Hoffa Plans to File Appeal of Conviction

Teamster's Lawyers to Petition for New Trial Within 5 Days

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, planned today to appeal his conviction on charges he tried to rig a federal court jury.

Hoffa stared in disbelief when he heard the verdict yesterday — his first conviction in four trials.

Still another federal trial awaits him next month in Chicago.

"We will appeal," Hoffa told newsmen.

★ ★ ★

His lawyers said motions for a new trial would be filed with U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson within five days.

NO DATE SET

The judge has set no date for passing sentence.

The conviction could mean 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine for Hoffa, head of the Teamsters Union.

The verdict brought congratulations to the prosecutors from Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy—long accused by Hoffa of waging a vendetta against him.

Hoffa's bond was raised from $10,000 to $75,000 by Wilson.

JURY FINDINGS

The jury found that:

1. Hoffa, Larry Campbell of Detroit and Thomas E. Parks of Nashville sought to offer $10,000 to the son of a juror in the Nashville trial.

2. Hoffa and Ewing King, former Nashville Teamsters president, tried to influence another juror by offering to help her husband get a promotion on the Tennessee Highway Patrol.

Hoffa's son and daughter heard their father found guilty.

Barbara Crancer of St. Louis, Hoffa's daughter, held her hands in front of her face, her eyes closed, as though in prayer. Her brother, James P. Hoffa, a University of Michigan law student, stared at the floor.

Hoffa's wife, Josephine received the news in a Detroit hospital where she is being treated for a heart condition.

"She took the news calmly," said Dr. George Mogill, her physician.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon said today he will leave his name on the Oregon presidential primary ballot. The ex-vice president said he would have to sign an affidavit that he would not accept the presidential nomination if nominated in order not to be listed on the ballot. Nixon said he couldn't do this, because, if nominated, he would accept.

Area Leaders Discuss Proposal

Interest Keen in Job Training

By L. GARY THORNE

Keen interest — often enthusiastic — was reflected by Pontiac area businessmen, educators, labor officials and civic leaders at a proposal by school officials to set up job training for youth and adults.

Two immediate effects of the job-training program were forecast by a labor official and local hospital officials.

"I'm very much interested in vocational programs," said Fred V. Haggard, president of the AFL-CIO Oakland County Council.

"It will take some of our people off the streets," he added.

EMPLOYMENT KEY

Haggard said that job training is the key to full employment. He thought something was needed to accomplish this.

Harry Whitlow, administrator of Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, saw a "definite advantage" to the proposed program.

"We have 70 beds closed right now because of a shortage of registered nurses."

★ ★ ★

The personnel director of GMC Truck & Coach Division, Earl A. Maxwell, said he had jobs that "go begging" even though there still is a substantial amount of unemployment because of the lack of trained workers.

Emphasizing that any job training should be in the direction of the skills that are needed, Maxwell added that there was no question of the need for such programs.

Elmer Babb, regional director for the U. S. Department of Labor, commented that the Car Sales Stay at Brisk Pace

Pontiac Motor Sets Fifth Monthly Record

Auto sales continued at a brisk pace as Pontiac Motor Division reported new car deliveries last month at an all-time high for any February.

Pontiac sold 51,695 units during February, breaking the previous record of 45,058 set a year ago, said E. M. Estes, division general manager.

Tempest's share of the month's sales reached 17,222, a 72 per cent increase from the same period last year.

February marked the fifth consecutive monthly record for the division since 1964 models were introduced.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Division's report was reflected in virtually every segment of the U.S. auto industry.

OTHERS UP

Ford, Chrysler and General Motors all reported substantial sales increases compared with the second month of 1963. Only American Motors showed a decline.

Chevrolet Division sold 179,320 units last month, almost a five per cent increase, to lead General Motors to overall sales of 324,977. A year ago sales stood at 297,343.

Ford sold 154,343 cars during February to top the 1963 mark of 122,779. Chrysler announced monthly deliveries of 75,663, above the 60,606 for the comparable 1963 period.

American Motors started slowly, and while final 10 day sales pushed the monthly mark to 30,050, it was below last February's 36,083.

Increase Seen in N. Viet Aid to Red Cong

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today that "there has been evidence that in the last six months North Vietnamese support of the Communist Viet Cong has increased" in South Viet Nam.

At a news conference held a dozen hours before he planned to take off on a fact-finding trip to Viet Nam, McNamara said larger-bore weapons than those seen previously in the hands of the Communist guerrillas have been introduced.

He said they were "obviously of Chinese manufacture."

★ ★ ★

McNamara, who said the situation in Viet Nam is grave, added that the "volume of support, character of support, and trend of support" provided by North Viet Nam to the Viet Cong would be studied by himself and his top-rank mission.

Surgery Tomorrow for Gen. MacArthur

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur has "obstructive jaundice of unknown origin" and exploratory abdominal surgery will be performed tomorrow morning to try to determine the cause, Walter Reed Army Hospital announced today.

★ ★ ★

"Diagnostic tests on Gen. MacArthur have been completed. It has been determined that he has an obstructive jaundice of unknown origin," the statement said.

★ ★ ★

While the hospital statement did not amplify, ailments which can cause obstructive jaundice include cancer of the common bile duct, the gall bladder or the head of the pancreas—or a gallstone that gets jammed in the common bile duct.

Wide Damage Caused in Area by Gale Winds

Utilities Interrupted, Roads Blocked During Cold Wave Prelude

The lion finally roared as March winds belatedly slammed into the Pontiac area last night, smashing windows and snapping trees and utility wires.

After four days of lamb-like weather, gale-force winds of 60 miles per hour whistled through Southeastern Michigan, hitting Oakland County and the Detroit area hardest.

A score of store windows were reported broken in Pontiac and Waterford Township after the wind hit its peak shortly before 4 a.m.

A number of roads throughout the county were blocked for a time after wires and trees fell across them.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. said several additional repair crews were called in to handle the "heavy damage" it experienced on a countywide basis.

SERVICE STALLS

Detroit Edison Co. said portions of Union Lake, southwestern West Bloomfield Township and Keego Harbor had service interruptions this morning, but all repairs were completed before 10 a.m.

Consumers Power Co. reported it was fortunate since it had only one service interruption because of the storm.

The winds were forerunner of a cold wave.

The temperature rose from 46 at midnight to 53 at 3 a.m. By 8:30 a.m., the mercury had dropped to 34 degrees. The reading was 28 at 2 p.m.

Clear, Cold Tonight

Clearing and colder with diminishing winds and a low of 18 to 24 is tonight's forecast. Partly cloudy and cold, the high in the low 30's, is the prediction for tomorrow and Saturday.

Violent Storms Kill 11 in 6 Southern States

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Tornadoes and other violent weather killed 11 persons and injured about 40 in six Southern states.

The Weather Bureau said at least a dozen tornadoes had been spawned as warm air from the Gulf of Mexico clashed with a cold front yesterday.

Torrential rains accompanied many thunderstorms, and the 24-hour rainfall in Western Kentucky exceeded five inches.

Lightning struck a house at Forrest City, Ark., and started a fire in which seven died.

Another Arkansas fatality was attributed to a tornado.

Two were killed in Western Kentucky, and another perished in Tennessee.

MORE DAMAGE

Damage from tornadoes was reported in Louisiana, Mississippi and Missouri, and wind damage to a lesser degree was reported in Northwest Georgia.

A woman was killed when a tornado roared onto the Beech Creek community near Magnolia, Ark. Six others were injured.

Another tornado lashed Western Kentucky, killing 2 and injuring about 20.

The twister hit near Hardin, near Kentucky Lake, dipped into the tiny community of Fairdealing, then struck Kirksey.

BUSINESSES HIT

Some businesses were damaged, but most of the destruction was confined to homes in the area.

The Tennessee Valley Authority power plant at Pickwick Dam was knocked out as a tornado whipped through Tennessee.

The tornado at Pickwick demolished the main switchyard of the powerhouse and knocked over main river crossing transmission lines.

Mrs. Maydell Summers, about 45, was killed at her Springfield, Tenn., farm when a storm cellar caved in at her house.

Flood waters forced more than 100 persons from their houses in Mississippi. Ten-foot waves pounded the Louisiana coast, and winds jammed a cargo ship into a wharf at New Orleans, knocking down about 15 fender pilings.

Three Votes Won't Count

Absentee Ballots for District 7 Come Late

There are three votes that will never be counted in Monday's city primary election.

All three were cast in District 7, where a candidate fell one vote short of the charmed circle.

The votes are enclosed in three envelopes which lie inconspicuously on a table in the office of City Clerk Olga Barkeley.

Mrs. Barkeley will never open the envelopes.

They are absent voter ballots which were delivered to her office Tuesday—one day late.

MAILED SUNDAY

However, all three bear postmarks prior to election day. Two were mailed in Pontiac and postmarked between noon and midnight Sunday.

One came via air mail through an outstate Air Force Post Office. It was postmarked Feb. 26 at the point of origination.

The state election law clearly specifies that absent voter ballots are not valid, and do not count, unless they are delivered to election officials at precinct polling places by the time polls close on an election day.

When the polls close, absent voter ballots are added to votes computed by voting machines during the day and the resulting totals are then reported to the city clerk.

NOT UNUSUAL

"We always have some absentee ballots come in late for every election," Mrs. Barkeley said yesterday. "It's not an unusual occurrence.

"The unusual thing about

Other Nations Urged to Join Control Move

Russ Geneva Envoy Avoids Comment on Nuclear Safeguard

GENEVA (AP) — The United States announced today that it will place one of its largest nuclear power reactors under international inspection in the hope that other countries — and particularly the Soviet Union—will follow suit.

U.S. delegate Adrian S. Fisher told the 17-nation disarmament conference the huge reactor plant at Rowe, Mass., is to be placed under inspection of the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA).

Fisher said the United States hopes this step will encourage the Soviet Union and other countries to join in a worldwide system to prevent the misuse of civil reactors for clandestine production of nuclear weapons.

Fisher stressed that the IAEA will be invited to undertake the permanent inspection of the Rowe reactor "whether or not other states reciprocate." But if they do reciprocate, he added, it would be "one of the most significant developments of this conference."

Fisher said three smaller American reactors, two at the Brookhaven, N.Y., research laboratory and one at Piqua, Ohio, are already under IAEA inspection to help the agency develop its procedure for safeguarding the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

LARGEST REACTOR

The privately owned reactor at Rowe is by far the largest to come under IAEA surveillance. It is rated at a power level of 600,000 thermal kilowatts and produced over one billion kilowatt hours of electricity in 1963.

"The United States does not believe that opening these reactors to international inspection is a derogation of its national sovereignty," Fisher said.

Citing President Johnson's proposal Jan. 21 for agreements to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons, Fisher said all countries should agree to let the IAEA supervise production, transfer and use of all fissionable materials intended for peaceful purposes.

Fisher said all the world had an interest in preventing an increase in the number of countries producing nuclear weapons while encouraging an increase in countries with peaceful nuclear programs.

Soviet delegate Semyon Tsarapkin ignored Fisher's statement in his own 40-minute speech to the conference. Outside the conference room, he shrugged off the American suggestions but avoided any direct comment to newsmen.

King of Greece Is Near Death, Gets Communion

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—King Paul of Greece was given Holy Communion today as he hovered between life and death.

Athens radio announced that a palace priest gave communion to the 62-year-old king, the world's only reigning Orthodox monarch, after a Mass in the chapel at Tatoi Palace.

The radio said: "The king is fighting with death, and his wife, Queen Frederika, is at his bedside as he suffers his mortal agony."

'Ruby Wanted to Shoot More'

Killing of Oswald Is Described by Officer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A police officer today quoted Jack Ruby as saying within minutes after shooting Lee Harvey Oswald that "I intended to shoot him three times."

* * *

D. R. Archer testified at the 52-year-old Ruby's trial that the defendant came at Oswald—gun in hand—in the basement of Dallas police headquarters last Nov. 24.

Ruby was muttering unintelligible phrases but did curse accused presidential assassin, Archer added.

INSIDE CELL

Archer, questioned by Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade, said that three to five minutes later, when he was inside the jail Ruby, he told the defendant, "I think you killed him."

"He said," Archer added, " 'I intended to shoot him three times.' "

* * *

Ruby, on trial for his life, is pleading temporary insanity. The defense claims Ruby was in a mental blackout when he shot Oswald and didn't know what he was doing.

Police Officer L. C. Graves, walking alongside Oswald when Ruby shot him, said he did not hear Ruby say he hoped Oswald died.

RUBY STATEMENT

The other officer alongside Oswald, J. R. Leavelle, testified Wednesday that Ruby said he hoped Oswald would die.

Graves also said he did not hear Leavelle make any remarks to Oswald when the two were bringing him to the City Hall basement for transfer to the county jail.

* * *

"Did you hear him say, 'If someone shoots you, I hope they shoot as straight as you do,' " Belli asked.

Graves denied this too.

Belli led Graves to the point concerning which finger Ruby used in pulling the trigger. Taking the pistol, the attorney put his second finger on the trigger and asked if he had ever known anyone to fire a gun in that manner.

Graves said that it would be unusual for him to fire a gun that way but that he couldn't speak for others.

Ruby's lawyers contend he triggered the gun with his second finger. They argue he was in a state of mental shock and did not realize that he was using the second finger.

Graves testified he wrenched the pistol from Ruby's hands after Ruby shot Oswald. He corroborated Leavelle's testimony that Ruby's hand was contracting, apparently trying to fire more shots after the one that killed Oswald.

Won't Be Counted

this election was that one candidate was nominated by a one-vote margin."

In District 7, Mayor Robert A. Landry easily polled the highest number of votes.

* * *

The second highest was Curtis L. Webb, who got 238 votes, thus qualifying as Landry's opponent on the April 20 final election ballot.

RECOUNT ASKED

In third place, and out of the running, was Emmett S. Wellbaum, with 237 votes. Wellbaum has already asked for a recount.

Mrs. Barkeley said that 103 absentee ballots had been issued by her office prior to the Feb. 29 deadline for getting such ballots.

"The only ones that came in late were these three in District 7," she added. "In such matters I have no recourse but to follow the laws of the state."

* * *

Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson said, "Anything is possible, but it is very unlikely that mail deposited in Pontiac on Sunday would not reach City Hall until Tuesday.

DIRECT DELIVERY

"City Hall mail is delivered directly from the post office; not by a letter carrier like residential mail," he explained.

When mail is delivered at City Hall, it goes to the mail room. From there, it is delivered to departments throughout the building by Mrs. Joyce Nijhof, mail room clerk.

The envelopes are clearly marked "Absent Voter Ballot" in heavy black type.

"Every piece of mail that came in Monday was delivered to city departments by 5 p.m.," said Mrs. Nijhof.

NO MAIL

"There wasn't any mail in the mailroom at closing time Monday," she added.

Mrs. Barkeley said she made a final check at the post office Monday night as required by law.

"I called the post office at 7 and asked if they had any City Hall mail marked as absent voter ballots and they told me they didn't," she noted.

* * *

Whether or not the ballots would have made any difference in the District 7 outcome is pure speculation. All three votes could have been for nominees other than Webb or Wellbaum.

In any case, no one will ever know. The envelopes will never be opened.

The voters' names and addresses are on the envelopes, and that's all that's required for Mrs. Barkeley to complete her job.

As prescribed by state law, the registration records of each voter will show he, or she, voted in Pontiac on March 2, 1964.

But those votes will never count.

Interest Keen in Job Plan

Pontiac school training proposal included some unique features.

"This back-to-back training idea, combining on-the-job instruction with institution training, would give individuals participating practical experience," he said.

Babb added that this feature would also tie in the community and business with the program.

"Any attempt in this area is welcomed," commented Merrill F. Walls, employment manager of the Pontiac office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC).

Walls, who has worked closely with school officials in planning the job-training program, said it was not yet clear where the funds to finance the project might come from, but added "no one has said no yet."

The MESC manager pointed out that the training program would have to be limited until the proper facility could be found.

Existing facilities are quite limited, he said. In fact, space had to be rented for a recent nurses program.

OTHER PROBLEMS

Pontiac School Board President William H. Anderson said that not all problems had been worked out. He said answers were needed on what kind of training should be offered and what jobs are there.

"We're on the right track, though," Anderson added, "but we still have a little way to go yet."

Louis Schimmel, director of the Michigan Municipal Advisory Council and local resident, said the proposed job-training program was something the community needs.

"There is a very pressing need for a practical approach to this problem," he explained.

Oakland University Chancellor D. B. Varner viewed the Pontiac project as "an extremely valuable approach."

Varner supported his view with statistics showing that 10 million workers need to be added to the total U.S. work force in the next decade.

"However, at the same time," he said, "we'll need 2.2 million fewer unskilled workers."

ALL COMMUNITIES

Waterford Township School Supt. Don O. Tatroe said that the job of vocational training for young people and retraining of adults is a problem all communities have to face up to.

The chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, Delos Hamlin, summed up the reaction to the Pontiac school proposal:

"It sounds like a good first step—we have unemployables, not unemployment."

High Court Defers Action on State Apportionment

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court, by a 5-3 decision, today deferred action on legislative reapportionment on grounds the U. S. Supreme Court must first establish a definition of "equality" under the Federal Constitution.

The controlling opinion was signed by Chief Justice Thomas

Earlier Story, Page C-9

Kavanagh and four other Democrats on the court.

Two Republicans, John Dethmers and Harry Kelly, signed a dissent in which they said an apportionment plan written by Republican members of the Legislative Apportionment Commission should be approved.

Justice Michael O'Hara, also a Republican, concurred with Dethmers and Kelly.

House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, said the State Supreme Court's action makes it imperative the legislature start the job itself.

He was one of several lawmakers who took the court's postponement until April 15 as a green light for a plan already afoot to freeze the House districts for two years and let the Senate set its own districts.

MOVE BACK VOTE

Sec. of State James Hare said the postponement "reiterates the absolute need of moving back the total election calendar to its furthest extent of five weeks.

"If no legislative apportionment is received before mid-April, it is entirely impossible to have the election machinery in action in time for the existing election deadlines," Hare said.

* * *

Green said if the court is to follow the constitutionally outlined procedure of printing its chosen plan and allowing appeals from this "it would be almost impossbile to hold orderly elections on the election schedule."

In a Hurry? It's Not Fare

MOSCOW (AP)—Calling a taxi by telephone in Moscow isn't all that simple. A woman dispatcher refused to accept an order for a cab more than 15 minutes in advance.

"Does that mean I can get one in 15 minutes?" a caller asked.

"No, only in an hour," was the reply.

Indian to Lead Cyprus Team

Latin Will Serve as Mediator in Dispute

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant was reported ready today to name a 52-year-old Indian general to command the U.N. peace force in Cyprus.

A Latin American U.N. aide is expected to be chosen mediator.

This word came from diplomatic sources as Thant con-

These sources said Lt. Gen. Prem Singh Gyani was the choice of the secretary-general to head the Cyprus force. Jose Rolz-Bennett of Guatemala, Thant's deputy chief of cabinet, appeared slated for the job of mediator.

LATER ANNOUNCEMENT

An announcement was expected later in the day.

U.N. officials, meanwhile, were waiting replies from the five nations formally requested to furnish troop contingents. The nations are Canada, Sweden, Ireland, Brazil and Finland.

In a rare display of unanimity, the Security Council authorized the U.N. peacekeeping operation Wednesday, empowering Thant to name the force commander and the mediator in consultation with Cyprus, Turkey, Greece and Britain.

School Board Seeks Advice

BIRMINGHAM — The board of education again is seeking the help of citizens in determining what kind of financial request should be made of district property owners.

The board has invited 30 persons to serve on a citizens advisory committee which will start meeting in the immediate future. Thus far 25 of those asked have accepted the invitation.

In a letter to prospective members, School Board President E. Ross Hanson asked for their assistance in considering building and operating requirements of the district.

* * *

Hanson commented on a similar committee established in 1961, noting that representative groups of citizens had helped the board in arriving at "realistic and thoughtful" solutions to school problems.

Those who have accepted invitations to work on the committee include 11 Birmingham residents. Among them are Mrs. John H. Bryant, 423 Berwyn and E. Gerry Dudley, 1564 Stanley.

Others are Mrs. George L. Mosher Jr., 551 Mohegan; Rev. T. H. Michael, 1235 Chesterfield; Robert W. Page, 2468 Manchester; Eliot Robinson, 572 Linden; and George Schmidt, 1432 Maryland.

Also from Birmingham are Mrs. Sidney W. Smith, 210 Abbey; Rev. Samuel F. Stout, 1720 Bradford; Norman B. Weston, 944 Kennesaw; and Harris O. Machus, 1178 N. Glenhurst.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS

Bloomfield Hills residents to serve are Dr. Vince Greeson, 1671 Keller and Rev. Robert F. Marshall, 651 N. Woodward.

The Bloomfield Township representation will consist of Robert L. Kilpatrick, 183 Hupp Cross; Dr. Philip J. Laux Jr., 250 N. Clifton; Horace E. Sheldon, 3560 Wooddale; and John C. Siegesmund, Jr., 315 Hupp Cross.

From Troy are William J. Dalton, 3509 Tothill and George W. Whitehead, 858 Norwich.

Other committee members Dr. D. Lloyd McKinney of Franklin and Mrs. Floyd G. Abatt, James Giblin, Mrs. George N. Hilfinger, William F. King and Richard J. Wilson of Beverly Hills.

The appointment of a Birmingham man to the State Employment Security Commission was confirmed yesterday by the Senate.

* * *

Chester A. Cahn of 600 Westwood was named by Gov. George W. Romney to serve on the commission.

The Birmingham Board of Education has scheduled a special meeting for 8 tonight to consider the results of an administrative investigation of activities of a sorority. Trustees also plan to take any necessary action to curb the sorority, TAE, at Seaholm High School.

GOP Delays Tenure Vote

LANSING (AP)—For the second time Senate Republicans Wednesday delayed voting on whether to make teacher tenure mandatory in all Michigan public schools.

Instead, the GOP caucus named a committee to seek the attorney general's advice on whether lawmakers can change the initiatory petition for tenure.

Sen. William Milliken, R-Traverse City, chairman of the Senate Education Committee, said several legal questions were raised in the closed-door meeting.

Senators asked whether the Michigan Education Association's petition can be amended before or after enactment during this session and whether an alternative to the MEA petition could be put alongside it on a referendum ballot.

* * *

The tenure postponement forced a delay in the rest of the Senate's work — including proposals to lower the voting age, permit 60-foot auto haulaways, and establish marriage counseling services in circuit courts.

Man Killed in Misfire of Cannon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 30-year-old Air Force sergeant was killed instantly yesterday when a 20mm aircraft shell ripped through his office wall and struck him in the head, officials at Lockbourne Air Force Base reported.

Another airman suffered minor injuries in the freak accident which occurred when a cannon from a jet bomber, being examined for a malfunction, went off in a repair shop.

Killed was Staff Sgt. James H. Winton, 30, of Hartsell, Ala.

A committee of officials launched an immediate investigation of the accident. They said the cannon had been removed a short time earlier from an EB47 six-jet bomber which had just returned from a training flight to England.

Tech. Sgt. James R. Van Orman, 35, of Obetz and Akron was hit by fragments from the shell, which was about three inches long and four-fifths of an inch in diameter. His injury was minor.

Billy Rose Reveals Marriage No. Five

NEW YORK (AP)—Showman Billy Rose, who recently made $4 million on the stock market in four months, disclosed Wednesday night he was married Sunday for the fifth time.

* * *

The bride is Doris Warner Vidor, 48, daughter of motion-picture mogul Harry Warner and widow of motion-picture director Charles Vidor.

* * *

The marriage took place at Rose's luxurious estate at Montego Bay, Jamaica, B.W.I.

The new Mrs. Rose has three sons and a daughter. Rose has no children.

Arab Envoys Confer

CAIRO (AP) — Delegations from the 13 Arab nations met Wednesday to discuss a world-wide diplomatic offensive against Israel.

The meeting was seen here as a follow-up to the pan-Arab summit conference in January. That meeting decided envoys should be sent to all countries maintaining diplomatic relations with the Arab countries to urge support for the return of Palestine refugees to their lands in Israel.

Doesn't Care if New Car Brings Stares

NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph Chiariello, a Brooklyn electrician who says he doesn't mind being stared at, drove home Wednesday in a sleek, bronze-colored car which sounded like a vacuum cleaner. Chiariello thus became the 13th motorist to start testing Chrysler's turbine car. The engine has only one sparkplug, runs at a temperature of about 1,800 degrees Fahrenheit, and burns a variety of fuels ranging from kerosene to unleaded gasoline.

Chiariello will drive the car in place of his own two Chevrolets for three months. Then he will return the turbine car and tell Chrysler how he liked it.

Chrysler said a total of 200 average drivers would test the car in a two - year program begun last October. Their 90-day experience behind the wheel will help Chrysler determine whether to market the turbine car.

In 1959 the average income of farm families was $3,228, compared with $4,750 for rural nonfarm and $6,166 for urban families.

Income Tax Cut Goes in Effect Today

By ADREN COOPER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The taxpayer feels the first direct effects of the tax cut today, and administration officials believe his response will demonstrate a new governmental tool for controlling the economy.

★ ★

The reduction in taxes is retroactive to New Year's Day but new lower payroll withholding rates becomes effective for the first time today.

Most workers will note only a slight increase in their paychecks — about $1 to $5 a week. Others will get much more, with the total coming to about $800 million a month.

BUSINESS SPUR

Most economists believe this increased amount available for consumer spending will provide a significant and steadily increasing spur to business over the next 12 months or more.

The new 14 per cent withholding rate, replacing an 18 per cent rate, is applied after deducting about $13 a week for each exemption claimed.

★ ★

The new rate applies to all wage and salary payments made today or later, although the Internal Revenue Service said there will be no penalties for employers who are a day or two early or late.

The new rate applies to the full pay period, regardless of whether the period is weekly, biweekly or monthly.

MAJOR POLICY

Administration officials indicated that the tax reduction will establish tax policy as a major weapon in combatting recession or inflation.

The government has often used such devices as easing or tightening credit to give the economy a boost or a brake, but tax policy generally has been regarded as too cumbersome and slow to be used in this manner since it usually requires congressional approval.

★ ★ ★

However, Undersecretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler recently called the tax program "a turning point in national policy" and pictured tax policy as a valuable economic weapon in times when a recession threatened and simpler tools could not be used.

★ ★ ★

The late President John F. Kennedy at one time asked Congress for legislation authorizing him to raise or lower taxes whenever unemployment rates indicated a need for a change. There was little congressional support for it.

Tax Tips

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The following income tax information is supplied by the Internal Revenue Service as a public service.)

Q. Is there any short cut that you can suggest to determine the amount of gasoline tax that I can claim as a deduction on my income tax return?

A. The deduction for Michigan gasoline tax is 6c per gallon purchased. To easily figure your deduction, determine the amount of miles driven during the year and divide by the average miles per gallon. The answer is gallons used, which, when multiplied by 6c will give the correct deduction. For example: assume that you drove 15,000 miles during 1963 and averaged 15 miles per gallon. You would in this case have used 1,000 gallons. At 6c per gallon your deduction would be $60.00.

For the answer to YOUR question call your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

Junior Editors Quiz on VOICES

QUESTION: What makes a boy's voice change?

ANSWER: We are able to speak because a small section of the windpipe, located in the throat and called the "larynx," has cords inside which are made to vibrate by the air which is passing through—this vibration causing speech or singing.

The larynx is box-shaped and is often spoken of as a "voice box." It resembles, roughly, the sound boxes or bodies of the musical instruments of the violin and violincello family.

The violin has a small body and its short strings produce a higher pitched sound than that made by the 'cello, with its much larger body and longer strings.

★ ★ ★

As Jerry's body made a growth spurt and suddenly became bigger and longer, his larynx shared in the growth and became larger and gave out a deeper sound, more like that of a violincello.

His voice has "broken"—now it's a man's bass voice, which he will have for the rest of his life.

Joe's larynx, on the other hand, hasn't made a growth spurt yet, so his voice is still pitched at the higher level.

FOR YOU TO DO: Look at the neck of a grown up man and you will usually see a bulge toward the front just under the chin. This is often called the "Adam's apple" and marks the location of the larynx.

New Magazine Fraud Hitting Pontiac Area

Periodically, Pontiac is hit by an epidemic of magazine-salesman racketeers. A recent Voice of the People letter gave firsthand description of the modus operandi of these door-to-door vultures. Often the pitch is by telephone.

In either case, the credulity of the average citizen is his undoing. Publications are offered on a "just pay the postage" basis to those selected "for their prestige value," or in connection with some "outstanding business accomplishment," or "to boost circulation figures to desired goals."

The hooker in the current technique is that the "beneficiary" is not asked to sign anything on the first contact — thus allaying any suspicion that might otherwise have been aroused.

But there is, of course, a follow-up, at which the victim is asked to sign a form merely as "evidence of good faith and to authorize delivery of the magazines with postage-only obligation."

Needless to say, the form signed is loaded with fine print which with signature becomes a valid, unbreakable contract, making the signer indebted for a sizable amount of long-term subscriptions. In two recent cases, the amount was $91.

So again, buy nothing from any solicitor with whom you are not acquainted without first contacting the local Chamber of Commerce for reference on the canvassing agent. Any legitimate solicitation will at the outset invariably be cleared with that business and civic organization.

To give the warning an axiomatic twist: "Call before you fall."

Sonic Test 'Boomers' Stirring Up 'Sooners'

Oklahoma City is in the midst of the greatest boom in history. But this boom has nothing to do with $-signs. It is measured in decibels.

Whereas the common run of booms are experienced with enthusiasm and loud cheers by those fortunate enough to be in on them, this one has called forth some booming protest.

★ ★ ★

The Oklahoma City boom is strictly synthetic, and is being force fed by a fleet of supersonic F104 jets as a preview of community reaction and tolerance to the projected 2,000-miles-per-hour commercial planes scheduled to be airborne around 1970.

As the air-minded know, when a plane exceeds the speed of sound (720 miles per hour) it produces a sonic boom, with varying degrees of shock for adjacent animate and inanimate objects.

★ ★ ★

Until now, such phenomena have been related entirely to military planes, with little disruption to the populace.

But with continuous flights of the projected supersonics crisscrossing the Country, the effect on people and structures might be something else again.

The 26-week test program conducted jointly by the Federal Aviation Agency and Air Force began Feb. 3. Eight times daily the speeding jets split the atmosphere above Oklahoma City, a community of 750,000 inhabitants.

Reaction of the citizenry has been mixed, with many claims of sensory injury and a few suits started. Recently, the City Council voted to petition the Government to suspend the tests, but citizens' groups and the Chamber of Commerce immediately initiated counteraction.

The government coordinator of the test program says the initial wave of telephoned protests has dwindled to a trickle, and that scores who have complained about property damage have not bothered to return the forms sent them to effect redress.

He minimizes the stress caused by the sonic booms, saying that it does not exceed that produced by the slamming of a house door. Like, say, when a husband stomps out after an argument with his wife.

Anti-U.S. Riots Just Love Tiffs?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson either overstated the case when he spoke of how much Americans are beloved or the anti-American outbursts by other peoples since Jan. 1 were just lovers' tiffs.

MARLOW

The latest hostility to this country came Tuesday night in Greece. Mobs rioting over the Cyprus civil war burned Johnson in effigy in Athens, and on the island of Rhodes mobs stoned American offices.

Greece, which has been receiving foreign aid from this country, is an American ally in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The United States helped save it from communism after the war.

★ ★ ★

The rioters complained the United States is following a pro-Turkish line in attempts to settle the dispute on Cyprus where the Cypriots, Greeks and the outnumbered Turks have slaughtered one another.

Johnson, talking to a group of government employes here last Feb. 12, said: "Regardless of what you hear, we are a much beloved people throughout the world. We are respected and we appreciate it."

★ ★ ★

He said this after a number of episodes in which Americans had already suffered embarrassment and worse, including death.

PANAMANIANS RIOTED

Last Jan. 9 in Panama, which has also received U. S. foreign aid, plus rental for the canal, Panamanians rioted against Americans in the Canal Zone.

The basic reason was resentment against U. S. control of the canal zone. In the riotings and shootings 20 people were killed, including three Americans.

In Zanzibar, which only got its independence from Britain last Dec. 10 but where the Arab minority controlled the government, black Africans revolted Jan. 12 and set up their own leftist regime.

★ ★ ★

The Russians recognized their new government quickly but the United States delayed. The Africans responded by arresting and expelling two American diplomats until this country gave recognition Feb. 23. Zanzibar is part of the British Commonwealth.

U. S. ACCUSED OF PLOT

Also in February in Africa's Ghana, the United States was accused by President Kwame Nkrumah's government of controlled press and radio of being behind the latest alleged attempt to assassinate him.

A mob, steamed up by the dictatorial Nkrumah's politicians, demonstrated before the U.S. Embassy and ran down the American flag. The government deported four American professors.

The United States recalled its Ambassador, William P. Mahoney Jr., for consultations. He said the anti-American demonstrations were the climax of feelings which had been building up for some time.

★ ★ ★

In South Viet Nam, where the United States for eight years has pumped in billions of aid economic and military, to help its fight against the North Vietnamese Communists, anti-Americanism took a vivid, bloody turn.

CAMPAIGN OF TERROR

The Communists, infiltrating the capital of Saigon and using a deliberate campaign of terror by assassination, have wounded and killed Americans with bombs and bullets.

Conflict Of Interest?

David Lawrence Says:

Russia, China Real Viet Culprits

WASHINGTON — The "Cold War" is getting hotter, but the United States is not facing up to the real enemy.

LAWRENCE

A lot of talk is heard about intensifying America's military action in South Viet Nam but not a word of denunciation is being uttered by the government here about the acts of aggression being committed in Southeast Asia and other parts of the world by the Communist regimes in Peking and Moscow.

The American people are disturbed about the South Viet Nam situation.

Many members of Congress are debating it, and the controversy will doubtless become a campaign issue.

It is being suggested on Capitol Hill that the United States ought to pursue the war to a finish or get out of Southeast Asia.

★ ★ ★

What generally seems to be overlooked in Washington, however, is that the real culprits are the Soviet Union and Red China.

NO WAR

There probably would be no war between North and South Viet Nam today if the Communists were not supplying the arms and munitions and the technical advisers trained in guerrilla warfare.

The fact that the North Vietnamese are supposed to be irregulars and "guerrillas" seems to be accepted as an excuse for avoiding the real issue—the placing of responsibility on the governments which are financing, training and supporting the guerrillas.

Whether it is in Latin America or in Africa or in Southeast Asia or even in Cyprus, the handiwork of the Communists is visible to the naked eye.

★ ★ ★

But the Western governments seem too much inclined to ignore the center of responsibility for these troubles and to prefer to consider them as "local."

BASIC PROBLEM

There is a failure to come to grips with the basic problem — whether the Soviet Union and the Red China regime are going to be permitted to continue their acts of aggression against the free world, their interference with the operations of independent governments, and their threats to the peace of the world.

It is often suggested that the matter be taken before the United Nations.

The sentiment here in Washington is that the United States should make its fight in the court of public opinion throughout the world.

★ ★ ★

The feeling is growing that it is up to the United States to use every resource at its command, including economic power, to draw a line between the free world and the slave world.

Economic pressure can be employed as a powerful alternative to military action.

The big decision that will have to be made by countries like Great Britain and France is whether the pursuit of material gain is more important than the use of an economic boycott to stop the buildup of Communist strength in various parts of the world.

Unless action is taken to fix the blame publicly and to arouse world opinion, the United States will sooner or later find itself forced into a shooting war.

Rockefeller Organization Makes Barry's Look Sick

WASHINGTON — Talk among Washington's political pros is centering on the "marked contrast" between the Rockefeller organization and that of Barry Goldwater, the only other declared candidate among the leading GOP presidential contenders.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

"Rocky has done the best organizational job in recent Republican memory," one savvy politico said flatly.

"He's hiring left and right, and the machinery is so streamlined that if it weren't for the divorce issue, Rocky could probably win the nomination hands-down.

"By contrast the Goldwater organization is appallingly loose.

"The Arizona politicians that Goldwater brought here to run his presidential campaign are darned nice, dedicated people but they know almost nothing about national politics — and that's a fundamental requirement for smooth organization."

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller plunged early and is spending lavishly in the tradition of Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy four years ago.

PRIVATE PLANE

Also, like the late president, Rocky co-owns a private plane with his brothers, and when that is not fast enough to serve his purpose he feels no financial pinch in deserting it for the jetliners.

He faces an otherwise totally different situation from that of 1960, however, because even if Rocky should stump the experts by capturing the nomination, he would have to run against a popular incumbent president.

By all odds the best vantage point for election is the presidential chair, and that's where Lyndon Baines Johnson sits today.

★ ★ ★

Four years ago Republicans were urging the election of Nixon over Kennedy because of his "greater experience" in affairs of state.

SOLID ISSUE

This time the Democratic candidate will have that issue solidly on his side, no matter which Republican wins his party's nomination.

This incontrovertible fact is undoubtedly a factor in the reluctance of Scranton and Romney to make the race this year and of Nixon openly to press his own candidacy.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith actually has her own sights set no higher than the vice presidential nomination, and the other declared candidate, Harold Stassen.

★ ★ ★

Well, practically nothing could make Stassen reluctant to run.

McNamara Blunder in Buying?

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — There is deep concern among some key Pentagon research men that Defense Secretary Robert McNamara made a defense blunder when he rushed in fast to order so many early-model Minuteman and Polaris missiles and nuclear subs.

CROMLEY

For new space developments have made Minuteman and Polaris guidance systems out-of-date. We are now on the verge of being able to build much more accurate and reliable missiles. Fewer of these ICBMs would be needed to do the job and do it better. These more-accurate missiles would make possible great strides in military flexibility.

Developments in new types of steel will soon make today's deep-diving submarines obsolescent. Before too long, it will be possible to make subs which can safely operate at much greater depths than the ill-fated Thresher, because they'd be made with the new steels that withstand 50 per cent greater deep-sea pressure.

Discoveries in command and control vulnerability to nuclear explosions call for large-scale changes in these systems. Some of these alterations will be relatively simple, some exceedingly costly to fit into our present setup.

It will be too costly to replace all Minuteman and Polaris missiles and nuclear submarines and command and controls systems in line with this developing knowledge, except over a long period of time.

In part, this expense will be great and the results not so good as they might be because McNamara's extremely heavy investment in missile silos and missile submarines means that the next generation of long-range missiles will in great measure be limited to those types which can be mated with these silos and submarines.

New research on methods of "hardening" the electronic components of ICBMs against the electromagnetic pulse sent out by nuclear explosions makes it clear that the best comprehensive hardening systems require somewhat different silo configurations than those McNamara has invested in so heavily.

Military men say there was no defense urgency which required McNamara to hurry so fast to build so many missiles and submarines so quickly.

By the time he had been in office a week, he knew that there was no "missile gap." By the end of 1961, it was clear the Russians were not going to make large numbers of intercontinental missiles in the years immediately ahead.

McNamara also knew from the time he took office that because of the fast pace at which scientific research was moving, any major missiles he built would become obsolescent before they were even in their silos, these research men say.

McNamara had before him the example of the Germans, who lost the Battle of Britain, and the Russians, who lost the air battles over Korea; because they settled too soon on producing in large numbers planes that were obsolescent when they were most needed.

For these reasons, the research men think McNamara should have bought ICMBs and nuclear submarines, a few at a time, as was done with the Atlas and Titan.

They feel that if McNamara had gone at this expansion slowly, where he went fast, and had spent less on hardware and more on research, the U.S. strategic position would have been stronger in the remainder of the 1960s.

Voice of the People:

'Must Taxpayers Accept Another Airport Study?'

Saturday's paper had an article "Airport Study Awaits Talks." Why are Oakland County's airport needs being studied again? Why do the taxpayers have to stand still for $10,000 being spent on such a study? Why, if it were necessary in the first place, does Mr. Edwards' committee have to hire a company from San Francisco?

It has been proved a couple of times that Oakland County cannot support a jet airport, but still these expensive, senseless studies go on.

Why can't this $10,000 be used for "Children's Village" at Pontiac State Hospital a "half-way" house to help curb juvenile crime or to help the Youth Assistance Committee?

Asks Holdup on New Plates

LANSING (AP) — The secretary of state's office has asked that a proposed switch to aluminum auto license plates in Michigan be held off until 1966.

★ ★ ★

Frank Sierawski, assistant secretary of state, made the plea to Rep. Lucille McCullough, D - Dearborn, sponsor of a bill to require aluminum license plates in 1965.

Sierawski said the prison industries are about to start production on plates for 1965, to be made of galvanized steel.

★ ★ ★

If the legislation as proposed at present should pass, he said, "we shudder to think what this would cause, first to prison industries as far as plate production goes, and, second, as to our being able to place 1965 plates on sale on Nov. 1, 1964."

★ ★ ★

Sierawski said his department would give full support to a proposal to try the aluminum plates in 1966. He also suggested that the aluminum plates be limited to passenger vehicles only.

Negro Hoping Act to Help Rights Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Negro attache at the U.S. Embassy in Ghana hopes his recent raising of the Stars and Stripes in defiance of anti-American demonstrators will help lead to "respect and full acceptance of American Negroes."

Adger Emerson Player, whose feat was praised by President Johnson and members of Congress, has written a letter explaining "what I consider the true meaning of my action."

★ ★ ★

Rep. Augustus F. Hawkins, D-Calif., had the letter printed in Wednesday's Congressional Record. It was also sent to several U.S. newspapers.

Player, 31, is from Denver, Colo., and holds a masters degree in international relations. After demonstrators tore down the American flag from the embassy flagpole a month ago, Player promptly ran it back up.

In his letter, Player wrote he was concerned that persons "not fully in sympathy with the aspirations of the American Negro" might be misinterpreting his patriotic act.

"My action was something any American—black or white—would have done," Player said. "However, my raising of the flag decreases in real significance when compared with the real acts of heroism and sacrifice by countless American Negroes.

"I did only what American Negroes have been doing from the very beginning of the history of the United States—loyally defending the country that our ancestors made along with other Americans of all origins and races."

Player said most Americans, whites and Negroes, still have to discover that they have the same historical roots in America and the same aspirations and ambitions for the country and themselves.

"White Americans must demonstrate as much love for their black fellow Americans as they do for the red, white, and blue American flag.

"Yes, we—American Negroes—are loyal to the United States. This proven loyalty in no way diminishes our firm resolve to be accepted as Americans in the fullest extent."

Russia Papers Salute U. S. Red 'Worker'

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda and the labor newspaper Trud saluted the American Communist newspaper The Worker today with long articles on its 40th birthday.

★ ★ ★

The Worker, formerly The Daily Worker, is the only American newspaper on public sale in the Soviet Union. Soviet authorities have repeatedly rejected proposals to have major American newspapers sold under the cultural exchange program.

THE OLD WAY — This scene taken in 1923 shows some early attempts at home movie making. The camera was a 16mm Cine-Kodak with hand cranking, slow lens and slow black-and-white film. However, good technique is used in placing the children in a natural background in a familiar situation.

Let Children Alone; They 'Act' Naturally

AP Newsfeatures

"When you make movies of children, just let them act naturally."

If this bit of advice sounds familiar, there's a good reason. It is more than 40 years old. For it was thanks to this advice that the amateur home movie field was started in 1923.

It happened in Rochester, N. Y., at a time when movies were made only by professionals using bulky 35mm motion picture cameras and costly film. John G. Capstaff of Eastman Kodak had just invented the reversal process whereby exposed movie film negative is converted to positive film for projection.

His method eliminated the time-consuming expensive process of printing the negative on another film to obtain an acceptable positive film for projecting.

OTHER IDEAS

The invention sparked other ideas to widen the interest in general movie-making. It was felt that a compact movie camera and a less expensive 16mm film would be both practical and appealing to amateur photographers.

One of those pushing this idea was Harris B. Tuttle, then a researcher, now consultant on law enforcement photography for Eastman Kodak.

The group decided that the best argument for the idea was an actual demonstration of what a typical home movie would look like. And what better subject matter for a home movie than children? None. And what should they do? Let them act naturally! The advice was good then and it is still good.

They enlisted the help of Mrs. Harold Gleason, wife of George Eastman's personal organist, who held a children's backyard picnic party. It was photographed by Tuttle using a handmade prototype 16mm camera which he hand-cranked by guesswork at two turns per second.

FIRST SHOTS

"The film opened," recalls Mrs. Gleason, "with a nurse spreading a cloth on the grass with dishes of goodies, including jam and marshmallows. My son Charles, who was 10 months old, and one of his little friends acted naturally — they began smearing themselves and each other with marshmallows and jam."

"We had excellent close-ups of the children's faces smeared with jam," added Tuttle. "Then the family dog came along. He acted naturally too. He licked a child's face. It was a howl."

The first home movie film was shown to George Eastman, the company's founder, and other executives. It won their enthusiastic endorsement. In 1923 the first Cine-Kodak 16mm camera and reversal process film were introduced and amateur home movie making was launched.

Today, amateur filmers are spending an estimated $200 million per year for cameras, film, projectors and accessory equipment. Modern home movie cameras are compact marvels of electric eye automation with lenses that penetrate shadows and zoom out to bring objects closer. And the world around us is captured in brilliant color.

Yes, the home movie world has witnessed many remarkable changes in the past 40 years. One exception is the advice:

"When you make movies of children, just let them act naturally."

Lab Experiment Shows N-Energy Peace Use

NEW YORK (AP) — In a small-scale laboratory experiment in Oak Ridge, Tenn., scientists have devised a 15-foot long device which demonstrates the possibility of turning into peaceful uses the energy of hydrogen fusion—the same energy that explodes megaton bombs — the New York Herald Tribune said today.

Earl Ubell, the newspaper's science editor, reports the device, the DCX-2, "had opened up the huge world of thermonuclear power. It had created hotter hydrogen atoms — 6 billion degrees — in greater densities and for longer times than any other man-made device outside of a bomb."

A scientist at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory is quoted as saying: "That means we can go all the way. All we have to do is solve the engineering."

"All the way," the story continues, in essence means pumping hydrogen into one end of a machine and extracting useful energy from the other.

Dr. R. P. Bell, who headed the group working on the DCX-2, said: "We're not even thinking of useful devices. We wanted to prove that we can get within hitting distance. We've done that and we're pretty happy down here. You could say we're jumping."

The newspaper story notes that a controlled thermonuclear reaction uses cheap fuel; a pound of the special hydrogen called deuterium costs less than $10 and yields 40 million kilowatt hours of electricity.

Furthermore, Ubell points out, the isotope deuterium comes from the sea, an inexhaustible source of supply.

Bell also was quoted as saying that the Russians are not far behind — that they have a machine similar to DCX-2 called Ogra.

Check With Nosy Nellie Polling Service

What Are Trends for 1964 Election?

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Another election year is at hand, which means that it is time for the Nosy Nellie Public Opinion Polling and Sampling Service to swing back into action.

WEST

Some voters may recall that when I introduced this poll in 1960, I was able to predict that the presidential election that year would end in a scoreless tie.

This proved to be somewhat inaccurate.

To be precise, it missed the target by 68,838,005 votes.

But in the polling business we always allow for a certain margin of error.

ANSWERS QUESTION

Before unveiling the first N.N.P.O.P.S.S. poll of 1964, I would like to answer a question that is frequently asked.

Which is: What do pollsters' do in the off-season between elections?

The answer is, they work in egg-candling plants.

* * *

Now let us proceed to the questionnaire.

READ QUESTIONS

Read each of the following questions carefully and check the answer that suits you best. Mail your replies to the Democratic campaign headquarters, with copies to the Goldwater, Rockefeller, Nixon, Smith, Romney, Scranton, Stassen and Lodge headquarters.

1. What do you regard as the principal foreign issue of the 1964 campaign?

(France's recognition of Red China.) (Red China's recognition of France.) (Longshoremen's recognition of Russia.) (America's recognition of the Beatles.)

2. What do you think will be the chief domestic issue?

(Charles O. Finley's recognition of Kansas City.) (American League's recognition of Charles O. Finley.) (Bobby Baker's recognition of a good thing when he sees it.) (Cassius Clay's recognition of Cassius Clay.)

3. For the first time this year, a woman is a serious contender for the Republican presidential nomination. Should there be a female candidate, would you:

(Vote against her because of her sex.) (Vote for her because of her sex.) (Leave sex out of this.) (Leave it up to your wife.)

4. At what point during a campaign do you usually decide for whom you will vote?

(Before the candidates are nominated.) (After they have explained their positions.) (One day before the election.) (One day after the election.)

5. Do you think the presidential primaries play a useful part in the selection of candidates?

(Yes.) (No.) (Undecided.) (Only if they win.)

6. What is the most important quality a presidential candidate should possess?

(Leadership ability.) (Experience in international negotiations.) (Ability to get along with Congress.)

Girls' Britain Trip Halted

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Two girls—buggy over the Beatles—had their dreams exterminated today.

With an album of Beatle records, two bacon sandwiches and two cardboard boxes of clothing, the girls—identified only as Fay, 14, and Dawn, 15—set out from their coastal Mississippi town for Liverpool, England.

Fay had drawn her savings of $289.07 from the bank and with her friend planned to get a job in Washington, D. C., to finance the rest of the trip.

Many miles short of their goal, Mobile police took them off the bus to await the arrival of their parents.

Mayor Seeks Clerk's Post

DERBY, Conn. (AP)—Mayor John L. Bartimole would rather be city clerk.

The two-term Democratic chief executive applied to the Board of Aldermen for the vacant city clerk's job last night.

As part-time mayor of this city of 12,500, Bartimole gets $4,000 a year. The city clerk's job pays $5,000.

Bartimole is also self-employed in a wholesale bakery delivery business. He said he would run again for mayor if he didn't get the city clerkship.

Renewed Malaysia Peace Talks Reopen; Compromise Sought

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Malaysia, Indonesia and the Philippines headed back to the conference table unexpectedly today, less than 24 hours after their talks collapsed and Malaysia said it would take the dispute to the United Nations.

A Philippine spokesman said Malaysia and Indonesia had agreed to try to work out a compromise formula on the withdrawal of Indonesian guerrillas from Malaysian territory.

The formula would provide for the gradual pull-back of the guerrillas while discussions were held simultaneously on political issues in the dispute, he said.

* * *

The conference broke up last night over differences between the two countries on the cease-fire U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy arranged in the guerrilla war along the Malaysia-Indonesia frontier on Borneo.

FIRST ORDER

Malaysia demanded the withdrawal of the estimated 400 Indonesian irregulars from its Borneo states of Sabah and Sarawak as the first order of business.

Indonesia said any withdrawal must be accompanied by a settlement of the political dispute.

Malaysia's deputy prime minister, Tun Abdul Razak, made a last-minute decision to cancel his flight home today when Thailand's Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman telephoned him at Bangkok Airport.

* * *

Philippine Foreign Secretary Salvador P. Lopez used similar persuasion on Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio. Lopez declined to explain what, if any, development had made the resumption of talks possible.

MEET AT HOME

Razak, Subandrio and Lopez were to meet today at Khoman's home.

"I have to stay because the others are staying," Razak told newsmen as his jet waited to take him back to Kuala Lumpur.

Razak charged that even after the conference opened here Tuesday, Indonesian guerrillas crossed the border in violation of the Jan. 25 truce.

* * *

"Even right now they are sending more people, taking advantage of the cease-fire," Razak said.

The Malaysian delegation appeared to have softened its position on withdrawal of the guerrillas.

Malaysian's permanent Foreign Affairs Secretary Ghazali Shafie told reporters his country would be content with an Indonesian pledge to pull out the guerrillas.

If such an agreement in principle came from Indonesia, Ghazali said, Malaysia would be willing to discuss political issues even though the guerrillas were still in Sabah and Sarawak.

* * *

Among the political issues is an Indonesian demand for a plebiscite in Sabah and Sarawak to determine whether their people want to be part of the Malaysian federation, formed last September out of former British territories.

Neither Indonesia nor the Philippines was satisfied with the affirmative finding of a U.N. team last summer.

The Philippines also wants a settlement of its old claim to Sabah (formerly British North Borneo).

The Philippines has been relatively mild in its opposition to Malaysia and has sought to persuade Indonesia's President Sukarno to call off his "crush Malaysia" campaign of guerrilla warfare and economic boycott.

* * *

After the breakdown yesterday of the second ministerial conference on Malaysia within a month, Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman told his people by television he would take the issue to the United Nations.

WARNS NATION

Rahman warned his nation of 10 million to be prepared to defend Malaysia against "forces that have had from the beginning a diabolical plan to destroy us."

In Jakarta, the Indonesian news agency Antara quoted charges from the commander of Indonesia's East Borneo forces that Malaysia had deliberately violated the truce.

The commander, Col. Suharjo, said captured documents proved that Britain had conspired with Malaysia in schemes to violate Indonesian territory.

He said the renewed fighting was the result of Malaysian attempts to mop up the guerrillas.

for freshness and flavor that's way out front serve our FLAVORED COTTAGE CHEESE

BAKED EGGS WITH RICE

2½ cups cooked rice
6 eggs, hard cooked
½ cup Garden Salad Cottage Cheese
1 tablespoon milk
½ teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
Paprika

Place rice in bottom of buttered baking dish. Cut the eggs in halves lengthwise. Remove the yolks and mash with a fork. Blend with milk, salt and cottage cheese which has been whipped smooth. Refill egg whites with the mixture and arrange on the rice in baking dish. Make cream sauce by melting butter in double boiler. Blend in flour, salt and add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Pour over the eggs and rice, sprinkle with paprika and heat thoroughly in 350° oven.

MAGIC COTTAGE CHEESE PIE

1 cup half 'n half
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 eggs, separated
½ cups Pineapple Cottage Cheese
7 tablespoons sugar

Blend in the order given reserving the egg whites and 4 tablespoons of the sugar for the meringue. Turn the mixture into a 9" pastry shell (baked), top with meringue and brown at 300° for 20 minutes. Chill before serving.

OLIVE CHEESE MOLD

1 cup Chive Cottage Cheese
1 package cream cheese
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup soda crackers
½ cup hot milk
1 tablespoon onion, minced
½ cup stuffed olives
pepper

Crumble the crackers into fine bits, salt them and cover with the hot milk. Blend the cottage and cream cheese until smooth, add the minced onion, olives, pepper and cracker crumbs. Pour into a mold and chill. Serve with watercress or romaine as a salad.

For N-War Phone Communication

Blast-Proof Cable Will Span Country

By ROBERT HOLTON

NEW YORK (AP) — A wrist-thick cable now worming its way underground across the nation may provide the only direct transcontinental telephone communication in the event of a nuclear blast.

The 3,218-mile cable is much like six others already in transcontinental operation except that it is buried five feet underground instead of the normal 3½ feet.

It also differs from the other lines because all its relay and other stations are sunk deep underground in concrete cocoons.

"Let's say that this cable will be blast-proof," said a spokesman for the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. "A direct nuclear blast certainly would cut it, but I doubt that anything short of that would do it."

He said the cable is being so located that it will be out of any of the nation's prime target areas.

DUE AT WEST COAST

The cable now is in use between a point in upstate New York and Fairfield, Kan. It is scheduled for completion to the West Coast sometime late this year.

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — SPECIAL REPORT

The Pacific Telephone Co. already has laid the cable and installed relay and other equipment along much of the 612 miles it will cover in Southern California.

Over-all cost was set at $200 million—the most expensive project of its kind in the United States.

"This is not a government-sponsored project, rather it is another step taken by the Bell System to insure survivability," the company said.

BEGUN IN 1960

The project was begun in upstate New York in 1960.

The cable when completed will be capable of handling 9,000 simultaneous calls—at least 2,000 more than can now be handled by any of the other six cables.

"A serious natural disaster might break another cable where it will have to go 18 inches deeper to get at this one," the spokesman said. "Eighteen inches in this particular case is quite a lot."

The spokesman said all future transcontinental cables probably would be of the same blast-proof design.

2-STORY BUILDING

The installation includes 900 ground repeater stations and 11 huge switching centers, each the equivalent of a two-story building deposited underground in three-foot thick cement cases.

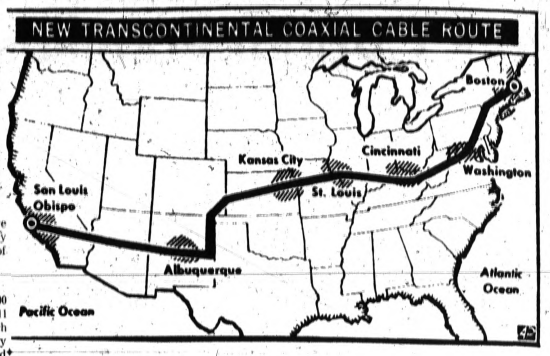
Personnel manning the centers would be able to survive for two weeks in the event of a disaster on food and water to be stored there.

* * *

There are 24 underground power facilities, each with generators capable of producing enough power to sustain the system, are nearing completion. These too are encased in heavy concrete.

* * *

"With this cable, plus the six we already have," the spokesman said, "We feel the chances of any enemy attack or a massive natural disaster cutting off all of them are pretty slim."



Eastern City GOP Sets Own Primary

WEST HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — West Hartford Republicans will hold their own presidential primary April 15.

GOP leaders in this wealthy suburb announced Wednesday that polls will open then to allow the town's 15,000 registered Republicans to choose between Sen. Barry Goldwater, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Gov. George Romney, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Gov. William W. Scranton, and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith.

Write-in votes will be accepted.

Fear Keeps Turk Cypriot Families Huddled Together

POLIS, Cyprus (AP) — The siege continues for 700 Turkish Cypriots in the torn town of Polis.

★ ★ ★

More than a month ago outnumbered Turkish families from Polis and nearby villages gathered in a Turkish school, seeking safety from the undeclared civil war between the Greek and Turkish communities on Cyprus.

They are still there. Village elders, mothers, fathers, youths and babies are huddled in the two-story building with little apparent hope of returning to their homes.

★ ★ ★

"Without escorts by British troops we cannot move anywhere," said schoolmaster Cahit Cavusoglu. "We are surrounded."

"The trouble with Polis is the trouble with this bloody island," said a British officer. "Both sides say they will not harm each other and neither believes a bloody word of it."

At the last crossroad inside the village is the command post of Capt. Michael Creighton of the British Royal Artillery. Two hundred yards uphill on the edge of the village is the Turkish school.

Inside, 112 families are jammed into a building where 270 pupils until recently attended classes.

In one classroom live 12 families. Each family does its cooking on a portable oil stove.

In the small office of the principal, schoolmaster Cavusoglu speaks: "The Greeks say come back and we will live together. But we can never get along again. Never at all, sir."

The Turks say the Greeks drove them out of their homes in a bloody battle and destroyed some houses with an armored bulldozer despite a truce. The last time they tried to go into town seven of their men were seized as hostages, the teacher said.

Now the only ones who venture forth do so under the protection of British troops.

The school is not surrounded, but two Green Bren gun positions aim menacingly from a flat hill about 400 yards away.

"Last night," said the schoolmaster, "the Greeks drove by with a new armored car. They say there is a cease-fire — and they make armored cars."

★ ★ ★

In the Greek section the homemade armored car squatted in front of an auto repair shop. It was an American truck covered with steel plates. Scrawled in chalk on the rear were the words "EOKA — Made in Cyprus" and on the front bumper the letters "USSR."

"Russia is our friend in the United Nations," said a Greek youth.

Asked if the armored car could be photographed, he bicycled away and returned with the answer, "EOKA says no."

EOKA, the Greek Cypriot underground army which fought the British for independence, is strong in the Polis area. At the police station Subinspector Christodulu Antonakis was asked if the Turks would be safe back in their homes.

"Of course," he replied. "We have told them time and again. They have nothing to fear from the Greeks."

What about the seven hostages? "I know nothing about that," he said. "I wasn't here at the time."

NO MORE ARMY

And EOKA?

"EOKA — that is finished."

The Turks had said the Greeks could pass safely by the school whenever they wanted.

"Ah," said Antonakis suspiciously, "that's what they say."

S. Africa Banning Orders Put Citizens in Constant Fear

By JOHN MACLENNEN

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — That knock at the door could be the milkman, the postman—or a man in a plain gray suit with another of the banning orders issued by Justice Minister Balthazar Vorster.

The men now known as Vorster's gray suits started coming around five years ago.

Few of the recipients of banning orders realized then they could be separated from their families, sent to jail or confined to their homes from dusk to dawn for years under this country's strict suppression of communism and other security laws.

330 ON LIST

Today at least 330 whites, blacks, Indians and coloreds (people of mixed blood) have been listed for suspected pro-Red activities.

The banning orders often hit where it hurts most — at home.

In one case a mother could not attend her daughter's 10th birthday party because the mother, Adelaine Hain of South Africa's Liberal party, was not allowed to attend gatherings. The girl's grandmother lit the candles and led the party games.

* * *

A six-month suspended jail sentence was imposed on a banned white man for playing pool with a friend. A magistrate found that Peter Donald Hjul, 32, and his opponent constituted a "gathering." If ever he goes a gathering again, the suspended jail sentence can be put into effect.

LIBERAL MOVEMENT

When 21-year-old Toni Bernstein was banned, apparently because she once belonged to a liberal movement, it meant she could not see or speak to her father. This was one of her penalties for being a "listed" person.

Her father, Leonard Bernstein, has been brought to trial with others for allegedly belonging to a Communist cell aimed at the overthrow of Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's all-white government.

Bernstein is also banned. The order against him forbids his talking to or communicating in any way with any other listed person.

* * *

Ann Nicholson, 22, a fine-arts student, is not allowed to continue her college studies. She is trying to finish the course on her own.

NO COLOR BARRIERS

This law knows no color barriers. An African, confined to an African segregated township near Johannesburg in terms of his banning order, could not attend the funeral of his baby son in another African township.

Occasionally Vorster's men get snarled in red tape. According to banning orders against an Indian professional couple in Durban, the husband may speak to the wife but, strictly speaking, the wife may not speak to her husband. In terms of the anticommunism act, banned people generally may not communicate with other banned persons in any way.

The husband's order specifically permits him to communicate with his wife, but the wife's order makes no mention of her husband.

* * *

The banning orders can deprive people almost entirely of personal freedom.

NO EXPLANATION

The justice minister need give no explanation for his actions, and normally there is no recourse to the courts.

Alfred Nzo, former leader of the now forbidden African National Congress, was first banned in December 1959.

The restrictions then imposed on him were intensified in 1962 when he was placed under house arrest.

This order was later modified to give him a chance to look for work.

He was released last month after 238 days in detention, much of it incommunicado.

The law allows senior police officers to hold for questioning anyone they suspect may know of subversive activities.

These detainees can be held 90 days at a time. The 90-day periods can be repeated almost indefinitely.

* * *

John Harris, a white man, chairman of the South African Nonracial Olympics Committee, and Dennis Brutus, a colored teacher who was a former committee president, have both been banned.

TO ATTEND RALLY

The government acted against Harris four days before he was due to address a rally planned to protest segregation in this country's sports. The order prohibits Harris from attending meetings or belonging to any organization which discusses the policy of any government or state.

The Liberal party, of which Author Alan Paton and Harris are members, has protested this banning.

Harris campaigned at the International Olympics Committee to bar South Africa from whites-only participation in this year's Olympics at Tokyo. His passport was confiscated to silence such protests abroad. Now he has been silenced at home.

* * *

The Liberal party challenged Vorster to make public what Harris ever did to further the aims of communism. The party acknowledged that Harris "is revolted by racialism in sport" but asked "what has this to do with communism?"

REPEATED PROTESTS

Repeated protests have been made against recent bannings of large numbers of trade union leaders, white and nonwhite.

Among them are the vice president and the assistant general secretary of the South African Congress of Trade Unions.

No reason for the bannings has been given.

East Indians, hard hit by the Group Areas Act (which specifies in what areas members of various segregated races can live), have been silenced by banning orders.

AN OFFENSE

These make it an offense for any newspapers or radio stations to repeat or report their opinions.

Under the law many Indians were ordered to move their shops and homes from areas where previously they had run businesses.

Even normally broad-minded people are inclined to shun anyone with pronounced liberal associations and to steer clear of people on Vorster's list.

They never know when one of his men in a gray suit might be watching and listening.

Hopefuls Not Kissing Babies

New Hampshire Campaign Is an Odd One

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — AP SPECIAL REPORT

By JACK BELL

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — It's a peculiar campaign the current major contenders for the Republican presidential nomination are putting on for the prestige of topping the popularity vote and getting a majority of delegates in next Tuesday's New Hampshire primary.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York are breaking with tradition in a state where the late Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., plodded through the late winter slush with outstretched hand in 1952.

Kefauver out-scored President Harry S. Truman by nearly 4,000 votes and began a triumphal—but futile—sweep of the 1952 Democratic presidential primaries.

DON'T EVEN ASK

When they press the hands of New Hampshire's citizens, Rockefeller and Goldwater don't even ask their momentary captive to vote for them. The two candidates don't even kiss babies. They merely grasp the infant's arm and coo to doting mothers about the not-too-obvious beauties of the child in hand.

Psychology has infiltrated politics in New Hampshire and has served only to complicate an already confused situation.

Rockefeller explained, rather intensely, that he doesn't ask any individual to vote for him because this might be an overt act which would build up resistance to the appeal.

* * *

"I don't like to put a voter on the spot by asking him for support," the governor said. "He may think to himself 'This man is trying to tell me what to do' and he may resent it. All I hope to do is to establish some response from the individual which I hope will be favorable."

Goldwater was reminded that Kefauver accompanied every handclasp with a monotone statement: "I'm Estes Kefauver. I'm running for president. I hope you'll vote for me."

Why didn't he do the same, he was asked.

* * *

"I just don't like to do it, I never have, and I'm not going to," the senator replied, dismissing the subject.

* * *

As a result of this psychologist to meet them and isn't it wonderful weather New Hampshire is having? They follow this up by thanking the individuals for shaking hands.

KISSING BABIES

On the subject of kissing babies, Rockefeller had some decided views. Goldwater just doesn't do it; no explanations offered.

* * *

"I never kissed a baby except my own," Rockefeller said. "I don't believe in kissing babies."

Nevertheless, Rockefeller goes out of his way to be kind to children. He often delays his caravan a half hour by signing autographs for excited kids. Associates said this had nothing to do with his divorce and marriage to a divorced mother of four children who is now expecting another.

Seldom mentioned publicly, this remains an uncalculated factor in next week's voting.

WIVES QUESTION

On the manufacturing plant-supermarket circuit in Concord and its vicinity Wednesday, women often asked Rockefeller "Where's Happy," the nickname of the governor's wife.

* * *

"She has to take it easy once in a while," he replied. "That's why she's not here."

Forestry Chief Dies

LANSING (AP)—George McIntire, chief of the forest division of the State Conservation Department for 12 years, died in Plantation Key, Fla., Tuesday. McIntire, 65, a native of Iowa, joined the department full-time in 1926, and retired in January, 1961.

Lansing Airport Eyes Request for Operating Funds

LANSING (AP) — The Capitol City Airport Terminal building at Lansing, already $50,000 in debt to the city and state, may have to ask the city for more operating money, says State Aeronautics Director James Ramsey.

Ramsey told the State Aeronautics Commission that the building terminal fund has only $2,000 in cash.

* * *

There are no funds available to repay the city the $25,000 it advanced to open the building in 1959, nor the state a similar amount it advanced to start operations, Ramsey said.

The terminal has lost $14,000 in the past five years, he said—some $9,000 of it in the restaurant—"mainly because no liquor was available."

The Lenten Story

BY WOODI ISHMAEL

THY WILL BE DONE

Leaving the upper room, where the Last Supper was held, Jesus went with His Disciples to a country place called Gethsemani.

"Sit down here, while I go over yonder and pray," He said to them.

Then, taking Peter and James and John with Him, He went into a garden and, as Matthew tells us, "began to be saddened and exceedingly troubled."

"My soul is sad even unto death," He said to the three Apostles with Him. "Wait here and watch with Me."

Going forward, He fell on His face, praying:

"Father, if it is possible, let this cup pass from Me; yet not My will but Thy will be done." (Matthew XXVI:39)

Wage Floor OK'd in House

Labor Unit Votes Out $1-an-Hour Measure

LANSING (UPI) — The House Labor Committee voted out yesterday the $1-an-hour minimum wage bill supported by Gov. Romney.

Romney has predicted this bill will have better luck than his minimum wage legislation last year which died in the House when time in the session ran out.

The new bill now before the House would establish a $1-an-hour minimum next Jan. 1 and hike it by stages to $1.15 in 1966 and $1.25 in 1967.

The measure, introduced by Rep. Don Gordon, R-Leland, was first approved Wednesday by the House Republican Caucus and then by the Labor Committee.

ROMNEY CONFIDENT

"I'm confident this measure will pass this year," Romney said several weeks ago when it was introduced. "It has been formulated by a study committee and the indications are favorable."

Both Democrats and Republicans held caucuses yesterday and a subject discussed in both meetings was what to do about legislative reapportionment if the State Supreme Court does not hand down a ruling in time to hold orderly elections.

House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, said the GOP House proposition would be to freeze the House districts for the 1964 election and then to apportion the House next year on a population basis as practical as possible.

Green said the GOP proposal would abolish the apportionment commission, and House Democrats indicated they would go along with the Republicans to that extent.

ONCE AGAIN

With the new constitution's apportionment commission abolished, the job of districting the legislature would once again belong to the state senators and representatives.

The Republicans would accomplish their aim of freezing the present districts for another general election through a constitutional amendment.

Weight Rules to Cover Trucks

Truck weight restrictions will go into effect on all county roads in Oakland County at noon tomorrow until further notice, Road Commission Weighmaster Tom Kennedy announced today.

The restrictions are necessary, he said, to prevent surface damage while frost is coming out of the roads.

On all Class A routes, tandem trucks will be limited to 24,000 pounds and single-axle trucks to 1,350 pounds.

* * *

Rigid pavement restrictions are 19,500 pounds for tandem trucks and 13,500 for single-axle units.

On blacktop and gravel roads, tandems are restricted to 16,900 pounds and single-axle units to 11,700 pounds.

Ex-Senator's Wife Dies

LAWTON, Okla. (AP)—Edith Thomas, 80, wife of former U.S. Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, died Wednesday after a long illness. Thomas, a Democrat, served in the U.S. House of Representatives before serving 23 years as a senator. He retired in 1950.

13 Area Villages to Hold Elections Monday

Either congratulations or condolences will be offered office-seekers in 13 area villages Monday, when voters choose their favorites in annual spring elections.

The electorate in 12 of the villages will cast ballots filled with only the names of candidates, while in Milford voters will also decide the outcome of a proposed charter amendment altering the method of assessing for public improvements.

* * *

Following is a roundup of candidates in their respective villages:

Clarkston

Voters here will face a slate of Citizens Party candidates, all but one of them incumbents.

Seeking reelection to one-year terms are Village President Robert C. Waters, Assessor Lloyd Sibley, and Clerk Artemus M. Pappas.

Lone newcomer to the ballot is Pappas' wife, Mary Ann, candidate for treasurer. She replaces incumbent Mrs. Prudence Dunstan who has established temporary residence in northern Michigan.

* * *

Running for reelection to two-year terms on the council are Trustees Herbert Beach, Harold Goyette and Earl Terry.

Voting will take place at the Village Hall, 25 S. Main.

Dryden

Village President Robert L. White is not seeking reelection this year, but has been nominated for one of the three vacant two-year trustee positions.

Incumbent Councilman Olivier Braidwood is unopposed for election to the president's slot, a one-year term.

Seeking reelection to the other two trustee openings are Ralph Hebert and Ralph Russell.

Also unchallenged in Monday's non-partisan race here are Village Clerk Mrs. Mildred Gray, Treasurer Mrs. Gladys Harrington and Assessor Robert Weingartz, all after another one-year term.

Eight persons turned out for the caucus at which the candidates were nominated.

Leonard

With three of the incumbents swept off the ballot by last month's caucus, voters here will see a new slate of candidates on the Citizens Party ticket, the only active party here.

Eliminated by the caucus were incumbents Frank Bore, Eugene Mallia and Raymond Greene. Mallia was not seeking reelection due to a change in working shift.

Unopposed in Monday's election are Village President Jesse Sutherby, Clerk Mrs. Clara Scheall, Treasurer Mrs. Lucille Porter and Assessor Elmer Powell. All are seeking one-year terms.

* * *

Up for election to the three vacant two-year council posts are former president Lawson Sheik, Calvin Scheall and Kenneth Pease.

Metamora

In contrast to last year's spring election here, only one slate will appear on Monday's ballot, changed to non-partisan due to the inactivity of the Citizens Party.

All candidates for office are unopposed.

Incumbent President Percy Clark is seeking reelection to a one-year term, as are Treasurer Mrs. Janette Schenkel and Assessor Victor Maslin.

* * *

Village Clerk Grove C. Morse has decided not to run for reelection to this post. Up to fill Morse's slot is Mrs. Margaret Cascadden, 73 Barrow.

Three two-year council vacancies will be filled Monday, as well as the one year unexpired term of Dr. Clarence Terwilliger, who has moved.

Candidates for the two-year spots in addition to Morse, who has entered this race, are incumbents John DeGroot and Charles Flower. Richard Yorks, 230 E. High, is seeking to fill the unexpired term.

Oxford

All three incumbents remain in the race for the three vacant council seats here, a pair of two year terms and a one year term.

The names of Village President Allen E. Valentine and Trustees Lionel J. Kamm and E. Wayne Converse will appear on the non-partisan ballot.

Opposing the trio will be F. Ray Forman, 36 Dennison; John C. Flumerfelt, 47 N. Washington and Homer Hight, 97 Dennison.

The top two vote getters will serve for two years and the third for one year.

Milford

Facing the electorate here are a proposed charter amendment and two vacancies on the Village Council.

The amendment would provide that special assessment districts be established only upon the approval of the majority of property owners in the proposed district.

Nonpartisan candidates for the two three-year council terms are incumbent Vernon Rounds, president pro tem; incumbent Calvin Lawrence and Ralph Wiese, 674 Sweetbriar.

Lake Orion

After completing four consecutive years in office, Village President Irving J. Unger is stepping out of the political spotlight.

Joining him is Village Assessor Mrs. Geraldine Storey, who has also decided not to seek reelection.

Competing for the one-year term in top office are a former president, Councilman William V. Shoup, on the Village Party Ticket, and Citizens Party Member James Norton, 403 N. Shore.

* * *

Unopposed for her 20th one-year term as clerk is Mrs. Mary Parkinson (C). Also unchallenged is Treasurer Mrs. Geraldine J. Campbell (C).

Mrs. Myrle Longpre, (C), 234 E. Shadbolt, is the only candidate seeking to replace Mrs. Storey as assessor.

Races are promised for the three two-year council slots. Members of each party will appear on the ballot.

* * *

Village Party Incumbents Lewie Rossman and Fred C. Cole are after reelection as trustees. Also running on the Village Party Ticket is Robert D. Stokes, 321 Lake.

Opposing them for the three council slots is a trio of Citizens Party members, David A. Donnelly, 14 N. Broadway; Edward Bretzlaff, 441 N. Shore and Larry Marlin, 460 Bellevue.

Wood Creek Farms

Voters here will fill two vacancies on the Village Council from a slate of three candidates.

Running for the two-year terms are incumbent Philo Wright, Watson Kinney of 28705 Village and William Smolek of 28900 Wellington.

Trustee Roy Nelson is retiring from the four-member council after serving two terms.

* * *

Three other village officials are unopposed in their bids for reelection for two-year terms. They are Assessor Robert Swift, Clerk Mrs. Alice Billiu and Treasurer Thomas Jennings.

Holly

On the ballot here are seven Citizens Party candidates, five of whom are seeking reelection.

The retirement of Clerk George Patterson and Councilman Allan Kerton finds two new names placed before the voters.

Mrs. Betty Oliver of 113 Cogshall, deputy clerk for 1½ years, has filed for the clerk's post. Candidate for the two-year council term is John Ramm of 901 E. Maple.

* * *

Seeking reelection are President John Oldani, Treasurer Hulda Anderson, Assessor Grant Hulet and Councilmen John VanDeusen and Leo Oberheim.

Novi

Attempting to gain the three vacant seats on the Village Council are six candidates.

The two tallying the highest number of votes will serve for four years and the third for two years.

On the ballot are the three incumbents, Village President Joseph Crupi, President Pro Tem Dean H. Lenheiser and Trustee J. Philip Anderson.

* * *

Other candidates in the nonpartisan election are Herbert Koester of 42780 Eight Mile, Eugenie J. Choquet of 727 S. Lake and Frank Movarak of 25325 Haggerty.

Romeo

Except for the possibility of successful write-in candidates, the new village officers here are already determined.

Running unopposed for the president's job is former Police Chief Edgar Welsch. Others seeking one-year terms are candidate for clerk, Norman Engel, incumbent Treasurer Mrs. Dorothy Hosner and Assessor Fred Ebeling.

The present clerk, Mrs. Dorothy Carl, is not seeking reelection.

* * *

Candidates for the three vacant two-year council seats are James C. Burke, 355 N. Bailey; Martin Durham, 275 Benjamin; and Thomas S. Raymond, 197 Washington.

OUT IN PRIMARY

Council incumbents Tony Galan and Jack McFadden, as well as Village President Wayne Black, were defeated by the present office seekers in the primary. Engel, an incumbent councilman, had decided to run for clerk, thus creating the third council vacancy.

Only the Republican party is represented in Romeo's balloting.

Others unopposed for reelection are incumbent library board members Edgar Priest and Thomas J. Schultz.

Rochester

Seven candidates are vying for the four Village Council vacancies here, including three of the incumbents.

Dr. John Terry, whose two-year term is expiring, is not seeking reelection.

Incumbents attempting to continue in their positions are Councilmen John O'Donnell, Roy Rewold and John Lowes.

* * *

Vying with the trio will be Burdette Lewis, 410 Parkdale; Robert G. Cannon, 306 Terry; Frank Voll Jr., 302 Glendale; and David N. Parker, 436 Hill.

FOUR VACANCIES

Each year there are four vacancies on the council. The top three vote-getters receive two-year terms while the candidate in fourth place serves for one year.

Ortonville

With one exception, all candidates for office here are unopposed incumbents. Raymond Long, 371 Sherman, is seeking to fill the post of assessor, vacated by incumbent Weber Ware, who has moved away.

Village President Charles F. Sherman is seeking a second one-year term in office. Others after reelection to their 12-month posts are Clerk LaVern Borst and Treasurer Mrs. Jennie Saunders.

Candidates for the three vacant two-year council positions in Monday's nonpartisan balloting are incumbents Raymond Barrick, Ronald Richards and Lavern Boutell.

PROGRAM PLANNERS—These three officials are discussing initial arrangements for a combined meeting of the two area chapters of the American Association for the United Nations at Oakland University April 21. They are (from left) Mrs. Robert W. Gaines and Mrs. Kenneth D. Roose, Rochester chapter board members, and Lee Spanier of Birmingham, president of the Oakland County chapter. Featured speaker at the session will be Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review and member of the National Board AAUN.

BARBARA SUE ARMSTRONG

The engagement of Barbara Sue Armstrong to Coy Ray Barber is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo O. Armstrong, 9835 Allen, Independence Township. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy E. Barber, 8015 Rattalee Lake, Independence Township. An August wedding is planned.

Farmington Landowners Get Street Program Data

FARMINGTON — Letters will be sent to more than 200 property owners here this week in an attempt to interest them in a proposed $150,000 street improvement program.

The project would involve some two miles of streets in the older residential section of the community, according to City Manager John D. Dinan.

The City Council will notify residents that the asphalt surfacing and drainage of the streets is inadequate. It will encourage them to sponsor initiatory petitions for the program.

* * *

Concrete paving, integral curbing and drainage construction are being sought for the "six larger residential streets that could conceivably be included in the 1964 program," Dinan said.

STREETS NAMED

Streets in question are Hawthorne from Nine Mile to Shiawassee, Oakland from Grand River to Gill, Maple from Grand River to Nine Mile, Brookdale from Grand River to Nine Mile, Lakeway from Grand River to Shiawassee and Warner from Shiawassee to Thomas.

"This is a new approach — our going to the people first with the information they need," Dinan said.

In the past, the council has waited for petitions from residents. But this time property owners will be advised of the need for improvements as well as the steps to take to get them.

* * *

Petitions to initiate the program require the signatures of at least 50 per cent of the property owners in each of the special assessment districts, six in this case.

Dinan said the petitions could be received until April 1 and still allow time for engineering and the necessary hearings. The project then could be undertaken this summer.

* * *

Preliminary estimates indicate the total cost would be in the neighborhood of $150,000. A "very tentative" breakdown assigns a cost of $10 per front foot to property owners, Dinan said.

He noted that the property owners normally finance about 80 per cent of such programs, with the city paying for intersections and a portion of corner lot assessments.

LINDA MARIE DIXON

June vows are being planned by Linda Marie Dixon and John L. Speese. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dixon of 1211 Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake. Her fiance is the son of Mrs. Myrtle Rundell, 1149 N. Eddie, Walled Lake.

JCs Invite Prospective Members

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Junior Chamber of Commerce has issued invitations to over 400 young men in the community to attend an informal gathering March 12 at Avon Township Hall.

The function is planned to acquaint prospective members with the purpose and ideals of the Jaycees.

A buffet dinner at 7 p. m. will be followed by a program during which the community services performed by the Jaycees will be outlined.

Membership is open to men between the ages of 21 and 35, but Russell B. Bennett, Jaycee president, said those attending the March 12 function are under no obligation to join the organization.

He added that other men in the age bracket who have not received invitations are welcome to attend and should contact him to make dinner reservations.

Those unable to make the meeting, who are still interested in the work of the Jaycees, should also get in touch with Bennett and he will arrange a visit with them in the near future.

His home is at 301 Thalia.

Smorgasbord Set in Milford

MILFORD — The women of the Milford Presbyterian Church are making preparations for their annual smorgasbord dinner, scheduled for tomorrow.

Mrs. Louis Lundstrom and Mrs. Harold Burley are co-chairmen of the 5-7:30 p.m. event.

Senior Citizens Create Club

MILFORD — Persons over 50 years old are being sought for a new senior citizens club here.

After two meetings, the organization has a healthy nucleus but is anxious to expand. Interested persons are invited to attend the next meeting Monday.

Members are to gather monthly for various activities — last month they attended a play at the high school as guests of the players.

* * *

Each senior citizen attending the 1 p.m. meeting at Milford Presbyterian Church should take his own sandwich for the refreshment period.

* * *

During a business session at 1:30 p.m., a chairman will be elected and meeting places for the future discussed.

New Federal Agency to Direct President's War on Poverty

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A brand new federal agency will be created to run President Johnson's war on poverty, an official source said today.

The source said that the chief duty of the new agency will be coordination of programs operated by other federal agencies, but it will also take over direct control of newly established programs such as the proposed Youth Conservation Corps and National Service Corps.

★ ★ ★

The President's message on the poverty program is expected to go to Congress Friday.

Apparently, the special task force assisting Sargent Shriver, who heads the poverty program and will head the new agency, has managed to work out a resolution of what has amounted to a bureaucratic tug-of-war.

WIDE DIFFERENCES

Reports Wednesday indicated there still were wide differences among the members of the task force, who represent such varying agencies as the departments of Labor, Welfare, Interior, Defense and Agriculture.

★ ★ ★

However, the source said that Walter Heller, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, began work Wednesday night on a final draft of the message.

The basic problem appeared to be how to coordinate the conflicting views and activities of the myriad of federal agencies involved in the massive project.

Welfare officials, who did much of the original planning, want to take it slowly.

Other top members of Shriver's task force, according to reports, want to jump right in with a crash program designed to show quick results in this election year.

"Welfare wants to go about it with a spoon," said one source, "while some of Shriver's advisers want to use a shovel."

Around Peace Corps headquarters, where the special task force meets, an air of urgency has been noted about the sessions, which often last until late at night. Some 50 to 75 top officials of many agencies are reported to be involved in drafting the program.

Yugoslavia Is Struck by Epidemic of Flu

BELGRADE (AP)—The Yugoslav press reported Wednesday that a flu epidemic is spreading in the country and has so far caused 21 deaths.

In the coal mine region of Tuzla, in central Yugoslavia, 16,000 cases of flu were reported. Nearly 2,000 miners are absent from work. Many schools in the country are closed.

U. S. Okays Loan to Arab Republic

CAIRO (AP) — The United States agreed Wednesday to lend the United Arab Republic the equivalent of $69.3 million in local currency drawn from the sale of American surplus commodities here.

★ ★ ★

The loan, to be used in financing U.A.R. development plans, is repayable over 30 years.

The agreement was reached in talks between Phillips Talbot, U.S. assistant secretary of state for Near East affairs, and the U.A.R. Treasury Minister Dr. Abdel Moheim Kaysouny.

The highest lighthouse in the United States is at Lehua, Hawaii. It is 709 feet above sea level.

British Conservative Party Shows Renewed Strength

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

When Winston Churchill led his party to victory in the British elections of October, 1951, it was the beginning of unbroken Conservative Party rule extending to this moment.

In elections generally predicted for June, under the new leadership of Sir Alec Douglas-Home, the Conservatives will try for their fourth consecutive victory.

NEWSOM

And for the first time in many months, they are being given a chance to win.

★ ★ ★

Latest public opinion polls show the Labor Party of Harold Wilson leading the Conservatives by 5.5 percentage points, a gain of 2.5 points for the Conservatives in a week.

At the peak of the Profumo sex scandal within the government last fall, the polls showed Labor leading by a seemingly insurmountable 20 points.

Credit for the apparent voter switch is being given to two sources. One is the current wave of prosperity which Britain is enjoying.

★ ★ ★

The other is Douglas-Home whose selection to replace the ailing Harold Macmillan as British prime minister split the party in bitter debate which brought glee to the Laborites.

BRITISH TRADITION

Traditionally, the British voter has ignored the idiosyncracies of politicians and voted according to his pocketbook. Financially, he is feeling fine.

Unemployment is down to less than 2 per cent and wages are at a record high.

Industries are expanding and some are complaining of a shortage of skilled men, particularly in construction.

★ ★ ★

So headlong has been the rush of the British economy that the government, which last year cut taxes to spur it on, lately felt impelled to put on the brakes by raising the bank rate on borrowing.

MORE SURPRISES

More of a surprise, especially to his detractors, has been Sir Alec Douglas-Home. When Harold Macmillan named him foreign minister in his government in July 1960, the appointment was met by derision and ridicule.

He was dubbed "Faceless Earl." He was an earl before stripping himself of all of his titles but one.

But he proved himself a more than competent foreign minister.

When Macmillan named him to succeed as head of the party and prime minister, the howls rose again.

So deep was the split within the party that one writer, surveying possibilities of the coming election, described the Conservatives as displaying a "collective death wish."

ABOVE QUARREL

The one man who seemed above the quarrel was Douglas-Home himself.

He toured the countryside, traveled to Washington and exposed his engaging smile and thin-faced, bony features on television.

The result, Douglas-Home, the "faceless" one, was making his impression as prime minister. He also was emerging as a political in-fighter.

★ ★ ★

To Harold Wilson's claim that Labor could best lead the way to a renewal of science, education and industry, he replied by calling Wilson a "salesman of synthetic science."

Replying to Wilson's demand that Britain "sweep away the grouse-moor conception of national leadership," he showed a sense of humor.

He quietly advised his ministers against grouse shooting. It was, he said, becoming a dirty word.

India Slum Dwellers Reluctant to Leave

MADRAS, India (AP) — Slum dwellers in India's fourth largest city are reluctant to move to new government housing because they miss the friendly old surroundings, according to a recent social work study.

★ ★ ★

The study, made among 7,000 people in three slums, showed that difficulty in raising animals in the new tenements was another factor. A third was the distance people had to travel to their old jobs.

WOMEN'S SECTION

"Borghese" is the name of these new lazyback pillows from Nettle Creek Industries, with gimp applique matching their background colors: Persian blue, gold, asparagus, brass, Wedgwood, champagne, cranberry, pink, aqua. Fabric of the pillows, which come in three shapes each retailing at $7.95, is Nettle Creek's elegant Turino blend of silk and Fortisan. May be ordered locally.

Handsome, indeed, are these lazyback pillows hand-embroidered in India for Nettle Creek Industries. Called the "Firebird" group, pillows have names descriptive of their colorful motifs: above — Snowflake, Flower Garden, Wheel; below — Skyrocket, Potpourri, Firebird. Each of the pillows retails at $16.95. Can be ordered locally.

After 50 Years

Federation Looks Back

To remind club women affiliated with the Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs of their past, Mrs. D. Richard Veazey has compiled a history for the group's golden anniversary celebration.

The Federation will hold a special program Monday at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. James Clarkson, St. Jude Drive. All members of the affiliated clubs are invited to attend.

Past presidents attending the meeting will present a one-minute talk on the accomplishments of their terms.

★ ★ ★

Here is Mrs. Veazey's researched report:

SOMETHING BETTER

"Women to Federate for a Betterment of Conditions Here." "Every Woman in Pontiac Interested in City and Its Welfare Urged to Become Member of Body." Thus read headlines of a late 1912 edition of the Press Gazette.

★ ★ ★

On a late fall Wednesday afternoon at the First Congregational Church, representatives of the town's leading clubs met. Included were the Woman's Literary Club, the West Side Reading Circle, the Research Club, the Round Table Club, the Oakland County Humane Society, the DAR and Women's Christian Temperence Union.

Also attending were the ladies societies from the First Baptist, First Presbyterian, First Congregational, First and Central Methodist, Episcopal and All Saints' Episcopal churches.

They met "for the purpose of federating the clubs of the city into an organization so that Pontiac women could carry forward their philanthropic and moral betterment to a better advantage."

They listened to the accomplishments of the city federation of women's clubs of Ann Arbor as given by Mrs. W. H. Waite, its president.

A committee made up of the presidents of the Woman's Literary Club, the West Side Reading Circle, the Research Club and the Round Table Club was appointed to draw up a constitution under the name of the Women's City Federation of Pontiac Clubs.

MRS. HENDRIE LEADS

Under the leadership of its first president, Mrs. George Hendrie, the new Federation soon selected projects for goals, such as a free public library, parks and playgrounds, the appointment of a visiting nurse and a woman probation officer, and the appointment of a Public Morality Committee for the city.

Perhaps the earliest accomplishment, in the summer of 1914, was the sponsorship of furnishing playground equipment for the YMCA acre playground which was located on West Pike street near the Clinton River.

★ ★ ★

Food merchants felt the power of women united when the federation backed sanitation laws, thus making screen doors on their establishments and hanging and covering meat compulsory.

CAME THE WAR

World War I found most of the organizations taking on emergency relief work and later charity work, until the federation eventually was absorbed by the charities association.

★ ★ ★

Determined to have another city federation, representatives of the Woman's Literary Club, Pontiac Woman's Club, the Round Table Club and the Research Club met at the Congregational Church on Sept. 14, 1920 to discuss plans.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Charles Shattuck called that meeting to order and Mrs. George Hadley was elected temporary chairman and Mrs. C. E. Killinger temporary secretary.

REORGANIZED

The October 26 organizational meeting saw Mrs. E. V. Howlett elected to serve as the first president of the new City Federation of Women's Clubs.

★ ★ ★

In 1921 the City Federation joined the county and state federations, and in 1924 it became a member of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

★ ★ ★

During the 1920s, residents of Pontiac saw and heard many outstanding programs and social events sponsored by these departments.

★ ★ ★

Under public welfare, the Federation provided a free hospital bed for care of indigent children from 1922 till 1931. A school lunch and milk program was supported for a few years. Unsightly plots of ground were beautified.

GUARDED MORALS

A public morals commission for the city was demanded by the Federation, and it saw that a police woman was hired.

During the depression, in order to help an ailing economy and the general public, the Federation petitioned that the city waive payment and interest on taxes for a given period.

For three years beginning with 1933 it supported and raised funds for a crippled children's project.

25 YEARS

In 1938, with Mrs. Peter Davidson as president, a silver anniversary luncheon was held.

★ ★ ★

With the advent of more and diversified organizations for women in the mid thirties, the Federation again found need to reorganize.

The John A. Schmidts of Birmingham announce the engagement of their daughter Kathleen Ewing Schmidt to David Jackson Payne, son of Daniel J. Payne of Greensboro, N.C., and Mrs. James C. Rogerson of Greenville, N.C. Her fiance was graduated cum laude from the North Carolina State College.

With Mrs. Charles J. Barrett as president, the organization, made up of 12 city clubs, became the Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs, the name that it is known as today.

LOCAL CONCERNS

No longer federated with county, state and national federations of women's clubs, the Pontiac Federation diverted its energies to city problems and affairs.

★ ★ ★

To assist in employment for women, a maids' training program was established and ran till World War II beckoned women to war effort employment.

★ ★ ★

A free driver training program for women, which licensed over 500 drivers, was conducted in conjunction with the police department for a few years.

WAR AGAIN

World War II volunteer work on the part of many of its members, along with rationing, meant the curtailment of Federation activities temporarily. Until the end of the war, it functioned only as an advisory board. Even as such, it sponsored a three year nursing scholarship for a county girl at Henry Ford Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Today, the Federation functions as a group interested in the welfare of the general public and the city and continues to serve as a voice for the city's clubwomen. Perhaps its greatest contribution to the city in more recent years was the sponsorship of the organization of the Board of Trustees for Pontiac General Hospital.

No Harm in Identical Dresses

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I recently bought a new dress. I wore it for the first time the other evening to my sister-in-law's house.

She admired it very much and asked me where I bought it. I told her. She went out the very next day and bought one exactly like it.

When she returned home, she called to tell me about it. I was furious when I heard it and told her she was very unfair to do this.

She thinks I am taking a selfish attitude and sees nothing wrong in what she did.

I would like your opinion.

★ ★ ★

A: It wasn't very nice of your sister-in-law to go out and buy a duplicate of your dress without first asking whether or not you had any objection to her doing so.

However, of you do not travel in the same circle, I can't see any great harm in her having a dress like yours.

Q: Will you please tell me how wine is correctly served to the guests at the table when there is no maid to fill the glasses?

Is the bottle put on the table and passed around for each one to fill his or her own glass, or does the host fill all the glasses?

★ ★ ★

A: The host fills the glasses of those within his reach and then passes the bottle to those farther away.

Q: When dining in a restaurant and the waiter holds the chair for you, should this courtesy be acknowledged with a thank you, or is it taken for granted as part of his duties?

A: Although not necessary, it is always gracious to say thank you for a courtesy shown you.

The Emily Post Institute offers readers booklets on a varitey of subjects concerning etiquette.

If you would like the booklet entitled, "Bride's Trousseau," send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Her Husband's Eyes Shine When the Girls Are Around

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We have been married 42 years and are both in our sixties. My husband has always been a ladies' man, but the older he gets, the worse he gets. He has to have a woman doctor, a woman barber, and he will never let a man wait on him in a store if he can get a woman to do it.

ABBY

If a neighbor woman drops in to visit with me, even if he is busy outside, he comes right in and takes over, and I seldom get a word in.

Also, when the most innocent remark is made, his eyes light up, he gets a dirty smirk on his face and he twists it around to make it sound smutty.

I am at the end of my rope. Does this happen to ALL men when they get on in years?

DIRTY OLD MAN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: No. Your husband could be more than a "dirty old man." He could be a sick one.

Doctors have seen this type, and one should see yours soon!

DEAR ABBY: Today, while I was on the school bus, the bus driver hit a dog. All of us kids told him about it, and all he said was, "I am aware of that."

★ ★ ★

Abby, he didn't even stop to see if the dog was dead or not. Up until now I have always thought of this bus driver as a nice person.

Now I don't want to look at him. None of us kids could do a thing.

LOVES DOGS IN KOKOMO, IND.

★ ★ ★

DEAR LOVES DOGS: If you haven't already done so, tell your parents and they will certainly take it up with the school authorities.

The bus driver should have stopped and done what he could to help the poor animal.

Had the bus driver been alone, the crime would not have been less, but to have set such a poor example for school children is inexcusable.

DEAR ABBY: At Christmas-time I gave my boy friend a leather wallet and a pair of silver cuff links. He gave me a ball point pen with the name of an insurance company on it.

For Valentine's Day I gave him a 12 by 14 tinted picture of myself in a real pretty frame, and he didn't give me anything. What gives?

KATHY

DEAR KATHY: Not your boy friend.

DEAR ABBY: The item in your column, "Confidential to Buffalo Bill: Do not resent growing old. It is a privilege denied to many" hit me hard, Abby.

I am a 26-year-old widow with two small children, 6 and 8. My husband was 27 years old when he died of electric shock at his job.

If people only knew how lucky they were to have each other!

HEARTBROKEN IN BATAVIA, N.Y.

Auxiliary Hears Talk on Liability

"Negligence and Liability" were discussed at the Wednesday meeting of the Oakland County Bar Association Auxiliary at Forest Lake Country Club.

Speaker William Beasley of the Oakland County Bar Association, was introduced by program chairman, Mrs. William B. Hartman.

Hostesses were Mrs. Frederick C. Ziem, Mrs. Walter R. Denison, Mrs. Eugene A. Moore and Mrs. John McGrath.

DONATION

Mrs. John O'Brien and Mrs. Jerome Mulligan, cochairmen of the annual card party, reported that the proceeds had been presented to the Oakland County Children's Center to be used at the discretion of the probate judges.

★ ★ ★

Plans were announced for the "Law Day USA" poster contest and program to be held at the Oakland County Supervisors Auditorium on May 1, 1964.

Country Club Gives Dance

Shades of green will predominate when Oakland Hills Country Club presents its Shillelagh Stomp March 14.

Strolling musicians will play throughout the 7 to 8:30 p.m. cocktail hour, followed by the music of Chuck Leonard and his band for dancing until 1 a.m. Dinner will be at 8:30 p.m.

Club hosts for the evening are Mr. and Mrs. John J. Ahern with Mr. and Mrs. Judge Bearden, the David B. Falconers, John M. Howtings, John J. Laheys, Henry T. Schlacters and the Donald L. O'Tooles assisting.

Weather Can't Dampen Area Sorority Activity

In spite of fog and wet, four sorority units are active.

Alpha Omicron Pi

Detroit North Suburban Alumnae of Alpha Omicron Pi will meet at 8:15 p.m. March 10 in the Pleasant Ridge home of Mrs. John Kaatz.

★ ★ ★

Assisting her with hostess duties will be Mrs. Henry Stahl and Mrs. Earl Meyer.

The evening's program will feature a hair styling demonstration.

Beta Sigma Phi

Donations to the Detroit Cerebral Palsy Center were allocated at the Monday evening meeting of Xi Beta Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

The group will attend the City Council Style Show and card party at 8 p.m. March 18 in the "300 Lounge."

Mrs. Daryl Donaldson of Kohler Street was hostess for the meeting.

Chapter Officers

Officers were elected at the Wednesday evening dinner meeting of Xi Gamma Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. Russell C. Perkins was re-elected president. Marcelle Kitson is vice president; and City Council delegate; Mrs. George Pudduck, recording secretary; Mrs. Richard Paschke, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Russell Lehigh, treasurer.

Mrs. Vincent Schneider opened her West Kennett Road home for the meeting.

★ ★ ★

The group will work on items for the annual Founder's Day banquet at their next meeting.

Kappa Chi Alpha

Mrs. Clare Johnson and Mrs. Peter Proctor presented a fashion show called "Bees in Your Bonnet" at the Tuesday meeting of Kappa Chi Alpha.

Members made Easter baskets for the Carolyn Carr Leukemia Chapter while gathered in the Lansdowne Street home of Mrs. Bruce Burmeister.

A benefit sale will be held from 8 a.m. to noon April 3 in the CAI building.

City Panhellenic Plans Spring Tea

Pontiac City Panhellenic members finalized plans for the annual spring tea, Monday, in the home of Mrs. Wayne McCandless on West Iroquois Road. Cohostesses were Mrs. Wayne Pyke and Mrs. Robert Crandall.

Mrs. Janet Odell, women's editor of The Pontiac Press, spoke concerning "The Place of Women in Today's World," a thought-provoking study of the past, present and future of women in a changing era.

Chairman for the tea for college-bound senior girls and their mothers, is Mrs. Glen Dick. It will be held March 28 in the activities room of First Federal Savings of Oakland.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Donald L. Weldon of Bloomfield, college district president for Kappa Delta Sorority, will speak.

A panel of college girls who were former Pontiac high school students will discuss sorority and campus life.

Mrs. William Belaney, ways and means chairman, conducted a Chinese auction. Proceeds were tagged for the group's scholarship fund.

★ ★ ★

The April 6 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. William Freyermuth on Mohawk Road.

Any area woman who is a member of a national college sorority is eligible for membership in Pontiac City Panhellenic. Mrs. Pyke, president, will handle her reservation.

Pontiac Press Photos

Pancakes are always an appetizing dish. At least Mrs. Lucinda Wyckoff (left) of Newberry Street and Mrs. Ralph Spadafore of West Iroquois Road seem to think so. Both are members of the Pontiac Business and Professional Women's club which is sponsoring a pancake supper Tuesday from 5:30 to 7 p.m. in the First Federal Savings of Oakland building.

St. Michael Altar Society Meets

Plans for the spring card party April 7 at 8 p.m. were discussed by members of the St. Michael Altar Society at a Tuesday meeting in the church hall.

★ ★ ★

Cochairmen for the event, Mrs. George McCormick and Mrs. Michael Harbert, were announced by Mrs. Gayle Coulson, president of the society.

Plans are also under way for the annual May breakfast to be served by Holy Name Society men of the parish May 10.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Robert Schmude gave a report on the convention of the National Council of Catholic Women, held in the Statler-Hilton, Detroit on March 1 and 2.

★ ★ ★

Sister Mary Maura, principal of St. Michael School, was keynote speaker, talking on "Vocations to the Religious Life."

★ ★ ★

Arrangements for a food shower for the sisters on St. Joseph's Day, March 19, are being made.

★ ★ ★

St. Rose unit served coffee following the meeting.

Selvage Salvages

When making a dress with kimono-type sleeves, sew a one-fourth inch wide strip of selvage in the underarm seam to keep the sleeves from ripping or tearing under the arm.

Terry Tablecloth

Use a small terrycloth hand towel as a spread for the bedside table of a sick person. It's good for absorbing spills and is easily washed.

Not Catch-All but Cabinet

The family medicine chest is often the family catch-all. Medicine chests should be cleaned out at least every six months for safety's sake as well as good housekeeping.

★ ★ ★

First, take everything out, then discard empty bottles, non-current prescriptions, old razor blades. Clean and disinfect shelves using a cellulose sponge and a pine oil cleaner—wipe shelves dry and repack usable items only.

Parliamentary Study Unit to Elect Leaders

Leaders for the coming club year will be selected at the March 18 meeting of the Parliamentary Study Club at Devon Gables.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Merrell Petrie and Mrs. Fred Goines directed the group's Wednesday meeting in the Pontiac Masonic Temple.

★ ★ ★

Methods of voting, nomination, majority, plurality, and two-thirds vote, tie vote, and president's vote, as well as counting ballots and report of tellers were demonstrated during the program.

★ ★ ★

Among those participating in the presentation were Mrs. Lee Hill, Mrs. Irvin Weiss, Mrs. Rosa Elliott, Mrs. Lewis Swartz, and Mrs. Joseph Panter.

Some Children Use Trust as a Weapon

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Our 18-year-old girl refuses to telephone home at night when she stays out later than she said she would.

She says we want her to phone because we don't trust her the way we should. Can you help us with this problem?

We are trying to be as understanding as we can, but it is terrible to lie awake worrying when she doesn't get home at the time she promised to . . . .

ANSWER: To your daughter your "trust" seems to mean permission to behave unreliably and inconsiderately.

Let's get clear here. Everyone except hermits, prison inmates and hospital patients has to keep someone else posted on their changes of plans.

Businessmen phone secretaries when appointments delay them. Husbands phone wives when they miss the 5:15.

Roommates leave notes when they are called away unexpectedly. If the people with whom we live or work insist on breaking their promises by refusing to inform us of changes in their plans, we soon find it impossible to trust them.

SPEAK TO HER

If this seems to be the truth to you, I suggest that you speak to your daughter.

Some young people use the word "trust" to bully parents the way some parents use the word "love" to bully children.

The parents say, "Let me get away with this because I love you." The young people say, "Let me keep you in a state of suspense because you trust me."

The word "trust" as your daughter is using it is a manipulating word, calculated to shame you into unprotesting submission to irresponsible and inconsiderate treatment.

PERSUADE HER

I don't know whether you can persuade her to give the commonplace courtesy of informing you about changes in her late evening plans.

But I certainly urge you to clarify her on her abuse of the word "trust." As it is, she is exploiting it to justify breaking of promises to you.

The child psychologists who urge us to "trust" young people who treat us unreliably are sentimental people. We can't do it.

Teen-agers, as all others, get trust from us when they have earned it by responsible conduct.

The psychologists' hymns to the magical properties of parental trust confuse this reality for us — and encourage inexperienced, self-centered youngsters like your daughter to confuse it, too.

Polly's Pointers

Hint for Polishing

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — For a high gloss on furniture, apply a coating of your favorite polish, sprinkle on a moderate amount of cornstarch and rub to a high gloss.

* * *

Cornstarch absorbs the oil and leaves a highly polished surface. No more fingerprints.

● Put two or three turkish towels in your washing machine when laundering plastic shower curtains.

Towels rubbing against the plastic help remove hard-to-get-off water spots.

● To be sure of the right shade of paint, paint the inside of a paint can. The color reflects itslef to show its intensity in a finished room.

● To stiffen bristles on a broom or scrub brush dip up and down in a solution of hot water and baking soda. — MRS. D. B.

DEAR POLLY — My idea is for making an epergne for a table centerpiece or other ornament.

With china cement, secure a beer stein (turned upside down) to the center of a glass plate about 10 inches in diameter.

On top of the stein glue an eight-inch plate, and on top of that another inverted beer stein.

Top with a custard dish or some dish about the same size as the base of the glass it is to rest on.

Spray gold or black or any color you desire and you will have an attractive holder for fruits or flowers. — MRS. R. O.

DEAR POLLY — I have a good method for getting children to do a good dusting job. Hide buttons around areas of furniture they are most likely to skip, such as the legs of a table.

If the little helper does not collect all the buttons, you will know spots have been missed. As an extra reward, hide a penny or two with the button. Let the child keep the pennies. — MRS. N. E.

DEAR POLLY — Many times my children have gone to a public gathering and returned home minus a wallet or change purse.

I solved this by attaching a piece of half-inch elastic to the top and bottom of each wallet. Slipped over the hand and onto the wrist, it prevents loss.

The elastic is hardly felt. I read the column every day and love the hints. — KATHY

Two Members Receive Pins

Two members were presented with their ideal weight pins at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Fashionette Club.

Mrs. Robert Hoffman, vice president presided at the Adah Shelly library.

Mrs. Harold Hopper was in charge of the program for the evening, which included "Remember When," a game of picking out the baby pictures of each member present.

Clean Coiffures

Now that sleek, chic coiffures really put your hair in the spotlight, it may be necessary to shampoo as often as two or three times a week in order to keep it looking its fashionable best.

The Bubbles Trouble Boils

Dr. Summer L. Loch, a Chicago surgeon, advises that recurring boils and carbuncles should be treated with plenty of soap and water.

When these maladies result from staphylococcus germ infections, cut fingernails short and scrub hands and fingertips for five minutes each night with soap, water and a brush.

This surgeon recommends that the area around a boil should be washed each day with a clean washcloth and warm soapsuds.

Also wash sheets and pillowcases twice a week, launder blankets and dry them in the sun for five or six hours, and suds off children's metal furniture and plastic toys twice each week.

Smooth Away Possible Cause of Costly 'Runs'

Stocking runs are both costly and annoying. Next time you lose a stocking this way don't blame the manufacturer till you check up on your own legs. Even the slightest stubble can snag the cobweb thin filament. Shave the legs or use depilatory before it becomes obviously necessary. Soothe reddened skin and the razor nicks and scrapes with good quality witch hazel.

Sitting Stimuli for Circulation

People who don't feel "up to" push-ups or tennis still require some stimulus to circulation. A "painless" way to accomplish this is in connection with your daily bath.

Soap and rinse as usual, then step out of the tub and dry briskly with a turkish towel — giving yourself an all-over rub-down.

This vigorous massage stimulates circulation, makes your skin glow, and helps improve appearance and health.

Face in Window Often Deceiving About Beauty

If you've ever seen a pretty face through a car or train window and then been disappointed when the whole person came into view, you know the importance of a slender figure to beauty.

Today, you don't have to be a martyr to carrot sticks and black coffee to win the battle of the bulge. Manufacturers have come up with low-calorie main dishes that are nutricious and delicious. It's possible to buy low-calorie cookies, cakes, ice milk or soft drinks. The variety is infinite.

Beauty Baths for the Floors

Schedule beauty treatments for your hardwood floors as conscientiously as you do for your complexion.

Clean them with cleaning wax three or four times a year. In between treatments, dry dust the floor with a mop.

For a quick beauty "touch-up," rewax traffic areas, like hallways and doorways.

Keep Hair Up as Night Falls

When night falls, be sure that your high - up hairdo doesn't fall also! To keep that top knot firmly anchored in the most fashionable manner, rely on the aid of large mock tortoise shell hairpins, jeweled circlets, ornamental clips, or combs.

Only a shampoo can give your hair the kind of beauty that deserves all that attention! And remember that the ornaments also need sudsing often.

Hair Perks Up for Springtime

Here's how to make a shy hairdo showy for spring. Brush your hair thoroughly. Back-comb, strand by strand, spraying each lightly teased tress with spray.

* * *

When you have a field of fronds, brush your hair up, up, up quickly and lightly. Continue until all hair, sides and back, meet at the top. Mold a smooth, tall turban by brushing hair round and round.

* * *

If needed, hold in place with gold or decorated bobby pins. Let the ends curl on top. It's a brand new high-rise coiffure you can do yourself in minutes. Spray the finished 'do to hold it high and handsome in the spring breezes.

Start Worrying About Yuletide Bills Now

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

Our problem is Christmas gifts. — next Christmas! After a very frugal year, we have a budget in very bad shape. Yet we bought nothing for ourselves this last Christmas, and only spent $25 on our children.

MARY FEELEY

We come from very large families who expect us to get something for everyone. They think we should go in debt to do this and we have. My husband's take home pay is $73 a week. He is attending college part-time. We have two children.

Do you think we should go in debt to remember every member of our families? There are 17 small children alone! Do you feel we are financially able to buy gifts for the people who buy us gifts? Incidentally, everyone in both families is better off financially than we are.

Thank you very much for any help you can give us.

Mrs. B. J., Columbus, Ohio

Dear Mrs. J.:

You've picked the right time to start worrying — while there is time enough to do something about your problem. Of course, the quick and easy answer is simply if you can't afford it, don't do it.

But that's not a very satisfactory answer. Have you considered the thought that it is not really selfishness, on the part of your families to expect you to remember them all at Christmas?

When one segment of a big family group is always on the outside, it hurts the feeling of solidity that binds the whole connection together. Personally, I think you and your children gain by joining in family customs, and by keeping that warm contact with uncles, aunts, and cousins.

So I'd say the question is not "to give or not to give." Instead, it's how to give.

* * *

I'm going to quote from a reader in Albany, Ill., who wrote me about her method of Christmas shopping for a passel of relatives:

COUPON SAVER

"I'm a great label, box-top and coupon saver. All year round I watch the different articles companies offer for box-tops and labels. Here is a partial list of merchandise you can receive with 'no money' — necklaces, talcum powder, stockings, trays, dishes of all sorts, bracelets, children's small toys, baby clothes, lipsticks, dish towels, silverware, items for the house."

In addition to keeping an eye open for such opportunities, why not start right now accumulating one gift item at a time? Often as you go through the supermarket, some item will strike you as the right thing for a certain person.

Sometimes such a purchase involves only small change. Put your imagination to work when you go in the dime store. It's a rich field for shopping for children.

* * *

Such small items as attractive pencils, note pads, change purses, colorful head bands and the like are welcome gifts.

If you can sew even a little, there are many pretty and useful things you can make. Ideas have always proven a good substitute for money. Accept this challenge of a big family circle and count yourself lucky.

There are far more advantages than disadvantages. Don't fall into the trap of thinking you must compete in price, item for item, with the type of gifts you receive. That's what gets you into debt.

* * *

Give in your own way, within your own means. I believe you'll find you can do it on that basis — and even enjoy it.

Dear Miss Feeley:

Two months ago my aunt asked if she could move in with us — my husband and three children. I did not know what to charge her for a private room and board. Another aunt said that $50 a month was reasonable. I have since found out that this same aunt wanted $80 a month to keep her!

* * *

Please advise me what I should charge her and how to go about telling her in a nice way.

Mrs. D. S., New Orleans

Dear Mrs. S.:

The tone of your letter indicates that the whole idea isn't a very happy one in the first place. I suspect no amount of room - and - board payment would make your aunt very welcome. If this is truly the case, then the situation won't get any better as your aunt gets older and perhaps requires actual care.

Perhaps it would be wisest to discuss calmly with her the fact that your growing children will need more room —including the one she is occupying — and that other arrangements might be more satisfactory for all concerned.

However, if you feel unable to do that, then just tell her you have found that expenses are greater than you expected. Therefore you must ask her for $80 a month — or whatever your particular budget requires.

* * *

Soapy Sales Sweep Clean

It takes precticallly no talent — and very little money — to create an unusual display for a store window, or a restaurant or sodashop mirror, simply by using soapsuds.

Take a supply of soap (or detergent) and a little warm tap water, and beat them together with an electric mixer to produce suds the texture of stiff meringue.

* * *

Use a sponge or paint brush to apply these suds as a message or design on a window or mirror — and then add a second coat of a more opaque, textured effect is desired. Simple words and sketches are most effective.

When "it's time for a change," just wipe off the suds with a wet cloth or sponge. This will leave a sparkling clean window all ready for the next display!

Chopped Sauerkraut Made Into Appetizer

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Mrs. Donald W. Martin who is a newcomer in Pontiac shares a most interesting recipe with Press readers — Sauerkraut Balls. These she serves along with other hors d'oeuvres.

This doesn't seem to be a recipe that would appeal to youngsters, but young David Martin says he likes this way of fixing sauerkraut.

SAUERKRAUT BALLS
By Mrs. Donald W. Martin

4 tablespoons margarine
1 onion, chopped
1½ cups chopped ham
½ clove garlic, minced
4 tablespoons flour
½ cup beef broth
3 cups sauerkraut, drained and chopped
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 egg
2 cups milk
Bread crumbs

Melt margarine in skillet and brown chopped onion slightly. Add ham and garlic and brown these slightly. Stir in flour and cook thoroughly.

Add broth, sauerkraut, parsley and cook a few minutes more. This should form a stiff paste. Cool.

Form into balls 1 inch in diameter. Beat eggs and milk together. Dip balls in flour, then beaten egg, then bread crumbs. Fry in deep fat until brown. Makes about 50.

Iraq Caldron to Hold Party

Iraq Caldron, Daughters of Mokanna, will sponsor the annual card party, April 21, in the First Federal Savings of Oakland activities room.

Proceeds of the evening affair will aid the United Cerebral Palsy Association of Pontiac.

At Wednesday's meeting in the club rooms, Mrs. Victor O. Bodamer was appointed general chairman with Mrs. Roger Smiley in charge of ticket sales.

From Out to In

To make a foil liner for a baking dish or pan, first shape the foil over the outside of the inverted utensil, then place inside.

Soak Sink Mats

You can remove the dirt from a badly soiled rubber sink mat by soaking it for a couple of hours in a weak solution of bleach and water.

Bundles for Baby

Before starting on a trip, attach a shoe bag to the back of the front seat of the car and store baby's needs and toys in it.

Drown, Remove

When trying to remove rusty screws or bolts from an object, try saturating them first with lighter fluid and then waiting a few minutes.

JFK Autograph 'Rarest'

Search Is On for Kennedy's Letters

By JERRY KLEIN

NEW YORK (NEA) — A teenage boy named John F. Kennedy daydreamed over his schoolbook, scrawled his name in 12 different places, drew an elephant on one page and on another envisioned himself romantically as "John the fearless of Burgundy."

Today these items are in the files of Charles Hamilton, an autograph dealer who knows the handwriting of our presidents just as well as he knows his own. With some 250 others, the Kennedy items will be auctioned on March 19.

"There is no predicting just how much these things will bring, but already Kennedy autographs have become the rarest of all our presidents," Hamilton said. "Until the assassination, things signed by William Henry Harrison were the most scarce because he was president for only one month, but I have seen more Harrisons than there are genuine Kennedys."

* * *

The late Chief Executive put his name to very few papers, the autograph expert said. So his signature is becoming "very valuable." As evidence, some Abraham Lincoln and George Washington items will be offered in the auction, too, but Hamilton "wouldn't be at all surprised" if Kennedy tops Lincoln and Washington in the bidding.

NOTHING OF BEAUTY

Not that the late President Kennedy's writing was a thing of beauty. "The President was well-educated and a Pulitzer Prize winner, but he had no interest in writing so that anyone could read it," the autograph expert declared. "In fact, Kennedy's penmanship was hardly legible; he rarely signed his name twice the same way. The only consistent thing about his signature is that you can never decipher it!"

Kennedy's handwriting was more clear when he was young. It was while at the Choate School that he wrote his name a dozen times in the copy of "Cyrano de Bergerac" — after crossing out the penciled signature of his older brother, Joe, who had used the book before him.

Hamilton says that since the assassination, things written by Kennedy have "attracted more interest than anybody I have ever handled — and that includes Lincoln, Mark Twain, Napoleon and anybody else."

JFK's autograph has risen in value "at least 400 per cent" to the point where the dealer says a handwritten letter by the President might be worth $1,000; an especially interesting letter as high as $4,000.

Not long after the assassination Hamilton was himself asked $5,000 for a letter that Kennedy had supposedly signed. On examination, the expert found that Kennedy's name had been placed on the letter by machine.

"Kennedy wasn't the only president to have letters signed by machine. It's a habit that began when Andrew Johnson hurt his right hand soon after entering the White House," the autograph dealer explained.

Not long after the shooting in Dallas, Hamilton says that another New York dealer in autographs was offered 18 letters supposedly signed by the late Chief Executive. The owner was dismayed to discover that only one was genuine.

Distinguishing between the real thing and a facsimile signature is virtually impossible for the average person. Hamilton pointed out that even experts can be confused as to whether the writing was done with a ballpoint or not.

CAREFUL CHECKING

Such a pen leaves an ink trail similar to that made by machine. Only under a magnifying glass can a skilled student of handwriting see the overin pressure that signify handlapping strokes and variations writing.

* * *

Two more things from the hand of John F. Kennedy are included in the auction: Some memoranda he wrote while a senator; the other, a program for a Democratic dinner held during the 1960 presidential campaign. Kennedy wrote his name beneath caricatures of Eisenhower and Nixon.

Hamilton said that "a lively market" has developed, too, for things written by Mrs. Kennedy. Already, he declared, her writings are more valuable than comparable ones of another famous and fashionable First Lady, Dolley Madison.

Wonders 'Y' Luci Has 'I'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he used to think he could spell, but his 16-year-old daughter has given him some qualms.

He said yesterday that he knew such rules as placing "I" before "E" except after "C", but his daughter corrected him. It's "I" after "C" as far as she is concerned.

The President made this smiling reference to the new way in which his daughter spells her name — it's Luci, instead of Lucy, the name her parents gave her.

Reds Claim GIs Are Scared in Viet Nam; Another Dead

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — A U.S. Army officer was killed by Communist guerrillas yesterday while on combat patrol with a Vietnamese Army unit, it was announced today.

The announcement, on the eve of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's visit here, said that another U.S. serviceman was wounded by guerrillas in a separate incident.

The officer, who was not identified pending notification of relatives, was on patrol in the central highlands north of Saigon. He was the third American to die in the guerrilla war this week. The combat death toll now stands at 111 Americans, with another 80 killed in noncombat accidents.

* * *

Communist China charged in propaganda broadcasts yesterday that U.S. troops here are panic - stricken. Moscow Radio broadcast warnings against extending the guerrilla war to North Viet Nam.

RED WARNINGS

Peking said the United States is "heading toward complete collapse in South Viet Nam."

Moscow warned of "serious consequences" if the United States invades Communist North Viet Nam, as has been suggested as a means of cutting off guerrilla supply sources.

The Communist New China News Agency, monitored in Tokyo, charged that "the Yankee soldiers, far from home, find themselves panic-stricken in the jungles . . . their modern, long-range weapons can no longer serve any useful purpose."

* *

It referred to the deaths of the U.S. officers in guerrilla fighting earlier this week and the defeat of a Vietnamese government force as the "ignominious end of the South Vietnamese puppet troops and U.S. aggressors."

'NEW WARFARE'

"The reverses are extraordinarily serious because the United States has been using South Viet Nam as a testing ground for its special warfare," New China said.

"If it fails the test in South Viet Nam, it can hardly hope for more success in other places.

"If the special warfare fails, the global strategy is as good as lost."

* * *

Moscow Radio said "extension of U.S. intervention in South Viet Nam would have serious consequences for the United States itself."

* * *

"The Pentagon brass hats are making a bad mistake if they imagine they can attack North Viet Nam with impunity," it added. "The U.S.S.R. has already warned them that it will not permit this and will repulse invasion."

FIRE SWEEPS PLANT — A five-alarm fire rages out of control at the Baldwin Piano Co. warehouse in Cincinnati last night. Several firemen were injured. Damage estimates were expected to be low, since the building had been marked for demolition.

Worker Gets a Pen Back From Rocky

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — After Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller signed autographs in Kelly's drugstore in Newport, N.H., one day last month, he apparently walked off with an employe's pen.

Michael Paul Towey, 15, wrote the governor, wished him well in the New Hampshire presidential primary and asked for his pen back.

Rockefeller admitted nothing in his reply:

"I am extremely sorry to hear that your pen was inadvertently slipped into my pocket and am sending you under separate cover a new one to take its place."

Firm Bares Model of Super Transport

SAUGUS, Calif. (AP)—Lockheed Aircraft Corp. has unveiled a model of a 2,000-mile-an-hour plane it calls the fastest entry in the competition to design a U.S. supersonic transport.

The needle-nosed model was put through wind tunnel tests for newsmen Wednesday at Lockheed's Rye Canyon research center.

Designers say the craft, which has double delta wings, could carry 218 passengers and fly up to 80,000 feet.

A Splash or a Crash? Boat and Train Collide

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A boat and a train collided on a busy street here. Pete M. Lazzeri was crossing the Southern Railway tracks on Canal Street when he heard a train whistle. He speeded up, but not in time to get across the boat trailer he was towing.

Car Robbery Stopped; Youth Couldn't Drive

SANTA FE (AP) — A santa Fe youth apparently had larceny in mind, but he overlooked one important detail: He didn't know how to drive.

City police said the youth hopped into a parked convertible at a church parking lot, backed into one car and rammed another.

Frustrated, he fled on foot, leaving the damaged cars behind.

Travel by jet aircraft increased from 1.1 per cent of all passenger miles flown in the United States in 1958 to 75 per cent in mid-1963.

England's New Fad

Cult of Unwomanly Woman

LONDON (NEA) — The Cult of the Unwomanly Woman is in full swing here, despite a chorus of male groans.

The little woman is no longer the helpless creature she once was. She is taking judo lessons, and can now change a tire quicker than most garage mechanics.

In the matter of clothes, the unfeminine female is something of a hybrid. She stole her shirt from her brother. Her leather boots were probably bought at some army surplus store.

The jockey cap which she wears at such a jaunty angle she picked up at the race track. She has even swiped the overshoes from the bishop.

BEHAVIOR PROBLEM

Her behavior is equally unfeminine. Today's masterful woman makes her own dates, picks up her boy friend in her own car, orders the dinner and pays the bill. "Where will it all end?" Britain's frustrated males are asking.

Some say that the American influence is responsible for the present sorry state of affairs. The American matron has the reputation here of being domineering.

Others say that it is a natural reaction against the soft, curvy creature with the beehive hairdo who was in fashion six months ago.

★ ★ ★

Most males, however, are inclined to put the blame on Cathy Gale, the heroine of The Avengers, a television serial which is seen in millions of British homes.

HERO GIRL

Clad in tight black leather jeans or similar unfeminine attire, Cathy goes around avenging various wrongs, which usually involve some weak man in distress.

Cathy is the fastest draw on television. She is also quick to dislocate a man's shoulder or to break his instep, thanks to her judo training.

Although she looks sexy, Cathy is virtually untouchable. She has no lovers. She has never even been kissed. Nor have viewers seen her do anything so base as brush her teeth.

In real life, Cathy Gale is Honor Blackman, a 36-year-old blonde actress who claims that she had much in common with the role she plays.

HOCKEY PLAYER

A former hockey team captain, Miss Blackman became a movie starlet before getting her big chance in The Avengers, in which she stars with actor Patrick McNee.

The judo rough stuff was introduced into the serial purely by accident, Miss Blackman explains. She got the idea of throwing men over her shoulder when she was appearing in an episode which called for Cathy to pull a pistol out of her handbag.

"Have you ever tried pulling a pistol out of your handbag quickly?" she asks. "I would have been dead on the spot."

★ ★ ★

After that, Miss Blackman took judo lessons.

British men will not rejoice at the news that Miss Blackman has been signed for the feminine lead in "Goldfinger," the latest James Bond film. For the James Bond heroine isn't exactly a womanly woman either.

She is the leader of a gang of girl criminals who takes part in a raid on the Fort Knox gold treasure.

★ ★ ★

Now that The Avengers has become popular, judo club owners claim that they can't cope with the number of women who want to join. At one time, women had difficulty in finding female partners to practice with but now the Judo Society alone has more than 200 women members.

Union Battles Essex in Court

Trouble Continues On 6-Day-Old Picket Line

HILLSDALE, Mich., (AP) — The struck Essex Wire Corp. and the International Union of the Electrical Workers fenced in court Wednesday after more trouble on the picket line.

Circuit Judge John C. Dalton took under advisement a series of petitions and motions from both sides in the IUE's six-day-old violence - marked walkout. He promised a ruling soon, perhaps by Friday.

★ ★ ★

The company demanded an injunction against what it called violence or threats of violence by the union. The union demanded an injunction against what it called Essex Wire illegal use of strikebreakers.

Federal and state mediators suspended meetings with management and the IUE pending the court hearing.

REPLACED TEAMSTERS

The IUE, successor to the Teamsters Union as bargaining agent for Essex Wire's 180 production workers, went on strike last Friday in support of demands for a first contract. The IUE became bargaining agent last November.

Prior to the court session the company said pickets prevented an independent trucker from driving into the plant.

★ ★ ★

Paul Albrechta, company industrial relations man, said one of the pickets tried to strike at him with a tow chain while he was in the cab of the truck.

In the court hearing, management and the union collided on several issues.

Management asked a limitation of pickets to 10 men, with a maximum of three at any plant gate.

The IUE, in a series of requests, asked the court to order the company to cease what it called obstruction to peaceful picketing and peaceful bargaining.

The union also asked that the company be restrained from operations until alleged strikebreakers are removed.

Rare Oxygen Type Produced for Industry

REHOVOT, Israel (AP)—A rare type of oxygen—Oxygen 17 — now is being produced on a semi-industrial basis at the Weizmann Institute of Science. It is for sale at a price of $1,000 a gram. Oxygen 17 is used for research in nuclear sciences, medicine, agriculture, chemistry, and biology, and for various industrial purposes. The Institute also is sole supplier of Oxygen-18 to scientific institutes, at a price of $550 a gram.

Cymbals are of Oriental origin. They were introduced as percussion instruments in Europe in the Middle Ages.

Scranton Eyes Oregon Race

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton says no decision has been reached whether he can withdraw his name from the Oregon primary as a presidential candidate.

The matter is still under study by State Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandroni, Scranton told his weekly news conference yesterday.

The governor's name has been entered in the Oregon primary without his consent as a GOP candidate.

★ ★ ★

Scranton says he wants his name withdrawn but is not prepared to sign an affidavit that he would reject the Republican nomination under all circumstances.

NOT A CANDIDATE

Still insisting he is not a candidate, Scranton repeated that he would accept only a sincere and honest draft. Monday is the last day for withdrawal of his name from the May 15 ballot.

Scranton also touched on international affairs at his news conference, claiming that the United States should go all-out to save South Viet Nam from a Communist takeover.

"If we're going to save Southeast Asia we are going to have to have a full effort there," Scranton said in response to questions.

Explaining he did not have the advantage of federal government intelligence reports, he said that from published reports "It (the Viet Nam situation) is obviously in bad shape."

At the same time he said he believes Defense Secretary McNamara's report on his planned inspection trip to Southeast Asia will "clear up" some of the confusion.

Soviets Sign Pact on Cuba Exchanges

HAVANA (AP) — The Soviet Union signed an agreement last night to continue its extensive program of scientific and cultural assistance to Cuba.

The Russians pledged to provide Cuba with a wide variety of technicians and professors, including doctors, engineers and experts in "scientific communism."

The Russians also said they would provide Cuba with Soviet textbooks.

Cuban students will continue to do postgraduate study in Russia.

No Memorials Set for 3 'Opry' Stars

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — It was a year ago today that a hillside plane crash, the worst disaster ever to strike the country music field, stilled the voices of three Grand Ole Opry singers.

There will be no public memorial service because among Opry folks there is a stoic obedience to the principle that the show's the thing.

But in the quieter moments, each Opry trooper and thousands of fans will reflect on the deaths of singers Patsy Cline, Cowboy Copas and Hawkshaw Hawkins — along with Randy Hughes, Miss Cline's manager, sideman and pilot of the plane that plunged to earth a few miles west of here.

★ ★ ★

The feelings of this country music capital were summed up today by Ralph Emery, Grand Ole Opry emcee.

MEMORIAL REQUESTS

"The thing that really bothers me so much," Emery said, "is that tonight people will start calling from across the country wanting us to play the records of those killed in the crash. I just don't want to do a memorial show.

"People in the business don't think about it much . . . They were close friends and it hurts . . . But mostly it's because of the old axiom that the show must go on."

One thing sure to sting the memory of Opry folks is a forthcoming recording called "Two Little Boys." It's sung by Jean Shepard, widow of Hawkins and an Opry star in her own right.

★ ★ ★

It's about the couple's two children, Don Robin Hawkins, 2, and Harold Franklin Hawkins Jr., born four months after his father's death.

OTHER SONGS

There were songs recorded about the plane crash, at least six of them, but the industry banded together and fought them, quietly and effectively. Not one became even remotely popular.

"We knew there would be such songs," Emery said, "but the word began going out, even while the funerals were going on, that the business would make a concerted effort to kill them. We felt these people were profiteering on the tragedy."

The records of the three stars killed in the crash still sell. Hawkins' "Lonesome 77203" became the top country song in the nation after his death and was the nation's third largest selling song in its field for 1963. Copas' "Goodbye Kisses" and numerous songs by Miss Cline have been successful since their deaths.

S. Korea Plant Explosion Injures 89

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Eighty-nine persons were injured today in an explosion at an explosives plant at Anyang, 20 miles south of Seoul, police said.

Sixteen of the injured were hospitalized.

★ ★ ★

The victims included children at a nearby primary school and inmates of a prison.

The children and the prisoners were cut by glass from windows shattered by the explosion.

★ ★ ★

Cause of the explosion was not immediately determined.

SUNDERLAND, England (AP)—A 15-year-old girl and a 43-year-old-man died of heart attacks and more than 100 persons were injured Wednesday night as 50,000 soccer football fans tried to stampede into a packed stadium.

With 70,000 people jamming the stadium built for 62,000, the crowd outside smashed through two locked gates and charged into the grounds.

The game between Sunderland's first division team and Manchester United was to decide which one got into the semifinal for the English soccer cup. It ended in a 2-2 tie and will have to be played over.

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—Ceylon's government declared a state of emergency today in the face of strikes or strike threats by longshoremen, doctors in state hospitals and state engineers controlling the nation's electricity.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Algerian President Ahmed Ben Bella arrived today for a visit and was warmly welcomed by President Tito at the airport.

The proposed meeting of nonaligned nations is expected to be discussed by the two leaders.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan will visit the United States in late March or early April for talks on India's defense needs. A spokesman said Chavan had been invited by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

The Times of India said Chavan would tell the United States that the Indian government believes there is a Red Chinese-Pakistani threat to India's security.

TOKYO (AP)—Premier Hayato Ikeda declared today that Japan will only recognize Communist China when it is generally considered a peace-loving country.

★ ★ ★

Ikeda denied in a parliamentary committee debate that he had meant in earlier statements Japan would establish diplomatic ties with Peking upon the latter's entry into the United Nations.

Egypt Chief Claims Yemen King on Run

ADEN (AP)—Lt. Gen. Ahmed Fahti Abdel Ghani, acting commander of Egyptian forces in Yemen, claimed Wednesday the deposed Imam (king) Al-Badr is "on the run."

Wants Yankee Dollars

Haiti President Again Smiles at U.S.

By BEN F. MEYER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Francois Duvalier, Haiti's dictator president whose tactics have bewitched and angered the United States, is once again turning a smiling face toward Washington and looking for Yankee dollars.

Duvalier's government has told U. S. Ambassador Benson E. L. Timmons III, it would welcome a return of American tourists and warships—with their free-spending sailors.

There were also indications Duvalier — called "Papa Doc" by Haitians — would like a resumption of U. S. aid to his island.

News Analysis

* * *

Most of the aid dollars were cut off last August.

The State Department, caught off balance a few times by Duvalier's change of pace, is studying his new advances very carefully.

ERRATIC POLICIES

It wants to be helpful. But at times Duvalier's policies have appeared erratic to Washington, and made the State Department look likewise.

Only last May Duvalier suspended relations in a huff and by June 3 he had talked Washington into resuming relations. The U. S. Navy ships which had been cruising on the horizon off Haiti during the height of internal tensions in Haiti went on to their regular business.

And then, on June 15 Duvalier sent word to Washington that the U. S. Ambassador Raymond L. Thurston, then in Washington for consultation, would not be welcomed back in Haiti.

* * *

The State Department and Duvalier came to their major unpleasantness last May when he rigged his reelection, and the United States cut off arms aid.

ECONOMIC ROOTS

Haiti's new bid for better relations appears to be rooted in the economics of the poverty-struck island.

The economic experts saying that Duvalier's government must be getting near the precipice in financial matters.

The government is not only in debt locally—it owes the U. S.-owned electric firm in Haiti more than $1 million—but is in default on debts to the U. S. export-import bank which furnished much of the $96 million in credits to Haiti for economic development since World War II.

* * *

But the situation has changed from the turbulent days of last spring and summer.

Dependents of U. S. families in Haiti, who left there last May during the height of the crisis in U. S.-Haitian relations generally have all returned.

* * *

In Washington, one gets the impression the U.S. government would like to help the little country improve its living standards. There are obvious dangers if Haiti is allowed to become another trouble spot in the western hemisphere.

Dems Cool to Freezing State Districts

LANSING (AP) — A House proposal to freeze House districts for two years met with a cool reception from Senate Democrats Wednesday.

No vote was taken in their closed-door meeting, but not a Democratic senator could be found who had a kind word for the proposal.

★ ★ ★

House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, has predicted action this week on a House resolution seeking a constitutional amendment to overhaul the legislative apportionment system.

It would abolish the apportionment commission and strike from the 1963 Constitution the 80-20 apportionment formula as well as most of the language on the legislative districting.

DO WHAT'S RIGHT

Senate minority leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, expressed "confidence that the State Supreme Court will do what is right."

The court is studying several alternatives, ranging from a Democratic proposal for new legislative districts based only on population to a Republican one to give 80 per cent emphasis to population and 20 per cent to area.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Charles Youngblood, D-Detroit, walked out of the meeting with an announcement of opposition to every point in the House-drafted proposal, which includes items other than apportionment.

The proposal came to the Senate Democrats from Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, who said both House caucuses had agreed on April elections of township officials and two-year terms for county officers elected this year.

INVITE DISCUSSION

The resolution invited discussion on freezing House districts and allowing the Senate to reapportion itself this year on a population basis.

★ ★ ★

With none of the 11 Democratic votes, Republicans would have to be unanimous to meet a required two-thirds majority in the 34-member Senate. This majority is required to put a proposed constitutional amendment to a statewide vote.

★ ★ ★

Republican senators did not discuss the question in their Wednesday caucus, but the party's House caucus scheduled a discussion of it for late today.

Gail Handy, R-Eau Claire, has joined O'Brien in spearheading the movement for constitutional changes.

Hart Requests Funds for State Laboratory

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate appropriations subcommittee was asked by Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., today to approve $372,000 for construction of a forest engineering laboratory at Houghton, Mich.

★ ★ ★

Hart said $28,000 was provided last year for design and specification work and plans will be completed early in the fiscal year starting July 1.

To Question Bomb Suspect

May Be Linked to Church Explosion

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Alabama authorities planned today to question an Indiana mechanic, who admitted bombing a Negro home here last month, about the September Birmingham church bombing that killed four Negro children.

Birmingham police chief Jamie Moore and Jefferson County (Alabama) Sheriff Mel Bailey arrived here last night to question William Sterling Rosecrans, 30.

Rosecrans, a "close associate" of north Florida Ku Klux Klan leaders, was charged by the FBI yesterday with bombing the Jacksonville home of a Negro boy who broke the segregation barriers at a local elementary school.

* * *

He is also being questioned about recent bombings of strikebound Florida East Coast (FEC) railway trains, and Alabama lawmen wanted to question Rosecrans about the Sept. 15 bombing of the 16th Street Baptist Church.

IN THE STATE

Four Negro children attending Sunday school at the Birmingham church were killed by the blast, and Rosecrans has admitted being in Alabama at the time of that bombing.

Bailey said he had "nothing concrete" linking Rosecrans, who said he learned how to handle dynamite while working on a construction gang, to the church bombing.

"But this case is of such importance that we feel any lead must be diligently pursued and exploited," Bailey said.

Rosecrans, a small, crewcut blond who said he is from Anderson, Ind., was arrested in St. Augustine Tuesday and was held on an open charge for questioning.

ADMITS BOMBING

He confessed yesterday to the Feb. 16 bombing of the Jacksonville home of Mrs. Iona Godfrey, whose 6-year-old son Donald entered the all-white Lackawanna Elementary School last September under a court order.

* * *

The FBI said the dynamite was placed under the kitchen of the Godfrey home. The explosion slung the refrigerator through the roof and nearly destroyed the home, but only one woman was slightly injured.

Former U. S. Official to Teach at Columbia

NEW YORK (AP)—Roger Hilsman, former assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, will join the faculty of Columbia University next fall.

Hilsman was a lecturer in international relations at Columbia in 1958. He joined the State Department at the start of President Kennedy's administration and was a key figure in directing U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Centered on Birmingham

New Race Drive Called for in Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Negro leaders yesterday called for renewed demonstrations in Birmingham and "massive efforts to break down barriers of segregation and discrimination" throughout Alabama.

More than 200 integration leaders headed by the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), pledged a "nonviolent" action program including economic boycotts and intensified voter registration activity.

King and a top lieutenant, the Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, said "Things will get hot before 30 days" in Birmingham. They said city officials and businesses had reneged on desegregation promises made after mass demonstrations last summer.

"Demonstrations are necessary in Alabama to bring the cause to the forefront of the nation's conscience," King said.

THE BEGINNING

King said the meeting at a local Negro church "is the beginning of a full-scale and all-out attacks" on segregation "that will touch all major communities and most small communities" in Alabama.

The program approved by the SCLC affiliates, to be directed out of Montgomery, is aimed at obtaining fair employment, equal voting rights and equal use of public accommodations, according to the Negro leader.

The plan calls for:

- Strategic economic boycotts so Negroes "will buy goods only at stores where we can work."
- Intensification of voter registration drives throughout the state.
- A statewide "coordination of masses" aimed at giving "every qualified Negro" the right to vote.
- Immediate implementation of provisions of the pending civil rights bill on its passage by the Senate; if the bill is not passed or is altered in Congress, Alabama Negroes will "make the public accommodations section a major part of the state integration program."

APPEAL TO CONGRESS

"Negro groups will appeal to Congress to reduce the number of Alabama representatives in areas where Negroes do not have voting status.

"If the civil rights bill does not pass intact, I think America is in for a dark night of social disruption," King said.

He said "Birmingham stands as a symbol of the revolution of 1963" and said demonstrations "of a massive nature" were ready to resume.

* * *

Negroes marched almost daily last April and May in protest demonstrations in the steel center, Alabama's largest city.

King also said there was "a possibility" a mass Negro march would be held on the state capitol here similar to the march on Washington last year.

Poet Worries Over Lack of Young Writers

PROVIDENCE (AP)—Poet Ogden Nash says he's worried because he doesn't see any young writers on the horizon.

"At the time we need it most," he said, "I don't see anyone coming along that is a writing humorist."

In a speech at Pembroke College, Nash said:

"Our writers all want to write Greek tragedy, and television and advertising have snapped up many bright young people because they pay more money for their talents. Unfortunately, they also wear them out quickly, but I hope some of them emerge unscathed."

U.S. Sailors Replace Cuban Laborers Fired at Guantanamo

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 1,000 Cuban workers have been fired fro mthe Guantanamo naval base, and the Navy has ordered U.S. sailors there to replace them.

The Cuban workers discharged to date total more than half of the 1,800 who came through the gate each day.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press learned this today after the United States spurned an offer by Prime Minister Fidel Castro to turn on the water to the base once again.

Castro's halting of the flow of fresh water to Guantanamo a month ago set off a chain of U.S. reactions, including the firing of Cuban workers who commuted to jobs on the base.

SELF-SUFFICIENT

The United States has vowed to make the base self-sufficient. It has made arrangements to build a $10-million permanent water desalting plant and associated equipment for converting sea water into fresh water.

The Navy now is supplying water to the base with relays of huge tankers shuttling between Florida and Guantanamo, on Cuba's eastern end.

★ ★ ★

At last report, the base had 17 million gallons of water in storage. This is about 1 million more than were in storage tanks on the day Castro shut off the tap because the United States was holding 36 Cuban fishermen accused of poaching in U. S. waters.

There was no indication how many more of the daily commuting workers would be discharged.

600 ON BASE

There are 600 Cubans who live on the base permanently and 600 others who have been returning to Cuba only on weekends.

"Military replacements are being ordered to Guantanamo," the Navy said when asked what was being done to fill the manpower gap left by the discharged Cubans.

A spokesman said these replacements are Navy men, probably including Seabees.

It was indicated that replacement of the Cuban workers by Navy men may be a temporary measure.

"The Navy is now hiring civilians from the U.S.A. and Puerto Rico, who possess skills not readily available in the Navy, to replace the workers that were released," it said.

Allergies Created by Marital Ills

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — There's no doubt, allergists agree, that husbands and wives can be allergic to each other.

But sometimes the symptoms —a rash, sneezing, irritability— denote another problem: They just can't stand each other.

A group of doctors, all of whom preferred anonymity, discussed this touchy subject at the annual convention of the American College of Allergists.

One physician said there were five authenticated cases of allergies developed between man and wife. Dandruff was the villain in each case.

EYES WATERED

Another allergist recalled a couple that was on the brink of divorce because everytime they kissed, the husband's eyes would water, his nose would itch and he would become irritable.

"It took quite a while," said the doctor, "but we discovered he was allergic to the face powder his wife wore. Most such cases turn out to have similar answers."

A third physician said symptoms of an allergy often may be purely psychological.

"Husband and wife just don't like being near each other," he said. "But they don't want to admit this, even to themselves. So they come up with symptoms which they hope they can blame on an allergy."

That's Bette Davis

Fast and Furious in Interviews

By DAVE SMITH

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—If you're new to the Hollywood beat, you don't just waltz up to Bette Davis and say "Hi, Bette. What's up?"

Before you ever get within gunshot of her house, her manager asks what you want to talk to her about and then he'll see "if she can find time."

★ ★ ★

So you wonder—"What'll she do, pull the Baby Jane bit and roast me over a slow fire if I sound stupid?"—and you make up something that sounds half bright. He reports to headquarters, she finds time, and you are brought in, as if on a tray, to be made a meal of.

You needn't have worried.

★ ★ ★

A conversation with Miss Davis is fast, furious and friendly. It starts before you even get in the room, runs hell-for-leather while you're there and continues until you're halfway up the driveway. Only you wind up talking about everything but what you went there for.

METHOD ACTING

Method acting, for instance.

"Stanislavsky was essentially right, of course," she says. "An actor must have a method. But there are method actors today who've strayed far from what Stanislavsky meant. They are so subjective in a role, they impose their personal selves upon it so much, that they create virtually a different play every night, according to how they feel.

★ ★ ★

"They work so hard at being the character that they lose their audience right away.

"Real theater cannot merely be life. It must make the link between the life in the play and the life in the audience, so that your audience can identify and empathize with it.

★ ★ ★

"And you must remember that the audience is a vital part of the experience of real theater. You must not make a role so private and personal that you forget you have an audience to play to, project to and be responsible to."

DOMINATES ROOM

By this time Miss Davis, who is 5-feet-3½ and weighs 122 pounds, seems to have swelled to about five times her normal size, so that she dominates the room from passionate heights.

★ ★ ★

You ask, "Okay, so what's your method?" and she deflates gradually, sinks back in her chair, lights a cigarette and spits out: Oh, I just do it. I don't bleed and die, I just do it. And pray to God."

★ ★ ★

A mounting pile of cigarette butts moves you to comment on the U.S. surgeon general's smoking report.

★ ★ ★

Miss Davis is a famous smoker. In her recent film "Dead Ringer," and nearly every movvie she has made, she doesn't just smoke a cigarette, she annihilates it.

DRAMATIC DEVICE

Off-screen she doesn't smoke so viciously—"that's just a dramatic device for the screen"—but she does it constantly.

"I think I'd die if I quit," she says, dismissing the smoking report with a toss of the head. "Twice I tried to quit. Instead I knit. Which I hated. But it's the hands, you see. I've got to have something for them to do. So I smoke."

★ ★ ★

Miss Davis is noted for more than the vehemence of her smoking, however. Her clipped, declarative style of speaking is so popular a subject of parody that unless you can do a Bette Davis imitation you're practically dead in show biz.

Does she mind the imitations?

"No. In fact, I used to worry that I wasn't impressive enough to be imitated, and I was relieved when they started. Only now some of the imitators imitate other imitators instead of me."

Coalition on the Line

Colombia to Hold Elections

By JAMES D. BOWMAN

BOGOTA, Colombia, (AP) — Colombia's National Front government puts its popularity on the line March 15 in national elections which could spell the downfall of this Liberal-Conserative coalition.

Leaders of both dominant political parties are banking on overwhelming endorsement for continuation of the bipartisan policy pact signed after the 1957 overthrow of dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla.

The accord came after a decade of political violence which cost more than 200,000 lives. It also ushered in a period of relative tranquility and economic growth in this coffee-producing nation of 16 million.

★ ★ ★

Splinter groups threaten the soldiarity of the Liberal and Conservative ruling team headed by President Guillermo Leon Valencia. They seek to shave official Liberal and Conservative seats in the chamber of representatives to less than the two-thirds majority needed to pass legislation.

2 PARTIES

The law provides that the two parties' seat in both houses of Congress be divided equally. Executive posts, from the presidency down through city mayors, are rotated by the dominant parties.

Valenica, a Conservative, succeeded Alberto Lleras Camargo, a Liberal and the nation's first president under the National Front. Valencia's term expires in 1966. Senators have two years to go on their four-year terms.

Driving force behind the dissidents is Alfonso Lopez Michelsen. His Popular Revolutionary Movement, a faction within the Liberal party, captured 33 of the 184 chamber seats in 1962 and garnered 35 per cent of the total Liberal vote.

Lopez Michelsen's group reguards itself as the true party of Colombian Liberalism. It claims the national front retards progress and demands majority rule.

1962 ELECTIONS

Liberals won 54 per cent of the vote in the 1962 elections to the conservatives' 45 per cent.

Far to the right on the Conservative wing, the followers of Rojas Pinilla seek a return to his one-man rule. The ex-dictator ran a poor fourth against Valencia in 1962. His faction won six Conservative seats.

A total increase of 24 seats by those two groups would give them sufficient votes to block any legislation under present laws. This could foreshadow the breakup of the national front.

★ ★ ★

Carlos Lleras Restrepo, the Liberal party's choice to succeed Valencia as president in 1966 — subject to the Conseratives' approval—spearheads the nationwide Liberal counterattack against inroads by Lopez Michelsen's faction.

Rojas Pinilla continues to defy a 1958 senate decree which lifted his political rights.

20 Motorists Lose Licenses

Ordered Off Road by Department of State

Driver's licenses of 20 Oakland County motorists were either suspended or revoked recently by the Michigan Department of State.

Ordered to show proof of financial responsibility due to convictions of drunk driving were:

★ ★ ★

Unsatisfactory driving records caused the following to be ordered off the road:

Jerry R. Glascock, 1101 Dover; William N. Conti, 504 North, Holly; Dennis M. Inch, 25744 Springbrook, Farmington Township; Harry R. Lewis, 1287 Winchcombe, Bloomfield Township; and Marvin A. Ministrelli, 5006 Forestry, Bloomfield Hills.

ORDERED OFF

Others were Daniel M. Moore, 4885 Eagle, Highland Township; David M. Small, 20832 Tuck, Farmington Township; and Steven S. Smith, 1891 Gilsam, Avon Township.

Ordered to show proof of financial responsibility due to unsatisfied financial judgments against them were:

Dale A. LaFlure, 111 N. Telegraph; Lozell Reed, 528 Nevada; James L. and Bessie M. Smith, 76 Willard; and Fred Paul, 600 W. Clarkston, Oakland Township.

Richard W. Hutchinson, 2001 Knollwood, Pontiac Township, was recently ordered off the road for driving with a suspended license.

One of the greatest blessings of existence a man can have is to live long enough to be grateful to all the women who told him no in his youth.

It is scarcity, not taste, that often accounts for value. Apprentices From Area Will Compete Apprentice metal and wood pattern makers from the Detroit region will test their skills in a judging at Pontiac Motor Division foundry Saturday.

The annual contest, sponsored by Detroit Area Chapter of the American Foundrymen's Society, will feature 62 entries, six of them from the Pontiac area.

Don L. Burger, Pontiac Foundry pattern shop general foreman and contest chairman, said the aim of the competition is to stimulate individual skills and craftsmanship in patternmaking and foundry trades.

Contestants were selected from auto industry foundries and individual shops, and each is required to work from a uniform blueprint. Winners in the metal and wood divisions will advance to a national contest.

Local entrants in the metal pattern category are Harold Anderson, 335 W. Brooklyn and William Mihalek, 714 E. Mansfield of Pontiac, and Norman Birrell Jr., 2870 Frembes, Waterford Township.

In the wood division are Allen Lawrence, 574 LeBaron, and Charles Peterson, 69 N. Marshall, of Pontiac, and Billy Cheyne, 3967 Coventry, Waterford Township.

Supply of Cupcakes Makes Dessert an Easy Course

A supply of cupcakes are often a homemaker's best dessert friend. These little cakes are special favorites with youngsters — an individual "whole" cake to a child is fun and "just enough for a treat."

Cupcakes are a blessing, too, for the busy mother who packs lunches daily for her family.

When you prepare your own cupcake recipes, grease only the bottoms of the pans to help the cakes rise nicely without running over.

An easier way is to use baking cups as liners in the muffin pans.

The baking cups also eliminate clean-up fuss, too. (If you use paper baking cups, allow the cupcakes to cool before peeling off the paper.)

Follow recipe directions exactly — you'll notice some cupcake recipes are prepared like muffin batter, others more like conventional cake batters.

For nicely shaped cupcakes fill pans only ⅓ to ⅔ full unless the recipe specifies otherwise.

Spicy Apple Cupcakes are made to order for the lunch box set and are so easy to prepare as muffins. The cupcakes satisfy a child's sweet tooth and give him nutritional bonus, too.

SPICY APPLE CAKES

1½ cups sifted enriched flour
½ cup light brown sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
⅓ cup shortening
1 egg, beaten
½ cup applesauce
¼ cup milk

★ ★ ★

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg, and cloves. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Combine egg, applesauce and milk. Add to dry ingredients and mix until blended.

Fill greased or paper-lined small muffin cups ⅔ full. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes or until golden brown. Remove immediately from pans and cool. Makes 1½ dozen 2-inch cupcakes.

Apple for Moisture

After baking your family's favorite cookies, keep the crisp ones crisp by storing them in a tightly covered container. Soft cookies will stay moist if a slice of bread or apple is kept in the cookie jar. Freshen crisp cookies that do become soft by placing a slow oven (300 degrees) for about five minutes.

They Rise Fast

Ever wonder just what the term "quick" breads means? Quick breads are those leavened by so-called quick acting leavening like baking soda or soda. Loaf breads, biscuits, muffins, pancakes and dumplings are all quick breads.

Banana Cupcakes have rich banana flavor sparked by a touch of orange and lemon. Serve fresh from the oven with glasses of milk or cups of cocoa to your youngsters when they arrive home from school.

BANANA CUPCAKES

2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon soda
½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 eggs
1 cup mashed ripe banana (2 medium bananas)
2 tablespoons milk
1 cup chopped nuts

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and soda. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Stir in vanilla extract and orange and lemon rinds. Beat in eggs, one at a time.

Add flour mixture to creamed mixture alternately with banana and milk. Beat well after each addition. Fold in nuts. Fill greased or paper-lined muffin cups ⅔ full.

★ ★ ★

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Makes about 18 cupcakes.

Popcorn Snack Is Nostalgic

Crunchy popcorn crackle with its memory of prizes in packages and happy days at the circus can now be made at home in a jiffy.

Pop one foil package ready-to-pop corn according to package directions. Put into large bowl.

Mix ½ cup light molasses, ¾ cup light corn syrup, 1¼ cups sugar and 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in saucepan. Cook to hard crack stage (285-290 degrees).

Remove from heat immediately and pour over popped corn. Mix well. Grease piece of waxed paper. Spread mixture out on paper. Cool until mixture hardens. Break into pieces.

Waffled Toast

Here's a hurry-up treat for waffle lovin' families. Toast unbuttered slices of enriched white bread in the waffle iron, then serve hot 'n' crispy with syrup and butter.

NEW— FOR A NEW YOU

Shrimp Improves Lenten Menus

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

If you like shrimp, you never get enough of it, do you? At a cocktail party you head straight for the shrimp bowl and couldn't care less what else is served.

Your pocketbook determines the kind and size of shrimp you buy. When you're feeling flush, you buy it shelled and deveined. If you're on a tight budget, you clean your own and choose a smaller size.

Be sure to follow directions for cooking if you buy frozen shrimp. Too long toughens it.

Shrimp with a dip or sauce is equally at home as an appetizer or main course, or even as a late evening snack. Try it with a sweet, yet tart sauce. Serve the shrimp plain or batter fried.

Jelly and Barbecue Sauce

1 cup currant jelly
1 cup barbecue sauce
¼ cup honey
1 tablespoon soy sauce

In a saucepan, heat jelly until melted. Stir in barbecue sauce, honey and soy sauce. Serve hot.

No need to give up pizza for Lent. Just make it with shrimp instead of sausage. This may turn out to be a favorite dish at your house.

Shrimp Cheese Pizza

1 pound shelled, deveined shrimp
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 pkg. complete pizza mix with cheese
2 tablespoons prepared mustard

Set oven at 425 degrees F. Grease a 14" pizza pan or a 11" x 14" rectangular baking pan. Melt butter. Add shrimp and saute until lightly browned on each side.

Make up pizza dough according to package directions. Grease hands and spread dough into prepared pizza pan. Spread with prepared mustard. Arrange shrimp on top of mustard.

Spoon over pizza sauce.

SHRIMP WITH SAUCE

Sprinkle the grated cheese over top. Bake according to package directions. Makes 4-6 servings.

★ ★ ★

Not pictured are two other, but different shrimp recipes. Shrimp Scandi is simply marinated shrimp which you can keep in the refrigerator to serve any time.

Shrimp Scandi

2 pounds cooked, cleaned shrimp
1 large onion, sliced
1½ cups salad oil
¾ cup bottled lemon juice
2 tablespoons capers and juice
1½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dill weed
¼ teaspoon monosodium glutamate

Alternate cleaned shrimp and onions in a mixing bowl. Combine bottled lemon juice with remaining ingredients and pour over shrimp. Cover and chill overnight. Drain before serving. Makes 8 servings.

Prepare shrimpburgers in the morning, chill all day and fry quickly at dinner time. Serve in the ordinary hamburger buns.

Shrimpburgers

1 (12 oz.) package frozen, peeled and deveined cooked shrimp
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
¾ cup milk
1 cup cooked rice
½ cup grated process cheese
2 tablespoons grated onion
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
Dash cayenne
½ teaspoon curry powder

Let shrimp thaw. Reserve six whole shrimp for garnishing. Cut the rest of the shrimp into small pices.

Melt butter, remove from heat and stir in flour. Return to heat and gradually add milk, stirring constantly over moderate heat until thick. Combine with remaining ingredients. (If there is time, chill mixture for easier handling.) Shape into patties.

★ ★ ★

Roll shrimpburgers in fine dry breadcrumbs. Fry in about ½ inch of hot fat in a skillet until browned on one side, about 2 minutes. Turn and brown other side.

Serve in toasted hamburger buns with any desired relish or chutney. Makes 6 servings.

SHRIMP CHEESE PIZZA

Fancy Baked Spuds Dress Plain Meal

It's worthwhile taking the time to fix these delicious potatoes.

Stuffed Baked Potatoes

4 large (2 pounds) mealy baking potatoes
¼ cup butter or margarine, soft
¾ cup cultured sour cream
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon white pepper
Paprika

Scrub potatoes in cold water and dry. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 45 to 50 minutes or until soft through. Cut in half lengthwise; scoop out pulp and put through a ricer.

★ ★ ★ ★

Beat in butter, sour cream, salt and pepper. Pile potato mixture back into only 6 of the shells. Ruffle with fork tines and sprinkle with paprika. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven for about 15 minutes or until hot through. Makes 6 servings.

Clam Dip Is Lenten Idea

Most guests love a festive dip to nibble before dinner—and this one is especially simple and delicious.

★ ★ ★

Simply blend ½ teaspoon Tabasco, the spicy liquid red pepper seasoning, into a 3-ounce package of cream cheese. Drain a 10-ounce can of minced clams well and mix throughly with the cheese mixture. Turn into a pretty bowl and serve with assorted crackers, Melba toast or potato chips.

★ ★ ★

Dividend—the drained clam juice makes a wonderful tee-totaler's cocktail mixed with equal parts tomato juice. A little Tabasco adds zest to this, too.

Liquid Meal

Like tomato juice? Well, you can make a complete meal, nutritionally, out of six ounces of skim milk, three ounces of tomato juice and two tablespoons of wheat germ. Beat up "shake" in blender. It amounts to less than 200 calories.

Peanut Butter Spread Appeals to Adults

Who says peanut butter is for kids? Try this unusual hors d'oeuvre spread on your guests the next time you entertain.

Blend together until smooth ¼ cup creamy peanut butter, 1 (3-ounce) package cream cheese, 1 teaspoon soy sauce, ½ teaspoon lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon ginger and two tablespoons milk. Serve with crackers.

Add a few drops of vinegar to the water when you are poaching eggs, and the whites will not spread while cooking.

Layer in Toweling

Keep breakfast pancakes warm till serving time by layering them between sheets of paper toweling on a baking sheet. Place in a warm oven (250 degrees). The pancakes will stay just-baked moist, too, yet won't become soggy.

Marinated Scallops Go in Lenten Salad

Let scallops and western iceberg lettuce simplify your Lenten meal planning. Combined with hard-cooked eggs and mushrooms, they make an unusual and excellent salad that's a meal in itself.

Scallops—like eggs—contain the protein, minerals and vitamins that are necessary for the good health of your family. Western iceberg lettuce also contributes vitamins and minerals, particularly Vitamin A.

★ ★ ★

A scallop is an amusing little mollusk. It's an active swimmer that scurries along over the ocean floor by snapping its shell together. This develops an oversize muscle, called the abductor muscle, or "eye," and that's the part we eat.

It has excellent flavor, and is about 2 inches in size. In the small bay scallops, which have more delicate flavor, the "eye" is half an inch.

Ocean scallops are usually the variety that are frozen. Like the fresh, they should have a sweetish odor when thawed, and very little liquid in the package.

The meat, light cream color and sometimes delicate pink, whitens on the outside when cooked. That's one of the ways of telling when scallops are done.

They should be cooked gently, at low temperature or they'll get tough . . . 2 to 3 minutes for bay scallops; 5 for the larger ocean variety.

Lettuce-Scallop Salad

1 medium head western iceberg lettuce
1 cup water
½ cup dry white wine
Salt and pepper
½ bay leaf
1 medium scallion or green onion, sliced
1 pound scallops
½ pound mushrooms, sliced
⅓ cup wine vinegar
¼ cup olive or salad oil
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 or 3 hard-cooked eggs, quartered

Core lettuce; rinse in cold water; drain well. Place in plastic bag or transparent film. Refrigerate.

Combine water, wine, ½ teaspoon salt, dash pepper, bay leaf and scallion in saucepan; simmer 5 minutes. Add scallops and mushrooms. Cover. Simmer 5 minutes or until both are tender.

Drain scallops and mushrooms; mix with vinegar, oil, parsley and ¼ teaspoon pepper in bowl; chill.

At serving time, line salad bowl with lettuce leaves. Cut remaining lettuce in half on cutting board; place cut side down and cut into 1-inch cubes. Toss lightly with mushrooms and scallops. Add salt to taste. Turn into bowl; garnish with eggs. Makes 6 servings.

SCALLOP SALAD — Main dish salad from the sea combines scallops with western iceberg lettuce, mushrooms, hard-cooked eggs, and oil and vinegar dressing. Fine for Lent, served with salt sticks.

New Ways for Carrots Appeal to All Ages

Raw carrots are a good dental health vegetable. The crisp texture firms the jaw muscles and cleans the teeth, plus it's low in calories and easy to prepare.

Herbs and spices that complement the mild sweet carrot flavor are: basil, caraway seed, curry powder, dill, ginger, mace, marjoram, mint, nutmeg, parsley, chervil, sage and thyme.

Other flavors that combine to an advantage: orange juice and marmalade, mint and currant jelly, brown sugar, dark and maple syrups, bouillon and white wine.

Tangy Glazed Carrots

5 cups or 1¼ pounds sliced fresh carrots
⅓ cup orange juice
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ (5 ounce) jar pineapple cheese spread

Cook carrots until tender in small amount of salted boiling water. Drain. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over carrots. Continue cooking over low heat until cheese melts and mixture thickens. Do not boil. Makes 8 servings.

Carrot Ambrosia

1 quart or 16 ounces carrots, grated
¼ cup lemon juice
1 (3½ ounce) can grated coconut
3 tablespoons honey
½ cup dairy sour cream
1 cup or 8 ounces oranges, diced
¼ cup mayonnaise
2 ounces marshmallows

Combine carrots and lemon juice; add oranges, coconut and marshmallows. Combine honey, sour cream and mayonnaise; toss with carrot mixture. Serve on Iceberg or bronze lettuce. Makes 8 servings.

Quick Hors d'Oeuvres Start With Biscuits

Biscuit appetizers like these delicious snacks are always a welcome addition to your recipe file. Prepare rich biscuit dough and roll out to ¼-inch thickness.

★ ★ ★

Wrap well-drained button mushrooms, olives, cocktail franks, Vienna sausages or cheese cubes in small squares of the dough. Sprinkle with celery, poppy or sesame seeds and bake in a hot oven (450 degrees). 8 to 10 minutes.

Use those dark green outer cabbage leaves! They are rich in vitamins and in iron and calcium.

Right Handling Makes Doughnuts Rounded

To prevent doughnuts from getting flat on one side, allow them to stand on the breadboard for five to ten minutes after cutting. This gives the dough a chance to rise on the top side.

★ ★ ★

When putting doughnuts in the hot fat, run a spatula under each one, then slip into the fat with a twist of your wrist so the slightly raised top goes to the bottom. This will give the other side a chance to rise.

No Chore to Fix Batch of Good Hot Biscuits

Here's a good recipe for baking powder biscuits made with cream of tartar.

Oldtime Biscuits

1 cup sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
¼ cup butter or margarine
⅓ cup milk

Into a mixing bowl sift together the flour, baking powder, cream of tartar, salt and sugar. With a pastry blender cut in the butter until the particles are tiny. Add milk. With a fork stir just until a dough forms.

Turn out on a prepared pastry cloth; shape into a ball; knead 8 to 10 times. Roll out a little less than ½-inch thick; using a 2-inch round cutter, cut out biscuits. Re-roll tag ends and cut out the same way.

Place a few inches apart on a cookie sheet and bake in a very hot (450 degrees) oven 10 to 12 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve hot or reheat. Makes 11 biscuits.

Add Orange Juice

Leftover rice always poses a problem; here's a juicy way to save the rice and make it taste better than ever. Try reheating it with Florida orange juice instead of water. A little in the bottom of the pan will help refluff the rice and keep it from sticking. And you'll find the sweetly orange-fluff rice is particularly wonderful with chicken or ham.

Try Baking French Loaf

How vivid the picture of a Frenchman walking along a country road, with a loaf of bread tucked under his arm! For no French meal is complete without this favorite.

French Bread

2½ cups warm water (105-115 degrees)
2 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon margarine, melted
7 cups unsifted flour
Cornmeal
1 egg white
1 tablespoon cold water

Measure warm water into large warm mixing bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Add salt and margarine. Add flour and stir until flour is well blended (dough will be sticky).

Place dough in greased bowl. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Turn dough onto lightly floured board. Divide into 2 equal portions. Roll each into an oblong 15x10 inches.

Beginning at wide side, roll up tightly toward you; seal edges by pinching together. Taper ends by rolling gently back and forth. Place loaves on greased baking sheets sprinkled with cornmeal.

Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. With razor make 4 diagonal cuts on top of each loaf.

Bake in hot oven (450 degrees) for 25 minutes. Remove from oven and brush with egg white mixed with cold water. Return to oven, bake 5 minutes longer.

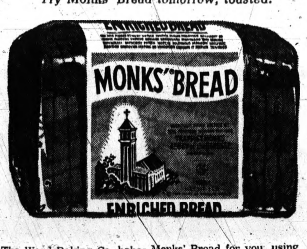
This bread may very well make the best toast you ever tasted

Monks' Bread has a flavor you can't toast away. Even butter can't hide it. It has a goodness you don't find in most bread. It's a bread that wasn't meant to be sold. It began as simple sustenance for the monks at the Abbey of the Genesee—men who eat no meat, no fowl. All the good things the monks baked into their full-flavored loaf naturally toast up better.

Try Monks' Bread tomorrow, toasted.



The Ward Baking Co. bakes Monks' Bread for you, using the exact prepackaged formula delivered to the bakery, special Monks' Bread pans, and following a strict preparation schedule, under guidance of the Abbey.

Training Camp Ailments Start

Tigers in Full Swing

By DON VOGEL

LAKELAND, Fla. — Norm Cash looked disconsolate yesterday as he sat in front of his locker at Henley Field.

The hard hitting first baseman had an ice pack strapped to his right side. He was one of three walking wounded as the Detroit Tigers' training camp got into full swing with all players on hand.

"I pulled a muscle while swinging in the batting cage," lamented Cash. "This never happened to me before."

His batting activity is expected to be curtailed for a few days.

Pitcher Don Mossi has the most serious ailment. The veteran lefthander had his left elbow X-rayed and some fluid drained off yesterday at Lakeland Hospital.

★ ★ ★

The elbow had been giving him trouble in earlier workouts. When he will be able to resume pitching is unknown, manager Charlie Dressen has been counting on Mossi to be a spot starter and long reliefer.

Pitcher Dave Wickersham was sidelined yesterday with an injured big toe. He stubbed it during sliding practice. The tall righthander was back in uniform today.

Shortstop Dick McAuliffe and outfielder Bill Bruton, both lefthanded hitters, started getting what is to become a steady diet for them this spring—lefthanded pitchers in batting practice.

★ ★ ★

Dressen feels this will help improve their averages.

McAuliffe sprayed several line drives off the offerings of Dick Egan. Bruton was less effective.

CLEARS FENCE

Al Kaline cleared the left field fence off righthander Al Koch and Pernal Goldy drilled an Egan pitch well over the wall about 400 feet from the plate.

Catcher Bill Freehan, a righthanded hitter, worked on slicing the ball into right.

"He pulled everything to left last season," commented Dressen, "and we want him to hit more behind the runner. It's easier to hit an outside pitcher to right than it is to pull it."

Freehan kept a close watch on the batting cage.

"It's not my turn, but if that cage is empty I want in it. I like nothing better than to hit."

He also took a turn working out at first base—after Cash was injured.

★ ★ ★

Dressen hit fungoes to Jake Wood who was playing third. The former second baseman, destined to become a utility man, wound up with a first baseman's glove.

Willie Horton, the outfielder from Detroit who arrived early in camp last month looking like he had a good time on the banquet circuit gains personal attention from Dressen.

"I have to go work with Willie," grinned Dressen. Several in the group around the manager chuckled. They knew that Horton was about to be put through a drill destined to melt pounds.

"You know," said Horton, "I've been losing six to eight pounds a day out here. But I put it back on after practice. I drink a lot of water and that adds pounds. But its all liquid, not fat."

Horton weighed over 220 when he hit camp and Dressen wants him down to 190. They haven't bothered to weigh him again since Feb. 15.

★ ★ ★

Relief pitcher Terry Fox, who staged a brief holdout worked out for the first times yesterday. Noted for having an arm problem off and on he said:

"I don't know how the arm is yet. I just got in. In a day or two I should be ready to throw and then I'll tell you."

Most of the day was spent with the infielders and outfielders taking turns in the batting cage and fielding practice. Pitchers worked on their form and played pepper.

A squad game will be played Friday.

TIGER NOTES

Twenty springs ago the Tigers made their last camp in Evansville, Ind. Wartime travel curtailment kept them close to home for three years.

★ ★ ★

The year was 1945, the last time the Bengals won the American League pennant. They returned to Lakeland in 1946. No one is claiming that Lakeland is a jinx.

The Tigers came here for the first time in 1934 and promptly won the pennant. They repeated the following year and again in 1940.

EX-TIGERS

Word from Clearwater is that Gus Triandos, traded by the Tigers along with Jim Bunning for Don Demeter and pitcher Jack Hamilton, is one of the most impressive hitters in the Phillies camp.

★ ★ ★

Although the mercury zoomed over 80 again yesterday, fans stayed away from Henley Field. The squad games earlier drew up to 600, but only ab... 100 have been watching the regular workouts.

The Mets drew 600 the other day in St. Petersburg for a routine practice.

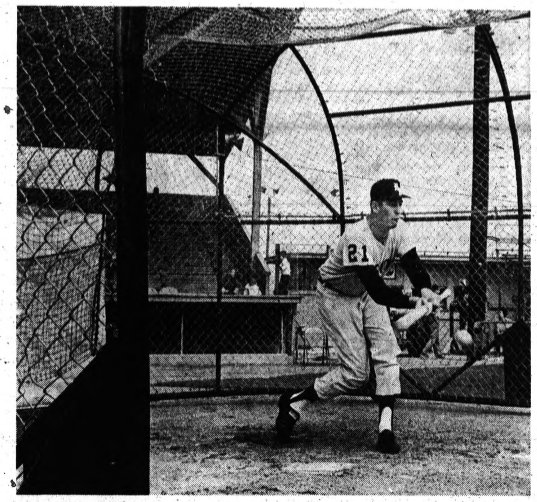
Pontiac Press Photos

WELCOME—It wasn't time to get into uniform as yet so Al Kaline (left) has his first chat with new arrival Don Demeter whom the Tigers obtained during the winter and who is expected to fill the centerfield position this year.



BIG HITTER—Believe it if you will but that's Hank Aguirre in the batting cage at Henley Field. Aguirre who admits to being one of the poorest hitters in baseball goes through bunting practice. As a pitcher he feels at least a sacrifice bunt is better than nothing, especially the way he hits.

WAITING GAME—Former University of Michigan athlete Bill Freehan of Royal Oak (left) and rookie catcher John Sullivan give the Tigers a youthful and promising catching department. Freehan is being considered as the first string receiver this year.

Oriole Manager Holding Tight Rein

Angels' Belinsky Sharp in Practice

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Pitcher Bo Belinsky, fighting hard to get back into the major leagues, is scoring points at the Los Angeles Angels' training camp.

★ ★ ★

Belinsky pitched two perfect innings during an intrasquad game Wednesday and the performance impressed manager Bill Rigney.

"I don't expect miracles from Bo," Rigney said. "I just want him to join the group —on the field. His life off the field is his own."

Belinsky's extra - curricular activities have gained him wide attention, but the Angels weren't pleased with his work last season.

★ ★ ★

They shipped him off to Hawaii, or tried to.

He refused to report for several weeks, then was credited with lending a big boost to Coast League attendance figures when he did show up.

★ ★ ★

Brought back to Los Angeles in September, Bo pitched the last home game of the season for the Angels before a less-than-capacity crowd.

★ ★ ★

Only 476 fans turned out for the afternoon makeup game — but Belinsky explained it this way:

"There would have been only 76 fans there if it wasn't for me. The other 400 came out to boo me."

His victory in that game gave him a 2-8 major league record for the year.

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (AP) — Juan Marichal, only half as late as last year, arrived at San Francisco Giants spring training Wednesday complete with stories of death threats and transportation snafus.

★ ★ ★

Last year's 25-game winner is being counted on to be the Giants' top pitcher this year — and probably the next 10 seasons as well.

★ ★ ★

In 1963 he was 22 days late arriving in camp because of a salary dispute but this time he was only 11 days behind.

"They gave me what I wanted and I'm happy with the money about $40,000," he said. "But the ticket they sent me to come here was for a very bad flight."

"I would have had to go bouncing all around, from Santo Domingo to Miami to Tampa to New Orleans to Tulsa and then to Phoenix.

★ ★ ★

"I went down and added my own money to get a plane to San Juan in Puerto Rico. Then we went to New York and then to San Francisco. I was ready to leave a few days ago, but for the last three days there's been a drivers' strike in the Dominican . . . if you drive your own car the people throw stones at you."

TAKES OVER — Newly acquired second baseman Jerry Lumpe makes his first infield toss in a Tiger uniform at Lakeland. Lumpe was obtained from Kansas City and he and shortstop Dick McAuliffe are expected to make up a strong infield combination.

Bauer Cracks Training Whip

Player Fined $300 for Arriving Late

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Manager Hank Bauer of the Baltimore Orioles is running a no-nonsense baseball training camp.

★ ★ ★

"I won't tolerate anything less than 100 per cent effort out of every player on this club," the ex-marine said when he arrived in Miami two weeks ago to take over as field boss of the Orioles.

★ ★ ★

"I don't believe in fining players, but if that's the only way to get a point across it will be done," Bauer said on the eve of spring training. "It's up to the players whether I'm tough. I will be if I have to."

COMPLETE CONTROL

So far, Bauer has been true to his word. And General Manager Lee MacPhail, who says Bauer will be in complete control of the club, has given his manager full support. Under Billy Hitchcock last season, several Orioles were criticized for their attitude.

★ ★ ★

Baier showed he meant business Wednesday by fining outfielder Willie Kirkland $300 for reporting three days late to camp.

MacPhail, irked by relief pitcher Stu Miller's holdout, issued an ultimatum.

★ ★ ★

The general manager said Miller "has been offered more money than any other pitcher on our staff and more than any other reliever in the American League.

"If he can't play for that, he can stay at home," MacPhail said.

Ex-Tiger Anderson Signs KC Contract

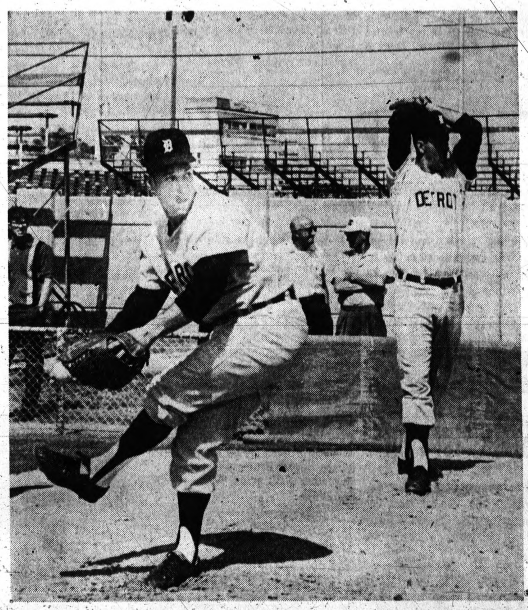
KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics signed pitcher Bob Anderson Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

The 29-year-old right-hander was obtained from Detroit last fall along with outfielder Rocky Colavito in a trade for second baseman Jerry Lumpe and pitchers Ed Rakow and Dave Wickersham.

★ ★ ★

Anderson appeared in 32 games for the Tigers last season, posted a 3-1 won-lost record and had a 3.30 earned run average.



NEW HURLERS—Getting in their early mound workouts at Lakeland are pitchers Jack Hamilton and Ed Rakow who came to the Tigers during the off-season trading. Rakow is expecting to be a starter, Hamilton may be destined for the bullpen.

Boss Expects Hot NL Race

COCOA, Fla. (AP)—The president of the National League has predicted a close race for the pennant this year.

Warren Giles, visiting the Houston Colts spring training camp Wednesday, said:

★ ★ ★

"I don't see how we can help having another good race in the National League. I think the Phillies, the Cardinals and Milwaukee are better. The Cardinals came close to changing everything last season, and the Phils looked real good late in the season. Milwaukee helped itself in trades."

★ ★ ★

He added that "I think the experienced players the Houston club has added gives important balance to a club that would have been better regardless with the normal development of young players."

Charity Game Slated

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Houston Oilers and the Kansas City Chiefs of the American Football League will meet in a charity exhibition game at Houston Sept. 3.

PNH Awaits Chiefs; Kettering vs. Milford

PCH State Tournament Record Bright

Pontiac Central basketball teams have left a glittering record along the state tournament trail since 1932-33.

During that span 1933 to 1963 —the Chiefs advanced to the finals on one occasion, to the semifinals twice and made the quarter-finals 10 times.

In only one tournament venture during the past three years have they failed to advance beyond the district — in 1963, when they fell before Pontiac Northern, 58-42.

Tonight the Chiefs will have an opportunity to avenge that slight blemish on their tournament record.

They will square off against the Huskies on the PNH floor, with the winner meeting Waterford in the district finals Saturday at 8 p.m.

NEW FOE?

Should Central win the district title it could set the stage for the Chiefs' first meeting with Clarkston or Kettering, the two squads picked to battle for the district crown at Grand Blanc.

★ ★ ★

In the semifinal action at Grand Blanc tonight, Kettering will meet Milford in the first encounter at 7 p.m., and Clarkston and Grand Blanc will tangle in the nightcap.

PCH handled the Huskies with ease during the regular season, coming out on top by scores of 73-60 and 69-59.

Coach Fred Zittel is expected to go with much the same lineup that carried the Chiefs to a 12-3 season record and second place in the Saginaw Valley Conference race.

Al Keel and William Morgan will probably get the call at the guard posts, with Mel DeWalt and Gerald Henry at forwards. Jim Johnson, Les Hanspard and John Hopper are expected to share the pivot assignment.

NEED STARTER

PNH coach Dick Hall was looking for a fifth starter in practice last night.

Hall said he would go with Roger Hayward and sophomore Larry Frye at forwards along with guards Terry Reese and Mike Burklow.

★ ★ ★

Frye (6-3) moved up from the junior varsity squad three games ago and has seen considerable action. He scored 12 poinnts as the Huskies trimmed Lake Orion Tuesday, 94-72.

Both Clarkston and Kettering are expected to encounter little difficulty at Grand Blanc tonight.

An ailing Rick Pankey is causing some concern for Kettering coach Joe Duby.

The 5-6 playmaker has been suffering from a chest cold for the past week, and Duby said he has not been his usual self.

Pankey is the leading scoring on the Captains unit with an average of 16.6 a game.

SCOUTS OPPONENT

Clarkston coach Dom Mauti was in the stands Tuesday night when Grand Blanc edged Howell, 74-67, in the tournament opener.

★ ★ ★

The Wolves, Wayne-Oakland League co-champion, rolled up a 14-2 season mark. Guard Dan Craven and forward Ken Miskin give the squad one of the area's top 1-2 punches.

Craven finished sixth (20.2) and Miskin 18th (16.5) in the Oakland County scoring race.

Latecomers May Miss PCH-PNH

Get an early start if you want to take in tonight's Pontiac Northern-Pontiac Central tournament clash.

★ ★ ★

Elden R. Johnson, PNH athletic director, said tickets would go on sale at 6:30 p.m. Capacity at PNH is 2,200. The game starts at 8 p.m.

LOOKING FOR ROOM—St. Michael's Rick Lavoie (dark uniform) finds his road to the basket guarded by St. Frederick's Bob Peoples in Class C tournament action last night. Lavoie found the scoring lanes open long enough to score 16 points as the Shamrocks dropped the Rams, 61-35.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Defeat and frustrations were tough on Ray "Scooter" McLean during his coaching years in the National Football League.

Scooter was used to winning as a player in college and in pro ranks and he wanted so much to be a winner on the coaching side of the game during his 13 years on the sidelines with the Green Bay Packers and Detroit Lions.

But, it wasn't meant to be that way for Scooter, who passed away at 4:30 a.m. yesterday in Ann Arbor's University Hospital.

After gaining "Little All-America" honors at St. Anselm's College in New Hampshire, he joined the Chicago Bears in 1940 and was part of one of the greatest eras ever enjoyed by a club in pro football.

The Bears won five championships in his eight years on the team and finished second the other three times.

TEAMMATES

With him on several of those teams were present Lions' head coach George Wilson and assistant Aldo Forte. The big name of the era was quarterback Sid Luckman.

McLean's nickname "Scooter" became obvious from his billing as one of the fastest halfbacks in pro football while with the Bears. Guard Dan Fortmann gave him the nickname.

He led the Bears in scoring in 1940, his rookie year, in 1942 and 1944. In 1942 he was also Luckman's top pass receiver with 19 receptions for 571 yards and eight touchdowns.

It was ironical that Wilson, who as an end shared most of the pass receiving honors with McLean, having been the team's individual receiving leader twice, should later join forces with he and Forte to make up the Detroit coaching staff.

Coaching however was not as kind to amiable McLean as was his fate in playing.

★ ★ ★

He served with the Packers for eight years after two years as coach at Lewis College in Illinois. In seven of those years as assistant in Green Bay, the Packers were wallowing in the lower depths of the NFL.

TOP ROOKIES

In 1958 he took over as head coach, a year when the Packer roster was filled with rookie names like Jim Taylor, Dan Currie, Ray Nitscke, Jerry Kramer, Bob Skoronski. There were sophomore names like Paul Hornung, Jesse Whittenton, Forrest Gregg and Bart Starr.

That was a green team and a lean year for Scooter. The Packers had one of the poorest seasons in history winning only one and tying one of 12 games.

★ ★ ★

That tie, incidentally, was the 13-13 game in Green Bay against Wilson and the Lions when quarterback Bobby Layne was harshly criticized for calling a play that many thought cost Detroit a victory. (Layne was then traded shortly afterward).

McLean was fired after the poor 1958 season and the following year he took over as backfield coach for his old Bears' teammate George Wilson in Detroit.

For three years, from 1960 to 1962, the Lions finished second best to Scooter's ex-team, the Packers, and what hurt was that all of the green rookies and sophs were the same ones who were now matured and winning for the Packers.

October 28th, the day after the Lions defeated the Minnesota Vikings, 28-10, Scooter was taken to University Hospital.

The diagnosis stunned many. Scooter, however, tried gamely to fight the dreaded illness. But, as in his coaching days, he was the loser.

He was a winner, however, not only as player, but in his association with people. "It warms the cockles of my heart," Scooter would say about things he liked. And a warm heart is something he really had.

AGGRESSIVE BARON — Bloomfield Hills' Wally Wengren (45) goes all out to take rebound away from Waterford's Tom Somers (40). Such first half play put the Barons 15 points in front, but they lost their drive in the second half, and the ball game, 62-57, in the first Pontiac Northern Class A district upset. Dick Miller (42) watches tussle.

Farmington Gains in Class A Tourney

Forward Dave Schlack returned to Farmington's lineup last night after a two-game absence and led the Falcons to a 60-54 victory over North Farmington in an opening-round Class A district game at North Farmington.

★ ★ ★

The senior forward injured an ankle three games ago and watched from the bench as the Falcons dropped a 52-51 decision to North Farmington and a 63-59 count to Berkley.

The ankle was sound last night as he poured in 19 points to share scoring honors with the losers' Jim Uhl.

The victory boosted the Falcons into a semifinal match with Detroit Thurston, a tilt set for Friday at 8 p.m.

The two squads were deadlocked at intermission, 29-29 and the lead changed hands several times in the third period.

The Falcons gained a four-point edge early in the fourth and maintained the lead to gain the decision.

OTHER GAMES

In other Class A contests, Fitzgerald moved into the semifinals with a 48-38 win over Madison at Fitzgerald. Mount Clemens qualified for the finals with a 70-59 triumph over L'Anse Creuse at Rochester.

★ ★ ★

Livonia Franklin dropped from the tourney trail in a 71-43 setback at the hands of Dearborn Robichard, and Port Huron edged Flint Kearsley, 79-75 to gain a berth in the finals at Lapeer.

Jeff Plopa (13) led the Fitzgerald attack and Jim Combs tossed in 15 points for Madison.

Al Hairston and Bill Ford provided the scoring punch for Mount Clemens with 27 and 15 points, respectively. Bob Skrocki netted 16 for the losers.

In a Class D scrap at Rochester, Port Huron St. Stephens the state's top-ranked 'D' quintet, routed Richmond St. Augustine, 86-35.

EMMANUEL NEXT

The Port Huron five will move into a semifinal game Friday at 8:30 p.m. with Emmanuel Christian providing the opposition.

★ ★ ★

The winners had a rout going early in the contest, leading at intermission, 46-12.

Greg Duba led a well-balanced St. Stephens' attack with 16 points.

Skippers Shock Bloomfield

SPORTS

Mikes Swamp Freds, 61-35

Experience is indeed a good teacher.

Ask St. Michael basketball coach Jim Niebauer.

In St. Michael's first game with St. Frederick back December, Niebauer watched his charges build an early 20-point lead.

Sensing a rout, Niebauer yanked his starters and turned the game over to the reserves.

St. Frederick took advantage of this generous gesture and rallied to win the game, 65-59.

Part of that story was repeated last night as the two squads met in a first-round game of the Class C district tournament at Pontiac Central.

The Shamrocks waltzed to an easy 61-35 triumph over St. Frederick, and they will meet Ortonville in a semifinal match tomorrow night.

LAKERS WIN

In the first game at PCH, Waterford Our Lady of Lakes won its first game in three seasons of tournament competition by downing Country Day, 56-54.

The victory boosted the Lakers into a semifinal meeting with Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows tomorrow at 7 p.m.

St. Michael built an early 18-7 lead and boosted the margin to 36-16 at intermission.

Niebauer, no doubt remembering the earlier meeting, kept his starting unit in the contest until late in the final period with the Shamrocks holding a 30-point edge.

"I didn't feel we had the game until midway in the third quarter," Niebauer said.

KEY FACTOR

Rebounding was one of the big factors in the game. Mike Pope (6-4), Rick Lavoie (6-3) and Mike DeConinck (6-2) controlled both backboards, hauling in 40 rebounds in the opening half.

Bill Brandt tossed in a basket with nine seconds remaining to give the Lakers their second victory of the season.

★ ★ ★

The Lakers had fallen to Country Day in two regular season meetings, and the outlook was dim as they fell behind 20-8 early in the opening quarter.

But with Joe Petrucci hitting from close range, the winners started moving in the second stanza and trailed at halftime, 29-27.

The teams traded the lead several times in the fourth period and Petrucci tossed in a free throw with 48 seconds remaining to knot the count at 54-54.

★ ★ ★

The Lakers stole the ball and moved down court. Wes Borys fed the ball to Brandt and the slender forward turned loose a 15-footer that ripped the net and ended Country Day's tourney hopes.

Waterford Has Its 'Big Day'

Barons Late Victims After 15-Point Lead

By JERE CRAIG

March 4th once was a famous day in U.S. political life, but for the Waterford Skippers Tuesday it was "their day."

The basketball squad at WTHS dragged through a 3-12 regular season campaign, but last night played its "best half" and overcame Bloomfield Hills, 62-57, on the Pontiac Northern court.

The conquest advanced coach Bob Taylor and the Skippers into Saturday night's Class A district championship game against tonight's Northern-Central winner.

For many years Mar. 4 was the day the U.S. inaugerated its President but that went out with FDR. Now it will be the night the Skippers remember most from this season.

BIG LEAD

Bloomfield Hills, with a 14-2 overall mark, pulled away to a 24-15 lead in the first quarter and built it to 35-20 late in the second period.

This early success was due primarily to Greg (Andy) Anderson's hot shooting. He pumped in seven of his first eight shots as the Barons connected on 16 of 32 in the first half.

★ ★ ★

The lead dropped a bit but was still 45-32 late in the third period when the complexion changed completely. The pressing Waterford defense forced four straight errors by the Barons.

The Skippers pumped in twin buckets by both Dick Miller and Rick Russ, and the difference was 45-40. They were down 49-45 at period's end.

The first two minutes of the last quarter saw the Bloomfield Hills' offense almost stop completely and the defense wasn't moving either. Waterford went ahead, 51-50.

After ties at 53 and 55, Russ sank a shot underneath for a 57-55 Waterford lead with less than three minutes to play.

A minute later Miller made it 59-55 and the outcome was deward was the secret weapon for the winners. He hit 16 points on eight of nine field goals.

★ ★ ★

Taylor, who had the usual double figures from Russ (18) and Rick Ziem (15), singled out Miller for his strong second half which, in turn, enabled the Skippers to play "their best half of the season," in the coach's words.

Game scoring honors went to Anderson who hit 11 of 19 shots unofficially, for 22 points. But like the rest of his teammates, he had a slow second half with only eight points, including the last six in the contest for Hills before fouling out.

Holly Quintet Eliminated

Holly, which very often in the past has been eliminated early by Fenton, won't have the chance to meet Fenton in the district final Friday.

The Broncos were surprised by Fowlerville last night, 54-48, despite a desperate rally in the closing minutes.

The winners led 24-17 at halftime but Holly gamely forced the game to change hands four times in the final period.

After a 41-41 deadlock, Fowlerville pulled away and the Broncos couldn't keep pace.

Fowlerville which now meets Fenton Friday, had four players who did all the scoring led by Sober's 25 and Gordon Hetrick's 18.

SAUCY ENCOUNTER — Mike Freeland (14) seems to be getting a disdaining look from Bloomfield Hills' Joe Menger (25) during this first quarter action last night at PNH. At the time, the Barons had things their own way, leading throughout the first half.

Ranger Trade Pays Off

NEW YORK (AP)—Muzz Patrick, general manager of the National Hockey League's New York Rangers, sat off in a corner looking much like the cat who'd swallowed the canary.

He had just watched young Rod Seiling's first game in a Ranger uniform and the big trade which brought Seiling and four other Toronto properties to New York for Andy Bathgate and Don McKenney was looking better all the time.

★ ★ ★

Seiling, playing most of two periods, had assisted on the tying goal and led All Star defenseman Pierre Pilote on a merry chase the rest of the evening as the Rangers dumped the Chicago Black Hawks 4-3.

The youngster rammed Pilote into the boards on his very first turn on the ice and from then on he was No. 1 on the defenseman's list.

★ ★ ★

It was a tough loss for the Hawks to absorb and Coach Billy Reay locked the dressing room door afterwards. Chicago had an 8-2-2 record against the Rangers and a victory would have enabled the Hawks to take the NHL lead from idle Montreal. The Canadiens and Hawks each have 77 points but Montreal has played three fewer games.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, the Leafs, struggling to hold third place, launched a third period rally to tie the Boston Bruins 4-4 in the only other NHL action Wednesday night.

Arnold Palmer Seeks 1st Win

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—"I'm ready to get going now," said Arnold Palmer as he prepared to tee off today in quest of a third Pensacola Open Golf Championship.

The 34-year-old Pennsylvanian hasn't had such a lean season since 1958. He hasn't scored a victory in seven starts this year, although he tied for third at Los Angeles and San Francisco in January. In the last five seasons, he won at least one tournament during the PGA golf tour's first seven weeks in the West.

★ ★ ★

However, he has won nearly $10,000 this year and ranks fourth on the PGA money list.

The $30,000 tournament at Pensacola Country Club is the ninth stop of the 1964 PGA tour.

OSU's Bradds Player of Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The nation's No. 1 collegiate cager, Gary Lee Bradds of Ohio State, is more interested in junior high school teaching and coaching than in a professional basketball career.

★ ★ ★

The All-America took it in stride when informed he had been named by The Associated Press as the college player of the year.

"It's a great honor, especially since this is my last year and my last chance at it," he said. "I figured nothing like that could ever happen to me, and I just hope I can live up to it. I can't take it as a personal thing, for all the fellows on the team made it possible."

JUST 'TEX'

He bears the nickname of "Tex." He's 21 years old, 6-8, weighs 200 pounds, and once scored 65 points in a high school game.

This year he averaged 35 to lead the western conference, and the Bucks need only a victory Saturday over Michigan State to win or share their fifth straight Big Ten title.

★ ★ ★

As a freshman Bradds, fresh from a farm near Jamestown, Ohio, was overshadowed by three-time All-America Jerry Lucas.

Last year, Bradds moved into the All-America spotlight for the first time, giving the Bucks the All-America center berth for five straight seasons.

Soccer Team Wins

MILAN, Italy (UPI) — Inter of Milan qualified for the semi-finals of the European Cup of League Champions' Tournament Wednesday by defeating Partizan of Yugoslavia, 2-1. Inter of Milan is the Italian soccer league's champion.

WIBC's nearly 2½ million members average 129.87 in league play, about 24 pins below the combined averages of men bowlers.

Bradley Returning to NIT Tournament

NEW YORK (UPI) — Old reliable Bradley will be back again.

The NIT selection committee Wednesday tabbed the Braves (19-6) from Peoria, Illinois for the oldest post-season tourney for the 11th time. They are the ninth school picked for this year's edition.

Cranes Close Cage Season With Victory

Cranbrook put the lid on the 1963-64 basketball season last night with a 54-53 triumph over Western Reserve of Cleveland.

A long jump shot by Bob Heavenrich with 40 seconds remaining brought the scoring in the nip-and-tuck contest to a close.

The lead changed hands 15 times during the game and it was tied on nine occasions. The losers held a 31-30 lead at intermission.

Pacing the Cranes' attack were Doug Fister (15), John Bailey (14) and Heavenrich (11).

The win boosted the Cranes' season mark to 13-3.

GRAPPLERS TIE

Decisions by Carter Hicks and Tom Barlow in the final two matches earned the Cranes a 19-19 tie with the Reserve wrestling squad. Cranbrook finished with an 8-5-1 mark.

2 English Fans Die in Rush for Soccer Seats

SUNDERLAND, England (AP)—A teen-age girl and a middle-aged man died in a crush of football fans swarming to get into a big soccer match Wednesday night.

Ambulances raced up to the seething crowd struggling around Roker Park Stadium amid screams and calls for help. At least 50 persons were hauled off to the hospital.

The game was between Manchester United and Sunderland, two major teams replaying a match to see who should get into the semifinals of the English Soccer Cup final.

It all ended in a 2-2 tie—meaning the whole thing will have to be played again.

BIG CROWD

About 65,000 people battled their way into the grounds. Outside was a frantic crowd of about the same size which failed to fight past the turnstiles.

At one point the frustrated fans surged forward and battered down two 10-foot high fences put up to keep them out.

* * *

Others scaled the outside of the grandstand and crawled across the roof into view of the playing field.

Inside the stadium, the excitement was almost as high. When Sunderland scored a goal hundreds dashed on to the field in a riot of ecstacy. Police pushed them off.

* * *

A Sunderland police spokesman said the two who died were in the crowd on the way to the match.

"One was a man of about 45 and the other was a girl of about 15," the spokesman said.

A man who lived nearby said: "The whole crowd outside just seemed to go mad. They acted just plain daft."

Celts Pad Eastern Loop Lead

By United Press International

If the Cincinnati Royals have any hopes of knocking the Boston Celtics from their perch in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association, they must begin tonight and not let up for the rest of the season.

* * *

Tonight's game is the last between the two teams in regular season play.

The Celtics, who are seeking their eighth straight division title, dumped Cincinnati 112-108 Wednesday night to pull a full four games in front of them.

It was close throughout the first three quarters as the score was tied 10 times in the first period and the lead changed hands five times in the opening three minutes of the second.

In other NBA games Wednesday night, the Baltimore Bullets downed the New York Knicks 115-108 and the St. Louis Hawks all but clinched second place in the Western Division by coming from behind to beat Los Angeles 110-105.

Cincinnati's all - star, Oscar Robertson, scored 34 points to take game high scoring honors, while Boston's John Havlicek racked up 28 to lead the winners.

At Baltimore, Walt Bellamy led the Bullets with 32 points in a game that saw a free-swinging brawl between New York's Tom Hoover and Terry Dischinger that touched off a near riot.

The fight started when Dischinger scored from underneath the basket. Several blows were thrown before the officials managed to break it up.

As Hoover, who had a similar fight with Los Angeles' Dom Nelson in January, was leaving the floor he apparently was jostled by a fan. He started to hit the spectator and other fans, ushers and police rushed onto the floor.

* * *

The game was delayed for 10 minutes before order could be restored.

ATLANTA (AP)—Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. says a verbal contract with a major league baseball team virtually assures an Atlanta entry in 1965 if action is action is taken for a proposed stadium.

* * *

Allen said Wednesday a team has definitely committed itself to move to Atlanta next year provided a stadium is completed or is in reasonable playing condition.

Allen who talked at length Wednesday by phone with the owners is expected to outline the negotiations Friday. A hearing will be held then on plans for building a $15 million stadium on a 47-acre tract south of the state capitol.

* * *

The proposed stadium would seat 50,000 for baseball and 57,500 for football. The Recreation Authority proposes to finance construction by floating revenue certificates which would be underwritten by the city and county.

Upset Keeps Zilka 5 in Class B Playoffs

Zilka Heating kept its recreation playoff hopes alive last night with a 65-61 upset victory over O'Neil Realty.

Zilka set the stage for a showdown battle with O'Neil for the Waterford Township Class B basketball championship by upsetting the realty five last night, 65-61.

The two squads will decide the title question at 7:30 p.m. today on the Crary Junior High School court.

The defeat was O'Neil's first this season by a Class B team.

Chuck Kirken tossed in two baskets with two minutes remaining to put the game out of reach. Kirken led the winners with 20 points and Jim Devine added 18.

Dave Struble led the O'Neil squad with 19.

'C' GAMES

In Pontiac Class C action, Beckers moved into the final round by dumping Wilsons, 70-58, and Messiah gained the semifinals with a 61-47 decision over Town and Country.

★ ★ ★

The Baptist quintet will now meet Wilsons with the winner playing Beckers for the championship.

Bill Hayward led the Becker squad with 19 points. The winners led at halftime, 42-18.

Sparking the Baptist attack were Chet Woodmore (17), James Ellison (17) and Willie Herston (17).

Titans Pound Marquette 5 Behind Dzik

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Detroit, with Dick Dzik scoring 38 points and snaring 28 rebounds, handed Marquette's basketball team its 15th consecutive loss Wednesday night, 100-76.

The Titans, second highest scoring team in the nation, flexed their muscles early in romping to a 41-18 lead with 11 minutes gone.

Dzik, displaying uncanny accuracy with a driving underhand layup fired several feet from the basket, had 18 of Detroit's points in that spree.

The Warriors, extending their worst record in history to 4-21, opened up the throttle at that point after starting with conservative tactics, battled back to narrow the gap at halftime to 54-45.

Detroit, however, outscored Marquette 9-2 at the start of the second half and pulled away almost at will.

It was the second time this year a Marquette opponent has scored 100 points or more, but only the fourth time in history. Dzik's rebound total was one shy of the record individual total scored on a Warrior team.

TV Money Prompts Chicago's AFL Bid

CHICAGO (UPI) — A syndicate of Chicago businessmen expects to have a franchise in the American Football League possibly by 1965 and certainly by 1966, spokesman Bob Nussbaum said today.

Nussbaum, who has operated the minor league Chicago Panthers recently, said Bill Veeck, former majority owner of the Chicago White Sox, had been invited to join the group and is "definitely interested."

★ ★ ★

The group will make formal application for the franchise at a meeting of the AFL expansion committee late this month or in April, Nussbaum said.

Nussbaum said the AFL's five year contract for $36 million with the National Broadcasting Co. for TV of its games sparked the group's decision to apply for a franchise.

Favorites Gain Weight

BOWIE, Md. (UPI) — Handicapper John Turner Jr. assigned Mongo and Gun Blow top weight of 126 pounds for Saturday's $100,000 added John B. Campbell Handicap. Mongo is the early 6-5 favorite for the mile and one-sixteenth race and Gun Blow is rated 7-5.

Detroit in Fight for Curling Lead

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—The U.S. Men's National Curling Championships entered its seventh round today with a four-way tie among Detroit, Grafton, Duluth and Milwaukee.

The four-way impass was created in the sixth round Wednesday night when Chicago iced a 7-6 victory over Milwaukee, and Grafton, N.D., won 10-8 in an extra end over prevly unbeaten Duluth, Minn.

Defending champion Detroit won its sixth-round match, 12-5, from Fairbanks, Alaska.

The tied four now have each won 5 and lost one in tourney play.

In an exciting match in the afternoon round, Seattle came from behind in the final end to hand Grafton its first tourney setback, 7-6, in an extra end.

Syracuse Entry Stays Unbeaten in Cue Play

NEW YORK (AP) — Art Cranfield, of Syracuse, N.Y., is the unbeaten leader in the World Pocket Billiards Tournament after six matches.

Cranfield picked up two victories Wednesday, 150-91 over Jack Colavita of Newark, N.J., in the afternoon and 150-114 over Lou Butera of Pittston, Pa., in the evening.

Deadlocked at one game behind Cranfield were defending champion Luther Lassiter of Elizabeth, N.C., Frank McGown of New York and Irving Crane of Rochester, N.Y. Each won two matches Wednesday for 5-1 records.

NCAA Skiers Eye Sky Holly Is Eliminated, 54-48

WINDSOR, Vt. (AP) — Rain threatened to wash out at least part of today's opening events in the three-day 11th annual National Collegiate Ski Championships.

NCAA officials hoped to run the slalom on Ascutney Mountain here, where the Alpine events were switched three days ago because of unusually warm weather.

★ ★ ★

But the weatherman predicted showers, possible thunderstorms, 40 mile per hour winds and spring-like temperatures reaching to the 60s.

The slaloms and the downhill originally had been set for the Dartmouth College skiway at Lyme, N.H., 25 miles north of here. But temperatures in the 50s forced moving the Alpine events here, where there is more snow.

★ ★ ★

However, officials said Wednesday that the downhill will not be attempted at all because of the weather conditions.

Nearly 100 competitors from 15 colleges throughout the United States were poised for the competition.

U.S. Olympic Team Entering Alpine Event

WINTER PARK, Colo. (AP)—Colorado, where members of the U.S. Olympic ski team did some of their training, also will be the site of their final bit of competition this year.

They are among 90 top-rated skiers entering the National Senior Alpine Championships at Winter Park March 20-22. This course is about 65 miles from Denver, west of the Continental Divide.

Heading the Olympic group will be Jean Saubert, who won two medals at Innsbruck, and Jim Heuga and Billy Kidd, who finished second and third in the men's slalom.

Others from the U.S. squad who will compete here include Barbara Ferries, Joan Hannah, Linda Meyers, Starr Walton Margo Walters, Chuck Ferries Bill Marolt, Rip McManus, Ni Orsi and Buddy Werner.

Gerry Groswold of Littleton Colo., tournament chairman said each of the U.S. Ski Association divisions will send contestants.

Werner and Miss Walton won the combined championships in the event last year.

Try 'Skolf' Huh, What?

OTTAWA, Ont. (NEA)—Joe Belanger started playing a new game.

Belanger, 63, calls it skolf. All that is needed to play skolf is a set of golf clubs, a few black-rubber taped golf balls, skis and plenty of snow. Belanger claims that skolf is more invigorating than golf and more fun than skiing.

Skolf may become a feature of a winter carnival at Eastview, Ont.

ABC Team Hits Own Top Score

Takes Tourney Lead With 2,942 Series

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Addo-X Adding Machines of San Francisco took fourth place in the regular division at the American Bowling Congress Tournament Wednesday with 2,942, the best score the team has ever shot.

The 915 average team rolled games of 942, 1,038 and 962. Its best score before Wednesday night was a 2,860 league series.

★ ★ ★

Bob Johnson, 26, a bowling center manager, and Don Molteni, 30, a personnel worker, tied for scoring honors with 622.

All-Coast Vancouver of Seattle Wash., dominated the regular five-man standings with a 3,055 total composed Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Earl Widman of St. Louis moved into fourth place in the classic singles with a 639 series. The 38-year-old motorcycle shop owner rolled games of 225, 180 and 234 but fell far short of overtaking Georoe Fleischhacker of Phoenix, Ariz., who totaled 668 Sunday.

In World Competition

NEW YORK (UPI) — Carl Robie, National Amateur Athletic Union 200-meter butterfly champion, will represent the United States in the eighth annual international swimming meet of the Bremen Swim Club at Bremen, Germany, March 7-8.

Ski 'Fun Day' at Mt. Holly

Despite the rash of mild weather which has closed many areas, the ski season remains active (considerably reduced, however) in Southeastern Michigan.

Dryden, thanks to a good drainage system reports Fred Molitor, has been open this week with fair skiing.

Mt. Holly closed for three days but with today's snow flurries and falling temperatures will be open tomorrow through Sunday.

Proprietor Mort Graddis announced this morning there will be snow making as long as the temperatures stay below freezing as the resort prepares for its second annual "Fun Day" Sunday.

A Mardi Gras atmosphere will prevail with costume skiers eligible for prizes that include weekend ski trips north, Head skis and superior quality stretch pants.

The festivities will start at 1 p.m. on the intermediate slope. Non-costumed skiers are welcomed, as well as spectators. Only costumed skiers are eligible for the prizes, however.

The state conditions:

Bowlers Fazio, Hardwick Tied for PBA Lead

BALTIMORE (AP) — A tie between Billy Hardwick of San Mateo, Calif., and Buzz Fazio of Detroit has developed as the final 12 qualifying games in the Professional Bowlers Association Baltimore Open gets under way today.

Fazio, 56, rolled a 1,362-pin total in Wednesday's six games to head the 160-man field with Hardwick, the 22-year-old national champion, at 2,553 pins after the first 12 games.

Ed Lubanski of Detroit finished Wednesday's set with a 300 game to hold third place with a 2,544-pin total.

Pontiac's Monroe Moore was off to a bad start, standing 90th after the 12 games.

He had series of 1176 and 1140 with highs and lows of 236-228 and 166-153.

Only Misfortune Has Tradition of Threes!

EUREKA, Calif. (AP) — Sixteen-year-old Jim Guy, a member of the Eureka High School golf team, squared off on the par 3, 119-yard fourth hole at Bayside golf course Wednesday, swung his No. 9 iron and sank a hole-in-one.

Robert Wright, a business mathematics teacher at the high school, took aim next, also using a nine iron, and sank another hole-in-one.

Jim's father, Kenneth Guy, the third member of the threesome, missed.

Some Blue Chips Lose

Market Declines Irregularly

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market declined irregularly in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

Averages were depressed by losses running to a point or more among some pivotal blue chips.

★ ★ ★

The downtrend was bucked by some of the tobaccos, metals, mail order-retails, rubbers and electronics.

Lower were steels, utilities, chemicals, airlines, oils, building materials, aerospace issues and electrical equipments.

MIXED START

The market was mixed at the start, then gave ground on balance.

Brokers saw the market as continuing to "consolidate" gains made in three sessions prior to yesterday's decline.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .2 at 298.3 with industrials unchanged, rails up .1 and utilities down .3.

A cheerful business news background included record auto sales in February, higher prices for aluminum ingots and a price rise for copper and brass tube by several manufacturers.

★ ★ ★

Cerro Corp., which paced the tube price boost was up a point to another yearly high.

★ ★ ★

Prices were mixed in quiet trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Action Urged on Succession

Nixon Tells Congress 'Remedy Flaw Now'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon told Congress today "The time has come to remedy the constitutional flaw" with respect to presidential succession and disability.

Although he set forth his own proposals, he said he had "no pet idea to sell" and felt the important thing was to get action while the people are acutely aware of the problem as a result of the late President John F. Kennedy's assassination and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's heart attack.

"The more time that elapses, the less urgency the people and the Congress will feel," Nixon told a Senate judiciary subcommittee.

★ ★ ★

Testifying without a prepared statement, Nixon made recommendations that differed in some respects with those advanced by Eisenhower in a letter yesterday to Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., the subcommittee chairman.

ALWAYS NEED VP

Nixon agreed with Eisenhower that the country should always have a vice president, but he proposed that in case of a vacancy that office be filled by the electoral college on the recommendation of the president.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower's recommendation was that the nomination of a new vice president by the president be subject to the approval of both the House and the Senate.

★ ★ ★

Nixon said he favored use of the electoral college since it would always be made up of a majority of members of the president's own party, while 20 per cent of the time during the nation's history Congress has been controlled by the opposition party.

Prices Are Firmer in Futures Sales

CHICAGO (AP)—Prices were a little firmer today in early grain futures transactions but with demand apparently thin.

★ ★ ★

Old crop wheat started off with the best support on buying believed to have been largely short covering and probably a fair volume of commercial accounts. Dealers said exporters appeared to be among the buyers. Poland was reported to have bought 1.1 million bushels overnight.

★ ★ ★

At the end of the first hour wheat was ½ to 1¾ cents a bushel higher, March $2.03; soybeans ⅛ higher to ¾ lower, March $2.68; corn unchanged to ⅜ higher, March $1.19; oats unchanged to ⅜ higher, March 65⅛ cents; rye ¼ to ¾ higher, March $1.33½.

ECONOMY IMPORT—The new Sunbeam Imp, being introduced in this country by Rootes Motors, can claim two important titles. It is the first passenger car built in Scotland in 50 years, and its rear-mounted aluminum engine is a first for any British firm. Top speed for the 42-horsepower car is listed at 80 miles-per-hour, and the rear seat can be folded down for added storage space. Local distributor is Superior Rambler, 550 Oakland.

10 Women Appointed

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's surprise announcement that he is appointing 10 women to top government jobs may have been premature in at least one case. Taken by surprise, one appointee said she isn't sure she'll accept.

"I really can't say anything until I look into it a little more," Virginia Mae Brown of Pliny, W.Va., said Wednesday night when told the President had said he was naming her to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

★ ★ ★

"An appointment like that is a very high honor for a woman or a man."

Johnson sprung his surprise at a Women's National Press Club dinner at which he presented Judge Anna M. Kross, commissioner of corrections of New York City, with the club's first Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Award.

RECURRENT THEME

The President also played again on what for him has become a recurrent theme — that he intends to strive to raise the status of women.

"Our determination to enlist women in this administration is no sporadic, election year objective," the President declared. "It will be a continuing aim not because it is politic, but because it is sound."

Given the setting, the President's affirmation was not unexpected. But his list of 10 appointees was. Amid applause he reeled them off.

Mrs. Brown to be the first woman member of the ICC.

OTHER APPOINTEES

Pauline Tompkins, North Edgecomb, Maine, General director of the American Association of University Women, to the Advisory Committee on Education and Cultural Affairs of the State Department.

Mrs. Norman Chandler, wife of the president of the Los Angeles Times-Mirror Corp., to be a member of the Advisory Committee to the U.S. Information Agency.

★ ★ ★

India Edwards, former vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, to be special consultant to the secretary of labor on youth employment.

Katharine E. White, chief of New Jersey's Garden State Parkway, to an ambassadorship, the country to be designated later.

LABOR DEPARTMENT

Mary Keyserling, economist, to be director of the women's bureau in the Labor Department.

Rose McKee, former newspaper woman, to be director of the Office of Public Information of the Small Business Administration.

Dr. Eleanor Poland, health and housing researcher, to be specialist on the research grants program of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Barbara Bolling, former wife of Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., to be special assistant to the U.S. chief of protocol.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Herbert Stats, editor, to be consultant to the U.S. Office of Aging and coordinator of Senior Citizens Month in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "What is meant by 'margin buying'? Is it a wise practice? What are its arvantages? I would appreciate an explanation." B.W.

A) Buying stocks on margin means that you put up only part of the cost of your purchase and the broker advances you the balance. The margin rate — or what you put up — is fixed by the Federal Reserve Board and at present is 70 per cent.

The advantage of margin buying is simply that it increases your purchasing power to a considerable extent. The disadvantages in the practice are that margins must be kept up; and, if your stocks fall in value, you will be asked for more margin. If you can't put it up, you're sold out. There is also an interest charge on your unpaid balance, which could prove quite costly over a period of time.

Q) "I hold Consolidated Edison and United States Rubber. My first interest is income. I have a few hundred dollars to add to either of these holdings. Which should I buy?" L.G.

A) On the basis of income alone, your better buy would be U.S. Rubber. The yield here is 4.5 per cent compared with 4 per cent afforded by Consolidated Edison.

I think I should point out, however, that U.S. Rubber reported a decline in earnings in 1963 to $2.90 a share from $3.52 a year earlier. The drop in 1963 was due in good part to loss of Montgomery Ward's tire business and to strikes at a number of plants. Nevertheless, the decline was fourth in a row for the company, and though earnings will probably be up this year, it is hard to visualize marked improvement in the price of shares.

If you can take the moderately lower yield, I would add to Consolidated Edison, which has lifted its dividend 5 times in the past decade.

Yank Charges Police Cruelty

BARCELONA, Spain (UPI)—An American jazz musician, facing a possible death sentence by garroting, told a court today he confessed the slaying of a Barcelona businessman after eight days in police custody without food or sleep.

The defendant, James Stephen Johnson, 31, of Framingham, Mass., is one of four Americans, a British girl and Spanish woman being tried on charges linked to the killing of a man during a robbery attempt Nov. 22, 1962.

Johnson told the court he confessed to police "after eight days without nothing to eat and no sleep, and a lot of other things." He did not elaborate.

Also facing death by Spain's iron collar are John J. Hand, 40, of Southfield, Mich.; and Maria Alfaro Velasco, 32, of Barcelona, former girlfriend of the victim.

Facing prison sentences as accused accomplices are Hand's sister-in-law, Mrs. Nancy Hand, 25, also of Southfield; and his alleged girlfriend, Joan Bryden, 22, of England.

Business Notes

Oakland County Chapter of the National Association of Accountants will conduct a technical discussion seminar 5 to 9:30 a.m. March 12 at Devon Gables.

Edwin H. Mammen Jr., vice president of Meldrum and Fewsmith, Inc., Cleveland-based advertising agency, has been transferred to the company's office at 1100 N. Woodward, Birmingham.

Mammen will head the Ford Motor Tractor and Implement Operations (U. S.) account, which he formerly worked on as a copy writer and account executive until 1957.

He was account supervisor on the agency's Cleveland-based accounts when he was elected a vice president in 1960. He plans to reside in the Birmingham area.

By Lady Legislators

Gal Wrestlers Pushed

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan's five lady legislators today are solidly behind a battle to legalize women's wrestling in Michigan.

Rep. Mrs. Marie Hager, R-Lansing, joined with her four female colleagues from the Democratic side of the aisle — Mrs. Josephine Hunsinger, Mrs. Daisy Elliott and Mrs. Maxcine Young of Detroit and Mrs. Lucille McCullough of Dearborn — in sponsoring the resolution.

When asked if she had ever seen a women's wrestling match Mrs. Hager replied softly, "No, have you?"

In fact, neither of the resolution's sponsors, Mrs. Hunsinger or Mrs. McCollough, has ever seen a live women's wrestling match.

"I've seen bouts on television though," Mrs. Hunsinger said.

The expressed legislative intent of the measure is to give women in Michigan an equal right to choose their occupations and it was introduced "in the firm belief that Michigan citizens, no less than those of other states, are dignified and orderly audiences of such sports events.

The resolution asked the lawmakers to advise the State Athletic Board of Control to allow women's wrestling on a trial basis.

Surrounding states have approved wrestling and approximately 50 per cent of the audience at wrestling bouts in Michigan is made up of women, the lady lawmakers said.

'TIS SPRING?—If you follow the weather instead of the calendar, you might have thought it was spring earlier this week. Typical of scenes in elementary schools throughout the area, Robert Tarpley, 6, of 16 Beaudette and Regina Spann, 6, of 167 Fisher note the changing seasons with a bird's nest in Mrs. Chalese Ashford's first grade room at Bagley Elementary School. Maybe it is spring? What's the date?

City Planners Oppose Zoning Request

In a stormy session which ran past midnight, the City Planning Commission last night recommended that the city deny a request to rezone 16 acres on Pontiac's east side for a multiple housing development.

The request was made by Charles L. Langs, the city's major developer of urban renewal lands in the downtown area and Mark Builders, of Detroit.

Another zoning request from Langs, to allow a multiple housing development south of Bethune School, was deferred until next month's meeting.

The east side proposal is almost identical to one made by another Detroit builder for the same land 18 months ago.

MAYOR OPPOSED

The former proposal had been strongly opposed by Mayor Robert A. Landry on grounds that it would detract from new housing developments in Pontiac's urban renewal project.

Aside from two or three models currently under construction, no new residential structures have been built on urban renewal land since then, although some are scheduled for construction later this year.

The former proposal was to rezone from Residential-1 to Residential-3 some 30 acres of vacant land bounded by Michigan, Tasmania, East Boulevard and the Clinton River.

Since then, 14 acres have been set aside to be purchased by the state for M59 freeway right-of-way.

PROPOSAL DENIED

By an 8-0 vote, planners recommended that the former proposal be denied in November 1962 and the City Commission followed suit.

Last night, the planning commission voted 5-2 to recommend that it be denied.

Langs' proposed project, which is entirely outside urban renewal, calls for 200 dwelling units in 19 buildings. It would be financed under Section 221-D3 of the Federal Housing Act.

* * *

Landry and Commissioner Loy L. Ledford, both members of the planning board, voted against the motion to deny. The motion had been offered by Robert C. Irwin, a planning commissioner.

CAN'T WAIT

Landry argued that "Pontiac cannot wait until vacant homes are filled before building new homes."

"I don't think we should adopt the attitude that this area is going to end up in shacks, or the developer is going to make a lot of money."

Irwin had a different view.

"There are now 383 homes in Pontiac repossessed by FHA or VA. Do we want to be known as Pontiac, the city of many, many vacancies?"

* * *

Commissioner Dick M. Kirby, in the audience, presented petitions signed by 66 per cent of the abutting property owners protesting plans to use the land for multiple housing.

TO COMMISSION

The recommendation will go to the City Commission for acceptance or rejection next Tuesday.

About 60 residents of the area involved attended last night's meeting to oppose the zoning request.

Langs proposal for land near Bethune School was tabled for more study on a traffic problem which more housing might create in that area.

TRY FOR CROWN—Signing up as contestants for the Miss Waterford title Saturday are Nancy Shadrick (center), 3525 Corena, and Pam Spaysky, 4185 Midland. At left is Waterford Jaycee Don Beedle, entries chairman. Thirteen contestants are slated to appear in the Pageant at Kettering High School starting at 8 p.m.

She Was Honest; Request Is Denied

By DICK SAUNDERS

Forthright, sincere honesty is an admirable quality anywhere. But it's almost saintly where a property deal is concerned.

At last night's City Planning Commission meeting, Mrs. Selma K. Ryan of 3520 Seminary, Orchard Lake, sat for four hours and 10 minutes waiting for commissioners to get to her item on the agenda.

The little lady, with a pleasant smile and curly light brown hair, listened to one of the hottest debates to spark a planning meeting in many a moon.

* * *

She owns a lot north of 53 Belmont. She was asking the city to vacate an alley adjacent to her lot so half of it would revert to her ownership.

AFTER MIDNIGHT

A little past midnight, the commission got to Mrs. Ryan's request.

It was pointed out that Mrs. Ryan's lot would be purchased by the State Highway Department for M59 freeway right-of-way.

"Really, gentlemen," said Mrs. Ryan. "I just thought if I could add 40 or 50 feet to my lot, I'd be able to get more money for it from the state."

There was a moment of befuddled silence.

Then the planners unanimously recommended her request be denied. They just don't recommend changes for speculative purposes.

Mrs. Ryan smiled, and thanked them, and left.

One commissioner commented in low tones, "You've got to give her credit. She's the first person tonight who told us exactly what she wanted right off the bat."

After Years, a Courthouse

SANDY HOOK, Ky. (AP)—Elliott County expects to have a courthouse by the summer of 1964, its first in 6½ years.

Fire destroyed the courthouse and jail at Sandy Hook late in 1957.

While county officials moved into temporary quarters, a good part of the insurance collected on the property was used to build a new jail.

A $100,000 bond issue was voted and finally approved in a court test. The county had to wait, though, for a $102,000 federal grant before it was ready to start a new courthouse.

Elliott County is in mountainous Eastern Kentucky, 175 miles east of Louisville.

Claim Woman Wed to Two

Bigamy Is Charged; Married Area Man

CHICAGO (AP) — A warrant charging bigamy has been issued for a 40-year-old woman who married the 22-year-old son of a former General Motors executive.

The woman, listed as Mrs. Gladys Irene Bell, was indicted on a bigamy charge Feb. 26 by a Cook County grand jury. The warrant was issued Wednesday when she failed to appear for a hearing before Chief Justice Alexander Napoli of Criminal Court. Bond was set at $2,000.

INDICTMENT CLAIM

The indictment said she and Cyrus William Osborn were married May 20, 1963, in Baltimore while she still was the wife of Reuben Millard Bell.

No information was given concerning Bell. Osborn is the son of Cyrus R. Osborn of 125 Martell, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., a former vice president of General Motors.

* * *

Officials never have questioned Mrs. Bell. Evidence presented to the grand jury was gathered by the senior Osborn family and investigators for the family.

Napoli set March 10 for another hearing.

Expect Contracts for First Village Units

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors is expected to award contracts tomorrow for construction of initial units in the county's proposed Childrens Village for court wards.

Construction would begin within two weeks and be completed by the end of this year at a cost of about $750,000.

The entire village complex as proposed would include 15 buildings to be built on a 50-acre site at the County Service Center by 1980.

The board also will receive a recommendation at tomorrow's meeting regarding use of the old downtown courthouse site as a parking lot.

RECEIVED BID

The county has received a bid from Sam Stolorow to lease the property for $500 a month. He previously was paying the county $1,150 to lease the site for a parking lot.

The board of supervisors will be asked by its legislative committee to oppose five bills in Lansing, including two that would give industries a tax reduction.

The reduction is sought by exempting certain machinery from personal property taxes.

The board's equalization committee has estimated that these cuts could cost the county some $600,000 in taxes.

The bylaws committee will recommend two additional members each to the ways and means and legislative committees.

The seven-member ways and means committee had asked for two more members so that it can be more representative of the entire board in preliminary deliberations.

Increasing the five-member legislative committee is recommended to make it easier to establish a quorum.

GEORGE J. MORROW

Credit Union Elects Chiefs

Recently returned to his seventh term as president of the Pontiac Railroad Employees Credit Union was George J. Morrow, 1426 Glenwood, Sylvan Lake.

Mrs. Kenneth L. Hamilton, 1075 Lynsue, Waterford Township, replaced her father, Garland G. Hale, as treasurer and general manager.

Hale of 835 N. Perry will serve as assistant treasurer and chairman of the credit committee.

Other credit union officers did not face reelection this year and continue in their posts.

For the fifth year, the credit union declared dividends of 4½ per cent. Membership was reported as over 700, and assets more than $260,650. A full-time operating schedule for the office at 158 W. Huron was also initiated during 1963.

Denies Charge of 'Free' Auto

DETROIT (AP) — Republican State Chairman Arthur Elliott Jr. denied Wednesday a statement by columnist Drew Pearson that American Motors is supplying an auto for Elliott's travels about the state.

Pearson's column said in part:

"It should interest the stockholders (of AMC) to know that American Motors is supplying a $4,000 Rambler, license ZK 2443, to Elliott."

Opera Stars to Sing in 1st Center Stagings

NEW YORK (AP)—Rise Stevens and Patrice Munsel will star in the two productions inaugurating the music theater of New York's Lincoln Center next summer.

Richard Rodgers, producing director of the project, said Miss Stevens will appear in "The King and I," which opens a five-week engagement July 6, and Miss Munsel in "The Merry Widow."

Optometrist Attends Contact Lens Seminar

Pontiac optometrist Dr. B. T. Brett of 17 N. Saginaw attended a recent seminar on contact lenses. The seminar was conducted by leading contact lens manufacturers.

Dr. Brett said that new contact lenses have been designed to replace the unsightly thick-lens glasses for people with cataracts and aphakic conditions. They provide the wearer with a wider field of vision.

Hand Graft Gangrenous

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador (UPI)—The dead man's hand that was grafted onto the arm of Ecuadorean sailor Julio Luna last month has turned gangrenous and probably will have to be amputated, it was reported today.

* * *

A panel of 13 surgeons who examined Luna in a hospital here said "dry gangrene" has "mummified" the fingers of the transplanted hand, turning them black.

Luna is being kept under close observation to determine the extent of the spread of the gangrene.

The 28-year-old sailor lost his hand and forearm in an accidental grenade explosion Feb. 13.

HAND REPLACED

Dr. Robert Gilbert replaced them with the hand and forearm of a laborer who had just died of stomach ulcers.

It was the first time such a graft had ever been performed, and it attracted wide attention in the medical profession.

Luna was to have been flown to Boston's Peter Bent Brigham Hospital today for observation.

Navy Surgeon General Gabriel Panchana canceled the Boston trip, when he received the report of the surgical panel.

How To Put Your INCOME-TAX SAVINGS To Work For Extra Income

What will you do with the extra money you now take home every payday, under the new Income-Tax Reduction Law? For many, it could prove a golden opportunity to get started, at last, on a sensible investment program—one planned to provide extra income, or perhaps contribute systematically to the growth of your personal capital.

By applying your tax-savings now, you can begin immediately to acquire securities and build an investment portfolio—tailoring your investment program carefully to your own personal goals and objectives. With the Monthly Investment Plan, for example, you can buy stock and add to your holdings on a regular basis for as little as $40 every three months ($3.08 per week). Why not take this opportunity to join the millions of investor-shareholders in America's publicly-owned companies . . . and participate personally in American industry's progress.

Write, phone or stop in to discuss how you can put your Income-Tax savings to work for you today.

Mannish Daughter Should See Doctor

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

"What is worrying me" (writes a Boston reader) "is that my daughter, 24, who is built like my husband's five sisters, may not have any children. My sisters-in-law are all married, aged from 28 to 40, all have mannish figures, some have hair on their chins and none has a child! Is sterility inherited? What would you do if you were in my place?" (Mrs. L. F.)

Some students of the question believe infertility or low fertility is inherited. To the best of my knowledge, this belief is untenable in respect to human beings, though it may apply to animals.

In view of the mannish figures of the aunts, if I were in your place, I'd want my daughter to consult a gynecologist, that is, a physician who limits his or her practice to diseases of women. Your family physician will refer her to a good one.

★ ★ ★

Being what you might regard as hipped on the subject of nutrition — I believe most everyday ailments are manifestations of nutritional deficiency — I am more impressed by the view of those students who think infertility or low fertility in human beings is a consequence of faulty nutrition, not just till payday but inadequate diet the year around.

USE WHEAT

With this thought rattling around in my cranium I'd want my daughter to substitute plain wheat for refined white flour in her everyday diet.

Wheat, cracked or ground every morning or at least two or three times a week, supplies some of the nutritional essentials which are required to maintain good nutrition. In women good nutrition promotes femininity and fertility.

Whether the value of wheat in your daughter's diet is referable to the vitamin B complex, the vitamin A or the vitamin E content, I don't know. I know only that plain wheat is the best source of B complex and E and a good source of A.

★ ★ ★

Vitamin E in concentrated form (wheat germ oil) has been peddled as a kind of magic cure for what have you.

PLAIN WHEAT

But the fact remains that a good chew of plain wheat — if you can chew anything so crude — gives you all of these vitamins in the most potent form. So does anything made of freshly cracked or ground wheat. If you want further suggestions, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet, "Wheat to Eat."

★ ★ ★

Principal reason for consulting the gynecologist is that such a specialist would be the better judge whether sex hormone would promote normal development.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

World War II Relics Are Found in Belgrade

BELGRADE (AP) — Since the end of World War II, residents of Belgrade have dug up 30,285 howitzer or artillery shells, 1,734 airplane bombs, 155 mines, 955 hand grenades and tens of thousands of live small-arms ammunition. The war relics usually have been uncovered in digging basements or putting in streets.

Jacoby on Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

If Hamlet had played bridge, he might have soliloquized, "To finesse or not to finesse. That is the question."

JACOBY

Now, how would you go about playing today's hand? The East and West cards are not shown, but you do get a king of spades opening.

After winning the first trick you cash the ace and king of trumps and both opponents follow.

Do you want to try for a lot of tricks or do you want to make sure of bringing home your contract? If you want to play safe, you should start proceedings by leading a low diamond toward dummy. If East wins with the queen, you will have tossed a trick right out the window. No matter which opponent wins the trick, however, you will be sure to bring home your contract.

★ ★ ★

Suppose West takes the queen and leads a club. Now you finesse dummy's queen. If that loses, East will have to lead something and before West can get in to lead another club through dummy, you will have set up two diamonds in your own hand and will be able to discard dummy's ten of clubs and eventually to ruff your last club.

If you go out for everything that isn't nailed down, you will lead a club toward dummy and finesse the queen. If that holds, you will lead the jack of diamonds and finesse against East for the queen.

You will make six on that line of play if the king of clubs and queen of diamonds are where you want them to be. But, you will go down at your game contract if both these cards and the jack of clubs are where you don't want them to be.

'Hide Violence in NY Schools'

Claims Attack a Day on School Teachers

NEW YORK (AP)—The president of the union which represents New York City public school teachers says there is an average of one attack a day by pupils on teachers and the Board of Education is hiding the violence behind "a blackboard curtain."

* * *

Charles Cogen, president of the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers, made the accusation Wednesday after the fourth attack in a week became publicly known.

Cogen said he believes that "in many cases incidents are not reported, the teachers are intimidated and the principals are likewise discouraged from making reports."

DECLINED COMMENT

A Board of Education spokesman declined to comment, but said Cogen's charges would be discussed at a meeting between Cogen and Dr. Calvin E. Gross, superintendent of schools.

Cogen said he will recommend that "principals be given freedom of action in suspending unruly pupils."

"We will not go along with the board's whitewash," he said. "We are asking all teachers to report all incidents and we will keep the public informed."

William L. Schulster, 50, a shop teacher at an elementary school in Brooklyn, was kicked and struck Wednesday. He refused medical treatment and returned to his duties.

FORMER PUPIL

Police arrested former pupil John Nappi, 17, and charged him with assault.

Police announced the arrest of a 14-year-old girl who Tuesday attacked her woman art teacher in a Bronx junior high school.

At another Bronx junior high school, a 15-year-old boy knifed a male teacher last Thursday.

Last Friday, a male teacher in a Manhattan high school was punched in the eye by a 15-year-old pupil.

Breakfast Aids Good Grades

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — If you want your child to do well in his school work, better make sure that he has a good breakfast daily.

University of Nebraska food and nutrition experts said recent tests prove that when breakfast is skipped, schoolwork "loses out."

The specialists said breakfast should supply a person with at least one-fourth of his daily calorie and body-building protein allowance, plus a good share of the required allowance of vitamin C.

They said persons should not shy away from a substantial breakfast under the theory that it will result in increased weight. Breakfast-skippers frequently double their usual intake of calories by nibbling on high calorie snacks.

Official to Explain Fish Industry Loans

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — A new disaster loan program to aid commercial fishermen and allied businessmen was set for explanation here today by spokesmen for the Small Business Administration.

The plan would permit loans to fishermen, processors, distributors, wholesalers and retailers who suffered economic distress from a botulism scare last year.

Chapter Organization

60 Now to Meet Sunday

Oakland County unit of Sixty Now, Inc., will adopt by-laws and elect officers in a 2 p.m. Sunday meeting at Pontiac Motor UAW Local 653 Hall, 386 E. Kennett.

The meeting will complete formal organization of the county chapter, which had been operating under interim leadership since it was formed last October.

The local group is affiliated with the national Sixty Now organization, which seeks changes in the federal social security program to permit earlier retirement with greater benefits.

* * *

Although its primary strength locally comes from the Pontiac labor movement, Rufe Collier, recording secretary, estimated about 20 per cent of the chapter's 350 members are nonunion persons.

EFFORTS INCREASE

Collier, a Local 653 committeeman, said increased efforts will be made to broaden the chapter's membership base and gain community support.

Play Rentals to Amateurs Has Big Profit

NEW YORK (AP) — Amateur rights can be a dramatist's delight, two of the country's largest play publishers report.

The Dramatists Play Service discloses that the 25 most popular scripts in its catalog have earned over $3 million from rentals to performing groups in clubs, schools, colleges and churches since the agency was founded in 1936.

Most popular of all, "You Can't Take It With You," has earned $375,000.

* * *

Samuel French & Co. rates "Our Town" as the biggest grosser in its library, having reaped $400,000 in 20 years. The firm, in business since 1830, released no other statistics.

The fee for permission to perform a play by an amateur group generally is about $50, with a sliding scale for subsequent presentations.

Get Touchy Over Rugby

LEICESTER, England (UPI)—Girls played rugby football against men and defeated them in every match at Leicester University yesterday.

"The chaps were worried how to interpret the touch part of touchdown," said Watkin Thomas, 22, captain of the beaten team.

Margaret Haines, captain of the victorious College Kitten side, said: "We trained for this for the last 10 days on beer."

Fly In Supplies to Chile Village

21 Feared Buried in Volcano Lava Flow

TEMUCO, Chile (UPI) — Air Force transports and private planes swarmed to and from the volcano-devastated Indian village of Conaripe today, flying in relief supplies and bringing out refugees.

An avalanche started by an eruption of volcanic Mt. Villarrica soared through Conaripe before dawn Monday, sweeping away 29 of the tiny logging village's 60 houses.

Twenty-one persons, officially listed as missing, are believed to be entombed in the mass of lava, mud and shattered timber the avalanche deposited on the mountainside.

* * *

The people of Conaripe knew avalanches posed a potential threat to their homes, but no one expected trouble to come in just the way it did.

NEVER BEFORE ERUPTED

In 80-odd years of intermittent activity, Villarrica had never before spilled lava down the Conaripe side of its towering cone.

The volcano was still smoking today, but the lava flow had stopped.

Besides wrecking the village, the avalanche destroyed a partially built bridge over the Correntoso River and caused some damage to roads.

Public Works Minister Ernesto Pinto Lagarrigue, who flew to the scene Monday, estimated that the damage to the bridge can be repaired "in a few days."

Union Hits Detroit Plan for Teachers

DETROIT (AP) — A board of education plan for teacher bargaining, designed to avert a possible teachers' strike, was turned down Wednesday.

The AFL-CIO Detroit Federation of Teachers rejected it, declaring it would lead to "chaos." This group demands a collective bargaining election.

The Detroit Education Association, another teachers' group, indicated some favor but objected to particulars. It objects to a sole bargaining agent.

The board, acting after a strike vote by the AFL - CIO union, proposed that a teachers representation committee of 11 members speak for both groups on salaries and other matters.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Riordan, federation president, said her union "strongly" rejected the proposal. She said it "can lead only to chaos."

Warren Quiz Holds 1st Public Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) —In the news from Washington:

PROBE: The Warren Commission held its first public hearing Wednesday in its investigation of the assassination of John F. Kennedy. It aired testimony by a New York lawyer questioning whether Lee Harvey Oswald was the killer.

* * *

The lawyer, Mark Lane, professed to represent the interests of Oswald, charged with the murder but shot to death in the Dallas jail two days after the assassination.

Lane attempted to raise doubts as to whether Oswald was the sniper who killed Kennedy. He produced news photographs of the assassination scene that he contended had been doctored to obscure the truth.

TO COMPARE PHOTOS

Rep. Gerald Ford, R-Mich., a commission member said the photographs would be compared with the "basic ones."

The hearing doors were opened without advance word after the commission began its usual closed session with Chief Justice Earl Warren presiding.

ADMISSION: Dr. Frederick C. Barghoorn, the Yale University expert on the Soviet Union who was imprisoned as a spy by the Russians last fall, says Soviet grain purchases in the West "illustrate a kind of boldness and willingness to admit mistakes."

* * *

Testifying Wednesday before a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee, Barghoorn said that in a sense the purchases are an admission of failure by Kremlin leaders.

But, he added, the mistakes have been mainly blamed on the discredited Stalin regime.

AIRPORTS: Congress passed and sent to President Johnson Wednesday a bill continuing the federal airport development program for three years and authorizing $225 million to pay for it.

PEACE CORPS: Congress authorized Wednesday $115 million for the Peace Corps—the full amount asked by the Johnson administration for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

House passage by a voice vote sent the measure to the President. The Senate had already approved it.

Electric Larynx New Voice Aid

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — An artifical larynx may prove a boon to persons afflicted with loss of voice due to cancer.

John R. Arp, representative of the Illinois Bell Telephone Co., says the electronic device enables users to converse by holding the battery powered unit to their throats.

The device was developed and made available through the Bell system on a nonprofit basis.

Recently compiled data shows that there are about 35,000 persons with larynx removed across the nation.

Some persons who have lost their voices are able to communicate by speaking with air which is first swallowed and then released from the esophagus in a controlled, gulping manner.

For Vaccination

Miss Universe 'Needled'

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — "What kind of country is this," screamed Miss Universe. "I will not have another needle."

That was the reaction of beauty queen Ieda Maria Vargas today when she learned that she couldn't tour Australia without being vaccinated again.

A doctor at Sydney Airport refused to accept a Brazilian certificate of vaccination.

Miss Vargas, tired and irritable after a 30-hour flight from the United States, retorted "I'll not have the needle, and that's that."

But an hour later she emerged from the doctor's office, rubbing her arm.

"I had to give in—and really it did not hurt much," she told newsmen.

Pickled Pigs' Feet?

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Alabama farmers have been advised to be suspicious if their hogs staggered around in a peculiar manner.

State Agriculture Commissioner A. W. Todd issued the warning yesterday, saying a theft ring broken up recently had been feeding hogs loaves of bread soaked in bootleg whisky.

When the hogs got too drunk to stand, Todd said, "they were loaded into the back of cars and trucks without squealing or commotion."

High Court Splits in Long Drug Dispute

LANSING (AP) — In a ruling that mystified even its own court aides, the Michigan Supreme Court split 4-4 Wednesday over granting of a new hearing to the State Pharmacy Board in the long SupeRx drug licensing dispute.

The split resulted in denial of the board's petition for a rehearing and left unsettled the question of whether the discount drug firm is entitled to a state license, approved earlier by the court in a 5-3 decision.

* * *

SupeRx, a subsidiary of the Kroger Co., has been involved in a 1½-year running fight with the pharmacy board over its request for a license to operate a chain of discount stores.

The high court had ruled 5-3 last Dec. 5, that the company was entitled to a license. But the board petitioned for a rehearing.

PETITION DENIED

The court simply stated that the petition for rehearing was "denied," but there were two statements of instruction to Chief Clerk Donald F. Winters.

One statement, signed by Justice John Dethmers and three others, said the pharmacy board's rehearing petition was denied and the Dec. 5 ruling by the court, that a license be issued to SupeRx, affirmed.

* * *

The other statement, bearing the names of Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh and three others, notified Winters that the court had "divided equally" on the application for rehearing.

Prisoners Pay for New Jail?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — County Judge Marlow Cook thinks it would be a good idea if persons who run afoul of the law had to pay for the proposed $4 million new county jail.

Cook would like to add a minimum $1 tax on each fine levied in courts of Louisville and Jefferson County to pay for the lockup.

Before his idea becomes a reality, the 1964 legislature must give its permission for such a tax.

Printed Forms on New Law Are Available

WASHINGTON (AP) — Summaries of the principal changes under the new income tax reduction law are now available at post offices and banks, an Internal Revenue Service official said today.

* * *

The two-page instruction sheet also contains income tax rates which will apply to 1964 income.

The instruction sheets are designed to help taxpayers who must file estimated income tax forms and are not related to the forms most taxpayers must file before April 15 to cover 1963 income.

'Kind to Dogs at Auschwitz'

Says Animals Lived Better Than Inmates

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Germany's biggest war crimes trial was told today that man-killing guard dogs at Auschwitz concentration camp "lived in kennels that were far superior to the barracks inhabited by prisoners."

"The 200 or so SS (elite guard) dogs used to guard prisoners were housed in specially built, snug and dry kennels with concrete floors, while prisoners lived in airless, windowless barracks with mud floors," the court trying 22 former SS guards and Auschwitz functionaires was told.

Attorneys representing former Auschwitz prisoners read the statements from the formal charges against the defendants.

* * *

"When cows were brought to the camp to supply milk for the SS contingents, prisoners were moved out of barracks to make room for the animals," the document continued.

MADE HABITABLE

"But before the cows were installed, windows were put in the barracks, and mud floors were covered with concrete — in other words, the quarters were made habitable."

The charges were read to refresh the memory of a witness, former SS Maj. Gen. Joachim Caesar, who managed several thousand acres of prisoner-cultivated land at Auschwitz from 1942 to the end of World War II.

Caesar, 62, who now operates a laundry in Constanz, Germany, told the court he could not remember many specific details of Auschwitz, "but I must say that the fact I was at Auschwitz weighs down on me heavily even today.

"Conditions were unbelievably awful," he said. "I heard of mishandling of prisoners, that they were beaten and gassed, but I never saw this, just heard about it.

WAS SHOCKED

"I only learned of the large numbers killed during the Nurenberg trials and I was shocked!"

Caesar said though that he knew great numbers of prisoners died of typhus caused by the camp's filthy living conditions.

"My own wife died of typhus while we were living at Auschwitz," he said.

Cloves are the buds of a widely cultivated West India tree. The buds are picked when the calyxes turn pink: Then they are separated from the stems and dried on open concrete platforms to seal in the fragrant oil.

'Cowgirl' Is Witness in Sinatra Jr. Trial

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnaping trial was marked today by a theatrical touch left by a shapely young actress clad in an "Annie Oakley" Western costume and carrying a toy gun.

Codefendant John William Irwin, 42-year-old house painter, was scheduled to undergo further cross-examination this morning but he was almost forgotten late yesterday because of the presence of raven-haired Vicki London, a defense witness.

Defendants in addition to Irwin in the federal trial are Barry Worthington Keenan, a salesman, and Joseph Clyde Amsler, a onetime amateur boxer and professional skindiver, both 23.

★ ★ ★

The defense claims the kidnaping was a "publicity stunt" staged with young Sinatra's consent—a contention he has denied under oath.

TRUE NAME

Miss London, 19, who gave her true name as Victoria Blumenfeld, was called to the stand by defense attorney Gladys Towles Root to testify about two mysterious telephone calls the actress said she received following the Dec. 8 kidnaping of young Sinatra from a Lake Tahoe motel.

She said she heard a "young voice" in the background of the first call made by what she assumed was "an older man" but she was unable to say definitely that the background voice was that of young Sinatra.

She received the first call on Dec. 9, she said, and advised both Reno, Nev., police and local police that she was told the young singer was unharmed.

★ ★ ★

The second call, a day later, was made by a man with "a younger voice," she said, but again she was unable to identify Sinatra.

NOT CERTAIN

She admitted she had told another defense attorney, George A. Forde, a few minutes earlier outside the courtroom that she talked to young Sinatra but in sworn testimony she said she was uncertain.

"I can't be definite about it," she said. "I thought it was his voice."

Prosecutor Thomas R. Sheridan, in biting cross-examination, accused Miss London of seeking publicity.

He noted her cowgirl costume—she had a toy six-shooter in a gun belt—and asked her why she appeared in court in such an outfit.

With a toss of her shoulder-length tresses, Miss London shot back:

"I'm starring in a western musical show and I'm on my way to a dress rehearsal."

AP Photofax

HOLDUP — Actress Vicki London, all dressed up for her part in a Western musical, posed for photographers after testifying for the defense in the Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnaping case. Miss London held up cross-examination of defendant John Irwin.

Long Island in southeastern New York is 118 miles long and varies from 12 to 20 miles in width.

The first lighthouse established on the Atlantic Coast was built of stone on little Brewster Island off Boston Harber in 1716, and used whale oil for fuel.

Chevrolet to Halt Flint Frame Work

DETROIT (AP) — Chevrolet Division of General Motors Corp. announced Wednesday it will cease making automobile frames at its Flint frame and stamping plant at the end of the 1964 model run and devote all the plant's capacity to stampings.

Production of frames, Chevrolet said, will be increased at plants of A.O. Smith Corp. in Milwaukee and the Budd Co. in Philadelphia.

Chevrolet also said effort will be made to reassign Flint employes involved in framemaking to expanded stamping operations.

Big-Hearted Jack Parr at Christmas Goes Far

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The Friars Club was having its monthly roast, kidding comedian Jack Carter, its target for the day, when gag-writer-author-comedian Jack Douglas switched the firing to his ex-boss Jack Paar.

WILSON

"You can't say Jack Paar hasn't a big heart," Jack Douglas said. "Every Christmas eve, he goes to the Four Seasons restaurant, gets some of their big beautiful menus, goes down to The Bowery, finds the most down-and-out bums — and he gives them those menus."

Douglas also related that when he was asked recently what his job is, he answered: "I march."

"You march?" cried an incredulous prospective employer.

"That's right, I march. Just last Saturday for example, I marched in three parades. One parade carried signs saying 'Ban the Bomb.' The second one said 'Don't Ban the Bomb.' The third parade said 'What Bomb?'"

Jack E. Leonard, one of the roasters, picked on Allen and Rossi who will shortly appear in Los Angeles at the Cocoanut Grove.

"I know you two will be very big on the coast," Leonard said, "the African coast."

Broadway certainly is elated to know that Van Johnson is positively O.K.—despite his brief return to Memorial Hospital for cancer and allied diseases. His limp caused by an infection which responded to treatment, is gone. Van will appear on the Ed Sullivan show March 22, and will be rescheduled at Harrah's at Lake Tahoe in a few weeks. (Vivi Van!)

Hoffa to Appeal Verdict in Jury-Fixing Case

To File Motion for a New Trial Within 5 Days

Robert Kennedy Hails U. S. Prosecutors on Teamster's Conviction

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, planned today to appeal his conviction on charges he tried to rig a federal court jury.

Hoffa stared in disbelief when he heard the verdict yesterday — his first conviction in four trials.

Still another federal trial awaits him next month in Chicago.

"We will appeal," Hoffa told newsmen.

★ ★ ★

His lawyers said motions for a new trial would be filed with U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson within five days.

NO DATE SET

The judge has set no date for passing sentence.

The conviction could mean 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine for Hoffa, head of the Teamsters Union.

The verdict brought congratulations to the prosecutors from Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy—long accused by Hoffa of waging a vendetta against him.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa's bond was raised from $10,000 to $75,000 by Wilson.

JURY FINDINGS

The jury found that:

1. Hoffa, Larry Campbell of Detroit and Thomas E. Parks of Nashville sought to offer $10,000 to the son of a juror in the Nashville trial.

2. Hoffa and Ewing King, former Nashville Teamsters president, tried to influence another juror by offering to help her husband get a promotion on the Temessee Highway Patrol.

Hoffa's son and daughter heard their father found guilty.

★ ★ ★

Barbara Crancer of St. Louis, Hoffa's daughter, held her hands in front of her face, her eyes closed, as though in prayer. Her brother, James P. Hoffa, a University of Michigan law student, stared at the floor.

TOOK NEWS CALMLY

Hoffa's wife, Josephine received the news in a Detroit hospital where she is being treated for a heart condition.

"She took the news calmly," said Dr. George Mogill; her physician.

World Can Inspect U.S. Reactor

Pontiac Press Photo

BEFORE THE STORM — Three-year-old Donald VanLuven gets a close-up look of a sure sign of spring, flowering crocuses. The youngster's interest in nature blossomed on a visit to the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Anson VanLuven, 95 Hickory Lane.

Other Nations Urged to Join Control Move

Russ Geneva Envoy Avoids Comment on N-Inspection Proposal

GENEVA (AP) — The United States announced today that it will place one of its largest nuclear power reactors under international inspection in the hope that other countries — and particularly the Soviet Union—will follow suit.

U.S. delegate Adrian S. Fisher told the 17 nation disarmament conference the huge reactor plant at Rowe, Mass., is to be placed under inspection of the International Atomic Energy Agency IAEA.

Fisher said the United States hopes this step will encourage the Soviet Union and other countries to join in a worldwide system to prevent the misuse of civil reactors for clandestine production of nuclear weapons.

Fisher stressed that the IAEA will be invited to undertake the permanent inspection of the Rowe reactor "whether or not other states reciprocate." But if they do reciprocate, he added, it would be "one of the most significant developments of this conference."

Fisher said three smaller American reactors, two at the Brookhaven, N.Y., research laboratory and one at Piqua, Ohio, are already under IAEA inspection to help the agency develop its procedure for safeguarding the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

LARGEST REACTOR

The privately owned reactor at Rowe is by far the largest to come under IAEA surveillance. It is rated at a power level of 600,000 thermal kilowatts and produced over one billion kilowatt hours of electricity in 1963.

"The United States does not believe that opening these reactors to international inspection is a derogation of its national sovereignty," Fisher said.

Citing President Johnson's proposal Jan. 21 for agreements to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons, Fisher said all countries should agree to let the IAEA supervise production, transfer and use of all fissionable materials intended for peaceful purposes.

★ ★ ★

Fisher said all the world had an interest in preventing an increase in the number of countries producing nuclear weapons while encouraging an increase in countries with peaceful nuclear programs.

Wide Damage Caused in Area by Gale Winds

Utilities Interrupted, Roads Blocked During Cold Wave Prelude

The lion finally roared as March winds belatedly slammed into the Pontiac area last night, smashing windows and snapping trees and utility wires.

After four days of lamb-like weather, gale-force winds of 60 miles per hour whistled through Southeastern Michigan, hitting Oakland County and the Detroit area hardest.

A score of store windows were reported broken in Pontiac and Waterford Township after the wind hit its peak shortly before 4 a.m.

A number of roads throughout the county were blocked for a time after wires and trees fell across them.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. said several additional repair crews were called in to handle the "heavy damage" it experienced on a countywide basis.

SERVICE STALLS

Detroit Edison Co. said portions of Union Lake, southwestern West Bloomfield Township and Keego Harbor had service interruptions this morning, but all repairs were completed before 10 a.m.

Consumers Power Co. reported it was fortunate since it had only one service interruption because of the storm.

The winds were forerunner of a cold wave.

★ ★ ★

The temperature rose from 46 at midnight to 53 at 3 a.m. By 8:30 a.m., the mercury had dropped to 34 degrees. The reading was 36 at 1 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Clearing and colder with diminishing winds and a low of 18 to 24 is tonight's forecast. Partly cloudy and cold, the high in the low 30's, is the prediction for tomorrow and Saturday.

Area Leaders Discuss Proposal

Interest Keen in Job Training

By L. GARY THORNE

Keen interest — often enthusiastic — was reflected by Pontiac area businessmen, educators, labor officials and civic leaders in a proposal by school officials to set up job training for youth and adults.

Two immediate effects of the job-training program were forecast by a labor official and local hospital officials.

"I'm very much interested in vocational programs," said Fred V. Haggard, president of the AFL-CIO Oakland County Council.

"It will take some of our people off the streets," he added.

EMPLOYMENT KEY

Haggard said that job training is the key to full employment. He thought something was needed to accomplish this.

Harry Whitlow, administrator of Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, saw a "definite advantage" to the proposed program.

"We have 70 beds closed right now because of a shortage of registered nurses."

★ ★ ★

The personnel director of GMC Truck & Coach Division, Earl A. Maxwell, said he had jobs that "go begging" even though there still is a substantial amount of unemployment because of the lack of trained workers.

Car Sales Stay at Brisk Pace

Pontiac Motor Sets Fifth Monthly Record

Auto sales continued at a brisk pace as Pontiac Motor Division reported new car deliveries last month at an all-time high for any February.

Pontiac sold 51,695 units during February, breaking the previous record of 45,058 set a year ago, said E. M. Estes, division general manager.

Tempest's share of the month's sales reached 17,222, a 72 per cent increase from the same period last year.

February marked the fifth consecutive monthly record for the division since 1964 models were introduced.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Division's report was reflected in virtually every segment of the U.S. auto industry.

OTHERS UP

Ford, Chrysler and General Motors all reported substantial sales increases compared with the second month of 1963. Only American Motors showed a decline.

Chevrolet Division sold 179,320 units last month, almost a five per cent increase, to lead General Motors to overall sales of 324,977. A year ago sales stood at 297,343.

Ford sold 154,343 cars during February to top the 1963 mark of 122,779. Chrysler announced monthly deliveries of 75,663, above the 60,606 for the comparable 1963 period.

★ ★ ★

American Motors started slowly, and while final 10 day sales pushed the monthly mark to 30,050, it was below last February's 36,083.

High Court Defers Action on Districts

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court, by a 5-3 decision, today deferred action on legislative reapportionment on grounds the U. S. Supreme Court must first establish a definition of "equality" under the Federal Constitution.

The controlling opinion was signed by Chief Justice Thomas

Kavanagh and four other Democrats on the court.

Two Republicans, John Dethmers and Harry Kelly, signed a dissent in which they said an apportionment plan written by Republican members of the Legislative Apportionment Commission should be approved.

Justice Michael O'Hara, also a Republican, concurred with Dethmers and Kelly.

Surgery Tomorrow for Gen. MacArthur

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur has "obstructive jaundice of unknown origin" and exploratory abdominal surgery will be performed tomorrow morning to try to determine the cause, Walter Reed Army Hospital announced today.

A statement from the hospital where the old warrior has been undergoing tests since Monday, reported:

"Diagnostic tests on Gen. MacArthur have been completed. It has been determined that he has an obstructive jaundice of unknown origin.

Violent Storms Kill 11 in 6 Southern States

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Tornadoes and other violent weather killed 11 persons and injured about 40 in six Southern states.

The Weather Bureau said at least a dozen tornadoes had been spawned as warm air from the Gulf of Mexico clashed with a cold front yesterday.

Torrential rains accompanied many thunderstorms, and the 24-hour rainfall in Western Kentucky exceeded five inches.

Lightning struck a house at Forrest City, Ark., and started a fire in which seven died.

Another Arkansas fatality was attributed to a tornado.

Two were killed in Western Kentucky, and another perished in Tennessee.

MORE DAMAGE

Damage from tornadoes was reported in Louisiana, Mississippi and Missouri, and wind damage to a lesser degree was reported in Northwest Georgia.

A woman was killed when a tornado roared onto the Beech Creek community near Magnolia, Ark. Six others were injured.

Another tornado lashed Western Kentucky, killing 2 and injuring about 20.

The twister hit near Hardin, near Kentucky Lake, dipped into the tiny community of Fairdealing, then struck Kirksey.

BUSINESSES HIT

Some businesses were damaged, but most of the destruction was confined to homes in the area.

The Tennessee Valley Authority power plant at Pickwick Dam was knocked out as a tornado whipped through Tennessee.

The tornado at Pickwick demolished the main switchyard of the powerhouse and knocked over main river crossing transmission lines.

Mrs. Maydell Summers, about 45, was killed at her Springfield, Tenn., farm when a storm cellar caved in at her house.

Three Votes Won't Count

Absentee Ballots for District 7 Come Late

There are three votes that will never be counted in Monday's city primary election.

All three were cast in District 7, where a candidate fell one vote short of the charmed circle.

The votes are enclosed in three envelopes which lie inconspicuously on a table in the office of City Clerk Olga Barkeley.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Barkeley will never open the envelopes.

They are absent voter ballots which were delivered to her office Tuesday—one day late.

MAILED SUNDAY

However, all three bear postmarks prior to election day. Two were mailed in Pontiac and postmarked between noon and midnight Sunday.

One came via air mail through an outstate Air Force Post Office. It was postmarked Feb. 26 at the point of origination.

The state election law clearly specifies that absent voter ballots are not valid, and do not

King of Greece Is Near Death, Gets Communion

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—King Paul of Greece was given Holy Communion today as he hovered between life and death.

Athens radio announced that a palace priest gave communion to the 62-year-old king, the world's only reigning Orthodox monarch, after a Mass in the chapel at Tatoi Palace.

The radio said: "The king is fighting with death, and his wife, Queen Frederika, is at his bedside as he suffers his mortal agony."

Traffic Has Killed 332

EAST LANSING (AP)—Traffice accidents have killed 332 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The highway death toll at this date last year was 224.

To View Killing at Ruby Trial

Defendant Will See Film for 1st Time

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade prepared today to show the jury in Jack Ruby's murder trial—and Ruby himself—the film of the wild moment when Ruby shot Lee Harvey Oswald on Sunday, Nov. 24.

★ ★ ★

The film was recorded by television cameras in the basement of the Dall as City Hall, seen live by some viewers, and in re-runs by countless others. Ruby will be looking at it for the first time, said his lawyer, Melvin M. Belli.

Wade is asking the jury of eight men and four women to return a verdict of death in the electric chair for Ruby, charged with murder with malice. Oswald had been accused of assassinating President John F. Kennedy when Ruby killed him. Ruby's lawyers contend he was temporarily insane.

COMPLETE CASE

Wade said he expects to complete the state's case today. Then the defense will have its turn.

Testimony from 14 witnesses Wednesday developed these main points:

1. Ruby continued to try to pull the trigger of his 38-caliber pistol after he shot Oswald.

This testimony came from J. R. Leavelle, Dallas policeman who was handcuffed to Oswald when Ruby fired. Belli seemed to attach importance to the point. He contends Ruby was "blacked out" emotionally.

STILL TRYING

Q. (by Belli): "Ruby was still then trying to shoot, was he not? His hand was then contracting and his hand was still pulling and Ruby was still pointing at Oswald and was still trying to pull that trigger?"

A. "Yes."

Q. "How Long was he still trying to pull that trigger?"

A. "I don't know."

2. Leavelle, under questioning both by Asst. Dist. Atty. William Alexander and Belli, said he rould not tell which finger Ruby used to pull the trigger.

Defense lawyers say he used his middle finger. They consider this evidence that Ruby was in a state of "psychomotor discuntion," and did not realize he was not using the first, or trigger, finger.

MONEY ORDER

3. Doyle Lane, a Western Union supervisor, testified that Ruby bought a $25 money order moments before he shot Oswald.

Belli contends that persons suffering from "psychomotor epilepsy" can appear normal for several days. He says grief over President Kennedy's death shocked Ruby into this condition.

Won't Be Counted

count, unless they are delivered to election officials at precinct polling places by the time polls close on an election day.

★ ★ ★

When the polls close, absent voter ballots are added to votes computed by voting machines during the day and the resulting totals are then reported to the city clerk.

NOT UNUSUAL

"We always have some absentee ballots come in late for every election," Mrs. Barkeley said yesterday. "It's not an unusual occurrence.

"The unusual thing about this election was that one candidate was nominated by a one-vote margin."

In District 7, Mayor Robert A. Landry easily polled the highest number of votes.

★ ★ ★

The second highest was Curtis L. Webb, who got 238 votes, thus qualifying as Landry's opponent on the April 20 final election ballot.

RECOUNT ASKED

In third place, and out of the running, was Emmett S. Wellbaum, with 237 votes. Wellbaum has already asked for a recount.

Mrs. Barkeley said that 103 absentee ballots had been issued by her office prior to the Feb. 29 deadline for getting such ballots.

"The only ones that came in late were these three in District 7," she added. "In such matters I have no recourse but to follow the laws of the state."

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson said, "Anything is possible, but it is very unlikely that mail deposited in Pontiac on Sunday would not reach City Hall until Tuesday.

DIRECT DELIVERY

"City Hall mail is delivered directly from the post office; not by a letter carrier like residential mail," he explained.

When mail is delivered at City Hall, it goes to the mail room. From there, it is delivered to departments throughout the building by Mrs. Joyce Nijhof, mail room clerk.

The envelopes are clearly marked "Absent Voter Ballot" in heavy black type.

★ ★ ★

"Every piece of mail that came in Monday was delivered to city departments by 5 p.m.," said Mrs. Nijhof.

NO MAIL

"There wasn't any mail in the mailroom at closing time Monday," she added.

Mrs. Barkeley said she made a final check at the post office Monday night as required by law.

"I called the post office at 7 and asked if they had any City Hall mail marked as absent voter ballots and they told me they didn't," she noted.

★ ★ ★

Whether or not the ballots would have made any difference in the District 7 outcome is pure speculation. All three votes could have been for nominees other than Webb or Wellbaum.

In any case, no one will ever know. The envelopes will never be opened.

The voters' names and addresses are on the envelopes, and that's all that's required for Mrs. Barkeley to complete her job.

★ ★ ★

As prescribed by state law, the registration records of each voter will show he, or she, voted in Pontiac on March 2, 1964.

But those votes will never count.

Interest Keen in Job Plan

training should be in the direction of the skills that are needed, Maxwell added that there was no question of the need for such programs.

Elmer Babb, regional director for the U. S. Department of Labor, commented that the Pontiac school training proposal included some unique features.

"This back-to-back training idea, combining on-the-job instruction with institution training, would give individuals participating practical experience," he said.

Babb added that this feature would also tie in the community and business with the program.

"Any attempt in this area is welcomed," commented Merrill F. Walls, employment manager of the Pontiac office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC).

Walls, who has worked closely with school officials in planning the job-training program, said it was not yet clear where the funds to finance the project might come from, but added "no one has said no yet."

The MESC manager pointed out that the training program would have to be limited until the proper facility could be found.

Existing facilities are quite limited, he said. In fact, space had to be rented for a recent nurses program.

OTHER PROBLEMS

Pontiac School Board President William H. Anderson said that not all problems had been worked out. He said answers were needed on what kind of training should be offered and what jobs are there.

"We're on the right track, though," Anderson added, "but we still have a little way to go yet."

Louis Schimmel, director of the Michigan Municipal Advisory Council and local resident, said the proposed job-training program was something the community needs.

"There is a very pressing need for a practical approach to this problem," he explained.

Oakland University Chancellor D. B. Varner viewed the Pontiac project as "an extremely valuable approach."

Varner supported his view with statistics showing that 10 million workers need to be added to the total U.S. work force in the next decade.

"However, at the same time," he said, "we'll need 2.2 million fewer unskilled workers."

ALL COMMUNITIES

Waterford Township School Supt. Don O. Tatroe said that the job of vocational training for young people and retraining of adults is a problem all communities have to face up to.

The chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, Delos Hamlin, summed up the reaction to the Pontiac school proposal:

"It sounds like a good first step—we have unemployables, not unemployment."

Lady Legislators

Gal Wrestlers Pushed

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan's five lady legislators today are solidly behind a battle to legalize women's wrestling in Michigan.

Rep. Mrs. Marie Hager, R-Lansing, joined with her four female colleagues from the Democratic side of the aisle — Mrs. Josephine Hunsinger, Mrs. Daisy Elliott and Mrs. Maxcine Young of Detroit and Mrs. Lucille McCullough of Dearborn — in sponsoring the resolution.

When asked if she had ever seen a women's wrestling match Mrs. Hager replied softly; "No, have you?"

In fact, neither of the resolution's sponsors, Mrs. Hunsinger or Mrs. McCollough, has ever seen a live women's wrestling match.

ON TELEVISION

"I've seen bouts on television though," Mrs. Hunsinger said. "And my mother wouldn't miss a match no matter who is wrestling."

The expressed legislative intent of the measure is to give women in Michigan an equal right to choose their occupations and it was introduced "in the firm belief that Michigan citizens, no less than those of other states, are dignified and orderly audiences of such sports events.

The resolution asked the lawmakers to advise the State Athletic Board of Control to allow women's wrestling on a trial basis.

Surrounding states have approved wrestling and approximately 50 per cent of the audience at wrestling bouts in Michigan is made up of women, the lady lawmakers said.

Indian to Lead Cyprus Team

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A 52-year-old Indian general appeared almost certain today to command the U.N. peace force for Cyprus, but at least six men were being mentioned for the tougher job of mediator between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Diplomatic sources said Secretary-General U Thant had chosen Lt. Gen. Prem Singh Gyani to command the force but was withholding an announcement until he receives replies from nations asked to contribute troops.

Gyani, a graduate of Britain's Imperial War College, commanded the 5,000-man U.N. emergency force along the Egyptian-Israeli frontier for more than four years. In mid-

See Story, Page A-12

January, he was sent to Cyprus as the secretary - general's personal observer.

In a rare display of unanimity, the Security Council authorized the U.N. peacekeeping operation Wednesday, empowering Thant to name the force commander and the mediator in consultation with Cyprus, Turkey, Greece and Britain.

One informant said Thant had suggested three men for the post of mediator, including former President Galo Plaza of Ecuador, who headed the 1958 U.N. observation group in Lebanon. Another man reportedly favored in U.N. circles was Jose Rolz-Bennett of Guatemala, Thant's deputy chief of Cabinet who made a survey trip to Cyprus for the secretary-general and attended the recent London conference at which Britain attempted to mediate the dispute.

School Board Seeks Advice

BIRMINGHAM — The board of education again is seeking the help of citizens in determining what kind of financial request should be made of district property owners.

The board has invited 30 persons to serve on a citizens advisory committee which will start meeting in the immediate future. Thus far 25 of those asked have accepted the invitation.

In a letter to prospective members, School Board President E. Ross Hanson asked for their assistance in considering building and operating requirements of the district.

★ ★ ★

Hanson commented on a similar committee established in 1961, noting that representative groups of citizens had helped the board in arriving at "realistic and thoughtful" solutions to school problems.

Those who have accepted invitations to work on the committee include 11 Birmingham residents. Among them are Mrs. John H. Bryant, 423 Berwyn and E. Gerry Dudley, 1564 Stanley.

★ ★ ★

Also from Birmingham are Mrs. Sidney W. Smith, 210 Abbey; Rev. Samuel F. Stout, 1720 Bradford; Norman B. Weston, 944 Kennesaw; and Harris O. Machus, 1178 N. Glenhurst.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS

Bloomfield Hills residents to serve are Dr. Vince Greeson, 1671 Keller and Rev. Robert F. Marshall, 651 N. Woodward.

The Bloomfield Township representation will consist of Robert L. Kilpatrick, 183 Hupp Cross; Dr. Philip J. Laux Jr., 250 N. Clifton; Horace E. Sheldon, 3560 Wooddale; and John C. Siegesmund Jr., 315 Hupp Cross.

From Troy are William J. Dalton, 3509 Tothill and George W. Whitehead, 858 Norwich.

Other committee members Dr. D. Lloyd McKinney of Franklin and Mrs. Floyd G. Abatt, James Giblin, Mrs. George N. Hiffinger, William F. King and Richard J. Wilson of Beverly Hills.

The appointment of a Birmingham man to the State Employment Security Commission was confirmed yesterday by the Senate.

★ ★ ★

Chester A. Cahn of 600 Westwood was named by Gov. George W. Romney to serve on the commission.

The Birmingham Board of Education has scheduled a special meeting for 8 tonight to consider the results of an administrative investigation of activities of a sorority. Trustees also plan to take any necessary action to curb the sorority, TAE, at Seaholm High School.

Smoth Away Possible Cause of Costly 'Runs'

Stocking runs are both costly and annoying. Next time you lose a stocking this way don't blame the manufacturer till you check up on your own legs. Even the slightest stubble can snag the cobweb thin filament. Shave the legs or use depilatory before it becomes obviously necessary. Soothe reddened skin and the razor nicks and scrapes with good quality witch hazel.

Sitting Stimuli for Circulation

People who don't feel "up to" push-ups or tennis still require some stimulus to circulation. A "painless" way to accomplish this is in connection with your daily bath.

Soap and rinse as usual, then step out of the tub and dry briskly with a turkish towel — giving yourself an all-over rub-down.

This vigorous massage stimulates circulation, makes your skin glow, and helps improve appearance and health.

Face in Window Often Deceiving About Beauty

If you've ever seen a pretty face through a car or train window and then been disappointed when the whole person came into view, you know the importance of a slender figure to beauty.

Today, you don't have to be a martyr to carrot sticks and black coffee to win the battle of the bulge. Manufacturers have come up with low-calorie main dishes that are nutricious and delicious. It's possible to buy low-calorie cookies, cakes, ice milk or soft drinks. The variety is infinite.

Beauty Baths for the Floors

Schedule beauty treatments for your hardwood floors as conscientiously as you do for your complexion.

U.S. Sailors Replace Cuban Laborers Fired at Guantanamo

MAKE OVER PAGES

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 1,000 Cuban workers have been fired fro mthe Guantanamo naval base, and the Navy has ordered U.S. sailors there to replace them.

The Cuban workers discharged to date total more than half of the 1,800 who came through the gate each day.

* * *

The Associated Press learned this today after the United States spurned an offer by Prime Minister Fidel Castro to turn on the water to the base once again.

Castro's halting of the flow of fresh water to Guantanamo a month ago set off a chain of U.S. reactions, including the firing of Cuban workers who commuted to jobs on the base.

SELF-SUFFICIENT

The United States has vowed to make the base self-sufficient. It has made arrangements to build a $10-million permanent water desalting plant and associated equipment for converting sea water into fresh water.

The Navy now is supplying water to the base with relays of huge tankers shuttling between Florida and Guantanamo, on Cuba's eastern end.

* * *

At last report, the base had 17 million gallons of water in storage. This is about 1 million more than were in storage tanks on the day Castro shut off the tap because the United States was holding 36 Cuban fishermen accused of poaching in U. S. waters.

There was no indication how many more of the daily commuting workers would be discharged.

600 ON BASE

There are 600 Cubans who live on the base permanently and 600 others who have been returning to Cuba only on weekends.

"Military replacements are being ordered to Guantanamo," the Navy said when asked what was being done to fill the manpower gap left by the discharged Cubans.

A spokesman said these replacements are Navy men, probably including Seabees.

It was indicated that replacement of the Cuban workers by Navy men may be a temporary measure.

"The Navy is now hiring civilians from the U.S.A. and Puerto Rico, who possess skills not readily available in the Navy, to replace the workers that were released," it said.

Allergies Created by Marital Ills

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — There's no doubt, allergists agree, that husbands and wives can be allergic to each other.

But sometimes the symptoms —a rash, sneezing, irritability— denote another problem: They just can't stand each other.

A group of doctors, all of whom preferred anonymity, discussed this touchy subject at the annual convention of the American College of Allergists.

One physician said there were five authenticated cases of allergies developed between man and wife. Dandruff was the villain in each case.

EYES WATERED

Another allergist recalled a couple that was on the brink of divorce because everytime they kissed, the husband's eyes would water, his nose would itch and he would become irritable.

"It took quite a while," said the doctor, "but we discovered he was allergic to the face powder his wife wore. Most such cases turn out to have similar answers."

A third physician said symptoms of an allergy often may be purely psychological.

"Husband and wife just don't like being near each other," he said. "But they don't want to admit this, even to themselves. So they come up with symptoms which they hope they can blame on an allergy."

Little Change

Stock Market Trading Brisk

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved unevenly early today in brisk trading.

★ ★ ★

Gains and losses of most key stocks were fractional.

Brokers saw the action as a continuation of a "digestive" phase which started Wednesday following three straight daily advances to new peaks.

The business news background was bright, including record auto sales in February, higher prices for aluminum ingot and a rise in prices for copper and brass tube by several manufacturers.

Chrysler was active and up a fraction. Ford also gained a fraction but most other leading motors showed little or no change.

★ ★ ★

Wednesday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .6 to 298.5.

Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange. Gainers included Arkansas-Louisiana Gas, Brown Co. and Draper.

Nixon to Urge Veep Proposal

Steps to Insure U.S. Has Vice President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is expected to urge Congress today to take steps to make sure the country is not left for long without a vice president.

Nixon testifies before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee which received a similar recommendation yesterday from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy last November and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson's succession to the presidency, the subcommittee has been considering various constitutional amendments to deal with the problem.

★ ★ ★

Nixon recently proposed that whenever the office of vice president becomes vacant, the president convene the electoral college within 30 days to elect a new vice president. He said the country needs to have a vice president.

EISENHOWER PROPOSAL

In a letter to Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., the subcommittee chairman, Eisenhower suggested that the president nominate a new vice president in case of a vacancy and that his nomination be subject to approval by both the Senate and the House.

Under a 1947 law, when the vice president becomes president, the speaker of the House is next in line of succession followed by the president pro tempore of the Senate and the members of the Cabinet.

The Cabinet members, starting with the secretary of state, were first in line of succession prior to the 1947 law.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower said he preferred this to the present statute, but had come to the conclusion that it would be best to adopt a constitutional amendment providing for filling a vacancy in the office of vice president.

SPECIAL SESSION

In case a vacancy occurred while Congress was in recess, he said, a special session should be called promptly to act on the president's nominee.

Man to Stay in Jail, Cupid Has to Wait

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A local man, charged with breaking and entering and petty larceny, asked for a reduction in his bond from $1,000 to $500 — "So I can get out and get married."

"How can you afford to pay a bond premium and get married too?" asked Judge Richard H. Cooper.

"She's going to pay both," replied the man.

★ ★ ★

"If you get convicted on these charges, you may not see her for quite a while," warned the judge.

"She'll wait," he answered confidently.

And so will the wedding. The court denied the reduction and the would-be-bridegroom is still in jail.

Business Notes

Oakland County Chapter of the National Association of Accountants will conduct a technical discussion seminar 5 to 9:30 a.m. March 12 at Devon Gables.

Edwin H. Mammen Jr., vice president of Meldrum and Fewsmith, Inc., Cleveland-based advertising agency, has been transferred to the company's office at 1100 N. Woodward, Birmingham.

Mammen will head the Ford Motor Tractor and Implement Operations (U. S.) account, which he formerly worked on as a copy writer and account executive until 1957.

He was account supervisor on the agency's Cleveland-based accounts when he was elected a vice president in 1960. He plans to reside in the Birmingham area.

ECONOMY IMPORT—The new Sunbeam Imp, being introduced in this country by Rootes Motors, can claim two important titles. It is the first passenger car built in Scotland in 50 years, and its rear-mounted aluminum engine is a first for any British firm. Top speed for the 42-horsepower car is listed at 80 miles-per-hour, and the rear seat can be folded down for added storage space. Local distributor is Superior Rambler, 550 Oakland.

10 Women Appointed

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's surprise announcement that he is appointing 10 women to top government jobs may have been premature in at least one case. Taken by surprise, one appointee said she isn't sure she'll accept.

"I really can't say anything until I look into it a little more," Virginia Mae Brown of Pliny, W.Va., said Wednesday night when told the President had said he was naming her to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

★ ★ ★

"An appointment like that is a very high honor for a woman or a man."

Johnson sprung his surprise at a Women's National Press Club dinner at which he presented Judge Anna M. Kross, commissioner of corrections of New York City, with the club's first Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Award.

RECURRENT THEME

The President also played again on what for him has become a recurrent theme — that he intends to strive to raise the status of women.

"Our determination to enlist women in this administration is no sporadic, election year objective," the President declared. "It will be a continuing aim not because it is politic, but because it is sound."

★ ★ ★

Given the setting, the President's affirmation was not unexpected. But his list of 10 appointees was. Amid applause he reeled them off.

Mrs. Brown to be the first woman member of the ICC.

OTHER APPOINTEES

Pauline Tompkins, North Edgecomb, Maine, General director of the American Association of University Women, to the Advisory Committee on Education and Cultural Affairs of the State Department.

Mrs. Norman Chandler, wife of the president of the Los Angeles Times-Mirror Corp., to be a member of the Advisory Committee to the U.S. Information Agency.

★ ★ ★

India Edwards, former vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, to be special consultant to the secretary of labor on youth employment.

Katharine E. White, chief of New Jersey's Garden State Parkway, to an ambassadorship, the country to be designated later.

LABOR DEPARTMENT

Mary Keyserling, economist, to be director of the women's bureau in the Labor Department.

Rose McKee, former newspaper woman, to be director of the Office of Public Information of the Small Business Administration.

Dr. Eleanor Poland, health and housing researcher, to be specialist on the research grants program of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Barbara Bolling, former wife of Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., to be special assistant to the U.S. chief of protocol.

Mrs. Herbert Stats, editor, to be consultant to the U.S. Office of Aging and coordinator of Senior Citizens Month in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Distress Call From Plane May Be Hoax

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—State police said today that a report of a plane in distress may have been a hoax.

No evidence of a crash was discovered by either the air or ground search parties, police said.

The plane was reported to have been carrying four persons, including a woman giving birth to a child.

Hancock Field at Syracuse received a radio call at 1:30 a.m., purportedly from a pilot, who said the plane was on fire and he would attempt an emergency landing.

GIVING BIRTH

A spokesman at Hancock Field, where the call was received, said: "The first call was that there was a pregnant woman aboard about to have a child any moment, and then 15 minutes later, we had a call that she was giving birth to the child."

The spokesman said the tower was in communication with the aircraft on and off for half an hour.

Successful Investing

Q) "What is meant by 'margin buying'? Is it a wise practice? What are its arvantages? I would appreciate an explanation." B.W.

A) Buying stocks on margin means that you put up only part of the cost of your purchase and the broker advances you the balance. The margin rate — or what you put up — is fixed by the Federal Reserve Board and at present is 70 per cent.

The advantage of margin buying is simply that it increases your purchasing power to a considerable extent. The disadvantages in the practice are that margins must be kept up; and, if your stocks fall in value, you will be asked for more margin. If you can't put it up, you're sold out. There is also an interest charge on your unpaid balance, which could prove quite costly over a period of time.

Q) "I hold Consolidated Edison and United States Rubber. My first interest is income. I have a few hundred dollars to add to either of these holdings. Which should I buy?" L.G.

A) On the basis of income alone, your better buy would be U.S. Rubber. The yield here is 4.5 per cent compared with 4 per cent afforded by Consolidated Edison.

I think I should point out, however, that U.S. Rubber reported a decline in earnings in 1963 to $2.90 a share from $3.52 a year earlier. The drop in 1963 was due in good part to loss of Montgomery Ward's tire business and to strikes at a number of plants. Nevertheless, the decline was fourth in a row for the company, and though earnings will probably be up this year, it is hard to visualize marked improvement in the price of shares.

If you can take the moderately lower yield, I would add to Consolidated Edison, which has lifted its dividend 5 times in the past decade.

Yank Charges Police Cruelty

BARCELONA, Spain (UPI)—An American jazz musician, facing a possible death sentence by garroting, told a court today he confessed the slaying of a Barcelona businessman after eight days in police custody without food or sleep.

The defendant, James Stephen Johnson, 31, of Framingham, Mass., is one of four Americans, a British girl and Spanish woman being tried on charges linked to the killing of a man during a robbery attempt Nov. 22, 1962.

Johnson told the court he confessed to police "after eight days without nothing to eat and no sleep, and a lot of other things." He did not elaborate.

★ ★ ★

Also facing death by Spain's iron collar are John J. Hand, 40, of Southfield, Mich.; and Maria Alfaro Velasco, 32, of Barcelona, former girlfriend of the victim.

Facing prison sentences as accused accomplices are Hand's sister-in-law, Mrs. Nancy Hand, 25, also of Southfield; and his alleged girlfriend, Joan Bryden, 22, of England.

African Man Stoned for Lightning Deaths

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — A mob of 50 Africans stoned an African man to death because they believed he caused a lightning flash that killed two women three years ago, police reported today.

The police said the victim was "beaten to pulp" near Pietersburg, in northern Transvaal province, and two African men have been arrested.

First China, Now Cuba

Flees Reds for 2nd Time

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A 29-year-old refugee who arrived from Cuba yesterday said today it was the second time he had fled communism.

"I left China when I was 17, after communism killed my parents," said Amado Pon Yuitin, one of 24 fugitives reaching Miami by small boats from Cuba.

"Now I have left communism again."

'TIS SPRING?—If you follow the weather instead of the calendar, you might have thought it was spring earlier this week. Typical of scenes in elementary schools throughout the area, Robert Tarpley, 6, of 16 Beaudette and Regina Spann, 6, of 167 Fisher note the changing seasons with a bird's nest in Mrs. Chalese Ashford's first grade room at Bagley Elementary School. Maybe it is spring? What's the date?

City Planners Oppose Zoning Request

In a stormy session which ran past midnight, the City Planning Commission last night recommended that the city deny a request to rezone 16 acres on Pontiac's east side for a multiple housing development.

The request was made by Charles L. Langs, the city's major developer of urban renewal lands in the downtown area and Mark Builders, of Detroit.

Another zoning request from Langs, to allow a multiple housing development south of Bethune School, was deferred until next month's meeting.

The east side proposal is almost identical to one made by another Detroit builder for the same land 18 months ago.

MAYOR OPPOSED

The former proposal had been strongly opposed by Mayor Robert A. Landry on grounds that it would detract from new housing developments in Pontiac's urban renewal project.

Aside from two or three models currently under construction, no new residential structures have been built on urban renewal land since then, although some are scheduled for construction later this year.

The former proposal was to rezone from Residential-1 to Residential-3 some 30 acres of vacant land bounded by Michigan, Tasmania, East Boulevard and the Clinton River.

Since then, 14 acres have been set aside to be purchased by the state for M59 freeway right-of-way.

PROPOSAL DENIED

By an 8-0 vote, planners recommended that the former proposal be denied in November 1962 and the City Commission followed suit.

Last night, the planning commission voted 5-2 to recommend that it be denied.

Langs' proposed project, which is entirely outside urban renewal, calls for 200 dwelling units in 19 buildings. It would be financed under Section 221-D3 of the Federal Housing Act.

★ ★ ★

Landry and Commissioner Loy L. Ledford, both members of the planning board, voted against the motion to deny. The motion had been offered by Robert C. Irwin, a planning commissioner.

CAN'T WAIT

Landry argued that "Pontiac cannot wait until vacant homes are filled before building new homes.

"I don't think we should adopt the attitude that this area is going to end up in shacks, or the developer is going to make a lot of money."

Irwin had a different view.

"There are now 383 homes in Pontiac repossessed by FHA or VA. Do we want to be known as Pontiac, the city of many, many vacancies?"

★ ★ ★

Commissioner Dick M. Kirby, in the audience, presented petitions signed by 66 per cent of the abutting property owners protesting plans to use the land for multiple housing.

TO COMMISSION

The recommendation will go to the City Commission for acceptance or rejection next Tuesday.

About 60 residents of the area involved attended last night's meeting to oppose the zoning request.

Langs proposal for land near Bethune School was tabled for more study on a traffic problem which more housing might create in that area.

Claim Bigamy by Area Man

Sought Woman Wed Ex-GM Exec's Son

CHICAGO (AP) — A warrant charging bigamy has been issued for a 40-year-old woman who married the 22-year-old son of a former General Motors executive.

The woman, listed as Mrs. Gladys Irene Bell, was indicted on a bigamy charge Feb. 26 by a Cook County grand jury. The warrant was issued Wednesday when she failed to appear for a hearing before Chief Justice Alexander Napoli of Criminal Court. Bond was set at $2,000.

INDICTMENT CLAIM

The indictment said she and Cyrus William Osborn were married May 20, 1963, in Baltimore while she still was the wife of Reuben Millard Bell.

No information was given concerning Bell. Osborn is the son of Cyrus R. Osborn of 125 Martell, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., a former vice president of General Motors.

★ ★ ★

Officials never have questioned Mrs. Bell. Evidence presented to the grand jury was gathered by the senior Osborn family and investigators for the family.

Napoli set March 10 for another hearing.

She Was Honest; Request Is Denied

By DICK SAUNDERS

Forthright, sincere honesty is an admirable quality anywhere. But it's almost saintly where a property deal is concerned.

At last night's City Planning Commission meeting, Mrs. Selma K. Ryan of 3520 Seminary, Orchard Lake, sat for four hours and 10 minutes waiting for commissioners to get to her item on the agenda.

The little lady, with a pleasant smile and curly light brown hair, listened to one of the hottest debates to spark a planning meeting in many a moon.

★ ★ ★

She owns a lot north of 53 Belmont. She was asking the city to vacate an alley adjacent to her lot so half of it would revert to her ownership.

AFTER MIDNIGHT

A little past midnight, the commission got to Mrs. Ryan's request.

It was pointed out that Mrs. Ryan's lot would be purchased by the State Highway Department for M59 freeway right-of-way.

"Really, gentlemen," said Mrs. Ryan. "I just thought if I could add 40 or 50 feet to my lot, I'd be able to get more money for it from the state."

There was a moment of befuddled silence.

Then the planners unanimously recommended her request be denied. They just don't recommend changes for speculative purposes.

Mrs. Ryan smiled, and thanked them, and left.

One commissioner commented in low tones, "You've got to give her credit. She's the first person tonight who told us exactly what she wanted right off the bat."

After Years, a Courthouse

SANDY HOOK, Ky. (AP)—Elliott County expects to have a courthouse by the summer of 1964, its first in 6½ years.

Fire destroyed the courthouse and jail at Sandy Hook late in 1957.

While county officials moved into temporary quarters, a good part of the insurance collected on the property was used to build a new jail.

A $100,000 bond issue was voted and finally approved in a court test. The county had to wait, though, for a $102,000 federal grant before it was ready to start a new courthouse.

Elliott County is in mountainous Eastern Kentucky, 175 miles east of Louisville.

Expect Contracts for First Village Units

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors is expected to award contracts tomorrow for construction of initial units in the county's proposed Childrens Village for court wards.

Construction would begin within two weeks and be completed by the end of this year at a cost of about $750,000.

The entire village complex as proposed would include 15 buildings to be built on a 50-acre site at the County Service Center by 1980.

The board also will receive a recommendation at tomorrow's meeting regarding use of the old downtown courthouse site as a parking lot.

RECEIVED BID

The county has received a bid from Sam Stolorow to lease the property for $500 a month. He previously was paying the county $1,150 to lease the site for a parking lot.

The board of supervisors will be asked by its legislative committee to oppose five bills in Lansing, including two that would give industries a tax reduction.

The reduction is sought by exempting certain machinery from personal property taxes.

The board's equalization committee has estimated that these cuts could cost the county some $600,000 in taxes.

The bylaws committee will recommend two additional members each to the ways and means and legislative committees.

The seven-member ways and means committee had asked for two more members so that it can be more representative of the entire board in preliminary deliberations.

Increasing the five-member legislative committee is recommended to make it easier to establish a quorum.

Dr. Brett said that new contact lenses have been designed to replace the unsightly thick-lens glasses for people with cataracts and aphakic conditions. They provide the wearer with a wider field of vision.

Hand Graft Gangrenous

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador (UPI)—The dead man's hand that was grafted onto the arm of Ecuadorean sailor Julio Luna last month has turned gangrenous and probably will have to be amputated, it was reported today.

★ ★ ★

A panel of 13 surgeons who examined Luna in a hospital here said "dry gangrene" has "mummified" the fingers of the transplanted hand, turning them black.

Luna is being kept under close observation to determine the extent of the spread of the gangrene.

The 28-year-old sailor lost his hand and forearm in an accidental grenade explosion Feb. 13.

HAND REPLACED

Dr. Robert Gilbert replaced them with the hand and forearm of a laborer who had just died of stomach ulcers.

It was the first time such a graft had ever been performed, and it attracted wide attention in the medical profession.

Luna was to have been flown to Boston's Peter Bent Brigham Hospital today for observation.

Navy Surgeon General Gabriel Panchana canceled the Boston trip, when he received the report of the surgical panel.
