Downtown City Site Sought by Owner

The owner of the Big Value Furniture store, gutted by fire Tuesday, said today that he will attempt to relocate the business in downtown Pontiac.

"As it now stands," said Burt Gold, "it is just a matter of finding the right-sized building."

"We were very successful in the old location," said Gold, who only four months ago opened another Big Value store in Roseville.

Gold opened the Pontiac store last March after the building, owned by the Walter O. Briggs Trust, was vacated by the Yankee Department Store.

URBAN RENEWAL?
"I was told yesterday," Gold said, "that the building would not be rebuilt because it might be part of urban renewal in three years."

There was about 18,000 square feet in the building, including the attached warehouse and balcony area, according to Gold.

The fire, which did an estimated $35,000 damage to the building and $35,000 to the contents, was to have been investigated by the State Fire Marshal's office today.

City Fire Marshal Charles Metz asked for the assistance after being unable to find the cause of the blaze or where it started.

Find Dynamite on Tracks

Boys Foil Train Sabotage

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—An attempt to dynamite a freight train of the strike-plagued Florida East Coast Railway was foiled last night by four boys, authorities said.

The youths were walking along the tracks when they discovered 45 sticks of dynamite hooked to a rail.

Peace Pursuit Pledged by LBJ, Sir Alec

Joint Communique Stresses Support of Asian Policies

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson and Sir Alec Douglas-Home, Britain's prime minister pledged today to seek ways of reducing tension, and said they were determined "that the pursuit of peace should be unfalteringly maintained."

A joint communique issued after a two-day Anglo-American summit meeting emphasized that Britain is supporting U.S. policy in South Viet Nam, while the United States pledged support for "the peaceful national independence" of Malaysia.

Saying that last year's limited nuclear test-ban treaty "marked an advance on the road to the peaceful resolution of the problems which divide East and West," the President and the prime minister stressed the need "to go forward from there and search for other ways of reducing tension."

The two leaders expressed the hope that the Soviet Union "will examine with the greatest seriousness" the proposals the United States and Britain put forward at the Geneva disarmament conference of 17 nations.

The communique did not mention the crisis in Cyprus but said that the two leaders "reviewed the events of recent months, during which sudden tensions in many parts of the world have made unforeseen calls on the resources of the United States and the United Kingdom."

HEARING CALLS
The two nations, the communique continued, "are responding to these calls," seeking simultaneously through political action to diminish the causes of tension.

Johnson and Sir Alec "gave special consideration to South-east Asian matters and to the problem of assisting three states of the area to maintain their independence," the communique said.

Douglas-Home, it added, "re-emphasized the United Kingdom support for United States policy in South Viet Nam," and Johnson "reaffirmed the support of the United States for the peaceful national independence of Malaysia."

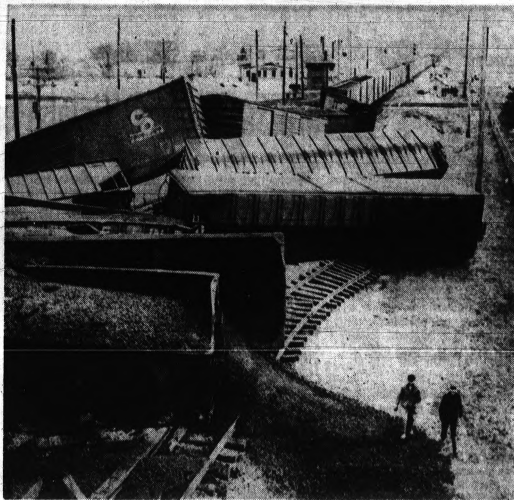

The communique failed to mention U.S.-British differences on trade with Cuba. It only said that Johnson "stressed his concern at the present situation in the Caribbean area and the 'subversive and disruptive influence of the present Cuban regime.'"

FULLY RECOGNIZED
Sir Alec, the communique said, "fully recognized the importance of the development of Latin America in conditions of freedom and political and economic stability."

When the White House session broke up at 12:30 p.m. (Pontiac time), Johnson escorted Sir Alec to a limousine waiting in front of the mansion and told him, "I certainly enjoyed our meeting."

Praise Is Growing for Music Festival

By JANET ODELL
Women's Editor

"Wonderful" is the adjective most individuals use when asked for their comments on the Meadow Brook Music Festival scheduled for Oakland University this summer.

Milo Cross, president of Pontiac State Bank, had a reaction that was definite:

"It's wonderful for Oakland County and Oakland University and all the people of this area."

E. M. Estes, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division said:

"We in the Pontiac area are very fortunate in having the Meadow Brook Music Festival to enjoy so near us. There are many untapped resources."

Said Leslie Gillian, manager of the Pontiac Mall Montgomery Ward store: "This will be a fine asset to the community. There is sure to be a very good response to this sort of thing."

KNOWS ADVANTAGES

Mrs. Charles Himelhoch of 1135 Lakeside, Birmingham, who is a musician, said she grew up in the Tanglewood area and knows what that sort of organization can do for the surrounding countryside.

"It's the type of activity we really ought to have," she said. "We're delighted it's going to be out here. It is an art area to begin with. There are many untapped resources."

Felix Resnick, director of the Pontiac Symphony orchestra and a member of the Detroit Symphony orchestra which is giving the concert's summer preview, gave the orchestra's viewpoint as well as his own.

"The musicians of the symphony (Detroit) are very excited about the festival and are 100 per cent behind it."

BIGGEST THING

"When I heard about it in the planning stage, my reaction was that it's the biggest thing to happen in the area, both for the symphony and the northern rural area."

Mrs. L. L. Colbert, 491 Martell Drive, Bloomfield Hills had this to say: "I can't think of anything finer. It's been needed for a long time and I hope everybody cooperates. I wish we'd had it when my children were small. It's the most wonderful thing that's happened to the community in a long time."

Japan Leftists Push China Tie

Pressure Government to Follow French Lead

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP)—Japan's left wing and some businessmen are applying the pressure on the government to follow the example of France and recognize Red China.

Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda, an Asian friend of the United States, refused to be stampeded into abandoning his policy of nonrecognition.

But he shows signs of wavering on some points. In debate with the Socialists and Communists in Parliament yesterday, Ikeda conceded that a new situation would arise should Red China be seated in the United Nations this fall as the sole representative of the Chinese people.

NORMALIZE RELATIONS
If that happens, Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohira told Socialist Chichiro Hozumi, Japan will "normalize" its diplomatic relations with the mainland.

He did not use the word recognition however.

This position leaves the government room to maneuver once the issue reaches the decision-making stage.

Ohira said Japan has yet to determine what policy to follow toward the question of seating the Red Chinese in the United Nations as well as his own.

RETREAT
This appeared to be a retreat from declarations that Japan and the United States would consult closely with the view of staffing off Red Chinese entry.

Americans here and in Washington are reported to be reconciled to the likelihood that Japan cannot long resist if the dam breaks and a torrent of recognition by other states results from France's move.

Business pressure for closer ties with Peking has come from firms that believe a considerable expansion of trade between the two countries is possible.

Such leaders of Ikeda's Liberal-Democratic party as ex-Prime Minister Tanaka Shide and ex-Minister Kenzo Matsunuma and Tatsuoka Takasaki share this view.

Cypriots Fight in Streets of Coastal City

Evacuation Ordered for British Families; Pact Work Goes On

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Fighting between Turkish and Greek Cypriot communities broke out again today in the coastal city of Limassol as diplomats conferred here in an effort to land an international peace force on the troubled island.

An uneasy cease-fire which went into effect this morning was broken less than three hours later and Sir Denis Barnett, commander of British forces on Cyprus, ordered the evacuation of all 104 families of British servicemen living in and around the embattled area.

British troops remained on the outskirts of the city because of renewed fighting.

Six Royal Air Force ambulances began to evacuate the wounded and dead from the Turkish quarter. The exact number of casualties was not known.

An Associated Press correspondent said he saw five Turkish dead in a Turkish Cypriot area of Limassol overrun in the battle. He said the total could be determined only after officials gained access to the surrounded quarter.

NEAR MOSQUE
The worst fighting centered near the Arnaup Mesjid Mosque.

A British military source said the Greek Cypriots used armored bulldozers, an old tank and homemade armaments before the original cease-fire was established last night.

The Greek Cypriots had insisted that their Turkish fellow townsmen lay down their arms.

The Turkish Cypriots were said to have refused without a guarantee of protection by British troops.

LAST RESORT
British troops moved in as a last resort to try to separate the combatants and were themselves injured. Such hazards are one reason Britain wants to surrender its police role as an international force.

The British said it appeared the fighting had stopped at 11:30 a.m. For a time the Greek Cypriots seemed to be on the verge of wiping out the Turks there.

The eruption of fighting broke a cease-fire arranged in Limassol by the British last night.

Maj. Gen. Peter Young, British commander of the Cyprus trust force, had flown to Limassol with the Greek Cypriot Interior Minister, Poykarios Yeorgiadis, to talk to the combatants.

He said that if the mayor "wants to make a big issue out of their statements," he would stand behind them.

Landry, in opposing the statement, said "they would stand behind" the statement.

2 Commissioners Back Story on Carter

Two City Commissioners today supported statements published yesterday concerning the resignation of City Manager Robert A. Carter.

The statements were attributed to official sources at City Hall who wished to remain anonymous.

The remarks were attacked today by Mayor Robert A. Landry as "lies that are part of a smear campaign . . . being conducted . . . by The Pontiac Press."

Commissioners William H. Taylor and Charles H. Harmon both agreed today that yesterday's story was not accurate.

NOTHING WRONG
Harmon said he "could see nothing wrong with the story."

They identified themselves as the anonymous sources and said that if the mayor "wants to make a big issue out of their statements," he would stand behind them.

Nazi Hangs Self in Cell; 2nd Dies in 8-Story Fall

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Dr. Werner Heyde hanged himself in his jail cell today, five days before his trial as chief defendant in the killing of 70,000 of 200,000 mental defectives murdered by the Nazis in World War II.

The No. 2 defendant in the case, Friedrich Tillmann, 60, died yesterday in a fall from an eighth-floor window in Cologne. Dr. Fritz Bauer, chief prosecutor for the state of Hesse, said that also was a suicide.

Tillmann, 60, was office chief of the euthanasia center in Berlin during World War II.

Bauer charged that there is a conspiracy to prevent the trial, which was to have begun in Limburg next Tuesday. He did not elaborate.

Board Okays College Vote

Preliminary Budget Approved by County

A June 8 vote on a three-part community college proposal and a preliminary general education fund budget were approved yesterday by the Oakland Schools Board of Education.

The college vote, recommended by a citizens committee, will be on (1) establishment of the college, (2) a mill tax levy to finance it, and (3) election of a six-member board of trustees.

The County School Board okayed a preliminary 1964-65 general education budget of $525,401, increased $18,401 over the current year's expenditure.

The new budget incorporates a balance of $81,195 from this year and calls for a balance in June 1964, of $122,260.

Thus, actual budgeted expenditures will run $403,231.

County Supt. William J. Emerson, who said the budget includes two entirely new programs, said the idea of a running balance was created to carry the school district between tax collections.

He said that a vocational education department and a research department had been added for next year.

The need for more vocational education in public schools, and a county director to coordinate efforts in this field, were a recommendation of local school board designates, he said.

Emerson said that $22,930 was set for the vocational education department, while $19,920 was budgeted for research on new educational processes and techniques.

"It's a wonderful cultural opportunity for our community. It is a terrific opportunity to have good music and everyone will gain by it."

Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, a member of the planning committee, said, "This will stimulate interest in music and art in general which will help everyone."

"It's good for the community in every way, Oakland University is leading in everything cultural."

George Yansen, president of the Pontiac Symphony, added his reaction.

"It seems to me to be very fine addition to our area."

Mrs. Joseph L. B. Bennett, long active in Pontiac music circles, sums it up this way.

"For year, we've driven to Detroit to hear fine music. Now to think it can be heard so close to home is marvelous. It will open music channels to many who have heretofore had no opportunities."

Water Pipeline Scandal Flint Suspends Officials Pending Hearing

FLINT (UPI)—Five city officials were out of a job today pending formal hearings of their involvement in the Flint-Lake Huron water pipeline scandal.

City Planner Gerald Chivers, Public Works Director

Theodore D. Moss, Purchasing Director Albert C. Hull, City Clerk Lloyd Hendon and Finance Director Olvy Craft were relieved of their duties at noon by City Manager Thomas Kay.

The five were named in a grand jury report which charged misfeasance and willful neglect. All but Moss were members of the City Land Board when Flint bought property for a water intake station several years ago.

ONE-MAN JURY
In recent months, a one-man grand jury, in the person of Circuit Court Judge Donn Parker, has been investigating fraud in land purchases.

Several indictments already have been returned and those named include Flint millionaire Samuel M. Catsman and Pontiac City Manager Robert Carier, who has since resigned.

Kay also sent a letter to Henry M. Foley, 74, a member of the city manager's staff since 1954, telling him his job with the city would be terminated May 1.

Child Critical From Burns in Clothing Fire

A five-year-old Shelby Township girl is in critical condition today, suffering burns she received yesterday when her clothing caught fire as she played near a flaming rubbish pile.

Rebecca Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Barnes, 11609 Rhode, watched her mother bring the rubbish out and light it in an old bathtub the family used as a trash burner.

Mrs. Barnes returned to the house. She looked out the window and saw flames spreading on her daughter's coat and T-shirt as a young playmate stood by helplessly.

Running out to her daughter, Mrs. Barnes burned her own hands ripping off the flaming clothes.

She then called Shelby Township Fire Chief Clyde Schmidt, who rushed the child to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Mount Clemens.

Police said 70 per cent of the girl's body is covered with second and third degree burns.

Swiss Reject Russia Protest

GENEVA (AP)—Switzerland has sharply rejected the Soviet Union's complaints about Swiss security in the case of a Soviet disarmament delegate's defection to the United States.

Rene Helg, president of the Geneva cantonal state government, yesterday called the Soviet charges "unfounded, unjust and unfriendly."

He said the Russians had refused to cooperate with Swiss authorities and even hindered the Swiss police investigation.

Semyon K. Tsarapkin, chief Soviet delegate to the international disarmament conference, accused Western agents of "provocative activity" in the defection of Yuri I. Nosenko, 36.

In a statement to newsmen, Tsarapkin accused Switzerland of failing to provide adequate security for delegates and demanded the Swiss get Nosenko back.

Fireman's Home Gutted by Blaze; $5,000 Damage

The home of a Pontiac fireman was gutted by fire early this morning.

Damage to the one-story frame house of Clarence Lloyd, 510 Northfield, was estimated at $5,000 by Assistant Chief Victor Bodamer. The cause has not been determined.

Lloyd was off duty when the fire was reported shortly after 5 a.m. but was not at home. No one was in the house.

Bodamer said the house apparently had been burning for a long time when firemen arrived because the living room floor already had collapsed into the basement.

Tank trucks had to be used by the fire department since there is no water supply in the area.

Mrs. Henry Ford II Is Granted Divorce

FAIRFIELD, Idaho (AP)—A routine, 20-minute court-hearing Wednesday dissolved the marriage of auto maker Henry Ford II and his wife, Anne— a marriage that was launched in glittering style 23 years ago.

The uncontested divorce was granted Mrs. Ford on grounds of mental cruelty by Judge Charles Scoggins. A year ago he issued a divorce decree for Margaretta Filmer Murphy, who later became the wife of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Mrs. Ford, 44, was awarded custody of the couple's only minor child, Edsel Bryant Ford, 14, with visitation right by his father. The couple has two other children, Charlotte, 22, and Anne, 21.

AT SKI LODGE
Mrs. Ford, the former Anne McDonnell of Southampton, Long Island, N.Y., was driven 45 miles from her Sun Valley cottage to this south-central Idaho farm community for the hearing. She returned to the seclusion of the ski lodge.

"All property rights had been settled by agreement at the time of their separation last summer," a court statement said. No details were disclosed.

The Daily News in New York City said: "The settlement terms were reported to be as high as $16 million."

Ford, 45, grandson of the late Henry Ford, had no comment on the divorce. He was in Detroit for a routine meeting of the Ford Motor Co. board of directors, of which he is chairman. An attorney represented him at the divorce hearing.

Ford has been linked romantically with blonde, Italian-born Maria Christina Vettore Austin, 34, the divorced wife of a British naval officer.

DECLINED COMMENT
Mrs. Austin, in New York, declined to speak to newsmen. The Ford's legal separation.

Students Take Up Issue of Board Suspensions

BIRMINGHAM—"We have no legal grounds to protest," a parent of a suspended Seaholm High School student said today. But the school's student body isn't going to let that stop them.

Parents of three of the 18 boys suspended last week for fraternizing membership today abandoned their attempt to get a temporary restraining order, which would return their sons to classes.

"The school board has erred—it picked up the wrong group of boys," Mrs. Jack Sights, 560 Watkins, said. "But I guess by law boys can't have a club."

The parents who were seeking Circuit Court action were told by their attorney last night that the board of education was within its rights in suspending the boys.

TAKE UP ISSUE
However, Seaholm students have taken up the issue, arguing that the boys should have been punished in some other way.

A student committee has been circulating petitions to have the boys returned to classes.

The group has scheduled a Monday night forum on the topic in the school cafeteria. School board members and parents have been invited to the 7:30 p.m. session.

The school board ordered the suspension of 10 boys last week. On Friday, the effective day, eight more came forth and said they were as gully as the others and therefore should be suspended too, according to Supt. Dr. John B. Smith.

Periods of suspension are 10 and 20 days.

Smith and Ross A. Wagner, Seaholm principal, met Friday with nine parents who protested that the penalties were too severe.

"Most of the questions raised had been pretty thoroughly considered before the penalties were imposed," Smith said.

Mrs. Sights predicted that so-called fraternities will survive in Birmingham despite the board's efforts.

"I doubt very much that they will ever bring this up again now that people think the naughty boys have been punished," she said.

"I think the law against fraternities and fraternities is a good one. I'm against their being sponsored by teachers who also see the students in the classrooms; then it really makes a difference whether you belong or not."

Mrs. Sights said members of the MSCP, the group in question, met under parental supervision and there was "nothing secretive" about their meetings.

A teen club Valentine dance has been scheduled for the Birmingham Hills Recreation Department tomorrow night.

The 7:30-9:45 p.m. event at East Hills Junior High School has been planned for seventh through ninth graders.

Sees Troops in Mississippi

Integration Prediction
by Georgia Publisher

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ralph McGill, editor and publisher of the Atlanta Constitution, predicted last night that the federal government will have to send troops to Mississippi again this year because of that state's resistance to integration.

McGill said there had been progress on integration elsewhere in the South since the Supreme Court's school desegregation decision in 1954.

"Only in Mississippi is there still complete and utter resistance. It is almost a certainty that federal troops will be required in Mississippi by next fall, or, earlier," McGill said at a Lincoln Day dinner of the New York Civil Liberties Union.

He said Alabama was next to neighboring Mississippi in the resistance promised by state political leadership.

"Elsewhere," he said, "There is progress and some of it has been considerable. But, in the main, the over-all progress has been spotty and, in a sense, superficial."

McGill was awarded the $1,000 Florida Lasker Civil Liberties Award at the Waldorf-Astoria dinner.

The Pulitzer Prize-winning editor said the price of segregation is huge, and "We will be paying it for a long time in many areas of our lives."

"The white young Southerner is just beginning to realize that he, too, has been discriminated against by segregated practices. His region did not have the per capita income to establish one good school system; yet, it set up two poor ones. The Negro got the worst of it, but all paid a price."

Man Hopes Sentence Is Death

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—Albert P. Cochran, whose wife and three children were killed, expressed hope Wednesday for death in the electric chair.

Cochran, 25, formerly of Kalamazoo, Mich., has been charged with murder. Police said he admitted choking his estranged 19-year-old wife, but that he accused his wife of stabbing to death their three young sons.

Police Capt. Donald Boe quoted Cochran as saying he had planned to kill himself after his wife and children were slain, but "chickened out."

Boe said Cochran expressed hope the state will put him to death and "do what I haven't the nerve to do."

EXPRESSED HOPE

Cochran refused legal counsel.

Mrs. Cochran's negligee-clad body was found by police Monday night on the living room floor of her apartment, Corner Willard Blood of Will County said. Mrs. Cochran's neck was broken.

The bodies of the three children—Christine, 3; Christopher, 2, and Craig, 10 months—were found in a blood-spattered bath tub, each with three stab wounds in the chest. Police said a large kitchen knife was found in the bath tub.

Space Chimp Ham Formally Retires

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Ham, the chimpanzee who paved the way for the first United States manned space flight, has been retired by the Air Force.

His retirement home is in the National Zoological Park in Washington. Formal retirement ceremonies were held in front of his cage there.

On Jan. 31, 1961, after months of Air Force training, Ham rode a Redstone rocket on a ballistic flight from Cape Kennedy to qualify the Mercury spacecraft and launching systems for Astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr.'s pioneer flight.

The farm population declined from 30.5 million to 15.6 million from 1940 to 1960.

Special decorative effects are achieved with brushed and polished gold mirrors, and red chandeliers.

The Winkelman outlet is marking its 10th year in the center this spring and is the first store to complete an extensive renovation prior to a planned anniversary celebration.

5 Superior Ratings in Music Festival

All from Washington Junior

High School, the students were: Mary Beth Belanger for a flute solo, Nancy Wirth for a Bb clarinet solo; David Rath for a trombone solo; and Mark Boothe and Kenneth Bryson for their snare drum solos.

Federal government agencies last year adopted more than 100,000 suggestions submitted by employees.

Immunize Your Baby for Some Diseases

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

So far as the welfare of babies in North America is concerned, every baby should be immunized against smallpox and diphtheria.

Immunization against smallpox is vaccination. Best time to vaccinate the baby is at the age of three months. In any event, it must be done before the baby is a year old. It is for your physician to decide whether vaccination should be postponed.

Best time to immunize the baby against diphtheria is at the age of 6 to 9 months, by an injection of diphtheria toxoid. Two months later a second injection of toxoid. Six months later a Schick test to determine whether the baby is immune.

If the baby is immune there will be no redness at the site of injection four days after the injection. If redness shows four days after the injection, the baby is not immunized — is still susceptible to diphtheria and should have at least one more injection of diphtheria toxoid to acquire sufficient immunity.

WHOOPING-COUGH

It is questionable whether whooping-cough vaccine gives the child protection against whooping-cough. I don't know of any convincing statistics upon which to base the practice of giving such injections.

On the other hand, I know of no dangerous or harmful effects of three injections of whooping-cough (pertussis) vaccine, a week apart, to infants at the age of 6 months. So my advice about this is, do as your doctor says — or change doctors.

It is good practice, I think, to give tetanus (lockjaw) in the same injection with diphtheria toxoid, when the baby is 6 to 9 months old, two or three injections a couple of months apart. The protection this gives against tetanus is not absolute and not permanent.

Expelled Prof Has Hepatitis

LONDON (AP)—Dr. William B. Harvey, expelled from the University of Michigan for alleged subversive activities, arrived in London Wednesday night.

The University of Michigan professor was immediately taken to the Tropical Diseases Hospital for treatment of hepatitis, a liver ailment. The hospital would not comment on his condition.

Harvey was the last of six western professors to be deported.

Charge d'Affaires Oliver Troxell led a delegation from the U.S. Embassy to see Harvey off. Vice Chancellor Conor Cruise O'Brien, faculty members and students from the University of Ghana were among other well-wishers at the airport.

EXCLUSIVE INTEREST

"My exclusive interest in Ghana has been the university (of Ghana) and the welfare of the university will continue to be my interest," Harvey said.

President Kwame Nkrumah is chancellor of the university, where scholarship requirements are being revised to tighten control over students. Educators expressed belief the government purge is far from finished.

Harvey, 41, is a member of the University of Michigan. He took a two-year leave to come here in September 1962 with his wife Mary and son, Kenneth, 13.

He is working on a book about Ghana's legal structure.

OTHERS EXPELLED

Expelled along with Harvey for what the government termed "activities prejudicial to the security of the state" were Prof. Louis H. Schuster, 56, an American Negro teacher of business administration from New Haven, Conn.; Robert Seidman, 43, a law professor from South Norwalk, Conn.; Wendell A. Jeanpierre, a Negro French teacher from New Orleans; and Rev. J. V. Stewart, an Anglican chaplain from Britain; and Gaston Greco, a French instructor from the West Indies.

But it minimizes the danger of death from lockjaw following a slight wound, and this effect may be prolonged for years by a "booster" injection of tetanus toxoid at any future time.

DOCTOR IS JUDGE

When the baby is thus immunized against smallpox, diphtheria and tetanus, any other immunization treatment may be left to the judgment of the attending physician in any circumstance.

Immunization against typhoid fever, generally advisable if not mandatory for persons going out of the United States, is only rarely necessary for infants at home.

So-called vaccination against influenza of whatever type is unwarranted, in my judgment.

Immunization of children against infantile paralysis (poliomyelitis) with the Salk or Sabin oral vaccine has recently come to be routine practice whenever or wherever polio is epidemic.

Signed letters, not more than a page or two words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady. A stamped and addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. (Copyright, 1964)

Professor Upheld in JFK Criticism

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI)—The right of a University of Illinois classicist to attack the late President John F. Kennedy in a John Birch Society periodical was upheld yesterday by a top school official.

Dr. Jack W. Pellason, dean of the college of liberal arts and sciences and acting provost of the university, said he considered the attack by Prof. Revilo P. Oliver "in bad taste and offensive."

But Pellason said his own reaction was "irrelevant."

The editor of the student newspaper, an Illinois congressman and the president of the university board of trustees all defended Oliver's right to make the attack on Kennedy, which appeared in the current issue of the John Birch Society magazine, American Opinion.

FELL BEHIND
Oliver, a professor of the classics, a member of the Birch Society's national council and a frequent book reviewer for the Birch magazine, said in his article that Kennedy was assassinated because he fell behind in a Communist timetable for turning over the United States to the Russians.

Oliver said Kennedy's memory would be "cherished with distaste."

Howard W. Clement, president of the university's board of trustees, said he disagreed with Oliver "headon" but added that Oliver "has the right as a private citizen to express himself and is so guaranteed those rights by the statutes of the university."

Rep. Melvin Price, D-Ill., said Oliver's ideas were "regrettable" but that as long as the professor's political views did not color his teaching, his job should not be in jeopardy.

"BASE ATTACK"
Robert Ebert, editor of the Daily Illini, said Oliver's article was a "base and unwarranted attack" against Kennedy.

dy, but said he saw "nothing wrong with his speaking out."

"Only a strong and free society could permit Prof. Oliver his own freedom," Ebert said in an editorial.

Pellason said he had been assured Oliver "does not use his classroom to promote his own political views."

Nearly four years ago, a University of Illinois biologist was fired after he wrote a letter to the student newspaper advocating premarital sexual relations for "mature" persons.

Draft Said Unlikely by Romney

SAGINAW (AP)—Gov. George W. Romney described remarks that he might be drafted as a Republican presidential candidate as "presumptuous, remote and unlikely" Wednesday night in an address to a Saginaw Lincoln Day dinner.

Romney told the overflow audience of 300 that his widely publicized statement that he would accept a draft was "misinterpreted" and added that prior to his election as governor he stated that he would not be a candidate for national office in 1964.

"I've kept that pledge up to now and I don't expect to change," he said. "I'd be more likely to die between now and November than be drafted."

FUTURE PLANS
Commenting on his future plans—including running for governor again—Romney said he "probably will have something to say about that in a few weeks."

In a speech focused generally on Michigan finances, Romney said national confidence and faith in Michigan have been restored because of the state's improved financial condition.

Police Arrest Cuban Exile

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A Cuban exile, said by U.S. customs agents to be an arms carrier for an anti-Castro organization, was held today after police discovered 10 cases of bazooka ammunition in his car.

Customs agent W. B. Lankford identified the exile as Juan Miguel Rassi, 21, of the anti-Castro Alpha 66 organization. Rassi was arrested near here Wednesday night after a Florida Highway Patrol trooper stopped to help him with a flat tire and spotted the explosives. Police also found 24 hunting knives in the vehicle.

Lankford said Rassi was on his way to Miami from New York. He was charged with illegal transportation of explosives.

Union Official Gets 2-Year Sentence

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Kalamazoo union local official Albert L. White was sentenced Wednesday to two years in prison and two years' probation after a turnabout plea of guilty to violations of the Landrum-Griffin Labor Act.

White, 43, was secretary-treasurer of Local 640, International Hodcarriers Building & Common-Laborers Union, AFL-CIO. He pleaded guilty Jan. 3 to a 15-count information but last Friday stood mute and a plea of innocent was ordered entered for him pending trial.

The prison term was handed down on the first count and sentence was suspended on the others.

Shriver to Lead Poverty War

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

POVERTY DRIVE: In a letter President Johnson has given Sargent Shriver his orders for mounting the administration's campaign against poverty.

"You will direct the activities of all executive departments and agencies involved in the program against poverty," said the President, who also expressed his gratitude to Shriver for agreeing to take on the job.

Shriver, brother-in-law of the late President John F. Kennedy, will also carry on as Peace Corps director.

SIT AT CABINET

The President asked Shriver to sit in on Cabinet meetings and to serve as his representative in presenting to Congress the administration views on legislation for the program.

All department heads and their personnel, Johnson said in the letter Wednesday, have been urged "to dedicate themselves to this great task."

GUANTANAMO WATER: Cubans temporarily piped water to the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo, but the Navy said the base kept the valves closed at its end, holding to the U.S. decision not to accept any more water from the Castro regime.

Pressure built up in the pipes by 9 a.m. Tuesday, the Navy announced Wednesday, then dropped again indicating the pumps had again been turned off on the Cuban side.

LATEST REPORT

The Navy said that as of Wednesday morning, the Navy base had 11.2 million gallons of water on hand and two water ships are on the way from Norfolk, Va. A third is headed for Port Everglades, Fla., to take on water and carry it to Guantanamo.

DOLLAR FLOW: The United States made headway last year in its anxious efforts to ease the balance of payments problem. Since 1950, more dollars have been flowing abroad than returning.

In 1962, the U.S. balance of payments was $3.6 billion in the red. By last spring it reached an alarming annual rate of $5.2 billion.

DEFICIT CUT

Figures issued by the Commerce Department Wednesday showed that the deficit had been cut to about $3 billion by year's end and was running at an annual rate of a little more than $1.5 billion in the final six months of 1963.

NEW PEAK: The crew of a U.S. Navy plane has discovered a new mountain range in Antarctica and dropped the Stars and Stripes on its tallest peak.

The Navy announced the discovery Wednesday, saying the plane had located the 4,000- to 6,000-foot range three days ago in an uncharted area of Queen Maud Land. The pilot of the plane was Lt. Cmdr. R. J. Dickerson of Pocatello, Idaho.

The number of coal miners in the nation has declined from 875,000 in the mid-1920s to about 150,000 today.

City Manager's Exit a Foreseen Outcome

City Manager ROBERT A. CARTER made a wise move in resigning his position.

The minute he was arrested and indicted in the Flint land scandal, the reputation of the City of Pontiac suffered another blow.

We all recognize the American principle of innocence until guilt is proven. No one has said Carter is guilty.

He has denied any wrongdoing, repeatedly. Even suspension from his position until the matter was cleared would not have indicated his guilt, or his innocence.

Pending the outcome of the proposed "investigation" of the police department, Police Chief Joseph Koren was suspended. He wasn't even charged with any crime.

But when the man they had appointed city manager was accused, certain commissioners wouldn't hear of suspending him.

Mr. CARTER is in the hands of American justice.

Terry's Olympic Win Real Life Fairy Tale

Nearly as fictional as the half-century old "Hans Bricker and the Silver Skates" is today's tale of TERRY McDERMOTT and the gold skates.

Fiction and reality, however, meet strangely. Neither the fictional Hans of Holland nor our flesh-and-blood TERRY owned the skates that bore them to fame.

For Terry, the skates were golden, because they brought him and America the only gold medal won by the United States in the Winter Olympics just completed at Innsbruck, Austria.

The electrifying 23-year-old Essexville barber who flashed on borrowed skates to a world's record 40.1 seconds for the 500 meters did much to balm the wounds suffered by U. S. contestants in the advance division of the 1964 Olympiad.

The modest, vibrant hero symbolizes fine and exemplary American youth in every respect, and Michigan and the Nation join in acclaiming his brilliant performance.

Long-Awaited Break Seen for Taxpayers

Now as certain as the proverbial death and taxes is the cut in taxes that has been shuttlecocked in Congress for a year.

A $11 billion reduction in income tax proposal cleared the House last September and, upped $500 million, has emerged from the Senate.

It is now in House-Senate Committee reconciliation, with likelihood that the agreed-upon cut could become law by March 1.

Reduction of personal and corporate taxes would be effected in two stages. The first, affecting 1964 income, would drop the minimum personal tax rate from 20 to 16 percent, and to 14 percent on 1965 income. The minimum rate for corporations would be cut from 30 to 22 percent in one step.

Graduated reductions for both personal and corporate income would be allowed in all income brackets up to the maximum where, after the second year, the rate on the former would be reduced from 91 to 70 percent, and on the latter from 52 to 48 percent.

Economists and business analysts are virtually unanimous in predictions of the great stimulating effect the diversion of the tax cut to private and business channels would have on the national economy.

As a result, the current business expansion now in its 35th month—topped only by the 45-month upsurge that coincided with the Korean War—may well be prolonged indefinitely.

LBJ Gets Mad at Policy Critics

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has a thin skin and some of his critics are getting under it already. He hit back. He called them "bellyachers," although he didn't identify them.

This evidence that Johnson can be irritated so early in a presidential campaign year will probably just encourage Republicans, who have been criticizing his handling of foreign policy, to do more of the same.

The degree of Johnson's irritation can be glimpsed from part of a talk he made Tuesday to agents of the Internal Revenue Service.

"When I became a Democratic leader in the Senate when President Eisenhower was president, I took the position politics stopped at the water's edge," Johnson said.

"We had but one president and one commander in chief. I would support his policies and give him strength and comfort, and I would not be aligning myself with any enemies of the United States in criticizing him."

His talk at least had the effect of raising a pertinent question about himself. If he can get this hot this soon, what's his temperature going to be when the presidential campaign really gets rolling?

CRITICAL OF POLICY
In the 1960 presidential campaign years—before he got the Democratic vice presidential nomination on the ticket with John F. Kennedy—Johnson was critical of Eisenhower's handling of foreign policy.

And he was critical before that, during those years of his majority leadership, which he mentioned Tuesday.

If Johnson runs for election this year, as expected, and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon once again is the Republican presidential candidate, as he was in 1960, this will be the 1960 campaign in reverse.

IN THAT POSITION
In that 1960 campaign, Nixon, after two terms as Eisenhower's vice president, was in a political box. He had to defend the Eisenhower-Nixon foreign policy while Democrats were free to bang at it.

DID HIS SHARE
Johnson did his share of banging, although Kennedy did the most of the talking. Now Johnson will have to defend his policy while Nixon is free to criticize.

Recently Nixon said some areas of U. S. foreign policy need a "new direction." He mentioned Latin America, especially Panama, and Southeast Asia.

In 1960 Johnson said "we need a new, vigorous and different foreign policy," and he especially called for a "positive and dynamic" policy for Latin America. He was also critical of American Asian policy.

THE RELATIONSHIP
The relationship between Johnson and Nixon, judging from what they have said about each other, could hardly be called clubby.

Nixon recently called Johnson a "past master of a political shell-game" with "something for everybody—liberal to the liberals, conservative to the conservatives."

In 1960 Johnson called Nixon "dangerous" and "deceptive" and accused him of "resorting in the campaign that year to the kind of language little boys write on fences."

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Nineteen-year-old Lynda Bird Johnson can be glad that she's the daughter of a president, rather than of a queen or king.

If the dimpled brunette charmer goes through with her pre-White House plans to marry her Roman Catholic fiancé this summer, no Cabinet crisis will erupt—as in the Netherlands.

She will not have to live in exile abroad, or even to renounce her rights to the presidency if the voters choose to elect her someday.

Lynda Bird, like any other red-blooded American teen-ager, has been avidly following press reports of Dutch Princess Irene's stormy road to romance with Spanish Prince Carlos de Borbon y Parma.

The 24-year-old blonde princess, second in line to the Dutch throne, stirred up a rumormongering by becoming a Catholic convert and announcing her engagement to the dashing prince whose 74-year-old Montgomerie father heads the Carlist branch of the Spanish royal family.

PARENTS APPROVE
Princess Irene's parents approve the match, but although Queen Juliana is the richest monarch in the world, she is not the boss of her own cabinet.

Those august gentlemen, reminding that the Dutch royal family has been Protestant for 300 years and recalling Dutch hostility to the Franco regime in Spain, turned thumbs down on the marriage.

Rather than give up her Catholic faith and religion, the princess renounced her rights to the throne and has agreed to live in exile in France after the marriage.

Young people have a way of arranging their own meetings, however, without an assist from papa. Princess Irene and Prince Carlos met at a ball in Pamplona last July, when she waved to him.

Lynda Bird met her future fiancé, now Lieutenant (jg.) Bernard Rosenbach, while working at her mother's TV station KTCB in Austin during the summer of 1961.

PINS LYNDIA
Bernie asked a mutual friend for an introduction, and gave her his Annapolis class pin the following Christmas.

They became formally engaged last summer, and when Lynda returned to her sophomore classes at the University of Texas last fall, she was planning a June wedding. Then her father became President.

Even if Lynda does not become a Catholic convert, she must agree to bring up her children in the faith of her husband.

Far from causing a cabinet crisis in America, such a union could actually give an assist to the election chances of her father, who succeeded to office through the tragic assassination of this nation's first Catholic president.

Bob Considine Says:

California Aerial Tram Is Engineering Wonder

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. —

Any additional reason for visiting this area, where the sun maintains a year-round residence, is redundant.

Palm Springs has what must be the finest spa in the world today, built around an eternal gush of healing and soothing water that nurtured life and needed aboriginal aches and turies before the Spaniards came this way.

Its desert sands are sprinkled with dazzling carpets of glorious little flowers where prospectors once died.

It has 16 golf courses in and out of the city, and 3,100 swimming pools — one for every five residents.

Orange, grapefruit, lemon and date groves abound, and one's eyes reach upward from them to a snow-capped peak of Mt. San Jacinto presiding as austere as a bewigged British magistrate over the remarkable oasis.

To all these wonders now has been added what must be the most entrancing ride on this side of the world.

AERIAL TRAMWAY

It is the recently opened Palm Springs Aerial Tramway, the largest and longest (and, I'd guess, steepest) single-lift passenger-carrying apparatus of its kind in the world. It alone is worth a visit here.

The tramway cost $8,150,000, privately raised by a bond issue. It is under the jurisdiction of the Winter Park Authority.

Incredibly, not one life was lost during the construction of one of the engineering wonders of our time.

The trip must be taken to validate the use of the word "incredibly."

IS IT NECESSARY?

The moment the car eases away from the valley base station (which is reached by a new 4-mile road that winds up from the city) the rider is inclined to ask himself, as did the crews of World War II bombers, "Is this trip necessary?"

There is a bit of a dip, and the car dips gently as the 214-foot-high first tower is negotiated. Everybody gives off his special type of gasp, then laughs.

The car goes on, smooth as silk, climbing over a terrain that may be what an astronaut will see as he hovers over the moon.

There is suddenly snow below, now, and timeless rocks, trees and wildlife. The other tram passes, on its way back down, and it is like a suspended flying saucer.

The last leg, all but vertical against the precipitous face of the mountain, is 714 feet of sheer and uplifting wonder.

Then the docking, and 33 degrees temperature, and men shivering show down on the heat-washed desert so wondrously far below.

U.S. Set to Meet Red Challenge

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — American troubles in Africa are certain to increase in late 1964 and in 1965 when sizeable numbers of the 5,000 African students now being educated in Soviet Russia and Eastern Europe begin returning to Africa.

Even if the Soviet Union is successful in lining up only a tenth of that 5,000 as agents in the Castro style, these few can be extremely dangerous at the right time—in a fistful of the weak African countries.

Forty Castro-trained agents probably swung the balance in the Zanzibar revolt. Very small numbers of British troops — 60 or — put down the revolting troops in Tanganyika and Kenya.

These figures indicate what small numbers are required at the right time in the right spot to control the situation or swing it one way or another in many places in confused Africa.

Red China is now offering scholarships to Africans. There are reports that Chou En-lai has made progress in his good will trip through Africa.

There are a number of other cadres in Communist hands. Most of the governments in Africa are weak now. Because of their inexperience in self-government, their shortage of eco-

'Help, Hope Are Available for Alcoholics' Families'

Many families of alcoholics have taken beatings and verbal abuse as the alcoholic changes from gentle Dr. Jekyll to vicious Mr. Hyde. It's a nerve crushing, heartbreaking agony to live with a person who's alcoholism gets worse.

The alcoholic and his family need and deserve help. There is help and hope for the entire family even before he begins to think of needing it. Alanon and Alateen are the best sources. These are fellowships where one can find courage, strength and faith.

If there is a drinking problem in your home, don't wait until your life is in complete chaos. Try Alanon, Alateen and AA located at the Oakland County Alanon Center and other meeting places in the county.

A Recovering Family Wants Athletic Competition at OU

We have watched with pride the development of a fine academic institution at Oakland University. Many members of the demic institution at Oakland University. Many members of the community favor interscholastic athletic competition for a school of the stature of Oakland University. Interscholastic competition would increase community support and improve student pride and interest.

Bill Graham
(Editor's Note: Don't you mean "intercollegiate athletics"? You provide the money for athletic fields and there will surely be intercollegiate athletics.)

'Talented Sophomore Being Mistreated'

Congratulations Pontiac Northern High on your upcoming "Oklahomah," but aren't you mistreating a talented sophomore for a post-graduate? You admit the sophomore qualifies yet discredit her until her parents removed her from the east. Why not let college students compete with other college students? What about the tickets that have been sold for this sophomore's performance?

Suggests City Install Home Incinerators

Why can't the city underwrite a program to install garbage grinders and incinerators in homes? The city could buy them from the manufacturers and sell them to the home owners, spreading the cost over 3 years on the tax roll. This has been done in many cities. Even a can crusher could be made out of two short-hinged planks.

Claims Trash Containers Mishandled

I read in The Press that the city is going to crack down on trash violators because of improper containers. We're ready to crack up at the way our containers get thrown around. It's nice having weekly trash pickups, but would be nicer to find containers on your property rather than in the street. Maybe people would use proper containers if they were sure they would get them back.

'Gain Child's Confidence at Early Age'

It's difficult to know who to strike out against—"Bobby-Soxer" or Mrs. G. H. Erickson. I agree with "Bobby-Soxer" that we learn by examples. It appears that she does know the difference between right and wrong. We are going through a phase where it seems to be right to blame everyone but ourselves if we fail. Mrs. Erickson's letter is of the same vein. Do we have such poor understanding with our children that we don't know when something is wrong? The time to win your child's confidence is before he enters school. We must teach children that we can listen to their problems and help them in making decisions.

Lake Orion

Mrs. C. Robbins

ism in Africa means racism. The Africans are also fed up with "colonialism." This means, the experts reason, that the Africans will shy away from being satellites of any power—especially any non-African power.

The Red Chinese are working on this very point. They're accusing the Russians of being "white" and playing on the strong African racist feelings. They've attempted to exclude Russians from Afro-Asiatic meetings.

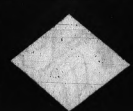

The U.S. experts reason, too, that when Russian-trained agents return to Africa in numbers and when and if Zanzibar agents begin to infiltrate continental Africa, there will be a strong reaction against them.

The U.S. policy will be, they suggest, to be always available to help African governments when they're called on. We'll be over backward to not even seem to interfere. We'll train as many and educate more Africans than the Russians.

The U.S. government's hope is that when there's trouble, as in Tanganyika and Kenya, the Africans will call in the West, not the East.

JESUS ENTERS JERICHO

The little man in the sycamore tree was a rich and rather infamous person in Jericho. He was Zacchaeus, chief among the town's publicans. Hearing that Jesus was coming on His last, momentous journey to Jerusalem, he had climbed up for a better view.

"Zacchaeus, make haste and come down," Jesus called out to him, "for today I must abide at thy house."

The crowd murmured about Jesus staying at the house of a sinner, but He used the opportunity to show He had come to save all mankind.

"This day is salvation come to this house," He said, "forasmuch as he is a son of Abraham. For the Son of Man is come to seek and to save that which was lost." (Luke XIX:9-10)

Graham Says People Rebel Against Cross

ANN ARBOR (AP) — People dislike the cross because it tells them they are wrong, evangelist Billy Graham told more than 4,000 University of Michigan students Wednesday in a lecture on "The Cross and the Secular World."

"People rebel when they hear about the cross because it says to the world 'your racial prejudice is wrong; your immorality is wrong; your envy, hatred, bitterness and lying are wrong,'" he said. "And we don't like to be told we are wrong."

Graham, speaking in the second of three lectures sponsored by the U. of M. Office of Religious Affairs and the Michigan Christian Fellowship, told his audience "at a time when you must decide."

"One day the race problem will come to your neighborhood, your fraternity, and you can no longer be neutral," he said.

Juror Says Beckwith Decision Deadlocked in Angry Session

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The jury in Mississippi's toughest murder trial was deadlocked at an angry 6-6 when a mistrial was declared, a juror said today.

recalling the 11 hours in which 12 men, locked away in a small room, pondered the fate of Byron De La Beckwith.

Beckwith, 43, a militant segregationist from Greenwood, Miss., was accused of murdering a Negro civil rights leader, Medgar Evers, 37, of Jackson, in an effort to suppress integration activities.

A juror, who asked that he not be named, said the opening ballot was 10-2 for acquittal. On this point there was some confusion, however.

Another juror agreed with the 10-2 opening ballot. Two others later.

All agree the arguments in the jury room, adjoining the Circuit Court courtroom, had reached the flash point.

"We got so mad we would all have to stop talking 15 or 20 minutes and simmer down," one juror said. "It was pretty bad. We knew it would never change."

The jury was seated in glowing silence around the rectangular oaken table when Judge Leon Hendrick sent the balliff to pound on the door and bring them out for polling.

The mistrial came last Friday. It astonished almost everybody in this segregationist stronghold, including Negro leaders who had predicted a "whitewash."

Quick acquittal had been freely predicted. The case had aroused strong passions. It was generally agreed that the jurors were in an unenviable position if any adverse verdict was returned.

Three-fifths of the components of smog come from automobiles and buses, burning of trash and the heating of homes, stores and office buildings.

U.S. Indicts 2 on Car Charge

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A Holland auto parts dealer and a Chicago man were indicted by a federal grand jury Wednesday on charges of receiving and selling stolen cars in an interstate operation.

Named in the action were Howard M. Veneklasen, 42, owner-operator of H. M. Veneklasen Auto Parts at Holland, and Joseph T. Mack, 22, of Chicago. Assistant U. S. Attorney David Soet said Veneklasen, arrested last Dec. 5 is free on $5,000 bond and faces arraignment Feb. 18. Mack is free on $2,000 bond and will be arraigned March 3.

SIX COUNTS

Veneklasen is charged in six counts with receiving stolen cars transported from Chicago to Holland. Mack is charged in these counts with transporting stolen cars from Chicago to Holland and Chicago to Grand Rapids.

Both also are named in another count charging that they conspired to transport stolen cars in interstate commerce between August, 1962, and last October.

Armed Forces to Be Unified

British Defense Budget Higher for 1964-65

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home's government announced today a slightly increased defense budget for 1964-65 and said all branches of the armed forces will be unified in a single department April 1.

Emphasizing its desire to keep up Britain's nuclear arsenal, the government proposed military expenditures of 1,900,000,000 pounds ($5.5 billion), an increase of 100,000,000 pounds ($450 million).

The British defense budget is slightly more than 10 per cent of the $52.4 billion sought by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara for the coming fiscal year.

The government allocated $1.5 billion for the Royal Navy and about $1.4 billion for the army and air force. The remainder is set aside for defense-related projects, including secret weapon research.

UNIFIED DEFENSE

Plans for setting up a unified defense ministry under a single secretary have been afoot for months. The defense budget, issued as a government white paper, said the point had now been reached where, subject to parliamentary approval, it was possible to name April 1 as the effective date.

Mrs. Kennedy in NY

to Discuss JFK Library

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy, widow of the late president, arrived Tuesday with two secretaries for what was described as a visit of several days.

Mrs. Kennedy is to discuss plans for the library at Cambridge, Mass., which will be built as a memorial to President Kennedy.

Warts, a virus infection of the outer layer of the skin, are most common on hands, fingers and soles of the feet. They are contagious, but often they just disappear.

The white paper reiterated the Conservative government's determination to make and keep in readiness Britain's own nuclear army.

The opposition Labor party contends that this is a waste of money and that outlays for nuclear weapons should be permitted to dwindle away as Britain's means of delivery — mainly its jet bombers — become obsolete.

The Conservatives, however, insist that Britain must have an H-bomb weapons system if the nation is to be accepted as a major power.

De Gaulle Latin Tour

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle probably will visit Argentina in September or October, a delegation of five French deputies said today. The French president also plans visits to Mexico, Martinique and other Latin-American countries.

"It is the government's policy not only to contribute forces to the main Western strategic deterrent but to maintain an independent British deterrent," the white paper said.

The role of the jet bombers eventually will be taken over by British-built nuclear submarines capable of firing U.S.-

built Polaris missiles. An initial force of four submarines is planned and their missiles will be under British control, the government added.

Report on Baker Probe Witness

Pentagon Delay Likely on Air Force Memo

WASHINGTON — Unless the political heat becomes unbearable, the Pentagon may try to string out indefinitely its "search" for a purported Air Force memo reflecting adversely on a key witness in the Bobby Baker probe.

Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester promised yesterday to check on whether such a memo exists.

It appears likely the Pentagon may try as long as it can to answer all inquiries on the matter by saying it still is checking.

Whether the Defense Department and the Johnson administration can withstand the pressure in this campaign year remains to be seen.

ALLEGATIONS OF LEAK

There have been allegations that the White House or some other source in the administration leaked to columnist Drew Pearson a memo containing derogatory material on the military career of Don B. Reynolds, a Silver Spring, Md., insurance man.

Lawton Serviceman

Dies From Injuries

SUMTER, S.C. (AP) — Capt. Jerry R. Burhaus, 37, of Lawton, Mich., died Wednesday of injuries suffered in a Feb. 4 auto accident near Shaw Air Force Base, where he was stationed with the 363rd Reconnaissance Technical Squadron. Police said Burhaus lost control of his car on Highway 441 about two miles from the base. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Florence J. Burhaus, of Lawton.

Although it is an inland city, Chicago handles more water-borne traffic than the Panama Canal in one year.

This has been described by critics as an effort to discredit Reynolds, who testified to the Senate Rules Committee that he gave President Johnson an expensive stereo set when Johnson was Senate majority leader and Baker was secretary of the Senate Democrats.

NOT REACHED
Zuckert could not be reached for comment.
Interviewed by phone, Frigate told a reporter, "I can't give you any information. You'll have to go to Mr. Sylvester."

But then—without confirming or denying the existence of the purported memo—Frigate said it was "all internal business."

This was terminology similar to that used by Sylvester yesterday after he said he would check whether there was a memo on Reynolds and his military career.

If such a memorandum was an inter-office communication, Sylvester said, reporters had no right to it.

Total prime military contracts placed in Massachusetts in fiscal 1962 amounted to $1.3 million.

Barry Sees California as HIS Golden State

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, apparently staking much of his presidential hope on California, aims to turn its primary into a bandwagon that would carry him to the Republican nomination.

Panning for votes in the Golden State, the Arizona conservative says the victor in the June 2 primary "will be the Republican nominee."

And Goldwater told a Lincoln Day dinner in Sacramento last night that he expects to be the one, declaring:

"I intend to win in California — win big, both in the primary election and in the general election in November."

California, he said, "have repeatedly demonstrated that when they are given a choice between conservative principles and ultra-liberalism, they vote for the more conservative candidate."

DESPICABLE ATTACKS

At a news conference earlier in San Francisco, Goldwater said the John Birch Society attacks on the late President John F. Kennedy were "despicable" but repeated that he will not disavow the organization's support.

He declared that the Americans for Democratic Action, the United Auto Workers Union and its president, Walter Reuther, are a "greater menace" to the American system than the John Birch Society.

"These are the people who advocate socialism," he said.

Two of Goldwater's rivals for the Republican presidential nomination — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine — braved New Hampshire's below-zero weather in pursuit of votes in that state's March 10 primary — the first in the nation.

Shaking hands and trooping his cavalcade through stores and diners, Rockefeller criticized President Johnson for his foreign policy and chided Goldwater for underrating the importance of the New Hampshire primary.

IMPORTANT PRIMARY

Rockefeller called it a very important primary "because it is the first opportunity for the people . . . to learn where the various candidates stand on the important issues of the day."

Rockefeller, who even climbed a ladder yesterday to greet secretaries leaning out the window of a shoe-making plant, has stepped up his person-to-person campaigning. His advisers believe Goldwater's popularity has slipped in the Granite State and that Rockefeller can win some of his supporters with more side-walk politicking.

Mrs. Smith, meanwhile, was running pretty much the same kind of person-to-person campaign but pitched to the theme that "I'm not against anyone. I'm running just the way I do in Maine, on my record, and I challenge anyone to match it."

In the 23 years she spent in the Senate and House, Mrs. Smith said she missed only one roll call out of 1,591.

NOT TOO OLD

"I stood up to be counted

every time but one — that should answer those people who say I'm too old to run for the presidency," declared the 66-year-old widow.

Like Goldwater and Rockefeller, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon was pounding at Johnson's foreign policy.

Nixon, who says he would accept a draft but isn't seeking the GOP presidential nomination, told a Republican Lincoln Day dinner in Cincinnati that Johnson's policy is inconsistent, uncertain and appears to be weak.

"It is difficult to name any place in the world where the United States is not being blackmailed, threatened, insulted or knocked around by some pip-squeak dictator," he said.

Italians Get a Raise for Cost of Living Hike

ROME (AP) — Nine million Italian workers are getting 5 to 17 cents more a day because of the latest rise in the cost of living.

The cost of living index for the past three months rose three points. This meant automatic pay hikes for industrial, farm and store employees for the current quarter.

Engineering Week

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George W. Romney has proclaimed next week "Engineering Week in Michigan."

Rarely seen in the wild, the New Zealand kiwi burrows like a ground hog and spends the day underground.

Caucus Set in Clarkston

4 Area Primaries to Narrow Fields

Voters in four area communities, two cities and two villages, will limit the field of contenders in spring elections with balloting in primary elections next week.

A caucus in Clarkston is also scheduled.

Monday, qualified electors of Troy, Oxford and Romeo will reduce the number of candidates for office. In Wixom voters will cut the number of office-seekers from 11 to nine with balloting Tuesday.

WIXOM

Two of the six candidates vying for two city posts will be eliminated in the Wixom primary election.

Incumbent Wesley E. McAttee is seeking reelection as mayor. Opposing him for the two-year term are Justice of the Peace William Wells and City Councilwoman Mrs. Lottie Chambers.

The other trio, one of whom will be moved off the ballot, is competing for the 4-year position as justice of the peace.

They are former Mayor Joseph Stadnik, 4638 Pontiac Trail; Elwood Grubb, 1922 Beck; and Harry Wimmer, 2742 Wixom.

Seeking reelection to their seats on the council are incumbents Oscar Simmons Jr., Gunar Mettala and Fred Beasheim.

Opposing them for the four-year terms are Gene Kohlhorst, 1412 Morning Dove, and Donald Nisses, 3300 W. Maple.

The three council candidates receiving the highest number of votes in the April 6 nonpartisan election here will win the vacant council seats.

TROY

In Troy, six candidates have filed nominating petitions for the two three-year posts on the City Commission. The terms of Commissioners James F. Carey and Robert J. Bargert are expiring this year.

Bargert has decided not to run for health reasons, but Carey is seeking reelection.

Other candidates seeking to fill the commission vacancies are former Troy Police Chief David E. Grattop; Ronald Rounsaville, 1516 W. Robert L. Doolin, 151 Tacoma; Clancy A. Fonesth, 314 Lyons; and Gerald R. Herschberger, 285 E. Long Lake.

Two of the contenders will be eliminated in Monday's nonpartisan balloting. The top four vote-getters will face each other again in the April 6 general election.

ROMEO

Although the purpose of Monday's primary election in Romeo is to eliminate one of the two Republican candidates for clerk, four declared write-in candidates promise to make it a political battle.

Vying for the clerk's position being vacated by Mrs. Dorothy Carl will be Councilman Norman Engel and Mrs. Phyllis Mellen, 254 E. St. Clair.

Only two names will appear on the ballot for the three vacant two-year council terms. Incumbents Tony Galin and Jack McPadden are seeking reelection. The third incumbent whose term expires is Engel, now running for clerk.

Although Martin Durham of 275 Benjamin filed nominating petitions for office as a Democrat he learned this week that his petitions were invalid because a Democrat has not sought office in the two previous elections. All others are Republicans.

Durham is one of three who have declared themselves write-in candidates for the council vacancies. Others are James C. Burke, 355 N. Bailey and Thomas S. Raymond, 197 Washington.

Opposing incumbent Village President Wayne N. Black is another write-in candidate, former Police Chief Edgar Welsh.

Other names appearing on Monday's ballot will include Fred Ebeling, who is unopposed for election as assessor. Ebeling was appointed to the post after the death of Elgin Anger.

Library board members Edgar Priest and Thomas J. Schultz also are unopposed for reelection.

After Monday's primary election narrows the field, the remaining contenders will vie for office in the March 9 general election.

OXFORD

In Oxford, eight political hopefuls are vying for three council vacancies, including the three incumbents whose terms expire.

Village President Allen E. Valentine is seeking his fifth term on the council. Incumbent Trustees Lionel J. Kamm and E. Wayne Converse also will seek reelection.

Monday's primary election is necessary because more than two have filed for each office.

Opposing the incumbents are F. Ray Forman, 38 Denison; John C. Flumerfelt, 47 N. Washington; Homer Hight, 97 Denison; James Schaeble, 67 Pontiac; and Mrs. Grace Smith, 71 Pontiac.

Up for grabs in the nonpartisan election March 9 are a pair of two-year terms on the council and a one-year term.

Six of the eight candidates voted on Monday will remain in contention for the three openings.

CLARKSTON

In Clarkston members of the Citizens Party will hold a caucus at 8 p.m. Monday in the Village Hall to name its slate of candidates for the March 9 election.

Present village officials whose terms are expiring are Robert C. Waters, president; Art Papas, clerk; Mrs. Prudence Dunstun, treasurer; and Lloyd Sibley, assessor. Also Herbert Beach, Harold Goyette and Earl Terry, trustees.

MARGARET A. LIVINGSTON

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard L. Livingston, 2355 Indianwood, Orion Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Ann, to David Godfrey MacColeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. MacColeman of Royal Oak. An Aug. 29 wedding is planned.

PTA's Join in Program

The Avondale Schools PTA Council is joining with local PTA's to present a combined Founders Day program at 7:30 tonight at the high school.

In addition to the presentation of awards, a film "The Innocent Party" will be shown. The movie deals with social health problems.

Mrs. Ellen Lippert, a registered nurse on the staff of the Oakland County Health Department, will discuss the film after its showing.

Linda Hamilton Wed to James W. Dunseith

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Mr. and Mrs. William K. Hamilton of 8740 23 Mile announce the recent marriage of their daughter, Linda L. Hamilton, to James W. Dunseith.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Dunseith of 1124 Crooks, Avon Township. The couple has been attending Central Michigan University.

Walled Lake Chief Pushes New Setup

WALLED LAKE — Chief James A. Decker wants to step out of the fire department picture for awhile — at least until it's back in focus.

The police chief was appointed temporary head of the fire department Jan. 21 upon resignation of Frank Hamilton.

At the same time, Mayor Milton A. Parrish appointed a committee of officials and citizens to study the fire department setup and make recommendations for its reorganization.

Headed by Councilwoman Mrs. Margaret A. Thibideau, the group was given a 60-day deadline.

Decker yesterday submitted a request that he be relieved of fire department duties until the City Council makes a decision on the operation.

"We are no closer to an answer than we were 30 days ago," the chief said this morning. "Either they want me to take this thing and run it like it should be run, or they don't."

City Manager Frank C. Derby also is getting impatient, but is unwilling to let Decker quit.

"I have no intention of relieving him of any duties pertaining to the fire department," he said. "I think he's a good man, I have confidence in his ability and I know he could work out a system to the satisfaction of the city."

FIVE ALTERNATIVES

He and Derby have worked out five alternative methods which will be presented to the council at its meeting Tuesday night.

The methods range from establishment of a strictly volunteer department to retention of the present system with two full-time men.

Another idea is the training of volunteers as police-firemen who would be scheduled to ride with the full-time patrolmen.

A base operator could be hired to work either with the strictly volunteer system or the police-fireman combination.

Decker said he would be willing to head a program once it was chosen, but he is anxious to get started.

The volunteer firemen who have been pinch-hitting in their spare hours also are anxious to see a decision made.

They have indicated they will cooperate under any system established by the council.

The chief said he would like to see the city hire a base operator so a radio dispatcher would be available on a 24-hour basis.

ANXIOUS FOR START

Decker said he would be willing to head a program once it was chosen, but he is anxious to get started.

The volunteer firemen who have been pinch-hitting in their spare hours also are anxious to see a decision made.

They have indicated they will cooperate under any system established by the council.

Extra Registration Offered for Voters

KEEOGE HARBOR — Voters who have few free weekday hours will be offered two special periods to register for the city's April 6 election.

Mrs. Edward Windey, deputy registrar, will be at the City Hall from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday and from 5 to 8 p.m. Wednesday.

March 6 is the last day to register for the spring election.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Municipal League to Air Constitution, Home Rule

TROY — Discussions of constitutional implementation and county home rule will highlight the program for the Annual Regional Meeting of Region IV of the Michigan Municipal League here Feb. 20.

Attending will be mayors, village presidents, councilmen and other elected and appointed officials from league-member cities and villages in Oakland, Macomb and Genesee counties.

The program will open with two concurrent sessions, one of which will be devoted to "Mass Transportation."

Lucas Mielch, general manager of the Detroit Street Railway Commission, will speak on the problems of metropolitan area transportation and their possible solutions.

FLINT MANAGER

Flint's City Manager Thomas Kay will discuss the operation of a bus system by a transportation authority in that city.

Moderator will be Wixom Mayor Wesley E. McAttee.

In the concurrent session, a panel will highlight various aspects of municipal problems.

A. C. Sherman, director, local government division, Michigan

State Highway Department, will review the accounting and administratively requirements of locally-shared highway fund revenues.

Another speaker will be Esley J. Rausch, finance director, East Detroit, who will discuss "Budgeting and Accounting."

The third panelist will be Allan W. Hertler, Royal Oak city attorney. He will talk about municipal liability in tort.

Milford Village President Wilbur M. Johnson will act as moderator.

In the second half of the afternoon program, State Senator Garry E. Brown, Schoolcraft, subcommittee chairman of the Joint Interim Committee on Implementation of the Constitution, will outline the problem of implementing the new Michigan Constitution. He also will discuss its impact upon state and local government organization, administration and operation.

Professor Arthur W. Bromage, chairman, department of political science, University of Michigan, will follow with a talk on the implications and potential effects on cities and villages of "County Home Rule" as provided under the new document.

Ferdinand Mayor Bruce D. Garbutt will serve as moderator in this session.

DINNER MEETING

At the dinner meeting, Robert E. Fryer, director of the Michigan Municipal League, will report on the league's 1964 legislative program. The meeting will conclude with the annual election of Regional Officers for 1964-65.

Present Region IV officers are Robert J. Huber, mayor of Troy; Harry K. Cull, city commissioner, Flint; and Charles H. Beaubien, city manager, East Detroit.

Regional officers serve as liaison between league headquarters and its regional member municipalities and play a great part in helping member officials realize and make use of league services.

Representing 426 member cities and villages in Michigan, the Michigan Municipal League serves to unite members in collectively striving for home rule and to promote higher standards of municipal government.

A Congregational minister and a member of many civic organizations, Dr. Frehse is former chairman of the Detroit Board of Education's Special Committee on Equal Opportunities in Education.

Last year, Dr. Frehse was awarded an honorary doctor of humanities degree by Wilberforce University, Ohio, for "statesmanship and pioneering in human relations."

MEETING SPONSOR

Sponsor of the public meetings is the Committee on Human Relations, a group of Rochester area residents temporarily organized to bring speakers who are authorities in human relations to the community.

Mrs. Alex Duffield of 6681

Winkler Mill, Avon Township, is chairman of the group.

Future speakers and their topics include Mrs. Rita Scott of the Detroit Community Relations Committee discussing "Free Choice on Housing" on March 2 at St. Philip's Episcopal Church.

Rounding out the programs will be the movie "Walk in My Shoes."

Dr. Morrill Clute, of Wayne State University, will lead discussion at this session, in St. Andrews Catholic Church on April 28.

All meetings will begin at 8 p.m. Purpose of the series is to help residents determine the course the Rochester area will follow in combating racial prejudices.

For County Farmers

Study Set on Migrant Labor

County fruit and vegetable growers have taken another step to "keep our own house in order," according to W. L. (Larry) Mainland, 2173 E. Commerce, Milford.

Pontiac is one of 10 sites across the state where adult study courses have been started to help farmers meet the problems posed by migratory farm labor.

Mainland, vice chairman of the year-old Michigan Farm Labor Management Committee, said 300 farmers had enrolled in the unique classes statewide.

He said the Farm Labor Management Committee, sponsored by the Michigan State Horticultural Society, was conceived more than a year ago to try to do something toward solving some problems of the migrants.

NONGOVERNMENTAL

The group is nongovernmental, he added, although several state agencies have given advice and the Michigan Department of Public Instruction helped set up the study classes.

Mainland said the aim is the overall improvement of conditions for the migrant worker.

"We're attempting to keep our own house in order," he added.

The farmers, Mainland explained, realize the problems that exist — poor living and working conditions, poor productivity, earnings, local law enforcement problems and the like.

HOPE FOR SOLUTION

The farm labor group hopes to solve some of these and help both the migrant laborer and the producer.

Mainland said he was pleased with the response to the study classes, which are entirely voluntary.

He said that previously they thought a hundred in the first classes would have made a good start.

The turnout, however, of the 300 farmers and growers proved a surprise. Mainland said this indicates the farmers' concern for the problem.

Story-Hour Series Planned by Library

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A series of story hours for preschool youngsters is planned by the West Bloomfield Township Library for March.

Any child four years or older who is not enrolled in elementary school is eligible to attend the Tuesday morning sessions.

Applications are now being accepted by Librarian Mrs. Marjorie Partridge at the library, 5030 Orchard Lake. The size of the group is limited.

Rochester Lions Club to Show Travel Film

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Lions Club will present its third "Travel and Adventure Series" program of the season Saturday in St. John Lutheran Church.

The film, "Lebanon-Beirut to Baghdad" will be shown by novelist John Wold at 7:30 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door.

Cuba Ruled Aggressor in Venezuela

NEW YORK (AP) — Inter-American investigators have found Communist Cuba guilty of four counts of aggression against Venezuela, UPI learned today from diplomatic sources.

The Venezuelan charges against Cuba, filed Dec. 3, 1963, with the Organization of American States (OAS) and substantiated by a five-nation investigating team, include:

- Subversive propaganda sent to Venezuela from Cuba.
- The training of Venezuelan guerrillas and terrorists by Cuba.

• Cuban financing of insurrectionary acts in Venezuela.

• Cuban dispatch of arms and instructions to the Venezuelan underground for subversion and terrorism.

30 PAGES

The report of the investigators runs about 30 pages and includes several hundred pages of annexes and documents. The final draft is being prepared in Washington now and should be distributed before the end of the month.

After member nations have had a chance to study and digest the investigative commission's report, the OAS council may meet to act directly on it or summon a conference of hemisphere foreign ministers.

The OAS, acting as a body under the provisions of the 1947 mutual aid pact of Rio De Janeiro, then could apply one or more of the following sanctions against the Castro regime:

• Withdrawal of ambassadors; rupture of diplomatic relations; rupture of consular relations; partial or total interruption of economic relations or rail, sea, air, postal, telegraphic or telephone communications — or the use of armed force against Cuba.

1 PRIOR INSTANCE

There has been only one prior instance in the history of the inter-American system of collective sanctions recommended in line with the Rio Pact.

In August 1960, the foreign ministers of 20 American nations voted at Venezuela's request to break diplomatic relations with the Trujillo regime in the Dominican Republic, suspend trade in arms and war materiel and a partial economic boycott.

The five-nation committee which investigated the Venezuelan charges against Cuba comprised Argentina, Colombia, Costa Rica, the United States and Uruguay.

It spent a week in Venezuela (Dec. 8-15) in an on-the-spot investigation of the Venezuelan charges.

CABLE TO CUBA

On its return to Washington, a 16-page cable was sent Cuba at Brazilian insistence advising Cuba of the nature of the Venezuelan charges and inviting a written reply to them although Cuba was expelled from the OAS family of nations a year ago.

The Cuban reply was a torrent of vilification including Castro classification of the OAS as a "ministry of colonies" for the United States.

The rejection by Cuba of the OAS invitation left the way open for publication on distribution of the investigators' report.

The evidence against Cuba submitted by Venezuela and on which the OAS investigators based their findings on the four counts included, among other things:

PROPAGANDA

Subversive propaganda. 100 hours of magnetic tape of Castro and other anti-Venezuelan Communist broadcasts from Cuba.

Cuban training of Venezuelan terrorists. Documents showing more than 60 key members of the Venezuelan Communist party and its card-carrying affiliate, the revolutionary movement of the left, as having received subversive training in Cuba since 1960.

The training in Cuba in guerrilla warfare in the past two years of more than 400 Venezuelans.

Cuban financing of insurrectionary acts in Venezuela. A search of the luggage of deputy Gustavo Machado over his protest at Matanzas Airport in the spring of 1963 on his return from Cuba and Moscow turned up what is described as a huge amount of dollars in a false bottom in a piece of luggage.

OTHER DOCUMENTS

Machado is currently secretary general of the Venezuelan Communist party. Other documents described as of "embarrassing nature" were found in his brief case.

He apparently had counted on his parliamentary immunity to avoid search.

Cuban dispatch of arms and instructions for subversion and terrorism. On Nov. 4, 1963, Venezuelan police raided the home of Luis Eduardo Sanchez Madero, Community party member known to have traveled to Cuba in 1962 and presumed to have been trained there.

They found a large number of documents showing well drawn plans to seize the City of Caracas.

ARMS FOUND

Arms specified for use in the planned Communist takeover of Caracas included mortars, bazookas and recoilless rifles not previously used by Venezuelan terrorists.

Only two days previously, Nov. 2, three tons of arms were found cached on the remote Paraguaná Peninsula of Venezuela.

They included 31 Belgian-made UZI submachineguns and 81 FN rifles and 5 U. S.-made 60mm mortars, 20 5-in. bazookas and 9 57mm recoilless rifles plus abundant ammunition.

Ordnance experts, American as well as Venezuelan, succeeded in bringing out serial numbers and armory markings which proved that the arms, including the weapons of the kind to have been used in the so-called Sanchez plan for seizure of Caracas, were property of the Cuban government.

BELGIAN ARMS

The Belgian arms made by the Fabrique Nationale d'Armes De Guerre at Herstal, Belgium, were certified in writing by that concern to the Venezuelan government — identified by their serial numbers — as sold to Cuba.

In addition, a Castro defector now in exile in Miami swore he headed the Castro purchasing mission to Belgium in 1969 which bought the arms.

His Head-On Collision

a Complete Wash-Out

RAWLINS, Wyo. (AP) — Jerry Bergstrand, 19, of Rawlins escaped serious injury recently when his car collided head-on with a washing machine.

Investigating officers said vandals had taken the old washing machine from a nearby signboard and placed it on the highway near Rawlins.

Bike Bandit Hits Again

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A masked gunman took $50 from the night manager of a service station early today and then sped off the same way he had arrived — on a bicycle.

Police asked the manager, Dennis Stopall, if he recognized the robber.

"Come to think of it," Stopall said, "he was the same guy who held me up last night." Stopall lost $60 in that robbery.

The U.S. Navy's first airplane flight from a ship was in January 1911 from the battleship USS Pennsylvania stationed in San Francisco harbor.

Says Dem Primary Is Still Open

Lesinski Blasts Mackie's Unity Statement

LANSING (UPI) — T. John Lesinski, Michigan's scrappy lieutenant governor, was all but in a fight with Congressman-Large Neil Staebler today for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Lesinski pulled up to the ring yesterday when he pointed out State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie he had no business telling other Democrats they should stay out of the gubernatorial primary.

Lesinski's contention that the primary is open to anyone who wants to enter drew quick support from Democratic State Chairman Zelon A. Ferency.

Mackie's statement came at a news conference at which he announced his candidacy for Congress from the new 7th District of Genesee, Shiawassee and Lapeer counties.

The highway commissioner said he would not try to win the party's nomination for governor and instead was throwing his support to Staebler, who announced his candidacy Jan. 4.

Mackie said, "I am endorsing Neil Staebler no matter who else gets in the campaign. He urged other Democrats to also support Staebler so the party wouldn't be splintered by a primary fight."

Lesinski, who has frequently talked about trying for governor immediately took umbrage at Mackie's remarks and said he couldn't even support the highway commissioner for Congress. "My candidate over there is State Rep. Albert Horgan, D-Flint," Lesinski said.

The two-term lieutenant governor blistered Mackie for allegedly letting the party down in 1962 when he took a month-long trip to Spain during the height of the fall election campaign.

"For him to have left the state at a time when Gov. John Swainson was faced with a very strong fight for reelection does not qualify him to say what the Democratic party should do about its primary," Lesinski said.

Mackie's claim a primary fight would injure the party's chances of unseating Republican Gov. George Romney was disputed by both Lesinski and Ferency.

"I think a good primary vigorously engaged in would be likely to benefit the Democratic party," Lesinski said. "This is true, of course, if there are more than two candidates. Then we could test the issues and not personalities."

Ferency, who as party chairman is forced to maintain neutrality in preprimary bickering, said, "I'm a firm believer in primaries."

"If other people are opposed to them, they should abolish them. But as long as we have them they should be conducted on a high level and on the personal qualifications of the individual for office and on their views."

"Staebler and Lesinski are both articulate and effective and would wage a primary on a high level that the people of Michigan would benefit from," Ferency said.

Mackie wasn't Lesinski's only target for criticism yesterday. In addition he renewed an earlier complaint that Staebler might not be strong enough to win the governor's chair.

"Staebler is a fine gentleman who has done a very creditable job for the Democratic party."

NOVEMBER EYED
"My concern, though, is whether or not he can carry the campaign to Romney and win in November."

Staebler, in Grand Rapids for a speech last night, commented, "Al Bentley had the same doubts." He was referring to his strong victory over Bentley in the congressional race two years ago.

"I'm a great admirer of T. John," Staebler said, "and I'd be delighted if he'd join me as lieutenant governor." However, the congressman declined to discuss Lesinski's merit as a gubernatorial candidate until a primary fight materializes.

Lesinski said his continued interest in entering the race was based on his concern about what kind of race Staebler would make and on the belief that he, Lesinski, could run a strong campaign against Romney.

SURPRISED BY OUTBURST

Mackie said he was surprised by Lesinski's outburst against him but still stuck by his earlier remarks.

"I think if we're going to win the gubernatorial election, we can't afford a primary," he said. "It was not intended as an aspersion on any potential candidate."

"I'm sorry T. John feels this way because I always considered him a friend of mine. I would certainly support T. John for any office he would want to run for, except governor. There I'm committed to Neil Staebler," Mackie said.

The highway commissioner denied he had "ducked out" in the 1962 election when he made his trip abroad.

JOINED CAMPAIGN

"I returned before the election and participated in the campaign night and day for the election," he said. "It was cleared with Swainson beforehand."

"Sometime prior to the time I left, I talked with Swainson and we agreed it would not be awkward for me to participate at the International Road Federation meeting of 47 of the free world's nations. I was representing Michigan and the United States."

'Be a Beatle'

Some Letters You Never Get

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Fragments of letters, people would like to get but rarely do:

"In order to provide a more cozy international flavor to their rock 'n' roll group the English Beatles are interested in adding an American member. We think your 19-year-old son would be ideal — provided you have no objection to letting his hair grow longer. Of course, he would receive only $1,000 a week to start, but—"

"Harry, my conscience has been bothering me ever since I put that measly 25-year pin in your lapel at our last old-timers' banquet. I was wondering if you and the missus wouldn't join me and my wife on a cruise through the Caribbean next month aboard our company yacht? Don't worry about the expenses. I'll argue that out later with the Internal Revenue Service myself."

NOT A LEAK

"That leak you asked me to check in the oil storage tank in your summer cottage isn't a leak at all. That oil is oozing right out of the ground, and the basement already is half full. You don't need a plumber—you need a geologist. Incidentally, my partner and I are willing to offer you $50,000 for the property—just as she stands."

"Because of an unfavorable long-range weather forecast which predicts heavy snow next week, we are abandoning for this year our plans for a joint father-son 25-mile overnight hike. We know you will be bitterly disappointed at having the outing called off. Better luck next year."

SAD DUTY

"It is our sad duty to inform you that your uncle has expired and your cousin, Wilberforce, who as a Socialist has had a lifelong prejudice against inherited wealth, refuses his share of the estate. This leaves you sole heir. The estate includes $100,000 in cash, and a frame photograph of your uncle. Do you want the photograph—or should we send it to Wilberforce?"

"Sir, we have received a communication from a lady claiming to be your wife who says that after 40 years of living with you she'd like to enlist as a woman auxiliary of the French Foreign Legion. Although the legion isn't active any more, we are always looking for a good cook out this way. So if you can recommend her barbecued lamb, please ship the lady FOB to Sidi bel Abbas, Algeria. Tell her to be sure and bring a good supply of veils."

'Mighty' Mouse Stops
Whole Fleet of Trains

OSAKA, Japan (AP) — Fourteen passenger trains on Japan's busy Tokaido railroad were delayed from 5 to 40 minutes Wednesday by a malfunction in a railway signal.

Officials found that a field mouse had gnawed a cable, which got soaked by rain and shortcircuited.

Air moving away from the Equator cools and sinks. At about 30 degrees north and south, latitude this causes regions of calms and variable winds known as horse latitudes so named because captains' becalmed ships sometimes had horses thrown overboard lest they consume too much drinking water.

Small Road Accidents
Boost Rural Fatalities

EAST LANSING (AP) — Local and county roads are accounting for a growing percentage of Michigan's rural traffic death total, a state police study reports. Local and rural county road deaths increased from 41 per cent of the state rural total in 1956 to 48 per cent in 1962 and 48.4 per cent in 1963. Deaths on rural trunklines decreased from 59 per cent of the state rural total in 1955 to 52 per cent in 1962 and 51.6 per cent in 1963.

OAS Probes Panama Rift

PANAMA CITY (UPI) — A "task force" of inter-American investigators visits the sites of last month's bloody anti-American riots today to investigate conflicting U.S. and Panamanian versions of the trouble.

A source close to the five-man investigating committee sent here by the Organization of American States said it will "leave no stone unturned" in its efforts to determine exactly what happened.

The committee is looking into

Panama's charge that the U.S. defense of the Canal Zone against armed marauders amounted to "aggression."

Four Americans and 21 Panamanians were killed in the riots, TO VIEW FILM

Today's schedule for the five Latin American ambassadors making up the committee included a look at a local television station's film of the riots as well as the visit to scenes of violence in the zone.

The investigators began their work yesterday by conferring for two hours with Foreign Minister Galileo Sotillo and for 45 minutes with former Assistant Secretary of State Edwin Martin, U.S. representative in the investigation.

They also interviewed the principal of Panama's national high school, chief source of the students whose protest against the raising of the U.S. flag at Balboa High School in the zone started the disorders.

The committee has already received written reports from the United States and Panama giving the two countries' varying versions of the violence.

FULL COOPERATION

A committee spokesman said Martin had promised full U.S. cooperation in the work of the investigators. The spokesman indicated that the committee may confer with the U.S. official again before preparing its report.

Quads Are Born to Woman in Mexico Town

MEXICO CITY — Quadruplets have been born to the wife of a Mexican farmer — the first and last child arriving 40½ hours apart.

All girls, the quads were born to Mrs. Juan Mendez, 35, in her home in tiny Sierra Gorda, 150 miles west of Mexico City, between 8:30 a.m. Sunday and 11 p.m. Monday.

The prolonged births, however, did not set a record.

Mrs. Mendez and the quads were taken to a civil hospital in nearby Jalapa and cared for at government expense.

Burma Chief and Chou to Air India Dispute RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai is scheduled to arrive tomorrow for a four-day stay that has taken on added significance with the recent flying trip to India by Burma's military ruler, Gen. Ne Win.

Diplomatic sources say Ne Win was briefed by Prime Minister Nehru on India's position on the India-China border dispute which flared into a shooting war in late 1962. Ne Win is expected to pass on Nehru's views to the Red Chinese leader.

More Witnesses for Probe?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Warren commission may call on possibly two new witnesses next week to build its growing pile of evidence on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Chief Justice Earl Warren told newsmen he did not know whether one would be a janitor who reportedly saw sharpshooter Lee Harvey Oswald on route to a sniper's hideaway shortly before the deadly rifle shots were fired in Dallas last Nov. 22.

Marguerite Oswald, mother of the introverted ex-Marine charged with killing Kennedy, finished three days of voluntary testimony Wednesday by stating she believes:

—That Oswald was innocent, but "I realize that as a human being he could be guilty."

—That despite lack of any specific supporting evidence, she believes he was a secret agent of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency who was "set up to take the blame" for the slaying.

—That the assassin "is still at large."

Warren said the testimony of the pump Fort Worth practical nurse was useful "in some respects," but said it did not provide "any facts that would change the picture as we knew it up to the time she testified."

BULK OF EVIDENCE

The bulk of the evidence before the commission—including a five-volume FBI report and the testimony of Oswald's young widow, Marina — indicates the 24-year-old Marxist killed Kennedy unaided.

The chief justice said the commission has received nothing from any agency to substantiate the mother's belief that Oswald ever was an intelligence agent or worked for any federal agency.

Mrs. Oswald admitted her belief was based on no proof, fact, or statement of her son, but asserted: "I have as much circumstantial evidence that he was (an agent), as the Dallas police have that he was the assassin."

She said she had not been in touch with her son for a year before the assassination.

THE JANITOR

The Dallas News reported on Tuesday that one of the witnesses who might soon be called was a janitor in the Texas School Book Depository, where Oswald worked for a few months preceding the assassination.

That was the building, overlooking the route of the presidential motorcade, where police found an Italian-made carbine beside a sixth-floor window. Oswald's widow identified the weapon as his.

The News said the janitor has reported that Oswald spoke to him on the fourth-floor stairway.

The commission may also call a witness, the News said, who saw a slender man with a rifle at a sixth-floor window but thought it was a Secret Service agent posted there to protect the president.

Warren told reporters that one or two more witnesses may be brought into the closed hearings next week, but said no definite schedule has been fixed.

When advised of the Dallas report, the chief justice paused and smiled before replying: "Well, maybe they know — I don't."

After leaving his federal post, Finnegan joined the New York State Mediation Board but resigned last November because of illness. He was born in North Adams, Mass.

County Tops Metro Area in Housing Unit Increase

Oakland County showed the largest gain in housing units last year throughout the five counties that comprise the Detroit metropolitan area.

Figures released today by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission listed a net gain of 6,693 units in Oakland County.

Macomb County followed with 6,026 units. Wayne County, including Detroit, was third with 5,402 units.

Washtenaw County gained 1,637 and Monroe 495.

The number of new dwelling units in Oakland County represented a 40 per cent gain over those in 1962, according to the planning commission.

NEW UNITS

Altogether 7,188 new units were built in the county. The net gain is achieved by subtracting from this figure the number of demolitions in the county last year, which totaled 495.

The Oakland County gain is the largest since 1957.

The gain is largely attributed to an increase in multi-family housing units, said the planners.

Non-single family units accounted for 31 per cent of the new construction in Oakland County last year, they said.

2 Admitted for Injuries in Crashes

A 9-year-old girl and a Pontiac man were admitted to Pontiac General Hospital following traffic accidents yesterday and this morning.

They are Cathy Ann Navarre, 6399 Transparent, Independence Township, and Richard B. Clark, 21, of 2324 McClintock.

The youngest is in fair condition with facial lacerations. Clark suffered internal injuries and facial lacerations and is in satisfactory condition.

Cathy was injured at 4 p.m. yesterday near her home when she ran into the path of a car driven by Richard A. Brown, 31, of 6399 Eastlawn, Independence Township, according to sheriff's deputies.

CAR SKIDS

Clark's car skidded on Telegraph at the Orchard Lake Road overpass and slid sideways into an oncoming car driven by Chester K. Murphy, 38, of 110 Allen Lake, Union Lake.

Murphy was treated and released after the 1 a.m. accident.

Murphy told Pontiac police it appeared that Clark lost control on the slippery pavement. It was snowing at the time.

Asks Hearing on Homicide

A 19-year-old Holly youth yesterday demanded a preliminary hearing after being charged with negligent homicide in the traffic death of 12-year-old Brandon Township girl.

James A. Cook, 4650 McGinnis, was arraigned before Orion Township Justice Helmar Stankabach, who scheduled the examination for March 10.

Cook was the driver of a car that smashed head-on with a car driven by Eva L. Balmer, 31, of 995 M15, Brandon Township.

A passenger in the Balmer car, Sharon R. Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morgan, 1895 Perry Lake, died two days after the Jan. 29 crash.

The accident happened on Perry Lake Road near Sherwood in Brandon Township.

Cook was released on $300 bond pending his hearing.

The boy, ruled a delinquent by family court, is in custody of relatives. The disposition of his case awaits a psychiatric report.

Health department records show there have been 15 homicide deaths in 11-year-olds since 1950. The youngest known mother on record was a 5-year-old girl in Peru.

OUT IN COLD — Mrs. R. L. Shepherd, 76, is led away from her blazing Asheville, N.C., home yesterday. It was occupied by Mrs. Shepherd, her 79-year-old husband, a son, his wife and their four children. All escaped the burning five-room structure without injury.

On Trial Transfer

Decision Due for Ruby

DALLAS (AP) — District Court Judge Joe B. Brown said today he will announce at 2 p.m. (3 p.m. Pontiac time) tomorrow whether he will move Jack Ruby's murder trial away from Dallas.

Brown set the time for his ruling and then recessed court until that time.

He acted shortly after the hearing resumed on the defense effort to win a transfer to another city of the murder trial for the killer of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

The judge called the recess when defense attorneys said testimony from more than 100 witnesses subpoenaed but not yet called to testify would be cumulative — that is, would simply add the same sort of testimony already heard.

NEW LINES ON IT

Brown said he did not want to hear any more testimony unless it was along new lines and then set the time for his decision.

Earlier, the state had presented a number of exhibits with which it hoped to bear out its contention that Ruby can get just as fair a trial in Dallas as anywhere in Texas.

Attorneys for both sides agreed that the exhibits included all issues of the Dallas Times Herald, the Dallas Morning News and the Oak Cliff Tribune from Nov. 22, 1963, when President Kennedy was killed, until today.

The exhibits also included a series, "My Story," by Jack Ruby, from the Houston Chronicle. Written in the first person, the series has been syndicated in a number of newspapers.

'TRIAL IMPOSSIBLE'

Defense lawyers claim a fair trial in Dallas County is impossible for Ruby.

They cite "saturating publicity" in Dallas on the crime, along with what they call a "high-level conspiracy to cleanse the image of Dallas by making sure Ruby is executed."

When the hearing recessed at 9:30 p.m. yesterday, they had called a total of 42 witnesses since the proceedings began Monday morning in a small courtroom not far from where the president was shot.

Of these witnesses, 28 testified they thought a fair trial for the former strip joint operator would either be difficult or impossible in Dallas County.

Thirteen said they thought a fair trial would be possible and three either had no opinion or were not asked.

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — The father of a young man who was reported to have leaped off the Golden Gate Bridge early Tuesday, said today his son grabbed a girder and climbed back to safety.

James Merriman, 22, caught a cab at a Sixth Street bar late Monday night and asked to be driven to Martin County. Near the bridge's south tower, he told the driver to stop because he was ill.

He leaped from the cab. The driver said he saw Merriman run to the railing and jump.

Jack Merriman, a farm supply dealer, said he received a telephone call from his son 13 hours after the reported suicide leap.

WALKED BACK

His son had walked back to San Francisco, back to safety, Merriman said.

"We were so glad to hear from him that we didn't do much thinking for a while. He's home and he's okay. I don't think he'll ever want to try it again," the father was quoted.

Highway patrolmen from Fresno went to the Merriman home in Firebaugh last night and verified that the younger man was there.

Chapter Formed to Replace Unit of State Charity

A new state chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society was organized in Detroit last night to replace a group left without a charter.

Dr. Phillip Moore of Owosso, new state chapter chairman, said it will apply for the Michigan United Fund (MUF) membership held by its predecessor.

Sclerosis Society officials say the old chapter, headquartered in Detroit, recently lost its national affiliation for lacking unapproved research investigations and failing to remit its full share for national operations.

Society activities in Michigan are indirectly supported by the Pontiac Area United Fund and other community fund drives through a package contribution to MUF.

Solons Ask Voting Age Drop to 18

LANSING (AP)—Two Detroit area lawmakers asked the Senate Wednesday to go along with their proposal to lower the voting age from 21 to 18.

Sens. William D. Ford, D-Taylor, and John T. Bowman, D-Roseville, introduced a resolution to set up a state constitutional amendment on the issue.

A similar proposal was filed in the House Jan. 30 by Reps. Harry Demaso, R-Battle Creek, and Paul Chandler, R-Livonia. Their resolution is now before a House committee.

Gov. George W. Romney has indicated he supports in principle the proposal to let 18 year olds enter the voting booth.

If the resolution wins two-thirds support in both legislative chambers, Michigan voters would have the final say in voting on a constitutional amendment.

U.S. Trade With Cuba Zero, but Allies Don't Follow Suit

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. shipments to Cuba totaled $37 million in 1963 but have dropped to virtually zero since the last delivery of ransom goods for Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners, U.S. officials said today.

The trade figures listing the United States as by far the largest free world supplier to Cuba last year have been cited abroad by critics of Washington's effort to keep its allies from dealing with the Castro regime.

Havana by the hundreds, is one of the allies differing with the U.S. view.

And there was no indication of either Prime Minister Alec Douglas-Home or President Johnson altering course on this issue after they took it up at their White House parley yesterday.

Statistics compiled at the State and Commerce departments list U.S. exports to Cuba at $37 million in January-September 1963, compared with $33 million total for that period for 15 other non-Communist countries.

VARIOUS TOTALS
Holland's exports were $9 million, Canada's $6.2 million, West Germany's $5.3 million, Britain's $4.2 million and France's $3.7 million in that time.

But figures for the full year are not yet available. When they do come in, U.S. officials said, they are expected to record a virtual standstill in U.S.-Cuban trade since September.

The $37 million was the value of drugs and other items shipped last year in return for Fidel Castro's December 1962 release of prisoners captured in the unsuccessful U.S.-supported Cuban invasion.

The U.S. embargo does not apply to food or medicines. Officials said Americans may still sell these to Cuba, but apparently difficulties in shipping to Cuba and in getting payment from Cubans has dissuaded such commercial sales.

MARKED DROP
The over-all record shows a marked drop in exports from non-Communist nations to Cuba since Prime Minister Castro took over in 1959.

In 1958, the United States exported $546.3 million worth and the 15 other countries $147.2 million. By 1962, after the U.S. embargo, the U.S. figure had slumped to $13.4 million and the 15 others' to $70 million.

Reportedly Killed by Cannibals

Mystery Still Covers Fate of Men Lost in Amazon

United Press International
The exact fate of five Michigan missionaries lost in the jungles of the Amazon River valley while trying to carry the Gospel to hostile savages, has never been fully established.

While it is agreed by many that the five members of the Bible Tabernacle Church were killed by savages they were trying to convert to Christianity, how they met their death has been a puzzling source of conjecture for the last 10 years.

The men were Rev. Cecil A. Dye, 34, former pastor of Bible Tabernacle and head of the expedition—his brother, Robert, 25; David R. Bacon, 23, and Elden L. Hunter, 20, all of Saginaw, and George Hoshob of West Branch, Mich.

They were part of a group of 17 men, women and children who left Saginaw in November 1942, bound for the special training that would eventually take them to the Bolivian jungles.

SET UP MISSION
They left for South America in early 1943 to set up a mission station at Robore, the last outpost of civilization, some 300 miles east of Santa Cruz.

After about a year at this station, Rev. Mr. Dye decided that operations had been established enough to push on in the direction of the Brazilian frontier.

Dye wished to make an attempt to contact the primitive Yaniquas Indians, complete strangers to Christianity and with whom previous missionary parties had failed to make contact.

WILD TRIBES
Dispatches sent back from the camp said the Dye party was plunged into a region inhabited by wild Indian tribes which are completely untouched by civilization.

There is evidence that Dye and his group were warned by Bolivian frontiersmen of the danger in pushing on into the jungles, but Dye disregarded this advice.

Observers at the scene pleaded with the party to carry weapons so they might defend themselves against hostile Indians, but Dye refused because he did not wish to antagonize the groups he was trying to convert.

The area to which Dye was proceeding is known as the Mato Grosso or great forest. It lies along the Bolivia-Brazil border and covers an area of 487,000 square miles. It has never been fully explored.

HACK NEW TRAILS
Three hard, long months were spent in hacking out new trails through the jungle with machetes and hatchets. Robert C. Collins and Wallace Wright accompanied the five men up to the point where they were close to native villages, then Dye sent the two men back to Robore with the burros and heavier provisions. Dye instructed them to stand by and await further orders.

Dye told Collins and Wright that a search should be started for his party if it did not return within a month.

A native guide with the party became terrified when he said he realized that they were near native villages. He said he believed that the natives in the villages they were near practiced cannibalism.

Dye and his group were never seen again.

GUIDE RUNS OFF
But the guide ran off as they came near to the place where they had last seen Dye and his party. Collins and Wright continued on alone for a few hours before they realized that they would need a skilled tracker to aid them.

They returned to their village and an armed search party was organized under the leadership of a skilled, trusted tracker.

After several days of tracking through the great jungle, the search party came upon an encampment of natives. They were dispersed with several shots fired into the air, and some of the natives were captured and questioned. They denied any knowledge of the five missionary men, but one man at the scene wrote in his diary that the natives acted "suspicious and guilty."

EQUIPMENT FOUND
Pieces of the equipment carried by Dye and his party were found in the camp, but no further trace of the men turned up.

Further searches and investigations failed to reveal any added clues on the men. Several years passed and one of the natives who lived in the village, where the pieces of equipment were found, came to live at the Robore mission.

He told the members of the mission that dissident members of his tribe killed Dye and his party by clubbing them to death and throwing their bodies into the river nearby.

As a memorial to the five men who lost their lives, the New Tribes Mission of the Baptist church decided to remain in the jungle outpost and carry on the work of converting the natives.

Mrs. Dye and her son, Paul, are among the group that remained at the mission.

Johnsons Set Style on White House Living, Entertaining

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of a three-part series on the way the nation's busy First Family does things, written by a team of Associated Press White House reporters who have watched the Johnsons at close range.)

By FRANCES LEWINE WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson broke one rose from her bouquet for a girl who waited a long time at an airport for a glimpse of her. "Me, too," the First Lady confided to a worker in retraining school who admitted he was nervous at a presentation ceremony.

It's part of the emerging pattern of Mrs. Johnson as First Lady.

Ad-libbing in a formal speech, she told people in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., she often read they were in a "depressed area," but after six hours there "I don't feel a bit depressed. There's too much yeast thinking" — a spirit of "building your own economic bridge from the past to the future."

ENTERTAINMENT

A calypso band, hootenanny, the strains of opera and American theater have been part of her White House entertainment. Chili con queso shows up on the state dining room buffet table. But the French chef remains in charge of formal dinner menus.

"Women - doers" sit around the upstairs family dining table, fed by long-time Johnson cook Zephyr Wright, and talk over their projects and problems at luncheons with the First Lady.

Mrs. Johnson read draft after draft of her husband's State of the Union speech — as it was being put together.

She urged daughter Lynda Bird, 19, to transfer from University to George Washington University and help out with White House hostess chores. Because she said she knew the value of college friendships, Mrs. Johnson invited — Lynda's Texas roommate to come live at the White House, too.

While President Johnson fretted over the $4,600 White House electric bill, his wife fell in line with his economy projects. She made a point of flying coach fare at a saving of $5.30 on a round trip to New York City.

In the less than three months she has been in the White House, Mrs. Johnson has moved swiftly to set her own style.

Like the President, she has been wooing the press, stressing culture and compassion for the pockets of poverty in America and never missing an opportunity to make friends on the social circuit.

OPENS UP

Mrs. Johnson is underplaying fashions, upgrading the arts, and has joined the President in opening up the White House as it hasn't been since the days of Harry S. Truman and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The popular refurbishing of the White House, done by Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her fine arts committee, was to be continued, the Johnsons promised.

Mrs. Johnson, too, wants to keep the White House as "the best face of America," a spokesman for the First Lady said.

Mrs. Johnson had to admit her biggest problem in the first weeks was deciding which of the many invitations to accept and which to reject.

WAR ON POVERTY

But one big decision was made. Mrs. Johnson fell right in line behind her commander in chief husband in the unconditional war he declared on poverty in America.

Every First Lady aims to set some precedent — and this may be Mrs. Johnson's major project.

Steelworkers Find 13-Week Vacations Are Enjoyable

(EDITOR'S NOTE—It used to be that only school teachers and a few other lucky people got long vacations. No more. Senior workers in the basic steel industry were granted 13-week paid vacations in the labor contract signed last year. The following tells what they are doing and how they feel about it.)

By BOB VOELKER
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Veteran steelworkers are hurrying out of mill gates these days with an extra bounce in their steps and smiles on their faces.

Outside the gate, there's back-slapping and laughter. The old-timers then head home to enjoy something few of them could envision for themselves years ago.

They are starting, for the first time, 13-week paid vacations granted in the current steel labor contract.

VACATION LAND

Many scatter to far-off vacation spots. Others stay home, leisurely tackling odd jobs around the house and perhaps planning a trip later. Some just take it easy, relishing the simple luxury of doing nothing.

"Best thing they could do for a workingman; it's wonderful," said James L. Parker, a laborer at U.S. Steel Corp.'s nearby Clairton coking plant.

A mill worker for 41 years, Parker added, "It's a relief. You're getting paid for it and you feel good."

Machinist Harry McKee, 62, is another of those staying home, watching the world go by.

HE'S HAPPY

"I've got my wife, grandson and dog. We're happy," said McKee. "I hope the rest of the men are enjoying their vacations as much as I am."

McKee works at the Pittsburgh works of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. He has been in the mills 45 years, through bitter strikes and layoffs.

He said: "If someone told us 40 years ago we would get 13-week vacations, we would have told them they were crazy. We never looked for this years ago."

The urge to travel hits many vacationers right away. Most say they want to see old friends or new places.

OFF TO FLORIDA

George Visnick, 53, a roller in the J&L plant here, headed immediately for Florida. He is staying in a Miami hotel and plans a leisurely return trip to his home in nearby McKeesport.

A maintenance worker in the same plant, Cecil F. Bowen, 61,

State Bill to Allow Selection of Doctor

LANSING (AP) — A bill that would enable a patient in any public hospital to be attended by the physician of his choice—whether M.D. or osteopath—is ready for introduction in the House.

The sponsor, Rep. James Karoub, D-Highland Park, said his bill could "remove a barrier" that he says has, in effect, "denied the use of public facilities to many persons."

Normal procedure in public as well as private hospitals, said Karoub, is for patients to be attended only by doctors on the hospital's own staff.

has his eye on Florida, too. He has never been there.

Said Bowen: "I'm going just to look around. I've always thought I'd like to go down there."

Anthony Strinich, 50, a steel inspector at U.S. Steel's Clairton rolling mill, is dividing his vacation between home chores and a trip.

A LITTLE TRIP

"I'm doing odds and ends. Washing walls. Already painted one room," he explained. "I think I'll take a little trip next month. Have a sister in Detroit I haven't seen for awhile and a daughter going to Dayton University."

The vacation program was worked out in negotiations last year between major basic steel producers and the United Steelworkers-Union. It covers some 450,000 workers in basic steel and has since spread to other steel-related plants. The plan provides 13-week vacations each five years for the 50 per cent of the work force with the most seniority. It is figured on a company-wide basis, not plant by plant.

When the plan was first announced, there was talk that maybe it wasn't a good idea. It was argued by some that 13 weeks of vacation in a row was too much, that men would become restless, that they would get on their wives' nerves.

Interviews with men on vacation failed to support these views.

Walter Ream, 61, a 33-year mill veteran employed as a heater at the J&L plant in Pittsburgh, spends his time "going in and out of the house, watching television and helping my wife around the house."

He said, "The time is going too darn fast. But I'm really enjoying it."

McKee, the machinist, said, "Time never drags. You always have something to do. After you've been married as long as us, you're glad to have someone around."

WENT QUICKLY

Strinich said the first five weeks of vacation went quickly.

"As long as they pay me I could stay home forever. I got a good wife. She doesn't push me around or nag me."

One complaint was heard. The companies have the final say on when a man takes his vacation. The workers make preferred choices, but they don't always get off when they want to.

The vacation program perhaps, was best summed up by Leslie J. Sabo, 56, a bearing repairman at U.S. Steel's nearby Irwin works.

He said: "It all boils down to the old joke about getting a job with a payday every day and you don't have to work on payday. You get paid for it. My goodness!"

State police said the boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Skinner of Traverse City Rte. 5, apparently stepped into the path of the car.

Robust Stew Is Economical

Hearty and flavorful, a stew is a traditional favorite among hungry families on any chilly day. The robust blend of meat, vegetables and seasonings always hits the spot, and the scents from the kitchen will mean no coaxing to the dinner table.

Stews are acclaimed the world over as well, and there must be thousands of varieties. It's always fun to add a new idea to your present store of recipes.

For instance, this new beef stew is bound to be a winner. It reveals a few unexpected ingredients... kidney beans and sweet pickles that add a slight nip to the taste.

Beef and Kidney Bean Stew
2 pounds boneless beef for stew
¼ cup flour
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 teaspoon oregano
1 clove garlic, minced
½ cup water
1 can (16 ounces) tomatoes
1 medium onion, sliced
¼ cup sliced sweet pickles
2 cans (16 ounces each) kidney beans, drained

Combine flour, salt and pepper. Dredge meat in seasoned flour. Brown in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add oregano, garlic and water. Cover tightly and cook slowly two hours.

Add tomatoes and onion and cook 45 minutes longer, or until meat is tender and vegetables are done. Add pickles and kidney beans. Cook just until heated through, 5 to 8 servings.

Grated Cheese Gives Bread Zesty Taste

Cheese Bread
¼ cup milk
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup warm water
1 envelope active dry yeast
2½ cups sifted flour
1 cup grated medium fine sharp cheddar cheese
Salt milk; stir in sugar and salt until dissolved; cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle yeast over warm water; stir to dissolve; add to lukewarm milk mixture. Add 1½ cups of the flour; beat until smooth.

Stir in cheese and the remaining flour; dough should be easy to handle; if not, add ¼ cup or so more flour. Turn out on lightly floured board or prepared pastry cloth. Knead 5 to 6 minutes.

Place in greased bowl; turn over to grease top. Cover with towel; let rise in warm (80 degrees) place until double. Punch down.

Shape into a loaf. Place in a greased loaf pan (8 by 4½ by 2½ inches). Let rise until double. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven 35 minutes or until loaf feels hollow when removed from pan and tapped.

If bread begins to get very brown after first 15 minutes cover with brown paper. Cool on wire rack. Wonderful served fresh and warm or toasted after storage.

20 MINUTE TUNA TIMBALES — Cooked in a jiffy on top of the range these 20 minute tuna timbales are a delicious mainstay for a Lenten menu. A pleasantly nippy mustard sauce is the topper for the tempting timbales which can be made with salmon as well as tuna.

Baked Beans Put in Salad With Fruit

Golden canned cling peach slices add color as well as a refreshing taste to "Bean and Peach Salad." The peaches and canned baked beans are combined with celery, green pepper and lettuce, then tossed gently with a zesty dressing that is easy to put together.

It's wise to keep several cans of cling peaches on hand because they can be used so many different ways. At this time of year, they're especially handy for salads.

Next time you're making cole slaw, add sliced cling peaches and some shredded Swiss cheese for a different and delightful, hearty winter salad.

Bean and Peach Salad
1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) cling peach slices
1 can (1 lb.) baked beans (without pork)
1 cup coarsely sliced celery
½ cup diced green pepper
2 cups torn lettuce
2 tablespoons salad oil
2 tablespoons mild vinegar
1 teaspoon crushed fine herbs, or a combination of basil, oregano, rosemary and thyme
½ teaspoon instant minced onion
½ teaspoon salt

Drain peaches. Rinse beans with water, drain. Combine peaches, beans, celery, pep-

Yankee Doodle

Made If Famous

Whenever you sing "Yankee Doodle," you speak of Hasty Pudding. In case you've ever wondered what it's like, here's the Recipe.

Modern Hasty Pudding
2 cups milk
½ cup enriched cornmeal
¾ cup dark brown sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
Scald 1½ cups of the milk in a heavy saucepan over low heat. Mix the cornmeal with the remaining ½ cup milk. Stirring constantly, gradually add to scalded milk. Add sugar and salt; cook about 15 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Gradually stir a little of the hot mixture into the well-beaten egg yolks, then stir back into rest of hot mixture. Cook and stir over low heat for 2 to 3 minutes. Cool slightly; fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites.

Spoon into sherbet glasses; chill. Nice served with a dollop of sweetened whipped cream and a few toasted almonds. Makes 5 servings.

Keep Crumbs and Cheese

Next time you have dry enriched bread to make into crumbs, prepare this nutritious topping for a casserole.

Add grated cheese to the bread crumbs and stir together. Refrigerate the mixture in a covered jar up to several weeks and use ½ cup or more to sprinkle on your favorite casseroles or vegetable dishes. The enriched bread will add B-vitamins and food iron to your supper dish.

Quick Tuna Timbales Are Top-of-Stove Fare

Twenty minute tuna timbales are a real find in the search for appetizing Lenten dishes. And actually either tuna or salmon can be used in these timbales with equally delicious results.

The timbales are cooked in individual custard cups which are placed in a frypan of water on top of the range. When you're ready to serve, they can be turned out still warm and topped with a nippy mustard sauce which is made smoothly and flavorful with evaporated milk.

20 Minute Tuna Timbales
1 can tuna (7 oz.), drained
1 can peas (8 oz.)
2½ cups soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons dried parsley flakes
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated onion
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup evaporated milk

Using a fork, flake drained tuna into a medium size mixing bowl. Drain peas, saving liquid for Mustard Sauce. Add peas, bread crumbs, parsley and pimiento to the tuna. Sprinkle lemon juice, onion and seasonings over tuna mixture and toss lightly with a fork to mix.

Blend the egg and evaporated milk, then add to tuna mixture and mix well. Spoon mixture into 6 lightly buttered custard cups and place in a large, deep fry pan.

Surround cups with hot water from the tap up to the level of the tuna mixture. Bring water in pan to a full rolling boil, then cover with a tight-fitting lid, remove from heat and let stand until mixture is set (knife in-

Cook Chicken Before Coating With Batter

Food scientists at USDA say there is a simple trick to making batter stick to fried chicken. To give the chicken a nice crispy crust and prevent the coating from coming off during frying, a change in procedure is recommended.

The new method calls for cooking the chicken before rolling it in batter. Then the fried pieces are dipped and cooked in deep fat just long enough to brown and cook the coating.

The investigators found these reasons why batter tends to come off when it is applied before the chicken is cooked: Chicken parts lose about one-fourth of their weight during frying from evaporation of moisture.

When raw pieces dipped in batter are cooked, the batter coagulates before the meat shrinks. Then the shrinkage and pressure from steam cause a loose-fitting coating that peels readily.

It was found, too, that dredging the chicken in flour or some other thickener before dipping and use ½ cup or more to sprinkle on your favorite casseroles or vegetable dishes. The enriched bread will add B-vitamins and food iron to your supper dish.

Family Numbers Game

WORCESTER, Mass. (P) — Anyone who knows the birthdays of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carlson's children knows how old they are — this year at least. Bobby celebrated his 14th birthday on May 14; Diane was 12 on Sept. 12, and on Oct. 11 Ricky turned 11.

Deep Fried Fruit

For a tasty treat, dip drained canned apricot halves or peach slices in well beaten egg, roll in sifted dried bread crumbs, then saute in hot fat in skillet. Serve piping hot.

Serve thick slices of pound cake with a generous spoonful of hot chocolate or butterscotch sauce.

Pre-Dinner Soup

A mug of hot soup before dinner sharpens the appetite. Try this one: Blend a can condensed green pea soup with ¼ cup sour cream and ½ teaspoon prepared horseradish. Gradually add 1 soup can water. Heat, stirring now and then. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Quick Creamy Salad

Mix 1 pound - can drained whole cranberry sauce with a 9 oz. can of drained crushed pineapple; fold into 1 cup sour cream. Freeze in fluted cups for special salads in a hurry.

Dry yeast should be softened in water rather than in milk; it should be thoroughly stirred to make sure it has dissolved.

Cheese Rice Loaf

Fine Fare for Lenten Meals

When you have meat loaf in mind for dinner, but no meat in the larder, then is the time to serve Cheese and Rice Loaf with Mushroom Sauce.

Cheese and Rice Loaf can be the featured dish of an all-oven meal, if you accompany it with baked acorn squash (which can bake along with the loaf) and buttered broccoli.

Place solid block of frozen broccoli in a greased casserole and top with 1 to 2 tablespoons butter and ½ teaspoon salt; cover, and bake at 350 degrees for 55 minutes, stirring at the end of 40 minutes and just before serving.

It's no trick at all to blend the savory sauce on top of the range while the oven takes care of the rest of the meal. Add a chilly molded pineapple salad and for dessert, fat esundaes with tiny cookies.

everybody's favorite, chocolate esundaes with tiny cookies.

Cheese and Rice Loaf

1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup milk
2 cups cooked rice
1½ cups grated sharp cheese
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
3 eggs, slightly beaten
½ cup chopped celery
1 cup minced onion
1 tablespoon dehydrated parsley
½ cup chopped green pepper
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon prepared mustard
1 can (8 or 10 oz.) sliced mushrooms
1 can (3 or 4 oz.) sliced mushrooms

Heat butter with milk until melted. Add rice, cheese and crumbs to eggs; stir in hot milk. Add celery, onion, parsley, green pepper, and seasonings.

Turn into a greased loaf pan, 8½ x 4½ x 2½ inches, that has been lined in bottom with greased unglazed paper. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour and 15 minutes.

Salisbury Steak Given Up-to-Date Treatment

A new variation of an old-time favorite is generally a good choice for a buffet entree. Such an entree is Salisbury Steak with Wine Sauce.

The perennial favorite — ground beef, is combined with ground pork and rolled oats to make juicy Salisbury Steaks with a mushroom wine sauce for additional flavor.

For maximum tenderness, handle with a light touch when mixing. Rolled oats speed up the preparation of this recipe. They are ready to use just as they come from the package — no additional preparation is needed.

In addition to convenience, rolled oats make contributions of protein, important B vitamins, essential minerals, and food energy.

Salisbury Steaks in Wine Sauce

1½ pounds ground beef
½ pound ground pork
½ cup chopped onion
1 cup rolled oats, quick or regular

2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 cup milk or tomato juice
2 tablespoons fat
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup water
1 beef bouillon cube
½ cup sherry
1 can (4-oz.) mushroom caps and pieces

Combine meats, onion, rolled oats, salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce, and milk or tomato juice. Mix well. Divide into 8 portions and shape each portion into an oval patty.

Heat fat in large frying pan. Brown patties on both sides in hot fat, turning once (about 15 minutes). Remove meat from pan.

Stir flour into meat drippings, add water and bouillon cube, cook until smooth and thickened. Stir in wine and mushrooms. Return meat to fry pan; cover and lower heat. Cook until patties are done, about 15 additional minutes.

Salmon Pie

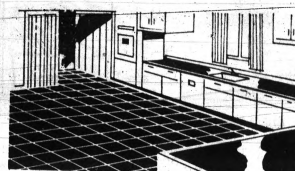

Heat together canned salmon, green beans and celery soup. Season lightly with ¼ teaspoon each tarragon and sage. Pour into a deep pie plate and cover with pastry containing cheddar cheese.

Seek Leaders in OSU Protest

Students Demonstrate Against Coed's Arrest

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Officials at Ohio State University were looking today for the ring-leaders of a rowdy demonstration by several thousand students that included a march on city police headquarters.

Dean of Men Mylin Ross told police that the leaders of the unannounced mass protest—which apparently stemmed from a story in the campus newspaper about the arrest of a coed for failure to pay a jaywalking ticket—would be sought out and disciplined.

The demonstration began about 4:30 p.m. Wednesday at the spot near the campus where Marjorie Cocozello, sophomore from Paterson, N.J., was given a ticket for jaywalking. Within an hour the crowd had grown to what police later estimated was 5,000 to 6,000.

The students—both men and women—crossed repeatedly in the middle of the block on High Street between 14th and 15th avenues. Soon the demonstrators formed a solid mass in the street and a mammoth traffic jam had built up.

The long line of stalled vehicles included dozens of city buses. At least four students were arrested for removing bus trolley poles from overhead wires.

After about two hours, a crowd of about 1,000 marched three miles to the police station in downtown Columbus. There were a few reports of damage along the way, including smashed auto windows and a damaged theater marquee.

When the crowd reached police headquarters, Police Chief George W. Scholer said he would meet with student representatives today, then departed. A short time later, the crowd started the long trek back to the campus.

Late Wednesday night a big bonfire was burning in the middle of High Street at 15th Avenue where the original demonstration occurred.

Three hundred woolen and worsted mills have been closed in New England states since 1947 resulting in the loss of 100,000 jobs. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., recently disclosed in the Senate.

Junior Editors Quiz on HISTORY

QUESTION: When did civilization begin?

ANSWER: The word "civilization" comes from the Latin "civis" which means "citizen of a city." Students of history say civilization began when the first cities developed.

Of course, many highly important discoveries such as the use of metals, the raising of crops for food, and the domestication of animals, were made before the age of cities.

But when certain areas were found where enough crops could be raised for men to have a supply all year around, it became possible to put up permanent buildings, and these centers brought what we call civilization into being.

Five great river valleys led to civilization: the Nile in Egypt, the Tigris and Euphrates in the Middle East, the Indus in India and the Hwang Ho in China.

Egyptian cities started about 3000 B. C.; at about the same time, Sumerian civilization started between the Tigris and Euphrates.

The Indus Valley civilization began about 2700 B. C.; that of the Hwang Ho in 1500 B. C. In each city, writing became a necessity, which led rapidly to improvement in other fields.

The Egyptian chair in upper left is an example of the marvelous craftsmanship developed in these early city civilizations.

FOR YOU TO DO: On your next visit to a city or large town, notice the part cities take in bringing people and ideas together. Jerry has found something new in a city window—it may boost his scientific interest and affect the course of his life.

Makes $10,000 Per Hour

NEW YORK (AP)—Broadway showman Billy Rose has been making $10,000 a hour every hour that the New York Stock Exchange has been open since Oct. 15, 1963, his press agent estimated yesterday.

His huge holdings in American Telephone & Telegraph Co., New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads have risen to $4 million in value in recent months. His long term profits in AT&T, in which he is the largest individual stockholder, total more than $8 million.

Rose confirmed the approximate hourly figure after it appeared in a release by his press agent.

Capitol Correspondent Suffers Heart Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert N. Branson, Washington correspondent for Federated Publications Inc., representing news-newspapers in Michigan, Indiana and Idaho, was taken to the Georgetown University Hospital Wednesday after suffering a heart attack while at work in the Capitol.

His condition was described as "serious but stable" by doctors.

The median age of all women workers in the United States is now 41 years.

Flint-Detroit Train Derails, Ties Traffic

FLINT (AP)—Traffic on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad's main line between Flint and Detroit was snarled Wednesday by a derailment.

Twenty-two cars of a C&O freight train jumped the tracks near downtown Flint. Cause of the derailment was not immediately determined.

The mishap also caused an automobile traffic jam on Court St. No one was injured in the derailment.

That's Way Cookie Crumbles

Locked 4 Hours in Factory

NEW YORK (AP)—An old gag tells how a slip of paper in a Chinese fortune cookie reads: "Help, I'm being held prisoner in a Chinese fortune cookie factory."

It happened yesterday says Robert Grove, 29, who was at such a factory to complete details of his cookie order for a promotion stunt for Buffalo, N.Y. radio station WKBW.

He told police that while he was wandering around the rear of the factory, it closed, and he was locked in for four hours. Too embarrassed to telephone police, he signaled passersby, who called police. They located the owner.

Romney Urges Prayer

LANSING (AP)—Valentine's Day will also be a day of prayer in Michigan, under a proclamation issued Wednesday by Gov. George W. Romney.

The proclamation of "World Day of Prayer in Michigan" urges all citizens to pray on Friday for "wisdom, courage and strength to face the profound concerns of our time."

Steam Finish Facial Artistry

If you like to experiment with make-up, try this trick used by many models: Apply your makeup before bathing instead of afterward.

Just wash your face thoroughly at the basin, apply your cosmetics, and then shower or bathe last. If you shower, protect your artistry with a brimmed shower cap or a large rain bonnet which extends out over the face.

The advantage of this "order of the bath" is that the steam imparts a natural, lustrous finish to make-up in keeping with today's "natural look."

Betrothal OKs Use of Fiance's Car

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My fiance, who lives on the same street as I do, recently bought a new car. He goes to business during the day and does not use the car. He has told me that anytime I want to use his car I may do so. He has given me an extra set of car keys.

My mother does not think it would be right for me to use his car and that I will bring unpleasant criticism upon myself if I do.

May I have your opinion, please?

A: If your engagement has been announced, it is perfectly proper to use your fiance's car if you have need for it.

Q: I had dinner in a very nice restaurant with a friend last evening. The bus boy came around with a basket of garlic bread (a specialty of this restaurant) and offered it to the patrons at each table. I took a piece with my fingers but my friend used her fork. Will you please tell me which one of us was right?

A: You were. One helps oneself to bread with the fingers.

Q: I was supposed to have been married in two weeks, but my mother was taken ill a few days ago and is in the hospital in critical condition. The wedding has been postponed, and I don't know when it will take place. I have received quite a few wedding presents. What do I do about them?

Should they be returned now that the wedding has been postponed?

A: If, as your letter indicates, the wedding has been postponed temporarily and will take place at a future date, you need not return the presents.

It is only when a wedding has been permanently canceled that presents are returned.

Grocery-Purchasing Hubby Deserves Kitchen KP, Too

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I've just been robbed! My husband has decided to take over the grocery shopping.

We are not poor, but HE is going to show ME how to cut corners. He buys perishable food in large quantities and bargain canned goods we will never use.

Marketing was my only outing and I really enjoyed being away from him and my three children for an hour or two every Saturday.

He says I am welcome to come along (with three children). I say, NUTS!

I have seen men marketing and they fall into one of three categories: 1. Henpecked husbands. 2. Bachelors. 3. Penny pinchers. How can I change his mind?

DEAR ROBBED: He's strutting. It won't last. To bring his corner-cutting experiment to a screeching halt, tell him he who buys the food has to cook it.

Hand him the whole assignment, complete with KP. And let the kids climb all over him while YOU read the sports section.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and "M" is 17. "M" is a real doll. I heard that "M" thought I was cute so I managed to be outside the door of his classes whenever I could so he would see me.

Then I walked past his house about a dozen times a day, but he still didn't notice me. I did a real dumb thing and wrote him sort of a crazy love letter and stuck it in his locker, but nothing happened.

Then one of my friends got the bright idea that I should call him up and tell him I got a message to call him. Well, that bombed, too.

I really want this guy. What do I do to attract his attention now that I have made a perfect fool of myself?

PERFECT FOOL

DEAR FOOL: No one is perfect. Leave the poor kid alone.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding that married woman who used to run home and cry on her mother's shoulder every time she and her husband had a little spat.

Well, for the first couple of years of my marriage, MY wife used to run home to cry on HER mother's shoulder about once every two months. Then I found out that her mother had been dead for years and my little wife was crying on somebody else's shoulder.

Better tell that husband it doesn't hurt to check once in a while.

Clothes Expert Tells Good Fashion Secrets

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Women's Editor Tall, slim, poised Lilith MacKnight practices what she preaches. She wears clothes that suit her figure type, minimize her figure faults and are accessorized to personalize them.

Wednesday's Pontiac-Oakland-Town Hall speaker bought and sold clothes for a small shop in the Chicago area before she began to lecture. She still does commentaries for a few fashion shows each year.

Mrs. MacKnight loves clothes and loves the fashion industry. She had a number of amusing incidents about the Seventh Avenue sales rooms—like the completely bald man who tried on all the bridal veils he showed her.

STARTED YOUNG

Mrs. MacKnight's interest in fashion goes back to her youth when she made a pink and white dress for 8th grade graduation.

"I didn't quite finish it in time, but I wore it anyway!"

When women go shopping, they want something a little bit like what they've had, but also a little bit new.

Why do women dress as they do? Most of them dress to please themselves, or if they don't, they should.

Nothing gives you a better feeling, said the speaker, than to wear a dress that is just right and in which you feel good.

REPEAT SUCCESSES

When you have that kind of outfit—your "when in doubt, dress (when in doubt what to wear, this is it)—study it and then go out and get a similar one.

Mrs. MacKnight pointed out that several parts of a costume are particularly important. Each woman has a type and length of sleeve that is just right for her.

Every woman has a neckline that is most becoming to her. Every woman has a skirt length that is best for her height and figure.

Good design doesn't change. If it is good now, but out next year, it wasn't good in the first place.

NEGLECTED

Mrs. MacKnight thinks the woman of 40 and older is the forgotten woman in the fashion industry.

Statistics show that most women are shorter-waisted and narrower of shoulder than the clothes put out by the majority of designers.

But she's hopeful that some of the experts are beginning to be aware of this.

Color and fabric make all the difference between a so-so wardrobe and one that is outstanding. Consider them when you shop.

Jody Schmucker of West Sheffield Avenue and Gary Shelton of East Tennyson Avenue have boxes poised, waiting for Don Schroeder of South Edith Street to ring in their cues. They are part of the citywide junior high school orchestra which will present a concert at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Pontiac Northern High School gymnasium. They will be joined by 500 singers from the city's five junior high schools.

After Concert

Honor Andres Segovia

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. McLean will host a reception honoring Andres Segovia at their Forman Road home.

The world renowned classical guitarist is giving the fifth concert of the Oakland University Community Arts Council Saturday at Pontiac Northern High School. The reception will follow the concert.

Those attending from Birmingham include Mr. and Mrs. John Denios, (she is headmaster of Brookside School, Cranbrook), Mr. and Mrs. Semon Knutson, Mr. and Mrs. James Moon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. O'Neil, Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Swanston, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen L. Goodale and Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. de Salles.

FROM OU
Coming from Oakland University to honor Segovia will be Chancellor and Mrs. D. B. Varner, Dr. and Mrs. Lowell Eklund, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hadens, Dr. David Di Chiera and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Eria.

Others include Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Windler, (she is chairman of the Community Arts Council) the Russell Grimmeis and Norman Cheals of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Walters and Mrs. Robert Harris of Rochester and Mr. and Mrs. Zora Albin-Duntz of Grosse Pointe.

'Fallout' Problem Soluble

It's time to bring out the big napkins and throw away the diet charts. The turkey season has descended upon us. But a lusty appetite often causes a near miss of the biggest napkin. And it's gravy fallout time all-over again.

But fallout first aid is as near as your dryercleaner. Here's a first hand account of how a dryercleaner administrator's professional first aid — a National Institute of Dry-cleaning prescription for victims of gravy fallout.

First the garment is dry-cleaned. This removes all oily and greasy substances. However, the albuminous part of the stain still remains. So your cleaner uses an enzyme to digest it. This makes the albumen water-soluble; so the dryercleaner then applies natural detergent and flushes away the remainder of the stain with a steam gun. See... it's really very simple.

Cranberry stains cause a sugar as well as a dye problem, says the institute. And this can be difficult. Your professional dryercleaner has a remedy, but he will appreciate your getting your cranberry stains to him promptly before they set.

Sugar Soft Slip

To restore the stiffness of a nylon net petticoat, dip the petticoat into a solution of equal parts sugar and starch and hang it to dry, bottom side up, stretched between two lines. The sugar should be added while the starch is cooking.

April vows are being planned by Oralia Anita Cruz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ricard V. Cruz of Keego Harbor and Jose Eleazar Flores of Oakland Avenue, son of Mrs. Alejandro Flores of Mercedes, Tex., and the late Mr. Flores.

Quarter Hour Chicken Braid

Want to broil a chicken in 14 minutes.

 This meat-in-a-hurry is one of the claims for a new vertical rotisserie-broiler which takes up no more counter or table space than a dinner plate.

 The aluminum cylinder has a see-through plastic dome top, and all sections are removable from the base for washing in hot soap or detergent suds.

Mother's Depression Robs Child of Love

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE. Dear Mrs. Lawrence: It is nine months since our daughter left her husband and moved into an apartment near us with her two children.

She is still in a very depressed state from the years of abuse she had to take. Her son is nearly 11 and you would think he is big enough to understand this.

But his treatment of her is disgraceful. He argues with everything she says and is so full of backtalk that she has to call her father for help with him.

ANSWER: Your grandson, I think, is howling for the mother who has disappeared into this depression.

He's lonely for her. He's trying to rouse her by needing her.

We do disappear, so far as children are concerned, when we go into depression. A dull, preoccupied, listless stranger appears in our place. This frightens children.

 If, in addition, they have been recently separated from their father and subjected to the many other mystifying changes which follow the break-up of their home, mother's depression can be very scary indeed.

Under such circumstances, a child will badger, backtalk, disobey and generally harass her in the desperate hope of arousing some familiar show of life from her — anger, affection — any feeling that is vigorous enough to convince him that she is still in connection with him.

He will hit mother with misbehavior for the same reason that we slap a hysterical person sharply in the face.

Nine months is long enough for your daughter to remain in depression. So I hope you will persuade her to consult a psychiatrist.

SELF ESTEEM

It is unlikely that she can now believe that this belligerent child of hers is actually seeking the mother he loves. A marital break-up leaves us with damaged self-esteem.

All our failures to make ourselves understood by other people can combine with it to convince us that we are worthless and unlovable.

The angels from heaven could descend to try and persuade us that we have done the best we could and we wouldn't really believe them.

So your daughter may be in no condition to believe me when I say that this mistreatment by her boy is a form of love — a demand for a return of the familiar mother he misses and resentment of the depressed stranger who has taken her place.

I suggest a psychiatrist because psychiatrists don't try to convince us of our value and lovableness. They arrange matters so that we discover them in ourselves.

Clean Blue Jeans

To remove tint from a child's blue jeans, wash them separately, rinse twice, then add one tablespoon of vinegar to a gallon of water for a third rinse.

When dry, there will be no lint and the blue jeans will be softer.

'Navy Shower' Saves Water

If you live in an area where water is scarce, be sure to fix leaks and close faucets tight. Also follow these directions for a "Navy shower": Conserve water. Wet down—soap up—rinse off. This technique requires only two quick flows of water.

Iron Horizontally

To make cotton drapes hang straight after laundering, iron them horizontally, instead of with the side seams placed up and down.

You'll Make Friends

Sit in Front, Stranger

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE CASE R-448: Bill Austin served for 25 years as the president of the Bible class which met at the Chicago Temple.

He was a devout Christian, and had a wife who was one of the mainstays of the church.

But Bill was a traveling salesman. One Sunday in his early marriage he dropped into a big church at Pittsburgh.

He sat down near the rear and listened to the sermon. But when it was over, nobody greeted him or asked him to come back the next Sunday.

So when Mrs. Austin arrived the following week, Bill said:
CHILLY RECEPTION

"We better attend a different church this Sunday. For last week the people were chilly and unfriendly."

But his wife couldn't believe Bill's report.

"I'm sure they are not like that," she protested.

So she insisted they go back to that same supposedly chilly church.

She went far down front, for a pew, with Bill following.

And at the conclusion of the service, people shook hands and invited them back.

In fact, some of the ladies asked Mrs. Austin to join their ladies aid, and Bill was invited to become a member of the men's club.

"I just don't understand this change," Bill said later. "It must have been your attractive personality, for they ignored me last week."

No, Bill, it wasn't the fact that I was with you," she modestly disclaimed his compliment.

"Instead, it was just a matter of where we sat!"

Then she went on to explain to Bill that people who occupy the rear pews are usually strangers or shy folks.

"So you were surrounded by other visitors just like yourself," Mrs. Austin reminded him.

"They were visitors so they, too, were waiting for somebody to welcome them back."

"But since you were all strangers to each other, nobody took the lead in being friendly or shaking hands."

"Today, however, we went down nearer the front, where the members of the church usually sit."

"So we were surrounded by the home folks of the congregation. If you had gone forward just another dozen rows, you'd have been greeted as warmly last week as we both were today."

Mrs. Austin stated a very good axiom of applied psychology.

For the back rows at a church are occupied by the strangers or timid members, and neither of these groups is likely to take the initiative in shaking hands or being friendly.

recent marriage of Mrs.
Nancy Slade Crews of North
Anderson Street to Robert W.
Coad of Chrysler Avenue.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Anita Slade of Atlanta,
Ga. and the Grant W. Coads of Auburn Heights.

With her floor-length gown of pale blue silk brocade and pink bolero jacket, the bride wore a short bouffant veil secured by a blue floral headpiece. She carried pink and white carnations.

The Kenneth Walkers attended the couple at the candled ceremony.

A small wedding reception was held in the home of the bride's great-grandmother, Mrs. George D. Barker, of North Anderson Street.

Cover Old Piano Keys

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Our piano needed new ivory keys but the cost of having it done professionally was prohibitive.

I bought 15 4½-inch square white plastic wall tiles, cut and glued them on the keys and they look very nice.

The store lent me a cutter which made the job easier.
Eight key tops were cut from each tile.

First trim away the curved edges from TWO sides but leave on the other two so they come down over the fronts of the keys.
Sand the cut edges with very fine sandpaper. This costs around a dollar for both tiles and glue. — MRS. C.E.B.

DEAR POLLY — Here is a manicure help: First paint the left little fingernail and then the right one.

Next the left ring finger and then the right and continue in this manner until the thumb-nails are painted.

There is no waiting for one hand to dry and I haven't yet smeared a fingernail.

• When my two boys shared a room with bunk beds, there was a constant argument over the top bunk.

This was solved by letting each sleep a month in one bunk and then change. With this rotation they each enjoyed the coveted space equally over a year's time. — MRS. M.D.

DEAR POLLY — Recently both my young sons wanted to use water paints and there were no brushes.

We used baby's cotton tipped sticks and they worked very well. No muss or fuss when they tire of painting. Just throw away the cotton swabs. — MRS. W.W.

Six Live Cheaper Than One--Per Person

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money
Management

Dear Miss Feeley: How come some of your readers talk about feeding a family of five or six on $30 to $35 a week — when I've seen it stated that it costs $10.50 to feed one person? I'd sure like to see some of their menus!

Mrs. J. W., New Orleans, La.

Dear Mrs. W.: They don't pull any rabbits out of the hat. The fact is simply this: when you're feeding a big family, the cost for each individual is less. While it may take $10.50 to buy groceries for a week for one person, the ratio goes down with each person added to the dinner table.

MARY FEELEY

Age is a factor, too, in figuring the grocery bill. For example, the U.S. Department of Agriculture estimated it costs $5.50 a week to feed a woman 35 years old, based on a low-cost food budget.

But on the same budget scale, it cost $7.40 to feed a man the same age. A six-year-old child cost $4.50, while a 19-year-old boy cost $5.50.

You have to be a real mathematician these days to hit it right on the button. Just try serving them all stew. You can always throw in another carrot.

Dear Miss Feeley: I am a widow 73 years old, and live in my own modest home alone. I am living within my income. But is this the best way?

I have been advised to sell my home and move to a Senior Citizens home or some place where I won't have to live alone.

I have $5,000 loaned out on real estate at 6 per cent. And $3,500 with a savings and loan company. I own 200 shares of stock. I get $62 a month Social Security. I drive my own car. What do you advise?

Mrs. L. C. H., Dallas

Dear Mrs. H.: I think you've already decided that being independent financially is not enough. By all means try to arrange your life so that you'll have the companionship you've begun to realize is the most important thing in life.

The cost of living in a Senior Citizens set-up varies widely, according to the community. Why don't you shop around, so to speak? Look over the possibilities within driving range.

Then have a talk with your banker. He will be able to help you estimate how much money you would have, if you converted everything, including your house, into cash. See if there would be enough to buy an annuity, to guarantee you a life income.

As I see it, your main objective would be to have this income, to allow for board and personal expenses, and to have enough for final expenses.

It would be an irrevocable step, of course. But exchanging property for people isn't a bad deal.

Dear Miss Feeley: Could you please tell me what the average family with four children (three girls between 5 and 10 years old, one boy 2) spends a month, on an average, for clothes?

M. S., Smithtown, L. I.

Dear M. S.: The usual allotment for clothes is from 8 to 15 per cent of the family income. Whether you take the low figure or the high depends on what other expenses are involved.

In your case, you might find the low figure quite adequate, as your girls are in an age range that makes hand-me-downs logical. As a mother with four children, you might as well resign yourself to getting the small end of the deal, where your own clothes are concerned!

You'll find that dressing all of you in wash-and-wear outfits actually saves a substantial sum. Fewer changes are necessary when clothing can be washed and dried within a couple of hours. And the cost of upkeep is cut right to the bone.

Dear Miss Feeley: I am a cardiac patient, who has had two heart attacks, and also has arthritis of the spine. I am unable to work or doctor's orders, and have not worked since July 1962.

I draw a disability Social Security check and have income from a flat and my wife has a small job. Is there any certain way of filling out our income tax return?

And am I entitled to any other deduction, such as sick leave time, and do I state my condition on my tax return? We have always filed a joint return, even though this is the first time my wife has worked since 1945.

J. S., Toledo, Ohio

Dear J. S.: Fill out your income tax return just as you have in the past. Your Social Security benefits, are not subject to tax.

Let's Knit

Want Tunic or Vest?

Anyone who can knit a stitch and put a stitch can fashion this tunic. Knit it in a matching or contrasting color or even a tweed mixture to give a special lift to that favorite skirt and blouse of yours.

Also, do you realize that if this tunic is worked 11 inches in length you would have a vest.

Trimmed with a matching or contrasting woven bias band, obtainable in any fabric store, you will achieve that smart handmade look.

Instructions for this tunic are in sizes 8 through 18. All sizes are included on one pattern.

Pattern for Tunic No. 28 may be obtained by sending 50 cents in coin, check, or money order to: Ursula du Bois, The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Box 3307, Van Nuys, Calif. 91407.

Sunlight Can Hurt Furnishings

CHICAGO (UPI) — Window shades provide protection to fabrics against fading and other effects of direct sunlight. This holds as true for upholstery and slipcover fabric as it does for curtains hung directly at the window.

Sunshine, as wonderful as it is, can be damaging in large, concentrated dosages. Ultra-violet rays are believed by some experts to be the worst offenders.

That's why fabrics set at eastern or northern exposures fare better than those that receive sunlight from the south or west.

Tests made by the U.S. Bureau of Standards demonstrated that all fibers placed in direct sunlight deteriorate much more rapidly than those that have not been so exposed. Consequently, curtains wear better when shades protect them.

Dyed fabrics are particularly susceptible. In some cases the colors wash out. In others, even in the best vat dyes, the dyes themselves may not be affected but they tend to accelerate the sun damage to the fibers.

The Fine Hardwoods Association reports that, "Wood furniture standing in the line of direct sunlight, daily, will also change color. Walnut and mahogany tend to become yellow. Other dark woods also bleach in constant strong sunlight."

Local Boy Performs in Concert

Lester Utterback, a Pontiac freshman, is among 34 student musicians performing in the Albion College Symphonic Band Winter Concert, Sunday, on the Albion campus.

Utterback who plays trumpet, is the son of the Lester Utterback of Middlebelt Road.

Martha Burke, daughter of the William P. Burkes of West Hamilton Road has been named to the dean's list at Milwaukee-Dowder College, Milwaukee, for her high academic record in the first semester.

On the dean's list at University of Detroit, is Michael J. Brady, son of the Harry Bradys of LaFay Drive. He is a sophomore, majoring in liberal arts.

Why Grow Old?

Here are a few rules which will help you avoid nervous tension, which wastes so much energy and leads to chronic fatigue.

1. When life becomes very complex take time out to make a few lists. Write down what you feel you must accomplish during the next few days or week and then divide the activities up into days. The feeling of having more to do than you can do is tiring. Once you see it in black and white, if you have planned in a realistic way, you will feel relieved.

By realistic I mean, don't plan more than you can do without strain.

If you approach your lists from this viewpoint you will discover that lots of the things you had in mind can wait a little longer; that some of them are not absolutely and immediately essential; that the old world and your family and friends will go along in much the same way without such frantic efforts on your part.

DON'T FRET

2. Learn not to fret over non-essentials. Energy and happiness are wasted in mulling over a possible rudeness or wondering what someone thinks about you. Half of the time, the person did not mean to be rude or they didn't mean it as it sounded, and if they did, why become upset!

Many women also spend priceless energy which could be used in such happy ways by reaching for perfection in housekeeping and entertainment. They wait to extend hospitality until everything is perfect and even then they are not relaxed hostesses.

If the lamp shade doesn't get fixed before the party, forget it. If a member of the family spills something on a rug just before the occasion, just don't mention it.

It is certainly praiseworthy when a woman is interested in providing a well kept and well run, attractive home for her family, but it is a full time career to keep every detail of any home in perfect order.

NO RUSHED FEELING

3. Avoid the feeling of rush. Even if your day is crowded and you must go from duty to duty or from appointment to appointment it doesn't help to feel hurried. This feeling rather than the hurry, is the factor which exhausts you.

4. Organize your housework. This saves lots and lots of time and energy.

5. Everyone should have some privacy each day. Try to grab a few minutes a day to be alone, to dream, to think, to relax, to straighten out values, to get in touch with the sweep of life.

Deadline Approaches in Lansing

Constitution Changes Need Caucus OK

LANSING (AP)—Supporters of a series of proposed amendments to the new constitution still waited today for the go-ahead from both parties in the House—and hoped it would come before the long weekend adjournment.

If caucuses action on approving the resolutions is delayed until Monday, it will cut out about eight legislative days the time left to get them through both houses.

The resolutions would freeze existing legislative districts if no new apportionment plan is approved by the Michigan Supreme Court, and make other important changes in election provisions of the new document. State elections officials say the resolutions almost certainly would have to be passed by Feb. 28 to allow the 60 days necessary to put them on the ballot in a special April 28 referendum.

The three proposals had been stated to go to Republican and Democratic caucuses Wednesday, but the meetings never materialized because of a long House debate over a school prayer resolution.

Leaders of both parties indicated they would try to schedule the caucuses again today.

"Unless we can, it certainly will delay action on the resolutions at least until Monday," said House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston.

Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, a leader of the bipartisan group which sponsored the proposed changes, admitted he was worried about the possible delay.

He said, however, that there was no reason why the resolutions could not be expedited through the Senate if time grew short after they passed the House.

Neither Green nor House Minority Leader Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, were willing to guess whether the proposals could get caucus support. But O'Brien said he was confident.

"I predict they will get the support of both caucuses and between 90 and 100 votes when they reach the floor," said the Detroit legislator.

Kowalski said earlier the resolutions might run into trouble among Democrats because the Senate districts which one proposal would freeze were declared unconstitutional in the Michigan Supreme Court 1½ years ago.

Forest Lab Contract Given to State Firm

WASHINGTON (AP)—An $18,400 contract to design a forest engineering laboratory for the U. S. Forest Service at Houghton, Mich., was awarded Wednesday to the Office of Gordon Cornell of Traverse City, Mich.

The General Services Administration said drawings and specifications for the building are to be completed by September. Estimated cost of construction is $364,000.

By OSWALD JACOBY

Quite a few people today play a convention known generally as "the short club." There are almost as many forms of this convention as there are players who use it, but all forms have one thing in common. The child has a no father.

JACOBY Every expert bids three-card club suits on occasion. No experts bid the "short club" or the "forcing club." When an expert opens one club it is not a forcing bid and partner knows that he has at least three clubs to an honor.

There are a corporal's guard of experts who do use a formalized club convention in which the club opening guarantees a certain minimum of high card strength and shows nothing about clubs at all, but this so-called "big club" has no relation to the "short club." It is a legitimate bidding system although it has very few followers and is not likely to acquire any popularity.

North certainly hopes that his partner will respond to his 20-point club opening, but if his partner does pass, North does not expect to be missing a game.

South's response of one heart is most pleasing and North jumps to two spades. South bids three clubs to await further action and North jumps to four hearts.

South feels that his hand is worth some sort of slam try and the natural slam try is a bid of five hearts. North certainly wants to go to six, but North is looking at two losing diamonds and the bidding indicates that South also has no protection in that suit so North settles for what can be made.

Uphill Battle on Solon Plan

LANSING (AP)—A legislative redistricting plan sponsored by Sen. Kent Lundgren, R-Memphis, appeared today to face an uphill course with the Committee on Senate Business.

The committee failed to vote on the proposal at a meeting Wednesday afternoon and said committee members believed no action would be taken this week. This would run out the clock on the Lundgren plan, which is in the form of a resolution telling the State Apportionment Commission to consider it and possibly forward it to the Michigan Supreme Court.

The court, which took over the legislative redistricting job from the commission Feb. 1, has set next Monday as the deadline for submission of plans.

Lundgren, a former delegate to the Constitutional Convention, drew up the plan in hopes of giving the legislature the initiative in reapportionment. Committee member Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, said he believed the Lundgren plan will die in committee "and it should."

"This constitution gives the legislature no prerogative in apportionment. Lundgren was a con-con delegate and that's the way con-con wanted it," said Dzendzel, the Senate minority leader.

Lundgren argued in vain at the convention against creating the commission.

NO PREDICTION
Chairman John Fitzgerald, R-Grand Ledge, would make no prediction on whether the apportionment plan would reach a committee vote.

He said the committee will be meeting again this week and that Lundgren's plan is "in the game for a motion. I don't make the motions."

Lundgren told the committee that lawmakers are closest to the districting problem and know most about it, and said he felt the commission and the court should know what they had their own ideas on it.

Better Grade Movies Bring Boom to Theater Business

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD—For an industry that was supposed to curl up and die the movie theater business is showing amazing life.

THOMAS

Eugene V. Klein, president of the National General Corp., which runs 222 theaters—Fox West Coast—in 16 states, declares:

"We feel the theater business bottomed out some time ago. The climate has been extremely good for theaters recently. There were times at Christmas when every one of our theaters was sold out, and that hasn't happened for five or six years."

"What has caused the theater revival? Better product. The major reason for the increase of theater business is that Hollywood has been making pictures that people want to see."

"Mostly, it has been good, sophisticated pictures that audiences can enjoy. Like an 'Irma La Douce,' not a great picture but lot of fun."

GOT THE MESSAGE

"I think Hollywood has gotten the message. People won't go to see any Grade B garbage. They won't go to movie pictures. They'll pay $2.50 without complaining to see something they want to see. But if they don't want to see it, you can't get them in on passes."

Gene Klein is a plain-spoken man with the frame of a pro football fullback and a sense of what the public will buy. That knack is demonstrated in National General's latest statement: earnings in fiscal 1963 at $3,459,000 vs. a loss of $6,805,919 two years ago.

The veteran film chain had suffered a series of red-link-lure hares bounding into the black in 1962. The change in fortune resulted from a modernization campaign that now has the corporation selling not only movie entertainment but houses, dried figs and hootenanny sing-alongs.

"Diversification was the only sensible thing to do," said Klein. "Most big corporations have discovered that it is better to have several irons in the fire, rather than one that might get cold."

MUSICAL SEASON

Among National General's new enterprises: Concerts, Inc., which produces live attractions, including a season of musicals at Santa Monica Civic Auditorium; Mission Pak, the fruit seller; theater color-vision, for closed-circuit television; mobile rentals; trailer supplies; and housing and commercial developments in Marin, San Francisco, Orange counties, etc.

"But theaters will always be the major portion of our business," said Klein. "We have shut down or sold some and cut the seating capacity in others; some had 3,000-4,000 seats while $50 is a more sensible number today."

"Like any other business, we have had to take our merchandise to the public. We now half-way through our building program of 50 new theaters, mostly in new suburbs."

BETTER SUPPLY

National General is also moving into film financing—to assure a better supply of product. The government has consented, as long as the corporation allows its competitors to bid for the films. What if their bids are higher?

"That's all right, too," said Klein. "We make money either way."

Sonic Boom Tests: Residents Adjusting

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—The nation's sonic boom laboratory, a long slice through Oklahoma City's residential area, is taking the jarring in stride—to a point.

Most folks are getting used to the booms, which sound like thunder. They're coming now eight times a day.

The Federal Aviation Agency reported it received 655 calls during the first week of the tests, which started Feb. 3. Many were complaints, officials said, but most were just from persons who wanted to know what was happening.

The most serious objection came Wednesday when a plumber, Woodrow W. Bussey, filed a suit in federal court seeking to halt the tests.

EAR DAMAGE

Bussey, 46, named FAA Administrator Najeeb Halaby in the suit filed in behalf of his daughter, Julie, 5. Bussey claims the tests have impaired his daughter's hearing, and have aggravated an existing condition in his inner ear.

"A sonic boom can shake a house can do nothing but harm to the delicate membrane of the human ear," the suit contends. Bussey claims the tests started without his consent, so they are unconstitutional.

U.S. Atty. B. Andrew Potter said he isn't sure what the government's action will be. He said it is the first such suit to be filed where sonic boom tests have been conducted on an announced schedule.

Weather permitting, the booms are heard at 7 a.m., 7:30 a.m., 9:30 a.m., 10 a.m., 1:30 p.m., 2 p.m., 4 p.m., and 4:30 p.m. An Air Force F-4 Phantom fighter makes a precisely controlled pass over the city's northwest residential area.

TESTS CONTINUE

The tests will continue for six months. The FAA wants to see if the public can adjust to repeated sonic booms, which will be a by-product of the supersonic transport flights of the 1970s. The FAA says about 60 damage claims have been received, but only two of the parties signed complaints. Neither claim is significant, the agency says.

De Gaulle's Getting Gleeful Over Recent World 'Conquests'

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The air of jubilation and confidence emanating from President Charles de Gaulle's Elysee Palace was taking on an almost physical force.

The breaks were going his way, and his cup was running over.

Within the six-nation European Common Market he had successfully had beaten down

West German objections and forced agreement on a farm policy which promised to benefit French farmers and relieve the pressure of agricultural surpluses.

As for the world and France's place in it, especially as it concerned the United States, he had moved back into a place of prominence in Asia without the firing of a shot or the use of a soldier by the simple expedient of granting diplomatic recognition to Red China.

The Nationalist Chinese government of Generalissimo

Chiang Kai-shek then removed a situation which might have caused some embarrassment by breaking relations with France.

Ahead lay the rosy vista of de Gaulle's visit to Mexico next month and visits to Argentina, Brazil, Ecuador and Colombia in the fall.

A possible portent of things to come was a suggestion—from Panama, deeply embroiled in a quarrel with the United States, that that nation might also welcome attention from de Gaulle in the form of French economic assistance.

OPERATING BASE

De Gaulle's operating base was France's great prosperity and the suggestion that French aid, previously channeled almost exclusively to former French possessions, might now also be extended elsewhere.

In Asia, for example, de Gaulle pursued a twin goal. One was his avowed intent to restore the glory of France. The other, somewhat lower on the idealistic scale, was to open up Asian markets to French industrial goods faced with increasing competition and problems of over-production.

Red China had little that France could use and less money. But she could sell to the underdeveloped nations of the French African community and thereby earn the francs which could be spent in France on industrial products.

In Southeast Asia, the twin goals became one.

Despite the shock with which the United States greeted de Gaulle's decision to recognize Red China, it was part of a plan long in the making and one which began to take form last August when de Gaulle called for a neutral and unified Viet Nam.

The idea quickly gained adherents.

North Viet Nam, under severe economic straits and desperately in need of rice from the South, reacted enthusiastically. Cambodia, when it decided to reject U.S. aid, turned to France and received a warm reception.

"We are convinced that only France can build a bridge between East and West," declared Cambodia and a unified Viet Nam.

In Laos, French representatives have been equally active, promoting a state visit of the king to Paris and a long-term program of economic aid.

De Gaulle, promising his ideas on a belief the United States eventually must withdraw militarily from Southeast Asia, describes Red China as a force in being.

So, undoubtedly, is de Gaulle.

State Resolution

Prayer Issue Heads for D.C.

LANSING (AP) — Over the protests of some members that it was either wrong or unnecessary, a controversial legislative resolution on school prayers was on its way to Congress today.

The resolution—asking Congress to initiate action to amend the U.S. Constitution to assure a right to offer prayers in public schools—rolled through the House on a 75-35 vote Wednesday.

The proposal earlier had passed the Senate, where it originated, with 18 affirmative votes and an unrecorded number of no votes.

Sponsored by Sen. Milton Zaagman, R - Grand Rapids, the resolution specifically asks that the constitution be amended to provide that "the free exercise of religion shall include the right to offer prayers in public schools."

Zaagman said he seeks to "clarify" this right in view of a U.S. Supreme Court ruling last year that an official prayer prescribed for public schools in New York was illegal.

In 45 minutes of debate preceding the House vote, opponents of the resolution argued it was unnecessary because the high court ruling concerned only a "government - prescribed" prayer.

"The right to offer prayers in schools now exists," declared Rep. Joseph Gillis, D - Detroit. "A yes vote might be construed to indicate this legislature does not believe this constitutional right now exists."

Rep. William Ryan, D - Detroit, said he feared an amendment such as proposed by the resolution would pose a threat to religious freedom.

SPELL IT OUT

"If you spell out permission to pray, you're saying anything not spelled out as being permitted is prohibited," Ryan said. Some supporters of the proposal, among them Rep. Roy Spencer, R - Attica, said they viewed the question as fundamental in American government.

Spencer said, "we're not injecting religion into the schools. We are merely eliminating a ban against prayers."

There was a brief smattering of applause when Rep. John Sobieski, D - Detroit, said Congress should tell the U. S. Supreme Court "our people are still for God and country."

EFFORT FAILS

One effort to sidetrack the resolution by sending it back to committee failed, despite a plea by Rep. Jerome Traxler, R - Bay City, that lawmakers needed more time to make up their minds.

Traxler, an attorney, got a little angry when House GOP floor leader Robert Waldron, R - Grosse Pointe, also a lawyer, retorted:

"This issue is a basic one in American government. If you haven't got your mind made up by now, maybe you shouldn't be sitting here."

Rep. Raymond Baker, R - Berkeley, one of two Republicans who voted against the resolution, Question: During 1963 I received $220.00 income from funds I have deposited with a savings and loan association. The savings and loan association calls these payments "dividends." Am I entitled to the dividend exclusion and the dividends received credit on this income?

Answer: Amounts which you receive from a savings and loan association are in fact interest, not dividends. As such, you are not entitled to either the dividend exclusion or the dividends received credit on this income.

Injured Hand Fails to Halt Bronco Ace

By The Associated Press

The 12-stitch gash on Manny Newsome's shooting hand hasn't hurt the Western Michigan basketball ace's scoring touch.

The 5-foot-8 Bronco guard pumped 45 points through the hoop Wednesday night to spearhead Western to an 81-67 Mid-American Conference victory over once-powerful Toledo.

In other games, Dayton, Ohio, defeated Detroit, 90-84; Eastern Michigan topped Wayne State, 69-63, in a President's Athletic Conference match; and Alma cut down previously unbeaten Calvin, 98-65, to move within one game of the MIAA leaders.

Adrian upset Kalamazoo, 71-61, in another MIAA game, and Albion trounced Hope, 101-87.

In non-league play, Tri State, Ind., whipped Olivet, 62-51; Findlay, Ohio, bounced Central Michigan, 93-78; Windsor, Ont., outlasted Lawrence Tech, 109-91; and Michigan Tech bombed Northland, Wis., 104-67.

TWO MARKS

Newsome's 45 points set two Read Fieldhouse records, and brought him within a whisper of national and MAC scoring rival Howard Komives of Bowling Green. One record was for hitting 21 of 33 field goal attempts.

Komives, who scored 30 points in an 82-68 MAC victory over Kent State Wednesday, now is averaging 34.3 points to Newsome's 33.9. The pair have been running one-two in national college scoring.

Toledo, which has faltered without suspended scoring ace Larry Jones, trailed Western, 42-30, at the half. The Bronco victory snapped a five-game losing streak during which Newsome missed four games. He cut his hand in practice about three weeks ago.

Ray Wolford paced Toledo with 24 points. Toledo is now 12-5 for the season and 3-3 in the MAC. The Broncos are now 4-5 in MAC play and 8-12 overall.

Dayton's victory ended a five-game losing streak, longest in the 17 years Tom Blackburn has coached at Dayton. Henry Finkel led the Flyers with 22 points as they won their 11th game of the season against nine losses.

Detroit, also 11-9, got 30 points from guard Al Cech.

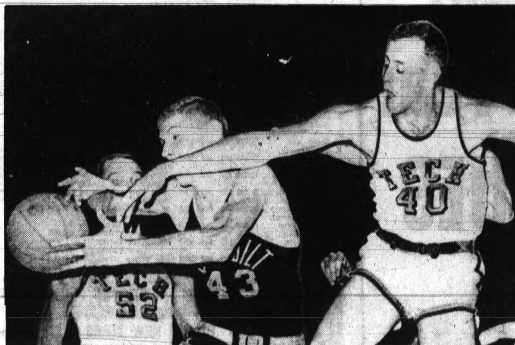

Eastern, trailing 32-31 at the half, rallied behind Ed Gallup's 17 points to clip Wayne, The Hurons, 9-3 over-all, now hold a 6-2 PAC record and are tied with John Carroll for second place. Wayne, paced by Fred Wolcott's 20 points, is 5-7 overall and 2-5 in league play.

ACTION HOT

Bud Action's 36 points powered Alma's victory over Calvin, 98-65, at the half, 46-43, in the second half.

Adrian's full-court press held Kalamazoo scoreless for minutes in the second half. It was long enough for Adrian to turn a 38-27 halftime deficit into victory and move within one-half game of third place Kalamazoo.

West Virginia Edges Pittsburgh, 86-84

Offense Fouls Away College Contest, 69-68

By The Associated Press

Billy Cunningham is a wonderful basketball player but the North Carolina star does have one drawback. He scores too much.

Cunningham hit 10 baskets against New York University at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night, but he'd have settled for eight. The other two drew offensive fouls and the high-scoring junior spent the last 11 minutes watching from the bench as the Violets held off a desperate Tar Heel rally and won 69-68.

NYU led by seven when Cunningham drew his fifth foul with 11:29 remaining. But instead of folding, North Carolina rallied and caught the Violets. Bryan McSwenny's bucket put UNC in front 66-65 with two minutes to play.

Then a couple of soph pulled the willing Violets together. Carlton Rogers regained the lead on a jump shot and Stan McKenzie stole the ball and drove in for a 69-66 NYU lead. Barry Kramer led the Violets with 22 while Cunningham's 23 topped all scorers.

MOUNTAINEERS

Fouls also figured prominently in West Virginia's 86-84 victory over Pitt. The Panthers lost four players on personals and the Mountaineers won as 68 fouls were called.

Cal Sheffield led Pitt with 22

before fouling out with eight minutes to play. Bill Maphis' 22 topped West Virginia.

Seventh-ranked Vanderbilt rallied from a nine-point halftime deficit and then lost in overtime to Southeastern Conference rival Georgia Tech 75-71. The victory moved the Engineers into a first place SEC tie with Kentucky.

It was a costly triumph for Tech, though. High scorer R. D. Craddock took a bad tumble while driving for a basket with 1:35 left to play. Craddock, who led Tech with 20 points, flipped over and was knocked unconscious. He suffered a concussion and severe head laceration.

JAP SCORER

The point markers were also hard at work. Butch Komives of Bowling Green, the country's leading scorer with a 34.3 average had 30 as the Falcons beat North State 86-84. Runner-up Manny Newsome of Western Michigan hit 45 in an 81-67 victory over Toledo.

Nick Werkmann, the leading scorer a year ago, contributed 37 as Seton Hall whipped LaSalle 75-61. The total increased Werkmann's per game average to 32.2, third best among the majors.

Tenth-ranked DePaul narrowly escaped from upset-minded Marquette with a 72-69 victory. Jesse Nunn scored 29 including the last eight points as the Demons pulled it out.

It was DePaul's 15th victory in 17 starts and Marquette's eighth straight setback in a 4-14 season.

The only other ranked team in action was Villanova and the Wildcats got a boost from Wally Jones to whip Duquesne 73-63. Jones, hurt in last Saturday's upset loss to LaSalle, scored 22 as eighth-ranked Villanova ran its record to 18-2.

The winners gained a 34-29 lead at intermission and turned back the Warriors in the final moments to sew up the victory.

Leading the Warrior attack were Dave Walter (15), B.111 Moore (14), Paul Jagels (12), and Bill Faught (10).

Pontiac Northern and Clarkston will be attempting to gain shares of basketball championships in their respective leagues Friday night.

Holding second place in the Saginaw Valley Conference will be Pontiac Central's 40-30 in the small Bay City Handy gym Friday night.

Northern entertains Farmington and a victory by the Huskies would assure them of at least a tie for the Inter-Lakes crown. Walled Lake will be home for Southfield and the loser of this contest will fall from contention.

Waterford will be trying to tie the Berkley for fifth place when the Skippers invade the Bears' den.

Clarkston heads for Bloomfield Hills and a win for the Wolves would just about end the Wayne-Oakland race. It would assure Clarkston of a tie and the Wolves would need only a victory at home over Clarensville next week to wrap up the title.

Bloomfield Hills can move to within a half game of Clarkston by pulling an upset.

Should this happen, the Barons would be in a good position to either split the crown with Clarkston or win it outright should the Wolves falter again before the season ends.

Northville is at Milford, West Bloomfield at Holly and Brighton at Clarensville in other W-O action.

Pontiac Central is tied with Saginaw for second place. Flint Central has already won the championship.

The Chiefs are wary of the small Handy gym that is said to be even more difficult to play in than the old Saginaw High bandbox and current Highland Park facility.

Saginaw could be upset by Flint Southwestern in a home game and this would mean the Chiefs would have second alone if they win.

Pontiac Northern carries a 6-1 league record into its game with Farmington. The only loss was to the Falcons.

Farmington is 4-3 and another loss would eliminate them from contention.

Walled Lake and Southfield are tied for fifth place. Walled Lake will fall by the wayside. Northern can wrap up the crown by winning at Waterford next week — if they get past Farmington.

The Huskies had their 17-game home-floor win streak snapped Tuesday by Pontiac Central. Friday's contest will be the final regular season home game for the Huskies who finish on the road before returning home for district tournament play.

WINS CROWN

Harper Woods Notre Dame captured the central division title of Detroit's Catholic League Wednesday night by edging Birmingham Brother Rice, 72-69.

Brother Rice, leading the loop most of the season, tumbled to third place behind U of D High School.

Eight Cars in '500' Powered by Ford

DETROIT (UPI) — Eight of the cars that will attempt to qualify for the Indianapolis 500-mile race this year will be powered by Ford Motor Company's new double overhead cam racing engine, the company revealed today.

A. J. Watson, whose cars have won four of the last five Indy classics, heads the list of those switching from conventional roadsters to rear-engined mounts, the company said.

Watson, Ford said, has built a new car for Roger Ward, two-time winner of the race.

Mickey Thompson, who last year entered rear-engined cars powered by modified aluminum versions of Chevrolet engines, also will use the V-8 Ford powerplant this year in his cars.

Lindsey Hopkins, who has entered cars at the brickyard for years, will enter a Lotus-Ford this year and Ted Halibrand, under the direction of Walter Meskowski, is building a rear-engined car for driver Eddie Sachs.

BACK AGAIN

Other Ford powered vehicles will be new Lotus-Fords driven by world driving champion Jimmy Clark and Dan Gurney — the pair that piloted the Lotus-Fords last year to a second and seventh place finish, respectively.

Dave McDonald, a rookie at Indianapolis, will head Mickey Thompson's team of drivers.

Hopkins' car will be piloted by Bobby Marshman, who had driven in three Indianapolis races.

All of those planning to enter Ford-powered cars met with company executives and engineers today.

William D. Innes, general manager of engine and foundry division, briefed them on the new engine.

Innes said it provides greater horsepower and speed potential and added that tests conducted to date have been highly successful.

"The data and know-how generated by the development of this engine could be of substantial help in future engine design," he added.

Komives Stays in Point Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Nick Werkman of Selon Hall and Gary Bradds of Ohio State are putting on a late season surge, but Howard (Butch) Komives still is the leading scorer in major college basketball.

The 6-foot-1 star of Bowling Green held his No. 1 spot for the fourth straight week with a 34.6 average according to the latest statistics released today by the National Collegiate Service Bureau.

If he stays there for the remainder of the season Komives will be the first ever to jump from 45th to the championship in one season.

NEWSOME SECOND

Manny Newsome of Western Michigan is second with a 33.1 average followed by Werkman's 31.9 and Bradds' 31.8 for a fourth place tie with Princeton's Bill Bradley.

Chicago keeps Pace With 5-2 Decision Over New York

By The Associated Press

With the next goal he scores, Bernie Geoffrion of the Montreal Canadiens will become the third highest regular season goal scorer in the National Hockey League.

Geoffrion scored twice as Montreal blanked Toronto 4-0 Wednesday night, giving him 38 goals, the same number Ted Lindsay had with Detroit and Chicago.

Chicago whipped New York 5-2 in the other NHL game and remained in a first-place deadlock with the Canadiens.

Only Gordie Howe, still very active with Detroit, and the reared Maurice Richard of Montreal are ahead of Geoffrion, whose goals have come in 14 seasons in the NHL.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Geoffrion, who will be 33 on Valentine's Day, gave Montreal goalie Charlie Hodge enough support after the teams had battled without a score through nearly two periods.

The veteran, who returned to action recently after missing three weeks with a throat injury, fired home his first goal at 17:57 of the second period and added his second at 2:23 of the third.

Hodge, getting his first shut-out, stopped 33 Toronto shots.

Chicago kept pace with the Canadiens in handling the Rangers their fifth straight setback. Bobby Hull and Eric Nesterenko got the Black Hawks off to a 3-0 lead, but Rod Gilbert and Andy Bathgate evened it for New York.

That was it for the Rangers, though, as Ken Wharram and Red Hay tallied for Chicago in the second period. Hay added another goal in the third.

BILLWING FINISH — With a brilliant display of canvas billowing in the wind, the 58-foot yawl Dyna was miles ahead of the other boats in yesterday's 184-mile Miami to Nassau yacht race and was first across the finish line. Clayton Ewing, Easton, Md., skippered the craft. The final positions will be determined by handicaps.

Bit of Nostalgia in New York Meet

NEW YORK (AP) — A spectacular field for the two-mile, a blazing personal duel in the half-mile and a bit of nostalgia are likely to steal the show from the traditionally featured mile run tonight in the 96th New York A.C. Games at Madison Square Garden.

Thomas, from Boston, has been over seven feet consistently this year and had to go 7-1/4 to beat Australia's Tony Sneazell, 7-0-4, in Los Angeles last week. Sneazell, who has gone over 7-2, and Southern California's Lew Hoy, another 7-footer, will challenge again.

Hayes, from Boston, has equalled the world indoor mark of 60-year dash six flat three times this season and may have to do it again to beat the good dash field arrayed against him.

The nostalgia will be provided by Princeton's Bill Bonthron, Penn's Gene Venzke and Kansas' Glenn Cunningham, who finished in a near dead heat in the NYAC Baxter mile in 1934. They'll don running clothes and jog a lap in the 30th anniversary of their race.

Jeane Owens and Harrison Dillard, who collared eight Olympic gold medals between them, also will take a turn around the Garden track.

WORLD FLAVOR

The two-mile has a definite international flavor in this Olympic year, with entries from Canada, Australia, Ireland, Costa Rica and the U.S. Toronto's 20-year-old Bruce Kidd, who has never lost on the Garden track, could be hard-pressed to defend.

The half-mile features the rematch of Villanova's Noel Carroll and Toronto's Bill Crothers, each a potential record-breaker. Crothers beat Carroll by a yard in their only other meeting this winter, clicking off an American record 1:50 in New York's Millrose Games.

Little Tom O'Hara, the Chicagoan with the unorthodox style and the killing kick, is favored in the mile. He is unbeaten in four major mile cup

Tiger Scout, Wife Die in Auto Crash

CHICAGO HEIGHTS, ILL. (AP) — A Detroit Tigers baseball scout and his wife died Wednesday in an auto-truck collision.

Theodore Pawelek, 43, and his wife, Dorothy, 37, of Chicago Heights died in the collision, on U.S. 30 in Chicago Heights.

Pawelek had served as a scout for the Detroit Tigers baseball team for several years. He caught four games for the Chicago Cubs in 1946.

PNH Swimmers 'Double Up' on Pontiac Central

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
Pontiac Central was seeing double in its swimming pool last night.

The Chiefs lost a swim meet to Pontiac Northern, 72-33, for the second time this season and a pair of PNH twins contributed highly to the winning cause.

It was a night for the Johnson twins with help from the Chambers twins.

Dick Johnson was part of the winning medley relay team and he took first place in the 100-yard butterfly. Rick Johnson was second in the individual medley and he won the 100 backstroke in an easy time of 1:03.9.

The Chambers twins, Ron and Don, took points in the 400 free-style and in the 150-yard free-style relay.
Pontiac Central's biggest event was the freestyle relay in which the team of Chase Hubbard, Miller and Howard set a pool and school record in 1:15.4 eclipsing the old mark of 1:17.1.

style defeating Northern's Bob Basinger in a close race. Howard's time was 18.5. He averaged the earlier season lost to Basinger in the 50-yard event at PNH.
Carl Cascadian and Skip Ervin were other double winners for Northern. Cascadian taking the individual medley in 1:53.4 and the breaststroke in 1:07.3. Ervin won 2:03.3 in the 200 and 4:30.9 in the 400 event.

terly, but Central's Dave Shadley vaulted ahead in the backstroke by four feet. In the breaststroke Cascadian's specialty, he surged ahead again and at this point Rick Johnson made his gain.
The Northern duo then shot far ahead in final freestyle part of the event and gave PNH a 1-2 finish.
Northern now stands 8-3 for the season and the Chiefs are 2-8.

Friday the Chiefs host Bay City Handy while Northern hosts Harper Woods next Monday.
BIG MEET FRIDAY
The big swim meet of the season in Oakland County and in the state Friday will take place at Royal Oak Kimball where the host Knights face defending state champion Birmingham Seaholm in closed TV circuit meet before an expected 2,500 spectators.

Kettering Has Sights on 11th

Kettering and Romeo will find their positions much improved in the Tri-County League basketball competition if they can triumph Friday night.
The Kettering quintet could not and not fall from its lofty perch atop the race; but a victory over visiting Oxford would clinch a tie for the league championship.

Lapeer has a non-league clash with Davison and can not improve on its second place position, unless Oxford can snap the Captains' winning streak at 10.

Romeo, meanwhile, is out of the title chase but still must repel Mount Clemens' L'Anse Creuse's bid for third place.
The Bulldogs are 2-3 while their Friday night host is 2-4. Should Romeo again prevail—the first game ended 81-60—the Lancers could do would be a tie.

Kettering will be out to extend not only this season's perfect record, but strings of 11 straight league victories and 10 in row at home (both spread over two seasons).

Hoover Takes Bowling Lead

Detroit's Stampe 2nd in Qualifying Round

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Dick Hoover of Akron, Ohio, rolled into the lead at the end of the first qualifying round of the Mobile Professional Bowling Tournament Wednesday night.

Hoover, a two-time winner of the Masters tournament, collected 2,672 pins in 12 games. He had the night's highest series with lines of 222, 213, 248, 258, 246 and 202 to total 1,389 in the second round.

Detroit's Bob Stampe followed with 2,639, while Wayne Zahn of Atlanta rolled 2,603.
Jim St. John of San Jose, Calif., had 1,333, a bare one-pin margin over Tommy Tuttle of Little Rock, N.C.

January to Defend Tucson Open Title

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) Lanky Texan Don January opens defense of his Tucson Open Golf title today on a desert layout where the weather could have as much influence as good driving and good putting.

The weather man expected it to be warm with little wind for the 72-hole event, but it wasn't that way for Wednesday's pro-amateur prelude to the $30,000 tournament.

Gusts whipped the 49ers Country Club course, where the two lowest scores were a 67 by Jerry Edwards of Ft. Worth, Tex., and a 68 by Al Kelley of Orlando, Fla. Each teed off in the relative calm early morning and finished before the winds reached full velocity.

Edwards collected $250 and Kelley $210. Winner of the open gets $4,000.

Kansas City Issue at Showdown Stage

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Flery Charles O. Finley of the Athletics and other American League club owners appear on the way to another head-on collision after a session here Wednesday left Finley and the city still far apart over a stadium lease.

In the first collision Jan. 16 in New York, the owners flatly rejected Finley's bid to move to Louisville and by a 9-1 vote ordered him to sign a lease in Kansas City by Feb. 1 or face expulsion from the league.

The deadline was extended to Saturday after Finley said he might take his case to court and hired Louis Nizer, famed trial attorney.

It's doubtful a lease will be signed before the deadline and the league is expected to call another meeting for next week. Finley obtained a firm commitment from Oakland, Calif., Jan. 27 and it's likely he'll ask the league for permission to move the club to Oakland.

TWO CHOICES

The club owners doubtless will first try to get Finley and the city together on a compromise three-year pact. Failing that, the owners would then seem to have only two other choices:

1. Grant him permission to move the club to Oakland.

2. Follow through with their threat to take over Finley's franchise, thereby risking a lawsuit.

The owners want to avoid a lawsuit if possible because they fear a change in the baseball's exemption from antitrust laws.

All talk of a compromise evaporated at the session Wednesday when Finley insisted at the outset he couldn't and wouldn't sign for more than two years ... you can sit here until midnight.

One of Finley's attorneys, Gerald Phillips, charged Mayor Irlus Davis took advantage of Finley because of the league's lease-or-else deadline and asserted the mayor hadn't "retreated even one inch since since Jan. 16."

Davis denied it, citing his modification giving Finley the first two years rent-free on a five-year pact, instead of the last two free on a four-year lease. Then the mayor asked Finley "Would you like to tell us what concessions you've made since Jan. 16?"

"I haven't made any and I'm not going to make any," Finley retorted. The meeting adjourned on that statement.

Joe Cronin, league president, declined any comment. Councilman Sal Capra, noting Finley's contention he would risk bankruptcy by signing for more than two years, offered a bankruptcy clause covering only the club's operations the last two years of a four-year pact.

No Dissension on Team, Says Red Sox Manager

BOSTON (AP) — Manager Johnny Pesky of the Boston Red Sox says there's no truth in reports that his American League team is riddled, or even bothered, by dissension.

Pesky talked with newsmen this week after it was learned that a national sports magazine has an article due out next month saying the Boston club is the most dissension-ridden in baseball.

"Ordinarily I wouldn't honor this kind of story or report," Pesky said. "But this thing seems to have been building up ever since last season ended."

Pesky said the charges are "ridiculous" and so are accusations that he doesn't get along too well with two of his best players, first baseman Dick

Stuart hit 42 home runs last year and Yastrzemski led the league in batting with a .321 figure.

"Just because Yastrzemski happens to express the opinion that I made some mistakes last year doesn't mean we are at each other's throats," Pesky said. "As a manager if I could not get along with a potential .350 hitter I'd be nuts. And I know Carl doesn't resent the criticisms and suggestions I have made in our private discussions."

Pesky said Stuart came to him twice last summer with complaints and the two discussed them behind closed doors.

"I admire Stuart for doing that," he said. "The air was cleared and we understand each other perfectly."

The Red Sox manager, who is beginning his second year at the helm, said he has seen "no particular friction" among his players.

"I'll admit we have personal differences, and even disagreements," he said. "But to say these add up to dissension is a far stretch of the imagination."

Heads Golfer Group

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — David S. Mootie, 36, of Toronto, Canada, was elected president of the Golf Course Superintendents of America Wednesday night at the organization's 55th Turf Grass Conference. He succeeds Roy Nelson of Chicago.

L. R. (Bob) Shields of Rockville, Md., was chosen vice president by the 2,591 delegates attending the five-day conference. It ends Friday.

Pirates String Ends

Captain Jerry Mondy's "Pirates," who had won 111 straight games since entering the Waterford Township Recreation women's volleyball league in 1962, suffered their first setback this week when they dropped three out of six games to Catherine Filka's Valley Belles.

Molterer Wins Pro Slalom Race at Pine Knob

'63 Champion Is Runner-Up at Pine Knob

Austrian Gets $1,300 for First Place in Two-Night Event

By JERE CRAIG

Skiing expertly, Anderl Molterer showed why he is regarded as the world's top professional slalom skier by clearly winning the Pine Knob Dual Slalom Cup Wednesday night.

The 32-year-old, two-time Olympic medal winner from Austria captured the second night's race by 1.2 seconds over runner-up Adrian Duvillard of France under good weather and slope conditions.

Molterer had a combined time of 57.9 seconds for his two runs. Pepl Gramshammer, the Tuesday night winner, was third with 58.2, one-tenth of a second more than Duvillard, who was the 1963 winner.

Combining the times for both nights' races, IPSRA officials awarded the Pine Knob trophy to Molterer, who now skis out of Aspen, Colo.

He was 1.1 second ahead of Duvillard and Gramshammer with 107 seconds for his four runs. Laid out by Ernst Hinterseer, last night's course was considerably tougher than the first night's.

Hinterseer tied Gramshammer for third place last night.

Molterer was, also, the top money winner in the two-night competition. He pocketed $1,300. His 28.6 timing on the first run Wednesday earned him $300 for the best individual time.

Gramshammer was second in total money winnings with $887, while Duvillard, last year's Pine Knob champion, collected $900.

The fourth best money earner at Pine Knob was popular Ober Schneider of Boyne Mountain. He finished fifth and sixth in the two nights' races, and also pocketed $250 in prize winnings from the "styling" contests with his smooth skiing.

Schneider won $600 in all. Mt. Holly's Herbert Thayer finished eighth both nights and collected $200 total.

The crowd of more than 1,000 spectators received a scare when American contingent Max Marolt crashed into a timing post at the conclusion of his last run.

Marolt spun to the ground and was carried from the area. A quick check indicated, however, that he was not hurt and, in fact, was more concerned about his skis.

The victory for Molterer was his first win after capturing the North American slalom and giant slalom championships at the first IPSRA Meet this season.

Pine Knob was the fourth stop on the current tour. The pros departed early this morning for Minneapolis, Minn. where they will compete Saturday night and Sunday.

PILE UP — Max Marolt is given attention from other skiers after hitting the timing post in the pro races at Pine Knob last night.

FIRST AID — Ernst Hinterseer (left) and a first aid person from Pine Knob carry Marolt from the slalom course to the first aid station after the accident. He was examined and there were no serious injuries.

Junior Wings Meet Chatham

The Detroit Junior Wings and Chatham Junior Maroons will stage what may be a preview of the Border Cities Hockey League playoff championship when they meet in the Wings final regular-season home game at 8 p.m. Friday in Olympia Stadium.

A victory by the Junior Wings would end their season-long slump against Chatham in which they have failed to win in five previous meetings and would allow them to break even for the season with a league mark of 15 victories and 15 defeats.

The 11th Annual Lower Peninsula Regional Alpine Ski Meet, sponsored by the Michigan High School Athletic Association will be held Saturday at Manistee's "Big M" ski area.

The meet will begin promptly at 9:00 a.m. and will involve approximately 200 of Michigan's best prep skiers. Both boys' and girls' teams from all over the State's lower peninsula will vie for honors in the State's largest ski meet.

This meet is the finale of the racing season for the young skiers of Michigan High School Ski Teams.

Pontiac Central and Walled Lake's boys are both rated possible winners; and the Waterford Kettering girls are drawing support, also.

In a meet early this week, Detroit Thurston picked up victories in both the boys and girls events.

Bloomfield Hills is listed for the annual Lower Peninsula Regional Ski Championship event at "Big M" at Manistee Saturday, also; but coach Don Gregory reports the Barons will compete at Mt. Holly instead.

Should a weather change wipe out the latter, the Hills teams would then rejoin the 18 others scheduled for the state regionals.

No other Oakland County schools are in the "Big M" event, although numerous ones will compete at Mt. Holly.

A frequent winner at the latter races, Bloomfield Hills again is considered a top challenger for the boys' and girls' honors.

Three County Skiers Score in Regionals

A check of the final results from the regional Alpine Ski Meet last weekend at Thunder Mountain reveal three Oakland County skiers qualified for the divisional meet.

Geoff Smith of Bloomfield Hills, Cheryl Luther of Rochester and Dave Clark of Royal Oak were the teen-agers who advanced to the Feb. 22-23 Nub's Nob competition.

Smith and Clark qualified in the Class I boys field, while Luther placed among the Class IV girls.

Her brother Don won the Class I independent boys slalom event last weekend but did not outpoint enough other competitors to make the 53 qualifiers.

A similar fate befell Dick Krantz of Birmingham who won the Class II independent boys slalom but was downhilled by Thunder Mountain.

Approximately 30 boys and girls from the central division (Midwest and points south) of the United States Ski Association will qualify in the Nub's Nob races for the national Junior Alpine championships next month.

Good Ski Conditions in Pontiac Areas

Michigan's legion of skiers were not disheartened by news today that there wasn't much of a snow forecast for the state. Snow flurries fell early today and it was much of the same for the rest of the state, but snow machines were in operation in most areas.

Highs in lower Michigan ranged from 30 to 38 while readings in the upper peninsula ranged from 27 to 33.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

VICTIM OF BEATLEMANIA — New York police assist Eileen Hartnett, 17, who fainted while waiting for The Beatles outside the Hotel Plaza yesterday. The crowd reached 1,000 persons who welcomed the mop-haired British quartet back from Washington. The 'n' Roll foursome played Carnegie Hall last night.

The Beatles Are Drowned Out

By HENRIETTA LEITH
NEW YORK (AP) — The Beatles played Carnegie Hall Wednesday night and it was an awesome performance.

The Beatles looked like an amusing parody of the worst elements of American rock 'n' roll music. The word "looked" is used advisedly, for no one, especially the screaming little girls, actually heard The Beatles.

The performance—by the girls—began early in the morning and lasted all day and night, the scene shifting from the Plaza Hotel—where The Beatles are staying—to Pennsylvania Station—where they were arriving from Washington—to Carnegie Hall.

The performance by The Beatles lasted only for about a half hour at each of two shows on the old concert stage. It is doubtful if anyone, The Beatles, the girls or disinterested observers, could have stood any more.

One patron of The Beatles' art who didn't scream sat in the fourth row, with a child on her lap and another beside her. When the spotlight was aimed at her, it turned out to be Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller, the New York governor's wife. The youngsters were Jamie and Wendy Murphy, her children by her previous marriage.

A Carnegie Hall spokesman later said the children were escorted to The Beatles' dressing room, where they got autographs.

Mrs. Rockefeller told a reporter the Britishers' performance was "one of the most extraordinary things I've ever seen."

"LOVED IT"

"I loved it, it was marvelous. They have a lot of talent," she said. The children nodded agreement.

Another unlikely Beatle viewer was Francis Cardinal Spellman, Roman Catholic archbishop of New York, who was seen watching The Beatles as they left the Plaza Hotel.

The police used security measures reserved normally for kings and presidents.

When The Beatles left the Plaza for Carnegie Hall, they were taken to the hotel basement and through a subway tunnel to reach the back door of the concert hall.

BULL HORNS

Police used bull horns to announce to the crowds that The Beatles again had escaped their clutches. Each announcement set up mass groups of disappointment.

With all this anticipation, it was strange that The Beatles fans who were lucky enough to get into Carnegie Hall—and waited 45 minutes before The Beatles came on stage—didn't stop to listen.

They didn't stop screaming throughout the half-hour. Most of them never stopped jumping, writhing, tossing their long manes and grinning as they watched The Beatles' gyrations and listened to their own screams.

The Beatles, as if there is anyone who doesn't already know it, are four British imports, John Lennon, Paul McCartney, George Harrison and Ringo Starr, who play drums and guitars and sing and sport haircuts down to their eyebrows.

Some American Longhairs Adore English Quartet

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK—Disguising myself as an egghead, by wearing a Yul Brynner baldheaded wig, I polled music-lovers about The Beatles... and found that some of our longhairs adored the British Barber Shop Quartet.

Some didn't, such as one jealous guy who said, "They should limit their appearances to airports."

He works for a rival singing group. You know the police who kept autograph fans away?

We saw one police lieutenant and one policeman getting autographs themselves. The Beatles captivated most people who met them.

"They have some kind of a spark," said Peter Nero, the young pianist-singer-composer.

Of course there was much kidding. "They have more hair than I do but I sing better," said Abe Burrows, author of "The Girl With the 3 Blue Eyes," himself a soloist with a most resilient voice.

"There's one thing we should do with The Beatles—spray 'em," claimed Alan King.

"Elvis the Pelvis can sing better at 90," said Billy Reed of the Little Club.

Dizzy Gillespie came backstage at Ed Sullivan's CBS TV show, got autographs, then shouted, "Man! I'm gonna sell these and then buy me four Count Basie albums!"

The consensus from reporters and photos was that they're unsold—with a sense of humor about requiring more cops than Khrushchev.

"What about Detroit's campaign to stamp out The Beatles?" they were asked. "We got a campaign to stamp out Detroit," one fired back.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

George Peppard came from the funeral of his mother to N.Y. to see Liz Ashley, then heads for Europe for picture promotion.

Jane Fonda, at a "Sunday or Alive!" TV skating party, said she's going back to Paris to continue her romance—but she wouldn't say with whom. . . Mrs. Richard Rodgers has finished a book, "My Favorite Things."

Joseph Levine entered Doctors Hospital planning to stay until he'd lost 70 pounds but "lammed" Wednesday for a trip to L.A. Says he'll return. . . Steve McQueen's as big in France as The Beatles. His "Wanted—Dead or Alive!" TV show's running. . . Max Asmus, the pastrami purveyor, speaks at the March of Dimes salute to Harry Herfield March 8.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Nonnee Con of Norfolk visited New York and reports there's only one thing wrong here with the two-dollar steaks—they cost $6.75.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Human nature is harder to change than a hundred dollar bill."

EARL'S PEARLS: NBC's planning a documentary (writes Sol Weinstein) about the life of Socrates. It'll be titled "This Was the Greek That Was."

Joey Bishop, performing for the Catholic Press Council, said, "I got a great parking space here tonight. I just told the attendant I was a Bishop. That's Earl, brother."

TELL OF DRAMA — Actor Leon Ames of television's "Mr. Ed" show and his wife, Christine, tell newsmen of being held at gunpoint at their North Hollywood, Calif., home last night in a $50,000 extortion-kidnap attempt that ended in arrest of a young mechanic and his wife.

TV Actor Laughs Off Real-Life Adventure

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Veteran actor Leon Ames, released after being held at gunpoint for four hours in a $50,000 extortion attempt, laughed it off.

"I've played a lot of these parts before," he said.

Ames, who also is a prominent auto dealer, his wife, Christine, and two others were involved in the real-life drama yesterday that ended with the capture of a young mechanic who had fled with Mrs. Ames as a hostage.

She was released unharmed after police, directed from a helicopter overhead, surrounded the car.

Ames, 61, plays in the "Mr. Ed" television series and was a star in the movies, "Life With Father," as well as many movies.

He said the action, reminiscent of a gangster movie, started when "I heard the doorbell ring. It was just after 8 a.m. There was a young fellow standing there with a gun. He said, 'Back up and shut up.'"

COULDN'T BELIEVE IT

"He said, 'This is a holdup and a kidnap. Don't try anything funny.'"

"I couldn't believe it. He said one false move and my wife would be dead."

"He asked for $50,000 within two hours. I pretended to be sick, thinking maybe I could get the gun, but then I realized that was silly."

When Ames told the man he did not have $50,000, the suspect told him to contact his partner, Ralph Williams, and tell him to come to the Ames' home for a business conference.

Talks Are Going Well Despite Differences on Deals With Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson and British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home meet today to discuss disarmament problems and such ticklish economic questions as long-term credits to Communist countries.

White House sources reported that the talks between the two leaders yesterday went extremely well.

The prime minister and Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler told Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk that the British government wholeheartedly supports the U.S. position on South Viet Nam, British spokesmen reported.

Sources said Johnson and Douglas-Home established good rapport in their first formal meeting despite differences on such delicate problems as trade with Communist countries in general, and especially U.S. resentment over the British sale of $11 million worth of buses to Cuba.

This top, informants said, was disposed of quickly when the prime minister did not conceal his annoyance over American criticism of the sale.

STRATEGIC GOODS
He was reported as having told Johnson:

"Britain, while hating the export of strategic goods to Communist countries, intends to carry out peaceful trade with them."

The British are at a loss to understand the difference between the United States feeding Communists with American wheat, but objecting to Cubans being transported on British buses.

In general, that Britain's economy depends on foreign trade, while that of the United States does not.

LEAN AND HUNGRY

He also reported the British view that a lean and hungry Communist is more dangerous than a fat one, a thesis which London believes supports Britain's insistence on free trade with the Communists.

City Fire Marshal Charles Metz asked for the assistance after being unable to find the cause of the blaze or where it started.

Fifty Pontiac firemen battled the blaze from 11:30 p.m. Tuesday to shortly before 4 a.m. yesterday.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts tonight will be clear and cold with a low of 22. Temperatures will shoot up to 38 tomorrow afternoon.

There's a chance of some light snow in the morning.

Today's southwesterly winds at 10 miles per hour will diminish tonight and become 8 to 15 m.p.h. tomorrow.

Twenty-eight was the low reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. By 1 p.m., the thermometer registered 37.

Find Dynamite on Tracks

Boys Foil Train Sabotage

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—An attempt to dynamite a freight train of the strike-plagued Florida East Coast Railway was foiled last night by four boys, authorities said.

The youths were walking along the tracks when they discovered 45 sticks of dynamite hooked to a rail.

They coolly dismantled the charge minutes before the south-bound train passed. The train whizzed by, unaware of its close call with disaster.

The identities of the boys were withheld.

Deputy Leif Larson of the Brevard County sheriff's office said the dynamite was electrically wired to the track and would have exploded under the locomotive's wheels.

DEATH THREAT

"If the boys had not taken their quick action, somebody might have been killed," Larson said.

Last Sunday, an FEC freight train was derailed by dynamite north of Miami. The line is operating with nonunion labor and supervisory personnel.

In last night's incident, the dynamite was placed on the track about five miles north of Titusville and about 1.5 miles from where the FEC tracks join a government-owned spur track leading into the Merritt Island moonport area of the Cape Kennedy launch complex.

PICKETS PROTEST

Earlier this week, railroad union pickets appeared at Cape Kennedy and Merritt Island to protest movement of the line's freight trains into Merritt Island with construction materials.

All construction halted when workers refused to cross the picket lines but was resumed after a temporary federal court injunction was issued yesterday.

A hearing is scheduled at Orlando today on whether to extend the injunction.

Arrange Truce After Cypriot Port City Fight

U. S., British Work on Cease-Fire Treaty for Strife-Torn Island

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Fighting between Turkish and Greek Cypriot communities broke out again today in the coastal city of Limassol to shatter a brief cease-fire.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Heavy fighting broke out a cease-fire in the southern port of Limassol at dawn today and Greek Cypriots swung makeshift armor into a five-hour battle against the Turkish quarter. Then the British arranged another truce.

The shooting came as American and British diplomats pursued talks in Nicosia with the aim of landing an international peace force on this troubled island.

An Associated Press correspondent said he saw five Turkish dead in a Turkish-Cypriot area of Limassol overrun in the battle. He said the total could be determined only after officials gained access to the surrounded quarter.

Greek Cypriots said they lost one dead and several wounded.

NEAR MOSQUE

The worst fighting centered near the Arnaup Mesjid Mosque.

A British military source said the Greek Cypriots used armored bulldozers, an old tank and homemade armored cars.

Before the original cease-fire was established last night, the Greek Cypriots had insisted that their Turkish fellow townsmen lay down their arms.

The Turkish Cypriots were said to have refused without a guarantee of protection by British troops.

LAST RESORT

British troops moved in as a last resort to try to separate the combatants and were themselves fired on. Such hazards are one reason Britain wants to surrender its police role to an international truce force.

The British said it appeared the fighting had stopped at 11:30 a.m. For a time the Greek Cypriots seemed to be on the verge of wiping out the Turks there.

The eruption of fighting broke a cease-fire arranged in Limassol by the British last night.

Maj. Gen. Peter Young, British commander of the Cypriot truce force, had flown to Limassol with the Greek Cypriot Interior Minister, Polykarpos Geogiadis, to talk to the combatants.

Praise Is Growing for Music Festival

By JANET ODELL

"Wonderful" is the adjective most individuals use when asked for their comments on the Meadow Brook Music Festival scheduled for Oakland University this summer.

Milo Cross, president of Pontiac State Bank, had a reaction that was definite:

"It's wonderful for Oakland County and Oakland University and all the people of this area."

E. M. Estes, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division said:

"We in the Pontiac area are very fortunate in having the Meadow Brook Music Festival to enjoy so near us at Oakland University."

Said Leslie Gilliam, manager of the Pontiac Mall Montgomery Ward store: "This will be a fine asset to the community. There is sure to be a very good response to this sort of thing."

KNOWS ADVANTAGES
Mrs. Charles Himmelfarb of 135 Lakeside, Birmingham, who is a musician, said she knew just what that sort of organization can do for the surrounding countryside.

"It's the type of activity we really ought to have," she said. "We're delighted it's going to be out here. This is an art area to begin with. There are many untapped resources."

Felix Resnick, director of the Pontiac Symphony orchestra and a member of the Detroit Symphony orchestra which is giving the concert this summer, gave the orchestra's viewpoint as well as his own.

"The musicians of the symphony (Detroit) are very excited about the festival and are 100 per cent behind it."

It answered: "They do not interfere and moreover they encourage them."

The new paper carried two pictures: one of The Beatles and the other of young girls going into a frenzy upon hearing one of their performances.

Swiss Reject Russia Protest

Say Reds Refused to Aid in Defector Case

GENEVA (AP)—Switzerland has sharply rejected the Soviet Union's complaints about Swiss security in the case of a Soviet disarmament delegate's defection to the United States.

Rene Helg, president of the Geneva cantonal state government, yesterday called the Soviet charges "unfounded, unjust and unfriendly."

He said the Russians had refused to cooperate with Swiss authorities and even hindered the Swiss police investigation.

Semyon K. Tsarapkin, chief Soviet delegate to the international disarmament conference, accused Western agents of "provocative activity" in the defection of Yuri I. Nosenko, 36.

SECURITY OFFICER

He has been identified by U.S. officials as an officer of the Soviet KGB security agency.

In a statement to newsmen, Tsarapkin accused Switzerland of failing to provide adequate security for delegates and demanded the Swiss get Nosenko back.

Summoning Soviet Ambassador Alexander Lochtekhov to his office in Bern, Foreign Minister Friedrich Walder handed the Soviet envoy a stiff protest against Tsarapkin's remarks.

At a news conference in Geneva, Helg said Tsarapkin waited 29 hours before informing Swiss police of Nosenko's disappearance.

Helg declared the Russians refused to give Swiss police a photograph of Nosenko, his birth date or particulars of his background, and refused to allow inspection of his belongings or permit questioning of other members of the Soviet delegation.

"In these circumstances, it is not surprising that our inquiries led to no positive result," Helg said.

The No. 2 defendant in the case, Friedrich Tillmann, 60, died yesterday in a fall from an eighth-floor window in Cologne, Dr. Fritz Bauer, chief prosecutor for the state of Hesse, said that also was a suicide.

Tillmann, 60, was office chief of the euthanasia center in Berlin during World War II.

Bauer charged that there is a conspiracy to prevent the trial, which was to have begun in Limburg next Tuesday. He did not elaborate.

PUBLIC PROPERTY
Karl Heinz Zinnal, prosecutor on the case, told a newsmen: "I suspect there are many doctors who are interested that their names and work during the Third Reich do not become public property."

Japan Faces Pressure on China Ties

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's left wing and some businessmen are applying the pressure on the government to follow the example of France and recognize Red China.

Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda, an Asian friend of the United States, refuses to be stampeded into abandoning his policy of nonrecognition.

But he shows signs of wavering on some points.

In debate with the Socialists and Communists in Parliament yesterday, Ikeda conceded that a new situation would arise should Red China be seated in the United Nations this fall as the sole representative of the Chinese people.

NORMALIZE RELATIONS
If that happens, Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohira told Socialist Chichiro Hozumi, Japan will "normalize" its diplomatic relations with the mainland.

He did not use the word recognition however.

This position leaves the government room to maneuver once the issue reaches the decision-making stage.

Ohira and Japan has yet to determine what policy to follow toward the question of seating the Red Chinese in the United Nations.

RETRAIT
This appeared to be a retreat from declarations that Japan and the United States would consult closely with the view of staying off Red Chinese entry.

Americans here and in Washington are reported to be reconciled to the likelihood that Japan cannot long resist if the dam breaks and a torrent of recognition by other states results from France's move.

Russians Propose Nations Slash Spending for Arms

GENEVA — The Soviet Union proposed today that all nations agree on a simultaneous slash of 10 to 15 per cent in their military expenditure.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin made the proposal in the 17-nation disarmament conference.

He said the conference should take it up as the top priority item, leaving all other matters until later.

He rejected a Brazilian proposal for establishment of a conference subcommittee to consider an agreement for simultaneous and equal cuts in military budgets.

PATH OBSTACLE

A subcommittee would only be "an obstacle in the path of agreement," Tsarapkin declared.

Brazilian delegate Jose de Castro had proposed that the amount of the reduction should be discussed in the subcommittee, but that 20 per cent of the money saved should go to help underdeveloped nations.

An American spokesman expressed some reservations about both proposals, but stressed that the U. S. delegation will give them "careful study."

"It will first be necessary to find some means of determining what constitutes a military budget," the spokesman said.

SOVIET CUT

He recalled that a recent cut in the Soviet defense budget was accompanied by a big increase in the scientific research budget, leaving western experts to wonder how much of the research had a military purpose.

The spokesman added that another possible difficulty might arise through the fact that in the United States, defense expenditure is the ultimate responsibility of the U. S. Congress and not of the executive branch of the government, which would negotiate the treaty.

Tsarapkin emphasized that a budget cut treaty would have to be approved by all countries—presumably including France and Red China, which are not taking part in the talks here.

He insisted that the west would have to accept the proposal in principle before there could be any detailed discussion.

COLLOSSAL BURDEN

"Skyrocketing military budgets absorb $120 billion annually, imposing a colossal burden on all countries rich and poor," Tsarapkin said.

He agreed with de Castro that some of the money saved should be devoted to developing the poorer areas of the world, but made no comment on de Castro's suggestion to earmark 20 per cent of the savings for this purpose.

Board Okays College Vote

Preliminary Budget Approved by County

A June 8 vote on a three-part county college proposal and a preliminary general education fund budget were approved yesterday by the Oakland Schools Board of Education.

The college vote, recommended by a citizens committee, will be on (1) establishment of the college, (2) a 1-mill tax levy to finance it, and (3) election of a six-member board of trustees.

The County School Board okayed a preliminary 1964-65 general education budget of $525,491, increased $163,401 over the current year's expenditure.

The new budget incorporates a balance of $81,195 from this year and calls for a balance in June 1964, of $122,260.

ACTUAL EXPENDITURES

Thus, actual budgeted expenditures will run $403,231.

County Supt. William J. Emerson, who said the budget includes two entirely new programs, said the idea of a balancing balance was created to carry the school district between tax collections.

He said that a vocational education department and a research department had been added for next year.

The need for more vocational education in public schools, and a county director to coordinate efforts in this field, were a recommendation of local school board designates, he said.

PRIOR TO ADOPTION

These representatives of the 30 county school boards will pass on the preliminary budget prior to final adoption by the Oakland Schools board in June or July.

Emerson said that $22,930 was set for the vocational education department, while $19,920 was budgeted for research on new educational processes and techniques.

the symphony and the northern rural area.

Mrs. L. L. Colbert, 491 Martell Drive, Bloomfield Hills had this to say: "I can't think of anything nicer. It's been needed for a long time and I hope everybody cooperates. I wish we'd had it when my children were small. It's the most wonderful thing that's happened to the community in a long time."

George Putnam, supervisor of secondary music in the Pontiac schools, agreed with others.

STIMULATE INTEREST

Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, a member of the planning committee, said, "This will stimulate interest in music and art in general which will help everyone."

"It's good for the community in every way. Oakland University is leading in everything cultural."

George Yansen, president of the Pontiac Symphony, added his reaction.

"It means to me to be very fine addition to our area." Mrs. Joseph L. B. Bennett, long active in Pontiac music circles, sums it up this way:

"For years, we've driven to Detroit to hear fine music. Now to think it can be heard so close to home is marvelous. It will open music channels to many who have heretofore had no opportunities."

Laughs Off Extortion Try

gunman held him, Ames and his wife, and a house guest, Herbert F. Baumgartner, 50, at gunpoint until nearly 10 a.m. when the Bank of America branch opened.

The gunman ordered Williams to get the $50,000 from the bank in small denominations.

"Bring it here by noon or I'll kill all three of these people," he warned.

Williams departed.

DRINK COFFEE

The trio sat in the Ames home, drinking coffee under the watchful eye of the young man with the cocked pistol, until Williams returned with the money about 12:15.

He handed over the money.

He didn't say he had notified police and that the place was surrounded by officers—including one in a helicopter overhead.

The gunman had Williams tie Ames' mouth, ankles and wrists, then locked Williams and Baumgartner in the trunk of Ames' car.

He ordered Mrs. Ames to drive him in Williams' car after letting her put a coat over her housecoat and pajamas.

STOP FOR TRAFFIC

Seven blacks away, Mrs. Ames stopped the car for a traffic light and seven police cars moved in. An officer pointed a shotgun at the suspect's head and he surrendered.

Police recovered the money and looked Lynn Wayne Benson, 21, of La Mirada on suspicion of kidnapping and robbery.

STILL HOPE

Greek Cypriot sources said Makarios had rejected the proposal, but the continued negotiations lent some hope that the Greek Cypriot leader would modify his stand. Ball postponed his departure to continue the talks.

The shooting finally stopped to allow Ian Williams, a British official, to enter the besieged Turkish sector and bring out the local Turkish Cypriot leader, Ramadan Djemil, for peace talks.

An informed British source said the Turks had been taking "a very bad beating" from the Greek Cypriots and were in danger of being wiped out.

The Turkish Cypriots in the area were reported surrounded and the source said the Greeks have launched a complete military operation against them.

The government radio said the new battle, the third in as many days at Limassol, broke out at dawn around Berengaria castle at the approaches of the second largest city of Cyprus.

The fighting isn't fresh urgency to Ball's mission. The U.S. British proposals would keep the U.N. Security Council out of the situation.

Ball had planned to leave last night. Instead, he stayed over and held another conference with Makarios this morning.

Makarios rejected the plan after two meetings with Ball. Greek Cypriot sources reported. He wants U.N. control over the force.

Mrs. Henry Ford II Is Granted Divorce

FAIRFIELD, Idaho (AP)—A routine, 20-minute court-hearing Wednesday dissolved the marriage of auto maker Henry Ford II and his wife, Anne—a marriage that was launched in glittering style 23 years ago.

The uncontested divorce was granted Mrs. Ford on grounds of mental cruelty by Judge Charles Scoggins. A year ago he issued a divorce decree for Margaretta Fittler Murphy, who later became the wife of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Henry, then 19, was returning to Yale University after a summer in Europe. Anne, 17, was going back to the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Norton, Conn.

The Ford-McDonnell engagement was announced in the spring of Ford's last year at Yale.

Child Critical From Burns in Clothing Fire

A five-year-old Shelby Township girl is in critical condition today, suffering burns she received yesterday when her clothing caught fire as she played near a flaming rubbish pile.

Rebecca Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Barnes, 11069 Rhode, watched her mother bring the rubbish out and light it in an old washbasin the family used as a trash burner.

Mrs. Barnes returned to the house. She looked out the window and saw flames spreading on her daughter's coat and T-shirt as a young playmate stood by helplessly.

Running out to her daughter, Mrs. Barnes burned her own hands ripping off the flaming clothes.

She then called Shelby Township Fire Chief Clyde Schmidt, who rushed the child to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Mount Clemens.

Police said 70 per cent of the girl's body is covered with second and third degree burns.

A spokesman at Butzbach penitentiary said Heyde, 61, hanged himself with a belt.

Court officials said the trial will be postponed.

NEW INDICTMENT

Some officials said a new indictment probably will be filed against Dr. Heffemann because of the death of the chief defendant.

Guenter Johans, the director of Butzbach prison, said:

"Heyde hanged himself with his belt from a heating pipe between 9 and 9:10 a.m. today."

Birmingham Area News Students Take Up Issue of Board Suspensions

BIRMINGHAM—"We have no legal grounds to protest," a parent of a suspended Seaholm High School student said today. But the school's student body isn't going to let that stop them. The school's student body isn't going to let that stop them.

Periods of suspension are 10 and 20 days.

Parents of three of the 18 boys suspended last week for fraternity membership today abandoned their attempt to get a temporary restraining order which would return their sons to classes.

Smith and Ross A. Wagner, Seaholm principal, met Friday with nine parents who protested that the penalties were too severe.

"The school board has erred—it picked up the wrong group of boys," Mrs. Jack Sights, 560 Watkins, said. "But I guess by law boys can't have a club."

"Most of the questions raised had been pretty thoroughly considered before the penalties were imposed," Smith said.

The parents who were seeking Circuit Court action were told by their attorney last night that the board of education was within its rights in suspending the boys.

Mrs. Sights predicted that "sororities and fraternities will survive in Birmingham despite the board's efforts."

DOUBT RECURRENCE

"I doubt very much that they will ever bring this up again now that people think the naughty boys have been punished," she said.

However, Seaholm students have taken up the issue, arguing that the boys should have been punished in some other way.

"I think the law against sororities and fraternities is a good one. I'm against their being sponsored by teachers who also see the students in the classrooms; then it really makes a difference whether you belong or not."

A student committee has been circulating petitions to have the boys returned to classes.

Mrs. Sights said members of the MSCP, the group in question, met under parental supervision and there was "nothing secretive" about their meetings.

The group has scheduled a Monday night forum on the topic in the school cafeteria. School board members and parents have been invited to the 7:30 p.m. session.

A teen club Valentine dance has been scheduled by the Bloomfield Hills Recreation Department tomorrow night.

The school board ordered the suspension of 18 boys last week. On Friday, the effective day, eight more came forth and said they were as guilty as the others therefore and should be suspended too, according to Supt. Dr. John B. Smith.

Seventh through ninth graders are invited to the event at East Hills Junior High School.

Conflicting Versions

CAS Probes Panama Rift

PANAMA CITY (UPI) — A "task force" of inter-American investigators visits the sites of last month's bloody anti-American riots today to investigate conflicting U.S. and Panamanian versions of the trouble.

A source close to the five-man investigating committee sent here by the Organization of American States said it will "leave no stone unturned" in its efforts to determine exactly what happened.

The committee is looking into

Panama's charge that the U.S. defense of the Canal Zone against armed marauders amounted to "aggression."

Four-Americans and 21 Panamanians were killed in the riots.

TO VIEW FILM

Today's schedule for the five Latin American ambassadors making up the committee included a look at a local television station's film of the riots as well as the visit to scenes of violence in the zone.

The investigators began their work yesterday by conferring for two hours with Foreign Minister Galileo Solis and for 45 minutes with former Assistant Secretary of State Edwin Martin, U.S. representative in the investigation.

They also interviewed the principal of Panama's national high school, chief source of the students whose protest against the raising of the U.S. flag at Balboa High School in the zone started the disorders.

The committee has already received written reports from the United States and Panama giving the two countries' varying versions of the violence.

FULL COOPERATION

A committee spokesman said Martin had promised full U.S. cooperation in the work of the investigators. The spokesman indicated that the committee may confer with the U.S. official again before preparing its report.

Quads Are Born to Woman in Mexico Town

MEXICO CITY

Quadruplets have been born to the wife of a Mexican farmer — the first and last child arriving 40½ hours apart.

All girls, the quads were born to Mrs. Juan Mendez, 35, in her home in tiny Sierra Gorda, 150 miles west of Mexico City, between 5:30 a.m. Sunday and 11 p.m. Monday.

The prolonged births, however, did not set a record.

Mrs. Mendez and the quads were taken to a civil hospital in nearby Jalapa and cared for at government expense. The infants were placed in incubators. Their weights were unavailable.

to Air India Dispute

RANGOON, Burma (U-P) — Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai is scheduled to arrive tomorrow for a four-day stay that has taken on added significance with the recent flying trip to India by Burma's military ruler, Gen. Ne Win.

Diplomatic sources say Ne Win was briefed by Prime Minister Nehru on India's position on the India-China border dispute which flared into a shooting war in late 1962. Ne Win is expected to pass on Nehru's views to the Red Chinese leader.

More Witnesses for Probe?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Warren commission may call on possibly two new witnesses next week to build its growing pile of evidence on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Chief Justice Earl Warren told newsmen he did not know whether to build its growing pile of evidence on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Marguerite Oswald, mother of the inveterate ex-Marine charged with killing Kennedy, finished three days of voluntary testimony Wednesday by stating she believes:

—That Oswald was innocent, but "I realize that as a human being he could be guilty."

—That despite lack of any specific supporting evidence, she believes he was a secret agent of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency who was "set up to take the blame" for the slaying.

—That the assassin "is still at large."

Warren said the testimony of the plump Fort Worth practical nurse was useful "in some respects," but said it did not provide "any facts that would change the picture as we knew it up to the time she testified."

BULK OF EVIDENCE

The bulk of the evidence before the commission—including a five-volume FBI report and the testimony of Oswald's young widow, Marina—indicates the 24-year-old Marxist killed Kennedy unaided.

The chief justice said the commission has received nothing from any agency to substantiate the mother's belief that Oswald ever was an intelligence agent or worked for any federal agency.

Mrs. Oswald admitted her belief was based on no proof, fact, or statement of her son, but asserted: "I have as much circumstantial evidence that he was (an agent), as the Dallas police have that he was the assassin."

She said she had not been in touch with her son for a year before the assassination.

THE JANITOR

The Dallas News reported on Tuesday that one of the witnesses who might soon be called was a janitor in the Texas School Book Depository, where Oswald worked for a few months preceding the assassination.

That was the building, overlooking the route of the presidential motorcade, where police found an Italian-made carbine beside a sixth-floor window. Oswald's widow identified the weapon as his.

The News said the janitor has reported that Oswald spoke to him on the fourth-floor stairway.

The commission may also call a witness, the News said, who saw a slender man with a rifle at a sixth-floor window but thought it was a Secret Service agent posted there to protect the president.

Warren told reporters that one or two more witnesses may be brought into the closed hearings next week, but said no definite schedule has been fixed.

When advised of the Dallas report, the chief justice paused and smiled before replying: "Well, maybe they know — I don't."

Ex-Engineer Leader Dies in Philadelphia

He retired recently as chairman of the board of Albright and Fiel, Inc., a consulting engineering firm.

Romney's Adviser to Talk on Children

viser on mental health, will discuss the effect of marital disharmony on the development of children.

An associate professor at Wayne State University, Dr. Martin is also chairman of the State Advisory Council on Mental Health Services.

Ex-Federal Mediator Dies of Lung Illness

WASHINGTON (AP)—Joseph F. Finnegan, 61, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service from 1955 until 1961, died Wednesday of a lung ailment. After leaving his federal post, Finnegan joined the New York State Mediation Board but resigned last November because of illness. He was struck by another vehicle, went out of control and hit a tree on Midland Road.

Six Live Cheaper Than One--Per Person

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money
Management

Dear Miss Feeley: How come some of your readers talk about feeding a family of five or six on $30 to $35 a week — when I've seen it stated that it costs $10.00 to feed one person? I'd sure like to see some of their menus!

Mrs. J. W., New Orleans, La.

Dear Mrs. W.: The fact is simple this: when you're feeding a big family, the cost for each individual is less. While it may take $10.00 to buy groceries for a week for one person, the ratio goes down with each person added to the dinner table.

Age is a factor, too, in figuring the grocery bill. For example, the U.S. Department of Agriculture estimated it costs $5.50 a week to feed a woman 35 years old, based on a low-cost food budget.

But on the same budget scale, it cost $7.40 to feed a man the same age. A six-year-old child cost $4.50, while a 19-year-old boy cost $8.50.

You have to be a real mathematician these days to hit it right on the button. Just try serving them all stew. You can always throw in another carrot.

Dear Miss Feeley: I am a widow 73 years old, and live in my own modest home alone. I am living within my income. But is this the best way?

I have been advised to sell my home and move to a Senior Citizens home or some place where I won't have to live alone.

I have $5,000 loaned out on real estate at 6 per cent. And $3,500 with a savings and loan company. I own 200 shares of stock. I get $62 a month Social Security. I drive my own car. What do you advise?

Mrs. L. C. H., Dallas

Dear Mrs. H.: I think you've already decided that being independent financially is not enough. By all means try to arrange your life so that you'll have the companionship you've begun to realize is the most important thing in life.

The cost of living in a Senior Citizens set-up varies widely, according to the community. Why don't you shop around, so to speak? Look over the possibilities within driving range.

Then have a talk with your banker. He will be able to help you estimate how much money you would have, if you converted everything, including your house, into cash. See if there would be enough to buy an annuity, to guarantee you a life income.

As I see it, your main objectives would be to have this income, to allow for board and personal expenses, and to have enough for final expenses.

It would be an irrevocable step, of course. But exchanging property for people isn't a bad deal.

Dear Miss Feeley: Could you please tell me what the average family with four children (three girls between 5 and 10 years old, one boy 2) spends a month, on an average, for clothes?

M. S., Smithtown, L. I.

Dear M. S.: The usual allotment for clothes is from 8 to 15 per cent of the family income. Whether you take the low figure or the high depends on what other expenses are involved.

In your case, you might find the low figure quite adequate, as your girls are in an age range that makes hand-me-downs logical. As a mother with four children, you might as well resign yourself to getting the small end of the deal, where your own clothes are concerned!

You'll find that dressing all of you in wash-and-wear outfits actually saves a substantial sum. Fewer changes are necessary when clothing can be washed and dried within a couple of hours. And the cost of upkeep is cut right to the bone.

Dear Miss Feeley: I am a cardiac patient who has had two heart attacks, and also has arthritis of the spine. I am unable to work on doctor's orders, and have not worked since July 1962.

I draw a disability Social Security check and have income from a flat and my wife has a small job. Is there any certain way of filling out my income tax return?

And am I entitled to any other deduction, such as sick leave time, and do I state my condition on my tax return? We have always filed a joint return, even though this is the first time my wife has worked since 1945.

J. S., Toledo, Ohio

Dear J. S.: Fill out your income tax return just as you have in the past. Your Social Security benefits, are not subject to tax.

(You can write Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.)

Anyone who can knit a stitch and purl a stitch can fashion this tunic. Knit it in a matching or contrasting color or even a tweed mixture to give a special lift to that favorite skirt and blouse of yours.

Also, do you realize that if this tunic is worked 11 inches in length you would have a vest.

Trimmed with a matching or contrasting woven bias-band, obtainable in any fabric store, you will achieve that smart handmade look.

Instructions for this tunic are in sizes 8 through 18. All sizes are included on one pattern.

Pattern for Tunic No. 26 may be obtained by sending 50 cents in coin, check, or money order to: Ursula du Bois, The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Box 3307, Van Nuys, Calif., 91407.

Sunlight Can Hurt Furnishings

CHICAGO UPD — Window shades provide protection to fabrics against fading and other effects of direct sunlight. This holds as true for upholstery and slipcover fabric as it does for curtains hung directly at the window.

Sunshine, as wonderful as it is, can be damaging in large, concentrated dosages. Ultra-violet rays are believed by some experts to be the worst offenders.

That's why fabrics set at eastern or northern exposures fare better than those that receive sunlight from the south or west.

Tests made by the U.S. Bureau of Standards demonstrated that all fibers placed in direct sunlight deteriorate much more rapidly than those that have not been so exposed. Consequently, curtains wear better when shades protect them.

Dyed fabrics are particularly susceptible. In some cases the colors wash out. In others, even in the best vat dyes, the dyes themselves may not be affected but they tend to accelerate the sun damage to the fibers.

Hospital Gray Ladies Honored at Ceremony

bel, Mrs. Kurt Hess, Mrs. Keith Mazurek and Mrs. Frank Vydick.

ALSO CAPPED

Also honored were Mrs. Berton Aikens, Mrs. Bruce Benway, Mrs. Bruce Bryn, Mrs. Clifford Dick, Mrs. Burton Erickson, Mrs. Richard Ernst, Nancy Guilled, and Mrs. Thomas Harris.

Concluding the list were Mrs. Sid Jeffe, Mrs. Dean Leffler, Mrs. Donald Pierce, Mrs. Earl Sturges and Mrs. Peter Glossop.

1 egg or preserves

Melt butter and blend with cottage cheese. Stir in flour to make a smooth dough. Cut into small pieces and chill until quite firm. Roll and trim each piece into a square. Place a teaspoon of jelly or preserves in center of each, pick up the corners, and pinch together, or fold into turnovers and seal the edges by denting with the tines of a fork. Bake in hot oven at 450° until brown, 10 or 15 minutes.
