

Large Number of Voters Turning Out at Polls

Predict Record at County Polls

Oakland County voters were expected to crowd polls in record numbers today to pick national, state, county and township officers.

County Clerk-Register David R. Calhoun predicted that 310,000 persons will cast ballots in the general election.

This is approximately 8,000 more than voted in the 1960 presidential election, the all time high.

GM Reports Record Profits

Big Three Unanimous on 9-Month Earnings

DETROIT (AP) — Boom year 1964 of the nation's auto industry now boasts record nine-month earnings from each of its "Big Three."

General Motors, biggest of the trio, made it complete yesterday by reporting a $1.36-billion profit and announcing a $569-million dividend payment.

The GM dividend, a $2-a-share payment to 1.15 million common stockholders, will help to swell the pre-Christmas flow of money. The $2 is $1.35 above the usual GM quarterly payment.

Earlier, both Ford and Chrysler had reported record nine-month earnings.

General Motors made its profit report as the giant automaker was getting up headway again in production following a crippling United Auto Workers union strike.

TURNING OUT CARS

For the first time since the strike began Sept. 25, all five of GM's passenger car divisions were turning out cars yesterday, the company said.

The UAW called off its national strike Oct. 5, following agreement on a national contract, but strikes over local disputes among the company's 130 plants continued to cripple production.

As of today, only 12 local settlements were outstanding.

Ford, which faces a Friday strike threat by the UAW, had yet to complete 20 agreements among 90 bargaining units. Ford and the UAW have settled nationally.

General Motors' nine-month profit of $1.36 billion, from record sales, was the equivalent of $4.75 a share, up 25 per cent from the $1.06 billion, or $3.79 a share, of the same period last year.

At 1 p.m., extremely heavy turnout had been reported at precincts throughout the county, according to Calhoun.

He said election officials at several polling places had checked with his office to make sure that sufficient voter application forms would be available because they thought they might run out.

In the September primary, less than a third of those anticipated today went to the polls to nominate candidates. At that time, Calhoun's forecast of 100,000 was less than 100 off the actual total certified by the county board of canvassers.

Last minute figures obtained by county officials brought the registration total to nearly 355,000 for the county, compared to 350,000 registered for the 1960 election.

City Clerk Olga Barkeley reported that 35,792 persons are registered in Pontiac. This was about 6,000 less than in the 1960 general election.

The slate of candidates facing voters is the largest ever assembled in Oakland County.

In addition to township candidates, there is a total of 91 Democratic, Republican and nonpartisan office seekers.

Incomplete slates of national and state candidates also have been posted by the Socialist Workers, Socialist Labor and Freedom Now parties.

One state proposal, the Massachusetts Ballot, will be decided by voters.

It provides that in general elections the candidates' names shall be grouped under office titles rather than under party headings.

Laborites to Renationalize British Steel, Queen Says

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II told Parliament today that Prime Minister Harold Wilson's new Labor government will renationalize Britain's steel industry, restore rent controls and open the way for the abolition of capital punishment.

The queen formally opened the Parliament elected Oct. 15 with the first speech from the throne written for her by Wilson and his Cabinet. The speech outlined the government's legislative program.

In international affairs the queen promised the government's support of the United Nations and the North Atlantic alliance and other collective defense organizations to which Britain belongs. She said the government would attempt to reduce East-West tensions and "to encourage further progress toward disarmament."

The queen delivered her speech from the throne in the House of Lords after driving through London in a coach accompanied by a glittering cavalcade of courtiers.

MEMBERS STAND

Members of the House of Commons, summoned with great ceremony, stood around the edges of the chamber as the queen spoke.

In a key passage she said: "My government will initiate early action to re-establish the necessary public ownership of the iron and steel industry."

This policy is expected to touch off a major parliamentary battle.

SLIM MAJORITY

Wilson's government has only a five-vote majority in Commons. Sir Alec Douglas-Home's Conservatives and the small Liberal party oppose nationalization of the steel industry.

Clement Attlee's Labor government took the steel industry under state control in 1951 after nationalizing the coal, gas and electric power industries, the railways, the airlines and the Bank of England.

Other nationalization measures of the Attlee regime continue in force, but the steel industry went back into private hands after the Conservative party won the 1961 election.

The queen said the Wilson government will "restore control of rents" and added, "They will establish as rapidly as possible a crown lands commission with wide powers to acquire land for the community."

CHECK SPECULATION

This measure, Labor ministers have said, is designed to check land speculation and to put land to the best use. A parliamentary fight is expected on that also.

U.S. Protests to Poland Find Embassy Microphones

WASHINGTON (AP) — A battery of concealed microphones has been discovered in the recently built U. S. Embassy building in Warsaw, Poland, the State Department disclosed yesterday.

A spokesman said the listening devices apparently were installed in the early stages of construction of the building, which began in 1960.

The system was said to be similar to a network for more than 40 microphones earlier found secreted in the walls of the U. S. Embassy in Moscow.

Large Number of State Voters Likely to Split Their Ballots

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan decided today whether to keep Republican Gov. George Romney for a second two-year term in a general election fraught with potentialities.

For one, Michigan's vote for president, with Democratic President Johnson strongly favored, was almost certain to lead to a volume of split-ticket voting seldom if ever seen in the state.

Weighing in the balance were the effects of Michigan's congressional and legislative reapportionment and Romney's refusal to endorse fellow-Republican Barry Goldwater, their party's presidential candidate.

Romney's fight with Democratic Congressman-at-large Neil Staebler for the governorship caused special campaign firing on the virtual eve of election day in a battle over Romney's summary retirement Oct. 8 of three top National Guard officers.

A heavy vote was anticipated as a result of all these factors, assuming bad weather doesn't interfere.

State elections director Robert Montgomery predicted a vote of from 3.25 to 3.5 million. Michigan's presidential vote in 1960 was 3,318,097. Michigan has 21 electoral college votes.

City Is Presented Antitax Resolution

Battle lines were drawn last night by the Rochester Village Council and the Greater Waterford Community Council (GWCC) in opposition to Pontiac's new income tax ordinance.

Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson indicated that the City Commission intends to let the State Legislature do the fighting.

Commenting on a formal resolution presented to the commission last night by the Rochester Village Council, Hudson said the income tax ordinance is within the laws passed by the legislature.

Any objections to the tax, scheduled to take effect Jan. 1, should be directed to the State Legislature, not the City Commission, Hudson said.

The Rochester protest charged that the one-half per cent levy on nonresidents employed in the city is taxation without representation.

Commissioner John A. Dugan said that he was "amused to see outside people pass these resolutions."

GIVES REMINDER

In talking to nonresidents, Dugan said, he reminded them that if a state income tax had been passed they probably would have to pay 1 per cent.

Speaking in behalf of the GWCC at last night's meeting of the Waterford Township Board, Donald Fraser said the GWCC plans to establish a study committee which would seek the sentiments of some of the leading Pontiac business organizations on the tax.

He added that the GWCC would discuss the tax levy at its meeting next Tuesday and probably take a formal stand at that time.

Fraser's comments came during a general discussion of methods of opposing the tax which would affect approximately 62 per cent of the township's population.

In resisting the township board's formal opposition against the tax, Supervisor James E. Seeterlin pointed out that a group of Pontiac residents already are circulating petitions for a referendum on the income tax voted by the City Commission.

Balloting Reported Moderate to Heavy Across the Country

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans got out early and in big numbers today to register their choice between Lyndon B. Johnson and Barry Goldwater for president.

A morning spot check by Associated Press member newspapers and bureaus across the nation brought reports of moderate to heavy voting. The weather was generally favorable, and it appeared probable that the advance forecast of a record 71 million ballots would be reached, if not surpassed.

There was a scattering of precincts, however, where the voting was reported to be running somewhat behind the 1960 turnout when there were fewer voters and the national total was 68.8 million.

Since there are more registered Democrats than registered Republicans, backers of Johnson believed a heavy turnout was favorable to the candidate, the overwhelming favorite in all the polls.

On the other hand, Goldwater's supporters have argued that in past elections many conservative-minded voters have stayed at home, believing there was no great choice between the candidates. Their hope was that a big turnout meant many past stay-at-homes were taking the opportunity to vote for a conservative candidate.

FIRST VOTERS

As always, there was a race by a few isolated precincts with only a handful of voters to be the first in the nation with all votes in and counted.

He said the city can't sell the bonds because the annual debt service would cost nearly $250,000, which would take almost half of city's $546,000 capital improvement fund.

City officials elected to turn over the river work to the county because the city's share, previously slated to come from capital improvement funds, jumped from $100,000 to $235,000.

Neippling said the city had planned to only do the river work necessary for the M59 freeway.

However, now the entire river project must be done to enable M59 construction to continue.

Romney Cries Unfair on Housing Leaflet

Gov. Romney filed unfair campaign practice charges against state Democrats this morning after casting his ballot at the Bloomfield Hills City Hall.

Romney took the unprecedented action because of a leaflet which he said attempts to distort his position on "fair housing" for Negroes.

A spokesman for the governor said a pamphlet distributed in predominantly Negro areas in Detroit took comments from a Romney speech out of context in an attempt to indicate that he favored permitting white home owners to refuse to sell property to Negroes.

He said the pamphlet urged voters to "vote straight Democratic."

Filing his complaint with the State Fair Campaign Practices Commission, Romney said the leaflet was widely distributed by the Democratic State Central Committee in Negro areas of the state and used racial prejudices for election purposes.

INCOMPLETE PORTION

The governor said the leaflet headline falsely states "Romney is against equal housing right," and then reproduces only a partial and incomplete portion of a statement made by the governor on housing before the Michigan Real Estate Association.

"The part reproduced creates an absolutely false impression," Romney said.

"This deliberate distribution by the Democratic State Central Committee is all the more vicious and unprincipled in the light of their agreement to keep civil rights out of the partisan arena because it is a moral issue."

Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency retorted, "It is typical of George Romney to cry 'foul' when caught in the web of his own contradictions."

"As of this moment, he is in favor of Rule 9, against Rule 9 and neutral on Rule 9—depending on who is his audience."

"Romney should have explained his many positions on equal housing opportunities while there still was time," Ferency said. "Instead of trying to cover up his contradictions with a barrage of last-minute political charges."

REVEALED VIEWS

Ferency said Romney revealed his views on the question of fair and open housing for racial and religious minorities in a closed door meeting of the Detroit Real Estate Board over a month ago.

"His remarks came to the attention of our campaign staff just over 72 hours ago," Ferency said.

"Romney was quoted directly in a publication of the Detroit Real Estate Board."

"If Romney now claims he was misquoted, he should take the matter up with the Detroit Real Estate Board and not with the Fair Campaign Practices Commission."

ST. GEORGE, Utah (UPI)—Republican presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater took the lead today in the first returns from Utah.

Confusing Negroes, Says Minister

GOP: Not Responsible for King Push

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican National Committee has disclaimed any knowledge of a campaign to write Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. for president.

"The Negro integration leader repudiated the drive Monday, telling a news conference in Atlanta, 'I am willing to risk a guess that it was supporters of Sen. Goldwater who contrived this venomous act.'"

"This is a cruel and vicious attempt to confuse Negro voters and nullify their votes," said King. "I am not a candidate. Please do not write in my name."

In Washington, a spokesman for the Republican National Committee said: "We know no National Committee has no knowledge of this."

LEAFLETS REPORTED

What drew the GOP disclaimers and the King repudiation were leaflets, first reported on the West Coast Sunday night by Democratic party officials, telling "all Negro voters":

"We can vote for Dr. King for president. A write-in vote for Dr. King shows that Negroes are united. It will prove that Negroes will vote for the greatest Negro in America for president."

The leaflets bore the name of the Committee for Negroes in government of Louisville, Ky.

In Chicago, Nathan E. Jacobs, president of Bozell & Jacobs, an advertising firm, said it had "arranged some radio time on the basis of copy" supplied by the Louisville committee.

ACCUSES GOP

In Washington, John M. Bailey, the Democratic national chairman, said the leaflets represented a "desperate last-minute effort by Goldwater supporters to get Negroes to waste their votes."

A Democratic spokesman called the Louisville group a "phony committee."

44 Cubans Ask U.S. Asylum

Walk Off Airliner at Newfoundland Field

OTTAWA (AP) — Forty-four Cubans are seeking admission to the United States after walking off a Cubana airliner at Gander, Nfld.

Arrangements are being made to fly the defectors to Canadian immigration detention quarters at Halifax, where they will wait until the United States admits them.

The Immigration Service said the Cubans defected after their plane, bound for Czechoslovakia, made an overnight stop at Gander Sunday.

Two Cubans asked for political asylum in the United States Sunday and the other 42 announced their decision Monday. Their plane left for Prague with 36 other passengers aboard.

CHILD ABOARD
Among the defectors were Mr. and Mrs. Miguel J. Rosa Galvez, who left the plane with their 2-year-old grandson, Julian de la Rosa. The child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jose de la Rosa, defected in September from a Czech airliner at Gander and are still in immigration custody at Halifax.

More than 200 Cubans have defected via Gander where airliners flying between Havana and Eastern Europe customarily stop. The Canadian government grants the defectors temporary asylum in Canada while they make arrangements to join the thousands of Cuban refugees in the United States.

DETROIT (AP)—The 112-day old Detroit newspaper strike is condemned by Michigan Episcopal Bishop Richard S. Emrich as an "anarchic (lawless) power play" by the two striking craft unions.

Bishop Emrich made the charge Monday in a statement in which he called on the public to "do what you can to end this shameful situation."

The bishop, a member of Gov. George Romney's special commission assigned to help get a settlement last month, said his position on the strike was "really pro-union" since he said he spoke in the interests of all organized labor.

He issued his statement independently as his "analysis" of the strike and related factors.

"MISUSED POWER"
Emrich, accused the two striking unions, the pressmen and the plate and paper handlers, of "scandalous misuse of power" and of harming the "legitimate cause of unionism."

"The strikers," he said, "may be said to be members of two antithetical unions."

The presidents of the two unions, Freeman D. Frazee of the pressmen and Bart Piscitello of the handlers, limited comment on Emrich's statement to saying the bishop was "entitled to his own opinion."

Meanwhile, the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service and state mediators set up a meeting for Thursday between the publishers and the striking unions.

To Check Traffic Flow in Downtown District

BIRMINGHAM — Traffic patterns will be traced in the downtown business district Thursday to provide information in determining the route of the city's proposed peripheral road. The survey is just one phase of a study undertaken by traffic engineering consultant Lloyd B. Reid of Southfield.

Reid was hired in June to conduct the comprehensive study at a cost of $8,500.

He told the City Commission last night that Thursday was chosen because it was an average day for traffic and will thereby give a more accurate picture.

License plates of some 40,000 automobiles will be recorded by 20 workers at various locations, according to Reid. These will be checked later to learn the origin and destination of the vehicles.

USE COMPUTER
A computer will be used to correlate the information, he said.

Exhibits outlining what has already been learned through the survey will be presented to the commission on Nov. 23, said Reid.

A final report, along with conclusions, then will be prepared.

Emrich, accused the two striking unions, the pressmen and the plate and paper handlers, of "scandalous misuse of power" and of harming the "legitimate cause of unionism."

"The strikers," he said, "may be said to be members of two antithetical unions."

The presidents of the two unions, Freeman D. Frazee of the pressmen and Bart Piscitello of the handlers, limited comment on Emrich's statement to saying the bishop was "entitled to his own opinion."

Meanwhile, the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service and state mediators set up a meeting for Thursday between the publishers and the striking unions.

DETROIT (AP)—The 112-day old Detroit newspaper strike is condemned by Michigan Episcopal Bishop Richard S. Emrich as an "anarchic (lawless) power play" by the two striking craft unions.

Bishop Emrich made the charge Monday in a statement in which he called on the public to "do what you can to end this shameful situation."

The bishop, a member of Gov. George Romney's special commission assigned to help get a settlement last month, said his position on the strike was "really pro-union" since he said he spoke in the interests of all organized labor.

He issued his statement independently as his "analysis" of the strike and related factors.

don't do the river improvements now, we'd be faced with the staggering cost of moving a new highway."

The river improvement project was to run from Union to Opdyke. Originally, the city had planned to improve the river only from Padlock to the railroad tracks.

Under this plan, said Neippling, certain parts of the river work were slated to come within the highway project.

The Bureau of Federal Roads, however, gradually added items to the original $100,000 cost, claiming they were not part of the M59 project.

FREWAY DELAYED
Turning the Clinton River work over to the county, according to Neippling, will delay M59 freeway work at least until spring.

Previously, bids were to be let this month for both projects. The freeway work is a state project.

In addition to the river work, the commission's action last night also turned over to the county relocation of a sanitary sewer interceptor at a total cost of $175,000.

He said this was possible because it is related to the river work. Normally, the drain commission deals only with storm drain projects.

Her Prayers Answered

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—The eight-year "miracle" is over—its provisions have been fulfilled.

Mrs. Dora Witheril, 52, was stricken by cancer more than eight years ago. She had three operations and physicians gave her only a few months to live at most.

Mrs. Witheril in April 1956 paid a pilgrimage to the Our Lady of Lourdes Shrine in France. She left here in a wheel chair.

She returned a few weeks later walking with ease and was radiant. The doctors marvelled at her recovery.

In her prayers at the Shrine, Mrs. Witheril asked that she might live long enough to raise her four children, three daughters and a son. She made no claims to a miracle. But she pledged on her return to work for the construction of a shrine to Our Lady of Lourdes. She told her story and showed films and slides and received $25,000 in contributions.

CONSTRUCT SHRINE

The money was used to construct the shrine at St. John Vianney Church in Clyde Park and it was completed in May 1960.

Mrs. Witheril died Sunday night at her home. Her husband, Culver said she died happy because her pledges had been viewed by thousands upon thousands of persons.

Much Suspense in NY on Kennedy-Keating Race

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Every reliable indicator pointed to a landslide for President Johnson in New York State today with the big question being whether Robert F. Kennedy would share in the Democratic victory.

The contest between Kennedy, 38, former U.S. attorney general and brother of the late president, and incumbent Kenneth B. Keating, 64, for a U.S. Senate seat has overshadowed the presidential race in the Empire State.

Each side claimed victory as the long and often bitter battle ended. Although some polls gave the edge to Kennedy, the race remained tight.

Most prominent Republicans long since privately have conceded Johnson will win the state's bloc of 43 electoral votes, largest in the nation, in his fight with Sen. Barry Goldwater.

DID LITTLE

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and other top Republicans did relatively little to advance the Goldwater cause in the state.

In predicting victory for Keating, his camp indirectly conceded the state to Johnson in the presidential balloting.

Democrats were hopeful that a big Johnson victory would give them control of the legislature for the first time since 1935 and a majority of the state's delegation to the House of Representatives, now 12-20 in favor of the GOP.

Polling hours in the 12,439 election districts throughout the state were from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m., with a record 8.4 million New Yorkers eligible to vote.

FINAL REPORT

Democratic State Chairman William H. McKeon issued an election-eve report that a final telephone survey around the state indicated Johnson would win by at least 1.5 million and possibly more than 2 million votes.

Less partisan observers, including some Republicans, have said that Johnson has an excellent chance of topping the 1.5-million plurality, a record, by which former President Dwight D. Eisenhower carried the state in 1956.

Michael Seels, the Republican state campaign director, was the lone voice in the GOP hierarchy predicting that New York voters "will turn to Barry Goldwater for the dedication, determination and dignity they want in the highest office in the land."

Republican State Chairman Fred A. Young predicted "a surprising show of Republican strength" but stopped short of forecasting a Goldwater victory.

McKeon predicted that Kennedy would win by at least 350,000 votes. Herbert Brownell, Keating's campaign manager, saw victory by a "close margin."

Keating's vote-getting power may be weakened by the third man in the race, Henry Paulucci, the Conservative party's candidate. He said he entered the race because Keating refused to endorse Goldwater. Paulucci could draw up to 150,000 votes—if past Conservative showings are any indication.

Troy Commission Assigns Property for New City Hall

TROY — The City Commission last night transferred 1.6 acres of land at Big Beaver Road east of I-75 to the Building Authority for the new city hall.

The land transferred is part of an 80-acre parcel upon which the city hall and a cultural center will eventually rise.

The commission agreed that the new city structure will be placed about 350 feet back from Big Beaver, in accordance with Birmingham architect Frank Straub's recommendations.

Soil borings will be taken and the site staked out in the next step toward construction of the 2-story building.

In other action, the commission tabled the matter of a millage increase to give the Parks and Recreation Board more funds.

TO STUDY ISSUE

City Manager Paul York said today that individual commissioners will study the issue further and that he will make a report to the commission before the request is discussed again in early January.

York said that the commission could grant additional funds for the board by two methods.

One would be through an increase in the capital budget, under a 5-mill allowance specified in the City Charter. This would not have to be approved by the voters.

The commission could also decide to put the millage increase before the electorate, possibly within six months.

TO SEEK FUNDS

The library board is known to be interested in obtaining more funds from the commission through increased millage, but York said that it has not submitted an official request to the commission.

Part of a proposed new subdivision ordinance which would strengthen the present ordinance through changes in design requirements also was discussed.

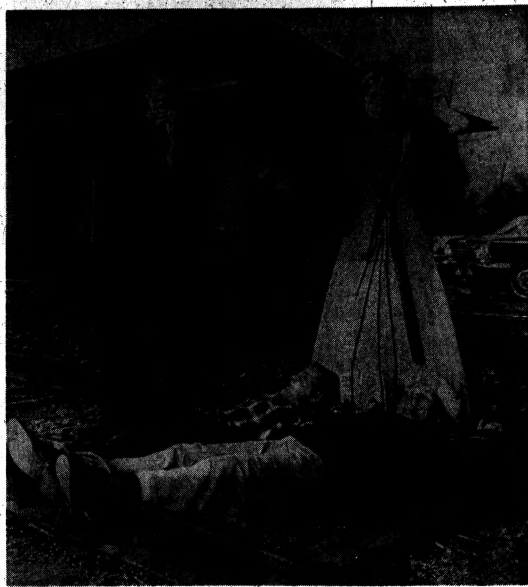

The commission will continue the discussion at a later date. Due to the length of last night's agenda, the commission did not discuss a proposed retirement system ordinance favored by city employees.

The proposal will be placed on the agenda for another meeting.

Firm Picked to Design Area School

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWN. SHIP — Tarapata MacMahon Associates, Inc., will be engaged to design a new elementary, building for the West Bloomfield School District. The school, to be constructed on an 11-acre Maple Road site, would account for half of the $1-million bond issue being sought by the board of education.

School trustees picked the Bloomfield Hills architectural firm at their meeting last night.

They hope to have tentative plans to present to voters before the Dec. 14 bond election, according to Schools Supt. Dr. Lelf A. Hougren.

The $500,000 school is to accommodate 450 students.

SITE PURCHASED

Site for the facility was purchased with funds from the district's last bond issue approved in June, 1963. Midway between Middle Belt and Orchard Lake, it is located in the heart of the district's growth area.

The proposed bond issue also would include $200,000 for the purchase of new sites. The remaining $300,000 has been designated to furnish and equip the junior high school now under construction and to improve present buildings.

In other business at last night's meeting, Hougren reported that 55 per cent of the district's June graduates now are enrolled in college-level programs. The record figure marks an impressive jump over last year's 45 per cent, Hougren said.

He noted that of the 67 June graduates enrolled in college programs, 59 are attending Michigan schools. Leading the list are the University of Michigan with 14; Michigan State University, 13; Ferris State College, 9; and Central Michigan University, 6.

Proper PTA Plans Meeting, Open House

During the open house, parents will have the opportunity to view their children's work and talk with the teachers. A business meeting is slated for 8.

Commanders to Retire

EAST LANSING (AP) — Two state police district commanders, Capt. Vincent Neering of Bay City and Capt. Harold Moore of Traverse City, will retire Nov. 21 and Jan. 8 respectively.

Shank, first grade; Michael E. Gibbs, fourth grade (left below); and Kurt Doolin, second. Other features of the 5:30-9 p.m. event will be booths, games, rides and a dinner to be served throughout the evening. Proceeds will go toward PTA-sponsored projects.

Rochester Parties Raise Fund Money

ROCHESTER — Record-breaking Kiwanis flare sales paid for record-breaking Halloween parties at the junior and senior high schools last Saturday night, Herbert Stoutenburg, president of the Rochester Kiwanis Club, announced today.

Suburban, village, business and industrial flare sales brought in almost $2,200, which resulted in a profit of approximately $1,500.

About one-third of this amount will go to the underprivileged children's fund.

Stoutenburg said, "The tremendous response of the citizens of the Rochester area to the flare sale indicates to the children that this community is interested in giving them a safe and sane Halloween."

Scout Plans to Be Outlined

Program Set Friday; Boys, Adults Invited

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWN. SHIP — What's in store for the boy who participates in the scouting program this year? The members of Troop 67 at Fourtowns Methodist Church have planned a program for Friday night to outline plans for this year.

They have invited youths 11 years of age and older, their parents and other interested adults to be introduced to the scouting movement and its activities.

Ed Goetz, executive of the Ottawa District, Clinton Valley Boy Scout Council, will discuss "Scouting 1964-65."

The 7:45 p.m. program also will include an expert archery demonstration by the Lake Orion Archers. Music and refreshments will complete the agenda.

CHILD CARE

Supervised child care and transportation can be provided if necessary.

The program will be held at the church, Cooley Lake Road near Lockhaven.

Eugene Pool, 8301 Cooley Drive, and Oscar T. Flowers, Jr., 6719 Cooley Drive, can be contacted for further information.

Society to View Ocean Life Slides

LAKE ORION — The Oakland County Aquarist Society will hold its next meeting at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building.

The program will feature colored slides on "Fish and Fluorescent Corals of New Caledonia."

Members of the society said other area residents interested in tropical fish are welcome to attend the session.

Friends and neighbors have rallied to offer the family some help and have established the Bonnie and Cindy Drost Benefit Fund.

Cindy, 7, now is listed in fair condition but her 8-year-old sister remains serious.

Both have undergone surgery for the burns which most severely hurt their faces and hands. Each can anticipate at least one more operation.

CAMPING TRIP

Their father, Ronald Drost of 7386 Hardisty, operates a gas station and truck rental facility.

He had taken three of his five children on a weekend camping trip and was returning home when the mishap occurred.

The two girls were riding in the camp's enclosure on the back of a pickup truck and had turned on the gas heater. It exploded as the family neared Saginaw.

The Oak Beach Park Subdivision Association is attempting to aid the family financially through the fund drive which will continue until Nov. 22.

Contributions, which must be made out to the Bonnie and Cindy Drost Benefit Fund, can be sent to Mrs. Joseph Tanko, 2399 Rolandale, Union Lake.

Election Weather Vanes to Guide Amateur Analysts

By LARRY OSTUS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Armchair analysts who want to find out which way the political wind is blowing will have plenty of signposts when election returns start rolling in tonight.

These clues are, to some extent, the same ones used by professional politicians — and more recently electronic computers — in dishing out trends.

One guide for the amateur analyst are the so-called weather-vane counties. There are six of them which have voted for every presidential winner since 1900, and some further back than that. They are Coos and Stratford in New Hampshire, Palo Alto in Iowa, Laramie in Wyoming, Teton in Montana and Crook in Oregon.

There are weather-vane states, too, such as Nevada and New Mexico, which have been with every winner since 1912. Maryland has missed only once since 1900.

WEATHERVANES MISS

But weather-vanes can point the wrong way too. Arizona lost its perfect record when it voted for Republican Richard M. Nixon four years ago, the same fate that befell three previously perfect counties.

The experts will be watching for several indicators tonight, among them possible white backlash votes which could hurt the Democrats and Republican defections from Sen. Barry Goldwater's candidacy.

One place to watch for backlash is Lake County, Ind., the Hoosier state's biggest Democratic bailiwick. It cast a majority of its votes for Gov. George Wallace of Alabama in a Democratic presidential primary this spring.

If President Johnson falls to get the 63 per cent Democratic vote the late John F. Kennedy got in Lake County in 1960, his hopes of turning Indiana Democratic for the first time since 1908 could be slim.

STILL LOST

In New York Nixon carried

six upstate counties by a 3-1 margin and still lost the state. If Goldwater fails to match that, and the 5-4 GOP margin in populous Nassau County dwindles, observers say it could be a Johnson landslide for the state's 43 electoral votes.

Here are some other areas for election night watching:

California — Those familiar with the scene say Goldwater must carry three Southern California counties — Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego — plus San Mateo County near San Francisco to have a crack at the state's 40 electoral votes.

Connecticut — Experts will be watching this early reporting state to see how Johnson's vote stacks up with Kennedy's 91,000-vote plurality of 1960.

ALMOST EVEN

Georgia — Republicans broke almost even in Fulton County (Atlanta) four years ago. If they repeat, and cut into normally heavy Democratic majorities in south Georgia, it could mean a GOP victory in this state.

Michigan — Some observers say if a Democratic candidate doesn't take 65 per cent of the Wayne County (Detroit) vote he can't offset normal outside Republican margins.

Pennsylvania — Philadelphia gave Kennedy 68 per cent in 1960. He carried the state with 51.1 per cent.

Required Halt One Day a Week

State High Court Invalidates Sales Law

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court Monday unanimously struck down a state law requiring merchants to halt sales of certain items on either Saturday or Sunday—whichever they choose.

Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh held, though, that providing one day a week rest is a valid act. He quoted U. S. Supreme Court Chief Justice Earl Warren as saying: "we cannot find a state without power to provide a weekly respite from all labor."

Kavanagh and five other justices on the eight-member court held the law invalid because it unconstitutionally gave counties the power to exempt certain articles of merchandise from provisions of the law.

Justices Michael O'Hara and John Dehmars held that the law is invalid because it "imposes criminal liability in language so vague and contradictory as to render its enforcement ludicrously impossible and farcical."

Kavanagh and Justices Harry

Kelly and Otis Smith disagreed with a point raised by Justice Paul Adams, who was joined by justices Eugene Black and Theodore Souris in his opinion.

Adams wrote: "Since it appears that the sole and only objective of (the law) is to eliminate, or at least reduce, competition, since the general welfare is neither enhanced nor promoted and since no evil is eliminated by the act, it must be concluded that it is not a valid and proper exercise by the legislature of its police power."

O'Hara added that the law "is unconstitutional for so many reasons it offers a member of a multijudge appellate court an attractive variety of bases upon which to hold it invalid." In another case, the court took away the immunity of cities being sued for damages. The court split 6-2 in its decision.

Cuba Not Favoring LBJ or Goldwater

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Communist Cuba does not care whether President Johnson or Sen. Barry Goldwater is elected president of the United States today "for one is bad and the other is worse," says Havana Radio.

The broadcast heard here did not mention the candidates' names when referring to them as bad and worse, but said "the elected candidate, either Johnson or Goldwater, is going to continue the policy of pillage, of sowing death and desolation on oppressed peoples, of laying his hands on foreign lands."

CHARGES POLICEMAN

Angus Sherbutte had filed suit against the city of Marine City and a policeman, Joseph Valla, accusing Valla of using "excessive force" in making an arrest and claiming injury.

At issue was whether a 1961 Michigan Supreme Court decision changed a law saying local government units could reimburse policemen who are sued for damages, but cannot be made parties to the suits.

The court said it did and sent the case back to St. Clair County Circuit Court with orders that the city be reinstated as a defendant.

Justices Dehmars and Kelly disagreed, on the basis of the state law, which they held was not changed by the 1961 case.

1st Vote for Ex-D.C. Resident

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Joseph F. Davis, 84, expects to vote today for the first time in any election since he moved to California. Until two years ago Davis lived in Washington, D.C., where residents received the right to vote in 1961.

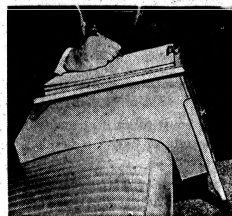

There are no municipal or congressional elections because the city is run by Congress.

Davis, a retired printing pressman, lives with his daughter and son-in-law.

How does he feel about his first vote? "I like it fine," he said.

Education Fostered by 'Silent Partner'

Most of the emphasis these days, in discussion of needs of U.S. education, is on the pros and cons of increased Federal involvement.

The growing participation in education of another segment of our society — business and industry — has been almost overlooked.

But U. S. companies are contributing an estimated $160 million annually to the national educational system in the form of instructional materials, equipment and services.

A recent survey of 248 companies representing about 25 per cent of all business sales in the country indicates that each company had aided education to the extent of $250,000.

Estimates of contributions by the rest of American business and industry, plus those of major trade associations, brought the projected total to the over-all figure.

This is wholly aside from the nearly $250 million annually given to colleges and universities in the form of grants and scholarships.

As to what the companies got out of it, these are results envisioned:

- To help meet the challenge of the day by increasing teacher efficiency, providing up-to-date material and raising the general level of education.

- Broadening of teachers' knowledge of competitive enterprise, to help create a plentiful supply of manpower and skills and build awareness of employment opportunities.

- Better community relations, more understanding of business goals and problems, greater company prestige.

"Whatever the reasons," says the director of the firm that conducted the survey, "business-industry-education cooperation is a fact, is expanding, and almost certainly will continue to grow."

It has to, as technology continues to complicate our lives, as well as ease our burdens.

Rainbow to Be Seen by Illinois Voters

If you got a bit fed up with trials and tribulations attending Michigan's legislative reapportionment hassle and what came out of it, comfort might lie in casting a look, not a ballot, at the election fix Illinois was in. (Offstage voice: It wouldn't be Illinois' first election fix.)

That great and sovereign commonwealth followed pretty much the same rocky course as did our state in the direction of redistricting. But with one exception—a most significant one.

For after her Republican-controlled legislature passed a bill reapportioning the state's 59 House districts, Democratic Gov. Otto Kerner vetoed it.

Following this, a governor-appointed bipartisan reapportionment commission bickered for months—a sound familiar?—got nowhere, and quit. No other procedure was then left than to elect all candidates on an at-large basis. Illinois is thus the Nation's only state with such a headache today.

Here is what the voter there had to contend with:

- Four ballots colored respectively orange, white, blue and green.

The orange variety is nearly three feet long and a foot wide, listing 236 choices for the House.

Two of the white ones are listed on the white one.

On the blue, the perspiring voter

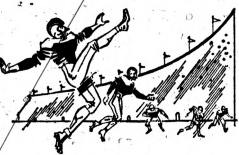

"X's constitutional amendments. The fate of judges is decided on the green.

Note: If by this time the voter saw red, he wasn't. It was just his state of mind.

Of the 236 names on the white ballot, 118 are listed in the Democratic column and 118 on the Republican side.

A voter could pick up to 177 candidates—the number of seats in the House — and each would get one vote. But if he chose one too many, the ballot will be thrown out.

One last little thing. With the sizable number of Americans afflicted with color blindness, a lot of Illinois voters must have been hard put to hue to the ball lot line.

Answer Hastened to Press Puzzle

Bottom Fell Out of Contest as Irish Scuttled Middles

Well folks, the $500 U.S. Savings Bond, The Press' Annual Football Contest winner's award, is on the launching pad and the countdown has started.

Saturday's game shook things up like a dog shedding water after a bath.

Navy, the pre-season darling of the dopesters, was sunk by Notre Dame, whom early forecasters couldn't see even with binoculars. As for the team's season finish, the word was that it'd do well to finish the season.

Navy went down with all guns firing, but unfortunately for its gunners were all firing blanks. It was even rumored that the coaches were about to put the Middle mascot goat in the lineup hoping that he could butt a little yardage, but changed their minds with the realization of Billy's vulnerability to penalty calls for illegal use of the horns.

Meanwhile, the enemy really had their Irish up, and spent most of the afternoon enjoying an impromptu lawn social behind Navy's goal line—collecting 40 points while in the vicinity.

The outcome was a blow to 419 contest entrants who had made the Navy ensign their sign, and four others who had figured the opponents would really tie one on.

When the final gun sounded, ending the carnage, there remained but 73 contestants—the stalwarts who saw the green of Notre Dame an omen of green in their pockets. And, har-rumph, wouldn't you know? Major Amos Hoople, the Press' famous fearless football fathomer, had the game in his crystal ball all the way. He divined a Notre Dame win by a 40-7 count. We're waiting, ha-kaff, for the sly soothsayer's oral run-out on how he flubbed by seven points... maybe a typographical touchdown.

For next Saturday's contest tilt, 45 think the old badger game will pay off and Wisconsin will tame Northwestern's Wildcats, to the dismay of the 23 who marked their entries for the Oddly, none figured the animal-tagged antagonists would snarl their way to a stalemate.

What happens if there is a tie and all 73 contest survivors are technically eliminated? Very simple. We merely ignore the game and go on to the next one—the Nov. 13 clash between Waterford's two high schools.

A few more games should give us the contest clump. Who it is to be only the gridiron gods know. Undoubtedly the redoubtable Hoople also knows but, egad, do you think he could stoop to such a breach of ethics as to reveal the answer?

Hardly. With his paunchy physique, he couldn't stoop to anything.

David Lawrence Says:

Public Not in Mood to Change

WASHINGTON — The time has come to write a final forecast on the outcome of the election, as this correspondent has done in the last 12 presidential contests. Ten of these forecasts turned out to be right.

The formula used disregards any evaluation of personalities, crowds or campaign oratory, or the published claims of the rival camps, and is based solely on an appraisal of two sets of factors — emotional issues and economic issues.

The influential factors this time are clearly discernible. Rightly or wrongly, many people have been convinced that the Republican nominee, if elected president, would "trigger" a nuclear war and that the incumbent President would not.

Economic conditions as a whole are relatively satisfactory today, due to the cut in taxes which stimulated a business boom.

With all the various controversies taken into account, the outstanding fact is that a majority of the people are not in a mood to change administrations, despite pointed criticisms of domestic and foreign policies.

NOT INCLINED

The more the international situation looks uncertain—which impression was heightened recently by the sudden outburst of Khrushchev and Red China's explosion of a nuclear bomb—the more the public is inclined not to "change horses in midstream."

Another factor in the campaign is the split in the Republican party. Although there is no third candidate in the field, as there was in 1912, the Republican party nevertheless is suffering from an extensive defection which is not offset by the gain from dissatisfied Democrats.

In order to supplement this analysis with on-the-spot information, this writer sent a questionnaire within the last 10 days to the editor of each of 1,596 daily newspapers throughout the United States. The replies numbered 1,223, which is 83 per cent of the total.

From the replies, it is apparent that President Johnson is sure to receive 222 votes from a bloc of states in which a majority of the editors in each state said they felt "certain" of a Democratic victory.

FOR JOHNSON

These 222 votes were accumulated in New Mexico, Nevada, Arkansas, Texas, Minnesota, Montana, Oregon, Washington, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Michigan, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, West Virginia, Missouri, Hawaii, Alaska and the District of Columbia.

To win 270 electoral votes are required. Added to the above 222 votes, California's 40 votes could produce for Mr. Johnson a minimum of 272.

The California editors divided on a basis of 45 who were "certain" the state will go for Johnson and 35 who said it was "leaning" toward him, whereas only two said the state was "certain" for Goldwater and 11 replied that the state was "leaning" toward the Republican presidential nominee.

But even if California turned out to be another surprise, Mr. Johnson has a good chance to get 271 by capturing Illinois and North Carolina for a total of 39 votes, which, with the 232 "certain" mentioned above, would make 271 in all.

Out of the remaining states, of course, Mr. Johnson or Mr. Goldwater might carry some by narrow and some by large margins, but a majority of the editors in each of 26 states, with a total of 210 electoral votes, did not score their own state as "certain" for either candidate. It has been customary in these forecasts to determine only an irreducible minimum and not the total electoral majority.

Bob Considine Says:

Johnson to Win Easily, Barry to Pledge Backing

NEW YORK — Unless all signs are fraudulent, the following events are in the immediate offing:

1. Lyndon Baines Johnson will win a four-year term in the White House by a substantial margin.

2. Barry Goldwater will send him a telegram of CONSIDINE congratulations and pledge to support him in all major efforts to keep America strong and win an enduring peace.

3. Messrs. Rockefeller, Nixon, Scranton, Romney, Stassen and Oregon's attractive Mark Hatfield will begin tie-in plans to run in 1968.

4. The eyes of Washington and the U.S. in general will turn away from the domestic political scene and then focus, with undiluted interest, on the conflict now simmering below the surface of the Communist world.

The lives of all the peoples of the world could be affected by decisions reached in the near future (if not this weekend) by the new group which has seized power in the Kremlin.

Bewildering reports and rumors keep seeping through the Iron Curtain. President Johnson's and Ambassador Foy Kohler's brief exchange of peace platitudes with Alexei Kosygin, the only official information that has been presented to the American people. It may be all there is to present at this time.

Other stories smack of conjecture. The Italian Communists swear they have been told in Moscow officially that Khrushchev was defrocked because he brought about the ideological rift with Red China, arbitrary run things within the Party and the country, and "acted like a dictator."

He has been "seen" riding a motorcycle in a limousine, with the chauffeur to make room for his "women folks" in the rear.

He is reported to be under house arrest at as many as four of his former homes, also to be living "with other former officials" in a Moscow apartment on a pension of $1,100 a month. This son-in-law, Alexei Adzhub, has been traded to the Mets of Soviet journalism, it is said by "informed sources."

In Washington:

Barry Deepened Gulf in Voters

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Win or lose, Sen. Barry Goldwater has engraved upon many voters' minds political ideas whose effects may be felt for years.

If anything, this imprint deepened in the last few days. As he began at Prescott, Ariz., in early September, so he went BLOSSAT—stronger than ever—in New York's Madison Square Garden, Cleveland's Public Hall, and elsewhere at the windup.

What he has done above all is to reinforce and solidify the views of government and a American life which are held by his most ardent followers.

While his billboards have proclaimed "In your heart you know he's right," he really has been telling his most devoted friends in the electorate that in his heart he knows they are right.

He almost never mentioned the independent voter whose numbers are presumed to be large and decisive. Only in the most cursory way has he appealed to Democrats outside the South — and moderate Republicans.

He has been "seen" riding a motorcycle in a limousine, with the chauffeur to make room for his "women folks" in the rear.

Independent Nations Swallowed by Reds

David Lawrence quotes a speech made by President Johnson, "We will not permit the independent nations of the East to be swallowed by Communist conquest." This is a surprise as independent nations have been gobbled up by Communists since Russia became a Communist country.

Let us be concerned for our own country where our children are being raised. Nations who have fought and quarreled for centuries with those on their borders could have become states of peace and settled differences.

Public Opinion Real Communist Weapon

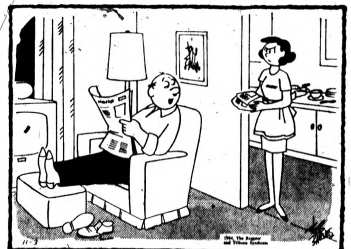

The Communists realize fully that the real weapon in the world is not the hydrogen bomb, but PUBLIC OPINION. They succeed spectacularly in selling their ideas and in winning public opinion. This is aggressive selling and no one can counteract it except by using the very same methods.

The Communist bloc every year devotes 150,000 hours of broadcasting time to radio programs in all languages; produces two billion brochures; 120 million books; 200 films and dispatches 20,000 persons for the purpose of spreading propaganda in the Free World.

Call it subversion, infiltration, or any other name, but it is merely the effective, intelligent, and logical advance of a political system to enslave the people of the world. Most people don't seem to realize that the struggle with communism boils down to FREEDOM or SLAVERY and that if communism wins you will be the slave.

Facts Hidden on Viet Raid

Sen. Thurmond Says U.S. Force Massacred

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., has charged the Defense Department with "suppressing the facts and hiding from the American people the massacre of American personnel" in last Saturday night's attack on a South Viet Nam air base.

Thurmond said yesterday he has information that "many more" Americans were killed than were announced and that total casualties were 300 to 400 persons in the Communist Viet Cong's mortar attack on the Bien Hoa Air Base.

The South Carolina senator declined to reveal his source of information or to say how many of the total casualties were American.

Asst. Secretary of Defense Arthur Symington said last night in Washington Thurmond's first statement on the number of Americans killed "is absolutely untrue."

Later, a Defense Department spokesman said the department would stand by Symington's previous comment as regards the number of casualties.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Army has announced that four U.S. Army men were killed and 31 other Americans were wounded in the attack which also destroyed or damaged 27 U.S. planes. Two Vietnamese Air Force men were killed and two others were wounded, the Army said.

Thurmond said, "This is just one more example of the administration's suppressing information in an attempt to achieve political gain."

He said he was sending a messenger to Washington by plane to verify the report.

"The government policy," Thurmond said, "is that it is all right to lie to the American people."

SECOND STATEMENT

Thurmond's second statement said the Viet Cong attacked from a distance of 800 yards and first fired on barracks where American personnel were sleeping. It also said exploding aircraft rockets and machine gun ammunition caused further casualties.

In a related matter, a Pentagon spokesman said "We are unable to find a shred of evidence to support" Republican charges that the Pentagon was warned two days before the attack that the base lacked adequate protection.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Republican Robert A. Taft Jr. tries today to follow the footsteps of his famous father into the U.S. Senate. He is expected

Hubert Home; Sure of Victory

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Hubert Horatio Humphrey came home today, never revealing by word or deed the slightest doubt he will be the next vice president of the United States.

The Minnesota Democratic senator's two-month campaign trickled to an end in a drab television studio in Utah Monday night.

For a brief moment, Humphrey let show the fatigue that has rarely shown in his ebullient public appearances.

He slumped in a metal folding chair, legs crossed, chin on his chest, gazing tiredly at twin television screens from which President Johnson was making his final appeal of the 1964 campaign. He seemed pleased as he stared at himself delivering a filmed introduction of the President.

FINAL BURST

Then Humphrey summoned up a final burst of campaign enthusiasm and gave Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, a helping hand with a half-hour television tape. He talked enthusiastically and knowledgeably of Utah's water problems, deplored the kind of campaign it has been, then called it a night.

For the last time in a campaign that took him through 41 states, Humphrey marched to a limousine and to the Salt Lake City airport for a flight home to Minneapolis.

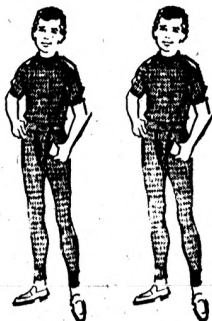

Humphrey, who has professed utter confidence in a Democratic landslide that would overshadow Franklin D. Roosevelt's 1936 triumph, was accompanied by his wife, Muriel. She, too, was tired, having stumped Alaska and Hawaii for her husband before joining him for the last leg of the campaign.

Minnesota Gov. Karl Rolvaag led a reception by a crowd that had stood more than two hours at the Minneapolis airport.

May Be New Era for South

See Record Vote in Bitter Dixie Battle

ATLANTA (UPI) — Millions of southern voters will visit the polls in record numbers today to cast their ballots in a presidential campaign that has set the stage for a new political era in Dixie.

The campaign has seen the South for the first time wooed frantically by both Democrats and Republicans and the result has been the emergence of a two-party system.

Election officials in the South have predicted that almost 10 million persons will cast their ballots in one of the hardest-fought, bitterest and most expensive presidential year campaigns in half a century.

Clear sunny skies were forecast across the South, a sure sign of long voter lines.

The 1964 campaign saw a new Republican party built almost from scratch in Dixie by supporters of Sen. Barry Goldwater. They based their tenets on a brand of political conservatism embracing states rights and decentralized federal government.

DEMOCRAT WARNING Democrats warned against a change that might mean a GOP political take-over in the South, and reminded voters of what the party has reaped for Dixie in the way of past benefits.

But the campaign saw many Democratic party leaders remain silent rather than buck the tide of citizens angry with the administration's 1964 civil rights bill.

An untold number of voters, traditionally Democratic, have switched their party allegiance to the GOP — especially in rural areas.

In the last days of the campaign, Republicans in Georgia ran large newspaper advertisements declaring: "Do you want a president endorsed by the Communists. The Worker," the Communist party newspaper, has endorsed Lyndon B. Johnson.

STRONG PROOF "Can there be any stronger proof that the present administration has been weak toward Communists?"

On the eve of the election, some Georgia Democratic leaders expressed an uncertainty about the election outcome. They complained the GOP "outsent, out-organized and out-trumped" them.

Some also charged "the Republicans out-smear us."

A Democratic newspaper advertisement depicted a party bandwagon with Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Arkansas, Texas, Kentucky on the wagon — and Alabama and Mississippi tumbling off.

Alabama and Mississippi, traditionally maverick Democratic states, appeared headed into the Republican fold by a healthy margin. But some politicians in those states were privately worried that a strong GOP swing could end decades of Democratic patronage.

Florida and Tennessee, which have gone Republican in the past three presidential elections, were loss-ups on the eve of the election.

Georgia, South Carolina and North Carolina were so closely contested that party officials themselves were confused as to the outcome.

Arkansas apparently was in the Goldwater camp and Virginia was anybody's guess.

JOHNSON VOTES More than two million Negroes were registered to vote in the election and that vote was expected to be exclusively for Johnson.

The highest Negro registration in the history of the South was due mainly to an all-out drive to get Negroes to the polls and the repeal of the poll tax on the federal ballot.

2 Old Women in Delaware Still Democrats

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Among Delaware voters today will be two Wilmington women aged 94 and 99.

Florence E. Crumlish, "99 and 9 months old," says "I've never missed a presidential election and I've always voted Democratic. Why, my granddaddy voted Democratic with a quill pen."

Emily Washington, 94, says, "I'm just a little old woman. Politics is men's business." But, she adds: "I'm going to vote Democratic."

Negroes Call for Voting Rights Protests in Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Negroes called for massive school boycotts in Alabama today to protest alleged voter discrimination and the fact President Johnson's name is not on the state ballot.

At least 26 Negroes were arrested while attempting to picket the State Capitol yesterday when the protests began prematurely in Montgomery, Anniston and Tuscaloosa.

The protest demonstrations were called by the Alabama branch of Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC).

King said in Atlanta he possibly would come to the state later this week to lead a civil rights drive.

The Rev. James Bevel, one of King's assistants, said the demonstrations were ordered because "the people of Alabama are denied the right to vote for the candidate of their choice."

RIGID RULES Negro leader Daniel Harrell of Mobile said the boycotts also were to protest "the rigid voter registration rules against Negroes in Alabama."

Neither President Johnson nor Sen. Barry Goldwater will appear on the Alabama ballot. Unpledged elector candidates hostile to Johnson represent the Democrats, and the GOP is represented by electors supporting Goldwater.

About 650 Negro students boycotted classes in Anniston yesterday, and some cut classes in Tuscaloosa.

Negro leaders said 40 pickets, mostly teen-agers, were arrested at the capitol.

NO COUNT

Most were turned over to Montgomery County juvenile authorities, who refused to give a count of those jailed. Police said 26 were arrested at the outset when the demonstration began in the early afternoon.

Gov. George Wallace, who was in his office when the march began, refused to comment.

Shortly before the march, Negroes issued a statement saying "While the nation prepares to go to the polls and vote for the candidates of their choice, we citizens of Alabama are robbed of this constitutional right because of hate, prejudice and racism."

A group of Junior Chamber of Commerce members staged a mock attack on the capitol at about the same time the first Negroes arrived. Dressed in Castro-type army fatigues and wearing false beards and carrying toy machine guns, the Jaycees stormed up the steps to be met by Wallace.

They said the demonstration was aimed at getting a large voter turnout today. Its theme was Castro communism could not happen if Americans vote.

Twin Voters Think Alike

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Barbara and Beverly Zook were dubbed "the election twins" when they were born 28 years ago on the day Franklin D. Roosevelt died under Alf Landon. Today's presidential election is the first since 1936 to fall on their birthday.

The sisters, now married, are Barbara Woods and Beverly Mull. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Zook. All live in suburbs of Kansas City.

The twins declined to say how they'll vote, but Beverly commented: "We are true to the pattern of identical twins — we always seem to think alike."

LBJ Scores Big Victory in Mock Vote

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Negro leaders said the total vote was limited by "terrorism" but that President Johnson won a big victory in their mock election in Mississippi.

The Freedom Democratic party said about 57,000 ballots were cast in the 59 counties included in the four-day effort — 25,000 less than the total reported in a previous mock election.

The landslide victory was expected for President Johnson and other candidates backed by the FDP, which has no legal standing in Mississippi.

The reverse was predicted for today's real election.

FIRST TIME

Republicans, backed by conservative "Democrats for Goldwater" figured the state would vote GOP for the first time in its history and give Barry Goldwater a big majority.

A big factor in Goldwater's Mississippi appeal was his vote against the Civil Rights Act.

An FDP spokesman said Goldwater and others on the mock election ballot with him "drew only a handful of votes" among unregistered Negroes, who cannot vote in the real election.

FDP headquarters here was swamped with poll reports, officials said, and the exact count was not expected for some time.

Expect Close Governor Race in Pivotal Illinois

CHICAGO (AP) — An estimated 4.5 million voters decide today whether Republican Charles H. Percy or Democrat Otto Kerner, the incumbent, will be governor of Illinois for the next four years.

Some rain was forecast for portions of Illinois. Polls opened throughout the state at 6 a.m. and will close at 6 p.m.

The Kerner-Percy race was expected to be the closest fight.

But Illinois, with its 20 electoral votes, is considered a pivotal state for GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater in his attempt to defeat President Johnson.

Illinois voters also struggled with the cumbersome orange ballot to elect 177 members of the state House of Representatives.

ELECTED IN '60

Kerner, 56, was elected governor in 1960 by 524,000 over incumbent William G. Stratton, a Republican. Kerner has based his campaign on state solvency, increased mental health facilities, new industry and reduced unemployment rolls.

Percy, 45-year-old board chairman of Bell & Howell Co., is making his first political race. Percy has accused the Kerner administration of not providing enough mental health facilities. He also charged that Kerner has failed to bring new industry into the state, and cited alleged voting irregularities.

Perhaps the most confusing phase of the Illinois election was the at-large ballot, which contains 118 names under each party label for the House. The at-large election was made necessary when Illinois failed to reapportion the state based on new census figures.

The Chicago Sun-Times final straw poll gave President Johnson 62.63 per cent of the Illinois vote and Goldwater 37.37 per cent. The samplings accorded Kerner 52.09 per cent and Percy 47.91 per cent.

HISTORICALLY CORRECT

The poll has historically been within one per cent of actual election outcomes.

Prohibitionist Fires Blast at GOP and Dems

CHICAGO (AP) — The Prohibition Party candidate for president said today Republicans and Democrats "have prostituted governmental power to serve their own selfish party interests instead of the public good."

E. Harold Munn, of Hillsdale, Mich., said at a news conference, "This has led to excessive expenditures, higher taxes, and, in some instances, to an unfortunate alliance of crime with politics."

"America cannot continue, with impunity, to increase the mortgage on our future and the interest load of the present," Munn said. "Even if it means abolishing certain agencies and bureaus serving vested interests, we must work to cut federal spending and make better use of both personnel and materials."

Miller left for Lockport immediately and was not on hand when Keating arrived later for an airport campaign appearance.

Surprised? We don't blame you. Doubtful? Don't be. The world's leading acoustic consultants—Bolt, Beranek and Newman, Inc.—proved this astounding quietness of the new Ford in actual tests. And the results were certified by the authoritative United States Auto Club. In part, the official report read: "At all moving speeds, on both courses, the Fords were quieter than the Rolls-Royces...both in listening and in the calibrated measurements." This is now proven fact.

Quietness is the sound of quality. This does not mean that a Ford is suddenly a Rolls-Royce. Look at the difference in price: Rolls-Royce costs nearly $17,000...for very real and wonderful reasons. But Ford has triumphed on a measure of quality...quiet. Quiet that could be born only in the deep, basic integrity of a really well-made car. You'll actually feel this basic integrity when you try the new Ford. You'll feel a new ride, too...smooth as molten glass. Reasons: A new suspension with a supercoil at each wheel. A new "isolation frame" that literally "tunes out" road vibration. A new, wider, more stable wheel stance.

Quality features all around you. There's more quality here than just a new ride. Proof is visible everywhere. In rich carpeting. In all-vinyl upholstery. And in features that pamper you as never before. Consider: All Fords offer 3-speed automatic transmissions...smoother, thrifter than the 2-speeds on some competing cars. ■ Ford Convertible rear windows are plant glass, won't discolor, crack like plastic. ■ Roomier trunk takes four 2-suiters up-right. ■ More spacious interiors—more hip, shoulder, knee room, lower transmission hump. ■ Safety Convenience Panel option warns if fuel's low, door's ajar. Single switch locks all doors.

■ Silent-Flo Ventilation changes interior air in seconds...with windows closed (standard on 4-door hardtops).

Smoother, more powerful engines

Even Ford's most famous virtue—power—has taken on fresh quality for '65. The basic V-8 has been beefed up to a torrid total of 200 horsepower! Then there's Ford's new "Big Six"—the smoothest, quietest, biggest standard Six in Ford history! Bigger than Chevrolet's, Plymouth's, even Dodge's Six. Yet it weighs 50 pounds less than last year's engine, skips even more on fuel! Come test the remarkable new 1965 Ford. Listen to the deep, satisfying, silent sound of total quality.

Tragedy, 11th Month Go Hand in Hand

Sailors Hold Respect for Great Lakes in November

United Press International
Tragedy and the month of November go hand in hand on the Great Lakes.

Some call it superstition, but seamen who make their living playing the largest body of fresh water in the world have a healthy respect for the 11th month of the year.

There are reasons:
—Nov. 11, 1913, 18 ships were lost in a killer storm on the Great Lakes which claimed 324 lives.

—Nov. 18, 1958, the freighter Carl D. Bradley sank in Lake Michigan with a loss of 33 lives.

—Nov. 11-13, 1940, three freighters sank in Lake Michigan, 57 lives lost.

1913 STORM
The 1913 storm is still spoken of with disbelief. It broke with a fury unparalleled in Great Lakes history. When it was over, it looked as if even the fabled Davy Jones had forsaken his watery kingdom in search of dry land.

For five full days the storm raged. Mighty freighters, their propellers gripped in the throes of death, were tossed about like balsa wood or corks on the heaving waters. Some of the ships were trapped in the troughs between giant waves, lifted up and then slammed back down, again—breaking in half.

The turbulent waters forced still other ships to crash on the rocks, her crew members dashed to death.

The Big Storm, as it is officially known, also lashed inland as well. But it was on the lakes that the real tragedies took place.

WENT DOWN

Lake Huron's long, windswept reaches, from Drummond Island to Port Huron, claimed at least eight vessels. Her beaches were littered with the bodies of sailors, flung on shore as if the swollen waters had rejected them.

One mystery arose out of the common fate of two ships, the Charles S. Prince, a 524-foot vessel loaded with coal and bound from Ashabula, Ohio, and the 368-foot Canadian freighter, Regina.

To this day, no one knows the exact fate of the two ships, but bodies of men belonging to both crews were found washed up on shore. Men from the Regina were wearing life jackets belonging to the Prince, and seamen from the Prince were garbed in jackets bearing the Regina legend.

The list of ships lost during the storm reads like a page taken from Michigan history. The Argus, the James Caruthers, the Hydrys, the John A. McGean, the Isaac M. Scott, the L. C. Waldo and the Louis-ana. There were many others which suffered the same fate.

The bodies of some seamen were recovered, identified and shipped home for burial. Others were not identified. Still others were given the official designation, "Missing and presumed lost."

A marker was erected in a little park near Port Sanilac. It reads, "For... terrible hours, gales of cyclonic fury made man and his machines helpless."

It was this same "helpless" feeling that permeated the Bradley when she was caught in a November storm in 1958.

Capt. Roland Bryan's frantic distress call that the Bradley, a 615-foot cargo ship, was being broken in two by the storm, was monitored up and down Lake Michigan.

Four miles away from the Bradley, Capt. Paul Mueller of the German freighter Christian Sartori of the Hamburg-Chicago line nosed his ship toward the sinking Bradley.

Mueller finally reached the scene, his own ship gripped in the iron fury of the storm, but the only thing in sight was a water tank tossing on the whitecapped water. Of the 35 men on board the Bradley, only two survived to tell of the horrible experience.

The 14,800-ton, self-unloading limestone carrier is buried under more than 350 feet of water, about 12 miles southwest of Gull Island, a mute addition to the watery graveyard.

Veteran seamen say even a blow on the high seas is nothing to match a November storm on the Great Lakes.

1st Mars Shot Set Tomorrow

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

—The first of two spacehips bound for Mars is to be launched Wednesday.

At Atlas-Agena rocket is to blast off during a 90-minute period starting at 12:47 p.m. EST. Mariner 4, an identical spacecraft, is to be launched a few days later, the date depending on how well Mariner 3 does.

Each spacecraft is to speed across space for 8½ months, passing within 8,600 miles of Mars in mid-July. Each is to take 22 photographs of the surface of Mars.

The information would help engineers design capsules which the United States hopes to land on Mars in 1969.

Red Party Confab Still On, but Emphasis Likely to Be on Unity

MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin's new leaders are going ahead with Nikita Khrushchev's plan for an international Communist meeting next month, but instead of setting the stage for a showdown with Red China the emphasis apparently will be on unity.

There have been hints Red China might send representatives to try to find out if there have been any Soviet policy changes since Khrushchev's ouster. Peking had said it would boycott the meeting Khrushchev had called to lay the groundwork for a conference of the world's 90 Communist parties.

A Danish Communist leader who returned home from Moscow Monday told newsmen in Copenhagen Soviet leaders intend to stand firm toward Peking but would try to get back on "speaking terms" with the Chinese.

The Kremlin decision to hold the December meeting was disclosed in a communique after talks with Austrian Communist leaders. It said the discussion "emphasized the necessity of attaining solidarity of the ranks of the international Communist movement, and continuing preparations for a new conference of Communist and workers parties and the meeting of the Editorial Commission."

STRATEGY BLUEPRINT

Khrushchev had called for a meeting Dec. 15, of Editorial Commission members — representatives of 26 parties who framed the 1960 Moscow blueprint for world Communist strategy.

There had been predictions the December meeting might be postponed until the Soviet-Chinese dispute had a chance to simmer down.

The Soviet Communist party organ Pravda came out Saturday with a declaration supporting Khrushchev's position in the feud with Peking. For the first time since his ouster, the paper denounced "chauvinism and petty bourgeois adventurism... opportunism and dogmatic or revisionist distortion of theory." All were charges made against Peking at the height of the dispute.

Investia, the government paper, carried a front-page editorial on foreign policy Monday which ignored the dispute.

Peking in turn has issued a guarded statement that although Khrushchev has been denounced there are "still many difficulties and obstacles" in the way of unity.

Hope Is About All That's Left in Viet

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

To say that the South Vietnamese are being given one last chance to save themselves is perhaps putting it too strongly. But it is perilously close to that. Almost exactly a year after the fall of the Ngo Dinh Diem government in Saigon, U. S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor plainly was irked when he said repeated government crises had led to "deterioration and a loss of momentum" in the war effort.

But, in what has become standard U.S. policy in South Viet Nam, Taylor also remained determinedly optimistic.

For the new civilian government, he said, he had "great hope."

Hope, indeed, was about the only ingredient left.

Under the autocratic Diem government and its politically appointed generals there had been the "clear and hold" operations which neither cleared nor held.

And there were the fortified strategic hamlets which fell to the Communist Viet Cong with distressing regularity once the troops departed and defenses were left to a local home guard.

Nor had the situation improved any under two strong-man generals.

Gen. Duong Van (Big) Minh who took over after Diem's fall, himself fell victim to a coup led by Gen. Nguyen Khanh. And Khanh came seriously close to falling to a combined military and civilian coup last September.

Among all groups it was all too obvious that special interests were taking precedent over what should have been the main interest—the war against the Viet Cong.

Taking over this week as civilian premier was a man who appeared physically as frail as the 17-man high council which in theory at least is to give the country civilian rule and free the military for the main job against the Communists.

The new premier was a one-time schoolteacher, typist and pharmacy assistant whose previous administrative experience had been five months as a Diem-appointed mayor of Saigon.

He had, however, a record of resistance both to the Communists and Diem.

WORK OR FIGHT

His first public announcement in the new post was in the work-or-fight vein, demanding that all citizens either enroll in the army or contribute to the budget.

The remainder of his announced program, public health and education, was equally praise-worthy.

The trouble was it had been heard before.

Delays Operation to Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bradley Jones isn't a man to let an appointment for surgery stop him from voting.

Jones of suburban Worthington suffered a shoulder injury yesterday in a traffic accident.

Doctors at Grant Hospital decided surgery was needed, but Jones, distressed at losing his chance to vote, persuaded the surgeons to give him time to cast his ballot.

They said they would let him leave the hospital this morning so long as he was back in time to be prepared for an 8 a.m. date in the operating room.

VP-Elect, Family to Get Protection

WASHINGTON (AP) — With today's election will come an innovation in security precautions — protection of the vice president-elect and his family whether they want it or not.

Thus, under a 1962 law, sometime tonight Secret Service agents will begin guarding either Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey and his family at Minneapolis or Rep. William E. Miller and his family at Olcott, N.Y.

Win or lose, a guard will be kept on President Johnson. If Sen. Barry Goldwater wins the presidency, the guard that has been on him during the campaign will be maintained. If he loses, that guard will be dropped.

Israeli's Minister of Finance, Commerce and Industry, Pincus Sapir, predicts Israeli's exports to this country will reach nearly $60 million in 1965, compared with $47 million this year.

Don't Offer Goodies to Other Rider

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: When traveling a distance on a bus or train and one takes along a box of cookies or candy to eat on the way, should one offer some to the person sitting beside her?

A: Unless she has been talking with the woman sitting beside her and they have become friendly, she does not offer cookies or candy to a stranger.

Q: A dear friend, who was a former resident of this town, comes and visits me and stays about a week.

While she is here, other friends of hers whom I know only slightly usually invite her to lunch at their houses and I am included in these invitations.

I never see these women except on these occasions. Is there an obligation for me to return these invitations?

A: Even though you are invited only because of your friend, you really should return these invitations and I would suggest that the next time she comes to visit you, that you give a lunch party for her and invite these women.

Q: Next month my husband and I will celebrate our fifth wedding anniversary. We did not have a double ring ceremony at the time of our marriage.

I would like to give my husband a wedding ring on our anniversary. Would this be proper after so much time has elapsed? If so, what date shall I have engraved in it?

A: If your husband would like a wedding ring, it will be quite all right to give him one on your anniversary. It should be engraved with the date of your marriage.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

February vows are planned by Glenda Jean Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Glen Roberts, of Highland Road, and David Ramsay McLellan, son of David R. McLellan of Playview Court, Farmington Township and the late Mrs. McLellan. Her fiancé, an alumnus of Wayne State University where she is a sophomore, is working on his doctorate at University of Michigan.

Father Is Wrong to Tease His Shy Son

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My husband seems to prefer our younger boy over the older one. The boys are now 8 and 11.

The older one has always been shy and not as outgoing and popular as his brother.

My husband criticizes this in him, almost taunting him if he doesn't want to join him and our younger son in a game of ping-pong.

Perhaps if you said that he cannot expect the boy to want to do anything with him when all he gets is criticism.

ANSWER: Your husband won't pay any attention to me either. It is impossible for us to see the appeal in a child's shyness if we are so terrified of shyness in ourselves that we have to put on acts of bluster and taunting.

We can't see the meaning of his shyness any more than Jehovah could see the meaning in Cain's offering to him of fruits and vegetables.

Yet the meaning was there, wasn't it? — He labors on the garden — the early risings to water plants before the sun grew hot, the careful wedding were all done by the disfavored child who so hopefully offered the results of his work and received for it only scorn and criticism.

I have great sympathy for Cain: the child disfavored because his authority liked dead sheep better than fruits and vegetables.

I have it in me to understand how Cain became so desperate, so hurt, so inflamed with anger at Jehovah's blindness that he killed his brother.

DUE FOR SHOCK

I am sorry if I shock you. But parents who favor one child over another one can do with a little shock.

If they are shocked hard enough, it may be possible for them to examine the blindness which roots their favoritism — and avoid harder shocks at exposures of hate between children which they have created.

We are all a little uncertain and shy. None of us meet all occasions with perfect assurance. But if as children our uncertain shyness has repeatedly resulted in other people's contempt, then some of us learn to hide it as a shameful weakness.

We assume a front of blustering self-confidence that will protect us against contempt. It isn't real, of course.

And when we become a parent, its falseness will reveal itself in admiration for our "outgoing" popular child — and in contempt for the shy one whose uncertainties we still so resentfully share with him.

It's a pity that your husband can't know how much in common he has with his older boy.

Rare Book Shows Way of the Past

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Full title of a recent acquisition in the Rare Book Room of the Pennsylvania State University library is (take a deep breath): "The Lady's Guide to Complete Etiquette, in Manners, Dress and Conversation, in the Family, in Company, at the Piano, at the Table, in the Street, in Gentlemen's Society; also a Useful Instruction in Letter Writing, Toilet Preparations, Fancy Needlework, Millinery, Dressmaking, Care of Wardrobe, the Hair, etc."

Compiled by Emily Thornhill and published in Madison, Wis., in 1887, the book prohibits such actions as:

"To look steadily at anyone, especially if you are a lady and are speaking to a gentleman; to turn the head frequently from side to side in conversation; to balance yourself upon your chair; to bend forward."

"Also to strike your hands upon your knees, to hold one knee between your locked hands; to admire yourself in a glass."

"Also to remain without gloves, to fold carefully your shawl, instead of throwing it upon a table; to laugh immoderately, to place your hand upon the person with whom you are conversing."

"Also to roll the eyes or raise them with affectation; to take snuff from the box of your neighbor, or offer it to strangers, especially to ladies."

Focus Beyond Self

Don't Dwell on 'Innards'

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE U-416: Claude R., aged 42, has a common problem.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I am almost crazy with frustration."

"For last week I was lying on my pillow, ready to go to sleep."

"Then I suddenly became aware of a steady DR. CRANE ringing in my ears. And it got much worse as I began to focus my attention on it."

"Since then, I keep hearing this steady humming all the time. I can't quit paying attention to it."

"Am I going deaf or crazy or what?"

As long as our attention is focused on things or people outside our skin, we usually stay well adjusted.

But as soon as we begin to analyze our "innards," then watch out!

For the mere paying attention to an organ or an ache or pain will quickly magnify its intensity.

You may thus sleep contentedly, beside a loudly ticking alarm clock for years without even noticing its ticking.

FOCUSSES ATTENTION

But if something focuses your attention on that clock, then it looms so loud that you may need to move it outside your bedroom.

As regards ringing in the ears, that is a normal noise in healthy people.

And the humming is much like the electrical noise when you put a telephone receiver to your ear.

For there is always a steady singing noise or crackling in such an electrical circuit, unless the phone is "dead."

ELECTRICAL HUM

If you then focus on that electrical hum, you may doubt if it will ever be possible for you to hear the voice of the other person on the far end of the circuit.

But as soon as that individual says "Hello," you get so interested in the conversation that you entirely forget about the basic hum of the wires.

That's what usually happens to the steady ringing in our ears.

If we focus on the outside voices; bird calls or musical instruments giving off their typical sounds, we instantly forget the steady hum of our hearing mechanism.

Alas, Claude has become neurotic about his hearing so he is now focusing WITHIN his ear instead of projecting his attention upon the outside world.

MENIERE'S DISEASE

Sometimes Meniere's disease will cause an abnormal ringing of the ears, but Claude's case is purely the neurotic type.

Many other folks also get so preoccupied with their bifocals that they begin to focus on the glasses instead of looking THROUGH them at the beauties of external reality.

And many dental patients likewise become so preoccupied with the "feel" of their new dentures that they also focus WITHIN their mouths, instead of looking out at the savory foods on the table.

Note this old poem that illustrates the hazard of paying too much attention to the mechanics of hearing, eating, seeing or even walking:

"The centipede was happy quite Until the toad, in fun, Asked which leg followed after which."

This raised him up to such a pitch He lay quite prostrate in the ditch

Inquiring how to run!"

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Needlework Kit

Frame This Prayer

This kit answers pleas for a beautiful version of the Lord's Prayer to embroider and frame.

The floral border design is stamped on creamy white 100 per cent linen to be embroidered in cross-stitch with accent stitches of outline, satin and French knots.

The embroidery floss comes in shades of red, pink, blue, green, white and yellow. The approximate cut size is 14 inches both the Catholic and the Protestant versions.

PRINTED PRAYER

The prayer itself is printed in gold and black on fine parchment paper. Each kit includes both versions.

You cut out your own, and when the embroidery is finished and pressed, you glue it in the center of the embroidered floral border. You can purchase a frame that will fit into your own home decoration.

Don't forget that a painted frame, in one of the floral colors, would be very lovely.

A Junior Editors Quiz About TALKING

QUESTION: How does your tongue help you to talk?

ANSWER: When you speak, air is being forced up through your "voice box" or larynx and it causes the vocal chords in the larynx to vibrate, much the way the strings of a guitar do.

This sets the air inside the throat and mouth cavities vibrating too, and the sound comes out through your lips.

By placing your tongue in different positions, you change the shape of the mouth cavity, which gives a different sound to the vibrations coming out.

The picture shows how the tongue moves forward to make "ee" and down and back for "a." Check this by saying "be" and "father."

The main sounds of speech, or vowels, are open sounds, where the breath comes freely through. But to the many different sounds we need for speech, we use the tongue, the teeth and the lips to block or modify the long vowel sounds; there are the "consonants."

Say "play." Notice how you block the sound and suddenly puff out for "p." get the "t" by placing the tongue against the top of the mouth and then let the jaw drop and open for the long vowel, "ay."

FOR YOU TO DO: Pronounce the vowels "a, e, i, o, u," and notice how very important the lips are in shaping these sounds.

Dirksen Hospitalized With Pinched Nerve

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican leader Everett R. Dirksen is undergoing hospital tests and treatment for a pinched nerve which has caused him to suffer severe back pains. The Illinois senator entered Sibley General Hospital in Washington Saturday. He is expected to remain there for several days. Dirksen was hospitalized last month in Chicago for a swollen ankle which physicians attributed to a kidney infection.

3.25 Million Votes Predicted for State

LANSING (UPI)—State Elections Director Robert Montgomery predicted today at least 3.25 million of Michigan's estimated 3.75 million registered voters would go to the polls today. Montgomery said the figure could be much higher if good weather, as forecast, prevailed. In the 1960 presidential election, a total of 3,318,097 million Michigan residents voted.

List Closing Dates for Seaway Canals

NONMAGNETIC SHIP — Described by the Russians as the only completely nonmagnetic ship in the world, the Soviet research schooner Zarja, is berthed near the Tower Bridge in the Pool of London yesterday. The 580-ton vessel sailed from Leningrad on July 21 and sailed to London via Dakar, Senegal, and Newfoundland.

25 Governorships Are at Stake

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-five governors will be elected today, with the races in Illinois, Michigan and Arkansas getting most of the national attention.

In Illinois, Republican Charles H. Percy, 45, is trying to turn back the second-term bid of Democratic Gov. Otto Kerners, 56.

Percy, a protégé of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, has endorsed and supported GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater but has pointed to differences he has with the Arizonaan.

National interest in Arkansas stems from the fact that a Republican, Winthrop Rockefeller, 52, is given an outside chance to turn aside the bid of Democratic Gov. Orval Faubus, 54, for a sixth two-year term.

ELECTED IN '54
Faubus, who won his first term in 1954, has been governor almost as long as Rockefeller, brother of New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, has lived in the state.

In Michigan, Gov. George Romney, 56, one of the new faces who scored Republican victories in 1962, is after a second term in the State House. Romney has not endorsed Goldwater.

Neil Staehli, 51, long a prominent figure in Democratic politics in the state, is Romney's opponent. Currently the state's congressional at-large, Staehli has been trying hard to tie Romney to Goldwater.

Of the 25 governorships at stake today, 18 are held by Democrats, 7 by Republicans.

NATIONAL LINEUP

Including holdovers, the national lineup now is 34 Democrats and 16 Republicans.

In Texas, Gov. John B. Connally, one of President Johnson's closest personal and political associates, is seeking a second term, and political observers give him a clear edge.

Opposing Connally, 47, who was President John F. Kennedy when President John F. Kennedy was assassinated, is Republican Jack Crichton, 48, a Dallas oil man.

In Arizona, Richard Kleindienst, 41, a Goldwater field director before the San Francisco convention, seeks to succeed another close friend of Goldwater, Paul Fannin, Fannin is running for Goldwater's Senate seat.

DEM OPPONENT

Kleindienst's Democratic opponent is Sam Goddard, 45, Harvard-educated Tucson attorney.

In Massachusetts, Francis X. Bellotti, 41 and father of 12, is the Democratic candidate and Former Gov. John A. Volpe, 55, is the Republican nominee as, for the first time in that state's history, opponents of Italian descent are pitted against each other.

Waterford Planner on Part-Time

Waterford Township Board members last night agreed to retain former planning director Robert Dieball on a part-time basis until the township's 701 Planning Program is properly completed.

Dieball, who had headed the planning department since February, 1962, resigned Nov. 1 to take a planning position in private industry.

He will work for the township on a 12-hour per week basis until Jan. 8 when the program is slated for completion.

In other business at last night's meeting, the board approved the final plan for Candlestick subdivision, a 20-lot development at M59 and Sharon.

The board set Nov. 23 as the date for a hearing to establish a special assessment street lighting district for portions of Fort, Woodrow and Overton.

ASSESSMENTS SET

A total of 45 assessments at $2.25 per year are specified for the proposed district.

Also approved was change of ownership of a beer and wine licensed business at 6301 Williams Lake Road from Oval R. and Jessie Whitaker to William E. Keyes and Thomas Moore.

First notice was read of the request of Elizabeth Lake Pharmacy, 3801 Elizabeth Lake Road, for a beer and wine license to be held in conjunction with its present package liquor license.

Action on this license is slated for next Monday's meeting.

Russia Toting 5 New Rockets

Part of Equipment for Revolution Day Fete

MOSCOW (AP) — Five new types of Soviet rockets, including huge multistage weapon larger than any rocket yet displayed by the Soviet Union, are being dragged through Moscow by night.

The rockets are part of the military equipment being rehearsed for the Revolution Day parade next Saturday.

Two of them appear to be field artillery rockets; one might be a high altitude anti-aircraft weapon, and the other two are surface-to-surface rockets, including a liquid-fueled monster about 85 feet long and 19 or 12 feet in diameter.

It is hard to perceive details because the rockets are draped in canvas.

The covers will come off when the rockets are hauled through Red Square as the new lineup of Soviet leaders watches from atop Lenin's Tomb.

HIGH POINT

The parade will be the high point of celebrations marking the 47th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution that turned Russia into a Communist country. Snow is likely.

The biggest rocket brings up the rear of a lengthy display of rocket power and new cross-country transport vehicles. Its diameter varies along its length, indicating multiple stages.

From the comparatively small number of wheels on its carriage, it appears to travel fairly lightly. This indicates it uses liquid fuel and would require some time to be readied for firing.

The latest American intercontinental ballistic missiles, for example, the Minuteman, have a solid fuel built into the rocket. This makes it very heavy, rather than mobile, but means it can be fired almost instantly.

NO INDICATION

There has been no indication that the Soviet Union has solid-fueled missiles yet.

The next-to-last missile in the rehearsals also looks new, although it could be a variation of one already displayed.

Displays of military equipment occur twice a year, on May Day and Nov. 7.

This missile, carried on a new type of transport, is a long, straight surface-to-surface weapon.

FRONT OF PARADE

Toward the front of the parade, right after the 203-MM artillery, is some type of new anti-rocket.

The Soviet Union long has favored artillery rockets. They used barrages of them in World War II.

The fifth new item is a rocket about 60 feet long and 8 feet in diameter. What can be seen in the parade indicate it is for use against high-flying planes.

California Is the Last of Big States to Vote

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California was the last of the big states to mark its ballots today with 40 vital electoral votes to award and a spirited senatorial race to decide.

State officials estimated 7.4 million Californians would vote, despite the threat of rain throughout the northern part of the state.

Polls close three hours after balloting ends in key Eastern states. If the presidential race is close, as Republicans forecast and Democrats deny, it may be midnight — 3 a.m. EST — before the California trend takes shape.

In 1960, the nation waited three days before learning how California voted. Absentee ballots decided the winner — Republican Richard M. Nixon by 55,000 votes.

LBJ VICTORY

Public opinion polls this year point to a 1.3-million vote victory for President Johnson.

Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, however, predicts he will carry California. One of the four states he lists as necessary for a GOP triumph.

Goldwater made a last-day bid for California support with a ticker-tape parade through downtown San Francisco, normally a Democratic stronghold, and a final major campaign speech at the Civic Auditorium.

The senatorial contest matches Pierre Salinger, former presidential press aide and recently appointed to fill the U.S. Senate vacancy created by the death of Democrat Clair Engle, and George Murphy, a one-time movie and stage musical star, long active in the California Republican party.

Late polls tag the race a toss-up.

Exam Is Slated in Gun Death

Preliminary examination is scheduled Nov. 12 for a Pontiac man arraigned in Municipal Court yesterday on a second-degree murder charge.

Aaron White, 38, of 31 Edmund is charged with killing Lawrence Cleghorn, 29, of 434 S. Saginaw Saturday night at Cleghorn's apartment.

Police said White had admitted the shooting, but said the gun went off accidentally during a scuffle between Cleghorn, O'Dell Sneed and himself.

Sneed, 30, also of 434 S. Saginaw is in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital suffering from two gunshot wounds he received in the shooting.

White was arrested shortly after the incident carrying a .38-caliber pistol.

Takes Poll; LBJ Wins

TOKYO (AP) — Tokyo's American Club conducted its own U.S. presidential election today and President Johnson defeated Sen. Barry Goldwater 115-58.

Congo Rebels Tie Hostage Release to End of Aid

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — An intercepted radio message says Congolese rebels will hold the 60 Americans and about 800 Belgians in the Stanleyville area until the U.S. and Belgian governments halt military aid to Premier Moise Tshombe's Congo government.

The radio message said the Americans and Belgians have been placed under house arrest by the rebels, who have proclaimed Stanleyville capital of their Communist-ruled "Congoese People's Republic."

The message was sent Oct. 29 over the signature of the Belgian consul in Stanleyville, Baron Patrick Nothomb.

The Americans include missionaries or teachers at Stanleyville's new Protestant University and five members of the staff of the U.S. consulate in Stanleyville.

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — King Faisal, proclaimed Monday as ruler of Saudi Arabia, has promised to speed up economic, social and administrative reforms.

In a broadcast over Radio Mecca, Faisal also spoke of closer cooperation with other Arab and nonaligned nations and promised support of universal disarmament and the United Nations Charter. He endorsed self-determination for all "colonized peoples."

Faisal, 60, was named king in a move that summarily dethroned his heavy-setted brother, ailing King Saud.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly will begin Dec. 1, about the time delegates normally begin pushing to wind up the annual session.

Secretary-General U Thant announced Monday that a maajority of U.N. members had approved a second postponement of the world forum.

The assembly was to have opened Sept. 18 but was postponed to Nov. 10 so as not to conflict with the Cairo conference of nonaligned nations and the U.S. elections.

After Nikita Khrushchev's ouster, a number of smaller nations proposed a second delay in hopes the new Soviet leaders would work out an agreement to pay some of the $55 million the Soviet Union owes in U.N. peace-keeping assignments.

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados (AP) — Seven British Caribbean islands that were members of the West Indies Federation have decided to join in a new federation to be known as the West Indies.

A conference will be held in London next spring to make final plans.

The seven members will be Antigua Barbados, Dominica, Montserrat, St. Lucia, St. Kitts and St. Vincent. Barbados will be the capital.

The old federation broke in 1962 after Jamaica, Trinidad and Tobago decided to seek independence on their own.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Mechanical trouble and a pilot's error were blamed today for the crash June 20 in central Formosa of a Civil Air Transport plane in which 57 persons, including 20 Americans, were killed.

A report by the Civil Aeronautics Administration of the Chinese Nationalist Ministry of Communication said: "The twin-engine C46's left propeller was revolving faster than the right propeller and the control cable to the left engine was seriously worn and the pilot, Capt. Bengue Lin, 36, made an inappropriate decision to turn left instead of right for a landing."

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Official sources say the home ministers of India and Pakistan will meet Nov. 23-25 to discuss the migration of Moslems from states in eastern India to East Pakistan and of Hindus from Pakistan to India.

The meeting will be held in Rawalpindi, the Pakistani capital.

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — At least four persons have been killed in election clashes between rival factions in West Pakistan. About two dozen have been injured.

The nation last Friday began electing 80,000 members of the Electoral College. It will choose the country's president and parliament and the provincial legislatures.

The voting continues for three weeks.

After 40 Years in Films

Bob Steele Still in Fine Shape

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Who was the greatest star of western movies? It's like asking who was the best all-time boxing champ. The question can stir up a storm of argument among advocates of Bronco Billy Anderson, Bill Hart, Tim McCoy, Buck

THOMAS
Jones, Hoot Gibson, etc., etc.

There remains a hard core of Bob Steele fans who claim that their hero was the best rider, actor, fighter and the fastest draw of them all. They will be pleased to know that after 40 years in films, Bob is just as hard-muscled and flint-eyed as ever.

He has never really left the movie business, though sometimes it has left him. Right now he is appearing in a pair of westerns for producer Alex Gordon, doing a brief role in "The Bounty Killer" and a full-scale villain in "Requiem for a Gunfighter."

REAL NAME: Robert (real name: Robert) Bradbury was born in Pendleton, Ore., 57 years ago, appeared in vaudeville with his parents, but spent much of his early youth on ranches in Oregon and Washington. When his father became a Hollywood director, Bob started acting in outdoor films, then as part of the "Collegian" series at Universal.

He became the star of western series and made 188 films over a 20-year period, including the Three Mesquiteer series with young John Wayne. During the early talkie period, Bob's producer wanted him to sing.

"I tried one song and it was plain awful," he recalled. "I finally told the producer if he wanted a singer he'd better get another boy. He settled for some cowboys singing around the campfire."

But in time the singing cowboys were to dominate the field. "I remember when they first came in," said Bob. "Old Hoot — that's Hoot Gibson — said to me, 'Have you seen the flowers on their shirts? They won't last a year.' I said, 'They won't last six months.'"

Big Holiday for Family

HUDSONVILLE (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Richard Talsma of Hudsonville celebrate a common wedding anniversary Thursday with their three children.

For the elder Talsma couple, Nov. 5 marks 50 years of marriage. Their son, Bert, and his wife celebrate 17 years of marriage.

Their daughter, Gladys and her husband, Albert Meengs of Holland mark 25 years of marriage and the next eldest daughter, Della and her husband, Richard Meengs of Hudsonville celebrate 22 years of marriage. The daughters married brothers.

The 1963 college student paid an average of almost $29 for his books, compared with $16 in 1953, according to the American Textbook Publishers Institute.

"That shows how wrong you can be. We didn't realize the popularity of western-style music with audiences in the South and Southwest. The singing cowboys took over the market, and it couldn't have happened to two nicer guys — Gene Autry and Roy Rogers."

Bob feels the accent on song instead of action helped bring the eventual decline of the program western.

Bob still presents a striking figure with his narrow hips, broad shoulders and barrel chest. A recent attack of bursitis interrupted his usual diet of pushups, so he has lost seven pounds of muscle, down to 150. But the ailment has gone away and he plans to return to his fighting weight.

Pontiac City Affairs

Street Lights on Part of Telegraph Get Okay

Preliminary approval was granted by the City Commission last night for street lights on a portion of Telegraph.

Proposed as a joint project of Pontiac and Waterford Township, a system of 101 lights are slated between Orchard Lake and the north end of the Pontiac Mall.

The commission okayed the street lighting, subject to Township Board action.

Consumers Power Company will bear the $7,878 cost of installation, but the two governing bodies will pay the yearly operating cost.

The city will pay $5,616 per year from its general fund, while the township would pay $2,262 per year.

DEADLINE SET

In other business last night, a deadline of Dec. 1 was set on improvements to Sam Allen & Son, Inc., 22 Congress.

The firm operates a scrap yard and has been working with the city for several months on abating noise and smoke because of protests from nearby residents.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren last night also submitted a report on the problem of an odor in the neighborhood of Osun Lake on the northwest side of the city.

Residents have complained to

Ties-Korean Unification to U. S.-Proposed Plan

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—President Chung Hee Park said today South Korea will "accept nothing but the United Nations-proposed formula" for unification with Communist-governed North Korea.

A U.N. resolution calls for free elections in both parts of the country. Unification has become a hot political issue in connection with recent world events, including Red China's detonation of a nuclear device.

city officials about the objectionable odor from the lake.

Warren said that various city departments investigated the problem and sprayed the area of the lake with a special deodorant.

The problem, he reported, appeared to come from raw sewage being passed into the lake at a diversion chamber in a combination storm and sanitary sewer.

The diversion chamber normally carries dry weather sanitary flow directly to the treatment plant, but in times of storm when the sewage is highly diluted it passes into the lake.

Warren said a diversion chamber is unavoidable in a combined system of storm and sanitary sewers.

TREE IN CHAMBER

A small evergreen tree had become lodged in the diversion chamber, causing all the flow to divert into the lake, according to Warren's report.

Osun Lake is at a low level because of the lack of rainfall, which complicated the problem, Warren added.

An attempt to increase the lake level has been made by placing a temporary dam in Pontiac Creek in the vicinity of Vaught and Miles, which should slow decomposition and odor.

Efforts at spraying the area will continue, Warren reported, but the eventual solution would be the elimination of the combined sewer.

OFFER ACCEPTED

In other business, the commission accepted an offer from the Union Building Company for purchase of urban renewal land for a UAW regional office.

The one-story building will be located on the south side of Auburn just east of Center. Price of the land was $16,440.

In another land offer, the commission accepted a proposal by the Archdiocese of Detroit for a parcel at Wide Track and Whittemore.

A price of $10,500 was approved. The parcel is proposed for parking for St. Vincent de Paul Church.

ORDINANCE INTRODUCED

In other City Commission activity last night, a new subdivision ordinance was introduced.

The ordinance is calculated to update subdivision development to include street paving, curbs and gutters, street lighting, trees and street name signs.

In addition, the ordinance sets up procedural steps for developers to follow in developing new subdivisions.

According to city officials, the new ordinance is designed to upgrade the city's old 1924 ordinance for approval of plans.

Ex-Ferndale Ace in Local Pro Grid Game

Wisner Action
Test for Fans

Passer Mike Brown
Leads Macomb Squad

A former All-State quarterback from Ferndale will be at the helm when Macomb County's Arrows meet the Dayton Colts Saturday night at Wisner Stadium in a Midwest Professional Football League contest.

Calling the signals will be Mike Brown, who enrolled at the University of Iowa after collecting All-State and All-Oakland County honors with the Eagles in 1960.

The 6-2, 212-pound Brown, now living in Royal Oak, was the No. 2 quarterback at the start of the season, working behind former University of Michigan signal caller Jim Sytek, but his play in recent games earned him a starting assignment.

Mike's brother, Pat, a 6-4, 218-pound end, is also expected to play in a starting role against the Colts.

The Arrows, owned and managed by Lyle Wells of Mount Clemens, won the top title in 1962 and 1963, but the squad was hit by injuries early in the campaign and is out of the running with a 4-4 mark.

One of the four losses came at Dayton where the Colts scored a touchdown in the final three minutes to take a 21-3 decision.

SUFFERED SETBACK

Dayton, a 31-7 loser to the Petersburg (Mich.) Vikings Saturday, has compiled a 5-3 record and holds down third place in the race.

The Dayton-Macomb tilt will get under way at 8 p.m., and a victory would put the Arrows in a tie with the Colts for third place with one game to go.

The game is being sponsored by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce. The tilt could be the prelude to a professional football team for Pontiac.

The Pontiac Professional Football Club, headed by local sports promoter Paul Parks, asked the two teams to play a game here as a test of local fans' reaction to the pro grid game.

If the results are favorable from an attendance standpoint, the club will move ahead with plans to put a city eleven in the United Football League.

Tickets for the game are $1.50 and $2. They are available at Omer's Men Stores, downtown Pontiac and Tel-Huron; Griff's Grill on Saginaw; Bob & Ken's Bar on Saginaw; Bank of the Commonwealth, Square Lake and Woodward; National Cash Register Company, West Huron; and Chamber of Commerce office.

A Pee-Wee game between the Pontiac Packers and Waterford Bobcats will precede the professional contest.

PRETTY HARRIER — Pam Unger, 16-year-old junior at Williamsport (Md.) High School, is the only competing female cross country runner in a number of several states. Rated very promising by her coaches, she trains diligently and is bettering her speeds at various distances — and at the same time spurring her male teammates to greater achievements, lest she leave them in the dust.

Can't Lose Election

Presidential Ballot Lists Mays

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Willie Mays' never thought his name would be on the ballot for president.

But there it is, anyway.

The star center fielder of the San Francisco Giants can't lose, although his running mate is Juan Marichal, a citizen of the Dominican Republic.

The Republican ticket of Don Drysdale for President and Sandy Koufax for vice president also has wide appeal. One is a well known right winger and the other an equally renowned left wing.

They can't lose either.

That's because the ballot upon which the names are printed is for demonstration purposes only for today's general election.

San Joaquin County has acquired 200 new automatic punch card balloting devices. Law prohibits using the regular November ballot for the demonstrations, which will be conducted at various, strategic places in the Northern California county.

Normally, a ballot from a previous election would be used to teach the voters how to use the new system. But the election department decided to have some fun.

Cassey Stengel, with no listed occupation, opposes Mickey Mantle in the race for U.S. senator. Mantle, listed as a business executive, used to belong to the same party as Stengel, but that was many bubble gum endorsements ago.

Incumbent Roger Maris carries the Democratic banner into the contest for 15th district representative. His opponent is businessman Jack Sanford, a Republican despite his close association with Mays and Marichal.

THE PROFESSOR

State Assemblyman Alvin Dark is the Republican hopeful in the race against Gene Mauch, a university professor, according to the ballot.

But a candidate for associate justice of the State Supreme Court would draw the largest vote and not just because he's unopposed.

The ballot asks, "Shall Richie Allen be elected to the office for the term prescribed by law?"

All the other candidates except Mauch would vote "yes" on that. Then he wouldn't be back at third base next year for the Philadelphia Phillies.

Lawsuit Settled; Schools to Get Refunds

Distribution of $314,285 to the State of Michigan and 155 school districts, including 14 in Oakland County, in settlement of an antitrust conspiracy against six gymnasium bleacher manufacturers was announced today.

The suit was filed in 1961 and covers purchases made by the school districts between 1955 and 1959.

Federal District Judge W. Wallace Kent approved the settlement and dismissed the suit which involved price fixing of the portable bleachers.

Distribution of funds was announced jointly by Atty. Gen.

Frank J. Kelley and Supt. of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett.

Pontiac received $5,552, the largest share of the settlement among Oakland County schools.

Future Still Doubtful

Mental Clinic to Finish Week

Pontiac General Hospital's outpatient mental health clinic will at least finish out the week, according to Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator.

The clinic, instigated last July, is open seven hours a week on an appointment basis.

Euler said that the County Mental Health Services Board was slated to go to Lansing Wednesday on their budget, and Pontiac General was to be notified of the clinic's fate.

The outpatient mental health clinic acquired a doubtful future when the hospital board of trustees learned it might not qualify for reimbursement under the county - administered community mental health program.

County mental health officials had wanted the clinic expanded to 40 hours per week while Pontiac General had agreed to only 21 hours per week.

Although Euler was left with the decision, the hospital trustees favored closing the clinic Nov. 1 if the hospital was not going to be reimbursed for clinic expenses.

Shares were determined on a pro rata basis from the total dollar value of all purchases in the suit.

The settlement marks the recovery for state agencies under federal antitrust laws in Michigan's history.

By OSWALD JACOBY

In the match between the United States and the Republic of China in the World Bridge Olympiad, both teams had no trouble arriving at six spades.

When Mr. Wu played the opening JACOBY heart lead in dummy and laid down the ace of trumps. The king dropped and Wu made all the tricks.

At the other table, Mr. Shen of the Republic of China decided that the American pair knew what they were doing and decided to defend by bidding six no-trump to ask his partner to choose a suit. Mr. Huang went to seven hearts, where he was doubled.

North cashed three high diamonds and the ace of spades and led a fourth diamond. Dummy ruffed with the nine and was overtricked by the jack. This gave the defense five tricks and they still had to collect another trump and a club for a 1,300-point penalty.

Since the spade slam was worth 1,460, the Republic of China gained 160 points or four International Match Points on the board.

While no one should quarrel with success, I feel that Shen's bid was one that not many players would make. He could be certain that he would lose almost the full slam score and, if his partner had not happened to show up with a six-card heart suit, he might have lost more than the slam.

In addition, he might have been able to beat six spades. After all, he was looking right at the king of trumps, the ace of hearts and the queen of clubs.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West
1 ♠ 1 ♠ Pass
2 N.T. Pass Pass
3 ♠ Pass ?
You, South, hold:
♠ 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ K J 7 5 ♠ 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
What do you do?
A—Pass. West will surely be ready to double three clubs. Let your partner struggle where he is.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding two no-trump, your partner bids two spades. After you and West pass, your partner doubles. What do you do now?

Commission Gets Tough Before Yielding on Property Sale

Action on a resolution to sell the final parcel for development of Charles L. Langs' Pontiac Townhouse Apartments was almost stalled last night.

The City Commission voted 6-4 to table action on a motion to sell property at Douglas and East Pike for Langs' 65-unit co-operative housing project.

However, the motion stayed on the table for less than an hour before it was reconsidered, amended and passed by an identical 6-0 vote.

Commissioners objected to Langs going ahead with construction on the site without formal approval of the land sale.

In addition, the commissioners objected to Langs allegedly ignoring a letter from City Manager Joseph A. Warren to halt construction on city-owned property.

NECESSARY BUSINESS

Warren said that the property sale was slated for commission action last week, but because of the death of Commissioner Emmett S. Wellbaum the commission transacted only necessary business.

However, construction commenced last Wednesday without permission from the city, Warren said.

On Thursday Langs was served with a letter from the city manager that he was trespassing on city property and to stop construction.

Langs told the commission last night that he had taken out a building permit in May for the entire development.

BEAT WEATHER

He said that he was trying to get ahead of cold weather and that he had the necessary commitment from the Federal Housing Administration to complete the sale of the property.

He said that an agreement with the city provided that he (Langs) would buy the land after he had obtained a commitment from FHA on terms, subject to city approval.

The developer also claimed that he had checked with two city officials after receiving the letter from Warren.

He said that they told him to proceed at his own risk.

'CAN'T TOLERATE'

Commented Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson, "This commission can't tolerate Langs or anyone else not abiding by the rules. The letter should have stopped construction."

The commissioner then voted to table the matter one week.

Langs left the commission chamber and returned minutes later with a copy of his building permit and contract for the land.

He told the commission that some 60 tradesmen would have to be sent home at 7 a.m. tomorrow (Tuesday) if the land sale were not approved.

WAIVE COSTS

After discussing the question again, the commission voted 6-0 to approve an amended resolution.

The amended motion provided for Langs to waive all costs of site improvements, which were to have been done under another urban renewal contract.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. summed up the commission's action: "What we want to do," he said, "is to let you know that this commission is running this city, not Mr. Langs."

Big Voter Turnout Expected Today

Predict Record at County Polls

Oakland County voters were expected to crowd polls in record numbers today to pick national, state, county and township officers.

County Clerk-Register David R. Calhoun predicted that 310,000 persons will cast ballots in the general election.

This is approximately 8,000 more than voted in the 1960 presidential election, the all time high.

In the September primary, less than a third of those anticipated today went to the polls to nominate candidates. At that time, Calhoun's forecast of 100,000 was less than 100 off the actual total certified by the county board of canvassers.

Last minute figures obtained by county officials brought the registration total to nearly 355,000 for the county, compared to 350,000 registered for the 1960 election.

City Clerk Olga Barkeley reported that 35,792 persons are registered in Pontiac. This was about 6,000 less than in the 1960 general election.

The state of candidates facing voters is the largest ever assembled in Oakland County.

In addition to township candidates, there is a total of 91 Democratic, Republican and nonpartisan office seekers. Incomplete slates of national and state candidates also have been posted by the Socialist Workers, Socialist Labor and Freedom Now parties.

One state proposal, the Massachusetts Ballot, will be decided by voters.

If approved, it will eliminate a straight party ticket and require a separate vote for each candidate. It provides that in general elections the candidates' names shall be grouped under office titles rather than under party headings.

Most voting in Oakland County is being done by machines, although there are some paper ballot precincts in outlying areas.

Gov. Romney and Staebler in Key Race

Large Number of State Voters Likely to Split Their Ballots

DETROIT (P) — Michigan decided today whether to keep Republican Gov. George Romney for a second two-year term in a general election fraught with potentialities.

For one, Michigan's vote for president, with Democratic President Johnson strongly favored, was almost certain to lead to a volume of split-ticket voting seldom if ever seen in the state.

Weighing in the balance were the effects of Michigan's congressional and legislative reapportionment and Romney's refusal to endorse fellow-Republican Barry Goldwater, their party's presidential candidate.

Romney's fight with Democratic Congressman-at-large Neil Staebler for the governorship caused special campaign firing on the virtual eve of election day in a battle over Romney's summary retirement Oct. 8 of three top National Guard officers.

A heavy vote was anticipated as a result of all these factors, assuming bad weather doesn't interfere.

State elections director Robert Montgomery predicted a vote of from 3.25 to 3.5 million. Michigan's presidential vote in 1960 was 3,318,987. Michigan has 21 electoral college votes.

POLLS OPEN — The polls opened at 7 a.m. (EST) and will close at 8 p.m. Any voters in line at closing time will be permitted to cast ballots.

Cloudy and windy weather for all of the state with a possibility of showers or thunderstorms was forecast by the U.S. Weather Bureau. The weather bureau said rain was not a sure thing.

Most election prognosticators said Johnson would win in Michigan by 300,000 to 600,000 votes over Goldwater.

Ex-industrialist Romney's contest with Staebler, top Michigan Democratic party strategist who made a fortune in real estate, was enlivened on the weekend by the National Guard firings dispute.

'PLAYING POLITICS' — Democratic Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled that Romney fired the three illegally, Romney. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

PROMINENT VOTER — Gov. Romney was among early voters at the Bloomfield Hills City Hall this morning. He and Mrs. Romney cast their ballots shortly after the polls opened.

Record Total of 71 Million Seen for U. S.

Most Opinion Polls Pick LBJ to Defeat Goldwater With Ease

WASHINGTON (P) — An expected record 71 million voters decide today whether Lyndon B. Johnson or Barry Goldwater should guide the nation through the next four years.

Mild and fair weather, with few exceptions, made it almost certain that the 68.8 million vote total of 1960 would be far surpassed.

The nation's first returns came from the tiny mountain community of Dixville, N.H. Its eight voters, all registered Republicans, finished balloting at 12:01 a.m. EST. The tally: Goldwater 8, Johnson 0.

While they're picking a president, American voters will also be electing 25 governors, 35 senators, 435 House members and a host of state and local officials.

Right down to the wire, almost every opinion poll and political sign pointed to President Johnson in a walkaway, possibly by the largest popular vote margin in modern presidential history.

UPHILL FIGHT — But Sen. Goldwater is used to being behind — he had a long, uphill battle to win the Republican nomination — and he is still hoping for a political miracle.

Both candidates wound up their campaigns Monday night with a pledge.

In his home state, Texas, Johnson said:

"I pledge my total commitment to preserve peace while protecting freedom. I want to reduce the threat of nuclear war — maintain presidential control over our nuclear weapons — to strengthen our alliances — and to advance the cause of freedom around the world."

BACK IN JULY — In San Francisco, where in July he became the GOP candidate, Goldwater said:

"I pledge to you, no matter the cost, that from the first day I set foot in the White House until the day I leave that I will level with you, that I will give you an honest administration, that I will tell you the truth."

Both took note, at least indirectly, of the polls.

By voting for him, Goldwater said, "you can prove that you still run this country — not the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)"

GM Reports Record Profits

Big Three Unanimous on 9-Month Earnings

DETROIT (P) — Boom year 1964 of the nation's auto industry now boasts record nine-month earnings from each of its "Big Three."

General Motors, biggest of the trio, made it complete yesterday by reporting a $1.36-billion profit and announcing a $569-million dividend payment.

The GM dividend, a $2-a-share payment to 1.15 million help to swell the pre-Christmas flow of money. The $2 is $1.35 above the usual GM quarterly payment.

Earlier, both Ford and Chrysler had reported record nine-month earnings.

General Motors made its profit report as the giant auto maker was getting up headway again in production following a crippling United Auto Workers union strike.

TURNING OUT CARS

For the first time since the strike began Sept. 25, all five of GM's passenger car divisions were turned out cars yesterday, the company said.

The UAW called off its national strike Oct. 5, following agreement on a national contract, but strikes over local disputes among the company's 130 plants continued to cripple production.

As of today, only 12 local settlements were outstanding.

Ford, which faces a Friday strike threat by the UAW, had yet to complete 20 agreements among 90 bargaining units. Ford and the UAW have settled nationally.

General Motors' nine-month profit of $1.36 billion, from record sales, was the equivalent of $4.75 a share, up 26 percent from the $1.06 billion, or $3.79 a share, of the same period last year.

Laborites to Renationalize British Steel, Queen Says

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II told Parliament today that Prime Minister Harold Wilson's new Labor government will renationalize Britain's steel industry, restore rent controls and open the way for the abolition of capital punishment.

The queen formally opened attempt to reduce East-West tensions and "to encourage further progress toward disarmament."

The queen delivered her speech from the throne in the House of Lords after driving through London in a coach accompanied by a glittering cavalry escort.

Members of the House of Commons, summoned with great ceremony, stood around the edges of the chamber as the queen spoke.

In a key passage she said: "My government will initiate early action to re-establish the necessary public ownership of the iron and steel industry."

This policy is expected to touch off a major parliamentary battle.

SLIM MAJORITY — Wilson's government has only a five-vote majority in Commons. Sir Alec Douglas-Home's Conservatives and the small Liberal party oppose nationalization of the steel industry.

Clement Attlee's Labor government took the steel industry under state control in 1951 after nationalizing the coal, gas and electric power industries, the railways, the airlines and the Bank of England.

Other nationalization measures of the Attlee regime continue in force, but the steel industry went back into private hands after the Conservative party won the 1951 election.

The queen said the Wilson government will "restore control of rents" and added, "They will establish as rapidly as possible a crown lands commission with wide powers to acquire land for the community."

CHECK SPECULATION — This measure, Labor ministers have said, is designed to check land speculation and to put land to the best use. A parliamentary fight is expected on that also.

'PLAYING POLITICS' — Democratic Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled that Romney fired the three illegally, Romney. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

U. S. Protests to Poland Find Embassy Microphones

WASHINGTON (P) — A battery of concealed microphones has been discovered in the recently built U. S. Embassy building in Warsaw, Poland, the State Department disclosed yesterday.

A spokesman said the listening devices apparently were installed in the early stages of construction of the building, which began in 1960.

The system was said to be similar to a network for more than 40 microphones earlier found secreted in the walls of the U. S. Embassy in Moscow.

Discovery of the Moscow bugging was announced last May 19.

The State Department said the devices in Warsaw were discovered Oct. 7. It did not disclose how many microphones were found.

Shortly after the discovery, U. S. Ambassador John Moors Cabot lodged a formal protest with the Polish Foreign Ministry. Polish authorities denied any knowledge or responsibility for the listening system, the State Department said.

In restoring the township board's formal opposition against the tax, Supervisor James E. Seeterlin pointed out that a group of Pontiac residents already are circulating petitions for a referendum on the income tax voted by the City Commission.

City Is Presented Antitax Resolution

Battle lines were drawn last night by the Rochester Village Council and the Greater Waterford Community Council (GWCC) in opposition to Pontiac's new income tax ordinance.

Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson indicated that the City Commission intends to let the State Legislature do the fighting.

Commenting on a formal resolution presented to the commission last night by the Rochester Village Council, Hudson said the income tax ordinance is within the laws passed by the legislature.

Any objections to the tax, scheduled to take effect Jan. 1, should be directed to the State Legislature, not the City Commission, Hudson said.

The Rochester protest charged that the one-half percent levy on nonresidents employed in the city is taxation without representation.

Commissioner John A. Dugan said that he was "amused to see outside people pass these resolutions."

GIVES REMINDER — In talking to nonresidents, Dugan said, he reminded them that if a state income tax had been passed they probably would have to pay 1 percent.

Speaking in behalf of the GWCC at last night's meeting of the Waterford Township Board, Donald Fraser said the GWCC plans to establish a study committee which would seek the sentiments of some of the leading Pontiac business organizations on the tax.

He added that the GWCC would discuss the tax levy at its meeting next Tuesday and probably take a formal stand at that time.

Fraser's comments came during a general discussion of methods of opposing the tax which would affect approximately 62 percent of the township's population.

In restoring the township board's formal opposition against the tax, Supervisor James E. Seeterlin pointed out that a group of Pontiac residents already are circulating petitions for a referendum on the income tax voted by the City Commission.

County to Get River Project

County to Turn Over Financing of Work

Continued work on the Clinton River in Pontiac will be under the County Drain Commission, according to City Commission action last night.

The commission approved petitioning the drain commissioner to take on the river work as a county drain project.

Primarily, this means that a special assessment would go to the city at large on the county tax bill, similar to the method of financing the current river tunnel project in downtown Pontiac.

The county sells bonds to finance the work and the bonds are retired by the special assessment levied on city taxpayers.

City Engineer Joseph E. Neippling said the cost to taxpayers would be around the 63 cents per $1,000 equalized valuation already levied to pay the tunnel project.

CITY CAN'T SELL — He said the city can't sell the bonds because the annual debt service would cost nearly $250,000, which would take almost half of city's $546,000 capital improvement fund.

City officials elected to turn over the river work to the county because the city's share, previously said to come from capital improvement funds, jumped from $100,000 to $235,000.

Neippling said the city had planned to only do the river work necessary for the M59 freeway.

However, now the entire river project must be done to enable M59 construction to continue.

STAGGERING COST — "Otherwise," he said, "if we (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)"

Her Prayers Answered

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—The eight-year "miracle" is over—its provisions have been fulfilled.

Mrs. Dora Witheril, 52, was stricken by cancer more than eight years ago. She had three operations and physicians gave her only a few months to live at most.

Mrs. Witheril in April 1956 paid a pilgrimage to the Our Lady of Lourdes Shrine in France. She left here in a wheel chair.

She returned a few weeks later walking with ease and was radiant. The doctors marvelled at her recovery.

In her prayers at the Shrine, Mrs. Witheril asked that she might live long enough to raise her four children, three daughters and a son. She made no claims to a miracle. But she pledged on her return to work for the construction of a shrine to Our Lady of Lourdes. She told her story and showed films and slides and received $25,000 in contributions.

CONSTRUCT SHRINE

The money was used to construct the shrine at St. John Vianney Church in Clyde Park and it was completed in May 1959.

Mrs. Witheril died Sunday night at her home. Her husband, Culver said she died happy because her pledges had been viewed by thousands upon thousands of persons.

Much Suspense in NY on Kennedy-Keating Race

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Every reliable indicator pointed to a landslide for President Johnson in New York State today with the big question being whether Robert F. Kennedy would share in the Democratic victory.

The contest between Kennedy, 38, former U.S. attorney general and brother of the late president, and incumbent Kenneth B. Keating, 64, for a U.S. Senate seat has overshadowed the presidential race in the Empire State.

Each side claimed victory as the long and often bitter battle ended. Although some polls gave the edge to Kennedy, the race remained tight.

Most prominent Republicans long since privately have conceded Johnson will win the state's bloc of 43 electoral votes, largest in the nation, in his fight with Sen. Barry Goldwater.

DID LITTLE

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and other top Republicans did relatively little to advance the Goldwater cause in the state.

In predicting victory for Keating, his camp indirectly conceded the state to Johnson in the presidential balloting.

Democrats were hopeful that a big Johnson victory would give them control of the legislature for the first time since 1935 and a majority of the state's delegation to the House of Representatives, now 21-20 in favor of the GOP.

Polling hours in the 12,439 election districts throughout the state were from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m., with a record 8.4 million New Yorkers eligible to vote.

FINAL REPORT

Democratic State Chairman William H. McKean issued an election eve report that a final telephone survey around the state indicated Johnson would win by at least 1.5 million and possibly more than 2 million votes.

Less partisan observers, including some Republicans, have said that Johnson has an excellent chance of topping the 1.5-million plurality, a record, by which former President Dwight D. Eisenhower carried the state in 1956.

Michael Seel, the Republican state campaign director, was the lone voice in the GOP hierarchy predicting that New York voters "will turn to Barry Goldwater for the dedication, determination and dignity they want in the highest office in the land."

Republican State Chairman Fred A. Young predicted "a surprising show of Republican strength" but stopped short of forecasting a Goldwater victory.

McKean predicted that Kennedy would win by at least 350,000 votes. Herbert Brownell, Keating's campaign manager, saw victory by a "close margin."

Keating's vote-getting power may be weakened by the third man in the race, Henry Paolucci, the Conservative party's candidate. He said he entered the race because Keating refused to endorse Goldwater. Paolucci could draw up to 150,000 votes — if past Conservative showings are any indication.

Expect Close Governor Race in Pivotal Illinois

CHICAGO (AP) — An estimated 4.5 million voters decide today whether Republican Charles H. Percy or Democrat Otto Kerner, the incumbent, will be governor of Illinois for the next four years.

Some rain was forecast for the Illinois. Polls opened throughout the state at 8 a.m. and will close at 8 p.m.

The Kerner-Percy race was expected to be the closest fight.

But Illinois, with its 26 electoral votes, is considered a pivotal state for GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater in his attempt to defeat President Johnson.

Illinois voters also struggled with the cumbersome orange ballot to elect 177 members of the state House of Representatives.

ELECTED IN '60

Kerner, 54, was elected governor in 1960 by 534,000 over incumbent William G. Stratton, a Republican. Kerner has based his campaign on state solvency, increased mental health facilities, new industry and reduced unemployment rolls.

Percy, 45-year-old board chairman of Bell & Howell Co., is making his first political race. Percy has accused the Kerner administration of not providing enough mental health facilities. He also charged that Kerner has failed to bring new industry into the state, and cited alleged voting irregularities.

Perhaps the most confusing phase of the Illinois election was the at-large ballot, which contains 118 names under each party label for the House. The at-large election was made necessary when Illinois failed to reapportion the state based on new census figures.

The Chicago Sun-Times final straw poll gave President Johnson 62.63 per cent of the Illinois vote and Goldwater 37.37 per cent. The samplings accorded Kerner 33.09 per cent and Percy 47.91 per cent.

HISTORICALLY CORRECT

The poll has historically been attack.

within one per cent of actual election outcomes.

No Consolation in Loss---Jackie

NEW YORK (UPI) — Almost a year since the president was assassinated, Mrs. John F. Kennedy still can find no solace.

"I don't think there is any consolation. What was lost cannot be replaced," she said.

In a deeply moving tribute to her husband, made public yesterday, the former first lady said:

"I should have known that it was asking too much to dream that I might have grown old with him and seen our children grow up together."

"Now I think that I should have known that he was magic all along. I did know it — but I should have guessed it could not last," Mrs. Kennedy said.

THOUGHTS REVEALED

The president's widow revealed her thoughts about her assassinated husband in an article in Look Magazine's "JFK Memorial Issue" published this week in advance of the first anniversary of Kennedy's death.

Mrs. Kennedy wrote:

"It is nearly a year since he has been gone."

"On so many days — his birthday, an anniversary, watching his children running to the sea — I have thought, 'but this day last year was his last to see that.'"

FULL OF LOVE

"He was so full of love and life on all those days. He seems so vulnerable now, when you think that each one was a last time."

"Soon the final day will come around again — as inexorably as it did last year. But expected this time."

"It will find some of us different people than we were a year ago. Learning to accept what was unthinkable when he was alive, changes you."

"I don't think there is any consolation. What was lost cannot be replaced."

WHEN NEEDED

"Someone who loved President Kennedy, but who had never known him, wrote to me this winter: 'The hero comes when he is needed. When our belief gets pale and weak, there comes a man out of that need who is shining — and everyone living reflects a little of that light — and stores some up against the time when he is gone.'"

"Now I think that I should have known that he was magic all along. I did know it — but I should have guessed it could not last. I should have known that it was asking too much to dream that I might have grown old with him and seen our children grow up together..."

Prohibitionist Fires Blast at GOP and Dems

CHICAGO (AP) — The Prohibition Party candidate for president said today Republicans and Democrats "have prostituted governmental power to serve their own selfish party interests instead of the public good."

E. Harold Munn, of Hillsdale, Mich., said at his news conference: "This has led to excessive expenditures, higher taxes, and in some instances, to an unfortunate alliance of crime without politics."

"America cannot continue, with impunity, to increase the mortgage on our future and the interest load of the present," Munn said. "Even if it means abolishing certain agencies and abolishing serving vested interests, we must work to cut federal spending and make better use of both personnel and materials."

Miller Will Go 12 Miles to Cast Vote

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (AP) — After 60,000 miles of campaigning, Republican vice presidential candidate Rep. William E. Miller will travel about 12 miles today to vote in nearby Olcott.

Miller leaves about 9 a.m. from the home of Raymond J. Lee in Lockport, where he has established election night headquarters, for the 30-minute ride to the voting booth at the Olcott fire station.

Although Miller is a native of Lockport, his legal residence is in Olcott, where he maintains a home overlooking Lake Ontario. Miller concluded his 40-state election campaign at a welcome-home party Monday night at the Park Hotel.

155 CITIES

He told about 800 Republicans that although his campaign travels covered 60,000 miles and took him to 155 cities, "I can still say to you, I still like Lockport, N.Y."

"If Lyndon Johnson has his way I'll be back here very shortly," he quipped.

He called his campaign "an experience I shall never forget."

Miller urged the election of GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater and several local Republican candidates who were present at the reception.

200 ON HAND

Miller, his wife, Stephanie, and two of his daughters, Mary Karen and Elizabeth, arrived at Greater Buffalo International Airport Monday evening. They were greeted enthusiastically by about 200 persons.

A few hundred feet away, another crowd awaited the arrival of Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating who has refused to endorse the candidacy of Goldwater and Miller.

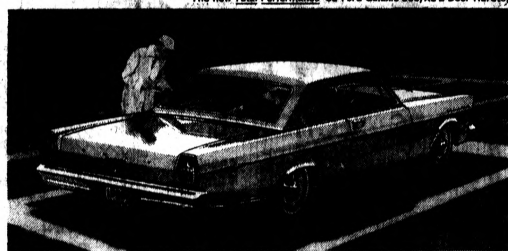

Miller left for Lockport immediately and was not on hand when Keating arrived later for an airport campaign appearance.

The 1965 Ford is so solidly built, so smoothly powered it rides quieter than a Rolls-Royce by actual test!

The world's leading acoustical experts made the test.
The U.S. Auto Club certified the results: at 20 mph...at 40 mph...at 60 mph...

The new Total Performance '65 Ford Galaxie 500 LTD 4-Door Hardtop

The new Total Performance '65 Ford Galaxie 500/XL 2-Door Hardtop

The new Total Performance '65 Ford Galaxie 500 4-Door Sedan

Surprised? We don't blame you. Doubtful? Don't be. The world's leading acoustical consultants—Bolt, Beranek and Newman, Inc.—proved this astounding quietness of the new Ford in actual tests. And the results were certified by the authoritative United States Auto Club. In part, the official report read: "At all moving speeds, on both curves, the Fords were quieter than the Rolls-Royces...both in listening and in the calibrated measurements." This is now proven fact.

Quietness is the sound of quality. This does not mean that a Ford is suddenly a Rolls-Royce. Look at the difference in price: Rolls-Royce costs nearly $17,000—very real and wonderful reasons. But Ford has triumphed in a key measure of quality...quiet. Quiet that could be born only in the deep, basic integrity of a really well-made car. You'll actually feel this basic integrity when you try the new Ford. You'll feel a new ride, too—smooth as molten glass. Reasons: A new suspension with a supercoil at each wheel. A new "isolation frame" that literally "tunes out" road vibration. A new, wider, more stable wheel stance.

Quality features all around you. There's more quality here than just a new ride. Proof is visible everywhere. In rich carpeting. In all-vinyl upholstery. And in features that pamper you as never before. Consider: All Fords offer 3-speed automatic transmissions—smoother, thrifter than the 2-speeds on some competing cars. Ford Convertible rear windows are plant glass, won't discolor, crack like plastic. Roomier trunk takes four 2-suiters upright. More spacious interiors—more hip, shoulder, knee room. Lower transmission hump. Safety-Convenience Panel option warns if fuel's low, door's ajar. Single switch locks all doors.

Silent-Flo Ventilation changes interior air in seconds—with windows closed (standard on 4-door hardtops).

Smoother, more powerful engines. Even Ford's most famous virtue—power—has taken on fresh quality for '65. The basic V-8 has been beefed-up to a torrid total of 200 horsepower! Then there's Ford's new "Big Six"—the smoothest, quietest, biggest standard Six in Ford history! Bigger than Chevrolet's, Plymouth's, even Dodge's Six. Yet it weighs 50 pounds less than last year's engine, skips even more on fuel! Come test the remarkable new 1965 Ford. Listen to the deep, satisfying, silent sound of total quality.

SOUND LEVEL (All readings in decibels)
