Pontiac Girl at Head of Line

First to Apply for MSUO

LOSING NO TIME — When Michigan State University Oakland opens its doors, Lynne E. Anderson wants to be the first one in. The 17-year-old Pontiac High junior has made the first application for admission to MSUO.

Here she is.

Michigan State University Oakland has its first application from a future member of the freshman class which starts one year hence.

Lynne E. Anderson, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Anderson of 35 Oneida Rd., addresses a letter to MSUO with this simple but thrilling first sentence:

"I wish to make formal application for admission as a freshman in the College of Liberal Arts for the first term beginning in September, 1959."

The application will be processed right here by Roy Alexander, director of student services, who is now in residence and Lynne will officially hear from her future Alma Mater.

This is the first oncoming freshman to apply and Miss Lynne can go down in history as Number One. And she's the first of a line that will ultimately extend far into the hundreds of thousands. She has completed her junior year in Pontiac High and starts as a senior in the fall to prepare for her four years at MSUO.

In the meantime, the Fredman Construction Company is hard at work on the new two-million-dollar structure which will be in readiness a year from September.

Pontiac Education Board Passes Austerity Budget

OKs Borrowing of $2 Million for Construction

$7,846,230 Earmarked to Run System and $137,973 for Building

By HAROLD S. COHEN

The Pontiac Board of Education adopted an "austerity" budget for operation next year and agreed to borrow $2 million to finance new school construction at its meeting last night.

The budget provides $7,846,230 for running the school system during 1958-59 and $137,973 to be applied to the construction program.

Together with debt service, the board plans to spend $9,772,140, exclusive of the money it will borrow.

The budget was pruned by more than $500,000 last spring by the administration which eliminated many construction, rehabilitation and maintenance projects as well as some instructional expense.

The board agreed that it must do long-range borrowing for construction for the next few years until the state-wide school financial picture clears.

The board rejected any thought of slashing quality of instruction or stopping its building program in the face of rising enrollments.

It also agreed that borrowing was preferable at this time to asking the voters for more tax money.

The borrowing will be in the form of 25-year bonds with principal payments not to start until 1961.

Superintendent Dana P. Whitmer and Assistant Superintendent Otto Hufziger told the board it could borrow this year up to $2.4 million without a vote of the people, under state law.

Of the $2 million to be borrowed $351,000 will be used to complete payments on schools now under construction and $1.6 million will go for new construction.

Authorized are additions to Madison and Washington Junior High Schools, a new elementary on Square Lake road, and an addition to Bagley School.

The board turned down the administration's request for $140,000 to rehabilitate the swimming pool at Central High School. It did, however, add $7,500 to the budget for a new kitchen at Wisner School.

The general feeling of the board, as expressed by veteran member Louis Schimmel, was that greater financial assistance to school districts by the state must come one day soon as most of the systems were getting deeper into the red.

He counseled that Pontiac, which has a top credit rating and very low indebtedness, borrow until the state acts.

Dr. Whitmer added that the public, which thinks in terms of tax rate, must begin thinking of actual dollars they wish to spend to support schools.

"Our tax rate remains the same, but for the next few years we can expect less dollars as the county equalizes our district at a lower valuation."

The county's action is part of its program to reduce the share of county taxes paid by Pontiac and a few other large cities.

School taxes are levied on state equalized valuation, but this year the state accepted the county

Sees Possibility of GIs Leaving Lebanon Soon

U. S. Delegate to U. N. Gives No Exact Date for Withdrawing

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — James J. Wadsworth, deputy U.S. representative to the United Nations, said today it is possible that U.S. troops can be withdrawn from Lebanon quite soon.

Wadsworth told a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee his views reflected those of the U.S. diplomats in New York.

He did not give any exact date when asked when the United States can pull out of Lebanon. President Eisenhower sent Marines and Army forces there July 14 after complaints from Lebanese President Camille Chamoun about outside intervention in a Lebanese uprising.

"I think it's entirely possible that it will take place quite soon," Wadsworth said.

At the United Nations well-informed diplomats said today Aug. 4 is the earliest likely date on which a summit meeting could be convened in the Security Council. Whether press arrangements would be complete by then was another matter.

U. N. press officers expected a rush of at least 2,000 newsmen to the New York headquarters to cover the vital meeting — more than twice the 800 who flocked here in 1956 to cover the debates during the Suez crisis.

Nobody knew for sure when the meeting would be held, and everybody was waiting word from Washington.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold saw some diplomats and discussed arrangements for housing a summit meeting but he was saying nothing and neither were they.

Ike Proposing That U.N. Decide on Summit Talk

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower proposed to Soviet Premier Khrushchev today that the United Nations Security Council determine whether a Middle East summit conference is "generally acceptable." If so he said, the Council should determine a meeting date and make other arrangements.

Eisenhower sent authorization to U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge at the U.N. to participate in negotiations.

In a letter released by the White House, Eisenhower said he was glad to note that Khrushchev had withdrawn his original proposal for a five-power meeting of government heads at Geneva outside the U.N.

White House press secretary James Hagerty said that Eisenhower personally would attend a summit meeting in New York under the conditions spelled out in his new letter.

In related summit developments around the world:

PARIS—French Premier Charles de Gaulle's government prepared for a New York summit meeting but was holding off its formal reply to Khrushchev's proposal. French diplomats were convinced the summit issue already had handed a great victory to Khrushchev.

MOSCOW — Pravda urged the Western powers to hold a summit conference without delay if the West wants to preserve peace. The Communist party newspaper said none of the "difficulties" mentioned in the American press "can be taken seriously if the United States, British and French governments sincerely want a conference of heads of government to discuss the most important and vital problem of the time—the preservation and consolidation of the peace."

CAIRO — Nikita Khrushchev has boasted to President Nasser that the Soviet Union has weapons which could easily turn the U. S. 6th Fleet into "coffins of molten steel," a Cairo editor said today.

BEIRUT — Rebel leader Saeb Salam said today the rebels will not permit presidential elections to be held as long as President Camille Chamoun is in power and foreign troops are in Lebanon

LONDON—Prospects of the conference were reported to have brought Britain nearer to complete national unity than on any issue since World War II. The three political parties — Liberal, Labor and Conservative — were in agreement the meeting should be held.

Still matters of uncertainty were the time and place for the conference although the United States and Britain seemed to accept Khrushchev's approval of the New York site.

De Gaulle is known to want the meeting in Geneva, Switzerland. He indicated yesterday he has reluctantly decided to attend a New York meeting if the other powers want it there provided it does not last more than two or three days.

The U.S. reply was drawn up by the Chief Executive and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at a White House meeting yesterday and sent to Britain and France for purposes of "consultation" last night.

U. S. Ready to Guarantee Security of Khrushchev

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The American government does not want Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to get the idea his proposed trip to New York will put him in any personal danger, a high administration source said today.

Out of a conglomeration of speculation about security problems involved in the projected summit conference of world leaders at the United Nations, there was this official statement by the U.S. government:

"We have been in touch with the New York Police Department and other agencies which would be responsible for Khrushchev's safety if he comes. As a responsible government, we will be able to assure his protection."

The spokesman was Roderic L. O'Connor, State Department administrator for security. O'Connor's division is in charge of the safety and comfort of official foreign visitors to this country. His authority is wide.

O'Connor and his security experts will serve as the coordinating group for all security arrangements by the U.N. staff, the New York police, the U.S. Secret Service and other agencies for protecting government leaders at the summit meeting if it is held in New York.

Behind O'Connor's statement was genuine worry that mushrooming speculation on security problems might interfere with arrangements for the meeting.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, has been sending reports back to Moscow on some of the speculation in London and New York, including reports it would be difficult to assure Khrushchev's safety in New York.

Some American diplomats think Khrushchev might decide against attending the meeting in New York for political and diplomatic reasons, even though the summit meeting was his own idea, and use the widely-publicized reports of security dangers as an excuse.

Prince Charles Called 'Fatty', Starts Fight

LONDON (UPI) — The heir to the British throne has been fighting again because a schoolmate called him "Fatty," it was reported today.

The London News Chronicle said Prince Charles, a well built youngster, accidentally trod on the foot of another boy during a soccer game at school the other day.

"Get off, Fatty," the prince was told. The Chronicle said a scuffle ensued during which the Prince "made it quite clear" he prefers the name of "Charlie."

Beauty Contest Finds Its Pearl in Wash Basin

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—For about half an hour last night the Miss Universe contest was more like an Easter egg hunt.

Only instead of an egg, everyone was looking for a huge blue pearl that normally adorns the Miss Universe crown. James Boutross, designer of the crown, said the pearl was worth $100,000.

It was Boutross who first spotted it missing as the current Miss Universe, Gladys Zender of Peru, paraded in full regalia in Long Beach Municipal Auditorium. He reported the loss after the show ended and a big search of the backstage area was begun.

The search ended in Boutross' hotel room. A policeman fished the tear-shaped, inch-and-a-half long pearl out of the wash basin drain. Boutross said he had washed the crown in the basin before taking it to the auditorium for the night's show.

20 Beauties Dropped; Miss U.S.A., 14 Vie

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—Miss U.S.A. and 14 foreign beauties remained today in the contest for the throne of Miss Universe.

Thirty-five girls held the same hopes last night. But judges slashed the field, and 20 girls, some weeping bitterly, were dropped from the beauty pageant.

Seeking the crown tonight will be:

Miss Colombia—Luz Marina Zuloaga, 19, Manizales.

Miss Denmark—Evy Norlund, 20, Copenhagen.

Miss Germany—Marlies Behrens, 19, Munich.

Miss Greece — Marily Collimopoulou, 18, Athens.

Miss Hawaii—Geri Hoo, 18, Honolulu.

Miss Holland—Corine Rottschafer, 20, Amsterdam.

Miss Israel—Miriam Hadar, 21, Jerusalem.

Miss Japan—Tomoko Moritake, 20, Nagasaki.

Miss Peru—Beatriz Bolvarte, 19, Lima.

Miss Poland—Alicja Bobrowska, 22, Krakow.

Miss Surinam—Gertrud Gummels, 20, Paramaribo.

Miss Sweden—Birgitta Elisabet Gardman, 19, Lidingo.

The winners were announced before an audience of 4,000 at Long Beach Municipal Auditorium, after the 35 appeared individually before the judges, first in bathing suits and then in formal gowns.

The first tears welled up as the spotlight fell upon the 15 semi-finalists. Then the curtain dropped and emotions really flared.

BEAUTIES WEEP

Miss Mexico, Elvira Risser, 19, of Mexico City, fled from the scene still in her bathing suit with tears streaming from her eyes.

Miss Uruguay, Graciela Scorza, 18, of Asuncion, wept so hard she couldn't stand. She sat on a bench crying until her chaperone quieted her sobs with cups of cold water and words of comfort.

Miss Cuba, Arminia Perez y Gonzales, 21, of Havana, previously heavily favored by pageant observers, didn't cry at all at losing out. She posed happily for pictures, but members of the Cuban entourage who followed her here wept a bitter chorus.

Miss Poland, although a winner, was herself close to tears. During the lengthy picture-taking session that followed the judging she had to pause, seek a seat and regain her composure.

Last night's lucky 15 will be the ones to go through the emotional wringer tonight. Their numbers first will be trimmed to five and then a few minutes later the new Miss Universe will be proclaimed.

Wickie a Goner, Air Force Feels

Search for Missing Thor-Able Cone Will Probably End Today

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — Wickie, the space mouse, apparently is a goner — a victim of the space age.

The Air Force announced today that an experimental nose cone carrying Wickie was seen re-entering the earth's atmosphere following the firing of a Thor-Able missile Wednesday but a two-day search in the South Atlantic has turned up no trace of the cone.

Maj. Gen. Donald Yates, commander of the missile test center here, told neswmen the search probably will be called off this afternoon. Six planes were in on the search over thousands of square miles of ocean.

Yates said, however, it was not actually necessary to recover the nose cone to learn most of the information needed in experiments concerning the cone's re-entry into the earth's atmosphere.

"We can answer most of the questions when we get the results of the telemetry on the flight," Yates said. "Then we will be awfully close to what we want."

Yates said one search plane reported seeing a light in the first night of the hunt near Ascension Island, about 1,000 miles off the coast of Africa, which appeared to be the beam from the nose cone recovery apcket.

He said the plane circled over the area for several hours, awaiting another aircraft to get a fix on the position of the light but had to leave when engine trouble developed.

Wickie, who rode 6,300 miles through the skies aboard the nose cone, was the third mouse used in the combination military-scientific test series. None has been recovered.

Seek 'Maniac' in Bad Beating

Detroit Police Search for Man 'Who Enjoys Watching Others Suffer'

DETROIT (UPI)—A man described by police as a "sadistic maniac" was sought today in the brutal beating of a Detroit housewife.

Mrs. Jean Lowry, 58, was hospitalized yesterday with a cerebral concussion, severe facial and body bruises and a possible skull fracture. She was found lying on a living room couch by her husband, Richard, 66, when he returned home from work.

Mrs. Lowry said she was beaten by a man who had replied to her advertisement to rent a furnished room.

Det. Sgt. Charles Perry said of the beating: "We have a sadistic maniac on our hands who gains satisfaction by witnessing the suffering of others."

Perry said Mrs. Lowry was unable to give any reason for the attack.

Coolish for Tonight but Warmer Saturday

Fair and cooler with a low of 56 to 60 degrees is the forecast for tonight by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Tomorrow will be fair and pleasant with the high near 78 and low about 56.

For the next five days temperatures will average about four degrees below the normal high of 84 and normal low of 63. Precipitation will be about a half inch in scattered showers or thundershowers about Sunday night or Monday and again Wednesday.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 66 degrees. The reading at 2 p.m. was 72.

Map Shows Plans for Northwestern Highway

PROPOSED PROJECT—This map, just released by the Michigan State Highway Dept., shows the department's revised plans for widening and extending Northwestern Highway in Oakland County from Eight Mile road to M59 (Highland road) in Highland Township. Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie announced a public hearing Aug. 11 at the Southfield High School gymnasium, 24675 Lahser Rd., for the purpose of outlining details of this 23-mile, $37,600,000 project. Plans call for a new six-lane facility and two new lanes for one-way, northwest-bound traffic, both to be constructed to the northeast of the existing highway from Eight Mile to Orchard Lake road (M218). These new six lanes will replace the present middle island and two existing northwest-bound lanes. An additional 114 feet of right-of-way will be purchased to make way for this addition. The present two lanes of southeast-bound traffic will remain intact as a service road for traffic in this same direction. The new six-lane facility will be between this service road and the one to the east. From Orchard Lake road to M59 a new four-lane facility will be constructed.

Sylvan Lake's City Council Issues Statement on Police

Following several letters to "Voice of the People" about traffic enforcement in Sylvan Lake and the Sylvan Lake police department, and Press editorials on the same subject, The Press has received the following statement from four of the five Sylvan councilmen.

Signing the statement were Mayor R. S. Menees, Mayor pro-tem William B. Taylor, councilmen Joseph A. Wilhelm and John N. Doherty. Councilman Edward F. Clark declined to sign.

This is the statement:

The Honorable Mayor and Council of the City of Sylvan Lake respectfully submits to the editor of The Pontiac Press the following report in answer to two editorials which appeared on the 27th of June 1958 and the 4th of July 1958, respectively.

The editorial of the 27th of June 1958 was titled "Sylvan Lake Traffic Needs Some Explaining." Listed were three questions for which the editorial demanded explanation. These follow below and will be dealt with individually in detail.

(1) "Does a speed trap really exist?"

Answer: No. In determining the answer to this question, since a State Highway Trunkline was involved, it was necessary to confer with the two appropriate jurisdictional and responsible authorities, to-wit, the State Highway Department and the Michigan State Police. Statistical data compiled by the Michigan State Highway Department concerning traffic volume and speed on Orchard Lake Road, M-218, during the spring of 1958, supports conclusively the negative answer given above.

The traffic volume on Orchard Lake Road through the entire city of Sylvan Lake on an inadequate two lane highway averages 10,784 vehicles per day. This figure expands into the staggering total of 3,935,960 vehicles per year. The Police Department of the City of Sylvan Lake issued in 1957-1958 fiscal year a total of only 101 speeding tickets for those almost 4,000,000 vehicles.

In reducing these figures to a more readily comprehensive statistic, it is easily ascertained that the Police Department issues only one speeding ticket on Orchard Lake Road every three days or to one motorist in over 30,000.

The Michigan State Highway Department and the Michigan State Police have stated that they have never received a single complaint concerning an alleged speed trap in the City of Sylvan Lake.

(2) "Is the Justice of the Peace Court acting unfairly?"

The Honorable Council of the City of Sylvan Lake is not competent to sit in judgment of the judicial system, being only a legislative body and believing in the constitutional principle of the separation of powers.

(3) "Are their police officers acting disrespectfully to traffic violators?"

No formal complaint has been lodged against any member of the police department of our City of Sylvan Lake. Complaints alleging discourtesy, disrespect or misconduct on the part of a police officer must be filed with the Chief of Police. Following the filing of such complaint, a hearing must be held and the charges proven to be true.

No municipality condones unfit police officials and the City of Sylvan Lake is no exception. The importance of the police function never overshadows the rights of the citizen or the inherent dignity of the individual. Our city has and always will continue to field a police team of proven merit and ability and will allow no single member to bring dishonor upon our name.

The police function in Sylvan Lake is almost wholly confined to a program of public safety for the resident citizens and is not concerned with traffic except in a secondary manner. The property owners of Sylvan Lake raise by municipal taxation two thirds of the annual police budget. This budget, in total amounts to $25,330.00 per year. Of this amount, only $10,887.80 is attributable to revenue derived from traffic violations and court receipts. The remaining two thirds is appropriated from the municipal general fund.

It may therefore be easily determined that our police force is primarily concerned with the appropriate function of an internal program rather than one of an external nature.

OBJECT LESSON — Richard Robbins, 2-year-old Detroit lad, is given a lesson in car safety by his dad, John Robbins, as he still bears tire marks on his back after being run over by the family car. The youngster got into the car and managed to release the emergency brake. When the car started to back down the drive, Richard tried to get out and fell face down under the front wheel.

Auto Labor Negotiations Recess Through Monday

From Our News Wires

DETROIT — Auto industry negotiations began a long weekend recess today to permit union negotiators to prepare for setting a strike deadline.

Members of the United Auto Workers negotiating teams at Ford, General Motors and Chrysler asked for a weekend recess extending through Monday in order to prepare reports on the talks for the UAW executive board.

The executive board will meet Aug. 1 to "recommend" a strike deadline for the negotiations, a union spokesman said.

The spokesman said the executive committee will decide when the strike deadline should be set but will not decide which company will be picked as the target. He said the target company will be selected when the deadline approaches so the union can act on the latest available information as to which company would be the best to strike.

The executive committee actually does not have authority to set a strike deadline against any of the companies but its recommendations will be passed on to a joint meeting of the GM, Ford and Chrysler departments of the union which will be held later.

In Washington, Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain (R-Mich) today rejected a union request for help in negotiations with the auto industry.

But he urged both the UAW and the industry's big three to reach a quick contract agreement and avoid a strike.

"Of one thing I am certain: a strike would be disastrous for the workers, the industry and the general public," Chamberlain said.

Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president, asked Chamberlain May 29 to help persuade General Motors Corp. to extend the old contracts until agreement could be reached.

The industry refused such extension, and UAW members have been working without contracts since the old pacts expired about two months ago.

"I feel it is my responsibility to act on what I believe to be the interests of all the people," Chamberlain said in a letter to Woodcock. "Progress in the present negotiations cannot be advanced by any special appeal a public official might make to one party at the express and public urging of the other."

Chamberlain added in letters to Woodcock and the presidents of Ford, Chrysler and General Motors he would be happy to help in negotiations if he were not "identified exclusively with the interest" of either labor or management.

Gls May Be Leaving Middle East Soon

weighed everything else here. Under present plans, all the public would see of the meeting will be on television — the council rooms will be too crowded to admit them.

It was tentatively planned to bar the public from the U.N. Building, cancel the daily tours and divert the 50 guides to messenger and other duties.

The Office of Public Information was discussing the issuance of special credentials to handle the swarm of correspondents who will arrive with White House passes, State Department cards and U.N. identification.

With security officers of a half dozen countries cooperating with the United Nations' 150-man guard force, credentials specially issued for the meeting were considered a necessity.

Hammarskjold's plan for the affair called for the Security Council creating a special subcommittee (the heads of government) to meet privately and make recommendations on the Middle East crisis.

Diplomats predicted Nikita Khrushchev would demand the opening and closing sessions be public to gain the advantage of televised and photographed publicity—if not propaganda.

SUMMIT MEET

— Secret consultations are going on at the United Nations to settle the thorny issue of Iraqi representation in advance of a Security Council summit meeting.

Qualified sources predicted today the outcome would be the seating of a representative of the new revolutionary regime on the 11-nation Council.

WOULD AVOID STALEMATE

U.N. diplomats are anxious to avoid any East-West ruckus at the very outset of a summit meeting. This could happen if the Council got bogged down in an argument over Iraqi representation.

Up to now the Council has not decided whether Hashim Jawad, here to represent the revolutionary regime, should take the place of Abdul Majid Abbas, who has been occupying Iraq's seat. Abbas' credentials were signed by Fadhil Jamali, former foreign minister now in jail in Baghdad.

If the revolutionary regime is recognized, the representative at the summit level would be the Premier, Brig. Gen. Abdel Karim Kassem.

Meanwhile, other troublesome issues cropped up to bedevil U.N. diplomats and officials preparing for the top-level meeting.

One big question is just which Arab nations would be invited to take part.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev specified that "Arab countries concerned" should be invited but did not name them. Lebanon, Jordan and the United Arab Republic — and Iraq as a Security Council member — are the only Arab nations that took part in previous Council debate on the Middle East crisis.

It's an open question whether the other Arab nations in the U.N. — Yemen, Saudi Arabia, Libya and Sudan — would be invited to take part.

There is also speculation whether Israel will bid for an invitation.

In Rain-Soaked Kansas, Missouri

New Floods Threatening

By United Press International

Rains up to 2 inches pounded the flood regions of eastern Kansas and western Missouri last night and early today, threatening new floods along the rain-swollen Missouri River.

The river, already more than seven feet above flood stage, threatened breakthroughs at levees near St. Charles, Mo. Volunteers sandbagged leves at Machens, Defiance and Green's Bottom in an effort to prevent the river from inundating more farm land.

The Mississippi River was expected to crest at flood stage of 30 feet at St. Louis today.

The rain came on the heels of a cool air mass that extended today from the Rockies to Lake Michigan and south through Kansas and into the Oklahoma Panhandle and northern New Mexico.

Rain and thunderstorms were common throughout the cold air region, with the heaviest accumulations hitting the Kansas-Missouri area.

Weathermen said the cool air will spread east today into most of the Great Lakes and south through Oklahoma. Showers and thunderstorms were expected along the leading edge of the cool front in the Great Lakes and southwestward into Oklahoma.

7 in Family Drown as Flash Flood Hits

SPENCER, W. Va. (UPI) — Seven members of one family drowned when a flash flood struck a rural area about 25 miles southwest of here early today.

The only member of the family of John Willowby to escape was Willowby himself. His wife and six children died as the seven-foot deep waters ripped the house from its foundation and tore it apart as it swept it away.

The bodies of four members of the family were recovered from the raging water within a few hours. They were the mother, about 50, and one girl and two boys, all believed to be under 10 years old.

Former GM Official, Earle Johnson, Dies

DETROIT (UPI) — Earle F. Johnson, 71, director and former vice president of General Motors, died yesterday in his Detroit home.

Johnson served as vice president during World War II of GM's Dayton, Ohio, divisions and the Eastern Aircraft division. He was elected a director in 1946.

House Fighting to Cut Debt

Cracks Down on Deficit Financing of Legislative Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders, faced with an immediate rise in the national debt ceiling, are cracking down on deficit financing of legislative programs which add to the government's already vast debt.

First result of the crackdown has been the sidetracking by the House Rules Committee of a bill calling for a two-billion-dollar community public works loan program to be financed out of Treasury borrowings.

The practice, commonly followed to finance programs calling for federal loans, bypasses the House Appropriations Committee. Instead of voting direct appropriations, Congress authorizes the federal agency concerned to borrow the necessary funds from the Treasury. The Treasury in turn then must borrow the money, thereby increasing the public debt.

Concern over this form of public-debt financing has been heightened by word that Secretary of the Treasury Anderson is due to come before Congress Wednesday to request another hike in the debt ceiling.

The legal debt limit, already raised temporarily to 280 billion dollars, would go up to 288 billions if the Treasury's request is granted.

The all-time high was a ceiling of 300 billion dollars in the latter part of World War II.

Only Odds 'n' Ends Left on Appropriations Bills Totaling $70 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Except for some minor odds and ends and some compromises to be worked out with the Senate, the House today closed the book on appropriation bills for 1958.

Based on House action alone where final passage has not been completed, the prospect is for total appropriations of about 70 billion dollars for the year. But later Senate actions could raise that total substantially, especially for defense and foreign aid.

On the basis of their record this year, members of the House and Senate aren't likely to emphasize any claims of economy in this year's election campaigns.

The last of 20 regular, supplemental and deficiency bills sailed through the House yesterday by voice vote and went to the Senate. It allots $1,218,815,000 for construction programs for the Army, the Navy and the Air Force at home and abroad. This is 511 million dollars less than the President requested, with the Senate still to act.

some ground rules which would limit the discussion to the Middle East crisis and not range over the whole spectrum of global affairs. Khrushchev in his Wednesday letter spoke of discussing the general subject of "protecting and strengthening peace."

The United States obviously was trying to avoid being stampeded by world opinion into an unprepared propaganda slugfest in the floodlit arena on the bank of New York's East River.

117,398 Indians Catholic

DENVER — Roman Catholic Indians living on or near reservations number 117,398, according to a report by the Commission for Catholic Missions Among Colored People and Indians. They have 413 churches and 231 priests to look after their spiritual needs. Fifty-seven church schools for them are staffed by 725 teachers.

Theater Record Set

ANKARA —The Turkish State Theater broke a world record recently by staging nine performances in five cities on the same night. Five of the presentations were made in five theaters in Ankara, and the others in Istanbul, Izmir, Adana, and Bursa. FEATURE

The Day in Birmingham

Test Power Megaphones for Use in Civil Defense

BIRMINGHAM — Tests on civil defense power megaphones were run yesterday by the Birmingham fire and police departments to determine the type best suited to the city's needs.

The megaphones will be a part of the city's overall program for natural disaster or enemy attack, according to Assistant City Manager Robert Kenning, civil defense director.

Purchase of materials needed in the emergency program have been included in every city budget for the past several years.

Mobile generators in the emergency communications center in the basement of the Municipal Building already are installed, and the center will be equipped for contact with the fire and police departments and the Department of Public Works, Kenning said, even if no public power is available.

Amateur radio operators in the area whose cars are equipped with two-way radios could be brought into immediate service should a disaster occur, he said.

The generators, maintained by the fire department, can provide power to operate city wells, several of which are equipped for emergency use. One generator, mounted on a truck, is specially equipped to power Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority pumps.

Also a part of the program is the warning system. Several sirens have been set up throughout the city. They are tested at 1 p.m. the first Saturday of each month.

Fire buffs of Birmingham were treated to a rare sight yesterday when fire damaged the home of David Levinson, 2150 Northlawn Ave.

Fire Chief Park Smith said the torch had set fire to wooden roof shingles. Damages were about $150.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard R. Mason of 836 Waddington Rd., Bloomfield Township, the girl is at William Beaumont Hospital.

Doctors said her condition is good.

The first work crew of the Oakland County relief program was on the job in Birmingham this week.

The crew was assigned to clean up the DPW yard and paint fences at the Greenwood Cemetery.

Later, the men will be used on park repairs and to remove debris from the Rouge River flood plain.

WSU Rules State Plates for 3 Years

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan Secretary of State James M. Hare has selected the green and and gold colors of his alma mater, Wayne State University, for the 1959 license plates.

The plates will be dark green with a "gold" lettering that looks something like mustard.

"We had to find pigments that would weather well," Hare said. "And we had to be careful not to duplicate plates of other states."

The green and white colors of Michigan State University and the maize and blue of the University of Michigan have been used in recent years—and Hare said other colleges have asked for consideration in the future.

But they will have to wait at least until 1962 if Hare's plan for saving money is carried out.

Next year's plates actually will be used for three years. Tags will be attached to the plates in 1960 and 1961.

"We can save more than $200,000 by using the same plates for three years," Hare said.

figures and did not increase the valuation in the school districts.

Pontiac School District was equalized by the county at $363 million valuation this year as compared with $378 million last year which amounts to a loss in school income of nearly $265,000.

But the school board had anticipated a boost in valuation this year as has occurred in the past, so that its income is actually some $650,000 less than it had planned on.

In all, the board figures it will lose about $5 million in expected income over the next five years.

The result is that short term borrowing, whereby Pontiac has been paying for its new schools in four or five years, is no longer possible.

Lobstermen in the state of Maine produce a volume which is estimated at more than $8 million per year and frequently runs higher than that.

Queen 'Liz Undergoes Operation

LONDON (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth II underwent a second minor operation on her nose last night which her doctors hoped would speed her recovery from an attack of catarrhal sinusitis.

The operation was performed at Buckingham Palace. Using a local anesthetic, the doctors performed an irrigation of the infected sinus.

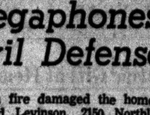

The Queen has been confined to Buckingham Palace for almost three weeks after suffering a sinus attack at the end of an exhausting 12-day tour of northern England and Scotland.

The doctors said Elizabeth's temperature has been normal for the past two days and that her condition continues to improve.

They Threw Themselves Into the Job

LONDON (AP)—The first couple of British drama hobbled before the footlights early today with baggy pants, glassy grins and a collection of hurts and bruises.

When it came to jumping through the paper hoop, Sir Laurence Olivier yielded the stage.

His actress wife Vivien Leigh struggled painfully through the knockabout stuff with their other partner in a clown act, actor John Mills.

It was all part of a gala midnight charity show, "The Night of a Hundred Stars," held at the London Palladium for the actors' orphanage fund.

The Olivier act might have been better if they hadn't rehearsed so energetically yesterday.

Sir Laurence strained a tendon. Vivien took a flying leap into the arms of Mills and gave out a scream that shook the theater—twisted knee.

The show went on but 52-year-old Laurence confined himself to singing with canes for support.

Vivien and Mills bravely struggled through the soft shoe shuffles and the rest of the clowning with a stand-in for Olivier.

Two Americans got into the show.

Kirk Douglas climbed on Burt Lancaster's shoulders. Dressed as stockbrokers, they sang "Maybe It's Because I'm a Londoner."

Australia's wool industry for the fiscal year announced the production of more than 3.8 million bales, each of an average weight of 300 pounds, which was considered a record.

Navy Probing Death of Admiral at Sea

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Navy is investigating the death of Rear Adm. Lynne C. Quiggle, who told his wife "You'd be better off a widow" just before his disappearance at sea.

Quiggle, 52, vanished from the liner President Cleveland Wednesday about 800 miles off San Francisco. He apparently jumped overboard in a fit of depression, Commodore H. D. Ehman, the liner's master, told newsmen after the ship docked here yesterday.

A Navy board of investigation, headed by Rear Adm. John Q. Owsley, started a formal inquiry.

The admiral and his wife were returning from his tour of duty as deputy chief of staff on the joint staff of the commander of U.S. forces in Japan. He had been ordered to San Diego to become commander of Amphibious Group 1, Pacific Fleet.

Priest Narrates Experiences as Red China Prisoner

(This is the second of two dispatches in which Maryknoll Missioner Father Joseph Patrick McCormack tells of his ordeal in Red China where he was imprisoned for five years until his release this summer.)

By JOSEPH P. McCORMACK, M. M.
Written for UPI

It was in June of 1953 that the Communists arrested me in Shanghai. For two reasons: I was a Maryknoll priest, and I was an American.

My house-boy had tipped me off, so I sat there on my front porch one beautiful summer evening waiting for them. And sure enough, they came, and led me off to police headquarters.

They brought me into a large room which had been set up for a special tribunal, with ten people in military uniform sitting along the left wall; in front of them, five women and an interpreter.

In the center of the room was a table, lined with my judges, and at the far doorway, a rather young looking girl holding a machine-gun. I sat down in a low slung chair that was obviously meant for me. That was about 9:30 at night.

I was still sitting there at 5 o'clock the next morning. They kept firing questions at me, and I fired answers back at them as best I could.

In a way this confused them, because the judges would frown at one another, then have a whispered conference, and make new charges. All of the accusations had something to do with illegal financing or espionage.

Altogether, in that first session with them, they changed the charges against me 20 times. By the time they led me to my cell I was pretty tired, and I had the feeling that they weren't too sure why I was arrested.

Looking back on it all now, I still can't think of any reasons, within Chinese law, for my imprisonment other than the fact that I was an "undesirable" — a priest and an American.

The prison conditions were rough. I had to lie flat on the floor of the cell, completely still and without uttering a single word. Armed guards stood over me to make sure I didn't make the slightest move with my hands or feet.

The food, when I got it, was a soft mushy kind of something, and pretty strong smelling. But I was hungry. And I ate it — at times, with an appetite.

I had been in prison abuot three days when the interrogations began. There were 72 of them altogether, each one lasting about two and a half hours.

It was hard at first, but I got used to them. Most of the interrogations, in the beginning, centered on the 30 seminarians, my bringing them to Peiping, and then shipping some of them to Hong Kong. I told the Communists the straight story about it all, but they weren't convinced.

Later, the line of questioning switched to the entire diocese of Fushun and the work of Maryknoll in Manchuria. They wanted to know statistics on converts, the number of mission out-stations, and then names of clergy, religious and seminarians. I gave them as many wrong answers as I could. But they kept pressing me for more.

So I finally took a week off, asked for pen and paper, and wrote in my most legible handwriting, a full "confession." It was right off the top of my head and not a shred of truth to it. But I was quite proud of it when I handed it to the judge, and he gave me a big smile, as if to say, "Ah, McCormack — we always knew we could scrub your brains clean."

Ten days went by. Evidently they were studying my manuscript, because they left me to myself, and I was able to catch up on my sleep. But then I figured it was time to call it quits, so I told the guard I had another confession to make.

He hopped upstairs and brought back one of the secretaries — a girl we had nick-named "Pigtails" who had two long braids hanging from her temples to her knees.

I dictated for about 20 minutes, denying everything in my written confession. "Pigtails" just sat there, stone-faced; when I had finished, she whisked upstairs. Another 10 days went by. Finally the judges summoned me, and when I appeared before them they asked: "McCormack, why did you write this bundle of lies? Why did you try to deceive us?"

I looked right at them and said, "Because you kept pressing me. Press, press, press — these last months — and I'm not one who can keep my mouth closed." Which was true.

That was toward the end of 1955. About this time, the brain-wash sessions tapered off. Then, after all those months, they filed formal charges of "espionage and sabotage for American imperialists" against me.

The trial itself lasted about eight weeks. "We are not trying you as an imperialist or as a capitalist," they said. "We know that you are the son of a poor man, that you like the Chinese people, that since you were born in Ireland, you must be anti-British. And we thank you for that.

"But you have allowed yourself to be used by the capitalists, and for that reason you must be punished."

It was for this "crime" that I received my five-year sentence.

A few months later, about the beginning of 1956, I asked for an interview with the prison officials. I explained to them that I was a sick, stupid old man. Which was partly true. I was, actually, very sick. My entire body was swollen and distended because of the prison diet. Lack of vitamins, I suppose.

They talked this over among themselves, and decided to send me to the prison hospital — we called it Ward Row — and that meant I'd sleep in a bed for the first time in three years. Of course, the big reason for allowing me to go to the hospital was obvious: too many priests had already died in the jails and prisons of China. They didn't want that to happen to me.

The treatment at the hospital was adequate. I received injections once a month, but the swelling of my body and limbs still continued. Even now, my stomach still expands about six or seven inches every day.

In June 1956 my health improved considerably, so I was shown "leniency," and they moved me into a small house on the other side of Shanghai, where I lived with several other American priest-prisoners.

One of the priests there was Father Cyril Wagner, the Franciscan from Pittsburgh who had been framed on charges similar to mine. We were eventually released together.

The food was terrible there. We would have all died had it not been for Red Cross parcels, and the parcels from America that the Red Cross managed to get to us. So we lived, until the day of freedom came.

Since I've been back, nearly everyone has asked me about the Church in China. Is Christianity surviving?

And I tell them this story. It's true — it happened not too long ago when the Communists launched a big campaign in Shanghai to kill all of the sparrows around the city. The people were mobilized and told to keep a constant racket going, by beating pans, blowing horns and lighting firecrackers. The idea was to frighten and kill all the sparrows.

Well, the sparrows took it all in stride. They hid under the eaves, or flew to the highest trees; sometimes they moved their nests out into the suburbs. When they couldn't get worms, they ate insects. When the ponds and puddles of water were closed off, they survived on dew. After several days, the fanatical persecutors were worn out — and the noise and fury died down.

The sparrows? Today in Shanghai, there are almost as many sparrows as before — stronger ones. The sick and the weak died. The healthy survived.

And that's the way it is with the Church in China.

Suppressing Competition Charged to Warner Bros.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A record company is suing two Warner Bros. corporations and nine subsidiaries for five million dollars in damages.

Precision Radiation Instruments Inc. — which makes records under the Tops label — filed a federal court action yesterday charging conspiracy to suppress and eliminate competition.

The suit asserts the defendants refused to accept royalties for records produced by Tops and brought court actions against 14 retailers who sold Tops' records.

President Doubts Summit Talks Can Solve World's Problems

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower, suddenly faced with the latest Soviet proposal for a United Nations heads-of-states meeting, personally doubts that even one world problem can be solved at a summit meeting. He does believe, however, that such conclaves invariably serve a valuable purpose by affording personal acquaintanceship between world leaders.

The President is convinced that the 1955 Geneva summit conference—despite the false hopes and bitter disappointments—was actually a success.

This is the word from a highly placed source who cannot be quoted, but who intimately knows the President's thinking on foreign affairs.

The official said Ike feels that even a summit meeting which produces no concrete results can be constructive, because not only the Big Four or Five, but also their delegations and advisers get to know each other on a working basis that facilitates future dealings.

Even though the Russians subsequently failed to live up to the agreements reached at the Geneva conference, Ike considers the parley a "success." One of the principal reasons for his almost unique view is that the Eisenhower proposals—widely covered in Geneva—proved him to be a man of peace and dramatically disproved Soviet propaganda that he and America were sword-rattling.

PREFERS CHANNELS

Ike, because of his long Army training in chain-of-command authority, ordinarily prefers the normal diplomatic channels to personal diplomacy. He thinks summit conferences too often arouse false hopes, and are necessarily of too brief duration to solve complex problems.

He is anxious, however, to avoid giving the impression that he is unwilling to negotiate for peace, even though he considers the latest Soviet bid "sheer propaganda."

The President is known to feel that a face-to-face meeting between himself, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and other top leaders at the United Nations Security Council would not constitute a "summit" meeting, even though it will undoubtedly be so regarded by peoples of the world.

The President is consequently willing to meet the Russian leader there without as much preparation as would otherwise be insisted upon, because Khrushchev has the right at all times to head his nation's U.N. delegation.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan expressed Ike's views as well as his own when he said he would not embarrass Khrushchev by bringing his proposals to a vote, during a face-to-face U.N. meeting, because the top Communist would undoubtedly be voted down. Any balloting could be delayed until the heads of state had surrendered their seats to their regular U.N. delegates.

Ike, ordinarily a gregarious man, favors heads-of-states meetings when he feels that his counterparts are sincere—a sentiment he does not entertain for Russian leaders.

He is known to be enthusiastic about the results of his conference at White Sulphur Springs with the Canadian prime minister and Mexican president, because the personal acquaintanceship smoothed their subsequent dealings.

Ike also believes that his recent visit to Canada went a long way toward easing tensions, even though the meeting was too short to offer much more than an opportunity for the two governments to "air their gripes."

He thinks much good was accomplished because through the personal friendship developed between himself and Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, channels were opened for solving many of the two nations' joint problems.

Argentina to Get Aid on Oil Wells

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — President Arturo Frondizi, long a foe of foreign participation in Argentine oil development, announced last night agreements with U. S., Soviet and West European companies to help increase oil production.

The foreign companies will aid Argentina's oil monopoly (YPF) to triple domestic production, Frondizi said. Argentina now produces about 33 million barrels of oil a year and has a perennial shortage.

To ease the current shortage, contracts were signed for the Soviet Union to deliver 7,125,000 barrels of oil by next July and Colombia to supply 15 million dollars worth.

Frondizi was elected president last February on a platform that supported the strong popular feeling against allowing foreign capital to dominate the extraction of Argentine resources. The Argentines, however, lack both the capital and technical know-how to develop their oil fast enough to keep pace with the demand.

Frondizi conceded in a radio-television speech last night that he would be criticized for his decision to deal with foreign companies but he said Argentina's sovereignty would not be affected.

The largest contract was signed with a group of U.S. and European companies, including the Atlas Corp., the Hidden Splendor Mining Co., Petro Atlas, Inc., Williams Brothers Co., Mid-Continent Exploration and Ferrostal AG of Germany.

In No Shape to Drive

HICKORY, N.C. (AP) — Elmer Glenn Johnson of Valdese parked his car, got out and hailed a cab. Shortly afterward he was booked by police on a drunk charge. He had parked his car on railroad tracks at a crossing. A freight train was halted in time for police to haul the car off the tracks.

Although they have about 40 per cent of the world population, China and India combined have only about 2 per cent of the world's manufacturing.

Ally Nations Reluctantly Attend Red Conferences

This simply means the President is properly suspicious of the Russian motive. He wants no part of an international tight rope walking act. He has no desire to be caught beating the drums for a Russian carnival. Some observers believed the President's reply was couched in terms that suggest or even invited a Russian refusal.

England is in about the same frame of mind. The Russians are slowly becoming established for what they are: perfidious and double crossing opportunists. Decent nations even hate to be caught in a conference with them.

Their reputation's that bad.

Professional Golfers in Need of Strong Boss

If our Mr. BRUNO KEARNS will forgive us, we'd like to slip over into the Sports Department long enough to suggest that golf needs a boss.

A Mr. BOLT has become too big for his illy-fitting breeches and he throws his weight around along with his clubs and openly defies a namby-pamby group of weak-kneed authorities. They bow and scrape before him and raise a fatherly finger and adminish him "to be a good boy."

Phooey!

Give him the bums' rush.

He's begging for it.

But golf seems to be controlled by a cowardly hierarchy that "runs like everything" whenever this terrible tempered bozo sounds off. Baseball has a boss that's a boss. So has football. Tennis seems to be in strong hands.

But professional golf is in the unfortunate clutches of some fraidy cats.

BOLT either lacks average self control or average intelligence and in either case he should be put away for a time and allowed to rusticate. He'd never be missed for he's a cheese champion from many angles.

Probably the golf professionals would do themselves and the public a service if they put the governing board away at the same time.

U.S. Students' Subjects Cinch Next to Russia's

Recently we have had some spirited correspondence in the Voice of The People on various phases of schools and school teaching. All such discussions serve a practical and constructive purpose as long as they develop various ideas without rancor or ill feeling.

Dr. Herman B. Wells, President of The University of Indiana, is just back from a trip to Russia where he and a small group of nationally known American educators surveyed the Russian schools.

He says Russian schools look upon electives with high disfavor. "They tell the boys and girls what to take," said Dr. WELLS, "and they jolly well take the subjects the Russian government feels will aid their national and international objectives."

Science, math, physics, chemistry and languages are paramount. These rank as essentials and necessities. Smoothly calculating young Russian teenagers don't drop the "hard" subjects and substitute a flock of the so-called "pipe courses." That goes for all levels of education, too.

If a Russian seriously suggested our "progressive education" for Russian acceptance he would probably be put away for an indefinite period so that he could become completely aware of his shame and ignominy. There are times when some of the old line conservatives right here in Oakland County have hunches that the Russians might have the germ of an intelligent and constructive idea.

IN-LAWS enjoy family reunions more than anybody. They withdraw in a bunch to a discreet distance and have a wonderful time exchanging comments on the peculiar traits and cranky ways of the family they somehow got mixed up with.

The nomination of of Pontiac for Congressman had just been made on the Republican ticket, without opposition. The Democrats had no candidate.

Webb's meat wagon was struck by a street car, a mailman was bitten by a cat, and a baseball game between the Fats and Leans at Holly was won by the heavyweights. I was on the losing team: 6-3 tall, and 125 pounds, and struck out five times.

A quiet local survey shows that Pontiac is following the general trend in the return of pipe smoking which, according to

It Will Only Keep Prometheus Chained

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. to Gain From Summit Talks

WASHINGTON—It's better to be talking than fighting. Nor does America have any good reason to fear a battle of words. So, the more "summit" conferences, the better. For the United States will thereby have an unexampled opportunity to tell the whole world just why international peace is threatened not merely in the Middle East but everywhere else.

LAWRENCE

The widespread idea that a "summit" conference really means a serious "negotiation" is fallacious. The machinery of informal and private negotiation through diplomatic channels has long been available but has lain dormant because the Soviets don't want to negotiate. They are confident that they can win by threats and propaganda maneuvers.

The single and all-embracing issue is whether free governments shall be preserved or whether totalitarian governments shall continue their conquests by infiltration and subversion.

The heart of the United Nations Charter is that small nations as well as large must be protected against invasion of their territorial integrity and political independence by enemies of freedom.

Nikita Khrushchev can make all the grandstand plays he wishes, but he cannot by ostentatious gestures or honeyed words erase from the minds of the people of the world his record of murder inside the Soviet Union and inside the neighboring captive states.

To confine the Security Council discussions to the problems of the Middle East would be to deal with a manifest symptom rather than the disease itself — totalitarianism on the march.

The United Nations was designed as a public forum. Nobody was ever supposed to dictate what its Security Council might or might not discuss. That was stipulated in writing to be the function of the members themselves.

So, when the Soviet dictator says he wants only certain aspects of the Middle East problem discussed, he is taking it upon himself to write the rules of the Council. Likewise, when he suggests who should or should not be invited to sit down with him in the Security Council, he is arrogating to himself a right never bestowed upon him or any other head of a state by the U. N. Charter.

If the Soviet dictator doesn't want to abide by the rules of the Security Council, it will be evidence of duplicity—saying he wishes to attend but actually putting obstacles in the way.

It is most important that Khrushchev come to New York. It will afford the many nationalities represented in this country a chance to express themselves through their spokesmen and to say openly what it would be fatal for any of their kinsmen living in the captive countries in Eastern Europe to say out loud.

A great opportunity lies ahead to do a constructive job of explaining to the whole world just what is threatening peace. The principle applies not only to the Middle East but to the Far East and Africa, to Latin America and to Eastern as well as Western Europe.

It will do no good to checkmate "indirect aggression" for the time being in the Middle East if it is permitted to flourish in other parts of the globe. This great principle is the crux of the American case, and nobody need fear the result of a continuous, persistent championing of that idealistic cause by the spokesmen for the government of the United States.

Premier Khrushchev will have a chance to learn, if he does visit America, that this is indeed a union of free peoples who have come here from all parts of the world and who really enjoy rights under the Constitution to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

The betting here seems to be that Khrushchev will come to New York. This correspondent has been inclined to believe that the Soviet boss will not dare to come and will find an excuse to back out. If he does come, he will be met with a barrage of demonstrations such as New York City has never before witnessed.

It is to be hoped that Khrushchev comes—for the visit will be largely a propaganda battle but one whose outcome America need not fear. For truth and the facts are on the side of the free world and only a tiny minority — the craven among us — are talking defeatism and surrender.

(Copyright, 1958)

Dr. William Brady Says:

When Pop Replaces Milk You Find Mollycoddlism

When Dr. Hans Kraus and his assistants gave the six Kraus-Weber tests for muscular fitness to representative groups of youngsters from the United States and European countries, more than half of the Americans failed one or more, and only 8.7 per cent of the Europeans failed one or more. More than a third of the Americans failed one or more of the tests of muscular strength, and only 1.1 per cent of the European youngsters failed any of the tests of muscular strength.

DR. BRADY

These are unpleasant facts and we'd rather not be reminded of them.

Even more disturbing are the statistics bearing on the physical fitness of young men in Yankeeland—or it may be more accurate to say physical unfitness, for a frighteningly large percentage of young men have been rejected as unfit for any kind of military service. Some of the rejected ones manage to make sounds and gestures of disappointment or even resentment, though at heart they're glad to escape a rough go.

Present fashions or ways of elementary, highschool and college education make for effeminacy and mollycoddlism.

In our neighborhood, from half a mile to a mile distant from elementary schools, private schools and high school, many of the pupils are transported to and from school by bus or private car — they and their parents think walking to school is for the "underprivileged."

In a recent column, you will remember I said "long continued loss of calcium through the years is the principal cause, and lack of exercise is the chief contributing cause of mollycoddlism."

The daily calcium deficit is due essentially to failure to take at least three glasses (1½ pints) of milk, skim milk or buttermilk every day and failure to get enough sunshine or skyshine (vitamin D) to insure assimilation and storage of the calcium in the body. And one or another kind of general exercise equivalent to walking five or six miles a day is necessary to maintain the calcium reserve.

Signed letters, not more than one par or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Complains of Speed Trap in Orchard Lake Village

The following is an account of a very poor situation which exists in the Village of Orchard Lake.

There is a speed trap operated by the police department there which employs questionable practices. There are many miles of paved roads running through the village which are zoned at 35 m.p.h. Some of the sections of roads pass through woods and sparsely settled areas, consequently there are numerous locations where the police could set up a camouflaged radar trap without resorting to the practice described below.

Because of the hilly nature of this section around the lakes, there are long stretches of yellow lines. The police set up a radar trap at the end of one of these long no-passing zones about 150 yards beyond the "Pass With Care" sign. Now it stands to reason that a motorist who is respecting the posted limit but comes up behind a slow moving vehicle in the no-passing zone will desire to pass it when he gets to the end.

During the time he is making the pass he may go over the speed limit momentarily in the interest of safety, which dictates that the pass be made quickly to minimize the hazards. As long as the driver slows back down to the posted limit as soon as he pulls back in, any law enforcement agency should be satisfied. Not so with the Orchard Lake police. They found a lucrative location for their trap so they can issue more tickets by including the conscientious drivers who in the anxiety of making a pass safely may take their eyes off the speedometer for several seconds to get around the slow vehicle.

This is a clear case of enforcing the letter of the law instead of the spirit. Many people I know are presently avoiding driving through this village which probably suits the residents there as they will eventually end up with private roads.

Possibly the State could take the local profit out of this activity and divert it to the State as was done in the case of the Waterford Township campaign on Dixie Highway several months ago. I was caught in the situation as described and I don't like the idea of having this go on my record with the new point system now in effect. There are many more motorists in the same situation as on weekends there is a half hour or more waiting line to receive tickets.

Thank you for your interest in this matter and I hope you can find time to look into it.

Robert H. Clift

'No One Needs to Defend Bible'

As a Christian and active member of a fundamental evangelical church, I cannot remain passively silent in not being in accord with the statement that "God did not write the Bible; man did," and other statements submitted by Nothing But a Woman.

Man in sinful, finite state is in no wise adequate to pass judgment nor render interpretation on the Word of God. The inspired, infallible, indestructible Holy Word of God needs no defending. It has stood through the ages and will continue to stand through to the consummation of God's Holy plan and purpose for man.

If the party submitting the letter to which this is in answer would come into a personal redemptive knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ, she would have respect for the one true God, understand the Holy Trinity in all of its fullness as well as be receptive to an understanding of all the wonderful truths in God's Word, and, too, become recipient of all God's wonderful blessings available for her through God's Son, and be numbered among those who shall reign forever with the coming King of kings, before whom "every knee shall bow."

Disgusted at Signs Hanging on Trees

Driving down our highways and seeing ugly and unsightly political advertising cluttering our highway (nailed to trees, even hanging from trees over the highway) makes one feel that just for that alone "I won't vote for that candidate."

He probably didn't give the approval of it, and his supporters took it upon themselves to splatter his name wide and far, but it certainly is unbecoming.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Prod Your Oldsters Into Thinking

Martha is typical of old folks who get foggy in their thinking. But a cup of coffee, plus some sugar and emotional stimulation, may banish the fog inside of an hour and leave their brain more alert. Scrapbook this case for later use or pass it along to your older relatives. Don't let any brain grow rusty from disuse!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Y-371: Martha P., aged 84, occasionally gets foggy in her thinking.

"Dr. Crane, Mother may not even recognize me at all," her elderly daughter told me.

DR. CRANE

"She will call me by the name of somebody who has been dead 50 years. But after she has a cup of coffee and a little breakfast, she perks up.

"Her mental fog seems to lift. And if we have guests, especially any folks from her home town, she may improve remarkably.

MEDICAL FOG

As we grow older, there is usually some hardening of the arteries including those in the brain.

This fact, coupled with a mild anemia which old folks generally suffer, reduces the blood supply to the nerve cells.

The brain then reacts in "spotty" fashion, much as it does when we are asleep and dreaming.

In our dreams, long dead relatives and friends may seem alive and talking to us.

Well, the brain of an old person is quite like that of the brain of a sleeping young person.

It is functioning in a "spotty" fashion.

"But, Dr. Crane, why does Mother get more alert after breakfast?" her daughter queried.

Well, in the morning our blood pressure is usually at its lowest ebb. Our blood sugar level is likewise low, meaning we have not as much quick energy on tap.

But a cup of coffee contains caffeine, which prods the heart and perks up our nervous tissue (brain).

If it contains sugar, the sugar almost immediately is absorbed into the blood stream where it is available.

As a result, the caffeine, sugar and even the act of walking to the table, spur on the heart. It beats faster and harder, so it squirts more blood through the arteries of the brain.

Even if the elderly person is somewwaht anemic, this faster flow of blood corpuscles takes more food and oxygen to the nerve cells. That's why the brain now perks all over, instead of in spotty fashion.

So the old person becomes rational, although she was woozy mentally just 30 minutes earlier.

And the presence of guests or relatives from the old home town, does much the same as caffeine and sugar.

Those visitors stimulate the emotions and revive old memories. With a "keying up" emotionally, comes higher blood pressure and a faster pulse rate, so emotion alone will change the "spotty" functioning of an old person's brain and make it more alert.

Coupled with the crumpets and tea or coffee plus the sandwiches usually indulged in with such visitors, the elderly people actually have a double medical tonic for their minds.

On an I.Q. test they would thus rate much higher. Thus, the I.Q.

of an older person can be changed quickly by means of caffeine, sugar and friends.

Even anger or any other emotion will likewise prod the heart and thus improve the circulation of blood through the brain.

The modern TV and radio, plus the newspaper, help keep the brain exercised. And exercise also improves circulation to the part at work, whether that be a muscle or a gland or the brain itself.

So prod your grandparents into thinking and they'll retain their alertness longer into old age.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Safety Experts Study Statistics

Jet Flying Safer Than Highways

FOUR SCREAMING JET ENGINES hurtle a Douglas DC-8 airliner down the runway and into the air, an experience U.S. air travelers will be able to share in a few months.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON (NEA) — You hurtle down a runway propelled by the fiery holocaust of four screaming jet engines.

Next you're catapulted into the air in a monster machine weighing 123 tons.

In a few minutes you're flashing through rarified air almost as fast as sound while internal pressure strains to explode the machine like an over-inflated balloon.

Finally your machine is reaching for a landing field while the last of the fuel is being gulped at 33 gallons a minute.

This sounds like a frightening experience. But it's essentially what will be happening soon to thousands of American air travelers as commercial jet airliners begin service in the U.S. this November.

Safety experts claim that when the time comes for paying passengers to fly in commercial jets, a cold analysis of the statistics will reveal no need for passengers to be worried by the imagined dangers of a jet flight.

SAFER THAN AUTO

It is their conservative estimate that commercial jet flying will be 20 times safer than riding in an automobile. It will be at least as safe as riding in a train. It will be some degree safer than riding in a bus or convential passenger plane.

This estimate is based on the results of exhaustive safety checks by the Civil Aeronautics Administration. It is backed up by millions of hours of military experience with jet aircraft and by the opinions of the top aeronautical engineers in government and industry.

The overriding reason for predicting improved safety for commercial jets is the inherent qualities of safety which they enjoy. On top of this, they will be the latest products of the matured, experienced aircraft industry.

Inherent safety in a jet is found first in the engines. Statistical experience shows that the chances of even the latest piston engines stopping in mid-air are five times greater than the chances for a jet engine flaming out in flight. This is because there are fewer moving parts in a jet engine. It is essentially a simpler mechanism.

A finely-balanced spinning turbine is the only moving part in a jet engine. Bouncing pistons cause violent vibrations in a conventional engine, constantly tending to wear it out and shake it apart.

FUEL SYSTEM SIMPLER

The fuel ignition system of a jet is many times simpler than that of a piston engine and thus more reliable. The same is true for the lubricating system. And a jet engine is far easier to inspect thoroughly. A quick look in the turbine reveals most basic defects.

Absence of a propeller is another major safety advantage of a jet plane. There's no reversing, feathering or blade adjustment to foul up. When a piston engine stops it's often a runaway prop which causes a plane to crash.

When it comes to the ground handling of jets, the safety factor begins to tip away from them. Great care will have to be exercised to keep runways and ramps free from metal or rock debris. Such debris can be sucked into the intakes of the engines and cause serious damage.

The high-pitched whine of the jet turbine is a danger to the ears of ground crews. Passengers will be protected by special glass-enclosed waiting rooms which are now being built where jets will be boarded.

Their speed and fuel consumption require such exact traffic control and pre-flight scheduling they will get automatic preferential treatment. This will not be at the expense of safety for other planes. But it may cause delays for conventional airliners.

Butane in Water Causes 6 Blasts

Illinois City Plagued by Liquid Gas Seeping Into Mains

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Liquefied gas seepage into water mains produced six explosions yesterday and kept residents in a state of jitters throughout the night.

Harried city officials haven't traced the source of the butane gas.

About 2,500 residents were ordered from their homes for a 6½-hour period after the blasts, in which four persons suffered burns.

There was no mass exodus from this city of 45,000, twelve miles southeast of St. Louis. Homes in a 50-block area were evacuated, but most residents milled about on their front lawns and in the streets until the all-clear.

Worst damage was to a home of a family of six. The family was away when a blast knocked out one brick wall and shattered windows.

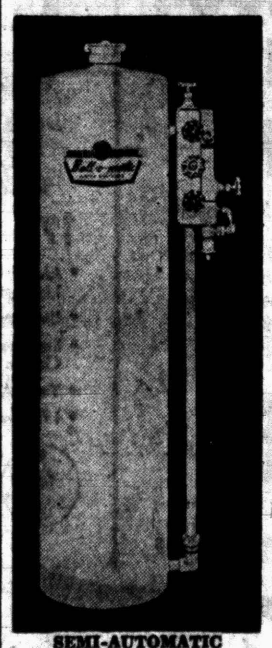

Fires which followed some of the blasts were extinguished quickly.

Driver Dies at Wheel, Truck Stops Safely

ROCKY MOUNT, N.C. (AP)—Emmett Luther Brock, 57, Durham, N.C., was stricken with a heart attack yesterday while driving his tractor-trailer through the thick of noonday business traffic here.

The truck rolled about 50 feet into the yard of a store and stopped without striking anything.

Leaves Police Red-Faced

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Embarrassed police in nearby West Jefferson report that someone stole their radio monitor set right off the desk at police headquarters.

SIMPLE AND EFFICIENT — These are two words which describe the finance and window service section of Pontiac's first main post office. The bank-type open counter window section is located on the left in this 4,007 square foot room. The new $850,000 building on W. Huron street between Genesee avenue and Chippewa road will open Monday. Gas fired hot water heat is used throughout the building.

Won't Shoot Nikita

CHICAGO (UPI) — Yousuf Karsh, world-famed portrait photographer who has snapped many of the world's celebrities, said he's willing to pass up Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who has a "dull, uninteresting face — like a meat ball."

Former Deputy Given 5 Years Probation

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Louis Fritz, 51, a deputy sheriff and jailer here more than 15 years, was placed on probation for five years yesterday by Common Pleas Judge Fred B. Cramer. He had been charged with embezzling about $8,200 in fines and costs paid at the jail from 1951-57.

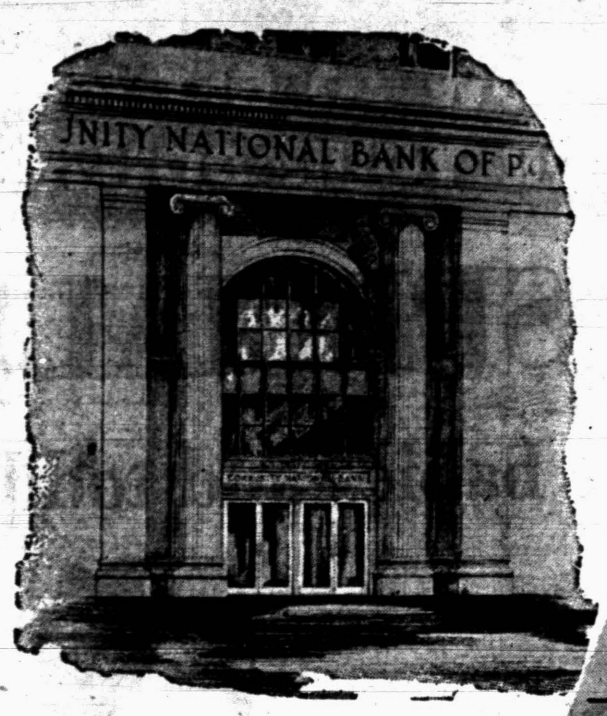

Judge Cramer ordered Fritz to make full restitution within 3½ years.

Hal Boyle Says:

New Six-Inch Hero to Star on Television

NEW YORK (AP)—As if everybody didn't feel small enough already, we will be asked this autumn to look up to a hero only six inches tall.

He is Mel Hunter, star of "World of Giants," a new television series, and a lot of big money is riding on his tiny but muscular frame in one of the top duels of the 1958-59 video season.

CBS is gambling four million dollars that Little Mel will be able to untrack "Wagon Train," the highly rated program that sets out every Wednesday night from the rival trading post run by Sheriff Bob Sarnoff of NBC.

It is to be a no-holds-barred contest for audience favor between the "fantastic" and the horse opera.

Who is this rash unknown, Mel Hunter, who has risen to challenge the long reign of the Western?

He is the brainchild of John Ziv and Richard Dorso.

Mel is a strapping 6-foot secret agent who is exposed to rays from a deadly enemy missile fuel behind the Iron Curtain. His molecular system is affected, and he shrinks until he is only half a foot tall.

Instead of asking waivers on him or peddling him to a circus, Mel's superiors in a government department known only as "the Bureau" decide to keep him on the job as a spy hunter.

The fact they now have a 6-inch agent is, of course, the bureau's top secret. He goes on his missions in a briefcase carried by his buddy, Bill Winters. The briefcase has air vents and contains an airplane type seat in which miniature Mel straps himself for comfort.

Because of his small size, everything that happens to Mel is a matter of life or death to him," said Dorso.

"A spilled bottle of glue, a vacuum cleaner, a sudden rainfall that washes him down a sewer—these are terrible perils to him. Two of his biggest problems in the pilot show are how to outwit a hungry cat and how to get a telephone off the hook so he can call the bureau."

The question naturally arises as to whether Mel is on the payroll of J. Edgar Hoover, whose employment policies—so far as publicly announced—have been somewhat discriminatory toward midgets. Dorso is very clear on this point. The answer is no.

"The Federal Bureau of Investigation screened the series and approved it," Dorso said, "as long as Mel wasn't identified as an FBI agent."

Dorso, a man vaccinated long ago with a Madison Ave. prose needle, believes "the little man" will become the hero of the year to both kids and grownups.

"There is no ceiling to this," he said. "We think it will go right through the roof. We're going for the long ball.

"This is going to be the year of the fantastic in television. Oh, there'll be a rash of fantastics—a real rash of them. All kinds of new backgrounds and different heroes—maybe even a two-headed hero from another planet.

"We have all sorts of plans for our little man."

A dreamy look overcame Dorso's face.

"We might even star him in a fantastic Western," he remarked. How about that? Can't you just see a 6-inch hero on horseback, riding hard to head off the rustlers at Eagle Pass?

Seeking First Bids on X-way to Chicago

LANSING (AP) — A five mile stretch in Berrien County will be the first major section of the Detroit-Chicago expressway to be placed under contract in Western Michigan.

The State Highway Department said the project, originally scheduled for late 1959, has been moved up and has been advertised for bids Aug. 20.

The package contract will include five miles of dual lane construction and six bridges from M140 south of Watervliet to southeast of Coloma.

Paralyzed Thug Fails in Holdup

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Lena Ernst was driving along Rockaway Parkway in Brooklyn yesterday when she saw a man in a wheel chair thumbing a ride.

She was wary of hitchhikers, but she decided she couldn't pass this one by. So she stopped. A bystander helped the man and his wheel chair into the back seat, and she drove on.

Suddenly a gun was poked against her neck and the crippled man said: "Give me your dough and you won't get hurt."

Mrs. Ernst, 38, spotted a police patrol car as she slowed for a red light.

"Help!" she screamed. "There's a cripple with a gun in the back of my car!"

Two patrolmen rushed over to the car. The man was identified as Stanley Emanuel, 36. The gun was a toy cap pistol.

He was taken to the prison ward of Kings County Hospital on a charge of attempted robbery.

"Please don't tell my mother," Emanuel begged the police.

Police said he is paralyzed from the waist down by injuries received in an auto accident in 1946.

Bagwell Cites 'Big Cover-Up'

Claims Gov. Williams Trying to Keep People Ignorant of Affairs

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Republican Paul D. Bagwell, running for governor, says the Democratic state administration is engaged in a "tremendous cover-up."

The aim, he said in a campaign talk yesterday, is to keep from the people knowledge of how their affairs are being handled.

The Republican candidate alluded to an assertion 10 days ago by Gov. Williams that Republican spokesmen were resorting to "big lies" out of political desperation.

Asked Bagwell:

"Does he think he can escape all responsibility, all accountability for Michigan's current economic conditions, for her bankrupt treasury, for the loss of jobs just by saying 'These are Republican lies'?"

"The biggest lie in Michigan today is the Governor's abject refusal to face Michigan's problems.

"I don't intend to let him get away with it."

Bagwell questioned whether the state could afford the "luxury of a governor who spends a great deal of his time traveling to other states and foreign countries instead of paying attention to Michigan problems."

Reserves Wind Up Training, Chalk Up Top Ratings

UNLOADING WEAPONS — Cpl. Curtiss L. Webb of 205 Cedardale Ave. and Cpl. Warren A. Simms, 218 Anderson Ave., Lake Orion, unload 30 caliber machine guns and ammunition to be mounted on tanks for practice firing by Pontiac's 703rd Reserve Tank Battalion. The unit completed summer training today and will head for home tomorrow.

By JOE SINGLETON

FORT KNOX, Ky. — Pontiac's 703rd Reserve Army Tank Battalion concluded its summer training today with an impressive display of its skills and is turning in its equipment so it can start for home early tomorrow morning.

This entire week has been spent in the tactical use of tank weapons. The men were scored for accuracy in shooting at a stationary target from moving tanks and at a moving target from standing tanks.

They scored high with both the 50 caliber machine guns and 90mm guns.

Behind the men on the firing line were support units which demonstrated efficiency in such sections as mess planning and mail handling.

RIGID TEST

The summer training period has been a difficult one which tested the skills and endurance of all members of the battalion.

The first few days were spent in executing large group movements with the huge 50-ton M47 tanks and in practicing with pistols and machine guns.

Wednesday and Thursday night of the first week saw the men in the field on road marches under simulated combat conditions and on bivouac. High temperatures and heavy rains added to their problems.

The unit took high honors in field exercises despite all obstacles.

Maj. L. A. Roedel, of the Office of the Senior Inspector at Ft. Knox, said, "This battalion appears to be well organized as evidenced by its ability to move into a new area and commence operations and training in a highly effective manner."

He also praised the staff for its administration and training. The unit shows enthusiastic spirit throughout, he added.

The battalion is due to arrive back in Pontiac at 10 p.m. tomorrow.

Feels School Boards Erring on Insurance

LANSING (AP)—A board of education has no authority to purchase life insurance for its employes, an attorney general's opinion held today.

The opinion, by Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, also held that a board cannot make payroll reductions or appropriate money from school funds for such a purpose.

The Michigan statute, the opinion held, provides that boards may provide for hospital and surgical benefits or health and accident coverage but no provision was made for life insurance.

Finds Homes for Korean Waifs

Brings Orphans to U.S.

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Harry Holt's baby lift pushed toward the thousand mark today as the grizzled Oregon farmer left Seoul with 81 orphans for adoption in the United States.

Aboard the chartered Korean National Airlines plane were 27 boys and 54 girls, shepherded by Holt, his daughter Molly and several nurses. Most of the children were less than 3 years old.

Holt and his wife raised six children of their own on their ranch at Creswell, Ore., before he began finding American couples to adopt Korean War orphans in 1955. Eight of the orphans on his first planeload were adopted by Holt himself.

Today's group brings the total he has brought to America to 983.

"I like kids and so many people write me looking for them," Holt once explained. "The parents need children and these children need parents. All I do is bring them together."

This time Holt is pushing to get to Eugene, Ore., by Monday. There on that day the first eight orphans he adopted become American citizens.

By MRS. H. F. BARR
Franklin Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Assn., Inc.

(This is the tenth in a series of articles by a member of one of the 27 branches of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Assn., Inc., throughout the area which will be printed on the farm and garden pages this year.)

The old bromide, "Day lilies require no care whatsoever once planted," led me to make my first purchase of 17 plants of hybrids. After eight years of growing these and many more, I know now there is more malarky than truth in the statement.

Day lilies do require care and fertilizer, more so, after they've grown into sizeable clumps.

Division of large clumps of this plant is not so necessary every few years as in other herbaceous perennials. At this stage they do need a lot of water and food if they are to give top performance in flowering.

Thorough watering at the time when the plant is developing its bloom scapes will give larger and better colored flowers.

SOIL IS IMPORTANT

I prefer to plant the day lily in a heavy, moist and fertile soil, not a boggy condition, but one which is also properly suited for peonies; English, Siberian and Japanese iris; monkshood and lythrum. The growth is fantastic.

Since soil condition plays an important role in their success, in sandy soils must go extra amounts of compost and natural animal fertilizer in the bottom of the bed. In spite of their likeness for moisture they will survive periods of drought and heat. They thrive in soil that is either acid or alkaline.

In planting, space from two to three feet apart. Best bloom comes from two to five-year-old clumps. I plant no deeper than one inch above the crown where the roots and stem meet. Too deep planting results in few flowers.

Some beautiful varieties will be inferior the first year of bloom. Many bloom with four petals and four sepals instead of the usual set of three each. They can be planted, divided or moved most any time. It is best to plant the evergreen varities in spring so that the roots are well established by winter.

I grow the day lily in full sun, part shade or north side of a building with open sky. It presents no problem from pests nor diseases.

Due to the unusually warm early spring this year, the plants came into early growth which was later damaged by frosts on the tender varieties, causing the leaves to brown tip, curl and misshapen. As the season advanced the condition was corrected.

The modern day lily is indispensable for garden planting and the colors are becoming more exciting each year. Their color ranges from palest cream to deep gold and orange, from delicate flesh pinks through the shades of pink to deepest rose, brilliant velvety reds and deep red purples, some shades of lavender and blues.

FACE THE SUN

The deep reds and rich yellows against a green background makes a gay and bold combination. Also, the deep reds and purples are stunning used as accent or focal point in the garden.

Whatever color scheme is used try to set the day lily so they will face the sun. For they have a strong tendency to follow the brightest light. Such variation makes day lilies especially desirable in creating charming garden pictures.

The evening blooming varieties merit more attention. They are ideal for planting in close proximity to an outdoor living room or terrace. Most of this type are fragrant and remain open throughout the next day. These I like to use for dining table arrangements.

There is fragrance in nearly all of the yellow and orange shades, but not so, or in a limited amount, in the pink, red and bi-color varieties.

The day lily belongs to the genus Hemerocallis which is Greek meaning beautiful for a day. I think it is America's fastest growing hobby flower. Within the last twenty years over 6,000 named varieties have been produced. This phenomenal development indicates the amazing improvements.

Many of the old classic varieties are still to be desired in any garden, so it is not necessary to be in a constant daze over the newest hybrid day lily.

DAY LILY PARADISE — Mrs. H. F. Barr, 25620 Meadowdale Lane, Franklin, admires several of her many day lilies which she raises as a hobby. Two years ago a Missouri nursery originated a red day lily and named it after her. Called the Helen S. Barr Day Lily, it is a four-star performer.

Children Get Confidence, Self-Discipline in Garden

Mothers know that youngsters seldom find the summer vacation quite as entrancing as they expected it to be. After spending three-quarters of the year in a well organized school routine, an aimless period of unplanned freedom is bound to pall on them.

Now's the time to interest them in a worthwhile program which will give them a sense of personal accomplishment, teach them self-discipline and awaken an interest in an exciting hobby . . . gardening.

With a little help from Mother and Dad to get them started, raising a garden of their own can be a most rewarding summer experience.

If one has a little dollar-and-cents child, who approaches life from a strictly practical standpoint, he'll want to plant a vegetable garden. One 15-cent packet of vegetable seed can produce over five dollars worth of vegetables. Raising a garden for fun and having it turn into a money-making proposition can open up a whole new world to a child on the intrinsic value of physical endeavor.

For the child who responds esthetically to the world around him, a flower garden is the answer. The delicate colors of the flowers he raises, the perfect forms and the fragrant scents, will heighten his appreciation of the beauty of Nature.

Webworms Come Early to Infest Trees

Fall webworms don't wait until Fall to do their nefarious leaf chewing. They're at work now when one sees their offensive white webs in trees. The Fall designation is really a misnomer because the insects devour prodigious amounts of greenery from July through September.

The ugly white webs are familiar in almost all parts of the country since the webworm's appetite attracts it to some 120 different kinds of fruit, shade and woodland trees.

In most cases only a branch or two is defoliated by the pests, although severe infestations can strip an entire tree.

Even if you sprayed for the first brood in early June, chances are there will be little or no control of the second brood. The bigger the web, the more difficult is penetration to get at the webworm population. So get busy now destroying them before they get out of hand.

In the large tree that can spare loss of a branch, pruning is the answer. In the small tree, the web can be stripped away and destroyed.

Unless expertly done, burning the nest may result in considerable injury to the tree. This is a common practice that usually results in doing more harm than good.

Florists Report Rise in Flowers-by-Wire

CHICAGO (UPI) — Eugene R. Daudelin, president of the nationwide Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association, says flowers-by-wire sales are increasing.

Daudelin said nationwide flowers-by-wire orders reported by FTD's 11,000 members totaled close to five million for the first nine months of the current fiscal year ended June 30. This is an increase of more than eight per cent over the same period a year ago, he added, and represents a dollar volume of $58,738,600, 10 per cent higher than a year ago.

Summer Jobs Prove Source of Rich Experience

One year of study at Eastern Michigan College already has been completed by Alycemae Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrell Stephens of Oneida road, who is working on the playground for the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation this summer. Alycemae, who holds a scholarship at Eastern, is an education major. She is active in Intervarsity Christian Fellowship and the young people's group at Pontiac's First Baptist Church.

Keeping the lilies trimmed and orderly is but one of the many jobs Dick Daugherty, son of the Raymond Daughertys of Laguna drive, handles in his work as a gardener this summer. In the fall he'll begin studies as a history major at Alma College where he has a scholarship. He was a member of the National Honor Society, Future Teachers Club, Science and Math Clubs and Debate Team while in high school.

Don Tate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis P. Tate of Pontiac Lake road, is earning funds for studies in engineering at the University of Michigan this fall by working in a restaurant. Don, who has won a U. of M. Regents' Alumni Scholarship, was valedictorian of his graduating class at Waterford Township High School, was on the Varsity Squad, winning debate team, and also was active in dramatics.

Perky Clarice Jean Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Graves of Dick avenue, is working as a Camp Fire Girl counselor this summer before entering Michigan State University as a speech and journalism major. Clarice has received a scholarship from MSU and also a scholarship for residence at Asher House by the Asher Student Foundation. She has been a Camp Fire Girl since the age of 7 and has participated in Thespians, Speech and debate, Y-Teens, and worked on her high school paper.

Offer Dividends to College-Bound

By MARGARET BROWN

That young soda jerk who's been whipping up ice cream delights at the corner drug store this summer or the the boyish clerk who fitted your last pair of shoes very likely may have been among the ranks of young people who are working this summer to earn money for college.

Folks generally tend to regard a young person's working part time as a mark of maturity and responsibility. The ambitious student earns the respect of his peers, parents and the community, as well as gaining that inimitable and vital sense of usefulness or productivity in life.

VALUABLE EXPERIENCE

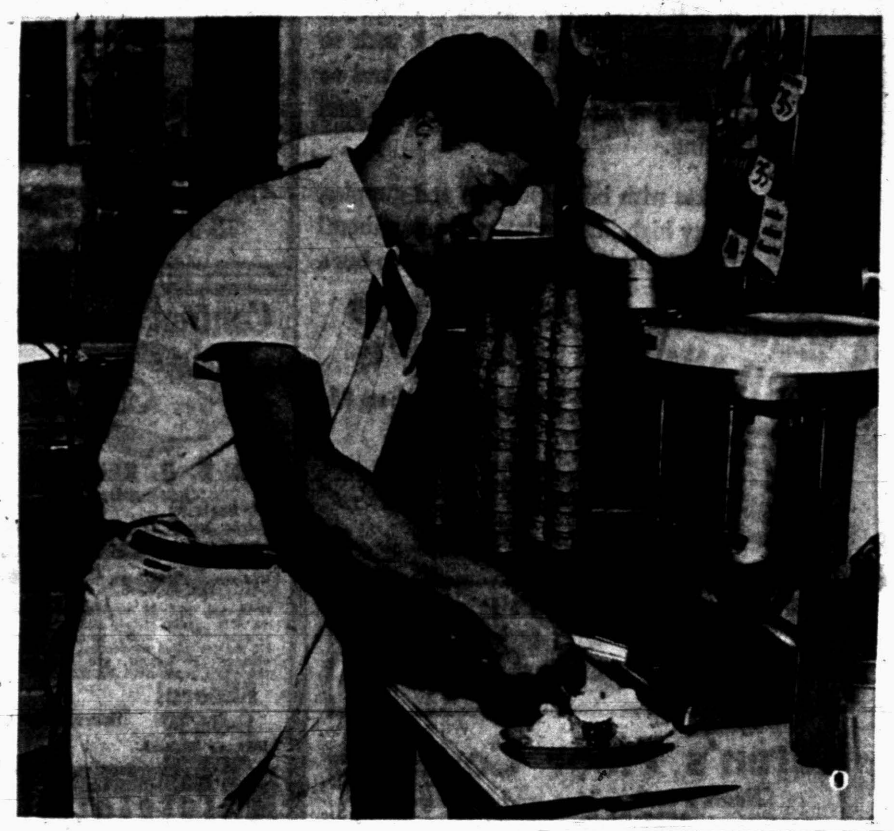

Part time summer employment offers a young person an invaluable learning experience, even if his temporary work has no relationship at all to the field in which he majors at school. A job in which he deals with the public can provide excellent training in acquiring self confidence and asserting one's self, and also presents the young employe a realistic preview of our society as it really is.

And it's amazing how a job considered unrelated to a certain field actually may correlate beautifully with a chosen line of study. The student who spends a summer meeting the public in a hospital or department store, for example, can learn a lot about human nature that might prove to be a big help in some phases of his classes—such as interpretating some of Shakespeare's personality studies in a literature course, or writing an impromptu theme from one's own observations.

The experiences these young people are tucking away enlarge their thinking and reasoning capacities and may prove to be effective stepping-stones toward becoming a well-rounded individual who, as the adage has it, "... knows everything about something and something about everything."

A double banana split, please, and heavy on the marshmallows! That's a request Thomas Osler, son of the Anthony B. Oslers of Garland avenue has been filling as he works in a frozen custard stand this summer. Tom will enter Michigan State University's College of Liberal Arts this fall. He has a band scholarship and will participate in MSU's Marching Band. He was a member of the band and of the National Honor Society in high school, and also was on the wrestling team.

Personal News of Interest

Donald Bumgardner of East Beverly avenue will participate in four plays to be presented by the Oregon Shakespearean Festival Company in Ashland, Ore. A student of speech and the theater at Michigan State University, he has been active in university productions.

Bumgardner

In September he will direct the University Junior Players in "Beauty and the Beast." He has directed televised drama shows for MSU for two seasons.

ESSERS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Esser and daughter, Carol, of Oneida road, have just returned from a six-week trip through the West.

They stopped at Grand Canyon, and in Phoenix where they visited Mrs. Esser's nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hokanson. While Carol spent some time at Camp High in the Sierra Mountains of California, her parents were guests of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Delaney in Los Angeles.

Before returning home they visited Disneyland, Catalina Island, Glacier National Park, and spent some time in San Francisco.

Mrs. O. D. Craven and son, David Milton, have returned to Clovis, N. M., after spending 10 days with Mrs. Craven's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Janter of Ogemaw road.

Light Powder Lengthens Nose

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Does powder on one's nose make it look larger?"

A. Light powder does. Be sure that your powder is no lighter than your skin tone.

Q. "I need to reduce all over. Please give me some exercises. My bust measures 43 inches, waist 38 and hips 50. What can I do to help?"

A. You did not give me your height and weight but judging by your measurements you are probably a lot overweight. You will have to count your calories. Exercise helps, too, but you should have your blood pressure and heart checked before beginning any.

If you or any of my readers would like to have a calorie chart send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 36 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Q. "Is it true that there are exercises to help make one taller?"

A. Improvement in posture and stretching exercises can add an inch or so but this is due to better carriage rather than to actual growth in height.

Q. "Since the birth of my children I am extremely out of proportion. I am 5 feet, 5 inches tall and weigh 128 pounds. My bust measures 31 inches, waist 26 and hips 38½. Should I reduce my hips or enlarge my bust or both?"

A. You should take bust increasing and hip-reducing exercises to bring those two measurements closer together.

Q. "I need to lose a lot of weight and I get along just fine except when we go for the day (every Sunday) to my in-laws. I always gain about four pounds back. My mother-in-law is a real cook and they feed us a big dinner with all the trimmings, then a late afternoon lunch and then give us something again before we leave at night. How can I refuse these things without hurting her feelings?"

A. This is a ticklish question. However, if you have been in the family for some time, you should be able to explain to her. Why not get your doctor to tell you that you must lose some weight? He will, gladly, if you are a lot overweight.

Then you can tell your mother-in-law that your doctor wants you to lose for health's sake. Or you might tell her that you have some perfectly good clothes you cannot get into and think it is such a waste to spend money for others.

She will like you for that and I imagine this is true in your case.

Q. "For a girl who is 19 years old, 5 feet, 5 inches tall is 125 pounds the correct weight for this day and age?"

A. That's just about the perfect weight for a girl your age and height in any day and age.

Group Names Committee

A committee of local women has been organized to cooperate with the Oakland County Chapter of Planned Parenthood, the organization aimed at helping married women plan their families when they are physically and financially able to care for them.

Planned Parenthood has two clinics in the Pontiac area. One clinic is on North Telegraph road and the other is located on Branch street.

Chairman of the local committee is Mrs. Vera Dobson DeVor. Members on the committee are Mrs. Colon McGlown, Mrs. Carl Moss, Mrs. J. Allen Parker, Mrs. Dorothy Redmond, Mrs. Charles Tucker, Mrs. Robert Turpin and Mrs. Sadie G. Williams.

Members representing the Oakland County Planned Parenthood board attending a recent organization meeting were Dr. Juliette Karow, Mrs. Arthur Peck, Mrs. L. C. Suffield, Mrs. Agnus McLay and Mrs. Arthur E. Moore.

Simons Entertain at Patio Cookout

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Simon entertained Tuesday evening at a patio cookout at their Bloomfield Hills home.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Abrams, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Schlyfestone, Mr. and Mrs. Moe Skito and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Simmons.

Better to Hire a Club

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it would be correct to have my wedding reception at the bridegroom's house? We live in a small apartment which is not large enough to accommodate more than a handful of people. My fiance's family have a lovely house with a patio opening into the garden which is an ideal setting for a wedding.

"They are willing to let us have the reception there, but I would like to know what you think of this before saying 'yes.' My parents will, of course, pay all the expenses of the reception."

Answer: Under these circumstances to have the reception take place at the house of the bridegroom's family is not unheard of, but it would be better if the reception were to be held in the house of some member of your family or of some friend or in a country club or hotel.

When it's time to have your synthetic fur coat or jacket cleaned, be sure to have it cleaned by a furrier's method. It will look like new.

Dear Abby . . . .

Mother of 7 Speaks Mind

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

ABBY

"DEAR ABBY: Don't laugh at the man who said the modern woman makes too much fuss over giving birth. It isn't the women's fault, though, it's these modern doctors who give them so many shots and pills they go out of their heads and can't remember a thing.

"I think it is a sin to deprive a woman of the most beautiful memories she will ever experience. I have had seven children and remember every minute of labor with each and every one of them. It was wonderful! Grandmother was right. Stay awake and pray."

MOTHER OF SEVEN

DEAR MOTHER: Medical science has provided us with improvements making childbirth safer and virtually painless. The modern woman who stays awake and prays is usually praying for something to put her to sleep.

"DEAR ABBY: I read in in your column where an eligible young man said he was intelligent, handsome and liked a good time, but he was not geared for marriage. I know his kind. I am not interested in him for myself, but there is a living doll in this office who would like a man of his description. Please send me his name. I think this girl has what it takes to strip his gears. Thanks."

"THE GAL AT THE SWITCHBOARD"

DEAR GAL: Sorry—no can do!

"DEAR ABBY: While I was in Okinawa I fell in love for the first time. She was a wonderful Okinawan girl. I would have married her, but my friends told me it would never work out so I left her behind although it broke my heart. I thought I would forget her if I forced myself to go with American girls. I am sorry to say I talked myself into marrying an American girl I grew up with. She loves me but I do not love her because I am still in love with the girl I left in Okinawa.

"Should I be honest with my bride of six weeks and break up the marriage before there are children? If a man has ever really been able to forget his first love I wish he would write and tell me how he did it."

HEART-BROKEN SGT.

DEAR HEART-BROKEN: Don't compound the felony of a snap-judgment marriage by a snap-judgment divorce. You'll have fewer regrets if you unburden your troubled conscience to your clergyman instead of your bride. Quit brooding and living in the past. I think you made the best choice.

"DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old girl who has a problem. Whenever a boy calls me up and my mother answers the telephone she always asks, "Who is this?" I am just standing right there and she could very easily just say, "One moment, please" and hand the phone to me. But she insists on asking who it is.

"Sometimes the boy will say, "Never mind, I'll call back," but he never does. I am losing out on more calls that way. Is my mother right in asking who it is and scaring them away or isn't she?"

LOSING OUT

DEAR LOSING: Your mother is interested and curious, so don't be too critical. There is no reason for her to ask who is calling if you are standing right beside her. Plead your case in the most appealing mother-daughter language and she'll comply.

"DEAR ABBY: I work in the composing room of a newspaper where the temperature is equivalent to that of a Turkish bath. There are about 50 men in here who like to have the windows open and the electric fans going.

"There is one woman who also works here and she says she is cold and has sinus trouble and can't stand any draft. We open the windows and she closes them. We turn on the fans and she turns them off. Should all of us suffer because of her? What is your verdict, Abby?"

DYING OF THE HEAT

DEAR DYING: In a democracy the majority rules. Don't let her give you any more heat.

CONFIDENTIAL TO AGGIE: Some fellows don't realize they aren't the only pebbles on the beach until they're all washed up. If he doesn't know how to treat a nice girl, he doesn't deserve to have one. Say nix.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

CITES DESIGN OF BRANDON HIGH SCHOOL — The American Association of School Administrators has cited the design of the new Brandon High School in Ortonville as "a good illustration of how to achieve interior flexibility in a seconadry school plant." Opened last fall, the school was designed for low cost and flexibility to permit the building to be adapted to any educational need, according to Smith & Smith Architects, Royal Oak. It was integrated with the existing adjacent elementary school and auditorium.

Lay Cornerstone Sunday for Colombiere College

SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHIP — The cornerstone will be laid at 3 p.m. Sunday for the new Colombiere College on Big Lake road, about a half mile west of U.S. 10 The event marks the anniversary of the ground-breaking a year ago.

The $4 million seminary will be used to train priests of the Detroit Province of the Society of Jesus as teachers and administrators for Jesuit schools, parishes and retreat houses in the Detroit, Toledo and Cleveland areas.

Scheduled for completion in January, 1959, the new building will have accommodations for 140 seminarians, 20 faculty and administration priests and 40 brothers.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Eugene E. Paddock, dean of the Northwestern Deanery, will officiate and the Rev. Leo D. Sullivan, S.J., provincial of the Detroit Province, will assist at the blessing of the cornerstone.

The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Marshall L. Lochbiler, S. J., rector of the University of Detroit.

Present at the ceremonies will be Thomas H. Keating, General Motors Corp. vice president and chairman of the college's Building Fund campaign; Thomas A. Burke, former U.S. senator and mayor of Cleveland; and John J. McCarthy, former city manager of Toledo.

The clergy, laity and representatives of the Jesuit houses in Detroit, Toledo and Cleveland also will take part.

Man Executed on Birthday

Former Airman Dies in Electric Chair for Rape-Slaying

His only birthday gift was a bouquet of flowers given to him yesterday by an aunt, Mrs. Elaine Tyer. With the flowers was a note: "May this be a small ray of sunshine to you on your birthday."

The execution of Shaver, convicted of the rape-slaying of Chere Jo Horton, 3, near a San Jacinto tavern in 1954, had been delayed several times by reprieves.

The last was issued after a former jailmate, Donald Summers, confessed to slaying the girl. Earlier this week, the State Board of Pardons and Paroles said a lie detector test showed Summers was not the slayer.

Shaver was calm and smiling when led into the death chamber at state prison. He thanked the guards for the treatment shown him. The switch was thrown at 12:03 a. m. and he was pronounced dead at 12:05.

Higher S. S. Tax Likely, Causing Another Cut in Take-Home Pay

NEW YORK (AP)—The chances are good today that come New Year's there'll be another legal shrinkage of your take-home pay.

Congress is talking of increasing Social Security taxes then. The Social Security fund is running in the red, although it has sizable reserves to fall back on—carried as U. S. Treasury securities, not as cash.

The present maximum deduction from a paycheck is $94.50 a year. The proposed maximum after New Year's would be $120. But there would be some increase for every employe at whatever wage scale.

And for business there would be an increase in operating expenses, since the amount the employer pays into the kitty would rise at the same time and in the same amount.

The proposal is based on two factors:

1. Currently the amount workers are paying into the Social Security fund is running behind the sums being paid out to the increasing number of the retired, making for embarrassing red ink bookkeeping.

2. Congress is talking of increasing the amount of old age and disability payments, as it has in each election year since 1952. It is reacting to the impact of inflation on those with fixed incomes.

For many years the Social Security fund was increasing. But as new types of beneficiaries were added and the life expectancy of all increased, the outgoing payments finally outstripped the income tax receipts.

At the present tax rate schedule — set to increase gradually until 1975 when it would hit a permanent rate of 4½ per cent — the fund would be in the red until 1965.

The next step up from the present 2¼ to 2½ per cent was set for 1960. Congress now proposes to move this up to Jan. 1, 1959, hike the taxable wage base from $4,200 to $4,800, and move the date of the 4½ per cent permanent rate up to 1969.

The amount deducted from your pay check for Social Security does not go into a special cash till. It goes straight to the U.S. Treasury, which treats it like any other tax receipt. But the Treasury gives the Social Security fund Treasury securities for the amount received. And it pays interest on these securities.

The fund's holdings of Treasury bonds had reached about 22 billion dollars when payments overtook receipts.

Those fearing that the increasing number of persons getting old age benefits — now more than 11 million — will drain the reserves have always been reassured that Congress will increase the tax as needed to prevent this.

The proposed increase now is part of this plan. It will pinch those now employed. But it will add more for those trying to make ends meet on a fixed income while the cost of living rises. And, its sponsors point out, it will insure the soundness of the Social Security fund.

State to Investigate Accident Injuries

Part of Oakland County will be included in a State Health Dept. medical investigation of automobile accident injuries.

Physicians in the 30 counties to be surveyed will be asked to fill out forms and forward them to the department when they attend persons injured in auto accidents.

In addition, accident information from the state police and other agencies will be analyzed. All the information will be forwarded to the Automotive Crash Injury Research Project at Cornell University's Medical College.

Romeo Firemen Whip Blaze Within Minutes

ROMEO—The rear wall of the garage of the Frederick T. Farr home, 150 First St., caught fire at 8:30 this morning, causing several hundred dollars damage.

Romeo Volunteer Firemen had the blaze under control in a matter of minutes.

The fire was started by a paper burning sheet iron stove near the wall, firemen said.

Farm Bureau Picnic Slated at Rochester

The Oakland County Farm Bureau will hold its annual picnic Sunday at Avon Park in Rochester. A potluck dinner will be served at 1 p.m.

Milk, ice cream and pop will be furnished, and each family will bring a basket lunch. There will be games and entertainment in the afternoon.

Drinks and Cigarettes Stolen From Market

Burglars took beer, soft drinks and cigarettes from Rizzuto's Market, 521 Whittemore St., it was reported to police yesterday.

Picnic Slated Sunday

ROCHESTER — The 29th annual Old Timers Picnic will be held Sunday at the American Legion Hall on W. Fifth street. All former residents of the Rochester area have been invited to the event, which begins at noon, chairman Howard Johnson of 1705 Pontiac Rd., said. Coffee will be served.

New Civic Group to Elect Officers

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—The newly-organized civic association for Ward's Orchard subdivision and surrounding area will elect officers at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Daniel Whitfield Elementary School on Orchard Lake road.

Marshall O'Shaughnessy, of 1270 Dorchester Rd., will act as chairman of the meeting. He is now serving as temporary secretary-treasurer of the group.

Invited to attend the meeting are residents of Ward's Orchard and Dell Rose subdivisions and persons living in the Square Lake or in the Telegraph-Square Lake road vicinity.

The new association represents a large sector of the northern section of Bloomfield Township.

Association members already have adopted a resolution to join the Federated Associations of Bloomfield Township.

All Students Speak Spanish in This Cafe

Students from various high schools practice their classroom Spanish at Arriaga's place by ordering meals and conducting dinner-table conversations in Spanish.

The student who skips his studies and can't come up with the right words or lapses into English while trying to order gets a smiling "no comprendo" from the waitress.

"Almost all conversation is in Spanish and, naturally, all orders for meals must be spoken in Spanish — on order of the teacher who accompanies the class," said Arriaga.

Boat Motor Is Stolen at Crescent Lake Dock

A 30 horsepower motor equipped with an electric starter was stolen from a boat owned by Harold Lane of 285 Florawood St., Waterford Township, sometime after 6 p.m. last night.

Lane reported to township police that his boat was tied up at the Crescent Lake Country Club boat dock and that the thieves smashed the windshield, damaged the controls and slashed holes in the tarpaulin covering the boat.

Police are investigating. Lane estimated the damage and loss was $500.

Pays Teachers Most

CHICAGO — Half the people teaching in colleges in the United States earn more than $5,000 for nine months' work. The highest teaching salaries in colleges are paid in the Far West, the lowest in the Southeast. College presidents are the highest paid, but some of these earn as little as $4,000 a year.

Loses Control of Car; It Flips, Injuring 2 Men

Two persons were injured early this morning when their auto went out of control and overturned on Parkdale St. about a mile west of Dequindre road, Avon Township, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

Douglas Stringer, 27, of 310 Maplehill St., Rochester, the driver, was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital and is reported in satisfactory condition. His companion, Annabelle J. Marotz, 41, of 62940 Van Dyke Ave., Washington, was treated and released.

Avondale Class of 1951 Slates Annual Reunion

AVON TOWNSHIP — Avondale High School class of 1951 will hold its annual reunion and potluck dinner beginning at 10 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 3, at Cass-Dodge Park.

The outing will include games and swimming. Dinner will be served at 1 p.m. Those attending should bring their own dinner service.

Chairmen of the event are Robert Uhann of Auburn Heights, Bill Bennett and Milford Tompkins, both of Avon Township.

Lt. Gov. Hart to Speak at Dem. Rally Tuesday

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP—Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, a candidate for the U.S. Senate, will be among the principal speakers at a Democratic political rally Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Pontiac Township Hall, 2060 Opdyke Rd.

Also on the program will be Les Hudson and Zigmund Niparko, Democrat candidates for U.S. representative, and Leo Meagher and Fred Elias, candidates for state senator.

All residents of the Avon, Independence, Troy and Waterford township areas may attend.

Gets Into Wrestling Act

DANVILLE, Va. (AP)—Frank Allen Goff, 24, of Lynchburg got too excited at the wrestling matches here—and it cost him $10. Officers testified in Municipal Court Goff climbed to the apron of the ring and started a wrestling match of his own with one of the performers.

His Answer to Youth Is Parents, Not Law

A legislative study committee is leaning toward the philosophy that more responsibility by parents instead of more probation officers may be the best answer to juvenile delinquency.

Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Oakland County), named vice chairman of the committee, said if this responsibility was placed more on the state it would mean added expense to taxpayers.

He advocated that the problem be solved "through our educational system. "The schools should teach the children how to live as well as how to make a living," Sen. Lodge said.

The joint Senate and House committee met in Lansing yesterday in an organizational meeting. The assignment of the committee will be to study the Probate Court code and juvenile problems.

The committee requested the Legislative Service Bureau to survey laws in other states governing the responsibility of parents in juvenile delinquency cases.

'Brass' Pickets UAW Pickets at Warren

DETROIT (UPI) — Two executives at the Holley Carburetor Aircraft Division plant in suburban Warren turned out yesterday and picketed some pickets marching in front of their plant.

John ter Keurst, industrial relations director, and Don Bramlege, personnel director, carried signs reading, "This strike is unauthorized by the International Union."

They were watched by a dozen pickets of Local 412 of the United Auto Workers Union, which represents 90 of the 1,700 workers at the plant and has been out on strike since July 2.

Senate, House OK Pentagon Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The big battle over defense reorganization is over. Only President Eisenhower's signature is needed to put it in effect.

Congress completed action on the once controversial issue yesterday when both House and Senate quickly passed a compromise reorganization bill by voice vote.

Truman Considers Campaign in State

WASHINGTON (AP)— There is "a pretty good chance" that former President Harry S. Truman may campaign in Michigan this fall.

But a spokesman for the Democratic National Committee added a Truman appearance in Michigan would have no connection with a possible campaign trip to the state by President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon.

Michigan GOP leaders said here early this week that Eisenhower and Nixon have been asked to campaign in Michigan to attempt to counteract growing Democratic strength in the state.

Wasp Buzzes Into Car, Politician Hurt in Crash

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Rep. Louis C. Rabaut (D-Mich) was recovering today from injuries received in an auto accident.

The 72-year-old congressman suffered a broken bone in his wrist and a cracked rib when his car smacked into the back of a taxicab.

A wasp flew into his car window as he drove home from the Capitol Wednesday night and drew his attention from the road. His wife was riding with him but was not hurt.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

The hottest thing around these parts in a long time is Mitch Miller's "Sing Along With Mitch" album for Columbia (CL-1160).

It's selling like wild fire at all local and area record shops. This just goes to prove that records can still be made that please both the older and younger generations alike.

A hot item on the jazz front is "The Ahmad Jamal Trio" album (Argo LP-628) just released. Jamal, who recently appeared in Detroit, plays some wild piano. Local fans seem to appreciate his work from a look at sales.

Arthur Lyman's "Taboo" (Hi-Fi R-806) is still a steady seller in the upper bracket and his latest contribution to the world of exotic sounds, "Bwanaa" (Hi-Fi R-808) looks like a good follow-up.

Fast becoming the best selling album locally is a neat package by Ray Coniff for Columbia " 'S Awful Nice" (CL-1137). It's in the same vein as Coniff's other albums of this series and record shops are beginning to have trouble keeping it in stock.

THE JAZZ NEST: Save your Confederate money, boys, the South is coming back. Helping this comeback is a great Dixie LP by Doc Evans, "Classics of the '20s" on that great Audiophile Label (AP-50).

This is a must for the record shelf. The Evans band, backed by booming tuba and rippling banjo rhythms, swings in all directions at once.

FIVE ACES: "Poor Little Fool" by Ricky Nelson still heads the list of top sellers in the Pontiac area. Climbing from fifth to second this week is "Western Movies" by The Olympics. A real scorcher, "Fever," by Peggy Lee is in third, one of her best in recent years.

Fourth place goes to "Patricia" by Perez Prado and "Just A Dream" by Jim Clinton (his first time in the top five). "Rebel Rouser" by Duane Eddy is in fifth spot, just edging out "Little Star" by The Elegants which seems to be coming on fast.

Bye Yanks, but Nats Could Be as Bad

Four Home Runs Sweep Series for New York

Jim Bunning Gives Up Just One Hit Until 7th Inning

DETROIT (AP) — Things cannot get much worse for the Detroit Tigers — unless the long-impotent Washington Senators can sweep the four-game series that starts tonight at Briggs Stadium.

After their third straight loss to the New York Yankees yesterday, the pitching-poor Tigers faded 18½ games off the pace. They were in last place, but only 12½ games back, when Jack Tighe got the axe as manager.

The Tigers blew a 5-0 lead and lost yesterday's game 10-7 before a large weekday crowd of 25,705. The loss, charged to no-hit ace Jim Bunning, was even more difficult to swallow than the 13-3 and 16-4 pastings the Bronx Bombers dealt the Tigers in the two previous games of the series.

The home run ball, an old enemy of Bunning and one that has defeated him numerous times in 1958, enabled the Yankees to even the season series at 9-9. The Tigers, who once had seven straight wins and an 8-3 record over the defending American League champions, gave Bunning a 5-0 lead after five innings.

Tito Francona dropped a bases-loaded pop fly double down the left field line for three runs in the third inning, and first baseman Marv Throneberry's error opened the way for two Detroit runs in the fifth.

On the other hand, the lanky righthander who no-hit the Boston Red Sox last Sunday was sailing along with a one-hitter going into the seventh. Three singles in a row broke up his shutout, then rookie Marv Throneberry hit his fourth home run.

Still trailing by one run with one out in the eighth, Mickey Mantle lined his second hit — and fifth in his last seven trips — to right field. Then the notorious ball hitter, Yogi Berra, slammed his 16th home run far into the upper right field pavilion for a 6-5 Yankee edge.

For insurance — and as it turned out they needed it — the Yankees pushed across four more scores in the ninth against Foytack. Their relief ace, Rinold Duren, was struck on the left cheek after Foytack got the first two batters.

Shortstop Billy Martin fumbled Jerry Lumpe's roller and Gil McDougald, who had a home run in the series opener, lashed a three-run blast over the left field fence. Mantle followed with his 26th home run, a prodigious drive into the upper right center field bleachers above the 415-foot mark.

Gail Harris hit a two-run homer for the Tigers in the ninth as manager Casey Stengel called on three pitchers to seal the triumph. He used seven in all, and it was Bob Turley — who won Tuesday night's opener — who was summoned from the bullpen for the final out.

Tigers Deny Order to Throw at Duren

Rhubarb Results in Beaning

DETROIT (AP) — The New York Yankees and the Detroit Tigers had a mild rhubarb going today over the pitch that felled Yankee relief ace Rinold Duren.

The 29-year-old righthander, credited with 16 saves and a leading candidate for rookie-of-the-year and most valuable player awards, was hospitalized after he was struck high on the left cheek by one of Paul Foytack's fastballs in the ninth inning of yesterday's contest at Briggs Stadium.

The Yankees won the game 10-7 to complete a sweep of the three-game series, but Duren — who was credited with the victory — is to spend several days in a Detroit hospital. He suffered a bruise, and a cut that required several stitches to close. He will be kept under observation.

Doctors said X rays were negative and that there was no cranial injury.

Duren, who had faced only six batters in two innings, was struck after Foytack retired the first two batters. The Yankees, leading 6-5 at the time, made it a rout on ninth inning home runs by Gil McDougald and Mickey Mantle.

The Tigers denied the incident was deliberate but some of the Yankee players were sure that it was. One New York player said Foytack "looked into the Tiger dugout just before he threw the ball."

Duren, who had to be carried from the field on a stretcher, nearly hit the first Detroit batter he faced. His first pitch, a high inside fastball, sent Al Kaline sprawling into the dirt. Just last week the Kansas City Athletics accused Duren of deliberately hitting slugger Bob Cerv.

One of Duren's pitches caught the A's left fielder on the left elbow and the ball bounced into Cerv's ribs. Duren denied he threw at Cerv and said he never would do such a thing to any batter.

Detroit manager Bill Norman said "I would never tell any pitcher to throw at any batter. Sure, the pitchers brush the batters back. That's baseball. But I wouldn't want my pitchers throwing at anybody. You could kill or maim a guy doing that."

Norman said he was in the dugout runway smoking a cigarette when Duren was felled. Pitching coach Willis Hudlin said the Tiger bench "was riding Duren" about the Kaline incident two innings before but added that no one told Foytack to throw at the Yankee pitcher.

"There was a lot of yelling going on," he explained, "but there was no signal of any kind and I'm sure no one gave Paul orders to hit Duren."

Foytack was making only his third relief appearance. He was demoted to the bullpen two days ago after the Yankees beat him 13-3, and he failed to go the distance for the ninth time in his last 19 starts.

He, too, denied he threw at Duren. "I was just trying to get out of the inning," he said, "and the pitch got away from me."

He's Also Sorry About $250 Fine

Williams Apologizes for Spitting

CHICAGO (AP)—Red Sox outfielder Ted Williams today apologized for spitting at the fans during a Red Sox-Athletics game at Kansas City Wednesday night.

A statement released by Red Sox spokesmen in Williams' name said:

"I'm sorry I did it. I was so mad at the park that I lost my temper and afterward I was sorry about it. I'm principally sorry sorry about losing the $250."

American League President Will Harridge fined Williams $250 yesterday, saying the Red Sox star's spitting was "conduct detrimental to the best interests of baseball."

Manager Mike Higgins refused to comment as the Red Sox arrived in Chicago for a three game series with the White Sox.

When Williams arrived in Union Station last night, he at first declined to say anything at all about the Kansas City incident or the fine. He walked rapidly up the ramp and through the station to a cab stand. When a newsman and a photographer tried to question him and take a picture, he said, "What do you want a picture of me for? Get one as I'm walking along. . . ."

Then, with emphasis, the Boston slugger dismissed the whole affair:

"I work with you guys whenever I have the chance, but this has nothing to do with baseball. You guys know what it's all about and that's all I'm going to say."

Williams spat in the general direction of booing fans in Kansas City when they thought he failed to show enough effort after his grounder was snagged by first baseman Harry Simpson for an unassisted putout.

The night before, Williams really scampered and got to first base after striking out on a wide knuckler that got away from Harry Chiti. And, the big outfielder made a valiant try on a succeeding hit-and-run play to avoid being tagged in the baseline on the front end of a double play.

The night of the spitting incident Williams jogged about halfway to first base, then turned and went for the dugout. When the fans opened up with boos, he spat in their direction. That only increased the booing which was carried out at every appearance—even when he slammed a double in the eighth for Boston's only run of the 3-1 victory for the A's.

Williams was fined $5,000 two years ago for a similar fit of pique in Boston. The fine, levied by the Boston club, later was rescinded.

Von Attempts Comeback

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—Von McDaniel, last year's bonus baby pitching sensation, has begun what appears to be a long hard climb from Class B baseball back to the major league St. Louis Cardinals.

The 19-year-old Hollis, Okla., farm boy, pitching for the first time after more than a month of idleness brought on by arm trouble, failed to last two innings Wednesday night.

Von was given the starting assignment by Vern Benson, manager of the Winston-Salem Red Birds in their Carolina League game with the second place Greensboro Yankees.

McDaniel was removed with two out in the second inning after four runs, two earned, had been scored against him. He yielded three hits, walked four, fanned one and made a wild pitch that allowed a runner to score from third.

McDaniel, sent down here from the Houston Texas League club, had this comment:

"I can't complain. There was no soreness in my arm at all. The trouble appeared to be in my shoulder. It just wasn't loose."

Said Manager Benson, "He showed little coordination in his pitching motion, there was no rhythm in the motion."

Southfield Ruth Team Eliminated by 1957 Champs

The host Southfield team was eliminated from the Babe Ruth playoffs last night as the Northwest Detroit Nationals gained the semifinals by winning 9-7.

Southfield trailed all the way and came up with a three-run rally in the 7th but the bid fell short. Errors and poor baserunning hurt the losers.

Jerry Odom was the Southfield batting star with three hits, one a triple. His twin brother Terry was the losing pitcher.

Northwest Detroit, defending state champion, meets Walled Lake and the Birmingham Pioneers and Birmingham Satellites tangle Saturday for the right to play in Sunday's championship game.

Jones Blanks Braves as Reds, Pirates Win

By The Associated Press

Is that really just a two-team race in the National League. Or aren't those St. Louis Cardinals dead after all?

While there's hardly any daylight from third to seventh in the race behind Milwaukee and San Francisco, the Cardinals appear to be the only club capable of a serious challenge, even with two months to go.

Trouble is, the Cardinals, just off their second seven-game slump of the season, still have to prove they're breathing. They've won four of their last six, and trail the skidding third place Chicago Cubs by only half a game, but they're still fourth, 6½ games back.

It was Sam's fourth consecutive victory, but he just managed to clear .500 with an 8-7 record. The Cards have averaged less than four in the games he's won.

Despite a split in four games with the Cardinals, the Braves retained first place by a half game since second place San Francisco was rained out at Philadelphia. The Cubs lost their fifth in a row 4-3 at Cincinnati. Pittsburgh whipped Los Angeles 5-3.

The Cardinals got rid of 12-game winner Warren Spahn, who has whipped them 50 times in his career, with two runs after two were out in the first inning. Consecutive singles by Stan Musial, Ken Boyer, Del Ennis and Gene Freese counted the pair and brought on Bob Rush, who gave up two more in the fifth on Boyer's sacrifice fly and Ennis' second RBI single.

Mel Roach had two of the Braves' hits off Jones, who walked four and struck out six. Spahn, losing his 28th to St. Louis, now is 12-7 for the year.

The slipping Cubs, only 2½ games behind a week ago, blew a 3-2 lead with Ed Bailey rapping a two-run homer, his seventh, off losing reliever Bill Henry (2-1). Alex Kellner (2-1) won it in relief of Brooks Lawrence, who was chased in a five-hit, three-run sixth. Frank Robinson also homered for the Reds, now sixth, seven games behind.

The Pirates, just .001 ahead of Cincinnati, gained a 13-7 season edge over Los Angeles with a three-game sweep—third first winning season against the Dodgers since 1951. A four-run fourth, triggered by rookie Dick Stuart's two-run fifth homer, did it. Rookie George Witt won his third, while rookie Stan Williams, who had won three in a row, lost his second in less than 24 hours for a 6-5 record. Charley Neal drove in two runs for the last place Dodgers, one with his 18th homer.

Detroit Golfers Are Eliminated

TORONTO (AP)—Bob Brue, 23-year-old bespectacled Milwaukee golfer, Thursday became the only American survivor for the semi-finals of the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship.

Veteran Ted Lenczyk of Newington, Conn., made a spectacular bid to stay in the running but lost out on the 18th in the afternoon round to little Wilf Homenuik of Winnipeg.

Two Detroit golfers were defeated yesterday. Tom Wilson was beaten by Doug Bajus, 4 and 3, while Tom Draper lost to Bruce Castator, 2 and 1.

Brue won 5 and 4 in the morning over H. H. Haverstick Jr., of Lancaster, Pa., and then overcame big Doug Bajus of Vancouver, British Columbia, 4 and 3 in the afternoon. Bajus eliminated Tom Wilson of Detroit 4 and 3 in the day's opening round.

Brue will meet Hanson, and Castator will tangle with the Winnipeger in the semifinals.

Doctoring Your Golf

By CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Short and To The Right.

DIAGNOSIS: Hitting Over The Ball.

Treatment: Hitting over the ball means getting the body out of position in such a way that the clubhead has to be brought into the ball from the outside in. What happens is that the body gets ahead of the hand and the clubhead and much power is lost.

In a power swing, the clubhead must come into the ball from the inside out. That's the type of swing that gets your weight behind the shot.

The way to achieve this power position is to keep the right elbow tucked in close to the body during the backswing and until the ball is hit. Let the right elbow point downward at the top of the backswing and have it brush by the right side pocket of your trousers on the downswing.

Milt Pappas Gets 7th Win as Orioles Spank Chisox

By The Associated Press

Rookie Milt Pappas hit his first pro homer and won his seventh game for the Baltimore Orioles in whipping the Chicago White Sox, 7-3 before a ladies day crowd of 12,289 yesterday in the Windy City.

Pappas, 19-year-old righthander from Detroit stole show as he gave up only five hits and added a double to his home run besides scoring two runs.

Another rookie righthander, Gary Bell, allowed Washington only four hits as the Cleveland Indians won a 6-1 game. Washington got only three hits including Ken Aspromonte's third inning homer.

Russ Nixon had four hits, one a homer and drove in four runs — a two day total of seven — for the Indians.

Rocky Colavito hit his 19th homer for the Indians off loser Hal Griggs (3-8).

Bell's record is 4-4 for the season. He struck out four and walked one batter.

Pappas was wild as he walked six and it was his second complete game. He was removed other times by manager Paul Richards for fear of overworking the youngster.

Gene Woodling had four hits for Baltimore and he scored three runs, and Bob Nieman had a two-run homer.

Baltimore thus moved within two games of second place Boston, rained out at Kansas City, but the Yankees still held a 13½ game bulge in the American League race.

The star halfback said he will leave Tuesday for the Giants' training camp at Salem, Ore.

Gifford said he decided in favor of football when he saw teammates Harlan Svare, Cliff Livingston and Charley Conerly packing for training camp.

"You bums give me itchy feet," he told his pals. "I'm going up there with you if I have to break my contract."

Gifford announced his retirement from pro football after the close of the 1957 season.

Motor City came from behind in the last inning to nip Warwick Builders, 9-8, in the PeeWee baseball league playoff finals yesterday at Daniel Whitfield School.

Chuck Bowles' two-base hit with two men on in the seventh enabled Motor City to tie the score. Bowles scored the winning run on a grounder hit by Ronnie Stafford.

Winner Kerry Rogers allowed six hits.

NFL Teams Go Into Training Camps

Gedman, David at Terms With Detroit Lions

Two Rookies Announce They Will Not Report to Cranbrook Site

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Pro football teams moved into action in their respective training camps across the land, and every club except the Philadelphia Eagles will go through their first workouts by Sunday evening.

The Eagles pitch camp at Hershey, Pa. on Monday with 26 returning veterans and 24 rookies, plus Norm Van Brocklin, the latest addition to the Philly squad.

Teams already in camp are the Baltimore Colts (Western Maryland College), Chicago Bears (St. Joseph's College), Chicago Cardinals (Lake Forest, Ill.), Cleveland Browns (Hiram College), Los Angeles Rams (University of Redlands) and the Lions at Cranbrook.

The New York Giants report tomorrow at Willamette College in Salem, Oregon; the Pittsburgh Steelers open at California (Pa.) State Teachers; the Washington Redskins at Occidental College in Los Angeles; the San Francisco 49ers at St. Mary's College in California and the Green Bay Packers at St. Norbert College in Wisconsin.

The Lions started workouts this morning and will be first team to get into game action, Friday night August 15th against the college All-Stars.

Two players to sign their contracts yesterday were Gene Gedman and Jimmy David, but three other players have quit the squad.

Veteran center Frank Gatski, who came to Detroit after 12 years at Cleveland last year, left for his home in West Virginia and said he was retiring.

The Lions also learned that rookies Jim Loftin, fullback from Alabama and halfback Henry Herzog of Kentucky would not report.

Loftin, the 9th draft choice, was going into business and Herzog planned to return to school.

Linebacker Joe Schmidt turned down a contract offer from president and general manager Edwin J. Anderson this morning and became the lone holdout.

Schmidt, who completed a six-month tour of duty with the army only six days ago, rejected what Anderson termed "a whale of an offer."

Coach George Wilson said many of the veterans were in excellent shape and for at least 10 days he would put them through twice-daily sessions.

The annual "Meet the Lions" banquet will be held August 18th and the guest speaker will be Jimmy Conzelman, former coach of the Chicago Cardinals.

Collegians Start Prepping for Lions

Graham Gets 'Stars' Started

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—A hand-picked crop of 1957's top collegiate football players will begin drills Friday for their All-Star Game clash with the Detroit Lions in Soldier Field the night of Aug.15.

Head Coach Otto Graham, former star quarterback of the Cleveland Browns, Thursday greeted 52 players at Northwestern University where the ex-collegians will prepare for their clash with the National Football League champions.

This is Graham's first crack at the All-Star coaching job handled last year by Curly Lambeau, a pro football pioneer. Lambeau's second All-Star club lost last year to the New York Giants, 22-12, in a rain-drenched contest.

The All-Stars last defeated the pro champs in 1955, edging the Cleveland Browns, 30-27, for only their seventh victory against 15 defeats and two ties in the late summer grid spectacle.

Graham and his pro game-versed staff selected the 1958 All-Star squad with the aim of throwing the brawniest linemen and swiftest backs possible against the rugged Lions.

The All - Star roster lists 17 guards and tackles, 6 of them weigh 240 pounds or more. Thirty-seven collegians weigh more than 200 pounds each.

The important quarterback assignment will be shared by King Hill of Rice, Ray Brown of Mississippi, Jim Ninowski of Michigan State and Tom Forrestal of Navy.

Biggest All-Star performer is John Baker, 290 - - pounder from North Carolina College. Other collegiate giants include tackles Alex Karras of Iowa, Frank Youso of Minnesota, and guard Proverb Jacobs, California, 250 each; guard Don Healy, Maryland, 225; Jim McCusker, Pittsburgh tackle, 245 and Ed Cooke, Maryland end, 240.

Graham has a fine array of fleet, powerful backs, headed by Michigan's Jim Pace, Illinois' Bobby Mitchell, North Carolina State's Dick Christy and Texas A&M's John Crow.

The All-Stars coaching aides include Don Doll, Don Paul, Pete Pihos, John Sandusky, and Northwestern Coach Ara Parshegian, all former pro stars.

Local Junior Golfers Beaten

IOWA CITY, Iowa — Eight young golfers including some top-rated collegians will take to the fairways here today to claim the Western Junior title seized from highly regarded defending champion Don Essig of Indianapolis.

C. A. Smith of Jackson, Mich., won his first round match but two other area players lost their matches.

Pete Green of Birmingham was beaten by Bob McDonald of Prospect Heights, Ill., 4 and 2.

The lad who dethroned Essig in yesterday's second round of match play over the tough University of Iowa course was Frank James of Grinnell, Iowa, a freshman at the university.

Drayton, Merchants Waterford Winners

Drayton Drug defeated Lakeland Pharmacy 2-1 in the American League and Pontiac Lake Merchants tripped Hubert Wall 6-4 in the National in Waterford Men's softball last night.

Successive singles by Sid Gregory, Stu Hutchinson and Paul Atkins followed by a fielder's choice won it for Drayton. "Ski" Neal batted in the lone Lakeland Pharmacy marker in the 7th with the team's 11th hit.

Pontiac Lake broke a 3-3 tie with two in the 4th when Frank Emerson tripled and his brother Paul homered. Paul had two homers and a double for the game.

Lakeland Hardware defeated Johnson & Anderson 14-3 in a Little League contest, while Nubrite won by forfeit over Rogers Electric in the Junior League.

LION AND A CUB — Rugged rookie center Leon Cunningham, the Lions' 8th draft choice, had that paternal touch yesterday when he was given 3-month old Howard Folk of Birmingham to hold for a few minutes. "Shucks, my wife should see me now," he commented. His wife Margaret is at home in Atlanta, Ga. They have no children.

Rademacher Fights Folley in TV Bout

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former amateur champion Pete Rademacher makes a second bid for professional boxing fame when he battles Zora Folley, top contender for the heavyweight crown, at 10 rounds or less tonight.

CIO Triumphs Over Jets, 5-2

It was all over after the 1st inning in the CIO-Jets Class A baseball game won by the 594 boys 5-2 at Wisner Field last night.

CIO put together singles by Chuck Graves and Kim Conroy, a double by Neil Ricketts, two walks and two errors for five runs in its first time at bat to wrap it up quick.

Loser Tom Estes gave up only one hit the rest of the way but the damage was done. His mates wasted three hits in the 1st two frames before tallying their runs in the 3rd on a triple by Colle Hunt and two errors.

Winner Jim Addiss pitched one-hit shutout ball over the last four rounds.

May Stop Military Team Entries

Middle East Situation Hits Tourney

By H. GUY MOATS

A real carnival atmosphere today was spreading over the spacious grounds at Oakland County Sportmen's club at Waterford.

"Shotgun Boulevard" has taken shape, the 16 skeet field houses are spick and span in new coats of paint.

National Skeet Shooting Assn. officials were mostly all on hand, the machinery for operation of the country's — and possibly the world's—greatest scatter-gun competition was primed and ready.

Pontiac and Michigan people are being given, free, without any admission charges, opportunity to see the greatest skeet experts from all parts of the United States, Canada, from U.S. Army installations in Europe, in action. This will be the 21st official skeet championship for NSSA. It is the 3rd time in five years Pontiac has been headquarters for the highly colorful, extremely interesting series of some 43 championships.

Arrival of shooters began today. They come by automobile chiefly. Many use the airlines, others travel by train and bus. Secretary George White figures better than 450 will be here when championship firing begins Monday morning.

But there was one solemn note today.

Because of continued tension in the Middle East situation, there may be a strong reduction in the number of military teams expected. "We are afraid the Army will clamp down on movements of military shooters from the European zone" said White today. "That will of course, hit us in what we had expected would be one of the really interesting competitions."

However, the World Championships will have at least one top team from European Army units. Word was received yesterday from the captain of the Association of American Rod & Gun Clubs, Europe, Capt. James M. Leer Jr., that he is heading a 6-man team, including Col. Clair B. Penskofer, Chief Warrant Officer Robert L. Robins (Europe's best last year), M. Sgt. Max Quick, W. C. Wooten and Lieut. Gerry Grimm.

Another interesting entry has been turned in from Europe. Larry Smith, Birmingham Michigan construction man, has been in Weisbaden, Germany on a work project and only recently was runnerup in European championships at Nellingen, Germany. He tied with a Swede at 180, lost the shootoff 75-74. He'll be here next week.

Checking over the champions list, White said he was certain that 33 of the 43 1957 titlists would defend their honors here next week. One of the missing may be the women's all-events champion, Mrs. Thelma Anguish of Pacoima Calif. But Betty Ragland (Mrs. Alphonse Ragland Jr.) of Dallas Tex. will be on hand. Betty only recently won all five of the Texas women's titles, and with Mrs. Olita (Fred) Alford of New Orleans, is rated a top title prospect. Judy Allen, Oakland Calif., 28-gauge queen in 1957, is also a highly rated contender. Mrs. Alford was NSSA women's champion in 1953.

Player Among Trio at 68

Three Tied in East Open

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gary Player, the successful South African invader, and two domestic divot-diggers desperately trying to regain the winning touch went into the second round of the Eastern Open golf tournament today sharing the lead with four-under-par 68s.

Although he has won a cool $15,000 this year by consistently finishing in the money, Rosburg hasn't won a major tournament since the San Diego Open in October 1956. Fetchick's last No. 1 haul came two months later in the Sanford Open.

Slogging right on the heels of three leaders across the rain-soaked Mt. Pleasant course after 18 holes came four players with 69—Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., Wesley Ellis Jr. of Ridgewood, N. J., and Walker Inman Jr., the Georgian playing out of Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.

Lionel's brother, Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., was among five players who posted 70 after 18 holes in the 72-hole grind running through Sunday. The others were Bill Ezinicki, the former hockey player from Lynfield, Mass., Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., Don Stough of York, Pa., and John O'Donnell, who works for the city as host pro at municipally owned Mt. Pleasant.

Another dozen players, shaved one stroke off par-72 for the 6,895-yard course, even though it was playing more difficult than ever because of two downpours during the afternoon. Play was suspended for 35 minutes during the second rain, which brought the month's total to about nine inches. More thundershowers were forecast for this afternoon.

The 71 shooters included National Open champion Tommy Bolt, former Masters and PGA king Jack Burke and Deane Beman, a University of Maryland junior who was the only amateur to crack par.

Dick Mayer, onetime National Open champ, was knocked out of the $20,000 tournament before he was warmed up. He suffered a minor neck injury on the second hole of the back nine after finishing the front nine in a two-over-par 38.

Boys' Club Pitcher Just Misses No-Hitter

Scoring in every inning but one, Pontiac Boys' Club hammered out an 11-1 verdict over Pontiac Business Institute in a Class B city baseball game yesterday.

The Clubbers only had six hits, including two singles by Jim Skinner and Bill Hayward's triple, but seven errors and six walks made it easy.

Amateur Day Games Sunday

The biggest day of the annual Pontiac summer baseball program comes up Sunday when the city's Baseball Federation stages its annual Amateur Day program at Wisner Field.

A schedule of three games matching teams from three different junior leagues will precede the regular feature of the program—a battle between the Class A leader and an All Star team picked from the league's other teams.

That feature will have Shaw's Jewelers meeting the "cream of the crop" picked from the CIO, Griff's Grill and Our Jets contingents. Shaw's held a slight edge on the pack all season.

Neil Ricketts and Joe Soto are among the 11 players picked on a No. 1 "star" unit while Jim Wagner is one of the pitchers on the 2nd group. Such familiar names as Herm Bishop, John Fleser, Hal Trott and Terry Thomas will be playing for Shaw's.

Sunday's gala program will begin at noon with Cranbrook and Don Nicholie of the Class D (18-year-olds) playing.

The Little Braves and Hudson Hardware of the Widget loop (11-year-olds) meet at 1:30 while Midget foes B & B Sewer Cleaners and Pontiac Boys' Club (13-year-olds) battle at 2:10.

Three City Softball Teams Post Comeback Victories

Griff's Grill, Sports Shop and Franklin Products were International League victors and O'Neil Realty took a National League verdict in city softball play last night.

Griff's whipped Pontiac State Hospital Employees 11-3 after trailing during the early innings. A six-run 6th, featuring a two-run homer by Metzdorf, put it on ice.

Sports Shop had little trouble drubbing Borden's 13-3 aided by eight errors. Six different players got one hit apiece.

Franklin was behind 4-2 after four frames and went ahead 5-4. The final count was 13-4 over Dostal Foundry thanks to an eight-run blast in the 6th.

R. Rose and Morgan had three bingles apiece for the victors. J. Mayer settled down to hurl shutout ball over the last three innings to win.

O'Nil Realty tripped Moose 4-3 in the best game of the night.

Two runs in the 7th decided the issue as two walks, two errors, a sacrifice and stolen base made it possible. Moose had a 9-4 batting edge in defeat. One of the safeties was a homer by J. Warner.

Tom LaVerdue won again for Little Braves . . . Dennis Smith (Nick's) and Erick Mobey (Preston) matched grand slam

Rochester's Partello Wins Metro Feature

Chuck Partello of Rochester outraced Jim Nelson of Flint by three car-lengths to win the 20-lap main event of the weekly modified program at Metropolitan Speedway in Mt. Clemens last night. Partello set one of three new track records in a dash event.

Don Irish and Jerry Wolfe of Pontiac were heat winners. Mechanical difficulties kept Pontiac ace Joy Fair and Hazel Park veteran Leon Blachura out of action.

Detroit Old-Timers Play Here Saturday

Former Tiger moundsman Paul (Diz) Trout and George Lerchen, also a former Bengal, will be with the invading club, Honchell says.

Sale of Horses Down

THURSDAY'S FIGHTS

the new electric water heater way

GET IT HOT...GET A LOT every time. A new electric water heater provides plenty of hot, hot water for showers and all the family's needs. Detroit Edison has a new Super Supply Plan which makes heaters even more efficient and economical.

Here's the most convenient, modern way to GET IT HOT ...GET A LOT for an operating cost as low as $3.88 per month.

Only electric water heaters give you all these important advantages:
- ☒ Efficient—the heat goes into the water
- ☒ Fast—new, more efficient heating units
- ☒ Install anywhere—need not be near a chimney
- ☒ Outer shell—cool to the touch all over
- ☒ Automatic—all the time
- ☒ Safe—clean—quiet—modern
- ☒ Long life—meet Edison's rigid standards
- ☒ Edison maintains electrical parts without charge

By EARL WILSON

LONG BEACH, Cal. — This is my fourth year as a "Miss Universe" judge and I was a "Miss America" judge three years before that. All this makes me a veritable "Old Man of the Shes," and entitles me to write "The Confessions of Old Judge Wilson."

WILSON

So I'll do it by me interviewing me in a blunt, nasty manner.

Q—Aren't the contests fixed?

A—I've never for a second suspected any shenanigans at the big national or international contests. The judges see how much it means to the girls and become extremely conscientious.

Q—Don't you think beauty contest winners are really stupid?

A—Jackie Loughery, the former Miss U.S.A., recently married Jack Webb—and Yolanda Betbeze, a former Miss America, married Matty Fox, the Big Pay-TV tycoon. Do you call that stupid?

Q—There's a rumor that you favor girls who are extremely voluptuous. What do you say to this allegation?

A—It's a barefaced truth.

A—No! How about Bess Myerson of TV, and Vera Miles and Myrna Hanson of Hollywood? Vera was second at Atlantic City, failing to win because she said she had no talent. Alfred Hitchcock said she's one of the most talented actresses he knows.

MYRNA

Q—What do you know about beauty, anyway?

A—Nothing. Nobody knows anything about it. It's all personal opinion, and mine can get as personal as anybody's.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

Joe E. Lewis and Paul Douglas are on the same floor at Lewis recovering from a non-malignant tumor operation . . . Cedars of Lebanon Hospital in L.A., Douglas with pneumonia, Johnny Mathis and his agent, Helen Koga, signed a lifetime contract . . . Marie (The Body) McDonald's taking singing and dancing lessons, preparing for a Broadway role . . .

EARL'S PEARLS: A local merchant found a way to stop his women customers from talking about low prices in the old days. He tells 'em, "Why, I didn't know you were old enough to remember." That's earl, brother.

Sees No Reason to Fete Nikita

New York Mayor Says Red Premier Will Be Guest of U. S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner sees no reason to play host if Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev comes here for a summit conference.

"The hosts will be the federal government and the United Nations," Wagner said, "and we have nothing to do with it."

The mayor made the comment before leaving for a vacation in California.

When King Saud of Saudi Arabia came here early last year, Wagner snubbed him on the grounds that the monarch was anti-Jewish, anti-Catholic and pro-slavery.

A City Hall spokesman said later, however, that the city was "prepared to do whatever the federal government asked it to do in connection with the proposed extraordinary United Nations meeting."

To Return Suspect Wanted for Murder

VALDOSTA, Ga. (AP)—Michigan authorities planned to fly to Valdosta today to return Charles (Chuck) Hanna to Ludington, where he is wanted in the killing of a policeman.

Police Chief Fred Nankee of Ludington said he and Sheriff Edwin Anderson of Macon county would escort the 25-year-old Chicagoan. He added that "a lot of questioning" is in store for Hanna.

Hanna, picked up Wednesday in this south Georgia town, signed a waiver of extradition, clearing the way legally for his return. He also gave Police Chief Wilbur Perkerson a signed statement in which he said he does not remember actually firing the shots which killed officer Arlo Slagle, 28, early Sunday.

Three Children Drown While Wading in Pond

MARS, Pa. (AP)—"They were just like all kids . . . excited about one thing one time and another thing another time . . . all three were blond-haired and stuck together all the time. . ."

This was Mrs. Herbert Brooks' comment after her three grandchildren, William, 8; Rhonda, 7; and Michael 6, drowned yesterday in a pond near their home.

The children's mother, Mrs. William Brooks, told firemen the childeren were wading when one of them apparently fell into deeper water, dragging, the others down. She said they always held hands while wading.

Three Killed as Jet Hits Japanese Town

TOKYO (AP)—A U.S. Air Force jet bomber making a forced landing crashed into a small Japanese village today, killing the pilot and two Japanese boys.

The navigator of the twin-engine B57, 1st Lt. Norman H. Silver, 27, Portland, Ore., a Japanese woman and her two children were seriously injured. Air Force doctors treated 23 other villagers for lesser injuries.

The name of the dead pilot was withheld.

The bomber developed engine trouble while on a training flight from Johnson air base, 30 miles west of Tokyo. The pilot tried to make it to the base but crashed in Irumagawa village, a quarter of a mile from the base runway.

The Nobel prizes are currently estimated at about $40,000 each in value.

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Nowadays, an actor can't sit around and wait for his agent to call. He has got to get out and hustle for himself."

This is the credo of robust Jon Hall, and it is producing results. For instance:

1. Tahitian-reared Hall has long been a fan of island music. Finding some inspired combos in Hawaiian night spots, he moved his own equipment in and made hi-fi and stereophonic recordings. He brought them back to the States and sold the layout to Mercury Records, which will soon bring out "Hi-fi in Hawaii."

2. A veteran of making movies in, under and above the water ("The Hurricane," "South of Pago Pago," "Aloma of the South Seas," etc.), he has long recognized the difficulty of filming underwater. The submerged cameras were bulky, required two or three men to handle, could film only a limited time.

So Jon went to work with associates and produced the Samson-Hall underwater camera, a lightweight affair that one man can easily adjust and operate. It will shoot four minutes of film and is quickly reloaded.

He will exhibit the camera at an engineering convention here and reports that camera makers, the Navy and film producers are interested in it.

3. Having prospered with the amazingly successful "Ramar of the Jungle" television series, Jon is devising another one, "The Seven Seas." This one will get him out of the jungle and into the briny. He has already shot thousands of feet of film underwater for the series with his own camera.

4. And when he can get a respite from all these activities, Jon will start developing his Makena Village, a resort hotel he plans to build on Maui Island in Hawaii. He has the plans all ready to go.

State Parks Bulge With Campers

"We just don't know where to put al lthe campers that keep coming," said Arthur C. Elmer, chief of the Conservation Department's Parks Division.

Elmer said camping has increased 21 per cent so far this year over the previous season. About 45,000 camp permits have been issued to date compared with 36,000 during the same period last year.

"Park managers keep in contact by radio and then tell surplus campers where vacancies exist in nearby parks," Elmer explained.

"But the camper has to take his chances wherever he goes. It's on a first-come, first-served, and the space is limited."

The popularity of camping is in contrast to day-time attendance at the parks so far this year. About 7,500,000 persons have visited state parks to date but this is still eight per cent down from the total at this time last year.

Doubt Motives of Russians

House Foreign Affairs Members See Parley as Propaganda Forum

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Foreign Affairs Committee members today were reported convinced that the Soviets will try to use a U.N. summit meeting as a propaganda sounding board.

Chairman Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa) said Asst. Secretary of State William Macomber was given this advice during a secret briefing on the Middle East crisis late yesterday.

Morgan said he does not think Eisenhower can refuse to go, but he said he should not accept in haste.

"I don't think he should go up there and get into a lengthy wrangle with Khrushchev under the TV cameras," Morgan said.

He contended also that this country should insist on strict adherence to the Security Council rules, with discussion limited to the subject at hand and prevented from developing into a propaganda free-for-all.

They Search in Vain

MIDDLETOWN, R.I. (AP) — Police, fire fighters and Coast-guardmen searched the water off Atlantic beach last night by the light of 50 automobile headlights for Wallace A. Martland, 19, Newport. He had been reported at the beach and presumably had drowned. Later, searchers discovered Martland was home in bed.

Too Busy Helping Others

CINCINNATI (AP)— Bookkeeper Schamuiel Schuller, 51, who has filed more than 50 city income tax returns for customers, was convicted in Municipal Court on a charge of failing to file a return for himself. He said he hadn't had time because he was "so busy making out returns for customers." He was fined $100.

Bride Starts Wedded Life at 3rd Base

NEDERLAND, Tex. (AP) — Three months ago Jeanette Pickens and Lance Van Zandt of Port Neches, Tex., set their wedding for 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Van Zandt learned only yesterday that his Babe Ruth League baseball team would play in the state tournament at San Antonio at the same hour and asked his bride-elect: "How are you going to like coaching third base Friday night?"

The couple quickly decided to take their vows at 2:30 p.m., and fly to San Antonio for the baseball game. The bride's going-away outfit will include a baseball cap for the third base coaching job.

TODAY'S 2-MINUTE MYSTERY

THE CASE OF

THE BUSHWHACKER

Seventeenth of a series

By DONALD J. SOBOL

As the little burro tossed and jolted, Haledjian wondered what madness had prompted him to sign up for this mountain ride. He should have remained at the resort astride a beach chaise and let local color alone.

"That there's the Johnny Kid's corner," suddenly announced the tour's grizzly little guide. He pointed to a projection of rock which formed a perfect corner.

"Johnny Kid objected to Ringo Charlie's weakness for palmin' aces. As Ringo Charlie was the fastest gun in three counties and related to half the town, Johnny Kid never pushed his objections. But one fine day he crouched behind that there rock and waited."

The guide dismounted and briefly made like Johnny Kid.

"Long about 4 in the afternoon," he resumed, "Ringo Charlie and his brother Sy come along. They'd suspicion'd somethin'. So they'd left the horses back a piece and come up quiet, on foot."

The guide rose from his knee, rounded the corner, and walked a dozen paces. He turned about, enacting the part of Ringo Charlie, and sneaked toward the corner. He squinted dramatically into the afternoon sun and held

"Johnny Kid seen Ringo Charlie's shadow comin' while Ringo was still six feet away. Out jumps the Kid, two guns blazin'. Ringo Charlie goes flat as a slab, and Sy high-tails it back to town for a posse.

"A fair fight was one thing, but bushwhackin' was another breed of cow. When folks heerd how Johnny Kid had the advantage on Ringo Charlie, they up and lynched him, even though the Kid don't yet have any chin fuzz."

"They hanged an innocent boy," spoke up Haledjian.

The guide stared. "W-what's that?"

"Sy lied to the townsfolk. I suppose he hated to admit a mere boy beat his brother to the draw," said Haledjian.

WHAT WAS AMISS WITH THE STORY SY TOLD THE TOWNSFOLK?

Sy said Johnny Kid knew his brother was coming because at Ringo Charlie's approach, had "squinted the sun in his face, Ringo Charlie's shadow would have fallen behind him. Yet the guide, in retracing Ringo Charlie's steps, found the shadow falling ahead of him, gave him away. 4 o'clock his shadow, falling . . . into the afternoon sun." With

Library in Waterford Open a Few Hours

Although the Waterford Township library in the Community Activities Building is officially closed for the summer, residents may still obtain reading material on certain days.

Librarian Mrs. Kenneth Valentine has announced that from 9:30 a.m. to noon on Mondays and Wednesdays, Cancer Society workers will be in the library, and will take care of the book work. The library will also be open from 1 to 4 p.m. on Fridays.

porting library has just been given some 80 volumes of valuable books from the late Dr. E. L. Charles estate, bringing the total number of books to approximately 7,000 editions, Mrs. Valentine said.

Most of the rural mail boxes in the U. S. are made of galvanized sheet metal.

3 Friends Fall Two Stories as Porch Collapses

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Browder Wilburn dropped in on Mrs. Norvella Stuart. All three stepped onto Mrs. Stuart's back porch and dropped out together.

The porch fell two stories to the ground below. Mrs. Stuart, 32, and Wilburn, 39, further fell down a flight of basement stairs. Some of the porch accompanied them.

Mrs. Wilburn, 31, landed atop the wreckage.

Grain Futures Prices Mixed

CHICAGO (AP)—Early activity in grain futures was at a slow pace today on the Board of Trade and prices were narrowly irregular.

Soybeans were firm, however, on scattered and mixed buying.

Dealers said the market appeared to lack any strong influences either way.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was unchanged to ⅛ cent a bushel lower, September $1.86½; corn ¼ higher to ⅛ lower, September $1.29⅝; oats unchanged to ¼ higher, September 64; rye ¼ lower to ¼ higher, September $1.28¼; soybeans ⅛ to ⅝ higher, September $2.27⅞; lard 5 to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, September $12.25.

Wheat receipts in Chicago yesterday were almost a million bushels, the largest for a single day this season. The harvest was nearing its peak in Illinois and Indiana and some of the wheat received in Chicago was in much better condition than expected although much of it was of high moisture content and some actually was sprouting which made storage of the grain risky.

Two sisters, 46 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren also survive.

Child Admits He Forgot Dad's Unmarried Name

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The mother of an elementary school lad asked why his picture wasn't on a display board with those of other children whose parents had attended the same school.

The youngster explained: "I couldn't remember what Daddy's name was before he got married."

Board Decides Worker Did Right by Quitting

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—A salesman in a southeastern Pennsylvania clothing store decided after eight weeks he had had enough of his job and quit.

The Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Board of Review agreed the salesman had a "compelling and necessitous reason" for quitting and awarded him weekly unemployment benefits.

Among other things, the board noted:

"The employer would issue an order to claimant, reprimand him for following it and then countermand it. The employer would then reprimand the claimant for following the countermand order."

Stock Market Prices Advance

Leading issues were up from fractions to a point or more. Most changes were small. There were a few losers.

American Motors raced ahead to a new high following its sharp increase in earnings. It opened at 14⅞, up ⅝ on a huge block of 35,000 shares then rose to its new high of 15 on successive blocks of 7,500 and 10,000 shares.

Chrysler also was actively traded as it responded to its improved earning picture. It rose ½ to 49½ on an opener of 5,000 shares and stretched its gain to about a point.

Chance-Vought also gained a point or more, boomed by its six months earnings which were more than double the year ago figure.

American Smelting, Allied Chemical and General Electric took fractional losses. General Motors was about unchanged.

Other opening blocks: Southern Pacific up ⅛ at 50 on 9,000 shares; Standard Oil (New Jersey) unchanged at 54½ on 3,000; Western Union up ⅝ at 21¾ on 2,000; and Philco up ⅛ at 18⅝ on 2,000.

Buick Will Exhibit New Cars Next Week

FLINT—The 1949 Buick leads the way into the new automobile model year next week.

First of the nation's car manufacturers' new models to appear, the 1959 Buick line will be previewed by an estimated 65,000 persons at the I.M.A. Auditorium and annex, which is being rushed to completion for the announcement program.

The week-long series of showings, starting Monday will be limited to persons with a close interest in Buick, including Buick and Fisher Body No. 1 employes in the Flint area. Buick bodies are built at the Fisher plant.

Newspapermen, magazine writers and radio and TV men will see the new cars Wednesday.

AUTO FAMILY — Recently touring the Pontiac Motor Division as part of a visit to the United States was Mrs. Elna Granholm, shown here with her nephew, S. E. Knudsen, Pontiac general manager. Mrs. Granholm is the sister of Knudsen's late father, former General Motors president William S. Knudsen. She is a Vauxhall dealer in Copenhagen, Denmark. The pair are flanked with their products, a Pontiac Star Chief and a Vauxhall Victor Super.

Consumers Halting Slump, Readying Way for New Rise

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Consumers who failed to be panicked by the sharp drop in industrial activity since last summer are halting the slump and laying solid ground for a new rise.

They also seem to be taking the Middle East crisis in stride. After years of one crisis after another the public is growing blase and doesn't react the way it once did.

Rising government spending is also helping turn the economy up again — if only slightly.

And businessmen seem to be regaining their confidence, talking more convincingly about a fall upturn and in some cases increasing their orders for materials or semi-finished goods.

These deductions come from a report of the President's economic advisers on the indicators sighted in the April-May-June quarter, with the month of June turning in the most convincing figures.

In the second quarter, spending for goods and services reversed a nine-month downward trend. It rose by 2¼ billion dollars to reach an estimated annual rate of 428 billion dollars.

Although this is well below the peak of 445 billion dollars reached last summer, the upturn has significance because all but 400 million of the second quarter gain is credited to increased personal spending. Increased government spending is just getting under way.

The only major divisions of the economy continuing to decline are business spending for plant and equipment, expenditures for inventories and exports.

The consumer, however, is taking most of the bows. He switched his affections from big ticket durable goods to soft goods and services. He even saved a larger percentage of his income — although this trend also is being reversed.

But the consumer didn't panic. He bought what he needed. He responded quickly to bargains.

Most consumers were able to go right along paying off their installment debts. Many made further purchases on time, particularly for the soft goods they wanted.

Family budgets may have been watched a little closer. But consumers for the most part regulated themselves reasonably—and without government controls.

So, if after the summer lull, the economy is found healthy and on a moderate upturn this fall, much of the credit must go to the public that didn't lose its head.

Senator Says New York Not Suitable Parley Site

By WILLIAM THEIS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) said today French Premier Charles de Gaullee "has a point in asking that a summit conference be held in a cool detached atmosphere" unlike that of metropolitan New York.

"While New York is the logical place for a conference held under United Nations auspices," Mansfield said, "it would be more in line with De Gaulle's reasoning to hold it in Geneva, which houses subsidiary U.N. units, or in some American city like San Francisco." Mansfield is the assistant Senate Democratic leader.

Another top-ranking Democrat, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson came out in support of a summit meeting.

"I don't think anyone can foretell what results will flow from such a meeting," Johnson said in a filmed interview. "I think it's reasonable to assume that we haven't been too successful in recent years in summit conferences. What success we have attained has usually come at the ambassadorial level. However, no one can refuse to be willing to sit down and reason things out with the leaders in all parts of the world."

But there were warning signals flying from other quarters of the Senate. Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (R-Calif) appeared ready to make a dramatic protest if the West failed to stand fast for maintenance of normal U.N. procedures in setting up the summit meeting.

Knowland yesterday expressed concern about "another Munich" if Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's latest terms for a summit meeting were accepted by Britain and the United States. It was at Munich, Germany, that Adolf Hitler won concessions from British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain just before the outbreak of World War II.

Knowland was understood to be satisfied with the administration's current position but worried lest it be softened in final consultations with France and Britain.

Boost in Tire Prices Called Unnecessary

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The international president of the United Rubber Workers says the 2½ to 3 per cent hike in tire prices which major producers announced this week was "entirely unnecessary."

L. S. Buckmaster said in a statement yesterday the increases are "plainly designed to boost already substantial profits." B. F. Goodrich announced the first price hike on Monday, and Goodyear and Firestone followed, with U. S. Rubber Co.'s announcement yesterday completing the lineup of the industry's big four. All the companies cited higher labor costs as a reason for the price boost.

Buckmaster said that production workers receive approximately 25 cents of each sales dollar, and that "a price adjustment of less than one per cent" on tires would have recovered completely the approximate 3 per cent wage increases (8 cents an hour) the union negotiated with the big four earlier this month.

Chrysler Loses $25.2 Million

American Motors Just Keeps Rolling Along; $14,583,416 Profit

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler Corp. made the worst financial showing of the nation's three top auto producers during the first half of the year but little American Motors Corp. just keeps rolling along.

Chrysler reported a $10,100,000 second quarter loss on top of a $15,100,000 deficit for the first quarter to go $25,200,000 into the red for the initial six months. The loss was equal to $2.89 a share.

AMC, riding the crest of record Rambler sales and improved Kelvinator appliance operations, reported a profit of $14,583,416, or $2.61 a share, for the first nine months of its fiscal year.

AMC's profit compared with a loss of $6,467,926 for a corresponding period last year.

Despite its poor first half results, Chrysler directors declared a dividend on common stock of 25 cents a share, matching the first quarter dividend paid in April.

Ford Motor Co. suffered a net loss of $17,300,000 in the second quarter, but a net profit in the first quarter left the company in the black by $5,400,000 — 10 cents a share — for the first half.

General Motors has not yet made its first half financial statement yet but it is expected to fare much better than the other two.

AMC President George Romney said earnings in the third quarter totaled $7,253,785, compared to a loss of $1,135,455 in the same quarter of 1957.

Sun Glasses Stolen From Optical Studio

Burglars entered the Nuvision Optical Studio, 109 N. Saginaw St. and stole three pairs of sunglasses and six frames for glasses, it was reported yesterday to Pontiac police.

The total value of the items taken was given as $70.

Indiana Governor Hits Michigan Tax Climate

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Michigan has been losing industry to Indiana because of a more favorable tax and industrial climate, in the opinion of Gov. Harold W. Handley.

The governor yesterday received a group of leaders of the Citizens Alliance to Build Michigan who are visiting Indiana and Ohio in an effort to learn how to step-up industrial activity in their state.

Laurence Love of Battle Creek, president of the Battle Creek Steel Fabricating Co., and chairman of the Citizens Alliance, said quite a few Michigan industries have been lost to Indiana.

"We want to bring Michigan back to the top in Midwest industry," Love said. "We will submit a report to the governor and the Legislature on our findings here and in other states."

Love said his group had no official recognition from Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, a Democrat. Love is a Republican but he said his group is non-partisan.

Handley, a Republican, listed a stable tax structure, the state constitutional prohibition against bonded indebtedness, and good labor relations as reason for Indiana's recent record of gaining 10 new industries a month.

Handley said he did not believe Michigan's government is as free from pressures from any particular group as Indiana's government. He did not elaborate.

Others in the Michigan group included Eugene Pfeiffer, Saginaw executive vice president of the Saginaw Savings & Loan Assn.; J. F. Bechtal, Buchanan, vice president of the Clark Equipment Co.; Emmett Robinson, Bridgeport, past president of the Michigan Assn. of Justices of the Peace; Richard O. Cook, Lansing, assistant executive vice president of the Michigan Retailers Assn., and John McMullen, Detroit insurance executive.

After conferring with Handley, the Michigan delegation met with Lt. Gov. Crawford F. Parker, whose office includes the State Department of Commerce and Public Relations.

Parker said he told the group of several letters he has received from Michigan businessmen complaining about their state government policies. He said one letter described Gov. Williams as a "puppet" of Walter P. Reuther, United Auto Workers president.

Most Unhappy Thief

CHICAGO (UPI)—Gerald Thomaszek, 19, admitted to police he was no great shakes as a burglar after:

—Passersby frightened him from a school he was looting.

—Honorless thieves stole $4,000 worth of loot he had hidden in a garage.

—He was unable to peddle $3,200 more in loot.

Staebler Urges Dems Fight GOP 'Invasion' Tactics

DETROIT (AP)— Neil Staebler, Democratic State Central Committee chairman, has repeated his charge Republicans plan to invade the Democratic primary Aug. 5.

At a Democratic rally last night, Staebler urged a record turnout of Democrats for the primary to block what he termed "this Republican effort to choose the candidates of both parties."

The chairman said he had good reason to believe the GOP was planning to influence the Democratic primary outcome, especially in Wayne County, "despite Republican disclaimers to the contrary." Staebler said:

"Republicans are planning to do this for two reasons. They have no statewide primary contests of their own, and the candidates of this so-called State Democratic Club are publicly appealing for Republican support."

The Democratic Club is backing candidates opposed to the regular organization. It denies it has Republican backing or is seeking it.

William Johnson, opposing Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams' bid for nomination to a sixth consecutive term, issued a statement in Ironwood saying:

"Mr. Staebler and my opponent, Mr. Williams, are growing very alarmed at the growing revolt of the voting public—Democrats, Independents and Republicans—to the present dictatorial state government leadership. Again Mr. Williams . . . is looking for a scapegoat and is attempting again to blame the Republicans for his dilemma.

"On several occasions Mr. Williams was very happy to benefit by a split within the Republican organization, which insured him good majorities."

Johnson has the support of Michigan Democratic Clubs, Inc., which Staebler's regular party organization has disavowed.

Buchanan Firm Has Profit of $2.6 Million

BUCHANAN (AP)— Clark Equipment Co. of Buchanan today announced profits of $2,655,488 for the first six months of 1958.

Clark reported sales of $64,602,900 for the period, compared with $73,998,110 in the same period last year, when profits were $4,321,752.

The company said second quarter sales were 29 per cent higher than those of the first quarter and profits were up 64 per cent.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO EXPRESS OUR sincere thanks to our friends, neighbors, and relatives in appreciation of the beautiful floral offerings and sympathy messages and kindness during our recent bereavement and loss of our stepfather and brother, Karl H. Telschow. A special thanks to Rev. M. R. Everett for his comforting words, the U.A.W., C.I.O. Local 653, the pallbearers and the Huntoon Funeral Home for their kindness and understanding.
Mrs. Zola Warner, Mrs. Matie Chummings.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF CLYDE Amsdill, who passed away July 27, 1956
A place is vacant in our home,
A voice we love is still,
A chair is empty, by my side
That never can be filled.
Sadly missed by wife Myrtle & children.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OTTO Barmes, who passed away 13 years ago, July 25th, 1945.
And while he lies in peaceful sleep
His memory we shall always keep.
Sadly missed by his wife Edna.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY mother, Bernice McFee, who passed away July 24th, 1953.
Loving memories never die,
As years roll on, and days pass by;
In my heart a memory is kept,
Of one I loved & never forget.
Sadly missed by her daughter Eleanor Blanchard.

"A-ONE, AND A-TWO" — Lawrence Welk hasn't the time to lay aside his baton for a vacation this summer. Welk and the "Champagne Music Makers" recently launched their fourth year on TV over the ABC-TV network. His second show, "Top Tunes and New Talent," returns on Aug. 25.

Band Leader Keeping Busy

Critics Call His Music 'Corny' but Audiences Eat It Up

By HAZEL K. JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Lawrence Welk has neither the time nor the inclination to put down his baton for a minute this summer and indulge in any kind of back-patting or smugness.

His fans will have to do it for him. And they've never had a more opportune time than now.

Two weeks ago the 54-year-old ex-farmer with the halting, softly-accented speech, smiled his well known "a-one, and a-two," — and his ABC-TV weekly show began its fourth year on television.

Less than a month ago Doubleday put on the market a 280-page hard cover biography titled "Mister Music Maker, Lawrence Welk." In its first two weeks it sold over 15,000 copies. "We'd like you to think about a second book," his publishing company writes.

Come Aug. 25 the tall, gentle-mannered man who thoroughly enjoys his bubbly, "champagne" music, once again takes over his second hour-long TV show each week, "Lawrence Welk's Top Tunes and New Talent." This program begins its third year Oct. 8.

"We have much, much to be grateful for," Welk said when asked if he could explain the way he and his "family" have survived (being labeled "corny" by critic and bandleader alike).

"We think we have an idea of why we've had it so good. Anyone who makes good is ridiculed to some extent. Only a very small percentage of the press, radio and TV people has been unkind to us."

"People like the idea we give everyone a chance," he said, adding that his talent show has given over 100 youngsters a TV "break." Right now he has plans to develop an all-teenager band for the show. "This is in the talking stage," he said. "But I am considering applicants."

Welk knows that the minute he lets his music become "less-danceable" he'll hear about it in the letters that pour into his office daily.

"We read and answer all of them. Some people are afraid we'll move over into the other kind of music popular today. But they shouldn't worry. I love melody. And good harmony. I have no reason for changing a composer's composition. I would never do anything that would offend the audience."

Each week Welk and his staff meet to discuss the complaints of fans. "When somebody writes me that my trumpet is too loud, we talk about it. When I'm up there having fun on the bandstand I may not realize things like that. Maybe it is too loud."

He realizes that TV has tendencies to be fickle. "We never know when someone might come along to knock us off," he says. "Even a steak gets old if you have it every night."

30 Wives at Cornell Get Ph.T. 'Degrees'

ITHACA, N. Y. (UPI)—The honorary "degree" of Ph.T.—"Putting Husband Through"—has been bestowed on 30 wives of Cornell University graduate students.

Decked out in academic finery, Dean John W. McConnell of the University's graduate school conferred the "degree" on each wife who had aided her husband in achieving his educational goal — either an M.A. or Ph.D. degree. In keeping with a Cornell tradition, the diplomas received the "official" signature of Dean McConnell's wife.

The "degrees" were awarded in recognition of keeping the baby quiet, providing an atmosphere conducive to study, coping with financial situations which often were difficult and for general encouragement.

The 30 graduate wives had cared for 33 babies.

May Prove Confusing

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP) — Come September pupils at Bedford High School may have difficulty deciding whether they're in the right sociology class. Twin brothers, John and James Forsha of Johnstown, Pa., have been engaged to teach the subject next semester.

Plans Visit to Austria

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has accepted an invitation from Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab to visit Austria at an unspecified date, it was announced last night. Raab held two-day talks with Soviet leaders recently.

Dems in Texas Vote Tomorrow

U. S. Senate Seat Holds Spotlight on Primary Election Ballot

Yarborough, seeking his first full term after winning the post in the 1957 special election, was favored in an independent poll at the beginning of the campaign. His campaign was given added impetus yesterday when Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, known as "Mr. Democrat" in Texas, said he had cast his absentee ballot for Yarborough.

Blakley, Dallas financier who served four months in the Senate as an interim appointee of former Gov. Allen Shivers, has strong conservative backing.

The Texas Election Bureau has predicted a vote of 1,300,000 out of a potential of slightly more than two million. Polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Gov. Price Daniel, seeking a second term, is favored but he warned his supporters yesterday that complacency on their part could force him into a run-off. His chief opponents are State Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez, an outspoken foe of segregation; and W. Lee O'Daniel, former governor and senator, who trailed Daniel and Yarborough in the 1956 gubernatorial primary.

Also at stake are a number of state, district and county offices. Only two Democratic congressmen, Reps. John Dowdy and Lindley Beckworth, have opponents.

Iraq Recognized

LONDON (UPI)—Baghdad radio reported last night that Saudi Arabia had joined the nations which have recognized the new Iraqi republic.

Lebanese Rebels Make Good Use of Bow, Arrow

BEIRUT (AP)—A weapon of bygone wars—the bow and arrow—has come back into use in the Lebanese rebellion. But now it has a modern warhead.

The unorthodox weapon was displayed by a rebel officer. A dynamite charge was attached to a heavy arrow. As soon as the fuse is lit, the archer aims the arrow on a steep trajectory, timing it to explode just before hitting the ground up to 100 yards away.

Loafer Is Candidate for Heart Diseases

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI) — If you're a loafer, you're a candidate for a heart attack, says a Vermont scientist.

Dr. Wilhelm Raab of the University of Vermont Medical School, said there is scientific evidence that avoidance of work is related to heart and artery disease.

He said that "physically lazy, overfed persons of the social upper crust" have long been popularly known to be candidates for ailments of at least partially cardiac origin.

Housewife Success as Private Eye

LONDON (AP) — Middle-aged Matilda Higgins doffed her housewife's apron and set up as a private eye when somebody stole her husband's car.

She cracked the case before professional sleuths had time to reach for a magnifying glass.

It took her just half an hour to track down the car, abandoned not far from the Higgins' suburban home. A quick check showed the spare wheel was missing, along with the tools and seat covers.

For the next few days Matilda prowled the neighborhood, picking up gossip. After a while she heard dealer John Yerby had some seat covers for sale.

Matilda recognized them right off. She offered to buy them and asked Yerby to come to her house to pick up the cash.

The police were there when Yerby arrived.

He was jailed for two years yesterday, protesting someone had sold him the covers without mentioning they had been stolen.

"I suppose I was quite a Sherlock Holmes," reflected Matilda. "But it was elementary once I was on the trail."

Ike May Get More Than He's Asking

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the Senate Appropriations Committee has its way, President Eisenhower will receive $1,200,000,000 more in defense money than he requested for the year that began July 1.

The committee yesterday approved a measure to provide $40,032,000,000 for Defense Department operations. This sum not only gives Eisenhower more than he sought, but tops by $1,600,000,000 the amount authorized in a House bill passed last month.

Some senators contend the administration isn't expanding the nation's defense program fast enough in the light of Soviet scientific progress and the Middle East crisis.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) Senate majority leader, told Secretary of Defense McElroy he was disappointed over what he described as a lack of grim urgency in the defense establishment.

"We must work today as though there would never be a tomorrow," said Johnson.

Most of the increases approved by the Appropriations Committee would provide additional airpower.

An additional $108,700,000 was provided for 13 more long-range jet B52G bombers. The House had provided money for 39.

An item of $111,189,000 was earmarked for 30 additional KC135 jet tankers. The House program had called for 26.

The committee proposed an increase of 140 million dollars to expand the capacity of the Air Force to carry troops and supplies.

It supported the House proposals to grant increases for nuclear submarines, ballistic missiles, research programs and to prevent Pentagon cutbacks in manpower.

A sizable portion of the Senate hikes over the House figures would go toward meeting the costs of new military pay raises.

Wants to Kill Policeman; Boy Doesn't Like 'em

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — The 15-year-old boy, baseball bat in hand, stood at the front door of Mrs. Jack Kilburn's home last night and said, "I'm going to kill him."

Today Kilburn got the boy's name from neighbors and arrested him. Police said the boy had been drunk on eight bottles of beer he had stolen.

They said he picked out the Kilburn home because someone told him a policeman lived there.

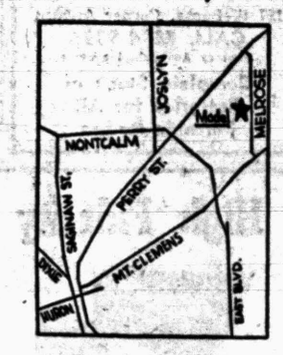

"I just don't like policemen," they quoted the boy, whose name was not released.
