President Repeats 39 Traditional and Solemn Words of Faithfulness

PRESIDENT DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

Thousands of Citizens Watch 2nd Ceremony

Official Inauguration of Ike and Nixon Held Yesterday at the White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Dwight D. Eisenhower stands bareheaded on the spacious steps of the Capitol today and there repeats, in public, the oath of office he took privately yesterday when he officially began his second term.

The historic rite, simple but moving, starts at noon (EST).

The lawns and plaza in front of the white-columned speaker's stand provided seats for some and standing room for thousands of others expected to witness the ceremony.

Other thousands were ready to line the route taken by the President, Vice President Nixon, their wives, and a group of dignitaries, as they travel to and from the ceremonies. A mammoth parade waited to follow them.

Temperatures rose and were expected to stay in the 40s. But a threat of rain still hung over Washington. The forecast was for some rain both morning and evening, but little if any in the afternoon.

Regardless of the weather, however, the mighty throng—estimated at 750,000—was in high spirits, ready to honor Ike, and wish him well as he started four more years in the White House.

Among them was former President Hoover, for whom a seat was reserved in the presidential stand, sheltered from the weather. Former President Truman, although invited, said he was unable to be present.

The inauguration ceremonies were the focus of a gay, noisy swirling round of celebrations that have been building up for days.

They included the traditional parade, starting at 1:30 p.m., and continuing for at least 2½ hours, probably longer. The President asked that it be kept shorter this year than the 4½-hour march in 1953.

Still, the line of march provided places for 40 governors, 33 floats, 65 bands, a dozen drum and bugle corps, an elephant, and a 400-foot float along the Pennsylvania avenue route from the Capitol to the White House.

Eisenhower, in the parade's first section, had an elaborate reviewing stand from which to watch and receive the salutes of the marchers.

state displays. Others followed in order of their entry into it.

Tonight, starting at 9 o'clock, celebrants dined in diamonds and sables, white tie and tails, will gather in four huge ballrooms. The President and his lady, with their son and daughter-in-law, Major John and Barbara Eisenhower, planned to appear at all of them.

This climaxes scores of earlier festivities, vaudeville entertainment, the traditional inaugural symphony concert, and a jam-packed governors' reception for which lines stretched a half block outside the Statler Hotel.

FIRST CEREMONY

Eisenhower's first term officially ended—and his new one began—at noon yesterday. Well before that hour, at 10:28 a.m., he was sworn in for the second term at a private ceremony in the White House. Vice President Nixon took his oath two minutes earlier.

But because yesterday was Sunday, the formal inauguration ceremony (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

State Men in Top Roles

Michigan Prominent in Inaugural Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan religious and political leaders figured prominently today in the program for President Eisenhower's second inauguration.

Edward Cardinal Mooney, Roman Catholic archbishop of Detroit, was selected to give the benediction after the oath-taking on the steps of the Capitol.

Politics was laid aside as Michigan's fifth term Democratic governor, G. Mennen Williams, led the state's tribute to the re-elected Republican President.

Williams was assigned to ride in an open car at the head of Michigan units in the inaugural parade.

Behind the governor in the order of the march were the Detroit Post Office Band, Knights Templar from Detroit Commandery 1 and the Calumet, Mich., High School Drum and Bugle Corps.

Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, a Detroit, and Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield of Flint, had places of honor with other cabinet members in the presidential section of the parade.

Michigan had no float in the parade but the Knight Templars' commandery of 480 ostrich-plumed knights was one of the longest units.

FORMS 'PASSION CROSS'

The commandery's Drill Corps, headed by Capt. Gen. Robert J. Brooks, is considered one of the finest precision marching groups in the Masonic order. Its most dramatic maneuver is a "Passion Cross," formed as the commandery's band plays "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Karl H. Smith is head of the commandery. A past commander is Wilbur Brucker, Secretary of the Army and former governor of Michigan.

The Calumet High School Drum and Bugle Corps represents the second oldest reserve officers' training corps. It was organized in 1918. Calumet is in the heart of the Upper Peninsula's copper country so the 45 corpsmen are called the Copper Kings. Cadet Lt. Col. Daniel Rosemergy, 17, is he Mr. and Mrs. Summerfield, Secretary.

TO SEE SIGHTS

The Copper Kings plan to spend a few days sightseeing here before returning home. They are to be guests of Rep. Bennett (R-Mich.) at a breakfast Wednesday in the speaker's dining room at the capitol.

The Michigan units were spotted with those of 10 other states—Indiana, Illinois, Alabama, Maine, Missouri, Arkansas, Florida, Texas, Iowa and Wisconsin—in the fifth division of the parade with Secretary of the Air Force Quarles as division marshal.

Robert G. Robinson of St. Ignace, Mich., was among some 130 holders of the medal of honor—the nation's highest decoration (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Be Grateful for Small Favors; Pontiac Drizzle Ousts Zero Weather

A thick fog accompanied by drizzle and welcomed temperatures in the mid-30s invaded the Pontiac area today as residents were still talking about the 10-day siege of zero weather just departed.

The Weather Bureau, predicting that the mercury will average three degrees above normal for the next five days, is still keeping an eye on a second blizzard belt moving eastward out of the Rockies.

The rain or drizzle is expected to stay tonight and tomorrow, with tomorrow's readings to hover around the 34 to 38 degree mark. Tonight's low will be around 32 to 36 degrees.

The State Highway Dept. reported that a freezing mist in some areas and drizzle in others was producing generally slippery conditions on most state trunklines of the Upper Peninsula and in the north half of the Grand Rapids area of the lower peninsula.

REPORT 2 DEATHS

Large helpings of snow were falling over most of the North and Central Plains states. Two deaths have been attributed to the storm.

The upward plunge in temperatures showed its greatest climb in Pennsylvania and New York. In Albany, the mercury pulled out from a 1-below-zero drop up to 35.

Preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac, the lowest temperature was 34 degrees. At 1 p.m., the temperature was 40.

Feb. 28 Deadline Set for Waterford Taxes

Deadline for real estate tax payments is Feb. 28, according to Dorcus Tibbals, treasurer of Waterford Township. This does not include personal property tax, Mrs. Tibbals said.

The township hall is open Monday from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., and Tuesday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Marchers, Floats Stretch 6 Miles at Ike's Parade

WASHINGTON (AP)—In warm weather, six miles of marchers, musicians and multicolored floats assembled today for President Eisenhower's second inaugural parade.

The President himself, riding with Mrs. Eisenhower and his official family, was No. 10 in the line of march down Pennsylvania Avenue past stands built to seat 61,000 persons. There was room also for some 700,000 standees to view the parade.

The pace was 120 30-inch steps a minute, designed by Army technicians to move the 17,000 people, 34 paper-spangled floats, 65 bands, assorted trucks, tanks and guided missiles, and the GOP elephant mascot Miss Burma past the White House reviewing stand in less than 2½ hours.

"And we're going to do it," was one of the last things parade chairman Ed Carr said before he climbed into his No. 5 position alongside his Pentagon counterpart, Army Maj. Gen. John G. Van Houten.

Carr cut 6,000 persons from the number who participated in the 1953 inaugural, which lasted 4 hours and 39 minutes. He counted on that, plus tighter marshaling from a radio-TV-equipped "command post," to carry out an Eisenhower dictum to shorten things up.

The parade had a theme, "Liberty and strength through consent of the governed."

It had a $30,000 theme float 497 feet 8 inches long. That's half again as long as the Capitol is high. Actually, it's 12 floats hooked in tandem and pulled by two Army tractors of the type that hauls the 250 mm. atomic cannon.

The float depicts industrial production, atoms-for-peace, highways, scientific inquiry and other achievements of democracy's liberty and strength.

Many of the state floats carried out individual phases of that theme.

The armed services were showing off their missiles and mounted on a float, the Air Force's F104A Starfighter jet plane with a speed twice that of sound. The missiles had their teeth pulled. There was no explosive inside.

Following Eisenhower and the armed forces in the line of march came the 48 states and the territories, in the order of their entry into the Union. Most accepted the committee's invitation to send a governor, a float, a band and a marching unit.

Ex-Pontiac Resident Dies as Two Navy Jets Collide

Charles R. Walton, 38, a former Pontiac resident and sales executive for the Chrysler Corp. was one of two Naval Reserve officers killed yesterday when their jet fighters crashed after apparently locking wings near Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Also dead is Lt. Jerome H. Fishel, 33, of Urbana, Ill. The planes were on a training mission from Glenview, Ill. Air Station to Marimar, Calif., Naval Air Station in San Diego when their wings reportedly became entangled at an altitude of 1,000 feet.

Walton was said to have used his ejection seat in an effort to escape but was killed when his parachute failed to open. He was found one-half mile from the wreckage. The other pilot was found burned in the remains of his plane.

Walton, winner of the Navy Cross for action in World War II, was manager of the new car sales division for Chrysler in Chicago and formerly headed their Peoria, Ill. office.

A graduate of Pontiac High in 1936, he previously had attended Lincoln Junior High. He later spent one year at Cranbrook before going to Wheaton College.

Walton served two years in the Navy, in World War II, based on aircraft carriers in the Pacific. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Colin C. Joslyn Dies From Crash Injuries

Colin C. Joslyn, 55, of 6611 N. Beech-Daly Rd., Dearborn Township, died Saturday of injuries he received Jan. 9 when his car collided with a truck on U.S.-10 near Holly Rd.

Colin was first taken to Pontiac General Hospital but later was transferred to the Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn where he died.

Police said Joslyn met the truck head-on when he attempted to pass another vehicle.

Birmingham Tot Saved by Snow in Fall Under Car

Deep snow and heavily padded winter clothing saved the life of two-and-a-half-year-old Carol Traumann of Birmingham yesterday, when she slipped under a rear wheel of her father's car.

Alexander Traumann, 360 E. Frank St., was backing the family car from the garage when Carol wandered into the path and slipped. The wheel passed over her abdomen and forced the little tot deep into the snow.

Carol complained only of a "tummy ache" at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak, while mother and father had to be given sedatives. Physicians said Carol suffered only a minor laceration.

114 Democrats to Be Chosen

County Group to Pick Delegates to Convention for State Members

Oakland County Democrats will choose 114 state delegates at their convention Feb. 13 in the county office building, 1 Lafayette St.

An increased number of delegates will be named this year, said Carlos G. Richardson, chairman of the county Democratic committee, because there was an increase in the Oakland County vote at the last general election.

The delegates will attend the state convention in Grand Rapids Feb. 22 and 23 to nominate candidates for several state offices in the April 1 election.

On a local level, Richardson said, several townships have reported they will have full Democratic slates this spring, where in past years there were partial or no Democratic tickets.

State offices to be filled include state highway commissioner, superintendent of public instruction and three supreme court justices. A member of the State Board of Education will be elected, along with two members of the University of Michigan Board of Regents and two members of the State Board of Agriculture, governing body of Michigan State University.

Bloomfield Hills Plans 2 Schools

1 Junior High for 600, Elementary to Hold 500, to Face Quanton Road

The Bloomfield Hills Board of Education has completed an option for a 25-acre junior high school site fronting Quanton and Wing Lake roads and arranged a condemnation on an elementary site approximately one-quarter of a mile east of the junior high site, Eugene L. Johnson, superintendent of schools, has announced.

Johnson said the board expects to hire an architect for the junior high school soon with construction of the building to house 600 students to begin in the spring.

Completion of the building which will cost slightly in excess of a million dollars is slated for the fall of 1958.

A condemnation suit for an elementary site which is in the same area but fronts Quanton and Bailey roads will be held on Jan. 29, Johnson said. If the condemnation carries through, an elementary school will be built which will house between 400 and 500 students.

Bonds totalling $2,765,000 and recently sold to First of Michigan, a Detroit firm, will be used to buy these sites and build the buildings, Johnson said, with two more sites to be bought for future school use.

Veterinary Board Sets $3 Rabies Shot Price

The standard price charged by veterinarians to immunize dogs against rabies is less than that reported by The Pontiac Press Friday following a board of supervisors meeting.

Supervisors thought the price was $5. However, O. L. Smith, president of the Oakland County Veterinary Medical Assn., says the price is $3.

The matter came up when supervisors voted a special $2 price at county clinics for dog owners unable to afford the full standard price.

SUMMER OPENING NEARING—Nearly one year has elapsed since ground was broken for this city's new Public Safety Building. According to George Heenan, whose father, Leo J., designed the structure, work is "three weeks behind, but the completion date is hoped for around June or the first of July." Situated to the north of the City Hall, the $875,000 (including equipment) building will house the police department and garage, fire department offices, two municipal courts and chambers, and the city jail. Provisions have been made, as with the City Hall, to add a third floor connecting with the high structure shown on top of the building. This houses the radio and transmitter station and the prisoners elevator shaft. The building, financed from the city's capital improvement funds, is the second project in the Pontiac Civic Center.

President Repeats His Oath of Office

monies were delayed until today. The two oath-taking duplicated each other, but they provided a marked contrast.

About 80 persons witnessed the private ceremony.

Today, preceding the President and Vice President to the Capitol, a brilliant assemblage gathered—Supreme Court justices in velvet robes and skull caps, members of the House and Senate, diplomats representing many foreign nations, hundreds of distinguished men and women.

No reporters or press photographers recorded the scene in the White House. Today, it went out in thousands of written and spoken words, carried by wire, radio and television.

It was the first double ceremony since 1917. The date of Woodrow Wilson's second inaugural, in that year, also fell on a Sunday. Wilson also took the oath first in private, then repeated it in public.

The one today also altered a statistic in the history of the presidency. At 66, Eisenhower is the second oldest president to take the oath. In 1960, he would be the oldest man ever to occupy the White House.

UNUSUAL SITUATION

And the oath-taking brought together an unusual set of relationships among the four principals. Chief Justice Warren, himself a presidential candidate in 1952, administered the oath to the man who won out in that year and who later named Warren to the high court. Sen. William F. Knowlton and Sen. Richard B. Russell, Jr., who later named Warren to the high court, were in the audience. Johnson said, with two more sites to be bought for future school use.

Eisenhower and Nixon used the same Bibles today, and placed their hands on the same open pages, as they did in the White House.

By custom, the Vice President took the oath first.

Nixon used a 110-year-old family Bible. It was opened to the second chapter, fourth verse of Isaiah, which contains the words, "And they shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation."

Beneath the President's left hand was the Bible his mother gave him when he graduated from West Point in 1915. It was turned to the 12th verse of the 33rd Psalm—"Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord."

While touching it, Eisenhower repeated the classically simple oath:

"I, Dwight D. Eisenhower, do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution of the United States, so help me God."

FAMILIES PRESENT

The private ceremony was held in the East Room of the executive mansion. The President stood in the center of the room beneath a huge chandelier hanging from the 20-foot ceiling. Pink gladioli and ferns decorated windows and mantels of the four antique rug-marble fireplaces.

Most of the guests were members of the Eisenhower and Nixon families. They ranged in age from Mrs. Eisenhower's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud of Denver, 78, to Mary Jean Eisenhower, 10 months. She is the child of the president's son and daughter-in-law, Mary Jean was held in the arms of Mrs. John Mooney, wife of the President's Negro valet.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerly said the ceremony was a "private" as it was brief. A Navy photographer took the only pictures that were not in the press release.

Prior to the ceremony, Eisenhower and Nixon were at the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, where they were to be crowned as the patron saints of the United States.

MRS. JOHN H. STEWART

Appointed to Head City Hospital Annex

Miss Lauretta Paul, Pontiac General Hospital director, has named Mrs. John H. Stewart, 33, of 890 Argyle Ave., new assistant director in charge of the newly opened hospital annex.

Prior to her appointment, Mrs. Stewart served as assistant to the director of nursing service. In this capacity, she handled the administrative functions of the department.

She began her work at the city hospital in March 1948. She came here after more than two years at the Lexington Memorial Hospital in Lexington, N.C.

Mrs. Stewart served as assistant to the director until 1953 when she moved into the nursing service department.

A sister, Mrs. Charles O'Neal, is a Birmingham resident. The body will be transferred to a Birmingham funeral home with services to be announced.

Soil Conservation in Urban Areas Discussion Topic

The annual dinner-meeting of the Oakland County Soil Conservation district will be at 7:30 tomorrow night in the Independence Township Hall, 90 N. Main St., Clarkston. Jay Poffenberger, assistant county agricultural agent and corresponding secretary for the group, has announced.

Besides the scheduled election of directors, Robert R. Linck of Brown City, secretary-treasurer of the Michigan Assn. of Soil Conservation Districts will be the main speaker. His topic will concern the place of a soil conservation district in an urban area.

Also on the program will be Kenneth Brown, deputy superintendent of the Oakland County Schools as toastmaster, and William Middleton and Edward Bradd, both of the East Orion 4-H Club, with a demonstration.

Nominated for new director to be elected at the meeting are Harold Mitchell of Holly and Stanley Allen of Oxford.

Poffenberger said that any landowner or occupier of land in the county is eligible to vote for the new director.

Today at 5! Deadline for Pontiac Taxpayers

Today at 5 p.m. is the deadline for Pontiac taxpayers to pay their 1956 county taxes without penalty at the city treasurer's office.

A four per cent fee will be added to all delinquent taxes beginning tomorrow, Walter A. Giddings, city treasurer, said.

After Feb. 28, all unpaid taxes, plus city and school and special assessments, will be turned over to the county treasurer for collection.

Your Income Tax

This is one of a series of articles prepared by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service to help you prepare your Income Tax Return.

Further information on income tax problems is available, without cost, to taxpayers at the Internal Revenue Service office, 53½ West Huron St. Phone FE 3-0208.

YOU'RE WORTH $600

As a taxpayer you are entitled to at least a $600 deduction for your own personal exemption. In the event you became 65 years of age or were older during 1956, an extra $600 may be claimed as a deduction. If you are blind you can claim another $600 exemption.

How about the married folks? A husband and wife may file a joint return even though only one of them had income. If a joint return is filed, or the wife had no income, the same exemptions apply to the wife.

But suppose both spouses have gross income and they file separately? In that case a husband may not claim any of the wife's exemptions nor may the wife claim any of the husband's exemptions even though either spouse might have less than $600 of gross income. Usually it is to a married couple's advantage to file joint returns.

If married at the close of the year, you are considered married for the entire year and may file a joint return.

Poles Endorse Gomulka Rule

60 Per Cent of Voters Favor Return of Leader in National Balloting

WARSAW — More than 60 per cent of Poland's 17,449,000 voters appear to have endorsed Wladyslaw Gomulka's Communist leadership in the first popular test of his "communism without tyranny" policy.

Unofficial but reliable reports said more than 11 million of those voting yesterday for a new 459-member Parliament apparently cast the official ballot without change. Gomulka's regime had warned sternly against exercising the modest right to cross names off the Red-dominated single list of candidates.

About 16 million voters — nearly 90 per cent of those qualified — went to the polls. Both the Red hierarchy and the Roman Catholic Church had called for a big turnout.

The Communist-controlled Budapest radio claimed that 80 per cent of the electorate voted the straight ticket.

Official results are expected by Tuesday.

Those who refused to go along with Gomulka's regime struck off the names of candidates they did not like, unaccompanied by any direct official measures. Their protest vote did not alter the fact that Gomulka's United Workers (Communist) party will have a substantial majority in the new Parliament.

Gomulka, now 51, has advocated a course of some independence from Moscow dictation. He was swept into power three months ago in an upsurge that kicked out right Stalinists off the party's Politburo. Last week he joined visiting Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai in lambasting U.S. policy in the Middle East and endorsing the Soviet-installed regime of Premier Janos Kadar in Hungary.

Discuss Ways to Get Funds for Hospital

A preliminary three-hour discussion was held Saturday by a newly-appointed six member committee organized to seek means to raise $1,000,000 to help equip the new addition at Pontiac General Hospital.

"Means of raising the money were thoroughly discussed, but no conclusions were reached," Mrs. P. Eugene Miller, president of the hospital's Women's Auxiliary, said. The auxiliary will work in conjunction with the committee.

No chairman was named nor was a second meeting scheduled, said Mrs. Miller.

Overheated Register Causes $1,000 Blaze

An overheated register caused a $1,000 fire at 112 Mt. Clemens St. Sunday, according to Pontiac firemen.

The first started in the living room partition and spread upstairs in the two-and-one-half-story two-apartment home occupied by Connie Henderson and Hubert Questerns, firemen added. Owner of the building is Robert Heltsch, 337 W. Troquois.

The Day in Birmingham

Trauman's Bring Carol From Hospital Today

BIRMINGHAM — A happy Birmingham couple prepared this morning for a trip to the hospital to return their two-and-one-half-year-old daughter Carol home, after being run over yesterday by her father's car.

Mrs. Alexander Trauman of 360 East Frank, said that the children were preparing to go to Sunday School and had been told to wait on the porch while their father got the car.

She said Carol slipped away from the other two and running behind the car, fell under the rear wheel which passed over her body.

"I don't know" Mrs. Trauman said "whether it was the snow, her heavy snow suit, or one of God's miracles that saved her life. We were all badly shaken by the accident and are still amazed that our little girl suffered no more than slight lacerations on her stomach."

The Traumans said that they themselves were not attending church yesterday since they were preparing for guests coming from Mexico.

"We were trying to get ready for them," Mrs. Trauman laughed today, "but believe me there was little preparation done when you come right down to it. They shared our anxiety and thankfulness instead of a specially prepared dinner."

Another light agenda appears to be in the offering for Birmingham City commissioners tonight. Among the new items to appear before the group will be discussion of the Royal Oak Chamber of Commerce proposal to relocate the county seat from Pontiac to Royal Oak.

Additional information on the 12 Towns relief drain, the north Evergreen sewage disposal and the Red Run Drain enclosure also will come before the group. They will discuss the tree planting program to reach a definite decision as to whether or not they will continue planting in the vicinity of certain business establishments. Service station operators have particularly objected to the trees saying signs are hidden and costs them considerable transient trade.

J. Edgar Hoover Becomes 'Mr. FBI'

the FBI in matters not handled personally by Hoover.

Nichols is an assistant to the director, a title also held by the No. 4 man, Leland V. Boardman, 47.

Below Tolson, Nichols and Boardman, the six assistant directors who are the operating chiefs of the divisions are: Identification, C. Lester Trotter, 41; Training and Inspection, Quinn Tamm, 46; Administrative, John P. Mohr, 46; Domestic Intelligence, Alan H. Belmont, 49; Investigative, Alex Rosen, 51; Laboratory, Donald J. Parsons, 47.

NO YES-MEN

These men did not reach their positions by being yes-men. They arrived by being willing to accept hard work, make decisions and take on responsibilities while submerging their own personalities in the FBI.

They push themselves harder than they do their subordinates. It isn't unusual for them to work 12 or even 15 hours a day. They do it because there is work to be done — and their work comes first.

In the conference room, each executive is expected to say what he thinks, whether the problem deals with his own work or the work of someone else. But he had better be ready to defend the position he takes, and have his reasons ready.

These are strong-willed men and there are, at times, clashes of opinion.

But when these men walk out of the conference room, they walk out as a team. The decisions have been made and each man knows where he is going and what he is to do.

Their shoulder-to-shoulder teamwork is one of the keys to the FBI's reputation for unity and efficiency.

LITTLE TURNOVER

Employees would find fewer pressures, easier work and often more money if they left the FBI and took other jobs. But despite the strict discipline, constant supervision and demand for better-than-average performance, the FBI has an amazingly low turnover in personnel.

More than one-fourth of the almost 14,000 employees have been with the Bureau 10 years or longer. And more than one third of the special agents have been employed for at least 10 years.

Since March 25, 1918, Helen W. Gandy has been Hoover's secretary and in 1939 she was designated Executive Assistant to the Director.

Awarding Miss Gandy a scroll at the end of 35 years of service, Hoover called her "the truly indispensable person in the FBI."

No FBI agent comes to the office in the morning wondering "What shall I do today?" He knows what he is going to do because he laid out his work schedule the night before. If it wasn't done the night before, then he must get to the office early and get it done.

Bob Considine Says:

Nixon Ages Under Rockwell Brush

WASHINGTON (INS) — Things I never knew until I invested one dollar (tax included) in a slick 48-page document named "Official Program — 43rd Inauguration — 1957."

Norman Rockwell's cover makes Dick look older than Ike. . . the first home the Eisenhowers had after their marriage was a two-room quarters at Fort Sam Houston. The Nixons first lived in a small apartment across the Potomac River in Alexandria, Va., when he entered national politics in 1947 . . . the first inaugural ball was held in the spring of 1789, "when gentlemen in powdered wigs and handsomely gowned ladies danced the minuet before George and Martha Washington . . . it was held at a dance hall on Broadway, not Roseland.

President Harrison in 1841 established the practice of multiple inaugural balls. Wilson would have nothing to do with these fetes at all, and Harding, Coolidge and Hoover followed suit. F. D. R. restored the practice.

Jackson invited the mob home to the White House after taking the oath of office and it returned his kindness by stripping the curtains off the windows, cutting the cloth from the chairs and stealing the silverware. Great vats of booze were taken out on the White House lawn to lure the vandals out of doors, so the doors could be locked and the windows bolted.

WHOOPEE IT UP

The people must have whooped it up real good when G. Washington placed his hand on the Bible and promised to "preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States." The program notes "the cheering of the people in the street below (Federal Hall, NYC) nearly drowned out the President's voice. Cannon roared. Church bells pealed. It was a joyous occasion for all but Washington himself, who seemed almost overwhelmed by the responsibility he had taken upon his shoulders.

Lincoln, gaunt and haggard, stood on the steps of the unfinished capital on March 4, 1861, and said to the South: "In your hands, my dissatisfied fellow countrymen, and not in mine, is the momentous issue of civil war. The government will not assail you. You can have no conflict without being yourself the aggressors."

"You have no oath registered in heaven to destroy the government, while I shall have the most solemn one to 'preserve, protect and defend' it." A month later, Fort Sumter was fired upon. A month after his momentous second inaugural address "with malice toward none, with charity for all, etc." he was dead.

President Eisenhower's deeply religious nature is reflected in the program. There is one rather poignant picture of him, taken at Pittsburgh Oct. 9, 1956, as he was about to say:

"No one man—certainly not I—nor any political party could ever truthfully pretend that his efforts—or its efforts—alone can bring all good things to pass. But I dare speak a simple belief and—a simple prayer. I would dare believe that history may say that, during the years of my first administration, the faith of our people in the growth of peace and of justice grew steadily stronger.

"And I would pray that—if it be the people's will that I continue my present service—the years of my second administration may prove that—thanks to the labor of all Americans—this faith was justified."

Arab infiltration recognized as serious danger

Arab Youth Desires Firm, Clearcut Western Policy

The young, Western-educated Arab slammed his fist on the table in anger.

HELP KIDNEYS FIGHT BACKACHE

There is nothing that can make you feel older and more depressed than losing sleep and worrying about "Bladder Weakness" (Getting Up Night or Bed Wetting, too frequent, burning and itching urination) or Strenuous Urine, due to common Kidney or Bladder Irritation, which sometimes result in Backache, miserable referred, secondary aches, pains, headache and nervousness. In such cases New Improved CYSTEX usually gives quick, wonderful, soothing relief by combating germs in acid urine, and by analgesic pain relief. Over a billion CYSTEX tablets used prove safety for young and old. Get CYSTEX from drugist today. Money-back guarantee.

"How long," he demanded, "must I go on being ashamed for my own people? How long must I go on despising the rulers of my own country?"

My young friend—call him Sa'ad—frankly described himself as a member of the growing group of young people calling themselves the "Mutathemurin"—the disgusted ones of Iraq.

"You Americans speak of a vacuum here. It is not military. The young people of the Arab world will make its future for better or worse. You must help give them something to look forward to."

Will he welcome the Eisenhower doctrine?

If it means there will eventually be a clearcut American policy in the Middle East, Sa'ad will welcome the statement. He feels the absence of a common Western policy in the Middle East permitted Communist infiltration. The Communists made such strides that the Arab nations, recognizing the danger, outlawed the party and jailed Red leaders.

For Sa'ad and many like him, the President laid too much stress on military action and showed too little inclination to face up to the facts of life.

Both Arabs and Israelis have indicated that above all else they need a period of quiet—freedom from the interminable tension.

The danger is this: Not a single Arab state in the Middle East can offer its people a firm promise of security. Not an Arab state in the area—possibly excepting Lebanon—can lay claim to any stability.

In addition, the Arab sense of injustice at the creation of Israel, and the sense of frustration at the superiority of Israel's military, economic and social life, add yeast to the growing ferment.

Arab leaders aware of this are frightened by the thought.

Most Arab leaders agree there is a Russian danger. It can be checked, they insist, not by Western domination but only by co-operation.

"Make us sufficiently strong to defend our own internal fronts and we will call on you if necessary to defend our frontiers," they are telling the United States.

"If we could wait for the dust to settle," one Arab leader told me recently, "if we could turn our backs on the problem of Palestine for a while, perhaps in five years or so we no longer would be in fear of Israel. Perhaps we could even live together with Israel."

Ike's Aviation Adviser Predicting Supersonic Plane Travel in Decade

DETROIT (AP)—An experimental atomic-powered airliner will be flying by 1975.

That's the report yesterday from Edward P. Curtis, President Eisenhower's aviation adviser.

In a talk before the closing session of the society of automotive engineers convention, Curtis said that supersonic air travel is also in the offing.

Engineers will be able, before 1975, to design and build supersonic jet-powered aircraft, he said, but operating costs will be higher than present aircraft.

Should such a plane be developed, he said, it would fly at 2 or 2½ times the speed of sound—about 1,500 or 1,800 miles per hour—at altitudes of about 55,000 feet.

"Sometime during this period at least a prototype of a nuclear-powered aircraft will undoubtedly be developed," he said.

Curtis said the White House study group he is directing into U.S. air needs in the next 20 years should complete its work shortly.

Curtis said that the survey would give airport operators a reasonably accurate estimate on the numbers and types of aircraft that will be operating in the next two decades and should be helpful in designing an adequate traffic control system.

Credit union laws have been enacted in 42 of the states. Massachusetts is generally credited with having the first such law in about 1908.

How to meet his future needs...
now!

Just now, you may be confident that you will have the money for the education of your children. But who can prophesy what your situation will be in the 1970's? The answer is: You do not have to be a prophet.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company has a new, flexible plan which can help you guarantee your children's future. It is called the Education-Estate Builder, and if you have young children, it can help to solve many of your future financial problems. The Education-Estate Builder works this way:

You take out insurance on the life of your son or daughter which provides, say, $1,000 a year for each of the four years of college. Then, when your child is ready for college, the money for college will be ready, too!

On the other hand, if the money is not needed for college or some other purpose, then each $1,000 of the Education insurance will become $5,000 of Limited Payment Life insurance for the same premium. The Life insurance then starts out with a cash value equal to the Educational Fund.

The Life insurance will become paid up in a limited number of years, the exact period varying according to your children's ages when the policy was taken out and when it becomes Limited Payment Life. If the decision is made to continue the insurance, no evidence of insurability as to physical condition or occupation will be required.

Under this plan, a $4,000 Educational Fund may thus become a $20,000 life insurance estate. Think how you would have liked such a nest egg at the beginning of your career!

This is a completely new Educational Plan which gives greater flexibility in planning your children's future than ever before. It can help to guarantee funds for education, or establish a sizable Life insurance estate at an early age when cost is low.

Your Metropolitan Representative will be glad to show you how this plan can be adapted to your particular needs. He will welcome the opportunity to prove that...

Salt Lake's Trestle
Is Among Largest

SALT LAKE CITY — One of the longest railroad trestles in the world is a heavy timber structure spanning Utah's Great Salt Lake. The trestle, called one of the engineering wonders of the world when it was completed in 1904, is still in excellent condition. Engineers say it has another 25 years of useful life.

3-Year-Old Girl
Dies of Burns

Tot Loses Long Battle; Skin Grafts Unable to Save Child's Life

CHICAGO (U) — Plucky Cindy Evans has lost her two-month battle against burns which seared about 70 per cent of her small body.

The 3-year-old Decatur, Ill., girl died last night in her sleep in Children's Memorial Hospital. She was scorched from her neck to her knees when her dress caught fire while she was playing near a stove in her home Nov. 27.

On Dec. 28 doctors performed a delicate skin graft. They said the 4½-hour operation was her only hope for life.

The skin was from another 3-year-old, Gilbert Case III, of Chicago. The little boy was killed in an auto crash during the Christmas holiday and his parents offered the skin to the girl.

"I'll pray it will help," said Mrs. Genevieve Case.
Physicians said the boy's skin could not replace the dead tissue but would help prevent infection and loss of body fluid until Cindy's own skin began to grow. Only skin from an identical twin will grow on another person's body. Skin from a person not a twin will soon slough off, doctors said.

A week later doctors transplanted skin from unburned portions of Cindy's lower legs to her forearms and lower chest.

The operations were termed successful. Although Cindy remained on the critical list she apparently was responding to treatment.

In the last few days, however, doctors expressed "increased concern" for her recovery.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Evans, have five other children and are expecting another child in May. They had left the hospital a few hours before Cindy died.

Jet Tankers
Would Cut Hours
Off World Trip

WASHINGTON (U) — If jet tanker planes had been available, three B52 bombers could have clipped about six hours from the time it took them to circle the globe last week.

That is the estimate of Lt. Col. James H. Morris of San Antonio, Tex., who piloted one of the three heavy jet aircraft more than 24,000 miles in 45 hours and 19 minutes.

Morris told newsmen the bombers could have "kept right on going" if that had been necessary. He voiced the opinion that the B5's range, when refueled in flight, is limited only by the physical endurance of the men who fly it.

During their round-the-world journey, the B52s were refueled at intervals by KC97 tanker planes which are driven by conventional non-jet engines. To take on fuel from these tankers, the heavy jets must slow down and drop to 20,000 feet — the maximum altitude that can be reached by loaded KC97s.

The B52s also lose time in climbing back to their normal cruising level, which on this flight was between 35,000 and 50,000 feet.

In response to a question, Morris said "about six hours" could have been saved if the B52s could have been refueled by the new KC135 jet tankers, now in production.

Blaze Kills Father, Son; Wife Rescued

DECATUR, Ill. (U) — A young father perished yesterday in his blazing second-floor apartment after aiding his wife and infant son to leap safely into the arms of bystanders.

The body of Vernon Leon True, 25, was found in the charred rubble. Firemen said the $20,000 blaze was started by a gas explosion in the basement.

True's wife Judith, 20, told police she was awakened by the blast and roused her husband. Carrying their son Kevin Leon, 6 weeks, they attempted to escape by the stairs but were driven back by the heat.

Members of the football team at nearby Millikin University caught Mrs. True and her son without injury. True apparently was overcome as he attempted to reach another window.

Shift Naval Command to Offices in London

WASHINGTON (U) — The Pentagon announced today that U. S. Navy headquarters in London will take over direct command of American naval forces in Germany, effective June 30.

The announcement said the organizational change "does not involve the movement of any forces."

At the same time, the Defense Department said the Navy's advance base at Bremerhaven is being transferred gradually to the West German navy "on planned schedule."

In addition to the Bremerhaven base, the Navy command in Germany has included the U. S. Rhine River patrol.

Adrian President Talks

Dr. Dawson's topic was "Christian Hands."

Beginning with a hymn sing at 5:45 p.m. the Bible exposition was presented by Dr. John L. Cheek. Members of the host church served refreshments during the social hour.

GEE
DEEP-MINED
Kentucky Egg

THE CLEANER, HOTTER-BURNING COAL

Kentucky Egg is more economical because it gives you more in warmth, more heat, more comfort, more cleanliness. Cool, like every other commodity, is available in many kinds and qualities. Some coals burn quickly, give little heat, an abundance of ashes and dirty, bothersome clinkers and soot stringers.

But, this is not so with GEE deep-mined, clean Kentucky Egg Coal. Its high combustion point makes it one of the cleanest burning fuels obtainable. It is clinkerless, leaves no soot stringers and very little ash. Yet, you get 15,000 BTU's to every pound, which means an abundance of heat with no waste!

Life Replaces Apathy in Hospital Wards

Show Biz Comes to Aid of Veterans

By LEE CARSON
NEW YORK (INS)—Looking into the ward the men seemed strangely quiet. There was little if any conversation. Those in wheelchairs didn't move about. Apathy, like an anesthetic, stilled all life.

It took a great deal of effort to down an odd reluctance to disturb them. For time had been stopped by a bullet for these men.

These were the men, and the women, who had been left behind as the armies of democracy swept to victory in Europe, in the Pacific, and in Korea. Some would never leave the shining, antiseptic wards, halls and day-rooms. Some would, only to return.

Others had reached the point where they did not want to leave. This was safe. This was all. The clock had stopped. The band has ceased playing, the guests had departed and they were stranded here in this efficient, well-intentioned institution and hundreds of others like it throughout the nation.

They take meticulous care of our veterans. They do what they can, with the aid of various services like the Red Cross, to alleviate the terrible apathy and boredom.

SHOW BIZ HELPERS

But until a small group, formed within show biz itself, called the Veterans Hospital Radio Guild, literally barged into the veterans' hospitals and insisted that they make like actors, writers, producers and directors, all efforts to bring the wounded in body and mind back into the mainstream of life had failed quietly but with awful finality.

Basket-weaving, leather-plaiting, cheery little shows displaying the talents of both hopefuls and successful have their limitations. The vets were left outside and knew it.

The feeling of hopelessness and uselessness were only accentuated by the futility of both basket-weaving and the occasional invasions of "shows for our boys."

It took a small group of professional writers, actors and producers to arrive at the conclusion that

No Non-Holiday Day?

WASHINGTON — A booklet published by the United States Chamber of Commerce lists more than 300 business-promotion events, legal holidays, and religious observances for 1957.

Among the more unusual and interesting causes are: Tax Freedom Holiday, Save The Horse Week, Old-stove Roundup, Cat Week ("Help Save America's Cats — Adopt A Cat"), National Dog Week, and Mother-in-Law Day.

real friendship is a perfect blend of mutual fun.

Under the guidance of Alex Kramer, a most successful songwriter and member of ASCAP, the Veterans Hospital Radio Guild got under way. Funds came from passing the hat and wheeling a little tax money from the networks. Volunteers came from every facet of the entertainment industry.

On the day I saw one of these volunteer units in action, the quiet of the ward was literally shattered as the small group of VHRG sashayed in, armed with scripts, music and a tape recorder.

The apathy melted under wide grin and enthusiastic questioning. Under the bandages, the pains, the deep-hidden fears and anxieties, lay hidden the hambone in us all.

TALENT RECRUITED

With the help of the VHRG volunteers, whose number includes top-flight actors, actresses, script writers, directors and producers, the veterans in some eight hospitals reachable from New York City only on radio shows line up talent from their own wards, stage such plays as "Caine Mutiny," and have a very outgoing good time.

There have been startling instances of self-recovery among the ill and wounded. A very handsome young Marine who was a difficult and withdrawn patient at Halloran Hospital not too many months ago is now a popular disc jockey in a Texas town.

The fact that he is a paraplegic doesn't bother him one bit. He learned the platter-and-chat routine through a VHRG team.

There are thousands of stories. But the real story is the small group of hard-working professionals in show business who care enough throughout the weeks, months and years, to let the veterans know they not only aren't forgotten but that a place in the sun awaits them.

U.S. Shipbuilding High

NEW YORK — The United States now has under way the largest peacetime shipbuilding program in history. Last August there were 58 ocean-going merchant ships, including seven passenger vessels, being constructed, reconditioned, reconverted, or on order. For fiscal 1957 about $505,000,000 worth of new work, involving some 56 ships, is expected.

There are about 10,000 recognized species of the bacilli in the world.

Their round of inaugural activities began with a luncheon Saturday at the Hotel Statler, given by the Citizens for Eisenhower committee. Sunday they attended a reception for governors and other dignitaries.

Joffrey Theater Dancers Perform at Waterford

By FLORA WAGER

The Robert Joffrey Theater Dancers entertained members of the Waterford Civic Music Association with a varied program Saturday evening.

Straight from Broadway, the cast of five women and three men presented a program of classical, modern and musical comedy dancing. It was easy to see from Saturday's performance why Mr. Joffrey's Broadway productions are sold out in advance.

The first group, "Le Bal," with music by Ghabler, was an interpretation of three diverse compositions, representing the classical period of ballet. The first movement was the humorous and sentimental "March Joyeuse" poking fun at the popular march-like dance music of the turn-of-the-century in Paris.

The well known "Habanera" admirably depicted the rendezvous of a lady and her three escorts. The popular "Espana" made up the third movement of this group, with a lively potpourri of Spanish dances and rhythms.

In this group were Dianne Consoer, Francoise Martinet, Brunilda Ruiz, Beatrice Thompkins, John Wilson, Gerald Arpino and Glen Tetley.

Nest on the program was "Grand Pas de Deux," featuring Helenka Devon and Gerald Arpino in a duet with music by Tchaikovsky played by John Wilson at the piano. This difficult number was performed with lissome grace and beauty.

Representing the dramatic type of dance, with a freer style of movement, was "Within Four Walls." The musical score was composed by Mr. Wilson with a contemporary treatment of Stephen Foster's simple melodies.

"A Young Man," danced by Gerald Arpino, remembers a succession of events—childhood, dreams of a crime of honor when "The Intruder," Glen Tetley steals his fiancée, Dianne Consoer, and his loneliness when rejected by his mother, Beatrice Thompkins, his father, John Wilson and a family friend, Matilda Ruiz.

After intermission, "Pas Des Deuses" showed the dancers in poses duplicating the famous lithograph of 1864 by Chalon. This was choreographed as a charming period piece showing the qualities which made famous the great 19th century dancers—Graham, Cecile and Taglioni.

The music was adapted entirely from original and rare compositions of the Irish composer John Field. John Wilson at the piano showed again his mastery of music as well as ballet. According to Robert Joffrey, this number represented the Romantic Period of ballet.

The last group, "Kaleidoscope," was a modern ballet of musical comedy type, presenting the dancers in a constantly changing pattern of solos and ensemble numbers, to the melodies of the George Gershwin. The finale of "Kaleidoscope" was the "Piano Variations on 'I Got Rhythm,'" known as "The Third Rhapsody," a tour de force of imaginativeness.

The troupe travels in its own bus, bringing with it a complete wardrobe and stage properties.

Carol Benson who invited her neighborhood friends for the event, Tammy Mahar of Crane street and Monica Ann Benson of South Tilden avenue.

mer, Glen Tedcastle and Neil Sommer, all neighbors of the Bensons on Old Orchard drive.

BIRMINGHAM—Between 70 and 80 guests walked into the R. D. B. Moynahan home on Bonnie Briar road Saturday afternoon, ostensibly for cocktails but actually to hear news of the engagement of Kathryn Ann Moynahan and Phillip John Fowler.

Phillip, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Fowler of Lakepark avenue, attended Michigan State University. Kathie also attended State. Their wedding date will be announced later.

Additional news in the Moynahan family concerns tiny Pamela Jean Dostal, who was born on Jan. 4 and whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Neil C. Dostal (Mary Louise Moynahan) of Bloomfield Hills.

With these matters of import checked off their personal calendar, Mr. and Mrs. Moynahan say they feel free to take off the end of this month for Houston, Texas.

They'll be houseguests there of Mrs. H. I. Stahlman, before going on to Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Mrs. John Eisenhower, daughter-in-law of the President, and Mrs. John Doud, mother of Mamie Eisenhower, pose in gowns they'll wear at the inaugural ball tonight. Mrs. Eisenhower's gown is strapless shell pink satin with panier skirt and net flowing from under-skirt with self-bow trimming end of back satin panel. She will wear a Canadian white fox stole with the gown. Mrs. Doud's dress is purple chiffon with miteria back drape flowing from shoulder to hipline.

Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower poses in her inaugural gown of citron colored lace over net and matching taffeta. The backsweep fullness is accented by a sweep of matching taffeta. The entire dress is embroidered in tiny pearls, iridescent, soft, yellow crystal drops and translucent topaz. The yellow beaded bag has a raised "M" on one side and "1957" on the other. She will wear a three-strand necklace of pale yellow pearls with matching bracelet and earrings.

Debutante Cherishes Floral Gift

Eisenhowers Send Rosebud Corsage to Ann Brownell

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Among the souvenirs of her debutante days most cherished by winsome Ann Brownell, daughter of Atty. Gen. and Mrs. Herbert Brownell, is a corsage of tiny pink rosebuds in a lace paper doily frame sent her by President and Mamie Eisenhower.

Ann made her bow to Washington society in palatial Anderson House where her sister, Joan, was presented two years ago. The same orchestra played for the dancing in the same pink marble ballroom.

Ann wore the same dress her sister wore, billowing white marquisette over a pink underskirt, an appliqued white silk, cap-sleeved, round-necked bodice.

Mrs. Brownell calls it the "deb dress." Joan, too, had a corsage of tiny rosebuds in a lace paper doily frame, also sent by Ike and Mamie.

Anne, tall and blonde in contrast to her brunette sister, now is attending Swarthmore College after graduating from the Orme Ranch School in Mayer, Ariz., near a family vacation spot.

Her escort for the coming-out shindig was good-looking Bruce Hagerty, son of Presidential Press Secretary James Hagerty.

Other young blades in the stag-line included John Dewey, son of former New York Gov. and Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey, and Jim and Roger Rankin, sons of Solicitor General and Mrs. J. Lee Rankin.

HER HANDS FULL

Mrs. Brownell has had her hands full. Daughter Joan's marriage with all its attendant hoopla took place only a few weeks before Ann's debut. Joan is Mrs. James Beagan and lives in Philadelphia.

Speaking of the season's debs, the variety of flowers flown in for the coming-out ball of lovely Anne Thomas, daughter of Democratic Rep. and Mrs. Albert Thomas of Houston, Tex., was none other than "The Yellow Rose of Texas."

They were arranged in huge glued fans decorating the ballroom.

To carry out the color scheme, Anne's mother wore a handsome beige lace gown embroidered in brown and gold paillettes and beads.

Cream Corn Makes Good Pancakes

Mrs. Herveat Says Her Boys Delight in Griddle Cakes

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor
Corn Oysters make a good winter meal. Children love them. And they are so easy to make.

Mrs. Leah Herveat is today's cook. Her friends will be happy to know that she is feeling better after being confined to her home for many months with illness. She is unable to participate in her usual activities these days, but does a lot of knitting.

CORN OYSTERS

By Mrs. Leah Herveat

1 can cream style corn
1 egg
2 tablespoons melted butter
Salt and pepper
Flour
Mix corn, egg, melted butter and seasonings. Add enough flour to make a thin batter like a pancake batter. Fry like pancakes on a hot griddle. Makes about 10 medium sized oysters.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. R. Phillips on Summit street.

Church Groups Meet for Dinner

A cooperative dinner and meeting of the Gleaners and Loyal Men's Classes of Central Christian Church was held Thursday evening in Friendship Hall. Devotions were led by the Rev. G. W. Gibson.

Mrs. Gibson accompanied the group during community singing. Dishes, clothing and pictures of earlier eras added atmosphere to the "Old Fashioned Party" enjoyed during the social hour. Mrs. Roy Riley and Mrs. J. H. Moon were in charge of games.

Mrs. Leonard Carter, Mrs. Maggie Bailey and Mrs. John Brewer were hostesses for the evening.

Overeating Doesn't Build Up Your Strength

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Thousands of women already have begun their eight-week self-improvement Marathon and thousands more will be starting soon, to see how much they can improve themselves in eight weeks' time.

and a jazz band enthusiast at another. She is serious or whimsical, warm or witty, depending on her mood and on the occasion.

a woman fascinating and life exciting for those around her, but it is a guarantee that she will have many interests in different fields, she therefore will lead a most rewarding life.

is her infinite variety; the snow-covered earth and then suddenly a crocus peeping through; the searing heat of summer and then all at once, the first frost of fall; the quiet, deathly stillness just before the big blow of a hurricane; the bare, dark trees and then the very first blush of spring.

I feel sure that many women who are capable of change of mood do not invest in this talent. Because of inertia or the press of living, fatigue or discouragements and stresses of all sorts, they allow their personalities to settle as firmly and implacably as concrete.

SURPRISE FAMILY
If you feel that this has happened to you, one way to begin the reconditioning is to surprise your family with a new viewpoint or a laughter. The members of your family may fall off their chairs but they will be glad to do so!

We can get out of our mental straightjackets or at least get one of a new shape! We can surprise and jubilate our family with sudden sunshine after the storm we blew up, rather than go about looking glum for hours afterward. The fun of watching their astonishment and gratitude makes the whole thing fun and gets us on the road to more variety.

If you would like our leaflet "Hobbies," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 66 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Keep Chart of Activities; May Discover Bad Habits."

Many women on the Marathon seek to decrease only one measurement. This girl is making large circles with her leg to decrease her thigh measurement.

Study Careers From All Angles

By ANNE HEYWOOD
What can you do if you have no idea which of several fields you are really interested in? How do you get information about what a field is really like?

The usual method, of course, is reading books on the subject and talking to people in the field. Both are fine, but in mind certain reservations.

First, read books about the fields you are interested in, certainly, but don't pay too much attention to the chapters on "Qualifications Needed."

As a rule, the authors of such books have an abiding, if subconscious, feeling that only they, and a handful of other highly gifted people, can succeed in the field. This, of course, is perfect nonsense.

If Shakespeare had read a book on playwriting, and especially the chapter on qualifications needed, he might never have written a play.

So just read for information about the field, and nothing else.

Generally, people are willing to talk to you, briefly, about their field. A polite letter, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and asking for a brief appointment, will usually work, unless it hits a successful person at a rush period in his business, or unless he is very well-known and constantly being bothered.

STICK TO SUBJECT

When you do see him, try to keep him on the subject of what the work is like, not on what it takes to get into it. The more he describes it, the better you'll be able to decide if you're interested.

Worry about how you're to get into it after you know what you want to get into!

A third good method is to read some of the trade magazines, that is, the magazines devoted to news of a particular field.

Every business, from baking to electronics, has its own magazine, written for and by the people in the field. Your local librarian will help you uncover it.

Sending for a copy or two, and really studying them, will give you a good idea of what the field is like.

Fourth, the trade associations in any field can be helpful, too.

All the major companies in any field usually band together and have an association, dedicated to furthering the interests of the field. Many of them put out booklets and other educational material, telling about their field.

There is an inexpensive directory of trade associations which your library may have. If not, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll tell you how to get it.

Marriage Won't Change Man's Basic Personality

Wives Shouldn't Expect Husbands to Make Themselves Over for Love

By RUTH MILLETT

Wives are always deciding that if a husband loved them, he wouldn't do this or he would do that.

But love doesn't change a person's character or personality to such an extent that he changes all his habits and ways of thinking.

A lazy young man doesn't become an ambitious hard worker just because he takes a wife. He may talk big when he is trying to win a girl but after marriage he'll settle down into being himself.

A self-centered, selfish man doesn't change completely into a thoughtful, considerate husband just because he loves the woman he married. If he has always thought first of himself, the habit isn't likely to change.

A man who can't resist a pretty face won't suddenly become blind to other women's attractions simply because he has a pretty wife at home.

He may be true to her for the rest of his life but he isn't going to wear blinders to keep from taking a second look at a pretty girl.

A quick-tempered, irritable man isn't going to suddenly turn into a calm, deliberate person simply because life would run smoother for his wife if he could learn to take things as they come. However much he loves her, he isn't likely to change his disposition to make her happy.

That is why any girl who is thinking of marrying ought to be sure she wants to take him "as is" and not hope for the miracle of love to change him.

Men will do a lot of things for love but not often will they change themselves. Any wife who thinks, "If he loved me he wouldn't do such and such" is forgetting that fact.

Guest Skips One Party for Another

Hostess Is Hurt by Refusal of Invitation to Annual Affair

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "For the past six or seven years friends of ours have given a New Year's Eve party to which my husband and I have always been invited. This year a business friend of my husband's gave a big New Year's Eve dance at the club and invited my husband and me. We accepted the invitation.

"A few days later our friend called and invited us to the annual party. I told her that we had accepted another invitation for that evening and wouldn't be able to come.

"She seemed very surprised that we had accepted another invitation. I have seen her once or twice since then and she acts very cold. Will you please tell me if she has cause to be hurt?"

Answer: If you could easily have gone to both parties then it would be perfectly proper to have accepted the invitation. Otherwise, you certainly owed it to the person who has always welcomed you and who counted on your presence at her party.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am about to buy some new stationery. I have always used plain white paper with a monogram. I'm a little tired of this and would like a color for a change. Will you please tell me what colors are considered in best taste?"

Answer: Blue is the one and only color that is unquestionably approved by fastidious taste—for men as well as women. Violet is permissible for women only, and of course, gray, which is not really a color.

"Dear Mrs. Post: In writing thank-you notes to relatives of my fiancé as yet unknown to me, should I begin the messages with 'Dear Aunt Mary' or 'Dear Mrs. Smith'?"

Answer: Ask your fiancé what you should do. It is likely that he will tell you to call them what he does.

MRS. RICHARD E. HOEHNER

400 Attend Church Rite Held Saturday Evening

In the presence of 400 guests Saturday evening, Jacqueline May Downer became the bride of Richard Edmund Hoehner. The ceremony was performed in St. Trinity Lutheran Church by the Rev. Oscar Gerkin of St. Mathew Lutheran Church, Walled Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. John V. Downer of North Sanford street are parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund J. Hoehner of Westacres are Richard's parents.

For the candlelight ceremony, the altar was decorated with white pom-poms and snapdragons.

The bride wore a gown of French lace hand embroidered with sequins and seed pearls. The gown was fashioned with a modified V neckline, long hand tapered sleeves and a basque waistline.

The skirt featured a front and back panel of lace with a bouffant skirt of nylon tulle worn over a bell hoop. The skirt extended to a chapel train.

Her headpiece, a princess crown of seed pearls and rhinestones, secured a fingertip veil of illusion. The only jewelry was a single strand of pearls and small earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

She carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations and stephanotis centered with a red garnet rose.

Helen Schmidt of Birmingham was maid of honor. Other bridal attendants were Mrs. Jack Steinheper of Dearborn, Anne DeFlorio of Commerce, Janet Leonhardt and Geraldine Leonhardt of Detroit.

They were gowned alike in white nylon chiffon with quilted red velvet bodice trim. The ballerina-length skirts were worn over a hoop. They carried red velvet muffs pinned with white carnation corsages.

Jane Marsh, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a floor-length gown of white nylon tulle and French lace and satin ribbon trim. She carried a basket of red rose petals.

Glen Dick of Walled Lake was best man. Ushers were Robert Olsen of Detroit, Dave Couture, Albert Bryant and Gerald Turpin of Walled Lake. Richard Steinheper of Dearborn was ringbearer.

A reception was held at the Helene Hall of St. George Greek Orthodox Church. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Downer wore a navy blue silk shantung sheath with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Hal Boyle Says:

Tycoon Washes 30 Million Diapers

NEW YORK (AP)—The reason many uneducated men make successes in business," said Murray Cohen, who never finished grammar school, "is that subconsciously they seek security in money."

"But I never idolized money." At 49 Cohen, who is as calm and restful as a bottle of benzene pills, really is a millionaire who probably doesn't idolize money. How can you idolize something you are making so fast you don't have time to count it?

There are a number of unusual things about Murray, a blue-eyed, sandy-haired philanthropist and businessman who was born poor on the Lower East Side and still wears the air of surety of one who broke his knuckles young, but still won. For example, he went to work selling paper and twine at 14, and four years later was earning $40,000 a year selling laundry machinery.

He lives in a suite in the Waldorf Towers, and is the only tenant there who does his own laundry.

He is also a bachelor who washes 30 million diapers a year. He is, as a matter of fact, president and board chairman of Consolidated Laundries, the world's largest firm in the field, and kingpin in the nation's 400-million-dollar a year linen supply and laundry industry.

In 1943 when he moved in and took over control of the company he was hailed as the youngest top executive of any firm on the New York Stock Exchange.

"It was losing money, and going downhill," he said. "Its annual business was about six million dollars and it hadn't paid a dividend in some 10 years. This year we'll do 22-million-dollars."

How did he do it? This is Cohen's explanation:

"I did it by molding the men I found there when I took over the firm. I didn't bring in men from the outside."

"We had about 2,000 employees then, and we have about 4,000 now, plus 800 trucks. All the managers of the 23 plants we have today were route delivery men or route supervisors when I came."

"I told them at the start their jobs were secure as long as I was there, but it was up to them to provide the kind of security that would permeate through to their families."

ing doorbells, and that if you barber shop or a series of beauty parlors. The rental of towels, napkins, tablecloths, and service uniforms is the big thing today," he said. "Dry cleaning and the handling of home laundry are minor compared to it."

"But diaper rentals interest me. Don't ask me why I never got married. It's a long story. I met a lot of girls I liked for two weeks, but then, somehow . . . well . . ."

"Babies interest me. We've found the average baby uses 100 to 120 diapers a week. The record was 320 a week. He was a boy. At first we thought the family must have had triplets."

"There are a lot of angles to this business . . . we own 10-million-dollars worth of linens, as we call cotton goods . . . we've got a new diaper now shaped like an hourglass instead of square . . . more efficient . . . "You know how to deal with employees? First, make them have a real sense of belonging to your organization to give them emotional security. Then over-pay them—that gives them financial security. Nothing makes a man feel more secure than being over-paid."

Then Cohen, who is reported worth 15-million-dollars, give or take 5-million, remarked with the brooding air of a man who would like to have everything in life, and is still unconquered because he can't. "You know, I never went to college. That can give you an inferiority feeling."

Right Answers Can Make You Richer by $500

That $500 in the pot can easily be yours... just read the clues and rules below and send us the correct solution for this week's puzzle. If you have the 16 answers right and if no one wins last week's puzzle, you can walk away just that much richer. Even with a winner for Puzzle No. 33, the right answers will still bring $100. What do you have to lose?

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conform to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

We're in Midst of Warm Spell, Says Geologist

LANSING (AP) — You think it's been cold?

No such thing, we're enjoying a warm spell.

This is on the authority of Prof. Bennett T. Sandefur, head of the Michigan State University geology department.

Prof. Sandefur, however, is thinking in terms of many thousands of years, and considers this a "warm" era because Michigan right now is between glaciers.

It's very likely, he said, that Michigan might be covered by a mile or so of glacial ice some time in the future, from a few thousand to some 50 thousand years.

There have been many glacial tides across the face of Michigan and nearby states, Prof. Sandefur said. He adds:

"It's pretty difficult to know just when the next one will start."

Recent techniques of measurement by radioactive carbon have established that Michigan's last glacier was around as recently as 12,000 years ago. Previously it was thought the last glacier had departed the local scene from 25,000 to 40,000 years ago.

Right now it's thought the glacial tide is receding. "But it's like a tide rolling out and then coming in again," Prof. Sandefur said. "Even after the tide recedes, you'll still have an occasional big wave and smaller ones all the time."

Jack Frost Skids on Ice

Cubs—Cards—Phils Talk

3-Way Deal Is Hinted

CHICAGO (U)—The St. Louis Cardinals, the Chicago Cubs and the Philadelphia Phils have their heads together for what could result in a massive deal involving nine players, it was learned today.

Should the trade go through, southpaw pitcher Harvey Haddix of Philadelphia would return to the Cardinals and Phil centerfielder Richie Ashburn would go to the Cubs.

In return, Philadelphia would get second baseman Gene Baker and first baseman Dee Fondy from the Cubs and rookie infielder Eddie Kasko, outfielder Whitey Lockman, pitcher Don Liddle and outfielder-infielder Chuck Harmon or outfielder Bobby Del Greco from St. Louis.

Picks Milwaukee in National League

By FRED HANEY

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (U)—I will start off by saying that I think the Milwaukee Braves will win the National League pennant.

I make this statement in all sincerity, not because it might appear to be the proper thing to say. I base my optimism on the fact that our club lost out by only a single game last season on the final day of the race, and I believe we will be stronger this coming season.

I do not believe it is possible for a team to go through the season we had last year and not improve both physically and mentally, especially after the greeting we received by the fans after the season was over and we had lost. I think this will add a great deal of determination to every player on the club, which of course, will help.

Materially speaking, we have been unable to do anything regarding trades but we are bringing several outstanding youngsters to camp in the spring, any one of whom could make it. I also live in hopes that some of the boys who didn't do as well as they might have, will improve over last year's work.

I think the inability to score runs and the lack of consistent hitting hurt us more than anything last year.

The Cardinals also would receive outfielder Jim King from the Cubs by way of Philadelphia.

Frank Lane, general manager of the Cardinals, apparently has no qualms about bringing back Haddix, who Lane traded off last year in a deal which brought pitchers Murry Dickson and Herm Wehmeier to St. Louis.

Roy Hamey, general manager of the Phils, reportedly is holding up the deal. But how long Hamey can hold out is doubtful. The Phils are desperately in need of help around first and second base.

Baker, who batted .258 with 12 home runs and 57 runs batted in, could fill the gap at second.

The Cubs want a top flight centerfielder and have been dangling Baker as bait. Fondy who batted over .300 in 1935 and 1934, dropped off to .269 last season and is in the Cub doghouse.

Ashburn has been the Cub objective. Regarded as a fine defensive outfielder, the speedy Ashburn batted .309 last year after winning the National League batting crown in 1935 with a .338 mark.

Wings Rip Rangers, 5-2; Gain on Montreal

DETROIT (U)—A three-goal, third period wallop set off by Gordie Howe's 27th goal has the Detroit Red Wings poised for another struggle with the Montreal Canadiens for first place in the National Hockey League.

Howe, Dutch Reibel and Ted Lindsay gave a partisan crowd of 12,549 a chance to do some unusual relaxing last night, slamming home goals with ease as the Wings swept past the New York Rangers 5-2.

The Wings are just two points behind the Canadiens and are on home ice for two more games while Montreal is playing one at home and one on the road.

"There are a lot of crucial times during the course of the season," said coach Jimmy Skinner, "but this week certainly could be considered one of those times. It looks like we're up and our boys are in their best physical shape of the season."

The Wings had endless opportunities against the Rangers, who dropped further behind the 4th place Toronto Maple Leafs. It was a wild and exciting fracas until Howe opened up the third period flurry by ripping home a goal after a scramble in front of the Ranger nets. That made it 3-1, and within four minutes the margin was 5-1.

Metro Prystal flipped a behind-the-net pass to Dutch Reibel and the Dutchman got goal No. 5. Ted Lindsay followed with his 22nd goal about one minute later. A perfect pass from Howe, who had taken a pass from mid-ice from Lindsay, set up Teddy's goal from 15 feet.

Detroit assured itself of the season series against the Rangers.

WEDNESDAY'S GAME

New York at Toronto.

THURSDAY'S GAME

Chicago at Detroit.

This was the eighth Wing win in 10 games against New York, and the Detroit goal total against New York—now at 37—is a complete about-face from the 1935-36 season when the Redshirts had their poorest offensive showing against the New Yorkers.

Marcel Pronovost and Alex Devecchio got the early goals for Detroit, Pronovost opening the scoring in the first period with a 50-foot screen shot. Camille (the El) Henry tied it on a power play in the same period just 31 seconds after Detroit started a minor penalty.

Devecchio got the tie-breaking goal when Norm Ullman's shot on goal deflected off the leg of Devecchio and into the New York nets. It was the 5th goal for Devecchio.

Parker MacDonald scored the second Ranger goal, again on a power play after Devecchio was penalized for charging.

Detroit goalie Glenn Hall, though he suffered a gash on his lip and nose that required seven stitches, had one of his easier nights in front of the nets. He was called upon for only 21 saves—and only two in the third period when the goals by Howe, Reibel and Lindsay took all the spark out of the Ranger offense.

Williams Lake Club Drops Swimming Meet

Detroit Womens City Club swim team, coached by John Hussey rolled over the Williams Lake Swim Club in their dual swimming meet last weekend, 69-19.

Outstanding performances were turned in by the Womens City Club team in the 200-yard free style relay. Their winning time of 2:03.8 set a new Michigan Junior Swim League record.

A very fine race was swum by Judy Holler in her 100-yard breaststroke. After leading for the first three lengths she was out-touched by B. Brown of W.C.C. Sandra Smith swam a very creditable race in the 50-yard butterfly for W.L.S.C.

Ring Battle on TV

NEW YORK (INS)—New York middleweight Angelo De Fendis meets Jerry LeDoux of New Haven, Conn., tonight in a nationally televised (Dumont) 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Hawks defeated Globetrotters 28-18, as little Joe Doyon led the Hawks with 12 points, Dennis Obery was high for Trotters with 9.

Schedule continues Monday with Hawks meeting Flying Aces and Celtics playing Royals.

Braves' Pilot Sees Pennant

The addition of Carl Sawatski behind the plate has certainly strengthened us in that department. I think that in Del Crandall, Del Rice and Sawatski we have the best catching staff in the league.

Our strongpoint, of course, will be the pitching. It should be even stronger in 1937.

Shrine Cagers Bow 50-40

Royal Oak Shrine dropped a 50-40 decision to Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Sunday afternoon in a Catholic League First Division basketball game at Wyandotte. Tom Ropers of Shrine took scoring honors with 19 points while Dan Gilewski tallied 12 for Mt. Carmel.

Youngsters like Taylor Phillips and Bob Trowbridge should profit by the experience they obtained last year. We also have several outstanding rookie pitchers coming from our minor league system on whom we have received great reports.

I look for another close pennant race with the Braves, Dodgers, and Redlegs battling it out.

THUMBS DOWN—This crowd watching the basketball game last Friday night between Pontiac and Saginaw resembled the spectators of the gladiator matches in the ancient coliseums where they turned thumbs down for death and thumbs up to live. Here the crowd turns thumbs down and Pontiac went on to beat the Trojans, 64-59.

Today's the Day!

Sawchuk Calls Confab to Explain Retirement

DETROIT (AP)—Today's the day Terry Sawchuk, is supposed to "tell all" and explain why he has forsaken hockey at the peak of a brilliant career.

The 27-year-old Boston Bruins goaltender quit the game Tuesday and since then everyone has been wondering why? Terry has not explained anything, other than to say his decision to retire "was not an overnight thought."

He returned to his Detroit home Friday and called a press conference for noon (EST) today at a downtown hotel.

The three-time winner of the Vezina trophy—given to the outstanding goalkeeper in the National Hockey League—said he was treated well in Boston, where he was traded after five seasons with the Detroit Red Wings.

Sawchuk was hospitalized two weeks and missed seven games this season because of mononucleosis, a blood disease. But he said he felt fine when he returned to the nets.

"The sickness had nothing to do with my retirement," he insisted. While Boston Coach Mil Schmidt and General Manager

Muzz Patrick have indicated they would welcome Sawchuk's return, the veteran goalie has given no indication that he plans to change his decision.

Leafs Threaten Bruins' Status

Toronto Picks Up Four Points on Two Wins Over Boston Club

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Bruins, who started the season as if they were going to tear apart the National Hockey League, today face the threat of being dislodged from third place by the surging Toronto Maple Leafs.

True, 10 points still separate the Bruins and the Leafs. But Toronto picked up four points over the weekend by twice besting Boston—4-1 Saturday and 3-2 Sunday. The two defeats extended the Bruins' winless streak to five games.

At the same time, the Leafs solidified their hold on fourth place as the fifth place New York Rangers were shut out 5-0 by the peacocking Montreal Canadiens Saturday night and then dropped a 5-2 decision in Detroit last night. The Leafs now lead the slumping Rangers by five points.

In the other game last night, the cellar dwelling Chicago Black Hawks snapped Montreal's unbeaten string at 10 games with a 4-2 victory.

Sid Smith's third period rebound shot past rookie goalie Norm DeFelicis was the deciding tally in the Toronto-Boston game last night.

Keg Meet Gets Weekend Start

A Detroit dominated the individual competition and Pontiac led the way in team play as the 37th annual Michigan Elks Bowling Tournament got underway here over the weekend sponsored by Lodge 810. The tourney will continue for the next seven weekends.

Motor City star John Gavie took all the singles honors for the 1st two days of action with a strong Sunday performance. He compiled a 724 handicap total and 691 for actual pinfall to top both divisions.

In the doubles department the city duo of Leland Gutzie and Russell Dickman had the best actual score of 1133 but ranked only 8th in handicap ratings. Pacing the latter group was the Traverse City pair of S. Tithoff-R. Raffishol with 1262.

Three Pontiac keglers follow in order behind Gavie in singles handicap. They are Ralph Puckett, who had paced opening day with a 703; C. Horral, 693, and John Fortier's 686. Fifth by one pin is W. Cowell of Traverse with 685. Fortier was runner-up in actual scoring with 644 and Cowell had 619.

The Dahlquist and Brace Smith teams ranked 2nd and 3rd in team handicap with 2925 and 2802, respectively. Goebel's of Detroit was No. 4 with 2895 and Pontiac's Skippers ranked 5th with 2539. Five other home town teams dominated the next six places. Truck-A-Way Co., also of Pontiac, follows Hinges in actual with 2577 and the Skippers are 3rd with 2559.

Doubles partners Dr. F. P. Palmer and Art Sammut of Detroit hold down 2nd places in both divisions with totals of 1249 and 1135. Local duo Lou Borroni-Earl Forkel are No. 3 in actual with 1113. Borroni hit the Saturday one-game high of 266.

The other top eight in doubles handicap are all from Lodge 810. Third is the Richard Hess-Sam Gadoshian pair with 1241, Tom Hruska and Harry Setter combined for 1234, and Wilson Knaus-Norm Andress finished with 1233 to complete the best five in that group.

Several impressive showings were made in the first weekend of play in the biggest tourney in the history of state Elksdom. Some 41 different lodges will have bowlers taking part here at the Elks alleys and the Huron bowl before the champions are known March 10.

Detroit Skater in Form for National Competition

DETROIT (AP)—Bobby Snyder appeared in fine form today to compete with the nation's finest ice skaters in the National Outdoor at St. Paul next weekend.

The 30-year-old production engineer from Detroit won his second title in two days yesterday to stand out as Michigan's top senior men's skater.

Snyder swept the senior men's class A events at Belle Isle to win the city of Detroit championships after winning the Gold Cup Saturday at Wyandotte's annual races.

Skating on the soft Lake Taconnas course at Belle Isle, Snyder edged Tom Augustus of Detroit in the 220. The University of Michigan graduate then raced to easy victories in the 440, 880 and mile events.

Mike Carey, A Michigan State freshman, won the final three races in senior men's class B to take honors in his division.

Most of the junior trophies went to skaters from Saginaw, Midland and Bay City.

Actress Tired but Happy

Bergman Returns to Paris After Brief Visit to U. S.

NEW YORK (U. S. A.) — A tired but happy Ingrid Bergman returned to Europe today, thrilled about her first visit to America in nearly eight years.

"It was almost like a dream and I'll start to remember it when I get back to Paris," commented the Swedish-born actress as she boarded her plane last night at Idlewild Airport.

"I enjoyed my trip very much although I got very little sleep," she said of her 34-hour visit.

She came here to receive the New York Film Critics Award for best actress of 1937 for her performance in "Anastasia."

During the time that remained, the 42-year-old blonde actress crammed in a matinee performance of the hit Broadway musical "My Fair Lady," did a little shopping and talked to friends.

It was her first visit here since 1949 when she left to make a film in Italy with Roberto Rossellini. She and the Italian film director had a son while she was still married to Dr. Peter Lindstrom.

It touched off a wave of criticism and ended her Hollywood film career. However, she was warmly greeted by well-wishers during her brief weekend visit.

"I was surprised by how nice people were to me everywhere I went," she said. "I want to thank all those kind people who put presents in my car and handed them to me wherever I went."

At the airport, Miss Bergman disclosed that she had talked by telephone with her daughter Pia, a child born of her marriage with Dr. Lindstrom.

"I am very happy about the talk," the actress said. "It was very personal, and should be left to the two of us."

Pia, now called Jenny Ann, is 13 and a student at the University of Colorado at Boulder. She did not come to New York to visit with her mother.

Miss Bergman scotched all rumors that she might return to the United States to live. "Europe is my home now, although I had 10 wonderful years in America," she said.

Waiting for Miss Bergman in her Paris apartment are her three children, Robertino, 7, and her twin 4-year-old daughters Ingrid and Isabella.

Miss Bergman is appearing on the Paris stage in the play "Tess and Sympathy."

Rossellini, whom Miss Bergman married after a divorce from Dr. Lindstrom, is in India on film location.

Doctor Probes Death of Widow

Retract Suicide Verdict in Hanging of Woman Near Stanwood

BIG RAPIDS (U. S. A.) — Mecosta County authorities today awaited a report from Dr. Charles Black, Lansing pathologist, on the death of a 68-year-old widow who was found hanging in a barn behind her former home near Stanwood Thursday.

The death of Mrs. Felecia Behrendt was first listed as apparent suicide but this finding has been withdrawn by Dr. John A. White, deputy Mecosta County medical examiner.

Dr. Black will confer in Big Rapids tonight with Sheriff Howard L. Soper and State Police detectives Eugene Edgecomb and Clarence Haight of the Rockford post.

The pathologist said he believed the body had been kept in a warm room for at least two days.

Sheriff Soper said Mrs. Behrendt reportedly left the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ellison, her son-in-law and stepdaughter, Jan. 7. The Ellisons live near Stanwood.

The sheriff quoted the Ellisons as saying that Mrs. Behrendt told them she was going to her former residence to look for a pair of gloves she had left in the vacant house.

Rosemary says she has to be back February 7 for her son Miguel's second birthday. Joe's picture goes before the cameras in April, so there is a lot of work to be done to get it ready.

A preliminary medical examination, the sheriff said, showed no marks of violence on the woman's body.

Hollywood Headlines

Jed Harris Set to Produce Own Creation, 'Mad Bull'

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The colorful, never dull Jed Harris is moving to Hollywood, temporarily that is, to produce his play, "The Mad Bull" for Harry Cohn.

Before this deal was straightened out there was a big misunderstanding. Harris, who had no written deal for his unproduced play, was negotiating elsewhere, but everything is honey-dew now, with Richard Quine, fine young director, starting work at Columbia the last week in February.

Jack Lemmon, whose forte is certainly light comedy, although he would like to play "Hamlet" or something heavier, has been chosen as the star of "The Mad Bull."

A happy Rosemary Clooney telephoned to tell me she leaves Tuesday for ten days in London with Jose Ferrer. Jose left Saturday to arrange for filming of "The Dreyfus Case" for MGM.

Joe will both direct and play in this picture about the famous case which attracted world attention when Dreyfus was imprisoned for ten years on a charge for which he was later proved innocent. He died in 1935.

Rosemary says she has to be back February 7 for her son Miguel's second birthday. Joe's picture goes before the cameras in April, so there is a lot of work to be done to get it ready.

MERLE BACK HOME

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Bruno Paglia, who admires Merle Oberon greatly, was the guest of honor at a dinner Saturday night. It was like old times to have Merle back in her beautiful home. There were 70 guests. Reports are that Ralph Stoklin, who once tried to buy RKO, is now talking business with Tom O'Neill, RKO money man.

While Jack Warner is in Washington for the inauguration, he'll discuss Don Whitehead's book, "The FBI Story" with J. Edgar Hoover.

Zsa Zsa Gabor telephoned to say she did have luncheon with Conrad Hilton and their daughter—not at the Beverly Hills Hotel, but at Conrad's own beautiful Beverly Hilton.

That was Bob Schiffer, an old friend and make-up man for Rita Hayworth who accompanied her to hear Frances Faye at Ciro's.

Errol Flynn, who's on "The Big Surprise" show again, refuses to say whether he'll go on for more money or accept the $10,000. He left for New York today.

Frank Sinatra has signed Peggy Lee for a long playing album to be called "The Man I Love." She'll sing songs from teenage romance through marriage, and he'll do the conducting.

Letitia and Al Delacorte, here on business for Modern Screen, stopped by for a cup of coffee. Al is making trips to discuss handling of the magazine.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Italian Scandal Trial Resumes

Girl's Death in '53 Jars Politicians and Officials; Social Leader Accused

VENICE (U. S. A.) — Italy's biggest postwar scandal, the explosive Wilma Montesi case, came to trial today in Venice. Startling new disclosures were expected.

Chief defendants in the case are Gianpiero Piccioni, 36-year-old jazz pianist son of former Foreign Minister Attilio Piccioni; former Rome Police Chief Savio Polito; and Ugo Montagna, prominent Rome man-about-town and friend of influential Italians.

Nine others were accused of giving false testimony during 16 months of preliminary investigation which jarred Italian politics and Rome society.

The trial was shifted to Venice because feeling was running high in Rome.

Some 200 witnesses were called, including high officers of the three former police chiefs and an Italian movie actress.

The court's task was to try to find how the 20-year-old Montesi girl died in 1953 and who if anyone tried to hide the truth.

Wilma's body was found on a black-sand beach near Ostia, the seaside playground near Rome. Police listed her death as an accidental drowning. Scandal erupted when a young magazine editor, Silvano Muto, wrote that she had died at a high society dope and sex orgy.

The younger Piccioni is charged with contributing to the black-haired party girl's death by "abandoning her, believing her already dead," at the edge of the sea. His father, now an adviser to Italy's U. N. delegation, resigned as foreign minister to help his son prepare his defense.

Montagna and Polito both are accused of aiding and abetting the crime by trying to help Piccioni escape punishment.

Austria Drafts Border Protest

Radio Blasts Violation by Hungarian Soldiers in Refugee Chase

VIENNA (U. S. A.) — Austria today drafted a strong protest to Hungary about the invasion of Austrian territory by 30 Hungarian soldiers in pursuit of fleeing refugees.

The Interior Ministry said the soldiers, firing machine guns, followed the refugees across the border yesterday. The Austrian Press Agency said they forced about 20 refugees to return to Hungary. They left one wounded Hungarian soldier behind in Austria.

Officials said "the sharpest protest" would be sent to Hungary.

Chancellor Julius Raab rejected Hungary's complaints that Austria was interfering in Hungarian affairs by giving haven to refugees.

He said in a nationwide broadcast that if Hungary's Communist regime wants to keep Hungarians at home, they should be given freedom and a decent living.

But the tough measures imposed by Hungarian border guards were from fleeing to Austria. Many sought haven in Yugoslavia instead.

In Belgrade, the Yugoslavs requested urgent assistance from the United Nations to cope with the heavy increase in refugees across the Hungarian border, much of which lies along the Danube River or its tributaries. Yugoslavia received 684 refugees to Austria's 256 in a 24-hour period over the weekend.

Soapsuds Landing Lets Plane Arrive Safely

TAMPA, Fla. (U. S. A.) — A private plane with four persons aboard circled Tampa International Airport for an hour and 49 minutes yesterday with a disabled nose wheel before being brought in smoothly on a runway made slick by concentrated soapsuds.

Robert Walker of Tampa kept the plane aloft until the soap could be brought in from MacDill Air Force Base and spread on the runway. Flying with Walker were his son Jackie, 10; Graham Smith; and Smith's son Scott, 11.
