13 Killed by Tornado

From Our News Wires

GREENWOOD, Ark. — A tornado that devastated this western Arkansas town yesterday killed at least 13 persons, police said today, as the search for additional victims resumed.

More than 270 persons were treated for injuries, either at hospitals in nearby Fort Smith or in an emergency medical center established in the library here, state police said.

The tornado swooped out of a spring thunderstorm at 2:23 p.m. yesterday and slammed into the business district, leveling about half of the buildings on the town square and heavily damaging most of the others.

It also slashed through residential neighborhoods on either side of the square as it cut a trail of destruction half a mile long and 200 feet wide.

"It's the roughest thing we ever had," said Mayor Ed Hall, who estimated that two-thirds of the town of 2,000 was destroyed.

A shuttle of ambulances carried the more seriously injured to Fort Smith, 18 miles to the north.

State Police Capt. Damon Wilson said the first search was not thorough and that he was fearful more bodies would be found today.

The heaviest damage was on the square, a cluster of two-story brick buildings, most of them more than half a century old.

The bell tower and third story of the ancient courthouse toppled into the street.

'JUST EXPLODED'

Wallace Gattis of nearby Barling, who was at an ice cream parlor when the storm struck, said, "the courthouse just exploded. It just popped out, like dynamite exploding."

Harold Davis of Greenwood said he drove into town minutes after the storm struck and saw people walking dazedly around the square.

"One woman was stumbling over fallen electrical wires," he said. "I yelled for her to be careful, but she just kept saying, 'Oh, my God. Oh, my God,' and went on."

A company of Marine reservists were called from weekend training at nearby Fort Chafee to guard against looting during the night.

TREATED IN CORRIDORS

The number of injured was such that many had to be treated in corridors at Fort Smith's Sparks Hospital, where most of the victims were taken.

The storm brushed through a residential area in southwest Greenwood before it slammed into the business district and then moved on to the northeast. Most of the dead were found in the first area hit.

Communications were knocked out and traffic jams developed on highways leading out of Greenwood, hampering rescue efforts.

N. Koreans Fire on U.N. Probers

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The U.N. Command charged that North Koreans opened fire on U.N. members of a joint observation team today in the Korean demilitarized zone.

The U.N. observers were conducting an on-the-spot investigation of an earlier shooting incident today in which North Koreans wounded an American soldier on patrol duty in the buffer zone, the command said.

It said two North Koreans were wounded in the exchange of fire which ensued.

A spokesman said the second shooting incident was brief and no one was hurt.

U.S. Rear Adm. John V. Smith accused the North Koreans of the two shooting incidents today at the 26th meeting of the joint Military Armistice Commission at the truce village of Panmunjom.

The command had called for a joint observation team investigation of the first shooting, but no Communist members showed up at the proposed time, Smith said.

Smith told the Communists that the shooting on observation team members was a continuation of recent North Korean efforts to destroy the functions of the armistice commission.

Sought in King Slaying

Escapee in 'Top 10'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Escaped convict James Earl Ray, sought as the alleged sniper slayer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was placed on the FBI's "most wanted" list today.

The FBI said yesterday a systematic search of its vast fingerprint files identified the 40-year-old Ray as phantom fugitive Eric Starvo Galt, charged in Tennessee with murdering King April 4.

The FBI action today added formality to what was already fact—the escapee from the Missouri state penitentiary is the nation's most intensely hunted man in years.

Ray was described as an avid dancer, a high school dropout, Army undesirable, a man who likes to drink beer and vodka, and who tugs his hair when he's nervous.

"Ray should be considered armed and extremely dangerous," the FBI said.

11TH MAN

The suspect is actually the 11th man placed on the traditional list of "10 most wanted fugitives," but the search for Ray obviously overshadows all others.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the 40-year-old white man was added to the list specially "to insure the widest possible dissemination of Ray's photograph and description to help effect his earliest possible location."

When Galt was left off the list at the time a 10th man was added Thursday, an FBI spokesman said the principal reason for listing fugitives was to "attract publicity for a guy you're looking for—and in this case there's been plenty of publicity."

The FBI said today Ray "has been the subject of a massive and intensive search" since the slaying of King 16 days ago in Memphis, Tenn.

'Offer to Hanoi Splits Officials'

NEW YORK (AP) — The Johnson administration is divided as the result of maneuvering over the selection of a site for preliminary negotiations with North Vietnam, the New York Times said today.

A Washington dispatch by Hedrick Smith said "administration sources have disclosed that top echelons of the State Department, apparently including Secretary of State Dean Rusk, were opposed to Thursday's proposal of 10 new sites for talks but were overruled by the White House."

Several officials have expressed misgivings privately, the story said, that the White House has apparently decided for the time being to match Hanoi in a propaganda battle that will be difficult to resolve without the aid of third parties.

Meanwhile, Johnson administration policymakers say the United States will consider any new sites Hanoi suggests.

This came after North Vietnam urged the United States today to accept Warsaw for peace talks, "so that preliminary contacts between the two sides may start soon."

The Nhan Dan editorial followed a statement by a North Vietnam foreign ministry spokesman which said the 10 new sites, proposed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, did not even meet U.S. conditions.

DEVASTATED TOWN—The town of Greenwood, Ark., is a scene of devastation two hours after a killer tornado cut a swath through the community of 2,000 yesterday. The tornado followed a path leading from lower center to upper left in the picture. At least 13 were killed and 270 injured by the twister. Searchers fear they will find more dead today.

Talks 'Nonpolitical,' Say Nixon, Romney

BY JIM LONG

Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Romney agreed last night that money alone will not solve the nation's urban problems.

The leading Republican contender for the presidency and the ex-candidate met for nearly three hours yesterday at the governor's home in Bloomfield Hills.

Both told newsmen at a press conference later that the meeting was non-political and only for the purpose of a "free expression of viewpoints."

Romney squelched reports that Nixon was there to seek his endorsement and a commitment of the Michigan delegation to the August GOP convention in Miami. "There was no discussion of Vietnam or, for that matter, anything political," said Romney.

'AGREED ON MANY THINGS'

Pointing out that he has and will continue to meet with Republican leaders during his campaign for the purpose of "getting together on principles," Nixon said that he and Romney "agreed on many things" during the talk.

When pressed for his views on the Vietnam situation, Nixon said that he felt that no public discussion on Vietnam by him or Romney would be appropriate at this time.

At his arrival at the Oakland-Pontiac Airport shortly before 6 p.m., where a crowd estimated at 150 persons greeted him, the former vice president explained that "the question is not our goal in Vietnam but how we can achieve that goal."

Nixon said that only one man — the President — can do anything about the war and "I'm not going to say anything that would criticize the President or do anything to undermine our chances in Vietnam."

'GREATEST CONCERN'

Though foreign policy was reviewed at the meeting, both men indicated that domestic problems were their greatest concern.

Nixon said that Romney had many ideas about city problems "and I believe many can be effective."

"We are both realists, and as realists, believe that remedies for cities through money is remote," added Nixon. "And it is wrong to keep telling people living in ghettos that all their problems will be solved with a massive outpour of money."

IN AGREEMENT

Romney said he was in accord with Nixon, and noted that communities must take part in establishing programs to assist people themselves.

He said both Pontiac and Flint have made great strides in this direction. He cited the program at Pontiac Motor Division where 369 "hard-core unemployed" have been hired as part of the plant's job-opportunity program.

Earlier in the day, Romney met with community leaders in Pontiac to find out what is being done about problems in the city.

PRASED ROMNEY

While declining to publicly urge anybody into the vice presidential spot on the Republican ticket, Nixon did praise Romney.

"Gov. Romney ran a very vigorous race for the nomination," Nixon said. "He made a decision not to continue in that race. But that decision — and I'm very thankful for this — did not take him out of politics."

"He is a very powerful force in the country and the Republican party," added Nixon.

Asked if he would find Gov. Romney acceptable as a vice presidential candidate with him, Nixon answered, "I'd be glad to be in a fight with Gov. Romney on my side anytime."

Following the news conference, Nixon left about 10:30 p.m. for Minneapolis where he was to address a joint convention of the Minnesota-North Dakota Young Republicans tonight.

Senate Cuts Defense Budget 3 Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, which voted earlier this year to trim federal spending by $8 billion, has extended its economy drive to the administration's massive defense budget.

But the $600-million reduction voted yesterday by a heavy 45 to 13 majority still left the military procurement authorization at a total of $21.3 billion, some $1.2 billion more than Congress appropriated last year.

After adopting the 3 per cent cut-off by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., which did not specify where the reductions would be, the Senate passed the bill 54 to 3 and sent it on to the House.

Voicing against it were three Democrats: Ernest Gruening of Alaska, Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin and Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

Mansfield, who took little part in the three-day debate which saw most efforts to cut the bill fail, then took the floor to denounce the bill — especially the $183.6 million for fast deployment logistic ships which had been held in the measure earlier by three votes.

'NOT WORLD'S POLICEMAN'

"If we build these ships," he told a nearly deserted Senate, "we will be regarded more than ever as the world's policeman. We are not the world's policeman. We do not have the resources or authority to tell anyone in the world what they shall do or not do."

"We are not even able to take care of the problems we have at home," Mansfield added.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., offered the amendment to eliminate the four ships, but it was defeated 31 to 28.

Clark also tried to slash the bill by $2.3 billion, a little more than 10 per cent. That lost 44 to 12 after Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., warned that even more money would be needed for procurement later in the year.

U.S. Planes Set Record for '68 N. Viet Missions

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes set a 1968 record for the second straight day yesterday as they flew 160 missions to blast supply targets in North Vietnam's southern panhandle.

American fliers had set a record for the year Thursday when they flew 145 missions, the largest number in nearly four months.

The Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots on yesterday's raids said they encountered light ground fire and evaded several antiaircraft missiles fired at them in the coastal area between Vinh and Dong Hoi.

They hit bridges, roads, trucks and supply points in the area left open to them under President Johnson's bombing curtailment order, designed to draw Hanoi into peace talks.

The northeast monsoon over North Vietnam is almost over and with the rapidly improving weather, the number of American air strikes is expected to increase unless the President orders further curtailment.

WELL BELOW RECORD

Although yesterday's 160 missions set a record for 1968, the number is well below the all-time Vietnam war record of 209 set last Aug. 19 before the monsoon season began.

No American planes were reported shot down, but in a weekly report the U.S. Command said 1,970 American warplanes had been lost in combat as of Tuesday — 823 over North Vietnam and 247 in the South.

Another 1,002 planes have been announced lost in accidents not involving direct enemy action.

The command also announced that 643 helicopters have been shot down, all but nine in South Vietnam, and another 920 choppers have been lost to nonhostile causes.

News Briefs From Our Wire

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market took a sharp setback yesterday in active trading. The market dipped after Federal Reserve Chairman William McChesney Martin Jr. warned the country was "in the midst of the worst financial crisis we have had since 1931."

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 11.56 points to 897.65.

OTTAWA (AP) — Pierre Elliott Trudeau becomes Canada's prime minister today in a changing of the guard within the ruling Liberal party. He is expected to call an election soon to seek a new mandate for the party.

Red Ship in LA Harbor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The first Russian ship to enter Los Angeles harbor in 19 years has taken on food and supplies but despite American permission for its crewmen to go ashore, none did. The Druzhni, a research ship, received U.S. State Department approval to dock in the harbor.

2 Firms for M16 Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has chosen two additional manufacturers to make the M16 rifle, until now produced only by Colt, Inc. The contractors named yesterday by the Army were Harrington and Richardson of Worcester, Mass., and Hydrant Division of General Motors Corp. in Ypsilanti, Mich. Reliance on a single producer was one of the grounds on which the Army was criticized during a prolonged investigation of the rifle program last year.

Rate Hike Asked by Consumers

Consumers Power Co. yesterday applied to the Michigan Public Service Commission for authorization to increase gas service rates.

The application did not specify how much of an increase the company was seeking.

A. H. Aymond, chairman of the board of directors, said the amount requested would depend on the "level of costs prevailing when the Public Service Commission conducts its hearings."

Aymond said the company — which serves 770,000 customers in 37 Michigan counties — has not increased rates since 1961 and lowered rates in 1962 and 1964.

The board chairman said higher costs of money, labor and materials, higher taxes and an increase in the cost of natural gas makes a rate increase necessary.

Aymond said, "The effect of continuing inflation has reached a point where we can no longer absorb higher costs without an increase in gas rates."

2 Youths Killed, Five Injured in Washington Twp. Crash

Two Warren youths were killed in a car accident last night when the automobile they were in ran a stop street in Washington Township and was struck broadside by another car.

Dead are Rubin A. Jones, 19, and Victor J. Grabowskas, 18.

Romeo State police said Jones was driving east on 28 Mile Road about 11:30 p.m. when his car ran a stop street at Van Dyke.

A southbound auto, driven by Roger Cook, 18, 8191 Pilgrim, Washington Township, rammed into Jones' car, officers said.

A passenger in Jones' car, Peggy Bouk, 16, of 8066 Dawn, Utica, was injured and is in poor condition today at Crittenton Hospital in Rochester.

FOUR HOSPITALIZED

Cook and three passengers — Richard Wheelles, 16, of 58236 Ruth Jean, Washington Township, his sister, Gae, 15, and Christine A. Kalich, 16, of Mount Clemens — were injured and taken to Crittenton Hospital. All are in fair condition today.

Officers said the impact spun Jones' car into a third auto driving north on Van Dyke. The driver was not injured.

Pact Goes to Wixom Company

State Bows on Road Contract

LANSING (AP) — Acting with obvious distaste, the State Administrative Board bowed yesterday to the U.S. government and awarded a $1.07-million highway contract to Holloway Construction Co., 28250 S. Wixom, Wixom.

Approval of the controversial contract, before the board since Jan. 16, had been delayed four times while the state fought with the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads over whether to award it to Holloway.

The federal agency had said it would withhold its 90 per cent share of the project, involving construction of 1.9 miles of I-75 in Arenac County, unless Holloway, the low bidder, got the job.

The state board took the unusual step of drawing up and approving a formal resolution which gave Holloway the contract but called on the State Highway Department to watch the company carefully.

While trying to avoid awarding Holloway the contract, the state board said in letters to the federal agency.

Holloway was prominently mentioned in Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley's 1967 report on the Highway Department as a firm which had received favored treatment and illegal overpayments from the state on past projects.

"The state 'has had continuous difficulty' in getting Holloway to repay money paid on the basis of preproject estimates but later found unwarranted."

It was recently discovered "that the statement of assets and liabilities filed with the Highway Department is widely divergent from similar statements which were filed with the Michigan taxing authorities."

Kelley and Gov. Romney have petitioned for a one-man grand jury to investigate the Highway Department and "various contractors."

WINNING COSTUME — Sculptor Marshall Fredericks makes some final adjustments in the attire of his statue "Friends-Big and Little," as Susan Valentine, designer, watches. Susan, a Quorton sixth grader, was named the victor in the elementary school's contest yesterday.

Girl in Sixth Grade Wins Quorton School Contest

BIRMINGHAM — Susan Valentine, a sixth grader at Quorton School, has been named the winner in the contest to design a costume for the Marshall Fredericks statue "Friends — Big and Little," located in the Children's Garden at the school.

Fredericks announced the winning designer at a school program yesterday afternoon.

After being introduced by Quorton Principal Miss Marjorie Tate, she presented Susan with a bronze replica of a mouse from his statue at Eastland Center.

Fredericks also presented autographed photographs of "Friends — Big and Little" to four runners-up, Sara Bosky, fifth grade; Tom Curtis, second grade; Ann Fleckenstein, kindergarten; and Jim Wallbridge, fourth grade.

The statue now features a reversible cape — gold felt on one side, yellow vinyl on the other — with a matching cone-shaped hat. Mrs. Carl Blauman Jr. made the costume from the winning design.

Judges for the contest were Mrs. E. E. Andrews, Mrs. Blauman, Mrs. Merritt Hulburd, Carleton C. Patterson Jr., and Fredericks. All contestants were students at Quorton School.

Chairman of the contest committee was Mrs. Walter J. McCarthy. She was assisted by Mrs. Richard P. Tarbox, Mr. and Mrs. Earle D. Lyon and Mrs. Horatio B. Lewis II.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Two residents of this city have received promotions at Ford Motor Co.

Matthew S. McLaughlin, a vice president of the company, has been appointed general manager of the Lincoln-Mercury Division.

He will succeed E. F. Laux, 2543 Indian Mound, Bloomfield Township, who has been named vice president — sales group for the company's North American automotive operations.

McLAUGHLIN

NAUGHTON

John B. Naughton, 1360 Trowbridge, has been elected a vice president and appointed general manager of the Ford Division, replacing McLaughlin. Naughton was assistant general manager of the division.

McLaughlin joined Ford in 1946. A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, he has held a number of positions in the company's sales organization.

Naughton, a graduate of Xavier University, Cincinnati, was vice president — marketing and planning for Ford of Canada before joining Ford Division in 1957.

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham YMCA will hold an open house April 27-28, planning committee chairman Howard Tuttle has announced.

All portions of the building will be open for inspection by the general public. In addition, activities will be conducted.

On Saturday, the semifinals and finals of the state YMCA class A volleyball tournament will be held, and on Sunday, demonstrations will be given by the Y's judo club and gymnastics team.

Also, exhibits of other programs and of the proposed new Y facilities will be on display.

The Y will begin a fund drive May 1, with a goal of $80,000 to finance additions and improvements to the present building, located at 400 W. Lincoln.

The bulk of the funds will go to provide a swimming pool, costing $50,000. Other planned facilities include a multipurpose room, a health club room and four handball courts.

Charley Gehring, former Detroit Tiger all-star, has been named to head the drive.

Boys Butchered; Janitor, 18, Held

BALTIMORE (AP) — The bodies of four youngsters were found yesterday afternoon in a clump of woods in a Baltimore park, murdered and mutilated. Police have arrested an 18-year-old janitor who led them to the bodies. No charges have been placed as yet.

The neighborhood in the area of Gwynns Falls Park, where the bodies were found, has been plagued with reports of missing children and molesting in recent weeks.

The teen-aged suspect was spotted by suspicious area residents late yesterday morning and reported to police. He ran when police approached him, but was captured after a short chase.

After several hours of questioning he led police to the grisly scene. Police said the suspect was carrying a lunch box in which there was parts of human bodies.

There was no attempt to hide or bury the bodies, police reported.

Three vehicles under the command of Assistant Chief Albert Rayner responded to the alarm and were at the scene until 5:30.

Some $5,000 of the damage was to the building itself, the rest to contents, firemen said.

Junior Editors Quiz on ELECTRIC BULB

QUESTION: What's inside an electric light bulb?

ANSWER: The little men running across the top of our picture are symbols of electrons passing at great speed through an electric wire. This movement of electrons is the electric current.

Some metals, such as copper, will conduct the current easily. Other kinds of wire will resist the current so that it has to force its way through, which is what the little men in the center are doing. They make so much heat forcing their way through that the wire becomes white hot and gives off light. This is how an incandescent electric light works.

Look inside the large bulb at left and you will see a glass pedestal with two wires at each side and a little wavy wire across the top between them.

An electric current passes easily up one of the side wires and easily down the other, but it has to fight its way across the wiggly wire at the top, which is made of a material to partly resist the current. So, this cross wire gets white hot, and this is what makes the lamp give off light.

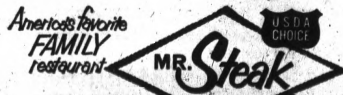

It was Thomas A. Edison who made the first practical light bulb in 1879.

...and kids like Mr. Steak, too

Once they've been there, you won't find the small fry dragging their heels when you mention having dinner (or lunch) at Mr. Steak. It's fun for the kiddies to watch their dinners being prepared and they love Mr. Steak's friendly face. A funny thing, most parents leave Mr. Steak feeling that their own ones brought them out to dinner.

Freedom Stirs in Czechoslovakia

If eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, it is just as true that constant watchfulness is the price of totalitarianism.

Czechoslovakia is a nation walking a precarious tightrope, trying to maintain a balance between oppressive dictatorship on the one side and heady freedom on the other, between Russian domination and runaway nationalism, between devotion to Marxist economic dogma and flirtation with the practices of capitalism.

Events in that Iron Curtain country in recent months have been given prominence in the Western press.

First, Antonin Novotny, 63, Stalinist-type party boss, was thrown out along with a raft of lesser officials in a revolt engineered within the party hierarchy itself and replaced by younger, reform-minded Communists headed by Alexander Dubcek, 46.

In its lately promulgated "action program," the new-look party has moved to curb the powers of the secret police, guarantee the right of citizens to travel freely abroad and give legal status to certain political parties other than the Communist party.

Except for the police measure, however, the innovations are not as startling as they appear when baldly stated.

The easing of travel restrictions is partly designed to enable Czechoslovaks to find jobs in labor-hungry Western Europe and to send home needed foreign currency. As for political diversity, the party has made it plain that it will not tolerate political opposition in the Western sense.

Yet a gentle but steady breath of freedom does seem to be sweeping through Czechoslovakia. The man in the street definitely feels it, say Western journalists.

It would be a mistake to exaggerate these faint stirrings of democracy in Czechoslovakia. But little breezes, even if they don't kick up into real winds, can make tightrope walking a very chancy business indeed.

Libraries Are Depositories of Man's Learning

Tomorrow ushers in the observance of National Library Week. The purpose of it is to encourage the development of lifetime reading habits as the foundation of a better informed people.

Within our libraries are stored all the wonders of the world's literature. Scientific and technical knowledge, philosophy, economics, art, politics—every area of imaginable interest—await the exploring mind.

When man learned to record his accomplishments, permanently storing the sum of his knowledge, progress became a cumulative thing, each generation building upon the progress of the past.

Without this, we would very likely still be living in caves. Mankind must summon the wisdom of the ages and harness technologies yet unborn to build a peaceful and a better world for the future.

Our libraries are a basic tool of learning for each of us—a priceless asset to a nation that would set its feet upon the path of leadership in a complex and changing world.

Solon Sees Through Smoke-Abatement Screen

It's always heartening to see a duly-elected servant of the people evince deep interest in the welfare of his constituency—even though the interest affects but a slim minority of those he represents.

Rep. Lloyd Hulse, the first Indian ever to sit in the Arizona legislature, opposed a "smoke abatement" measure because of his reservation that it would prevent Indians from sending smoke signals.

We think the lawmaker has seized on a pretty burning issue, and congratulate him on having smoked out the threat to his redskin voters.

Incidentally, we wonder whether they vote by smoke signal.

Consider Where U.N. Has Gone

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

After nearly a quarter century of effort to make the United Nations work for the good of all mankind, it is time to take stock, to consider in all frankness just where the UN has gone.

Vietnam is, of course, the United Nations' greatest failure. Here was an opportunity, as never presented before, to keep the promise made in the preamble to the UN charter—"to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war."

Yet we are in the midst of a terrible war. Look at what has gone before.

I was in Lebanon in 1945 when the call came for an assembly in San Francisco of nations of the world in the interests of creating a lasting peace. The assembly, the call told us, would be known as the United Nations.

The foreign minister of Lebanon was a professor of electrical engineering in the American University at Beirut. He and I talked with great hope of the possibility of organizing a world charter that would address itself particularly to the question of maintaining world peace.

After weeks of discussion in San Francisco, the job was done and the charter was signed and then ratified. And the language of the charter—its meaning—stirred the peoples of the earth.

Since then, things we never imagined have happened throughout the world. Berlin was blockaded, there was a war in Korea, there have been three wars in the Middle East. There is war in Vietnam.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt is gone. Winston Churchill is gone. Joseph Stalin is gone. The U.N. is still there. It is still a world organization, bigger and more representative of nations than ever. But look what has happened to it.

The late Arthur Vandenberg, who was a delegate to San Francisco, said at the time that the U.N. could be made to work if both the United States and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics undertook to make it work.

The answer 23 years later is that the U.N. has succeeded as a peace-keeping power only on issues where the U.S. and Russia were more or less in agreement.

In those cases where the U.S. and the USSR did not see eye to eye, the U.N. has proved to be less than effective.

The idea of a Security Council veto and reliance in the big powers to make the U.N. work has been the death of the U.N. because, beginning soon after and ever since, the USSR has used the veto 104 times, if not more.

The U.S. Supreme Court has been riding herd on the issue of one man, one vote, but nothing like that appears with in the U.N., where a country with, comparatively, a handful of people has a voice equal to the voice of the United States with more than 200 million people.

The 123 member nations who have voting power in the U.N. charter. Some of the voices in the U.N. contend that it has no such way to achieve their own desires in opposition to the good of all.

The U.S. pays about 32 percent of the cost of keeping the U.N. in business. What about India and the Soviet Union? Why don't they pay a proportionate share? How is the U.N. to be kept solvent on such a basis?

It fairly makes you grit your teeth when you recollect that the U.S. had to bail the U.N. out to the tune of $15 million for the expenses of the expeditionary force to the Middle East and $10 million for policing the Congo.

And look what has happened to take the promise out of that glorious language of the U.N. charter. Some of the voices in the U.N. contend that it has no authority to intervene in Vietnam.

Yet, Article One of the charter says—"The purposes of the United Nations are, 1) To maintain international peace . . . and to take effective collective measures for the prevention and removal of threats to the peace . . ."

As we contemplate the sad plight of the crew of the Pueblo, still in North Korean hands, the war in Vietnam and the resurgence of hostilities in the Middle East, we have to ask ourselves the question: What has happened to the United Nations?

It has not kept the peace. (The Carl R. Rife Co. Syndicate)

The POWER of FAITH

By WOOD IISHMAEL

"They that go down to the sea in ships, that do business in great waters; These see the works of the Lord, and his wonders in the deep." Psalm 107, 23-24.

Commodore Leroy J. Alexanderson, Master of the U.S. United States, the fastest luxury liner on the high seas, has for 40 years seen and known the "works of the Lord." Of those years, 38 were spent as an officer in the Merchant Marine and in the U.S. Navy, where he is a Rear Admiral in the Reserve.

In his dedication to the sea he has also been dedicated to man's safety at sea. As in a foxhole there are no atheists, so he believes it is on the bridge of a ship. "When going into an unknown port or traveling in a dense fog one must have faith, and there is someone at my side."

A loyal Catholic and family man, the Commodore says that the love and devotion of an understanding wife have much to do with the success of a man at sea, for such a wife makes sure that nothing detours him from his duty and his concern for his ship, his passengers and crew. Commodore Alexanderson knows, as do all great men of the sea, that there is a power greater than themselves that sees them through. It is the power of faith.

Confident Living:

Develop Philosophical Attitude

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

It took a woman in Philadelphia to discover how to be calm and confident in upsetting circumstances. Her experience highlights something about making difficult decisions.

"I returned from work one day," she writes, "to find that my apartment had been ransacked. I live alone."

"Everything in the desk in the living room had been strewn on the floor. Closets in the living room and bedroom had been thoroughly searched, and in general the apartment looked as if a cyclone had blown through."

"While waiting for the police I opened my mail. The first piece of mail was from the apartment owner announcing a new lease and raise in rent. I looked around again at the mess and realized I was being very ungrateful."

"The next piece of mail was from your Foundation for Christian Living and contained three booklets: 'Never Let Anything Get You Down,' 'You Can Have Confidence,' and 'Peace and Quiet in a Noisy World.'"

"I read the booklet and repeated the concluding words of the prayer: 'With God's help nothing can get me down.' I thanked God for taking care of me. And I reflected that even if the robber had taken a few valuables I still had the ability to think and to give thanks for my blessings."

"It taught me the lesson that the few material things I have mean nothing compared with the ability to take it in my stride."

Now this is a real experience out of real life—a case of fast rebound from the shock of a disgusting experience. But it points up the need of having a philosophy for handling difficulties.

Everybody is going to have difficulties from time to time and perhaps a few of the time. That's just the way it is in this world. And it will help a lot to get philosophical about things.

Your chance for success and happiness will be affected by how you meet difficulties. The question is: Are you going to let them dominate, frustrate or defeat you?

Are you going to allow them to embitter you or maybe even completely bowl you over? Or will you think and react in such a manner as to get firmly on top of difficulties so you can handle them constructively and skillfully?

When difficulties gang up, a person with no real philosophy to equate with them tends to feel that he is up against something real rough. And his apprehensive and defeatist state of mind may render him incapable of thinking clearly or acting intelligently.

He may even start hating certain people for having caused his difficulties or maybe futilely blame society or the government for letting such things happen. Of course, such irrational resentment becomes a major obstacle to clearing up the situation.

In fact, it only attracts further difficulties because he is not thinking, only reacting.

But the person with a soundly philosophical attitude, on the other hand, meets difficulty with the greatest positive factor. A philosopher is a man who has done some basic thinking about life.

One fact he knows—a fact of paramount importance—is that, come what may, there is always something to be thankful for. For one thing his illimitable capacity to endure and overcome—his quality is built into every human being. And usually, in addition, he has more material resources which have not been damaged than he thinks.

He also knows that a difficulty may often prove to be much less serious than it appears on first impact.

The individual who knows the score about life sees difficulties as opportunities. From them he learns some things that make him stronger and more capable.

Having it too soft does not teach anyone anything. It only tends to soften up one even more. Difficulties to struggle with may off in toughness-up personality. Disraeli said it well: "Difficulties constitute the best education in this life."

Be a philosopher and a nothing can ever get you down.

Cycle of Civilizations Not Seen as Inevitable

From the editorial page of the Fort Myers (Florida) Press, "The average age of the world's great civilizations has been 200 years. These nations progressed through this sequence: from bondage to spiritual faith, from spiritual faith to great courage, from courage to liberty, from liberty to abundance, from abundance to selfishness, from selfishness to complacency, from complacency to apathy, from apathy to dependence, from dependence back to bondage. The cycle is not inevitable, it depends on you."

Answers Recent Letter on Care of Elderly

In answer to the lady who had visited a local nursing home, her words "cast away" have various meanings. Some are "cast away" to prevent them from getting afire, and others from wandering off and getting lost. Some are "cast away" because they have a registered nurse at all times at the nursing home to give them proper medical care. All elderly are not the same to care for. Some elderly strangers much better than their own folks. Many nursing homes give patients good care. How nice it would be if our nursing homes could have some of the millions of dollars spent trying to reach the moon.

Young Authors to Hear Outstanding Storyteller

Bill Martin Jr., who is considered one of America's outstanding storytellers in addition to being a successful writer and editor of children's books, will address the second Young Author's Conference at Oakland University Monday.

More than 700 youngsters from about 150 elementary schools in southeastern Michigan have won invitations to the conference through competition in their individual classrooms.

They were selected by their classmates, not their teachers, on the basis of their skills and originality in putting together books containing their own writings.

Martin's portion of the all-day program, a rather adult lecture to be given at 9:45 a.m. and 1 p.m. in Matilda R. Wilson Hall auditorium, will be the highlight of the day. He will talk on creative writing.

The pupils also will split up into groups, taking over 42 university classrooms, for writing sessions.

Martin has written 18 children's books. He is an editor of elementary classroom materials for Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc.

He was formerly the star of "The Storyteller," which was broadcast for many years over educational television stations throughout the country.

Vietcong Using Poisonous Snakes as Weapon

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The Vietcong used a poisonous snake called the bamboo viper to boobytrap their caves against pursuing U.S. soldiers, an Army major said today.

The snakes—three to four feet long—are hung from the cave's ceiling by the tails, which agitate them and makes them more likely to bite, said Maj. James A. Vik, a pharmacologist at the Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington.

The Southeast Asian theater of operation has seven poisonous snakes in all and they constitute a strong psychological factor for American troops, Vik said in a speech for the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

The worst, and one of the most venomous in the world, is the blue krait in Vietnam. This small, bluish-black snake is barely four feet long and injects only a small amount of venom. But it is so potent that it can kill a monkey in 10 to 12 minutes.

Of the 50, perhaps five were fatal, he said. Vik, who has not been to Vietnam, said that the Army may send experts to study the snake situation.

The trouble with the standard antivenoms, useful against U.S. snakes, is that they are not effective enough against the Asian snakes. Vik said that the venoms of the Asian snakes, the Army hopes to have antivenom against all of them within a year.

Besides the krait and the bamboo viper, the troops encounter the Indian cobra, the king cobra, the fer de lance and the habu. The two cobras rate just behind the krait in deadliness, their bites almost always fatal, their manners aggressive and their size the largest, running to 12 feet long. The troops do not usually encounter the sea snake which inhabits the beach areas of Vietnam.

DRY POWDER
Workers at Walter Reed have reduced venoms from Asia to dry powders and use them to inject monkeys in order to chart the potency and the ways in which they kill.

One of the first and most severe effects is depression of the respiratory system. But when doctors counteracted this with drugs and artificial respiration they found that the venoms also attacked the heart.

For the snake-bitten soldier, the bite of any of the six land snakes means usually that he will be unable to walk within a half hour. The bites are extremely painful and the venom quickly depresses the heart rate and blood pressure.

Victims are taken to an aid station by helicopter. The bite is cut open, suction used to draw out the poison and a tourniquet applied loosely to restrict the spread. Then antivenom is given if it is available, and sometimes steroid hormones, useful in fighting inflammation, are administered, Vik said.

THE VERY BEST SERVICE IN THE WORLD

Joey Pins Success to a Long Initial Contract

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"If I hadn't had a 30-week contract, I wouldn't be on the air today," says Joey Bishop, who is alive and thriving on late-night ABC. The first anniversary of Bishop's brave foray into Carson country, was Wednesday and he received a handsome anniversary present from the network: a 39-week extension of his contract, putting his show into the fall of 1969.

Between celebrations, the sardonic comic paused to reflect on the events of his year of entertaining the insomniacs. A veteran of four rugged years with a weekly series, he takes a realistic view of the television rate-card.

"If I had only a 26-week contract with ABC, I'm sure the network would have dropped me," he reasoned. "When you're set for only 26 weeks, that means that the executives will be making their decisions during the first 13 weeks. That could have been fatal for me."

SLOW STARTER

The Bishop show was a slow starter. Reviews of the opening performance were generally unfavorable, and Joey thinks he knows why.

"Everyone who does this kind of show begins quietly," he said. "Jack Paar started very slow."

ly so did Merv Griffin and Johnny Carson; Mike Douglas began in Cleveland, for heaven's sake. They were able to break in without too much attention, and they gradually built and held their audiences.

"But with me: For six months there had been talk about what I was going to do. Finally I went to the air, and the critics and viewers were told: This is what you've been waiting for! There was bound to be some hostility."

"I was against selling the show; I thought it was a mistake to come on too strong. I this campaign to build an audience wasn't aided by a network strike which kept his show off the air for three weeks; the rating dropped while reruns played. But then the show started to climb. The Johnny Carson show on NBC continues to top the ratings, but ABC officials are eminently satisfied with Joey's performance, as evidenced by this week's renewal.

Bishop obviously enjoys his work. "Without being too hammy about it, I would say that the show is in being able to do some good for humanity," he remarked. "Like when an orphanage notified us that tickets to its benefit were selling poorly."

Explorers Sitting on Top of the World

CHICAGO (AP) — A weary team of amateur explorers was on top of the world today, the first men to reach the North Pole by surface travel since 1909.

"We're all very tired and very happy," said the leader of the six-man expedition, Ralph Plaisted, via radio connection with the Associated Press.

The team, undaunted after their unsuccessful attempt last year, reached the pole Friday at 4 p.m. EST—after a 44-day, 474-mile trek across the polar ice cap.

Plaisted said the North Pole looked no different from the massive ice cap the team traveled over by gasoline-powered vehicles to get there.

"It's strictly a geographic location," he said, "and it's cold, too. The temperature is 23 degrees below. We're camped on a large block of ice."

The party planned to spend at least a day at the pole to allow a U.S. Air Force weather reconnaissance plane to confirm their position and take pictures.

A spokesman for the Selz organization, a Chicago public relationship firm which acted as contact for the expedition, said four members of the six-man party covered the final 10 miles to the pole in 1909.

The point was 200 miles closer to the pole than the starting point for Plaisted's unsuccessful 58-day attempt last year.

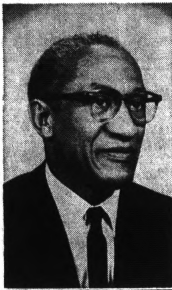

Severe weather delayed this year's party during the first half of its trek and it did not reach the halfway point until April 5. At that time they were encountering large spaces of open water which delayed them.

Improved weather and surface conditions permitted the last rapid run to the pole.

CELEBRATE EASTER—"Christ Is Risen" is the salutation Chris Verros of 610 Sheffield and Lori Tsaknis of 2801 Kopson, Bloomfield, will say to the Rev. Gus Tsompanas as they crack eggs with him following Resurrection Divine Liturgy early tomorrow morning. The Rev. Tsompanas will respond with "Truly He Is Risen." Members will greet each other Easter morning at St. George Greek Orthodox Church with the breaking of hard-boiled eggs, an ancient custom of the Greek Orthodox Church.

At St. George Orthodox Church

Greeks Celebrate Easter

One of the most symbolic and beautiful Easter customs of the Greek Orthodox people is the preparing, giving and eating of eggs. The eggs are dyed on Holy Thursday.

The resurrection service at midnight in St. George Greek Orthodox Church will be followed by the Resurrection Divine Liturgy at 1 a.m. tomorrow.

At the close of Divine Liturgy the eggs will be blessed and distributed to the congregation by the Rev. Gus Tsompanas, pastor.

Members will then go about greeting one another and hitting the eggs together. Upon the cracking of the eggs the words "Christ Is Risen" are said by the one whose eggs are cracked. The other then replies "Truly He Is Risen."

A vesper service is scheduled for 4 in the afternoon.

The cracking of the eggs means the seal of the tomb is broken and Christ is risen.

The eating of the eggs at Easter is symbolic of breaking Lent, since dairy and meat products are avoided in a strict fast during Holy Week.

EGG - A SYMBOL

The idea of the egg as a symbol of fertility and of renewed life goes back to the ancient Egyptians. One of the earliest known use of the egg in religion was in connection with the Egyptian sun god Ra.

The Egyptians colored the eggs red because it was the closest color they had to the color of the sun. The shell represented the earth, the whites represented the heavens, and the yolk portrayed the sun.

In Christianity the Easter egg represents the sealed tomb in which the body of Jesus Christ was placed after His crucifixion. The egg while being dormant contains a new life sealed within it.

According to Pastor Tsompanas, tradition tells us the custom of the Easter egg had its start with Mary Magdalene. After the Ascension of Christ she went to the emperor of the Roman Empire and greeted him with "Christ Is Risen" as Christ was wrapped before placing it in the sepulchre.

Red symbolizes the blood of Christ redeeming the world, and our regeneration through the blood shed for us by Christ, the Rev. Mr. Tsompanas said.

Light colors such as white, ivory or tan represent the fine linen cloth in which the body of Resurrection.

Purple represents the joy of Christ resurrected.

Solemn worship services are scheduled in the Albanian, Bulgarian, Carpatho - Russian, Greek, Russian, Romanian, Serbian and Ukrainian Orthodox churches one week later this year than other Christian churches.

observance. Here are Marc and Donna, children of Dr. and Mrs. Irving Friedman of West Bloomfield Township. Dr. Friedman hid the matzoh from the children. The family are members of the New Temple with services held in the Unitarian Church every Friday at 8:30 p.m.

'Hospital Wards Will Disappear'

NEW YORK (UPI) — The long lines of beds in wards of present day hospitals will disappear from modern institutions according to Robert W. Murphy, director of hospital planning for the Catholic Medical Center of Brooklyn and Queens.

In plans for three new hospital projects of the 300-million center, Murphy says, no adult rooms will have more than two beds, thus affording the patients the Catholic Medical Center of privacy and a new sense of dignity.

Certain Insult to Guests if You Do This

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Dear Mrs. Post: Some former neighbors from another state will weekend with us soon. They are fine people whom we like very much. Our apartment is small and to make them as comfortable as possible we will give them the master bedroom.
My husband's highboy in this room has several small drawers in which he keeps his antique watch collection and several other items of value — too many to be stored elsewhere temporarily. My husband plans to lock the drawers which house his valuables.

I feel that if our friends find the drawers locked they will consider it an implication that we suspect they could be tempted to take something and feel terribly hurt. What is the proper thing to do? — Mrs. N.

Dear Mrs. N.: You are right — it would be positively insulting to your friends if you lock the drawers and they would have every right to feel hurt. To put your husband's mind at ease ask him to remove the most valuable pieces in his collection.

When your friends arrive say "Bob has left some of his things in those drawers but I have emptied the others for you." They will probably never open "his" drawers but even if they do I am sure they wouldn't think of touching his treasured watches.

DIFFICULTY

Dear Mrs. Post: I have often observed that when a man and woman approach a door the man holds the door open and lets the woman pass through first. Since it is such a strain for me not to hold open the door but also to squeeze myself against it so as to leave enough room for the woman to pass through.

I handle the problem by going through first and then holding open the door for the lady. Am I doing the right thing? — Roger

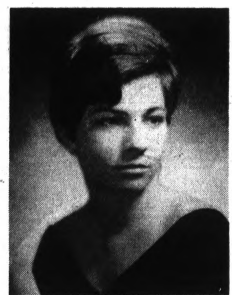

Dear Roger: Yes you are doing the right thing. A man should open a light door or one that stays open itself and stand aside to let the woman pass through. But if the door is heavy or hard to hold, he opens it, steps through and holds it for his companion.

YWCA Will Hold Racial Discussions to Ease Tensions

NEW YORK (AP) — The Young Women's Christian Association has announced that it will begin a discussion program to help ease racial tensions in communities around the nation.

Mrs. Robert W. Clayton of Grand Rapids, Mich., the first Negro to head the 2.2-million-member organization, said some 5,000 interracial YWCA "dialogue groups" will be set up Wednesday to bring together community persons of various racial groups and philosophies — including "constructive militants."

She said that the organization believed some action should be taken to allay fears and attempt to prevent riots that have beset the nation.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hart of Three Rivers announce the betrothal of their daughter, Carolyn Kay, to Jerome Emory Carter. He is the son of Mrs. George W. Carter of Coventry Street and the late Mr. Carter. The bride elect is a senior at Michigan State University. Her fiancé has attended Central Michigan University and Oakland Community College. Vows are slated June 15.

Clue Your Niece In on This Man She'll Be Able to Take It From There

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I don't know if I have a problem or not. My next door neighbor is a sweet young woman who comes over quite often as her husband frequently "works" nights and she doesn't like to be alone. I am a widow, and I love having her, so that's not the problem.

But the other day I visited my niece in a nearby town, and who should be her guest for the evening, but my neighbor's husband! He had seen me only when I'm throwing my trash out in the alley, so he didn't recognize me all dressed up with my "face" on.

Should I tell my niece about him? Should I tell his wife? Or should I approach her husband? Or should I just keep my mouth shut?

WANTS TO KNOW

DEAR WANTS: Tell your niece that you "think" her friend is your neighbor's husband and let her take it from there.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been happily married for four years, although thus far we have not been blessed with the children we both wanted right away.

After a year, I saw my physician, and he assured me that I was perfectly normal, and he could find no reason why I couldn't conceive. (He is a specialist in this field, and gave me all the tests.)

After another year, and no baby, more tests were made. My doctor's conclusions were the same, only this time he asked me to have my husband come in for similar tests.

Lassies Unlimited for Rich Suitor in Need of a Wife

DUNDEE, Scotland (UPI) — The Lord Provost of Dundee, concluded today Scotland has plenty of compassionate redheads and blondes, aged 18 to 27.

MacKenzie said today he had received more than 350 letters from Scottish girls responding to Andrews' offer.

In his letter Andrews said he had inherited $105,000 from an aunt of Scottish descent, who asked that he marry a girl from Scotland. Andrews said he was looking for "compassionate redhead or blonde" aged 18 to 27.

Mrs. Robert (Connie) Anderson of Bloomfield Hills, wife of a busy industrialist and mother of two college students, was among those receiving bachelor degrees from Oakland University today. In 1963 filing her freshman application "she didn't think she would get in." Over the past few years in addition to her roles of wife, mother and student this energetic history major has been a member of the OU Foundation Board of Trustees, Meadow Brook Festival Committee, and co-chairman of the Meadow Brook Theatre Community Leadership Committee this season.

Abby, when I suggested this, my husband hit the ceiling and said, "There is nothing wrong with me — I am man enough for any woman," etc. . . .

We are still childless, after four years, and my husband still refuses to see a doctor. I have tried to tell him that even if he were found to be sterile, it wouldn't reflect on his so-called "manhood," but that hasn't helped.

Have you any suggestions as to how I can get him to change his mind about seeing a doctor?

STILL HOPING

DEAR STILL: You probably can't, and any urging you may do in that direction will only toughen his resistance. Get someone else to talk to him — preferably a medically trained person.

DEAR ABBY: I had to laugh at that letter from the husband who complained because over the years he'd bought his wife so many beautiful sheer nightgowns but she just kept them in their original boxes and wore old faded flannel ones instead.

I have been wearing gorgeous sheer, sexy nighties for years (I buy them myself) and when a friend complained to my husband recently because HIS wife wore nothing but flannel pajamas to bed, I mentioned what I wore, and my husband said, "Yeah, that's why she has so many colds."

Concert Set, as Scholarship Fund Drive

A benefit performance by two musical groups from the Pontiac area will help raise funds for the Isaac Jones scholarship fund at Oakland University. Jones, who was killed February 3, was the first Negro graduate of OU.

The Afrikan Folk Ensemble and the John Guthrie Jazz Trio will present a program Sunday at the Birmingham Community House, beginning at 7 p.m. The concert is sponsored by the social justice committee of Birmingham Unitarian Church. Members of the Afrikan Folk Ensemble are Jerry LaDuff, Don Price, Melvin Price, Dick Branner, Ricky Northcross and Ahmed Shabbazz. Mattie Russell is vocalist. All are from Pontiac.

Julius McGuire, Don Price and John Guthrie comprise the jazz trio.

Tickets are available from Mrs. Wilford K. Payne of Birmingham or at the door.

Miss Myers Fed at Bridal Showers

A number of showers have been given recently for bride elect Irene Rose Myers who will marry Hospitalman George Dean Walsh, USN April 28.

Mrs. Charles Shearer entertained in her home on Mechanic Street for a shower of personal items. A linen shower was given by Mrs. Lester Oakley Jr. of Levee Street.

A miscellaneous shower is planned Wednesday in the Hi-Dale Drive home of Mrs. Cletus Ledford.

The bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lance Myers of Harrisburg, Ill. will be here for the wedding.

Provide Tools for Hand Care

If you want the men in your family to have well-groomed hands, it's up to you to provide the proper hand-care equipment.

Supply a stiff brush for scrubbing fingernails and knuckles where soil has a tendency to take hold, a pumice stone, nail clipper and file, and soothing lotion to use after hands are soap-and-water clean.

Place these "tools" in a convenient place in the bathroom, where your menfolk will see and use them.

Redlegs Shut Out, 3-0

Brave Settles Down to Win

By the Associated Press
Jim Britton, warming up for his first major league start, hurt his arm. And then things got worse.

The young Atlanta right-hander surrendered his first Cincinnati's first two hits Friday night and seemed ripe for an early shower. But the first of four Atlanta double plays rescued him and he came on to pitch a seven-hit and shut out the Reds 3-0.

Britton rode consecutive third inning homers by Hank Aaron and Sandy Valdespino and three more Atlanta DP's to the victory—the third straight for the Braves.

In other National League action Friday, Chris Short hurled a three-hitter as Philadelphia nipped Houston, 5-1. Jim Hart and Willie Mays led San Francisco to a 5-2 victory over Pittsburgh, Orlando Cepeda and Dick Simpson smashed two-run homers as St. Louis crushed Chicago 8-2 and Los Angeles squeaked past New York 3-2.

"My arm was dead," confessed Britton after beating the one extra base hit in the first eight games this year.

Bobby Wine also homered for the Phillies and John Easterman spoiled Short's bid for the shut-out with an eighth inning shot for the Astros. Short struck out nine.

TIE-BREAKER

Mays drilled a run-scoring single and Hart followed with a two-run homer that broke an eighth inning tie and beat Pittsburgh's Jim Bunning for the Giants.

Simpson's two-run homer and Lou Brock's two-run triple got the Cardinals started against Chicago. Later, Cepeda hit his second homer of the year after

Lady Carling Lead to Carol

Miss Mann Fires 66 in Opening Round

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Carol Mann's putting touch turned what she thought might be her worst round into her all-time best and gave her the lead going into today's second round of the Lady Carling Golf Tournament.

"I started out so shakily that I thought I'd shoot about 90, but then the putts started falling," she said after a six-under-par 66 in Friday's opening of the $15,000 tournament.

"I've had a couple of 67s, but I've never shot a 66 before, said 6-foot-3 veteran on the ladies' pro tour. "I need a sales test."

The 66 equalled the men's record on the 6,380-yard Canongate Country Club course, but it didn't give Miss Mann much of an edge on her challengers.

Jan Ferraris of San Francisco and Sharon Moran of San Diego also turned in the best scores of their careers to stay on the heels of Miss Mann. Miss Ferraris, 1963 national junior champion who is still looking for her first pro victory, shot a 67, and Miss Moran — once voted the prettiest girl on the tour — turned in a 68.

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

East was mighty proud of himself as he entered 200 points on the side of the ledger. He had won the first club and led a second club for South to ruff. South had led a diamond to dummy's king and played the five of hearts. East had gone JACOBY up with the ace and forced South with another club. South entered dummy with the ace of diamonds and led a heart to his king. This play was made to guard against the unlikely chance that East had started with the singleton ace of hearts.

This was unlikely because West's two no-trump call had been the unusual no-trump to ask for minor suits and he would not have made that bid with four hearts in his hand.

Anyway, South did lead hearts and rose with his king. That gave him five tricks in, and he still made three more trumps to go down one.

As we said before, East was mighty proud of himself. He chuckled and said, "It took real courage to double three spades after you had shown a minor suit hand, and I sure defended the hand to the hilt."

South said nothing, but West came to life with a few choice comments. He started with: "There is a close line between courage and bravado. You did double three spades and you did set them one trick. On the other hand you might well have doubled them into game."

"Furthermore if you had just bid four clubs, the bidding would have been passed around to North. He would probably have doubled. If South left the double in, you might well have made your contract."

"In any event you would not have gone down more than one trick, but the chances are that South would not have stood for the double. He would have gone on to four spades and you could have doubled that and shown a real profit."

"Furthermore," South added, "There was no hurry about taking your ace of hearts. It wasn't going to get away from you. If you had just ducked, the chances are that South would have collected 500 instead of 200."

What do you do?

Q—The bidding has been: West North East South
 1 ♦ Dble
 You, South, hold:
 ♠ AK76 ♠ K3 ♦ K8654 ♠ 432
 What do you do?

A—Bid three spades. This is not a forcing bid here, but it is a strong invitation to your partner to go on.

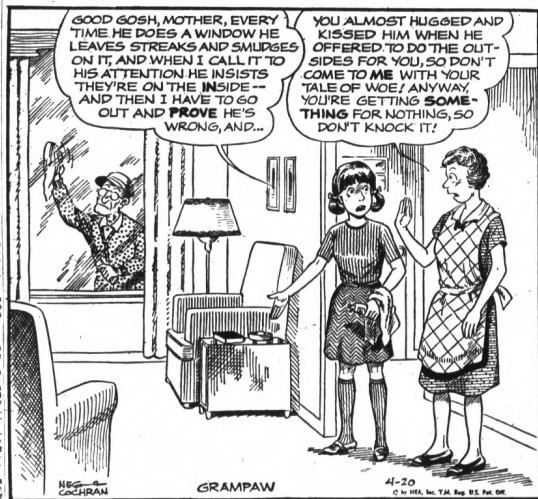

TODAY'S QUESTION

You bid three spades. West bids four clubs. North and East pass. What do you do?

Lennons Have Families to Consider

Sisters Doing Fine on Own

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sometimes it pays to leave the old homestead, as the sisters Lennon discovered when they cut away from papa Lawrence Welk.

It wasn't easy. After all, the Lennons had been singing their close harmonies with the Welk organization since the fateful Christmas of 1955 when they first appeared with the champagne maestro.

To cut away would mean a severe jolt, not only to the sisters themselves, but to their fans.

The break came last year. It wasn't complete, because the Lennons continue to sing on the Welk ABC broadcast once a month.

But since last June, the girls have been more or less on their own, and their careers have changed considerably.

EARNINGS GROW

We never realized we could earn this kind of money," says one of the girls.

The alteration of their status came through the management of two youthful promoters, Bob Eubanks and Steve Wolf.

The girls' reasoning was explained by Wolf: "All of the sisters are married now, and they have families to consider. The time came for them to consider building up their estates and providing for the future."

"That meant at least a partial break with Welk, since their income was limited with his organization."

CONTROVERSY

The amount of limitation has been the subject of controversy.

The Lennon faction claims—without rancor—that Welk paid the girls scale salaries, or $182.50 per TV performance.

The Lennon sisters find show biz is fine, Lawrence Welk show. The sisters are (from left) even when they're not weekly regulars on the Peggy, Diane, Janet and Kathy.

Welk denies this. He says that while he generally makes a policy of paying scale, his stars get considerably more, one way or another. "There are so many extras," he remarked.

He continues to have nothing but praise for the Lennons, and they reciprocate. "The girls will always be grateful to Lawrence," explained Wolf.

WELK SUGGESTED SPLIT

"As a matter of fact, he was the one who first suggested that they take advantage of their immense popularity."

They did so in positive terms, signing for television guest appearances, state and county fairs, concert engagements and record albums with mercury. Their earnings have soared.

"The girls can average between $3,500 and $5,500 per night on the road," said Wolf. "They can make even more with fair dates. For instance, they will be getting $20,000 for three days at the New York State fair in Syracuse later this summer."

The Lennons' career has been stalled because Peggy is expecting a baby in June. However, the girls will use the time in recording an album for the Christmas trade.

FAIR CIRCUIT SET

In August and September, they will play fairs from Casper, Wyo., to Hutchinson, Kan., and points east.

Next winter they are booked for a Jackie Gleason show, two Ed Sullivan, three Hollywood Palaces.

"But the big news is that ABC is planning a hour variety show to star the Lennon sisters," reported Wolf.

"It will probably go on the network in January, and then it's likely that the girls won't be able to appear on the Welk show any longer."

NEW YORK — What's the next trend in fun? Ask a teen-ager — and spell the answer "Romp!!"

America's never-stand-still youngsters join hands with some unexpected bridge-builders across the generation gap to tell the world how today's teens lively-it-up.

It all happens on the "Romp!!" show — a super-youth spectacular tour of the world of light-hearted fun, scheduled for Sunday over Channel 7, 7-8 p.m.

Conducting the Kook's Tour are cohosts Ryan O'Neal and Michele Lee; tour guide of the pleasure hunt is that well-known post-teen Jimmy Durante; and guest stars are James Darren, the pop recording group Harpers Bizarre and the new English musical import Cream.

For Cream—and they are the newest rock rage to visit these shores soundwise—the chance to go Romping marks a major first: the show is their debut on American television, and their only major appearance of the TV season. (They have appeared on numerous BBC TV shows.)

SPECIAL GUEST

Special guest star of the hour is Barbara Eden, and major cameo appearances are made by such generation gap-closers as Liberace, Casey Stengel, Sonny Tufts (Sonny Tufts?????) and Sammy Davis Sr., Steve Allen and Joey Bishop.

What's it all about? Education! After all, there's got to be some way for the grown-ups in the group to find out what's going on in the secret world of the young.

Oscar Still Capable of Some Surprises

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Academy aftermath — There is this about Oscar: He can spring surprises. That and the aura of a 40-year tradition continue to make the motion picture awards presentation the most exciting — though sometimes exasperating — of all the awards.

This year's ceremonies provided much to remember. Most of the awards were predictable, except for best picture and best actress. Nearly all the seers had named "The Graduate" or "Bonnie and Clyde" as the likely winners.

With the benefit of Monday-morning quarterbacking, it is easy to see why the academy voters chose "In the Heat of the Night."

THOMAS

First, you must understand the nature of the electorate. Hollywood is now a mature community, and the academy reflects that.

Likewise it is understandable why the voters in an outpouring of sentiment chose Katharine Hepburn as best actress for "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner." There could be no other reason for the award.

Editors Find Nixon Warm, Witty and Winning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon has won warm praise from the American Society of Newspaper Editors—a group that gave only perfunctory applause to Nelson A. Rockefeller the day before.

Editors interviewed at a luncheon following Nixon's Friday appearance at the ASNE convention called the former vice president warm, witty and winning.

"They voiced less kind words about the Thursday speech by Rockefeller," said Vernon Royster, editor of the Wall Street Journal. "I'm sure it's the sentiment of the editors generally—he was much impressive."

"Nixon made a much better impression here than Gov. Rockefeller," said Vernon Royster, editor of the Wall Street Journal. "I'm sure it's the sentiment of the editors generally—he was much impressive."

"Nixon stood behind a lone microphone on a short, red-carpeted runway raised above the luncheon tables. The setting had the air of a nightclub performance—and, in show business parlance, he wowed them."

The editors interrupted with solid applause more than a dozen times. They laughed frequently at his jests and at the end they accorded Nixon a lusty and lengthy standing ovation.

"Nixon seemed to be a new personality," said Robert P. Early, managing editor of the Indianapolis Star. "He's even developed a sense of humor. Nixon swept the audience."

"I've never seen him quite so effective," added Robert M. White II, editor and publisher of the Mexico (Mo.) Ledger.

"Nixon was terrifically impressive. I think he was much more warm and human," said Dow Richardson, editor of the thought-provoking, but added, "Nixon very definitely gained today."

Royster, one of the four editors on a panel that quizzed Nixon, compared the candidate of 1968 to the nominee of eight years ago and said:

"His manner has become easier. He still uses the debating devices, but in a smoother, better polished way. He is more mature, less abrasive."

Nixon was asked to describe the new Nixon. He began: "The new Nixon is older. He has more experience. He has more wisdom."

"Nixon was terrifically impressive. I think he was much more warm and human," said Dow Richardson, editor of the thought-provoking, but added, "Nixon very definitely gained today."

Royster, one of the four editors on a panel that quizzed Nixon, compared the candidate of 1968 to the nominee of eight years ago and said:

"His manner has become easier. He still uses the debating devices, but in a smoother, better polished way. He is more mature, less abrasive."

Nixon was asked to describe the new Nixon. He began: "The new Nixon is older. He has more experience. He has more wisdom."

Washington (AP) — Richard M. Nixon has won warm praise from the American Society of Newspaper Editors—a group that gave only perfunctory applause to Nelson A. Rockefeller the day before.

Editors interviewed at a luncheon following Nixon's Friday appearance at the ASNE convention called the former vice president warm, witty and winning.

"They voiced less kind words about the Thursday speech by Rockefeller," said Vernon Royster, editor of the Wall Street Journal. "I'm sure it's the sentiment of the editors generally—he was much impressive."

"Nixon made a much better impression here than Gov. Rockefeller," said Vernon Royster, editor of the Wall Street Journal. "I'm sure it's the sentiment of the editors generally—he was much impressive."

"Nixon stood behind a lone microphone on a short, red-carpeted runway raised above the luncheon tables. The setting had the air of a nightclub performance—and, in show business parlance, he wowed them."

The editors interrupted with solid applause more than a dozen times. They laughed frequently at his jests and at the end they accorded Nixon a lusty and lengthy standing ovation.

"Nixon seemed to be a new personality," said Robert P. Early, managing editor of the Indianapolis Star. "He's even developed a sense of humor. Nixon swept the audience."

"I've never seen him quite so effective," added Robert M. White II, editor and publisher of the Mexico (Mo.) Ledger.

"Nixon was terrifically impressive. I think he was much more warm and human," said Dow Richardson, editor of the thought-provoking, but added, "Nixon very definitely gained today."

Trial Ordered in Fraud Case

A former adjuster for the American Automobile Association (AAA) and a Waterford Township doctor were ordered yesterday to stand trial on charges of swindling the insurance company.

Standing mute at their arraignment, innocent pleas were entered for Kenneth R. Davis, 37, of 4300 Sashabaw, Waterford Township, and Dr. Albert J. Berg, 31, of 457 Beverly Island, by Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn.

No trial date was set. They are charged with conspiracy and obtaining money under false pretenses.

The charges stem from an "accident" which never happened, according to investigators from AAA and Michigan State Police.

ORDERED TO TRIAL
The insurance company reportedly paid more than $2,100 to a Waterford Township collision company and to Dr. Berg after Davis had filed a report with the company.

The owners and operators of the collision shop, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Sanders, 7153 Locklin, West Bloomfield Township, were ordered last month to stand trial on charges of fraud.

Another case is still pending against Dr. Berg before Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Kenneth Hempstead. The preliminary examination is scheduled for Thursday.

In that case Dr. Berg allegedly received $266 from the insurance company though the services he rendered only amounted to $36, according to authorities.

Farmers Look to Direct Action, Not U.S. Aid

By JOHN BECKER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON — The killing of thousands of pigs by farmers demanding higher prices for them dramatized a rising interest among farmers in direct action rather than continued reliance on the complex and elaborate federal programs designed to help them.

The direct approach is also evident in Congress, where farm legislation of an entirely new kind is being considered, based on the collective bargaining procedures guaranteed to labor and industry 30 years ago.

During those three decades, the government, in an effort to hold down farm production and stabilize prices, erected a dizzying edifice of farm law.

It takes 108,000 people to run the Department of Agriculture, and it was only half-jokingly that an amendment was offered a few years ago prohibiting the department from acquiring more employees than there were farmers.

Yet despite costly and often confusing legislation, the problems the legislation is supposed to solve continue. Farm prices still fluctuate sharply, production increases yearly and farm income last year was lower than it was 20 years ago.

For the small farmer—the so-called "family farmer"—Congress talks the most about helping—the situation grows steadily worse. Unable to take any of his small acreage out of production to qualify for price supports, he gets almost no benefit from the programs. Squeezed by higher costs for everything he needs, he is being forced off the land.

News Analysis

In the last 15 years, 15 million people have moved from the farms and rural areas into the cities, compounding the urban problems now tormenting the nation.

With the current farm programs due to expire next year, both the House and Senate are in the process of reviewing them, and new departures have already been suggested.

In the Senate, a bill has been introduced that would give farmers the right to bargain collectively with processors on the price of their crops. It is based on the same principle written into law in 1935 that gave organized labor the right to bargain collectively on the terms of its employment.

Originally tossed out as a suggestion by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman more than a year ago, the bill is unlikely to advance very far this year.

More promising is the future of another Senate bill that would extend the system of federal marketing agreements to all farm products. These production-and-price agreements, embodiment collective bargaining procedures, now apply only to selected crops.

In the House, a bill to extend the collective bargaining principle to farm labor has been approved by the House Education and Labor Committee. It would apply only to large farms, which would be required to recognize and bargain with a union chosen by a majority of their employees.

Whatever the fate of these and similar bills, they indicate an awareness in Congress that it may be better to let farmers, processors and farm workers work things out for themselves under the same rules that seem to have worked well for industry and labor.

Partridge In A Pear Tree highlight the country provincial decorating theme of the Robert Smith home in Bloomfield Township.

In the formal living room, against a background of bittersweet carpeting and off-white walls, the furniture woods are cherry.

Twin wing-back chairs in bittersweet antique satin are served by the slate-topped, hexagon commode. Topping the commode is a wormwood and antique-brass lamp with an off-white antique satin shade, a cut crystal dish which belonged to Mrs. Smith's grandmother and bittersweet dried flowers in white china.

Ceramic, cranberry glass and copper pieces are displayed on the high-backed hutch. On the top are royal blue candles in brass candlesticks and peacock feathers in a ceramic container.

LAMP TABLE

Beside the room's quilted floral sofa is a two-drawer square lamp table with an arrangement of dried gypsophila and bittersweet statice in a white china, narrow-necked vase.

The living room's color theme is carried through into the adjoining dining room. A brass chandelier with hurricane shades lights the cherry drop-leaf harvest table. Repeating the blue accents of the over-all color theme are a pottery covered dish and Mexican ceramic birds.

On either side of the room's watercolors framed in fruitwood are brass candle sconces with royal blue candles.

The recreation center, congregation place for the Smiths' four children (Bob 14, Bill 11, Tom 10 and Cathy 6), is paneled in dark-finished walnut. A beige area rug covers the ranch-plank flooring.

"My husband restored the fireplace utensils," said Mrs. Smith. "They once belonged to his grandmother."

"And the brass candelabrum on the fireplace mantel is also an antique. It's one of a pair. My mother has the mate." Orange ice candles are used for color interest.

Above the room's fruitwood-framed sofa (upholstered in a tapestry of muted olive, gold, caramel and light green) hangs an imported oil of the French Alps. The autumn pastoral is framed in gold.

"The table before the sofa," said Mrs. Smith, "was once a high lamp table in my grandmother's house. My husband took it apart, cut it down and put it back together." Of matched-grain walnut, the piece is hand-carved.

Controlling Old Sol Presents a Challenge for Scientists

With today's emphasis on multiglass buildings and homes, the coming of spring should start many businessmen and homemakers thinking about how to keep their cool without putting too much "heat" on their budgets.

Because architects are attempting to bring more of the outdoors indoors via windows, clever methods are being "cooked up" these days to give Old Sol the bounce. Look closely at glass on modern homes and offices and you'll discover a wide range of devices to resist the sun — on everything from patio doors to bay windows.

Windows today are being painted, covered, tinted, shaded and "blinded" to guard people, merchandise, furniture, pets and even plants from solar rays. At last count there were drapes, awnings, shades, shutters, Venetian blinds, overhangs and expensive louvers, not to mention trees and shrubs, to cope with the sun.

Some residents in the nation's hot spots even are applying cardboard and taping aluminum foil on their windows to beat the heat. Costly fading problems resulting from ultraviolet as well as infrared rays are forcing designers, decorators, office managers, store owners, and homemakers to take a second look at the sun problem.

This solar fight can be expensive, especially if it calls for a considerable investment in air-conditioning equipment. What the people with sun problems are looking for are methods which not only cut heat but also lessen the load on whatever cooling systems they may be using and reduce their worry about glare and fading.

Many scientific tests are being conducted to come up with most effective answers for combating solar rays economically. An increasing number of products are being evaluated.

One development, for instance, is an aluminized polyester film applied directly to the inside of the glass which actually bounces the sun from windows.

The film was found capable of reflecting up to 75 per cent of the sun's heat and 82 per cent of its glare.

By bouncing Old Sol from windows the film takes the strain off air-conditioning equipment thus making possible a reduction in cooling costs, it was pointed out.

The film already has been credited with cutting costs and making cooling systems more effective in factories, offices, schools, hospitals, banks and hotels and motels, from coast to coast.

One East Coast oil company, for instance, claims that the film brought temperatures down by 12 degrees. A Los Angeles school for the handicapped said the film made pupils more comfortable when applied to skylight windows. And a computer in an eastern bank reportedly was able to operate around the clock because the film cut heat and improved air-conditioning efficiency.

The metalized finish of the film appears to be a one-way mirror during the day, providing a view for occupants but daytime privacy from passers-by. This mirror-effect also adds to window attractiveness, users report.

Solar control film is taking some of the glitter even from Las Vegas' famous nightclub strip by being applied to windows of motels. One Vegas club reports that the film assures daytime sleepers of a good rest by reducing the heat thus making their black-out drapes more effective.

Do-It-Yourself Find

Paint Roller Speeds Decorating

The paint roller has undoubtedly done more for do-it-yourself home decorating than any other recent tool. Coupled with latex paints (though they are used with oil paints as well) they turn out a job that is easy and attractive.

The paint roller covers a wider area faster than a brush. The roller can ever handle with the largest brush and there are no brush marks to worry about.

The tool consists of a fiber-covered roller and a handle. It's a simple tool and an inexpensive one. But, while a good paint roller is far less expensive than a good paintbrush, it doesn't mean that you can buy one for pennies.

A cheap roller is a waste of the paint you use it with and the time used in putting it on.

Forget the disposable models. While it may be cheap enough to use once and throw it away, the results will be so poor you will regret using it.

HOLLOW CORE

Get a roller with a hollow core that fits onto a roller frame. The part of the frame that holds the roller is best if it is expandable. An expandable sleeve or wire cage will provide solid backing for the roller cover.

Pick a handle that will take an extension. This will allow you to paint a ceiling without climbing a ladder. The handle also should be comfortable in your hand.

The outer surface may be made of a variety of fibers. The synthetics are generally best; mohair not quite so good.

For most home painting you will use a short or medium nap cover. Generally the rougher the surface the longer the nap you should use.

Short nap (1/4-inch) is for very smooth surfaces—previously painted surfaces, woodwork, wallboard.

Medium nap (3/8-inch) is for anything already mentioned plus textured walls stucco and concrete block.

Long nap for cinder block and extra long for wire fencing.

MEDIUM

The medium nap is best for all-round use and is preferable to the short nap because it will hold more paint. This means more painting per dip and therefore faster coverage.

The nap is glued to a cardboard surface. The better models have a core that is impregnated with materials to make it less porous. A few are even made of plastic.

Rollers also are available in seven-inch and nine-inch widths. The nine-inch will obviously hold more paint and cover a wider surface but it will be slightly heavier to handle.

For most people, however, the weight difference will be negligible, so pick the nine-inch model and get 25 per cent more coverage per dip.

A new roller may shed lint. Condition it before you start to paint with it. Dip it in the paint tray and cover it all over with paint. Then roll it back and forth on the ribbed portion of the tray to squeeze out the excess paint.

Then roll it on large sheets of paper until it rolls dry. Do this a couple of times to get rid of the lint. Then start painting.

Carry as much paint on the roller as you can without dripping. Roll from a dry to a wet area to avoid lap marks. Keep speed and pressure moderate.

NO SPIN

Don't let the roller spin at the end of a stroke. That's what causes spattering.

If there are heavy lines at the edges or gaps of paint that run down, roll them out while they are still wet. Let up on the pressure slightly at the end of a stroke.

Finish by painting into a wet area and lift the roller from the work at that point.

Use a brush for trim and in corners. Avoid the odd-sized rollers and fancy gadgets that supposedly replace the brush.

Cover Patio With a Deck

Want to beautify an old, cracked patio? Cover it with three-foot squares of wood decking.

Each square is made of 2x4s nailed over 2x4 supports. They're easiest to build with the help of a jig.

Pressure-treated Douglas fir lumber is recommended.

Modern stain finishes for wood paneling are transparent so as to expose the wood grain and enhance the natural character.

Wood Panels Give Double-Door Look

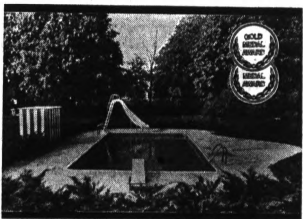

If you want a double front door but can't remodel the entrance to allow for one, try this trick.

On either side of the present door, mount a panel matching the present door's styling. Or use door-height louvered shutters.

Both produce the wider, elegant look of a double door but involve little cost or work.

Be sure to finish the panels or shutters to match the present front door.

WHAT IS KLINGELHUT FACE BRICK SIDING?

It is the Multi-Purpose Brick Siding that does so many jobs—BETTER

Klingelhut brick is genuine, individually made, that it is 1/2 inch thick. It is bonded to 1/2 inch concrete. It is an exclusive product developed by Klingelhut. This produces an insulating combination equal to a thickness of blown-in insulation—or 4 feet of solid brick.

- Gives year-round insulation
- Reduces fuel costs • Beautifies your home, increases its value • Resists fire • Ends repair and maintenance bills — no painting • Economical to install

PROBLEM SOLVED — The case of the dinky patio was solved by this family with a Douglas fir deck addition that both triples living-play space and improves home's overall appearance. Border of crushed rock and pines, simple seating bench make an effective transition between deck-patio and the lawn.

Stagger Plantings of Summer Bulbs

No article on summer-blooming bulbs would be complete without mentioning glads. Start planting now and repeat at two-week intervals several times more for a longer season of bloom.

If you like the very big ones, get the giant show type. For indoor use, however, more moderate-sized varieties are available and for arrangements use miniatures. For colors consult any good glad catalog or your local garden center.

For planting, prepare the soil as you would for a vegetable garden. Spade up the soil at least 8 inches deep, incorporate thoroughly a 2-inch layer of humus in most areas and 3 to 5 pounds of any good vegetable fertilizer per 100 square feet, raking it level.

Then dig your furrows and plant the bulbs 6 inches deep and 6 inches apart in rows 18 to 24 inches apart or in irregular clumps in the flower or shrub border.

Next most popular are the dahlias. Here there is also a choice of height, giant or dwarf. Even more you can get flowers of all sizes and forms: singles, collared, button, cascade, formal (ball-like) and informal with less stiffly-arranged petals.

DAHLIA TUBERS

Set the tubers in holes 6 to 10 inches deep, preparing the soil as above. For the larger variety stake — now when planting. It won't tear the roots as it would later.

However, for a sweet scent throughout the garden, especially in the evening, plant tuberoses. Waxy-white flowers that are most fragrant. Plant 5 inches deep and 5 inches apart. When you dig the bulbs up in fall do not separate them. Wait until replanting time.

Like the tuberoses, exceedingly fragrant but only a foot high instead of 30 inches, is the ismene, large snowy-white, with spidery flower parts sticking out well beyond all the others. One of the quickest bloomers, it often takes only a month or less. Plant the large bulbs upright 6 inches deep in well-prepared soil.

Two little-known, gladiolus-like flowers are the acidanthera, white with maroon markings and the montbretia in yellows, reds, browns, orange, etc. The acidanthera is also sweetly-scented. Wonderful for cutting. Plant 4 inches deep and 4 inches apart.

For something really unique try the tigridia, three horizontal petals, with a deep cup in the center and spotted like a leopard in the cup. With slightly more moisture than the others it will produce many blooms. Plant like acidantheras. All colors.

Realtor to Speak on 'Speculation'

"How to Make Money in Real Estate Speculation" will be discussed by realtor Tom Bateman before members of the United Northwestern Realty Association—Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors at a luncheon meeting, Thursday, at Cregar's Restaurant, Detroit.

A past president of the Pontiac Board of Realtors, Bateman is broker-owner of the Pontiac really firm bearing his name. He has been a real estate professional since 1950.

Hydronite baseboard heat is clean, even, quiet, draft-free, economical to operate, and can easily be extended to additional rooms.

Houses to suit different birds is the secret of attracting them. Bluebirds like a deep nest space. Wrens want a tiny house. Pattern 277, which gives actual-size guides and directions for the two houses shown, is 35c. This pattern also is in the Bird House and Feeder Packet No. 31 which gives full-size cutting guides and directions for 10 unusually attractive designs all for $1.

Advanced Planning Eases Moving Woe

There's no getting around it, going to pack and what he will do. While some items can be left in furniture drawers, in general the best idea is to store everything in containers. Check with your mover for advice.

While there are some items you are sure to want to pack yourself in easy stages, your best bet is to leave fragile, breakable items to the movers.

Major movers provide complete packing services, and you will want to consider using them. The cost is moderate and responsibilities that are lifted from your shoulders.

Your first consideration is what firm is going to do the moving for you. If you're knowledgeable of moving companies, check your telephone book's yellow pages under "Moving." Chances are that those having display ads and stressing long-distance, national or international service will prove more reputable.

In any case, get more than one estimate and be sure it's a visual estimate. No one can intelligently estimate the cost of a move by telephone. Compare not only cost, but the service each mover offers. Check their reputations locally and be sure that the one you select has a representative in the community to which you're moving. Finally, don't be overly influenced by the "low bid," because remember this is only an estimate, not a firm bid.

Responsibility for insurance is yours, not the movers. So check to be sure your goods are fully protected. The mover's liability won't begin to replace an expensive object that might be totally damaged.

EARLY START

Getting an early start on a move is extremely important. At least a month ahead of time, select the mover and set the date. This is particularly important if you're moving at month-end.

You'll want water, electricity and telephone turned off at the old address and the service resumed at the new. The earlier you let the utilities know, the more likely you are to get prompt service on the desired date. Don't overlook services like milk deliveries and newspapers either.

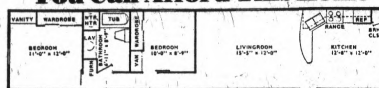

Give the post office your new address and remember, magazines take four to six weeks to change their subscription addresses.

You'll have to make other arrangements for transporting frozen foods, pets, plants and flammable liquids. Movers won't handle them.

Consult with your mover to determine just what you're

Contestants in the 19th annual Pine Lake Invitational Golf tournament scheduled for June 20-22, will have to get the crown out of the "Lions Den."

Owners of the 1967 title are Detroit Lions football stars Dick LeBeau and Jim Gibbons who won a dramatic 2-up victory over Wally Wheeler of Pine Lake and Jeff Welsch of Lochmoor last year.

A 200 drive by Gibbons on the 18th hole, a wedge shot to about 10 feet by LeBeau and the birdie putt by Gibbons shut the door on the opponents for the title.

The Pine Lake tournament has always been one of the outstanding invitational in the area, starting in 1950 with Blaine Eymon and Pat Sawyer as the first champions.

Eymon was one of the founders of the tournament, which has had some outstanding local amateurs such as Tom Draper, Bob and Dick Whiting, Tony Skover, Perry Byard and Bob Babbish among its list of winners.

Course to Open Memorial Day

A couple of courses bowed to progress during the offseason in Oakland County, while only one new one was added to the list for the 1968 season.

The new layout is Dunham Hills Golf & Country Club, located at the corner of Dunham and Tipisico Lake Road near Millard, and plans call for nine holes of the proposed 18-hole course to be ready for play Memorial Day.

Giving way to the progress of automobiles and houses were River Bank Golf Course and Lancaster Hills, both located in Southfield.

The 52-acre River Bank course, operated by Harold Thompson for 30 years, was sold for a reported $400,000 to a housing development firm.

Thompson said the new 1,496 expressway had left the course practically inaccessible, thus resulting in a drop in income. "We didn't make enough to pay the taxes last season," said Thompson, who leased the nine-hole layout from Charles White.

RANGE OPEN
Thompson has a 12-acre parcel near the course on which he has a driving range which he'll continue to operate.

Ford Motor Company purchased 12 acres of the 36-acre Lancaster Hills layout in Southfield and a company spokesman said two dealerships—Ford and a Lincoln-Mercury—would be constructed on the site. He said construction would get under way this year.

The other 24 acres will reportedly be developed as a residential area by Howard Brothers of Southfield.

Two Layouts End Careers to Housing Developments

Knock the dust off those clubs, guys! Golfing season has arrived, and all of the 33 public and semi-public and 23 private courses within 18 miles radius of Pontiac in Oakland County.

Add another 8 clubs next to county lines and the 25 mile radius has 64 fine layouts.

Most of the local clubs held the line on green fees, although a few did tack on 25 cents for a weekday and weekend plan.

Oakland County lost a couple of courses during the winter months, while one new one will open in May. Giving way to asphalt and cement were River Bank and Lancaster Hills, both located in Southfield. Housing developments are slated for both along with an auto dealership on part of the Lancaster layout, which fronts Telegraph.

Changes at individual courses are, for the main part, many and anything but minor.

The biggest over-all change golfers will notice at the links will be the presence of watering systems, which, hopefully, will do away with the brown 'green' of August on the fairways.

TOURNEYS SLATED
Along with the course changes, there are a number of professional and amateur tournaments on the summer schedule to whet the appetite of the golfing watchers.

A big move in the improvement area was made by Carl Rose, owner of Carl's Golfland on Telegraph across from Miracle Mile.

Rose, who has had the driving range at that location for the past 11 years and a par-3 course for the past three, has installed a heated area along the tee line which will take the chill out of these cool days.

With the heated areas, it makes the range available earlier in the spring and later in the fall.

Golfers Careless About Repairing Course Injury

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Tees break and any portion remaining in the ground, 25 percent don't rake their footprints from sand traps.

And the increasingly popular golfcart is partially responsible, says Norman Kramer, superintendent of Point-O-Woods Country Club, Benton Harbor, Mich.

"Cart-users are in too much of a hurry to get back into their little rigs and scoot on," says Kramer.

Chatting about a superintendent's problems between sessions of the recent Gold Course Superintendents Association of America convention, Kramer said most club officials frown on the use of plastic tees.

He said the plastic bends on wedges and is hard on mowing equipment, whereas wooden

MAKING A POINT—Head pro Gene Bone and owner Ernie Fuller seem to be enjoying this bit of work as they inform the public that Bay Pointe will be open only to men this season.

Baypointe Rule—'for Men Only'

Picture this, fellas! A golf course—a quiet place, green, well-manicured fairways situated amid a couple of lakes with a pleasant watering trough at the 19th green. And nary a woman in sight.

That's right. No women! It exists and it's local and word is the only way a woman may make her presence felt will be by telephone.

It's an experiment, locally at least, and one which should make happy those members of the stronger sex who so long have complained of having to play on a course frequently visited by slow-moving ladies.

NEW SHOP
A new pro shop and an addition to the ladies lockerroom are among the changes at Birmingham County Club, which will host the U.S.G.A. Women's Amateur in August.

Renovation of the interior of the clubhouse at Morey's is completed.

A new green at No. 3 plus new tees at three other holes highlight changes at Stonycroft in Bloomfield Hills.

Bone Bitten by Switching Rule Makers

Gene Bone doesn't rile easily, but it would be understandable if he were a little irked by a bit of action on the part of the National PGA.

Two years ago, Bone, head pro at Bay Pointe Golf Club, won the Michigan Section PGA, which at the time of the tournament, carried an automatic berth in the national PGA tournament the following year.

But in a move to reduce the field in the national event, the PGA wiped out the automatic exemptions for sectional champions so Bone lost the free ride.

After using the rule for one year, the PGA dropped it, returning to the old standard that gives the sectional champs a free ride in the national event.

—John Montz, head man at Lancaster Hills in Southfield for the past two years, is now assistant at Knollwood, Lancaster was purchased by Ford Motor Company and closed.

NEW PRO
—Sy Shore of Utica is the new pro at Rochester Country Club.

—Ted Ardynio, who toiled as the head pro at Lincoln Hills in Birmingham last season, is now caddy master at Oakland Hills.

—Carl Walter, owner of Highland Hills, has hired a professional — his son Bob.

By FLETCHER SPEARS

That bit of "when it rains it pours" sizes up fairly well the predicament in which golf coach Joe Shanabrook of Avondale High School found himself this spring.

Not a predicament, really, but a set of circumstances which did nothing to lend to Joe's peace of mind.

First of all, there was the matter of the school's golf team. Joe had one of the top golfers in the area in Gary Ballet and the prospect of a fine season was bright.

But Gary left, a transfer to Pontiac Central, when his parents sold their home and moved.

And there was more for Joe. Voters in the district turned down an operating millage proposal and with the rejection, the board of education followed with reductions and golf got caught in the cutback along with other spring sports.

With the advent of the ball that is uncuttable, it should be obvious that the sport of golf is wide open for the inventor.

Some of the things which we don't have:

AUTOMATIC RETRIEVER
—A ball with 200 feet of string that would permit the player to retrieve it from water, woods, etc.

—A ball with a magnetic center that will lock onto the metal cup on the green insuring a better putting average.

—A cheap material that would serve as a cover for a par-3 course, enabling players to play all winter regardless of weather in Michigan.

—A book on how to score holes-in-one, eagles, birdies, etc.

Kids are innocent little folks. Dan Kearns, one of my boss' sons, showed his adventurous side a short while back while he was caddy for his father while the two of us were playing golf.

I seemed to be the object of his 'luck' that day. On the second hole, I luckily hit an approach shot that looked like a couple of feet from the pin. Dan didn't see the shot and he beat me to the green and 'found' my ball.

"Hey dad, I found a ball," he yelled.

REUNITED
His dad reunited me and the ball but I found myself with a longer putt. Hmmm.

And later, after I had missed a putt, I marked the ball with a dime so it wouldn't interfere with my boss' line. Dan didn't see me do that either.

City Golfers Hold State PGA Titles

Pontiac continues to produce some of the state's top golfers. Local golfers have collected the past two titles in the Michigan PGA tournament, and those two kingpins will be trying to keep the crown in the Pontiac family when they tee off in the 47th annual event June 24 at Davison Country Club in Davison.

Gene Bone and Tom Deaton, both former Pontiac Central High golfers, have bagged the PGA title the past two years and they'll be among a field of some 100 battling for this year's title and the lion's share of the $3,500 purse.

The PGA is a one-day, 36-hole event which will be preceded by a pro-member tournament June 23.

Deaton, 26, assistant to Walter Burkemo at Detroit Golf Club, finished three strokes ahead of the pack last year in the firing at Birmingham Country Club.

And just four shots off the pace in a tie for third was Bone, the 1966 champion, who is now head pro at Bay Pointe Golf Club.

"It's the best thing that ever happened to me," said the happy Deaton afterward. "I've been waiting a long time for this to happen."

Deaton and his wife had another reason to celebrate.

too. It was the third birthday of their daughter, Bridget Ann.

The PGA victory is the high point in Deaton's career that started shortly after high school when he worked as a caddy under Warren Orlick at Tami O'Shanter. Bone was there at the same time and helped Deaton with his game.

Deaton graduated from the caddy ranks and joined Burkemo as an assistant first at El Dorado Country Club in Palm Springs before moving to the Detroit post.

It's been 10 years since the champion successfully defended his title. That was in 1957-58 when John Barnum of Grand Rapids reigned as king.

Robertson's Golf Game Gets Better With Age

Dick Robertson's golfing also made the grade on the 12-game seems to improve with age.

Last year at 51, Robertson enjoyed his finest season as an amateur golfer, a campaign that was climaxed recently when he was named to the top spot on the 1968 Michigan Publix Golf Association Honor Roll.

The MPGA honor comes just as Robertson was bowing out of the organization after joining Indianwood Country Club.

A year ago, Robertson, former Pontiac City Champion, was third on the honor roll, but his accomplishments during the '67 season left little doubt about who would head this year's Honor Roll.

Robertson was a semifinalist in the state amateur, losing to Bill Newscomb, the eventual champion; the low qualifier in the national publix; fourth in the National Publix Tournament at Seattle, Wash., and low scorer in two handicap tournaments.

Four Tournaments Listed by Alcan

NEW YORK (AP) — The New Orleans Open, the Cleveland Open, the Western Open at Chicago and the Philadelphia Golf Classic are the four tournaments which will determine the dozen United States pros invited to compete in the second annual Alcan golf tournament.

The Alcan will be played this year over the Royal Birkdale course at Southport, England, in October.

The British contenders will be determined in four tournaments played there. Gay Brewer of Louisville, Ky., won the inaugural at St. Andrew last year. The Alcan carries a first prize of $55,000.

Pontiac Best Ball Pair Red-Faced

One of the best of the area's cup. As he walked up to 'tap' had not putted out. So George best-ball golf teams came up the ball in, George turned his back. Bada then missed the hole and then batted the ball back short one and batted it a few times before picking up the ball and dropping it into his pocket.

The embarrassment was shared by Paul Bada and George Hammit, winners of the 1966 Pontiac Best-Ball Championship.

Playing in the 18-hole Davison Invitational, Bada and Hammit carded a 32 and shared first place as they headed into the final nine holes.

Then a bit of golfing comedy began.

Paul's tee shot on the 20-yard, par 3 10th hole went to the right of the green. George's drive fell short of the green.

BOTH SHORT

Paul chipped within 15 feet of the cup. George's chip stopped four feet away.

Bada putted, just missing the

When George picked it up, Bada swallowed a little. "George," said Bada, "I put my mine in my pocket, too." They were disqualified.

Large Number Aces Reported

Golf Digest Registers
Total of 17,286

NORWALK, Conn. — A record total of 17,286 hole-in-one golf aces were registered in 1967 according to the Golf Digest magazine. The publication's Hole-In-One Clearing House reported that the above figure represents an increase of 1,793 over the 1966 registrations.

In its March issue, Golf Digest carries the highlights of the aces reported including:

1. The longest by a man scored by Jack G. Summers of Oklahoma City who aces the 420-yard eighth hole at the Lincoln Park West course.

2. Hazel Watson of Lafayette, Indiana, captured the record for the longest by a woman in aces the 206-yard sixth hole at the Edward Glenn Golf Course.

3. Bob Casale, Santa Barbara, California, aces the 195-yard 16th hole at the Community Country Club for his 17th hole-in-one.

TWO IN ONE

4. Stanley Wynosky, Washington, D.C. holed out tee shots on the 160-yard fourth and the 170-yard 11th hole during the same round at the East Potomac Golf Course.

5. Allen Dennis, a 12-year-old in Texas and Mike Chiecki, a near retirement business man in San Jose, California, both scored hole-in-ones during their first rounds of golf.

'68 Handicap Rules Noted From USGA

A round in which a golfer picks up on four or more holes before his ball is on the putting green will not be used in any form in computation of USGA Handicaps in 1968, as a result of a change in the USGA Golf Handicap System.

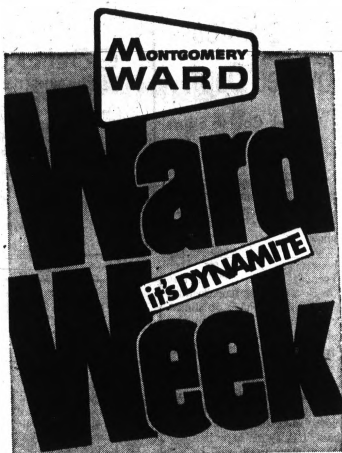

A round in which there are not more than three pick-ups before the ball lies on the putting green will be used for handicaps. For each such incomplete hole, the player is to record a score of two over par if his handicap does not exceed 16, or three over par if it exceeds 18.

When the ball lies on the putting green and the hole is not completed, the score for handicapping will be the number of strokes actually played plus one stroke, regardless of the number of pick-ups in the round.

Heretofore when a player failed to complete a certain number of holes, although he did not return a score the round was recorded in his record as "No Card" and was counted as one of his last 20 rounds. USGA Handicaps are based on the best 10 of the last 20 rounds.

Now "No Card" rounds have been abolished. A chief reason is the large number of four-ball games in which the player is requested to pick up when it is clear that he will be unable to better his partner's score. The number of "No Card" rounds in some players' records distorted handicaps.

A course record that's likely to stand for awhile is the one set by Gary Balliet in 1965 at Clarkston Golf Club. He shot a 61 (20-31).

Newcomb 1967 Champion

Syron's 2-Foot Putt Costly in State Amateur

Repeat Win for Ann Arbor Golfer Tough

Most guys will give you a two-foot putt in a friendly match on the golf course.

But not in tournament play, particularly if a state title rides with almost every putt—long or short.

It was a short putt, plus some sharp play by his opponent, that sidelined Lloyd Syron last year in the 1967 state Amateur Championship at Belvedere Country Club in Charlevoix.

Out of all the shots he made or missed during the tournament, Syron, manager of Pontiac Country Club, recalls with ease that two-foot putt with the 16th green during his quarter-final match against Bill Newcomb of Ann Arbor, the eventual winner of the tournament.

"I missed it," said Syron, "and it cost me a chance to tie since I lost 1 up. But he probably would have beaten me anyway."

MAY MISS
Syron won the title in 1957 and he may be one of the former champions missing when this year's event comes around in June 26-30 at the Belvedere Club.

Lloyd is manager of the Pontiac Country Club, and since his brother, Frank Jr., will be out of town keeping an Army Reserve commitment, he indicated he'd probably have to pass this year's event.

Not likely to pass it up, however, is Newcomb, a 28-year-old golf course architect who fashioned last year's victory with a sharp putt.

"I just putted out of my mind," said the balding Newcomb.

It was Newcomb's first try at the Michigan Amateur. He previously lived in Indiana and won the Indiana Open and was runner-up in the Indiana Amateur.

CITY PLAYER FALLS
After ousting Syron in the quarter-finals, Newcomb eased past another good Pontiac golfer, Kick Robertson, in the semifinals, 3 and 2. Robertson is a former Pontiac city champion.

Newcomb will be battling the odds as he tries to repeat. No one has repeated in the tournament since Glenn Johnson of Grosse Ile bagged the crown three straight times in 1954-55-56, and Johnson later added his fourth and fifth crowns in 1958 and 1961.

BILL NEWCOMB

Souchak Pin-Pointed

State Open Aug. 9-11

Mike Souchak isn't the sort of player who needs a lot of help on the golf course, but he picked up a little assistance last year when he needed it most.

Souchak, 40, a newcomer to Michigan last year when he moved to Oakland Hills as head pro, picked off one of the two top plums on the state pro calendar last year when he won the Michigan Open at Spring Meadows near Linden.

The long-time member of the professional tour, Souchak found trouble near the end of the 72-hole grind but he came through when his closets opponents faltered, too.

It's likely Souchak would take the same kind of help when the 48th Open gets under way at Spring Meadows Aug. 9-11. Qualifying for the event is scheduled for Aug. 5 at Holly Greens Country Club.

Souchak took a double-bogey on the 70th hole of last year's event and he came off the green at the 72nd hole thinking he had lost the tournament.

But while he was having his problems, so were Stan Brion of Tam O'Shanter and Chuck Matlack of Rockford. Both ran into putting problems and failed to take advantage of Souchak's misfortune at the 70th.

For the tournament, Souchak shot a 283 to nip the trio of Brion, Matlack and Jim Picard by 2 strokes.

DEFENDING CHAMPION
Gene Bone of Pontiac was six strokes off the pace at 289.

Bone was trying for a third straight victory in the event, a feat that no one before him had matched although several had won two in a row.

Gene started well, shooting a 5 iron, a putter and two soft 67, but he followed with three straight 74s.

Unknown Pro Enjoys His Game of Golf

ATLANTA (UPI) — It may be a long time before the name of Tommy Shaw, the man from Golf, Ill., reappears on the leader board on the pro tour, but it sure was fun while it lasted.

Cheerful Tommy is one of those rare golfers who enjoys his game, even when it's going badly.

"The way I see it, you're always grinning young pro explained, "if you aren't having a good time out on the course, you ought to be doing something else."

His good humor is infectious. When he earned his all-too-temporary moment of glory a couple of weeks ago at Pensacola, spectators who didn't have the foggiest notion who he was, a few days earlier cheered his every move.

In that final round at Pensacola, after reality had turned his lead to dust, people actually swarmed out of the gallery and hugged him when he scored an eagle at one par-hole.

SLIPPED BACK

A week later, Tommy Shaw slipped back into obscurity when he failed to make the cut at Jacksonville. But he never stopped grinning.

The story of the man from Golf might make a pretty good movie — especially if he ever becomes a winner.

Shaw was a passenger in a car which was involved in an accident in 1966 in Los Angeles. He suffered a broken back.

"That's when I took a job at a club at Golf, just outside of Chicago. I didn't know if I'd ever be able to rejoin the tour again."

Thus, Shaw wasn't even listed in this year's PGA player catalog when he reappeared on the scene this past January. But he qualified for half of the tournaments he tried to enter and earned more than $8,000 the first three months.

Next time you go to a golf tournament take a peek at Tommy Shaw. It's a pretty good bet that no matter how he's playing, he'll be the happiest guy on the course.

Gene Bone is king at his course. The record for the Bay Pointe layout is 66. Who owns it? Bone, of course. He set it last year.

46th Tourney in New Format

Red Run Is '68 Site
July 30-Aug. 3

Amateur golfers beware! Pete Green of Franklin has broken the ice.

Green, 27, and product of Birmingham High School and University of North Carolina, had his first hour as an amateur golfer last season by scoring his first tournament victories.

He won the Middle Atlantic Golf Association title and Golf Association of Michigan (GAM) championship.

Pete was a top golfer in college, earning All-American (NCAA) honors in 1961, but winning on the amateur circuit has eluded him until last year.

In the GAM at Grand Rapids, Green turned back some of state's best golfers in claiming the 45th championship.

AT RED RUN
This year, Green and his challengers will battle for the title at Red Run, July 30-August 3.

And for this 46th edition of the GAM battle, a new format will be used, one that follows the method used in the Michigan Amateur.

The field will play two days of qualifying—18 holes each day—with the low 63 then joining Green for three days of match play. The final match will be played on Saturday. Previously, the finale was on Sunday.

Green, who has competitive scores of 30 for nine holes and 66 for 18 holes to his credit, is an estimator for the John E. Green Plumbing & Heating Company in Highland Park.

With those two victories seemingly breaking the ice, Green could just be hitting his stride.

SECOND IN ROW
Green will now go looking for his second GAM crown in a row, a feat that's been accomplished a number of times.

The latest to bag the title twice in a row was Melvin (But) Stevens, the long belter from Western, who claimed the marbles in 1964 and 1965.

Ex-Oakland Hills Pro Has 5 Senior Titles

Big John Barnum of Grand Rapids can move a little closer to the record of Al Watrous if he can claim the Michigan Section PGA Seniors' championship this year.

Barnum won last year for the third time and he'll be gunning for his fourth when the play opens at Bridgeport Country Club Aug. 5.

Watrous, who retired last year after a long career as pro at Oakland Hills, won the seniors' crown five times, the last in 1961.

Little Golfers Also Have an Advantage

Being on the small side may be helpful on the golf course.

It was last fall for Pontiac golfer Chester Reynolds, a 5-6, 140-pounder, who was playing with Dick Powell, a 6-foot, 240-pounder, who is a counselor at Waterford Township High School.

The setting was Pontiac Country Club at the 10th hole, which is guarded by a large pond in front.

The time was late fall, and while the fairways were still bare, the pond was frozen.

Both hit good drives on the par-5 hole 10th and both hit the ice with their second shots.

CHIPS ICE

They approached the pond. Reynolds teed onto the ice, used his wedge and chipped the ball and a few ice splinters onto the green.

Powell surveyed the situation and put a foot on the ice to test it. It made cracking noises so he backed off.

Reynolds just waited, and watched, enjoying Powell's predicament.

Rather than break through the ice, Powell appealed to Reynolds. "How about getting my ball for me?" he asked.

"Sure," said Reynolds, "but it'll cost you a stroke."

Reynolds let him suffer the anguish that comes with a penalty stroke for a few moments, the retrieved the ball for his bigger adversary without penalty.

British Pros Use U.S. Ball

Change Is Made After Ryder Cup Play

LONDON (AP) — Britain's pro golfers must use the larger United States ball for the next three years, the British PGA has ordered.

The change from the British ball, which has a diameter of 1.62 inches, to the larger U.S. ball, with a diameter of 1.68 inches, was made following an inquiry into the humiliation of the British pros in the Ryder Cup matches against U.S. forces at Houston in October.

The U.S. team won 23½-8½. The British ball was used there, but Geoffrey Cotton, chairman of the British PGA, said, "There are many reasons for the U.S. supremacy in world golf, but the size of the ball is fundamental."

He urged that the Royal and Ancient Club of St. Andrews, which frames the rules of British golf, also make the U.S. ball mandatory at the British Open this year.

The smaller ball is reputed to be best in England, where wind conditions often are preverse. The larger U.S. ball sits up better on the lush fairways common in America and also can be controlled better on pitch shots to the green.

WMGA Elects '68 Officers

Mrs. George Todd of Plymouth will serve as president of the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association for 1968. Other officers are Mrs. Henry Pramick of Dearborn, vice president; Mrs. James Frye, Royal Oak, secretary; Mrs. Lee Pearsall of Oak Park, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. William Foster of Detroit, treasurer.

Watch Golf Foes With 'Snaky' Tactics

MARCO ISLAND, Fla. — (NEA) — A young pro on the golf tour quickly discovers that there are many snakes slithering in the rough.

Jerry McGee, starting his second year on the tour, reflected on the problems of self-preservation in golf.

"One of the first things you learn," he said, "is to beware of the veteran who is over the hill. When you start playing well, you pose a threat to him. You start beating him out of good pay checks."

"Well, you are taking the food out of his mouth, and he wants to protect himself. So what some try to do is upset the young pro."

"For example, after you've had a good round, he may come to you and say, 'I just don't see how you can hit the ball with your lousy grip,' or 'How can you putt with your left foot so close to the ball?'"

TRY FALSE

In one of my first tournaments last year, I was paired with one of these old pros. On the very first hole, I just missed a 20-foot putt. He said to me, "Thought you had that one, kid." He tried to shaft me with that 'kid' business. Luckily, I got hot and burned him good."

McGee added that many veterans do try to help the newcomers. Gardner Dickinson is one. Dickinson had warned McGee about the guerrilla tactics of pros going downhill.

"Everyone has his own style," Dickinson had told McGee. "You play your way and pay no attention to what those other guys say."

Another helpful veteran is Gay Brewer. "Gay knows how hard it is on the tour," said McGee. "He struggled for 10 years before he started winning regularly. He goes out of his way to give right advice."

There are other pitfalls awaiting the pro golfing tyro. One is the night life, as evidenced by the tires around some of their misdeeds.

JUMPING TOWNS

"A lot of the towns on the tour jump," said McGee. "This is really a temptation for some of the unmarried guys. At night, they spend a lot of time around the bars."

"I'm fortunate in this respect. I'm married and my wife and baby travel with me. So I spend my evenings with them."

"The tour takes an awful lot of getting used to."

Local Courses Host Open Qualifying

Indianwood, FLCC Sites

May 20th Is Slated for Initial Rounds

A pair of Oakland County courses will open their doors to amateur and professional golfers May 20 in the first step that leads to the U.S.G.A. Open Championship.

That May date is the 'local' qualifying round, and golfers in this area will have their first test on the links at Indianwood and Forest Lake.

Survivors of the 'local' qualifying action then move to a sectional round June 4 at Knollwood Country Club with the qualifiers there heading out to Rochester, N.Y., for the Open Championship which will be played at Oak Hill Country Club.

An anticipated entry of 2,500 is expected for the Open. Entry deadline is 5 p.m. May 1. All professionals and any amateurs whose handicap does not exceed two strokes are eligible to enter.

That anticipated 2,500 will, of course, be pared in the local and sectional qualifying rounds—both to be played at 36 holes—with those remaining making up part of the field of 150 that will start the Open proper.

There are 56 locations across the country for the local qualifying and 13 for the sectional tests. Along with the local at Indianwood and Forest Lake, a second is slated for Blytheheld Country Club in Grand Rapids.

Prize money in the Open Championship has been increased to approximately $190,000, depending on the number of professionals who turn in scores for the 72 holes. The total prize money represents an increase of $15,000 over last year. First prize is $30,000.

The players' success at Indianwood will depend on how well they putt, particularly on the 18th green, a mammoth carpet believed to be one of the largest putting surfaces in the world.

The Indianwood layout plays at 6,904 yards and a par of 72. The course is hilly and there's a lot of 'rough' rough and sand traps to catch the stray shots.

And it's all topped by the par-5, 18th hole and that huge rolling green.

Forest Lake also offers a stiff test for the players. The course also has its rolls and, like Indianwood, there's a lot of sand around.

Indianwood is an old course and has been the site of several important tournaments. Gene Sarazen won the Western Open there in 1930, and the club played host to the Michigan PGA three times.

The course record at Bloomfield Hills Country Club continues to age.

Sam Byrd set the 18-hole mark of 64 in 1951 and Sam Snead tied it in 1953.

Evans Awards to 2 Area Caddies

Two local boys are among 31 recipients of Chick Evans College scholarships today by the Golf Association of Michigan.

The announcement came from Frank E. Kenney Jr., of Detroit, chairman of the G.A.M.'s caddy-scholarship committee.

The local winners of the scholarships — valued at $3,500 — are Richard Bays, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Bays, 6640 Buckland, Orchard Lake; and Larry Anding, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernard M. Anding, 1767 Beverly in Pontiac.

Bays, a 1967 graduate of West Bloomfield, and Anding, a senior at West Bloomfield, played first-string basketball for the Lakers and both plan to attend Michigan State University.

Bays toled the bags at Orchard Lake Country Club, while Anding was a regular caddy at Pine Lake.

TO 'M' MSU Of the 31 scholarships awarded, 15 are for the University of Michigan and 16 to Michigan State.

The 31 awarded today brings to 455 the number of scholarships given by the G.A.M. since it affiliated in 1948 with the nationwide Evans Scholars Foundation which is administered by the Western Golf Association in Golf, Ill.

This fall, there will be more than 100 G.A.M. Evans Scholars enrolled at Michigan and Michigan State. These are two of 11 midwest universities at which the foundation owns chapter houses which are managed and maintained by the scholars.

Financial support for the program comes from more than 75,000 golfers, including 12,200 in Michigan who contribute annually to the James D. Standish, Jr. Fund.

To qualify for a scholarship,

Boros 2-Time Winner

11th Annual Buick Open Set July 4-7

While the names like Palmer, Player, Nicklaus, Boros and Casper will command most of the crowd, some of the younger less known pros are likely to grab much of the cash when the firing starts for the Buick Open in July.

While there's no ironclad guarantee Jack Nicklaus or Arnold Palmer will be on hand, the road has been seemingly cleared of obstacles that prevented the presence of the two last year. The event didn't fit their schedule last year.

And the fans flock around wherever the two are playing, but some of the younger pros are making the golfing world sit up and take notice of their play on the tour.

The $100,000, 11th annual Buick tourney is slated for July 4-7 at long Warwick Hills Golf & Country Club near Grand Blanc.

Among the young set is 23-year-old Tony Jacklin, who became the first professional from England to win on the U.S. pro golf circuit when he captured the Pensacola Open recently in Florida. The week prior he finished second in the Jacksonville Open.

Another is 25-year-old Tom Weiskopf, a product of Ohio

State University, who is the current leading money winner among the rising stars on the tour.

Weiskopf shot a 289 last year only by the late Tony Lema who took the title in 1964 and 1965.

That 289 brought Weiskopf the tidy sum of $3,433.33.

Frank Beard, 28, Jim Colbert, 27, and George Archer, 28, are among the rising stars on the tour. Beard and Archer ranked seventh and eighth on the list of money winners last season.

And while youth may, indeed, have its day, the oddsmakers will continue to stick to the likes of Julius Boros and Billy Casper.

Boros won last year for the second time, a record matched ticket.

Elect Officers

Heading the Michigan Caddy Superintendents for the 1968 season is Jim Dewling of Birmingham Country Club, who was elected to the post of president with the organization recently.

Jim Hawks of Detroit Golf Club is vice president; Larry Wilkinson of Red Run is secretary-treasurer; and Don McIntyre of Forest Lake is tournament chairman.

WMGA Tourneys Have Unusual '67

The unusual dominated the two major tournaments of the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association.

The defending champion in the medal play tournament was unable to enter the United States, and a penalty helped decide the match-play championship.

Mrs. Nick Panasuk of Elmstead, Ont., winner of the 1966 medal play crown, planned to return to defend the title, but the tournament came at the same time rioting broke out in Detroit and the champion could not convince customs' officials that her visit to Michigan was important.

So she remained in Canada while Mrs. Max Evans of Southfield was wrapping up the title.

Mrs. Evans also played an important role in the penalty that helped decide the match-play tournament.

One down to defending champion Mrs. Midge Cova of Novi going into the 18th hole of the final, Mrs. Evans played the wrong ball en route to the green and thus forfeited the hole.

There was no guarantee she would have won the hole, but the penalty wiped out any chance she had of tying in regulation and forcing a sudden-death playoff.

Wooden Arm Helps Golfer Drive Longer

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—A little ingenuity and a hunk of wood have helped one-armed golfer Dave Pulem become a much-better-than-average player.

He cracks drives 240-250 yards, and is shooting in the high 50s for nine holes.

"The next thing is to break 80," he said.

With one arm?

Well, almost. He lost his left arm at the elbow when a child. But he's fashioned a wooden arm which he straps on the stump, and connects to the golf club with a nylon loop and hook arrangement. He grips baseball fashion with his right hand.

The arrangement gives him 100 yards more than the 160 he used to get when he swung with his right arm only.

Plan Tournament for New Course

Don and Bob Vantine have put together a tough new nine holes at Twin Lakes. Later in the summer, after the new fairways have had a chance to green up, the two plan to have a tournament to set the record for the new nine.

Don holds the record for the front nine — a 29.

Marine Sgt. Brings Luck for Golf Pals

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—When it comes to golf, Sgt. Clyde Fisher of the Marine Corps supply center here, is beginning to wonder if he isn't a born loser.

Twice within recent weeks, Fisher has birdied a par three hole at the center's golf course—and, on both occasions, he lost the hole.

The first time was a short while ago when Fisher was playing in a foursome which included Sgt. Gill Dinger.

Fisher lofted his tee shot to within two feet of the cup. Dinger followed with a hole in one.

There was a repeat performance later. This time it was Sgt. Joe Howard who scored the ace.

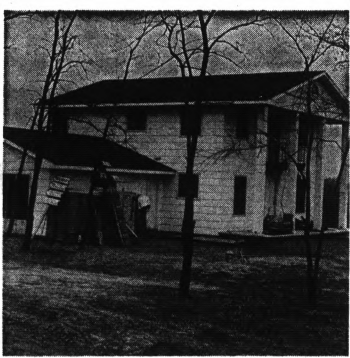

TOP TEAM — Taking the Michigan Public Golf Association team championship was this group of golfers representing Pontiac Country Club. In back row (l-r) are Glenn Vallance, Paul Bada, Clyde Skinner and George Hammitt. In front (l-r) are Truman Hammitt, Lloyd Syron and Charlie Barker. Syron is manager of FCC.

7 Women Picked for Cup Squad

NEW YORK (AP) — Seven in the 15th Curtis Cup women's players and three alternates competition at Newcastle, have been named for the Northern Ireland, June 14-15.

American amateur golf team. The team was named by the which will meet a British team U.S. Golf Association.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS — Open for play this season is the Bramblewood Country Club near Holly. The new clubhouse is ready and the course is open.

NEW CLUBHOUSE — Workmen are now putting the finishing touches on the new clubhouse at Twin Lakes. The clubhouse and a second nine holes are part of a $2.5 million expansion program.

Rookie Golfer Practice Proof

CHICAGO (AP) — Lee Trevino, who has been voted "Rookie of the Year" by the Professional Golfers Association, was an unknown in 1965, earning $30 a week. His 1967 earnings totaled nearly $30,000.

Former Green Bay Packer, Jesse Whitenton, says he discovered Trevino "quite by accident."

"He came to me looking for a job," said Whitenton, who is a partner with cousins Don and Jim in a golf club at Herndon City, Tex.

Today Trevino is assistant pro at the club known as Horizon Hills. The 26-year-old of Mexican parentage finished fifth last year among pros Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper.

Trevino is living proof that practice makes perfect. He took up golf while a Marine on Okinawa. Discharged, he took a job at a driving range and a par-three layout in El Paso. He hit as many as 2,000 balls a week, sharpening his game during a five-year apprenticeship to the 60s and low 70s.

Saudi Arabia has launched a national program to convert the desert to green farms.

CHANGING COURSE — Club manager Lloyd Syron stands alongside some of the construction that is under way at the 10th hole of Pontiac Country Club. The changes are designed to alleviate the drainage problem in the area.

Oakland Hills to Add 18 Holes

Oakland Hills Country Club, at Oakland Hills will have their one of the prestigious golf choice of playing either the courses in the United States, is north or south course at the doubling in size and mirroring Birmingham location, each a 7,000 yard-plus championship layout styled by master architect Robert Trent Jones.

By an overwhelming decision of its membership, work will begin shortly by the Jones crew to change the entire layout of North Hills to become a north course of Oakland Hills.

The new north course and the present Oakland Hills layout will become the south course will be bridged across Maple Road.

1968 TARGET

Work will begin shortly on the back holes of the north course with nine holes expected to be ready by spring of 1969 and the other nine by mid-summer next year.

The face of the north course will be entirely new but much layout.

In the same style of present Oakland Hills, which was also designed by Trent Jones.

"This won't be just another 18 holes for surplus play," said an Oakland Hills spokesman. "It will be the twin of Oakland Hills as it is now; strictly championship all the way."

The abundance of play presently at Oakland Hills should be eased with the new north layout; however 120 new memberships are expected to be added to Oakland Hills before the 1968 year is up.

All the present structures would remain where they are except for plans of building a caddy house and golf cart storage house on the north side of the clubhouse.

The present caddy shack would be removed for added parking.

LONG HISTORY

North Hills will close its doors this year. It was the first of the two courses, built in 1916. Oakland Hills came in 1918.

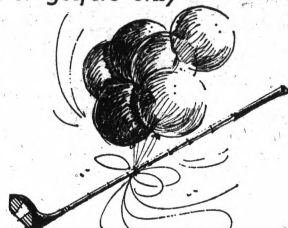

North Hills was private from the time it was constructed in the depression of the 1930's, when it was made semi-public. In 1933, Leo Conroy was hired as head pro and he's still there, one of the longest tenures at one club in Oakland County.

Oakland Hills, famous as the site of four National Open Championships, built the stately colonial-style clubhouse at a cost of $500,000 in 1920, four years after organization of the club began.

In January of 1952, after financial success of the 1951 National Open, Oakland Hills burned its final $124,000 mortgage in ceremonies at the club's annual meeting.

Trent Jones re-designed the course in time for the 1951 Open and it was "matured" in 1961.

Fast Honors for Souchak

Part-time touring pro Mike Souchak has been on the Michigan scene for just a short time, but he's made his presence felt, nevertheless.

Mike, 40, moved into the head pro position at Oakland Hills last year, and his first try at a state title, he bagged the Michigan Open.

And for his efforts, Mike was named the Michigan Section PGA's 'Player of the Year' at its meeting last fall.

Pontiac's Gene Bone won the award in 1966, the year he won the Michigan Open and the PGA. Leader in this category is Walter Burkemo of Detroit, who has won the honor six times.

$2.5 Million Program at Twin Lakes

The first couple of steps in a $2.5 million improvement program have been taken at Twin Lakes Country Club.

Owners Don and Bob Vantine have their $35,000 clubhouse, pro shop and locker room facilities tagged for a May 31 opening along with a second nine holes.

The Vantines have come up with a pair of contrasting nine-hole layouts.

The first nine is a relatively easy 3,095 yards with a par of 35. The back nine fills the bill for those so-called 'back breakers.'

The new nine is 3,435 yards playing to a par of 37, and the owners carved it out of 110 acres of water and trees. In time, the new nine will be one of the toughest tests of golf in the area.

Don, 43, is a graduate of Pontiac Central and he recently resigned a position with General Motors so he could devote more time to the building and operating of the golf course.

Bob, 45, is a vice president of Columbia Beneficial Holdings, Ltd., and British Columbia Life and Casualty Co.

Along with the building at the course, the Vantines have several building projects in as they proceed with development of a small piece of property located on Pontiac Lake Road just a few steps from the course.

2nd Watrous Event Arrowhead Plans Nine More Holes

The second annual Al Watrous Michigan PGA Pro-Pro championship is slated for Warwick Hill Sept. 9.

Taking the inaugural event last year were Mac McElmurry of Knollwood and Larry Tomassino of Ann Arbor.

The event was started last year in honor of Al Watrous, other two nines—approximately year retired after a long career of 3,300 yards — and he said the as head pro at Oakland Hills in Birmingham.

He said the new nine holes would be comparable to the new course which would bring the number of holes on the layout to 27.

13 Killed by Tornado

From Our News Wires
GREENWOOD, Ark. — A tornado that devastated this western Arkansas town yesterday killed at least 13 persons, police said today, as the search for additional victims resumed.

center established in the library here, state police said.
The tornado swooped out of a spring thunderstorm at 2:23 p.m. yesterday and slammed into the business district, leveling about half of the buildings on the town square and heavily damaging most of the others.

It also slashed through residential neighborhoods on either side of the square as it cut a trail of destruction half a mile long and 200 feet wide.
'It's the roughest thing we ever had,' said Mayor Ed Hall, who estimated that two-thirds of the town of 2,000 was destroyed.

A shuttle of ambulances carried the more seriously injured to Fort Smith, 18 miles to the north.
State Police Capt. Damon Wilson said the first search was not thorough and that he was fearful more bodies would be found today.

Suspect Pinpointed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI has pinpointed an ex-convict, high school dropout and Army reject as the phantom fugitive Eric Starvo Galt, target of a massive manhunt in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.
The FBI said yesterday a "systematic and exhaustive search" through its fingerprint files revealed Galt and 40-year-old James Earl Ray — drifter, loner, avid dancer and prison escape — as the same man.

of a 20-year sentence for a 1959 market holdup and auto theft in St. Louis — on April 23, 1967.
OTHER ALIASES
In addition to the aliases John Willard and Harvey Lowmyer listed on the FBI fugitive warrant, the bureau said Ray has also called himself James McBride, James Walton, W. C. Herron and James O'Connor.

In its first positive identification of the man sought by the FBI since the April 4 assassination of King in Memphis, Tenn., the bureau further pictured Ray as a 40-year-old white man in trouble with the law since his youth — and one who "should be considered armed and extremely dangerous."

There was no indication the FBI was any closer to catching Ray than it was Wednesday when it put the name Galt on a fugitive warrant charging him "and an individual whom he alleged to be his brother" with conspiring to deprive King of his civil right to travel from state to state.

Ray fled the Missouri Penitentiary — where he was serving the seventh year

N. Koreans Fire on U.N. Probers

PANMUNJOM, Korea (U) — The U.N. Command charged that North Koreans opened fire on U.N. members of a joint observation team today in the Korean demilitarized zone.
The U.N. observers were conducting an on-the-spot investigation of an earlier shooting incident today in which North Koreans wounded an American soldier on patrol duty in the buffer zone, the command said.

It said two North Koreans were wounded in the exchange of fire which ensued.

A spokesman said the second shooting incident was brief and no one was hurt.

The command had called for a joint observation team investigation of the first shooting, but no Communist members showed up at the proposed time, Smith said.

Smith told the Communists that the shooting on observation team members was a continuation of recent North Korean efforts to destroy the functions of the armistice commission.

'Offer to Hanoi Splits Officials'

NEW YORK (AP) — The Johnson administration is divided as the result of maneuvering over the selection of a site for preliminary negotiations with North Vietnam, the New York Times said today.

A Washington dispatch by Hedrick Smith said "administration sources have disclosed that top echelons of the State Department, apparently including Secretary of State Dean Rusk, were opposed to Thursday's proposal of 10 new sites for talks but were overruled by the White House."

Several officials have expressed misgivings privately, the story said, that the White House has apparently decided for the time being to match Hanoi in a propaganda battle that will be difficult to resolve without the aid of third parties.

Meanwhile, Johnson administration policymakers say the United States will consider any new sites Hanoi suggests.

This came after North Vietnam urged the United States today to accept Warsaw for peace talks, "so that preliminary contacts between the two sides may start soon."

OFFICIAL EDITORIAL

Hanoi's renewed insistence on Warsaw was made in an official Nyan Dan newspaper editorial which brushed aside 10 additional American-proposed alternatives as "unsuitable."

The Nhan Dan editorial followed a statement by a North Vietnam foreign ministry spokesman which said the 10 new sites, proposed by secretary of state Dean Rusk, did not even meet U.S. conditions.

The bell tower and third story of the ancient courthouse toppled into the street.
'JUST EXPLODED'
Wallace Gattis of nearby Barling, who was at an ice cream parlor when the storm struck, said, "the courthouse just exploded. It just popped out, like dynamite exploding."

Harold Davis of Greenwood said he drove into town minutes after the storm struck and saw people walking dazedly around the square.
"One woman was stumbling over fallen electrical wires," he said. "I yelled for her to be careful, but she just kept saying, 'oh, my God. Oh, my God,' and went on."

A company of Marine reservists were called from weekend training at nearby Fort Chaffee to guard against looting during the night.
TREATED IN CORRIDORS
The number of injured was such that many had to be treated in corridors at Fort Smith's Sparks Hospital, where most of the victims were taken.

The storm brushed through a residential area in southwest Greenwood before it slammed into the business district and then moved on to the northeast. Most of the dead were found in the first area hit.

Communications were knocked out and traffic jams developed on highways leading out of Greenwood, hampering rescue efforts.

Talks 'Nonpolitical,' Say Nixon, Romney

BY JIM LONG

Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Romney agreed last night that money alone will not solve the nation's urban problems.
The leading Republican contender for the presidency and the ex-candidate met for nearly three hours yesterday at the governor's home in Bloomfield Hills.

Both told newsmen at a press conference later that the meeting was non-political and only for the purpose of a "free expression of viewpoints."

Romney squelched reports that Nixon was there to seek his endorsement and a commitment of the Michigan delegation to the August GOP convention in Miami.
"There was no discussion of Vietnam or, for that matter, anything political," said Romney.

'AGREED ON MANY THINGS'

Pointing out that he has and will continue to meet with Republican leaders during his campaign for the purpose of "getting together on principles," Nixon said that he and Romney "agreed on many things" during the talk.

When pressed for his views on the Vietnam situation, Nixon said that he felt that no public discussion on Vietnam

by him or Romney would be appropriate at this time.

At his arrival at the Oakland-Pontiac Airport shortly before 6 p.m. where a crowd estimated at 150 persons greeted him, the former vice president explained that "the question is not our goal in Vietnam but how we can achieve that goal."

Nixon said that only one man — the President — can do anything about the war and "I'm not going to say anything that would criticize the President or do anything to undermine our chances in Vietnam."

'GREATEST CONCERN'

Though foreign policy was reviewed at the meeting, both men indicated that domestic problems were their greatest concern.

Nixon said that Romney had many ideas about city problems "and I believe many can be effective."

"We are both realists, and as realists, believe that remedies for cities through money is remote," added Nixon.
"And it is wrong to keep telling people living in ghettos that all their problems will be solved with a massive outpour of money."

IN AGREEMENT

Romney said he was in accord with Nixon, and noted that communities must take part in establishing programs to assist people themselves.

He said both Pontiac and Flint have made great strides in this direction.
He cited the program at Pontiac Motor Division where 369 "hard-core unemployed" have been hired as part of the plant's job-opportunity program.

Earlier in the day, Romney met with community leaders in Pontiac to find out what is being done about problems in the city.

PRaised ROMNEY

While declining to publicly urge anybody into the vice presidential spot on the Republican ticket, Nixon did praise Romney.

"Gov. Romney ran a very vigorous race for the nomination," Nixon said. "He made a decision not to continue in that race. But that decision — and I'm very thankful for this — did not take him out of politics."

"He is a very powerful force in the country and the Republican party," added Nixon.

Asked if he would find Gov. Romney acceptable as a vice presidential candidate with him, Nixon answered, "I'd be glad to be in a fight with Gov. Romney on my side anytime."

Following the news conference, Nixon left about 10:30 p.m. for Minneapolis where he was to address a joint convention of the Minnesota-North Dakota Young Republicans tonight.

Talks Broached in Phone Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Telephone company and union officials have expressed hope they can get wage negotiations going again as a nationwide strike of nearly 200,000 A.P.C.O. Communications Workers enters its third day.

"We are ready to meet with them," Ben S. Gilmer, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., said yesterday.

"We are hopeful the parties can get back together," said a spokesman for union President Joseph A. Beltrac.

Most telephone service was little affected by the first nationwide strike in 21 years.

Picketing in about 40 states was reported generally good-natured and peaceful, but the company reported scattered cable-cutting incidents in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, New Jersey and Florida.

BRUSHED BY CARS

In Detroit, two picketing strikers claimed they were brushed by cars.

DEVASTATED TOWN—The town of Greenwood, Ark., is a scene of devastation two hours after a killer tornado cut a swath through the community of 2,000 yesterday. The tornado followed a path leading from lower center to upper left in the picture. At least 13 were killed and 270 injured by the twister. Searchers fear they will find more dead today.

Today's Showers to Dwindle Away

Showers and thundershowers forecast for today will dwindle away late tonight, leaving skies partly cloudy.

The weatherman reports the following day-by-day prediction:

TODAY — Rain and a few thundershowers, ending late tonight. Low 45 to 52.

MONDAY — Partly sunny with little temperature change.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent: Today and tonight 70, tomorrow 10.

Forty-six was the low temperature prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The thermometer recorded 57 at 12:30 p.m.

Young Authors to Hear Outstanding Storyteller

Bill Martin Jr., who is considered one of America's outstanding storytellers in addition to being a successful writer and editor of children's books, will address the second Young Author's Conference at Oakland University Monday.

More than 700 youngsters from about 150 elementary schools in southeastern Michigan have won invitations to the conference through competition in their individual classrooms.

They were selected by their classmates, not their teachers, on the basis of their skills and originality in putting together books containing their own writings.

Martin's portion of the all-day program, a rather adult lecture to be given at 9:45 a.m. and 1 p.m. in Matilda R. Wilson Hall auditorium, will be the highlight of the day. He will talk on creative writing.

The pupils also will split up into groups, taking over 42 university classrooms, for writing sessions.

Martin has written 18 children's books. He is an editor of elementary classroom materials for Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc.

He was formerly the star of "The Storyteller," which was broadcast for many years over educational television stations throughout the country.

Vietcong Using Poisonous Snakes as Weapon

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The Vietcong used a poisonous snake called the bamboo viper to body-tray their caves against pursuing U.S. soldiers, an Army major said today.

The snakes—three to four feet long—are hung from the cave's ceiling by the tails, which agitates them and makes them more likely to bite, said Maj. James A. Vik, a pharmacologist at the Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington.

The Southeast Asian theater of operation has seven poisonous snakes in all and they constitute a strong psychological factor for American troops, Vik said in a speech for the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

The worst, and one of the most venomous in the world, is the blue krait in Vietnam. This small, bluish-black snake is barely four feet long and injects only a small amount of venom. But it is so potent that it can kill a monkey in 10 to 12 minutes.

50 BITES A YEAR

He estimated that there were some 50 snakebites among U.S. troops in South Vietnam each year but that the figures were not necessarily accurate.

Of the 50, perhaps five were fatal, he said. Vik who has not been to Vietnam, said that the Army may send experts to study the snake situation.

The trouble with the standard antivenoms, useful against U.S. snakes, is that they are not effective enough against the Asian snakes. Working with the venom of the Asian snakes, the Army hopes to have antivenom against all of them within a year.

Besides the krait and the bamboo viper, the troops encounter the Indian cobra, the king cobra, the fer de lance and the habu. The two cobras rate just behind the krait in deadliness, their bites almost always fatal, their manners aggressive and their size the largest, running to 12 feet long. The troops do not usually encounter the sea snake which inhabits the beach areas of Vietnam.

They found that the venoms also attacked the heart.

For the snake-bitten soldier, the bite of any of the six land snakes means usually that he will be unable to walk within a half hour. The bites are extremely painful and the venom tremely depresses the heart rate and blood pressure.

Victims are taken to a aid station by helicopter. The bite is cut open, suction used to draw out the poison and a tourniquet applied loosely to restrict the spread. Then antivenom is given if it is available, and sometimes steroid hormones, useful in fighting inflammation, are administered, Vik said.

GM Proving Roads Can Be Safe at Site

A traffic safety Shangri-la, the General Motors Proving Ground at Milford, is the site for testing qualities built into GM cars, buses and trucks.

In an area one-third the size of Manhattan, the vehicles travel millions of test miles yearly.

They are driven day and night, in any weather, and over any type of road conditions they could encounter in normal usage.

The testing, conceived originally to prove the qualities of the vehicles, has also proved that motor vehicle traffic can be made safe through advances in road design, traffic control and other essential elements of an updated highway program, claim GM officials.

The Proving Ground's facilities and operating regulations offer progressive guidelines for states now seeking to improve their roadways and revise their traffic safety programs to conform with the federal standards.

DUPLICATION UNLIKELY

A number of factors, including land availability limit the likelihood that the nation's streets and highways will match the advanced design of those at the proving grounds, say GM spokesmen.

In addition, GM officials deem it unlikely that the average motorist will achieve the skill of a GM test driver or that the average automobile will receive the maintenance given the test vehicles.

Nevertheless, even partial attainment by a state traffic program of the proving ground's roadway, driver and vehicle standards should result in a significant improvement in traffic safety, say the auto company officials.

Joey Pins Success to a Long Initial Contract

By BOB THOMAS
AP Wire-Televison Writer
HOLLYWOOD—If I hadn't had a 39-week contract, I wouldn't be on the air today," says Joey Bishop, who is alive and thriving on late-night ABC.

The first anniversary of Bishop's brave foray into Carson country, was Wednesday and he received a personal anniversary present from the network: a 39-week extension of his contract, putting his show into the fall of 1969.

Between celebrations, the sad-faced comic paused to reflect on the events of his year of entertaining the insomniacs. A veteran of four rugged years with a weekly series, he takes a realistic view of the television rate-card.

"If I had only a 26-week contract with ABC, I'm sure the network would have dropped me," he reasoned. "When you're set for only 26 weeks, that means that the executives will be making their decisions during the first 13 weeks. That could have been fatal for me."

SLOW STARTER

The Bishop show was a slow starter. Reviews of the opening performance were generally unfavorable, and Joey thinks he knows why.

"Everyone who does this kind of show began quietly," he said. "Jack Paar started very slowly so did Merv Griffin and Johnny Carson; Mike Douglas began on the air, and the critics and viewers were told: This is what you've been waiting for." There was bound to be some hostility.

"I was against selling the show; I thought it was a mistake to come on too strong. I said, Let's go on quietly and have the show start to build."

I was going to do. Finally I went on the air, and the critics and viewers were told: This is what you've been waiting for." There was bound to be some hostility. Bishop refused to panic when ratings thumped into the cellar. He continued working hard on preparation, spending long days at his Vine Street headquarters. His campaign to build an audience wasn't aided by a network strike which kept his show off the air for three weeks; the rating dropped while reruns played.

But then the show started to climb. The Johnny Carson show on NBC continues to top the ratings, but ABC officials are eminently satisfied with Joey's performance, as evidenced by this week's renewal.

Bishop obviously enjoys his work. "Without being too hammy about it, I would say that the greatest satisfaction with the show is in being able to do some good for humanity," he remarked. "Like when an orphanage notified us that tickets to its benefit were selling poorly."

Certain Insult to Guests if You Do This

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Some former neighbors from another state will weekend with us soon. They are fine people whom we like very much. Our apartment is small and to make them as comfortable as possible we will give them the master bedroom.

My husband's hobby in this room has several small drawers in which he keeps his antique watch collection and several other items of value — too many to be stored elsewhere temporarily. My husband plans to lock the drawers which house his valuables.

I feel that if our friends find the drawers locked they will consider it an implication that we suspect they could be tempted to take something and feel terribly hurt. What is the proper thing to do? — Mrs. N.

Dear Mrs. N.: You are right — it would be positively insulting to your friends to lock the drawers and they would have every right to feel hurt. To put your husband's mind at ease ask him to remove the most valuable pieces in his collection.

When your friends arrive say "Bob has left some of his things in those drawers but I have emptied the others for you." They will probably never open "his" drawers but even if they do I am sure they wouldn't think of touching his treasured watches.

DIFFICULTY

Dear Mrs. Post: I have often observed that when a man and woman approach a door the man holds the door open and lets the woman pass through first. Since it is such a strain for me not only to hold open the door but also to squeeze myself against it so as to leave enough room for the woman to pass through.

I handle the problem by going through first and then holding open the door for the lady. Am I doing the right thing? — Roger

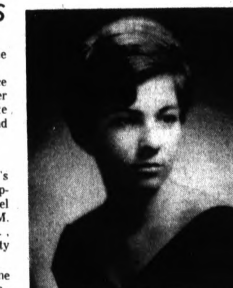

Dear Roger: Yes you are doing the right thing. A man should open a light door or one that stays open itself and stand aside to let the woman pass through. But if the door is heavy or hard to hold, he opens it, steps through and holds it for his companion.

YWCA Will Hold Racial Discussions to Ease Tensions

NEW YORK (AP) — The Young Women's Christian Association has announced that it will begin a discussion program to help ease racial tensions in communities around the nation.

Mrs. Robert W. Clayton of Grand Rapids, Mich., the first Negro to head the 2.2-million-member organization, said some 5,000 interracial YWCA "dialogue groups" will be set up Wednesday to bring together community persons of various racial groups and philosophies — including "constructive militants."

She said that the organization believed some action should be taken to allay fears and attempt to prevent riots that have beset the nation.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hart of Three Rivers announce the betrothal of their daughter, Carolyn Kay, to Jerome Emory Carter. He is the son of Mrs. George W. Carter of Coventry Street and the late Mr. Carter. The bride elect is a senior at Michigan State University. Her fiancé has attended Central Michigan University and Oakland Community College. Vows are slated June 15.

Clue Your Niece In on This Man She'll Be Able to Take It From There

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I don't know if I have a problem or not. My next door neighbor is a sweet young woman who comes over quite often as her husband frequently "works" nights and she doesn't like to be alone. I am a widow, and I love having her, so that's not the problem.

But the other day I visited my niece in a nearby town, and who should be her guest for the evening, but my neighbor's husband! He had seen me only when I'm throwing my trash out in the alley, so he didn't recognize me all dressed up with my "face" on.

Should I tell my niece about him? Should I tell his wife? Or should I just keep my mouth shut?

WANTS TO KNOW

DEAR WANTS: Tell your niece that you "think" her friend is your neighbor's husband and let her take it from there.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been happily married for four years, although thus far we have not been blessed with the children we both wanted right away.

After a year, I saw my physician, and he assured me that I was perfectly normal, and he could find no reason why I couldn't conceive. (He is a specialist in this field, and gave me all the tests.)

After another year, and no baby, more tests were made. My doctor's conclusions were the same, only this time he wife so many beautiful sheer nightgowns

Lassies Unlimited for Rich Suitor in Need of a Wife

DUNDEE, Scotland (UPI) — The Lord Provost of Dundee concluded today Scotland has plenty of compassionate redheads and blondes, aged 18 to 27.

The qualifications were listed by John J. Andrews, a 25-year-old California real estate appraiser, who wrote Lord Provost Alexander MacKenzie he was seeking a Scottish wife.

MacKenzie said today he had received more than 350 letters from Scottish girls responding to Andrews' offer.

In his letter Andrews said he had inherited $105,000 from an aunt of Scottish descent, who asked that he marry a girl from Scotland. Andrews said he was looking for a "compassionate redhead or blonde" aged 18 to 27.

asked me to have my husband come in for similar tests.

Abby, when I suggested this, my husband hit the ceiling and said, "There is nothing wrong with me — I am man enough for any woman," etc.

We are still childless, after four years, and my husband still refuses to see a doctor. I have tried to tell him that even if he were found to be sterile, it wouldn't reflect on his so-called "manhood," but that hasn't helped.

Have you any suggestions as to how I can get him to change his mind about seeing a doctor?

STILL HOPING

DEAR STILL: You probably can't, and any urging you may do in that direction will only toughen his resistance. Get someone else to talk to him—preferably a medically trained person.

DEAR ABBY: I had to laugh at that letter from the husband who complained because over the years he'd bought his but she just kept them in their original

'Little T' Series Hero While Tiger Pitcher

The late Harry Hellmuth called him "Little T" from Tennessee while broadcasting Detroit Tiger baseball games.

His best pitch was a "jug-handled" curve and it carried him to three 20-victory seasons and a tie with George Mullin for most career shutouts by Tiger pitchers, 34.

Bridges started with Detroit in 1930 and posted a 34 record. His best seasons were 1934-35 when he chalked up 22-11, 21-10 and 23-11 records. He appeared in four World Series and posted a 4-2 record.

LAST PENNANT

The University of Tennessee graduate ended his playing days in 1946 with a 1-1 mark. He was in the service during 1944 and returned in time to help the Bengals with their last American League pennant in 1945.

Old time Tiger fans still remember Bridges' performance in the ninth inning of the sixth and final game of the 1935 World Series.

The Tigers led the Chicago Cubs 3-2 in games and this contest was tied 3-all. Bridges, despite being racked for 11 hits, was still on the mound.

Stan Hack led off with a triple. But Bridges fanned Bill Jurges, threw out opposing pitcher, Larry French and induced Augie Galan to fly out.

The Tigers won their first World Series in the last of the ninth when Goose Goslin singled home Mickey Cochran.

Service for Bridges, who was born in Gordonsville, Tenn., Dec. 28, 1886, will be tomorrow at Hermitage Methodist Church, Carthage, Tenn.

Survivors include the widow; a daughter, Mrs. Wilburn Smith of Mount Juliet, Tenn.; and his mother, Mrs. J. B. Bridges of Nashville.

Beanball Epidemic in Tmbe-Bosox

Four Batters Hit, Others Ducking in Boston's Win

BOSTON (AP) — Four batters were hit by pitched balls and others were ducking for cover all through Friday's Cleveland-Boston game at Fenway Park as baseball's early season epidemic of beanball incidents continued unabated.

Nobody on either side would make any charges, but Red Sox outfielders Carl Yastrzemski and Reggie Smith agreed there seems to be more brushing back than usual this season.

Yaz, who was knocked down three times in Cleveland last weekend and was hit in the arm by Chicago's Gary Peters Thursday, had to hit the dirt again Friday to avoid a high inside fastball by the Indians' Sonny Siebert.

Ask if pitchers were working him inside more this season he said:

"They're not pitching inside to get me out any more, but they're brushing me back more. It seems there's more brushing back going on all over. Every time you pick up a paper you read about someone getting hit."

Smith, hit on the elbow by a Siebert pitcher in the first inning of the 9-2 Boston victory, said enemy hurlers "are jamming me like they've never done before."

OUT OF BOX

"I'm not saying they're trying to hit me," he said, "but it seems I've been jumping out of the batter's box quite a few times this year."

After hitting Smith, Siebert was struck by a Gary Waslewski pitch when he came to bat in the second inning. Umpire Bill Haller immediately called both managers to the plate for a conference.

"I just told them I didn't want things to get out of hand," Haller said later.

Despite the discussions, Waslewski hit Cleveland catcher Duke Sims later and Indian reliever Hal Kutz hit Mike Andrews. In addition, Yastrzemski and Joe Foy both were forced to hit the dirt and numerous other batters had to pull away from tight pitches.

Cleveland Manager Al Dark had no comment on the incident and Red Sox pitcher Dick Williams played it down. "Haller started it," Williams said. "Let's not throw at each other." Williams said. "Dark said, 'We're not.' I didn't stop. Dark didn't complain. Everything was okay until second base umpire Larry Napp came in all excited. There was no reason for him to come in."

'300' Game Is Rolled in ABC Classic Event

CINCINNATI (AP) — Touring pro Bill Tucker fired a 300 Friday in classic doubles of the American Bowling Congress tourney to become the 21st person to roll a perfect game in the ABC's 65-year history.

Tucker, 41, Los Angeles, combined with Don Johnson of Kokomo, Ind., to shoot a 1,329 total and the doubles lead. Tucker also had games of 216 and 181.

PLAYMAKER

The answer probably is...twofold.

Chamberlain played the way he has all season, setting up plays out of the pivot.

Chamberlain said he was aware he wasn't getting many shots. "That's the way our plays ran. I tried to hit the open man. I never told him I can't do what I'm not told to do, and I'm not faulting anybody. The plays weren't for me. They were good plays but they didn't materialize."

AIRFLOW

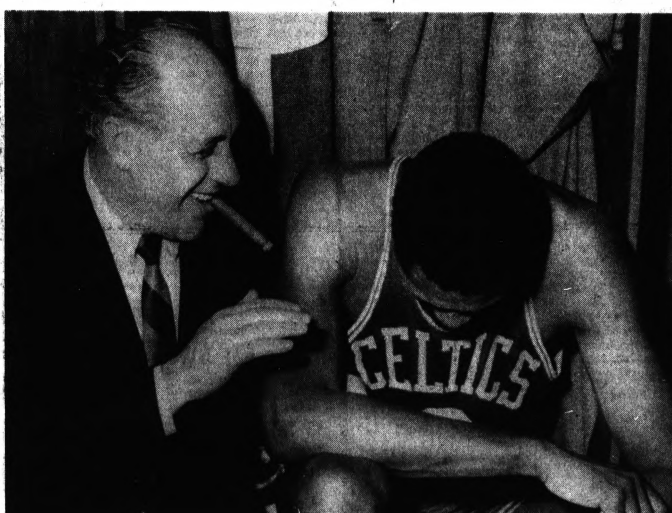

Behind the cockpit is a combined roll bar and air-flow straightener. This futuristic structure is connected to integrated lateral fins which provide greater stability in cross-wind conditions.

Over-all length of the dream car is 199.8 inches; while over-all height at the center of the roll bar is 36.4 inches. The elongated hood is 10 inches longer than the current production Firebird.

Build on a 106-inch wheelbase, the experimental Firebird is powered by a high-output 400 cubic-inch V-8 engine.

VICTORY PUFF—Boston Celtics general manager Red Auerbach puffs his victory cigar as he congratulates the first player-coach Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics, whose team defeated the 76ers in Philadelphia for the Eastern Division championship of the NBA, 100-96. The Celtics will now face the LA Lakers of the Western Division for the NBA title.

Shock 76ers, 100-96

Celtics Add to NBA History

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Boston Celtics' achievements take up plenty of space in the National Basketball Association record books. And just when it looked as if the Philadelphia 76ers were about to start a dynasty of their own the old boys came up with another piece of history.

The aging Celtics edged the 76ers 100-96 Friday night in the seventh and final game of their Eastern Division championship playoffs, becoming the first team in NBA history to win a seven-game series after trailing 3-1.

As amazing as the Celtics' comeback was the Wilt Chamberlain puzzle. The greatest offensive player the game has ever known took one shot and scored only two points in the second half. He wound up with 14 points.

Catch Alex Hannum said he was as puzzled as the 15,202 fans at the Spectrum. "From my point of view we got the ball in there for him to handle," Hannum said. "We played 'center-in-basket-ball.' It was a question of hitting the open man. I never told him not to shoot the ball. The answer is simple—He didn't shoot the ball. There was no intention on my part to take the ball out of the pivot."

Chamberlain said he was aware he wasn't getting many shots. "That's the way our plays ran. I tried to hit the open man. I never told him I can't do what I'm not told to do, and I'm not faulting anybody. The plays weren't for me. They were good plays but they didn't materialize."

Kaline Needs One for Home Run Tie

(Special to the Pontiac Press)

CHICAGO — Al Kaline might not be wielding the big bat of teammates Bill Freehan, Willie Horton or Mickey Stanley in this early part of the season, but the veteran outfielder who played in his 2,000th Tiger game Friday, could match another milestone over the weekend.

The Detroit Tigers were rained out in their opening game of the series with the White Sox yesterday, but in today's game or in the twilight scheduled for Sunday, Kaline, who is batting .214, could blast the home run which will put him in a tie with Hank Greenberg as the all time top Bengal in this department.

Kaline hit the 305th homer of his career Friday against Cleveland and his 300th would match Greenberg.

The Tigers are in a first place tie with the Minnesota Twins in the current American League race and the big bats have been Freehan's with a .429 average and Horton's at .407.

Stanley, who has been playing only against left handed starting pitchers, is hitting at a .400 clip.

SHADE BEHIND

Detroit as a team is also a shade behind Minnesota in the team batting department of the American League.

The Tigers as a team have a .271 average compared to .283 for the Twins, while the White Sox are in last place in club hitting with a .170 average.

Harmon Killebrew and Willie Horton share the league's RBI lead with eight each.

Both managers, Mayo Smith of the Tigers and Eddie Stanky of the White Sox indicated they would go with their original plans for starting pitchers, left-handers Mickey Lolich of the Tigers and Tommy John of the White Sox.

Three-Year Contract Given by Pistons to Moore, No. 1 Choice

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Pistons Friday signed Otto Moore, their top draft choice, to a three-year contract.

No terms for the 6-11 Pan American College standout were announced. Moore was picked by the Pistons in a special first round pre-draft conducted by the National Basketball Association two weeks ago.

Moore wound up his college career by breaking two school scoring records at Pan American.

"Otto has a great deal of potential and we feel certain that he'll become a great player in the NBA as soon as he gets some experience," said Pistons coach Donnis Dutchak.

Swim Greatness Predicted for 2 California Teen Girls

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Swimming greatness is predicted for two California teen-age girls in this year's Olympic Games.

Debbie Meyer and Claudia Kolb "might be the two greatest women swimmers in the world today," says Harry Hainsworth, national aquatic director of the Amateur Athletic Union, who has been watching the two girls smash national records in the AAU's women's spring championship.

"Debbie and Claudia could conceivably win four or five gold medals each in this year's Olympic Games at Mexico City," Hainsworth said.

It would mean each girl would equal or better the brilliant performances of Yale swimmer Don Schollander when he won four gold medals in the 1964 Games.

Debbie, 15-year-old Sacramento schoolgirl churned her way to a national record of 1:52.1 Friday in the 200-yard freestyle. In such short races, records usually are set by a fraction of a second. But Debbie whacked a full two seconds off the old mark.

The day before, she bettered the 500-yard freestyle record by a stunning 12.8 seconds, splashing to victory in 4:54.1.

When Debbie breaks records, she does it in a big way. On tap today is the 1,500-yard freestyle. Debbie already holds the record of 17:38.1.

Hainsworth said he believes Debbie will be the first woman in the world to swim the 1,500 yards in less than 17 minutes.

Debbie, who holds four world freestyle records, said, "The only goal I have is to make the Olympic team and win a gold medal."

Miss Kolb, 17, of Santa Clara, is no stranger to the Olympics. At 12, she won a silver medal in 1964 and holds two world records.

Friday, she came from behind at the halfway mark and splashed her way to a national 400-yard individual medley mark of 4:33.2.

In Thursday's competition, Miss Kolb established a record in the 200-yard individual medley of 2:06.5, bettering her own mark of 2:09.7.

Moore wound up his college career by breaking two school scoring records at Pan American.

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Academy aftermath—There is this about Oscar: He can spring surprises. That and the aura of a 46-year tradition continue to make the motion picture awards presentation the most exciting—though sometimes exasperating—of all the awards.

This year's ceremonies provided much to remember. Most of the awards were predictable, except for best picture and best actress. Nearly all the seers had named "The Graduate" or "Bonnie and Clyde" as the likely winners.

With the benefit of Monday-morning quarterbacking, it is easy to see why the academy voters chose "In the Heat of the Night."

THOMAS

First, you must understand the nature of the electorate. Hollywood is now a mature community, and the academy reflects that.

Likewise it is understandable why the voters in an outpouring of sentiment chose Katharine Hepburn as best actress for "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner." There could be no other reason for the award.

County's 56 Courses in Action

Two Layouts End Careers to Housing Developments

Knock the dust off those clubs guys! Golfing season has arrived, and all of the 33 public and semi-public and 23 private courses within 18 miles radius of Pontiac in Oakland County.

Add another 8 clubs next to county lines and the 25 mile radius has 64 fine layouts.

Most of the local clubs held the line on green fees, although a few did tack on 25 cents for weekday and weekend plan.

Oakland County lost a couple of courses during the winter months, while one new one will open in May. Giving way to asphalt and cement were River Bank and Lancaster Hills, both located in Southfield. Housing developments are slated for both along with an auto dealership on part of the Lancaster layout, which fronts Telegraph.

Changes at individual courses are, for the main part, many and anything but minor.

The biggest over-all change golfers will notice at the links will be the presence of watering systems, which, hopefully, will do away with the brown 'green' of August on the fairways.

TOURNEY'S SLATED

Along with the course changes, there are a number of professional and amateur tournaments on the summer schedule to whet the appetite of the golfing watchers.

A big move in the improvement area was made by Carl Rose, owner of Carl's Golfland on Telegraph across from Miracle Mile.

Rose, who has had the driving range at that location for the past 11 years and a par-3 course for the past three, has installed a heated area along the tee line which will take the chill out of those cool days.

With the heated areas, it makes the range available earlier in the spring and later in the fall.

Shenandoah Country Club, located near Walled Lake, has a new clubhouse plus locker rooms and men's grill and everything is expected to be ready to go by next Thursday.

Pro at Shenandoah is Bill Mattson, and the manager is Max Richardson, who moved to the club after a long tour in the same position at Pine Lake Country Club.

Indianwood Country Club near Lake Orion may resemble a desert in spots. Officials have moved in some 510 tons of sand to dress up the traps. The course is also completely watered now.

Paint Creek Country Club begins its 2nd year of operation under pro Don D'Onofrio who returned to the area after 3 years in Arizona. Don was former pro and manager at Stonycroft.

A new clubhouse and lounge are under construction at Silver Lake on Walton Boulevard. Along with the buildings, new drainage and sprinkling systems have been installed.

Bald Mountain, always a beautiful course but one which suffered from the burning sun, now has a complete watering system which should put some lushness into the layout.

Four tees have been lengthened at Tam O'Shanter in Orchard Lake, which is in line for the PGA National Championship.

NEW SHOP

A new pro shop and an addition to the ladies lockerroom are among the changes at Birmingham Country Club, which will host the U.S.G.A. Women's Amateur in August.

Renovation of the interior of the clubhouse at Morey's is completed.

Golfers Careless About Repairing Course Injury

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Twenty per cent of golfers do not replace their divots and 25 per cent do not rake their footprints from sand traps.

And the increasingly popular golfcart is partially responsible, says Norman Kramer, superintendent of Point-O-Woods Country Club, Benton Harbor, Mich.

"Cart-owners are in too much of a hurry to get back into their little rigs and scoot on," says Kramer.

Chatting about a superintendent's problems between sessions of the recent Gold Course Superintendents Association of America convention, Kramer said most club officials frown on the use of plastic tees.

He said the plastic bends or wedges and is hard on mowing equipment, whereas wooden tees break and any portion remaining in the ground rots.

WORST THINGS

What are the worst things a golfer can do, thoughtlessly, to a green?

Lean on his club; the sole leaves an awful indentation.

Drag his feet, leaving scuff marks and spike tears.

Fail to repair the peck mark a high, backpacking approach shot leaves.

Angry jam the flagstick toward the cup, miss and instead tear the edge of the hole.

Kramer said the nation's 9,000 golf courses spend $225 million a year for maintenance, much of it to repair damage by thoughtless or careless golfers.

MAKING A POINT — Head pro Gene Bone and owner Ernie Fuller seem to be enjoying this bit of work as they inform the public that Bay Pointe will be open only to men this season.

Baypointe Rule—'for Men Only'

Picture this, fellas! A golf course — a quiet place, green, well-manicured fairways situated amid a couple of lakes with a pleasant watering trough at the 19th green. And nary a woman in sight.

That's right. No women! It exists and it's local and word is the only way a woman may make her presence felt will be by telephone.

It's an experiment, locally at least, and one which should make happy those members of the stronger sex who so long have complained of having to play on a course frequently visited by slow-moving ladies.

This one is Bay Pointe Golf Club, located at 4000 Haggerty

Road, and owner Ernie Fuller has put up a "Men Only" sign for the '68 season.

ONLY ONE

There are a few others around the country, but this is the only one locally that has banned the girls.

In a more diplomatic way

Several Club Pros Change 'Home' Sides

There were several changes in head pro jobs around the county during the offseason.

—Jack Corbett, former assistant at Orchard Lake Country Club and head pro at Arrowhead last season, has moved to Maple Lanes.

—Dick Delano, also an ex-Orchard Lake aide and who was head pro at Holly Greens last season, has taken a position with a glass firm. He'll continue as a weekend pro at Bramble Country Club in Holly.

—Dean Clement of Toledo has taken the post at San Marino replacing John Jawor who moved to another course.

—John Monitz, head man at Lancaster Hills in Southfield for the past two years, is now assistant at Knollwood. Lancaster was purchased by Ford Motor Company and closed.

NEW PRO

—Sy Shore of Utica is the new pro at Rochester Country Club.

—Ted Ardonyo, who toiled as the head pro at Lincoln Hills in Birmingham last season, is now caddy master at Oakland Hills.

—Carl Walter, owner of Highland Hills, has hired a professional — his son Bob.

By FLETCHER SPEARS

That bit of "when it rains it pours" sizes up fairly well the predicament in which golf coach Joe Shanabrook of Avondale High School found himself this spring.

Not a predicament, really, but a set of circumstances which did nothing to lend to Joe's peace of mind.

First of all, there was the matter of the school's golf team. Joe had one of the top golfers in the area in Gary Balliet and the prospect of a fine season was bright.

parents sold their home and moved.

And there was more for Joe. Voters in the district turned down an operating millage proposal and with the rejection, the board of education followed with reductions and golf got caught in the cutback along with other spring sports.

With the advent of the ball that is uncuttable, it should be obvious that the sport of golf is wide open for the inventor.

Some of the things which we don't have:

AUTOMATIC RETRIEVER

—A ball with 200 feet of string that would permit the player to retrieve it from water, woods, etc.

—A ball with a magnetic center that will lock onto the metal cup on the green insuring a better putting average.

—A cheap material that would serve as a cover for a par-3 course, enabling players to play all winter regardless of weather in Michigan.

—A book on how to score holes-in-one, eagles, birdies, etc.

Kids are innocent little folks. Dan Kearns, one of my boss' sons, showed his adventurous side a short while back while he was caddy for his father, while the two of us were playing golf.

I seemed to be the object of his 'luck' that day. On the second hole, I luckily hit an approach shot that looked like a couple of feet from the pin. Dan didn't see the shot and he beat me to the green and 'found' my ball. "Hey dad, I found a ball," he yelled.

REUNITED

His dad reunited me and the ball but I found myself with a longer putt. Humm.

And later, after I had missed a putt, I marked the ball with a dime so it wouldn't interfere with my boss' line. Dan didn't see me do that either.

Lion Gridders Defenders of Pine Lake Title

Contestants in the 19th annual Pine Lake Invitational Golf tournament scheduled for June 20-22, will have to get the crown out of the "Lions Den."

Owners of the 1967 title are Detroit Lions football stars Dick LeBeau and Jim Gibbons who won a dramatic 2-up victory over Wally Wheeler of Pine Lake and Jeff Welsher of Lochmoor last year.

A 300 drive by Gibbons on the 18th hole, a wedge shot to about 10 feet by LeBeau and the birdie putt by Gibbons shut the door on the opponents for the title.

The Pine Lake tournament has always been one of the outstanding invitational in the area, starting in 1950 with Blaine Eymon and Pat Sawyer as the first champions.

Eymon was one of the founders of the tournament which has had some outstanding local amateurs such as Tom Draper, Bob and Dick Whiting, Tony Skover, Perry Byard and Bob Babbish among its list of winners.

Course to Open Memorial Day

A couple of courses bowed to progress during the offseason in Oakland County, while only one new one was added to the list for the 1968 season.

The new layout is Dunham Hills Golf & Country Club, located at the corner of Dunham and Tippeco Lake Road near Milford, and plans call for nine holes of the present 18-hole course to be ready for play Memorial Day.

Giving way to the progress of automobiles and houses were River Bank Golf Course and Lancaster Hills, both located in Southfield.

The 52-acre River Bank course, operated by Harold Thompson for 30 years, was sold for a reported $400,000 to a housing development firm.

Thompson said the new 1-696 expressway had left the course practically inaccessible, thus resulting in a drop in income. "We didn't make enough to pay the taxes last season," said Thompson, who leased the nine-hole layout from Charles White.

RANGE OPEN

Thompson has a 12-acre parcel near the course on which he has a driving range which he'll continue to operate.

Ford Motor Company purchased 12 acres of the 36-acre Lancaster Hills layout in Southfield and a company spokesman said two dealerships—Ford and a Lincoln-Mercury—would be constructed on the site. He said construction would get under way this year.

The other 24 acres will reportedly be developed as a residential area by Howard Brothers of Southfield.

City Golfers Hold State PGA Titles

Pontiac continues to produce some of the state's top golfers.

Local golfers have collected the past two titles in the Michigan PGA tournament, and those two kings will be trying to keep the crown in the Pontiac family when they tee off in the 47th annual event June 24 at Davison Country Club in Davison.

Gene Bone and Tom Deaton, both former Pontiac Central High golfers, have bagged the PGA title the past two years and they'll be among a field of some 100 battling for this year's and the lion's share of the $3,500 purse.

The PGA is a one-day, 36-hole event which will be preceded by a pro-member tournament June 23.

Deaton, 26, assistant to Walter Burkemo at Detroit Golf Club, finished three strokes ahead of the pack last year in the firing at Birmingham Country Club.

And just four shots off the pace in a tie for third was Bone, the 1966 champion, who is now head pro at Bay Pointe Golf Club.

"It's the best thing that ever happened to me," said the happy Deaton afterward. "I've been waiting a long time for this to happen."

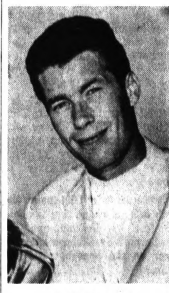

Deaton and his wife had another reason to celebrate.

It was the third birthday of their daughter, Bridget Ann.

The PGA victory is the high point in Deaton's career that started shortly after high school when he worked as a caddy under Warren Orlick at Tam O'Shanter. Bone was there at the same time and helped Deaton with his game.

Deaton graduated from the caddy ranks and joined Burkemo as an assistant first at El Dorado Country Club in Palm Springs before moving to the Detroit post.

It's been 10 years since the champion successfully defended his title. That was in 1957-58 when John Barnum of Grand Rapids reigned as king.

DICK ROBERTSON

Robertson's Golf Game Gets Better With Age

Dick Robertson's golfing game seems to improve with age.

Last year at 51, Robertson enjoyed his finest season as an amateur golfer, a campaign that was climaxed recently when he was named to the top spot on the 1968 Michigan Publin Golf Association Honor Roll.

The MPGA honor comes just as Robertson was bowing out of the organization after joining Indianwood Country Club.

A year ago, Robertson, former Pontiac City Champion, was third on the honor roll, but his accomplishments during the '67 season left little doubt about who would head this year's Honor Roll.

Robertson was a semifinalist in the state amateur, losing to Bill Newcomb, the eventual champion; the low qualifier in the national publinx; fourth in the National Publinx Tournament at Seattle, Wash., and low scorer in two handicap tournaments.

Three other Pontiac golfers also made the grade on the 12-game seems to improve with man Honor Roll.

Terry Hoy took third place, Lloyd Syron ninth and Ed Wasik Sr. placed 11th.

Second list was Dan Townsend of Green Acres, followed by Hoy; Allan Thompson of Pleasant Ridge; Jay Law of Harper Woods; Bob Szczykalski of Detroit; Claude Dwight of Detroit; Bill Curtis of Farmington; Syron; Ed Thompson of Detroit; Wasik and Ray Clemons of Madison Heights.

Hoy's stock went up when he won the MPGA Medal Play championship during his vacation last summer, and he was co-medalist in the match play qualifying.

Syron made it to the quarter-finals of the state amateur, losing to the fellow who ousted Robertson.

Wasik turned in the low score of the year in the MPGA with a 67 at Northbrook.

Townsend won the MPGA's medal play championship and made it to the semifinals of the group's match play event.

Thompson was runner-up in the medal play and one of the state's qualifiers in the National Publinx Tournament.

Four Tournaments Listed by Alcan

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The New Orleans Open, the Cleveland Open, the Western Open at Chicago and the Philadelphia Golf Classic are the four tournaments which will determine the dozen United States pros invited to compete in the second annual Alcan golf tournament.

The Alcan will be played this year over the Royal Birkdale course at Southport, England, in October.

The British contenders will be determined in four tournaments played there. Gay Brewer of Louisville, Ky., won the inaugural at St. Andros last year. The Alcan carries a first prize of $55,000.

Pontiac Best Ball Pair Red-Faced

One of the best of the area's best-ball golf teams came up red-faced in a Labor Day weekend tournament last year.

The embarrassment was shared by Paul Bada and George Hammit, winners of the 1966 Pontiac Best-Ball Championship.

Playing in the 18-hole Davisburg Invitational, Bada and Hammit carded a 32 and shared first place as they headed into the final nine holes.

Then a bit of golfing comedy began.

Paul's tee shot on the 200-yard, par 3 10th hole went to the right of the green. George's drive fell short of the green.

BOTH SHORT

Paul chipped within 15 feet of the cup. George's chip stopped four feet away.

Bada putted, just missing the cup. As he walked up to 'tap' the ball in, George turned his back. Bada then missed the short one and batted it a few times before picking up the ball and dropping it into his pocket.

George putted, but his ball, too, just missed. Since he had his back turned while Bada was putting, he wasn't aware Paul had not putted out. So George proceeded to miss his short one and then batted the ball back and fourth a few times and then picked it up.

When George picked it up, Bada swallowed a little. "George," said Bada, "I put mine in my pocket, too." They were disqualified.
