GM Announces 3-for-1 Stock Split

Plan Awaiting Sept. 23 Vote of Shareholders

Corporation Proposes Savings - Stock System for Salaried Personnel

NEW YORK (AP) — Directors of General Motors Corp. have announced plans for a three-for-one stock split, subject to stockholders' approval at a special meeting Sept. 23.

The surprise announcement came yesterday afternoon after the New York Stock Exchange had closed for the day. Even without news of the split, GM stock had risen $3.75 a share during the day, closing at $113.37.

On the West Coast, where news of the split arrived shortly before exchanges closed, GM prices jumped to $118.75 a share in San Francisco and $121 in Los Angeles.

The corporation, largest manufacturing firm in the world, gave no reason for the split, which would increase the number of shares outstanding from nearly 93 million to about 279 million.

The special stockholders meeting to vote on the proposed split is to be held at the company offices near Wilmington, Del. By far the largest single holder of GM stock is E. I. du Pont de Nemorus and Co., which owns 21 million shares.

GM's present outstanding stock includes 4,380,000 shares sold in March to raise 325 million dollars, the largest financing job ever carried out by an industrial firm.

Holders of GM stock at the time were permitted to buy at the price of $75 one share of new stock for every 20 shares owned.

Prices of GM stock in 1954 ranged from $58.75 to $98.75. The lowest price at which stock has sold this year was $89.50.

The company last year paid total dividends of $5 a share. So far this year it has paid two dividends of $1 each.

GM Opens at $128

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors stock, following a proposal for a three-for-one split, opened today on a block of 85,000 shares up $14.62 at $128 a share on the New York Stock Exchange.

There was a delay after the stock market opened of one hour and 45 minutes while members of the exchange who specialize in trading in GM stock and exchange governors sought to match buying and selling orders at what they considered a fair price.

Brokers reported the greatest difficulty apparently was in getting enough stock to meet the buying orders. This finally was accomplished at $128. Within a few minutes the stock fell back to $126.50. It traded actively between those two figures. In the meantime, it was not listed on the New York Exchange.

Higgins Is Likely Turnpike Chieftain

ANN ARBOR (INS) — The Michigan Turnpike Association will elect a chairman and secretary-treasurer at a special meeting in Ann Arbor next Tuesday.

Former State Sen. George N. Higgins of Ferndale is considered a likely choice as chairman. Higgins and attorney Carl Smith of Bay City were appointed to the commission last week. They fill vacancies created by the death of Rollin M. McConnell and the Senate's refusal to confirm the reappointment of former chairman William E. Slaughter Jr.

Detroit Traffic Toll 95

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's traffic toll for the year stood at 95 today with the death of Henry Glowacki, 38, from injuries suffered June 26. In the same period of last year 108 were killed.

Alligator Safari in Bloomfield Township

Big Game Hunting Scribes Stalk Lake Denizen

The cry of 'Alligator-Ho" resounded through the city room of the Pontiac Press yesterday, as straws were drawn to see who would investigate the reported alligator in Lower Long Lake.

Staff members Al Lowman and Arnold Hirsch won (or lost), and prepared to explore the Bloomfield Township lagoon where Mrs. William O. Singleton and her 5-year-old son, Danny, claim they have spotted the 'gator on the prowl. Here is their report:

Armed with two trusty cameras, a couple of stout oars and a length of rope, we pushed off into the shallow channel, bordered by jungle-like trees and brush.

Our job: Find the long-snouted, many-toothed native of tropic waters, get him to pose for several pictures and, if possible, capture the unfriendly beast. (The latter was our own idea.)

We began by exploring gingerly along the shoreline of the lagoon as passers-by watched from Kirkway drive where it crosses near Kirk-in-the-Hills church.

We chose to ignore the suggestions from other staff members that we troll for the monster with our big toes over the stern, or don swim fins and meet him in his own element.

The lagoon, bordering the front and side lawn of the Singleton's fashionable Bloomfield Township home, is choked with water plants, and lily pads. A hot, beating sun and an almost airless quiet that hung over the water gave the area a tropic quality.

The water, nearly six feet in depth in spots, was warm to the touch—we were told. No fingers over the side of the boat on this expedition.

Mrs. Singleton said her five-year-old son, Danny, first spotted the 'gator about a month ago from the family breakfast room of the home located at 1341 Kirkway Dr. Although she didn't see it at the time, Mrs. Singleton was inclined to believe her son.

Ten days ago she spotted the reptile swimming in about the same spot where Danny had reported seeing it. Her account to neighbors and husband was received with some doubt.

Then Saturday, Mrs. Singleton's belief in the 'gator's presence was supported when a weekend guest, Mrs. Harry Gersell of Dearborn, spotted "something" swimming in the same area.

"We rushed toward the shoreline—when we were about 50 yards away, it submerged," Mrs Singleton related. "I didn't get a chance to look the thing in the eye, but if that wasn't an alligator, then I don't know what it was," she said.

"I've seen plenty of alligators while vacationing in Florida and Louisiana," said Mrs. Singleton, a native of the deep south, "and I'd judge by his head that the body would be six or seven feet long."

Despite Mrs. Singleton's sincere account and strong belief in what she saw, your reporter and photographer found nothing.

The still waters of the lagoon, which juts westward from Long Lake about 500 yards, remained unruffled except for the quiet dip of oars and the occasional splash of a spent flash bulb.

How would an alligator of this size get into a northern lake? Could it have been brought here as a baby, deposited in the lake, and managed to survive cold winters buried in the mud?

Frank G. McInnis, director of the Detroit Zoological Park in Royal Oak, says it's not likely. "Alligators, natives of the tropics, cannot stand our winters," he says.

They can live here very well in summer, feeding on fish, meat scraps, frogs and some vegetation, McInnis explained.

ALLIGATOR HUNT — Pontiac Press Reporter Al Lowman peers intently into the foreboding waters of Lower Long Lake yesterday searching for the 6-foot alligator reportedly seen there. The alligator failed to show — mosquitoes did, and were they hungry! Arnold Hirsch took pictures from shore.

Truman to Visit State

LANSING (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman will be the principal speaker at the 1955 Mackinac Island Democratic Conference Monday, Aug. 29, the Democratic State Central Committee announced today.

'Pike Authority Will Act Fairly,' Higgins Asserts

Former State Senator George N. Higgins, Republican of Ferndale said yesterday the Michigan Turnpike Authority will attempt to sell the project to the cities along the proposed Flat Rock-Bay City route.

Higgins declared the toll road will be built "because it is badly needed." He added, "But we won't act arbitrarily. Even reasonable objection to the route will be heard and acted upon."

City Given Citation for Accident Record

The city of Pontiac has been awarded a special citation by the American Automobile Assn. for its 1954 pedestrian accident record.

The award is for cities in the 50,000-100,000 population category. News of the citation was given to the City Commission last night by City Manager Walter K. Willman, via a letter from AAA headquarters.

Special commendation was given to Lt. Joseph Koren, head of the Police Department's traffic and safety bureau. A plaque will be presented to the city by the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Social Security Expansion Seen

Dem Leaders Report Agreement on Three Benefit Boosts

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Ways and Means Committee Democrats reported near-final agreement today on a three-point plan to expand social security payments—and to raise the money to pay for them.

The House group arranged to take up the program behind closed doors, with a possibility the day may bring action to send the bill to the House.

Committee Democrats conferred secretly on the plan yesterday. Some, asking not to be quoted by name, said the majority members decided to vote for:

1. Lowering from 65 to 62 the age at which women can become eligible for social security payments.

2. Allowing payments after age 50, instead of 65, to disabled workers covered by the system.

3. Continuing benefits for disabled children past the age of 18.

To pay for this, the informants said, a social security tax increase of 0.9 per cent was found to be necessary to keep the social security fund from running in the red. When the tax hike would take effect remained to be decided, but Jan. 1, 1957, was regarded as the most likely date.

The probable method of doing this would be to advance to Jan. 1, 1957, the date on which social security taxes are set to go up from the present 2 per cent to 2½ per cent paid by both worker and employer. The present schedule calls for the 2½ per cent rate to take effect in 1960, with further increases at five-year intervals thereafter.

Copper Strike Goes On

'Cool' 89 Today Bringing Relief From Hot Spell

Look Out Thursday—Temperatures to Return to 90 Region

Torid temperatures will leave Pontiac in a swelter tomorrow, but forecasters report a "cool" 89 degrees for today.

Some scattered afternoon or evening thundershowers are possible today and Thursday, but area citizens will continue to be parboiled, according to U. S. Weather Bureau forecast.

Temperatures are expected to be in the high 90's tomorrow. Actually the city is well off, compared to the far southwest, where the situation is really hot.

A high of 107 was chalked up in Tucson, Ariz., and readings of over 100 were recorded in some sections of the East.

Tuesday's "low" temperature in downtown Pontiac was 74 degrees. The low tonight is expected to be comfortable, between 66-70.

At 4 p.m. yesterday, the mercury dropped to 74 after hovering in the 90's most of the afternoon, when high winds and a few scattered showers hit the area.

The temperature then climbed to 87 about 6 p.m.

If the mercury hits 90 today, it will mark the fifth straight day of 90-degree weather here.

City Manager Walter K. Willman has not called for water restrictions yet, but if the heat wave continues the city may be forced to ration water usage.

Until the swelter diminishes, citizens must shift for themselves in finding relief from the heat.

Ferris Fain Given Release by Tigers

The 33-year-old infielder, considered one of the game's great competitors, has been hobbled for the past year by an injured knee.

Fain came to the Tigers last Dec. 6 in a six-player trade with the Chicago White Sox. He was injured in the middle of last season with the Sox.

Virtually playing on one leg for the Tigers, Fain had a batting average of .264 this season. He was the Tigers' regular first baseman through the early part of the season, but needed occasional rest periods.

Nebraska Tax Official Says Somebody Goofed

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington was telling the State Board of Equalization yesterday about "quirks" in county tax assessment returns this year.

With a wry smile, he said Grant County—in the heart of Nebraska's ranch country—listed no milk cows no corn and no wheat on its farms and ranches on assessment day.

He promised to look into it.

Elect Rowston to Commission; Pick Treasurer

Harold B. Euler Named to City Hospital Board Replacing Maybury

Two key city posts were filled and an announcement of the filling of a third was made at last night's City Commission meeting.

Following the not-unexpected resignation of Commissioner Harcourt S. Patterson, the Commission unanimously elected Philip E. Rowston, 34-year-old attorney to the District 2 seat.

Harold B. Euler, 50, was appointed by the Commission to the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees. He replaces William F. Maybury, who retired July 1 after serving as chairman since the board's inception three years ago.

At the same time, Finance Director Oscar Eckman announced the appointment of Walter A. Giddings, 51, to the post of city treasurer. Giddings assumes the post filled for the last five years by Murray M. Ashbaugh, who officially retired July 2, his 70th birthday.

The Commission re-appointed Mrs. B. B. Roush, hospital board secretary, for a four-year term on the board. Mrs. Roush has served on the board since it was established on July 1, 1953.

election. Admitted to the State Bar of Michigan in December 1953, he lives at 24 Utica Rd.

He was formerly court clerk for Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick and earned his law degree at the Detroit College of Law night school.

Rees Ties Scott in Open; Nelson, Furgol Trailing

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Dai Rees of Wales and Syd Scott of England, who tied for second place last year, shot their way into a tie for the lead in the first round of the British Open golf championship today with scores of 69.

Rees, regularly a contender in Britain's major tournaments, shot a consistent round of 34-35—69 to tie the 41-year-old Scott after about two-thirds of the field of 94 qualifiers had finished the first round. Scott, who had a couple of sensational rounds in last year's Open, came in early with the same score. Rees had only one five on his card—a bogey at the 316-yard 12th hole.

Scott and Rees had a two-stroke margin over Ed Furgol of Clayton, Mo., 1954 United States Open champion and leader of the American delegation and three strokes over 1939 American champion Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex.

Two English players, Henry Cotton and Cecil Denny, and D. F. Smalldon of Wales, had 70s to tie for second place.

Furgol shot a round of 36-5—72 over the par 36-36—72 St. Andrews Old Course. Nelson came in with 38-34—72 after he had almost been disqualified for practicing on the course.

Nelson was asked to swing at a few balls so photographers could get pictures of his fluid swing. He dropped a half dozen near the first tee, but before he hit any, an official of the Royal and Ancient club, which conducts the tournament, came out and warned him he might be charged with violating the rule against practicing on the course.

Ike Says He'll Make His Own Second Term Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today at his news conference said that he would decide for himself whether to run for a second term.

The President smilingly dodged the usual question about his intentions toward a second term. A reporter noted a recent speech in which Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) said the President cannot refuse to be a candidate for re-election.

Eisenhower said that was a decision he would have to make for himself.

The President also said the Russians can be sure the United States will negotiate in good faith at the Big Four meeting in Geneva.

Eisenhower said too that no member of the United States government ever has said the Russians will be in a position of weakness.

The President's remarks amounted to a reply to Soviet Communist Chief Nikita S. Khrushchev's Fourth of July denial that the Soviet Union will be negotiating from weakness in the talks. Khrushchev said nothing good can come of the Geneva conference unless the West treats the Soviet Union as an equal.

Eisenhower said he is going to the mid-July conference with a very hopeful attitude. But he added, quickly, that American hope will need a good deal of food to nourish it before the hope becomes expectation.

The President said he does not expect disarmament to come up at Geneva except that it might be possible to agree on what would be the best channel for conducting disarmament talks. The whole question, he said, boils down to getting an armaments inspection system that both sides would accept.

On the domestic front, Eisenhower described himself as delighted that the City of Memphis has decided to build an electric power plant. He said that decision will make the Dixon-Yates project unnecessary if it turns out the Memphis plant definitely can and will be built.

Among other matters the President touched on were these:

TRANSIT STRIKE—Eisenhower said a strike by Capital Transit Co. employes is interfering with government operations because it is making it harder for federal employes to get to work. He urged that both sides hold continuous negotiating sessions in an effort to settle the five-day-old walkout.

DESEGREGATION — The President said he does not think anti-segregation restrictions should be written into his proposed school construction program—that he wants the schools built and that segregation is a separate problem on which the Supreme Court has already ruled.

MINIMUM WAGE—He said an increase in the nationwide minimum wage from 75 to 90 cents an hour still is well up on his list of wanted legislation. Eisenhower added that he is convinced a dollar-an-hour minimum, which has been passed by the Senate, is more than is needed at this time.

CONGRESS—The President said with a laugh he does not think it necessary for congress to extend its session — now slated to wind up at the end of this month —in order to complete action on his legislative program. When it wants to, he said, Congress can do a lot in a short time.

MARTIAL LAW—He said he ordered simulated martial law during the recent Civil Defense test, "Operation Alert," because the federal government would have no recourse except to take charge instantly in event of a real disaster such as the pretended one of the test—that is, if more than 50 major cities were destroyed by atomic attacks and Congress was not even in session to cope with the situation.

Senator Scores Defense Tactics

Hits Deadline Spending of Half Billion in Aid for Allied Armies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) accused the Eisenhower administration today of "incredible shenanigans" in connection with the foreign military aid program.

Saying he will seek a thorough investigation by Congress, Mansfield said the Defense Department on a single day had obligated for spending—a bookkeeping transaction—more than half a billion dollars in past foreign aid appropriations not yet spent. He said this occurred June 30, the last day of the 1955 fiscal year.

There was no immediate comment from the Defense Department.

Both the House and Senate wrote into the new foreign aid authorization bill a restriction to forbid the administration from carrying over into this fiscal year, which started July 1, more than 200 million dollars of aid money voted in past years but not spent or obligated by midnight June 30.

Mansfield said in an interview the "maneuver" of obligating this amount—earmarking the money for specific military items to be bought in the future—has the legal effect of spending the money even though it may not actually be paid out for months or even years.

The practice of deadline spending by government agencies, usually on a smaller scale, has been a subject of congressional criticism for years.

Bloomfield School Bonds to Be Decided on Monday

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Step one of a projected five-point expansion program will take voters to the polls on Monday, where a proposed $800,000 bond issue will be put to the test.

Residents in the 23-square-mile school district have already received results of a six-month survey conducted by the Michigan State College Bureau of Research and Service, in the form of a 63-page booklet.

This outlines the five steps and recommends an immediate program, which constitutes step one.

The bond issue, increasing school taxes by less than one mill, would allow for acquisition of six elementary school sites, four elementary and two junior high, as a safeguard against predicted population growth. An estimated $150,000 would be expended for this purpose.

NEW BUILDING

One of the elementary sites, on the east side of Woodward avenue, would be put into immediate service, with construction of an approximate $275,000 structure, complete with kindergarten, all-purpose room and offices, and designed with future expansion in mind.

Relating to existing buildings, the bond issue would provide a $155,000 five-classroom addition for Wing Lake School, alleviating overcrowded conditions there.

Also included would be construction of a kindergarten and conversion of a small classroom into a library.

Vaughan School, which in the past has housed kindergarteners through twelfth graders, would be converted into an elementary school, ending with the sixth grade. Renovation would cost between $35,000 and $50,000.

IMPROVEMENTS

The new $1,500,000 high school, still under construction following passage of a $1,750,000 bond issue in the fall of 1953, would be developed with drainage, landscaping and other equipment, for between $100,000 and $180,000.

Looking ahead in the long-range planning program, step two would begin in 1958 if approved, and would include two new elementary schools and an addition to the one proposed in the current bond issue.

Subsequent steps would come in 1962, 1966 and 1970, adding another elementary school, two junior high schools and additions to several existing plants, as needed.

Figures show that public school enrollment in the district has doubled in the past three years, standing at 1,158 in January. By 1970, it is estimated that enrollment will be 4,550.

before. The last was a two-for-one split on Oct. 21, 1950.

The first split was in 1920 when it gave 10 shares for 1. Four years later the company issued 1 share for 4 in a reverse split. Then in 1927 it split 2 for 1 and in 1929 gave 2½ shares for 1.

Since the end of World War II General Motors has carried out a vigorous expansion program and by the end of this year will have spent four billion dollars on new plant space and equipment in the United States and Canada.

GM President Harlow H. Curtice has said the company's expansion "is a measure of our faith in our country, and will enable the company to continue to make its full contribution to a strong and expanding national economy."

GM already manufactures more than half the cars produced in this country and Curtice has forecast that 1955 will be a record year, with sales totaling 10 billion dollars.

* * *

In addition to the stock split, the special stockholders meeting will be asked to approve a recently announced revision in pension plans for employes receiving hourly wages.

STOCK, SAVINGS PLAN

Also to be submitted for stockholder approval at the Sept. 23 meeting is a savings and stock purchase plan for some 100,000 salaried GM employes in the United States.

The plan, approved by the directors yesterday, would run for successive periods of five years each. Employes would be allowed to invest up to 10 per cent of their salary, and for every dollar they invested the company would contribute another 50 cents.

The employe contribution would be invested half in government saving bonds and half in GM stock. All of the company contribution would go into GM stock.

The stock purchase program also includes a retirement - thrift plan in which salaried employes would participate on the same basis as in the savings plan.

Merrill O. Bates Heads Bloomfield Hills Board

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—At a special reorganization meeting last night, Merrill O. Bates was elected president of the school board. Re-elected treasurer was David W. Lee, with Douglas L. Jocelyn as secretary.

Completing the five-man board are two new members, Karl E. Scott and Robert Hoffman.

Students Attend MSU Course in Journalism

Thirteen high school students from the Oakland County area, including one from Pontiac, have returned from a special two-week journalism course at Michigan State University.

Members of the Department of Journalism gave individual training and lectures on news writing, feature writing, photography, art, layout and printing.

Attending the conference were Susan Herrick, Birmingham; Patricia Barr, Judith Carol Dixon, and Quintin A. Kennedy, Hazel Park; Janet Langdon, Milford; Michael Marcus, Oak Park; Vicky J. Micu, Pontiac; and Madelyne L. Bacon, Woodrow Donovan, Ruth Sappington, Robert E. Smelser, Joan Tanner and Sylvia E. Uhrick, Walled Lake.

This was the eighth consecutive summer that the course was offered to high school youths.

City Graduate Gets College Scholarship

One Pontiac high school graduate was among 13 Detroit area students chosen to receive Harvard College scholarships, it was announced today by Elliott Phillips, president of the Eastern Michigan Harvard Club.

More than 1,800 of the nation's outstanding high school seniors competed this year for the scholarships. The awards were given on the basis of high academic and personal promise, along with financial need.

Grundeman and Gillen graduated from Royal Oak and Birmingham high schools, respectively.

Early telescopic observers thought that dark areas on the planet Mars were water, but more recent data indicates that there are no large bodies of water on the planet.

Press of Business Listed as Cause of Resignation

Giving the "pressure of professional and personal matters" plus the fact he is soon moving out of the city as his reasons, Commissioner Harcourt S. Patterson (District 2) last night resigned from the City Commission.

In his three-page resignation Patterson listed six points, "which, I believe, would contribute to continued progress and betterment of our city." A seventh point pertained to matters in his district and was made as an advisory for his successor.

The Commission immediately named Philip E. Rowston, 34, to fill out Patterson's unexpired term which runs through next April. Patterson was serving his first term.

His first point commended "a very efficient group of leaders" in the city government and urged a continuance of "better public relations and to training personnel to replace those in key positions who leave us by retirement, by death or other means."

Second, he called for a revival of the Charter Study Committee to revise the city charter, which "in some respects, has become obsolete and in need of change."

* * *

He especially pointed out the $5 weekly wage given the commissioners who operate a "city corporation" with an assessed valuation of $215,000,000 and an annual budget "of considerably more than $4,300,000."

Point three calls for an "expediter" to aid in speeding construction of a new wing at Pontiac General Hospital. The addition, he said, "has made little apparent progress in some time."

Fourth, Patterson suggested a salaried person might be hired to change the Planning Commission's duties from rezoning to actual planning for the future growth of the city.

Fifth on the list was a plea for added fire protection for District 2.

"There is no adequate fire fighting facility in District 2, although the city owns land at the corner of South Genesee and West Huron Sts. which was purchased many years ago for use as a fire station site."

Sixth was a recommendation that a monument or marker be erected at the new City Hall "with an inscription showing the name of the location to be 'Mack Square' and giving some historical background . . . and perhaps giving a brief biographical sketch of Col. Stephen Mack," for whom it was named.

The seventh point covered a retaining wall along the alley behind the Tel-Huron Shopping Center, a drainage sewer along Glendale and Menominee roads and additional recreational facilities in District 2.

Patterson had announced in early spring that he would resign because moving out of the city would disqualify him for office. "The pressure of professional and personal matters" was added in his letter of resignation.

The resignation was effective immediately. Rowston, of 24 Utica Rd., an attorney who opposed Patterson in the April, 1954 election, will take office Monday night, when the City Commission next meets.

New Ordinance Restricts Selling

Law Governing Street Vendors Is Passed by City Commissioners

A "straight - jacket" ordinance holding street vendors to a narrow line was passed by the City Commission last night.

The new regulation replaces one banning street sales of ice cream and other commodities which was declared illegal by the Oakland County Circuit Court.

Under the new law, licensees must pay a $100 yearly fee or $10 per day. They may not obstruct any street, alley, sidewalk or driveway in making a sale.

Neither may they stay in any one spot for more than five minutes, nor may they hawk their wares in front of, or at the side of any property against the wish or desire of the property owner or occupant.

Vendors may not enter private property without the express consent of the owner and they may not park their vehicles within 500 feet of any school building while classes are in session.

They cannot park within 50 feet of an intersection nor on those portions of street on which a public park abuts.

Selling of ice cream or ices from pushcarts or bicycles is prohibited "as a necessary police measure for the prevention of traffic accidents and personal injuries on the streets. . ." Sales may be only from "refrigerated trucks of modern design."

It is unlawful to vend meat, poultry or fish on the streets.

The ordinance also provides that the sale of fruits, vegetables or other perishable food stuffs or wrapped frozen ice cream bars or frozen ices are subject to Health Dept. inspection.

The new measure passed by a 6-1 vote, with Commissioner Floyd P. Miles (District 5) voting against it. He has expressed himself previously as being for complete outlawing of street sales.

Study Seizure of D.C. Transit

House Eyes Legislation to Take Over System in Strike Deadlock

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House committee prepared to consider seizure legislation today as the capital's transit strike rolled into its sixth day without a break in sight.

The House District Committee scheduled a special meeting to take up a bill by Rep. Broyhill (R-Va) to authorize seizure by the District of Columbia government of the Capital Transit Co. system. The bill would empower the city to run the system under a "no strike" ban.

Meanwhile, the district commissioners, ruling body of the city, arranged for a new mediation effort, this time at a meeting with the executive board of the striking AFL Transit Workers Union.

A similar session yesterday with Capital Transit's Board of Directors produced no progress beyond what Commissioner Samuel Spencer said were "one or two ideas we're going to pursue further."

Federal mediators, meeting separately with company and union officials, also tried to break the deadlock, but without success.

The workers are seeking wage increases and various fringe benefits. The company contends it cannot afford to meet the demands until it gets a fare increase and some tax relief.

City Appoints Three to Key Positions

A Pontiac resident since 1927, Euler lives with his wife and an 18-year-old daughter at 133 Ottawa Dr. A son, 23, attends Michigan State University. Euler also will serve a four-year term.

Shooting at Freighter Costs Liveryman $650

PORT HURON (AP) — Floyd B. Warwick, 45, of Marine City, was fined $500 yesterday for shooting at a Great Lakes freighter as it passed his boat livery May 12 on Lake St. Clair.

He was ordered to pay court costs of $150.

Police accused Warwick of firing on the boat because, they said, he believed its wash was damaging his property. He denied the charge but was convicted by a Circuit Court jury.

No one was injured in the shooting.

MRS. B. B. ROUSH

Re-appointed to the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees for a four-year term last night was Mrs. B. B. Roush, of 28 Utica Rd. Mrs. Roush, who serves as board secretary, was appointed to a three-year term when the seven-member board was established in July, 1952. The three-year term of William F. Maybury, 110 E. Iroquois Rd., also expired, but Maybury declined re-appointment. He served as chairman three years.

Italians Form New Cabinet

Segni Accepts Premier Post to Supervise Pro-Western Group

ROME (AP)—Christian Democrat Antonio Segni formed a pro-Western coalition Cabinet today, ending Italy's two-weeks-old political crisis.

A lawyer, teacher and land reform expert, Segni called on President Giovanni Gronchi early this afternoon to present the names of his Cabinet ministers. They will take office tonight.

The new government must still win approval of both houses of the Italian Parliament.

Segni announced acceptance of the premiership last night. The scholarly, 64-year-old Christian Democrat said his Cabinet would be made up of members of his own party, the Social Democrats and Liberals, and would have the support of the Republicans.

Ex-Premier Mario Scelba ruled Italy for the past 16 months with the backing of this same grouping.

The distribution of Cabinet seats was expected to be similar to Scelba's. Under the previous Premier, the Christian Democrats—largest single party in Parliament—held 14 ministries, the Social Democrats 4 and the Liberals 3.

Grand Rapids Healthy

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Police and sheriff's deputies reported no fatal traffic accidents in Grand Rapids and Kent County during the recent holiday weekend. Sheriff Arnold O. Pigorsh also noted that Monday marked the twelfth consecutive day free of traffic fatalities in the county.

The Day in Birmingham

Commission Opposes Race Track Proposal

BIRMINGHAM—Although a proposed race track at 11 Mile Rd., and John R is several miles from Birmingham, the City Commission last night went on record opposing the move.

A communication was received from the Michigan Racing Commission outlining the plan, but the local commission took action after hearing the effects the track would produce in Birmingham, traffic-wise.

Planning Technician Herbert Herzberg pointed out that already congested Maple Ave., is the only east-west true artery between Long Lake and 14 Mile Rd., which would carry horse racing fans to the new track location from this vicinity.

In other action, Herzberg was asked to negotiate with Troy Township in efforts to protect residences at the city's eastern-most limits at Coolidge Rd.

Commissioners proposed that Troy land between the Walker Gravel Pit and Coolidge, running north from east Maple, be zoned single-family.

They favor the same zoning for the gravel pit, but Troy property just east of the pit was recently zoned for light industrial use. A Fruehauf office building is planned for the location.

Lawmakers also named Carl Ingraham, local attorney, to a three-year-term on the Planning Board, and then went into a closed huddle to discuss appointment of a second man, not yet named. Terms of James Spencer and William Brown expired July 1.

An overnight trip is scheduled for tomorrow evening by youngsters taking part in the YMCA Da-Y program. The group will travel to Arrowhead Lodge for a campout, which will include cooking three meals.

From Tadpole to Minnow to Shark — these are the swimming stages youngsters are going through to consider themselves advanced swimmers in the Y's summer program.

Tot Scalds to Death When Mother Trips

A two-months-old Oak Park girl, Rita Freeman, died of scald burns yesterday suffered when her mother, Mary Jo, tripped on the family's pet cat and spilled water from a bottle sterilizer.

The accident was at the John Freeman home, 10080 Troy. Rita was in her highchair. She died 45 minutes after being admitted to Children's Hospital in Detroit with burns over 85 per cent of her body.

Pontiac City Affairs

Commission Takes Bids on Removal of Buildings

Bids for removal of city-owned buildings in the area facing the new City Hall were accepted by the City Commission last night.

Contracts for tearing down the structures at 54 S. Parke St. and 16-22 S. Parke St. were awarded to Wallace H. Newman, of Milford. Newman will pay the city $350 for salvaged material.

In other action, the Commission heard first readings of a new ordinance controlling shade tree planting and another regulating growth and cutting of weeds.

Deferred for two weeks was action on a bid for purchase of city-owned property on LeGrande avenue and a petition for sanitary sewer on Baldwin avenue from LeGrande to City Line road.

Approved was a request to change the names on liquor and beer and wine licenses at 920 Joslyn Rd.

Engineer's estimates were presented for curb, gutter and drainage work on Ivy street from Perry to Kennett, and sidewalk installation on both sides of East boulevard from Perry to the west line of Green and Sarko Subdivision and Eastview Subdivision.

Hearings were held on intention to construct sidewalks on the following streets and the city assessor was instructed to prepare special assessment rolls:

A hearing was held on a similar project on Perkins street from Whittemore to Willard, but it was deleted from the 1955 program.

Confirmation of a special assessment roll for a water main in Durant street from Inglewood to Pershing was deferred following a public hearing.

Assessment rolls for blacktop pavement on the following streets were confirmed:

Longfellow street from Baldwin to University.
West Hopkins avenue from Baldwin to Stanley.
Rutgers avenue from Baldwin to University.
Strathmore avenue from Baldwin to University.

A resolution of public necessity was declared for curb, gutter and drainage on Edward street from Myra to Orchard Lake and on Elm street from Marshall to 100 feet east of Going street.

The city clerk was authorized to advertise for bids for curb, gutter and sidewalk work on the parking area east of the City Hall.

Prisoners Hold Seven Hostages

Uneasy Quiet Settles on Washington Prison in Convict Revolt

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — An uneasy quiet broken occasionally by screaming taunts of a handful of rebelling prisoners settled over the Washington State Penitentiary early today.

Prison guards reinforced by state patrol and county and city officers armed with rifles and submachineguns patrolled the walls and the area surrounding the prison. And a National Guard company was on standby orders for possible duty.

* * *

But inside the prison, most of the more than 1,700 inmates, apparently in obedience of a white-shirted convict—leader of some 33 persons directly involved in an angry revolt against prison disciplinary procedures and in control of the institution—remained in their cells.

Talks between prison and state officials and spokesmen for the rebels, aimed at obtaining the release of seven hostages taken at knife point when the trouble started at midmorning yesterday, were broken off shortly before midnight.

Dr. Thomas Harris, newly appointed state director of institutions, said the talks probably would resume today.

The hostages, including Associate Warden Ted Bezzerides, were believed in no immediate danger. Prison officials said, however, until arrangements could be made for their release, the main prison was in control of the convicts.

The trouble developed without warning about 9:45 a.m. yesterday. The 33 prisoners, all of whom had been held in a segregation center reserved for the prison's toughest inmates, broke out of the center and converged on Bezzerides' office in the same building.

Police Arrest Man Wanted in Robbery

Pontiac Police yesterday arrested a Detroit man wanted in connection with the $5,000 armed robbery of a Detroit florist May 9.

Sgt. Donny Ashley and Detective Herb Cooley along with Lt. John Keliner, of the Detroit Police robbery squad, arrested Marvin C. Bruein, 41, in a downtown hotel.

Cooley said Bruein, who had a .32-caliber automatic pistol in his suitcase, was arrested after the officers called his room telling him he had a telegram waiting at the hotel desk.

Detroit Police said Bruein was implicated in the holdup by an accomplice currently serving a 25-40-year term for the robbery.

Divers Offered Monitor Reward

$1,000 Will Be Given Person Locating Civil War Ironclad Ship

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1,000 reward awaits the person who locates the ironclad Union Civil War ship, the Monitor.

Raynor T. McMullen of Dundee, Mich., who made the offer, says the ship foundered off Cape Hatteras, N.C., Dec. 31, 1862 about 25 miles southwest of the Hatteras Light at latitude 34 degrees 55 minutes and longitude 75 degrees 32 minutes.

With the Monitor and its Confederate counterpart, the Merrimac, a new era of naval history opened.

The reign of wooden battle ships ended on March 9, 1862, when the two ships fought to a draw in Hampton roads off Norfolk.

McMullen, a retired rural mail carrier turned historian, has organized the Monitor Historical Society. Several Navy admirals and captains are sponsors.

He made his offer on the condition that the finder agrees to turn the vessel over to the society.

OPTIMISTIC

McMullen is optimistic about the chances. A statement issued by the society said:

"Even though the Monitor has rested on the ocean bottom almost 93 years, it is believed to be in excellent condition since it was constructed from a high grade of wrought iron with turret armor eight inches thick with beams of live oak which are water resistant.

McMullen believes it to be resting on sand down 100 or more feet.

The Society plans to establish the Monitor, if it gets it, as a national shrine.

"Just where the ship will be placed has not been determined," the announcement read confidently.

Although the United States uses more electric power than any other country, its per capital use is less than that of either Norway or Canada.

Marine Married Whether He Knows It or Not

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Whether or not Marine Walter Shets knows it, he's still married.

Judge J. E. Kinnison of Jackson County yesterday vacated the divorce granted last week to Sheets' wife Nancy Ann after the judge said he learned Sheets was going to remarry her.

* * *

Sheets re-enlisted in the Marine Corps at Cincinnati last week. He told the recruiter he was eligible for a second hitch because his divorce had left him with only three dependents — his children, ages 3, 2, and 6 months.

The Marines would not let him join with four dependents.

Court attaches said the judge vacated the divorce on grounds it was obtained fraudulently. That left the divorce still pending and Sheets still married.

* * *

Sheets had worked for the Portsmouth Times. His wife obtained a divorce on grounds of cruelty.

Court attaches were wondering whether the Marines now would discharge Sheets because of fraudulent enlistment. They pointed out, however, Sheets thought he was divorced when he re-enlisted.

Dems Might Stymie Ike's Major Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic promises of support appeared today to herald early aproval by Congress of some of the major elements of President Eisenhower's legislative program.

But at least four or five of the bills on which Eisenhower has said he wants action may be stymied.

* * *

Sen. Clements of Kentucky, the acting Democratic leader, promised yesterday that his party will push for early Senate action on a House-passed military reserves bill regarded as generally satisfactory to the Pentagon.

* * *

Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP leader, said Eisenhower reiterated at a luncheon yesterday "his great interest" in passage of adequate reserve legislation. An atom-powered cargo ship and highway and housing aid were also discussed, he said.

Deep Sea Diver to Salvage Ship in Lake Michigan

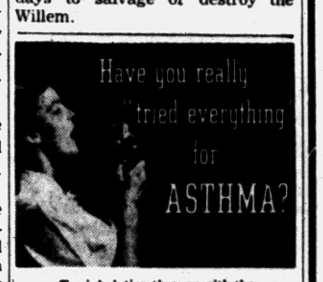

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Salvaging an ocean-going ship sunk in 70 feet of Lake Michigan water will be undertaken this summer by Max Gene Nohl, professional deep sea diver. If he succeeds, he can make a fortune; if he fails, it won't cost him a dime.

The prize is the Dutch Oranje line freighter, Prins Willem V, which sank off Milwaukee last Oct. 14.

The 285 foot motorship was valued by insurers at $1,250,000. The 750 tons of general cargo the Willem was carrying was valued at $750,000. Nohl has a contract with the United States Army engineers which calls for removal of the sunken ship or its demolition.

Nohl will be paid $50,000 for the job. The title of the ship was turned over to him by the engineers. Nohl said he plans to raise the Willem by sealing the four hatches with special covers; then pumping air into the vessel until it becomes buoyant.

Under the contract he has 180 days to salvage or destroy the Willem.

Intelligence Experts Hit Optimism

By JOHN SCALI
for J. M. Roberts

Some top rank intelligence experts are aghast at the big rise in optimism in Washington over prospects for some kind of a deal with Russia ending the cold war.

These officials, who have been carefully following Soviet developments for years, believe it is dangerous nonsense to expect the Russians to accept the kind of terms that are necessary to ease East-West tensions.

In their view, neither the Geneva "summit" conference this month or later Big Four talks at a lower level will succeed in removing the threat of war from the international horizon.

What particularly baffles these observers is the current outpouring of stories picturing Russia as so weak internally that it has no alternative but to make sweeping concessions to the west in the near future.

This theory, now being discussed seriously by responsible officials, holds that Russia's agricultural and industrial production has fallen so far behind that the Kremlin wants a two or three year truce in order to catch up with the West.

Russia's current sweet talk, they believe, represents a new, more imaginative maneuver to block what the Soviets fear most — German rearmament.

There is no solid evidence whatever, they say, that the Russians are hurting because their industrial machine and farm output has started to collapse.

On the contrary, they feel there is good reason for believing Russia has successfully expanded production in these fields in the past two years and that output will improve from now on with less money and effort.

For example, Russia's farm crisis may be solved by the end of this year by the apparently successful campaign to put some 72 million new acres under the plow. Russian spokesmen have been ballyhooing this feat during the past year, claiming that two-thirds of the new plantings will produce food during this crop season.

Further, Russia obviously has succeeded in turning out new jet fighters, jet bombers and impressive amounts of new ground weapons in recent months. These have been displayed to foreigners in Moscow during recent national celebrations.

Intelligence surveys indicate these are not advance prototypes but actual production models, meaning that factories have already been tooled up to produce them.

With this evidence before them, these intelligence experts are now trying to curb the more enthusiastic and optimistic government officials who believe the Russians in some way may have got religion and will behave like good boys from now on.

Army Initiates Mass Movement

'Operation Gyroscope' Transfers Troops, Gear, Families at One Time

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Army's Operation Gyroscope goes into operation today when 366 army dependents, wipes and children of soldiers of the 508th Regimental Combat Team board the transport Gen. A. E. Anderson for Japan.

Tomorrow a second group of 365 women and children will board the transport Gen. J. C. Breckinridge for the same destination.

* * *

The movement of the dependents is the first of the en masse movement of an entire unit to replace another in foreign service.

* * *

The 508th, about 4,000 officers and men, will replace the 187th RCT in Japan. The 187th will return to its permanent station at Fort Bragg, N. C.

Here to see their families off on the transports were their husbands and fathers. Then the men headed for Travis Air Force Base, to meet the Tactical Air Command C124 Globemaster transports which will fly them to Japan. They will arrive approximately a week before their families.

* * *

The operation will include 45 Globemasters, each carrying about 100 men. The first of the big transports will leave Ft. Campbell, Ky., tomorrow and the last one July 10.

The Globemasters will bring back the members of the 187th, completing the transfer of nearly 8,000 men in a single round trip.

Dependents of the 187th will return on the same transports which are carrying the families of the 508th.

1898 Vets to Gather

PENTWATER (AP) — A Michigan contingent of Spanish-American War veterans will gather July 9 for the 56th annual reunion of Company A, Michigan Volunteer Infantry. The group included 111 men when they mustered into service July 11, 1898. Last year, 24 members attended the reunion.

Navy Seeking 31 Technical Men to Be Admirals

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Navy board under instructions from Secretary Charles S. Thomas to seek out younger men and scientific specialists started yesterday looking for 31 men to become admirals.

That many will be chosen from the approximately 1,600 Navy captains to fill 31 vacancies caused by death and retirement.

Thomas' directive to Adm. Jerrauld Wright, head of the selection board, was also circularized throughout the Navy, an unusual step.

Soft-pedaling the traditional emphasis on seagoing experience, Thomas asked the board to pay special attention to specialists in such fields as atomic power, electronics and guided missiles.

Freezer Short Kills Girl, 9, in Swimsuit

DETROIT (AP)—A 9-year-old girl, wearing a wet bathing suit, was electrocuted as she opened a self-serve freezer in a dairy store.

Sharon Kirn and a playmate had been called from a back yard swimming pool to run an errand for Sharon's mother Grace.

Mrs. Gertrude Kirby, a clerk, said she saw the girl approach the freezer.

* * *

"The next thing I knew, she just fell over backwards," Mrs. Kirby said.

Police said the freezer had a short-circuit.

Anti-Peron Party Asks Truce Proof

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The opposition Radical party asked for "deeds, not words" last night in reply to Argentine President Juan Peron's broadcast call for a political truce.

The national committee of the biggest opposition party said it stood on its June 29 declaration—issued after the quelling of the bloody revolt by naval and Marine units—that "there can be no pacification without liberty."

The committee added that Peron could demonstrate his sincerity by letting it reply over the state radio network to the speech he made yesterday over the same hookup.

Small Fry Swallow 24 Baby Aspirins

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Small fry with big headaches was the only excuse Emergency Hospital attendants could cite for a run of asprin cases last night.

Maureen and Anne Taylor, 15-month-old twins from China Lake in Kern County, were placed under observation after they swallowed an undetermined amount of baby-size aspirin tablets.

The twins, who seemed to be enjoying the fuss they'd caused, were brought here by their parents Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Taylor to visit their grandfather Oscar Van.

Art Bailey, Los Angeles, hurried in with his daughter Terry, 2, who, he said, swallowed 24 baby-size aspirins. Doctors got busy with a stomach pump right away in Terry's case.

Two-Month-Old Baby Booked by Illinois Cops

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—Tiny Tina probably is the youngest person with a police record.

Frank Kelly, a retired Navy chief, brought his daughter, Katherine Tina, two months old, into the North Chicago police station and asked that she be fingerprinted and footprinted for her baby book.

While this was being done, Kelly suggested that she be charged with something, so the summons could be posted in her baby book. Police obliged and charged her with crying in the police station.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Radio Belgrade said tonight seven Yugoslav journalists would leave July 13 for a two-week visit to the Soviet Union.

Negro Is Appointed to High N.Y. Court

Judge Harold A. Stevens of Manhattan's General Sessions (Criminal) Court is believed to be the first of his race to serve on the Supreme Court. He fills a vacancy caused by death. The post pays $28,000 a year.

Stevens, 48, is a Democrat and a former assemblyman. He will serve until Dec. 31, 1955.

Stevens was born in John's Island S.C. He is a governor of the Guild of Catholic Lawyers.

General Motors Smashes Previous All Time High

Proof of this lies in the recent announcement that GM had produced 377,183 passenger cars and trucks in the United States and Canada during June as compared with 311,559 during June 1954.

Not only did they top last June's record but production for the year to date was 2,458,646 cars and trucks, highest in the history of the corporation.

This achievement is of vital interest to the great majority of area residents since their business is either with or allied to the General Motors factories in this area.

Pontiac in particular should be proud with three great GM plants to take part in this outstanding production record. Pontiac Motor, General Motors Truck and Coach and Fisher Body all played a vital part and all three did an outstanding job.

In records such as this credit must be twofold with management and labor sharing equally. High production and man power must work together for a common cause and this achievement proves beyond doubt that cooperation has put together a top-notch team.

The Pontiac Press and the citizens in this area have pride in this great General Motors team.

We salute workers and management.

A Well Deserved Rest

A real veteran from the local athletic scene is hanging up his shoes for the last time in the announced retirement of Ernie Watson from the Pontiac School system.

Mr. Watson was better known as "Ernie" to his host of acquaintances among both students and grownups. No problem was ever too small for a consultation with Ernie as a coach or teacher. His advice was sound and many times helped someone over a rough road.

Ernie's career started at Pontiac High School where he was a standout athlete in his own right. He lettered in all major sports. At Olivet College aside from being a letter man he had time to work as a student coach.

After college army service called and Ernie spent two years in the 2nd Marine Division in the first World War.

After service Watson's athletic career continued with head coaching jobs at Newberry and Owosso High Schools. After this a long and fruitful period started in Pontiac were Mr. Watson spent 27 years as athletic director and teacher in physical education and social studies at Washington Junior High.

Many years the Washington Junior High teams were standouts and Ernie can be proud of the outstanding athletes that left his tutelage and went on to greater heights.

The Press wishes Mr. and Mrs. Watson many, many years of enjoyment in California where they will move to shortly.

Seeing in the Dark

Not only is this possible on the darkest night, but the Army is having great success in training soldiers to develop maximum night vision.

For a long time the keen night vision of Japanese soldiers was thought to have been inherited. Ultimately, however, our military authorities learned that it was the result of special training. Basic principles learned from those soldiers now are being taught at our Army's Munich base.

Among other things it was discovered the human eye has two kinds of vision, one for daylight and one for darkness. In clear light the lens of the eye focuses images on its back wall making objects easily identifiable. In darkness, however, the light is diffused and details are scattered.

Under such conditions one should not look directly at an object, but 10 degrees to one side or the other. Then the scattered images make an identifiable pattern. This makes "scanning" necessary — moving the eye back and forth across the object, never focusing on one spot for more than three seconds.

Using this technic 80 per cent of a given group can see an object at 125 yards and recognize it at 50 yards. The lowest 10 per cent can see indistinctly at 95 yards and may not be able to recognize an object until they are within 10 yards of it.

It is reasonable to believe that this optical training will prove its value in the greatly increased efficiency of our soldiers in night time operations.

David Lawrence Says:

Superfriendly Red Front Traced to Material Pinch

WASHINGTON — Slowly but surely the real reasons for the Soviet's desire for a conference "at the summit" and the motives for the superfriendly expressions by Khrushchev at the American embassy in Moscow are beginning to emerge. They are to be found in a lengthy report to Congress just submitted by Harold Stassen as director of the Foreign Operations Administration. It tells the story of Soviet distress on the economic front.

* * *

Without strong industrial power, military armament today is difficult to produce. Hence, Soviet Russia knows she will lag behind in the armament race unless she can solve her difficulties in getting raw materials and machinery from the West.

Without a steady improvement in the standard of living, particularly in food distribution, Soviet Russia faces trouble internally and inside the satellite states.

Soviet Russia can turn for relief only to the Western countries. Moscow is willing to name political concessions in exchange for economic concessions.

CONTROLS HURT

What the Stassen report reveals is that the Soviet bloc is being hurt by "transaction controls" and "transit controls." The first of these was imposed by the West to prevent evasions of export controls "by prohibiting sales of embargoed goods to the Soviet bloc by residents of free-world countries regardless of the source of the goods." The second set of controls was designed "to prevent the diversion to the Soviet bloc of embargoed items ostensibly bound from one free-world country to another." The Foreign Operations Administration says:

* * *

"With these cooperative measures, the free-world governments are now in a better position to combat illicit trade than they were six months previously."

Despite, therefore, some loosening up and broadening of definitions of strategic items which was criticized last year, the net result, in the opinion of the Foreign Operations Administration, has been to put a crimp in Soviet efforts to get heavy goods and materials.

"As of this writing," says the report, "no spectacular expansion of East-West trade has taken place since August 1954 when the free-world commodity lists were revised."

ECONOMY LOPSIDED

The fact is the Soviet economy is lopsided. It cannot provide the export articles to pay for the stuff imported. It's the same old exchange problem that other countries have faced, but it's a tougher proposition for the Soviets because of the embargoes placed by the West on trade with the Soviet bloc, including Red China.

* * *

The embargo policy is beginning to pay off. It is pinching the Soviets. This is important news to the free world, especially those on the pacifist side who continually argue that the only alternative to appeasement is preventive war. They do not realize that a third course is in actual operation today to prevent the outbreak of war. It is the inflexible decision of the Allies to keep strategic materials and machinery from getting into the hands of the Soviet bloc.

If Soviet Russia had a free government—and only free governments can be trusted today—there would be no question about allowing trade of all kinds to be carried on with the peoples of the Soviet bloc. The trade weapon has become almost as important a deterrent of war as military armament.

To Russia's weakness in the manufacture of capital goods must be added the salient facts now emerging about the agricultural difficulties of the Soviet and her satellites. The need to import grain is a glaring example of the breakdown of the Soviet agricultural economy. There is a big "breadbasket" behind the Iron Curtain but communism has failed to develop it, and in that direction lies potential trouble on the political side and possible revolt, as the Hungarian food riots just reported may indicate.

ASIA PROPAGANDA

Meanwhile, the Soviets are trying to conduct a propaganda drive in Asian countries to give the impression they can help them out with economic aid. The Stassen report debunks those claims.

Everything now would seem to point to the dire necessity of a change of policy by the present rules in the Kremlin. They face an internal as well as an external crisis. They need time for re-construction — economic, military and political. There is only one way to get it—by conciliatory talk. There is only one place to seek it—in conferences with the heads of the Western governments.

The Soviets will probably make some startling proposals at Geneva—for they need goods, and they will do almost anything to get machinery and materials. It's a time for wariness on the part of the free world. For it will be recalled that Hitler was allowed to import war materials from Allied countries up to almost the beginning of World War II, just as militaristic Japan bought her raw materials in America in preparation for her subsequent attack on the United States. Economic policy has become in modern times as significant a part of national defense as military weapons themselves.

'Hopeful' Says Hornless Autos Would Cut Fatal Wrecks by Forcing Complete Control

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature

A possible solution to the problem would be to eliminate horns on cars. I feel if Michigan would give it a fair trial it would cut fatal accidents greatly.

Drivers would have to be 100 per cent in control of their own cars at all times. In other words, they would have to step on the brake of their own car, instead of waiting for the other fellow to do the same.

'Why Give Police Credit for Action of Workers?'

This letter pertains to the recent theft of some tires by two GMTC employes. The praise stated in the article belongs to the men driving new trucks around the yard. They gave the license number to plant protection.

Chief Johns in turn handed it over to Pontiac detectives. Why do Pontiac's brave police get the credit for what the little working man does to curb unlawful activities?

I think the working man is a tool for political recognition.

Private Power Suppliers Now Regarded Favorably

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

The Hoover Commission task force on water resources and power, headed by Adm. Ben Moreell, chairman of Jones & Laughlin Corporation, challenges F.D.R.'s concept that public power would provide a yardstick for measuring the efficiency of investor-owned, tax-paying private utilities.

* * *

Like earlier audits of the Tennessee Valley Authority by the General Accounting Office of the United States, the citizen group alluded to costs of public power that have been hidden.

The general conclusion was that at a time when the federal budget is still unbalanced and when states and localities are sorely pressed to get sufficient revenues, it is untenable to provide electric current below true cost to private users. The task force estimated that overall the federal power rates were 40 per cent under the actual worth of the power.

President Eisenhower, in setting forth in 1953 the pattern of a partnership between public and private power, made it clear that one avenue toward a balanced budget lies in encouraging the states, the localities, and private enterprise to relieve the federal government by taking over those activities which they are able and willing to perform.

RECOMMENDS BAN

In this same ideological spirit, the majority of the task force recommended that there be a ban on new generating projects, where state, municipal or private money was available to do the job.

* * *

This policy is sharply antithetical to New Deal and Fair Deal ideology, and bears on the larger public question as to whether there are differences in the credo of the Eisenhower administration and the opposition party. Some cynically assert that both parties are as alike as Tweedledum and Tweedledee.

Members of the administration, in pointing to other differences, stress President Eisenhower's desire to let the forces of the market operate without unnecessary intervention in the form of federal "pump priming."

In the power field, executives of private companies have felt that they have been operating in a more favorable climate since the President launched his partnership concept in 1953.

* * *

SOURCE OF TROUBLE

In spite of the changing public attitudes toward private power, the Dixon-Yates incident has been a source of trouble. Some knowledgeable proponents of private power think that the administration originally made a tactical error in this transaction.

* * *

The Atomic Energy Commission contracted with the TVA for current, and the Dixon-Yates private plant was to be constructed in Arkansas near Memphis, Tenn., to return to the TVA system the power diverted to atomic energy.

Some observers feel that the opposition to private power would have less to yelp about if the Atomic Energy Commission had made a contract directly with the proposed Dixon-Yates plant as a direct supplier of energy to it, thus circumventing the TVA system.

Now the President has ordered a new look at the whole matter, since the city of Memphis proposed to build its own municipal plant to provide the needed energy.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Overweight Smoker Puts On 12 Pounds in Month When He Gives Up Cigarettes

Homer's case should strike the interest of millions of you readers, for he has several critical problems. He had smoked too much and was too fat. And his wife regarded him as a platonic husband, genial but not very affectionate. If you have these problems, read carefully. Send this Case Record to your pals who are in the same boat.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-375: Homer K., aged 47, is 5' 10" tall but weighs 215.

"Dr. Crane, I have a lot of problems," he said with a wide grin.

* * *

"My physician says my blood pressure is now 184 over 90, so he ordered me to quit smoking and to lose weight.

"Well, I quit cigarettes a month ago. But my weight has jumped 12 pounds in that same month.

"Most of my friends tell me they get fat when they stop smoking, so which is better — to smoke and be thinner, or not smoke and be fat?

* * *

"But my secret worry, is the fact I am now a platonic husband. "Shouldn't a man of my age still be able to function as a normal husband?"

MEDICAL FACTS

In general, I'd reply that a fat non-smoker is medically safer than a smoker of medium height.

* * *

But you can stop smoking without becoming fat, so it isn't one of those "either-or" dilemmas.

Homer told me when he graduated from college at the age of 21, he weighed 165 lbs. and was quite athletic.

Well, 175 pounds should be his maximum weight even now, which means he is 40 pounds too heavy.

HEART ENDANGERED

Cigarettes seem to endanger the heart and raise blood pressure, but fat alone can likewise raise blood pressure.

* * *

For your body must sprout three miles of additional blood vessels for every 5 pounds of extra fat.

Homer thus has 24 miles of needless blood vessels through which his heart must pump his blood at every beat.

Obviously, it takes more pressure to handle that many miles of new pipes, so to speak, as any engineer can tell you, which is why obesity by itself will zoom blood pressure somewhat.

* * *

"Homer, if you diet down to 175 lbs., I'll predict your blood pressure will drop to 160 points or less," I suggested.

KEEP OCCUPIED

"And if you'll chew gum or carry a key ring or some other gadget with which to keep your fingers preoccupied, you'll not miss your cigarettes as much, nor will you be as inclined to guzzle more calories.

For part of our tendency to eat is just to kill time or be doing something. It is a nervous outlet, as is smoking.

Substitute some other outlet by which we can get rid of energy,

HOMER'S RESULTS

Well, Homer went on a diet. And all of you dieters should remember there is no surplus storage of protein in the body, although you have plenty of sugar and fat available.

* * *

So you should eat at least 400 to 600 calories worth of protein foods daily when you diet, to keep your muscles from shrinking due to lack of protein replacement.

Homer did this. He followed the diet booklet mentioned below, and lost 10 pounds the first 10 days.

Part of that was water loss, but the change in his waistline was a tonic to his morale. Then he lost 2 lbs. per week for the next few months.

Sure enough, his weight finally got down to 172 lbs. And his blood pressure then was only 155 over 86, showing what a loss of fat alone will often do.

* * *

Besides, he felt far more athletic and spry. And he looked 10 years younger with his streamlined chassis.

As for his secret worry about platonic love life, see tomorrow's follow-up.

Send for my booklet "How to Lose 10 Lbs. in 10 Days," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Night Cramps May Mean Lack of Ca and D in Diet

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

It is contrary to my Hippocratic principles—Do Good If You Can But Do No Harm, said the Father of Medicine, in effect—to tell you poor souls the symptoms of old familiar diseases or dreadful new diseases. It seems to me you have enough to worry about just trying to keep well without going daft about it.

But after careful consideration, I have decided that it may do much good and it can't do much harm to tell you how to diagnose and treat it yourself. I'm the more inclined to do so because I believe that in most instances the individual with tetany doesn't consult a physician about it, unless just casually when he happens to seek medical attention for some more obvious illness or injury.

Essentially the characteristic symptom of tetany is muscle spasm or cramp in foot or leg, arm or wrist, sometimes in other places. In mature adults the cramp occurs usually in the middle of the night and I have been told it is pretty painful.

From descriptions of tetany in standard medical textbooks, old and new, it is evident that the medical authorities regard tetany as a disease of infancy. They're wrong, I believe. Tetany is far more prevalent among mature adults than in infants or children. The difference is that the doctors see the infants with tetany, but adults are more likely to omit reference to it when or if they do see a doctor.

Reviewing what medical authorities have said in their textbooks in the past half century one gets the impression that each succeeding author copies, with trifling alterations what his predecessor said about tetany, and the predecessor likewise drew on his predecessor for material.

* * *

Thus it takes much persevering research to trace "established" medical concepts and discover whether they are purely fanciful or perhaps based on inferences from faulty observation. For example, malaria from damp night air (mal means bad, -aria means air); but maybe we can tell the truth about this in another generation.

One medical authority of yester year said: "The nature of tetany is unknown."

In the opinion of the conductor of this column, who, as everybody knows, is no authority about anything except maybe shell briars and bowling greens, the cause of tetany is Ca and D deficiency; and the prevention, relief or cure of the trouble, in an infant, growing child or mature adult, is simply an optimal daily ration of calcium and vitamin D.

If this isn't quite clear, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask in writing, signed, for the pamphlet Growing Pains and Adult Tetany.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

U.S. Steeplejack Felled by Auto on London Street

NEWCASTLE, England (AP)—"For many years I have been a steeplejack in the United States," said Patrick Rafferty of Catonsville, Md.

"Never had an accident, and then I have to come to England and get bumped down by a car in the street."

He is in a hospital with head injuries, but physicians said his condition is not critical.

"I wonder if this experience will make me afraid of heights," Rafferty mused.

Doctors advised him to cancel the rest of a European vacation. He will return to the United States by plane. His wife and three young sons will follow by ship.

Housewife Comes Back to Find Stove Gone

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Mrs. J. C. Simpson put supper in the oven, then left the house to meet her husband who had been working. When she got home supper and the stove were gone.

County Police Capt. O. F. Gunn reported Buck Simpson, no kin to Mrs. Simpson, was being held for investigation. The officer said he arrested Simpson after seeing him with an oil stove tied to his auto. Gunn said cornbread was still in the oven.

Pheasant Tough Bird, Startled Family Finds

SCHUYLER, Neb. (UP)—Pheasants long have been regarded as rugged birds, but the Roy Nelson family learned the hard way just how tough the birds are.

As the family prepared for bed one night last week, a tremendous crash was heard in the dining room. Investigating, the Nelsons found a pheasant had smashed through a storm sash and regular window. The bird was stretched out on the floor amid a batch of broken glass.

Thinking the bird was dead, Nelson picked it up and found it wasn't even cut. Taken outside, the bird scurried off into the brush.

'Threw Nothing Away'

Millionaire's Vast Horde of Belongings Being Sold

WEST POINT, Miss. (AP) — The auctioneer's chant rose yesterday over the belongings of an eccentric millionaire who couldn't bear to throw anything away.

It was estimated that valuable items culled from the vast accumulation or personal effects and household goods are worth $100,000.

Solon Clifton Rose, a recluse for years, died of a stroke last Feb. 21 after a vain struggle with a plumbing job he could have had done for $5. He was 62.

Dump trucks and wagons hauled away tons of yellowing papers letters and photographs stored in eight buildings on the Rose homeplace.

* * *

Items included a 1923 Cadillac, silver, china, crystal, paintings, furniture, linens, books, vases, lamps and thousands of miscellaneous things collected over the years.

The heirs are Mrs. Rose Woodward and Mrs. Elizabeth Owings, both of Pulaski, Tenn.; Meredith Plautt of Nashville, Tenn.; J. H. Flautt Sr., of Mentone, Ala., and Stacy Rose of Detroit.

Lear, Inc., Given Autopilot Contract

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Lear, Inc., Grand Rapids Division, has announced receipt of a contract to produce auto-pilots for the Air Force's first jet tanker-transport.

The announcement was made by A. F. Haiduck, executive vice president in charge of all Lear production.

He said the initial follow-on contract, expected to amount to several million dollars, was awarded for both prototype and production units. Delivery of the equipment is scheduled through 1957.

Haiduck said the autopilots are designated for the Boeing KC135, a 550-mile-an-hour jet aircraft planned for use as an airborne fuel tanker.

Death Has 3 Lives

by Brett Halliday

Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Lucy Hamilton, pretty secretary of private detective Michael Shayne, believes one of two murdered women may be an old friend, the sister of a man murdered in her apartment earlier. While Shayne is trying to trap the killer, Lucy decides to go to the morgue to see if she can identify the girl.

XX

Lucy went to the telephone and called police headquarters, explained what she wanted to know to the first voice that answered, and was switched to two other gruffly official voices before a member of the Harbor Squad supplied the information:

"Yes, ma'm. She'll be at the morgue pending identification or maybe an autopsy. You think you maybe know . . ."

"I'm not sure. It might be . . . my sister Maggie I just don't know. I'm scared to death to go down there, but . . ."

"Nothing to be afraid of, Miss. It's your duty to go down and check." She listened silently while he gave her explicit directions as to the procedure so late at night, and thanked him for his courtesy after a time and hung up.

She had been told there would be an attendant on duty to assist her, and she stood hesitantly just inside the door, her heart beating rapidly and possessed by an intense desire to turn and flee from the place before anyone came to show her the body she feared might be Arlene.

A door in the rear opened as she stood there, and a heavily-built man wearing a gray suit and a gray felt hat emerged and strode toward her.

He didn't fit her idea of a morgue attendant, and she stepped aside from in front of the door, looking past him to see a small bald-headed man in shirtsleeves follow him through the door and turn to close it.

She took one step forward just as the man in gray reached her side. He stopped to stare at her in surprise, and exclaimed loudly, "I didn't know you were coming down too, my dear. It isn't Helen, thank God!"

CATCHES ARM

He caught her arm and swung her about toward the door before Lucy could collect her wits and disclaim knowing him. Her bulky body was between her and the attendant and he shouldered the door open while clamping a big hand tightly over her mouth and pushing her through it in front of him.

Crazed with fright, Lucy struggled and kicked to free herself, making gurgling sounds behind his tight palm, but they were going down the steps now and there was no one to observe what was happening.

A black, two-door sedan was parked at the curb, and he held her tightly with one arm about her neck and the hand still over her mouth as he jerked the door open and pulled the seat back.

Twisted upward as she was while still fighting to free herself, Lucy had her first clear look at his face. It seemed familiar, and the truth came to her with sickening force.

It was the man who had been in the gray sedan on the Causeway when she had tossed Michael Shayne's makeshift bomb into the front seat.

A loud gong sounded inside her head.

Lucy Hamilton swung back fuzzily to consciousness some time later. She had no idea where she was at first, or how she had got there. She was constricted in a narrow space, and in a moment or so she realized she must be on the floor of the back seat of a moving car.

Then, suddenly, she remembered everything.

Her head ached intolerably as she shifted position, reached out hands on either side to affirm her guess that she was on the floor in the back of a moving car.

NOT BOUND

She wasn't bound in any way. She had just been dumped in the back, unconscious, and he had driven away from the morgue with her.

He must have recognized her there at once, she thought. He had gotten a good look at her on the Causeway in the moonlight without any hat to hide her features.

Why had he grabbed her and rushed her out the door of the morgue before she could protest? Did he realize she was an old friend of Arlene Bristow's and that was why she had come? Was the dead woman Arlene, and did he have some reason for wishing her to remain unidentified?

Other women in a similar position, she recalled, had been known to take off a shoe and knock a man out by socking him on the head with the heel of it. But she hadn't changed since her walk on the Causeway, and she was wearing the same sensible, rubber-heeled walking shoes she had selected for that jaunt.

The car was slowing more and more, and she strained her eyes to read the street names on corner posts as they slid past intersections

The only thing she could read was Biscayne Blvd. on two successive corner signs as they passed. So, they were on the Boulevard traveling northward.

She was certain, now, that he was braking for a turn. She sat very tense on the floor with her head just below the level of the seat in front of her, straining her eyes out the window to catch the next street sign.

Staltair Street! It was completely unfamiliar to her. She hadn't the faintest idea where it was except she knew it must be near the northern limits of the city and right angles to the Boulevard.

Nab Farmer Dumping Melon on Town Square

W. Carl Wester, 59, claimed Tyler stores were selling Arizona melons and "I can't get 2 cents for mine." He began dumping his in protest.

Arresting officers bought two bushels at $1 a bushel. But Wester must appear in City Court on charges of disturbing the peace.

Turncoat GIs' Reception Will Be Formally 'Cool'

HONG KONG (UP)—U.S. officials are arranging a coldly correct reception for three American turncoat prisoners of war due to cross into Hong Kong Saturday from Red China.

The Communist Chinese Red Cross informed the Indian Red Cross in New Delhi yesterday of the July 9 arrival date for the three Korean War veterans who stayed with the Communists after the 1953 armistice, then recently changed their minds.

* * *

The men are Lewis W. Griggs, of Jacksonville, Tex.; Otho Bell, of Olympia, Wash.; and William A. Cowart, of Dalton, Ga. Cowart originally asked to be sent to Japan but recent reports from Peiping have said he now prefers returning to the United States.

NO ACTION YET

The U.S. Defense and Justice departments so far have not said what action would be taken against the men. The departments' last word, in a joint statement last month, was that any American prisoner electing to stay in Red China would be held accountable "for any wrongful act he may have committed."

The Indian Red Cross asked the British Red Cross to meet the trio when they reached the border by train from Canton.

* * *

The State Department already has announced they will receive passports valid only for return to the United States. A department spokesman in Washington said yesterday their transportation would be arranged for them if they have no money, but like any other stranded Americans they will have to sign notes for funds advanced to them

CAUSE TROUBLE

The Indian Red Cross announcement made no mention of the two Belgian POWs, Roger Devriendt and Louis Verdyk, who also are slated to leave Red China. Last Friday Peiping radio reported that all five turncoats had gotten drunk in the Red Chinese capital, disturbed the peace, reviled police and manhandled other persons. The broadcast said Bell and Verdyk were arrested.

Griggs, Bell and Cowart were among 21 American POWs who chose to stay with the Communists. Two later came home and are now serving prison terms. Peiping announced recently that another of the men had died.

* * *

Bell's wife said at her home in Olympia, Wash., yesterday that her biggest concern is: "Will he be tried by a military or a civilian court." She said she believed her husband would receive more equitable treatment from a civilian court.

At her home in Jacksonville, Tex., Griggs' mother said yesterday: "I trust in the Lord that justice will be done in my son's case."

Flaxseed Prospect

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)—Farmers in the United States have indicated they will plant 5,743 acres to flaxseed in 1955, according to Archer-Daniels-Midland Co. In 1954, the acreage totaled 5,959. Most of the flaxseed is produced in the Dakotas and Minnesota. North Dakota plans to plant 63 per cent of the nation's total 1955 intended acreage.

New Law Hailed by Summerfield

Says Postal Measure Adjusts Bad Features of Previous Rule

WASHINGTON (UP) — Postmaster General Summerfield says the new postal pay law put into effect last month ends a salary "monstrosity."

* * *

Under the old law, Summerfield said, the post office had 300 different pay steps which often resulted in injustices and prevented the department from "paying employes what they are worth."

For example, Summerfield has explained, postmasters who reduced payrolls and who made other economies were penalized by pay reductions because their salaries were based on the number of employes supervised.

The new measure also takes into account efficiency, volume of mail and receipts as a basis for establishing permanent salaries of postmasters, except in the case of 4th class postmasters. Pay in the latter case remains based on receipts only.

The law provides, however, that no postmaster in the first three grades shall suffer a salary reduction.

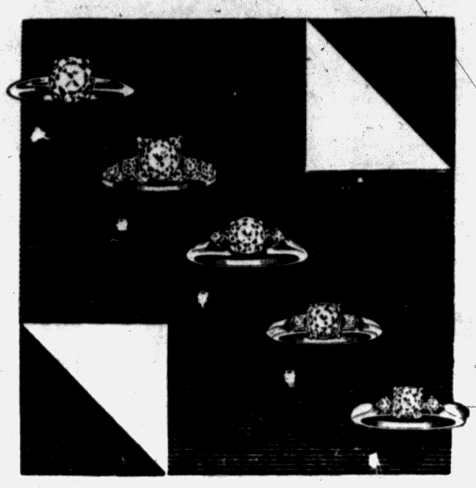

Postmasters and all other postal employes receiving a flat 6 per cent wage increase under the bill. Another 2 per cent may be added under the department's new classification plan.

* * *

The employes are to be classified according to type of work done, and pay ranges are reduced under the new act from 92 to 20. Provision is made for seven automatic annual pay increases in the bulk of the pay ranges until an employe reaches the maximum for his classification.

188-hp Buick SPECIAL 6-Passenger, 4-Door RIVIERA, Model 43

This 4-Door Beauty is the Newest Hit in Hardtops

You certainly ought to come see why this new kind of hardtop is headed for the best-seller list.

It's a Buick Riviera, of course.

Which means the low and rakish look of a Convertible – a solid steel roof overhead – and no center posts in the side window areas to obstruct your view.

But that's only the beginning.

Here you get two extra doors. They open to the rear compartment. So no one in the front has to move when someone gets into or out of the rear.

Here, too, you get wholly new structural principles in body design and strength that give this beauty the extra safety of rock-firm solidity at the top, sides and bottom.

And here – bless those Buick engineers!—you get a lot more room in the rear compartment. For the 4-Door Riviera gives you over 9 inches more hiproom and 5 inches more legroom—yet with no increase in wheelbase or over-all car length.

So we repeat—you certainly ought to come in and see this stunning new kind of hardtop.

It's the last word in beauty, comfort, convenience. It's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series – the SPECIAL and the CENTURY. And it's all Buick – power, ride, handling –and the spectacular performance of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

Drop in today – tomorrow at the latest – and learn what Buick's all-time record sales year can mean to you in the way of a whopping-big trade-in deal.

Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.*

The Chances of Divorce Are Greater When Women Marry in 'Later' Years

WASHINGTON (INS) — The average length of marriage in the United States was estimated today at 13.4 years.

The estimate was given in a special study made by the Census Bureau on data from the 1950 population census.

Of approximately 27 and a half million married women between the ages of 15 and 59 who were still with their first husbands, the study showed, nearly 5,800,000 had been married 25 years or more.

By comparison, the Census Bureau said, there were 4,400,000 women in the same age bracket who had been married two or more times and who were still living with their husbands. Their current marriage had already lasted an average of 8.2 years.

The report showed 1,155,000 women between 15 and 59 years old were listed as divorced in the 1950 census.

Of the divorcees, about 226,000 had been married more than once.

MILLION DISSATISFIED

Another million women, the study said, were separated from their husbands and, of these, about 214,000 had been married more than once.

On the average, divorced women who had not remarried reported that they had been divorced for about 4.6 years. Women separated from their husbands reported an average duration of separation of 4.1 years.

The census study did not establish figures on the number of former divorcees who had remarried.

Of the 31,880,730 women married and living with their husbands, the report showed, 13.8 per cent have been married more than once.

Among urban women, the percentage who have married more than once is 14.2 per cent—while for rural women, the percentage is 11.7. The average age at the time of marriage of all women was given as 21.7 years old.

The average wedding age for those married only once was 20.1 years old.

For women married more than once, the average age at marriage was listed as 29.1 years old.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Deputy Clerk Ben Duiven reports that June was the busiest month in the history of Grand Rapids Police Court. He said a record of $14,166 was collected in fines and court costs for 766 cases processed.

Duiven reported Judge Edward G. Burleson has heard 3,937 cases in the first six months of 1955.

Old Friend Gets Bad Reputation

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me how I can break off a friendship with a young woman with whom I would rather not be friends any longer? I have known the person in question quite a few years — in fact we went to school together and have been quite friendly, but she has of late acquired a very bad reputation, and I feel that continued friendship with this girl will tend to give me a bad reputation, too.

"I would be very grateful if you could tell me how to end this friendship without hurting her too much?"

Answer: You might take up some new interest or study and work so hard at it that you rarely can find time to do things with her.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is proper to put a reply date under the R.S.V.P. on an invitation: For example: R.S.V.P. before . . . .

"I have to let the caterers know by a certain date how many guests to prepare for, and if I don't do this I'm afraid many of the guests will not answer in time."

Answer: To put a date under the R.S.V.P. would be in very bad taste. The best thing for you to do is to send your invitations out early enough so that all can answer in time, and you can phone the few who don't.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is considered rude to write a letter to someone in pencil? A friend and I were discussing this the other day and, as neither one of us could agree on the right answer, we are writing to ask you to settle it."

Answer: A pencil written lettter is excusable only if you have no pen, and you should explain this in your letter.

Plates Gold Trimmed

Gold trimmed plates, if you're lucky enough to have them, take somewhat special washing treatment. They shouldn't be scraped with a metal knife. They should be washed in a mild soap. Borders should be cleaned with a toothbrush dipped in bicarbonate of soda.

IF smart year 'round cover-up—

More and more the heat of summer days and evenings is being alleviated by air conditioning—in theatres, restaurants and in homes. The stole answers the need to cover up thin, bare fashions and when the stole is fur, it is luxurious.

Don't Let Home Beau Ruin Holiday

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

It's grim to sit on the beach with your family while you watch in the water. It's tough to hear vacationing boys and girls cavort the girls all talking about going to the dance while you clam up because you haven't a date.

* * *

Hugging the sidelines when everybody your age is in there having a terrific time is no way to spend your vacation. When your only excuse is the fact of a steady beau you left behind you at home.

Yet, many of you consider new boys off-limits because of your loyalty to a trusty-true. You are afraid of partying, playing around, partnering up with a vacation acquaintance. It wouldn't be fair, you think. So your holiday away is a dud.

Here's a girl who is very skeptical of her vacation prospects. I suspect she'd rather stay home. And all because of her steady beau, who's going to spoil the fun though he's far away. She writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: Two years ago on my summer vacation I met a very attractive fellow and we've been corresponding with each other ever since.

"A year and a half ago I started going steady with the most wonderful guy. And therein is my problem.

"We're going back to the same place for our vacation and my friend writes that he'll be there at the same time and thinks we should date every night.

"Should I two-time my boy friend by going with this fellow, or should I remain true to my steady?"

Answer: Your two lads know nothing about each other, I suspect. Were you to announce to your steady beau that there was another boy eagerly awaiting your arrival at this vacation place, he'd have a fit.

Were you to write to your friend and tell him things are different now because of your home-dating arrangements, he'd be mightily disappointed. So, don't say anything to either of them. Just talk cold turkey to yourself.

Tell yourself that your memories of your friend are pleasant enough but you've both changed in two years and may not like each other too much on reunion. Tell yourself that your friend is staking an early claim to you because he wants to be sure of having a good time with someone he's sure of.

Tell yourself also that you needn't get yourself too involved with him—but you can have casual vacation fun with him. He can help you get around right off the bat so that you have no lonesome sidelines sitting.

* * *

He can help you meet other people. With other friends, you needn't be with him too much alone. So romance won't make things complicated.

When you're in the swing of things, you'll find other things to do with other people. He'll become part of the crowd and not the hero of the plot. He'll make time-off from steady-going pleasant—without disrupting your emotional balance.

Many Enjoying 'Vacation Fun'

The YWCA on Franklin boulevard is the scene of much activity. Under the guidance of Jane Mallory, teenage director, the "Vacation Fun" program will be enjoyed throughout the month of July.

A surprise trip or special feature is planned for each week with a trip to the zoo next on the agenda.

Assisting in the activities are Lois Moore of Birmingham and Irene Comps and Betty Comps.

There are still a few vacancies in some of the groups which are open to any girl from 10 to 14 years of age. The YWCA is a Red Feather Agency.

The big beach cloche of straw serves the same purpose as a hood or a towel: it provides cover-up. Made of lightweight straw in brilliant colors.

Turquoise Tint in Vogue

PARIS (INS)—The latest Paris fashion fad is to wear something with a turquoise tint.

* * *

With turquoise jewelry, turquoise colored accessories, sweaters and entire dresses or suits, this new shade is suitable for blondes or brunettes and goes perfectly with a suntan.

Dior, Patou, Chanel, De Givenchy all sponsor the turquoise shade, and turquoise colored costume jewelry is most popular with chic Parisiennes. Turquoise beads mixed with pearls, or turquoise clips circled in rhinestones look elegant with practically any clothes.

White, gray or black clothes are equally smart with turquoise colored accessories. Roger Model has designed a briefcase-shaped handbag and matching gloves, made of fine suede leather with a turquoise and white printed pattern.

Woolen gloves can be kept from shrinking when they're drying if a clothespin is put in each finger. They also dry more rapidly this way.

MADAM YOUR FEET

Hot humid days of July make the pedicure a necessity. The procedure is simple and a little practice will make you quite adept.

Get a comfortable position with both back and foot braced firmly.

Remove old polish. File nails with emery board, straight across. Never file or cut into corners. Buff nails with powder or paste. Soak foot in warm soapy water for 5 minutes. Apply oil to cuticle. Never use remover. Push cuticle back gently with orangewood stick. Don't use metal pusher. Now scrub toes thoroughly to remove all traces of nail cream and dry carefully. To separate toes for easy application of enamel use a trick of the Revlon Salon. Roll a sheet of cleansing tissue diagonally and weaves in and out between toes. Apply 2 coats of polish plus topcoat allowing each coat to dry before applying next one.

She Makes Snooping Her Career

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Any man will tell you that when a new family moves into the neighborhood, his wife will find out every single thing about them and their whole history in nothing flat.

* * *

"Isn't that just like a woman!" he will say.

The feminine nose for news, this ability to dig out facts and find what is interesting, is a talent which Elizabeth G. Hayward is putting to good use.

* * *

When a huge corporation has an anniversary, for example their 100th birthday, Miss Hayward is the girl who can dig through the voluminous records which have been kept, sometimes chaotically, through the years and come up with a fascinating story.

Old records, old deeds, of property, interesting mergers, discoveries of new products — she finds the gold in them thar hills, no matter how much digging it takes.

And then, with a feminine instinct for order, she sets up a system which the firm can maintain through the years, so that next time, all the material will be easy to handle and easy to find.

FASCINATING CAREER

It's a fascinating career and one that Miss Hayward fell into just by doin' what comes naturally.

She has always loved history and, from an early age, preferred historical novels to any other kind of reading.

"The facts woven into an interesting story were always much easier to remember," she told me, "than they were in dull, straight history books."

This interest in research took her into library work, where she administered libraries in the fields of law, economics and finance. After that, she prepared a collection of private papers belonging to the late Frederick Winslow Taylor, known as the father of scientific management.

She collected all existing papers and attended the management congress in Belgium. Her collection was presented to the Stevens Institute of Technology; but that was only the beginning for Miss Hayward.

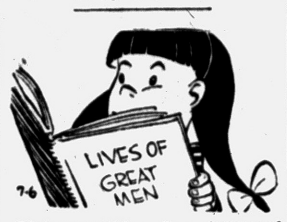

TRAVELS WIDELY

She found that many companies did not even know how fascinating their history was, nor how effective it would be in creating a better understanding among the public and their own customers.

Now she has more work than the average young woman could handle in years; but to Miss Hayward, it's a lot of fun.

Her work has taken her traveling in eight countries. And she claims to have snooped into more warehouses where business records are mouldering than any woman in the world!

(Copyright, 1955)

Living conditions have improved to the point where it's hard for a great man to start with a humble beginning.

Washday Rains Needn't Matter

CHICAGO (UP) — Showers on washday will cause the American housewife less gloom this year.

For about 200,000 housewives, it won't make any difference whether it rains. The clothes will be dried on schedule. For spring sales of dryers will total 200,000.

This prediction comes from the automatic clothes dryer industry, which estimates volume sales will hit the 1,000,000 unit mark for all of 1955.

In the past, sales of automatic clothes dryers have dropped with the coming of ideal weather.

"This won't be the case this year" a spokesman for the industry says. "Housewives now accept the dryer as one of the greatest of all labor-savers, regardless of weather conditions."

Interesting Food Is Easy to Prepare

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

In the course of taking information about a club meeting, we had an interesting conversation with Mrs. LeRoy Small of Cedar Island Lake. She gave us some unusual suggestions for dressing up summer food.

Mrs. Small is a fairly new resident of the lake area, having lived in Detroit for many years. She is an active member of the Dirt Gardeners Club; as such, she likes to do some gardening of her own. She is also a ceramist. She and her husband take on the yearly project of painting their house.

HINTS FOR SUMMER FOOD
By Mrs. LeRoy Small

Years ago, Mrs. Small says, a Swedish hotel manager gave her this tip. Never throw away any pickle or olive juice. Use it to thin mayonnaise, adding a little celery seed.

Cut mint — don't chop it, as it should not be mashed — and add it in this form to iced tea, potato salad or french dressing. We think the latter would be very nice on fruit salad.

Rosemary leaves also make an interesting addition to salads, as do savory or thyme.

Newlyweds Will Reside in Hawaii

Edward Macaulay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Macaulay of Motorway drive, claimed JoAnn Nancy Fortier as his bride in St. Mary Church of Manistee.

* * *

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fortier of Manistee. Two hundred guests attended the ceremony which was performed June 25 at 11 a.m.

* * *

James Peters served as best man, and seating the guests were Harley Fortier of Hollywood, Calif., and William Jacobs of Birmingham. Edward Jacobs of Birmingham was ringbearer.

Whatever Color, One-Piece Suits Stay on Bathers

CYPRESS GARDENS, Fla. (INS)—The bathing beauty who wants to look best on the beach should wear a red, yellow or white bathing suit—but if she goes in the water, it had better be a one-piece lastex suit with halter strap.

That kind of suit, explains Mrs. Pat Whitney, is least likely to embarrass an active mermaid by coming off in the water.

Mrs. Whitney is wardrobe custodian at Cypress Gardens, the Florida tourist spot where those water ski movies are made. The "wardrobe" she tends consist of 1,000 bathing suits, all of which have to stay on when a girl skier loses her skis and goes splash in front of an audience.

Two-piece suits, Mrs. Whitney says, are risky. The top may come off in a spill. And cotton doesn't wear too well in rough water sports.

Whatever the suit style, Mrs. Whitney says red is the best attention-getting color, yellow "tends to flatter most girls," and white looks "good on everybody, with or without a tan."

Apple Candlesticks

Shiny re dapples with holes cut in the cores make handsome candlesticks, if you can't find enough around the house. Pick apples that are flattish on the bottom or cut the bottom flat and put a circle of foil under it.

Will-O-Way Rocks With Laughter

'Man Who Came to Dinner' to Continue for Two Weeks

By JANET ODELL

Will-O-Way audiences laughed last week. They'll be howling for the next two weeks, if Tuesday's opening night was any indication.

* * *

"The Man Who Came to Dinner," first produced in 1939, has become a perennial favorite of American theatergoers. This fast-moving comedy by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart finds an appreciative audience wherever it is played.

Many people have thought for years that the character of Sheridan Whiteside was based on Alexander Wollcott, the famous lecturer, critic and radio personality.

Although Burton Wright cannot approach Mr. Wollcott in size, he does an admirable job of being a disagreeable person.

Self-willed, egotistical, domineering, tactless — he's all this and more. But he has the ability to project a more gentle and humane side of his personality when he has dealings with the two young people in the play. He is not above threatening blackmail to insure their getting their heart's desires.

PLAYS GIRL FRIDAY

Maggie O'Hara turns her usual competent performance as Whiteside's Girl Friday. Playing the role of Maggie Cutler, she is by turns sophisticated, brittle and just a girl in love.

* * *

The cast is enormous, with many familiar faces appearing. Television and radio fans will be pleased to recognize some of their favorite personalities like Sonny Eliot, Kemal Kasem and Michael Keith.

You'll give out with several different kinds of laughter as the play progresses. It will be a nervous, spine-tingling kind whenever the slightly insane Harriet Stanley (Susan Becker) appears. We'd like to see Miss Becker in a "normal" role sometime.

* * *

CATCH IN THE VOICE

You'll laugh with a catch in your voice when the juvenile choir sings a carol in the Christmas Eve scene. The littlest one on the right end is most appealing. The Merrill, Sikorski and Turner families all contributed children to the occasion.

* * *

Patricia Van Doninck turns in a stuhning performance as the sexy Lorraine Sheldon. Good looks and the ability to wear clothes with a flair may not make an actress, but they please the audience. Add dramatic ability to that—the result is Patricia.

With such a large cast, it's impossible to mention each by name. It's sufficient to say they were well chosen, they all do an admirable job, and the whole thing's great fun.

Don't forget—Will-O-Way is air-conditioned; it was the most comfortable place we'd been all day.

Historic Spire Going Up Again

Today Workmen Will Replace the Steeple of Old North Church

BOSTON (INS)—The Old North Church, one of the symbols of American independence, will have its steeple back again, probably today.

Hurricane Carol last September sent the steeple crashing so that only rubble remained. But this was no ordinary steeple. It was the bellfrey of the Old North Church where the lanterns were hung to warn that the British were coming.

"One if by land, two if by sea . . ."

And on April 18, 1775, Paul Revere spotted the glints of light through the blackness, then mounted his horse to spread the alarm through every Middlesex village and farm.

For the Redcoats were advancing by sea to make an attack on the colonists' fortified position on Bunker Hill. Only the Redcoats didn't know the hill had been fortified.

The British won the hill, but at a terrific price. Then they marched to Concord and Lexington where they were soundly defeated at "the rude bridge that arched the flood."

TO RISE AGAIN

So when the steeple toppled, it had hardly settled before plans were launched for its reconstruction. Funds were raised by public subscription, much of the money coming from the pennies of schoolchildren across the nation.

Today, the new spire, weighing almost 4 tons and over 70 feet long, will be lifted to the top of the base, 120 feet above Salem street. Atop the steeple will be the original weathervane, which went on a nationwide tour to help in the fund-raising drive.

The largest crane ever employed in Boston, a 70-ton giant, will do the lifting—weather permitting. In event of rain, or wind over 15 miles per hour, the project will be deferred.

The spire has been at the Somerville Ironworks where it was reassembled and painted. This morning it was loaded on a trailer and towed to the North End section of Boston.

* * *

A special collar fitted around the spire and held fast by the lead-coated shingles will be used to make the steeple lift. The spire will be lifted upright and will be guided into position by workmen handling guide lines.

Originally, it had been planned to employ a helicopter in the task of setting the steeple in place, but this was abandoned because of the congested location.

The work is in the hands of W. A. McLeod Co. of Boston under contract to F. H. McGraw & Co., of Hartford, Conn., which is doing the work as a public service.

MODERN TRANSPORTATION — That's what two antique Fords are compared to the 70-year-old bicycle mounted by Dennis Popelka, in Willoughby, Ohio. Dennis and his father, Frank, at the wheel of a 1919 Model T roadster, restore antiques as a hobby. The car with the "modern" candy stripe paint job is a 1917 touring car.

Doctor, 6 Goats, Dog Are Taxiing for 3,000 Miles

ALEXANDRIA, Ont. (AP) — Dr. Isabella K. A. Macdonald piled her six nanny goats and a dog into a trailer Tuesday and headed for Vancouver—3,000 miles away—by taxi.

A retired physician who has lived here seven years, she pulled up stakes to live with two nieces at Fort Langley, B. C.

Dr. Macdonald's seven goats presented a problem when she decided to sell the farm she bought after immigrating from Scotland in 1948. She solved part of the problem by crating up the billy and shipping him by rail.

But the six nannys need to be milked periodically. So Dr. Macdonald decided to hitch a trailer behind the taxi.

Steve O'Connor and Bruno Lemieux will take turns driving.

Dr. Macdonald will do the milking.

Minnesota Puts Fish Back on Export List

ST. PAUL (UP) — Suckers and fatheads would be allowed to leave Minnesota under a bill approved recently by the Minnesota senate.

The suckers and fatheads are minnows.

Under present law, minnows cannot be exported from Minnesota. Under the new measure, minnow dealers would be licensed to transport certain classes of sucker and fathead minnows out of the state by paying a $100 fee.

Federal School Danger Exists

American Legion Warns Against Increased Aid From Government Funds

CHICAGO (AP)—The commander of the American Legion expressed concern today that the nation's schools may drift into federal control "if we fail to provide an alternative."

Legion Commander Seaborn P. Collins told delegates to the National Education Assn. convention that, although federal control is not the right answer, "something must be done, and done quickly."

"Frankly," said Collins in a prepared address, "I can offer no panacea today. I can only say something must be done, and done quickly, to meet the estimated shortage of approximately 290,000 elementary schoolteachers by 1960."

The NEA currently is supporting a bill pending in Congress which provides for a 400 million dollar per year expenditure of federal funds for four years, to be distributed to the states for school construction.

"You and I know," said the Legion commander, "that the primary responsibility for establishing and maintaining an adequate educational system in America rests with the individual citizen, and with his community and state governments."

"But we also know this," he added. "The future leaders and citizens of America have a right to adequate education. They're going to get this education. If the local communities and the states can't provide the answer, then the pressure for a different approach will continue to build up."

Wrap-Around Rear Window Next Auto Innovation

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

Wrap-around rear windows that can be lowered and raised reportedly are being developed by some of the car makers.

They are understood to be designed primarily for use with soft top convertibles, replacing the present plastic type. They would be electrically operated as are most of the tops of the present-day soft-top convertible cars.

Presumably they would be introduced as optional extra-cost equipment. Some industry experts predict they would stimulate soft-top convertible sales. The soft-tops have lost considerable volume to the increasingly popular postwar hardtops.

The recently introduced four-door hardtops are doing even better in the market places than their sponsors expected. They undoubtedly have cut into the proportion of conventional four-door sedans being built by sme producers.

No manufacturer has suggested they might eventually replace the regulation sedan, but more companies will have them in 1956.

Some new car merchandising authorities say that aside from price concessions eye-appeal has been a major factor in the huge sales volume the retailing division has accounted for so far this year. They add that new car buyers show major concern about delivered price tags but put most of any discount right back into the car in the purchase of extra-cost accessories.

This probably is good for the new car retailers. Percentagewise he makes more profit on the accessories than he does on the basic car.

Some manufacturers' sales chiefs say that next to exterior color combinations and interior finishes, the average new car buyer is most interested in radios and heaters, automatic transmissions, power steering and power brakes and white sidewall tires.

But there are 50 or more other optional items that the dealer may sell to the new car buyer. They range from the two and three tone color combinations to the refrigerating type of air conditioning units.

Of course discounts are being offered on optional equipment items, too.

What is happening in the car market today has happened before. A difference is that the auto market has broadened tremendously in recent years. Price cutting and high trade-in allowances are being made on a wider scale.

It probably is worth noting, however, that in the four or five years immediately following World War II cars were scarce. There was no price cutting. Dealers had long lists of customers awaiting delivery. Some even stipulated you had to have a car to trade in if you wanted to buy a new one. There were profits to be made in used car resales. Certainly everything favored the dealer.

So, if you wanted to argue the point, it could be said that, with the buyer in the driver's seat right now, things are balancing themselves out once more. Most elements favor the buyer. He gets a lot more by trading in his used car than he could if he sold it outright.

The current situation isn't exactly to the liking of the car retailers. Few buyers walk into a dealer's display room and buy a car on the spot. Most of them shop around. Even those who have decided upon the make of car they want play one dealer's offer against that of another handling the same make.

And the delivered price at which a car is offered some times varies as much as a couple of hundred dollars, after considerable "bargaining" on both sides about the tradein car and extra-cost equipment.

Products to Reflect Steel Price Boost

Hikes Planned in Many Lines

Stoves, Railroad Cars Going Higher in Wake of Wage Increase

NEW YORK (AP)—The Wall Street Journal said today that higher steel prices mean higher prices for hundreds of products such as stoves, freight cars and boilers.

A survey by the newspaper showed that most steel consumers will pass along increased prices of that metal. An average boost of $7.50 a ton by United States Steel Corp. following its wage settlement is expected to become the pattern for the industry.

There are some exceptions to the higher-price trend among steel consumers. One big manufacturer of air-conditioning and refrigeration equipment said "the competitive picture probably will not allow increases now."

But more typical are reactions such as those from an official of Tappan Stove Co., Mansfield, Ohio, who said prices would have to be increased.

A source in the rail equipment industry said, "There isn't enough margin in the freight car building business to permit absorbing higher steel prices."

The railroads currently are placing big orders for freight cars. A 50-foot box car, which now costs about $6,000, will have several hundred dollars added to the price.

Westinghouse Electric Corp. said it would increase prices of its appliances but that it would not act until it has worked off present steel inventories which do not reflect higher steel prices.

These stocks were estimated at from four to six weeks' supply.

BEARING THE HEAT — Down, but not out, is this cool customer at the Lincoln Park Zoo, in Chicago. "Icicle," a member of the polar bear colony, has had his fill of life on the surface, and decided to duck it all. The device is recommended for businessmen with lots of towels handy. Not in the same pool, however.

Airman, 18, Drowns

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Airman 2.C. James Bakkum, 18, of Westby, Wis., drowned Tuesday in Silver Lake near Ann Arbor when he fell out of a rowboat. Stationed with the 1816th Army Air Communications System Group at Orlando, Fla., Bakkum had been on detached service at Willow Run Airport.

GI Recalls Yanks' First Battle in Korea

SEOUL (INS)—American soldiers met North Korean troops on the battlefield in Korea for the first time five years ago yesterday as the vanguard of the free world's determination to stop communism's bid for conquest through aggression.

The first U.S. soldiers, rushed to the war wracked peninsula, were green and hopelessly outnumbered. They were buying needed time and were expendable.

A stone monument on a hillside outside the town of Osan marks the spot where "Task Force Smith," a battalion of 500 men, engaged 10 to 1 odds in the first American encounter.

* * *

Master Sgt. Sidney A. Marsh of Daytona Beach, Fla., was there and today is back in Korea for a second tour with the 24th Infantry Division. A division spokesman said Marsh is the only known member of that first gallant battalion still in Korea, and one of a very few who are still alive.

ILL-PREPARED TO FIGHT

Smith's battalion was alerted while on occupation duty in Japan just one day after the Communists attacked in Korea. Five days later, on July 1, after President Truman's historic decision to meet Red aggression with force, the word was flashed and this battalion was airlifted to Pusan and a war they were ill-prepared to fight.

The first battle fought at Osan by this band of soldiers was an unequal fight from the beginning. The North Koreans outnumbered the 500-man battalion with some 4,000 troops spearheaded by 40 Russian-built tanks.

The fight was a rout. The American troops fought hard, but found their anti-tank bazookas could not stop the tough-skinned talks. The battalion was scattered, its men killed or captured.

* * *

Marsh, now serving with an intelligence and reconnaissance company of the 24th Division, related: "When we got to Pusan they put us on a flat car and we rode northward.

"We finally dug in on the south bank of the Ansong River on July 3. Most of the men dug foxholes in the hills surrounding the single road leading from the north. Then we waited."

They had not long to wait. Independence Day passed with little celebrating. Another principle similar to that of the Declaration of Independence was being fought for here.

Then the marching North Koreans came on July 5.

Marsh, a little reluctant to talk about the incidents that day, said the enemy came with tanks first, then pounded the Americans with heavy volleys of artillery and mortar fire.

After the fight became a massacre, Col. Smith ordered a retreat but few heard the order. Marsh said he was lucky enough to make his way to Taejon where Maj. Gen. William Dean, who was later captured, had made his headquarters.

ONE MAN RIOT SQUAD — Temporarily cornered in a Sydney, Australia police station, is "John the Wrecker." Lost, he was sheltered by unsuspecting cops, but in an hour he practically tore the station down. He browsed through confidential files, strewed keys all over the floor, upended waste baskets, chewed up a traffic report, and assaulted a telephone. The police were much happier than John when his mother arrived and claimed him.

White House Not for Coronaries

WASHINGTON (AP)—For a man with presidential ambitions a heart attack is like a letter of withdrawal. A man who has had one may live for years, but not as strenuously, if he wants to continue living.

Although the presidency itself can be one of the most strenuous jobs on earth, just seeking may be even tougher: an exhausting convention, days and nights and the physical nightmare of a campaign lasting for months.

* * *

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the Democrats' Senate leader, who suffered an attack over the weekend, has never said he wanted to be in the White House. But he has been mentioned as a possibility, if not in 1956, then later.

This heart attack just about eliminates the 46-year-old Texan from consideration as a presidential candidate although, when he recovers, he may have a long and useful life as a senator.

DEMANDS HUGE

Even the demands on the endurance of a senator are enormous: working on committees, attending hearings, studying legislation, answering mail, work on the Senate floor, outside speeches, meeting visitors.

A Senate leader's job, such as Johnson's, is an even greater tax on energy and peace of mind. It requires not only responsibility for what the Senate does but riding herd on the whole Senate to get it done.

* * *

Under Johnson's leadership the present Senate has been the smoothest-run in years. That was the result of tireless work by Johnson. The work he did may have brought on his attack.

So it is even questionable that when he returns his doctors will let him resume as Senate leader, preferring he go back to the less demanding roll of senator. His term continues until 1960.

DAMAGE TO DECIDE

Just how much Johnson can do when he returns depends upon how much heart damage he has suffered and how much he's willing to do at the risk of overdoing it.

Uncertainty is the greatest certainty about the life of a man who had an attack and survived: he may never have another; the next one may kill him; or he may last through a series of attacks and die of something else.

* * *

But anyone who has had an attack and seeks the presidency starts under a political handicap: the voters are conscious of the risk in picking him over an opponent who never had his first heart attack.

Scientists Awaiting Einstein Last Word

LONDON (INS)—Scientists are speculating on the contents of the "testament" of Albert Einstein and which Lord Bertrand Russell announced he would publish Saturday.

The statement concerning nuclear weapons sponsored by the scientist just before his death was signed by him and seven other scientists, Lord Russell, philosopher and pacifist, will read it at a news conference.

Speculation centered on the possibility that the statement urges a world-wide ban on nuclear weapons.

Jerry Wooliever, 426 N. Paddock St., recently returned from the Winona School of Photography in Winona, Ind., where he was awarded a certificate of merit.

Demands That U.S. Push Atom Planes

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) is demanding that the U.S. push with full force and imagination the development of atomic-powered planes because of the rapid progress of Russian airpower.

The chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Committee urged also greater speed on the B52 intercontinental jet bomber. He said the program should have "whatever cash effort is needed."

Anderson made his demands in the wake of disclosures that the Soviet Union has flown a surprising four-engine jet transport plane that appears suitable for both military and civilian use.

The new Red aircraft went on parade as members of Congress still were recovering from the shock with which this country learned that the Soviets have flown—in formation—intercontinental jet bombers of the B52 type.

Centenarian Railroader Promised 'A Few Smokes'

"We gave him 50 cigars last year and told him he's get 100 if he'd come to the party this year," said Henry Wendt, president of the local unit of the National Retired and Veteran Railroad Employes Assn.

HA-HA FOR ZSA ZSA — When screen actress Zsa Zsa Gabor recently threw a dinner in Hollywood for the men she considers the film capital's 10 most available bachelors, millionaire businessman Hal Hayes, right, sat next to her, "cutting in" on architect John Lindsay who was dating her for the evening. Lindsay, however, came prepared for the emergency, wielding a nasty-looking toy six-shooter which he used to warn others that for that night, at least, Miss Double-Z was HIS date.

Commie China Must Cope With Lagging 5-Year Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—American officials see a 20 per cent lag in Red China's five-year plan as probably the gravest problem facing the annual people's congress now under way at Peiping.

It means, in the view of specialists here, that this is a make or break year for the Communists in their race to balance China's agriculture with industry by the end of 1957.

The Reds may tailor their goals downward, as they have done before. Even so, officials here say they must take a major stride during the next 12 months alone or concede failure.

A major cause of Peiping's falling behind its self-imposed goals was the terrible toll of last year's floods, the worst in a century. There was also a drought.

China's agricultural economy operates on a very narrow margin in a country where flood and famine are to be expected. Fluctuation by one percentage point affects millions of people.

Peiping has just completed a deal to buy 200,000 tons of rice from Burma. Specialists say that will feed about one million people for one year. China's population is over 463 million.

The bad thing about last year's floods, officials say, was that they struck in areas which normally escape the annual inundation. In their wake they left sand and silt, six inches to three feet deep, in rice paddies of such areas as south China, which normally must import some rice.

Eggs Are Scrambled but Trucker Is Safe

BECKET, Mass. (AP)—Although driver Wallace Danson, 23, of Grand Rapids, Mich., knew his tractor trailer was loaded with 513 crates of eggs, he deliberately caused his truck to turn over on its side.

Police credited Danson's move with saving life and limb—even if it did smash the eggs.

Danson brought the truck over on its side when he discovered his brakes were out of order on a downgrade. The truck skidded 150 feet but Danson was unhurt.

Shaving Injury Creates Living Uncle Sam

The man? Uncle Sam, symbol of America.

Today Davis, a lanky, 76-year-old retired postal worker from Rocky Mount, N. C., has become beyond quibble the nation's leading amateur portrayer of Uncle Sam.

"Some who do it for money may have a more expensive uniform," he said, "but they don't really look like Uncle Sam. Why, some don't even know how to raise their own goatee."

* * *

There is no doubt that Davis, who has white hair, keen blue eyes, and a lean leathery face lined with kindly wrinkles, looks like dear old Uncle Samuel. He looks so exactly like the famous star-spangled gentleman in the recruiting posters that draft-age youths jump nervously when they see him in his uniform. They wonder if he's going to point a finger at them sternly and say "I want you."

"It all began in 1935 when I nicked my chin while shaving with my old straight edge razor," Davis recalled. "Until the cut healed I couldn't shave it, so I grew a goatee."

* * *

An official planning a tobacco festival parade in his home town noticed the goatee and said, "why you look exactly like Uncle Sam? How about being Uncle Sam in the parade."

"If it'll help any, I will," said Davis. "I'll do anything to help anybody."

Friendly neighbors helped fashion his first uniform—his top hat was one his own uncle had "worn during the first Cleveland administration—and Davis was a big hit.

After that no regional parade was complete without him in the role of Uncle Sam. In 1948 he won national attention leading the North Carolina delegation in the Truman inaugural parade in Washington, D. C.

That same year, at 70 he was retired from his postal job on a small pension and was free to fulfill requests to appear in patriotic parades in distant cities. Often he has paid his own expenses, says he never has made a dollar out of being Uncle Sam.

* * *

If there were a real Uncle Sam, he could hardly resent being portrayed by this sturdy old Tarheel. Davis has three daughters, six grandchildren. His wife has been a semi-invalid 14 years. He went broke as a farmer before going into government service, now works his own small farm again.

"I'd be pretty worried if I didn't have that," he said. "It's just something to keep me busy. I wasn't going to let anyone keep me on the shelf. I didn't want to quit work and I didn't intend to.

"My wife is the same way, even though she has arthritis so bad she can't close her hands.

"She's made quite a reputation for herself as a painter. One of her pictures is in the Raleigh Art Gallery: It's a rural painting in spring called 'Kissed by the Gods,' and everything's in bloom.

* * *

"Sometimes when she can't hold a paint brush in her hand she puts it in her mouth, and goes on painting. I don't know how she does it, but she does."

* * *

During a visit here to see a daughter Davis won $300 on Dennis James' CBS-TV, "On Your Account," and the money will go toward his hobby. He has worn out three Uncle Sam uniforms over the years, can still walk 62 blocks in a parade.

Half the kids back home call him granddaddy, and Davis says his biggest thrill as Uncle Sam is "to see the look in the children's eyes."

* * *

Davis, who wears a hearing aid, was left nearly deaf by an illness at the age of 4.

"I've always catered to young folks," he said, softly. "Old folks are going to die. But if you have the young folks around you, you're all right. They won't go away and leave you lonely."

Damage $44 Million in Japanese Flood

SAPPORO, Japan (AP)—The Hokkaido prefectural government today estimated the damages from Hokkaido's worst rainstorm and flood in 10 years at 15 billion yen (about 44 million dollars).

Incomplete figures placed the death toll at 12 dead and 32 missing. Thirty-six people were seriously injured, while 24,000 houses and 53,900 acres of land were inundated.

Teen Boy Cremated in Game Explosion

NORTH SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—War games which erupted into a fiery explosion killed 13-year-old Jimmy Whitley yesterday.

Jimmy's brother Michael, 10, told firemen:

* * *

The boys were playing war games, using a small shed containing gasoline, kerosene, paint thinner and paint as their ammo dump.

* * *

Suddenly there was a fire. Michael thought he kicked over a can of gasoline in scrambling out.

Jimmy was trapped inside.

Peppy Grandma Wants Day to Call Her Own

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — And now, dear friends, it is time to bid farewell to the rock-ribbed, old-fashioned grandmother and — as the sun sinks slowly behind her silver white hair and casts its last rays on her gnarled hands and her snarled knitting — we wonder wistfully:

Whether we approve it or not, the Marlene Dietrich look is the coming thing in women twice removed from babies. They are getting younger all the time.

And if a crusading nanny named Mrs. Terry Blalack gets her way in Washington, D. C., this week, there will even be a "National Grandmothers' Day" to remind women that they are still girls (underneath) after their offspring have had offspring.

"It's all so mental," says Mrs. Blalack, whose silver blonde hair is not whitened by worry over her eight grand-kids. "Women somehow get the idea that once their children are married they should stop caring for their looks and personalities and — what's that phrase? — grow old gracefully.

DON'T GIVE UP!

"You call letting - yourself - go graceful?" whiffs Mrs. Blalack, who measures 36-24-36 in her mesh-stocking feet and bathing suit. "It is an awkward sign you are giving up!"

* * *

Mrs. B., a 51-year-old (or young rather) Hollywood lassie, feels so strongly about this that last month she set up headquarters at the corner of Hollywood and Vine and began collecting signatures on a petition to demand that Congress put through a bill granting grannies everywhere a special day. With less than 1,000 signatures, she took some of her savings from two decades of dabbling in real estate and set off on a nation-wide 15-city tour to gather more.

"I now have 5,000 names," she bubbled as she breezed through New York on her way to Washington where she is now trying to line up an interview with the President. "Odd thing is that 2-3rds of the signatures are from men. Funny, isn't it?"

We laughed but it really wasn't very funny, considering.

"I have always kept my figure," Terry went on, explaining what we'd been considering, "through hard work. Then when all four children married and moved away, I decided well now here is the time I can do all the things I wanted to do all my life."

So she took ballet lessons ("every grandmother should dance, it firms you up 100 per cent"), and drama lessons ("even got into one movie, called 'Highway Dragnet' "), and studied French in night school ("I am a grandmere.")

So many people began asking her how she stayed so fit in her matriarchal years that she began giving advice. And suddenly, one day, the idea of promoting a grandmothers' day. "I just got sick and tired," she says, "of the world putting a stamp on a woman because she is over 50. And shipping her off, so stamped, to an elderly status."

Mrs. Blalack concedes that there are two national grandmother organizations who have already submitted bills to Congress recommending a "day" in their honor. "But gee one bill — No. 205 — has been shelved for over a year, and the other one — I don't know the number — has been shelved for seven years. Maybe my one-woman campaign will get fast action."

* * *

Anyway, she's going to perch outside the White House till she gets her point, or at least her petition, across. Two letters from a presidential aide, she says, have given her little encouragement.

"But I have a firm personality, just like Eisenhower," she says, "and I didn't see him laying down his arms over in Europe till the battle was won."

Temporary Injunction Stymies Madison Heights Election

Charter Group Reconvenes

Board of Supervisors Prevented From Fixing New Voting Date

The Madison Citizens League, which has opposed a majority of the commissioners in bucking a proposed charter, had threatened to get a court injunction forbidding meeting of the old charter group, but decided against it.

The league had submitted petitions to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, asking for a new charter commission election.

In the meantime, Joe J. Nosko, citizen and strong supporter of the old charter commission, asked an injunction yesterday seeking to prevent the board of supervisors from setting a date for a new charter commission election.

* * *

Harry Young, attorney for the Madison Heights charter commission, stated this morning that a temporary injunction had been granted.

A hearing will be held Monday in Circuit Court, Pontiac.

Sharon Shoults, Richard Powell Exchange Vows

THOMAS — Sharon Ann Shoults became the bride of Richard Harley Powell in a recent evening ceremony performed in the home of the bride. Some 40 guests attended the wedding.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Guelph C. Shoults of Thomas, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Powell of Lapeer.

The bride wore a pink nylon street length dress with white accessories. A corsage of white carnations and stephanotis completed her costume.

Serving as maid of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Robert Lassen of Metamora. Richard Angellar of Lapeer was best man.

* * *

For their wedding trip, the new Mr. and Mrs. Powell toured northern Michigan. They will live at 3908 Hunt Rd., Lapeer.

Charter Commission Rules on Permits

SOUTHFIELD — At the recent Charter Commission meeting it was decided that building permits will not be issued by the building department until a statement of actual existence of sufficient water supply has been received by the department from the well driller, not the builder.

Also discussed at the meeting was the plan for ten "no dumping" signs which will be posted at an approximate cost of $50 in areas now being used for illegal dumping of rubbish. An ordinance prohibits dumping anywhere in the township.

Churchman Leads Study Institute at Southfield

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — Rev. Harold Thompson, pastor of the local Reformed Presbyterian Church, has been elected president of the Southfield Ministerial Association.

The Rev. Gerald Fisher, pastor of the Magnolia E.U.B. Church was named secretary and the Rev. John Rose of the Community Church Congregational, treasurer.

The Christian Education Institute which is sponsored by this group will be held early this fall at the United Presbyterian Church. It will be open to all church teachers and leaders.

Waterford Picnic

WATERFORD — Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davis will host a picnic-dinner, Thursday at 12:30 p.m. for the Waterford Ladies Auxiliary of the Waterford Community Church.

Mazey Denies Union Dues Used to Back Candidates

DETROIT (AP) — Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO United Auto Workers, denies union dues were used to support federal candidates in the 1954 election.

* * *

"Not one penny of dues money was used to support a federal candidate," Mazey said yesterday after being subpoenaed to testify before a federal grand jury investigating the UAW's role in last year's political campaign.

"UAW members gave Sen. McNamara (D-Mich) $5,000 toward his campaign," Mazey said. But he added that "every cent was donated voluntarily by union members."

McNamara unseated incumbent Republican Homer Ferguson in the contest.

* * *

The grand jury seeks to determine whether union used its general funds, made up of members' dues money, to finance political activities in violation of federal law.

ILLEGAL TO CONTRIBUTE

The Federal Corrupt Practices Act makes it illegal for a corporation or a labor union to contribute to campaigns for federal offices.

Mazey said the investigation was a "Republican attempt to straitjacket labor" in its expression of political views.

He said he was subpoenaed as a "result of efforts by John Feikens, boss of the Republican Party in Michigan, to stymie the voice of labor in public affairs."

Feikens, state Republican chairman, asked the Justice Department last March to look into the UAW's political activity.

Try for Freedom Smashed by Deputy

A prisoner's bid for freedom was brought to a sudden halt yesterday when he ran into the waiting arms of Oakland County Sheriff's Detective Don Francis.

The prisoner, Leonard Beatty, 24, of Royal Oak, was being returned to jail by Detectives Roy Hartwick, Jack Davis and Francis after pleading guilty to car theft in Circuit Court.

Just outside the courthouse, Beatty who was handcuffed to another prisoner, made a sudden turn and attempted to reenter the building. "He apparently didn't know Don was right behind him," Hartwick said

The would-be escapee was back in line before he had taken three steps, the detectives stated. They theorized that the other prisoner may have been in on the plan but that Beatty jumped the gun.

Sex-Killing Suspect Cleared by Lie Test

EAST LANSING (AP)—A 62-year-old salesman was cleared today of any connection with the unsolved sex-slaying of Barbara Gaca and Jeannie Singleton.

The suspect, picked up by Eaton County sheriff's officers at the request of State Police in Detroit, was released after voluntarily taking lie detector tests which showed the man had no guilty knowledge of the slayings.

Detroit police put out the pickup request after a Detroit couple told them he had molested their daughters many years ago. The suspect denied that he had ever molested any young girls.

He was one of dozens of suspects picked up since the similar slayings this spring of seven-year-old Barbara Gaca of Detroit and eight-year-old Jeannie Singleton of Kalamazoo.

Tokyo Instructor Found Poisoned

He was instructor Akira Mori, 30, a doctor of science.

His neatly written note read: "This is a distinct suicide; autopsy may not be necessary. I ground up 300 sleeping pills and took them at about 7 p.m. July 5. I cannot tell when I died. I cannot briefly describe the reason, but consider this case falling under the category of suicide stemming from nervous breakdown. I apologize for all the troubles."

Police said his mouth showed cyanide reaction and despite Mori's note will conduct an autopsy. Cyanide, a violent poison, is not contained in sleeping pills.

Sen. Clements Takes Johnson Leadership

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clements of Kentucky took over as acting Senate Democratic leader yesterday with expressed determination to carry on the program of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Johnson suffered last Saturday what was described as a moderately severe heart attack which will keep him away from the Senate for the remainder of this session.

The Bethesda (Md.) Naval Hospital, where he is a patient, said late yesterday his condition remains serious but that "he is now taking nourishment and is reasonably comfortable."

Clements read to the Senate a report from Dr. James Cain, Mayo Clinic physician, which said Johnson "cannot undertake any business whatsoever for a period of months."

Cain wrote that if Johnson's recovery "continues to be satisfactory, he should be able to return to the Senate in January."

SWIMMIN'S FINE!—Except for the bathing suit, the young woman in this picture might well be walking the shoreline of one of Oakland County's beaches. Actually, she's from Paris and she's wearing the newest in French beach suits, "The Brigantine." The suit is a Paris designer's answer to the new edict by French fashion authorities banishing the revealing "Bikini."

State Plans Safety Drive to Keep Low Fatality Rate

LANSING (AP)—The State Safety Commission, happy over the reduction in Michigan's highway death toll last weekend, today considered how to carry the good work into every summer weekend.

State Police Com. Joseph A. Childs reported that 19 persons were killed in the four-day Fourth of July weekend traffic compared to 35 years ago.

He noted that Michigan has been averaging 17 traffic fatalities on the normal two-day weekends during the summer season.

Gov. Williams urged Childs and the State Highway Department to attempt to discover which parts of the holiday weekend traffic programs contributed most of the fatality reduction.

Childs said that a combination of publicity, heavy patrols and the use of National Guardsmen on the highways had saved 20 lives over three holiday weekends, last Labor Day, this Memorial Day and this Fourth of July.

In a formal report, the State Police estimated that more than 2,000 persons would die on Michigan Highways this year, an increase of 12 per cent over last year and the third time in history the toll has risen that high.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—State officials, aroused by wholesale death on the highways, uncovered a new plan of action today to fight California's menacing killer-on-wheels.

It was timed for right after the the Fourth of July weekend and before another heavy toll of 42 fatalities could be forgotten.

But it's intended as a year-round project in a state which consistently leads the nation in holiday traffic deaths.

California, with six million cars —one million more than New York —contributed the highest number to the nationalwide death total of 407.

Davisburg Sees Mobile CD Unit

27-Foot Trailer Serves as Control Center for Mobilization

DAVISBURG—Visitors to Davisburg Park recently got a chance to see the official civil defense mobile unit in action. Robert Haslock, civil defense director of Springfield, examined the 27-foot trailer which is a key control center for mobilization of emergency facilities in Detroit. The trailer was donated by Chrysler Corp.

* * *

The mobile communication unit is maintained by Chrysler as a public service project. The unit is completely self contained and independent of outside power supply.

The unit contains two short-wave radio receivers, two transmitters, four walkie talkies and a public address system with four trumpet speakers on the roof.

The station is designed for two man-operation, one working and one standing by in case of emergency. However it is possible for one man alone to manipulate the controls.

During the past months the unit has taken part in defense drills as part of a short-wave network of over 150 radio amateurs strategically located throughout five counties surrounding Detroit.

Ceremony Unites Couple

CLIFFORD—Ernestine Rae Van Conant and Daniel Allen Adamic were married at a recent morning ceremony in SS. Peter and Paul's Catholic Church, of North Branch.

Ernestine's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Van Conant, of Clifford, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Adamic, of North Branch.

The bride wore a floor-length white lace and nylon net gown. Her fingertip-length veil was secured by a pearl band. She carried rose buds on a mother-of-pearl prayer book.

Serving as maid of honor was Joann Rapic, of North Branch, and bridesmaids were Marilyn Willis, of Snover, and Lorraine Adamic, of North Branch.

Best man was William Adamic, the bridegroom's brother, and ushers were John Adamic, of Silverwood, and Norman Adamic, of North Branch.

Robert Stack Set to Play Opposite Jennifer Jones

By DOROTHY MANNERS

My boy Bob is going great guns these days. I saw his new picture "House of Bamboo" and he's even better in it than he was in "The High and the Mighty."

LANA, LEX FRETTING

Now that Lana Turner and Lex Barker have sold their big Holmby Hills home they're in a quandry about getting a roof over the heads of daughter, Cheryl, Lana's mother, the nurse, cook, four parakeets, three dogs and Lex's two sons due to visit them.

Their house in Acapulco isn't finished and even if it were it wouldn't do them any good until after Lana finished "Dianne" in July.

SINATRA DROPPED

For her screen career, Nancy Sinatra is using the name Nancy Stevens. "I want to keep the same initials," she laughs.

What Nancy doesn't know and won't learn until she starts work in the Virgin Islands is that her role is much more important than she knows.

"She's nervous about her first picture," producer Bill Perlberg laughed, "and George Seaton and I thought it best not to let her know how many lines she has with Deborah Kerr."

CHOSEN BY DISNEY

Fifteen-year-old Tim Considine, who's been acting practically since he was in jumper-suits, is the lucky boy chosen by Walt Disney to star in the Mickey Mouse Club TV show starting Oct. 3.

Tim plays Spin, leader of a group of boys at a Western ranch, in the "Spin and Marty" series which will be a big part in the overall Mickey Mouse Club productions.

Long time since we've heard much about Wayne Morris, movie-wise. He's been in New York making TV films, but he'll be here soon to sign for "Six Gun Lady," a title sure to delight the heart of Sen. Kefauver.

* * *

Bringing his European crusade to Sweden, the American evangelist told an audience of 19,000 the screen luminaries are "rich, successful and popular, but they are unhappy because they live apart from God.

"The world's problems today are not H-bombs," Graham continued, "but our human weaknesses. Human nature must be fundamentally changed before there can be peace on earth, he said.

* * *

Mayor Tries to End Kohler Co. Walkout

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (UP)—Mayor Rudolph Ploetz hinged his hopes for labor peace and the end of mob action on a meeting today with officials of the struck Kohler Co.

The mayor arranged the meeting last night after a crowd estimated at times as large as 1,000 persons took over the waterfront area when the firm attempted to unload a cargo of clay from a freighter. The company has been the scene of a strike for more than a year.

* * *

The mayor appeared personally before the crowd last night to announce the meeting and urge members to go home. He also announced that Sheboygan County Sheriff Ted Mosch had taken over direction of law enforcement in the community. Mosch said he would move officers into the city and that they would remain as long as needed.

Maternity Ward Waits for Octuplets—Turtles

ALLEGAN (UP) — The Allegan Health Center maternity ward expects to witness a multiple birth within the next week—if the sun continues to shine.

Japanese Future Closely Knit With American Action

TOKYO (UP)—A Foreign Office spokesman today foresaw "intimately bound" Japan-American friendship extending far into the future despite Japan's efforts to steer a new course between the West and Communist worlds.

* * *

"Our future fundamentally rests with the United States," Masayuki Tani, adviser to Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu, told a press conference.

Tani, often considered the No. 3 man in shaping his nation's course, also said:

1. Japan hopes someday for the return of Okinawa—America's big Far Eastern base.

2. The government objects to recent demonstrations against U.S. troops and does not want the troops to leave.

* * *

3. A Japanese private trade mission will not be allowed to go to Communist North Korea.

4. He is "not dissatisfied" with the progress of World War II peace talks with the Soviet Union in London, and had expected they would be "prolonged."

5. He was "very hopeful" of reaching a final reparations agreement with the Philippines this year.

First Universal Peace Conference at The Hague, Netherlands, was called by Czar Nicholas II, of Russia, May 18, 1899.

Study Cold Sea Water in Research on Blood

AUSTIN, Tex (UP)—A study of sea water reactions at freezing temperatures, designed to aid scientists working with blood plasma, is under way at the University of Texas.

University engineers, working under a grant from the American Society of Refrigeration Engineers, are gathering new data on sea water, which has a content similar to that of the highly important plasma.

The researchers are also studying industrial processes involving sea water as part of the project.

Bob Considine Says:

Though Traitors—I Like Their Guts

NEW YORK (INS)—The reaction to the Senate testimony of ex-Communists Charles Grutzner of the New York Times and Winston Burdett of CBS was uniformly favorable. Their organizations backed them warmly. Chairman Eastland, Mississippi Democrat, praised Burdett for turning in former associates in the conspiracy.

But what I can never understand about these fellows is why they joined the Communist party in the first place.

In his massive soul-purge "witness," Whittaker Chambers says, in effect, that one day while attending Columbia University he sat down on a campus bench, contemplated his navel at some length, and arose a Communist. Burdett described himself as a devoted Commy who had worked as a spy for the Reds in the early 1940s. Grutzner, turned in by Burdett, gave the following explanation of how he became a party member:

"In 1937 in the course of my work I came in contact with a number of committees, civic committees, committees on housing, committees against discrimination and committees like that, and I approved of the work they were doing. One day . . . the chairman of one of the committees . . . came to me and said, 'Well, you may not know it or you may have suspected it. A number of the people working for these things in which you seem to believe are members of the Communist party. We would like you to join.'"

Grutzner did so, took an assumed name, attended clandestine meetings, worried whether membership would imperil his job, paid his dues, and finally drifted out of the club.

CONFESSION GOOD FOR SOUL

It must take a lot of courage to come clean after years of life back in the fold. I don't mean to berate any man who lays his previous life on a hearing room table and invites the world to examine it. But the nagging thought persists: how could mature, educated, intelligent, aware men conceivably hook up with a secret organization which, if not openly dedicated to the overthrow of the United States government by force, had always been tacitly dedicated to that goal?

Millions of Americans who were not nearly as well off socially, mentally and financially as these men quite easily managed not to join the conspiracy. Then why the Burdetts, the Grutzners, the Chambers, and all the others? I join in the public admiration for the stand they since have taken, but would wish they told us more about the magnetic forces that attracted them. What did they hope to achieve, really?

I heard a hard-up writer say recently, "Gosh, I wish I had joined the Communist party some years ago. The way I figure it, if I had stayed in at least six months I could now write a book about it and claim capital gains."

NOBODY STAYS HOME

Spent so much time sitting in traffic jams over the past week that I looked up some figures. Nobody stays home any more. An estimated 35,000,000 people will be on the roads this summer, vacation bound. Railroads are carrying fantastic numbers of people. Domestic airlines flew 31,324 000 passengers last year, and our two overseas carriers hauled 2,851,000. Inter-city bus lines throughout the U. S. had an appalling total of 670,000,000 revenue passengers last year and will have more this year.

The first international symposium on health and travel, held in New York recently, dwelt at length on "motion sickness" on land, sea and in the air. It recalled such ancient remedies as neck cuffs, "to control blood flow," corsets and binders "to prevent visceral displacement," breathing exercise, fasting, closing one's eyes, herb infusions and the sucking of lemons.

The symposium recommended the drugs bonamine, marezine and phenergan as natural enemies of "motion sickness." Also suggested that if your heart is strong enough to permit you to walk, it is safe to fly, came up with diets for children who get car sick and a lot of other helpful hints which I read about for several days while waiting to get into the Lincoln Tunnel.

THE ANTARCTIC—3

A Ship at the Ice Barrier

In the sky are the southern lights, or the aurora australis. Similar brilliantly colored lights appear in the sky over the arctic, and are called the northern lights or aurora borealis.

There are several theories as to the cause of the brilliant lights. One is that they are formed by rays from the sun colliding with magnetic particles from the earth. Although the lights form over the polar regions, they often can be seen for thousands of miles.

Pope Considers Newswomen Alert to Morality

VATICAN CITY —(AP)— Pope Pius XII says women journalists are keenly alert to the need for moral integrity in news.

The head of the Roman Catholic Church received members of the Canadian Women's Press Club Saturday. His brief address to them was released today by the Vatican Press Office.

"Editorial activity and journalism," said the pontiff, "are much more than a commercial affair. As we have more than once said, books, magazines and newspapers today render to the family, church and state an almost indispensable service."

"And," he added, "certainly the majority of your readers would admit that the woman, adequately trained in heart and mind, can be keenly alert to the need for moral integrity in the field of information.

"Surely, she will be among the first to reveal the difference between an honest interprtation of news and subtle lies and cruel insinuations."

Managers Round Out Squads, NL Stars Favored

CHICAGO (AP)—The power-packed National Leaguers today were made early favorites over the American Leaguers as opposing managers rounded out their 25-man squads for the 22nd All-Star Baseball Game at Milwaukee Tuesday.

The Americans hold a 13-8 edge in the midsummer series and last year won at Cleveland, 11-9, in a field day for batters.

Most experts believe another high scoring game will result this time, with the Nationals' equipped for home run bombardments behind such siege guns as Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski and Brooklyn's Duke Snider, leading with 27 through the holiday weekend; Chicago's Ernie Banks with 21 and Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews with 20.

* * *

On paper, the Americans cannot match this accumulated fence-busting power. Their top home run producer is New York's Mickey Mantle with 18.

And it is questionable also if the junior circuit's pitching staff selected by their All-Star Manager Al Lopez of Cleveland can surpass that of rival skipper Leo Durocher of the Giants.

* * *

Lopez has named nine hurlers, including four lefties, with a combined record of 76-43 through Monday's games. They are rookies Dick Donovan of Chicago (9-2) and Herb Score of the Indians (7-6); Whitey Ford (10-3) and Bob Turley (10-7) of New York; Early Wynn (11-2), Cleveland; Billy Hoeft (8-3), Detroit; Bill Pierce (5-5) Chicago; Frank Sullivan (11-7) Boston, and Jim Wilson, (5-8), Baltimore.

* * *

Durocher failed to name any of his own Giant pitchers as he bobtailed his staff to seven with a combined 65-39 record. His right-handers will be Don Newcombe of Brooklyn (14-1); Robin Roberts, Philadelphia (11-7); Gene Conley, Milwaukee (9-5), and Sam Jones, Chicago, (9-9).

The lefties will be Harvey Haddix, St.Louis (5-9); Joe Nuxhall, Cincinnati (8-5), and rookie Luis Arroyo, St.Louis (9-3).

Each manager is expected to wait until Monday until deciding on a starting hurler. But there will be little surprise if the assignments go to Newcombe and Wynn.

* * *

Durocher has named Del Crandall of Milwaukee and Smoky Burgess of Cincinnati to back up Campanella. He filled out his infield roster with Gene Baker and Ransom Jackson of Chicago; Johnny Logan of Milwaukee, Stan Musial of St.Louis and Gil Hodges of Brooklyn.

Durocher's spare outfielders will be Willie Mays, New York; Hank Aaron, Milwaukee, and Frank Thomas, Pittsburgh.

* * *

The fans failed to select a single player of the league champion Indians for a starting spot. But Manager Lopez remedied that by naming, in addition to pitchers Score and Wynn, his own infielders, Bobby Avila and Al Rosen, and outfielders Al Smith and Larry Doby.

He also selected catcher Sherm Lollar and shortstop Chico Carrasquel of Chicago, infielder Vic Power of Kansas City and outfielder Jackie Jensen of Boston.

Kaline's Bat Remained Hot As Tigers Withered on Road

This was the one slender consolation for the Detroit Tigers today as they prepared to open a home stand against the Chicago White Sox in friendly Briggs Stadium.

While the Tigers sagged on their costly, three-week road trip, Kaline flourished. He proved—and with resounding authority—that he could hit on enemy soil as well as on his own.

When the Tigers left home on June 13, Kaline was hitting .383—but his doubters (and they were numerous then) were quick to point out that it was still too early in the season to tab him as a true star, even if a guy named Ted Williams picked him to win the batting crown.

Kaline had to hit on the road—where hitting seldom comes easy—before he'd be classed in the star category, his doubters said.

So the 20-year-old outfielder—about as emotional as the wooden bat he swings—merely went out and hit a thumping .351 on the road.

He returned home with a .373 mark, still leading the league in hitting with nobody a close second.

Practically everybody suffered as the Tigers won 8 and dropped 13 games on the tour—everybody, that is, except Kaline.

He collected 34 hits in 97 trips to the plate, scored 22 runs, knocked in 19 and slammed six home runs.

As the Tigers head into the final half of the season, Kaline's batting record reads like this:

At bats—306.
Runs—66.
Hits—114.
Doubles—12.
Triples—6.
Home runs—17.
Runs batted in—63.
Average—.373.

It's easy to see why his doubters are silent. What could they possibly say?

At any rate, Harris named Ned Garver to open against the White Sox as the Tigers hope to get back in the battle for 4th place. At the moment, they trail the red-hot Boston Red Sox by four games. This was the team the Tigers once led by nine games.

USGA Junior Girls' Tourney Is Match Play

Test Slated Aug. 15-19 at SC Club; 'Wiffi' Can't Defend Title

NEW YORK (AP) — The seventh USGA Girls' Junior Golf Championship has been made an all-match play event in order to conform with the format of the Women's Amateur Championship, the U.S. Golf Assn. announced today. The tournament will be held at the Florence, S.C., Country Club Aug. 15-19.

* * *

In previous years there was an 18-hole qualifying round to split the field into a 16-player championship flight and subordinate flights. Instead of the lower flights this year, there will be a consolation match-play event at the Dunes Club, Myrtle Beach, S.C., on Aug. 17 for losers on the first two days.

* * *

Entries for the Girls' Junior are limited to amateur golfers who will not reach their 18th birthday before midnight, Aug. 19. Entries close Aug. 3. There are no requirements as to handicap or club affiliation.

As in past years, the winner will be invited to enter the Women's Amateur Championship the following week at Charlotte, N.C. Margaret (Wiffi) Smith of St. Clair, Mich., last year's winner, has passed the age limit and will not defend the title.

Fort Worth Hurler Sees Relief Duty

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Talk about relief pitchers in the Texas League and the name of Mel Waters immediately pops up. In the first 71 games played by Tommy Holmes' Fort Worth Cats, pitcher Mel Waters appeared in 31 games. That's because Fort Worth's hurlers completed only 12 games. Despite this the team has been battling for second place.

Two Yachts Drop Out of Transpacific Test

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The transpacific yacht race had been reduced today to 51 craft with the withdrawal of the 44-foot sloop Gullmar of the San Diego Yacht Club and the 63-foot cutter Orient of San Francisco.

The Gulmar was forced out 100 miles from the starting point. J. G. Johanson of La Jolla, the skipper, reported he was heading to San Diego. Warren G. Booth, publisher of the Detroit News, is first mate aboard the Gullmar.

The Orient lost its mast in rough going and went in to Santa Catalina Isthmus under auxiliary power.

D&W, Lion 9s Tie for First

Each Claims 2-1 Win to Throw Township Loop Into 3-Way Knot

Dick & Wes and the Waterford Lions both worked 3rd inning magic and as a result each team has pulled into a first-place tie with Drayton Drug in the Waterford Township Softball League.

The crowded conditions atop the loop standings will be altered tonight since the Lions are in action again. Dick & Wes edged Gidley Electric, while the Lions nudged Day's Sanitary Service. Score in each game was 2-1.

In the opener, D&W linked 3 of its 4-hit total into the 3rd inning to score both runs as Bill Paul singled and Bob Thatcher and Don Herr doubled. Gidley loaded the sacks with none out in the 7th, but could push over only 1 run on a sacrifice fly.

* * *

Herr was the winner on a 3-hitter. He fanned 7.

In the nightcap, the Lions got only one hit—a 5th inning double by Stan Roosa—off Al Webster, but grabbed a 2-1 victory. Three walks, a wild pitch and an infield out scored the 2 runs in the 3rd for the Lions.

* * *

Little Leaguers Lend Helping Hand After Fire

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — Things looked pretty bad for 12 Doud, Iowa, farm boys when a fire destroyed all of their baseball equipment last summer.

Several weeks ago, Denis Ritz, 13, one of the boys, wrote a letter to Mike Maietta, who coached a Schenectady Little League team to world championship last year. Denis said he and his teammates hadn't been able to play baseball since the accident.

Maietta managed to drum up more than $100. He sent the boys 48 baseballs, 36 bats, 18 gloves, two catching outfits and three masks.

Rams' Linebacker Paul Decides to 'Un-retire'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Paul, captain and linebacker of the Los Angeles Rams, has reconsidered his intention to retire. He has signed his 1955 contract and will report to Coach Sid Gillman at the University of Redlands next week.

The 30-year-old veteran of eight seasons with the Rams told newsmen yesterday it is "hard to get football out of your blood," and said that after meeting Gillman he had decided to stay on another season.

Gillman will open practice tomorrow with 30 rookies at Redlands.

SACRIFICE BUNT FAILS — Bobby Morgan, Philadelphia Phillies' infielder, is out sliding into 3rd base as he attempted to advance from 2nd on sacrifice bunt by outfielder Marvin Blaylock in 7th inning of last night's Phils-Brooklyn Dodgers game. Blaylock's bunt dropped in front of the plate and catcher Dixie Howell tossed to Don Hoak at 3rd for out on Morgan. Phils won, 5-4.

Birdie, 'Hat' Scuffle

CINCINNATI (AP) — Birdie Tebbetts, the philosophizing manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, said today his fight last night with hesitatin' Harry Walker of the St. Louis Cardinals proved his fisticuffs and wrestling were rusty.

Tebbetts and the Cardinal manager traded lefts and rights in the ninth inning of the ball game. They wrestled to the ground and rolled over and over.

"I got stepped on pretty often," Tebbetts grinned. "There must have been 50 guys on the field and they all must have stepped on me. It was one time I wished I was on the bottom of the pile."

* * *

Walker, who is getting a reputation as a staller around the circuit, also was good natured about the bout.

"It was just one of those things when we were all teed up trying to win," Walker said. "I'm not mad at Tebbetts and I know he's not sore at me."

Tebbetts, a philosophy major at college, agreed:

"I had no objection to the way Walker was managing the ball club," Birdie said. "If they were taking extra time, that was up to the umpires. But when an outfielder and an infielder were warming up, I had to protest the violation of a league rule."

* * *

The Reds had tied up the ball game 4-4 in the ninth on Gus Bell's double, a single and a bunt. Then Walker sent Ken Boyer to third and Pete Whisenant to right field.

Then catcher Bill Sarni and pitcher Paul LaPalme conferred on the mound. Umpire Jocko Conlan went onto the field and when he returned to the plate, Tebbets protested what he considered the warmups taken by Boyer and Whisenant.

* * *

After an exchange of remarks, Tebbetts stepped around Conlan and led with his right to Walker's body. They rolled in the dust. Players from the field and the dugouts then started to exchange blows in a half-dozen assorted fights.

"It sure was a dandy while it lasted, wasn't it?" Conlan said.

KNOTHOLE

Tigers 19, Orioles 2.
Boys Club 5, N. S. Aces 2
Athletics 22, Lytell-Cgrove 7.
Red Sox 21, White Sox 8.

Wharry throttled Mets as Griff's Grill posted a 5-0 victory in Class D. It was the 3rd straight win for Griff's, each by a 5-0 score. Wharry struck out 14 and the lone base runners got life via walks in the 4th and 5th innings.

Griff's scored 4 runs in the 5th inning on an error and singles by Jim Jones, Bud Hayward, Jerry Vallad and Al Hayward.

Nearly as fine as Wharry's performance was that of Joe Tinson in Class E. Tinson yielded only a 1st-inning single to Steve Sanders as Lunsford Market topped Community Market, 4-1. Denny Evans was the loser, despite a 3-hitter.

Also in Class E. Cass Ponts defeated Vivian's Beauty Shop, 9-2. In F, Boys Club routed Don Nicholie Realty, 21-0, in 3 innings with John Lucadam and Isaac Jones hitting homers, and East Siders won by forfeit from City Janitors.

Three of 4 Knothole League games were heavy scoring affairs as the Tigers laced the Orioles, 19-2, with Bob Bashore getting "4 for 4"; Athletics drubbed Lytell-Colegrove, 22-7; and the Red Sox had too many guns for the White Sox, 21-8.

One well-played Knothole contest saw Boys Club trip North Side Aces, 5-2. Steve Thompson had a 2-run homer in the 1st for the winners.

Test for Talent

Orioles Open Tryout Sessions Here, Today

A search for major league baseball talent in the Oakland County area got under way today in Pontiac.

Baltimore Orioles, with the cooperation of the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, opened a two-day tryout camp this morning at Wisner Field.

Players between the ages of 18-23 are eligible for the official big league testing ground, which concludes Thursday with 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. sessions. Candidates must bring their own uniforms, gloves and shoes. Balls and bats are furnished.

Camp is being conducted by Tony Stiel of Birmingham, Baltimore scout for this area. Assisting Stiel is Lou D'Annunzio, former scout for the Detroit Tigers, now midwest supervisor of scouts for the Oriole franchise.

Ernie Zubalik of Pontiac, former high school athletic star at St. Frederick, is also lending a hand with the tryouts. Zubalik is a part-time scout for the Orioles.

General Motors maintained its position atop the Class A city league baseball standings with a methodical 7-2 decision over Don Nicholie Real Estate Tuesday night at Wisner Field.

GMC pounded two Nicholie hurlers for 11 hits, nine of them singles, to send home all of its runs before the real estate crew could tally once. Coachers made four hits off starter Albie Roman, who was charged with five runs before giving way to Dick Womack in the 3rd inning.

Two walks, a single by Al Barkeley, Terry Thomas' double, and a fielder's choice scored two runs for the Coachers in the 1st stanza. Then, in the 3rd, singles by Joe Bechard and Ernie Zubalik, a hit batsman, and a booming triple by Thomas tallied three more. Singles by Jack Farms, Les Stone, and Bechard, plus a stolen base and a wild pitch, ended GMC's scoring in the 4th inning.

Herman Bishop hurled for Coach and blanked Don Nicholie until the 5th. Singles by Fred Foster, Jack Cole, and Maurice Stack, an infield error, a base on balls, and a stolen base accounted for the damage in that frame. Bishop allowed five hits, walked two, and struck out seven. Terry Thomas had three out of four, while Stone and Bechard each garnered two-for-three to pace Coachers.

Pennant Fever Grips Boston Fans, Players

Torrid Red Sox Now Only 8 Games Behind AL Pacesetters

BOSTON (AP)—The season is only at the halfway mark but pennant fever began to grip Boston fans today with even the Red Sox players casting glances toward World Series glory and gold.

"I can smell pay dirt," said shortstop Billy Kaus, a key man in the torrid streak which has vaulted the Red Sox into pennant contention.

A month ago, the Red Sox were stumbling along in sixth place, 15 games behind the first-place Yankees. Now, with 24 victories in 29 starts, they are in fourth place only games off the pace.

* * *

"The rest of the league is just finding out we're not hamburgers," said the out-spoken Klaus. "They know they've got to beat us to win. And who's going to beat us? The Yanks? Just show me more than four really good players on that club."

The amazing streak, capped by a doubleheader sweep against the Yankees in New York Monday, has the entire team thinking along pennant lines. But most don't want to say too much for fear of hexing the team.

Ellis Kinder, the veteran relief ace, cautiously agreed with Klaus that the Red Sox are a real threat and said: "We can be 1-2 with the pitching and without injury."

* * *

"We can go all the way," Joost said. "The team's terrific. They proved it against the Yankees. And they should keep proving it."

Grady Hatton and Billy Goodman sidestepped the question whether the Red Sox would win the pennant — and then went on to talk about a pennant.

Relief pitchers are most important," Hatton said. "Did you ever see a winner without them? How about us? Have you thought about Kinder, (Leo) Kiely and (Tommy) Hurd? They've got it."

* * *

Manager Mike Higgins, who remained calm and confident as the Red Sox stumbled along until the first week in June, shied away from making any prediction, and said:

There's still a long way to go, but as Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees said after the double loss to Boston on the holiday:

Sandy Saddler Says He's Ready for Kaneko

TOKYO (AP) — World featherweight champ Sandy Saddler raced through a fast workout today and announced he was ready for anything. Orient titlist Shigeji Kaneko might throw his way.

New Site for Downs

Multi-Million Dollar Plant Planned for Harness, Thoroughbred Racing

John J. Carlo general manager of Northville Downs in Detroit's western suburbs said last night the new track would be located in the downriver area.

Carlo said plans are being made for a multi-million dollar plant suitable for both harness and running races.

The Northville Driving Club owns the present track at Northville. Two years ago racing commissioner James H. Inglis ordered improvements on the plant that would involve considerable expense. Officials of Northville Downs and the Northville Driving Club decided instead to put money into a modern track at a new site.

Carlo, spokesman for the two groups said: "We have decided that construction of a new plant is the only solution. We plan to construct a modern track at one of the many sites we are exploring. Then we plan to transfer the harness racing license and make application for a thoroughbred racing permit."

"We can't definitely name any site at this time," Carlo said. "We have to make sure that there won't be any opposition and also be absolutely certain that we have a green light from the racing commissioner."

German Making Kaycee's $50,000 Deal With Yanks Look Better as A's Spill Cleveland Into 3rd Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There were snickers when the Kansas City Athletics shelled out $50,000 to get Tom Gorman, Ewell Blackwell and Dick Kryhoski from the New York Yankees last March —but maybe it wasn't such a bad deal after all.

The A's took a sizeable risk in the deal and it looked worse when Blackwell and Kryhoski departed for the minors. But now Gorman has come through with the big payoff.

Only a so-so relief pitcher in three trials with the Yanks, Gorman has looked almost brilliant for the A's. He flashed his stuff again last night, putting down an eighth-inning rally and going on to beat the Cleveland Indians 4-3.

It was the 10th victory in the last 12 decisions for the A's—and Gorman, a 29-year-old righthander, has won two of them and saved five others. For the season, Gorman has made 29 appearances, nailing up a 4-1 record (the defeat came on an unearned Boston run May 13) and saving nine other games.

The bespectacled New Yorker, who won his chances with the Yanks off his minor league showing with the old Kansas City Blues, came on against the Indians with the score tied at 3-3 on Jim Hegan's homer off starter Bobby Shantz. The little lefty left with two on and two out and Gorman got Al Rosen on a foul pop with his first pitch to end the inning.

* * *

Joe DeMaestri and Hector Lopez, unlikely power sources, each homered to bring the A's home safe. Lopez smacked his third of the season in the eighth for the big run. DeMaestri unloaded his No. 3 belt to lead off the first inning, ending a 29-inning scoreless streak for Early Wynn, who lost his third against 11 victories.

The defeat, suffered in the lone American League game scheduled, dropped the Tribe to third place, five percentage points behind Chicago. Both now are 5½ games shy of the Yankees.

* * *

In the National, Cincinnati edged St. Louis 5-4 after a ninth-inning free-for-all; Philadelphia defeated first-place Brooklyn 5-4 and the New York Giants whipped Pittsburgh 11-1. Chicago and Milwaukee were idle.

Robin Roberts drove in three runs against the Dodgers and gained his 12th victory with relief help. Andy Seminick's two-run homer in the eighth won it, Duke Snider hit his 28th homer for the Brooks, now 12 games ahead of Chicago.

* * *

The Giants had a pair of four run innings while rolling past the Bucs as Johnny Antonelli won his seventh on a four-hitter. The New York lefty, who has lost 10, fanned 10, Willie Mays hit his 24th and 25th homers in the rout, accomplishing the two-in-one-game trick for the fifth time this season. He has hit eight homers in the past eight games.

Conrad Paces 5 U.S. Qualifiers in Britain

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, (INS)—Joe Conrad, the little Texan with the big game, led a small band of five American survivors today into the 72-hole championship of the British Open golf tournament at St. Andrews.

The 25-year-old U. S. Air Force lieutenant from San Antonio, winner of the British Amateur title last month, led the advance by Jim McHale, Ed Furgol, Byron Nelson and Johnny Bulla yesterday as 10 other U. S. entrants fell victim to the most torrid qualifying rounds ever seen.

Furgol, the 1954 U. S. Open champion from Clayton, Mo., joined the select group of 94 low scorers weeded out of the starting field of 270 players by shooting his 2nd straight 71 for a 142 total.

Nelson, the 1939 U. S. Open titlist from Roanoke, Tex., soared to 76 on the tougher "Old" Course for 145. Playing on the "New" Course, Philadelphia's McHale had a 73 and Bulla of Pittsburgh had a 70 for a 143 and 147, respectively.

Only three pros finished ahead of Conrad—Jowle, who added a one-under-par 72 to his record 63 of yesterday; Laurie Ayton, another British pro, 136, and veteran British Ryder Cupper Harry Weetman, 138.

The break-off score of 148, a record low, shaded out three American pros—Morie Dutra of Los Angeles (149), George Fazio of Norristown, Pa., (150) and Mike Krak of Weirton, W. Va., (150).

Also eliminated were amateurs Ed Lowery of San Francisco (149); Jack Munger of Dallas (152); Harreld Kirkpatrick of Greenville, N. C., (155); O. F. Woodward of Detroit (160); Robert Lutz of Clearwater, Fla., (169); W. A. Wickliffe of Greenville, N. C., (170), and Calvin Cook of Steubenville, Ohio, (172).

Bobby Jones qualified in 1926 at Sunningdale with 134 and three years ago Scotland's John Panton shot a 134 before the Open at Royal Lytham and St. Annes.

The leader at the close of the 1st half-season of play Sunday will represent the 18th District in the tournament, slated July 15-17, probably at Flint.

Waterford post 431 currently is leading the circuit with 5 wins in 7 games. Rochester is close behind with a 4-2 record and a game with Clawson to make up. Waterford and Rochester also will playoff an earlier tie game.

Birmingham, with a 5-3 record, also is in contention. Play resumes tonight with all 3 games having a bearing on the first-place race. Clawson, which upset Birmingham Sunday, meets Waterford on the Waterford High School diamond; Rochester travels to Huron Valley Boys Club, and Birmingham entertains Berkley.

All games are listed for 6 p.m.

All-Mantle Outfield Is Possible in Yankee Future

Ishmael coached the other two brothers, twins Roy and Ray, during their high school days at Commerce, Okla., and he'll bet they make good in the majors.

"I'm not sure that the twins will ever approach Mickey's tremendous stature," Ishmael said. "But I'll certainly be surprised if they don't become the other two-thirds of the Yankee outfield, flanking their famous brother."

Right now, just two years out of high school and only 19, the twins are playing outfield for Monroe, La., in the Class C Cotton States League, a farm team of the Yankees.

Mickey once said he'd be the happiest athlete on the Yankee roster if the younger brothers do arrive.

"All they're ever going to need is a decent chance and not be burdened with my name ahead of them on the road up," Mickey said.

Patterson Goes Against Heavy for First Time

Working Towards Title Bout With Rocky, Floyd Meets McBride

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson's timetable calls for a heavyweight title bout with Rocky Marciano, June 1957 — provided the Rock still holds the title. But will the 1952 Olympic champ be ready?

The 20-year-old Brooklyn Negro takes on his first full-grown heavyweight tonight in Archie McBride, a 185-pounder from Trenton, N.J. The 10-round match at Madison Square Garden will be carried on network radio and television (ABC), starting at 9 p.m. (EST).

* * *

Patterson has been in with heavyweights before but the biggest of them, Joey Maxim, weighed no more than 177 pounds. Pal Joey, of course, is the only fighter to beat Patterson in 23 pro starts and that decision, June 7, 1954, was disputed by most of the boxing writers present.

* * *

One of Patterson's roughest nights was spent in the ring with Dick Wagner. He won the fight but was gasping for breath from body blows when it was over. Next time they met, Patterson polished off Wagner in five rounds and chased him into retirement.

McBride doesn't rank among the top 10 heavyweights although he beat the No. 9 man, Bob Satterfield, in his last outing, May 11. Satterfield was subbing for Patterson that night in Chicago after Floyd pulled out because of ptomaine poisoning. At 26, McBride has won 20 of 29 starts with eight knockouts. He was stopped twice by one Jimmy Walker and Boardwalk Billy Smith.

* * *

The burden of proof is all on Patterson, who must prove he can handle a man with a solid weight advantage over him. Patterson has won nine straight, stopping his last four opponents, since he lost to Maxim. In his '55 fights he has stopped Willie Troy, Don Grant, Esau Ferdinand and Yvon Durelle. When he whipped Durelle at Newcastle, New Brunswick, June 23, Patterson weighed 170 as compare with the 164½ for his first pro bout, Sept. 12, 1952. At that rate it will take the youngster at least two more years to grow into the heavy class (over 175).

Hardtops at '59' Tonight

Hardtops return to the Pontiac Speedway tonight with a 9-race program topped by a 25-lap feature. Time trials are at 7 p.m., with the 1st race set for 8:30 at the M59 track. Land O'Lakes Racing Association drivers also will run here Saturday night, while the spring car-roadster show rained out Monday, will be held Sunday evening.

Espinosa Is Victor

HONOLULU (AP)—Leo Espinosa of the Philippines scored an easy 10-round decision over Francis Militante of Honolulu before 4,000 fans last night.

Grid Committee Studies Problems of District TV

COLORADO SPRIGS (AP)—SomeN of the problems that have developed under the NCAA's plan for district television of football games this fall are being studied by a committee meeting here.

Dick Romney, commissioner of the Skyline Conference who heads the group, said he expected some decisions late today on the problems under study.

He said most of the difficulties concern geographical situations where a college is located within one NCAA district but plays in another. The present NCAA-TV plan prohibits televising from one district into another of a district-authorized telecast.

Bosox Get Scare as Klaus Sprains Ankle

BOSTON (AP) — Billy Klaus, the Boston Red Sox shortstop, nursed a painful ankle injury today but was hopeful he'll be ready for action in a twinight doubleheader against the Washington Senators tonight at Fenway Park.

Klaus, a sparkplug in the Red Sox streak of the last month, injured his ankle while sliding into third base in the first game of a doubleheader at Yankee Stadium Monday. X-rays of the ankle yesterday showed no break, and Klaus was treated for a mild sprain.

Shaw's Jewelers and Stadium Inn battle for 1st place tonight in the opener at Beaudette Park to highlight the men's city league softball program.

League-leading Shaw's boasts a 12-1 record, General Motors accounting for the only setback by a 1-0 count. Stadium Inn's mark in the American League stands at 11-2, one of its defeats inflicted by the Jewelers.

Shaw's-Stadium clash starts at 7 p.m., followed by the Elks-K. of C. nightcap. Third-place GMC, still in contention, tangles with Riteway at North Side Park, followed by a National League contest between Chuck & Louie's Market and Mike's Used Cars.

Sam Snead's Golf Clinic

All good golfers swing slow in the backswing. They make a momentary pause at the top. All good golfers start the downswing s-l-o-w-l-y. Do you? You see a star golfer and feel he's swinging back fast. But he is not swinging back fast nor starting down fast in relation to his skill. Swing back slowly — pause — start down slowly and accelerate smoothly without jerk or effort, as you come down, thus letting the clubhead flow. One of the great differences between the high handicap golfer and the star occurs in the down stroke. The difference is this: The average golfer is "lazy" with his hands. The star golfer "hits" with his hands. Do likewise. At about the hip-high position, start smoothly pouring those hands in — but pour them in. Put energy, power into them but not in jerky fashion. Smoothly. In this way, when club meets ball, the clubhead will be traveling at your maximum rhythmic speed.

Ned Lilly Defends State Trap Title

Nearly 300 sharpshooters, including defending champion Ned Lilly of Stanton, are expected for the 1955 Michigan State Trap Championships Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Birmingham Gun Club.

Marksmen from several states and Canada will contest for trophies and money in the triple-event meet, sanctioned by the American Trapshooting Association. Competition will be in the 200 singles, 100 doubles and 100 handicaps.

Lilly, a nationally famous shooter, captured all three events last year, scoring a perfect 200 in the singles. He won the Ohio State shoot in June, which moves him to 25 yards in the handicap competition this weekend. Lilly has been named to Jimmy Robinson's Sports Afield All-America team for the past several years.

Two other outstanding marksmen expected for the state meet are Chauncey Huber from Tiffin, Ohio, past president of the ATA, and Maynard Henry of Los Angeles, ATA's current prexy.

Contestants will vie for honors in four divisions — A, 94 per cent and over; B, 91 per cent and under 94; C, 88 per cent and under 91; and D, below 88 per cent.

ATA rules will govern the event and a committee appointed by the Michigan Trapshooting Association will classify all contenders. A $2,300 purse will be added. Practice traps will be open Thursday at 1 p.m. Friday's shooting starts at 9 a.m., while Saturday and Sunday action is scheduled at 10 a.m.

Birmingham Gun Club is about three miles northeast of Walled Lake in Commerce Township on Richardson Road near Haggerty.

Roy Leach Jr., of Birmingham, won the handicap event with 91 out of a possible 100 (19 yards); L. F. Loucks of Charlotte, 2nd with 90; Harry Lawrence of Pontiac 3rd with 86.

John T. Jones of Birmingham won the non-handicap, 16-yard shoot, 96 out of 100; Lyndell Bird of Battle Creek, and Herb Cutting and Fred Ford, both of Birmingham, tied for 2nd with 95; Otto Novak of Dearborn hit 93 for 3rd.

Deep Fishing Now the Rule

By JACK PATTERSON

These hot days, coming along as they do, one upon another, have a cumulative effect, mostly bad, on the lake fisherman, particularly the diurnal variety. Oxygen loss is apt to be rapid in the shallows and fish, even as thee and we, seek cooler, more salubrious strata rather than gasp around in the 'orrible 'eat.

PATTERSON

The current rule of thumb, then, is to fish deep—how deep a matter of experimentation—but deep enough at any rate to get below the superheated surface layer. The night fisherman, of course, has more latitude and can continue to work the shallows well after dark, when the surface water has cooled. Bass, particularly, seem eager to make slashing forays into the shallows after minnows as soon as the sun hits the trees.

Just at dusk the flyrodder can do the year's mightiest mischief on panfish with a small surface popper, fished with a minimum of action on a long, fairly fine leader. Bluegills, rockbass, calicoes, even perch and bass will come up from a remarkable depth to smack a popper. We prefer a white one, maybe because its easier to see.

For big catches of calicoes, Herbert Lawrence, 69 W. Longfellow, suggests flies, of most any pattern with a fly-rod pork rind attached. Or just the pork rind and maybe a small pearl spinner. Calicoes just can't resist either combination, according to Herb, who's made quite a study of the problem.

* * *

For lots of bluegills and plenty of bass, though the latter run smallish, White Lake is the spot, according to Mel Ferrar of Mel's Bait and Tackle Shop.

From Jack Pflug, Birmingham we learn that Square Lake in addition to serving as host for rainbows has some very large perch, which may still be within reach of the wader.

Speaking of perch, Don White, Waterford, has a spot where limit catches are a matter of a few minutes. Unfortunately Don keeps the location a well-guarded secret, but he might tell YOU.

* * *

Just in case anyone thinks it's just plain too hot to catch a fish regardless, consider the results 7-year-old Richard Isgrigg, son of the William Isgriggs, got the other evening at Lake Angelus—a 2½ pound bass, no less.

While the lake fisherman is suffering under the blistering afternoon sun, his fellow piscator on northern trout streams is enjoying some splendid, though admittedly hot and mosquitoey fishing.

"Fine and far off" is the motto for low clear water, but now and then a big, heavy bodied device, like a wooly worm, for example, will pay off well. For big browns in the daytime a white marabou streamer is still as good a bet as any for the guy who isn't so pure he feels he must eschew anything which sinks.

Night fishing for big browns isn't bad, these warm nights, and here again the marabou streamer, but this time a black one, will do very well, for big fish.

Big hatches continue and the dry fly man can have his hands full catching fish or convulsed with frustration depending, upon how selective the fish choose to be at the moment.

SUMMER FUN — Michigan is expected to see a record number of fishermen on her lakes and streams this summer and this lucky angler, an early representative of this zany army, has the look of a man forgetting work and the cares of a complicated world while busy with a thrashing 10 inches of trout. It's a scene that will be re-enacted thousands of times throughout the state as Michigan takes "time off" for some much-needed relaxation.

Sports Guild Rodeo to Help Underprivileged

Detroit's Mayor Albert E. Cobo, in a proclamation has declared the day "Sports Guild Rodeo Day." A parade will be held Saturday at 9 a.m. with all suburban cities on its itinerary during the day-long affair.

Governor G. Mennen Williams, astride an Arabian horse, will head the parade to the track. The Oakland County Sheriff's Posse, Detroit Police Mounted Drill team, Plymouth Motor Co. pipe band, and the Swinging H Square Dance team are among those in the parade.

A varied program is planned for the show, which is open to the public. Proceeds will send 200 underprivileged children to summer camp at Brighton this year.

Kansas Star's Double Sets Conference Mark

Groza's Toe Tops NFL

Lou Groza, tackle for the Cleveland Browns, has been high scorer for the National Football League nine years and has scored only one touchdown. His scores have come on field goals and points after touchdowns.

Pollution Menace

Michigan Still Must Fight to Save Streams

By MORT NEFF

The streams and rivers of the nation have undergone a tremendous change in the past half century. Fifty years ago there was little pollution, and the clear-running waters were filled with fish. Today teeming populations are concentrated along waterways, for water is vital to big industry.

MORT NEFF

Today big city sewage is a growing problem, and in too many instances the "problem" is being dumped directly into our rivers. Game fish cannot survive—and recreational use of the water for swimming is out of the question.

Out of a total population of 160 million two-thirds live in cities, many of them on our major waterways. A good many of these cities have good sewage treatment plants . . . but there are still too many without this essential to good health and good living.

Actually 12,000 communities with a population of 100 million people have sewer systems, and 8,000 of these cities with a population of 60 million discharge inadequately treated sewage directly into our rivers!

Public health is constantly endangered by such neglect—and insofar as sports fishing is concerned thousands of miles of potentially fine water are ruined.

There is little excuse for such practice in an age when the disposal problem can be licked by a community of any size. True, a good system costs money — but surely the advantages to public health and added recreational facilities more than offset the cost.

Here in Michigan too many cities, large and small, are still without proper sewage disposal systems. If you live in one of them help stimulate a plan to correct this evil. Michigan is truly a "Water Wonderland." Let's make sure it's clean water!

Elizabeth Lake Yields 'Bows

Pontiac Man Takes 3 Pounder; Fish Contest Still Wide Open

If rainbow trout were eligible for entry in the Pontiac Press "Big Fish Derby," Eugene Gross, 355 Mt. Clemens, Pontiac, would be off to a flying start for honors.

Gross landed a three-pound rainbow early Monday morning along the north shore of Elizabeth Lake. The fish measured 18½ inches in length and 13½ inches in girth.

He used a spinning rod, eagle claw hook, and night crawler to catch the big specimen, then hooked a smaller, 14-inch, rainbow later. Another Pontiac angler, Tony Goedeke, 3063 E. Walton Blvd., was fishing with Gross.

Race is still wide-open in the derby, now in its 3rd week. Jim Shivers of Walled Lake leads the bass division with a five-pound, 12-ounce largemouth and Ray Reed heads the bluegill class with a 17-ounce specimen.

Both Shivers and Reed have been closely challenged, but as yet not surpassed. There are still no entries in the northern pike category, making that race in particular a free-for-all affair.

Ewalt's Biggest Bluegill Is Just Another 'Miss'

Dave Ewalt, head of the city Department of Parks and Recreation, is a frustrated angler.

"It's plumb tough on a fisherman when he lands the biggest bluegill he's ever taken, only to find it a bare ounce too small to qualify for the Pontiac Press 'Big Fish Derby,'" complains Dave.

"We had a lot of fun, anyway, and that bluegill was fine eating," Dave reported.

Drayton Woman Wins Silver Lake Event

Mrs. John McCallum of Drayton Plains was the winner of Tuesday's medal play in the Women's Silver Lake Golf League. Mrs. McCallum shot a low net score of 35.

Mrs. Earl Weber of Waterford won the blind hole event with a seven on the par five 9th hole. Mrs. Warren Weber, also of Waterford, took 3rd prize on a draw.

Following the weekly golf day on Tuesday, July 19, a picnic will be held at the home of Mrs. Grant McDonald on Clintonville road near Oakland Lake.

10-Year-Old Bags 35-Pound Bobcat

HOUSTON, Tex.—A 90-pound, 4½ foot, 10-year old boy and a 35-pound, 35-inch bobcat (age unknown) squared off in a woods here Sunday. The cat lost.

Peter Biggs went hunting for rabbits with his .410 shotgun at the "ready," perhaps thinking of how Davy Crockett "kilt him a b'ar" when he wa sonly a lad.

The bobcat popped up 20 feet in front of him. Peter fired, dropped the gun and took off. The 'cat didn't follow so Pete came back. The 'cat was thoruoghly dead.

GM Spurs Rise on Stock Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors dominated trading today in the stock market with a jump ahead of more than 15 points on the strength of a proposed three-for-one split.

The market as a whole was higher at the start and then eased back from its best in the early afternoon. There were many gains of 1 to 3 points.

Trading was at a fast pace throughout with the rate hitting the three-million mark. Yesterday's total was 2,680,000 shares with the market higher.

General Motors closed yesterday at 113¼ up 3¼, and after the close directors proposed that the stock be split three-for-one. The stock in 1950 reached a price of 99⅞ and was split two-for-one.

Today there was a delay of one hour and 45 minutes on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange while members who specialize in trading in the stock and governors of tne exchange tried to arrive at a fair price to match the great flood of buying and selling orders.

Ford, Chrysler Start Bonuses

Profit Sharing Plans Revealed by 2 of Three Biggest Firms

DETROIT (AP)—The trade paper Automotive News said today:

"With auto dealers approaching the biggest model cleanup in history, two of the big three manufacturers — Ford and Chrysler — have stepped in with bonus plans based on performance this year.

"The bonuses appear designed to stimulate sales rather than to help dealers clear out inventories, since Ford division still is producing cars at a record pace—more than 33,000 units last week—and Chrysler Corp. is scheduling high production for July.

"Many dealers were somewhat critical of their bonus plans this year. They say the plans are based on quotas established in the first 5 to 6 months when sales were at a record pace which few dealers feel capable of maintaining."

Automotive News said the plan for Ford car sales provided bonuses of from $25 to $100 for each delivery over a certain percentage of quota; of from $30 to $125 for Mercury sales and from $75 to $250 for Lincoln retail deliveries.

The Plymouth and Dodge plans, the paper said, provide bonuses of from $25 to $75 and from $5 to $100 respectively.

Hold Sales Contest for Pontiac Dealers

Pontiac dealers now have underway an incentive-type sales contest, according to Ward's Automotive Reports, industry publication.

Running through June and July, the contest applies to dealers, salesmen and sales manager and involves merchandise prizes and free trips, Ward's states. Awards are on a point basis for vehicle sales.

Thirteen of the industry's 16 car makes had such plans operating during June, according to Ward's. Only Buick, Oldsmobile and Cadillac were not on the list.

Business Briefs

Arthur D. Stover, 8020 Locklin Dr., and John L. Wilson, 2287 Briggs, will attend the five-day sales convention of Electro Refractories and Abrasives Corp., July 1 to 15 in Buffalo, N. Y.

The two local men are sales representatives for the corporation. Sales techniques, new company developments and product improvements will be discussed and demonstrated.

He formerly was assistant state director in Michigan for State Farm's automobile insurance, and its life and fire insurance affiliates.

After two weeks of preparation in the company's home office at Bloomington, Ill., Chapin will travel to New York to launch the new State Farm operation there. He joined the company in 1941.

Mrs. Dorothy Schertzer, of 225 Edison Ave., has just completed a training course in Spencer Foundation Garments, for style and surgical support.

Township Officials Supervise Cleanup

Police Chief Frank Van Atta and Justice Willis D. Lefurgy stood watch while two Detroiters, Sammy Brewer and Rubbie Williams cleaned up a pile of rubbish they had dumped near Waterford Township High School during the past two weeks.

Chrysler-UAW Resume Talks on New Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators for Chrysler Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers scheduled resumption of talks today on a new contract.

It was the seventh session since the talks began June 27.

Separate talks between the Union and Chrysler's Automotive Body Division also were scheduled to resume after a long holiday recess. Nearly 33,000 body division workers are covered under a separate contract. The Union wants these employes and 107,000 Chrysler workers covered under a single contract. Present contracts expire Aug. 31.

Power Plant Doomed

LUDINGTON (AP) — A landmark, the steam generating plant that produced Ludington's power for more than 30 years, soon will be dismantled. The city's power now is furnished by the B. C. Cobb plant in Muskegon and the Dow Chemical Co. plant in Ludington.

Frog Level, S. C., changed its name in 1873 to Prosperity.

'Bonanzagram'

Have Fun! Win $100!

"Bonanzagram" is an exciting new puzzle in which the Pontiac Press offers both fun and a $100 cash prize. BUT before you try your hand at "Bonanzagram" be sure and read the rules at the bottom of this page. Solution will appear in the Press July 15.

CLAIM CHECK

Below is a duplicate of the "Bonanzagram" entry you send in to contest headquarters. It is ESSENTIAL that you fill it in and save it until the correct solution to "Bonanzagram" No. 18 is published Friday, July 15. Unless you do so, you will be unable to collect the prize if you should send in a winning solution. Check the rules below for further details.

Bonanzagram No. 18 Story Clues

Joan and Bill were way ahead of everyone else in the annual August Treasure Hunt. After many adventures, they reached the place where the last clue was supposed to be hidden — a curving beach, empty under the midnight moon. On the high chair where the lifeguard usually perched, they found the piece of paper they sought. Like the other clues, it was very tricky, with many of the letters left out to make it harder. After a good deal of argument, they managed to fill in the missing letters and succeeded in finding the treasure. Can you, too, decipher the clues and plot the way to the treasure?

How To Play 'Bonanzagram'

Solve the "Bonanzagram" by filling in all the missing letters, as indicated by the underscores, in the message. Insert only one letter above each underscore. Many clues to the missing letters are hidden in the story or anecdote, accompanying the message itself, and, in a few cases, the contestant's general knowledge should provide the correct letter. The contestant will note that the message is unpunctuated. Punctuation will help solve the message but is not necessary to win.

All missing letters must be correctly inserted to win a Bonanzagram prize. Punctuation will not be considered in judging a correct answer.

When properly filled in, the "Bonanzagram" will spell out a clear message that will conform in every way with the clues. In many cases it will seem that more than one word would be the correct one. That's part of the fun! You should weigh the clues and select the BEST possible word in each case.

How to Submit Entries

1. After solution is completed, "Bonanzagram" should be clipped and pasted to a two-cent postcard with your name and address.

2. Entries will be received at the Pontiac Press office, 48 W Huron St., until 5 p. m. Tuesday, July 12. Mail entries must be postmarked before midnight Tuesday, July 12 for Bonanzagram No. 18. Address "Bonanzagram, % Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

3. Entries may be mailed in envelope but contestant's full name and number of puzzle must be printed in upper left corner of address side of envelope.

4. Copies of the Press need not be purchased to enter. Facsimiles made by hand and corresponding as closely as possible to the original "Bonanzagram" printed in the Press will be accepted but are limited one to a family. Mimeograph, duplicator or other unofficial mechanical reproduction is forbidden.

How to Collect the Prize

The entrant must work out and keep duplicate solution as a claim check. When the solution is published in the Press, he should compare his "claim check" with the published solution, and, if his claim check is identical, he should call in person with his claim check at the Press office, 48 W. Huron St., before 5 p. m. on the Monday following publication of the solution.

If a winner cannot call at the Press office in person, he should mail his solution to "Bonanzagram Editor." This letter must reach the Press not later than 5 p.m. the Monday after publication of the answer. Correct answers are void unless the contestant reports his claim by the deadlines listed here.

About Eligibility, Information, Etc.

1. Anyone is eligible for the "Bonanzagram" contest except employes of the Press and members of their immediate families. (Immediate family means all those living in an employe's household.)

2. No question as to winners will be answered by phone.

3. The Press will award a prize of $100 to the winner of each weekly Bonanzagram. If more than one winning answer is received, the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If no correct solution is received, the $100 will be added to the next week's prize. If the winner is a subscriber of record to the Press a $20 bonus will be added to the $100.

4. Only one winning entry from a family will be eligible for the prize, but there is no limit on number of entries.

5. The Press retains the right to correct typographical errors.

6. Judges' decision will be final and contestant's submission of entries indicates acceptance of these rules.

7. No liability is accepted for entries that fail to reach us.

8. The Press reserves the right to alter rules and/or discontinue the contest at its discretion.

U.S. Steel Cost Now $7.35 Ton

PITTSBURGH (AP) — U. S. Steel Corp. has posted new list prices on its products to become effective at 12:01 a. m. tomorrow under an average price increase of approximately $7.35 a ton.

Standard structural shapes — used in the construction of bridges and many other construction jobs —go up $4.00 a ton.

Over 80 items produced by the world's biggest steelmaker are affected by the new price listings. The corporation estimated the increases equal to about 5.8 per cent.

The general price increase was announced last Friday a few hours after the corporation signed a wage settlement with the CIO United Steelworkers providing for a pay boost averaging about 15 cents an hour.

Under the new price schedule hot rolled sheets will sell for $4.32½ a hundred pounds compared to the old price of $4.05 a hundred pounds. Cold rolled steel's new price is $5.32½ a hundred pounds compared to the old price of $4.95.

28 Powder Puffers Still Not Landed

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Twenty eight of the 46 planes in the transcontinental Powder Puff Derby for women fliers had until 6 p.m. (EDT) today to land here to qualify for prizes.

Twelve planes landed Monday and six more yesterday before foul weather left 10 planes stranded at Reading, Pa. In addition, 17 planes spent the night at Wheeling, W. Va., and one at Dayton, Ohio.

Jane Hart, wife of Philip A. Hart, lieutenant governor of Michigan, was pilot of the third plane in.

Ford to Build Plant in Chicago Area

DETROIT (AP)— The Ford Motor Co. has announced plans to build a 1½ million - square - foot metal stamping plant in the Chicago area.

A. J. Hole, general manager of Ford's stamping division, said yesterday the plant will be partly automated and will contain 16 major press lines. It will employ some 2,500, he said.

Cook (Chicago) County commissioners must agree to rezone the area before construction can be started, Hole said.

Vanishing Hose Tales Crop Up in Michigan Now

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Reports of garden hoses burrowing like moles in the earth cropped up in western Michigan today.

Roscoe K. Waid of Grand Rapids said he stuck the nozzle of a hose into his front yard garden Tuesday and when he turned the water on the thing began disappearing, inch by inch.

The two men shut off the water and tried to retrieve the hose. But they couldn't pull it out of the ground. They had to dig down four feet to get it.

And in Kalamazoo, James Bridgman said he had a similar experience last Saturday.

He and two neighbors snapped off the hose trying to pull it out of the ground.

Western Michigan College geologists offered an explanation. They theorized the stream of water washes sand and soil in recesses in the ground creating a vacuum that sucks the hose into the earth.

But they added they weren't sure.

Demands Listed by Phone Union

Asks Short Work Week, 'Reasonable' Pay Hike and Other Benefits

DETROIT (AP) — A 35-hour work week heads a union list of demands on the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

* * *

The CIO Communications Workers of America served the demand for a short work week yesterday when it filed a 60-day contract termination notice with the company.

The union also worked for a "reasonable general wage increase" but did not specify the amount. The CWA has indicated it wants a starting rate of at least $1.25 an hour. Pay rates for telephone operators currently range from $51.50 in small towns to $64.50 in the Detroit area. The present work week is 40 hours.

Other union demands include improved pension benefits, hospital-medical-surgical coverage, reduction of area wage differentials and a union shop.

* * *

The Michigan Bell-CWA contract, covering 18,000 employes, was to have expired June 19. But the union delay in filing termination notice automatically extended it until Sept. 3. Negotiations are expected to start shortly.

Girl Scout Needs Paid by Defense Department

WASHINGTON (AP)— There were strings attached to House approval yesterday of a bill to let the Defense Department supply the equipment for the Girl Scouts annual senior roundup encampment in Michigan next summer.

The girls will have to give "a good and sufficient bond" for the return of the equipment in good condition.

Lifer May Be Heir in Huge Estate

CHESAPEAKE, Ohio (AP)—A convict serving a life term in the West Virginia Penitentiary may be heir to a share of a $500,000 trust fund left by his sister.

He is William Ellis, 48, whose sister Mrs. Helen E. Roy, formerly from this area, died in Victorville, Calif., in 1950, and left her $500,000 estate in trust to her husband John. He died last month.

Robert Ellis, 39, Union Township clerk, and Carroll Ellis, 28, a truck driver, nephews of the Roys, are leaving their Chesapeake home Friday for California to claim a share in the trust fund.

Other apparent heirs include Mrs. Roy's sister Mrs. Tennessee Christian, Chesapeake, and two other brothers, Roy Ellis, 55, of near Greasy Ridge, Ohio, and Pete Ellis, 65, of near Ironton.

'Drunkard' Company Will Fete Duncans

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Duncan sisters, Rosetta and Vivian, will be special guests tonight as the Theatre Mart celebrates the 22nd anniversary of its production of "The Drunkard."

Davy Exposed in Two Articles

But U. S. Youngsters Will Go On Believing in Their Hero

NEW YORK (AP)—Two separate raiding parties scalped Davy Crockett the other day.

First into the clearing whooped Murray Kempton, a writer for the New York Post. He said that Crockett was a lazy, hooky-playing, whisky-swigging, illiterate braggart with an ignoble record as soldier, provider and congressman. His whoops had barely died when in loped the Personal & Otherwise Department of Harper's magazine. Slicing deftly and quickly, Harper's got the rest of Crockett's scalp.

* * *

As a result, a mother in our neighborhood, whose coonskin-capped offspring have been raising Cain in our petunias, is irked. "Won't they leave kids any idols?" she demands.

Well, now, when Crockett first hove on the television scene as a model for youth I confess I was a little surprised at the choice. I thought there were more important and exciting men who could more accurately bear the tag of "frontiersman." There were Dan Morgan and old Dan'l Boone; Kit Carson and at least a dozen Mountain Men, to name only a few. But we got Crockett on our screens.

* * *

I haven't raided the files as extensively as Kempton and Harper's. But I do recall sardonic remarks about Crockett by such reputable historians as Vernon L. Parrington. In short, I string along with the raiders and believe they came up with the "true" Davy Crockett story.

As far as the youngest generation is concerned, however, I don't think the raiders even came close to their coonskin idol. The minds that absorb Crockett are closed to Kempton and Harper's. On the other hand, the raiders performed a useful journalistic service by examining a myth. For the Davy Crockett story is the first American myth which the young giant of television has perpetuated successfully.

* * *

But I suppose it doesn't matter whether the real Davy was heel or hero. What matters at the moment is that the televised Davy be one of nature's noblemen who will inspire malleable young minds to go out and be likewise.

The moral implicit in the Crockett story to me is simply this: Television has unwittingly stumbled on a tremendous capacity—a great power to perpetuate myths. May it always use its power wisely.

Law Student Held in Matron Killing

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A law student who once worked as a houseboy in the home of Mrs. Norma Thompson McCauley was booked early today on suspicion of murder in the brutal killing of the wealthy divorcee.

* * *

John R. Crooker, 34, described by police as a rejected suitor of Mrs. McCauley, denied through hours of questioning that he killed her.

She was found yesterday in the bedroom of her $50,000 hilltop Bel-Air home, a blood-spattered lace stole twisted around her neck. She had been throttled and stabbed five times, medical examiners reported.

* * *

Police said Crooker was a houseboy in the McCauley home while he was a student at the University of California at Los Angeles last year. He is now a student at Southwestern School of Law.

Marriage Guide Divorced by Wife He Mistreated

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A marriage counselor's wife won a divorce yesterday and the judge commented that her husband's credo seemed to be: "Don't do as I do; do as I say.'

Mrs. Arthur Globe, 39, testified her husband "would barrage me with words until 4 or 5 o'clock in the morning.'

* * *

The judge asked if Globe, 37, ever struck her.

"Yes, but I'd rather not talk about that.'

The judge asked Mrs. Globe's daughter by a previous marriage, Esther Rosenshine, 19, if she ever asked her stepfather for matrimonial advice. She said no.

"Take my advice,' said the judge, "and don't."

Columnist Gold-Bricks as Family Packs Bags

By EARL WILSON

EN ROUTE TO FLORENCE — According to my family, the hard part of European traveling is packing the bags, which they do while I loaf.

"You always have to write a column just when it's time to pack," Mrs. Earl accuses.

I explain that I must write about Lou Schreiber of Hollywood being here, and maybe he's trying to sign Gina Lollobrigida; of seeing Jan Peerce from New York — and that I must mention a Philadelphian who runs the American Esedra Bar, with cheeseburgers yet.

When we first went into the Esedra, I wasn't sure whether the proprietor was a man or woman. A waiter said the "boss" wouldn't be in for hours.

"Boss is a man, eh?" I asked.

"Oh, yes, boss American," he said.

So I started over.

CRAMPED WRITER

"The boss might be a fat woman," Slug pointed out. We did learn though that the boss' name is Louis. Though I suppose it could be Louise!

While my poor family was suffering from those canvas bags that your suits fall off the hangers from, I also was extraing in the Brod Crawford-Dick Basehart movie, "The Swindler."

I also met the pretty redhead Diana Del Monte, known here as "the Rhonda Fleming of Italy" since she was her stand-in, and other beauties.

I did my extraing in a street scene. I was supposed to walk along with my camera—and suddenly stop and take a picture—but not get in anybody's way.

"You're playing a tourist," I was told.

I don't like to brag about how well I did. But suddenly there was a loud whistling by a third assistant director, who pointed me out and spluttered something.

He said, in effect, "There's some tourist in the scene with a camera. Kick him out!"

Then when I got back to the room, tired from my labors, I said, "Well, you got the packing all done?"

Two voices in unison said, "All but yours."

Battery Additive Maker Asks Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The manufacturer of the controversial battery additive AD-X2 today asked the Senate Commerce Committee for a full-scale public investigation of the Federal Trade Commission (FTC).

Jess M. Ritchie of Oakland, Calif., president of Pioneers, Inc., complained in a letter to the committee particularly about "stalling" on the part of the commission and its staff.

Ritchie and his company have been accused of false and misleading advertising in the claim that AD-X2, when used according to directions, would extend the life expectancy of lead-acid storage batteries.

The commission complaint was based largely on the report of tests conducted by the National Bureau of Standards. The bureau report provoked controversy that resulted in the temporary suspension and later reinstatement of Bureau of Standards Director Allen V. Astin by Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks.

U.S. Midshipmen Sip Tea in Royal Mansion

The Americans will be Mountbatten's guests at ancient Broadlands House. Elizabeth and the admiral's nephew, the Duke of Edinburgh, spent the first week of their honeymoon there, in 1947.

Basic ingredients for glass are the same as those used in ancient times — silica sand, soda ash and lime.

Russian Attitude Viewed 2 Ways

Most U.S. Officials See Soviet Truly Interested in Ending Cold War

WASHINGTON (AP)—A difference of opinion has developed among U.S. officials as to whether Moscow's current peace talk shows that Russia genuinely wants to end the cold war.

A majority of policy makers seems to believe such recent Russian gestures as the unprecedented apology for shooting down an American plane mean Moscow at least plans to offer concessions aimed at easing East-West tension.

* * *

The Geneva summit conference opening July 18, in the view of these officials, promises to lead to a series of negotiations which could slow down the arms race and make a start toward solving critical European and Far Eastern problems.

An evidently smaller group of officials, however, describes this view as dangerously optimistic. They argue that no end to the cold war is in sight and that any concessions Russia may make will be superficial.

* * *

Both sides appear to agree on one major point: Apparent agricultural difficulties and the arms burden are straining Russia's economy, and so the Kremlin leaders would like a breathing spell to concentrate on mechanizing farms and building up Russia's industrial base.

Viet Nam Agrees to Hold Elections

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Vietnamese Foreign Minister Vo Van Mau said today his government accepts the principle of an election next year to unify Viet Nam but only if it is a free ballot, held under the direction of the United Nations.

Mau's declaration was the first of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's Cabinet on the election, which the Indochina armistice last July specified should be held throughout North and South Viet Nam not later than July, 1956.

The official Viet Nam press agency said Mau voiced his stand to a visiting group from the Moral Rearmament movement.

There had been speculation recently that Diem would refuse to join in the voting on the ground that the Red government in the North would not really permit free elections.

Kalamazoo Abandons Public Lighting Work

KALAMAZOO (AP) — This city, after years of discussion pro and con, is abandoning the public lighting business.

By a vote of 5 to 1, the city commission decided yesterday to sell the 61-year-old municipal lighting plant to the Consumers Power Co. for $1,625,000.

4 Boys in Inner Tubes Cross Detroit River

DETROIT (AP)—Four boys from Riverview, Ont., crossed the mile-wide Detroit River yesterday in two inner tubes.

The four, Robert Pattison, 13; Richard Fritch, 14; Robert Greenwood, 15, and John Rockett, 14, were returned home

Seek Bomb Slayer of Anti-Communist

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—A dark-haired foreigner with a Slavic accent was identified by West German police today as the bomb assassin of Matus Cernak, anti-Communist Slovak refugee leader and World War II collaborator with the Nazis.

The 50-year-old minister of culture in wartime Slovakia who became a foe of Czechoslovakia's present Red government was blown to bits when a 2½-pound parcel addressed to him exploded in a Munich post office yesterday.

An aged German housewife also was killed instantly. Thirteen other bystanders were injured.

SEOUL (AP)—A Defense Ministry spokesman said today the United States has tentatively agreed to support the creation of three more South Korean army reserve divisions.

This would increase the total South Korean ground force from 31 to 34 divisions. South Korea has one Marine and 20 army divisions on active duty. Ten army divisions are in reserve.

Freak Gun Accident Almost Kills Man

CRESCENT CITY, Calif. (AP) — Tom Mounts, doubly careful, put his .22 revolver in the glove compartment of his car and the cylinder in his shirt pocket.

He was reported in critical condition at Seaside Hospital.

Japanese Boy Commits Suicide After Scolding

A classmate who was walking the tracks with him said the boy screamed: "I want to die! I want to die!"

The reason, Asahi said, was that the boy, together with a dozen others, was scolded by his teacher for playing practical jokes.
