

Nixon Names Agnew as VP Choice

ONE COLOR

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, winner of the Republican presidential nomination, today picked Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland as his running mate.

Nixon made the announcement in a See Related Stories, Pictures, Page C-1 brief news conference at 12:40 p.m. He said some 100 party leaders had been consulted.

The selection of Agnew, a onetime supporter of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, was a major surprise. The Maryland governor delivered the nominating speech for Nixon last night.

Nixon opened his news conference saying the deliberations "have been very thorough on what we think is a tremendously important decision."

He said he wanted a man qualified to be president, who could campaign effectively and who would be able to assume new responsibilities dealing especially with the problems of the nation's cities.

Nixon said he had been in almost continuous session with one hour out for sleep and that 100 leaders had been consulted, in person or by phone.

"I have now made a decision," he said, adding that he will recommend the convention nominate Agnew for vice president.

Agnew was elected governor of Maryland in 1966 after a term as county executive of Baltimore County, which surrounds the city of Baltimore.

He attracted considerable Democratic support in the heavily Democratic state after George Mahoney, an outspoken foe of open housing had captured the Democratic nomination for governor.

Nixon won a smashing first ballot Republican presidential nomination early today by bowing over Rockefeller and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Rockefeller got 287, Reagan 182 and the holdout favorite sons — including Michigan's Gov. Romney and Gov. (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 4)

S. Viet President Is Optimistic

Thieu Sees Peace, Maybe Next Year

LONG XUYEN, Vietnam (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu said today he sees signs that peace will come, possibly next year.

"I am optimistic. I have my hopes in peace," Thieu told a news conference on a trip to this rice-growing area in the Mekong Delta.

"Not this year, but we might see the light at the end of the tunnel next year." Despite his optimism, Thieu said he still expects the enemy to renew co-ordinated attacks throughout the country. He said he saw no sign that the recent lull was a de-escalation by the enemy.

CAN'T DO IT
They are planning to launch a third offensive but at present they cannot," Thieu said. "And if they cannot, they will say they are de-escalating. But I believe they must launch their offensive to have a point at the negotiating table. "The fact that the Communists cannot attack Saigon does not mean de-escalation, because they are rocketing elsewhere."

Thieu said he remained opposed to any attempt to halt completely the bombing of North Vietnam. He added that Hanoi should first respond to the allied "good will" shown by the limited bombing halt.

"If they do not attack, we must not be naive and give them a respite," he declared. "They might build up for another offensive later. The Communists are having more and more difficulty in launching their offensive. They might launch some small scale attack. They do not want to fail again."

Asked when he thought Hanoi might respond to allied "good will," Thieu replied: "They will respond after they fail in their third offensive."

Thieu was asked about the choice of Richard M. Nixon as the Republican presidential candidate.

"I have no comment except to congratulate Mr. Nixon," Thieu said. Thieu has met Nixon on the candidate's previous trips to Vietnam.

"There is a difference between a candidate and a president and anything he said that might have been valid three weeks or three months ago will not necessarily be valid if he is elected. We will just have to wait."

TO WATCH HARVEST
Thieu went to Long Xuyen to watch the harvesting of a crop of so-called miracle rice developed in the Philippines, which he had helped plant three months ago.

Downbeat for Reagan

Injunction Refused in Orion Airport Suit

Oakland County Circuit Judge James S. Thornburn yesterday refused to issue an injunction against the Oakland County Board of Supervisors in taking action on expansion plans at the Oakland-Orion Airport in Pontiac Township.

Thornburn's ruling came at a hearing requested by Bessie R. Warden, of 1123 Doris, Pontiac Township, last week.

Warden was seeking an order that would have restrained the board of supervisors from authorizing any improvements at the airport until after a reapportioned board takes office in January.

Warden was defeated Tuesday in his bid for nomination to the new 27-member board. He was a candidate in District 22.

In his law suit against the board, Warden contends that the present 87-man board improperly approved land purchase and construction commitments at the airport.

Had the injunction been issued it would have prevented the board from taking action on matters other than those that concern the usual operation and maintenance of existing facilities.

The board is presently waiting the approval of a Federal Aviation Administration master plan before beginning construction and purchasing additional land for an all-weather aviation facility.

The county already has acquired 590 acres of the estimated 1,400 needed for the planned expansion of the airport.

FRECKLE CHAMPIONS—The Oakland County 4-H Fair was the scene of a Freckle Contest last night. The two first-place finishers were Connie Burling (left), 11, of 338 W. Hopkins, and Mark Widman, 11, of 5561 Castleton, West Bloomfield Township. The two champs received $25 U.S. savings bonds from The Pontiac Press, sponsor of the contest. Explosion Kills 9 Miners

GREENVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Rescue workers began the slow process today of carrying out the bodies of nine miners killed yesterday in a fiery explosion in a coal mine shaft near here.

A mine employee, who asked to remain unidentified, said the rescue workers had found eight bodies in one area of the mine. The body of the ninth miner was found nearby, he said.

The employee said it would take some time for the workers to bring the victims to the surface because the shaft area was small. The first body was discovered at about 4 this morning — 14 hours after the accident was reported.

Throughout the rescue operation and the reported finding of the bodies, mine officials, police and other authorities have refused to discuss the accident with newsmen.

The entire area leading to the River Queen mine entrance was cordoned off soon after the accident and newsmen have not been permitted in.

The mine, owned and operated by Peabody Coal Co., is just south of this small coal-mining community in western Kentucky.

About 300 persons — women, children and miners — lined a road leading from the mine area to seek out loved ones, relatives and friends among those being carried out.

One of those bystanders, a middle-aged man wearing a work uniform said: "I've been in mining all my life and my brother-in-law is down there, and I know there is no chance."

The explosion rocked a shaft inside the mine with a series of blasts. A miner who had been working nearby said, "The blast knocked you down every time you got up — just like a cyclone."

Rescue operations, coordinated by the Kentucky Division of Mines and Minerals, began soon afterward.

It was estimated that the trapped miners were nearly 8,000 feet back from the entrance to the mine and about 90 feet beneath the surface.

Initial attempts to enter the mine were hampered by debris that clogged the entrance, thick coal dust and intense heat. At one point rescuers reported the underground temperature in several adjoining shafts and tunnels to be above 200 degrees.

Trooper, Youth Killed in Inkster

INKSTER (AP) — Police said "hit and run" gunmen today killed a State Police detective and wounded two Inkster officers. In an ensuing manhunt, officers shot and killed a 14-year-old Negro boy.

The shootings erupted after four nights of isolated gunfire and firebombings, police said.

Police identified the slain youth as James Matthews of Inkster. They said officers attempted to stop Matthews and another youth for questioning and that he fled on foot, ignoring warnings to halt.

They said Matthews was shot less than a half hour after a high-powered rifle bullet struck and killed Detective Robert Gosner, 34, of the State Police post at nearby Detroit. Gosner is white.

POLICE AID RUSHED

About 100 officers from other departments and four FBI agents were rushed into the city of 37,000 near the Southwest Side of Detroit, said Inkster Police Chief James Fyke.

Some 4½ hours earlier, Fyke said, a shotgun blast from a passing car wounded Inkster Patrolmen John Knight and Thomas Freeman while they were patrolling a main street. Knight, a Negro, and Freeman, who is white, were treated at a hospital for superficial wounds.

Fyke said Turban Lewis, 24, of Inkster, a Negro, was being held for investigation. Another person, unidentified, also was being held police said.

Two-Day Forecast Is Wet and Sultry

Showers and thundershowers with highs in the mid-80s and low 90s are forecast for the Pontiac area until the weekend.

The weatherman predicts cooler temperatures and clearing skies Saturday.

The mercury will register a low of 68 to 72 tonight.

Winds, variable at five to 15 miles per hour, will continue through tonight.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today 30, tonight 50, tomorrow 40.

Sixty-eight was the low in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The 2 p.m. temperature was 79.

Romney Disaccord Is Planked Down

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Unfinished business department: the short, impassioned disaccord expressed by Gov. George Romney with one section of the Republican platform adopted Tuesday night was the most lucid, realistic exposition of the imbalance of various elements of the economy that I have ever heard.

Thus far there has not been the least sign of disorder inside or outside the convention area, although as always delegates and spectators have been generally inattentive.

The business of the sessions and the many addresses have had to compete with a continual buzz of conversation and movement. In fact, one disgusted speaker concluded his remarks with an acid "thank you for your inattention."

I was interested to find out what happened to a group of dissidents from Michigan's 19th Congressional District, which was supposedly bent on appearing before the credentials committee Monday to claim recognition as "convention delegates. Well, nothing happened. The group never put in an appearance and, as of now, nobody seems to know what the dissidents were dissident about.

FOUL BLOW

En route to the 5 p.m. convention session yesterday that would see the nomination of Richard Nixon as Republican candidate for president, I got to thinking about the foul blow and "TV" dealt would be political orators who head state delegations.

Before the advent of these electronic forms of communication, a chairman responding to a roll call and my privilege, say, that his state cast eight votes for Joe Zilch."

But now, with national exposure at his command, does a histrionically-inclined chairman follow the same script? He does not.

He makes the most of his opportunity and gives out with something like this: "Mr. Chairman, as the honored head of the distinguished group of delegates representing a great and dynamic commonwealth, the salubrious State of Coma, it is my duty and my privilege, sir, to cast a unanimous ballot of eight votes for that illustrious statesman and servant of the people who has so diligently and ably serviced his country, Joseph Zilch."

Last night's convention session was a honey. It lasted more than nine hours, during which the names of 11 presidential candidates were — put into the nomination hopper, and 44 plain and fancy speeches produced.

Gov. Romney, as Michigan's favorite-son candidate, won a 15-minute demonstration when his name was offered for nomination.

The effective parade of delegates and alternates, and the accompanying whoop-de-do, reflected the handiwork of George Trumbull Jr. who has been in Miami Beach for a week making preparations for it. A former Pontiac Press staffer, George has been a member of Romney's staff for several years.

Eventually came the first nominating roll call, and as it progressed it was evident that Nixon was in like Flynn. The total vote was 692 (26 more than needed for nomination). Rockefeller and Reagan trailed with vote totals of 287 and 183 respectively.

The convention winds up tonight when a vice presidential running mate for Nixon will be elected.

Who will get the nod? I hate to put my prophetic reputation on the line, but there's a lot of whispering about New York's Mayor John Lindsay and Mark Hatfield, U.S. Senator from Oregon.

State, Nursing Home Unit to Dicker on Aid Payment

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Nursing Home Association said yesterday it would advise members not to evict elderly and indigent patients — if the state will negotiate reimbursement payments.

The statement followed reports that nursing home operators in Wayne County had turned out more than 30 patients.

Such action had been threatened by the association and individual operators if the state did not increase the amount paid in nursing home fees under the Medicaid program.

"We are prepared to advise member

TELLING THE STATE

President Basil Boyce said the group was telling the state "you sit down with us and we'll hold our membership in line."

R. Bernard Houston, state director of social services, spoke to the membership along with Dr. Gerald Rice, state director of public health.

Houston said such negotiating sessions would be considered. He added, however, that the department was awaiting formal association reaction on a proposed $1 increase — from $11 to $12 per patient — on state payments to nursing homes for basic services.

The proposal, Houston said, would increase the payments to homes that would agree to provide the department records to show what services were received and with financial information concerning costs; comply with civil rights provisions; accept all patients and agree not to discharge or transfer them.

U. S., S. Viet Troops Invade Valley Again

SAIGON (AP) — American and South Vietnamese troops have invaded the A Shau Valley for the second time in three and a half months, disrupting the major Communist supply base again as part of their campaign to blunt the big enemy offensive expected in the next month or so.

A fleet of 200 helicopters landed more than 3,000 soldiers of the U.S. 101st Air Cavalry Division and the Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division in the valley in the northern part of South Vietnam Sunday and Monday, but announcement of the operation was withheld until today for security reasons.

The U.S. Command in Saigon said the allied force has met with "minimal resistance" so far. Probably warned by heavy air activity that preceded the invasion, the North Vietnamese presumably pulled back across the nearby Laotian border.

U.S. headquarters reported that 15 North Vietnamese troops had been killed in the first four days of the operation. U.S. losses were two dead and 22 wounded, while eight South Vietnamese were killed and 10 wounded.

3 COPTERS DOWNED

Three helicopter gunships were shot down during the first minutes of the massive assault by 200 troop-carrying helicopters and their escorts.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported that government troops uncovered an enemy base camp containing 50 barracks. Searching the structures, the South Vietnamese found an assortment of ammunition including 10 rockets and 15 cases of 50-caliber machine gun ammunition.

Just outside the eastern edge of the valley, units of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division uncovered an enemy bunker complex and another weapons cache that included five mortar tubes and assorted equipment, five antiaircraft machine guns, one recoilless rifle and 30 pounds of explosives.

The first allied visit to the valley lasted a month, and the American and South Vietnamese troops are not expected to stay long this time either. The valley is at the end of the allied supply line and is often dosed in by clouds and fog, and U.S. officials say it would take a division of troops to control it.

A U.S. spokesman said the invasion is considered a spoiling attack to cut the enemy supply and infiltration lines and "do what other damage we can before the monsoons begin this fall."

Golf Tops Bill as C of C Meets

Golf was the main feature at yesterday's annual Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce summer meeting, attended by more than 300 chamber members and guests.

First tee-off was at 8 a.m. at Spring Lake Country Club, 6060 Maybee, Independence Township.

Events included a plate lunch and a buffet dinner with music and door prizes.

Trophies were given to golf tournament winners Joseph Grace, auditor for Pontiac State Bank, and Ralph Norvell of Ralph T. Norvell Insurance Agency.

Chamber members were urged to support an area civic committee's proposal that the new metropolitan Detroit Stadium be built in the Pontiac area. The bid will be presented Sept. 11 to the Metropolitan Stadium Committee.

Uruguay Exec, Aide Kidnaped

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The Uruguayan government says it won't compromise with pro-Peking terrorists who kidnaped a key official in an attempt to force a softening of President Jorge Pacheco Areco's austerity program.

The largest manhunt in the country's history was under way for Dr. Ulises Pereira Reverbel, head of the state electric and telephone company, and a male secretary. They were kidnaped yesterday by four members of the Tupamaro National Liberation Front. Armed with machine guns, the kidnapers wounded Pereira's chauffeur and another secretary.

Pereira, 48, a wealthy cattle rancher, lawyer and close adviser to the president, had been a strong advocate of Pacheco's crackdown on labor agitation and his program of belt tightening to check inflation.

A leaflet distributed by the front, said Reverbel was kidnaped "as a warning that nothing will remain unpunished and that popular justice will be exercised through the most convenient channels."

'SOLD OUT'

The leaflet accused Pacheco of "having sold our country to North American capital through the International Monetary Fund and through the meddling of neighboring dictatorship."

Prices to Go Up for Detroit Papers

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit News and Detroit Free Press made it official Wednesday: the price of home-delivered and Sunday newspapers is going up when they return to publication this weekend.

Sunday edition prices will go from 25 cents to 30 cents, whether sold at newsstands or home-delivered.

CARRIERS GET RAISE

Carrier boys will get a 27 per cent increase, the News reported.

The afternoon News and morning Free Press have been closed since last Nov. 1, when a Teamsters strike against the News triggered a shutdown. Subsequent strikes were called by other unions. Ratification of the final new contract came only last Monday.

Nixon Is Winner on First Ballot

BIG STATES COOL

But Nixon's victory was fashioned with only dribbles of support in six industrial states of New York, California, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan and New Jersey where the November election could be decided.

The only big state which went for Nixon on the showdown roll call — which immediately was made unanimous in the customary bow to party unity — was Illinois.

Generally Nixon was the choice of the South, the Midwest and the Far West. He was supported by nine of the 11 states of the Confederacy, with North Carolina and Arkansas dissenting.

Nixon personally felt, he said, that he won the nomination "in a way designed to win the election." He seemed to base this on the belief that party unity would result from the restraint of his lieutenants in attempting to break apart the Rockefeller, Reagan and favorite-son delegations.

'NO DEALS'

This pattern, he said, helped him win the nomination "without having to pay any price or make any deals" involving second place on the ticket.

Nixon said he will pick a running mate who "in my view will work best with me. I will have to choose whom I think is the best man."

Reporters brought up the issue of whether he had assured Southern delegates that he would not shore down their threats a second man they regarded as undesirable.

"I have made that same statement to delegations from northern states, Nixon said. "I want a candidate that will not divide this country. So I don't intend to pick a candidate that won't be acceptable to the North, just as I don't want to pick one that would be unacceptable to southern states."

HATFIELD MENTIONED

This seemed to point to such a selection as Hatfield, rather than to a Lindsay or Rockefeller, who are not liked in the South.

GOP Moderates Claim Victory at County Polls

Oakland County's moderate Republican leadership was claiming a victory today in its long intraparty struggle with conservative members.

The success for the moderates came Tuesday's primary with the filing of approximately 329 precinct delegate posts with members loyal to the county GOP organization.

Rod Tolman, executive secretary of the county organization, said that when vote totals are completed this week on precinct delegates, moderates will probably be in possession of 80 per cent of the 408 precinct delegate posts.

He cited several key wins over conservatives, including those over two leaders of the strong Oakland County Republican Citizens Committee, a conservative organization founded by State Sen. Robert Huber of Troy.

However, one conservative did make a substantial gain in the primary. Richard D. Kuhn, long a supporter of Huber, won the Republican nomination for county prosecutor over John N. O'Brien.

Meantime, Thomas McWilliams, executive director of the Republican Citizens Committee, was defeated in his bid for the GOP nomination for county clerk.

Boy, 5, Man Drown in Area

Furman II, 5, of 2333 Hempstead, Pontiac Township, and Joseph L. Perry, 46, of 3990 Quillen, Waterford Township.

Police said the Furman boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Furman, was found in the swimming pool of Echo Park Day Camp in Bloomfield Township. Lifeguards discovered the boy shortly after the camp's swimming period had ended.

Perry, a trimmer at Fisher Body plant, was found at 8:30 last night in Pontiac lake in White Lake Township. His body is at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home.

Pupil Housing Plan OK'd

BIRMINGHAM — The Board of Education has finally agreed on a plan for locating Bingham Farms Elementary School students until the new school building can be completed later this year.

On July 16 the board decided not to place the Bingham Farms students on double sessions with students of Valley Woods Elementary School in the Valley Woods building.

The decision came after a number of protests were lodged as parents of students from both schools objected to the double session idea.

In a report to the board this week, Superintendent John B. Smith presented five alternate plans for housing the affected students until their school is completed.

AS A UNIT

Smith recommended, and the board adopted, a plan which will organize the Bingham Farms students as a unit and will utilize various rooms available in other elementary schools in the district until the regular building is completed.

River Dragged for Mother of 4; Children Dead

DETROIT (AP) — Police dragged the Detroit River today for the body of a woman whose four children were found dead by her husband in the basement of their Northeast Side home yesterday.

A short time later police said a woman containing identification for Mrs. Rose-lyne Jones, 30, was found on the Belle Isle Bridge which spans the Detroit River from the mainland to an island park.

Her husband, William, told police he found his four children when he returned home from work and a note from his missing wife. The contents of the note were not disclosed.

Doctors told police they believed the children drowned in a basement bath or shower. An autopsy was set for today to determine the exact cause of death.

The children — two boys and two girls — were identified as Daniel 5, Joseph 3, Jean 2, and Catherine 7 months. The couple has no other children.

Livestock Auction Top Fair Event Today

The Oakland County 4-H Fair, in its third day, continues to draw big crowds of enthusiastic spectators.

Interest is running high for tonight's annual 4-H livestock auction.

Last night, spectators were treated to three hard-fought contests as winners were chosen in a freckle contest (see photos, page 1), pie-eating and hog-calling.

Winners were also announced for individual projects in many 4-H categories.

WINNERS LISTED

State show winners for art notebooks are Lorie Newman and Karen Carrigan, both of Holly Achievers.

Paintings and drawings selected for the state show were by Karen Carrigan, Holly; Brenda Kilmer, Holly; Sigrid Medlen, Orionville; Ann Keith, Frontiersman; Debbie Stoner, Paint Creek Valley; Bonnie Peace, Holly; Deborah Brown, Ro Hi; Debbie Stoner, Paint Creek; David Brown, Ro Hi; Sina Rhodes, Ro Hi; Sandy Marchand, Ro Hi; Ed Stoner, Paint Creek; Rich Eagle, Straw Hats and Diane Scott, Frontiersman.

Sculpture and Ceramics picked for the state show were by Eric Rathburg, East Orion, and Melynda Girst, Ro Hi. Swine senior showmanship trophy goes to Patty Wright, Seymour Lake. Greg Tress will receive the junior showmanship trophy. He is also from Seymour Lake.

CHAMPION SWINE

Grand Champion Swine: Ronald Hess, Ro Hi; Reserve Grand Champion Swine: Russel Hess, Ro Hi; Grand Champion pen of three, Russel Hess, Ro Hi.

Trophy winners in the archery tournament — 10-12 yrs old, Ken McKay, Orionville; 13-15 years old, Connie McKay, Orionville; 16 and over, Jack Middleton, East Orion.

Rifle match trophies went to Stan Rekawek, Oakhill, for the 10 to 12-year-old division; Mary Jo Murphy, Orionville, for the 14-15 year old division and Gloria Dickson, Paint Creek, for the 16 years and over division.

State show winner with purchased flowers is Colleen Welberry of White Lake. Dried flower arrangement awards go to Mary Allmayer, Los Cabelleros and Kay Cooper of Oak Hill.

State show corsage selections were by Luann Gonyou, Oxford; Valerie Krantz, Orionville; Connie McKay, Orionville; Kathryn Smith, Orionville; Connie Welberry, White Lake, and Brenda White, Oxford.

A complete schedule for tonight and tomorrow follows.

1 p.m. — Dairy judging and dairy junior showmanship.
6:30 p.m. — Circus acts.

Commerce Station to Telecast Soon

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — A new television station serving southeastern Michigan is scheduled to begin operating early next month, according to a station spokesman.

Construction began on the station, located at 14 Mile and Decker, in March. The building is completed and color broadcasting equipment is being installed to meet the scheduled Sept. 1 programming date.

Channel 62, WXON-TV, owned by Aden E. Johnson Jr., 4861 Shoreline, Waterford Township, was issued the last permit to operate a station for the Detroit area.

Programming will include live broadcasts, syndicated shows and movies, no earlier than 1950 vintage, says Ronald St. Charles, program director.

Area Vote Corrected

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — It was incorrectly reported yesterday that Mrs. Elaine T. Calder, 2010 Walnut Lake, who received 576 votes, won the Republican nomination for the unexpired term of township clerk.

The nomination actually was won by incumbent Mrs. Robert B. Dupree, 7230 Stonebrook, with 1,210 votes. No Democrats filed for the clerk's post. The term runs until November 1970.

Peach Festival Opens Friday

ROMEO — The first phase of the annual Labor Day weekend Peach Festival begins here tomorrow evening with the crowning of the Romeo Peach Festival Queen.

The pageant will begin at 8 p.m. in the Romeo Junior High School Auditorium, Prospect and Church. There is no admission charge.

An annual event, the Queen contest is entered only by young ladies who have previously won a similar event in another community.

The contest has entries from 10 neighboring communities including Pontiac, Rochester, Oxford, Orionville and Lake Orion.

GIRLS APPEAR TWICE

In the Pageant the girls will appear twice, once in street attire and again in formal dresses.

"The winner has a full slate of events ahead of her," said Mrs. Robert Miller, chairman of the event.

"Among her many activities," Mrs. Miller said, "is a trip to Washington D.C. to present peaches to Michigan and U.S. government officials."

She also has similar appearances scheduled at Tiger Stadium before a Tiger game and at Hazel Park Raceway, where a race will be run in her honor, according to Mrs. Miller.

Oxford-Orion Council to Air Suburbs' Bigotry

OXFORD — "Hypocrisy and Bigotry in Suburbia" will be the subject discussed at the Oxford-Orion Human Relations Council meeting at 8 tonight at the Lake Orion Methodist Church.

Julian Cook Jr., Pontiac attorney, president of the Pontiac Urban League and co-chairman of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, will be the speaker.

Supervisor Units Work Out Army's Lease of Area Site

Details involved in leasing land to the Army for a new Reserve Center in Waterford Township were worked out by two committees of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

The lease met final approval by the ways and means and buildings and grounds committees; and, after legal details are complete, the agreement is to be signed.

The Army has announced it plans to build a $380,000 facility at Watkins Lake Road, near Pontiac Lake Road, across from the Road Commission building. The structure will be located on 3.5 acres of land owned by the county in its County Center complex of facilities surrounding the site.

The building will contain training classrooms, a large assembly room and garage area, according to the Army. It will house the 2nd Battalion, 2nd Brigade (BCT) and Battery C, 4th Battalion, 20th Artillery. Both units are Pontiac area Reserves. The structure would replace facilities at 40 Walnut in Pontiac.

$1 YEARLY

The lease is $1 per year for 25 years. At the end of that time period ownership of the building would revert to the county. It was specified.

The two committees were ordered to review the lease agreement by the Board of Supervisors, which otherwise approved the deal July 18.

An Army spokesman said last May if the lease was approved quickly construction could start within the year and be completed in 16 months.

Notice of Work Schedule Change at GMC Truck & Coach Division Pontiac, Michigan

The following changes affect many employees who are temporarily off work due to model change, inventory, and plant rearrangement.

All production and inspection departments associated with truck lines #1, #2 and #3, report for work one day later than scheduled, with the exception of departments #1401 and #1715, who are to report on Monday, August 12, 1968.

All Building #29, production and inspection departments associated with truck lines #1, #2 and #3, report for work one day later than scheduled with the exception of the machine shop and department #3100 for basic engine assembly.

Employees in the following departments are to report as originally scheduled: Plant #1, Plant #3, Plant #5, sheet metal, coaches, receiving inspection, department #3100 and machine shop both in Building #29, final conditioning and repair truck, and tool division.

Exam Today in Officer Kidnap

NOVI — Three South Lyon youths will undergo preliminary examination this afternoon in Justice Court here on charges of kidnapping and assault with intent to murder.

Giles Karl Askins, 19, of 21939 Pontiac Trail; Floyd L. Kirkendall, 17, of 302 W. Blake, and William J. Jobe, 17, of 433 Donovan were charged with kidnapping and injuring a Novi policeman July 30.

The group allegedly abducted patrolman Robert E. Starnes, a father of six, at gun point and threatened to kill him after he had answered a complaint of beer-bottle throwing.

Askins has been held under $100,000 bond at the Oakland County Jail, while Kirkendall and Jobe are held under $50,000 bond each.

JUVENILES HELD

Two other suspects, age 19 and 16, are being held at the Oakland County Youth Home.

The 15-year-old underwent preliminary hearing Aug. 1 according to Novi police. He remains in the youth home pending another hearing Aug. 13.

The 16-year-old is in the youth home under a $30,000 bond. A preliminary hearing was held July 31, but an additional preliminary hearing took place Tuesday at the request of the juvenile's attorney who was absent from the first hearing.

The attorney was informed by the prosecutor's office that a waiver has been filed asking the 16-year-old be tried as an adult. The waiver hearing is set for Aug. 14.

Patrolman Starnes returned to duty Tuesday, according to Novi police chief Lee Begole. He said Starnes was treated and released from St. Mary's Hospital and spent some time resting at his home.

School Employees May Serve on State Board, Kelley Rules

LANSING (AP) — Persons employed by Michigan institutions of higher learning may simultaneously serve as members of the State Board of Education, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled Wednesday.

Rep. Jack Faxon, D-Detroit, questioned possible conflict of interest in the two positions.

Kelley held that legally there was "no incompatibility."

"I'm delighted with the results," said Faxon. "I'm very pleased by the opinions of the attorney general. I just want to remove any charges of conflict of interest that might surround present members."

"My questions and these opinions also will serve as guidelines for those who may seek candidacies for the board of education in the future."

"Whether such a public employment and public office should be simultaneously held by the same person is a question left to the good judgement of the electorate," Kelley said. "We concern ourselves here only with the law."

A majority of the board members have or formerly had connections with institutions of higher learning.

Cyclist Is Killed

FLUSHING (AP)—Earl Skinner, 28, of Flushing, was killed Wednesday when he hit a car broadside with his motorcycle, police said. The driver of the car, 17-year-old Fred Daniels, was listed in serious condition in a Flint hospital after running into a tree stump in an apparent effort to avoid the cyclist, police said.

chairman of the department of biophysics at Michigan State University. Carmen Delliquadri of Houghton is a professor of business administration at Michigan Technological Institute.

OU LECTURER

Dr. Charles Morton of Detroit is a part-time lecturer on philosophy at Oakland University. Marilyn Jean Kelly of Detroit was formerly a teacher at Eastern Michigan University. Peter Oppewall of Grand Rapids is a professor at Calvin College.

The attorney general further ruled that holding office as a member of a state professional licensing board and membership on the education board are not incompatible.

This question was raised because Edwin Novak of Flint, board chairman, formerly was a member of the State Board of Examiners in Optometry. His term on the optometry board since has expired.

In answer to another query by Faxon, Kelley held that a member of the board who has a contractual relationship with a local school district may be in conflict of interest if his interest in such a contract is substantial.

Faxon said one of his queries was aimed at clearing the status of Thomas Brennan of Dearborn, a lawyer who has been advising the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit on school matters. Brennan's private employment was found proper by the attorney general since it does not interfere with his public position.

Hearings Set in Theft of Money Orders

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Hearings have been scheduled for Aug. 15 before U. S. Commissioner Stephen W. Karr for five persons arrested in connection with the theft of money order blanks.

The five are charged in connection with a July 4 burglary of the post office at Irons, a small community in Northwest Lake County.

Four Grand Rapids men were charged with cashing fraudulent money orders. They are: Arthur Joseph, 23; Elbert Hardiman Jr., 24; Larry E. Haywood, 22; and James W. Childrey, 22.

Andrew Childrey, 24, of Grand Rapids, was charged with receiving and concealing a stolen postal money order machine.

DEMAND EXAMINATION All demanded examination when arraigned before Karr, and bonds were set at $10,000 each.

Authorities said $200 in cash, $200 in stamps and 190 postal orders were taken in the robbery.

No Word on LBJ's Checkup

SAN ANTONIO Tex. (AP) — President Johnson is described by an aide as feeling fine but there is no indication when a public report on the physical checkup he is undergoing will come.

Such reports usually have been released about the time of each presidential birthday. Johnson will be 60 Aug. 27.

Press secretary George Christian, announcing that Johnson would complete his physical in a brief visit to Brooke Army Medical Center today, said the President "feels fine."

But Christian told newsmen he did not know when the presidential doctor, Vice Adm.

Tokyo Doctors Switch Heart

TOKYO (UPI) — Japanese surgeons today transplanted the heart of a 20-year-old accident victim to an 18-year-old youth in the world's 30th such operation and the first in Japan.

"The operation is successful and the patient is resting well," said Dr. Fumiyoshi Tomita of Sapporo Medical College on Japan's northernmost island of Hokkaido.

Tomita said Dr. Juro Wada, 47, who studied at the University of Minnesota and Harvard, and a 20-member surgical team performed the 3½-hour transplant at the government-operated medical college.

There has been no indication that either of the Johnsons has been ailing in any way.

Johnson's spirits got a boost Wednesday from indications the administration had won its battle against a 5 per cent across-the-board hike in steel prices.

One Johnson aide called it "a hell of a victory for the President." And Johnson had Christian quote him in a special statement as being convinced price rollbacks mean a "substantial improvement from the general inflationary threat."

The President, with Congress away, is staying at his hill country ranch home 65 miles west of here. If he spent any time watching television coverage of the Republican National Convention, Christian said you couldn't prove it by him.

Peace Corps Test Will Be August 17

Pontiac area residents interested in joining the Peace Corps can take the placement test Aug. 17.

The test, which measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, will be given at 1:30 p.m. in room 1 of the Federal Building.

The test requires no preparation and is noncompetitive.

Dentists believe that the greatest single cause of children's tooth decay today is eating the wrong kind of snacks.

Veep's Chicago HQ Gets Extra Phones

NEW YORK (AP) — Representatives of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey have had extra telephones installed at his Chicago offices despite a strike by electrical workers against the Illinois Bell Telephone Co., The New York Times said today.

The story from Chicago, where the Democratic National Convention will be held later this month, also said in part:

Spokesmen for Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, Humphrey's rival for the Democratic presidential nomination, complained that lack of telephones was jeopardizing their operations. But they said they had not sought and would not seek to circumvent the striking International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers in acquiring extra phones.

A Humphrey spokesman at first denied that extra telephones had been installed, then said that Illinois Bell management personnel had put six in one office.

Boy Is Wounded

HORTON (AP) — A 12-year-old Horton boy was critically wounded in the chest Wednesday when a 14-year-old friend shot him with a 22-caliber revolver the boys believed was empty. Gary L. Pittman was taken to the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor.

FBI Calls Nationwide Parley

Bank-Related Crimes Are Up 240 Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Announcing the meetings, Director J. Edgar Hoover said today bank robberies and other crimes against financial institutions have risen by 240 per cent since 1968.

Hoover said the bureau was so alarmed at the increase there were 2,558 robberies or bank-related offenses last year—that nationwide law enforcement conferences sponsored by the FBI will discuss methods to prevent such crimes.

The conferences bringing together local law enforcement officials, prosecutors, and representatives of banks, savings and loan companies, and credit unions will be held during September and October in communities across the country, and in Canada and Mexico.

Hoover said the bureau is particularly concerned over the number of bank-related crimes last year which resulted in violence against employees and customers. FBI statistics show that 23 people were killed in 1967 and another 81 injured in 1,789 holdups.

Working Class, Poor Bear Brunt of War—McCarthy

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy said Wednesday the burden of the Vietnam war has fallen "most heavily on the backs of the working people and the poor people of America."

"These are the people who have sent their sons in overwhelming number to the battlefield," he told the International Typographical Union convention.

The Democratic presidential hopeful spent about 10 hours in Ohio Wednesday making speeches and seeking to win the support of delegates to the party's national convention in Chicago starting Aug. 26.

The Minnesota senator urged delegates to remain uncommitted, and called the state critical to his convention hopes.

FAVORITE SON

in Columbus on whether to remain committed to the favorite-son candidacy of Sen. Stephen M. Young. They have 115 votes at the convention.

Starting his swing through with a statehouse rally in Columbus, McCarthy urged several thousand supporters, mostly young people, to do everything they could to indicate to delegates what the judgment of Ohio people is.

Georgia state Rep. Julian Bond, a Negro, introduced McCarthy in Columbus and later in Cleveland said he was endorsing his candidacy for the presidential nomination.

McCarthy also gained support during the day from Patrick J. Lucey, former lieutenant governor and state Democratic chairman of Wisconsin who was a key political supporter of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

'ENCOURAGING'
Lucey described the response from Ohio delegates as "encouraging." At Cleveland, McCarthy taped a television program and then spent three hours with delegates in a suite at the Hotel Sheraton-Cleveland.

After his speech to the ITU convention McCarthy returned to Washington.

He had no immediate comment on the Republican presidential nomination of Richard M. Nixon.

Migrant Confab

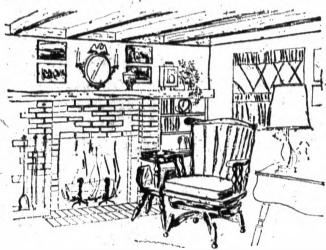

LANSING (AP) — Migrant education administrators and teachers from Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana will attend a regional conference Aug. 11-13 at Lansing. The educators plan to study the Michigan program for migrants, which is serving some 8,000 children through 62 schools this summer.

Dems to Host Mississippian

LANSING (AP) — Aaron Henry, chairman of the Loyal Democratic of Mississippi, will be the guest of honor Friday at a fund raising cocktail party in Detroit, Michigan Democrats have announced.

Henry's organization is described as "a coalition of groups seeking to send a racially balanced delegation from their state to the Democratic National Convention."

The fund raiser is part of a national effort to raise $30,000 to bring the Loyal Democratic Party delegation to the national convention at Chicago to challenge the regular Mississippi delegation.

The Michigan Democratic state central committee has pledged financial support to the Loyal Democrats and sent a $29 against, 295 for.

Ferency Sees Loss in Fight for Seating

LANSING (UPI) — Zoltan Ferency, the former state Democratic chairman who resigned after stirring up a fuss by backing Sen. Eugene McCarthy, doesn't think McCarthy forces from Michigan will win a credentials fight at the national convention.

"It's becoming more and more clear that the Democratic National Convention is wired for sound and all of the establishment types will be in control of the procedures," Ferency said Wednesday.

The fight for the seating of four delegates from the 8th District at the convention is in the hands of the Ingham County Circuit Court where a decision is expected this week.

Supporters of McCarthy brought the suit, charging that delegates representing the district were improperly chosen.

ABA Endorses Consumer Credit Code

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The 91st annual convention of the American Bar Association (ABA) endorsed a tough uniform consumer credit law, the right of "peaceful dissent" and expanded legal services for the ghettoes.

The 1968 session ended yesterday with outgoing president Earl F. Morris of Columbus, Ohio, handing the gavel to William T. Gossett of 428 Goodhue, Bloomfield Hills. The 1969 convention will be in Dallas.

The ABA's policy-making house of delegates balked at supporting "responsible civil disobedience," which was described as "peaceful resistance, on grounds of individual conscience, to law considered unjust, pursued with voluntary assumption of the risks of the sanctions of the law disobeyed."

Dem Poll Puts Hubert in Lead

McCarthy Fares Better Among Independents

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey runs better than Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy among rank-and-file Democrats, but McCarthy had the greater support of independents when the two candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination were pitted against each other, the Gallup Poll reported.

The Gallup organization said Wednesday that 53 per cent of rank-and-file Democrats favored Humphrey for their presidential nomination while McCarthy won support from 39 per cent.

But the poll said that independents favor McCarthy over Humphrey by 53 to 32 per cent. Gallup said the Minnesota senator is "far stronger" with young Democrats, from 21 to 29 years old. He also holds an edge with those who have a college background and Democrats living in the Far West.

HUMPHREY STRONG

Humphrey, however, is stronger with older voters who classify themselves as Democrats in the Midwest, South and East, the poll reported.

Gallup added that Democrats who disapprove of President Johnson's performance in office are "more apt to side" with McCarthy than with Humphrey.

Closing-Out Sale Draws Big Crowd

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Thousands of bargain hunters jammed streets and sidewalks Wednesday for the Emery, Bird, Thayer Department Store's two-day closing-out sale ending a 105-year business in Kansas City.

A line of shoppers two blocks long formed an hour before opening, and 33 traffic officers were assigned to intersections surrounding the store.

U.S. Traffic Toll Is Up by 6 Pct.

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic accidents killed 25,200 Americans in the first half of this year, about 6 per cent more than in the corresponding period of 1967, the National Safety Council said today. It said motor vehicle travel had shown a similar gain.

In June alone, the council said, traffic fatalities numbered 4,820, an increase of 8 per cent, compared with June 1967.

and without infringing on the personal or property rights of others."

This philosophy was proposed by the ABA section on individual rights and responsibilities and the board of governors as well. Some delegates were said to fear this language permitted flag burning.

'FUNDAMENTAL'

But the house said "the right of peaceful dissent is fundamental to both individual freedom and social progress."

Through the consumer code, which is tougher than the recently enacted federal truth-in-lending act, states will be urged to bring their money lending laws into harmony.

The house, through its legal aid committee headed by John D. Robb of Albuquerque, urged expanded opportunities for ghetto residents to participate in the formulation of public policy.

On Tuesday the delegates endorsed four wide-ranging reports designed to improve the conduct of criminal trials and the treatment of defendants.

The nomination of Abe Fortas for Chief Justice created a minor ruckus, fed by the appearance of Fortas himself at a dinner of the American College of Trial Lawyers. Fortas declared that judicial yielding to pressure by the executive or legislative branches would signal the end of the American constitutional government.

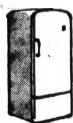

STANFORD SUPPORT

The justice received an indirect tribute from Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark and staunch support from former Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, Dean Louis H. Pollack of Yale Law School and individual ABA members. Pollack criticized the senators who grilled Fortas at July hearings on his confirmation.

No opposition to Fortas developed openly, although three New York attorneys submitted a resolution to the ABA assembly urging an inquiry into how better to assure that nominations be confined to those "clearly best qualified." The delegates referred the resolution to a committee.

25 Hurt, 100 Arrested in Miami, Fla., Strife

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Bands of young Negroes set fire to cars, stoned white motorists and looted stores in a five-block area of northwest Miami Wednesday night in a disturbance touched off when police massed at a rally aimed at airing problems facing Negroes.

Some 25 persons were injured, including two Negroes who police said were shot by unknown gunmen.

About 100 Negroes were arrested, mostly on charges of disorderly conduct leading to rioting.

Trouble broke out in the predominantly Negro area about 6:30 p.m., several hours before Republican delegates 10 miles away across Biscayne Bay on Miami Beach nominated Richard M. Nixon as their presidential candidate.

IN GOOD CONDITION

Miami Police Lt. Jay Golden said both of the men who were shot were in good condition. He said: "The police have not fired one bullet."

Clarence Curry, 25, was wounded as he was being questioned in a looting case. Golden said two shots rang out in the darkness but no gunman was seen. The other shooting victim, Cephus Griffin, was hit by a stray bullet as he walked along a sidewalk, police said.

Most of the injured suffered cuts from broken glass and bruises from rocks and bottles. Police said at least 32 stores were broken into and seven were looted. Three cars were burned and two were damaged by rocks.

4 NEWSMEN INJURED

Four newsmen were among the injured and a man driving a car with a George Wallace bumper sticker was stoned as hundreds of Negroes circled his wrecked automobile. Dazed and bleeding, he was pulled to safety in a bar by two Negroes.

The violence ended after the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, leading his Poor People's Campaign at the GOP convention, and Gov. Claude Kirk, a convention delegate, walked through the streets urging calm and conferred with Negro leaders.

The rally was called for Negroes to plan ways to gain more control of their communities. Abernathy and basketball star Will Chamberlain were scheduled to attend but had not arrived when trouble started.

Leaders of the rally said the presence of about two dozen policemen caused resentment among young Negroes at the rally.

PERSUADED TO LEAVE

After a couple of bottles were tossed toward the officers, they were persuaded to leave the area so harmony could be restored.

But the youths then began stoning cars carrying whites, looting and setting fires.

Police with riot equipment returned to the area to protect firemen and fired several tear gas shells at a large crowd of Negroes threatening a policeman and a newsmen.

SMASHED WINDOW

Police then agreed to pull out several cruisers and as they were moving away a brick smashed a window of the mayor's car. He was not hurt.

The police tossed several tear gas grenades and left the area.

Bob Johnson, one of the organizers of the rally, said "We were trying to give our people some of their black culture. The people we are trying to reach, they can't sit down in peaceful assembly without being harassed."

Jackson Police Car Is Hit by Gunfire

JACKSON (AP) — Jackson police said late Wednesday that a 38-caliber bullet was fired into the left front tire of a police car on the city's south side.

No other incidents were reported, and Jackson Police Lt. Calvin Watson, who called the incident "definitely serious," said no special measures were being taken.

Watson said the bullet was removed from a patrol car driven by a police sergeant on Mitchell Street.

Janitor's Plight Is Uncanny

BEDFORD, England (UPI) — Bertie Gibbs, janitor, was doing a fine job cleaning out a room when a can of white powder on a shelf overhead fell and spilled all over him.

Bertie, 31, picked up the can. "Radioactive Isotopes—Danger. Do not touch," the label read.

Bertie put the can in a plastic bag and drove to the police station.

"Don't come near me," shouted the duty sergeant as he jumped away.

The sergeant sent Bertie to Bedford General Hospital. "They all kept their distance," Bertie said of the nurses. "Some took three steps backward."

Bertie was told to go to a cubicle. After a long wait, two doctors came in.

"They would not touch me and went in and out thumbing through medical books," Bertie said. "They made phone calls."

"The next thing I knew was when what looked like a creature from Mars burst through the curtains."

It was a fireman in protective clothing who tested Bertie and the can with a Geiger counter.

Both proved nonradioactive. The powder's identity remained a mystery.

"FELT LIKE A TWERP"

"I felt like a twerp sitting there covered in white powder holding a plastic bag."

When Bertie got home, his wife, Rita, 32, kept her distance and dealt the final blow.

"Take a bath," she ordered.

These Polecats Tough to Evict

PITTSBURG, Kan. (AP) — It took a policeman, the fire department and an animal control officer to dispose of five skunks from an apartment house shed.

Patrolman Steve Marshall tossed a tear gas grenade in their direction. The skunks yelled back.

Ventilating fans in the apartment house picked up the fumes. Its seven residents, caught in the crossfire, beat a hasty retreat.

Steve Berry, an animal control officer, finally trapped the skunks. Firemen pumped out the building with a big exhaust fan so the inhabitants could return.

Marshall and Berry had to throw away their clothing. And it required two washings to de-skunk Berry's truck.

Bowling Suffers Because Hubby Comes to Watch

DEAR ABBY: Ben and I have been happily married for four years (no children yet) and I wouldn't think of being unfaithful. He says he trusts me, and he isn't the least bit jealous.

Well, the employees at my office recently got up a bowling team, and since I am a pretty good bowler, I joined. The other married bowlers always come alone and go home alone, and their spouses never come to "watch" them.

Ben and I each drive our own cars, but on my bowling night, Ben drives me to work. I go to the bowling alley with a co-worker, then Ben calls for me at the alley. He always comes so early that it's right at the beginning of the game, so he "waits" for me.

While he waits, he watches every move I make. This affects my game and I go to pieces and can't bowl. Once Ben had car trouble and didn't get there until after the game, and that was the only time I bowled my usual game, and our team won.

I can't tell Ben not to come so early or he'll think I'm hiding something. Yet when he watches me bowl I am so bad the team suffers. Please help me.

BOWLING BLUES

DEAR BLUES: Don't pussyfoot around. Tell Ben that you cannot bow your best when he is watching you, so to please do you, and the team, a favor and come AFTER the game.

DEAR ABBY: I am a recent divorcee, and as such, most men take me for an "easy mark." They all ask the same question, "What do you have to lose?"

I am in my late thirties, and I'm certainly not a child. But what is a good answer for these eager beavers? The word "NO" doesn't seem to mean anything to them. They want to know WHY! Please give me a good answer.

INDIANA READER

DEAR READER: Just say, "NO — that's not my style." ... and don't engage in a debate with any of these clowns or you're sunk.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter, age 22, is being married to a 30-year-old man who was married before. His marriage lasted less than two years, no children, and this is our daughter's first marriage. I should add, he is a well-to-do man from a socially prominent family.

The problem: We want to give our daughter a lovely big church wedding. Her fiancé's parents say that they will attend, but they will not send any of their friends or relatives invitations to this wedding — or even announcements afterwards. Their reason: "All of our friends and relatives have given wedding presents on the occasion of our son's first wedding, and once is enough."

Abby, do you think this is right? What has our daughter to do with the wedding gifts his first bride received? Do you think they have the right to cut down on the number of lovely gifts she shall receive just because her fiancé was married before?

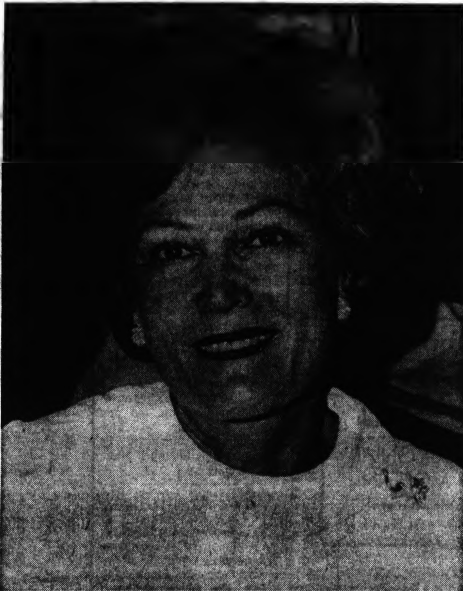

THE GIRL'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: An invitation (or announcement) is not always a bid for a gift, although most people think it is. But if the parents of the groom don't wish to send invitations or announcements for this — or any other reason, it is up to them.

October Nuptials Set

Oct. 18 wedding vows are planned by Victoria Christine Hurford and Donald Joseph Mountain of Chamberlain Street.

The bride elect is the daughter of Mrs. Gene Hurford of Chamberlain Street and Joseph Hurford of Dunedin, Fla. Her fiancé is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Mountain.

Miss Charters Weds R. F. Meyer

Newlyweds, the Richard Frederic Meyers (nee Barbara Lee Charters) will make their home in Boston where he will attend Law School at Boston University and she will complete studies for a Bachelor's degree in Interior Design at Boston Museum School of Fine and Applied Arts.

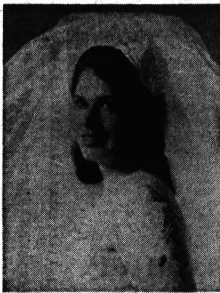

Vows were spoken Saturday during an exchange of rings in Kirk in the Hills.

For the candlelit ceremony, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Charters of Troy wore an ivory skimmer fashioned by Bianchi. Imported hand corded Alencon lace formed the Watteau train encircled in peau de soie.

LACE CAP

To complete her look, she chose a court veil of silk illusion secured with a matching Alencon lace cap. Her bridal bouquet was comprised of Eucharis lilies.

'Rigoletto' Draws Overflow Crowd

By DAVID MASCITELLI

Last night at Baldwin Pavilion an overflow crowd was treated to a superb concert performance of Verdi's Rigoletto presented by the Meadow Brook School of Music.

By some miraculous process, conductor James Levine had assembled a cast that included four of America's best and busiest opera stars. Cornell MacNeil (as Rigoletto), Roberta Peters (as Gilda), Jan Peerce (as the Duke) and Ezio Flagello (as Sparafucile and Monterone) constitute a nearly ideal cast for this work; and they were provided with vocal and orchestral support from Meadow Brook students that they could be proud to sing with anywhere.

Cornell MacNeil was powerful and thoroughly convincing in the title role and Ezio Flagello more than lived up to his reputation as one of the finest lyric basses performing today. Though Roberta Peters had a couple of uncomfortable moments with her top notes in "Caro Nome," the fact seems trivial in the face of her marvelous singing throughout the performance.

And, while Jan Peerce may no longer have quite the magnificent voice he did a few years ago, his musical intelligence and uncanny judicious phrasing make listening to him as wonderful an experience as ever. Even in top opera houses, you will rarely find four principals of this quality together on the same stage.

And special mention should also be made of student performer Maria Ewing who, as Maddalena, seemed not the least bit out of place among these top professionals.

But what made the performance so totally satisfying was the work of the remarkable young conductor, James Levine, in bringing together all the ingredients in the service of Verdi. These four great singers seemed to have no qualms about putting their talents completely at the disposal of Levine's conducting; and their confidence was more than justified.

The performance was especially enhanced by his emphasis on maintaining continuity, which he accomplished with tempos that were often brisk and with the same unerring instinct for making intelligent transitions that he displayed a couple of weeks ago in his performance of Mahler's Second Symphony.

Levine's hand was also very much in evidence in the superb ensemble among soloists, orchestra and chorus maintained throughout. And one of the highlights of the evening was the playing of the Meadowbrook student orchestra, which Levine has molded into a group that can hold its own among the finest professional orchestras.

Its balances, precision of attack and sensitivity to dynamic shadings are as fine as I've ever heard; and last night it played with a flexibility, warmth and intensity that would have made it a credit to any opera house in the world.

For the more than eight thousand fortunate spectators this was a glorious evening of music.

And the occasion served notice that the Meadow Brook School of Music is ready to take its place among the very finest institutions of its kind.

A Jubilant Mrs. Richard Nixon Is Ready to Hit Campaign Trail

BY FRANCES LEWINE

Associated Press Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Pat Nixon celebrated "the top moment in my life" watching her husband nominated a second time as a Republican presidential candidate and looked ahead to another tough campaign.

Going to Convention Hall for the big moment, Mrs. Nixon said:

"I just feel like an astronaut's wife when her husband is shot into space."

When it was all over, she relaxed in the Nixon's 18th-floor penthouse suite and said she was ready to "go on the road" again.

"I don't mind the hard work," she said of the prospect of the forthcoming election campaign.

Mrs. Nixon said she never really retired to private life after her husband's defeat in 1960. "Every two years," she reminded, "Dick was campaigning for someone."

Now 56, a veteran of more than two decades as "A volunteer for Nixon," she said "My life is just one kind of continual excitement."

Mrs. Nixon is optimistic about her husband's chances this time and is ready to get back on the campaign track, with her usual pattern of coffees and meetings with GOP volunteers.

JOB TRAINING

She said she's interested in promoting such programs as job training, quality education for all and community involvement programs.

She'll go along with her husband and off on her own as well, Pat said. But there will be no speech-making for her. "Dick should speak for himself," she reiterated.

The climactic nominating day left Mrs. Nixon tired after three and a half hours of handshaking, followed by the "tremendously exciting" convention spectacle.

The pace had been so hectic that Mrs. Nixon didn't get dinner. And a hamburger, ordered for her long after midnight, got cold while she gave just one more interview.

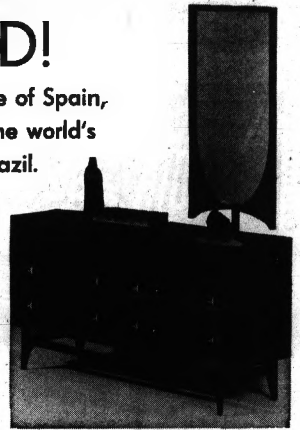

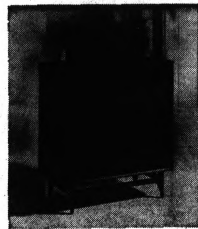

The Nixons leave Saturday for San Diego, Calif., where the candidate will spend 10 days in staff conferences. Mrs. Nixon will stay part of the time at San Diego, then return to New York.

David Gregory's Wed During Evening Rite

Carrying a cascade of daisies with baby's breath, Cynthia Sue Tedhams was escorted to the altar of St. Paul United Methodist Church Saturday where she became the bride of David G. Gregory.

For the evening exchange of vows, the former Miss Tedhams chose an Irish linen sheath fastened with a fitted bodice, Barbeau neckline and elbow length sleeves.

Accents of heirloom Irish lace highlighted her ensemble and matching linen Watteau train. A Medici cap secured her tiered veil of illusion to complete her look.

ATTENDANTS

Honor attendants for the couple were Sharon K. Pinney and the bridegroom's brother, John, with ushers Douglas Ball and Sidney Gregory.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Tedhams of Midland and the son of Mrs. William Gregory of Marshall Street, and the late Mr. Gregory greeted guests in the church parlors before departing for a honeymoon trip to Florida.

Italian Males to Feel Pinch

ROME (UPI) — Rome's thousands of self-styled latin lovers are in trouble with the law.

A special force of 100 policemen using walkie-talkies began patrolling favored tourist sites of the Eternal City to chase off the gallants who go around pinching, bottom slapping and whispering spicy invitations to young, pretty female tourists.

The Romees, known to Romans and foreigners alike as "Pappagalli" (Italian for parrots), long have been one of the chief complaints, or delights, of foreign girls.

The Pappagalli are sure the girls want attention. Their role, as they see it, is to accommodate millions of girl tourists who want to be able to go home and tell how they were pinched and romanced in Rome.

The Ministry of the Interior thinks otherwise — and is ready to back up its views with criminal charges.

Under the law, anyone molesting or disturbing others in a public place can be jailed for six months or fined $65.

It may not get that drastic. The course of justice is slow and complicated in Italy and general amnesties for misdemeanors usually wipe out sentences of less than 12 months.

Not that it makes it any easier for the miniskirted blondes from abroad.

Pedestal Tables, Swivel Chairs Are Favorites

CHICAGO (NFS) — Pedestal tables and swivel chairs are top contenders for most popular furnishings on the home dining scene.

The B. Brody Seating Company, Chicago, a major manufacturer of dining sets, reports that pedestal sets win resounding praise from both men and women.

Women are partial to pedestals because of their versatility and space-saving qualities. They favor swivel chairs because they allow hostess or guest to rise or turn with ease. Men welcome pedestal swivel chairs because they're as comfortable as an executive office chair for a big frame.

Why Grow Old?

I am not usually troubled with this or that irritation or inconvenience, and make one another I did have trouble getting to sleep. After tossing about for an hour I decided that I might as well read and enjoy myself for a while.

I became so interested in what I was reading that it was 3 a.m. when I next looked at the clock. I was horrified because I could not sleep late the next morning since I had a lot of work to do. I thought, "This is awful!"

Then I thought, "What's so awful about it? I may not be a sleep but I am ALIVE!" Asleep or awake, it is wonderful to be alive at 3 a.m., at midnight or at noon, any day, any month, any year, anywhere.

It is great to have work to do, chores to attend to, people to love, laughter to shake you, food to cook, people who need you, all sorts of obligations to be fulfilled, greetings to be exchanged and to have music to listen to and books to read.

It is a privilege to watch moonlight on water, to see a sunset sear the sky, to watch snow landing gently on evergreens, and to observe the magic of buds turning into intricate flowers and many-shaped leaves.

It is tremendously moving to feel the power of nature in a thunderstorm or in the pounding of waves on a beach. It is a blessing to be able to enjoy the aroma of a rose in the sun, of grass just after it is cut, and the way a hot dusty road through the woods smells, just after a sudden shower.

It is such a waste that we sometimes forget what a bonus it is to be alive. We worry about this problem and that, fret about

Case No. F-550

We're Giants to Kids

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE F-550: Thelma R., aged 24, teaches kindergarten.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "our school principal is a stickler for exactness."

"So he thinks it is wrong for children to read fairy tales or stories about elves."

"Instead, she wants us teachers in the early grades to stick to factual narratives."

GIANTS

Actually, toddlers are living in a giant world!

For their parents and teachers tower above them in gigantic fashion and outweigh them terrifically.

We adults have forgotten this outlook of the kiddies. But we can easily regain their viewpoint if we merely stretch our imaginations a little.

For example, suppose we alone remain at our present adult height while all the other people around us are 12 feet tall and weighing 800 pounds.

That's precisely the relative outlook of a toddler when he sees his daddy.

And even his mother is figuratively a giantess, standing maybe 11½ feet tall. If we adults use comparable figures.

Thus, children have no difficulty in believing stories concerning giants, for they live for years as tiny folks (elves) in a literal giant world.

Moreover, we adult "giants" are not only omnipotent in their sight, but omniscient, too.

For their limited mental age does not permit them to make the simple, logical deductions that are a-b-c stuff to parents.

When our son Philip was about 18 months old, he would relish a game in which he's stuck his head under a pillow on the davenport.

"Where is Philip?" his mother and I would exclaim loudly.

Actually, we could see all of him below the neck, for only his head was hidden beneath the pillow.

But Philip apparently figured, "I can't see them so they can't see me!"

And don't think Philip wasn't a bright youngster, for his I.Q. was in the genius category and he now holds a Ph. D. and has long been a university professor!

But kiddies cannot comprehend the things when their mental age is three or four, which we adults can easily understand.

For example a little boy, aged

4, was left alone for a few moments while his mother went next door to borrow a cup of sugar.

Meanwhile, he Upped over the goldfish bowl and broke it.

So he rushed into his play room to build castles with wooden blocks.

"Junior, did you break the fish bowl?" Irritably demanded his mother. (Suppose an krate giants 11½ feet tall asked us adults that question?)

Junior shook his head, but his mother paddled him, anyway.

"How did you know I did it," he queried through his tears, "for you didn't see me?"

A little bird tells mother such things," she fibbed and he soon was "gunning" for that little bird with his toy bow and arrows!

To water a potted fern or ivy, stand the pot in a bowl of water overnight. This is a better way to water the plant than pouring water over it.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Ringler of Francesca Drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Sue Anne to David C. Moilanen. He is the son of the Wayne J. Moilanens of Angelus Drive. Prior to their departure, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Sturgeon of Orchard Lake and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kovacs of River Rouge, were feted at a reception in the church fellowship hall.

ATTENDANTS

Attended by Mary Battles and Ruth Clark, the bride wore an ensemble fashioned with silk organza skirt over taffeta with an Alencon lace bodice.

Her elbow length veiling was capped with a matching lace headpiece and she carried white glinnalls and daisies.

Best man honors were performed by Michael Krenshaw with Ronald Kovar, Roger Cox and Carl Sturgeon ushering. William Sturgeon and Eugene Kovacs, brothers of the bride and bridegroom, respectively, served as junior ushers.

Set Open House Honoring Pair

An open house for newlyweds, the Philip J. Gouveias (nee Carol Helling) is slated Sunday at the Silver Lake Road home of the J. L. Taunts from 2-4 p.m.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mrs. Ruth Gouveias of Pine Grove Street and the Ingrid Helling of Golden Valley, N.D., where vows were recently held.

Assisting as honor attendants for the ceremony were Angie Wise and Norman Gouveia with Michael Jassmann and Gary Walth as ushers.

Find Paris Look in Attic Trunk

PARIS (UPI)—The Paris look hasn't been so easy for the average woman to copy in years.

With a good long dig through the attic, a clever bit of seamstress and a few small expenditures she should be able to look in the height of fashion.

First of all, that old duffle coat that refused to wear out can be dry-cleaned and maybe given a fresh touch like new toggle fastenings. If it's light-colored, it could be dyed black or dark brown.

St. Laurent, Dior and half a dozen other houses showed ones just like that for wear from early morning right through evening.

When removing thread from a ready-made garment that you intend to use over again, straighten his crinkly thread by rubbing it over wax or paraffin. It straightens out immediately and the wax makes it stronger and easier to sew with.

Corduroy Makes the Combination

A plain corduroy bedspread and patterned corduroy curtains make a happy combination for decorating school quarters. Corduroy comes in beautiful colors, washes easily and needs no ironing.

Frequent Airing

Frequent airing of the blankets you use when the weather permits not only makes for better sanitation but helps to make them last longer and hold their fluffy warmth and comfort.

This goes for pillows, too. They will be fluffier and lay much better when they are aired regularly.

Pennsylvania ranks first in production of pretzels.

Saturday Vows Unite the Timothy Willises

MRS. T. B. WILLIS

Columbia Avenue Baptist Church was chosen by Sarah Lee Little and Timothy B. Willis for their wedding, Saturday.

Feted in the church parlors, following the candlelight ceremony, the couple was joined by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John I. Little of West Shoreline Street and Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Willis of Clive Street.

The former Miss Little chose a bridal ensemble of Spanish lace over satin with pearl and crystal trim. Her elbow length silk veil of illusion was secured by a satin bow of matching pearl and crystal accents. She carried carnations and lily.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Jamie Brock led bridal attendants: Jean Street, Lynn Mescham, Sherry Smith, Joyce Lane, Debby Bland, Cathy Windham and Roxanne Little.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Mickey Henderson. Ushers were Steve Willis, Skip Smith, Jerry Wallace, Charles Terry, John Lealand and Jamie Little, Larry Windham and Roger Street.

A honeymoon trip to Ohio followed for the newlyweds.

Announce Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mills, (nee Lorraine Paul), of South Hammond Lake Drive, West Bloomfield Township, announce the birth of a daughter, Lisa Marie, on Aug. 1.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paul of Southfield and Mr. and Mrs. George Milczuk of Detroit.

Old yellowed lace can be bleached by soaking in sour milk for several hours and will not damage the delicate threads.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer,

I have a beautiful suede coat that has needed shortening for several years, and I was always afraid to cut it off. Now with everything fashionable in leather, I must get it fixed for this fall. Is this a job that should be done professionally or can I do it myself?

Dear Faye,

Fortunately, this is a very simple job and if you work well with your hands, you can certainly shorten your own leather coat. Carefully have someone mark it with a skirt marker so it will be even. Allow about 1 1/2 to 2 inches for the hem. Use the milky household glue and simply glue the hem in place. If you have several inches of leather left over, use it for pocket flaps, collar, tie belt, or whatever to trim a tweed or knit dress, and you will have a beautifully coordinated ensemble.

Dear Eunice Farmer,

I am in the process of making three very formal gowns for my daughters and after spending many frustrating hours on the first one, I am turning to you for help.

The pattern looked very simple, however, it was a Designer Pattern. When I got to the inside, there were two pages of instructions about making a very complicated undergarment which would later be used to build the gown on. I am beside myself with stiffening, hair braid, and feather boning. Surely there must be an easier way. Is this foundation actually necessary?

Mrs. J. D.

Dear Mrs. J. D.:

You are the first to write me about the new gowns which are very different in line from the straight A-line's to which we have become accustomed. I imagine the gown you are referring to is strapless with a fitted bodice, which would need a well-fitted foundation.

I have found in the past that one of the easiest ways to make ball gowns was to begin with a well-fitted long line strapless bra. This already comes with all the feather boning and support you need and eliminates the need of making a strapless bra as well. You can begin your instruction sheet with the construction of the gown itself. I'd like to hear from you readers who try this. It has worked beautifully for us!

Mrs. M. E. says: "I would like to share with your readers a little sewing tip that has worked beautifully for me."

"With the gathered skirts, and especially the shirt cuffs on long sleeves, it is very difficult to keep the gathers even while stitching either the waistband or the cuff to the gathered area. Instead of the ordinary two rows of machine stitching for the gathers, which are placed at the seam line and 1/4 inch closer to the cut edge, I stitch 1/4 inch above and 1/4 inch below the seam line.

When the gathers are pulled in place, it is much easier to keep them even at the seamline. After the seam has been stitched, remove the gathering thread that shows."

Korea Now Exemplifies U.S. Foreign Aid Success

SEOUL (AP) — "Korea was once an example of American foreign aid failure and now it is an example of outstanding success."

Saying this, the deputy prime minister and minister for economic planning, Park Choon Hoon, went on to paint at length his predictions of a bright economic future for his once war-ravaged and poverty-stricken nation that still lives under the threat of a Communist invasion from the North.

"America spent a lot of money developing an economic base here that is now blooming," he told a reporter.

"We'll not need grant aid by 1971 and this is a great change. Once reductions in grant aid meant the crippling of our economy. This is no longer so."

"Almost our entire people are moving ahead in national development."

STARTED CHANGE

He said a change came with the vigorous leadership of President Chung Hee Park, a pragmatic professional soldier who first assumed power through a military coup, and then was elected by an enormous majority in 1967.

"Another important thing is our very high level of education, which is now beginning to pay off," the deputy premier said.

"Another reason for his country's progress, he said, is "our diplomatic policy: normalizing relations with Japan and sending troops to Vietnam. The latter enhanced the morale of our people — to not always be the recipient of help but now to be helping someone else in their time of trouble."

Generally satisfactory foreign investment in Korea, tax reforms and increased collection of taxes, a potential bumper harvest of rice and other basic crops, expanding exports, developing industrial capacity and price stability, Minister Park asserted, all will contribute to a boom in the Korean economic picture.

AVOIDED DEVALUATION

He shrugged off a suggestion that the won, Korea's money, might have to be devalued, although he did not definitely say that it would not.

"We are concerned about the sharp increase in our imports," he said in answer to the won question, "and are trying to limit imports of nonessentials such as television sets, refrigerators and air-conditioners. These things might be essential in the U.S. but they aren't here. Not yet."

"On the ninth of July we installed a new system aimed at curtailing nonessential imports."

This raised import collateral on 283 items from 100 per cent of import prices to 150 per cent.

COST OF LIVING

Koreans complain of the cost of living. Park said: "Last year we had a bad crop power shortage because of drought but the wholesale price rise was only 6.4 per cent. So far this year it has been 4.9 per cent. Consumer prices went up 10.8 per cent last year and only 5.1 per cent so far this year."

"Compare that to 1963 and '64 when we had rises of 25 per cent."

One thing possibly limiting an increase in foreign investment, he acknowledged, is "We have a problem most places don't: the possibility of sabotage or damage through guerrilla activity. We are studying the possibility of guaranteeing firms against such loss."

"First, we don't expect a cease-fire all that soon. Even if it comes, our visible exports to Vietnam, such as income for Korean technicians serving or even Singapore," he noted.

goods total only $20 million to there and construction and $30 million out of an expected other firms operating in Vietnam, total possibly $110 million.

Each Man Had His Hour, Then Nixon's the One

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Rockefeller, "the man for our time." Reagan, "the man... destiny has found." Nixon, "a man whose time has come."

For only one man had the hour indeed come, well past midnight, in the drone of numbers and the din of a new hero hailed, as the Republican party chose its 1968 man for the presidency.

Before, there had been for each the moment of magic as the convention roared at the mention of his name.

Mrs. Priest told the 1,333 delegates, "The present leadership of our country is confused and divided. It has lost its way. It has plunged us into a war it will not permit us to win. It has created a chaos it cannot stop."

"America will not settle for more of the same. America demands a change..."

He does not offer America a politics of joy and over-optimism that unrealistically says all is well with America. He does not offer America a politics of pessimism that tells us constantly how bad we are. He offers us a politics of realism that tells it is to all Americans...

the Republican who can lead all Americans to a new unity. He is the man for our time."

law, and determined in the pursuit of justice. A man who can negotiate peace without sacrificing life, land or liberty. A man who had the courage to rise up from the depths of defeat six years ago—and to make the greatest political comeback in American history...

WHAT HE IS

"The final test of a man who seeks the presidency is not what he promises but what he can do; not what he says, but what he is..."

"When history speaks firmly to that nation that it needs a man to match the times—you don't create such a man; you don't discover such a man; you recognize such a man."

"It is my privilege to place in nomination... the one man whom history has so clearly thrust forward—the one whom All America will recognize as a man whose time has come—the man for 1968... Richard M. Nixon."

RECENT CONVERT

For Richard M. Nixon, the nominating speech was made by Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, a recent convert, a favorite son candidate who came into the Nixon fold only two days before.

"At this moment of history, the Republican party has the duty to put forward a man—a man to not only match this moment but to master it..."

"A man firm in upholding the ard Nixon's name. Among the placards, at middle left, a dissident hoists one for Reagan.

"What America needs today is a man with courage to meet problems headon, who courageously faces the issues... a man who will confront the radicals on our campuses and the looters on our streets and say: the laws will be obeyed."

"What America needs today—what America calls out for today—is a man who will make it unmistakably clear that if we must fight for freedom, we will fight to win..."

DIVINE PROVIDENCE

"Throughout the history of this great republic, in times of peril, uncertainty and crisis, a Divine Providence has always placed its hand upon the man to lead us out of the storms and upward to the stars."

"Destiny has so marked this man, a man to match our mountains and our plains, a man steeped in the glorious traditions of the past, a man with a vision of the unlimited potential of new eras."

"Yes, destiny has found the man... the man who can restore the free world's faith in this beloved land... the man who can restore our faith in our country and ourselves... Ronald Reagan."

For New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, the man who put forth the man was Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer. He said:

"We are a people in need of a new Lincoln—an uncommon man with the intelligence to face realistically his problems and the courage to rise above petty political criticism to create a new national conscience..."

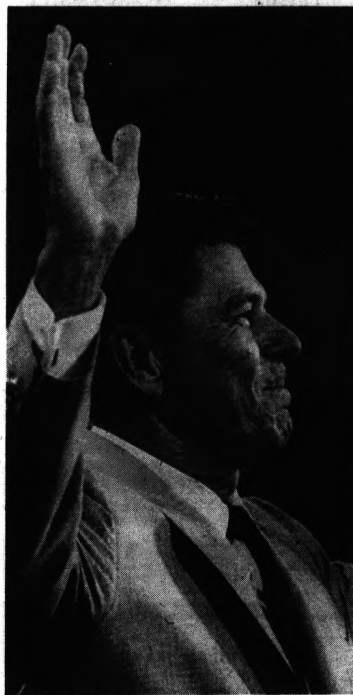

FOR OUR TIME

"Lincoln was the man for his time. I come before this convention tonight to place in nomination...

MAKES PITCH FOR UNITY—Gov. Ronald Reagan, who lost to Richard M. Nixon in the battle for the Republican presidential nomination, is shown prior to a postballoting speech to the convention in which he urged the party to unite behind Nixon in the campaign.

IT'S ALL OVER—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller manages to summon a smile early today after the Republican National Convention rejected his bid for the party's presidential nomination. The governor promised to support the party nominee, Richard M. Nixon.

Romney in Spotlight ... Just for a Moment

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — For a few brief moments, Gov. George Romney of Michigan returned to the center of the presidential spotlight Wednesday night as scores thronged onto the Republican National Convention floor to demonstrate their loyalty to the first man to withdraw from the race.

The raucous demonstrators carried placards reading "Romney's Great for '68" and "Still Our Choice" as they marched about the floor for nearly 15 minutes.

Romney sat beside his wife, Lenore, in a box next to the convention floor. As the cheering crowd surged by, he moved forward to shake hands and greet his admirers.

"Thank you, thank you," the governor said.

"PARTICULARLY GIFTED"

Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., called Romney "a man who is particularly gifted and suited to lead our nation at this crucial hour in our history."

"His background is that of the American pioneer," Griffin said in his nominating speech. "Born in a small American colony of old Mexico, and raised amidst the plains and mountains of Idaho and Utah, he later moved to the nation's capital and then to the Middle West."

Working with his hands and mind, this pioneer rose to become one of the few in any lifetime who are clearly destined to provide leadership," Griffin said.

milling mob of demonstrators poured onto the floor to the accompaniment of a 50-piece brass band.

Television commentators sought out Romney. Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., and Gov. John H. Chaffee of Rhode Island were among the delegates who spoke briefly with him during the demonstration.

Speeches seconding the nomination were delivered by Richard Richards, Utah GOP state chairman, and Elly Peterson, Michigan Republican state chairman.

Before the seconding speeches were concluded, ushers began throwing Romney placards into trash bins.

Romney became a favorite-son candidate after withdrawing from the national race following his defeat in the New Hampshire primary last March.

The Michigan delegation had been pledged to support his favorite-son candidacy through a second ballot, Romney said. On the first ballot, however, four Nixon supporters split off from the governor and gave their votes to the former vice president while Michigan's 44 other votes went to Romney.

Wisconsin Vote Is the Clincher

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — As the Republican National Convention roll call began, Richard M. Nixon spread a tally sheet across a battered brown briefcase resting in his lap.

The list of states yet to be called grew shorter and Nixon's vote total grew larger.

Gov. Warren P. Knowles stepped to a floor microphone and, shouting above the exploding din, cast the votes that made Nixon the Republican presidential nominee.

NOT WITHOUT TENSION

"Knowles did it," the 55-year-old former vice president said as he turned in his swivel chair to smile at his wife, two daughters, future son-in-law and eight aides who had joined him in the 18th floor hotel suite.

But the night of victory was not without tension.

After hearing his name placed in nomination, the candidate became so restive that he ducked out of the hotel for a half-hour automobile ride through the muggy Florida night.

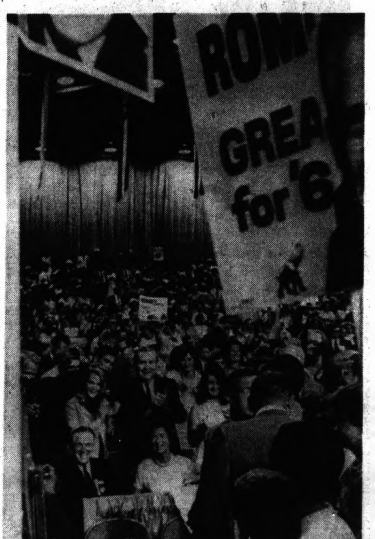

CONGRATULATORY

Congratulatory telephone calls began pouring in within minutes after he was nominated. One came from Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, his chief rival in the campaign. Another was from Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democrat whom Nixon may oppose in the November general election.

Mexican-Americans Push Drive for Rights

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — With Anglo-Americans. Texas in the not-too-distant past, some Texas restaurants put up signs that read: "No dogs or Mexican allowed."

Things have changed. "Now," says Angela Castrejon, restaurant cashier in El Paso, "we are allowed in as waitresses and dishwashers."

An exaggeration of existing conditions, this view reflects a measure of the bitterness and frustration helping nourish a relatively new civil rights militancy among the nation's 4.5 million Americans with Spanish surnames.

A by-product of Negro civil rights agitation, the new movement still lacks precise form and central organization. But what is of social and political significance are the first hard signs of unity at all levels, from chili picker to doctor, dentist, priest.

MILITANCY CRADLE

Cradle of the new militancy is the great Southwest, hazy 1900 frontier, fount of vast modern fortunes in cattle and oil. But to the impoverished Mexican-Americans in East Los Angeles, the slums of south El Paso and west San Antonio and in dusty, blistering hot farm fields of Arizona, New Mexico, south Texas, Colorado and California's Imperial Valley, the vast area could qualify for U.S. foreign aid—if it were a foreign country.

Of this five-state area, Texas, one of the richest in the nation, has the most backward Mexican-American population. Fifty-two per cent of the Spanish-surnamed population has been classified as "functionally illiterate," a term applied by sociologists to those who have not completed four years of schooling. Twenty per cent of persons over 25 years of age in this same ethnic category have not completed more than one year of schooling.

The living conditions of the Spanish-surnamed population in the Southwest and other areas aroused protest movements shortly after World War II. Deprived of incentive by a postwar boom that left little to protest about, they withered and lay dormant for more than a decade before surfacing anew in the early 1960s.

Affluent businessmen, professionals, college students, migrant laborers, white and blue-collar workers make up the ranks of the new militants. They come from an ethnic group whose ancestors were irrigating lands in what is now New Mexico before the first pilgrims reached Plymouth Rock.

STRIVING FOR UNITY

Striving for the kind of unity that will provide the most effective political pressures at state and national level, they are demanding first of all an end to what they feel are discriminatory practices in classrooms and jobs. They regard these as the main causes of backwardness among Americans of Spanish surnames. Some of the specific needs cited:

- Bilingual education in the primary grades to help Spanish-speaking children who are being forced to compete in English

Because the new militancy inevitably will affect traditional political and social patterns, life in the Southwest may never be quite the same again. At the moment the scene is one of apparent passivity, but there are signs of ill-concealed hostility among Anglo-Americans toward Pena. Mexican-Americans in areas of extremist militancy.

There's also deep concern among the more conservative Mexican-Americans that extremist agitation may result in unpleasant reactions. "Our alliance isn't hyphenated," said which we stand now."

To the argument that Mexican-Americans lack the training or education to hold good-paying jobs, Behar (San Antonio) County Commissioner Albert A. Pena Jr., a lawyer, says: "A lack of education is a result of discrimination. When the Mexican-American gets better pay, he'll have the means with which to educate his children."

There are recognizably less lofty motives behind some of the new militants: the anarchic schemes of the embittered "Anglo-hating" racist zealots, and the political and economic opportunism of the more articulate, better-connected "instant Mexican," a term applied to the late-blooming civil rightist who until federal and private funds in substantial amounts were made available. Demagogues are also present. No evidence has been turned up in support of a nationally circulated claim that 100,000 people were starving in the San Antonio area.

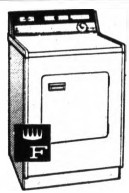

COLORFUL STYLE

Grim in the articulation of its objectives, the new militancy sparkles, nonetheless, with a colorful protest style and language all its own, a mixture of border Spanish and accented English. In East Los Angeles, young "Brown Berets" speak seriously of "Chicano Power." "Chicano" is verbal shorthand for "Mexicano." Ultraconservatives in the movement are tagged "Tio Tomas" for Uncle Tom.

Some leaders despair of ever achieving national unity because of the diversity of issues confronting the various groups regionally. The availability of substantial federal and private funds has encouraged a real effort at unity, but many feel this may be the source of serious discord among groups with different views on militancy. Mexican-American and Negro militants also have quarreled over their share of the poverty program pie.

Old Engine Lures Buffs to Australia

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — A Belgian-built Decauville locomotive is attracting railway historians from all parts of the world to Frankston, 20 miles south of Melbourne.

The locomotive, built in 1890, hauled coal for Melbourne's Metropolitan Gas Works between 1890 and 1940.

Today, it hauls young and old train fans around three-quarters of a mile of 2-foot, 6-inch track at a Frankston amusement park.

Jack Griffiths, owner of the 63-acre park, said the locomotive, except for the valve gear pins and mountings, is much as it was when built.

The Light Railways Research Society in Melbourne says the Decauville is "the oldest of its type in the world still operating, and the oldest of any type of steam locomotive operating in Australia."

The locomotive's only carriage carries 70 at a time. About 6,000 have ridden it on Sundays and public holidays in the first six months since the track opened last December. Two more carriages are being built.

Move Afoot to Lift Secrecy of House Presidential Vote

WASHINGTON (U) — Secrecy may be lifted from the voting if election of the next president is thrown into the House of Representatives as it has on two past occasions.

And the public may not have to wait several months after the November election to know who won.

These departures from past practice are the objectives of a bipartisan move headed by Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., and Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz.

They are designed to prevent political bargaining and horse-trading if no candidate wins a clear majority of the 538 Electoral College votes in November. In that event, the Congress convening next January would decide the outcome.

MAJORITY VOTE

The House would elect the President, with each state having one vote, and a majority, 26 votes, being required. The choice would be limited to the three top candidates.

The Senate would elect the vice president, with each senator, rather than each state, having a vote.

Public opinion polls indicate George C. Wallace of Alabama, candidate of the American Independent Party, might win enough electoral votes to prevent either the Democratic or Republican nominee from getting a majority.

In 1901 and in 1923, the House had to elect the President. There were no records kept of who voted for whom when the representatives cast their ballots.

SECRET VOTES

Each of the 16 states in 1901 held separate advance huddles, and the members cast secret votes. The vote of the state went to the candidate who got a majority. If the vote was split, it was recorded as "divided."

When all the Representatives met in the House chamber, the roll of states was called alphabetically, with tellers from each state putting a ballot in the ballot box. The ballot simply stated the name of the candidate but not the name of the state. They were counted.

It took 36 ballots to elect Thomas Jefferson over Aaron Burr in 1801. The final outcome was 16 votes for Jefferson, 4 for Burr and 2 blank or divided.

Official records show that the voting lasted "for several days" with some recesses.

In 1923 only one ballot was required to elect John Quincy Adams, who got 13 state votes to 7 for Andrew Jackson and 4 for William H. Crawford of Georgia. Again, the voting was secret.

GROUND RULES

The Constitution provides that the House by resolution spell out the ground rules for the voting. Each state gets one vote on adoption of the rules. The 1801 and 1923 rules banned the public from the actual balloting.

The Goodell-Udall plan calls for different rules if the House has to elect the next President. When the name of a state is called, the individual members from that state would vote and there would be no secret about it. The public would know not only how each state voted but how each member cast his ballot.

One of the arguments against that procedure is that the secrecy of the ballot should be maintained. Proponents counter with the argument that a representative actually is casting the vote of his constituency and the constituents should not be kept in the dark about how he cast it.

The open-voting proposal appears to have a better chance of being approved than does another Goodell-Udall plan.

ADVANCE PLEDGES

It calls for advance pledges from all candidates for election to the 1969 House: that if no candidate wins a majority of the electoral votes, the pledged representative would vote for the one who got a plurality of the popular vote nationally.

The voting in the House still would be by state.

Some opponents of the plan, including Wallace, claim it would be illegal in that it would circumvent the Constitution.

The advance pledges to support the plurality candidate would not be binding.

Butcher Knife Routs Robber

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — "I thought to myself: 'Oh, God, help me.' Then I saw the butcher knife," said Mrs. Robert Airgood, 58.

Mrs. Airgood grabbed the knife and thrust it toward the armed youth who had entered her grocery store Wednesday. He dashed out the front door with Mrs. Airgood, screaming and waving the butcher knife, following.

After about a one block chase, the youth disappeared in a crowd.

18 and three are equally divided.

A leading Republican described the plan as "unrealistic and unenforceable." A few Republican gains in strategic House districts, he said, would give the GOP a majority of the state delegations even if a Democratic presidential candidate got a plurality of the popular vote. The GOP could have a state delegation majority without controlling the House itself.

A potent argument for the plurality proposal is that a candidate receiving a plurality of the popular vote would know the day after the election that he would become president in January by vote of the House.

He wouldn't have to wait until the new Congress convened to start picking his cabinet and other top executive appointees.

A proposed constitutional amendment to abolish the Electoral College is gaining strong support in Congress. It calls for election of a presidential candidate who receives a plurality of the popular vote. If no candidate received more than 40 per cent of the total vote, there would be a runoff election between the two leaders.

But it would be impossible for such an amendment to be ratified before the 1968 election.

Navy to Retain Indicted Firm

supplier, despite the firm's indictment on charges of defrauding the government on earlier contracts.

U.S. to Free Large Number of North Viets

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States decided to release a large number of North Vietnamese prisoners to encourage Hanoi to free more of the hundreds of U.S. military personnel it is detaining.

State Department officials said today arrangements are being worked out with the North Vietnamese for the return in the very near future of the 14 North Vietnamese naval personnel designed for release by U.S. negotiators in Paris yesterday.

This group, which fell into U.S. Navy hands July 1, 1966, would be the largest group the United States has freed at one time since the Vietnam war began.

From time to time, South Vietnam in coordination with the United States has released somewhat larger groups of North Vietnamese prisoners captured during land engagements. The North Vietnamese sailors were taken by U.S. authorities in a naval engagement between three North Vietnamese PT boats and U.S. ships in international waters off the Gulf of Tonkin.

SMALL NUMBERS

North Vietnam has released small numbers of U.S. prisoners in gestures much appreciated by U.S. officials.

But on the whole Hanoi has been uncooperative in regularizing prisoner exchanges by refusing to deal with the usual Red Cross machinery and by refusing to supply a list of the Americans in its hands.

U.S. officials report there are more than 650 American military personnel missing or captured in North Vietnam.

On Feb. 15, the North Vietnamese released three U.S. fliers. On March 29, the United States reciprocated by releasing three North Vietnamese sailors who were taken in the July 1, 1966, naval engagement. Two others of the original 19 sailors taken in the engagement were returned because of illness and wounds.

NEW MOMENTUM

The exchange of prisoners gained new momentum last Friday when North Vietnam released three more American fliers, who are now back in the United States.

Yesterday's gesture was apparently not made to reciprocate for those three Americans but rather to pave the way for further releases by Hanoi.

'Racism Leaves No Man Safe'

DETROIT (AP)—Hatred on the basis of race creates a "society of anonymity—a society in which no man is safe from any other man who differs from him in color," the outgoing president of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity told the group Wednesday.

Alpha Phi Alpha is a college fraternity founded by seven Negro students at Cornell University in 1906. It is predominantly Negro, but has several white members, a spokesman said.

Dr. Lionel H. Newsom of Atlanta, Ga., told the group's 62nd anniversary convention that despite "our nation's noble pronouncements of equality and justice for all, Negro Americans still constitute, relatively speaking, the largest proportion of the despised, the rejected, the poor, the illiterate, the economically handicapped, the occupationally unemployed and the politically disenfranchised."

Newsome said the fraternity is not opposed to black power as long as it remains militant and aggressive, but nonviolent.

Ernest N. Morial of New Orleans, a member of the Louisiana Legislature, was elected new president to succeed Newsome.

officer, Francis N. Rosenbaum, director and special counsel; Evelyn R. Price, Stone's executive secretary, and Robert B. Bregman, president of Bregman Electronics Inc. of New York City.

1966 MERGER
Chromcraft Corp. merged with Alisco in 1966. Since 1962, Chromcraft and Alisco have been the Navy's sole supplier of 2.75-inch rocket launchers.

The Navy told the House Appropriations Committee in March that the launchers are patented by Chromcraft and Alisco.

The defendants named in the indictment were Chromcraft Corp.; Alisco Inc. of St. Louis; Andrew L. Stone, Alisco's main stockholder; and chief executive tion is completely prohibitive," said the Navy.

The Associated Press reported exclusively that the Justice Department investigation of Alisco already was under way when the Navy awarded the contract for $13.9 million July 23.

The indictment said Chromcraft fed $3,407,284.23 to Swiss bank accounts through Scientific Electronics Ltd. and Bregman Electronics Inc. from 1963 through 1966. The indictment said the money was supposedly for equipment, but none was ever furnished.

The indictment said kickbacks of $663,481.05 were furnished by Western Molded Fibre Products Inc. of Gardena, Calif., which supplied parts to Chromcraft.

Next to New York and California, we'll have the largest delegation at either of the conventions.

More than 150 faces in that crowd will be ours. Does that sound like a lot of people on one story for just one newspaper? It is. But there's a good reason for it. We're a member of The Associated Press. That means we'll have men and women to cover every single detail of the Republican convention in Miami Beach and the Democratic convention in Chicago.

Every minute, our AP staff of seasoned political news editors and reporters will be on the scene. Special convention news desks will be set up to work around the clock, ready to transmit convention happenings the moment they take place. Experienced photo editors, photographers and darkroom technicians will operate from strategic photo workrooms, ready to send headline pictures through AP's vast transcontinental Wirephoto network.

It takes a staff of more than 150 to do a job like this. It takes a newspaper to cover such an array of news. No wonder we'll be the newspaper to give you the complete, accurate and up-to-the-minute convention story.

Latin Chief Looks to Peasant

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — President Rene Barrientos has spent his political career cultivating support among Bolivia's three million Indian and Mestizo peasants.

Last week he issued a call for them to be prepared to fight a civil war on his behalf.

The call was Barrientos' trump card as political friends seemed increasingly to isolate him while his old ally, Gen. Alfredo Ovando, took a watchful hands-off attitude toward Barrientos' most crisis in office.

"Be ready to take to arms," Barrientos told the peasants.

"The peasant must take power."

NO DOUBT

Barrientos left no doubt that he considers his government the manifestation of "Peasant power" and their welfare identical with his political survival.

Almost every weekend, Barrientos travels to Bolivian hinterlands, striving to create a reputation for paternal benevolence. Glowing tales of his daring physical courage and masculinity add to the reputation.

Whether it is Barrientos the man or the power he holds that might impress peasants is open to question. Bolivians remember that exiled President Victor Paz Estenssoro called for peasant help three days before Ovando and Barrientos overthrew him in a 1964 coup d'etat.

It is doubtful how many peasants have even heard of Barrientos in the more remote Bolivian backlands. The weather-beaten Aymara Indians live in scattered settlements of the barren Altiplano, a rugged high plains area at places 15,000 feet above sea level. The Quechua Indians work the eastern valleys far from this Andean capital.

FILTER BACK

Some reports have filtered back to La Paz that more sophisticated settlements in the nation's central zone responded to Barrientos' call for aid.

One peasant leader stood before 500 armed followers at the farming village of Quillacollo and declared they were ready to "repel any attempt at subversion."

Barrientos needed all the help he could get.

His administration first was rocked early in July when Cuba published the diary of Ernesto Barrientos' apparent refusal to

MARKIST ADMIRER

The diary was supposed to be safe under lock and key. Then Barrientos' close friend, former government minister Antonio Arguedas, fled to Chile and announced he leaked the diary to Cuba because he was a Marxist admirer of Guevara and Fidel Castro.

"Suppose President Johnson's best friend in his cabinet passed on some vital secrets to the Chinese Communists because he admired Mao," said one Bolivian. "That's how we felt."

Next, Vice President Luis Adolfo Siles and Barrientos started quarrelling regarding published the diary of Ernesto Barrientos' apparent refusal to call Congress into session Aug. 6 and his jailing of opposition legislators.

A mostly civilian cabinet resigned when Siles withdrew the support of his Social Democrats from a four-party government coalition backing the government.

ALL-MILITARY CABINET

Barrientos then named an all-military cabinet.

Bolivians waited for Ovando's reaction. All-military cabinets summoned memories of army coups and dictatorships.

Ovando, the armed forces' chief of staff, said Barrientos' soldier friends in the new cabinet were serving as individuals only and the army would continue to stay out of politics unless "things fell apart" in the government.

Most observers here believe Ovando wants to be president. They interpreted his statement as meaning he will wait until the 1970 presidential elections when he can seek office constitutionally.

But Ovando also appeared to be watching Barrientos closely to see how he resolves the crisis.

Slump in French Tourism Tied to Desertion by Americans

PARIS (AP)—When a tourist steps up to a French hotel's reception desk these days, the greeting is "Où, monsieur, what kind of a room would you like?"

Last year, or most years before that during the summer season, the reply would probably have been a grumpy "We're all filled up."

* * *

The change in the answer may be good for the tourists, but it's bad for the French tourist industry, which is sick.

The student-worker strikes, street fighting and general shut down in May and June killed the summer season in Paris. Hotel keepers and restaurant owners have written it off as an almost complete loss. The tourist centers in the Provinces are hoping to salvage something from August, but over-all 1968 is an extremely bad year.

ONE REFRAIN

Hotel-keepers, restaurant owners, nightclub operators and souvenir shop salesmen have one refrain: "The Americans have deserted us."

A maitre d'hôtel at the Lido nightclub said: "Our business is down at least 25 per cent. It's the Americans who are missing. We used to turn down reservations for weekends; now we can take care of all requests."

In Biarritz, business in the luxury hotels was down 30-40 per cent in July, and no one expects to get back to normal full occupancy in August. Villas usually rented by Americans are empty. Restaurants complain that business is off up to 30 per cent because of the shortage of American clientele.

On the French Riviera, Paul Augier, president of the regional tourism committee, said: "For the month of August, the hotels on the Riviera will be almost full, but no one will be turned away. Occupancy will be at least 10 per cent below last year."

MORE NUMEROUS

"The American cancellations have been less numerous than was feared. After the address of President Johnson in April, we thought there might be 40-50 per cent cancellations. In reality the organized groups are down 30-35 per cent, but the individual tourists are more numerous.

"Over-all, the number of Americans on the Riviera will be 20-25 per cent less than in previous years."

The Americans—urged to stay home to help with the dollar drain—were perhaps angered by the policies of President Charles de Gaulle, or scared away by the May-June upheaval. There are also fewer Englishmen and Germans.

Currency restrictions are a limiting factor for the English and the Germans seemed to have canceled during or after what the French call the "events" in May and June.

SPENDING LESS

Even Frenchmen are contributing to the tourism slowdown. Fewer are leaving home for vacations, and those that do are spending less money and traveling shorter distances.

With low prices as a magnet, Spain has been attracting hordes of French tourists in recent years. But in the first days of July, only 40 per cent as many automobiles crossed the Spanish border as last year, and by the end of the month the figure was 70-75 per cent.

Britanny and Normandy, relatively closer to Paris, have benefited. The ever-growing boom in camping has had a new stimulus. Luxury hotels have suffered most.

Even beyond the short-term effects of the strikes and student riots, French tourism has been going through a long-term sinking spell.

about 11 million persons in 1966. Last year it dropped back about 10 per cent. For the first time Frenchmen spent more on tourism abroad than foreigners spent in France.

French tourism officials have been working to counter the harmful effects of reports of high prices and surly service that have led to shorter and shorter stays.

After World War II, the number of foreign tourists visiting France rose until it reached shorter stays in France even when the total number of tourists was rising

A propaganda campaign was started early this year to show that by comparison, French prices were holding steady while big increases were noted in other tourist countries. The effect of this sales pitch was wiped out in May and June.

The rising curve of French expenditures abroad will be broken this year by a limit of 1,000 francs—$200—that a tourist can take out of the country. But the income from foreign tourists also will be down sharply.

With the 'summer season' charged off as a loss, the next big effort will be on the rapidly expanding winter ski season.

Modern resorts set in magnificent snow fields are challenging the long-time Swiss and Austrian dominance in this field.

Daughter Is Leaving; It's 2-Way Race Now

By JOY STILEY
NEW YORK (AP)—When our youngest goes off in pursuit of a higher education this fall, we won't be losing a daughter—we'll be gaining one-third of a chair.

Because our living room is crammed with such objects as wall-to-wall bookcases, electric organs and other assorted furniture not made for sitting purposes, there is space for only one easy chair in the entire room.

The couch, it is true, provides seating for three persons, but is cold, hard and forbidding compared to the deep luxury of that overstuffed chair with broad armrests, which is the real seat of family inactivity.

Since this refuge of comfort also boasts the best reading light in the house, its popularity cannot be overstated. In our home the game of "musical chairs" is constantly in progress.

Should the sittee arise for one brief moment to dash to the kitchen for a snack, no matter how speedy the sprint, he or she will find, on returning to the chair, that it is already occupied by an alert opponent. Thus, once a member of our family trio has established squatters' rights, he will endure the pangs of hunger or the boredom of an unwanted television program, rather than risk getting up and losing the seat of honor.

This is not the only cat-and-mouse game played by the three of us still occupying the old homestead. Aside from "Chair, Chair, who gets the chair?" another contest is regularly carried out on Sundays.

This one is known as "Who is going to get dressed first, thereby having to go out to buy the Sunday papers?"

ONCE NO PROBLEM
In the earlier days of our parenthood, my husband and I had few problems along that line. As soon as the kids could cross the street alone, they were presented with a coin to clutch in a small hand, pointed in the direction of the corner stationery store and told to "fetch."

Later, when they got older, wiser and more mercenary, this maneuver required two coins—one for the papers and the other for the errand boy or girl.

The three of us have been known to stay in our pajamas and robes far into the afternoon, each hoping somebody else will break first. The two nonsports fans have the advantage over the male in our household during the football season — his anxiety to read about the games sometimes leads him to cash in his chips first.

Used-Car Bugs: Beware of 'Em

Guidelines Are Given to Judge a Good Buy

By United Press International
Less than half of the cars sold in the United States each year are new.

The used car market, in terms of volume, is even bigger than the new car market. During the past few years, the total car sales market has run around 20 million, of which between 8 and 9 million are new cars. The rest are used.

Most people buying a new car have an old bus to turn in, and the dealer takes it in trade to resell on the used car market. It has been estimated that a dealer handles two and one half cars before he "washes out" as a new car sale. Some of the cars he takes in trade, he resells on his own lot. Others are wholesaled to a used car dealer, and the real dogs are sold for junk.

All this means that there are more used-car buyers in this country than there are new-car buyers. Beyond a limited warranty, sometimes lasting only 30 days, the used-car buyer has little guarantee that he's getting his money's worth.

HINTS OFFERED

There are a few guidelines that can tell a prospective used car purchaser whether the car he's considering is a good buy.

First, don't worry about a few knicks in the paint. In fact, the car to worry about is the flashy one that looks as if it came from the showroom. It may be a new paint job covering evidence of a bad accident. A rough-running engine doesn't necessarily mean a bad engine. It may only need a minor tune-up. And poor brake linings can be replaced.

But examine the car carefully around headlamps, on the panels beneath the bumpers and under the doors. If they show blister marks on the paint, it may be that the car is rusting out.

On a car with an automatic transmission, let it run for about 15 minutes, then check the transmission oil stick. If the oil smells like burned rags, the transmission is going bad — big money.

GET A CHECKUP

Of course the best method of all is to take the car to an expert mechanic or invest $10 or $15 for a complete diagnostic center checkup, if the owner or dealer is willing to let you.

If he isn't, that's the best "beware" of all.

MINDING THE MUSCOVITES—A policeman guides traffic in the downtown area of Moscow as one of the many and varied aspects of his job. Moscow policemen are noted for their technique of denying the obvious and refusing to answer questions.

Many Moscow Police

By ANTHONY C. COLLINGS

MOSCOW (AP) — It was like a scene from the Keystone Kops. A Moscow policeman, stern and dignified, was standing in the middle of Kutuzovsky Boulevard, faced with an impossible task.

He was supposed to keep Muscovites from crossing the street at a place where they had always crossed the street but where now someone in city hall decided there shouldn't be a crosswalk any more.

The first woman came scurrying across. The policeman blew his whistle. She kept coming. He blew his whistle louder. He held her to go back.

ALREADY HALFWAY

"But I'm already halfway across," she said.

Pilot Parachutes to Safety Before Fighter Crashes

CLOVIS N.M. (AP) — A pilot from Cannon Air Force Base parachuted safely Wednesday from his F-4D jet fighter plane before it crashed on a training mission in south-central New Mexico.

A Cannon AFB spokesman said 1st Lt. George G. Guthrie, 25, of Mountain Lakes, N.J., bailed out of the aircraft over a gunnery-bombing range near Holloman AFB.

Guthrie was picked up by a helicopter. An Air Force board of review was investigating the crash.

"Never mind," he said. "go back."

A man started crossing from the other side, behind the cop's back. The cop turned and began shouting at the man, and the woman, seeing the cop wasn't looking, defiantly dashed across the street.

This went on for hours, the cop getting furious. Soviet citizens craftily waiting for the moment his back was turned.

REBELLIOUSNESS

This rare bit of Russian rebelliousness, contrasting with the usually sullen, obedient attitude, is one of the many things Moscow policemen are on the look-out for.

Official figures on the size of the force are not disclosed, but foreigners visiting here say Moscow is one of the most heavily policed cities in the world. A five-minute drive down a main street is likely to turn up as many as 15 policemen stationed along the route. They're even seen often in the countryside, miles outside the city.

The cops stand in gray sentry boxes outside embassies and the few apartment buildings assigned to foreigners, ostensibly to protect the foreigners. Diplomats say the cops are really there to keep curious Russians from making contact with foreigners, especially those from the West.

The policemen also direct traffic, control crowds at mass gatherings, haul in drunks and guard trains and river boats.

TRIM AND TOUGH

The typical Moscow cop, smartly dressed in a blue uniform with bright red trim, looks and acts tough.

Invariably he clenches between his teeth the hollow-tube end of a papirosa, the Russian cigarette. In winter his formidable appearance is enhanced by a black fur hat, shin-length greatcoat and boots.

A visit to a precinct station recently gave one American a close-up look at Moscow police in action. Reporting his car was stolen, the American was treated courteously by a captain.

Looking informal with his uniform jacket unbuttoned, the captain remained cooperative until two Russian women came in. In a timid voice, one of them asked about her relative who had been arrested.

"No one has been arrested," the policeman said curtly.

"But he has been, I know," she replied. "Be quiet. You listen and I'll do the talking." The captain shouted and slammed things on the desk. "No one has been arrested."

AN ADMISSION

After he finished his tirade, the woman, close to tears, said she was sure someone had been arrested. Finally the captain asked for the man's name again, after the woman had already given it several times. He looked in the registry book, snapped it shut, and said: "He's here."

When the woman asked why he was arrested, the policeman said: "No personal information can be given out."

The woman pleaded, but he repeated in a menacing way: "Didn't you hear? I said no personal information can be given out."

The two women looked intimidated, and fell silent.

DENYING OBVIOUS

This same police technique—denying the obvious and refusing to answer questions—was demonstrated last winter when a six-story apartment building collapsed after an explosion. When a Western newsman wanted to get closer, a cop standing in plain view of the rubble refused and said: "No building has collapsed. You must be mistaken."

For all their effectiveness in keeping the citizenry in line, Soviet "military" policemen are not directly involved in the state's policy of suppressing political dissent. That task is handled by the secret police, known by its Russian initials as the KGB.

Negro Role in History Emerges

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Dr. Prince Wilson is associate secretary of the Atlanta University Center Corp., which coordinates joint programs of six predominantly Negro educational institutions in Atlanta, and he is a member of the executive committee of the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History. He has a master's degree and a Ph.D. in history from the University of Chicago.)

systems, river navies, religious temples, and royal palaces had been part of the history of that area for more than half a millennium.

Nowhere in Europe, for example, was eye surgery successfully performed at the same time it was brought off in the Senghai empire's University of Sankore. Modern histories of early universities almost never mention this African institution while Americans have ever dreamed that black explorers came into Georgia and the Carolinas a century before the Mayflower brought the first English to America. The average white American does not know that free Negroes served as a type of conquistador with Balboa when he first looked out upon the Pacific Ocean, or that some 200 accompanied Spaniards to discover Peru, or that a black planted the first wheat crop in America as he accompanied Hernando Cortez to Mexico. Until recently, no textbooks for white America told the story of the Negro named Estevanico whose searches for the Seven Cities of Cibola led him to discover Arizona and New Mexico for the Spanish.

Historians who had followed the lead of Ulrich B. Phillips and the Burgess-Dunning School at the turn of the century had misled Americans to believe that Negroes were inherently happy and docile, inferior creatures. They had not told the true facts that blacks had revolted and protested their enslavement at almost every juncture beginning with their capture in Africa.

The knife, ax, and gun were indeed taken up by some free and slave blacks in the 19th century in similar fashion to the Molotov Cocktail in the 20th. Burnings, looting, and killings were used by Cato in the 18th (Continued on Page D-5, Col. 1)

By DR. PRINCE E. WILSON
Written for the Associated Press

For more than 300 years, while Americans have believed that Negroes or black men have had no history.

The great universities of this and other Western-oriented nations gave no serious attention in their curricula offerings to the role and scope of the black men in world cultures.

"African history" seemed to be a contradiction of terms.

A first major point of awareness for the average white American is that black Americans do in fact have a history and that that history is badly known or sadly unknown by white Americans.

WHITES MIS-EDUCATED

While America has been worse than poorly educated in this area — it has been mis-educated.

A second point of needed understanding is that the average white American "knows" about the Negro only as a slave in the past, a knowledge both incomplete and replete with errors. This knowledge about Negro slavery did not properly prepare the average white American to understand the developments of the 1960s. The sit-ins, boycotts, "freedom rides," and the violence of Watts, Hough, Detroit and Newark showed the perspective American that something was wrong with his "knowledge" of the Negro.

The events of the 1960s not only gave new freedoms to some black Americans, they gave new freedom and significance to historians in revealing the unprejudiced truth about the history of the Negro. Although still too frequently ignoring the pioneering studies by black scholars, white historians threw off the manacles of race prejudice and turned out more objective publications.

Abandoning the foot rule as a measure of Negro history, the newly freed scholars turned to study ancient Africa and found there amazing civilizations and cultures.

BLACK PHAROHS

Ancient Egypt and Ethiopia were publicized as having had important and illustrious black leaders. Black pharaohs had built some of the great Egyptian cities, temples, sphinxes, and pyramids while driving Asiatic invaders before them.

That blacks in Africa were among the earliest to make iron was known for more than half a century by white and black scholars, but it was never revealed in white America's textbooks.

Scholars and publishers turned to West Africa—"Dark Africa," supposedly the area of "barbaric and savage subhumans." But, facts showed that complex kingdoms, confederations and empires sustained by standing armies, tax collectors, standard weights and measures, bookkeeping with Gant, everything that's buttondown isn't buttoned down

THE SWITCHED-ON CLASS

Here's the newest news: Gant's button-less buttondown: a long, straight collar that looks like a buttondown, but which can be worn as it is, or with a collar bar. It's called the Town collar; comes in Town Madras—a two-tone overcheck in blue, green or tabac. Otherwise traditionally cut—and detailed. $9

The traditional buttondown, here in the ultimate classic: solid-shade oxfordcloth. But for news, it's blended of durable-press Dacron-cotton. Button cuffs, hugger body, box pleat, hanger loop. In white, blue, or maize. $5.50

Once more, the buttondown of classic aspect—in pure cotton oxfordcloth. It has all the traditional detailing; adds a newsworthy touch in two-toned stripes on pewter, kelly or blue. This is one of the shirts that made Gant a legend, happily in your own time. $5.50

Thoroughly classic are the buttondown collar, button cuffs and hugger body. New is the hunter striped oxfordcloth of durable-press cotton polyester, in unquestionably proper shades of blue, pewter, or brindle. $10

Some Famous Negroes in Our History

GENIUS HAS NO BLACK-WHITE LINE—This montage presents a few of the black leaders, in many fields, from America's earliest days to the present.

century and Gabriel Prosser and Nat Turner in the 19th.

One historian has told this story to 20th century Americans but he was not deemed significant until recently.

NOT SO THE BLACK

Painted heroically were while American immigrants who opened the American West, built the railroads and developed the industries. Not so the blacks who opened the Cotton Kingdom, rode the Chisholm Trail as cowboys, and made inventions which helped in the development of American industry.

Most high school pupils know of the Indian's maize or corn, but few white Americans know of black Henry Blair's invention of a corn harvester in 1834 or its effect on opening the great Corn Belt. Few white Louisianians are told how the Negro New Orleans machinist, Norbert Rilleux, invented a sugar-refining process which increased the value of their sugar plantations. Detroit does not celebrate its native-born Elijah McCoy for his 57 patented devices, some of which were used on steamships in the Great Lakes and on the Canadian and Northwestern railroads, while others were useful in telegraphy.

There is no "Benjamin Franklin Day" for the Negro who excelled in astronomy, wrote and published a series of highly regarded almanacs, and helped to develop the plan and survey for laying out the nation's capital city. Few white Americans know that America's first shoelasting machine was invented by black Jan E. Matzinger. Nor that Negro Granville T. Woods worked on inventions ranging from electronics to steam boilers and automatic air brakes.

Perhaps only a figurative handful of white Americans know that a black American invented the "red light" that is used to regulate the auto traffic throughout the country. Again, even few blacks know that this was an Ohioan, Garrett Morgan.

MEDICAL CONTRIBUTIONS

Within the last decade, scholars have brought to greater levels of cognition the fact that Negroes have made significant contributions in the fields associated with medicine. America's leading white physician, James Derham, in the 1780s expected to suggest new medicines to America's leading black physician and found instead that the latter "suggested more to me."

White American admirers of the current heart transplants are likely unaware that the world's first successful heart operation was performed by Negro Dr. Daniel Hale Williams at Provident Hospital in Chicago in 1893. During World War II, Dr. Charles R. Drew developed the first blood plasma bank in the world and was appointed director of Britain's blood plasma project during the famous Battle of Britain.

Only very slowly were Negroes allowed into the nation's colleges and universities so that they could indeed train their minds and make major contributions. The first black to graduate from college in America, John B. Russwurm, did so almost 200 years after the establishment of Harvard University.

The first Negro to win a Ph.D. degree had to go to Belgium for the purpose. This man, Patrick Francis Healy, S. J., Ph.D., was inaugurated as president of Georgetown University, the oldest Catholic university in the United States, in 1877. Yale conferred the Ph.D. degree in physics on America's first black man to receive a doctoral degree from an American university in 1876. This was Edward Bouchet.

CARVER FAMOUS

Almost all white Americans know that George Washington Carver developed more than 100 products from the sweet potato, 100 from the pecan, and 185 from the peanut while developing several products from the clay of the South and using soybeans in the making of paint.

Few white Americans, however, know that almost 1,500 Negroes held the doctoral degree between 1920 and 1962 when university doors were more widely opened to blacks.

Recent scholarship is revealing that black achievements in the Army and Navy have been hidden, even falsified. One history book used in the 1930s devoted 517 pages to a biography of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant and only seven lines to the Negro soldier during the Civil War.

The black soldier and sailor have fought valiantly and well in almost every war staged in North America. They were in the wars before the American Revolution, including the French and Indian War. Crispus Attucks was the first American to die in our revolution although only Massachusetts has memorialized him by monument.

NOT WANTED

Negroes were not wanted in the Revolutionary War but were found in many of its major battles — Concord, Lexington, Bunker Hill — and crossed the Delaware with Gen. George Washington on that cold Christmas night in 1776. Tough, minded Andrew Jackson praised their valor at the Battle of New Orleans during the War of 1812 and regretted their courage when they sided with the Indians in the Seminole War.

Abraham Lincoln indicated his belief that it was the black soldier who helped turn the tide in favor of the Union in the Civil War.

Negroes helped to save Teddy Roosevelt at San Juan Hill, and more than 200,000 of them fought in the war to "save the world for democracy." One in a million blacks joined the battle against Adolf Hitler's Nazism from washing cars, watering lawns or gardens or using water

White America named its first in air-conditioners or swimming black general, Benjamin O. pools.

Best Turkey Is Big, Young and Tender

When turkeys are plentiful and your budget is not, it is wise to buy a big, young bird. Young turkeys weighing 14 to 22 pounds are tender-meat with soft pliable, smooth-textured skin.

Guidelines to use when selecting turkey are the U.S. Department of Agriculture's grade shield and inspection circle. The inspection mark assures the buyer that the bird is wholesome while the grade shield indicates quality.

Grade A is top quality but Grade B and C birds are just as nutritious. They don't have top quality appearance, but they often wear more inviting price tags, notes the Consumer and Marketing Service.

The butcher may be willing to cut the big bird just for the asking. Leaving it whole only means longer cooking time.

Whether whole or cut-up, young turkeys are scrumptious when barbecued, fried, broiled or roasted. Check cookbook for methods and time required.

Since the big bird was bought to save pennies, care and storage of leftovers is vital. Meat, gravy, broth and stuffing should each be put into separate containers immediately after the meal. Use within three days unless frozen. Frozen cooked turkey should be used within 30 days.

BROTH

Remember, too, that there are bones about it — bones that make excellent turkey broth. Use the bones, skin and bits of turkey meat.

Cover with cold water. Add a small onion and carrot, sliced; a peeled garlic clove and salt. A few celery leaves, parsley or bay leaf add an interesting flavor to the broth. Cover and bring to a boil.

Reduce heat and simmer 3 hours. Strain. Use at once or refrigerate in closed jar for 1 or 2 days. Broth may be frozen.

Blend and Chill

For a delicious dressing for sliced tomatoes, combine 1 cup dairy sour cream with ½ cup finely diced or shredded, well drained cucumber, 1 teaspoon minced onion, ¼ teaspoon seasoned salt and additional salt, to taste. Blend well and chill briefly to blend flavors.

This Cook-Out Stew Is Prepared on a Grill

Not all food cooked over coals has to be grilled. A hearty stew prepared in a heavy iron or earthenware casserole offers a welcome change for anyone who finds it more convenient and pleasant to move mealtime outdoors.

Fish stew can be assembled and cooked quickly and easily because it is based largely on ready-to-use frozen ingredients. The recipe is an adaptation of French Bouillabaisse, but it has a touch of New Orleans Gumbo with the addition of cut okra and a little rice.

Cook-Out Fish Stew

3 tablespoons olive or corn oil
1 cup frozen chopped green pepper
1 cup frozen chopped green pepper
1 cup water
1 bottle (8 ounces) clam broth
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon black pepper
2 bay leaves
2 to 3 drops Tabasco
¼ teaspoon crumbled thyme
½ cup raw rice
¾ cup frozen chopped parsley
1 package (10 ounces) frozen cut okra

1 package (1 pound) frozen fish fillets — haddock, cod, flounder or ocean perch, partially thawed

Hamburger Dish Has Nutty Flavor

Chunky peanut butter gives subtle nutty flavor and interesting texture to this hamburger skillet dish. In skillet brown 1 pound ground beef with 1 medium onion, chopped, and 1 medium green pepper, cut in strips; pour off fat. Blend in ¼ cup chunky style peanut butter and 2 cans (8 ounces each) tomato sauce with mushrooms. Simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Serve over 4 servings hot cooked rice. Makes 4 servings.

Begin Well at Breakfast

Some recent brides, turned homemakers, may believe preparing breakfast each morning takes too much time. Is too costly. Or is unnecessary.

Not the nutrition-wise bride. She knows it is a good way for her husband and herself to start the day. An adequate breakfast will help them to feel better and work better, especially during the late morning hours.

A noted nutrition scientist said: "The failure to eat an adequate breakfast results in undue fatigue and increases accident rates in the home and in the plant."

"One needs breakfast to replenish the body's fuel and nutrient reserves after 12 to 14 hours' fasting."

NOT HEAVY

Because of our more sedentary way of life, today's breakfast needn't be heavy to be adequate.

Medical and nutrition authorities have formulated a basic pattern consisting of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and spread. It is a speedy, economical meal. It may be supplemented with eggs or breakfast meats for those whose energy needs are higher.

In most cases, this simple basic meal can be prepared in the time it takes to make the coffee.

First Cakes Were Flat, Originated in Norway

The term "cake" descends from a Middle English word, and before that from Old Norwegian. Cakes of the Middle Ages were the flat, pancake kind of pastry King Alfred was said to have allowed to burn.

Cakes become higher and lighter when it was discovered that eggs would raise a batter of flour and sugar and still later with the discovery of baking powder. The time spent beating the cakes with eggs totaled four to five hours, but luckily today the time is reduced to mere minutes.

In fact, in mere minutes, you can make Lemon-Lime Meringue Cake — just the thing for the next time you entertain!

This modern "flat cake" is a luscious, zippy lemon layer cake baked in a pie pan, covered with a lively lime filling and meringue. The filling might be lemon or orange if you prefer, or of jam or marmalade.

Lovely Lemon-Lime Meringue Cake is mix-easy to make with new Sunbelt Lemon Cake Mix and Fluff Frosting Mix. Do try this sunny new version of an old favorite!

LEMON-LIME MERINGUE CAKE

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease and flour two 8-inch pie pans. Prepare lemon cake mix as directed on package. Pour batter into prepared pans; bake about 30 minutes. Cool. Do not remove from pans.

Prepare 1 package (5¼ ounces) lime pudding and pie filling as directed on package. Cool. Spread each layer, with pie filling.

Heat oven to 300 degrees. Prepare lemon fluff-type frosting.

Second Fruit Is in the Shortcake

Use recipe of blueberry muffin mix to prepare coffee cake batter. Pour into a buttered 8-inch round cake pan. Sprinkle with sugar. Bake according to directions.

Cut shortcake into wedges and spoon on sweetened fresh peach slices. Pass whipped cream if desired.

Did you know that a dozen large eggs weighs a pound and a half? Try comparing the price per pound with price per dozen.

There's a Salad for Everyone

SOUTHWEST CHEF SALAD

Southwest Chef Salad is an excellent way to use low-calorie lettuce, and it also provides a disguise for left-over vegetables. Be sure and marinate the vegetables in a favorite oil and vinegar dressing before adding to the crisp salad greens.

Southwest Chef Salad

1 quart iceberg lettuce and romaine leaves
1 cup cooked beans
1 cup cooked potato, cubed
1 cup zucchini squash, sliced
1/4 cup cheese-flavored crackers
3 radishes
1 hard-boiled egg
Italian Style Dressing
In a large cold salad bowl, add crisp salad greens torn in bite-size pieces. Add just enough dressing to coat greens.

Use fresh cooked or canned beans, drained and cut into julienne strips. Lightly sprinkle beans with dehydrated horse-radish powder if available.

Cut cooked potato in cubes. Wash zucchini squash, but leave the skin on. Cut in thin slices. Pour boiling water over the squash slices and let stand for one minute, then drain.

Sprinkle dressing on the vegetable ingredients. Cut radishes in roses. Cut egg in quarters.

Group the vegetable ingredients and cheese crackers on top of the salad greens with an eye for color contrast. Garnish with radish roses and egg quarters. Makes 4-5 servings.

Add Curried Oat Puffs to Ladylike Salad Entree

Oat puffs, buttered and lightly curried, give individuality to this turkey or chicken salad.

Use a liberal sprinkling of the poultry, pineapple bits, or loaf, or serve on crisp salad greens as an entree salad. Yield: 4 cups.

CHICKEN OR TURKEY SALAD WITH CURRIED OAT PUFFS

1 cup oat puffs
1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted
1 teaspoon curry powder
2 cups diced cooked chicken or turkey
1/4 cup salad dressing
1 tablespoon chopped preserved ginger
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup thinly sliced celery
1 can (13 1/2 oz.) pineapple tidbits, drained
1/2 cup halved green grapes, optional
Combine cereal, butter or margarine, and 1/4 teaspoon curry powder; mix. Cool. Combine chicken or turkey, salad dressing, ginger, salt, and remaining

CHICKEN OR TURKEY SALAD WITH CURRIED CEREAL

It's Zesty Herb Dressing for Ham

Think of Mexican food and say aficionados of good eating. Ham salad, Mexican-style, is the searing dishes. Not always so, kind of cool, colorful salad that

HAM SALAD BOWL, MEXICAN STYLE

Dressing Stands for 5 Days

Chef Jacques Richerds of the famous Santa Ynez Inn in California shares his Blue Cheese Dressing recipe with home cooks. It's delicious on a Chef's salad.

BLUE CHEESE DRESSING
2 cups mayonnaise
1 cup commercial sour cream
1/2 cup buttermilk
1/2 teaspoon MSG
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
4 ounces blue cheese

In large bowl of the electric food mixer, add the first eight ingredients in the order given. Blend together about 5 minutes. Cut the cheese with a knife into very small nuggets. Add to the other ingredients. Mix only until blended. Put into a quart jar. Refrigerate. The flavor will be mellow in 5 days. If it is thicker than you like, thin with half-half.

Makes 1 quart.

Try New Burgers of Corned Beef

Whatever the weather, you can plan on corned beef burgers as a hearty and satisfying sandwich. For the outdoors, corned beef burgers can be grilled over the open fire and served in warm buns.

For a change of flavor, serve the burgers with an assortment of relishes including horseradish or Dijon-style mustard combined with pickle relish. Corned beef burgers are just gash.

Warm rolls in preheated 375 degree oven 3 to 5 minutes or until cheese melts. Serve hot.

Try a new flavor for pot roasts or meat loaves by basting them during cooking with the spiced vinegar pickles from canned sweet pickles.

Candy Bits, Nuts Stud Cookie Bars

Chewy Peanut Bars

1/4 cup unsifted regular flour
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 cup chopped cocktail peanuts
1/4 cup butterscotch-flavor morsels
2 eggs
2 tablespoons butter, melted
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Grease the bottom of an 8 by 8 by 2-inch cake pan.

In a medium mixing bowl, thoroughly stir together the flour, baking powder and salt; stir in the brown sugar; add the peanuts and butterscotch morsels.

In a small bowl beat the eggs until they begin to thicken and are lemon color; add to dry ingredients with butter and vanilla; with a spoon, mix well. Spread in prepared baking pan.

Bake in a 350-degree oven for about 25 minutes. While warm, cut into 16 two-inch bars; with a small spatula remove to wire rack to cool. Store in tightly covered container.

Rice-Tomato Combine for Side Dish

The truly perfect hostess, and a joy to know, is the one who can put together a good meal on short notice.

This impromptu feast starts off with baked ham with spiced apricot garnish, "Tomato Rice Medley," and a relish plate. Buttered green peas, hot rolls and pineapple sherbet with cookies, and hot coffee complete the menu.

The ham is an already-cooked one that requires only a brief heating in the oven. Meanwhile, quick-cooking rice, convenient canned tomato sauce with cheese, mushrooms, onions and green pepper cook in bouillon in a matter of minutes for a delicious rice side-dish. The rolls can be purchased at the grocery store or bakery, or use frozen bread dough from your freezer. Follow the directions on the package for speedy thawing and proofing.

Canned tomato sauce with cheese is a handy item to keep on your shelf of staples. It sauces rice, pasta, and many other foods with robust Italian herbs and spices, plus a generous amount of aged Romano cheese, all simmered into a rich red tomato sauce.

TOMATO RICE MEDLEY
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

1/4 cup minced onion
1/4 cup minced green pepper
1/4 cup sliced fresh or canned mushrooms
1 cup (8-oz.) can tomato sauce with cheese
1 1/2 cups hot chicken bouillon
Dash of salt
1 1/4 cups packaged pre-cooked rice

* Use canned bouillon or dissolve 1 1/4 cup boiling water in 1 1/4 cup boiling water.

* Melt butter in chafing dish over direct heat. Add onion, pepper, and mushrooms and saute until lightly browned. Add tomato sauce with cheese, bouillon, salt, and rice. Mix well. Bring to a boil. Then cover tightly, remove from heat and let stand 7-8 minutes. Makes about 3 1/2 cups or 3 or 4 servings.

Note: The recipe may be prepared in saucepan or skillet if desired.

Freeze Two Juices for Cool Appetizer

Cool off with apple-tomato frost, a refreshing appetizer.

Softened 2 teaspoons of unflavored gelatin in 1/4 cup of tomato juice. Dissolve over hot water. Add 1 cup of apple juice, 1/4 cup of tomato juice, 1 teaspoon each of sugar and salt, 1/2 teaspoon each of pepper and onion juice, 2 teaspoons of onion juice and several dashes of bottled red pepper sauce. Mix well.

Pour into refrigerator tray. Freeze until mushy. Beat mix until smooth. Return to tray and freeze until firm.

To serve, spoon into chilled sherbet glasses. Garnish with frost of parsley or watercress. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

It's not a diet tuna. It's real tuna. Empress uses only the plumpiest filets of white Albacore. We call it skinny tuna because of the way we pack it. Most tuna comes packed in oil, but not the calories. Skinny tuna, packed in water, has only half the calories of the oil soaked kind. And with no oil to disguise the taste Empress has a fresher, more natural flavor. Serve your family a tuna that tastes like tuna. Empress, the skinny tuna. Half the calories of the oil-packed kind. You don't need a weight problem to love it.

Probably the number one go-along with most dairy foods is fruit. Certainly the number one fruit salad in the country today is cling peach and cottage cheese.

For a variation of this long-time favorite try fruit cocktail with its five refreshing fruit flavors, or a new twist with spiced-up cottage cheese as in Noon-Whistle Peaches.

NOON-WHISTLE PEACHES

1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) cling peach halves, chilled

Lettuce cups

1 cup small curd cottage cheese

1 can (2 1/2 to 3 oz.) deviled ham

2 tablespoons chopped sweet pickle

Drain peaches; place cup-sides up in lettuce cups. Mix cheese with ham and pickle. Spoon into peaches. Garnish with tomato wedges if you wish. Makes 8 or 7 salads.

CHEESE AND FRUIT COCKTAIL SALAD

1 can (1 lb. 14 oz.) fruit cocktail

3 tablespoons crumbled blue cheese

1 tablespoon mayonnaise

1/4 teaspoon garlic salt

1/4 teaspoon onion powder

1 pint cottage cheese

6 iceberg lettuce cups

Drain fruit cocktail. (Save syrup to use in fruit drinks another time.) Mash blue cheese with fork; combine with mayonnaise, garlic salt and onion powder. Stir in cottage cheese.

Place a mound of fruit cocktail on each lettuce cup, saving some fruit for garnish. Top with cheese mixture. Garnish with remaining fruit cocktail.

Makes 6 servings.

Not Necessary to Soak Lentils Before Boiling

Different from "all of the legumes in which the water is lost in drying, no soaking is necessary for lentils, cookbooks

to the contrary.

Unfortunately, many recipes insist on this, also in draining off the soaking liquid, thereby losing many valuable nutrients.

So do, please, adapt the recipes you may find.

Think Twice Before Buying
Non-Dairy Imitation Milk

EAST LANSING, Mich. — of saturation is important, the Housewives with young children may be pennywise and nutrition foolish in purchasing non-dairy imitation milk products, reports Mary Zehner, Michigan State University agricultural economist.

Since non-dairy imitation milks frequently are displayed in the dairy case next to more expensive homogenized whole milk, many budget-minded consumers assume that these products are nutritionally close to cow's milk. But such is not the case, Miss Zehner says.

While imitation filled milk products manufactured from either fresh skimmed milk or reconstituted nonfat dry milk are nutritionally comparable to whole milk, non-dairy imitation milks are inferior in two areas: calcium and protein, she reveals.

FEWER NUTRIENTS

According to limited analytical tests performed by MSU's food science department, the total protein level in non-dairy imitation milk is about one-quarter that of whole milk. The calcium level is only one-eighth that of milk.

Although some imitation milk products have Vitamin D added, calcium and phosphorus must be present in order for the body to deposit and utilize the Vitamin D, Miss Zehner points out.

Also, many diet-conscious people consider vegetable fats to be unsaturated, she says. However, coconut oil, which is the fat used in most of the imitation milk products, is more highly saturated than butterfat.

To the extent that the degree of saturation is important, the fact that coconut oil is highly saturated should be taken into account, Mrs. Zehner cautions.

Fruit Sauce
Is for Bacon

Canadian-style bacon is a tender cut that is cured and smoked. Tasting like ham, it needs only short broiling or pan-broiling to heat and brown for this recipe, says meat authority Reba Staggs.

A quick-fix pineapple-raisin sauce goes well with this meat which provides a delightful entrée with skillet-candied or mashed sweet potatoes, a green salad and a fruit shortcake for a seasonal supper.

Fruited Canadian-Style Bacon

8 slices Canadian-style bacon, cut 1/4-inch thick

8 slices pineapple

1 cup raisins

1 cup pineapple juice

1 cup water

2 tablespoons cornstarch

1/4 teaspoon salt

2 tablespoons cold water

Brown bacon slowly on both sides in frying-pan. Remove bacon.

Brown slices of pineapple slightly in drippings. Simmer raisins, pineapple juice and water for 10 minutes. Thicken with a mixture of cornstarch, salt and 1 tablespoon cold water, stirring until the cornstarch is cooked.

Return bacon to pan. Pour sauce over the bacon and pineapple and simmer slowly, 15 minutes. 4 servings.

Guidelines Are Given
for Buying Butter

What effect does butter have on the flavor of a hamburger because it is generally made from selected sour cream.

Other salient points in the publication include:

• Because of its delicate flavor and aroma, butter should be stored in the original protective wrapping or container until ready for use.

FREEZE IT

• Freeze butter you can't use within two or three days. Butter will maintain quality in the freezer for about two months.

• Make butter the first ingredient on sandwiches — it adds to the flavor and keeps the filling from soaking into the bread.

Sauce for Corn

Everybody's favorite—grilled corn-on-the-cob—gets a snappy, jazzy new taste and look with a tomato-bright barbecue sauce. Just heat together 1 1/2 (8-oz.) can tomato sauce with mushrooms,

1/4 cup butter or margarine and 1/4 teaspoon onion salt. Use to baste ears of fresh corn (husked, of course!), as they grill.

GOP Deadlocked? A Look at the Future

By BOR CONSIDINE
MIAMI BEACH—Well, folks, here it is Thanksgiving Day and the new mood of the Republican convention is to come up with a nominee before Christmas.

As you'll perhaps recall, balloting started last Aug. 7 at Convention Hall before an excited throng of delegates and free-lancers shouting "we want Nixon."

This was a reference to Richard M. Nixon, a former vice president, Nixon went back to his law practice in New York over the Labor Day weekend, but did not entirely rule out a return to Miami Beach "if I detect a last-minute ground-swell."

The early leader for the GOP nomination has also asked to be kept in touch as to new locations of the sessions.

Delegates were evicted from Convention Hall by the city fathers during the third week of last August after the 42nd ballot had once again failed to give Harold Stassen the two votes he needed for the magic 667.

STASSEN'S CRY UNHEEDED
Stassen's charge of foul play—somebody cut the cable on his only airborne campaign sign as it was being towed along the beach-front—went unheeded in the hue and cry over the eviction.

"You people got to get out of here," a derby-wearing spokesman for a Miami Beach Household Finance firm told Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss. "We got to get this place ready for the Jackie Gleason Show, So, hi!"

The convention has been held at various places since then and has not been without its little surprises. It is regretted that the television networks pulled out their plugs and went home on Veterans Day.

The Miami Beach stringers for the AP and UPI swear that on that very day Ivy Baker Priest, former treasurer of the United States, almost won the nomination.

She attracted 666 votes on the 711th ballot but was unable to wake up her husband delegate to cast the deciding vote.

He had been sleeping soundly since the 709th round, when Mrs. Priest broke her deadlock with her toughest opponent at that time, former Rep. Bill Miller.

SUCCESSIVE MOVES
That excitement took place at the Miami dog track, where the convention had been holding day sessions. It has since moved successively to the jail-al-front, the basement of the Second Baptist Church, and the gym of the YMCA.

Chief Justice Abe Fortas last week wrote the majority (5-4) opinion rejecting the contention of Democratic Presidential nominee Hubert Humphrey and Dixiecrat George Wallace that the national elections, postponed since Nov. 5, must be held immediately.

Humphrey complained that the GOP couldn't make up its mind, so why deprive him of his chance to move into the White House? Wallace made an equally vigorous speech to the high bench. He protested that it was unconstitutional to deprive him of his opportunity, if he won the Presidency, to throw 30,000 troops around the White House and make the neighboring streets safe enough for him to walk on.

RHODES CALLED KEY
Most political observers, according to a recent poll taken by the Gallup-Harris company on the Coney Island roller coaster, agree that what has bogged the GOP convention is the adamant refusal of Gov. Rhodes of Ohio to yield his stronghold on his delegation.

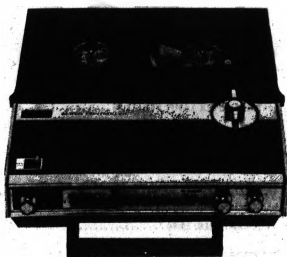

The polls shows that 13 per cent of the experts who were questioned on the coaster felt that Rhodes was waiting for David Eisenhower to become 35 and thus eligible to run for the Presidency.

Some 61 per cent thought Rhodes just liked the sound of his name booming through the meeting places day after day.

Eleven per cent were undecided. The remaining 15 per cent of the observers lost their hats. Little has been heard from Gov. Nelson Rockefeller since they left the Ronald Reagan since they left the Miami Beach in separate huffs.

More than 100 man-made fies had been sleeping soundly since the 709th round, when Mrs. Priest broke her deadlock with STREET PERFORMERS—Peg Murray of "Cabaret" fame arranges and coordinates the movement of Broadway in the Street productions throughout New York City. With her during a recruitment effort is Joel Grey, who brought 16 members of the "George M!" cast to help during the upcoming summer effort.

CONFRONTING THE KID—Joy, part of the Joy and Jill Clown team, confronts a youngster on the streets of New York as part of an over-all effort to bring entertainment into potential trouble spots and ward off turbulence in the summer heat.

Mobile Broadway Cools NY Streets

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Broadway stars and novice talents are giving up their free time this summer to bring theater to the urban relief in an air-conditioned office.)

The goal is to provide an entertaining safety valve for tensions in the slum areas.

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Writer
NEW YORK — East Side, West Side and all over town, Broadway in the Streets is helping cool the long, hot summer. Taking part in the glamor-theatricals program are such headliners as Joel Grey, Diana Sands, Tony Martin, Shelley Winters, Dave Brubeck, Butterly McQueen, Herschel Bernardi and Nancy Dussault.

Also some maybe-stars of tomorrow like Dino and the Dinosaurs and Teetle's African Dancers. The mixture is a deliberate one of expert and novice.

Their audiences gawk from tenement windows and skeptically gather on the sidewalk as the gaily bedecked mobile stage comes down the block.

"They may not know why we turn up," says Peg Murray.

"but at the end of the afternoon, they know somebody did give a damn and didn't just sit talking that tourists never see and where interracial tension can explode at the click of a switchblade are visited by Broadway in the Streets."

Each weekend from now through September, two of those sweaty, gorging neighborhoods that tourists never see and where interracial tension can explode at the click of a switchblade are visited by Broadway in the Streets.

Thirty-two programs are delivered on an every-body-works-for-free basis. Every show is different — "you've got to stay real loose in planning," Miss Murray says.

She and Virginia North, actresses both, are cochairmen of the new show biz venture. It was set up by the Urban Action Task Force, an agency created by Mayor John V. Lindsay to devise sundry safety valves for civic stresses. Several acting troupes also give free performances of plays around the city, but this is the lone enterprise sponsored by municipal authority.

"ALL LIVE HERE"

"When I ask an entertainer to enlist," Miss Murray declares, "I just say, 'You do want the summer to go well, don't you? After all, we live here.'"

Emphasis is on turning each show into a cooperative enterprise that integrates local hopefuls with visiting stars. Auditions are regularly held for tyro rock-beat bands or whatever.

"By the time we arrive anywhere," notes Miss Murray, "we're so many colors, shapes and sizes that we blend in rather well and are not just a great white cloud descending."

In many areas, the variety shows use two emcees — one speaking English, the other Spanish.

RED TAPE

To activate the venture a lot of red tape had to be unraveled. The entertainment industry is steadily besieged with pleas from worthwhile causes for benefit performances. Actors Equity, after two years of deliberation, agreed to let stars and featured performers participate on a volunteer basis.

When Joel Grey, of "George M!" joined up, 16 other members of the musical went along. In addition to stage talents, a number of TV, nightclub and recording attractions are also appearing — Gene Rayburn, Sonny Fox, Ed McMahon, Norm Crosby, Anthony and the Imperials.

Miss Murray herself is a busy member of the cast of "Cabaret," in which she won a Tony medal as a Berlin tart and in which she has also subbed 100 times for Lotte Lenya.

"I'm one of those coty girls who was always interested in theater," she says, explaining her abandonment of free time to organize talent and map huge schedule charts for Broadway in the Streets.

"I know from the theater that if you're in a lousy dressing room, you're ready to burn the place down yourself. But if someone comes around and says, 'I know the place stinks, things are bad, but we're trying to fix it,' you feel a little better."

"If we turn our backs on the ghettoes, no wonder the people want to burn things down."

Newlyweds Must Keep Big Light Burning

GLASGOW, Scotland — It's innocence and fun," she says. "That's what we want to give people."

John, a 37-year-old engineer, and his wife of six months have rented Bona Lighthouse, at the entrance to Loch Ness.

John, who works in the area, said "It was not easy to find a home, but my wife learned the lighthouse was for rent."

When the couple saw the whitewashed building on the shore of the Loch, with the mountains flung up on either side, they fell in love with the place.

MARKS ENTRANCE

One term of the lease is that John and Margaret must keep an eye on the light which shines from the lighthouse, marking the entrance to Loch Ness, which forms part of the Caldonian Canal, gilding across Scotland from east to west.

Some say the beam at times lights up the wash stirred up by the monster reputed to live in the Loch.

John has to make sure the light is on. "If it goes out I have to put an oil lamp in its place and report it immediately," he says.

Benefits for Veterans Clearing Congress

By JERRY T. BAULCH
Associated Press News Features

WASHINGTON—Congress is sending to the White House a fairly fast clip a number of bills affecting veterans. The big ones cover increases in disability compensation, GI educational benefits for widows and more easily available vocational rehabilitation.

The first that reached President Johnson was one he requested permitting service-disabled veterans to be trained on a part-time basis as well as full time.

Under the old rules a veteran could get vocational rehabilitation only if he trained full time. Thus, he had to give up any job he had or miss out on the training. And in many cases the men have families to support.

The new subsistence allowances will be prorated this way:

With no dependents—full time, $110 a month; three-quarters time, $80; half time, $55; institutional or farm apprentice or other on-the-job training, full time, $65.

With one dependent—full time, $150; three-quarters, $110; half time, $75; on-the-job training, full time, $125.

Two or more dependents—full time, $175; three-quarters, $130; half time, $85; on-the-job training, full time, $150.

Nursing Home Subsidy

Two bills are aimed at overcoming situations where veterans are unable to find nursing homes when they no longer need care in a VA hospital. The government will pay for six months of such extra care, but the limit on the VA could pay was making it harder and harder to get its patients in, as the rates in nursing homes continued to rise.

So Congress has changed the rates in this fashion:

- From $2.50 to $3.50 a day in state homes for domiciliary and hospital care; $3.50 to $5 for nursing care. It extended for five more years, at $5 million a year, the federal matching grants to states to construct nursing homes.
- Where veterans are placed in community nursing homes, the government will reimburse them at a rate of 40 per cent of the cost of VA hospital care, rather than at the old rate of 30 per cent.

Physical Exam Rule Explained

There's been a bit of misunderstanding about the Selective Service announcement that it plans to suspend pre-induction physicals during August and September.

It doesn't change anybody's draft schedule. It's just a toe-in-the-water experiment to see if this is one place where Selective Service can comply with President Johnson's edict to all government agencies to save money.

Enough men must be given physicals in advance of their being drafted so there will be a big enough pool of 1A men to meet any draft calls the Army or other services might issue. Selective Service tries to calculate this need three months ahead.

LI. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey figured he might be able to lower the size of the pool and save the costs of transporting and feeding the draftees on preinduction physical trips to Army centers for a couple of months.

If the military should raise its draft calls beyond the currently anticipated levels, the experiment will end up as a futile effort and Selective Service won't have saved a penny in this fashion. It will just have to build the pool up again.

WATCHING AND DOING—Part of the physical requirements of being a member of Recondo units training in Nha Trang, Vietnam, is the ability to slide down a rope properly.

Reconnaissance School in Viet

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS

NHA TRANG, South Vietnam (AP)—The young soldier wearing a heavy pack leaned into space from the top of the 40-foot rappelling tower.

His legs were shaking as he let the rope slip slowly through the steel link tied to his waist. As he toppled into the void, the gravelly voiced instructor beside him said: "Hey, where do you think you're going? I ain't talking to you."

The youth checked his slide and the pack slowly tilted him upside down, 35 feet up.

The instructor, a Special Forces sergeant, barked again: "C'mon, troop, you'd better shape up."

The soldier started his slow slide to earth again, his legs flailing the air as he tried to right himself.

As he untangled himself at the bottom, another instructor snapped an order: "Get down and give me 10 push-ups. And one for Recondo."

Recondo: reconnaissance, commando, doughboy. It's one of the toughest schools in the Army. For three weeks, men in this volunteer unit take up to 18 hours a day of intensive training to make them some of the finest reconnaissance squads in the world.

From the day they arrive, it's up at 4 in the morning for hard runs that progressively lengthen to eight miles.

MORE IMPORTANT

Physical training is important for the men but more so are the hours of map reading, medical training, handling prisoners and North Vietnamese military tactics.

tics and use of Communist weapons.

The men are taken from a wide variety of units in South Vietnam and trained to become the eyes and ears of their units.

Field training is carried on in the steep hills that rise directly behind this seaside base 200 miles northeast of Saigon. The men are doing—Vietnam still move in the area and the trainees sometimes run into them.

The commander of the Recondo school, Maj. Robert L. Stevens of Biloxi, Miss., recalled how one team recently had to be extracted by helicopter as Vietcong forces moved in on them.

The men are taught to outfit themselves with great care.

Seemingly simple things are drummed into them—like never removing their equipment, even while sleeping.

Their M16 rifles are taped to prevent the slightest rattle. Extra tape on the stocks can be used to cover the mouth of a prisoner. Medical supplies include pills to stop coughing and a serum that will expand a man's blood if he is wounded and losing blood as he flees an enemy.

The school is relentless. "We don't want half-trained men out there that could jeopardize a whole mission," Stevens emphasized.

Those who make it through the school—there is a 45 per cent washout rate—will be among the world's toughest scouts.

Bonn to End Diplomatic Post-Selling?

BONN (UPI)—The practice of selling diplomatic appointments may be stopped soon by a new West German law.

Gerhard Jahn, parliamentary State Secretary in the Foreign Ministry, told deputies the government would welcome legislation giving it authority to take legal action against professionals who negotiate diplomatic appointments for a fee.

At least 12 individuals or firms are known to be engaged in this business in Europe, Jahn reported.

Businessmen often covet an honorary consular title for social reasons and because it enables them to evade personal customs inspection when traveling.

Parliamentary demands for action resulted from disclosures by Hans Hermann Weyer, a shadowy character who collects fat fees from West German businessmen for getting them consular appointments in Latin American governments.

Jahn said the Foreign Ministry refuses to accredit, or removes the accreditation, of any person known to have bought a diplomatic appointment.

TRAINEE TEACHER — In the training of the Recondo units, Sgt. William C. Clancy of Olyphant, Pa., demonstrates camouflage techniques in dress and skin. At the same time, he lectures on weapons handling while on maneuvers outside the Nha Trang, Vietnam, base.

Opening lead—4

The Italians seem to favor the Napoleonic maxim that luck is on the side of the heaviest artillery, but on today's hand they had the artillery and a misfire at the crucial moment cost us the battle.

Avarelli passed at the second table and Norman Kay and Edgar Kaplan reached five clubs in two bids.

West's diamond lead fell to dummy's ace and the eight of clubs, lost to West's ace. The diamond return was ruffed and a trump led to dummy's queen.

South's next play was to ruff a third diamond. East discarded a low heart and Norman Kay noted that West, who had passed as dealer, had already shown up with six diamonds to the queen-10 and the ace of clubs.

It looked as if East would hold the ace of spades, but Kay led a spade toward dummy anyway. West played the jack and dummy's queen held the trick. Sitting in an easy chair at home we can see the ace of spades in the West hand, but Norman was seeing at a card table in France and no one showed him that ace.

He returned to his hand by ruffing the last diamond and, after mature deliberation, decided that the heart finesse offered a better chance of success than a second spade lead. He tried it and went down one.

If anyone thinks for one moment that we intend this hand as unfavorable criticism of Kay and Kaplan, let us point out that their bidding was magnificent. Nine pairs out of

Potsdam Stirring to Tourism After a Drowsy Interlude

POTSDAM, East Germany (AP)—The once-elegant suburb, provided for war crimes trials and reparations, ousted the Nazis from office and ordered the decentralization of the life after a long sleep.

Twenty-three years ago, Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin, U.S. President Harry S. Truman and British Prime Minister Clement Attlee signed the Potsdam Agreement. It fixed defeated Germany's provisional boundaries, trials and reparations, ousted the Nazis from office and ordered the decentralization of the German economy and the removal of Germans from Poland, Czechoslovakia and Hungary.

In the decade of East-West cold war that followed, the town on the edge of Berlin was all but forgotten. One side or the other also found it necessary at times to forget this or that part of the agreement.

Now Potsdam's 1,200-acre former imperial grounds are freshly landscaped and open to the public. They attract crowds of Russian and other East European tourists plus three daily sight-seeing buses that make their way through the barbed wire and tedious East German controls from nearby West Berlin.

Frederick the Great. To us Germans, he is 'Old Fritz'."

The group then toured Frederick's 18th century summer palace, the Sans Souci—Without sorrow. A project is still under way to restore damage caused by neglect rather than war, the guide said.

SOLDIERS BOUGHT

Tourists were told that Frederick would buy his mercenary soldiers for up to $3,000 each. Frederick was so cultured that he spoke only French and regarded German as "the language of farmers and horses," and so down-to-earth that he hurled meat from his plate to the dogs and appreciated music only when it came from his own flute, the guide said.

The tour ends with a visit to the Cecilienhof, an English country-style villa, part of which has been turned into a hotel displaying a portrait of Communist party chief Walter Ulbricht. The Cecilienhof was built during World War I for Crown Prince Wilhelm von Hohenzollern and was the site of the July 17-Aug. 2, 1945, Potsdam Conference.

The visitors are shown the wood-paneled room where Stalin negotiated with Truman, Winston Churchill and, following a Labor party election victory, Attlee. Once they have seen the massed Russian, British and American flags and the picture of Russian and American soldiers meeting at the Elbe, the commentary gets more political and more pointed.

An effort is made to show that the West, particularly America, marred the triumphant East-West accord of 1945 and created the German problem of the postwar years. Big wall displays in the workroom of the American delegation to Potsdam attempt to prove the United States wanted to split Germany.

'AMERICAN PLAN'

One map shows a 1949 "American plan" cutting Germany into nine pieces—five independent countries and four key industrial areas under international control. Another depicts the 1944 Morgenthau plan, named for the former U.S. Treasury secretary, creating north and south Germany, internationalizing the Ruhr and giving the land west of the Rhine to France. Also depicted is what is described as the 1945 "Truman plan" for a north Germany, a south Germany and a south Germany incorporating Austria and Hungary with its capital at Vienna.

Visitors are told that the Soviet Union rejected all three of these but because of U.S. pressure was unable to carry out its desire to start the occupation with a united Germany.

The guides and displays stress that in all the American proposals Germany's boundary with Poland was the Oder-Neisse line. This border was fixed provisionally at Potsdam, but Britain and America do not recognize it as final.

In the old Potsdam garrison church, the last president of the Weimar Republic, Marshal Paul von Hindenburg, swore in Adolf Hitler as chancellor. The East German government demolished it last June to clear the way for street construction.

In Colombia there is one tractor for every 467 acres of farmland which is a great gain in the last years over the relatively recent times where all work was done by hand.

Junior Editors Quiz on ARCTIC ANIMALS

QUESTION: How can animals survive in the frozen Antarctic and Arctic?

ANSWER: The main part of Antarctica is a land mass almost completely covered with ice and snow. It is so cold that there are no animals in the inland parts and almost no plant life.

Along the sea coast it is different, for the Antarctic Ocean is rich in the minute plant and animal life called plankton, on which fish feed. Penguins and certain sea birds subsist on the fish, and huge whales live on plankton—the warm-blooded animals keep warm because they are protected by layers of oily blubber.

By contrast, most of the Arctic is pack ice floating over the Arctic Ocean. The cold is less severe there. Here, too, there is plankton for fish and whales to use for food. Many seals feed on the fish, and big, white, polar bears live on the seals.

In the land part of the Arctic, there is enough vegetation to supply food for reindeer, caribou and musk oxen. Smaller animals are the Arctic hare and lemming; various predators live by catching the plant eaters. All these animals are kept warm by layers of blubber or heavy fur. In summer, many birds nest in the Arctic.

CITY DOZES OFF

Sealing of the border with West Berlin meant closing the Boulevard under by kings and kaisers, the Potsdamers Chaussee, and turned Potsdam from a sleek suburb into a drowsy East German district capital of 100,000 population.

Roundabout road and train connections between Potsdam and East Berlin take up to an hour. West German tourists are not allowed on the sight-seeing buses from West Berlin, perhaps because they might contradict the view of German history presented by the East German guides who climb aboard.

"These palaces were built by the Prussian King Frederick II," the guide told one group of Americans and West Europeans. "Maybe you call him to the Lions from the St. Louis Cardinals in exchange for Ernie Clark, and last Monday night against the Buffalo Bills, the entire defensive unit, looked like its old self with Robb lauded for an outstanding performance.

Lions' Defense Shows Old Form

Front 4 Get New Member in Joe Robb

It looked like old times for the Detroit Lions' defensive unit even in the 13-0 loss to Buffalo last Monday.

The front four of the Lions, once called the Fearsome Foursome of the NFL when it was the scourge of the league's defenses, has had many changes since the name was given to it back in 1958.

The original Fearsome Foursome was made up of Bill Glass, Alex Karras, Roger Brown and Darris McCord.

CHANGES START

Sam Williams later replaced Glass and this was the big front four in the early 60's when the Lions were challenging Green Bay for defensive honors, and couple times for divisional title honors.

Sam Williams departed and young Larry Hand moved into the defensive end spot. Then Roger Brown was traded and Jerry Rudi took his spot at defensive tackle.

Now McCord has retired, and two candidates, veterans of the NFL, Joe Robb and John Baker are after the position.

Baker started at defensive end against the Bills Monday but sustained a broken forearm early in the game which brought Robb in as a replacement.

Robb had quarterback Jack Kemp running for his life through most of the second half and when it was all over, all that Buffalo could muster was 70 yards on the ground and 75 yards through the air.

COACH HAPPY

"It looks like the old defense, doesn't it," said coach Joe Schmidt afterward.

The play of linebacker Paul Naumoff, who took over the spot vacated by Ernie Clark was also praised by Schmidt.

"If that's a sign of our defense this year," added Schmidt, "we can turn our attention to the offense without too much worry."

The Lions leave Friday to meet the offensive minded Philadelphia Eagles in an exhibition game in Mexico City.

The defense will find out if their performance against the Bills was for real.

QUARTERBACK QUARTET—Four players are after the quarterback job in the training camp of the Philadelphia Eagles in Reading, Pa. From left, they are John Huard, John Hankinson, King Hill and Norm Snead. At present, Snead and Hill are coach Joe Kuharich's "No. 1" signal-callers, and one will get the nod Sunday when the Eagles and Detroit Lions meet in Mexico City.

Cards Whip Redlegs in Fast Time, 3-1

St. Louis Ups League Lead to 14 Games

By The Associated Press

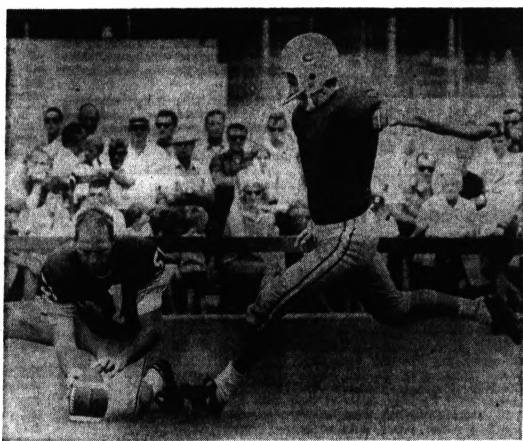

The league leading Cardinals needed only 1:56 to whip the Cincinnati Reds 3-1 after rain delayed the starting time for one hour and 20 minutes.

Los Angeles defeated Pittsburgh 6-2 in a late night game, and San Francisco nipped Philadelphia 4-3 in a day game.

The win put the Cards 14 games ahead of the pack and dropped Cincy from second to fourth.

Tim McCarver singled in a Cardinal run in the first and they made it 3-0 in the fifth on doubles by Bobby Tolan and Orlando Cepeda and a single by Phil Gagliano. Peter Rose homered for the losers.

Willie McCovey's second home run of the game, and 28th of the season won it for the Giants against Philadelphia. His first of the game and helped build a 3-1 edge, but the Phils tied it in the eighth with four singles.

BRAZILIAN BOOT—Soccer-style kicker Fernando Souza of Bello Horizonte, Brazil, was signed to a contract by the Green Bay Packers. He is the latest candidate trying to succeed retired Don Chandler. Bart Starr holds the ball as Souza displays his kicking form in training camp.

Atlanta Whips Chicago, 10-2

ATLANTA (AP) — George Stone's two-out single and airtight pitching led the Atlanta Braves to a 10-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs Wednesday night.

Stone, making only his second start for the Braves this season, bounced a bases-loaded single back through the middle in the second inning to end Ken Holtzman's scoreless inning string at 10.

The rookie left-hander had a two strike count when he singled, scoring Joe Torre and Don Johnson. Felipe Alou, extending his hitting streak to 12 games, singled to score Marty Martinez, and Stone scored when Felix Millan beat out an infield hit.

Palmer Hopes to End Long Slump at Akron

lery and the autograph seekers. Another crowd-pleaser expected to be in hot contention was Jack Nicklaus, the Columbus, Ohio, bomber who won the Western Open last weekend in Chicago. His first tour triumph in 9 1/2 months.

The muscular Pennsylvanian and 127 other pros and three amateurs challenged the back-breaking Firestone Country Club course. The par-70 Firestone layout, rated one of the best in the world, measures 7,180 yards.

Palmer, golf's all-time leading money winner, has only one victory to show this year on the long tour. He won the Bob Hope Classic last winter and has been up and down since.

The millionaire golfer has a lot going for him here. The defending Classic champion, Lee Trevino, captured this event twice. In four other Classics, he finished second, twice, third once and fourth in 1961.

Palmer waited out a mid-afternoon thunderstorm Wednesday before touring the monster course in a hurried practice round.

"Not too good," he said afterward about his tuneup.

But win or lose, Arnie's Army stays solidly loyal as Palmer

Mosbacher Holds Lead in Trials for Sailboating

HOUSTON (AP) — Skipper Bob Mosbacher of Houston held the lead in the U.S. Olympic trials for Dragon Class sailboats on Galveston bay despite a ninth place finish in the fourth race Wednesday.

Mosbacher, a member of the Texas Corinthian yacht club, has 23, over-all points in the seven-race series.

The fourth race was won by Buddy Friedrichs of the Southern Yacht Club of New Orleans, who now has 35.7 points good for third place in the over-all standings.

Birmingham Golfer Wins

Mrs. David Mortimer of Birmingham putted and chipped her way to an early first place in the weekly Women's Metropolitan Golf Association outing at Partridge Creek yesterday.

Mrs. Mortimer collected five pars and a birdie on the front side (playing back nine first) for a 42 and then finished with an 86 on the back.

AAU Exec After Guarantee From Olympic Stars

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — David Matlin, president of the AAU, said Wednesday athletes who make the U.S. Olympic team should be required to sign a declaration they will do nothing at the Mexico City games to embarrass this country.

Some Negro athletes have threatened to boycott the Olympics and also have said they might stage some form of protest in Mexico City.

Art Ashe, Pasarell Win in Army Play

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. — U.S. Davis Cup team members Arthur Ashe and Charles Pasarell of the Army were undefeated Wednesday after three days of the All-Service Tennis Tournament.

In Wednesday's opening round of singles competition, Ashe defeated Navy's Hank Veno 7-5, 6-4. Pasarell scored a 6-1, 6-2 victory over Pete Hofinga of the Marines.

In quarter-final play, Ashe defeated Jim Jung of the Air Force 7-5, 6-4 and Pasarell won over Bill Poore, also of the Air Force, 6-1, 6-2.

Ken Harrelson Sparks Boston's 3-2 Triumph

CHICAGO (AP) — Ken Harrelson hammered his 29th of the season home-run shot, and forced Boston to a 3-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox Wednesday.

The Red Sox scored all their runs off Bob Priddy in the opening inning. Delton Jones walked with one out, and after the second out, Harrelson hit his home run into the left field stands.

It increased his American League-leading runs batted in total to 83.

Hall of Famers Awaiting Yanks' Old Timers Tilt

NEW YORK (AP) — A dozen members of baseball's Hall of Fame will be on display Saturday in the New York Yankees' 22nd annual Old Timers Day baseball game, preceding the regular contest with the Minnesota Twins.

The Hall of Famers will include Leon "Goose" Goslin and Joe Mauer, the latest inductees.

Also on hand will be former Yankees Joe DiMaggio, "Red" Dickey and Charles "Red" Ruffing and Luke Appling, Joe Judge, Bob Feller, Frankie Frisch, Bill Terry, Lefty Grove and Pie Traynor.

DiMaggio will be reunited with his former outfield mates, Tommy Henrich and Charlie Keller.

The program will start at 1:15 p.m. EDT.

U. S. Davis Netters Will Report Late

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Members of the U.S. Davis Cup team have been given permission to report late for the 88th annual U.S. National Tennis Championships Aug. 16-25 at Longwood because of a conflict with the Davis Cup schedule.

They will be playing in an interzone semi-final in Cleveland Aug. 16-18, and will be permitted to come to Longwood afterwards and double up their matches to catch up to the rest of the field.

Japanese Plan Games in Color

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese officials announced today plans to telecast color television programs on the 1972 Winter Olympics in Sapporo, Hokkaido, to the United States and Western Europe.

The Japan International Telegraph and Telephone Corp. said it plans to use four U.S. communication satellites scheduled to be lofted into space before June 1969.

Hinton Helps Beat Ex-Mates With Single

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chuck Hinton continued to torment his former teammates — singling home the winning run in the seventh inning as the California Angels defeated the Washington Senators 4-2 Wednesday night.

Hinton followed two unsuccessful bunt attempts with a ground single to left scoring Don Mincher, who opened the inning with a double off loser Camilo Pascual.

Hinton doubled and scored in the fifth and, for the season, has 12 hits in 32 times at bat against the Senators for a .375 average.

Toledo Splits Pair; Buffalo Snaps Slump

By The Associated Press
The Fourth of July came one month and three days late in Buffalo.

It seemed like the holiday, at least, when the Bisons finally snapped their losing International League ways Wednesday night by sweeping a doubleheader from the Jacksonville Mets by scores of 3-2 and 4-3. The victories were only the Bisons' fifth and sixth in their last 18 starts.

The front-running Toledo Mud Hens divided a twin bill with the last-place Richmond Braves, winning the nightcap 5-4 behind Mike Kilkenny's relief pitching after dropping the opener 3-1.

At that, however, Toledo padded its lead by half a game when third-place Columbus knocked off Rochester's second-placed Red Wings 7-3. The victory pulled the Jets to within half a game of the runner-up spot. The Syracuse Chiefs whipped the Louisville Colonels 5-3 in the other encounter.

Cage Ace Set for Michigan

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Richard Carter, who averaged 24 points a game for Fort Dodge, Iowa, a junior last year, has signed a letter of intent at the University of Michigan.

John Orr, Michigan's new basketball coach, said the 6-foot-3 Carter, who played prep basketball at Detroit Northern, will enter Michigan as a junior this fall and would be eligible for the Wolverines first game Dec. 8 against Northern Illinois.

At Northwestern High School, Carter played for Fred Snowden, newly appointed assistant basketball coach at Michigan.

Toronto Wins Soccer Game, Free-for-All

By The Associated Press
Toronto not only won the soccer game, but the fight, too.

With Irish Debitto scoring two goals, the Falcons beat the Cleveland Stokers 3-2 in the North American Soccer League Wednesday night. There was a free-for-all late in the first half with players from both teams rushing onto the field. After order was restored, Amancio Cid and Enrique Mateos of Cleveland were ejected, along with Toronto's Joe Ponca.

St. Louis defeated Kansas City 3-1, Oakland trounced Vancouver 6-1 and Houston edged San Diego 2-1 in other games.

City Finalists Battle

Slow Pitch 9 to Be Crowned

Pontiac will crown a slow-pitch champion and the finalists in fast-pitch will be decided in action tonight.

At Northside, Oxford Merchants will take on Local 596 in a battle for the National League slowpitch crown.

Oxford, which will represent the city in the Michigan Parks and Recreation Association tournament starting Monday in Detroit, faces the union squad at 7 p.m. If Oxford wins, it's all over. If the union wins, a second game is slated for 8:30.

At Beaudette, Town & County play off, Dog & Sids whipped Reese Standard, 6-2, and Pontiac J. A. Fredman and the Timberlanes collide at 8:30. The winners tonight then move to a two-out-of-three series starting tomorrow night.

In National League slow pitch play last night, MGM Cleaners ousted Wagon Wheel, 10-8, before bowing out in the nightcap to Local 596, 5-3.

LEADS ATTACK
Tom Palmer knocked in four runs with three hits to pace MGM in that first game, while Gary Hayward chased home five runs with a double and second out.

In the International slowpitch, Huron Gulf tangling at 8:30.

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Fernando Souza, who enjoyed a 60 per cent success average when he tested his soccer-trained foot against the Green Bay Packers defense, was signed to a 1968 contract by the National Football League champions Wednesday.

The 28-year-old center-forward for the Fall River, Mass., Astros of the America Soccer League was a guest of the Packers Tuesday in their search for a place-kicking replacement for retired Don Chandler.

At Beaudette, Town & County play off, Dog & Sids whipped Reese Standard, 6-2, and Pontiac J. A. Fredman and the Timberlanes collide at 8:30. The winners tonight then move to a two-out-of-three series starting tomorrow night.

Lumber Crew Posts
9-8 Baseball Victory

Both teams checked in with big innings last night as Talbot Lumber pulled off a 9-8 decision over CIO Local 594 in Pontiac men's Class A baseball.

With Talbot ahead 5-1 after four innings, CIO erupted for six runs in the bottom of the fifth, but Talbot pushed across four more in the bottom of that frame to pull it out.

Larry Tremper scored once and drove in two runs for Talbot, while Mike Clancy and Randy Sutt picked up two hits apiece and drove in a run each.

Bud Williams and Ray Heaton drove in two runs each for CIO. The Class A squads head into the playoffs tomorrow night with Teamsters and CIO opening the action at 6 p.m. The 8:30 game pits the Clippers against M. G. Collision.

Breath-Holder After Dive Mark

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Robert Croft, the breath-holding diver, practiced Wednesday and went down 181 feet. He will attempt today to break the record of 231 feet set by French diver Jacques Mayol.

Croft, from Ledyard, Conn., has held his breath for more than six minutes in his deep-sea dives.

Yank Swatter Hot in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — George Altman, former outfielder for the Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals, hammered his 22nd homer Wednesday in pacing the Tokyo Orions to a 2-1 victory over the Nishitetsu Lions in a Pacific League baseball game.

Altman leads the league in home runs and runs batted in with 64. His batting average is .322.

Racing Greats in Midget Race

HOUSTON (UPI) — A. J. Foyt, Mario Andretti and Parnelli Jones are among the racing greats invited to compete in a $25,000 midget auto race at the Astrodom next year.

Astrodom president Judge Roy Hofheinz Wednesday called the event, scheduled for next March 8, "the race of races in the midget car field."

Spacious Western States Find 'Fan Mail' Is on the Increase

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Eastern city dwellers, disturbed by urban riots, pollution and related metropolitan problems apparently find the spacious West as alluring economically as do their ancestors.

"Alaska still has a strong appeal as a frontier," says R. Scott Withers, field supervisor for Alaska's Employment Security Division. It's a holdover from the gold rush days.

Withers reports letters from out-of-state job-seekers have increased 20 per cent during the past two years. The increase is also typical of several of the sparsely populated Rocky Mountain states. The area, with an essentially rural economy, generally is attracting an influx of permanent residents along with tourists this summer.

Not all the letters stem from disturbances, although a Nevada official figures 75 per cent of those to his state cite riots as the reason for writing.

CHANGE IN CLIMATE

Other factors include a change in climate, a desire for a simpler life and avoidance of smog and congestion. Some believe a given area is undergoing a boom or, as New Mexico's job service, director, Paul Cruz, says, "want more opportunity that they believe is in the West."

Not all the Rocky Mountain states are having an increase in such letters. New Mexico finds things about normal. South Dakota receives few letters from urban centers. Utah and Arizona say there is no increase.

But taken altogether, Alaska and the Rocky Mountain section receive about 300,000 job inquiries a year from out-of-state residents.

The response these job-seekers get varies from a form letter to personal replies, from a glad hand to some discouragement, from descriptions of the climate and opportunities to lists of job scales sometimes notably lower than their equivalents in the East.

SIGNIFICANT RISE

Montana, Alaska, Nevada and Idaho report a significant rise in jobseekers. They face a problem, however: they find most of the hopefuls do not have the qualifications needed in these states. Or, to put it another way, the states can't use most of those who express an interest in moving in.

Montana, for example, is receiving 500 letters a week from such workers as factory employees and from professional or specially skilled personnel. It stands demand for people in the professional and technical categories," says Withers.

HIGH WAGES

"Everybody's heard of the high wages you can make in Alaska," Withers added. "People think they can come up here for a summer, grab one of those jobs, build up a nest egg and pull out. It has always been a state policy to discourage this type of approach."

Idaho says it receives a substantial number of letters but doesn't keep tabs on the actual count. Most of them come from Californians who want to move east—but not too far. The Department of Commerce and Development says the letters from Eastern areas cite riots and chronic shortage of such professionals as accountants, draftsmen and women workers.

The Reno district manager for Nevada's Department of Employment Security, Robert Romaine, says letters cite family problems such as ill health.

"But the real reason they want to leave," Romaine says, "is that they are disturbed about the explosive situation in their areas. They are concerned about the riots in the big cities."

Romaine said this isn't mentioned in the letters but is apparent in conversation.

Watchman Nips Bombing Try

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — A homemade plastic bomb with a burning fuse was snuffed out by a watchman last night outside the office of a travel agency.

Police said a red, white and blue sticker declaring "Unite: Cuban power" in Spanish was found nearby.

The watchman, Arnold Bolton, called the police department and reported: "I just found a bomb in the hall down here. It was burning but I put it out."

Bomb experts from the Los Angeles police and sheriff's department rushed to the office of Herron's Travel Agency on the fourth floor of the Gibraltar Savings and Loan Association on Wilshire Boulevard.

BOMBS SIMILAR

They said the bomb had a two-foot fuse and appeared to be a homemade plastic device similar to those used last July to wreck four consulates and tourist offices.

The attempt appeared to be the latest in the series of anti-Castro activities across the nation against consulates and tourist offices whose governments trade or maintain diplomatic relations with Communist Cuba.

Police took secret security precautions July 30 in the wake of a bombing of the British consulate where a Cuban power sticker was found in the wreckage.

Authorities said 56 consulates or homes of consular officials were under guard for forestall terrorist attacks.

Shot Fatal to Girl

DETROIT (AP) — A 12-year-old girl was fatally wounded Wednesday when a 22-caliber rifle leaning against a wall in her home accidentally discharged as she and her brother were cleaning house. Kathy Tabor, 12, died Wednesday night in Detroit Children's Hospital. She had been shot in the head.

Nixon Wins 1st-Ballot Nomination

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon won a first-ballot Republican presidential nomination early today despite industrial state opposition and promised a quick choice of a running mate.

The Republican nominee, vaulting back from what he once thought was political oblivion, bowed over Govs.

Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Ronald Reagan of California in a smoothly organized convention assault. Delegates erupted in a turbulent shouting, hand-blaring, sign-waving demonstration when Wisconsin was reached on the state roll call. Nixon had sewed up the 30 Wisconsin votes in a primary and it was those votes which put him over the 667 count necessary for the nomination.

The next order of business today was for Nixon to name his choice for the vice-presidential spot.

At 3 a.m., Nixon got a call from the man he thinks he will oppose in November, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

UNREPORTED BANTER

There was some unreported banter between the two friendly enemies.

The call came at a time when Nixon was winding up a meeting at which he listened to the views of about 25 congressional and other supporters at his choice of a second man.

When the initial and only roll call was completed after a wearying 7 1/2 hours of convention nominating and seconding speeches, Nixon had chalked up 692 votes. This was only eight short of the 700 total the former vice president's camp had been claiming for 10 days.

Rockefeller got 287, Reagan 182 and the holdout favorite sons — including Romney and Gov. James A. Rhodes of (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 4)

Removal Operations Under Way

9 Bodies Found in Coal Mine Explosion

GREENVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Rescue workers began the slow process today of carrying out the bodies of nine miners reported killed yesterday in a fiery explosion in a coal mine shaft near here.

A mine employee, who asked to remain unidentified, said the rescue workers had found eight bodies in one area of the mine. The body of the ninth miner was found nearby, he said.

The employee said it would take some time for the workers to bring the victims to the surface because the shaft area was small. The first body was discovered at about 4 this morning — 14 hours after the accident was reported.

Throughout the rescue operation and the reported finding of the bodies, mine officials, police and other authorities have refused to discuss the accident with newsmen.

The entire area leading to the River

Queen mine entrance was cordoned off soon after the accident and newsmen have not been permitted in.

The mine, owned and operated by Peabody Coal Co., is just south of this small coal-mining community in western Kentucky.

About 300 persons — women, children and miners — lined a road leading from and mine area to seek out loved ones, relatives and friends among those being carried out.

One of those bystanders, a middle-aged man wearing a work uniform said: "I've been in mining all my life and my brother-in-law is down there, and I know there is no chance."

LIKE CYCLONE

The explosion rocked a shaft inside the mine with a series of blasts. A miner who had been working nearby said: "The blast knocked you down every time you got up — just like a cyclone."

Rescue operations, coordinated by the Kentucky Division of Mines and Minerals, began soon afterward.

It was estimated that the trapped miners were nearly 8,000 feet back from the entrance to the mine and about 90 feet beneath the surface.

Initial attempts to enter the mine were hampered by debris that clogged the entrance, thick coal dust and intense heat. At one point rescuers reported the underground temperature in several adjoining shafts and tunnels to be above 200 degrees.

CARBON MONOXIDE

Rescuers who discovered the first dead miner said he probably died of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Mine company officials refused to make any statement on the cause of the explosion.

Veteran miners speculated, however, that it could have been touched off by the ignition of coal dust. Another miner said, "They could have hit a pocket of methane gas."

Methane, a compound that makes up a large part of natural gas, the chief substance of what miners call "firedamp," a gas that often causes explosions inside underground coal mines.

Downbeat for Reagan

Talks Focus on VP Choice

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — New York Mayor John V. Lindsay and Sens. Charles H. Percy of Illinois and Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, were the most mentioned possibilities today as Republican presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon prepared to pick a running mate.

A Nixon aide said eight names were mentioned at a staff session, including two who had not come up before. Nixon held a pre-dawn meeting with top party officials and planned more talks later.

Nixon's two defeated rivals, California Gov. Ronald Reagan and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, both repeated they were not interested in the vice presidency.

But Govs. George Romney of Michigan and James A. Rhodes of Ohio were believed in the running, along with Sens.

HEAVY PRESSURE

Nixon was under heavy pressure from the divergent wings of the GOP, and he admitted that the party would have a real donnybrook if he threw the choice open to the convention.

By picking a candidate, as most presidential candidates have done, Nixon will presumably foreclose such a fight, and his choice will be nominated tonight at the final scheduled session of the 29th Republican National Convention.

Just before he was nominated, Nixon dropped one clue to his thinking when he told two reporters he wanted someone who understands the problems of the cities. This could point to Percy or Lindsay.

One top GOP leader, declining to be quoted by name, who said earlier Wednesday he thought Nixon would pick 46-year-old Hatfield, said later on that more recent talks with those in the Nixon camp indicated Lindsay had become the more likely possibility.

NOT INTERESTED

The mayor, however, has said all along he is not interested in running for vice president.

One problem with a Lindsay nomination is that he has a strong civil rights record. Nixon told Southern delegations in soliciting their support that he would head their views in picking a running mate.

Trooper, Youth Killed in Inkster

INKSTER (AP) — Police said "hit and run" gunmen today killed a State Police detective and wounded two Inkster officers. In the ensuing manhunt, officers shot and killed a Negro youth.

The shootings erupted after four nights of isolated gunfire and firebombings, police said.

The slain youth was not immediately identified. Police said, however, he was a suspect who attempted to flee officers on foot and ignored warnings to halt.

Detective Robert Gonser, 34, of the State Police post at nearby Detroit, was killed when he hit in the back by a high-powered rifle bullet, authorities said.

REINFORCEMENTS

About 100 officers from other departments and four FBI agents were rushed into the city of 37,000 near the southwest side of Detroit, said Inkster Police Chief James Fyke.

Gonser was killed early today after encountering several persons in a car at an Inkster intersection, police said. His assailant was sought.

Some 4 1/2 hours earlier, Fyke said, a shotgun blast fired from a passing car wounded Inkster Patrolmen John Knight and Thomas Freeman while they were patrolling a main street. Knight, a Negro, and Freeman, who is white, were treated for superficial wounds at Wayne County General Hospital.

SUSPECT IS HELD

Fyke said Turhan Lewis, 24, of Inkster, a Negro, was arrested for investigation in the shooting of Knight and Freeman.

Two-Day Forecast Is Wet and Sultry

Showers and thundershowers with highs in the mid-60s and low 80s are forecast for the Pontiac area until the weekend.

The weatherman predicts cooler temperatures and clearing skies Saturday.

The mercury will register a low of 68 to 72 tonight. Winds, variable at five to 15 miles per hours, will continue through tonight.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today 30, tonight 50, tomorrow 40. Sixty-eight was the low in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The 12:30 p.m. temperature was 80.

Romney Disaccord Is Planked Down

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — "Unfinished" business department: the short, impassioned discord expressed by Gov. George Romney with one section of the Republican platform adopted Tuesday night was the most lurid, realistic exposition of the imbalance of various elements of the economy that I have ever heard.

Thus far there has not been the least sign of disorder inside or outside the convention area, although as always delegates and spectators have been generally inattentive.

The business of the sessions and the many addresses have had to compete with a continual buzz of conversation and movement. In fact, one disgruntled speaker concluded his remarks with an acid "thank you for your inattention."

I was interested to find out what happened to a group of dissidents from Michigan's 19th Congressional District, which was supposedly sent on appearing before the credentials committee Monday to claim recognition as convention delegates. Well, nothing happened. The group never put in an appearance and, as of now, nobody seems to know what the dissidents were dissident about.

FOUL BLOW

En route to the 5 p.m. convention session yesterday that would see the nomination of Richard Nixon as Republican candidate for president, I got to thinking about the foul blow radio and TV dealt would be political orators who head state delegations.

Before the advent of these electronic forlums of communication, a chairman responding to a roll call simply intoned, say, that his state cast eight votes for Joe Zilch.

But now, with national exposure at his command, does a historically-inclined chairman follow the same script? He does not.

He makes the most of his opportunity and gives out with something like this: "Mr. Chairman, as the honored head of the distinguished group of delegates representing a great and dynamic commonwealth, the salubrious State of Coma, it is my duty and my privilege, sir, to cast a unanimous ballot of eight votes for that illustrious statesman and servant of the people who has so diligently and ably serviced his country, Joseph Zilch."

Last night's convention session was a doney. It lasted more than nine hours, during which the names of 11 presidential candidates were put into the nomination hopper, and 44 plain and fancy speeches produced.

Gov. Romney, as Michigan's favorite-son candidate, won a 15-minute demonstration when his name was offered for nomination.

The effective parade of delegates and alternates, and the accompanying whoop-de-do, reflected the handiwork of George Trumbull Jr. who has been in Miami Beach for a week making preparations for it. A former Pontiac Press staffer, George has been a member of Romney's staff for several years.

Eventually came the first nominating roll call, and as it progressed it was evident that Nixon was in like Flynn. His total vote was 692 (25 more than needed for nomination). Rockefeller and Reagan trailed with vote totals of 287 and 182 respectively.

The convention winds up tonight when a vice presidential running mate for Nixon will be elected.

Who will get the nod? I hate to put my prophetic reputation on the line, but there's a lot of whispering about New York's Mayor John Lindsay and Mark Hatfield, U.S. Senator from Oregon.

State, Nursing Home Unit to Dicker on Aid Payment

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Nursing Home Association said yesterday it would advise members not to evict elderly and indigent patients — if the state will negotiate reimbursement payments.

The statement followed reports that nursing home operators in Wayne County had turned out more than 30 patients.

Such action had been threatened by the association and individual operators if the state did not increase the amount paid in nursing home fees under the Medicaid program.

"We are prepared to advise member

TELLING THE STATE

President Basil Boyce said the group was telling the state "you sit down with us and we'll hold our membership in line."

R. Bernard Houston, state director of social services, spoke to the membership along with Dr. Gerald Rice, state director of public health.

Houston said such negotiating sessions would be considered. He added, however, that the department was awaiting formal association reaction on a proposed $1 increase — from $11 to $12 per patient — on state payments to nursing homes for basic services.

The proposal, Houston said, would increase the payments to homes that would agree to provide the department records to show what services were received and with financial information concerning costs; comply with civil rights provisions; accept all patients and agree not to discharge or transfer them.

U.S., S. Viet Troops Invade Valley Again

SAIGON (AP) — American and South Vietnamese troops have invaded the A Shau Valley for the second time in three and a half months, disrupting the major Communist supply base again as part of their campaign to blunt the big enemy offensive expected in the next month or so.

A fleet of 200 helicopters landed more than 3,000 soldiers of the U.S. 101st Air Cavalry Division and the Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division in the valley in the northern part of South Vietnam Sunday and Monday, but announcement of the operation was withheld until today for security reasons.

allied force has met with "minimal resistance" so far. Probably warned by heavy air activity that preceded the invasion, the North Vietnamese were presumably pulled back across the nearby Laotian border.

U.S. headquarters reported that 15 North Vietnamese troops had been killed in the first four days of the operation. U.S. losses were two dead and 22 wounded, while eight South Vietnamese were killed and 15 wounded.

3 COPTERS DOWNED

Three helicopter gunships were shot down during the first minutes of the massive assault by 200 troop-carrying helicopters and their escorts.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported that government troops uncovered an enemy base camp containing 50 barracks. Searching the structures, the South Vietnamese found an assortment of ammunition including 10 rockets and 15 cases of 50-caliber machine gun ammunition.

The U.S. Command in Saigon said the

Golf Tops Bill as C of C Meets

Golf was the main feature at yesterday's annual Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce summer meeting, attended by more than 300 chamber members and guests.

First tee-off was at 8 a.m. at Spring Lake Country Club, 6060 Maybee, Independence Township.

Events included a plate lunch and a buffet dinner with music and door prizes.

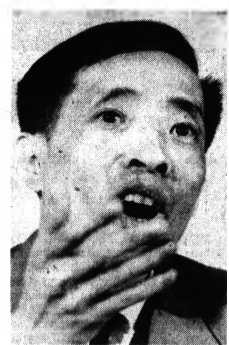

Trophies were given to golf tournament winners Joseph Grace, auditor for Pontiac State Bank, and Ralph Norvell of Ralph T. Norvell Insurance Agency.

Chamber members were urged to support an area civic committee's proposal that the new metropolitan Detroit Stadium be built in the Pontiac area. The bid will be presented Sept. 11 to the Metropolitan Stadium Committee.

Just outside the eastern edge of the valley, units of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division uncovered an enemy bunker complex and another weapons cache that included five mortar tubes and assorted equipment, five antiaircraft machine guns, one recoilless rifle and 30 pounds of explosives.

The first allied visit to the valley last month, and the American and South Vietnamese troops are not expected to stay long this time either. The valley is at the end of the allied supply line and is often dosed in by clouds and fog; and U.S. officers say it would take a division of troops to control it.

A U.S. spokesman said the invasion is considered a spoiling attack to cut the enemy supply and infiltration lines and "do what other damage we can before the monsoons begin this fall."

Uruguay Exec, Aide Kidnaped

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The Uruguayan government says it won't compromise with pro-Peacheo terrorists who kidnaped a key official in an attempt to force a softening of President Jorge Pacheco Areco's austerity program.

The largest manhunt in the country's history was under way for Dr. Ulises Pereira Reverbel, head of the state electric and telephone company, and a male secretary. They were kidnaped yesterday by four members of the Tupamaro National Liberation Front. Armed with machine guns, the kidnapers wounded Pereira's chauffeur and another secretary.

BIG STATES COOL

But Nixon's victory was fashioned with only droplets of support in six industrial states of New York, California, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan and New Jersey where the November election could be decided.

The only big state which went for Nixon on the showdown roll call — which immediately was made unanimous in the customary how to party unity — was Illinois.

Generally Nixon was the choice of the South, the Midwest and the Far West. He was supported by nine of the 11 states of the Confederacy, with North Carolina and Arkansas dissenting.

Nixon personally felt, he said, that he won the nomination "in a way designed to win the election." He seemed to base this on the belief that party unity would result from the restraint of his lieutenants in attempting to break apart the Rockefeller, Reagan and favorite-son delegations.

'NO DEALS'

This pattern, he said, helped him win the nomination "without having to pay any price or make any deals" involving second place on the ticket.

Nixon said he will pick a running mate who "in my view will work best with me. I will have to choose whom I think is the best man."

Reporters brought up the issue of whether he had assured Southern delegates that he would not shove down their throats a second man they regarded as undesirable.

"I have made that same statement to delegations from northern states, Nixon said. 'I want a candidate that will not divide this country. So I don't intend to pick a candidate that won't be acceptable to the North, just as I don't want to pick one that would be unacceptable to southern states.'"

HATFIELD MENTIONED

This seemed to point to such a selection as Hatfield, rather than to a Lindsay or Rockefeller who are not liked in the South.

Oakland County's moderate Republican leadership was claiming a victory today in its long intraparty struggle with conservative members.

The success for the moderates came in Tuesday's primary with the filling of approximately 329 precinct delegate posts with members loyal to the county GOP organization.

Rod Tolman, executive secretary of the county organization, said that when vote totals are completed this week on precinct delegates, moderates will probably be in possession of 80 per cent of the 408 precinct delegate posts.

He cited several key wins over conservatives, including those over two leaders of the strong Oakland County Republican Citizen Committee, a conservative organization founded by State Sen. Robert Huber of Troy.

CONSERVATIVE GAIN

However, one conservative did make a substantial gain in the primary. Richard D. Kuhn, long a supporter of Huber, won the Republican nomination for county prosecutor over John N. O'Brien.

Meantime, Thomas McWilliams, executive director of the Republican Citizens Committee, was defeated in his bid for the GOP nomination for county clerk. Huber was McWilliams's campaign manager.

In Troy, however, Sen. Huber's wife was elected to a precinct post.

Dr. Francis LeVeque, the president of the Republican Citizens Committee, also lost in a race for precinct delegate in Birmingham.

Boy 5, Man Drown in Area

Two area residents drowned yesterday and Tuesday in separate accidents in Oakland County. Police identified the victims as Marc E. Furman II, 5, of 2333 Hempstead, Pontiac Township, and Joseph L. Perry, 46, of 3090 Quillen, Waterford Township.

Police said the Furman boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Furman, was found in the swimming pool of Echo Park Day Camp in Bloomfield Township. Lifeguards discovered the boy shortly after the camp's swimming period had ended.

Perry, a trimmer at Fisher Body plant, was found at 8:30 last night in Pontiac Lake in White Lake Township. His body is at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home.

Pupil Housing Plan OK'd

BIRMINGHAM — The Board of Education has finally agreed on a plan for locating Bingham Farms Elementary School students until the new school building can be completed later this year.

On July 16 the board decided not to place the Bingham Farms students on double sessions with students of Valley Woods Elementary School in the Valley Woods building.

The decision came after a number of protests were lodged as parents of students from both schools objected to the double session idea.

In a report to the board this week, Superintendent John B. Smith presented five alternate plans for housing the affected students until their school is completed.

AS A UNIT

Smith recommended, and the board adopted, a plan which will organize the Bingham Farms students as a unit and will utilize various rooms available in other elementary schools in the district until the regular building is completed.

Smith explained, "this is 'the same approach that was used for Evergreen Elementary School three years ago.'"

He said in most cases the art and music rooms of Valley Woods, Franklin, Torrey, Meadow Lake and Greenfield elementary schools will be used for the project.

"This plan means that five of our elementary buildings will be disrupted to some degree in terms of full utilization of art and music rooms," Smith said. "However, these programs will in no way be curtailed."

ADVANTAGES CITED

Among the advantages of this program, according to the superintendent, are that all children in the district will be on full-day schedules and there are no overcrowded classrooms.

He also pointed out that the plan does not depend on availability of portable classrooms and is the least costly of the proposals.

The board also agreed to help establish a liaison program with the local police department in an effort to help prevent juvenile disturbances.

Dr. Smith estimated cost of the program at approximately $12,000, shared equally by the Board of Education and the City Commission.

PEACE OFFICER

The plan, already approved by the City Commission, would call for the employment of a peace officer on a full-time basis in the schools within the district.

Smith emphasized that the program is for preventing problems in the schools. "Preventive measures often could have avoided situations that have a lasting effect on a young person," he said.

He said that the program is clearly an effort to prevent delinquency and to assist those who may become involved.

He pointed to similar successful programs in Flint, Pontiac and Ann Arbor, indicating that it is worthy of a trial in Birmingham.

LUNCH CHARGE UP

In other action, the Board acted to increase the price of school lunches by five cents for students and 10 cents for adults.

It was felt that the increase would help correct the present deficit in the school lunch program, which tries to operate on a self-sustaining basis. The added income would also provide for anticipated increases in salaries, food, supplies and equipment.

River Dragged for Mother of 4; Children Dead

DETROIT (AP) — Police dragged the Detroit River today for the body of a woman whose four children were found dead by her husband in the basement of their Northeast Side home yesterday.

A short time later police said a purse containing identification for Mrs. Rosalee Jones, 30, was found on the Belle Isle Bridge which spans the Detroit River from the mainland to an island park.

Her husband, William, told police he found his four children when he returned home from work and a note from his missing wife. The contents of the note were not disclosed.

Doctors told police they believed the children drowned in a basement bath or shower. An autopsy was set for today to determine the exact cause of death.

The children — two boys and two girls — were identified as Daniel 5, Joseph 3, Jean 2, and Catherine 7 months. The couple has no other children.

Prices to Go Up for Detroit Papers

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit News and Detroit Free Press made it official Wednesday: the price of home-delivered and Sunday newspapers is going up when they return to publication this weekend.

Sunday edition prices will go from 25 cents to 30 cents, whether sold at newsstands or home-delivered.

Daily editions home-delivered will cost 60 cents weekly, instead of 50 cents, but will remain at 10 cents on newsstands. This will raise the seven-day, home-delivered rate from 75 to 90 cents.

Price increase plans were reported Monday by The Associated Press, which quoted usually reliable sources. The forecast matched those announced.

CARRIERS GET RAISE

Carrier boys will get a 27 per cent increase, the News reported.

The afternoon News and morning Free Press have been closed since last Nov. 1, when a Teamsters strike against the News triggered a shutdown. Subsequent strikes were called by other unions. Ratification of the final new contract came only last Monday.

FBI Calls Nationwide Parley

Bank-Related Crimes Are Up 240 Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today bank robberies and other crimes against financial institutions have risen by 240 per cent since 1960. Hoover said the bureau was so alarmed at the increase that there were 2,559 robberies of banks — related offenses last year — that nationwide law enforcement conferences sponsored by the FBI will discuss methods to prevent such crimes.

Announcing the meetings, which in the past have concentrated on more mundane topics, Hoover said that while many financial institutions have kept abreast of developing techniques "all too many still have inadequate protective devices (and) some banks have been found to contain none whatsoever."

The conferences bringing together local law enforcement officials, prosecutors, and rep-representatives of banks, savings and loan companies, and credit unions will be held during September and October in communities across the country, and in Canada and Mexico.

Hoover said the bureau is particularly concerned over the number of bank-related crimes last year which resulted in violence against employees and customers. FBI statistics show that 23 people were killed in 1967 and another 61 injured in 1,769 holdups.

Working Class, Poor Bear Brunt of War—McCarthy

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy said Wednesday the burden of the Vietnam war has fallen "most heavily of the backs of the working people and the poor people of America."

"These are the people who have sent their sons in overwhelming number to the battlefield," he told the International Typographical Union convention.

The Democratic presidential hopeful spent about 10 hours in Ohio Wednesday making speeches and seeking to win the support of delegates to the party's national convention in Chicago starting Aug. 26.

The Minnesota senator urged delegates to remain uncommitted and called the state critical to his convention hopes.

FAVORITE SON

in Columbus on whether to re-main committed to the favoritism candidacy of Sen. Stephen M. Young. They have 115 votes at the convention.

Starting his swing through with a statewide rally in Columbus, McCarthy urged several thousand supporters, mostly young people, to do everything they could to indicate to delegates what the judgment of Ohio people is.

Georgia state Rep. Julian Bond, a Negro, introduced McCarthy in Columbus and later in Cleveland said he was endorsing his candidacy for the presidential nomination.

McCarthy also gained support during the day from Patrick J. Lucey, former lieutenant governor and state Democratic chairman of Wisconsin who was a key political supporter of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

ENCOURAGING
Lucey described the response from Ohio delegates as "encouraging." At Cleveland, McCarthy taped a television program and then spent three hours with delegates in a suite at the Hotel Sheraton-Cleveland.

After his speech to the ITU convention McCarthy returned to Washington.

Migrant Confab

LANSING (AP) — Migrant education administrators and teachers from Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana will attend a regional conference Aug. 11-13 at Lansing. The educators plan to study the Michigan program for migrants, which is serving some 8,000 children through schools this summer.

Each Man Had His Hour, Then Nixon's the One

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Rockefeller, "the man for our time."
Reagan, "the man... destiny has found."
Nixon, "a man whose time has come."

For only one man had the hour indeed come, well past midnight, in the drone of numbers and the din of a new hero hailed, as the Republican party chose its 1968 man for the presidency.

Before, there had been for each of the nomination by Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, former U.S. treasurer, now California state treasurer, the moment of magic as the convention roared at the mention of his name.

Mrs. Priest told the 1,333 delegates, "The present leadership of our country is confused and divided. It has lost its way. It has plunged us into a war it will not permit us to win. It has created a chaos it cannot stop."

"America will not settle for more of the same. America demands a change."

"He does not offer America a politics of joy and over-optimism that unrealistically says all is well with America. He does not offer America a politics of pessimism that tells us constantly how bad we are. He offers us a politics of realism that tells it as it is to all Americans."

For Richard M. Nixon, the nominating speech was made by Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, a recent convert, a favorite son of American history.

law, and determined in the pursuit of justice. A man who can negotiate peace without sacrificing life, land or liberty. A man who had the courage to rise up from the depths of defeat six years ago—and to make the greatest political comeback in American history.

NIXON BACKERS WHOOP IT UP—A forest of signs for "the man who..." crops up on the convention floor during the demonstration following the placing in nomination of Richard M. Nixon.

ard Nixon's name. Among the placards, at middle left, a dissident hoists one for Reagan.

"What America needs today is a man with courage to meet problems headon, who courageously faces the issues... a man who will confront the radicals on our campuses and the looters on our streets and say: the laws will be obeyed."

"What America needs today—what America calls out for today—is a man who will make it unmistakably clear that if we must fight for freedom, we will fight to win."

DIVINE PROVIDENCE

"Throughout the history of this great republic, in times of peril, uncertainty and crisis, a Divine Providence has always placed its hand upon the man to lead us out of the storms and upward to the stars."

"Destiny has so marked this man, a man to match our mountains and our plains, a man steeped in the glorious traditions of the past, a man with a vision of the unlimited potential of new eras."

"Yes, destiny has found the man... the man who can restore the free world's faith in this beloved land... the man who can restore our faith in our country and ourselves... Ronald Reagan."

For New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, the man who put forth the man was Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer. He said:

"We are a people in need of a new Lincoln—an uncommon man with the intelligence to face realistically his problems and the courage to rise above petty political criticism to create a new national conscience."

"Lincoln was the man for his time. I come before this convention tonight to place in nomination."

Agnew said, "We are a nation in crisis, victimized by crime and conflict, frustrated by fear and failure. A nation torn by war... a nation plagued by disorder... a nation haunted by division... if there is one great cry that rings clear, it is the cry for a leader."

"At this moment of history, the Republican party has a duty to put forward a man—a man to not only match this moment but to master it..."

"We should nominate Nelson Rockefeller because he is the Republican who can win. He is the man for our time."

Agnew said, "We are a nation in crisis, victimized by crime and conflict, frustrated by fear and failure. A nation torn by war... a nation plagued by disorder... a nation haunted by division... if there is one great cry that rings clear, it is the cry for a leader."

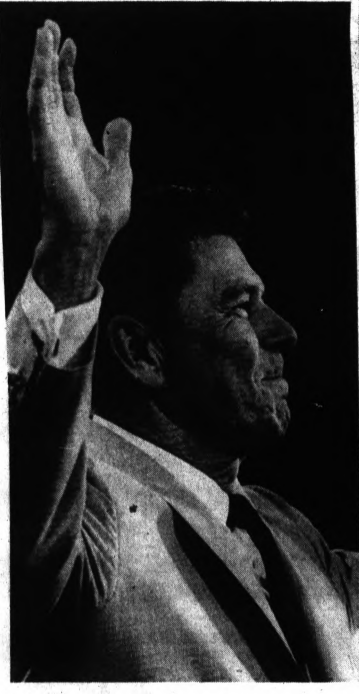

"When history speaks firmly to that nation that it needs a man to match the times—you don't create such a man; you don't discover such a man; you recognize such a man."

"It is my privilege to place in nomination... the one man whom history has so clearly thrust forward—the one whom All America will recognize as a man whose time has come—the man for 1968... Richard M. Nixon."

Romney in Spotlight ... Just for a Moment

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—For a few brief moments, Gov. George Romney of Michigan returned to the center of the presidential spotlight Wednesday night as scores thronged onto the Republican National Convention floor to demonstrate their loyalty to the first man to withdraw from the race.

The raucous demonstrators carried placards reading "Romney's Great for '68" and "Still Our Choice" as they marched about the floor for nearly 15 minutes.

Romney sat beside his wife, Lenore, in a box next to the convention floor. As the cheering crowd surged by, he moved forward to shake hands and greet his admirers.

"Thank you, thank you," the governor said.

"PARTICULARLY GIFTED" Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., called Romney "a man who is particularly gifted and suited to lead our nation at this crucial hour in our history."

"His background is that of the American pioneer," Griffin said in his nominating speech. "Born in a small American colony of old Mexico, and raised amidst the plains and mountains of Idaho and Utah, he later moved to the nation's capital and then to the Middle West."

"Working with his hands and mind, this pioneer rose to become one of the few in any lifetime who are clearly destined to provide leadership," Griffin said.

"Tonight he is presented to this convention, by acclamation of his state delegation, as our favorite son. But he is much more than that," Griffin said. "For he epitomizes to a degree unmatched by few others now living, the American Ideal."

were concluded, ushers began throwing Romney placards into trash bins.

Romney became a favorite-son candidate after withdrawing from the national race following his defeat in the New Hampshire primary last March. The Michigan delegation had pledged to support his favorite-son candidacy through a second ballot, Romney said.

On the first ballot, however, four Nixon supporters split off from the governor and gave their votes to the former vice president while Michigan's 44 other votes went to Romney.

Wisconsin Vote Is the Clincher

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—As the Republican National Convention roll call began, Richard M. Nixon spread a tally sheet across a battered brown briefcase resting in his lap.

He jotted down each state delegation's vote as it was broadcast over the color television set in the circular penthouse sitting room, an aide said later.

Gov. Warren P. Knowles stepped to a floor microphone and, shouting above the exploding din, cast the votes that made Nixon the Republican presidential nominee.

NOT WITHOUT TENSION "Knowles did it," the 55-year-old former vice president said as he turned in his swivel chair to smile at his wife, two daughters, future son-in-law and eight aides who had joined him in the 18th floor hotel suite.

But the night of victory was not without tension.

After hearing his name placed in nomination, the candidate became so restive that he ducked out of the hotel for a half-hour automobile ride through the muggy Florida night.

CONGRATULATORY Congratulatory telephone calls began pouring in within minutes after he was nominated. One came from Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, his chief rival in the campaign. Another was from Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democrat whom Nixon may oppose in the November general election.

- Benediction by Dr. Billy Graham.
- Adjournment.

"Working with his hands and mind, this pioneer rose to become one of the few in any lifetime who are clearly destined to provide leadership," Griffin said.

"Tonight he is presented to this convention, by acclamation of his state delegation, as our favorite son. But he is much more than that," Griffin said. "For he epitomizes to a degree unmatched by few others now living, the American Ideal."

STANDING OVATION As his name was placed in nomination, Romney received a standing ovation from the packed convention hall. A noisy, demonstration for governor — Gov. Romney and his wife, Lenore (center bottom), sit in the spectators' section of Convention Hall watching the demonstration for the governor during last night's session after he was nominated as a favorite-son candidate for president. Standing behind them is Ohio's Gov. Rhodes.
