Red China Tour Has U.S. Youths in State of Chaos

By MAX E. SIMON

Through a direct phone call to Moscow, Russia, The Pontiac Press has learned that American students attending the Communist-sponsored World Youth Festival are "in a state of chaos" over invitations to tour Red China.

The information came from 22-year-old Larry Schwartz of Utica, one of 40 delegates from the U. S. who says he will journey behind the Bamboo Curtain despite a State Department ban on travel there.

In an exclusive statement to the Press yesterday, Schwartz said, "I am extremely anxious to go to Red China. I'm curious about the country and the trip is free."

He denied there is a token $100 fee for the three-week stay in Red China and said he had been assured the trip would cost him nothing.

Schwartz, a 1956 graduate of the University of Michigan, said the invitations to visit Red China had not come from the Peiping government.

FROM CHINESE STUDENTS

"They were extended by Chinese students attending the festival," he said. "The students would bear the expense of our travels. I will say this — they are very friendly and really want us to come and see what life in their country is really like."

Schwartz said that he didn't know where the Chinese students were getting the money to pay for the trips. Similar offers have

Returning Swiss Clash With Students

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Several hundred anti-Communist students clashed with Swiss youths returning from the Moscow youth festival at the railway station here last night. Police reported several persons were injured.

The clash started when one of the returnees demolished a poster "Don't forget Hungary" which the students had been carrying.

The students surged forward and threw the baggage of the Moscow travelers back into the train. Police intervened to escort the travelers out of the station. Five were briefly taken into protective custody. Several others had fled the station leaving the baggage behind.

been made by the Chinese to many other foreign delegations, he said.

Schwartz said he had no left-wing leanings.

Asked if he were a Communist, he replied: "Of course not. I'm not at all interested in politics. I'm here as a free agent and am just another American tourist anxious to see the world."

Schwartz said he has become acquainted with the other person from Michigan planning to go to Red China, Genevieve Lorraine Nowacki, 24, of 12099 Sobieski, Hamtramck.

"I never knew her before and don't know what her political beliefs are," he said.

Miss Nowacki is known by the Detroit police subversive squad as frequently attending Communist party gatherings.

Schwartz said he is having a "good time" in Moscow. "As far as I can see, the festival is non-political and no one is trying to fill us with propaganda," he said.

He has spent considerable time visiting with families in the Russian capital.

NOTHING FROM EMBASSY

He and others have asked the American Embassy in Moscow and U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson about the consequences of the trip to Red China, he said, but were unable to get a "commitment" from the ambassador.

The U.S. State Department has declared itself opposed to the visit to China, but has not said what steps would be taken if some made the trip.

Lincoln White, department press chief, said over the weekend, "In the absence of specific information that one or more of these

Claim Dio's Pal Stacked Union's '55 Convention

New York Bowery Goons Used by Doria to Gain Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anthony Doria, named by other witnesses as a pal of New York racketeer Johnny Dio, was called for questioning today by senators probing shady labor-management practices in the New York area.

The special Senate Racketeests Committee has received testimony that Doria, using "goons" from New York's Bowery, stacked a union convention in 1955 with Dio delegates.

In this way, the senators were told, efforts to rid the union of officials who took orders from Dio were blocked.

Now the Allied Industrial Workers, the union formerly known as the AFL United Auto-Workers.

Doria, former secretary-treasurer of the union, also faced questioning about testimony that he brought Dio into the labor movement in 1951 as head of the union's Local 302 in New York.

Earl Heaton, the union's retiring president, told the committee last Friday that the union had agreed to pay Doria $30,000 and buy him a Cadillac car in return for his resignation from his position with the AIW. Heaton said only $25,000 of the amount actually has been paid.

Dio, a dapper mobster now awaiting sentencing on a shake-down charge, refused to tell the senators last week whether he and Doria were friends.

Dio said the answer to that and many other questions might incriminate him.

TO TALK LOUD
A prospective witness said in Chicago he is going to talk "and talk loud."

He is Angelo Inciso, whom Heaton named along with Dio and Doria as having been paid to get out of the old Auto Workers Union. Heaton said Inciso was allowed to take along a Chicago local with assets of $300,000. Inciso continues as president of the local, now No. 285 of the independent United Industrial Workers of America.

Inciso said he already has turned over to Carmine S. Bellino, a committee investigator, a $2,000 canceled check. He said he can prove by it that he gave the amount several years ago to a man who was then an AFL official. He called it a bribe to get the AFL "off my neck—quit trying to muscle me out of my own union."

County Orders Housing Report

Call for Comprehensive Welfare Board Survey of Substandard Units

At the demands of Pontiac representatives, the Oakland County Social Welfare Board was ordered today by the Board of Supervisors to make a full report on alleged sub-standard housing conditions in Pontiac.

The Welfare Board was ordered to make a comprehensive survey of its housing for welfare families and prepare a printed report for the Supervisors' next meeting.

On a motion by Pontiac Supervisor Robert Boyer, the welfare agency was told to name all of its housing units in violation of local health laws and to come up with recommendations to eliminate or clean them up.

The Pontiac representatives were aiming at 30 county-owned units on the northwest side of town, which the City Commission has asked to be removed as health hazards.

City Attorney William A. Ewart, who also serves as a supervisor, said today that the county, as a landlord, can create poor health situations as easily as any other owner of sub-standard housing.

The homes in question are small and crowded, with no indoor toilet or water facilities, Ewart and Boyer said.

Where Plane Crashed and Burned Near Quebec

Plane Searching for Three Marooned on Mountain

JUNGFRAUHOCH, Switzerland (INS) — A rescue plane flew dangerously close to the north face of icy Mount Eiger this morning in search of three trapped mountaineers but there was no sign of life.

Ace pilot of the Swiss Air Rescue Guards, Herman Geiger, edged the craft close to the spot where one of the climbers, Stefano Longhi dangled from ropes, but the Italian hung motionless.

Observers who watched him through telescopes from Kleine Scheidegg were convinced the climber "could not have lasted through last night's blizzards and lashing rainstorms."

Longhi hung lifeless on a snow patch, stiffly hunched over and his face looking out over Grindelwald far below. The rope attaching him to the rock buttress was coated with a frosting so thick it could be seen by telescopes.

His position remained unchanged since he was first sighted in the morning and almost all hope that he survived was gone.

Geiger apparently planned to search the entire treacherous north face of the 13,038 foot mountain where the party of climbers has been marooned for nine days.

The next moves of the rescue parties stationed on the peak of the mountain would, most likely depend on what Geiger reported.

HEAD TO REFUGE HUT
Two guides were on their way to another part of the mountain to check out the possibility that the two Germans in the group had somehow inched their way around another route and might be sheltered in a refuge hut.

The fourth member of the party, Italian Claudio Corti, was plucked from a ledge of the north face yesterday by a daring German guide who swung down to him on a cable and hoisted him up.

Rescuers, who reached the peak of the mountain by the easier south side route were forced to halt operations during the night due to the weather.

Conditions were a little better this morning, with some sunny intervals but a south wind brought a danger of avalanches.

Two German climbers were last seen clinging to a narrow ledge some 1200 feet from the summit.

Aug. 3 Guess Leads in Weather Contest

Though the thermometer tried hard yesterday when it reached 91, it still didn't pass the high of 92 for this month on August 3.

Though many came close to the correct time, Christiana Laschinsky of 882 Coughlan Drive hit it right on the nose, making her the leader in the Hottest Moment in August contest.

But 20 more days remain in August and who knows, that $200 U. S. Savings Bond still may be yours.

Pot-O-Gold Holds $2,100 Fortune for Lucky Winner

Where but in Pot-O-Gold is losing just another way of winning? You just can't lose in this contest. The 21st $100 bill has been tossed into the pot, bringing the total to a rousing $2,100 for the winner of this week's puzzle.

And even if someone comes along with the answer to last week's Pot-O-Gold, there will still be $100 left to start the fund on its way again.

So turn to page 5 of today's Pontiac Press. You'll find a new puzzle which will provide a lot of fun and possibly a lot of money.

A little extra attention to the clues might be what's needed to take your entry out of the "almost" category and put it into the winner's spot.

Claim Hoffa Blocks Merger

Teamster Official Said Prime Stumbling Block in Wayne County Talks

DETROIT (AP) — The outcome of new merger talks between the Wayne County CIO council and the Detroit & Wayne County Federation (AFL) today, could rest with Midwest Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa.

Hoffa, a second vice president of the AFL group, has been called the "prime stumbling block" to such a merger by Michigan CIO President August Scholle because of his insistence on settling jurisdictional disputes first.

The CIO council represents 375,000 union members. The AFL federation has 200,000 members.

Hoffa belongs to a 24-member joint committee which is trying to arrive at an amicable merger of the two groups. Also on the committee is Michael Novak, president of the CIO council.

Novak joined Scholle in blasting Hoffa over the weekend at the CIO council's convention in Detroit.

Novak said he thinks the merger talks will be fruitless because "Hoffa will say that before there can be any merger in Wayne County we will have to get the jurisdictional problem over work and job rights settled first."

"In the last 20 months," Scholle said, "we on the state level have only had two merger meetings with the AFL. Hoffa has blocked local mergers in 26 Michigan counties. We weren't able to talk merger because an entirely phoney issue of union jurisdiction was raised."

The Milford High School Band will also be starred with their color uniforms and precision marches.

The Sheriff's mounted posse and the Dixie Saddle Club will add a western touch to the affair as they parade on horseback.

Pontiac Motors will contribute an historical note with a parade of antique-Pontiac cars.

Among the outstanding participants in the parade will be Jackie Ray and her Ravenettes, a 30-girl drill team; the Sylvan Lake Lodge Drill Team; and the Land-O-Lakes Majorettes, 32 baton-twirling girls.

During the celebration of the Pontiac anniversary, downtown merchants will award a golden 1957 Pontiac automobile.

None Survives Canada's Worst Air Disaster

DC4 Plunges to Earth With Veterans, Families Minutes After 'All Well'

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES
QUEBEC — Investigators picked their way through a wreckage littered swamp-land near Quebec City today seeking clues to the cause of a crash that took 79 lives yesterday in Canada's worst air disaster.

The chartered DC4 carrying a vacationing veterans group home from England was smashed into fragments except for the front end of the fuselage which dug a 10-foot deep, 30-by-15-foot wide crater into the marshy land.

From the fuselage section in the water-filled hole, provincial police and Canadian Transport Department workers hoped to recover bodies of some of the six crew members, including two hostesses, and 73 passengers, who perished when the plane plowed into the earth 13 miles southwest of Quebec.

But a look at the grisly crash scene made it evident that the remains of most of those who boarded the plane in London Saturday would never be identified.

The flight had been chartered by the Imperial Veterans Organization, a branch of the Canadian Legion. In the plane were 14 couples and two small children. A number of unaccompanied women were believed to be English war brides returning from a visit to their former homeland.

The plane fell as it was nearing the end of a long leg of its transatlantic flight, a hop from Keflavik, Iceland, to Montreal, where it was to stop for a crew switch-over before continuing to Toronto, its final destination.

OK AT RADIO CHECK
Four minutes after a routine "all's well" radio check with Quebec City—at 2:07 p.m. EDT—the four-engine plane pounded into the pulpy earth near the community of Isouard.

The plane appeared to be slightly off course and attempting to fly under thunderclouds (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Another Crisis Reported in U.S.

Pravda Says America Has an Acute Shortage of Public Libraries

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda reported a new crisis in American life today. This time it reported an acute shortage of public libraries. The Communist newspaper said libraries in the United States are "largely located in the aristocratic sections of American cities where plain workers wearing sweaters and coarse shoes do not like to visit."

In an article signed by two candidates for masters degrees in philology, Pravda said that 170 million Americans are served by only 7,500 public libraries.

"That is a meager figure," Pravda said, "when it is recalled that our own state of the Ukraine with 40 million inhabitants has 35,000 libraries with 128 million books."

The type of books provided by Soviet libraries was not discussed in the article. But Pravda said that the majority of Americans who read books regularly "content themselves with literary garbage," such as detective stories.

Police to Ticket Lake Speeders

Waterford Patrol Starts Crackdown Today on Marine Hot-Rodders

A former Waterford Township policeman was rehired for special duty to patrol township lakes on a part-time basis, according to Supervisor Elmer Johnson.

Jack Hart was sworn in Saturday morning and began work immediately.

Lake property owners have been contacted and agreed to cooperate fully with the police. According to commanding officer Capt. M. J. Pender, complaints have been coming in to the township hall from lake residents regarding reckless operation and excessive speed of motorboats on the lakes.

Pender points out that with adequate prosecution of "water cowboys" and "marine hot-rodgers," water accidents can be cut to a minimum.

Waterford Township police are working in conjunction with the Oakland County Sheriff's Office and State Police in an all-out effort to make the lakes safer for everyone.

According to the law, a person is guilty of a misdemeanor if he carelessly and heedlessly disregards the rights or safety of others while driving a motorboat.

Upon conviction, a culprit can be fined up to $100 or serve 90 days in jail, according to the discretion of the court. Any law enforcement officer or conservation officer can make an arrest.

Other restrictions include the muffling of engines of water-craft and required bow lights which can be distinguished at a distance of 500 feet.

What worm accurately predicts the severity of the coming winter? How can you look at it and read the forecast for the coming winter?

A number of weather experts have confirmed the belief that the caterpillar, known as the "Woolly Bear," accurately forecasts the winter every year.

This may be hard to believe but it has been found that the brown band in the center of the Woolly Bear's length relates to mild weather.

If the band is wide, then a mild winter is ahead. If narrow, a severe winter is in store.

As mentioned in an earlier treatment of unusual weather facts, tests of the Woolly Bear's accuracy have proven this caterpillar remarkably accurate. Nature, then, reveals a valuable tip about future weather for those who are interested enough to observe carefully.

Trapped 14 Hours on High Ledge in Yosemite

Boy, 6, Plays Safe After Narrow Escape

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Calif. (U) — Six-year-old Terry Wayne Dunbar and his family are continuing their vacation here today—but all of them, especially Terry, are staying in the park valley.

The Portland, Ore. youngster spent 14 hours Friday night trapped on a narrow ledge precariously close to a drop of hundreds of feet down the granite face of Yosemite Falls.

The boy had been hiking with a group that included his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bevins.

Terry disappeared but the group, split into two parties, did not miss him until they rejoined.

At dawn Saturday, searchers with loudspeakers and bloodhounds began combing the area along the dangerous trail edge. Terry answered a loudspeaker call.

Rescue workers who spotted him warned: "Don't move."

While Terry's mother and stepfather watched from the valley floor far below, Ranger Dick Pack was lowered on a rope. Pack clutched the lad and both were hauled to safety.

Asked about the boy: "Weren't you cold?"

"No—I just went to sleep," the boy replied.

And apparently he had, although on a space so narrow that had he tossed or rolled he would have plunged to his death.

Terry slipped off the trail after stepping on loose shale rock, but stopped sliding on the narrow perch. He had only a few minor scratches.

He is the son of Joseph Schwartz, 6226 Auburn, in Utica. His father is employed as a crane operator in Romeo. His mother is Mrs. Evelyn Van Hevel, 22413 Donald, East Detroit. His parents are divorced.

Schwartz was reached at the U. S. delegation's hotel at the Moscow Agricultural Exhibition. It was early evening in Moscow, 10:45 a. m. in Pontiac.

Schwartz said the group would travel by rail across Siberia, and would be flown to Prague, Czechoslovakia after their visit to Red China.

It was also learned by the Press that Schwartz phoned his family in Utica over the weekend and expressed surprise about the publicity given the students planning to go to Red China.

Schwartz talked with his father; a married sister, Charlotte Hagle, 18; and a brother, Joseph, 30.

ASKED HIM TO COME HOME

"We all asked him to come home and not make the trip," Mrs. Hagle said. "He said that if he thought that he might get into trouble he wouldn't go."

"Larry told us that he believes he would be helping the United States by going because he could tell the Chinese people what our way of life is like."

His sister said the family was upset about the call because "we know that Larry didn't have the money to pay for it and we wonder who did."

At the University of Michigan, Schwartz held a straight B average and was active in dramatics. He was also an editor of the campus humor magazine, the Gargoyles.

In the summer of 1956 he worked in England for the U. S. Immigration Service. He has been supporting himself in Europe by teaching and other jobs, his mother said.

79 Die in DC4 Crash Near Quebec City

When it crashed, a farmer said he saw the plane come out of the cloudbank and that its four engines were stalled.

Another witness on the ground said he saw the plane, flying low, roar into a cloud bank. The observer said that moments later a violent storm broke out.

Four hours later, another plane from the same line as the ill-fated DC4, the Maritime Central Airways, spotted the wreckage and reported back to Toronto: "No survivors."

Many of the men passengers were former British servicemen who had moved to Ontario. They had taken their families for a homes.

The pilot, 37-year-old Norman Ramsay of Montreal, whose flying license had once been suspended on a charge of negligence in a plane crash, stopped in Iceland on the way home.

He brought the plane up the St. Lawrence River valley in sunny weather, making the prescribed radio checks. At 2:07 p. m. he reported passing over Quebec.

There was no 3 p. m. radio report to Montreal, the next check point along the plane's route. For several hours the plane was listed as missing.

The HAGUE (U) — Six crewmen were killed today when a seaplane of the Dutch Navy crashed shortly after takeoff from the airfield of Merauke, on Dutch New Guinea, the Navy Information Service said.

The aircraft was engaged in supplying an airfield now under construction in the New Guinea jungle to serve as a center for exploration.

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors today voted approval for its building and grounds committee to proceed with construction of one additional cottage to relieve crowded conditions at the Oakland County Children's Home.

This was trimming the recommendation of Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, who sought two or three new cottages.

James W. Hunt, director of Children's Services, said he felt that one cottage would be a step in the right direction, but hoped that additional cottages would be approved soon.

In another vote, supervisors moved toward completion of a new children's home annex next month, for about 20 neglected and dependent children of elementary school age.

Following a $19,000 appropriation by the Board of Supervisors today, Hunt said the home at 52 Franklin Blvd. will probably be accommodating an overflow of youngsters from the main children's home during the first month of school.

Today's appropriation was for operating expenses during the rest of the year. The Board already has spent $20,000 to buy the building and another $3,500 to renovate it.

The youngsters entering the new home will attend Crofoot School, under an agreement with the Pontiac Board of Education, Hunt said.

Previously, all school age wards and temporary wards of the county had attended classes at the Children's Home.

Hunt said the new, separate facility represented a step towards segregating dependent and neglected children from the delinquent children who make up the bulk of EINDHOVEN, Netherlands (U) — At least six persons were killed today in a train crash near Acht, between Eindhoven and Best, South Holland. An estimated 50 people were injured, several seriously.

In another vote, supervisors moved toward completion of a new children's home annex next month, for about 20 neglected and dependent children of elementary school age.

Following a $19,000 appropriation by the Board of Supervisors today, Hunt said the home at 52 Franklin Blvd. will probably be accommodating an overflow of youngsters from the main children's home during the first month of school.

Today's appropriation was for operating expenses during the rest of the year. The Board already has spent $20,000 to buy the building and another $3,500 to renovate it.

The youngsters entering the new home will attend Crofoot School, under an agreement with the Pontiac Board of Education, Hunt said.

Previously, all school age wards and temporary wards of the county had attended classes at the Children's Home.

A STEP FORWARD

Hunt said the new, separate facility represented a step towards segregating dependent and neglected children from the delinquent children who make up the bulk of Franklin said guests arrived from all New England states, Illinois, New York, New Jersey, Florida, Texas and California. He said there also were people from Canada, Scotland, England and Switzerland.

The barbecue guests formed in two lines to get their food in cafeteria style.

Lawrence Franklin, son of the farmer, said his father had figured he broke about even on the barbecue after selling 1,400 tickets at $3 for adults and $1 for children.

The Day in Birmingham

Slate One Public Hearing, Two Requests for Board

BIRMINGHAM — Only one public hearing is scheduled by city commissioners this evening. It will be for the discussion of the special assessment on improving the Elm street sidewalks.

Commissioners will receive requests from two organizations for fund raising street sales in September. Chalmers LaFray, commander of the South Oakland chapter of Disabled American Veterans is asking permission to conduct the Forget-Me-Not sale, September 13 and 14.

E. B. Morely Jr., president of the Birmingham Kiwanis Club, is requesting a permit for their annual peanut sale September 27 and 28.

Other items coming before the commission will be the manager's report on the 1957 sidewalk construction and repair program, model airplane flying, the newly prepared personnel manual, Nixon Pond dredging, proposed sale of city owned property on East Lincoln and salt purchases for street maintenance this coming winter.

Commissioners also will receive a communication from the Michigan Municipal League concerning their annual meeting on Mackinaw Island, September 5 to 7. This will include elections and discussions of items of interest and benefit to League members.

Nine persons, five from one family, were injured in a four-car crash yesterday afternoon on Telegraph road just south of Hickory Grove road.

Bloomfield Township Police said Clayton LaRue, 21, of Garden City, lost control of his car when the boat he was hauling on a trailer began to sway and jackknife.

LaPine said the fire started in the basement where a painter was cleaning brushes with gasoline. The man was slightly burned and told the LaPines on their return home of the prompt arrival of firemen.

LaPine thanked the department for their promptness and stressed his appreciation of the fact that no damage was done by them to the home. "I have always been under the impression," he said, "that once the fire department came into a home, no matter how minor the fire or how isolated the place would be a mess. I am very happy to say that our home was in as good condition after the fire department left as it was before the fire."

No Trace of Woman Lost on Pikes Peak

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (U) — A 100-man search party continued its hunt today for an 88-year-old woman mountain climber missing on Pike's Peak for seven days.

Deputy Sheriff Frank Ripley said there is virtually no hope Mrs. Inestine B. Roberts of Colorado Springs will be found alive.

The aged woman started her 15th annual climb up the 14,100-foot peak Aug. 3. She was last seen descending the mountain two days later on her way to a lodge below timberline. She never arrived.

Searchers, including trained army mountain climbers from nearby Ft. Carson and sheriff's officers, are checking the mountain's many chasms and wooded areas by horseback, jeeps and on foot.

Money Mounts in Pot-O-Gold to $2,100

Another $100 added to the pot puts the Pot-O-Gold prize money at the $2,100 mark. Unless you don't mind someone getting in ahead of you to collect the loot, better get started right now on the new puzzle below.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

May Call Clark Gable to Testify in Libel Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A private eye says Clark Gable, Ava Gardner and Joan Crawford may be among the famous faces in the crowd of witnesses being subpoenaed by the defense for the Confidential magazine criminal libel trial.

Red Boss Holds Secret Parleys

Khrushchev to Devote Day to Meeting With East German Leaders

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev switched today from public speeches to secret talks on the sixth day of his stay in East Germany.

Fresh from a three-day swing to woo the friendship of the East Germans, Khrushchev set aside the entire day for consultations on economic and political problems of this satellite state.

He arranged to meet first with Walter Ulbricht, Communist party leader, for a political discussion. Then he was to join Soviet Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko for economic talks with East German leaders.

Allied authorities said that such questions as these were likely to come up for decisions:

1. What to do about East Germany's lagging export program to the Soviet Union.
2. Measures to tighten East German cooperation with the other satellite states.
3. Steps to bolster the unpopular East German regime which is maintained solely by the presence of 22 crack Soviet divisions.
4. Soviet actions to influence the crucial West German national election Sept. 15.

sumes today with further cross-examination of former Confidential Editor Howard Rushmore.

Private detective Fred Otash said yesterday he has a summons for Gable.

"We're holding his subpoena back, waiting to see if the (defense) lawyers want us to serve it as things develop in the case," he said.

"We also hold subpoenas for Ava Gardner and Joan Crawford, but we don't know if we will get a chance to serve them."

Miss Gardner is reported to be in Spain and Miss Crawford to be touring Europe.

Otash said he is employed by Arthur J. Crowley, attorney for two of the defendants, Fred Meade and his wife Marjorie.

Crowley is reported to have ordered subpoenas for about 100 persons, mostly film personalities. He has said he wants to ask them whether stories about them in Confidential and its sister publication Whisper are true.

But Dep. Dist. Atty. William L. Ritz said the state will seek to have the celebrities' testimony ruled inadmissible.

"I doubt very much that the testimony of such witnesses is admissible, and we mean to raise many points of law to show that it is not," Ritz declared.

"We cannot understand what the defense is trying to prove with such witnesses, all of whom have been damaged by stories in Confidential."

Ritz said also: "The purported or alleged truth of other articles has nothing to do with the articles on which we're basing our case."

As the foundation of their case, Ritz and Clarence Linn, assistant state attorney general, have listed articles about Maureen O'Hara, Dorothy Dandridge, Dick Powell, Robert Mitchum, Corinne Calvet, Mae West, John Carroll, Mark Stevens, Frank Sinatra and Alan Dale.

Paper Blasts U.S. on Oman Revolt

CAIRO (AP)—The newspaper Al Gumhuriya today accused the United States of ignoring the rebel Imam of Oman's appeal for help "in order to give the British a chance to achieve a cheap victory."

The imam recently sent appeals to both the United States and the Soviet Union for intervention in support of the rebels against the Sultan of Muscat and Oman. Neither nation has been reported planning to intervene.

"Today the Arabs have discovered through the Oman battle that the (Eisenhower) doctrine is not intended to aid nationalists or secure independence or defend peace," the paper said.

The doctrine offered economic aid to Middle East nations and military help in case of Communist aggression.

Fireworks Explode Injuring 35 in Bus

KAGOSHIMA, Japan (AP)—Two packages of fireworks exploded inside a crowded bus near this southern city today and injured 35 passengers, police reported.

Police said a fireworks manufacturer boarded the bus, then asked a friend to hand him two packages of fireworks through a window. Vibration of the bus plus the heat apparently touched them off.

Police reported that another bus tumbled down a mountain pass near Kagoshima yesterday, injuring 35 passengers.

At a road speed of 60 m.p.h. approximately 3,000 gallons of water are circulated through the average automobile radiator each hour.

Mayer Seizes 'World' Jackpot

CHICAGO (AP) — Handsome Dick Mayer, who became the year's richest golfer by winning just two tournaments—the National Open and the $101,000 "World"—had a chance to become even richer today by the stroke of the pen.

Onetime Wall Street investment broker, Mayer, 33, of La Jolla, Calif., made a $50,000 "killing" yesterday in the "World" with the same sort of sleeper finish which gave him the prestige-loaded U. S. Open title in June.

Today, Mayer decides whether to sign an exhibition contract with "World" tourney promoter, George S. May, which could produce an additional $50,000 — by making a maximum of 50 appearances at $1,000 each.

Mayer, now leading the play-for-pay fairway nomads with $66,145, captured golf's biggest cash prize yesterday by a one-stroke margin over the two men who were expected to make the "World" a private scrap—veteran Sammy Sneed and Canadian Al Balding.

Sneed, who held a 54-hole lead of one stroke over Balding, staggered to a final 74, while Balding took a 73, being hamstrung by a double bogey six on the 67th hole. Sneed and Balding each received $7,500 for sharing second.

Mayer started the final round at the crowded Tam O'Shanter course five strokes behind Sneed.

MEET IN PLAYOFF — A couple of veterans, Patty Berg (left) and Faye Crocker do a solo at Tam O'Shanter today when they meet to decide the women's championship in the "World Tourney." They were tied at 302 after regulation for the $6,000 first prize.

Milford Sweeps Double-Header

Parker's Triple Wins First in Extra Frame—Nightcap Is Easy

Milford took both ends of the season's only double-header for Junior American Legion baseball league, Sunday, 8-7 and 9-2. Clawson was the loser, but put up a great battle in the opener, to force Huron Valley BC into an extra inning before bowing. Nightcap was an easy one.

Rochester blanked Berkley in the other contest 3-0, with all three counters coming in the 5th inning. Win gives Rochester 11's 6th straight in 2nd half play, but leaves it tied with Berkley in overall totals, 13-4. Milford still leads overall, with 14-3.

Tied up at end of regulation seven innings, Milford had two down when the deciding run scored in the bottom of the 8th. Stan Sadown walked, went home later on Al Parker's triple that ended the tilt.

Parker hit 4 for 5. John Zeman blasted a terrific homer in the 4th, duplicated the feat in the second game.

A 5-run 4th-inning blast settled the nightcap, with Zeman, first up, clearing the fence with his homer for the winning tally. Dave Gaddis, Huron Valley pitcher, had 4 for 5, fanned 12.

Howe doubled, Roy Walked and Hill tripled them home to start Rochester scoring. Hill was out trying to score, but Dixon, who was on by an error, scored later with the 3rd tally. Berkley had men on several times, never got its hits together to send them home.

Twin bill:
 Clawson 103 001 20-7 5 4
 Milford 003 400 01-8 6 7
 Anderson, Gaddis (7th), Sadown
 Boehning, Figley (4th), O'Dell
 Clawson 000 200 8-3 5 5
 Milford 110 502 3-9 12 5
 LaQuier, Boehning (4th), Alzewaki,

Aces 9-Iron Shot

Birmingham Country Club's 11th hole yesterday gave up another ace, when member Frank Liebert holed out his tee shot. The 9-iron blow hit the green on the 140-yard hole, bounced and trickled into the cup.

Off-Season Run

Walleyes Providing Sport

ALL OUTDOORS (INS)—A very odd, off-season run of walleyes in the Detroit River is producing some of the best fishing in recent history.

Veteran boat livery operators and anglers say the present picket run "is the strangest thing we have ever seen."

Slim Coe, operator of a livery at the foot of Southfield in Ecorse said: "In my 15 years in the business this is the best I have ever seen it. I can't explain this walleye run, but the fishermen are sure enjoying it."

"It is much better now than it was this spring—or any spring." Another Detroit River livery operator said simply: "It's crazy, they're biting like mad, and on anything you throw to them!"

Californians Edge State Skeet Squad

(Special to Pontiac Press)

RENO, Nev.—For the lack of a single point to tie, or two to win, Michigan's skeet team in the National Skeet association's championships lost out to the California delegation Sunday, in the all-gauge event.

Several Birmingham and Pontiac (Mich.) shooters were members of the Michigan delegation shooting in the big tourney. Robert J. (Bob) Thieffels of Pontiac was a member of the five-man all-gauge team, along with Ains Norsum (Baldwin), Chet Crites and Howard Confer (Detroit) and Ken Sedlecky (Baldwin).

Michigan scores—W. A. Brown Sr. 237, Leland Brown 245, Eddie Brown 243 (Birmingham), W. T. Ellis (Mt. Clemens) 228, Joe Sedlecky (Baldwin) 203, Norsum 248, Confer 246, Ken Sedlecky 244, Thieffels 239 and Crites 246.

Pontiac Racer Sweeps Meet at Ohio Track

Pontiac's Rusty Kelly, automobile race driver, has hung up another great weekend of competition. Rusty swept the events at the Toledo Raceway Park, Sunday for the 2nd straight week. He also drove off with the track championship Friday night, setting a record for the 75-lap event.

Both successes were sandwiched about a 2nd place finish in the Jackson feature on Saturday night. In Sunday's sweep the Pontiac racer won the feature, the heat event, the pursuit and the four-car dash.

Rusty drives a modified, fuel-injection 1956 Buick.

Blanton served in Congress from 1917 to 1936 and practiced law in Washington until 1938.

Communist Hungarian Asks West for Asylum

LONDON (AP)—The British Home Office said last night Istvan Adam, personal secretary to the Communist Hungarian charge d'affaires in London, has asked for political asylum in Britain. No decision has yet been taken on his plea.
The fact that Adam had vanished from the Hungarian legation became known a week ago. Although not officially a diplomat himself, his position presumably gave him access to confidential documents.

Families in Hollywood Get Bigger and Bigger

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD — Kids are coming back. Even in Hollywood, people are now having big families. Actor MacDonald Carey says so. He should know. He's the father of six. He lives near Maureen O'Sullivan and John Farrow, the blissful parents of seven. They're friends of Steve McNally, who has eight.

WILSON

"Maybe it's the vitamins," Mrs. Carey says. Surprised not to be expecting this year, Mrs. Carey thought of calling a press conference to announce it.
We were at their big home in Beverly Hills—with a whole fleet of kids' bicycles in the garage and a "jungle zoo" out back which resembled Central Park.
"You should see the Carey Safari when we take off for the east," she said. "We take up the whole tail section of a DC-7." Papa Carey said.
Once it was the poor who had big families — But Carey was a banker's son in Iowa. His wife, Betty Hecksher, came from Philadelphia's snooty Main Line. She has a sister there.
"My sister is the head of Planned Parenthood in Philadelphia," she said. "She has five children."

"This particular generation out here seems to be going in for big families and it's a good sign," Carey said. "Of course it gets sort of expensive."

There is always a propitious moment not to have a baby — always something else you ought to spend the money for," Mrs. Carey shrugged.
Anyway, they have Lynn, 11; Lisa, 8; Steve, 6; Teresa, 5; Mac, 3, and Paul, 18 months.
"I met Mac in an acting school in New York," Mrs. Carey recalled.
"I was going to be an actress then. Just imagine what would have happened if I'd continued."

"I would have had six husbands instead of six children."

The Dave Garrows are expecting . . . Frank Sinatra and Bing Crosby'll get $100,000 each for the one-hour TV spectacular introducing the Edsel . . . Collectors are paying $25 for Rainer-Grace Kelly wedding invitations . . . Bob Hope signing Gary Crosby for his TV'er, said, "I know Bing always watches my show — but why take chances?"

EARL'S PEARLS: There's no limit to the amount of good people can do if they don't care who gets the credit. . . That's earl, brother.

'Zorro' Slated to Start in Fall

TV Show Will Feature Fictional Robin Hood of Old California

By CHARLES MAHER

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—You've been warned by now, no doubt, that if you don't like Westerns you may as well have your TV picture tube converted into a sun lamp next season.

Well, fellow squinters, there may be an out.
If cowboys are your idea of nothing to watch, if shoot-'em-ups leave you bilious, you can skip the Westerns, and watch a Spanish.

The one we have in mind is "Zorro," a series about the "Robin Hood of old California," to be introduced on ABC-TV in October by Walt Disney productions.

It'll be full of frantic fencing and loaded with breakneck horse-back chases and related jazz. And the Disney men think enough of its potential to assign it a spot opposite Groucho Marx (who's on NBC) Thursday nights.

A lot of vile personalities are going to get knocked off in this latest Disney effort, and at least one player is going to have a big "Z" cut into his forehead by the righteous sword of Zorro—a daytime Spanish playboy who turns into a formidable do-gooder at night.

But the whole thing is aimed at the family-type audience, and the Disney people assure us the blood will be spilled in judicious quantities.

The source of the series is a fictional piece about old Los Angeles by Johnston McCulley. The book twice has been made into a movie.

To play the TV role, Disney has picked Guy Williams, a 6-foot-3, 185 pounder who's been trying to get in the act around here about five years.

Williams, now 29, played a few small roles on TV in New York City, married a Powers model, came to Hollywood in 1952 on a Universal-International contract, and stayed with U-I about a year, doing very little.

Williams remained in relative obscurity kicking around between small TV and movie parts. Then, a few months back, he and about 15 other actors dropped in at Disney's to test for the new series. Williams knew how to fence and he resembled a Zorro.

Now, with any luck at all, he should be able to lick obscurity. The Zorro role is a plump plum in the adventure-mined TV game.

Executive Council Meets Today in Chicago

AFL-CIO Faces Unsolved Problems

CHICAGO (AP)—The AFL-CIO Executive Council meets today in an atmosphere freighted with unsolved problems.

George Meany, president of the 29-man policy group, was expected to announce a shift in setting for the December AFL-CIO convention. Arrangements for a meeting, Dec. 4-10 at Miami Beach were canceled last week. No reason was given.

One of the Executive Council's major tasks was formulation of a policy for settlement of jurisdictional disputes between former AFL craft unions and the shop unions of the old CIO.

Some action on corruption accusations involving leadership of individual unions was expected. Of five such cases, only one was apparently ripe for council action, the others being under consideration by the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee.

Although matters involving leadership of the 850,000-member Carpenters Union are still awaiting outcome of a grand jury investigation in Indiana, Meany indicated that he may push for the ouster of Carpenters President Maurice A. Hutcheson from the Executive Council.

Hutcheson and two other Carpenter chiefs, Vice President O. William Blaier and Treasurer Frank Chapman, were charged with participating in a five-way split of $31,500 in quick profits made on the sale of land earmarked for Indiana highway construction.

The Executive Council was expected to act upon a recommendation of the Ethical Practices Committee with respect to President James G. Cross of the 100,000-member Bakery and Confectionery Workers.

Cross was accused before the Senate Rackets Committee of having negotiated a substandard contract for members of his union employed at the Zion (Ill.) Industries, after having borrowed $97,600 from Martin Phillipsborn Sr., a heavy investor in the Zion bakery enterprise.

The Bakers' president was accused of other irregularities, including failure to account for $32,000 of the union funds he spent last year.

The Executive Council was expected to hear first reports on Senate committee testimony that President Anthony J. Valente and Secretary-Treasurer Lloyd Klement of the 90,000-member United Textile Workers misused some $100,000 in union funds.

No action was expected at the current session on the Teamsters Union, whose president, Dave Beck, has been accused of misappropriating $400,000 in union funds. The Ethical Practices Committee has set a hearing for the Teamsters for Aug. 28.

Nevertheless, the 1½-million-member Teamsters Union, biggest in the AFL-CIO family, was expected to come up for some discussion.

The U. S. auto industry uses 20 per cent of the total domestic steel output.
