

FATAL WRECKAGE—This is the wreckage of a Greyhound bus after it smashed into the rear of a tractor-trailer on the fog-shrouded New Jersey turnpike at Kearny this morning, killing two women. Police said the victims were apparently sitting in the front of the bus, which was bound for New York City from Pittsburgh. A total of 65 persons were injured in three major New Jersey mishaps today. Besides the above, two trains collided and another bus was involved in a highway accident.

Fog Triggers 3 Big Mishaps in New Jersey

in Crashes Involving Buses, Trucks, Trains

KEARNY, N.J. (UPI)—

A heavy fog so thick "you could cut it with a knife" triggered three major accidents in New Jersey today, killing two persons and injuring at least 65 others.

Two women were killed and 22 persons were injured near Kearny at 5 a. m. (Pontiac time) when a Greyhound bus en route to New York from Detroit plowed into the rear of a tractor-trailer on the New Jersey turnpike.

Less than three hours later, a packed Erie-Lackawanna train carrying 400 persons struck another commuter train at Rutherford, injuring at least 40 persons.

A short distance away, at East Rutherford, there was a huge pile-up involving another Greyhound bus, two trucks and five cars on Route 3. At least three persons were hurt.

The women killed in the Kearny crash were not identified immediately.

NORTHBOUND LANE

The accident occurred in the northbound lane of the turnpike and it took more than two hours for police to extricate all the injured from the wreckage.

Ten of the injured were admitted to St. James Hospital. All were listed in good condition with cuts and bruises.

Police identified the bus driver as Ted Nichols, 55, Pittsburgh, Pa. The trucker last listed as Dean Algire, 35, Mt. Vernon, Ohio, an employee of the B&E Motor Freight Co. of Newark, Ohio. Both were admitted to the hospital. The bus had made only one stop, in Pittsburgh, after leaving Detroit.

In the train crash, 20 persons were taken to hospitals for X rays, but a railroad spokesman said none was injured seriously. Another 20 persons were treated by a railroad physician.

Defeat Expected

U. N. Debates Peking Seat

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The General Assembly started today its annual debate on the seating of Red China in the United Nations. The proposal is expected to fall short of approval once again.

For the first time since the issue was raised, the resolution to seat Peking and oust Nationalist China is not being sponsored by the Soviet Union, which is embroiled in an ideological dispute with Red China. The Soviet Union will back the proposal, however.

Albania, the only European

Communist country siding with Red China in the Communist family fight, put the China question on the U.N. agenda this year. Albanian chief delegate Halim Budo introduced the resolution formally before the 111-member General Assembly this afternoon.

All other Communist and some nonaligned countries were expected to speak for the resolution. Nationalist China, the United States, Costa Rica, Guatemala and others were expected to speak against it.

The Soviet Union still says that Communist China has a right to be seated in the United Nations even though the two Communist giants are at odds. India also has continued to support the cause of Peking's membership despite the Chinese invasion of Northern India last year.

The Albanian resolution is expected to be voted down Wednesday. One diplomat speculated that it would get fewer favorable votes than last year and there would be more abstentions because of Peking's refusal to sign the limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

Last year's vote was 42 for the resolution, 56 against it and 12 abstaining.

Albania's resolution calls for the immediate removal of "the representatives of Chiang Kai-shek... from all United Nations organs" and an invitation to "the government of the People's Republic of China to send representatives to occupy China's place in the United Nations and all its organs."

Diplomatic sources said Albania had tried in vain to get several Arab and African countries to join her in sponsoring the resolution.

Navy Secretary Resigns; Defense Aide Successor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth, who last week protested against a tentative Pentagon decision to deny the Navy more nuclear-powered aircraft carriers, is resigning and will be succeeded by Paul Nitze, now an assistant secretary of defense.

The White House said today that President Kennedy accepted ed Korth's resignation on Saturday. The resignation will take effect Nov. 1.

In a letter to Kennedy dated Friday, Korth said he was submitting his resignation "with the utmost regret so that I may return to private business and attend to my pressing private affairs."

Earlier last week, Korth persuaded Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to delay a decision against placing nuclear-power plants in planned super-carriers.

McNamara agreed to delay the decision so Korth could present additional arguments in favor of nuclear engines for the carriers.

There was no indication in the exchange of letters between Kennedy and Korth that the policy dispute between the Navy and McNamara was a factor in Korth's resignation.

NO CONNECTION
White House sources also said there was no connection between the resignation and the controversial TFX fighter plane contract.

Korth has been secretary of the Navy since December 1961. Before coming to Washington, he was president of a bank at Fort Worth, Tex.

It was Korth's connection with the bank that gave rise to inquiries in Congress whether he might be involved in a conflict of interest in the controversial award of a potential multi-billion-dollar contract for the TFX fighter bomber to General Dynamics Corp., which has a plant in Fort Worth.

The bank once made a loan to General Dynamics before Korth came to Washington. The Justice Department investigated and on Sept. 27 cleared Korth of any possible conflict of interest.

Nitze, 56, has been assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs since the start of the administration.

When Nitze becomes secretary of the Navy, he will be succeeded as assistant secretary by his deputy, William P. Bundy, who has been at the Pentagon since 1961.

Korth, in his letter of resignation, said he wanted to assure Kennedy "of my highest esteem." He added that he was resigning with great regret for what he described as "urgent reasons."

Sit-In Case Is Ordered Reviewed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court directed South Carolina courts today to reconsider the breach of peace convictions of 65 Negroes arrested while demonstrating against racial segregation at Rock Hill, S.C.

The order came as the court began hearing two days of arguments in five sit-in cases that may bring far-reaching rulings in the court's 1963-64 session on this question:

Can private businessmen who want to operate segregated establishments invoke state trespass laws to back up their exclusion of Negroes?

The issue is presented in cases the court agreed at its last term would be considered and set for argument this fall.

The order as to the Rock Hill Negroes was one of more than 500 issued by the high court in acting on the many petitions which piled up during its summer recess.

Among others which touched on the racial issue, the court: —Rejected an appeal by Clement College, and thus let stand a lower court decision that the suit resulting in admission last year of the first Negro to Clemson was a class action affecting all Negroes similarly situated.

—Agreed to hear an appeal by the National Association of Colored People from an Alabama state court injunction barring it from conducting intrastate business in Alabama.

—Denied a hearing to 11 property owners in Savannah, Ga., who lost in lower federal courts their litigation to prevent establishment of a Negro school in their white neighborhood. —Refused to review, and thus let stand, a decision won by the Congress of Racial Equality in lighting an injunction issued against it in relation to demonstrations in McComb City, Miss.

Poll Indicates JFK Can Beat Any Opponent

'11 Million Backers of Dick Nixon in '60
Switch Allegiance'

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy can be expected to defeat any Republican by about 4½-million popular votes in next year's presidential election, says Newsweek magazine.

The magazine said a poll showed that Kennedy has the support for various reasons, of some 6½ million Americans who voted for him in 1960. But it also showed he has gained the backing of 11 million persons who voted for Republican Richard M. Nixon in that election.

NET GAIN

The net gain of 4½ million votes, Newsweek said, means Kennedy can be expected to defeat any Republican by that many votes next year.

Two out of three Southern whites told Newsweek they believed Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., stands with the south on civil rights.

The magazine said Goldwater is the main beneficiary of the Southern hostility toward the President.

LEADS KENNEDY

As a prospective GOP presidential candidate, Goldwater leads Kennedy in the 11 solid Southern states by 46 per cent to 43 per cent, with 11 per cent undecided, the poll showed.

With the exception of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, other proposed Republican candidates also ran well against Kennedy in the poll.

Crash of NY Copter Claims Lives of 6

NEW YORK (AP)—A passenger helicopter, apparently ripped by an explosion shortly after it took off, crashed in flames at Idlewild field today, killing six persons.

It was one of a New York Airways fleet that shuttles passengers between Manhattan and Metropolitan.

A company spokesman said the dead were three passengers, and three crewmen. Police, however, listed the victims as four crewmen, and two passengers and said one crew member escaped.

Fire streamed from the helicopter as it plummeted to the ground, and shattered into a mass of rubble.

The spot was near Cargo Building B1, and in plain sight of the busy American Airlines terminal building, near the center of the sprawling airport.

Bodies, wrapped in blankets, were removed as fire-fighters beat out flames that swept the wreckage and spread in the tall grass surrounding the scene.

The crash came shortly after noon. The fire department said the helicopter exploded as it climbed away from the field, setting it afire.

The twin-engine, twin-rotor craft, a Boeing Vertol 107-B, is one of four operated by New York Airways. It can carry up to 25 passengers.

COUNT UNCERTAIN

How many were aboard at the time was not immediately certain. Normally such crafts carry three crewmen.

Hoffa to Ask Health Center for Teamsters

Dental, Optical Unit
Will Be Among New Contract Demands

DETROIT (AP)—Teamster President James R. Hoffa says his next contract demand will be for a $1-million dental and optical care center to be erected and maintained by management.

The center and an increase in pension benefits will be among contract demands next month. Hoffa told members of his home Local 299 yesterday.

Also on the agenda is a fight for a shortened work week and a return to the ranks of the AFL-CIO, from which the giant Teamsters Union was expelled.

The union leader said plans already have been formulated for the construction of the center. The union, he said, is thinking of purchasing an entire city block for the clinic. But, he added later, it might be constructed above parking lots next to Teamster headquarters.

He said the cost of the project would mean an extra $3 weekly in fringe benefits under new contracts. Current contracts, due to expire next Feb. 1, call for employer contributions of $4.50 weekly per man to the union's health and welfare fund.

SHORTER WEEK

The fight for a shorter work week — 35 and ultimately 32 hours — will be conducted in congress, he said, adding that the matter is national in scope.

"It is only a matter of time until the Teamsters are back in the AFL-CIO," Hoffa added. "Nobody, including (AFL-CIO President) George Meany is big enough to keep us out."

"I think Meany is too old to remain in the labor movement as an active leader anyway. He can't think on his feet and he gets confused. I personally believe Walter Reuther is the logical man to head up the AFL-CIO."

5-Day Forecast Remains Same; Mild, Pleasant

The autumn you saw this weekend is going to stay about the same for the next five days — brisk and radiant.

Temperatures will average five to seven degrees above the normal highs of 63 and lows of 44 with generally mild to warm days.

Tonight's low will be 46, tomorrow's, high 78.

There will be little or no precipitation except possible scattered showers tomorrow night or Wednesday.

The lowest temperature before 8 a.m. today was 67. By 2 p.m., it had risen to 67.

Berlin Trucks Moving Again

BERLIN (UPI) — A U.S. Army convoy rolled from Berlin to West Germany today, cleared speedily by Soviet guards outside Berlin at the checkpoint where another convoy was held up for 33 hours last week.

No trouble was expected at the second Soviet checkpoint at the West German border, where last week's blocked convoy spent another 19 hours.

The 141 soldiers in the 26-vehicle U.S. convoy dismantled for a head count by Russian Russian control officers at Babelsberg on the West Berlin end of the 110-mile highway to West Germany.

The difference was the size of the convoy. The United States permits its men to dismount and be counted voluntarily when the convoy is large, but insists that they be counted in their vehicles when it is small.

Last week, there were 61 men — by U.S. standards, a "small" convoy, but apparently by Soviet standards a large one, because they held it up for two days in a vain attempt to force the men to dismount.

Today's convoy was large enough to dispel any doubt — 149 men in 26 vehicles.

Informed sources said there was no intention of holding off troop movements to and from Berlin, which are guaranteed under four-power agreement.

Car Crashes Into Tractor; Five Injured

Five persons were injured early yesterday morning when a car smashed into the rear of a farm tractor on Auburn Road in Avon Township.

All are in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Injured were the driver of the car, Clyde F. Ballard, 38, of 2840 Edward, Madison Heights, and his passengers, Marion Calvert, 35, and Hugh Clark, 42, both of Pontiac.

On the tractor were Paul B. Crane, 16, of 1025 Washington, and Cecil A. Schelke, 16, of 1071 E. Tienken, both of Avon Township.

The accident occurred at 12:20 a.m. just west of Wallbridge.

Quints Celebrating 1-Month Birthday

ABERDEEN, S. D. (UPI) — The proud city of Aberdeen celebrated the one-month "birthday" of the Fischer quintuplets today, but the doctor who brought the famous five into the world had to pass up the big parade.

Dr. James Berbas said he would be tied up with major surgery at the time of the parade.

An estimated 50,000 persons, including most of Aberdeen's 24,000 residents, were on hand for the start of festivities.

Panic Grips Flood Workers

False Alarms Cause Rumor of New Slide

BELLUNO, Italy (UPI) — False alarms of new landslides today caused panic among survivors of the Vajont Dam disaster that killed an estimated 3,000 persons last week.

The warnings sent people scrambling uphill, seeking to escape what they feared was another killer wave. Some villagers collapsed from fatigue on the hillsides.

Some old men and women, unable to run, knelt on the roadside and prayed.

As the civilians scattered, soldiers and other rescue workers stuck to their tasks in the narrow, deep valley devastated by the wall of water five days ago.

ROCK CASCADE

There was almost a steady cascade of rocks and dirt tumbling down the side of Mount Toc, but none of the officials at the scene could say whether a new landslide definitely was threatened.

Some survivors were returning to their wrecked homes. From the air, some could be seen picking through the ruins.

There were a few automobiles moving around in the villages of Casso and Erto.

Air Force headquarters in Verona said American helicopters had taken almost all of the people out of both towns, making more than 100 trips ending yesterday.

Army officers were doing their best to explain to the survivors and soldiers that even if another slide did come, it would not endanger those working below.

Fire Suicide Takes Life of Viet Woman

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — An ailing woman burned herself to death in a Saigon apartment over the weekend, and a man attempted to commit suicide by fire in a public market but was stopped by police, official sources reported today.

Police said the woman's suicide apparently had no political motive. She was identified as Truong Thi Dieu, about 60, a former school teacher. They said she had been in poor health.

Earlier, police said she had made previous attempts at suicide.

Police sources said a man whom they did not identify tried to set fire to his gasoline-soaked clothing yesterday at the An Dong market in the Chinese section of Saigon.

Tension in Saigon mounted, and reports of new political arrests continued security officials believe the coming visit of a U.N. investigation team will spark demonstrations and violence throughout the country.

The U.N. team is to investigate charges that the government has persecuted Buddhists.

Sources said the parties would make one more effort to bring about to another Soviet-Chinese meeting to try and resolve the dispute.

Such a meeting, however, is likely to be as unsuccessful as last summer's ideological talks here.

If this last attempt breaks down, the sources said, a call will be issued for a final meeting of the world's 88 Communist parties to take up the question of China's expulsion.

Western observers calculate that the Soviets have the support of at least 72 of these parties.

CREATE RIVAL But expulsion of Peking would be bound to create a rival international, headed by China and containing its supporters—including at least North Korea, North Viet Nam, Albania, and the Japanese Communist party.

AT TESTIMONIAL DINNER—Dr. and Mrs. S. M. Edwards of Liberty Baptist Church (at rear) as they arrived for the testimonial dinner in their honor Saturday evening in Jefferson Junior High School. Toastmaster Allan D. Noble smiles at guests seated at the banquet tables.

City, Church Honor Departing Minister

By MARY ANGLEMIER, Church Editor

The city of Pontiac paid tribute to two of its well-known citizens, Dr. and Mrs. S. M. Edwards, in a testimonial dinner at Jefferson Junior High School Saturday evening.

The congregation of Newman A.M.E. Church, where Dr. Parker served as pastor for 20 years, joined with the community in sponsoring the event.

Dr. Parker leaves his post in Pontiac to become presiding elder for the Indiana Conference. He will have under his jurisdiction some 30 churches in the northern half of the state, including Indianapolis.

Men of the Newman Church Ushers Club, wearing blue white jackets, served the 400 guests seated at tables for six. Arrangements of gold and bronze baby chrysanthemums and brilliant red sumac leaves centered the tables.

Laughter and a bit of sadness tinged the two-minute talks of community leaders, friends and neighbors as they recalled pleasant happenings over the years and asked God's blessing on the Parkers' future undertaking.

Rev. Robert W. Hoover, assistant pastor of the Newman Church, spoke of the many young couples Dr. Parker had married, of the baptisms and his great interest in children.

He also spoke of how Dr. Parker had helped young people and older folks over rough places.

"No one could have served so well unless he had depended on God for strength," were Pastor Hoover's comments.

OTHER NOTABLES

Bringing greetings from the Oakland County Ministerial Association was Rev. S. M. Edwards. Rev. Wayne Brookshorn of St. Luke's Methodist Church represented the Pontiac Pastors' Association. City Commissioner Milton Henry and Dr. Howard McNeil, a former city commissioner, also spoke.

Called on for brief remarks were Charles Harris, president of Pontiac Area Urban League; Dr. Walter Godsell, president of the Pontiac Board of Education; and Mary Anglemier, church editor of The Pontiac Press.

Patricia Kiel and Mrs. Roy Cummings presented vocal solos accompanied by Mrs. Sarah Moore.

Other speakers were Lynn Hoyle of Oakland County NAACP, Rev. Walter Rowe of Antioch Baptist Church, and William Watkins, grand chancellor of the State of Michigan, Knights of Pythias.

Presentations were made by Leon Hubbard of the Rema Club; Mrs. Lena Holmes, grand worthy matron of Court of G. L. and Rev. Mr. Edwards of the Brotherhood Club.

Toastmaster Allen D. Noble introduced Rev. and Mrs. Arlong N. Reid, the new pastor and his wife.

Dr. Parker responded to the presentation from his congregation by Clifford Milburn.

"With a heart filled with gratitude and a humble spirit," he said, "I say thank you very much. I'm sorry to leave this congregation which I love. We have our new church, and I'm hoping you will build a youth center."

'REMEMBER FAITH'

Dr. Parker went on to say he felt he had done some good here, and asked his friends and congregation to remember him with their faith but for his faith and aspirations.

The Newman Youth Choir and citywide Choir sang several selections.

Toastmaster Noble closed the dinner. "I have known Dr. Parker many years. He is the living exemplification of what he preaches. This testimonial dinner is well deserved."

Rev. William Long gave the invocation and Rev. Roy Cummings pronounced the benediction.

Mrs. Vera D. Devor and Conklin Bray were co-honorees.

Dr. and Mrs. Parker and children, Soudane and Jacobium, will make their home at 1949 Willard, Gary, Ind. One of the two older sons, Joseph Jr., will remain in social service here. Toussaint is with the U.S. Air Force in California.

Murder Trial Set to Resume

The second-degree murder trial of Jefferson L. Moreau, 36, of 238 Franklin is scheduled to resume tomorrow at 9 a. m. before Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Taking the stand in his own defense Friday, Moreau claimed he struck Theodore Montgomery, 44, of 877 Fildew in self defense.

Moreau said Montgomery attacked him with a knife during an argument over the use of a pay phone at the corner of Lothar and Franklin May 5.

Montgomery died June 18 at Pontiac General Hospital of head wounds inflicted with a 2-by-4 board.

Four witnesses Friday said they didn't see the victim attack Moreau with a knife, although police later found an open pocketknife near the felled victim.

Public Hearing Tonight to Air Zoning Request

BIRMINGHAM — A request for rezoning to permit construction of additional shopping facilities on the east side of Southfield north of 14 Mile will be considered at a public hearing tonight.

Owner Frederic K. Graef, who petitioned for the change from non retail business to neighborhood business, claims he has been unable to find prospective tenants for an office building there.

Graef has owned the four lots in question for 10 years. He wants to construct a building containing four or five business units on the undeveloped property.

The Birmingham Planning Board has recommended that the rezoning be approved.

RESIDENTS OBJECT However, residents of the area notably those in the Birmingham Crestview Subdivision Association, have objected to the alteration.

They are arguing that the change would depreciate abutting properties substantially and increase traffic and congestion in an area already carrying more than its share of traffic.

The residents have also stated that they feel no need for additional retail development in the area.

Hearing Set for Man in Rape Case

A preliminary examination for a Pontiac man charged with rape will be held Wednesday in Bloomfield Township Justice Court.

Louis Milton Jr., 31, of 404 Bagley was accused Saturday after a Bloomfield Township woman said he was the man who raped her April 13.

Milton was arrested after leading police on a chase in the area of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Saturday morning.

TRAFFIC AMOUNT

Both of the uses in question would bring equal amounts of traffic, one to services and the other to goods, according to the board which sees no traffic problem in the area now.

The board also pointed out in its recommendation that other neighborhood shopping districts are more extensive than this one.

The first request for rezoning of the four lots was made in 1957 shortly after the original zoning ordinance was adopted.

Ervin V. Billings

Service for Ervin V. Billings, 64, of 1100 N. Adams will be 1 p.m. Wednesday at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, Pontiac, with burial in Pigeon.

Mr. Billings, manager of the Adams Court Apartments, died yesterday after a brief illness.

He was a member of Local No. 249 of the Painters Union. Surviving are his wife, Violet; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Billings of D'Arcy, Canada; two sisters; and two brothers.

Firm Founder Expires at 78

A member of Central Methodist Church, Waterford Township, Mr. Beardslee lived at 725 E. Square Lake, Bloomfield Township.

He belonged to Pontiac Lodge No. 21, F. & M. and the Pontiac White Shrine.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Donald S. Brownlee of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. John S. Malcolm of Grosse Pointe; two brothers, Elmer of West Branch and Cassius of Milford; and two grandchildren.

Service will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at Mr. Beardslee's home, with burial following in Franklin Cemetery. His body will be at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, Pontiac, until tomorrow.

Crash Hurts Area Man

A Union Lake man is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital after being injured last night when his car overturned at Cooley Lake and Carrol Lake roads in White Lake Township.

Stewart G. Lindsey, 31, of 1406 Caprice suffered an injury to his shoulder and scalp cuts in the 9:27 p.m. accident.

Lindsey told a sheriff's deputy his car rolled over when he tried to corner a curve after his brakes failed.

stow of strength in the state has been impressed on Goldwater and his strategists. Illinois, which went for President Kennedy in 1960, offers the senator his best opportunity to demonstrate vote-getting ability in a big state.

Some of his lieutenants think Illinois could provide the vital convention votes he needs to combine with support from the South, other areas of the Midwest and the Far West to win the nomination.

Goldwater has said he expects his name to be entered in the March 10 New Hampshire primary, where his consent is not required. Petitions could be filed by the end of January for the race. He is likely to be opposed by New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in a battle for the state's 14 convention votes.

If Goldwater announces he is an active candidate, he seems almost certain to enter the April 7 Wisconsin primary.

Republicans there have been talking about a favorite son candidate. Goldwater has said that if he runs he will take on any such candidate in a bid for the state's 30 convention votes.

Avon to Decide on Zoning

AVON TOWNSHIP — The question of multiple dwellings here will be decided — at least for the present — at Wednesday's meeting of the zoning board.

On the agenda is the requested rezoning of a 5.5-acre parcel on Walton, where the College Park Development Co. hopes to erect six $80,000 eight-family apartment buildings.

At last month's meeting of the board, some 225 residents were on hand to hear discussion of the controversial issue. Most were opposed to the rezoning and the apartments.

Kenneth Shampo, a Warren attorney, spoke on behalf of the majority of residents present. He handed over petitions which, he said, contained names of 870 township people who oppose the rezoning.

NO MASTER PLAN
Among the points Shampo brought against the issue were that no master plan was available in the township yet, and thus the area was not ready for multiple dwelling.

The attorney also said the class of homes in the area does not create a "situation in which multiple dwellings belong."

Other reasons brought out at the session for opposing the change were that it would destroy the "country atmosphere" of the community and add students to the "already crowded schools."

Angry residents also said the rezoning would open the door to many other apartment buildings.

Sidney Weinberger, head of the College Park Development

Co., said his apartments would "upgrade the area and also make available sewage and water for Spring Hill subdivisions 1 and 2."

Township planners Villan-Leman Associates, Southfield, recommended the multiple dwelling in lieu of commercial on the property opposite Brewster.

The planners contend the apartments would provide fewer students than homes would. The units also would offer 5 to 10 times the tax base and act as a good buffer zone between Walton and houses behind the apartment complex, they said.

Villan-Leman also maintains that the okaying of Weinberger's request does not open the door to other builders, as each case is treated individually.

PROS AND CONS

Zoning Board Chairman Jack Fetterly adjourned last month's meeting after hearing 46 minutes of pros and cons on the proposed two-story colonial apartments.

At Wednesday's session, which begins at 7:30 p.m. in the township hall, no further discussion of the issue is expected.

Fetterly said Wednesday's meeting is not a continuation of last month's hearing, but rather the time when the board will reveal its decision on the controversy.

Antitax Unit Planning to Reorganize

DETROIT (UPI) — Plans have been announced for a reorganization of the Vigilance Tax Committee (VTC) so the group can intensify its fight to outlaw city income taxes on nonresidents.

Details of the reorganization will be disclosed Friday at a meeting in the Livonia City Hall, according to Berkeley Mayor George Kahn, who also serves as chairman of the committee.

Kahn and his group have been waged in a long struggle to outlaw income taxes on nonresidents who work in Detroit and the suburb of Hamtramck, both which have similar measures.

"We want to organize in case we are in for a longer battle," Kahn said.

DEALT SETBACK

The group was dealt a setback last week when the State Supreme Court refused a plea to order Secretary of State James M. Hare to immediately forward petitions seeking to outlaw the tax.

The petitions were collected in a statewide drive sponsored by the VTC. The petitions, with more than 240,000 signatures, were delivered to Hare two months ago.

The petitions were ordered returned to the committee when State Attorney General Frank Kelley ruled that they should have been submitted to county clerks first.

Kahn said Rep. William Hayward, R-Royal Oak, will introduce a resolution tomorrow night in the House requesting that the legislature accept the petitions.

If this fails, the group will have to wait until January 1964 to submit the petitions to the regular session of the legislature.

St. Marys in Orion Sets Turkey Dinner

ORION TOWNSHIP — A turkey dinner with added attractions will be offered Saturday at St. Marys-in-the-Hills Episcopal Church Saturday, beginning at 5:30 p.m.

In addition to the banquet, candles, honey, candy and an assortment of gifts and books will be on sale at booths sponsored by the various church organizations.

The variety sale, to be in the church undercroft, will begin at 4:30 p.m. Among the groups sponsoring booths are the Sunday School, choir and women's guilds.

Ladies of the parish will contribute most of the items to be sold at the event, according to George Bailey, St. Mary's' junior warden and fair chairman.

The church is located at the corner of Joyn and Green-shield. The fair is open to the public.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Donna Levick Wed to Gary L. Singles

MRS. GARY L. SINGLES

ROCHESTER — Wearing a gown and veil hand made by her mother, Donna Jean Levick became the bride of Gary L. Singles in Saturday evening rites at St. Paul's Methodist Church.

The gown of French imported Chantilly lace featured a fitted bodice and long, tapered sleeves bound in satin and a full skirt that ended in a chapel sweep.

A crown of iridescent sequins and pearls held the bouquet of French lilies. The bridal bouquet was comprised of Stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John C. Levick, 750 Willard; Lyle Singles, Lake Orion; and Mrs. Ethel Singles, 118 Helen.

ATTENDANTS

Janice Singles, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Jacqueline Levick, sister of the bride, and her cousin, Susan Lee Scott of Grosse Pointe Farms.

Serving as best man was Jerry McCotter of Romeo. The guests were seated by Larry Miank of Romulus, cousin of the bride, Terry Johnson and William Wendell.

Flower girls were Elizabeth and Carol Ratz of Redford, nieces of the bride. Gregory Levick, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

After a reception in Walt Hall, the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to New York City.

Will Hold Fall Dance

CLARKSTON — The Clarkston Gardens Subdivision Improvement Association will hold its fall dance Saturday at Waterbury Township's Community Activities, Inc., building.

Designated "Autumn Haze," the dance will begin at 8:30 p.m. The Billy Kaye 4's will provide the music.

Meal to Celebrate E. Orion Harvest

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — The East Orion Farm Bureau's annual Harvest Dinner will be held from 5 to 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Oakland Township Hall, 4393 Collins.

Baked ham with all the trimmings is featured on the menu. Tickets may be purchased at the door or by contacting Henry Ford 7, 390 W. Gunn.

Music provided by Grinnell Bros., Pontiac, and a pumpkin sale by the East Orion 4-H Club, will accompany the banquet. Hosts for the evening are Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Foster.

MARRIED — Nancy Mae Griffith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Griffith of Hedy, became the bride Saturday of Stephen Lee Van Wagener, son of Chief Warrant Officer and Mrs. J. M. Van Wagener of Lapeer. The ceremony was performed in Trinity Methodist Church of Lapeer.

State Pile-Ups Traced to Fog

Monroe Sees 13-Car Crash; Several Hurt

By United Press International
Heavy, pea-soup thick fog caused a rash of accidents around Michigan late yesterday and early today including a spectacular 13-vehicle pile-up in Monroe.

Monroe police said 13 cars and three trucks piled up bumper to bumper in a chain reaction late last night on the Elm Street exit of the Detroit-Toledo expressway.

Several persons were reported injured and were taken to local hospitals. No one was reported killed in the accident.

Police said visibility was "absolutely zero" on portions of the expressway and every available man was pressed into service to avoid a similar pile-up.

A six-mile section of the I-94 freeway was closed from Parma to the Jackson-Calhoun County lines because of the heavy fog. State police said the section remained closed until the daylight hours.

Traffic was being rerouted to avoid heavy congestion on the main lines.

The session is slated to begin at 2 p.m.

In addition to his talk, Freeman will devote some of his time to answering questions from the audience.

Hart Notes Progress of Cuban Refugees

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A check on progress of a Cuban refugee resettlement program brought Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., chairman of the Senate Judiciary subcommittee on refugees and escapees, to Calvin College here today.

The hearing seeks to determine how well the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare's Cuban resettlement program is faring.

A second hearing is scheduled tentatively for Nov. 9 at Minneapolis, Minn.

Grand Rapids was selected for the first session since it is the only Michigan community to accept Cuban refugees as a community resettlement project.

Approximately 100 Cubans are sponsored in the resettlement by the Christian Reformed Church since the first arrival of 22 families May 29, 1962. Grand Rapids was one of eight cities serving as resettlement and processing centers.

Quiz Asked on Vegas Gambling

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., wants to question underworld informer Joseph Valachi about crime and gangland connections in the Las Vegas, Nev., gambling center. Javits, a member of the Senate Investigations subcommittee that heard Valachi last week, said yesterday he thought there was "a big story in Las Vegas" and Valachi knew far more than he had testified in public about the gambling cities.

OTHER CITIES

The investigations subcommittee, with Valachi temporarily excused as a witness, plans to take testimony starting tomorrow on crime in Tampa, Fla., Buffalo, N.Y., and Boston.

Javits said he would try to get more information from Valachi on Las Vegas when the subcommittee resumes questioning the Cosa Nostra alumnus in closed sessions.

Valachi said in his public testimony that he believed imprisoned Cosa Nostra boss Vito Genovese still had gambling interests in Las Vegas with racketeer Meyer Lansky.

Javits said on a television program that Valachi's appearances before the Senate group had been sensationalized somewhat but that, after all, some of his disclosures had been "pretty sensational."

The New York senator pointed out that the hearings had two purposes — to win public support for law enforcement officers and to consider the need for wire-tap and other legislation to crack down on crime.

Catholic Leader Dies

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Charles N. Pope, 62, supreme president of the Catholic Knights of America since 1946, died Saturday, apparently of a heart attack. He was born in Morrison, Mo.

...So you see, Mother, I can 'boil water'!

Considering that the bride "couldn't boil water" a few months ago, baking six layer cakes for the church dinner is quite a feat. It's big enough news to make a Long Distance phone call to Mother and the family back home. Little things are always big news to those who love you. LONG DISTANCE IS THE NEXT BEST THING TO BEING THERE.

Why not call tonight? A station-to-station call costs less than a "person" call. And it goes through faster, especially when you dial it yourself.

Assortment of Foreign Items Divulged at U. N. Briefing

A day at the World Affairs Center of the Foreign Policy Association at the United Nations brings a veritable potpourri of conclusions, deductions and speculations. Several dozen citizens scattered from coast to coast hear these thoughtful briefings once a week during the fall.

I will set down for your consideration a few dissociated items that might intrigue you the most.

The Russians aren't at all anxious to urge the U.N. memberships of their "Communist ally." Once the Reds howled to the heavens and soundly berated those who lined up against Red China. Now the Soviets are delightfully apathetic, and their fumbling, stumbling reversal brings nothing but a sardonic smirk. There isn't a chance in the world that the Chinese Reds will be seated for an indefinite period. Remember, extending them the right hand of fellowship means expelling Nationalist China.

Venezuela is the Number One objective of FIDEL CASTRO at the moment. The Kremlin bosses pointed his fiery Cuban nose in that direction, booted him vigorously in the seat of his one-time Castilian trousers and said: "Onward me hearty."

When the United Nations was started, there were 51 members. Today there are 111.

One of the greatest tragedies in all world affairs is the tremendous spread between the "haves" and the "have nots." Citizens of North America simply can't conceive of the enormous gap that exists. Here nearly everyone possesses daily newspapers, TV sets, airplane trips, beautiful homes, parks and more importantly than all—plenty to eat and a comfortable bed.

The greatest correction for this condition lies in communications; and newspapers are especially prepared to carry the burden. In many places, serfs and virtual slaves are unaware that the economic status of U.S. can provide such a wonderful existence for those humble attainments. The over-all total of this condition may well constitute the greatest deficiency of current existence. For the first time in history, the twentieth century finds that we have hope of ultimately raising everyone to a level that is somewhat comparable to our own. But it's way down the road.

The United Nations is working steadily and encouragingly on wiping out preventable diseases. A small handful of the most enlightened nations have met this situation long since, but billions are subject to all manner of unnecessary ailments. The United Nations is appreciably raising the standard of global health.

Population control is another matter receiving study and attention. Too many areas are producing too many people without adequate living possibilities. The U.N. is making progress here, too.

Ambassador WILLIAM ATTWOOD, U.N. Ambassador, is a staunch ally and supporter of President KENNEDY and is warm in his praise of the White House leadership.

Key issues before the U.N. General Assembly include:

Prohibition of atomic weapons; disarmament; conversion of war utilities to peaceful pursuits; study of atomic radiation; peaceful uses of atomic energy and outer space; U.N. in the Congo and Middle East and U.N. budgets.

And in conclusion, I give you the words of ADLAI STEVENSON who sums up the world situation today with this succinct and illuminating weather report: "Fair and warmer—with a chance of intermittent showers (Africa)."

★ ★ ★ GOP Candidate . . .

You may be surprised at some "inside inklings" from newspaper circles in New York. All of the Empire State GOP hierarchy isn't prostrate before Gov. ROCKEFELLER as the next GOP candidate. One group is quietly resurrecting RICHARD NIXON. Remember, RICHARD was only beaten by a small cat's tiny whisker and some insist he was jobbed out of the Presidency by dubious counting.

Mr. Nixon is eminently qualified but circumstances and the eternal fitness of things suggest another name and another face—even if it isn't as handsome or as well qualified. Mr. Nixon is erecting no barriers to his own candidacy.

★ ★ ★ And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Here's the newest: a gadget attached to your car which puts the windows up if it starts to rain when you're not there. . . . A pal just told me about the League Against Obnoxious Commercials on TV which issues bulletins listing the Terrible Ten and the Decent Few. He asked me to subscribe $1 but I disgorged $1.50. . . . Overheard: "Men may have their pictures on money but women have their hands on it." . . . A Frisco mailman wearied of the nicks and bites he sustained from ill-mannered pups and bought a police dog that accompanies him on his route and actually yearns for battle.

I can't prove it but I'll bet a sugar cookie Dwight D. Eisenhower will never run for the Vice presidency as delicately suggested by a neighboring print . . . Purely personal nomination for an especially attractive young lady, Carol Jo Walker (age eleven) . . . Sen. Barry Goldwater flies every-thing up to and including a jet. In the summer he bought a twin engine plane that's the hottest thing off the assembly line . . . Overheard: "I'd have been a rich guy today if she hadn't married someone else." . . . Sonny Liston hit an all-time low in the Ed Sullivan show and that tub of feminine lard that followed ranks next.

Dept. of Dubious Driving: that lady on Telegraph Sunday who had her back window completely blocked by a huge package. . . . Insider's Newsletter says air lines are training colored girls for hostesses and will put them on Northern runs paired with current girls. . . . One of the first casualties on the new fall TV shows was "100 Grand" which folded after three performances. That was too many. . . . Overheard: "The old-time mother used to wonder where her boy was and now the grandson wonders where mother is." . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—our own Harry Reed, nominated for the AP Managing Editor group; and our Ed Noble, just named trustee Michigan Press Photographers Assn.; the J's—the Russians in West Germany.

'I'll Trade Ya Headaches Any Time'

David Lawrence Says:

Bureaucracy Hampers Kremlin

WASHINGTON — When the Soviet troops blocked United States armored units on the way to West Berlin a few days ago and suddenly increased tension, there were two schools of thought here.

One was that the step was a deliberately undertaken in LAWRENCE Moscow to warm up the Cold War — an alleged act of duplicity.

The other view, which this writer shared, was that the episode arose because in the heavy bureaucracy in Moscow the left hand doesn't know what the right hand is doing.

The whole thing was apparently the result of the cumbersome and clumsy methods of handling the relations between the army and the policy-making committees in the Kremlin.

For it was hardly plausible that, while Foreign Minister Gromyko was in Washington conferring with President Kennedy about improving relations between the two governments, anybody high up in the Soviet government would choose this very time to bring about a new crisis over the routine passage of United States armored cars and troops to Berlin.

It will be recalled that Mr. Gromyko was caught in a somewhat similar dilemma when he was at the White House last October during the very week that the crisis over Soviet missile bases in Cuba was shaping up. He undertook then to deny flatly what later became public knowledge of the missiles.

DIDN'T KNOW
Since that episode, there have been intimations that Mr. Gromyko runs paired with current girls. . . . One of the first casualties on the new fall TV shows was "100 Grand" which folded after three performances. That was too many. . . . Overheard: "The old-time mother used to wonder where her boy was and now the grandson wonders where mother is." . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—our own Harry Reed, nominated for the AP Managing Editor group; and our Ed Noble, just named trustee Michigan Press Photographers Assn.; the J's—the Russians in West Germany.

—HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

myko just didn't know the facts at the time and that the Soviet practice in such matters is to let to anyone about a secret move unless he is directly involved as a party to the operation.

The Soviet government is in most respects a one-man government, but the Kremlin committees endeavor to function on the basis of detailed "party-line" plans or outlines of policy. Often, instructions issued to the army, for instance, are not revised or changed in time to meet new diplomatic developments.

Capital Letter:

House Speaker and Wife Are Just 'Couple of Kids'

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — The tall, grey-haired man who holds the second most powerful job in America gazed for a ride—MONTGOMERY just like a couple of kids," speaker John McCormack chuckled.

Brown eyes sparkling behind his rimless glasses, he continued: "We'll stop somewhere, and she'll have ice cream and I'll have milk. We're just like a couple of kids, but we're happy. She's been my whole inspiration in life."

Despite the fact that this ordinarily stern-visaged man is next in line of presidential succession after the vice president, he remains an unknown quantity to the average American citizen.

Stepping last year into the big shoes of the late Speaker Sam Rayburn, McCormack has gone about his business so quietly that few are aware of his tremendous personal power.

HIS PERSONALITY
What is he like—this Irish Catholic who grew in Boston's poverty-ridden southside, tentatively fought his way up the political ladder, and emerged as the highest ranking man in the legislative branch?

No Hollywood director would dream of casting John W. McCormack in the role of "great lover," yet he and Harriet Joyce McCormack are living perhaps the tenderest love story of modern political history.

Aware that they have never missed having breakfast or dinner together throughout the 43 years of their wedded bliss, I dared to ask the speaker "why?"

As simply as if he were telling the time of day, he replied: "Because we've always been sweethearts. We were sweethearts when we married in South Boston, and we still are."

Doesn't that answer the question?"

The speaker is so proud of his reticent wife that he seems to stand a foot taller when talking of her.

"Look at this," he said, pointing to a picture of her receiving the papal order of Pro Ecclesia Pontificia.

"That's the highest honor that the Catholic Church can bestow on a woman. It makes her a countess of the Roman Catholic Church. She's also received the highest honor that the Spanish government can give a lady—the Order of Queen Isabel the Catholic."

Hunting Season

The Holland Evening Sentinel

Over the country millions will take to the woods or bush in the quest of every form of game from the lowly cotton tail to the smart pheasant or the Michigan deer or Canadian moose. The American Medical Association has this to say: "There will be at least 200 hunters who will not return under their own power. They will be dead due to the hunting accidents involving guns."

Here are some of the rules of gun safety, we think that are simple, founded on the hard rock down-to-earth common sense.

Know what you're firing at before you pull the trigger—which means be certain that rustle in the brush was made by a deer and not another hunter.

Never climb through or over a fence without first unloading the gun.

Never shoot at a flint, hard surface—ricochets can wound and kill.

Never look down the barrel of a gun to see if it's loaded. And keep the safety on until you're ready to shoot.

Keep guns and ammunition away from children.

Be absolutely sure guns are carried into camp or home

'Pastors' Group Wrong in Seeking Censorship'

The Press reports that local pastors requested the City Commission to institute a form of area censorship of films.

Does anyone have the right to dictate which films other adults may watch or what books they may read? Do these self-appointed "guardians of morals" honestly feel they would be helping our society?

Censorship cannot fail to harm our way of life inasmuch as it denies to our people one of our most guarded rights: the right of free choice! The right to choose our films, books, public officials, etc., is basic and must not be denied. Any attempt to do so is, in essence, a form of dictatorship. And dictatorship under any circumstances cannot, must not, be allowed to exist in any form within our framework of democracy.

'What's Truth on Waterford Taxes?'

We were asked to vote yes so that Waterford could become a charter township. We believed those who said taxes would go up. Less than two years ago we became a charter township and taxes have more than doubled.

These same people want Waterford to become a city and they say taxes won't necessarily go up. What do you think?

'Anyone Interested in Highway Safety?'

For the past five years I've submitted a legitimate, sound, foolproof traffic safety plan to the State of Michigan and federal highway safety committees. All my efforts were completely wasted.

The death toll and injuries, property damages have already reached a staggering figure in Michigan and the entire nation. It's shocking and ridiculous.

Our government officials come up with all sorts of excuses and alibis. Traffic accidents are criminal negligence. Millions are spent on Cosa Nostra crime hearings and billions on new roads and highways. But very little is spent on the increase in traffic accidents. The cost of installing seat belts in vehicles would more than pay the cost of a nationwide traffic safety program.

My plans on safety offer unlimited safety precautions plus the major crimes committed in motor vehicles. Are the law abiding citizens and Americans really interested in traffic safety?

'Food-Buying Public Needs Protecting?'

It is regrettable that there should be so much risk of botulism E food poisoning in this age of food protection knowledge.

It was shocking to hear an interview on fish processing which stated that the product was processed at 150 degrees F for one hour, before cooling and packaging.

The Burpee Can Sealer Co., of Barrington, Ill., states in its book for guidance of home canners that the fish should be processed at 250 degrees F for 80 minutes or more, to insure complete sterilization for home use. Corn is another product requiring longer processing at high temperature.

Sterilization by heat methods is not effective below the boiling point of water which is 212 degrees F for a certain amount of time. Without basic sterilization is a canned or processed food product, it is practically impossible to keep many foods safe.

This is true with pork products, fish and many vegetables. It's time our Pure Food and Drug Act (1906) be brought up to date for the protection of the food-buying public.

Unloaded. Keep them

ceased until your hunting area is reached.

Remember that alcohol and guns can be a lethal mixture.

In sum, treat a gun with the respect it deserves. Work on the principle that it's always loaded and ready to fire, even though you know it isn't. Then all the armies of hunters—yourself included—will come home under their own power.

Bird in 'Bloom'

Daily Telegraph (London)

A 7-year-old boy after the school outing to Whipsnade (England) zoo: "Mummy, it was wonderful. The first things we saw were the peacocks and while we watched one of them come out in bloom."

Will He Take It?

The New York News

Earl Warren, Chief Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, is 72 years of age, and has completed his 10th year as Chief Justice. The law provides that federal judges may retire at full pay at the age of 70 if they have served 10 years.

Thus, Mr. Warren is fully eligible to retire. Since his salary is $35,000 a year, he would be in little danger of starving to death if he were to bow off the high bench. The Supreme Court would benefit greatly, in the opinion of many, if Warren were to retire, and so would the country.

Under this Chief Justice, the Supreme Court has gone farther than ever before in making laws instead of interpreting laws already made by Congress or state legislatures; in befriending Communists; in making life easier for crooks and criminals and harder for police and prosecutors; and in nudging religion out of the public schools.

President Eisenhower appointed Warren as Chief Justice. In the 10 years since then, Warren has come to be known to many as "Eisenhower's biggest mistake." He could rectify that mistake in small part by climbing down off the big bench.

But will he? You can have one guess.

Won't Impose on New Regime

Adenauer 'Will Fade Away'

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Notes from the foreign news cables:

TO FADE AWAY

Look for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to fade away from the Bonn political scene.
His family and friends have warned him that public reaction would not be sympathetic if he tried to criticize the new government of Ludwig Erhard from the sidelines.

Adenauer apparently has gotten the idea. He now says that his advice is available, but Erhard will have to ask him, because he does not want to impose himself on the new cabinet.

Erhard, however, has no intention of asking him.

HOT WORDS ONLY

Morocco and Algeria are exchanging hot words over their border dispute but it is not expected to lead to a hot war.

The area in which clashes have been reported is mostly desert and despite existing maps the official borderline never has been really settled.

Few observers believe either Morocco's King Hassan II or Algeria's President Ben Bella would start a serious war over what is virtually a belt of sand.

SOVIET TRADE

Russia may be expected to look for more American and allied goods once the wheat deal has really firm up.

There are hints Russia may be interested in cotton and above all in industrial goods.

Russians will be followed by the satellites who long since have been restrained by the Russians who call the signals.

The way now seems open for them to line up, not only for wheat but for other purchases as well on this side of the Iron Curtain.

TIME HEALS ALL

The current break in relations between the Philippines and the new Malaysian Federation is not expected to last long.

The Philippines broke with the new federation because of a long-time Philippines claim to North Borneo which was included in the new nation.

But the Filipinos have no such strong feelings on the issue as have been exhibited by Indonesia which also broke relations with Malaysia, and now are expected to do what they can to patch up relations all around.

The Philippine government is believed trying to engineer another summit meeting among the three to restore the peace.

JAPANESE ELECTIONS

Japan's ruling Liberal Democratic party (conservative) is expected to engineer general elections in the country soon.

Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda is riding a current wave of popularity as a result of his recent swing through South-east Asia. The country is suffering from inflation but not enough yet to disturb the public.

Both the Conservatives and the Socialists have taken to the hustings in anticipation of the elections which have not yet been declared.

The Socialists have been gaining election by election but current trends seem to put them at least 10 years away from power.

Pope Paul Venerates U.S. Man

VATICAN CITY — (UPI) — Pope Paul VI has given the Catholic Church in the United States its first male "blessed," and hinted that more Americans may be beatified or canonized during his reign.

The new blessed is a naturalized American, Bohemian-born John Nepomucene Neumann, who could become the first U.S. male saint.

Beatification is usually, but not always, followed by canonization.

Neumann, fourth bishop of Philadelphia who helped establish the Catholic school system in the United States in the 19th Century, was beatified in St. Peter's Basilica yesterday in a solemn ceremony attended by hundreds of his native and adopted countrymen, as well as pilgrims from all over Europe.

TO VENERATE Several hours after an apostolic letter by Pope Paul making the beatification official was read in the church, the Pope came into St. Peter's to venerate the new blessed before about 50,000 persons.

Speaking in Italian, he bestowed extraordinarily warm praise on the United States after praying before a relic of Neumann, the first person to be beatified during his four-month-old reign.

He said there are "numerous Americans, heroes of the faith and of charity, who are equally worthy" of being beatified or canonized.

Observers saw this as a sign that the Pope may hasten some of the American beatification and canonization causes now pending before the Vatican's congregation of rites, just as the late Pope John XXIII did in Neumann's case.

Street Light Plans Due Public Airing

A public hearing on the proposed special assessment street light district on Tull is slated for tonight from 7 to 9 in conjunction with the Waterford Township Board meeting.

Board members also will set a hearing date on a proposed street light district on Sharon.

In other business, the board will open bids at 7:30 p.m. for fleet vehicle insurance coverage.

Board members also are slated to discuss a suggested traffic ordinance amendment aimed at restricting racing on township roads.

Merger to Be Opposed by (Both) Residents

WOODHOUSE, England (UPI) — Mrs. Margaret Childs and Miss Margaret Hayes, the only residents of this Shropshire parish, said today they will fight a move to merge it with neighboring Hopton Wafers parish, a town of 514 persons.

"Woodhouse is historic," Mrs. Childs said.

Follow the Rules, and Math Is a Cinch

By THE READING LABORATORY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Association

We've saved mathematics until now, because for many students it's the toughest subject in school.

The feeling seems to be that anybody can learn to pass English or history, but that you have to be especially suited for mathematics, that you have to have a special kind of mind.

This is not true. You don't have to be special to get through the average math course.

If you're having trouble, chance are you're studying the wrong way. Which brings up the question: what is mathematics? What does it try to do?

Mathematics is a logical, contentless, but often very meaningful system of thought. Let's take a simple example: 2+2=4. That is always correct, but do you know why? 2+2 equals 4 because mathematicians say so!

In other words, mathematicians have defined "2+2" as "4". That's why they can't be wrong: there's nothing to be wrong about.

So actually, the statement "2+2=4" says about as much as the statement, "a big book is a big book."

FOR DAILY LIFE

We can say, then, that mathematics is contentless.

But once we have these always-correct, contentless, laws, we can apply them to our daily lives and often we find them very useful and meaningful. Nobody will argue that addition isn't useful and meaningful.

It's easy to see that mathematics is logical. If we say that 1+1 equals 2 and 2+2 equals 4, we have no choice but to say that 1+1+1+1 equals 4. There's no other way to do it. Any other way would be illogical. And mathematicians insist on logic.

Essentially, then, mathematics is simply a set of symbols that somebody (centuries of mathematicians actually) invented.

They also invented certain rules for manipulating these symbols. As long as you follow these rules, you can't do anything wrong. If you follow the rules (and there are not many of them), the world's greatest mathematician can't tell you that you're wrong.

By itself, mathematics has nothing to do with reality. Its usefulness comes from the fact that we can think about the real world in a mathematical way and thereby understand it better.

Obviously, you wouldn't try to overview a math book. It doesn't work. To learn the rules of mathematics, you have to go step by step. You have to "read between the commas."

You'll find that every rule in math is based on the one that directly preceded it. If you don't understand something, you can't hope that it'll come clear later on.

You must understand each step before you can understand the next step. Take each page as it comes.

Work through the page point by point. Work through any examples. You'll get into the swing of it easily.

The most complex mathematical laws are only repeated applications of the simplest laws.

SURE THING

Think of mathematics this way: it's the only course where you can really be sure of getting 100 on a test. If you follow the mathematical rules, you can't get anything but 100.

The trick is to go slow, to understand each point before you go on to the next and to see how each rule follows from the one that precedes it.

(Tomorrow: How to prepare for tests.)

Head for Mozambique

LISBON, Portugal (U)—A detachment of 146 Portuguese soldiers is en route to the East African territory of Mozambique. Unofficial sources said they would be stationed near the Tanganyika border.

An unspecified number are leaving for Portuguese Guinea, where guerrillas infiltrating from neighboring countries are reported harassing settlers, towns and military posts.

Nhu, Wife Told to Leave S. Viet Nam, She Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu says American diplomats unofficially advised her and her husband to leave South Viet Nam to help end the political crisis.

"There is nothing to do because they have not asked us to do anything officially yet," she told reporters on the NBC television and radio program, "Meet the Press."

She said the request was "absolutely ridiculous."

CHIEF ADVISER

Her husband is the brother and chief adviser of president Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam.

Mrs. Nhu stressed that Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, had not asked the Nhuses to do anything.

"They send people to say that it is good advice from a friend, nothing official, no. We always try to follow all advice that is good for both sides, but we do not know what we should do." She did not say who "they" were.

Asked if she had any proof of her claim that the U.S. Information Agency wished to topple the Diem regime, Mrs. Nhu replied, "It is true that they did it, and they still do it from what I hear in my country, because your people ask around very openly, 'are you pro-coup or anti-coup?' They do not hide it."

She said that she now believes that people in the USIA have misconstrued normal orders of the U.S. government to look for replacements for the Diem regime just in case the situation is serious.

Jail Couldn't Hold

Angry Soccer Fan

MADRID (UPI)—When an angry spectator jumped onto the soccer field here yesterday and rushed at the referee, police grabbed him and hauled him off to the small jail under the stands. Then they went back to watch the game.

While the police were gone, the fan battered down the jail door and escaped into the crowd.

When There's Trouble on the Pad

Missileman's Lot Is Not a Happy One

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.
CAPE CANAVERAL, 976—Escorts from a spaceport diary, or why missilemen get gray . . .

A powerful two-stage rocket is poised, just seconds away from blast-off. A sudden command of "hold!" stops the countdown—to keep from cremating an Air Force general on the launching pad.

A telephone rings in a blockhouse. A group of bird-lovers are up in arms—and the launching of a giant "super-boost" is delayed.

An astronaut, a booster with 300,000 parts and a worldwide force of 20,000 "support" personnel are ready for America's ambitious manned flight into space.

But the spaceman can't get off the ground. The engine to pull back the gantry has cooled out.

Delay's postponements and slipping schedules are a way of life in the U.S. missile and space business—But don't blame it all on the beleaguered rocket scientists and technicians or their unbelievably complex space boosters and satellites.

THEY CONTRIBUTE

Contributing to their tribulations is a conglomerate of balky diesel engines, curious newsmen, birds, Russian airliners, meandering generals, shrimp boats, the U.S. State Department and the Audubon Society.

Safety precautions are pretty stringent at Cape Canaveral. But once in a while, things slip up—such as the day the aforementioned general and his party were discovered standing on the edge of the firing pad two minutes before the planned blast-off of a polaris rocket.

They were rapidly shuffled to safety, and the countdown was resumed—minutes behind schedule.

The countdown of one of the early Saturn-1 "super boosters" took place to the tune of sirens bellowing around the launching area.

This was the response of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to an urgent plea by the Audubon Society that action be taken to protect a group of roseate spoonbills lurking near the rocket.

Security police cars with sirens sped into the area to try to scare out the creatures before the imminent roasting. No one knows to this day whether it worked, but the rocket was launched anyway.

STATE DEPARTMENT

The State Department plays a top role in the delaying act. Once, it forced the classification of a rhesus monkey and postponement of the firing of a rocket that would carry it into space because Washington was hosting a dignitary from India, where rhesus monkeys are sacred.

On several other occasions, the State Department stopped the launching of long-range rockets while it figured ways to cope with incidents that might ensue should any of the debris fall on South Africa.

Debris often fell there anyway, but nothing much ever came of it, incidentwise.

Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper Jr. was one day late getting started on his epic 22.9-orbit voyage into space. First, ground crews could not get a small diesel engine started to pull back the massive gantry. Then, a critical radar on Bermuda Island fizzled.

The earlier suborbital flight of astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr. lost 10 minutes during the countdown. A newsman wanted a closer look at the rocket. Irate safety officers stopped the countdown and vowed not to resume until he got off the pad.

On another occasion, a Russian airliner stopped a countdown in mid-stream. U.S. Army troops were trying, with considerable trouble, to launch a Pershing missile when the Soviet airplane apparently bound for Cuba, soared to within eyeing distance of the cape.

JUST SAT BACK

Technicians sat back for 45 minutes until the red-started intruder moved on.

But perhaps the most continuing battle is between Cape Canaveral and the fleet of fishing boats that abound in the Atlantic waters off the testing center.

Cape safety tries to get them to move beyond a three-mile limit during a shot, lest a falling chunk of debris knock the bottom out of somebody's boat.

But the boatmen are often reluctant to move. Particularly when the fishing is good.

Citizens Will Air Light Assessment

A public hearing on the proposed special assessment street light district on Tull is slated for Monday from 7 to 9 p. m. in conjunction with the Waterford Township Board meeting.

Board members also will set a hearing date on a proposed street light district on Sharon.

In other business the board will open bids at 7:30 p. m. for fleet vehicle insurance coverage.

Board members also are slated to discuss a suggested traffic ordinance amendment aimed at restricting racing on township roads.

Professors Politely Argue: Cigarettes Deadly or Not?

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor
NEW YORK—A distinguished professor of surgery at the University of Pennsylvania has formally accused a distinguished professor of surgery at the University of Southern California of playing tricks with the statistics relating to cigarette smoking and lung cancer.

In view of Dr. I. S. Ravdin, who also is current president of the American Cancer Societ, Dr. Ian Macdonald was "purposely or inadvertently misleading" when he "manipulated" the lung cancer probability in any block of 100,000 men 40 to 70 years old.

Macdonald had figured that the nonsmokers in such a block had a 99.6 per cent chance of not developing lung cancer. Smokers of less than one pack daily had a 97 per cent and smokers of more than one pack a 94.7 per cent.

Macdonald hadn't found these differences meaningful as an indictment of cigarette smoking.

Ravdin did find them meaningful, when viewed from another angle.

"The data indicates clearly that the non-smoker has a negligible chance of dying of lung cancer, the heavy smoker, better than a 5 per cent," he said.

"Applying such data to a field in which both he (Macdonald) and I are familiar and competent, such a surgical mortality or the risk of an anesthetic agent, we could both surely agree that a remarkable enhancement of safety has been achieved by removal of the toxic agent."

Ravdin was editorializing in "Surgery, Gynecology and Obstetrics," a publication of the American College of Surgeons, where Macdonald editorialized last February in disparagement of the case against cigarette-smoking as a cause of lung cancer.

Macdonald said, "presented some views which are contrary to the opinion held by most medical authorities on the effects of cigarette smoking."

These views were perhaps "entertaining," he added, and were "doubtless comforting to both inveterate smokers and commercial interests."

But they contained "distortions and misconceptions," Ravdin commented critically on these, point by point. He also looked at the statistics from the angle of the probability of a male over 35 surviving to 45.

Out of 100,000 heavy cigarette smokers 59,000 will not survive but 77,000 out of 100,000 non-smokers will, he said.

Macdonald has said tobacco is "the oldest and surely the safest tranquilizer of all." This, Ravdin commented, was "a historical distortion" about which Macdonald surely has had "second thoughts," since the facts are these:

"Tobacco itself, in western culture, dates back perhaps 400 years; cigarettes on any large scale less than 50 years. Alcohol, with a history measured in millennia, and tea are considerably more venerable."

He denied Macdonald's accusation that the scientific authorities who condemn cigarettes for health reasons have "the Volsteadian intent" of prohibiting cigarette-smoking by law.

Dominican Youths

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican University students held a noisy demonstration in a university building Sunday against the new ruling junta and "Yankee imperialism."

An estimated 1,000 students heard speeches by members of the pro-Castro Fragua student group, but under a sharp police warning against disorderly conduct, they did not carry their demonstration into the city's streets.

Santo Domingo students have demonstrated several times since the overthrow of President Juan Bosch by a group of military leaders late last month.

Cancer Probe Gift in Powell Memory

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The UCLA School of Medicine today announced receipt of a $26,000 gift for cancer research in memory of the late actor Dick Powell, a victim of the disease.

The gift was in the form of money that in dozen Hollywood personalities would have received for their services as hosts on the television production "The Dick Powell Show" after the actor's death.

73rd Birthday to Be Quiet One for Ike

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, turning 73 today, planned to observe his birthday quietly with his family.

The day provided the former chief executive with a restful interval between the festivities planned by his friends to commemorate the occasion.

Old friends from his White House days threw a big party for him in nearby Hershey Saturday night.

He will be in Washington Tuesday for an affair which also will double as a fund-raising dinner for the Republican party.

Eisenhower told newsmen that his schedule today would be quite simple.

He planned to be in the office in the morning as usual. He and his wife, Mamie, drive to their son John's this afternoon for a traditional birthday party—produced, directed and performed by their four grandchildren.

Tonight, the family will gather for dinner at the home of retired Brig. Gen. Arthur S. Nevin. Nevin, Eisenhower's planning officer in the Normandy invasion, is supervisor of the vast Eisenhower farm here.

Mac's Doing Fine; 'No Work Today'

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, recovering in a London hospital from surgery to remove his prostate gland, was reported today to be doing fine.

Surgeon Alec Badenoch, who performed the operation last Thursday, spent 30 minutes with his patient and said: "He is fine and all is well. But I don't think he will be doing any work today." Macmillan, who is giving up the prime ministry because of his health, has been getting out of bed for a short period each day.

Two American hens now average as many eggs each year as the laying capacity of three hens 25 years ago.

Crucifix Dedicated as Detroit Shrine

DETROIT (AP)—The tall crucifix that survived the Our Lady of Sorrows Church fire last spring was dedicated as a shrine Sunday.

As 400 spectators looked on, a band played and children from the parish school sang. Firemen in dress uniform stood at attention.

The crucifix, which firemen saved from the altar in a fire April 10 that engulfed the church site.

Our Lady of Sorrows is to be rebuilt.

QUESTION: How did machine guns develop from the regular kind?

ANSWER: Each time you pull the trigger on an ordinary gun, you fire just one shot. But when you press a machine gun's trigger a spray of bullets will rattle out one after the other, without having to pull the trigger for each one. Machine guns can fire up to 1,500 shots a minute.

During the 1500s, experiments were made by tying a number of single shot guns together so they could be fired in series or all together.

But this idea did not turn out to be successful until improved into the Gatling Gun, which we illustrate.

The modern machine gun started in 1889, when Hiram Maxim got the idea of using the recoil from the explosion in a gun barrel to cock the gun, throw out the empty cartridge and insert a new one.

This made it possible for a single barrel to throw out a spray of bullets one right after the other. Another type of machine gun was operated by gases flowing in through a small port.

The heavy machine gun was a type widely used in World War I. Lighter, more portable machine guns were developed later, such as the submachine gun and the Browning automatic rifle. The M15 automatic rifle is an even more recent development of this type.

FOR YOU TO DO: Get a pile of small rocks and see how many you can fire one after the other in 10 seconds. Get a friend to count the seconds while you count shots. Then multiply the number by six to get the number per minute and compare this to the machine gun's speed of between 400 and 1,500 shots a minute.

Involve State Trespass Laws

High Court to Hear Five Dixie Sit-In Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court begins hearing arguments today in five sit-in cases that raise important issues of the use of state trespass laws to back up exclusion of Negroes by private businessmen.

In legal debate that will extend over most of two days, the justices consider cases from Maryland, South Carolina and Florida.

Numerous other appeals requesting review of convictions of racial demonstrators are on the docket, but action on these is expected to be deferred until the first five cases are decided.

The court faces the complex civil rights questions, at the same time that Congress is considering legislation dealing with identical issues.

CANT BE ARRESTED

Last May 20 the high tribunal decided in a group of sit-in cases that demonstrators demanding service in stores and other places of public accommodation may not be arrested if a city or state makes segregation its policy by ordinance or official statements.

It did not say anything about whether a private businessman has the right to discriminate when there is no state or local segregation policy. But on the same day the justices agreed to hear this week the five cases which appear to pose this question.

In the legal background of the new arguments is a decision of 80 years ago. The Supreme Court of that time decided the Constitution's 14th Amendment bars only discrimination by state action, as distinguished from discrimination resulting from personal choice.

Counsel for the Legal Defense Fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in a preliminary brief told the court the 14th Amendment's guarantee that states may not deny equal protection of laws also means that states must ensure such equal treatment.

In the cases of racial demonstrators arrested and convicted, the brief said state power was involved to a significant degree in that the states' laws fail to furnish protection and subordinate demonstrators' rights to equality to "a narrow and technical property claim."

However, Solicitor General Archibald Cox in a "friend of the court" brief said the court could decide the five cases on narrower grounds.

TRESPASS CHARGES

In four of the cases, Cox said, demonstrators were convicted of trespass charges after refusing to leave private property, but state laws prohibited only entering the property after being forbidden to do so.

In the fifth case, from Florida, Cox said demonstrators were not told why they were being asked to leave and thus were not given proper notice that their presence might be illegal.

The first case to be called today is reargument of an appeal by five Negroes arrested June 30, 1960 after refusing to leave Glen Echo Park in Maryland suburb of Washington. Each was fined $50 under Maryland's trespass law. The park since has been opened to all races.

Two cases to be heard next are from Columbia, S.C., where seven Negro students got fines of $100 and $200 and jail terms of 30 and 60 days for sitting in at lunch counters.

SUSPENDED FINES

Another case from Maryland follows in the argument schedule. In it a Baltimore judge imposed suspended $10 fines on 12

Negroes who made a sit-in demonstration in a restaurant.

The final case is an appeal by 18 demonstrators, Negro and white, who refused to obey a request that they leave a restaurant in Miami, Fla. Florida law makes it a misdemeanor to remain in places of public accommodation after notice that one is not welcome. The 18 were put on probation.

Before calling for arguments, the court will hand down orders in more than 600 cases filed since the tribunal adjourned last June for summer vacations.

German Baron Wins

Group's Peace Prize

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Baron Carl-Friedrich von Weizsäcker was awarded the peace prize of the German Book Dealers' Association Sunday. The physicist-philosopher has led the campaign against nuclear arms for West Germany.

The $2,500 prize, awarded annually, is given to writers and scientists who contribute to world peace. Among previous recipients were American writer Thornton Wilder and Harvard professor Paul Tillich.

There are 45.6 grains of copper mixed with 2.4 grains of zinc and tin in each U.S. Lincoln penny, of which 145 weigh one pound.

A Rocking Good Time
HELSINKI, Finland (UPI)—Finnish students Juhana Laine and Raimo Junttunen claimed a world record today after rocking a rocking-chair for 51 hours without stopping.

Tearful Paris Bids Farewell to Edith Piaf

PARIS (AP)—Hundreds of Parisians, some with bouquets in their hands and tears in their eyes, said goodbye today to singer Edith Piaf.

Miss Piaf, whose audiences grew from streetcorner curios to thousands in Carnegie Hall, died Friday after a long series of illnesses. She was 47.

During the weekend, her frail body rested in an oak coffin in her home. Thousands, including many of France's top stage and screen stars, filed slowly by.

The casket was placed in a hearse today and driven slowly across Paris, followed by three funeral cars heavy with flowers.

Along the way, Parisians and tourists stopped to watch the procession. Here and there, an arm came up to throw a modest bouquet of flowers under the wheels of the hearse.

At the entrance to Pere Lachaise Cemetery, a crowd broke through police barriers and massed inside to see the burial.

India Sells Steel Rails

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India for the first time is exporting steel rails on a commercial basis, the Indian government announced. The first consignment of 1,200 tons worth $1.5 million, was shipped to Sudan Railways.

FAT AND SASSY—Willie the whale, which Philadelphia's Aquarium claims is the only North American pilot whale in captivity, lost 200 pounds after arriving Aug. 3 with two other whales, who subsequently died. But on a daily diet of 90 pounds of squid, Willie has regained the 200 pounds plus additional blubber putting more than 1,500 pounds on his 15-foot-long frame.

Ike Veep? Silly Idea

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International
The whimsy now is advanced that former President Eisenhower has asked former Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell whether he, Ike, is eligible to be elected Vice President of the United States.

It is not suggested that Ike is much interested. But it is stated that he did ask. Harry S. Truman got into the act in response to questions in New York. HST said that in his opinion a former President of the United States could seek the vice presidency but that it was a legal matter for the attorney general to decide.

All of this is disturbing to your correspondent's peace of mind to say nothing of the shattering impact of this silly business on the bright little minds of students who, about now, are contemplating the elements of a course called "civics."

Civics relates to citizenship, to civil affairs or, more generally, to the art and science of government.

These students probably will know by now that General Ike has sent Herb Brownell on a child's goose chase and that HST was talking through his hat.

The shattering nature of all of this is that the students may suspect that these two statesmen never had read the Constitution which both twice swore to preserve, protect and defend. Or, if they did read it, they didn't understand it.

It is possible that a lawyer could torture out of the language of the Constitution some kind of a rule that a two-term President of the United States thereafter could be nominated and elected Vice President.

A lawyer might be able to do that—a Philadelphia lawyer, maybe, or a Harvard. But I'll lay you a dollar to a dime that Herb Brownell did not learn that kind of law at the Yale Law School.

DID THEY READ IT?

If Ike and HST had read the Constitution they could not have missed the concluding sentence of Article II, proposed by Congress Dec. 12, 1787, and proclaimed adopted Sept. 25, 1789.

That sentence reads: "But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of Vice President of the United States." Plain enough?

This sentence must be understood in the light of Article 22, effective Feb. 26, 1951, which forbade any person thereafter to be elected President more than twice. The third term amendment.

It follows then, that General Ike is constitutionally ineligible to the office of President and, therefore, is not eligible for election as Vice President.

Of course Ike would dress up a stop-Kennedy ticket, even in second place, but the whole idea is balmy and should be filed in the loony bin.

However, we might get a new constitutional amendment requiring a candidate for President to prove he has read the U.S. Constitution before he is put in charge of preserving, protecting and defending same. Seems reasonable!

Woman Nearly Itches To Death

"I nearly itched to death 7½ years. Then I found a new wonder cream. Now I'm happy," writes Mrs. P. R. Ramsey of L.A., Calif. Here's blessed relief from tortures of vaginal itch, neural itch, chafing, rash and eczema with an amazing new scientific formula called LAMACANE. This fast-acting medicated cream kills harmful bacteria germs while it soothes raw, irritated and inflamed tissue. Stops scratching—no more itching! Don't miss! Get LAMACANE in drugstore.

Few American Lives Untouched by Daily Newspapers

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Mason Walsh, managing editor of The Phoenix (Ariz.) Gazette and president of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association.)

By MASON WALSH

Every day, nearly 60 million daily newspapers are printed and distributed in the United States.

Daily circulation of these newspapers ranges from a few hundreds of thousands in larger metropolitan centers to a few thousand in small towns, but big or little, nationally famous or scarcely known outside their own communities, these daily newspapers — 1,700 of them in the United States at least count — serve a common purpose.

That common purpose is to provide news of current events from near and far, and to furnish useful information to the public.

PART OF LIFE

Newspapers are an integral part of American life, and have been since the birth of this nation.

There are few persons in the 54 million households of the United States whose lives are not touched frequently, in one way or another, by a daily newspaper.

Daily newspaper readers represent the largest single mass audience in the country, far outstripping any group reached by any other media, printed or electronic.

Is an international crises developing in the Orient, deep in Africa, somewhere in South America, or at another point far away from the United States?

Your newspaper, through the facilities of a world-wide press service, keeps you abreast of these distant events, with re-

IMPORTANT BILLS

Have important legislative bills been introduced in the House of Representatives?

Is the Senate debating an issue whose outcome will affect every U.S. citizen?

Your daily newspaper will keep you informed.

And the information provided will not be a mere skimming of the basic facts, but a detailed account that you can read and reread at your leisure.

As for the news closer to home your local newspaper is the only consistent means by which you can know what's going on at city hall, the county courthouse, in your schools and churches.

These newspapers provide their readers with news of current events. But there's a lot of other useful information in those newspapers, too.

HELPFUL HINTS

If Main Street is going to be repaved, or a new superhighway is planned in your community, your newspaper will tell you about it, in detail.

In your newspaper you can find helpful recipes, household hints, information about many matters that may be of individual interest to you — fashion trends, investment and financial news, court proceedings, sports events, personalities close to home and far away, what's going on in science and medicine. The list is almost endless.

Yet your newspaper offers you even more. The advertisements provide you a handy compact, up-to-the-minute consumer news report in which you can find what you want to purchase, where to get it, and how much it will cost.

The familiar classified ad pages literally serve as a people's marketplace, where individuals may offer or seek an almost limitless variety of goods or services.

And your newspaper's value to you and your community goes beyond all these matters. For newspapers also provide guidance and leadership for the community.

UNCOVERS GRAFT

Such matters as uncovering graft, corruption and incompetence among public servants or others in positions of responsibility offer sometimes dramatic examples of what good newspapers can do.

But there are many less dramatic examples of public service.

Throughout the United States, newspapers big and small have taken the lead in seeing to it that their communities were made safe against the once, dreaded crippling polio, by initiating community polio immunization campaigns, first with the Salk injections, and later with the Sabin oral vaccine.

BETTER SCHOOLS

Newspapers have led many successful fights for improved schools, better roads, more efficient government (at all levels); they have helped bring industry and improved transportation services to their towns.

Your newspaper proudly shares with you a heritage uniquely American — the freedom of the press, and specifically, spelled out in the First Amendment to the Constitution:

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the Government for a redress of grievance."

Your newspaper is dedicated to the preservation of those freedoms. Without freedom of the press, the other freedoms enumerated in the First Amendment would perish.

So, not only during this Newspaper Week, but also whenever you pick up your daily newspaper, remember its vital role in this country of ours.

With Adenauer

Rebirth of Germany

BONN, Germany (AP)—Konrad Adenauer, 87, steps reluctantly out of office Tuesday after more than 14 years as the first and only chief executive of the West German Federal Republic.

The Adenauer era has brought most of this country from the depths of disaster and disgrace following World War II to strength and prosperity. But Adenauer leaves behind a lingering problem — West Germans still are separated from 17 million fellow countrymen who are under Communist rule.

Adenauer's friends say he is responsible for the strength and prosperity and that the Soviet Union has frustrated his efforts to reunite Germany. His enemies say strength and prosperity would have come anyway, and accuse Adenauer of helping prevent reunification, a serious charge in German politics.

TIES WITH WEST

Adenauer's major accomplishment has been to tie West Germany closely to the West. It was Adenauer who in 1950 first offered the Atlantic Alliance a West German army, despite strong opposition among many Germans to rearmament.

In 1952 Adenauer rejected a Soviet offer to reunite Germany on condition it remain neutral.

Adenauer has lived his political career in the framework of responsible parliamentary democracy. Under his strong leadership, this form of government has lasted longer than the Weimar Republic, which followed World War I, or Adolf Hitler's "Thousand Year Reich."

Adenauer, who will be succeeded as chancellor by Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard — a man he has publicly opposed — claims as the crowning accomplishment of his rule the friendship treaty he signed last January with President de Gaulle of France. Germany, he says, has at last become reconciled with its traditional enemy.

UNOPTIMISTIC

Adenauer's critics dispute his optimism. De Gaulle, they contend, is supporting West Germany's relationship with the United States and Britain.

Adenauer has little interest in economics. Many West Germans credit their country's reconstruction and prosperity to Erhard, 66, who has headed the Ministry of Economics since the end of World War II.

Erhard starts as chancellor under heavy handicaps. One is Adenauer's low opinion of his political ability. Adenauer intends to remain in politics as chairman of his party and member of parliament. He probably will do a lot of public prompting.

Erhard has promised a different style of government. The old chancellor ran things himself and made all major decisions on foreign policy. The Erhard cabinet will be more a committee of equals, with a chairman not much interested in foreign affairs. There are many misgivings about how this will work in a country accustomed to one strong hand.

In the fall of 1965, Erhard faces elections. The opposition Socialists, on the basis of public opinion polls, already claim to have become the strongest party in the country.

Erhard also has to worry about relations with the Free Democrats, a smaller party which has formed a coalition with his Christian Democratic Union. The Free Democrats hold the balance of power and could topple Erhard's government by switching allegiance to the Socialists.

Senator 'Sure'
JFK to Debate
Opponent in '64

LOS ANGELES — (AP) Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., said Sunday he is "almost sure" that President Kennedy will debate the Republican nominee for the presidency in next year's election battle.

Ribicoff declined to comment at a news conference on New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's challenge to Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater for a debate between Republicans.

Ribicoff, former secretary health, education and welfare in the Kennedy cabinet, was in Los Angeles to address a dinner for Yavneh Hebrew Academy.

Six Are Hurt in Caro as Two Planes Collide

CARO (AP)—Locked together, after a collision, two light planes crashed to the ground from 75 feet at the Caro Municipal Airport yesterday.

The two were among scores of planes of Michigan private fliers here for the airport's new runway dedication.

All the six persons aboard the two planes, including a man and his wife, were injured.

For the most part, however, their injuries were minor.

About 1,000 persons were at the airport. None was endangered. Other planes were in the sky, another 110 on the field.

"We were very lucky," said Clayton Montel, airport manager and Caro's police chief.

PASSENGERS

The planes that collided were being flown by Clarence Berry, 35, of Wayne—accompanied by his wife, Dixie, also 35—and by Richard Kettles, 35, of Lansing.

Kettles, president of General Aviation Co. of Lansing, had three passengers—Arnet, 37, and Phillip Reid, 31, bothers, and Gerry Gaul, 17, all of Caro.

Signals from the ground apparently failed their purpose as the two planes were coming in to land.

Berry, flying a Cessna Skyhawk four-seater, began to climb and struck Kettles' craft, a Beechcraft Bonanza, also a four-seater, from beneath.

The planes locked. Berry's tail was sheared off. Both plunged to earth.

Montel said Berry climbed at a signal from ground crews waving both planes off because they were too close for safety, but that Kettles saw the signal too late to avoid Berry's plane.

WEATHER PERFECT

Flying weather was described as perfect at the time. All the scores of fliers that came to this thumb area community had taken part earlier in a dawn patrol breakfast.

Arnet Reid was the worst injured. He reportedly suffered fractures and internal injuries. He was removed to a hospital at Saginaw after being treated with the others at a hospital here.

Freeman Sees U. S. Savings

Russia May Purchase 250 Million Bushels

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman estimates the United States will save about $200 million in storage costs by selling U.S. wheat to Russia.

Freeman's estimates are based on pending Soviet purchases of between 150 to 200 million bushels, which would only make a dent in the 1.1-billion bushel U.S. surplus stockpile now stored in American granaries.

The Agriculture Department indicated today that Russia and other Communist countries might purchase as much as 250 million bushels of U.S. wheat.

A weekly publication by the department's foreign agricultural service said that "inquiries in recent weeks have indicated that around 250 million bushels may be involved, with the Soviet Union apparently interested in about 150 million."

SEES ADVANTAGE

Appearing on a television program yesterday, Freeman said he was convinced the sale would be advantageous to the United States by improving wheat farmers' income, reducing the U.S. balance of payments deficit and strengthening wheat prices.

He termed as "a bit ridiculous" Richard M. Nixon's criticism of the sale. Freeman implied that the unsuccessful 1960 GOP presidential candidate was trying to use the issue to inject himself into the 1964 campaign.

Freeman also discounted the contention of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., that political considerations such as Russian removal of her troops from Cuba should be attached to the deal.

Such provisions, Freeman said, "would be a deterrent toward the strengthening and improving" of U.S.-Soviet relations.

Jackie Visit Outweighed in Morocco

MARRAKECH, Morocco (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy today discovered that the birth of a Moroccan baby and the intrigues of North African strife were getting more attention than her visit here.

The First Lady arrived last night from Athens for a three-day private tour. But the city she chose for her "rest" vacation reverberated with both merry-making and the tramp of troops.

Mrs. Kennedy was reported to have asked that no official receptions be planned so she could quietly recuperate from the death of her infant son, Patrick. Both Moroccan and American officials said she could "just go where she would like to go."

But American officials were privately worried about the timing of the visit. The Algerian-Moroccan border dispute has turned Marrakech into an armed camp.

And exuberant tribesmen shattered the quiet of the Moroccan night by firing their rifles in celebration of the holiday Friday, marking the 40th day after the birth of King Hassan II's son, Prince Mohammed.

Thousands of Moroccans applauded Mrs. Kennedy last night as she and her sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, drove through the narrow streets of the ancient walled city to the Mahia Palace, where they were the guests of King Hassan II.

Along the way veiled Moslem women chanted their tradition, shrill "you-you-you" as the lady passed.

Local Women Have Say on Status Report

By MADELEINE DOEREN

"Men still have the upper hand" according to a report on President Kennedy's Commission on the Status of Women reprinted in The Pontiac Press Women's Section Friday.

Local club women were asked to comment on the commission's recommendations.

ZONTA PRESIDENT

Mrs. Katherine Baker, president, Zonta Club of Pontiac, writes: "Most intelligent women would respond to the statement that Kennedy take a firm hand toward giving women a larger role, etc."

"Capable, efficient, well-educated women do not need to be GIVEN anything except the chance to prove their worth and the recognition of the worth after proof is given."

"I do agree with the statement that women are dragging their feet. Most of them do not do the little simple things like registering and voting. Why, if all the eligible women in the United States got out and voted they could elect anyone they wished."

"Michigan has a 'Status of Women Committee' and this committee is backed by our governor. But Michigan women must take an interest in it to make it work."

AAUW LEADER

In the opinion of Mrs. Donald McMillen, president, American Association of University Women, Pontiac: "The AAUW is entirely in agreement with the recommendations of the President's Commission on the Status of Women."

"One point we would like to make however! Not asking for special consideration just because they are women. What they are concerned about, is being excluded from work for which they are qualified through their education, just because they are women, and having passed this first barrier, to receive equal pay for equal work."

CITY FEDERATION

As president of the City Federation of Women's Clubs, Pontiac, Mrs. Merrill D. Petrie writes: "In my opinion, women have never had it so good. They have a voice in important matters such as voting, which, according to the article, they have failed to take advantage of."

MRS. PETRIE

"They have the opportunity in education unlimited and they are not held back from whatever their education entitles them to."

"After all, woman was created to bear the world and be the homemaker. The foundation of our whole country is the home. Isn't this a big enough job for the woman?"

"I personally am not anxious to enter into the so-called 'man's world' and the rat-race he finds himself in today's world."

"It's no mystery why women outlive men."

MRS. ROBERT TRACHET

"It is commendable of President Kennedy to want to see that women get equal rights" writes Mrs. Robert Trachet, vice president, Pontiac PTA Council. "But the women themselves will have to wake them up and want them enough to work for them. At Mrs. Borsvold present, too many of us are satisfied to sit back and let the men have the upper hand."

WOMEN VOTERS

League of Women Voters of Pontiac, first vice president Mrs. John O. Borsvold writes: "The suffragettes who worked to gain the right of women to vote were dedicated and militant."

"The LWV was organized to educate women in the proper use of this right. That they haven't used their power to erase inequities that still exist, is due to apathy and the feeling among many women that it is not 'feminine' to enter into politics and fight for causes."

"The problem seems to be to arouse women themselves to fight for their rights. The means to do so are available."

MRS. LEO McDONALD

Mrs. Leo McDonald, president, Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club, says: "Women, indeed, must improve their lot themselves if they want it improved."

"By their failure to register to vote, women have become a minority in American political life when they could have taken the lead."

BUSINESS WOMEN

"Women's role in the community, politics and on the job, depends entirely on her," according to Mrs. Carroll Welch, president, Tipac chapter, American Business Women's Association.

"If her attitude is one of indifference," she continues, "her accomplishments will leave much to be desired. On the other hand, if she is interested and puts forth the effort, she can easily be a leader in politics and community affairs."

"In my opinion, whether or not women get an even break in what is often referred to as a 'man's world,' is their own responsibility, not that of the Federal government."

SOROPTIMIST

Speaking for the Soroptimist Club of Pontiac, Alice Kimball, recording secretary, writes: "The word 'Soroptimist' means 'best for women,' so naturally, we feel that women should have equal status and our international organization is working toward that end."

Joy Anne Beedell, daughter of the Robert G. Beedells of Club Drive, spoke words with Marshall David Kaplan, son of Mrs. David Kaplan of Detroit and the late Mr. Kaplan, Saturday, in Congregation Ahavas Achim, Detroit.

MRS. MARSHALL DAVID KAPLAN

Joy A. Beedell Weds Marshall David Kaplan

Rabbi Milton Arm performed the candlelight nuptial rite for Joy Anne Beedell and Marshall David Kaplan, Saturday, in the Congregation Ahavas Achim in Detroit.

The Robert G. Beedells of Club Drive, parents of the bride, were hosts at a reception and dinner-dance in Francis Hall Middle Belt Road.

Point d'leon lace accented the bride's gown of white satin with chapel train and formed a rosette atop her bouffant veil of silk illusion. She held white sweetheart roses, Stephanotis and ivy arranged in a cascade.

Maid of honor was Loretta Pape, Bloomfield Hills. Kathleen and Sharon Beedell of Detroit attended the couple as bridesmaids along with Delores Edelstein, Oak Park.

Billesdons Wed at Christ Church

Duchesse lace, touched with rose point lace medallions, accented a gown of ivory pea de sole for Marguerite Reynar Schmidt, wed to Alexander C. Billesdon Saturday in Christ Church Cranbrook.

She wore her maternal grandmother's mantilla of rose point lace fitted to a lace tiara and carried white butterfly roses, Stephanotis and ivy.

CLUB RECEPTION

The Parbury P. Schmidts of Wing Lake Road were hosts at their daughter's reception in the Village Woman's Club, Bloomfield Hills, following the ceremony performed by Rev. Louis C. Gillette.

Gowned in floor-length old gold brocade, the bride's attendants carried cymidium orchids with ivy and wore ivy hairbands.

With honor maid Karen Vanderbeck of Glen Rock, N.J. were bridesmaids, Mrs. Parbury P. Schmidt Jr., Winston-Salem, N.C.; Mrs. Dwight W. Jacobus, Louisville, Ky.; Nancy Knight and Mrs. James Williams of Birmingham.

Stephen Painter of Baltimore, Md., was best man for the bridegroom, son of the Alexander C. Billesdons of Lathrup Village. John York and James Williams ushered along with John Billesdon and Parbury P. Schmidt Jr.

The couple will live at Chapel Hill, N.C. while he completes his studies at the University of North Carolina. The bride was graduated from Centenary College for Women.

MRS. ALEXANDER C. BILLEDON

Wed Saturday in Christ Church Cranbrook were Marguerite Reynar Schmidt, daughter of the Parbury P. Schmidts, Wing Lake Road, to Alexander C. Billesdon, son of the Alexander G. Billesdons of Lathrup Village.

Forget Loneliness

GI Told to Busy Himself

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My problem is one that bothers thousands of other GIs so I hope you will print your answer. I am a married man with a wonderful wife and two small children back in the States.

ABBY

I've been in Korea for four months. After living a normal married life for three years, what is a young, healthy man supposed to do for his physical needs?

There are 12 women for every GI over here, and women practically throw themselves at our feet. Don't get me wrong, Abby, I love my wife and always will, but I have another twenty months to go, and I am only human.

This letter is sincere and I am not ashamed to sign my name, but if you use it, please sign me, "JERSEY."

DEAR "JERSEY": Assume for a moment that I received the following letter:

DEAR ABBY: "I am a happily married woman with a wonderful husband and two small children. My husband has been in Korea for four months.

After living a normal married life for three years, what is a young, healthy woman supposed to do for her physical needs? There are plenty of men around, and when they learn that my husband is in Korea, they practically throw themselves at my feet.

Don't get me wrong, Abby, I love my husband and always will, but I have another twenty months to wait, and I am only human. (signed) JERSEY'S WIFE"

Well, Jersey, I would tell that woman to keep as busy as possible with her duties and as many wholesome activities as her time and energy permit.

I'd suggest reading, exhausting physical exercise, and yes, even prayer! I'd tell her to stay sober and to avoid temptation, and to write to me every day!

And that, Jersey, is my answer to you, and to all your buddies in the same lonesome boat.

Sincerely,

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: I would like to have your opinion of when and when not to wear a hat. I love hats, but think there is a time and place for them.

It is football season again and my husband thinks I ought to wear a hat to the games. I disagree. Aren't hats too dressy for football games?

I notice that in the afternoons most of the older women wear hats, but the younger ones hardly ever do.

I want to be well-dressed. Can you help me?

HATLESS

DEAR HATLESS: "Girls" do not wear hats, but women — the well-dressed ones — do for all outdoor occasions from garden parties to football games. . . . No outfit is complete without a hat!

The only place you don't wear one is to bed.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby in care of the Pontiac Press.

Son Should Always Tip the Barber

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: Up until recently my husband always took our young son to his barber to get his haircut. Naturally my husband paid the barber and also gave him a tip. Now that our son (aged 9) is old enough to go to the barber by himself, I would like to know if he is expected to tip the barber. A: He is a customer, even if only a junior one, and should tip the barber.

Q: I had an argument to-day with a friend on the subject of using the typewriter for writing personal notes. He said that it was not proper for social notes and I said it was the typewriter. Will you please settle this difference of opinion?

A: The typewriter may not be used for third person invitations, acceptances or regrets. And of course notes of sympathy as well as thank-you notes for presents must be written by hand.

But informal, friendly letters — especially if lengthy — are not only proper, but in many cases preferably written on the typewriter.

Q: My girl friend and her sister are going to be married next month at a double wedding. I am going to be a bridesmaid for my friend at this wedding.

I would like to know if I have to give a wedding present to both brides?

A: It is not necessary to give two wedding presents, although if you know the sister at all well, it would be nice to send her a little something in addition to the more important presents you send to the bride who is your particular friend.

Q: Who pays for what at the wedding? The new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Wedding Expenses," answers this question in detail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Reunion Plans Will Be Made

Further plans for the 10th reunion of the 1954 Waterford Township High School graduating class will be made at 8 p.m. Tuesday meeting at the Highfield home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Holdan.

Assays has been set as the date for the reunion dance according to Rex Egges of Irwin Drive, chairman of the affair. Assistant him will be Mrs. James Attard (Bonnie Mitchell) who is co-hostess.

Paris Mystery Still Unsolved

In Paris, almost two hundred years ago, the Crown Jewels went on French leave — some to be recovered but some never to be seen again.

The jewels, which were mainly big diamonds, disappeared on the night of September 17, 1793, during the violence and confusion of the French Revolution.

The truth about the theft has always remained obscure. The different political factions used it to incriminate their opponents, their opponents.

FOUR BIG GEMS

The most valuable and famous of the stolen diamonds were the great Regent, the Blue Diamond of the Crown, the Mirror of Portugal and the Sancy.

Soon after the robbery, officials received an anonymous letter with information about the Regent. Following its instructions, they found the 140½-carat cushion-shaped diamond in a ditch along the Champs Elysee.

The Blue Diamond of the Crown was never seen again in its 68-carat teardrop shape. To disguise its identity, according to the opinion of experts, the glorious blue tear was cut up into three smaller gems.

HOPE DIAMOND

One became a 4½-carat gem of irregular shape, later to become famous as the Hope diamond. Today, it is in the Smithsonian Institution.

The Sancy, a 55-carat pear-shaped diamond, has always been one of the most colorful histories of all famous gems. Its story began in Constantinople in 1570 and eventually took it to London where it belonged to Elizabeth I. Elizabeth also had the Mirror of Portugal.

PAWNED THEM

A later British queen, Henrietta Maria, took both diamonds to France where she pawned them to raise funds. When she was unable to redeem them, they were sold to Cardinal Mazarin, adviser to Louis XIV.

After the robbery, the Sancy did not appear in public again until 1828. Today, it belongs to Lady Astor.

The shimmering 21-carat Mirror of Portugal disappeared that night forever.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This column is prompted by a letter I recently received from one of my readers. She said, "I have a problem. A little more than three months ago I had my first child. Since then, my whole figure is a problem. It seems I have developed rolls and bulges galore. I am nursing my baby and so I haven't been dieting."

"I am 20 years old and have a small frame. My normal weight is 120 pounds. I am 5 feet, 4 inches tall. My measurements were: bust 32½, waist 24, hips 34 inches. Now they are bust 35½, waist 28 and hips 37 inches."

"During my pregnancy I gained 27 pounds. My once flat stomach is bulging. I can't wear many of my clothes and I have many sheathes. Please tell me what to do."

An average pregnancy weighs about 18 pounds. With a small frame a 20-year-old woman who is 5 feet, 4 inches tall should weigh between 115 and 120 pounds. Therefore I guess that you should lose from 10 to 15 pounds. Probably 10 since 120 seems to be the right weight for you.

A woman who is nursing her baby must have an adequate well-balanced diet. Therefore any strenuous dieting is out. However you can leave off rich desserts and such items. You will have to count calories after you wean your child in order to lose those rolls and bulges. You can not lose them with exercise alone.

If you would like to have my Leaflet "Care During Pregnancy and Reconditioning Afterwards" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet number 21 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

New York Honeymoon

The Morris J. Hancock Gail Elizabeth Marlen) left for a honeymoon in New York City after their marriage and reception, Saturday in Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church. Rev. Theodore Allebach performed the afternoon ceremony.

MOTHER MADE DRESS

Daughter of the A. George Mariens of Joslyn Road, the bride wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and white taffeta made by her mother. Her veil of imported illusion was secured by a crystal tiara.

She carried cascading white carnation, Mary Jo roses and Pittosporum.

With Mrs. Teddy Bowes of Sauli Ste. Marie, her sister's matron of honor, were bridesmaids Mrs. Phillip Marlen and Mrs. Robert Hancock of Highland.

Cascades of pompons, bitersweet and pompons, complemented their dresses of green and blue iridescent taffeta, also made by Mrs. Marlen.

BROTHERS

Best man Robert Hancock and ushers Timothy and Herbert Hancock who attended their brother of West Kennett Road) are sons of the late Mrs. Hector Mariner and the late Rufus Hancock. Also seating guests was Paul Marlen.

The newlyweds will live on Chalice Road, Orion Township.

Biologist Gives Talk

Robert Benson, regional biologist, game division of the Michigan Conservation Department, was guest speaker at the Thursday evening meeting of the Teacher's Exchange club.

Speaking to the group at the Hunter's Whip in Franklin, he stressed the importance of the state's program to plant and maintain cover, shelter and food for wildlife. He used colored slides of area projects to emphasize his remarks.

The November meeting of the group will be a dinner meeting and guest night Nov. 14 at Airway Lanes.

More Wives Work

There now are nearly 14 million American families in which both the husband and the wife are working, reports the U. S. Department of Labor.

Shift Attention

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Q463: Jane Ide is the publisher of a splendid patriotic magazine called DAWN.

Her husband was its spark plug until he passed away a year ago, whereupon his wife carried on.

Jane told me of an in-

teresting dilemma which a newspaper editor faced a few years ago.

It shows the many unexpected problems that confront journalists all the time, for an editor leads a hectic life.

This editor had a daily paper in a small city. And at the outskirts of the town was an old barn. In fact, it had long served as an ice house in the days when ice had to be cut from frozen ponds and then stored under sawdust for sale during the summer.

Alas, this old ice house was so decrepit that it sagged farther to the side than the famous Leaning Tower of Pisa. And many boards were missing, so it was a disgrace to the entire community.

Finally, the pressure from the townspeople caused the owner to tear down the unsightly barn.

TAKES PICTURES Grieffully the newspaper photographer took "before" and "after" shots. Exultantly, a reporter wrote a story to accompany those pictures.

Alas, at this same time the leading woman of the city (wife of the banker and the chief society dowager) passed away.

Three columns were devoted to her death.

But when the readers opened their evening newspaper, here's the headline that appeared under this woman's obituary:

"Another Old Eyesore Gone."

MISTAKEN IDENTITY You can easily visualize how the mistake occurred. For this three-column headline exactly fitted both the pictures of the collapsed old ice house as well as the story concerning this leading society woman.

Well, just imagine the consternation at the newspaper office!

For the banker and this lady's children burnt up the telephone wires with their angry calls.

And all the editor could do was duffly try to explain the mistake in the layout.

This is the kind of true-life situation that would properly fit into Ripley's "Believe It Or Not" feature.

It proves again that truth is often stranger than fiction.

HUMOROUS SITUATION But it was certainly a laughable mistake which anybody except the bereaved family would have noticed.

The family, quite understandably, didn't see the funny side of this error.

For when we are overcome by grief, we are introverted. But it takes exorcism of our personality to produce laughter and enjoyment of jokes.

Grief thus belongs with fear and shame as introverted emotions in which we focus on ourselves. So our perspective is so narrow that we can't enjoy humor.

But love, joy and humor are extroverted. In them our attention shifts from our own skin to the people around us.

The quickest way to dispel undue grief is thus to turn the attention of the bereaved outward upon external reality.

Ladder Aid at Parade

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Recently we attended a homecoming event where several thousand people were watching a street parade. We were attracted by a young couple with four small children who were all enjoying the parade in a completely relaxed manner.

They had set up their aluminum stepladder with the youngest child sitting on the top and the three others on the steps. The father was on one side, the mother on the other and all were getting a good view.—HELPUFUL.

DEAR POLLY — When traveling on a bus, train or plane at night put your coat on backward.

It will not only keep you warmer but it won't get too wrinkled.

And to lift curtains out of the way when cleaning the floor, pull each curtain through a wire coat hanger and hang it over the curtain rod.—Stand in front of a mirror to fold sheets or anything large and you can see to get them straight.—Miss N. D. M.

DEAR POLLY — With five children, I find that my mending pile is often as high as the ironing pile.

Many of the articles only need a stitch or two, so rather than have what looks like a really big job facing me after the ironing is done, I have a time-saver that I hope will help other mothers.

On the iron-rest side of my ironing board, I keep a sturdy piece of cardboard with needles stuck in it that have already been threaded with the most often used colors like red, navy, black, white, etc.

It only takes seconds to whip those small jobs out of the way if you need as you come to them. The mending stack and the ironing stack diminish at the same time.—Mrs. R. G.

DEAR POLLY — When expressing sympathy at the death of a friend, whether it be in the form of flowers, masses or cards, put your address below your signature.

This little consideration saves the bereaved many hours of searching in telephone directories for addresses.—Mrs. L. J. M.

DEAR POLLY — When ironing ruffles, collars, apron ties, cuffs, etc., where only the front of the iron is used, place paper on the board just under the edge of the item being ironed.

This keeps the board cover from becoming scorched by absorbing the constant heat of the part of the iron not being used on the garment.

Paper towels will serve the same purpose but they become brittle and wear out in a shorter time. Brown paper is best. This method will double the life of your ironing board cover.—Mrs. V. K.

Speech on Books

"Books for Pre-Schoolers" is the topic for Mrs. Janet Gauthier, head elementary librarian, at the 7 p.m. Tuesday Wever preschool meeting. The speech, to be given in the Wever library, will be followed by a question and answer period. Refreshments will be served and babysitters provided.

300 Attend Candlelight Ceremony

Some 300 guests attended the candlelight vows of Judith Annette Akeryles and Wilbert B. Kortryk, followed by reception, Saturday, in the First Baptist Church, Birmingham. Dr. Homer Armstrong officiated.

Parents of the newlyweds are the John C. Akeryles of Birmingham and the John A. Kortryks of Royal Oak.

The bride's gown of white velvet styled with brief jacket and detachable white train, was appliqued with velvet cut-work. A flat Dior bow of velvet held her bouffant veil of illusion. Stephanotis and ivy rested on her small white Bible.

GREEN VELVET

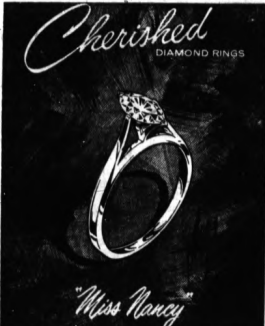

Gowned alike in sleeveless forest green velvet sheaths, her attendants wore operalength white gloves and Dior headpieces. They held cascades of tropical and dried foliage, with yellow rosebuds designating the honor matron, Mrs. Kenneth Malender of Warren.

Bridemaids were Bonnie G. McKim and Katherine Doyle of Birmingham; Mrs. Roger Benscoter, Clarkson and Mrs. Charles Carolin, Royal Oak.

Best man was Jerry Patenaude, Royal Oak. Seating guests were Daniel Akeryles; Dennis Racine, Flint, with Larry Patch and Joseph Ramsey, Royal Oak. After a honeymoon in the Smoky Mountain area, the couple will be at home in Royal Oak. The bridegroom is a graduate of General Motors Institute, Flint.

A common error in roofing cuttings from shrubbery is making the cuttings too long.

A four-to-six inch length is desirable. Longer stems are more difficult to root.

Husband "too tired" for good times?

If your husband keeps coming home too "beat" to be gay and stimulating, too worn out to take you out, remember—the hectic "rat race" of today's business requires men to perform like human dynamos day after day, which builds up charming tensions that rob literally millions of husbands of energy and vigor they might otherwise enjoy!

What can you do to help counteract this tension-caused loss of vitality?

Many doctors recommend augmenting the daily diet with nature's remarkable "bounce-back" food, famous Kretschmer Wheat Germ. Made from the germinating heart of the kernel, wheat germ has been established by official U. S. Dept. of Agriculture studies to be the most healthful food known!

Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually supplies a whopping 30 nutrients important to good health, vigor and stamina!

Serve your husband this remarkable food every day and see how much more pep and vitality he has! Use these delicious, tiny toasted flakes as a cereal, on cereal, or add to pancakes, waffles, scrambled eggs, etc.

Thrifty, tasty Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, so be sure to get some. Look for it in vacuum-sealed plastic bags in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

GUARANTEE—(1) Kretschmer Wheat Germ is the most beneficial food known; (2) Your family will like its taste better; (3) Your family will like its taste better; (4) Your family will like its taste better.

Rail Cars Hit Train; 15 Hurt

BREWSTER, N. Y. (UPI)—Five empty railroad cars broke free from a switching yard last night and rolled into a New York Central Railroad train loading passengers for Manhattan.

Fourteen passengers and one crewman were taken to hospitals in Mt. Kisco, Mahopac and Danbury, Conn. Hospital spokesmen said the worst of the injuries was a fractured shoulder. All but three of the injured were released by this morning.

The collision was at 8:30 p.m. (7:30 Pontiac Time) only a minute before the train was to leave for New York City. 52 miles to the south. About 40 passengers had boarded, most of them weekenders returning to the city.

The five empty passenger cars rolled along a downgrade from the Putnam Junction Yard, about a half-mile from the station, and plowed into the rest of the four-coach train, derailling its last car.

A railroad spokesman said it was not known how the cars broke loose.

Without Really Trying

'How to Succeed' Star Is Down in Dumps

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Look at me," wailed Robert Morse, "Last week I was chairman of the board; this week I'm work in a dump."

His lament was not to be taken seriously. He was merely making jest of the fact he closed on a Saturday night after two years on Broadway in "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," and reported to work at MGM on Monday for his first starring movie.

He was immediately put to work rehearsing his musical number in "His and His." It's a duet with himself that happens to take place in a dump.

"Exhausted," he admitted, "If they had only given me just one day. Boy, am I beat. I can stand a long run for the first year and a half, but that last six months is murder. It's like being in the Army or Navy."

Still, he has fond memories of "How to Succeed," and with good reason. The musical made him the hit of Broadway in a show that never did less than

TAKE ADVANTAGE

Morse intends to take advantage of his many film offers. First comes "His and His" with Robert Goulet and Nancy Kwan. He may also stay at MGM for the all-star Irving Berlin musical, "Say It with Music." He plans to do "Genius" for Otto Preminger and is talking a deal for "The Loved One" with Tony Richardson, whose "Tom Jones" is the latest film sensation.

Those with long memories

8 E. Germans Flee to West

BERLIN (AP)—Eight East German refugees got through the barricades surrounding West Berlin during the weekend, West Berlin police reported today.

They included a 21-year-old sergeant of the East German Army who abandoned his guard post and ran across a border river bridge.

Two girls, 19 and 20, crawled through the barbed wire. They started out with two men, 19 and 22, but the quartet got separated in the darkness. West Berlin police found the two men and guided them to safety.

Police in the West German state of Hesse said that over the weekend 13 youthful East Germans crossed the barricaded, mined frontier.

Japan to Aid Hospital

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Japan will help build a leprosy unit at Agra, the city of the Taj Mahal, the Indian government announced.

recall that Morse made a previous movie, "Matchmaker," with Shirley Booth, Tony Perkins and Paul Ford.

"I don't remember much of it myself," he said. "I was the same part I had played on the stage and I said the same lines, and that was it."

He returned to Broadway, scored in "Say Darling" and then got the big one, dazzling playgoers with his kinetically inventive style.

BOYISH ENERGY

Even when tired, Morse exhibits boyish energy that is beguiling. He admits to being 32, which many find difficult to believe.

He also retains an ingenuous attitude toward his fellow stars.

"When there was a big name out front during 'How to Succeed,'" he said, "I'd send out for his autograph. Honest, I wanted to show my grandchildren that Groucho Marx came to see me in a play."

"Why, if Cary Grant were to walk into this commissary, I'd fall over in a dead faint."

Fortunately, Grant was lunching across town, and Morse was

27 Trotters

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—Twenty-seven trotters and pacers, valued in excess of $200,000, perished in a flash fire of undetermined origin that destroyed two barns in the pre-dawn hours Sunday at Roosevelt Raceway.

Lady Cindy, who just a few minutes before midnight had won the last race Saturday night at $6.30 and completed a twin double of $1,406.30, was among the horses who perished. Another was Scotty Win who finished out of the money in the sixth race.

Elaine Rodney, one of the country's foremost trotting mares, and Lochvar King were among the horses led to safety or turned loose in the stable area at the height of the fire.

Joint investigations were immediately started by the New York State Harness Racing Commission, the Raceway and the Nassau County police. It was the first fire in the 24-year-old history of Roosevelt Raceway site of many of harness racing's most famous events.

Three Men Injured in Plane Crack-Up

PLYMOUTH (AP)—Three men escaped with minor injuries when their plane crashed and partly burned yesterday.

State police said the two-engine plane failed to make altitude and hit a tree following takeoff from Mettetal Airport south of here.

Berger Mathison, 46, of Plymouth, pilot and owner, was injured along with his two passengers, Luther J. Smith, 43, of Inkster and Charles J. White, 38, of Livonia.

House Fire Causes $5,500 in Damage

Fire at 12:05 a.m. today caused an estimated $5,500 damage to the house of Charles Saliba, 215 Leota, Waterford Township, and an additional $2,000 damage to contents.

Family members, aroused from sleep by the smell of smoke, left the house through a rear window. Their dog perished in the blaze.

Firemen, who battled the blaze in the cement block house for over two hours, said the fire was caused by a defective oil-burning space heater. Four trucks answered the call.

Supervisors to Consider Action for Home Rule

County supervisors will begin laying strategy for proposed county home rule legislation in a committee meeting tomorrow.

The board of supervisors legislative committee will consider a resolution by a similar Wayne County group asking Gov. Romney to call a special session of the legislature.

The Wayne County group is seeking enabling legislation this fall to form home rule charter commissions in those counties interested.

County home rule has been sought by many supervisors in Oakland, Wayne and other counties for several years as a means of making the counties more independent of the legislature in matters of local government.

While the new state constitution allows county home rule, it leaves it up to the legislature to decide how it might be achieved. Those seeking home rule for Oakland County want general legislation that would leave it up to county voters to decide what specific governmental changes would be included in a county charter.

Several Oakland County supervisors have expressed the fear that the Wayne County Board will seek too restrictive legislation.

In other action, the Oakland County committee will consider a recommendation by the Northville Board of Education that families living in house trailers be required to pay school taxes for the education of their children.

Southern Cal Staff Talks About 'Spies'

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—The University of Southern California's Trojans, victims of a narrow 17-14 defeat at the hands of Notre Dame, have suspicions concerning South Bend spies in their own backyard.

Assistant Coach Dave Levy said the USC coaching staff noticed a man with binoculars watching the Trojans' closed practice last week. The observer was in a window of Founders Hall, adjacent to the practice field.

"He also had a notebook and was writing things down," Levy said. "I think we were watched all week."

RIGHT REACTION

Coaches said the suspicions were strengthened by the Irish reaction to a new screen pass play attempted in the fourth quarter Saturday.

"We only put the screen in last week," coach John McKay said. "We hadn't used it before. But right away they (the Notre Dame players) started yelling 'screen, screen' and their end was right there."

The coaches, however, emphasized that they were not trying to alibi for the defeat suffered Saturday in South Bend.

Discussing his team's seeming ineffectiveness against running plays, McKay quipped, "We probably will lead the world in pass defense. Our defense against running is so bad no one has to throw against us." Saturday's loss was the Trojans' 13th setback in 16 encounters with Notre Dame at South Bend.

WOLL Plays One Better Grid Half Than St. Michael

AIR LANES OPEN — Oxford quarterback Dave Houck moved the Wildcats through the air in the second half Saturday in an effort to overcome a Waterford Kettering lead. The Captains stopped the Cats' ground game, but Houck and fullback Dan VanVleet completed 11 of 20 passes for 98 yards. Applying the pressure for the Captains are tackle Bud Quitt, and quarterback Mel Patterson. Kettering won 34-0.

Captains Enjoy Home-Land

Waterford Kettering opened its new football stadium in impressive style Saturday afternoon with an easy 34-0 win over Oxford.

It was the Captains' first performance on the new gridiron and the successful debut pushed the smooth-operating eleven into a tie with L'Anse Creuse for the Tri-County League lead.

Some 2,000 fans were on hand to watch the Captains' unravel the Wildcats' defense along with a few uncounted watchers who held 50-yard seats on a knoll overlooking the new field.

The Captains scored in every period and ripped the new turf for 479 yards in handing the Wildcats their second loss of the season.

Junior fullback Jim Haviland, in his finest prep outing, established a few records on the new field that will give future Captains something to shoot at.

The slender speedster scored three touchdowns, one on a 11-yard pass from quarterback Mel Patterson, and carved out 197 yards in 11 trips with the ball.

The Captains picked up all the points they needed late in the first stanza when Patterson rolled to his left and scampered 64 yards behind a wave of blockers for six points. Halfback Earl Houck added his first of four PATs and the rout was on.

Patterson rifled an 11-yard strike to Haviland for the second score which ended a 51-yard drive midway in the second and gave the Captains a 13-0 half-time margin.

Haviland broke the game open with two third-quarter scoring jaunts. His first was a 20-yard burst up the middle to climax a 60-yard march.

The next Captain score was a beauty.

The Wildcats were forced to punt late in the third stanza and Jack Farrell's 55-yard boot rolled dead at the Kettering two-yard line.

Patterson picked up six yards on a first-down sneak.

On second down, Haviland bolted over right tackle at the eight-yard line, raced to the outside as Houck cut down the defensive halfback and outran the safetyman to complete a 92-yard scoring romp.

Coach Jim Larkin turned the offensive chores over to the Kettering reserves in the fourth period and they punched across the final score with Pat Nutters picking up the six points on a four-yard plunge.

Kettering's defense throttled the Wildcats' ground game and Oxford wound up with only 23 yards rushing.

The Cats failed to cross the 50-yard line in the first half but managed to dent Kettering real estate twice in the closing stanzas.

Oxford scrapped its T-formation in favor of the spread at the start of the second half, and quarterback Dan VanVleet moved the club to Kettering's 13-yard line for its deepest thrust of the afternoon.

VanVleet and Dave Houck were dropped for 30 yards in losses by the Captains' defense while trying to pass, but the two scored managed to connect on 11 of 20 attempts for 98 yards.

The Captains' offensive blocked opened huge holes in the Wildcats line throughout the afternoon. Kettering backs found the most room on the right side where blocks by tackle Chuck Wallace and end Craig Hanson kept the door open.

and hit the scoreboard early in the first period when Frank Butler picked up a blocked Rams' punt and ran six yards.

Wells started his assault in the second stanza with a 52-yard scoring jaunt, and he came back with touchdown runs of 35 and four yards in the second half.

Other ROSM scores came on runs of 20 and 13 yards by Tom Plack, and Doug Young recovered a Ram fumble in the end zone for six points.

The Irish took advantage of numerous Ram miscues. They intercepted three passes, picked up three fumbles along with the blocked punt.

The Irish's rushing attack rattled the Rams' defense for 349 yards on the ground, with Wells picking up 181 on 16 carries.

EAGLETS LEAD

OLSM's Eagles held brief leads in the game with St. Agatha, but the Lakers wrapped up the win when Bob Krupansky scored on a 20-yard sprint at the start of the fourth quarter.

The Eagles opened the scoring in the first period on a five-yard run by Bernard Stec, but the Lakers knocked the score moments later on a 29-yard scoring pass from Mike Steen to Greg Brewer.

Bob Krupansky hauled in a five-yard toss from Steen in the second period to push the Lakers in front 13-6.

OLSM gained a one-point advantage in the third with Stec scoring on a 26-yard run and Frank Rempel's extra point.

Krupansky followed with his fourth-quarter run to drop OLSM into third place in the parochial league race.

The Eagles lost first-string end John Stohlinski early in the game with a sprained ankle, and defensive guard Gene Bednarek left later in the contest with a leg injury.

Brother Rice quarterback Paul Jagels picked up the team's lone touchdown of the year in the fourth quarter against U. of D.

Leo Ministrilli and Dan VanMouik were on the receiving end of Jagels' passes as the little quarterback hit on 12 of 26 tosses.

Divine Child started a new winning streak and halted Rossmore's three-game streak Sunday afternoon.

Shrine opened the scoring on a 14-yard burst by quarterback Dennis Bienkowski, but the Knights lost the lead moments later when Nick Ross broke over right tackle for 58 yards and six points.

Denny Walsh picked up the final Falcon scores, and Shrine's second tally came on a 23-yard pass from Bienkowski to Jim Seymour.

Splurge Earns Lakers Victory in Rivalry

Shamrocks Still Look for First Win, Loss Starting QB

By JERE CRAIG
Waterford Our Lady of Lakes powered yesterday afternoon it can play a better half of football than St. Michael this fall. That's what their 18-14 struggle on the WTBS gridiron amounted to in the Mikemans won the first half, 7-6, but the Lakers were supreme the final two periods, 12-7.

Even with the second half comeback, WOLL trailed in the overall statistics. The Lakers were more interested in the final scoreboard figures however, which left them with win No. 1.

Our Lady of the Lakes moved into a tie for fifth place with St. Frederick in the Northwest Parochial League fight by winning, while St. Michael continued winless.

Actually the outcome might have been different except for two "breaks" that hampered the losing Shamrocks in the final half.

After WOLL took the second half kickoff and marched 56 yards to set up ahead, 12-0, on a three yard run by Arnie Siber, St. Mike had possession at the 36 of the Lakers following fumble recovery.

LOSER LEADER

Quarterback Rick Steinhilper suffered an apparent broken leg when hit on a run. Before the Mikemans could adjust their offense to compensate for the loss, WOLL recovered a fumble and drove in 40 yards for the insurance points that proved the margin of victory.

Halfback Tim Davis ran the final three yards.

St. Mike then drove 58 yards to close the gap to 18-14 on a two-yard touchdown plunge and the conversion run, both by Larry LaRousa.

The winners then ground out the final 1:19 seconds with running plays.

The first half saw Our Lady of the Lakes score first on a seven-yard pass by Bob Schaffer early in the second quarter. The score was set up by Joe Petrucci, who blocked a St. Mike punt which was then covered by Schaffer at the 13-yard-line.

St. Mike bounced back to drive 73 yards to go ahead. Mike Backes ran 27 yards with a fake punt to the WOLL 45. LaRousa carried 34 yards to the 1-yard-stripe from where Steinhilper went in for the six-point. LaRousa ran the PAT.

At the intermission, the winners had only 15 total yards to the Shamrocks' 128. The figures for the game were 188-121 and 12-4 for first downs, with St. Mike ahead on both counts.

Another ironical factor was St. Mike's fumbling only once but it cost the Mikemans the winning touchdown, while the Lakers survived four fumbles — two of which they lost.

TEMPER PONTIAC GRAND PRIX

SURROUNDED — Pontiac Northern's Mike Samulow looks for an escape route as Southfield players close in during Saturday night's game at Wiser Stadium. Bob Bates (62) and Paul Marine are the blockers. Southfield players are Don Ford (47), Dick Legros (71), Dave Dawson (51) and Jim Burgess (81). The Huskies won the Inter-Lakes game, 16-12.

By DON VOGEL

Pontiac Northern is approaching its moment of truth in the Inter-Lakes football race.

The Huskies took another step toward their showdown this Friday at Walled Lake by subduing Southfield, 16-12, before 2,500 spectators at Wiser Stadium Saturday night.

PNH and Berkley are now tied with 2-1 records in second place behind unbeaten Walled Lake.

The Blue Jays have no one but themselves to blame for the defeat.

They lost the half five times on fumbles in the first half, and no team can afford so many miscues and expect to win.

Dean Souden of Northern used his talented right foot to kick the winning points. The 6-1 end booted a 22-yard field goal and an extra point. His other conversion try was blocked.

Quarterback Jim Kimmel scored a touchdown on a two-yard sneak and fullback Steve Daniels crossed the goal line from the same distance to give PNH a 16-0 halftime lead.

FOUND HANDLE

The Blue Jays found the handle on the football and managed to score twice in the last half while holding PNH at bay without too much difficulty. Passes of seven and two yards from quarterback Terry Thompson to end Rich Smilgelski scored the six-pointers.

A pass and then a run attempt for the conversions both failed. Southfield has been the real trial horse. Only a dearth of extra points has kept the Jays from being in second place instead of holding down last place. They failed to score against Farmington, losing 7-0; lost to Walled Lake 19-8; and now Northern by four points.

The fumbles plus the running of Daniels ruined Southfield's bid in the first half.

Don Weyer recovered a Southfield fumble on the Jays' 23-yard line in the first period and three plays later — runs of 25 and five by Daniels — set the stage for Kimmels successful sneak.

Daniels, who was the offensive star for Northern, showed he was alert on defense by covering a Southfield fumble on the visitors' 12. Three plays failed to move the ball, and Souden split the up rights with his three-pointers.

Midway in the second period the Skippers marched 52 yards for their third touchdown.

Mike Samulow, one of PNH's speedy backs, was injured early in the first period and this placed the running load on Daniels and Weyer.

Daniels slammed over guard for 92 yards in 15 carries. He broke through for a key first down in the last quarter when PNH was valiantly protecting its margin.

Southfield turned loose fullback Tom Zurcher in the second half and he also sent the Huskies into a deep freeze with his line slants.

This chunky Blue Jay, who carried only once in the opening half for 1 yard, wound up with a total of 67 in nine carries.

Emmanuel Loses Unblemished Record

Emmanuel Christian's four-game winning streak was snapped Saturday night and Birmingham Seaholm moved into the lead in the Eastern Michigan League as Royal Oak Kimball knocked off Roseville.

Grosse Pointe University School turned back the Emmanuel Christian eleven, 20-18, while Kimball was smashing Roseville, 34-12.

In other Saturday games, Utica dropped Lake Shore, 19-8, Lamphere downed Chippewa Valley 27-0 and Cranbrook dropped an 18-7 decision to Shady Side Academy of Pittsburgh.

GPUS halfback John McFeely scored three touchdowns to lead his teammates to victory over a patched-up Emmanuel eleven with George Perrin adding two extra points to wrap up the decision.

Three starters were missing from the Emmanuel lineup Saturday night—fullback Ron Jackson, linebacker Jack Gillespie and tackle Terry Martin — and coach John Malone switched center Mike Thomas to fullback and inserted 120-pound Jim Gillespie at a halfback slot.

Emmanuel took the opening kickoff and marched 72 yards in 15 plays to take a 6-0 lead as Darrell Hutto hit paydirt on a seven-yard run.

SHORT-LIVED

The lead was short-lived as GPUS roared back with a 74-yard march which McFeely ended with a six-yard scamper. The fleet halfback came back moments later with a 29-yard scoring run to lead to 14-0.

GPUS tallied its third touchdown in the third stanza when McFeely took a pitchout and rambled 97 yards to score.

Emmanuel made a bid to extend its winning streak with scores in the third and fourth periods. Ralph Wingate rambled 19 yards for the third-period score and teamed up with his brother, Danny Wingate, for a 65-yard touchdown pass with four minutes remaining in the game.

Emmanuel's PAT attempt went awry leaving the squad with a two-point deficit.

Birmingham Seaholm, with an EML mark of 3-4-1, backed into the lead as Kimball dealt Roseville its first loss in five outings. The win moved the Royal Oak squad into a tie for second place in the league race.

Cranbrook took a 7-6 lead over Shady Side in the second period on a 21-yard pass from Paul Shank to Larry Willey, but the visitors roared back with a 64-yard scoring run by John Sikina and a 30-yard touchdown pass by Tom Nary to spoil the Cranes' league opener.

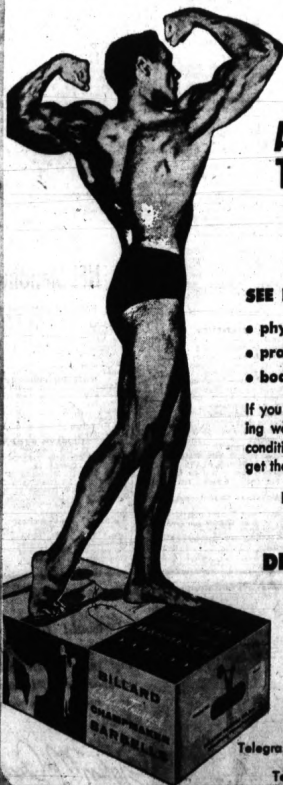

TURN'S CORNER — Hard-running Gary Perrino of Southfield swings outside as he is missed by a PNH tackler. Perrino was one of the sparkplugs in the Blue Jays' second half rally that almost overcame a 16-0 Northern halftime lead. Following the action is Northern's Rodger Coleman (70) and Dean Souden (85).

Make way for the rip-snortin'est, sportin'est Comet ever built— the hot new Comet Caliente

There's new wham in Comet's styling... new scram in its engines—up to a special high-performance 289 cubic inch V-8—now in action at Daytona in the grueling Comet Durability Run!

BULLETIN—Daytona Beach, Fla.

On October 11, the lead car in the 1964 Comet Durability Run completed 50,000 miles of speeds well over 100 mph. This Comet—specially equipped and prepared for high-speed track driving—was still going strong as this went to press.

The same skills and engineering excellence that are helping to make Comet's performance at Daytona possible go into every '64 Comet.

For this is a surprisingly hot new kind of Comet. It's newly engineered, with an optional Cyclone Super 289 V-8 available in every model. With this most responsive engine in its field, Comet rivals the most powerful cars. Comet also offers a Cyclone 260 V-8 and two thrifty '6's."

Elegance unique in a compact-price car

The '64 Comet is newly styled—bigger, bolder looking, luxurious—with touches of elegance usually found only in America's leading luxury cars. For example, the top-series Caliente features interiors with walnut-colored paneling and rich, biscuit-pattern upholstery.

Every bit as hot as it looks

The '64 Comet is newly designed... with a new wide road-gripping stance... has big-car ride and comfort. It also offers a hot new lineup of luxury options, including power steering, power brakes, air conditioning, and more. See the '64 Comets—ten models in three series—at your Mercury dealer's showroom now. You can't find more value and size at a compact price! LINCOLN-MERCURY DIVISION MOTOR COMPANY

APPLYING THE PRESSURE—Oxford fullback Dan Van Vleet couldn't avoid this charge by Kettering tackle Chuck Wallace and wound up with an eighty-yard loss. Kettering trimmed the Wildcats, 34-0, to move into a tie for first place in the Tri-County League race.

Will British Recover?

ATLANTA (AP)—Will Great Britain, where golf got its start, ever regain its position as the world's golf leader from the United States?

It doesn't seem likely in the wake of the American team's sweeping 23-0 victory in the 15th biennial Ryder Cup competition between the two countries, provided once again that the United States has the superior players.

The U.S. team, called "Invincible" by its proud captain Arnold Palmer, shook off morning doldrums each day in the three-day match and turned it into three straight American afternoons.

Britain tied the Yanks 8-8 in the morning matches, but lost the afternoon contests 15-1. The lone British point in the afternoon matches came on two draws, with the U.S. team winning all the rest.

COLD START
"Our guys were cold in the morning," said Palmer. "They just got warmed up in the afternoon."

Palmer said he believed the larger American ball made the difference. "On Sunday it was windy and the small ball favored them," he said. "But over-all in the three days the big ball was superior."

Scotsman John Fallon, the British captain, said his country may have to switch to the American ball to win in the United States. "From tee to green our laddies are as good as the Americans," he said. "But the Americans do better on the greens. The larger ball seems to help them."

Palmer said the tournament was the best Ryder Cup match he had been in from the standpoint of cooperation. "I'm tremendously proud of our guys," he said. "For example, Johnny Pott wasn't playing well and he asked to be benched. That's real cooperation."

Eastern Division Lead Taken by Browns, 35-24

the runaway Browns in the conference race.

Dick Lynch put the Giants out early when he intercepted a Ryan pass in the first period and raced down the sideline 47 yards for a score. The Browns came back with a 79-yard drive in 11 plays, Brown scoring from the 1.

Brown, the great star from Syracuse University who frequently has had his troubles against the Giants, ripped through the New York line for 120 yards on 23 carries. That left him only 53 yards short of tying the National Football League rushing record, now held by Joe Perry of San Francisco. It took Ryan 14 years to do it. This is Brown's seventh year as a pro. Ryan overshadowed Title with his three touchdown passes to one for the bald eagle of the Giants, a 14-yard pitch to Phil Robinson in the fourth period. Still, Title set a NFL record by completing 17 of 31 passes for a career total of 1,817 to Bobby Layne's old mark of 1,814.

Junior Johnson Has Last Laugh at 400

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Robert (Junior) Johnson had the last laugh on the Ford fleet which has lodged him all season when he won Sunday's National 400 late model stock car race.

The 240-pounder of Ronda, N.C., rekindled a remark made by his car owner, Ray Fox of Daytona Beach, Fla., after last night's Southern 500 at Darlington, S.C.

"Ford has spent millions of dollars in racing this year chasing one little Chevrolet," said Fox after Johnson, who led much of that race, retired with a cracked cylinder.

Eleven Fords chased Johnson's 1963 Chevrolet Sunday but only three of them were ever really in contention. They were driven by Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., and Marvin Panch and Glenn (Fireball) Roberts, both of Daytona Beach. They were the 2-3-4 finishers. Panch started on the pole.

Johnson beat Lorenzen by more than 10 seconds. Panch by 36 seconds and Roberts by four laps, as he averaged 132.65 miles per hour before an estimated 53,000.

Johnson also learned with Jackie Smith on a 55-yard scoring play with 3:48 remaining to give the Cardinals a chance after they had been plagued by fumbles and dropped passes all afternoon.

The victory boosted the Cardinals into second place in the Eastern Division, with a 4-1 record. Pittsburgh, which beat the Cardinals two weeks ago 23-10, fell to 2-2-1.

Local Keglers Reach Finals of Tourney

Three Pontiac bowlers advanced to the state All-Star Eliminations final round Sunday with good performances at Ann Arbor's Colonial Lanes.

Margaret Carter of the 300 B o w l staff won the women's class of the semifinal eliminations with 6,548 pins in 36 games.

Two local keglers were among the four who made it on the men's side. Mike Samardzja, Jr. of Huron B o w l finished second with 7,289 pins in 36 games, and Stan Kuzman from West Side Lanes was fourth at 7,124.

Lansing's Jack Curry led the men with 5,658 pins.

The women now advance to the finals at Grand Rapids' Miracle Lanes next weekend. The men's finals will be the next two weekends at Battle Creek's Cereal Bowl and Southfield's Star Lanes in that order. Both finals used the Peterson Point system.

SHORT GAINER—Kettering fullback Jim Rogers is brought down by Oxford's line after a short gain in Saturday's contest. The middle Baltimore Colts to a touchdown the first time they had the ball Sunday and they survived a shoddy offensive showing from then in defeating the San Francisco 49ers 20-3 in a National Football League game.

The Colts lost four fumbles to the 49ers, who were losing their 12th straight game in the NFL, counting exhibitions.

The Colts, beating San Francisco for the second time for their only victories in five games this season, were able to score a second touchdown after recovering a fumble on the enemy 11.

They were forced to call upon Jim Martin to kick one of his two field goals after being unable to score a touchdown with a first down only eight yards away.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Quarterback Billy Wade threw three touchdown strikes to Mike Ditka

Sunday as the unbeaten Chicago Bears defeated the winless Los Angeles Rams 52-14 and remained atop the Western Division of the National Football League.

Performing before 40,476 in Memorial Coliseum, ex-Ram Wade hit the former Pittsburgh end on pitches of 15, 25 and 27 all in the first half.

Rudy Bukich took over for Wade in the fourth quarter and added another six points for Ditka on a 14-yard run.

The victory boosted the Bears winning string to five straight and their 10th triumph in 11 games dating back to the 1962 regular season.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sonny Jurgensen shattered an injury-riddled Washington pass defense with four touchdowns passes Sunday as Philadelphia came back from a 17-point deficit to whip the Redskins 37-24.

Putting a heavy rush on the Eagle quarterback, the Redskins intercepted a pair of Jurgensen tosses in the first half.

Washington scored on a 34-yard field goal by Bob Kuyatt, a three-yard run by Bill Barnes after intercepting a Jurgensen pass deep in Eagle territory, and a 66-yard pass from Norm Stogard to Bobby Mitchell.

The Eagle line began to give Jurgensen better protection and the veteran quarterback began to connect.

Milford Wins Albion Meet

Bill Nelson of Milford placed first to lead the Redskins to victory in the Class A division of the Albion College Invitational Cross Country Meet Saturday.

Nelson outdistanced 132 other Class A runners in 10:41.

Milford scored 38 points, Clio, 100; Detroit Catholic Central, 122; Flushing, 133; and Jackson Parkside, 156. There were 19 Class A teams entered.

Other Milford runners placing were Harold Faught, third; Ron Harding, fourth; John Groome, 12th; Don Boyd, 19; and Ferli McCarthy, 28th.

SET FOR HALLOWEEN—These two little blond 'hobgoblins' are ready and waiting for Oct. 30 and Halloween. They are Deborah Fischer, 4 (left), and Laura Carl, 3, both of Des Moines, Iowa. Posing with some of their state's fall harvest, the girls typify the sprightly spirit of the season.

Canine Corps Growing

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:
 About 40 percent of American homes now have at least one dog. So Rover seems to be holding his own despite the increase in apartment living.

2 State Pilots Sting AF Rivals in Drone Contest

TYNDALL AIR FORCE BASE, Fla., Oct. 13—Two Michigan pilots have emerged as apple shooters in the 1963 William Tell fighter-interceptor weapons competition of the Air Force.
 They knocked down their enemy Drones with air-to-air missiles last week. The Drone is 22 feet long with a wing span of 12 feet and flies just under the speed of sound, guided by remote control.
 Knocking down the Drone were Lt. Col. William E. Shelton and radar officer 1st Lt. Robert W. Stamm of the 45th Fighter Interceptor Squadron (FIS) Wurmsmith AFB, Mich., representing the 28th Air Division of the Air Defense Command; and Capt. Edwin Capling and radar officer 1st Lt. Leon N. Long of the 62nd FIS, K. I. Sawyer AFB, Mich., representing the 39th Air Division of the Air Defense Command.

Songster Hit by Records—He Often Works for Song

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—If you want to know what a poor, miserable, wretched life a songwriter leads, you have come to the right party, because I know the guy who wrote "Fly Me to the Moon" and what do you suppose he made out of this great hit?

One penny.
 "That's right," Bart Howard, who wrote both the words and music, said: "One penny—a record. If you sell one million, that's $10,000. If you write both words and music. But that's what it sold in nine years. It would be pretty rough making $10,000 stretch out over nine years."

Bart Howard is one of ASCAP's exhibits in its fight to force jukebox operators to pay royalties on record plays.

When the copyright law was set up in 1909, there were some little earphone gadgets in penny arcades and nickelodeons which nobody ever thought would amount to much, so they didn't require them to pay any royalty. Now there's a battle in Congress over it.

Bart played piano at the Blue Angel and at Tony's in the days when Mabel Mercer was there, and thus made a living while writing songs.

"I handled the lights at the Angel, was the m.c., cleaned up a little, and played piano. I remember the two tips I got for playing piano. One was for 25c—and one for $50. I didn't look it an hour later to see what the $50 guy gave me, and I almost fell downstairs."

Brigitte Bardot'll get $500,000 for her first Joe Levine film, "Ghost at Noon." . . . A N.Y.C. businessman tried to rent a typewriter from a midtown store, and was told, "Sorry—we sent our last six to Mme. Nhu's hotel suite." . . . Peter Falk will do ten pounds to play Stalin in the Paddy Chayefsky play, "Joseph D." . . . Thelma Ritter proudly watched daughter Monica's film debut in "Take Her, She's Mine"—but Monica was too nervous to play. . . . Jack E. Leonard, due to try ballet steps on the Jimmy Dean show, couldn't find a pair of tights his size; the network finally ordered a duplicate made from a pair Jackie Gleason once wore. . . . Cassius Clay announces he's writing a serious poem about late jazz star Charlie (Yardbird) Parker. . . . Janis Paige will use her day off from "Here's Love" to scout for a home in Cape Cod.

WISH I'D SAID THAT? Lisa Kirk described her teenage niece: "She can talk on the phone for two hours—and that's when she gets a wrong number."

Students Study an Artifact

Baton Has Them All Atwirl

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—I was watching a football game on television the other day and during the half-time show I dropped off.
 I dreamed that I had been transported to the year 3963 A.D. and that I was in a classroom where the students were studying archaeology. It went like this:
 Professor: At today's seminar we shall examine the civilization that existed on the North American continent in the middle of the 20th century. I have with me one of the artifacts of that period.

Professor: No, students, none of you is on the right track.
 First student: We give up, professor. What did they use it for?
 Professor: They twirled it. Students: Whaaaaaah?
 Professor: This object was called a "baton." People held it between their fingers and twirled it.

Second student: Was that all they did with it?
 Professor: No. Sometimes they would throw it into the air and try to catch it before it hit the ground.
 Third student: You must be pulling our legs.
 "PART OF EDUCATION"
 Professor: Not for a minute. Twirling was part of the educational system. They even had tournaments to establish a twirling champion.

First student: How could anyone possibly tell whether one person was twirling better than another person?

Professor: The acid test was whether they could twirl under their legs.

Students: Under their legs?!

Professor: I know it sounds incredible, but so help me it's the truth.

Second student: How long did this particular civilization last?

Unfortunately, or maybe fortunately, I woke up before the professor had time to answer.

Fourth student: Was it an elephant's toothpick?

Professor: No, students, none of you is on the right track.

First student: We give up, professor. What did they use it for?

Professor: They twirled it. Students: Whaaaaaah?

Professor: This object was called a "baton." People held it between their fingers and twirled it.

Second student: Was that all they did with it?

Professor: No. Sometimes they would throw it into the air and try to catch it before it hit the ground.

Third student: You must be pulling our legs.

Defeat Expected U.N. Eyes Peking Seat

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The General Assembly begins today its annual debate on the seating of Red China in the United Nations. The proposal is expected to fall short of approval once again.

For the first time since the issue was raised, the resolution to seat Peking and oust Nationalist China is not being sponsored by the Soviet Union, which is embroiled in an ideological dispute with Red China. The Soviet Union will back the proposal, however.

Albania, the only European

Communist country siding with Red China in the Communist family fight, put the China question on the U.N. agenda this year. Albanian chief delegate Halim Budo planned to introduce the resolution formally before the 111-member General Assembly this afternoon.

All other Communist and some nonaligned countries were expected to speak for the resolution. Nationalist China, the United States, Costa Rica, Guatemala and others were expected to speak against it. The Soviet Union still says that Communist China has a right to be seated in the United Nations even though the two Communist giants are at odds. India also has continued to support the cause of Peking's membership despite the Chinese invasion of Northern India last year.

The Albanian resolution is expected to be voted down Wednesday. One diplomat speculated that it would get fewer favorable votes than last year and there would be more abstentions because of Peking's refusal to sign the limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

Last year's vote was 42 for the resolution, 56 against it and 12 abstaining.

Albania's resolution calls for the immediate removal of "the representatives of Chiang Kai-shek... from all United Nations organs" and an invitation to "the government of the People's Republic of China to send representatives to occupy China's place in the United Nations and all its organs."

Diplomatic sources said Albania had tried in vain to get several Arab and African countries to join her in sponsoring the resolution.

Jan. 27 Is Day Barry Will Tell Intentions

Presidential Primary in Illinois Is Test of Candidate Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater has rung Jan. 27, 1964 on his calendar as D-day for an expected plunge into active competition for the Republican presidential nomination.

That date represents the deadline for filing of petitions to put Goldwater's name in the April 14 Illinois presidential primary.

Although the Arizona senator could permit his name to go on the ballot without lifting a finger by merely failing to ask by Feb. 1 that it be withdrawn, he said in an interview that he expects to announce his intentions by Jan. 27.

The Illinois primary is advisory only and the results there technically will not be binding on the state's 58-vote delegation to the San Francisco convention.

But the importance of a show of strength in the state has been impressed on Goldwater and his strategists, Illinois, which went for President Kennedy in 1960, offers the senator his best opportunity to demonstrate vote-getting ability in a big state.

Some of his lieutenants think Illinois could provide the vital convention votes he needs to combine with support from the South, other areas of the Midwest and the Far West to win the nomination.

Goldwater has said he expects his name to be entered in the March 10 New Hampshire primary, where his consent is not required. Petitions could be filed by the end of January for this race. He is likely to be opposed by New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in a battle for the state's 14 convention votes.

If Goldwater announces he is an active candidate, he seems almost certain to enter the April 7 Wisconsin primary.

Republicans there have been talking about a favorite son candidate. Goldwater has said that if he runs he will take on any such candidate in a bid for the state's 30 convention votes.

Detroit Readies Olympic Bid With Wary Eye on 3 Rivals

BADEN-BADEN, Germany (AP)—The Detroit Olympic delegation is casting a wary eye at its rivals as it prepares to plug its case for staging the 1968 Summer Olympic Games.

"I feel quite good about our chances of landing the 1968 Olympics," Norman Warren, executive secretary of the Detroit Olympic Committee, said yesterday.

"But we are not underestimating the claims of the other three cities, especially Mexico City."

The International Olympic Committee (IOC) will decide Friday which city wins the summer Olympics.

FOUR BIDDING
Bidding for the games are Lyon, France; Detroit; Buenos Aires; and Mexico City.

About 60 people from Detroit are moving in on this German spa to try and make it "lucky seven" for Detroit. Six times Detroit has tried to get the games. And six times they failed.

"Maybe this is going to be lucky seven," said Warren as he helped unload equipment weighing nearly 5,000 pounds, with which Detroit will try to influence the delegates.

"Most of the equipment has been donated," he said. "But I suppose if you went to a commercial firm and asked to buy it, then it would cost something like $100,000. I am not saying exactly what we've got. We want this to come across vividly at our presentation."

45 MINUTES

Buenos Aires will present its case Friday, then comes Detroit, followed by Lyon and Mexico City. Each has 45 minutes to make its point.

Warren thinks that Mexico City may be Detroit's most serious rival.

"I have a funny feeling that Mexico City is the one to watch," he said. "There's the lure of Mexico City itself for tourists. It's a beautiful place and they would not have to spend much money to get everything set for the Olympics. But I still think our chances are excellent and better than ever before."

Warren said Detroit was prepared to spend as much as $100 million on the games.

Helicopters Evacuate Dam Area

BELLUNO, Italy (AP)—U. S. Army helicopters have snatched 200 residents from a village in a hazardous position on the banks of the Vovint Dam reservoir, Italian officials reported today.

The officials asked help from Army helicopters stationed in the area last night because the village of Casa had been undermined by the catastrophic overflow of the reservoir last Wednesday.

Officials feared the whole village might crash into the reservoir.

The Italian government formally convened a technical commission in Rome to investigate the disaster that took an estimated 3,000 lives.

Public Works Minister Fiorentino Sullo ordered the inquiry body to check every person and every paper connected with the dam since it was first planned years ago.

He told the commission to prepare its report by Dec. 15.

There were recurrent reports of threats of new landslides moving down from 6,000-foot Mt. Toc, on the south side of the reservoir.

But officials at Erto denied that any new landslides had broken loose. Erto, like Casa, is on the northern side of the reservoir, opposite the mountain.

Provincial authorities in Belluno and Italian army officials on the shores of the reservoir said there was no new avalanche menace beyond earth slides that have been threatening since the catastrophic avalanche hit the reservoir Wednesday night.

Poll Indicates JFK Can Beat Any Opponent

'11 Million Backers of Dick Nixon in '60
Switch Allegiance'

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy can be expected to defeat any Republican by about 4½ million popular votes in next year's presidential election, says Newsweek magazine.

The magazine said a poll showed that Kennedy has lost the support for various reasons, of some 6½ million Americans who voted for him in 1960. But it also showed he has gained the backing of 11 million persons who voted for Republican Richard M. Nixon in that election.

NET GAIN

The net gain of 4½ million votes, Newsweek said, means Kennedy can be expected to defeat any Republican by that many votes next year.

Two out of three Southern whites told Newsweek they believed Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., stands with the south on civil rights.

The magazine said Goldwater is the main beneficiary of the Southern hostility toward the President.

LEADS KENNEDY

As a prospective GOP presidential candidate, Goldwater leads Kennedy in the 11 solid Southern states by 46 per cent to 43 per cent, with 11 per cent undecided, the poll showed.

With the exception of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, other proposed Republican candidates also ran well against Kennedy in the poll.

Report Will Attack National Guard Bias

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential committee set up to act against racial discrimination in the armed services is shaping its final report and National Guard sources say they expect the Guard to be "raked over the coals."

There are reports—denied by committee officials—that the group may recommend withholding funds from any state which refuses to end segregation in its units.

If this happens, the much-buffeted President's Committee on Equal Opportunity in the Armed Forces likely will suffer new hammering from Southern members of Congress and Dixie governors.

The guard is segregated in most of the states of the old Confederacy.

The presidential committee, headed by Washington lawyer Gerhard A. Gesell, submitted an initial report June 13 recommending many measures to eliminate discrimination against Negro servicemen in areas around military bases.

The seven-man committee told Kennedy bias in the reserve and National Guard had been under intensive study. It promised that a follow-up report on this problem would be completed soon.

Sources close to National Guard affairs said they understood that report was expected by Sept. 1. Some sources suggested the White House might have passed the word to hold up the politically touchy document and perhaps tone it down.

Repeated attempts to reach Gesell were fruitless. An aide in his law office told a reporter Gesell "does not grant interviews."

Pleasant Weather Predicted for Area

The autumn you saw this weekend is going to stay about the same for the next five days—brisk and radiant.

Temperatures will average five to seven degrees above the normal highs of 63 and lows of 44 with generally mild to warm days.

There will be little or no precipitation except possible scattered showers Tuesday night or Wednesday.

The lowest temperature before 8 a.m. today was 40. By 1 p.m. it had risen to 67.

Hoffa to Ask Health Center for Teamsters

Dental, Optical Unit
Will Be Among New Contract Demands

WIRE
DETROIT—Teamster President James R. Hoffa says his next contract demand will be for a $1-million dental and optical care center to be erected and maintained by management.

The center and an increase in pension benefits will be among contract demands next month, Hoffa told members of his home Local 299 yesterday.

Also on the agenda is a fight for a shortened work week and a return to the rank-and-file AFL-CIO, from which the giant Teamsters Union was expelled.

The union leader said plans already have been formulated for the construction of the center. The union, he said, is thinking of purchasing an entire city block for the clinic. But, he added later, it might be constructed above parking lots next to Teamster headquarters.

He said the cost of the project would mean an extra $3 weekly in fringe benefits under new contracts. Current contracts, due to expire next Feb. 1, call for employer contributions of $4.30 weekly per man to the union's health and welfare fund.

SHORTER WEEK

The fight for a shorter work week—35 and ultimately 32 hours—will be conducted in congress, he said, adding that the matter is national in scope.

"It is only a matter of time until the Teamsters are back in the AFL-CIO," Hoffa added. "Nobody, including (AFL-CIO President) George Meany is big enough to keep us out."

"I think Meany is too old to remain in the labor movement as an active leader anyway. He can't think on his feet and he gets confused. I personally believe Walter Reuther is the logical man to head up the AFL-CIO."

MORE POWER

The new laws give Hoffa power to "carry out union business" when the local's executive board is not in session, and also give him the right to hire or fire at will most of the local's administrative staff.

Hoffa told the 2,000 union members present the new by-laws "may seem to lay the power in the hands of one individual" but that it was necessary because strong local rule has made the union's members "some of the highest - priced people."

SUICIDAL WHALES—Some of the 39 whales that deliberately killed themselves in the sand of the beach at Wreck Bay, Australia, lie dead. Efforts to save them by pushing them back into the water failed. The "mass suicide" of the creatures, blackfinned whales, has puzzled scientists. It occurs every two or three years.

MAKE Church Honor City, Church Honor Departing Minister

By MARY ANGLEMIER
Church Editor

The city of Pontiac paid tribute to two of its well-known citizens, Dr. and Mrs. J. Allen Parker, in a testimonial dinner at Jefferson Junior High School Saturday evening.

The congregation of Newman A.M.E. Church, where Dr. Parker served as pastor for 20 years, joined with the community in sponsoring the event.

Parker had helped young people and older folks over rough places.

"No one could have served so well unless he had depended on God for strength," were Pastor Hoover's comments.

OTHER NOTABLES

Bringing greetings from the Oakland County Ministerial Association was Rev. S. M. Edwards, Rev. Wayne Brookshear of St. Luke's Methodist Church represented the Pontiac Pastors' Association. City Commissioner Milton Henry and Dr. Howard McNeil, a former city commissioner, also spoke.

Called on for brief remarks were Charles Harris, president of Pontiac Area Urban League; Dr. Walter Godsell, president of the Pontiac Board of Education; and Mary Anglemier, church editor of The Pontiac Press.

Dr. Parker leaves his post in Pontiac to become presiding elder for the Indiana Conference. He will have under his jurisdiction some 30 churches in the northern half of the state, including Indianapolis.

Men of the Newman Church Ushers Club, wearing brief white jackets, served the 400 guests seated at tables for six. Arrangements of gold and bronze baby chrysanthemums and brilliant red sumac leaves centered the tables.

Laughter and a bit of sadness tinged the two-minute talks of community leaders, friends and neighbors as they recalled pleasant happenings over the years and asked God's blessing on the Parkers' future undertaking.

Rev. Robert W. Hoover, assistant pastor of the Newman church, spoke of the many young couples Dr. Parker had married, of the baptisms and his great interest in children.

He also spoke of how Dr.

introduced Rev. and Mrs. Arlong N. Reid, the new pastor and his wife.

Dr. Parker responded to the presentation from his congregation by Clifford Milburn.

"With a heart filled with gratitude and a humble spirit," he said, "I say thank you very much. I'm sorry to leave this congregation which I love. We have our new church, and I'm hoping you will build a youth center."

'REMEMBER FAITH'

Dr. Parker went on to say he felt he had done some good here, and asked his friends and congregation to remember him not for his faults but for his faith and aspirations.

The Newman Youth Choir and citywide Choir Union sang several selections.

Toastmaster Noble closed the dinner. "I have known Dr. Parker many years. He is the living exemplification of what he preaches. This testimonial dinner is well deserved."

Rev. William Long gave the invocation and Rev. Roy Cummings pronounced the benediction.

The Newman Youth Choir and citywide Choir Union sang several selections.

Dr. and Mrs. Parker and children, Soudane and Jacobium, will make their home at 1949 Willard, Gary, Ind. One of the two older sons, Joseph Jr., will remain in social service here. Toastmaster Allen D. Noble

Aged Woman in Fieri Death

Man in Saigon Also Attempts to Kill Self

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—An old woman burned herself to death under mysterious circumstances in Saigon during the weekend, and a man tried to burn himself to death in a market place yesterday, police sources reported.

Police arrested the man before he could light the match.

Accounts of the woman's death varied. Government officials said she was an insane old woman from Dinh Tong Province who set fire to herself in the kitchen of a Saigon apartment on Saturday.

An official said the burning had no political significance, and that "suicide by burning is common in South Viet Nam."

Another account placed the burning at a main street intersection in the capital.

THIRD VERSION

According to a third version, the woman set fire to herself Friday night inside a pagoda near the city. The body was taken to the residence of a cabinet minister, this account said.

Police sources said a man whom they did not identify tried to set fire to his gasoline-soaked clothing yesterday at the An Dong market in the Chinese section of Saigon.

Tension in Saigon mounted, and reports of new political arrests continued security officials believe the opening visit of a U.N. investigation team will spark demonstrations and violence throughout the country.

The U.N. team is to investigate charges that the government has persecuted Buddhists.

Car Crashes Into Tractor; Five Injured

Five persons were injured early yesterday morning when a car smashed into the rear of a farm tractor on Auburn road in Avon Township.

All are in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Injured were the driver of the car, Clyde F. Ballard, 38, of 28840 Edward, Madison Heights, and his passengers, Marion Calvert, 35, and Hugh Clark, 42, both of Pontiac.

On the tractor were Paul B. Crane, 16, of 1025 Washington, and Cecil A. Schelle, 16, of 1071 E. Tienken, both of Avon Township.

The accident occurred at 12:30 a.m. just west of Wallbridge.

Berlin Trucks Moving Again

BERLIN (UPI)—A U.S. Army convoy rolled from Berlin to West Germany today, cleared speedily by Soviet guards outside Berlin at the checkpoint where another convoy was held up for 33 hours last week.

No trouble was expected at the second Soviet checkpoint at the West German border, where last week's blocked convoy spent almost 19 hours.

The 141 soldiers in the 26-vehicle U.S. convoy dismantled for a head count by Russian Russian control officers at Babenberg on the West Berlin end of the 110-mile highway to West Germany.

The difference was the size of the convoy. The United States permits its men to dismount and be counted voluntarily when the convoy is large, but insists that they be counted in their vehicles when it is small.

Last week, there were 61 men—by U.S. standards, a "small" convoy, but apparently by Soviet standards a large one, because they held it up for two days in a vain attempt to force the men to dismount.

Today's convoy was large enough to dispel any doubt—149 men in 26 vehicles.

Informal sources said there was no intention of holding off troop movements to and from Berlin, which are guaranteed under four-power agreement.

Two Bandits Rob Patrons, Bar of $546

Two armed bandits robbed nine patrons in a Pontiac bar yesterday morning and escaped with $546 after firing one warning shot.

The wallets of all the customers in the Driftwood Bar, 334 East Blvd., were taken in the 1:48 a.m. robbery. About $215 of the loot was taken from the bar's cash register.

The bandit, Sheryl Lineman, told Pontiac police that the two men entered the bar shortly before a closing time and said to "freeze."

Both were wearing dark scarves over their faces. The customers were told to throw their wallets on the floor and then lie down.

The victims of the robbery were Leo Lineman, 34, of 915 Melrose; Ira J. Cunningham, 39, of 409 Oak; Harold C. Breidiller, 40, of 202 Seward; Tony Pietz, 50, of 361 S. Marshall; Francis McClure, 54, of 409 Raeburn, and his wife Ruth; Sidney Reitano, 43, of 148 Wall; James Blaxo, 41, of 4306 Richland; and Everett McDowell, 37, of 9872 Palmore, Union Lake.

Crash Hurts Area Man

A Union Lake man is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital after being injured last night when his car overturned near White Lake Township.

Stewart G. Lindsey, 31, of 1408 Chaprice suffered an injury to his shoulder and scalp cuts in the 9:27 p.m. accident.

Lindsey told a sheriff's deputy his car rolled over when he tried to corner a curve after his brakes failed.

Public Hearing Tonight to Air Zoning Request

BIRMINGHAM — A request for rezoning to permit construction of additional shopping facilities on the east side of Southfield road of 14 Mile will be considered at a public hearing tonight.

Owner Frederic K. Graef, who petitioned for the change from non retail business to neighborhood business, claims he has been unable to find prospective tenants for an office building there.

Graef has owned the four lots in question for 10 years. He wants to construct a building containing four or five business units on the undeveloped property.

The Birmingham Planning Board has recommended that the rezoning be approved.

RESIDENTS OBJECT

However, residents of the area notably those in the Birmingham Crestview Subdivision Association, have objected to the alteration.

They are arguing that the change would depreciate abutting properties substantially and increase traffic and congestion in an area already carrying more than its share of traffic.

The residents have also stated that they feel no need for additional retail development in the area.

TRAFFIC AMOUNT

Both of the uses in question would bring equal amounts of traffic, one to services and the other to goods, according to the board which sees no traffic problem in the area now.

The board also pointed out in its recommendation that other neighborhood shopping districts are more extensive than this one.

The first request for rezoning of the four lots was made in 1957 shortly after the original zoning ordinance was adopted.

Firm Founder Expires at 78

Floyd Beardslee, founder of the Beardslee Gravel Co., Bloomfield Township, died Saturday after a brief illness. He was 78.

A member of Central Methodist Church, Waterford Township, Mr. Beardslee lived at 725 E. Square Lake, Bloomfield Township.

He belonged to Pontiac Lodge No. 21, F & AM, and the Pontiac White Shrine.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Donald S. Brownlee of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. John S. Malcolm of Grosse Pointe; two brothers, Elmer of West Branch and Cassius of Milford; and two grandchildren.

Service will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at Mr. Beardslee's home, with burial following in Franklin Cemetery. His body will be at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, Pontiac, until tomorrow.

Hearing Set for Man in Rape Case

A preliminary examination for a Pontiac man charged with rape will be held Wednesday in Bloomfield Township Justice Court.

Louis Milton Jr., 31, of 404 Bagley was accused Saturday after a Bloomfield Township woman said he was the man who raped her April 12.

Milton was arrested after leading police on a chase in the area of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Saturday morning.

Police from seven area departments converged on the area about 6 a.m. after receiving a report of a prowler at a Bloomfield Township home on East Highland.

15-MINUTE CHASE

The chase began on the east side of Woodward and ended on Nebraska in Pontiac 15 minutes later.

Milton, a factory worker, demanded an examination at his arraignment before Justice Alice Gilbert Saturday. She set bail on Milton at $50,000, which was not furnished.

Pontiac police said they would question Milton about the rape of a 31-year-old mother of two who was dragged from her home in the Beaudette Park area Sept. 14.

'MISTAKEN'

Rockefeller said Sunday night that Goldwater was mistaken. He said he hoped the senator would change his mind.

Meanwhile the chairman of the Republican National Committee said he would not object if Rockefeller and Goldwater wanted to discuss differences within the party.

"I've always been of the school that the party suffers from underexposure," Rep. William E. Miller of New York said.

Rebates Goldwater insisted that debates should be with Democrats, not with other Republicans.

Goldwater said that if Rockefeller had thought it through, he might have decided that intra-party debates could split the party.

Russia May Push Expulsion of China

From Our News Wires

MOSCOW — World Communist leaders meet here next month to begin talks which may lead to Peking's expulsion from the world's major Communist parties.

LONDON (UPI)—Reports continue to circulate in Red China circles today that Mao Tse-tung may quit as active leader of the Chinese communist party. His close collaborator, President Liu Shao-chi, is considered the most likely candidate to succeed him in the powerful party post.

The Moscow-led Communist Party informed sources said yesterday in further confirmation of a week-old report.

The world's major Communist parties—with the probable exception of Communist

China and its allies — are sending high level delegations here between Nov. 7 and 15 for the 46th anniversary of the Russian revolution.

Sources said the parties would make one more effort to bring about another Soviet-Chinese meeting to try and resolve the dispute.

Such a meeting, however, is likely to be as unsuccessful as last summer's ideological talks here.

If this last attempt breaks down, the sources said, a call will be issued for a final meeting of the world's 86 Communist parties to take up the question of China's expulsion.

Western observers calculate that the Soviets have the support of at least 72 of these parties.

CREATE RIVAL

But expulsion of Peking would be bound to create a rival international, headed by China and containing its supporters—including at least North Korea, North Viet Nam, Albania, and the Japanese Communist party.

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, partially confirmed the report of the November meeting yesterday when it published a speech by French party leader Maurice Thorez, who is expected to head the French delegation here.

He said "We shall decisively support the convocation of the forthcoming international conference which will again confirm the principles of the policy of the Communist movement."

Injured were the driver of the car, Clyde F. Ballard, 38, of 28840 Edward, Madison Heights, and his passengers, Marion Calvert, 35, and Hugh Clark, 42, both of Pontiac.

On the tractor were Paul B. Crane, 16, of 1025 Washington, and Cecil A. Schelle, 16, of 1071 E. Tienken, both of Avon Township.

The accident occurred at 12:30 a.m. just west of Wallbridge.

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Cabinet minister Surrender Kumar Dey of India arrived yesterday for a week's visit at the University of Michigan.

Sidney Harris, syndicated columnist, will be featured speaker of the event at 9:30 a.m. Friday. Thursday will be devoted to various workshop sessions.

NATIONAL WEATHER — It will be generally fair over most of the nation tonight. Scattered showers and thunderstorms are expected in the eastern sections of the north and central Plains. Occasional rain is expected along the Pacific Coast from northern California to the border and showers are in prospect for the northern Rockies and the northern Great Basin.

Won't Impose on New Regime

Adenauer 'Will Fade Away'

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Notes from the foreign news cables:
TO FADE AWAY
Look for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to fade away from the Bonn political scene.
His family and friends have warned him that public reaction would not be sympathetic if he tried to criticize the new government of Ludwig Erhard from the sidelines.

Adenauer apparently has gotten the idea. He now says that his advice is available, but Erhard will have to ask him, because he does not want to impose himself on the new cabinet.

Erhard, however, has no intention of asking him.

HOT WORDS ONLY

Morocco and Algeria are exchanging hot words over their border dispute but it is not expected to lead to a hot war.

The area in which clashes have been reported is mostly desert and despite existing maps the official borderline never has been really settled.

SOVIET TRADE

Russia may be expected to look for more American and allied goods once the wheat deal has really firmed up.

There are hints Russia may be interested in cotton and above all in industrial goods.

Russians will be followed by the satellites who long since have been restrained by the Russians who call the signals.

The way now seems open for them to line up, not only for wheat but for other purchases as well on this side of the Iron Curtain.

TIME HEALS ALL

The current break in relations between the Philippines and the new Malaysian Federation is not expected to last long.

The Philippines broke with the new federation because of a long-time Philippines claim to North Borneo which was included in the new nation.

But the Filipinos have no such strong feelings on the issue as have been exhibited by Indonesia which also broke relations with Malaysia, and now are expected to do what they can to patch up relations all around.

The Philippine government is believed trying to engineer an other summit meeting among the three to restore the peace.

JAPANESE ELECTIONS

Japan's ruling Liberal Democratic party (conservative) is expected to engineer general elections in the country soon.

Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda is riding a current wave of popularity as a result of his recent swing through Southeast Asia. The country is suffering from inflation but not enough yet to disturb the public.

Both the Conservatives and the Socialists have taken to the hustings in anticipation of the elections which have not yet been declared.

The Socialists have been gaining election by election but current trends seem to put them at least 10 years away from power.

Movieland Marriage

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Gossip columnists and movie fans today had to move fast to keep up with marriages, separations and new additions in the Hollywood set.

Actress June Allyson, 39, returned to work on a television role after a one-day honeymoon with her new husband, hair stylist Glenn Maswell, 31.

The actress, widowed last

January by the death of actor Dick Powell, and the barber were married in a civil ceremony at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Saturday.

Also honeymooning were Connie Stevens, 24, and actor James Stacy, 27, who tied the knot Saturday at the St. Francis de Sales Roman Catholic Church in suburban Sherman Oaks. It was one of Hollywood's biggest weddings in recent years.

HAVE SEPARATED

Actress Jane Wyman, once married to actor Ronald Reagan, and her husband, musical composer Fred Karger, have separated. Karger said he saw little chance for a reconciliation.

The couple married in 1952, divorced two years later and remarried in 1961.

In New York, actress Joan Collins, the wife of actor Anthony Newley, gave birth Saturday to a 7-pound, 11-ounce girl in Mount Sinai Hospital. Both were reported in fine condition.

The Elizabeth Taylor-Richard Burton-Eddie Fisher triangle was status quo. The singer said in Las Vegas that his wife informed him in a telephone conversation that she was in "no hurry" to get a divorce.

School Tax Vote Today

ROME — Qualified voters in the Romep School District have until 8 p.m. today to cast their ballots on a request for renewal of a four-mill operational tax.
If approved, the millage will be levied for five years, and maintain the school's present level of 11 mills for operational purposes.
The total tax rate of 23.28 mills will not be increased if the issue passes, according to Schools Superintendent T. C. Fippula.

Area Officers Will Discuss Law Problems

Wayne County Sheriff Peter L. Buback will be guest speaker tomorrow at the monthly meeting of the Oakland County Law Enforcement Association.
The 6:45 p.m. program will be held at the Kingsley Inn in Bloomfield Hills.
Buback will discuss the role of the sheriff department in present day law enforcement and stress the need for cooperation between local departments.

Association president Lee Be-Gole, Novi police chief, has extended an invitation to attend the meeting to all police officers in the county.

House Fire Causes $5,500 in Damage

Fire at 12:05 a.m. today caused an estimated $5,500 damage to the house of Charles Saliba, 215 Leota, Waterford Township, and an additional $2,000 damage to contents.
Family members, aroused from sleep by the smell of smoke, left the house through a rear window. Their dog perished in the blaze.
Firemen, who battled the blaze in the cement block house for over two hours, said the fire was caused by a defective oil-burning space heater. Four trucks answered the call.

Supervisors to Consider Action for Home Rule

County supervisors will begin laying strategy for proposed county home rule legislation in a committee meeting tomorrow. The board of supervisors legislative committee will consider a resolution by a similar Wayne County group asking Gov. Romney to call a special session of the legislature.
The Wayne County group is seeking enabling legislation this fall to form home rule charter commissions in those counties interested.
County home rule has been sought by many supervisors in Oakland, Wayne and other counties for several years as a means of making the counties more independent of the legislature in matters of local government.
While the new state constitution allows county home rule, it leaves it up to the legislature to decide how it might be achieved.
Those seeking home rule for Oakland County want general legislation that would leave it up to county voters to decide what specific governmental changes would be included in a county charter.
Several Oakland County supervisors have expressed the fear that the Wayne County Board will seek too restrictive legislation.
In other action, the Oakland County committee will consider a recommendation by the Northville Board of Education that families living in house trailers be required to pay school taxes for the education of their children.
