor, The Pontiac Press

There's a great deal of activity these days out at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club—everyone's busy with some job—getting ready for the 39th annual Detroit Horse Show.

Show Manager Bert C. McIntire assured newsmen and club members that nothing is being left undone to make the five-day event opening Wednesday a success.

Some of the nation's top-ranked horses and its most famous exhibitors will participate in the show.

Charles Dennehy of Lake Forest, Ill., who won major honors last year, again will ride his own entries. Defending the title as regular hunter champion will be "Spanish Mint," owned by Mrs. J. Deane Rucker of Grosse Pointe.

"Miss Budweiser" was handicapped with lameness last year and was withdrawn from competition. However, the famous horse owned by Mr. and Mrs. August A. Busch Jr. of St. Louis, Mo., will attempt to improve on her '55 performance.

ADDITIONAL SEATS

Those who are familiar with the hunt club will be interested to learn that additional grandstand seats are being placed around the main show ring and the one-third mile outside course, bringing the total seating capacity to more than 6,000 for each event.

"The additional seating capacity is designed to accommodate the larger crowd expected this year," McIntire said, as he pointed out that attendance totaled 50,000 during the four-day show last summer, and is expected to exceed 60,000 this year.

Stable space has been increased to 400 stalls from last year's 350, he said, and to add to the colorful event, the Detroit Police Department Mounted Division Drill Team will perform during the show.

There'll be plenty of excitement awaiting some youngster attending the show. A pony will be awarded June 24 to the one submitting the best name for a new mount which the club is presenting to the Detroit Mounted Police.

Officials of the show include Irving A. Duffy, chairman; William O. Bridge, cochairman; Mrs. E. E. Fisher and Charlotte Nichols, co-secretaries; Bert C. McIntire, show manager, and several committee chairmen.

MOVIES VIEWED

At Tuesday evening's party, Mr. Duffy showed movies of horse shows held in Mexico last summer in which several members of the club participated.

Movies also were shown of participants in the U.S. Equestrian Team as they boarded the plane for the Olympic Equestrian Games being held in Stockholm. Frank Duffy from Bloomfield Hills is a member of the U.S. team.

Doing their part to insure success of the annual Detroit Horse Show are members of the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club. Among them are (left to right) Mrs. G. Fred Morris of Franklin; Mr. Morris, a vice chairman of the show; A. C. Buterbaugh (standing) cochairman of boxes, and Mrs. Buterbaugh, cochairman of adult activities.

Irving A. Duffy (left) of Bloomfield Hills and William Bridge, also of Bloomfield, are cochairmen of the annual horse show. Photographed with them at the dinner meeting Tuesday evening was Mrs. Bridge.

It's the Gauge

The smoothness of the wall determines how much paint will be needed to cover it. The smoother the wall, the less paint. Usually, a gallon covers between 300 and 500 square feet.

For summer fashions, the ensemble is tops. White pique suit (left) has striped knit trim in navy on white. The jacket is cut to the exact length of the suit to provide a complete cover-up when it's wanted. Suit in apricot cotton (center) is banded in white embroidered lace. The shirt is cut with back yoke that repeats the lace trim. Embroidered cotton satin suit (right) is shown in white pale blue embroidery, is worn with a pool-side skirt that repeats the embroidered motif. All designs are meant to lead a double life in the sun.

UM Journalism Students Will Take Over 2 Papers

Arthur Lane of Birmingham, former copyreader at The Pontiac Press, is one of seven University of Michigan journalism students who will, along with Prof. Karl Zeisler, take over two weekly newspapers for the summer.

Prof. Zeisler will act as "visiting publisher" and will detail assignments in the papers' operation, including cost - estimating for job printing and production details.

Having managed a community paper for 20 years, Prof. Ziesler said, "I am convinced The Evart Review supervised internship offers a challenging educational opportunity in a field hardly to be duplicated.

"It will teach the student one of the most important aspects of journalism — how the community functions and how to get to know the community and all its contributing factors."

Mr. Lane and two other students are in the graduate program. The others are seniors.

Council Benefits From Auxiliary

Mrs. Paul Boelter conducted the Monday evening meeting of VFW Auxiliary 1008, held at the American Leagion Hall.

Announcement was made of the encampment to be held in Bay City June 21-24.

Grapefruit will be reasonably priced this spring. The vitamin C content is high, so it makes a good element for fruit, molded and chicken salads.

Carriage — Is the Secret

Evidently most women continue to forget what an easy, quickly rewarding and completely costless enhancement good posture is.

A woman will labor for hours to perfect her looks for a party, then go to it and wonder why some other woman, not so stylishly dressed, is the center of attention.

Women peer curiously at a woman who gets admiring glances on the street without seeing a thing about her clothes, make-up or hair that's a bit out of the ordinary.

Carriage is the secret. A dancer or someone trained in stage presence will unfailingly attract attention, even when dressed in blue jeans. It's because her manner of bearing herself is so distinguished and fine that people react to it immediately.

Walk tall. Get the feeling that every inch of the spine is stretched out toward the ceiling. Don't walk by bobbing forward and resting heavily on each foot as you go. Carry the body as though it were weightless and suspended from the top of the head. The legs and feet should then glide along.

Avoid mincing and jerky steps. Keep the feet along an imaginary line as you go. Don't, whatever you do, allow the hip socket to settle toward the waistline as you walk. This produces a heavy look, however little you weigh.

Piano Recital to Be Held Friday

Completing the list of pianists are Kay Cline, Donna Westphal, Jean Gordon, Marilyn Bell, Suzanne Field, Janine Rich, Cathy Newmyer and Lynn Carson.

Men's Fashions Go 'Continental'

The continental influence has been responsible for a lot of changes in men's sportswear. Many European ideas have been adapted and "translated" to the American way of life, and as a result of the Continental influence we've seen sport jackets take on smaller dimensions before our eyes.

They're shorter in length, lapels are narrower, shoulders are more natural and sleeves are slimmer. In other words, sport jackets have undergone an all-over narrowing-down treatment.

Ballerina Shoes: Plain and Fancy

CHICAGO (INS)—If you like to wear the ballerina type play shoe, you can be as plain or as fancy as you like this year.

Some even have garlands of artificial posies draped around the vamp of the shoe.

A private rehearsal was held by Carol Parker (left) and Frances Viera, students at McAuley School of Practical Nursing, for their annual spring concert scheduled for Saturday and Sunday. Saturday's performance is slated for 8:15 p.m. in the school auditorium and Sunday's concert will be given at 3 p.m.

Richard Brosier Claims Bride in Campus Chapel

Betty is the daughter of Frederick H. Evans of Chicago. Richard's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William D. Brosier of LaSalle avenue.

The ballerina-length bridal gown of imported Italian silk with a bodice of Alencon lace was styled on princess lines falling into a bouffant skirt.

A silk cap with tiny orange blossoms and seed pearls secured the bride's fingertip veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, lilies-of-the-valley and ivy.

Jean L. Lucas of Clawson wore a pink ballerina-length gown of cotton trimmed in lace with a pink tulle Juliet crown. She carried a colonial bouquet of deep pink and white carnations and ivy.

Marilyn Hamilton of Muskegon Heights and Shirley J. Lemke of Clear River were bridesmaids. They were gowned identically to the maid of honor.

Glenn F. Brosier of Gainsborough, Fla., served as his brother's best man. Ushers were David Budde of Kalamazoo and John G. Mills of Detroit.

A reception was held in the social room of the chapel immediately following the service. The couple is honeymooning in the Smoky Mountains. The newlyweds will teach in Allegan next fall.

CHARLES WILLIAM CHANDLER

Charles William Chandler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. At the same time he received his commission as ensign in the U. S. Navy.

So They Say

Mature American women are afraid of color. They know it can be disastrous. So they stick to black, brown, gray and navy. But a little color is lovely so learn how to use it wisely and well. It banishes drabness.

Work Banishes Needless Worries

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Any natural power can be used positively and negatively.

Electricity can run a giant industry or it can kill a man. The same thing is true of nervous energy.

Channeled correctly, it can make your life happy and effective; channeled into worry — as it too often is — it can ruin your life.

That was Mrs. J.'s problem. The lucky thing was that she knew it.

Her letter to me, three years ago, was one I'll never forget.

PART TIME JOB

"Worry," Mrs. J. began, "is my part-time job."

* * *

She went on to say that she had three school-age children, a nice husband and comfortable home.

"But I keep worrying all the time," she continued, "and I can't seem to help it.

"The other day I sat down and figured out the actual number of hours I spend worrying and it frightened me. I've got to do something about it!"

What did she worry about? Oh, the usual things.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN

"I keep wondering what would happen if Harry lost his job" she wrote, "or if the children got some bad illness, or if our parents became helpless.

"We have some savings, but not much, and that worries me.

"When the housework is over, I just sit and drink coffee and stare out the window and worry.

"Sometimes I worry about losing my looks, and sometimes I worry about whether we'll be able to afford to send the children to college.

"I tell myself it's silly to waste so much time, but I can't help it."

CAN'T HELP SELF

Worry was indeed Mrs. J.'s part-time job. And I knew there was no sense in telling her to pull herself together and stop worrying. If she were able to do that, she wouldn't have written me in the first place.

Instead, I suggested that she get a real part-time job, any old job at all, just to keep busy.

At first she thought it was impossible — she even began worrying about that! But she did finally manage to get a sales job for afternoons.

"It's just wonderful," Mrs. J. wrote me. "I'm so busy I haven't time to worry. But the funny thing is, I wouldn't know how to even if I had the time.

"I look back now in astonishment and wonder what I ever found to worry so much about."

If too much of your time goes into worry, maybe you'd better go as Mrs. J. did.

If you'll send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of The Pontiac Press, I'll send you my pamphlet, How To Find A Part-Time Job.

Mirrorlike Gem Settings 'Increase' Diamond Size

NEW YORK—A few small diamonds that look twice or three times their actual size when mounted in a piece of jewelry is becoming one of the biggest trends in the country, according to designere here.

Stylists are making a one-quarter carat diamond, or several stones with that combined weight, seem as much as a full carat "with mirrors," as designer Robert Hirsch describes it.

In his case, he explains, the mirrors are gem settings made of the brilliant white metal palladium, newest of the precious jewelry metals. Although it is a sister metal of platinum, palladium costs only slightly more than gold.

The jewelry "magic" works in the following manner. When the customer's budget is limited, Hirsch will work with a number of small diamonds, generally brilliant-cut, perhaps adding up to one-quarter or one-third of a carat.

Having mounted them in palladium settings, he will often encircle the gems in highly polished engravings of the same white metal so that they, too, resemble diamonds.

In appearance, a ring, clip or earrings so designed seems studded with gems, and very costly, Hirsch notes. Only when held close to the eyes can the "illusion" be detected. Meanwhile, women are delighted with the trend of "reflected" luxury, he says.

Yomar Group Has Meeting at Church

Thirty members of the Yomar Group of the First Presbyterian Church met Tuesday evening in the church parlors. Mrs. Donald Williams was a guest.

Mrs. Eldred Mathews concluded the study of the American Indian and Mrs. Neil Gray gave the prayer for the missions. Plans were made for summer projects, with Mrs. Gene Feneley making arrangements.

Mrs. Melvin Brim invited the group members and their children for a picnic at her home on Lakeside drive July 12.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Edson Doolittle, Mrs. George Stinnett, Mrs. Lyle Cleland and Mrs. Mathews.

Flora Shelly Group Gathers at Cottage

Flora Shelly Group of First Presbyterian Church met at the Cobb cottage at Union Lake. Hostesses for the evening were Mary, Laura and Ida Cobb and Julia Dalzell.

Mrs. Wayne Reaves conducted the business meeting, and devotions were given by Mrs. S. E. Minard. The Bible study from the Book of the Ephesians was given by Mrs. Allan Monroe. Avis Carey told of the Indian legislation pending in Congress and urged members to voice their opinion on the matter.

Mrs. Alice Harris, Mrs. Hanibal and Mrs. Ellen Wissinger were guests for the evening.

It's Good Relaxing After a Work Day

A favorite way to freshen up after a warm day's work is a bath, followed by a liberal dousing of cologne.

The fragrance one usese to cool off and be a joy to friends should be lighter in summer. Florals are good, so are spicy and fruity blends.

For the liberal, head-to-toe use after washing, a moderate priced fragrance is also valuable. One doesn't mind using it freely, as it should be used.

Bride Asks About Gift Reminder

Friend Promises to Buy Radio, Then Fails to Do So

By EMILY POST

A recent bride asks this question: "Would it be proper to remind a friend of a present she had promised to send me and never did: The situation is this:

"Shortly before I was married, a friend told me that she was going to give me a small radio for a wedding present, and of course I have held off buying one. However, I have been married two months now and no sign of the radio.

"I really would like one very much and before going out to buy one I wondered if there was anything I could do to remind her of this promised gift."

Answer: If she is a very intimate friend of yours and can easily afford to buy the radio, you may ask her if she is going to give it to you. Otherwise, there is nothing you can do about it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When dining with a group of friends in a restaurant and a friend of the hostess, who is unknown to the others at table, stops to speak to her is it improper not to introduce her to the others at the table?

"This happened to me recently. I did not introduce this friend to the others and I was later criticized for not doing so. Will you please tell me if I was wrong?"

Answer: She should not have stopped at your table when you were having guests unknown to her. And you were right in not interrupting your guests' dinner by presenting her.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the proper way for a married woman to sign a check? I have always signed my checks Mary J. Brown. However, many of the young wives around here sign, for example, Mrs. Helen Green. I would very much like to know what is the correct form."

Answer: You are correct. Your signature is Mary J. Brown.

Benefit From Medical Progress

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

We are truly living in a day of miracles, much more so than many of us realize. The following statement was made at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute's Industrial Council last fall:

"In the last 50 years more progress has been made in the conquest of disease and the prolongation of life than had been accomplished in the entire 999 centuries of man's previous existence on earth."

And just think, we are here to benefit by it all. Here are some of the things which have happened in the past 50 years:

At the beginning of the 20th Century 7,000 children died every year of whooping cough. Last year only 310 died. Yellow fever, cholera, small pox and plague have been almost completely banished.

Such diseases as diphtheria, scarlet fever, typhoid fever, typhus fever, tetanus, rickets, Rocky four persons who had a major operation succumbed. Today only one out of 100 dies, and it must be remembered that many more Mountain spotted fever, pernicious anemia, Addison's disease and meningitis have had the sting taken out of them.

Tuberculosis killed 194 people for every 100,000 in 1900 but only 10.6 in 1954. The death rate from pneumonia was 152 per 100,000 but has declined to 12 per 100,000 population.

Forty years ago one out of every difficult operations are performed today, surgery which would not have been possible in the past.

Today coronary thrombosis can be diagnosed and measures adopted which save many lives. Just within the last two years two drugs have been discovered which have changed the treatment of some of the most usual forms of mental illness.

Great strides have been made in the field of the deficiency diseases, in anesthetics, high blood pressure and glandular imbalance.

Isn't that an amazing record? With all of the miracle discoveries made by scientific research it seems sad indeed if we do not do our part in prolonging our own lives, in increasing the youthful part of them.

We can do this by adhering to a health routine, keeping a close guard on our bodies by means of regular checkups, by living with less tension and by taking advantage of the tremendous amount of knowledge now available concerning nutrition.

Tomorrow: "Calves Thin? Go up on Toes, Down on Heels."

Swim Suits '56 Sport No Backs

NEW YORK (INS)—If you want to know why 1956 bathing suit fronts are "covered up" right to the collar line, designer Fernand Lafitte has the answer.

"There's got to be more front to hold up the suit," he says, "because the back is going way down."

"Next year," Lafitte promises, "suits will go way up on the leg, like musical comedy tights—and skirts will disappear."

The handsome young French designer of American swimsuits thinks this is all to the good. He believes it provides much needed new style in swimsuits, and is tailor made for the American woman who can wear a bathing suit without first struggling into a foundation.

"American women can wear the skirt-less Maillot type of suit very well," enthuses the designer from Paris.

Polka Dot Dashes Here From Paris

French Designers Adopt the Dots for Use This Summer

PARIS (INS)—Paris fashion designers say you can't go wrong with polka dots this summer.

Jean Patou favors sheathy dresses of black silk with white dots. High necked and sleeveless, they look devastatingly chic on slim-hipped women. Genevieve Fath uses white silk with yellow polkadots for a full-skirted, high necked dress with drapes to emphasize the bosom.

Parisiennes wear polka dotted silk scarves with woolen spring suits and linen summer suits. The prettiest and fluffiest scarves are of muslin or organdy. They should be large and printed all over.

Polka dotted "baby-shirts" are the latest beach-wear for grown-up girls. One Paris model is of white organdy embroidered with red and blue polka dots and worn over black shorts.

Polka dotted nylon is used in Paris for slumber styles and robes. A very romantic looking summer robe is of white nylon with turquoise dots and trimmed with black velvet ribbons.

For gala gowns paris fashion stylists like airy chiffon, crisp organdy or supple silk. Lavin-Castillo shows a ball gown of orange colored chiffon with white polka dots. Dior and Gres prefer the classic black and white color combination for floor-length chiffon gowns. Desses has a full skirted dance dress of street length made of white muslin with black polka dots.

Larry McCann Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. McCann of Silver Circle drive, received his M. A. in music at commencement exercises Sunday at Michigan State University.

Check Blouse Tag Before Purchase

NEW YORK — American women long ago learned that blouses are the ideal way to stretch a wardrobe. But they like their blouses fresh, crisp, pretty and easy to care for.

Because they like to own many blouses, they like them moderately-priced with an expensive look. This means that they appreciate fine detailing in both blouses and shirts, coupled with the tailoring that is the hallmark of American ready-to-wear.

Best way to give your blouse wardrobe the right care is to check each hangtag when you buy, then follow the directions exactly. If the tag says "dry clean," don't decide that you'll whisk it into the suds just once to see what will happen. Something will happen all right but you won't like it.

Similarly, if the tag says you can wash the blouse by hand and press it with a warm iron, you know that you can safely do just exactly that.

The United States population is growing at the rate of about 2,628,000 people a year.

Cosmetic Kit Aids Woman in Hospital

A hospital stay is something a mature woman hopes to be able to avoid, but it frequently comes about that she must go.

Often, she is eager to get it over with because it can mean the improvement of a condition that's been bothering her for some time.

Being beautiful while in a hospital bed isn't too difficult and can often be fun if the pateint feels like it. If she knows she's going to feel rotten or under par, there are a few preventive measures that can be taken before entering to keep one from looking bedridden.

Even for women going to the hospital only for observation, a shampoo is a most important preliminary. In a hospital, one doesn't know when the next one will come. A good, thorough shampoo and brushing as near to the signing-in day as possible is a big help.

NEED HEADSCARF

A kit of cosmetics should be carefully chosen. Don't forget a hairbrush. In addition, if it's going to be a long stay, include lots of sterilized absorbent cotton. This can be packed down into the bristles and used for hair "dry cleaning."

If a woman expects that she's going to be feeling droopy for several days, she ought to include a neat headscarf or old-fashioned morning cap to keep her hair out of the way of food or medication.

Most women who sit in hospital beds find that a short nightgown is more comfortable. The hospital gowns, if one must wear one, are short. A colorful bed-jacket is a big morale booster.

Lipstick, a hand mirror, rouge, tweezers, a comb, cold cream, after-bath lotion and talcum powder are all big assists when it comes to being beautiful in a hospital bed. And include a couple of bras for wear under the nightgown.

Perfume Is Wasted if Skin Isn't Clean

There's no point in dousing yourself with expensive perfumes and colognes if your skin isn't perfectly clean, as the scent can be completely lost.

With warm weather on the agenda, you'll be using lighter, cooler scents — and suds-showering or tubbing even more often. So apply your perfume immediately after bathing and you'll be enveloped in a lasting, luxurious fragrance.

Dior Bares Midriff Now in Latest Trick

PARIS (INS) — Dior's latest trick is bare feminine midriffs.

While this new Dior style is disastrous for females with a "spare-tire," it is practical and chic for any gal with a shapely figure.

The basic bare midriff costume is composed of brief shorts and an ultra-short camisole top. The top, which looks like a baby-shirt, is sleeveless and reaches up to the neck. It is fastened by a zipper at the back.

To these two basic pieces Dior adds three others, made of the same materials, as a smart and practical "beach wardrobe" for summer. There is a matching bra to be worn with the shorts for sun-bathing. Ankle-length slacks are another part of the beach set.

Finally he adds a garment of dress length and styled like an old fashioned night-shirt for men. This can be worn belted as a dress over the shorts or as a long tunic over the slacks.

Dior uses white corded cotton with fine pastel stripes for this beach wardrobe. One outfit comes in white with beige stripes, another with yellow and a third with pink stripes on the white corded cotton.

Pack China With Care on Moving

Expert Advice Here May Save You Tears on Getting There

If you're worrying about packing fine china and valuable glass when you move, better make up your mind that time and patience pay off in the project.

Well-qualified to give advice on the subject is Charles B. Smith, a Philadelphia expert on antique Wedgwood. Smith, who has been packing his own fine china pieces for a trip to the New York Coliseum and the International Antiques Exhibition and Sale offers these tips . . .

1. Keep cartons small and pack light. No matter how well china and glass are padded with newspaper, weight increases pressure on bottom pieces and chances of breakage are greater.

2. Be sure to pad the bottom of the carton with crushed newspaper. Eight double pages are a minimum for a two-foot square box. Open the newspaper fully, then crush.

3. Be extra careful to pack sides of pieces so that they do not touch or rub. Corrugated paper is the best bet for packing between objects. If newspaper is used, be generous with it.

* * *

4. Do not pack a carton until it it bulges. This causes rocking and uneveness which may result in damage.

5. The carton should be sturdy and well-sealed at corners.

6. Finally, back plates on edge with several folds of paper wrapped in opposite directions under each piece. That way each plate bears its own weight and is protected on all edges.

Years ago Smith had a $50 breakage loss because of careless packing. It was an expensive lesson then, but now he thinks it was worth every penny—he hasn't had a damaged piece since.

Luggage Choice Depends on Use

Picking luggage, whether by the teen-ager herself, or by her family as a surprise, should be done with her definite needs in mind.

The basic wardrobe of luggage for a young woman includes three pieces—a train or cosmetic case, an overnight bag or week-end case, and a wardrobe or pullman case.

If the family decides to give all three, they should be matched since this makes it easier to identify at a claim desk. Also, the set may be completed at a later date or filled out, little by little.

The type of luggage should be governed by how the gal travels. If the case must serve for a long time and take rough handling, sturdy construction is vital. Luggage to be used in auto travel need not be so strong.

Ingrid Bergman Enjoys Making American Movie 'Anastasia' in Paris

Swedish Actress Hopes to Come Back to the U. S.

By SERGE FLIEGERS

PARIS (INS)—Ingrid Bergman is "most happy" to be back making American movies again and hopes to return to the U.S. "at the first opportunity."

The lovely Swedish - born star told an International News Service reporter in Paris, where the film version of "Anastasia" is being shot:

"I'm very keen on this role, and I am most happy to be doing a picture of the American screen again."

Not the least of her joy comes from doing "a film in one language only—English." She explained:

"In Italy, we usually make films in three languages: Italian, English and French. But although I've been away from the states for some time now, English is still my No. 1 language, even more than Swedish."

ALL OVER EUROPE

Miss Bergman has been doing movies and plays all over Europe in English, Swedish, French and Italian.

The trip to the U.S. might result from current negotiations with Paramount Pictures, which wants her for the leading role in the film version of "The Chalk Garden," which played on Broadway this season.

"Anastasia" is her first American movie since she left Hollywood in 1949 to make "Stromboli" for Italian producer-director Roberto Rossellini. She stayed to divorce her husband and marry Rossellini.

In "Anastasia," the story of a girl thought to be a surviving daughter of the Czar of Russia, Miss Bergman's co-stars are Helen Hayes and Yul Brynner, with Anatole Litvak in the director's chair. After a few days of work with her, Litvak commented:

"She is undoubtedly one of the greatest actresses in the world today."

NO RIFT SEEN

There was no indication that Miss Bergman's American movie contracts would estrange her from her husband.

Rossellini flew in from London to watch her start on "Anastasia" and later, from their suite in the Savoy Hotel, they telephoned their three children in Italy and chatted with them.

Rossellini is presently in London directing a picture called "Sea Wife." He will leave shortly for exterior shooting on this picture in Jamaica, British West Indies.

Asked whether she would accept any offers to appear on American television, Miss Bergman said: "I don't think I would go for television. It seems to be so much work for just one performance."

After she finishes "Anastasia," for 20th Century-Fox, Miss Bergman will star in a French version of Robert Anderson's play "Tea and Sympathy."

New Mode in Sweaters

No Trick to Give Paris High-Fashion to Old Knitwear

PARIS (INS)—Gals in Paris are giving their old knitwear a new look by wearing sweaters and cardigans in a different manner.

With the modish high waistlines and short jackets now in fashion, young Parisiennes want to give their sweaters and cardigans a new bolero length. They achieve it by turning the sweater hem up on the inside to shorten it and give it a bloused effect.

If you have one of those long sweaters or cardigans which reach below the hip bones, simply fold up the part below the waist on the inside like a deep hem. You don't even have to stitch it since the rib-knit of the sweater hem will cling to your midriff.

For a cardigan you can apply the same system, after having buttoned the cardigan down to the lowest button.

Turtle necked sweaters are also worn "turned in" in France. Instead of turning the turtle-tube down on the outside, girls in Paris wear them turned down on the inside.

French women don't like sweaters that cut the neckline from one collar-bone to the other. They prefer turtle necks, V or U necks on their knitwear.

To bring up to date sweaters with the old "guillotine neckline," wear them either with a small silk scarf, a white pique collar or a wide choker to give the effect of a really high neckline.

Atom Radiation Offers Danger to Babies

WASHINGTON (INS)—A limit on nuclear weapons tests at 25 to 30 times the present rate has been suggested by a report on radiation dangers prepared by the nation's top experts.

Even that limit, they warned, would cause an increase of between 40 thousand and 50 thousand in the number of handicapped children born in America in the first generation after the maximum was reached.

The grim findings were contained in a special report after more than a year's study by 146 of the country's leading scientists under the sponsorship of the National Academy of Sciences.

The findings, by emphasizing hereditary rather than immediate effects, contradicted an Atomic Energy Commission claim that the rate of weapons testing could be increased 10,000 times without damage to world health.

The main points in the special report were these:

1. The average American is now absorbing radioactivitiy at a rate which for the first 30 years of his life totaled 7.4 "roentgens." This should not be increased to more than 10 roentgens for 30 years.

2. The bulk of radioactivity comes from natural sources and X-rays, but one-tenth of a roentgen already comes from the world-wide radioactive effect of weapons tests. If this were multiplied 27 times, to 2.7 roentgens, the maximum rate for whole populations would be reached.

3. The new maximum would cause an eventual rise from 2 to 2.4 per cent in the number of children born with defects ranging from impaired vision to physical deformity, due to radiation damage. The rise would be over many decades, but between 40,000 and 50,000 of the additional defective births in the U.S. would be in the first generation.

Since the "present rate" of weapons tests is actually the average for the last five years—including only five U.S. and two Russian hydrogen bombs known to have been set off—experts said a rate 30 times as great is easily conceivable.

Britain has recently announced she will soon conduct her first H-bomb test. A new U.S. test series to continue through July is in progress in the Pacific.

Dr. Warren Weaver, Rockefeller Foundation medical scientist, who headed the committee on heredity, said even small amounts of additional radiation cause hereditary damage by the percentage to the total they represent.

The special report recommended that the maximum radiation dose for any individual be set at about one-third the amount that would theoretically be permitted by present AEC standards for a worker employed 20 years in an atomic plant.

The scientists noted, however, that only two to three per cent of the U.S. atomic workers are actually receiving radiation at the maximum rate permitted.

Ah, Shucks—

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—It was, naturally, too good to be true. The Air Force told Joseph Scanlon the check he received should be his usual $25 allotment, not the $20,000,025 appearing on the check. Scanlon returned it.

THE POWERHOUSE

By JIMMY POWERS

Many a fight fan of the '30s unquestionably reviewed a great flood of thrilling memories at the sight of the hospitalized Armstrong and I am sure they are all rooting silently across the land for the game battler's recovery.

Armstrong made ring history by being the first and only man ever to hold officially three world's professional championships in three weight classifications at the same time. I must stress the word, officially.

Terry McGovern unofficially won the bantam, feather and lightweight titles. When Armstrong whipped Barney Ross in 1938 he was already both feather and lightweight champion. Today, under new rules, this no longer is possible.

It was felt a truly great fighter should not be permitted to monopolize more than one crown at a time as it tended to reduce interest in the classifications.

Personally, I've always held to the belief that a man is entitled to all the championships he can win.

If a 118-pounder can work his way up the scale and whip every man in the world at every weight including heavyweights, why not let him claim those crowns?

Armstrong once told me . . . "Of course it's a thrill to be a three-time world champion but after you've won your first title the rest is just a little more tinsel on the Christmas tree, I don't like swank. I just like to turn in a good night's work for the money paid me."

Golfdom's Elite Tee Off in National Open Today

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (INS) — The elite among the world's club-swingers teed off today in the Big Casino of American golf — the National Open Championship over the Emerald, tree-studded Oak Hill Country Club course at Rochester.

Seventy-two holes and nearly 16 footsore miles from now — barring a tie and the necessity of a Sunday playoff, as happened last year — one of a field of 134 professionals and 28 amateurs will have conquered the course and won U.S. Golf's biggest prize.

Other tournaments carry more prize money than the $25,000 at stake in the open, and others are much more immediately rewarding financially than the $6,000 which goes to the open winner.

But this is once that even the most mercenary of pros forgets about money and goes all out for the prestige that accompanies this victory. It is this that has attracted six former champions and most of the aristocracy of international golf.

Ben Hogan, four-time winner in the past, and Cary Middlecoff, the 1949 winner, are co-favorites among the old guard, along with 44-year-old Sam Snead, still doggedly seeking the only major title that has eluded him.

Hogan and Middlecoff drew late starting times today, Hogan at 2:08 p.m. (EDT) and Middlecoff at 1:12. They could run into a bit of trouble since there was a possibility of showers in the late afternoon.

Paired with Hogan were long-hitting Mike Souchak, one of the stars of the regular tournament circuit, and Roberto De Vicenzo, the gay Latin from Argentina, now pro at a Mexico City club. Middlecoff's companions were colorful Jimmy Demaret and British veteran Henry Cotton.

Snead teed off early, at 9:36 a.m., in one of the day's most interesting threesomes — with 1954 champion Ed Furgol and 1947 winner Lew Worsham.

Another gallery-catching combo was the 10 a.m. pairing of defending champion Jack Fleck, PGA champion Doug Ford and Gene Littler, the rising youngster who many think might go all the way.

Also included in the field were 1952 titlist Julius Boros, National Amateur Champion Harvie Ward, Jr., British Open King Peter Thomson of Australia, masters winner Jack Burke, Jr., and a host of others.

The field will be cut to 50 low scorers and those tied for 50th place after 18-hole rounds today and tomorrow over the 6,902-yard par-70 east course at Oak Hill. The survivors go out Saturday for a whirlwind 36-hole wind-up.

GOOD SIGN — Sam Snead, who has won every major golf title but the U. S. Open, smiles as he holds up a four-leaf clover he picked up at Oak Hill Country Club in Rochester, N. Y. during a practice round for the U. S. Open which started today. Snead picked up several of the four-leaf clovers and commented that he was doing better with the clover than with his golf.

Baseball Goes Abroad

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league baseball is Radio Free Europe's latest weapon against communism. Digests of daily play-by-play National and American League games are being radioed behind the Iron Curtain in Czechoslovakian, Slavic, Polish, Hungarian and Bulgarian, reports the Mutual Broadcasting System.

Binghamton, N. Y., is a member of the New York Yankee baseball system. Yankees Whitey Ford, Bob Grim, Bill Skowron, Tom Morgan, Rip Coleman and Jerry Coleman played there.

A Cornell University student from Birmingham fired a hole-in-one Tuesday at Pine Lake Country Club. Jerry Kraus, 700 Williamsbury Road, aced the 150-yard 12th hole with a 7-iron.

Kraus shot 78 for 18 holes. He was accompanied by his twin brother Jim, Al Moreau, and Irv Richards.

Permission to use the rolling Orchard Lake Country Club course for the 3rd annual Waterford Junior Chamber of Commerce tournament, Monday, was a fine gesture. So says co-chairman Howard Barling of the Jaycees . . . "It was certainly a fine thing to allow these youngsters to play such a splendid layout . . . it provides a real test of golf and gives them a good idea of what to expect if they go on to state and national competition . . ."

Schloerke Quits Track Job

BY H. GUY MOATS

Wally Schloerke, mentor of Pontiac High School's most brilliant track and cross country squads—maker of Saginaw Valley, regional and Michigan prep thinclad championship contenders—has quit the coaching business.

In a communication to this writer Schloerke announced today that he will not be back this fall, or next spring to coach the great squad of fine young athletes that has won so many laurels during the last few yeras, particulary during 1955-56 seasons.

"I am quitting the coaching field" Wally said, because I wish to devote more time to my family and home."

"I feel that I have accomplished what every coach strives for . . . a state championship team. And I now have no other plans except to teach at Pontiac High School for many years to come."

Schloerke's retirement from the PHS staff comes after about 10 years of working with Chief squads His association with PHS coaching work began in 1947 when cross country began at the school.

He had a Valley championship squad in 1948. During the period, 1949-55 his harriers were unbeaten in dual meets (37 wins). In the same period (1950) SVC champs, 4th in state (1951) state champs, (1952) 2nd in state; (1953) SVC champs, regional champs, (1954) SVC champs, regional champs, 3rd in state, (1955) SVC champs, 2nd in regional and state.

In 1948 Schloerke coached varsity tennis. He became assistant versity track coach in 1949 and head coach the following year.

Track honors won by his squads included SCV titles in 1955-56, state titles same years, regional crowns in 1953 to 1956, 2nd in state 1952-53. The biggest of them was the Mansfield Ohio relays this spring.

Altogether the squad has brought back to PHS trophy cases 50 fine championship awards.

Wally paid fine tributes to his aides, Ray Lowry and Dean Wilson," two of the finest fellow coaches any head coach could request." and to the Board of Education for providing facilities and equipment. He also gave credit to the junior high track program, the Junior Olympics and Kiwanis club's help. "I have been fortunate, and most grateful . . for the many helping hands . . to see PHS reach a position of envy and prominence among our Michigan schools."

"I have enjoyed the association with hundreds of boys on a coach-athlete relationship, and as well, I hope, as a friend and advisor."

Both Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, and athletic director Tom Dodson had words of praise today for the fine work of the track coach and team.

No successor has been named.

Needles Favored in Belmont Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Needles was established today as the early 4-5 favorite for the 88th Belmont Stakes, but the big news about Saturday's 3-year-old classic concerned Maj. Francis W. Sutherland's 7th Regiment Band.

Tin Pan Alley, and Petrillo, will be pleased. Sutherland's band always has been well camouflaged in the trees and deep shrubbery behind the grandstand on other Belmont Stakes days.

This time they'll be smack dab out in front, for all to see and hear. What's more, when Needles, Fabius and others in the probable field of eight parade postward for the $100,000-added gallop, the strains of "The Sidewalks of New York" will be heard.

The oddsmakers say the tote board should look like this:

Needles, 4-5; Fabius, 5-2; Career Boy and Jazz Age (Whitney entry), 4-1; Ricci Tavi, 8-1; Frosty Mr., 20-1; Charlevoix, 30-1; Beau Diable, 50-1.

Duffy Disqualified After Tumble at Olympic Games

STOCKHOLM (INS) — Britain is expected to capture the first Gold Medal of the 1956 Olympic Equestrian games today when jumping completion winds up the first three-day event on the program.

The talented British horsemen assumed the role of favorites by winning the dressage and cross-country trials in spectacular fashion.

Britain won the rugged 22-mile test yesterday over a treacherous course made muddy by heavy rains.

Uncle Sam's Maj. Jonathan Burton of Berwyn, Ill., was reported to have suffered a brain concussion when he fell from his mount. Burton, bleeding from the head, remounted and finished the course, placing 36th. He was taken to a hospital for x-rays.

The U. S. was disqualified when Frank Duffy of Birmingham, Mich., took a tumble at the third obstacle and was forced to withdraw. Duffy was not injured but his failure to complete the course caused his team to be disqualified.

The bright spot in an otherwise dismal day for the Americans was supplied by Walter G. Staley of Mexico, Mo. Staley, who had been 56th after the dressage competition, turned in a cross-country ride which lifted him to 10th place with 134.57 penalty points.

Family of Bowlers

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (AP) — There was reason for a family celebration following the annual women's tournament. Mrs. LaRayne Harris won her third all events crown in four years. Her sister, Dorothy Bowen, won the singles and another sister, Ruth Robb, won the B singles.

The present Pimlico race track in Baltimore, Md., opened in 1870.

Glutton, Polar Bear Given India by Reds

BOMBAY — To help celebrate the centenary of the Madras, India zoo, two strange animals arrived by air from Russia—gifts from the Soviet.

In custody of M. Sosnovsky, director of Moscow Zoo, were seven months old Snejhok (little snow), a polar bear cub, and Rosa, a glutton from the northern forests of Siberia.

Gluttons, Sosnovsky, revealed, are a cross between cats and bears. They are carniverous. Rosa was not in her best form.

Pair One-Hit Shutouts in City Softball Loop

A pair of brilliant 1-hit shoutouts combined with some heavy hitting gave Royal Bar and Lunsford Market runaway victories in men's City Softball League activity Wednesday night at Beaudette Park.

Cal Atwood twirled his masterpiece in the opening game as Royal Bar whipped Bicmar Inn, 14-0. The Royal team knocked out 11 hits, including home runs by Atwood and Don Moorhead. Chuck Woodruff's 5th-inning double ruined Atwood's bid for a no-hitter.

A single by pinch batter Bill DeRousse to open the 7th stanza spoiled veteran Walt Saddler's pitching gem as Lunsford Market trounced the North Side Merchants, 11-0. The Lunsford club made a total or 12 safeties.

The North Side Auto Parts aggregation scored four runs in the 6th frame to defeat Pulver Tire, 4-2, in a girls' league game at North Side Park. For the 2nd straight time the Avondale girls forfeited in a scheduled league contest North Side, this 7-0 decision going to GMC.

Avondale has withdrawn from the circuit because of it inability to field a team, league director Jim Jones announced this morning. The exit creates a 5-team girls' loop.

Entries Until Saturday

All Area Boys Eligible for Net Meet

Entries for the 2nd annual tennis tournament sponsored by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce along with the Parks and Recreation department will be accepted up to 10:30 a.m. Saturday, according to tourney chairman Dick Mineweaser.

Draws will be made immediately after the deadline and play will begin at 11:00 a.m. on the Oakland Park courts.

"Boys from all area communities, including Birmingham, Waterford, Rochester, Oxford and the other towns in the Pontiac area, are welcome to enter the tournament," said Mineweaser.

There are two divisions for entries, the junior division for players 18 years old and younger and the boys' division for those 15

The Pontiac Jaycees will sponsor the winner and runnerup of the tournament to State Jaycee Meet at Kalamazoo in July and if a local representative continues as a winner he will be sponsored as an entry for the National Tournament at Oak Park, Ill.

"This is a very good opportunity for young players to advance into tournament play," said Mineweaser.

There is an entry fee of 50 cents and all players must furnish their own equipment. Tennis ball will be furnished in the finals and there are trophies to be awarded for winners and runnerup players in each division.

O'Dea and Mike Biallas will be back for this year's tourney.

Entry blanks can be obtained at the Junior Chamber of Commerce office in the Waldron Hotel, at the Parks and Recreation office in the City Hall, or at Oakland Park up to 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

Singing Count

Woodcock Courtship Helps Census Taker

WASHINGTON (AP) — The male woodcock usually sings for 30 to 45 minutes at sundown during the mating season, and the government takes advantage of this courtship behavior to make a woodcock census.

The Fish and Wildlife Service said today the annual "singing ground count" of woodcock is nearing completion along 326 established routes in 17 states and in Canada.

The data obtained is considered in determining the bag and season limit for woodcock in the fall hunting season.

The count is made at different times in different areas. The census routes are three to four miles long and are the same year after year, so that comparisons of indicated abundance are possible.

Listeners spend exactly two minutes listening at stations about a half a mile apart on each route, recording the number of male birds heard singing at each station.

States in which the count is made each year are Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, North Carolina, West gan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Lake Forest Golfer Paces Seniors Test

RYE, N.Y. (AP)—A 144 by Franklin G. Clement, 56-year-old Lake Forest, Ill., broker, was the target as the second half of the original field of 385 started played today in the U.S. Seniors' Golf Assn. championship.

Clement, playing in the tournament in which the minimum age is 55, shot even par in his two rounds over the Apawamis Club's par 72 course. On Tuesday he posted a 73 and came back yesterday with a 71 for a four-stroke lead over Joseph Wells of Newell, W. Va., 1949 champion. Newell carded a 73-74—147.

Defending champion John W. Roberts of Columbus, Ohio, faded out of the picture with a 75-77—152.

Maurice McDermott should do all right now that he's with the Yankees. While with Boston and Washington he beat the Yankees only four times in 20 decisions.

Top Schoolboy Prospect Signs With Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs report they have outmaneuvered the 15 other Major League clubs to sign Pete Mattachione, 18-year-old infielder just graduated from Detroit's Nativity High School.

Mattachione, who can play second base, third base or shortstop, is regarded as a top schoolboy prospect in the Detroit area. The Cubs signed him with Des Moines, their affiliate in the class A Western League.

Oliver 9 Wins Class A Tilt

Jack Hruska hurled a 1-hit masterpiece to pace Oliver Buick's 3-0 conquest of Fowler's Fine Foods and Griff's Grill trimmed the Anderson Jets, 7-2, in Class A City Baseball League games Wednesday night.

Jim Horton's 3rd-inning single was the lone safety garnered off Hruska at Wisner Field as the strong right-hander struck out nine batters. The Buick club touched Jim Featherstone for 10 hits, three by Daryl McGlashen and two apiece by Paul Osika and Jerry Hesse.

Griff's scored two runs in the 1st inning and three more in the 2nd, then coasted to victory over the Jets at Columbia-Joslyn. Jim Jones, Pontiac High's ace pitcher this spring, hurled 5-hit ball for the winners.

Had No Indian Blood

CLEVELAND (AP) — Members of the Cleveland Indians hope Sal Maglie gets to see more work with the Brooklyn Dodgers than he saw with the American Leaguers. In almost one year with the Tribe, Maglie failed to win during 31 innings of pitching in 12 games. His only two decisions were setbacks. He failed to go the distance in his only two starts for the Indians in 1955.

Tigers Win 2-0 on Maxwell's Blast

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Charley Maxwell, the Detroit Tigers hitting "find" of the year, is proving himself an able come-through hitter as well as a big man in the statistics columns.

Maxwell, currently the American League's second ranking batter, blasted a 9th inning home run with a man on base to give the Tigers a 2-0 victory in their "rubber" game with the Baltimore Orioles yesterday.

It has been a regular thing this year for the husky outfielder from Paw Paw to come through at the plate when the hits are needed. He leads the club in homers with 11 and his .375 batting average, 17 percentage points below New York's Mickey Mantle, rates him the clean-up spot in the batting line-up.

Yesterday's big blow came after a pitching battle in stifling 90-degree heat, spoiling the sparking one-hit performance Billy Loes turned in for Baltimore in the first six innings.

Loes, whose pitching arm has bothered him most of the season, struck out five men and walked only one in his first start since the Orioles bought him from the Brooklyn Dodgers May 14.

George Zuverink, who relieved Loes in the 7th, was nicked for four hits and absorbed his second loss against three victories. Steve Gromek, who replaced starter Paul Foytack in the 8th, collected his 5th triumph against three defeats.

Bill Tuttle, who drew a walk in the second inning, was the first Tiger to reach base against Loes. The next was Buddy Hicks, who singled into center in the 7th for the only hit off Loes.

The Orioles had men on base in six of the first seven innings but couldn't score.

Manager Paul Richards, taking no chances on overworking Loes' sore arm, removed him in favor of Zuverink after the sixth.

Tonight the Tigers take on the Pittsburgh Pirates, the National League's big surprise of the season, in a flag day exhibition game at Forbes Field.

GETTING THE TAG — Oriole second baseman Bill Gardner gets tagged out between second and third by Detroit pitcher Paul Foytack after a run down in the first inning of their game yesterday. Shortstop in the play is Buddy Hicks who covered second base and umpire is John Rice calling the play. Detroit won, 2-0 on Maxwell's 9th inning two-run homer.

Jaycee Golf Tourney Set for June 18

Waterford Junior Chamber of Commerce today announced plans for its 3rd annual Junior Golf Tournament. This 18-hole medal play contest will pit some of the area's best junior club swingers against one another in hopes of gaining a chance at the state Jaycee tourney July 9-10 at Kalamazoo.

Tourney will be held over the fine Orchard Lake Country Club layout, Monday, June 18. Play will start at 8 a.m. and post entries will be accepted. Any youngster under 18 years of age is eligible.

Entries may also be made by calling either chairman Harold Horn (FE 4-9516) or co-chairman Howard Barling (OR 3-4170). Players in this event may not enter any other JC tourney.

Winners at Orchard Lake will go to the Kalamazoo test, and the state winners get their chances at the national title chase, at Fargo, N. D. in August.

A field of between 25 and 30 competed last year, and it was expected this year's group would reach at least 50.

Jack Reynolds, Waterford High School ace, won the event the last two years and took part in state, and national trials, last year at Columbus, Ga.

Barling also said that all contestants would be guests of the Junior Chamber at a dinner following the tourney. It will be held at Jack Decker's on Dixie Highway, at 7 p.m. when trophies and prizes will be awarded.

96 Teams at Blythefield

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Tournament chairmen have announced an official field of 96 teams for the 13th annual Blythefield Invitational best-ball golf tourney with a qualifying round scheduled June 28.

Qualifiers return the following day to begin four rounds of match play leading to semi-finals and finals Sunday, July 1.

Tops among entries in the Blythefield Country Club classic is the team of Hermie Miller of Blythefield and Tom Draper of Birmingham, defending champions. Draper recently returned from competition in Europe and Britain.

Former Walker Cup player Dal Morey of Indianapolis is teamed with Roy Taylor of Blythefield for the event. Charlie Gehringer, Detroit Tiger immortal, is entered with Marv Stahl, who has returned to Grand Rapids amateur status after a pro career.

Giambra Aims at Top Rating

Takes Close Decision Over Britisher in TV Scrap Wednesday

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Joey Giambra wants a couple of more fights under his belt before he hurls any challenges at middleweight champion Ray Robinson and the top contenders in the talent-laden division.

The 160-pound class is the big bread winner for boxing's promoters these days. And Giambra, a handsome 24-year-old, fits neatly into the picture again.

A high-ranking contender two years ago when he went into the Army, the picture-punching youngster showed that he's getting set to vault back into the top 10. He slammed out a close but unanimous 10-round decision over rugged John L. Sullivan of England in a nationally televised (ABC) fight last night.

It was Joey's second straight victory over the 23-year-old Sullivan in the War Memorial Auditorium and his third conquest in succession since his discharge. His record now is 44-4-1.

An Illegal Maneuver

BLACKBURG, Va. (AP) — C. P. (Sally) Miles, faculty chairman of athletics at Virginia Tech and one of the founders of the Southern Conference, won't ever forget the first football game he ever witnessed.

It was before the turn of the century. North Carolina and Virginia were involved in a game at Richmond.

"I remember seeing this Virginia boy breaking away and heading down the sidelines, apparently touchdown bound," Miles reveals. "But, all of a sudden, a fan along the sidelines reached out with a cane, hooked the boy's leg and tripped him."

North Carolina won—by a touchdown.

Top-Heavy Fighters Head Benefit Card June 23rd

A pair of "top-heavy" heavyweights, Danny Hagon, 225 pounder from Pontiac and Jim Riggin, 215 pounder from Flint will highlight the 10-bout benefit boxing card to be held Saturday night, June 23rd, at the Waterford High School gym.

The bouts, being staged for the National Nephrosis Foundation by the local and state chapter headed by ex-pugilist Stanley Allen, are being supported through ticket sales by numerous civic and business groups.

Amateurs from the state will fight three two-minute rounds in each of the divisions on the card.

Members of the Pontiac and Waterford Junior Chambers of Commerce will usher at the fights and John Felts of the Pontiac Police Department and Bud Goldsworthy, himself a former boxer, will act as judges.

An added feature to the fights will be a three-rounder between two four and a half year-old boys, Michael Allen and Terry Sevrais.

Michael is one of the twin sons of Stanley Allen. The other twin, Dennis, died of the Nephrosis disease only a few weeks ago, May 6th.

Ex-Pontiac Boxer Gene Linscott and Steve Kenjello will assist as seconds to the fighters.

Tickets are available at 16 locations in the Pontiac area and are also being sold by members of the police and fire departments.

5 Midget Squads Wanted, D-E Loops Undermanned

An abundance of Midget and Class F teams combined with a sparseness of E and D squads offered a contrasting picture today as the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's Junior baseball program readied itself for the approaching season.

Ten Midget clubs for boys 12 years old and under are currently registered for the summer campaign, with openings for five more teams.

The Pontiac Old Timers, who sponsor three Midget teams, have five extra sets of uniforms available for use. If five more clubs can be added, two divisions will be formed. The remaining seven teams are sponsored by outside groups.

There are 13 Class F squads enrolled to form a healthy league, but only three teams are signed in each of the E and D circuits. At least one team must be added to each of the two older classes to be eligible for competition.

Class D consists of boys 18 years of age and under, Class E 16 and under, and Class F 14 and under.

A meeting will be held in the Parks and Recreation Department office next Wednesday at 8 p.m. An effort will be made at that time to expand the undermanned leagues. Any group interested in joining the D and E classes should attend the meeting.

Practice games are being held this week. Midget and Class F teams are playing at 9 and 11 a.m. at the new Jaycee Park while E and D squads are working out at 5:30 p.m. on the Columbia-Joslyn fields.

Late 4-Count Rally Fails to Avert Loss

Apparently badly beaten by the Orioles, going into the final frame of last night's Federal Savings Midget League, Athletics staged a dramatic 4-run rally, just one run short of squaring the count. Orioles won 6-5.

Victory for Gary Green was his 3rd of the season. He gave up only four hits.

Yankees moved into 2nd place by beating the Red Sox 11-7 in the only other loop game of the night. Dan Scott led winenrs with two doubles.

Dodson ousted Colgate's Joe Abrahamson 6-0, 6-2 in a quarter-final round yesterday while McLean was defeating Leif Beck 6-4, 2-6, 6-0.

Second-ranked Jim Farrin, another Princetonian, will meet Barry Walraven, the No. 6 seed from Oklahoma, in the other semi-final today.

Robin Beaten Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It begins to look as if the rest of the National League has caught up with Robin Roberts, the ace of Philadelphia's pitching staff who may miss 20 victories for the first time in seven years.

Milwaukee's Braves, who had lost 13 of 23 run-ins with Roberts, greeted Robin like a favorite cousin last night, rocking him from the mound with a seven-run fourth inning that handed the big right-hander his eighth defeat against only five victories.

Only one other NL game was played, with the Chicago Cubs winning No. 10 in the last 13 on a 6-5 decision over the New York Giants. Rain postponed the first-place battle between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. Brooklyn and St. Louis were not scheduled.

In the American, the Chicago White Sox beat the New York Yankees for the first time in seven tries 7-5 and edged into second, four games back of the Yanks, as Cleveland and Boston battled to an 11-inning 8-8 tie halted by rain.

Detroit bopped Baltimore 2-0 on home run. Kansas City popped out of the cellar with 21 hits that beat Washington 13-4 and dropped the Senators into last place.

Three New York errors totaled five unearned runs for the Cubs, who counted a three-run homer by Eddie Miksis as Bob Rush won his sixth with ninth-inning relief. Jim Hearn lost it for a 3-6 mark.

The White Sox won the hard way, giving up three unearned runs with four errors and overcoming a 3-1 deficit in the fourth on Ron Northey's pinch three-run homer off starter Bob Turley. Larry Doby made it 5-4 in the fifth with his first home run of the season and Luis Aparico packed it away with a two-run, bases-loaded single in the seventh.

Jackie Jensen socked home four runs for Boston, slashing a bases-loaded triple to tie it in the fourth. Vic Wertz, who drove in five runs, had given Cleveland an 8-5 lead in the top of the fourth with his 14th homer, a three-run jolt off reliefer Dave Sisler and his second of the game.

Charley Thompson and Vic Power each had five hits for the A's while Hector Lopez and Gus Zernial homered in the hit parade against four Washington pitchers.

Doby's Homer Beats N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP) Larry Doby, who twice has led American League home run hitters, connected for only his first of the season yesterday as the Chicago White Sox beat the New York Yankees for the first time this season 7-5.

The big, 31-year-old outfielder hadn't hit one since last Sept. 8, when he was with the Cleveland Indians. His solo shot yesterday, breaking a 4-4 tie for the Sox, ended a string of 57 games and 186 official trips to the plate without a home run.

Doby, traded to Chicago last October for shortstop Chico Carrasquel and outfielder Jim Busby, topped the AL with 32 home runs in 1952 and again in 1954.

NCAA Draws 350 Entries

Pole Vaulter Injures Leg Leaving Scramble for Event

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Track and Field championships here tomorrow and Saturday number more than 350 entries but an injury to one of them changes the outcome complexion.

Don Bragg, Villanova's champion pole vaulter, suffered a pulled muscle in his right thigh Tuesday and reports are that he won't compete, barring a miraculous recovery.

His loss ruins any title hopes for Villanova's small squad and at the same time boosts the stock of the defending champions —the University of Southern California's Trojans. The Kansas Jayhawks, however, still appear the team to beat.

The Trojans have two vaulters, Walt LeLvack and Ron Morris, who finished in a four-way tie for second place behind Bragg in last year's NCAA and preserved for USC its seventh straight National Collegiate title.

Phillies Set Tryouts

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies of the National League will hold a tryout camp July 4-5-6 at Wyandotte, Mich.

Players between the ages of 17 and 22 are invited to attend. Eddie Krajnik, Midwest scout, and Clare Whelpley, Michigan scout, will have charge of the camp.

Boys' Club Wins 2nd Legion Test

Edges Birmingham 3-2; McLintock's 7th Inning Blow Brings Victory

With the cout tied up at 2-2 in the final frame of last night's Junior American League ball game at Washington school field, Boys' club Ken McLintock lifted one into the trees in left field to score the winning run. The 3-2 victory gave the Pontiac nine its 2nd straight victory in district Legion action.

Boys' Club had previously scored in the 2nd and 4th frames.

Birmingham, facing a possible shutout, in the top of the 7th with the score 2-0, squared the game with Dick Levenworth's long homer that sent in a runner who got on when hit by pitcher Bob Reeves.

Tom Conley walked, stole 2nd and 3rd and scored the winner on Ken's hard single. Dean Periko had flied out preceding McLintock's hit.

Both Reeves, who gave up five hits, and Jerry Cloonan for Birmingham, turned in fine mound efforts.

Drayton Drug Beats Pharmacy Team, 9-5

Drayton Drug raced into an early lead to defeat Lakeland Pharmacy, 9-5, in a Waterford League softball game last night at Drayton Plains.

The Drug team built up an 8-2 margin after four innings and coasted to victory. Marshall Rose batted in four runs for the winners with a home run, triple and single in four attempts.

Gary Boe pitched a 5-hitter for Drayton, but wildness in the 7th stanza brought on Bill Goulet, who fanned the last batter.

Pine Lake Ace

First hole-in-one of the current golfing season at Pine Lake Country Club was fired yesterday by Jerry Kraus, one of the club's young members. Jerry banged a seven-iron shot to the 150-yeard No. 12 green, watched the ball roll up and in. He had a 78 for the 18-hole round.

Jerry is one-half of the PL twin combination. His brother is Jim Both played in last year's PL invitational best-ball test and were expected to be in today's qualifying field, for the 1956 event.

Mantle, the young New York Yankee power man of the moment who once was 12 games ahead of Ruth's record 60-home run pace of 1927, now is just even with the Babe.

Mickey, who hasn't homered in a week, has 21 for 53 games. Ruth had the same number in the same number of games.

Majors' Homer Bats Booming

NEW YORK (AP) — Some big league baseball observers are saying the horsehide they're using this season is hopped up. Others maintain it isn't any livelier than in the past few years.

The figures support the rabble-rousers.

The latest home run totals show an increase of more than 40 per cent over those of only four years ago. The major league sluggers have walloped 794 homers this year as compared with 555 in as many games in 1952.

Furthermore an Associated Press survey disclosed today, four major home run records stand a good chance of being wiped off the books before the 1956 campaign ends.

The American League, with shortened fences in Washington and Baltimore, has accounted for 369 four-baggers and at that pace should eclipse the league mark of 973 set in 1950. The league-leading New York Yankees, with 76, are ahead of their 1936 tempo when they set the junior circuit's club mark of 182.

The national League, which has taken over the "Hitters' League" title in the past decade, shows an aggregate of 425 circuit blows. This is only two behind the figures of this time in 1955. And last season was the one in which the older loop established its standard of 1,263 homers.

The power-laden Cincinnati Redlegs are threatening to break the National's club mark. The Redlegs have hit 84 in 50 games, a pace that would give them more than 250 for the year's work. The record is 221 by the New York Giants in 1947.

All but three teams are hitting home runs at a faster clip than they did in 1952 and most of them are way ahead. The Reds, for example, had only 43 at this time four years ago. The Yankees have 42. The St. Louis Cards, who have 53 this season, had only 26 then. And the Detroit Tigers, who have 55 in 1956, had 29 in '52.

Also, 10 big league clubs show increases last season. The surprising Pittsburgh Pirates are 25 ahead, the Reds 21, the Tigers 12 and the Washington Senators 11.

The home run figures:

Wightman Cup Play to Start

LONDON (INS)—Ameria's top women tennis stars are favored to score their 20th straight victory over Britain in the annual two-day battle for the Wightman cup beginning tomorrow.

Tennis experts agree that this year's British team figures to give the U. S. contingent a stronger struggle than in the past.

Louise Brough, Shirely Fry, Mrs. Beverly Baker Fleitz and Mrs. Dorothy Head are members of the American team.

The British will be represented by a young squad which includes Angela Mortimer, Angela Buxton, Shirely Bloomer and Pat Ward.

The U. S. retained the cup last year at Rye, N. Y., with a 6-1 victory. The series contains five singles matches and two doubles matches.

Lions Slice Salaries

DETROIT (AP) — The professional football Detroit Lions, who have been paying championship salaries for several years, sent out contracts today to 19 veteran players who were on the Lions' cellar-dwelling club of 1955.

But general manager Nick Kerbawy, admitting there will be some pay cuts, said he anticipates no trouble in getting the veterans to agree to terms.

Under National Football League rules, a club cannot cut a player's salary by more than 10 per cent without presenting a case to the commissioner.

"There will be a few cuts," said Kerbawy, but certainly none of them more than 10 per cent."

There probably will be no salary increases on the club that finished last after winning three straight Western Division titles.

"We have one of the biggest payrolls in NFL history," said Kerbawy. "Many of the salaries will remain the same. Some, naturally, will have to take a cut."

The Lions will not offer a contract to veteran halfback Bob Hoernschmeyer, the general manager said.

"Under his option, Hunchy can report to our training camp if he wishes," Kerbawy said. Unless he does so, and shows up extremely well, the Lions probably will ask waivers on the former Indiana star.

The Detroit club will sign Ohio State's All-America halfback, Howard (Hopalong) Cassady in mid-July.

Cassady and the Ohio State baseball team will return from a tour of the Orient about July 14, and his contract will be negotiated in his home town of Columbus, Ohio.

Cassady reports July 19 to the college All-Star camp at Northwestern for the annual summer contest against the pro champion Cleveland Browns. After that game in Chicago in August, Cassady will report to the Lions' camp at Ypsilanti.

He is expected to draw between $12,000 and $15,000 for his rookie season with the Lions.

3-Run 4-Bagger Beats Rochester

Roper's Third Inning Blast Gives Berkley Legion 3-2 Win

A third inning home run, with two on and two out, last night gave Berkley's Junior American Legion club a 3-2 win over Rochester, at Rochester.

Count was 1-0 when Tom Roper blasted the leather to score both Berkley runners, and gallop home himself. The big one changed the game's complexion quickly, as Rochester only managed to get Pitcher Pudge Howe home in the 5th. Dave Peters had scored in the 2nd.

Game was a good one, including a pitching battle between Tom King and lefty Top Roper who relieved King in the 5th, and Rochester's Howe who went all the way. Each club got six hits.

In Sunday's opener at Rochester, host club beat Waterford 7-6 in 10 innings. Score was knotted at 6-6 end of regulation time, and Dave Peters scored the winner on Fred Weaver's single. Larry LaForge went all the way for Rochester.

Rochester plays Birmingham there Sunday and next Thursday meets Boys' Club at Rochester.

Senators Acting on Security Bill

Mundt Leading Faction Pledged 'to Plug Hole' Made by High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mundt (R-SD) predicted today swift approval by Congress of a bill to plug what he termed "the great hole shot into our internal security" by the Supreme Court.

Mundt and Sens. Eastland (D-Miss) and McCarthy (R-Wis) introduced yesterday similar bills designed to negate the court's 6-3 ruling on Monday that the government may not summarily dismiss on security grounds workers whose jobs do not directly concern national security.

Another Republican, former Sen. Harry P. Cain of Washington, agreed in a separate interview that the Supreme Court "did shoot a hole" in the loyalty-security program, but said it was "right where it should be shot."

VIGOROUS CRITIC

Cain, appointed by President Eisenhower to the Subversive Activities Control Board, has become a vigorous critic of the security program.

At the end of two days of testimony before a Senate judiciary subcommittee yesterday, one man Cain cited was reoffered a job he had lost on security grounds. And Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) said the subcommittee he heads will explore other cases which Cain described as injustices or at least questionable.

'JUST A TRAVESTY'

Mundt told the Senate yesterday his bill's effect would be to assure that "the Reds, the pinks and the punks" are taken off their jobs the minute security charges are filed against them, with opportunity to appeal if they believe the charges are unjust.

He said it was "a travesty on our judicial procedure when . . . six men in black robes (the court) can nullify our every effort and expose the internal workings of our government to the stealthy espionage and sabotage of Communist agents."

The court's decision does not reverse the right of departments and agencies designated by Congress as "sensitive" to fire workers summarily on security grounds. It does make ineffective Eisenhower's 1953 order extending this to all government agencies and departments.

Famagusta, riot-troubled seaport on the east coast of Cyprus, was described by travelers as the richest city in the world in the 14th Century, the National Geographic Society says.

Hollywood Headlines

John Wayne's Son, Pat, Thrills the Teenage Fans

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The latest heartbeat of the teenage set is a second generation filmster with a shy manner and an easy grin.

He is handsome six-footer Pat Wayne, son of the screen's ace moneymaker John. Although Pat has been seen only briefly in a handful of pictures, he is already figuring prominently in the fan magazine popularity polls, placing a few notches below his famous father.

VIEWS ON CAREER

I tracked him down at dinnertime at his mid-Los Angeles home where he lives with his mother, John Wayne's first wife. He introduced his older brother Mike. Pat answered questions in a taciturn and shy manner.

Does he like working in pictures?

"Oh, yes. It's a lot of fun."

How did he happen to get started?

'SOUNDED OKAY'

"I had done a few little things in pictures for Mr. Ford (director John Ford, mentor of John Wayne and Pat's godfather). He asked me if I wanted to play a bigger part in 'The Long Gray Line.' It sounded okay."

Does he want to be an actor?

"I don't know yet. I have some time to decide—another year of high school and four of college. My father wants me to finish school first."

How are his grades?

"All right."

Brother Mike acted as press agent: "I can speak for him on that. He does very well in school —A's and B's mostly."

SUMMER WORK

summer and would continue to be until he gets out of college. He has signed with the C. V. Whitney company for seven years and is expected to star for the first time in "The Missouri Traveler" this summer.

John Wayne is more loquacious "She thinks it's okay," he replied. He explained that most of his film work has been in the about Pat's career than the lad is himself. He was high in his praise for a scene Pat did in "The Searchers."

Texas Research Finds

New Food Preservative

RENNER, Tex. (INS) — Science has found a new food preservative from a fruit which rots by the tons every year in almost every state of the Midwest and South.

* * *

Dr. John R. Clopton found the new use for the Bois D'Arc apple, known as the hedge apple or Osage Orange, in the chemical laboratories at Texas Research Foundation.

Chemical research on the apple revealed that the fruit was composed of approximately 15 per cent resins, 15 per cent sugars, 10 per cent pigments, 45 per cent protein and 15 per cent oils.

Dr. Clopton began his research on the apple in 1947 and '48 and in continuing his research during the summers of 1952 and 1954, found the pigments were a pair of yellow, salt-like substances.

These two pigments, pomiferin and osajin, he found remarkably effective in reducing rancidity in edible oils and fats. The two substances constitute 10 per cent by weight of the dehydrated fruit, with their greatest concentration in the pulp rather than in the seed and covering of the apple.

Recently, the Texas Research Foundation was granted a patent by the United States Patent Office which covers the use of the two substances as food preservatives.

"Advantages in using the antioxidant preservatives of Bois D'Arc lie in the fact that there is an abundant source of raw material throughout most of the Midwest and South and that the extraction process is simple and inexpensive," said Dr. C. L. Lundell, director of the foundation.

Louisiana ranks fifth among the states in lumber production.

British to Rebuild Noted Kenya Hotel

NAIROBI — Kenya is to have another "Treetops," a hotel perched high in a tree in Aberdare National Park.

The first one, where Queen Elizabeth first received news of her father's death, was burned down in 1954, by Mau Mau terrorists.

Nothing remains but charred timbers leaning against the dying, giant tree which held the hotel for 22 years. It is visited, due to the Mau Mau terrorists, only by the hundreds of animals, ranging from elephant to tiny buck, which made Treetops the world's most famous viewpoint for game.

* * *

The hotel association which owned the original, plans to build another tree hotel—after the Mau Mau danger is over—in another tree overlooking the waterhole and saltlick which draw animals

Stocks Maintain Steady Position

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market maintained a fairly steady position today in the early afternoon.

Trading was slow at a pace around yesterday's 1,760,000 shares. That total is well under the daily average for the year.

Lower were Union Pacific, Royal Dutch Petroleum, Paramount Pictures, American Telephone, Du Pont, General Electric, U. S. Steel and Chrysler.

Chesapeake & Ohio was up around 2 points in the midst of plans forwarded by the United Mine Workers Union to stimulate coal exports. The railroad is the nation's biggest coal carrier.

General Dynamics and Glenn Martin edged up on the announcement of progress in plans to work on an atomic-powered seaplane.

Drop Distinction Between Hudson, Nash Ramblers

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp. says that starting with the 1957 model season separate designations for its Nash-Hudson Rambler car will be dropped and the car will be marketed simply as the Rambler.

The Nash and Hudson nameplates will appear only on the firm's larger cars in the 1957 model year, the company said in an announcement yesterday.

Weddings Costs Dip to $2 Again, Area JP Says

A Madison Heights associate justice of the peace, under fire from the Prosecutor's office and fellow judges for advertising and performing marriage ceremonies for $10, said yesterday he will cut his fee to the legal $2.

Justice Charles O. Williams reportedly has married 55 couples during the six months he has been in office. He still maintains the $2 allowed for marriages in the statute is the legal minimum, but has agreed to the cut.

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem has twice had Williams on the carpet, but admits there is no penalty set by statute for exceeding the legal fee.

Judges in the recently-formed Oakland County Judicial Association have censured Williams for advertising his marriages in letters to couples on record as obtaining marriage licenses.

Williams said in promising the fee reduction:

"I was doing nothing wrong and I feel that $10 is still a good price for a marriage, and that the Legislature should charge the 1915 law which allows only a $2 fee.

"But from now on I'll charge only $2 and I'll still give the same courtesy to couples as I did for $10. I'll even continue to put on my coat during the ceremonies."

Coal Industry to Buy Ships

Merged Interests Fund New Corporation to Aid Export Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—The coal industry, coal-hauling railroads and the United Mine Workers union today announced an "unprecedented partnership" to buy ships and boost coal exports.

Walter J. Tuohy, president of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, said the combination has formed a 50-million-dollar corporation called American Coal Shipping, Inc.

"This new corporation will promote the export coal trade on the broadest possible basis," Tuohy said. "Its first proposal is to enter immediately into the ocean shipping business, by acquiring ships of its own and placing them in the export coal trade."

PAPERS FILED

Tuohy prepared his announcement for a luncheon session at the 39th anniversary convention of the National Coal Assn. He praised John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers Union, for proposing the cooperative shipping venture four years ago.

Negotiations have proceeded since then to carry out the idea, Tuohy said final agreement was reached two weeks ago. Papers of incorporation were filed earlier this week.

Tuohy said the new organization "will have a far-reaching effect on the future of our foreign trade in coal."

It was not immediately announced whether the organization plans to build new ships, acquire cargo vessels from the government moth ball fleet, or buy ships now operated by shipping firms.

However, Tuohy, while praising the shipping industry's help in increasing the coal export market in the past year, said "the quality and quantity of ocean shipping are limited."

NEED MODERN SHIPS

"We need larger, better and more modern ships that can get the coal across the ocean at a cost low enough to hold the markets," he said.

The C&O president said the coal producers, miners' union, exporters and railroads all "stand as a cohesive group" on the project.

He said this country has the world's largest recoverable coal reserves and the capacity efficiently to produce it. He said exports have grown to 40 million tons annual rate, and Europe's needs are rapidly increasing. Japan and South America also have need for coal, he said.

• • •

Tuohy said unless this country steps out and fills this growing need for coal in the free world, Russia and China, which also have vast coal reserves, will take over the market.

All American Humor Not From New York

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — There's a mistaken impression that New York City's the fount of American humor. 'Tisn't so. In Scranton, Pa., I mentioned to celebrated barkeep "Irish" Langan that I was going to Russia. "You get around," he snapped, "like an epidemic." He confessed "having more grief than a guy with nine mother-in-laws." Commenting about the Welsh of the community, who are short of stature, he said, "Every Welsh parade is 5 miles long and 5 feet high."

A staffer on the New Kensington, Pa., Daily Dispatch said: "What kind of a birthday gift can I give my wife?"

"Leave her!" proposed a fellow reporter.

Lenny Kent claims at the Copa, "A husband won't kiss his wife for 20 years, then slugs a guy who does." Further, "Elvis Presley's record, 'Heartbreak Hotel,' is so big that Conrad Hilton bought it."

"I've never met anybody who wasn't against war," says English cartoonist David Low. "Even Hitler and Mussolini were, according to them."

LENNY

Harry Oliver says he's received his first fan letter on his column in the Palm Springs Desert Sun. It says: "Harry, I like your column as it's short and it's on Page 1, and I find I can read it without buying the paper."

Says Peter Donald: "I'm one of that new school of comedians—no laughs". . .

From South Africa: "He was practicing on the saxophone late at night when the landlord came in and said, 'Do you know there's a little lady sick upstairs?' The musician replied, 'No, hum a little of it.'"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

The Army's already lopped six pounds off Gary Crosby. (He may wind up in Armed Forces Radio Service) . . . Jayne Mansfield heard a rumor that her muscle man, Mickey Hargitay, might be drafted, and groaned, "That's all I need—to be upstaged by Uncle Sam!" Ruth Gillis, hatcheck gal at The Living Room, wasn't chosen as Sammy Kaye's vocalist because she's "not demure enough."

RUTH

Bobo Rockfeller's doctor put her on a diet . . . Claudette Colbert refused to do "Janus" in Los Angeles, explaining, "In California people don't go to plays—they go to previews" . . . Duo: Joli ("Mama") Gabor and textile man Jack Muntz.

Hal March, vacationing at the Concord Hotel, saw a line of guests' Cadillacs and remarked, "Hey, you must be getting all our losers". . . John Ireland and his wife, Joanne Dru, have sunk $250,000 into their Racquet Country Club in Phoenix.

Earl's Pearls. . .

A sound that is rapidly disappearing from the American home is that of the parental foot being put down.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "It isn't too hard to live on a small salary—if you don't spend too much of it trying to keep it a secret."—Texas Outlook.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: There's a local bookie who's doing so bad that lately he's playing Russian roulette with six bullets.

Martin Reber tells of the fashion-conscious young man who removed the safety seat belts from his car—and replaced them with suspenders. That's earl, brother.

Longer Shows Also Take Hold

Phil Silvers Emerges as New TV Star While Berle Wanes

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1955-56 television season is virtually over. Well, what are some of the important things that happened?

It was a season when dramas and musicals grew longer and the quiz programs became inflationary. It saw the emergence of a new star, Phil Silvers, and the waning of an old star, Milton Berle. A year ago many people were talking about Liberace and now not so many are talking about Liberace.

VIEWER PREJUDICES

Every viewer has his prejudices. To one, the most regrettable departure from the home screen was that of Jack Paar. To the same viewer the most heartily cheered departure was that of "The Stork Club." Television is both poorer and better because these programs are not with us.

A year ago "The $64,000 Question" was little more than a gleam in the eye of packager-producer Louis G. Cowan. Now the Cowan stable has three shows in high popularity: the big question, "The $64,000 Challenge," and "Big Surprise." The quiz virus has spread to the point where contesting for a mere $64,000 is small potatoes.

It was a big season for Shakespeare. Unless we're mistaken, he had more TV productions than any other serious dramatist among the living or the dead. The longest television program—and one of the best—was Sir Laurence Olivier's three-hour film version of "Richard III."

UNSURPASSED SHOW

In live TV drama "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial" by Herman Wouk was unsurpassed entertainment. But then you recall the re-run of "Peter Pan," starring Mary Martin, and you realize how dangerous such generalizations can be.

Last fall a quiet, pleasant fellow named Perry Como was sent into the time spot opposite the great Jackie Gleason. Everybody smiled sympathetically. But in one of those David and Goliath contests that always make TV exciting, Como bested Gleason in the ratings battle—and next season Gleason will change his format.

GROWING FAME

Names long popular were suddenly discovered to have great drawing appeal to the home audiences. One was Maurice Chevalier. Another was Dinah Shore; she, it was discovered, can handle a big show. And next season she'll be center stage on many more big shows. Another who made a big splash was Noel Coward.

There were many unshakeables. Ed Sullivan, continuing to lead with his left, knocked out two successive contenders—and soon will take on the redoubtable Steve Allen in the Sunday night ring.

Someone Tell the Man —It Just Ain't Legal

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP)—"No one ever stopped me," said 37-year-old Bernie Johnson, explaining how he managed to drive 20 years without a driver's license.

His home is in Asbury Park.

Briton Facing Security Woe

London Lawyer Loses Government Job Due to Mate's Past Red Ties

LONDON (AP)—Should a man be judged by the company he keeps? Can he be "guilty by association?"

John Lang, a lawyer who admits he is "crammed full of state secrets," was dismissed from his $14,000 a year job on the legal staff of Imperial Chemical Industries — because his wife in 1951 was a member of the Communist party. Mrs. Lang said she has lost all interest in communism and is now "absolutely out of sympathy with it."

Considerable sympathy for Lang has been expressed in the press. Members of Parliament were upset by the fact that, under government pressure, Lang was dismissed without an opportunity to appear before a tribunal.

Imperial Chemical released Lang after the government stated the firm would get no more contracts for any products on secret lists if Lang remained in a position to know details.

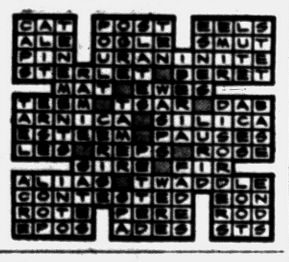

Tot Strangles to Death

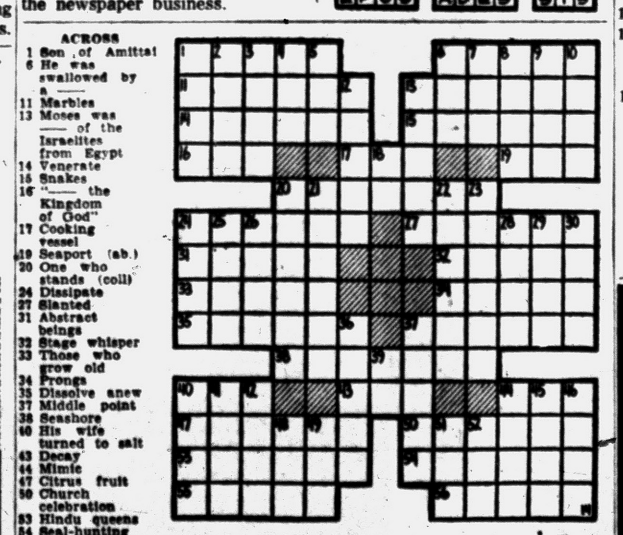

MANISTEE (AP)—Ruth Ann Powers, 1½ years old, strangled Tuesday when she became entangled in a rope swing in the backyard of her home at Brethren. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Powers.

C. of C. Official Named

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Clem Bement is new executive secretary of the Mount Pleasant Chamber of Commerce. He succeeds Norm Lyon, who resigned to return to the newspaper business.

Allegan Elder Dies

ALLEGAN (AP) — Hugh MacDougall, who served as Allegan County surveyor for 58 years, died Monday at the age of 83. He was first elected surveyor in 1898 and held the office until his death. He was believed to be the state's oldest elective official from point of service.

Laborites Win in Netherlands

Coalition With Catholics Proves Success; Reds Are Biggest Losers

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP)—Another Labor-Catholic coalition government headed by Socialist Premier Willem Drees appeared in prospect for the Netherlands today after the election of a new lower House of Parliament.

Both dominant political groups — the Dutch Labor party and the Catholic Peoples party — gained ground.

COMMIES LOSE SEATS

The Labor party gained four seats, boosting its total to 33. After electing 30 members in the 1952 elections, it had picked up two seats later by absorbing a right-wing Catholic party.

The Labor increase was seen as a personal victory for Drees. It was generally expected that Queen Juliana would ask him to form the new Cabinet with a Catholic as deputy premier.

School Bond Approved

HILLSDALE (AP)—The Jonesville School District has approved a $655,000 bond issue to build a 12-room grade school and a high school gym-auditorium. The vote was 484 to 191.

U.S. Debt Too Much for Anyone to Count

EAST LANSING (AP)—A Michigan State University mathematician says a man couldn't live long enough to count by ones the dollars in the national debt, which is roughly figured at $279,000,000,000.

Dr. J. S. Frame, head of the MSU mathematics department, said a man would have had to start before the pyramids were built to count up to 279 billion.

If you earned $1 a second 24 hours a day with no time off for Sundays or holidays, it would take 8,841 years to earn the amount of the debt.

A string of $1 bills totaling that amount would reach from the Treasury Building in Washington to the moon. And stacked on top of each other, 279 billion new $1 bills would be almost 25,000 miles high.

Two cannon balls from the siege of Yorktown, Va., are still imbedded in the walls of the Nelson House there. The owner himself, American General Thomas Nelson, ordered the shots fired, knowing that Lord Cornwallis was using the house as headquarters.

Foot by Foot Robbery Is Just One Big Joke

NEWTON, Mass (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. John F. Taplin returned home after a night out to find that 18 pairs of shoes were missing.

But two beds had been made, clothing had been taken from chairs and hung in closets, furniture was polished, upstairs and down, and vegetables which had been left at the door were in the refrigerator.

The Tapins notified police, but withdrew the "burglary" report when a neighbor "confessed" it had been done as a practical joke.

Private Arsenal

Probably the largest collection of weapons and firearms in the world belongs to Senor Miguel Mujica, president of the Club Nacional in Lima, Peru. His priceless collection contains over 7,000 rare pistols, rifles, knives, swords and other armaments dating back to the Spanish Conquistadores and Senor Mujica's mansion on the outskirts of Lima.

Take the Car Along

You can now take your automobile right along with you when you travel on several of Europe's crack railroad trains. According to a Pan American report, you can speed with your car on the "Car-Sleeper Limited" from London to Perth, Scotland, in ten hours instead of a two-day trip via the highway. Other piggy-back arrangements for you and your steed are available in Belgium, France, Scandinavia, Switzerland and Italy and Germany.
