150 S. Viets, 6 Americans Feared Dead in Air Crash

SAIGON (AP) — About 150 South Vietnamese and six Americans are believed to have been killed in the crash of a C130 cargo plane at the Kham Duc Special Forces camp, military spokesmen said today.

The four-engine transport was downed by North Vietnamese fire Sunday as it sought to evacuate South Vietnamese irregulars and their families from the besieged camp, which later fell to the Communists.

The North Vietnamese also downed three other U. S. planes, including another C130, and five helicopters in the attack.

If the 156 deaths are confirmed, the toll would be more than triple the worst previous crash of the Vietnam war and would also exceed the world's worst civilian aviation disaster, the collision of two airliners over New York City on Dec. 16, 1960, in which 130 persons were killed.

CREWMEN ESCAPE

The second C130 lost was just landing to pick up government troops when it was hit by antiaircraft fire. The six American crewmen aboard escaped but the plane was destroyed.

Kham Duc is 350 miles northeast of Saigon, about 30 miles southwest of Da Nang, and 13½ miles from the Laotian border. American B52 bombers continued today to pound the enemy troops around the camp, which was abandoned over the weekend. In the Saigon area, the mopup of Vietcong and North Vietnamese forces ocntinued in the aftermath of the Communist offensive last week, and allied forces reported killing 226 enemy outside the capital yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The C130 in which there was such a large loss of life was shot down Sunday during the removal from Kham Duc of the camp's garrison of civilian irregulars, their families, the U.S. Green Beret troops who led them and South Vietnamese army troops stationed there.

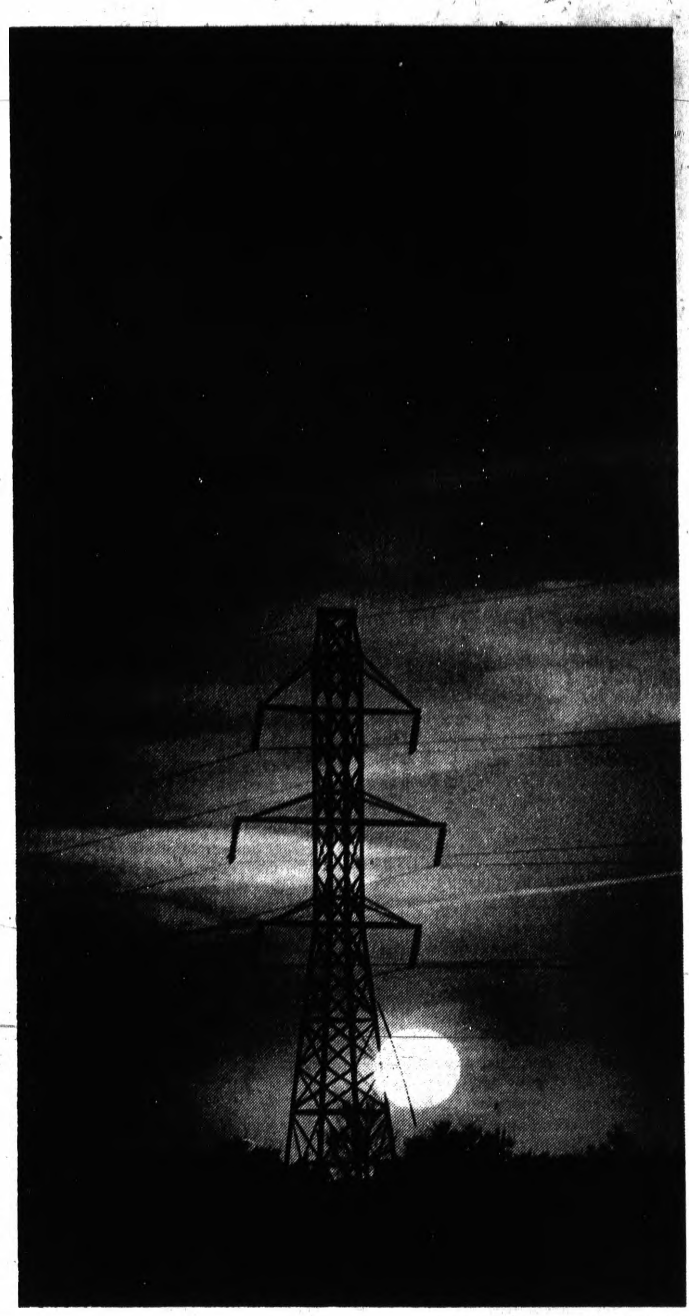

"The best we can figure is that it was a full load," said one U.S. source. "We figure a full load of South Vietnamese on a C130 is about 150 persons. There seem to be no survivors."

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Command announced earlier that the plane's six American crewmen and an unknown number of South Vietnamese were killed. Other Americans could have been aboard, but it was believed most or all of the passengers were Vietnamese.

★ ★ ★

Loan Shark Raid Nets 5

VITO GIACALONE ANTHONY GIACALONE

GROSSE POINTE (AP) — Five men — including at least two purported Mafia leaders — were arraigned today in Grosse Pointe Municipal Court on charges stemming from what Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley described as "a large-scale loan shark racket."

All five were charged with conspiracy to extort, which carries a maximum penalty of 20 years in prison.

All stood mute and were released on bonds ranging from $2,500 to $10,000 to await preliminary examination.

Kelley identified the men as Anthony Giacalone, 49, and Vito (Billy) Giacalone, 45, brothers, of Grosse Pointe Shores; Bernie Marchesani, 44, of Roseville; James Karalla, 34, and Clarence Stephan, 42, both of Detroit.

Kelley said the five were arrested today as the result of a six-month investigation by his organized crime division into a large-scale loan shark racket.

The Giacalone brothers have been identified as alleged Mafia connection in U.S. Senate Rackets Committee testimony.

★ ★ ★

Named as a coconspirator with the five was Robert Dunaway, 37, who was charged with murder in the slaying of Sam Dimaggio, 57, of Sterling Township.

Three other men previously were charged in the murder of Dimaggio, who was taken from his home and beaten to death.

'LOAN SHARK VICTIM'

Dimaggio was described by police as a loan shark victim.

Dunaway, a Detroit bar owner, was found murdered last week in Atlanta, Ga. His body was found in the trunk of a parked car with license plates tracked back to Detroit.

The five were rounded up in a dawn raid by members of the attorney general's criminal investigation staff, State Police, Sterling Township police and Grosse Pointe detectives.

Kelley said the investigation is continuing and more arrests are expected.

The attorney general said the loan shark racket involved loans made at a rate of anywhere from 1 to 5 per cent a week interest.

Five Hurt in Detroit March

DETROIT (AP) — Five persons in the Midwest contingent of the Poor People's March on Washington were injured yesterday — none seriously — as Detroit mounted police moved into a group of about 100 protesting police efforts to remove a stalled automobile.

The injuries came as a dozen of the horsemen reportedly rode into a group of about 15 marchers — including Milwaukee civil rights leader Father James Groppi — in front of Detroit's Cobo Hall.

A march leader, Abraham Rice of Chicago, said he had been ordered by police to move the stalled communications car, equipped with a public address system.

When police tried to move in with a tow truck to remove the car, he ordered a group of marchers to surround it.

Then, Rice said, police moved in with clubs swinging.

About 1,000 marchers, visibly angered by the incident, returned by bus to an inner city church "to sit and talk shop about what we're going to do."

About 200 police reinforcements quickly arrived, but they stood back while Southern Christian Leadership Conference marshals moved marchers back inside Cobo Hall.

★ ★ ★

The crowd at the downtown rally dwindled from maximum strength of about 3,500 to about 1,000 when some of the march participants began tearing legs from folding tables to use as makeshift weapons. Marshals persuaded them to drop the table legs and there were no further incidents

SURPRISE VISIT

Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh paid a surprise visit to the marchers as they gathered outside Blessed Sacrament Cathedral for a march down Woodward Avenue to Cobo Hall.

★ ★ ★

"I hope your campaign has an impression on the Congress," Cavanagh said. A spokesman for the marchers said "this is the first time we have willingly been given some kind of recognition by officials."

OFFICIAL WELCOME—Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh talks with Abraham (Barracuda) Rice, Chicago leader of the Poor People's March, as its Midwest contingent prepared to march to Cobo Hall last night. The army major's rank Rice wears on his lapels identifies him as a march leader. "I hope your campaign has an impression on Congress," Cavanagh said.

Paris Diplomats Face Big Task

PARIS (AP) — The first positions taken by the United States and North Vietnam in the Paris cease-fire talks suggest that only the patient, skillful diplomacy of compromise can eventually bring peace to the war ravaged provinces of Vietnam. France likely will have a critical go-between role to play.

★ ★ ★

On the surface, the first exchange between Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Ambassador Xuan Thuy produced a solid deadlock. They disagreed totally on new moves to scale down the fighting. But neither delegation seems to accept this deadlock as final; it is regarded rather as a start toward bargaining.

★ ★ ★

The two positions on this and other issues were staked out at Monday's opening session in a 4,000-word speech in Vietnamese by Xuan Thuy and an 1,800-word speech by Harriman. Thuy spoke first at Harriman's suggestion.

After three hours of speechmaking and translations in the International Conference Center's grand salon, Harriman reluctantly agreed to the North Vietnamese proposal to skip a meeting today and hold the second session tomorrow morning.

★ ★ ★

Xuan Thuy said there should be time to consult with the governments back home. U.S. officials speculated that he wanted to give leaders in Hanoi time to study Harriman's statement and send new instructions if they thought it necessary.

Sales Period Tops for Pontiac Div.

Pontiac Motor Division today reported sales of 41,011 for the May 1-10 period, the highest 10-day total for the division in the 1968 model year.

According to Thomas L. King, Pontiac's general sales manager, it also marked only the fourth time in the division's 42-year history that sales have exceeded 41,000 for any 10-day period.

★ ★ ★

"We are extremely pleased with our dealers' sales performance. Our optimistic outlook for a seventh consecutive record year has been bolstered by a rejuvenated economy and a new wave of consumer confidence," King said.

Since the first of the year, a total of 324,507 1968 models have been sold. This compares to 298,644 in the same period last year.

Rain May Linger Until Tomorrow

The weatherman predicts showers beginning today will continue until late tonight or early tomorrow morning. The afternoon will be partly cloudy with temperatures warm, the high in the 70s.

The low is expected to register 50 to 54 tonight.

★ ★ ★

The outlook for Thursday is partly cloudy and a little cooler.

Morning winds southeasterly at 15 to 25 miles per hour will become southwest to west tonight.

★ ★ ★

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today 70, tonight 60 and tomorrow 40.

A mild 48 was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. the mercury stood at 56.

AFL-CIO Is Ready to Suspend UAW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO is ready to suspend Walter Reuther's big United Auto Workers union in an historic labor split that could spell trouble for the White House bid of Hubert H. Humphrey.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, who founded the 14-million-member labor federation with Reuther 13 years ago, said Monday the UAW will be suspended if it doesn't pay up back dues by tomorrow. This is an unlikely prospect in view of the vote by the 1.5-million-member UAW to stop monthly dues payments.

★ ★ ★

"This is not an expulsion, it is a withdrawal" by the UAW, Meany said. Referring to Reuther, Meany said, "He's taking this method of withdrawing."

In Detroit, UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock said his union will not seek to halt the threatened suspension.

'JUST AS GLAD'

"I'm just as glad the AFL took this position," he said without elaboration. The imminent suspension climaxes a two-year fight between Meany and Reuther.

It also appears certain to further fracture organized labor's once united political front into partisan camps pitting supporters of Vice President Humphrey supporters against backers of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The 73-year-old Meany is committing the giant labor federation's total political support to Humphrey.

Reuther, 60, is reported leaning toward Kennedy.

Meany concedes the AFL-CIO can't deliver a bloc labor vote, and the schism with Reuther is believed likely to further the straying of many younger union members toward the political camps of Kennedy or Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn.

Meany said he had no choice under the AFL-CIO's constitution, which Reuther helped write, but to declare the Auto Workers suspended for falling three months behind in dues effective tomorrow.

Humphrey Asks Firm Peace Try

LANSING (AP) — Vice President Hubert Humphrey told the Michigan Legislature today that "soft and sentimental politics" are dangerous while the war continues in Vietnam.

In remarks to a joint legislative session, the Democratic presidential contender said, "So long as there is war or the threat of war, there is special need for the hardest and most responsible searching for the elusive answer to mankind's most insistent dream—which is peace."

★ ★ ★

Humphrey, who flew into Lansing's rainy Capital City Airport and later met Republican Gov. George Romney in his office, also told the Legislature that a favorite goal of Romney's — federal-state revenue sharing — requires "a long and careful look."

"Tax sharing is not a panacea," Humphrey said. "It should not be oversimplified. It is worth serious consideration and thorough debate, and I propose to add it in the dialogue of the next few months."

★ ★ ★

Romney, a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination until his withdrawal Feb. 29, long has called for the federal government to return part of its tax revenues to the states without earmarking.

Open-Housing Debate Set to Resume Today

LANSING (AP) — With more than 60 amendments pending to the controversial, Senate-passed open housing bill, the House was expected to take up the issue again late today.

★ ★ ★

Three weakening amendments to the measure were defeated yesterday, but one change would have the bill outlaw racial or religious discrimination in sale or rental of all but a few types of housing. Notably exempted would be rental of rooms in a private house occupied by the owner.

★ ★ ★

Beaten back yesterday as the House took up the housing bill were proposals to exempt all one-family houses (defeated 17-59), homes owned by the same person at least five years (44-44) and homes sold or rented without the aid of realtors or units in buildings designed for four or fewer families, including the owner (40-42).

★ ★ ★

"I don't think if someone owns a home —and I don't care if it's five days or 50 years—that we should write into this bill that he has a right to discriminate," said Rep. Melvin De Stigter, R-Hudsonville, chairman of the House Civil Rights Committee which reported out the bill.

'THIS IS MICHIGAN'

Rep. George Edwards, D-Detroit, called on members to "realize that this is the 20th century and that this is Michigan and not South Africa."

Approved 50-39 was an amendment stating that in any bias proceeding before the State Civil Rights Commission, the person accused in the complaint would be guaranteed all rights, privileges and safeguards that he would enjoy in a criminal proceeding.

★ ★ ★

Any amendment put on the bill during the current general orders debates — which feature unlimited debate and non-roll call votes—could be challenged when the measure is moved into position for final action, probably later this week.

In that case, it would take 55 votes in the 109-member chamber to uphold the amendments previously made. At the same time, any amendment defeated on general orders may be reoffered later.

ANNUAL INCREASES

The House also approved bills allowing annual pay increases for county drain commissioners, requiring delegates to county fall political conventions to receive at least three election votes, increasing probate court power to detain juveniles over 15, and transferring the Highway Department's weightmaster division to the State Public Service Commission.

★ ★ ★

In the Senate, a controversial court reorganization bill was advanced to third reading following brief debate on several amendments.

★ ★ ★

Other bills advanced to final stage in the upper chamber included a measure calling for a statewide referendum on Nov. 5 to decide whether the state should issue $335 million bonds to finance sewage treatment plants and other water pollution abatement facilities.

★ ★ ★

The upper chamber also passed to third reading a bill designed to improve tenant's and landlord's rights, require motorcyclists to wear crash helmets and for registration of snowmobiles.

HAROLD M. PROVIZER

Detroit Attorney Seeks Election to OCC Board

A Detroit attorney is one of 13 candidates who will be on the June 10 ballot for Oakland Community College Board of Trustees. Three people will be elected to six-year terms.

Harold M. Provizer, 32, of 20690 Winchester, Southfield, is the senior partner in a law firm which specializes in labor law and personal injury litigation.

He began his law career after graduating from Wayne State University Law School in 1960.

A native of Detroit who came to Southfield two years ago, Provizer is a member of the Kiwanis and Southfield Jaycees in addition to several law associations. He is married.

His statement:

"I believe in a community school. It is our responsibility in Oakland County to see that the school serves the purposes of the Oakland County students who for varied reasons find it impossible financially or scholastically to attend one of our big state universities.

"Secondly, I believe in continued growth of the school both in quantity and quality of education offered.

"It is the responsibility of the school to make itself available to the county for communitywide educational purposes

"In Oakland County, a community college should mean a strong positive tie with education."

Area Man Dies in 1-Car Crash

An Ortonville man was killed early today when the car he was driving careened off a utility pole on M15 north of Granger Rd.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said Joseph L. Koslowski, 55, of 35 S. Harrin died about 3:45 a.m.

★ ★ ★

Koslowski apparently lost control of his vehicle on a curve and ran off to the right, striking the pole, deputies said.

The car then crossed the road to the left, rammed into a creek bank some 500 feet from the utility pole and flipped over, according to investigators.

Japan Bars U.S. Nuclear Subs

TOKYO (AP) — Japan has asked the United States to keep its nuclear submarines away until investigators clear up suspicions that one of them contaminated the waters of a Japanese port.

Chief Cabinet Secretary Toshio Kimura said today the request was made yesterday, the day after the government scientists said the submarine Swordfish may have caused a radioactivity count 10 to 20 times higher than normal in the waters of Sasebo, site of a U.S. naval base in southern Japan.

★ ★ ★

The scientists added that the reported radioactivity count was far below the danger level for humans, but initial reports of the possible contamination already have set off new demands from the Socialist opposition that U.S. nuclear-powered ships be barred from Japan.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Embassy declined to comment on Kimura's statement, but the U.S. State and Navy Departments said earlier they were satisfied that the Swordfish was not responsible for the increase in radioactivity.

The submarine was at Sasebo, 550 miles southwest of Tokyo, May 2-11 for a rest and recreation leave for the crew. The Japanese nuclear specialists took their radioactivity reading May 6.

The State Department said three investigators from the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission would arrive in Japan tomorrow to help the Japanese scientists investigate the cause of the increased radioactivity.

The Japanese government welcomed the assistance but stressed that Japan will be "solely responsible for whatever conclusion is to be reached."

Naotsugu Nabeshima, director of the government's Science and Technology Agency, told newsmen: "We have repeatedly examined the situation in Sasebo, and as of now the only conceivable factor is the Swordfish. We must determine how the high readings were recorded, and for this we needed the U.S. cooperation."

CWA Dissidents Agree to Mail Vote

DETROIT (AP)—Representatives of the Communications Workers of America and two of its balking local unions agreed yesterday on the international's polling members of the locals by mail on a new three-year contract the locals previously rejected.

U.S. District Judge Thomas P. Thornton then adjourned until June 4 a request by the two locals for an injunction to prohibit a second polling of their members.

CWA has ordered members of Local 4000 of Detroit and 4016 of Warren to cast ballots anew by Friday midnight, with the results to be certified Sunday midnight by a public accounting firm.

Both locals originally voted against fitting to Michigan Bell Telephone Co. CWA's national settlement with the Bell system.

Local 4000 represents some 5,300 CWA members and 4016 some 2,500.

A hearing on the request for injunction had been set for Monday, but Judge Thornton called attorneys for both sides into his chambers and asked them to try to work out their differences, saying he would act if they failed to do so.

Session on Map, Zoning Law Set

City commissioners will continue a public hearing on the city's proposed new zoning ordinance and zoning map at tonight's meeting in City Hall at 8.

Changes in zoning in the city in line with actual or expected development, officials said.

This is the first major change of the map and ordinance since 1938, they said.

The Pontiac Press carried a special supplement April 26 detailing all the proposed changes.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, the commission is scheduled to:

★ ★ ★

- Consider authorizing transfer of the city health department to the Oakland County payroll.
- Authorize parking rates for the parking mall which will be created—starting Monday — on North Saginaw between Huron and Pike.
- Consider selling city-owned land at the southeast corner of Featherstone and East Boulevard—the city's former incinerator — for development of a nursing home.

Birmingham

Refrigeration, Heat Codes Are Revised

BIRMINGHAM—City Commission last night gave its approval to changes in the city's reciprocal refrigeration and heating ordinance. Building permit fees also were hiked.

The revamp follows the model codes of the Reciprocal Refrigeration Council and the Reciprocal Heating Council, according to building department official Harold C. Weber.

★ ★ ★

Included in the approved amendments was one establishing a board of building trades appeals, the official body for hearing appeals on permit requirements.

The board, to be appointed soon, will include contractors from each of the building trades, an architect and, as an ex-officio member, the building department head.

BIG FEE HIKE

The new scale of permit fees will result in an average fee hike of 88 per cent.

Weber recommended the new scale because, he said, the building department must be subsidized from the general tax fund as the fees presently stand. He also noted that fees are generally lower in Birmingham than in other municipalities.

The new rate structure, based on an average $40,000 single-family residence, calls for increases of 54 per cent for the building permit, 10 per cent for the electric permit, 116 per cent for the plumbing permit, 135 per cent for the heating permit and 100 per cent for the air conditioning permit.

In other business, the commission approved, with reservations, the Oakland County Board Commission's plan for the paving and grading of Cranbrook Road from Lincoln to 14 Mile.

GRADE TO BE RAISED

City Engineer William T. Killeen reported that the plans include raising the grade a maximum of seven feet south of Lincoln, a maximum nine-foot raise for the low area north of 14 Mile, and grade-lowering of a maximum of six feet south of Northlawn.

"Cranbrook Road will be considerably higher than the existing roadway along the Bloomfield Art Association (BAA) lot," Killeen noted, "making access virtually impossible to the parking lot at the existing entrance location."

The county commission has agreed to construct a new entry to the BAA lot, but two other problems remain, Killeen said. One involves the cut which would be made along Cranbrook north of the BAA building line.

As proposed, the county plan would result in a "rather abrupt" ridge running north and south along Cranbrook, the city engineer said. However, he continued, grading further west from the road could alleviate the problem

ANOTHER PROBLEM

The other difficulty, a city matter, involves the water main along Cranbrook, which might have to be replaced at a different level because of the changes in grade, Killeen said.

The city engineer recommended that a plan for replacement of the main be prepared.

The Commission also received a report from A. P. Blethen, superintendent of the department of public works, on possible improvement of the BAA parking lot.

'POOR' BASE

Blethen recommended that the "poor" base material of the lot be removed and replaced, and that double sealcoat be applied. He estimated cost for the entire operation at $820.

The commission directed the administration to report on the possibility of permanently paving the lot instead.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Firemen began evacuating families from their homes in Little Rock today when a creek that runs through the southern portion of the city spilled out of its banks and threatened residents of low lying areas.

Area School Head Quits

The Huron Valley Board of Education last night accepted the unexpected resignation of Supt. Truman Owens.

Owens and the school board have had public differences — mostly over matters of school district finances.

★ ★ ★

The resignation was accepted by a 4-1 vote with only Harry Porter voting no. Porter described the Owens' resignation as "the biggest catastrophe the school system has ever had." He did not elaborate.

Owens said his reason for resigning is that he has accepted "an attractive offer of another position."

Owens added that he can't reveal details until later this week when the other school district will announce his employment.

The 43-year-old superintendent said he accepted his new job last Tuesday. It will necessitate his moving from his present residence at 1532 Pruit, Highland Township, he said.

★ ★ ★

Owens has been superintendent three years and had signed a three-year contract last June.

The superintendent was asked last night by presiding President Carlos C. Trask III to seek the advice of the Oakland Schools regarding filling the vacancy.

Waterford OKs Fire Pumper, Station Site

The Waterford Township Board last night agreed to advertise for bids for a new 1,000-gallon-a-minute pump truck for the fire department.

It also authorized the township attorney to complete the purchase of a $5,000 fire station site at Elizabeth Lake and Hospital roads.

The new pumper is expected to cost about $25,000.

In other business, the board decided to inform the board of education that the township wants to assume control of the recreation department by July 1, if possible.

Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson was the lone dissenter in the 5-1 vote.

The recreation department has been jointly financed by the township and school district since 1951, according to a spokesman.

The board approved exchange of three pieces of property with the school district.

★ ★ ★

The township will get land on the Mott High School site, on Pontiac Lake Road near Scott Lake Road, for a fire station site.

The school distirct will get part of the Optimist Park property and a parcel of land adjacent to Monteith School.

Also last night, the board rehired former assistant planner Curtis Rossow to the same position at an annual salary of $9,000.

Concurring with negative recommendations from the Township Planning Commission and the Oakland County Coordinating Zoning and Planning Committee, the board denied two rezoning requests last night.

Rejected were requests to rezone land on M59 at Paulsen from general business (C2) to multiple dwelling (R2) for apartments and land at Hatchery and Dixie from (C2) to extensive business (C3), with special approval for a storage lot for building materials.

The board approved three lot split requests, one each in Jayna Heights Subdivision, Waterford Lake Estates and Eyster's Woodhull Lake Estates. The applicants, respectively, were David W. Zuehlke, Rudy Mazza and Eugene Scott.

FIRST NOTICES

First notices were read on a request to transfer a Clsss C liquor license from Felicity Wyrick to Edward McIntyre at 2585 Dixie and another to rezone property on M59 from local business (C1) to (C2) for a travel trailer sales business.

Action on the two requests is expected at next Monday's board meeting.

Wolverine Lake Files Petitions of Incorporation

WOLVERINE LAKE — Petitions proposing cityhood for this village and part of neighboring Commerce Township were filed yesterday with the Oakland County clerk.

They must remain on file for 30 days, according to law, before any action can be taken on them. Most likely, they will be put before the boundaries committee of the Board of Supervisors sometime in June.

★ ★ ★

The petitions bear more than the required number of signatures (100). Signatures number about 110 from the village and 18 from the township, estimated Village Manager Clifford Cottrell.

A township citizen residing on land included in the petition said he intends to form a group opposing cityhood. Earl St. Eubin, an electrician, of 1934 Glengary, expressed his disapproval of the petition at the Village Council meeting last night.

MEETING SUGGESTED

He invited Cottrell to meet with him. The village manager has said he is open to the suggestion.

St. Eubin also reported that he circulated leaflets last week urging township residents not to sign the petitions.

★ ★ ★

Circulating the petitions last weekend were Cottrell, head of the village citizens committee promoting incorporation, and other committee members, Mrs. Eugene Adair, Mrs. Jack Miller, Duane Stankiewicz and councilman Robert Cohn.

The township area considered for cityhood is about four square miles to the north, west and southwest of the village.

It comprises about 500 residents. The village population is about 3,000.

Bloomfield Twp. Asks 2.7 Mills for Public Safety

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The township board last night voted to ask citizens for a 2.7-mill increase in property taxes for public safety.

The increase, to be voted upon in the state primary election Aug. 6, would raise total millage for public safety to 5.5 mills. Present levy is 2.81 mills, according to William Maloney, township assessor.

★ ★ ★

Maloney said the present tax being levied for all purposes is 7.16 mills.

Of that amount, he said, 1.43 is for the township library, 1.01 for roads .5 for drains, and 1.41 for other expenditures under the county allocation system.

CRIME INCREASE

Township Supervisor Homer Case, in recommending that the board approve the request, cited a sharp increase in crime in the township, noting a 13 per cent rise in break-ins reported in April alone.

Case said the extra millage would increase the township's public safety income by $629,417. Added to the $652,029 expected from this year's levy, it would give the township nearly $1.3 million for public safety.

★ ★ ★

With that amount of revenue, Case said, the township would be able to increase personnel in both the police and fire departments.

"I feel that it's especially urgent that we have more personnel in the traffic division, and write more tickets," he commented.

YOUTH PERSONNEL

The supervisor added that an increase in personnel is also needed in the youth division.

The new revenue would also free money from other sources presently being used to provide for public safety, Case said.

Missionary Meet Set

AVON TOWNSHIP — Ridgecrest Baptist Women's Missionary Union will meet at 7:30 tonightt at the church, 1184 Harding.

HISTORIC TRIP—Six area youngsters were among those sightseeing at Gettysburg, Pa. over the weekend as part of the Automobile Club of Michigan's annual safety patrol trip. Davis is holding a plaque presented to him by the Michigan patrol delegation for 33 years of service.

Scholarship Fund Is Established for Superintendent

SOUTH LYON — A college scholarship fund named after retiring South Lyon Schools Supt. Frank Bartlett is accepting contributions at the State Savings Bank here.

The scholarship will be given starting this year or next to a South Lyon graduate planning to attend Eastern Michigan University.

The 65-year-old superintendent will also be honored at a tea and open house May 26 at 2 p.m. in the high school gymnasium. A short recognition program will follow at 3 p.m.

The public is invited to attend the affair sponsored by the PTO and PTA organizations and the Lions Club.

DAY PROCLAIMED

The same day has been proclaimed Frank Bartlett Day in South Lyon by the city's mayor

Bartlett has been superintendent of South Lyon Schools 22 years. He has seen the district grow from 750 students to the current 2,750 enrollment.

Budget Hearing Tonight

Walled Lake Eyes Tax Hike

WALLED LAKE — This city's proposed budget incorporates a four-mill increase in property taxes to be added to the present 10.5 mills. Council can levy up to 20 mills without asking a vote.

A public hearing on the budget, effective July 1, is tonight at 8 at the City Hall. Also on the agenda is the adoption of the water ordinance.

★ ★ ★

The proposed budget lists revenues and expenditures at $326,967, up from last year's $244,897.

★ ★ ★

Each mill should bring in $11,771, said City Manager Royce Downey. One mill of the additional four is to cover increased costs due to inflation, Downey explained.

NOTE RETIREMENT

The remaining three mills is for the retirement of $30,000 worth of tax anticipation notes.

"It's a tight budget from the standpoint of operating," asserted Downey.

★ ★ ★

Most increases in expenditures are due to wage hikes, seen in the general fund allotment of $264,247 as compared to $192,287 last year.

The across-the-board salary increase amounts to about $1,000 each for employes other than supervisors.

OTHER PAY HIKES

The city manager is slated for an increase of $500, for a salary of $9,600. The salary of the police chief went up $700 to $9,100.

The superintendent of public works is up $300 to a total of $7,800; and the clerk-treasurer up $500 to $7,600. The salary of the chief of the volunteer fire department is to remain the same at $500.

★ ★ ★

Other budget increases proposed are roads, from $36,750 last year to $45,000 this year; library, $11,310 to $12,770; and water department, $3,725 to $4,125.

A major increase in revenues includes $9,400 from the state income tax.

WATER SYSTEM TAB

The council is also to consider adoption of the ordinance setting up financing for the citywide water system.

The contract between the city and the Oakland County Department of Public Works for the construction of the system was signed Friday, Downey said.

Walled Lake School Slates Careers Day

WALLED LAKE—Tomorrow is Countdown to Careers day for 384 freshmen at C. H. Smart Junior High School.

Nearly 70 representatives of various occupations will describe their fields. Special addresses will be made by Lester Carlson, the district's director of vocational education, and John Nance, personnel assistant for the S. S. Kresge Co.

Teacher Plans a School Free From Frustration

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — An educator who has found teaching under usual conditions frustrates young students has begun a school of her own.

The venture is called the Leeward Foundation and it plans a school on seven acres on the south side of 14 Mile, one-third of a mile east of Middle Belt.

★ ★ ★

Its director is Mrs. Howard W. Lee, of 1620 Midland, Royal Oak, presently a third grade teacher at Ferndale Elementary School.

The school is named after its founder and a basic concept of its origin. That is, to ward off or shield students from "the frustrations in most schools," so they can learn better, said Mrs. Lee. Frustrations include report cards and grade levels, she explained.

APPLICATIONS TAKEN

Mrs. Lee is now taking applications in anticipation of the Fall opening of her school.

She is planning on about 30 pupils age 5 to 9 to be taught in two structures similar to the portable classrooms area schools use.

One building will be for music classes. The other is for the usual eelmentary classes, including fine arts and science, Mrs. Lee said.

Teaching staff will include Mrs. Lee, another academic teacher, and one music teacher.

'MUSIC ALL AROUND'

She explains why music will be offered: "Music is all around us, and children need an appreciation of it."

Mrs. Lee envisions the Leeward Foundation as unique in several ways besides its music program.

★ ★ ★

Each pupil will have his own curriculum, planned by the three teachers.

Letter grades will be replaced by conferences between parents and teachers and constant teacher evaluation of pupils. The pupil-teacher ratio is expected to be 1-12.

NO GRADE LEVELS

Grade levels will be eliminated, but the school will use the common academic tests as other schools, said Mrs. Lee.

Mrs. Lee also puts much stress on nature studies, adding that she will leave untouched some of the land around the school buildings.

★ ★ ★

Plans include the possibility of a swimming pool, gymnastics classes and a science building said Mrs. Lee, who began the foundation in August 1966.

Installation Dinner Tomorrow for Troy Business Women

TROY—The Troy Business and Professional Women's Club will hold its annual installation dinner at Howard Johnson's Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge, 1114 W. 14 Mile, Madison Heights, tomorrow at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Eula Funk, state expansion chairman of the Business and Professional Women's Club, will install the new officers of the Troy group.

★ ★ ★

Officers are Mrs. Dewey Bennett, president; Mrs. Edmund Craig, first vice president; Miss Jeanne Stine, second vice president; Mrs. Walter Burnard, recording secretary; Mrs. Aruella Bayliss, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. George Snooks, treasurer.

Mrs. David Gratopp will be chairman for the evening.

Independence Sets Meetings on Sewer, Water

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—Two public meetings to inform residents of plans and costs for the township's proposed water and sewer program are slated at 7 tonight and tomorrow at Clarkston Senior High School.

Township financial and engineering consultants along with the township board are expected to make public the provisions of an ordinance now under consideration.

★ ★ ★

It is expected to set up deadlines and a schedule of payments for the new services, and will regulate the use of a lateral system to be ready for use when the Clinton - Oakland Interceptor is complete sometime early in 1970.

The meetings tonight and tomorrow will be identical, according to Clerk Howard Altman. They will provide two opportunities for people to familiarize themselves with future plans for the township.

Fire Risks Cut by Safety Inspection

The Pontiac Fire Department will launch an extremely worthwhile project Monday when it urges residents to have their homes safety inspected by fire department personnel.

MARION

The voluntary home fire safety inspection program is scheduled to last two weeks. During that time, any resident may call or write the fire department requesting an inspection of his home.

★ ★ ★

It's an educational program aimed at preserving life and property by pointing out to home owners any fire hazards which might unknowingly exist in their homes.

Hopefully, the drive will reduce house fires in Pontiac by at least 50 per cent, according to Fire Chief CHARLES MARION. As a by-product, it will provide firemen with a working knowledge of the city.

Firemen are also offering window stickers for use in homes where there is an invalid. The stickers are designed to be used in such a way as will aid firemen in locating and evacuating an immobilized person from a burning structure.

★ ★ ★

The Press urges Pontiac residents to take full advantage of the safety inspection program, and we congratulate our fine department for the job it has done and the foresight it has shown in launching such a program.

Mrs. Benjamin H. Anibal

It has been truly said that behind every successful man there stands a good woman.

Mrs. BENJAMIN H. ANIBAL whose recent death saddened a host of friends and acquaintenances well filled that supporting role during the two decades her husband served the Pontiac Motor Division as chief engineer until his retirement in 1947.

The gracious gentlewoman nonetheless found expression of her own interests through active participation in a diversity of social, ecclesiastic and recreational organizations.

Her benefactions were many, and for the most part unpublicized. One, however, that stands as a monument to her generosity is Anibal House at Oakland University, a woman's dormitory made possible by a joint donation of the ANIBALS.

★ ★ ★

In going to her reward, Mrs. ANIBAL left an inspirational and exemplary record of personal fulfillment and humanitarianism.

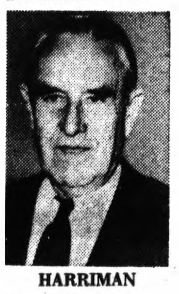

United States Ably Represented at Vietnam Talks

It would be difficult to choose two abler and more competent men than W. Averell Harriman and Cyrus R. Vance to act as this Nation's representatives at the Vietnam talks in Paris.

To print their complete biographies and do justice to their accomplishments and services to the United States would take an entire editorial page. But at least a brief summary can be given.

★ ★ ★

Harriman, 76, ambassador-at-large in the Johnson administration, former governor of New York and one-time presidential hopeful, has been associated with the Government in various roles for some four decades, beginning with advisory and ambassadorial posts in Franklin D. Roosevelt's presidency.

HARRIMAN

Vance, 51, came to Washington in 1957 as a special counsel for Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's Senate Preparedness Investigating Committee. Kennedy appointed him general counsel in the Pentagon, then Secretary of the Army, then deputy defense secretary, in which capacity he was sent to Panama during the anti-American riots in 1964 and to the Dominican Republic during the mini-revolution there in 1965.

VANCE

The negotiations with North Vietnam may be the most difficult assignment either man has ever been given. Even the most optimistic believe that a long, frustrating and discouraging road lies ahead before the discussions in Paris develop into or lead to anything deserving the label of peace talks.

The mission will require skill, experience, toughness, durability and wisdom — all of which qualifications both men have demonstrated time and again that they have in abundance.

Alabama GOP Has Growing Pains

By RAYMOND MOLEY

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — The origins of a new Republican party in the South may generally be dated in the 1960 Presidential election, when Richard Nixon received a very considerable vote in the growing cities and more enlightened parts of those states.

MOLEY

Encouraged by that showing, a group emerged and vigorously and hopefully worked to build a real opposition party down to the grass-roots.

★ ★ ★

But since the election in 1966 there has been a certain amount of tension in the Alabama Republican party. State Chairman John Grenier and James D. Martin now emerge as rival candidates for the office of national committeeman and are waging a contest which will continue until the state convention in June.

This is not just a clash of personal ambitions. It involves a serious question of policy which may face other states in the South as the 1968 election approaches.

RACE ISSUE

Ever since 1962 the Republican Party in Alabama has avoided the issue of race. It regarded that conflict as a Democratic problem and in its appeals has stressed individual enterprise, sound fiscal management in Washington and respect for law and order.

It is Grenier's position that, while some provisions of the various civil rights laws passed by the Johnson Congress are unsound, they are the law and it is best for the Republican Party in Alabama to try to live with them.

★ ★ ★

On another very important point, Grenier is appealing to the future. He believes in the development of a real party system. For many years Alabama has really had no party at all. For what passed as Democratic has merely been a succession of factional groups.

Grenier wants the new Republican Party to take a different course and build along with the other states of the nation rather than with personal loyalties. Martin, who is a popular figure, apparently would follow the old Democratic tradition of factional politics.

JOHN BIRCHERS

The situation is further complicated by the considerable number of Alabama members of the John Birch Society which is a divisive factor in Republican politics everywhere.

There are nests of these diehards all over the South and their presence may gravely threaten the national ticket in the election this year.

★ ★ ★

Thus at the moment the Alabama Republican Party is hanging in the balance between the past and the promise of the future.

Grow, Darn You, Grow!

David Lawrence Says:

Student Aid Cut Bill Interesting

WASHINGTON — Does Congress have the right to stipulate that Federal loans and scholarships shall not be granted to any students who are involved in a "serious obstruction" of college activity?

LAWRENCE

The House of Representatives has passed such a measure and has sent it to the Senate. Protests against the bill are being voiced on the theory that this is a misuse of governmental power.

But, strangely enough, the United States government has been employing precisely this method for the last few years in requiring colleges and universities to obey the regulations concerning racial discrimination issued by the government or else lose the benefit of federal funds in everything from student loans to construction and equipment grants.

★ ★ ★

When the Department of Health, Education and Welfare began to threaten the withdrawal of federal funds from educational institutions because they were allegedly failing to comply with the "law of the land," the so-called "liberals" were silent.

Today they are denouncing the House bill which seeks to withhold federal funds in order to punish college students who defy constituted authority.

WILL BE WELCOMED

A brief editorial in the New York Times yesterday which criticizes the House bill will be welcomed by educators who have hitherto gotten little support in their opposition to the employment of federal funds as a form of blackmail.

The editorial says: "The threat by the House to punish rebellious college students by cutting them off from federal loans and scholarships is a dangerous excursion into political primitivism.

★ ★ ★

"The disregard of campus democracy by a minority of disruptive and irresponsible students at Columbia and elsewhere in no way justifies such congressional vendettas in direct conflict with democratic freedom.

"Campus stability must be safeguarded by sound reforms on the part of the academic community and by enforcement of its own democratic rules, not by governmental threats of fiscal sanctions.

INTERESTING NOTE

The foregoing commentary will be read with interest by the administrators of many colleges and schools which have been struggling in the last few months with problems growing out of racial imbalance. For the federal government has cut off funds from four colleges since Jan. 1, 1967 — all of them private institutions. Eighteen hospitals have been deprived of federal money or have been threatened with its loss.

Bob Considine Says:

N. Viets Could Believe They've Beaten the U.S.

NEW YORK — Arriving on the scene of the Paris peace talks, a member of the North Vietnamese delegation remarked that the very existence of the talks is proof that the United States is losing the war.

CONSIDINE

Astonishingly he may very well have believed what he was saying.

He could manage belief in his words even though he had just come from a country that is largely debris as a result of U.S. bombing raids.

He must know that the Tet offensive of last winter was a colossal failure: the allies' "kill" rate was as high as 10 to 1 in the major battles, no major objective was taken, the South Vietnamese people did not rise and support the attacks, the Saigon government stood firm, and scores of thousands of well-trained guerrillas were sacrificed in the forlorn hope of scoring a quick knockout.

THE ORIENTAL VIEW

The delegate could still believe in his heart that America is losing just as Ho Chi Minh must feel that the U.S. is being whipped.

One must look into the Oriental mind to discern why such beliefs could be held in the face of the simple mathmatics of death and destruction.

★ ★ ★

The Oriental sees any conference requested by the white man as a sign of the latter's weakness or dire plight.

He cannot honestly fathom why a nation as strong as the United States does not use all of its strength and crush him. What is strength for, except to crush?

SOMETHING WRONG?

So, something must be wrong. There must be fear and misgivings in the land of those who have come halfway across the world to fight for a Saigon government.

Old man Ho, ruminating in his bomb shelter, is said to be fed a steady diet of "good" news, pictures and reports from the U.S.

He knows the speeches of Sen. Fulbright, the rise of the antiwar candidates, Sen. McCarthy and Sen. Kennedy, he sees the editorials of outstanding papers opposed to continuation of the war. He watches the unrest, the marches, the "police brutality."

MUST BE WEAKNESS

Therefore, Ho must feel there can be only chaos in America.

Why would a commander-in-chief who could whistle up a vast aerial attack—even thermonuclear—not do so, particularly since the victim of such an attack has no ability to retaliate?

There must be weakness, grave doubt, behind President Johnson's all-out efforts to get peace talks started.

In Washington:

Indiana Win Was Impressive

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

There are strong echoes of 1960 in the quick effort by some political figures to minimize Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's substantial victory in the Indiana primary.

BIOSSAT

In the 1960 primary, John F. Kennedy beat Hubert Humphrey by 110,000 votes, won two-thirds of the state's convention delegates and six of the 10 congressional districts.

★ ★ ★

Some politicians and observers immediately labeled it a defeat for Kennedy and a moral victory for Humphrey, mostly because there had been one or two predictions that Kennedy would sweep all. But this reporter's survey of 35 states at that time found most party professionals nailing Kennedy's win as impressive.

Today's professionals, especially in the big-city states, are judging Bob Kennedy's Indiana triumph in much the same way.

★ ★ ★

They know he was applying plenty of money, manpower and veteran political skills in his whirlwind campaign from Lake Michigan south to the Ohio River. But they also know Indiana was basically a very tough state from which to launch a driving effort for the presidency.

One Kennedy source says that his campaign people at the outset had a list of roughly 100 persons who had helped John Kennedy take Indiana in 1960. Only one agreed to work this time. Most of the others were warped into Gov. Roger Branigin's state organization or into regular county organizations which refused to help.

★ ★ ★

There were no voter lists to work from. Party regulars at all levels gave the Kennedy camp the freeze.

Kennedy plunged into Indiana despite negative advice because he felt his late start on the 1968 trail compelled maximum action. He believed, too, that he could not win huge blocks of big state delegates unless he could persuade such leaders as Chicago's Mayor Richard Daley by testing himself in hard places as well as easy.

What Kennedy did accomplish was hardly minor. He beat Branigin by 86,000 votes and third-place Sen. Eugene McCarthy by 111,000. It would have been sweeter to have run up the 50 to 60 per cent vote that looked likely for awhile, but 42 per cent for Kennedy in a three-man race was solid. The McCarthy people thought that percentage was excellent when they achieved it in New Hampshire.

★ ★ ★

What may be most notable for Daley and others watching the parade of primaries is the fact that Kennedy cracked both the Negro voters and the blue-collar workers most susceptible to backlash sentiments. He took Indianapolis, Gary, Fort Wayne and Terre Haute to prove his double thrust.

Though his hold on the populous suburbs seems weak, his sturdy appeal to disparate elements in the troubled city cores may — if demonstrated further — persuade big city leaders that he is at once the likeliest winner in November and the man most able to effect a racial reconciliation in an era of great internal strife.

Voice of the People:

Commendations Are Due on Renewal of Millage

The passage of the renewal of the 15 mills for the Waterford School District is an indication of a united effort on the part of many. Along with the commendations that come as a result of such a move, at least three categories must be mentioned.

★ ★ ★

We should commend Dr. Tatroe and his group who worked in the excellent manner of informing the voting public of the need. Secondly, The Pontiac Press should be commended for its articles spelling out the need of the millage vote. Finally, the property owners who went to the polls and overwhelmingly expressed their support of the Waterford school program. The citizens are commended for such a tremendous turnout.

Urge Holly Voters to Consider School Needs

I urge voters of the Holly School District to think carefully of the consequences of your actions when you go to the polls June 10. Our school board made a serious effort to make cuts which were felt to be least damaging, but even these cuts will be a step backward for education in Holly. Our children are the ones who will suffer from these cuts.

★ ★ ★

Approximately 80 per cent of the proposed cuts are in staff reductions. This means overcrowded classrooms resulting in a poorer quality of instruction, a loss of physical education, a loss of music and art programs, lack of trained librarians. If these cuts are made it will further reduce our ability to maintain a good level of instruction for students. Teachers will go to school districts where they can have good working conditions before they agree to work in Holly. Don't remain silent and don't respond with a "no" vote.

Discusses Revision of Property Assessments

I see Independence Township wants to revise the assessments. That's fine, but why not start in the village? Maybe we can get stop lights at Maybee-Sashabaw and Maybee-Dixie Highway intersections. Question and Answer

You had an article on smoking tips, and it said a filter with silica gel is effective. Can you tell me where to buy one?
READER

REPLY

When we called Cunningham's, we were told the De-Nicotea brand of cigarette holder contains that type of filter. Wilson's Drugs in Birmingham is another store which carries this brand. We couldn't call all the drug stores in this area, but others probably carry the same product.

West Virginia Primary Today

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — West Virginia voters pick delegates to the Republican and Democratic national conventions and select party nominees for governor today in a state primary election.

All three Democratic presidential contenders—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy — have made West Virginia appearances seeking support among the 110 candidates for Democratic convention seats.

★ ★ ★

Preferences of Democratic delegate candidates polled by The Associated Press showed Kennedy favored by the largest number, with Humphrey a close second and McCarthy a distant third.

Sixty-five Republicans are running for convention seats. Among those who announced their preference, Richard M. Nixon's margin over Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was between 2-to-1 and 3-to-1. Neither campaigned in the state.

NO RACE

The West Virginia primary has no presidential preference race this year, in contrast to the 1960 battle in which John F. Kennedy defeated Humphrey.

The state sends 36 delegates to the Democratic national convention, 14 to the Republican. Because of a long ballot that also includes dozens of state, district and county offices, most counties do not tabulate delegate votes on election night. Final results will not be known until late in the week.

★ ★ ★

Whether the West Virginia delegates vote by unit rule at the conventions will be decided by the delegations after their election. Primary results do not bind the delegates.

West Virginia does not have crossover voting, and write-ins are not counted in its primaries.

GOVERNOR'S RACE

Chief contenders for the Democratic nomination to succeed Democratic Gov. Hulett C. Smith—ineligible to succeed himself—are C. Donald Robertson, finishing his second term as state attorney general; James M. Sprouse, the party's state chairman, and Paul J. Kaufman, a state senator from Charleston. Robertson appeared to have the edge, but not by a big margin.

Not considered serious candidates are E. C. "Eddie" Cales of Hinton and Huntington attorney Peter D. Beter on the Republican side and Blair F. Winans of Weston and William A. Lawson of Fairmont in the Democratic camp.

Underwood was the state's 1957-61 governor, the only Republican to hold office since 1929-33. Since his 1956 victory for governor, he has been defeated twice, as U.S. senate nominee in 1960 and as GOP nominee against Smith in 1964.

CONGRESSIONAL

The chief congressional contest was in the upstate 1st District, where six Democrats and three Republicans sought nomination for the seat being vacated by Moore. The state's four Democratic incumbents in the U.S. House were running again, and none had serious opposition.

The polls are open from 6:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., EDT.

Contenders for the GOP nomination are ex-Gov. Cecil H. Underwood and six-term Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr., only Republican in the state's Washington delegation. The outcome was generally expected to be close after a bitter campaign between the two longtime party rivals.

U.S. Education Benefits—2

Tuition Loans Are Available

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the second article in a 15-part series on U.S. educational and training benefits available to you.)

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Publications

There are five ways the federal government can help you get to and through college or graduate school.

You may seek a loan, grant or scholarship. You may go into a work-study program. You may become a working intern in the summers. You may apply for acceptance to government-financed classes that will prepare you for college. You may secure a government fellowship.

Ther are two major federal loan programs for college students. One is the Guaranteed Student Loan Program.

Under this plan, a student usually secures his loan from a participating bank, savings and loan association, insurance company or credit union. A few colleges make direct loans to students.

ELIGIBILITY

To be eligible, the young man or woman who wants to borrow for his education must be a student in, or accepted for admission to, a participating school. Both full and parttime students are eligible.

★ ★ ★

Included are hundreds of two-year and four-year colleges and universities and a range of specialized institutions — divinity schools, theological seminaries, colleges of art, technical institutes and colleges, law schools, institutes of naval architecture, art academies, general hospitals and a merchant marine academy.

Vocational schools are not included in this program. There is, however, a parallel National Vocational Student Loan Insurance Act which insures loans to students at participating vocational, trade, technical and business schools.

The guarantee agency in your state will furnish you with a list of participating lenders. A phone call to any college will give you the address. Most lending institutions also have it available.

Under the Guaranteed Student Loan Program a student may borrow up to $1,000 a year as an undergraduate. Graduate and professional students may borrow up to $1,500 a year. Undergraduates may borrow a total of $5,000, graduates, $7,500.

Students with an adjusted family income of $15,000 or less a year pay no interest while in an eligible school. The federal government pays the interest (6 per cent maximum) during this time.

★ ★ ★

The student normally starts to pay the lender nine to 12 months after he graduates or withdraws from school. During the repayment period, the federal government will pay 3 per cent of the interest on the unpaid balance for students from families in the $15,000-or-less-a-year group.

He will usually have five but not more than 10 years to repay his obligation. Deferment may be granted for service in the armed forces, Peace Corps or VISTA.

Encyclopedia Marks 200th Birthday

LONDON (UPI) — A mistake is all the more intriguing for being 200 years old.

That is the age of Encyclopedia Britannica, which is celebrating its birthday by publishing a replica of its first edition in 1768.

★ ★ ★

The oddity of the first edition — a paltry three volumes compared with the present 24 volumes — was that it jumped from page 678 to 879 in the section on surgery because the printer failed to spot his misnumbering. The replica perpetuates the error of the 200 pages that never were.

Encyclopedia Britannica, despite its name, is now American-owned and based in Chicago. But a branch of the editorial offices remains in London and the American side has come over in force this week for anniversary celebrations in Edinburgh, Scotland, where the first edition was published.

IN EDINBURGH

Former Connecticut Sen. William Benton, owner of Britannica for 25 years and U.S. ambassador to the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO), will be in Edinburgh tomorrow for the unveiling of a memorial inscription to William Smellie, the first editor.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Caryl P. Haskins, president of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, D.C., is to deliver a Britannica lecture at Edinburgh University that evening.

Smellie's 256,000-word edition lifted much material almost bodily from the writings of Voltaire and other greats of the day, but he also offered do-it-yourself advice.

However his three pages of copperplate engravings which illustrated his instructions on midwifery were deemed objectionable by the 18th century authorities. King George III ordered purchasers to tear the pages out.

The present Britannica has an estimated 36.4 million words and 22,492 illustrations. Subject matter runs from divorce to crime, from Vietnam to German measles, from carnivorous plants to the moon. The writers are leading authorities in their fields.

Sitter Is Only Half the Problem--- Your Husband's Attitude Is Faulty

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Whenever we need a babysitter, I ask a 16-year-old girl who lives in our block. My problem is the way she acts around my husband. Abby, this girl is big for her age and she is just as developed (physically) as I am. She likes to run her fingers through his hair and wrestle with him. I have told my husband that I don't think he ought to let her get so familiar with him as it only encourages the child.

ABBY

If I get another sitter, my husband will get mad at me because, crazy as it sounds, I think he is flattered by her attentions. So what is your advice?

UPSET

DEAR UPSET: Getting another sitter won't help because she is only half your problem. The other half is your husband. First, tell the "child" in a motherly way that it isn't nice for young ladies to engage in horseplay with men, so please to keep her hands off your mister. Then tell your mister to see to it that she does.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: What kind of a husband would encourage his wife to line herself up with dates with other men while he is out of town?

NOSY

DEAR NOSY: One with a guilty conscience.

DEAR ABBY: I am getting married soon, and am now planning my wedding. My fiance has a 29-year-old sister who lives about 800 miles from here. She is married and has two children. Should I ask her to be a bridesmaid?

They are not very well off financially, and I am afraid the cost of the trip plus the gown might be a strain on them. But then, if I don't ask her, maybe she will be hurt.

I can't very well ask her if she can afford to come and be a bridesmaid because even if she can't, she might be ashamed to admit it, and borrow the money or something. I have never discussed this with her as I hardly know her. My fiance is as confused as I am and we have no one else to ask. Also, is a 29-year-old woman too old to be a bridesmaid?

WORRIED

★ ★ ★

DEAR WORRIED: Rather than risk hurting her feelings, ask her, and let her decide whether she is able to accept. Bridesmaids are usually very close friends of the bride. Matron of honor (if you have no one closer to honor) would be a more appropriate role for your husband's 29-year-old married sister, should she be in the wedding party.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: About those husbands who can't understand why their wives don't wear sheer, sexy nightgowns to bed:

I don't know what other wives look like in flimsy, revealing nightgowns, but I do know what I looked like for about two years after my second baby, and it wasn't anything I wanted to show off in a sexy nightgown.

I love my husband very much, and would love to be a pin-up girl for him, but if your liabilities exceed your assets, you are better off in a flannel. Sign me,

STILL DIETING

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have a wonderful husband, but the trouble seems to be the girl he went with before he married me. She keeps sending him "Miss You" cards, birthday telegrams and Christmas cards, etc. And she signs everything, "Love."

★ ★ ★

I have begged my husband to please call up this old girl friend and tell her once and for all she should leave him alone, but he won't do it. He says he has never done anything to encourage her, and he doesn't lie, but I feel if he really loved me he would do something to put a stop to all this. I am 56 and he is 68 and we have been married 17 months.

★ ★ ★

DEAR WORRIED: You would be wise to quit bugging your "wonderful" husband. He's right. He has done nothing to encourage her, and by ignoring her he is discouraging her in the best possible way. His old girl friend probably never enters his mind — until you bring her up.

Disposable Pans Never Find Way to Their Fate

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Industry is working hard to make it soft for the nation's housewives. I do appreciate the manufacturers' attempts to smooth my path, but their well-meant efforts just make things rougher for me.

Take disposable pans, for instance. Take 'em quick, before they overflow the kitchen and go clattering down the hall.

NOT ME

I know you're supposed to dispose of them, once you've disposed of their contents, but I'm not at all disposed to do so.

Somehow, they end up in the dishpan instead of the garbage pail and they come out so shiny and sturdy looking that my thrifty nature rebels at discarding such useful objects.

★ ★ ★

Useful for what, I have yet to discover. But still, I have the storage shelves of the stove stacked with them and the cabinets are so packed with aluminum foil dishes of every size and description that the whole pile comes crashing to the floor every time I open the door.

★ ★ ★

I'd have a little more room for the disposable pans, except that the drawers and closets in the house are all jammed with those lovely plastic bags clothes come back in from the cleaners.

No telling when I'll need 250 or so garment covers, so I carefully fold them up and stuff them into any space not already occupied by little plastic strawberry baskets or slightly used disposable dustcloths.

REVITALIZE

When plastic straws and plastic toothpicks made their debut my life took a turn for the worse. I know they're meant to be dumped instead of dunked after use, but I'm determined to revitalize them with detergent.

Sharp picks can make a nasty stab wound and washing a straw is the last straw!

Then along came the neat little coffee cans, complete with a tight cover and beautiful designs that turned them into perfect canisters when empty.

★ ★ ★

I couldn't manage to utilize them all with just flour and sugar and tea, so I started tossing beans and rice and pancake flour and black-eyed peas and hard candy and even oatmeal into them. But they are still multiplying faster than I can think up uses for them.

★ ★ ★

I never minded throwing out paper plates in the old days, when their rough surface absorbed the juice from the pickles and the grease from the spareribs.

But now that they're as smooth as china and seem almost as durable, I have to look the other way when I consign them to the garbage can.

★ ★ ★

Well, there's one bright side to the aluminum avalanche. I just baked a frozen pie in its own foil dish and I find that the container was perforated with tiny holes in order to make the crust brown right. I won't mind throwing that one out.

On second thought, perhaps I'd better keep it after all. It would make a dandy sieve.

Dinner Guest Is Vegetarian; What's Advice?

By ELIZABETH POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a vegetarian and prefer not to eat meat or anything with meat derivatives in it. This creates a problem when eating in someone else's home for the first time.

★ ★ ★

I can always find enough to eat in salads and vegetables, but I feel it unfair to the alert hostess who expects everyone to partake of her delicious preparations. In the past it has been embarrassing to me to have the hostess dash to the kitchen and whip up an omelet when she finds I am a vegetarian. Actually it doesn't matter to me whether I have anything fancy or not — just the fellowship of friends and acquaintances is enough.

★ ★ ★

I would prefer not to be fussed over and would like the hostess to feel at ease and not be concerned. Should I say something to her after we arrive but before dinner is served, or call her a day or so before the dinner and mention why I will not be eating anything on her menu?

What would be the nicest thing to do? — Laurie Gallant

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Gallant: I would not call her ahead of time since, no matter how you put it, your call will look as though you hope she will prepare something special for you.

★ ★ ★

If the opportunity presents itself, you should mention to her quietly before dinner that you are a confirmed vegetarian and are telling her so that she won't be hurt when you refuse the meat. From the considerate tone of your letter, I am sure you can do this in a manner she will understand.

★ ★ ★

Who do you tip? When, and how much? You will find the answers to these questions in Elizabeth L. Post's booklet "The Etiquette of Tipping."

Bucs' Jim Bunning 1-0 Loser Again

By the Associated Press

If the Pittsburgh Pirates ever get Jim Bunning a few runs they'll be dangerous. If the St. Louis Cardinals get anybody a few more runs they'll be unstoppable.

The Cardinals widened their National League lead to four games Monday night by nipping luckless Bunning and the surprisingly punchless Pirates 1-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Nelson Briles.

★ ★ ★

St. Louis has scored just 12 runs in its last six starts . . . and won four of them.

The Pirates have totaled 11 runs in splitting their last six games. Bunning is 3-3 on the season . . . with a pair of 1-0 setbacks in the last two weeks. The 36-year-old right-hander, acquired by Pittsburgh in a winter trade, lost five 1-0 decisions with Philadelphia last year.

In other National League night games—the only other action in the majors—the Chicago Cubs whipped Los Angeles 5-1 and Atlanta shaded Philadelphia 4-2.

FIFTH VICTORY

Curt Flood's double and Roger Maris' run-scoring single in the first inning gave Briles all the support he needed in winging to his fifth victory against two losses.

Briles, tagged for a single by Bill Mazeroski and a double by Willie Stargell in the first inning, pitched out of the jam and then shackled the Pirates, whose team batting average dipped to .226.

★ ★ ★

After giving up the first inning run, Bunning allowed only one more St. Louis runner to reach second base until the eighth, when he left for a pinch hitter.

Ernie Banks cracked a two-run homer for the Cubs, who spotted Los Angeles a 1-0 first inning lead before moving ahead to stay in the fourth on singles by Don Kessinger, Glenn Beckert and Billy Williams plus a sacrifice fly by Ron Santo.

ANOTHER RUN

Santo singled home another run in the sixth before Banks unloaded his fifth 1968 homer . . . and the 447th of his career.

Southpaw Ken Holtzman was the winner with eighth inning relief help from former Dodger Phil Regan. Ken Boyer, making his Dodger debut, drove in the only run off Holtzman with the first of his two singles.

Knuckleballer Phil Niekro stopped Philadelphia on three hits and keyed the Braves' deciding two-run rally in the ninth with a bunt single. Reliever Dick Farrell walked pinch hitter Tito Francona with the bases jammed, forcing in the tiebreaking run and Hank Aaron provided insurance with a sacrifice fly.

Aaron's brother Tommy got the Braves off to an early lead with a two-run homer but the Phils tied it in the fourth on a two-run single by Johnny Briggs.

Bengals Defending Hold on First Place

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, owners of a two-game edge over the rest of the American League pack, tonight open another one of those do-or-die series that haunt pennant contenders all season long.

The two night games are against the second-place Baltimore Orioles, who just happen to need a pair over the Tigers to even things up again.

★ ★ ★

The Orioles share their second spot with the Cleveland Indians, winners of two from Baltimore in a Sunday doubleheader as the Indians seriously joined the spring scramble.

Tiger Manager Mayo Smith is going with last year's ace, 22-game winner Earl Wilson, who will attempt to even his 3-4 won-lost showing.

On the mound for the Orioles will be Dave McNally, 3-2.

SORE SHOULDER

Outfielder Frank Robinson, bothered with a recurrence of tendonitis condition in his right shoulder, is expected to play tonight.

Robinson got conditional approval from Baltimore's team physician after giving the big slugger a cortisone shot Monday.

★ ★ ★

Robinson strained a tendon Sunday while trying to cut off a Cleveland run at the plate. It was his first start since April 20 following an attack of mumps.

The Tigers, meanwhile, announced the rescheduling of earlier games postponed by bad weather.

MAKEUP GAME

The April 15 game at Boston has been reset for June 4 as part of a twi-night doubleheader. Game time is 5:50 p.m. EDT.

★ ★ ★

The April 23 game with the Indians at Cleveland now becomes a night game June 24, filling an open date. Game time is 7:30 p.m. EDT.

Wings' Captain Posts Hat Trick With New 'Stick'

Detroit Red Wings' captain Alex Delvecchio changed 'sticks' and scored a hat trick of sorts yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Switching to golf clubs and grass instead of sticks and ice, Delvecchio teamed with pro Bill Mattson, both of Shenandoah Country Club, in taking a share of the pro-am honors yesterday in the weekly Michigan Section Pro-Am at Plum Hollow.

Mattson, who carded an even par 72 over the 6,924-yard layout, was helped by Delvecchio who posted birdies on the final three holes.

The two wound up with a 33-32-65, sharing the top spot with Alex Redmond-Robert Hackett and Preston Meisel-Jack Reed in the field of 245 teams.

★ ★ ★

In the pro division, Don White, assistant at Meadowbrook, rammed home six birdies and finished with a three-under-par 69 to nip Walter Burkemo of Detroit Golf Club by one stroke.

Bob Panasiuk of Knollwood and Stan Brion of Tam O'Shanter carded a 67 in the pro-pro best ball competition to share honors with the Walter Burkemo-Jack Clark, William Stacy-Don White teams.

SPARKS OUTBURST—Shortstop Mark Karwas ignited the four-run outburst that broke a scoreless tie yesterday in Kettering's 4-0 conquest of Lake Orion. The senior infielder drove in the first two runs and scored the third.

Kettering Hurler Halts Lake Orion With One-Hitter

Lake Orion didn't have to face Mike Harkey this time but the Dragons still found Kettering's hurlers stingy and dropped a 4-0 decision yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Junior right-hander Wayne Smith made his first varsity start a memorable one by holding the Dragons to one hit—they managed none off Harkey in the previous meeting—and whiffing 10 batters.

Smith had a perfect game for five innings before Orion put two runners on base in the sixth.

★ ★ ★

Kettering broke a 0-0 deadlock with four runs in the fifth. Mark Karwas' single plated the first two. He scored on Steve Lyons' sacrifice fly and Bob Earls circled the bases on two misplays by the losers' infield.

Tom Setter had two hits for WKHS who is now 4-8 and visits Bloomfield Hills Andover tomorrow.

Tight Security Cloaks Hearing

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Dancer's Image's owner Peter Fuller and trainer Lou Cavalaris have left Louisville. But the hearing in the disqualification of the gray colt as Kentucky Derby winner continues at Churchill Downs today.

"We'll be back Wednesday morning," Fuller said as he prepared to board a plane for Baltimore after testifying in the first day of the stewards' hearing Monday. The owner and trainer said they were asked by the stewards to attend a session Wednesday, perhaps to offer more testimony.

★ ★ ★

Today, however, the two were to supervise a workout for Dancer's Image, now in training for the Preakness this Saturday.

At the first day of the hearing, which lasted 11½ hours, eight or more witnesses offered testimony or evidence. However, no one divulged what transpired at the closed session, which was cloaked by tight security.

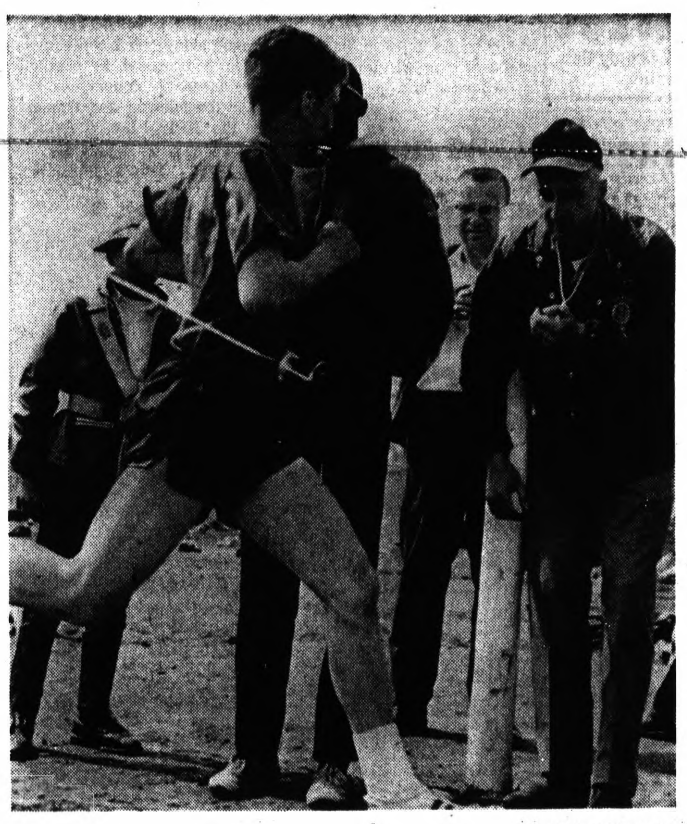

SEEK CAUSE

The hearing is intended to determine who is to blame for the appearance of phenylbutazone in the colt's system after the running of the Derby May 4.

★ ★ ★

Cavalaris' reputation is at stake, plus he could be suspended from handling Fuller's string. In addition, Fuller says he won't run Dancer's Image in the Preakness if Cavalaris can't saddle him.

Chiefs Capture 11 of 14 Events

By JERE CRAIG

Pontiac Central's Chiefs overwhelmed Pontiac Northern in the field events Tuesday afternoon at Wisner Field in posting an 82-36 track win.

PCH, unbeaten in dual and triangular meets, left no doubt about the outcome by winning 11 of the 14 events. It won all but two points (out of 36) in the field events.

The Chiefs swept the high jump and long jump, while the winless PNH squad managed thirds in the pole vault and shot put.

Central also won all nine points in the 880-yard run as junior Jon Costello led the way with a 1:59 clocking, one of the day's best performances.

BRIGHT MOMENTS

Despite the lopsided defeat, Northern's Huskies had two bright spots to savor. They set a school record in winning the 880 relay with a 1:32.8 clocking.

Hardiman Jones, Mel Reeves, Sandy Seay and Claude McCathern comprised the victorious unit.

★ ★ ★

McCathern, a slender senior cocaptain, also captured both dashes to provide the other PNH high point.

Unbeaten hurdler Bob Johnson was a double winner in his specialties for the Chiefs. He was timed in :14.8 for the 120-yard high hurdles, and won the lows in :21.6. Sophomore Mel Reeves and senior Dave Gibson finished two-three both times for the Huskies.

The victory closes the home schedule for Central. Both squads will run at the Class A regional on the Waterford Township track Saturday.

★ ★ ★

PCH also takes a 150-point lead now in the All Sports Trophy with the two city schools also meeting in golf and tennis this week and again next week.

Clarkston Halts Andover, 4-2

PCH Divides Twinbill; Northville Rolls

Pontiac Central and Northville — the county's top-ranked prep baseball units — gained league victories Monday afternoon although the Chiefs also suffered a setback in their Saginaw Valley encounter at Flint Central.

PCH went 12 scoreless innings before posting a pair of runs in the fifth inning of the second game and gaining a split in its twinbill with the Indians.

Flint won the opener, 1-0, despite getting just one hit off Vic Quince (6-3). The Chiefs won the nightcap, 2-1, on a two-run triple by Dave Webster.

★ ★ ★

Northville routed Milford, 10-0, to move within one win of clinching a share of the Wayne-Oakland diamond crown.

Clarkston stopped Bloomfield Hills Andover, 4-2, on a three-hitter by Dick Johnson, and West Bloomfield erupted for five runs in the first inning and won, 9-3, over Clarenceville.

LONE DAMAGE

At Flint, Ron Pruitt clouted a first-frame homer for the only hit off Quince and the opening game's lone run. PCH loaded the bases in the seventh inning but left them full.

★ ★ ★

An unearned run had the Chiefs down 1-0 in the nightcap. But Clyde Duncan's single and a walk to winning pitcher Rich Vine preceded Webster's long clutch blast.

★ ★ ★

Quince came on in the final inning with the potential tying run on first to get two batters on pop ups and the final out was registered on an attempted steal. PCH now is 11-3.

Northville raised its mark to 10-1 with an 11-hit attack that saw Joe Donner and Barry Deal each hit two singles, and batterymates Fred Holdsworth (double) and Pat Cayley (single) each rap two-run safeties.

Holdsworth struck out seven and scattered four hits in posting his fifth victory. Cayley finished with three rbi's.

Waterford Golf Team Unbeaten in I-L Play

Waterford beat down one challenger Monday with a 198-202 Inter-Lakes League golf triumph over Livonia Stevenson, but must overcome Walled Lake's Vikings (3-1) next week to gain the favorite's role in the league meet.

Walled Lake, whose only loss was to Stevenson, trimmed Farmington yesterday, 206-288 at Edgewood Country Club as Houston Hill and Jim Wallace each had 39's.

WTHS (now 4-0 in the I-L) was led by Rod Skelton's 37 and Dan Spencer's 38 on the par 36 Pontiac CC course. It was Stevenson's initial loop loss.

Lighthouse 9 Takes Strikes

Clarkston Team Hurler Fires No-Hitter

There were too many strikes even for Lighthouse Lanes Monday night as the Rev. Harold Hughes of Clarkston Appliance held the kegmen hitless in a 3-1 Waterford Township Men's Softball triumph.

Rev. Hughes walked Walt Poe to lead off the game and he scored after a wild pitch, stolen base and ground out. But that was it for Lighthouse (1-2) who had 15 batters go down on strikes and stranded five other runners.

★ ★ ★

Bob Smith's sacrifice fly tied it for Clarkston (2-1) in the third, and two errors sandwiched around Steve Ryeson's single plated the deciding unearned runs.

3RD STRAIGHT

The no-hitter overshadowed Spencer Floor Covering's third straight win without a defeat in the opening game. It dumped Midget Bar (0-3), 6-1.

Floyd Hicks yielded three hits — including Ron Woodhull's triple and Brian Rudd's run-scoring single — in the opening inning, then scattered three more in gaining the decision. Jerry Carlton's two singles featured Spencer's attack.

Setbacks Continue

Granatelli's '500' Hopes Fade

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Car owner Andy Granatelli has suffered still another setback in his 22-year-old quest for victory in the Indianapolis 500-mile race.

★ ★ ★

One of the four Grand Prix drivers Granatelli hired to drive his stable of six turbine-powered cars was sidelined Monday for at least three weeks with a hairline fracture of the right wrist. Jackie Stewart suffered the injury when the steering wheel lashed back during practice for a Formula Two race in Spain.

Two of the drivers—Jim Clark of Scotland and Mike Spence of England—were killed in racing accidents. Clark died April 7 at Hockenheim, Germany, and Spence was injured fatally a month later at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, practicing for the 500.

★ ★ ★

American driver Parnelli Jones, also signed to drive for Granatelli, withdrew, saying the turbocar which nearly won the Memorial Day Indianapolis race last year no longer was competitive with piston-engine cars because of revisions ordered by the U.S. Auto Club.

HIT WALL

The turbocar was retired permanently Sunday when it spun and slapped the wall here. Granatelli said the car was not worth repairing because a USAC rule change effective next year will not permit engines to extend beyond the inside edge of the wheel.

Granatelli's turbine stable has been reduced to three cars and one Grand Prix driver—Graham Hill, who won the 1966 Indianapolis race.

★ ★ ★

Dave Blackmer, six-year member of the Granatelli team, says Granatelli "goes to the end of the road and ovevrcomes obstacles where others would give up."

Blackmer said, "If it hadn't been for the 1969 ban on the wheel, Andy and his brothers (Vince and Joe) would have worked day and night to rebuild the turbocar."

PUBLIC EYE

Although the turbine made its debut at Indianapolis earlier, it wasn't until Granatelli unveiled the bright red No. 40 last year that the turbine-powered car caught the public eye.

Car owners and drivers of the conventional piston-engine cars protested that their machines were no match for the turbocar.

★ ★ ★

It was characteristic of key advancements the Granatelli brothers have helped pioneer. The four-wheel-drive permitted the car to corner better.

The ability to use almost any fuel permitted it to qualify at racing speed while other cars used pepped up mixtures in the trials and then slowed down with regular fuels in the race.

★ ★ ★

The failure of the turbocar last year hit the Granatelli team hard, but Andy bounced back.

"When we're exhausted, he's just going into his second wind," Blackmer said. "He just won't give up. He wants to win that 500-mile race."

Skippers Triumph; Kettering Defeated

Four fast-stepping Skippers kept the three Waterford prep track teams from suffering a blanking in track Monday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Waterford Township's mile relay unit clinched a 63-55 triumph over Rochester to make the Skippers the lone winners.

Kettering couldn't keep pace with Walled Lake in the dashes and dropped a 65-53 decision, while Southfield Lathrup outdistanced Mott, 83-35, by winning 9 of the 14 events.

WTHS and Rochester evenly divided the firsts but the Skippers swept the low hurdles and pole vault while the losing Falcons were 1-2-3 in the 100-yard dash.

THREE WINS

Larry Biskner won three events for Waterford, while Bob Woodroff ran the 100 in 10 seconds for the Falcons.

A sweep of the two-mile run, plus victories in the 440, 100, 220 and mile relay enabled Walled Lake (5-5) to overcome WKHS.

★ ★ ★

Bruce Clifton took the 880 run, and the high jump, plus was on the winning mile relay squad and placed third in the long jump for Mott (3-5), but Lathrup still managed to post its first track win of the season without difficulty.

Open Bidding for Super Bowl

ATLANTA (AP)—The battle for pro football's prize plum—the 1969 Super Bowl site—opens today at the joint meeting of the American and National Football League owners amid indications that Miami and New Orleans hold the inside track.

★ ★ ★

At a news conference Monday, Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the football leagues, said the choice has pretty well narrowed to the two cities.

Other controversial problems scheduled for consideration by owners today and Wednesday include a proposal to eliminate the one-point conversion kick after touchdowns and demands by the NFL Players Association.

Andovevr (5-5) took a 2-0 lead on rbi-singles by Dick Souther and Craig Walsh. However, Rich Porritt drove in three markers for Clarkston with a sacrifice fly and then a game-winning two-run single in the sixth.

West Bloomfield won its second in a row after falling behind on a three-run homer by Cary Rifkin.

Ron Van Gorder's lead-off triple, three errors and RBI-singles by Mark DeSilvio and Bob Browne sent the Lakers into a 5-3 lead.

Oak Park tightened the Northwest Suburban AA diamond title chase by knocking off Wayne John Glenn, 8-5, Monday.

North Farmington pulled out a key 3-2 victory over Thurston in the bottom of the 14th inning for the longest game in the Raiders' baseball history.

Livonia Franklin thumped Birmingham Groves, 9-6, to keep the Falcons from grabbing second place. Jeff Holmes rapped two singles, a double and homer for the losers. Gary Humenny had a single and double.

★ ★ ★

Jay Hazelroth's second single broke up the tough pitchers' battle between Thurston's Dino Syrois and North Farmington's Mike McCoy.

3 IN A ROW

McCoy gained his second win and the Raiders' third in a row by striking out 17, walking only two and scattering seven hits. Syrois allowed two of the four hits off him in the 14th and whiffed 21.

Oak Park's Redskins erupted for six runs in the fifth inning to dump Glenn. Ron Ekelman's three-run homer keyed the outburst and handed his brother Dave the mound triumph.

The Redskins' jayvees posted an 8-0 no-hit victory over Glenn behind sophomore Jack Rubenstein. He struck out 12.

Oxford Girls in Keg Meet

The Commers, five 11-year-old girls from Collier Lanes' bantam bowling program, earned a berth in the Freedom Festival competition next month by winning their Class C event Sunday at the Cecil Ward Jr. Tournament in Detroit.

The quintet's 1735 total (1714 actual) on the WY-7 Lanes earned each of them a title trophy and the praise of coach Louise Bothwell.

Anchorgirl Robin Ward led the way with 181—424 high totals. Others on the team (all from Lake Orion) are captain Terry Waldo, Chris Smith, Cathy Hanson, and Cindy Halt.

The junior girls from Collier's placed fourth in Class C.

Andover Netters Down Clarkston

Bloomfield Hills Andover again edged Clarkston's defending Wayne-Oakland League net champions, 3-2, Monday and Rochester hopes to add to the Wolves' skid today after thumping Kettering, 7-0, yesterday.

Andover ended Clarkston (12-2) long winning skein with a 3-2 win in their first meeting this spring. Narrow victories in both doubles enabled the Barons (13-2) to maintain their mastery yesterday.

Rochester (8-1) easily swept by WKHS while prepping for this afternoon's shot at avenging its only loss.

Prep Front

By JERE CRAIG

With the weatherman's permission, the action will grow keener in intensity and heavier in numbers the next four weekends on the prep spring sports scene as state, county, regional and invitational competition increases.

Putting things in chronological order, the regional golf meets Friday will mark the beginning of the various area schools' drives for state championships.

Saturday, track moves into the picture and local cinder fans will have an opportunity to see one of the top Class A regionals in the state at Waterford Township High School (where actually there are no cinders, but rather a new all-weather track!).

★ ★ ★

Golf, tennis and track are on the calendar for the following "long weekend." The regional tennis tourneys will be May 24-25 (Friday-Saturday).

INVITATIONAL

The popular annual Press Invitational Golf Tournament at Pontiac Country Club is that same Friday, while the state championships in track are slated for Ann Arbor (Class A), East Lansing (Class B) and Mount Pleasant (C-D) Saturday.

Then on Monday the 27th the state titles will be decided in golf.

★ ★ ★

Baseball — while not having any state competition — will have its big exposure locally with the beginning of the annual Pontiac Invitational Tournament (16 teams) Wednesday May 29 and running through June 5.

This year's Oakland County Track Meet will be Monday June 3 at Southfield.

NIEDBALSKI

GREEN

FINAL FLINGS

Concluding the preps' final sports flings of the school year will be the state tennis finals June 7-8 (Friday-Saturday) and a scheduled regional baseball tournament that same Saturday possibly at Pontiac's Jaycee Park.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Northern's 112-pound state wrestling champ, Bill Green, has signed a tender for Indiana University. Voted one of the two Outstanding County Wrestler awards, Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmore A. Green of 651 Second.

He won 30 of 32 matches this season and 77 of 92 during his PNH career. Indiana coach Charley McDaniel is eying Bill as a 130-pounder in collegiate wrestling.

★ ★ ★

Former Rochester football letterwinner Ed Niedbaski has been lost to Michigan Tech's spring football practice. A freshman, Ed is a promising prospect at tackle and guard for next fall but must undergo corrective surgery this month due to an injury.

Ed was being groomed for duty both offensively and defensively.

TOP TEN

The first month of the baseball season at the high school level has produced noticeable changes in the rankings of the top ten area teams.

Waterford Township and Rochester were one-two in the preseason poll; but it has been Pontiac Central who has made the best impression over-all, jumping from ninth place to the top.

Circuit Blows Provide Margin for Southfield

SOUTHEAST MICHIGAN BASEBALL

	W	L		W	L
Southfield	6	3	RO Kimball	5	5
Ferndale	5	4	Berkley	4	5
B. Seaholm	4	6	Hazel Park	4	5

Southfield stayed one game ahead of Ferndale in the tight Southeast Michigan Association diamond chase Monday as both posted shutout wins.

The No. 3 ranked team in the county, Southfield (9-3 over-all) ripped Berkley, 7-0, with a three-home run attack. Ferndale blanked Hazel Park's slumping Vikings, 10-0, on Ray Laconis' three-hitter.

In the other SEMA contest, Royal Oak Kimball took sole possession of third place by dumping Birmingham Seaholm, 7-1, fo the Knights' fourth win in their last five outings.

★ ★ ★

Nearby rival Royal Oak Dondero (6-3) avenged an earlier loss with a 3-2 last-inning victory over Grosse Pointe.

Shrine made it a clean sweep for Royal Oak nines with a 2-0 blanking of Detroit Benedictine, boosting its mark to 6-2.

LONG BALL

At Berkley, Chuck Petrillo (solo), Jim Walters (one on) and Rocky Roe (two on) hit for the circuit to spark Southfield's attack. Gary Betrus whiffed 11. Petrillo, a sophomore, also had a single and double.

★ ★ ★

Catcher Carl Roehling singled twice for three runs batted in and Rick Campbell scored twice after singles to help Kimball square its record at 6-6.

★ ★ ★

Dondero trailed, 2-1, as it batted for the final time. A lead-off walk was followed by Jerry Campbell's long blast that cleared the center field fence for a disputed ground-rule double.

★ ★ ★

Then Larry Killebrew ended the argument with a long two-bagger that settled the outcome and gave him all three rbi's for the Oaks. Don Newman fanned four of the five batters he faced in relief to gain his fourth victory.

★ ★ ★

Shrine's Jim Chiesa tossed a three-hitter, whiffing 12 fo his fifth win. Rick Zimmerman singled home the Knights' initial tally, then completed the scoring on a throwing error.

Opening lead—♥ 6

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

North's raise from one to two no-trump was based on simple addition plus the knowledge that 26 points is the key number for a no-trump game.

JACOBY

He held nine points of his own, and his partner's no-trump had shown 16 to 18 with nothing extra in the event of 18. In any event, North could count on a minimum total of 25 and maximum of 27.

His raise to two allowed South to stop below game with a minimum, but South, with 17 points plus a 10 spot and two nice-looking four-card suits, went on to game.

South played dummy's 10 of hearts at trick one. When it held the trick, South saw that he was going to make his contract with a reasonable amount of luck. He wanted to keep East out of the lead because, if East did get in, he would be able to lead a heart through the king-jack.

Therefore, South played dummy's ace of diamonds, continued with the deuce and finessed his 10. When the finesse worked, South took the last two diamonds and led the jack of clubs from dummy. He still wanted to make sure that East would not gain the lead.

★ ★ ★

West took his king and shifted to a spade but this did not bother South. He was looking at nine top tricks by this time and actually managed to make a 10th when East's 10 of clubs dropped.

This hand also illustrates the point that 26 or 27 high card points won't always produce nine tricks. Give East the ace of hearts instead of the four spot and he would win the first heart and return the suit to set up four potential heart tricks for the defense.

Then even if South picked up the queen of diamonds, he would probably go down when the club finesse lost.

The set would not be certain. There would be a possible end play situation if South rose with his king of hearts and cashed all diamonds and the two top spades.

A—Bid three hearts. In spite of the fact that your partner expects you to pass, you have the best possible hand for hearts and should suggest a game anyway.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding two hearts over your two diamonds, your partner jumps to three hearts. What do you do now?

He Lives It Up With Celebs at White House Posh Party

By EARL WILSON

WASHINGTON — The telegram said, "The White House, Washington, D.C. The President and Mrs. Johnson invite you to a black tie dinner honoring H.E. The Prime Minister of the Kingdom of Thailand and Lady Kittikachorn . . . Formal invitation follows . . . The Social Secretary, The White House . . ."

WILSON

With the formal invitation was a small card: "Mr. Earl Wilson will please present this card at the Southeast Gate at 8 o'clock. NOT TRANSFERRABLE."

It was one of the great parties. We were allowed to mingle with LBJ, Ladybird, Lynda Bird, Vice President Humphrey, Secretary of Defense Clifford—and Bob and Delores Hope—and experienced a great burst of patriotism. Prime Minister Kittikachorn adores fireworks.

At about 10:30, after dinner and brandy, we gathered on The Balcony. It was shivery cold.

Hospitably, the women were supplied "White House blankets."

★ ★ ★

After a soul-shaking drill by the U.S. Marine drum and bugle corps and a silent drill platoon—what a floor show about 200 men—they unleashed fireworks above the South Lawn, the Reflecting Pool, the Washington Monument and the Jefferson Memorial, which in the darkness was unforgettable.

Lynda Bird was in a pink moire dress she'd worn as her sister's bridesmaid, and was heard saying, "My husband's in plenty of action!" People said to Lynda Bird and her mother, "Which of you is the daughter?"

LBJ was gladly autographing menus and kissing female admirers.

Bob Hope sat at the President's table. Handsome Secretary of Defense Clifford had his arm around Bob and said, "I have to leave for Paris at 7:30 in the morning."

"I have to leave for Duluth at 6:30 in the afternoon," Bob said.

★ ★ ★

The President in his speech in the State Room complimented the prime minister on his grandson's photo session, in which he waved the flags of both the U.S. and Thailand. "He's only two," LBJ said, "and I'm in my 60th year, but he has already mastered the difficult art of charming the press, which I've never been able to do."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

Bobby Kennedy said jokingly at the Inn of the Clock that the tiring Indiana campaign had "aged" him. He reported someone there had told him it was nice of him to bring his daughter along: "And they were talking about my wife, Ethel."

Angela Lansbury and "Mame" broke the 46-year house record at the Curran Theater in San Francisco . . . Joe Kipness offered blonde Lynn Kellogg of "Hair" a lead in his musical, "All About Eve," if she'll go brunette.

EARL'S PEARLS: Sometimes a fib starts out as a harmless little white lie, and winds up as a double feature in Technicolor.

Seaman Jacobs tells of the couple who are so cautious they won't fly in the same plane—and they even take separate escalators . . . That's earl, brother.

Florida Garbage Strike Has Parallels to Memphis Trouble

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Once again a large Southern city is tangled in a strike by garbage men that began over money and spread to threats of racial boycott and charges of outside agitation.

This time it is the streets of the Gulf Coast tourist and retirement mecca which are redolent with the stench of garbage steaming in the 90-degree afternoon sun. There are parallels to the recent 65-day strike in Memphis.

When the strike began in this city of 181,000 May 6, City Manager Lynn Andrews fired all 170 strikers.

Marvin Davies, the state field director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, threatened Monday to boycott downtown businesses if the local Chamber of Commerce doesn't back off from supporting Andrews' action in firing the strikers.

'NOT RACIAL MATTER'

The city-appointed Community Relations Commission in St. Petersburg has urged the city to resume talks with strikers here.

Andrews replied, "This is not a racial matter. It's a labor problem and the Community Relations Commission has no business getting involved."

But Andrews also said, "I don't think money is really involved." The city manager outlined what he called a conspiracy of some sort by young militants among the predominantly Negro garbage men. He said some of the people he termed agitators were of "the beard variety" or linked with the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

"I do no think it was any particular group although there appears to be some outside agitation from somewhere, although we haven't located it," Andrews said in an interivew.

"I think part of it is the overall picture nationwide to hit the utilities," the city manager said. "The city police are investigating it thoroughly."

DEFENDS MEMBERS

James Sanderlin, 39, a Negro attorney representing the strikers who organized as "The Young Men's Progressive Club," said, "absolutely no one in this group is a member or has anything to do with any groups whatsoever which are identified with the so-called Black Power movement."

"It is highly irregular for the city administration and even the city council for it to say the situation has anything to do with any outside movements or forces," Sanderlin said.

★ ★ ★

Collectors first asked raises from $1.875 hourly to $2.50. Drivers and crew chiefs wanted $3.25 instead of their $2.275. But the demands were cut to 25 cents an hour for all by the end of last week and to 20 cents an hour Monday.

★ ★ ★

Andrews said the city won't add to the five-cents hourly raise recently given all city workers.

SUPPORTED BY CITIZENS

"The citizenry seemed to be 100 per cent behind meeting this head-on," Andrews said. "I told the public there has to come a time to meet the problem and, unfortunately, this is the time."

In Memphis, the strike began Feb. 12 and two weeks later it became a boycott. The homes of some nonstrikers in Memphis were struck with firebombs just as happened here twice last week.

Area Doctor Faces Trial

A Waterford Township doctor was ordered yesterday to stand trial in Oakland County Circuit Court on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses from the Detroit Automobile Inter-Insurance Exchange (AAA).

Dr. Albert J. Berg, 31, of 457 Beverly Island, stood mute to the charge when he appeared at his arraignment before Circuit Judge Farrell E. Roberts. No trial date was scheduled immediately.

Berg allegedly received $266 from AAA for medical treatment of an accident patient, when professional services should only have amounted to $36, according to state police.

Viet Cease-Fire Is Top Priority, Sen. Clark Says

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., said a cease-fire in Vietnam should be a top priority objective of U.S. negotiators in Paris.

★ ★ ★

In a statement he said the U.S. should make clear that "our side is ready to put a stop to the shooting and killing of Vietnamese and American boys while the talks are going on."

★ ★ ★

Clark, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Hanoi may want to talk and fight at the same time, "using their troops as bargaining counters in the negotiations."

★ ★ ★

"But we should make it clear that we do not wish to shed Vietnamese or American blood for diplomatic advantage," he said.

MAN IN THE MIDDLE — Fredrick (Tom Butters) finds sharing his affections no easy task as his nurse Ruth (Jan Huntley, left) pulls one way and Mabel (Deidre Townsend) the other. The trio is practicing for Rochester High School's production of "The Pirates of Penzance."

'Pirates' Take Over at Rochester High

By KARIN HEADLEE

"The Pirates of Penzance" will become the pirates of Rochester High School as the vocal music department presents the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights at 8.

Playing the romantic leads of Mabel and Frederick are Deidre Townsend and Tom Butters. Set on England's southern coast, their romance is hindered by Fredrick's apprenticeship to the pirate king (Richard York). Fredrick's servitude won't end until his 21st birthday, Feb. 29, 1990.

★ ★ ★

Supporting roles are played by Jan Huntley, Ruth (Fredrick's nursemaid); and Dan Frank, the major general.

The Men's Glee Club will perform as policemen, led by their sergeant, Larry Lautenbach.

Also appearing in the operetta are Diane Methven, Edith; Nancy McMahon, Kate; Mike Spink, the pirate lieutenant; and Beverly Grund, Isobel.

Frank Irish, head of the music department, will direct the production with the help of student director Karen Ford. Mrs. Neil Montgomery is designing the scenery.

Student Officers Selected at Marian High

By PATRICIA POLMEAR

Students of Marian High School last week elected All-School Board officers for next year.

Junior Kathy Powers is the newly elected president; Sue Convery, junior, treasurer; Peggy Maxon, sophomore, secretary.

★ ★ ★

Next year's senior commissioners will be Madeleine Ruessman, Kathy Reddy and Nancy O'Brien.

In addition, to the eight newly elected members, other student members include the four class presidents.

★ ★ ★

Each student member has a faculty counterpart.

The five commissioners each head a committee: ecclesial, social, financial, communications and scholastic.

Elections began last week when students filed for office and registered for voting.

★ ★ ★

After faculty screening, a list of eligible candidates was posted. Primaries were held Monday.

Winning students made their campaign speeches Tuesday at an all-school assembly.

The new board president served as a class officer and commissioner during her freshman and sophomore years. Kathy has been junior class president this year.

★ ★ ★

"Further uniting of all classes and working with Brother Rice High School on projects," are two of her goals for 1968-69.

★ ★ ★

Bruce Bower, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bower, with a grade point average of 3.9 is the salutatorian. Bruce and his parents live at 324 W. St. Clair, Romeo.

In addition to Philip's academic interests, he was also active on the football team, the National Honor Society, the Science-Math Club, the Student Council, the Band Council and served as stage manager for the 1966-67 junior-senior play.

AT BOYS' STATE

He also represented Romeo at the Wolverine Boys' State during his junior year.

Bruce displayed his leadership capabilities by serving as president of both the senior class and the Band Council. He was also active in golf, football, intramural basketball, the National Honor Society, Student Council, the varisty "R" Club, the junior-senior play and as a Wolverine Boys' State representative.

Stephanie Frank is the chairman of the dance. Betsy Wolf and Barb Miller are in charge of decorations; Nancy Goldberg, tickets; and Julie Coulter, publicity.

Pontiac Press Photo

Preceding the prom, the Sisters of St. Dominic who teach at St. Lawrence High will hold a reception at the convent for those couples attending.

Five St. Lawrence High Students have been chosen to represent their school during Michigan Week. They will take over the duties of certain city officials May 23.

Chosen were Konstantyn Damas, who will take over the post of chief of police, Janice Van Den Brouck, city clerk; Bernadette Justick, electrical inspector; Gary Brock, fire chief; and Mary Gazda, building inspector.

These students along with others representing area high schools will also attend a dinner celebrating Michigan Week.

Final elections for next year's Student Council officers were held last week. Only the seniors weren't eligible to vote.

Elected were Tony Wilhelm, president; Suzi Martin, vice president; Ken Olivier, treasurer; and Marilyn Van De Weghe, secretary.

Boy Brings Beer as Teacher's Gift

An apple for the teacher? Not for this kindergarten lad. His offering? A bottle of beer.

★ ★ ★

The bottle was discovered by a Chatham area school bus driver who saw a suspicious bulge under the pupil's coat.

It proved to be, the driver explained, "nothing more than a 1968 version of an apple for the teacher."

The pint-sized lad said a classroom remark inspired the gift. The teacher indicated she was fresh out of beer.

The Velvet Touch

Romantic fashions in velvet, for special evenings out and for at-home wear, are having particular appeal for English girls from 15 years of age on up.

Even the buyers at top name stores are amazed at the way the velvet craze has caught on. One said that brown velvet was almost unobtainable, and black is also very popular.

She felt that even those teen girls who didn't look well ordinarily in black can wear black velvet because the fabric itself is so flattering.

Most of the dresses and suits are to be found in cotton velvet which has a subtle sheen. Many also are etched in lace, black net, or are worn with a lace blouse.

Why Do You Have a Poor Memory?

A noted publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique for acquiring a powerful memory which can pay you real dividends in both business and social advancement and works like magic to give you added poise, necessary self-confidence and greater popularity.

According to this publisher, many people do not realize how much they could influence others simply by remembering accurately everything they see, hear, or read. Whether in business, at social functions or even in casual conversations with new acquaintances, there are ways in which you can dominate each situation by your ability to remember.

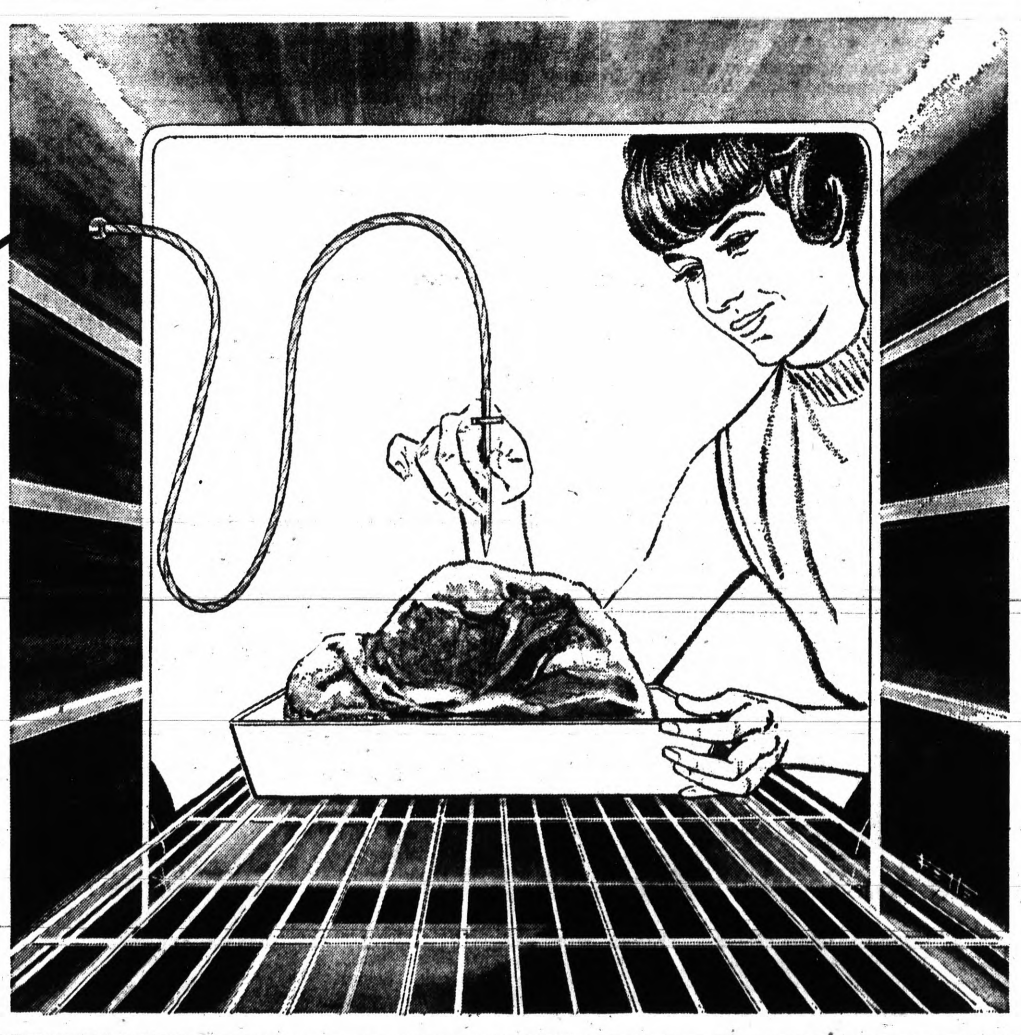

To acquaint the readers of this paper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in remembering anything you choose to remember, the publishers have printed full details of their self-training method in a new booklet, "Adventures in Memory," which will be mailed free to anyone who requests it. No obligation. Send your name, address and zip code to: Memory Studies, 835 Diversey Pkwy., Dept. 377-015, Chicago, Ill. 60614. A postcard will do.

The Informer

...MAKES YOU A BETTER COOK!

Here's an "informer" that not only gives you the facts but does something about it! How does it work? Simple. Into the center of the meat you put a thermostatic probe, one end of which is plugged into the oven wall. Slide the roast into the oven and turn the indicator to the exact degree of doneness you want. When the meat probe gets the right "inside" information, it signals you—then automatically and instantly shuts the oven off. Takes all the anxious guesswork out of roasting.

What other magical things can a 1968 Gas range do? Everything from starting dinner while you're gone to keeping a complete meal deliciously ready-to-serve when you're late.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY of William C. Leist who passed away May 14, 1958:
God saw you getting weaker,
So he did what he thought best
He came and stood beside you,
An whispered, Come to Rest.
You wished no one a last farewell,
Not even said good-bye.
You were gone before we know it
And only God knows why.
Sadly missed by wife Ida and children.

A Look at TV

Carol Ends Season

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Radio-Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Carol Burnett show, which wound up its season Monday night, generally has been a pleasant addition to the CBS television schedule.

The final show, reminiscent in mood and theme of the old Garry Moore program, was what Carol called a "family show." There were no guest stars and the hard-working regulars had their moments alone in the spotlight.

★ ★ ★

The show will go into reruns until early July when the network will turn the hour over to a series of pilot programs that failed to make the grade.

Carol, a comedienne of talent, has an interesting singing voice and a warm and generous manner that projects well.

STRONGEST ASSET

Her strongest asset during the season has been Harvey Korman, a performer of multiple talents who has backstopped her well. He is a fine sketch actor, has an excellent sense of comedy timing and can even sing and dance a bit.

One feature of the weekly show involved a married couple sketch with Miss Burnett and Korman playing a disenchanted pair given to bitterly funny cracks in the manner of radio's old Bickersons.

★ ★ ★

The funniest sketch in the windup show was, however, a Burnett solo—a housewife hearing the voices of all those commercial TV pitches ranging from a challenge to eat one potato chip to accusations about the whiteness of her wash. TV still can get more satiric kidding itself than any other subject, including politics.

★ ★ ★

In connection with television commercials, there is great interest and in many quarters, concern, about a current trend toward splitting 60 second spots into two 30-second commercials. It started when companies bought the usual minute periods and started selling two of its products in the time. Then companies started swapping 30 second spots among themselves. The question now is whether the networks will sell 30 second spots the way they sell minute participations. The idea has considerable resistance.

The three networks obviously are finding coverage of the peace talks in Paris somewhat frustrating. The preliminaries are not productive of much news that the cameras can capture. Dignitaries entering and leaving the conference hall and mass news conferences are hardly the ideal TV news story.

★ ★ ★

NBC, handling the networks' pool, has a staff of 60 tied up on the conference, and the other two networks have almost as many. Some important news events are just not adapted to TV's visual requirements, and they include diplomatic conferences behind closed doors and courtrooms, to which cameras are denied access.

Recommended tonight: "Big Cats, Little Cats," NBC, 8-9 EDT.

Poor People's Shanties Take Shape in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hundreds of unpainted plywood shanties took shape in front of the Lincoln Memorial today as the Poor People's Campaign hammered together its temporary home away from home.

Just 10 hours after The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy drove a symbolic stake into the ground, 88 prefabricated, tent-shaped structures stretched in four even rows down the mile-long, tree-lined grassy Mall familiar to millions of tourists.

By midnight the site resembled an Army biouvac area. Curious couples strolled past reflecting pools whose rippling waters pictured the glow of flashlights and enough moonlit piles of lumber to build another 100 or so shanties.

★ ★ ★

Five years ago, Abernathy's predecessor, the slain Dr. Martin Luther King, stood on the steps of the Lincoln Memorial to tell 200,000 marchers, "I have a dream . . ."

That dream, Abernathy has repeatedly told his followers, did not die with King.

With a carpenter's apron tied around his stocky, denim-clad frame, he told some 400 people Monday that "we will be here for a long, long time . . ."

★ ★ ★

"We will be in Washington," he said, "until the Congress of the United States and the leaders of the various departments of our government decide they are going to do something about poverty and unemployment and underemployment . . ."

Each blow from the Southern Christian Leadership Conference president's hammer was echoed by a shouted "Freedom!" from the audience, most of whom had marched and ridden with him on a five-day trek from Mississippi.

TODAY'S AGENDA

Finishing the shanties of "Resurrection City U.S.A." is the main item on today's agenda.

The estimated 450 demonstrators on hand early today slept in church basements and recreation rooms Monday night, but many are scheduled to spend tonight in their new plywood quarters.

★ ★ ★

Chalked lines on the grass mark out sewer pipe trenches to be dug. Electric company crews installed equipment.

A second contingent of marchers from the Midwest is scheduled to arrive Thursday, following by an Eastern caravan Friday and a Southern caravan Sunday.

GOAL IS 3,000

SCLC has voiced hope they will raise the total to the goal of 3,000 "permanent" demonstrators who will live in the campsite. It has tentatively set next Monday for the beginning of mass demonstrations which, a staff memo said, may provoke "mass arrests and police brutality."

Despite repeated reminders from Abernathy that his demonstrators will remain nonviolent, the Midwest contingent briefly flirted with trouble in Detroit when they tried to stop police from towing away a car.

A march leader said Monday night that the car, parked in front of downtown Cobo Hall, had been disabled by a dead battery, and that a replacement had been sent for.

But he said about 200 police converged on the scene. Witnesses said the parade's own marshals quieted things.

He was scheduled to fly to Philadelphia for a rally today with the Northeast caravan at which Dr. King's widow was scheduled to speak.

★ ★ ★

OU Hosts Highland Fling

More than 250 pipers, drummers and dancers from the United States and Canada will participate in the National Highland Dance Competition Saturday and Sunday at Oakland University.

The colorful event being held in conjunction with Michigan Week marks the first time Michigan has hosted the dance competition.

★ ★ ★

Highlight of the two-day event will be the combined performance of all competitors at 12:30 Sunday on the Oakland University grounds. The public is invited to the march which will begin in front of the Sports and Recreation Building and procede to Vandenberg Hall.

★ ★ ★

Local pipe bands that will be represented in the national competition and the Sunday performance will be the Detroit St. Andrews Pipe Band, the Redford Highlanders and the Michigan Highlanders.

The dance competition will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturday in the Sports and Recreation Building. The public can view competitors, whose ages range from five to twenty years, vie for trophies and medals which will be presented to the winners of such dances as the Highland Fling, Sword Dance and Highland Reel.

★ ★ ★

Judges at the games will be Sharon Farrar from Venice, Calif., and Miss Jean Pringle from Perth, Scotland.

★ ★ ★

The two judges will select the two best dancers from the competition. The winners will compete in the world championships which will be held in Scotland this summer.

Accidents caused an estimated total of 112,000 deaths in the United States during 1967, about 1,000 fewer than in 1966.

Red Cross Seeks Help for Needs

Volunteers are needed to serve the community's needs in the months ahead, the Oakland Region of the Southeastern Michigan Chapter of the American Red Cross announced today.

Most needed are hospital volunteers, persons willing to provide personal services for patients that overworked hospital staffs do not have time to do.

★ ★ ★

Opportunities to serve exist at Botsford General, in Farmington Township, Pontiac General, Pontiac Osteopathic, Pontiac State and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, according to the Red Cross.

Social welfare aides to assist professional case workers in serving men on military duty, veterans and their families also are needed.

OFFICE WORKERS

Anyone with talents in office work, such as typing, filing, telephoning, are needed in the local Red Cross office.

Volunteer drivers are also in demand, to help deliver blood to hospitals and supplies and personnel.

★ ★ ★

Throughout the county, Red Cross needs blood program aides and volunteer registered nurses to work at bloodmobile sites. Aides register donors help in donor room procedures and serve as hostesses in the refreshment room.

The local office at 118 Franklin Blvd. can give additional information about Red Cross volunteer jobs.

Bobby Wins Decisively in Nebraska

By The Associated Press

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy has rolled up a decisive Democratic presidential victory in Nebraska but Hubert H. Humphrey's backers claim the vice president already has almost enough delegates for the nomination.

Kennedy — defeating Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy 51 per cent to 31 in yesterday's voting — invited McCarthy to join forces with him. McCarthy promptly turned him down.

Related Stories, Page B-4

Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon got 70 per cent of the vote. California Gov. Ronald Reagan got 22 per cent and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller got a write-in of about 5 per cent.

Here are the Nebraska returns with about 94 per cent of the vote counted:

GOP Vote

Nixon	128,411	70 Pct.
Reagon	39,923	22 Pct.
Rockefeller	9,865	5 Pct.
Stassen	2,507	1 Pct.
Others	1,187	1 Pct.
Wallace	619	0 Pct.

Democratic Vote

Kennedy	77,917	51 Pct.
McCarthy	46,798	31 Pct.
Humphrey	12,830	8 Pct.
Johnson	8,519	6 Pct.
Nixon	2,099	1 Pct.
Wallace	1,403	1 Pct.
Others	1,983	1 Pct.

'SURPRISED BY SHOWING'

Reagan said he was surprised by his showing and repeated he would accept the GOP nomination if it were offered but said he "could not now foresee myself soliciting the job."

* * *

Humphrey backers said the Kennedy-McCarthy outcome was not surprising. They claimed the real significance was a CBS forecast that Humphrey would get 1,265 of the 1,312 first-ballot convention votes needed for nomination and Kennedy would get 585.

Kennedy's primary victory was his third in a row, following Indiana and the District of Columbia by a week.

McCarthy said he was satisfied with his Nebraska vote and would campaign alone as planned in Oregon and California.

McCarthy said he's about even with Kennedy in Oregon now and said California offers him his best chance of winning.

* * *

Candidates favoring Nixon won all 16 GOP convention delegate contests. But the contest for 28 Democratic delegate seats was unclear with most candidates listed as uncommitted — or pledged to non-candidate President Johnson.

In West Virginia's primary, Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr. appeared to have won the Republican gubernatorial nomination over ex-Gov. Cecil H. Underwood. Atty. Gen. C. Donald Robertson had a perilously thin lead over state Democratic chairman James M. Sprouse for the Democratic nomination.

COLLISION IN FOG — Oakland County sheriff's deputies work to clear the scene of a chain-reaction accident that occurred in dense fog early today at Clarkston Road and M24 in Orion Township. The mishap happened about 7:30 a.m. when a gravel truck stopped for a red light and was hit from behind by another truck, deputies said. Six persons from the four vehicles ultimately involved in the accident were taken to Pontiac General Hospital. Jerome Kowalski, 33, of 255 Angle, Lapeer, was reportedly the most seriously injured.

C of C Directors Back Fair Housing

The board of directors of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce today announced its support of the fair housing ordinance to be decided by Pontiac voters June 24 in a special election.

The ordinance, adopted by a 4-3 vote of the Pontiac City Commission Jan. 30, was placed on the ballot following the filing of petitions for a referendum vote. It never has been put into effect.

* * *

In a unanimously approved resolution, the board said its position has been to "support fair housing in concept and, specifically, to work toward the reduction and elimination of the effects of racism in all aspects of the community."

'CONSTRUCTIVE FORCE'

The resolution reads in part: "Whereas the board . . . recognizes that a constructive force for growth of our area is the improvement of race relations and whereas federal open housing legislation is existent and state fair housing legislation imminent, it is evident that the passage or defeat of Pontiac's ordinance No. 1577 will resolve itself as a test of goodwill and hope."

The board also urged that fair housing be implemented promptly throughout the entire Pontiac area.

* * *

Recognizing the Pontiac Area Friends of Fair Housing as the "focal group to further implement the understanding toward and passage of local fair housing legislation," the board said it is encouraging members of the Chamber to support the group.

City OKs Rates for Parking Mall

A tentative parking rate structure for the planned parking mall on North Saginaw between Huron and Lawrence was announced last night by City Manager Joseph A. Warren.

The City Commission at its meeting gave general approval to the rates.

Related Stories, Page B-13

Warren said they will be put into effect when the mall opens Monday if downtown merchants are generally agreeable.

* * *

The rates call for a five-cent charge for the first half-hour, 10 cents for an hour, 15 cents for 1½ hours, 25 cents for two hours and 35 cents for each additional hour.

When implemented, the mall will provide 70 parking spaces. Parking will be at right angles to the curb. The present parking scheme has only 14 spaces of parking parallel to the curb.

ENTRANCE GATES

Entrance gates will be provided at Huron and Lawrence but cars will only be able to exit at Lawrence. Barricades and gates will be erected at each end with an attendant on duty at the exit to take tolls.

Decorative planters and benches will be placed along the sidewalk in the mall to create a pleasant effect, officials said.

* * *

The mall will be in operation during shopping hours Monday through Saturday. The movable gates and barricades will be moved to allow traffic to use Saginaw during other hours, Warren said.

The manager said the rate structure allows a modest charge for short stops, a reasonable rate for those who wish to stay long and a steep rate to discourage those who might want to use the facility for all-day parking.

Demand Voiced at Paris

Hanoi Hits U.S. on DMZ

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam demanded in the Paris talks today that the United States and its allies halt all attacks across the demilitarized zone into North Vietnamese territory and withdraw completely from the area.

Ambassador Xuan Thuy, in a statement directed at U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman specifically demanded that the United States stop all firing of artillery across the zone.

North Vietnamese spokesman said Thuy linked the demand with North Vietnam's insistence that the United States must halt the rest of the bombing of the North and stop "all other acts of war" before the talks here can go on to other issues.

The United States and South Vietnam have forces just below the demilitarized zone to counter North iVetnamese army regulars who allied commanders say infiltrate through the DMZ and around its western end via Laos.

So far as is known no allied forces are inside the DMZ, which divides the two Vietnams, although soem forays have been made to attack enemy positions there. U.S. planes also have bombed the buffer zone from time to time.

In his opening remarks at the first full session Monday, Harriman called for a restoration of the DMZ as a nonmilitary buffer zone.

* * *

The two sides met for 3½ hours today and Harriman described the discussions as extensive and active. He did not elaborate.

The negotiators decided not to meet again until Saturday.

U.S. REPORT

Harriman spoke first today for an hour and Thuy for an hour and a half, each time including translations.

While the North Vietnamese briefing was under way on the Left Bank of the Seine, an American report to newsmen by spokesman William Jorden was given at the U.S. Embassy.

Dues Deadline for UAW Today

DETROIT (AP) — Today is the deadline the AFL-CIO has set for the United Auto Workers union to catch up on its dues or be suspended. Neither side has indicated it intends to relent.

A spokesman for Walter P. Reuther's 1.4-million member UAW, which has marked its payments for escrow because of policy differences with the parent organization, said last night the auto workers had not changed their plans.

* * *

George Meany, president of the federation, also gave no hint that he had changed his.

Suspension, said an AFL-CIO source, would deny the UAW any positions within the federation and would, in effect, place the union in an "inactive" category.

FINAL BREACH

Both the auto workers and the federation characterized the potential suspension as a final breach in their relationship.

* * *

"It's a withdrawal," Meany said Monday in announcing the deadline.

"We're being kicked out," the UAW spokesman said.

* * *

But technically, the UAW would continue to have ties with the federation and could resume an active role simply by paying its overdue assessments, an AFL-CIO source said.

* * *

The UAW, largest of the almost 130 unions in the 14-million member federation, could sever all connections with the organization by formally withdrawing, a step the union has authorized but not taken despite repeated indications that it intended to move in that direction.

* * *

The federation also could end all connections with the auto workers by expelling the union.

Tavern License Action May 28

The long-discussed issue of upgrading Pontiac's tavern licenses will be taken up by the City Commission at its May 28 meeting, Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. said last night.

Taylor said a proposal at that time will be made to follow most of the 1964 recommendations of a special committee which was appointed to study the matter.

* * *

The commission has the authority to allow all Tavern licenses in the city to be upgraded to full Class C status. Under state law taverns can sell only beer and wine (up to 16 per cent alcohol by volume) for consumption on the premises.

* * *

Class C bars can sell all spirits, which includes whisky, gin, vodka, rum, etc., for consumption on the premises.

Fair Housing Near Final House Vote

LANSING (AP) — Open housing was in line for final action in the House today — placed there by a marathon battle yesterday that lasted until nearly midnight. Some legislators predicted passage with five or more votes to spare.

House leaders hoped for a showdown on the controversial bill today, but only after informal attempts to iron out differences between their chamber's version and the bill which passed the Senate April 4.

* * *

Two major compromises — one near the beginning and one near the end of yesterday's eight-hour floor fight — hammered the bill into the shape in which it moved to third reading in the House.

The chamber adopted 17 of the 75 amendments offered to the Senate version of the housing bill and rejected a proposed substitute.

150 S. Viets, 6 Americans Feared Dead in Air Crash

SAIGON (AP) — About 150 South Vietnamese and six Americans are believed to have been killed in the crash of a C130 cargo plane at the Kham Duc Special Forces camp, military spokesmen said today.

The four-engine transport was downed by North Vietnamese fire Sunday as it sought to evacuate South Vietnamese irregulars and their families from the besieged camp, which later fell to the Communists.

The North Vietnamese also downed three other U. S. planes, including another C130, and five helicopters in the attack.

If the 156 deaths are confirmed, the toll would be more than triple the worst previous crash of the Vietnam war and would also exceed the world's worst civilian aviation disaster, the collision of two airliners over New York City on Dec. 16, 1960, in which 130 persons were killed.

CREWMEN ESCAPE

The second C130 lost was just landing to pick up government troops when it was hit by antiaircraft fire. The six American crewmen aboard escaped but the plane was destroyed.

Kham Duc is 350 miles northeast of Saigon, about 30 miles southwest of Da Nang, and 13½ miles from the Laotian border. American B52 bombers continued today to pound the enemy troops around the camp, which was abandoned over the weekend. In the Saigon area, the mopup of Vietcong and North Vietnamese forces continued in the aftermath of the Communist offensive last week, and allied forces reported killing 226 enemy outside the capital yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The C130 in which there was such a large loss of life was shot down Sunday during the removal from Kham Duc of the camp's garrison of civilian irregulars, their families, the U.S. Green Beret troops who led them and South Vietnamese army troops stationed there.

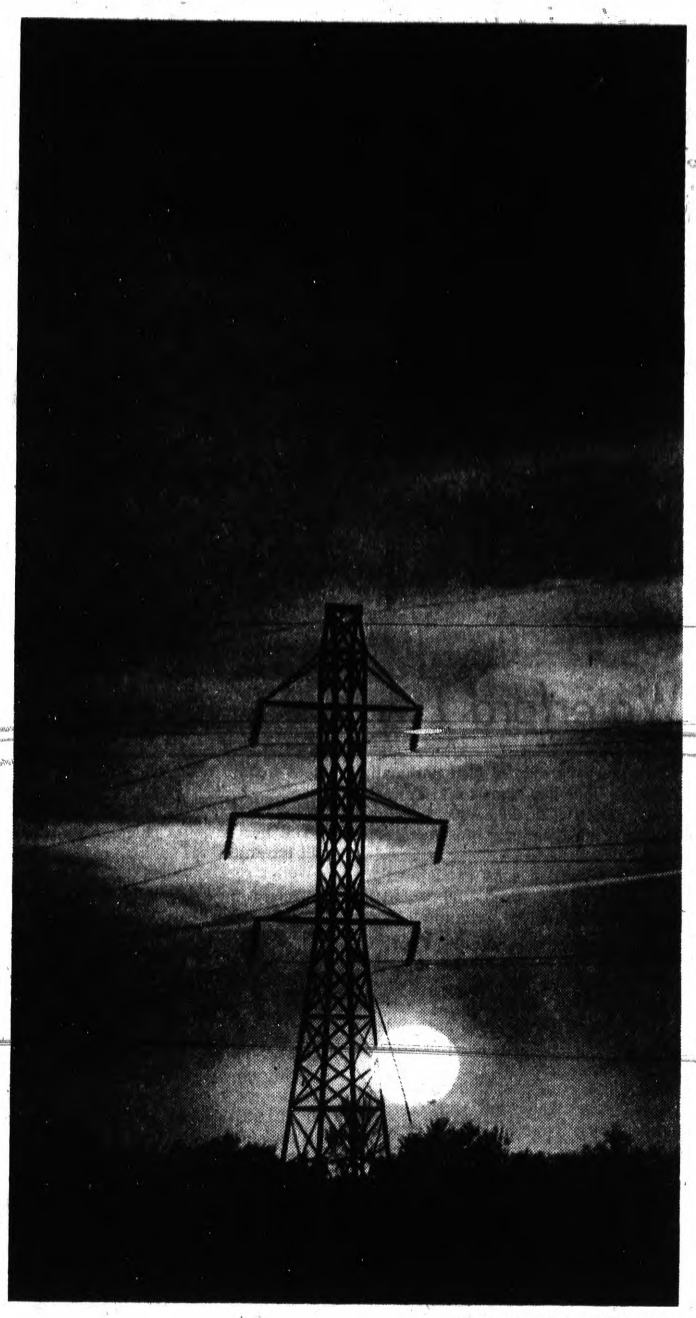

"The best we can figure is that it was a full load," said one U.S. source. "We figure a full load of South Vietnamese on a C130 is about 150 persons. There seem to be no survivors."

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Command announced earlier that the plane's six American crewmen and an unknown number of South Vietnamese were killed. Other Americans could have been aboard, but it was believed most or all of the passengers were Vietnamese.

★ ★ ★

The plane reportedly was hit as it was taking off, crashed into the side of a mountain and exploded.

Split Could Hurt Humphrey

UAW Suspension Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO is ready to suspend Walter Reuther's big United Auto Workers union in an historic labor split that could spell trouble for the White House bid of Hubert H. Humphrey.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, who founded the 14-million-member labor federation with Reuther 13 years ago, said Monday the UAW will be suspended if it doesn't pay up back dues by tomorrow. This is an unlikely prospect in view of the vote by the 1.5-million-member UAW to stop monthly dues payments.

★ ★ ★

"This is not an expulsion, it is a withdrawal" by the UAW, Meany said. Referring to Reuther, Meany said, "He's taking this method of withdrawing."

In Detroit, UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock said his union will not seek to halt the threatened suspension.

'JUST AS GLAD'

"I'm just as glad the AFL took this position," he said without elaboration The imminent suspension climaxes a two-year fight between Meany and Reuther.

It also appears certain to further fracture organized labor's once united political front into partisan camps pitting supporters of Vice President Humphrey supporters against backers of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The 73-year-old Meany is committing the giant labor federation's total political support to Humphrey.

Reuther, 60-year-old former Detroit Reuther, 60, is reported leaning toward Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

Meany concedes the AFL-CIO can't deliver a bloc labor vote, and the schism with Reuther is believed likely to further the straying of many younger union members toward the political camps of Kennedy or Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn.

Meany said he had no choice under the AFL-CIO's constitution, which Reuther helped write, but to declare the Auto Workers suspended for falling three months behind in dues effective tomorrow.

Paris Diplomats Face Big Task

PARIS (AP) — The first positions taken by the United States and North Vietnam in the Paris cease-fire talks suggest that only the patient, skillful diplomacy of compromise can eventually bring peace to the war ravaged provinces of Vietnam France likely will have a critical go-between role to play.

★ ★ ★

On the surface, the first exchange between Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Ambassador Xuan Thuy produced a solid deadlock. They disagreed totally on new moves to scale down the fighting. But neither delegation seems to accept this deadlock as final; it is regarded rather as a start toward bargaining.

★ ★ ★

The two positions on this and other issues were staked out at Monday's opening session in a 4,000-word speech in Vietnamese by Xuan Thuy and an 1,800-word speech by Harriman. Thuy spoke first at Harriman's suggestion.

After three hours of speechmaking and translations in the International Conference Center's grand salon, Harriman reluctantly agreed to the North Vietnamese proposal to skip a meeting today and hold the second session tomorrow morning.

★ ★ ★

Xuan Thuy said there should be time to consult with the governments back home. U.S. officials speculated that he wanted to give leaders in Hanoi time to study Harriman's statement and send new instructions if they thought it necessary.

5 Arraigned on Charges in 'Loan Shark Racket'

GROSSE POINTE (AP) — Five men — including at least two purported Mafia leaders — were arraigned today in Grosse Pointe Municipal Court on charges stemming from what Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley described as "a large-scale loan shark racket."

All five were charged with conspiracy to extort, which carries a maximum penalty of 20 years in prison.

All stood mute and were released on bonds ranging from $2,500 to $10,000 to await preliminary examination.

Kelley identified the men as Anthony Giacalone, 49, and Vito (Billy) Giacalone, 45, brothers, of Grosse Pointe Shores; Bernie Marchesani, 44, of Roseville; James Karalla, 34, and Clarence Stephan, 42, both of Detroit.

Kelley said the five were arrested today as the result of a six-month investigation by his organized crime division into a large-scale loan shark racket.

The Giacalone brothers have been identified as alleged Mafia connection in U.S. Senate Rackets Committee testimony.

★ ★ ★

Named as a coconspirator with the five was Robert Dunaway, 37, who was charged with murder in the slaying of Sam Dimaggio, 57, of Sterling Township.

Three other men previously were charged in the murder of Dimaggio, who was taken from his home and beaten to death.

'LOAN SHARK VICTIM'

Dimaggio was described by police as a loan shark victim.

Dunaway, a Detroit bar owner, was found murdered last week in Atlanta, Ga. His body was found in the trunk of a parked car with license plates tracked back to Detroit.

The five were rounded up in a dawn raid by members of the attorney general's criminal investigation staff, State Police, Sterling Township police and Grosse Pointe detectives.

★ ★ ★

Kelley said the investigation is continuing and more arrests are expected

The attorney general said the loan shark racked involved loans made at a rate of anywhere from 1 to 5 per cent a week interest.

Payment was assured, he said, by a group of "enforcers" who maintained constant pressure on their victims by violence and threat of violence.

Reapportionment Plan

What county district would you be in under the proposed reapportionment of Oakland County? There are some drastic changes pending with the number on the Board of Supervisors cut from 87 to 27.

The Pontiac Press is printing, on Page B-5, a proposed plan. It is being contested in the courts and is not yet official, however.

Area School Head Quits

The Huron Valley Board of Education last night accepted the unexpected resignation of Supt. Truman Owens.

Owens and the school board have had public differences — mostly over matters of school district finances.

★ ★ ★

The resignation was accepted by a 4-1 vote with only Harry Porter voting no. Porter described the Owens' resignation as "the biggest catastrophe the school system has ever had." He did not elaborate.

Owens said his reason for resignation is that he has accepted "an attractive offer of another position."

Owens added that he can't reveal details until later this week when the other school district will announce his employment.

The 43-year-old superintendent said he accepted his new job last Tuesday. It will necessitate his moving from his present residence at 1532 Pruit, Highland Township, he said.

★ ★ ★

Owens has been superintendent three years and had signed a three-year contract last June.

The superintendent was asked last night by presiding president Trask to seek the advice of the Oakland Schools regarding filling the vacancy.

5 on Poor March Hurt in Detroit Incident

DETROIT (AP) — Five persons in the Midwest contingent of the Poor People's March on Washington were injured yesterday — none seriously — as Detroit mounted police moved into a group of about 100 protesting police efforts to remove a stalled automobile.

The injuries came as a dozen of the horsemen reportedly rode into a group of about 15 marchers — including Milwaukee civil rights leader Father James Groppi — in front of Detroit's Cobo Hall.

★ ★ ★

A march leader, Abraham Rice of Chicago, said he had been ordered by police to move the stalled communications car, equipped with a public address system.

★ ★ ★

When police tried to move in with a tow truck to remove the car, he ordered a group of marchers to surround it.

Then, Rice said, police moved in with clubs swinging.

About 1,000 marchers, visibly angered by the incident, returned by bus to an inner city church "to sit and talk shop about what we're going to do."

About 200 police reinforcements quickly arrived, but they stood back while Southern Christian Leadership Conference marshals moved marchers back inside Cobo Hall.

★ ★ ★

The crowd at the downtown rally dwindled from maximum strength of about 3,500 to about 1,000 when some of the march participants began tearing legs from folding tables to use as makeshift weapons. Marshals persuaded them to drop the table legs and there were no further incidents

OFFICIAL WELCOME—Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh talks with Abraham (Barracuda) Rice, Chicago leader of the Poor People's March, as its Midwest contingent prepared to march to Cobo Hall last night. Sales Period Tops for Pontiac Div.

Pontiac Motor Division today reported sales of 41,011 for the May 1-10 period, the highest 10-day total for the division in the 1968 model year.

According to Thomas L. King, Pontiac's general sales manager, it also marked only the fourth time in the division's 42-year history that sales have exceeded 41,000 for any 10-day period.

★ ★ ★

"We are extremely pleased with our dealer's sales performance. Our optimistic outlook for a seventh consecutive record year has been bolstered by a rejuvenated economy and a new wave of consumer confidence," King said.

Since the first of the year, a total of 324,507 1968 models have been sold. This compares to 298,644 in the same period last year.

Veep's Visit Delays Fair-Housing Debate

LANSING (AP)—An address to the Legislature today by Vice President Hubert Humphrey delayed debate on the controversial open housing bill, which opened in the House last night.

Humphrey, a Democratic presidential candidate, planned a private talk with former Republican contender Gov. George Romney before speaking to a joint House-Senate session.

★ ★ ★

After the speech, he planned appearances in Detroit.

With more than 60 amendments pending to the controversial, Senate -passed open housing bill, the House was expected to take up the issue again late today.

Three weakening amendments to the measure were defeated yesterday, but on change would have the bill outlaw racial or religious discrimination in sale or rental of all but a few types of housing. Notably exempted would be rental of rooms in a private house occupied by the owner.

Beaten back yesterday as the House took up the housing bill were proposals to exempt all one-family houses (defeated 17-59), homes owned by the same person at least five years (44-44) and homes sold or rented without the aid of realtors or units in buildings designed for four or fewer families, including the owner (40-42).

Approved 50-39 was an amendment stating that in any bias proceeding before the State Civil Rights Commission, the person accused in the complaint would be guaranteed all rights, privileges and safeguards that he would enjoy in a criminal proceeding.

Any amendment put on the bill during the current general orders debates — which feature unlimited debate and non-roll call votes—could be challenged when the measure is moved into position for final action, probably later this week.

In that case, it would take 55 votes in the 109-member chamber to uphold the amendments previously made. At the same time, any amendment defeated on general orders may be reoffered later.

ANNUAL INCREASES

The House also approved bills allowing annual pay increases for county drain commissioners, requiring delegates to county fall political conventions to receive at least three election votes, increasing probate court power to detain juveniles over 15, and transferring the Highway Department's weightmaster division to the State Public Service Commission.

In the Senate, a controversial court reorganization bill was advanced to third reading following brief debate on several amendments.

Other bills advanced to final stage in the upper chamber included a measure calling for a statewide referendum on Nov. 5 to decide whether the state should issue $335 million bonds to finance sewage treatment plants and other water pollution abatement facilities.

The upper chamber also passed to third reading a bill designed to improve tenant's and landlord's rights, require motorcyclists to wear crash helmets and for registration of snowmobiles.

HAROLD M. PROVIZER

Detroit Attorney Seeks Election to OCC Board

A Detroit attorney is one of 13 candidates who will be on the June 10 ballot for Oakland Community College Board of Trustees. Three people will be elected to six-year terms.

Harold M. Provizer, 32, of 20690 Winchester, Southfield, is the senior partner in a law firm which specializes in labor law and personal injury litigation.

He began his law career after graduating from Wayne State University Law School in 1960.

A native of Detroit who came to Southfield two years ago, Provizer is a member of the Kiwanis and Southfield Jaycees in addition to several law assoications. He is married.

His statement:

"I believe in a community school. It is our responsibility in Oakland County to see that the school serves the purposes of the Oakland County students who for varied reasons find it impossible financially or scholastically to attend one of our big state universities.

"Secondly, I believe in continued growth of the school both in quantity and quality of education offered.

"It is the responsibility of the school to make itself available to the county for communitywide educational purposes

"In Oakland County, a community college should mean a strong positive tie with education."

LBJ May Have to Accept a $6-Billion Spending Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress members close to the tax controversy are speculating President Johnson will have to accept a tax bill containing a $6 billion budget cut or there will be no tax bill at all.

Johnson has labeled a $6 billion slash as unacceptable although he has repeatedly pleaded for early enactment of his proposal for a 10 per cent surcharge on income taxes. But Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler told Congress Monday he would accept a $6 billion cut in order to get the tax hike.

One congressional member close to the Johnson administration said it would be hopeless to send the tax measure—already passed by the Senate—back to a conference committee to have the spending limit shaved closer to the $4 billion the President has said would reluctantly accept.

The conference committee approved the $6 billion figure last week.

"If we send it back to conference, it will never come out," said the member, who asked not to be quoted by name.

Others opposed to the deep spending cut said privately the best strategy appears to be to pass the bill and hope the spending stringency can be eased later by separate legislation.

WAIT AND SEE

There continued to be considerable doubt whether the House will pass the bill. Handlers of the legislation appeared inclined to delay a vote until Johnson gives a clearer indication of whether he would ultimately sign a bill with a $6 biflion spending slash provision.

Although the President has spoken in strong terms against such a deep cut, he has never specifically said he would veto such a bill.

★ ★ ★

Observers said that if Johnson gave the word, even privately, that he would accept the package rather than lose the $10 billion tax increase, passage would be virtually assured.

Fowler is the first top administration official to publicly endorse the $6 billion spending cut although his prime interest obviously is in getting the tax increase he and Johnson have long sought.

Fowler supported the compromise package at a Senate Finance Committee hearing and further explained his endorsement in a subsequent interview.

"Yes, I'm for that bill," he said. "I've been for it all along."

The Treasury Department's public affairs office said it had understood Fowler only endorsed the tax hike and "doing something about the deficit" without going into specifics about spending cuts. But later the department said Fowler would stand by the transcript of the hearing—in which he endorsed the package measure.

CWA Dissidents Agree to Mail Vote

DETROIT (AP)—Representatives of the Communications Workers of America and two of its balking local unions agreed yesterday on the international's polling members of the locals by mail on a new three-year contract the locals previously rejected.

U.S. District Judge Thomas P. Thornton then adjourned until June 4 a request by the two locals for an injunction to prohibit a second polling of their members.

CWA has ordered members of Local 4000 of Detroit and 4016 of Warren to cast ballots anew by Friday midnight, with the results to be certified Sunday midnight by a public accounting firm.

Both locals originally voted against fitting to Michigan Bell Telephone Co. CWA's national settlement with the Bell system.

Local 4000 represents some 5,300 CWA members and 4016 some 2,500.

A hearing on the request for injunction had been set for Monday, but Judge Thornton called attorneys for both sides into his chambers and asked them to try to work out their differences, saying he would act if they failed to do so.

Session on Map, Zoning Law Set

City commissioners will continue a public hearing on the city's proposed new zoning ordinance and zoning map at tonight's meeting in City Hall at 8.

Changes in zoning in the city in line with actual or expected development, officials said.

This is the first major change of the map and ordinance since 1938, they said.

The Pontiac Press carried a special supplement April 26 detailing all the proposed changes.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, the commission is scheduled to:

★ ★ ★

- Consider authorizing transfer of the city health department to the Oakland County payroll.
- Authorize parking rates for the parking mall which will be created—starting Monday — on North Saginaw between Huron and Pike.
- Consider selling city-owned land at the southeast corner of Featherstone and East Boulevard—the city's former incinerator — for development of a nursing home.

Birmingham

Refrigeration, Heat Codes Are Revised

BIRMINGHAM—City Commission last night gave its approval to changes in the city's reciprocal refrigeration and heating ordinance. Building permit fees also were hiked.

The revamp follows the model codes of the Reciprocal Refrigeration Council and the Reciprocal Heating Council, according to building department official Harold C. Weber.

★ ★ ★

Included in the approved amendments was one establishing a board of building trades appeals, the official body for hearing appeals on permit requirements.

The board, to be appointed soon, will include contractors from each of the building trades, an architect and, as an ex-officio member, the building department head.

BIG FEE HIKE

The new scale of permit fees will result in an average fee hike of 88 per cent.

Weber recommended the new scale because, he said, the building department must be subsidized from the general tax fund as the fees presently stand. He also noted that fees are generally lower in Birmingham than in other municipalities.

★ ★ ★

The new rate structure, based on an average $40,000 single-family residence, calls for increases of 54 per cent for the building permit, 10 per cent for the electric permit, 116 per cent for the plumbing permit, 135 per cent for the heating permit and 100 per cent for the air conditioning permit.

In other business, the commission approved, with reservations, the Oakland County Board Commission's plan for the paving and grading of Cranbrook Road from Lincoln to 14 Mile.

GRADE TO BE RAISED

City Engineer William T. Killeen reported that the plans include raising the grade a maximum of seven feet south of Lincoln, a maximum nine-foot raise for the low area north of 14 Mile, and grade lowering of a maximum of six feet south of Northlawn.

"Cranbrook Road will be considerably higher than the existing roadway along the Bloomfield Art Association (BAA) lot," Killeen noted, "making access virtually impossible to the parking lot at the existing entrance location."

The county commission has agreed to construct a new entry to the BAA lot, but two other problems remain, Killeen said. One involves the cut which would be made along Cranbrook north of the BAA building line.

As proposed, the county plan would result in a "rather abrupt" ridge running north and south along Cranbrook, the city engineer said. However, he continued, grading further west from the road could alleviate the problem.

ANOTHER PROBLEM

The other difficulty, a city matter, involves the water main along Cranbrook,which might have to be replaced at a different level because of the changes in grade, Killeen said.

The city engineer recommended that a plan for replacement of the main be prepared.

The Commission also received a report from A. P. Blethen, superintendent of the department of public works, on possible improvement of the BAA parking lot.

'POOR' BASE

Blethen recommended that the "poor" base material of the lot be removed and replaced, and that double sealcoat be applied. He estimated cost for the entire operation at $820.

The commission directed the administration to report on the possibility of permanently paving the lot instead.

Little Rock Flooding

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Firemen began evacuating families from their homes in Little Rock today when a creek that runs through the southern portion of the city spilled out of its banks and threatened residents of low-lying areas.

Until Contamination Probe Ends

Japan Bars U.S. Nuclear Subs

TOKYO (AP) — Japan has asked the United States to keep its nuclear submarines away until investigators clear up suspicions that one of them contaminated the waters of a Japanese port.

Chief Cabinet Secretary Toshio Kimura said today the request was made yesterday, the day after the government scientists said the submarine Swordfish may have caused a radioactivity count 10 to 20 times higher than normal in the waters of Sasebo, site of a U.S. naval base in southern Japan.

★ ★ ★

The scientists added that the reported radioactivity count was far below the danger level for humans, but initial reports of the possible contamination already have set off new demands from the Socialist opposition that U.S. nuclear-powered ships be barred from Japan.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Embassy declined to comment on Kimura's statement, but the U.S. State and Navy Departments said earlier they were satisfied that the Swordfish was not responsible for the increase in radioactivity.

The submarine was at Sasebo, 550 miles southwest of Tokyo, May 2-11 for a rest and recreation leave for the crew. The Japanese nuclear specialists took their radioactivity reading May 6.

The State Department said three investigators from the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission would arrive in Japan tomorrow to help the Japanese scientists investigate the cause of the increased radioactivity.

The Japanese government welcomed the assistance but stressed that Japan will be "solely responsible for whatever conclusion is to be reached."

Naotsugu Nabeshima, director of the government's Science and Technology Agency, told newsmen: "We have repeatedly examined the situation in Sasebo, and as of now the only conceivable factor is the Swordfish. We must determine how the high readings were recorded, and for this we needed the U.S. cooperation."

West Virginia Primary Today

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — West Virginia voters pick delegates to the Republican and Democratic national conventions and select party nominees for governor today in a state primary election.

All three Democratic presidential contenders—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy — have made West Virginia appearances seeking support among the 110 candidates for Democratic convention seats.

* * *

Preferences of Democratic delegate candidates polled by The Associated Press showed Kennedy favored by the largest number, with Humphrey a close second and McCarthy a distant third.

Sixty-five Republicans are running for convention seats. Among those who announced their preference, Richard M. Nixon's margin over Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was between 2-to-1 and 3-to-1. Neither campaigned in the state.

NO RACE

The West Virginia primary has no presidential preference race this year, in contrast to the 1960 battle in which John F. Kennedy defeated Humphrey.

The state sends 36 delegates to the Democratic national convention, 14 to the Republican. Because of a long ballot that also includes dozens of state, district and county offices, most counties do not tabulate delegate votes on election night. Final results will not be known until late in the week.

* * *

Whether the West Virginia delegates vote by unit rule at the conventions will be decided by the delegations after their election. Primary results do not bind the delegates.

West Virginia does not have crossover voting, and write-ins are not counted in its primaries.

GOVERNOR'S RACE

Chief contenders for the Democratic nomination to succeed Democratic Gov. Hulett C. Smith—ineligible to succeed himself—are C. Donald Robertson, finishing his second term as state attorney general; James M. Sprouse, the party's state chairman, and Paul J. Kaufman, a state senator from Charleston. Robertson appeared to have the edge, but not by a big margin.

Not considered serious candidates are E. C. "Eddie" Cales of Hinton and Huntington attorney Peter D. Beter on the Republican side and Blair F. Winans of Weston and William A. Lawson of Fairmont in the Democratic camp.

Underwood was the state's 1957-61 governor, the only Republican to hold office since 1929-33. Since his 1956 victory for governor, he has been defeated twice, as U.S. senate nominee in 1960 and as GOP nominee against Smith in 1964.

CONGRESSIONAL

The chief congressional contest was in the upstate 1st District, where six Democrats and three Republicans sought nomination for the seat being vacated by Moore. The state's four Democratic incumbents in the U.S. House were running again, and none had serious opposition.

The polls are open from 6:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., EDT.

Contenders for the GOP nomination are ex-Gov. Cecil H. Underwood and six-term Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr., only Republican in the state's Washington delegation. The outcome was generally expected to be close after a bitter campaign between the two longtime party rivals.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY of William C. Leist who passed away May 14, 1958:
God saw you getting weaker,
So he did what he thought best
He came and stood beside you,
An whispered, Come to Rest.
You wished no one a last farewell,
Not even said good-bye.
You were gone before we know it
And only God knows why.
Sadly missed by wife Ida and children.
