Shotgun Blast Kills D.C. Negro Educator in Northern Georgia

COLBERT, Ga. (AP) — A Negro educator of Washington, D.C., was killed by a shotgun blast early today as he was returning to his home with two other Negro Army Reserve officers from Ft. Benning, Ga.

Lamuel A. Penn, 49, director of adult education for Washington schools, was shot in the head as he was driving on a lonely north Georgia highway. He was a lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserve.

In Washington, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy immediately ordered the FBI to join the hunt for the killer. A Justice Department spokesman said the FBI was directed to determine whether a violation of federal law had occurred.

Sheriff Dewey Seagraves of Madison County said two blasts from a shotgun were fired into the Penn automobile as the other vehicle approached from the rear and passed the car in which the Negroes were riding.

Seagraves identified the two others with Penn as Maj. Charles E. Brown, 44, and Lt. Col. John D. Howard, 42, both of Washington, D.C. Neither was hurt.

Seagraves said the shotgun apparently was loaded with buckshot.

When Penn was shot, he slumped over the steering wheel, and Brown said he grabbed the wheel to control the automobile which was crossing a bridge over the winding Broad River.

It was foggy, they said, and they did not recall seeing the other vehicle approach them from behind.

They said they were unable to determine whether the occupants of the other automobile were white or Negro, but Howard said there was more than one person in the car.

Penn was an assistant to an assistant superintendent of schools. As such, he was in charge of the district's five vocational high schools, supervised evening and summer school classes and was in charge of most personnel matters in the vocational, evening and summer schools.

Penn had nearly completed his work for a doctor's degree and had studied at Howard, New York and Columbia universities.

He is survived by his wife, Georgia, and three children, Lemuel Jr., 5, Sharon, 10, and Linda, 13.

Dixie Outbreak Injures Three

White Man Is Shot in Florida Theater

LAKE CITY, Fla. (AP)—One white man was shot and two others injured in a theater integration attempt at Lake City, Fla., last night as sporadic outbursts of violence continued in the wake of the new Civil Rights Act.

The violence in the north Florida city broke out after a Negro woman knifed a white youth when she was refused admittance to the white section of a theater. Negroes have been sitting in the balcony.

Negroes and white persons tangled over the knifing and Thomas E. Booth, 21, received a gunshot wound in the abdomen. He was reported in "fair condition" at a Gainesville hospital.

Witnesses said white persons milling around the theater entrance used broomsticks and clubs to force the Negroes away. The theater manager said about 30 Negroes were involved, but Mayor James B. Tyson said there were only six. Three shots were fired in the air.

★ ★ ★

Police rushed several Negroes into a bank for their protection and later took them home. A deputy sheriff said a heavy rainstorm broke up the disturbance "just in time." Extra police, deputies and highway patrolmen were called out.

LBJ Expected to Announce Lower Deficit

Cut in Expenditures, Hike in Revenue Will Lessen Budget Debt

WASHINGTON, (AP) — President Johnson is expected to announce in a few days that the budget deficit for the recently completed bookkeeping year will be significantly lower than anticipated, it was learned today.

Although the figures for the year which ended June 30 won't be available for about another week, evidence is mounting that the deficit will be less than the $8.8 billion forecast a few weeks ago.

The administration announced in May that it had shaved its estimated expenditures by $100-million and it placed the figure at $98.3 million.

Now, there seems little doubt that expenditures will be less than $98 billion—perhaps considerably below that figure.

★ ★ ★

On the other side of the ledger, the government has been collecting more revenue than expected because of the consistently high level of performances by the economy.

'GOOD NEWS'

Johnson said at a news conference yesterday there would be "some good news" soon in regard to the government's financial position.

Johnson obviously believes there are political dividends in trimming the budget deficit and he has emphasized economy repeatedly to his lieutenants.

One measure of these efforts is the number of government employes. At one time the number was expected to reach 2,571,000 at the end of the fiscal year.

★ ★ ★

The administration announced that its goal is to cut this figure to 2,497,000, and it now seems certain that the actual count will be still lower.

★ ★ ★

Johnson originally budgeted a deficit of $10 billion for the 1964 fiscal year, but this was later reduced to $8.8 billion, primarily because of the income tax cut.

★ ★ ★

Part of this $1.2 billion reduction was shifted to the 1965 fiscal year.

To Party Conservatives

Goldwater Is a 'Dream' Man

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
Newspaper Enterprise Assoc.

SAN FRANCISCO—Sen. Barry Goldwater is being nominated for president in good part because he touches an inner core of the Republican party.

He represents the deep-felt heart's wish of many influential Republicans, especially at the county and local level, who have lived off desert mirages for from one to three decades.

With the counterforce of moderate-minded governors and others sharply diminished in 1964, the wish is at last reality, a blooming oasis refreshing all those who have never liked or never understood the oft-tried business of beating the Democrats at their own game.

Astute young John Grenier, regular GOP Alabama chairman and also regional director for the Goldwater campaign, believes that among Republican professionals, a majority always disapproved that tactic.

★ ★ ★

But he argues plausibly from convention history that in every seriously contested nomination from 1940 on, the moderate—usually relying on a big wedge of powerful governors—have weaned away enough of that majority to frustrate the conservatives' candidate.

HELD PROMISE

Even before the moderates' current weakness was so painfully exposed, Barry Goldwater offered promise of holding the conservatives together against the standard charge of "he can't win."

He had the look of a winner, and his shrewd early promoters devised a "winning strategy" to go with him.

News Analysis

This was the famed southern strategy which anticipated Goldwater's capture of most Old South states against the late John F. Kennedy.

When Kennedy was killed, that plan collapsed. Moderates, thereafter convinced that Goldwater's "unelectability" was obvious to all, promptly went to sleep.

★ ★ ★

But at this point the long-surpressed inner voice of the professionals' conservative majority spoke with unaccustomed vigor. For them, 1961 and 1962 had been the years of persuasion.

Scranton Side in Futile Fight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Drafters labored today over a platform likely to be very acceptable to Sen. Barry Goldwater, who next week will become the GOP presidential nominee unless there is an unforeseen party upheaval.

Supporters of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton have fought a spirited but apparently futile battle to undercut the mountainous delegate strength the Arizona senator's strategists believe will give him the nomination on the first ballot.

In private conversations, Goldwater is said to have estimated that he has a rock bottom 80 votes over the 655 needed for the nomination. He still wants an additional 20 as a "safety pad" for the last-minute assaults expected against his stronghold.

The embattled Scranton forces mounted a two-pronged attack. The Pennsylvania governor told a news conference yesterday there was an unmanageable flood of messages he said that "makes it very clear" that rank-and-file Republicans don't want Goldwater.

He contended this would exert influence on delegates to desert the Arizona senator. But there was no tangible evidence this was happening.

★ ★ ★

LAID GROUNDWORK

Scott laid the groundwork for a direct appeal to next week's convention not to accept a platform with the civil rights and other planks satisfactory to Goldwater. But the Scranton people lost every plank battle in the platform committee.

★ ★ ★

The Arizona senator perhaps previewed his general election campaign intentions when he called on the Republicans to "lead the crusade against tyrany and for freedom."

He made it clear that if he is the nominee, he will mount an all-out attack on President Johnson's foreign and domestic policies.

★ ★ ★

This was when George A. Parker, a Negro delegate from the District of Columbia, asked whether the senator could "consistently, conscientiously and in good faith use the powers and prestige of the presidency to carry out the civil rights law?" Goldwater voted against the measure.

★ ★ ★

"Sir," Goldwater replied, "you are questioning my honesty and I should resent it but I won't."

★ ★ ★

Goldwater said that if elected president he would enforce the civil rights act, and go beyond it in trying to end discrimination.

Latest AP Poll of GOP Votes

Scranton Is Still Far Behind in Final Week

The Associated Press survey of 1,308 delegates to next week's GOP convention showed this first ballot breakdown at the end of the final preconvention week:

| | |
|---|---|
| Goldwater | 728 |
| William W. Scranton | 165 |
| Nelson A. Rockefeller | 102 |
| Henry Cabot Lodge | 45 |
| Margaret Chase Smith | 15 |
| Richard M. Nixon | 1 |
| Favorite sons | 47 |
| Uncommitted | 205 |

Of Sen. Barry Goldwater's total — which is 73 votes more than the 655 required for the nomination if he keeps them — 118 are committed by state primary elections, 257 are instructed by GOP state and district conventions, 60 are personally pledged and 293 favor the senator but are not pledged.

All of Pennsylvania Gov. Scranton's votes are favorable, but not pledged or instructed. He also is expected to draw some — but not necessarily all — of the 102 votes credited to New York's Gov. Rockefeller and the 45 who favor Lodge, the former ambassador to South Viet Nam.

Goldwater's total could spurt upward early next week as various delegations caucus at San Francisco.

★ ★ ★

He has, for instance, 15 known first ballot votes in the Ohio delegation which has been released from its favorite son status by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

★ ★ ★

Most of Michigan's 48 votes are pledged to follow Gov. George W. Romney, either as a favorite son or possibly into Scranton's camp. But at least four Michigan delegates say they will vote for Goldwater regardless of what the rest of the delegation does.

Since jumping into the race June 12, Scranton's first ballot vote total has almost doubled, from 85 to 163. But in the same period Goldwater's strength has risen by 190 votes.

Car Talks End 2nd Week; LBJ Says: No Interference

DETROIT (AP) — Contract talks between the United Auto Workers Union and the nation's three largest auto makers wound up their second week yesterday as President Johnson predicted negotiators would settle their differences without government interference.

Talks recessed for the weekend as the UAW moved toward completion of preliminary presentation of the largest package of contract demands in its 27-year negotiating history with General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp.

At an impromptu news conference in Washington, Johnson said both business and labor are showing a growing response to the public interest as they pursue wages and profits.

The President previously had suggested that contract improvements be kept in line with national productivity increases estimated at about 3.2 per cent.

But UAW President Walter Reuther rejected the proposal, contending the boost in the auto industry has been 4.9 per cent. Reuther has indicated he will seek that goal.

★ ★ ★

The talks with the Big Three and American Motors Corp. cover some 600,000 auto workers in the United States. Nationwide three-year pacts with Ford, GM and Chrysler expire Aug. 31.

FORD PLAN

Meanwhile, the UAW indicated it will ask Ford to extend to its 128,000 hourly employes a stock-savings plan the union rejected in the 1955 talks.

At GM, the union presented the fifth of six position papers outlining its 1964 demands. Louis Seaton, GM's chief negotiator, who earlier called the demands "exorbitant" said yesterday that was a "gross understatement."

At Chrysler, the UAW demanded unspecified boosts in supplementary insurance benefits and called for major changes in contract wording concerning the benefits "to make it more understandable to the men in the shop."

12 Are Killed as Truck Hits Race Crowd

BERGERAC, France (AP)—A 15-ton gasoline tank truck missed a curve today and plunged through the guard rail of a bridge where scores of spectators were waiting to watch the Tour of France bicycle race.

At least 12 persons were killed and about 30 were injured.

The truck was following the bicycle race—a three-week marathon that rates as France's biggest sporting event—to supply gas to the police helicopter that keeps a constant survey over the race route.

Several dozens persons who had been sitting on the bridge railing or leaning against it were swept into the water of a canal beneath the bridge.

Frogmen were called out to help the rescue efforts.

Six bodies were recovered at the scene and three persons who had been injured died in the hospital at Bergerac.

The 81 riders in the tour stopped for about five minutes at the scene to watch the activity.

Seven Await Trial in Battle Over Tower

Seven Waterford Township women, arrested yesterday as disorderly persons for allegedly trying to halt construction of a water tower, are free on $100 personal bond awaiting a July 20 jury trial.

Subdivision residents, claiming the tank will injure their property values, have attempted to persuade the township board to locate the tank elsewhere.

Ponder Moves on S. Rhodesia

LONDON (AP) — The Commonwealth summit conference received today for-private talks that are likely to center on African demands for military force to end white minority rule in Southern Rhodesia.

Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta of Kenya and President Julius Nyerere of Tanganyika Zanzibar both proposed Friday that a Commonwealth military force intervene in Southern Rhodesia.

* * *

Commonwealth Relations Secretary Duncan Sandys was expected to reject both suggestions when the 18 government leaders attending the conference resume formal sessions Monday.

As the talks moved into the privacy of smoke-filled rooms, where the real business of the conference is normally transacted, Britain also faced pressure from government chiefs to speed independence for its troubled South American colony of British Guiana.

HIGH POINT

But the bid for military action in Southern Rhodesia marked a high point of the conference.

Kenyatta offered to contribute Kenyan troops to help Britain deal with any white settler rebellion that might arise in erasing the Rhodesian problem.

* * *

Once jailed for leading Kenya's Mau Mau antiwhite terrorists, Kenyatta offered his troops if they could help Southern Rhodesia achieve a one-man one-vote constitution.

Such a constitution would give absolute power to the Africans, who outnumber the 220,000 whites in Southern Rhodesia by more than 10 to 1.

LEGAL RIGHTS

British Prime Minister Alec Douglas-Home, aides said, conceded that Britain has some legal rights to intervene militarily in Southern Rhodesia. But, they added, he insisted that no British government could entertain the idea of British troops fighting British subjects.

A secret discussion on colonial issues before the conference resulted in a delicately worded compromise between the 13 nonwhite and 4 of the white nations of Britain's global union.

* * *

A communique said the nonwhite leaders recognized "the responsibility for the progress of colonial territories to independence must remain with Britain."

The British, with the support of Australia, New Zealand and Canada, undertook "to give careful consideration to the views expressed by their colleagues."

SPECIFIC CHARGE

Specifically charged with violating section 5 of the township's Disorderly Persons Ordinance, the women were placed in police cars at 1 p.m. and taken to the Waterford station.

Their arraignment followed.

Trucks began moving freely in and out of the site after the arrests.

CONTINUED WORK

The machine continued driving piles until 6 p.m. Thursday. It was fired up yesterday morning and prepared for work but didn't drive any piles.

A show cause hearing on whether the temporary injuction should be continued is set for July 27.

New Mental Health Chief Meets With County Board

Michigan's new state mental health director, Dr. Robert A. Kimmich, met yesterday with Oakland County's Community Mental Health Board, engaging in an informal "questions and answers" session.

Dr. Kimmich, recently appointed by Gov. Romney, is the director of the Michigan Department of Mental Health, the agency that will disperse funds under the state's community mental health act.

The new director characterized himself as "a complete devotee" of community mental health facilities.

* * *

PIONEER COUNTY

Dr. Kimmich said he wanted to visit Oakland County because of "its pioneering situation" in the establishment of community mental health facilities.

He said that the county would be looked to for leadership.

Among the questions was one on the qualifications of local directors and whether they would be administrators or professional psychiatrists.

Dr. Kimmich said that this is one issue that remains to be settled. "The policy on this has not been set yet," he said.

COUNTY DIRECTOR

However, the state director added that he doubted if Oakland County would have any trouble getting a director for its program regardless of the qualifications.

Dr. Kimmich described as "quite feasible" that the heads of departments in local mental health programs would be permitted to engage in private practice as well as do work for the county program.

* * *

In other business yesterday, board members voted to go on record as stating that the county's projected programs would be offered on a contractual basis through existing facilities and also would be directly operated if no facilities exist.

The board set its next meeting for Aug. 7.

Hopefuls Advised on Filing

Officer seekers in several races in the Sept. 1 primary election today received special advice from Oakland County Clerk-Register David R. Calhoun.

With various districting plans already upsetting past election procedures, Calhour said a number of candidates face the added responsibility of filing for nomination in Lansing.

This applies to those running in the 60th State House District, the 14th and 17th State Senate districts, 19th Congressional District, and for Circuit Court and Court of Appeals.

All these districts cross county lines, so petitions must be filed by 4 p.m. July 21, at the Secretary of State's elections division office.

* * *

"We're just trying to prevent anyone from coming here to our office at 3 p.m. on deadline day, because they'll never have time to get to Lansing," warned Calhoun.

Goldwater Answer to GOP Wish

making circuit had established him as a treasured, outspoken foe of meddling big government and a champion of a militant, nationalistic foreign policy.

His views on these broad matters, uttered in almost endless variation, gave him his matchless credentials. The majority conservatives in professional status clasped Goldwater to their bosoms.

As a speaker and campaigner, the senator often disappointed them. As a symbol of their hopes for a breakout, he never did.

* * *

Two Goldwater supporters in California's Orange County, a hotbed of Goldwaterism, sharply etched this fact in their response to a Los Angeles speech he made this spring. Said one:

* * *

"I think it would have been better if (actor) Ronald Reagan had talked, and Goldwater had just sat there and nodded."

PLACE SECURE

Clearly, this would not have diminished the senator one whit in their eyes. His place in their hearts is secure.

Having touched the soul of many influential Republicans, having fed them what they wanted to hear, Goldwater found himself possessed of their crucial support in the 1964 fight for the presidential nomination.

These professionals, scattered widely among many levels, took some of the curse of regionalism off the senator's candidacy. They gave solidity and respectability to his effort.

They were the cement of victory, mortaring the big base on which his decisive June 2 California triumph was laid.

When Illinois Sen. Everett Dirksen plumped for Goldwater that was the capstone. Dirksen's basic instincts are stoutly conservative.

He had placed his respectable bet on the Arizonan — and in so doing he had signaled the conservative majority among professionals that the time finally was at hand to test for the presidency a man whose votee seemed to come from their own hearts.

Officials Eye Fight on School Tax Appeal

A fight was predicted yesterday against a precedent-setting tax appeal case that could cost 10 Oakland County school districts a total of $1 million in 1964 tax revenues.

School officials in two of the affected districts — Pontiac and Waterford Township — said they would oppose an appeal by Farmington Township of its tax allocation.

The township has appealed to the State Tax Commission that the uniform rule of taxation was not followed by the County Tax Allocation Board when the 15-mill statutory tax levy was split.

Pontiac School Board President William H. Anderson said the school districts should get together and fight collectively.

As the head of the school district which stands to lose the most — $500,000, Anderson said he would attend a meeting Monday at 9 a.m. of school officials from the affected districts.

JOINT ACTION

Waterford Township Supt. Don O. Tatroe, whose district would lose about $40,000, said he also favored joint action by the school districts.

Meantime, Farmington Township has not yet decided if the tax appeal will be pursued beyond the tax commission decision.

Township Attorney Joseph T. Brennan said that no decision had been reached on the prospect of court action.

The appeal questions a 30-year-old state law that permits variable allocations for school districts on the basis of school accessibility.

SPECIFIC OBJECTION

The school district received a base allocation of 8.23 mills. In addition, it received a variable allocation (40 cents per $1,000 equalized valuation) for its home territory in the township and the city of Farmington.

The township alleges that the failure to levy the 40 cents throughout the school district violates the uniform rule of taxation.

NINE OTHERS

Similar variable allocations are levied by nine other school districts. School men say that if the "basis of accessibility" were disallowed, it would cost the districts $1 million in taxes.

County Corporation Counsel Robert P. Allen also predicted the tax case would end up in court. He thought this would be true regardless of who won before the tax commission.

* * *

Still Hope for Changes on Telegraph Before Fall

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — It may take a little longer and cost considerably more than originally anticipated, but state highway engineers still are expressing hope that safety devices will be installed on Telegraph before the end of the summer.

In letters to township officials yesterday, S. J. Levine, district traffic engineer, gave a progress report on plans which came out of a June 30 meeting between township and highway department representatives.

The meeting was requested by the township after the highway's raised median strip was cited as a factor in two traffic deaths and nine other accidents this year.

REFLECTORIZED PAINT

Levine said yesterday the edge of the median would be painted with yellow reflectorized paint in the near future. A work order was being prepared for the Oakland County Road Commission, he said.

"Work authorization will be issued to complete the installation of these signs as soon as possible," Levine said.

* * *

Reconstruction of the east side of Telegraph north of Maple for better transition from three to two lanes will take longer, Levine said he originally thought the cost of the project would be between $5,000 and $10,000.

COMPLETE REVIEW

However, a complete review of the area by engineers has indicated the cost will be more like $50,000 and drainage in the area will have to be redesigned.

Levine reported he was "asking our Lansing office to expedite a design for the revision in this area and that we make an effort to complete the work during this construction season."

He did not mention the barrier.

No Headway in Gas Strike

DETROIT (AP)—Negotiations in the five-week-old strike against the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. remained deadlocked yesterday on the issue of rehiring of 10 strikers accused of vandalism against the company.

The stalemate over the rehiring issue came as company and the 2,000-member Local 80 of the Building Service Employes International Union reportedly neared agreement on a three-year contract providing total wage boosts of 37.27 cents an hour.

Seven of the discharged strikers were arrested by Detroit police, who said they were preparing to ignite gasoline they allegedly had poured down a manhole.

Two others were arrested on charges of setting fire to a huge crane on gas company property.

Shipp said the company was willing to rehire a 10th accused vandal, but only after giving him six months disciplinary time off. He termed this punishment too severe.

A company spokesman said, "It would not be fair to our customers to reemploy persons capable of such actions."

Shipp said the union also planned to hold out for a contract provision which would allow a serviceman called at night into "dangerous, high-crime areas" to call for another man to accompany him.

Reunification 'Unrealistic'

German Prof Advises Goal Will Take Time

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — A political scientist told a nationalistic wing of Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's Christian Democratic Party today that reunification of Germany now is not a realistic goal.

Golo Mann, a professor of political science at Stuttgart Technical University spoke at the convention of the Christian Social Union, the Bavarian wing of the Social Democrats.

* * *

Tomorrow, Erhard will take up another challenge to his foreign policy from former chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Strauss, both demanding closer ties with France as a step toward European unity.

As for East Germany, Mann told the convention:

RECONCILIATION

Mann said Germans must work for reconciliation with the Communist countries of Eastern Europe before a discussion could start on whether Germany should regain the borders it had before Adolf Hitler began his conquests.

Mann urged Germans to encourage liberalization within the Communist bloc. He said it might be wise in some years hence to give official recognition to the East German Communist government if that would help liberalization.

FOUGHT PRESSURE

Erhard has resisted the pressure, fearing that identification with the policies of French President Charles de Gaulle will lead West Germany away from its other European allies and the United States.

Strauss opened the party meeting Friday with a proposal for frequent consultations by the heads of the West German and French governments and any other interested European leader.

* * *

Greeted enthusiastically by convention delegates, the plan appears calculated to be acceptable to De Gaulle. It envisions a loose European confederation without the supranational machinery that is opposed by De Gaulle.

LONG ROAD

"It is not a question of glorifying or idealizing De Gaulle's person or policy," Strauss said. "We must recognize the long road he has traveled. We must take him as a fact, and we must reckon on the essential elements of the De Gaulle policy remaining constant elements of French policy."

* * *

Erhard's cabinet, meanwhile, reiterated that West German foreign policy is to seek European union on as broad a basis as possible, rather than in partnership with France alone.

Body Found in Ditch in Shelby Identified

The body of a motorist found dead in a ditch in Shelby Township Thursday has been identified as Frank F. Beall, 47, of Washington.

Macomb County Sheriff's deputies said Beall, vice president of Aristo Corp. of Detroit, apparently was thrown into the ditch after his car struck a bridge.

To Aid 'Intruder' on Appeal

LANSING (AP) — The prosecutor who sent him to a mental institution has intervened to make sure that a Miami man who invaded the office of Michigan Gov. George W. Romney with a knife and a gun will have fair chance of appeal.

* * *

Ingham County Prosecutor Leo Farhat intervened for Charles P. English to give the 37-year-old mental patient his right to appeal. English was committed to the Kalamazoo State Hospital for the insane.

* * *

English appealed his case, but court officials refused to record the records until his $10 check for filing had been cleared by the Miami bank on which it was drawn. The bank called to say that English's account had been closed and that the check was written on a scrap of paper.

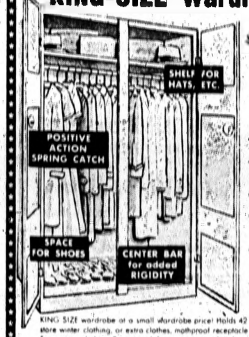

Farhat said he would instruct the county clerk to file the appeal without payment of the fee.

"His constitutional right to appeal should not be denied for failure to pay the fee," Farhat said.

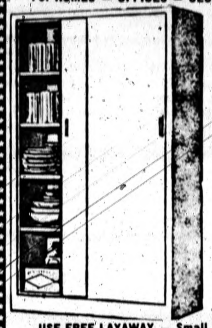

English, judged insane by Probate Court, asked again that he be allowed to represent himself. Farhat objected, however, saying the defendant should be represented by a court-appointed attorney in the appeal, now scheduled for mid-September.

English barged into Romney's office May 1 carrying a loaded 38-caliber revolver in his briefcase and a knife in an inner pocket. He was jumped by a state police bodyguard. Romney was unharmed.

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—A U.S. Army shell exploded Friday and killed four Koreans when one of them tried to dismantle it, an Army spokesman said.

R. Kennedy Favored for VP in Poll

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan voters overwhelmingly prefer Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy for the running mate of President Johnson on the national Democratic ticket, a Detroit News poll reveals.

Kennedy was preferred by 48 per cent of a cross section—Democrats, Republicans and independents — in the poll conducted by Richard W. Oudersluys, president of Market-Opinion Research Co.

Within the Democratic Party, 67 per cent preferred the brother of the late President Kennedy, the News reported Friday.

McNAMARA SECOND

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, with 17 per cent, ranked closest to Kennedy in the cross section preference for a Democratic vice presidential nominee.

McNamara, among Democratic voters only, was preferred by 11 per cent, as was Minnesota Sen. Hubert Humphrey. Humphrey received 14 per cent in the cross section, the newspaper said.

Ten per cent of all voters polled favored R. Sargent Shriver, Peace Corps director and brother-in-law of the late President.

In the cross section, 2 per cent each preferred Minnesota Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner and California Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown. The remaining 5 per cent expressed no preference, the poll said.

Unemployment Drop Bolsters Economy

Despite the record-breaking economic upsurge now in its fourth year, unemployment has been the lone fly in the business ointment.

For several years, the rate of unemployment, with slight variations, has rested stubbornly on a plateau of 5.4 per cent.

But last month the rate took a significant drop — to 5.1 per cent. The cut strengthened hopes of economists and government officials that an unemployment rate below 5 per cent may be within reach.

The latest statistics show the jobless rate among adult men, at the "tolerable rate" of 3.6 per cent, the lowest since mid-1957.

Among adult married men — the breadwinners—but 2.6 per cent are without work—an even further dip into the "tolerable unemployment" category, and similarly the best reading since the summer of 1957.

Between mid-April and mid-May the number of unemployed fell 281,000, a drop 200,000 greater than anticipated.

The total number of unemployed currently, is 3,640,000, while those employed add up to an all-time record of 70.7 million.

There are 2 million more jobs in the Country today than a year ago, and the number of nonfarm jobs is 3.5 per cent higher than at this time in 1963.

Major share of the credit for this improvement in the employment area of the U. S. economy is given to the tax reductions effected early this year.

★ ★ ★

The cuts, say experts, are accomplishing that for which they were designed — the acceleration and broadening of the American economy, which in turn creates additional jobs to fill the needs of our growing labor force.

Cupid Takes Voyage in Bottles of Love

Chalk up another first for love. It now comes in bottles.

A love-starved English youth, resident of a village of 1,600 population where boys outnumber girls six to one, over the past year cast 1,282 bottled marriage proposals into the sea.

★ ★ ★

North Sea current floated most of the marine billets-doux onto Swedish shores where they were found and a romantic wave length established with 381 bottle-happy maidens—a pretty emphatic refutation of the allegation that love is blind.

★ ★ ★

Wooing by bottle may be a corking idea, if you don't mind sticking your neck out.

Lengthened Life Span a 'Figure Illusion'

★ ★ ★

While it is true that, based on the whole population, the average life has greatly lengthened, it is due primarily to the sharp drop in infant mortality and children's death rate.

Those born 60 years ago could have expected to live to age 48 as compared to a life expectancy of 68 years for babies born today an average gain of 20 years.

But when the babies born in 1904 reached 20, their remaining years of life were but eight less than those currently the same age.

As the age of the 60-year-ago birth crop advanced, the gap between its total life expectancy and that of contemporary infants progressively narrows.

By the time those born today reach retirement age of 65, they may look forward to 13 years more of life. But those arriving at the same age, 60 years ago, had within sixteen months of the same period of life ahead.

★ ★ ★

It is plain that despite society's adherence to the concept of the "more abundant life," mankind has achieved little in the longevity department.

Confab Outlook: Noisy, but Flat

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—As noisy as the Fourth of July but flat as a board.

MARLOW

As of now that's how the two big political conventions look: The Republicans' in San Francisco next week and the Democrats' starting Aug. 24 in Atlantic City.

Stories out of San Francisco this week indicate Sen. Barry Goldwater has the presidential nomination cinched — probably on the first ballot—and that his opponent, Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton, is just treading air.

If all this holds true, the only problem will be over the vice presidential nominees, and even that will probably be cut and dried.

★ ★ ★

Johnson will do the deciding on his running-mate. So there won't be excitement over that, either, unless he keeps his choice for No. 2 man secret until the last minute. That wouldn't mean a fight, just a surprise.

UNPHENOMENAL PROGRESS

Scranton apparently has been making unphenomenal progress in his search for delegates to stop Goldwater. If the delegates already credited to Goldwater stick with him, a first ballot nomination will be his.

Here again there could be a squabble over the vice presidential selection, but probably not. Goldwater, if he does have his own nomination locked up, can do his own choosing on the No. 2 man.

It's been some years since there was any real struggle at both Democratic and Republican conventions in one season.

★ ★ ★

In 1960 John F. Kennedy had some trouble from Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson. But he squelched that and took Johnson to be his vice presidential partner. At that year's Republican convention all opposition to the nomination of Vice President Richard M. Nixon was gone before the delegates got together.

MERELY ROUTINE

In 1956 the Republican convention was a mere routine in nominating President Dwight D. Eisenhower for a second term, and a second one for Vice President Nixon. That same year a number of Democrats' names were put in nomination at their meeting.

But W. Averell Harriman, who had been boomed by former President Harry S. Truman as the man for the job, got knocked off by Adlai E. Stevenson who then ran for a second time against Eisenhower and just as unsuccessfully.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, who had worked hard for the No. 1 spot accepted the No. 2 one on the ticket with Stevenson.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

On track 13 in Grand Central Terminal in New York City every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at noon, people from all walks of life gather in a day coach to worship. For 20 years the leader of these services has been Ralston C. Young, a veteran redcap.

Born in Colon, Panama, Ralston, was raised in the Anglican faith of his parents. He came to the United States in 1917 and worked at shipbuilding until the end of World War I. After the war he lost his job and had to take work as a redcap. He was bitter and ashamed of his work, and he drifted from the church.

Ralston says, "I met an elderly Christian lady 20 years ago, who seemed to have what I wanted: peace of mind, tranquility, and buoyancy. She was a witness of her Christian life. Just knowing her made me go back to the church."

After Ralston dedicated his life to God, his job took on a new meaning. "I not only carried the people's bags," he explains, "I could help them carry the things they couldn't get in their bags, such as their sorrows and disappointments. If you love God, you must love people."

Days of All Faiths:

Age-Old Battle Still Smoldering

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Once in a while you will see a man wearing an orange-colored necktie instead of a green one. If you think that man is just being funny, you don't know Irish politics.

The color orange is the nearly 300-year-old emblem of Irish Protestantism, the badge of the Loyal Orange Institution, and the battles between the Orange and the Green have been some of history's bloodiest.

The reference is, of course, to William of Orange, the Dutch Protestant king who was brought in to rule over England in 1689 when James II had been dethroned. This was an anti-Roman Catholic revolution.

England had renounced the Roman church and the Pope a century and a half before, but now James had become a Romanist and was determined to bring the whole nation back under Papal domination. Parliament promptly deposed him and soon brought in William of Orange as his successor.

Much of Ireland, however, was for Romanism and against the Revolution. On July 1, 1690, 30,000 Irishmen, loyal to James, met about the same sized army of Orangemen at the River Boyne and were defeated.

★ ★ ★

Irish Protestants, to counteract these groups, formed the Loyal Orange Institution, which certainly did not help matters much. The skirmishes continued right down through the years.

Now, although things are officially very quiet on the surface, and although the Catholics have their independent Republic and the Protestants are part of England, the old tension is still smoldering.

Judging from the messages one sees painted on buildings and bridges, and scrawled on walls and fences, it wouldn't take much to stir up trouble again.

ORANGE LODGES IN AMERICA

Orangemen, as they migrated to other parts of the world, set up lodges wherever they went. There was a time, not so long ago, when these lodges were very active in the larger cities of the United States and Canada, both as social organizations and as a means of keeping alive the old political-religious devotion to the Protestant cause.

July 12 in the life of the Orange lodgemen has traditionally been the occasion for celebration. July 12 was set as the anniversary of the Battle of Boyne, although the battle began on July 1 and did not really last twelve days.

There won't be so much of it in the United States as there used to be, but not so long ago there were big parades on July 12, followed by picnics and games, all in honor of a battle that took place 300 years ago, 2,000 miles away, over an issue no longer important.

WHY TEN MEN?

A kind and helpful lady in New Jersey sends in some information about the Jewish "minyan" or quorum of ten men that is necessary to hold a service.

★ ★ ★

We had said, in our June 7 column, that there does not seem to be any reason why Judaism settled on ten except that early Jewish scholars had a special liking for that number.

Our correspondent says "As a little girl I was taught that the reason is based on Genesis 18:32." This is part of the account of Abraham's talk with God about the wicked city of Sodom.

God has told Abraham of His intention to destroy the city, and Abraham is pleading with Him not to do it. Abraham starts by persuading God to spare the city if fifty righteous men can be found there.

As the conversation continues they eventually get the figure down to ten, and that is as far as God will go. In 18:32 He says, "I will not destroy it for the ten's sake."

The lady continues, "Since ten righteous men could have saved the city, that number represents a quorum for communal services. I hope I have been of some little help."

Indeed you have. Many thanks.

Thoughts

Therefore, we ourselves boast of you in the churches of God for your steadfastness and faith in all your persecutions and in the afflictions which you are enduring.—II Thess. 1:4.

Christianity is a religion in which men are saved by faith, rather than ethical rules. There are many people today searching for such a religion in which faith is the force of life. — Thomas S. Kepler.

World's Largest Country: Cuba!

By WASHINGTON STAFF

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In a Washington hotel dining room, waiter Jose Rodriguez asked a little girl what is the largest country in the world. She knitted her brows in puzzlement.

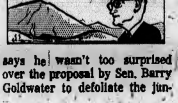

He told her:

"It's Cuba, where I come from. Its capital is in Havana, its government is in Moscow, and its people are in the United States."

The situation in South Viet Nam is getting more and more confusing to Pentagon officials. Comments one puzzled officer:

"You can get almost any sort of story you want out of South Viet Nam — optimistic or pessimistic — and each one will be true."

John Bailey, Democratic National Committee chairman, says he wasn't too surprised over the proposal by Sen. Barry Goldwater to defoliate the jungles of Viet Nam with atomic weapons. Notes Bailey:

"Barry loves the desert of his native Arizona. All he wants to do is bring its scenic glories to other parts of the globe."

Just before leaving for Saigon recently, a State Department diplomat expressed his weariness with overseas inspection trips by Washington brass. Promising to return to Washington every three months to report on the Viet Nam action, he explained:

"I'd rather bring the war to Washington than take Washington out to the war."

"Success Comes Only to Those Who Refuse to Admit Defeat."

Henry Cabot Lodge addressed the National Press Club on his return from Saigon. He denied good - humoredly that he had

"What we ought to do is bring him out for a speech before a big audience, dressed in a fairly long coat, with a dazzling pair of striped pajamas showing plainly beneath the coat."

To Help Margaret Chase Smith

Lady Politician Has Dogged Determination

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Margaret Chase Smith's manager was late getting downtown to a convention meeting the other morning because of dog trouble. The manager's family dog escaped from home and it took 15 minutes to find him.

But that didn't bother pretty Mrs. Marion E. Olsen, a 35-year-old San Francisco mother of two who has temporarily abandoned household chores to help the senator from Maine in her lonely, uphill fight for the Republican nomination.

* * *

Mrs. Olsen will be down on the convention floor next week, trying to round up delegates with "a little friendly persuasion learned in things like PTA."

"I play it entirely by instinct. Not brains, but instinct," she said. Instinct, she said "is one reason women are so good in politics."

USE INTUITION

"There is a woman's intuition and if that is combined with background and experience, a woman can outguess a man."

Right now, her intuition says Mrs. Smith has only 16 votes —including 14 from Maine.

Nevertheless, Mrs. Olsen has been busy talking to delegates whose votes she will ask for if a deadlock develops on the convention floor.

* * *

Friendly with Mrs. Smith for eight years, she readily accepted when the senator asked her to help out.

"In my opinion, she is a qualified woman who can seriously aspire to the presidency," Mrs. Olsen urged her to do this."

BUSY AMATEUR

Mrs. Olsen has been a busy political amateur in California for the past decade, serving on the Republican State Central Committee and done campaign work.

She says her husband, Robert, a credit and finance officer, encourages her political activity and the rest of the family, two boys, lend a hand.

Everybody, that is, but the dog.

Cats may not have nine lives, but they are living longer these days. The average cat lives 12 to 15 years. Animal hospitals often encounter 19- and 20-year-olds.

Phone Cable Link to Hawaii Finished

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (AP)—American Telephone and Telegraph Co. finished laying an undersea telephone cable linking Hawaii with the mainland Friday.

* * *

Laid by ship, the cable is the last step to provide direct connections between New York and Tokyo.

* * *

The line, capable of carrying 128 simultaneous conversations, will be in service within a week company spokesmen said.

* * *

Enough asphalt roofing was sold this February to cover 452 million square feet of roofs, 100 per cent more than in February, 1963.

Single Soviet Rocket Lofts 2 Stations

MOSCOW (AP) — A powerful single booster rocket launched two scientific space stations into widely differing orbit today, the Soviet news agency Tass said.

* * *

The vehicles, Electron 3 and Electron 4, followed a similar launch Jan. 30.

The Electron series is apparently unmanned.

Tass said the two space stations carried instrumentation for scientific research. The Tass report made no mention of the size, weight or power of the satellites or the rocket that carried them into space.

* * *

Tass said:

"The purpose of the launch is to continue the comprehensive study of the earth's radiation belts, the various kinds of radiation coming from the depth of cosmic space, the earth's magnetic field, and the physical conditions in the upper layers of the atmosphere.

OFFICIAL VIEW

At the time of the first launch in the Electron series, U. S. officials said the project did not seem to indicate a challenge to U. S. space shots. Experts in Washington noted that the United States put three satellites into orbit with a single rocket in June 1961.

Junior Editors Quiz on MONKEYS

QUESTION: Is there a difference between a gorilla and a monkey?

* * *

ANSWER: The gorillas belong to a group of animals called "anthropoid" or man-like apes, the other 3 members of which we show in the illustration.

Apes are the brainiest of all animals, and the chimpanzee is the smartest of the apes. The chimpanzee can even use tools in a primitive way, such as breaking off sticks to pull out juicy termites from their nests.

There is a very large mental gap, however, between the apes and mankind.

Although apes are often called monkeys, the real monkeys belong to different families, although both apes and monkeys are of the same order of "primates."

True monkeys are smaller than the apes, with thinner, more graceful bodies, shorter, narrower faces and generally long tails. (There are exceptions to this last, as, for example, the baboons.)

True monkeys are classified by scientists into two families, the "cebidae" or New World monkeys and the "cercopithecidae" or Old World monkeys.

The New World kind have wide noses and possess two more teeth than the Old World monkeys. Both apes and monkeys resemble each other in that they like to live in warm climates and are active, curious and playful.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Imagine you are a gorilla, and try walking on all fours, using the knuckles of your hands, as he does. It will make you realize how differently you're built. Your long legs will be in the way.

Doctor Acted Inhumanely Toward His Dying Patient

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My mother became ill, so I called the doctor.

He examined her and said coldly, "She's sick." (I knew that or I wouldn't have called him.)

He prescribed some medicine and told me to keep her in bed. After two weeks in bed she just grew weaker, and she wasn't eating enough to keep a bird alive.

ABBY

I called the doctor again and told him my mother seemed to be slipping. He said, "There is nothing I can do. What do you expect from a 73-year-old woman?"

Two days later she was just lying there like a wax statue and I honestly didn't know if she had gone into a coma or if the life had gone out of her, so I called the doctor and asked him to come right over.

He calmly said, "If she is gone, you don't need ME. Call the undertaker of your choice and have him contact me to sign the death certificate."

After all, Abby, I am NOT a registered nurse so how am I supposed to know if my mother is dead or in a coma?

She died the next morning. I thought doctors were supposed to be dedicated?

If I want to report this to the American Medical Association, how do I go about it?

DISAPPOINTED IN DRS.

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: Write to the state board of medical examiners, care of your state capital.

They will investigate the case and the doctor will have to answer for his unprofessional and inhumane conduct.

DEAR ABBY: Will you join a campaign to legalize polygamy? Particularly for men who have career wives? I speak from experience.

In spite of her beautiful home, a car of her own, no money worries and three wonderful children, my wife decided that being a homemaker was not "creative" enough for her, so she took a job.

And now when this "creative" being comes home she is tired, irritable, and has no creative energy for her home, children or husband.

FRUSTRATED

DEAR FRUSTRATED: A mother with school-age children who seeks a career outside her home for any reason other than because she just plain NEEDS THE MONEY, deserves a good boot in the bustle.

And a husband who would let her get away with it deserves two.

DEAR ABBY: My father was a taxidermist and as a boy I learned the trade from him. I use it only as a hobby, however, as I am in the insurance business.

The young woman I am presently going with is a devout lover of animals and she can't stand to be around stuffed animals or birds.

* * *

She says it gives her the creeps. I like this girl a lot, Abby, and don't want to give her up.

But I find taxidermy a most relaxing hobby. Any suggestions?

AVOCATION: TAXIDERMY

DEAR AV: Yes, forget the girl. If she really cared for you she'd abide the glass-eyed creatures.

And if you really cared for her, you wouldn't be asking me for suggestions.

DEAR ABBY: What would you think if, after you received an invitation to the wedding of your friend's 18-year-old daughter, her mother called and said,

"If you are going to send our daughter a wedding gift, please don't give her anything with a monogram or an initial because you know how young folks are nowadays — you never know how long the marriage will last."

ABSOLUTELY SPEECHLESS

DEAR ABSOLUTELY: I would think the same thoughts you undoubtedly thought.

And I would heed the advice. P. S. Let's hope the daughter has better sense than her mother.

Duty Puts Shower Ist on List

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I am to be a bridesmaid at my girlfriend's wedding. Her aunt is giving a shower for her.

It so happens that the shower is to take place on the same day as that on which my boyfriend is to be the best man at his closest friend's wedding.

Both invitations arrived in the same mail and I don't know what to do.

* * *

I would like very much to go to the wedding with my boyfriend but I have been told that it would be very discourteous not to attend the shower as I am a member of the bridal party and my first obligation is to the bride-to-be.

I am in a quandry and would like to know what you think is the right thing to do.

* * *

A: If the hours of the shower and the wedding do not conflict with one another, it may be possible for you to go to both. It isn't necessary that you stay the entire time at either one.

* * *

If the shower is taking place at an earlier hour, you can go and bring your present, stay a reasonable length of time and explain to your friend that you have a wedding to go to and hope she will excuse your leaving a little early.

If you can't manage to go to both, I'm afraid you will have to forgo the wedding.

Q: What can a hostess do when she sees her guests setting their beverage glasses down on her table tops even though she has provided coasters for this purpose?

* * *

A: She may go over and lift the glasses onto the coasters, saying, "Do you mind? This table is a perfect nuisance; it shows every mark."

---

Q: Is it impolite for a man to leave a woman companion sitting alone during intermission while he goes out into the lobby to smoke a cigarette?

* * *

A: If she does not wish to accompany him, he may quite properly ask to be excused and go out briefly into the lobby to smoke.

---

Q: Will you please tell me the correct clothes for my 13-year-old son to wear to his brother's wedding which will take place at an evening hour.

He would like to wear a tuxedo. I think he is too young for these clothes. What is your opinion?

* * *

A: Unless he is tall for his age and looks older than he is, he is still too young for a tuxedo and a blue suit with a white shirt will be in best taste.

* * *

The clothes of the bride's and groom's parents as well as those of the wedding guests are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Correct Clothes for a Wedding Reception."

* * *

To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Fix Manicure Slips

The most carefully done manicure or pedicure can end up with a few skin pinks. Touch up the nips with a cotton swab soaked in good quality witch hazel. Let the lotion dry by itself.

Potato Head Is Good Gift

Here's an easy-to-make, inexpensive gift for a youngster who is confined to bed with an illness. Take a long round potato, make a hole in the top side covering almost all the surface and scoop out half the potato. Make a head on one end by inserting white thumbtacks dotted with black paint for the eyes.

Make a nose with the same black paint and use red for the mouth.

Pink and White Theme For Catholic Ceremony

White and pink gladiolas decked the altar of St. Michael's Catholic Church this morning for the nuptials of Janice Pietrzak and William A. Bell. The couple spoke their vows before the Rev. James L. Hayes, pastor.

* * *

PARENTS OF THE COUPLE

The newlyweds will live in Clarkston.

Reception Follows

Catholic Rite Repeated

* * *

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Donley M. Burress and the senior Roderick F. Polzins, all of Rochester.

* * *

An elbow-length veil made and designed by the bride accented the taffeta gown. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and an orchid.

* * *

Honors Given Area Students

David H. Hunter of Birmingham and Roland E. Lehr of Bloomfield Hills graduated with high honors at recent commencement exercises at Princeton University. Hunter was a philosophy major and Lehr majored in chemistry.

* * *

Two area students made the honor roll for the spring quarter at Ohio State University. They are Marcia K. Davis of Derby Road, Troy and Jennifer E. Highley, Charles Lane, Franklin Village.

Here's Cake Hint

Try Using a Nautical Theme

Brighten Summer Table Settings

Warm weather and boating go hand - in - hand. With the number of pleasure boat owners constantly on the upswing, boating has quickly become one of the nation's favorite summer pastimes.

Spark the imagination and appease the ravenous appetites of your crew by planning an informal hearty fare meal after they return from their day outdoors.

To heighten the enjoyment of the day, plan to maintain the nautical flavor by imaginatively accessorizing your table with china, linen and glassware in patterns and colors that are reminiscent of the day's activities.

Arrangements need not be elaborate and very often the best seagoing type accessories may be found around the summer house.

One evening will be sufficient time to gather and to make all necessary table top accessories.

* * *

Syracuse China Corporation, the nation's oldest and largest manufacturer of American dinnerware, describes how to provide an inexpensive means of brightening your table setting.

For an authentic nautical feeling, plan to make individual place mats fashioned to resemble naval signal code flags. Charts illustrating the various code signals and their meanings are available in most department and variety stores.

BURLAP MATS

Purchase coarse burlap place mats or, if you prefer, purchase the fabric by the yard and cut the mats to size.

Apply the paint with a short stiff bristled brush in light, short strokes to achieve a stippled effect. Masking tape used to outline individual color areas on the mats will be an easy method to insure a neat, fool-proof paint job.

* * *

White sailors' rope twisted in a simple knot and tied around rolled blue linen napkins further heightens the seagoing feeling.

Gear Budget to Personal Desires, Needs

By MARY FEELEY

Dear Miss Feeley: Can you please give me a budget plan for my particular situation? I am alone, in middle age, my family is no longer a responsibility, and now I am a simple, career woman.

MARY FEELEY

My budget never seems to come out right, and I need a more sensible plan to follow.

Budget plans for families do not suit my situation. It seems to me that I should spend less for housing and food than those budgets dictate, and more for such things as travel, recreation, hobbies, clothes, medical insurance, etc.

M.M., Chula Vista, Calif.

* * *

Dear M.M.: Nobody's budget should "dictate" — except in the total amount of income. You can't argue with that figure. But you can argue all you like over the way the amount should be distributed.

The reason certain percentages are suggested for family incomes is because in the long run, as obligations increase, they keep the financial situation under control.

But in your case, let's throw the rules overboard. Start with this question: what's the very minimum you're willing to pay for rent?

How modest can your living quarters be without making you unhappy? Every dollar you take off your rent can be added to travel or recreation funds.

Next, how little can you eat on? The Department of Agriculture says, $8.90 a week for a woman from 35 to 54 years of age. That's little enough, and you shouldn't try to undercut it, as nutrition is essential.

* * *

With these two basic expenses nailed down, you can chart your way through clothes, medical insurance, hobbies, and so on. Give priority to the ones most important to you.

Since you don't mention savings or any kind of retirement program, I assume you have dependable source of income for life. Have fun.

Dear Miss Feeley: I have a letter saying: send $3 deposit on precut bibs, you can earn $40 a week in your spare time.

I wonder if there is a catch to this? I am afraid to send any money. What is your advice?

B.L., Chicago

* * *

Dear B.L.: My advice is to send no money unless you know what you're buying. You can write to the National Better Business Bureau, Inc., 230 Park Avenue, New York City, for a check on this company, without charge.

Or you can ask the company to spell out in writing, in advance, just what you would receive for your $3.

I know nothing, of course, about this particular company — not even its name. But I do know the public is often misled.

What you have to know is what you'd do with a load of precut bibs that had to be finished and then sold. Who would do the selling, and where and how?

Dear Miss Feeley: I noticed you said that the groom is to give the bachelor dinner. I always thought it is the best man that does this.

Mrs. S.A., New York City

* * *

Dear Mrs. A.: There are two opinions on this—both of them backed up by the authorities on social procedure. The groom may give the dinner, as a gesture to his best man and ushers.

Or the best man may give the dinner, as a gesture to the groom. Or two dinners may be given, to make everybody happy.

(You can get Mary Feeley's handy Budget leaflet by writing to her in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Don't Fill Freezer Until It's Washed

In preparation for fruits and vegetables from the 1964 crops, disconnect, empty, defrost, and wash the freezer according to your usual procedure.

Wash the outside of the freezer with soap or detergent suds, rinse, and wipe it dry. Then a suitable wax finish may be applied, if desired.

Check Your Deodorant Purchases

What woman doesn't feel like going to pieces when her newest dress suddenly falls apart. If it's a washable garment, she most likely will place the blame on the laundering procedure.

But according to Mrs. Anne Steerling, director of public relations for the American Institute of Laundering, it may be just another case of deodorant damage.

* * *

This is the era of textile education and some homemakers are sharp when it comes to shopping. Just ask them about preshrunk fabrics and fast colors.

The great majority of them will have the answers. They have learned to look for labels on the fabrics they buy.

GUARANTEE

It's their guarantee against shrinkage and fading. Strange that a certain per cent of them are still in the dark about deodorants, some of which will destroy the fabrics they selected so carefully.

The general term "deodorant" applies to two distinct groups. One group is made up of those preparations which deodorize perspiration.

A number of these have been tested and approved by the American Institute of Laundering.

In the other group are the anti-perspirants — preparations that close the pores and actually prevent perspiration. Many of these anti-perspirants are strongly acid in nature.

LESS DAMAGE

Deodorant damage to fabrics has lessened with the advent of the informative labeling in this field also.

One such label is the Certified Washable Seal of the American Institute of Laundering, which is awarded to deodorants found to be non-harmful to fabrics.

Seamless Knit Are the Best Women's Hose

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — The best buys in women's hose are not a matter of sheer gossamerwork, a class of Ohio coeds reports.

The coeds, members of a class on textiles at Ohio State University, were each given three pairs of stockings to wear and test during campus activities.

The object: To get the most for their money, to compare the 39-cent jobs against the $2.75 variety, the runs against the nonruns and stretch versus nonstretch and other combinations.

The differences, says Alma F. Tapscott, assistant professor of home economics who directed the study, were considerable.

Some of the findings:

—Seamless, plain knit nylon of 30 denier (fairly coarse by most standards) wore the longest, up to 383 hours.

—Stretch stockings wore second best to 30 denier.

—Nonrun mesh hose do not run but they develop holes. (This is not exactly news to wearers of same).

—Four out of five higher-price hose wore from 11 to 47 hours longer than their cheaper types.

—Mesh tubes gave the least wear of all.

Baby Food Now Instant

Instant baby food is the order of the day. Formulas now come in cans which mother just has to shake, open and pour — directly into a sterilized bottle — and direct to baby.

To minimize germs pour boiling water over the top of the can before you open it, and over the can opener. To keep the can opener sterile assign one for formula use and wrap it in foil or plastic between uses.

Luncheon Reception Follows Catholic Rite

A luncheon reception at the Elks Temple followed morning vows of Rosemary Jo Serra and Frank Douglas Reich in Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church.

Parents of the bride are the Hector Serras of Silver Sand Drive. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Evelyn Snyder of Beechgrove Street and Frederick Reich of Williams Lake Road.

* * *

Paula D. Serra, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. Elvin Mauro, Virginia Snyder and Madalyn Webber, served as bridesmaids.

* * *

Following a honeymoon in northern Michigan, the couple will reside in Pontiac.

Tongue Just One Factor

'Taste' Is Complex Affair

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE T-407: Arlene J., aged 22, is a college senior.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I am majoring in home economics, so I am doubly interested in cooking.

* * *

"Last week you mentioned that the taste of food is not just due to the tastebuds on the tongue.

"You said the nose is even more important. So could you outline in more detail just what is meant by the flavor of foods?"

FIRST VIEW

At first glance, the average person thinks that flavor and taste of foods are limited to the tongue.

But the tastebuds contribute only a minor part to what we popularly call "taste."

* * *

For example, smell, touch, temperature and pain, as well as vision and sometimes hearing also enter into flavor of foods.

For example, last week I showed you that if your nostrils are completely plugged, you can't tell the difference between sliced onion and raw apple.

4 TASTES

Nor can you distinguish between cinnamon and flour. For the four taste qualities of the tongue give us only salt, sweet, sour and bitter. Yet the flavor of food is far more complex than being a salty taste, etc.

"Touch" also enters in for you can tell the difference between skimmed milk vs. half-and-half, just by the tactile sense, for the tip of the tongue is a superb organ of touch.

* * *

Temperature is another component of taste, for warm ice cream certainly loses much of its taste, doesn't it? And cold coffee does likewise.

PAIN INVOLVED

Even pain is involved, for many people relish hot sauce on their steak or demand horse radish, red peppers, etc.

* * *

And vision likewise enters into our food tastes, for if you blindfold yourself, you will find that food loses some of its apparent flavor.

Smokers thus report far less pleasure if they are blindfolded.

HEARING FACTOR

Even our ears indirectly contribute to our enjoyment of some foods, for the tinkle of ice in a glass increases our enjoyment of cold beverages, such as iced tea and the soft drinks.

We popularly think the tongue is the sole criterion of the flavor of food, but it plays only a minor role.

* * *

For fried chicken would affect only the tastebuds that register salt, yet fried chicken is much more than a matter of salt, isn't it?

Watermelon, too, is much more than a matter of sugar. In fact, if we cut a watermelon and see that the inside is white or only pink, we already know we shall not relish its so-called "taste."

TACTILE SENSE

And the first bite of cantaloupe, if hard or "green," also causes us to say it doesn't taste good, yet that is largely the feel or tactile sense that prejudices our enjoyment.

* * *

Stenographer Spread Fact, Not Fiction

WILMINGTON, Del. (UPI) —The stenographer spread is a statistical fact.

Researchers for the du Pont Co. found it out when they set forth to determine how much give should be built into the numerous stretch fabrics now on or coming to market in the apparel industry.

The amount of stretch given a fabric should be determined by its use, du Pont figured.

Ergo, a man's sports coat does not need to stretch as much as a woman's foundation garment.

In measuring the stretch of the skin itself, researchers found that as the body moves, the average lateral or east-west movement is about 15 per cent across the shoulders.

Stretch is 19 per cent around the elbow; 13 per cent around the knee; and 5 per cent or so across the seat when sitting.

Reflections
DESIRES

J. L. VOORHEES
A desire may be complex or simple but it Is The Goad to Push Man Forward, an inspiration to experiment, develop an idea into a useful article that can be seen, handled and used. His home was dark, dank and cold: desire give him cool air in summer and warmth in winter, windows for ventilation, pure water at the turn of a tap. He enjoys a thousand conveniences each of which was at one time a simple desire of some one person.

M. E. SIPLE
All the marvels of science began with a desire. It seems a paradox but the one great human need is still an abstraction—how to get along with people, eliminate war, broken promises and shattered hearts. The desire is there but hidden under a blanket of selfishness. Unlock the vault of kindness, haul out all the ghosts, personal demons, witchcraft and sadistic practices, dump them into a bottomless pit and refill our vault with the riches of compassion, thoughfulness, graciousness and forbearance and our Desire will be a plastic force.

German Police Hunting Thief

Stole Jewelry, Cash Valued at $250,000

BADEN - BADEN, Germany (AP)—Police combed this fashionable south German spa today for a hotel thief who stole jewelry and cash valued at about $250,000 from a New York woman.

Police said a small yellow leather case, secured with three locks and a combination, was taken from the hotel suite of Eugenie Hitt, New York. They believe the theft occurred last Tuesday.

* * *

Police who first said the value of the jewelry and cash was nearly $500,000 later cut their estimate in half. American insurance agents, who flew from New York, assisted police in their investigation.

Mrs. Hitt, who remained in the fashionable Brenners' Park Hotel while police questioned the staff and guests, refused to talk to newsmen about the theft.

* * *

The jewelry, police said, comprised mostly of necklaces, broaches, and diamond-studded gold bracelets. Mrs. Hitt's security bag also contained about $4,000 in cash.

Detroit Police to Quiz Boy on 2 Killings

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit homicide detectives said they plan to question Saturday a 14-year-old boy who claims two youths told him they had committed the July 3 murders of Sheldon Miller and Francis Brown.

But police said they were "not optimistic" that the youth, who has agreed to return to Detroit from Cincinnati, Ohio, can add anything to the mysterious case.

The youth, who said he is visiting his mother and sister in Cincinnati, told police there he had information about the double slaying.

The bodies of Miller, 14, and Brown, 17, were found in a shallow ditch in a neighborhood park on Detroit's northwest side. Both bodies had been riddled with bullets.

Role in Communist Party at Issue

Russia Seen Eying China Ouster if Talks Rejected

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union will step up efforts to oust Red China from the Communist camp if Peking rejects the Kremlin's latest bid for a negotiated settlement of their dispute, diplomatic observers said today.

Reliable sources reported last night that the Soviet leadership had recently suggested to the Peking regime that a committee of Communist parties meet soon to organize a world conference of parties to restore unity to their camp.

Diplomatic observers said Red Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung likely will reject the Soviet bid and the Kremlin, in turn, will brush aside the rejection.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev then will push toward a sort of excommunication of Peking from the International Communist movement, the observers said.

Peking tossed the latest blow in the sino-Soviet tug-of-war for Communist leadership yesterday in a broadcast that denounced Khrushchev as a traitor to the Communist cause.

UNDERMINES UNITY

The official New China News Agency broadcast an article from the official Albanian Communist newspaper charging that Khrushchev's "revisionism" is undermining the movement's unity.

Albania has sided with Peking in the ideological dispute with Moscow.

Reliable sources said the latest Kremlin bid for a negotiated settlement went to Peking in a letter at the end of May.

The letter was a reply to a May 7 Chinese note rejecting an earlier Soviet proposal that the world's 90 Communist parties meet this year.

New Pastor Accepts Call

Rev. Daniel Parshall to Serve Lutherans

Rev. Daniel Parshall newly ordained to the ministry of the Lutheran Church left Thursday by auto for Sequin, Wash. where he will assume the pastorate of Faith Lutheran Church Aug. 2.

* * *

He made his home with grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Albert Weber, 198 E. Iroquois.

Pastor Parshall plans to visit relatives in Glendora, Calif. then drive up the Pacific coast to Washington.

Faith Lutheran Church is located in the small town of Sequin about 70 miles northwest of Seattle. Sequin lies just 15 miles from the Olympic National Park to the south and 15 miles from the Strait of Juan de Fuca to the north. The strait separates the United States from Canada.

* * *

The church was founded in 1937 when 12 families from the drought area of North Dakota settled in the vicinity of Sequin. In 1941 the church was moved to Port Angelus but a mission was left in Sequin.

In 1957 the mission congregation built a simple, modern church building seating 140 people. Members logged and split the wood for the church themselves donating 952 days of work to build the church.

Membership now stands at 105 with rapid growth expected as the Sequin area is fast becoming a retirement center, Pastor Parshall said.

* * *

A graduate of Concordia Theological Seminary in May, Rev. Mr. Parshall was ordained at Grace Lutheran Church June 21. He is the son of James E. Parshall of Watkins Lake and the late Mrs. Ruth W. Parshall.

To Offer Bible Study

The Rev. C. George Widdifield, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, has just returned from an intensive two-week orientation session conducted at Madison, Wis., by the Adult Christian Education Foundation.

* * *

With the training session, All Saints' Church launches its use locally of the Bethel Series, an extensive adult Bible study program now being used by nearly 800 Christian churches throughout the nation.

Rev. Mr. Widdifield will begin immediately to enlist a corps of prospective lay teachers, committed to a two-year teacher training program, in preparation for the congregational use of the series.

By the fall of 1966, teacher trainees will join an estimated 12,000 teachers throughout the country in teaching the Bethel Series to classes of 30 adults each in their respective congregations.

Using a series of 40 dramatic paintings and rigid teacher disciplines, the Bethel Series aims to acquaint adults with the great, unifying Biblical themes.

To date, more than 50,000 adults throughout the nation are being taught by lay teachers using the Bethel Series, first offered for nationwide use by the Adult Christian Education Foundation in June 1961.

Designed and written by the Rev. Harley A. Swiggum of Madison, Wis., the Bethel Series accents and symbolizes basic Christian concepts of the Bible in a systematic study from Genesis to Revelation.

Church to Break Ground

The First Church of God congregation will observe a ground breaking ceremony for the new church at 1333 Mt. Clemens at 7 p. m. tomorrow.

* * *

The program will consist of the litany of dedication, Scripture reading and the breaking of ground by Freeman Brandt, chairman of the building committee.

Cleo Black will sing "Bless This House" and Pastor Otis L. Burgher will offer prayer.

The building program is a long range project.

When completed the church will consist of a sanctuary with a seating capacity of 400. The educational facilities will accommodate 600 students. Also included will be fellowship hall, kitchen, offices, pastor's study and an activity building.

There will be an open air chapel, recreation area, softball field, boating and fishing area and picnic facilities. The first unit costing $100,000 will get under way soon.

Ministers to Attend Sessions at MSU

EAST LANSING — The role of the church in community development will be among the subjects explored when 200 Midwestern Protestant ministers and their wives gather at Michigan State University July 20-31.

Many other problems confronting church leadership in a changing world will be reviewed at the 18th annual Town and Country Church Leadership School, co-sponsored by the MSU Committee on Church Related Programs and the Michigan Council of Churches.

Elective classes will consider the issues in the 1964 election, in public education and in agricultural policy.

They will take a look at interracial tensions, the ecumenical movement, contemporary literature, the problems of youth, and moral decisions demanded by scientific and technological change, among other subjects.

* * *

An interdenominational roster, joining the MSU faculty for the school, includes Truman A. Morrison, Edgewood United Church East Lansing; and Joseph A. Pelham, Trinity Episcopal Church, Farmington.

Others are William E. Hulme, professor of theology and pastoral counseling, Wartburg Theological Seminary, Dubuque, Iowa; and B. B. Maurer, Board of American Missions, Lutheran Church of America.

Probate Judge James E. Kallman, Lansing, will teach a course on "The Minister and the Law." Joseph Ackerman, managing director, Farm Foundation, Chicago, will give the graduation address.

Jacoby on Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

JACOBY

In the actual play of the hand, South went up with dummy's jack of clubs at trick one. East covered with the queen and eventually South lost two diamonds and a club.

Had South restrained his impulse to use that club jack at trick one everything would have come up roses.

There was no reason for him to play that jack right away.

North and South vulnerable

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 ♠ | 4 ♥ | 4 ♠ | 5 ♥ |
| 5 ♠ | Pass | Pass | Pass |

Opening lead—♣ 3

If West held the queen of clubs, the jack would hold the trick but, as Fred Karpin points out, if West held the queen of clubs at trick one he would also hold it at trick two, three, four and so on.

Now let's see what would happen if South plays low from dummy. He would win the trick with the ace, ruff a heart, draw trumps, cash his last heart, and play the ace and another diamond.

* * *

Either opponent could win that diamond trick and lead another diamond for a second defensive trick.

Then, if West held the lead, he would have been forced to play a heart or a diamond. South would ruff in dummy and discard his losing club from his hand.

If East held the trick, he would have had the additional option of leading a club in which case dummy's jack would actually take a trick.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 ♣ | Pass | 1 ♥ | Pass |
| 2 ♣ | Pass | | |

You, South, hold: ♠ K J 10 5 ♥ Q J 10 6 ♦ 3 2 ♣ A 5 4. What do you do?

A—Raise him to three clubs. Your hand is worth another bid and you have club support.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding two clubs your partner bids one no-trump over your one heart response. What do you do now?

Answer Monday

Fire Destroys New Home in Waterford

Fire at 11:28 a.m. yesterday caused an estimated $14,000 damage to a house under construction in Waterford Township.

The nearly completed home on Lot No. 50 between 3120 and 3134 Francescus was called a total loss by Waterford Fire Chief Lewis Goff.

* * *

Three Waterford fire trucks and one from Pontiac answered the alarm turned in by a neighbor who saw smoke coming from the new house.

* * *

Nightly curfew seals off San'a, the capital of Yemen! The seven wooden gates in the city's mud-brick walls are closed from 10 p.m. until dawn.

Waterford to Name Four Canvassers

Waterford Township Board members Monday night will appoint a four-member board of canvassers as required in the new constitution.

Two of the appointees must be Democrats and the other two Republicans.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

For Sunday

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Be prepared for SURPRISES, including visit from one who was confined. Routine may be "shaken." Maintain attitude of calm. Do what must be done. Then relax — enjoy evening.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Excitement connected with change in plans indicated. Involves loved one — and also children. Communicate thoughts in simplistic manner. Otherwise, confusion apt to result. Attend church of choice.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20): Don't delay in reaching understanding which can promote DOMESTIC HARMONY. Day to cooperate with family members. There is tension indicated — but it can be transformed into CREATIVE EXCITEMENT.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22): You may be drawn between two extremes. Best course sees you seeking extra time. Don't be stampeded into impulsive decision. Avoid self-deception. See facts, problems as they actually exist.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22): Your approach should be aimed at promoting confidence. Involves investments, long-range planning. Time is on your side. Convince one in authority you possess necessary creative work.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22): One who urges caution is thinking of your own welfare. "Know this" — respond accordingly. Be diplomatic. Cycle high enough to break from tradition. But do so in tactful manner.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Previous "secrets" due to be exposed. Seize it in the light of greater knowledge. TAKE INITIATIVE. Be sympathetic to aims of loved one. But take steps which outline NEW COURSE.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Encouragement due from friends. But one close to you may be skeptical. Strive for balance in dealing with children. Be stern but understanding. Map program — follow it through.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): You may receive honor within the community. Be gracious. Offer cooperation. But also realize that promises made to family must be kept. Excellent for outing, including picnic.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19): Fulfill obligation. Go all out for one far away. Fine day for basic accomplishments. Best to remain close to home base. No unnecessary travel.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18): Feeling of frustration will be erased. You can obtain cooperation you requested. But now you may find you are not completely ready. Be sure to insist on proper arrangements, agreements.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20): Your ability to take surprises, changes in matter-of-course fashion very important. Realize that conditions affecting relationship NOT SETTLED. Act accordingly. Be wary.

* * *

IF SUNDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you have remarkable sense of humor. Often, however, you "put it aside." Bring it out in open more often!

* * *

For Monday

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): If you attempt short cuts, you will be forced to retrace steps. Day features ability to analyze and draw valid conclusions. Eliminate guess work. Go directly to the source.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Don't jump to conclusions where member of opposite sex is concerned. Shy when rumors act to fly. Be mature. Important to strive for harmony at home. Have faith in loved one.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20): Conditions you once considered "settled" may prove to be the opposite. Time to review facts, figures. One who works for you may have made error. Be lenient — but demand an accounting.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22): What appears certain . . . may be "transient." Take nothing for granted. Trust inner feelings. Then verify beliefs. Best to accept expert friends mean well, but are not informed.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22): Money situation requires clarifying. Includes expenses, budget, promises — and past resolutions. Project should not be left "hanging." Be thorough. Convince higher-ups you are SINCERE.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22): Cycle high. But you may not recognize true friend. Be PERCEPTIVE. Don't be discouraged by what appears to be a set-back. View potential. Look ahead — avoid needless worry.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Concern for what MIGHT be is waste of time. Do job with confidence; those in position to aid will find your side. Your natural sensitivity will prove valuable. You are on right track!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Friend who appears irritable may be conscience-stricken. Probe deep. Don't maintain "holier-than-thou" attitude. Matter of investment can be clarified. Take your time. You will receive answers.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): You achieve goal today through UNORTHODOX methods. Means don't be afraid to break from tradition. Check facts — then initiate them in unique, original manner.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19): Fine lunar aspect prompts intellectual curiosity. Read between the lines. You can make valuable discoveries . . . arrive at valid conclusions. And in turn will impress superiors.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18): Be willing to SHARE. Means problems as well as joys — and includes confiding in loved one. Atmosphere among family members may be tense. Help relieve situation through HUMOR.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20): Hold off on contracts, agreements. There may be unfavorable clause of which you are not aware. Do some basic research. Be familiar with all aspects of current project.

* * *

IF MONDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you are practical, able to make the most of assets — and you have a "soft spot" for those who are creative.

* * *

Trilevel Home on Lake Site

C.G. Puterbaughs Reach Goal

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

In 1932 the C. G. Puterbaughs of Iris Road, Waterford Township, moved into their summer cottage on Maceday Lake.

"We enjoyed lake living so much," said Mrs. Puterbaugh, "both my husband and I were determined that someday we'd be year-around residents.

"The day we learned that the property on the nearby point was for sale, we knew we were a step closer to our goal."

Three years ago the Frericks Brothers of Pontiac were commissioned to build the Puterbaughs' trilevel brick home and their long awaited dream became a reality.

* * *

Completely adapted to its surroundings, the home features trilevel outdoor living also. An upper sun deck opens off the master bedroom; a screened-in porch off the formal dining room on the second level and on the lower level a barbecue patio extends the family room's entertainment facilities.

Interested in gardening, Mr. Puterbaugh has put his green thumb to work creating beauty throughout the yard. A rock garden planted with rhododendrons, chrysanthemums, geraniums, coleus, Pfitzer junipers and lilies welcomes guests on the drive side of the home.

To break the monotony of a solid expanse of concrete on the open patio, Mr. Puterbaugh had two planter squares incorporated into the slab.

In one, he has placed a corylus avellana contorta, a rare shrub frequently called "Harry Lauder's Walking Stick Bush." Its corkscrew-like branches will ultimately reach a height close to 7-foot. Against the winter snows, the shrub's curiously twisted branches provide a conversation piece second to none, prolonging the garden's beauty.

Geraniums in bright colors fill the other planter square. Groupings of roses, shrubs and evergreens complete the patio's landscaping plan. For night viewing, the garden is effectively lit.

On one wall hangs an oil painting by Gertrude Chipside of the Puterbaughs' original summer cottage a reminder of the days that were, for the cottage was dismantled when the present home was built.

Up a staircase of five steps is found the central entrance foyer which also provides access to the bedroom wing, the kitchen and the study.

"The intercom is a great step saver," reports Mrs. Puterbaugh. "Especially when I'm babysitting with our grandchildren, three-year-old Craig and seven-month-old Cary." The boys are sons of the Barry G. Puterbaughs of Pontiac.

Plumbing Fixtures for 'Little Folks'

For the "little folks" around your house, there are now little plumbing fixtures available.

* * *

BALANCED BEAUTY: The well-balanced exterior of this one-story home is equalled by its interesting interior design. One of the four bedrooms has two doors, permitting it to be used as a den if desired. Flexibility and informality are featured throughout.

Flexibility in Design Adds to Desirability

By ANDY LANG

Flexibility in a house plan is always desirable.

Especially when there's a chance that the size of your family may change at some time in the near future.

But flexibility is not always easy to obtain, particularly when you have a reasonably small house in mind.

Architect Herman York has surmounted this obstacle in the latest House of the Week.

Although it has only 1,352 square feet of habitable area, which places it in the small house category, design H-39 shows a layout with one room located strategically for multiple use.

* * *

The house can be used either as a four-bedroom, two-bathroom residence or as a home with three bedrooms, two bathrooms and a den.

Too often when this kind of versatility is attempted the alternate use is merely a compromise. Not in this case. For the den, or fourth bedroom, has two doors, one leading to the foyer and one leading to the rear hall, making it accessible from two areas.

This means that, if the extra room starts out as a bedroom, it can be converted to a den very easily if, for instance, one of the children leaves for college or gets married.

Conversely, if you have a young family and an addition occurs, the den can be sacrificed to become a nursery.

This house has several ideas designed to create a favorable first impression.

BRICK FIREPLACE

If desired, the owner could develop the side yard by adding a barbecue at the chimney, using the same masonry structure for an additional flue.

With an eye on informal living, architect York has designed a "country kitchen" of the type that was so popular when all family living centered in this room.

* * *

Should the owner decide to finish off a portion of area for the children, there is easy control of such a room, since the kitchen is at the head of the stairs.

* * *

There are two bathrooms. One is located in the hall on the bedroom side of the house, yet adjacent to the living section.

MASTER BEDROOM

The other is in the master bedroom, which also has a huge walk-in closet for clothes and storage needs.

Care has been taken to keep all detail in proper scale. The exterior has a well-balanced appearance, with none of the top-heavy characteristics that sometimes mar the design of a small house.

* * *

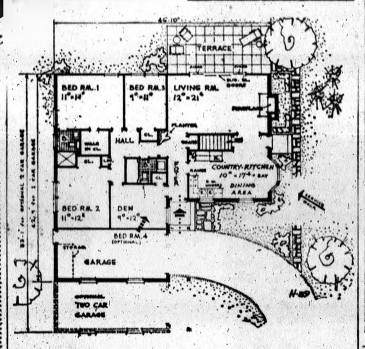

There is a service walk at the side, with a kitchen entrance that has a roofed-over cover as protection for the service platform.

H-39 STATISTICS

A one-story house with a living room, kitchen, dining area, foyer, four bedrooms (or three bedrooms and a den), full basement and a one or two-car garage. The house is 46'10" in length and 42'9" in width, with a habitable area of 1,352 square feet. The 21'6" living room has a fireplace and sliding glass doors leading to a rear terrace equal length.

FLOOR PLANS: There are 1,352 square feet of living area in this house, excluding the rear terrace and the basement. The one-car garage, which includes a storage area, can be a two-car garage if desired without destroying the effectiveness of the exterior design.

Conceal Nail Dents With Spackle Paste

* * *

One inch of foamed urethane plastic, now being used for insulating the underside of highway bridges, has the same heat insulating capabilities that 34 to 60 inches of earth provide for a road's surface.

Long-Term Study Set on Water

WASHINGTON — Scientists are planning a 10-year study of the earth's water resources in light of quickening needs from population, industry and agriculture.

Proposals for an International Decade for Scientific Hydrology are being considered by scientific organizations and United Nations agencies. The program would begin in 1965.

It has been estimated that the world population will double and consumption of water will triple by the end of the century, the National Geographic Society says.

Critical water shortages could result unless nations find new techniques to improve management and control of their water resources.

UNEVEN DISTRIBUTION

The earth has the same water it had at the begining — no more, no less. Its water content always remains the same — about 326 million cubic miles.

However, less than 1 per cent of this is readily available as fresh water. The great bulk is in the world's oceans and seas, or frozen in the polar regions.

The 1 per cent accessible to man is so unevenly distributed that some areas are deluged while others are parched.

* * *

SCIENTIST'S OPINION

Dr. Raymond L. Nace, a research scientist in the water resources division of the U.S. Geological Survey, recently wrote in Natural History magazine:

"Man has become so numerous and his activities so extensive that he has begun to affect the water cycle — certainly on a regional scale and very likely on the gobal scale.

* * *

"The time is overdue for systematic studies of water and the hydrological cycle on a large scale in order to be able to make more rational use of water for the benefit of mankind."

SOMETHING NEW — You've got it "cornered" with this new space-saving water closet. Ideal for bath rooms big or small, the corner closet opens many new planning possibilities for the bathroom. Note also the recessed tub and cabinet - lavatory, adding high-styled beauty to well-planned layout.

Pastel Plastic Panels Gaining Popularity

Their durability and ease of maintenance — they can be wiped clean with a damp cloth — are helping make them a favorite of homewives.

Hide Bad Feature for Room Beauty

An awkwardly placed window and exposed pipes can detract from the appearance of a bathroom. A coated striped shade can cover a window and still allow light to enter.

Unsightly pipes can be boxed in with plywood, which is then surfaced with durable and attractive ceramic tile.

The more than 250 shades of ceramic tile will allow you to match the existing ceramic tile in your bathroom or to make an interesting contrast.

Cheaper to Install New Shingles on Old

If your house needs reroofing this year, ask your contractor about the possibility of applying the new asphalt shingles directly over the old.

This technique may cost less and provide greater insulation and protection.

Wood Widely Used

Wood is so plentiful, so widely and commonly used, that it is taken for granted, which prompts one wood expert to proclaim that if it could be discovered tomorrow it would be a tremendous success as a home building material.

States were encouraged, at a recent National Housing Center conference, to distribute school funds on the basis of where they are needed.

Women Can Handle Modern Power Tools

You don't have to be Hercules to handle modern power tools. As a result, women are performing a lot of the do-it-yourself tasks once considered exclusively in the male domain.

Take the portable electric drill. The new models are light and easy to handle. Women have discovered that, equipped with various types of pads and cloths, the drills are excellent for such chores as polishing and cleaning.

But you have only to talk to the sales people in shops dealing in electric tools to realize that the ladies aren't confining their activities to the smaller machines.

* * *

WOMEN PURCHASE

Aren't those purchases being made for their husbands? We asked that question of one dealer and got an emphatic NO in reply.

He explained that, on the contrary, that was one area where men wanted to make their own choices. He had discovered that, nine times out of 10, when a woman bought one of the electric saws, it was for her own use.

Surely, we persisted, not many women buy and operate a tablesaw?

Well, the dealer admitted, not very many. But, he quickly added, some do — and a lot more buy electric jigsaws and sanders for their own use.

Swimming Pools Not Luxuries!

It's a fact that a homeowner can use a pool for a period of years and, if he chooses, add its original cost to the selling price of his home.

It's also been proved that a house with a pool is easier to sell than one without — provided it's properly constructed.

Potential buyers want a pool that will provide them a maximum of fun with a minimum of maintenance.

Pools lined with durable, easy-to-clean materials such as ceramic tile are preferred because they never need repainting and require little upkeep.

REAL TILE

Real tile is waterproof and its wide range of colors — of which there are over 250 — are impervious to the run's rays.

In most areas, an unheated pool will provide pleasure for the family for only three months of the year.

An effective heating system will extend the swimming season to six months — and longer in temperate climates.

However, there are two important "don'ts" to remember: Don't overheat the pool and don't run the heating system if nobody is going to swim.

Home Pools— Fire Fighters

A home swimming pool provides more than just fun for the family — it gives protection, too. In recent years, the value of the swimming pool as a fire fighter has been demonstrated countless times.

* * *

With the hot, dry summer months just ahead, this is a good time to appraise your home's fire fighting capacity. If it is apparent that your private water system would not be able to cope with an emergency, you should take immediate steps to correct the situation.

Water for fire protection is only effective if a sufficient supply is readily available and usable in all seasons. To meet this need and to provide assurance that there will be enough water on hand at all times, it is recommended that an auxiliary source be created.

This additional source is often provided in the form of a pond or swimming pool. The swimming pool, particularly, offers multiple benefits because the same pump used to circulate water through the pool filter can also be used to deliver water in case of fire.

* * *

Regardless of the type of auxiliary water source you select, a properly - sized water system is the key to comfortable and safe living beyond city mains. Homeowners are advised to contact a qualified dealer to be sure that their water system meets all requirements of convenience and safety.

Tile Accents for Poolscape

Swimming pools in increasing numbers are beautifying their drain rails and diving boards with decorative panels and colorful inserts of ceramic tile.

* * *

Whether the pool owner prefers colors that contrast with, complement, or accent his poolscape and home's exterior, there are shades that are bound to please.

That's because ceramic tile now comes in more than 250 colors, plus a wide selection of sizes and shapes.

There are small mosaics for the panels, standard sizes for pool linings, and a variety of quarry tile patterns for decks.

* * *

Tile is ideal for any of these areas because it's waterproof, impervious to the sun's rays and easily maintained by just an occasional quick wipe with a damp cloth.

Another reason for tile's popularity is that it actually costs less today than it did 30 years ago.

Latest Awnings, Patio Covers Available

If you are thinking about installing aluminum window awnings, door canopies or a patio cover this spring, be sure to take a look at a new booklet just off the press that illustrates the many styles available, including products introduced just this year.

The booklet also pictures and describes the newest in aluminum carports, porch awnings and solar screens.

You can choose either horizontal or vertical models, fit the architectural style of your house, run them around corners—even choose a fold-down model for protecting a summer home against storms and vandals.

Handymen Beware of Heating System

You may be a whiz of a handyman around the house, but — don't tinker with automatic heating equipment—that's the advice of the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau.

Probing the insides of a thermostat or boiler is not a do-it-yourself project for the average householder, the Bureau maintains. Service to an automatic heating system should be left to "those who know" —experienced heating contractors.

The portrait of George Washington appears on the U.S. $1 bill.

According to the Southern Pine Association, pyramids for churches and domes for gymnasiums are popular shapes with "engineered wood" construction.

News Briefs From Washington

Industrialist Set Back in Try to Gain Control of Airline

WASHINGTON (AP)—Industrialist Howard Hughes has lost a round in his efforts to regain control of Trans World Airlines.

* * *

The Civil Aeronautics Board Friday refused to permit his Hughes Tool Co. (Toolco) to acquire $92.8 million in TWA sinking fund notes from Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. and the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

The acquisition would have enabled Toolco to regain its 78 per cent controlling shares of TWA, now held in a voting trust.

PUT IN TRUST

Hughes put the shares in the trust before the CAB approved Toolco's control of Northeast Air Lines in 1963. The board said as long as Hughes maintains control of the company, Northeast cannot lawfully resume control of TWA.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has presented the Distinguished Service Medal to Adm. Harry D. Felt for his six years of service as commander in chief of American forces in the Pacific.

Felt is retiring after 44 years in the Navy and Johnson said in a cabinet room ceremony Friday that there is no way to reward him fully for his service.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara noted the admiral displayed outstanding diplomatic and military skills in the crises in Viet Nam, Laos and the Straits of Formosa.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has named Dr. Winston Edward Kock to be director of the electronics research center to be built in the Boston area.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has turned down an appeal signed by some 5,000 college and university professors for neutralization of North and South Viet Nam.

* * *

"Under the present circumstances," the department said, "We see no alternative to our policy of assisting South Viet Nam to the maximum to resist Communist aggression."

The educators' appeal was circulated by the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy.

May Take Leo Up on Marriage Offer

MIDDLEBURY, Vt. (AP)— Leo Durocher, 57, still may have a chance to marry the 26-year-old actress-secretary he says he loves and asked to be his wife.

* * *

Miss Carolyn Morin, an attractive brunette, said Friday, "If the offer is still open, I might reconsider. He's a wonderful guy, you know."

Her indication of willingness to marry the Los Angeles Dodger baseball coach came during testimony in her father's $150,000 alienation of affections suit against Durocher.

Hesu Morin, 51, a Middlebury bricklayer, says Durocher stole the love of his wife, Anna, 51, mother of Carolyn and three other daughters.

* * *

Miss Morin told the jury that Durocher had proposed marriage in 1961, but that she had refused.

Lt. Gov. Ralph Foote, Durocher's attorney, asked her why.

"Well," she replied, "it takes a girl time to make up her mind. I hadn't come to any decision then."

The daughter testified she went to work for Durocher in 1961 as a secretary.

The bricklayer said he once threatened to punch Durocher's nose.

Durocher "bust my house, bust my family, bust everything," Morin told the court Friday.

Mackie Files Vote Petitions

LANSING (AP)—State Highway Commissioner John Mackie Friday filed more than double the number of signatures needed to qualify as a Democratic aspirant for Congress from the seventh district.

Mackie filed 1,650 signatures with the office of Elections Director Robert Montgomery. He needed only 773 signatures to qualify.

The office of elective highway commissioner has been abolished by the new state constitution.

British Tailor Spy Suspect

LONDON (AP) — Alfred Burchinsaw, a British tailor who worked at a U.S. Air Force base near Munich, has been arrested on suspicion of spying, the British Foreign Office says.

A spokesman said Friday night Burchinsaw was picked up by American detectives March 31 on suspicion of passing information to a Communist intelligence agency.

The spokesman said Burchinsaw has been held in a Munich prison while German police continue investigations. No trial date has been set.

MOSCOW (AP)—An irate picnicker heaved a vodka bottle at a low-flying crop-dusting plane, damaged its wing, forced the pilot to land and beat him up. Local Communist party officials blamed the pilot for the incident.

The picnicker was a party big shot.

Reviewing the incident, the government newspaper Izvestia complained that the party official received only a gentle reprimand.

Izvestia said he had been drinking heavily and forced down the plane with the well-aimed bottle after chemical dust drifted into a pot of soup over his campfire.

DAMASCUS (AP) — Oil rich Kuwait has called off plans to deposit $200 million in the Chase Manhattan Bank because the financial house has been placed on the Pan-Arab blacklist, the Arab League has announced.

An official in the league's Israel boycott office told a reporter the bank had been blacklisted because it "is the main financial and technical agent of the Israeli state loan bonds."

Mower 'Bullet' Shoots Man in Heart

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Warren Pietre Jr. was shot in the heart by a tiny wire "bullet" kicked up by his power lawn mower yesterday, leaving him only millimeters from death.

"It felt like someone shot me with BB gun, or maybe an insect bit me on the chest," said the 23-year-old shipfitter, of Gretna, La.

He was mowing his lawn when the mower blades snapped the four-inch-long wire, about as thick as a pencil lead, into his heart.

He was reported in good condition today at Touro Infirmary, after four hours of delicate heart surgery to remove the wire last night.

★ ★ ★

Doctors said his heart would probably be okay.

John Glenn Back in NASA?

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Former astronaut John Glenn, described as a man who "has a lot to offer to the space program," is considering returning to the space agency.

The Marine lieutenant colonel and James Webb, National Aeronautics and Space Administration administrator, discussed Glenn's future yesterday.

"We would like to have him do any work he would like to" Webb said. "He is a man who did a great service to his country. He has a lot to offer to the space program."

Glenn said "I would like to be connected with the space program and do something where I would fit in." He indicated he was interested in the astronaut program, but not as an astronaut himself.

Webb said Glenn's first job is to recuperate completely from an inner ear injury he suffered in a fall in his Ohio apartment last January, after he left the space program to run for the U.S. Senate from Ohio.

Wins Saber Crown

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — The New York Athletic Club won the foil-saberepee team championship of the Amateur Fencing League of America Friday by 2-1 over Salle Santelli of New York.

Fine relief hurling and extra-base hitting enabled Talbott Lumber to overcome a game improved M. G. Collision team, 8-4, last night in the city Class A baseball loop.

Homer Davidson tripled home Lee Crawford in the sixth inning to snap a 4-4 tie and give pitcher Gary Kraft his second win of the season.

Kraft hurled scoreless, three-hit baseball over the last four and a third innings after the alert M. G. (1-1) nine had taken a 4-1 lead aided by sloppy Talbott defensive work.

The winners, who are now 5-6 in fourth place, rallied for three runs in the fifth as Al Foraker and pinch-hitter Gary Heaton had clutch baseloaded singles.

Crawford, who had three doubles and accounted for three runs, and Davidson took over the offensive fireworks in the sixth and defensive chores in the seventh.

Three outfield fly balls ended the tilt although the losers had the tying run on second base as it ended.

RESUME ACTION

The league will renew play with three games tomorrow at Jaycee Park, 2 p.m. and an 8 p.m. singleton.

In an administrative move this week, pitcher Bob Readler of the Clippers was suspended indefinitely and infielder Rick Tolas for two games.

The action was taken following a dispute over an umpire's decision in the Clippers' loss to M. G. Collision July 2nd.

No official decision has been made regarding the latter's protest in the CIO-M. G. Collision contest Wednesday.

Union, Tire Firm Agree on Contract

It is expected to provide a basis for ending a strike of 17,000 production workers.

It then must go to 3,300 workers in Akron, Ohio, and Waco, Tex., for ratification.

The settlement was arrived at in a 14-hour marathon bargaining session here that ended three hours after the URW struck the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.

But Week Had Lapse

New All-Time Stock High Hit

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced to another all - time high this week but not without a brief lapse in its steady climb.

As measured by the Associated Press 60-stock average, this was the fifth consecutive week of advance.

* * *

The business background was favorable. Car sales rose in June 3 per cent above a year earlier, steel production held up better than expected, and retail sales edged above those of May to set a new record.

This week the Associated Press 60 - stock average advanced 2.56 to 318.96, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials gained 8.04 to 847.31 and Standard & Poor's 500-stock index was up .76 to 83.36. All were historic highs.

Volume for the week totaled 25,594,771 shares — there were four 5-million-plus days—against 19,383,760 the previous week, when there were only four trading days because of the Fourth of July holiday.

General Motors hit an all - time high of 92¼ and Chrysler equaled its 1964 high of 52.

Daredevil Drunk to Do 30 Days

He dives under moving trucks.

Hay, 47, of Detroit pleaded guilty before Recorder's Court Judge John O. Scallen to a charge of being drunk and disorderly. He had just emerged from a plunge between the wheels of a moving Detroit Public Works truck.

"I was just amusing myself," said Hay.

Thirty days in the Detroit House of Correction, said the judge.

Texas Bank in Hands of U.S. Agents

DELL CITY, Tex. (UPI)—The federal government is in the banking business today, for the first time since the depression of the 1930s, and is looking around for somebody to get it out of it.

The government, in the person of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. (FDIC), took over when the First State Bank of Dell City collapsed last week.

The FDIC bank opened its doors yesterday, assuming responsibility for the $1,072,000 that 650 depositors had in the Dell City bank when it failed.

It has the only bank between El Paso, 90 miles away, and Carlsbad, N.M., 100 miles away. The area's economy depends mainly on cotton, grown on irrigated land.

Under the law, the FDIC can operate the bank for up to two years, but FDIC chairman Joseph W. Barr said he hopes local businessmen will be able to take over within the next few months.

Federal officials blamed bad loans and illegal bonuses paid to attract depositors for the collapse of the former bank.

The federal bank is the first of its kind since 1935, when the Commercial National Bank of Bradford, Pa., failed.

AP Photofax

HISTORIC HIGH — For the fifth consecutive week, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced, closing yesterday at 318.9, an historic high. A week ago, the barometer stood at 316.3. Led by grains, the commodity index moved lower this week to 164.2 from 164.6 in the preceding period.

Card of Thanks

WE WISH TO EXPRESS TO EACH of our friends and neighbors our deep appreciation for their kindness of kindness, cards, and heartfelt sympathy during the long illness and death of our friend Chester Xhaxler. We send this gratitude also to Pastor Fahner Dietz, Doctors Bauer and Ziegler, Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, pallbearers, and our wonderful neighbors whose Christian efforts shown at this time was truly noble. For these kindnesses may we always remember to include our prayers and may they be assured that our daughter Francis will always return such charity by ever invoking the heart of God's grant to each all that will make them truly happy.

The Marvin Buda Family.

'Sea Hunt' Star Declares 'Hamlet' Not Over Depth

By EARL WILSON

The underwater king smiled when he said it but he was serious.

WILSON

"Any actor, seeing another actor playing a part he is interested in doing, would be difficult to please, and would think 'way down deep that he could do it better," Bridges explained.

"And I just don't mean Richard Burton, who is such a fine actor, either.

"Like when I saw 'Othello' . . . I thought Jose Ferrer was great, but I felt that when I did it, I did it a lot better. What an actor needs is to have real confidence in himself and that's what I lack . . . faith in myself. I have to keep trying to puff myself up and maybe that's what I'm doing when I say this."

Bridges is in the familiar position of an actor beloved for one characterization—for "The Sea Hunt"—wanting to do something else.

★ ★ ★

"We're talking about doing another 'Sea Hunt' TV series but I get my kicks doing other things, like summer stock. My son Jeff and I are doing 'Happy Anniversary' on the Eastern circuit.

"Then there's 'Sea Hunt' at the World's Fair at the Travel and Transportation exhibit . . . six shows a day. I'm not in that but I've visited it."

Bridges volunteered that many people don't know that after "The Sea Hunt" on TV, he did "The Lloyd Bridges' Show," an anthology, "which was kind of a sad experience."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

When Lynda Johnson went backstage at "Any Wednesday," Sandy Dennis offered her two kittens. "Thanks," Lynda said, "but we have two beagles, and they've caused us quite enough trouble." . . . Peter O'Toole's using some of his "Lord Jim" loot to back a cousin opening a bookie shop in London (where it's legal).

Shelley Berman's new album, "Sex Life of the American Primate," is hitting radio and TV censorship; he may not do the "Today" show if they won't play the disk . . . Frank Sinatra Jr. dated singer Vikki Carr; both are working in Las Vegas . . . Alain Delon, whose next film is with Ann-Margret, send word he'd like to meet her first, "to discuss it."

★ ★ ★

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Nowdays when a judge rules that a book isn't obscene, the author gets mad and appeals."

EARL'S PEARLS: Shelby Friedman reports his girl was voted Miss Cheesecake: "Not because she looks sexy, but because she has a shape like a cheesecake."

Bob Hope complimented curvy singer Anita Bryant; "You have a beautiful voice, Anita . . . but why not? Look where it's been." That's earl, brother.

Making Big Push

Dems Eye Barry's Senate Seat

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Arizona Democrats, apparently convinced that Sen. Barry Goldwater has the Republican presidential nomination in his hip pocket, are making the big push to capture his U.S. Senate seat.

Most state politicians predicted that Goldwater easily could win reelection to the Senate.

ONLY ONE

A month ago only one Democrat had announced for the Senate—Howard Peterson, a Phoenix attorney who was badly beaten in 1962 for Congress by Republican Rep. John J. Rhodes.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

SAFETY MEASURE

As a safety measure, Goldwater filed for the Republican primary as a senatorial candidate. But should he capture the GOP presidential nomination he will step aside in favor of Fannin, Arizona's only three-term Republican governor.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The Democratic ticket, in addition to Peterson, will offer: Roy Elson, administrative assistant to Arizona's veteran Sen. Carl Hayden; Renz Jennings, justice of the Arizona Supreme Court; George Gavin, Scottsdale insurance man and former state chairman of the Senate Democratic Committee; Robert P. Ketterer of Tempe, a school administrator and president of the Arizona State Democratic Club, and Raymond G. Neely of Tucson, a restaurant employe and political unknown.

AP Photofax

NOMINATED BY JOHNSON — Bertrand M. Harding was nominated by President Johnson as acting commissioner of internal revenue to succeed Mortimer M. Caplin, who has resigned. Harding, a veteran of 23 years of federal service, has been serving as deputy commissioner of internal revenue.

Eight in Raid Plead Guilty

Police said a card game was being played in Room 331 of the hotel at 125 N. Perry.

Fines of $25 each were ordered against the other seven, who were charged with loitering.

They are Robert Sasser, 36, Billie Barrett, 38, William Campbell, 35, Robert Wilder, 24, all occupants of the hotel; Paul Gripado, 37, of 15 Downing; Ellis Keel, 24, of 240 N. Cass; and Harold Ogles, 35, of 536 N. East Boulevard.

Troops Quit Cambridge After Year

The 50 men were up before dawn for breakfast. About two hours later, as the sun was breaking through a hazy sky, five jeeps and two 2½-ton trucks rumbled across the Choptank River which flows past the town.

With the Guardsmen went the modified militia law they established to keep a tense racial peace.

WILL REMAIN

One or two officers will remain for several days "to make sure we do not owe anybody," as Col. William Ogletree, troop commander put it.

No townspeople turned out for the departure. One white woman came to the National Guard armory Friday to say how much she appreciated what the troops had done.

The troops were first sent in by Gov. J. Millard Tawes June 14, 1963, after three nights of shootings and fire bombings. They were removed July 8, however, only to return four days later. That time the stay was a long one.

It has cost Maryland taxpayers about $800,000 to keep them here.

NOT FORGOTTEN

The violence flared after 200 Negroes marched for the fourth straight night to the county courthouse for a prayer vigil. More than 500 whites jeered and tossed eggs and firecrackers as state police and dogs kept the crowds separated.

When the guard moved in the next morning, an uneasy peace was established.

White Man Is Shot, Two Hurt in Florida Integration Attempt

The violence in the north Florida city broke out after a Negro woman knifed a white youth when she was refused admittance to the white section of a theater. Negroes have been sitting in the balcony.

Negroes and white persons tangled over the knifing and Thomas E. Booth, 21, received a gunshot wound in the abdoman. He was reported in "fair condition" at a Gainesville hospital.

Witnesses said white persons milling around the theater entrance used broomsticks and clubs to force the Negroes away. The theater manager said about 30 Negroes were involved, but Mayor James R. Tyson said there were only six. Three shots were fired in the air.

Police rushed several Negroes into a bank for their protection and later took them home. A deputy sheriff said a heavy rainstorm broke up the disturbance "just in time." Extra police, deputies and highway patrolmen were called out.

The youth who was knifed and another who was struck on the head with a sharp instrument were treated at a Lake City hospital and released. Tyson denied a report that a crowd of white persons

No Headway in Gas Strike

Talks Are Deadlocked Over Rehiring Issue

DETROIT (AP)—Negotiations in the five-week-old strike against the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. remained deadlocked yesterday on the issue of rehiring of 10 strikers accused of vandalism against the company.

The stalemate over the rehiring issue came as company and the 2,000-member Local 80 of the Building Service Employes International Union reportedly neared agreement on a three-year contract providing total wage boosts of 37.27 cents an hour.

Seven of the discharged strikers were arrested by Detroit police, who said they were preparing to ignite gasoline they allegedly had poured down a manhole.

Shipp said the company was willing to rehire a 10th accused vandal, but only after giving him six months disciplinary time off. He termed this punishment too severe.

A company spokesman said, "It would not be fair to our customers to reemploy persons capable of such actions."

Shipp said the union also planned to hold out for a contract provision which would allow a serviceman called at night into "dangerous, high-crime areas" to call for another man to accompany him.

Both company and union spokesmen said they were awaiting a call from state and federal mediators to continue negotiations.

LBJ Expected to Announce Lower Deficit

Cut in Expenditures, Hike in Revenue Will Lessen Budget Debt

WASHINGTON, (AP) — President Johnson is expected to announce in a few days that the budget deficit for the recently completed bookkeeping year will be significantly lower than anticipated, it was learned today.

Although the figures for the year which ended June 30 won't be available for about another week, evidence is mounting that the deficit will be less than the $8.8 billion forecast a few weeks ago.

The administration announced in May that it had shaved its estimated expenditures by $100-million and it placed the figure at $98.3 million.

★ ★ ★

On the other side of the ledger, the government has been collecting more revenue than expected because of the consistently high level of performances by the economy.

'GOOD NEWS'

Johnson said at a news conference yesterday there would be "some good news" soon in regard to the government's financial position.

Johnson obviously believes there are political dividends in trimming the budget deficit and he has emphasized economy repeatedly to his lieutenants.

One measure of these efforts is the number of government employes. At one time the number was expected to reach 2,571,000 at the end of the fiscal year.

★ ★ ★

The administration announced that its goal is to cut this figure to 2,497,000, and it now seems certain that the actual count will be still lower.

★ ★ ★

Johnson originally budgeted a deficit of $10 billion for the 1964 fiscal year, but this was later reduced to $8.8 billion, primarily because of the income tax cut.

★ ★ ★

To Party Conservatives

Goldwater Is a 'Dream' Candidate

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
Newspaper Enterprise Assoc.

SAN FRANCISCO—Sen. Barry Goldwater is being nominated for president in good part because he touches an inner core of the Republican party.

He represents the deep-felt heart's wish of many influential Republicans, especially at the county and local level, who have lived off desert mirages for from one to three decades.

With the counterforce of moderate-minded governors and others sharply diminished in 1964, the wish is at last reality, a blooming oasis refreshing all those who have never liked or never understood the oft-tried business of beating the Democrats at their own game.

Astute young John Grenier, regular GOP Alabama chairman and also regional director for the Goldwater campaign, believes that among Republican professionals, a majority always disapproved that tactic.

But he argues plausibly from convention history that in every seriously contested nomination from 1940 on, the moderate—usually relying on a big wedge of powerful governors—have weaned away enough of that majority to frustrate the conservatives' candidate.

HELD PROMISE

Even before the moderates' current weakness was so painfully exposed, Barry Goldwater offered promise of holding the conservatives together against the standard charge of "he can't win."

He had the look of a winner, and his shrewd early promoters devised a "winning strategy" to go with him.

When Kennedy was killed, that plan collapsed. Moderates, thereafter convinced that Goldwater's "unelectability" was obvious to all, promptly went to sleep.

But at this point the long-suppressed inner voice of the professionals' conservative majority spoke with unaccustomed vigor. For them, 1961 and 1962 had been the years of persuasion.

Car Talks End 2nd Week; LBJ Says: No Interference

DETROIT (AP) — Contract talks between the United Auto Workers Union and the nation's three largest auto makers wound up their second week yesterday as President Johnson predicted negotiators would settle their differences without government interference.

Talks recessed for the weekend as the UAW moved toward completion of preliminary presentation of the largest package of contract demands in its 27-year negotiating history with General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp.

At an impromptu news conference in Washington, Johnson said both business and labor are showing a growing response to the public interest as they pursue wages and profits.

The President previously had suggested that contract improvements be kept in line with national productivity increases estimated at about 3.2 per cent.

But UAW President Walter Reuther rejected the proposal, contending the boost in the auto industry has been 4.9 per cent. Reuther has indicated he will seek that goal.

★ ★ ★

The talks with the Big Three and American Motors Corp. cover some 600,000 auto workers in the United States. Nationwide three-year pacts with Ford, GM and Chrysler expire Aug. 31.

FORD PLAN

Meanwhile, the UAW indicated it will ask Ford to extend to its 128,000 hourly employes a stock-savings plan the union rejected in the 1955 talks.

At GM, the union presented the fifth of six position papers outlining its 1964 demands. Louis Seaton, GM's chief negotiator, who earlier called the demands "exorbitant" said yesterday that was a "gross understatement."

At Chrysler, the UAW demanded unspecified boosts in supplementary insurance benefits and called for major changes in contract wording concerning the benefits "to make it more understandable to the men in the shop."

12 Are Killed as Truck Hits Race Crowd

BERGERAC, France (AP)—A 15-ton gasoline tank truck missed a curve today and plunged through the guard rail of a bridge where scores of spectators were waiting to watch the Tour of France bicycle race.

At least 12 persons were killed and about 30 were injured.

The truck was following the bicycle race—a three-week marathon that rates as France's biggest sporting event—to supply gas to the police helicopter that keeps a constant survey over the race route.

Frogmen were called out to help the rescue efforts.

Scranton Side in Futile Fight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Drafters labored today over a platform likely to be very acceptable to Sen. Barry Goldwater, who next week will become the GOP presidential nominee unless there is an unforeseen party upheaval.

Supporters of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton have fought a spirited but apparently futile battle to undercut the mountainous delegate strength the Arizona senator's strategists believe will give him the nomination on the first ballot.

In private conversations, Goldwater is said to have estimated that he has a rock bottom 80 votes over the 655 needed for the nomination. He still wants an additional 20 as a "safety pad" for the last-minute assaults expected against his stronghold.

The embattled Scranton forces mounted a two-pronged attack. The Pennsylvania governor told a news conference yesterday there was an unmanageable flood of messages he said that "makes it very clear" that rank-and-file Republicans don't want Goldwater.

He contended this would exert influence on delegates to desert the Arizona senator. But there was no tangible evidence this was happening.

★ ★ ★

LAID GROUNDWORK

Scott laid the groundwork for a direct appeal to next week's convention not to accept a platform with the civil rights and other planks satisfactory to Goldwater. But the Scranton people lost every plank battle in the platform committee.

★ ★ ★

The Arizona senator perhaps previewed his general election campaign intentions when he called on the Republicans to "lead the crusade against tyranny and for freedom."

He made it clear that if he is the nominee, he will mount an all-out attack on President Johnson's foreign and domestic policies.

★ ★ ★

This was when George A. Parker, a Negro delegate from the District of Columbia, asked whether the senator could "consistently, conscientiously and in good faith use the powers and prestige of the presidency to carry out the civil rights law?" Goldwater voted against the measure.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Goldwater said that if elected president he would enforce the civil rights act, and go beyond it in trying to end discrimination.

Latest AP Poll of GOP Votes

Scranton Is Still Far Behind in Final Week

The Associated Press survey of 1,308 delegates to next week's GOP convention showed this first ballot breakdown at the end of the final preconvention week:

| | |
|---|---|
| Goldwater | 728 |
| William W. Scranton | 165 |
| Nelson A. Rockefeller | 102 |
| Henry Cabot Lodge | 45 |
| Margaret Chase Smith | 15 |
| Richard M. Nixon | 1 |
| Favorite sons | 47 |
| Uncommitted | 205 |

Of Sen. Barry Goldwater's total — which is 73 votes more than the 655 required for the nomination if he keeps them — 118 are committed by state primary elections, 257 are instructed by GOP state and district conventions, 80 are personally pledged and 293 favor the senator but are not pledged.

All of Pennsylvania Gov. Scranton's votes are favorable, but not pledged or instructed. He also is expected to draw some — but not necessarily all — of the 102 votes credited to New York's Gov. Rockefeller and the 45 who favor Lodge, the former ambassador to South Viet Nam.

Goldwater's total could spurt upward early next week as various delegations caucus at San Francisco.

★ ★ ★

He has, for instance, 15 known first ballot votes in the Ohio delegation which has been released from its favorite son status by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

★ ★ ★

Most of Michigan's 48 votes are pledged to follow Gov. George W. Romney, either as a favorite son or possibly into Scranton's camp. But at least four Michigan delegates say they will vote for Goldwater regardless of what the rest of the delegation does.

Since jumping into the race June 12, Scranton's first ballot vote total has almost doubled, from 85 to 163. But in the same period Goldwater's strength has risen by 190 votes.

Seven Await Trial in Battle Over Tower

Seven Waterford Township women, arrested yesterday as disorderly persons for allegedly trying to halt construction of a water tower, are free on $100 personal bond awaiting a July 20 jury trial.

Subdivision residents, claiming the tank will injure their property values, have attempted to persuade the township board to locate the tank elsewhere.

★ ★ ★

OTHERS ARRESTED

Others were Mrs. John Ripley, 3812 Embarcadero; Mrs. David Keaggy, 3807 Aquarina; and Mrs. William Beal, 3621 Embarcadero.

Ponder Moves on S. Rhodesia

LONDON (AP) — The Commonwealth summit conference recessed today for private talks that are likely to center on African demands for military force to end white minority rule in Southern Rhodesia.

Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta of Kenya and President Julius Nyerrere of Tanganyika-Zanzibar both proposed Friday that a Commonwealth military force intervene in Southern Rhodesia.

* * *

Commonwealth Relations Secretary Duncan Sandys was expected to reject both suggestions when the 18 government leaders attending the conference resume formal sessions Monday.

As the talks moved into the privacy of smoke-filled rooms, where the real business of the conference is normally transacted, Britain also faced pressure from government chiefs to speed independence for its troubled South American colony of British Guiana.

HIGH POINT

But the bid for military action in Southern Rhodesia marked a high point of the conference.

Kenyatta offered to contribute Kenyan troops to help Britain deal with any white settler rebellion that might arise in erasing the Rhodesian problem.

* * *

Once jailed for leading Kenya's Mau Mau antiwhite terrorists, Kenyatta offered his troops if they could help Southern Rhodesia achieve a one-man one-vote constitution.

Such a constitution would give absolute power to the Africans, who outnumber the 220,000 whites in Southern Rhodesia by more than 10 to 1.

LEGAL RIGHTS

British Prime Minister Alec Douglas-Home, aides said, conceded that Britain has some legal rights to intervene militarily in Southern Rhodesia. But, they added, he insisted that no British government could entertain the idea of British troops fighting British subjects.

A secret discussion on colonial issues before the conference resulted in a delicately worded compromise between the 13 nonwhite and 4 of the white nations of Britain's global union.

* * *

A communique said the nonwhite leaders recognized "the responsibility for the progress of colonial territories to independence must remain with Britain."

The British, with the support of Australia, New Zealand and Canada, undertook "to give careful consideration to the views expressed by their colleagues."

* * *

After noon, police returned and renewed the verbal battle which by now had been joined by Paul Valentino, attorney for the Lake Oakland residents who have been fighting the tower construction.

SPECIFIC CHARGE

Specifically charged with violating section 5 of the township's Disorderly Persons Ordinance, the women were placed in police cars at 1 p.m. and taken to the Waterford station.

Their arraignment followed.

Trucks began moving freely in and out of the site after the arrests.

* * *

CONTINUED WORK

Residents, reportedly irked because the pile driver continued to work Thursday afternoon, blocked the road yesterday morning.

* * *

A show cause hearing on whether the temporary injuction should be continued is set for July 27.

New Mental Health Chief Meets With County Board

Michigan's new state mental health director, Dr. Robert A. Kimmich, met yesterday with Oakland County's Community Mental Health Board, engaging in an informal "questions and answers" session.

Dr. Kimmich, recently appointed by Gov. Romney, is the director of the Michigan Department of Mental Health, the agency that will disperse funds under the state's community mental health act.

* * *

PIONEER COUNTY

Dr. Kimmich said he wanted to visit Oakland County because of "its pioneering situation" in the establishment of community mental health facilities.

He said that the county would be looked to for leadership.

Among the questions was one on the qualifications of local directors and whether they would be administrators or professional psychiatrists.

Dr. Kimmich said that this is one issue that remains to be settled, "The policy on this has not been set yet," he said.

COUNTY DIRECTOR

However, the state director added that he doubted if Oakland County would have any trouble getting a director for its program regardless of the qualifications.

Dr. Kimmich described as "quite feasible" that the heads of departments in local mental health programs would be permitted to engage in private practice as well as do work for the county program.

* * *

In other business yesterday, board members voted to go on record as stating that the county's projected programs would be offered on a contractual basis through existing facilities and also would be directly operated if no facilities exist.

The board set its next meeting for Aug. 7.

making circuit had established him as a treasured, outspoken foe of meddling big government and a champion of a militant, nationalistic foreign policy.

His views on these broad matters, uttered in almost endless variation, gave him his matchless credentials. The majority conservatives in professional status clasped Goldwater to their bosoms.

* * *

Two Goldwater supporters in California's Orange County, a hotbed of Goldwaterism, sharply etched this fact in their response to a Los Angeles speech he made this spring. Said one:

* * *

"I think it would have been better if (actor) Ronald Reagan had talked, and Goldwater had just sat there and nodded."

PLACE SECURE

Clearly, this would not have diminished the senator one whit in their eyes. His place in their hearts is secure.

Having touched the soul of many influential Republicans, having fed them what they wanted to hear, Goldwater found himself possessed of their crucial support in the 1964 fight for the presidential nomination.

These professionals, scattered widely among many levels, took some of the curse of regionalism off the senator's candidacy. They gave solidity and respectability to his effort.

* * *

They were the cement of victory, mortaring the big base on which his decisive June 2 California triumph was laid.

When Illinois Sen. Everett Dirksen plumped for Goldwater that was the capstone. Dirksen's basic instincts are stoutly conservative.

* * *

He had placed his respectable bet on the Arizonan — and in so doing he had signaled the conservative majority among professionals that the time finally was at hand to test for the presidency a man whose voice seemed to come from their own hearts.

Hopefuls Advised on Filing

With various districting plans already upsetting past election procedures, Calhour said a number of candidates face the added responsibility of filing for nomination in Lansing.

This applies to those running in the 80th State House District, the 14th and 17th State Senate districts, 19th Congressional District, and for Circuit Court and Court of Appeals.

All these districts cross county lines, so petitions must be filed by 4 p.m. July 21, at the Secretary of State's elections division office.

* * *

"We're just trying to prevent anyone from coming here to our office at 3 p.m. on deadline day, because they'll never have time to get to Lansing," warned Calhoun.

Congo Hails Tshombe Acts

Diplomats Pessimistic on Solution to Crisis

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (UPI) — Premier Moise Tshombe won cheers from the Congolese people today for lifting a curfew and declaring an amnesty, but diplomats doubted his new government would soon end the political crisis.

* * *

Tshombe, who only 18 months ago was bitterly fighting the central government, lifted an unpopular midnight to 5 a.m. curfew and ordered the release of 600 political prisoners shortly after he was sworn in as the Congo's new premier yesterday.

The cheers began last night when the former Katanga Province leader and his cabinet ministers rode through the African quarter trailed by a convoy of armored cars.

* * *

Tshombe said he intends to visit the Congo interior before making a "triumphal" reentry into Elisabethville, his former seat of power during his unsuccessful two - year war of secession against the United Nations - supported Leopoldville government.

FIRST STOP

The premier's first stop on his tour is expected to be Kivu Province where a Communist-backed rebellion has raged for three months.

Spreading antigovernment revolts in five provinces were a primary reason why President Joseph Kasavubu invited Tshombe home from European exile two weeks ago to form a "government of reconciliation."

Tshombe went to Madrid more than a year ago after his fight to make Katanga Province independent was crushed by the U.N. peace-keeping force and the national army.

* * *

Diplomatic observers believed that the divisions among the Congo's various factions are so deep that reconciliation likely will take more than the six mont Tshombe has set as a deadline for national unity.

NOT HAPPY

The diplomats said former Premier Cyrille Adoula, who resigned last week after heading the government for three years, has indicated he is not happy about the new arrangements.

* * *

Gizenga was political heir to Patrice Lumumba, who was killed while in custody of Tshombe's supporters three years ago.

TIGHT GRIP

While only a short time ago Tshombe was a defeated politician, he now appeared to have a tight grip on the regular reins of government.

* * *

He kept four ministries for himself in addition to the premiership, and assigned his former Katanga strongman Godefroid Munongo as minister of interior, the department that controls the police and civil service minister, a patronage-dispensing post.

Still Hope for Changes on Telegraph Before Fall

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — It may take a little longer and cost considerably more than originally anticipated, but state highway engineers still are expressing hope that safety devices will be installed on Telegraph before the end of the summer.

In letters to township officials yesterday, S. J. Levine, district traffic engineer, gave a progress report on plans which came out of a June 30 meeting between township and highway department representatives.

The meeting was requested by the township after the highway's raised median strip was cited as a factor in two traffic deaths and nine other accidents this year.

* * *

REFLECTORIZED PAINT

Levine said yesterday the edge of the median would be painted with yellow reflectorized paint in the near future. A work order was being prepared for the Oakland County Road Commission, he said.

"Work authorization will be issued to complete the installation of these signs as soon as possible," Levine said.

* * *

Reconstruction of the east side of Telegraph north of Maple for better transition from three to two lanes will take longer. Levine said he originally thought the cost of the project would be between $5,000 and $10,000.

COMPLETE REVIEW

However, a complete review of the area by engineers has indicated the cost will be more like $60,000 and drainage in the area will have to be redesigned.

Levine reported he was "asking our Lansing office to expedite a design for the revision in this area and that we make an effort to complete the work during this construction season."

He did not mention the barrier.

Young Doctor Among Deaths

A young research physician in the field of cancer and leukemia, whose parents live in Bloomfield Township, is among the passengers listed as dead in Thursday's plane crash in the Great Smoky Mountains.

Dr. Robert H. Levin, 30, was en route from Bethesda, Md., to Oak Ridge, Tenn., to deliver a lecture on the two diseases when the accident happened.

A 1959 graduate of the University of Michigan School of Medicine, Dr. Levin and his family had just moved to Orange, Conn. He was on leave of absence from the National Institute of Health in Bethesda to study at Yale University, New Haven, Conn.

* * *

His family said that apparently he went to Bethesda on his way to Oak Ridge to pick up some material to use in his lecture at a hematologists convention there.

'GREAT LOSS'

Dr. Levin's brother, Judson, 34, said, "This is a loss not only to the family but the country as a whole because Robert was in the forefront of research on both cancer and leukemia."

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — A political scientist told a nationalistic wing of Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's Christian Democratic Party today that reunification of Germany now is not a realistic goal.

* * *

Tomorrow, Erhard will take up another challenge to his foreign policy from former chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Strauss, both demanding closer ties with France as a step toward European unity.

As for East Germany, Mann told the convention:

RECONCILIATION

Mann said Germans must work for reconciliation with the Communist countries of Eastern Europe before a discussion could start on whether Germany should regain the borders it had before Adolf Hitler began his conquests.

Mann urged Germans to encourage liberalization within the Communist bloc. He said it might be wise in some years hence to give official recognition to the East German Communist government if that would help liberalization.

FOUGHT PRESSURE

Erhard has resisted the pressure, fearing that identification with the policies of French President Charles de Gaulle will lead West Germany away from its other European allies and the United States.

Strauss opened the party meeting Friday with a proposal for frequent consultations by the heads of the West German and French governments and any other interested European leader.

* * *

Greeted enthusiastically by convention delegates, the plan appears calculated to be acceptable to De Gaulle. It envisions a loose European confederation without the supranational machinery that is opposed by De Gaulle.

LONG ROAD

"It is not a question of glorifying or idealizing De Gaulle's person or policy," Strauss said. "We must recognize the long road he has traveled. We must take him as a fact, and we must reckon on the essential elements of the De Gaulle policy remaining constant elements of French policy."

* * *

Erhard's cabinet, meanwhile, reiterated that West German foreign policy is to seek European union on as broad a basis as possible, rather than in partnership with France alone.

Officials Eye Fight on School Tax Appeal

A fight was predicted yesterday against a precedent-setting tax appeal case that could cost 10 Oakland County school districts a total of $1 million in 1964 tax revenues.

School officials in two of the affected districts — Pontiac and Waterford Township — said they would oppose an appeal by Farmington Township of its tax allocation.

The township has appealed to the State Tax Commission that the uniform rule of taxation was not followed by the County Tax Allocation Board when the 15-mill statutory tax levy was split.

As head of the school district which stands to lose the most — $500,000, Anderson said he would attend a meeting Monday at 9 a. m. of school officials from the affected districts.

JOINT ACTION

Waterford Township Supt. Don O. Tatroe, whose district would lose about $40,000, said he also favored joint action by the school districts.

Meantime, Farmington Township has not yet decided if the tax appeal will be pursued beyond the tax commission decision.

Township Attorney Joseph T. Brennan said that no decision had been reached on the prospect of court action.

The appeal questions a 30-year-old state law that permits variable allocations for school districts on the basis of school accessibility.

SPECIFIC OBJECTION

The school district received a base allocation of 8.23 mills. In addition, it received a variable allocation (40 cents per $1,000 equalized valuation) for its home territory in the township and the city of Farmington.

The township alleges that the failure to levy the 40 cents throughout the school district violates the uniform rule of taxation.

NINE OTHERS

Similar variable allocations are levied by nine other school districts. School men say that if the "basis of accessibility" were disallowed, it would cost the districts $1 million in taxes.

County Corporation Counsel Robert P. Allen also predicted the tax case would end up in court. He thought this would be true regardless of who won before the tax commission.

* * *

Youth Work for Funds

The new piano at Congregation B'nai Israel is the result of more than three years of planning and hard work by the youth group of the synagogue. Advisers are Mrs. David Saks, and Mr. and Mrs. Barney Yagoda.

The purchase of the gift was largely due to the efforts of fund raising chairman Allan Jacobs, according to Roberta Wine, president of the group.

The young people washed cars, sold special candy for the Passover holiday, and key chain bracelets. Other activities were Chanukah toy sales, carnivals for the children and dinner dances.

New advisers will be the Ed Blumenos and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Merkovitz. Jack Bletstein is the outgoing president.

News Briefs From Washington

Industrialist Set Back in Try to Gain Control of Airline

WASHINGTON (AP)—Industrialist Howard Hughes has lost a round in his efforts to regain control of Trans World Airlines.

* * *

The Civil Aeronautics Board Friday refused to permit his Hughes Tool Co. (Toolco) to acquire $62.8 million in TWA sinking fund notes from Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. and the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

The acquisition would have enabled Toolco to regain its 78 per cent controlling shares of TWA, now held in a voting trust.

PUT IN TRUST

Hughes put the shares in the trust before the CAB approved Toolco's control of Northeast Air Lines in 1962. The board said as long as Hughes maintains control of the company, Northeast cannot lawfully resume control of TWA.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has presented the Distinguished Service Medal to Adm. Harry D. Felt for his six years of service as commander in chief of American forces in the Pacific.

Felt is retiring after 44 years in the Navy and Johnson said in a cabinet room ceremony Friday that there is no way to reward him fully for his service.

Secretary of Defense Robert S McNamara noted the admiral displayed outstanding diplomatic and military skills in the crises in Viet Nam, Laos and the Straits of Formosa.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has named Dr. Winston Edward Kock to be director of the electronics research center to be built in the Boston area.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has turned down an appeal signed by some 5,000 college and university professors for neutralization of North and South Viet Nam.

* * *

"Under the present circumstances," the department said, "We see no alternative to our policy of assisting South Viet Nam to the maximum to resist Communist aggression."

May Take Leo Up on Marrigae Offer

MIDDLEBURY, Vt. (AP)— Leo Durocher, 57, still may have a chance to marry the 26-year-old actress-secretary he says he loves and asked to be his wife.

* * *

Her indication of willingness to marry the Los Angeles Dodger baseball coach came during testimony in her father's $150,000 alienation of affections suit against Durocher.

* * *

Miss Morin told the jury that Durocher had proposed marriage in 1961, but that she had refused.

Lt. Gov. Ralph Foote, Durocher's attorney, asked her why.

"Well," she replied, "it takes a girl time to make up her mind. I hadn't come to any decision then."

The daughter testified she went to work for Durocher in 1961 as a secretary.

The bricklayer said he once threatened to punch Durocher's nose.

Durocher "bust my house, bust my family, bust everything," Morin told the court Friday.

Mackie Files Vote Petitions

LANSING (AP)—State Highway Commissioner John Mackie Friday filed more than double the number of signatures needed to qualify as a Democratic aspirant for Congress from the seventh district.

Mackie filed 1,650 signatures with the office of Elections Director Robert Montgomery. He needed only 773 signatures to qualify.
