LEAPS TO FREEDOM — Tuesday afternoon a West German policeman in Berlin noticed this East German soldier edging away from the rest of his unit. The soldier signaled to the policeman that he intended to escape. Photographers on the Western side of the border turned their cameras on the other members of the East German unit and they turned their backs. At this moment the soldier broke for the 4-foot-high barbed-wire barracade and jumped over. "Thank God," he said. "Now I'm a free man."

Could Involve 23,626 Men

Army Alerts 113 Reserve Units

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army announced today it has alerted 113 Army National Guard and Army reserve units for possible call to active duty.

Only one Michigan unit, from Ann Arbor was included.

The Army said the units, which consist of combat, combat support and port operational organizations, will total more than 23,626 officers and men at full strength.

The Army did not set a date for calling the units back to service. It said that the time of calling the units will "depend on the developing situation."

The alerting of the 113 units throughout the United States was part of an over-all Army program announced by Army Secretary Elvis J. Stahr Jr. to meet the Berlin crisis.

The Army said these units will receive trained reinforcement from the Ready Reserve mobilization pool to bring them to full strength.

Earlier Story, Page 8

It said these units will receive additional weekend duty traning at their home stations beginning very soon.

Besides alerting the Reserve and Guard units, the Army announced the following directives:

—Enlisted men whose term would expire on or after Oct. 1 but before June 30 of next year will be extended for a period not to exceed four months.

OFFICERS AFFECTED

—Officers currently serving six months' active duty will have their tour of duty extended for a period not more than one year beyond the six months.

—Officers commissioned through the ROTC program and not yet on active duty will be ordered to active duty for 24 months.

—Overseas tours for Army personel will be extended after Oct. 1. These tours will be extended six months in such places as Japan and Germany and three months in Korea.

—The draft will call 25,000 men in September and an estimated 20,000 in October.

—The Ready Reserve obligation and enlistments of personnel in reserve units and the Ready Reserve mobilization pool which would otherwise expire between Oct. 1 and next June 30 will be extended by one year.

—Six months' enlistments will be restricted to youths under 20 from Sept. 1 until next December.

ENCOURAGED TO VOLUNTEER

—Reserve officers serving two-year tours will be encouraged to volunteer for additional active duty but if volunteers do not meet requirements, these officers will be extended up to one year.

—Selected individual and officer reservists not now in units will be recalled to active duty for not more than 12 months unless there are enough volunteers to fill the need.

Three Men Are Chosen for City Hospital Board

City Commissioners named a new face to the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees last night and reappointed two other men.

In appointing Alex Capsalis, 221 Ottawa Drive, to the board, commissioners dropped Cecil J. Cosgrove from the 11-member body.

Rev. Theodore R. Allebach and Isaac Smoot were reappointed to four-year terms.

"This means that District 7 has no representative on the hospital board," said Landry. "It seems strange that the majority of the commission chose to ignore the recommendations of District 7, but majorities have a way of changing."

The latter remark was a reference to next spring's City Commission election.

There was a fifth nominee, Bert Hensen, financial secretary for Pontiac Motor Division Local 653, UAW, who also lost out in the secret ballot.

The appointments mean that the board will probably elect its 1961-62 officers tomorrow night.

The Rev. Mr. Allebach and Cosgrove were orginally appointed to the board in December 1956 and Smoot in June 1957. Their terms expired in June.

Capsalis, 40, is director of personnel of the Bendix Corp. research division in Southfield.

Resident of Pontiac 15 years, he also teaches business management and administrative methods in the Continuing Education Department at Michigan State University Oakland.

Capsalis, married with three children, holds a master's degree in management from Wayne State University and is currently completing work towards a doctorate in philosophy.

The Rev. Mr. Allebach, pastor of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, has served on several board committees, including public relations. Smoot, a Pontiac Motor Division employe, has been active on the personnel committee.

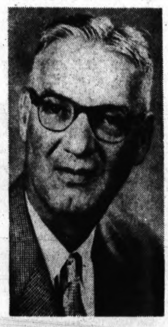
West Berlin Crowds Shout Angry Protests

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany's Communist regime turned its territory into a virtual prison camp today by extending its crackdown on travel to the West to its entire border — far beyond the confines of Berlin.

In divided Berlin itself, West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt told 200,000 cheering Germans he has sent a personal letter to President Kennedy that "Berlin expects more than words, it expects political action."



EARL M. TREADWELL

Angered by Western delays in reacting to the Communist clampdown on the flow of refugees, the demonstrators carried placards saying "Kennedy to Berlin," "Betrayal of the West," "Enough protests, Let's Act," and "Quiet Please, a Lot of People Are Still Asleep."

Soviet Col. Andrei I. Solovyev, commander in East Berlin and highest official to receive official Western protests so far, refused to be worried by the clamor over the barricades of barbed wire, tanks and guns that has stopped the flow of East German refugees to the West.

He has not answered the protest of the Western military commanders Tuesday. But replying to another protest of nearly two weeks ago against harassment of East Berlin commuters he said he could not take it seriously.

British, U. S. and French diplomats in Washington were reported having difficulty threshing out any unified course of action except to make a protest on a higher level to Moscow.

But he shouted that "paper protests are not enough to express our screaming protest."

The Russians, he said, have "loosened the leash a little of their dog (East German Party Boss Walter) Ulbricht and allowed him to send tanks into Berlin. The tracks of those tanks churned up the agreements on four-power status of Berlin."

BANNERS WAVE

As he shouted, banners waved. Some of them said "Rather Dead Than Red," "Paper Protests Won't Stop Tanks."

Thunderous applause greeted Brandt's announcement that Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, U. S. Army commander in chief in Europe, visited Berlin today. Clarke conferred with Brandt and was menaced by one of the East German water guns that guard the border.

Michigan to Draft 825; County Fills 1/8 of Quota

LANSING (AP) — Michigan will furnish 825 young men for induction into the Army next month in the largest draft since June 1960, the State Selective Service Board said today.

Oakland County's five boards will supply 103 draftees. The state quota is part of the national call for 25,000 men in September.

All the inductees will be volunteers or nonfathers over 21.

An additional 3,000 registrants will be ordered to take preinduction physical examinations next month, said Col. Arthur A. Holmes, State Selective Service director.

Holmes said there has been no change in classification policies covering occupational, dependency and student deferments. However, he said, many college students have failed to notify their local draft boards of their student status and of their plans to enroll in the fall term. He said they should do so without delay.

The Oakland quotas: Board 65, 13; Board 66, 13; Board 67, 47; Board 321, 12; Board 323, 18.

Germans Are Disappointed in 'Slow' West

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — West German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe, leaving a conference at the State Department, said today there is a certain disappointment in Germany at the failure of the Western Allies so far to take countermeasures against the Red blockade of refugees fleeing to West Berlin.

The Allied conference at the State Department met for about 90 minutes. Participants, in addition to Grewe, included Asst. Secretary of State Foy D. Kohler, British Ambassador Sir Harold Caccia, and French Embassy Minister Claude Lebel.

Henry H. Fowler, acting secretary of the Treasury in the absence of Secretary Douglas Dillon; and Paul Nitze, assistant secretary of defense for security affairs, also took part.

This was the third meeting of the Allied planning group in three days.

The Western powers were reported to be having serious difficulty deciding on what precise reprisals they might adopt against the Communist closing of the border in Berlin, even though they had agreed Monday that countermeasures were needed.

★ ★ ★

Reports in diplomatic quarters here and in press dispatches from abroad indicated that an old Allied split might have developed over the new issue—with West Germany favoring the strongest possible retaliatory measures and Britain opposing any immediate action. Such speculation lacked any official confirmation.

DEALS WITH FUTURE

Grewe said on leaving the session today that it dealt with "the future and not immediate aspects" of the Berlin problem. He declared that "such meetings will go on for a long time."

Then, when he was questioned about reports of discontent in Germany at the lack of Allied countermeasures, he said: "I must say there is a certain disappointment in Germany; this is a further reason to speed up our work here."

The western powers were reported considering a trade embargo on the Communist bloc in retaliation if the Communists blockade West Berlin.

But official sources indicated that the West would not impose a total embargo as a countermeasure against the closing of the border

SCHOLARSHIP BRIGHTENS FUTURE — Daniel R. Taylor (right) of 798 Pensacola St. is all smiles as he is being handed a check for $300 by Monroe M. Osmun, Pontiac clothier and board of education member. Taylor was named the first of four annual winners of grants for the Monroe M. Osmun Scholarship Fund.

'Wouldn't Be Going Otherwise'

Overjoyed at Scholarship

"It means just about everything to me," said Pontiac Central High School graduate Dan Taylor.

The 17-year-old Pontiac youth was talking about a check for $300 which will enable him to enter Michigan State University this fall.

Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Taylor of 798 Pensacola St., was overwhelmed by the news that he had been awarded the first of four grants from the Monroe M. Osmun Scholarship Fund.

"I wouldn't be going if it weren't for this. It's about the most important thing that ever happened to me," Taylor said.

The fund, established last April from the sale of tickets to a testimonial dinner in Osmun's honor, is split into four scholarship grants, one each year.

Taylor ranked 42nd in a graduating class of 491 last June. He had an honor point average of 2.307.

* * *

He was described by teachers as "reserved, well-mannered, a credit to the school and valuable member in a wholesome family."

Dan wants to be an accountant. In high school he majored in math, English and social studies.

He was admitted to the Honors College at MSU and awarded a $300 honors scholarship in June.

Dan's father has been forced by illness to work only part time in his job at Benson Lumber Co.

* * *

"But my earnings plus the MSU scholarship still wouldn't give me enough to enter this fall," he said. "The Osmun scholarship will do it."

UAW to Ask GM Anew for Price-Profit Formula

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union says it likely will ask anew today or Thursday for the price-profit formula of General Motors Corp.

GM twice previously has told the UAW that prices are none of its business and that the union bargains only for wages, hours and working conditions.

This is the sixth week of new contract negotiations in the auto industry. Present pacts expire Aug. 31.

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock conceded the third request on GM would be aimed to support an appeal to the National Labor Relations Board to force GM to turn over the figures on which it bases prices and profits.

* * *

Woodcock said the question had been reviewed with UAW President Walter P. Reuther and the union's executive board over the weekend.

In making the union's second request Woodcock had asked for data on what he said was a price-profit formula of 20 per cent after taxes.

Woodcock insisted that the union did not want to inspect books of GM or to "violate their confidential information." He said the union needed the price-profit formula to figure out what it might gain in bargaining without increasing car prices and thus adding to inflation.

August Days Delightful Over Nation

By The Associated Press

Pleasant mid-August weather prevailed over most of the country today, with precipitation generally confined to widely scattered showers and thundershowers.

Temperatures were in the 60s across the Northern tier of states, ranging into the 70s elsewhere except for a few 80s in the extreme South and Southwest.

Somewhat cooler temperatures were expected during the day from the Great Lakes and the Ohio Valley eastward and in the northern Rockies and northern plateau states. Warmer readings were on tap south of the Ohio Valley westward to the central Rockies.

State Builders Needed Bonds, Says Swainson

MOUNT CLEMENS (UPI) — Gov. Swainson told a bricklayers convention today that Michigan's construction industry would be in better shape if the Republican-controlled legislature had adopted his $38-million bonding program.

* * *

"I do suggest this would have had a major impact on the economy of the state, but it would have had an important impact," he said in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the AFL-CIO state conference of bricklayers.

Swainson called for 27 new construction projects to be financed by the revenue bonding plan. Lawmakers rejected the proposal in favor of a less expensive pay-as-you-go program virtually limited to projects already started.

NATIONAL WEATHER — It will be cooler Wednesday night from the Tennessee Valley and upper lakes through the North Atlantic states and in the Rio Grande Valley and the southeastern portion of the Southern Plateau. 4 Teamster Locals Plan to Join UAW

CINCINNATI (UPI) — James Luken who has been president of the Teamsters Union Joint Council 26 and a long-time foe of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa, said today four Cincinnati locals plan to bolt the Teamsters and affiliate with the AFL-CIO.

The four locals have a total of approximately 4,000 members.

Luken said the mass break from the Teamster's Union is the result of the recent re-election of Hoffa as union president and what rebels said was the failure of court-appointed monitors to clean up the union.

Luken listed the bolting locals as his own Dairy Employes Union, Cab Drivers' Local 954, Soft Drink and Beverage Drivers Local 152 and the Funeral and Livery Drivers Local 793.

Adenauer Talks to Red Envoy

Dissatisfaction Growing in West Germany Over Lack of Allied Action

BONN (UPI) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today received Soviet Ambassador Andrei Smirnov, amid signs of growing West German dissatisfaction with the Western Allied treatment of the Berlin crisis.

The Adenauer-Smirnov meeting—sought by Smirnov after his return Saturday from consultations with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev—came after a two-hour federal cabinet meeting to discuss measures the government may take unilaterally or with the Allies to counter Communist sealing of the East-West Berlin border.

Getting top priority at the cabinet meeting, presumably, was a report of a threat by the East German regime to blockade freight shipments to West Berlin, if the West tries to boycott trade to East Germany.

There was increasing discontent in West Germany over the allegedly "timid" allied approach to the Berlin crisis.

West Germany's largest newspaper, the Hamburg Bild Zeitung, distributed more than three million copies of today's edition with the whole of its front page covered with this headline:

Ionia Escapees Judged Sane

Psychiatrists Testify for 2 Hospital Inmates at Circuit Court Hearing

Amid protests from the attorney general's office two escapees from Ionia State Hospital were judged sane today in a hearing before Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

Robert C. Goussy, an aide to the attorney general, intervened at the hearing. Goussy argued that the Oakland County Circuit Court had no jurisdiction to hold a sanity hearing for the escapees since they are wards of the state and were committed to the state hospital by other courts.

Beer's decision was based on the testimony of two psychiatrists who said they found the escapees, James G. Styes and John T. Auld, "sane and able to assist in their own defense."

Dr. Ivan LaCore of Pontiac, who examined both men twice, and Dr. Edward S. Salem of Detroit, said they found "no evidence of psychosis" in either man.

Styes, 33, of Clare, and Auld, 42, formerly of Toledo, were returned to the Oakland County Jail to await examination before Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib on charges of kidnaping and rape tomorrow.

Goussy argued that both men must be found sane by the courts that committed them to Ionia two years ago.

ARGUE JURISDICTION

Assistant Prosecutor Richard P. Condit argued that the Oakland prosecutor does have authority to call for a sanity hearing and press charges since the crimes of kidnaping and rape were charged to have been committed within his jurisdiction.

Beer held that Styes and Auld "were sane as of Aug. 9 at the time of the alleged offenses" and that he (Beer) "has jurisdiction to determine their sanity."

Styes and Auld were captured in West Bloomfield Township a week ago after holding a young mother and her brother as hostages for some eight hours.

SAFE AT LAST — A wrinkle-faced grandmother fixes her grandson's shoelace at Marienfelde refugee camp in West Berlin after fleeing from East Germany. They are among the many from Communist-controlled East Germany who have crossed over to the Western sector in the past few weeks.

E. Reich Seals Entire Border

Allies Brandt declared: "If the Communists are not stopped at the Brandenburg gate they will not be stopped at the Rhine."

* * *

As he spoke, West Berlin police closed roads leading to the Brandenburg Gate to head off any steamed-up demonstrators who might decide to head for it.

The East German Communists cut down on already limited travel by their own citizens to Western Germany without making any announcement about it.

They thus extended the travel bans in effect in Berlin since Sunday when they first shut off all travel of East Berliners to West Berlin and then allowed West Berlin motorists into East Berlin only by special permit.

* * *

Telex communications by leased printer circuit between East and West Germany as well as West Berlin, broken by the East Germans two days ago without explanation, were restored today.

But telephone calls from West Germany and West Berlin still were not being accepted in East Germany.

ORDERED OFF TRAINS

Freight trains and trucks were permitted to travel in both directions as before, and Westerners going into East Germany were allowed through as long as their papers were in order.

But East Germans on westbound trains were ordered off at the border, even though they had visas and permits issued by Communist authorities.

At Halmstedt, chief rail and highway crossing near the middle of the 935-mile border, no East German cars were allowed through after midmorning. No East Germans were on trains crossing the Bavarian border.

* * *

The East German government made no announcement concerning the situation. But it threatened Tuesday to put on another blockade like that in 1948-49 if West Germany cuts off East German trade in reprisal for the travel restrictions in Berlin.

Another Western note, sent Tuesday protesting the East German move in sealing the East West Berlin border, has not yet been answered.

Today's Soviet note was released only a few hours before a scheduled West Berlin mass rally protesting the Communist border move.

It followed a one-hour power blackout that hit East and West Berlin. Police later explained this was caused by an East Berlin power breakdown.

* * *

Solovyev said East Germany is a sovereign nation and can do as it pleases. He said he had no intention of "meddling" in East German afairs.

The Soviet commandant said he could not take the Western protest seriously.

He completely rejected the Western Allied contention that under four-power agreements Russia is responsible for the acts of the East German government.

He told the Western commandants that the Soviet Union had expressed its views on four-power occupation agreements in a previous note.

* * *

The note he referred to told the Western Allies that the Soviets considered four-power agreements on Berlin invalid because they had been signed before the formation of the East and West German governments.

Speaking for himself, the Soviet commandant said he considered the occupation regime in Berlin "outmoded."

An East German "now must risk his life to escape to the West," a spokesman for the West German Refugee Ministry said today in Bonn.

Dr. Hans-Georg Schlicker said the barricading of East Berlin removed the last chance for East Germans to reach West Germany in relative safety.

ATTACK OFFICES

The Day in Birmingham

Swainson Pledges Help in Fight for Traffic Safety

BIRMINGHAM — Gov. Swainson pledged all the resources of his administration today to the fight for traffic safety so that motorists can move rapidly, efficiently — and without fear — on Michigan's highways.

Swainson made his statement at the first of six statewide Governor's Traffic Safety Conferences held at Devon Gables restaurant in Bloomfield Township.

Mayor Florence Willett is serving as chairman of the Birmingham-sponsored conference and Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley is coordinating the program.

In a prepared speech at a noon luncheon, Swainson said that motorists must recognize a new "status symbol" — the safe, responsible driver.

* * *

"I would like to see more and more citizens express contempt for the unsafe driver and subject him or her to social scorn," he said. "I think superior driving skill can be made into a trait to be envied and imitated."

* * *

Pointing out that 43 Michigan counties reported an increase in traffic deaths last year, Swainson said the trend must be reversed.

"The alternative is too grisly to contemplate," he said, "Deaths and injuries are exacting such a toll in human grief and economic loss today that to do anything less than an all-out effort to end traffic accidents is unthinkable."

Swainson said some 88,000 persons were injured in traffic accidents in Michigan last year.

"No society can continue to permit its citizenry to be the bloody victims of such accidents year after year," the governor said.

* * *

The morning portion of the conference was devoted to a panel discussion that explored the effects of recent legislation concerning the use of chemical tests as evidence in drunken driving cases.

The afternoon program featured a series of workshops that considered traffic safety measures and legislation.

* * *

So-called regional interests within Michigan "must not be exploited as an excuse for fractionalizing the voting power of the people," said Asher N. Tilchin, Democratic candidate for the Constitutional Convention, last night.

Tilchin, delegate candidate from the third legislative district was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Birmingham Democratic Club.

"State rights are a logical basis for federal constitutional provisions which grant each state equal representation in the U.S. Senate," he added.

"But there is no such thing as 'regional rights' within the state of Michigan. Each citizen must and should have equal voting rights."

West Disappoints Many in Germany

der between East and West Berlin.

"A total trade embargo is a card you can play only once," one official here said.

Britain has advised the Allies to defer economic sanctions against East Germany, reserving such action for a possibly more serious future emergency over Berlin.

The British government is against an economic embargo now—as is being suggested by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer—because it is against "precipitate action" that could worsen the crisis.

KENNEDY, RUSK CONFER

They were together a little more than half an hour in what was undoubtedly a conference to review the latest developments in the Berlin situation.

However, the White House described the session as their normal Wednesday breakfast get-together and said a variety of matters was discussed.

* * *

Mansfield struck back at an informal news conference at charges made Tuesday by Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana that "important Democratic spokesmen" were clouding President Kennedy's firm stand on Berlin.

* * *

Grewe, a participant in an Allied meeting which wound up at the State Department Tuesday night, disclosed that the Western powers are drafting a new protest to the Soviet government against the closing of the East Berlin border.

CITE VIOLATION

The Western powers have already denounced the closing in public statements and in a protest to Soviet authorities at Berlin as a violation of World War II agreements.

* * *

Grewe said the protests would be dispatched to Moscow in the very near future.

There was no similar word on quick action with respect to countermeasures in spite of the fact that on Monday the Allied representatives here agreed that such measures should be taken.

Authorities indicated today that they were unable to agree on exactly what they should do.

* * *

In addition the reports from London indicated that the British government, whatever the position of its representatives here may have been Monday, was actually opposed to taking any measures at all because of the refugee situation.

* * *

The London viewpoint was said to be that the crackdown on escapees from communism, though technically a violation of 16-year-old occupation agreements, actually had not involved the rights of the Western powers in West Berlin.

Assistant Secretary of State Foy D. Kohler has been the regular representative for the U.S. government in the Allied planning and policy-making committee of diplomats.

Grewe sat in again today for West Germany.

* * *

* * *

French President Charles de Gaulle will interrupt his summer vacation Thursday to return for a National Defense Committee meeting on Berlin, informed sources said today in Paris.

City to Probe Park Drowning

Compensation Urged by Commissioners for Parents of 2 Victims

City Commissioners agreed last night that the deaths of two children by drowning in Murphy Park July 28 should be investigated and their families compensated, if this is deemed appropriate.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said no claim has been filed with the city by the families of the drowned children, Sarah Lee Perkins, 8, of 404 Elm St., and Lamberto Lemus, 9, of 412 Elm St.

The investigation by Willman and City Attorney William A. Ewart was approved after Commissioner Milton R. Henry suggested that the city was liable, at least in part, because the spot where the children drowned was not fenced off nor posted with warning signs.

* * *

Henry and Commissioner Robert A. Landry contended the city had at least "a moral obligation" to help out the families financially if necessary.

The children drowned in a water hole in a remote ravine on the south side of the East Boulevard park.

Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager, said the hole is periodically created by heavy flow from a storm drain carrying waters from the GMC Truck & Coach Division area. The rush of the water scoops away any fill dumped by the city, he said.

Since the tragedy, the city has dumped chunks of cement at the spot, he added.

Vast Chinese Army With A-Arms Seen

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Australian ambassador to the United States predicts that Red China will have a vast army with nuclear weapons within 25 years.

Sir Howard Beale, addressing a Town Hall meeting at the Biltmore Hotel Tuesday, said Red China would have a population of a billion people and the third largest industrial output in the world by 1986.

* * *

"But the per capita acreage of her arable land is relatively low," he said, "so that she has economic as well as ideological reasons for casting envious eyes upon 'the rice basket' comprising the countries adjacent to her."

He warned that concern over Berlin should not result in less attention to the "continuing menace" in the Far East.

Says NATO Forces Should Be Beefed Up

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia (AP)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker said Tuesday that all North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations should bring their forces up to strength, "not by way of threat but as an indication of the fact that the NATO nations are serious and united."

The West should maintain unity but show a willingness to negotiate in the Berlin crisis, Diefenbaker said in an address before a Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association meeting.

Rides in Style Away From NY Welfare Center

NEW YORK (AP)—Most of the welfare clients who picked up federal surplus food at new distribution points Tuesday walked back to their homes in nearby low-income housing projects.

But one portly gentleman, who got his two bags of food after showing the surplus food certificates sent to him by the Welfare Department, had other ideas.

* * *

One bag at arm's length, the other slung over his shoulder, he walked to the curb, hailed a taxi, tossed his supplies inside, climbed in after them and was driven away.

[illegible] Released Early

Kennedy Gives States $818 Million 6 Weeks Ahead of Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has released to the states $818 million in federal aid highway funds six weeks ahead of schedule.

The White House said Tuesday's directive was part of the acceleration of the highway program to spur the nation's economy.

Kennedy took similar action May 17 when he ordered the release of $818 million which was not intended to be turned over to states until July 1.

The announcement said the President's directive will enable states to expedite planning and construction on the interstate highway system and other federal aid highways.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy had initiated the sped-up to prod the economy. Asked if the economy still needed prodding, Salinger replied that it did.

School Shortages Dwarf Estimates

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The research director of the American Federation of Teachers said today a survey shows the classroom and teacher shortage is "far larger than any previous estimate."

The director, Dr. George S. Reuter Jr. of Chicago, said the survey adds "overwhelming evidence to the need for federal aid for education."

In a report for the federation's 45th annual convention, Reuter said that out of 120,304 public high and elementary school classes surveyed, 106,398 reported 30 to 50 or more youngsters enrolled. The ideal class size is generally recognized to be 25 or less.

ID Badges to Be Issued to Billy Graham's Aides

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Local officials of the Billy Graham crusade say they will issue counselors new identification badges with a different color and design to prevent use by unauthorized persons of some 4,000 badges reported stolen.

Charles Riggs, director of counseling for the evangelistic team, reported the theft Tuesday. He said the badges were in postmarked envelopes destined for the counselors who will assist Graham in his forthcoming series of meetings. The meetings open Sunday in Convention Hall.

TV's Lee Marvin Ducks Left for 27 Stitches

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—Television actor Lee Marvin ducked the wrong way in a fight scene Tuesday night and got punched in the face, opening a wound that required 27 stitches.

Actor Martin Milner threw the punch while filming a scene for the television show "Route 66" in a restaurant in the city's Mt. Washington section.

'High Command' to Meet Threat by Reds Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge urged today creation of a "sort of free world high command" which could quickly meet Communist threats and move with "big, bold strokes."

★ ★ ★

It now takes too much time for the United States and its allies to get a unified stand on the Berlin crisis or similar issues, Lodge told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

"The Soviet Union, on the other hand, can move fast, with all of the advantages of secrecy and surprise," he said.

FOR KENNEDY PROPOSAL

Lodge, chief of this country's U.N. delegation during the Dwight D. Eisenhower administration, strongly supported a proposal by President Kennedy to set up a goverment disarmament agency.

MSU Extension Head Takes Pakistan Post

MARQUETTE (AP) — Dr. Daniel Sturt, director of the Michigan State University Upper Peninsula Extension Service, announced Tuesday he will leave the post for a job in Pakistan.

Sturt, director of the UP Extension Service since 1957, will be made chief adviser to the MSU-Ford Foundation Educational Development Project in Peshawar, West Pakistan.

The project is assisting in the development of an academy and an educational program for the country's villages.

Dr. Uel Blank, now serving as assistant district director, will succeed Sturt in the UP post.

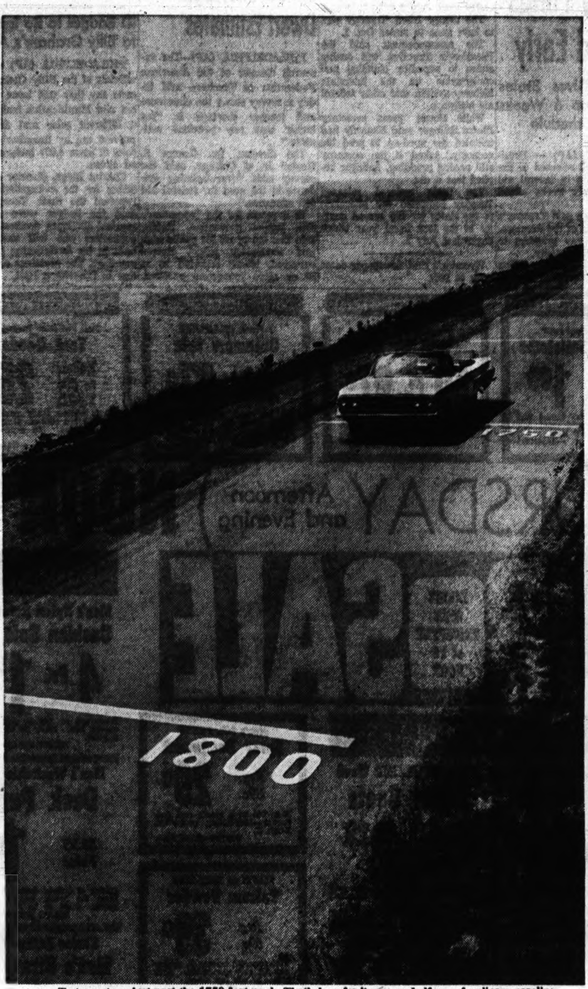
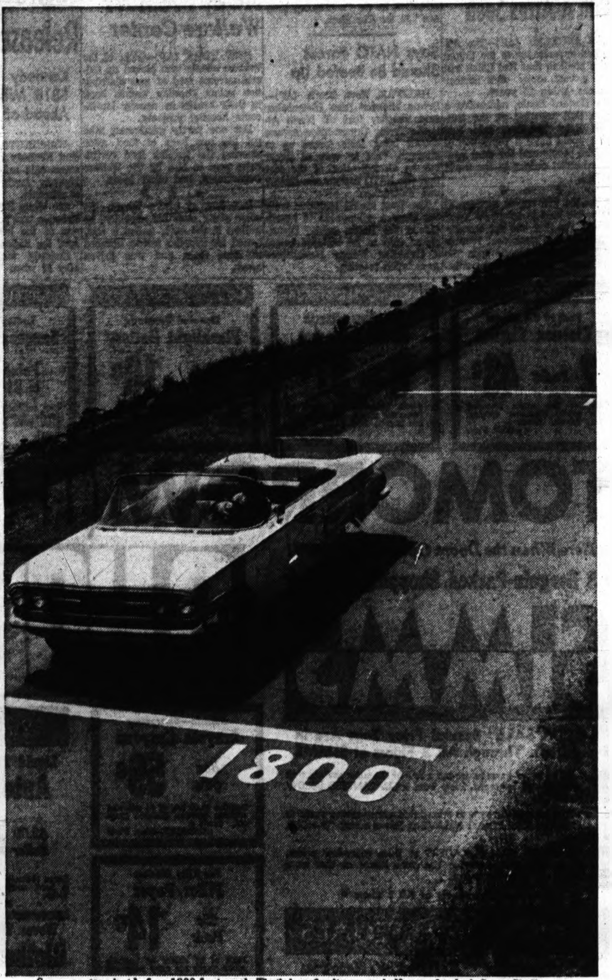
You Can Help Keep America Clean and Beautiful

THE PONTIAC PRESS



Test car stops just past the 1750-foot mark. That's how far it goes on half cup of ordinary gasoline without Platformate. Platformate is Shell's extra mileage ingredient. Here's how the test is run. A half cup of gasoline without Platformate is carefully fed into the fuel system. The car is started, accelerated and held at an even 30 miles per hour until it runs out of gas.



Same car stops just before 1800-foot mark. That's how far it goes on half cup of today's Super Shell with Platformate. Same driver. Same test road. A half cup of today's Super Shell containing Platformate is used. Driven again at 30 miles per hour, car runs out of gas near 1800-foot mark. Super Shell wins by well over 40 feet. Imagine the extra distance a full tankful of Super Shell can give you.

MILEAGE TEST:

One of the nine ingredients in today's Super Shell is a mileage booster called Platformate. Its components release 11 per cent more energy per gallon than the finest 100-octane aviation gasoline. Here's how this extra energy is converted into extra mileage.

How much farther? In repeated tests, an average of 48 feet per half cupful. That may not sound like much. But in 100 miles of driving, that 48 feet turns into 2.5 extra miles. A nice little bonus, no matter how you look at it.

NOTE: Platformate gets its strange name from the platinum re-forming process which Shell scientists use in making this extraordinary ingredient. Huge pressures and temperatures up to 1000 degrees literally tear petroleum apart and then reform it into super-energy components—such as benzene, xylene and toluene. These three, working together, release 11 per cent more energy than the finest 100-octane aviation gasoline.

EXAMPLE: Shell's unique TCP* additive can help restore lost power—can make plugs last up to twice as long.

Now—Hot Weather Blend

Now that it's summer, Super Shell's nine-ingredient formula is adjusted to fight hot weather stalls—and give you top performance when highways sizzle. You can now get Super Shell's Hot Weather Blend at all Shell stations. Keep it in your tank. It just might save you a lot of trouble.

The 9 ingredients in Super Shell—and what they do to give your car top performance

#1 is TCP for power, mileage, and longer plug life.
#2 is "cat-cracked" gasoline—for power.
#3 is anti-knock mix to resist all kinds of knocks.
#4 is Alkylate to control "high-speed knock."
#5 is Butane for quick starts.
#6 is Pentane mix for fast warm-ups.
#7 is an "anti-icer"—added in cold weather.
#8 is gum preventive to keep carburetors clean inside.
#9 is Platformate for extra mileage.

Idea to Aid West Berlin: Open U.N. Area Office

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI) — Western planners are considering the possibility of establishing a United Nations regional headquarters in Berlin as a longterm guarantee for the independence of the divided city.

The plan is one of various blueprints for a solution of the explosive Berlin problem.

The idea stems from recent suggestions that the United Nations be linked with the Berlin issue, by either sending a token force to the city or guaranteeing any future settlement.

Its supporters believe that the establishment of a regional United Nations headquarters there would offer a continuous safeguard against Berlin's absorption by Russia or the East Germans into the Communist orbit.

* * *

It has even been suggested that the entire U.N. headquarters be moved from New York to Berlin. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has been calling for its transfer and could therefore hardly object to the idea in principle.

* * *

However, the talk now is only about possibly establishing merely a Geneva-type European headquarters in the embattled city, leaving the U.N. headquarters in New York.

ALL EYES ON CITY

Berlin then would become the gathering point of representatives from all over the world, including neutrals, and all eyes would remain focused on the city. This, it is held, would force Russia to keep her hands off it.

Any Communist interference with Berlin's freedom would become evident to world public opinion; Russia could therefore be expected to "behave herself," in her own interests.

The advocates of the project feel that permanent safeguards will be necessary for Berlin even if some sort of settlement is reached with Russia, to prevent the process of silent Communist infiltration.

* * *

The plan also has shortcomings, however. Some diplomats feel the establishment of a United Nations headquarters deep inside the Iron Curtain area could be exploited by Russia to influence delegates from the uncommitted nations.

On balance, though, the plan is believed to offer more advantages than disadvantages.

8 Priests Kidnaped, 27 Vietnamese Killed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The kidnaping of eight Catholic priests and the killing of 27 Viet Cong rebels by an ambushed ranger company was reported Tuesday.

Saigon newspapers said the priests were seized Friday as they traveled down a river in the swampy Mekong Delta Region southwest of Saigon.

The reports said the ranger company was ambushed the same day in nearby Kien Tuong Province which borders Cambodia.

Gets 7 Months in Jail for Insult to Adenauer

BONN (AP) — A Bonn court sentenced a German to seven months in jail today for insulting Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and the Federal Republic.

The court said Werner Barke, 61, a salesman, had sent letters to fellow countrymen proposing that Adenauer get out of the government and enlist in the French Foreign Legion.

The letters suggested that the 85-year-old chancellor should "make himself useful as a cook, latrine orderly and general cleaner."

Named Sales Manager

DETROIT (AP) — The Faygo Beverage Co. announced the appointment Tuesday of Theodore T. Bachman as general sales manager. He formerly was general sales manager of Midwest Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Toledo.

Can Start Airlift Within 24 Hours

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said today that if the Communists blockade West Berlin, the United States has the capability to start an airlift within 24 hours, should a move be decided on as a countermeasure.

But Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, made it clear that he does not believe there will be a blockade. He gave no indication as to whether he thinks the administration might order an airlift in the event of a Berlin blockade.

The Communists Tuesday night threatened to blockade Berlin as they did in 1948-49 if the Bonn government puts an economic pinch on East Germany. The West German government had been reported considering a trade embargo after the Communists blocked the flight of East German refugees.

But Washington and London reportedly oppose any drastic West German action at this time, and the government of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has said it would act only in accord with its Allies.

BLOCKADE UNLIKELY

Russell said he would be "very much surprised" if Soviet Premier Khrushchev pushes the Berlin crisis to the point of a blockade. Other congressional sources have expressed similar views.

Pentagon spokesmen have said U. S. airlift capability is better now than it ever has been in the past.

Russell told a reporter Moscow apparently hopes to achieve its ends without a war by picking off one by one the things it wants. He said he views the current Berlin crisis as part of this strategy.

* * *

As he sees it, Russell said, Khrushchev "hopes without a war to get one by one things which, if he tried them all at once, would precipitate a war."

And because of this strategy, Russell said, he doubts the Communists will attempt at this time to blockade West Berlin—a city surrounded by Communist East Germany.

Antibias Campaign of JFK 'Unequaled'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Negro official of the State Department declared Tuesday night that the Kennedy administration has embarked on an unprecedented campaign "to root out racial discrimination" in the United States.

* * *

He advised American Negroes to stop complaining about the lack of new civil rights legislation.

In a speech for a meeting of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Carl T. Rowan said: "There hasn't been even a remote chance of getting meaningful (civil rights) legislation out of this Congress."

Rowan is a deputy assistant secretary of state for public affairs and a former Minneapolis newspaperman.

Asks More Attention to Road Operation

LANSING (AP) — A safety expert says Michigan should devote more attention to the efficient operation of its vast highway system.

Planning and construction of adequate highways solves only half the problem of motor vehicle transportation, said Louis R. Morony, of Washington, D.C.

Morony, director of the laws division of the Automotive Safety Foundation, appeared Tuesday before Gov. Swainson and other state officials concerned with highways and traffic safety.

State agencies, working with the legislature and private citizens, should concentrate more effort on such things as driver licensing and behavior, vehicle maintenance and operation, rules of the road, traffic control systems and traffic law enforcement, he said.

Kill School Bond Issue

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Voters in the nearby Bangor School District have rejected, by a 5-3 ratio, a $920,000 bond issue to finance the construction of a new high school and gymnasium.

Home accidents are nearly 15 times as numerous as those occurring in industrial places, including mines and quarries.

Real Communism Test Is 'Do They Like It?'

If the Voice of America needs any assistance in finding food for Free Western propaganda, the large numbers of East Germans who are fleeing to freedom are providing it.

★ ★ ★

Nikita Khrushchev, Soviet Russian Premier, has made a profound impression on one group of people he may not have thought about when he began getting tough with the free world. He has convinced the people of captive East Germany that their escape route to Western Germany might be cut off just as it has. As a result the numbers making their escape to the West has increased greatly during the past few weeks.

★ ★ ★

Almost two thousand persons fled during one recent twenty-four hour period. East Germany has become one of the few areas in the world where the population is decreasing.

We who have been born to freedom mistreat it and criticize its weaknesses and its minor penalties. But those who have lost it, have learned what it means to be the victims of a cold-blooded dictator who regards human rights as a commodity he may dispense as he chooses, and take away whenever he wishes to do so.

Freedom is a shining goal to these people of East Germany, even though they may be going to a strange land, without money, without definite employment, with no friends to assist them in getting started in their new home, wherever it may prove to be.

Life in East Germany is drab and stark. Work is scarce and pay is small. And no one dare call his soul his own. Freedom beacons to these people. It is a bright light shining in a world of darkness. They are fleeing while they may. The East German police stop those they can, but thousands slip through their fingers.

This exodus should be held up before the whole world for it shows the plight of those peoples whom the Communist dictatorship has taken over. Attention should be called to it time after time, and its lesson pointed out.

Communism is fine for KHRUSHCHEV and a few of his fellow bosses, but it is bestial living for a vast majority of the people in the satellite countries. There seems little doubt that the Red leader is preparing to draw down the iron curtain more tightly around East Germany. All who dare and can, are fleeing while there still is time.

Paging Social Security; Man's Aging Too Fast

For a long time it has been believed that the earliest men to appear in the world lived no more than one million years ago. That is what the textbooks said. Scientists were as nearly agreed on this point, apparently, as scientists can be expected to agree on anything so open to argument.

But in 1959, Louis Leakey, a British anthropologist, found the skull and teeth of a primitive man in Tanganyiki's Oldvai Gorge in East Africa. With the skull were found some crude stone tools.

By his own calculations he felt certain that this man had lived almost twice as long ago as the generally accepted beginning of the human age. But rather than upset his colleagues before being reasonably certain of his facts, LEAKEY went to great lengths to apply scientific tests.

Two geologists at the University of California at Berkeley used the potassium-argon dating technique to determine the age of the rock strata in which the skull and teeth had been found. They ran ten different tests, extending over a considerable period. Taking the average of the ten samples, they estimated that Zinjanthropus, as Leakey named his find, lived 1,750,000 years ago. After sitting on his scientific bombshell for almost two years, he has just announced it.

So, if this figure stands up in the light of still further tests, they'll have to start rewriting the textbooks.

Other archaeologists have since made observations which tend in a general way to bear out the great age of this newest find. They point out that when they believed that man did not exist more than one million years ago, it was hard to believe that he had been able to develop into his modern counterpart in so short a time, for evolution works slowly. But if, indeed, man has existed on the earth for nearly two million years, then it is easy for anthropologists to believe that he has been able to develop to the stage of today's human beings.

Centennial Farms

Pontiac Area Still Has Few That Are Not Marked

Dawn: What has sunrises as beautiful as any sunset, but most of us do not see them.

Word comes to me from the Michigan Historical Commission

that Oakland County is lagging in its designation of centennial farms.

In proportion to the number of farms in the county, the percentage of those that have qualified to display the centennial sign and receive the certificate covering the facts, is below the average of the other counties in the state that were among those first settled.

If your property has been in the name of the same family for 100 years or more, it is entitled to receive this highly honored distinction.

Simply write the commission at Lansing, and they will send you a blank to be filled out with the required information. You can glean this from your deeds and abstract, and it will require only a few minutes of your time.

Then return this blank, and it will be placed in its order for confirmation. When that time is reached you will receive your certificate and the marker, to be placed in a prominent place on your property. There is no fee or charge.

and is dated on Aug. 16, 1837, being 124 years ago today, and the same year that Michigan was admitted to the union as a state, and Pontiac was incorporated as a village.

Talks with several Pontiac downtown business people show that (at street level), the coldest spot in winter is at Saginaw and Huron Streets, and the hottest spot in summer is at Saginaw and Lawrence Streets.

of Lake Orion did not see a deer — until their return to Oakland County.

MORRIS

David Lawrence Says:

West Must Be Bold in Berlin Deal

IN EUROPE — "We will use any ruse, dodges, tricks, cunning, unlawful methods, concealment and veiling of the truth."

LAWRENCE

The foregoing sentence is written in the Communist party platform first proclaimed in 1919 by Lenin. This has never been withdrawn or revised.

All Communist acts, therefore, must be judged by that blunt formula of deception, whether it be the violation in Berlin this week of the four-power agreement signed in 1949 or of a disarmament "treaty" if one should be signed with the Soviets.

The Allies are building their hopes on a new agreement to be negotiated in the next few months to nail down their rights of access to West Berlin.

But the Communist party doctrine indicates that the Soviets would not hesitate to disregard these pledges whenever they decide it is expedient to do so.

Indeed, Premier Khrushchev told the British ambassador only a few days ago, in discussing the existing Allied treaty rights in Berlin granted in 1945 and 1949, that these were "unreal and irrelevant."

This is not surprising, coming as it does from a government that has no regard for morals or for the sanctity of a written pledge.

WHAT TO DO?

But what are the Allies to do about it? Up to now, the procedure has been to make speeches, carry on conferences between foreign ministers and ambassadors of the West, and discuss privately a series of countermeasures—military, political and economic.

★ ★ ★

While military preparations are important as a defensive precaution, neither side is likely to make a move in the direction of military action unless the other does—and it would have to be something more than a mere clash on a local basis to bring on anything so catastrophic as a nuclear war.

As for the political arena, this means an attempt through public statements and exchanges of notes to affect favorably the public opinion of the world, particularly in the so-called "neutral" countries where the Soviet Union has been making an intensive effort to win friends or to stir up trouble that would preoccupy Western forces.

What else can be done? The economic weapons of blockade now are being talked about openly. Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany has just said that trade agreements between the East and West would have to be "re-examined." There are hints of a trade embargo. This naturally arouses anxiety in business circles, and already in London some authoritative British sources are saying that an economic embargo is not practical and would mean that Western exports would suffer.

But if bombs begin falling on millions of people, there will be suffering, too. Hence the world has to choose now between preventive policies of a drastic nature or a drifting policy that gives to the enemy an impression of irresoluteness and defeatism.

Back in the days of the Truman administration there was a word used widely to describe the then-existing American policy toward the Soviet Union. It was "containment."

★ ★ ★

It meant that the Allies would draw a line around the Communist bloc and isolate it from the rest of the world.

★ ★ ★

But the crisis never became sufficiently acute to make such a policy effective, and gradually the proponents of "exchange"—whether in the educational, cultural or commercial field—came to the fore.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

No Proof Cocktail Sips Harm Baby Too Much

Q. — Sometimes, when taking a mixed drink, my daughter-in-law lets her 18-month-old baby have a few sips. Can't this amount of alcohol have a bad effect on a child so young?

A — Although I believe your daughter-in-law is ill-advised to introduce her baby to cocktails at this early age, I cannot in good faith state that this small amount of alcohol will exert any bad effects on the youngster's health.

As a matter of fact, the alcoholic content of most cocktails, especially if diluted with ice, is no higher than that of some approved medicinal fluids such as tonics, cough mixtures, vitamin preparations, blood builders (hematinics) and appetizers.

You will note that my comment applies only to the health of the child.

I am not competent to make a judgment as to the effects on character development and the like, although I would direct attention to the fact that, in days gone by, the crying baby was often given a rag soaked in whisky or brandy for a soothing effect.

Q — My wife and I have lost three children as the result of cystic fibrosis. Recently we read of a new drug that cures this terrible disease. As we hope to have more children, I would appreciate information about the drug.

A. — I believe you are referring to a new and improved extract prepared from pancreatic glands (sweetbreads). It is sold as cotazym and comes in pill form.

However, neither this nor any other drug has a curative effect in cystic fibrosis.

But with skillful care, using diet and antibiotics, enormous strides are being taken in the control of this complex disorder.

For detailed information, write the director of the National Institute of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases, at the Clinical Center of the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Maryland.

You may be interested to know, too, that the Institute is presently considering for admission any adult or child suspected of having cystic fibrosis. The request for admission must be made by your physician in writing or by phone.

"'A cup of cold water given to one of Earth's thirsty ones shall reach beyond the stars and touch the lips of Him who said upon the Cross 'I thirst.'"

Does anyone know the source of this one?

'Why Must We Pay Postage for Russian Propaganda?'

As the Independence Hall Group of Chicago moved out of the International Trade Fair, they said they were unhappy over the Fair permitting the Yugoslavs to pass out pamphlets containing Red propaganda.

To quote the association's President Sidney L. deLove: "We believe that the liberty bell cannot peacefully coexist with communism."

John Kennedy apparently believes the opposite. At least the House Committee on Un-American Activities has recently pointed an accusing finger at him.

★ ★ ★

I do not know how many years the U.S. has paid the 2nd Class postage rates for Russian mail devoted to literature, the science arts, some special industry or information of a public character, but I do know that during the previous Republican administration, all mail was screened. Any Communistic propaganda was held until the addressee was contacted.

★ ★ ★

Now we learn that President Kennedy ruled the mail is to be sent free and unopened anywhere in the 50 states and territories. So the "Educational Literature" is arriving in ton lots, already addressed individually. We pay the postage.

At the same time, the U.S. is spending $110 million a year the world around in news, radio, library and TV operations calculated to defeat Moscow's unrelenting propaganda drive against freedom.

'Protestant Children Are Taught, Also'

My daughter also has been attending Catholic teen-age dances and last week was asked to fill out a card about her church affiliation. She omitted answering questions and signed her name.

I have asked my daughter not to attend any more dances although many of these children who belong to that church attend other teen-age activities with her.

As far as the boy lying, I fully understand his embarrassment and to me it was merely to keep himself from being singled out as someone not wanted.

Theater Defends Showing of Movie

On Aug. 12 an article in this column condemned the showing of "Never on Sunday," by the Strand Theater.

The Strand Theater is one of a chain of Michigan theaters and has no choice as to what is shown. "Never on Sunday" is being shown as a single feature. In this way only those who wish to see it will.

For the past four weeks the preview for "Never on Sunday" has been run at the 9:20 p.m. show only, a mostly adult audience. We have tried to appeal to a mature adult audience only. The Strand theater has done more than its share to bring family entertainment to Pontiac. For the last seven months we have shown only family type attractions.

Some of us being parents of teen-age children and many of us being teen-agers, we feel that "An Interested 17-Year-Old" would not be interested in "Never on Sunday."

'Tax Free Proposals Get Vote of Parents'

Residents of the Avondale School District approved a proposal by a 76 vote margin that brought a 3.9 mill levy for five years and would not increase taxes.

Proposal number 2 was a 2.6 mill levy for two years to allow the school district to improve many areas of instruction. The average home owner would have been taxed $15 per year for two years. This was defeated by a 30 vote margin.

★ ★ ★

We have recently purchased a home in this area and have children of school age, and although this school system maintains a policy of steady improvement, it desperately needs the additional funds.

For approximately a mere nickel a day, these children could have enjoyed the many improvements needed in their many hours away from home.

★ ★ ★

Why do parents quickly endorse a proposal which doesn't affect their pocketbooks and shy away from a careful plan to give the best education possible?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Many Adults Need 'Talk Clinics'

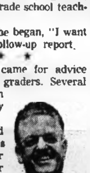
By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE J-469: Joan F., aged 27, is a very lovely grade school teacher.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I want to give you a follow-up report.

★ ★ ★

"Last term I came for advice about my fourth graders. Several of the children were obviously neurotic.



DR. CRANE

"They chewed their fingernails incessantly or picked on other youngsters.

"Two members of the class were bullies, always trying to make some other child cry. And one boy was a chronic trouble maker. He had been sent to the principal's office twice when I first saw you.

"So you suggested I hold a 'Fear Party' and thus reassure the entire class by having a public confessional.

"Well, I decided to try the plan. So one afternoon I informed my class we were going to have a new kind of party — a 'Fear Party.'

"Then I began by telling them that when I was 9 years old, I was always petrified with fear of snakes.

"When my brothers found out about it, they made matters worse by always trying to scare me with real or imagined snakes.

"After I had completed my personal confessional, I asked the class if any of them were like me, in having been afraid of snakes.

"Two little girls put up their hands, so I let each one tell her story.

"Then a little boy timidly raised his hand and said he was not afraid of snakes but he was scared of lightning.

"By the time he had completed his confessional, another boy admitted that he was scared of getting polio shots or other medical injections.

"And by the time the hour was over, each child in my room had confessed to one or more phobias.

"In fact, although they started out a bit shamefaced about acknowledging their terrors, before the end of the hour it, was socially an approved thing to admit some secret dread.

"So as an entire class, we faced our many phobias and began to laugh at them. We even discussed how silly some of our fears were, and how we could overcome them.

"Dr. Crane, it seems miraculous, but ever since this confessional I have never had such a well adjusted class in my 5 years of teaching.

"The neurotic children have calmed down. The bullies are now more friendy, and we even launched on the 'Compliment Club' as an entire class project for one full week.

"That little boy who was the chronic trouble maker, became a good child, for I found out that he was afraid of the dark, and was thus trying to compensate for his hidden terror by excessive bravado and naughty deeds.

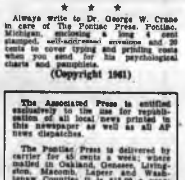
FEAR PARTIES

"Since I also teach a Sunday school class of teen-age girls, I have held a 'Fear Party' there, and it has been very successful.

"Several girls admitted that they had cherished secret terrors for years, thinking they were the only people on earth who ever were such fraidy cats.

"In fact, they had almost believed they were abnormal to the point of losing their minds or going crazy.

"Now that they have found it is normal to have those same dreads and secret fears, they are 100 per cent relieved.



"So tell other teachers to try your 'Fear Party' plan, for it is marvelous."

Army Warns Men They May Get Call

WASHINGTON — The Army is advising 111 Reserve units, none of them of division size, that they may be called to duty as part of the build-up of U.S. conventional forces for meeting any trouble over Berlin.

* * *

Most of them probably will be support-type outfits, although there may be some combat units.

This alert plan, similar to one announced recently by the Air Force for 71 Air National Guard and Reserve units, followed closely other moves in manpower expansion by the Air Force and Navy.

* * *

The Air Force announced Tuesday that it is aiming at adding about 28,000 men to its strength by asking volunteers to continue on duty after reaching normal active duty termination, and by holding others in service if there aren't enough volunteers. There seemed to be no high hope that the full 28,000 requirement would be met by volunteers.

26,800 NAVYMEN

The Navy announced Monday that it will hold on duty 26,800 men whose service otherwise would end before next June 30.

Formal announcement of the Army plan apparently was arranged for an afternoon news conference today by Army Secretary Elvis J. Stahr. He also may discuss more precisely how the Army will use the manpower increase and other authority granted by Congress in line with recommendations made by the Defense Department.

* * *

So far the Army has made no announcement concerning call-up of either National Guard or Reserve units. Initially, its attention has been turned primarily to preparing for conversion of three training divisions into combat outfits, to bring total combat divisional strength to 17.

* * *

The guess was that if the Army decided it needed to tap Reserve sources for quickly supplying trained units with specially needed skills, it would look for service and support outfits.

These categories normally include such specialized outfits as parachute riggers for airborne forces, medical units, signal, engineer, maintenance and artillery.

* * *

The Army's original idea about how to use the increased manpower authorized by Congress—up to 133,000—was different from that of the Defense Department.

The Army was understood to have submitted a program for using about 63,000 more men to strengthen subdivision size units in several locations here and overseas.

The Defense Department rejected this first plan, on the ground that it would use the added manpower in driblet form, without amplifying the over-all striking power of the ground forces.

May Fly Plane to U.S. Today

Crew Now in Havana to Bring Electra Back; Boat Returned

HAVANA (AP)—A $2.5-million Eastern Air Lines passenger plane swapped for a $50,000 Cuban patrol boat in the aftermath of a hijacking wave may return to Miami Fla., today.

A 10-man airline crew arrived in Havana Tuesday to fly back the Lockheed Electra hijacked to Cuba last July 24 with 38 persons aboard.

* * *

The patrol boat, seized by Cuban refugees to reach Florida four days after the plane was hijacked, left Key West, Fla., for Cuba under a plane-for-boat deal.

* * *

Three Cuban sailors manned the 38-foot craft. The Coast Guard escorted the vessel to America's three-mile limit and returned several guns that were aboard the boat when it reached Key West.

A Miami lawyer tried unsuccessfully to attach the boat for Terry Kane, an American whose Cuban tractor business Fidel Castro's government seized. A Florida court awarded Kane a judgment of $833,998 against the Castro regime.

* * *

Another American creditor of the Cuban government, Miami advertising man Erwin Harris, relinquished a court claim to the boat. Harris already has seized a number of Cuban airplanes in the United States to apply toward a $429,000 judgment.

The U.S. government said the boat was not subject to court seizure because it is a government naval vessel.

Expect 500 to Attend Jaycee Summer Session

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Summer board sessions of the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce expect to attract more than 500 members and their guests to Grand Haven next Friday and Saturday.

Peter and Pat Called Home; Babe in Hospital

After talking to the child's physician by telephone, the Lawfords smilingly posed for photographers as they went through customs at Los Angeles' International Airport.

They had authorized the surgery Monday from France.

Kennan Visits Kennedy

Income Reaches All-Time High

Up $1.9 Billion Over June; Dividend Paid to Vets Not Counted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government said today a July boost in payrolls pushed the total personal income of individual Americans to another all-time high.

* * *

The Commerce Department said personal income last month hit an annual rate of $419.2 billion — an increase of $1.9 billion over June. Not counted in this calculation was a $21.8-million special dividend paid on veterans life insurance policies.

This was the second prosperity report in as many days. The Federal Reserve Board said Tuesday that industrial production last month had capped a five-month rise by exceeding, for the first time, its prerecession high.

* * *

The board's production index increased from 110 in June to 112 in July. The previous peak was 111 in January, 1960. In this index, 100 represents average output in 1957.

* * *

Of the increase in personal income, $1.8 billion was accounted for by increased wage and salary payments.

One-third of the gain was in manufacturing, another third in service industries, and the remainder in construction, trade, transportation and government.

Governor Paroles Life-Term Convict

LANSING (AP) — The life sentence of Wallace McCafferty, convicted of murder eight years ago, was commuted by Gov. Swainson, making him eligible for immediate parole.

McCafferty, 58, formerly of Grand Haven, was sentenced to life imprisonment Oct. 17, 1933 for the fatal beating of Frank Wallert.

McCafferty and a friend, William Wildorf, attacked Wallert with two-by-fours, thinking Wallert had had Wildorf fired from a railroad job.

Texas has 254 counties while Rhode Island has none.

Space Traveler Signals as It Makes Long Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — A new robot observer sped through far reaches of space today to find out just what kind of sailing for astronauts is created when the solar winds of radiation blow over earth's magnetic fields.

* * *

Eleven hours after the launching of the "windmill" scientific package from this missile test center Tuesday night, officials of the Civilian Space Agency reported on the basis of radio signals that the satellite experiment "looks good."

That was because the elongated orbit — perhaps well beyond 54,000 miles out at the far point— would take so long that they would not have second-pass readings earlier.

Those would show whether orbit was achieved, and the shape of the path.

* * *

By 7 a.m. (Pontiac time) the space traveler had been tracked by six observation stations, at Johannesburg, South Africa; Ascension Island; Santiago and Antofagasta, Chile; Lima, Peru; and Woomera, Australia.

* * *

Named Explorer XII, the package is expected to tell scientists more clearly than ever before how solar radiation influences conditions on earth and how great a hazard it is to manned space travel.

LOOKS GOOD

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration was reluctant today to label the space messenger a satellite, but there was every indication it was in successful orbit after its launching from this rocket center Tuesday night.

* * *

"Yes, I think we have an orbit," reported Dr. John W. Townsend of NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center.

* * *

But because an extremely elliptical orbit was sought, Townsend said it may be as long as 62 hours after launch before it can be definitely confirmed.

Stymie Guevara at Latin Confab

Other 20 Nations Kill Bid to Name Commie Advisers for Aid Plan

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—Cuban economic czar Ernesto Guevara tried to open the door today to Communist advisers for President Kennedy's $20-billion Alliance for Progress but ran into a stone wall.

* * *

Delegates from the other 20 American nations at the Inter-American Economic Conference brushed aside Guevara's proposals and in committee unanimously approved a 1,000-word "Declaration to the Peoples of America" summing up the new program of economic aid and self-help for Latin America. Cuba abstained.

The declaration is an abridgement of the 3,000-word Charter of Punta del Este which sets forth the principles of the program in detail. The shorter declaration was drawn up with the idea that it could be more easily understood by Latin America's masses.

CLOSES THURSDAY

After approval at a conference plenary session today, both will be signed Thursday when the conference closes one day behind schedule.

There was speculation whether Guevara would sign for Cuba. But other Latin American delegates said even if he did, the U.S.-controlled agencies that will handle the bulk of the financing won't advance any funds to Cuba.

* * *

Guevara said his country cannot fully support the program until it gets a "clear and concise answer" from the United States whether Cuba is in or out of the alliance family. U.S. delegates steadfastly refused to commit themselves.

* * *

In the late night committee session that finally whipped the declaration into shape, Guevara made his pitch for Red technicians with an amendment saying that "experts"—could assist Latin American republics in their development schemes. This was interpreted as an attempt to give Soviet bloc and Red Chinese experts a foothold in countries that will receive U.S. aid under the program.

Seek Plan to Ease City Hall Lot Jam

The City Hall parking lot is primarily for the general public, not for city employes, city commissioners agreed last night.

Complaints that the lot is usually filled by employe automobiles, making it difficult for the public to find an open parking spot, led the commission to call on the city manager and city attorney to develop some scheme to restrict employe parking.

The free parking lot is to be expanded under the urban renewal program, but until it is, some temporary measures should be taken, it was agreed.

Americans between two and 35 are about two inches taller and five pounds heavier than their counterparts in 1900.

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy is reported to have decided against any resumption of nuclear testing this year, regardless of whether the Russians demonstrate at Geneva they want no foolproof agreement.

The President's position, as outlined to congressional leaders, is that the United States should do nothing to prejudice the case it expects to make in the United Nations that the West is ready to accept a self-enforcing ban while the Russians insist on an inspection veto.

Kennedy is sending his chief negotiator, Arthur H. Dean, back to Geneva next week to find out if the Soviet Union is still sticking to its troika demand for unanimous three-power inspection control. If they are, he said, Dean will come home quickly.

There is little, if any, hope within the administration that Moscow will change its position. Accordingly, the plan is to dramatize this last-chance rejection when the U.S. General Assembly meets in September.

KEPT IN SESSION

The U.N. timetable usually keeps it in session until December. Kennedy is represented as reluctant to announce any resumption of tests while the international organization remains in session.

* * *

Meanwhile, Chairman Chet Holifield, D-Calif., of the joint congressional Atomic Energy Committee has challenged Republicans to produce evidence they claimed showed that Russia has been testing nuclear weapons.

* * *

Holifield made the demand Tuesday after Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., and House leader Charles A. Halleck, R-Ind., announced in their weekly meeting with newsmen that high government officials have information indicating Russia has been testing "right along" through the talks.

Hoffman Won't Run Against Pears in '62

LANSING (UPI)—House Speaker Don R. Pears, R-Buchanan, said today he would not be opposed by U.S. Rep. Clare E. Hoffman, Allegan Republican, when Pears seeks Hoffman's seat in Congress in the 1962 election.

Pears, who last week revealed he would run for the 4th Congressional District seat, said he was "assured" by the 85-year-old Allegan attorney that Hoffman would not seek re-election. Hoffman has been in Congress since 1934.

Pears, 61, has been in the state house representing Berrien County's 1st district for more than 10 years.

The cult of Isis, which promised immortality and bodily resurrection, spread from Egypt to Greece, Rome and Britain, challenging Christianity for a time.

Peace Corps Welcome in Colombia

(Editor's Note: There are plenty of problems on Colombia's countryside for the Peace Corps to tackle, including poor health standards, low production, and general poverty. And, Colombians in these areas say, the Americans' know-how will be welcome. This is the second of four articles on countries where the corps is due shortly.)

By JAMES O. DEWEY

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Tucked away in a corner of Andean backlands is rural Cuatro Esquinas—onetime bustling stopover for muleskinners and today one of several Colombian villages under consideration for an experiment in American idealism.

This all-but-forgotten farm community of some 400 persons is typical of the Colombian hamlets where 64 U.S. Peace Corps volunteers will be sent this fall to live and work with the campesinos in a two-year experimental program aimed at helping the Colombian farmer help himself.

Project officials still haven't decided where the volunteers will be sent when they arrive here the last of August for a final month of specialized training. But they'll all be used in a program of community development assistance.

Ranging in age from 19 to 27, most of the volunteers have farm backgrounds. All have undergone intensive training in the United States.

Together with similarly trained young Colombians, they will drill wells, install water and sewage pipe lines, help build schools, gardens, roads, sanitary facilities, organize youth clubs, develop health programs, and introduce more efficient farm production methods.

Peace Corps officials point out that while most U.S. foreign aid has been given for projects tending to underwrite central government operations, the Colombian program will be directed "at the bottom of the social, political and economic pyramid where the need is most immediate and desperate."

The Colombian project is under the direction of the Cooperative for American Relief Everywhere, Inc., CARE, a private agency, in collaboration with the Colombian government's recently organized Community Development Department.

CARE was picked to direct the operation because it has been working with the Colombian government for seven years on similar programs of community development.

The United States will invest about $786,000 in the project, and CARE will contribute $100,000. After the two years CARE officials will evaluate the program and make recommendations about its future to both the Colombian government and the U.S. Peace Corps.

Corpsmen will get $150 a month for living expenses in Colombia, plus a $75 monthly allowance which will be banked in the United States and available only on separation. They will get 30 paid leave days a year.

Cuatro Esquinas is under consideration for a Peace Corps project because the community, which is building an elementary school on its own, showed cooperative activity and willingness to work with an outside agency, a CARE official said. The outside agency in this case was CARE which is helping with the school project.

Felix A. Soler, a young teacher at Cuatro Esquinas' new school, summed up the general situation: "The people here are good people but easily led," he said, "They will follow the first side—the Russians or the Americas — that comes here and convinces them. But they don't want to be deceived with false promises. They'll all cooperate with the Americans, but they don't want projects left half done."

"The people are attached to their land," said Nicolas Olaya. "But we need someone to show us how to work it better and get a better yield. If the Americans come, we'll build them all homes, and they can teach us better methods of cultivation and raising animals."

Delfin Ramirez, sawing the thick trunk of an eucalyptus tree with a primitive saw, said he had never heard of the Peace Corps. "But," he added, "we have to sweat a lot to earn our living, and if someone can show us easier ways and help us get more modern implements, let them come and welcome."

The Peace Corpsmen should have no language difficulties. All the Colombian volunteers either have a good background in Spanish or a high language aptitude. They have been given intensive language training.

The Peace Corpsman is unlikely to encounter hostility at his base of operations. For one thing, the areas will be carefully selected. For another, the Colombian campesiono is by nature friendly and outgoing, courteous and generous. There has ben little anti-American propaganda in rural areas.

Despite this, and the natural beauty of the country and its relaxed way of life, the Peace Corps volunter will have his problems. He'll be up against disease, poverty, illiteracy, and troubles resulting from maldistribution of the land, misuse of the soil and intervillage feuds.

Lack of hygiene and proper diet has boosted Colombian infant mortality to about 100 per 1,000 live births. Dysentery, parasites, and endemic disease are a constant threat. Few rural communities here have adequately protected sources of pure water.

In this environment, the Peace Corpsman is expected to be a sort of rural jack-of-all trades.

7 Cheese Co-ops Form Quality Control Group

ESCANABA (AP) — The seven cooperative chese factories in the Upper Peninsula — in an effort to get adequate management, quality controls and market outlets— are naming representatives to a central study group.

* * *

Dale Long of Traverse City, a representative of the Michigan Milk Producers Association, said in most such plants the manager is the chese-maker and has no time to think of quality control.

The plants are at Daggett, Dollar Bay, Ewen, Bruce Crossing, Crystal Falls, Felch and Rapid River.

A recent survey on desserts revealed that pie is served more often for dessert in winter, followed by cake and pastry. Manufacturers of baking products whetted the appetities of consumers last year with $18¾ million worth of national newspaper advertising.

Drowns in Gravel Pit

BAD AXE (AP) — Everett Daniels Jr., 18, of Ubly, drowned in a gravel pit 4 miles southeast of here Tuesday.

Bozo Warns Others, Then Dies of Cancer

DENVER, Colo. (UPI) — He was a natural comic, a sight to see in his greasepaint, chalk-white, red and blue full-length costume with the big ruffle on it.

Bozo the clown made children of all ages laugh, but he had a serious message for them. He knew it could mean their life or death.

The thing he did not realize was that the dread disease he warned his missions of "buddies and partners" about—cancer—was at that very time eating away his life.

And it killed him.

Bozo was so busy warning everybody else about cancer checkups that he neglected to take his own advice. It was a grim twist of fate. By the time it was discovered—it was too late.

* * *

His companion, William Erxleben, 18, of Batesville, Ind., swam nearly a mile through the heaving water to reach Mackinac Island, where both were hotel employes.

Patrolmen Ride on Spot Flights Since Hijacking

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Border patrolmen have been riding as guards on flights out of San Antonio since last week when President Kennedy announced he would order such a move. The San Antonio Express said Tuesday.

* * *

Most airline spokesmen were mum about the move, but a spokesman for American Airlines confirmed that Border patrolmen have been riding American flights on a spot basis.

He said the patrolmen have been boarding selected flights "without fanfare" since President Kennedy's announcement after a Pan American jet was hijacked over Mexico and forced to fly to Cuba.

A spokesman for another major airline, who asked not be to quoted, also confirmed spot flights by Border patrolmen.

WRIGLEY'S OWN EXCLUSIVE

Break O'Day

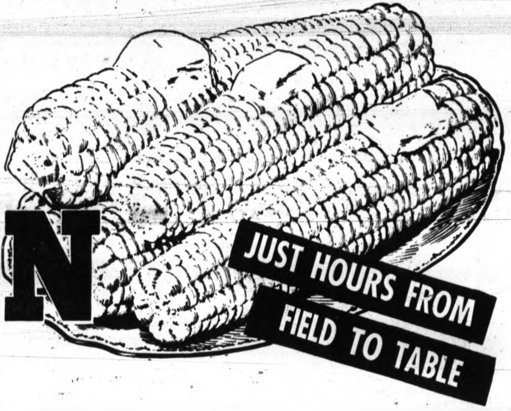
SWEET CORN



Yes . . . picked a scant few hours ago, Wrigleys own BREAK-O-DAY fresh Michigan corn retains that "just-picked", sweetness because it was stericooled immediately when picked. This process was pioneered by Wrigley to prevent normal field heat from reducing its natural sugars into starches before it is rushed to your Wrigley supermarket. Try it . . . you'll see BREAK-O-DAY sweet corn is sweet corn in the purest sense of the words.

WINS ROUND — Lucienne Auclair, 24, who was Miss Belgium of 1956 in the Miss Universe contest that year, poses outside a Los Angeles courtroom, where she won a legal round in her suit for $500,000 personal injury damages suffered in an auto accident. She points to scars on her chin and knee, and says these and other scars resulted from the accident. She was given 10 days to amend her suit to include three defendants, even though a one-year time limit to file the action had expired.

Saugatuck Halts Festival Over Crowd Actions

SAUGATUCK (AP) — "Disgusting and shameful" crowd behavior in town was the reason given today for a decision to discontinue music festivals at Saugatuck.

Three persons instrumental this year in promoting the third annual festival at a raceway near the community reached their verdict in a meeting with village president Lynn McCray.

Promoter Richard G. Hoffman, a former village president, said: "The impelling cause to drop the festival was the hundreds of collegians and teen-agers who came to Saugatuck for excitement. Their drinking on public streets and in cars, their illegal actions and behavior and general overtones of possible mob action are the basic reasons for quitting."

Saugatuck long has been a popular mecca for summer tourists.

About 63 million Americans are under age 20.

Ban on Russian Trade Important to Them

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — The threat to cut off Western trade with the Red bloc could upset the plans of a number of American companies—both importers and exporters. But its total effect on U.S. world trade would be slight.

Its effect on the trade of some of our allies would be much greater, since they have cultivated the flow while we often discouraged it.

* * *

And the threatened embargo could hurt the economy of Soviet satellites such as Poland, Czechoslovakia and East Germany most of all.

* * *

The threat was voiced by West German Chancellor Adenauer, whose country would feel the embargo most of any of the Western group. He said a complete trade stoppage is one of the moves the West is considering to meet increasing Soviet restrictions in the Berlin crisis.

The word from Washington is only that such trade suspension is under consideration. London seems reluctant at the moment. All along, the United States has blocked any trade by American corporations with Red China but let the Soviet Union get goods regarded as of no or little military use, on an export license basis.

EXPORTS HIGH

American exports to the Soviet Union and its European satellites increased in 1960 to a 13-year high of $193.4 million. Much of the jump was accounted for by agricultural sales to Poland. Imports held unchanged at $80.9 million.

* * *

We sent wheat, cotton, iron, some types of steel, soybeans, chemicals and some industrial equipment. We got from them meat, furs, platinum. The Soviet Union produces about one-fourth of world's new platinum supply each year.

* * *

Until the Berlin crisis, American businessmen had looked for a further increase in two-way trade with the East because of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's promises to increase Russian consumer goods consumption.

America's allies have been doing much more business with the Reds, and some of it in goods and materials we hold to have military value.

EAST, WEST TRADED

Adenauer's West Germany—whose big market in the Red bloc is East Germany—exported to the Communist world machinery, chemicals, and steel worth $536 million in 1960. In return it got $472 million worth of farm products and lumber, among other things.

Britain's exports with the Reds came to $345.6 million; its imports $457 million. France sent $275 million worth, largely steel and steel products, and got $177 million, chiefly coal, oil, and wood products. Italy's outgoing trade was $172 million and got $265 million worth of such things as oil, pig iron and lumber.

* * *

Canada's exports, largely grain, nickel and plastics, came to $46 million, and its imports of furs, walnuts, glassware, autos and other Red products topped $20 million. This year Canada has made some large grain export deals with Red China.

Although shipments to the Red bloc have been increasing this year, the total is still too small to make much of a dent in our foreign trade as a whole.

* * *

The $193.4 million export trade with the Reds last year barely shows in the over-all figure of $26.6 billion of commercial goods and services—that is, excluding those involving military or other government backed transactions.

* * *

The $81 million of imports from the Reds compares with a total nongovernment inflow of goods and services of $23.6 billion.

American enterprises that would feel any embargo of trade with the Communists include farm products, and such consumer goods as the tightly run economies of the Soviet Union and its satellites will admit.

To increase this trade in American products, both the U.S. government and private corporations have taken part in industrial and other fairs in Red nations. But American businessmen knew all along that the trade they might generate would be subject to any changes in political policies by either the Red governments or their own.

Russian Gives Japan Warning

Mikoyan Warns Nation Will Be Dragged Into War if Crisis Erupts

TOKYO (AP) — Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan warned the Japanese government today Japan will be dragged into war if the Berlin issue touches off a general conflagration.

* * *

This is so, Mikoyan told Premier Hayato Ikeda, because Japan is tied to the United States by the Japanese-American security pact. Mikoyan again denounced the pact as aggressive and said it was aimed at the Soviet Union.

The Kremlin leader, who is here on a private visit for a Soviet trade fair, conferred with Ikeda for an hour and 15 minutes. He told the premier the Soviet Union fully intends to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany and is ready to meet force with force there. He blamed the United States for the Berlin crisis and said the Soviet Union wants to avoid war at all costs.

U.S. Coffee Drinking Hits an All-Time Peak

NEW YORK — Coffee-drinking in the United States has reached an all-time high with an average of 2.97 cups per day being consumed by everyone 10 years of age and over, it was reported here today by the Pan-American Coffee Bureau.

Based on an independent consumer survey conducted earlier this year, the Bureau's report stated that this record rate, which adds up to more than 400,000,000 cups per day, continues a trend which has seen coffee-drinking increase an average of 2.1 per cent each year since 1950, when the first of these studies was made.

The greatest increase in coffee drinking this year took place in the home, the Bureau said, where cups per person (10 years and over) per day rose to 2.49. This was eight per cent greater than in 1960 and 26 per cent more than in 1950. Coffee-drinking in restaurants and at work remains relatively stable at .21 and .27 cups per person per day, respectively.

Westerners are the biggest coffee-drinkers, the survey reveals, averaging 3.51 cups per day. They are closely followed by Middle Westerners, who drink 3.27 cups on the average, while those in the East and South drink 2.64 and 2.56 cups per day, respectively.

The proportion of heavy coffee drinkers (five or more cups per day) showed an impressive gain in 1961, with 23.3 per cent of those surveyed falling in this category as against 21.0 per cent last year and 14.7 per cent in 1950.

MOST IN A.M.

By far the greatest amount of coffee is drunk at breakfast, averaging 1.18 cups. At lunch and dinner another .92 cups per person is added, while the balance is drunk at morning and afternoon breaks, and in the evening. The quantities consumed at each of these times show a slight increase over 1960.

The coffee-break continues to be an important factor in the growth of the beverage. Of the national average of 2.97 cups per day, 21 per cent, or .62 cups, were downed at coffee-breaks. This is a rise from .56 cups in 1960, and is more than double the .30 cups during breaks in 1950.

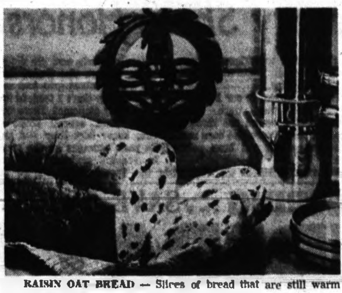
Vending machines as a source of coffee continue to increase in offices, stores and factories; they now provide 8.5 per cent of all coffee drunk at work and are available to 22 per cent of all employed people, compared to 19 per cent a year ago.

* * *

Older people are still the heaviest coffee-drinkers by far, the Bureau's survey shows. In the 30-59 age brackets, coffee is consumed at the average rate of better than four cups per person per day. On the other hand, young people, 19 and under, are drinking less than ever before, less than a cup a day. In the 20-24 age bracket, however, consumption jumps sharply to 2.93 cups, up from 2.71 in 1960.

Instant coffee usage continued to gain. In 1961, it represented .64 cups per person per day (out of the 2.97 total), up from .60 cups last year, and from .26 cups per day in 1953, when its use was first measured in the Coffee Bureau's studies.

Coffee is consumed by 74.4 per cent of the people (10 years and over) in the United States, leading all other beverages by a wide margin. Milk-drinkers are next, at 53.1 per cent, followed by fruit and vegetable juices, 39.7 per cent, soft drinks 32.8 per cent, and tea, 24.4 per cent, the survey shows.



RAISIN OAT BREAD — Slices of bread that are still warm are a treat hard to beat. This loaf is made with oatmeal, a hint of molasses and plenty of raisins. Choose the regular dark raisins or the less well known golden raisins. This bread is good toasted too.

Simmer Shrimp Gently

Use a pint of boiling water and a tablespoon of salt when you are cooking a pound of fresh shrimp in their shells. Simmer the seafood, do not boil it or it will toughen.

Dark or Golden Raisins Polka Dot Homemade Loaf

A gal really puts her heart in her hand when she makes this wonderful homemade raisin bread. History repeats itself as more and more new homemakers discover the joys of the ancient art of bread making.

Taste surprising California raisins, rolled oats and a touch of molasses add special interest to the moist flavorful bread. It's delicious plain or toasted and keeps well. Slices of raisin oat bread spread with plenty of butter are the makings for a popular coffee break party menu.

Raisin Oat Bread

2 cups rolled oats
2 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons molasses
¼ cup shortening
2¼ teaspoons salt
2 cups boiling water
2 envelopes dry yeast
½ cup warm water
4½ to 5 cups sifted flour
1½ cups dark or golden raisins

Place in bowl rolled oats, sugar, molasses, shortening and salt; pour boiling water over all, stir and let stand until lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in warm water; add to cooled oat mixture. Add half of flour and beat well. Add remaining flour and raisins to make medium stiff dough.

Knead lightly. Place in greased bowl and cover with damp towel. Let rise in warm place until double in size (1½ to 2 hours). Punch down and let rise again to double, about ¾ hour.

Form into two loaves and place in lightly greased loaf pans (8½ x 4½ x 2 inches). Let rise until light and well-rounded above edge of pan (30 to 45 minutes).

* * *

Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 375 degrees F. and continue baking 35 to 40 minutes. Cool on rack. Makes 2 loaves.

New Muffins, French Pastry Share Honors

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

MT. DESERT ISLAND, Me.—The Bar Harbor Times Publishing Company let me use a typewriter in their office and made a chair high enough with an unabridged dictionary. So much for inspiration.

Last weekend we were camping on this famous island with our tent pitched in sight and sound of the ocean. As always, the tide has a never-ending fascination for us.

One morning there we had blueberry muffins for breakfast. This is blueberry country and some of the children in camp were picking wild berries right in camp. But we bought the muffins in a supermarket out of the refrigerator case. They were all prepared in little foil muffin tins.

Twenty minutes in our barbecue kettle and they were nicely browned. I hope we see these in Pontiac. There were also corn muffins, honey nut and bran raisin ones.

The first night out we were at Stratford, Ontario and ate dinner in a restaurant. The Better Half and I had a mixed grill that was excellent. Why don't I think of this sort of thing at home? There was a pork chop, several strips of bacon, some beef liver and two little pork sausages on the plate.

In a camp community kitchen in the Thousand Islands we ate with a Hungarian refugee couple from Toronto. He cooked the meal — fat Hungarian sausages that he browned over the gas stove in a hot dog grill. With them they had a jar of hot peppers.

We had an interesting conversation with these two.

One of our first meals in the province of Quebec was at a roadside restaurant called "Au Jolie Vent." Of course the Twelve-Year-Old had to have hamburger. The waitress brought us a lazy susan of relishes which is another good idea to copy at home.

In the center were slices of onion. The little dishes around it held cabbage salad, chili sauce and 2 kinds of pickle relish.

The ice cream in Canada was very good. It has a richer vanilla flavor than the kind we usually eat.

* * *

One day we did sight seeing in the city of Quebec. At noon we ate in a downtown restaurant and I went all out for French food. I had delicious French onion soup, salad with French dressing and French pastry.

* * *

Later that afternoon we stopped in a bakery and bought some more French pastry to take along with us. Each of the three of us chose two different kinds. The entire bill was 58 cents. It's a good thing I can't get to that bakery often, or my waistline would be gone forever.

Accident Victim Dies

HAMTRAMCK (AP) — Joseph Zerkowski, 67, of Hamtramck, died Tuesday after he was struck by a car near his home last Saturday. Officers said the exact cause of death has not been determined but that Zerkowski apparently died of injuries suffered in the mishap.

Foreign 'Sister City' to Halt Chaos

BAY CITY (AP)—Do you ever look at the ominous headlines in your newspaper, warning of some new trouble spot in international relations—Cuba, the Congo, Berlin, Bizerte, etc.—and feel you personally have little control over the world's seeming drift toward chaos?

* * *

Bay City is among five Michigan cities and 150 in the United States that are building new roads to world understanding through the people-to-people town affiliation program—also known as "sister city" or "twinning" affiliation.

The plan involves pairing an American city with one overseas for exchange of ideas, good will, information, students, perhaps goodwill ambassadors, and sometimes teachers, white-collar workers, bringing the people of each community in closer contact with the traditions, history and attitudes of the other.

* * *

Under the program, sponsored by the President's Civic People-to-People Committee and American Municipal Association, Bay City has launched "sister city" affiliations with both Mechelen (Malines), ecclesiastical capital of Belgium, between Brussels and Antwerp, and the Bavarian city of Ansbach, home of the famed Bach festival, in West Germany.

REPRESENTS CROSS-SECTION

The affiliations are supervised by a nonprofit citizens' group known as Bay City People-to-People Council (formerly Council on World Affairs), representing a cross-section of community interests.

Honorary chairman is Mayor Donald E. Powers. Ex-Mayor James L. Tanner is state chairman under Michigan Municipal League appointment.

His MML committee is known as the International Municipal Cooperation Committee.

* * *

Bay City's surprising success in promoting good will across the oceans has won it praise of national officials, including President Kennedy, and Mark Bortman, Boston, Mass., national chairman, has called on it for state leadership in getting more Michigan cities interested.

It has been hinted Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who gave impetus to the "sister city" plan in 1957, will soon take over Bortman's job under appointment by President Kennedy.

* * *

A speakers' bureau will be set up to explain the program to other interested cities, and a state council of affiliated cities founded to expand the "twinnings." On the national level, new affiliations are being made at the rate of one every 10 days, according to George G. Wynne of the U.S. Information Agency. The program has governmental blessing and advice but otherwise is purely voluntary and private. It frowns on use of any taxpayers' monies.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., recently successfully passed in the U.S. Senate a resolution praising people-to-people as a necessary part of the New Frontier movement and urging every city and town in the United States to adopt a "sister city" overseas in carrying out programs of mutual interest.

He also called on state legislatures to act similarly in lending support to expansion of the program throughout the free world.

* * *

A five-day international friendship days festival focused community interest on the project. At a time when nations are stockpiling weapons in rigid posture of cold war and threatened destructive force, here was a living example of peace and amity.

STUDY LANGUAGES

Foreign language studies have been stimulated. Pen-pal relationships have been formed by school children. An operation friendship airlift in October will take about 15 civil leaders to Bay City's "sister cities" on a 17-day tour of Europe.

"Magazines for Friendship" are handed out to foreign sailors calling at the port of Bay City. Interpreters are made available when they run into language problems.

Further information on the program may be had by writing Bay City People-to-People Council, Post Office Box 381, Bay City.

* * *

Kalamazoo several years ago won wide recognition on its affiliation with Fougeres, France. That is now being revived. Detroit recently "adopted" a Japanese city after earlier success in "salute" ceremonies with Rotterdam, Holland. Harper Woods has European "sisters" in Epernay, France, and Ettlingen, West Germany. Saginaw is working on Lapaz, Bolivia.

* * *

"Sister city" affiliations helped to provide relief funds for Chile after its disastrous earthquake, iron lungs to combat a polio epidemic in Japan, a health clinic in Brest, France, and a ward in a community hospital in Mercara, India. One of the tie-ups recalls unhappier days—that of Honolulu and Hiroshima.

* * *

"The movement has spread so rapidly in Japan that city governments have made it a point of civic pride to be the first in their area to obtain an American affiliation," the AMA reports.

A two-way exchange of information has begun to flow on such municipal problems as traffic control, firefighting and control, and zoning, while private companies in "sister" cities" have exchanged skilled craftsmen and workers.

ON THE HOOF — Man's best friend is usually his dog, but not for Justin Doak who has a pig named Porkey. Diak is manager of the Missouri Farmers Association hog market in Gallatin, Mo. He started to develop Porkey, a runt to marketable size, but got a leash-trained, pampered pet instead.

Erickson HAIR and SCALP SPECIALISTS

World's Largest Home Treatment System

Will Be in Pontiac, Michigan at the Waldron Hotel, 36 E. Pike — FE 5-6168

Tomorrow, Thursday, August 17, Only

The Erickson Hair and Scalp Specialists' District Director, Mr. T. R. Stonler on his regularly scheduled visit, will be at the Waldron Hotel between 12:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. Every hair-worried person should take advantage of this great opportunity.

The Erickson method is known all over the United States. You can have a conference with the Erickson representative regarding your hair and scalp problems at no cost to you whatsoever, learn how the scalp treatments work, and the results you can expect in a short period of time.

Results guaranteed by the Erickson organization. We don't ask you to take our word. You will be given a written guarantee from the beginning to end on a pro-rated basis.

Hopeless Cases Refused

Erickson Specialists will accept only clients whose hair will respond to treatment. They cannot help individuals who are slick-bald after years of hair loss or in that great majority of cases of baldness, called male pattern baldness, where no treatment including the Erickson method is of any value. Therefore, Erickson will continue their policy of refusing all hopeless cases. The person shown above does not have male pattern baldness.

If you have dandruff, excessive hair fall, thinning hair, excessive oiliness or dryness, itchy scalp, take 20 minutes of your time to see what you can do.

Thousands have reported satisfaction from the Erickson Scalp Method. Why burden yourself with unhealthy hair and scalp? Anyway it costs you nothing to come in and learn how thousands have been helped by the years of Erickson experience plus the wonderful opportunity for help it offers. Just go to the Waldron Hotel in Pontiac on Thursday, August 17 only, between 12:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. Ask the Hotel Desk Clerk for Mr. Stonier. He will do the rest.

Interviews are given in private. You will not be embarrassed in any way.

Picking raspberries for her grandfather Steve Begovich of Ward Road is Margaret Begovich. During the height of the berry season the patch produced a maximum of 60 quarts a day. Margaret will attend South Macomb College in September. Mr. and Mrs. John Begovich of Ward Road are her parents. At right, measuring cornstalks grown by Sam Felice of Andersonville Road, Waterford, is grandson Paul Bonfiglio of James K Boulevard. Paul helps his grandfather plant the seed as well as train pole beans and stake the tomatoes. Mr. Felice said he gardens because he likes fresh vegetables and "It's fun."

Count Blessings Found in Garden

By MARY ANGLEMIER

Stretching lazily in the summer sun on nearby beaches or far away places may bring its reward—a deep dark tan, the subject for conversation and the envy of associates; or a a blistering back and peeling nose.

But there's nothing that can compare with the reward of gardening.

SUN COMES UP

Who can describe the joy of entering a garden as the sun comes riding over the horizon in a blaze of glory—its shining rays sparkling on a myriad of dewdrops?

Who can tell of the peace and contentment we feel standing amidst rows of corn in the early morning hours when all the world about us is quiet except for the crackle of the corn bending with the breeze or the call of a Bob White now and then?

We gaze with bewilderment at the beauty of the mauve tassel topping the six-foot cornstalk and the browning silk on the firm young ears.

* * *

We never knew how pretty a cornstalk was until we planted the seed and cared for the tender young plants ourself.

IT'S A MIRACLE!

And who can describe the miracle of a garden?

Just a few weeks ago the soil was turned, rows plotted and a handful of seeds planted. The sun shone, rains came and touched by our Creator the little seeds sprouted to become ruby red beets, Spanish sweet onions, lettuce, carrots, kohlrabi, corn, tomatoes, melons, cucumbers, peppers, radishes, cabbage, beans, brocculi and brussels sprouts.

* * *

Gardening is an occupation for which no one is too young or too old. There are some pleasures which fascinate us only through youth or old age but gardening interest grows and at each age manifests a different charm.

* * *

Gardening has been called the oldest of the arts. Tennyson calls Father Adam "the grand old gardener," and Shakespeare says, "There are no ancient gentlemen but gardeners."

In very early times, plants were grown for food or medicinal use but in the hearts of these primitive people was the appreciation of the beauty of growing plants.

"Two thousand years before Christ, the Egyptians had irrigated gardens. The Hanging Gardens of Babylon, one of the Seven Wonders of the World, were built five centuries before Christ by Nebuchadnezzar to gratify his Median wife who had lived in a land of hills and trees.

LIKE A SCHOOL

A garden is like a wonderful school where instructors teach by object lessons, and where pupils "learn to do by doing." Gardeners learn of the chemistry of the soil, the seasons and the weather.

A garden is of physical benefit through the outdoor exercise it affords with the added value of being creative. It teaches that any success worth having comes from work sometimes almost back-breaking.

Looked at from a commercial point of view, a garden is a boon to the home table, providing fruits and vegetables for family and friends during summer months and for canning or freezing for later use.

* * *

Most home gardeners find a real saving on the food bill. There's no comparison between the fully ripe tomatoes picked in your own back yard and those on the market picked greener for shipping; or fresh sweet corn picked and plunked into a kettle of hot water minutes after picking, and those picked the previous day.

* * *

The sun rides higher in the heavens.

Leaving the garden behind, we sing with the Psalmist: "Bless the Lord O my soul, and forget not all His benefits" as we go in for breakfast and the duties of the day.

When winter winds blow the John E. Hubbards of Chippewa Road will feast on produce from their summer garden. Mary, 3, wipes each jar of tomatoes, pickles and apricots canned by her mother. Baby Mark would like to pull the cloth to see the cans tumble. Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard grow their own vegetables on an out-of-town plot of ground. Mrs. Hubbard also freezes fruits and vegetables.

Designer Raps Choice of Toys

CHICAGO (UPI)—Mother doesn't know what's good for junior. At least not when it comes to toys.

That's the word of toy designer Marvin Glass, whose highly successful creations include a doll that puckers up and kisses and a "hungry piggy" that eats at the table.

* * *

Glass has no use for parents who buy the kind of educational toys which try to teach a child words, numbers, or colors.

"Those parents buy toys in bad conscience," he said. "They don't really approve of a child having fun.

"They're always pushing their young to learn something, to have something to show for all the time they waste playing."

Glass, a dour chap himself, believes the only function of a toy should be to amuse.

He's all for toy pistols, for instance, "because you can take away a fellow's cap gun, but not the aggression he takes out with it," Glass said. "Small boys need to make a big noise."

PLAY PARENTS EGO

"Manufacturers play on the egotism of parents in this respect," he said. "A toy recommended for 3 to 5-year-olds is generally too complicated for 3-year-olds, but the parents of 3-year-olds buy it every time. You can't tell them their youngsters aren't the mental equal of any 5-year-old!"

* * *

The right toy for 3-year-olds is probably the one recommended for 2-year-olds, Glass said—"But tell that to parents and they think you're insulting them."

"If you have to surprise them, dolls are still the first choice of girls," he said.

* * *

Glass cautioned against buying anything highly unusual "because children are highly conservative."

Rocket ships and robot commandos are beginning to catch on, he said, but only when they resemble old fashioned toys.

"A toy without tradition doesn't stand a chance," he said. "A robot commando has to be a tin soldier by any other name."

"We like to hoe and help our dad in the garden," said Brian (center) and Philip Larkin of Richmond Road, Waterford Township. The boys have two-year-old sister Jane pulling weeds. The youngsters are the children of Mr. and Mrs. James Larkin. Besides a large vegetable garden, Mr. Larkin grows roses and perennials.

Turn South to Go North

Reading Road Maps Tricky

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — There is a running discussion in our family which boils into an argument every time we take a motor trip.

UPSIDE DOWN

As an amateur, I contend that you can read a road map more easily if you turn it facing the direction you're going. That is, if you're going from north to south, turn the map upside down and all the cities and other landmarks you'll be seeing are right there ready to meet you on the map as you cover distance.

* * *

Granted, the letters and numbers are upside down. But that to me is a small technicality.

My husband was trained in professional navigation — by the U.S. Navy during World War II. This embraced steering a course by the stars, or by speed, wind direction, drift, charts, etc., as a means of getting where you want to go.

* * *

* * *

"Only a woman would turn a map upside down," he announced as we cleared the Lincoln Tunnel and started a 1,700 motor trip through New Jersey, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia and Maryland.

* * *

The implication was that only a woman with a bird brain would turn a map upside down.

It turns out there are many females in this category. I know. I have been talking with them. I even found one man who turns navigation charts in his power boat. That way the buoys and other water markers are there in front for him to see.

LOST IN FOG

"My wife thinks I'm crazy," my boss admitted. He confessed that one evening he and his motor boat got lost in a fog on Long Island Sound. He cast anchor finally to wait until dawn. Next morning, when the weather cleared he found he was within 50 feet of his own mooring at Greenwich Cove.

* * *

"But it wasn't my navigation which failed," he insisted. "The weather caused the error."

* * *

My husband and I have taken numerous motor trips and even with my off-beat approach to a road map have found ourselves lost only once. That was in Denmark on a scenic country road.

As usual, the map was turned in the direction we were going, but I finally ran out of lines on the darned thing.

What to do? "Let's stop and ask directions," I ventured.

There's another thing about men. They'll drive for hours into the unknown before they'll admit they're lost and it's time to ask the local gasoline station where they are.

* * *

This time in Denmark, there wasn't a filling station near. But there was a general store.

SIGN LANGUAGE

It turned out when we stopped that we also were lost with the language. Danes in the big towns speak English as a second language. Get into rural Denmark, and it's either know their language or start pointing. The friendly Danes joined us in sign language.

* * *

And you know what they did. They took our road map, turned it UPSIDE DOWN and began pointing. We were reoriented, but you'd never have known it from the later silence in the car.

Usually, there is little silence.

New London Service

Brides Dial for Recipes

LONDON (UPI) — British girls who embark on a matrimonial career without knowing how to cook do not have to worry about feeding their husbands any more.

All a wife has to do is dial ASK-8071 and a feminine voice will give her a recipe for a tasty meal.

This is a new telephone service announced by the British Postmaster General. It started in Birmingham, and if successful, will be extended to London, Liverpool, Manchester, Glasgow and other main cities. The new service will provide one recipe for a main course every day.

The British Farm Products Council will choose the recipe, taking into consideration the weather and the price of various foods.

As one member of the council put it: "We shall not provide recipes for anything exotic.

* * *

"We aim to recommend the kind of meal people with average incomes can afford."

Recipes probably will include such dishes as steak-and kidney pie, a fish souffle, deviled pork chops, rolled filets of plaice, breaded veal chops.

Of course, if anything goes wrong, the bride can always dial 999 — emergency call for police, fire and ambulance.

Abby Says: Child Suffers

But Who Pays the Piper?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: You hear about high school girls who are sent away to homes for unwed mothers to have their babies. They are told it is better to leave their babies behind, to forget they were ever mothers, and start life over again.

Why not make the girl who has sinned stay home and face the music? I am sure it would teach her a lesson.

At least if she had to stay home and take care of her baby she wouldn't have so much time on her hands that she would go out and do the same thing over again.

GRANDMOM OF 12

DEAR GRANDMOM: What about the child? How would YOU like to be the child of an unwed mother, forced to grow up in a community where everyone knew the circumstances of your birth? When a young girl makes one mistake, and is forced to "face the music," the child suffers more than the mother profits.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have an adorable granddaughter who is 15 years old. She is petite (size 9) and has a beautiful face. For the past two years she has refused to cut her hair. She sets it in large rollers every night. When she combs out her hair, her head looks three times its normal size.

She thinks it looks wonderful. When her mother tells her she looks like a freak, she puts up a big argument. I think it spoils her appearance. What would you do if she were YOUR granddaughter? Thank you.

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: If she were my granddaughter I would give her as much advice as she asked me for.

DEAR ABBY: What is a person supposed to do when she is asked to sit through a private fashion show? I have a friend who can afford vacations and beautiful clothes, but I can't. She will invite me to her house and ask me to sit down while she models all the beautiful new outfits she has bought for her vacation.

I try hard to conceal my envy, but when I go home I break out in tears. I really like this person, and feel very guilty about not enjoying her good luck as much as I pretend. How can I overcome this feeling?

ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED: You have yielded to a human failing. Look up the Tenth Commandment, and count your OWN blessings.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Honesty Sets Children Apart From Adults

(Excerpt No. 2 from Romano Guardini's "The Lord")

Jesus makes the prerequisite of heaven childlikeness.

What is it that the child has which the adult in Jesus' eyes so sadly lacks?

Certainly it is not childish charm. That would be lyricism, something Jesus had nothing to do with. Innocence, perhaps? But the child is not innocent. The Bible is much too realistic to call a child innocent. The "innocent child" is the invention of grownups eager to stake a sentimental claim to the vanished purity of their own childhood.

If it's neither charm nor purity what is it then that Jesus praises in the child? Apparently the exact opposite of the chief (and negative) characteristic of maturity.

* * *

The grownup seeks security and in the process becomes sly and hard. He is afraid and fear abases.

The child, on the other hand, does not yet have the instinct of self-preservation — at least not so strongly. He lives in a world of unruffled trust.

The attitude is no credit to him, for it springs from ignorance rather than virtue. Nevertheless, it is there and engenders an unconscious courage toward existence.

The adult sees everything with an eye to its usefulness, thereby rendering everything unfree. He has intentions and nothing so hampers existence as these which trammel action and falsify vision.

NO INTENTIONS

The child has no intentions. (This is, of course exaggerated. Of course it has intentions, too, as well as fear and everything else that grownups have; for it begins to grow with its first breath!)

Strictly speaking the child too desires this and that, but for Jesus' purpose here, which is to illustrate an idea rather than demonstrate psychology, it is correct to say: The child meets reality as it is with simple acceptance. Therefore, in his presence things can move freely; he permits them to be themselves.

* * *

In the adult is much unnaturalness. He does not leave life alone, but instead, he constantly tries to improve it. The result is what is known as culture and has many precious values but values bought with artificiality.

By contrast, the child is simple and candid. Its honesty is untried, but it is there, a living reprimand.

The adult is self-centered; he is constantly examining, testing and judging himself.

You Have Problem to Solve

Q: We are planning a reception for our son who is to be confirmed soon and we are confronted with a problem. About a year ago, my husband, my son and I were invited to two different receptions for two of our neighbors' sons who were confirmed.

At that time our son and these two boys were very good friends. However, soon afterwards they had an argument and the relationship between these two boys and my son now consists of nothing more than a nod when they meet.

Our son has made many new friends whom he would like to invite to this reception. Since we are limited as to the number of people we can invite we would like to know if, under the circumstances, it is necessary to invite our neighbors' sons.

We, the parents, are good friends and we will of course invite them to the reception. We are wondering if they would have cause to take offense if we do not invite their sons too. As our son was invited to their parties, are we obliged to invite them to his?

A: Your real obligation will be paid by inviting the parents, but unless they are aware of the estrangement that now exists between their sons and yours, I'm afraid they will take offense if their sons are not invited too.

* * *

Q: When introducing a married woman, is she introduced as Mrs. John Jones or simply Mrs. Jones?

A: If she is one of a large family of Joneses, call her Mrs. John Jones in order to distinguish her from all the other Mrs. Joneses. Otherwise call her Mrs. Jones.

* * *

Q: Can you suggest items other than the usual cuff links or the clips to give as presents to the ushers at my forthcoming wedding?

A. Silver or gold pencil, key ring, belt buckle, bill fold, cigarette case or lighter or any other personal article.

* * *

The clothes of the bride and groom as well as those of their attendants are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet "Clothes of The Bridal Party." To obtain a copy, send ten cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to The Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

Q: When a boy asks a girl for a date, shouldn't he be specific and say where they are going, such as to the movies, a basketball game, a dance, etc., so that the girl may dress accordingly? Last week a boy asked me for a date but didn't say where we were going. I got all dressed up and when he came to the house he told me that he had two tickets for a basketball game. There was no time to change my dress so I went as I was. I felt very much out of place as everyone else was in sports clothes.

A: When a boy asks a girl for a date he most certainly should tell her where they are going so that she will know what to wear.

Take a Look in Mirror

Posture Can Be the Culprit

The next time you're describing the one that got away, turn the tale into a beneficial exercise. Bend elbows slightly, swing arms forward and clench fists. Relax fists and pull arms back. This is good for the spine, and that's no fish story.

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

An unusually prominent collar bone spoils the beauty of many a neck. Sometimes this is due to extreme underweight. If you are very thin, you do not have the padding which your heavier sisters have and naturally all of your bones show more. In this instance a gain in weight will help.

* * *

Sometimes a prominent collar bone is simply due to bony structure, like the shape of a kneecap or the bones in your hands. Exercises which develop the muscles of the chest and neck will help some, but you can't change your bone structure.

WORK ON POSTURE

Posture is the culprit more often than you realize. If you slump and allow your shoulders to droop forward, your collar bone is much more noticeable.

Sit in front of a mirror and look at the difference when you droop forward and when you straighten your spine and pull your shoulders back.

This exercise will be helpful. Stand tall. Raise your arms out at your sides, shoulder heights, palms facing forward. Bend your elbows slightly as you swing your arms forward. At the same time clench your fists. Relax fists as you return your arms (straighten elbows) to the side, shoulder-height position. Continue.

CIRCLE WITH HEAD

Another: Stand with your arms hanging at your sides in a relaxed manner. Make circles with your head. Circle first in one direction and then in the other. Do this slowly, trying to make your complete.

If you would like to have my exercises for the neck, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 18. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Men Should Watch for Danger Signals

BY RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Danger signals any husband should learn to recognize and respect:

"I don't think you've heard a word I've been saying." That means your wife is tired of talking to a vacuum and wants a little response to her attempts at conversation.

"Do you realize how long it has been since you've taken me out to dinner?" This means your wife is getting cabin fever, and you had better plan an evening out, or else.

"If you think you've had a hard day . . ." You aren't going to get any sympathy this time because, no matter how bad your day has been your wife has had one that can top it. If you don't want to spend the evening listening to her tale of woe you had better say, "Maybe we ought to take in a movie."

THANK GOODNESS

"Thank goodness you're home." This always means that you have to do something about something. Discipline junior, straighten out a household emergency or take over the children for the evening because their mother has just about had it.

"I've just had the most wonderful idea." On your guard! This is going to be something you aren't going to like, or you wouldn't be getting this kind of effusive build-up before having it sprung on you.

"Now don't say a word until I've told you the whole story." Brace yourself for what's coming. It's going to be bad. Your daughter has smashed the family car. Junior has broken a neighbor's picture window. Or, some of your wife's relatives are moving in with you.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

"Dear Eunice,

"I would appreciate it very much if you would pass along information through your column about cutting a nonreversible, uneven plaid."

Mrs. J. R.

This is the one type of plaid that is best to cut on a single layer of fabric, rather than folded. As with any plaid, you must decide what part of the design will look best for the center front, and then use this throughout the garment.

Don't cut anything out until you have planned where each piece of your pattern will be laid out.

Take each piece of your pattern separately, lay it on your fabric in the correct position, then outline this piece with chalk. This will be your way of knowing just how much you have to work with.

Now, take this same piece of pattern and TURN IT OVER. You must place this piece in the exact place on your fabric so the two will match. Cutting a plaid of this type takes extra time and concentration, but when it is well done, there is nothing to equal it.

Don't overlook the possibility of using part of your plaid on the bias, such as a yoke, or the entire bodice. This makes the most attractive self-trim possible.

MODIFY PATTERNS

"Dear Mrs. Farmer,

"Your column is the most inspirational and needed column to home sewers. You have given me courage to do things I never would have dreamed of doing before.

"I know that it is primarily devoted to sewing techniques, and that's what we need most, but please come to our rescue once in a while on styles. I think there are many women who share my feelings on this.

"I so often choose a pattern and material that just aren't right for me. This brings up my question.

"It seems like all the new patterns are without collar and sleeves. This is not only wrong for my personal needs but I don't think the style does anything for me. Do you suggest style above all?"

Mrs. B. B. E.

You are right! This column actually is devoted to answering the little techniques that take your clothes out of the "home-made" category. However, no matter how beautifully a garment is made, if it lacks that certain "oomph," or if it is not right for you, you have wasted your time and money.

You will always have extremes in fashion, but you must learn to modify these extremes to fit your own personal needs. As to collarless and sleeveless clothes, your age is the most important factor here.

Unless you are under 40, you probably need something to soften the lines of your face and neck. You can use a small collar, ascot filler, and many other details that will give the illusion of the new look.

There are few women who look well in a sleeveless dress. I would suggest a slight cap sleeve for almost everyone.

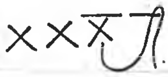
WHAT'S A CATCH-STITCH?

"Dear Eunice,

"From time to time, I have seen the words "catch-stitch" either on patterns or sewing leaflets. Please tell me what this means and where would it be most likely to be used?"

Mrs. C. S.

Catch-stitching is often used for hems, linings, etc. You must work from left to right, catching in a thread of the upper layer of fabric and then catching in a thread of the lower layer of fabric. See illustration.



Can You Swim?

Sailing Can Be Fun If...

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Feature Writer

If you aren't a good swimmer, you'll be safer if you stay on land. Boating, the new sport for teen-agers as well as their parents, is a lot of fun, but there is always the possibility of a mishap.

As any good sailor can tell you, many accidents are due to carelessness.

Recently three teen-agers who had been warned not to leave a safe area in their 16-foot boat, capsized as they fished in rougher water on Long Island Sound. One was drowned.

If you are invited for a boat ride, make sure there are life preservers aboard and that the captain takes his navigation job seriously.

A young man who is borrowing the boat for a day may turn out to be a boating clown. You don't want a hot-rodder piloting you on the waterways. If he doesn't own the craft, insist that an experienced pilot go along, whether the boat is small or large.

An outboard motor presents less difficulty, of course, but the craft's pilot must be on his toes and alert while the boat is moving.

If you are on a weekend trip with a group, insist that cruising be done in the daytime. Foggy nights are hazardous on the water. Good sailors usually tie up to the nearest port.

Now if you have the trip all lined up what about your knowledge of nautical terminology?

If you'd assist the skipper, you'll find these are the most frequently used terms:

Port . . . The left side of the boat (easy to remember as it has the same number of letters.)

Galley . . . Kitchen to you, girls.

Lee . . . A term used often on sailboats. Leeward (pronounced "looward") is the side opposite from which the breeze is blowing.

Stern . . . The aft or back of the boat.

Lines . . . Ropes that secure the boat fore and aft when it is moored. You might be asked to grab a line when the boat is coming into dock, and maybe even to jump to the dock with the line.

Gear . . . It's what you bring aboard, also the equipment for the boat.

Many girls prefer shorts to sailor pants for boat wear. If you wear shorts, make sure you have a skirt or a pair of slacks handy.

The sun can be merciless on the water, and nothing irks a young captain more than having to lend his sweater or slacks to a female first mate in the event of cool breezes or stormy weather. Be prepared or you will not be asked out again.

Make sure there's a first aid kit aboard, and take sun lotion and sunglasses with you.

Girls likely will be asked to contribute the lunch also, no doubt, so be sure you take along salt, sugar, mustard, catsup and other items considered necessary for boy-survival.

JANICE HELENE GRUSNICK

Late fall vows are planned by Janice Helene Grusnick, daughter of the late Carl Grusnick, to Jack L. Keller of Henry Clay Avenue, son of LaRue C. Keller and Mrs. Joseph D. Jozwick, both of Pontiac.

Marla Jane Van Decar Weds William C. Haps

Our Lady of Refuge Church, Orchard Lake, was decked with white gladioli and pompons for the Saturday morning nuptials of Marla Jane Van Decar to William C. Haps.

The newlyweds joined their parents, the Ross Van Decars of Farmington and Mr. and Mrs. John C. Haps of LaFay Drive at the wedding breakfast and evening reception in Maplewood Clubhouse, Royal Oak.

* * *

Marvin F. Haps of Garden City was best man for his brother. Charles Whitman, Edwin F. Kast Jr. and Edward Van Decar of Farmington seated the guests.

The couple, presently honeymooning in Northern Michigan, will live in West Bloomfield Township while the bridegroom completes his studies at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

MRS. WILLIAM C. HAPS

Juvenile Drinking, Apathy Hit by WCTU

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Juvenile drinkers, their parents and community apathy were targets of speakers at the recent 87th annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

An increasing number of children of 16 or under are being arrested for drunkeness, Jean Hansen, Evanston, Ill. said. She is national general secretary of the Loyal Temperance Legion for Children, 6 to 12 years.

* * *

Miss Hansen asserted there is little point in discussing juvenile drinking and delinquency as a police problem until it is recognized as a problem to be solved by education for prevention in the community, church, school and home.

Irene Long Curtis, also of Evanston, said the mounting drinking and associated arrests among young people accents the need for alcohol education in high school. She said nearly 200,000 boys and girls under 21 were arrested for crimes involving alcohol in 1960.

'MUST TEACH YOUTH'

"Church members, educators, leaders in civic, political, professional and business realms as well as character building organizations must discard apathy and increasingly educate youth in results of drinking."

WCTU President Mrs. Fred J. Tooze said Monday that the "family room has become a barroom, and living a vaudeville performance headlining mother in an irresponsible way of life."

* * *

Mrs. Tooze urged hostesses to serve nonalcoholic beverages only.

The 1,000 delegates passed a resolution urging the government to stop spending money on liquor for diplomatic cocktail parties.

It was announced that thirty-six officers and other leaders of the organization will fly to Hawaii for an eight-day post-convention tour.

Optimists Set Picnic

Pontiac Optimists, their families and guests will meet Sunday at 1 p.m. in the Julian Galan home on Lochaven Road for their annual picnic.

Pony rides, games, swimming, and possible boat rides are planned. Also on the schedule are dancing and singing, a golf driving tee, horseshoe pitching contests, badminton and a baseball game for adults.

In 1958 the village of Fanticolo, Italy, celebrated the 15th anniversary of a local horse.

Diane Lee Elliott Is Married to Soldier

Blue delphinium, white gladioli and palms adorned the chancel of the First Baptist Church Saturday evening where Dr. H. H. Savage solemnized the vows of Diane Lee Elliott to Spec. 4 Zvonko Ivosic.

The Leonard E. Elliotts of Drayton Plains are parents of the bride and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ante Ivosic of Allen Park.

The bridegroom had William Rusk of Grosse Pointe for his best man. Seating guests were the bride's brother David Elliott, Dennis Willetts and Dennis Golford, both of Allen Park.

For the ceremony and church reception, Mrs. Elliott chose Georgian blue silk faille with overskirt. The mother of the bridegroom appeared in a black and white silk print. Both wore white roses.

After a week's honeymoon at a cottage on Lake Erie, the newlyweds will leave for Fort Sill, Okla. where the bridegroom is stationed. Both attended Ferris Institute.

Beauty Aid Is Costly in France

PARIS (UPI) — Are Frenchwomen as anxious to stay young as American women?

If you look through the current copy of the leading women's magazine in France, the answer is "mais oui," followed by a loud "yes" for good measure.

Exhibit A: an article promising a "forme olympique en bon magique." There are four contraptions which promise this olympic form:

* * *

— Two chains which resemble either dog leashes or the kind of clothes lines apartment dwellers string seven stories up. These are to be fixed to your bedroom wall and you pull at them daily, "to straighten your vertebral column." Cost — 39 francs.

'PAINT ROLLER'

— For nine francs, there's a little gadget that looks like a small edition of a paint roller. And that's exactly what it does — rolls on the paint. It also facilitates "penetration des cremes." But you use it on your face. As efficient as doing a wall.

— Then there's a marvelous thing which looks like 13 empty spools joined at the top and bottom by two chains. This is supposed to "elasticize important parts" of the body. It's used on the hips in the same way a shoe shine boy uses the cloth when he buffs the boots. No price given.

* * *

— Two baseball bats. These are to be swung together, "to give grace to the arms and a lovely carriage to the head." All this for 12 francs, plus taxes. Not tax. Taxes.

If you're interested in any of these items, the line forms on the right at a Champs-Elysees address. But you'll have to allow three weeks for delivery after you pay your francs.

* * *

The evidence of mademoiselles naivete s increased by comparing standards of living. Roughly, a franc means to a Parisienne what a dollar means to a New Yorker or a Californian. For Americans, the exchange is five francs to one dollar, but francs are much harder to earn in France than dollars in America.

Shower Fetes Susan Asher

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lee Asher of Waterford Township, and her fiance James O. Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Shaw of Auburn Avenue, plan Aug. 26 vows.

Unique Hotel Tycoon Is a Grandmother

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Evelyn Sharp learned the hotel business because her husband liked to know where she was at lunch time.

As a result, the millionaire grandmother sat in on hundreds of business conferences in which her late husband, Jesse Sharp, discussed hotel and real estate management.

"In hotel operation," said Mrs. Sharp in an interview, "you have to know about mortgages, leases, organization and financing."

She smiled as she added, "My husband didn't teach me about these things. I just sat with him at many conferences . . . my husband was 16 years older than I and liked to know where I was at lunch."

Until last week, when she sold three of her four luxury hotels, Mrs. Sharp was a figure unique in the American business world—the only woman owner of a hotel chain. On Wednesday, she announced transfer of title of the Gotham and Stanhope hotels in New York and the Beverly Wilshire, Beverly Hills, Calif., to Webb and Knapp, the realty concern.

She will, however, continue to boss operation of the hotels. And a spokesman for Sharp Hotels, Ltd., said she planned construction now of two more luxury hotels. One would be in the New York metropolitan area; the other, on the West Coast, site not yet designated.

Webb and Knapp paid Mrs. Sharp $25 million for the three, leaving her still owner of the Saranac Inn, Saranac Lake, N.Y. Mrs. Sharp said the 1960 gross income from the four had been in excess of $11 million.

"I think the hotel business is a wonderful field for women," she said. "Hotel keeping and housekeeping have a great deal in common. And women have always understood how to run a home."

The hotel tycoon is a very feminine looking woman with bright blue eyes, graying hair, a penchant for real pearls, French antiques and impressionistic art. She thought it amusing that a painting she purchased 10 years ago was hanging in the bar of the Stanhope and "now is worth enough to do the whole cocktail lounge over."

Mrs. Sharp, a woman in her mid-50s with two children and three grandchildren, has stressed luxury in all her hotel management. Guests have included Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco, the President Kennedy press headquarters prior to his inauguration, Perle Mesta, a long-time friend, and numerous members of the international set.

"We get the kind of travelers who are used to a great deal of service," said Mrs. Sharp. "We meet their trains, planes or ships with liveried chauffeur. Fresh flowers always are in their rooms . . . I do many of the arrangements myself."

The Stanhope, which has more permanent residents than transient (Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, chairman of the board of Eastern Air Lines is one guest), also offers butlers, personal maids, baby sitters and dog walkers.

* * *

Mrs. Sharp, a native of New York, was studying at the Columbia University school of journalism when she met Jesse Sharp. "Love intervened," she said, and ended her potential career in writing.

Her husband at one time owned partial or total interest in 14 New York hotels. When he died in 1941, she sold all interests except those in the Stanhope, which he had built in 1927.

"In 1955 I started reinvesting," she said, "buying ground. . . by 1957, acquiring leases." Then she added as casually as you and I would discuss a dress bargain, "I bought three hotels all in one day." They were the Gotham, Saranac Inn and Beverly Wilshire, with an announced purchase price at the time of $16 million.

Mrs. Sharp recalled walking into the Beverly Wilshire late at night after the purchase. Her plane flight from New York had been delayed several hours.

The desk clerk didn't recognize her and when she asked about reservations, said there was no space.

"I told him there had to be . . . I'd just bought the place," she laughed.

Mrs. Sharp wouldn't say whether that particular clerk still was on the payroll.

Pick Millspaugh City Manager of Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — Harold Millspaugh, acting city manager here since July 15, was named the city's chief administrator last night.

Millspaugh, who is 55, was still considering today, however, whether to take the job on a full-time basis.

He was appointed to the post by a 4-3 vote of the City Council last night.

VOTE AGAINST ACTION

Councilmen Robert Thibideau, Robert L. Wiltse and Waldo C. Proctor voted against the action.

Millspaugh was appointed to the job as a temporary measure following the resignation of George A. Shaw, city manager here for five years.

At that time Millspaugh was city clerk-treasurer, a position to which he had been appointed in May with the resignation of Dorothy Lonsdale.

* * *

Prior to being named to the dual job, he had been the city's building, electrical and health inspector and the water and street superintendent.

Millspaugh has been employed by the city since April 1957. He lives at 7880 W. Maple Road, Commerce Township.

The council faction approving the appointment of Millspaugh to the $6,000-a-year post, agreed that he would be acquainted with the work of other city departments.

Should the city hire a manager without knowledge of Walled Lake, it would take time and money to familiarize him with its problems, they explained.

Millspaugh was given authority to recommend to the council a successor to the clerk-treasurer post should he take the city manager's job.

* * *

He also will be allowed to live outside the city until the end of the fiscal year if he takes the administrative position.

AREA NEWS

May Go Ahead With Dwellings

Owner of Southfield Tract Agrees to Retain Beauty of River Site

SOUTHFIELD—In spite of protests from residents in the area of Streamwood and Bell roads, multifamily dwellings may be built there by the owner of a 13-acre tract of land, part of which surrounds the River Rouge basin.

The protests have arisen because of the homeowners' fear that the scenic beauty of the river banks will be ruined by the larger home construction.

J. J. Avison, owner of the property, went to the City Council some months ago for permission to fill in the valley with sand preparatory to initiating his home building program.

* * *

The council denied his request because it is prohibited in Southfield to remove or fill in sand.

Avison then took the matter to Oakland County Circuit Court. The court ruled that in as much as Avison owned the property he had the right to do what he liked with it and ordered the City Council to come to some kind of agreement with Avison.

The developer has agreed to retain the natural beauty of the site by not filling in the basin and by constructing the multifamily buildings following the contours of the flood plain.

The council has instructed City Attorney James C. Allen to contact Avison's lawyer to see that these promises are made in legal form so that they will be binding on the developer.

Sentence Man From Wixom in Safe Robbery

A Wixom man who pleaded guilty July 31 to robbing a safe at the Farmington Country Club last May, was sentenced to 3-12 years in Jackson Prison yesterday.

Raymond Profitt, 25, of 3048 W. Maple Road, was sentenced by Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

Profitt was one of four men charged with the theft of a safe containing $400 in cash and $10,000 in checks May 9.

The others, Bobby Hollon, 19, and his brothers Danie, 24, both of 921 Dunreath St., Walled Lake, and Erwin E. Willett, 22, also of Walled Lake, pleaded innocent and are awaiting trial.

Another man, James D. Hamilton, 27, of Plymouth, is also awaiting trial on a charge of uttering and publishing. Police said Hamilton cashed some of the stolen checks.

Heavy Hail Storm Bombards Orchards

Hail stones as big as golf balls fell in a 10-square-mile area of prime fruit growing territory 5 miles south of this Kent County town. Three inches of hail accumulated on one orchard lawn, according to Fred Baughman, chief meterorologist at the U.S. Weather Burfeau at Grand Rapids.

* * *

Baughman said the heaviest fall hit the Fruit Ridge area near Sparta about 4:30 p.m. It covered an area six to eight miles long and one to two miles wide.

To Ask School Board for Change in Area

One of the main items scheduled for tomorrow night's Waterford Township Board of Education meeting at 7:30 p.m., will be consideration of a request by several residents concerning an attendance area change of pupils at the Schoolcraft School.

The request has been submitted by Lawrence Rottarr, 6089 Graper St., and seven other people in the area. They are objecting to their children changing from Schoolcraft School to the new Lotus Lake School. They assert the Lotus School is twice as far away as their former school building.

Sewage Plant Hearing Aug. 23

Discussion by Romeo Village Council Open to the Public

ROMEO—Four plans for a new sewage treatment plant here will be discussed at a public hearing Aug. 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the junior high school auditorium.

The Village Council has set the hearing to present the proposals made for Romeo by the engineering firm of McNamee, Porter and Seeley, Ann Arbor.

John Seeley will be on hand to answer questions along with Maurice Richmond of the State Health Department which has approved all four plans.

The council will make the decision on which proposal to accept, but wanted first to give the residents a chance to hear all about them and give their comments.

The junior high school auditorium was chosen for the meeting so that a larger crowd could be accommodated.

The four plans and their costs are:

1. Sewage stabilization lagoon, $425,000 with annual operating cost of $3,000.
2. Present primary treatment followed by the stabilization lagoon, $437,000 with $3,700 for operation.
3. Trickling filter plant, $244,000 with $12,000 for operations.
4. Modified activated sludge plant, $291,000 with $18,000 annually for operations.

These four proposals and the possible financing will be discussed in detail at the meeting.

The capacity of the four proposed plants is based upon a projected population in Romeo of 4,650 people by the year 1982.

Criticizes Referendum for Wheat Farmers

CHICAGO (UPI)—The president of the American Farm Bureau Federation has charged that the Aug. 24 referendum for wheat farmers will not give growers a "realistic choice."

"This lack of any realistic choice is the principal reason why grower interest in the annual wheat marketing quota referendum has declined in recent years," Charles B. Shuman said Tuesday in a prepared statement.

Atlanta Editor for School Aid

Tells Teachers Meeting U.S. Must Help Costs in Poor Sections

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ralph McGill, publisher of the Atlanta, (Ga.) Constitution, said today he is for "an equitable system of federal aid" to education.

"We most assuredly are required, by conscience and the demands of national security, to assume a federal responsibility for an education system in which no American boy or girl shall lack opportunity to have all the education they are prepared, able and willing to take," he said.

* * *

In an address for the 45th annual convention of the American Federation of Teachers, McGill said that many rural and some city schools offer no advanced mathematics, no secondary school chemistry or physics, and inadequate preparation in general science.

* * *

He said this is a "harsh indictment of our educational system."

"There are states which are offering inferior education because they can't pay for it," McGill said. "Some are unwilling to do so.

"We are not doing enough. We must do more. And I suppose this is a time for me to say that I believe that the educational inequities of our nation are a national responsibility."

McGill said there are states outside of the South whose educational needs are as desperate as the South's, but "no region is so much in need."

Charges Ford With Antitrust Act Violation

CHICAGO (AP) — Fabert Motors, Inc. of Champaign, Ill., filed suit Tuesday for $1.1 million from the Ford Motor Co, on ground that alleged threats by Ford "constituted economic compulsion and duress" in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act.

* * *

The suit, filed in Federal District Court, contends that in 1959 Ford ordered Fabert to accept a quantity of Edsel automobiles. Fabert is a Lincoln and Mercury franchise holder. Edsel cars no longer are manufactured.

The suit stated Ford told Fabert that if the Edsels were not accepted, the dealer could voluntarily request termination of its Lincoln-Mercury franchise and be relieved of its inventory, or have the franchise revoked without provision for its inventory.

Fabert said it requested termination of its franchise.

Heart Specialist Dies of Abdominal Cancer

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Dr. William H. Bunn, 71, a prominent heart specialist and a cofounder of the American Heart Association, died of abdominal cancer at his home Tuesday.

He had served as a director and vice president of the AHA and as a consultant in cardiology to the Veterans Administration in Michigan, Ohio and Kentucky.

No Heroes, No Sacrifices

Film Industry Lacks Patriotism

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Now that you asked me—

THOMAS

John Payne was inquiring what the film industry is doing to aid the nation's mobilization. With President Kennedy calling for help in the Berlin crisis, you'd think that Hollywood would be making its contribution.

"But I can't see that anybody's making an effort," says Payne, who is trying to plan some projects with that in mind.

In World War II Hollywood produced a lot of propaganda flapdoodle but also some worthwhile films that stressed sacrifice and heroism as part of this nation's heritage. There's little or none of that in evidence today.

The current mixture is the same as in recent years: Sex, sadism, psychology, sophistication. American history, past and present, is ignored. Even in this centennial year there is not a sign of a film commemorating the Civil War.

A producer would probably tell you the Civil War isn't box office. Yeah, sure, as in "Gone With the Wind."

MAY BE HOPE

There may be hope with Zanuck's D-day picture, "The Longest Day." And maybe with MGM's "How the West Was Won," although Westerns usually inspire about as much patriotism as Biblical epics foster religion.

* * *

Along these lines, I liked "Fiorello." It's playing here now, and I liked it. Not that it's funny or tuneful or dramatic; it isn't. But its form fits the idiom — jazzy New York of 30-40 years ago. And the American story of a young lawyer battling the political bosses gives the warm feeling you seldom get in the theater nowadays.

* * *

As long as we're waxing profound, I think it's wonderful that Mickey Mouse has been banned by East Germany. The mouse has had rough going since his club got dropped on TV and can use the publicity.

* * *

Putting Dick Clark with Fredric March, Ben Gazzara and Eddie Albert in "The Young Doctors" is like having a little leaguer pitch to Mantle and Maris. Reason is that Clark owned the story, and his company co-produced. Anyway, the pros make it the dramatic highlight of the summer season. March again demonstrates he is the dean of American actors.

* * *

Critics always have a high old time blasting "Sound of Music" as soppy and sentimental. Seems to me they overlook one thing: the last of the Rodgers-Hammerstein collaborations, it was their sole operetta. The others were musical comedies — "Oklahoma!" "Flower Drum Song" — or musical plays — "Carousel," "King and I," "South Pacific."

* * *

Viewed as an operetta, there is no reason not to relax and enjoy it, as packed houses at the Philharmonic are doing nightly.

I finally caught "La Dolce Vita." It has a few powerful scenes but is overly long and arty and dwells on depravity for depravity's sake. And it's not very shocking.

Anyway, you asked me. You did ask me, didn't you?

Air Force Secretary Quits in Argentina

President Arturo Frondizi accepted Abrahim's resignation quickly as the government sought to head off an open break in the air force, some of whose lesser officers took part in the brief but embarrassing revolt last Friday.

Abrahim earlier had ordered the air force commander in chief, Brig. Cayo Alsina, put under 30-day house arrest and named Brig. Garcia Baltar to replace him until a new chief was named.

Alsina defied the arrest order, declared he was still in command, and moved his headquarters to Moron Base outside the capital. Baltar, meanwhile, had set up headquarters of his own at another air base.

U. of M. Economics Prof to Direct Treasury Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harvey E. Brazer, professor of economics at the University of Michigan, will become director of the Treasury's office of tax analysis.

The appointment, effective Sept. 1, was announced Tuesday by acting secretary of the treasury Henry H. Fowler.

Brazer, 38, will be the department's principal economic adviser on tax policy matters and will direct a technical staff which related economic data to tax plans and program.

By 1965, Argentina hopes to be producing 2,300,000 tons of steel yearly, up from the present 600,000.

Defeat School Millage

MENOMINEE (AP) — Voters in the Menominee Public School District have defeated a proposal to raise the tax rate three mills for three years for operation of the system. The vote was 1,516 to 997. July 17 the same proposal was defeated 740 to 546.

Board Under Fire; 5 to Quit, 3 to Decide

NEW YORK (AP)—Three more members of the city's Board of Education decide today whether to resign at the pleasure of Mayor Robert F. Wagner. Five of the nine members already have agreed to step down if he demands. Another is in Europe.

The entire board faces ouster when the legislature convenes in special session at Albany next Monday, called by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to consider the city's school problems.

The board, beset by charges of construction fraud and inefficiency, has been asked by Wagner to resign. He said he was acting on recommendation of a special board of inquiry which he set up.

The mayor said the five who offered to resign would continue in office at his discretion while he set up the machinery to appoint a new board.

Churchill Praises Kennedy in Reply to Goodwill Cable

LONDON (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill Tuesday cabled warmest wishes to President Kennedy "for the momentous and pre-eminent part" he plays in shaping the destiny of the world.

The famed British leader was answering a message Kennedy sent him yesterday reaffirming faith in the principles of the Atlantic Charter Churchill signed 20 years ago with the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"Let us never depart from them," Churchill declared from his country retreat at Chartwell, Kent, "nor desist from our earnest endeavors to establish them throughout the world."

Girls Chained to Bed; Police Jail Parents

* * *

Royal Ronald Produces Royal Mile in Illinois

Tommy Graham, one of the owners' three driving sons, was in the sulky. Tommy also was at the reins when the Graham Farm's Princess won the Illinois Colt Stake for 3-year-old trotting fillies in straight heats.

Steel Market Is Upset by Wary Auto Industry

NEW YORK (UPI) — Auto makers, backed up against the Aug. 31 labor contract expiration, are not coming in with strong steel orders for September or even October and this cautious buying pattern is confusing the steel market, Iron Age said today.

The steel industry trade magazine said that in the past week "there have been setbacks of some tonnages from August into September and, more puzzling, from September into October.

With new models starting to roll this week, it means the auto companies will be eating into their stocks of steel. However, Iron Age pointed out, "Order delays do not mean a weakening of the steel market. If anything, they strengthen the outlook for the fourth quarter."

Mrs. Clark Gable Tells of Her Own Heart Pain

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Clark Gable's widow, writing of her life with the famed star, disclosed that she suffered a heart attack minutes before his death.

* * *

Mrs. Kathleen Gable told of the last evening with her husband in a Look Magazine condensation of her forthcoming book. It was on Nov. 16; ten days after the actor was stricken with a heart attack. Herself a heart patient, she was then five months pregnant with his first child.

"I sat next to pa's bed," she wrote, "I had never seen him look so handsome, so serene. In all the years I had known him. The marks of his illness were gone. Clark looked 20 years younger, and his expression was peaceful.

"Pa and I had a nice little dinner together. At 10 minutes past 10 p.m., I felt an angina attack coming on. I couldn't understand it; I hadn't had one for nearly two years. I didn't want Clark to worry, so I quickly made an excuse to leave the room.

* * *

"I kissed him and gave him an extra hug, saying, 'Sweetheart, I'll be back after the nurses get you ready for the night. Then we'll drink our buttermilk together. I love you.'

* * *

"Those were the last words I spoke to my husband."

At 10:50 he died — "The nurse said he simply closed his eyes, his head fell back on the pillow, and he was gone."

Gable was stricken on the day he finished work on "The Misfits," in which he starred with Marilyn Monroe and Montgomery Clift under John Huston's direction.

* * *

"He came home looking so worn out that my heart ached for him," Mrs. Gable said.

Co-Medalists Are Pressed to Win in Junior Event

B JACK HEWINS
Associated Press Sports Writer

SEATTLE (AP) — Co-medalists Ann Baker of Maryville, Tenn., and Mary Lou Daniel of Louisville, Ky., were carried to the final holes Tuesday in first-round match play of the National Girls' Junior Golf Tournament, but both survived with 2-up decisions.

* * *

Joan Edwards of Portland, who was medalist in the Oregon junior championships this year, forced Miss Daniel to the final hole and there missed a 6-foot putt to lose the match.

Mary Ann Doctor of Haworth, N.J., trailing most of the way, evened her match with Miss Baker on the 16th hole with a birdie 3, but the Tennessee women's champion replied with a birdie 4 on the 17th and won the final hole with a par 5.

* * *

Judith Torluemke of St. Louis, Missouri women's champion at 16, posted the most comfortable victory of the day when she defeated Mary Doyle of Portland, Ore., 5 and 3. The misses Torluemke and Baker were semifinalists in this tournament last year.

Chief upset of the day came when Jeanie Butler, city champion of Harlingen, Tex., ousted Peggy Conley of Spokane, Wash., 2 and 1. Miss Conley, 14, is Pacific Northwest junior champion.

Bertoia, Morton and Alusik Share Glory in Tigers' Sweep of Twin Bill

They're No Longer Just Obscure Faces in the Dugout

DETROIT (AP) — Reno Bertoia, Bubba Morton, George Alusik — just three obscure faces in the dugout. But they're as much responsible as Al Kaline, Norm Cash and Frank Lary for the Detroit Tigers' tightening of the American League pennant race.

* * *

This unsung trio possessed an aggregate batting average of .219 until manager Bob Scheffing, his best pinchhitters used up, juggled them into the lineup last night.

All three produced and the Tigers overcame a 2-0 deficit with two outs in the ninth and beat the Baltimore Orioles 3-2 on Kaline's game-winning single. Cash belted a two-run homer and Larry pitched a strong four-hitter for his 17th victory as the Tigers took the opener of a twi-night doubleheader, 2-0.

The twin triumphs, coming while the New York Yankees lost to Chicago, put the Tigers just two games from first place. Detroit trails the Yanks by a mere 17 percentage points.

The game-and-a-half gain was the first sizeable headway the Tigers have made on the Yankees in nearly a month.

SMALL GAIN

"Imagine that," said Scheffing, bubbling over with enthusiasm after the sweep. "We've won 10 of our last 13 games and still have picked up just a half game on the Yankees in that time.

"That second one was sure a big game for us. Our bench came through and so did the bullpen."

After Cash and Larry combined for the first game victory, Skinny Brown had the Tigers stifled until the ninth. He had yielded only six hits and was breezing toward his fourth shutout in five starts.

* * *

The dramatic ninth started inconspicuously. Dick McAuliffe bounced out to second. Chico Fernandez followed with a double, but it didn't seem to matter when Frank House grounded out.

* * *

But then Bertoia, batting .221, singled home Fernandez. Morton, up as a pinchhitter with a .215 average was safe on a single when the ball hit a pebble.

Ex-tiger Billy Hoeft relieved Brown.

Now Scheffing sent up Alusik, hitless as a month-old major leaguer, to bat for Billy Bruton, a 10-season veteran. Alusik lined a single to left and Bertoia raced in with the tying run.

* * *

The throng of 49,558 returned to its seats as Wes Stock replaced Hoeft and Kaline approached the plate.

GOOD EYE

Kaline fouled off five straight pitches, worked the count to 3-2 and smacked Stock's next pitch on a line into right center. Morton scampered home and it was all over.

"He wouldn't give me anything good to hit," said Kaline. "Everything was on the corners. Even the one I finally hit wasn't too good."

The victory was credited to 40-year-old Gerry Staley, who relieved Don Mossi in the eighth. Staley allowed the Orioles just one hit over the final two innings in picking up the bullpen's first victory since July 23—21 games.

Lary was magnificent in his tense pitchers' duel with Chuck Estrada. Cash broke up the scoreless struggle in the seventh with his 415-foot shot into the center field seats with Rocky Colavito on base. It was Cash's 30th homer.

* * *

An inning before Cash saved Lary with his fielding. Lary filled the bases with one out. Whitey Herzog slashed a sharp grounder to first which Cash gloved and fired to Fernandez for one out. Lary scooted to first to take the return throw for a threat-ending double play.

The Tigers and Orioles meet today for the third game in their four-game series. Jim Bunning (14-8) was Scheffing's choice to oppose Milt Pappas (8-6).

Carreon's 2-Run Single Conquers Whitey; Maris Clouts No. 46

NEW YORK (UPI) — Whitey Ford, who had designs on the American League's record of 16 straight victories, must settle today for a string of 14 that ties the New York Yankees' 57-year-old club mark.

Ford suffered his first loss after 14 straight victories when he was beaten by the Chicago White Sox, 2-1, last night. His 14 straight wins equal the Yankee mark set by Jack Chesbro in 1904 but falls two short of the AL record of 16 in a row shared by Walter Johnson, Joe Wood, Schoolboy Rowe and Lefty Grove.

* * *

Ex-Milwaukee lefty Juan Pizarro yielded Roger Maris' 46th homer of the season but pitched a four-hitter.

Rookie catcher Camilo Carreon's two-out single, following a single by Roy Sievers and Minnie Minoso's double, drove in both Chicago runs in the second inning. Maris' homer left him 15 games ahead of the record homer pace set by Babe Ruth in 1927.

The Boston Red Sox rocked the Cleveland Indians, 8-0, the Minnesota Twins downed the Kansas City A's, 9-4, and the Los Angeles Angels scored an 8-7 triumph over the Washington Senators.

* * *

Frank Malzone hit two homers and three singles and Jackie Jensen, Carroll Hardy and pitcher Gene Conley also homered for the Red Sox, who snapped a 10-game losing streak on the road. Conley turned in a six-hitter in raising his season record to 7-10 while Gary Bell was the loser.

* * *

Billy Martin hit a three-run homer and Bob Allison and Harmon homers behind the nine-hit pitching of Jack Kralick, who won his 11th game for the Twins. Jim Archer was routed in the fourth inning and suffered his eighth loss for Kansas City.

Albie Pearson's two-run double in the ninth inning enabled the Angels to pull out their victory over the Senators and give relief pitcher Tom Morgan his fifth win. Ken Hunt homered for Los Angeles and Gene Woodling had a triple and two singles for Washington.

Parker to Test Them Against Lions Tonight

Steelers Proud of Rookies

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — The Pittsburgh Steelers, who traded away a bundle of draft choices the past three years because of trades made by ex-Lion coach Buddy Parker, are pretty proud of the few rookies who have been outstanding in spring camp at Slippery Rock College.

Parker, considered a sound judge of personnel, is ready to throw many of his new faces against the Lions tonight in the exhibition game at Forbes Field.

People in Pittsburgh lifted their eyebrows when Parker traded away end Jimmy Orr and halfback Dickie Moegle. Very few of the fans could understand what Parker had in mind when he bypassed prominent collegiate names to draft many unknowns.

One of the so-called unknowns in his plans was Dick Hoak, an unheralded rookie from Penn State. Another was Brady Keys, a fleet-footed recruit from Colorado State.

In his trades, Parker picked up Billy Butler, a benchwarmer from Dallas, along with tackle Dick Klein in the Moegle trade.

All of these players have played prominent parts in Pittsburgh's training camp and in the opening exhibition victory against the Baltimore Colts.

ENDS NEEDED

Despite his need for good receivers to operate with veteran Bobby Layne, Parker gave away Orr because he wanted help in the defensive line. He obtained Big Daddy Lipscomb to fill a big gap.

Now, the Steelers with a good array of aging veterans and bunch of "nobodies" feel they have improved enough to finish much higher than the 5-6-1 record for fifth place last year.

A victory over the Lions would boost the Steelers' confidence to a high peak, especially in view of Detroit's spanking of the Eastern Division Browns, 35-7, last week.

What may be upsetting for Parker and the Steelers is the fact that they will have to face Earl Morrall, a quarterback who was the subject for one of Parker's well known tongue lashings.

It is a matter of record that Parker was quoted to say about Morrall, "He'll never make this league. He's not a pro quarterback."

This was three years ago when he obtained Bobby Layne from Detroit in the trade which shocked the Motor City grid kingdom. The Lions decided to keep Tobin Rote and give up on Layne and use Morrall as Rote's understudy.

Rote fizzled out and Morrall never really made the grade until the last few games of last season when the Lions went on a spree of winning six of the final eight games.

It would be a big blow for the master, Coach Parker, if Morrall should equal last week's record against the Browns when he threw for three touchdowns with pin-point accuracy to Terry Barr and Jim Gibbons.

SOME INJURIES

Both teams go into the game with several minor injuries. Tom Tracy and end Carl Karilivacz, both ex-Lions, are hampered with shoulder and hand injuries as a result of the Colt encounter. Tackle Alex Karras broke a finger in the Browns' game last week, but Detroit publicist Bud Erickson, an early arrival in Pittsburgh, reports the big tackle will definitely play tonight.

The game will not be televised in Detroit but will be carried on radio at 7 p.m. Pontiac time.

The occasion was Russell's announcement that he will again guarantee free replacement of any window broken by a young ball player during a sandlot game. His announcement is tied with President Kennedy's request to provide better physical fitness and a development program for school children.

This Could Be Big Month for Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — For those who thought the Detroit Tigers would fold in the heat of August, Bob Scheffing has this statement:

"This could be our best month. We're 11 and 4 in August and we can keep on rolling. Right now we're 33 games over the .500 mark (75-42) and that's the best we've ever been."

The Tigers' top months so far have been June and April when they moved ahead for their long stay in first place. They were 19-10 in June and 10-4 in April.

* * *

Ever since the soreness in Frank Lary's pitching arm was revealed last month he has been close to invincible. His 2-0 victory over Baltimore in last night's first game was his seventh in nine decisions. He has 16 complete games, high in the majors.

Lary's last three games rank as the sharpest streak of his career. The right-hander has allowed just 16 hits, five walks and three runs in the three games. His control last night was so good his first 10 pitches were strikes.

* * *

The crowd of 49,558 that watched the doubleheader sweep last night was the 10th that hit the 40,000-plus figure in Tiger Stadium this season.

The Tigers have attracted 1,208,344 fans to their 62 home games and already have topped last season's total by more than 40,000.

* * *

Norm Cash's winning homer behind Lary in the first game was his 30th. Thus, the Tigers have two hitters with 30 circuit clouts for the first time since the pennant-winning season of 1940. Rocky Colavito leads Cash with 31.

In 1940 Hank Greenberg hit 41 into the seats and Rudy York 33.

Oriole Badman Jim Gentile had hit eight homers and driven in 18 runs on 14 hits in his eight previous games against the Tigers. Last night Gentile failed to get the ball out of the infield in four official at bats. But he walked three times and was hit once in the two games.

Post's Home Run Beats LA, 5-2

Reds Within One Game of Dodgers

By The Associated Press

How far do you think a team would get in that National League race playing .580 ball with a pitching ace who was no more than a break-even right-hander and a slugging outfielder who hadn't hit a home run in more than a year?

* * *

Think again. The Cincinnati Reds are back within one game of first place Los Angeles at the moment because they managed to close out a month's play at .500 with a 5-2 victory over the Dodgers Tuesday night.

And it was Wally Post's first home run against Los Angeles since June 14 of last year that gave the victory to Joey Jay, the NL's top winner at 17-7 after only a 24-24 record for seven years spent with Milwaukee.

It was the first time the Dodgers had lost two in a row since July 15, when they trailed the Reds by a whopping gap of six games. Since then Los Angeles has lost only five of 24 games. The Reds are 15-15 over the same span after knocking off the Dodgers in the opener of their three-game showdown for first place Los Angeles.

The Dodgers, however, still are four games to the good in the decisive "lost" column going into tonight's doubleheader.

Third-place San Francisco defeated St. Louis 3-2, Milwaukee made it five in a row with a 4-1 job on Pittsburgh, and the Chicago Cubs sent the last-place Philadelphia Phils to their 18th straight defeat 6-5. The modern NL record for consecutive losses is 19.

Jay beat Los Angeles for the fourth time in six decisions this season by blanking the Dodgers on three hits over the last eight innings. The young right-hander, set to become Cincinnati's first 20-game winner since Ewell Blackwell in 1947, finished with a six-hitter after giving up three hits in the first when the Dodgers scored on singles by Duke Snider and Wally Moon.

San Francisco managed just four hits but beat southpaw Curt Simmons (7-8) of the Cards with two runs in the sixth on sacrifice flies by Orlando Cepeda and Jim Davenport.

Home runs by Frank Thomas and Hank Aaron did it for the Braves, with Aaron's 31st of the year a two-run shot that broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth and beat Joe Gibbon (8-8). Carl Willey (5-6) was the winner, giving up five hits.

St. Joe Cagers Lose NCAA Tourney Spot

SEATTLE (AP)—The executive committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association has stripped St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia of its third-place ranking in the NCAA basketball tournament.

* * *

The school also was directed yesterday to return trophies and medals awarded to it and to individuals on its team.

A regulation which has been in force several years, but never was invoked, was the basis of the action.

Three of the school's players, involved in basketball gambling scandals, were declared ineligible after the tourney. The regulation on which the committee acted states that if an athlete competes ineligibly, the position of his school in a championship event must be vacated.

Therefore, there is no third-place winner in the national tournament. Utah, which placed fourth, remains in fourth place.

The three players involved were Frank Majewski, Jack Egan and Vince Kempton.

The committee set up a policy aimed at making it more difficult for gamblers to operate in connection with NCAA tournaments. The events are to be held on-campus if possible. If that is not possible, the host school will have complete supervision and management if the event is approved.

The committee also decided all regional basketball games will be played on-campus.

The sites of the four regional basketball tourneys were announced. The east regional will be at the University of Maryland, the mideast at the University of Iowa, the midwest at Kansas State and the west at Brigham Young University. All will be March 16-17.

* * *

The University of Kentucky will host the NCAA basketball finals March 23-24.

The committee decided that as general policy championship events no longer will be scheduled on Sunday. Members said there have been many complaints about holding such events on that day.

The group said there have been cases in which students from junior colleges have been permitted to compete in three varsity seasons, so the regulation limiting students to four years of competition was tightened. If such a player is used during the regular season in the future, his team will not be allowed to play in an NCAA tournament.

FOCUS THOSE EYES!

1. PERHAPS YOU HAVE EXPERIENCED THIS FEELING: THE BALL SEEMS TO MOVE AROUND AS YOU SWING. IT DOESN'T, OF COURSE, BUT IT MAY APPEAR TO DO SO BECAUSE YOU SIMPLY CANNOT CONCENTRATE ON THE JOB AT HAND. TRY LOOKING AT AN EXACT SPOT ON THE BALL — THE BACK SIDE IS PREFERABLE, BECAUSE THAT'S WHERE YOU WANT TO HIT IT.

2. IF YOU'VE BEEN TOPPING, CONCENTRATING ON A SPOT AN INCH OR SO BEHIND THE BALL COULD HELP. A GOLFER WHO HABITUALLY TOPS KEEPS RAISING HIS HEAD AT IMPACT. HE WON'T TAKE A DIVOT IN FRONT OF THE ORIGINAL BALL POSITION, AS IS SHOWN HERE. IN FACT, HE WON'T TAKE A DIVOT OF ANY KIND!

3. DON'T LOOK AT THAT SPOT BEHIND THE BALL IF YOU'VE BEEN HITTING "FAT" SHOTS, WHERE THE CLUBHEAD HITS THE GROUND BEFORE STRIKING THE BALL (AS ILLUSTRATED). IN THIS CASE I WOULD ADVISE YOU TO LOOK AT THE BACK SIDE OF THE BALL, OR PERHAPS A SPOT THREE-QUARTERS OR SO UP THE BACK SIDE OF THE BALL. BUT WHEN THAT "FAT" TENDENCY DISAPPEARS, THEN GET BACK TO THE BACK SIDE FOCUS.

Did You Know? Cobb Once Described as Clown

NEW YORK (AP)—Did you know that Ty Cobb, baseball's most daring, determined and dedicated player, was once described as being a fun-lover on the field, a clown, a minor leaguer without any ambition?

* * *

Yes, this was Ty Cobb at the age of 18, only two years before he began a reign of terror against opposing American League pitchers which did not end until the famous Georgia Peach had stashed away a dozen batting titles and other records including a lifetime batting mark of .367.

Baseball's acknowledged greatest star, in an autobiography in Sports Illustrated, finished just before his death last month at the age of 74, disclosed many heretofore unknown things about himself.

"My break-in period with the Tigers (in 1905)," wrote Cobb, "was the most miserable and humiliating experience I've ever been through. I didn't suspect that some of my clubmates would hate me for the aggressive style I adopted; I wasn't prepared to be hazed and ostracized and jockeyed into fist fights with men bigger and older.

". . . At first there were no open clashes. McIntyre (outfielder Matty McIntyre, who lost his regular job to Cobb) and Ed Killian, a pitcher, began by locking me out of the hotel bathroom the players shared. I'd stand shivering in a towel while they hogged the tub. During Pullman rides a soggy wad of newspaper would fly down the aisle and smack me in the neck.

* * *

"In restaurants I'd find my hat impaled on the rack. At batting practice I'd be jostled aside and told 'Get out to the infield, sandlotter.' I cherished the fine ash bats I had collected. I found them smashed. I found myself eating alone, cold-shouldered in the clubhouse, and unable to find a permanent roommate."

After numerous fights with teammates, and cold war battles with others that were instrumental in losing games, the Tigers were ready to trade him. That was in 1907, after Cobb had won the first of his many batting titles, in his first full season with Detroit.

"A deal was discussed that would have sent me to New York in exchange for pitcher Billy Hogg, a 14-game winner. Also, Hughey Jennings, our new manager, had a dicker working with Cleveland—me for Elmer Flick, a .311 outfielder.

" 'How come you want to get rid of Cobb,' Jennings was asked.

With Augusta in 1905, Cobb was earning $125 a month and apparently enjoying every penny of it.

"It was a joy club," Cobb recalled, "and the players blithely went through the motions and had night-time fun. As an impressionable kid, I fell into the spirit of things. I was fast losing all ambitions to go higher in the game. I had no desire to reach the far-off big leagues.

". . . One night, playing in Savannah, I strolled to the outfield with a bag of popcorn in my hand. A fly ball was hit my way. The popcorn flew one way while the ball bounced off my glove and a run scored.

"On the bench, manager George Leidy stared at me reflectively. That night he dropped by my room. 'Let's go for a ride, Ty,' he said.

* * *

"We rode and he began to talk. He said what I had done was unbecoming in any player, but in my case it was worse. 'Baseball is serious business,' he said, 'and you have natural ability, Ty. I think you can do down in baseball history but not unless you keep your eye on the ball every minute.'

"Nothing ever affected me more. 'I'll do what you say,' I said emotionally," Cobb wrote.

Giants, 49ers Think Exchange Benefits Both

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The New York Giants and the San Francisco Forty Niners both agreed today that they had strengthened themselves for the strenuous National Football League campaign ahead.

The Giants took on that "secure" feeling in the quarterbacking department by obtaining the veteran Y. A. Tittle, 34-year-old signal-caller from the Forty Niners.

THIEF AT WORK — Detroit Tiger infielder Jake Wood slides into second base safely with a stolen base as Baltimore shortstop Ron Hansen makes the tag too late in the first inning of the opening game Tuesday. The Tigers went on to win the doubleheader.

Cash MVP Candidate

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wondermen of the New York Yankees may be just interested spectators when baseball's annual awards are passed out this winter although they are monopolizing the sports headlines now.

* * *

Norm Cash of the Detroit Tigers, for example, is likely to "steal" the American League's most valuable player award from under the noses of Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris.

Both the Tigers and the Cincinnati Reds have outstanding candidates for such awards as the year's outstanding executive, top managers and best pitchers.

It seems incredible, at first consideration, that a player who broke Babe Ruth's home run record, or even challenged it seriously, could fail to win the M.V.P. award.

But it should be recalled that Babe, himself, failed to win the M.V.P. plaque in 1927 when he blasted out his record 60 homers. That '27 award went to Yankee Lou Gehrig, who hit 47 homers, drove in 175 runs and batted .373.

NORM IMPRESSIVE

Right now, the credentials of Detroiter Cash are just as impressive as the figures of the Yankee strong boys. The Tigers' first baseman is out-hitting Mantle by some 35 points and Maris by more than 75. Of course, he can't challenge them in homers! but he's right up there with them in runs batted in.

Besides, its the combination of Mantle and Maris that centers the Yankee power; whereas it has been the sole emergence of Cash as a star that has been the big story of the year for the Tigers.

Bill DeWitt, general manager of the Reds, has practically locked up the laurels for the year's No. 1 baseball executive. The Reds were a down-and-out sixth-place team in 1960 but have rebounded to stay in pennant contention right down to the final six weeks of the season.

DeWitt's key deal, of course, was the three-cornered transaction with the Milwaukee Braves and Chicago White Sox in which the Reds acquired pitcher Joey Jay. Long a disappointment with the Braves, Jay has developed into the bellwether of the Cincinnati staff and could wind up as the Reds' biggest winner since Ewell Blackwell had a 22-8 record in 1947.

TOP MANAGERS

Hutchinson's return to the "set team" principle in an era of platoon systems had paid off handsomely in Cincinnati's pennant battle. Similarly, Scheffing's role as an inspiration for Tiger victories despite the weakness of his bullpen has been the outstanding managerial accomplishment in the A.L. this year.

Ralph Houk has done an outstanding job as a rookie manager, obviously, but it's also true he inherited a team good enough to win the A.L. pennant under Casey Stengel last season. He didn't have to pull a club up out of the second division.

Whitey Ford, first big-league flinger to reach the 20-win mark this season, is a strong contender for the Cy Young award as pitcher of the year, but even he has strong opposition. The Reds' Jay Gould could still win that honor, and the Tigers have a strong candidate in Frank Lary.

* * *

Developments in the final six weeks of the season could change the current size-up in many ways, but it seems there's one title already clinched: the Philadelphia Phillies unquestionably are the most futile team of the year.

Auburn Routs Waterford

Billesdon Pitches Jets to 6-0 Win Over Union

Stellar pitching by Andy Billesdon and one lusty inning carried the Joy Boy Jets to a 6-0 triumph over CIO Local 594 Tuesday night at Jaycee Park in the first game of their best-of-three semifinal playoff series in the City Baseball League.

The same two teams clash again tonight at 7:45 p.m. under the new lights at Jaycee Park. The series winner will meet the Pontiac Merchants for the Class A city championship.

Jim Ray was the victim of a meaty 4th inning when the Jets scored four runs to ice the decision.

Ray gave up only two hits in the big inning, singles by Bob Green and Bill Mosher, but he also walked three batters and hit one to compound his troubles. Ten men batted.

Billesdon, in the meantime, was mowing down the CIO batters to post a sparkling shutout victory. Billesdon issued only two safeties and struck out a dozen.

* * *

Mike Meyer pitched two-hit ball for Auburn Heights and his teammates gave him 11-hit support, three by Lynn Thorpe. Terry Roehm and Bob Burt had two safeties apiece for Auburn with Thorpe and Roehm blasting home runs. Meyer fanned 11.

Indiana Youth Sets WGA Pace

Kincaid Fires Par 71 in Junior Qualifying at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP)—An Indiana high school senior who prides himself on his steady chipping and putting today held a one-stroke lead as the Western Junior Golf Championship went into its second qualifying round at Michigan State University.

* * *

O. A. Kincaid, 17, of Lebanon, Ind., lead a field of 234 teen-age golfers with a par 71 on the long, narrow MSU fairways—buffeted by high winds yesterday.

Trailing Kincaid with a one-over-par 72 was James Jamieson, 18, of Moline, Ill., a hard-hitting 200-pounder. Jamieson, who will enter Oklahoma State University as a freshman this fall, carded three birdies to take second place in the largest field ever to enter the tournament.

* * *

The second 18-hole qualifying round today will trim the field to 32, and log scorers will begin match play, which starts Thursday and ends with the selection of a champion Saturday.

Nothing Works for Area Boy in Junior Golf

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — Talk about a tough hole.

On the par four, sixth hole at the Michigan State University course, Sukenik:

—Had an unplayable lie.

—Lost a ball.

—Hit another shot into a water hazard.

—Whiffed completely on a shot.

He finished with a 93 for the round.

Mrs. Werner (Nee Sally) Wins WDGA Tournament

Willard Appointed Wayne Grid Coach

DETROIT (AP) — Hal Willard, who guided Wayne State to a winning season last year in an emergency capacity, has succeeded Herb Smith officially as head football coach.

Willard, who played quarterback three seasons at Wayne under Smith, was named yesterday in a move that had been expected.

Smith missed all of last season following major surgery and Willard took over the reins in an acting capacity. The Tartars had a 4-3 record and finished in a third-place tie in the Presidents' Athletic Conference.

Willard, 29, played at Wayne in 1954-55-56. He is a native of Cass City and lives in Ferndale with his wife and two children.

Smith, a member of the Wayne football staff 15 years and head coach six, will remain an assistant professor on the division of health and physical education's faculty.

Wisconsin Sailor Triumphs in Semis

CHICAGO (AP) — Harry Melges of Zenda, Wis., took three of four races in winning the area No. 4 semifinals of the North American men's sailing championships.

* * *

Melges, twice winner of the North American crown, clinched the area title by winning his third straight race yesterday. He plied the triangular 7½-mile course on Lake Michigan in 1:10.49 and amassed 12¾ points for the series. He won the first two races Monday.

Harry Nye Jr. of Chicago was second in 1:12.36 and had nine points. Jerome Jordon Jr. of Detroit placed third in 1:17.50 for a total of five points.

Peters, Long Lead Rochester in Class C Game

Elks Wins Class A District Crown

Pontiac Elks 810 won the state Class A softball district at Beaudette Park Tuesday night with a 7-4 triumph over Detroit Plastics of Mt. Clemens.

Rochester and Waterford Stroh's advanced in Class C at Rochester and so did A & W and 300 Lounge in Class D at Drayton Plains. Dixie Bar topped Motorcar Transport 8-5 at Northside to win the city International League's upper bracket championship.

Plastics started out Tuesday like it was going to make up for Monday's forfeit loss in a big way. The Mt. Clemens team hustled to a 4-0 lead before Elks could push across a run in the last of the second without the benefit of a hit.

Walks and errors allowed Elks two more in the third. In the fourth, the Pontiac nine got its first hit, a single by Al Smith that drove in the tying run. Phil Toth singled home the go-ahead run in the fifth.

Gary Boe settled down after a shaky start to win on a six-hitter. The Elks made four errors and the visitors five in the loosely played contest.

Dave Peters blasted a three-run homer in the first inning and Chuck Long pitched one-hit ball as Rochester downed Howell, 7-0. Richard Ryan's homer, and triples by Bob Ferree and winning pitcher Tom James highlighted Stroh's 11-1 triumph which ousted Howe's Lanes from district play.

Ferndale forfeited to A & W at Drayton Field and was ousted from the tourney. Lounge tripped Howell 8-2 as Ed Smith got two singles and a homer and Dick Adams chipped in two singles and a triple. Howell got 11 hits but Lounge hurler Ed Rondo who left 15 stranded.

Three runs in the bottom of the sixth inning broke a tie and gave Dixie its International championship. Joe Wiley and Lyn Wood had three hits for the winner.

The 'Card' Was an Ace

Earl Card of Drayton Plains scored the first hole-in-one of his golfing career during a round in the United Presbyterian Golf League at Pontiac Country Club. Card aced PCC's 135-yard 2nd hole with an 8-iron and went on to shoot 39. He was accompanied by his son Don, Ed Powell and Russell Morse.

Indianapolis Swimmer in Teammate's Footsteps

HUNTINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Patsy Harrower of the Indianapolis Riviera Club took up Tuesday where teammate Donna Graham left off and won the AAU Women's National Long Distance Swimming Championship.

Miss Harrower, an 18-year-old Freshman at Purdue University this fall, was timed in 1:12:28 over the 3-mile distance in Lake Clare. Miss Graham, now retired from competition, set the record of 1:11:07 in the course of winning three straight national distance titles.

Variety of Breeds in Pontiac Kennel Show

Waterford High Football Field Site for Event

Collie-Ettes to Appear on Saturday Afternoon; Drop in Entries

* * *

But to those who regularly enter canines in dog shows, the above words mean competition. The whippet, keeshonden, Belgian tervuren, Pembroke Welsh corgi and Brussels griffon are breeds of dogs.

All five varieties will be represented Saturday at the annual Pontiac Kennel Club all-breed dogs on the Waterford High School football field.

These dogs will be among 483 being judged. The Pontiac Press trophy will be awarded to the dog judged best-in-show. Other trophies and ribbons will go to breed and group winners.

Judging starts at 9 a.m. and will be concluded about 6 p.m. when the best-in-show dog is determined.

SPECIAL SHOW

As an added attraction, PKC has arranged for the Collie-Ettes to present a program at 2:30. This group of eight teen-agers and their collies perform various dances and drills. They are scheduled to appear at the Ohio State Fair in Columbus the following week.

There are 17 obedience dogs entered, the lowest in many years. This brings the total number of dogs set for the show to 500, a drop of 47 over the 1960 summer event.

Part of the reason for the decline can be attributed to the Irish Setter specialty show scheduled the same day. The American Kennel Club, which licenses the Pontiac Show, made a ruling that no Irish Setters could be entered here because of the specialty event. The drop in obedience dogs is another reason.

This will be an unbenched show. The dogs can be removed from the grounds as soon as they are eliminated from competition. Most of the canines will be on the grounds when morning judging gets under way.

BEST HANDLER

Junior showmanship competition will be one of the highlights of the show. This event is based on handling skill. Merits of the dogs is not considered by the judge.

The junior competition is open to boys and girls 8 to 16 years old. The judging is broken down into four divisions according to age and past experience.

Entries for this event will be accepted in the ring just before judging starts at 1:30 p.m.

The obedience matches are always crowd pleasers. With only 17 dogs entered, none in utility, the judging time will be cut considerably. The obedience dogs go into the ring at 10 a.m.

Many of the dogs in the PKC show will travel to Flint for Sunday's Genesee Kennel Club show.

STATE SHOTGUN CHAMPION — Fred Baucom, Lapeer, holds the shotgun that won him the State Shotgun Championship at Williams Gun Club near Davison Sunday and the trophy that goes with the title. Baucom set a record by breaking 50 straight clay targets, 25 in the championship shoot-off, in the bird field.

Baucom Tops in Trap, Skeet, Bird Field

Lapeer Shotgunner Best in State

BY DON VOGEL
Outdoor Writer, Pontiac Press

Ask Fred Baucom of Lapeer.

* * *

The Pontiac Press stereotyper missed only one clay bird on the way to winning the State Shotgun Championship Sunday at the Williams Gun Club near Davison.

That one miss forced him to win a shoot-off with two other gunners. He came out on top by breaking all 25 targets over the difficult bird field.

Baucom has been concentrating on the trap range since last fall. He has stayed off the skeet field until a Saturday practice round.

His miss came on trap.

KNEW HE MISSED

"It was a right angle bird and I knew when I pulled the trigger that I would miss."

Baucom then stepped over to the skeet range and broke all 25 clay birds. He did the same on the bird field. But that one miss threw him into a three-way tie with Jay Howlett of Davison and Stan Galehouse of Elsie. They posted 74s.

The 74 score posted by the three shooters was the highest ever recorded in the event. It was also the first three-way tie. Baucom's 50 straight over the bird field, the last 25 in the shoot-off, was a record.

SET RECORD

Only five of the 90 competitors in the shoot could break 25 straight clay pigeons in the bird field, but this was a record.

There is one record that is safe for another year. No champion has ever repeated in the shoot.

Ron Priebe and Candy Becker were defending their crowns. Priebe broke 25 straight in the bird field, but failed to place in the top ten.

Velma Hickey of Saginaw is the new women's champion. She broke 61 of 75 to edge Mrs. Muriel Pace of Pontiac by one bird. Mrs. Pace is a former champion of this shoot and is a former state women's trap champion.

* * *

Art Hickey of Saginaw won a three-way shoot-off for sixth. He broke 23 in the extra round to 22 for Chet Crites, Detroit, and Robert Upstegraft, Davison. They had tied with 71s.

D. T. Louck, Flint, took ninth place when Douglas Davis, Deckerville, left the field before they could shoot-off. Each broke 70 pigeons.

* * *

Nothing Like 'Bear' Bath

By United Press International

University of Michigan student biologists at the biological station near Pellston are getting a lot of experience this summer and it may include bathing bears.

* * *

One group of students at the summer camp is studying the tiny parasites which infest such animals as bears. To get samples they work along the lines of the old recipes which started out, "First you catch a bear . . ."

Assuming the students manages to live trap a bear which has been hanging around the camp, they propose to give bruin a massive shot of pentoparbital sodium preparation akin to the famed truth serum.

They don't expect to get the bear to talk, in a conventional sense, but they hope that it will be quiet long enough to take a bath in the interest of science.

After they have washed their crop of mites and fleas and the like from the bear presumably they will prop their victim under a tree somewhere to sleep it off.

Perfect Score in Obedience

Barnes Directs Golden to Honors in Match at Farmington

He directed his 2-year-old golden retriever to a perfect score of 200 in the Wolverine obedience match at Farmington. Receiving such a score is like a pitcher in baseball hurling a no-hitter. Tom Cannon of Livonia was the judge.

The 200 earned Barnes and his dog, Mickey, best-in-trial honors and first place in graduate novice.

Bert Mosher of Pontiac won Open B with 199½ points, but lost in a run-off with Sharon Woigoka of Livonia for second highest score in the trial. He handled his Brittany spaniel in the show. Miss Woigoka had a cocker.

Fern McKim of Waterford won the brace competition with a pair of miniature pinschers and 196 points. Barbara Armstrong of Pontiac directed two German shorthairs to second place with 195.

* * *

Angler Claims His Life Saved by Big Catfish

DENISON, Tex. (UPI) — Joe Bearden hooked a 24-pound catfish and he claims he cannot eat a bite of it today because he said it saved his life.

* * *

Bearden was fishing yesterday on Lake Texoma, which overlaps the Texas-Oklahoma border, when he caught the fish. He tied it to his boat.

A short time later, a thunderstorm came up and kicked up such waves one of them swamped his boat. Bearden managed to grab hold of the overturned boat.

He said he was too far from shore to swim, and although he yelled and yelled, nobody came to rescue him. Then he noticed the boat was heading toward shallow water.

The catfish, he said, was swimming toward shore and pulling Bearden and the boat along behind. Bearden said he was able to get his footing about the time other fishermen noticed he was in trouble.

Michigan Skeet Championships This Weekend

Special Five-Man Team Division Will Replace Regular Squads

The Michigan State Skeet Championships will be Saturday and Sunday at the Detroit Gun Club.

* * *

A special five-man team event will replace the regular five-man unit in competition. Michigan Skeet Association directors voted to adopt the following procedure:

The special team will consist of five shooters, selected by taking one gunner from each class — AA, A, B, C, D or E. The teams will shoot togther as five-man units with the winner being designated the Michigan Championship Team.

* * *

* * *

Two 'Antlerless' Dear Areas Set by Commmission

HIGGINS LAKE (AP)—A virtual ban against shooting of does and fawns in Michigan this fall was formally ordered by the State Conservation Commission Friday.

* * *

Commissioners, carrying out a tentative decision made last December, voted to authorize any-deer hunting only in parts of Oceana and Mason Counties where deer have damaged crops.

In other action, the commission agreed to set the maximum waterfowl season that federal authorities will allow in regulations to be announced next week. They also cleared the way for sale of a $2 million bond issue to finance improvements and expansion of state parks.

Conservation Department game men predicted that hunters will take between 50,000 and 70,000 bucks during the Nov. 15-30 firearm deer season. They said some 600,000 deer survived an unusually mild winter this year, indicating a surplus of 100,000 deer over the number needed to produce a normal fawn crop next year.

* * *

More Waterfowl Restrictions Seen

Michigan's fall goose season holds promise of being the same as last year, but duck hunters might have to brace themselves for added restrictions.

That's the word from Conservation Department game men who attended the annual Mississippi Flyway Council meeting at St. Louis, Mo., last week.

The council, made up of conservation officials from 14 states and three Canadian provinces, has recommended a tightening up on the duck harvest in its flyway in light of drought conditions which have staggered duck production in the prairie pothole country of Canada.

Based on the Council's recommendations to the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Department officials expect federal options will call for a shorter duck season. A cut in bag limits and shooting hours is another possibility. Opening day will likely fall somewhere between October 10 and 17.

New in Aluminum

A new 27-foot welded aluminum cruiser that sleeps four was introduced by Roamer Yachts, Holland, Mich., a division of Chris-Craft Corp., last week. The boat, named Silver Comet, is constructed of an anti-corrosive, high tensile, alloy supplied by Kaiser Aluminum. The cruiser has an enclosed toilet with standing headroom, a galley and dinette. The Silver Comet is available with twin or single engine power options.

Once Playground for Wealthy Families

Wilderness Justice

GRAYLING (AP) — It is almost poetic justice that the one time private playgrounds of a few wealthy families has become one of Michigan's outstanding wilderness areas.

Author of the poetry was the late George W. Mason, first president of American Motors Corporation, who salvaged more than seven miles of the South Branch of the Au Sable River from commercialization and private development and bequeathed it to the state.

* * *

From Chase bridge north of Roscommon to Smith bridge on highway M-72, the South Branch winds through 2,800 acres of fantastically beautiful wilderness owned by the people of Michigan and dedicated as a natural area.

Access roads are few and poor. The area is not intended for picnickers, campers or casual sightseers.

Everything in this area is oriented to the great river and to the trout fishermen who wade the stream or ride the unique Au Sable River boats.

* * *

For those impressed with the brick and mortar of civilization, a high point of the float trip is the $25,000 fisherman's chapel, a simple, rustic shrine hewed into the steep bank about midway between the two bridges.

SHRINE BUILT

Mouldering under the sands of time and the new forest growth are the remains of several once luxurious summer "camps."

Most notoriously famous in Crawford County is the castle, constructed on the north bank, upstream from the high banks, by Cliff Durant, who died before his automobile industry pioneering father, William C. Durant.

The young Durant, an auto race driver and something of a playboy, had incurred the wrath of Crawford County natives by fencing off his section of the river and prohibiting local people from fishing.

* * *

When he completed his castle, the natives burned it to the ground, so the story goes. He rebuilt it and again, the angry locals put torch to the building.

With that, Durant allowed that he would never rebuild, would never sell the land and would keep it fenced forever.

Subsequent to Durant's death, Mason acquired the property from the estate. Foundations of the castle are still there.

* * *

Far less controversial was Downey's, the summer home of the late Charles P. Downey, owner and son of the founder of Lansing's politically famous Downey House.

PURCHASED LAND

After Downey died at the summer home in 1921, Mason acquired this property, too. The buildings were maintained until the state took control of the land in 1955.

There is dogtown, camping site for market deer hunters who rafted down the South Branch from Roscommon and stopped here to draw out venison and camp for the night. It is said they dug caves in the steep banks as shelter for their hunting dogs but the caves have long since disappeared.

The log rollway—dating to the great lumbering era in Michigan history—is still apparent at the high banks but the native grayling that inhabited the river before man planted trout have disappeared. Some biologists say the sawdust and other pollution from lumberland killed the famous fish.

The summer homes are gone. Each one was picked up by Mason when it became available as he purchased a total of 1,500 acres of frontage to assure the return to natural beauty of his beloved river.

READY TO FISH

He was a trout fisherman's fisherman. His escapes from stressas of the automobile industry took him to his "fishing shack" on the Au Sable where he quickly donned wades and fled to the quiet solitude of the stream.

In his will, Mason bequeathed the 1,500 acres to the Conservation Department under the conditions the state would declare it a permanent game preserve and that no part of the land would ever be sold.

At the same time, the state received another 1,320 acres from the U.S. Forest Service to fill in the few gaps in the Mason tract and provide a protective buffer along the river.

No Spray This Year

LANSING (UPI) — A scheduled aerial spray program to control red-headed pine sawflies in Cheboygan and Emmet Counties was cancelled when it was determined the pests' eggs failed to hatch this year, Conservation Department officials said today.

FIRE STATION PROGRESSES — Bricklayers are at work now as the $375,000 Civic Center fire hall begins to take shape. They're working on the eastern half of the building where the garage will be, topped by second story living quarters for firemen. The western half, for administrative offices and a dining hall, will be only one story high, but there'll be a basement for training areas. The fire hall is scheduled for completion at the end of the year. It's estimated another $25,000 will be spent equipping it, bringing the total bill up to $400,000.

Focus on Health Ideas

Old Age, Travel Time, Hearts in News

By The Associated Press

The last illness, the human confusion of racing the sun, and operating on hearts packed in ice are subjects with a focus on health.

DEATH IN OLD AGE

What of the last weeks and days of life?

British researchers have made a study of death as it came to 220 ailing old people, aged 60 to 101, in a hospital.

* * *

At least a quarter of the patients were aware they were dying. And most of them met this awareness without fear or misgiving, even with calmness. In seven of the patients the premonition of death came within a few hours of the fact.

* * *

Only 13 per cent of the patients complained of moderate to severe pain during this last illness. Oddly the pain was more prevalent with disease like rheumatoid arthritis than in other ailments including cancer. Less than a quarter of those with cancer suffered moderate to severe pain.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

The jet airplane and its rapid transit across the oceans and continents have added an element of confusion to the traveler's adjustment problems.

* * *

Picture this: You leave Paris at noon and arrive in New York at 3 p.m. local time. You've been in the air seven hours. But jet speed racing the sun has saved you four. Now if you work an eight-hour day, you are working a 12-hour day. Even dinner will be late, four hours late.

* * *

Air Force researchers point out that some 70 per cent of jet travelers are so sensitive to such shifts in phase that they may develop some disorder or other trying to adjust.

Two obvious solutions: Adopt the living and time patterns of your destination before you leave. Or arrive early enough so you will have time to adjust.

COLD HEART

Bottles of saline ice crystals— a sort of salt water slush — are prepared before the operation and the crystals are packed around the heart as they are needed, arresting the heart's action while the surgeon works.

* * *

British researchers tested the method reported last year in the United States. It was useful in cases where the heart muscle has to be arrested for longer than 15 minutes.

* * *

The heart is warmed and starts normal action when resupplied by warm blood promptly after the operation without signs of impairment.

CRITICAL DAYS

Most deaths from heart attacks come in the first few days after the attack. That observation and the fact that heart attacks are the leading cause of early human deaths have led to a new study.

* * *

New York Medical College researchers will try to find some way of resting the heart during this critical period, giving the heart a chance to repair its damage caused by the cut-off of blood during the attack.

* * *

Among possible answers: cooling the patient's body temperature to below normal to reduce heart activity; or possibly taking the load off the heart by using heart-lung machines.

DYING TOO SOON

Most Americans live to retirement. But at least a third of all U.S. deaths occur before the age of 65. And the death rate in early life is almost twice as high for males as for females.

For the ages of 15-24, accidents cause three-fifths of all male deaths, one-third of all female deaths. And the second highest killer for the ages 1-24 is cancer, mainly leukemia.

Truman Declines Invitation to Walk Across Straits

ST. IGNACE (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman, a man known for his morning strolls, has turned down an invitation to join the hundreds of persons who make the annual Labor Day across Mackinac Bridge.

Truman, in a letter to former Senate colleague Prentiss M. Brown, said "I might last the five miles all right, but I can't risk it now."

Bridge officials expect between two and three thousand walkers to make the stroll across the bridge this year.

Some soil on the Caribbean island of Martinique is so fertile that a signpost may take root and sprout leaves.

Grain Futures Down in Early Dealings

CHICAGO (AP)—A moderate volume of offerings weakened the grain futures market during the first several minutes of dealings today on the Board of Trade.

* * *

Brokers said there was a little more hedge selling in wheat and as prices turned downward some profit-taking appeared.

* * *

Setbacks ran to major fractions in wheat but were smaller in other grains and soybeans.

Dust at New Center Promised Attention

City Commissioner John A. Dugan last night called on the city administration to take "immediate" steps to abate "dust bowl" conditions in the neighborhood of the forthcoming Glenwood Avenue shopping center.

* * *

Dugan said the city should go to court, if necessary, to halt "the smothering" of homes near the center with dust raised by bulldozers and other earth-moving equipment preparing the site for construction.

"This is about the worst dust condition I've seen," said Dugan. "Homes, windows and porches are being covered with layers of dust."

Dugan declared that the city has a responsibility to protect the affected people and their property.

Federal Judge Post Sought by UP Attorney

ESCANABA (AP) — Harold Beaton, a Manistique attorney and legislative assistant to Sen. Patrick McNamara, D-Mich., says he is seeking appointment as federal judge in the Western District of Michigan to succeed Judge Raymond W. Starr of Grand Rapids, who is retiring.

Beaton said he has been approved by the Delta County Democratic Committee and McNamara.

The consumption of frozen vegetables has increased by about 1,250 per cent within the past few years.

Crisis Keeping Mart Cautious

Most key stocks showed minor changes.

The market seemed to be paying little heed to news that both industrial production and personal income were at new highs in July. Also bullish was the speedup in highway spending ordered by President Kennedy.

International tension plus a continued desire to take profits on the three-week advance were cited by analysts as reasons for the ragged performance.

* * *

Big three motors were mostly lower while the "little two" (Studebaker-Packard and American Motors) showed small gains. Oils and coppers also were up a bit and utilities were firm.

Steels, chemicals, aircrafts and electronics were spotty.

A conspicuous loser was Ford, down a couple of points in fairly active selling. Traders seemed nervous over the news that a United Auto Workers official had asked union members to put through a vote authorizing union leaders to call a strike, if negotiations fail.

Chrysler (ex dividend) dropped a fraction as its latest exchange with the union made headlines. General Motors was about unchanged.

* * *

Studebaker - Packard picked up a sizeable fraction as trading continued very active. The street expects some good news about this firm's 1962 models later this month after security analysts look them over.

* * *

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed in moderate trading. Hydrometals rose about a point and Aerojet-General more than that.

Shoppers will be able to see the furniture, including a new line of early American in room settings, co-owners Murray and Edward Bloom announced. Church Asks for Price on Bagley Site

The Newman AME church whose building at 14 Auburn Ave. is to be purchased by the city and torn down in the urban renewal program, is negotiating to buy four city lots at Bagley and Brush streets as the site for a new church.

City Commissioners, hearing the church's initial overtures for the property last night, called on the administration to have the long-vacant land appraised for possible sale.

City Commissioner Milton R. Henry, who represents the area, went so far as to suggest that the land should be sold for $1 to help the congregation get started again.

Last week, the congregation won commission support, in principle, for permission to salvage building materials from the present building to put into a new one.

* * *

During a series of public hearings, there were no objections raised to assessment rolls covering the proposed $27,500 sanitary sewer on Clara, Fuller and Peacock Streets in northeast Pontiac.

The biggest sanitary sewer project of the year should get under way shortly, now that all proceedings are over.

* * *

Property owner objections led to a one-week delay in concluding a hearing on plans for new sidewalks at lower levels on Omar Street, Gage to Harper, to ease the grade of existing steep driveways.

Some property owners wanted the change but others objected to the cost or to the partial destruction of front lawns or the cutting down of some 19 stately trees on the street.

City Attorney William A. Ewart said waivers would have to be obtained from all the affected property owners if the city is to proceed without fear of damage suits.

There were no objections raised during hearings on plans for curbs and gutters on Foster Street, Howard to Forest; for a sanitary sewer on Diston Street; and for a lower sidewalk on the south side of Mechanic Street, Paddock to Roselawn.

Aug. 22 was set as the date for hearings on special assessment rolls covering proposed curbs and gutters on Hillside Drive, Burt to City Line, and on Elm Street, Paddock to Jessie.

TO BE STUDIED

Four matters were sent to the Planning Commission for study. These were:

A petition, signed by 61 per cent of the affected property owners, calling for the closing of an unused alley between South Tasmania and South Boulevard.

* * *

A request from S.B.S. Builders, Inc., of Detroit for vacating of that portion of Baltimore Street that juts east of Kettering Street in an area where the company is building new homes.

* * *

A petition, signed by 56 per cent of the affected property owners, calling for rezoning to commercial of three residential lots on the south side of Columbia Avenue between Barkell and Fuller.

* * *

And another petition, signed by 56 per cent of the affected property owners, calling for rezoning to commercial of the residential lot at the northwest corner of Franklin Road and Fildew.

* * *

Assessment rolls were confirmed for payment in four recently completed neighborhood improvements. These include a combined sewer on Sheffield Avenue, Hollywood to Baldwin, plus recapping of Clinton Street, Wayne to Williams; North Saginaw Street, Rundell to Chamberlain; and Joslyn Avenue, Columbia to Walton.

Showing a continued interest in eliminating Pontiac eyesores, Commissioner Winford E. Bottom asked for a complete list of condemned buildings in Pontiac.

Bottom also asked the administration to consider a street light at the corner of Dresden and Terry streets and called attention to complaints of speeding automobiles on Dresden and East Hopkins Street.

Commissioner Wesley J. Wood asked the administration to request Tempest Builders to complete curb cuts for driveways for several new homes on Pontiac's east side.

Jailed on Charge of Break-In, Man Demands Exam

A 27-year-old Detroit man has demanded examination on a charge of breaking and entering a Pontiac home.

The accused, James Smith, is being held in the Oakland County Jail, unable to furnish bond of $10,000 set by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Examination will be held on Aug. 23.

Smith was arrested after James L. Crump, 45, of 194 Wessen St., awakened to find a man standing in the doorway of his second-story bedroom early Monday and reaching for Crump's wallet.

He jumped up, caught Smith before he could flee from the home, and held him until Pontiac police summoned by neighbors, arrived on the scene.

Union Books Ruling Reversed by Court

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals today ordered enforcement of subpoenas by which the secretary of labor is seeking to see books and records of Detroit Truck Drivers' Local 299 of the Teamsters Union.

The Appeals Court reversed a decision by which U.S. District Judge Fred W. Kaess of Detroit had denied a request by the Labor Department to force the union to obey the subpoenas.

Russian Press Plays Down Berlin Crisis

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet press dropped the Berlin crisis off its front pages today — and put Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan's tour of Japan in its place.

The small space given to the Berlin border crisis gave the impression that the situation there was fully under control, with the East German people applauding the closing of the border.

A few papers carried such headlines — on inside pages — as "the Berliners want to live in peace," and "people are fed up with war hysteria."

Negroes to 'Stand-In' as Voters Register

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—"Stand-ins" at voter registration places were announced today by Dr. Martin Luther King as the next tactic in the organized fight against racial discrimination.

* * *

"We are working on a massive drive to get Negroes registered and voting in the South," the integration leader told a news conference.

"In the not too distant future there will be thousands of Negroes standing at places where they have been denied the right to register," the Atlanta Baptist clergyman said.

* * *

The goal will be to double the present Negro voter registration of 1.3 million in the South, said King.

See Heavy Wind in Southwest of Gulf of Mexico

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Weather Bureau instruments indicated today that an easterly wave in the southwest area of the Gulf of Mexico has intensified and should produce winds of 35 miles an hour in heavier squalls tonight.

Build-up of the easterly wave, the first step in possible development into a tropical storm, was detected by the automatic weather station and ships in the Southern Gulf.

* * *

Weathermen said a reconnaissance plane would fly into the Southwest Gulf today. Special reports were requested from ships in the area.

Forecasters said the wave was expected to move westward at 10 to 15 miles an hour and slowly grow stronger.

Michigan Supplies Bulk of School-Lunch Cherries

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department today announced the purchase of 297,980 cases of canned red tart pitted cherries for the school lunch program.

Most of the cherries were bought from firms in Michigan. The balance came from suppliers in Wisconsin, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Utah and Oregon.

May Reintroduce Idea of Strong Relations Unit

A report that the City Commission's Civic Improvement Committee has dropped talks about a bigger, stronger Human Relations Commission in Pontiac last night led City Commissioner Milton R. Henry to consider reintroducing the idea before the commission itself.

But apparently there is only one existing copy of the ordinance changes Henry introduced before the commission a year ago. This was sent to the advisory committee when the commission called for their study of the idea.

John A. Riley, committee chairman, reported in writing last night that discussion on a stronger commission was dropped in view of pending state legislation. But he didn't send the copy back.

Henry said that if the copy were returned to City Hall he would reintroduce the measures. Based on a similar move in Detroit, the proposals call for a committee with powers to initiate investigations and to make recommendations in the area of race relations.

* * *

The present Human Relations Commission, Henry contended again last night, is powerless to act unless called upon to do so.

"Its functions are vague and undefined," he said. "The present organization has no teeth in it."

The Human Relations Commission is the successor to the former Fair Employment Practices Commission, which was dropped last year after the attorney general ruled that local FEPC in Michigan had been supplanted by the state FEPC.

* * *

Henry criticized the scope of the commission when it was created and introduced the measures for a broader one.

Instead of acting on the measures, city commissioners with Henry's approval sent the broader measures to the advisory committee for discussion and a recommendation.

July Visitors Set Top Mark at Nature Center; Scouts Not Counted

Approximately 8,000 persons visited the Nature Center of Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford during June while over 13,000 visits by the general public in July established a record 21,000 visitors for the two-month period this summer.

* * *

Bill Hopkins, chief naturalist for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, stated that this figure does not include Scout units and other civic organizations using the building to view exhibits.

During the same period another 5,000 persons took guided field trips along the nature trails, two groups participated in leader orientation programs and in June over 700 youngsters heard lectures in the building.

* * *

The live turtle weighs 26 pounds and was captured by members of the Wayne County Training School of Northville while members of the group visited Kensington Park's group camp site recently.

Six Tires Blow but 80 Safe as Jet Lands

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—An American Airlines jetliner with 80 persons aboard blew out six of its tires and skidded off a runway into a grassy field at Dallas Love Field today in an emergency landing.

There were no casualties among the 72 passengers and crew of 8 on the Boeing 707 jetliner flight from San Francisco to Dallas.

It was the latest in a recent series of landing gear mishaps with domestic jetliners.

The landing at Dallas was scheduled but ground officials geared for an emergency when the pilot radioed that his hydraulic system failed and he was having trouble getting the nose wheel down.

Indict 12 Officials in $2-Million Racket

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Twelve officers of a Chicago firm were indicted today on mail fraud charges in what the government described as a $2-million loan racket preying on small business.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy announced an indictment was returned in Denver against officers and salesmen of North American Associates, Inc. of Chicago and its Denver and New York City affiliates.

Kennedy said government investigators estimate that between January 1959 and July 1961 businessmen were bilked of $2 million in fees for loans which never materialized.

Socialist Party Holds in Israel

Ben-Gurion Loses Four Seats but Mapai Group to Be Mainstay

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion's Socialist Mapai party appeared today to have lost thre or four seats in Parliament but remained the country's dominant party. It will be the mainstay of the next government.

TAXES HIGH

Mapai losses were attributed as much to high taxes and the cost of living as to Ben-Gurion's fight to shut out former Defense Minister Pinhas Lavon from succeeding him when the perennial prime minister finally retires. Ben-Gurion resigned last January and forced the election as a result of the so-called Lavon Affair.

* * *

With half the votes in Tuesday's nationwide election counted, these were the totals so far, and the likely distribution of Knesset seats: Mapai 140,465—43 or 44 seats, down 4 or 3; Liberal 50,740—17 seats, up 3; Herut, extreme right nationalist, 45,455—16 seats, down 1; National Religious Front 40,607—11 seats, down 1; Mapam, leftist labor, 37,384—10 seats, up 1; Communists, 4 seats, up 1.

* * *

The remainder of the seats would be divided among seven minor parties that were registering about 10 per cent of the vote.

The Mapai percentage of the vote dropped from 38.2 in 1959 to 33.9, while the Liberals increased from 10.7 to 13.0. The latter was formed by a merger of the Progressives and the slightly more conservative General Zionist party.

Eye Shelters at Airport

Few East Berliners Still Slip Through

BERLIN (UPI) — For 16 hours Hans Deckermann slipped quietly through the streets of East Berlin, playing hide and seek with Communist police, army troops and workers militia.

He wanted freedom in West Berlin. Their job was to stop him — and other East Germans — from sneaking through the tight Iron Curtain lowered by the Reds around East Berlin.

It was tough going for Hans. Only a few intercity border crossings remained open Tuesday. Dozens of other crossings had been blocked by the Reds with concrete barriers and barbed wire.

* * *

Finally Hans had his chance. He dived into the Teltow Canal, swam for 15 minutes, and pulled himself to freedom on the other side.

Then he went to the Marienfeld refugee camp outside West Berlin where he joined the thousands of other East Germans who have fled the Communist zone in recent weeks.

SOLDIER DEFECTS

One defector who crashed through the Communist guard Tuesday night was a soldier of the East German "people's army."

Wearing full uniform and steel helmet and carrying his pistol, he clambered over a barbed wire barrier into West Berlin.

West Berlin police said a member of the East German workers militia also crossed over and two other East Germans swam the Havel River to the West today.

The police said the Reds were inspecting freight trains running from West Germany to West Berlin to prevent any East Germans living along the rail lines from hitching a ride to the West.

To stem the flow of refugees to the West, the Communists have imposed the most severe crackdown since the 1953 East German revolt.

City Will Study Low Dore Bid

Wants to Be Assured Wrecking Co. Will Hire Local Labor

City Commissioners have been asked to go over the proposed contract for initial urban renewal clearance with a fine-tooth comb to see how local labor is benefited.

Although the administration, led by City Manager Walter K. Willman, last night recommended a contract with Dore Wrecking Co. of Kawkawlin, a one-week delay for study was won by Commissioner Robert A. Landry, one of several commissioners who expressed interest in whether the company would hire local labor at prevailing wages.

Tabulation of last week's bids put the Dore offer at $48,887 for clearance of 219 homes and similar structures, plus another 101 minor buildings such as sheds and garages.

The Dore company offer was about $4,000 lower than the closest of six other bids. Landry and Commissioners Winford E. Bottom and Milton R. Henry questioned whether this was because the company planned to import laborers at wage scales lower than the current local union scale.

Similar questions were raised by two representatives of labor in the audience, Dick M. Kirby, business agent for the Wayne, Oakland and Construction Trades Council, and George Mullner, president of Laborers Local 1076, AFL-CIO.

City Engineer James N. Carliale and Assistant City Manager Robert A. Stierer said they had assurances that Dore would hire local labor at prevailing rates.

Landry and the others wanted to see for themselves what the contract required.

Rape and Abductor Story All Big Hoax, She Admits

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—Mrs. Clara Bell Roderick, 23, who admitted her story of being held captive by a rapist for 19 days was a hoax, has been charged by the FBI with furnishing false information.

She said she and her son Buddy, 4, left their home in San Mateo, Calif., because of a bill collector. Originally she told authorities she and the boy were abducted and taken on a terror ride that spanned 19 days and four Western States.

The FBI had entered the case because of her story of a "lean, lanky kidnaper with a crooked nose."

H. O. Hawkins, special agent in charge of the Houston FBI office, said Mrs. Roderick might be returned to Denver for violation probation on a conviction of forging a government check.

Police Tuesday asked Mrs. Roderick to take a lie detector test, explaining it was "routine" since she was the only witness in the alleged kidnaping. It was then that she admitted it was a hoax.

* * *

She told authorities she came to Houston with two men and a woman from Phoenix, Ariz. They had met in Los Angeles. She said she ran away from them because they "cuffed" her around for refusing their demands to go into prostitution.

Capt. Weldon Waycott, head of the Houston police department's homicide division, said Mrs. Roderick made a statement saying she decided to leave her husband Ernest, an unemployed postal worker, because she feared his reaction when he learned she had purchased a typewriter on credit and could not pay for it.

Mrs. Roderick staggered into a Houston motel early Monday and asked that police be called. She then told the abduction story.

Her husband reported on July 27 that she and Bobby, her son by a previous marriage, were missing.

Lutheran Synod Asked to Drop Missouri Group

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Delegates attending the annual convention of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod Tuesday received a resolution urging termination of relations with the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

A similar proposal was voted down at the 1957 convention. The recommendation was contained in a resolution offered by the floor committee on church union matters.

Vote on the resolution is not expected until the final convention session Thursday.

The resolution, however, states that the Wisconsin synod is "ready to continue our support of joint projects carried on by the Synodical Conference and by groups within the Synodical Conference until we can adjust to the new conditions brought about by the suspension."

King's Doctor Dies

AP Photofax

Berlin May Be Just One in Long Line of World Crises

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The Berlin crisis is gruesome for more reasons than just the chance of war.

Without war this will be only one in a series of crises around the world for years between the West and communism.

* * *

Even at his inauguration President Kennedy, looking to the anxious years beyond, said there would be no finish "even perhaps in our lifetime."

And in his July talk to the nation—after the Berlin crisis began — Kennedy said "That isolated outpost is not an isolated problem. The threat is worldwide."

Since the Russians and Red Chinese are dedicated to taking over the world, but can't do it all at once, they will keep trying a bit at a time.

WILL LOOK BACK

In the future the rest of the world probably will look back on this time—when the United States and the Soviet Union alone had nuclear missiles big enough to blow each other off the earth — as a comparatively comfortable time.

More and more nations in time — particularly Red China—should have similar weapons of race massacre.

* * *

So, while two giants dominate the world now, eventually others, armed like giants, can act like them. This will simply compound trouble.

For example, at this moment the Red Chinese, still lacking nuclear weapons, are soft-pedaling their claim to Formosa which is occupied by Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists and is under American protection.

They've banged away at the tiny islands Chiang holds close to the mainland. They haven't tried to attack Formosa itself for a simple, good reason: The United States has the nuclear muscle and they don't.

NUCLEAR WAR RISK

This will change when they get the muscle. Then will the United States for the sake of Formosa risk a nuclear war with Red China which would almost certainly mean war with the Soviet Union?

If not, then the other American Allies in Asia may lose faith in this country. At the same time some of those same Allies, plus the European Allies, may prefer seeing Formosa lost to risking nuclear war for themselves.

This is just one of the dilemmas ahead. Even without threats from Red China, Formosa may be thrown into internal crisis when Chiang dies. And places not even thought of now will become critical areas in the struggle with communism.

* * *

Africa, for instance. Or countries in Latin America where communism, through Fidel Castro, has an ideological launching pad in Cuba.

Then there's Korea. The Communists were stopped once from taking it by force. But it lies next to Red China and Red North Korea.

The Communist effort to take it over, by force or subversion, will not end.

It will increase in direct proportion to Red China's increasing strength in nuclear weapons.

The United States at this minute can't even guess at what its future problems in South Korea may be.

Yet, if it showed weakness there under Red pressure, its big Asian ally, Japan, would probably lose faith and turn neutral to placate the Red Chinese.

* * *

Another place: South Viet Nam which the United States is committed to protect but where the Communists from North Viet Nam have already infiltrated. That country is wobbly already.

If that goes, all Southeast Asia is in jeopardy. And the places mentioned here are just the obvious trouble spots ahead. There'll be others.

ANOTHER BARRIER GOES UP — East German police put up a wooden barrier on their side of the Teltow Canal Tuesday in a further effort to prevent the escape of refugees from East Berlin into the western sector of the city. The canal forms part of the border between the divided sectors of the city.

Fran May Challenge International Beauties

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — All those international sex symbols — Marilyn Monroe, Elizabeth Taylor, Jayne Mansfield and Brigitte Bardot — had better get a wiggle and a waggle on and look out for Dick Haymes' wife, Fran Jeffries. What other gal can caress with her nose — and her hips — and also make women spectators adore her? When Fran and Dick opened their slick act at the Copacabana, such customers as Milton Berle, Steve Lawrence, Edyie Gorme, Jack E. Leonard, William B. Williams and Frank Lovejoy saluted them with a standing ovation. They agreed that Fran, who has a 22 waist and isn't much older, deserves a big movie and record career. She's as beautiful as Lilli Palmer, as sexy as Lena Horne; she is, in a word, "Frantastic."

TV Space Program a Lesson in 'Failure'

By DOC QUIGG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Such is the videosyncrasy of the late summer season that I could find only one important scheduling Tuesday night that was not a repeat. And even it was a repeat for Nashville, Tenn., although it was new to the rest of the country.

This was ABC-TV's "The Tullahoma Story," shown on its Focus on America program. The show was originally produced by station WSIX-TV in Nashville, and it provided us a glimpse of what the narrator called "the very heart of the American space exploration program."

The heart proved to be an organ that thrives on failure. As Brig. Gen. Homer A. Boushey, commander of the Air Force's Arnold Development Center, near Tullahoma in the great valley of the Tennessee, put it during his part of the program:

* * *

"We live for failures (he was talking about the whole function of the center) because it is only through failures that we can achieve success."

ONE PURPOSE

The Arnold Center is one of those fantastic developments that the atom-and-space age have wrought across our countryside. It is a gigantic plant with one purpose: to test our planes, rockets, missiles, and their engines and kindred parts, such as parachutes and pressure suits, by stimulating the environment through which they travel.

Its series of complex wind tunnels was described as "the only facility of its type in the world today."

But the program went back to the center's ancestors in showdevelop the V2 rockets with which the Germans hit London in World War II and even one of the original Wright Brothers wind tunnels which they used in tests before they ever got off the ground.

We were shown 100-foot-diameter holes now being bored for new super-horsepower rocket tests — and a contemplated "hyper-ballistic" test facility which the general called "Cape Canaveral in a tank." In there, he said, "We hope to get up to escape velocity."

Which means, fast enough to leave this world but controlled enough to stay on the ground in a tank where knowledge-questing men can watch.

Director Says New Facilities Need Funds Before Opening

LANSING (AP)—The state mental health director says the budget for his department cannot be stretched far enough to operate new facilities at Howell and Plymouth.

* * *

Charles F. Wagg told a joint interim committee studying the state budget law Tuesday that the mental health budget must be increased $655,000 to allow the two institutions to operate at capacity till July 1, 1962, end of the current fiscal year.

Wagg said $375,000 is needed to open the second half of the state mental hospital at Howell, until recently a state tuberculosis sanatorium. Half of the facility already is occupied by mental patients, he said, and the remaining section will be ready for opening next month.

Operation of the second of two buildings at the new Plymouth State Home and Training School, he said, will cost $280,000 for the six-month period starting in January. The first building for treatment of the mentally retarded is in operation.

* * *

But He Has Record of Failures

Ulbricht Is Doing Khrushchev's Dirty Work

(Editor's Note: In today's commentary on the Berlin crisis, the UPI European general news manager discusses from London the question of who is master-minding the Communist blockade moves.)

By HARRY FERGUSON
United Press International

There is no doubt that Nikita Khrushchev is giving the orders in the Berlin crisis, but how about the man who obeys them?

His name is Walter Ulbricht. He is not the premier or president of Communist East Germany. He holds the title of first secretary of the East German Communist party, which means he is Khrushchev's branch manager and the man who relays the Kremlin's orders to Premier Otto Grotewohl.

Ulbricht is an old-line Communist. Although he is a German, he spent many years in Moscow, sat at the feet of the maestro, Stalin, and learned all the tricks of the Communist trade including how to survive purges.

Just before he attempted to seal off East Berlin he went back to headquarters in Moscow to get final instructions and a pep talk from Khrushchev.

One reason he has survived is that he never makes big decisions and never questions orders from the boss.

AN APPARATCHIK

Ulbricht is what the Russians call an "apparatchik," a man who has been a professional politician most of his life. The remarkable thing about him is that as a Communist leader he has a steady record of failure.

He was born the son of a tailor and by 1923 had become Communist party secretary in the province of Thuringia. He organized a putsch. It failed. He was placed in charge of Communist resistance against Adolf Hitler. Resistance collapsed. As the boss of East Germany he survived the 1953 revolt. His nation is in economic ruins. People are risking death to flee from him.

But the man has a genius for survival. K. C. Thaler, UPI diplomatic reporter, has from excellent sources that Ulbricht is the most hated of all the Communist leaders. The satellite premiers do not like him, and his own people in East Germany are expressing their opinion of him by fleeing to the West.

* * *

Even his personal appearance reflects his professional communism. He bears, or thinks he bears, a slight resemblance to Lenin. He is about the same height and the same build, and cultivates the resemblance with a beard that is almost a duplicate of the one Lenin wore.

He has a reputation of being "the man who never listens" in conversations with equals or subordinates. He talks incessantly at Communist party meetings and heckles anybody who disagrees with him in a high, sing-song voice. Some of Ulbricht's unpleasant actions and words can be traced to the fact that he has liver trouble. He does not smoke or drink and lives mainly on raw vegetables.

Can he survive another failure? There are reports that if the present Communist move in Berlin fails, Khrushchev is prepared to blame it all on Ulbricht and send him to a political Siberia.

Meantime the East German boss comforts himself by reading hymns of praise to his virtues in the German Communist newspapers. Like this:

* * *

"You are loved by the people, worshipped by the people;

"O, what a life — truly worth living."

There never is any mention of the fact that Ulbricht is still wanted by the West German police on the charge of being an accomplice in the murder of two policemen on Aug. 9, 1931.

African Nationalist Controls Nyasaland

BLANTYRE, Nyasaland (AP) — Fiery nationalist leader Hastings Banda, outspoken opponent of the white-dominated Central African Federation that embraces this British protectorate, won control of the new Legislative Council in Tuesday's general election.

With results still incomplete, Banda's Malawi Congress party had taken 17 of the council's 33 seats. The United Federal party of Premier Sir Roy Welensky had won five seats, and the independents had taken one.

The outcome means African rule of Nyasaland for the first time. Banda has said that after winning the election the next step will be secession from the federation and then total independence for the protectorate.

Approve Alterations at Federal Building

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Public Works Committee today approved alterations estimated to cost $257,000 to provide facilities in the Detroit Federal Building for two additional judges for the Eastern Michigan U.S. District Court.

Involved are two new court rooms, two jury rooms, two offices for the judges and two rooms for court reporters.

Loan Program Still Fighting

Sen. Williams Wants to Add Antiusury Clause Onto Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's five-year foreign development loan program, altered but intact, today runs into another Senate effort to change it.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., wants to add an antiusury amendment to the program.

Williams asked the Senate to adopt a proposal under which money made available by the United States—at rates as low as one per cent, and even interest-free — could not be reloaned at rates higher than eight per cent.

The Senate turned to consideration of Williams' proposal after an attempt to cut Kennedy's requested borrowing authority for the five-year loan program from $8.8 billion to $7.3 billion lost on a 46-46 tie vote.

This vote was still subject to a motion to reconsider. But the Senate's Democratic leaders said they were confident they would pick up additional support if there is another vote on the amendment.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., floor manager of the bill, for example, was absent from the Chamber when the tie vote was taken.

The amendment, sponsored by Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, would have slashed the development loan requests by $287 million this year and by $300 million for each of the succeeding four years.

But the Senate did vote, 52 to 44, to give Congress a veto power over any loan over $5 million.

Offered by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, and accepted by Fulbright, the amendment would give four congressional committees a 30-day advance look at any proposed loan above that amount.

Any of the four committees—the Senate and House Foreign Relations and Appropriations Committees—would be empowered to ask Congress to kill any loan to which they objected.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — TV detective Efrem Zimbalist Jr. and his wife Stephanie, apparently a happily married couple on "Person to Person" last Friday night, said Tuesday they definitely will be divorced.

Mrs. Zimbalist said the couple's latest separation started over a game of table tennis.

"We had been watching 'Person to Person,'" she said, "and then a ping pong game started; Efrem was playing with 14-year-old Skipper. I got underneath the table.

"We all were having fun with the children. I guess my back hit the table and tipped it the wrong way. Believe it or not, that's how it started."

The "Person to Person" segment was filmed several months ago and delayed once when the couple separated temporarily.

E. Germans Hold 3 West Newsmen

BERLIN (UPI) — East German Communists held three Western newsmen for four and a half hours today and then told them to get out of East Berlin "as quickly as possible."

The newsmen — Peter Noeldechen and Hans-Joachim Griephan of United Press International and Serge Fliegers of the Hearst newspapers — were on a routine tour of East Berlin when they were stopped by East German "peoples police" and soldiers with tommyguns.

They were told they had gone too close to East Berlin's outer border with East Germany.

* * *

Their passports were confiscated and the newsmen were held under guard in their automobile until an East German security official arrived.

Stop Meddling, West Told

Few East Berliners Still Slip Through

BERLIN (UPI) — For 16 hours Hans Deckermann slipped quietly through the streets of East Berlin, playing hide and seek with Communist police, army troops and workers militia.

He wanted freedom in West Berlin. Their job was to stop him — and other East Germans — from sneaking through the tight Iron Curtain lowered by the Reds around East Berlin.

It was tough going for Hans. Only a few intercity border crossings remained open Tuesday. Dozens of other crossings had been blocked by the Reds with concrete barriers and barbed wire.

* * *

Finally Hans had his chance. He dived into the Teltow Canal, swam for 15 minutes, and pulled himself to freedom on the other side.

Then he went to the Marienfeld refugee camp outside West Berlin where he joined the thousands of other East Germans who have fled the Communist zone in recent weeks.

SOLDIER DEFECTS

One defector who crashed through the Communist guard Tuesday night was a soldier of the East German "people's army."

Wearing full uniform and steel helmet and carrying his pistol, he clambered over a barbed wire barrier into West Berlin.

West Berlin police said a member of the East German workers militia also crossed over and two other East Germans swam the Havel River to the West today.

The police said the Reds were inspecting freight trains running from West Germany to West Berlin to prevent any East Germans living along the rail lines from hitching a ride to the West.

To stem the flow of refugees to the West, the Communists have imposed the most severe crackdown since the 1953 East German revolt.

825 to Answer Draft in State

County's 5 Boards to Furnish 103 Men in Next Month's Call

LANSING (AP)—Michigan will furnish 825 young men for induction into the Army next month in the largest draft since June 1960, the State Selective Service Board said today.

* * *

Oakland County's five boards will supply 103 draftees.

All the inductees will be volunteers or nonfathers over 21.

An additional 3,000 registrants will be ordered to take preinduction physical examinations next month, said Col. Arthur A. Holmes, State Selective Service director.

Holmes said there has been no change in classification policies covering occupational, dependency and student deferments. However, he said, many college students have failed to notify their local draft boards of their student status and of their plans to enroll in the fall term. He said they should do so without delay.

* * *

Red Water Gun Follows Moves of Gen. Clarke

* * *

The jets from these armored cars are so powerful they can knock a man off his feet and injure him.

Clarke, accompanied by Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin; Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, the U.S. commandant in Berlin; and the troop commander, Brig. Gen. Frderick O. Hartel, toured the sector border fortified by the Reds to stop East Germans escaping to the West.

EARL M. TREADWELL

Press Veteran Dies in Hospital

Circulation Manager, Earl M. Treadwell, Is Dead at 57

Earl M. Treadwell, circulation manager of The Pontiac Press for the past 34 years, died early this morning at University Hospital, Ann Arbor, after an illness of several months. He was 57.

One of the many members of The Pontiac Press family to be brought up in newspaper work, he began as a newsboy delivering Press papers when only 8 years of age.

While attending Pontiac Central High School from which he was graduated in 1923, Mr. Treadwell worked part time in the mailing room. He then took a regular job moving up later to assistant circulation manager and to head of the department in 1927.

Mr. Treadwell of 2014 Lakeward Lane, Hammond Lake started with 90 newsboys under his direction. Today his department has 1000.

He delivered the first bundle of Presses ever sent to suburban service carriers. It was only 15 papers.

NUMBER SOARS

Today 60,000 papers are delivered by carriers outside and within the City of Pontiac, in addition to city newstands and mail service which was also under his supervision.

West Embroiled in Split Over Berlin Reaction

U. S., British Officials Shy Away From Using Total Trade Embargo

WASHINGTON (AP) — West German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe said today "there is a certain disappointment in Germany" at the failure of the Western Allies so far to take countermeasures against the Red blockade of refugees fleeing to West Berlin.

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — The United States and its Western Allies appear to be having serious difficulty today in agreeing on precise measures which could be imposed to penalize the East German Communist leadership for barricading the East Berlin border and halting the flight of refugees to the West.

State Department officials and representatives of the British, French and West German embassies met at midmorning for another attempt to decide upon a specific program of action which they had failed to work out in two previous meetings.

The western powers were reported considering a trade embargo on the Communist bloc in retaliation if the Communists blockade West Berlin.

But official sources indicated that the West would not impose a total embargo as a countermeasure against the closing of the border between East and West Berlin.

* * *

"A total trade embargo is a card you can play only once," one official here said.

Britain has advised the Allies to defer economic sanctions against East Germany, reserving such action for a possibly more serious future emergency over Berlin.

The British government is against an economic embargo now—as is being suggested by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer—because it is against "precipitate action" that could worsen the crisis.

KENNEDY, RUSK CONFER

They were together a little more than half an hour in what was undoubtedly a conference to review the latest developments in the Berlin situation.

However, the White House described the session as their normal Wednesday breakfast get-together and said a variety of matters was discussed.

* * *

Mansfield struck back at an informal news conference at charges made Tuesday by Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana that "important Democratic spokesmen" were clouding President Kennedy's firm stand on Berlin.

West German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe, a participant in an Allied meeting which wound up at the State Department Tuesday night, disclosed that the Western powers are drafting a new protest

Three Will Serve on Hospital Unit

City Commissioners named a new face to the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees last night and reappointed two other men.

In appointing Alex Capsalis, 221 Ottawa Drive, to the board, commissioners dropped Cecil J. Cosgrove from the 11-member body.

Rev. Theodore R. Allebach and Isaac Smoot were reappointed to four-year terms.

ISAAC SMOOT

REV. ALLEBACH

ALEC CAPSALIS

"This means that District 7 has no representative on the hospital board," said Landry. "It seems strange that the majority of the commission chose to ignore the recommendations of District 7, but majorities have a way of changing."

The latter remark was a reference to next spring's City Commission election.

The appointments mean that the board will probably elect its 1961-62 officers tomorrow night.

The Rev. Mr. Allebach and Cosgrove were orginally appointed to the board in December 1956 and Smoot in June 1957. Their terms expired in June.

Capsalis, 40, is director of personnel of the Bendix Corp. research division in Southfield.

Resident of Pontiac 15 years, he also teaches business management and administrative methods in the Continuing Education Department at Michigan State University Oakland.

Capsalis, married with three children, holds a master's degree in management from Wayne State University and is currently completing work towards a doctorate in philosophy.

The Rev. Mr. Allebach, pastor of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, has served on several board committees, including public relations. Smoot, a Pontiac Motor Division employe, has been active on the personnel committee.

1 Killed, 1 Saved as Scaffold Breaks

Another was rescued after dangling four stories high.

M. C. Jackson, 32, fell six stories to an alley and was killed.

Richard Laskowski, 23, managed to grab the scaffold and dangled at the fourth floor level. Other workmen pulled him to safety through a window.

New Satellite 'Looks Good'

Explorer XII Sent Up Tuesday Night to Travel in Elliptical Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A new robot observer sped through far reaches of space today to find out just what uind of sailing for astronauts is created when the solar winds of radiation blow over earth's magnetic fields.

* * *

Eleven hours after the launching of the "windmill" scientific package from this missile test center Tuesday night, officials of the Civilian Space Agency reported on the basis of radio signals that the satellite experiment "looks good."

That was because the elongated orbit — perhaps well beyond 34,000 miles out at the far point—would take so long that they would not have second-pass readings earlier.

Those would show whether orbit was achieved, and the shape of the path.

By 7 a.m. (Pontiac time) the space traveler had been tracked by six observation stations, at Johannesburg, South Africa; Ascension Island; Santiago and Antofagasta, Chile; Lima, Peru; and Woomera, Australia.

Named Explorer XII, the package is expected to tell scientists more clearly than ever before how solar radiation influences conditions on earth and how great a

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy is reported to have decided against any resumption of nuclear testing this year, regardless of whether the Russians demonstrate at Geneva they want no foolproof agreement.

The President's position, as outlined to congressional leaders, is that the United States should do nothing to prejudice the case it expects to make in the United Nations that the West is ready to accept a self-enforcing ban while the Russians insist on an inspection veto.

Kennedy is sending his chief negotiator, Arthur H. Dean, back to Geneva next week to find out if the Soviet Union is still sticking to its troika demand for unanimous three-power inspection control. If they are, he said, Dean will come home quickly.

There is little, if any, hope within the administration that Moscow will change its position. Accordingly, the plan is to dramatize this last-chance rejection when the U.S. General Assembly meets in September.

KEPT IN SESSION

The U.N. timetable usually keeps it in session until December. Kennedy is represented as reluctant to announce any resumption of tests while the international organization remains in session.

Meanwhile, Chairman Chet Holifield, D-Calif., of the joint congressional Atomic Energy Committee has challenged Republicans to produce evidence they claimed showed that Russia has been testing nuclear weapons.

Holifield made the demand Tuesday after Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., and House leader Charles A. Halleck, R-Ind., announced in their weekly meeting with newsmen that high government officials have information indicating Russia has been testing "right along" through the talks.

East Germany Curtails Travel Even Further as Crisis Goes On

BERLIN (AP)—Mayor Willy Brandt told a cheering protest rally of 200,000 West Berliners he has sent a letter to President Kennedy telling him "Berlin expects more than words, it expects political action."

From Our News Wires

BERLIN — The Soviet Union said today it has no control over East Germany and told the West to stop "meddling" in East German affairs.

At the same time, the East German Communists cut down on already limited travel by their own citizens to West Germany today. It was their most vigorous interference with traffic between the two Germanys since Berlin's newest crisis.

The Red rebuff came in a note from Col. A. V. Solovyev, the Soviet commandant in Berlin. The note replied to a protest from the Western Allied commandants delivered Aug. 3.

The Soviet answer was sent to the West Tuesday and released today by the East German news agency ADN.

The Western note of Aug. 3 protested Communist harassment of East German residents who work in Berlin. Solovyev replied that the Western protest was "absurd" and could not be taken seriously.

The Berlin trouble was generated Sunday by the barricades erected against East Berliners going into West Berlin and against West Berliners going East unless they get special permits.

Today the clampdown was extended beyond Berlin to the borders between East and West Germany.

ORDERED OFF TRAINS

Freight trains and trucks were permitted to travel in both directions as before, and Westerners going into East Germany were allowed through as long as their papers were in order.

But East Germans on westbound trains were ordered off at the border, even though they had visas and permits issued by Communist authorities.

SCHOLARSHIP BRIGHTENS FUTURE — Daniel R. Taylor (right) of 798 Pensacola St. is all smiles as he is being handed a check for $300 by Monroe M. Osmun, Pontiac clothier and board of education member. Taylor was named the first of four annual winners of grants for the Monroe M. Osmun Scholarship Fund.

'Wouldn't Be Going Otherwise'

Overjoyed at Scholarship

"It means just about everything to me," said Pontiac Central High School graduate Dan Taylor.

The 17-year-old Pontiac youth was talking about a check for $300 which will enable him to enter Michigan State University this fall.

Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Taylor of 798 Pensacola St., was overwhelmed by the news that he had been awarded the first of four grants from the Monroe M. Osmun Scholarship Fund.

"I wouldn't be going if it weren't for this. It's about the most important thing that ever happened to me," Taylor said.

The fund, established last April from the sale of tickets to a testimonial dinner in Osmun's honor, is split into four scholarship grants, one each year.

Taylor ranked 42nd in a graduating class of 491 last June. He had an honor point average of 2,307.

* * *

He was described by teachers as "reserved, well-mannered, a credit to the school and valuable member in a wholesome family."

Dan wants to be an accountant. In high school he majored in math, English and social studies.

He was admitted to the Honors College at MSU and awarded a $300 honors scholarship in June.

Dan's father has ben forced by illness to work only part time in his job at Benson Lumber Co.

Dan got a job with F & F Lawn Service, a Drayton Plains landscaping firm.

"But my earnings plus the MSU scholarship still wouldn't give me enough to enter this fall," he said. "The Osmun scholarship will do it."

UAW to Ask GM Anew for Price-Profit Formula

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union says it likely will ask anew today or Thursday for the price-profit formula of General Motors Corp.

GM twice previously has told the UAW that prices are none of its business and that the union bargains only for wages, hours and working conditions.

This is the sixth week of new contract negotiations in the auto industry. Present pacts expire Aug. 31.

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock conceded the third request on GM would be aimed to support an appeal to the National Labor Relations Board to force GM to turn over the figures on which it bases prices and profits.

* * *

Woodcock said the question had been reviewed with UAW President Walter P. Reuther and the union's executive board over the weekend.

In making the union's second request Woodcock had asked for data on what he said was a price-profit formula of 20 per cent after taxes.

Woodcock insisted that the union did not want to inspect books of GM or to "violate their confidential information." He said the union needed the price-profit formula to figure out what it might gain in bargaining without increasing car prices and thus adding to inflation.

Adenauer Talks to Red Envoy

Dissatisfaction Growing in West Germany Over Lack of Allied Action

BONN (UPI) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today received Soviet Ambassador Andrei Smirnov, amid signs of growing West German dissatisfaction with the Western Allied treatment of the Berlin crisis.

* * *

The Adenauer-Smirnov meeting—sought by Smirnov after his return Saturday from consultations with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev—came after a two-hour federal cabinet meeting to discuss measures the government may take unilaterally or with the Allies to counter Communist sealing of the East-West Berlin border.

Getting top priority at the cabinet meeting, presumably, was a report of a threat by the East German regime to blockade freight shipments to West Berlin if the West tries to boycott trade to East Germany.

There was increasing discontent in West Germany over the allegedly "timid" allied approach to the Berlin crisis.

West Germany's largest newspaper, the Hamburg Bild Zeitung, distributed more than three million copies of today's edition with the whole of its front page covered with this headline:

Approximately 8,000 persons visited the Nature Center of Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford during June while over 13,000 visits by the general public in July established a record 21,000 visitors for the two-month period this summer.

Bill Hopkins, chief naturalist for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, stated that this figure does not include Scout units and other civic organizations using the building to view exhibits.

During the same period another 5,000 persons took guided field trips along the nature trails, two groups participated in leader orientation programs and in June over 700 youngsters heard lectures in the building.

the 935-mile border, no East German cars were allowed through after midmorning. No East Germans were on trains crossing the Bavarian border.

* * *

The East German government made no announcement concerning the situation. But it threatened Tuesday to put on another blockade like that in 1948-49 if West Germany cuts off East German trade in reprisal for the travel restrictions in Berlin.

Another Western note, sent Tuesday protesting the East German move in sealing the East West Berlin border, has not yet been answered.

POWER GOES OUT

It followed a one-hour power blackout that hit East and West Berlin. Police later explained this was caused by an East Berlin power breakdown.

Solovyev said East Germany is a sovereign nation and can do as it pleases. He said he had no intention of "meddling" in East German afairs.

The Soviet commandant said he could not take the Western protest seriously.

He completely rejected the Western Allied contention that under four-power agreements Russia is responsible for the acts of the East German government.

He told the Western commandants that the Soviet Union had expressed its views on four-power occupation agreements in a previous note.

* * *

The note he referred to told the Western Allies that the Soviets considered four-power agreements on Berlin invalid because they had been signed before the formation of the East and West German governments.

Speaking for himself, the Soviet commandant said he considered the occupation regime in Berlin "outmoded."

An East German "now must risk his life to escape to the West," a spokesman for the West German Refugee Ministry said today in Bonn.

Dr. Hans Georg Schlicker said the barricading of East Berlin removed the last chance for East Germans to reach West Germany in relative safety.

ATTACK OFFICES

CITE VIOLATION

The Western powers have already denounced the closing in public statements and in a protest to Soviet authorities at Berlin as a violation of World War II agreements.

Grewe said the protests would be dispatched to Moscow in the very near future.

There was no similar word on quick action with respect to countermeasures in spite of the fact that on Monday the Allied representatives here agreed that such measures should be taken.

Authorities indicated today that they were unable to agree on exactly what they should do.

* * *

The London viewpoint was said to be that the crackdown on escapees from communism, though technically a violation of 16-year-old occupation agreements, actually had not involved the rights of the Western powers in West Berlin.

Assistant Secretary of State Foy D. Kohler has been the regular representative for the U.S. government in the Allied planning and policy-making committee of diplomats.

Grewe sat in again today for West Germany.

The Day in Birmingham

Swainson Pledges Help in Fight for Traffic Safety

BIRMINGHAM — Gov. Swainson pledged all the resources of his administration today to the fight for traffic safety so that motorists can move rapidly, efficiently — and without fear — on Michigan's highways.

Swainson made his statement at the first of six statewide Governor's Traffic Safety Conferences held at Devon Gables restaurant in Bloomfield Township.

In a prepared speech at a noon luncheon, Swainson said that motorists must recognize a new "status symbol" — the safe, responsible driver.

"I would like to see more and more citizens express contempt for the unsafe driver and subject him or her to social scorn," he said. "I think superior driving skill can be made into a trait to be envied and imitated."

* * *

Pointing out that 43 Michigan counties reported an increase in traffic deaths last year, Swainson said the trend must be reversed.

"The alternative is too grisly to contemplate," he said. "Deaths and injuries are exacting such a toll in human grief and economic loss today that to do anything less than an all-out effort to end traffic accidents is unthinkable."

"No society can continue to permit its citizenry to be the bloody victims of such accidents year after year," the governor said.

* * *

The morning portion of the conference was devoted to a panel discussion that explored the effects of recent legislation concerning the use of chemical tests as evidence in drunken driving cases.

The afternoon program featured a series of workshops that considered traffic safety measures and legislation.

* * *

So-called regional interests within Michigan "must not be exploited as an excuse for fractionalizing the voting power of the people," said Asher N. Tilchin, Democratic candidate for the Constitutional Convention, last night.

Tilchin, delegate candidate from the third legislative district was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Birmingham Democratic Club.

"State rights are a logical basis for federal constitutional provisions which grant each state equal representation in the U.S. Senate," he added.

Ionia Escapees Judged Sane

Psychiatrists Testify for 2 Hospital Inmates at Circuit Court Hearing

Two escapees from Ionia State Hospital were judged sane today in a sanity hearing before Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer.

Beer's decision was based on the testimony of two psychiatrists who said they found the escapees, James G. Styes and John T. Auld, "sane and able to assist in their own defense."

Dr. Ivan LaCore of Pontiac, who examined both men twice, and Dr. Edward S. Salem of Detroit, said they found "no evidence of psychosis" in either man.

* * *

Robert C. Goussy, an aide of State Attorney General Paul L. Adams, representing the state, argued that Oakland County Circuit Court does not have jurisdiction to hold a sanity hearing for the accused men.

Styes, 33, of Clare, and Auld, 42, formerly of Toledo, were returned to the Oakland County Jail to await examination before Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib on charges of kidnaping and rape tomorrow.

Goussy argued that both men must be found sane by the courts that committed them to Ionia two years ago.

ARGUE JURISDICTION

Assistant Prosecutor Richard P. Condit argued that the Oakland prosecutor does have authority to call for a sanity hearing and press charges since the crimes of kidnaping and rape were charged to have been committed within his jurisdiction.

Beer held that Styes and Auld "were sane as of Aug. 9 at the time of the alleged offenses" and that he (Beer) "has jurisdiction to determine their sanity."

Styes and Auld were captured in West Bloomfield Township a week ago after holding a young mother and her brother as hostages for some eight hours.

City to Probe Park Drowning

Compensation Urged by Commissioners for Parents of 2 Victims

City Commissioners agreed last night that the deaths of two children by drowning in Murphy Park July 28 should be investigated and their families compensated, if this is deemed appropriate.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said no claim has been filed with the city by the families of the drowned children, Sarah Lee Perkins, 8, of 404 Elm St., and Lamberto Lemus, 9, of 412 Elm St.

The investigation by Willman and City Attorney William A. Ewart was approved after Commissioner Milton R. Henry suggested that the city was liable, at least in part, because the spot where the children drowned was not fenced off nor posted with warning signs.

* * *

Henry and Commissioner Robert A. Landry contended the city had at least "a moral obligation" to help out the families financially if necessary.

The children drowned in a water hole in a remote ravine on the south side of the East Boulevard park.

Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager, said the hole is periodically created by heavy flow from a storm drain carrying waters from the GMC Truck & Coach Division area. The rush of the water scoops away any fill dumped by the city, he said.

Since the tragedy, the city has dumped chunks of cement at the spot, he added.

Look for Clues in Stab Slayings

Find Bodies of 2 Boys Bound, Nude, Jabbed and Gagged

NEW YORK (AP)—A force of 75 policemen combed chest-high weeds behind a Brooklyn bowling alley today, meticulously probing for a scrap of evidence in the knife-killing of two young boys.

Known molesters of children were questioned throughout the city.

Apparently neither boy had been sexually molested, but police did not rule out the possibility that a sex fiend had committed the crime. One body, bound and nude, had been stabbed 25 times, the other 30 times. Both boys had been gagged.

* * *

The grief-stricken parents identified the bodies at Kings County morgue Tuesday night as Jaime Luis Ruiz, 9, and Augustin Trinidad Jr., 13.

* * *

Jaime's stepfather, William Renta, said the last time he had seen the youth was about 4 p.m. when Jaime left home, saying he was going to meet Augustin.

A friend of the boys, Rafael Rivera, 11, told police he had seen them shortly after 4 p.m. and that they told him they were going to a shop nearby to get parts for a bicycle they were repairing.

FIND BODIES

Amato Morro, 40 stumbled onto the bodies about 6 p.m. as he scavenged for junk. Jaime's body lay under a tree, gagged with a pair of socks. Augustin's nude body was in the weeds, his hands bound with suspenders and his mouth gagged by a necktie.

The bodies were several hundred feet to the rear of a parking lot behind a bowling alley on Flatlands Avenue in the Canarsie section of Brooklyn. A creek bisects the marshy wasteland.

Soapy on Safari Shakes Hands of Demonstrators

FRANCISTOWN, Bechuanaland (AP) — G. Mennen Williams waded into a group of African demonstrators Tuesday and pumped hands as if he were back on the campaign trail in Michigan.

The small group held a placard demonstration outside the hotel where the U.S. assistant secretary of state was having lunch.

When the former governor of Michigan, who is on a flying tour of Southern Africa, left the hotel, he went across to the demonstrators and introduced himself.

The demonstrators' slogans, chalked on cardboard, said:

"We deplore apartheid in our land" and "Away with all forms of segregation." The demonstrators said they were members of the Bechuanaland Peoples Party.

Interest Keen in Contracts

Firms', UAW Mail Heavy

BY ROBERT IRVIN
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — The current new contract negotiations between the auto industry and the United Automobile Workers Union appear to have stirred up the interest of countless numbers of Americans.

If mail reaching the auto companies and the UAW is any indication, many people from nearly all walks of life—doctors, lawyers, businessmen and workingmen—are taking a keen look at what goes on in the bargaining rooms in Detroit.

Many of the letters received by the industry voice concern about whether a settlement with the UAW will mean higher car prices. Several threatened to buy foreign cars if the industry raised its prices.

Some suggested industry "hold the line" on the union, others suggested offering the union a pay cut and passing the lower costs along to the consumers by reducing car prices.

PUT ISSUES IN ADS

One letter writer proposed the whole issue be submitted to the American people. He suggested the union and the industry jointly sponsor a series of newspaper ads to put their cases before the nation.

The ads would ask the people if they approved of the UAW's demands and indicate what they would amount to in higher car prices. The people would respond by mailing in a coupon to the newspapers or some official group.

Another letter writer proposed that the industry tell UAW President Walter P. Reuther to dip into the Union's treasury, start his own auto plant and then try and meet all the UAW's demands while still making a profit

* * *

The UAW has received its share of letters, too. The letter writers asked the Union to hold firm in its demands and suggested several areas where the UAW should concentrate its efforts.

One widow of a retired worker urged the Union to press its proposal that pensions be continued for the spouse after a retired worker dies. "There is justice in this request and I hope the company will see that justice," she wrote.

Others told the UAW to insist that the companies not schedule overtime when workers are laid off.

'DEAR WALTER'

One letter writer apparently was confused about who was running one of the auto companies. He opened his letter to the firm with, "Dear Walter Reuther."

Whatever happens in the negotiations it will hit close to home for most people. For one thing, contracts signed here will become the pattern for scores of other companies, many in non-automotive industries.

And the Automobile Manufacturers—a total of 10.5 million—is embusiness in six is automotive and one out of every seven wage earnersa total of 10.5 million— is employed in highway transport industries.

The AMA further said that 22 per cent of all retail sales in the United States are automotive — a total of $45 billion a year.

An average four-lane highway built through a rural area requires about 40 acres of farm land for each mile of completed road

Americans between two and 35 are about two inches taller and five pounds heavier than their counterparts in 1900.

Foreign 'Sister City' to Halt Chaos

BAY CITY (AP)—Do you ever look at the ominous headlines in your newspaper, warning of some new trouble spot in international relations—Cuba, the Congo, Berlin, Bizerte, etc.—and feel you personally have little control over the world's seeming drift toward chaos?

* * *

Bay City is among five Michigan cities and 150 in the United States that are building new roads to world understanding through the people-to-people town affiliation program—also known as "sister city" or "twinning" affiliation.

The plan involves pairing an American city with one overseas for exchange of ideas, good will, information, students, perhaps goodwill ambassadors, and sometimes teachers, white-collar workers, bringing the people of each community in closer contact with the traditions, history and attitudes of the other.

* * *

Under the program, sponsored by the President's Civic People-to-People Committee and American Municipal Association, Bay City has launched "sister city" affiliations with both Mechelen (Malines), ecclesiastical capital of Belgium, between Brussels and Antwerp, and the Bavarian city of Ansbach, home of the famed Bach festival, in West Germany.

REPRESENTS CROSS-SECTION

His MML committee is known as the International Municipal Cooperation Committee.

* * *

Bay City's surprising success in promoting good will across the oceans has won it praise of national officials, including President Kennedy, and Mark Bortman, Boston, Mass., national chairman, has called on it for state leadership in getting more Michigan cities interested.

It has been hinted Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who gave impetus to the "sister city" plan in 1957, will soon take over Bortman's job under appointment by President Kennedy.

* * *

A speakers' bureau will be set up to explain the program to other interested cities, and a state council of affiliated cities founded to expand the "twinnings." On the national level, new affiliations are being made at the rate of one every 10 days, according to George G. Wynne of the U.S. Information Agency. The program has governmental blessing and advice but otherwise is purely voluntary and private. It frowns on use of any taxpayers' monies.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., recently successfully passed in the U.S. Senate a resolution praising people-to-people as a necessary part of the New Frontier movement and urging every city and town in the United States to adopt a "sister city" overseas in carrying out programs of mutual interest.

He also called on state legislatures to act similarly in lending support to expansion of the program throughout the free world.

* * *

A five-day international friendship days festival focused community interest on the project. At a time when nations are stockpiling weapons in rigid posture of cold war and threatened destructive force, here was a living example of peace and amity.

STUDY LANGUAGES

Foreign language studies have been stimulated. Pen-pal relationships have been formed by school children. An operation friendship airlift in October will take about 15 civil leaders to Bay City's "sister cities" on a 17-day tour of Europe.

"Magazines for Friendship" are handed out to foreign sailors calling at the port of Bay City. Interpreters are made available when they run into language problems.

Further information on the program may be had by writing Bay City People-to-People Council, Post Office Box 381, Bay City.

* * *

Kalamazoo several years ago won wide recognition on its affiliation with Fougeres, France. That is now being revived. Detroit recently "adopted" a Japanese city after earlier success in "salute" ceremonies with Rotterdam, Holland. Harper Woods has European "sisters" in Epernay, France, and Ettlingen, West Germany. Saginaw is working on Lapaz, Bolivia.

* * *

"Sister city" affiliations helped to provide relief funds for Chile after its disastrous earthquake, iron lungs to combat a polio epidemic in Japan, a health clinic in Brest, France, and a ward in a community hospital in Mercara, India. One of the tie-ups recalls unhappier days—that of Honolulu and Hiroshima.

* * *

"The movement has spread so rapidly in Japan that city governments have made it a point of civic pride to be the first in their area to obtain an American affiliation," the AMA reports.

A two-way exchange of information has begun to flow on such municipal problems as traffic control, firefighting and control, and zoning, while private companies in "sister cities" have exchanged skilled craftsmen and workers.

ON THE HOOF — Man's best friend is usually his dog, but not for Justin Doak who has a pig named Porkey. Diak is manager of the Missouri Farmers Association hog market in Gallatin, Mo. He started to develop Porkey, a runt to marketable size, but got a leash-trained, pampered pet instead.

HE GREW HAIR

Before Erickson Treatment

A Few Months Later

Mr. T. A. Melton, Jr., of Hollidaysburgh, Pa. (above) gave about 20 minutes of his time for an interview with the Erickson representative—saved and regrew his hair in only a few months with the exclusive home method.

FREE! 3-Day Scalp Clinic in Pontiac Area

Erickson HAIR and SCALP SPECIALISTS

World's Largest Home Treatment System

Will Be in Pontiac, Michigan at the Waldron Hotel, 36 E. Pike — FE 5-6168

Tomorrow, Thursday, August 17, Only

The Erickson Hair and Scalp Specialists' District Director, Mr. T. R. Stonier on his regularly scheduled visit, will be at the Waldron Hotel between 12:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. Every hair-worried person should take advantage of this great opportunity.

The Erickson method is known all over the United States. You can have a conference with the Erickson representative regarding your hair and scalp problems at no cost to you whatsoever, learn how the scalp treatments work, and the results you can expect in a short period of time.

Results guaranteed by the Erickson organization. We don't ask you to take our word. You will be given a written guarantee from the beginning to end on a pro-rated basis.

Hopeless Cases Refused

Erickson Specialists will accept only clients whose hair will respond to treatment. They cannot help individuals who are slick-bald after years of hair loss or in that great majority of cases of baldness, called male pattern baldness, where no treatment including the Erickson method is of any value. Therefore, Erickson will continue their policy of refusing all hopeless cases. The person shown above does not have male pattern baldness.

If you have dandruff, excessive hair fall, thinning hair, excessive oiliness or dryness, itchy scalp, take 20 minutes of your time to see what you can do.

Thousands have reported satisfaction from the Erickson Scalp Method. Why burden yourself with unhealthy hair and scalp? Anyway it costs you nothing to come in and learn how thousands have been helped by the years of Erickson experience plus the wonderful opportunity for help it offers. Just go to the Waldron Hotel in Pontiac on Thursday, August 17 only, between 12:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. Ask the Hotel Desk Clerk for Mr. Stonier. He will do the rest.

Interviews are given in private. You will not be embarrassed in any way.

Honesty Sets Children Apart From Adults

Jesus makes the prerequisite of heaven childlikeness

What is it that the child has which the adult in Jesus' eyes so sadly lacks?

Certainly it is not childish charm. That would be lyricism, something Jesus had nothing to do with. Innocence, perhaps? But the child is not innocent. The Bible is much too realistic to call a child innocent. The "innocent child" is the invention of grownups eager to stake a sentimental claim to the vanished purity of their own childhood.

If it's neither charm nor purity what is it then that Jesus praises in the child? Apparently the exact opposite of the chief (and negative) characteristic of maturity.

* * *

The grownup seeks security and in the process becomes sly and hard. He is afraid and fear abases.

The child, on the other hand, does not yet have the instinct of self-preservation — at least not so strongly. He lives in a world of unruffled trust.

The attitude is no credit to him, for it springs from ignorance rather than virtue. Nevertheless, it is there and engenders an unconscious courage toward existence.

The adult sees everything with an eye to its usefulness, thereby rendering everything unfree. He has intentions and nothing so hampers existence as these which trammel action and falsify vision.

NO INTENTIONS

The child has no intentions. (This is, of course exaggerated. Of course it has intentions, too, as well as fear and everything else that grownups have; for it begins to grow with its first breath!)

Strictly speaking the child too desires this and that, but for Jesus' purpose here, which is to illustrate an idea rather than demonstrate psychology, it is correct to say: The child meets reality as it is with simple acceptance. Therefore, in his presence things can move freely; he permits them to be themselves.

In the adult is much unnaturalness. He does not leave life alone, but instead, he constantly tries to improve it. The result is what is known as culture and has many precious values but values bought with artificiality

By contrast, the child is simple and candid. Its honesty is untried, but it is there, a living reprimand.

The adult is self-centered; he is constantly examining, testing and judging himself.

You Have Problem to Solve

Q: We are planning a reception for our son who is to be confirmed soon and we are confronted with a problem. About a year ago, my husband, my son and I were invited to two different receptions for two of our neighbors' sons who were confirmed.

At that time our son and these two boys were very good friends. However, soon afterwards they had an argument and the relationship between these two boys and my son now consists of nothing more than a nod when they meet.

Our son has made many new friends whom he would like to invite to this reception. Since we are limited as to the number of people we can invite we would like to know if, under the circumstances, it is necessary to invite our neighbors' sons.

We, the parents, are good friends and we will of course invite them to the reception. We are wondering if they would have cause to take offense if we do not invite their sons too. As our son was invited to their parties, are we obliged to invite them to his?

A: Your real obligation will be paid by inviting the parents, but unless they are aware of the estrangement that now exists between their sons and yours, I'm afraid they will take offense if their sons are not invited too.

* * *

Q: When introducing a married woman, is she introduced as Mrs. John Jones or simply Mrs. Jones?

A: If she is one of a large family of Joneses, call her Mrs. John Jones in order to distinguish her from all the other Mrs. Joneses. Otherwise call her Mrs. Jones.

* * *

Q: Can you suggest items other than the usual cuff links or the clips to give as presents to the ushers at my forthcoming wedding?

A. Silver or gold pencil, key ring, belt buckle, bill fold, cigarette case or lighter or any other personal article.

* * *

The clothes of the bride and groom as well as those of their attendants are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet "Clothes of The Bridal Party." To obtain a copy, send ten cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to The Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

* * *

Q: When a boy asks a girl for a date, shouldn't he be specific and say where they are going, such as to the movies, a basketball game, a dance, etc., so that the girl may dress accordingly? Last week a boy asked me for a date but didn't say where we were going. I got all dressed up and when he came to the house he told me that he had two tickets for a basketball game. There was no time to change my dress so I went as I was. I felt very much out of place as everyone else was in sports clothes.

A: When a boy asks a girl for a date he most certainly should tell her where they are going so that she will know what to wear.

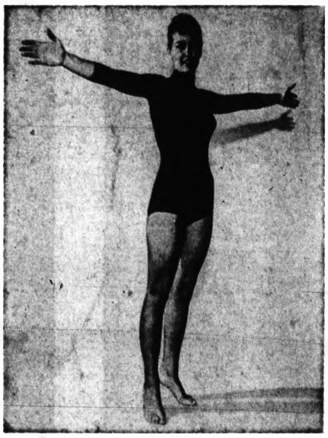
Take a Look in Mirror

Posture Can Be the Culprit



The next time you're describing the one that got away, turn the tale into a beneficial exercise. Bend elbows slightly, swing arms forward and clench fists. Relax fists and pull arms back. This is good for the spine, and that's no fish story.

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

An unusually prominent collar bone spoils the beauty of many a neck. Sometimes this is due to extreme underweight. If you are very thin, you do not have the padding which your heavier sisters have and naturally all of your bones show more. In this instance a gain in weight will help.

* * *

Sometimes a prominent collar bone is simply due to bony structure, like the shape of a kneecap or the bones in your hands. Exercises which develop the muscles of the chest and neck will help some, but you can't change your bone structure.

WORK ON POSTURE

Posture is the culprit more often than you realize. If you slump and allow your shoulders to droop forward, your collar bone is much more noticeable.

Sit in front of a mirror and look at the difference when you droop forward and when you straighten your spine and pull your shoulders back.

This exercise will be helpful. Stand tall. Raise your arms out at your sides, shoulder heights, palms facing forward. Bend your elbows slightly as you swing your arms forward. At the same time clench your fists. Relax fists as you return your arms (straighten elbows) to the side, shoulder-height position. Continue.

CIRCLE WITH HEAD

Another: Stand with your arms hanging at your sides in a relaxed manner. Make circles with your head. Circle first in one direction and then in the other. Do this slowly, trying to make your complete.

If you would like to have my exercises for the neck, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 18. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Men Should Watch for Danger Signals

BY RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Danger signals any husband should learn to recognize and respect:

"I don't think you've heard a word I've been saying." That means your wife is tired of talking to a vacuum and wants a little response to her attempts at conversation.

"Do you realize how long it has been since you've taken me out to dinner?" This means your wife is getting cabin fever, and you had better plan an evening out, or else.

"If you think you've had a hard day . . ." You aren't going to get any sympathy this time because, no matter how bad your day has been your wife has had one that can top it. If you don't want to spend the evening listening to her tale of woe you had better say, "Maybe we ought to take in a movie."

THANK GOODNESS

"Thank goodness you're home." This always means that you have to do something about something. Discipline junior, straighten out a household emergency or take over the children for the evening because their mother has just about had it.

"I've just had the most wonderful idea." On your guard! This is going to be something you aren't going to like, or you wouldn't be getting this kind of effusive build-up before having it sprung on you.

"Now don't say a word until I've told you the whole story." Brace yourself for what's coming. It's going to be bad. Your daughter has smashed the family car. Junior has broken a neighbor's picture window. Or, some of your wife's relatives are moving in with you.

He has danger signals, too. Read Ruth Millett's Booklet, "How to Have a Happy Husband." Send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, c-o The Pontiac Press, P.O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

"Dear Eunice,

"I would appreciate it very much if you would pass along information through your column about cutting a nonreversible, uneven plaid."

Mrs. J. R.

This is the one type of plaid that is best to cut on a single layer of fabric, rather than folded. As with any plaid, you must decide what part of the design will look best for the center front, and then use this throughout the garment.

Don't cut anything out until you have planned where each piece of your pattern will be laid out.

Take each piece of your pattern separately, lay it on your fabric in the correct position, then outline this piece with chalk. This will be your way of knowing just how much you have to work with.

Now, take this same piece of pattern and TURN IT OVER. You must place this piece in the exact place on your fabric so the two will match. Cutting a plaid of this type takes extra time and concentration, but when it is well done, there is nothing to equal it.

Don't overlook the possibility of using part of your plaid on the bias, such as a yoke, or the entire bodice. This makes the most attractive self-trim possible.

MODIFY PATTERNS

"Dear Mrs. Farmer,

"Your column is the most inspirational and needed column to home sewers. You have given me courage to do things I never would have dreamed of doing before.

"I know that it is primarily devoted to sewing techniques, and that's what we need most, but please come to our rescue once in a while on styles. I think there are many women who share my feelings on this.

"I so often choose a pattern and material that just aren't right for me. This brings up my question.

"It seems like all the new patterns are without collar and sleeves. This is not only wrong for my personal needs but I don't think the style does anything for me. Do you suggest style above all?"

Mrs. B. B. E.

You are right! This column actually is devoted to answering the little techniques that take your clothes out of the "home-made" category. However, no matter how beautifully a garment is made, if it lacks that certain "oomph," or if it is not right for you, you have wasted your time and money.

You will always have extremes in fashion, but you must learn to modify these extremes to fit your own personal needs. As to collarless and sleeveless clothes, your age is the most important factor here.

Unless you are under 40, you probably need something to soften the lines of your face and neck. You can use a small collar, ascot filler, and many other details that will give the illusion of the new look.

There are few women who look well in a sleeveless dress. I would suggest a slight cap sleeve for almost everyone.

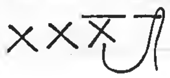
"Dear Eunice,

"From time to time, I have seen the words "catch-stitch" either on patterns or sewing leaflets. Please tell me what this means and where would it be most likely to be used?"

Mrs. C. S.



Catch-stitching is often used for hems, linings, etc. You must work from left to right, catching in a thread of the upper layer of fabric and then catching in a thread of the lower layer of fabric. See illustration.

Can You Swim?

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Feature Writer

If you aren't a good swimmer, you'll be safer if you new sport for teen-agers as well as their parents, is a lot of fun, but there is always the possibility of a mishap.

7$7 As any good sailor can tell you, many accidents are due to carelessness.

* * *

Recently three teenagers who had been warned not to leave a safe area in their 16-foot boat, capsized as they fished in rougher water on Long Island Sound. One was drowned.

* * *

If you are invited for a boat ride, make sure there are life preservers aboard and that the captain takes his navigation job seriously.

CLOWNING BAD

A young man who is borrowing the boat for a day may turn out to be a boating clown. You don't want a hot-rodder piloting you on the waterways. If he doesn't own the craft, insist that an experienced pi- boat is small or large.

An outboard motor presents less difficulty, of course, but the craft's pilot must be on his toes and alert while the boat is moving.

* * *

If you are on a weekend trip with a group, insist that cruising be done in the daytime. Foggy nights are hazardous on the water. Good sailors usually tie up to the nearest port.

* * *

Now if you have the trip all lined up what about your knowledge of nautical terminology?

If you'd assiet the skipper, you'll find these are the most frequently used terms:

* * *

Port . . . The left side of the boat (easy to remember as it has the same number of letters.)

Galley . . . Kitchen to you, girls.

Stern . . . The aft or back of the boat.

Lines . . . Ropes that secure te boat fore and aft when it is moored. You might be asked to grab a line when the boat is coming into dock, and maybe even to jump to the dock bring aboard, also the equipment for the boat.

Late fall vows are planned by Janice Helene Grusnick, daughter of the late Carl Grusnick, to Jack L. Keller of Henry Clay Avenue, son of LaRue C. Keller and Mrs. Joseph D. Jozwick, both of Pontiac.

JANICE HELENE GRUSNICK

Marla Jane Van Decar Weds William C. Haps

Our Lady of Refuge Church, Orchard Lake, was decked with white gladioli and pompons for the Saturday morning nuptials of Marla Jane Van Decar to William C. Haps.

The newlyweds joined their parents, the Ross Van Decars of Farmington and Mr. and Mrs. John C. Haps of LaFay Drive at the wedding breakfast and evening reception in Maplewood Clubhouse, Royal Oak.

* * *

Marvin F. Haps of Garden City was best man for his brother. Charles Whitman, Edwin F. Kast Jr. and Edward Van Decar of Farmington seated the guests.

The couple, presently honeymooning in Northern Michigan, will live in West Bloomfield Township while the bridegroom completes his studies at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

MRS. WILLIAM C. HAPS

Diane Lee Elliott Is Married to Soldier

Blue delphinium, white gladioli and palms adorned the chancel of the First Baptist Church Saturday evening where Dr. H. H. Savage solemnized the vows of Diane Lee Elliott to Spec. 4 Zvonko Ivosic.

The Leonard E. Elliotts of Drayton Plains are parents of the bride and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ante Ivosic of Allen Park.

The bridegroom had William Rusk of Grosse Pointe for his best man. Seating guests were the bride's brother David Elliott, Dennis Willetts and Dennis Golford, both of Allen Park.

MRS. ZVONKO IVOSIC

After a week's honeymoon at a cottage on Lake Erie, the newlyweds will leave for Fort Sill, Okla. where the bridegroom is stationed. Both attended Ferris Institute.

Golden Age Club Planning Dinner

Members of the Golden Age Club will gather Friday at 6:30 p.m. for a potluck dinner at the Community Activities Building on Williams Lake Road.

Juvenile Drinking, Apathy Hit by WCTU

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Juvenile drinkers, their parents and community apathy were targets of speakers at the recent 87th annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

An increasing number of children of 16 or under are being arrested for drunkeness, Jean Hansen, Evanston, Ill. said. She is national general secretary of the Loyal Temperance Legion for Children, 6 to 12 years.

* * *

Miss Hansen asserted there is little point in discussing juvenile drinking and delinquency as a police problem until it is recognized as a problem to be solved by education for prevention in the community, church, school and home.

Irene Long Curtis, also of Evanston, said the mounting drinking and associated arrests among young people accents the need for alcohol education in high school. She said nearly 200,000 boys and girls under 21 were arrested for crimes involving alcohol in 1960.

'MUST TEACH YOUTH'

"Church members, educators, leaders in civic, political, professional and business realms as well as character building organizations must discard apathy and increasingly educate youth in results of drinking."

WCTU President Mrs. Fred J. Tooze said Monday that the "family room has become a barroom, and living a vaudeville performance headlining mother in an irresponsible way of life."

* * *

Mrs. Tooze urged hostesses to serve nonalcoholic beverages only.

The 1,000 delegates passed a resolution urging the government to stop spending money on liquor for diplomatic cocktail parties.

It was announced that thirty-six officers and other leaders of the organization will fly to Hawaii for an eight-day post-convention tour.

Optimists Set Picnic

Pontiac Optimists, their families and guests will meet Sunday at 1 p.m. in the Julian Galan home on Lochaven Road for their annual picnic.

Pony rides, games, swimming, and possible boat rides are planned. Also on the schedule are dancing and singing, a golf driving tee, horseshoe pitching contests, badminton and a baseball game for adults.

In 1959 the village of Fantecolo, Italy, celebrated the 15th anniversary of a local horse.

Beauty Aid Is Costly in France

PARIS (UPI) — Are Frenchwomen as anxious to stay young as American women?

If you look through the current copy of the leading women's magazine in France, the answer is "mais oui," followed by a loud "yes" for good measure.

Exhibit A: an article promising a "forme olympique en bon magique." There are four contraptions which promise this olympic form:

* * *

— Two chains which resemble either dog leashes or the kind of clothes lines apartment dwellers string seven stories up. These are to be fixed to your bedroom wall and you pull at them daily, "to straighten your vertebral column." Cost — 39 francs.

'PAINT ROLLER'

— For nine francs, there's a little gadget that looks like a small edition of a paint roller. And that's exactly what it does — rolls on the paint. It also facilitates "penetration des cremes." But you use it on your face. As efficient as doing a wall.

— Then there's a marvelous thing which looks like 13 empty spools joined at the top and bottom by two chains. This is supposed to "elasticize important parts" of the body. It's used on the hips in the same way a shoe shine boy uses the cloth when he buffs the boots. No price given.

* * *

— Two baseball bats. These are to be swung together, "to give grace to the arms and a lovely carriage to the head." All this for 12 francs, plus taxes. Not tax. Taxes.

If you're interested in any of these items, the line forms on the right at a Champs-Elysees address. But you'll have to allow three weeks for delivery after you pay your francs.

* * *

The evidence of mademoiselles naivete a increased by comparing standards of living. Roughly, a franc means to a Parisienne what a dollar means to a New Yorker or a Californian. For Americans, the exchange is five francs to one dollar, but francs are much harder to earn in France than dollars in America.

Unique Hotel Tycoon Is a Grandmother

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Evelyn Sharp learned the hotel business because her husband liked to know where she was at lunch time.

As a result, the millionaire grandmother sat in on hundreds of business conferences in which her late husband, Jesse Sharp, discussed hotel and real estate management.

"In hotel operation," said Mrs. Sharp in an interview, "you have to know about mortgages, leases, organization and financing."

She smiled as she added, "My husband didn't teach me about these things. I just sat with him at many conferences . . . my husband was 16 years older than I and liked to know where I was at lunch."

Until last week, when she sold three of her four luxury hotels, Mrs. Sharp was a figure unique in the American business world—the only woman owner of a hotel chain. On Wednesday, she announced transfer of title of the Gotham and Stanhope hotels in New York and the Beverly Wilshire, Beverly Hills, Calif., to Webb and Knapp, the realty concern.

She will, however, continue to boss operation of the hotels. And a spokesman for Sharp Hotels, Ltd., said she planned construction now of two more luxury hotels. One would be in the New York metropolitan area; the other, on the West Coast, site not yet designated.

Webb and Knapp paid Mrs. Sharp $25 million for the three, leaving her still owner of the Saranac Inn, Saranac Lake, N.Y. Mrs. Sharp said the 1960 gross income from the four had been in excess of $11 million.

"I think the hotel business is a wonderful field for women," she said. "Hotel keeping and housekeeping have a great deal in common. And women have always understood how to run a home."

The hotel tycoon is a very feminine looking woman with bright blue eyes, graying hair, a penchant for real pearls, French antiques and impressionistic art. She thought it amusing that a painting she purchased 10 years ago was hanging in the bar of the Stanhope and "now is worth enough to do the whole cocktail lounge over."

Mrs. Sharp, a woman in her mid-50s with two children and three grandchildren, has stressed luxury in all her hotel management. Guests have included Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco, the President Kennedy press headquarters prior to his inauguration, Perle Mesta, a long-time friend, and numerous members of the international set.

"We get the kind of travelers who are used to a great deal of service," said Mrs. Sharp. "We meet their trains, planes or ships with liveried chauffeur. Fresh flowers always are in their rooms . . . I do many of the arrangements myself."

The Stanhope, which has more permanent residents than transient (Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, chairman of the board of Eastern Air Lines is one guest), also offers butlers, personal maids, baby sitters and dog walkers.

* * *

Mrs. Sharp, a native of New York, was studying at the Columbia University school of journalism when she met Jesse Sharp. "Love intervened," she said, and ended her potential career in writing.

Her husband at one time owned partial or total interest in 14 New York hotels. When he died in 1941, she sold all interests except those in the Stanhope, which he had built in 1927.

"In 1955 I started reinvesting," she said, "buying ground . . . by 1957, acquiring leases." Then she added as casually as you and I would discuss a dress bargain, "I bought three hotels all in one day." They were the Gotham, Saranac Inn and Beverly Wilshire, with an announced purchase price at the time of $16 million.

Mrs. Sharp recalled walking into the Beverly Wilshire late at night after the purchase. Her plane flight from New York had been delayed several hours.

The desk clerk didn't recognize her and when she asked about reservations, said there was no space.

"I told him there had to be—I'd just bought the place," she laughed.

Shower Fetes Susan Asher

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lee Asher of Waterford Township, and her fiance James O. Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Shaw of Auburn Avenue, plan Aug. 26 vows.

Socialist Party Holds in Israel

Ben-Gurion Loses Four Seats but Mapai Group to Be Mainstay

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion's Socialist Mapai party appeared today to have lost thre or four seats in Parliament but remained the country's dominant party. It will be the mainstay of the next government.

TAXES HIGH

Mapai losses were attributed as much to high taxes and the cost of living as to Ben-Gurion's fight to shut out former Defense Minister Pinhas Lavon from succeeding him when the perennial prime minister finally retires. Ben-Gurion resigned last January and forced the election as a result of the so-called Lavon Affair.

* * *

With half the votes in Tuesday's nationwide election counted, these were the totals so far, and the likely distribution of Knesset seats: Mapai 140,465—43 or 44 seats, down 4 or 3; Liberal 50,740—17 seats, up 3; Herut, extreme right nationalist, 45,455—16 seats, down 1; National Religious Front 40,607—11 seats, down 1; Mapam, leftist labor, 37,384—10 seats, up 1; Communists, 4 seats, up 1.

* * *

The remainder of the seats would be divided among seven minor parties that were registering about 10 per cent of the vote.

The Mapai percentage of the vote dropped from 38.2 in 1959 to 33.9, while the Liberals increased from 10.7 to 13.0. The latter was formed by a merger of the Progressives and the slightly more conservative General Zionist party.

Eye Shelters at Airport

MAU MAU LEADER — Carrying a camera and a ceremonial fly whisk, Jomo Kenyatta, former Mau Mau leader, steps from a police car at this new home in Gatundu, 15 miles from Nairobi, capital of Kenya. Kenyatta was released last weekend after serving a nine-year prison term imposed by British authorities.

1,000 Here From 33 Lands

Ponder Space Riddles

For one thing, they find puzzling evidence that the universe is 20 to 30 million years old, not the young 10 to 11 billions it seemed to be just a couple of years ago.

* * *

And they are finding many lopsided and chaotic galaxies or Milky Ways of stars, each composed of hundreds of billions of stars or suns. Our own sun belongs to the Milky Way, which is only one of billions of galaxies.

GALAXY RUNNING AWAY

One galaxy seems to be running away from us at half the speed of light — zipping 93,000 miles farther away every second—yet it is apparently only half as old as the rest of the universe about us.

New riddles like this seem to be popping up all the time, says Dr. Jon H. Oort of Leiden, Holland, president of the International Astronomical Union.

1,000 ASTRONOMERS

"We can only hope that when we have amassed enough enigmas, the solution may be near," he told about 1,000 colleagues from 33 countries who today began technical discussions on latest research findings in astronomy.

To Hire Task Force to Catch Tax Cheats

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress has voted an extra $23.5 million to catch tax cheats.

The Senate and House Tuesday approved a Treasury-Post Office appropriation bill under which 3,365 new employes will be hired by the Internal Revenue Service. The figure includes an unspecified number of tax agents.

* * *

Chairman J. Vaughan Gary, D-Va., of a House appropriations subcommittee that helped draft the bill, said revenue service officials promised that for every extra dollar spent on more personnel $5 extra would be collected in taxes.

The Treasury has said it loses billions in revenue partly because it lacks the manpower to check thoroughly every return.

Rape and Abductor Story All Big Hoax, She Admits

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—Mrs. Clara Bell Roderick, 23, who admitted her story of being held captive by a rapist for 19 days was a hoax, has been charged by the FBI with furnishing false information.

She said she and her son Buddy, 4, left their home in San Mateo, Calif., because of a bill collector. Originally she told authorities she and the boy were abducted and taken on a terror ride that spanned 19 days and four Western States.

The FBI had entered the case because of her story of a "lean, lanky kidnaper with a crooked nose."

H. O. Hawkins, special agent in charge of the Houston FBI office, said Mrs. Roderick might be returned to Denver for violation probation on a conviction of forging a government check.

Police Tuesday asked Mrs. Roderick to take a lie detector test, explaining it was "routine" since she was the only witness in the alleged kidnaping. It was then that she admitted it was a hoax.

* * *

She told authorities she came to Houston with two men and a woman from Phoenix, Ariz. They had met in Los Angeles. She said she ran away from them because they "cuffed" her around for refusing their demands to go into prostitution.

Capt. Weldon Waycott, head of the Houston police department's homicide division, said Mrs. Roderick made a statement saying she decided to leave her husband Ernest, an unemployed postal worker, because she feared his reaction when he learned she had purchased a typewriter on credit and could not pay for it.

Mrs. Roderick staggered into a Houston motel early Monday and asked that police be called. She then told the abduction story.

* * *

Her husband reported on July 27 that she and Bobby, her son by a previous marriage, were missing.

Lutheran Synod Asked to Drop Missouri Group

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Delegates attending the annual convention of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod Tuesday received a resolution urging termination of relations with the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

A similar proposal was voted down at the 1957 convention. The recommendation was contained in a resolution offered by the floor committee on church union matters.

Vote on the resolution is not expected until the final convention session Thursday.

The resolution, however, states that the Wisconsin synod is "ready to continue our support of joint projects carried on by the Synodical Conference and by groups within the Synodical Conference until we can adjust to the new conditions brought about by the suspension."
