

THE PONTIAC PRESS

Surprised by Holdup Man

THE VICTIMS — Assistant manager of the Pontiac State Bank branch in the Drayton Plains Shopping Center, Stuart Galbraith (left) was preparing to hand over $5,847 to Orl Manlove (right), assistant manager of a nearby supermarket, yesterday afternoon when a lone gunman intercepted the money and fled. The FBI is holding Harold L. Mock, 39, of 741 Owego St., as the robber.

FBI Holding Drayton Bank Robber

By DICK HANSON
An unsuccessful bank robber who held up the Pontiac State Bank branch in Drayton Plains with a sawed-off shotgun and fled with over $5,000 was being held by the FBI in Detroit today pending arraignment in Federal Court.

Harold L. Mock, 39, of 741 Owego St., has admitted staging yesterday's holdup single-handed. He was captured by Pontiac police within 15 minutes of the robbery after a massive manhunt was launched by state police, the sheriff's department and the city police.

Mock, who was paroled in November after serving a 10-year federal prison for a 1949 stick-up of the Pontiac State Bank branch at Auburn Heights in 1935, collapsed yesterday while being questioned by FBI agents at the Pontiac Police Department.

He was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for "sheer exhaustion," and removed to Receiving Hospital in Detroit where he is being held under police guard today.

Looking haggard and weak during the course of questioning, Mock told officers he hadn't eaten "for three or four days" just before keeling over in a dead faint.

The bank robber carried a sawed-off, 12-gauge shotgun concealed under his topcoat when he walked unobtrusively into the bank in the Drayton Plains Shopping Center on Dixie Highway at approximately 1 p.m.

IGNORRED BY CUSTOMERS
None of the handful of customers and 12 bank employees paid any attention to the angular figure wearing a cap pulled low over dark glasses. He went to a counter across the room from the tellers' windows and began writing something on a deposit slip.

Then he ambled across the floor to another counter in front of the assistant manager's desk. There he attracted the attention of the assistant manager, Stuart Galbraith, momentarily.

Galbraith, barely glancing up, asked the robber to wait. He was busy transacting business with Orl Manlove, assistant manager of the nearby A&P super-market. Manlove was there to pick up $5,847 for weekend business at the store.

The robber sat down in a chair next to the counter to wait. He was in full view of floor-length display windows directly behind him. Minutes later, when the money intended for Manlove was brought to Galbraith in satchels, the robber

Cold and Rainy Sunday; Little Warmer Monday

The weatherman says cooler temperatures will return to the Pontiac area tomorrow with a few showers likely. The high will be near 58, the low tonight about 46. Monday will be partly cloudy and a little warmer.

Morning northerly winds at 10 to 20 miles per hour will diminish tonight.

Rainfall will total less than three-tenths of an inch Sunday and again Wednesday.

Thirty-seven was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury registered 61 at 2 p.m.

ber grew impatient. Again he stepped up to the counter, and this time he shoved the safety deposit slip in front of Galbraith.

Galbraith read the neatly lettered message: "I mean business." Put $20,000 in canvas bag and no one will get hurt."

"I thought he was fooling," said Galbraith. He showed the note back to the robber who quietly said, "I mean just what I said. . . I mean business." To back up his point, he showed Galbraith and Manlove, who was standing next to him, the sawed-off shotgun under his coat.

Galbraith was convinced. He hurriedly handed over the satchels containing $5,847 and the gunman fled the length of the bank, leaving by a rear-side door.

6 Refuse Food in Jail Cell at Montgomery

Were Arrested After Attempt to Integrate Lunch Counter

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Six Negroes refused food in their jail cells today while awaiting trial as a result of attempts to integrate a bus depot lunch counter.

A National Guard spokesman for the city under martial rule said the group — including three of the South's most widely known foes of racial separation — had left their meals untouched since lunch Friday.

Five others arrested with them on breach of the peace charges Thursday posted $10,000 bonds each and caught a plane for home last night.

The spokesman for Adj. Gen. Henry V. Graham said he did not know why the six Negroes were fasting.

However, one of those released, George B. Smith, a Negro student at Yale University, said the others would not eat until one of their leaders is permitted to make a telephone call to his wife.

The student said the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy of Montgomery had made repeated requests to phone his wife since their arrest but was refused. Mrs. Abernathy said this morning she still had not talked with her husband.

REMAIN IN JAIL
The first 27 "freedom riders" convicted during the current drive to desegregate Deep South bus facilities remained voluntarily in a Mississippi jail today.

The legal action in Jackson, Miss., apparently had little effect on the determination of Negro leaders, however. Statements issued in a number of cities indicated a stepped up campaign was being planned with more riders expected to head South shortly.

The 27 convicted of breach of the peace in Jackson elected to remain in jail, at least for the present, rather than post bond or pay fines.

City Judge James Spencer told the riders their conduct "flagrantly disobeyed the law" shortly before he imposed $300 fines and 60-day jail terms Friday. But he suspended the jail terms at the request of the prosecution.

Defense attorney Wiley Branton of Little Rock, Ark., contended officers herded the 27 into a waiting room for white persons when they arrived from Montgomery, Wednesday in what he described as a "plot to arrest them."

$55,000 for YMCA Drive

GM EXECUTIVES PRESENT CHECKS — On behalf of executives in the three local General Motors Corp. plants, Thomas F. Wietorn (second from left) Pontiac plant manager of Fisher Body Division, presents a $55,000 check to the Pontiac YMCA's $650,000 expansion program campaign. Accepting the gift is Robert M. Critchfield, campaign general chairman. Looking on are Robert E. W. Emerick (left), public relations director of Pontiac Motor Division, and Earl A. Maxwell, personnel director at GMC Truck and Coach Division. Wietorn headed the GM Management Division in the campaign. GM earlier presented a corporate gift of $250,000 to the "Y's" fund raising drive.

Diggers Rescue Swainson Forbids Man From Well State Agency Bias

Father of 2 Trapped 30 Feet Down for 16 Hours in Virginia

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP) — Ralph W. Burgess, a faint smile flickering on his mud-streaked face, clutched desperately at his rescuers and was plucked safely this morning from the 30-foot well that had held him prisoner for 16 hours.

For Burgess, a 19-year-old school and church furniture installer, freedom came at the end of a night-long effort by professional well-diggers to sink a new shaft and break through the walls of his prison without touching off a death-dealing cave-in.

A few minutes after 6 a.m. his rescuers made the break in the shaft and, working swiftly, dug out by hand enough sludge and gravel to enable Burgess to free his feet.

Then a rope was dropped and the father of two small children was hauled to the surface. Doctors reported he seemed in good shape.

The ordeal began as Burgess was helping his father clean mud from the bottom of the three-foot-wide well.

For several trips he was lowered and lifted from the well astride a five-gallon bucket, hauling up mud on each trip.

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Swainson has issued an 11-point code of fair practices forbidding discrimination in all state agencies. The governor said existence of the Fair Employment Practices Act in the state imposes a special responsibility on all state agencies to keep their own houses in order.

"We must see to it that race, creed or national origin are never a factor in recruiting, hiring, upgrading conditions of employment, dismissal, referrals and training programs," the governor said.

"State government, as an employer," he said, "has a responsibility to serve as a model for business, industry, labor and private employment agencies."

The governor said there were no specific complaints of discrimination by state agencies.

"I was a state employee once myself and I just thought there was a need for a positive statement," Swainson said.

The governor said he does not think the provisions of his code were in conflict with State Civil Service, which regulates the hiring and work standards of state workers.

County, State Traffic Toll Off to Fast Start

Head-On Collision in Waterford, Accident in Groveland Claim Pair

By MAX E. SIMON
The Memorial Day holiday death count on state and Oakland County roads rocketed off at a shocking pace in the early hours of the weekend.

Two crashes in the county each claimed one victim.

Traffic deaths in Michigan mounted to six.

The Associated Press count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ends at midnight Tuesday.

A Pontiac man was killed early today in a head-on crash at Scott Lake and Elizabeth Lake Roads in Waterford Township. He was Willard L. Henry, 35, of 173 Cadillac St.

The other county accident in Groveland Township last night claimed the life of Robert E. Morris, 41, of 340 Broadway Blvd., Bloomfield Township.

Henry's car collided with one driven by John Fitzpatrick, 35, 2882 Sunderland St., Waterford Township. Fitzpatrick told Waterford Police he was traveling west on Elizabeth Lake Road when Henry's car, approaching from the opposite direction, pulled over into his lane.

Henry was killed instantly. He suffered a fractured neck and skull fracture.

Fitzpatrick suffered only minor injuries and was treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital.

A passenger in his car, Paul Beverley, 41, of Ferndale, was reported in fair condition in the hospital. He suffered facial lacerations and a fractured leg.

Henry is survived by his wife Adeline; children Richard L. and Penny Sue; two brothers, Earl and Ernest Henry; and a sister Janet Henry.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Sharpe-Goyette Funeral Home, Clarkston.

The body may be viewed after 2 p.m. Sunday.

Morris' car smashed into the rear of a tractor-trailer truck which had stopped to make a left turn on Dixie Highway north of Wildwood Road.

Morris suffered a fractured neck, skull fracture and crushed chest. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

The truck driver, Eugene Mitchell, 41, of 8165 Bywater St., Commerce Township was not injured.

In addition, Bernard J. Serafin, 44, of 6340 Glen Road, Ann Arbor, died at St. Clements General Hospital at 2:25 a.m. today of injuries suffered in an accident shortly after 10 p.m. Friday in Roseville.

Blind Childrens' Band May March at Convention

LANSING (P)—One of the most unique bands in the nation—composed of blind youngsters marching in cadence—probably will be seen at the Lions International convention in Atlantic City next month.

State employees, members of the Michigan State Employees Association, have pledged their support in a fund-raising drive to send the marching band of the Michigan School for the Blind to the convention.

Some $2,000 of an estimated $5,000 needed to finance the trip has been raised by the Lansing Lions Club, and the state employees will try to raise the remainder.

Four in Line for Judgeships

State Democratic Party Meeting to Give OK to Comptriots

WASHINGTON (P)—Michigan Democratic party chiefs were meeting here today to put the party stamp of approval on four Democrats for lifetime appointments to federal judgeships in Detroit.

The patronage committee, meeting at the Mayflower Hotel, was expected to approve a congressman, a State Supreme Court justice and two circuit judges for the $22,500-a-year jobs.

They are U.S. Rep. Thaddeus M. Maczewski of Detroit; Justice Talbot Smith; Genesee County Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth and Wayne County Circuit Judge Wade H. McCree Jr.

Approval of four candidates for appointment by President Kennedy would end any hopes that Federal Judge John Feikens has of holding his job.

Feikens, a former Republican state chairman, received an interim appointment to the bench from former President Eisenhower last June. Permanent appointment of Feikens was blocked by political foe Democratic Sen. Patrick V. McNamara.

The three other vacancies resulted from retirement of Judge Frank A. Picard and creation of two new federal judgeships at Detroit by Congress.

21 U. of M. Students Get $14,000 in Awards

ANN ARBOR (P)—The University of Michigan has given out Hopwood creative writing awards worth $14,000 to 21 students. The top award of $1,500 went to Carl P. Oglesby, an Ann Arbor senior, for "The Play." A $1,000 award for drama writing went to Jeanne F. Reeder, Dearborn graduate student.

Major fiction winners ($1,000 each) went to Konstantinos N. Lardas, Pittsburgh graduate student, and George H. Glover, Fraser graduate student. In the major essay division, Victor Haim Perera, a graduate student from Guatemala, won a $1,200 prize.

DETROIT (P)—City Council President Mary V. Beck filed notice of appeal in U.S. District Court Friday in another effort to block demolition of old City Hall.

of Appeals at Cincinnati will be asked to reverse a ruling by Federal Judge Fred W. Kaess that Miss Beck's suit did not involve a federal question.

It Seems to Me . . .

What'll Be Congress' Reaction to Kennedy's Latest Request

This is an interesting Congress. It shows no particular desire to start spending billions we don't possess, although it has just received a big, new nudge from President KENNEDY.

So far, conservatism reigns. Following election, the extreme left wing, socialist Democrats sensed a heyday such as they enjoyed under Franklin D. Roosevelt, but the powers are somewhat reluctant to embark upon a campaign of "let's spend ourselves dizzy." President Kennedy's original program would have run into billions of dollars, but there has been no visible stampede to implement it. Now he asks additional billions and capitalizes a focal point of great international interest. People enthuse about outer space.

In the 1958 off-year, too many Democratic extremists were elected and they raced to the District of Columbia prepared for some joyous boondoggling.

The jubilation was short lived. Congress shook its head.

A couple of radical bills were drawn and actually passed, but President EISENHOWER promptly vetoed them and they were dropped in the legislature ash can. We may see something like that now. This time the GOP gained 72 seats in the House which is a mandate of sorts, just in itself.

The current trend may fade, but it's comforting to upholders of sound government and those who want to see the value of the dollar preserved to find less talk of "pies" and "skies." The acceptance of responsibility brings sobering reality. Men aren't as prone to make radical moves when the decision is actually theirs. When they're on the outside looking in, irresponsible talk is relatively harmless — and don't forget — it gains a certain class of votes.

At the same time, the President now wraps the American flag around this space race, and he is definitely working on an appealing subject. When the initial flurry of "three cheers" dies down and the sober actualities set in, it will be interesting to see how Congress reacts. The President's message was skillfully drawn and he played his cards well. His support for education was warmly received and the popular appeal of adequate and better schooling for young men and women is based on a foundation of solid rock.

Now what?

Sunday Driver Time . . .

The days of the "creeping pestilence" lie just ahead. I have pontificated on this international menace before and now his day is at hand again.

The "creeping pestilence" is the Sunday driver who puts on his best bib and tucker and starts on a "pleasure jaunt" with grandma and three of the grandchildren. The "c.p." hits a right smart 32 miles an hour and there he hangs, come heaven, h or, h.w. He brags about the safety of his pilgrimage. He's the grandest tiger in all the jungle and the most reliable man at the wheel in the Wolverine Commonwealth.

He's the "most careful."

He "always drives slowly."

The cold, cruel facts are that he's the biggest menace on the public highway. He should be ticketed by every traffic officer on Sunday duty, and the total of their summonses ought to incarcerate him in the local bastille for the balance of the balmy days.

This self-styled paragon of highway virtue causes every driver on the road to pass him. He selects the best highways where traffic is the heaviest. Thus, he compels hundreds of drivers to "jump him" during his six hour peregrinations. Also, these exasperated people have to creep behind him for an interminable time before they get the chance to pass. This places all of the passengers concerned in some jeopardy in addition to disrupting the flow of orderly travel.

Our single-celled car is a greater menace than the speeder. Officers, watch this highway war! Give him the works. And with my compliments.

Black Mark . . .

We reap the unfavorable whirlwind that was inevitable after the Alabama fracas.

The news got "big play" everywhere. The Russian papers carried accounts of "life in the United States and how we really live like the savages we are." The Daily Herald in London says we insist that "liberty" is the key word of our government and yet we stage demonstrations like the current one. The London Daily Express suggests that the United States exercise a little more restraint in Africa and refrain from trying to tell the world how to live since we do so lamentable a job ourselves.

We sport a new black eye.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Overheard at the City Club: "He's ambidextrous — brushes the check aside with either hand." . . . CASTRO has been honored by the Boy Scouts of Cuba and McHARRY suggests he must have helped a little old lady across the firing squad . . . Washington newsmen tell me JACKIE KENNEDY will not buy a single dud from her Paris dressmakers. She's under a strict pledge to "buy in America." Gals, imagine—the chance, the heavy sugar and all she can do is look at the new stuff from all her regular sources . . . Washington reporters say Congress is sure to pass KENNEDY's medical assistance for old folks next year with the AMA battling it right down to the wire.

Purely personal nomination for an especially attractive young lady in our area: Jeannie Hargreaves . . . Experts advise me that shrubs are between two and three weeks late . . . The head of Conair Aircraft's Mercury project says strikes delayed our man-in-space at least six months and that union domination plagued the work for four years . . . Harry Wimer, practically a local boy, says his New York Titans lost $450,000 last year.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

"By this shall all men know that you are my disciples, if ye have love one to another."

Southern ladies inspired Memorial Day when they strewed flowers on the graves of both Union and Confederate dead in 1863, easing the bitterness of the Civil War. Northerners at first glorified Union victory, but their hearts melted: "The thought could not but come to us that there were graves lying southward above which bent a grief as tender and sacred as our own. Invisibly we dropped unseen flowers upon these mounds," said Thomas Aldrich. The ceremonies at Gettysburg became a celebration of unity: "The Union has become not merely a physical union of States," Herbert Hoover once said, "but rather a spiritual union in common ideals of our people." Franklin D. Roosevelt said, "It was an inspired prophet of the South who said: 'My brethren, if we know one another, we will love one another' . . . We are all brothers now in a new understanding."

Days of All Faiths:

First Archbishop Didn't Want Job

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Newspapers recently carried articles about the appointment of the one hundredth Archbishop of Canterbury. One hundred archbishops is a long line of prelates, stretching back, in this case, thirteen and a half centuries.

The first Archbishop of Canterbury was St. Augustine, who is honored May 24 in the Christian calendar. Nothing has been said about whether the new Archbishop wanted the position, but St. Augustine definitely did not want it. He was perfectly happy and satisfied to be the prior of a monastery and had no idea of leaving civilization and venturing into the savage wilderness that was Britain in the sixth century.

But Pope Gregory the Great had made up his mind that the Angles and Saxons of that remote island must hear the Gospel and he dispatched 30 monks with their prior, Augustine, as their leader.

This was not the first time Christianity had been in Britain. The Church had been there very early — the records do not show how early, but some scholars say it was organized and flourishing by the fifth century that the original Church had been driven into the back country of Cornwall and Wales, Gregory probably did not know there had ever been any.

One of the most beautiful cars on the road is E. R. BRECK'S Lincoln. It has a gleaming white exterior and jet black trim inside . . . The Communists say they will build an apartment building in Hungary that is 40 stories high and a mile and a half long. It will contain 40,000 apartments. I saw several in Moscow that were two and three blocks long . . . A Philadelphian has 12 wooden clubs in his golf bag. My younger son just showed up with an eight wood and I've used a six and seven several years . . . Added national security hazard: CAROLINE has just learned to dial . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—the Tigers; the J's—the Freedom Riders and all the Alabama rioters. —HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

Christianity in Britain, and as far as the Anglo-Saxons were concerned there was none at the time Gregory took action.

Everything turned out beautifully in the end. They landed without difficulty in Kent where the King,

Calcium Theories Helped Reader to Vigorous Life

"I've always been active—mother, clubs, church, gardening, golf—'Suddenly I developed arthritic joints on my fingers, aching muscles—especially in the shoulders and upper back regions. Your theories on calcium seemed designed just for me. Immediately I started taking calcium capsules. I've forgotten just how many at first, but now, 10 years later, I still take three a day."

"I have long since been able to have even a sign of the knots on my finger joints, and now have no muscle pains except when extremely fatigued."

"Also my allergies, which manifested themselves as asthma, stuffed nose, etc., have been greatly helped."

"I'll be 59 in October, play 18 holes twice a week—no caddy, pull out of clubs myself—not that I wouldn't have a caddy."

Ans.—Bet your friends $100 or whatever sum they may care to, considered them characterless if they called you "rejuvenated" instead of "rejuvenated arthritis"—which, I think, was an absurd attempt to make the customers believe the doctors understood rheumatism.

Readers who still imagine "arthritis" is a specific disease which, some day, may be magically cured by a miracle or wonder drug, may learn something to their advantage by studying Little Lesson No. 15, "Chronic Joint Disability," for

Give Children a Living Memorial

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE H-486: Ralph M., 14, day-dreaming of an uncurable malady.

He had always been fond of the little village of Melott, Indiana, where our scientific marriage foundation has its home office.

His kindly words, pious and cheerful, had made a bit with the kiddies. And he was liberal with words of praise, which buoy up the soul of youngsters more than most adults ever dream of.

Sharon was in the 3rd grade. She had heard the town rumor that Ralph was critically ill. It disturbed her greatly, though he was not a relative or one of her kindfolk. But he had befriended her.

At school she finally put up her hand. When the teacher, Mabel Keeling, acknowledged it, Sharon stood up:

"Please, may we pray that he gets well?" Sharon pleaded.

Mrs. Keeling, naturally impressed, so the children prayed for a few moments.

"Dr. Crane," the teacher later informed me, "I have never had anything like this happen in my classroom before."

'Offer to Accept Blackmail Places U.S. in Bad Light'

The world thinks all Americans are rich and crazy. The recent misguided offer of some citizens to accept the blackmail terms of the chicken plicker is only one of many actions that will firmly convince the rest of the world that this is so.

Such actions convince all military personnel, particularly those now in the hands of Russia, and Red China for whose release no tractors have been offered, that the release of one Cuban is worth much more to some people than that of many GIs.

Now would be an opportune time for the tax paying citizen to raise their voices, and put these publicity seeking go-gooders in their proper place. Why can't we ship these people to Cuba with one way tickets?

'Freedom Riders' Prompt Comments

This letter is a salute to the "freedom riders" and the much respected Rev. Martin L. King in his untiring efforts to fight for the rights the Negro deserves.

It was stated that Hitlerites do not know the meaning of the Supreme Court laws. If they would spend less time and money on studying hatred and purchasing various KKK Klan garments and use their limited funds to buy history books and the Holy Bible they would learn more about the U.S. government and the love of God.

It has been 100 years since the Civil War. I refer them to the United States history books. Maybe some of them do not know the reason why there are different races in the world. I refer them to the Holy Bible.

Some fear integration because of interracial marriages. There have been interracial marriages since the beginning of time, and this race hatred will not end it. God almighty is watching their every move.

ECFL

Those "freedom riders" handicapped Kennedy in his talks with Khrushchev. They can't even call themselves "patriots" when they put the U.S. President behind the eight ball in his most important foreign negotiation.

Their timing was inexcusable stupidity. They alienated a lot of people that would have normally been sympathetic, but there's no substitute for a plain lack of brains.

'Why Did U.S. Let Trio Negotiate?'

Streamlining of Army Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Next year the Army begins casting its 14 divisions into flexible battle units that can be swiftly shifted and redeployed for fighting either in Europe's plains or in Southeast Asia's jungles.

They will be armed with more conventional weapons and at the same time have nuclear power.

Details of the new "building block" plan were discussed by Army officials after President Kennedy told Congress Thursday he was directing Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to undertake complete revision of the Army's divisions.

The aim, Kennedy said, is to increase the division's conventional firepower, to improve its tactical mobility and, among other things, provide modern mechanized divisions in Europe and new airborne brigades in the Pacific and Europe.

Actually, the Army has been planning such a reorganization for some time.

MODERNIZED DIVISIONS

By the end of 1963 the usual five battle groups of a division will be replaced by three brigade task force headquarters. The modernized division will have 15,000 men, a cut of some 2,000.

The basic building blocks of this new division, the Army explains it, will be the combat maneuver battalions — infantry, mechanized infantry carried in armored vehicles, tanks and airborne troops.

Each division will have 10 of these battalions on the average, but could total anywhere from 6 to 15, depending on the task. Infantry and mechanized infantry battalions will number about 500 men, armored battalions about 750 each.

In Europe a division might be made up primarily of mechanized infantry and tanks. In Korea, it might be heavily weighted with foot soldiers. In areas of jungle or mountain terrain, paratroopers might make up the bulk of a division or brigade task force.

At church tomorrow, try to visualize the many former devoted souls whose forethought put those bricks or limestone blocks into the religious edifice—you call your church.

"Referred Lead"
Gimmick!

In a typical case, the housewife wanted an item which she knew she could not afford. While watching a television program, she heard the fast-talking "pitchman" say she could have one "at no cost."

After calling the number given, our lady friend was assured that she could, indeed, have the item without cost. All she would have to do would be to give the company the names of her friends who might be prospects.

Came the dawn! After signing the purchase contract, she slowly came to the realization that she was obligated to pay far more than the market price for the item—and that the referred leads just did not pay off!

A number of legitimate dealers may offer you money or credit for buyers that you may refer to them—but they make this offer only after you have made your purchase!

Coed Credited in Dope Arrests

MSU Student Worked With Narcotics Users,
Pushers to Aid Police

EAST LANSING (AP)—A 21-year-old Michigan State University coed was credited by police today with the arrests of six men on narcotics charges.

The girl, whose name was withheld, worked with narcotics users and pushers for two years, investigators said.

She worked with campus, East Lansing, Lansing and state police.

The six men, one of them an MSU student, were arrested in a crackdown here Wednesday and Thursday. A seventh was being sought, police said.

Leo A. Farhat, Ingham County prosecutor, said the cases were not connected, but the same coed-narcotics agent put the finger on all six. Investigation had been underway for more than a month, he said, adding:

"While it does not show a widespread narcotics ring, it does indicate that several people have been violating the narcotics laws with impunity."

The girl, police said, won the confidence of student Russell K. Panzica, 21, of Buffalo, N.Y.—one of the six arrested—when she was a sophomore, went to the MSU campus police and began her career.

They said she got to know the users and pushers in Lansing and East Lansing and was accepted by them.

Farhat said she purchased dope from the pushers and associated with the users to stay "in" with the group.

Actor Is Denied
Guardianship of Lanza's Children

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A petition for guardianship of the late Mario Lanza's four children has been denied actor Edmond Hicks.

The youngsters are in custody of Lanza's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cocozza.

Lanza died in Rome Oct. 7, 1959. The youngster's mother succumbed in Beverly Hills the following March.

Pastors Come, Go

Rev. Harry B. Schlosser announces his resignation from the pastorate of North East Community Church to assume executive responsibility of a firm of church counselors under the name of Roth Counsellors Inc. of Birmingham.

The chief field of the firm's operation will be in home mission and church extension activities of all denominations. This is a business firm without theological connotations.

It is conceived as a consulting service for those religious groups who require directive counselling offered by all the faith organizations, Dr. Schlosser said.

Dr. Schlosser came to Pontiac as pastor of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church on South Paddock Street. Later the property was sold.

In 1958 he founded the North East Community Church and led the congregation through its building program.

The church is located at Mt. Clemens and Featherstone. The Schlosser family will take up residence in Beverly Hills, Birmingham next week.

Dr. Schlosser also announces the transfer of his ministerial credentials to the Reformed Church in America whose headquarters is at 475 Riverside Drive, New York City.

A former missionary in India and field secretary of Oriental Missions, he will tell of present conditions in Asia as he sees them.

The Senior Choir of Pleasant Baptist Church of Detroit will provide special music.

The Fellowship of Missionaries and Nurses of local churches will be present. Rev. W. A. Johnson is pastor of Pontiac Light and Life Chapel, sponsor of the affair.

Missionary Speaking Sunday at Newman
 Rev. E. C. John, district superintendent of the Free Methodist Church, will speak on "The Changing Scene in the Orient" at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Newman AME Church.

EMMANUEL CHRISTIAN SCHOOL — The new Emmanuel Christian School at 825 Golf Drive will be dedicated at 5 p.m. Sunday with 35 students of the school participating in the program. The rectangular school building is one-level with a large combination auditorium-gymnasium which rises 29 feet in the center. The 80 by 112 foot room is bounded on either side by a courtyard which opens into the school. The building was constructed of brick by Paul Johnson Inc. at a cost of $625,000. Evok and Friedman were the architects. Dr. Tom Malone, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church, is founder and superintendent of the school, organized about 11 years ago.

LIBRARY AT EMMANUEL SCHOOL—Doing research work in the library of the new Emmanuel Christian School, 825 Golf Drive are (from left) Sharon Wilson of 4920 Estes Drive, Lake

Orion, Jeanette Spangler of 120 Guananoque, Pontiac Township and James Snow of 5171 Westcombe, Orchard Lake. James is a seminary student. The girls are sophomore high school students.

Christian School to Be Dedicated

In less than 20 years, members of Emmanuel Baptist Church have built a church and founded an elementary school, high school and Midwestern Seminary, all under the leadership of their only pastor, Dr. Tom Malone.

Sunday marks the dedication of the new Emmanuel Christian School at 825 Golf Drive. Speaking at the 5 p.m. program will be Rev. Harold Henniger, pastor of Canton Baptist Temple, Canton, Ohio.

About 35 elementary pupils will present a choral reading based on John Chapter 9. The Emmanuel Baptist Church Choir directed by Mrs. Malone will sing.

The 200 by 300 foot building with its 46 rooms houses the Emmanuel Christian School which includes all grades from kindergarten through the 12th grade, and the Midwestern Seminary.

The Christian School in operation for 11 years, is supported by Emmanuel Church as well as by student tuition.

Dr. Malone is superintendent of the school and Dr. Lawrence Butcher is principal. Fourteen teachers comprise the faculty. There are 239 pupils in kindergarten through the 6th grade, and 224 pupils in the seventh through grade 12. The school will accommodate 1,000 students.

Dr. Malone is president of Midwestern Seminary with Dr. Kenneth Fredricks serving as dean. The seminary has been in operation for seven years with six faculty members.

The 80 x 112 foot auditorium-gymnasium bounded on each side by a courtyard has a gold and blue interior. The walls are covered with a gold cement enamel glaze. The 23 classrooms, 30 by 20 feet, painted in pastel colors, contain a sink and a water fountain. The kindergarten and library are 33 by 25 feet. Eight offices are included in the building.

A well equipped stainless steel kitchen includes a dishwasher. OFFERS FRENCH The Emmanuel Christian School was one of the first in Pontiac to offer a French program to elementary school pupils grades three through sixth.

There are 32 seniors in the June graduating class. Fourteen will receive degrees from the seminary.

The new building including a unit project constructed at a cost of $625,000 stands in the midst of a 45-acre campus. Future plans call for a new church, dormitories and a seminary.

More than 400 students are called for daily and on Sundays by large buses seating 60.

Approximately 29 students comprise the High School Band which has been functioning for about six years. Opportunity in music for elementary school children is afforded in the Elementary School Band.

Students are given vocal training in the girl's Glee Club and mixed chorus. About 12 boys make up the Boys' Glee Club.

Attending the dedication Sunday will be Rev. and Mrs. Willard Stallup, formerly dean of Midwestern Seminary, Rev. Mr. Stallup is now pastor of Grace Baptist Church of Decatur, Ala.

Mrs. Stallup taught at Emmanuel Christian School for several years, later serving as the principal.

Church Members Approve Program

The Board of American Missions has approved the building program of the Christ of the Lakes congregation which meets in William Beaumont School, 6332 Elizabeth Lake Road.

L. J. Nelson, architect and associated engineers of Detroit, has been selected to draw plans and specifications. Contracts have been approved and signed.

Drawings will include the new church and parking area on the five-acre site located on M-39 in the Twin Lakes development one mile west of Williams Lake Road.

Delighted with the recent membership drive for the League of Catholic Women are Mrs. Floyd Zielinski (at left) of Waterford Township and Mrs. Carl G. Brown of Canterbury Drive, cochairmen for the annual May breakfast Sunday, and Mrs. Delmo Chapdelaine, of South Boulevard east, league president. Mrs. John Shada of Ferndale (standing) is guest speaker.

League Hears of City Plans

The urban renewal projects in Pontiac were discussed by the League of Women Voters of Pontiac Wednesday evening at the Community Services Building.

John Hoover of the city's urban renewal department explained the process of acquiring property, relocation of homeowners or business firms and the subsequent sale of lands to individuals for redevelopment.

"The concept of urban renewal," said Mr. Hoover, "is to combine forces of government to eliminate blight and slum areas. Rapid social and technical changes cause need for urban renewal. The change creates opportunity for growth and promotion of orderly change."

The league's interest in the subject comes under its study of metropolitan problems now in its second year.

League of Catholic Women to Hear Mrs. John Shada at Breakfast

The League of Catholic Women will hear Mrs. John Shada of Ferndale speak concerning "The Wonderful World of Women" Sunday at the annual breakfast in the League Building on South Park Street.

Mrs. Shada has been director-consultant of the Family Life Committee, Detroit Council of Catholic Women, and served the committee for 10 years. She holds a Ph.D. and M.A. degree from University of Detroit, is the wife of an athletic coach and mother of eight children.

Rev. Edward Olesowski will celebrate a Mass for living league members at St. Vincent de Paul Church, preceding the breakfast planned by Mrs. Carl Brown, chairman and Mrs. Floyd Zielinski, cochairman.

Mrs. Delmo Chapdelaine will preside as Mrs. Zielinski reports on the Big Sister Movement at the Oakland County Medical Care Facility. Mrs. Arthur Crawford will report on the cancer pad project and Mrs. Lewis Swartz on parties for family care patients of Pontiac State Hospital. The League home is also used to rehabilitate other family care patients.

A membership of 1,100 for the Pontiac area has been achieved through the recent drive, according to Mrs. William B. Dean, chairman.

Other League directors assisting with reception, serving and cleanup are Mrs. Matthew Gill, Mrs. Jack Seebald, Mrs. Joseph Spadolero, Mrs. Ernest Gray, Mrs. S. J. McIsaac, Mrs. M. J. Hinds, Mrs. Robert Gallo, Mrs. Charles Thayer, Mrs. C. D. Benninger, Mrs. F. J. O'Neill, Mrs. Edwin Dobski, Mrs. Joseph Chappellano, Mrs. Gayle Goshon, Mrs. Stanley Vitasinsky, Mrs. C. West and Mrs. Earl Adams.

Mrs. Marshall Sprague handled publicity.

Marking 25th Year

The William C. McCallums are observing their silver wedding anniversary at an open house from 4 to 8 p.m. today in their Pontiac Lake Road home.

Honoring their parents are Rev. and Mrs. William McCallum of Bay City, The Wesley McCallums of South Bend, Mrs. Clifford Featherston of Sault Ste. Marie, Mrs. Kenneth Lewis of Brimley, the William Andersons of Auburn Heights and the Andrew Andersons of Gateway Drive, Waterford Township.

Abby Says People Are Human

Relatives Should Care Less, Let Bride Do as She Wants

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a relative who was just about ready to give up when someone asked her to get married.

She is 32 and he is 30. Please don't faint, but she is planning to be married in a white wedding gown with a veil, the bouquet, bridesmaids and everything that goes with it.

She has gray hair and looks every bit her 30 years. I am afraid people in this town will think she has gone crazy. Don't you think someone in the family should step in and set her straight?

INTERESTED RELATIVE: DEAR INTERESTED: I see nothing wrong with the bride's plans. Someone should set her relatives straight.

DEAR ABBY: I am a high school senior and have never been in trouble before. I have been accused of stealing a purse. I did not steal it, Abby.

I found it on my way to school and there was no name or anything in it. I suppose I should have turned it in somewhere but I didn't know where to turn it in, so I took it to school and started to use it.

I was called into the principal's office. It was stolen from one of the girls at school. A girl whose name they wouldn't tell me said she heard me tell another girl I stole it and not set her straight?

Now the whole school is against me. I swear I didn't steal that purse. How can an innocent person protect herself against gossip?

INNOCENT: DEAR INNOCENT: Quit trying to disprove guilt that does not exist. The word of the girl who claimed she heard you say you stole it should have been disregarded until she agreed to face you with the accusation. Forget it, my dear. And others will.

DEAR ABBY: I was born in America but have been in ships all my life. I have never seen anything like the way the American women girle themselves in and strap themselves up. It really gets me.

I do not know who they think they are kidding with all those wires, elastic devices and comtrations to hold them in place. When they get home and take their girldies off, they spread out like a baseball field.

Violetta Hamby Is Wed to Navy Man in Pontiac

Violetta Jane Hamby exchanged marriage vows with PO 3.C. Kenneth W. Viperman, USN, before Brother W. W. Hall this afternoon in the Church of Christ, North Perry Street.

The church was decked with all-white arrangements of gladioli, snapdragons and chrysanthemums against a background of palms.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Paul McKee of Lafayette Street and Winifred Hamby of Rockwood, Tenn. Parents of the bridegroom are Mrs. Robert Shaffer of East Boulevard North and Kyle Viperman of Orlando, Fla.

Stylish along princess lines, with Empress bodice, the bridal gown of white Chantilly lace and silk organza over satin swept into a chapel train. Hand-set seed pearls in a Juliet crown secured the double veil of silk illusion.

White carnations and pink sweetheart roses rested on the bride's white prayer book.

FROM HOLLAND: Maid of honor Margaret Longers of Amsterdam, Holland, wore a brief jacket with her pastel pink, strapless satin dress. Mrs. George Garland, bridesmaid, appeared in yellow satin.

They wore veiled headpieces and held white carnations centered with snapdragons to match their dresses.

On the exquisite side were Robert Hollingdale, best man; Carroll Davis, groomsmen, and James Chittick and David Austerman, ushers.

After a buffet dinner and reception at the Knights of Pythias Hall, the couple will leave for a honeymoon at Niagara Falls. They will live in Pensacola, Fla., where the bridegroom is stationed.

WATERFORD CAMPAROLLA — The first activity on any scout outing is the early morning flag ceremony, and here the Girl Scout leaders at the Pontiac Recreation Day Camp site get to begin today's program for Waterford Township Girl Scouts. They are under the supervision of Mrs. Warren Allen and Mrs. Jay Bendall, Camparolla Directors. The weekend activities will end late tomorrow afternoon.

Girl Scouts Enjoying Camparolla

This weekend the Pontiac Lake Recreation Day Camp site is teeming with Waterford Girl Scouts and their leaders, as the Waterford District has its annual Camparolla.

More than 250 girls and their leaders will compete in all types of contests today.

The scouts live in canvas tents and all their meals are cooked over charcoal fires. The menus are planned by the girls and range from stews on up to fried chicken and pot roasts.

The girls are encouraged to progress from simple to more difficult levels. They will cook bread twists and biscuits over wood and charcoal fires, and construct articles using knots and lashings.

Last night a get-acquainted campfire session was held with campers exchanging Girl Scout songs and snacks. Tonight, parents and friends have been invited to the evening campfire and the girls will entertain with songs and dances.

Today they will vie in tests of fire building, knot tying and lashing skills.

The older girls will compete on a more difficult level. They will cook bread twists and biscuits over wood and charcoal fires, and construct articles using knots and lashings.

SERVICES SUNDAY: Both Protestant and Roman Catholic services will be held at the Day Camp site Sunday morning.

Woodfires judges are Mrs. Richard Gail, Mrs. Philip Meacham, Mrs. Conway Lewis and Mrs. Jack McCulloch. Judging charcoal fires are Mrs. Charles Hooverman, Mrs. Ralph Marble and Mrs. John McNeely.

Knot tying will be judged by Mrs. John Gudimovsky, Mrs. Warren Goodrich, Mrs. Leo Perkins, Mrs. Donald Vander-veem and Mrs. Bruce Zollner. Judging the lashing project, will be Ann McCreedy, Mrs. John Evans and Mrs. James Hutchinson.

On Monday Mrs. William J. Scripps and Mrs. Wm. B. Giles entertained at luncheon in the Giles home on Rutledge Drive.

Bay City Teen Reaps U.N. Honor

NEW YORK (UPI) — A plan with a three-way pitch has won Mary Ellen McGuinness, of Bay City, Mich., one of teen-ager's new honors.

The sophomore is the grand prize winner in the first annual Youth Out for UNICEF—YOU—competition. UNICEF is the United Nations' children's fund.

Miss McGuinness, 16, has done up an outline of a program aimed at helping teen-agers to develop generosity and their communities, while aiding children in underdeveloped parts of the world.

"A dividend of the plan as I see it," she said in an interview, "is that it will help also to improve the distorted image of the American teen-ager abroad."

"We don't want people to think we do nothing but watch westerns on TV, listen to disc jockeys and engage in gang warfare."

The competition entered by Miss McGuinness was sponsored by a magazine and open to YOU members in the United States.

Her prize-winning entry, one of the first submitted, was an outline of year-round educational and fund-raising activities to be conducted by YOU members from coast to coast.

ASKS NATIONAL DAY: Miss McGuinness suggested that the projects culminate in a national YOU day in the spring. During the spring quest on behalf of needy children, the teen-agers also will help to inform their communities of UNICEF's work and aims.

The honor student from Bay City Central High School was in New York to receive a special citation from Dr. Ralph I. Bunche, United Nations undersecretary for special political affairs.

The citation was presented at a reception in Miss McGuinness' honor at the United Nations and sponsored by the U. S. Committee for UNICEF.

The prize-winner said a key fund-raising idea is that the teen-agers work in their communities, helping to spruce things up for a few — and contribute the money to UNICEF.

"The communities benefit from the cleanup," she said, "and the teen-agers gain something from the knowledge that they are helping the needy."

A penny earned and contributed to UNICEF buys five glasses of milk for a child. A dollar earned buys a shirt or helping to clean up a neighborhood or yard buys protection from tuberculosis for 100 children.

CITIES PROJECTS: Miss McGuinness cited the following among projects already undertaken on behalf of UNICEF: —In Omaha, Neb., a committee of one donated two weeks of baby-sitting earnings. —In Schuette, Mass., one girl has scheduled a cookie sale, car washing, garden and lawn work on behalf of UNICEF. —In Bethesda, Md., the Future Homemakers of America

Bailey's Queen for a Day Is Phenomenal TV Show

By EARL WILSON

I happened to be at Lake Tahoe, Nev., and saw busloads and autotours of nicely-dressed women arriving at Harrah's and stampeding past slot machines and roulette tables into the South Shore Room to try to become Queen for a Day.

Later I saw some of those same women playing the $1 slot machines.

"But these women aren't sob sisters," I said to Bailey, who'd taken the show to Tahoe for one week.

"No, if a woman's crying or looks like she's gonna, I don't put her on," replied Bailey, whose sponsors call him "America's Prince Charming," although the TV critics call him other names.

"I usually tell them, 'Honey, don't faint till you get the loot,'" Jack said.

Curry or not, Bailey's been giving away $3,000 to $5,000 worth of merchandise and trips every week day since June 1945, and nobody pointed a finger at him during the payola and giveaway scandals.

So he's handed out around $20,000,000 worth of happiness or a financial facsimile in these 16 years — but Jack admits that occasionally they get nicked by a phony.

"Just three weeks ago," said Jack, sipping some coffee (he's a teetotaler now), "we had a queen who'd been a queen before but had changed her name and her story."

"I didn't catch this one. But a girl in my office sort of remembered her. Then she started checking up on her. What the woman had forgotten to do was change her address. We just withheld the merchandise from her."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

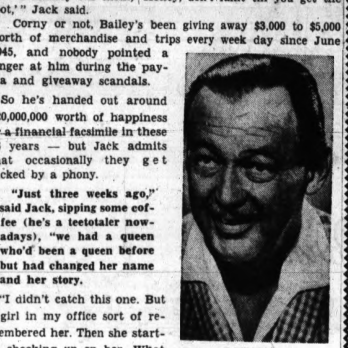

John Wayne wants to star in "Fate Is the Hunter" (by Ernest Gann, who wrote "The High and the Mighty"). Dancers Tybee and Brascia will appear again with Frank Sinatra at the Las Vegas Sands, June 7. . . . Producers of the shock film, "Master of the World," want to preview it in the London Wax Museum's horror chamber. Ray Heatherton, the former "Merry Mailman" of TV, is doing public relations for a Long Island bank.

EARL'S PEARLS: A local restaurant sports this placard: "Remember—it's not un-American to pay cash."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A Texan (reports Ima Washout) told his wife, "Dear, I think the kids are old enough to know the facts of life. Let's tell them about Alaska."

WISH IT WERE TRUE: Julius LaRosa insists he'd rather play golf than fish. "You can't change the size of a golf ball," a girl snapped at a would-be Romeo. "I suppose your wife doesn't understand you," and he answered, "Oh, my wife understands me. The trouble is, you dames don't." . . . That's earl, brother.

Will U.S. Leave Exchange Alone?

(Editor's Note—Many laws and regulations were adopted after the 1929 stock market crash to ensure honesty in Wall Street. This is the first of four articles on a federal investigation aimed at determining whether added safeguards are needed.)

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's 13 stock exchanges have the primary responsibility for keeping themselves honest. Uncle Sam usually stays on the sidelines, keeping his shotgun in the closet.

Whether the closet door might best be opened wide is a question now being debated in the light of the activities of Jerry and Gerald Re, two members of the American Stock Exchange expelled May 4 by order of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The SEC ruled that the Res, father and son, flouted market prices, sold huge blocks of stock illegally and otherwise flouted the rules of the game between 1954 and 1960.

The Res were arrested Thursday in New York City on federal conspiracy charges. They were accused in connection with an alleged market rigging scheme involving the stock of Thompson-Submarine Co. Inc.

(The father and son were released on bond to await grand jury action.)

In the wake of this, the agency announced last week it will make a separate investigation of the American Exchange, the second largest in the land. It wants to find out if the exchange is doing a proper police job and if investors need added protection.

CLAIMS REFORMS

The exchange says it has adopted substantial reforms which will effectively prevent another case of the Re type, billed as the largest market manipulation since the depression.

SEC officials got a hint of wrongdoing in 1957 and obtained federal injunction prohibiting the Res from making illegal stock sales. This stricture was ignored by the Res, who were market specialists for the exchange conducting daily trading in about 20 stocks.

The SEC collected further evidence of misdeeds by the Res in a 1958 case. Still, it did not take direct action against them. In that encounter, involving serious charges, the Res were cleared of all except technical violations which were attributed solely to the father. Then the SEC got busy.

It was the exchange which had first responsibility for keeping the Res in line. While the SEC has authority to make rules governing market specialists, the power has not been used. Rather, the agency has accepted assurances from the exchanges that they can do the job themselves.

REVIEW COMING

This SEC policy will be reviewed in the course of the current inquiry.

Admittedly, it isn't always easy to track down stock market wrongdoing. The Res—who did not contest the SEC charges—seem to have proved this. Still, the record

Let's Look at Figures on Imported Cars

By BEN PILEGAR
AP Automotive Writer
DETROIT—In past years bumper signs on foreign cars such as "Made in the Black Forest by the Elves" drew a lot of laughs in this country.

But recently, say the importers, there has been a much more vigorous, although generally unorganized campaign to persuade Americans to buy cars made at home.

The theme, they said, runs all the way from gentle persuasion that foreign cars are unnecessary with the advent of smaller domestic cars to outright flag-waving which claims the purchase of anything foreign is automatically un-American.

Most of the importers regard this as a reaction to a period of recession in which American unemployment was high. But they also have started, or stepped up, their own campaigns to counter such claims.

USE NEW PITCH
The importers' pitch is that they contribute handsomely to the American domestic economy and that efforts to choke off their sales, if successful, would harm rather than help this country.

Fiat of Italy, presently running third in import sales, has just issued a brochure called "Some Dollars and Sense About Imports."

Fiat's American branch suggests Americans drink such foreign beverages as tea, coffee, Scotch and champagne and adds: "We all don't drink just corn or bourbon because it's a product of our own sunny South."

Every major foreign automaker buys a portion of its steel in the United States. Volkswagen says it now is buying 3,200 tons of steel here each month and has spent $15 million for American steel in the past three years.

During the 1959 steel strike here Vauxhall of England was forced to suspend production because of lack of steel.

VOLKSWAGEN TALKS
Volkswagen, most successful of the import sellers, was one of the first to stress the imports' role in American business.

Carl Hahn, general manager of Volkswagen's American subsidiary, estimates every VW sold in the United States represents $1,000 to the American economy.

charges in the past three years and $23 million during the same period for hauling cars from docks to dealers.

Volkswagen estimates the investment of its 16 independent distributors at more than $100 million and their weekly payroll at $1.1 million to 11,000 employees.

Purchases by foreign auto makers are reflected in Department of Commerce figures which show American companies sold $89 million in auto parts and accessories in the export market in 1960.

Your Neighbor's House

It's a Dream to Maintain

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Now that one-third of all married women are employed outside their homes, the ease of maintaining those homes is an important factor. Today's story is about such an easy-to-keep home. It was built with that in mind.

Three years ago the Robert Slingerlands moved from Southgate to their new home on Lake George Road, north of Rochester. With them came 2 sons, Glenn who's now in college, and Mac, a present 8th-grader. With them came also Prince, the cat, and Charley Brown, the beagle.

Mrs. Slingerland teaches in Detroit a couple of days each

Here's the Answer

QUESTION: We are remodeling our kitchen, using metal wall tiles over the painted plaster. The last time the walls were painted, about three years ago, we used rubber-based paint. Can the tile mastic be applied right over the paint?

ANSWER: If the wall had been enameled, the mastic would adhere properly. But, where rubber-based paint has been used, it is necessary to give the walls a coat of shellac before applying the mastic.

However, we are assuming that you are using regular tile mastic. If you have not yet purchased it, you might see whether you can get a special type of mastic which eliminates the need for shellacking.

QUESTION: I'll be using a paint roller on the walls for the first time soon. Any tips you can give me?

ANSWER: Here are some don'ts: Don't overload the roller, which causes dripping.

Don't start rolling with a down-war stroke. Don't make the common mistake of rolling too fast, which produces a spray.

Don't spin the roller at the end of a stroke. Don't resume painting in freshly-painted portion, it being necessary to start on a new dry portion and rolling into the painted area.

QUESTION: I have just bought a second-hand portable jig saw. Can you tell me something about the technique of using it?

ANSWER: The forward edge of the jig saw is placed on the stock, the motor started and the blade moved ahead firmly but without excessive pressure. In addition to the forward motion, also use a slight downward pressure.

week. She is still feeling the effects of a severe auto accident several years ago and has to conserve her strength. House-keeping mustn't take all her time at home.

The Slingerlands had drawn their own plans and had an architect, William Lindhout of Livonia, translate them into working order. Hungerford Construction Company of Clarkston did the building.

There's only one step in the whole house. The garage is that much lower than the rest of the building. All floors are cork.

OPEN PLAN
The wide open living area includes a dining room which is the first room you enter; a tremendously long living room at the back of the house; and a compact kitchen. Mrs. Slingerland is a home economist who put her special knowledge to work when she planned that space.

Walls are all fir plywood panels. The ceilings are knotty pine. A brick wall houses the fireplace and the wall oven separates kitchen and living room. Much furniture is built in.

Because the house is not close to neighbors, and because wide overhangs control the summer sun, the Slingerlands have no need of draperies. In fact, draperies would definitely spoil the view from the living room windows. There are 4 ponds on the property, one of which is visible close behind the house.

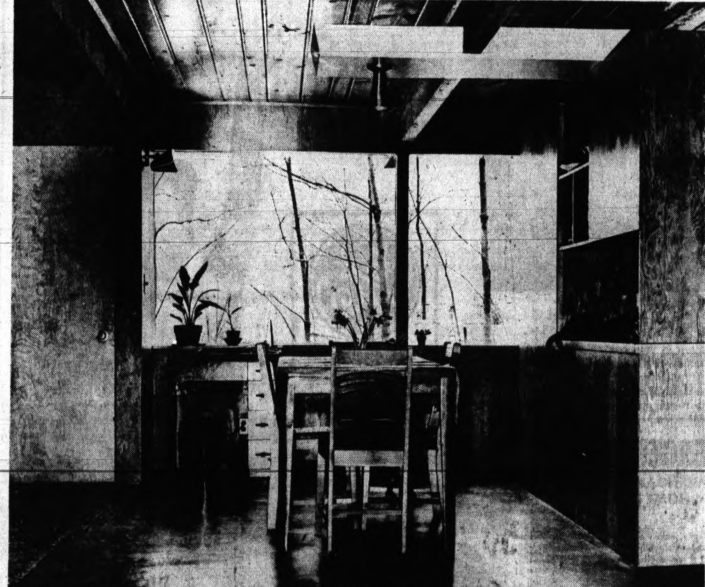

In the dining area there is a large sliding door coat closet at the right of the front door. A desk under the front windows and birch table and chairs comprise the furnishings.

There's an open shelf above the pumpkin counter between dining room and kitchen. Kitchen cupboard doors are pale lemon. The floor linoleum is aqua.

Below the wall oven is an opening for fireplace wood.

EFFICIENT—Putting all her training as a home economist into practice, Mrs. Slingerland got a compact and attractive kitchen. The birch cupboards have lemon yellow doors. Counter tops are pumpkin. The floor and the counters in the laundry room beyond are blue. Range and oven are built in. The wall behind the range is easy-to-cure-for stainless steel.

DINING AREA—This is the first room you see when you enter the house. The beauty of the wood is evident everywhere. Varying shades in the fir walls and the knotty pine ceiling provide all the decoration that is needed. At right is the open shelf between kitchen and dining room. Mrs. Slingerland uses the wide window sill for plants.

The boys' room has the same view as the living room. They have twin maple desks built under the picture windows. It must be difficult to study during daytime hours. Too much to see outside.

Their walnut twin beds have yellow spreads. A double walnut chest is built in between the beds. Closets have sliding doors.

The Slingerlands like the skylight over the vanity in their bathroom. Pale yellow doors hide the contents of the cupboards behind and below. Floor and walls are aqua ceramic tile. There are 5 towel bars, mounted one above the other on one wall. This is a space-saving idea for a small bath.

The Slingerlands' bedroom has a built-in vanity, cupboards and drawers. Movable furniture is mahogany. Odd shaped bottles filled with colored water are set on window dividers.

The exterior of this ranch home is redwood and buff brick. There's an aqua panel beside the front door.

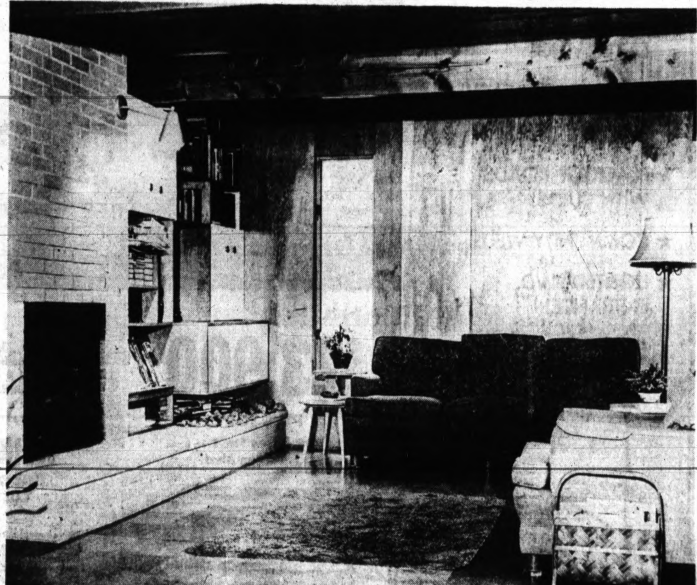

IN THE TREES — The Robert Slingerland home, on Lake George Road is built right in the trees. This picture was taken in April before the leaves were out. By now the house is hidden behind a screen of green. Hungerford Construction Company of Clarkston did the building from plans originated by the Slingerlands and drawn up by architect, William Lindhout of Livonia. The house is 3 years old.

PLACE TO STUDY — Glenn and Mac have wide maple desks built side by side under the picture window in their bedroom. There is ample storage space below. The chairs have rush seats.

There is but one drawback to this arrangement; it might lead to daydreaming instead of study, if one were to get too interested in the outside view.

BUILT-INS—In keeping with their aim of maintenance, the Slingerlands built in shelves, cupboards, a magazine rack and a desk next to the fireplace. The lower cupboard has a green door; the one next to the chimney is yellow. Walls are fir plywood finished in a natural shade. A warm cinnamon colored upholstery covers the sofa; the chair is sandalwood. Little tables are birch.

 Unpainted hardboard will often absorb grease, oil and dirt and will soon become unsightly. YEAR-AROUND SWIMMING HOLE — You don't have to be a polar bear to take a swim in December or April — if you have a year-around swimming hole like this one. Pool lies across patio from house, opens up to patio with a full wall of sliding glass doors. Handsome interior is paneled with western red cedar, finished clear to let cedar's rich coloring warm the eye. Structural beams are Douglas fir.

Convert Unused Porch to New Living Space

Valuable living space can be added to your home by converting an open porch into a room. Year-round usefulness as an additional bedroom, dining room, den or recreation area can be achieved at reasonable cost through such projects if you have one of the estimated 19,000,000 porches in the country.

First and foremost, check the existing porch for signs of dry rot (brownish, crumbly wood), and replace boards showing it. Look, also, for termites.

Construction generally follows standard procedures for any room. After the porch railing has been removed, install 2"x4" studs 16 inches apart, and cover the outside to match the exterior, being sure to include insulation for maximum comfort. Interior walls can be finished with plywood or composition board.

Pleasure and convenience to be enjoyed from the new room will be heightened by laying of a floor such as solid vinyl tile which comes in various styles and colors suited to any purpose for which the room is intended.

A layer of saturated felt should be placed on the existing porch floor as a moisture barrier. This is covered with 1/2" plywood to which the solid vinyl tiles are attached with adhesives recommended by the manufacturer.

In planning to convert a porch into a room, try to estimate how much it will be used during different seasons of the year so that adequate heat can be piped in from furnace or oil burner. Sufficient electrical outlets and fixtures also must be planned.

Peg-Board backed by glass fiber wool blanket can be used successfully in recreation rooms and elsewhere to reduce noise, according to Masonite Corporation.

The pleasing appearance, durability and sound-absorbing qualities of Peg-Board in combination with glass fiber wool blanket make this construction desirable. Readily painted with a roller, the surface is dent and wear-resistant and may be washed repeatedly, additional advantages over other acoustical materials.

Installations of this type also have been found successful in public places such as schools, theaters, music halls, bowling alleys and institutions where noise reduction is important.

Detailed information on materials and construction may be obtained by sending to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., for free technical bulletin A-259.

HIDEAWAY WITH STYLE—Windows and sliding glass doors open out to the full-width deck of B-67, designed by architect Lester Cohen.

B-67 FLOOR PLAN—Living area is 66' 6" by 14' for 948 square feet which does not include the 6' wide porch (10' wide at the barbecue corner). Plan does not show ground-level shower room located directly below bath and off the carport. Note 26' wide gear alcove with five compartments.

IDYLIC AND TRIM—A perfect square surrounded on three sides by an 8' porch is the design used by architect Samuel Paul for B-68.

Build Vacation Cabin From Choice of Plans

(Editor's Note: Today's House of the Week is a two-plan special on the list of individual solutions for the vacation home. It is a nominal home without sacrificing quality. Plans always available with House of the Week cover architectural elevations, condensed materials lists, and enlarged pictures of both these designs.)

By JULES LOH

The exodus to the suburbs seems to be overshooting its mark. Americans more and more are flocking to lake and mountain not only for summer vacations but for year-round weekends of fishing, hunting, cook-outs, parties or just plain country relaxing.

Two House of the Week architects are sure to add impetus to the trend with this pair of economical but extremely livable vacation homes. One or the other should fit your favorite hideaway—and your pocketbook as well.

Architect Lester Cohen submits B-67, designed for beach or lake with the view toward the water. The house has 948 square feet of living area, but that doesn't tell the whole story. Note the luxurious front deck spanning the entire 66' 6" length.

Both bedrooms and the spacious living room open on the deck through sliding glass doors, adding a good deal of additional "living area" to the house, since as much vacation activity (or inactivity) is done outdoors as in.

Our second vacation House of the Week is B-68, by architect Samuel Paul. It is a neat and economical retreat which can be expanded into a full-fledged bedroom home if desired without alteration to prior construction or utilities.

Paul's design is a perfect 24' 4" square—giving the greatest interior space for the least exterior wall—with an 8' deck surrounding three sides. The house is a post and beam platform built on concrete piers, meaning it can be located on uneven terrain simply by adjusting the height of the piers.

A full-width fireplace wall of native stone adds eye-catching glamor to this trim design both indoors and out. Inside is a raised hearth, and outdoors is a barbecue located in the area where the sun deck is 10' wide.

FOR ECONOMY The partitioned bath and the kitchen are back to back for economy, and beneath the bath on the ground level off the carport is a shower room (not shown in the floor plan) for bathers.

The kitchen-living room expanse is 32' by 13' with the informal pullman kitchen occupying 9' 6" by 8' of it. The living room has a sloping ceiling that slants up above the windows, with a big outside overhang above the deck.

A highlight of B-67 is a 26' long storage alcove wall to collect all the fishing tackle, water skis, games and other paraphernalia that invariably gathers in every corner of most vacation homes.

ADAPTABLE B-68 "I aimed for economy with a touch of charm," said architect Paul, and B-68 achieved both.

The basic living area is 804 square feet plus, believe it or not, 808 additional square feet on the surrounding deck. Expanding the house with two more bedrooms would add another 396 square feet. Its overall dimensions (without expansion) are 44' 4" wide by 36' 4" deep.

The 8' wide deck, adorned with planting boxes, has access from all three sides and is separated from the living room on two sides by floor-to-ceiling windows.

Exposed rafters of the pitched roof add to the feeling of openness achieved by the broad living-dining area which runs the width of the house. The interior walls are natural wood plywood paneling and the exterior is vertically grooved plywood nailed directly to the studs. A thick layer of insulation keeps the house warm in winter.

The partitioned bath is accessible both from the interior and the deck, and would retain its convenient location if the house were expanded. The well-planned kitchen features plenty of counter space, a modern necessity in the country as well as the city.

Slab House Has Need for Gutters

If you have a basementless house without gutters and downspouts for the roof, you're court-judging problems, according to the Roof Drainage Manufacturers Institute.

Studies made by the RDMIS show that basementless houses, built on concrete slabs, need good roof drainage most of all. That's because the shallow foundation walls around them are susceptible to undermining by water.

When heavy rains and melting snow pour off the roof onto the ground near the house, water soaks into the soil next to the foundations. This may tend to soften the soil on which the foundations rest, thus causing the house to shift, walls to crack, and general deterioration to set in.

You can prevent problems like these by calling your local sheet metal contractor and asking him to recommend proper roof drainage for your home.

Knots or Not

The presence or absence of knots in wood is strictly a question of the grade of lumber. A clear grade of wood is best suited to some uses—say for certain pieces of furniture—while a knotty grade of lumber will add immeasurably to beauty and pattern interest in other situations.

Hydronic Heat Called Superior

Heating engineers classify heating systems in two categories: Warm wall systems and cold wall systems.

The distinguishing feature of a warm wall system is that the heat distributor is in the outside wall or attached to the wall at the floor level.

A warm wall system offers superior comfort features, the Plumbing, Heating, Cooling Information Bureau points out.

Because the outside walls are warm, the loss of body heat is controlled. In this connection, the Bureau explains that the purpose of all heating systems is to establish conditions within the home so that body heat is lost at just the proper rate that will maintain comfort.

A genuine warm wall system is the hydronic heating system with hot water as the heating medium and the heat distributed by baseboard or by panels.

Hydronic heating is able to cope with the toughest heating system problems presented by modern homes such as a large glass area, spread out floor plans, finished basements, rooms over garages, split-level homes and like-situations all requiring different temperatures.

Hydronics provides a steady, even heat and gives trouble-free lifetime service as well as economical zoned heating.

Hydronics also offers the possibility of compatible cooling which is adaptable to the heating system.

Waterproof Baby Basket

Waterproofing capabilities of asphalt were discovered more than 5,000 years ago, and today it is the principal material used in the manufacture of asphalt shingles, the most popular roofing material in the U.S., according to building authorities. They add that one of the earliest recorded uses of asphalt was the waterproofing of the red basket that floated the baby Moses through the bulrushes.

No Detergents

Because laundry wastes have a heavy concentration of detergents, they should not be run into a septic tank, says the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau. Neither should roof drains be run into a septic tank because excessive amounts of water hinder bacterial action.

Older House Can Be a Bargain—But Check

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "Should we buy a new house or should we look for an older one?" That question has puzzled many a family.

The case for a newly built house is impressive: Latest styles, that "new" feel, builder's warranty against defects (read it carefully) and — if you're custom building — the opportunity to have a house just as you want it.

A compelling reason for buying an older house, the American Institute of Architects (AIA) says, is space. Prices of materials, labor and land all have risen in the past several decades — as have the prices of nearly everything. The result has been a heavy increase in the cost of floor space. For the same money, an older home may give a family more space — if fewer appliances and modern architectural features.

Also, says AIA, "The lot size is apt to be larger. At the same time, the buyer can move into a stable neighborhood with established lawns, mature trees, and luxuriant shrubs which are expensive to plant."

One false reason for buying an older house, the Institute cautions, is a prejudice that "they built better in the old days." Actually, "The old days, weren't always so hot," it said. "Any architect, experienced builder, or municipal inspector can tell you hair-curling stories about what they've found in old house construction."

This sometimes applies also to contemporary home building.

In the case of an older house, construction flaws often have led to damage which can be spotted. Some telltale signs AIA recommends that the buyer or his architect watch for are:

- Horizontal cracks in the foundation walls at ground level. They may mean the wall is too thin or that water is not being drained away from the house.
- Cracks in the basement floor. They may mean the floor is too thin or that the dirt underneath no longer supports the floor.
- Floor cracks radiating from the middle-of-the-house posts or piers indicate the supports are resting on the floor slab instead of on separate and sturdy footings.
- Cracks where walls meet ceilings may result from excessive expansion and contraction of the plate atop the wall stud.
- Cracks in the ceiling parallel to the direction of the floor joists, and in walls at a 45-degree angle, indicate a sagging floor.

AIA advises that an architect probably can check for these things more competently than you. You both should also be wary of dry rot, termite infestation, faulty plumbing and inadequate wiring.

You can make a minor check on plumbing by opening the water faucets and flushing the toilets at the same time. AIA says that if the pressure doesn't drop, and opening and closing the faucets doesn't produce a thumping sound, "Your pressure and lines would appear to be in good shape."

All of these trouble signs are important, AIA observes, because "the true price of your prospective purchase is the first cost of the property plus renovation."

Paint Over Rust After Priming

Today, there are rust primers on the market which stop the spread of rust and permit paint to be applied directly over damaged areas.

The first step is to remove all loose rust particles with a wire brush so that there is a smooth, reasonably sound surface — even though considerable rust remains. Next comes the application of the rust primer, which can be brushed or sprayed on. Complete coating is essential, since any area which is not covered will give rust a chance to start and then spread under the finish coat.

When the primer has dried, the finish coat is applied. This finish coat can be regular metal paint or, if double protection is desired, a special paint containing some of the same rust-preventing materials which are in the primer. While the primer usually is red, the finish paint comes in a full range of colors.

NEW-ANGLED PANTRY — Shades of Grandma's black silk stockings! Here's a new-fangled version of the old-fashioned pantry. A good many modern kitchens, in economical both money-wise and space-wise, welcome addition to the space-age kitchen. This pantry puts an odd corner to work storing

Old Time Pantry Makes Comeback to Kitchen

The more futuristic Milady's hand, but also that savings can be kitchen becomes, the more effected by buying food in bulk quantities at sale prices. Thus, friendly, rambling keeping room, such an installation becomes a good many modern kitchens, in economical both money-wise and space-wise, welcome addition to the space-age kitchen. This pantry puts an odd corner to work storing

One throwback to Grandma's day currently making a big splash in contemporary kitchens is the pantry. But the updated version is better than ever.

Instead of being a gloomy little room at the back of the house where dust topped the jars of strawberry jam, the modern pantry is usually located right inside the kitchen. Looking something like a closet that is built into the room, the pantry becomes a decorative accent, a conversation piece, and a blue-ribbon winner for storage design rolled into one.

Swinging saloon doors add to the unmissable pantry's cuteness, but behind those doors are three walls of practical, floor-to-ceiling shelves. On these shelves go, of course, all the extra supplies of boxed and canned goods.

Having a storage pantry means not only that trips to the grocery store will be less frequent since quantities of food can be kept on boxed and canned foods, is charmingly fashioned of western red cedar to match kitchen cabinetry. Pantry sports saloon doors and a rakish chapeau of easy-care ferns.

'Modular' Panel Saves You Money

Just what do carpenters mean when they talk about "modular dimensions?"

This means that the sizes of the materials are based on standard building measurements, or modules, so that they will fit with a minimum of cutting.

For instance, Marlite planks are eight feet long, a dimension which corresponds to a typical wall height in most houses. And the planks' 16-inch width divides evenly into many typical wall widths. Nine planks, for example, will fit a 12-foot wide wall.

Similarly, 16-inch square Marlite blocks are a good modular size. The dimensions of larger panels, like 4x8 sheets, also are calculated to fit many areas without cutting.

Get Marble Effect With Enamel Coats

There is a way to simulate the marble on wood. Some persons do it beautifully and get an almost exact marble appearance. Others just can't seem to get the hang of it. Should it fail to come out the way you expected, it's a simple matter to paint over the whole thing with another color.

If you want to try the marble effect, here's how it goes: Apply a white undercoat paint to the top of the table. When it is thoroughly dry, apply a dark high-gloss enamel with a paint brush about two and one-half inches wide. The enamel should be thinned a bit with turpentine. While this dark enamel is still wet, apply a light color enamel with an artist's brush, twisting the wrist and hand to simulate the marble veining. Immediately apply still another enamel, a different light color, also using an artist's brush.

Next—and again while the paint is still wet—crumple a piece of newspaper into a ball. Dab the wad of newspaper on the veining. This last procedure softens the lines while at the same time picking up any loose paint. Allow the entire job to dry — and you have your marble effect.

Closet Can Hide Washer in Kitchen

Special-purpose closets can serve useful purposes in many homes. For instance, if your automatic washer or dryer is situated in the kitchen, porch or recreation room, you can hide it from view and reduce its noise.

Another special closet could be a photographic darkroom, perhaps built in portable style around laundry tubs because running water is needed.

For these and other special-purpose closets, the principal materials needed are framing lumber and panels of tough, durable Masonite Tempered Prestwood, which is moisture resistant and may be painted attractively. Or you may prefer one of the woodgrained or embossed Masonite handboards. Your lumber dealer can help you with special projects like this.

An occasional treatment with a clean-and-wax product will keep factory-finished wood kitchen cabinets fresh and sparkling.

DOWN BUT NOT OUT — Milwaukee Braves' 2nd baseman Eddie Mathews and Los Angeles shortstop Maury Wills engage in a bit of shoving in the dust as they contest for possession of 3rd base in the 1st inning of Friday's game at Milwaukee. Umpire Bill Barkhart signals Mathews out. After a lengthy discussion, the umpire changed his mind and ruled the Milwaukee infielder safe. The Braves trounced the Dodgers, 10-2.

Final Warmup Day at 500-Mile Track

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — It was in the golden anniversary 500-mile carburnation test day at Indianapolis Speedway today, a final shake-down for the 33 daredevil pilots who will defy death or destruction

Norman J. Patterson, a member of the U. S. Olympic team of 1912 and Detroit businessman, died at the age of 68. In 1912 he was a runner for the American Olympic squad at the games in Stockholm.

At Mantel closed out his high school baseball career Friday by pitching his 4th straight no-hit game for Detroit Harbor St. John in a 15-0 beating of the catfish. Mantel struck out a total of 67 of a possible 84 batters.

Two pass-catching ends from Iowa State University, Don Webb of Jefferson City, Iowa, and Mickey Fitzgerald of Detroit, were signed today by the Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four Football Union.

Barton H. Boyum of Ishpeming has been named manager of the team which will represent the United States next year in the jumping and cross country races at Zakopane, Poland. Walter Biehl of Iron Mountain was named coach of the Nordic jumping squad.

Polly Riley shoots for her fifth Southern Amateur golf title today when she meets Sherry Wheeler in the 36-hole match play finals at Asheville, N. C.

Formal applications for withdrawal from the Interstate Conference by Southern Illinois and Eastern Michigan have been accepted by faculty representatives who met yesterday.

The Los Angeles Angels purchased pitcher Art Fowler from the American-American Association Friday night.

Palmer, Player Make Decision

Canada Cup Loses to Cash

NEW YORK (AP) — Golf's cash rewards have become so great that two top money-winners of the game can't afford to risk suspension from the PGA tour to represent their countries in line of the world's outstanding international competitions.

As a result, a couple of gay gaffers, a century old today, Jimmy Demaret and Sam Snead, will carry Uncle Sam's colors in the Canada Cup international matches at Dorado Beach, Puerto Rico, next Thursday through Sunday.

Demaret, 31, Wednesday was chosen to replace Arnold Palmer, the U.S. Open champion, as partner of Snead, 49, today, when Palmer, South Africa's Gary Player and Canada's Stan Leonard withdrew from the Cup matches Friday and under threat of PGA suspension, Palmer and Snead won the Canada Cup last year.

turning almost full corners, may find him in trouble with the Americans—coming off the straightaways high and cutting the corners close.

There never has been a fatal accident in this final warmup for the big Memorial Day race.

The preliminaries to this year's 500 have been grim, with veteran Tony Bettenhausen, trying for his first triumph in 15 starts, killed in a May 11 practice spin. In all, 11 cars hit the wall since the track opened for practice May 11.

With the track running during the regular race conditions, much attention was paid Jack Brabham, Australia's world road racing champion, driving his rear engine Cooper-Climax speedster.

Brabham, who qualified for 13th position in the time trials at 145.144 m.p.h., is regarded as a high quality man in the Memorial Day grid which requires tight, wheel-to-wheel driving around 200 monotonous laps.

Brabham, seeking to become the first foreign winner of the 500 since Daro Resta, the Italian-born Englishman who triumphed in 1916, has crossed the Atlantic five times within the past month to wheel cars in Indianapolis, Monte Carlo, Silverstone, England and the Netherlands.

The Aussie's car, with 252 horsepower, sports a great deal of room to the 400 h.p. of the standard Indianapolis Open.

Small American competitor. Some experts feel the type of race Brabham will have to drive.

Spahn Only Seven Victories Away From 300 Mark

Charmed Circle Is Closer

By The Associated Press
Warren (The Wonder) Spahn is just seven shy of the charmed 300 victory level today after beating the Los Angeles Dodgers—but it wasn't for the Dodgers, he might be seven over the 300 mark.

How's that? It's like this: When Spahn beat the Dodgers 10-2 at Los Angeles Friday night it was his second career win over Los Angeles this season and the 20th victory of his 17-year career in the National League. But it also marked the first time in 10 years he has won two in one season from the Dodgers, the only club with a lifetime edge (31-36) over the Braves' superbouthp.

At the moment, the 40-year-old master has a .543 winning percentage against the other six teams in the league. And if he could have replaced that Dodger jinx with something like the success he's had against the other clubs, Spahn's career record against the Dodgers would be 30-17, not 16-31.

The defeat left Los Angeles in a virtual tie for second place with the Pittsburgh Pirates, who were edged 12-3 at St. Louis. San Francisco padded its lead by a full game with a 3-2 victory over the Giants.

New Senators Beat Old Ones

Bright's Bases - Loaded Single Decides Contest at Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harry Bright's bases-loaded single in the sixth inning drove home the Senators and winning run Friday night at Griffith Stadium for the fledgling Senators and the team which left Washington for Minneapolis-St. Paul. A good portion of the 14,033 fans booed their former heroes throughout the game.

Bright's two-run liner to right center enabled rookie right-hander Joe Mauer to gain his fifth victory in eight decisions. It also brought the Senators even in their head-to-head match with the Twins, who had won two of their three meetings in Minnesota.

McClain gave up 7 hits, struck out 4 and walked 3. Jim Kaat, who pitched all the way for the Twins in losing his fourth game against the Senators, surrendered eight safeties, including three by Willie Taylor, now on a 10-straight-game hitting binge.

The Twins took a 2-0 lead in the third on Kaat's double, Leroy Green's single and a wild pitch which enabled Green, now hitting safely in 23 straight games, to score from second.

World Champs at OSCC

The National Go-Kart races will be held Sunday at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club with three 1960 world championships among the entries.

Overall men's champ Bobby Allen; 13-year old Penny Stramp; and 11-year old junior champion Chris Miller of Birmingham are entered.

PGA Player of South Africa, Masters champion and leading money-winner on the U.S. pro circuit, were four swimmers while shooting his second straight 1-under-par 70. He was three strokes off Palmer's pace.

Doug Ford, winner of the first Speedway tourney last year with a 14 under-par performance, trailed Palmer by a single stroke after shooting a pair of 69s. Another stroke and, with 138, were Peter Thomson of Australia, Mason Rudolph and Johnny Patt.

PGA co-sponsored tournament on the regular tour, sponsored that tournament winners of the past year and those in the top 25 money-winners, can't skip a day in an unsponsored event, on permission. Memphis officials refused to release the three for the tour in the Odesa, Tex., pre-amateur cup next week.

the Chicago Cubs in 13 innings. The Philadelphia-Cincinnati game was postponed because of cold.

Spahn, now 5-3, nailed his sixth complete while allowing seven hits, three of them bunts. The fifth-place Braves, backing Spahn with four double-plays, also had seven hits, but two were home runs. Frank Thomas hit the 200th of his career, a two-run hit, and the other was a solo shot by Hank Aaron, who was saved by his plastic helmet when hit by a pitch by Roger Stan Williams (3-4). The Dodgers are .003 behind Pittsburgh on a percentage basis, but because of a difference in games played, they trail San Francisco by 1½ games while the Pirates are two games back of the Giants.

Ken Boyer, after going 15 games without driving in a run for the Cardinals, hit a pair of homers and collected six RBI against the Braves. He hit a three-run shot that wrapped it up in the first inning.

KALINE SCORES — Outfielder Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers scores from 2nd base in the 1st inning against the Angels at Los Angeles Friday night. Catcher Earl Averill is about to take the throw from the outfield. Kaline came home on Norm Cash's single. The Tigers lost, 5-4.

Score Sent to Minors In Latest Chisox Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—Herb Score, once a million-dollar pitching ace, is back in the minors today, hopeful he finally can shake the wildness that has been a monkey on his back since he was all but knocked out of baseball four years ago.

The Chicago White Sox, stumbling along in the American League, optioned the 27-year-old left-hander to San Diego of the Pacific Coast League Friday night.

"We had a long talk with Herb," said Manager Al Lopez, "and we told him we thought this would be the best thing for him. We feel he has to be somewhere where he can pitch every fourth day, somewhere where if he gets into trouble, he can stay in and pitch himself out of it."

"We couldn't afford to let him do that up here. There's nothing wrong with his arm. And he's been throwing good. You should see him on the sidelines. But in a game . . . Lopez was asked how Score, once a 20-game winner and strike-out king with his fast ball and curve, took the decision.

"Talking to Herb is like talking to your own son," answered Lopez. "He agreed with us. He knows he needs the work."

Score came back in 1959, but arm trouble put him on the disabled list for more than a month, and he had a 2-3 record. In 1959 it was .411, and he was traded to the White Sox for pitcher Barry Latman, just before the season started. He had a 5-10 record for the White Sox.

This year, he began in relief, then won his first start with a two-hitter against Cleveland 4-2. But both runs were set up by walks, and scored without a hit.

Thursday night, he lost his second against that one victory—failing to retire any of six men he faced in a start at Baltimore. It was the sixth straight loss for the White Sox, and a final failure that sent Score to San Diego.

against Bob Friend (5-5), who now has lost five in a row as a starter. The Pirates hit his first complete game at St. Louis, but gave up five unearned runs on six errors. Southpaw Curt Simmons (2-3) won it, pitching his first complete game on the eighth try.

The Giants scored a pair of unearned runs in the 13th of reliever Don Elston (5-4) for their sixth in a row over the Cubs. Harvey Kuenn, driver in a run for a 1-1 tie in the eighth inning, then singled home the lead run. The clincher scored on an error by outfielder Billy Williams. Sam Jones (4-3) was the winner in his first relief job of the season.

Jets Down CIO In Mound Duel

Larry Demerick outpitched Jimmy Ray in a battle of three-hitters Friday as the Jets hit the Yankees 3-1 victory over CIO Local 94 in a Class A City League baseball game at Winster Field. The contest was halted after six full innings because of darkness.

Ray struck out 11 batters, but six babs on balls hurt his cause. Demerick fanned nine and walked only two.

A double by Gene Cox delivered the Jets' 1st run in the 1st inning, then Lou Sey singled in the 3rd stanza to drive home the 2nd and 3rd. It was the 1st of two hits for Sey in the game.

A triple by Felix Brooks and a fielder's choice accounted for CIO's lone run in the bottom of the 3rd.

Tiger Pitcher Asked to Stop Losing Streak

3 Unearned Runs Fatal in Detroit's 5-4 Loss at Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Detroit Tiger manager Bob Scheffing will call on Phil Regan (4-0) to go to the mound tonight in an effort to break a two-game losing streak.

The Tigers dropped their second squeaker in as many days last night, 5-4, to the persistent Los Angeles Angels and the win enabled the Angels to slip half a game out of the cellar in the American League.

The Tigers still have a solid three-game grip on the league lead. The second-place Cleveland Indians, scheduled to meet Kansas City last night, were frozen out.

LARRY'S SECOND LOSS
Earl Averill's long double off the left field fence in the eighth inning drove in Ken Hunt with the winning run for Los Angeles last night.

Frank Lary took the loss, his second against seven wins this season, while relief ace Ryno Duren got his first win as an Angel with a 2-1 inning relief after Norm Kline tried.

Duren, who came to the Angels in a trade with the New York Yankees early this season, set down the Tigers without a hit, striking out three and walking two. The Tiger bats were booming, but the fielding left something to be desired.

THREE UNEARNED RUNS
Norm Cash singled in runs in the first and third for the Tigers and Rocky Colavito slammed his 12th homer of the year with a mate on in the seventh.

The Angels, however, picked up three unearned runs in the sixth. Tiger third baseman Steve Boros booted Hank's ground ball to first for the error. The runs, two of which scored as Gene Loe's single and the third on Rocky Bridges' single.

Averill, who had walked three times, chilled Tiger hopes with his final blast which broke a 4-1 tie. The Angels picked up a single run in the first on Loe's triple and Ted Kluszewski's single.

LOS ANGELES
Detroit 10, Los Angeles 5, St. Louis 10, Baltimore 10, New York 10, Washington 10, Boston 10, Chicago 10.

Ohio Merchant Faces Indictment Over Ratterman

Bradley Dismisses Cagers

Some of the demonstrating students carried signs reading: "If the team goes, we'll go back our team."

This apparently referred to the fear of a general de-emphasis of basketball, but there was no official indication that such would be the case.

However, everything pertaining to the sport, even announcement of the season's schedule, is being held in abeyance pending the arrival July 1 of Bradley's new president, Dr. Talman W. Zan.

Bradley, of Wooster, Mass., was named as the new basketball team when the first national point-finding scandal broke in 1950-51. He was a member of Brad's 1954 team, which was runner-up in the NCAA tournament.

Reflections

MEMORIAL DAY

Soldiers gave their lives for an undivided Republic; civilians too have given their lives. Fortitude and leadership to weld this beautiful country of ours into a strong, united nation. Every adult contributed something, great or small to the glory of his family, friends or countrymen.

They're sleeping now beneath the markers but their deeds glow in the sunstone of our memory. We remember, pride flows in our heart as we see him riding home from a long hard day, face suffused with joy as he waves a greeting. We see her with her children, waving patiently for cars of the day, face wreathed in smiles, happy and loyal to have her family reunited in a unit. We see her actively engaged in civic affairs, shouldering their share of the load as they march to victory.

Let your heart soar to lofty heights of pride as you lay a tribute on their resting place. That wreath is a symbol of abiding love, a tribute to their honor, their patriotism, their loyalty to an ideal.

Surprised by Holdup Man

THE VICTIMS — Assistant manager of the Pontiac State Bank branch in the Drayton Plains Shopping Center, Stuart Galbraith (left) was preparing to hand over $5,847 to Ori Manlove (right), assistant manager of a nearby supermarket, yesterday afternoon when a lone gunman intercepted the money and fled. The FBI is holding Harold L. Mock, 39, of 741 Owego St., as the robber.

FBI Holding Drayton Bank Robber

By DICK HANSON
An unsuccessful bank robber who held up the Pontiac State Bank branch in Drayton Plains with a sawed-off shotgun and fled with over $5,800 was being held by the FBI in Detroit today pending arraignment in Federal Court.

Harold L. Mock, 39, of 741 Owego St., has admitted standing yesterday's holdup single-handed. He was captured by Pontiac police within 15 minutes of the robbery after a massive manhunt was launched by state police, the sheriff's department and the city police.

Mock, who was paroled in November after serving 7 years in federal prison for a $42,000 stick-up of the Pontiac State Bank branch at Auburn Heights in 1953, collapsed yesterday while being questioned by FBI agents at the Pontiac Police Department.

He was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for "sheer exhaustion," and removed to Receiving Hospital in Detroit where he is being held under police guard today.

Looking haggard and weak during the course of questioning, Mock told officers he hadn't eaten "for three or four days" just before keeling over in a dead faint.

The bank robber carried a sawed-off, 12-gauge shotgun concealed under his topcoat when he walked unobtrusively into the bank in the Drayton Plains Shopping Center on Dixie Highway at approximately 1 p.m.

IGNORED BY CUSTOMERS
None of the handful of customers and 12 bank employees paid any attention to the angular figure wearing a cap pulled low over dark glasses. He went to a counter across the room from the tellers' windows and began writing something on a deposit slip.

Then he ambled across the floor toward the counter in front of the assistant manager's desk. There he attracted the attention of the assistant manager, Stuart Galbraith, momentarily.

Galbraith, barely glancing up, asked the robber to wait. He was busy transacting business with Ori Manlove, assistant manager of the nearby A&P super-market. Manlove was there to pick up $5,847 for weekend business at the store.

The robber sat down in a chair next to the counter to wait. He was in full view of floor-length display windows directly behind him. Minutes later, when the money intended for Manlove was brought to Galbraith in satchels, the robber

Morning northwesterly winds at 10 to 20 miles per hour will diminish tonight.

Rainfall will total less than three-tenths of an inch Sunday and again Wednesday.

Thirteenvow was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury registered 56 at 1 p.m.

Freedom Riders Decide to Stay in Southern Jail

6 Others Arrested in Alabama Start Hunger Strike Over Sit-In

By the Associated Press
The first 27 "freedom riders" convicted during the current drive to desegregate Deep South bus facilities remained voluntarily in a Mississippi jail today while 6 others threatened a jail hunger strike in Alabama.

The legal action in Jackson, Miss., apparently had little effect on the determination of Negro leaders, however. Statements issued in a number of cities indicated a stepped up campaign was being planned with more riders expected to head South shortly.

The 27 convicted of breach of the peace in Jackson, elected to remain in jail; at least for the present, rather than post bond or pay fines.

City Judge James Spencer told the riders their conduct "flagrantly disobeyed the law" shortly before he imposed $500 fines and 60-day jail terms Friday. But he suspended the jail terms at the request of the prosecution.

Defence attorney Wiley Branton of Little Rock, Ark., contended officers herded the 27 into a waiting room for white persons when they arrived from Montgomery, Ala., Wednesday in what he described as a "plot to arrest them."

At Montgomery, 6 of 11 riders arrested on charges of breach of the peace when they attempted to get integrated service at a bus station lunch counter were still in jail.

The chaplain at Yale University and four others from Eastern colleges were released under $1,000 bond each and flew to New York, explaining final exams begin next week.

Before leaving they held a news conference at the home of the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, a Negro integration leader who is among the six in jail. The home was heavily guarded by National Guardsmen.

PLAN ON FAST
George B. Smith, a Negro law student at Yale, said Abernathy had been denied permission to telephone his wife since his arrest Thursday.

"Those who remain in jail, beginning with the evening meal, have started a fast which will continue until he is allowed to call his wife," Smith said.

Wiethorn (second from left) Pontiac plant manager of Fisher Body Division, presents a $55,000 check to the Pontiac YMCA's $650,000 expansion program campaign. Accepting the gift is Robert M. ing on are Robert E. W. Emerick (left), public relations director of Pontiac-Motor Division, and Earl A. Maxwell, personnel director at GMC Truck and Coach Division. Wiethorn headed the GM Management Division in the campaign. GM earlier presented a corporate gift of $250,000 to the "Y's" fund raising drive.

Diggers Rescue Swainson Forbids Man From Well State Agency Bias

Father of 2 Trapped 30 Feet Down for 16 Hours in Virginia

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP) — Ralph W. Burgess, a faint smile flickering on his mud-streaked face, clutched desperately at his rescuers and was plucked safely this morning from the 30-foot well that had held him prisoner for 16 hours.

For Burgess, a 19-year-old school and church furniture installer, freedom came at the end of a night-long effort by professional well-diggers to sink a new shaft and break through the walls of his prison without touching off a death-dealing cave-in.

A few minutes after 6 a.m. his rescuers made the break in the shaft and, working swiftly, dug out by hand enough sliding mud and gravel to enable Burgess to free his feet.

Then a rope was dropped and the father of two small children was hauled to the surface. Doctors reported he seemed in good shape.

The ordeal began as Burgess was helping his father climb from the bottom of the three-foot-side well.

For several trips he was lowered and lifted from the well astride a five-gallon bucket, hauling up mud on each trip.

County, State Traffic Toll Off to Fast Start

Head-On Collision in Waterford, Accident in Groveland Claim Pair

By MAX E. SIMON

The Memorial Day holiday death count on state and Oakland County roads rocketed off at a shocking pace in the early hours of the weekend.

Two crashes in the county each claimed one victim.

Traffic accidents in Michigan mounted to six.

The Associated Press count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ends at midnight Tuesday.

A Pontiac man was killed early today in a head-on crash at Scott Lake and Elizabeth Lake Roads in Waterford Township. He was Willard L. Henry, 32, of 173 Cadillac St.

The other county accident in Groveland Township last night claimed the life of Robert E. Morris, 41, of 3460 Broadway Blvd., Bloomfield Township.

Henry's car collided with one driven by John Fitzpatrick, 35, 382 Sunderland St., Waterford Township. Fitzpatrick told Waterford Police he was traveling west on Elizabeth Lake road when Henry's car, approaching from the opposite direction, pulled over into his lane.

Fitzpatrick suffered only minor injuries and was treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital.

A passenger in his car, Paul Beveridge, 34, of Ferndale, was reported in fair condition in the hospital. He suffered two lacerations and a fractured leg.

Henry is survived by his wife Elizabeth; children Richard L. and Penny Sue; two brothers, Earl and Earnest Henry; and a sister Janet Henry.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Sharpe-Coyette Funeral Home, Clarkston.

The body may be viewed after 2 p.m. Sunday.

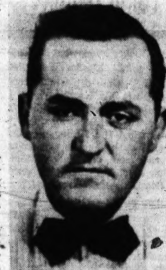

Morris' car smashed into the rear of a tractor-trailer truck which had stopped to make a left turn on Dixie Highway north of Wildwood Road.

Morris suffered a fractured neck, skull fracture and crushed chest. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

The truck driver, Eugene Mitchell, 41, of 8165 Bywater St., Commerce Township was not injured.

In addition, Bernard J. Serafini, 46, of 6301 Ono Road, Armaida, died at St. Clements General Hospital at 2:35 a.m. today of injuries suffered in an accident shortly after 10 p.m. Friday in Roseville.

7,000 Hopetuls Tackle Exams for Peace Corps

WASHINGTON (AP)—The "stiffness, please" signs went up today in 530 test centers across the nation as some 7,000 candidates buckled down to the first written examination for the Peace Corps.

From these will be picked the initial trainees for the dramatic U.S. program to lend underdeveloped nations the human talents and skills of this country.

Candidates began filling into the centers, post offices, courthouses and other federal buildings at 8:30 a.m. local time. With a break for lunch, they were due to finish about 3 p.m.

Regular civil service examiners are conducting the tests under the usual stiff ground rules.

The test was prepared under contract by two nonprofit agencies specializing in such work. It is designed to give an idea of the candidates' background and aptitude in English, mechanical skills, health sciences, U. S. history and institutions, and farming.

Two sections of the examination also deal with biographical data and leadership experience.

Woman Misses Party by Having Fourth Child in Row on May 27

By DICK SAUNDERS
Cynthia Hudson, 22, is always having a baby on May 27.

But then, Cindy isn't the only one with this problem. There's Danny, who is 2 today, and Teddy, who is celebrating birthday No. 1, and Franklin.

"Franky" isn't celebrating, exactly. He's only a few hours old. The Hudsons have five children, all a year apart in age, and the last four have been born on May 27.

The oldest, Richard, 4, was born on May 8, but since then Mrs. Hudson has been as regular as clockwork.

BORN AT 6:30 A.M.
With the triple birthday only hours away, her harried husband, a 23-year-old tool designer at National Twist Drill Co., hurried her to Almont Community Hospital early today.

"Franky" was born at 6:30 a.m. He tipped the scales at 7 pounds 3 ounces — heaviest yet for the Hudsons. All the little Hudsons have been born at the same hospital and delivered by Dr. William Martin of Romeo.

The proud parents say they have no definite plans, as yet, for next year.

Swainson Vetoes 2 Bills, Signs 45 Other Measures

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson, wielding a busy pen, has vetoed two more bills, signed 45 others and allowed one to become law without his signature.

Swainson kept his office staff working late Friday night processing the legislation. Among those approved were appropriations measures providing some $100 million for roads, bridges, school corrections, conservation, recreation and agriculture.

One veto was slapped on a bill which proposed to prohibit early compensation to election assistants. Swainson said the bill would be a restraining influence on the courts to increase registration; adding: "The net effect of this measure would be to prevent any state organization interested in promoting greater citizen participation in elections from providing early compensation to election assistants as an incentive to register qualified voters."

Swainson's other veto applied to a bill which proposed maximum dog limits and maximum horsepower limits for watercraft designed for use with outboard motors.

The governor said the bill would require a private manufacturer to establish standards to be applied on the watercraft at the time of manufacture.

"The result of such a requirement," he said, "would be to allow private persons or corporations to usurp the legislative function."

One of the measures signed by the governor authorized general fund supplementation of the school aid fund and contained the 1960-61 supplemental appropriations for all other funds.

Watson's Wife Will Take Stand

Says She's Confident Husband Is Innocent in Lassiter Slaying

From Our News Wires

DETROIT—Both Gordon Watson and his wife Nell, his constant support in his murder trial, will take the witness stand in his defense.

Watson, 45, accused in the 1959 slaying of Nell Lassiter's auto dealer husband, was expected to take the stand today.

Upon coming here from the family home in the Los Angeles area, Mrs. Watson expressed confidence in her husband's innocence.

Watson and blonde Mrs. Lassiter, 38, of 1800 Beverly Road, Beverly Hills, were at one time codefendants on murder and murder conspiracy charges. The state accused the two admitted ex-lovers of plotting the death of Marvin (Bill) Lassiter out of "greed and lust."

The prosecution heard the end of its case Friday with testimony from the last of its 31 witnesses.

Capt. Howard Whaley and detective Charles Lee of the Michigan State Police told of their investigation of the slaying.

Court officials again delayed the transfer of Mrs. Lassiter to a state mental hospital.

She had been scheduled to be moved from a Detroit hospital to the mental hospital at Ionia today, but her doctor recommended that the transfer be delayed until Monday.

The widow was ordered committed last week after a mistrial in her part of the case. A sanity commission had held she was unable to assist in her own defense.

car smashed into the rear of another car which had slowed to make a turn.

The rising death toll in the state brought fears that the count would surpass Memorial Day weekend of 1960 when 21 persons died on Michigan highways at the rate of one every three hours and 43 minutes.

Fifty-one persons were reported dead this morning throughout the nation in holiday traffic crashes.
