Over Half Polled Think K at U.N. Was Big Flop

By JOHN KRAFT
"I didn't think Khrushchev belonged here!"—said an elderly man in Nodaway County, Missouri.
"Like it or not, the United Nations headquarters is in America. As a matter of fact, we fought hard at one time to get it placed here. And like him or not, Nikita Khrushchev is not only the head of the Soviet government, but he was the head of the Russian delegation to the General Assembly of the United Nations."

Kennedy Raps Nixon Changes

Dem Candidate Calls Rival's Public Record Beyond Definitions

WITH KENNEDY IN PENNSYLVANIA (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy declared today Richard M. Nixon's "record of public action is so changeable and contradictory that his political philosophy defies definition."
The Democratic presidential nominee told a New Castle, Pa., audience estimated by police at more than 10,000 that Vice President Nixon yesterday described himself in Los Angeles as a "practical progressive" but that five months ago he classified himself as an "economic conservative."

"I cannot believe that the American people in these difficult times will choose a man with this fuzzy image of his own political philosophy," the senator asserted.

"Rather, I believe they will elect a candidate whose own philosophy and that of his party—the Democratic party—has been consistent in the peoples' interest at home and abroad."

Kennedy motored today in Western Pennsylvania in heavy autumn sunshine greeted by applauding crowds along much of the route. One woman rushed out as he drove between Sharon and New Castle and handed him a cake.

The Democratic candidate said it would not be surprising if the American people were confused by the "abundance of definitions" the vice president has given of his personal philosophy.

Nixon Highly Encouraged by Turnout in California

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon heads back across the continent today, highly encouraged by his intensive hunt for votes in California.
Nixon flew from Los Angeles Friday night. His schedule called for speeches here, in Tulsa and in Springfield, Ill., before finally pulling into Hartford, Conn., to spend the night and Sunday.

There were three major developments in the Nixon camp Friday:
1. Nixon drew such large and enthusiastic crowds—200,000 lined the downtown streets—that it was described as the finest day he ever had in Los Angeles. This is highly important to Nixon, for California's big batch of 23 electoral votes are hanging in the balance.

2. The vice president brought his position nearer that of administration policy on Matsuo and Quemooy. Administration policy is that if an attack on Matsuo and Quemooy is recognized as the beginning of an assault on Formosa and the Pseudoceros, they will be defended.

In Nixon's first speeches he was saying not an inch of territory should be yielded to the Communists. Friday he kept hammering away on the same subject but without saying, as he did earlier in the week, that there should be absolutely no retreat.

Mac Sees Need for a Summit on Berlin Woes

But Believes Meeting Could Bring Agreement Only on Principles

SCARBOROUGH, England (UPI)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said today another summit meeting should be called to discuss the Berlin problem.
But he said neither summit meetings nor United Nations General Assembly discussion on disarmament could do more than agree on principles.

The practical details of disarmament, Macmillan said, must be worked out in small committees of experts.

Macmillan, who returned last week from the United Nations in New York, reported to the final meeting of the Conservative party's annual convention on the General Assembly and his meetings with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

BETTER THAN EXPECTED?

He, along with a large number of people from coast to coast, was asked this question:
"Would you say that Khrushchev at the United Nations debate did better than you had expected, or not?"

The varied answers to this question about the success or failure of Khrushchev's tactics in the General Assembly debates provide the fact that 91 per cent of those people interviewed, happily, were aware that the important debating between the West and the East was going on at the U.N.

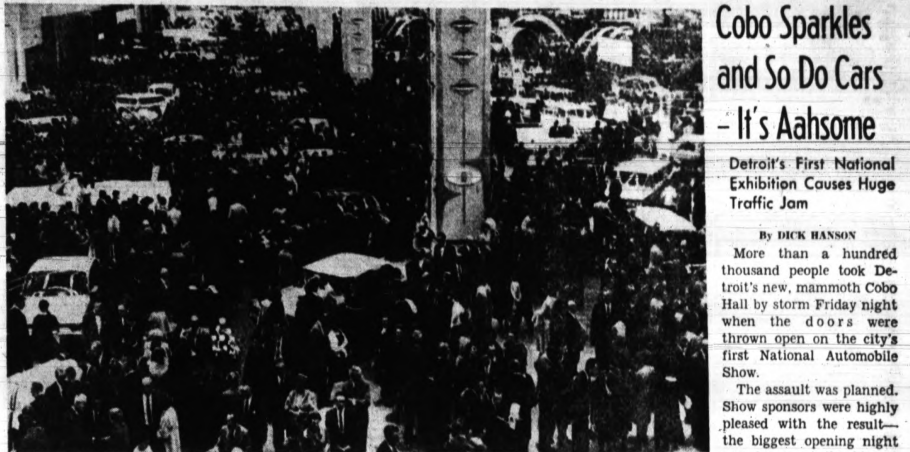

But somewhat more important is the fact that, of those people interviewed, 56 per cent replied that Khrushchev did not do better than they had expected him to do.

A significant 36 per cent of the people were uncertain about the answer to that question. And only 8 per cent said he had performed at the U.N. in a way better than they had expected.

There were further varied reactions about the fast-pounding performances of Chairman Khrushchev and also about the mood of emotions by Cuba's Fidel Castro.

CONCERNED BY 'ANTICS'

Thirty-eight per cent of those people talked to by Kraft researchers in the recent weeks of the international debates were more concerned about what may be called Khrushchev's "antics" (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

More than 200 new cars and trucks were on exhibit.

Reds Release U.S. Tourists but Detention to Bring Protest

Carrier, Planes Look for 'Sub'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is expected to protest to the Soviet Union against the detention of two Americans traveling as tourists who were held incommunicado by Soviet authorities for seven weeks.

The State Department appeared to be proceeding cautiously in the case, however. Officials said they wanted to get a full report from Harvey C. Bennett and Mark I. Kaminsky before taking action.

The two men were ousted at the Soviet-Czechoslovak border town of Uhrogorod. American embassies at Vienna and Prague were alerted to give all possible help to the two.

"IN FORBIDDEN ZONE" The Soviet report to the embassy conceded that Bennett and Kaminsky had been detained since Aug. 25. They were held in a "forbidden zone."

The Soviets charged that films and notebooks were taken from Kaminsky which showed he had been gathering information on military objectives.

Therefore, the Soviet report to the embassy said, Kaminsky was accused of violating Article II of the law on state crimes—understood to be a law against espionage under which U2 pilot the boy himself, I hold myself back."

The two men may be brought to Washington for a discussion of their experience, State Department officials said.

The Soviet Foreign Office told the U.S. Embassy in Moscow Friday that Bennett, of Bath, Maine, and Kaminsky, from Edwardsburg, Mich., had been expelled from the Soviet Union.

In Edwardsburg distrust of the Soviet government is preventing Kaminsky's family from being fully relieved by word of his release.

"I am happy, of course," said Mrs. Ignace Kaminsky, Mark's elderly mother. "But I really won't believe anything until I see Francis Gary Powers was convicted. Kaminsky was turned over to a court and then expelled, along with Bennett, from the Soviet Union. It was not clear whether he had been tried by the court or whether his expulsion was ordered merely after investigation.

HONOLULU (AP)—A Navy hunter-killer task force, led by the carrier Kearsarge, steamed through the Pacific today, searching for an unidentified underwater object that could be a submarine or a school of fish.

By early morning, nothing had been sighted by the big carrier, models of cars and trucks stood out in stark relief across the treacherous sea.

The Kearsarge was alerted at Long Beach, Calif., late Friday and sailed so suddenly for San Diego to pick up three squadrons of search planes that part of the crew was left in port.

First report of the mysterious object came a week ago when the crew of an Air Force plane reported it saw a submarine, a Navy spokesman said. The Navy would not say where the sighting was made, only that it was in international waters.

Since then, "there hasn't been any constant contact, but there have been repeated reports of contacts in the area," the spokesman said.

"At this time, nobody can say this is a sub or it is not a sub. The only way to be sure is for someone to take a picture of it while it's on the surface."

A Navy source said that the Soviet Union—Communist China now have about 100 submarines operating in the Pacific.

Russians Await Report From K

Radio-Television Talk on Events at U.N. Is Likely at Any Time

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Russian people today awaited a first-hand report from Premier Nikita Khrushchev on his trip to the United Nations which was described by the Soviet press and radio as "historic."

The globe-trotting premier's customary radio-television address to the people might be delivered at any time—today, Monday or even later.

Khrushchev, who returned to Moscow from New York Friday, was reported conferring with top party and government officials.

Diplomatic circles said they believed the Soviet leader's public address will be milder in tone than some of those he delivered during his 25-day visit to New York.

The diplomats thought it was unlikely that Khrushchev's speech would reflect any major change in Soviet policy.

Khrushchev's next scheduled public appearance will be Oct. 23, at a session of the Supreme Soviet ("legislature") of the Russian Republic, largest "state" in the Soviet Union.

Television Gag Short, but Sour to 47 Viewers

LONDON (UPI)—Television star Chan Canasta told his audience Friday night, "I have here an informal machine which destroys TV tubes."

Canasta then blew into an instrument and thousands of television sets around London went black.

They all came back on again about 40 seconds later with Canasta explaining it was all a gag.

But not before 47 viewers had phoned the British Broadcasting Company to complain that, "You've ruined our sets."

Strip's Artist Is Dead

'Boots' Says Farewell

"Boots and Her Buddies," one of the nation's long-time favorite comic strips, will disappear from the daily entertainment scene today.

This will be the last time readers of The Pontiac Press and many other newspapers will follow the day-to-day events of the popular comic strip.

The creator of Boots and Her Buddies, Edgar E. Martin, died Aug. 30, and no other cartoonist will carry on the daily strip.

Nearly every successful comic strip artist has at least one assistant. Usually such an assistant will step into the breach and carry on the strip after the death of its creator.

Boots made her debut on Feb. 18, 1924. At the time of Martin's death his strip was running in approximately 450 daily papers and 250 Sunday papers.

Because of this, because so much of Martin's character was expressed in the strip, Newspaper Enterprise Association, which syndicates "Boots and Her Buddies," decided against having the version carried on by another artist.

Peace in Accord on Quemoy and Matsu

White House Says Letter Shows Defense Ideas Alike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon are in complete agreement about U.S. policy toward the Quemoy and Matsu islands, which have become a major issue in the presidential campaign, the White House reported today.

The White House said the President and Nixon had discussed the issue in a telephone conversation Friday after it had been kept boiling in Thursday night's TV debate between the vice president and Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Presidential News Secretary James C. Hagerly distributed copies of a letter, originally made public two years ago, from Eisenhower to Sen. Theodore F. Green, D-R.I., then chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

"The position of the President and the vice president on this matter is exactly as stated in the letter the President sent to Sen. Green on Oct. 5, 1958," Hagerly said.

QUOTES ONE SENTENCE

He reminded that Kennedy had quoted one sentence from that letter in the debate Thursday night.

To support his argument that the United States should not commit itself to defend the islands from attack by Chinese Communists, Kennedy quoted a sentence in which the President told Green:

"Neither you nor any other American need feel that the United States will be involved in a military commitment merely in defense of Quemoy or Matsu."

Hagerly said the President believes that to correctly state his position requires reading the entire letter, not just one sentence.

"I asked for the complete letter," Hagerly said, "and the Democratic nominee had distorted the President's position, Hagerly refused to go any further."

The two-year-old letter to Green noted that the Rhode Island senator felt that Quemoy was not vital to the defense of the Nationalist base at Formosa or the United States, that the United States would be without allies in a war over the islands and that a war would not command the support of the American people.

He went on to point out that the Formosa resolution approved by Congress in 1955 gave him a specific authority to deal with the threat of war in the Formosa area including the offshore islands.

Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, noted that the Formosa resolution approved by Congress in 1955 gave him a specific authority to deal with the threat of war in the Formosa area including the offshore islands.

with the President on this. The Senate voted not to tie the President's hand, if this policy has worked for five years, this is not the time to change it."

One of the main points that Sen. John F. Kennedy has been making is that Nixon's proposals were further than that of the Eisenhower administration.

3. Nixon used Dwight D. Eisenhower's 70th birthday to announce that the President has agreed to give his "wise guidance and rich experience" if the Republicans keep control of the White House.

"I have consulted with him and have his assurance," Nixon said in a speech to the World News Forum in New York, "that after his lifetime of dedicated service to our country, he will remain ready—after leaving the White House—to continue his heroic work for peace and freedom."

Nixon didn't say what he had in mind for Eisenhower, but there ought of him might be a sort of unofficial foreign ambassador.

56 Per Cent Polled Say K Was Big Flop

or just plain bad manners — that with any other single thing.

A housewife interviewed in South Carolina, who was asked about her reaction to Khrushchev's appearance at the U.N., replied in a violent and excited manner: "Have I followed the U.N. in their and how! Khrushchev acts just like a pig! He's very unpolite!"

Trailing this concern with "antics" in the minds of the people, was a serious judgment that the Soviet leader "did not get his way."

Thirty-four per cent of the folks talked to felt that Khrushchev had failed to make his points and had not won out.

One way of expressing this adverse criticism was made by a Bostonian who said:

"The only thing I know is just from what I've read, and it's about how he's not getting everything his own way and all that. What I mean is that he just ain't getting all he's asking for — that's what I mean."

This is not the most articulate statement of this concern of many people, but it goes deep.

MORE SPECIFIC

A little more specific are these words from a man in Elyria, Ohio:

"Those Communists are still pig-headed and they still refuse to see the other person's point of view. They are doing nothing cooperative and they are not making any progress. I was happily surprised by Macmillan's speech and I am certainly proud of him. This will also deter the Russians and their allies."

Two more figures are of interest. Seven per cent of those people interviewed felt that "communism is slipping."

In view of the tremendous importance of the issue of "prestige" of the United States versus the "prestige" of the Communists, the current American presidential race, it is of value to note that only this percentage of 7 but the actual word "slipping."

New Fisher Local Hall Nearly Ready

The $97,000 hall for Fisher Body Local 596 (UAW) should be completed in a week or 10 days, according to Gerald W. Kehoe, local president.

Completed on the exterior, the hall is now being painted in the interior, said Kehoe.

The white brick, one-story structure on Baldwin Avenue, south of the Fisher Body Division plant, was started June 23, with A. N. Hickman, Inc., as general contractor.

The local's headquarters for many years has been in a converted home next door at 821 Baldwin.

The hall will have a seating capacity of 380.

Two Men Injured When Cars Crash

Two men were injured Tuesday evening in a two-car accident at the intersection of Osburn and Paddock streets.

Both suffered possible brain concussions.

The pair, Gary D. Kudryk, 17, of 3531 Watkins Lake Road, Waterford Township, and Roger Landry, 17, 256 Cottage St., were reported in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Kudryk's car, traveling west on Osburn, collided with one driven by Loyal D. Johnson, 38, of 51 Michigan Ave., headed north on Paddock.

Landry was a passenger in Kudryk's car.

The accident occurred at 7:05 p.m.

Woman Loses Jewelry Worth Some $6,500

As Mrs. David J. Alan of Detroit got out of her car in the Pontiac General Hospital parking lot last night, she looked to make sure that a string of pearls for her daughter was in her handbag.

Mrs. Alan presented the pearls to her daughter, Mrs. Charles Alan, 286 Ottawa Dr., who is undergoing an examination at the hospital.

Later in the evening she discovered she had lost a black cosmetic bag containing two wedding rings valued at $4,000 and a bracelet ring valued at $2,500.

She apparently lost the valuable jewelry when she opened her purse in the hospital parking lot, she told police.

The jewelry still was missing today.

Hearst Corp. Buys Albany Competitor Red China 'Will Aid'

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Zerkat Abbas, premier of the Algerian rebel government in exile, told the morning newspaper, Al-Ahram, that Communist China "will aid the Algerian people without any reservation."

Richard Berlin, president of the Hearst Corp., said the Knickerbocker News would continue to be published as a separate newspaper, keeping its individual editorial presentation of opinions and would continue to use the Gannett News Service office.

In announcing the sale, the Press Co., a subsidiary of Gannett, said that, as in many other cases, it became clear that two independent newspapers could not be operated economically in Albany under present conditions.

NO U. S. HELP

A man in Memphis, Tenn., said:

"I have seen how they have done something in every country and the underdeveloped countries, like engineers and experts. Maybe I'd better say interfered . . . And the U.S. has failed to help those countries."

So it looks like this: for those people who were impressed, favorably or unfavorably, by Khrushchev at the U.N., the reasons were:

Bad manners . . . 38%. Didn't get his way . . . 34%. Slipping . . . 7%. Impressed little nations . . . 8%. And, further, there were 12 per cent who simply called Khrushchev a liar, 5 per cent who thought he was clever and 6 per cent who thought he was fairly shrewd.

The Day in Birmingham $4 Million School Bond Vote in Bloomfield Hills

BIRMINGHAM — A $4 million school bond proposal will be placed before voters in the Bloomfield Hills School District in January.

The special election has been tentatively by the Bloomfield Hills Board of Education for Jan. 30.

A new junior high school, an elementary school, additions to the high school and three elementary schools, and five future school sites would be financed by the $4,135,000 bond issue, the board explained in announcing its decision to hold the election.

A 4-year building program is planned by the board.

By that time, the new schools and additions could accommodate 3,600 pupils. Currently there are 2,622 students attending classes at all levels in the school district.

A survey made by Michigan State University indicated that anticipated growth in the school district will be more than 5,100 pupils by 1965-66.

ESTIMATE COSTS

The planned second junior high school will cost an estimated $1,300,000 and accommodate 600. The addition to the high school would increase capacity by more than 1,000 and cost an estimated $1,020,000.

Some 350 students could occupy the planned elementary school. It would cost about $550,000.

The three additions to the present elementary schools would increase overall capacity in the district by 825. Total cost of the additions would be approximately $600,000.

At least $400,000 from the bond issue would be set aside for the school site purchases.

Total cost of new building additions and site purchases is $1,000,000 above the figure to be placed on the January ballot. However, that amount remains from a previous bond issue and will be applied to the building program if approved.

The Marian High School Mother's Club will hold its first card party of the season Oct. 26 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. Lahnier Road near Lincoln Road.

Proceeds from the public card party will go toward the language laboratory fund, established last year.

Cochairmen for the evening will be Mrs. Vincent Flaherty and Mrs. James Garrett.

Eight-minute class periods will be attended Monday by members of the Bloomfield Hills Junior High School Parent Teacher Organization during an abbreviated schedule of their child's daily routine.

Purpose of the program is to have parents meet their child's teachers and learn about school operations and objectives.

Classes will begin at 8 p.m. Oct. 26. Coffee will be served in the cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

They refused to identify the nations responsible, but said the practice was extensive enough to describe it as "general."

new models became apparent as the crowd lessened.

Pretty girls and lavish settings set off the new models. More than 300 cars and trucks for 1961 were on display, many for the first time.

New compact cars, including the premiering Pontiac Tempest, drew the immediate interest of the first-nighters.

A striking Tempest display with the unitized body suspended from the chassis showed to advantage the 50-50 distribution of weight made possible by placing the transmission over the rear axle.

Connecting the transmission to the front-mounted four-cylinder engine is a revolutionary, flexible driveshaft, which virtually eliminates the floor hump.

Altogether the 1961 products of 29 automobile manufacturers and all the leading makes of trucks, including the new compact, are being shown in the show which lasts through Oct. 23.

The models are displayed in settings of Americana, spiced with the occasional foreign background.

Overall theme of the show is "Wheels of Freedom." It will be sent out over the world in the form of special commemorative stamps. The new compact, are being shown in the show which lasts through Oct. 23.

150,000 Turn Out in 384 Cities, Towns to Honor Slain Socialist Head

TOKYO (AP)—More than 150,000 laborers, Socialists and students staged mournful demonstrations in 384 cities and towns to day against the assassination of Socialist chairman Inejiro Asanuma.

The biggest was in Tokyo, where police estimated 80,000 marched through the streets in three waves from midday to early evening.

The nationwide turnout fell far short of the 200,000 expected. Organizers had announced 100,000 would march in Tokyo alone.

Workshop rallies by government employees also were held at many places.

The parades, preceded by a minute of silence and prayers for Asanuma, 61, who died at the hands of a 17-year-old rightist fanatic Wednesday, were generally orderly.

Extremist students who tried to stir up trouble in Tokyo were gruffly told by union workers that violence might cause reaction against them in the coming Nov. 20 general election in which the Socialists hope to score an impressive sympathy vote as a result of the assassination.

The President hoped to get in more golf today. He played 18 holes Friday afternoon with retired Brig. Gen. Arthur Nevins, overseer of the Eisenhower farm. Eisenhower returns to Washington Sunday. He takes off Monday on a nine-day coast to coast trip.

Compact Cars Run 31.7 Pct. This Week

DETROIT (AP)—Compact cars accounted for 31.7 per cent of all cars built this week, Ward's Automotive Reports said. Ward's said production was 140,150 cars, or 6 per cent above last week; and that the compact's share was 47,370 cars.

The statistical agency broke down the compact production as follows: Ford's Falcon and Comet 17,400, American Motors' Rambler and Studebaker-Packard's Lark 13,020; 6,500 from Buick, Oldsmobile and Pontiac of General Motors, and 5,700 Chrysler Valiants and Lancers.

The week's production compared with 140,832 for last week and 133,450 for the same period last year.

Wards said truck production rose by 4.9 per cent this week. The production was given as 18,769 this week as against 17,936 last week.

Legion Chief Urges Toughness in Cuba

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The American Legion's commander says a head-on approach is the only way to handle Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro and Communist ambitions in the Caribbean.

Martin B. McKeenly of Newburg, N. Y., told a news conference on the eve of the Legion's 42nd annual convention that "the United States has got to make up its mind if it is going to defend its rights, and make that policy well known."

He urged a break in relationships with Cuba, and a get-tough Caribbean policy "that will keep the Communies out and bring them down if they get in."

"We should have told him at the beginning that we would not tolerate outrages to our nationals and our property rights. It is time to announce we will defend the Guantanamo Bay Naval Base," he said.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mayor George Christopher, a Republican, saw a Kennedy campaign button on the lapel of David Clifton, a City Hall elevator operator Friday.

"We don't wear buttons around here," snapped the mayor, whose job is nonpartisan under the city charter.

Clifton took it off. He said he'd been wearing the Democratic button the past three weeks.

"This goes for Nixon pins, too," Christopher said. "Some Nixon pins had to come off in the tax collector's office."

City Atty. Dion Holm, another Republican, said he didn't think the mayor had the right to ban the buttons. Elizabeth Smith, Democratic national committee woman, hastened to City Hall and gave Clifton a button much bigger than the one he took off.

"I'm going to wear it," he said.

U. N. African Diplomats Suffer Discrimination

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP). U. S. sources acknowledged Friday some U. N. delegates from the new African countries are running into racial discrimination in New York. Some delegates have complained that they were having trouble finding housing and in being served in smart East Side restaurants.

The U. S. delegation, these sources said, has appealed to both the New York Real Estate Board and hotel owners to cooperate in government efforts to avoid offending visiting diplomats.

Truth Squad Dogs Jack in Michigan

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A "GOP truth squad" dogged along behind Sen. John F. Kennedy Friday as the Democratic presidential candidate made a whistle-stop tour of Michigan.

The squad, which told its listeners that Kennedy was "the gloomiest of the 60's," was made up of Sen. Homer E. Capehart of Indiana and Reps. Donald Jackson of California, Robert H. Michel of Illinois and William B. Widnall of New Jersey. Rep. August E. Johansen, R-Mich., accompanied it.

The squad pulled into Kalamazoo as Kennedy was pulling out by train. It issued a statement that said Kennedy in his Thursday night radio-television debate with Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the GOP candidate, "continued to downgrade American capabilities, strength and prestige."

"Sen. Kennedy," it added, "cannot build America up by tearing our nation down."

Reuther Lashes Into Nixon, GOP

Claims U. S. Lacking in Leadership and Reds Are Winning

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, said Friday night that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev is sure communism can win over the United States because of this country's failure, not Russia's successes.

Reuther, speaking at what was called "the most significant labor meeting in outstate Michigan" said, "We're losing in the world."

He said America has "everything but leadership."

"But, said Reuther, when Khrushchev was touring the United States a year ago, "only American labor leaders stood up to him at a time when big business was winning, dining and making love to him."

Reuther appealed for the election of Sen. John F. Kennedy, D-Mass., the Democratic presidential nominee, saying that only Kennedy can provide the leadership the free world needs.

State Idle Toll Up 30,000 in August

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan State University Bureau of Business and Economic Research has reported that unemployment rose by 30,000 in the state during August — pushing the total unemployed to 250,000.

The figure — 8.7 per cent of the state's total labor force — is still lower than the same month last year when 9.4 per cent of the state's workers were unemployed. At the same time — the bureau reported in its monthly publication, Michigan Economic Record — there was a substantial increase in business activity.

Cities hardest hit by unemployment were Flint, with 19 per cent of its labor force idle; Bay City, with 13.9 per cent; Saginaw, with 10.4 per cent; Muskegon, with 10 per cent, and Detroit, with 9.6 per cent.

Actor's Wife Has Deep Appreciation for Music

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Now that Andy Griffith's become a big TV star, I want to warn those gossip-hungry Hollywood columnists that if they catch his wife Barbara crying when she's out with Andy, they mustn't conclude that the Griffiths are battling and divorcing.

WILSON

"So she likes to go out and have a good time and cry?" I asked (sounding a little bit like a Johnny Ray son). "Now don't write it that way!" Andy waved a warning finger.

"We been there 10 weeks and ain't never been to Chasen's and then places yet," Andy said. "But Barbara says to me, 'I am goin' to be taken out once a week.'"

"I slipped by one week," Andy grinned. "Then Barbara and me went to the Crescendo. Count Basie was there and Big Joe Williams was up singin'."

"I leaned forward with my mouth open. Barbara cried from the first song on. She don't cry boo-hoo like, but tears come down and keep comin' down."

"I said to her, 'Don't cry,' but she says, 'Oh, I'm havin' such a good time. You got to take me out every week like this.'"

"And I aim to, too," Andy shook his clenched fist fearlessly at me—"because it's a real pleasure seein' Barbara enjoyin' herself so much."

So Andy's hardly "gone Hollywood."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

"DON'T PRINT THAT!" Gov. Rockefeller, making a speech at the Steak Pit, Paramus—his third that day—borrowed a clean shirt from owner Leo Pincus . . .

Desi Arnaz, a horse owner, watches their 6 a.m. workouts. "Sometimes," he says, "I get up three hours earlier than usual—or stay out three hours later than usual."

EARL'S PEARLS: Household hint for husbands: The best time to do the dishes is right after your wife tells you to.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: There's a football quarterback who's so henpecked his wife listens in on the huddles.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Home is the place some men go when they're tired of being nice to people.

Danny Thomas, strolling on Fifth Ave., was asked to do a walk-on in "Breakfast at Tiffany's," filming nearby. "Felias," he said, "where were you when I needed the job?" . . . That's earl, brother.

1,800 on Strike at Oak Ridge

But Plant Continues to Operate as Supervisors Take Over From Union

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) — A sprawling gaseous diffusion plant—Oak Ridge's largest atomic energy facility—continued to operate today despite a strike by some 1,800 union workers.

Supervisory personnel relieved workmen at their jobs as members of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union (OCAW), Local 9-288, posted pickets around the plant at midnight.

The walkout came after negotiations failed to meet the union's demands for a 28-cent hourly wage boost and despite an appeal from the Atomic Energy Commission for a delay for further negotiations.

E. F. Hitchcock, a federal mediator, said no definite talks had been scheduled for today but negotiations would continue "until this thing is settled."

It was the first strike at the plant since 1954, when supervisory personnel also stepped in and kept the plant's output flowing.

The plant, one of three installations here, produces, among other things, uranium 235, the principal explosive for atomic bombs.

Workers at the other two plants here are not affected by the strike, union officials said. They are represented by the Atomic Trades and Labor Council which accepted, subject to member approval, a 9-cent hourly increase Wednesday.

The plants are operated for the AEC by the Union Carbide Nuclear Co.

Pontiac Motor Adds Superb Tempest to Its Terrific Line

BONNEVILLE

Pardon me while I go into raptures over these 1961 Pontiac automobiles. They're absolutely terrific. And that Tempest!

Both lines have been undergoing the most searching and thorough scrutiny that they will receive. They've been reviewed by General Motors officials. They've passed a critical inspection from the nation's press. They've been seen by as many downtown businessmen as the company could get into the showrooms. And they've been reviewed by the boys and girls who make them.

The bulk of these people are those most vitally interested in success. They have the biggest stake in general public acceptance. Both lines have passed all crucial moments with flying colors and continuous applause. The cars are marvelous.

Actually, the Pontiacs are a shade smaller than they were last year, but there's more interior room. This isn't a theory or the result of a yardstick appraisal. I find my own precious noggin further from the top, and I like that feature, especially. Margaret Heidenbrand spoke of it almost immediately when she got in the front seat.

That mid-section hump is reduced, for which everyone offers thanks and praise. I like the front windshield tremendously. And with the new styling I'm amazed that they've held the price line.

Watch Tempest . . .

This Tempest is going to raise Sam Hill in the free-for-all that's just over the horizon in the compact division. The Tempest isn't a "compact car" as the phrase is generally accepted. It's merely a smaller automobile. It's one of the finest looking cars I ever saw and handles like a dream.

And yet, this is strictly a family deal. You can carry the wife, a couple of restless youngsters and enough baggage for a vacation. The price has been hammered down to a level that leaves a lot of earnest competitors uneasy and unhappy.

This chariot has it.

That baffling and aggravating center section hump has almost been eliminated through some engineering legerdemain—that "Pete" Estes devised in one of his many brilliant moments. When my own son saw one, he fairly dripped adjectives for ten minutes. And the younger generation is harder to fool than the benighted, stodgy old coots like me.

If you give it half a chance, this Tempest will deliver unbelievable mileage, and if you're rough and tough and adopt a show-me attitude, then the Tempest will do just that. It'll show you. And the total upkeep wouldn't empty a piggy bank.

Someone's going to get hurt in this division—but it wouldn't be our wonderful Tempest. No one knows how many they'll sell, but I'll gamble it runs beyond 150,000. That's a lot of automobiles. In fact, it's a lot of jelly beans—or anything else you can conjure. These sensations ought to provide a lot of jobs.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Now the story creeps out. A not-too-large restaurant owner discovered his hat check girl peddling marijuana cigarettes. Instead of turning her over to the police, he took her to a back room where he beat her black and blue and kicked her out in the alley. She got to a hospital, but she didn't dare go to the police . . .

Probably the most dated show girl today is JULIET PROVSE. . . . Why do big corporations retire capable executives at 65 but the government has Senators, Congressmen, etc. into the 70s, 80s and even 90s? . . .

Newspapermen say privately CASTRO had more call girls around his suites than anyone in memory.

Harold Macmillan's criticisms of Khrushchev received some of the most spontaneous and vigorous applause of the U.N. meetings. K writhed openly . . . The flagpole sitter was setting a record when his wife died. He refused to come down so they lowered him to half mast . . . Did you hear about the Texan who was so rich he had well-to-do carpets? . . . An increasing number of New York restaurants have a $5 minimum. . . . Kennedy claims he'll take New York state by 750,000 but the professional gamblers are giving 7 to 5 on Nixon . . . Turkeys and cranberries will be cheaper this year.

Now they're testing fluoridation in milk. Early results show caries are reduced by 80% . . . Honey is receiving steadily increasing recognition as a valuable food with many plus values including infant feeding, cough remedy, muscle cramps, burns, asthma and hay fever. Furthermore, it has a million dollar taste . . . The newest in public phones marked "men" and "women" so the guys won't have to wait for those hour-long gossip conversations to end . . . Pals tell me Doris Day's "Midnight Lace" is super terrific . . . A 5-year-old was painfully sunburned and as his mama applied ointment he said: "If I die, please bury me in the shade."

TEMPEST

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Bradie

Through their own utterances it is evident that faith strengthened the lives of the men numbered among our greatest presidents.

"Father, so frame this heart of mine, that I may ever delight to live according to thy will . . ." George Washington.

"Without the assistance of that Divine Being . . . I cannot succeed. With that assistance, I cannot fail." Abraham Lincoln.

"The Bible does not teach us to shirk difficulties but to overcome them." Theodore Roosevelt.

"I ascribe to Bible study the help and strength which I have had from God to pass in peace through deeper trials . . . A soul that has been refreshed and made happy early in the morning meets the service, the trials and the temptations of the day with a power far different from that of one that has had no spiritual preparation." Woodrow Wilson.

Days of All Faiths

Week Honors Ministry of Laity

By REV. HOWARD Y. HARPER

Sunday in thousands of churches in the United States and Canada is Laymen's Sunday, which means that the regular morning service will be taken over by laymen—sermon, prayers, Bible readings and all. The clergyman will have nothing to do but sit in a pew as a member of the congregation. If he really wanted to trade places with some of his laymen he would stay at home with the Sunday papers, but the exchange doesn't go that far.

Laymen's Sunday is a symbol of a new fact in Christian life, or rather an ancient fact newly rediscovered: the Ministry of the Laity. Within the last 25 or 30 years the churches have begun to see that the Christian Ministry is not exclusively, or even primarily, in the hands of the clergy. The clergy form only four-tenths of one per cent of the Church; the laity ninety-nine and six-tenths per cent. It is not likely that God would limit His ministry to so small a fraction of His people.

But the arithmetic is not the important part. What really counts is that the ministry of the laity is deep in the nature of Christianity. It is the layman who moves about in the world. The clergyman's ministry is mainly to the congregation, a sacramental and pastoral ministry to "the gathered church."

But when the church seeters into the world outside itself it is the layman who represents Christianity there. Archbishop Desmond said, "The clergyman stands for the things of God before the congregation; the congregation stands for the things of God before the world."

Thus it is that the layman's ministry covers a far larger area than that of the clergyman. The layman's ministry is in his home, his shop, his club, his neighborhood—in all the places where he lives, works and plays. If God is in the relationships the layman has at these points in his life, it will be the layman and not the clergyman who takes Him there.

Laymen's Sunday is intended to say something like this: It is not intended to minimize the role of the clergy. When the laymen conduct the service and preach the sermon they are not saying, "Look, anyone can do this. We don't need a pastor." Rather, they are reminding the congregation, and themselves of the fullness of the layman's ministry. And in their preparation and conduct of the service there can be no doubt that many of them are finding out it isn't as easy as it appears to be. There is special training and special knowledge involved.

Laymen's Sunday in the United States is sponsored on the third Sunday of October every year by United Church Men, the National Council of Churches unit made up of the leaders of laymen's work in 19 denominations. Each year United Church Men provides literature centered around a selected theme, showing the men how to prepare the service, how to publicize the day, how to follow up, etc. The 1960 theme "Always Be Ready" is taken from St. Peter's first Epistle, chapter 3, verse 15.

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

You Can't Be Compelled to Take Pasteur Shots

Please advise your readers that no one has to submit to so-called Pasteur treatment or antirabies shot against his will. (O.M.C.)

Ans.—I have not heard of an instance of such forcible treatment. I would think the strictness of compulsory "Pasteur" treatment or antirabies injections would be entitled to high damages in a lawsuit.

I am an RN in charge of — and have to make regular reports at board meetings etc., which I find very difficult because I am so nervous. I have no desire to soft-soap you, Dr. Brady, but would you like to know you have been a great source of help to me and my friends during the years . . . (Miss H.O.A.)

Ans.—I hope the No. 24 pamphlet (Examination Fitters and Stage Erects), available to anyone who provides stamped, self-addressed envelope, will make you glad you asked for my advice. So many RNs write, not for advice, but to tell me the facts of life, of professional life, that is.

Where can one buy your poison ivy formula. A druggist asked $1.30 an ounce and also said it would take seven days to put it up. (L.C.)

Ans.—In the pamphlet on ivy poisoning for which send stamped, self-addressed envelope, I give two or three formulas. Any druggist can mix one in a few minutes and $1.50 an ounce would be larceny.

I heard about a woman who had got so much help from your pamphlet about bedwetting. Our children, 5 and 9, wet the bed and I have tried everything. (Mrs. H. MacN)

Ans.—Send me a stamped envelope bearing your address, for the pamphlet on the bedwetting habit.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Livewire Speaker Needed in Pulpit

Lois brings up a red hot question in American churches. We laymen do a pretty good job of donating time and money, but then are often paid to sleep by poor speakers in the pulpit. We don't demand a Demosthenes, but if we pay $50 per Sunday, we at least want an interesting sermon that will keep us awake.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE F-496: Lois L., aged 28, is a faithful church worker.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I think some of our clergymen don't know any 'horse sense.'"

"For example, last Sunday I took a neighbor woman with me to church. I had worked for over a year to persuade her to go, for she doesn't belong anywhere else but is a kind-hearted person."

"After the service," Dr. Crane's wife, as we were leaving the church, she shook hands with the clergyman.

"My neighbor was wearing a hat with a big plume on it. Our minister looked at the hat; then bluntly said: 'I see the devil already has captured you.'"

"Now my neighbor refuses to go back with me to church! And can you blame her?"

TACTLESS CLERGYMEN
Lois has pointed out one of the greatest needs of modern clergymen, namely, diplomacy or Applied Psychology.

Voice of the People

'What Do You Contribute to Keep Our Country Safe?'

A couple of nights ago I watched my little girl as she said her prayers. What an abundance of faith that little girl has:

I thought, "I must have that same faith regardless of what I know of what is going on in this world. I must have faith, because my little cherub has it."

We have a wonderful country, don't we fellow Americans? We enjoy our freedom to the fullest. The time has come when we as individuals should unite in fighting to keep our freedoms. For all of our little children who have faith in God and in us as parents.

I realize I am just a little person among the multitudes of millions but would you think about what you as an individual could be doing to keep us free?

I have taken a standard Red Cross course and an advanced Red Cross course and received certificates for each. We are buying U.S. Savings Bonds.

I would be so glad to hear from anyone who is doing something for Civil Defense, or is constructing a fallout shelter.

Wanting to Help

'Kennedy Won Over Texan Ministers'

Being a broadminded Protestant, I was impressed by the televised speech and debate between Sen. Kennedy and the Houston Minister's Association.

Sen. Kennedy plied against a hundred or so Protestant ministers, expressed himself eloquently and "felled" the questions superbly.

His frankness and sincerity obviously captivated the ministers and had them applauding frequently. There was little argument against a Catholic for President when they had finished.

'Suggests Avoiding Eleanor, Eaton'

I think any good American should ignore and avoid anyone who is friendly to Khrushchev. I am referring to Eleanor Roosevelt and Cyrus Eaton.

What does Cyrus Eaton manufacture? Is it something we can boycott? Let's stop buying any magazine for which Eleanor Roosevelt writes.

I will not vote for a friend of a friend of Khrushchev—in other words, Kennedy.

The Almanac

Today is Saturday, Oct. 15, the 28th day of the year with 77 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history: In 1844, Friedrich Nietzsche, German philosopher, was born.

In 1914, the Clayton Anti-Trust Act supplementing the Sherman Anti-Trust Act of 1890 became law.

In 1917, the most famous spy of World War I, Matti Mary, was executed at Vincennes Barracks outside Paris.

In 1945, the former French Premier Pierre Laval was executed by a firing squad for betraying his country to Nazi Germany during World War II.

In 1946, Reichsmarschall Herman Goering, sentenced to death by the Nuremberg Allied Military Tribunal, committed suicide by taking poison.

Thought for today: German philosopher Friedrich Nietzsche said: "No one is such a liar as the insignificant man."

Smiles

Newly-rich relations have a habit of breaking relations with poor relations.

Hunting seasons are always announced with the limit on game. No limit is mentioned on hunters.

A couple in South Carolina was married on a locomotive. Sounds just choo, choo, exciting.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

If he is a dedicated Christian but unable to orate, let him work as a carpenter or other skilled Christian craftsman, but stay out of the pulpit.

It takes a livewire in the pulpit to electrify a congregation, and a pulpit "livewire" must know the A-B-C's of public speaking.

The livewire is getting tired of footling the bible, teaching the Sunday School classes, singing in the choir, and otherwise carrying the load of the church, only to receive dull, sleepy sermons on Sunday! If you clerics don't learn proper speaking techniques in the seminary, then send 20 cents for the new livewire book, "How to Make an Interesting Speech." Enclose a stamped, return envelope.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long stamped, self-addressed envelope that he can use to send you a livewire book and a livewire.

My mother, for example, is a better dedicated Christian than any cleric who has occupied the pulpits wherein she has sat for over 80 years.

We have donated our services to teach Sunday School. And we contribute money and time for other worthy church projects.

If we hire a church pianist, we expect her to be more than a dedicated Christian—She is also supposed to be able to play that piano with skill!

Obviously, we don't expect a concert musician but she should be rated at least "good" at the piano.

Similarly, when we pay $50 to $100 per week for a clergyman, we expect him to be able to make an interesting speech.

Two Weddings, Four Engagements Brighten Scene

Wed in Double-Ring Rite

Chapel vases of white chrysanthemums and gladioli adorned the main altar in St. Benedict Church today for the nuptials of Kay Ann Swenson and Ronald J. Milburn. The Rev. Robert Wygowski performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of 300 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Willie M. Swenson and the M. J. Milburns, all of Bloomfield Township.

Designed with molded sleeves and full chapel sweep skirt, the bride's gown of white chiffon over taffeta featured floating panels from the back decollete to the side hipline. Applique of hand-clipped Alencon lace accented the square neckline.

A fingertip cloud veil of pure silk French illusion was caught by a wreath of imported pearlized flowers. White rosebuds and pompons comprised the bride's round cascade bouquet.

Judith Ann Malloy of Western Springs, Ill., served the bride as honor maid, with bridesmaids Judith Gail Phipps of Orionville, Diane Alice Baxter of Saginaw, Mrs. Willis J. Swenson of Waterford Township and Judith Irene Rouse of Bloomfield Township.

Draped hiplines and back panels accented by soft fabric roses gave interest to their long-torso dresses of frosted pearl and radiant aqua taffeta. Each carried a wicker basket of gold, mahogany and yellow pompons with wheat and bit-trawet. Their headpieces of pearl-tipped petals held chin veils.

On the esquire side were Bryan Payette of Orchard Lake, best man, and ushers were Robert Kretzeman of Grand Rapids, Albert L. Williams, and Gary and Willis Swenson, brothers of the bride.

After the evening reception in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall in Keego Harbor, the new Mrs. Milburn will change to a beige wool sheath dress for traveling to Niagara Falls.

The couple will live on Elizabeth Lake Road. The bridegroom attends University of Detroit.

Orchids topped the purse carried by Mrs. Swenson attired in aqua peau satin with tunic overskirt. The mother of the bridegroom appeared in a sheath dress of beige brocade, coffee accessories and orchid corsage.

Mrs. Carl Swenson of Island Pond, Vt., attended her granddaughter's wedding and reception.

The engagement of Lorraine E. DeBerger to Robert J. Stricklin, son of the Bert E. Stricklins of Orion Township, is announced by her parents the Gilbert DeBergers of Rundell Street. Summer vows are planned.

LORRAINE E. DEBERGER

Give Vows in Detroit Church

The Pickwick Room in the Hotel Whittier, Detroit, was the setting for a breakfast following the marriage of Eileen Walsh to W. Peter LaHood today in St. Cecilia Church, Detroit.

White roses and chrysanthemums banked the altar where the Rev. Richard E. Maloney solemnized the vows.

Expecting to receive some 200 guests at the Whittier in the evening are parents of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick B. Walsh of Biely Street, Waterford Township, and the Joseph LaHoods of Detroit.

Bouffant Nile green silk organza over taffeta for the attendants featured cummerbunds and back bustle bows of moss green organza. They were veiled moss green feather hats and carried two-tone brown and bronze chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Robert Rahaim of De-

MRS. W. PETER LAHOOD

troit was honor matron, with Mrs. Peter Elkins of Mackinac City, Mrs. Joseph LaHood of Ann Arbor, Kathleen Weitz of Pontiac and Ann Rahaim of Detroit, serving as bridesmaids.

Wearing pink organza over taffeta with matching hats, Patricia Walsh, junior attendant, carried pink roses and chrysanthemums and Diane Weitz, flower girl, carried a basket of pink rose petals.

Alencon lace, re-embroidered with seed pearls and sequins, accented the bouffant bridal gown of white silk bombazine styled with fitted bodice and scalloped hipline emphasis.

Fingertip veiling of silk illusion, attached to a jeweled tiara and a spray of white orchids completed the bridal ensemble.

Comprising the esquire corps were Robert Rahaim, best man, with the bridegroom's brother Joseph seating guests with Frank Bradley and Ronald Rahaim of Detroit, and Michael Nader of Garden City.

To begin a motor trip to Miami, the bride will wear a purple wool sheath dress, and white orchid. On their return, the couple will live in Detroit.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Walsh chose a bouffant dress of beige and brown Chantilly-type lace over satin. Mrs. LaHood wore a mink stole over a full-skirted dress of royal blue silk tulle.

But Dear Abby's Sorry

You're Officially Engaged to Joker, Even Without Ring

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Last December my employer proposed to me. I accepted but no ring was offered. He said he couldn't afford it (I keep his books and if he can't afford it, nobody can) This morning a small parcel arrived at the office, addressed to him and insured for $12. He told me it was a set of rings he ordered from a mail order catalogue and I should open it "when I had time."

I don't know if this is his idea of a joke, but I didn't open it and don't consider myself officially engaged. How would you handle this?

DEAR NOT: If you accepted his proposal, you're engaged—ring or no ring. And if you intend to marry this joker, you'd better develop a sense of humor.

DEAR ABBY: You may be an expert on the birds and bees but you sure don't know anything about fruit. When fruit is washed before it is put into the refrigerator, it spoils more quickly.

FARMER'S WIFE DEAR WIFE: Not according to the Agricultural Department of the University of California. If fruit is carefully dried, it may be washed before storing in the refrigerator. Only one exception—and that's the berries!

DEAR ABBY: Tell OLDEST DAUGHTER to quit feeling sorry for herself. If any child has the right to sing the blues, it's the middle child.

I am three years younger than my sister, who is the oldest. When we were young I had to do all the pots and pans because her hands had to look nice for her dates. I never got new clothes because Mom could make over sister's hand-me-downs.

I got blamed for the fights with my younger brother because I was "older" and should know better. I had to take him everywhere I went because he wasn't old enough to go alone and he was too young to stay by himself.

This all happened 32 years ago, but I remember it well. And when Dad's will was read—everything was divided equally between the three children.

Cut dates in small pieces. Cook dates, sugar, water and salt over low heat for 10 minutes. Sprinkle in flour very slowly, stirring all the time to avoid lumps. Cook 10 minutes over direct heat. Place over boiling water and cook another 30 minutes.

Remove from heat and add nuts. Let stand at room temperature for at least 2 to 3 hours. The pudding will thicken. Serve with cream. Makes 10 servings.

Ask Name, Call Back, Is Correct

By EMILY POST
Dear Mrs. Post: Last evening my husband was napping after dinner when he received a telephone call. Not recognizing the caller's voice, I woke him and called him to the telephone.

He later said I should have asked who was calling and if it wasn't urgent, I should have told the caller that he would call him back later.

I was always under the impression that, except in business, it was rude to ask who was calling. Am I right about this?

Answer: It would have been entirely proper to have said, "Mr. Jones can't come to the telephone now, but if you will leave your name, I'll ask him to call you later."

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a widow in my early forties. I have two daughters, 14 and 16. My husband died when the children were quite small.

A man friend of long acquaintance whose wife died about six months ago, has asked me for a date on several occasions and I have put him off, thinking it might cause criticism if we went out together so soon after the death of his wife.

Will you please tell me when it would be proper to accept dates from this man?

Answer: Gossips are always ready to criticize. But following a lonely six months, this impulse of friendship could not be considered heartless even by gossips.

Dear Mrs. Post: My girl friend and I want to Europe recently, traveling tourist class on one of the medium-sized ships. No one were evening clothes in the dining room. All wore afternoon clothes.

My friend insisted on wearing gloves into the dining room, saying it was the proper thing to do. As far as I could see no one else wore gloves and I think they were out of place on board ship. Will you please give me your opinion?

Answer: Gloves in a ship's dining room are indeed out of place.

Additional Dips Worry Nation

Decreased Output by Mines, Mills, Utilities Hints at Recession

WASHINGTON (AP)—The question whether the nation is moving into a business recession sharpened today following announcement that the output of mines, mills and utilities dipped to a 1960 low in September.

The Federal Reserve Board reported that its index of industrial production moved down in September to 107 per cent of the 1957 average. In August, the board further disclosed, the index sagged two points instead of one as previously estimated. The high was 111 in January.

A possibility of further decline in October was suggested by the fact that steel mill operations, an economic bellwether, have failed to show the usual normal autumn pickup.

However, Roger M. Blough, chairman of United States Steel Corp., predicted this week that "some improvement" in steel output will develop in this last quarter of the year. For the past few months more steel has been consumed than was produced, he said.

Government and private economists have been divided for some weeks on the question of whether the economy was on a "high plateau" with some improvement in prospect, or had entered the beginning stage of a mild recession.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Joseph Cotton and British-born actress Patricia Medina say they'll be married here Friday.

The ceremony will be at the home of producer David Selznick and his wife, actress Jennifer Jones.

Cotton and his bride will honeymoon in England, he said.

Cotton is a widower. Miss Medina was formerly wed to British actor Richard Greene.

MOSS HART

Play Director 'Resting Well'

Moss Hart, 55, Suffers Heart Attack in Midst of Work on 'Camelot'

TORONTO (AP)—Moss Hart, 55, Broadway director and playwright, was reported "resting well" in hospital early today after suffering a heart attack in his hotel room.

Hart, director of the Broadway-bound musical "Camelot," was taken to Wellesley Hospital Friday where Camelot's lyricist, Alan Jay Lerner, is recovering from ulcer trouble.

Frederick Lowe, who collaborated with Lerner in the Hart-directed musical "My Fair Lady," suffered a heart attack two years ago but is back at work.

Edwin Knill, general manager of the Camelot company, described Hart's illness as a mild coronary thrombosis. He said Hart suffered a similar attack while working on "My Fair Lady" a few years ago.

Lengthy convalescence could delay the Broadway opening of the show, already set back two weeks to Dec. 3 because of the need for major editing. It opened here Oct. 1, and Hart was said to have been working day and night ever since.

Hart's wife, actress Kitty Carlisle, accompanied him to the hospital.

Hart won the 1937 Pulitzer Prize for his play "You Can't Take It With You."

In glass manufacture soda is used primarily as a flux to aid in melting.

Dearborn Man to Be Deported

F. J. Williams Must Return to Wales Despite Sen. Hart's Efforts

DETROIT (UPI)—A heart-broken Dearborn carpenter faced deportation to his native Wales today despite the efforts of Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., to block the action.

Only four months ago, Frederick J. Williams resigned himself to leaving his wife, grown daughter and two grandchildren to return to a country he had never known.

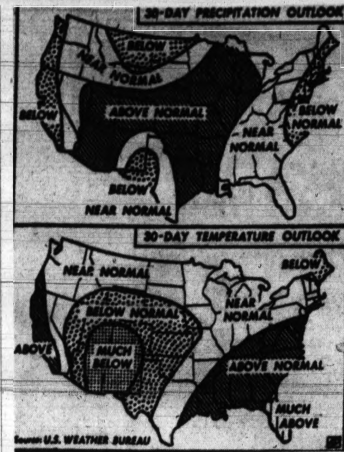

The Department of Immigration and Naturalization had set his deportation for June 15, but Hart entered the case and introduced a bill in Congress to keep Williams in the United States.

The government agreed to hold up deportation pending outcome of the bill.

Williams' hopes soared. Now they haveumbled.

Congress failed to act on the Hart bill, and immigration officials told Williams another delay cannot be granted, even though Hart said he will introduce the bill when the next session of Congress convenes in January.

Williams was arrested in 1954 and freely admitted he once had been a member of the Communist Party, but he said he quit the party in 1947 when it became evident the Communists were no longer allies of the United States.

30-DAY FORECAST—These maps, based on those supplied Friday by the United States Weather Bureau, forecast the probable precipitation and temperatures for the next 30 days. Near-normal weather for this Great Lakes area is predicted in both categories.

Edith Piaf Prepares for Return to Singing

PARIS (AP)—Edith Piaf is getting ready to sing again in public. The popular, husky-voiced chanteuse has been operated on several times in the past two years for a liver ailment.

Thursday, "allowed me to discover my true friends. I was often surprised."

Miss Piaf said her first appearance would be on Dec. 25, in Paris.

Much of the land between Panama and Ecuador is still unexplored.

European Press Pokes Fun at Nikita

LONDON (UPI)—West European newspapers agreed Friday that Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's United Nations pyrotechnics gained him little.

Many criticized his "scandalous" and "shocking" behavior.

However, some voiced the opinion that while he gained little in formal diplomatic terms his tough line and baragans might bear fruit at a later date, particularly in Africa.

London newspapers gave little space to Khrushchev although the Evening Standard said he now may "discard a script and try a more reasonable line."

His magisterial "prop-slopped badly, it said.

The West Berlin Nacht Deutsche went so far as to suggest that Khrushchev "shows he no longer is the sovereign party chief he used to be."

It said the Soviet leader now "faces trouble from his generals, from the Stalinites and from the Chinese Communists."

The death rate from cancer has risen from 65 per 100,000 population in 1900 to an estimated 145 at present.

TOUGH BUT HUMAN — Sidney Poitier plays a tough role in "All the Young Men," now showing in the area. He's the substitute commander of an embattled Marine squad in Korea. His men, suspicious, hostile and disgruntled at first, grow to respect and like him.

Poitier, Ladd, Johansson Star in Tale of Marines

An explosive story of Marines trapped in the snowy hills of Korea and torn apart by their own doubts, fears and prejudices, "All the Young Men" stars Alan Ladd and Sidney Poitier. It is now playing in the area.
Ex-heavyweight champion Ingrid Bergman is introduced to the screen in this new Hall Bartlett production for Columbia Pictures. The film also costars James Darren, Glenn Corbett, comedian Mort Sahl and lovely Ana St. Clair.
Ladd has another "fighter" role in "All the Young Men," playing a professional soldier recently broken from sergeant.
Poitier, who was nominated for an Academy Award for his work in "The Defiant Ones" and who last was seen as Porgy in "Porgy and Bess," takes command of the embattled squad.
Some of the men resent Poitier's assumption of authority because they have learned to rely on Ladd's cool courage under fire; others resent him simply because he is a Negro.
ESTEESE RISES
As the small group of fighting men make their desperate stand in a strategic farmhouse, winning time for oncoming forces at the risk of their own lives, Poitier's esteem as a leader and human being rises.
In "All the Young Men," Johansson is said to have registered with remarkable effectiveness on pre-

Wires to Kennedy Full of Praise

IN MICHIGAN WITH KENNEDY (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy received many congratulatory telegrams Friday on his third television-radio debate with Richard M. Nixon, but some criticized his manner or presenting his case.

His press secretary Pierre Salinger made available to newsmen traveling with the Democratic presidential nominee the wires received at the stop in Ann Arbor. One woman wired from Highland Park: "My husband and I will vote for you and hope and pray you are elected. Am very disappointed after your debate tonight because why did you allow Tricky Dick to talk 10 minutes to your two Truman would not have allowed them to do it to him."

A Rochester, N. Y., man said: "Nixon television hypocrisy Thursday made this Republican a Democrat, but you didn't. Please emphasize Hungarian promises and sellout slowly deliberately and forcefully. Fight with emotion, not clipped conciseness, here."

A Glenview, Ill., couple wired: "Congratulations on winning third debate. However, disappointed you didn't quote your speech of Oct. 12. 'It's not his life or mine,' etc., regarding Quemoy. Please get tough next week."

A telegram from a San Francisco, Calif., man said: "Good stand on Quemoy. Don't apologize for Truman. You could use more Harry, less Harvard."

A Chapel Hill, N. C., woman wired: "Congratulations on your superb performance. We admire your sincerity and brilliance and tremendous grasp of the facts and clear presentation of all issues. We need you in the White House."

A Fairfield, Conn., couple said: "It seems impossible you could improve other two debates but you topped them both tonight. You showed him up for the fumbling windbag he is."

A telegram signed by two Princeton, N. J., couples said: "Congratulations. Every appearance reinforces your superior moral and intellectual stature."

Salinger said the number of messages on the third debate reaching Kennedy on tour was unusual. Most of them are sent to his campaign headquarters in Washington, he explained.

SHE QUITS CASTRO — Miss Teresa Casuso, who holds the rank of ambassador and alternate representative to the United Nations for Cuba, tells newsmen in New York about her letter of resignation to Fidel Castro. She described the Cuban prime minister as a "man of war" and said if free elections were held in Cuba, he would lose.

Citizen Romney Gripes; Lists Issues to Discuss

DETROIT (AP) — When it comes to the presidential election, George Romney is just a private citizen with a gripe about the way the campaign is going.

Romney, president of American Motors and chairman of Citizens for Michigan, complained Friday that the two presidential candidates are not discussing a number of the basic issues which he said will determine our country's future.

Romney told a news conference here he had written an open letter to both Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy. In it he wrote that "it is late, but not too late, to force into the open issues that will permit more intelligent choice on Nov. 8."

Romney made it clear that he was not speaking for American Motors. "I don't even know whether my board of directors agrees with me and I don't really care," he said.

He then proceeded to name four issues he said the candidates had been ignoring.

The four Romney singled out were:

"1. Excessive concentration of union and corporate collective bargaining power in the United States.

"2. The mutual beneficial utilization of unequaled American Agricultural technology to alleviate hunger around the world.

"3. How best to assist other nations in realizing their expectations of higher living standards through rapid economic development.

"4. Curbing the expansion of federal government power in the United States, so that the American people themselves will grow in character and capacity as a result of shouldering greater political, economic and social responsibilities."

Romney sent a copy of the letter to the presidents of the four radio and television networks which have carried the Kennedy-Nixon debates, urging these questions be made available for discussion on the next debate one week from tonight.

Nikita Puts on Temper Show at Will

EDITOR'S NOTE — Do Nikita Khrushchev's violent outbursts of threats and threats of war mean a new era of international terrorism? It is a question that has been asked by many who have followed his words, antics and serious moments.

By JOHN SCALE
NEW YORK (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev, an international artist in split-second mood changes, wore three faces during his memorable 25-day run as New York's star attraction.

He was the bullying, enraged Russian chieftain as he stood on the stage of the U. N. General Assembly, threatening war, denouncing his foes as "jerks," "fools" and "jackies."

Bagwell Boosters Disclose TV Plans

LANSING (U) — The Bagwell Boosters — a nonparty organization aimed at getting Republican candidate Paul D. Bagwell into the governor's chair — Friday announced plans for a series of three television programs.

The 15-minute "people's programs" will be on WWJ-TV, Detroit, Oct. 23, 30 and Dec. 6. "We'll stage the Dec. 6 program if we can raise the money," said Dr. Pat May of Brighton, a spokesman for the organization.

The organization, which cuts across party lines, and includes Democrats and Independents in its line up, was formed in Brighton two years ago. Organization heads estimate present membership at 12,000.

The group has adopted what it calls a "give away" platform. Dr. Olin Wilkinson, mayor of Brighton and originator of the group summed it up by saying:

"We want to give wages back to the wage earner, give labor unions back to the members, give business back to its owners, and give government back to the people."

Will Examine Waterford Man in Auto Death

Examination in Waterford Township Justice Court was set for Oct. 26 for Earl L. Gullett, a factory worker charged yesterday with negligent homicide in the death of a township gas station attendant.

Gullett was returned to the county jail unable to post a $1,000 bond set by Justice Patrick K. Daly.

In a statement to Assistant Prosecutor J. Robert Sterling yesterday, Gullett, 24, of 9510 Portage Trail, Waterford Township, admitted he had spent about 20 hours in five township bars after he left work at 3 p. m. Thursday.

He said he was suddenly "hypnotized" by the appearance of James L. Davis, 45, of 4800 Highland Rd., walking along the shoulder of Highland Road. Davis had just closed the station and was walking toward home when struck by Gullett's car.

He was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

Polio Cases Appear to Be on Downgrade

WASHINGTON (U) — There were fewer polio cases and paralytic cases again last week. Public Health Service spokesmen said it appears the 1960 peak was reached during September.

In all, 121 new polio cases were reported last week, 101 of them paralytic. This compared with 179 cases, including 121 paralytic, in the preceding week ended Oct. 1. The 1960 weekly high for paralytic cases was 131 in the week ended Sept. 24. The high for all kinds of cases was 218 in the week ended Sept. 3.

Nasser Sounds Warning

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser warned Israel and "imperialist stooges" Friday his army is ready to crush any move against the United Arab Republic. In a speech at the Latakia officers' club broadcast by Damascus radio, Nasser charged "imperialism, Zionism and imperialist stooges" in the Middle East are massing their forces.

Western experts have long sought the answer to "What makes Khrushchev run?" They now believe they have added clues to support their view with sober, cold-blooded deliberation.

Furthermore, they are more inclined than ever to doubt that even Khrushchev has the power to make a war or peace decision solely in his hands.

Khrushchev is not a one-man dictator like Stalin, they believe, but a powerful board chairman who reports to an influential Communist high command for some guidance.

It is Khrushchev's hot, easily aroused—but not uncontrollable temper. This can be important and reassuring to the free world.

More often, as he bounced from one nighttime cocktail reception to another—or paused to chat amiably with newsmen, he was a sweet, jolly old Santa Claus who loved nothing better than to chuck children under the chin.

In between, he was the ruthless, resourceful businessman open to a deal.

Khrushchev's seemingly terrible temper dominated his performance because it was a fantastic spectacle in an international society accustomed to rules of fair play even in diplomatic wrangling.

Delegates were clearly stunned, flabbergasted, frightened — then disgusted — at the sight of Khrushchev ripping up their rules, banging his shoe on his desk, beating his fists on the table, shouting red-faced from the floor.

The unspoken question on many of the anxious faces seemed to be:

"Will this incredible man, the boss of the Communist empire, be so blinded with rage some day that he will push the button."

LIGHTING CHARM — These pull-down bobwall lamps are unusual to find in a bathroom and lend a note of elegance. Wood paneled walls are white with a scalloped board around the top. The paper is pink and gray. Tile is pink. The plastic on the vanity top is gray with pink and white lines. Note the good use for the antique bowl and pitcher.

1950 EXTERIOR — Two wings, one at the left and one at the rear, have added space to this old farmhouse. Gone is the dark screened porch. The exterior is white with blue shutters. With all their remodeling behind them, the Toothachers can now settle down and enjoy country living.

A GOOD TURN — By turning the last few steps into the living room the Toothachers made a more graceful stairway. The stair wall is paneled in white. Carpeting is sandalwood. Looking through into the dining room you can see the attractive crystal chandelier. In the far background is the kitchen where all the wood is knotty pine.

Toothachers Remodel a Farmhouse

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

"It's the little things that mean so much to us." But little things added together, make a total meaning home. The home in question is the remodeled farmhouse belonging to the Roger Toothachers who live on Romeo Road, a short distance east of Rochester Road.

The first little thing the Toothachers did when they bought the century-old house in 1953 was to put up shutters. That, according to Mrs. Toothacher, made a big change right away. It is she who quoted at the beginning of the story.

Roger Toothacher estimates that the family did 98 per cent of the remodeling themselves. A married son lives nearby; the daughter works in Detroit; the younger son goes to Port Huron Junior College.

Twenty acres came with the house. Part of this was made into a farm pond and stocked with fish. The Toothachers have their recreation right at their back door. They have recently completed a family room which overlooks this pond.

One of their first jobs was to tear out all the old chimneys and clean the bricks for reusing. They also tore off the old summer kitchen. On the east they added a wing to house Mrs. Toothacher's mother and grandmother.

Inside they turned the stairway around from the dining room to the living room. This not only makes it more graceful looking, but takes away one door from the dining room.

Screens came off the front porch and the door into the dining room became a window. The front door opens into the living room now. Several coats of white paint on the house and blue on the shutters gave the exterior a trim look.

In living room and dining room there is sandalwood carpeting. This extends up the stairs. Wallpaper in the living room has a gray and white stylized design. In the dining room there is a white dado with scenic paper above. White valance boards and semi-sheer white floor length draperies dress the windows. Woodwork is white.

WATER COLOR

A water color picture of the old house hangs in the living room. This was the work of an artistic nephew. Furniture in the living room and dining room is traditional.

The door from dining room to kitchen is knotty pine. The kitchen itself has knotty pine walls and a white paneled ceiling. Floor inoleum is a pink, blue and yellow spatter pattern. Three lights are mounted on a wagon wheel for the ceiling fixture.

This is a pink kitchen. Cafe curtains and top ruffle are pink and white. Counter tops are pink plastic. The little desk near one window is painted pink. For accents Mrs. Toothacher uses copper.

The oval table has a plastic walnut top. The chairs are Early American. A honey-note is struck with the antique platform rocker next to the window.

The new family room is 28 by 24 feet. The beams in the ceiling weigh 400 pounds. Walls are paneled in cherry. The south wall is almost all glass and there are additional windows on the east and west. The parquet floor is oak.

The chimney wall and fireplace are the pride and joy of Toothacher. Here he used the old bricks saved from the original chimneys. Here he used as a decorative mantel beams from an old barn flattened by a tornado. An old kettle hangs on a crane.

This is a comfortable room where the family can relax with books, knitting or music. Gretchen Toothacher built the hi-fi set; she's the daughter of the family.

On the west side of the room there's a player piano in an alcove. The outside door near it is a dutch door. In this area a brick planter stops cold breezes from sweeping into the room and marks off a little hallway. A pass-through to the kitchen allows easy serving of food in this room.

The furniture is a combination of Early American maple and modern basket chairs. A round braided rug is laid under the brown sofa. The coffee table has drop leaves.

SUNLIGHT

In summer only indirect sun comes in this room. In the winter the warm rays are welcome. The wooden floor and walls absorb any glare so that draperies are unnecessary.

The family bathroom is gray, pink and white. White vertical paneling is used in the alcove and one wall. The rest of the walls have pink tile and gray and pink wallpaper. Two pull-downs bobwall lamps are mounted above the gray vanity. An old bowl and pitcher hold toiletries.

In the Toothachers' bedroom walls are sandalwood. The rug has a needlepoint type design. Furniture is painted white.

Upstairs there are two more bedrooms.

Mrs. Adelaide Hoover, Mrs. Toothacher's mother, now lives alone in her apartment at one end of the house. She has a bed-sitting room with a tiny porch on the east. This room has green walls and sandalwood carpeting. There is a small red brick fireplace. Curtains are sheer white ones.

Her small kitchen is efficient and complete. The floor has aqua and white tile on it. Cupboards are knotty pine.

Shortly after the Toothachers bought the house and put up the shutters they were offered considerably more than they had paid for it. They refused to sell then. Now so much of themselves has gone into remodeling the house that selling would be out of the question. The Toothachers are former residents of Royal Oak.

Maple and Birch Are Best

Pale-toned hardwood is best for use. A very simple finishing with floors that will not fade when exposed to direct sunlight, according to the Maple Flooring Manufacturers Association.

Maple, Beech and Birch and the Northern variety of Oak are used for flooring that will not fade after finishing, the association says.

The Northern maple species (Acer saccharum) is hardest and the lightest in tone, and is said to be the most popular for home owners.

HER OWN HEARTH — Mrs. Adelaide Hoover, Mrs. Toothacher's mother, has her own apartment in one wing of the house. She is shown here relaxing in front of her little fireplace. Walls in this bed-sitting room are a pleasant green.

HANDSOME FIREPLACE — Bricks from the original chimneys and beams from an old barn were used to build this handsome fireplace. The raised hearth is stone. An antique clock and choice pieces of china are used to decorate the mantel. The Toothachers found an old toasting fork in the house, expect to use that in the fireplace. Walls are cherry, the beamed ceiling pine, the floor oak. Furniture is maple.

Explode Fallacies About Disposers

Although food waste disposers are fast becoming as necessary to kitchen efficiency as indoor plumbing is to the home, some fallacies about them are still in circulation. Mrs. Sylvia White, director of consumer relations for Waste King Corporation, leading manufacturer of disposers, has conducted an intensive research program into the origin and basis of many of these false ideas — and then she exploded a few of them.

One of the recurrent fallacies about disposers, she says, is that pieces of glass should be fed through the unit occasionally "just to keep it sharp" — while in reality nothing could be farther from the truth.

"As a matter of fact," Mrs. White states, "using this will have the exact opposite effect — it will, in time, dull the disposer. Furthermore, tiny glass particles will tend to settle in the plumbing and cause stoppage."

"No metals or glass should ever be intentionally placed in a disposer."

Running a close second in the fallacy derby, she says, is the idea that homes with septic tanks cannot be equipped with disposers.

"This is completely untrue," says Mrs. White. "A research program by the United States Public Health Service shows that septic tank action is actually speeded by the introduction of organic matter run through a disposer. The installation of a disposer has about the same effect as would the addition of one member to the family — no more than that."

Some other canards, she reports, are that coffee grounds, bones or celery should not be placed in disposers — when in reality some disposers are even equipped with a secondary cutter, which snips celery strings into tiny lengths, thus capable of handling any or all of these items. Disposers will, in fact, take all organic food wastes that will fit into them, she adds.

COLD WATER
"A persistent fallacy that crops up occasionally," says Mrs. White, "is that hot water should be run through the disposer when it is in use. This is contrary to fact — COLD water should be used always, because it congeals grease, which is then disposed of as a solid and easily carried away, rather than congealing later in the plumbing pipes as would be the case if hot water were used."

Contrary to some fallacious opinion, she points out, disposers do not use large amounts of water — the average is about one and one-half gallons per minute of use, and normal operation is about five minutes for an entire day. Thus, she adds by way of illustration, more water is used with one push of the flush button in the bathroom than in an entire day's operation of a disposer.

There is no danger in using a disposer, Mrs. White emphasizes. Even if a person were foolish enough to reach into the disposer while it was operating, the worst that would happen would be a badly bruised hand — but no lost hands or fingers.

"A disposer's insides aren't full of flailing knives," explains this home appliance expert. "Rather, it is a stationary circular grater with centrifugal action of a turntable keeping food waste in contact with the grater portion."

In summing up, Mrs. White has a word of advice for the housewife who has, or plans to get, a disposer for her kitchen.

"Don't believe any old tale you might hear. Ask your dealer, or manufacturer's representative. The fact is, the modern disposer is a wonderfully efficient kitchen helper — it will generally do everything it's designed to do, and more."

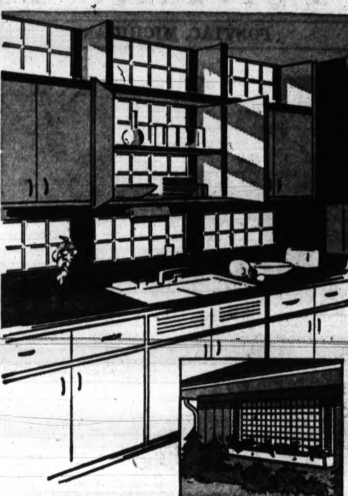

Plastic Surfaced Hardboard Works

For a good-looking and durable bar front, surface it with plastic-surfaced hardboard in a handsome woodgrain. The paneling is suitable for curved and straight-sided bars. It can be bent easily without damage, and it can be cut to size with regular carpentry tools.

Plastic-surfaced hardboard can be bonded with wallboard adhesive or contact cement to a solid surface, or to a framework. Moldings that match the paneling are available for corners.

The tempered hardboard base and baked plastic surface give it unusual durability. The permanently-finished paneling is washable.

Charleston, S. C. was first named Albemarle Point in 1670. A year later it was named Charles Town in honor of Charles II of England. It finally became Charleston on Aug. 13, 1782.

NO GROPING — The use of solar-selecting glass block helps lighten the load in the kitchen. The glass block wall behind the cupboards provides natural illumination for what might otherwise be a dark or poorly lit cabinet and eliminates groping for glassware. The block admits plenty of natural daylight without transmitting any of the glare or heat from the hotter, brighter sun's rays. From the exterior, the glass block has an attractive, modern look that blends easily with various types of architecture and landscaping.

Give Student Pleasant Work Room

Pleasant working conditions usually result in happier, better workers. This is true in factory, office and school.

Applying this rule to the home can make a big difference in a pupil's desire and ability to study, especially with the approach of junior high school.

It takes little ingenuity, time and money to convert an ordinary bedroom into a youngster's study and recreation area—a place that will attract him and will be helpful to the establishment of good study habits.

The only things needed are the following to lift the room from a sleeping place to a youngster's own living quarters: Desk, study chair, easy chair, adequate light, magazine and book racks, cabinets for supply or hobby storage, display area and suitable curtains or drapes.

An easy, satisfactory way to acquire a homelike study for the growing youngster is to install a functional wall, right over an existing one, and attach to it a desk, cabinet, magazine and book racks, and display space for hobbies. Now available at lumber yards for this and similar purposes is Masconite Panelok, a wall system of wood-grained panels supported by steel splines.

LOW COST

The steel supports, perforated at one-inch intervals to support the various accessories at any selected height, are almost invisible in the joints between the two-foot-wide panels.

Desk and cabinets are no problem—and little expense. Just attach a decorated wide board to brackets in the wall, and a satisfactory working surface has been created. With this unusual system, a cabinet or cabinets can be built at any location by using shelving brackets and sliding doors.

Various attractive metal fixtures for holding books and magazines are available, or you can use painted boards. Peg-Board panels can be used with Panelok.

Improved lighting and storage will be a boon, too. Increase a closet's storage capacity by 50 per cent with this new functional wall. Or, if you prefer, use Peg-Board.

For a free plan, send a postal to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 207, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., requesting plan AE-323. Another free plan, No. AE-305, details construction of a wardrobe with sliding or folding doors.

George Taylor to Speak at Concrete Association

Oakland County Prosecutor, George F. Taylor, will be the guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the county Concrete Manufacturers Association, Wednesday, Oct. 19. Mr. Taylor will discuss the intent and application of the Michigan Builders Trust Fund Act.

This act, which makes it a felony for a builder or contractor to take funds paid to him for construction work and leave unpaid suppliers such as concrete producers, has received increasing attention recently, due to the unsettled conditions currently present in the building industry.

Mr. J. L. Fendt, of Fendt Builders Supply, Farmington, President of the local ready mix concrete association, has indicated that in recent months the number of builders and contractors leaving unpaid material bills behind after completing their work has been mounting rapidly. According to Mr. Fendt this is making a serious problem for building material suppliers who have furnished materials in good faith.

"Our members who produce almost all of the ready-mix concrete used in Oakland County are anxious to hear Mr. Taylor outline our rights as material suppliers under Michigan Law," said Mr. Fendt.

The Association will meet for dinner at 7:00 p.m. at the Waldron Hotel, Pontiac, with Mr. Taylor's talk as the highlight of the meeting.

For Touch-ups

It's a very good idea after a repainting job to save a small amount of paint in a tightly closed container. This left over paint comes in handy for any touch-up later on—and for taking care of little touch-ups, a cotton swab makes an ideal applicator.

Hang Peg-Board as Room Divider

An attractive room divider with a modernistic touch can be created by suspending a panel of Peg-Board between the ceiling and floor by plastic or Venetian blind cord.

Two strips of 1 by 2-inch lumber attached opposite each other to the floor and ceiling support the panel. Screw eyes are turned at regular intervals into each strip and the cord is laced between them and the evenly spaced holes in the Peg-Board.

Both the supporting pieces and the hardwood should be painted to match the decor of the room.

Consider Neighbors
Before you select the new paint color for the outside of your home, stop to think of how it will go with the colors of the houses on either side. For example, if your neighbor has chosen a yellow for his home, a bright red on your residence would give an amusement-park effect. More suitable would be a choice in the green or blue family.

LOVELY TO LIVE IN — Two beautiful windows under a covered porch give this design a charming character. The home has eight rooms, with four bedrooms and 2½ baths. Center hall insures excellent circulation under either of two possible room arrangements.

Arrange This House Plan to Suit Your Own Taste

By DAVID L. BOWEN

American housewives split into two camps: the majority want their living room in the front — generally the customary location — the rest argue that it's far more sensible and private to put the living room in the rear.

Architect Lester Cohen has a near-perfect solution for this design dilemma, in House of the Week B-34. He has arranged the home so that you can choose your own living room location.

If you belong to the front-of-the-house school, you can have a glamorous 25-foot living room stretching from center hall to fireplace just inside the twin windows overlooking the front porch.

If you're of the opposite persuasion, you can locate your living room in the rear of the house, sacrificing a bit of width the living and working centers when living room is at the rear: Family room and kitchen occupy front half of house, with kitchen adjacent to center hall and family room warmed by cheery fireplace. Living room is straight back from hall, with sliding glass doors to rear terrace, and dining room in line at the left.

Here's what happens when the living room is moved to the front:

Living room takes up space vacated by family room-kitchen, and now it enjoys the fireplace. Family room goes where dining room was and kitchen takes up half of old living room space while dining room gets the remainder.

Note that in either position kitchen had good access to front door and is within easy serving distance of dining room. The service entrance moves slightly, depending on location of family room. In either position, there's access to basement without entering a room.

Sliding glass doors provide access to rear yard under both versions — in one case from the living room and in the other from dining room. Both layouts include a powder room next to the front door, but its size changes slightly. There's excellent isolation in the bedroom end of the house, connected to the busier section by a long hallway. The master bedroom has its own bath and a large walk-in closet.

Fireplace Lounging

Do you have an old piano bench in your attic? Have a latex foam cushion cut to size and cover with a rich piled fabric in a gleaming jewel tone. Place it in front of your fireplace for quiet autumn evenings. Gazing into a flickering fire is said to be even more fascinating than television — and certainly more romantic.

A light bulb broken off in the cushion can be tricky and dangerous to deal with. The next time this problem comes up, make sure the current is off, then press a bar of soap against the jagged edges of the bulb and unscrew.

Renewed Workbench

A workbench top that has become scarred and unsightly can be renewed by simply adding a panel of Masonite ¼" Tempered Preswood. Nail it on or drill holes for screws. Workbench tops of this material are widely used in industry.

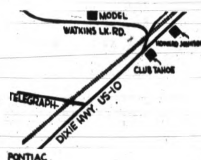

Largest stand of virgin pine in the U. S. is in Idaho.

Component Parts May Cut Building Costs

With many experts in the construction industry talking components and the wonders they are expected to work for home building, the time has come to let the public in on the secret.

Here is a Southern Pine Association summary of questions home buyers are asking and some of the answers:

What are "components?"

They are house parts, like wall or roof sections, available from factories and retail lumber dealers or else fabricated on housing sites. In either event, the materials are largely pre-assembled before building begins. Some components combine the usually separate elements of structure, decoration and insulation in a single package.

Why are they stirring such excitement?

Because many builders regard them as the main hope of reducing construction costs without sacrifice of security or quality. In conventional homes, thousands of individual pieces must be handled or otherwise worked. Pre-assembly of the pieces in ready-made parts could be a great source of savings in time and manpower, thus sharply reducing the two biggest factors in the price the home buyer pays.

What about material requirements... safety... permanence?

Components and conventional construction are identical in one key respect: both require good quality structural materials. However, components emphasize the need more dramatically. Money is saved only if there is superior working efficiency, which is directly related to the quality of the materials.

Like conventional methods, components rely on the resiliency and natural strength of wood. For its weight, the material is stronger than steel, and the most successful component yet devised is the wood trussed rafter.

Trussed rafters streamline the roof structure of a home, greatly simplify the floor plan and interior partitioning. High stresses are imposed on the members of these components which requires premium strength and uniformity of the lumber.

For such reasons, the grading rules for Southern Pine now demand all-purpose strength values of standard framing lumber. This species is the strongest in building woods, and the rules also require that it be pre-shrunk by proper seasoning. This process assures uniformity of size and virtually eliminates the natural wood strength.

Are components limited to "manufactured homes?"

Not necessarily. Many tract and custom builders use them and some make their own. While simplifying construction, components do not "freeze" either the arrangement or appearance of the dwelling. Any number of different effects can be achieved, and there are few if any restrictions on expression of individual tastes and ideas.

Study Production Line Wall Panels

In a co-operative effort to cut costs of constructing a house, Masonite Corporation and the Lumber Dealers Research Council are field-testing a new pre-decorated, non-load-bearing interior partition system.

Ten houses are being constructed to collect information on the effectiveness of the market research study. Aims of the two organizations are a lower cost than conventional construction, decorative finishes, reduced on-site labor time, one-man installation procedure and concealed wiring.

La-Re-Co and Masonite have been leaders in developing component construction methods. Production-line techniques to pre-assemble wall panels and roof trusses can result in substantial savings to the purchaser, it has been pointed out.

Lumbering Still Living Industry

By the beginning of the 20th Century, Southern Pine lumber manufacture had been in progress for exactly 300 years. Fearing exhaustion of timber supply, some leading economists of that day made this prediction: "Certainly no later than 1900," they said, "lumber manufacture in the South will come to an end."

By the year, 1930, has long since come and gone. Now it is 1960, but contrary to the old prophecy, enough Southern Pine lumber is being produced to frame virtually every home built in the United States this year.

Aside from lumber, the Southern Pine forests are also supporting a thriving pulp and paper industry, chemicals and many other enterprises that did not ever exist in the early 1900's, as well as naval stores.

Why was the prophecy reversed? Simply because the "condemned" gave birth to forest management at the same time that their "death sentence" was pronounced. The practice has developed so extensively in the South during the past sixty years, that the United States

Forest Service recently issued a forecast quite different from the gloomy original. Taking note that the present growth of Southern Pine sawtimber exceeds that of all other softwood species combined, the Federal Agency now predicts eventual concentration of the nation's timber and lumber production in this region.

Edward Haynes is generally credited with building the first auto on a commercial production scale in 1894.

Masking Tape

Masking tape is a great painting aid. Strips of masking tape around the window pane or mirror frame will prevent paint from getting on the glass. Door knobs and other hardware can easily be protected with masking tape. Of course, for special decorative touches, such as painting stripes or stenciling designs on walls or furniture, masking tape makes it possible for any amateur to achieve artistic results.

MAKE TOYS—Here is a whole menagerie of little animals, each of which is a childhood favorite. And—when they're pulled along the floor each one does something. For example, the rabbit hops, the horse gallops, the seal balances his ball and so forth. Anyone, even the most inexperienced amateur, can build the little toys pictured here when he uses the full size patterns. All that's necessary is to trace the patterns on wood (scraps are all you need), then saw out the parts and put them together. Painting is easy because you merely trace the animal's features on the wood then paint right over the tracings. To obtain the full size patterns No. C-1 for making all of the pull toys pictured send $1.00 by currency, check or money order payable to Steve Ellington, The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Van Nuys, Calif.

Clay Flue Linings Best Fire Preventers

Fire Prevention Week, October 9 to 15, is one of the significant observances of the year. Observed nationally each October since 1922, it marks the anniversary of the great Chicago fire.

But, the practice of fire prevention cannot be restricted to a commemorative week. Fire prevention is a year-around project for every man, woman, and child.

Fire Prevention Week is a reminder to all to practice year-round fire safety in the home and on the job.

Whenever property is destroyed by fire, everybody has a practical interest in it. Through insurance everybody shares the losses. And since the insurance companies pay losses with policyholders' money, unfavorable experience must be passed on.

Many fires are first reported as of "unknown" origin, but scientific methods of investigation eventually get at the facts. Actually, the causes of fire are relatively few and quite well known. Most of them are preventable by reasonable precautions. Investigation often brings to light failure of men or equipment—or both.

Prospective home buyers and builders are "on their own" where local building codes lack specific regulations requiring a "Type A" fire-safe, all-fuel chimney, constructed with clay flue lining. The situation is further complicated by the installation of temporary, single-fuel vents, known as "Type B".

A growing number of cities, realizing that this is a community responsibility, have passed ordinances prohibiting "Type B" fires, and amended their building codes to require fire-safe, all-fuel clay flue lining in chimneys. Such action conforms to the National Code of Fire Underwriters' recommendations for chimney construction, which endorses the use of clay flue lining.

The inherent nature of the clay flue lining material, itself, is the biggest single factor in this direction. Since heat does not affect it, and furnace gases and resulting chemical reactions cannot corrode or weaken it, clay flue lining is proving in use, that it protects the homeowner and his investment, the reputation of the designer and builder, and the safety of the community.

Advisory help for communities lacking safe chimney laws, is available to homeowners and buyers, architects, builders, contractors, and public officials, from the Clay Flue Lining Institute of Akron, Ohio, an association of manufacturers dedicated to fire prevention

Extra Payment Saves Interest

You can cut down the length of time it takes you to pay off your FHA or VA-insured mortgage—and save a barrel of interest money in the bargain.

Making occasional extra monthly principal payments is one answer, says the October issue of Better Homes & Gardens magazine. But take notice—this is not the same as double total payments—FHA and VA mortgages aren't handled that way.

Because a large percentage of the interest on any mortgage is paid during the first ten years, extra principal payments can be made during that period for very little extra cash.

Payments in exact amounts are essential, however, since inaccuracies would require a change in the entire loan schedule, which was drawn up when the loan was originally approved.

From your lender, pick up a copy of the loan schedule for your mortgage and find out the exact loan. From the schedule, determine the exact amount of your next month's payments.

Add to your regular monthly check the amount shown as "principal payment" on the loan schedule, since you will have paid both and be a month ahead.

The magazine offers a word of caution, however: This does not mean that no payment is due the following month. It does mean that you will never have to pay the interest charge marked for that month.

Special Straps Save Plumbing Time

A new method of roughing in hot and cold water lines that will save an estimated 1½ hours of installation time per average new home has been announced by Anacoda American Brass Division.

The method eliminates the need for inserting and nailing wooden blocks between studs and such attendant time-consuming steps as cutting, sawing and notching.

Key to the new technique is a perforated metal strap that is used instead of the wooden block. The strap is simply nailed to the studs. Special tie fittings are attached rapidly to the strap with self-tapping screws. The fittings are then in position to be soldered-joined to the piping. The strap allows full space for the vent stack.

All material required is included in a "Quick-Ruf" kit provided by Anacoda. The kit contains 10 fittings, 4 stud straps, 20 self-tapping screws and 10 nails.

Repair Kit Will Please Handyman

A gift that's sure to please the man around the house is the new Devcon Home Repair Kit, recently introduced by Devcon Corp., Danvers, Mass.

Designed to assist the homemaker in making those thousand-and-one repairs, the new gift package contains Plastic Steel for metals; Devcon Rubber, for flexible materials; and Devcon 2-Ton, for porcelain and enamel mending.

Plastic Steel, known as the repair material of 1,000 uses, can be used for permanent repairs of radiators, leaking pipes, boilers, wooden furniture, toys, broken tools, etc. Devcon Rubber, which is real rubber in semi-paste form, mends rainwear, rubber fabrics and other flexible materials.

The pure white color of Devcon 2-Ton makes it ideal for porcelain, enamel and china repairs. One drop will hold 5 tons.

The Devcon Home Repair Kit makes the perfect gift for the new home owner or for Dad on his birthday or anniversary. Wrapped in an attractive gift band, the kit is available at variety, hardware, department and automotive supply stores.

This type of perforated hardboard also has the permanent plastic surface that resists hard wear and kitchen stains. It can be cleaned with a sudsy cloth.

Suspected Murderer Declared 'Insane'

MUSKEGON (AP)—Raymond J. Ogle, 39, Friday was declared "legally insane" and committed by Circuit Judge Henry L. Beers to Ionia State Hospital.

The development followed a sanity hearing for Ogle who had been facing trial on a charge of murder in the April 7 slaying and mutilation of 80-year-old crippled handyman A. Donald Seaman.

Dr. A. J. Anderson of Muskegon and John G. Hauser of Grand Rapids, two psychiatrists, had testified at the hearing that their examination of Ogle found him mentally ill at present and at the time of the slaying.

MOSAIC WORK — To build the mosaic coffee table or a wall hanging, all you need do is trace the full size pattern on plywood or hardboard. Then you saw out the table top. After that you glue the tile right over the tracings you have made on the wood. The pattern tells exactly where to place each color. Even a small child can do it. Once the tiles are in place, you attach the do-it-yourself table legs which are sold by dealers everywhere. If it's used on the wall, you merely fasten hangers on the back just as you would in hanging a picture. To obtain the full size pattern No. 209 for making this sunburst design mosaic table send $1.00 by currency, check or money order to Steve Ellington, Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Van Nuys, Calif.

SECURED DECK — Here's a real charmer of a wood deck which gives the user privacy without the feeling of being caged in. Note the half screen at the end and the low screen in front. Deck is made of sturdy Douglas fir and is one of many useful designs which make outdoor living a pleasure.

Camouflage Doors

The best way to camouflage doors is by painting the glass panes with the same paint or enamel as the door frames. For a unique effect, the panes can be painted in various colors that blend with the decor of the room or in imitation of the modern painter Mondrian.

Southern Pine paneling, finished natural, gives a brilliant golden color to the room walls. If the user desires, this can be changed to light or dark blue, gray, beige, etc., simply by tinting the finish with oils to achieve the desired hue.

The Devcon Home Repair Kit makes the perfect gift for the new home owner or for Dad on his birthday or anniversary. Wrapped in an attractive gift band, the kit is available at variety, hardware, department and automotive supply stores.

Fall's the Time to Paint

Fall is considered by many experts to be the best season of the year for outdoor painting. The temperature seldom goes above 80 degrees or below 40 — the ideal range for drying — and the humidity is low. There are a variety of quality paints from which to choose: the traditional linseed oil paints, alkyd resin house paints, and the new water emulsion house paints, generally known as latex paints. The color choice is wide.

Reserve Time to Patch and Clean Driveway

If your driveway isn't cracked or broken, it's probably dirty and stained. Few drivers get through a winter looking brand new.

And if you've bought a new car this spring — other than a compact — you've probably decided that the driveway needs weeding as well as repainting.

One warm weather chore is to get the driveway looking good again. If you have an asphalt or black top driveway it may have as many chuckholes as streets of the same material. The weight of your car makes them worse. And spring rains manage to wash away a lot of loose material.

COLD PATCHING

Cold patch mix in a variety of brands is available for such repair jobs. Clean the loose material out of the hole. Partially fill with small rocks or gravel. Fill with cold patch and tamp down with the end of a 2x4. Sprinkling a little sand on the fresh patch will keep shoes and tires from sticking.

Cracks in concrete should be cleaned out and undercut with a chisel. Make the gap wider at the bottom than at the top. Wet thoroughly and fill with concrete patch. Use a dry ready-mix and add water for small jobs.

Concrete drives accumulate stains quite readily. There are a variety of home cures — a thick paste of lime juice and salt is one, a paste of lye, water and sawdust is another.

Detergents designed for automatic dishwashers are quite strong, often strong enough to take care of such stains. Almost all of these spot removers require repeated treatment. Commercial grease cleaners are carried in many auto accessory stores — just spray on and hose off.

Success depends on how quickly you treat the stain. A quick scrubbing with a stiff brush and detergent will do wonders with a fresh stain.

Old stains soak well into the concrete. If other remedies fail, try muriatic acid. Do it carefully. The acid softens the surface mo-

Sideline quarterbacks on both sides should be having a field day today with all the "ifs" and "buts" on how the Pontiac Northern-Waterford game could have been won instead of ending in a 20-20 standstill.

A screaming rain-soaked crowd of 4,500 watched the two rivals battle each other in a game which changed complexion often and on two occasions in a race with the clock.

It appeared that Northern was going to break the contest wide open right at the start, but after spotting the Huskies a 14-0 lead the Skippers fought back and took a 20-14 lead after the last 44 seconds.

The Huskies took the opening kickoff and with Chris Payne and Bill Young toting the ball, they got to the four yard line from where Young hit outside of tackle for the score. Jerry Minewasser converted with a kick.

Waterford came back and went from its own 26 to the PNH one yard line. The drive stalled and Northern took over and marched 90 yards for the touchdown.

Dave Mocarshi had gains of 11, 12 and nine yards and he then shot through a gaping hole 53 yards for the touchdown. Minewasser's conversion made it 14-0 with 2:20 left in the half.

Waterford immediately fumbled the ball away and Northern had control with 1:30 to play.

Quarterback Bruce Norton elected to try to hit fast for a score, but trying to pass he was hit and fumbled and with :58 seconds to play the Skippers had the ball on the PNH 44.

The clock stopped on every play by time-out or out-of-bounds situations and thus the Skippers were able to get six running plays and two passes off in this time.

With 5 seconds left Bill Newman flipped a 14 yarder to end Tom McArthur in the end zone. Harry Savas' point try was partially blocked and the halftime read 14-0.

As the second half started, on the first play from scrimmage Steve Thompson fell on a Waterford fumble on the 32.

Two plays later Young broke loose and headed for the goal line. He went 20 yards and was tripped up forcing him to fumble on the Waterford seven from where the Skippers moved.

A quick intercept on the 38 end Ed Stigers throughed he went 62 yards to score. Goff ran the point and it was 14-13.

As the 4th period started Waterford had the ball on its 32. Goff and Stiger tore off good chunks of yardage. On a naked reverse McArthur reached the PNH 3 and Goff again ran the point and it was 20-14.

Northern took the ensuing kick-off and in eight plays covered 67 yards.

With 4th down and a yard to go on the Waterford 21, Mocarshi raced to the line. Only 44 seconds showed on the clock as Northern rolled out to its right and plucked Mocarshi for the 9 yard touchdowns.

The Huskies then lined up to kick the point try. Instead of holding, Thompson got up and raced to his left. He tried to pass but it fell short.

Both teams played hard and it could have gone either way. In Inter-League action each has a 1-1 mark. Stigers led the running with 112 yards followed by Goff with a 100, Mocarshi with 87 and Young with 84.

The statistics showed how even the game was and both coaches indicated they were satisfied with the play of their teams.

Outplayed throughout the first half, heavily favored Walled Lake roared back with a good last half in the Inter-Lakes play.

showing to whip Berkley 14-0 and stay unbeaten last night.

It was the 5th straight season triumph for the Vikings and 3rd in the Inter-Lakes play.

Southfield snipped Farmington 14-0 in an afternoon contest.

The running of Mike Hinckley, Neil Salo and Gary Alderson behind a line led by big John Van Sickle sparked the comeback which overcame the early score.

Hinckley, who had a 62-yard touchdown dash nullified by a penalty in the scoreless 1st half, climaxed a 54-yard march by reaching paydirt from 28 yards out late in the 3rd quarter.

The rugged Salo played a key role in the other TD drive which covered 23 yards in the final period. He got it started with 13-yard smash through the line and added power thrusts of 7, 4, 5 and 3 getting stopped at the 1-foot line on the last one.

Gary Alderson crashed over for the tally. His runs of 12 and 5 had preceded Salo's last advance. Phil McMillion booted both extra points.

Berkley made one of its best showings of the year. The fired-up Bears matched the Vikings in 1st downs and were only 13 yards short in total offense.

Quarterback Phil Krumm gave Walled Lake its all evening on options and sneaks with Ron Strimstad also gaining well.

The Bears reached the Walled Lake 38 before faltering and later got to the 25 before Jim Houston's pass interception in two opening half yards. Numerous penalties and some inept play helped keep the victors bogged down most of the first 24 minutes.

Walled Lake was a different team after the intermission rest and took charge playing in a steady rain. Berkley got just past the mid-field stripe three times in the last half.

Couch Dave Smith, who had a busy first half trying to shake some life into his charges, singled out Van Sickle and guard Ken Andrews for outstanding play.

The victory may prove a costly one since end Bill Carter may be lost to the team with fractured ribs.

Favored Southfield had its hands full winning its 2nd in a row after three setbacks at Farmington. Fred Penrose of the Bluejays plunged over for game's only touchdown.

Southfield gained 2nd place in the league with a 2-1 record.

John Lepich went one yard. It was 13-7 for Mt. Clemens at halftime on two Hoover passes.

In the third quarter the Bather TD was set up by a fumble. Fred Penrose of the Bluejays plunged over for game's only touchdown.

Pontiac Central Still Unbeaten

Chiefs Wallop Saginaw, 21-0, in Valley Game

Cousers Tallies 2 TDs as PCH Gridders Post 1st League Win

By BILL CORNWELL

SAGINAW — Pontiac Central's hustling, improving football team routed Saginaw High's homecoming celebration here Friday night with a 21-0 Saginaw Valley Conference victory at New Alumni Field.

Central's defensive unit, which had taken its lumps in three previous outings, grabbed some of the spotlight as the Chiefs chalked up their 1st league triumph and 3rd altogether.

The well-deserved win preserved Central's unbeaten record. The Chiefs' 1960 season mark now reads 3-0 with last week's 20-20 tie at Arthur Hill marring the slate.

With Bill Pritchett, Central's mammoth 235-pound tackle, leading the way, the Chiefs kept their goal line uncrossed for the 2nd time this season, limiting the Saginaw ground attack to 80 yards in a vaunted aerial offense to 31.

Ends Ed Shorter, George Fied and Milford Hillie and halfbacks Dick McCauley and Roy Couser, joined Pritchett in starring defensive roles and almost completely, throttled the Trojan offense.

The Chiefs' attack was not as crisp and precise as a week ago in the deadlock at Arthur Hill, but it still had enough drive to pile up 23 rushing yards.

McCauley, one of the finest all-around gridirers seen at PCH in many years, was once more the star in the ground game, but this time the touchdown glory went to Couser, a quick-starting junior.

The Chiefs' attack was not as crisp and precise as a week ago in the deadlock at Arthur Hill, but it still had enough drive to pile up 23 rushing yards.

Couser scored Central's first two touchdowns and gained 102 yards in 17 attempts for an average of 6.0 per carry. McCauley chalked up 114 yards in 18 tries for a 6.3 average.

Larry Brennan, Bob Pomeroy's understudy at quarterback, and Shorter, a rugged 6-foot end, formed a productive pass combination for Central's final TD and Brennan pluckicked all three extra-points.

Through no fault of his own, McCauley was held scoreless for the first time this fall. The speedy runner scored a Saginaw punt 81 yards for a TD late in the 2nd quarter, but a teammate was detected clipping and the dazzling run fumbled on the 43.

The Chiefs muffed a golden scoring opportunity in the 1st period. They marched from their own 20 to the Trojan 3-yard line before a 15-yard penalty sent them back to the O line. On the 4th down, Brennan missed a field goal attempt from the 25.

PCH struck pay dirt for the first time early in the 2nd stanza. They drove 55 yards in nine plays with Couser slanting over the left side for a TD from one yard away.

Central was not content to rest on a 7-0 halftime lead and boosted the margin to 14-0 following the 2nd-half kickoff.

The Chiefs received the boot and proceeded to tally 78 yards in time running. Shorter stood alone in the corner of the end zone and Brennan's southpaw pass hit him perfectly for a TD thrust covering nine yards.

Saginaw made only two serious scoring bids. The Trojans rebuffed the PCH 18 early in the 1st quarter before McCauley intercepted a pass in the end zone for an automatic touchdown to stop that threat.

In the 3rd period the Trojans moved to the PCH 24, but the Chiefs rose up and, threw them back to the 35 where they took the clock on downs.

The Chiefs' Valley record now stands at 1-0-1. Saginaw has an overall record of 0-3-1 and a 0-2 slate in the conference.

GOODBYE BALL — The precious pigskin goes, bouncing away after Northern halfback Bill Young who fumbles on the Waterford seven yard line following his fine 20 yard dash. The Waterford players in the picture swarmed all over the ball and took over on the seven to halt a PNH threat. Four plays later the Skippers scored on a 62 yard run by Ed Stigers.

Rochester, Romeo Suffer Setbacks

Rochester, bottled up Roseville's "big man" last night, but the "little one" got away and the Wildcats defeated the Falcons 19-6 before a rain-soaked crowd of 4,000 at Rochester's Homecoming.

It was the fifth straight triumph and second in the Tri-County League for Roseville, while the Falcons lost for the first time in five starts.

Lapeer won its second league game dropping Romeo 13-7 with Tom Coulter scoring both touchdowns.

L'Anse Creuse had an easy time of the league whipping Cherry Hill 48-14.

Fumbles set up both Lapeer touchdowns. Coulter went 22 yards and 22 yards and Westminster ran the point for a 13-0 lead.

Romeo scored on a 37-yard pass play from Mark Johnson to Dan Baldwin in the third quarter. McKeough kicked the point.

Ed Peckles scored five L'Anse touchdowns on 46, 23, 5, 43 and 11 yard runs.

Rochester geared its defense to stop six-foot-four, 235-pound Ron McCleese and did a magnificent job in restricting the huge fullback to 37 yards rushing.

The Falcons begged down on the Roseville 33 after picking up their first downs from the second and third quarters.

Rochester's defense was keyed to stop McCleese and did a magnificent job in restricting the huge fullback to 37 yards rushing.

But in doing so, a 155-pound scabbard ran rampant. Howard Taylor, five-seven junior speedster playing out his final year of prep competition, had a real night of glory in racing to one touchdown and setting up the other two with long runs.

The Taylor literally scorched the Rochester turf with his flying feet as he sped for 187 yards in 13 carries and a better than 14-yard average.

After an exchange of punts signified a defensive duel at the start of the contest, Taylor changed the complexion with a 53-yard gallop to the Rochester 10.

McCleese bulled over from the two on his third successive charge into the line, but that was to be his only effective half-carrying gesture. The Falcons blocked McCleese's try for the point from placement.

Rochester came back with a big bounce in the second period as Dan Baldwin scored 43 yards for the equalizer. The score remained 6-6 for the half as Roseville stopped Baldwin's run for the extra point.

and half kickoff, and Taylor took over again.

On the second play from scrimmage the squat sprinter went off left tackle with an incredible burst of speed and never slowed down until he reached the goal line 63 yards away. McCleese faked a kick from placement and passed to Tom May for the point.

It took only the kickoff and a punt to separate Taylor from his best brilliant run. This time he went 43 yards to the Rochester 37 and, Gary McCauley, counted the remaining yardage with a touchdown pass to end Leigh Taylor.

Rochester again blocked McCleese's place kick to end the scoring, but any hopes of a comeback were washed out as a heavy downpour had the teams sloshing through on uneventful fourth period.

The Falcons had two first-half drives stall on the 13- and 20-yard lines when they scored their touchdowns. Taylor Ed Fies set up the TD when he jarred the loose from McCleese and recovered the fumble on the 43.

The Chiefs muffed a golden scoring opportunity in the 1st period. They marched from their own 20 to the Trojan 3-yard line before a 15-yard penalty sent them back to the O line. On the 4th down, Brennan missed a field goal attempt from the 25.

'Skins Upset Barons, Holly and Clarkston Post Wins

West Bloomfield strengthened its bid for a Wayne-Oakland championship by slamming defending titlist Northville 20-0 as last place Milford was rising up to dump defender Bloomfield-Hills Friday night.

Holly stayed right close on Keego's heels by downing Clarenceville 13-7 as Clarkston nipped Brighton, 14-6.

Northville actually gave West Bloomfield much more trouble than the score indicates. The Mustangs gained 45 more net yards sparked by the passing of aerial artist Steve Lasky. The big quarterback was the top performer on the field hitting 10 of 13 flips.

Long touchdown runs by Roger Hess and Jack Newton enabled the Lakers to hold the rushing edge.

The winners scored 13 points in the opening quarter. Sophomore end Dave Helmrich got things started with a 75-yard touchdown kick and scumpered 35 yards to paydirt. Mark Krick kicked the extra point.

Hess got the other on a 39-yard gale around end. That's the way it stood until the 4th when Newton got loose to go 38 for his 10th touchdown this fall. Northville had threats end of 3 and 1.

It was the 4th successive league victory and 5th over-all for the Lakers. Northville is now 2-2.

Holding the lead had been Milford's major problem in four straight defeats. The Redskins shook the fumblyties as Bloomfield Hills caught the disease.

Mike Russell passed for both Redskins touchdowns in a 13-7 triumph. All seven Milford six-pointers this season have been on flips by the quarterback.

The second to Sid Lewis covered 45 yards and broke a 7-7 tie. Larry Chapel had been the receiver on a 31-yard pass to Fritz Sheehan - Reuter ran 32 yards for the Bloomfield tally with Pat Pettibone matching a PAT by Chapin. Pettibone turned in an outstanding performance.

Bloomfield, which sorely missed injured star Roger Stewart, had a 1st down on the Milford 15 with 4 seconds to play aided by an interference call but a final pass failed as Baron fans claimed another intrusion in vain.

Bob Ennis had another big night for Holly. His buck broke the 1 and extra point started the scoring in the 2nd quarter.

He passed 45 yards to Jim MacArthur in six minutes to go 38 to set up the clinching TD scored from the 2 by sophomore quarterback Dick Canfield. Ennis gained 130 yards in 20 carries.

Clarkston scored early in the final period when Ron Blount ran 27 yards and Tony Giacobazzi booted point after.

The educated foot of little Jim Custer proved the difference for Clarkston. The 145-pounder ignored the pressure to kick the decisive point after time had run out at Brighton.

Bill White had gained a tie for the Wolves by taking a 35-yard pass from Harold Weston. West-on had hit Ron Landy on a 55-yard aerial to set up the big one with 10 seconds to play.

Brighton scored in the 3rd quarter when quarterback Randy Marx threw 30 yards ending a 10-0 tie. A kick attempt for the extra point failed. Most of the defensive battle was played in the rain.

Holly won ranks 2-1 with 3-1 followed by Clarkston 2-1. Bloomfield Hills and Northville share 4th.

ORION HERO - Little Gary Hunter's 2nd TD of the season was a big one for Lake Orion at Clawson last night. He caught a 20-yard pass to score and pull the Dragons from behind with only three minutes to play.

Avalonde rebounded from a

Bolt is Keeping Calm

COSTA MESA, Calif. (UPI) - Tommy Bolt, a golfer known for his terrible temper, is out in front by a real cool three strokes today going into the third round of the 72-hole, $15,000 Orange County Open.

The 41-year-old 1958 National Open champion shot a 6-under-par 65 yesterday in the second round at the Mesa Verde Country Club to run his 36-hole total to 134 and take the leadership from the 11-hole mark. Par here is 36-35-71.

Orion Rallies to Win, Won Blasts Parkers

Lake Orion owns a share of 1st place in the Oakland B League today thanks to a comeback triumph at Clawson Friday night.

Gary Hunter scored on a 20-yard pass from Roger Williams with three minutes left to go in the game to give the Dragons a 12-7 win.

Avalonde helped the Orion came by blasting weak Oak Park off the top perch in a 45-6 break while Troy was dumping Madison, 21-4.

Orion and Fitzgerald, which had a non-stop contest, in the top slot at 2-0-1. Avalonde and Troy follow at 2-1.

Lake Orion started off well against Clawson going 60 yards to score early with Tim Alban reaching the end zone from the 4.

Ron Hewitt took an 11-yard pass to get CHS even and then ran the extra point for a 7-6 lead which stood from the 2nd period until Hunter tallied. A fumble recovery, at the Clawson 40, got the TD drive in motion.

It was the 4th successive league victory and 5th over-all for the Lakers. Northville is now 2-2.

Holding the lead had been Milford's major problem in four straight defeats. The Redskins shook the fumblyties as Bloomfield Hills caught the disease.

Mike Russell passed for both Redskins touchdowns in a 13-7 triumph. All seven Milford six-pointers this season have been on flips by the quarterback.

The second to Sid Lewis covered 45 yards and broke a 7-7 tie. Larry Chapel had been the receiver on a 31-yard pass to Fritz Sheehan - Reuter ran 32 yards for the Bloomfield tally with Pat Pettibone matching a PAT by Chapin. Pettibone turned in an outstanding performance.

Bloomfield, which sorely missed injured star Roger Stewart, had a 1st down on the Milford 15 with 4 seconds to play aided by an interference call but a final pass failed as Baron fans claimed another intrusion in vain.

Bob Ennis had another big night for Holly. His buck broke the 1 and extra point started the scoring in the 2nd quarter.

He passed 45 yards to Jim MacArthur in six minutes to go 38 to set up the clinching TD scored from the 2 by sophomore quarterback Dick Canfield. Ennis gained 130 yards in 20 carries.

Clarkston scored early in the final period when Ron Blount ran 27 yards and Tony Giacobazzi booted point after.

The educated foot of little Jim Custer proved the difference for Clarkston. The 145-pounder ignored the pressure to kick the decisive point after time had run out at Brighton.

Bill White had gained a tie for the Wolves by taking a 35-yard pass from Harold Weston. West-on had hit Ron Landy on a 55-yard aerial to set up the big one with 10 seconds to play.

Brighton scored in the 3rd quarter when quarterback Randy Marx threw 30 yards ending a 10-0 tie. A kick attempt for the extra point failed. Most of the defensive battle was played in the rain.

Holly won ranks 2-1 with 3-1 followed by Clarkston 2-1. Bloomfield Hills and Northville share 4th.

blasting at Cranbrook to walk all over Oak Park.

Capit. Jim McDonald started the slaughter with his first of four touchdowns on six-yard runs in the 1st quarter. He later went 8, took a punt back 75 and dashed 3, with a pass intercepttion. The quick halfback also had a PAT for a 21-point night.

Don Caza rambled 30 yards. Rich Billings and Pete Davidson went 1 each for Troy six-pointers. Madison got on the scoreboard when Jim Nitz passed to Bob Kant.

He said three soph in particular have a good chance of breaking into the starting lineup.

They are Don Petroff of East Detroit, Tom Evland of Livonia and Tom Cole, a 5-foot-8-inch center from the Springfield, Ill., team that won the 1959 Illinois state championship.

Also new at Michigan are Strack's assistants, Jim Skala and freshman coach Tom Jorgensen. Skala coached at Eastern Michigan University last season, while Jorgensen coached at high schools in Maumee, Ohio, and Mount Pleasant.

Strack planned to build his squad around John Tidwell, a senior from Herrin, Ill., and captain of this year's team. Tidwell holds both Michigan scoring records.

Other returning lettermen were Dick Clark, sidelined by injury during most of last year's Big Ten campaign; Dick Donley, Charles Higgins and Jon Hall.

Strack also will pick up lettermen Bob Brown and Scott Maentz when the football season begins. Brown was a starter during the last half of the past season, and Maentz was on the first team at the end of the first semester, when he became academically ineligible.

Like Elliott, Strack will have to depend heavily on sophomores.

Utica Hits Peak in 26-14 Victory Over Lincoln

Utica turned in its all-out best showing of the 1960 to overpower Warren Lincoln 26-14 last night.

The Chieftains romped to a 20-0 halftime lead and then coasted the rest of the way.

Doug Ebert sparked the triumph with touchdowns runs of 71 and 39 yards. Bruce Clark went 38 and 39 for the other Utica six-pointers. The winners rushed for 333 yards.

Strack, coach at the University of Idaho, replaced Bill Perigo who resigned after the Wolverines compiled a record of four wins and 10 losses last year.

Strack planned to build his squad around John Tidwell, a senior from Herrin, Ill., and captain of this year's team. Tidwell holds both Michigan scoring records.

Wolverines Begin Cage Practice Under Strack

Strack, a one-time Michigan assistant game coach, was hoping his first half of the past season would be as successful as football coach Bump Elliott's debut last year.

Wolves Yield Points But It Doesn't Hurt

By The Associated Press
Bay City Central finally has been scored upon — but it really didn't matter. Not with a pair of quarterbacks dazing every rival in the Wolves' path to an unbeaten season.

Manpower-laden Bay City rolled off its fifth straight win with a 27-0 victory over the Wolves' last night and quarterbacks Bob Crampton and Bob Schaffer did most of the damage.

The Wolves, ranked second in Class A, coasted over outmanned Saginaw Arthur Hill 41-13. The scoreless string was ended after 27 minutes and 22 seconds of 1960 play, but Bay City never had to worry.

Crampton scored once on a quarterback sneak and passed for another touchdown while Schaffer pitched two TD passes. Jack Anderson broke the Wolves' white-hot string with a 5-yard back after a tricky Arthur Hill shove pass play advanced the ball 45 yards.

First-ranked Ann Arbor (5-0) survived a scare and eked out a 14-12 triumph over fifth-ranked Battle Creek Central on a touchdown with 1:34 left. Howard Lippert's 26-yard pass to Barry Brown kept the Lions unbeaten with left-footed Jim Bille providing the margin with a pair of place kicks.

Battle Creek stunned Ann Arbor on the third scrimmage play, and Six-A League serial champion Jim Bille clicked on an 86-yard pass play. The other Battle Creek score came on a 67-yard pass play, Charmed to Joe Baas.

Grand Rapids South (3-2), the Associated Press' No. 7 Class A team, was upset by Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills, 31-6.

Colts Hope to See Goal Line More Often Against Eagles

Detroit Still After 1st Win in Philadelphia

Joe Schmidt Returns to Lineup to Boost Lion Hopes

By BRUNO I. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
PHILADELPHIA — With only one touchdown scored in two long games so far this season, the Detroit Lions will have a chance to get some offensive work under their belts when they meet the Philadelphia Eagles tomorrow.

If the Lions don't score on the Eagles then they may not be scoring on anyone very much this season. The Philadelphia team has shown that it is the easiest team on which to score.

But by the same token the Eagles have proven that they are a high scoring unit themselves.

So far this year, the Eagles and their opponents have scored at least three touchdowns each in every game.

After losing 41-24 to Cleveland, the Eagles defeated Dallas, 27-25, and then St. Louis 31-27.

Detroit, meanwhile, could muster only three field goals in losing, 28-9 to Green Bay in the opener and then added another field goal and a touchdown in losing to the 49ers 14-10 last week.

As result the top scorer on the team is Jim Martin with 13 points, including one extra point.

Detroit's defensive alignment which kept the San Francisco 49ers in check most of the game will remain intact, according to coach George Wilson.

The return of Darrin McCord to the defensive left end slot and the alignment of Alex Karras, Roger Brown and Bill Glass in the front line was effective in giving up only 50 yard rushing to the 49ers.

On the brighter side, captain Joe Schmidt, one of pro football's greatest linebackers, will be back after sitting out since Sept. 11th because of a shoulder injury.

The Lions will have the task of stopping Norm Van Brocklin who has fine receivers in Tommy McDonald, Pete Retzlaff and Bobby Watson.

In the pre-season game played between the two teams, Van Brocklin completed 13 of 20 passes for 220 yards and the Eagles scored a 40-10 decision.

A crowd of 30,000 is expected in Franklin Field. In 12 games since 1934, the Lions held an 8-3-1 edge.

Yanks Weren't Confused

Missed Sign Helped Pirates

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Remember the first inning of the first game of the World Series when Bill Virdon of Pittsburgh was lauded for his surprising "delayed steal" that so upset the New York Yankees, they went on to drop a 6-4 decision to the Pirates?

Well, it just wasn't so. Virdon's steal of second and advance to third when there was no Yankee in the hole, was a blunder.

"Kubek and Richardson were blamed for supposedly helping Virdon confused as to who would cover."

The authority of this new version is Dick Groat, the crafty captain and ace shortstop of the new world champions. He disclosed what really happened after the second game but asked that it be made public only after the World Series.

"I went along with the general assumption that Billy had surprised the Yankees infield with a 'delayed steal,'" said Groat. "It not only made good reading but it gave the Yankees something to think about."

"The truth is, however, that I fouled it up all right. Virdon ran because he either missed my sign, or I gave it to him too late."

"If you recall, Virdon opened the inning by drawing a pass from Art Ditmar. I was the next batter, and I finished the hit and run sign to Billy. I usually give my own signs. Billy caught the signal all right but then I noticed that Kubek (shortstop Tony Kubek) and Richardson (second baseman Bobby Richardson) were holding a conference at second base."

"I knew full well what they were discussing. They had a good book on us and they knew I liked to pull the hit and run play at a time like this. So I decided to cross them in. I flashed another sign to Virdon, taking off the hit-and-run sign."

"Oh, I was the most surprised still a few points that have to be person in the park when Billy was out on the next pitch. It was outlying we can say."

Colts Hopping to Snap Back

By The Associated Press

The deft hands of Johnny Unitas and the sheer power of Rick Caserio are expected Sunday to help the Colts rushing behind the Packers' Jim Taylor, are favored by 13 points at Dallas.

The Baltimore Colts, counting on quarterback Unitas to snap them back from last week's setback at Green Bay, are 14-point favorites over the Los Angeles Rams at Baltimore.

The Chicago Bears, their offense geared to the halfback operations of Caserio, are touchdown favorites at home over the San Francisco 49ers.

Victories by the Colts and Bears would send them a full game up on the 49ers in the Western race and leave the Green Bay a half game back. All four are currently tied for first at 2-1. Below them are the Ravens—Detroit (0-2), Los Angeles (0-2) and Dallas (0-3).

The Dallas Cowboys, added this season as the 13th team in the NFL, play all teams in both conferences, and this week draw the realt Cleveland Browns (2-0), the Bears' second meeting is at Chicago Nov. 13.

The Colts' today will be without end Jim Mutscheller, injured last week in the 35-21 upset by Green Bay, and the Bears won't have Willie Gailimore, the speedster who was hurt in last Sunday's 34-27 victory over the Rams.

The Giants have been without veteran halfback Alex Webster throughout their three victories and haven't had power punter Don Chandler for the last two. Furthermore, a veteran quarterback Charley Conerly has been on and off the injured list, although he has played in all three games.

George Shaw, who has thrown six TD passes, is expected to start again tomorrow.

The Browns and Giants hope to come up to their first meeting Nov. 6 with 3-0 records as they battle for the Eastern title over the Redskins.

The Browns have won seven of the championships, but the Giants' three have been in the last four years.

When the smoke settled after this week's season at the West Coast, the standings existed throughout the standing.

Oakland Coln pulled the upset of the week when they took three games from the strong West Side Mobill outfit. This upset coupled with Lake Center Drugs double over Hazelton's and Pasquale's 2-1 win over Slater's created a three-way tie for first place with each team boasting 20 points. Tied for fourth place at 18 points include Biemar Int., a two game winner over Blue Cleaners, Calbi's winner who took two from Pizzuti's, Coca Cola, a two game winner over Triple X Lancers, Tony's Rental and Blue Cleaners.

Two points further back is Triple X and tied for 10th place at 14 points are Sparks Griffin, Oakland Coln, and West Side Lancers. Slater's are at the 10 point level while Judah Lake Mart and Hazelton Lettering are tied at 8 points. In last-place at 6 points are the Hazelton Lancers.

There were three games over the 3000 point mark again this week led by the Oakland Coln boys at 1068-1068-3064.

Irv Simpson was high man of the night at 634 while leading over a dozen 600 series. More than 60 games over 200 were rolled by J. McInney with a fine 553.

Balanced Attack Leads Pistons Over Syracuse

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UPI)—The Pistons shot into a quick lead and kept the rest of the way to a 127-115 victory over the Syracuse Nats in an exhibition National Basketball Association game last night.

The win brought Detroit's pre-season record to 3-4. The two teams play again tonight at Mount Carmel, Ill.

Murray Equals Mark but PNH Is Downed

If Ed Murray had a little more help, Pontiac Northern's cross country team would probably have more than one win this season. Murray tied the Southfield course record yesterday but the Huskies lost 20-37. It was their 5th setback in six meets.

Murray covered the two miles in 11:11. This equaled the record set last week by Berkeley's Steve Myers. The PNH star has now tied or set four course records this fall.

Five Southfield runners followed Murray across the finish line. They were Ed Davis, Vern Labenne, Brad Lawton, Vern Isaacson and Doug Carr. Richard Daitch was ninth. Other PNH runners in the top 10 were Gary Moltz 7th, Tim Kline 8th, and Ted Lorenzen 10th.

STOPPED SHORT — Bill Miller, Miami University end, is stopped short on the three-yard line after catching a pass from quarterback Eddie Johns in the last quarter of Friday night's game with South Carolina at Miami. Melvin Harris (41), Jim McGovern (50) and Dave Sowell (10) of South Carolina and halfback James Vollenweider (33, right) of the Hurricanes complete the picture.

ENTHUSIASM CLIMBS HIGH—An over-averaged woman supporter wearing a Kennedy hat is restrained by a policeman when she moves in too close to a car in which Sen. John Kennedy rides in a parade at Grand Rapids, Mich. The Democratic presidential nominee seems to be

State Opens Its Arms; Jack Says He'll Return

SAGINAW (UPI) — Michigan Democrats had a promise today from Sen. John F. Kennedy, who said he was pleased with a full day of campaigning through Republican territory—that he would return once again to the state before the Nov. 8 election.

Kennedy's 10-city whistle-stop train tour through Michigan Friday drew crowds that surprised even Democratic leaders.

But at every stop there was a sizable group of Republicans on hand to remind Kennedy that he did not count Michigan's 20 electoral votes won by any means.

Kennedy aides said the Democratic presidential nominee would swing through the Democratic DeCade area once more before Nov. 8. Kennedy himself said he believed the turnout Friday was "wonderful" and that he was "hopeful" of carrying Michigan.

He drew his largest crowd at Grand Rapids, with 15,000 persons jammed into the downtown Campus Square and more than 100,000 lining his motorcade route through the city.

'HE'S A DOLL' — Police and city officials, and even a startled Gov. G. Mennen Williams, said they could not remember when a political candidate had attracted so large a crowd in Grand Rapids.

Kennedy took note of the turnout when, just before leaving town, he said, "I know that Grand Rapids is supposed to be a Republican city, but either the town's real heartbeat or there are a few Democrats here."

At Grand Rapids, as at every stop along the route, the crowds included a heavy proportion of children and teenagers, especially teen-agers.

They could be heard, as the Kennedy motorcade moved along, making remarks like, "He's a doll" and "Isn't he darling?"

One girl, who was probably for giving out with an Ooh as he watches. Kennedy had just finished speaking to an overflow crowd in downtown Grand Rapids during his one-day, 10-city campaign tour through Michigan Friday.

Next to Grand Rapids, he drew his best crowds at Kalamazoo and Saginaw.

Also at each stop Kennedy put in a few minutes for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

At Owosso, hometown of Republican Thomas E. Dewey, a group of Republicans loudly booed Kennedy and led him to reply that booing would not solve the nation's problems.

At all the other stops, though, Kennedy sign, Kennedy remarked, "Just stay up there through Nov. 8 and we (the Democrats) will be in good shape."

To a group who had climbed a large tower at Marshall to display a Nixon sign, Kennedy remarked, "Just stay up there through Nov. 8 and we (the Democrats) will be in good shape."

Mobutu Getting Tough in Congo

One Foreign Diplomat, Supporting Lumumba, Ordered Shot on Sight

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—The high commissioner for Belgium in the Congo today declared an "outlaw" and ordered a number of foreign diplomats.

Nathaniel Welbeck, special envoy of Ghana President Kwame Nkrumah, who supports ousted Premier Patrice Lumumba, was declared an "outlaw" and ordered "shot on sight."

Giuseppe Envy J. Toukara was ordered out of the Congo, but he refused to obey on the ground that the order had to be signed by Congo President Joseph Kasavubu.

The moves followed an attempt by 20 Lumumba followers to assassinate finance commissioner Albert Ndele as he left a press conference in the Mervin Hotel Friday.

Ndele was beaten up but his life was saved by an American bodyguard. The assassin was taken to the town, N. J., who dragged him back into the hotel lobby.

Another high commissioner, Joseph Nsumbu, and his deputy, Daniel Kambale, were kidnapped but released unharmed a short while later in another part of the Congo capital.

Earlier in the day, Mobutu's gendarmes had dispersed a crowd of approximately 300 pro-Lumumba demonstrators in front of the headquarters by hitting them with rifle butts and clubs.

Sources said the attack on Ndele was a planned reprisal for the action taken against the demonstrators.

Bentley said the Democrats "obviously are hiding Johnson and his shocking record on civil rights."

Can Detect Ice on Plane Wings

New Device Does Job by Light Refraction for Small Machines

CHICAGO (UPI) — A new device to detect the formation of ice on the wings of small aircraft has been developed by a team of physicists at the Armour Research Foundation of Illinois Institute of Technology.

Large commercial and military planes have for some time been equipped with electrical or pneumatic devices which either melt or crack the ice.

These were not only too heavy and expensive for smaller craft but they also often required more power than the smaller engines could generate.

Researchers at the institute have designed a simple and inexpensive instrument which utilizes light refraction to detect ice formation.

Two translucent plastic rods are placed parallel and a fraction of an inch apart on the wing of the plane. A light is beamed into one rod while an electric eye monitors the other.

When ice forms between the two rods, the light refracts out of the first rod through the ice, and into the second rod to activate the electric eye.

Up to now most pilots of small aircraft have relied upon their own vision to determine ice formation on the wings.

Advantages of the new ice detector are: it can be easily checked on the ground and easily cleaned; it is optional, not mechanical which means there are no moving parts to jam or to become clogged with dirt or foreign matter; and it can detect even the smaller deposits of ice.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Heller, D.V.M.

Q. Our dog has tears in his eyes constantly. Does this indicate eye trouble? Grace Canning, Floral Park, N.Y.

A. Even the happy dog is constantly producing tears, but you can't see them. Normally, this moisture runs into the nose, but when the tear ducts are blocked, or an overabundance of moisture is present, the tears overflow. An ingrown eyelash or an irritant such as dust, smoke, or fumes may be all that is wrong.

Some breeds, such as white poodles, are prone to eye construction peculiarities that keep the eyes moistened. Severe nasal infections are also a factor.

The common cold comes and goes, so if your dog has constant tears, I doubt that this is the root of his trouble. Constant eye watering is not normal, and can cause on the ground and easily cleaned, uncomfortable sores on the sides of the nose.

Railroads have about one billion cross ties in use today in the U.S. and about 35 million of them are replaced every 12 months.

Over Half Polled Think K at U.N. Was Big Flop

By JOHN KRAFT

"I didn't think Khrushchev belonged here!"—said an elderly man in Nodaway County, Missouri.

Like it or not, the United Nations headquarters is in America. As a matter of fact, we fought hard at one time to get it placed here. And like him or not, Nikita Khrushchev is not only the head of the Soviet government, but he is the head of the Russian delegation to the General Assembly of the United Nations.

Kennedy Raps Nixon Changes

Dem Candidate Calls
Rival's Public Record
Beyond Definitions

WITH KENNEDY IN PENNSYLVANIA (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy declared today that Richard M. Nixon's "record of public action is so changeable and contradictory that his political philosophy defies definition."

The Democratic presidential nominee told a New Castle, Pa., audience estimated by police at more than 10,000 that Vice President Nixon yesterday described himself in Los Angeles as a "practical progressive" but that five months ago he classified him as he drove between Sharon and Tive.

Kennedy in Michigan

"I cannot believe that the American people in these difficult times will choose a man with this fuzzy image of his own political philosophy," the senator asserted.

"Rather, I believe they will elect a candidate whose own philosophy and that of his party—the Democratic party—has been consistent in the people's interest at home and abroad."

Kennedy motorcaded today in Western Pennsylvania in heavy autumn sunshine greeted by applauding crowds along much of the route. One woman rushed out as he drove between Sharon and New Castle and handed him a cake.

The Democratic candidate said it would not be surprising if the American people were confused by the "abundance of definitions" the new president has given of his personal philosophy.

Nixon Highly Encouraged by Turnout in California

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon heads back across the continent today, highly encouraged by his intensive hunt for votes in California.

Nixon flew from Los Angeles Friday night. His schedule called for speeches here, in Tulsa and in Springfield, Ill., before finally pulling into Hartford, Conn., to spend the night and Sunday.

There were three major developments in the Nixon camp Friday:

1. Nixon drew such large and enthusiastic crowds — 200,000 lined the downtown streets — that it was described as the finest day he ever had in Los Angeles. This is highly important to Nixon, for California's big batch of 21 electoral votes are hanging in the balance.

2. The vice president brought his position nearer that of administration policy on Matsuo and Quemo. Administration policy is that if an attack on Matsuo and Quemo is recognized as the beginning of an assault on Formosa and the Pescadores, they will be defended.

In Nixon's first speeches he was saying not an inch of territory should be yielded to the Communists. Friday he kept hammering away on the same subject but without saying, as he did earlier in the week, that there should be absolutely no retreat.

Mac Sees Need for a Summit on Berlin Woes

But Believes Meeting
Could Bring Agreement
Only on Principles

SCARBOROUGH, Eng. (UPI)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said today another summit meeting should be called to discuss the Berlin problem.

But he said neither summit meetings nor United Nations General Assembly discussion on disarmament could do more than agree on principles.

The practical details of disarmament, Macmillan said, must be worked out in small committees of experts.

Macmillan, who returned last week from the United Nations in New York, reported to the final meeting of the Conservative party's annual convention on the General Assembly and his meetings with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"The prime minister said he told Khrushchev 'that the problem of Berlin and Germany must be handled in a way that does justice to the reasonable desires of the German people through the United Nations,'" he said.

"It is a potentially dangerous problem from the point of view of East and West alike," he said. "And if we can have a summit for this — as well as other purposes — and if my two partners, the presidents of the U.S. and of France, agree, I am all for it."

WONT ELABORATE

Macmillan did not detail the "other purposes" or say if he made his summit meeting offer to Khrushchev personally.

He said the international situation "has substantially worsened since May," but added that "it is no good crying over spilled sum."

"By a use of the U.N. Assembly for propaganda services," he said, "because negotiations have in fact been broken off."

"Nevertheless, our purpose must be to try to get back to the mood of last spring," he said.

"We don't want just to argue about disarmament. We want nations to disarm."

"Progress has been disappointingly slow," he said, because "discussions never seem to get to grips."

Macmillan accused the Russians of walking out on every committee "that starts to go fairly well."

Policeman in Dilemma — Wife's Quite a Sport

CHICAGO (UPI)—Policeman Robert Petrusik, 26, was under 29 days suspension today for failing to arrest his wife.

The policeman's suspension order said his wife kept two slot machines in a store she owned and he "failed to take proper police action in regard to this violation of the law."

Canasta then blew into an instrument and thousands of television sets around London went black.

They all came back on again about 40 seconds later with Canasta explaining it was all a gag.

But not before 47 viewers had phoned the British Broadcasting Company to complain that "You've ruined our sets."

Reds Release U.S. Tourists but Detention to Bring Protest

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is expected to protest to the Soviet Union against the detention of two Americans traveling as tourists who were held incommunicado by Soviet authorities for seven weeks.

The State Department appeared to be proceeding cautiously in the case, however. Officials said they

In Edwardsburg distrust of the Soviet government is preventing Kaminsky's family from being fully relieved by word of his release.

"I am happy, of course," said Mrs. Ignace Kaminsky, Mark's elderly mother. "But I really won't believe anything until I see the boy himself. I hold myself back."

Carrier, Planes Look for 'Sub'

Task Force Sent Out Into Pacific Friday but Fails to Spot Object

HONOLULU (AP)—A Navy hunter-killer task force, led by the carrier Kearsarge, steamed through the Pacific today, searching for an unidentified underwater object that could be a submarine or a school of fish.

By early morning, nothing had been sighted by the big carrier, which was carrying a search plane and four destroyers accompanying it.

The Kearsarge was alerted at Long Beach, Calif., late Friday and sailed so suddenly for San Diego to pick up three squadrons of search planes that part of the crew was left in port.

First report of the mystery object came a week ago when the crew of an Air Force plane reported it saw a submarine, a Navy spokesman said. The Navy would not say where the sighting was made, only that it was in international waters.

Since then, "there hasn't been any constant contact, but there have been repeated reports of contacts in the area," the spokesman said.

"At this time, nobody can say this is a sub or it's not a sub. The only way to be sure is for someone to take a picture of it while it's on the surface."

A Navy source said that the Soviet Union and Communist China now have about 100 submarines operating in the Pacific.

Russians Await Report From K

Radio-Television Talk on Events at U. N. Is Likely at Any Time

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Russian people today awaited a first-hand report from Premier Nikita Khrushchev on his trip to the United Nations which was described by the Soviet press and radio as "historic."

The globe-trotting premier's customary radio-television address to the people might be delivered at any time — today, Monday or even later.

Khrushchev, who returned to Moscow from New York Friday was reported conferring with top party and government officials.

Diplomatic circles said they believed the Soviet leader's public address will be milder in tone than some of those he delivered during his 25-day visit to New York.

The diplomats thought it was unlikely that Khrushchev's speech would reflect any major change in Soviet policy.

Khrushchev's next scheduled public appearance will be Oct. 25, at a session of the Supreme Soviet ("legislature") of the Russian Republic, largest "state" in the Soviet Union.

Cobo Sparkles and So Do Cars — It's Aahsome

Detroit's First National Exhibition Causes Huge Traffic Jam

By DICK HANSON

More than a hundred thousand people took Detroit's new, mammoth Cobo Hall by storm Friday night when the doors were thrown open on the city's first National Automobile Show.

The assault was planned. Show sponsors were highly pleased with the result—the biggest opening night crowd ever at the biggest auto show.

It caused the biggest traffic jam in Detroit's history. Cars were backed up on all major thoroughfares when show officials decided to open the doors of the $54 million hall a half an hour early, at 7 p.m. instead of the scheduled 7:30.

Thousands of people, all specially invited for the combined preview-opener, poured past the shiny new cars toward the gigantic stage in Cobo Hall. A dramatic countdown immediately launched the show.

A burst of trumpets, and the low-hall erupted in a sudden brilliance as automotive and city officials pulled the switch on a million additional light bulbs.

It was as if Cobo Hall had landed on the sun. The gleaming 1961 models of cars and trucks stood in stark relief across the tremendous hall, in spite of the swirling rain outside.

A 750-foot conveyor belt paraded shining new cars in single file across the stage. Crows and aahs swelled from the crowd.

As the audience turned from the stage to view the 1961 automobile offerings on the 294,625-square-foot floor area, the new models were almost hidden from view.

Persons in front were pushed against the cars in the enthusiasm of the thousands behind.

It is unlikely that people caught more than fleeting glimpses of gleaming metal, unless a large portion of the crowd decided to examine the new models later in the evening and proceeded to the lower floor to see Auto Wonderland — a show with a show.

Like Nixon in Accord on Quemoy and Matsuo

White House Says Letter Shows Defense Ideas Alike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon are in complete agreement on U.S. policy toward the Quemoy and Matsuo islands, which have become a major issue in the presidential campaign, the White House reported today.

The White House said the President and Nixon had discussed the issue in a telephone conversation Friday after it had been kept boiling in Thursday night's TV debate between the vice president and Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Presidential News Secretary James C. Hagerty distributed copies of a letter, originally made public two years ago, from Eisenhower to Sen. Theodore F. Green, D-R.I., then chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

"The position of the President and the vice president on this matter is exactly as stated in the letter the President sent to Sen. Green on Oct. 3, 1958," Hagerty said.

He reminded that Kennedy had quoted one sentence from that letter in the debate Thursday night. To support his argument that the United States should not commit itself to defend the islands from attack by Chinese Communists, Kennedy quoted a sentence in which the President told Green:

"Neither you nor any other American need feel that the United States will be involved in military hostilities merely in defense of Quemoy or Matsuo."

Hagerty said the President "believes that to correctly state the position requires reading the entire letter, not just one sentence."

Asked if he meant that the Democratic nominee had distorted the President's position, Hagerty refused to go further.

The two-year-old letter to Green noted that the Rhode Island senator felt that Quemoy was not vital to the defense of the Nationalist base at Formosa or the United States, that the United States would be without allies in a war over the islands and that a war would not command the support of the American people.

In commenting on Green's comment about the possibility of war, the President said in the letter that the United States would not get involved in a conflict merely to defend Quemoy and Matsuo.

He went on to point out that the Formosa resolution approved by Congress in 1955 gave him a specific authority to deal with the threat of war in the Formosa area including the offshore islands.

"But the test which the Congress established was whether or not the defense of these positions was judged by the President to be required or appropriate in assuring the defense of Formosa," the letter said.

Eisenhower told Green that Chinese and Soviet Communist leaders said and believed that the capture of the offshore islands would "open the way for them to take Formosa and the Pescadores" and push the United States from the Western Pacific.

Over 100,000 Jam Cobo Hall for Show

New models became apparent as the crowd lessened.

Pretty girls and lavish settings off the new models. More than 300 cars and trucks for 1961 were on display, many for the first time.

New compact cars, including the premiering Pontiac Tempest, drew the immediate interest of the first-arrivals.

A striking Tempest display with the unitized body suspended from the chassis showed to advantage the 26-50 distribution of weight made possible by placing the transmission over the rear axle.

Connecting the transmission to the front-mounted four-cylinder engine is a revolutionary, flexible drive shaft, which virtually eliminates the floor hump.

Altogether the 1961 products of 19 automobile manufacturers and all the leading makes of trucks, including the new compacts, are being shown together in the show which lasts through Oct. 23.

The models are displayed in settings of Americana, spiced with the occasional foreign background.

Over-all theme of the show is "Freedom." It will be sent out over the world in the form of special commemorative stamps issued yesterday by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, who is in Detroit for the auto show.

Gorgo's professional models in mind extolled the virtues of the new 1961 Pontiacs arrayed in a rich setting.

Other striking presentations included the Pontiacs, the Willys, coming with sampans, junks, lanterns and flashy birds of paradise from Hawaii.

Scottish dancers performed to the accompaniment of the Chrysler exhibit area.

One of the major attractions of the 43rd National Automobile Show, which opened last night, was a display of 1961 cars that were massed by all but a relatively small portion of the huge crowd.

The stage where a Broadway-style musical revue, especially written for the auto show, featuring the June Taylor dancers and Juliet LaRosa among others, was too low to afford much of a view beyond the one-thousand people standing up.

Thousands of others stood on tiptoe, trying to catch a glimpse of the high-stepping dancing troupe or of many people opened their eyes to the cars as they could stand on the steps and raise their vision over a sea of squinting heads.

Listening to the music, more than one non-viewer remarked that it was good they planned to return next week to catch the revue and study the new cars further.

A total of 40,000 preview tickets were issued by the Automobile Manufacturers Association, sponsors of the show. These tickets entitled the bearers to bring friends and guests. Most did.

The estimated gate entry at 7 p.m. was 10,000. At 8 p.m. it was 12,740 people, but admitted that the crowd kept pouring in so fast and thick that an accurate count by gate-keepers was virtually impossible. Hundreds are believed to have crashed the show.

Detroit Fire Marshall Glenn Tom estimated the crowd at openings of 110,000 persons.

Hundreds of automotive and civic officials and their guests were among those at last night's four-hour preview.

UNDERGO TEST — The Tom Monroe family of Pontiac is shown in the small bomb shelter at Miracle Mile Shopping Center in which they will try to spend the next seven days cut off from the outside world. They are (from left) Renee, 6, Marcee, 5, Mrs. Monroe, Bruce, 15 months, and the father, standing.

with the President on this. The Senate voted not to tie the President's hand. If this policy has worked for five years, this is not the time to change it."

One of the main points of the Nixon administration is to make it clear that the President is not the one who is making the decisions. He is the one who is making the decisions. He is the one who is making the decisions.

3. Nixon used Dwight D. Eisenhower's 75th birthday to announce that the President has agreed to give his "wise guidance and rich experience" if the Republicans keep control of the White House.

"I have consulted with him and have his assurance," Nixon said in a speech to the World News Forum in Los Angeles, "that, even after his lifetime of dedicated service to our country, he will remain ready after leaving the White House to continue his heroic work for peace and freedom."

Nixon didn't say what he had in mind for Eisenhower, but there has been talk he might be a sort of unofficial foreign ambassador.

They will try to stay there for the next seven days.

Their home for the week will be a seven-foot high, 14 by 6 foot corrugated culvert pipe of galvanized steel, if they succeed.

Theoretically, a hydrogen bomb has been dropped in the metropolitan area, and the Monroe family has retreated to the safety of the shelter. The "all-clear" was sounded at 1 p.m. next Saturday, providing the family is still in the shelter.

WILL KEEP BUSY

The Monroes received a thorough medical examination before beginning the test. Renee has special school assignments to perform during her stay so that she won't fall behind her classmates.

The father will take advantage of their "hibernation" to further his studies in commercial art. He presently is employed by Service-Water Cleaners of Pontiac.

Mrs. Monroe will have her hands full taking care of the needs of her family, especially the baby.

The test is being sponsored by the West Bloomfield Township Civil Defense Branch, the Miracle Mile Businessmen's Association, and Family Shelters, Inc., of West Bloomfield Township, manufacturers of the home shelter.

Food has been supplied by the Kroger Store in accordance with a plan laid out by a nationally-known home economist Gene Allen. Other family needs were supplied by Miracle Mile merchants.

Their cars collided on a curve. Winston Todd was killed, and Jerome Todd was reported in serious condition at a hospital.

New Fisher Local Hall Nearly Ready

The $97,000 hall for Fisher Body Local 586 (UAW) should be completed in a week or 10 days, according to Gerald W. Kehoe, local president.

Completed on the exterior, the hall is now being painted in the interior, said Kehoe.

The white brick, one-story structure on Baldwin Avenue, south of the Fisher Body Division plant, was started June 23, with A. N. Hickson, Inc., as general contractor.

The local's headquarters for many years has been in a converted home next door at 821 Baldwin.

The Day in Birmingham $4 Million School Bond Vote in Bloomfield Hills

BIRMINGHAM — A $4 million school bond proposal will be placed before voters in the Bloomfield Hills School District in January.

The special election has been set tentatively by the Bloomfield Hills Board of Education for Jan. 20.

A new junior high school, an elementary school, additions to the high school and three elementary schools, and five future school sites would be financed by the $4,155,000 bond issue, the board explained in announcing its decision to hold the election.

A 4-year building program is planned by the board.

By that time, the new schools and additions could accommodate 5,600 pupils. Currently there are 3,622 students attending classes at all levels in the school district.

A survey made by Michigan State University indicated that anticipated growth in the school district will be more than 5,100 pupils by 1965-66.

ESTIMATE COSTS

The planned second junior high school will cost an estimated $1,500,000 and accommodate 600. The addition to the high school would increase capacity by more than 1,000 and cost an estimated $1,025,000.

Some 350 students could occupy the planned elementary school. It would cost about $454,000.

The three additions to the present elementary schools would increase overall capacity in the district by 325. Total cost of the additions would be approximately $600,000.

At least $100,000 from the bond issue would be set aside for the school site purchases.

Total cost of new building, additions and site purchases is $700,000 above the figure to be placed on the January ballot. However, that amount remains from a previous bond issue and will be applied to the building program if approved.

The Marian High School Mothers' Club will hold its first card party of the season Oct. 26 at 8 a.m. in the school auditorium, Lahser Road near Lincoln Road.

Proceeds from the public card party will go toward the language laboratory fund, established last year.

Cochairmen for the evening will be Mrs. Vincent Flaherty and Mrs. James Garrett.

Eight-minute class periods will be attended Monday by members of the Bloomfield Hills Junior High School Parent Teacher Organization during an abbreviated schedule of their children's daily routine.

Purpose of the program is to have parents meet their child's teachers and learn about class operations and objectives.

Classes will begin at 8 p.m. Coffee will be served in the cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

Plans Monday Meeting

The Pontiac Traffic Club will hold its monthly meeting at 6:30 p.m. Monday at the Waldorf Hotel. Guest speaker will be Walter R. Frizzell of the Transportation Council of General Motors Corp.

"Private guards" given U.N. credentials by the countries that employed them could not be searched or even questioned by U.N. security guards for fear of "causing an incident," the sources said.

The guards relaxed today while U.N. delegates enjoyed the first long weekend of the current assembly session.

No meetings were scheduled until Monday, when Zoren Rossides of Cyprus and V. K. Krishna Menon of India are scheduled to wind up the annual general (policy) debate.

Grogginess from three weeks of oratory by Khrushchev and 22 other chiefs of state and government, the General Assembly cleared its decks for work on a crowded agenda headed up by rival East-West disarmament plans.

The world body must deal with 88 questions including four separate items on disarmament, the top issue of the session.

Reviving the arms proposal Khrushchev put before the assembly, the United States, Britain and Italy put in a resolution Friday night calling for resumption of East-West disarmament negotiations.

Informants said U.N. security officials spotted most — though probably not all — of the strong-arm men hired by "certain" U. S. delegations.

They said the figure of 200 gunmen was "conservative."

Winter Clouts Rockies With Early Misery

By The Associated Press

Winter struck an early blow at the Rocky Mountain states today with rain, sleet and up to two feet of snow.

Airline travel was disrupted in Colorado, and one Wyoming highway was closed.

Blizzard conditions were reported late Friday on some high mountain passes. Roads were free or snowpacked virtually everywhere along the rugged backbone of central Colorado, and motorists were advised to use chains.

Elsewhere the weather was generally fair across the nation today with only widely scattered showers extended from the southern Plateau states eastward to the southern Atlantic states and north-eastward to northern New England.

Protestant Rehabilitation Invests $6 Million in 1959

A report on the largest continuing rehabilitation program overseas to be underwritten by U. S. Protestant churches in 1959 alone is revealed that in 1959 alone it represented an investment of $6 million in cash and contributed goods.

The Rev. Halman Shorrock, director in Seoul of Korea Church World Service, presented the report at the meeting in New York of the executive committee of Church World Service, a department of the National Council of Churches.

"Every day," he reported, "KWCWS serves 80,000 people one hot meal at the 132 feeding stations we have set up throughout South Korea."

In addition, he said, about 20,000 refugees from North Korea are given a daily meal on the spot at the government assimilation projects where refugees are building houses and roads and starting farms.

$50,000 YEARLY

Of the total KWCWS program, Mr. Shorrock highlighted tuberculosis control and the amputee program. Each, he stated, requires an average annual outlay of $50,000.

"Thanks to modern X-ray equipment, the miracle drugs and extra food," he said, "we have seen a rate cure of about 70 per cent of these cases."

A total staff of 50 full-time doctors and nurses man the clinics under the direction of Dr. Kenneth Scott, a prominent chest surgeon. A visiting nurse service also reaches hundreds of TB patients in outlying districts.

In the KWCWS amputee project, patients make their own prostheses, learn how to use them and also construct new limbs for others. Last year, said Mr. Shorrock, 276 patients were treated and trained under project director John Steensma, himself a double amputee.

"On top of the continuing programs," said Mr. Shorrock, "Typhoon Sara struck last year. Overnight, we filled five freight cars and dispatched them to the hardest hit area south of Pusan."

The 15 million pounds of KWCWS relief supplies, he said, made up 45.3 per cent of all aid sent to the disaster area, including that from the Korean government.

Cooperating with KWCWS work in Korea are several member churches of the World Council of Churches.

Old Philippine Bible Undergoing Revision

MANILA (AP) — The 73-year-old Pangasinan Bible, oldest Bible translation in the Philippines, is undergoing a revision as a project of the American Bible Society.

Pangasinan is considered the language of culture among the 87 Philippine languages and dialects.

He also emphasized that the distribution of literature by some churches directly appealing for the defeat of Sen. John F. Kennedy because of his faith may well violate their tax-exempt status.

Mr. Taft's comments referred to a warning by the Treasury Department that political activity by churches which use parishioners' contributions to influence political campaigns endangers the tax-exempt status of such churches.

It cited a regulation of the Internal Revenue Service adopted in 1959 giving it power to reject a taxpayer's claim for a deduction if his contributions went to a tax-exempt group but were used for political purposes.

Additional Dips Worry Nation

Decreased Output by Mines, Mills, Utilities Hints at Recession

WASHINGTON (AP)—The question whether the nation is moving into a business recession sharpened today following announcement that the output of mines, mills and utilities dipped to a 1960 low in September.
The Federal Reserve Board reported that its index of industrial production moved down in September to 107 per cent of the 1957 average. In August, the board further disclosed, the index sagged two points instead of one as previously estimated. The high was 111 in January.
A possibility of further decline in October was suggested by the fact that steel mill operations, an economic bellwether, have failed to show the usual normal autumn pickup.
However, Roger M. Bloch, chairman of United States Steel Corp., predicted this week that "some improvement" in steel output will develop in this last quarter of the year. For the past few months more steel has been consumed than was produced, he said.
Government and private economists have been divided for some weeks on the question of whether the economy was on a "high bound" musical "Camelot," was plateauing with some improvement in prospect, or had entered the beginning stage of a mild recession.

Play Director 'Resting Well'

Mass Heart, 55, Suffers Heart Attack in 'Midst of Work on 'Camelot'

DETROIT (AP)—Mass Hart, 55, Broadway director and playwright, was reported "resting well" in hospital early today after suffering a heart attack in his hotel room.
Hart, director of the Broadway musical "Camelot," was taken to Wellfleet Hospital Friday where Camelot's lyricist, Alan Jay Lerner, is recovering from ulcer trouble.

Frederick Loewe, who collaborated with Lerner in the Hart-directed musical "My Fair Lady," suffered a heart attack two years ago but is back at work.
Edwin Kroll, general manager of the Camelot company, described Hart's illness as a mild coronary thrombosis. He said Hart suffered a similar attack while working on "My Fair Lady" a few years ago.

Longtime convalescence could delay the Broadway opening of the show, already set back two weeks to Dec. 31 because of the need for major editing. It opened there Oct. 1 and Hart was said to have been working day and night ever since.
Hart's wife, actress Betty Carlisle, accompanied him to the hospital.
Hart won the 1957 Pulitzer Prize for his play "You Can't Take It With You."

Dearborn Man to Be Deported

F. J. Williams Must Return to Wales Despite Sen. Hart's Efforts

DETROIT (UPI)—A heart-broken Dearborn carpenter faced deportation to his native Wales today despite the efforts of Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., to block the action.

Only four months ago, Frederick J. Williams resigned himself to leaving his wife, grown daughter and two grandchildren to return to a country he had never known.

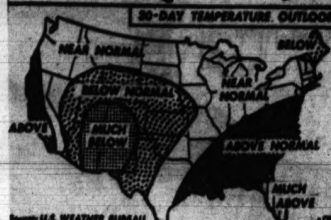

The Department of Immigration and Naturalization had set his deportation for June 15, but Hart entered the case and introduced a bill in Congress to keep Williams in the United States.

The government agreed to hold up deportation pending outcome of the bill.

Williams' hopes soared. Now they have tumbled.

Congress failed to act on the Hart bill, and immigration officials told Williams another delay cannot be granted, even though Hart said he will introduce the bill when the next session of Congress convenes in January.

Williams was arrested in 1954 and freely admitted he once had been a member of the Communist Party, but he said he quit the party in 1947 when it became evident the Communists were no longer allies of the United States.

PARIS (AP)—Edith Piaf is getting ready to sing again in public. The popular, husky-voiced chanteuse has been operated on several times in the past two years for a liver ailment.

ment Thursday, "allowed me to discover my true friends. I was often surprised."

Miss Piaf said her first appearance would be on Dec. 28, in Paris.

Much of the land between Panama and Ecuador is still unexplored.

European Press Pokes Fun at Nikita

LONDON (UPI)—West European newspapers agreed Friday that Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's United Nations pyrotechnics gained him little.

Many criticized his "scandalous" and "shocking" behavior.

However, some voiced the opinion that Khrushchev, although little in formal diplomatic terms his tough line and bar-argues might bear fruit at a later date, particularly in Africa.

London newspapers gave little space to Khrushchev although the Evening Standard said he now may "discard his script and try a more reasonable line."

His magician's props flopped badly, it said.

The West Berlin Nacht Depeche went so far as to suggest that Khrushchev "shows he no longer is the sovereign party chief he used to be."

It said the Soviet leader now "faces trouble from his generals, from the Stalinists and from the Chinese Communists."

The death rate from cancer has risen from 65 per 100,000 population in 1900 to an estimated 145 at present.
