FLIGHT FINISHED — "Flying grandfather" Max Conrad looks fresh and perky after his 6,911-mile flight from Casablanca, Morocco, to El Paso, Tex. He arrived Thursday morning. The trip took him 56 hours and 26 minutes. After this interview with a newsmen, Conrad had a snack and then hopped back into his plane and took off for San Francisco.

Grandpa Cracks Air Mark

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (U) — Flying Grandpa Max Conrad took a well-deserved rest in this desert resort today after flying a light plane to a non-stop distance record from North Africa to Texas.

Conrad, 56, landed Thursday at El Paso — 6,911 miles from Casablanca, where he coaxed his gas-heavy Piper Comanche into the air more than two days before.

The 56-hour 26-minute flight in the little blue and white monoplane was a record for planes weighing under 3,900 pounds.

Airport Project Request Cut $50,000 by State

A $133,000 Pontiac Municipal Airport construction program — consisting wholly of improvements slashed from the 1960 program by the federal government — has been approved by the Michigan Aeronautics Commission for 1961.

The program totals $50,000 less than the city asked for. The cutback in requested funds is the second within a month.

City's Yule Tree Thrived on Oatmeal

A Christmas tree that in its infancy thrived on oatmeal will grace the downtown Pontiac Yuletide display next week.

Unusually bushy and 60 feet tall, the evergreen grows next to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis deYonge, 3300 Fox Rd., Commerce Township.

It'll be cut down Monday morning and trundled into town for the Downtown Merchants Assn. by forestry crews of the Parks and Recreation Department.

Adorned by 5,000 multi-colored lights, the tree will stand throughout the Christmas season at the corner of Oakland avenue and Saginaw street.

Not only will the tree be the highest in Pontiac history, Mrs. deYonge is sure it'll be the shapeliest, too.

That's because the tree got its vitamins when young, she maintained.

DeYonge, an office worker for Cutting Tools & Supplies, Inc., and his wife planted a lot of evergreens the fall they moved into the Fox road home back in 1941.

One young seedling — a Norway spruce — happened to be placed in the midst of a rock garden.

Mrs. deYonge watered the garden thoroughly during the summers and the young tree consequently got more moisture than the others in the yard.

The same young tree got plenty of oatmeal fertilizer scattered about its base.

Although she doesn't pretend to be an arboriculturist, Mrs. deYonge thinks the oatmeal worked wonders, although it's admittedly an uncommon form of fertilizer.

"When the tree is on display, everyone will agree it's exceptionally pretty," she said. "That's proof of the pudding."

Alas for the spruce, it got too many vitamins, grew too big and broad.

Houghton Folk Claim Winter Already Here

HOUGHTON (U) — Winter is nearly a month away, but Houghton area residents don't believe the calendar.

Houghton has had 57 inches of autumn snow and has a good start toward a record-breaking snowfall year. The heaviest snows hit Houghton in 1949-50 when 282.2 inches — about 23½ feet — fell.

A year ago only 10.8 inches had fallen. Official snowfall records have been kept for the last 75 years.

Seaway Ships Race Deadline

Some of 77 Foreign Vessels Still on Inside May Be Trapped

From Our News Wires

MONTREAL — Seventy-seven ocean-going ships are still in the St. Lawrence Seaway system and with the closing deadline set for Monday midnight it appeared some might be caught if the deadline is not extended.

Transport Department officials say the situation is not unusual. A deadline has not been met in years.

Transport Minister George Hees has insisted the closing date will not be changed.

Cold weather has virtually shut down Great Lakes shipping.

SEASON NEARLY OVER

The foreign shipping season is just about over for Detroit and soon will end for all the Great Lakes until spring.

Port officials said today the American Export Line ship the Exanthia will be the last ship to carry cargo to foreign ports from Detroit this season.

The St. Lawrence Seaway locks will not operate after Monday because of possible ice jams, according to port officials.

Of the 77 ocean-going ships still in the system, 21 entered the western end of the Seaway canals today and were expected to reach Montreal with time to spare.

But if the other 56 — including an undetermined number still west of Welland, Ont. — are to clear the Seaway in time, lock workers will have their busiest days since the Seaway was opened.

High winds this week halted ship movements along most of the route as long as 26 hours, further complicating the situation.

Ask $100 Million More in NEXT State Budget?

Future Request Leap Looms With Current Wee: Still Unsolved

LANSING (UPI) — State agencies want Michigan's tax blueprint for spending to be more than $100 million higher than the current yet-to-be balanced budget, it was disclosed today.

A survey of state officials revealed the 1960-61 budget requests submitted to Gov. G. Mennen Williams may amount to as much as $150 million more than the $403 million appropriated for general government for 1959-60.

State Controller James W. Miller confirmed that budget requests now being reviewed might get to the $350 million mark.

But he emphasized that it was premature to ask about the next budget period.

"First things first," Miller said. "We've got a lot of catching up to do. We're concerned about what's available this year."

These requests to spend more than a half billion dollars came as the state had $54 million in unpaid bills and a deadlock in the Legislature on how to balance the record budget approved early last summer. The Legislature will resume tax talks Monday.

Miller declined to say whether the rear guard action on the current budget would mean Williams will get a late start on what probably will be his last budget fight.

The governor normally presents budget messages late in January. But he has not had time to confer with Miller's budget division on policy matters for the new budget.

UNIVERSITIES ASK HIKE

"Before looking at a man's tonsils, let's check that tourniquet on his leg," said Miller, a pipe-smoking political science professor who will turn Michigan's budget draft-else in July. He will become secretary of Michigan State University.

MSU and other universities are asking a boost in the $100 million they got this year. MSU alone wants $35 million, a boost of more than seven million dollars in its current budget.

The Mental Health Department has requested $85 million for all operations, up from the $70,800,000 received during the current year.

The Welfare Department request will be at about the same $70 million level it now receives.

Former U. N. Official a Suicide, Police Say

NEW YORK (U) — Povl Bang-Jensen, 50, deposed United Nations official who had been missing since Monday, was found dead Thursday in a Queens park. Police called it "an obvious case of suicide."

The body of Bang-Jensen, dismissed from the U.N. in a controversy over releasing the names of Hungarian refugees, was found by a man walking his dog along the bridge path of Alley Pond Park.

A .25-caliber revolver was in his right hand. He died of a bullet wound in the right side of his head. Police said a note in his possession was identified by handwriting experts as that of the Danish national.

The note, addressed to his American-born wife Helen, begged her forgiveness and suggested funeral arrangements.

Authorities said the body had been in the wooded area more than 24 hours. This left about 48 hours of Bang-Jensen's disappearance unaccounted for. He was not seen alive after leaving his home Monday at Lake Success on Long Island — about two miles from where he was found.

When he disappeared there was concern that he might have been kidnapped or harmed by Communist agents. Reports circulated that he recently had received fresh information dealing with the U.N. Hungarian investigation.

NO FURTHER CHECK

Asking for a further investigation of Bang-Jensen's death were Robert Morris, former chief counsel for the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, and Dr. Bela Fabian, chairman of the Federation of Hungarian Former Political Prisoners.

The FBI in Washington said it is not investigating the death.

Gas Station Man Gets Slugged

Bandit Grabs $659 in One Cash Box, Misses Over $1,000

A bandit who beat a Pontiac Township gas station owner into unconsciousness early today took $659 from a cash box but overlooked more than $1,000, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Edwin L. Jostock, 27-year-old owner of a Speedway Gas Station, 2005 E. Walton Blvd., told deputies the holdup took place shortly after he opened his station at 6 this morning.

"As I bent over to unlock an oil tank at the side of the building, someone hit me over the head," he told Deputy Donald J. Johnston. "All I saw were the man's feet. He was wearing black shoes or boots."

Jostock said everything went black and he didn't remember anything until he staggered out onto Walton about 10 minutes later.

His attacker is believed to have used an ax handle found lying in the snow near the tank.

The bandit took a cash box from a desk drawer, broke it open with a hammer and emptied it of slightly more than $659.

Deputies said he missed three paper bags containing $1,000 cash in a second drawer, some loose change in a third drawer and an estimated $25 in the cash register.

Jostock was taken to Pontiac General Hospital, treated for head injuries and released.

An unidentified motorist, who saw Jostock staggering around the side of the road, drove him to another nearby gas station where he called police.

Among Eight on Special Unit to Crack Jam

Roberts and Anderson Work to Find Needs for Immediate Funds

Cochairmen of a special team of eight legislators trying to crack the tax quagmire in Lansing were meeting with three members of the State Administration Board today to find out just what Michigan needs in immediate funds.

They are Rep. Farrell E. Roberts (R-West Bloomfield Township) and Rep. John T. Bowman (D-Roseville).

Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson (R-Waterford Township) is also a committee member.

Roberts and Bowman were meeting with State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown, James Miller, state comptroller, and Otis M. Smith, auditor general.

"We want from them exactly what the minimum is that it will take in new taxes to keep us going," said Roberts who represents Oakland County's third district.

Republicans have insisted that Gov. Williams' estimate of $110 million is too high. They say it should be closer to $75 million.

"We're going to keep today's meeting and Monday's full committee meeting entirely away from politics and get to the pure mathematics of the problem," Roberts said.

NEW PAYROLL LEVY

At the same time, Roberts agreed with reports that there was renewed interest in a temporary payroll tax, endorsed by GOP titular head Paul D. Bagwell.

Annual revenues from this source have been estimated at about 110 million dollars.

"I myself am against it," Roberts said. He said it was only an income tax in disguise.

Williams said today the payroll tax would be "reasonable and equitable" and would get his signature if the Legislature agrees to enact one.

"If the Legislature chooses, it could be passed in a single session," the governor said.

However, Roberts predicted that if support for it could be won in the predominantly Republican Senate, it would "easily" pass in the House.

He said there are five Republican senators who would accept the pay roll tax. "Add this to the 12 Democrats and the proposal (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Rocket Aimed at Venus to Be Launched Shortly

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (U) — The United States pushed ahead with plans for another stab at space today while still seeking the reason for the failure of its biggest moon rocket.

In about two weeks an attempt will be made to propel a payload toward the vicinity of the planet Venus and The launching vehicle will be a Thor-Able rocket.

The nation's latest space effort ended in disappointment Thanksgiving Day when a mammoth Atlas-Able rocket fizzled shortly after it was fired in an attempt to put the first satellite into orbit around the moon.

The Atlas-Able, 10 stories high and the most powerful rocket ever assembled by this country, was on its maiden flight. It crashed hundreds of miles out in the Atlantic Ocean after its second stage failed to ignite.

Scientists are studying telemetry data and launch movies to learn the cause.

Focal point of the investigation was a mysterious piece of material that fell from the rocket about 30 seconds after launch. The chunk, which appeared to be on fire, spiraled slowly into the ocean a few miles off shore.

Officials theorized it was part of a protective fiberglass fairing that covered the third stage and the 372-pound satellite. The fairing was to split in two and blow away when the rocket was outside the earth's dense atmosphere.

It is believed the firing may have broken prematurely, exposing the upper stage and payload to intense friction.

Had it been successful, the American satellite would have whirled into a lunar orbit and transmitted back crude pictures of the moon's surface and other information on its environment.

Representatives of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration conceded that the failure leaves the Soviet Union with a wide lead in the space race.

Dr. John Lindsay, chief of NASA's solar physics program, said that unless the space agency can find extra money somewhere, it probably will not try another moon shot for several months. He said a duplicate payload is available but no Atlas-Able.

The next lunar attempt may have to wait until the powerful Vega rocket now being developed is ready next fall.

4 State Persons Killed Thursday

Were Western Michigan Residents; Total Now 9 for Weekend

By The Associated Press

Four persons—an elderly Spring Lake man, his son and a rural Muskegon — were injured fatally Thursday night when two cars collided at an intersection near the Western Michigan town of Fruitport.

Their deaths brought to nine the number of people who have died as a result of Michigan traffic accidents since the start of the Thanksgiving weekend. Another collision claimed three lives.

Victims of the Fruitport collision were James Christiansen, 42, and his father, Walter A. Christiansen, 72 and Earl Tibbs, 57, and his wife Maggie, 52, of rural Muskegon.

The younger Christiansen died today, several hours after the car he was driving collided with the Tibbs auto.

The Associated Press holiday weekend death count covers the period from 6 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday.

Snow in various parts of the state Thursday night slowed heavy holiday traffic and contributed to a flurry of minor auto accidents, State Police said.

A young engaged couple from Michigan State University was among three persons killed early Thursday in a head-on collision two miles west of Howell on U.S. 16.

Killed were Jeanne Elaine Pauscher, 22, of Detroit; her fiancé, Michael C. Plumstead, 24, of Birmingham; and Bernard L. Graham, 58, of Webberville.

John Priess, 39, of Pontiac, died Thursday when his car collided with a Grand Trunk passenger train at a Pontiac grade crossing.

Joseph Magdowski, 32, of Detroit, was injured fatally Wednesday night when struck by an auto while crossing a Detroit street.

falls only one short of passage," Roberts said.

"If the tax ever gets to the House it would go through easily because of the 55 Democrats," Roberts predicted.

Basically, the proposed levy, at 1 per cent of wages, would be withheld by employers from paychecks and remitted to the state and revenue department. It has been likened to a gross income tax.

It was discussed feverishly Tuesday in both the House and Senate—although without tangible results. Both are in recess until Tuesday.

Democrats have talked about a $35 basic weekly exemption for each wage earner. If $30 a week was earned, $45 would be taxable, making the state's tax take 45 cents a week.

Bagwell urged that the Legislature adopt a temporary payroll tax to solve the fiscal impasse until voters can ballot next November on a long-range solution. He suggested the first $35 a week in earnings should be tax exempt.

"Perhaps the payroll tax has the best chance if we're going to act in December," Roberts said.

Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Oakland County) said flatly he would not support the temporary payroll tax. "It's an income tax," Lodge said critically.

Both Senate majority leader Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair) and Senate floor leader Lynn O. Francis (R-Midland) said they would give serious consideration to a payroll tax if the "nuisance" tax package approved by their caucus failed.

Potter to Get U.S.-Canadian Post, Says Paper

DETROIT (AP)—President Eisenhower has given former Republican Senator Charles E. Potter of Michigan "the nod for a $20,000 a year vacancy on the U.S.-Canadian International Joint Commission," the Detroit News reported today.

Potter has agreed to accept the appointment, said J. F. Ter Horst of the News' Washington staff, but added that neither Potter nor the White House would comment on the selection.

The former senator now is a co-partner in a St. Lawrence Seaway shipping agency which contracts for shipments from the Midwest to world markets. He also is a partner in a firm dealing in trailer park sites.

The job is not subject to Senate confirmation and appointees to the commission serve at the pleasure of the President, so, the News said, Potter likely will be appointed to Jan. 20, 1961, when Eisenhower will leave the White House.

Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota to Speak at Dec. 4 Affair

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn.) will help his cohort in the Senate, Sen. Philip A. Hart of Michigan, blow out 47 candles on his birthday cake at a testimonial dinner Dec. 4 for Hart in Detroit.

Some 500 persons are expected to attend the dinner at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel, according to W. K. McNally of Jackson, chairman of the affair. Actually, Hart's birthday isn't until Dec. 10.

Hart, formerly of Birmingham, is completing his first year in the Senate. McCarthy is also a new member of the Senate, elected last year after serving 10 years in the U.S. House of Representatives.

A former college professor, Sen. McCarthy is known as a speaker and writer on political, economic and social problems. He's had an interim committee assignment on investigations into rigged television quiz shows.

Castro Appoints Leftist Banker

Many Shocked When Guevara Gets Foreign Trade Post

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime swung farther to the left today with Maj. Ernesto "Che" Guevara, Red-leaning critic of the United States, taking over as head of the Cuban National Bank.

Many businessmen expressed shock at the appointment of the 31-year-old Argentina-born soldier of fortune to a job that puts him in a position to dictate Cuba's foreign trade and possibly to oversee the nationalization of private banks.

The National Bank grants import-export permits, allots foreign exchange to finance imports and collects foreign exchange produced by exports.

Guevara is a staunch advocate of closer economic ties with Europe, especially the Communist bloc, and less dependence on trade with the United States, hub of the mainstay of the Cuban economy.

As head of the National Bank he succeeds Felipe Pazos, a financial conservative, who becomes ambassador at large for Cuba's economic affairs with Europe.

Just prior to announcement of Guevara's appointment, the cabinet announced an issue of popular low-price savings bonds which it said would be redeemed in 20 years at four times their purchase price.

This was viewed as a government drive to compete with the private banks, and possibly the prelude to taking over those institutions, a step Castro himself advocated at his trial in 1953 after he led an unsuccessful revolt in eastern Cuba.

Castro named two government ministers, giving military veterans of the revolution 11 Cabinet posts against 7 held by civilians. It was the fifth major Cabinet shakeup of the 11-month-old revolutionary regime.

This would have been lengthened by 200 feet to a total of 2,600 feet. There would be new lights for the runway and additional clearance of its approaches.

The rest of the money would have been spent on strengthening an existing taxiway and adding some others to increase the efficiency of airplane movements on the ground, said Hoskins.

L. C. Andrews, chief engineer for the Department of Aeronautics, explained the cutback in funds for Pontiac reflected the new belt-tightening policy in Washington.

"There was no use in our approving funds for a project the federal government wouldn't approve. We have approved what we think the federal government will approve."

Although the deYonges are giving up their favorite tree, they'll be able to enjoy it at least once more.

FREEWAY EXCURSION — Eleven-month-old Grant Gabler, attended by his mother at an emergency hospital, is still a little scared as he thinks about what happened on the Hollywood (Calif.) Freeway. Grant fell from the back window of his mother's car as she drove onto the freeway. By the time mother—Mrs. Constance Gabler — noticed he was missing she couldn't turn back and had to drive two miles to an exit-ramp. When the frantic Mrs. Gabler returned to the spot, Grant was waiting in the arms of a truck driver — crying, but only bruised and scratched.

Ray Milland Intending to Re-Enter College at 51

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Ray Milland, the debonair sleuth on CBS-TV's "Markham" series, says he plans to suspend his career and go back to college when the show ends.

"I never had the sense to finish college, and I'd like to make up for it now," the 51-year-old star said in his dressing room.

Milland, who was born Reginald Truscott-Jones in Wales, attended King's College and Cambridge in England — but quit before he got very far.

"I had to see what was going on in the rest of the world — like too many kids in a hurry," he said. "But I did pick up a fair ability with languages, including Spanish and German, and that's what I want to study."

"I'd like to learn those languages perfectly. I'm planning on spending a year or so at the University of Madrid and perhaps another year at the University of Bonn or some other German school."

"We're hoping to shoot a bunch of our 'Markham' segments abroad, and I'd like simply to stay there."

The slender, dark-haired star, who won an Academy Award in 1946 for his portrayal of a drunk in "The Lost Weekend," said he wished he could afford to quit acting so he could spend all his time studying and "bumming around."

"It's becoming increasingly hard for me to pull myself together and steel myself for a day's work," he said.

"For a while, I went into directing. Then about eight months ago, I just got fed up with the studios, decided I needed a change of venue — and quit."

"It had gotten me down—seeing the same old gates and the same old studios every day. I went down to the beach and just hopped around. Didn't shave. Didn't dress up."

"I loved it. But I'm too active, and my wife said I just wasn't fit to live with like that because I was creative and was getting too touchy doing nothing. She said I better go back to work, and she was right. Then along came this series."

Milland said he still dislikes "pulling myself up in the morning, going through makeup and standing under a hot sun or hot lights."

"I don't want to worry about looking just right any more," he said. "When I wake up, I feel like saying, 'Nuts! Here we go again.'"

Girls' Presents Easy This Year

You Can't Miss on Fur to Trim Sweater or as Detached Collar

One sure-fire tip for uncertain Santas is: Give her something she can wear.

This year any girl on the Christmas list would love the new fur accessories that are all over the place—a handbag, a hat, a scarf or a muff in any pelt, from mink to leopard. The lavish Santa will make it a set—handbag or hat and matching scarf.

The fur-trimmed cashmere sweater is another five-star feminine gift.

This year a black cashmere cardigan with black fox collar would ring the bell, or a beige sweater with matching blonde mink collar, or a green one trimmed with leopard.

Collars are detachable, to be worn with other outfits.

All men know that diamonds are a girl's best friend. And if diamonds are beyond the budget, there's plenty of good costume jewelry around that looks like real.

Multi-strand necklaces and bracelets in colors to match a costume are bound to be a success.

College girls, of course, all want scarab bracelets and gold circle pins to wear on a shirt collar. Scarab earrings to match the bracelet make life complete.

No high school or college girl ever has enough sweaters so Santa is free to shoot the works here.

Anything from high-priced cashmere to budget orlon or bulky wool will bring squeals of joy from the younger set.

Gay house coats in wool, orlon or quilted cotton will please most any woman, as will strictly feminine lingerie in sheer nylon tricot, vivid colors preferred, such as tangerine, red or even bright blue.

And of course, the really timid Santa always is safe with a dozen pairs of nylon.

Much of Nation Shivers Under Cold Air Mass

By The Associated Press

Nearly half of the country was covered today by a mass of cold air that ranged in temperatures from the 20s in the Southwest to around zero along the Canadian border.

The arctic air gripped an area from Pennsylvania southwestward through Kentucky, Tennessee to Louisiana and northwestward from Texas to the Canadian border.

Southeast of the cold air, the readings generally were in the 50s. In southern Florida, the mercury hit the 70s.

Where warm air clashed with cold air, precipitation resulted. In southern sections there was rain; in the north there was snow. Some areas in the north had sleet and freezing rain.

Government Warns Strongly on Tobacco-Lung Cancer Tie

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service has issued a strong warning on tobacco: The weight of evidence implicates smoking as the main cause of the rising rate of lung cancer.

The statement was issued Thursday by Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney in an article in the Journal of the American Medical Assn. It was the government's strongest statement to date linking smoking and cancer. Burney said it was based partly on new evidence.

Burney's warning immediately was attacked by tobacco interests as a warmed over rehash of old statistics.

Dr. C. C. Little, scientific director of the Tobacco Industry Research Committee, said in New York the points in Burney's article were "first advanced some years ago in statistical studies that admittedly are not supported by experimental evidence."

Burney's article took note of frequent criticism of the evidence linking smoking and lung cancer. He cited Little's previous criticisms specifically.

MUST TELL

But Burney noted that by law the Public Health Service must tell the medical profession and the public about anything affecting public health.

After reviewing the presently available evidence in detail, he said, "The Public Health Service believes that the following statements are justified by studies to date:

"1. The weight of evidence at present implicates smoking as the principal etiological causative factor in the increased incidence of lung cancer.

"2. Cigarette smoking particularly is associated with an increased chance of developing lung cancer.

"3. Stopping cigarette smoking even after long exposure is beneficial.

"4. No method of treating tobacco or filtering the smoke has been demonstrated to be effective in materially reducing or eliminating the hazard of lung cancer.

"5. The nonsmoker has a lower incidence of lung cancer than the smoker in all controlled studies, whether analyzed in terms of rural areas, urban regions, industrial occupations or sex.

"6. Persons who have never smoked at all (cigarettes, cigars, or pipe) have the best chance of escaping lung cancer.

"7. Unless the use of tobacco can be made safe, the individual person's risk of lung cancer can best be reduced by the elimination of smoking."

AIR POLLUTION TOO

Burney said recent scientific studies also point to air pollution — from car exhausts, industrial smog and so on — as additional causative factors in rising lung cancer.

Since nonsmokers also get lung cancer, he noted, it is obvious that other factors are involved.

State Has Worst Road Building Fall in Years

LANSING (AP) — Michigan is experiencing its worst fall road construction in recent history because of heavy rain and cold weather which set in early in October.

Highway Commissioner John Mackie reported the weather "has raised havoc with contractors and work on scores of projects has been slowed down."

The commissioner reported conditions got so bad that one enterprising contractor — C. E. Utterback of Mt. Pleasant — rented a team of sure-footed oxen to clean out drainage ditches in a Newaygo County project.

Despite the rain and cold, Mackie said most projects scheduled for completion this fall will be opened to traffic on time.

WHAT A NIGHT! — The big head and painful face belong to a 7-week-old beagle pup named Molly of Fort Worth, Tex. It looks as if the little dog "tied one on" last night. Her owners were worried until a neighbor boy asked for a rubber band back — he had left it around the puppy's neck.

Ike Asks Power for World Court

Would Take Away Veto Right of All Nations to Ban Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower says "the international community needs to find more effective means to cope with and to prevent such brutal uses of force" as the Communists employed in Hungary and Tibet.

The President said he intends to renew his request to Congress to repeal a restriction on United States participation in the International Court of Justice, or World Court.

At present this country reserves the right to decide whether an international issue falls within the World Court's jurisdiction.

No case involving the United States can be taken before the World Court without this country's approval. Other countries also reserve this right.

"Elimination of this automatic reservation from our own declaration accepting compulsory jurisdiction would place the United States in a better position to urge other countries to agree to wider jurisdiction of the International Court of Justice," Eisenhower said.

WASHINGTON — On Aug. 1, 1907, the Army Air Force began as the aeronautical division of the Army signal corps with one officer and two enlisted men.

Both major political parties and almost 90 per cent of the nation's press supported Hawaii in its bid to gain admission to the Union.

Hurls Protest on College Oath

Education Council Says Federal Requirement Is 'an Affront to Freedom'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Council on Education protested yesterday that to require college students to sign an anti-Communist affidavit as a qualification for federal educational loans is "an affront to freedom of belief and conscience."

The council, a private organization representing 1,047 educational institutions, renewed a plea that Congress remove the "disclaimer affidavit" provision from the National Defense Education Act.

The act now requires students to sign a document swearing they do not support any organization which advocates forceful overthrow of the U.S. government.

This must be done before a student can become eligible for a loan financed by federal funds.

A number of universities and colleges, including Yale and Harvard, have refused to accept federal funds or to participate in the program because of the controversial disclaimer requirement.

The council said in a statement that the provision is "discriminatory . . . unfair . . . inappropriate . . . superfluous and ineffective" and amounted to "government interference" in education administration.

Messenger Gets $50,000 From Late Boss' Will

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The will of a wealthy musician and theater director has created a $50,000 trust fund for his former messenger.

Waiters, maids and others who worked for him are among the chief beneficiaries of the estate of Frederick R. Huber, managing director of the Lyric Theater for many years before his death last week.

Huber was a bachelor with no close relatives. The value of his estate was not given.

His will gives the Negro messenger, Edgar Herzog Smith, income from a $50,000 trust fund for life. At Smith's death, the principal of the fund will go to Evelyn C. Cabe, who was Huber's secretary.

Several Reasons License Tabs Go Slowly

LANSING (AP) — Bought your new 1960 auto license plate tab yet? If so, you're one of a small minority.

The Secretary of State's Office today reported only 86,582 license plate tabs have been sold since the 1960 registration year opened Nov. 1. There were 124,133 sales last year when drivers were issued full-sized plates.

Some reasons suggested for the slowdown in sales:

Drivers were reminded in past years that new plates soon would be required because they saw them appearing on other cars. This year they see only the small tabs.

There is no lineup for low numbers — no new plates or low numbers are available.

The steel strike may have slowed spending.

Women always liked bright new plates on the family car. This year there is no incentive.

To Try Muskegon Man in Sale of Thurm Heaters

MUSKEGON (UPI) — Hubert Denton, 43-year-old Muskegon trailer home dealer, goes on trial Dec. 2 in connection with the sale and installation of Thurm heaters blamed for killing eight persons in Michigan.

State Police filed a complaint against Denton charging him with violation of the Fire Prevention Act.

The complaint charges Denton sold and installed the bottle gas type heater which has been declared defective.

The Denton case was believed to be the first in this state involving the deadly Thurm heater which is manufactured by a firm in Elkhart, Ind.

Cardinal Cushing Amazes Bishop With Antics

BOSTON (UPI)—The bishop of Cork, Ireland, shook his head slowly. "It's remarkable; the whole thing is remarkable," he said.

Bishop Cornelius Lucey was staring at his host, Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston who had just completed a lively jig and was leading his 1,800 guests in another song.

The bishop was evidently amazed at the informality of the Boston prelate who each year holds a Thanksgiving dinner for the elderly and poor who otherwise would be alone and perhaps hungry on that day.
