Underpass to Cost City $113,000

Won't Be Long Now

IT'S GREAT TO SWIM IN MICHIGAN — With the state now observing Michigan Week it is natural to think of our hundreds of lakes and beaches, which each summer attract thousands of water lovers. But you're not likely to see many outfits like these. The beach outfits are from the 1900s, but it's a 1957 photo. Jane LeBourdais and Donald Grams, both of Bay City, have donned the antique swimsuits to announce the Centennial Celebration of Bay County scheduled for Bay City the week of June 16 to 23.

BULLETIN

BRUNSWICK, Md. (AP)—A teenage girl from Clarkston, Mich. en route to Washington with a group of other students, was pronounced dead today after being removed unconscious from a train.

When the train reached Washington, state police ordered the car in which she was riding sealed pending further investigation, the Baltimore and Ohio railroad said.

The railroad said Jean Longton, about 17, of Clarkston, was removed from the train at Brunswick, Md. about 8:05 a. m. EDT today and taken to Frederick Hospital, where she was pronounced dead on arrival.

She had been found unconscious in a restroom and had a cut over one eye.

The B & O said the tour was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Benson of Pontiac, Mich., and H. T. Marshal, travel representative for the railroad from Detroit.

Wilson Protests Cuts in Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson said today "this is no time to take the cards and chips away from the President and Harold Stassen."

Wilson offered this comment to a Senate Appropriations subcommittee in protesting cuts of $2,587,000,000 in the Defense Department budget.

Wilson obviously referred to disarmament moves now under way between Western world nations and Soviet Russia with Stassen, special assistant to the President, acting for the United States.

Wilson said he is "somewhat mystified" by actions of Congress on defense budgets.

"I didn't think the Russians were 10 feet tall last year and I don't think they are only 5 feet tall this year," he said.

This was a reference to action by the Democratic-controlled Congress in adding several hundred million dollars to the budget request for air power funds last year. This time the trend is the reverse.

Wilson's comments came under questioning by Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass) who asked if it would save or cost money to put off purchases of aircraft and other defense items until later.

"You say you need it," Saltonstall said of the requested funds. "The House (Committee) says you don't. Who is right?"

"If we don't need it, I'm not going to buy it," Wilson replied, after saying that he has "the finest military advisers in the world."

In prepared testimony given before the questioning started, Wilson said the cut proposed by the House group "would amount to gambling unwisely with the security of the nation."

He told the senators there is "no real basis" for assuming international danger has lessened.

"Cuts based on hope alone are too risky," he said.

Wilson said Congress was generous during the Korean War and when it ended sooner than expected, carryover funds helped meet defense costs for several years.

Sen. Bridges, ranking Republican on the committee, asked about return to a former system under which Congress authorized funds for total cost of a battleship or other items and then voted only the actual amounts needed year by year.

He said this system would get away from the huge carryovers and give Congress a tighter control.

Wilson said there would be no saving under this plan because it's going to "cost you the same amount of money, either way, if you have the same program."

The present system, he said, gives time for longer-range planning.

Ten Seconds Time Enough to Win $100

"You ought to reserve your contest," complained an aggrieved reader at a moment when the mercury seemed nailed for good in the mid-forties. "How can you talk about the warmest moment in June when it looks as though all moments would be damp, rainy, frosty and frustrating?"

Be ye of good cheer. There'll be a turn.

And even if it never gets above zero in June, the warmest moment of the month will win a $100 bond. Just write the date and hour on a postcard and address it to:

Weather Man
Pontiac Press,
Box 40
Pontiac, Michigan

This is the easiest contest you ever entered. Put these few words with your own name and address on a card and you're entered. That means you're right in line for the softest touch you ever made.

Hurry, hurry, hurry.

Deadline is Thursday noon, May 30th in The Press Building.

But don't procrastinate.

You might forget.

One entry per contestant please, and Pontiac Press employes and families are barred.

Just think: ten seconds, and a $100 bond may be yours. That's ten dollars a second. Even Dave Beck wouldn't scorn that!

GEORGE M. HUMPHREY
Secretary of the Treasury

Humphrey Plans to Resign Soon

Secretary of Treasury's Replacement May Be Robert B. Anderson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Today, George M. Humphrey, secretary of the treasury, is packing his bags after a little more than four years as one of the most important men in the administration.

The announcement of his resignation to take place in about six weeks will come as a surprise to almost no one. It will come as a disappointment to many.

Unless most Washington prophets are looking into clouded crystal balls, Humphrey will be succeeded by Robert B. Anderson, former deputy secretary of defense.

Anderson, a native of Texas, is an "Eisenhower Democrat." He also is a close associate of Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Senate Democratic leader.

When and if he does take over the Treasury post, Anderson will be faced with the same tight money problem that has plagued Humphrey. The increasing demand for money has the government scurrying in its efforts to refinance the national debt.

Set Dec. 15 Completion for Telegraph-Orchard Dual Roadways

Pontiac's share in the completion of the Orchard Lake-Telegraph road underpass project will be about $113,000.

This was figured from low bids opened yesterday at the State Highway Department in Lansing.

It does not include purchase of right-of-way, which is estimated to add roughly another $300,000 to the city's bill on the project, slated for completion by Dec. 15.

Bids were taken yesterday on a new bridge over the Clinton River and on construction of underpass approaches and widening of Orchard Lake avenue. Contracts are still to be let.

The low bid for the bridge was $153,590, of which the city will pay one-quarter, or about $38,000, City Manager Walter K. Willman said.

The low bid for the remainder of the project was $505,496, of which the city's share is about $75,000 Willman said. This bid was submitted jointly by H. C. Shingledecker of Sylvan Lake and Lewis & Frisinger of Ann Arbor.

Widening of Orchard Lake into a dual, 22-foot-wide road will begin at Berkley avenue, two blocks inside the city limits.

The underpass itself will be almost a mile of dual, 24-foot-wide pavement curving westerly from Rockwell street in Bloomfield Township to James K boulevard in Pontiac, just north of the Clinton.

OUT OF GAS TAX

The city's share in the cost will be paid mostly out of the state gasoline tax diversion, Willman said.

"The state will notify us of our exact share and we'll have to pay it before the contract is signed. This won't happen until the bids are thoroughly checked first," Willman said.

The bridge project and about 60 per cent of the remaining construction are within the city limits, and the city is paying 25 per cent of the cost.

COST APPORTIONED

The federal government is paying half, and the state the remaining one quarter. The federal and state governments are splitting the cost outside the city limits.

Final figures on the right-of-way in Pontiac have not been reached yet, Willman said, but the total is expected to run around $600,000, which the city will split equally with the state.

There is still some litigation before a Highway Department mediator on some parcels in the area, Willman said.

The state will bear all of the right-of-way costs outside the city limits.

350,000 Workers at GM Get 6-Cent Raise May 29

DETROIT (AP)—Some 350,000 hourly rated employes of General Motors Corp. will get wage increases of at least six cents an hour May 29 under the annual improvement factor clause of the company's contract with the United Auto Workers Union, GM President Harlow Curtice announced today.

Production workers will get six cents an hour or 2½ per cent, whichever is greater, Curtice said in a statement.

The annual improvement factor is an automatic increase written into the contract to compensate for loss of work hours through technological progress.

Curtice said the increase will bring to 68 cents an hour the amount added to hourly rated workers' base pay as a result of the wage formula.

The annual improvement factor has accounted for 46 cents an hour. Another 22 cents an hour in cost-of-living allowances has been "frozen" into the base rate.

In addition to their base wage rates, production workers currently are receiving 14 cents an hour cost-of-living allowances which are adjusted quarterly in line with changes in the consumer price index of the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. The cost-of-living allowance will be reviewed again in June.

And a total of more than 600,000 automobile industry workers in the United States will receive the hourly pay hikes.

Curtice said current hourly earnings of GM employes amount to $2.54. This includes overtime, shift differential and other premium pay, but does not include the new wage increase.

Average weekly earnings during the first four months of 1957 were $96.93, Curtice said. This compared with $87.86 for 1947.

It does not include the cost of fringe benefits, such as pensions, insurance, sickness and accident benefits, supplemental unemployment benefits and others which have been added since 1947, Curtice said.

The GM president said the company has added more than 80,000 "good new jobs to its payrolls" in the period.

GM Will Build Army Tractors

$1,562,894 Contract Calls for Production of 292 Vehicles

The Army today announced that a $1,562,894 contract for the production of five-ton tractors had been awarded to the General Motors Truck and Coach Division.

The contract calls for production of 292 tractors for purchase by the Army, according to an announcement made by Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) through the Department of Defense.

Confirming the announcement, the truck and coach division said the tractors will be civilian models, not military.

They were described as type 632A, with six-cylinder gasoline engines rated at 220 horsepower.

Their gross weight capability, including trailer and cargo, is 55,000 pounds.

House Committee OKs Higher '58 Postal Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Post Office Committee today approved the administration's bill to increase postal rates by 462 million dollars in 1958.

The bill carries penny increases on first class mail. This would raise the cost of a regular mail letter to 4 cents and an air mail letter to 7 cents.

It also calls for increases in second-class and third-class rates.

County Tax Rate Tentatively Set at $5 per $1,000

Oakland County's 1957 tax rate has been tentatively set at an even $5 for every $1,000 of equalized valuation.

This is an increase of 33 cents (.33 mills) over last year's rate but still about 30 cents below the county's 10-year average, said Dr. William J. Emerson, Tax Allocation Board chairman.

The final hearing on county, township and school taxes will begin Tuesday morning, Dr. Emerson said.

Preliminary rates for all Oakland County units except cities were scheduled, Dr. Emerson said, following announcement of the State Board of Equalization's preliminary valuations. They will become final next week.

The state equalized valuation of Oakland County was set at $1,770,000,000. That of Pontiac was $378,464,142.

School taxes are based on the state equalized figures. County and township taxes are spread on county equalized figures, announced earlier this month. The tax rates for Pontiac and other cities are set locally.

The allocation board, in reviewing tentative budgets submitted by the county, townships and schools, apportions the tax rate so that no individual taxpayer pays more than the 15-mill maximum set by law, unless the increase has been publicly approved.

New York Group OKs Fluoridation of Water Supply

NEW YORK (AP) — The board of governors of the New York State Dental Society has reaffirmed its endorsement of fluoridation of community water supplies.

The board, in concluding its 89th annual session yesterday, said:

"Exhaustive studies and carefully controlled test programs show beyond reasonable doubt the effectiveness of fluoridation in reducing dental caries (tooth decay) in children by an average of approximately 60 per cent."

The board said fluoridation also benefits adults.

J. CECIL COX

School Official to Retire Here

Asst. Supt. J. Cecil Cox Leaving After 31 Years in Pontiac System

The retirement, after 31 years' service, of J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent of the Pontiac School System, was learned today.

Cox has not submitted his formal retirement request to the board as yet, but he has told the administration that he will leave as soon as he has hired the needed teachers for the next school year, or by Sept. 1, whichever is sooner.

Cox said his early retirement was prompted by a desire to devote more time to leisure pursuits. He is 60 years old and the mandatory retirement age is 65.

Superintendent Dana Whitmer said Cox had told him of his intention to retire two weeks ago and had discussed the possibility as far back as one year ago.

Whitmer added that there has been no thought given to a replacement, but the board probably would meet in July to consider administrative reshuffling which might change the duties of the remaining staff.

Cox is in charge of personnel for the school system. One of his main functions is to recruit teachers.

There is one other assistant superintendent, a recently created post, which handles the school's business affairs.

Cox joined the Pontiac system as a teacher in 1926. He taught science and mathematics until 1927 when he was named assistant principal of Eastern Junior High.

In 1945, he was promoted to principal of Lincoln Junior High, a post he held until the fall of 1948 when he was appointed assistant superintendent.

Weather Outlook: Cloudy and Cooler

The weather outlook for Pontiac and vicinity is mostly cloudy and cooler with some showers likely, ending this evening. The low tonight will be near 55 degrees.

Tomorrow will remain partly cloudy and cool with a high near 65.

The U. S. Weather Bureau has reported that temperatures will average near the normal high of 72 and normal low of 51 for the next four days.

Downtown Pontiac's lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 64. At 2 p.m. the mercury registered 68.

99th Birthday Today

MISS ELLA GREEN

Pioneer Resident of City Is Nearing Century Mark

All Hail . . . Miss Ella Green.

One of Pontiac's staunchest and most revered pioneers celebrates her 99th birthday today.

On May 23rd, 1858, Miss Ella burst into this great world in Farmington where her father operated a general store.

When she was ten years old, the family moved to Pontiac and opened a store on Saginaw street in the Millis Block.

Miss Green has lived at 217 North Saginaw street for the past seventy years, which is some sort of a local record for continued residence in one place. She was a charter member of the Ladies' Library Association which built the City Library on Williams street, and she helped form the Needlework Guild here.

She maintains a lively interest in her friends and the events that are taking place around her. In fact, she's a real baseball fan and assures all Tiger rooters that Maxwell and Kaline will start powdering the ball any minute.

Miss Green is truly a Pontiac pioneer. While she can't exactly claim a speaking acquaintance with Chief Pontiac or Kentakeegan, she was a personal friend of the staunch group that operated our city one century back.

The Press officially declares Miss Green an extra curricular Miss Front Page for May.

Potter Predicts Nuclear Vessels for Great Lakes

DETROIT (AP) — Nuclear-powered vessels will be sailing the Great Lakes by 1961, says Sen. Potter (R-Mich).

Potter told the National Maritime Day dinner of the Propeller Club of Detroit yesterday that the United States will be the first country to launch a nuclear-powered merchant vessel and "nuclear-powered lake vessels will be the next step."

"Only a month ago we contracted for an atomic-powered engine for a merchant ship," Potter said, "and it will move off the ways in the spring of 1960."

"I hope to see them (nuclear-powered vessels) moving through the Port of Detroit by 1961 at the latest," Potter said.

The Michigan senator said that "until now lake ports have not received their fair share of shipbuilding business." He expressed hope that he could win passage of a bill to authorize construction, reconditioning and remodeling of vessels at Great Lakes shipyards.

Vote on Hospital Disappoints Many Citizens

Despite the better than 2 to 1 vote against completion of the Pontiac General Hospital wing in Monday's election, random interviews yesterday revealed only a few who expressed satisfaction on the outcome.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac residents are up in arms over the defeat of the bond issue to complete and equip the 200-bed addition.

Residents interviewed yesterday were irate, disappointed and surprised at the outcome of Monday's balloting.

A sampling of public opinion in the afternoon revealed almost unanimous agreement that completion of the hospital was a "must"—and that it should be done in the near future.

Only 2 persons of 25 expressed their satisfaction at the outcome of the election in which 7,200 of 37,000 registered voters participated. They refused to identify themselves.

Person after person went on record in favor of the bond issue to relieve crowded hospital conditions, and expressed disappointment at its failure.

★ ★ ★

Typical of these citizens was property-owner Julian Levine, 115 Ottawa Dr., who said: "Something must be done to get the addition to the hospital finished. Personally I'm very unhappy about the election and hope that our city officials will come up with something."

'A NECESSITY'

Another property owner, Ed Jackson, 25 E. Iroquois Rd., also revealed that he voted for the measure "because, of course, it was a necessity.

"Perhaps the bond issue was defeated because of public feeling that city officials were getting too extravagant and it was time to crack down on them," he declared.

Also displeased with the election were a Clawson school teacher, Alex Kish, 2773 Churchill Rd., and J. W. Finn, an interne at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, who said of the situation: "It's just too bad." Neither is a property owner.

Many citizens felt that defeat of the bond issue was part of the general national rebellion against high taxes and the federal budget. Although, they hastened to add, they voted for the issue themselves.

Arthur H. Hart, an interior decorator, said that many didn't consider whether the addition was necessary or worthwhile. "They were just fed up with high taxes and would have voted against any kind of increase," he said.

★ ★ ★

A practical nurse, Edna Pugh, 180 W. Princeton Ave., said: "All I know is that the addition to the hospital should have been approved by the voters. Why wasn't it? I don't know".

IT'S 'A' SHAME'

Claude A. Poe, a polisher at Fisher Body, called the vote "a shame." Everyone knows that even the halls are crowded and that more space is needed, he said.

One voter declared that if a vote

Jury Acquits Driver in Radar Test Case

An Oakland County Circuit Court jury yesterday acquitted the first motorist believed to have appealed a radar-clocked speeding ticket in Michigan.

It took an eight-woman, four-man jury three hours to decide in favor of Douglas Yerkey, 37-year-old Grand Blanc auto dealer.

A radar check by state police on U.S. 10 in Waterford Township last Dec. 24 showed Yerkey was driving at 48 miles an hour in a 35-mile-an-hour zone.

Yerkey told the jury he was only doing 30. He had already been convicted in justice court on the strength of the radar evidence.

The jury interrupted their deliberations once to ask Judge George B. Hartrick if the State Supreme Court had ever ruled on any radar case.

★ ★ ★

Judge Hartrick informed them that it had not. The judge Tuesday had made a precedent-making ruling that police testimony interpreting the radarscope was admissible as evidence in court.

Yerkey, however, testified that before starting out on his Christmas Eve trip to Detroit, he had been informed by friends that radar was operating on the highway.

He said he had already received three tickets on that stretch of road and was on the lookout for police cars.

SPOTTED CAR

He spotted the radar-equipped patrol car about two blocks away, Yerkey testified, and glanced at his speedometer as soon as he saw it.

"I was going about 30, and I didn't change my speed," he stated.

Previously in the two-day trial, a barrage of expert testimony was called by assistant prosecutor L. W. McEntee to testify that radar was accurate within two miles an hour.

CALLED ADMISSIBLE

Yerkey's attorney, Phillip Pratt, had objected to introduction of the radar evidence, but Judge Hartrick ruled it was admissible "as a matter of fact."

His acquittal means that Yerkey will not have to pay a $10 fine levied by Springfield Township Justice Emmett Lieb.

Texas Tornado Injures 4 People

Destroys or Damages 10 Buildings in Country Near Malone

DALLAS (AP)—A tornado ripped through a rural area three miles north of the central Texas town of Malone last night, injuring four persons and destroying or damaging 10 houses, barns and other outbuildings.

★ ★ ★

The twister skipped along a four-mile path northward from five miles west of Malone, a town of 352 population some 70 miles south of Dallas.

The Herbert Sonnenberg family narrowly escaped death when they fled from their home after seeing the twister bearing down on them, said George Worley of Malone.

Hill County Sheriff Ernest Brooks said the twister smashed power lines, knocked over trees and destroyed or damaged cars, outbuildings, and barns when it swooped down on the cluster of homes on Highway 171 three miles north of Malone. The town itself was not hit.

Torrential rains during the storm measured more than three inches. Two farm roads were closed by high water near Malone when Ash Creek overran its banks.

News Flash

LANSING (AP)—The Senate refused today to go along with the House allotment of $2,800,000 for a new state institution for the mentally retarded, throwing the issue into a conference committee.

The institution, proposed at Plymouth, would provide permanent facilities for children now housed in temporary quarters at Fort Custer and Farmington. Opposition to the fund allocation came from Republican budget leaders who are trying to repair a major breach in their hold-the-line policy on state spending in 1957-58.

Despite some violent opposition, the Senate agreed to an expenditure of $87,500 in planning money for relocation of the Boys Vocational School at Whitmore Lake.

Hospital Bond Vote Disappoints Citizens

were taken again on the same proposal, it would probably pass the second time. "Many persons just took its passage for granted", he said, "and didn't bother to go to the polls. They're sorry now."

The bond issue was decisively defeated by a 2 to 1 majority. Because the tax increase to finance the bond issue was in the form of a City Charter amendment, the voters won't be able to pass on the measure for at least two years, as defeated amendments can be resubmitted to popular vote only after a two-year interval.

One of the two men who opposed the hospital bond issue termed the election results "splendid." The tax situation is terrible, he said, and "until something is done about that, proposals like this should be vetoed."

★ ★ ★

The other person opposing the bond issue agreed with this sentiment and also attacked the city officials for their conduct of hospital affairs.

WHY HALFWAY?

"I can't understand why the hospital was planned halfway," he declared. "Why did the officials have to go begging to the people for more money?

★ ★ ★

"The vote shows the mistrust of Pontiac citizens toward the manner in which their affairs are being conducted by the officials of Pontiac."

Both men refused to identify themselves, saying: "We have businesses in this town and publication of our names might hurt us." Both are property owners.

Meanwhile, the citizens of Pontiac appear to want the hospital addition finished. But no one interviewed could come up with a plan for accomplishing this.

★ ★ ★

It's up to the city officials now "to pick up the pieces" was the general sentiment.

Hospital Board Will Pool Ideas

Meets Tonight to Study Ways to Equip Addition Without Bond Issue

The long job ahead of reconstructing plans for completion of the 200-bed General Hospital addition faces the city's hospital board tonight.

The regular agenda has been kept to a minimum to allow for discussion of where the board goes from here.

It will be the board's first meeting since Monday's disastrous defeat of a proposed $1,500,000 public bond issue to complete the addition and equip it with much-needed new hospital facilities.

The board's 11 members today seemed determined to complete the project one way or another. Where to find the money remained the big question.

Willis M. Brewer, chairman of the board's committee in charge of building the new wing, said he hoped to air initial ideas tonight.

He had been unable to arrange an emergency committee meeting following Monday's special election, Brewer said.

The hospital director, Miss Lauretta Paul, said she planned to submit several suggestions, planned as an alternative in case the bond issue was voted down.

"Frankly, though, it looks like it will take quite a while before any concrete plan can be formulated," she said.

GOP Senators Join in Support of Ike's Policies

WASHINGTON (AP)—A little group of Senate Republicans joined informally today to fight for President Eisenhower's spending and legislative programs.

Working without any White House direction, they want to avoid any clash with regular GOP leaders who have opposed some of the Eisenhower proposals. But these "modern Republicans" said they hope to drum up more support for the President.

"We're going to do our best all the way through to get the President's program enacted," Sen. Cooper (R-Ky) told a reporter in disclosing the informal agreement.

"If we don't get more support for the President, it's going to hurt our party in the 1958 elections. We believe in the program President Eisenhower has proposed and we are backing it 100 per cent."

Cooper said he, Sen. Javits (R-NY), Sen. Clifford Case (R-NJ) and some others have talked over the matter.

Utica Man Killed by Auto in Detroit

Detroit police are holding a driver for investigation of manslaughter after his auto allegedly struck and killed a Utica man who was attempting to load new automobiles on a haulaway trailer early today.

William Spencer, 33, of 47155 Vanker St., Utica, was killed when he was crushed between the auto and his trailer about 12:40 a.m. on Dunn road near Joseph Campau street in Detroit.

Detroit police report the driver was Anthony N. Forsythe, 42, of 14101 State Fair St., Detroit.

Spencer was employed at the City Car Releasing Co., 6201 E. McNichols Rd., Detroit.

Killing of Berkley Youth Called 'Justifiable'

DETROIT (INS)—Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Ralph Garber ruled today the fatal shooting of a 16-year-old Berkley boy during a police chase last Saturday was "justifiable homicide."

The youth, Paul Michalski, was shot in the head by trooper Norman Lee, 30, during the 100-mile-an-hour chase.

Gerald Markey, 16, of Berkley, Michalski's companion in the car, a stolen vehicle, is recovering from multiple injuries suffered when the car went out of control and struck a tree after the shooting.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

What causes the pressure in a high pressure area? Likewise, in a low pressure area? In other words, where does the barometric pressure come from?

The high and low pressure we so often hear about these days merely refers to the height of the layer of gases above the earth's surface at a given point or in a given area.

The main function of a barometer is simply to measure the weight of the gas above you and it does this by recording an accurate measurement of the weight, or pressure, of the layer of gas pressing down on the surface of the earth, which is the weather.

We talk of inches of mercury because the long-accepted official instrument for measuring the weight (or pressure) of the layer of gas above us has been a mercury barometer in the form of a column of mercury, measured in inches.

So, when we say the barometer reads "thirty inches," we are saying that an official barometer would, at that moment, record the weight of gases as pushing down hard enough to push the mercury thirty inches high in the measuring cylinder.

The Day in Birmingham

Complete Faculty Study, Assign Five Principals

BIRMINGHAM — With the prospective opening of four new elementary schools in September, the Birmingham Board of Education has completed the study of credentials of about 40 applicants.

The teachers will be assigned to Greenfield, Harlan, Midvale and Valley Woods schools.

"The plan to serve the school district in the best interest of the entire system involves the transfer of certain members of the administrative staff," Dr. Dwight B. Ireland, school superintendent said.

Noah Blosser will take over Greenfield School as principal, being replaced at Adams school by Frederick Pinis, who holds a Bachelor of Science Degree and a Master of Education from Ohio State University.

He has done post graduate work at the University of Michigan and has taught in Van Wert and Lorain, Ohio, and comes to Birmingham from Lincoln Consolidated School of Eastern Michigan College in Ypsilanti.

Edwin Crandell will be transferred from Franklin to Harlan as principal. Replacing him at Franklin will be Daniel A. Welch, holder of a Bachelor of Science Degree from Central Michigan College and a Master of Arts Degree from the University of Michigan.

Following post graduate work at Wayne, he had taught in Battle Creek and has served on the staff of Lincoln Consolidated Training School.

Valley Woods elementary school will have Duane B. Fisher as principal. He has a BA Degree from Northwestern College and an ME from MacAlester in St. Paul, Minn. He has done post graduate work in the University of Minnesota and Michigan State University and his teaching background has been with the Walled Lake Consolidated Schools.

Lawmakers OK $15 Million for State Penal Institutions

LANSING (AP) — While Senate-House conference committees wrestled with 330 million dollars in general fund appropriation bills, the first major 1957-58 appropriation bill to win final legislative approval headed today for the governor's desk.

* * *

The bill, providing $15,539,614 for state corrections services, cleared the legislature yesterday when the Senate agreed to House amendments.

The House changes were minor, consisting of fund transfers within the bill and money to provide a few more supervisory positions at state penal institutions.

Final legislative decisions on some others among about a dozen major spending bills in the process of conference committee adjustment were expected later in the day.

A half dozen other bills completed the legislative route yesterday with Senate agreement to House amendments.

In the case of a measure to revise procedures in school district consolidations, the Senate backed down from its previous position that disapproval of any reorganization plan by the state superintendent of public instruction should be subject to veto by local citizens.

As the bill went to the governor, the superintendent could halt a reorganization plan he deemed inconsistent with sound education policy.

The Senate also gave final approval to a bill exempting high school students already licensed to drive from the necessity of taking special driver education courses.

Study Military Problem

After a 10 month study investigating the loss of men with critical technical skill in the armed services, the Cordiner committee has come up with some far-reaching recommendations on manpower and compensation.

The committee, named for its chairman, Ralph J. Cordiner, president of General Electric, has a distinguished membership including Dr. John A. Hannah of Michigan State University. Other members are the assistant secretaries of the three services, four retired officers — one from each service—as well as representatives of industry.

★ ★ ★

The investigation brought out the fact that 500,000 men had to be kept constantly in training to maintain a flow of skilled men for an effective combat and support force of 2.3 million. This enormous training load is due to loss of skilled personnel on completion of the service period. Only 10 per cent of the "expensive-to-train-skills" re-enlist. In less skilled categories the re-enlistment rate is 20 per cent.

"In the Strategic Air Command," declared Cordiner, "the retention of skilled manpower now being lost would increase aircraft-in-commission rates to . . . an equivalent of six and one-half combat ready B-47 wings, an increase in effectiveness of 20 per cent.

If the committee's recommendations were adopted, the chairman said that savings in defense costs of $5 billion a year by 1962 or earlier would be effected. The Navy and Air Force calculate that accidents cost them $2 million a day in material alone during fiscal 1956.

Defense Secretary Wilson said that the legislative proposals had been worked out carefully after discussions with the President and had the unanimous approval of service secretaries and the Chiefs of Staff. In Mr. Wilson's opinion the proposals were an essential step toward improving the balance of personnel skills and experience in the armed forces. He said the need was urgent and that if legislation were made effective January 1, 1958, his department would absorb within its present budget any immediate additional cost.

Mr. Cordiner stated that for a small initial investment a promising start could be made to halt and reverse the inflationary trend toward even higher cost of Government. He believes that the committee's recommendations "contemplate savings and deflationary influence."

In the light of this statement and Secretary Wilson's approval, the Cordiner report should receive careful study by the Budget Bureau.

Our Bases in Spain

The complicated history of U.S. aid to Spain began with a $62.5 million loan in 1950. But it was not until September 1953, that an agreement for air and naval bases in Spain was signed.

This agreement, ratified by the Senate, is for 10 years and can be extended for two five year periods. When it terminates, the bases revert to Spain but the latter now has the right to use them jointly with U.S. forces.

With the signing of this accord, $236 million was available for Spanish aid in funds appropriated by Congress between 1951 and 1953. Of this $151 million was in military and $85 million in economic aid.

★ ★ ★

Now, after four years of negotiations, the U. S. can count on three of the four bases for a limited emergency. The fourth Strategic Air base will not be completed fully for a year and the key naval base at Rota will be ready in 1959. It will command the entrance to the Mediterranean at Gibraltar.

Past experience in building foreign bases, Air Force authorities say, shows that it pays to move into a country slowly. As part of this policy the Air Force is building the bases at a pace the local economy can support. Spanish labor and contractors are used wherever possible.

Under the base agreement, Spain gets nine squadrons of U.S. built jet fighters for its own use to co-operate with American forces there. It is good to know that this strategic country in our line of defense is being strengthened and will have the most modern and best equipped bases in the world.

At a dinner of the local members of the National Association of Retired Federal Employes next Tuesday evening it is expected that members will be present whose service to the government totals more than one thousand years. James Marlow Says:

Knowland Constantly Opposes Ike

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was almost an understatement when President Eisenhower said of Sen. Knowland of California: "He has got some very strong convictions on the other side of the fence."

Knowland is not only Republican leader in the Senate — but is Eisenhower's closest contact with the Senate. He's been in repeated conferences with him since 1953.

★ ★ ★

Since he might seem the one Eisenhower has to depend on most to get Senate agreement on his ideas, Knowland's record of differences with Eisenhower and opposition to some of his policies is almost startling.

Knowland has no intention of resigning as Senate leader although he has said he will leave the Senate when his term is up next year.

And Eisenhower has no intention of asking him to step out as Senate leader. Knowland has described his job as one for bringing about an area of agreement in the Senate on the administration's programs.

This is a little puzzling. When he opposes Eisenhower, he's a rallying point for all others who feel the same way. He has become a rallying point for the conservative wing of the Republican party.

In 1955 he claimed he had supported Eisenhower 91 per cent of the time in his first two White House years. But this is part of the record of his differences with Eisenhower since becoming Republican leader in 1953:

That year Eisenhower said Communists-in-government would not be an issue in the 1954 elections. Knowland said it would be. He bucked Eisenhower's policy of placing defense contracts in unemployment areas.

Eisenhower was opposed to letting Red China into the United Nations but still wanted to save the U.N. Knowland said that if Red China did get in, he'd resign his Senate seat and work to take the United States out of the world organization.

★ ★ ★

He wanted — but Eisenhower didn't agree — to break off diplomatic relations with Russia over the shooting down of an American plane. He must have been a real pain to the President when, in 1954, he called for a congressional review of Eisenhower's foreign policy.

He voted for the final version of the constitutional amendment proposed by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to limit Eisenhower's treaty-making powers. Eisenhower was against this amendment.

Knowland proposed a naval blockade of the Red China coast to force the Communists to release 13 captured American airmen. Eisenhower was opposed.

When the administration released the record of the wartime Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin conference at Yalta, Eisenhower said he was against using it for political advantage. Knowland said: "I don't agree with him. I intend to continue to discuss Yalta whenever I believe it is pertinent."

Knowland derided the idea of peaceful co-existence with Russia although Eisenhower said that was the hope of the world. Knowland opposed Eisenhower's sending the Air Force chief of staff, Gen. Nathan F. Twining, to Moscow, although he was invited by the Russians.

He said the United States — which meant Eisenhower — had "retreated from principle" in agreeing to a "package" deal that let four Communist and 12 non-Communist countries into the U.N.

When Eisenhower was willing to talk to the Red Chinese about a cease-fire around Formosa. Knowland doubted the wisdom of Eisenhower's participation in the Big Four meeting in Geneva in 1955 and even cautioned against a "sellout." This hardly reflected confidence in Eisenhower's shrewdness or strength.

This year, despite Eisenhower's repeated pleadings against big cuts in his budget, Knowland has kept calling for a slice of about three billion dollars. And he threw cold water on Eisenhower's program for federal aid to education.

Dr. William Brady Says:

B-12 Plus Fresh Greens Tonic for Peaked Child

Carefully controlled experiments indicate that pure vitamin B-12, the "amazing" red vitamin, is less effective in the treatment of anemia than various other familiar old remedies.

But combine B-12 with another vitamin or vitamin-like substance called folic acid, and you have something.

DR. BRADY

Folic acid occurs in green leaves, and cooking destroys most of it. Another good reason why a green salad is an indispensable course in an adequate dinner.

Folic acid occurs also in animal tissues, especially liver and kidney, and in yeast and mushrooms. Only infinitesimal amounts of it are required to maintain good nutrition.

The combination of folic acid and the red vitamin seems to be more effective than B-12 alone in preventing and relieving chronic fatigue and failure to gain weight or slow gain of weight in children who should be growing fast and full of life.

Supplement the folic acid diet of a chronically tired and peaked child with an infinitesimal quantity of vitamin B-12 and there's good chance that within a week or so the child will be asking for second helpings and begin to gain weight steadily.

WILL REGAIN VIGOR

At the same time, the tired, inactive child will show distinct improvement in vigor, alertness, and general behavior.

The name of a pamphlet for persons who want to gain weight but are not anemic is How to Gain Weight.

The name of a pamphlet dealing particularly with vitamin B-12 and folic acid for tired and peaked children is The Red Blood Vitamin.

Armenian Group Protests Filming of Life of Kemal

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

We recently read that a major Hollywood studio is filming the life of Mustafa Kemal, the so-called George Washington of Turkey. Is it not a shame to compare this man, who is responsible for deaths of thousands of Armenians, Greeks and Jews, to a great patriot like Washington?

Kemal was directly involved in massacre of thousands of Greeks and Armenians in World War I, and it is our moral obligation to register protest against this man who played an important part in the downfall of the Armenian Independent Republic.

Many local Armenians have personally felt the blow of his sword; members of their families have perished. Many of us are children of those who had to flee to escape massacre. Hollywood cannot glamorize him to us because we are familiar with his history. How well it would be if the movie portrayed him as he really was.

Readers Discuss Teen Marriages

Parent writes to Voice of the People and protests against marriage of high school students. What's wrong with a couple of 18-year-old kids getting married if they're both that dumb? What will be accomplished by waiting a few years?

The high schools of the country should compel children that get married to leave immediately. It's bad enough in college.

Election Results Bring Letters

We wish to thank all other "NO" voters in Monday's election. It is very easy for officials and others who do not live in Pontiac or pay city taxes to say raise taxes for this or that, but the taxpayers do care. A little thought should be given the retired person of our city. Can anyone hope to live on a pension and pay taxes that we now have? Personally, if we were to plan to retire, it would be necessary for us to sell our present home.

Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer

Suggestions were asked for on the Pontiac General Hospital issue. I suggest the hospital reserve ample facilities for Pontiac city residents who may require hospitalization, and further, that only emergency cases from outside the city be admitted unless the reserve facilities are above local requirements. Also, strictly emergency cases should be admitted at the local charge with no surtax.

Nuff Tax

I wish you had as efficient a manager in Pontiac Hospital as we have. Just thought you might like to know how well we are getting along.

Lapeer County General Hospital has annual expenses of over half a million dollars, but it still runs in the black. A recent report to the supervisors showed income at $580,000, expenses at $566,000. The profit was $14,000.

Mr. Uhan Dislikes Legislator Pension

I understand legislators of Michigan have settled on a pension plan for themselves and need only the Governor's signature. I would surely like a pension after eight years of doubtful service at age 60.

Come on, shake them up. Give them the works. Ninety per cent of the taxpayers are with you. How about a headline: "No money for schools, hospital, etc., but we'll take a pension."

'Worried Student' Answers Letter

In reply to the person griping about school taxes, Pontiac has needed a new high school for years. We have added junior highs, but have done nothing about the high school. Next semester there will be so many new students we must go in three shifts. We've been using the cafeteria for classes and others are so full we can't always take the courses we want.

Of course, if you're out of school, you shouldn't worry about that. I've talked to others who go to school with shifts and they don't like it that way. We won't like it either, but what can we do when there isn't enough money to build?

I disagree with his way of thinking about taxes. Let's get our school.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Discussion Brings Understanding

The Altrusa Society is helping promote more happiness and greater world harmony by encouraging discussion. Only by such discussion do we make progress. The Five Blind Men of Hindustan thus didn't realize their ignorance till they began to debate about elephants. So encourage more debating societies in grammar school, as well as high school.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-388: Mrs. Don Arnold, aged maybe 36, was president of an Altrusa Club in Indiana.

This Altrusa Society is an international organization of business and professional women which does wonderful work in sponsoring college scholarships for talented high school girls.

CRANE

And it promotes other cultural civic projects, as well as better accord in the field of international relations.

"Dr. Crane, we like to promote discussion," Mrs. Arnold informed me, "for we feel that progress is based on better understanding."

And that is certainly true. If your neighbors keep mum and don't state their views, how can you be sure whether you are offending them or winning their friendship?

So one of the modern secrets for world peace consists of promoting more discussion, as in the U. N. We must speak our thoughts.

God gave us a smart brain so we could evolve language, by which to articulate our ideas and feelings.

The day of the "strong, silent man" is passe. He is as obsolete as the dinosaur. So learn to talk. Place a premium on a good vocabulary, for words are the tools by which we can carve out our ideas.

DEBATE IS GOOD

We need far more emphasis on debating, not just in college and high school, but in grammar school and our church Young People's Societies.

And women's organizations, such as Altrusa, Town Hall, Lyceums, etc. render a very constructive post graduate service to Americans.

For when we obtain opposing viewpoints, we tend to sift and analyze until maybe we come up with a compromise that contains the good of both previous arguments.

Don't you remember the story of the five blind men of Hindustan? On their initial visit to the circus, they encountered their first elephant.

But each blind man explored only a portion of that great beast. Thus, the first blind man felt the sharp ivory tusk, while the second explored the elephant's twisting trunk. Another ran his fingers over the elephant's ear.

The fourth grasped his tail and the fifth seized a leg. When they got home that night, they began to argue as to the nature of elephants. The first blind man insisted elephants were like a spear (tusk).

His friend denied that fact and said elephants were like a snake (trunk). And the other blind man likewise were just as vehement in saying these first two were all wrong, insisting that elephants were, respectively, like a fan, a rope and a tree.

Well, we human beings in our usual arguments are like those blind men.

Each of us has a small segment of experience with the "elephant" which we call life.

Until we get into a debate, however, we may believe other folks have our same outlook.

Thus, it wasn't until their supper talk that the five Blind Men even realized their neighbors had very divergent views.

So discussion teaches us that people don't have the same experiences with life. And this fact soon makes us more cautious about insisting we are always 100 per cent correct.

For as we grow older, we find that our neighbor, like the blind man with the elephant's tusk, is partly right. But we, too, may be only partially correct.

For we find that an elephant is not just a tusk or a trunk, but may have many other parts that neither of us two debaters has experienced. Our horizons thus widen and we become more considerate.

So encourage discussion:

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Schoolboy, 14, Slays Mother, Sister, After Argument About His Studies

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — A 14-year-old schoolboy shot his mother and older sister to death in a wild burst of rifle fire last night after a quarrel with the sister over his homework.

The father, who hustled a younger son to safety and disarmed the older boy, collapsed from a heart attack after police arrived. He was reported in critical condition in a hospital today.

★ ★ ★

The slayer, Andrew Casey, a tall and stocky Rye High School freshman, was not told his mother and sister were dead. Police described him as "terribly sorry" for shooting them.

Slain in the gunfire — in which at least a dozen shots were fired — were Mrs. Dorothy Casey, 48, and Sheila, 20, an employe of the Rye National Bank.

★ ★ ★

The 50-year-old father, Gene R. Casey, is a public relations firm executive, and a former reporter for the Boston Globe and magazine writer.

Dist. Atty. Joseph F. Gagliardi of Westchester County and Rye Police Chief Robert Warren questioned the youth and pieced together this account:

Andrew and Sheila quarreled over studies. The enraged boy, formerly a member of the rifle club of the Police Athletic League, went to his room and loaded his .22 caliber pump gun. He strode to his sister's room and opened fire on her as she was sitting in a chair.

★ ★ ★

The mother, in the living room of the two-story, nine-room house, heard the shots and ran upstairs. Andrew, at the top of the stairs, emptied his rifle at her.

The father, who had been in the kitchen, ran to the stairs in time to see his wife fall dead. He disarmed Andrew, hustled the younger son, Michael, 12, to safety, and telephoned police.

"Send a policeman," he cried. "My son is shooting everybody."

Andrew surrendered meekly to police.

Sheila was taken to United Hospital at Port Chester, near this New York City commuter suburb, where she died a short time later.

The father was taken to the hospital about the same time to be treated for his heart attack.

Andrew was taken to the Grasslands Hospital at East View, N.Y., for psychiatric examination under court order. He was charged with juvenile delinquency. Police said that because of his age this was the only charge that could be lodged.

Police and neighbors of the Caseys in the middle-class neighborhood near Long Island Sound said Andrew had a reputation as a good boy and a hard worker who often delivered papers and cut lawns.

Soviet Aids Red China to Build Atomic Reactor

HONG KONG (AP)—Peiping radio said today an atomic reactor of the heavy water type with a power output of 7,000 kilowatts will be completed in China this year with Soviet help.

Kuo Mo-jo, president of the Chinese Academy of Engineers, outlined the project in an address before the second conference of the Academy's departmental committee, the broadcast said.

Tao Meng-ho, vice president of the Chinese Academy of Science, told the conference China now is able to extract pure uranium and thorium from Chinese ores on a laboratory scale.

Jewish Couple Fight to Keep Child

Florida Governor to Rule on Fate of Hildy McCoy

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—The long struggle of a Jewish couple to keep their Catholic-born foster daughter in defiance of Massachusetts law reached a showdown today.

Melvin Ellis, 45, and his wife, Frances, 35, were called before Gov. Leroy Collins on an extradition hearing.

★ ★ ★

The governor's decision will determine whether the Ellises must face kidnaping charges in Massachusetts or may remain in Florida and keep the blonde, blue-eyed Hildy McCoy.

The couple gave up their home and a dry-cleaning business in Brookline, Mass., and fled to Miami Beach after the Massachusetts Supreme Court ruled in 1955 they must give up the 6-year-old child because of different religious backgrounds.

"We're not running anymore," Ellis said. "We'll make our stand here."

★ ★ ★

"If by serving a couple of years in prison I might settle the thing I would not mind so much," he said. "But the thought of giving her up is more than I can bear. We're pinning our faith on the Lord and Gov. Collins."

Hildy, who graduates from the first grade tomorrow, stayed home in Miami Beach to practice a part in "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Mrs. Ellis said the child understands only in a general way the legal fight over her and has not been told the details.

★ ★ ★

The child's natural mother, Mrs. Marjorie McCoy Doherty, gave Hildy up for adoption 10 days after her birth. She learned later that the Ellises were Jewish and demanded that Hildy be returned to her under a Massachusetts law which says children "when practicable" shall be placed for adoption with parents of the same faith.

The courts ruled for Mrs. Doherty, but the Ellises disappeared with the child.

They were found in March in Miami through a routine check on Ellis' automobile registration. He has been working as a clothing salesman.

★ ★ ★

Petitions to Collins, have been heavily in favor of the Ellises. About 13,000 persons have wired their support compared to about 100 who say the Ellises should be extradicted for breaking the Massachusetts law.

Love's Splendors Lost for Writer of Prize Song

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A song written by Sammy Fain proclaims that "Love is a many Splendored thing." But Jane Fischer proclaims that being married to Sammy is something else again.

★ ★ ★

She won a divorce from the 54-year-old Academy award-winning song-writer yesterday, claiming he was "insanely jealous without provocation."

Miss Fischer, 26, is in New York City appearing in a Broadway show.

Under a property settlement, Fain will pay her $13,200 over a two-year period. The couple married Sept. 11, 1954.

43 Homes Turned Over to Crippled Korean Vets

PUSAN, Korea (AP) — Forty-three new two-family houses, built largely with American donations, were turned over today to 86 crippled South Korean veterans.

Francis Cardinal Spellman, Roman Catholic Archbishop of New York, gave $10,000 toward the homes for veterans suffering from spinal disease. U. S. soldiers in Korea and South Korean soldiers also contributed.

Languages you think you seldom hear: Javanese is spoken by 41 million people around the globe; Marathi by 28 million and Swahili by 8 millions.

The first seaside camp for native girls from Johannesburg has been organized near East London, South Africa. Many are getting their first sight of the sea.

Britannica Eyes '57 Vocabulary

Discovers Old Words Get New Twists; All Receive Attention

CHICAGO — A likely topic for a "brainstorming" session would be the "SQ" of a "squirrel" who balks at "channelization."

No, this isn't flying saucer talk.

It's not even teenage jargon.

But it is a sentence that couldn't have come up before this year. It's made up of new words and old words with new definitions, as recorded in the 1957 Britannica Book of the Year. Compiled by Encyclopaedia Britannica, the newly published Book of the Year devotes a fair share of its one million words to the subject of words—the newest twists and turns taken by the English language.

Some of the new terms already are familiar. Among them: Exurbanite, soil bank and tranquilizer.

Some come hard on the heels of other new expressions which caught on. For instance, the 1957 yearbook lists two brand new derivatives of the comparatively new "gamesmanship." Now, we have "taxmanship," the strategy of legally avoiding taxes; and for diplomats, "brinkmanship," the policy of allowing differences to go to the brink of war before they are resolved.

Some of the new terms will be around for a while and others will die soon, points out the yearbook.

But Britannica doesn't choose up sides, giving "barganza" (a sale) the same serious treatment as the newest scientific and military terms ("storm tracker" or "missilry"). There's not even any "greylisting" (partial blacklisting).

★ ★ ★

And to get back to the sentence which started this discussion: "Channelization" (control of traffic turns by curbs and dividers) might considerably raise the "SQ" (survival quotient) of a "squirrel" (irresponsible hot-rodder). "Brainstorming" (the cooperative contributing of ideas on a special problem) might devise a way to interest him in the nation. You see, it all makes sense after all.

'Revenooers' Put Bite on Moonshine Supplies

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The "revenooers" are applying pressure on grocers in the continuing war on moonshiners.

Moonshiners use large quantities of sugar, and heretofore the grocers were asked to "sell and tell."

Now, says G. C. Kirkpatrick, supervisor in West Virginia for the Treasury Dept.'s Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, they're being directed — not merely asked — to keep accurate records of sugar sales, on threat of criminal prosecution for failure to do so.

It's Agin' Nature!

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — In the midst of legislative hearings on "right-to-work" bills, Sen John C. Ruckelshaus (R - Indianapolis) received this irate note from a citizen:

"Dear Sir: I am opposed to this everything now."

WATERBURY, Conn. (INS) — George J. Davies, the confessed slayer of 8-year-old Brenda Jane Doucette, has admitted the murder of a French Canadian girl—whose body was found near Waterbury Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Davies told police about the murder in jail at New Haven after the mud-soaked body of convent-trained Gaetane Boivin was discovered by a hunter in a thickly wooded area about three miles from the site where Brenda was slain. The 16-year-old girl had been missing nearly two weeks.

The 38-year-old convicted sex offender said that his method of operation was the same in both killings.

Details of the confession were first disclosed in Waterbury by States Attorney William B. Fitzgerald.

★ ★ ★

Davies previously admitted luring Brenda into his car, driving her to a secluded spot and then killing her when she resisted his attempts to pet her.

Brenda was stabbed 22 times with a screw driver. Gaetane also had 22 wounds, three in the heart. Davies said he had stabbed Gaetane with another screw driver.

A newspaper ad started the shy French Canadian teenager on the road to death. She had advertised in a local newspaper for a job as a domestic to help her family who had brought her to Waterbury in 1955 from a small community in Quebec.

Probe Denver Icebox Murder

Seek Mate of Woman Found, Slain and Tied, in Refrigerator

DENVER (AP)—The body of Mrs. Mary Martinez Mills, 26, was found jammed in a refrigerator in her apartment yesterday and police said today they were seeking her husband for questioning.

Investigators identified the husband as Ernest J. Mills, 33, and said he had served 3½ years in prison on a manslaughter conviction at Hayti, Mo., in 1934.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Mills had been slashed across the throat. Tape bound her wrists. The refrigerator still was operating.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Yeager, custodians of the apartment building, said they went into the couple's quarters yesterday because they had not seen Mrs. Mills since May 13.

Mrs. Yeager said Mrs. Mills' employer called at the apartment the next day because she had not come to work. Mills answered the knock and said his wife was sick and had gone to visit her family at Riverton, Wyo. The Yeagers did not see Mills after May 17, last Friday.

Detective Chris Herrera said Mills is only five feet tall, weighs 140, and has a reputation as a "heavy drinker who gets vicious." He has a police record in Denver and was arrested at Traverse City, Mich., in July of 1948 for investigation of statutory rape. There was no record here of the disposition of that case.

$150 in Articles Stolen From Park Fieldhouse

Articles valued at $150 were stolen from the fieldhouse at Beaudette Park between 5 p.m. Tuesday and 10 a.m. Wednesday after thieves removed the lock from the rear door.

Leonard Buss, supervisor of the Parks and Recreation Department of Pontiac, told police a 25 watt amplifier with attached legs and an electro-voice microphone and table stand were missing.

Costello Freed on $1,000 Bond

Gambler Spent 15 Days in Prison for Refusing to Answer Questions

NEW YORK (INS) — Gambler Frank Costello was released from the Rikers Island workhouse yesterday under $1,000 bail after serving 15 days of a 30-day contempt sentence.

Supreme Court Justice Edgar J. Nathan Jr. approved Costello's release pending an appeal on the contempt sentence.

★ ★ ★

The 66-year-old gambler was imprisoned for refusing to answer questions before a grand jury probing the May 2 attempt on his life during which a bullet grazed his scalp.

Costello refused to tell the grand jury anything about a slip of paper detectives found in his pocket containing the words "Casino wins—$651,284."

Waiting for Costello as the ferry from Rikers Island workhouse docked in the Bronx were his attorneys, Edward B. Williams and Morris Shilensky. The gambler smiled and waved at newsmen and photographers as he stepped from the boat.

Receives Head Injuries in Two-Car Accident

Mary B. Callender, 32, of 1242 Meadowlawn Dr., received head injuries yesterday afternoon after she reportedly ran a red light and then struck an auto while driving on Jessie street, according to Pontiac Police.

Driver of the other auto involved in the accident was James D. Mason, 22, of 63½ S. Edith St. The woman was reported in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today.

Motorcycle Rider Hurt in Highway Accident

Frederick C. Snavley, 25, of 1155 Fairfax Rd., received possible fractures of the left arm and right leg last night when his motorcycle struck an auto, at U.S. 10 and Opdyke road, according to Pontiac state police.

Snavley was reported in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital today. Troopers report the driver of the auto was Robert Seppala, 28, of 121 Highland Rd.

Not a Light in Sight

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — No wonder the court dismissed a charge of running through a stop light at Granby and High streets against Roy Thompson, 31. There isn't any stop light at Granby and High.

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP) — Patrolman Charles Hines probed too deep on this case. A woman telephoned headquarters to report that weather and use had worn two large chuckholes in the pavement in front of her house. Hines went to the scene and soon radioed for a wrecker to pull his police car from one of the holes.

COLUMBIA, Ky. . — Meeting a drunk on the street, the Rev. Art Freet proceeded to guide him home. At his door, the man pleaded with the minister to come inside. He declined. "Pleash, Reverend," beseeched the drunk. "Just for a minute. I want the wife to see who I been out with."

Respects Motherhood

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — In Akron it is against the law to desert "expectant female dogs." This little used provision of the Municipal Code came to light recently when an Akron man, Howard L. White, moved to a nearby trailer camp. Dog Warden Cornelius Yarman charged White with animal desertion for failing to take with him his black fox terrier who, Yarman said, "is an expectant female."

Took a Shine to It

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — A 10-year-old girl in Fort Smith, Ark., apparently was impressed by Gov. Orval Faubus's appeal for a 16-million-dollar increase in the state sales tax. She sent the governor a letter saying she had shined her father's shoes, chargd him 10 cents plus a cent tax. She enclosed the penny.

ANIMAL QUIZ

ANIMAL QUIZ

QUESTION: How far can a camel travel without water?

ANSWER: The U. S. Army was interested in this question back in 1856. It imported 60 camels from Asia to haul supplies to desert outposts in Arizona and New Mexico. The camels worked out fine as substitutes for the famous army mule, but the project was dropped when the Civil War came along.

People have believed, even back to Bible days, that the camel stored water in its hump for use on long trips across the desert. This is only partly true. Actually, the camel stores up food fats — as much as 60 to 80 pounds — and water is produced when this fat is turned into energy.

Zoologists say a camel can go for three or four days without water but even after one day he begins to suffer, despite his built-in storage tanks.

Camel drivers check the size of a camel's hump before setting out on a caravan, just as a motorist checks his gas tank at the outset of a trip. When the camel is starved or tired out, its hump slumps.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Cut out this picture of a desert boy and his camel, color it with your crayons and assemble as directed. Save it for your animals of the world collection.

(If you have an idea for Junior Editors, send it to this newspaper. Karen Lou Chamberlain, Flint, Mich., won $10 for this suggestion. Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures.)

British Armed Forces Charged With Hoarding

LONDON—While British Service Ministers have been talking of great savings, the armed forces have been hoarding stores, a Select Committee on Estimates charged in London. The Ordnance Corps has 70,000 bicycles, 24,000 pairs of binoculars (enough for 34 years) and 346,568 spare chairs, the committee asserted.

The Army still has 1,000 types of vehicles, with corresponding huge holdings of spares. The Air Force has an "inappropriately large holding" of airframe spares for obsolete planes like Oxfords—enough spares for 20 years—the committee said.

Seek Funds for Shelter

EL RENO, Okla. (AP) — A $2,000 fund raising drive is being conducted here to erect a shelter over the log cabin that served Gen. Phillips Sheridan as a headquarters when he was commandant of Ft. Reno in 1874. After the Civil War, the general was sent to Oklahoma to head the cavalry's forces in Indian Territory.

Frogmen Raise Copper

SYDNEY — In Australia's worst sea disaster, the coastal ship Admella sank off South Australia 97 years ago. Of the 118 people aboard 89 perished. The other day frogmen went down to salvage valuable copper ingots and already have brought up good hauls. The Admella carried 90 tons of copper. In earlier salvage attempts 25 tons were recovered.

Owl Named for Elvis

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Arizona-Sonora Desert Museum, which maintains a collection of birds and animals native to the Southwest, now has an owl named Elvis. Director William H. Woodin said the bird acquired the name because of its unusual knack of swinging its hips — unusual among owls, that is.

Most Absent Minded?

New Pontiac Post Office to Be Ready in Spring

Building Site on West Huron

Bids Open Till July 7; Department to Maintain Present Windows

Pontiac will have a new Main Post Office early next spring, Acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean revealed today.

Bids on the modern, single-story structure will be accepted by the Post Office until July 7, with construction due for completion in seven months after start, he said. He gave the following details:

The building will occupy a site on West Huron street, between Genesee and Chippewa streets and will have parking facilities for both the public and employes.

The site is 251 feet wide and 617 feet deep and the building will be 150 by 280 feet, including a loading dock at the rear.

ADJOINS SCHOOL GROUNDS

The south end of the property abuts on the Washington Junior High School grounds and will contain the graveled employes parking lot. The entire property will be fenced.

The front of the building will be of face brick with wide expanses of glass. It will contain seven offices a public lobby some 14 service windows, a huge work room for mail handling, a snack bar and locker rooms.

The first floor will contain in all 37,088 square feet of space. A partial basement will add 7,500 more square feet, while the rear platform for loading will occupy 3,750 square feet.

PARKING LOT

On the left side of the building will be a paved public parking lot, accessible from Huron, with 19 car spaces.

On the right of the structure, will be a driveway from Huron to the dock area and employes' parking lot.

Dean said the building will be the first Main Post Ofice in Pontiac, because the present main office is located in the Federal Bldg.

★ ★ ★

Other federal agencies will expand in the old building to recapture the space the post office had formerly taken from them as its operations grew.

However, window service will be retained by the post office in the Federal Bldg.

The new structure will be on a leased basis. The Post Office Dept. will sign over its option on the property to the builder and will lease the property back for 20 years, with renewal options up to 30 years more.

The land selling price was in the neighborhood of $200,000, Dean continued.

The building is being designed to handle our needs for the next 20 years, the postmaster said.

TEST HEADQUARTERS — Nestled among the hills of Ford Motor Company's new Michigan Proving Ground near Romeo is this one-story structure that serves as operational headquarters for the test area. A combined administration building and garage, it has 160,000 square feet of floor space. The air-conditioned administrative section contains offices, a cafeteria, dispensary and drivers' ready room. Behind the building are parts of the test grades and hill durability route.

HILL CLIMBING — Every day it's like being in San Farncisco for Ford Motor Company test drivers who must negotiate the steep grades at the new Michigan Proving Ground. This test hill, including 17 and 29 per cent grades, is one of several rugged hills on which climb tests are conducted at the 3,880-acre proving ground. A 60 per cent grade is used to test experimental military vehicles developed by the Ford engineering staff.

Cons Try Breaking Legs With Hammers

BUFORD, Ga. (AP)—Seven more prisoners sat down at Buford Rock Quarry yesterday and tried to break their legs with sledge-hammers. Four succeeded.

Three convicts broke their legs Monday. Three others failed.

★ ★ ★

Director Jack Forrester had just announced plans of the Corrections Department to give mental tests to all the prisoners when news came of the latest outbreak. He said it was hoped the examinations would reveal the real cause of trouble at the maximum security prison.

About 150 prisoners classed as incorrigibles are confined at the quarry.

Forty-one prisoners broke their legs or fractured leg bones last summer in a protest against alleged mistreatment.

All seven involved in the latest incident are Negroes. The six in Monday's episode are white.

St. Ignace to Educate Area's People on Bridge

ST. IGNACE (AP) — St. Ignace plans a "Bridge Education Day" June 15 to familiarize people in the area engaged in the tourist industry with facts on the 150-million-dollar Straits of Mackinac Bridge.

A series of two-hour water cruises will provide a close-up of the five-mile span linking Michigan's lower and upper peninsulas.

A similar program is planned later for Mackinaw City, at the southern terminus of the big bridge.

The bridge is scheduled to open Nov. 1.

Upsurge of Anti-Semitism Brewing in Soviet Union?

PARIS (INS) — Diplomatic reports to Western European capitals indicate there is a new upsurge of anti-semitism in the Soviet Union.

These reports said Moscow has tried to force Poland to return to Russia a number of Jewish refugees who escaped from the Soviet Union.

ATTEMPT SUCCESSFUL?

Just how successful the Soviet attempt has been is open to doubt. Some reports say that the refugees already have been returned. Other reports say that the Polish government is resisting the Soviet pressure by all possible means.

The issue was raised unexpectedly at a recent meeting of the Supreme Command of the "Warsaw Pact" alliance, the anti-NATO grouping of Eastern European nations.

The last report received in Paris concerns an open Soviet demand to eliminate Jewish journalists from the profession in Poland.

★ ★ ★

The first information regarding Soviet efforts to "recover" escapees in Poland was disclosed in connection with the mass repatriation of 400,000 Poles exiled in the Soviet Union since 1939, when Stalin and Hitler invaded Poland.

Among the repatriates were many Jews. They reportedly strongly denounced the Soviet regime and anti-semitic practices in Russia.

Furthermore, some purely Russian Jews managed to escape from Russia in the course of repatriation of the Poles. They are striving to go farther West, especially to Israel.

RETURN DEMANDED

A highly reliable report from a non-Jewish source disclosed that the Soviet government recently demanded the Polish government return these Jews to Russia.

It is not known whether Poland has yielded to the Soviet demand and, if it has, to what extent.

The second report concerns the meeting of the Warsaw Party's international military staff.

Soviet Field Marshall Ivan Konev, addressing his satellite commanders, remarked that "apparently our Polish allies are planning to strengthen Israel."

He added that the new regime in Poland was encouraging Jewish people to leave Poland for Israel. This, he said, was aimed at increasing the Israeli military potential.

The Polish government nevertheless has not yielded and Jewish people are free to leave Poland, if they wish.

★ ★ ★

Finally, about a month ago, the Soviet-embassy press attache in Warsaw summoned the secretary of the Polish newspaperman's union and submitted to him a list of names, all Jewish journalists belonging to the union. The Soviet diplomat asked that these reporters be expelled from the union as "reactionaries."

★ ★ ★

The union secretary agreed to hand the list to a higher authority without comment. The Polish authories have taken no action so far as is known.

Motorcycle Rider Hurt

CHICO, Calif. (AP)—William Durwood Elkins, 26, of Milan, Mich., a trick motorcycle rider, suffered a skull fracture and brain concussion last night when the front wheel of his motorcycle hit a street rut and flipped over. He was scheduled to appear with a motorcycle show in Chico today.

Presidential Aide to Speak at GOP Women's Luncheon

A Presidential aide will speak to Oakland County Republican women Friday.

Dr. Kevin McCann, a long-time assistant to President Eisenhower, will address the victory luncheon climaxing the ladies' fifth annual fund raising drive.

It will begin at 12:30 p.m. at Devon Gables. Area chairmen, their committeewomen and $25 contributors are invited.

McCann, 52, is president of Defiance College, in Ohio. He has been closely associated with Mr. Eisenhower for many years.

In 1946 he joined General Eisenhower's army staff in Europe and continued to serve with him after Mr. Eisenhower resigned his post of chief of staff to become president of Columbia University.

When the general later became Supreme Commander of Allied Powers in Europe, McCann accompanied him to France as a civilian assistant. He returned to the United States in August, 1951, to assume the presidency of Defiance College, but rejoined the general early the next year and continued with him until the presidential election.

From 1953 to early this year, McCann was on leave of absence from the college to join the President in Washington, D. C. as a consultant and special assistant.

Other guests at the luncheon will include Mrs. Rae Hooker, Republican national committeewoman; Mrs. Charles Dean, member of the national finance committee; Mrs. Ella Koeze, vice chairman of the state central committee; Oakland County chairman Arthur G. Elliot Jr., and Mrs. Elliot.

Mrs. John Finnegan of Birmingham is in charge of the luncheon, and Mrs. Brooks Marshall, who has headed the drive for the fifth consecutive year, will preside.

Death Almost Claims Youth Hiding in Box

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—Two-year-old Richard Anderson will not soon hide again in a pasteboard box. It almost cost him his life.

A truck driver, t. g. cooler, 19, said he spotted the apparently empty box and decided to straddle it instead of driving over it.

Richard was tumbled from his hiding place when the truck's rear axel knocked over the box.

Steel Utility Pole Hit by Motorist Flies Into Home

DETROIT (INS) — A steel utility pole was hurled through the front door of a Detroit home early today after it was hit by a motorist who lost control of his auto upon leaving the southern exit of the John C. Lodge expressway.

Police said Robert L. Cooper, 36, sideswiped another car before his own auto swerved into the pole and a traffic sign, hurling them about 35 feet.

The pole smashed through the door of the house and the impact partially wrecked the porch and broke several windows.

Cooper, who police said had been drinking, was ticketed for reckless driving.

Detroit Area Police Thwart Gang Fight

DETROIT (INS) — A threatened gang fight between boys from Detroit and out-county communities was thwarted last night through the cooperation of several police agencies.

About 150 boys gathered at a drive-in restaurant and the parking lot of a nearby bank dispersed when Wayne County Sheriff's officers, State Police and officers from Livonia and Redford Township converged on the scene.

Deputy Sheriff William Sullivan said the threatened fight apparently was the outgrowth of a battle between the two gangs Tuesday night in which one boy suffered a broken arm and six others were arrested.

Sullivan said what was believed to be a cache of weapons was found in the bank parking lot. It included two baseball bats, two leatherfaced mallets, six pieces of lead pipe and two pipe wrenches.

May Set New Company Record

Ford Predicts $3 Billion Sales First Half of Year

Henry Ford II, president of Ford Motor Co., predicted today record dollar sales of more than three billion dollars for the first half of 1957.

He told the second public annual stockholders meeting that passenger car sales in the first four months of this year surpassed those for the corresponding period last year by 14 per cent, despite a three per cent decline for the auto industry as a whole.

The stockholders meeting was held at the new Ford Proving Ground in Macomb County, near Romeo.

"Ford car sales are up 16 per cent, Mercury sales are up 7 per cent, and Lincoln sales are less than 1 per cent below the record first four months of 1956," Ford said.

He said a 2½ per cent increase in Ford truck sales over the first four months of last year "does not reflect fully the important gains made since introduction of 1957 models in February."

"In the three months following introduction," he said, "Ford truck sales jumped up 16 per cent over the corresponding months of 1956, and are 15 per cent higher than the previous three-month introductory record set in 1953."

Regarding dollar sales, Ford said it appears the company's total for the first half of 1957 "will set a new company record, breaking the three billion dollar mark for the first time."

The previous first half record was $2,891,000,000 in 1955.

"For the remainder of the year we hope to maintain at least our current share of the market and our dollar sales volume will depend upon the size of the total market," Ford said.

He added that he foresees no marked expansion of the economy for the remainder of 1957.

"Production and employment for the economy as a whole how have leveled off at the peak we reached last December," Ford said. "In the immediate future, total business activity in terms of constant dollars is likely to continue on the present high plateau. So far there are no strong forces in action to contraction of the economy over the next few months."

Completion of the new proving ground near Romeo gives Ford one of the most extensive over-the-road testing facilities in the automotive industry.

With the new area, Ford has a total of 8,080 acres for road testing of cars, trucks and other vehicles.

The growth of Ford testing facilities, accomplished for the most part in recent years, started in 1936 when the company built its first test track around the Ford airport in Dearborn.

In 1946, the first out-of-state test station was established at Phoenix, Ariz., utilizing public roads for high temperatures and low humidity research. Two years later, a similar base was opened at Jennerstown, Pa., for hill-climbing tests.

In 1955, Ford acquired 3,840 acres of property in northwestern Arizona for its Arizona Proving Ground.

A year ago, a new test station was opened at Colorado Springs, Colo., for high altitude research on Pike's Peak grades.

Construction of the new proving ground near Romeo involved the largest privately financed earth-moving project in Michigan history.

A record 4,000,000 cubic yards of earth—as much as would be removed in digging 13,000 average-size home basements—were moved in the 3,880-acre test area between July, 1955, and the end of 1956 when contracting work was completed.

Operations center of the proving ground is a one-story, brick-and-concrete structure covering 160,000 square feet of floor space and providing office quarters, cafeteria and five separate garage bays.

Women Offer to Take Yul Brynner Haircuts

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — More than 500 women jammed the telephone switchboard of a Sydney television station yesterday and today offering to undergo a Yul Brynner haircut.

★ ★ ★

The women volunteered to have their heads shaved on the TV program "It Pays to be Funny." Werner Reiher, 31, swapped his curly brown hair for a television set on the program Tuesday. The show's sponsors want a woman's locks next week.

★ ★ ★

The chosen lady will get a television set, a diamond wristwatch, a washing machine, a refrigerator — and a wig.

Squirrel Turns Home Into King-Size Cage

GLASGOW, Ky. (AP) — A wandering squirrel tried to convert E. P. Ebert's home into a king-size cage while he was away.

Returning from vacation, Ebert found the squirrel had entered the house and caused considerable damage trying to get out again. Fact is, he died trying.

★ ★ ★

His body was found while Ebert totaled the damage — a broken lamp, chewed-up Venetian blinds, and 14 window pane frames, bitten off right down to the glass.

Bob Considine Says:

Youngster in Prison Warns Others

NEW YORK (INS) — Police reporter Bill Hazlett of the Wichita Beacon, largest paper in Kansas, did an interview recently which deserves an additional audience. This is an effort to give him that.

★ ★ ★

Hazlett took his notes from James Michael Penney, a 16-year-old inmate at Wichita's City Prison Farm, where he is serving eight months for petty larceny.

The teenager had just been paroled after burglarizing a Dodge City lumber company. The total take there was $2.22, and a 5-to-10-year jail term.

Here's what Penney wrote for the reporter:

I write this in hopes that some of you young punks will read it and take heed. My name is James Michael Penney. I'm what some people call a juvenile delinquent.

★ ★ ★

The truth is, I'm a smart-aleck punk that don't know beans from peas about anything.

Right now, I'm in the City Prison Farm for petty larceny and destruction of property. Not too long ago I was picked up on charges of burglary and was sentenced to a 5-to-10-year prison term. I was recommended for parole and got it.

AND THEN PRISON

I hadn't been back in Wichita too long when I was picked up on this petty larceny and destruction charge. I have served 30 days. When I'm finished here, I'll be sent to Hutch (the state industrial reformatory at Hutchinson) for about 10 months.

Myself, I feel I deserve what I got.

I was just like some of you guys out there, when you go out and get drunk and rob people, roll drunks, break into places, steal gas or hubcaps—listen to what I say and you'll quit.

In here you get only two meals a day. You get up at 5:30 a.m., make your bunk, wash your face and comb your hair. Then you get breakfast. Usually it consists of oatmeal or a hard-boiled egg. Maybe some bacon every other day.

Then for 15 hours a day you walk around, play dominos or twiddle your fingers. You can't even lay on your bunk. If you're lucky, you get on a work detail, and get a chance to see the sun and sweat a little.

★ ★ ★

Punks, you aren't hurting yourself by your actions as much as you are hurting your family, and especially your mother. If most of you would just grow up, go to Sunday School or church instead of out running around, you wouldn't wind up in the mess I'm in.

I hope some of you can profit by my mistakes. Like the old saying goes, "Don't commit the crime if you can't do the time."

NO KIND OF LIFE

Something tells me most kids like myself are pretty good, but you'd better wake up before it is too late. This is no kind of life to be living.

★ ★ ★

It isn't hard to be bad, but it takes guts to be good. Quit making fools out of yourselves. You know what's right and what's wrong. And if you get stumped you can always turn to the Bible. Ask yourself what Jesus would do in a case like yours.

The trouble with all of us is trying to grow up too fast. I'm learning to take life as it comes and I'm learning the hard way.

When your folks tell you not to do something, or raise heck with you, it is for your own good. Take the word of a guy who knows. I'm paying now. But when I get out I'll start all over.

Thank the Lord you've got a chance now to go right.

Penney had a bit of trouble in high school and dropped out after his freshman year, rather than make things up scholastically.

When Bill Hazlett asked him why he became a criminal in the first place, the boy said, "I don't really know. I was brought up different than that. I guess it was just the wrong crowd and weakness on my part."

Stayed Around 40 Years

ORILLIA, Ont. (AP) — When the Orillia Water, Light and Power Commission hired Harry Mercer in 1916 they made it clear he was only temporary help, for perhaps two weeks. Mercer has just retired after 40 years of service.

Seaway Work Moves Along

Good Weather Permits Progress on U.S. Part of St. Lawrence Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — Favorable weather enhanced construction progress of the U. S. portion of the St. Lawrence Seaway during April.

The weather also was credited today by the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. in attracting an increasing number of tourists to view the far-flung engineering operation that ultimately will enable deep-draft ships to sail from the Atlantic ocean to Great Lakes ports.

As of May 1, the corporation said in its monthly report of seaway activities, the mainland portion of the long Sault ship canal was 54 per cent complete and the westerly end 94 per cent complete.

Comparable progress on the 10-mile canal's two huge locks — the Eisenhower and the Grasse River — also was reported. Each is now 44 per cent finished as a result of the April placement of 57,720 cubic yards of concrete in the latter and about 40,000 cubic yards in the former.

EMPLOYMENT SOARS

Employment figures also soared during the past month with 2,882 persons participating in all phases of the activity. As the construction season advances, additional thousands will be employed.

The 27-foot-deep international waterway is scheduled to be completed in early 1959

The corporation, the agency created by Congress to construct and administer the project, said that as of the end of April 2,044,000 cubic yards of material have been excavated at Eisenhower lock site. At Grasse lock the total is 1,640,000 cubic yards.

★ ★ ★

Dredging operations to remove shoals in the Thousand Islands section of the seaway have resumed and plans finalized for similar work in the river's south Cornwall channel — a major item in the project construction.

Car Theft Victims Alert?

VICTORIA (AP) — Under British Columbia's new traffic act the victim of a car theft can be taken to court, as well as the thief, if he failed to turn off the motor, lock the ignition and remove the key.

Elect Paul Merideth to Head Junior Bar

Pontiac attorney Paul L. Merideth was elected chairman yesterday of the newly formed Junior Bar Section of the Oakland County Bar Assn.

Sherwin Birnkrant was elected vice chairman and Ivan M. Borbes secretary-treasurer. Both are Pontiac attorneys.

The group voted to seek final recognition from its parent organization next month.

Four permanent committees were established: lawyer reference, grievance, public relations, and minimum fee schedule.

A series of public relations ventures were initially planned.

Scouts Miss Lesson

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)— The Girl Scouts of Troop 10 were present but they missed their cooking lesson.

Mrs. Pauline Baccary, home economist for the Roanoke Gas Company, bought the food for the lesson and brought it to Greene Memorial Methodist Church. She deposited it at the kitchen door and went to get the key. It was gone when she returned five minutes later.

Freedom-of-Information Legislation Amended

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP)—Although the Senate General Affairs Committee said it was recommending passage of two freedom-of-information bills, one of the measures reached the Senate with a recommendation for amendment.

The bills, advocated by the North Dakota Press Assn., and Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, would require that records and meetings of boards, commissions and other public bodies be open.

Upsurge of Nationalistic Feeling Shows Signs of Running Loose in Japan

TOKYO (INS) — Nationalism, an important force behind Japan's World War II aggression, is showing signs of running loose again in this energetic nation of 90 million people.

In the halls of the Diet (Parliament), in the literary and cultural fields, among the people, there is today an undeniable upsurge of this nationalistic feeling.

And His Imperial Majesty, Emperor Hirohito, whose "divinity the World War II militarist government propagandized into a rallying point for national unity, is once again being shut off from public view by the "chrysanthemum curtain" the American occupation, hopefully raised 12 years ago.

Where will it lead?

Some authorities say the revival of nationalism is the inevitable after-effect of the American occupation, and that it represents an indirect form of anti-Americanism which will become increasingly pronounced as time goes by.

GIVE EXPRESSION

Other experts—and these appear to be in the majority—maintain Japanese are merely giving expression to a natural feeling, much in the same manner as Americans are conscious of their loyalty to the United States and Britons are to queen and country.

These experts accept the general belief that the nationalism of the immediate post-occupation period in large measure represented a swing-back of the pendulum loosened by Japan's regaining of her sovereignty.

But they do not go along with the theory that the nationalism of today is basically directed against America.

FEAR REVIVAL

Neither do they accept the sometimes expressed fear that it presages a breeding ground for a revival of militarism and aggression.

There are many post-occupation developments associated with the re-emergence of nationalism. They include:

1. Steps by government leaders to scrap or drastically revise many American occupation reforms.

2. Moves in official and unofficial quarters to revise the U.S.-sponsored constitution, the main objectives being to restore to the emperor many of the powers of which he was deprived and to alter the famous "war-renouncing clause."

* * *

3. A noticeable cutting down by imperial household officials of public "democratizing" appearances by Emperor Hirohito.

4. The known desire of the Tokyo government for the relinquishing of Okinawa and the Ryukyu Islands by the U.S. and their return to Japan.

5. The irate attitude in official and unofficial circles over the curtailing of Japan's trade with Communist China because of U.S.-backed free world trade embargoes against Red nations.

6. The revival in popularity of shinto shrines and the worship of ancestors to whom they are dedicated.

7. The flood of literature and rash of movies portraying the heroism of Japan's World War II armed forces.

Those who hold the revival of nationalism is natural point out that much of the distortion of this issue is caused by leftist groups, such as by the leftist-inspired demonstrations for the evacuation of U.S. forces from air bases leased to America under the U.S.-Japan defense and administrative agreements.

* * *

They point out that Premier Nobusuke Kishi and premiers before him have repeatedly stressed that Japan must maintain close friendship with the United States and the West.

Will Thomas E. Dewey Run for President Again in 1960 Race?

WASHINGTON (INS) — A top-ranking source disclosed today that Thomas E. Dewey is "considering" running for governor of New York next year in order to control the nation's largest delegation to the GOP presidential convention in 1960.

★ ★ ★

The informant said Dewey does not want to be governor, but realizes that his only hope of becoming the Republican standard-bearer again is to have the 96-vote New York delegation in his pocket.

DOESN'T WANT JOB

Another high ranking politico who himself hopes to capture the New York gubernatorial nomination next year said he doubts that Dewey "wants the job," but added: "If he does, it is his for the asking. Dewey can have anything he wants from Republicans of New York State."

Both men believe that unless Vice President Nixon is too far out in front by 1960, Dewey intends to make another bid for the presidency.

They pointed out that at the time the former presidential nominee retired as governor of New York State to join a Manhattan law firm, he took with him the secretary who had been responsible for his political files.

"The secretary's sole job since moving into Dewey's law firm," the informants insisted, "is to keep those files completely up-to-date on every county and state politician in the nation. He has a complete record on every delegate since 1940."

One politico said Dewey would prefer not to relinquish his highly remunerative law practice for the governorship, if he can be assured that a "Dewey man" will get the nomination and hold the delegation for him.

★ ★ ★

For that reason, he is reportedly reluctant to throw his support behind former GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall, whose life-time ambition has been the New York governorship.

WOULDN'T HELP

Dewey, the source said, considers Hall such an astute politician that he would control the delegation himself, instead of giving Dewey a free hand.

As a consequence, he thinks Dewey and Nassau County boss Russell Sprague may give the nod to Ozzie Heck, speaker of the state legislature. Sprague and Hall have long been at odds in a power-politics struggle in Nassau County — the home stamping grounds of both.

The informant said that although Dewey dislikes the thought of taking the governorship himself, he considers Averell Harriman, the Democratic incumbent, "a push-over" and would "rather relish taking him on in a rough-and-tumble campaign."

HALL DISAPPOINTED

Hall, who needs a prominent springboard from which to launch his own gubernatorial campaign, is understandably disappointed at the failure of President Eisenhower to give him a top appointment as a reward for his conduct of the 1956 landslide election campaign.

At the time of Hall's resignation, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield was ailing and it was generally expected that the GOP chairman would step into his shoes. To the surprise of most, however, not one Cabinet member resigned at the beginning of Ike's second term.

Though several top vacancies will occur within the next four months, it is now "too late" for him to enter the Cabinet.

Ike would be averse to appointing to his official family a man who expected to bow out within a few months, and Hall would rather be governor, if he feels he has a chance.

Hall reportedly believes that Ike will, however, give him much needed support to help win delegates to the New York gubernatorial nominating convention next year—unless Dewey runs.

The world's population has been estimated by the United Nations to be in excess of 2,351 millions of persons.

Brothers, Dead Ringers, Confuse All of Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Lee Drain, a banker, and his brother Vince, a FBI agent, are dead ringers.

So defense attorneys appeared startled over what appeared a "stacked jury" when Lee served on a federal jury.

The similarity has fooled others.

Lee visited a hospital recently where Vince had just undergone an operation. Nurses who saw him in a corridor tried to run him down and put him to bed.

Say Mexican Girl Gave Birth to Quintuplets

CULICAN, Mexico (AP)—A report from the isolated mountain village of Cosala says a 14-year-old Mexican girl gave birth to quintuplets.

The mother was Juana Gomez Alfaro. Three of the premature babies were born dead and the other two died shortly after because they did not have proper medical care, the report said.

About 5.5 million non-farm homes in the U. S. have no flush toilets.

Legislature Warned on Diverting Funds

LANSING (AP) — In an off-the-cuff memo, the attorney general's department has warned the state might lose up to one third of its federal highway support by diverting funds to other than highway purposes.

The memo, not a formal opinion, was made public at a press conference held by Gov. Williams. Williams has bitterly opposed a plan to divert $5,600,000 in highway money for state police purposes.

The diversion, part of the "hold the line" spending program espoused by Senate Republicans, is contained in a highway bill still being debated in a Senate-House conference committee. House Republicans at first favored, but later opposed it.

Michigan is due to receive $90,316,701 in federal highway support during the next fiscal year.

Joseph A. Sullivan, chief deputy attorney general, sent the memo to the governor.

If the legislature does pass the highway bill containing the state police diversion, Gov. Williams said it was "quite possible" he would veto it in view of the interpretation from the attorney general's office.

Attorney General Rules on Himself

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh ruled in effect today that he was legally able to run for state Supreme Court while still holding the office of attorney general.

Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) asked for the ruling. Sallade had questioned the legality of the Democratic attorney general running for the state Supreme Court in the April 1 election.

Kavanagh was one of the Democratic winners in the election.

"Except as restricted by express constitutional provision," Kavanagh answered in his opinion, "the holder of a state office is not disqualified thereby from becoming a candidate for another state office."

Well Victim to Go Home Friday or Saturday

Benny May Take First Steps Today

MANORVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — Seven-year-old Benny Hooper may take his first steps today, six days after being rescued from the bottom of a 24-foot well.

* * *

Young Benny had hoped to be up and around yesterday, but he was allowed only to sit in an armchair for a brief period. He is at Bayview Hospital, Mastic Beach.

Dr. Joseph H. Kris, his physician, said Benny would probably go home Friday or Saturday, depending on his progress. He said Benny still has a slight cough from bronchial inflammation.

Gifts and mail for young Benny continue to pour in at the hospital. Among the gifts are a battery-powered toy car big enough to ride in.

* * *

Dr. Kris said yesterday that Benny doesn't "actually remember" his 23½-hour ordeal, and probably never will. Kris said Benny may seem to remember in the future but "this will be mostly due to mental images from what he hears and what he reads about what happened to him."

At neighboring Garden City, N. Y., the Community Developers Council, an organization of Long Island builders, yesterday presented "hometown hero" awards to five men who helped save Benny.

Each of the five also was given $300 to further the education of his own children or some other child.

* * *

They were Sam Woodson, construction worker from Riverhead, N. Y., the first man to reach Benny; Edward Gadzinski, chief of the Riverhead fire department; John Stachnik of the Eastport, N. Y., fire department; Gus Formhals, Manorville fire department; and Alex Pendzick, Center Moriches, N. Y., fire department.

The Donelson School PTA will hold an ice cream social from 6 to 7:30 p.m. Tuesday on the school grounds.

In case of rain, the social will be in the school gymnasium, said Mrs. Max Keller, chairman.

The Pontiac Press erred yesterday in stating the social would be held Saturday.

The 40-piece Isaac Crary Junior High School Band will play. Bruce Orr will direct.

JoAnn Slaying Trial Goes to Jury Today

DETROIT (AP) — The first-degree murder trial of Philip J. Singer, accused of the 1952 rape-slaying of 18-year-old JoAnn Gillespie, was scheduled to go to a Recorder's Court Jury today.

The 38-year-old former Marine has proclaimed his innocence throughout a 14-day trial. He repudiated an admission which police said he made in the bludgeon killing of the girl on a Detroit street.

Slates Meetings on Disarmament

Administration May Air New Policy Decision at Top-Secret Parleys

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration scheduled two top-secret meetings today amid reports it may be nearing a new major policy decision on disarmament negotiations.

* * *

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said there are indications that "a genuine negotiation may actually be in the making" in London arms control talks on a limited, experimental agreement.

The London arms talks recessed last week to permit the negotiators to confer with their governments. The talks resume Monday.

President Eisenhower called Harold E. Stassen, his special assistant for disarmement and chief negotiator at the London conference, to a White House meeting of the National Security Council.

Later, Stassen and Secretary of State Dulles will report to a closed meeting of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee of which Humphrey is chairman. Major Democratic and Republican Senate leaders were invited to the meeting at Dulles' specific request.

* * *

Chances that Adm. Arthur W. Radford and Stassen might air their apparent differences on disarmament policy faded when it was disclosed that Radford would not attend the Security Council meeting.

U. S. officials find it hard to believe, but they are beginning to think that Russia's bosses really may be prepared to give up some secrecy to get a limited disarmament pact.

This hopeful view will be put to the test in arms control negotiations being resumed in London next week.

* * *

It now seems certain that Harold E. Stassen, U. S. negotiator, will return to London over the weekend with a new set of American proposals designed to encourage Soviet agreement.

The replacement of railroad ties runs to an average annual bill amounting to more than $250 million.

3 Lose Lives in Michigan Drownings

REED CITY (AP) — Randy Fox, 4, drowned Wednesday when he fell into a four-foot pond near his home in rural Mecosta County about 6 miles south of Reed City.

CADILLAC (AP) — James S. Ludlum, 23, of Bridgeport, drowned Wednesday night after his motorboat capsized in the Titabawasse River in Midland County. The body was recovered.

FLINT (AP) — James A. Porter, 11, of Flint, drowned last night when he fell while wading in a gravel pit near his home.

Coty Searching for New Premier

French President Hopes He Can Still Leave for Visit ot U.S.

PARIS (AP)—President Rene Coty sent out word today he intends to nominate a successor for Premier Guy Mollet within 48 hours in an effort to keep his own date with President Eisenhower early next month.

Persons who spoke with the president said Coty hoped for swift solution of France's political crisis so he could arrive on schedule in Washington June 3 for a state visit.

* * *

But unless Parliament confirms a new premier soon, Coty will be unable to make the trip. He was forced to cancel his sailing on the Ile de France. He ordered a special plane to stand by to fly him to America.

International courtesy requires that Coty let the U. S. government know sometime in advance if his constitutional duties will force him to cancel the trip. For this reason he is pressing the warring French political leaders to give him an answer one way or another in the next few days.

Toot-Toot Telephone?

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — The Southern Pacific Railroad's roundhouse got a phone number with a real toot-toot sound when Nogales was switched to dial phones: ATwater 8-2222.

"The law is certainly rated above the Gospel," said Right Rev. J. M. McKenzie of New Zealand's Presbyterian Church. He noted that the newest police recruit gets more than "a minister of our church who is on the minimum stipend."

Security for You

Count on Wife Living Years Longer

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

The average boy born today can expect to live about 67½ years, while a girl born at the same time can look forward to 73½ years. That's six years longer for the girls.

Perhaps, this doesn't surprise you. Maybe you've heard before that women are now outliving men by a number of years.

Maybe, if you're a man, you've even applied the statistics to you and your wife. And, maybe you've even bought life insurance because you figure you won't live as long as your wife and you want to make sure she has something to live on.

But, have you ever stopped to figure out just what Social Security will do for your wife if she should outlive you?

SUPPOSE YOU DIE

Suppose, for example, you and your wife are now 60 and your children are raised. And, suppose tomorrow you were to die.

If your widow were to visit a Social Security office, the people there would first check to see whether you were "fully" or currently" insured when you died.

To be "fully" insured, you generally must have worked under Social Security since 1936 an amount of time equal to at least half of the time between Jan. 1, 1950 and the time of your death. To be "currently" insured, you must have worked for at least 1½ of the last three years before your death.

* * *

If your Social Security record showed that you were either fully or currently insured, the Social Security people would immediately ask her to apply for a lump sum death payment.

This is a flat cash paid to a widow upon the death of an insured person. If there is no widow, then it may go to the person who paid the burial expenses.

The payment can range from $90 to $225. The exact amount is always three times the amount of the monthly payment the deceased person would have received had he lived to age 65—up to a maximum of $255.

IF FULLY INSURED

Then, if the record also showed that you were fully insured at the time of your death, the Social Security people would tell your wife to come back and apply for monthly payments when she reached 62.

That's the earliest possible age she could collect these payments, unless she were supporting a child under 18 or a disabled son or daughter over 18 who was disabled before reaching 18.

At 62, the minimum monthly payment she would receive could be $30, the maximum would be $81.40. The actual size of her payments would depend on how much you would have been eligible to receive had you lived to 65.

* * *

In any case, her payments would be three-fourths of whatever you would have been entitled to.

For example: Suppose at 65 you would have been eligible for the maximum Social Security monthly payment of $108.50. Your widow at 62 would be eligible for $81.40 or three quarters of $108.50.

Your wife would be eligible to continue to receive these payments until (1) she remarried (2) died, or (3) earned through working more money than the Social Security law will allow for her to continue to get the payments.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security", in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

Waterford Teacher to Be at Ceremony

A Waterford Township teacher will represent the state of Iowa at dedication ceremonies for the new Lois Lenski Library, Buffalo State Teachers College, Buffalo, N.Y., the Oakland County School Librarians Assn. revealed today.

Mrs. Celeste Frank, second grade teacher at Leggett School, Waterford Township, will be among those to present copies of Miss Lenski's books for youngsters to the library.

The author has written many books for youngsters based on regional research in several parts of the country. Mrs. Frank was teaching in Plymouth County, Iowa, when Miss Lenski gathered material there for one of her works.

UAW Investigator Eyes Ford Local

DEARBORN (INS)—An International United Auto Workers Union investigator today began to check charges of mishandling of funds made by a political foe of Ford Local 600 President Carl Stellato.

Paul Boatin made the complaint during the recent local election campaign. Boatin defeated Stellato's brother, Tony, for the presidency of the Local's Dearborn engine plant unit.

Stellato has brought charges against Boatin.

The Wayne County prosecutor's office yesterday questioned 18 engine unit members who signed a pamphlet circulated by Boatin during the campaign.

A union trial committee to hear Stellato's complaint against Boatin is expected to be selected next Sunday at a membership meeting of the engine unit.

Segregationists Picket Hotel

Talk by Mrs. Roosevelt at Israel Bond Rally Draws 500 Marchers

HOUSTON (AP) — Seven pickets favoring racial segregation marched outside a Houston hotel last night as Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt spoke at a "Bonds for Israel" rally of 500 persons.

Mrs. Roosevelt said she knew about them but she did not otherwise comment.

★ ★ ★

At a news conference earlier she said President Eisenhower had been "about as aggressive as a little meek rabbit" on civil rights.

Asked about a segregation suit now being tried in Houston, she said:

"I'm not a Texan. I'm not here to tell Texans what to do. Now, if you ask me what I believe — I believe in obeying the law."

Mrs. Roosevelt's secretary received a telegram, addressed to the former first lady, which said:

'Trains and planes are going each way. Goodbye Elinor, you've had your day."

It was signed: "The Texas Citizens' Council."

★ ★ ★

The same message, including the misspelling of Mrs. Roosevelt's first name, appeared on the placard carried by one of the seven pickets.

In her speech at the bond rally, Mrs. Roosevelt said "strengthening Israel is one of the ways to build peace in the Middle East."

She described the Eisenhower administration's policy in the Middle East as "negligent."

★ ★ ★

Elected to serve as president of the Women's Auxiliary to the Michigan Optometric Association was Mrs. F. Milton Hathaway, wife of Dr. F. Milton Hathaway, 98 E. Iroquois Rd. Also in attendance was Dr. James St. Louis of 3889 Lakewood Dr., Drayton Plains.

Two Small Girls Die Trapped in Icebox

CAMPBELL, N. Y. (AP)— Two young sisters suffocated inside an abandoned refrigerator yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The victims, Kathleen, 6, and Margie, 4, were two of the five children of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Taft.

The refrigerator had been left on the patio of the Taft's farm home, near this southwestern New York community.

Police said the interior showed signs of their struggle to free themselves.

Railway Plans to Build $7 Million Coal Pier

CLEVELAND (AP)—Vice President M. I. Dunn of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway says the railroad will build a 7 million dollar coal pier at Toledo, where three piers last year handled 17 million tons of coal for shipping on the Great Lakes.

The new pier is scheduled for completion in June of next year and will expand C. & O.'s coal-loading facilities at Toledo by 40 per cent, Dunn told a meeting of delegates to the National Federation of Financial Analysts Societies 10th annual convention yesterday.

Bill to Halt Farming at State Institutions

LANSING (AP) — The Legislature has virtually completed action on a directive to halt farming operations at state mental institutions effective Jan. 1, 1960.

Subject to agreement by the House to minor changes, the action specifically would force discontinuance of farming activities in Mental Health Department institutions at Kalamazoo, Coldwater, Ypsilanti, Lapeer, Mount Pleasant, Traverse City and Newberry.

Exceptions would be made of gardening, landscaping and fruit growing activities, plus swine raising at Lapeer.

Free Trade Advocated Between U.S., Canada

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Free Trade between the United States and Canada was urged yesterday in a Michigan Week Livelihood Day forum of business men and private citizens at Sault Ste. Marie.

Forum participants also proposed more basic technical training in Michigan high schools; construction of a new international bridge between the Michigan and Canadian sister cities of Sault Ste. Marie; development of more of the state's two-year junior college to four-year colleges; more financial aid to small Michigan industries and extensive research to determine industrial opportunities, particularly in the northern part of the state.

Spotlight Shines on Khrushchev

Red Party Secretary Gets More Attention in Russia

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The Soviet Union may still have a collective leadership in which all leaders are equal — but Nikita S. Khrushchev is getting more and more attention.

★ ★ ★

The first secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist party continues to get bigger and bigger space in Moscow newspapers. In the volume of his publicity he has completely eclipsed all the other members of the party Presidium — formerly the Politburo — put together.

Soviet citizens as they look at their press day after day can see speeches by Khrushchev, telegrams signed by Khrushchev, pictures of Khrushchev. The readers may wonder whether a new "personality cult" is growing in the Soviet Union to replace the condemned Stalin worship.

A number of Westerners who have met Khrushchev are convinced he does not want to occupy Stalin's shoes.

But some Western students of Soviet affairs consider that the Soviet totalitarian system will force him or someone else to become a new absolute ruler of the U.S.S.R. and world communism as well.

★ ★ ★

The Stalin cult grew up gradually after Lenin's death. It burst out in full flower only in 1929, five years later. For a long time Stalin carefully cultivated the concept that the Soviet leadership was "collective" and that he was only one among equals. When he began killing off his "equals" in the Politburo in the 30s, it became apparent what kind of equality he possessed.

Highway Department Audit to Be Asked

LANSING (AP)—John C. Mackie, Democratic highway commissioner-elect has announced he will ask for an audit of the books of the State Highway Department.

"I want to make it clear my decision to ask for the audit in no way reflects on the Highway Department's present personnel or the outgoing commissioner," Mackie said.

"However, I think it sound, businesslike procedure to get an accurate, independent appraisal of the department's financial condition."

Mackie said he reached the decision after a conference with Charles M. Ziegler, outgoing Republican highway commissioner, and auditor General Frank S. Szymanski, a fellow Democrat.

Mackie said outside certified public accountants will conduct a cash and inventory audit of the department in cooperation with the auditor general's staff.

Seek Smoking Burglar

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Police looked for a smoking, well-lit burglar after a service station was broken into here. Among the loot were 55 cartons of cigarettes, six boxes of cigars, eight flashlights and an electric razor.

2 Local Scout Units Plan to Attend 1957 Jamboree

Clinton Valley Council's National Jamboree leaders and Scouts met recently at Camp Agawam on Tommy's Lake to outline plans for the 1957 National Boy Scout Jamboree, scheduled at Valley Forge, Pa., July 7-21 and the Jamboree Campout June 23-23.

Don Milligan, local council training director for the jamboree, said 74 boys from the Northern Oakland and Macomb County area will be included in the gathering of 50,000 Boy Scouts expected to attend the jamboree.

The trip will include a two-day visit to Washington, D. C., and one day to New York City.

During the Camp Agawam meeting, exhibits of tents, dining shelters and patrol equipment were presented for inspection of the boys and parents.

PLAN TO ATTEND

The local group attending the jamboree will consist of two troops of 37 boys and three leaders each. Troop 5 will be led by Dr. Jack Bell, scoutmaster, and Floyd Cobb and Al Lyon, assistant scoutmasters.

Troop 6 will be headed by William Genottie, scoutmaster, and Reid Graham, and Everett Sherrick, assistants.

The June meeting at Camp Agawam, a three-day campout and work bee, will be so conducted as to give the Scouts experience in packing personal patrol and troop equipment. The boys also will practice preparing a campsite and setting up equipment.

Put Another Nickel In

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The local Assn. of Commerce parking and traffic committee hastily adjourned its meeting recently when the vice chairman announced that parking meters were about to expire. Discussion of what to do about increasing downtown parking facilities was postponed.

Identify Heart Victim

IRON RIVER (AP)—A scar from a recent operation helped authorities identify a man found dead of heart attack in a farm yard here Wednesday. Papers of the man's body showed only that name was Smith. Stambaugh General Hospital added the first name, John, age 72. Smith, a retired woodsman had undergone a hernia surgery there last month.

Russian Roulette Demonstration Fatal

MT. CLEMENS (AP)—A St. Clair Shores man died yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital of a bullet wound which he inflicted himself while showing his wife how to play "Russian roulette."

The victim of the accident was Arne I. Gustafson, 25. He had assured his wife the revolver was empty.

State House Passes Budget Cut Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed and sent to the Senate yesterday a bill making a token two per cent cut in its own 1958 budget and providing funds to continue work on a new 64-million-dollar House office building.

★ ★ ★

An attempt to eliminate 7½ million dollars for work on the new office building was defeated.

Voting to stop the building project were 29 Democrats and 147 Republicans. Voting to continue it were 172 Democrats and 34 Republicans.

★ ★ ★

The bill appropriated $37,827,705 for the House and about 40½ million for other legislative agencies. The Senate will add its own costs to the bill.

A change of South Africa's coinage to a decimal system is under study in Pretoria.

Urges Army Specify Detroit-Built Tanks

DETROIT (AP)—Sen. Potter (R-Mich) proposed yesterday that pending Army contracts with Chrysler Corp. for construction of M48 tanks specify they be built in the Detroit area.

Potter made this request in a letter to Army Secretary Brucker, former Republican governor of Michigan.

An aide to Potter said the contract has not been awarded but probably will go to Chrysler. He said Chrysler has not indicated where it will build the plant, which is expected to employ 1,500 persons.

Potter gave "areas of substantial labor surplus" in Michigan as the major reason for the request. He said 98,000, or 6.4 per cent of the labor force, is unemployed in the Detroit area.

A multi-million dollar oil search is part of India's second five year plan.

RIVERHEAD, N. Y. (AP)—Mrs. Florence English, 48, says her husband, Maurice, when he went to jail in 1934 for drunkenness, told her he'd phone as soon as he got out.

Mrs. English, in state Supreme Court said Maurice still hasn't called and petitioned to have her husband declared legally dead.

Justice David Kusnetz reserved decision.

Children's Snacks Need to Be Nutritious

The baseball season is just one reason appetites seem bigger after school. Wise homemakers will make these between meal snacks foods that add to the day's diet needs.

Cold refreshing milk, a piece of cheese, fruit juice, or a choice of fresh fruit will curb hunger and yet not detract from the dinner meal. Keep an extra supply of nutritious snacks for growing children, suggests the M. S. U. Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

Put Cookies Into Pudding

Old - fashioned pecan pudding with a brand new chocolate flavor is making welcome dessert news this spring. And it requires no chocolate at all! That surprise flavor accent in "Cookie - Crunch Pecan Pudding" is supplied by the cream-filled chocolate cookies used as a main ingredient. It's rich, crunchy and really delicious. Here's the easy way to make it:

"Cookie-Crunch Pecan Pudding"

⅓ cup butter or margarine

Monks Began Coffee Breaks — Centuries Ago

"Coffee breaks" began in the third century A.D. An Arabian Imam was having a miserable time making his Mohammedan monks stay awake during compulsory prayers at midnight.

When a local shepherd brought in coffee berries, complaining that his goats were not only capering, but even cavorting after consuming them, the Imam brewed the berries and served the liquid to his heavy-eyed hierophants. At once, the midnight monks were wide awake — and, so says legend, occurred the first "coffee break."

Too good to hide in a monastery, the populace was soon making a pastime of sipping bitter coffee in mosaic-tiled interiors. These were the first Arabian coffee houses, where a "coffee break" could last a whole afternoon — without censure.

Then the English soberly took up the "coffee break" in raftered oak sanctuaries, the French did it their way in cafes, and Italians took their "coffee break" outdoors on sunny piazzas. American employers were not keen on the "coffee break" when it arrived at work.

Why drink on our time? But as the improvement in work performance was observed, owing to a break with fatigue, stimulation, and a fresh start, the "coffee break" was encouraged by employers.

Employes take turns bringing coffee makings and brewing coffee for each other at factory, office and other places of work.

Hide Pineapple in Meat Balls

It's fun to serve an old favorite like meat balls dressed up in a new way. You'll find this recipe a perfect dish to offer for a buffet supper menu. The meat balls can be served in a candle warmer or chafing dish.

★ ★ ★

A pineapple stuffing gives a surprise flavor to the meat balls which are cooked in a mushroom sauce. It's an easy top-of-range ground beef dish — a good choice for lazy weather.

Pineapple Meat Balls

1 egg
1½ pounds of ground lean beef
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
½ cup of milk
1½ teaspoons salt
Dash pepper
12 pineapple chunks
Cooking oil
½ cup of mushrooms
1 cup of water
1 tablespoon flour

Beat egg lightly and blend with ground beef, crumbs, milk, salt and pepper. Drain pineapple chunks and form meat mixture into balls around each juicy piece of fruit, covering pineapple completely.

Brown meat balls on all sides in small amount of hot oil. Add the mushrooms and water, cover closely and cook slowly 20 to 30 minutes.

Thicken sauce with flour mixed in a smooth paste with a little cold water. Makes 6 servings.

Creamed green peas benefit from chervil. A quarter-teaspoon of the dried crushed herb will be about right for four servings.

EMPRESS CROQUETTES — Just the thing to use up the leftover ham from Easter. Chopped almonds and ham blend flavors in these golden-coated croquettes. Canned whole kernel corn completes the savory supper dish.

Whole Almond Tops Croquettes

Make the most of leftovers from your Easter ham by combining them with chopped blanched almonds in tempting golden-crusted ham croquettes. Besides acting as an extender for the meat, almonds add flavor and mellow the sharp tanginess of the ham.

Now that canned almonds are available already blanched, you can use them as a time-saving ingredient in many quick dishes. Like the other nuts in this popular new line, they come vacuum-packed in handy one cup cans that are resealable.

Try serving these savory croquettes with canned whole kernel corn—it's plentiful and a good buy right now, as well as a favorite flavor accompaniment for ham.

Empress Croquettes

½ stick (¼ cup) margarine or butter
¼ cup flour
1 cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1/16 teaspoon cayenne pepper
2 cups finely chopped cooked ham
½ cup vacuum-packed blanched almonds, finely chopped
1 egg
1 tablespoon water
Flour
Fine dry bread crumbs

Melt margarine or butter. Stir in flour to make a smooth paste. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook until sauce thickens, about 2 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in seasonings, ham, and almonds. Chill in refrigerator until easy to shape, at least 1 hour.

Shape mixture into tall cones. Beat egg with water. Dip croquettes in flour, then in egg mixture and lastly in bread crumbs. Fry in deep hot fat (385 degrees on deep fat thermometer) until golden brown, about 1 minute. Drain thoroughly on absorbent paper. Makes 6 croquettes.

To serve, arrange croquettes in a Royal fashion—in a crown-like circle with cooked corn filling in the spaces.

Mother-to-Be Misses Shower in Her Honor

MAYSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. James Williams, a mother-to-be, couldn't attend a shower in her honor.

An hour before the party, she was rushed to the hospital where she became a mother-as-of-now.

The sale of Brazilian coffee accounts for more than 57 per cent of the total annual export market.

Fruit and Fowl Are Elegant

Fried chicken is a favorite fare at family and company meals. For truly party food, fried chicken is made most elegant by the addition of grapefruit and orange sections, as well as pineapple and coconut, during the last portion of the cooking period.

Ambrosia Fried Chicken

1 frying chicken, cut up
1 cup flour
3 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons paprika
½ cup (¼ pound) butter
1 grapefruit, peeled and sectioned
1 orange, peeled and sectioned
1 cup crushed pineapple
½ cup shredded or flaked coconut

Dip chicken pieces into mixture of flour, salt, pepper and paprika. Melt butter in a shallow baking pan in a hot oven (400 degrees F.). Remove baking pan from oven.

As pieces of floured chicken are placed in pan, turn to coat with butter, and lay pieces skin side down in a single layer. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F). for 30 minutes. Turn chicken and cover with combined fruit and coconut. Bake another 30 minutes or until fork-tender.

Note: A No. 303 can of orange and grapefruit sections may be substituted for the fresh citrus fruit.

Oven-Fried Fish Moist, Tender

A method of fish cookery which produces a fine crust on the outside of the fish and tender, moist, flaky meat on the inside is known both as "oven frying" and the "Spencer Method." It seems that this method of baking fish at high temperatures was developed years ago by a Government food expert named Spencer.

Although this preparation may be used with any form of fish, it works best with fillets, steaks and little fish, such as butterfish, sunfish and sand dabs. An easy way of preparing fish, it's practically fool-proof—just so you're careful not to burn the fish, warns the National Fisheries Institute.

Oven Fried Fish Fillets

2 pounds frozen fish fillets
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon paprika
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 cup bread crumbs
1 cup milk
4 tablespoons melted butter or other fat

Let fillets thaw. Cut into serving-size pieces. Add seasonings to bread crumbs. Dip the fish in milk and roll in crumbs. Place in a well-greased baking pan. Pour melted fat over fish.

Place pan on shelf near the top of a very hot oven (500 degrees) and bake 10 to 12 minutes, or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serve immediately on a hot platter, plain or with a sauce. Makes six servings.

Shares Idea of Fish Chowder

Brazilian cookery uses fish to a great extent, shrimp being one of their particular favorites. Decorate your table tonight with a Brazilian air. You can very easily by utilizing the handy cans of condensed soup from your pantry shelf, fresh or canned shrimp, and flourishes of peanuts or brazil nuts and coconut.

★ ★ ★

Serve the delectable chowder from a large impressive tureen, into large impressive soup plates. You'll be glad you tried this one!

Brazilian Style Chowder

1 pound raw shrimp (or two 5 ounces cans)
1 can (1¼ cups) beef broth
2 cans (1¼ cups each) clam chowder
2 soup cans water
½ cup chopped peanuts (or Brazil-nuts)
½ cup tender-thin flaked coconut
Few drops Tabasco sauce

Shell and devein shrimp. Set aside. Combine all ingredients in a large saucepan. Cover; heat. Add shrimp, simmer 3 to 5 minutes, or until tender. Makes 8 servings. If canned shrimp is used, cook only until heated through.

STUFFED POTATOES CREOLE — Season stuffed potatoes with crumbled rosemary leaves and white pepper. Garnish with gay red paprika and you have a dish that tastes and looks like a "company special."

Stuffed Potatoes Creole Tinted Pink With Paprika

Radiant red paprika is to all light colored foods what lipstick is to a glamour girl's face—a bright focal point of allure, a cosmetic in spice. And, since psychologists tell us that the joy of eating starts with the seeing, such eye-appeal plays a big part in any meal's success.

★ ★ ★

In Latin-speaking countries, paprika is sometimes called "pimenton," which derives from the word "pigmentum." The culinary artist who learns to "paint" color accents on foods with this glowing pigment-spice will never serve a dull dish.

★ ★ ★

Paprika's clear brilliant red enlivens all sorts of potato and egg dishes, cottage cheese and creamed soups and sauces. It adds lift when dashed over a green salad, or when the curly lettuce leaves surrounding the salad have been dipped in its gay red. Mixed into a gelatine salad, paprika can tinge it any rosy shade from pale peach-blush for fruit salads to deep pink for shrimp or salmon molds. Stirred into the batter of fried chicken it makes for a rich toasty golden color.

★ ★ ★

One of the joys of using sweet paprika is that there's little danger of overusing it. It's flavor, though distinctively delicious, with a slightly fruity quality, is so delicate that even when ladled on in lavish quantities it will always complement, never overpower, the flavors of companion foods.

Stuffed Potatoes Creole

6 baking potatoes
1 medium green pepper, diced
1 medium onion, diced
½ cup butter or margarine
1 medium tomato, diced
1 to 2 tablespoons milk
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon ground white pepper
1 teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon crumbled whole rosemary leaves
Paprika for garnish

Wash potatoes. Dry. Bake in a preheated hot oven (400 degrees) 1 hour or until done. In the meantime, saute green pepper and onion in 3 tablespoons of the butter or margarine until onion is limp. Add tomato and cook 1 minute longer.

★ ★ ★

Scoop out potato centers, leaving shells intact. Add milk and seasonings and mash well. Blend in sauted vegetables. Fill shells with mixture and dot tops with remaining butter or margarine.

Bake in a preheated hot oven (400 degrees) 20 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

Pea beans, sometimes called Navy beans, are white in color and the smallest size of any bean. It's the pea bean that is usually used in beans baked with pork or baked vegetarian style.

Practically all fish varieties benefit from the addition of butter or margarine or oil during cooking.

Horseradish Is Unusual Top for Meat Loaf

1 egg
1 cup milk

Sift together flour, Baking Powder, salt, and sugar. Cut in shortening until mixture is fine. Blend in nut meats, lemon rind, and raisins. Beat egg and milk together. Add all at once to dry ingredients; stir until flour mixture is just dampened. Spoon batter into a greased and floured 8½ x 4½ x 2½-inch loaf pan. Bake in a 325° F. (slow) oven about 1 hour. Cool thoroughly. Bread is better stored 24 hours before slicing.

Cheese Comes in Books

Cheese has gone romantic! A leading California cheese company is marketing its products in a folding carton designed as a book, which opens to disclose a brief history of cheese.

The body of the book holds three foil-lined cartons, each of which contains a different flavor of cheese. The book-carton makes an attractive gift for lovers of good food and can also serve as an introduction to the pleasant savor of various cheeses.

Your fish chowder will taste particularly good if you add a small chopped carrot to it along with the usual onion. Season with parsley and thyme.

Look Over Canned Meat Selections This Week

Does this week's marketing include special plans for the Memorial holiday? Then at current prices, smoked and canned ham, turkey, fryers, cold cuts, franks and canned luncheon meats rate your consideration. Larger quantities of Michigan asparagus, potatoes and cabbage in the fresh vegetable department score high in economy along with several canned choices.

Strawberries are the number one attraction in fruits whether you select fresh or frozen. Deviled eggs can be an inexpensive treat at 39 to 49 cents a dozen, the average price this week.

MEATS — If you want convenience and no cooking, perhaps canned ham will be one of this week's meat choices. You'll pay from seventeen to over twenty-five cents a serving for it according to the size you choose. The larger the size, the lower the price per serving. Expect 4 servings from each pound. Canned ham should be refrigerated—so remember this before and after you select one.

Unless smoked ham is to be eaten immediately after it is cooked, cool it and refrigerate it. Then keep it cold until ready to serve. Keep the holiday happy by following safe food serving practices.

The small Beltsville type turkeys weighing from 4 to 9 pounds suggest more ways of using it than the usual roasting. Has your family enjoyed fried turkey? The small ones under 5 pounds are tender and more meaty than fryers.

Read directions on cans of canned meats, then follow these when storing it. Easy sandwiches for quick picnic plans are always at your fingertips when extra canned corned beef, luncheon meat or other canned meats are in the pantry.

Even though ground meat is higher it is one of the most economical choices when price per serving is considered. Barbecued hamburgers are a favorite, but have you tried barbecued cubes of chuck? Or a barbecued rib-end loin roast? All three will fit most holiday budgets.

VEGETABLES — Let it rain, but let it shine, too. Five hundred new acres of asparagus in Michigan this year mean plenty for all, but the total production depends upon the weather during the growing season. You will find more home-grown asparagus this week, but a few warm days will mean bigger supplies.

With the plentiful supply of potatoes enjoy them daily. The new potatoes do not bake well, but you can use them in salads, mashed, in casseroles and other ways.

Cabbage is slightly higher this week, but it still is one of the low cost vegetables. Hothouse cucumbers from neighboring Canada are adding to those shipped from Florida. You'll find quite a variation in price.

Canned vegetable sales of peas, corn, peaches, apricots and juice may attract you, if you have cool storage space.

FRUITS — The large dark red strawberries packed in pints are from California. The lighter colored quarts are southern berries. Actually, you get more weight and berries when choosing the medium size. But you will need to decide which is more important to you—more berries or more flavor. If your family can use frozen strawberries, 39 cents for 10-ounces is an appealing price any time of the year.

Fresh pineapple, bananas, and strawberries is a seasonal combination for salad, fruit cup, or dessert.

EGGS — Low in calories, high in protein value, low in cost sums up the egg situation. Buy-wise, choose the large size at this season. Grade A quality is the wise choice for frying, poaching and hard-cooking.

Try Sour Cream Ideas for Gourmet Dishes

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

It was said by members of her family that my grandmother used to eat sour cream with a spoon. She would sweeten it with a bit of sugar first. Whether she used it in cooking I don't know. But as a youngster I thought her taste a little peculiar. Now I know better.

In a government leaflet issued about fifteen years ago directions are given for preparing your own sour cream in case you aren't able to buy it. It is so easy to obtain now that few people will be interested in making their own. (Call me if you want the recipe.)

One of the most popular sour cream meat dishes is Beef Stroganoff. Easily made with either round or sirloin steak, it is an excellent buffet dish. We had it recently and thoroughly enjoyed it.

Beef Stroganoff

1 lb. sirloin or round steak ¼" thick
1 clove garlic, peeled and cut
2 tablespoons flour
1¾ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon paprika
¼ cup shortening
½ cup finely cut onion
1 can consomme (1¼ cups)
½ cup water
1 lb. fresh mushrooms, sliced
½ cup sour cream
2 tablespoons chives, cut fine

Rub both sides of meat with garlic, then cut into strips 1½" x 1". Mix flour, salt, pepper, and paprika; add meat strips and toss lightly until strips are well coated with flour. Reserve remaining mixture.

Heat shortening in heavy skillet. Add meat and brown well, then add onions and continue cooking until onions are transparent . . . Add remaining flour mixture, consomme, water and mushrooms . . . Cover and cook slowly until meat is tender (about 1½ hrs.), stirring occasionally; then remove cover and continue cooking until mixture is slightly thickened.

Add sour cream and chives and blend . . . served with boiled broad noodles or mashed potatoes . . . Makes 4-5 servings.

Many restaurants serve sour cream with baked potatoes. They whip it, add some chopped chives and put a dollop on the opened potato just before serving.

Fruit and sour cream are a good combination. Try serving this dressing on your next fruit salad:

Mix a fourth cup of pineapple juice and 1½ teaspoons of lemon juice with a fourth teaspoon of salt and a tablespoon of sugar. Add half a cup of sour cream, and stir until the mixture's smooth. The ingredients make about three-fourths of a cup of dressing.

In the summer cucumbers in sour cream are delightful as a salad. At any time of the year a Sour Cream Cucumber Sauce is perfect on fish.

Sour Cream Cucumber Sauce

½ cup sour cream whipped
2 small cucumbers
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons vinegar
Few drops of Tabasco sauce

Pare and put the cucumbers in iced water to stand for an hour or two. Wipe them, then chop fine and drain. Add the seasonings to whipped cream and just before serving stir in the cucumbers. This sauce is especially good over hot or cold salmon or other fish.

Sour cream can be used in cake frosting or filling. The frosting should be good on chocolate cake.

Sour Cream Frosting

2 tablespoons sour cream
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1½ cups confectioners sugar
Dash of salt
¼ teaspoon vanilla

Cream butter or margarine, add sugar and mix until thoroughly blended and smooth. Add cream, salt and vanilla and beat well. This quantity of frosting will frost a two-layer cake.

Prune Filling

1 cup sour cream whipped
2 cups cooked prunes, drained
4-5 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Dash of salt

Remove pits from the prunes and chop fine. Add sugar, lemon juice and salt. Fold into whipped cream. Chill and use as a cake filling or topping for a sponge cake.

A little leaflet put out by a dairy company suggests this recipe for sour cream.

Devonshire Strawberry Cream Pie

1 cup sliced fresh strawberries
3 tablespoons sugar
1 package strawberry gelatin
1 cup boiling water
½ cup cold water
1 cup sour cream
½ teaspoon almond extract
Vanilla crumb crust—nine inch

Combine strawberries and sugar; chill. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add cold water. Stir dissolved gelatin gradually into sour cream. Add almond extract.

Beat gelatin-cream mixture with a rotary beater until smooth; chill until it begins to thicken. Add sweetened strawberries; fold in gently. Pour mixture into crumb shell. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Fix Super-Duper Cookies

Homemade cookies — you can't beat 'em! But if there's no time for baking, here's a trick to add delicious homemade flavor to store-bought chocolate and ginger wafers, and quickly, too! Just add 1 tablespoon of real New Orleans molasses to fudge frosting mix and spread a thick layer between 2 cookies, sandwich-fashion. Turns ice cream or a simple fruit dessert into party fare!

Beets Baked a La Orange

Everyone likes bright color in his food. Even before you can say, "that salad is the best ever," it has had to look appetizing enough for you to want a bite.

There are many foods today which add gay color to your favorite recipes. Beets is certainly one of these. Shoestring Beets combined in a tossed salad add a bright touch of color and a delightful flavor.

★ ★ ★

Baked Sliced Beets topped with an Orange Juice sauce is an excellent combination and one you'll want to try.

Baked Sliced Beets

1 can (1 lb.) sliced beets, drained
2 tablespoons flour
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup orange juice

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Place the beets in a buttered one-quart baking dish.

Combine the flour, sugar, salt, and orange juice. Pour over the sliced beets. Dot the beets with butter or margarine and place a tight cover on the dish. Bake the beets about 30 minutes.

Northern Ireland's new "Savings Commandos" in Belfast are not young men in khaki uniforms and green berets, but four middleaged women who spend two days a week organizing groups to expand the Ulster Savings Movement.

Try Sherry on Fruit

Fresh fruits are outstanding desserts, and when you serve raspberries, huckleberries, strawberries and other fruits, try steeping them for half an hour or so in equal parts of maple syrup and Spanish sherry, either a nutty amontillado or sweet oloroso or cream. Top with grated lemon or orange rind and serve with glasses of amontillado or oloroso.

Per capita coffee consumption in the U. S. amounts to 19 pounds per year.

Dressed poultry is the term usually used for birds that have been killed and bled, have had their feathers removed and have been chilled or frozen.

Cut vegetables into pieces of equal size so they will cook uniformly in the same length of time.

Three Layered Meat Loaf Is Unusual

Hamburger doesn't have to be made into patties and eaten as a sandwich to have a wonderful flavor that will please youngsters and oldsters alike. For example, meat loaf is rated as tops by many people.

You probably have your own favorite way of making meat loaf. But have you ever tried stuffed meat loaf? You have? Well, what about double-stuffed?

Double-stuffed meat loaf gets the "double" from the fact that bread crumbs (dry) are added to the meat, as Stuffing Number One; and then Number Two a layer of sage stuffing is put between two layers of the ground beef-bread crumb mixture.

Of course, with both, you may want to add a few things: a couple of beaten eggs, some chopped onion and maybe some tomato juice to the ground beef. And some melted fat, sage, grated onion, and perhaps you'd like tomato juice as the moistener in the center stuffing.

Bake this three-layer loaf for about an hour and a half at 300 degrees.

Springtime soup drink for a crowd can be whipped up — or whirled up — ahead of time and kept "at the ready" in the refrigerator. Use equal parts of canned condensed cream of chicken soup and milk, blend or beat to a froth, then serve from a pitcher or a punch bowl. Good with ginger cookies.

ADD ZEST — Two or more vegetables served with interesting sauces will add zest to meals. Broccoli served with a creamy smooth celery cheese sauce and whole kernel corn with lemon butter are an interesting as well as colorful vegetable combination.

Sauces Add Zest to Any Vegetable

If your family is bored with vegetables, perhaps a combination of several with taste tempting sauces will pique their enthusiasm. Unusual flavor additions to a medium cream sauce offers many opportunities for variety. Pimiento, chives, green peppers, capers, mushrooms, curry as well as the more familiar cheese are just a few flavor variations.

A well seasoned cheese sauce with slightly cooked, crunchy celery will give good texture as well as flavor contrast to broccoli. The milk and cheese will add valuable milk nutrients to the whole family's food needs. For flavor contrast serve a lemon butter sauce on whole kernel corn — it gives a sweet, tart, buttery flavor unexpected on corn.

Celery Cheese Sauce

3 tablespoons butter
½ cup chopped celery
3 tablespoons flour
1½ cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper, optional
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ pound sharp cheese, cubed

Melt butter in saucepan. Add celery and cook over low heat until tender but not soft. Stir in flour. Remove from heat. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly and cook until sauce is smooth and thickened. Remove from heat.

Add remaining ingredients and stir until cheese is melted. Makes about 3 cups of sauce. Serve over broccoli, asparagus or other vegetables.

Lemon Butter Sauce

¼ pound butter
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Melt butter over very low heat. Remove from heat. Blend in lemon juice and serve immediately on hot vegetables. Make about ½ cup sauce. Enough for 8 servings of vegetables. Serve over corn, asparagus, broccoli or spinach.

No One Will Ever Guess

Waffled Bread Sticks are certain to pop the question, "How did you make them?" It's easy. Remove crusts from enriched bread slices. Spread both sides of bread with mayonnaise. Toast in hot waffle iron until brown. Cut into thin strips about 6 from each slice.

Lamb and Potatoes Roasted a la Greek

The Greeks not only had a name for it, but they had a dish for it, according to the Daughters of Penelope at Worcester, Massachusetts. This is their ancestral way of roasting lamb with potatoes.

6 pound leg of lamb
1 teaspoon of tomato paste
6 potatoes
1 onion chopped fine

Dilute the tomato paste in hot water until it forms a liquid. To this, add a cup of cold water. Wash the roast with warm water and season to taste.

★ ★ ★

Pour the tomato sauce over it, cover the pan and roast for about two hours in a 400 degree oven. Baste frequently, adding hot water if the sauce tends to disappear, and gradually reduce the heat if necessary.

While the roast is cooking, peel and slice the potatoes. Parboil for 10 minutes in salted water, adding a chopped onion as they start to boil.

★ ★ ★

Two brown evenly, the roast should be turned several times. After two hours, uncover the pan, add the potatoes and onion (garlic if wanted) and cook slowly for another hour.

Haddock Dinner Ready to Serve

Don't wait until Friday to serve fish. Your market now carries wonderfully convenient, appetizing frozen haddock dinners, completely prepared and ready to pop in the oven. They're so easy, so good; you'll be serving these fish dinners any day of the week.

Sea-fresh and succulent filet of haddock is enveloped in an expertly seasoned golden cream sauce, subtle enough for the delicate flavor of the fish. The accompanying vegeables, garden peas and fluffy mashed potatoes, make this a completely delicious and satisfying dinner.

Best part for you is that there's absolutely no fuss or bother. After just 20 minutes in the oven, your haddock dinners are ready to be devoured. There's no work before, no clean-up after!

Fish Dinner Extras. You may want to flatter your fish dinner with a special salad, relish, hot bread, fruit dessert or white wine. Here are a few suggestions worth considering:

★ ★ ★

A tangy salad. Marinate grapefruit sections and thinly sliced small white onions in French dressing for an hour or more. Serve on half an avocado. Sprinkle with dill, celery seed.

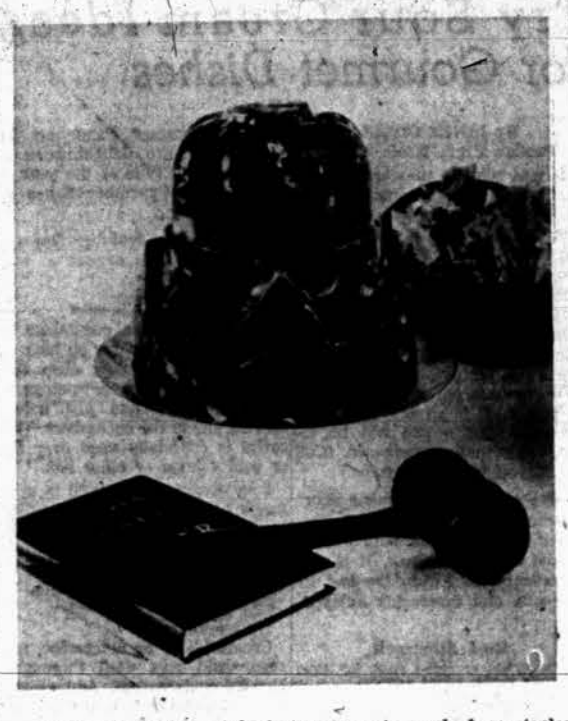

A spicy relish—could be crisp raw vegetable sticks, sweet or sour pickles, pickle relish, pickled watermelon rind, preserved kumquats, chutney, spiced peaches or pickled beets as an accompaniment to the fish.

A fruit dessert — for the grand finale, consider a compote of fruit, fruit sherbet, individual frozen fruit pies, strawberries with sour cream, fresh fruit with cheese.

Try Cheese-Tunaburgers

Tunaburgers are as tasty and juicy as beefburgers done up in this fashion: combine a 7-ounce can drained tuna, ¼ cup diced celery, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, ¼ teaspoon salt, dash pepper and 3 tablespoons mayonnaise; mix well. Split 6 round buns and butter each half. On one half place ¾ cup tuna mixture. On top half lay a slice of Swiss cheese. Set on baking sheet and broil under moderate heat about 5 minutes. Replace tops and serve.

Seasoned with salt, ground black pepper and ground dill seed, cottage cheese balls rolled in paprika make a delightful accompaniment to fresh fruit or vegetable salads.

CHICKEN ASPIC — A basic tomato aspic, made from staples on the pantry shelf, enfolds canned chicken or turkey bits and raw vegetables. Perfect for a springtime luncheon menu, this salad will appeal especially to women.

Luncheon Ladies Love Chicken Molded in Aspic

Around conference tables, in meeting halls and in the homes of members, American Club women work together on professional, social and civic interests. Now as club terms near the summer recess, members are holding luncheons to end their work program with a social event. And getting the popular vote is chicken aspic as the main course.

For the hostess who will be entertaining club members or serving one dish at a cooperative luncheon, chicken aspic is a popular main dish. It is also easy to make with pantry shelf staples. The basic mixture uses canned condensed consomme and canned tomato juice.

Canned boned chicken is also instantly ready. Unflavored gelatine gives form and beauty of design to the main dish, and blends together the chicken, consomme, tomato and seasonings.

This jellied chicken dish can be made in one large decorative mold, or the gelatine mixture can be chilled in 8 to 12 individual molds.

Tomato-Chicken Salad Mold

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed consomme
1 can (17½ ounces) tomato juice
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
2 cans (5 ounces each) boned chicken or turkey, diced
1 cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped cucumber
¼ cup chopped stuffed olives

Sprinkle gelatine on 1 cup of the consomme to soften. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatine is thoroughly dissolved. Add remaining consomme, tomato juice, salt, lemon juice and Tabasco. Chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white.

★ ★ ★

Fold in diced chicken, celery, cucumber and olives. Turn into a 6-cup mold; chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens; 8 servings.

Lard Has Many Uses

Did you ever stop to count the number of ways a shortening is used in meal preparation? In baking it is used for pies, tarts, cakes, cookies, cream puffs, biscuits, bread and rolls. For frying, lard is used in the preparation of croquettes, doughnuts, fritters, eggs, French-fried potatoes, and meat to name just a few. Lard is an economical shortening, too.

Never Mind Peeling 'Em

Why not dare to be different? by leaving peelings on well scrubbed potatoes. Use them this way for French fries or scalloping, suggests the Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. This way the family can benefit from the minerals that are usually lost when potatoes are peeled.

Either whole milk or nonfat dry milk solids may be used in the dry state for making breads and other baked goods.

Rumor Says Yes—to French Model

Aly Khan to Marry Again?

By International News Service

Prince Aly Khan, unlike many a wealthy Moslem potentate, has taken his brides one after another and always after they had been married to other men.

And now the middle aged devotee of wine, women and fine horse flesh reportedly is getting ready to wed a third wife, French fashion model Bettina, former wife of a newspaperman.

For virtually all his 46 years, Aly Khan has lived as a playboy in the "make believe" world of international cafe society.

He is called "prince," but he isn't a prince. He is only the eldest son and possible heir of the 80-year-old Aga Khan, spiritual leader and tithe taker of some 16 million members of the Ismailia Moslem sect.

His peregrinations may have ruled him out from inheriting his father's religious power and huge fortune, for the Ismailia sect frowns on Christian women as wives, and alcoholic beverages as drink.

Actually Aly is half Italian, the son of the Aga Khan and his first bride, Theresa Magleano.

'GREAT LOVER' AT 23

He went to school in Switzerland, grew up on the Riviera, and by 1934, when he was just 23, was being called a "great lover" by newspapers.

The next year he was named co-respondent in a divorce suit filed by the Hon. Loel Guinness against his wife, Joan. The suit was granted and Joan became Aly Khan's wife. They had two racing stables and two sons, and stayed married for 12 years.

Meanwhile, he served during World War II with the French in Syria, later with the British Army. He received a U.S. bronze star for work in France.

WED RITA HAYWORTH

At the war's end he separated from Joan, was divorced and in 1949 wed Margarita Cansino, otherwise known as Rita Hayworth and the ex-Mrs. Orson Welles. They had one daughter. Rita got a Reno divorce in 1953.

Since then Aly has raced his horses and been seen with varied lovelies, but mostly with "Bettina," now 30, and the daughter of a French railway employe.

Yesterday Aly Khan, a resident of Geneva, Switzerland, got a solid, legal divorce from Miss Hayworth. He starts selling his collection of old paintings, worth about $170,000, today.

He said he was selling to finance his racing stable. Others said it was to finance his forthcoming marriage.

Rosemary will receive a bachelor of science degree in biology and a secondary teaching certificate. She is treasurer of her class and president of the campus chapter of Lambda Iota Tau. Katherine Ann will graduate from the Division of Nursing, St. Joseph Unit, and is secretary of her graduating class.

Range From Lofty Elegance to Gay Informality

Personalities of Fashion Salons Vary

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

New York's fashion salons have personalities, just like the designers who inhabit them.

★ ★ ★

Take the Christian Dior salon, for instance. Elegantly located at Fifth Avenue and 57th Street, it retains all the atmosphere of its Parisian original. Here editors, buyers and private customers arriving for the opening of a new collection always wear their very best suits and hats and instinctively speak in hushed voices.

Here all announcements of garment names are given the French pronunciation. Here haughty and emaciated models whiz by with noses in the air. Like well-trained soldiers they keep their eyes straight ahead, pirouette with military precision and never, never crack a smile.

When Dior himself is present there is an air of hushed excitement, and one feels that a royal flag should be flown.

★ ★ ★

Quite different is the showroom of Vera Maxwell, an all-American girl who started out modeling riding habits and never has lost her love of casual tweeds and outdoor clothes. The beaming Miss Maxwell is likely to appear in sweater and skirt, and her youthful assistants interrupt the showing at any moment to rush in with an armful of suits or coats.

★ ★ ★

An opening at Oleg Cassini's showroom is more like a Broadway first night, except that it's in the afternoon and there's only one star with speaking lines — the irreverent Cassini himself. The models never know whether they're going to be greeted with raucous laughter or wolf whistles, but they take either in stride.

★ ★ ★

A millinery showing by Mr. John always is unpredictable, and unfailingly entertaining, as the impresario, in Napoleonic pose and haircut, explains his extravaganzas of headgear in sometimes worshipful, sometimes cutting terms.

Then there's hat designer Sally Victor, who is as informal as Mr. John is flamboyant, and who is likely to step up to the microphone and say, "Gee whiz, kids, I had a speech all ready, but I just can't remember it. Anyway, here comes a hat."

★ ★ ★

There's a cathedral atmosphere at a Mainbocher showing, and the designer never appears until after it is all over, sometimes not even then. Ice water is served.

Washington Womenfolk Aid Charity

Promote Projects for Betterment of Community

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — The instinct to promote the welfare of youth, aid the handicapped and better the community in which they find themselves, is common among thoughtful women no matter how far they are from home.

This is exemplified in the nation's capital where last year wives of government bigwigs and diplomats joined in raising an estimated $200,000 for local philanthropic and charity interests.

Not only do they write checks; more importantly, they give of themselves and their precious time.

They attend meetings faithfully. They put on benefits — parties, tours, bazaars, fashion shows, concerts and theatrical performances. They visit homes and institutions, and they personally contact young people to help them get ahead in the world.

The Washington Chapter of the Society of Arts and Letters, for instance, has awarded 100 scholarships to students in the fields of voice, instrumental music, art, ballet, modern dance and literature in the 13 years since its formation.

DOZEN AWARDS

At their recent annual benefit—whose list of prominent sponsors was headed by Mamie Eisenhower — a dozen awards were presented by hostess-philanthropist Mrs. Merriweather Post.

Mrs. Ferando Berckemeyer, wife of the Peruvian ambassador, opened the embassy for the affair.

Most of these distinguished ladies are interested in more than one such group. Mrs. Post's benefactions are legion especially in the field of music opportunities for youth.

Mrs. George Humphrey, wife of the secretary of the treasury, actively supports a number of groups interested in young people.

She is especially interested in the National Speech Clinic Foundation which helps handicapped persons in the Washington area.

It's Easier to Exercise With Group

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I often have called your attention to the fact that it is so much easier to exercise if you have company. As a result, many women have written that they have formed a small exercise group among neighbors. In one instance two friends and neighbors had exercised together each morning for years.

"Misery loves company." This lonely-looking little lady is all set to do her exercises but she wishes for a partner to make it more enjoyable.

It is so much more fun, in fact it takes the labor out of figure-molding exercises if you can compare progress charts with others. A few rhythmic records also will make the whole endeavor more pleasant. Exercises fit into four-four times, two-four time and waltz time.

I also have suggested that women in the home, especially those whose children are grown, take advantage of the many adult education courses now available in many cities. This is a wonderful way to develop individual interests even when your children are young, if you can manage it.

Personal activities, studies and hobbies acquired through these years will act as a bulwark against boredom and distress when the mother who has been so busy suddenly finds herself with too much leisure.

I think you will be interested in a quote from a letter which has recently come to me. This reader says:

"The physical fitness course our adult education program offers is wonderful! It not only helps us lose those unwanted inches but helps us forget temporarily our household and home duties, revives us mentally, and in short, is lots of fun.

"Our adult education gym classes give us reducing exercises, volleyball and cage ball. While we are laughing, joking and participating in these events, we are toning up our muscles and reducing.

"I had lost inches all over by following the exercises you sent me but 'misery loves company' and this is a nice way to have company while losing inches. This gives one a new perspective. I plan to take several other courses this fall.

"I must add, too, that it is fun shopping now in my home town stores because I invariably meet one or two new friends from my gym class. It is nice to have new friends to say 'hello' to."

New friends always are stimulating. Those women who are lonely and do not have many friends would be wise to join groups of this sort. It would broaden their horizons and interests.

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have my short daily routine of exercise, planned especially for women to use with a neighborhood group or by yourself, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 19. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Long Words Considered Pretentious

Reader Objects to College Graduate's Showing Off

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "I have a friend who is a college graduate and tries to impress everyone with her knowledge of the English language by using long words when shorter ones would do just as well. I think it is very pretentious and not in good taste. I would very much like your opinion on this."

Answer: It is true that shorter words are in best taste, especially those of Saxon origin. This does not mean, however, that one can't use long words, but merely that to reach out for a long word instead of a shorter one certainly would seem to be showing off.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please say something in your column to the theatergoers who go out during intermission for a cigarette and return after the lights have gone out and the performance has resumed.

"I find this habit most annoying and lacking in consideration for others. Nine times out of ten it is done by people who should know better."

Answer: There is no act that is more inconsiderate than not going back to your seats when you are notified that the curtain is about to go up. It is not only very disagreeable to the people in the audience to have someone stand between you and the stage, but it is very upsetting to the actors.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a middle-aged woman is seated at a party and a woman guest arrives who is a stranger to her and she is brought over and introduced to her, is it necessary that she rise from her chair to acknowledge this introduction?"

Answer: It depends on how it happens. If, after being introduced, the lady stands talking to her, then she has to rise. If the newcomer merely bows to her, she doesn't have to rise.

Distribute Your Weight It's Not So Hard to Diet

Weight distribution is important to a pretty figure. It's the reason why two women of the same height and weight can look totally different.

One may appear overweight (or scrawny) while the other is nicely proportioned.

The difference in the two is the way in which the weight is distribufed and, of course, the bony structure of the body.

One woman, at 115 pounds, may have a good deal of her weight concentrated about her hips. The other may have slim hips and waist but heavy thighs and legs.

★ ★ ★

The only way to control weight distribution is through exercise. It must be the kind of exercise that is concentrated on the spots that need it most.

To this, add the all-over exercise of walking, swimming or tennis for muscle tone and the feel and look of health.

To speed ironing on washday, damp-dry lightweight articles first and start ironing while other loads are drying.

Do Work You Love After Retiring

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There's an old saying to the effect that all general statements are wrong—including this one.

★ ★ ★

Just the same, I can't resist the temptation to make a general statement, especially when it comes to the subject of retirement and retirement projects.

This for example:

If you have loved your job all of your working life, then when retirement comes you should figure a way to continue it, perhaps on a part-time basis.

But if you have hated your job all of your working life, plan a drastic change for your retirement project.

"But," people will sometimes say, "it's awfully hard for an oldster to change."

MOTIVE IS STRONG

Actually, if they have hated their job all those years, the motive is plenty strong. They're apt to bring to the new field such zest, pep and enthusiasm that they succeed very quickly.

★ ★ ★

That's how it was with Mr. L. R. whose wife wrote me recently.

"My husband is just wonderful," she began. "He is 67 years old, in perfect health and he has a part-time project which is very successful.

"In fact, he could expand it to full-time if he wanted to, but we'd rather have the time to relax and have fun.

★ ★ ★

"We're all so happy for him because, for years, he was really miserable.

DISLIKED SELLING

"You see," she went on, "my husband began as a salesman when we were first married. He didn't like it much, but jobs were not too easy to get then so he took it 'for the time being.'

★ ★ ★

"Well, along came our family and one thing and another, and the years went by. We soon had so many obligations that he couldn't give up the job he knew for one he didn't know.

"He was just wonderful," she continued. "He never complained and he did reasonably well.

"But I always knew his heart wasn't in it. He is not really an extroverted sales type. Also, his real interest is in mechanical things. He used to putter around after work, repairing things, taking them apart and putting them together again.

★ ★ ★

"After he retired, he read up on watch repairing which had always fascinated him. Then, practically the day after he finished reading the books, he started his own little watch repair business.

JUST MARVELOUS

"He was marvelous at it from the beginning. And why not, as he says. After all, to be able to do a thing he loved took twenty years off his age!"

★ ★ ★

If watch repairing interests you, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you a list of good books about it.

'I Don't Want to Let My Family Down'

Grades Worry Teeners More Than Dates

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Grades, not girl-boy problems worry today's teenagers most.

This doubtless will surprise those adults who are convinced young people are a carefree, irresponsible lot. They should listen to this:

Our survey of youngsters across the country shows that 42 per cent worry "a good deal" about getting good grades. More than 25 per cent say it is their chief concern.

Joe, an 18-year-old Dartmouth freshman, explains:

"I want to prove my parents are making a good investment."

Joe Zorch, Katonah, N.Y., says it this way: "I don't want to let my family down for their many sacrifices to put me through college."

VARIED REASONS

Other teens have varied reasons for their concern over grades.

Kathryn, 16-year-old Minnesota girl, chalksup her school worry to: "I'm trying to meet standards set up by brothers and sisters."

Terence Gilheany, Forest Hills, N.Y., has done a bit of soul-searching. He says, "I believe I have become too caught up in the competitive spirit of modern education."

Most youngsters worry about something. Their parents might think teenage troubles trivial compared with their own. But the anxieties of the young are very real and deeply felt.

The future worries an increasingly large percentage of young people. More than 33 per cent find their future a matter of nagging concern and 32 per cent think it is their biggest worry.

Why the future?

LACK OF GOALS

Youngsters worry about lack of plans or goals for the time when they'll be out of school and on their own. They're afraid they won't "find themselves."

They're troubled that they won't be successful in their fields. The world in which they will be unprotected as well as unknown looms frighteningly big.

After grades and the future comes the problems most adults usually suspect are lurking around the corner all the time: Popularity, boy-girl relationships, appearance.

One out of four teens are hot and bothered about their popularity — or lack of it. Carol, 16, says: "I'm always worried they're going to find something wrong with me."

About theirritating, puzzling opposite sex:

One out of four girls over 16 admits are her particular problem. Almost one out of three under 16 feels the same way.

First they worry about how to get either one special fellow or an acceptable number of escorts. Then they lie awake fretting about how to keep the lads interested.

SIXES AND SEVENS

Meanwhile, the same young men are at sixes and sevens over the girls. The younger boys show more concern.

Of the under-16 youths we interviewed 35 per cent says girls are almost more trouble than they're worth, compared with 24 per cent of the over-16s of similar persuasion.

One college man complains: "They cause your mind to wander while studying."

Both boys and girls — a good one-third of those queried — are concerned about their appearance because they feel attractiveness is necessary for success with the opposite gender.

But Don, a Massachusetts boy, is confident in this matter.

He says: "My appearance is important because after all, I have to keep the girls happy. Popularity doesn't worry me. How could it with my looks?"

SENSE OF HUMOR

Oh well, probably Adonis had a sense of humor.

Young people are concerned about what adults think of them. Twenty-eight per cent of the youngsters interviewed admit this is a major worry.

A Massachusetts college freshman explains: "I consider them better judges of me than my contemporaries."

Margaret Johnson, 16, Fergus Falls, Minn., insists: "Naturally I don't want adults to think I'm a 'crazy teenager,' as they classify so many young people."

Practical considerations, especially money, plague more than one-third of the teens we questioned. They worry over insufficient funds for dating and for buying the things they want.

Hinkle Livengood of the University of North Carolina sums up his attitude toward money: "My only worry is that I never have any."

WORLD WORRIES

International problems trouble 28 per cent of the questioned youth. A Dartmouth sophomore worries: "I don't know how I'd stand up under battle and I'm afraid I might be 'chicken.'"

National problems concern 16 per cent.

A Chapel Hill, N.C. lad, Charles Black, answers our questionnaire:

"National problems: I want to die of old age."

"International problems: Real old age."

Moral questions trouble 24 per cent. Jack Stout, 19, says: "Spiritual satisfaction and free conscience is of the utmost importance for happiness."

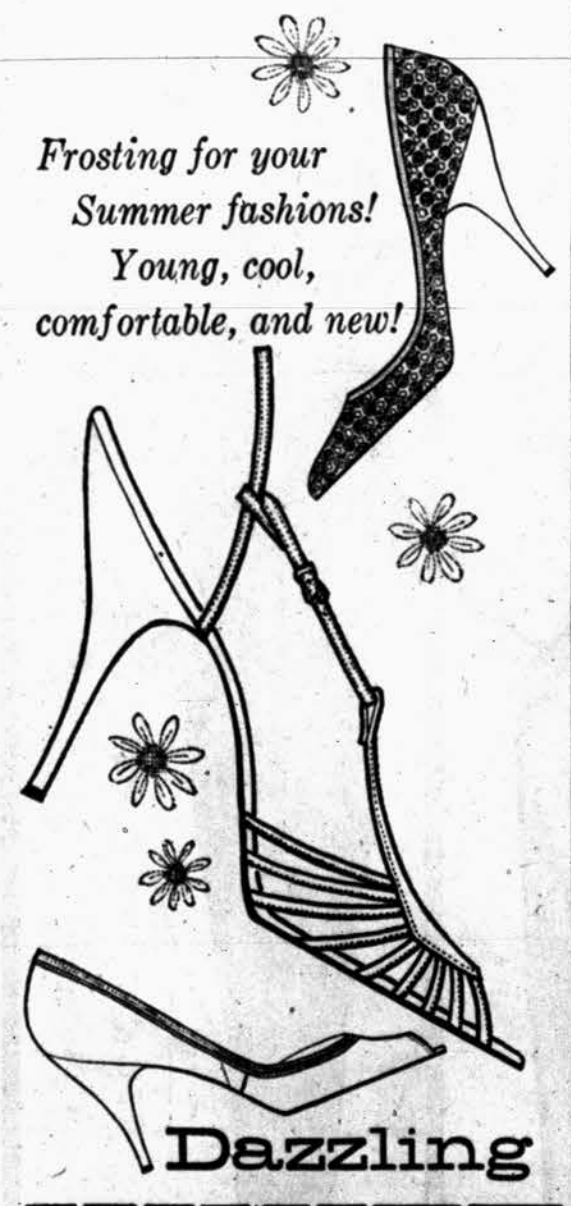

Two North Carolinians offer their solutions to worry:

Hugh, 18: "This is my prescription: If something can be done, do it; if a situation cannot be altered, don't worry about it."

Art 18: "Be sort of carefree — happy go lucky. You'll live longer that way — without ulcers."

Teenagers Live in Constant Flurry

Keep Clothes Fit for Use

Teen-agers live in a flurry of comings and goings, telephone conversations, study dates, weekend visits and soda fountain dates.

Knowing which scarf goes with your new sweater is a help. Being able to put your hands on a clean blouse when you want it is another help.

If the only thing you can haul out of your closet at a moment's notice is a pair of blue jeans, you're not likely to be the girl in most demand at your school.

So take time out to arrange your clothes. Keep a special drawer for that collection of sweaters, another for lingerie, a special spot for socks and nylons.

Have one of those decorative new hampers in your room and pop your soiled lingerie into it the moment you take it off. It's not fair to make your mother slide under your bed to collect clothes for the laundry.

The teeners are few and far between who can step out of a messy room looking radiant Best solution to the whole problem lies in some inexpensive closet fittings that keep everything in place.

There are blouse hangers that hold four or five blouses at a time, keeping them fresh and neat. A belt hanger holds any number of belts and has them ready for you at a moment's notice. Transparent plastic hat boxes show you just where the hat you want is.

And remember, dirt can literally eat up fabric. So never put anything away soiled. Clean out that hamper daily and pop everything into the suds for a thorough cleansing.

New Texture Paint

Now there's a new ready-mixed paint which can be textured while drying. It's intended for resurfacing interior walls and ceilings, and can be washed with a sudsy sponge It comes in a choice of twelve colors and white.

All Wives Should Learn How to Avoid Widowhood

They Can Figure Out Ways to Ease Financial Pressure on Husbands

By RUTH MILLETT

"Bill works so hard I worry about him."

How often today you hear wives of men in their middle years talk like that.

★ ★ ★

But what are the wives doing besides worrying? Not much, in many instances.

Many a wife who worries about how hard her husband works isn't doing a thing to help make it possible for him to slow down or even work confidently toward a time when he can take it easy.

What can a wife do besides worry?

She can educate herself financially. There wouldn't be so much demand for the book, "Teach Your Wife to Be a Widow," if wives were busy teaching themselves how not to be widows.

★ ★ ★

It doesn't take much financial reading for a wife to figure out for herself that unless she and her husband work out a system of regular saving and wise investment her husband is going to some day drop in his tracks trying to keep one jump ahead of the bill collectors.

STICK TO BUDGET

Also, a wife can voluntarily put herself on a household budget and stick with it. The man whose wife is an impulsive buyer never knows where he stands.

★ ★ ★

It's up to the wife, also, to stop looking around at what other people have and start figuring out what is important for her family to have.

And if she can get her husband interested in a plan for retirement — she'll immediately remove some of the pressure that haunts him.

A man who can say to himself, "I'll be able to retire at such and such an age," may not be interested in retiring when the time comes. But meantime the knowledge that he will be able to retire if he wants to will keep him from feeling that he is on a treadmill that is never going to stop.

★ ★ ★

Women can do a lot besides worry about how hard their husbands work. And if they don't want to face years of lonely widowhood, they had better do all they can.

Can Child's Decisions Be Trusted?

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

A mother writes: "For two years our 13-year-old son has been attending a summer camp run by our church. This year he wants to go to another one with his best friend. Shall we allow this? Is he old enough to make this decision? How can parents tell when a child is ready to make such a decision for himself?"

★ ★ ★

By the discipline they themselves have given him.

If their discipline has required him to correct his mistakes, his power to deal with the bad consequences of mistakes has become a familiar and reliable thing to them.

So when he wants to attend a summer camp that may be a mistake, they can say, "All right—try it." They know that if necessary, he'll correct the mistake and write home, "Take me out of here. I was wrong to come."

★ ★ ★

But if their discipline has spared him experience in righting his mistakes, they naturally panic at his demand to risk new ones.

BUILDING TRUST

We start building our trust of a child when he is little. If we've habitually picked up the toys our toddler flung to the floor, we lost the experience of his power to right his mistakes.

Later if we interceded with his teachers for him instead of encouraging him to speak up for himself, we lost more. Still later if we excused him from paying for the window he broke, his competence to cancel out his mistakes simply had no reality for us.

Under such circumstances, we'd naturally feel reluctant to let him choose his own summer camp. We'd feel that if his choice turned out bad, he'd suffer in helplessness all summer because we weren't there to put things right for him.

Today one of the questions parents most frequently ask child psychologists is: "How can I tell when my child is ready to make an important decision for himself?"

As the answer lies within our own experiences of how well he corrects his mistakes, the psychologists can't give us a satisfactory one.

The trouble is, some duck this fact, retreating into vague suggestions that we get the child's "psychological age" tested and have him otherwise measured by mechanical substitutes for human relationship.

★ ★ ★

Well, their tests may solve their problems—but ours remains until we're brave enough to see that our question reflects our inexperience with the child as a self-correcting person.

Summer blouses that require no ironing are a welcome addition to a girl's wardrobe. Blouse in nylon, dacron and pima (left) has permanently pleated ruffles outlining scoop neck and sleeves. Dacron and pima blouse has eyelet yoke outlined with lace ruffle.

Can U. S. and Reds Agree on Air Inspection?

By WILLIAM N. OTIS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — When President Eisenhower first unveiled his "open skies" plan for mutual aerial inspection at the Geneva summit conference of 1955 the Russians were decidedly cool to the idea. They finally began denouncing it as an "espionage plan."

Lately, however, they seem to have had a change of heart.

At the London disarmament talks — in recess this week as delegates consult with home governments — Harold E. Stassen, the President's special assistant on disarmament, brought the subject up again by suggesting that aerial inspection begin in a limited way.

Instead of denouncing the idea, the Russians bounced back with a limited plan of their own which—although details are not satisfactory to the West—has given rise to a wave of optimism that agreement may be reached on some compromise.

Both plans cover roughly the same amount of territory but there is considerable difference between the areas covered.

Stassen suggested that aerial inspection be applied in two pie-shaped segments on opposite sides of the North Pole. These were:

In EUROPE—The sector bounded on the north by the pole, on the south by Latitude 45 degrees north, on the west by Longitude 5 degrees east and on the east by Longitude 30 degrees east.

IN THE FAR EAST—The sector bounded on the north by the pole, on the south by Latitude 45 degrees north, on the west by Longitude 160 degrees east and on the east by Longitude 30 degrees east.

These sectors would take in Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Austria, Switzerland and Luxemburg; nearly all the Netherlands; eastern Belgium and France; Northern Italy and Yugoslavia; most of Romania and Finland, and the Western Soviet Union to near Leningrad.

In the Far East inspection would include the Aleutian Islands, the Alaskan peninsula and a thin strip of Canada's Yukon territory; Siberia about 700 miles inland from the Bering Strait.

Late last month, Soviet Delegate Valerian Z. Zorin gave the subcommittee counterproposals. He objected that Stassen's scheme moved the European dividing line "arbitrarily to the east," covered "only a small part of the territory of the Warsaw Treaty members" and took in Norway, though "no main forces of NATO are stationed there." He said that in the Far East, "the Soviet government considers it possible to expand substantially the area of aerial photography."

Zorin proposed that aerial inspection be applied to these areas:

IN EUROPE—The part bounded on the north by Latitude 54 degrees north, on the south by Latitude 39 degrees 33 minutes north, on the west by the zero meridian and on the east by Longitude 25 degrees east;

ELSEWHERE — "(A) the territory of the U. S. S. R. to the east of Longitude 108 degrees east, and (B) the territory of the United States to the west of Longitude 90 degrees west . . . approximately equal."

Included in these areas are, in Europe, all Germany, Austria and Switzerland; Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, most of France and Italy, northern Greece and little corners of England and Spain; Yugoslavia; all Albania, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Poland, half of Romania and Bulgaria and parts of White Russia and the Ukraine running at most 200 miles in from the frontier.

On the other side of the world, the Russian plan would take in the United States west of New Orleans, Memphis and East St. Louis; Siberia east of Lake Baikal, or about 2,000 miles in from the Bering Strait.

The United States now is studying its next move.

UNDERWATER CLASSROOM—State law enforcement officers begin at the bottom to learn use of underwater diving gear at Silver Springs, Fla. Technique will be used in rescue work and recovering illegal devices such as traps, nets and guns used by hunters.

U. S. Industry Snaps Up Young Indians With Skills

By HAL BOYLE

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Industry today can't get enough trained Indians, and the paleface is bidding higher for the Red Man's skill.

* * *

Here at Haskell Institute, where 900 ambitious young Indians from 85 tribes study for careers in a modern America, authorities haven't been able to meet the employment demand for graduates since 1940.

PICK AND CHOOSE

"We no longer have to look for jobs for our graduates," said Dr. Solon G. Ayers, superintendent. "Our trouble is in filling the requests. We have to pick and choose.

* * *

"Last year every one of our 114 vocational students was hired by commencement day. The highest starting salary was $6,870 — the average was $3,100."

Haskell, the Red Man's Harvard since 1884, is proud of such famous graduates as athlete Jim Thorpe and the late Clarence L. Tinker, a flier who was the first American Indian to achieve the rank of brigadier general. He was killed in World War II.

But Haskell is even prouder of the fact it has become a symbol of educational opportunity for Indians who want to compete on equal terms with the white man in his own culture.

* * *

"We hardly ever have a student who goes back to his reservation to live," said Dr. Ayers. "They may return home for a visit, but after a few days they want to leave.

GET RESTLESS

"Reservation life no longer appeals to them. There is nothing there for them to do, and they get restless. They want to get back to their jobs."

* * *

Students at Haskell range in age from 14 to 21. A few go on to college for professional study. But 80 per cent take an added two-year vocational course.

Discipline isn't as much of a problem as it is in most high schools. The teen-age Indians are a serious group.

The students come from 35 states and Alaska. They are motivated by a strong yearning to go beyond the pattern of their parents.

* * *

Thus Neva Running Wolf, 17, a Blackfoot from Browning, Mont., wants to become an office worker in a larger town. So do Jeanette Spotted Bear, 19, from the Crow reservation in Montana, and Pearl Bad Wound, 19, a Sioux from Iglo, S.D.

BIG AMBITIONS

Miss Merle Jack, 18, of the Tlingit tribe near Juneau, Alaska, aspires to be a secretary.

* * *

Dorothy Osceola, 20, a Seminole from the Florida Everglades who is the fifth member of her tribe ever to graduate from high school, plans to become a costume designer. She is a descendant of Chief Osceola, who refused to make a treaty with the white men and whose tribal descendants technically still are at war with the United States.

Why don't the students want to go back to their reservations? All give the same answer: "It doesn't have the opportunities."

* * *

An exception is Willard Spotted Horse, 20-year-old student welder whose father, a Crow tribesman, operates an 1,800-acre ranch near Lodge Grass, Mont.

"I want to go home and in time take over my father's place," said Willard, who also is a prize-winning cowboy. "But my time here isn't being wasted. There is plenty of welding to do on a ranch."

The spillway of the Grand Coulee dam is half as wide and twice as high as that of historic Niagara Falls.

Woman Motorist Tells Patrolman 'Real' Age—103

EUREKA, Calif. (AP)—Highway Patrolman James Greenlaw, investigating a report of a minor accident, asked Mrs. Bertha Orcutt for her driver's license.

* * *

"Oh, I left that at home," she said, "but I can get it for you."

He said that wasn't necessary right now, but asked when she was born.

"1854," said the short, gray-haired lady.

"But that would make you 103. You don't look more than 70 or 75."

* * *

"If I were only 75, I'd be delighted to say so young man," Mrs. Orcutt said. "It's still nice to hear it."

Her car had a bent fender from a two-foot drop down an embankment.

The "military professionals" are on the march again in West Germany, Bonn observers report. They saw the old-time military men are now the real bosses of the new citizens' army.

Answer Column About Gals Taking Over Nation

And Now the Men Are Heard From - -

By PHYLLIS BATTELE

NEW YORK (INS) — Everyone seems fairly well agreed that women are like the weather—something to be discussed with dull people, cussed at with regularity, foreboded when very cold or overly warm, and declared "not what they used to be" by elderly men.

★ ★ ★

Women, like inclement weekends, are to be talked about but not dealt with.

They are unforecastably bright, windy, shady, seasonable, unseasonable and quite monsoonish if you criticise them. Yet men insist on leaving their peaceful bachelor firesides and, time and again, exposing themselves to the female elements.

Why?

The answers rolled into this office in large numbers and no uncertain terms this week. They were from men who had read the column in which it was stated that "women are taking over the reins" of the modern world, and men are not only submitting—they are setting themselves up as court jesters in the queens' realm.

★ ★ ★

"My Dear Madam," wrote one gentleman from Michigan, "you compose a column saying we (males) are being made fools of in comic strips and TV and movies. Are we expected to be surprised or concerned by such an obvious observation; no, dear lady, no.

MEN ARE SMART'

"The reason men have eternally allowed women to laugh at them is that men are smart. They realize that women are strong, and we must depend upon them for meals, families, companionship — also of course, clean laundry.

★ ★ ★

"The way to keep women in line is to keep them laughing. Lord knows if they stopped thinking us amusing—ah! — they would crush us all."

Eddie Jaffe, a man-about-New-York, wrote that "the implications of women laughing at the male are easy to understand."

He pointed out that males are more naturally good - humored than females ("the masculine attitude is composed of part stuffed shirt, part flexed muscles"), but that women were serious-minded, especially if their self-security is threatened (did Adam laugh at Eve when she got hungry for an apple? Hardly.)

Jaffe concluded that "feminine attitudes being what they are, women are not easy to kid without getting on dangerous ground."

★ ★ ★

From a Californian came the terse words: "Men are tired of supporting women. They day they LOOK weak enough in TV and cartoons is the day women may ACT as they should. Science says women are as steel, and men as cardboard. So why are we bending our backs?"

ALIMONY AGUE'

An Ohio cynic, thrice divorced and suffering "alimony ague," reported that he had been "touched" by my warning that men are turning women into Amazons by allowing the entertainment medium to make nincompoops out of males.

★ ★ ★

"Touched in the head, that is," he wrote. "I suddenly saw the entire picture, as in a revelation by Father Divine. There are too many idealistic men in this world, and too many iconoclastic women. If I only had enough money left to purchase a noose . . ."

It might be interesting to note that in response to that column pointing out the laughable lovableness of men, and the invulnerablity of women, not one female responded. I can only come to the conclusion that Eddie Jaffe was right.

Women are not easy to kid. They have better prey to laugh at.

Rural Mailbox Improvement Program to Open

Rural mail patrons were alerted today by Pontiac's Acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean that the two weeks, starting June 3, will be annual Rural Mailbox Improvement Weeks.

The program this year will include certain types of suburban "mounted" routes where the box is located close to the curb and is served by a carrier in a car or truck.

Purpose of the program is to insure that mailboxes are properly erected, in good condition and have the name and address clearly printed on the side visible to the approaching carrier.

Rural boxes must be located on the right side of the road, Dean said, except is special cases where the carrier can drive on the left side of the street.

On "mounted" routes, approved rural boxes need not be provided, but they must be of a rural type—that is located at the curb line with the bottom of the box 3½ to 4 feet above the roadway, Dean pointed out.

Really Slick Trick

MADISON, Wis. (UP) — During a recent snowfall two men reported seeing a woman stall her station wagon on a hill, get out and throw sand in front of the front wheels, climb back in and promptly drive off.

Angels Invest in Shows Because of Profit Angle

NEW YORK (AP)—Reasons why angels are always ready to invest in Broadway shows:

The comedy "Bus Stop," which was here during the 1954-'55 season, has thus far netted backers 307 per cent profit—$184,000—on a $60,000 investment.

Another recent comedy, "The Desk Set," has so far netted $75,000 gain on a $70,000 cost.

The financial reports include receipts from road tours and various subsidiary rights in addition to the original White Way runs.

By JIMMY POWERS

A recent survey asked ball players: "Where would you be today if it were not for baseball?" Answers included Chuck Dressen's: "Probably yardmaster in the freight yards at Decatur. I started there as a switchman." . . . Tris Speaker: "Probably climbing telephone poles in Hillsboro, Texas. That's what I was doing before I went to pro ball." . . . Al Lopez: "I'd be rolling cigars in a cigar factory. My two brothers graduated from high school and went right into the factory." Don Gutteridge figured he might have been a garage mechanic, Tony Cuccinello a plumber and Eddie Yost a playground director. Billy Jurges said he thought he might be a banker because the fellow who worked with him is a bank president now.

★ ★ ★

Dodgers have their fingers crossed, hoping Emmett Kelly's act goes over in the big time. Critics point out that while Bill Veeck came up with some circusy stunts, there still was a distinct flavor of baseball to the acts. Al Schacht and Nick Altrock were hits, but they were baseball men.

★ ★ ★

Prediction: Bobby Shantz will stage the comeback of the year for Casey Stengel and overshadow Art Ditmar. Look for George Crowe to see plenty of action at first base for Cincinnati.

ENDS "M" CAREER — Ron Kramer, one of the University of Michigan's great athletes, will wear the maize and blue for the last time when he participates in the Big Ten track meet this weekend. Known for his football prowess, Kramer also starred in basketball and in the spring with the track team.

ELECTED TO HALL — Former Detroit Tiger catcher Mickey Cochrane who led Detroit to the American League pennants in 1934 and 1935 was one of three selected this week to the Michigan Hall of Fame. The other two honored were George Gipp and Gordie Howe.

Lary Nailed With 6th Loss in 10th

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Detroit Tigers headed west today with a batting slump and the still unsolved problem of what ails Frank Lary.

The Baltimore Orioles nailed Lary with his 6th loss last night as the righthander, working in relief, was charged with the deciding run in the Orioles' 4-3 10-inning triumph over the Tigers.

To support Lary, Billy Hoeft and Al Aber, the Tiger batters collected only six hits off Art Ceccarelli and George Zuverink. That made a total of only 16 safeties in the last 26 innings for Detroit.

Hoeft, bothered by stiffness in his back that hampered his efforts to throw a fast ball, almost won last night's game in regulation time. He gave up five hits through the first eight innings and went into the ninth holding a 3-2 lead.

★ ★ ★

But the lefthander issued his sixth walk to leadoff batter Jim Pyburn and Jim Brideweser moved the Baltimore bonus rookie along with a perfect sacrifice. Pinch hitter Bob Boyd flied out and Hoeft went to a 2-2 count on Billy Gardner before the second baseman drilled a single between third and short that scored Pyburn.

Manager Jack Tighe, who had fidgeted with the idea of lifting Hoeft with Gardner at the plate, then waved in Lafy. George Kell flied out and the game went into extra innings.

Jack Dittmer singled as a lead off pinch hitter in the 10th against Zuverink, the Holland, Mich., sinker ball artist. But Lary couldn't move him on three bunt attempts and the potential run died on first.

Lary, hit hard in his recent starts, walked Tito Francona at the start of the Baltimore 10th. Bob Nieman sacrificed and Gus Triandos, who drove in Baltimore's first two runs in the first inning, was walked purposely.

Al Pilarcik, lefthanded hitter, was sent up to pinch hit for Dick Williams and Tighe, playing percentages, brought in Aber, also a lefthander. Baltimore manager Paul Richards surprised the crowd by letting Pilarcik hit and the little outfielder bounced a single through Ray Boone's legs near first base. Since Lary had put Francona on base, he was charged with the loss.

Lary, a 21-game winner last season, has collected only two victories this season against his half dozen losses.

Harvey Kuenn, hitless in seven trips in Tuesday night's 16 inning thriller, failed to connect safely in five more times up last night. Reno Bertoia, the club's leading hitter, again stayed on the sidelines with a sore shoulder.

★ ★ ★

Today is an off day for Detroit. The Tigers open a three game series in Kansas City tomorrow night. So far they have failed to beat the Athletics in four games.

Lane Scores 6th Round KO

DETROIT (AP)— Young Kenny Lane looked forward today to an autumn title fight after an easy sixth-round knockout over little-known Henry (Toothpick) Brown.

"My boy never hit him twice in the same place," said Brown's manager, George Katz. "If Lane did anything wrong, it didn't show. He fought the perfect fight."

Lane, the No. 1-ranked contender to Joe Brown's lightweight title, had things just the way he wanted them against the Toothpick, rusty after a six-month layoff. The 25-year-old Lane, winning his 46th fight in 51 outings, started with a bruising body attack before landing damaging blows to Brown's head in the fifth and sixth rounds.

A natural righthander who turns southpaw in the ring "just because I happened to start out that way," Lane landed a looping right hand to Brown's head and the 24-year-old Philadelphia fighter toppled to the canvas and was counted out at 1:14 of the sixth round.

It was only the eighth knockout in Lane's professional career and he confessed later "maybe I'm a stronger puncher than we thought."

It was Lane's 13th straight victory and his third consecutive knockout. He expects to meet the winner of the June 19 title bout between champion Joe Brown and Orlando Zulueta either late in the summer or in the fall.

His co-manager, Jack (Doc) Kearns, was immediately busy trying to drum up action on any one of several fronts.

"How about a welterweight title fight with Carmen Basilio?"

said the ageless Kearns, who has staged championship fights in such remote places as Shelby, Mont. "Our boy weighed almost 149 for this one—he could come in at 142 or 143 for Basilio. Tell you what—we'll guarantee Basilio $100,000 and fight him in Trinidad and play calypso music, to boot.

"After that," said the doctor in the next breath, "we can take on Sugar Ray Robinson for the middleweight title. No limit to what this boy can do. He's still growing, you know."

The bout was nationally televised and broadcast (ABC) from Olympia Stadium. It drew only 2,389 spectators who paid a gross gate of $2,855.95.

'Resting' Pros Rated Favorites

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The 130 professionals gathered here for the $22,000 Kansas City Open Golf Tournament apparently place a premium on recent vacations in predicting who'll be the winner.

Doug Ford, the season's leading money winner, Ed Furgol, 1954 U. S. Open champion, and consistent contender Dow Finsterwald were the names mentioned most often by fellow pros as likely to take the money.

The 72-hole tournament opened today at Hillcrest Country Club's 6,668 - yard, par 36-36—72 course. Play ends Sunday.

Ford, Furgol and Finsterwald all rejoined the tournament tourists here this week after vacations from competitive golf. Ford laid off eight days and Furgol took a short vacation at his Florida home. Finsterwald hasn't played in a tournament since the last week of April.

Track Meet Is Last Appearance

Kramer Has Career Finale at 'M'

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A collegiate career many observers describe as sensational will close this weekend on the playing fields of Northwestern.

Ron Kramer, for the last time, will wear the Maize and Blue uniform of Michigan at the Big Ten track championships. Though he achieved fame on the football field —and to a lesser degree on the basketball court—Kramer's Michigan career will end in the shotput circle and the high jump pit.

Kramer will win neither event, but still he'll be awarded his varsity track letter, the ninth monogram in his three years at Michigan. Only a handful of other athletes can match such a feat.

It has been a successful and frequently stormy three years for the 21-year-old East Detroiter. He was an All America football player, captain of his basketball team and the most publicized college athlete of the past three years. He received acclaim and he was attacked. His picture graced the covers of national magazines.

★ ★ ★

He was accused of playing dirty and he was charged with accepting illegal financial assistance. Neither count against Kramer was ever proven.

In his last year, he mellowed a bit. The only publicity he received was praiseworthy. Attacked after the 1955 Michigan-Ohio State football game for his gridiron manners, he came back in 1956 against the Buckeyes and was chosen "lineman of the week." He also was an all America end in 1956.

And so Saturday, Ron Kramer will knock the bar off the high jump or throw a 16-pound iron ball not far enough to qualify for a top position but his sports career at Michigan will then be history.

Area Skaters Pass Proficiency Tests

A large group of roller skaters got by a series of dance and figure tests at Rolladium during the last few days. Following made the grade:

No. 1 dance bar—Linda Grace, Linda Lawrence, Larry Hopps, Joanne Field, Deanna Oesch, Lynn Corella, Diane Godbold, Nancy Shikell, David Downing, Donna Hodge, Sue Froede, Pamela Davidson, Deanna Birker, Lou Ann DeYonge, Cathy Largent, Diane Downing, David Rusile, Carl Garland, Rose Garland, Jay Ashjey, Cynthia Kruchk.

No. 2 dance bar—Kathy Casey, Pam Reid, JerriLee Larson, Joan Lehman, Stephanie Cutkiel, Diane Maxfield, Janet McDonald, Helen Lunsford, Barbara Papi, Sandra Blackburn, Janice Wilson, Eddy Smith, Jay Ashley.

Bronze medal dance—Yvonne Gibbs, Jerry Bunce, Leon LeValley, Betty Vernon, Judy Hartman, Nancy Wells, Sandra Sharp.

Ace for Pontiac Man

What is listed as the 4th hole-in-one for area golf layouts this spring, was carded yesterday at Edgewood.

Pontiac's Bob Collins filed a seven iron shot to the 158-yard tenth green and the ball holed out for the ace. The hole-in-one helped Collins to compile an 89 for the 18-hole round.

Tennis Tips by Rosewall

Learn to Master Forehand, Backhand

BY KEN ROSEWALL
AP Newsfeatures

The forehand is the most widely used stroke in tennis. To use it effectively a right-handed player should always have the left side of his body facing the net.

★ ★ ★

Again the best grip to use is the grip most comfortable to you. However, you should be more relaxed for the forehand than when serving. The easiest way to get relaxed is to bend your knees slightly. This will help you to move into position.

★ ★ ★

The backhand is like the forehand with one big exception. The right foot should be out toward the net instead of the left foot being forward.

★ ★ ★

The grip is about the same for the backhand as the forehand. Incidentally, I grip the racket the same way for the serve, too.

★ ★ ★

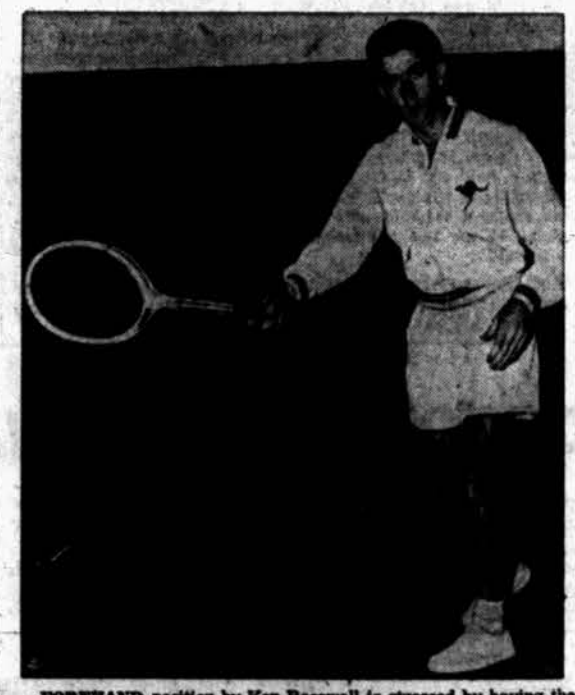

When you see the ball coming to your left side you should try to get in position for the backhand shot with your body and your racket.

★ ★ ★

Some people prefer to steady the racket for a backhand shot by holding their left-hand fingers on the shaft of the racket. I do that occasionally for the backhand because I do a number of things left-handed.

I play golf and baseball left-handed and I throw a baseball with my left hand. I think it helps my backhand stroke.

..TOMORROW: The Volley.

FOREHAND position by Ken Rosewall is stressed by having the left foot forward. Weight will be on left foot on the follow through.

This Might Be Called—— a Pocket Shot

ADRIAN (AP)—Mrs. Robert Bartlow of Adrian doesn't know quite how to count a shot she made in a recent golf game at the Lenawee Country Club.

★ ★ ★

Playing a five iron shot out of a sand trap near the 11th green, Mrs. Bartlow took a mighty swing. The ball went straight up and started down.

★ ★ ★

The ball seemed to disappear before it hit the ground. For an instant Mrs. Bartlow and her partner, Mrs. James Moran were baffled.

The ball had landed in the pocket of Mrs. Bartlow's dress.

Paddle Push June 9

MILFORD—Milford Chamber of Commerce and American Youth Hostels will stage a "paddle push" canoe race from Milford to Kensington Park June 9.

The race covers an eight-mile-long course.

Independence Day Baby Gives Braves New Lease

NEW YORK (INS)—Chuck Tanner, an Independence Day baby himself, may be the man to free Milwaukee of the leftfield problem that threatens to ruin the Braves' pennant hopes.

Bobby Thomson, Andy Pafko and Wes Covington all were tried in the outfield spot for Milwaukee but not one of them could hit even .200.

Tanner, born July 4, 1929 in New Castle, Pa., got his chance virtually by default and the left-handed swinger is showing signs that he intends to sign a long-term lease on the position.

The solidly-built athlete picked out a Robin Roberts fastball in the 13th inning last night and blasted it over the rightfield fence to give Milwaukee a 4-to-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Aside from the homer, Tanner also contributed two sensational catches to the Milwaukee cause and doubled in the second inning. His batting average is only .220 but he may gain the confidence now to boost that figure to a more respectable size.

Tanner's initial homer of the season presented the win to rookie Juan Pizarro who became the fourth Brave pitcher in the 12th inning. Milwaukee's three earlier runs were driven in by Ed Mathews' seventh homer. Ed Bouchee homered for the Phils.

The triumph enabled the Braves to take over undisputed possession of second place as league-leading Cincinnati crushed Brooklyn, 8 to 1, behind Johnny Klippstein's five-hit pitching. Klippstein employed the "no windup" delivery made famous in the 1956 World Series by Don Larsen as he pitched a perfect game against the Brooks.

Elsewhere in the National League the New York Giants scored once in the ninth to beat the Chicago Cubs, 4 to 3, and the game between Pittsburgh and St. Louis was rained out.

UM Favored for Net Title

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Defending champion Michigan, led by Barry Mackay, singles champion and member of the United States Davis Cup team, seeks its third straight Big Ten tennis title in opening matches today.

The Wolverines, undefeated in 43 straight dual matches, are heavy favorites.

But there is prospect of some stiff opposition, particularly from Indiana, twice second place finishers in conference title races, and from improved Illinois and Iowa squads.

Mackay, besides defending his singles crown, will join Dick Potter in defense of their doubles title. Both are considered strong bets to retain their crowns.

Iowa's hopes are largely pinned to Art Andrews, former national junior singles champion and member of the junior Davis Cup team, and Bob Potthast. Both are sophomores.

Sophomores also are given a big role in Illinois plans. The Illini are counting on Al Holtmann, Bob Breckenridge and George Gilmore. Veterans on the squad are Carl Noble, Jim Van Tine and Dick McDonald.

Indiana, which finished behind the Wolverines in the last two Big Ten tourneys, is led by Jerry Parchuto. Indiana won three conference titles in previous years.

PCC Refuses to Back Down

Rejects Leniency Plea of 3 Schools, Slaps Fines on Two

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) —Having demonstrated it is in no mood for leniency, the Pacific Coast Conference plowed into the final day of its annual spring session today with aid to athletes as the one big problem still on the agenda.

Yesterday the conference:

1. Slapped down a request that ineligible football players at schools under probation — UCLA, Southern California and Washington—be half forgiven and be permitted to play in five games next fall.

2. Refused to amend its round-robin football schedule and require each school to play only five other conference teams per season instead of seven.

3. Fined Idaho and Southern California $1,000 each in disapproval of actions by certain coaches.

There was little optimism among the faculty members and athletic directors that an agreement can be reached here on changes in the aid program. Under present rules an athlete can be given free tuition and employed on a campus job paying not more than $100 a month.

McFarlen, Stephenson and a medley relay team will go to Kalamazoo.

ALL IN ONE INNING — The Boston Red Sox had a homer spree in the 4th inning against the Cleveland Indians yesterday by getting four in the same frame to equal an American League mark set by Boston in 1940. Left to right are Frank Malzone, Dick Gernert and Gene Mauch. The 4th homer was hit by Ted Williams.

Jubilant Chisox Head West

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What Manager Al Lopez was able to accomplish only once in six years at Cleveland, he may achieve in his first year at Chicago.

That would be beating the Yankees, of course.

The White Sox early whirlwind pace no longer is to be snickered at. Even the so-called experts who predicted a New York runaway are beginning to take Lopez' whirling White Sox seriously.

How can you ignore a team which owns a comfortable three-game lead after five weeks of play . . . a team that has won 20 out of 27....a team that rebounded from three straight defeats by the Yankees to win nine in succession, the last two from the same Yankees in their own back yard?

No wonder Lopez' merry men were in a jovial frame of mind today as they roared west after cleaning up everything in sight in the East. The Chicagoans capped their best road trip in history yesterday winning their second straight from New York 8-4 to increase their first-place American League margin to three games over Cleveland and four over the third-place Yankees.

★ ★ ★

The Boston Red Sox tied a league record with four home runs in one inning as they routed the Indians 11-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Tom Brewer. Baltimore nipped Detroit 4-3 in 10 innings and Kansas City outslugged Washington 8-6.

★ ★ ★

Jim Wilson scattered 10 Yankee hits to register his fifth victory against one defeat as the White Sox clubbed starter Johnny Kucks and two relievers for 11 hits. Nellie Fox, who had hit only 19 home runs in 10 previous seasons in the majors, slammed his second of the year for the White Sox. He also drove a 400-foot fly that Mickey Mantle muffed after a long run in center field, scoring two.

A tight battle between 35-year-old Wilson and young Kucks was broken up in the sixth inning when Chicago scored five unearned runs on four hits and two Yankee errors. Errors by Mantle and Billy Martin and Minnie Minoso's double were the key plays. Wilson had 21 1-3 shutout innings until the Yankees broke through with three runs in the fourth.

Brewer had an easy tie registering his sixth Boston victory against two defeats. Sixth inning homers by Gene Mauch, Ted Williams, Dick Gernert and Frank Malzone equalled the four-in-one-inning record first set by the Red Sox (Williams was in that one, too) in 1940 and tied by Detroit in 1950. The major league record is five by the 1939 Giants and 1949 Phillies. Williams had two for two to raise his average to .404.

Big Gus Zernial slammed two home runs and a single to drive in three runs as the Athletics snapped a three-game losing streak and ended a string of 29 consecutive scoreless innings. Alex Kellner, with the help of Wally Burnette, won his first game of the year while Ted Abernathy dropped his fifth in six delisions.

Baseball Ducats Trap Teenagers After Burglary

DENVER (AP) — When 10 tickets to Denver Bears' baseball games vanished with other merchandise in a burglary at a construction company here, police knew where to set their trap.

Armed with the serial numbers of the stolen tickets, they waited at the baseball park.

The tickets showed up Tuesday night, just 24 hours after the burglary, in the hands of a 14-year-old boy. He said he got them from two friends, ages 11 and 13.

They were held without charge at juvenile hall.

Jets Trounce Grill, 8-5

A favorable break in the weather finally permitted the 1957 City League baseball season to begin Wednesday night at Wisner Field and the Pontiac Jets celebrated the occasion with an 8-5 victory over Griff's Grill.

A four-run uprising in the 7th inning to break a 4-all tie spelled defeat for pitcher Bob Johnston and victory for rival hurler Octave LeDuff, both of whom worked the distance.

Judge Booker struck the big blow in the 7th stanza with a bases-loaded triple. Gene Cox tripled to drive home the final run of the inning and was thrown out at the plate trying to make an inside-the-park homer.

38 Overtime Games in Major Leagues

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1957 major league baseball season has been replete with extra-inning games and the Baltimore Orioles and Milwaukee Braves have been playing most of the overtime.

In last night's lengthy games, Milwaukee beat Philadelphia 4-3 in 13 innings and Baltimore edged Detroit 4-3 in 10 frames. This brought the total of extra-inning games to 38-20 in the National League and 18 in the American. At this rate, last year's aggregate of 121 for both circuits will be surpassed by 50 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Nine of Baltimore's 31 games have gone into overtime. The Orioles have won four and lost five of these games. Paul Richards' crew has been involved in two 16-inning contests and lost both.

Eight of Milwaukee's 30 games have been decided in an extra inning with the Braves posting a 4-4 mark.

The Cincinnati Redlegs, currently leading the National League, have won all three of their extra-inning games for the majors' best record. They whipped St. Louis 6-4 and New York 3-2 in 10 frames and defeated Philadelphia 8-6 in 16 innings.

The Chicago White Sox also are unbeaten in overtime. They have won two—3-2 over Cleveland in 11 innings and 1-0 over Kansas City in 10.

The Phillies and Pittsburgh Pirates have yet to produce a victory in the long games. The Phillies are 0-3 and the Pirates 0-4.

The Chicago Cubs have done well in extra innings with a 4-1 record. Brooklyn and St. Louis are 4-2. The New York Yankees are 2-1 and Cleveland is 4-2 in the American League.

Also emphasizing the close competition is the fact that 75 games have been decided by one run. The Cardinals have the best mark in this department, having won four games and dropped one.

Cincinnati is 6-4, having won the last six in succession of the one-run games in which they've participated.

Day I Remember Most

(Ninth in a series of articles written especially for The Associated Press and the Press by Detroit Tiger players.)

By BILLY HOEFT

DETROIT (AP) — Beating the top teams in the American League always is a big thrill, but two games in particular stand out above the others.

Each was a two-hitter — One against the New York Yankees and another against the Cleveland Indians. They rank as the two best games I've ever pitched, and I can't rate one above the other — so I guess you'd have to say I have two most memorable days in baseball.

In 1954 we beat the Yanks 8-0 and the first hit off me was an infield single by Irv Noren in the seventh inning. The Yanks got another hit in the eighth but I had retired the first 19 batters to face me.

Against Cleveland in 1955, the Indians had one hit in the first inning and another in the second. Then I retired 21 batters in a row before Al Smith walked with two out in the ninth.

I also remember my first major league appearance, also against Cleveland in relief in 1952. In three innings I struck out six men and didn't allow any hits.

PASADENA — Big 10 teams have won 10 to 11 Rose Bowl games against Pacific coast contenders.

White Brothers in 3-2 Victory

White Brothers tallied three runs in the 1st two innings, then held on for a 3-2 victory over Gidley Electric in last night's Waterford League softball game at Drayton Plains.

Al Crawford scored what proved to be the winning run in the 2nd inning when he singled, took 2nd on an error, went to 3rd on an infield out and raced home on pitcher Al Cuthrell's wild pitch.

Gidley had threatening rallies snuffed out in the 6th and 7th innings. The bases were loaded in the 6th and two runners were aboard in the 7th, but only one run scored.

Two contests are scheduled tonight at Drayton Plains. Weldon-Thrifty meets Drayton Drug at 7 o'clock and Emmanuel Baptist faces Lakeland Pharmacy at 8:30.

Wednesday's Sports in Brief

TENNIS

PARIS—After watching four Americans go down to defeat prior to his match, Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif. rallied for a victory over Canada's Robert Bedard in the French international championships 6-3, 3-6, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1.

RACING

NEW YORK—Poly Hi ($2.80), with Eric Guerin in the saddle, withstood a foul claim against him to win the $15,000 Fashion Stakes at Jamaica by half a length.

BOSTON, Mass. — Fresh and Fair ($19.40) won the $4,000 Brockton Purse by more than two lengths at Suffolk Downs.

CHICAGO, Ill.—Hasty Doll ($10.20) ran the 5½ furlongs for juvenile fillies in 1:06 3-5 to win the $16,375 Miss Chicago Stakes at Washington Park.

CAMDEN, N. J.—Night Amoel ($10.20) scored an upset victory in capturing the $18,950 Cherry Hill Stakes at Garden State Park.

INGLEWOOD, Calif.—Joe Price ($7.80) won the feature at Hollywood Park.

Extend '500' Qualifying Times

43 More Cars Given Chance in Big Race

Speedway Lineup May Not Be Settled Until Sometime Tuesday

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Owners of 43 unqualified cars at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway relaxed a little today with assurance they will get at least one chance to try for a place in the starting line-up for the 500-mile race May 30.

★ ★ ★

Anton Hulman Jr., Speedway owner, eased the fear of weather somewhat last night by announcing each car will get a chance to qualify if it takes until 7 p.m., CDT, Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

It was a change in policy for the Speedway. Qualifying time has been extended in recent years only when necessary to assure a full line-up of 33 cars, and bad weather on the last qualifying days has kept some fast cars from ever making the 10 - mile run.

★ ★ ★

Nine cars qualified last Saturday, but none was able to run Sunday because of rain. If additional qualifications had been limited to next Saturday and Sunday, as originally scheduled, one sunny day could have filled the line-up but rain on the other day could have kept several cars from making a qualifying attempt. Hulman's announcement came after a talk with J. C. Aagjanian, spokesman for the Championship Car Owners Assn. It means if bad weather keeps some cars from running Saturday or Sunday the track will be open for qualifications Monday and, if necessary, Tuesday.

Only the fastest 33 cars will run in the race, which will start at 11 a.m, CDT.

Rain curtailed practice time this week. The track was open only 70 minutes yesterday, and only Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., achieved any speed. He turned a lap at 143 miles an hour in a Novi Special.

★ ★ ★

Rookie Bud Clemons, Riverside, Calif., passed the driver's test just before the deadline. No more rookies will be passed.

Perfect Job by Hall

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

If Shaw's Jewelers continue to receive the kind of pitching they've been getting, rival City Softball League batters are due for a miserable season.

Doug Hall took the hill for Shaw's last night at Beaudette Park and hurled a perfect game as the Jewelers shut out Elks No. 810 by a 2-0 count for their 3rd victory in as many starts.

Hall's masterpiece was the 2nd no-hit, no-run performance by Shaw's mound corps during the infant season. What's more, the Jewelers have yet to be scored on in 21 innings and their pitchers have yielded only one safe blow.

Perc McConner twirled a no-hitter to open the 1957 schedule and faced only 22 batters in the process. Jake Mazur followed with a one-hit shutout, then Hall applied a flawless whitewash brush yesterday.

Just 21 hitters strolled to the plate during Hall's no-hit, no-run gem. He struck out six and nary a foe touched base.

Another highlight of Wednesday's City League card was Gingellville's 4-3 win over GMC at North Side in the 1st game of the year in the women's league. It was Gingellville's 1st triumph in two years.

It took the Gingellville girls eight innings to turn the trick, ning run when Carol Bacon raced but they pushed across the winhome on an error. Nancy Wickman pitched the distance for the winners and gave up five hits.

In other City League action yesterday, Birmingham nosed out Bicmar Inn, 7-6, and Louie's Tavern outscored Drive-In Cleaners, 13-8, in a contest which featured a dozen errors.

Tonight's games: Pontiac Police vs. Lane's Drive-Inn, 7 p.m., and Stadium Inn vs. Bicmar Inn, 8:30, at Beaudette; UAW-CIO Local 653 vs. Oxbow Pavillion, 7 p.m., and Eddie's Bar vs. Pontiac Select-A-Drink, 8:30, at North Side.

Around the Prep Front

By CHUCK ABAIR

Milford edged Bloomfield Hills by seven strokes to capture the Wayne-Oakland League golf championship and Birmingham clinched another Eastern Michigan dual track crown with an 86-23 walloping of Port Huron to highlight the local sports scene yesterday under unusual sunny skies.

Cranbrook swept victories in baseball and tennis and Royal Oak Shrine finished last in a triangular track meet in other local events.

In individual play, it was a case of a repeat of last year's finish in the W-O golf battle at Burroughs Course in Brighton as Bud Badger of Bloomfield Hills downed Milford ace Ed Takarski by one stroke for medalist honors, 77-78.

Milford's winning total was 361. Bloomfield Hills had 368, West Bloomfield 376, Northville 380, Holly 381, Brighton 383, Clarkston 399, and Carenceville 415. Third individual was John Shaw of West Bloomfield at 84.

Birmingham's thinclads set three new Pierce Field records in extending their dual record to 27 straight wins over the last four years.

The Maples had six 1sts with Bob Stephenson setting a high jump mark of six feet, ¼ inch and also taking the 440. Bill McFarlen broke the pole vault mark with a leap of 12 feet, 6½ inches and won the high hurdles. Sophomore Bob Kulow set the broad jump record at 20 feet, 1⅞ inches and Pat Barry won the 100 and 220, and anchored the 880 relay team.

Dave Walsh garnered three of six hits and batted in both runs as Cranbrook nipped Waterford on the diamond, 2-1. The Cranes clinched it in the 6th for reliefer Andy Billesdon. Chuck Kirken batted in the WTHS marker. Cranbrook is now 6-6, Waterford 3-8.

★ ★ ★

In tennis, the Cranes had little trouble drubbing Pontiac by a 7-0 count for their 9th win in 12 starts. Singles triumphs were posted by Barry Smith, Bill McQuilkin, Bill Duncan and Ed Sun.

Shrine could garner only 18 points as Cathedral tallied 56 and Sacred Heart 53 in their meet.

Neat Profit for Braves

Average $364,517 Yearly

MILWAUKEE (INS) — The Milwaukee Braves baseball club announced today that it has made an average annual profit of $364,517 since moving to the Wisconsin city from Boston in 1953.

In making the report, Joseph Cairnes, club president, said it was the first time a financial report had been submitted for publication.

This compares to losses of $398,000 and $42,000 in other years prior to 1933.

The financial statement was released by Cairnes to members of the county park commission and county board of supervisors at the commissions' requests.

★ ★ ★

This was done preparatory to negotiations for a 1958 county stadium rental contract with the county.

★ ★ ★

The county built the stadium in 1953 at a reported cost of $5 million.

Dodgers to Study New York Offer to Go Downtown

NEW YORK (INS) — A special New York City committee has reported that a "specific offer" concerning a new home for the Brooklyn Dodgers will be submitted soon to the club and the city.

The committee, created by Mayor Robert F. Wagner to study the problem of relocating the Dodgers, announced yesterday it was studying only two sites—both in downtown Brooklyn.

A spokesman for the Dodgers said Brooklyn President Walter O'Malley "recently discussed this development" with Mayor Wagner and that "further meetings are planned."

Pontiac Eligible to Borrow Cash

School Board to Take Loans Against Next Year's Taxes

Pontiac was among several Oakland County school districts which received approval from the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission to borrow against next year's taxes.

All 29 state school districts got the green light to borrow a total of $13,243,400. They all complained they were caught short of cash by the drop in state aid for the current fiscal year.

Pontiac was authorized to borrow up to $725,000 to cover operating expenses. The board of education has indicated it will borrow a bit at a time as needed.

Other school districts which are in Oakland County in whole or part and the amounts they can borrow are:

Almont, $21,800; Farmington, $100,000; Huron Valley, $70,000; Royal Oak, $400,000; and Lamphere, $75,000.

Law Causes 'Door-Key Kids'

Some States Require Moms to Work, Leaving Children All Alone

CINCINNATI (AP) — Parent-teacher workers were told yesterday that "self-support" laws in some states are barring needy mothers with dependent children from aid rolls, forcing them to go to work and making "door-key kids" out of their children.

Joseph H. Reid, executive director of the child welfare league, New York, in a discussion of Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) laws, said:

"When Congress passed ADC legislation in 1936 it had the foresight to see that a mother's presence at home with her small children is more important to the welfare of the country than her ability to be self-supporting.

"Research for 20 years has confirmed the importance of young children's receiving consistent mothering and not being 'door-key kids.'"

GAVE THEM KEYS

The term "door-key" grew up in World War II, when some working mothers gave children keys to their home, leaving them to come in off the streets when they chose.

ADC is financed by joint federal-state funds, but Congress left administration of the aid up to the state.

In a report circulated at the convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers (NCPT), Reid said some states were dodging the intent of Congress with self-support laws.

FINE RING

"They have a fine ring to them," he said, "purporting to provide assistance to help families become self-supporting . . .

"Yet today, in many states, under the guise of these self-support laws, women are being forced to go to work, leaving their children without adequate care.

★ ★ ★

"For example, when the corn or cotton crop is ready in some states, the ADC rolls are closed. A recent study revealed that in some California counties public assistance was withdrawn if a mother refused to take a 40-dollar-a-month, live-in job as a domestic servant."

Ex-German POW Works Near Old Prison Camp

SAGINAW (AP) — Guenter F. Ahrens, 37, was wounded in the chest and hip while a medical corpsman for the Germans in World War II.

He was captured by American soldiers and sent to a prison camp at nearby Caro, where he worked in beet fields for 3½ years.

Today Ahrens is a barber not far from that prison camp. Ahrens, his wife and son, Norbert, 9, fled East Germany and were sponsored here by an uncle, Herman Pohlman of Saginaw.

Hollywood Headlines

Stewart and Jean Find Ranch Life Fascinating

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Meanwhile, back at the ranch—

Jean Simmons and Stewart Granger are now in Hollywood, but they'll be back at the ranch as soon as they wind up their current film duties. These two escapees from London drawing rooms are the most enthusiastic converts to the Western life in these here parts.

★ ★ ★

When I last talked to Jean, she was slightly numbed by her husband's announcement that they had bought 103 square miles of cattle country near Silver City, N.M. His plan was to live there all the time and come to California only to make movies.

"I'm not so sure how I'm going to like it," she said warily at the time. "But it's what Jimmy (Granger's real name) wants, so I'll go along with it."

★ ★ ★

That was a year ago. Since, the Grangers acquired American citizenship, a baby and another ranch. The new place is 10,000 acres near Nogales, Ariz.

I paid Jean another call on the set of "Until They Sail" to see how she liked the ranch.

"Which one?" she inquired with wide eyes. "The residential ranch or the working ranch?" They're the first couple I've met with "His" and "Hers" ranches.

★ ★ ★

The Arizona place is the residential ranch, she explained, and she is captivated by the life there.

"At first I wondered what I would do," she said. "But I find the day isn't big enough to accomplish everything I want to do. There is always some place to go by horseback or truck, some phase of ranching to watch. And if I want to relax, I can go rowing on one of our five lakes.

"What do we do at night? We're too tired to do anything. We eat an enormous meal and go to bed. We don't even turn on the television set."

They employ five cowboys, she said, whose reaction to the British acting couple was interesting.

★ ★ ★

"At first, they were standoffish," Jean said. "They didn't know quite what to think of Jimmy. But when they saw him cutting a steer out of the herd, their attitude changed entirely. They decided he was all right."

Ducks Snub Their Pond During Hunting Season

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Residents on the East Hartford block here are about convinced that ducks are smarter than people.

During duck season, not one was sighted. But now that the season has ended, 72 are enjoying a pond within 50 feet of the nearest house. The ducks ignore the curious who come right up to the water's edge.

Warren Scores Court Calendars

Asks for More Judges to Relieve Congestion on Dockets

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chief Justice Warren said today some court calenders are congested to a degree which could be described as "almost a denial of justice to litigants."

Addressing the annual meeting of the American Law Institute, Warren expressed hope Congress will provide additional judges. He said satisfactory progress in eliminating congestion will not be made until new judgeships are created and 13 vacancies filled.

★ ★ ★

"Even then, there will be much to be done," he said. "Merely creating new judgeships when calendars become congested will not cure all of our ills. We must find better methods to dispatch the business of the courts.

★ ★ ★

"There is no one remedy because there is no one cause for the congestion, which for many years has been developing, particularly in the metropolitan centers. I assure you that the entire problem is much on the minds of the members of the Judicial Conference of the United States."

★ ★ ★

The conference comprises the chief judges of the 11 federal circuits and is presided over by the Chief Justice of the United States.

Warren said the conference expects Congress in its present session to pass a bill establishing a roster of retired federal judges who are willing and able to serve, on assignment by the chief justice, in helping clear up congested dockets.

★ ★ ★

Warren said his own court is current in its work.

The Judicial Conference has recommended creation of 42 additional judgeships. A bill pending in the House would create 38 additional judgeships. A Senate bill provides for 37.

Prepares to Call Session to Consider Beck Ouster

WASHINGTON (INS)—Secretary-Treasurer John F. English of the giant Teamsters Union is engaged today in the biggest job of his life—trying to rid his organization of its President, Dave Beck.

The 68-year-old veteran of the labor movement, according to reliable reports, is preparing a letter to the 11 vice presidents of the 1,400,000-member Teamsters International Union, demanding a special general executive board meeting.

The session would be called to consider ousting Beck.

Under the union's constitution, a majority of the board members must demand a special board meeting if the President is unwilling to summon one. The board is made up of the president (Beck), the secretary-treasurer (English), and 11 vice presidents.

All indications are that Beck—despite his expulsion as an AFL-CIO vice president—is unwilling to call any showdown meeting and does not intend to resign voluntarily. Thus, some other Teamsters official must force a board meeting, and English has taken on the task.

NOT (TOP MAN)

Insiders say that Beck, although president, has not been rated the strong man in the hierarchy of the largest trade union in the free world.

For some time, the union "strong man" role has been assigned to vice president James R. Hoffa of Detroit, long considered the logical successor to Beck.

Hoffa, however, now faces two federal court trials—one on charges of bribery and conspiracy, and another on wire-tapping; so he also may be weakened by the time the Teamsters hold their convention in Miami, beginning in late September.

★ ★ ★

On the sidelines in the contest for power is the old veteran of the road—English. This Boston Irishman is not any Johnny-come-lately in the labor movement. He was in it when the stakes were just enough bread and potatoes for a hungry man's table.

Billy Graham Crusade 'in Red'

Collections Fail to Cover Cost of Revival; Private Donations Bridge Gap

NEW YORK (AP)—If it had to depend on the collection plate, Billy Graham's New York crusade would be running deep in the red.

The nightly offerings, the way they've been going, wouldn't half foot the bill.

Some well-to-do individual donors are filling in the gap. Even so, backers still have a financial problem.

"But I'm sure we'll be able to handle it," said Roger Hull, New York insurance executive and chairman of the crusade Executive Committee.

★ ★ ★

Altogether, counting television plans, the six-weeks crusade is expected to cost about $1,200,000. Graham and his team get nothing but their housing.

★ ★ ★

At the Madison Square Garden meetings, where no special appeals are made, the swift-paced collections have been bringing in around $7,000 a night. This means the New York audience have averaged chipping in less than 50 cents apiece.

This is about what planners expected. They count on about $300,000 in the six weeks.

That's $600,000 shy of the estimated costs of the crusade itself, including advertising and rental of the Garden and crusade offices.

★ ★ ★

Of this $600,000, private donations ranging from $100 up to one gift of $50,000 have brought in just over $400,000 leaving $200,000 to go.

This doesn't include plans for televising the crusade on Saturday nights, beginning June 1, which will cost another $300,000 — of which $100,000 so far has been contributed.

★ ★ ★

"We've still got a financial problem," Hull said. "If everything goes by the book, we've got to raise another $400,000."

He said names of the donors were confidential. The amount of nightly collections also is not made public, he said, in order to avoid putting emphasis on this aspect of the crusade.

Romeo Receives Gift From Ford

Presentation of $3,500 for Civic Youth Center to Be Friday

ROMEO — Coincident with today's opening of the three-day program dedicating its Michigan Proving Grounds came the announcement by the Ford Motor Co. of a $3,500 gift from the Ford Fund to the Romeo Community Building Authority, for the Civic Youth center.

Formal presentation of the Ford check will be made to H. O. Evans Jr., building authority chairman, at a special open house Friday, at the test track.

Robert W. Gaines, proving grounds manager, will make the presentation before 50 Romeo civic, church and school dignitaries and other Ford officials.

'Jennie McGuffie' Day Planned by Lake Orion

LAKE ORION — One of Orion's most beloved teachers is planning retirement and the village is creating a suitable celebration to thank her for twenty-eight years of continuous service.

Jennie McGuffie Day has been proclaimed for June 1 by Mayor W. C. Leipprandt.

A banquet in the High School gym on June 1, at 6:30 p.m. is slated, with 400 tickets available from village drug stores. The program, planned by local people will be a surprise until that night. All interested persons have been invited to attend the dinner or the program to follow.

Miss McGuffie is in her 38th year of teaching, having taught in Marlette, Midland, Union City, and Lowell before coming to Orion in 1929.

Earlier she taught history and math but in later years, just math, reaching almost every student that graduated from Lake Orion High School.

Besides teaching, for many years she was junior class adviser, sponsor for the Girl Reserves, and the founder of the Orion Branch of the Future Teachers of America, which is named in her honor. She was once principal of the high school.

JENNIE MCGUFFIE

She has served as an officer in the PTA and of the Teachers Club.

Miss McGuffie plans to join her cousin, May Howlett, with whom she has purchased a home in Jackson, near her birthplace and the church at Stockbridge which welcomes her summers and weekends.

Ford Backs Budget for Foreign Aid

DETROIT (AP) — Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Co., has asked Michigan congressmen to support President Eisenhower's foreign aid budget.

Ford said in a telegram to senators and congressmen yesterday that if the President "believes that his program would be jeopardized by a reduction in (foreign aid) appropriations, I personally feel it is imperative that his recommendations, without curtailment, have the necessary approval of the Congress."

★ ★ ★

Ford said:

"The security of this nation as well as its economic well-being depends, in my opinion, almost entirely upon the success of our foreign policy.

"In some areas, although I don't have all the facts, I do not agree with that policy. Nevertheless, I do feel that the President personally has kept the peace of the world since taking office."

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower has asked Congress for $3,865,000,000 for foreign aid.

Barbers to Close After 2 Holidays

Pontiac area barbers have agreed to close their shops on the Fridays and Saturdays after the Memorial Day and July Fourth holidays.

The action was taken at a special meeting of Local 50, State Barbers Assn.

They will be open on Wednesdays, the day before each holiday.

The decision, the same as in past years, is designed to give barbers some vacation time as they are often unable to secure replacement help for normal vacations, the local said.

Auburn Area Throbs With Activity

New Director Has Boys Club Jumping

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Since Charles (Chuck) Cresswell, executive director, arrived at the Boys Club here less than three weeks ago, things are really popping.

Parents of the area, agog at the increased activity of the club, are dropping in to learn "what's going on."

★ ★ ★

Cresswell, the first paid director of the one-year-old boy's group, already has begun a host of improvements for the club, procured a site donation for next door outdoor activity and outlined activities for summer.

Arriving May 1, he had the boys pitch in and put up partitions in the basement of the Heights American Legion Hall where the group meets.

They have turned out for themselves a woodworking room, TV and reading room, shower room, boxing and wrestling ring and ping pong tables.

★ ★ ★

Next, following a donation of land by John H. Andrews, 3151 Churchill Rd., the boys and volunteers cleaned up the lot. They have it ready for the following program, which Cresswell says will begin in mid-June:

Softball games; volley ball; archery and rifle practice; badminton; horseshoe matches and camping trips.

★ ★ ★

The lot will have a games area and nature and handicrafts also will be taught.

In this, officials again believe the club to be fortunate because Cresswell's wife, Betty, works with him. She teaches crafts, leads games and watches over the younger fellows during the club's hours.

Boys of from 6 to 16 belong to the club and their active hours are weekdays, 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. and 10 to 12 noon and 1 to 3 p.m. on Saturdays. Creiwell noted that older boys now are being allowed to stay until 9 p.m. on weekdays.

Since he has been there, 15 new members have joined, which puts the club well over 300 members. He announced that all boys from Pontiac and Avon townships are invited to belong.

He adds too, that parents are welcome to come in for a confab or tour of inspection anytime.

Chuck, who hails from Lebanon, Ind. (where he was program director for the Lebanon Boys Club) remarks:

"The biggest problem confronting us now is the lack of equipment."

Questioned as to greatest needs of the group, he listed: Bookcases, furniture such as tables and especially chairs, desk and desk chair, games, tools and all sports equipment.

★ ★ ★

According to Oakland County Deputy, Stephen Navarre, "Before the club was organized, there were numerous breakings and enterings by boys of the 10-to-12 age group in the area. However, since the club has been organized we have noticed a sharp decline in the criminal tendencies of the age group."

Can't Bulldoze Students—They Do the Grading!

BRAIDWOOD, Ill. (AP)—Everybody dozes at this school — but then that's what they're taught—bulldozing in fact.

Some 40 young men are enrolled in the Greer Earth Moving School—the world's first bulldozer college.

The class area includes some 600 acres of battered and scarred ground where students rumble along in crawler tractors, payloaders, scrapers, motor graders and huge trucks.

Three road building machinery manufacturers loaned the school's 17 pieces of heavy equipment cost free. Run by Greer Shop Training, Inc., of Chicago, the school turns out trained road construction men, ready for the huge 33-billion-dollar federal highway program when it gets started.

SOUP TO NUTS

During Greer's 55-year history, it has taught some 80,000 men everything from auto mechanics to piano tuning.

With 41,000 miles of roadway to be built in the next 10 years, Greer decided to add roadbuilding to the program.

Keith Hutchinson, the 32-year-old manager of the school, explained that the work is not dangerous if safety rules and common sense are followed.

* * *

"Unsafe practice is one thing we will not tolerate," Hutchinson said. "We'll toss a student out of school if we see he lacks the ability to complete the course."

The school provides three courses of study.

The five-week course trains a man to drive crawler tractors, trucks, loaders, scrapers and do preventative maintenance.

The four-week course gives preventative maintenance and experience on motor graders.

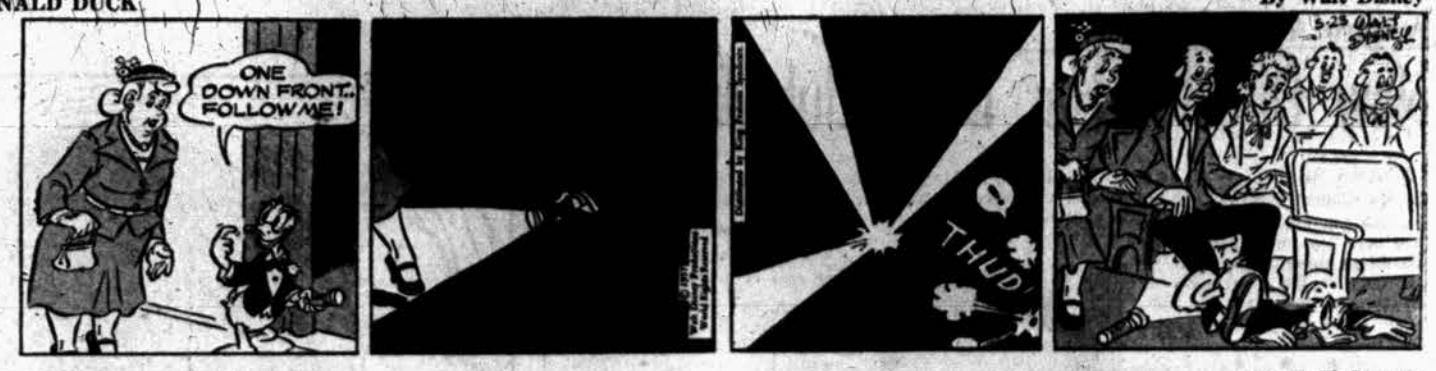

* * *

The eight-week course includes all machines and trucks.

After graduation, the operating engineers union allows a permit when there is an opening. If the novice gets a permit and proves capable after the 30-day probation period, he gets a union card, giving him a crack at operator's wages that range from $2.50 to $3.50 an hour.

Stock Market Trading Quiet

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued to sell off in early trading today.

There were a few selected gainers. Trading quieted after a fairly active opening.

★ ★ ★

Among pivotal issues the declines were mainly fractional but Du Pont clipped its high price by more than 2 points. Lukens Steel was ahead around a point.

Still above its old 1957 highs established in January, the market was undergoing a consolidation phase marked by expected profit-taking, brokers said.

Investor sentiment was not aided, however, by such items as the forthcoming lay-off by General Motors' Frigidaire Division of 2,200 production workers and word that incoming orders of the machine tool makers were at the lowest point in two years.

★ ★ ★

The decline was mild, however, and pervaded most major divisions. Rails were depressed by a number of lower earnings reports.

Chrysler rose around a point. Anaconda rose a fraction. Southern Natural Gas was up ½ at 46 on 4,100 shares. Phelps Dodge rose a major fraction.

Opening blocks included Bethlehem Steel off ⅛ at 46⅝ on 1,500 shares; Royal Dutch off ⅛ at 52 on 2,000; and Northern Pacific up ⅛ at 47 on 1,200.

Price of Grains Holding Steady

CHICAGO (AP) — Most grain futures prices showed only minor changes on the Board of Trade today although corn showed fractional gains due to commercial and professional buying.

More wet weather is forecast for the wheat, corn and soybean areas. This indication of further planting delays lent strength to corn and soybeans and kept wheat futures from falling much below the previous close.

Near the end of the first hour old style wheat was ⅝ to ⅝ lower, July $2.08⅝, new style wheat was ⅛ to ⅜ lower, July $2.09½, corn was unchanged to ¾ higher, July $1.33⅜, oats were ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, July 67, rye was unchanged to ¼ higher, July $1.18¼, soybeans were unchanged to ½ higher, July $2.35⅜, and lard was 7 to 12 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $12.42.

$100 Million a Year by 1965

Advertising Head Sees Rapid Growth

Nearly 150 key employes of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc., today heard Ernest A. Jones, president, forecast that the advertising agency's billings will reach $100,000,000 by 1965.

Jones, conducting the first of two orientation and survey meetings for the agency's headquarters staff and branch managers, based his forecast on a projection of the firm's established growth pattern against an estimated national advertising expenditure in 1965 of $15 billion.

He pointed out that between 1947 and 1957 all advertising increased 134 per cent, while MJ&A billing climbed 317 per cent to $37,500,000, a rate of increase matched by only five of America's 25 largest agencies.

"Our expansion of physical plant and service areas is aimed at increasing that pace," Jones said. "Within the last few years we have brought about one of the greatest business diversifications enjoyed by any agency.

"Our agency continues to be a dominant force in automotive advertising, has become a specialist in pure and applied electronics, is, perhaps, the world's largest advertiser of chemicals, and is expanding rapidly in the package goods field, particularly food and drugs. The growth potential of these fields is almost incalculable."

The greatest challenges to advertising agency operation are likely to come within the next few years, Jones said, and agencies unable to meet the growing demands of business for merchandising support and leadership may cease to exist.

"Business today is in a state of active ferment," Jones said. "Expanded plant capacity must be used and that can be accomplished only by stepping up the rate of consumption. Squeezed between rising costs and stepped-up competition it is inevitable that business turn to the advertising agencies for new marketing ideas to open up fringe areas or entirely new markets."

The two staff meetings are being held on the 23rd anniversary of the agency's founding.

Dinah to Share Show With Guest Emcees Next Year

Jack Webb Caught in Tax Web Concerning 'Dragnet' Sale

NEW YORK (INS) — Dinah Shore will appear on only 20 of next season's Chevy shows. Guest stars will emcee the others, but so far no one has been signed definitely.

Ginger Rogers has indicated that she wouldn't mind having the fill-in job. Response to Ginger's occasional guest shots was so good, NBC says she's a "strong contender." Dinah isn't going to work the full season because the tax situation would make it downright unprofitable.

Jack Webb's caught in the tax web. When he and his business partners sold the rights to "Dragnet" a couple of years back the reported price was $5,000,000.

Now, unless some "compromise" is reached, Jack will bank a mere 10 per cent of that beautiful figure.

BORGE PLANS TOUR

Victor Borge, now playing London's Palace Theater, will return here this summer to begin another nationwide tour with his one-man show. TV wants him back but Victor hasn't said yes . . .

June Taylor, Jackie Gleason's choreographer, is deciding which of two other shows she'll go to when Jackie departs June 22 . . .

If you've been wondering whatever became of Miriam Hopkins, she'll star on May 30th's "Climax," aptly titled "Disappearance." Miriam was once one of the top-rated actresses in both the talent and temperament department.

The undergraduate spy I have planted at Columbia University tells me the talk is Charles Van Doren is readying his resignation from the faculty.

Lon Chaney Jr. now doing commercials . . .

REPEAT SHOWING

Kaiser Aluminum Hour's recent drama "Night Court" received such favorable response from viewers that it'll be repeated in September . . .

Those stories about Arthur Godfrey quitting television to go back to being a radio disc jockey are not only premature—they just ain't so.

The redhead's "Talent Scouts" has been renewed for a year starting July 1. CBS says that Godfrey may not take a summer vacation and is likely to stay right on through the sizzling months with the show.

Rumors started when Arthur announced he was dropping his Wednesday show, and word got around that he was being signed for a strictly radio deal.

Arthur's present daytime radio-TV show will continue, and as things stand now this fall he will "tape" a late afternoon radio stanza each day immediately following his morning frolics.

Latest Thing for Men: Book of 'Woman-Talk'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The country's flooded with French, Spanish and Italian dictionaries but I've long thought there should be a "Women-talk" dictionary so we can translate what a woman says into its honest meaning.

Fortunately, Comedian Will Jordan, who does such a clever Ed Sullivan impersonation, has studied this, and comes up with a lexicon. We now present what a gal says to a guy on a date—and what she is thinking:

WOMAN-TALK: "I'll be ready in five minutes."

What she's thinking: "He'll cool his heels a half hour—I waited long enough for him to phone."

★ ★ ★

WOMAN-TALK: "Oh, we can go anywhere at all. I'm not hungry."

"I'll start off with a side of steer and gradually gain momentum."

WOMAN-TALK: "We don't have to spend money to have a good time."

"His old man's loaded and tonight I'm going to have caviar, oysters Rockefeller and champagne and also some expensive stuff."

WOMAN-TALK: "Is that a good drink? I don't like liquor and can't tell one kind from another."

"That dumb waiter! He brought me bourbon and I distinctly ordered scotch!"

★ ★ ★

WOMAN-TALK: "Ooooh, don't you think that comedian's rather risque?"

"Wow, is he dull. Remind me to bring my Sunday School class here some night."

WOMAN-TALK: "Thanks for such a wonderful evening—I'd invite you in, but my roommate's probably asleep."

"And if she ain't she'd soon be after she met him. What a creepola!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Mike Todd, diamond ring-shopping in Paris for Liz Taylor, specified: "I don't want 'em too big—it hurts her fingers" . . . Bernard Baruch's memoirs are due July 4 . . .

Area Offering Driving Classes

Waterford Maps Course Primarily for Youths Not in Public School

A summer driver education program is being offered by Waterford Township high school.

The program is being offered primarily for youths between the ages of 15 and 18 who reside in the school district and who are not enrolled in the public school at the present time.

★ ★ ★

If time and space permits, high school and junior high students finding it difficult to take the course during the regular school term will be enrolled, according to Thad Carr, principal.

Students who successfully complete the program will be given a certificate which will permit them to obtain a drivers license. Present state laws prohibit any person under 18 years of age from obtaining a drivers license without evidence that he has completed an approved driver education course.

Classes will begin on June 17 and end August 14. No charge for the course will be made. Students will be in class approximately two hours a day. Waldo Ashley will be the instructor.

★ ★ ★

Teenagers interested in enrolling for the course may do so by calling the high school office, and those accepted for the program will be notified by Ashley.

Area Incorporation Work Proceeding

People working on the incorporation of Waterford into a village, say that thirty subdivisions have been canvassed and a census of the area is almost complete.

All but one petition has been turned in and they should be all filed with the Oakland County supervisors by the end of next week, according to workers.

★ ★ ★

Experts familiar with incorporation proceedings are now being lined up to speak and several meetings have been scheduled for the immediate future.

Survey Shows Reasons Drivers Have Accidents

ANN ARBOR (INS)—A survey conducted in Washtenaw County recently showed one out of every five drivers involved in traffic accidents had something else on his mind or was not in his best physical condition at the time.

The survey, made by University of Michigan traffic engineers, showed many drivers were "trying to get the car home to wife," were "worried about an examination," "just got married" or "had a recent operation."

★ ★ ★

Still others were distracted by "children fussing in the back seat" or "people talking." Some were sick, tired, intoxicated or nervous.

About 55 per cent of the drivers questioned felt other drivers are not to be trusted to operate cars properly.

Some 30 per cent admitted they could have prevented the accident and that it could be assumed they were to blame.

Bronx Zoo Acts as Go-Between for Platypuses

NEW YORK (AP)—That romance-minded old institution the Bronx Zoo, is going to try again to induce its duck-billed platypuses to do something about a little duck-billed platypus.

The zoo has been mighty hopeful at times in previous years—only to have hopes dashed. Now it's going to change tactics.

★ ★ ★

The zoo's two platypuses, "Cecil" and "Penelope," were obtained from their native Australia 10 years ago and are described as the only specimens outside Australia. They are small egg-laying mammals, having a bill like a duck and broad tails.

A zoo spokesman said today efforts will be made to encourage mating this year by permitting Penelope to dig a cave in a mud bank whenever she wishes.

Officials Wary as Baby Rhinos Show Affection

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit zoo officials are hoping Colo and Manda, the establishment's new baby rhinoceros, maintain their affection for one another.

★ ★ ★

The 18-month-old rhinos, who each weigh about 500 pounds, made their debut Tuesday.

They weere given to the zoo by Arthur H. Buhl Jr., president of the Buhl Land Co., and his cousin, Lawrence D. Buhl Jr., treasurer of the firm.

Cola and Manda were captured in the foothills of Africa's Mount Kilimanjaro. They arrived in Detroit last Saturday.

Zoo officials, observing the budding romance between Cola and Manda, pointed out that male and female rhinos usually part company when they mature.

Sometimes they have to be parted for safety's sake.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Josephine hovered over her two young whooping crane chicks today and zoo officials began a precautionary watch to make sure nothing happens to the little rust-colored balls of fuzz.

The second youngster finally made it out of his shell yesterday afternoon after a 24-hour battle, with an assist from Jo.

When Papa Crip, who alternated with his mate in the sitting chores, got up from the nest, Jo saw the egg broken in half. She pushed Crip aside and pecked off the remaining parts of the shell.

★ ★ ★

The young whoopers bring to 29 the number known to exist. Twenty-four of them are wild and the other is at a zoo in San Antonio, Tex.

Navy Announces New Program for Re-enlistees

The Pontiac Navy Recruiting Office has announced that a new re-enlistment program was put into effect Wednesday.

It is now possible for former Navy men discharged in certain ratings to reenlist and be guaranteed immediate assignment to a school in one of the many technical fields.

Regardless of the amount of time that has elapsed since the discharge of a former Navy man, he may still be eligible for this guaranteed schooling.

★ ★ ★

The Navy Recruiting Office has asked that men interested in this program contact them in the Riker Building.

Maine May Change Term of Governor

AUGUSTA, Me. (AP) — The Maine Senate today passed two constitutional amendments proposals doubling the governor's term to four years and changing the state election date from September to November.

★ ★ ★

The proposals, already passed by the House, now go to Gov. Edmund S. Muskie. If he signs them, the proposals will go before the voters Sept. 9.

Gov. Muskie, a Democrat, is known to favor both.

The Legislature is predominantly Republican.

Changing the election to coincide with those in the other 47 states also has been a goal of Maine's minority Democrats.

Forbid Tampa Police to Read While on Duty

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A new list of "don'ts" for Tampa policemen forbids reading on the job, walking with hands in pockets and the acceptance of free meals or movies.

And they are admonished to control their tempers and exercise patience and discretion at all times.

Saginaw Couple Die as Auto Hits Train

SAGINAW (AP) — An elderly couple was killed today when their car collided with a Grand Trunk 36-car freight train at a grade crossing on Williamson road, two miles south of the Saginaw city limits.

The driver was identified as Herman Pretzer, 87, a retired factory worker. His companion was believed to be his wife, but police were unable to make positive identification.

John Buda of Durand, the train brakeman, told police the train whistle was sounded as the train approached the unprotected crossing.

Coppens Reappointed to State Tourist Council

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams today reappointed Fritz Coppens of Traverse City to the Michigan Tourist Council.

The appointment is for a term expiring April 18, 1962 and requires Senate confirmation.

Two new United Nations stamps honor the World Health Organization, Paris reports.

Queen, Philip Tour Brewery in Denmark Visit

COPENHAGEN (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip strolled through Denmark's giant Carlsberg brewery but not a drop of suds crossed their lips.

As a foundation owned by the Danish nation, the brewery supports many philanthropic enterprises, and every glass of beer it turns out means that much more financial help for Danish science and culture.

★ ★ ★

About 12,000 Danes thronged the brewery grounds while the British royal visitors, accompanied by their hosts, King Frederick IX, Queen Ingrid and Princess Margrethe, viewed the process of beer making and the bottling plant. About 70,000 bottles were turned out during the hour's visit.

The visitors called at the "honorary residence" on the grounds which is reserved for a Dane who has made an outstanding contribution to the nation's progress. It is now the home of Niels Bohr, the Nobel award winning nuclear physicist. Sixty children from the brewery's kindergarten curtsied a welcome.
