Police to Quiz 1,600 Employes in Airport Death

Seek Clues to Beating of Man in Willow Run Parking Lot

YPSILANTI (INS) — Michigan state troopers from the Ypsilanti post who admitted they "have nothing to go on" planned to question 1,600 employes of Willion Run Airport today in the bludgeon slaying of a Port Huron man.

Laverne W. Wegener, 41-year-old assistant St. Clair County agricultural agent, was beaten and robbed Sunday night at the airport parking lot less than an hour after he welcomed relatives for a Christmas visit.

Wegener died about an hour after the attack in University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

The father of four was struck over the head a dozen times with a length of pipe. He was robbed of between $60 and $80 and his watch and checks worth $118.

He will be buried today in Bertha, Minn.

Meanwhile, two young men who had been sought for questioning were eliminated as suspects.

A gas station attendant on U.S. 112, near the airport, reported the pair attempted to cash a savings bond several hours after the attack.

He told State Police he thought one of the men had blood on the sleeve of his coat.

Detective Marvin Krans, of the Ypsilanti State Police Post, said the men were cleared when investigation disclosed the pair were in northern Indiana at the time of the attack.

"With our only two suspects cleared, we are now without any leads," Krans said. "But we plan to start questioning all the employes at the airport Wednesday in hopes they may come up with something."

No Area Traffic Deaths; U.S. Road Toll--692

Pontiac and Oakland County escaped the brunt of highway havoc over the four-day holiday, which pushed Michigan's death toll to the sixth highest in the nation.

There were no deaths or critical injuries reported in the estimated 75 accidents in the Pontiac area from 6 p.m. last Friday to midnight last night.

The state saw at least 34 die in that 102-hour period and added to the tragic score three deaths in home fires. Another 161 died in other accidents to set an all-time high of at least 851 deaths for a single holiday period.

Meanwhile, a light snowfall resulted in slippery roads here and in Ann Arbor, Flint, Lansing and Port Huron.

The Automobile Club of Michigan warned that most roads in Michigan are slippery in spots, with the exception of the eastern half of the Upper Peninsula.

In Pontiac, there were 13 reported accidents Dec. 24 with three persons injured, none seriously, police said.

Christmas Day was quiet, they said, with only one person injured. Mrs. Beth Tankovsky, 24, of 57 Mark St., when her husband struck a parked car near their home. She was treated for head cuts.

It was the only accident yesterday, police said.

Heavy Snow Blocks English Rail Traffic

LONDON (AP) — Heavy snow brought a white Boxing Day—the traditional day after Christmas—to many parts of Britain today.

Drifts of six feet and more disrupted road and rail traffic in Scotland, Wales and the English midlands. Six of seven scheduled race meetings were either abandoned or postponed and many football matches were called off.

Birmingham, England's second largest city, had seven inches of snow in 12 hours, its heaviest fall for six years. A light powdering fell in London but quickly melted.

Homes Razed by Brush Fire

Flames Sear Canyon, Destroy 15 Residences in California

MALIBU, Calif. (INS)—A disastrous brush fire, striking with a suddenness that left residents stunned, burned at least 15 expensive homes today in the Point Dume area west of Malibu.

The fire swept through Zuma Canyon, burning everything in its path, and raced up Latigo and Ramara Canyons, blackening a 10-square mile swath from the ocean to Mulholland Drive.

The homes destroyed by the rampant blaze ranged in value from $20,000 to one $180,000 mansion. The California highway patrol early today began evacuating all residents in the path of the fire and all available fire-fighting equipment in the Los Angeles city and county area was thrown into the battle.

The spectacular fire, which started at 2 a.m. and quickly lashed across the Pacific Coast Highway, was visible for 35 miles. All traffic along the coast highway was detoured over Malibu Canyon.

Among those routed by the fire was football star Ronnie Knox and his controversial father, Harvey, and the Knox family, including film star Patricia Knox.

Knox said that residents were so stunned by the rapidity with which the fire devoured homes in the area that they stood by and watched hypnotically instead of fleeing for their lives.

Eight of the homes destroyed were on broad Beach road on the beach side of Highway 101. One resident, Alex Wilkinson, said that his home and his stable with two prize Arabian horses were destroyed.

All telephone lines in the area were burned down and firefighters were hampered by the communication blackout.

Oak Park Again Struck by Thieves

Third Large Robbery in 15 Days Nets Haul of $13,000 in Gems

In Oak Park's third large burglary in 15 days, thieves last night stole $13,210 in gems from the apartment of Mrs. Beatrice Stillman, 41, while she was visiting friends.

* * *

Oak Park Det. Sgt. Steven Psink said today the thieves, apparently well organized, have stolen over $30,000 in furs, jewelry and cash in the three burglaries.

The latest job appears to be the same as the other two, Psink said, and the gang appears to specialize in furs and jewelry.

Mrs. Stillman found her home ransacked when she and her 17-year-old son, Marshall, returned last night.

* * *

Most valuable missing item was a $12,000 platinum bracelet containing 45 emerald-cut diamonds.

On Dec. 17, burglars took $12,825 in furs, jewelry and cash from the home of Joseph Sandler. On Dec. 10, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Liverman was ransacked and $4,000 in furs, clothing and jewelry stolen.

Assailant Dead After Gunfight With Policeman

Fatal Shooting of Girl, Driver Follows Order That 'Annoyer' Leave

CLEVELAND (AP)—A man who was asked to leave a Pittsburgh-to-Chicago bus early this morning retaliated with gunfire, killing the bus driver and an 18-year-old girl. The assailant himself was killed a short time later by police.

The bus driver and the girl were dead on arrival at hospitals.

Five other persons were wounded as the assailant, not as yet identified, charged through the Greyhound bus depot here firing wildly at Patrolman Mike Barrett.

Police identified the girl as Miss Georgeann Kartzke, 18, of Fort Eustis, Va.

The wounded were treated at Charity Hospital for leg wounds. Four were released after treatment. Attendants said an 83-year-old man was held for observation.

A supervisor at the bus terminal identified the slain bus driver at Leo Almerico, 49, of Cleveland.

STATION CROWDED

Emmett Jefferson, a porter at the bus depot, which was crowded at the time with holiday travelers, said after the shootings on the bus the assailant came "whooping and hollering" through the terminal.

Barrett happened to be coming in the door at the same time. He came part way into the station shouting to bystanders to "fall on the floor."

The assailant, described by police as a Negro, about 32, of medium build and about 5 foot 8, fired several times with his .32 automatic, but Barrett held his fire.

Barrett chased the man from the terminal. The fugitive fled behind the pillars of St. Peter's church, Barrett said the man "came out shooting."

Sgt. Michael Sirkot, who had come to Barrett's aid, fired four times, and Barrett fired twice. The assailant was dead on arrival at Charity Hospital.

Passengers on the bus said the man had been bothering Miss Kartzke, who was white, in the waiting room at the terminal.

Kenneth Jamison of Newcastle, Pa., said when Miss Kartzke got on the bus after the Cleveland stop she told him she was "scared" and Jamison told her to tell the driver. The driver had Miss Kartzke bring her baggage and come to the front of the bus near him, said Jamison, then the driver went to talk to the man.

GRABBED BAGS

Mrs. Udell Wintersoll of Chicago said she heard the man say, "I'm getting off," and he grabbed his bags.

At the front of the bus, the man turned and fired at Almerico, then shot the girl.

Police said there was no iden-

Chou En-lai in Pakistan

LAHORE, Pakistan (INS)—Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai arrived in Lahore today for a two-day visit.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

America's highest traffice death toll for any holiday was the grim record for the long Christmas weekend.

Incomplete figures showed at least 692 persons lost their lives in automobile accidents from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Christmas.

The previous record for a holiday was 609, set in the three-day Christmas period last year.

The new mark also was above the National Safety Council's pre-holiday estimate of 660 traffic deaths.

An all-time high in accidental deaths was also reported in the 102-hour period; 47 died in fires and 117 in miscellaneous accidents, making an over-all toll of 856. The old record of 789 was set in the four-day Christmas weekend of 1951.

Ned H. Dearborn, safety council president, expressed "bitter disappointment" at the fulfillment of the council's preholiday prediction.

During the long weekend holiday, deaths on the highways averaged nearly seven an hour for the 102-hour period. In the first 10 months of this year the nation's traffic deaths averaged 105 a day.

An Associated Press survey during a nonholiday period, from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Tuesday of the Dec. 14-18 weekend, showed 500 traffic deaths.

The over-all accidental death toll for the period was 587, including 27 in fires and 60 in miscellaneous accidents.

Hazardous driving conditions in most of the eastern half of the country during the first half of the holiday period were regarded as a major factor in the heavy traffic toll. Safety experts also said other travel dangers included a minimum of daylight and holiday drinking.

North Dakota was the only state not reporting an accidental death. Two other states, Maine and Wyoming, reported no traffic fatalities.

Leading in traffic deaths was California—more than 70. Other states with heavy tolls were Illinois, Texas, Ohio, New York and Michigan.

Expect Nixon to Suggest Raise in Refugee Quotas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon planned to tell President Eisenhower today that "we must do more" to help freedom-seeking refugees from Hungary.

Nixon declined to say in advance of a White House appointment what specific recommendations he would make to Eisenhower. Other officials arranged to accompany him.

Informed officials said Nixon had in mind an increase in the present 21,500 quota for Hungarian escapees entering this country and a boost in U. S. financial aid to Austria.

Both recommendations would be in line with what Nixon said on a nationwide radio-television show last night.

The vice president returned Monday from a six-day flying inspection trip to Austria, the first haven for an estimated 175,000 or more fleeing Hungarians so far.

Nixon said on the Hungarian relief radio-TV show in which a number of professional entertainers joined:

"What they (the Hungarians) did in Hungary really marks the beginning of the end for international communism. . . . And everywhere I go I find people who say, 'We want to do something; what can we do; what do they need?'

"Well, they need care in the camps in Austria and in Germany. . . . They need countries to which they can go.

"They need transportation which will take them to their new homes, and they need resettlement in the new positions which they must obtain in order to make a living . . .

"Our government, for example, has taken 21,000 refugees and we must do more. . . ."

Eisenhower has already acted once to raise the limit on the number of Hungarian escapees who can come to America.

Upsurge in New Babies Continues Unchecked

Kiplinger Sees Economy Booming With Population

WASHINGTON — The mighty upsurge in United States population goes on unchecked, reaching an all time high in 1956 of 4,200,000 babies. The effect of this big population spurt is analyzed by the Kiplinger Washington Letter in its annual report on population. Population will increase from the present 170,000,000 to 221,000,000 in 1975, says the report, and this growth will have a startling effect on the national economy.

* * *

Here are some highlights of the report:

People will overflow the landscape around the cities, farther than now. They will migrate to new places and fill up areas now sparsely settled. They will lead new lives of their own with new patterns and new standards. The babies of now, in their lifetime, will make and demand many changes.

* * *

The birth wave that started in 1940 will result in a new high wave of marriages from 1960 on. And thereafter a new birth wave. And, as a result, a new building boom in the 60s.

The postwar boom in housing is off from its peak mainly because there were fewer births in the 30s and consequently fewer young people of the marriage ages in these days. The slack-off is likely to continue, two or three years, apart from the factor of tight money, just because of the slack-off in marriages and new families. But look ahead to 1960 and thereafter marriages and births will produce a housing boom from the early 60s on through the 70s and 80s. Twice as many houses will be built in the 70s as are being built now. And there will be an accompanying boom for things that go into houses.

This year, total auto sales were 6,000,000. By 1965, the total will probably be 8,500,000 with some peak years of 10,000,000. This is foreseeable on the basis of the growth of population, plus better roads and higher incomes.

Teenage drivers with their own cars are becoming a factor in the trend toward two- and three-car families. In autos, as in houses, there will be upgrading. Better autos, bigger houses, better other things due to higher incomes.

* * *

The rise in families with better incomes in just the past five years is amazing. Almost twice as many families make $5,000 to $10,000. Many more families have two or more wage earners now. And as for over $10,000, more than twice as many get that much as did in 1950.

Most of them live in suburbs, not within big cities. Hence the suburb growth, 30 per cent in the past six years. Further out, on the fringes, a 56 per cent growth in six years. Central cities are slowing down, only five per cent growth in six years. Suburbs and the fringe areas will continue to grow. Land values are rising.

Schools are already jam-packed, already inadequate, yet headed for worse. Despite frantic building in recent years, the crop of kids outruns it. For elementary schools, there will be 30 per cent more kids in just nine years, by 1965. And for

Kremlin Calls In Top Planners

Economists Begin War on Waste, Inefficiency Inside Russia

MOSCOW (INS)—An elite group of Soviet experts began a major attempt today to put Russia's troubled economy back on a well-planned track.

The first big step in a Kremlin drive against inefficiency, incompetence and waste was made yesterday when Mikhail G. Pervukhin was appointed chairman of the State Commission for Current Planning.

Six of Russia's top-ranking industrial and agricultural experts were named to assist Pervukhin, a first deputy premier who is replacing Maxim Z. Suburov, another first deputy.

The planning board shakeup was announced one day after the party's central committee ended a five-day secret session by publishing a report pointing up failures and shortcomings in the economy.

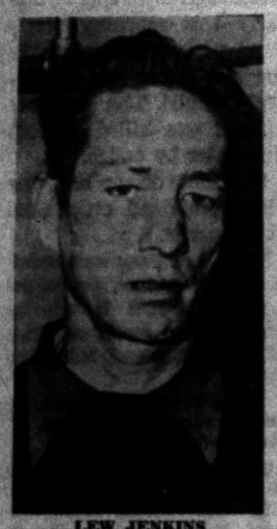

* * *

The report said quotas set under last year's ambitious five-year plan had not been met in the production of coal, steel, cement and timber.

The planning board was accused of failing to bring production and capital investment programs into gear with availability of resources.

* * *

Some cutbacks in capital investment were ordered although the areas of the economy to be affected were not mentioned.

LEW JENKINS

Former Champ Spends Holiday in County Jail

A man believed to be Lew Jenkins, once lightweight champion of the world, spent Christmas in the Oakland County Jail, the Sheriff's Office revealed today, after he was arrested by Pontiac police on a charge of drunk and disorderly.

He has three more days of his sentence to serve.

Jenkins was picked up at 11:50 p.m. Saturday on Saginaw street near Cottage street. The former fighter was sentenced Monday by Pontiac Municipal Court Judge Cecil McCallum to serve six days in jail in lieu of a $30 fine.

Known as the "Sweetwater Swatter" in his fighting days, Jenkins won the title by knocking out Lou Ambers in the third round of their Madison Square Garden bout on May 10, 1940. He entered the Army after losing the championship in a 15-round decision to Sammy Angott on Dec. 19, 1941, and was discharged in 1952.

The 40-year-old Jenkins checked into the Oakland County Jail penniless and with no known address.

"Jenkins didn't have a thing in his pockets to check with us," said a Sheriff's deputy. "His only possession, that we take from all prisoners until their release, was the belt holding up his pants."

Jenkins, who said "I don't want sympathy or help," did not reveal his identity as the former champion until a Sheriff's Office deputy recognized him. The deputy served with the fighter in the 1st Cavalry Division in Japan in 1950.

Work Delayed in Suez Salvage

Mines Must Be Cleared Before U. N. Vessels Can Move In

PORT SAID (INS) — Two problems delayed today the start of salvage work on the Suez Canal.

The first, and apparently more easily solved problem, is the existence of Egyptian-planted mines which must be removed from the canal before it is safe for salvage vessels to begin work.

Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, the retired U. S. engineer officer in charge of canal clearance operations for the United Nations, indicated it may take a few more days to rid the canal of mines.

The other problem is diplomatic—whether to use British and French crewmen on the salvage vessels supplies to the U. N. force by Britain and France.

Egypt maintains recent enemy nationals should have no part clearing sunken ships from the canal. Britain and France will not let their ships be used unless they are manned by their regular crews.

However, Wheeler has gathered a fleet of some 30 salvage vessels from other nations and says he is ready to start work just as soon as the canal has been made safe.

Sylvan Lake City Affairs

Highway Officials Mum on Orchard Lake Crossing

City Manager Ernest L. Ethier is still awaiting a reply from the State Highway Dept. as to what can be done to improve the temporary Orchard Lake - Telegraph road crossing.

The City Council instructed Ethier to write state officials asking improved marking and policing of the highly-traveled detour caused by the construction of the underpass project there. The letter was sent Dec. 13, Ethier said.

* * *

City officials also asked when the project was scheduled for completion. "Some people out here don't think it should take as long as June to finish," Ethier said.

Early this fall, state highway officials said the project would not be completed until June due to a setback in the delivery of steel. Work has now ceased on the job.

Because many Sylvan Lake residents use the route, the letter was written, Ethier said.

In other Sylvan Lake affairs, Ethier announced that the council has approved the re-appointment of Don R. MacDonald as the city's representative on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

* * *

Ethier reiterated his warning to residents that they have until Jan. 19 to pay their 1956 county and school taxes without penalty. A four per cent penalty will be added starting Jan. 20 for all delinquent taxes.

These taxes are payable at the City Hall, 1820 Iverness Ave., Ethier announced.

* * *

Dog licenses for 1957 are now available at the City Hall. Proof of rabies vaccination during the past year must be presented before the license is granted.

Ethier said water bills for the fourth quarter would be in the mail "shortly" after the first of the year. To date, 255 connections have been made to the city's one - year - old water system.

The city manager said the City Hall would be closed Dec. 31.

Believe Hemorrhage Caused Man's Death

A fall downstairs at a Christmas Eve party was discounted in the death yesterday of Jessie White, 27, a factory worker of 97 Cottage St.

White was taken to Pontiac General Hospital after the fall at 130 Thorpe St. and released after doctors said he suffered no apparent injury.

* * *

Taken home by his brother, Charles White, who lives at the same address, Jessie White remained on the front porch "to clear his head," the brother told Det. Orville Johnston.

He was found two hours later laying unconscious on the front lawn, Johnston said, and returned to the hospital, where he died yesterday noon.

* * *

Dr. Leon Cobb, who acted as coroner, said White had a record of high blood pressure and believed he died of a cerebral hemorrhage. He said that a post mortem examination is not planned.

Police theorized that a black eye which White had when he returned to the hospital may have been suffered when he fell to the ground.

So far this year, six persons have died, compared with 16 deaths in 1955.

Searching Helter Also Skelter for Missing Shelter

Anyone seen a missing building? Park Rd., Commerce Township, reported the theft of a building to Sheriff's Office detectives Monday night.

The building is a white school bus stop shelter that Sparks had built for his children to use in bad weather. The shelter, four feet wide, eight feet long and six feet high, was located on Oakley Park road on the property just opposite Sparks' driveway.

Said Sparks: "It's always been there when I pull out of the drive every day. I started my car at 6 o'clock, turned on the lights and was ready to go. I realized something was funny. The white house was gone."

Try Helicopter to Keep Buses Spaced Properly

NEW YORK (INS)—The well-known herd instinct among buses alternately brings a superabundance of them to New York's man on the corner, or else no bus at all.

So, starting today, the city transit authority is sending an experimental helicopter into the air over bus routes in congested areas to see whether it can help space out city buses.

Upsurge in Births to Step Up Business

high schools 50 per cent more in 1965.

Spending for schools may have doubled by '65 just to catch up. Money must come mainly from local taxes, for federal aid will always be laggard, also very limited.

* * *

Colleges have a worse problem because of high births in the past, the trend to college for more kids, plus the need for more education. In college now, 3,200,000 students. Ten years ago it was 1,700,000. In 1965, 5,200,000, or 60 per cent more. Thus an emergency in the near future.

Private and independent institutions can expand a little, but not much. They lack the money and the desire. So mainly its up to state schools, colleges, universities, supported by tax money. But even some of them can't expand much. The answer seems to be in establishing branches of state universities, located in convenient or populous areas throughout the state.

The worker shortage will be more acute in the next few years. Young workers, 25 to 34 will actually decrease, because of the low birth rate in the 30s.

So older workers must be used to fill the gap in the next few years. It is a statistical must, not a mere sentiment or social welfare thought. Also older workers aren't as "old" as formerly. They are more productive because of new machines, better health, better education.

Women workers now, 21,000,000. Included in this total, one-third of all married women. By 1965, expected total of women in work force is 27,000,000.

Florida is the fastest growing of the big states percentagewise. Population is up 36 per cent in six years, which means 1,000,000 new residents. California is up 27 per cent in six years, adding 2,900,000 people. Other fast growing states: Delaware, 26 per cent; Maryland, 20 per cent; Michigan, 18 per cent; Texas, 16 per cent; Ohio, 15 per cent; Oregon, 13 per cent; Indiana, Washington and Louisiana, 12 per cent.

Church membership is rising, particularly in suburban areas . . . divorce rates near level in the past five years, but still higher than prewar . . . Negro population rising slightly from 10.2 per cent to 10.9 per cent of total.

Summarizing the economic problems of the future, Kiplinger says, "We shall have more young and many of them will be going to school longer. More retired oldsters, for the life span is lengthening. Both young and old must be cared for by people of middle or working ages. Can we manage? Yes, thanks to productivity. Even shorter work hours? Yes.

Contract Review, Sewage Plant Addition on Agenda

BIRMINGHAM — Contracts for water and fire service between the city of Birmingham and the Birmingham Country Club will be reviewed at tonight's City Commission meeting.

When contracts were renewed in July the protection was based upon an annual fee of $400. Commissioners, however, accepted the one-year contract with provision that it would be reviewed sometime after Jan. 1, 1957.

Circumstances at the club have made the review necessary at this time, according to Harold K. Schons, city manager.

Sewage treatment plant additions and the taxicab request for community stands will be among the several other agenda items.

Birmingham Police and Fire Departments today reported one of the quietest holidays on record.

Only a few minor property damage accidents were listed by police and about a half a dozen minor fire alarms were received in the fire department.

Birmingham Lions Club was host this noon to about 225 members and their children at the annual Christmas party in the Community House.

Puppets and magicians furnished entertainment for the small guests.

Charles Mortensen, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, says Monday was the busiest shopping day Birmingham has ever seen.

"Every store was crowded from opening to closing," Mortensen said. "We have no idea as yet of total sales for that or the entire holiday shopping period, but we do know it was exceptionally high."

Bloomfield Township Is Taking Bond Bids

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Bloomfield Township Hall will receive Water System Revenue Bonds purchase bids, until Jan. 14 at 8:00 p.m. At that time they will be publicly read.

Bids shall be conditioned by Berry Stevens and Moorman, attorneys of Detroit.

The right is reserved to reject any or all of the bids, Robert H. Dudley, township clerk said.

Says Wife OKd Killing Family

Despondent Father Held in Shooting of Spouse, Two Small Children

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Murder charges will be brought against a financially harassed and ill father who said he shot his wife and two children to death with his wife's agreement, State Atty. George Brautigam said today.

Leslie Edward McClure, 52, said he intended to kill himself with the same .22-caliber pistol but police, summoned by his pastor, arrived before he could do it.

McClure underwent psychiatric tests after the shooting yesterday and was then placed in city jail to await a preliminary hearing.

He admitted shooting to death his wife Ruth, 41, and their children, Anna Laura, 22 months, and Leslie Edward II, 7 months. Each had been hit with two bullets. Mrs. McClure was pregnant.

McClure told police:

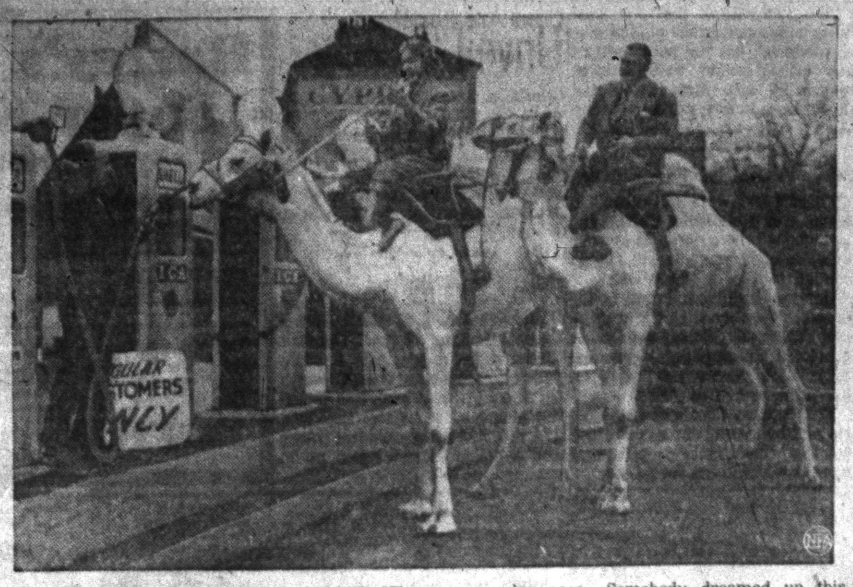

"I have cancer and my wife and I were despondent over debts. We talked it over and decided there was no other way out. I shot the little boy and then the little girl and then my wife and I prayed before I shot her."

He said he telephoned his father in Swissdale, Pa., told him what had happened, and then telephoned his minister, Dr. Lewis Head of Coral Gables Methodist Church and told him what he had done.

Head said McClure, an irregular churchgoer for several years, had threatened to kill himself with the gun's one remaining bullet as soon as the telephone call was completed. Head notified police, who arrived to find McClure taking a headache powder in the kitchen of their home.

Stale Bread a Success

LOS ANGELES—Stale bread is being converted into tasty tidbits. One West Coast bakery dices the stiff, dry pieces of old bread, puts a hard, butter coating around them and sells them for a dime a bag. Demand has exceeded supply, and now the bakery may have to make stale bread on purpose!

THEY'D WALK A MILE FOR A GALLON OF GAS — A good thing this London gas station owner sells to "regular" customers only, because here he's confronted with a pair of very irregular non-regular ones. Somebody dreamed up this circus-camel gag to get a chuckle out of British autoists' plight. Gasoline is so rationed in Britain that travel is limited to 200 miles per month.

Almost a Hot Dog

CHICAGO (AP)—Little Joe, a pup, almost became a hot dog when he disappeared during a cake-baking episode in the Lawrence Egness household. A search until 2 a. m. the next day failed to locate him until Mrs. Egness heard a whimpering in the kitchen and opened the oven door. There was Little Joe, a bita unnerved but otherwise okay.

Don't You Say It!

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texas presents a solid front against the rest of the world, but at home, folks spur each other a bit. In Dallas, when the weather's sticky, warm and humid, the headlines say its "another day like Houston," the state's biggest city down on the Gulf Coast.

'Ride Integrated,' Say Negro Leaders

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Bus patrons were expected to continue "riding integrated" today as Negroes replaced their boycott of segregated buses with a campaign to sit where they please.

The City Commission ordered the Cities Transit Co., which operates the buses, to enforce the state and local segregation law. But the order came late Christmas Eve and the buses were idle for the holiday.

Some Negroes took front seats in buses Monday and met little opposition. Their leaders said they would continue to do so even though Tallahassee's segregation laws have not been ruled invalid.

The bus company has said it plans a test in the courts to determine whether the segregation requirements in its franchise are valid in light of the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling against public tran-

Triple Blessings Come to Couple on Christmas

NEW YORK (AP)—"Wow! What a Christmas!" gushed a $75-a-week truck driver yesterday after his wife gave birth to triplets, all girls.

'It's a swell Christmas present but we never expected anything like this," said Nicholas Conti, 29, of the Bronx.

* * *

The Christmas Day births swelled the Conti family offspring to seven, including 4-year-old twins. The mother, Philomena, 31, and the triplets were reported in good condition.

* * *

"We'll get along even with seven mouths to feed," said Conti.

The triplets all weighed slightly over three pounds each and were transferred to Lincoln Hospital, Bronx, as a routine precautionary measure.

'Mad Bomber' Strikes Library

No Damage by Dud; Five Phone Threats Proved to Be False

NEW YORK (AP) — A flurry of telephoned bomb threats has spurred police to an intensified campaign to find New York's "Mad Bomber."

Five bomb threats were telephoned last night. Police searched but found no bombs in two Manhattan theaters, a Bronx theater, a Manhattan YMCA and a Brooklyn tin can corporation.

* * *

Police termed the latest flurry of bomb scares the work of crackpots other than the Mad Bomber, the man who has plagued this city's police with more than 30 homemade bombs in the last 16 years.

* * *

Only once before, as far as police records indicate, has the authentic Mad Bomber telephoned an advance warning. That was last May 2 at Manhattan's Radio City Music Hall when one of his bombs was found unexploded after a telephone call.

* * *

No one was hurt or injured as police removed the device and later transported it to Ft. Tilden, Queens. Army ordnance experts are to detonate it tomorrow.

* * *

Police have labeled the device a dud—the seventh dud planted by the Mad Bomber during his career. They said the inexpensive watch used for the timing device, rather than any defect in the explosive or fuse, was probably responsible for its failure to explode.

* * *

No one has been killed by the more than 20 Mad Bomber devices that have been exploded since 1940. A number of persons have been injured, though none seriously.

Vacate Hotels, Peiping Urged

Newspaper Hits Lack of Space for Travelers in Chinese Capital

HONG KONG (INS) — Red China's government departments in Peiping have been taken to task for monopolizing hotels for use as hostels, guest houses and even hospitals.

* * *

"Please move out of hotel," urged the Communist newspaper, Ta Kung Pao, pointing out that it has become extremely difficult for ordinary visitors to the capital city to find hotel accommodations.

The newspaper added that considering the latest conditions the problem of hotel accommodation was no small problem at all.

When travelers arrived in Peiping, some of them had to remain at the railway station for the night; others had to stay in private houses.

FIND SOLUTION

The solution, said the newspaper, lies in the cancellation of the leases for hotels by government departments.

"Government departments," stressed the Ta Kung Pao, "are organizations to serve the people . . . They should give consideration to the interests of the people in every respect and at any time.

* * *

Contrary to this spirit is the long-term leases on hotels by government departments, creating difficulties for travelers."

The newspaper said the situation causes not only inconvenience to travelers but also waste of money to the state.

The U. S. navy uses 18 million pounds of butter annually.

Rat Fight Continues

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Rats outnumber people two to one in this Federal District of four million souls. And each rat does $8 in damage each year, says Dr. Alberto Enriquez Chavez, head of a continuing campaign against rats. Eight years ago the rats were ahead 3-1, Chavez says.

No Sanctuary There

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Police said Raymond Cecil Gibson, taxi cab dispatcher, outran a scout car and reached what he thought was a safe refuge—but he was still arrested. Officers finally convinced Gibson they could arrest him even though he beat them to his home and drove up in the yard.

Tell of Listening Post Plagues

Some TV Stations Lower the Volume on Commercials

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sensitive souls may turn a deaf ear to this, but the Federal Communications Commission says that some radio and TV stations actually turn down their volume for commercials.

At least, that's the finding made public after a special study of complaints from Congress and the public that broadcasters were taking undue pains to insure that their commercials are heard.

The Commission said in its annual report that 659 stations were checked earlier this year in an effort to determine whether volume was being turned up while the sponsor's message hit the airwaves.

Just the opposite, the Commission found.

Of all the stations monitored, there was only one instance of what engineers call "overmodulation" during commercials exclusively. There were 14 instances of overmodulation during both program and announcements.

However, during the same period there were 15 cases of undermodulation—four of which occurred during the commercials.

The FCC also said its listening posts were plagued during the year by what it called a form of "underground operation" by small boat owners and operators.

According to the Commission, the boat radios in some cases are used for "obscene and profane language."

The report added: "These law violators avoid identification by a form of 'underground operation' using nicknames, previously agreed upon, but consistently avoiding the use of their call signs which are required by Commission rules and international treaty."

FCC monitoring stations, in their continual task of policing the airways, also turned up these electronic oddities:

A coastal radio station in New York reported severe interference on the Marine distress channel. Engineers found the culprit was an electric fence in which sparks were jumping to a chicken wire coop where dogs were kept.

Near San Francisco a complaint of interference to a West Coast Radio station was traced to one of the company's own transmitters about 15 miles away.

One day, Air Force and Coast Guard officials in the East and Midwest suddenly began hearing weak SOS distress signals. FCC mobile units quickly traced the broadcasts to a factory at Kokomo, Ind., which was bench-testing small automatic distress transmitters used in planes and boats.

In another case, shortwave radio listeners began hearing an illegal station which identified itself as the "Phantom of Fairlawn." The Commission said the signal was quickly traced to Fairlawn, N. J., "where the culprit was found to be a man who apparently had been imbibing too freely."

But the cruelest blow of all was struck in Idaho, where someone intentionally jammed reception at an unattended mountaintop TV relay point—and thereby blocked a statewide broadcast of the first world series game.

Auto's Plunge Kills 3 Riders

3 Others Hurt as Car Hits Boulder, Tumbles 500 Feet in West

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Seconds after two boulders slipped from a slope above onto the Angeles Crest Highway, a car carrying six persons rounded a curve, hit one of the rocks and plunged over a 500-foot embankment.

Killed in the accident yesterday were Kenneth McRae, 33, Palmdale, Calif.; his son Bruce, 8; and Mrs. Elsie Beelow, 54, Minneapolis.

* * *

Seriously hurt were Richard McRae, 59, Palmdale; his wife Martha, 58; and Fred Beelow, also 58.

A rescue party said gay Christmas packages lay among the bodies at the bottom of the canyon. Another rockslide occurred while some 20 men were bringing out the injured in basket stretchers, but no one was hit by the tumbling rocks.

The survivors of the accident said the Beelows were visiting the McRae's at their Palmdale home and the two families were en route to a Christmas dinner at the home of Mrs. J. F. Williams in Garden Grove, some 60 miles from Palmdale.

The system of type measurement in which one point is 1/72nd of an inch was adopted in the U.S. in 1878.

Grains Lower in Dull Session

CHICAGO (AP) — Most grains drifted lower in very dull dealings on the Board of Trade today. Trading was even less active than in the short Monday session.

Old crop wheat futures had a weak undertone from the start, but new crop months held steady. Soybeans slipped back after an erratic opening. There was very little price change in corn or oats but corn was lower.

* * *

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ⅝ lower, March $2.40¾, corn unchanged to ¼ lower, March $1.35¼; oats unchanged to ¼ higher, March 77⅞, rye ½ to ¾ lower, March $1.48¾, soybeans ¼ to 1⅛ lower, January $2.48, and lard unchanged to 17 cents a hundred pounds higher, January $14.57.

A little pressure was exerted against old crop wheat futures from traders who felt most wheat would be redeemed from the government loan and offered on the free market after the turn of the year. Cash market prices are above the loan level.

One Driver Injured in Four-Car Pile Up

One driver was slightly injured in a four-car pile up Monday afternoon on West Huron street, Pontiac police said.

Billy G. Wilson, 29, of 1440 Oregon Rd. was released from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after treatment.

The accident began, police said, when Frederick D. Hammond, 41, of 3600 Oakshire Blvd. slowed down to turn right at Dakota avenue. His car was struck in the rear by that of Norman E. Bergen, 41, of Davisburg, who in turn was hit by Wilson's car.

Lawrence W. Caine, of Ortonville ran into Wilson, police said.

Police Charge Driver Drunk and Disorderly

Pontiac police charged Carl S. Reynolds, 63, of 292 Raeburn St. with drunk and disorderly conduct Monday evening at the scene of a five-car accident on S. Jessie street just north of Osmun street.

They said Reynolds had turned from Osmun to strike one moving car and three parked cars.

Reynolds suffered no apparent injury, authorities at Pontiac General Hospital said. Police said the other driver, John G. Martin, 26, of 203 Elm St. was not injured.

Attempt Made to Weaken Tito

Kremlin Chooses Albania as Propaganda Base

LONDON (INS)—Western diplomatic observers say that Albania has been chosen by the Kremlin as forward propaganda base for its new and apparently all-out attempt to weaken the prestige of the "heretical" Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

Smallest of the Soviet satellites and still reckoned to be the most trustworthy of Russia's unreliable satellite allies, Albania is tailor-made for the job.

It is led by two men who have been Russian stooges and fanatical Stalinists for a decade and who have no love for Yugoslovia or Tito, with whom they fell out long, long ago.

They have several times been used in the past by the Kremlin against Tito whenever the formidable Marshal seemed to be getting out of line with Moscow thinking.

And because the eruptions in the Soviet satellite empire have scarcely affected Albania, the Kremlin has had no difficulty in convincing the Albanian Red leaders that Tito is again a menace to all true Marxist-Lenin thinkers, according to the diplomatic grapevine.

It is known that Tito is particularly sensitive to any hot wind blowing from the direction of Yugoslavia's soft underbelly, and that he watches the Albanian capital of Tirana almost as carefully as he does Moscow.

* * *

Tito is fully aware that Moscow's hold on Albania is absolute both through military power and through its henchmen Communist leader Enver Hoxha and Premier Mehmet Shehu. His reported efforts to split the redoubtable Hoxha and the weaker Shehu are said to have failed, and the two are reported to be working closely together in the harness they have shared for years.

Secondly, Tito knows that Russian military aid has made Albania an always potent threat to his security in the south. Strategically Albania always has dominated the entrance to the Adriatic Sea and therefore to Yugoslavia's only coastline. But it needed Soviet air and Naval buildup to make it the powerful Mediterranean base it is reported to have become.

Western intelligence reports state that Sasebo, the island off the Albanian mainland opposite the "heel" of Italy, has been converted into a strongly fortified submarine base, with several Soviet-built and Soviet-controlled jet-warplane bases on the island and the adjacent mainland.

Thus a hostile Albania could create a nasty problem for Tito in the event of a no-holds-barred row with the Kremlin. It also could mean big problems for such nations as Italy, Greece and Yugoslavia in the event of a general war in which Russia was on the opposite side.

Current Western diplomatic thinking however is that the new Kremlin-Tito feud will not pass beyond the war of nerves stage, with the Kremlin attempting to soften up Tito as part of its piecemeal efforts to repair the Soviet external security system.

* * *

The Kremlin is seen as taking a carefully calculated risk in this. But it is not expected to do anything which might shove Tito off his precarious East-West perch into the Western camp.

Nor is the very considerable bitterness (amounting almost to hatred) between Tito and Hoxha expected to exceed the current sparring match of bitter invective. Tito assumedly has no wish to do more than shake a fist at Hoxha; and Hoxha always has obeyed the Kremlin, for whose favors he forsook Tito in 1945.

* * *

But because it gives the west a valuable indication of how soon the Kremlin-Tito honeymoon may be irrevocably abandoned, the Western capitals are staying eagerly tuned in to Tirana radio and its incessant stream of Anti-Tito propaganda.

Steel, Oils Lead Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels and oils showed the best gains in a higher stock market early today.

In fairly active trading, leading issues advanced from fractions to around a point. There were scattered losses and some gains beyond the general range.

In the market's first session following the four-day Christmas lay-off, big blocks changed hands at the opening. Some of the pressure for yearend tax selling was off but this type of transaction was still in evidence through cash sales.

Steels were up following the longest stretch of capacity-plus operations in four years and huge demand for tankers to carry oil because of the Suez situation.

* * *

Bethlehem, which has big shipyards, was up around 2 points, as was Youngstown. U.S. Steel and Republic Steel gained fractionally. Lukens Steel was up 5½ as it continued its surge.

Gulf Oil rose more than point. Royal Dutch, Texas Co. and Standard Oil (New Jersey) fractions.

Motors and Rails were mixed. Leading chamicals showed small gains.

J. I. Case was up 1 at 14⅞ on 9,000 shares.

Other opening blocks included Studebaker-Packard up ⅛ at 7⅛ on 4,500 shares, Radio Corp. off ⅜ at 35⅛ on 2,000, Bethlehem Steel up 1 at 191 on 3,000 and Gulf Oil up 1¼ at 113½ on 1,500.

* * *

On Friday, last session before the four-day Christmas weekend, the market put on its best rally in more than a week. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $1.40 to $180.20.

Rubber Sells at Record Pace

Need Due to Increase in Production of Autos, Says Firm President

NEW YORK (AP)—Record rubber industry sales of six billion dollars in 1957 and an annual rate of seven billion dollars by 1960 were forecast today by H. E. Humphreys Jr., president of United States Rubber Co.

"Passenger car and truck tire sales will total about 100 million units in 1957, compared with an estimated 98 million units for 1956," Humphreys said in a year-end statement. "The increase in part reflects estimates by the auto industry that car production will be somewhere between 6½ and 7 million units next year.

"In addition, replacement passenger car tire sales will be 1 to 1½ per cent higher and should total about 52½ million units. Truck tire replacement sales will be the same or slightly lower than the 8½ million units we estimate for this year.

"An increase in automobile production will also boost the sale of the many other rubber industry products which go into new cars. Among these are foam rubber, plastic-coated and other fabrics for upholstery, a growing number of plastic items for interior trim and numerous rubber products for gaskets, hose and mountings.

* * *

"We shall also see the growing adoption of a new automotive rubber product, air springs, these will be used on a small scale in 1957 cars. By 1958 we believe they will be widely used.

"United States Rubber Co. plans to invest a record of about 40 million dollars for expansion and modernization in 1957, compared with about 32 million in 1956 and 35½ million in 1955.

"Next year's investment will bring capital expenditures by the company over a 10 year period to 260 million dollars."

Business Notes

Merritt Cooley, head of the Pontiac branch of Michigan Soft Water of Eastern Michigan, Inc., was named the firm's top state salesman at a recent ceremony in Flint. He was awarded a new automobile for having the best sales record among 40 sales representatives.

Cooley lives at 6031 Middle Lake Rd., Clarkston.

But Inflation a Danger

Prosperity Will Continue for Nation During '57

NEW YORK (AP) — Will Americans continue to enjoy good times in 1957?

Yes, said the evidence as 1956 ended.

* * *

There may be a slow-down after the first six months in the massive economic forces that have been rolling prosperity across the nation, but there is pretty general agreement that 1957 may see the new economic records set.

Big war is seen as the principal threat to continued happy days for everyone, with the vexations of inflation, an irritating gadfly.

These things are seen as keeping life in the business boom:

1. Increased government expenditure because of the world turmoil.

2. Built-in elements that will bring higher wage levels. Many long-term labor contracts provide for yearly increases.

3. Continued rise in the level of the nation's gross national product (the sum total of all goods and services.)

4. Continued strong buying power.

5. Expansion by industry for new plants and facilities.

Some of the expected economic gains, especially in the gross national product, undoubtedly will be due to inflation. In other words, perhaps half the possible rise in GNP may be accounted for by rising prices, not actual production.

But does inflation worry the average person? Apparently not so far. He has more money in his pocket and certainly feels more prosperous. He complains about prices, but continues to buy things for cash or on the cuff.

PRICE RISE DANGER

The real danger would be a massive dose of rising prices. That does not seem to be indicated. Many of the government economists think the overall price rise in 1957 should not exceed 2 to 2½ per cent.

Informed government officials say there is no present prospect that President Eisenhower will ask Congress for any price or wage control legislation.

A potential brake may be established on consumer credit. That subject is being studied now. Any action likely would take the form of stand-by authority.

There will be rusty spots on the gleaming surface of the boom in 1957. Private housing likely will suffer as compared to previous years. The big reason for that is scarcity of loanable funds due to the government's tight money policy. Forecasts, however, are for overall construction to set a record.

The automobile industry will not approach the all-time high of 1955, according to the best informed opinion. A total of 7,400,000 passenger cars were purchased in that year. This year, a total is expected to be six million, next year, the industry sees substantially more cars bought.

But, says L. L. Colbert, president of Chrysler Corporation, a sales push will be needed. He is not worried about tight money holding back sales. He believes purchasing power exists for the "right product."

The gross national product for this year now is at an annual level of 414 billion dollars, the first time in history that the 400 billion mark has been exceeded. Last year it was $390,900,000,000. Next year there are predictions it will go to 420 billion dollars.

Personal income for October, the last government figures available, totalled $332,600,000,000, the Department of Commerce reported. That was 21 billion dollars higher than a year ago.

A new high in employment was set in August with 66,752,000 persons working. It is easy to remember a few years ago when a 60 million job goal was regarded as something to shoot for.

Prize Photographs of Tour Result of Care in Details

PARIS — That photo of Aunt Minnie clinging to the Eiffel Tower or posing with a pigeon on her hat in Venice is a priceless souvenir of a trip to Europe. Many a tourist, however, who crosses Europe with camera in hand is disappointed to discover that his once-in-a-lifetime picture is either out-of-focus or completely blank.

Today, eight out of 10 tourists take a camera abroad, says an airline company, and a few words of advice are in order for the army of amateurs who want to preserve the highlights of their trip on film.

Test your camera to be sure it is in perfect condition before you leave home. Insure your equipment against loss, and take a copy of your policy. It wil also be a proof of ownership for customs if you own a foreign camera.

Read carefully the exposure instructions which come with every roll of film, and hold the camera steady when you click the shutter.

Load the camera only in the shade. Clean it regularly.

Take along an adequate supply of film, since prices are slightly higher in Europe, and color film is hard to find.

If you are moving fast from place to place, air mail your exposed rolls home for processing.

Keep film and camera in cool, dry place, and use separate carrying case for equipment.

Take notes on all of your pictures instead of relying on memory. If using a movie camera, get road signs and town names on film.

Shoot scenes which tell a story and unlike picture postcards, include a member of your party in landscape shots.

Heavier Men Consume More

According to Survey, Drinkers, Abstainers Are Born, Not Made

LONDON (INS) — The bigger they come, the harder they drink. And the more fun they get out of life.

That in a nutshell is the conclusion of Oxford University's Dr. Richard Parnell.

Dr. Parnell, after a scientific survey, reported in the International Journal of Alcohol and Alcoholism that fat men drink substantially more alcoholic liquor than thin ones.

He also claimed that they not only get more pleasure out of it but give more pleasure to those around them.

The Oxford expert took a tape measure to 265 male students and analyzed their drinking habits.

He found that nearly a a quarter of the fat students were already regular drinkers while less than five per cent of the thin chaps had an acquired taste for hard liquor. Those stocky, muscular in-betweens had an in-between intake too.

Dr. Parnell suggested that fat males tend to like alcohol because of their temperament while thin males tended towards total abstention.

This infers that hard drinkers and total abstainers are born not made. As the average age of Dr. Parnell's human guinea pigs was only 22 he holds that none were old enough to have put on weight because of drinking.

The Oxford expert also claims that similar surveys carried out among criminals and hospital patients agree with his findings.

Dr. Parnell further suggests that a man reacts to alcohol in accordance with his physique.

The fatty relaxes, gets gay and sociable as a rule. The skinny chap tends to clam up, turns sullen and aloof. And the muscleman is the fellow who becomes noisy, boisterous and aggressive.

The moral of this story is, apparently, that although the fat man doesn't live as long as his thin counterpart, he gets a lot more fun out of life.

Unscheduled Train Stop

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Ora Sutton suddenly stopped his switch engine on the Indianapolis Belt Railroad and he and his crewmen of a small freight train fished an elderly man out of the water company canal. The man said that he stumbled into the water while walking along the bank.

Dance Was 'Loaded'

LEBANON, Ore. (INS)—Dancers who thought things were heavenly at the Bohemian hall didn't know how near heaven they were as they glided to ballroom dances and stomped to old time steps.

Under the floor authorities found enough dynamite to blow up the hall and most of the town. It had been there 12 years.

Woman Steady Voter

SWEPSONVILLE, N. C. (AP—Mrs. C. P. Thompson, 72, believes in exercising her right to vote. She has voted in every county, state and federal election since the passage of the women suffrage act 36 years ago.

"My vote means a lot, and I feel it is a duty to vote, "she said.

Teach All Facts to Baby Sitters

Make Sure Rules on Fire and Other Essentials Are There

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The baby sitter!

A problem this Holiday Season?

Here are some helpful suggestions from the National Board of Fire Underwriters:

1. Know the sitter. Make inquiries about training and family background.

2. Employ only sitters who have a sense of responsibility and who like children.

* * *

3. Try to have the same sitter regularly, if possible, and one who lives nearby.

4. Have a preliminary "get acquainted" interview with sitter. Acquaint the sitter with children and pets, especially the watch-dog.

5. Give instructions orally and leave them in writing.

6. Show sitter all exits and how to get children out of house in case of fire.

* * *

7. Be sure sitter understands that, in the event of fire, the children should be gotten out of the house first, then the fire department called, and then the parents notified.

GIVE PHONE NUMBERS

8. Give the sitter the telephone number of the fire department, you (parents or adult members of family doctor, and place to which the family) are going. Also, what neighbor to call in the event of any emergency.

9. If there is no phone, explain to sitter other means of notifying fire department in case of a fire.

10. Caution sitter against permitting child to play with matches, electric cords, or other electric appliances. Also, tell sitter to keep the child out of the kitchen, if possible.

11. If sitter is to bathe youngster, make certain she has had such experience.

* * *

12. Leave a first aid kit with sitter and explain how to take care of simple burns, cuts, bruises.

13. Provide flashlights for use in case lighting should fail.

14. Always come home at the hour agreed upon. Telephone if delayed.

15. Make suitable and safe arrangements for accompanying the sitter home.

'British Pubs Disclose Pulse of Nation'—Bevin

When the last British soldier had been brought back from Dunkerque and the Nazi blitz was at its worst, the late Ernest Bevin said, "Tell me what they are saying in the pubs and I'll tell you if we can last out."

No one, reveals an article in an issue of a national magazne, could choose a more appropriate listening post than that workman's club, poet's corner, politician's neighborhood forum, and Englishman's all-purpose meeting place than the public house or tavern.

What the cracker barrel is to grass roots America, the pub beer barrel is to England. Here the high-born the high browed, and the humble for centuries have quenched their thirst and weighed with words the trials and triumphs of "This blessed plot, this earth, this realm, this England."

The author of this article learned that British pubs, many of which are hundreds of years old, open at 10:30 a.m., close at 2:30 p.m., reopen at 5 p.m., and shut down for the night at 10:30. Presumably this schedule s meant to prevent the patrons from drinking themselves under the table. But many of them think it only serves to make more people drink more in less time. He learned also that when ordering, you must always ask for a pint or a half pint of beer or ale. If it's port you wish, you must ask for a glass of it. The only time you order a drink is when you want water. If you hear someone ask for "Nelson's Blood," he's only asking for rum.

One of the most famous of all English taverns is the fabled Tabard Inn in London. As this article points out, it was from here long ago that 29 pilgrims set out for Canterbury, and it was the Tabard inkeeper of that day who suggested that each pilgrim tell a tale on the trip. While few modern pilgrims stop at the nn today, it still retains a touch of poetry and is not without its story-tellers.

Keys to Trouble

HENRYETTA, Okla. (AP) — Rose Yarmoski, superior court clerk caught in a wintry storm without transportation, decided to bundle up and walk to work.

When she arrived downtown, she discovered she didn't have her office key. She started trudging back home — only to learn she didn't have a house key either.

All crack trains aren't the streamlined specials. A yard engine at a coal mine in West Frankfort, Ill., shuttles one million gross-ton miles every year.

Big Readership Proves Useless

Madison Avenue Man Cites Diversion of Ads to Newer Medium

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — The large reading audience was surprised last week to learn of the death of two of the nation's oldest magazines, Colliers and the Woman's Home Companion. The much smaller community of free-lance writers was shocked.

* * *

License to comment on the situation in a department devoted to television is provided by the private comment of a Madison avenue advertising agency executive. Television killed the magazines, he believes. No such remark has been heard from executives of the two magazines. Yet the agency man may have a point.

* * *

During the first years of television's phenomenal growth, nearly all branches of the publishing industry feared that it represented dangerous and, in some cases, possibly fatal competition. The fear proved to be unfounded. Book sales and magazine and newspaper circulations have generally continued to climb regardless of the huge growth of the television audience. From the aspect of receptive audiences, reading and viewing have proved quite compatible.

* * *

The case of Collier's and the Companion is not an exception to this generalization. Collier's had reached an all-time high in circulation — an average net paid of 4,179,700 for the past eight issues. The Companion was approaching its peak with an average net paid of 4,228,000 for the last four issues. These figures mean that at least 12 million persons were reading each of these magazines regularly.

So it was not lack of public interest that destroyed them. Rather, sharp declines in advertising forced them to suspend publication.

* * *

It is the theory of the agency executive, undocumented by specific examples, that advertising which in years past would normally have been placed in these publications was diverted to television. This may or may not be true. If true, it is interesting that death came in the back door, so to speak, by way of advertising rather than readership.

College Grads Decline

WASHINGTON—The number of person 18 to 21 years of age in the United States decreased at the rate of 100,000 a year from 1945 1955. The number of college graduates reflected that decline, falling from an all-time high of 434,000 in 1950 to 287,000 in 1955.

Little Bird - - Big Trouble

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — An energetic sparrow who tried to use a piece of copper wire for nest building material shorted out a 69,000-volt transformer and cut off power for this South Texas city for nine minutes. The power break also was fatal to the unlisted customer.

Found by a Long Shot

LYNNFIELD, Mass. (AP) — A lost 3-year-old girl's statement that she "got shot yesterday" was good enough to establish her identity. Police got in touch with Dr. Thomas B. White, who had been giving polio shots in the area. He identified her as Karen Dineen.

Boy Freezes; Lost in Woods Hunting With Dad

NORTH FREEDOM, Wis. (AP) — Seven-year-old Lawrence Mitchell didn't see Santa Claus this Christmas because he died alone in a forest, his body guarded by his little brown dog.

Lawrence had gone hunting with his father, Henry Mitchell, and they became lost. The boy died as his dad searched for a way out of the dense woods.

* * *

Sauk county coroner Dr. James Tibbitts, in telling of the tragedy yesterday, said the little boy died of exposure. His frozen body was found by searchers. His dog was at his side.

Tibbitts said the father and son entered the woods Sunday afternoon on the hunt for rabbits and squirrels. They lost their way when snow began to fall at dusk.

* * *

The father said they wandered the woods at night and Monday morning the boy weakened and could not walk and Mitchell left him while he continued to search for a way out. He reached his home at 11 a.m. and neighbors found the boy's frozen body.

Mitchell was suffering from exposure and hospitalized.

Vulcanizing Agents New

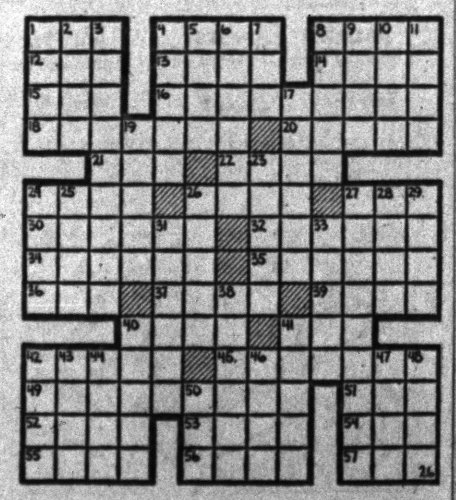

NEW YORK—The elements, selenium and tellurium, are being used instead of sulfur in vulcanizing rubber to produce a material with reportedly better wearing and flameproofing properties for rubber coverings of electric cables in ship and mining equipment.
