

Interpretation of Annunciation

TITIAN, the great master of the Italian Renaissance, drew this interpretation of the Annunciation, a scene which Luke alone among the four evangelists recorded in his gospel. The learned Greek physician preserved for all time this and many other of the classic events connected with the Nativity, by careful and painstaking research.

Luke Digs Deep for Facts to Record Story of Christ

(The joyous Christmas story known today the world over might have been lost forever had it not been for one man. His name was Luke. He alone among the gospel writers recorded the dramatic and inspiring scenes of the Annunciation, the trip to Bethlehem, the manger, the shepherds. This is the first in a series of six articles about Luke and his legacy to the hundreds of millions who celebrate the birth of Christ. The stories are based on history, ancient church traditions, Scripture and the implications of these sources.)

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

THE STORY had not been told. It lay hidden out there somewhere in the autumn-tinted hills of Galilee and Judea where Jesus had grown up, lived, taught and died, but no one had ever set down just how it all began.

Luke was determined to find out.

The task would not be easy. Jesus had been crucified nearly 30 years before. All kinds of unreliable tales about him, fabrications and fancies, were in circulation. Luke wanted the truth.

An urbane, lettered Greek physician of about 40, Loukas, familiarly called Luke, was a convert from paganism to "the way" of Christ. He had become an aide and traveling companion of the missionary, Paul.

Atlas ICBM Big Success; Soars Hundreds of Miles

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (INS) — The optimism stirred by the successful launching of an Atlas intercontinental missile was tempered today by a warning for the nation to expect new "busts" or apparent failures in future rocket firing.

The qualifying note was added by civilians and Air Force Rocket experts during an unprecedented news briefing at the Cape Canaveral Missile Test Center.

3 Detroit Children Perish in Blaze

DETROIT (INS)—Three children of a Detroit furniture store owner perished today in a fire that destroyed their $30,000 home at 1750 San Juan.

Abraham C. Farris, 46, rescued a fourth child and alerted his wife, Mary, 42, who managed to slide to safety down a metal awning. Both parents stood screaming in the street, unable to reenter the house to find their other children in the flames and smoke.

The victims were Abraham C. Jr., 13; Jessica, 10, and Michael, 8.

Rescued was the youngest of the Farris children, William, 5. He and his parents were treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital for minor burns and shock.

Part-Time Salesmen Appraise Holiday Shoppers

Are Men Helpless Buyers? Or Are Women Vague?

By DICK SAUNDERS

With the anxiety of Christmas shopping at a peak, it is interesting from a salesman's point of view how different female shoppers are from male shoppers.

An evening of waiting on frantic shoppers of all sizes and shapes in Sears' Toy Department leaves one rather limp, but keenly aware of these differences.

For the most part men are "Lookers" and women are "Askers." Men, when asked if they have been waited on, either buy something outright or say they are "just looking."

This is because they usually know exactly what they want and have either found it or are looking for it.

They are easy to handle since they are either definitely going to buy or definitely not going to buy an item depending on whether or not they can find it.

Women are of a much more complex emotional and psychological nature.

They may have a vague idea of what it is they are after, but need the advice and reassurance of a salesman that this is really what they're after.

Because of this major quirk in their makeup, they are the true test of a good salesman and often go home completely happy and satisfied that what they got is what they wanted—even if the item in mind had never entered their mind before coming into the store.

Pontiac's 'Flop' a Terror at Willow Run Starling-Chaser Makes Good

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Pontiac's starling-chaser machine hasn't proved to be a complete flop after all.

"It drove them nuts," was the brief comment of James L. Gralton, station manager for Eastern Airlines at the Willow Run Terminal.

Plagued for more than a year by droppings from above, Gralton noted from a newspaper account that Pontiac had a Bird-E-Vict machine designed to drive starlings from objectionable roosts.

It had flopped miserably here. Thousands of the winged creatures just fled from tree to tree to escape the screech of what is supposed to be thousands of fellow starlings in distress.

Eastern Airlines decided that since sirens, air horns and stuffed owls didn't budge flocks of starlings from an open hangar, maybe Pontiac's contraption might do the trick.

STARLINGS FLED

"It was uncanny," said Gralton after completing a four-day experiment. "It was the weirdest sound I have ever heard. And best of all it moved the starlings out, except for a few die-hards that must be immune to the racket."

The machine is a tape recording designed to amplify the distress calls. It was created by Pennsylvania Dr. Hubert Frings and Joseph Juniper. It cost Pontiac $99.50.

Although it keeps most of the birds off their usual beam roosts high in the hangar, when the racket is blaring, it doesn't discourage about 50 "old timers" who return when Gralton switches it off.

"I'LL BUY THAT!"

Despite this fact, he is sure he has found the answer. "We intend to buy it outright, and after two

Hold Husband in Stabbing of Detroit Mother of Three DETROIT (INS)—Hafford West, 46, an unemployed laborer, was held for investigation of murder today in the fatal stabbing of his wife, Jean, mother of three small children.

Homicide Detective Walter Stapleton quoted West as saying he killed his wife because "she bragged to me about running around with another man."

Mrs. West died of stab wounds in the chest yesterday two hours after she returned home after having been away for two days.

She was employed as a cashier at a supermarket.

Stapleton said the stabbing climaxed a week-long quarrel.

Two of the children, Jackie, 4, and James, 3, were at home. Eight-year-old Terry Jean was at school.

West told police, "I lost my head and I started stabbing her. I kept stabbing her until I came to my senses. I saw my little boy standing in the bedroom. I think it was Jackie. Then my father came in."

West's father, Louis, 71, who lived with the couple, had been out of the house. He took the children to a neighbor's home and called police.

Another Driver Injured as Snow-Rain Mixture Coats Pavements

Hazardous driving conditions on Oakland County roads resulted in accidents last night and this morning which killed two men and critically injured a third, according to State Police reports.

Dead are Clarence H. Rice, 70, of 430 E. Genesee St., Flint, and Joseph A. Maff, 45, of 39010 Grand River Ave., Farmington.

Rice was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital at 7:55 p.m. Tuesday, after his car collided head-on with another on U.S. 16 just south of Rattlesnake Lake Rd. in Springfield Township.

The driver of the other car, Alfred W. Taylor, 70, of 241 E. Sherman Ave., Flint, was treated for minor injuries and released. State Police at the Pontiac Post said the northbound Rice auto skidded across the snow-covered highway into the southbound lane.

Maff was involved in a similar head-on collision on U.S. 16 about one-half mile west of Drake road in Farmington Township. He was dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital at 3:27 a.m. today.

The driver of the other car, Jack W. Hinbern, 27, of 33619 Oakland Ave., Farmington, is reported in critical condition with a fractured left leg and foot and fractured jaw.

New Attempts for Accord With Soviets Planned

Decisions Are Subject to Final Approval by Heads of Government

PARIS (INS)—The NATO summit conference agreed today to make a direct offer to Russia to negotiate disarmament.

PARIS (INS)—The 15-nation North Atlantic Alliance, defying Russian threats and warnings agreed today to base U.S.-made nuclear missiles in Europe. The United States thus won its major purpose at the conference.

The price paid by the United States was an agreement under pressure to sound out the Russians on a cold war truce, including a new effort at disarmament.

Having been assured yesterday of the softening of the U.S. attitude by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles, German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Norwegian Premier Einar Gerhardsen, and Prime Minister Hans Christian Hansen of Denmark went along with the basic military decision today.

The decision was subject to final approval by the heads of government, who were to receive a report from their foreign and defense ministers in a session this afternoon.

Reliable reports from the meeting of foreign and defense ministers this morning indicated that while the Alliance as a whole would endorse the principle of nuclear armament, it would be left up to the individual countries to accept the weapons.

The accord was reached at the morning meeting of foreign and defense ministers which opened the third day of the NATO summit talks. The meeting lasted almost three hours.

SCHEDULE EXTRA SESSION

The ministers scheduled another session, apparently because some questions were still to be resolved. As a result, the daily meeting of President Eisenhower and the other heads of government was postponed.

The government chiefs are to issue a final communique tomorrow.

The only trouble is, they seem to wait to make their quota the last two weeks of the year during Christmas time.

Most men don't brave the storm of the holiday shopping rush alone. They bring along a buddy, their son, or in most instances, tag along with the wife and kids who usually make the decisions on what should be bought for whom with the money he earned.

WHO DECIDES?

Just who is a buyer and who is a looker is one of the problems this reporter had to figure out while posing as a clerk in the men's department of the Lion Store, 51 S. Saginaw St.

Since men are not the experienced shoppers, it seems obvious they aren't prepared when they undertake the task alone. Therefore, the real burden of actual shopping falls on the clerk while Mr. Shopper nods approval and finally pays the check.

Alabama Votes to Erase County

Abolition Preferred to Risking Domination by Negro Residents

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Alabama voters have authorized the Legislature to abolish Macon County rather than see it come under Negro domination.

The decision came in yesterday's election on 25 proposed amendments to the state constitution.

It reflects the Deep South's fear that the civil rights bill enacted by the last Congress to enforce voting rights may lead to Negro political control of local governments. Macon County's whites are outnumbered 7-1.

The county may now be abolished by legislative act and its territory added to adjoining counties where whites are in the majority.

Returns from 1,690 of the state's 2,700 boxes gave 51,478 for the Macon amendment to 36,820 against.

That was an unusually light vote, even for an election of this type.

Macon County seat, Tuskegee, is the home of Tuskegee Institute, famous Negro college. The Legislature this year narrowed Tuskegee's city limits to exclude most Negro voters. The town's white-owned businesses then were boycotted by Negro residents.

In the county, white voters outnumber Negroes about 2-1. On the abolition amendment, Macon voters favored its adoption by about 5-4.

How can human hair be used to detect the coming of rain?

As noted in an earlier article on hair, human hair is one of the best rain forecasters. Blond hair is better for this purpose than dark hair.

An easy way to make an amateur hygrometer is to attach eight or ten strands of hair between two small strips of light splinter or wood—as is done with violin or banjo strings. One of the strips of light wood is fixed in place and the other is attached to a small, light spring.

The moisture content of the atmosphere will cause the hair strings to tighten and relax. When the amount of moisture in the air is great, chances of rain are good and from this expansion and contraction one can often predict the coming of rain.

'He's Fine,' Reporters Told

Spotlight on Ike's Health

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

PARIS (AP)—The hourly state of President Eisenhower's health is rivaling momentous world problems for newsmen's attention at the NATO conference.

Many of the hundreds of correspondents covering the summit meetings are devoting most or almost all their time to reporting how the President is getting along. Eisenhower's health, is the subject of rumors of all kinds.

To all inquiries, both Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, the White House physician, and press secretary James C. Hagerty have an almost never-varying reply: The President is "fine" or "very fine."

The President's every appearance and move are studied conscientiously by reporters.

PICTURES DECEIVING

In some pictures the President looks well, in others not. His features are highly mobile, and a tired-out look one second gives way in the next moment to a hearty, healthy smile.

Twice this week there have been developments which touched off new apprehension regarding the President's welfare.

The first was when he canceled plans to attend a dinner Monday night for NATO chiefs of government. Hagerty said the President was simply tired.

Yesterday afternoon it was announced Eisenhower would not be on hand for the beginning of the day's summit session. Hagerty and Secretary of State Dulles told newsmen that the President would delay his appearance because matters under discussion did not require his personal attention.

Newsmen asked whether the decision reflected any change in Eisenhower's health. Not the slightest, said Hagerty, who added that the President was fine and was just getting up after an hour's nap, a busy morning of meetings and a trip to the outskirts of Paris for a sentimental visit to his old NATO command post.

ATTENDED SESSION

Forty-five minutes later Eisenhower turned up at the summit session. Hagerty told questioners the President decided to appear.

State OKs U.S. Grant for Hospital in Jackson

LANSING (AP)—The State Office of Hospital Survey and Construction has announced approval of a federal grant of $350,000 to assist in construction of a four-story addition to the Foote Memorial Hospital in Jackson.

Jordan J. Popkin, director of the state agency, said federal approval of the state recommendation is expected to be automatic.

The addition will include space for 60 general hospital beds and 23 beds for treatment of mental patients. Major portion of the construction funds will come from a bond issue approved by the voters last spring.

to quiet concern regarding his health.

Eisenhower spent two hours and 30 minutes at the NATO session, then put on a white tie and tails for French President Coty's dinner for the NATO chiefs.

Eisenhower had a fine time, sitting next to the only woman at the party for 185 men. She was Mrs. Genevieve Egloff, Coty's 48-year-old, English-speaking daughter. Previously it had been explained that the dinner would be a stag affair because Mrs. Eisenhower hadn't come to Paris. Mrs. Egloff was brought in at the last moment to partner the American President.

The conversation was so animated that Eisenhower didn't finish his soup and Coty had to try several times before he could join in.

"We talked about Mamie," Mrs. Egloff said later.

NATO Nations to Accept Missile Bases in Europe

Josef Strauss said the communiqué will declare the availability of missiles for NATO powers, although there will be no mention of which countries will have missile bases.

Countries to receive the new weapons will be recommended by Gen. Lauris Norstad, the NATO supreme commander.

Since the missiles are not expected to be available for a year or 18 months, the interim will be used for the great mass of necessary preliminary planning and for exploration of all possible avenues toward an agreement with Russia.

Such new attempts for an accord with the Soviets were demanded by various European leaders before the nuclear missiles actually were put on their bases.

An informant who reported the agreement said Denmark and Norway, the chief objectors earlier to going ahead with the nuclear plans, now had accepted the principle that the NATO area should be armed with missiles.

So far only Britain, the Netherlands and Turkey have said they would be willing to take missiles on their territory.

The allies gave approval yesterday to a guarded exploration of the latest Soviet bids for an East-West summit conference.

Many European leaders feel that until they have publicly proved that they have exhausted all possible avenues toward an East-West settlement opened up by the Kremlin, they cannot convince their people of the need to station U. S. missiles on their soil.

Some U. S. officials have suggested that the Russians will continue to whip up hope of settlement to stall West Europe's decision further.

Any final agreement to build missile bases in Europe would probably include some reservations by war-nervous nations. Chief among the reservations would be an insistence that the host nation have half the say in triggering nuclear bombardments from her soil.

The West European governments thus hope to insure that no retaliation would be provoked against their crowded nations for actions they did not control to start with.

The foreign ministers agreed that Soviet offers of an end to the cold war would be assessed by two groups:

1. The foreign ministers of Britain, France, Canada and the United States will continue to represent NATO in an effort to restart stalled disarmament talks with Russia.

2. The NATO Permanent Council, at its weekly sessions in Paris, will examine the recent Soviet letters to see if they form the basis for new talks. Any talks that result will be by foreign ministers, not chiefs of government, diplomatic informants said.

Then go home and soak those steamed-up, swollen, tired feet and relax until tomorrow.

Two Republican congressmen, E. P. Schriver of Kansas and Frank C. Osmers Jr. of New Jersey, witnessed yesterday's firing and conceded they were impressed.

Osmers found himself in hot water with reporters when he criticized the way news media handled the futile U. S. attempt to launch an earth satellite with a Vanguard rocket earlier this month.

He said accounts of the incident had done "incalculable harm" to the nation and called on publishers to formulate some sort of policy for "objectively" handling such situations.

Newsmen peppered him with questions for nearly one-half hour, urging him to spell out specific steps publishers should take. The issue died a slow death with no firm settlement reached.

The 100-ton rocket rose from its launching pad with a thundering roar at 12:38 p.m. (EST) yesterday, streaked into low hanging clouds and shot out over the Atlantic.

Yates refused to reveal exactly where the missile landed but did say no attempt would be made to recover it.

Pontiac Names New 'Ad' Head

Schoon Is Now a Zone Manager; Kimball in New Assignment

The appointment of W. E. Schoon as advertising manager of the Pontiac Motor Division was announced by Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager. The appointment is effective Jan. 1.

Schoon succeeds B. B. Kimball who will become assistant to the general sales manager and will handle special advertising assignments.

Schoon has been Pontiac's zone manager in Charlotte, N. C., prior to his new assignment. He joined General Motors in 1946 following service in the United States Navy during World War II. He has had extensive sales experience in both the retail and wholesale operations of the automobile business.

Kimball has one of the longest service records in Pontiac Motor Division's history, dating back to 1917. He became assistant advertising manager of the Oakland Motor Car Company in 1919 and held that position until 1947 when he became advertising manager.

a supersonic submachine gun of a handy dandy ack-ack kit with telescopic sights.

A woman will just ask to see the guns.

It is here that the battle begins. She wants to know about all the guns, why one revolver costs 25 cents more than another, why one shoots only 5 ping pong balls and another 10, why one has two barrels and another one, and whether or not those that belch smoke are dangerous.

She is also a child loser. Those mothers who bring their children don't control them as well as men do. The kids may (and usually do) stand for minutes, completely unmolested, while they shoot everyone in the department with an official Buffalo Bill cap gun.

Women are also undecided over items which come in sizes.

Skates, for example, often cause mothers to wonder just exactly which size would be best for junior, and then decide not to buy him skates at all.

The whole difference lies in indecision. Men, at least, are certain what they "think" junior wants. They may be wrong but they're convinced they're right.

Women aren't even sure they know what they THINK. They are one more step away from what junior really wants. These steps must be covered by the salesman. Let's face it. Kids are easier to wait on than anybody.

Commission to Postpone Bills for Air-Conditioners

BIRMINGHAM — City Commissioners have adopted a "let's wait" attitude on the demand payment charges for companies using non-conserving water air conditioning systems in the city.

City Manager L. R. Gare reported that when the May billing period arrived the city had accounted for 25 units whose charges totaled $298.40.

Since that time, through an almost door-to-door inspection, as well as voluntary reports, an additional 46 units, with charges totaling $389.60, have come to light. The question now arises whether to collect on the earlier reported units.

Gare said that so far no bills had been sent by the Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority, but that the city already had made its collection.

To build the 46 additional non-conserving units seemed unfair, Gare said. Unit users had missed the opportunity to convert to the conserving type which would have meant a considerable saving to them, he said.

After much discussion, commissioners decided to report the entire 76 units to the authority and await its action. They expressed belief that the authority might waive the first year's fees in which case the city will make refunds to those who have paid their bills.

The resignation of former city manager Harold K. Schoon as Birmingham's representative on the North Evergreen Sewage Disposal Authority was accepted Monday night.

Schoon's successor will be Gare. A Milford woman refused medical aid after an accident at 7:40 p.m. yesterday at Hickory Grove and Telegraph roads, according to Bloomfield Township Police. They said she complained of injuries to her side and stomach.

Carolyn Etelsen, 50, of 10053 Cedar Shores, Milford, told police she was traveling north on Telegraph when her car went into a spin. She said she applied her brakes, sending the car into a spin, and slid in front of an auto driven by Henry T. LeBuda, 31, of 4006 Maiden Rd., Clarkston. LeBuda was uninjured.

Police said Loretta M. Copenhazer, 47, of 30 W. Hopkins St., Pontiac, was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, after an accident at Telegraph and Barlyn yesterday. She suffered possible internal injuries.

Mrs. Copenhazer told police she was preparing to pass a truck when she saw a car ahead making a left turn. She applied her brakes, lost control of her car and went into the ditch.

Charles W. Mortensen, manager of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce, has announced the acceptance of two new members, David E. Davis of the Triangle Furniture Co., and Leon D. St. Nicholas of Leon's Parisian Hair Dresser.

He also announced the resignation of Russell M. Downey as vice president and director of the chamber.

Walter L. Moreland was named vice president and John W. Knecht was appointed director to complete Downey's term, which expires April 30, 1959.

Members of the First Baptist Church Choir are asking any persons interested in joining their Christmas caroling program to leave their names at the church. Carolers will leave the church at 8 p.m. Friday to sing the stanzas in the city. Following the singing, there will be refreshments and fellowship at the church.

Time Plan for Taxes?

CADILLAC (AP)—Commissioner Drexel Swartwood has proposed that the next Cadillac City Commission consider his proposal that city taxes be made payable on a monthly installment plan. City Clerk Emil F. Pontiac Extends Time for Study

Supermarket Will Get Sewer System Service for 60 Days More

The ultimatum handed to Waterford Township last year regarding the annexation of the supermarket property at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads was extended another 60 days by Pontiac city commissioners Tuesday night.

The extension will permit the city to continue studying possible extension of its sewer system as it will affect new contracts between the township and Sylvan Lake.

These two areas are the only fringe communities using Pontiac sewers.

In September of 1956, township officials were told to allow the parcel to be annexed to Pontiac, or to disconnect the supermarket from Pontiac sewers.

The decision followed a Supreme Court ruling which said the township had violated a 1935 agreement in the hookup.

The rewriting of the two contracts might indicate a broadening of making Pontiac a "core city" to serve outlying areas, Williams said.

This is based upon a study by the city's engineer consulting firm which showed it possible for Pontiac to handle approximately 3,000,000 more gallons of sewage daily.

This will hinge heavily on whether the State Water Resources Commission orders a second treatment plant built in Pontiac, the manager said.

Detroit Street Fight Ends in Convictions

DETROIT (AP)—A battle last summer between police and members of a Modern religious group resulted yesterday in the conviction of eight Negroes on charges of resisting arrest.

Several police officers and Negroes were injured in the fight that followed an attempt to disperse a crowd of some 200 persons gathered around a soapbox orator at a downtown intersection last July.

Police said the speaker was inciting the crowd on racial subjects and blocking traffic.

The defendants claimed at their Circuit Court trial that the address concerned religious subjects. They claimed they were exercising their constitutional right of assembly and free speech.

A jury of six men and six women returned the guilty verdict. The defendants will be sentenced Dec. 31 by Recorder's Judge Gerald W. Groat. Defense attorneys said the case will be appealed.

WHALES COME IN TO DIE — About 75 pilot whales came on shore at Ormond Beach, Fla., to die. Apparently they were driven on the beach by a brisk northeast wind blowing off the Atlantic.

The whales thrashed about for some time before they died. Mrs. Norma Oury was one of many persons who waded out for a close look at the mammals, which ranged in length from 10 to 20 feet.

Williams Lauds Union Merger

AFL-CIO Unification
Means Potent Political Voice, Governor Says

MUSKEGON (AP)—AFL-CIO unification will make labor a more potent political voice, Gov. Williams told a joint union meeting here last night.

Williams congratulated the local union, councils for bringing about a united labor movement.

"The unity you are achieving here will make your political action more effective because you now speak with one voice," he said.

Williams charged that the national administration has no planned program for combating rising unemployment and has been encouraging increased interest rates.

"Michigan industry prospers when workers everywhere have the money to buy our goods," he said. National economic policies that depress buying power in any part of the nation and depress Michigan's prosperity.

"You therefore, have a legitimate right to be concerned, not only with collective bargaining for your own unions, but also with political action," Williams said.

Bombers to Fly Low-Level Route in Six States

LINCOLN, Neb. (INS)—B-47 strategic bombers from the Lincoln Air Force Base are slated to begin flying low-level navigational training missions over Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

A base spokesman says the medium bombers will fly pre-selected routes at altitudes of 500 to 2,000 feet during daylight hours. The routes have been planned to avoid heavily-populated areas and flight obstructions.

The spokesman stressed that the low-level flights would not result in "sonic booms" since the planes are not supersonic aircraft.

Colorado Sextet De-Ices MSU, 4-2

EAST LANSING (AP)—Colorado College, winner by a 7-2 score last night, will try to make it two in a row over Michigan State tonight to fatten its chances for a repeat as the Western Inter-Collegiate Ice Hockey champion.

Colorado, also the NCAA titlist, The Western visitors scored two goals in the first period, three in the second and two more in the third.

Harry Harasyn and Ron Laughlin scored twice for Colorado. John Andrews, Jack Smith and Bob McCusker added a counter each.

Michigan State scores, in the last two periods, were by Ed Pollesel and Ross Parke.

American Allies Sit Up, Take Notice

Bulganin Letter to Ike Literary Sputnik

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Premier Bulganin's letter to President Eisenhower was a literary Sputnik. Of all the Russian letters to Eisenhower this last one was the best written, the shrewdest and the best timed.

In its way, it had the same effect as the real Sputniks: it made the American allies sit up and take notice. Letters similar to the one received by Eisenhower were sent to the other allies at the same time.

They were delivered at a moment when the Allies—then about to open their North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting in Paris—were divided on what to do in the face of Russia's obvious military power.

The letter divided them some more.

The American reaction to Bulganin's note was the same as Eisenhower's first reaction to the Sputniks: an attempt to minimize its importance.

The administration hasn't yet answered the letter or issued a formal statement on it. Instead, it let two press officers dismiss it as propaganda before the State Department had even released a translation of it.

But this wasn't the reaction of the Allies. Some of them arrived at Paris wanting far more serious attention for the letter than a curt dismissal.

Their reaction—even though the letter upon testing may prove to be only propaganda—was: Let's take it more seriously than that and try to find out whether the Russians mean it.

In short, Bulganin said: The arms race gets worse and may end up badly for everybody. Before it does, the nations ought to disarm, or at least get down to talking disarmament, even if it requires another summit meeting.

This letter hit the West Europeans at a time when they were still jittery over the realization—forced on them by the flight of the Sputniks—that Russia had missiles and that atomic-tipped missiles could flatten Western Europe.

They also realized, more than at any time since World War II, that the once big European powers were now only military pigmies between the two giants, the United States and Russia. The old order was gone.

So for them, the thought of disarmament now has more attraction than ever. Yet the Eisenhower administration brought to the NATO meeting nothing much more than proposals for even greater armaments.

The United States had to yield a little bit to the European desire to explore Bulganin's letter for a possible escape from the arms race. Yesterday NATO moved in two cautious directions, both a reaction to Bulganin's letter:

They talked of:

1. Setting up machinery to try for new disarmament talks with Russia. Such talks have been go-

State to Report to People

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams and the all-Democrat state administrative board will go on television next month for a series of five "reports to the people."

The programs will originate from Detroit, Bay City, Cadillac, Kalamazoo and Marquette. Specific dates have not been set.

Williams said the series will focus attention on Michigan's economic future. Civic dinners and public meetings will be held in conjunction with each appearance, he said.

Joining Williams for the shows will be Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, Secy. of State James M. Hare, State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown, Aud. Gen. Frank Szymanski, Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, Lynn M. Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction; and Paul L. Adams, who will replace Thomas M. Kavanagh Jan. 1 as attorney general.

Raps Governor on Budgeting

State Senator Asserts
Financial Plight Laid
'at Williams' Doorstep'

LANSING (AP)—Legislative budgeting policies were caught in a crossfire today, with Gov. Williams and Sen. Robert E. Faulkner (R-Coloma) firing the shots.

Williams touched off the duel Monday when he ordered his finance experts to draft a blueprint for cutting down on state spending. He voiced doubts on whether the state would have the funds to meet all authorized spending through the fiscal year ending June 30 and accused the Republican controlled legislature of failing to provide sufficient revenue to support appropriations.

Faulkner, countering yesterday, contended Michigan's financial plight "belongs on the governor's doorstep."

Williams' last budget recommendation of $11 million dollars, he said, topped 1956 expenditures by 83 per cent while Michigan's population was going up only 15 per cent and the cost of living 20 per cent.

Faulkner also contended Williams told the legislature to plan for 343 million dollars in sales tax revenues and the expected collections now are estimated at 312 million.

Williams, in turn, assailed Faulkner for "playing fast and loose with figures."

"When the legislature went home last spring it indicated itself that it anticipated a fiscal deficit and said that a little deficit is a good thing," he said.

Williams cited a published report quoting Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton) as saying that the general fund budget approved by the legislature exceeded anticipated revenues by 16 million dollars.

State Controller James W. Miller said he would submit some "cutback" proposals to the governor in a day or two.

His 'Vanguard' Fails to Go Up, Causes Injury

DETROIT (AP)—Like the Army's Vanguard missile, 14-year-old Larry Larson's "tiny Vanguard" failed to take off when he attempted to launch it.

His missile was about three inches long and three fourths of an inch in diameter. It was powered by a carbon dioxide cartridge.

Kneeling in an alley, Larry touched a match to it.

Boom! Back to the drawing boards.

Ike, Dulles Consider NATO TV Report

PARIS (AP)—White House press secretary James Hagerty said today President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles may make a joint television and radio report on the NATO conference after they return to Washington.

Hagerty told a news conference that the idea is being considered. He said if there is a report, it will not be before early next week.

The President plans to leave by plane for Washington early tomorrow night, Hagerty announced, and expects to arrive in the capital Friday morning. The presidential plane, the Columbine III, probably will make a refueling stop at the U.S. Air Force Base at Keflavik, Iceland.

Police said the place had been used as a blind pig at night and for church services during the day.

Djuana Wants Dutch Colony

'Free West New Guinea
or Lose All Indonesian
Property,' Is Ultimatum

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Premier Djuanda said today Indonesia will "eliminate Dutch economic interests" from the island republic unless the Netherlands gives up West New Guinea.

Even if the neighboring Dutch colony is turned over to Indonesia, the Premier told a press conference, the Dutch will never regain the powerful economic position they held in Indonesia before the anti-Dutch campaign began about three weeks ago.

Djuanda asserted that some Dutch industries and businesses which have been taken over by his government—such as shipping, port facilities, electricity and gas—will remain nationalized. But he added that if West New Guinea, called West Irian by the Indonesians, is yielded by the Netherlands the Dutch will receive compensation for these enterprises.

The Premier's statement was the first official admission that these Dutch interests have been nationalized. Previously officials had said that only the Dutch-owned port facilities had been taken over permanently by the government. The earlier explanation was that the disposition of the other interests would be decided later.

Djuanda criticized the United States for abstaining when the West New Guinea issue came up recently in the United Nations.

"We regret the United States' remaining neutral in the current Dutch-Indonesian West Irian dispute," Djuanda said. "I think a nation like the United States should be more positive on such questions as this. Positive action by the United States would help stabilize the political situation in this area."

Reliable sources reported, meanwhile, that the government put down an attempted coup by army officers in the Molucca Islands of East Indonesia 10 days ago. Djuanda acknowledged there have been some arrests there but refused to disclose details.

Romeo Center Sets Rules

ROMEO — Commissioners of the Romeo Community Building Authority took two important steps last night in preparation for the formal opening Jan. 11 of the New Youth and Civic Center.

Rules and policy governing operation of the center—as recommended by the Advisory Board—were formally adopted. Copies will be mailed to all supporting organizations and churches in the area for their suggestions and approval.

Royal A. Holt, who has served as construction superintendent since building operations began, was named temporary director of the center, retroactive to Dec. 1. It will be his job to co-ordinate and schedule all activities in the building until a permanent director is hired.

A permanent rules and policy committee also was named to assist the director and his staff in their function. George E. McKeough heads the eight-man committee.

Already Romeo sixth-graders have held a dance in the new building. And last night Cub Scouts made use of the new facilities for the first time.

The next activity scheduled is the DeMolay Intercollegiate Ball Dec. 27.

HIS DAYS ARE NUMBERED — A 42-pound turkey's call draws smiles from Homer Gruenther and Patricia Nalley as the bronze bird destined for President and Mrs. Eisenhower's Christmas dinner appears to be posing for his picture Tuesday on the White House lawn. Orion Woman to Contest Will

Inherits $5,000 From Mother's Estate That Could Hit $500,000

LAKE ORION — Mrs. Amos Van Wagoner of 63 Sylvan, Lake Orion, has announced she will contest the will of her mother, Mrs. Helen A. Green, in an estate that Ionia Probate Judge Greer H. Smith says could amount to $500,000.

Mrs. Green, widow of Gov. Fred W. Green, died Nov. 16 at the age of 84. Mrs. Van Wagoner was their only child.

The four-times married Mrs. Van Wagoner was left $5,000 cash in the will of Mrs. Green, which was accepted for probate Monday by Probate Judge Iona C. McLaughlin of Charlotte.

Judge McLaughlin sat in place of Judge Smith, who disqualified himself because of legal connections with the family.

Mrs. Green left the estate, which includes a block of General Motors stock and other securities, to two grandchildren, Mrs. Joseph Foust of Ionia and Lt. Fred G. Bradley, a Navy officer now stationed in Japan. They are children of Mrs. Van Wagoner by previous marriages.

High school students will have a Christmas party and program in the auditorium Friday and the grade school pupils will hold their party in classrooms.

The annual Christmas dinner will be served Thursday.

Leonard Program Set

LEONARD — Leonard Elementary School will present its annual Christmas program this evening.

EXCHANGE HONORS TEENAGERS — David C. Wynstra, 17, left, and Larry V. George, 16, right, of Trans-Oceanic Traders of Seattle, receive trophy Tuesday at New York Stock Exchange from president Keith Funston. The annual report of the Junior Achievement company they headed was judged best of some 3,000 such reports in the exchange's annual contest. The firm, dealing in imports and exports of cigarette lighters, vases, candy dishes and the like, earned $9.95 net profit per share last year. The boys each served six months as president of the firm.

Must Meet Standards of County Health Department Council OKs Sewage Disposal Code

LAKE ORION — The Village Council has presented to Oscar Boyce of the Oakland County Health Department its specifications for septic tank installations in the village and asked his approval. An installation used for years here, the septic tank has proven its worth, councilmen say.

After checking the specifications, Boyce recommended the center partition be moved farther from the home side of the tank, but he found its 8x4x4 foot size acceptable in most cases.

The council approved the sewage disposal code by the health department. Boyce had explained that the code was hotly disputed at first but has recently been considered by both the Veterans Administration and Federal Housing Administration as a fine set of rules for sewage disposal systems.

A permit no longer can be issued for the building of a home here without a permit for the proper installation of the sewage system, Boyce said. This may be issued by Del Rose as previously, but is subject to check by Boyce.

The County Board of Supervisors according to Boyce, approved the code as a protection for all potential home buyers, and as a service to home owners with septic problems.

The village can adopt the code as it is or create one with higher restrictions. But any code adopted must be at least up to the County's standards.

OTHER ACTIONS

In other action at the Monday night meeting the council requested bids for the gasoline to be used in village owned vehicles in 1958.

It found the signs slowing trucks to be effective, and agreed to remove two such signs from outside the village at the request of the highway department.

A request to have a parking meter in front of the Guest House office removed was refused. Other merchants and the Post Office have accepted the placing of meters in front of their establishments, councilmen pointed out. They felt all must be treated the same.

The houseboat ordinance, as approved by the Township Board, was approved by the council. It prohibits the living on any lake within the village.

Charles Lantz attended a meeting in Lansing concerning boats and their use in the state. He reported that a license will be required for all boats after March 1. Boats may be limited in size, according to the size of the lake, he said.

Discussion of methods for limited use of the Lake Street boat ramp so citizens of the area can use it as intended brought several suggestions, but was tabled for later consideration.

Aliens Reminded to Make Out Annual Report

All aliens in the Pontiac area have been reminded that under the Immigration and Nationality Act they must report their address each year during the month of January.

"This is required each year regardless whether the alien has changed his address from the last report," said Walter A. Sahli, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service in Detroit.

Alien report cards will be available at any Post Office or Immigration and Naturalization Service Office, he said. After filling in the card it must be left there and not mailed in, Sahli warned.

He said all non-citizens, except those in diplomatic status, foreign representatives of certain international organizations, and those admitted temporarily as agricultural laborers, are required to file the address report.

Meg Attends Play by Critic of Royal Family

LONDON (INS) — Princess Margaret surprised London social and theater circles last night by attending—and enjoying—a play by Britain's angriest young man, author John Osborne.

Te play, which Osborne himself has admitted contains obscene lines, is "The Entertainer," starring Sir Laurence Olivier.

No attempt was made to tone down the play for the sophisticated princess. Part of the surprise at Margaret's appearance in the Palace Theater was occasioned by the fact that only three months ago Osborne made a bitter attack on royalty.

OPEN The Door To Health

"After taking O-JIB-WA BITTERS for 30 days, I was able to throw away my cane, and walk again," says Mr. Harry Hall, East Detroit.

"I had rheumatism and arthritis in my knee so bad that I wasn't able to work for over five months."

It was very painful and difficult for me to walk, even using a cane. Everyone I met told me to try something different, so I think I tried about every medicine made for arthritis. I again: Since then, we both have recommended O-JIB-WA BITTERS to everyone we know that needed help. We are glad to have this chance to tell everyone how much this wonderful medicine has helped us.

Mr. H. Hall did everything possible to get rid of it, even trying some medicine advertised in Canada. My wife was bothered for several years with pains in her legs too. They ached so much that she couldn't sleep nights, and she also had an awful time getting around. She read in the paper that a lady in Detroit had used O-JIB-WA BITTERS for pains in her legs, and that it really helped. Well, my wife purchased a small bottle to try, and it helped her so much that she got a big one, and we both went to work using it up. About three weeks later, I told my wife that the O-JIB-WA must be helping, because I could walk on my bad leg. After a month, I was able to throw away my cane and walk again. Since then, we both have recommended O-JIB-WA BITTERS to everyone we know that needed help. We are glad to have this chance to tell everyone how much this wonderful medicine has helped us.

Lions-49ers Happy With Past Trades

Both Teams Get Ready for Title Playoff Sunday

Former Frisco Player Helps Detroit Against Ex-Teammates

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Last spring's trade that sent John Henry Johnson to the Detroit Lions and Bill Stits to the San Francisco 49ers today finds both sides still happy.

As the two clubs prepare for Sunday's playoff for the Western Conference title in the National Football League, Johnson paces the Detroit rushers and Stits strengthens the 49er defensive backfield corps.

"Trades are healthy," declared the 49er Coach Frankie Albert. "Stits is a fine defensive back, as steady as anyone we have in the secondary. We needed defensive help."

With 621 yards gained on 129 carries for a 4.8 average, the 207-pound former St. Mary's and Tempe, Arizona State star ranks fourth among NFL rushers.

Stits' value can't be figured in statistics. He's broken up countless plays to help the 49ers to their 8-4 season record, far higher than pre-season dopesters placed the local club.

Albert concedes the 49ers traded away a solid running back, but declares, "You have to give something to get something. We needed a defensive back badly and we're happy with Stits' performance."

The former UCLA star played both offense and defense on occasion for the Lions but with the 49ers has been strictly a defender. "I like it better this way," he says.

Both Albert and Wilson called for private practice sessions the rest of the week. The 49ers stay at their regular training camp at Redwood City while the Lions work at Stanford.

Rain yesterday kept both clubs from any hard outside work.

Sunoco Wins First Waterford Loop Tilt

Opening action for the Waterford Recreation cage league last night found Sunoco on the winning end of a 37-32 count. Loser was Johnson and Anderson.

Count was tied at halftime 15-15, but Sunoco took the lead early in the 3rd period and never was headed. Top scoring was 14 for Sunoco's Don Thompson, with J and A's William Pealart getting 12.

White Swans vs. Ryenos (7:15) and Jaycees vs. Pontiac Coach (8:30) provide the opposition in Thursday's league games in Isaac Cray school, where all loop contests will be played.

Pontiac's Hudson Ray and LeRoy Parks of Clarkston, members of the Pontiac Press All-County team last season, George Alms of Clarkston and Don Moos of Madison all have hit 18 or better thus far.

Scoring records do not include last night's games.

Hawks Bump Pistons; Sparrow Paces Knicks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's no longer just Bob Pettit and friends in the case of the St. Louis Hawks and their threatened runaway in the National Basketball Assn.'s western division proves it.

Pettit still is the Hawks' big guy when it comes to points and rebounds but, in case you've missed it, he now has a steady helper. The name's Cliff Hagan, a husky 6-4 former All-America at Kentucky.

Hagan was there again, albeit in Pettit's shadow, as the Hawks bagged their sixth straight victory, 106-98, over Detroit last night, scoring 20 points and turning in a brilliant floor game.

The Hawks, averaging 121.6 points for their five previous games in the winning streak, lost their shooting touch after building up a 19-point lead over the Pistons but Pettit, scoring 36 and Hagan pulled it out.

George Yardley again led the Pistons with 22 points, but Pettit took the NBA scoring lead away from Yardley with his 36 points.

The game was the opener of a doubleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden and represented the NBA program for the night. New York's Knicks, with rookie Guy Sparrow dropping 23 points, defeated Syracuse 123-117 in the second game.

The Knicks, reaching the .500 mark with a 13-13 record, moved to within a half game of second place Syracuse in the eastern division. Boston's Celtics lead the division

UCLA Students Want Grid Coach to Stay

LOS ANGELES (INS) — UCLA students started a "Keep Red Sanders" movement today for fear the popular head football coach might decide to accept a job at Texas A & M.

A petition was circulated on the Westwood campus calling for renegotiation of contracts with both Sanders and head basketball coach John Wooden.

The petition stated they are "two of the finest coaches in the United States" and recommended that tenure be emphasized in the proposed renegotiation of their contracts.

Sanders gets a reported $15,000 a year at UCLA. Reports from College Station, Tex., said that Paul (Bear) Bryant, the Aggie coach who resigned to go to Alabama, got as high as $50,000 a year, including various sidelines such as television programs, a rent-free house and other emoluments.

The petition was started by the UCLA "Kelps," a campus spirit organization, and its sponsors said they had 4,000 signatures. Their aim is 8,000 signatures.

Zollner, Eckman Confer; Coach May Be Finished

DETROIT (AP) — As the Detroit Pistons returned home today from a 106-99 licking by the St. Louis Hawks last night, rumors circulated that Charley Eckman might be through as coach of Detroit's National Basketball Assn. entry.

It was reported that Eckman faced more conferences with owner Fred Zollner, and added:

"Reports circulated in New York that a wide breach had opened between Zollner and the coach who had produced two Western Division titles and a team which tied for first in the three preceding seasons at Fort Wayne."

Eckman currently holds a three-year contract that carries through the 1939-40 season.

Tighe May Shift Harvey to Center

Outfield for Kuenn

DETROIT (AP) — Harvey Kuenn, who has been playing shortstop for the Detroit Tigers, may become an outfielder next season.

Manager Jack Tighe said yesterday that Kuenn himself had suggested that he be given a trial in centerfield during spring training.

"I'm willing to go along with him and see how it works out," Tighe said.

Billy Martin, who was acquired by the Tigers in the nine-man swap with Kansas City, is expected to replace Kuenn at shortstop.

Tighe discussed his plans for Kuenn before the Detroit chapter of the Baseball Writers Assn. yesterday. The association acclaimed Tighe as its "man of the year" and announced he will receive the first annual Leo MacDonnell Trophy in recognition of his close cooperation with the writers. The award is named after the Detroit Times sports writer who died recently.

Tighe told the writers, "Harvey had two ideas about going to the outfield. Having played the middle of the infield, he felt he might do better in centerfield than in right, where we planned to try him, with Al Kaline moving to center."

Kuenn also suggested that Kaline, with his strong throwing arm, is the best rightfielder in the league and we might do better keeping him there."

Tighe said there was a possibility Kuenn would be given a trial at first base "but we want to try him in the outfield first."

Bowl Teams Get in Shape

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — The University of Oregon football team has only two more practice sessions here before leaving for California to play Ohio State in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day.

The team, which did not work out today because of final examinations, had a good drill yesterday. Practice sessions are scheduled for tomorrow and Saturday morning. On Saturday afternoon the squad will leave by plane for Los Angeles where they will drill at the University of Southern California.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State football players set aside their textbooks today for a final practice session before leaving for the west coast.

The Rose Bowl-bound Buckeyes, who play Oregon Jan. 1, have been using their time the last few days to study for exams.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Rice worked against Navy defensive plays again yesterday in preparation for the Cotton Bowl game at Dallas New Year's Day. Guard Matt Gorges, who left Monday's workout early with a headache, did not wear pads on doctor's orders.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The University of Texas worked on timing and ball handling yesterday. The third and fourth strings scrimmaged as the Longhorns worked on conditioning for their Sugar Bowl game at New Orleans against Mississippi. Line-men practiced blocking as the backfield worked on the split-T handoffs and pichouts.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Coach Eddie Erdelatz is undecided about scrimmaging his Navy football team today or tomorrow but he seems satisfied with things thus far.

"The team is in top shape physically and mentally and is working hard," Erdelatz said after yesterday's workout, the longest since the Middies began practicing for their Cotton Bowl game with Rice.

Navy worked indoors most of last week and has had little contact work this week. Erdelatz was undecided about any full-scale scrimmage on these final two days before the players take off for Christmas leave.

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma's Sooners are in tip-top shape for their Orange Bowl game against Duke.

The Sooners scrimmaged for one hour yesterday, and afterward trainer Ken Wilkinson said they are "in their best physical condition of the year."

Coach Bud Wilkinson used all players on the squad in the scrimmage. He closed the drill with 30 minutes of wind sprints.

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — The Duke Blue Devils took a break today in their preparations for the Orange Bowl football game with Oklahoma New Year's Day, but will return to the practice field tomorrow.

Yesterday's session featured scrimmage work, but the emphasis was on conditioning. Coach Bill Murray reported that three injured players returned to full-time action. They were tackle Tom Topping, guard Roy Hord and halfback Wray Carlton.

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Texas A&M ran through an hour-long session defending against Tennessee single wing plays yesterday. The Aggies meet the Vols in the Gator Bowl Dec. 28 at Jacksonville, Fla.

Coach Paul Bryant said the Aggies were catching on but still had a long way to go. A&M hasn't played against a single wing attack in 29 games. End Don Smith was out with a virus attack, but was expected back soon.
