Boy Held in Sex Killing of 2 Westland Sisters

ONE COLOR

DETROIT (AP)—A 14-year-old boy was slated for questioning today in the sex slayings of two young sisters in a field near their suburban Westland home.

Westland Police Chief Garrison Clayton said the youth was being held at the Wayne County Juvenile Detention Home as a runaway.

Chief Clayton said two other boys came forward with information which pointed towards the third youth.

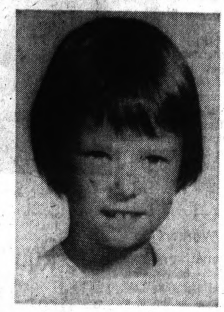

He said no one has been charged in the case as yet.

★ ★ ★

KIMBERLY CROWTHER

DEBORAH CROWTHER

Westland police ran down scores of telephone tips today in their hunt for the slayer or slayers.

★ ★ ★

A horror-stricken, 16-year-old boy discovered the bodies and thought at first that "They looked like dolls.

"That's what I thought they were at first," said Allan McAnally who found the bodies in a thicket while out walking his dog, Pudgie. "Then I saw the blood."

Clayton said a man under the influence of alcohol was picked up near the scene yesterday but was released today.

BEER CANS FOUND

Clayton said the attacker may have been drinking because a six-pack of beer cans was found behind bushes about 50 feet from a footpath across the field. Police said the assailant apparently lurked behind the bushes.

The victims were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crowther.

Clayton said the girls had been sexually assaulted. Both bodies were nude.

★ ★ ★

They were killed while walking home from Stottlemyer Elementary School where Kimberly was a first grader and Deborah was in the third grade. The school is only a block away from the slaying scene.

WALKING ACROSS FIELD

Clayton said the children had walked about a quarter of the way across the field when they were seized and strangled, apparently with one of their own stockings.

Westland police said they had received a complaint of a man trying to pick up children near the school.

Children had been warned by teachers yesterday to beware of strangers in the neighborhood.

Deborah and Kimberly also had been cautioned about cutting through the empty field by their mother, a neighbor said.

CONSTRUCTION WORK

"She always made them follow the street," said Mrs. Dorothy Taylor, the children's grandmother. "But for the last few days they couldn't. There's construction work on Marquette Street and so the children had to cross the field."

Mrs. Crowther went looking for the children when they failed to return from school.

People standing about the murder scene turned her away before she could see the bodies.

NO REPORT OF OUTCRY

Police said no one in the neighborhood reported hearing any outcry, although several persons were working on lawns and gardens at the time of the slayings.

Westland, a new city incorporated from part of Nankin Township, was turned into near-hysteria a year ago when reports of prowlers and child molesters set off a wave of terror.

A group of women marched to the Wayne County Sheriff's Office, which had police jurisdiction, demanding more protection. The sheriff was flooded by requests for gun permits.

★ ★ ★

Bills on Implied Consent, Sunday Liquor Pass Senate

LANSING (AP)—Horse-trading Senate Republicans and Democrats swapped votes last night, passing implied consent and Sunday liquor bills, two of the most controversial issues of the session.

The senators spent about 30 minutes each on implied consent, backed by Gov. George Romney and passed by the House after several weeks of debate, and Sunday liquor sales, long sought by Detroit Democrats.

The bills were among some 60 pieces of legislation either passed or sent to deaths in committee as the Senate literally locked itself in to beat a midnight deadline for passage of bills in the house of origin.

The senators tacked 24 amendments on the implied consent bill. It requires that a motorist, as a condition of getting a driver's license, agree to take a chemical test of blood, breath or urine to determine presence of alcohol.

★ ★ ★

Refusal to take the test could be admitted in court as evidence and the arrested suspect would lose his license if he refused the test.

LIQUOR AMENDMENT

The liquor bill was amended to apply only to licensed establishments in which gross receipts derived from sale of food or other goods and services exceed 50 per cent of the total gross receipts.

County boards of supervisors would be allowed to vote on Sunday sales within 60 days after the bill took effect. If they failed to do so, voters could initiate petitions requesting them to vote on the issue.

If they approved, liquor could be sold by the glass on Sunday after 12 noon.

★ ★ ★

Republican and Democratic sources indicated a deal on the two bills was negotiated after Republicans found they were four GOP votes shy of the 20 necessary for passage of implied consent.

23-4 VOTE

In the final 23-4 vote on implied consent, 20 Republicans and eight Democrats voted "yes." Four Democrats cast "no" votes. Six others failed to vote.

Three Republicans joined 17 Democrats in passing the liquor bill 20-17. All opposing votes were cast by Republicans.

Sen. Anthony Stamm, R-Kalamazoo, reluctantly cast what appeared to be the deciding vote, then withdrew and changed it to "nay" when Sen. Stanley Rozycki, D-Detroit, supplied another "yes" vote.

SECTION DELETED

The Senate deleted from the House version a section that would have allowed tests on dead or unconscious persons.

It added a clause that would exempt hemophiliacs, heart patients and persons under treatment with anticoagulants from taking the blood test.

Another Senate amendment would require that a driver must be advised of his rights before he is given any test.

Another would require a driver be given 14 days instead of seven within which to have a hearing on license suspension.

Edison Customers Get $7.23 Million Yearly Savings

Detroit Edison Co. customers will save $7.23 million yearly in rate decreases and other benefits, the State Public Service Commission announced yesterday. Savings will be effective May 31.

Peter Spivak, commission chairman, said the total comes from an estimated $3.73 million in rate reductions and savings of $3.5 million to customers on installation of new appliances.

Residential areas such as Pontiac will share savings of about $955,000 based on a $24 yearly reduction per electrically generated water heater.

Rates for residential customers using more than 500 kilowatt hours per month will be reduced by some $250,000. Anyone paying an all electric rate will now pay $1.35 per kilowatt hour rather than the current rate of $1.50.

Residential space heating customers will share a decrease of $86,000 a year.

Small commercial and industrial users will share a savings of $2,355,000 and customers such as those for commercial and metal melting will save $80,000.

The utility has also agreed to share in the cost of installation of electric dryers and water heaters from June, 1967, to October, 1968, to save users $3.5-million.

3 Road Mishaps Fatal to 5, Boost the County Toll to 27

Four Oakland County residents and a Genesee County man died in three separate automobile accidents last night and early today, two of the victims in a head-on collision on Rochester Road.

Dead are Max M. Koval, 44, of Davison; Tommy Hutchinson, 48, of 500 Elizabeth, Rochester; Dorothy Hull, of 327 Oak, Rochester; Kay J. Homer, 28, of Royal Oak; and Patricia D. Kibby, 26, of Oak Park.

Koval was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital early today after his car apparently went out of control on Ortonville Road, skidding through eight guard-rail posts and smashing into a stone wall.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said Koval was alone in his car at the time of the accident, which occurred about 2 a.m. near the intersection of South Street in Brandon Township.

Troy police said Hutchinson and the Hull woman were killed when their car collided head-on with an automobile driven by Antonia Vettraino, 25, of 547 E. Long Lake, Troy.

★ ★ ★

She is listed in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, where two passengers in her car—Don Buchanan, 26, of Royal Oak; and Peter Vander-Ploeg, 25, of 3404 Kilmer, Troy—were under observation.

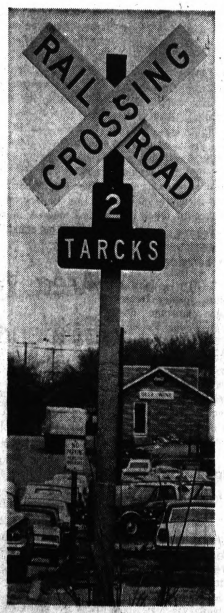

ESCAPES INJURY

Albert J. Fzczesny, 45, of 321 W. Third, Rochester, driver of a third car involved in the accident, escaped serious injury.

The multiple collision occurred about 11 p.m. on Rochester between Square Lake and South Boulevard, according to Troy police.

The Kibby and Homer women were in a car which police said collided head-on with another automobile on I-75 four miles north of Monroe.

Police said seven of the eight teenagers in the second car were thrown from their automobile after it skidded across a median strip and collided with the Kibby car. All suffered reportedly minor injuries.

Rainy Weekend Forecast for Area

Raincoats and umbrellas will be the fashion over the weekend.

Showers are predicted through Monday.

TODAY — Variable cloudiness with a warming trend. Chance of showers this afternoon and tonight. High today 60 to 67. Low tonight 50 to 54.

SUNDAY — Warmer. Chance of showers.

MONDAY — Showers and turning cooler.

Cancer Crusade Starts Monday

Volunteers will canvas some 40,000 homes in North Oakland County during the coming week asking residents to complete questionaires important for a study into possible cancer causes.

The crusade is part of the Michigan Cancer Foundation's observance of Cancer Control Month.

A total of 250,000 homes in selected areas of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Monroe counties will be canvassed.

★ ★ ★

Volunteers surveying for the Cancer Foundation, a United Fund Agency, will ask only for information and distribute educational literature.

BREAST CANCER

Interviews will include questions aimed at revealing the roles that heredity, diabetes and allergies play in breast cancer.

★ ★ ★

Breast cancer kills 26,000 women each year according to a foundation spokesman.

Volunteers wishing to work on this research project may still contact the foundation office, 64 W. Lawrence, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

County Committee at Work

Disadvantaged Student Aided

An Oakland County committee is at work to encourage disadvantaged high school students to pursue additional education or training after graduation.

At present the organization is preparing to recruit between 12 and 18 Negroes to attend Oakland University in Rochester in the fall.

A five-member steering committee, headed by Pontiac attorney Julian A. Cook Jr., is working with high schools in Pontiac, Ferndale and Oak Park school districts in the initial recruiting program.

OU's Chancellor D. B. Varner called for the formation of the committee, which yet has not been named. Adoption of the name of Oakland County Higher Education Opportunities Committee is being considered.

* * *

Varner is concerned that only 20 Negroes attended Oakland last fall out of a total enrollment of 3,142.

ENCOURAGEMENT

"Once under way, the program will seek to encourage disadvantaged students of all races to consider education or training beyond high school, not necessarily a four-year college program," Cook explained.

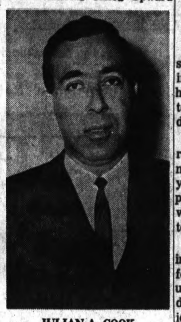

In the committee's initial goal to get more Negroes at OU, youths with relatively low scholastic averages and test scores will be sought if high school administrators feel they might succeed.

Once the Negroes enter Oakland, the university will help them progress through year-round tutorial programs.

* * *

The university is planning to set up a campus program to provide remedial work in basic study skills, according to Varner.

Other university tutorial programs will be also available, such a program for high school students called Upward Bound and the OU Writing Center.

JULIAN A. COOK

Oakland University will eventually hire an executive director to handle the program, Glen Brown, director of admissions and scholarships, said.

The executive director will spearhead the task of improving the college's liaison with high schools throughout the state to find such disadvantaged students.

He will work on the "grass roots" level in the Negro community through neighborhood youth groups, public affairs appearances and personal contact with students, according to Brown.

Effect of Westmoreland Visit Weighed

Washington (AP) — Critics time in the battle for public dourly predicted today further escalation of the Vietnam fighting while supporters foresaw a stiffening of home-front resolve as the result of Gen. William C. Westmoreland's Washington rounds.

Addressing Congress, briefing governors and conferring personally with key legislators Friday, the U.S. commander in Vietnam won high praise from both opponents and supporters of President Johnson's policies for his direction of the military effort against the Communists.

* * *

But it was apparent Westmoreland had failed to turn the tide of crackling congressional criticism directed at Johnson's intensification of the war and at his action in bringing the general home to report at a crucial opinion.

The returns from the outlying precincts would determine how the country might respond to the televised and broadcast appeal of the tall, handsomely graying general for continued strong popular support he called "vital to the success of our mission."

STANDING OVATION

Westmoreland won a standing ovation when he told Congress: "Backed at home by resolve, confidence, patience, determination and continued support, we will prevail in Vietnam over Communist aggression."

Such influential members as House Speaker John W. McCormack and Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee, thought this appeal would "increase the spirit of resolve" at home to see the war through to victory.

* * *

House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford applauded Westmoreland's call for unity at home. Such unity, he said, will "bolster the morale of our fighting men (and) convince the Communists that the Vietnam war must end."

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, who has opposed escalation of the war, told reporters he thinks that on the basis of Westmoreland's report more men and money will be poured into the war. He said he will not be surprised if more than a half-million U.S. troops are required, compared to the 470,000-man level now scheduled by year's end.

Among the war policy critics, Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., made clear he is not toning down his dissent. McGovern, whose critical speech touched off a Senate uproar over the propriety of Westmoreland's mission home, wrote a constituent:

* * *

"My view is that we should not surrender or pull out, but we should quit sending in more and more troops and bombing closer and closer to the Chinese frontier until we finally force the other side into the kind of total commitment that would require an endless multitude of American soldiers going into Asia for the rest of our lives."

Added Run by GTW Near

A new evening commuter train between Detroit and Pontiac will begin service Monday, Grand Trunk Western announced today.

John Demcoe, GTW general manager, said the train was added because of many requests for commuter service after 6 p.m. The train will leave Brush Station in Detroit at 6:20 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Nine stops will be made between Detroit and Pontiac. These include Ferndale, Royal Oak, Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills.

Defect Found in Firebirds

A defect in two wiring harnesses has prompted recall by Pontiac Motor Division of 165 Firebird models with V8 engines and AM-FM radios.

* * *

A Pontiac Motor spokesman said the defect could cause contact between the heater blower wire and the exhaust manifold, resulting in an electrical short under the dash.

* * *

Action Is Due on Land-Fill in Waterford

Monday will be D-Day for supporters and opponents of the proposed Maceday Lake Road sanitary land-fill in Waterford Township.

* * *

The Township Board is expected to take action on a request for a permit to operate the land-fill at its 7:30 p.m. meeting.

The issue has been at a standstill since a Jan. 30 public hearing. But at its April 17 meeting, the board voted to place the item on Monday's agenda.

* * *

In other business Monday, the board will conduct a public hearing on a proposed $167,352 special assessment district sanitary sewer project for the Donelson Park-Elizabeth Lake Road area.

FINAL PORTION

Encompassing the final portion of the township included in a revised 1958 agreement with Pontiac whereby the city processes some of the community's sewage, the proposed sewer project would serve parts of Marion, Elizabeth Lake Road, Voorheis, Chadwick and Colrain.

* * *

Incumbent Files in Waterford

2nd Candidate to Enter School Race

Incumbent Michael G. Patterson yesterday became the second candidate to file nominating petitions for the June 12 board of education election in the Waterford Township School District.

PATTERSON

Patterson, 29, of 6329 Grace K was appointed to the school board in January to fill a vacancy created when Norman L. Cheal resigned his position.

Patterson will run for the remaining three-year portion of Cheal's term.

* * *

Last year, he served as treasurer of the Michigan Jaycees. He also is a member of the Waterford Township Library Advisory Board.

ATTENDED UNIVERSITIES

Married and the father of two girls, Patterson is a graduate of Waterford Township High School. He also attended Ohio Wesleyan, Wayne State and Oakland universities.

* * *

School Board Treasurer Donald W. Porter, 49, of 3736 Mariner filed his nominating petitions for reelection to a four-year term last month.

Two of the three school board positions at stake are for four-year terms. The other post is for a three-year term.

Secret Report Hitting Apollo Made Public

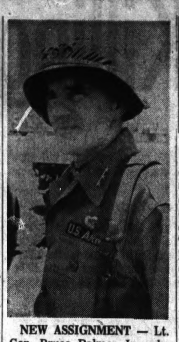

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A congressman today made public the full text of the secret "Phillips Report"—a critical assessment of the Apollo program before the Jan. 27 fire that killed three astronauts.

The space agency has declined to release the report and ignored an ultimatum by Rep. William F. Ryan, D-N.Y., to do so.

He set a deadline of 10 a.m. EST today and when the hour passed with no space agency action, Ryan's office handed out copies to reporters.

There was nothing significant in the full text that had not been made public previously by Ryan or others.

The report, by Maj. Gen. Samuel Phillips, criticized North American Aviation for alleged deficiencies in building and equipping the Apollo space capsule.

NEW ASSIGNMENT — Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer Jr., who headed U. S. forces during the Dominican Republic troubles, will become a deputy to Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U. S. commander in Vietnam, the White House has announced.

Legislature Urged to Join Confab Drive

The 19th District Republican Executive Committee yesterday demanded that the State Legislature join the nationwide move for a constitutional convention on the one-man, one-vote issue.

A formal resolution urging state senators and representatives to join Michigan with the 32 other states which have called for the convention was passed.

Christian F. Powell, committee, chairman, said prior to the group's action that a resolution calling for the convention would be "a positive move against liberal tendencies and those extremists who would plunge us into absolute federal control of all facets of our daily living."

The nationwide drive to upset the Supreme Court's ruling that representation should be based not solely on geography is being spearheaded by Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill.

Surveyor Makes More Soil Tests

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Surveyor 3 conducted new tests of the lunar crust today to help determine if Apollo astronauts can land safely on the moon by 1970.

The spacecraft's "soil sampler" broadened and deepened a trench it had dug earlier, and then the little power shovel pressed into the moon's soil to see how much weight it can support.

Benefits-Delay Signing Today

Deadline July 1 on Farm Worker Policies

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney planned to sign today a bill containing a two-month delay in extension of workmen's compensation coverage to migrant workers and other farm employes.

The measure, passed by the Legislature Friday and given immediate effect, gives farmers until July 1 to take out insurance policies containing hospital and medical covgrage on most of their workers.

House Democrats, whose votes were needed for the two-thirds approval of immediate effect, were victorious following two days of negotiations in defeating attempts to extend the deadline more than two months.

The bill would have been useless if it weren't passed with immediate effect and signed into law before Monday — the previous effective date of the migrant-compensation law.

HAD TO CAPITULATE

With the deadline at hand and Democrats' votes required, GOP legislators who wanted to push the effective date to Nov. 1 were helpless and had to capitulate.

The House deleted a complex schedule for implementing the program by degrees, which would not have brought farm workers under full workmen's compensation protection until 1971.

The effective date of the 1965 act originally was May 1, 1966. Last year majority Democrats agreed to a one-year extension.

The act provides for employer-paid medical and hospital coverage against on-the-job injuries for a farm worker employed by the same person 15 or more hours a week for five consecutive weeks.

News Briefs at a Glance

DETROIT (AP) — Tenative agreement has been reached on a contract covering 1,800 meat cutters and butchers at independent supermarkets and independent chains in the Detroit Area. The pact covers members of Local 539, Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, who are employed by the United Supermarket Association members. Details of the contract were withheld pending a ratification vote.

20 to Draw Blank

DETROIT (AP) — When 1,550 graduate candidates go through the ceremonies today at the University of Detroit, at least 20 of them will get blank pieces of paper instead of diplomas. Don't think they didn't do well. The 20 graduate summa cum laude — with highest praise — but their diplomas had to be sent back to have the inscription put on them.

Federal Workers Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's civilian work force climbed 18,000 to 2.88-million employes in March, a joint congressional committee reported today. In the first three months of the year, 140,166 civilians have been added to the federal payroll, said the Joint Committee in Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures.

Big-Time Operation

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — On today's tonsillectomy schedule at Riverside Hospital were these five children of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Stiger of Bradner: Roger, 3; Jacqueline, 4; Paul 5; Tammi, 6; and Chester Jr., 8. Thursday surgeons at Flower Hospital performed tonsillectomies on five children of Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Clark Sr. of Lambertville, Mich.

Mrs. Michigan Picked

HOLLAND (AP) — Mrs. Marshal Hungerford Jr., a 30-year-old mother of three from Jackson, reigns today as Mrs. Michigan of 1967. She received her crown from Mrs. Gary Vreeman of Holland, Mrs. Michigan of 1966, during special ceremonies yesterday.

Mayor to Clean Up

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mayor A. J. Cervantes has promised to lead a contingent of 22nd Ward residents tomorrow in a sweeping assault on alley litter. When a delegation of ward residents headed by State Rep. John Conley visited the mayor's office to complain about the condition of alleys, Cervantes handed each a broom. The delegations shouldered brooms and departed.

Roche Is Honored

DETROIT (AP) — James M. Roche, president of General Motors Corp., has been elected president of the Detroit Press Club Foundation. He succeeds Arjay Miller, president of Ford Motor Co. The foundation was organized in 1965 "to promote the profession of journalism in Michigan and recognize and reward excellence in the profession."

Ex-Dem Leader Quits

DETROIT (AP) — John J. (Joe) Collins, former Democratic state chairman and president of Wayne National Life since 1963, has submitted his resignation as president and a member of the board of directors. Collins, who also is president of Pacific American Life, Phoenix, Ariz., said he wanted to devote full time to his duties with that company.

Four Don't Want Pay

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Four Idaho state senators have gone to court to stop the state from paying salaries to them and other lawmakers. Their suit, filed yesterday in Boise District Court, contends a $3.50-per-day salary to legislators is unconstitutional while the legislature is not in session. The four, all Republicans, are Sam Kaufman, Fred Bagley and William C. Roden of Boise, and Phil E. Batt of Wilder. The Idaho Legislature approved the supplemental $3.50 per day out-of-session pay during the 1967 session. Lawmakers receive $35 per day while in session.

The curriculum, under the direction of Carl and Annetta Wonnberger, includes instruction in all dramatic arts. Classes are given in outdoor classes in the Greek Theatre and on Cranbrook grounds.

Fire Routs 9 at Area Home

Fire at 3:43 a.m. today routed nine persons from the 25-room house of William Nagengast, 4885 Franklin, Bloomfield Township, and caused an estimated $20,000 damage to the living room area.

A daughter, Elizabeth, 17, injured her ankle while fleeing from the house. Another daughter, Christine, 16, and her house-guest, Sue Connor, 16, both were treated at Pontiac General Hospital for smoke inhalation and released.

The fire started in a living room chair, according to Bloomfield Township firemen, but the cause of the blaze has not been determined.

Firemen said the blaze was under control five minutes after they arrived.

* * *

Most of the $20,000 estimated damage was caused by smoke, according to firemen, who said there was little structural damage.

Retrial Asked for Coppolino

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — A new trial was asked for Dr. Carl Coppolino just hours after his conviction on charges of slaying his first wife, a defense attorney said today.

Assistant defense counsel James McEwen said a hearing on the new trial motion will be held at 5 p.m. Thursday before Circuit Judge Lynn Silvertooth who sentenced Coppolino yesterday to life imprisonment.

* * *

McEwen said the defense will seek to have Coppolino released on bond during appeal of the case.

Burglars Hit City Markets

Burglars struck two Pontiac markets in break-ins reported to city police yesterday and early today.

* * *

Patrolmen Patrick J. Duggan and Dennis Mutrynowski discovered a side door kicked in at Bob's Market, 527 Colorado, about 12:45 a.m.

Missing from the store, police were told, were 112 six-packs of beer, meat and other items valued at $185.

A crowbar was apparently used to pry open a hasp and lock on the front door of the Luther Grocery, 517 Luther, according to police.

* * *

Owner Charles Gottschalk said miscellaneous foods worth $121 were taken in the break-in, which was discovered yesterday.

New World Man Aged

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Harvard research scientists say studies of volcanic ash in Mexico indicates man settled in the New World about 40,000 years ago. It has been generally believed that man came to the American continent by way of Alaska about 15,000 years ago.

Area Woman Brings Evidence of Pollution

DETROIT (AP)—A Lake Orion housewife came armed with jars of dirty water as evidence Friday as she complained to the State Water Resources Commission about pollution in the lake.

* * *

Mrs. Juanita Robbins of 622 Detroit, vice president of the Lake Orion Homeowners' Association, told the commission that she and other housewives had put on boots and waded along the shoreline to pinpoint possible pollution sources from leaky septic tanks.

* * *

"We used water jugs and cameras to build our case," she said.

* * *

John Lassiter, Orion Township supervisor, said the commission had not provided him with any data to support claims that residents of the township were contributing to the pollution.

* * *

The community has applied for a federal grant to build a sewage plant but Mrs. Robbins and the homeowners' group objected to the proposal. They said it was too expensive and that some residents would not be served by it.

* * *

Lassiter contended he could not take action to curb the alleged pollution from septic tanks until he had evidence that such was the case.

* * *

Mrs. Robbins agreed before the state group to present her evidence at a hearing to be held at an unselected date in the township.

Long Is Critical of Dodd Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Ethics Committee members say they're prepared to meet Sen. Russell B. Long's challenge to their recommendation that Sen. Thomas J. Dodd be censured for financial misconduct.

Long, the Louisianian who is assistant Democratic leader, accused the bipartisan committee Friday of making a scapegoat of Dodd, whom he defended as "a fine, decent, honest man — a fine father and family man."

In talking with a reporter Long first said half the committee couldn't withstand the investigation Dodd went through. In a later interview with newsmen he upped that to half the Senate.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., ethics panel chairman, declined comment. But Vice Chairman Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, of the six-member committee said the other 94 senators will have an opportunity "to decide whether the senator from Louisiana is right or the committee is right."

Another member of the committee, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., told a reporter Long is "the only senator I've heard of who has expressed dissatisfaction with our report."

"I doubt that he will have many supporters or that he can provide the assertions he has made," McCarthy added.

Sen. A. S. (Mike) Monroney, D-Okla., also on the committee, said it took "the greatest care" in its 14-month investigation of Dodd, a 59-year-old Connecticut Democrat who has denied any wrongdoing.

Personnel Changes Announced by GM

Changes in General Motors manufacturing and engineering staffs were recently announced.

* * *

A Bloomfield Hills man, Harrison M. Goodhue, has been appointed executive in charge of production control and procurement on the manufacturing staff. Goodhue, 18155 Dinblaine, was formerly Cadillac Motor Car Division manufacturing manager in charge of painting, plating and assembly.

David H. Hill of 1884 Withbee, Troy, has been assigned as administrator, systems analysis, production control and procurement. Hill was a staff engineer, manufacturing development.

E. C. Campbell of 160 Canterbury was appointed engineer in charge of safety compliance and service, automotive safety engineering department. Campbell became engineering charge of the test department in 1950.

* * *

George P. Ransom of 32873 Norchester takes over as engineer in charge of test department. He was previously assistant engineer in charge of power development.

Local Airline Will Offer 2 Flights to Cleveland

Flight service from Oakland-Pontiac Airport to Cleveland will be offered beginning Monday by Standard Airways.

Thomas J. Hopper, vice president of Standard Airways, said that two daily round trips to Cleveland are scheduled on a nine-passenger Twin-Beech.

The first will leave Oakland - Pontiac Airport at 7:30 a.m., arrive at Detroit Metropolitan Airport at 7:53 a.m. and at Cleveland at 9:45 a.m.

The second flight will leave Oakland-Pontiac at 4 p.m., be at the Detroit airport at 4:23 p.m. and in Cleveland at 6:15 p.m.

Scheduling of the Monday through Friday Cleveland flights was the result of increased demand for such service, according to Hopper.

Presently Standard Airways provides flights only to Detroit and Port Huron.

'67 Tax Sale of Properties Is Next Week

The annual tax sale of properties with a 26-month tax payment delinquency will be conducted by the Oakland County Treasurer's office beginning Tuesday at the county courthouse.

* * *

County Treasurer James E. Seeterlin said that completion of the sale is expected to take from two to four days.

The sale will include properties taxed in 1964 where a delinquency exists from the March 1, 1965 due date for tax payment.

Properties will be offered individually on a bid basis at the sale.

* * *

Owners of property sold during the tax sale may redeem the property within a year by paying the amount of the sale bid plus interest at 1 per cent per month.

LAST YEAR

Last year 2,500 parcels of land were sold to bidders at a total cost slightly over $100,000.

* * *

Sale of about the same number of properties is expected this year, Seeterlin said.

Eighty million acres of land in the United States are devoted to corn production.

quality & economy with Stran-Steel buildings

You get economy with Stran-Steel buildings because economy is literally designed and built into every steel component. It is the natural result of quality planned, mass production techniques that are not only better, but also economical. The savings are passed along to you.

Before you build any building, discover why a Stran-Steel building is a better investment. Find out why Stran-Steel is able to offer written guarantees to back-up the performance of the steel components. Lower heating and cooling bills are the direct result of exclusive insulated wall systems. Faster construction, often 60 to 90 days, will get you in business sooner.

Co-Op Student Banquet Near

Approximately 350 persons are expected to attend the Waterford Township School District's annual banquet for students enrolled in cooperative education and their employers at 6 p.m. Wednesday at Township High School.

Speaker for the event will be former Township High School teacher-coordinator Richard Shupe, now a consultant in distributive education with the Michigan Department of Education.

Students in the co-op education program at Township and Kettering high schools are enrolled in the following occupations: trade, industrial, health, office and distributive.

Firebird Will Be Featured

The Skydiver, Pontiac Motor Division's Firebird show car, will be one of the highlights of the Sports Car Spectacular opening Wednesday at the Detroit Armory.

The car is equipped with such items as the 400-cubic-inch V8 engine, dual hood scoops, wide oval tires and mag-type steel wheels.

State's Roadways Call for Tax Hike

The State Senate this week passed a four-bill package which will raise an estimated $61 million for highway maintenance through increases in state gas and weight taxes. We applaud the Senate action and urge similar approval by the state house of representatives.

The bills would raise the state gasoline tax one cent, from six to seven cents per gallon; raise the passenger car weight tax (license plates) from 35 cents per 100 pounds to 55 cents; increase by about 10 per cent the commercial vehicle weight taxes (trucks); and revise the formula for distributing motor vehicle highway funds so that cities and villages will get 2 per cent more than they currently receive.

★ ★ ★

The additional tax burden to motorists isn't as much as one might expect and certainly is fair in view of the need for more highway revenues. Our current six-cent-per-gallon gasoline tax is lower than 27 states and only six states levy less.

★ ★ ★

The old license plate fee is based on a Depression era formula, long overdue for a change upward. The hike is modest. For example: the current $14 weight tax for a 4,000-pound car would be increased $8 under the new proposed formula. And there has been no concentrated opposition to the 10 per cent hike in weight taxes on trucks.

The change in how the revenues are to be allocated points up an awareness that it is becoming increasingly difficult for most cities to maintain adequate services within the current tax structure.

According to the Michigan Good Roads Federation, additional revenue produced by passage of the bills will, at best, provide only emergency relief for current highway needs. It will mean $250,000 more annually for roadwork in Pontiac and about $1.2 million more per year to the Oakland County Road Commission.

★ ★ ★

Supporters of a better road program have been crying for such legislation in vain for two years. Their warnings went unheeded. This week's Senate action would indicate somebody is finally listening.

Use Power Mowers Carefully: Cut Accidents

Well, as the saying goes, if it's not one thing, it's another.

With the first snowflake, we're warned against getting carried away with snow shoveling. With the first blade of grass, they tell us that danger lurks in power lawn mowers.

There are, says the National Safety Council, 26 million of these mowers in the United States, and it is estimated that 100,000 persons each year suffer injuries related to their operation—mainly attributed to carelessness.

The most common injuries result from objects thrown by the mower — a rock, a piece of wood or wire, a bolt or nut — almost anything hidden in the grass. The injured person is usually the operator, but too frequently it's a child playing nearby, or some other bystander.

There is little danger inherent in the mowers themselves. Injuries due to defective mower design or construction are rare. Safety standards for power mowers were adopted in 1960, and by 1965 were incorporated in 95 per cent of the mowers on the market.

The danger of mishaps resides predominantly, as with automobiles, in the operator. It takes the form of maintenance neglect and careless use. A loose blade, warns the Safety Council, can fly off and do a lot of damage; and for the operator to allow the blade to strike a tree root, rock or other hard object can splinter it, the fragment hurled like shrapnel.

As it is in so many other areas of personal safety, common sense is the primary essential in safe use of power mowers. The Safety Council does, however, offer these suggestions for a summer of happy mowing:

● Study the instruction manual covering your mower and stick by the guidelines set down by the manufacturer.

● Before mowing, clear the area of children, adults and pets, and pick up any objects that might be thrown by the blade.

● While mowing, never leave the mower, even for a moment, or try to unclog it, without first stopping the engine.

VIETNAM CHAPLAINS, PART II

Major Ngo-Buu-Dat, Deputy Director of Vietnam Buddhist Chaplain Service, believes that the goal of all religions is, "to be perfect to serve and serve to be perfect." To this purpose Chaplain Dat, or as he is known in the priesthood, Venerable Buddhapola, has dedicated his life since he was ten years old. His father is also a priest. Dat is a member of the Hinayama Sect from India, a moderate group that believes in cooperation with all faiths.

There are 80 Buddhist, 70 Catholic and five Protestant Chaplains in the Vietnam military services. Chaplain Dat's visit to the United States to take a two month course at the U.S. Army Chaplains School at Fort Hamilton, N.Y. has been a revealing experience for him.

He says, "I have seen freedom and democracy at work and everyone has the individual right to work and feel as he sees fit." Concerning his country he adds, "We must unite and cooperate closely in religions, and in the government we must have representatives of all religions."

Chaplain Dat practices this for in his war-torn country he gives spiritual aid to all who come to him with no questions asked. His strength is in the power of meditation to purify the mind.

Confident Living:

Use 'Think Power' on Problems

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

"Do not weep. Do not wax indignant. Understand." This advice is from the 17th-century philosopher Baruch Spinoza. That three-point formula was his method for meeting, conquering and defeating misfortune or tough situations.

DR. PEALE

To overcome troubles you have to use the good mind God gave you. You have to think through and understand them.

★ ★ ★

And you cannot think clearheadedly while seething with a sense of outrage, hating other people or life or even God for some harsh experience that has befallen you. Neither can you weep, wail and carry on about it — and at the same time think.

What we want to know about a philosophical idea is, does it work? Does the individual who applies it benefit as a result? It is significant that Spinoza was impressively successful as a person.

Born in Holland to Jewish parents who had fled from Spain to escape the Inquisition, he grew up in Amsterdam and by age 15 had attracted attention as an outstandingly bright student.

He chose the trade of grinding and polishing lenses to earn a livelihood and achieved great skill at it. As a writer he excelled in stating things succinctly.

Later on this man (whose writings contain long passages in praise of God such as, the thing "chiefly profitable to the mind — is the knowledge of God") was perversely accused in many quarters of being an atheist. Yet serenely, without bitterness or recrimination, he pursued his objectives.

The powers and fine personal qualities of this distinguished thinker were due in large part to his insight into the nature and psychology of emotions.

He understood the power of love over hate, saw the importance of learning to overcome negative emotions and use the positive for increasing clarity and power of the mind.

A 20th-century American who often stressed ideas closely parallel with these was Charles F. Kettering, for many years research scientist of General Motors Corporation. He developed the self-starter, the Duco paint process and other landmarks of progress in the automotive industry.

One day when I was present someone asked him a question about basic principles of problem-solving. "Boss Kettering," as they used to call him, answered along these lines: "The method of solving a problem consists basically in calm quiet thinking. A problem tends to get loaded with emotional content. That means you see it blown up out of proportion to its actual size.

"So the first essential is to lay it on the table, so to speak, and cut away extraneous factors, especially emotional ones. You never get a solution by thinking emotionally. You have to think rationally, and to do that you must remain calm."

He went on to say, "Once you cut away extraneous factors there remains a center. Every problem has a center. There's where you will find a solution. When you get rid of all the other stuff and deal with the center, you usually find the problem not as difficult or complicated as you had imagined."

★ ★ ★

So it adds up to this. When you are faced with a tough problem, maybe you are not using enough think-power. Get out from under any gloom, anxiety, resentment, desperation — any negative reaction which agitates your mind.

Veteran Suggests Action to End War in Vietnam

The so-called leaders of our country, speaking on the war in Vietnam, say "don't bomb there, don't bomb airfields, don't bomb seaports, don't hurt civilians." Is the enemy particular about what they blow up? No! Restaurants, hotels, police stations and crowded street corners are targets.

Over 20 years ago I served in a war that was to end all wars. We had a bomb so terrible no one would dare start another conflict. We've got the bombs today, but what for? Don't beg the enemy to come to a peace table, order him to come, or else.

Stop the horrible waste of the lives of our sons and those of allies. Stop the waste of billions of our tax money. We can end this war. Why not now?

Wallace Is Proving Hard to Pin Down

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

MARLOW

Earlier this week he indicated he might run for president in 1968, but he would not say so.

Thursday at Pittsburgh he told newsmen, "Since I am running for president" and then backtracked, saying the newsmen had him mixed up.

If he did run, he certainly couldn't win. But if he took enough votes away from Democratic and Republican candidates so that neither got a majority, the election would have to be thrown into the House of Representatives.

Last Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press" he was asked if this threat to run for president was just "to blackmail one of the parties into accepting your view?"

Wallace harps on the need for conservative candidates and party platforms.

COAST TO COAST

Wallace denied any thought of blackmail but earlier this year announced that if the two national parties "don't swing around and fly right in 1968" he would be preaching the conservative cause from coast to coast.

When he ran in 1964 — that is, before he dropped out of the race — he said his purpose was to "conservatize" the two big parties and, if he could keep either from winning, he would gain a pro-Southern bargaining position.

The former governor, 47 and a segregationist, says, "I am not against the policy of nondiscrimination," explaining he would not advocate segregation in any state. But he thinks Alabama's public schools should be segregated.

SOME REPEALS

When asked if he became president whether he would advocate repeal of the civil rights laws now on the books, Wallace said he would advocate modifications and in the next breath said he would advocate some repeals.

So, since practically all of Alabama's school superintendents were trying to meet federal requirement to desegregate, he was asked why his wife, Lurleen Wallace, Alabama's present governor, is telling them not to.

★ ★ ★

He was asked a further question: Didn't this mean he was using the very kind of force he doesn't want the federal government to use?

LONG ANSWER

Wallace went into a long, spiraling answer which seemed to say the local subdivisions of a state should not be compared with the states and the federal government.

★ ★ ★

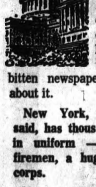

Mrs. Wallace, whose husband is her No. 1 adviser, on March 30 asked the Alabama Legislature for power to take over the schools as one step in a defiant plan to resist a three-judge federal court order to integrate them.

Washington Notebook:

N.Y. Abreast of Topless Trend

By DAVE BURGIN

WASHINGTON (NEA) — New York City has everything, all right. Lots of it, too.

Fun City's Republican mayor, John V. Lindsay, here to address the American Society of Newspaper Editors, was telling hard-bitten newspaper types all about it.

New York, the mayor said, has thousands of men in uniform — policemen, firemen, a huge sanitation corps.

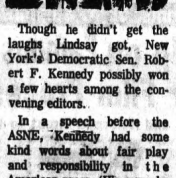

"One of these days," the tall, handsome Lindsay deadpanned, "we just may hoist our flag, sail up the Hudson and take Albany."

The editors warmed.

Lindsay then went on to invite them to New York. He paused, switched on a sad countenance and apologized for the closing of — as he put it — "New York's experimental topless club."

"I couldn't make the topless opening myself," Lindsay said, "but 14 police precincts quickly answered the call, including three precincts from New Jersey.

"The police had all arrived by 9 o'clock. I can tell you proudly that by 1 o'clock they had made their first arrest."

Though he didn't get the laughs Lindsay got, New York's Democratic Sen. Robert F. Kennedy possibly won a few hearts among the convening editors.

In a speech before the ASNE, Kennedy had some kind words about fair play and responsibility in the American press. (His remarks were especially welcome after the American press got a thorough tongue-lashing from British publisher Sir Cecil King.)

Afterwards, we suggested that the senator may have "de-horned" himself in the eyes of some critical editors in attendance.

Rep. John N. Erlenborn's "there-ought-to-be-a-law contest" has turned out to be one of those wish-I-had-thought-of-that ideas for other House members.

The contest closed with more than 2,600 legislative ideas submitted by constituents. The winner will receive an all-expenses-paid two-week trip to Washington where he will be a guest in the House gallery the day the winning idea is submitted in a bill sponsored by Edlenborn, an Illinois Republican.

The contest wasn't without humor. A few suggestions:

● A bill that would abolish Halloween because "it rejuvenates crime."

● A bill stipulating that, in case of war, "the President, the vice president and one-half the Congress immediately shall join a frontline battalion."

● A bill that would require members of the Supreme Court to be given mental competency tests every two years.

● A bill that would ban "there-ought-to-be-a-law" contests conducted by members of Congress.

Federal Deficit Feels Profit Dip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Drooping corporate profits — and the reduced tax revenues they're producing — could push the federal budget deficit beyond $10 billion during the current fiscal year.

The impact on tax revenues is likely to be greater during the next fiscal year, but the heightened deficit might put more pressure on Congress to increase taxes to keep the budget within bounds.

Although the administration has made no new official estimates of tax receipts since January, government sources said the drop in corporate profits during the first quarter of the year has been sharper than anticipated.

This means lower revenues, but the exact amount still is unknown.

COMPARATIVELY SMALL

One government analyst indicated it might reduce revenues by $600 million during the fiscal year which ends June 30.

Although comparatively small when viewed in relation to the entire picture, it could mean a deficit in the administration budget of $10.3 billion.

In January, the administration estimated the deficit for the current fiscal year at $9.7 billion and at $8.1 billion for the fiscal year which begins July 1.

This latter deficit projection, however, is based on the supposition that Congress will pass the 6 per cent income tax surcharge on individuals and corporations proposed by the President — a plan which would increase revenues by about $5 billion.

WITHOUT SURTAX

Without the surtax, the deficit could exceed $13 billion, a peacetime record, without any drop in corporate tax collections.

The peacetime deficit in the administrative budgets reached a record $12.4 billion in fiscal 1959 during the Eisenhower administration.

It's now roughly estimated that profits are running about 7 per cent below that, or at an annual rate of roughly $77 billion.

NOT YET AVAILABLE

Government figures on first-quarter profits won't be available for several more weeks.

But with a relatively poor first-quarter showing, profits would have to climb extremely fast in the second half of the year to produce the $83 billion estimate, which some experts now feel is unlikely.

What this will mean in tax collections for the fiscal year beginning July 1 still is uncertain, but it could lessen receipts by $1 billion to $2 billion.

The surtax thus far has had a cool reception in Congress, but the administration is sticking to its projection of an economic upswing in the second half of the year requiring the surtax to stem inflationary pressure.

Merger Arguments Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission will hear arguments June 1 on the proposed merger of American Broadcasting Companies Inc., and International Telephone and Telegraph Corp.

The FCC also said Friday all sides in the controversial $2.8-billion merger should submit by May 15 their proposals on how the FCC should rule. It said all sides then will have until May 22 to file final papers.

An FCC examiner earlier this week ended hearings on the merger — largest in broadcasting history — which is opposed by the Justice Department. The hearings lasted 12½ days.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon said Friday it "will not make available for public release an individual's home address or next of kin unless the individual's record indicates that the service member has authorized release."

Information concerning combat fatalities will continue to be released, the Pentagon said, since certificates of death are matters of public record.

In order to deny the enemy information that might be used in interrogation, the Defense Department gives out only the service, rank and name of prisoners and missing men.

Pentagon press officers are asked daily for addresses and names of close relatives of men stationed in Vietnam and mentioned in news stories or lists of captured or missing men.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Auto industry critic Ralph Nader urges legislation and court action making auto manufacturers accountable for deaths and injuries resulting from defective vehicles or negligent industry practices.

★ ★ ★

"Already the courts are beginning to recognize that things like hood ornaments, sharp edges inside cars, vehicle instability and defective or overloaded tires are grounds for recovery against the manufacturer," he said Friday.

Nader, speaking at an American Trial Lawyers Association seminar, urged courts to establish manufacturers' liability for their defects and negligence.

Lawyer Seeks House Seat

MOUNT CLEMENS (UPI) — Attorney David M. Serotkin of Mount Clemens has announced as a Republican candidate for the legislative seat left vacant by the death of Rep. James S. Nunnelley who died at his desk April 20.

The 28-year-old Serotkin received unanimous endorsement Thursday night from the Macomb County Republican Executive Committee.

Nunnelley, a Republican, died of a heart attack. His death threw the House of Representatives back into a party tie at 54-54.

Though no Democrat has yet announced his candidacy, it is expected that Victor R. Steeh, who served one term in the House and was defeated in the last election by Nunnelley, will be a candidate.

A special election to fill the vacancy will be held June 6; if a primary election is needed, it will be held May 19.

4 Killed in Japan

NAGAOKA, Japan (UPI) — Four persons were killed and 25 others seriously injured today when a sight-seeing bus collided with a truck on a national highway 120 miles north of Tokyo.

Soviets Free Dutch Exec

MOSCOW (AP) — A Royal Dutch Airlines official was freed today the Dutch Embassy said, two days after his arrest in apparent reprisal for the expulsion of a Soviet official from Amsterdam.

KLM station manager L.C.T. Donker was released and told to leave the country because of what the Foreign Ministry called "acts not in the interest of the country," an embassy spokesman said.

The spokesman said the Soviet statement did not specify what the alleged acts were.

He added that "it was a fair guess" that the action against Donker was a reaction to the arrest and expulsion earlier this month of Vladimir A. Glukhov, chief of operations in the Netherlands of the Soviet government airline Aeroflot.

John Fernald to Direct Closing Play

George Guidall as Vershinin and Lorna Lewis as Masha find parting to be painful in the John Fernald Company production of "The Three Sisters." The Chekhov play will end the current season at the Meadow Brook Theatre. The production, beginning Wednesday, will run through May 28 at Oakland University.

John Fernald is back, working at the job he loves best — directing. For the past two months, Fernald has been resting and making plans for the Academy of Dramatic Art which will begin classes in the Fall at Oakland University, while Robin Ray directed the Meadow Brook troupe.

Now Fernald is at the helm again, putting the Company through rehearsals for the final production this season, "The Three Sisters" by Anton Chekhov.

Fernald, who came to Oakland University and the Meadow Brook Theatre from the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London, is perhaps best known in England for his productions of Chekhov.

London drama critics still cite his presentation of "The Cherry Orchard" in 1948 as the finest production of that play in the English-speaking world.

MODERN DRAMA

Of Chekhov, Fernald says, "If it had not been for Chekhov, modern drama would never have developed the way it has. He was a true innovator, who wrote in a way never conceived before and never equalled since. He replaced nineteenth century dramatic convention with true emotion on a naturalistic scale.

"Chekhov freed the actor from the bondage of words, for he was the first playwright to realize that man can express himself as much by what he cannot find words to say as by the most fluent statements imaginable. Chekhov's poetry is that of silences, and halting pauses."

★ ★ ★

"The Three Sisters" represents the mature Chekhov. It is the third of his four acknowledged masterpieces.

The three sisters, Olga, Masha, and Irina, live in a provincial Russian town from which they long to escape, but they lack the strength to control their own destinies and they remain the victims of circumstances.

Their brother marries a greedy wife who ruins their domestic peace. An artillery regiment comes to town, and then departs leaving two of them desolate.

TRAGEDY

Suddenly, in the middle of a sunny morning, a pistol is fired and tragedy is upon them. They accept it all because life is like that, and life is what Chekhov so brilliantly delineates.

Virtually the entire Meadow Brook Company is cast in "Three Sisters." The central characters of Olga, Masha, and Irina are played by Jill Tanner, Lorna Lewis and Barbara Caruso.

Members of the Artillery Regiment are the Battery Commander, Vershinin played by George Guidall; Tusenbach played by Terence Scammell; Chebutykin the Doctor played by Eric Berry; Solyony played by Joshua Bryant and Feydotik and Rode, a pair of second lieutenants, played by Victor Holchak and Booker T. Bradshaw Jr.

The production will open Wednesday and run for four weeks through May 28.

At the end of the run for "The Three Sisters," the Fernald Company will close its first season. The theatre will remain dark until the fall.

How to attractively wrap an unusual shape of this sort is no challenge to these veterans. From left are Mrs. Joseph Pollina of Oakshire Avenue and Mrs. Frank Soda of Elizabeth Lake Road, getting things in order for the Italian-American Club Auxiliary luncheon and card party Wednesday. The 12:30 p.m. event will take place in the group's clubhouse on North Tilden Street.

Time Is Now for a Frank Explanation

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: On at least four occasions a member of my family has either accepted an invitation or told us she would be visiting us and never arrived, or explained.

I have no desire to spend another day waiting for her to arrive. How can I politely explain this to her? — Alice D.

Dear Mrs. D.: The time for a polite wishy-washy approach has passed. The next time she calls, say this: "Jane, I would love to see you Wednesday if you're sure you're coming. Last time I waited all afternoon for you.

Do come, but if you find it's impossible at the last minute, please call and let me know."

ABROAD

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is to be married in July, in Sweden. My future daughter-in-law tells me that it is not the custom in Sweden to send out both invitations and announcements. Invitations are sent to everyone whether it is possible for them to come to the wedding or not.

I suggested that our friends here in the states should receive announcements only, except for a few who might possibly be able to make the trip. What is your opinion of this? They will not realize that it is a Swedish custom to send invitations to everyone — Mrs. Matthews.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Matthews: I agree with you that it would seem foolish to send invitations to all of your friends and acquaintances.

In your rather unusual situation you would be forgiven for sending announcements yourself, reading:

Mr. and Mrs. John Matthews
Miss Hulda Svenson
to their son
etc.

Include only your close friends in the list you send to the bride's parents.

★ ★ ★

What is your most puzzling etiquette problem? To the sender of the most interesting question, that we receive each week we'll send a free copy of Emily Post's Etiquette.

Send your question to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Pontiac Press, and don't forget your name and address.

WOMEN'S SECTION

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Designers seem determined that men shall wear miniskirts. O. K. But that brings up lots of problems. While I come from a long line of kilt-wearers, I haven't had much practice with that sort of thing.

ABBY

If men mini-skirt-wearers abide by the Scottish underwear customs described by my kilt-wearing great-grandfather, we should have problems indeed. Namely, how can we remember to hold our knees together?

What do we do on windy days? When women stare should we call a policeman? What if they whistle? Is it appropriate for a man to throw a modesty robe across his knees while riding on a bus? And lastly, Abby, should we shave our legs?

ROBERT McMORRIS, Omaha

DEAR MAC: If menfolk take to wearing mini-skirts, they'll have to look out for themselves — same as womenfolk do. I don't recommend shaving the legs, however. That's practically the only way left to tell some of the boys from the girls.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "shocked" with the new carpet. He must not have been a science major or he would know that touching wood just prior to the kiss would prevent the shock of static electricity.

E. K. M.: Dexter, N. M.

DEAR E. K. M.: Static electricity or no static electricity, it's always a good idea to touch wood before kissing.

DEAR ABBY: I have been courting a 28-year-old divorcee who has five boys between the ages of two and eight. I am 48 and enjoy excellent health. This woman is barely getting by between her job and the support money she gets from her ex-husband.

I want to marry her, but I'm not having much luck. She says she likes my company, but for a husband she'd prefer a younger man. I tried to tell her that with five boys to raise she will have a tough time getting a younger man.

I like children, Miss Abby, and I'm an honest, sober, reliable man. Can you think of some other arguments in my favor I could use to win her?

DEAR "48": For a marriage to succeed there must be mutual willingness and enthusiasm. If you were to "win" the woman because you had more "pro" arguments than she had "con," yours would be a very sorry union indeed.

If she thinks she can do better — let her try. But don't change your phone number without letting her know. She may need it.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would tell those psychiatrists who advise their rich lady patients to "keep busy" to find some volunteer work to relieve their boredom. I am a saleslady who works on commission, and I don't need some rich society dame competing with me for sales. It may be good therapy for her, but it's a pain-in-the-pocketbook to me!

NEEDS TO WORK

DEAR ABBY: Please advise RECEPTION RUINED that among some of those "useless nuts" who fool around with ham radio are Gen. Curtis LeMay, Herbert Hoover Jr., Arthur Godfrey, and Barry Goldwater.

Very truly yours,
ANOTHER USELESS NUT

Year's Proceeds Will Benefit Detroit Symphony Orchestra

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Mrs. H. L. Selmeier, president of the Women's Association for Detroit Symphony Orchestra, presented a check for $65,000 to Howard Harrington, General Manager of the Orchestra.

This was the fruit of the labor throughout the year by 933 members, as reported at the annual luncheon-meeting Friday at Detroit Boat Club.

New officers and directors were also elected for the coming year. They are: Mrs. Arnold W. Lungershausen, president; Mrs. Charles T. Grissom and Mrs. Donald Else, vice presidents; Mrs. Herbert Sott assistant recording secretary.

Directors are Mesdames: Cecil Akroyd and Phillip Flanders.

Among those attending the meeting were: Mesdames: Warren Cooksey, Carl Snyder, John Denman, Judge Beardon, John Hauser.

On May 2, the Women's Auxiliary to the Grace Hospital will honor their new members at a tea in the home of Mrs. Manton Cummins on Sebago Lane.

New officers for the coming year will be elected.

★ ★ ★

Typical is the gift cart they move from room to room as a service to the patients. Proceeds from these sales go to purchase equipment for the Grace hospitals.

The most recent contribution was two coronary units to be used in the intensive care units.

There will be a special 35th Anniversary Celebration at the annual meeting of the Junior Group Goodwill Industries when they meet on Monday, in the Detroit Athletic Club.

It was in the depression year of 1932 that Mrs. Edwin O. Bodkin, whose mother belonged to the Women's Association, founded the Junior Group with 25 other young women. From a small beginning of $200 which was made the first year the Junior Group this past year gave Goodwill Industries over $36,000.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Weak feet are not fatal, but they can surely make one miserable. Not only can the feet and arches be painful, but you may also experience discomfort in the calves, thighs and even in the back.

This sort of chronic dragging discomfort makes a person feel chronically fatigued.

Our feet really take quite a beating. They beat the sidewalks carrying us about, support us when walking, dancing, when indulging in sports, and when walking the miles women travel while doing their housework.

Yet, we often clothe our underpinnings in shoes which are as uncomfortable as a tight, poorly fitted girdle would be for us. To add to that, women sometimes add to their burden with overweight. This is one of the reasons for weak feet.

Correctly fitted shoes, stockings longer than the big toe, a frequent change of shoes, and regular massage with a body lotion after the daily bath, all add to the comfort and health of the feet.

It is also a good idea to massage cuticle cream or oil into the cuticle around the toenails during the winter months.

Exercise is, of course, very important as a preventative as well as a corrective measure. I should have given you this one during the summer. I call it piling sand.

However, you do not have to have sand, and you can dream of the beach while doing the exercise. Then next summer you can actually pile sand.

Stand with your feet between 6 and 8 inches apart. Pretend that you are piling sand up between your feet. Grip with your toes and pull in toward the center. Do this for a little while and then rest and repeat; night and morning would be best. Foot exercises must be done regularly because you are building muscle strength.

If you would like to have my free exercise routine for the feet, "Take Care of Your Feet" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it. Address to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Oriole Outfielder Clouts Tigers

Sharon Miller Leads Women

SHARON MILLER

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Sharon Miller, a onetime Michigan school teacher and a rookie on the women's pro golf circuit, used a red hot chipping game Friday to take the first round lead in the $10,000 Shreveport Kiwanis Club LPGA Invitational Tourney.

★ ★ ★

The 26-year-old Miss Miller carded a 37-37—74 — two over par for the 6,235-yard Palmetto Country Club course in suburban Benton.

Although she missed eight greens in regulation, the 5-foot-3, 130-pound Miss Miller had only three bogeys. None of her putts were over six feet long on the greens she missed. Her sole birdie came on No. 6 when she tapped in a two-footer.

Defending champion Mickey Wright, who had a 36-39—75, was bunched with three other pros just behind Miss Miller. Miss Wright had putting difficulty on the backside and missed three from less than three feet. Also at 75 were Kathy Whitworth, Sandra Spuzich and Ruth Jessen.

The tourney winds up Sunday.

Blefary's Belt Powers Birds to 5-3 Victory

Kaline Collects Three Hits in Loss; McLain Suffers 2nd Defeat

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles call left-fielder Curt Blefary "clank" because he catches more baseballs with his head than his glove.

Blefary pounded a grand slam home run off of a high Denny McLain fastball in the first inning, leading the Orioles to a 5-3 victory in the first game of a four-game series with the Detroit Tigers.

★ ★ ★

The big outfielder didn't do anything more with his bat but turned in the defensive play of the game when he leaped high against the left field fence to take a home run away from Al Kaline in the fifth inning.

TIGERS STRANDED

The Tigers outhit the Orioles nine to six but left nine base runners stranded.

Detroit scored twice in the first inning on a leadoff homer by Dick McAuliffe and a run-scoring double by Kaline.

Baltimore added its fifth run off McLain in the second on Andy Etcherbarren's first hit in 16 trips and a triple by Russ Snyder. McLain was lifted at this point and the Orioles were held to two hits the rest of the way by Detroit relief pitchesr George Korince, Johnny Klippstein, Dave Wickersham and Johnny Podres.

THREE HITS

Kaline, who had three hits and drove in two runs, belted his fifth homer of the season off Baltimore starter Dave McNally in the third.

But the Tigers, although they had McNally on the ropes most of the way and drove him out in the seventh, failed to score again.

★ ★ ★

The best Detroit chance came in the seventh after Mickey Stanley's leadoff single bounced McNally. Moe Drabowsky, who hurled the final three innings for the Birds, gave up a single to Kaline and both runners pulled off a double steal as Jim Northrup fanned.

FREEHAN FANS

But Drabowsky struck out Bill Freehan to end the threat.

Clay Camp Makes War Plans

Oath Refusal Causes Loss of Ring Title

AP Wirephoto

TELEPHONES MOTHER—Boxer-Muslim minister Cassius Clay talks to his mother in Louisville by telephone after refusing to take the oath for induction into the armed forces at Houston Friday. Clay's refusal prompted the World Boxing Association to lift his heavyweight championship.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Cassius Clay's lawyers are readying fresh tactics in their intricate offensive to save him from jail and a stiff fine for refusing to heed his draft call.

As 10 other draftees stepped forward to take the Army oath Friday, the 25-year-old heavyweight fighter did not move. He says that he is a Black Muslim minister by vocation and a boxer by avocation and that war contradicts the teachings of his faith.

TAKES TITLE

The influential New York State Athletic Commission and the World Boxing Association quickly stripped him of his world heavyweight title and announced they planned elimination tournaments to select his replacement.

★ ★ ★

Grimly running the gantlet of waiting newsmen, Clay left the Houston Customs House, where the induction center is located, forged through a crowd of sympathetic Negro demonstrators and sped away in a black car.

While Clay was undergoing his round of physical and mental examinations, all of which he completed satisfactorily, five of the Negroes outside the Customs House burned papers they said were their draft cards. None was arrested.

'BURN BABY'

Hayden Covington of New York and Quinnan Hodges of Houston, Clay's lawyers, told the U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans Friday that they would appeal the ruling of U. S. Dist. Judge Allen B. Hannay in Houston in refusing to hear Clay's suit challenging the composition of the Selective Service System. The suit says Negroes are under-represented.

★ ★ ★

Virtually the same suit, which argues for his draft exemption as a Muslim minister, will be filed again today in U. S. District Court in Houston, thus placing the same arguments before both courts at the same time.

★ ★ ★

U. S. Atty. Morton Susman of Houston said, "It will take us 30 to 60 days to prepare charges. This matter could drag on in the courts for months and perhaps as much as two years." Maximum sentence would be five years in jail and a $10,000 fine.

Covington said, "The champ will never see the inside of a jail."

CLAY PREACHES

Clay preached a sermon Friday night at the Muslim mosque in Houston, his adopted hometown. He shied from newsmen, preferring to stand on the signed four-page statement he handed out after Friday's four hours of military procedures.

Talking about the proposed elimination tournaments, Clay told one of the soldiers, "They'll pick up some dodo, or a junior champion. Some nonsense like that."

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Boosting their record to 5-0 in Big Ten competition, the Gophers downed the Illini 3-2 and 5-1 as they committed five errors in the first game and two in the second.

Michigan climbed into second place with a sweep over Northwestern, 1-0 and 8-2. Ohio State dropped a 2-1 decision to Indiana while two other twin bills ended in splits.

Purdue defeated Iowa 5-3 and then dropped the second game 6-0. Wisconsin defeated Michigan State 1-0 but the Spartans came roaring back for a 10-0 triumph in the second game.

★ ★ ★

Ohio State it at Indiana in a single game Saturday while four more doubleheaders will keep the other eight teams busy. The twin bills find Illinois at Iowa, Northwestern at Michigan State, Purdue at Minnesota and Wisconsin at Michigan.

Southpaw Geoff Zahn hurled Michigan to its double triumph over Northwestern as he pitched both of the seven-inning games. The junior from Athens, Ohio, blanked Northwestern on four hits in the opener and then came back with a three-hit effort in the second game.

★ ★ ★

Indiana scored two unearned runs in the first inning in its victory over Ohio State.

Jim Koering pitched a one-hitter to give Iowa a split against Purdue and Mel Behney blanked Wisconsin on two hits to earn Michigan State a split.

Rosy Life for Some

Trout Madness Hits Anglers

By WHITEY SAWYER
AP Sports Writer

This is the weekend that madness descends upon Michigan — Trout madness.

Sometime today the following will occur:

—A trout fisherman will fall down in an icy Northern Michigan stream. Only the quick application of a ho. fire, blankets and brandy will save him.

— A fisherman will spring a leak in his waders. His language will make the welkin ring, to say nothing of echoing from birch and pine.

— A fisherman, as opening day draws to a close, will hook, then lose his only trout of the day. He, too, will comment colorfully.

— A fisherman, peering through a hangover, will find his numbed fingers unable to tie a fine leader to a tiny fly, will come to his senses and go back to the cabin. There he'll lose $7.85 at poker.

TURN-ABOUT

— A confirmed fly fisherman will be highly indignant when some worm fishermen display their catch while he caught nothing.

— Another fly fisherman will be unbearably superior when he shows some bait fisherman trout he caught on flies while they caught nothing.

— A fisherman, worn out from the long drive north last night and too much bourbon - flavored soda pop, will lie down on the bank and sleep through the only rise of the day.

— And a lucky fisherman will hook a heavy trout, outlast his jumps and snub his runs and finally lead him to the net.

As he lifts his prize, he'll be conscious of the scent of pine, the stark beauty of the birches and alders, the tentative touch of spring on the North Country.

And life will be rosy.

Montreal Ice Again Stages Cup Finals

MONTREAL (AP) — Back on home ice, the Montreal Canadiens were favored to beat the Toronto Maple Leafs today and take a 3-2 lead in the best-of-7 final playoffs for the coveted Stanley Cup, symbolic of world hockey supremacy.

★ ★ ★

The teams split the first four games. In the first two at the Montreal Forum, Montreal won 6-2, then lost 3-0. At Toronto, the Leafs won 3-2 in two overtimes and lost 6-2 last Thursday as the Canadiens evened the series.

BOWER DOUBTFUL

Johnny Bower, 42-year-old goalie was not expected to start in the Toronto net. The veteran was in goal for Toronto's two victories, but he suffered a pulled muscle in his thigh during the warmup before Thursday's game and was replaced by Terry Sawchuk.

★ ★ ★

Sawchuk was the winning goalie in the four games Toronto won in the playoff semifinals when the Leafs eliminated the Chicago Black Hawks. Montreal has beaten him twice in this series, however.

★ ★ ★

"The thing everybody forgets is that the series has boiled down to a best-of-three now," said Brian Conacher of Toronto. "We're not ready to quit by a long shot."

★ ★ ★

The sixth game will be played at Toronto Tuesday and the seventh, if necessary, back in Montreal next Thursday night.

After Hot Round

Goalby Shares Golf Lead

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Bob Goalby, who is among the year's tournament winners, and Bob Charles, who's had a two-year dry spell, charged from back in the crowd Friday to share the lead at 138 after two rounds of the $100,000 Texas Open.

Goalby, a 36-year-old Palm Springs, Calif. pro, shot six birdies and got his only bogey while trying for one more birdie for a five-under-par 66, the lowest round thus far in the tournament.

Charles birdied the last three holes of his round after finishing the 15th hole at even par. The fast finish of the New Zealander caught the gallery by surprise.

Chi Chi Rodriguez and Joe Campbell, the leaders after the first round with three-under 68s, faded. Campbell's game collapsed and his score ballooned to a 76, enabling him to make the cut by only one stroke.

Rodriguez complained, "The way I putted, I think I should start selling ice cream cones."

Strong Mound Job Lacks Bat Support

A three-hit, 14-strikeout mound performance by Mel Boomer couldn't prevent Birmingham Brother Rice from dropping a 2-1 verdict to Detroit Salesian Friday afternoon.

But Salesian combined a walk, stolen base and run-scoring safeties by Jim Frankowski and Chet Tyl for the decisive tallies in the sixth inning. Brother Rice (2-2) then left runners on second and third in its half of the frame.

PNH Netters Win

Pontiac Northern won its second Inter-Lakes net encounter by edging Walled Lake, 4-3 Friday afternoon with Gary Cotter outlasting Lee Eggericks in the key match, 6-8, 10-8, 6-2.

The win puts the Huskies at 3-2 for the season and leaves them unbeaten in league play.

Red Sox Lonborg Not So Fine

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lanky Jim Lonborg was too fine. Now he's not so fine. Which is much better.

Boston Red Sox Manager Dick Williams explained:

"His trouble has been his control. He's been trying to pitch to spots — trying to pitch too fine."

NO FINESSE

So Friday night Lonborg forgot the finesse, just leaned back and let fire with his fast ball. The result — a six-hit, 3-0 shutout of Kansas City and 13 strikeouts, high for the American League this season.

Lonborg, who had failed to last more than 6 1-3 innings in three previous starts, did not walk a man.

* * *

"That's the way I want to pitch all the time," he said. "I just went out there and decided to throw the ball the way I know I can."

He needed to be that good. The Athletics' Jim (Catfish) Hunter pitched hitless ball and struck out 10 before leaving for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

OTHER GAMES

In the other American League games, all at night, Baltimore took over sole possession of the top spot with a 5-3 edge over Detroit, New York broke its homer drought in a 5-4 squeaker past California, the Chicago White Sox beat Cleveland 3-2 and Minnesota whipped Washington 7-3.

The Red Sox gave big Jim all the support he needed in the fifth when George Scott led off with a single, Boston's first hit off Hunter. Mike Andrews doubled Scott home. Singles by Lonborg and Reggie Smith sent Andrews across.

The Yankees, who hadn't had a home run since opening day, got homers from Tom Tresh and Steve Whitaker in the victory over the Angels. But it took a sacrifice fly by Elston Howard in the eighth to drive in the run that snapped a 4-4 tie. Don Mincher had a three-run homer for California. The Yanks' 10-game stretch without a homer was the club's longest since 1944.

Bob Allison drove in three runs with a single and a homer and Harmon Killebrew cracked a two-run homer in leading Minnesota past Washington. Frank Howard had a three-run homer for the Senators in the first, but the Twins' Dean Chance stopped Washington without a hit for the next seven innings.

Don Buford singled across two runs with one out in the bottom of the ninth and lifted the White Sox over Cleveland. The Indians had a 2-1 lead going into the last of the ninth, but Wayne Causey got a pinch single, Sonny Siebery allowed a walk and both moved up on a bad throw, setting the stage for Buford's winning single.

CLEARS SEVEN FEET—Texas Southern's John Hartfield rolls over the high jump bar at the seven-foot level Friday afternoon in that invitational event at the Drake Relays. The 58-year-old glamorous track event at Des Moines, Ia., has held the high jump sporadically and yesterday's jump by Hartfield was the first one in the Drake Relays' history.

Skippers Widen Trophy Margin With Net Win

Waterford Township edged Kettering, 3-2, in tennis Friday to take a commanding 350-200 lead in their All-Sports Trophy competition, all but clinching the prize.

* * *

WTHS (2-3) now has beaten Kettering by close margins in baseball and tennis, and easily in golf. One 50-point meeting remains in each sport, and 100 points are available still in track.

Matson After Record Win

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Randy Matson, the Texas A&M bundle of might, was shooting for an unprecedented "triple double" in today's closing session of the Drake Relays after achieving part of his goal during Friday's wind-buffeted opening day.

* * *

The 6-6½, 263-pound weightman, who threw the shot 71-5¼ last Saturday to add almost a foot to his world record, was a solid favorite in that event today.

If he wins it, he will become the first to ever win two Drake titles three years.

RAN FAST

Making one of its rare appearances in this section of the country, Rice set one record, tied another and qualified four relay teams Friday for today's finals of the 73rd annual Penn Relays.

Kimball to Lose Diamond Coach

Royal Oak Kimball baseball coach Herb Deromedi will join the Central Michigan University athletic department next September as an assistant football coach.

A 1960 University of Michigan graduate, Deromedi joins the staff of new CMU grid mentor Roy Kramer. Deromedi was an assistant football coach at Kimball as well as freshman basketball coach.

Top Bowling Scores

One of the area's bigger team prizes, the West Side Lanes' Classic title, went to the host team Monday night; while another major crown, the Huron Bowl Classic, was up for grabs this week.

In addition to the house team clinching its championship, West Side action featured the 245-249—675 bowling of Jerry Perna, Walt Ruebelman's 235-237—672, Joe Morys' 279 game and a pair of 662's by Ed Razakowski and Don Stone.

Two points separated Moose Lodge No. 182 and new pacesetter Veterans' Disposal after the Vets gained eight points in last week's Huron activity.

A big 226-215-263—704 by Bill Landry and Jim Joyce's 254—653 sparked Jim's Standard Service to an eight-point sweep of the Moose men, knocking them out of the lead. Don Pennell hit 241—647 for B&G Tile.

In the Greater Detroit Bowling Association's Class B City tournament doubles Perry Allagreen Sr. and Jr. of Union Lake lead the event with 1331 (1283 actual).

The third high game currently in the annual rich Petersen Classic in Chicago is held by Al Urbaniak of Davisburg. He hit a 279 in his final game and could win $1,000.

Troy's Clyde Dratz had a 1459 total and is third among the men and women entries who entered the event with 164 or less average. She also is in line for $1,000 currently.

Lloyd Pearsall of Pontiac is tied for the high game on lanes 9 and 10 with Wal Christoff of Detroit. Both hit a 266 game there and may split $500 if they remain tops.

PNH Edges Viking 9; Falcons Win

Rick Rhoney's two-run triple gave senior Art Jackson the boost he needed to pitch Pontiac Northern past Walled Lake, 3-2, for his first win of the season Friday afternoon.

The visiting Vikings were in front, 2-1, when Rhoney laced a drive over the left fielder's head with two out in the third inning.

It scored Bob Fulks, who reached base on an infield single, and Don Hayward, who doubled, with the tying and winning runs.

Jackson then blanked Walled Lake (0-5) over the final four innings, but not without scaring the Huskies' followers.

He walked two batters in the seventh, and an error loaded the bases with one out. But Steve Fogle — who drove in the Vikings' first run with a two-out single in the opening inning — struck out.

CUT DOWN

Greg Fogle then was cut down at the plate when catcher Steve Renda recovered an errant pitch and threw to Jackson who tagged the sliding baserunner.

Farmington tallied four times in the fourth inning to down Livonia Stevenson, 4-2, behind the two-hit hurling of Dan Wolfman. The Falcons' six-hit attack featured a key double in the winning rally by Joe Himmelspach.

Country Day Star Pole Vaults 12-6

Steve Davenport of Country Day in Birmingham established himself as a serious threat for the state Class C-D pole vault championship by clearing 12-6 in a triangular meet Friday.

The muscular Yellow Jacket star posted one of three first place finishes by the host school who trailed Warren Mott (59) and Hartland (46).

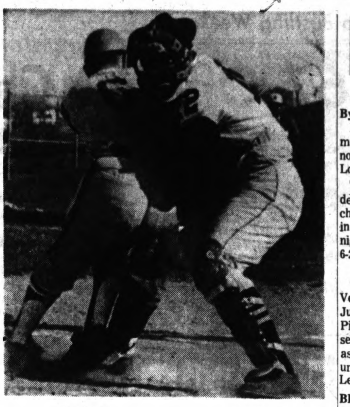

Jerry Dowis and Pete Risdon ran one-two in the 440-yard dash with Dowis posting a :53.0 winning time. Both were also members of Country Day's winning mile relay quartet.

Dave Swift and Jack Williams completed the unit that ran a 3:44.5 effort and boosted the Yellow Jackets' over-all point total to 44.

HEFTY HALTING OF HUSKIE—Walled Lake catcher Wally Williams, a 5-9, 185-pound sophomore, has Pontiac Northern baserunner Rick Rhoney, a 5-11, 165-pound senior, blocked well away from the plate on this second-inning attempted steal of home that went awry for the Huskies.

Pittsburgh Falls

St. Louis in Soccer Win

By the Associated Press

Rudolph Kolbl and Hipilito Chilinque were the stars in the National Professional Soccer League Friday night.

Kolbl slammed in three goals to lead the St. Louis Stars to a 4-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Phantoms before a Pittsburgh turnout of 5,298. Chilinque scored both of Baltimore goals as the Bays blanked the Chicago Spurs 2-0 before 3,753 chilled fans in Chicago's Soldier Field.

★ ★ ★

It was St. Louis' third victory against one defeat and one tie and strengthened the Stars' hold on first place in the Western Division with 31 points. Despite the defeat Pittsburgh clung to first in the Eastern Division with 21 points to 19 for runnerup Baltimore.

FIRST GOAL

Kolbl's first goal came at 28:00 of the first half. Cees Smit tied it for the Phantoms at 1:01 of the second half. Kolbl's second goal broke the tie at 15:28. Norbert Pogrzeba made it 3-1 at 18:42 and Kolbl's third goal completed the scoring at 40:12.

Chilinque socred both of Baltimore's goals from five yards out. The first came after 21 minutes of the first half and the second at 41:00 of the second half.

Lancers, WTHS Links Victors; Avondale Tied

Rod Skelton was one over par at 35 as Waterford (11-2) dumped Lake Orion at Bald Mountain GC, 200 - 224. Tom Quarles had a 40 for the Skippers and Bruce Rupert's 41 paced Orion.

Gary Balliet led Avondale with a one-over-par 37. The Yellow Jackets are now 2-2-1 and Utica is 3-1-1 with the two squads slated to meet again next week.

Sorrow's Harry Lapham had a 39 and teammate Tim Doyle a 40 as the Lancers won their third straight.

Ortonville '9' Misses Chance

Ortonville Brandon had its first baseball victory of the season in its grasp Friday at Byron but couldn't finish the job and lost a 9-6 decision in nine innings.

Trailing 3-0 and 4-2 in the early going, the Blackhawks finally caught their host in the seventh inning with an unearned a marker.

The Ortonville squad (0-4) pulled ahead on a two-run triple by Jerry Smock in the eighth. But Byron (3-0) rallied to tie the score, then won it on a three-run homer by Orr in the next extra inning.

Pirate Cuts Down Redbirds

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Veale, already 6-feet-6, must feel about eight feet tall now after finally slicing the St. Louis Cardinals down to size.

The giant Pittsburgh left-hander looked more like a midget chopping away at the Cardinals in vain for 2½ years, but Friday night he stood over them with a 6-2 victory.

The triumph was the first for Veale over the Cardinals since July, 1964, and gave him half of Pittsburgh's six victories this season — he has yet to lose — as he continues to grow in stature as one of the National League's best hurlers.

BIG COMEBACK

The Atlanta Braves also faced a giant obstacle, an 8-0 deficit, but rose to the occasion and overcame the Philadelphia Phillies 9-8.

First place Cincinnati continued to stand tall with a 7-1 victory over the New York Mets while the Houston Astros outlasted the Chicago Cubs 5-4 in 13 innings and San Francisco stopped any growing pains Los Angeles entertained, 5-4.

Veale, who had lost six straight to St. Louis, made his mark on the Cardinals with a five-hitter, striking out nine and walking three, but he almost was not around at the end to admire his handiwork.

"I was pretty close to taking him out when they hit consecutive triples against him in the sixth inning," said Pirate Manager Harry Walker. "And if he had walked the first man in the ninth, I would have taken him out although I wanted him to get this one because he needed a victory against the Cardinals."

The triples highlighted a two-run inning and neutralized a two-run homer by Willie Stargell in the top of the sixth. But Bill Mazeroski singled in one run and Gene Alley's hit drove in two more in the eighth for a 5-2 lead and Veale's sizeable problem ended.

The Braves spent much of their evening climbing uphill after Don Lock drove in four runs for the Phillies with a three-run homer and a single.

But Hank Aaron cut into the eight-run lead with a three-run homer and a run-scoring single as the Braves scored five times in the fourth and three in the fifth. Aaron then singled Felipe Alou to third in the ninth, where he scored on a fielder's choice.

THIRD STRAIGHT

High-riding Cincinnati won its third straight and eighth in nine games on Sammy Ellis' six-hitter, including Ed Kranepool's homer for the only two hit. Vada Pinson and Pete Rose bunted the Mets with three hits and a two RBI each.

LAST COMMUTER CROSSING—Commodore John Boyle, 63, a ferry pilot since 1929, stands aboard his craft, the Elizabeth, in a slip at Jersey City, N.J., as another ferry boat, the Tides, comes into her berth. The scene marked the end of an era as the Hudson River's only remaining commuter ferry service ceased after more than three centuries of service.

Hudson Sees Last of Commuter Ferries

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — "I tell yos folks, it's not a very nice feeling to see the end of anything," said the pipe-smoking Scotsman skippering the ferry Elizabeth on her final commuter voyage across the Hudson River.

Capt. John Boyle tooted the Elizabeth's whistle three times as a passing tug sounded a nautical farewell.

The creaky ferry, plowing through a wind-whipped ebb tide, was nearing the Jersey side and the commuters began to gather on the deck below.

CHAMPAGNE TOAST

Hundreds of commuters turned around and applauded the gray-haired skipper. Three men raised champagne glasses in a toast.

Boyle sounded three blasts of the ferry's whistle.

"It's very sad," he told a visitor. "It's like breaking up a family. Take me, my mate, the crew, we work together, eat together, we just about live together.

* * *

"Now, we'll all go our separate simple-minded ways and never see each other again."

The ferry will continue operating until 12:01 a.m. Sunday when the changeover officially takes effect, but the final trip for working commuters was made Friday.

TEARS SHED

"I've got a tear in my eye," said Adele Denutzio, a Wall Street office manager who has been commuting from Scotch Plains since 1944.

"Just think," interrupted Anthony Stark, an insurance salesman from Westfield, "you can spend all your time standing up in the subway."

* * *

Actually the commuters will have faster service between New Jersey and New York. Jersey Central trains are being rerouted into Newark where commuters can switch to the Hudson Tubes rapid transit system to Manhattan.

The Staten Island ferry and the Erie-Lackawanna's Hoboken to New York ferry service continue operation.

* * *

The Jersey Central ferry was a historic water link between Manhattan and the other side of the river.

The railroad's records show that the village of Bergen — now Jersey City — granted permission in 1661 to William Jansen to operate a ferry between this community and Manhattan Island.

The wild mustangs or Indian ponies were descended from tame horses which escaped from the Spaniards as they explore and settled in the new land.

Dem Sworn In as Head of Lakes Board

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Rep. Raymond F. Clevenger, D-Mich., was sworn in yesterday as chairman of the newly created Great Lakes Basin commission.

Clevenger, 40, defeated last November in his bid for reelection to a second term in the House, will receive an annual salary of $25,890.

President Johnson on April 20 signed the executive order creating the commission and simultaneously announced his selection of Clevenger as chairman.

The commission, authorized by the Water Resources Planning Act, covers parts of the eight Great Lakes states — Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin.

It will prepare a comprehensive plan for developing the area's water and related land resources and recommend long-range priorities for investigations and construction of projects.

'VERY DEAR TO ME'

Clevenger, whose former Northern Michigan district was bordered by Lakes Michigan, Superior and Huron, views his new post "as a challenge, and one that is very dear to me." He plans to make a personal inspection tour soon of the area.

* * *

"Of course we can't do much in planning for recreational uses until we get the water clean," he said. "But we can't wait until the last drop is cleaned before recognizing the competing interests. We must try to prevent further mistakes that lead to pollution of the water."

Look Forward to Bustling Weekend

Expo 67 Officials Cheered by First Crowd

MONTREAL (AP) — Encouraged by the enthusiasm and size of an opening day crowd about three times bigger than predicted, officials of the Montreal Expo 67 looked forward to a bustling weekend.

An official said Friday's crowd was estimated at 310,000 — not an exact figure because the fair's computer broke down. Original predictions were for 120,000 Friday, 240,000 today and 240,000 Sunday.

Almost no one interviewed in the opening day throng had a bad word to say about the fair, although there has been some complaints about housing and prices of food in Montreal.

Comments on Expo include "fabulous" and "magnificent."

The Vietnam war was injected into the fair by eight men who sat down in the U.S. Pavilion and displayed shirts plastered with slogans denouncing U. S. policy in Vietnam.

Pavilion officials gave them chairs and soft drinks and one remarked: "It looks as if we have added a new exhibit."

Mrs. J. Goldschmidt of Brussels, Belgium, was one of those who said Expo is the greatest fair ever held. She said there was no doubt that it surpassed both the Brussels exhibition of 1958 and the New York World's Fair of 1964-65.

"I think it's going to be magnificent — it is magnificent," said Giuseppi Gatti of Montreal.

Another local viewer, Doreen Cooke, said: "It's fabulous. I think it's really going to put Montreal on the map."

The praise was general, but most of those questioned indicated they were especially impressed by several major national pavilions and the fun area, La Ronde.

Among the most popular restaurants so far have been those in the German Pavilion.

Election Dinner Set for Monday by WEA

The Waterford Education Association (WEA) will hold its annual election dinner at 6:30 p.m. Monday at the Pontiac Elks Lodge.

A pastor, scholar and lecturer, Dr. Littlefair received his doctorate in philosophy of religion from the University of Chicago.

Following the dinner, the WEA will accept nominations from the floor for 1967-68 officers, committee chairmen and delegates to the Michigan Education Association representative assembly.

Voting will take place Monday following nominations and Tuesday at four school precincts.

The WEA's nominating committee already has selected its slate of officers for next school year, including the current president, Mrs. Ladeen Floyd.

House Debates Education Aid

Misrepresentation, Politicking Charged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Partisan battle lines continue to sharpen in the House over the administration's federal aid to education proposals.

Both sides exchanged cutting verbal attacks Friday — with Republicans accusing Democrats of "outright misrepresentation," and a Democratic leader terming a GOP alternative plan "a political bill, not an education bill."

At issue is President Johnson's bid to extend the present system of providing federal help to schools, with the emphasis on the poorer districts.

Under the administration proposal, federal officials would set the guidelines for distributing some $6.7 billion in elementary and secondary school aid over the next two years.

A Republican counterproposal would turn the money directly over to the states, which then would determine how it would be distributed.

House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford accused the administration of "outright misrepresentation" because it fears a Republican victory might set the pattern for an attack on all "Great Society" programs in the 90th Congress.

Ford also charged Democrats with reviving "the church-state issue" in connection with the conflicting proposals.

Roman Catholic leaders have supported the administration plan despite GOP attempts to write into their plan provisions to guarantee inclusion of private schools, primarily parochial, in the aid program.

School Talk to Feature Top Researcher

Dr. Irving Sigel, director of research at the Merrill Palmer Institute, will deliver the main address Wednesday at the Michigan Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development Region A Drive-In Conference at Waterford Township's Mason Junior High School.

About 770 teachers and administrators from school districts throughout southeastern Michigan are expected to attend the eighth annual conference to be held from 4:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Dr. Sigel will speak on the conference theme, "The Child In and Out of Focus."

Prior to the 6:30 p.m. dinner and address in the school cafetorium, the participants will meet in 28 small group sessions led by resource persons.

The conference is a major in-service effort to give teachers and administrators a chance to explore the foremost issues in education today.

China Labels U.S. Drug Offer a Sham

TOKYO (AP) — Calling it a dirty trick, Communist China rejected today a move by the Johnson administration to allow sales of American drugs to fight epidemics reported on the Chinese mainland.

★ ★ ★

An article in the official Peking People's Daily under the headline, "God of Plague Peddles Vaccine" accused the United States of trying to spread rumors about epidemics in order to harm China's relations with its neighbors.

Travelers from Red China have reported widespread outbreaks of meningitis, cholera and infectious hepatitis, and official Chinese statements have tended to back up the reports.

U.S. officials said last week 14 domestic drug manufacturers were told at a meeting with Lawrence C. McQuade, assistant secretary of commerce for domestic and international business, that the government would look favorably on applications to sell to the Chinese such drugs as cholera vaccines, tetracycline, sulfa and penicillin.

Sources said the government acted partly for humanitarian reasons and partly in the hope of preventing the reported epidemics from spreading to friendly Asian countries. The move did not indicate "any real lowering of barriers" against U.S. firms trading with Red China, one source said.

The Peking People's Daily commented on the U.S. move in terms similar to its scathing attacks on American involvement in Vietnam.

It said the United States was making "extremely vicious anti-Chinese propaganda intended to discredit the Chinese people and "present heinous U.S. imperialism as a god of mercy to deceive the people of the world."

"This is very sinister, indeed," the newspaper said.

TEARS OF GRATITUDE?

"Bless us! These U.S. imperialist panjandrums have suddenly taken pity on us Chinese people and shown concern for our health!" it said. "Should we not weep tears of gratitude? Unfortunately people can see at once that it is a dirty trick and nothing less."

The newspaper said none of the United States' "sugar-coated words, smiles, sham kindness and other tricks will produce any effect on the great Chinese people. These will only deepen their hatred and contempt for U.S. imperialism."

★ ★ ★

"We'd sternly tell the gentlemen in Washington: You'd better stop your monkey business."

There are an estimated 1.4 million motorcycles, motor scooters and motorbikes in the United States.

By Police, Firemen
Detroit Raises Sought

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's policemen and firemen formally asked the Common Council Friday for pay raises.

Carl Parsell, president of the 3,500-member Detroit Police Officers Association (DPOA), cited what he called "an outrageous crime situation."

He suggested diverting money from other programs or deficit financing, asking: "Isn't it better to be in the red than dead?"

Marion M. Hollen, president of the Detroit Firefighters Association, said, "This is a time of social revolution. Civil strife and riots always produce fires."

Parsell asked that the Police Department be given top priority in the $417 million budget Mayor Jerome Cavanagh has sent to the council.

He asked higher starting pay, overtime paid for extra hours, higher top pay and other improvements.

The council took no action. It must complete the budget before May 30.

CHRISTINE SHOREY

Washington 9th Grader Is Week's Teen

Rah! Rah! Rah! for Christine Shorey, teen of the week and cheerleader extraordinaire at Washington Junior High.

Chrisie can wield a gavel as student council president as well as she can turn cartwheels at a basketball game.

She will receive the school's highest honor — A gold "W" and guard — when she soon finishes ninth grade. Christie's top in the classroom, too. She's an "A" minus student.

She also fits duties as hall lieutenant and gym assistant besides girls' ensemble, glee, ski, riding, and drama clubs into her schedule.

She's happy participating in almost any sports activity — whether it be dancing, water or snow skiing or bowling.

Someday she hopes to be a pediatrician. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Shorey, 94 Wenonah, think she'll make a good one.

LBJ Upstages Hubert, Borge

Humphrey was billed as the featured speaker and Borge was onstage when the President paid a surprise visit to the dinner.

Johnson quipped with newsmen, then grew serious and talked of Vietnam, saying of the war: "I hope and pray, but I cannot promise, that it will not be too long and that we will soon meet in peace."

The correspondents presented the Raymond Clapper award to Howard Simons, assistant managing editor of the Washington Post. Simons won the award, carrying a $1,000 cash prize, for a series of reports on locating and retrieving the U.S. H-bomb dropped in the Mediterranean.

SPECIAL CITATION

A special citation went to Leonard Downie Jr. of the Washington Post for a series of articles on the District of Columbia Court of General Sessions.

Frank Cormier of the Associated Press was installed as president of the association, succeeding Robert Thompson of the Los Angeles Examiner.

Dem Given MPSC Post

LANSING (UPI) — Saginaw Municipal Judge William A. Boos Jr., yesterday was named by Gov. Romney to a $17,000-a-year job on the Municipal Public Service Commission.

Boos, a Democrat, was elected to the Saginaw municipal bench last fall following three terms as a state legislator.

Boos' term on the commission would expire July 2, 1971 if his appointment is confirmed by the State Senate.

★ ★ ★

Before election to the Legislature in 1961, Boos was an assistant city attorney, housing commissioner and a member of the Saginaw County Board of Supervisors.

People, Poverty, Plenty—Theme

May Fellowship Day Set

Church women in all parts of the country will climax months of study and discussion on how they can take direct action to help wipe out poverty in the United States, as they mark May Fellowship Day Friday.

★ ★ ★

This year's annual observance — sponsored by Church Women United, a department of the National Council of Churches — winds up a three-year emphasis on "People, Poverty, Plenty."

The program is designed to explore the underlying causes of poverty, study its effects on the poor, and discover points at which it can be successfully attacked.

According to reports from last year's May Fellowship Day, women across the country studied in race relations, day care for children, literacy, Head Start programs, Indian work, housing and job training.

May Fellowship Day has been observed on the First Friday in May since 1931.

BIRMINGHAM-BLOOMFIELD

Women of 15 area churches will participate in this year's May Fellowship Day observance held by Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills Church Women United.

A traditional breakfast is scheduled for 9 a.m. Friday at Christ Church Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills. A worship service and program will follow at 10 a.m. with Mrs. G. Merrill Lenox, guest speaker.

An outstanding church woman, Mrs. Lenox is the wife of the executive director of Metropolitan Detroit Council of Churches.

President of American Baptist Women of Detroit, she is a member of the executive committee for the Detroit Area World Mission Campaign. She also serves on the Women's Advisory Committee of the International Christian University in Japan.

Mrs. Henry K. Bardsley, CWU president, will introduce Mrs. Lenox and say a brief word of welcome. "How Can All Share?" is the theme of the meeting which deals with the problems of poverty.

Mrs. Howard A. Scheppe will address the group speaking on the "Women in Community Service" program operating out of the Job Corps Center, Pontiac.

Women volunteers from interfaith and inter-racial groups, staff women's Job Corps centers across the country, offering job and educational training to young women from 16 to 21 years of age.

Others taking part include the Rev. Gerald O'Grady, rector of Christ Church, and Robert Bates, organist.

Tickets for the breakfast are available through CWU representatives or ticket chairmen, Mrs. Don W. Hoskin and Mrs. M. G. Tammen.

Also serving on the planning committee are Mrs. James Jones, Mrs. Arthur W. Courtney Jr., Mrs. Harriet E. Parkyn, Mrs. Eugene H. Crawley, Mrs. Howard Reid, Mrs. William A. Hyland and Olive Wiggins.

PONTIAC

Church Women United of Pontiac will mark May Fellowship Day with a brunch at 9:30 a.m. Friday in Central Methodist Church, 3882 Highland, Waterford Township. Registration will begin at 9 a.m.

Dr. Milton H. Bank, pastor of the host church, will give the welcome and order for worship with Charles Wilson of First Congregational Church at the organ.

Mrs. Fred Bohlman will give announcements, and Mrs. Louise Richardson will be morning soloist.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ernest Alder will introduce the speaker, Mrs. David Peyton. Also participating during the morning will be Mrs. Daniel Spense, Mrs. Leonard Blackwell, Mrs. William Stevens, Mrs. James R. Fleming, Mrs. Walter Willson, and Mrs. Brig. John Grindle.

Others are Mrs. Arthur McDonald, Mrs. John Cherry, Mrs. Adolph Ralley, Mrs. Gerald Stanke, Mrs. Francis Mapley, Mrs. Grace Steeves, Mrs. Albert Branch and Mrs. Harold Sibley.

Candles, an Ancient Custom

Church Celebrates Easter

Holy Week services in St. George Greek Orthodox Church, 1515 Woodward, Bloomfield Township today will culminate with the Resurrection service at midnight and Resurrection Divine Liturgy at 12:45 a.m. Easter Sunday — tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Easter gifts will be presented to all Sunday School children.

The Rev. Gus Tsompanas urges parents and children to attend services as a family.

As a member of a Greek Orthodox Church enters the church he makes the sign of the Cross, puts an offering in the tray, takes a candle and lights it, and places it next to the Icon. This is his candle. It will burn as an offering to God.

The use of wax candles in the church is a very ancient custom of the Orthodox Church. Lights are always used during the Divine Service, even though it is performed in full daylight, Pastor Gus Tsompanas said.

This is done not only for illumination but also to show that the Lord dwells in light ineffable, illumines the world with spiritual radiance. It also denotes that the hearts of faithful believers are warmed and united by a flame of love toward God.

"At first the candles were preferred as a means of lighting because the wax — pure bee's wax — burns easily and at the same time gives off a pleasing fragrance, said the pastor.

"Later it took on a symbolic meaning, the cleanliness of the soul, the fragrance which accompanies the Grace of the Holy Spirit."

The candle as it burns and melts symbolizes spiritual joy, also mourning and contrition.

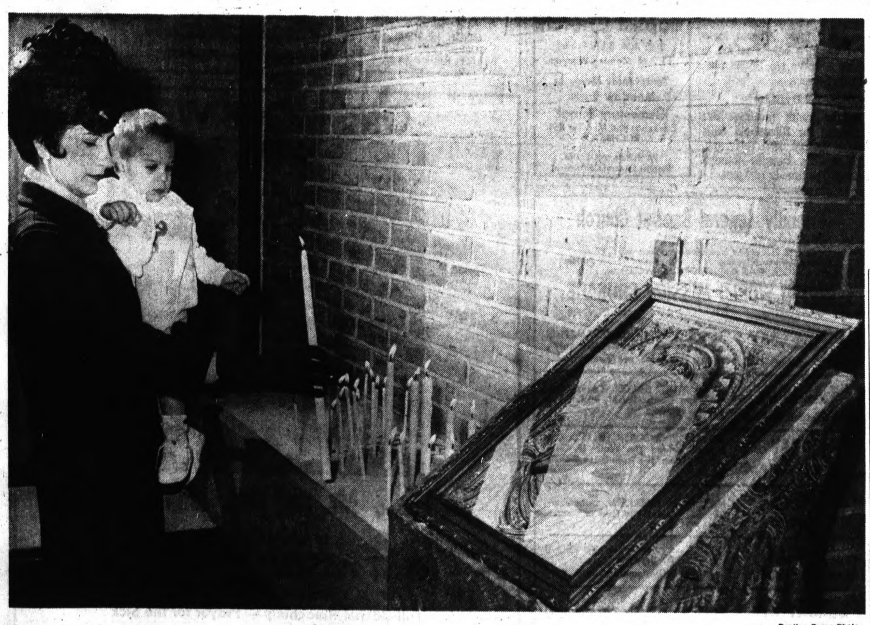

That is why candles are used both at joyous occasions such as weddings and baptisms and at sad events as funerals and memorials.

Tonight the whole congregation will hold candles. The priest will take a light from the Vigil light and give it to the faithful chanting "Come ye and receive Light from the unwaning Light and glorify Christ, who arose from the dead."

Every Christian will hold the Easter candle lit as a symbol of his warm faith in the Resurrection of Jesus Christ as Saviour.

Many members of the congregation take their lit candles home and light their votive lamp as a symbol of illumination from the Resurrection of Christ.

ST. GEORGE CHURCH—Mrs. Gus Tsompanas and baby James arrive at the St. George Greek Orthodox Church for Holy Week services. As is the custom she lights a candle on entering and places it next to the Icon. Resurrection service will be at midnight with an early morning service following. The congregation will celebrate Easter Sunday—tomorrow—for the first time in the new church. The Rev. Gus Tsompanas is pastor.

Macedonia Church Banquet in Annex

The Sunday School and Baptist Training Unit of Macedonia Baptist Church are sponsoring a Mother-Daughter Banquet at 6:30 p.m. in the church annex on May 6.

Mrs. L. A. Gragg, wife of the pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, will be guest speaker.

The Rev. C. B. Hughes, minister of Bethel Baptist Church, Detroit will preach at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

At 3:30 p.m. the young people's department will present a skit entitled "Doing Your Best for Christ." At 7 p.m. the adult department will sponsor a pageant which concerns the story of the prodigal son with the title, "When He Came to Himself."

The public is invited to all services and programs.

A graduate of Boston and Wayne State universities, Kelley presently is a doctorate candidate in philosophy at the University of Michigan.

A cooperative dinner at 6 p.m. will precede Mr. Kelley's presentation. A nursery will be available for small children.

★ ★ ★

Retired Minister Leads Conference

Dr. H. H. Savage, pastor of First Baptist Church for nearly 40 years, will speak at Silvercrest Baptist Church, 2562 Dixie Hwy. during meetings in Silvercrest Church next week.

★ ★ ★

For many years a key figure in the religious life of the city, Dr. Savage since his retirement has been active in setting up Abundant Life conferences in churches all over the nation.

TRINITY

The Trinity Baptist Church will observe Youth Sunday tomorrow with Pastor Lee A. Gragg speaking on "Balance Life On Your Scale."

Youth and Junior choirs will sing. The Youth Usher Board will serve.

Guests Sunday

The Providence Missionary Baptist Church, 311 Bagley will be host to the Rev. T. H. Holt Jr. and his congregation of Greater Mount Calvary Baptist Church at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The Social Concerns Commission of the church scheduled the meeting, to which the public is invited, as part of the program in understanding the problems of society today, and to inform young people the nature of alcoholism.

Lutherans Offer Organ Program

Mrs. Thomas Hershberger, organist of Beautiful Savior Lutheran Church, will present a recital of major organ works at 4 p.m. tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hershberger will play a program including the works of Clerambault, J. S. Bach, Handel, Buxtehude and two contemporary composers, David Johnson of Concordia College and Gordon Young, the well-known Detroit composer.

Three choirs of Beautiful Savior Church directed by Martin Johnston will assist Mrs. Hershberger.

The recital will be presented on the new organ built by Casavant Ereres Ltd. of St. Hyacinthe, Que.

The organ was officially dedicated by Dr. Marilyn Mason of the University of Michigan in an evening recital March 6. Dr. Mason also designed the instrument.

The organ has 27 ranks of pipes and contains one of only two special organ stops found in this area, a trompette en chamade.

The pipes for this stop are placed in a horizontal position to sound directly down the nave of the church. The other trompette of this type may be found at Kirk in the Hills, Bloomfield Hills.

The recital is dedicated to National Music Week, May 7-14.

Lectures Start at Courthouse

Lutheran Churches Sponsor Program

Social problems, racial tensions, politics, ethics — these form the focal points for the second annual Lutheran Lecture Series which begins Tuesday at Oakland County Court House auditorium.

Sponsored by Pontiac Area Lutheran churches, the series attempts to help Christians become more aware of some of the crucial issues facing the church.

The 1967 program entitled "The Church in Our Changing World" will be presented in four parts Tuesday, May 9, 16 and 23. Each lecture will begin at 8 p.m.

Guest speakers include the Rev. Donald Larsen, assistant executive secretary of Missions, Lutheran Council in the United States; the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan; Dr. Victor Hoffman, professor of political science at Valparaiso University; and Dr. William McKee of Merrill-Palmer Institute, Detroit.

The Rev. Donald Larsen will discuss the first subject, "The Church and Social Issues" Tuesday.

Each of the four lectures is open to the public. Cost for the entire series is $5 per couple or individual. Registration should be mailed by tomorrow to "The Church in Our Changing World," 114 S. Genesee, Pontiac 48053.

Foyer's Cherry Chest Was Once A Dentist's Instrument Cabinet

Colonial Of The W. R. Allen Family Located In Orchard Lake

Recipe for A Home

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Her own decorator, Mrs. W. R. Allen, like a born cook, prefers a dash of this style and a touch of that period to prepare a delightful setting reflective of her creative talents.

From the Victorian flavored foyer, to the Colonial living room, to the more primitive Early American mode of the family room and kitchen, her decorating technique is pleasing with the accent on color, comfort and convenience.

Through the open doorways of the adjoining study, one can glimpse the warm family room with its red tweed carpeting, used brick and authentic barn beams.

"That mantel beam over the fireplace is solid cherry," said Mrs. Allen. "We discovered it in an old barn.

MADE TO LOOK OLD

"You see," she continued," I didn't want a new house. So when we built this one, my husband deliberately set out to make it look old."

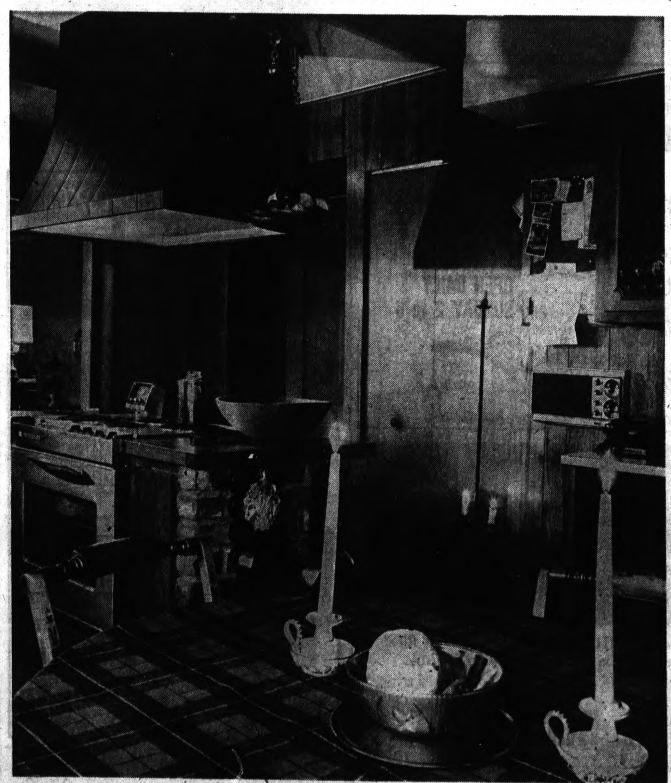

By combining an antique yarn winder and a huge wooden salad bowl, the Allens created an interesting end table to serve the room's black stripe on beige wool chair.

"When we're entertaining or just relaxing for an evening, I fill it with hot pop corn," added Mrs. Allen.

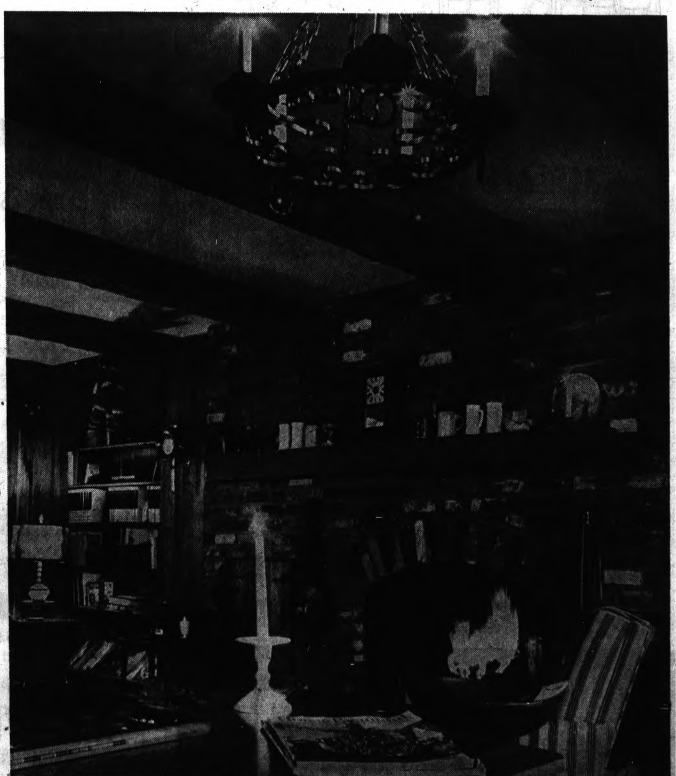

The Allens' two sons, Tommy, 13, and Skipper, 7, cast their votes in favor of its ample capacity.

Accent on Beauty

Flower Show Is a Success

By JODY HEADLEE
Pontiac Press Garden Editor

"Treasures" of the plant world complemented the jewels and fine china displays of Detroit's Wright Kay and Company in the annual spring flower show held in cooperation with the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, Michigan Division.

Four floors of flower arrangements and table setting geared to this year's theme, "Treasures," provided ideas and viewing pleasure for the hundreds of visitors.

Area branches supported the show with enthusiasm, either by entering exhibits or supplying hostesses to answer questions and help guide the interested viewers.

Many visitors came with an eye to adapting the ideas displayed to their own needs. Bits of conversation overheard included: "Do you have any table settings with a confirmation theme?"

"Isn't that just like the Grand Canyon?"

SAVE TIME

If you missed the show this year, it closed Thursday evening, be sure to save time next spring.

This was the seventh year that Wright Kay and the branches of the WNFGA have staged the show.

In appreciation of the women's cooperation, Wright Kay presented a $1,500 award to the WNFGA for the specific purpose of underwriting a special Natural Beauty and Conservation 4-H Club Foundation of Michigan Youth Program.

A special exhibit of crafts created by branch members was displayed on the fourth floor. Included was an exquisite handbag created by the Michigan president, Mrs. Marvin L. Katke, a member of the Birmingham branch.

Mrs. Chester Wisniewski served as chairman of the flower show committee.

On the advisory staff were Mrs. Wilson McClellan, past Wright Kay flower show chairman; Mrs. Frederick Stefansky, flower show and school division chairman, and Mrs. John Tebben, past Wright Kay flower show chairman.

Mrs. Robert B. Porkorny and Mrs. William R. Rodger were responsible for the schedule.

In the show were table settings on a Punch and Judy party for children complete with bobbing balloons, an engagement tea table with the accent on pink including "diamond" rings mounted on match boxes for favors and a "literary luncheon" table with the place cards featuring handwritten quotes by famous authors.

Pontiac Press Photos by Ed Vanderwarp

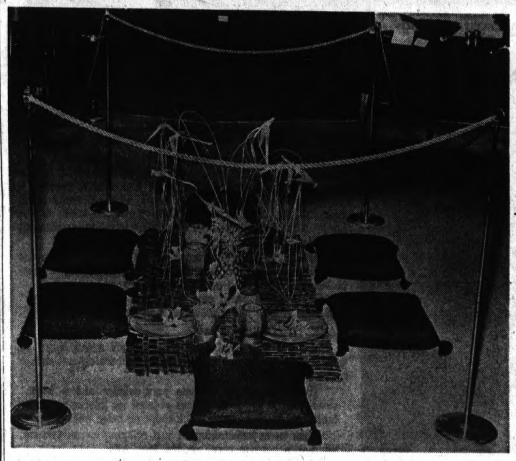

SIMPLICITY — Calla lilies, variegated palm, aspidistra and dried gypsophilia make up the charming bridal arrangement submitted by Mrs. Gordon Andrus of the Valley Woods Branch.

FALL GLORY—Mrs. Arthur Stillier of the Holly Branch exhibited a dried arrangement of flowers, pods, leaves and Scotch broom mounted on a pale celedon backdrop offset by an antique frame.

TERRA-COTTA BIRD—Exhibited in the leisure-hour section of the show was a nesting bird created of painted clay by Mrs. L. Jerome Fink of the Pontiac Branch. The bird is an ideal accessory for arrangements reflecting a spring theme.

ISLAND MAGIC — Wing Lake Shores Branch members, Mrs. Albert Carr, Mrs. Frank Kussy and Mrs. Mark Nielson, planned the delightful setting for a luau. Woven fresh palm fronds provide the green mat, dried palm fronds, the whimsical birds secured in the pineapple centerpiece; topped hollowed-out coconuts, the novel mugs; and cymbidium and cattleya orchids, the color.

GARDEN BEAUTY—To fashion a background for the abstract sculpture, "Flight," Mrs. Lewis Dibble of the Birmingham Branch chose graceful branches of blooming cherry blossoms and potted pink geraniums. The abstract, sculptured by Mrs. Dibble, is placed on a pedestal to add further dignity to its lines.

SPLITLEVEL WITH DECK—Contemporary styling of this three-bedroom splitlevel is enhanced by redwood deck outside of bedroom wing. The deck, which extends around the side of the house, can be reached from two of the bedrooms and is ideal for outdoor relaxing.

G-86 STATISTICS

Design G-86, a splitlevel has a living room, dining room, kitchen, breakfast area; foyer, three bedrooms and two bathrooms on the main levels with a livability total of 1,475 square feet. There are 715 square feet on the lower level, which includes a family room, laundry, lavatory and garage. These figures are aside from the outdoor deck and rear patio. Overall dimensions are 56' by 30' 6", including the garage.

Redwood Deck Adds Illusion of Spacious Comfort

Architect Samuel Paul has succeeded here in giving a modest splitlevel the appearance of a rambling, spacious house on the outside and a roomy, comfortable place to live on the inside.

* * *

Although only 56' long, it looks big with its soaring gable and deck. Redwood siding is played against areas of white brick to accent this illusion.

And the expansive glass areas, especially at the main entry, make the house cheerful and inviting.

Compact planning keynotes the interior, so that the 1475 square feet of space on the living and bedroom levels are sufficient for good living.

* * *

But the bonus of all split levels, the lower level, has 715 additional square feet. And the extra bonus, designed into this particular house, is a front and side deck with 184 square feet for outdoor relaxing.

The bright foyer, with its large amount of glass; high, sloping, beamed ceiling; and floating staircase; forms an ingratiating entry.

Directly ahead is the living room fireplace, adding to the cheerful atmosphere. This fireplace is a focal point at one of a living-dining room combination which totals 28' in length, with large expanses of windows on two walls.

A great amount of individuality can be achieved in the organization of this space: through imaginative room dividers to separate the living and dining areas, through special treatment of the area next to the fireplace, and through the arrangement of furniture.

* * *

The efficient and well-equipped kitchen is conveniently located off the dining room and can be entered directly fro mthe foyer. Nearly 18' long the kitchen has ample space for a breakfast table.

Large windows here allow for a view of the front garden as well as the convenience of seeing anyone coming up the walk. The housewife is likely to find this a cheerful place in which to prepare the family meals.

Completely separated from the rest of the house, the bedroom level is easily accessible from the main entry.

* * *

Closets and one of the bathrooms act as buffers between the bedrooms for additional privacy within the bedroom wing itself.

LARGE CLOSET

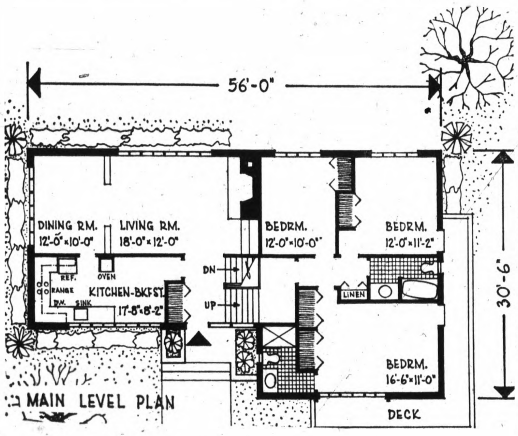

The master bedroom has two large closets with bi-folding doors 8' high, its own private bathroom with stall shower, and the previously-mentioned outdoor deck with two exposures.

Each of the other bedrooms has its own sizable closet, and both share a bathroom, with tub and shower, which is entered off the central hall. The linen closet also is located there.

Down half a flight from the foyer is the family room, which has sliding glass doors leading to a patio for good-weather barbecues. An entry to the two-car garage, a lavatory and a laundry room also are on this level.

* * *

This is a well-planned house for the family that wishes to take advantage of the assets of a splitlevel, not the least of which is the fact that there is more livable space for less money than a ranch.

Frame Windows With 4x4 Posts

* * *

* * *

* * *

FLOOR PLANS — Complete utilization of space on each level characterizes floor layout of this splitlevel. Placement of living room in a line at rear of house, with fireplace at one end and a series of windows at the other, creates ultraspacious effect.

HOBBY WALL — Why hide your hobbies? Put 'em on a wall, where they'll be both a source of satisfaction to you and a real conversation piece for guests. This "his and hers" hobby wall, made easy with prefinished perforated board in an attractive Tawny Walnut woodgrain, would be a striking feature in any den or family room, for instance. The "her" of this couple enjoys embroidery and hand sewing, so she displays a Danish modern crewel, fashioned in a tree of life with gayly colored hen and roosters, at lower center. A traditional tree of life, with stylized flowers, borders the grouping on the left, and pert needlepoint strawberries balance the display at upper right. Antique miniature sewing machine lends added charm. "His" hobby—collecting unusual pipes—provides third dimension as well as interest. Turkish water pipe at top is an outstanding feature, displayed on a shelf easily mounted with metal brackets. The other pipes, as well as the framed displays, are mounted with a variety of white Delrin plastic fixtures.

Panel Discussion at Realtor Meeting

A panel discussion on "The Relationship Between Attorney, Client and Realtor" will be held at the Monday meeting of the Pontiac Board of Realtors.

Beginning at 5:30 p.m., the meeting will be held at the First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Oakland, 761 W. Huron.

Prior to the general membership meeting, Claude Wagner, Waterford Township assessor, will speak to the Realtor and Associates division on present assessments in Waterford Township.

House Cost Can Drop to Zero in 25 Years, as Value Holds

Buying a home is the biggest financial step the typical family ever takes, one that many people approach with needless trepidation.

Yet, did you know that, over a 25-year period, your house could cost you nothing? Compare that to car purchases which could dig into your bank account over the same period to the tune of $23,000 or more.

Persuasively weighing long-term outlays for shelter and wheels, two basic family needs, was Editor Richard W. O'Neill in a recent issue of the authoritative House & Home magazine. He put it this way:

"Assume the house buyer takes out a 25-year, $20,000 mortgage on a $25,000 house. At 7 per cent interest, he will pay $42,408 on the mortgage in 25 years, but income tax deduction of $22,408 in interest will give him an effective rebate, in the 30 per cent tax bracket, of $6,722

* * *

"So his house will actually cost him $35,686 in mortgage payments plus his $5,000 down payment—or a total of $40,686.

CONSERVATIVE ESTIMATE

"But using the most conservative estimates of increasing value, the house will be worth at least $40,000 after 25 years—and that figure does not include an annual 1.2 per cent inflationary factor in the value of money.

"In short, he will be able to get back every bit of money he has put into his house, it will have cost him nothing.

"Let's also assume that the home buyer buys eight cars and keeps each for three years—and that each car is worth approximately $4,000 and is financed at 12 per cent.

* * *

At the end of the 25-year period, he will have paid about $23,000 for his cars and will wind up with only one car valued at about $1,600," states O'Neill.

Maintenance and local property taxes are added costs to the home owner, of course, but these are easily offset by the quantity and quality of living attained by the home-owning family.

Although the interest charged for mortgage money is higher today than it has been for many years, the rate is still considerably less than those charged for autos, appliances and such luxury items as color TV sets, all of which also have a high rate of depreciation.

* * *

Construction Quality Tip

A good clue to the quality of construction that has gone into a home can often be found in the amount of ceramic tile used in it, notes the Tile Council of America.

* * *

Broad use of tile in bathrooms, kitchens, entryways and family rooms suggests a builder who has been primarily concerned with quality.

* * *

Over 35 million Americans move each year. About six million move out of state; another six million cross county lines.

Carved Effect Done on Doors

Much the same effect can be achieved with stock panel doors and the price is tiny—about $20.

Just whack the door here and there with a heavy chain or with a ring of keys.

Then lightly smooth the surface and apply stain, allowing additional stain to settle into the identations you've made as well as along the moldings outlining the panels.

* * *

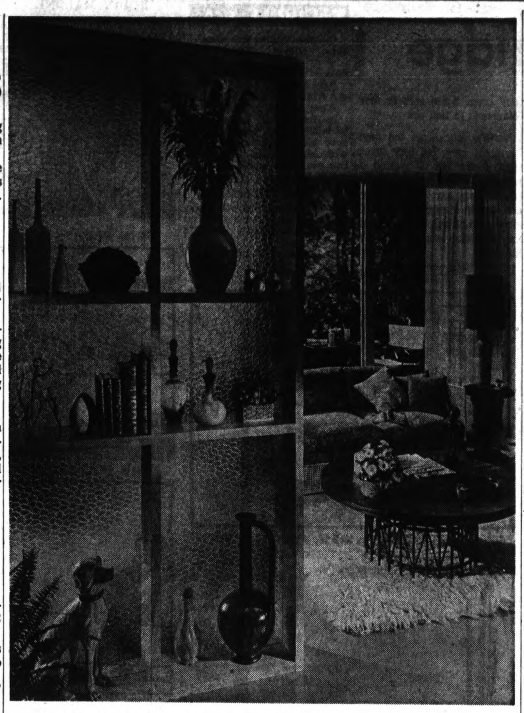

Solid Douglas fir and western hemlock panel doors are available in a selection of widths, heights and styles at most retail lumber yards and sash and door shops.

Vacation Glamor Adds to Holiday Fun

Well, why not?

Not a real one, to be sure, but a simulated one, painted on the floor in bright, durable colors! Such is the latest suggestion for simplifying your summer housekeeping offered by Acme Quality Paints' home decorating department.

Nobody wants to be tied up by dull domestic chores during a summer at the shore. But equally nobody likes a dirty disheveled house.

And nothing takes quite so bad a beating as the floors of a vacation cottage — especially one at the sea or lake shore. Sun, sand, muddy feet and dripping bathing suits are extra rough on summer-cottage floors. Salt air and sea spray simply multiply the havoc.

The solution is to paint those surfaces with one of the new super-wear-resistant coatings like traffic-tough porch and floor enamel, before the fun season starts. After that, all it takes is a daily whisk with a damp mop to keep them neat and tidy.

What's more, unlike previous floor and porch enamels these new coatings come in a variety of bright colors that lend themselves to all sorts of decorative tricks, including arabesques and flowered borders, and even simulated Oriental carpets and African big-game pelts for homeowners blessed with artistic talent and a creative urge.

For outdoor concrete surfaces, including walks, barbecue area and shuffleboard court, one of the new extra-durable concrete floor and patio paints is recommended. Acme's comes in many colors and, once applied, will provide protection and stay handsome for years.

* * *

So, if you're counting on a real shore leave this summer in your castle by the sea, the time to prepare is now. Then, when the mercury starts to climb and your city-sweltering friends and relatives descend on you in droves, you can simply loll in the shade and enjoy yourself while they admire your handiwork.

A Unique Way to Frame Paintings

Giant-sized paintings are tough to frame effectively, but one interior decorator came up with an exciting idea.

* * *

Each pair of 2x6s runs from floor to ceiling. One of the pair touches the edge of the painting, the other is set three inches away.

* * *

Jacoby on Bridge

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

If you think this hand is complicated we aren't going to disagree with you. It was played in the Men's Pair championships at the Seattle Nationals.

JACOBY

Every North-South pair played the hand at either four or six hearts. When North was the declarer East would open the jack of clubs. South would lose the club finesse and tricks.

When South was declarer, West would be in an end play at trick one. He would usually open the king of spades. Not that it mattered at all. South would take his ace of spades and draw trumps.

Then he would run off his diamonds and discard a club from dummy. The next play would be to lead his jack of spades and throw West back in. West would have to lead a spade or club. A spade lead would allow South to ruff in his own hand and discard another club from dummy.

The club lead would be away from the king up to South's ace-queen. Either way declarer would make 12 tricks.

The bidding in the box shows how the slam is bid by use of the Jacoby transfer. North's two diamond response shows at least five hearts and demands that South go to two hearts. South replies dutifully.

North's three diamond bid is a game force. South does not know if it is showing a heart-diamond two-suiter or is a slam try of some sort. In any event South goes to four diamonds to find out.

North's four heart bid says, "I might have bid four hearts right away but I wanted to suggest slam possibilities. South's five-heart bid announces a no-trump of maximum quality for play at hearts. North accepts the invitation and goes on to the slam.

BOARDING HOUSE

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

For Sunday

ARIES (Mar. 21 - Apr. 19): Fine for family gatherings, for cementing friendships. Air your hopes, wishes. Some who hear them can aid toward fulfillment. Be specific — and highlight SINCERITY.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20): Exchange ideas. Obtain hint from ARIES message. Be frank and one close to you expresses himself in penetrating manner. Analyze your reaction. You learn if truthful with yourself.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): Answers come from within. Take time to review what you really want. If you adhere to principles you move toward goal. Accent today on journeys, reading, added knowledge.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): Spiritual development favored. Be self-analytical. Study GEMINI message. Dig deep . . . don't accept the superficial. Associate may attempt to interest you in "mystery" subject.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22): Be receptive to ideas, challenges. Your ability to handle public is emphasized. Some opposition could develop . . . but you are capable of charming your way to winner's circle.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): You arrange things, establish worthwhile pattern. Your ambitions come closer to fulfillment. Emphasis today on basic needs. Quiet talk with friend could accomplish a great deal.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Review past, present . . . think of future possibilities. Kaleidoscope of plans, emotions dominates. Key is to settle down. Try to be practical without being dull.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): Give yourself chance to expand. Don't permit associate to discourage you. Keep promises made to family. You are advancing, even if at slow pace. Don't rush or force issues.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Keynote of day is VERSATILITY. Much appears to happen at once. Be selective, discriminating. Choose the best. Don't fall prey to one who promises a pie in the sky. Stick to facts.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Finances, budget, plans for future dominate attention. Include family in exciting thoughts about travel, business, special investments. Air views candidly. You might receive good information.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Fine for being with dear ones. Personal cycle moves up. You can be at right place at right time. Journey to intriguing place could make this a stimulating day. Break from routine.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): You are repaid for some past efforts. People you helped return the favor. Strive to be happy. Change is featured, along with travel. Give attention to young person.

★ ★ ★

IF SUNDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . your ability to react favorably during crisis is special indeed. Makes you a valuable ally. You are creative, concerned with the arts and sciences. Current cycle is one of OPPORTUNITY.

★ ★ ★

For Monday

ARIES (Mar. 21 - Apr. 19): Financial prospects brighter. But some friends display envy. Laugh this off. Don't compound error. Be flexible . . . know there are alternative methods . . . then utilize them.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20): Ability to elevate standing is accepted. Many express gratitude for past efforts. Fine for cooperating in community projects. Accept added responsibility, work toward goal.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): What you need comes your way, if you try to force matters . . . you only cause delay. Know this and act in sensible manner. Study written material, be perceptive. Keep mind open to novel ideas.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): Spotlight on friends, desires . . . your ability to bring hopes into line with reality. Gain cooperation from those at work. Seek greater domestic harmony . . . then day hums with progress.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22): Find reasons WHY. Be charming, but ask questions. Means don't be satisfied with superficial indications. Partnerships, public relations, special advertising programs are accented.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): Stress on long-range plans. Some opposition develops, but this is cleared away if you are sincere, persistent. Allies come forward through job, work, family, neighbors. Be grateful.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Completion of important project, plan is indicated. Don't be premature in making value judgments. Wait for all facts . . . then decide on basis of logic, not emotion.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): Opposition seems unusually strong. But you also have some strength on your side. Know this, utilize it. Gain indicated from sources close to home. Face facts without needless fear.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Key is ability to evaluate ideas. There appears to be an abundance of notions, suggestions. Many of these could come from relatives. Be fair without hurting yourself.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Money available through application of talents, abilities. Does not come through speculation. Know this today and be cautious. Size up situation . . . and temptation. Be aware!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 19): Be practical concerning home costs, repairs. Gain shown if you patiently examine facts. Make concession to family member. If you give . . . you also receive. Be open-minded.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): Some changes occur which are beneficial. Accent on skills with special emphasis on creative expression. Write letters. Read and absorb knowledge. Make known your views.

★ ★ ★

IF MONDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you are daring, inventive, capable of leading, setting the pace. Current cycle indicates gain through new and valuable contacts.

★ ★ ★

Royal Oak Actor Stars in Series

Chris George Talks About 'Rat Patrol'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "What's a Chris George?" said a television series planned when the name was sugested for "Rat Patrol." "Let's get Tab Hunter."

THOMAS

Fortunately for ABC and Chris George, name actors were not cast in the desert - warfare series. And now television viewers in large numbers have discovered what a Chris George is.

He is a rugged ex-Marine from Royal Oak, Mich., and his smooth manner bears an undercurrent of toughness. His style will soon be on view for movie goers, too, in two films.

★ ★ ★

"Rat Patrol"' was one of the few hits of the 1966-67 TV season among the fledgling shows. How did it succeed where others failed?

"The first reason was the desert," Chris George theorized. "The second was the inter-relationship of the five stars on the show; we really work well together.

"The war itself was an important element, I believe. The battles in North Africa were the last time in history when war was carried on a chivalric manner, when gentlemen opposing each other could be capable of noble acts. The history of the desert war is full of them."

It has been a rugged war for "Rat Patrol." The first part was shot in Spain.

★ ★ ★

"The terrain was beautiful, and we had some great props — all the German tanks and trucks that Hitler had given Franco," said George. "But the living was miserable. The place where we were would be a beautiful spot for a two-week vacation. But stay 15 days and you'd start blowing your mind. We were there three months!"

The rain, unfortunately, stayed mainly on the plain where they were working. Because of the weather and Hollywood cries that "Rat Patrol" was a "runaway production," the series returned to the United States. The Mojave desert locations were equally rough, and a jeep accident almost wiped out three-fifths of the cast.

Justin Tarr, driver of the car, escaped with cuts. Gary Raymond broke a leg, and George cracked a vertebra. Were it not for a gun mounted on the rear all could have been crushed when the jeep turned oved.

"I was out two weeks and then went right back to the same scene," said George. "We had to keep going with the series, so they wrote Gary's injury into the scripts.

"I'd sue someone if it hadn't been an unavoidable accident. We were working on a dry-lake bed and weren't used to driving on a hard surface. Before , it was always on sand."

Not Mentally Ill, Says Rudolph Hess, 73

BERLIN (AP) — Rudolf Hess, former deputy to Adolf Hitler and the last remaining inmate in West Berlin's big Spandau war crimes prison, claims that he is mentally and physically sound.

"He said that except for some stomach troubles he has had over the years, he is totally healthy," Alfred Seidl, lawyer for the onetime Nazi bigwig, told newsmen Friday after a half-hour visit with Hess.

It was the fourth visit by Seidl since Hess was sentenced to life in prison in 1946 by the Nuernberg war crimes tribunal.

Hess, who was 73 three days ago, often has been reported suffering from mental illness.

"He asked me specifically to counter any newspaper or press reports that he is mentally sick," Seidl said.

"From the four meetings with him, (the first after Nuernberg was in November 1964), I could not determine the slightest criterion to prove that he was not mentally healthy the lawyer added.

Seidl said he spent most of the last visit telling Hess about a debate in the English House of Lords Feb. 9.

The debate concerned Hess, and Lord Chalfont, British disarmament minister, stressed his government's view that the famous prisoner should be freed on humane grounds.

RUSSIANS REFUSE

The United States and France also have indicated they would be willing to see him released. Only the Russians have refused.

The Western allies have proposed cutting down the prison area that houses Hess to reduce the cost of keeping just one man in a prison built to hold 600. The Russians have agreed to this in principle. The West German government bears the cost of running Spandau, about $100,000 a year, as war reparations.

★ ★ ★

Since Spandau is under four-power control it would take unanimous agreement by the wartime allies to release Hess.

Seidl said that Hess asked a number of questions about the House of Lords debate.

NO FAMILY VISITS

There was no indication, Seidl said, that Hess had changed his decision against having his family visit him while he is still in prison.

Hess has not seen his wife or son since he took off in a Messerschmidt fighter plane and parachuted into Britain in May 1941, claiming he wanted to tell the British to make peace with Nazi Germany.

Hess, taken into custody by Britain, was later sentenced at Nuernberg for plotting against the peace and for planning, inciting and carrying out aggressive war.

At midnight Sept. 30 of last year, Albert Speer, former German war productions minister, and Baldur von Schirach, ex-Hitler Youth leader, were freed from Spandau, leaving Hess the last of seven Nazis in the red brick prison.

Parents Seek to Have Teen Committed

The parents of a 14-year-old Pontiac boy held in the fatal shooting of a friend filed a petition yesterday with the Mental Health Department to have the teen-ager committed to an institution.

Earlier in the day, Oakland County Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard postponed making any ruling in the case against David Johnson until June 2 so his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Johnson, 51 Michigan, could initiate the action.

The boy has been in the custody of juvenile authorities since the fatal shooting of Robert Barker, 14, of 93 N. Shirley, on Feb. 15.

According to Johnson's attorney, Herbert Magnusson, the independent findings of two psychiatrists and a psychologist have revealed that the boy is mentally ill and in need of treatment.

★ ★ ★

The results of the examinations have been received by Judge Barnard.

Before the boy could be committed, a hearing before another probate judge would have to be held. Two other doctors would have to present their findings.

Huge Waves Peril Atlantic Shipping

BOSTON (AP) — Huge waves churned by 45-mile-an-hour winds imperiled shipping throughout the Atlantic seaboard Friday, sinking two fishing boats, one with the loss of a six-man crew.

★ ★ ★

"It was the worst sea I've seen in 23 years," said Capt. Floyd Hansen of the fishing trawler the Mockingbird. Her five crewmen were rescued shortly after the trawler sank 100 miles east of Cape May, N.J., at daybreak.

The 94-foot lobster boat Deep Water, out of New Bedford, Mass., vanished about 100 miles south of Martha's Vineyard, Mass., as the Coast Guard worked desperately to get assistance to her.

The possibility of finding any of the crew alive was "not very good," a Coast Guard spokesman said, because of the freezing cold water and waves running 25 to 30 feet. The vessel's skipper, George Edwards, had reported that her only dory was smashed.

A third fishing vessel, the 102-foot trawler Plymouth, was feared lost early today, but later was found by the Coast Guard cutter Acushnet. A 24-hour search began when the trawler reported taking on water.

★ ★ ★

The trawler's communications had been knocked out, but with the help of radar the Acushnet located the Plymouth about 75 miles east-southeast of Nantucket Island in the Georges Bank fishing area. The cutter said the disabled trawler did not appear to be in immediate danger.

Crewmen of the Mockingbird, a 50-foot trawler out of Hampton, Va., were hauled from the water by the Coast Guard cutter Sassafras. The men were reported in good condition.

If the trawler had sunk a "few minutes earlier when it was dark, I'm afraid we would have lost them," said Lt. Cmdr. William Parish of the Sassafras.

★ ★ ★

Coast Guard planes struggled vainly against high winds and heavy snow to find some trace of the Deep Water. She had radioed she was taking water and was "in immediate danger." The message said her wheelhouse was smashed and her engines were out of order.

Trees Removed

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department has started to remove 1,696 trees located too near the highway on M46, M13, M15, M24, M53, and M25 in Bay, Genesee, Huron, Lapeer, Saginaw, Sanilac, Shiawassee and Tuscola counties. The trees are being removed as potential hazards to motorists.

Japan City Picks a Red as Mayor

SHIOJIRI CITY, Japan (UPI) —Shiojiri City voters yesterday elected the first Communist mayor in Japanese history.

★ ★ ★

Masao Takasuna, a city assemblyman running on the Communist ticket, defeated incumbent Mayor Takio Komatsu by a 2,228-vote margin.

★ ★ ★

Angry Tigress Scares Seamen

AALBORG, Denmark (UPI)—An angry tigress broke loose aboard a Danish freighter today and terrorized crewman for several hours.

★ ★ ★

The animal eventually was locked in an empty cabin aboard the 1,875-ton ship Borreby by armed Danish coast guardsmen zoo officials who were rushed to the ship in answer to a distress call.

The tigress was continuing to her destination, Leith in Scotland, with a rifleman stationed at the cabin door to prevent a second escape.

★ ★ ★

House Extends Bill Deadline

Tax Issue Gives Way to Lesser Matters

LANSING (AP) — The House took a break from taxation problems Friday as members passed 14 lesser matters on what was to have been its deadline for action on most of its own bills.

Democratic and Republican House members said it still wasn't enough time, but they voted for the new May 6 deadline after Speaker Robert Waldron called it meaningless and certain to be extended again.

"I urge you to adopt this," the Grosse Pointe Republican told members. "It's a temporary measure. We'll offer any other amendment next week which is more realistic."

NO-VOTE URGED

House Democratic leader William Ryan, however, urged a no vote on the substitute Senate resolution. The House had asked for a two-week deadline extension.

"The House is in an excellent bargaining position," Ryan said. "There's no reason why we can't negotiate an agreement that will be mutually satisfactory. The Senate should not be dictating to the House on how we should arrange our business."

Exempted from the May 6 deadline are bills involving taxation, appropriations and lower court reorganization.

Meanwhile, faced with a partisan impasse after day-and-night tax debates Wednesday and Thursday, the two parties' taxation negotiators met briefly Friday and agreed to meet again Monday.

Passed and sent to the Senate Friday were bills to permit studded tires from Oct. 15 to April 15, increase circuit court fees for certain civil actions and ban from homes and private cars fire extinguishers containing certain toxic substances such as carbon tetrachloride.

2 MIGs Shot Down by American Pilots

SAIGON (AP) — Striking again at targets near Hanoi, American warplanes fought six duels with defending MIGs over North Vietnam Friday and U.S. Air Force pilots claimed two kills.

The F105 Thunderchiefs ran into heavy missile and MIG defenses as they attacked railroad car repair shops 2¼ miles eastnortheast of the center of Hanoi and a highway 12 miles west of the Red capital.

The U.S. command said two MIG17s were down but made no mention of any American losses.

Radio Hanoi claimed that four U.S. planes were shot down.

The increased pace of the air activity was marked by five raids in the Hanoi area within a week.

SCATTERED CONTACT

In South Vietnam, 18 ground operations were under way, but there was only scattered contact with the enemy, U.S. spokesmen said.

The operations included a new one called Beaver Cage along the coast about 25 miles south of Da Nang. It began Friday with a landing by U.S. Marines from water craft and helicopters to begin a search and destroy action. Results so far listed two enemy killed and no American casualties, spokesmen said.

Vietnamese government headquarters said an Army outpost at CON Thien, just below the demilitarized zone, was hit by 20 rounds of mortar fire Friday night, but government casualties were "very light."

Assailant Takes $70, Car From Man

A Pontiac man said he lost $70 and his automobile early today to an unknown assailant who reportedly attacked him in front of 383 California.

Uriah L. Freeman, 47, of 207 Harrison told Pontiac police he stepped from his car about 3 a.m. when he was suddenly struck in the head and knocked unconscious.

Police said they found Freeman lying on the ground, his right eye cut, left eye swollen shut and nose bleeding.

Freeman said he was missing the money from his wallet, in addition to his car, described as a late-model two-door.

Program Is Slated on Two Ailments

An information program on arthritis and rheumatism will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Lakeside Community Center, 535 Branch.

BIRD SANCTUARY

A bird sanctuary is a suitable area of ground set aside for the birds to congregate in for shelter, food and protection, where their natural enemies are destroyed, and where neither rich nor poor dare molest them, "nor thieves break through and steal."

J. L. VOORHEES

Recalls Horseback Visit With Gal Who Rose to Top

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Dolores Gray and I have known each other for better or for worse since a distant Sabbath afternoon in about 1944 when she was Mary Martin's baby protege and we decided to conduct an interview on horseback, the horse notwithstanding, and me notwithfalling off the horse.

WILSON

A score of years later we are sitting in Sardi's and Dolores, in white floor-length mink, floor-length earrings, and floor-length diamond wedding ring, says to me, "He talked me into it."

★ ★ ★

Dolores nods her jewelry in the general direction of her husband, Andrew Chevolin, a boomingly genial party who is so adulatory about her performance in "Sherry!" or almost anything else, that she occasionally thrusts out her ruby-and-emerald cigaret holder to shush him.

"I told Lee Guber," — the producer — "No, I'm not going to do it," says Dolores, drinking some scotch and lemon on the rocks.

"But my husband, Big Lord Fauntleroy, Big Daddy, said, 'We're two business men. Let's talk it over as business men.'

"Well," she says to her husband, "I'm glad you did. I've loved the part and I've got marvelous reviews."

★ ★ ★

"But how could you do anything else?" hubby inquires, valiantly. "You are . . ."

"Hush, darling!" scolds Dolores.

"She's the greatest, sweetest thing I ever met!" exclaims Andy.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

Cindy Adams is off to Yugoslavia to live it up on the blocked currency earnings there from her Sukarno bio. She says, "I'll have enough dinars to live comfortably for, oh, a day and a half" . . . Peter Fonda wants to change the title of his film "The Trip" to "A Movie." (It'll remain "A Trip.")

Edie Adams said at Gallagher's that Cartier's will market the combination cigarholder-ring for women she's invented . . . Buddy Rich'll sing and dance as well as pound the drums on the Gleason summer TV replacement show . . . Herb Alpert and his Tijuana Brass are guaranteed a fat 280G minimum for a 12-show tour of Australia.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "Can't you imagine the 1968 campaign," asks John Plomp of Detroit, "—with an old Ronald Reagan movie being interrupted for a Romney commercial?"

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Florence Henderson says in her cafe act that the government's offering aid to underprivileged areas, "like Audrey Hepburn."

EARL'S PEARLS: There's one midwest city so dry you have to join a private key club to watch the Dean Martin TV show.

Buddy Hackett told El Morocco's maitre d', Angelo, "I'd like my usual table — the one I had last time I was here, in 1946." That's earl, brother.

Choir Festival Benefits Boys

The Women's Auxiliary of Wolverine State Baptist Missions will sponsor the Festival of Choirs at 2:45 p.m. tomorrow in Ford Auditorium, Detroit.

The charge of $3 per person will benefit the Todd-Phillips Boys' Home in Detroit. The public is invited.

Army Sets Hearing on Trenton Channel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army Engineers will hold a public hearing in Trenton, Mich., May 25 on proposed extension of the Trenton Channel, Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., said Friday.

Col. Edward C. Bruce has arranged to hold the hearing at Trenton High School.

Under the plan, the channel, now 250 feet wide and 21 feet deep, would be widened and deepened to 300 feet by 28 feet. Other work also would be involved. Dingell said the proposed improvement is estimated to cost about $30 million.

Greeks Begin Easter Rituals

Constantine to Visit Armed Forces Camps

ATHENS (AP) — Greece began today a weekend of Orthodox Easter celebrations during which King Constantine is to make his first public appearance and tour of military camps since the armed forces took over the nation eight days ago.

The king and members of the new government are to mark the beginning of Easter with a religious service in a square before this capital's main cathedral. At midnight, the king traditionally proclaims, "Christ is risen."

* * *

Constantine visits military camps Sunday to crack red eggs with the soldiers, a custom that in the past has given the king a chance to fraternize with the armed forces.

Whether the same kind of public association with the troops would occur Sunday remains to be seen. His statement of qualified acceptance of the military regime Wednesday included a call for a quick return to parliamentary government.

Since the coup, Constantine has been in seclusion at Tatoi, his country estate 16 miles from Athens. With him is his Danish-born wife, Queen Anne-Marie, who is expected to give birth to their second child late in May.

If it is a boy, the child will be heir to the throne, taking precedence over 22-month-old Princess Alexia.

* * *

The government said nonstrategic military installations would be opened to thousands of visitors Sunday for the traditional broiled lamb on a spit.

No curfew was in force and Greeks could leave the country with a special permit. There was no censorship on outgoing cables and telephone calls, although foreign publications were barred. Local newspapers and magazines were heavily censored.

Leaving the Pontiac post will be Richard E. Cooper to Sandusky, Charles M. Moyes to St. Ignace, Kenneth L. Newton to White Pigeon and Gary O. Sheply to East Tawas.

Hearing on Code

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Education will hold a public hearing Wednesday at the Michigan School for the Blind in Lansing on proposed changes in the teacher certification code. The code, essentially unchanged since it was adopted in 1939, has been in the process of revision for several years. The proposed new code has the tentative approval of the board.

A Roman Catholic nun says she will work as a reporter this summer on the Milwaukee Sentinel, and she'll wear regular clothing rather than her religious habit.

"I hope to do a professional job," Sister Mary Sharon, 27, said yesterday, "but there are times when being known as a nun might prove a handicap."

Sister Sharon teaches journalism and English at Milwaukee's Divine Savior High School. She was hired by the Sentinel under the summer intern program for student journalists.

She plans to donate her $90-a-week salary to her religious order.

Actor March Ends Stay in Hospital

MARCH

The 69-year-old actor was discharged Thursday from Good Samaritan Hospital and returned to the Beverly Hills hotel where he had been staying. His home is in New Milford, Conn.

Actress, Studio Disagree Over Departure

JUDY GARLAND

Actress Judy Garland and 20th Century-Fox Studio are unable to agree over the circumstances of her abrupt departure from the movie "Valley of the Dolls."

A spokesman for the film company said yesterday, "She withdrew Thursday for personal reasons."

Miss Garland, 44, said, "I have not withdrawn. How dare they say I've withdrawn? I was up at six this morning to go to work. I've done my work," she said.

"It's a shocking thing. Why? That's what I want to know, why?" Miss Garland asked.

The studio said no replacement has been named.

Junior Editors Quiz on MYTHOLOGY

QUESTION: Why did the Greeks invent mythical gods and goddesses?

* * *

ANSWER: In the ancient days, people did not have the knowledge about the world and the solar system which we have today. Yet the men and women of past times were curious and liked to ask questions, just as you Junior Editor folks do.

In the picture, a Greek boy puts a difficult question to his father. No one knew the real answer then, which was, that it is the motion of the earth around the sun which makes the sun appear to move.

Not knowing this, the Greeks made up an imaginary explanation. The sun, they said, was really a god, whom they called Apollo; he moved because he was driving a chariot drawn by two beautiful white horses.

Many other gods and goddesses were invented in the same way—to give some explanation for things people didn't understand. Gradually, the Greeks invented a whole group of dieties who were supposed to live on Mount Olympus. Zeus was the king; there were Jupiter, Mars, Venus, many more.

Through stories and legends, the gods began to seem real; people thought they could get their help and so built temples and made sacrifices.

Science Sets Its 'Sights' for Loch Ness Monster

By ROBERT MUSEL

LONDON (UPI) — Science is giving the Loch Ness monster just one more chance to do the decent thing — that is, to surface in front of the cameras and other equipment scanning its lovely, lonely lake this summer.

If the monster does not make an appearance, members of the Loch Ness Phenomena Investigation Bureau will be ready to accept that the hundreds of "sightings" of the monster are some kind of recurrent hallucination and turn the matter over to the psychologists.

The official start of this year's scientific expedition to Loch Ness is set for May 13, and the watchers are carrying an extraordinary piece of equipment — a crossbow of the type forbidden by the Lateran Council of Europe in 1139 as "too murderous a weapon for Christians to employ."

But David James, a former member of Parliament who heads the bureau, says the weapon has not been chosen for its ability to drive an arrow or "bolt" through a suit of armor.

It is silent, hence it will not alarm the monster, and the tip of the arrow will be modified so as only to clip a piece of skin from the beast.

This will be studied in laboratories.

The crossbow may also be used to implant a tiny transmitting device under the skin of the monster to enable its movements to be tracked.

James does not believe this will worry Scottish members of the House of Commons who have demanded protection for the monster against the hunters.

James said this year's watch will run from mid-May 'til mid-September on a 24-hour-a-day basis.

Cameras and other equipment will be mounted on two static observation stations along the lake, and there will be three mobile cameras as well as a boat powered with silent, electrically driven motors.

HOPEFUL AUSPICES

The expedition starts under hopeful auspices. The Highlands and Islands development Board, a government-sponsored body, has given it a grant of 1000 pounds ($2800), and contributions have come from other quarters.

"I cannot honestly say that one can see the object in the film," James said, "but there appears to be a terrific wake, obviously from something moving through the water at speed."

* * *

One cope of the film is being sent to Royal Air Force photographic experts and another to the University of Chicago where one of the directors of the bureau, Prof. Roy P. Mackal, works.

Everyone hopes the expedition will succeed this time, including the writer of this dispatch who has been wondering what sort of animal he saw threshing through Loch Ness at high speed on July 11, 1960.

Deputy Faces Charge After Foiled Theft

MIAMI (UPI) — A deputy, allegedly the survivor of a Wells Fargo robbery thwarted by a stakeout of county police and FBI agents, was free today on $5,000 bond.

Deputy Sheriff Robert Walker was charged with the armed robbery of $186,381 from the armored truck at a drive-in theater yesterday. A companion, Ollie Fred Waldrip, 26, also of Hialeah, was shot to death.

Police said the pair ordered two truck guards and a film man at the drive-in into an office, then carefully robbed the truck.

After the two loaded their car, a deputy shouted to them from the bushes to halt and get out of the car with their hands showing. The car lurched forward down a dirt lane, and someone inside fired a shot.

The 25 staked-out officers fired a barrage of shots into the car and it slammed to a halt. Waldrip was dead at the wheel, and the other man ran into the nearby woods.

Police, aided by dogs, searched the area for four hours before daylight. Then a voice called out from a water-filled rock pit. It was Walker, officers said. He had tried to outsmart the dogs by standing nose-deep in the water.

Young Westland Sisters Strangled, Molested

WESTLAND (UPI) — Police are holding a 14-year-old runaway boy in the rape and strangle-slaying of two little sisters whose nude bodies were found Friday in a field 100 yards from their home.

DETROIT (UPI) — Police said a sex deviate strangled and molested two young sisters as they walked through a field toward their suburban Westland home yesterday.

A horror-stricken, 16-year-old boy discovered the bodies and thought at first that "They looked like dolls.

"That's what I thought they were at first," said Allan McAnally who found the bodies in a thicket while out walking his dog, Pudgie. "Then I saw the blood."

Police Chief Garrison Clayton said a man under the influence of alcohol was picked up near the scene Friday but was released today.

BEER CANS FOUND

Clayton said the attacker may have been drinking because a six-pack of beer cans was found behind bushes about 50 feet from a footpath across the field. Police said the assailant apparently lurked behind the bushes.

Clayton said the girls had been sexually assaulted. Both bodies were nude.

They were killed while walking home from Stottlemyer Elementary School where Kimberly was a first grader and Deborah was in the third grade. The school is only a block away from the slaying scene.

WALKING ACROSS FIELD

Clayton said the children had walked about a quarter of the way across the field when they were seized and strangled, apparently with one of their own stockings.

Westland police said they had received a complaint of a man trying to pick up children near the school.

Children had been warned by teachers yesterday to beware of strangers in the neighborhood.

Deborah and Kimberly also had been cautioned about cutting through the empty field by their mother, a neighbor said.

CONSTRUCTION WORK

"She always made them follow the street," said Mrs. Dorothy Taylor, the children's grandmother. "But for the last few days they couldn't. There's construction work on Marquette Street and so the children had to cross the field."

Mrs. Crowther went looking for the children when they failed to return from school.

People standing about the murder scene turned her away before she could see the bodies.

* * *

NO REPORT OF OUTCRY

Police said no one in the neighborhood reported hearing any outcry, although several persons were working on lawns and gardens at the time of the slayings.

Westland, a new city incorporated from part of Nankin Township was, turned into near-hysteria a year ago when reports of prowlers and child molesters set off a wave of terror.

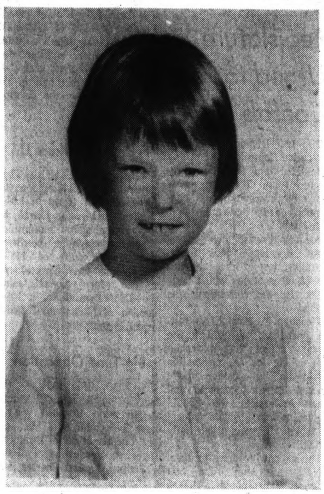

A group of women marched to the Wayne County Sheriff's Office, which had police jurisdiction, demanding more protection. The sheriff was flooded by requests for gun permits.

* * *

Bills on Implied Consent, Sunday Liquor Pass Senate

LANSING (AP)—Horse-trading Senate Republicans and Democrats swapped votes last night, passing implied consent and Sunday liquor bills, two of the most controversial issues of the session.

* * *

The senators spent about 30 minutes each on applied consent, backed by Gov. George Romney and passed by the House after several weeks of debate, and Sunday liquor sales, long sought by Detroit Democrats.

The bills were among some 60 pieces of legislation either passed or sent to deaths in committee as the Senate literally locked itself in to beat a midnight deadline for passage of bills in the house of origin.

The senators tacked 24 amendments on the implied consent bill. It requires that a motorist, as a condition of getting a driver's license, agree to take a chemical test of blood, breath or urine to determine presence of alcohol.

* * *

Refusal to take the test could be admitted in court as evidence and the arrested suspect would lose his license if he refused the test.

LIQUOR AMENDMENT

The liquor bill was amended to apply only to licensed establishments in which gross receipts derived from sale of food or other goods and services exceed 50 per cent of the total gross receipts.

County boards of supervisors would be allowed to vote on Sunday sales within 60 days after the bill took effect. If they failed to do so, voters could initiate petitions requesting them to vote on the issue.

If they approved, liquor could be sold by the glass on Sunday after 12 noon.

* * *

Republican and Democratic sources indicated a deal on the two bills was negotiated after Republicans found they were four GOP votes shy of the 20 necessary for passage of implied consent.

28-4 VOTE

In the final 28-4 vote on implied consent, 20 Republicans and eight Democrats voted "yes." Four Democrats cast "no" votes. Six others failed to vote.

Three Republicans joined 17 Democrats in passing the liquor bill 20-17. All opposing votes were cast by Republicans.

Sen. Anthony Stamm, R-Kalamazoo, reluctantly cast what appeared to be the deciding vote, then withdrew and changed it to "nay" when Sen. Stanley Rozycki, D-Detroit, supplied another "yes" vote.

* * *

The implied consent bill now must go back to the House for concurrence on Senate amendments.

SECTION DELETED

The Senate deleted from the House version a section that would have allowed tests on dead or unconscious persons.

It added a clause that would exempt hemophiliacs, heart patients and persons under treatment with anticoagulants from taking the blood test.

Edison Customers Get $7.23 Million Yearly Savings

Detroit Edison Co. customers will save $7.23 million yearly in rate decreases and other benefits, the State Public Service Commission announced yesterday. Savings will be effective May 31.

Peter Spivak, commission chairman, said the total comes from an estimated $3.73 million in rate reductions and savings of $3.5 million to customers on installation of new appliances.

Residential areas such as Pontiac will share savings of about $955,00 based on a $24 yearly reduction per electrically generated water heater.

Rates for residential customers using more than 500 kilowatt hours per month will be reduced by some $250,000. Anyone paying an all electric rate will now pay $1.35 per kilowatt hour rather than the current rate of $1.50.

* * *

Residential space heating customers will share a decrease of $86,000 a year.

Small commercial and industrial users will share a savings of $2,355,000 and customers such as those for commercial and metal melting will save $80,000.

The utility has also agreed to share in the cost of installation of electric dryers and water heaters from June, 1967, to October, 1968, to save users $3.5 million.

3 Road Mishaps Fatal to 5, Boost the County Toll to 27

Four Oakland County residents and a Genesee County man died in three separate automobile accidents last night and early today, two of the victims in a head-on collision on Rochester Road.

Dead are Max M. Koval, 44, of Davison; Tommy Hutchinson, 48, of 500 Elizabeth, Rochester; Dorothy Hull, of 327 Oak, Rochester; Kay J. Homer, 28, of Royal Oak; and Patricia D. Kibby, 26, of Oak Park.

Koval was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital early today after his car apparently went out of control on Ortonville Road, skidding through eight guard-rail posts and smashing into a stone wall.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said Koval was alone in his car at the time of the accident, which occurred about 2 a.m. near the intersection of South Street in Brandon Township.

Troy police said Hutchinson and the Hull woman were killed when their car collided head-on with an automobile driven by Albert J. Fczcesny, 45, of 321 W. Third, Rochester.

* * *

Three persons in a third car involved in the crash were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, where the driver, Antonia Vettraino, 25, of 547 E. Long Lake, is listed in satisfactory condition.

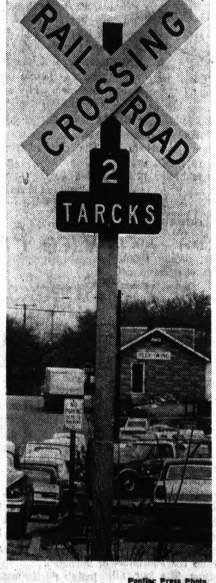

UNDER OBSERVATION

Passengers Don Buchanan, 26, of Royal Oak and Peter VanderPloeg, 25, of 3404 Kilmer, Troy, were under observation at the hospital.

The multiple collision occurred about 11 p.m. on Rochester between Square Lake and South Boulevard, according to Troy police.

The Kibby and Homer woman were in a car which police said collided head-on with another automobile on I-75 four miles north of Monroe.

Police said seven of the eight teenagers in the second car were thrown from their automobile after it skidded across a median strip and collided with the Kibby car. All suffered reportedly minor injuries.

SIGNALS CROSSED?—"Tarcks" may not be in the dictionary, but a Pontiac Press photographer discovered a pair in Pontiac. The "tarcks" proved to be only skin-deep; beneath them at South Sanford and Raeburn actually lie two sets of railroad tracks. A Grand Trunk Western Railroad spokesman said steps are being taken to rearrange the letters.

Rainy Weekend Forecast for Area

Showers are predicted through Monday.

TODAY — Variable cloudiness with a warming trend. Chance of showers this afternoon and tonight. High today 60 to 67. Low tonight 50 to 54.

SUNDAY — Warmer. Chance of showers.

Cancer Crusade Starts Monday

Volunteers will canvas some 40,000 homes in North Oakland County during the coming week asking residents to complete questionaires important for a study into possible cancer causes.

A total of 250,000 homes in selected areas of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Monroe counties will be canvassed.

* * *

Volunteers surveying for the Cancer Foundation, a United Fund Agency, will ask only for information and distribute educational literature.

BREAST CANCER

Interviews will include questions aimed at revealing the roles that heredity, diabetes and allergies play in breast cancer.

* * *

Breast cancer kills 26,000 women each year according to a foundation spokesman.

Volunteers wishing to work on this research project may still contact the foundation office, 64 W. Lawrence, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

TROUT CATCH—Roger Wilkison, 15, of 902 Melrose (left) and Duane Soldman, 17, of 992 Cameron journeyed to Upper Trout Lake this morning for the opening of the trout season and pulled these five fish from the water. Others starting the season weren't quite so lucky or skillful.

County Committee at Work

Disadvantaged Student Aided

An Oakland County committee is at work to encourage disadvantaged high school students to pursue additional education or training after graduation.

At present the organization is preparing to recruit between 12 and 18 Negroes to attend Oakland University in Rochester in the fall.

A five-member steering committee, headed by Pontiac attorney Julian A. Cook Jr., is working with high schools in Pontiac, Ferndale and Oak Park school districts in the initial recruiting program.

OU's Chancellor D. B. Varner called for the formation of the committee, which yet has not been named. Adoption of the name of Oakland County Higher Education Opportunities Committee is being considered.

ENCOURAGEMENT

"Once under way, the program will seek to encourage disadvantaged students of all races to consider education or training beyond high school, not necessarily a four-year college program," Cook explained.

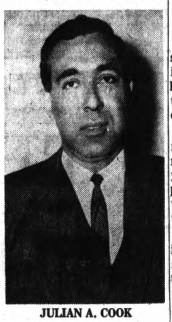

In the committee's initial goal to get more Negroes at OU, youths with relatively low scholastic averages and test scores will be sought if high school administrators feel they might succeed.

Once the Negroes enter Oakland, the university will help them progress through year-round tutorial programs.

Other university tutorial programs will be also available, such a program for high school students called Upward Bound and the OU Writing Center.

JULIAN A. COOK

Oakland University will eventually hire an executive director to handle the program, Glen Brown, director of admissions and scholarships, said.

The executive director will spearhead the task of improving the college's liaison with high schools throughout the state to find such disadvantaged students.

He will work on the "grass roots" level in the Negro community through neighborhood youth groups, public affairs appearances and personal contact with students, according to Brown.

Effect of Westmoreland Visit Weighed

Addressing Congress, briefing governors and conferring personally with key legislators Friday, the U.S. commander in Vietnam won high praise from both opponents and supporters of President Johnson's policies for his direction of the military effort against the Communists.

But it was apparent Westmoreland had failed to turn the tide of crackling congressional criticism directed at Johnson's intensification of the war and at his action in bringing the general home to report at a crucial time in the battle for public opinion.

The returns from the outlying precincts would determine how the country might respond to the televised and broadcast appeal of the tall, handsomely graying general for continued strong popular support he called "vital to the success of our mission."

STANDING OVATION

Westmoreland won a standing ovation when he told Congress: "Backed at home by resolve, confidence, patience, determination and continued support, we will prevail in Vietnam over Communist aggression."

Such influential members as House Speaker John W. McCormack and Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee, thought this appeal would "increase the spirit of resolve" at home to see the war through to victory.

House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford applauded Westmoreland's call for unity at home. Such unity, he said, will "bolster the morale of our fighting men (and) convince the Communists that the Vietnam war must end."

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, who has opposed escalation of the war, told reporters he thinks that on the basis of Westmoreland's report more men and money will be poured into the war. He said he will not be surprised if more than a half-million U.S. troops are required, compared to the 470,000-man level now scheduled by year's end.

Among the war policy critics, Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., made clear he is not toning down his dissent. McGovern, whose critical speech touched off a Senate uproar over the propriety of Westmoreland's mission home, wrote a constituent:

"My view is that we should not surrender or pull out, but we should quit sending in more and more troops and bombing closer and closer to the Chinese frontier until we finally force the other side into the kind of total commitment that would require an endless multitude of American soldiers going into Asia for the rest of our lives."

Added Run by GTW Near

A new evening commuter train between Detroit and Pontiac will begin service Monday, Grand Trunk Western announced today.

John Demcoe, GTW general manager, said the train was added because of many requests for commuter service after 6 p.m. The train will leave Brush Station in Detroit at 6:20 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Nine stops will be made between Detroit and Pontiac. These include Ferndale, Royal Oak, Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills.

Defect Found in Firebirds

★ ★ ★

A Pontiac Motor spokesman said the defect could cause contact between the heater blower wire and the exhaust manifold, resulting in an electrical short under the dash.

★ ★ ★

Action Is Due on Land-Fill in Waterford

Monday will be D-Day for supporters and opponents of the proposed Maceday Lake Road sanitary land-fill in Waterford Township.

The Township Board is expected to take action on a request for a permit to operate the land-fill at its 7:30 p.m. meeting.

The issue has been at a standstill since a Jan. 30 public hearing. But at its April 17 meeting, the board voted to place the item on Monday's agenda.

In other business Monday, the board will conduct a public hearing on a proposed $167,352 special assessment district sanitary sewer project for the Donelson Park-Elizabeth Lake Road area.

FINAL PORTION

Encompassing the final portion of the township included in a revised 1958 agreement with Pontiac whereby the city processes some of the community's sewage, the proposed sewer project would serve parts of Marion, Elizabeth Lake Road, Voorheis, Chadwick and Colrain.

★ ★ ★

Incumbent Files in Waterford

2nd Candidate to Enter School Race

Incumbent Michael G. Patterson yesterday became the second candidate to file nominating petitions for the June 12 board of education election in the Waterford Township School District.

PATTERSON

Patterson, 29, of 6329 Grace K was appointed to the school board in January to fill a vacancy created when Norman L. Cheal resigned his position.

Patterson will run for the remaining three-year portion of Cheal's term.

Last year, he served as treasurer of the Michigan Jaycees. He also is a member of the Waterford Township Library Advisory Board.

ATTENDED UNIVERSITIES

Married and the father of two girls, Patterson is a graduate of Waterford Township High School. He also attended Ohio Wesleyan, Wayne State and Oakland universities.

★ ★ ★

School Board Treasurer Donald W. Porter, 49, of 3736 Mariner filed his nominating petitions for reelection to a four-year term last month.

★ ★ ★

Two of the three school board positions at stake are for four-year terms. The other post is for a three-year term.

Trainmaster Is Named for GTW in City

R. C. Lighthall, formerly assigned to Detroit, will become Pontiac terminal trainmaster for the Grand Trunk Western Railroad, it was announced yesterday.

Lighthall will succeed John D. Schilling, who will be transferred to Detroit as part of "general reorganization," according to a railroad spokesman. The changes are effective Monday.

★ ★ ★

Robert N. Eddy, presently general superintendent of transportation, becomes assistant manager for the Lakehead (Minnesota) area of Canadian National Railways.

Legislature Urged to Join Confab Drive

The 19th District Republican Executive Committee yesterday demanded that the State Legislature join the nationwide move for a constitutional convention on the one-man, one-vote issue.

A formal resolution urging state senators and representatives to join Michigan with the 32 other states which have called for the convention was passed.

Christian F. Powell, committee, chairman, said prior to the group's action that a resolution calling for the convention would be "a positive move against liberal tendencies and those extremists who would plunge us into absolute federal control of all facets of our daily living."

The nationwide drive to upset the Supreme Court's ruling that representation should be based not solely on geography is being spearheaded by Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill.

Surveyor Makes More Soil Tests

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Surveyor 3 conducted new tests of the lunar crust today to help determine if Apollo astronauts can land safely on the moon by 1970.

The spacecraft's "soil sampler" broadened and deepened a trench it had dug earlier, and then the little power shovel pressed into the moon's soil to see how much weight it can support.

Benefits-Delay Signing Today

Deadline July 1 on Farm Worker Policies

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney planned to sign today a bill containing a two-month delay in extension of workmen's compensation coverage to migrant workers and other farm employes.

The measure, passed by the Legislature Friday and given immediate effect, gives farmers until July 1 to take out insurance policies containing hospital and medical coverage on most of their workers.

House Democrats, whose votes were needed for the two-thirds approval of immediate effect, were victorious following two days of negotiations in defeating attempts to extend the deadline more than two months.

The bill would have been useless if it weren't passed with immediate effect and signed into law before Monday — the previous effective date of the migrant-compensation law.

HAD TO CAPITULATE

With the deadline at hand and Democrats' votes required, GOP legislators who wanted to push the effective date to Nov. 1 were helpless and had to capitulate.

The House deleted a complex schedule for implementing the program by degrees, which would not have brought farm workers under full workmen's compensation protection until 1971.

The effective date of the 1965 act originally was May 1, 1966. Last year majority Democrats agreed to a one-year extension.

The act provides for employer-paid medical and hospital coverage against on-the-job injuries for a farm worker employed by the same person 35 or more hours a week for five consecutive weeks.

News Briefs at a Glance

DETROIT (AP) — Tenative agreement has been reached on a contract covering 1,800 meat cutters and butchers at independent supermarkets and independent chains in the Detroit Area. The pact covers members of Local 539, Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, who are employed by the United Supermarket Association members. Details of the contract were withheld pending a ratification vote.

20 to Draw Blank

DETROIT (AP) — When 1,550 graduate candidates go through the ceremonies today at the University of Detroit, at least 20 of them will get blank pieces of paper instead of diplomas. Don't think they didn't do well. The 20 graduate summa cum laude — with highest praise — but their diplomas had to be sent back to have the inscription put on them.

Federal Workers Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's civilian work force climbed 18,000 to 2.88-million employes in March, a joint congressional committee reported today. In the first three months of the year, 140,166 civilians have been added to the federal payroll, said the Joint Committee in Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures.

Big-Time Operation

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — On today's tonsillectomy schedule at Riverside Hospital were these five children of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Stiger of Bradner: Roger, 3; Jacqueline, 4; Paul 5; Tammi, 6; and Chester Jr., 8. Thursday surgeons at Flower Hospital performed tonsillectomies on five children of Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Clark Sr. of Lambertville, Mich.

Mrs. Michigan Picked

Mayor to Clean Up

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mayor A. J. Cervantes has promised to lead a contingent of 22nd Ward residents tomorrow in a sweeping assault on alley litter. When a delegation of ward residents headed by State Rep. John Conley visited the mayor's office to complain about the condition of alleys, Cervantes handed each a broom. The delegations shouldered brooms and departed.

Roche Is Honored

DETROIT (AP) — James M. Roche, president of General Motors Corp., has been elected president of the Detroit Press Club Foundation. He succeeds Arjay Miller, president of Ford Motor Co. The foundation was organized in 1965 "to promote the profession of journalism in Michigan and recognize and reward excellence in the profession."

Ex-Dem Leader Quits

DETROIT (AP) — John J. (Joe) Collins, former Democratic state chairman and president of Wayne National Life since 1963, has submitted his resignation as president and a member of the board of directors. Collins, who also is president of Pacific American Life, Phoenix, Ariz., said he wanted to devote full time to his duties with that company.

Four Don't Want Pay

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Four Idaho state senators have gone to court to stop the state from paying salaries to them and other lawmakers. Their suit, filed yesterday in Boise District Court, contends a $3.50-per-day salary to legislators is unconstitutional while the legislature is not in session. The four, all Republicans, are Sam Kaufman, Fred Bagley and William C. Roden of Boise, and Phil E. Batt of Wilder. The Idaho Legislature approved the supplemental $3.50 per day out-of-session pay during the 1967 session. Lawmakers receive $35 per day while in session.

Fire Routs 9 at Area Home

Fire at 3:43 a.m. today routed nine persons from the 25-room house of William Nagengast, 4885 Franklin, Bloomfield Township, and caused an estimated $20,000 damage to the living room area.

A daughter, Elizabeth, 17, injured her ankle while fleeing from the house. Another daughter, Christine, 16, and her houseguest, Sue Connor, 16, both were treated at Pontiac General Hospital for smoke inhalation and released.

The fire started in a living room chair, according to Bloomfield Township firemen, but the cause of the blaze has not been determined.

Firemen said the blaze was under control five minutes after they arrived.

Firemen said the blaze was under control five minutes after they arrived.

Most of the $20,000 estimated damage was caused by smoke, according to firemen, who said there was little structural damage.

Retrial Asked for Coppolino

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — A new trial was asked for Dr. Carl Coppolino just hours after his conviction on charges of slaying his first wife, a defense attorney said today.

Assistant defense counsel James McEwen said a hearing on the new trial motion will be held at 5 p.m. Thursday before Circuit Judge Lynn Silvertooth who sentenced Coppolino yesterday to life imprisonment.

McEwen said the defense will seek to have Coppolino released on bond during appeal of the case.

Burglars Hit City Markets

Burglars struck two Pontiac markets in break-ins reported to city police yesterday and early today.

★ ★ ★

Patrolmen Patrick J. Duggan and Dennis Mutrynowski discovered a side door kicked in at Bob's Market, 527 Colorado, about 12:45 a.m.

Missing from the store, police were told, were 112 six-packs of beer, meat and other items valued at $185.

A crowbar was apparently used to pry open a hasp and lock on the front door of the Luther Grocery, 517 Luther, according to police.

New World Man Aged

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Harvard research scientists say studies of volcanic ash in Mexico indicates man settled in the New World about 40,000 years ago. It has been generally believed that man came to the American continent by way of Alaska about 15,000 years ago.

Vice President of India Speaks to U. of M. Grads

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The man up for election as India's next president urged University of Michigan graduates today to "create ideals that have the nature of moral commands."

Indian Vice President Zakir Husain, in a prepared speech, said such ideals would "revitalize the individual and make democracy representative of the true freedom of the spirit."

★ ★ ★

India's Parliament is expected to follow the urging of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and elect Husain president of India next month.

HONORARY DEGREE

He deplored what he called the amoral tendencies in modern culture, particularly those which frustrate man's sense of citizenship and individuality.

Husain said the rise of the nation-state has brought with it serious doubts about whether it can solve "the crucial issue of the relationship of power to moral ends. There are states in which there is no clear recognition of the fact that, in a game of power and pursuit of material prosperity in which they are engaged, moral ends have any significant place."

Political excesses and injustices can be prevented only by "the citizen with a sensitive and dauntless conscience who can, if necessary, defy the state in the interest of the state and assert the primacy of moral values," Husain said.

John Fernald to Direct Closing Play

George Guidall as Vershinin and Lorna Lewis as Masha find parting to be painful in the John Fernald Company production of "The Three Sisters." The Chekhov play will end the current season at the Meadow Brook Theatre. The production, beginning Wednesday, will run through May 28 at Oakland University.

John Fernald is back, working at the job he loves best — directing. For the past two months, Fernald has been resting and making plans for the Academy of Dramatic Art which will begin classes in the Fall at Oakland University, while Robin Ray directed the Meadow Brook troupe.

Now Fernald is at the helm again, putting the Company through rehearsals for the final production this season, "The Three Sisters" by Anton Chekhov.

★ ★ ★

Fernald, who came to Oakland University and the Meadow Brook Theatre from the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London, is perhaps best known in England for his productions of Chekhov.

London drama critics still cite his presentation of "The Cherry Orchard" in 1948 as the finest production of that play in the English-speaking world.

MODERN DRAMA

Of Chekhov, Fernald says, "If it had not been for Chekhov, modern drama would never have developed the way it has. He was a true innovator, who wrote in a way never conceived before and never equalled since. He replaced nineteenth century dramatic convention with true emotion on a naturalistic scale.

"Chekhov freed the actor from the bondage of words, for he was the first playwright to realize that man can express himself as much by what he cannot find words to say as by the most fluent statements imaginable. Chekhov's poetry is that of silences, and halting pauses."

★ ★ ★

"The Three Sisters" represents the mature Chekhov. It is the third of his four acknowledged masterpieces.

The three sisters, Olga, Masha, and Irina, live in a provincial Russian town from which they long to escape, but they lack the strength to control their own destinies and they remain the victims of circumstances.

Their brother marries a greedy wife who ruins their domestic peace. An artillery regiment comes to town, and then departs leaving two of them desolate.

TRAGEDY

Suddenly, in the middle of a sunny morning, a pistol is fired and tragedy is upon them. They accept it all because life is like that, and life is what Chekhov so brilliantly delineates.

Virtually the entire Meadow Brook Company is cast in "Three Sisters." The central characters of Olga, Masha, and Irina are played by Jill Tanner, Lorna Lewis and Barbar Ca-Lorna Lewis and Barbara Ca-

Their brother Andrey is played by John Cameron and his wife Natasha by Paulene Reynolds.

Members of the Artillery Regiment are the Battery Commander, Vershinin played by George Guidall; Tusenbach played by Terence Scammell; Chebutykin the Doctor played by Eric Berry; Solyony played by Joshua Bryant and Feydotik and Rode, a pair of second lieutenants, played by Victor Holchak and Booker T. Bradshaw Jr.

The production will open Wednesday and run for four weeks through May 28.

At the end of the run for "The Three Sisters," the Fernald Company will close its first season. The theatre will remain dark until the fall.

How to attractively wrap an unusual shape of this sort is no challenge to these veterans. From left are Mrs. Joseph Pollina of Oakshire Avenue and Mrs. Frank Soda of Elizabeth Lake Road, getting things in order for the Italian-American Club Auxiliary luncheon and card party Wednesday. The 12:30 p.m. event will take place in the group's clubhouse on North Tilden Street.

Time Is Now for a Frank Explanation

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: On at least four occasions a member of my family has either accepted an invitation or told us she would be visiting us and never arrived, or explained.

I have no desire to spend another day waiting for her to arrive. How can I politely explain this to her? — Alice D.

Dear Mrs. D.: The time for a polite wishy-washy approach has passed. The next time she calls, say this: "Jane, I would love to see you Wednesday if you're sure you're coming. Last time I waited all afternoon for you.

Do come, but if you find it's impossible at the last minute, please call and let me know."

ABROAD

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is to be married in July, in Sweden. My future daughter-in-law tells me that it is not the custom in Sweden to send out both invitations and announcements. Invitations are sent to everyone whether it is possible for them to come to the wedding or not.

I suggested that our friends here in the states should receive announcements only, except for a few who might possibly be able to make the trip. What is your opinion of this? They will not realize that it is a Swedish custom to send invitations to everyone — Mrs. Matthews.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Matthews: I agree with you that it would seem foolish to send invitations to all of your friends and acquaintances.

In your rather unusual situation you would be forgiven for sending announcements yourself, reading:

Mr. and Mrs. John Matthews
Miss Hulda Svenson
to their son
etc.

Include only your close friends in the list you send to the bride's parents.

WOMEN'S SECTION

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Designers seem determined that men shall wear miniskirts. O. K. But that brings up lots of problems. While I come from a long line of kilt-wearers, I haven't had much practice with that sort of thing.

ABBY

If men mini-skirt-wearers abide by the Scottish underwear customs described by my kilt-wearing great-grandfather, we should have problems indeed. Namely, how can we remember to hold our knees together?

What do we do on windy days? When women stare should we call a policeman? What if they whistle? Is it appropriate for a man to throw a modesty robe across his knees while riding on a bus? And lastly, Abby, should we shave our legs?

ROBERT McMORRIS, Omaha

DEAR MAC: If menfolk take to wearing mini-skirts, they'll have to look out for themselves — same as womenfolk do. I don't recommend shaving the legs, however. That's practically the only way left to tell some of the boys from the girls.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "shocked" with the new carpet. He must not have been a science major or he would know that touching wood just prior to the kiss would prevent the shock of static electricity.

E. K. M.: Dexter, N. M.

DEAR E. K. M.: Static electricity or no static electricity, it's always a good idea to touch wood before kissing.

DEAR ABBY: I have been courting a 28-year-old divorcee who has five boys between the ages of two and eight. I am 48 and enjoy excellent health. This woman is barely getting by between her job and the support money she gets from her ex-husband.

I want to marry her, but I'm not having much luck. She says she likes my company, but for a husband she'd prefer a younger man. I tried to tell her that with five boys to raise she will have a tough time getting a younger man.

I like children, Miss Abby, and I'm an honest, sober, reliable man. Can you think of some other arguments in my favor I could use to win her?

DEAR "48": For a marriage to succeed there must be mutual willingness and enthusiasm. If you were to "win" the woman because you had more "pro" arguments than she had "con," yours would be a very sorry union indeed.

If she thinks she can do better — let her try. But don't change your phone number without letting her know. She may need it.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would tell those psychiatrists who advise their rich lady patients to "keep busy" to find some volunteer work to relieve their boredom. I am a saleslady who works on commission, and I don't need some rich society dame competing with me for sales. It may be good therapy for her, but it's a pain-in-the-pocketbook to me!

NEEDS TO WORK

DEAR ABBY: Please advise RECEPTION RUINED that among some of those "useless nuts" who fool around with ham radio are Gen. Curtis LeMay, Herbert Hoover Jr., Arthur Godfrey, and Barry Goldwater.

Very truly yours,
ANOTHER USELESS NUT

Year's Proceeds Will Benefit Detroit Symphony Orchestra

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Mrs. H. L. Selmeier, president of the Women's Association for Detroit Symphony Orchestra, presented a check for $65,000 to Howard Harrington, General Manager of the Orchestra.

This was the fruit of the labor throughout the year by 933 members, as reported at the annual luncheon-meeting Friday at Detroit Boat Club.

New officers and directors were also elected for the coming year. They are: Mrs. Arnold W. Lungershausen, president; Mrs. Charles T. Grissom and Mrs. Donald Else, vice presidents; Mrs. Herbert Sott assistant recording secretary.

Directors are Mesdames: Cecil Akroyd and Phillip Flanders.

Among those attending the meeting were: Mesdames: Warren Cooksey, Carl Snyder, John Denman, Judge Beardon, John Hauser.

On May 2, the Women's Auxiliary to the Grace Hospital will honor their new members at a tea in the home of Mrs. Manton Cummins on Sebago Lane.

New officers for the coming year will be elected.

★ ★ ★

Typical is the gift cart they move from room to room as a service to the patients. Proceeds from these sales go to purchase equipment for the Grace hospitals.

The most recent contribution was two coronary units to be used in the intensive care units.

There will be a special 35th Anniversary Celebration at the annual meeting of the Junior Group Goodwill Industries when they meet on Monday, in the Detroit Athletic Club.

It was in the depression year of 1932 that Mrs. Edwin O. Bodkin, whose mother belonged to the Women's Association, founded the Junior Group with 25 other young women. From a small beginning of $200 which was made the first year the Junior Group this past year gave Goodwill Industries over $36,000.

Sunny Side of Street Will Be Guest's Topic

Edgar A. "Bud" Guest, Jr. is to be the featured speaker at the Annual Extension Day to be held at the Central Methodist Church of Pontiac on Highland Road on Wednesday, May 3. Guest, a well known radio personality will title his remarks "On the Sunny Side of the Street."

★ ★ ★

Extension Day, an annual event to mark the end of the program year of the Oakland Country's nearly 100 extension study groups, will begin with dessert and coffee.

Mrs. Berle Dean, president of the Oakland County Extension Homemakers Council will welcome the group and honor members of study groups who have participated in activities for 25 years.

These include Mrs. Hattie Dayburn — South Lyon Seniors; Mrs. Charles Scherer — Big Beaver; Mrs. B. C. Brondige — Mt. Bethel; Mrs. John A. Jarrett and Mrs. George Jarrett of Lakeville.

BUD GUEST

Extension Study Groups, Highwood of Pontiac; Glenmoor Estates and South Squares of Avon; and Bev-R-Lees of Southfield, organized since this annual event last year, will be recognized

Ortonville Cloverettes comprised of Jamie French, Sandra French, Julie Sherman, Peg Wood, Debbie Willliams and Marsh Scott, members of 4-H who won honors in the Oakland County talent contest, will present several numbers during the program.

Chairman of the day is Mrs. L. Raymond Nelson.

Assisting her with the program are Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Wm. J. Tiberg Mrs. Herman Trost, Mrs. Arnold Wilcox; Mrs. Robert Chamberlain and the Bev-R-Lees extension study group, Mrs. Arthur Kelley, members of council and the Mid-Week Extension Study Group.

On display will be an exhibit of the workshops planned by the Extension Homemakers' Council for the coming year.

Luncheon reservations should be made by sending name and mailing address to the office of the Cooperative Extension Service, 155 North Saginaw Street, Pontiac and enclose 75 cents for each reservation.

HOBBY WALL — Why hide your hobbies? Put 'em on a wall, where they'll be both a source of satisfaction to you and a real conversation piece for guests. This "his and hers" hobby wall, made easy with prefinished perforated board in an attractive Tawny Walnut woodgrain, would be a striking feature in any den or family room, for instance. The "her" of this couple enjoys embroidery and hand sewing, so she displays a Danish modern crewel, fashioned in a tree of life with gayly colored hen and roosters, at lower center. A traditional tree of life, with stylized flowers, borders the grouping on the left, and pert needlepoint strawberries balance the display at upper right. Antique miniature sewing machine lends added charm. "His" hobby—collecting unusual pipes—provides third dimension as well as interest. Turkish water pipe at top is an outstanding feature, displayed on a shelf easily mounted with metal brackets. The other pipes, as well as the framed displays, are mounted with a variety of white Delrin plastic fixtures.

Construction Quality Tip

A good clue to the quality of construction that has gone into a home can often be found in the amount of ceramic tile used in it, notes the Tile Council of America.

* * *

Broad use of tile in bathrooms, kitchens, entryways and family rooms suggests a builder who has been primarily concerned with quality.

* * *

Over 35 million Americans move each year. About six million move out of state; another six million cross county lines.

Panel Discussion at Realtor Meeting

A panel discussion on "The Relationship Between Attorney, Client and Realtor" will be held at the Monday meeting of the Pontiac Board of Realtors.

Beginning at 5:30 p.m., the meeting will be held at the First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Oakland, 761 W. Huron.

Prior to the general membership meeting, Claude Wagner, Waterford Township assessor, will speak to the Realtor and Associates division on present assessments in Waterford Township.

House Cost Can Drop to Zero in 25 Years, as Value Holds

Buying a home is the biggest financial step the typical family ever takes, one that many people approach with needless trepidation.

Yet, did you know that, over a 25-year period, your house could cost you nothing? Compare that to car purchases which could dig into your bank account over the same period to the tune of $23,000 or more.

Persuasively weighing long-term outlays for shelter and wheels, two basic family needs, was Editor Richard W. O'Neill in a recent issue of the authoritative House & Home magazine. He put it this way:

"Assume the house buyer takes out a 25-year, $20,000 mortgage on a $25,000 house. At 7 per cent interest, he will pay $42,408 on the mortgage in 25 years, but income tax deduction of $22,408 in interest will give him an effective rebate, in the 30 per cent tax bracket, of $6,722

* * *

"So his house will actually cost him $35,686 in mortgage payments plus his $5,000 down payment—or a total of $40,686.

CONSERVATIVE ESTIMATE

"But using the most conservative estimates of increasing value, the house will be worth at least $40,000 after 25 years—and that figure does not include an annual 1.2 per cent inflationary factor in the value of money.

"In short, he will be able to get back every bit of money he has put into his house, it will have cost him nothing.

"Let's also assume that the home buyer buys eight cars and keeps each for three years—and that each car is worth approximately $4,000 and is financed at 12 per cent.

* * *

At the end of the 25-year period, he will have paid about $23,000 for his cars and will wind up with only one car valued at about $1,600," states O'Neill.

Maintenance and local property taxes are added costs to the home owner, of course, but these are easily offset by the quantity and quality of living attained by the home-owning family.

Although the interest charged for mortgage money is higher today than it has been for many years, the rate is still considerably less than those charged for autos, appliances and such luxury items as color TV sets, all of which also have a high rate of depreciation.

* *

Huge Waves Peril Atlantic Shipping

BOSTON (AP) — Huge waves churned by 45-mile-an-hour winds imperiled shipping throughout the Atlantic seaboard Friday, sinking two fishing boats, one with the loss of a six-man crew.

★ ★ ★

"It was the worst sea I've seen in 23 years," said Capt. Floyd Hansen of the fishing trawler the Mockingbird. Her five crewmen were rescued shortly after the trawler sank 100 miles east of Cape May, N.J., at daybreak.

The 94-foot lobster boat Deep Water, out of New Bedford, Mass., vanished about 100 miles south of Martha's Vineyard, Mass., as the Coast Guard worked desperately to get assistance to her.

The possibility of finding any of the crew alive was "not very good," a Coast Guard spokesman said, because of the freezing cold water and waves running 25 to 30 feet. The vessel's skipper, George Edwards, had reported that her only dory was smashed.

A third fishing vessel, the 102-foot trawler Plymouth, was feared lost early today, but later was found by the Coast Guard cutter Acushnet. A 24-hour search began when the trawler reported taking on water.

The trawler's communications had been knocked out, but with the help of radar the Acushnet located the Plymouth about 75 miles east-southeast of Nantucket Island in the Georges Bank fishing area. The cutter said the disabled trawler did not appear to be in immediate danger.

Crewmen of the Mockingbird, a 90-foot trawler out of Hampton, Va., were hauled from the water by the Coast Guard cutter Sassafras. The men were reported in good condition.

If the trawler had sunk a "few minutes earlier when it was dark, I'm afraid we would have lost them," said Lt. Cmdr. William Parish of the Sassafras.

★ ★ ★

Coast Guard planes struggled vainly against high winds and heavy snow to find some trace of the Deep Water. She had radioed she was taking water and was "in immediate danger." The message said her wheelhouse was smashed and her engines were out of order.

Trees Removed

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department has started to remove 1,696 trees located too near the highway on M46, M13, M15, M24, M53, and M25 in Bay, Genesee, Huron, Lapeer, Saginaw, Sanilac, Shiawassee and Tuscola counties. The trees are being removed as potential hazards to motorists.

Japan City Picks a Red as Mayor

SHIOJIRI CITY, Japan (UPI) —Shiojiri City voters yesterday elected the first Communist mayor in Japanese history.

★ ★ ★

Masao Takasuna, a city assemblyman running on the Communist ticket, defeated incumbent Mayor Takio Komatsu by a 2,228-vote margin.

★ ★ ★

Angry Tigress Scares Seamen

AALBORG, Denmark (UPI)— An angry tigress broke loose aboard a Danish freighter today and terrorized crewman for several hours.

★ ★ ★

The animal eventually was locked in an empty cabin aboard the 1,875-ton ship Borreby by armed Danish coast guardsmen zoo officials who were rushed to the ship in answer to a distress call.

The tigress was continuing to her destination, Leith in Scotland, with a rifleman stationed at the cabin door to prevent a second escape.

★ ★ ★

House Extends Bill Deadline

Tax Issue Gives Way to Lesser Matters

LANSING (AP) — The House took a break from taxation problems Friday as members passed 14 lesser matters on what was to have been its deadline for action on most of its own bills.

Democratic and Republican House members said it still wasn't enough time, but they voted for the new May 6 deadline after Speaker Robert Waldron called it meaningless and certain to be extended again.

"I urge you to adopt this," the Grosse Pointe Republican told members. "It's a temporary measure. We'll offer any other amendment next week which is more realistic."

NO-VOTE URGED

House Democratic leader William Ryan, however, urged a no vote on the substitute Senate resolution. The House had asked for a two-week deadline extension.

"The House is in an excellent bargaining position," Ryan said. "There's no reason why we can't negotiate an agreement that will be mutually satisfactory. The Senate should not be dictating to the House on how we should arrange our business."

Exempted from the May 6 deadline are bills involving taxation, appropriations and lower court reorganization.

Meanwhile, faced with a partisan impasse after day-and-night tax debates Wednesday and Thursday, the two parties' taxation negotiators met briefly Friday and agreed to meet again Monday.

Passed and sent to the Senate Friday were bills to permit studded tires from Oct. 15 to April 15, increase circuit court fees for certain civil actions and ban from homes and private cars fire extinguishers containing certain toxic substances such as carbon tetrachloride.

Youth Is Guilty in Road Death

A Pontiac youth yesterday pleaded guilty to negligent homicide in the traffic death of a city woman fatally injured in a collision at East Wide Track and East Pike.

Alvin Birdlett, 18, of 75 Willard is scheduled to be sentenced on the charge Monday morning.

Pontiac police said Birdlett drove a pickup truck through a red light Wednesday morning, striking broadside a car driven by Mrs. J. F. Martineau, 47, of 95 N. Astor.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Martineau was operated on twice at Pontiac General Hospital, where she was listed in critical condition until her death yesterday.

2 Sought in Theft of 2 Suits at Store

Mrs. Barbara Harmon, 34, clerk at the Flora Mae Shop, 700 W. Huron, said she discovered the clothing missing after the two suspects left the store yesterday afternoon.

The suits were valued at a total of $190. Investigators said they were apparently hidden beneath the clothing of the suspected thieves.

General to Visit Reserve Center

The commanding general of the 70th Training Division, Livonia, will visit the U. S. Army Reserve Center, 40 Walnut, tomorrow between 8-10 a.m.

Brig. Gen. Carl J. Dueser will talk to the 2nd Battalion, 333rd Regiment, participating in a Reserve Multiple Drill Day.

2 MIGs Shot Down by American Pilots

SAIGON (AP) — Striking again at targets near Hanoi, American warplanes fought six duels with defending MIGs over North Vietnam Friday and U.S. Air Force pilots claimed two kills.

The F105 Thunderchiefs ran into heavy missile and MIG defenses as they attacked railroad car repair shops 2¼ miles eastnortheast of the center of Hanoi and a highway 12 miles west of the Red capital.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. command said two MIG17s were down but made no mention of any American losses.

Radio Hanoi claimed that four U.S. planes were shot down.

The increased pace of the air activity was marked by five raids in the Hanoi area within a week.

SCATTERED CONTACT

In South Vietnam, 18 ground operations were under way, but there was only scattered contact with the enemy, U.S. spokesmen said.

The operations included a new one called Beaver Cage along the coast about 25 miles south of Da Nang. It began Friday with a landing by U.S. Marines from water craft and helicopters to begin a search and destroy action. Results so far listed two enemy killed and no American casualties, spokesmen said.

★ ★ ★

Vietnamese government headquarters said an Army outpost at CON Thien, just below the demilitarized zone, was hit by 20 rounds of mortar fire Friday night, but government casualties were "very light."

It was one of four base areas hit Thursday night in one of the heaviest Communist shellings of the war.

B52 STRIKES

One attack was made in Quang Ngai Province in the north, where threatening Communist movements and buildups are causing increasing concern.

Two others hit targets 30 to 50 miles north of Saigon, and the fourth was in Kontum Province in the central highlands.

One U.S. Army helicopter was brought down by ground fire north of Saigon. Four crewmen were injured and the aircraft was destroyed.

BIRD SANCTUARY

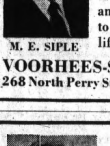

A bird sanctuary is a suitable area of ground set aside for the birds to congregate in for shelter, food and protection, where their natural enemies are destroyed, and where neither rich nor poor dare molest them, "nor thieves break through and steal."

M. E. SIPLE

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Charles E. Williams Jr. who passed away April 29, 1952.
15 years have passed since that sad day
When one we loved was called away,
God took him home, it was His will
But in our hearts he liveth still.
Father and Sister.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF our dear sister, Aquila Arruta Bonfilio, who passed away April 29, 1964.
Your presence is ever near us,
Your love remains with us yet;
You were the kind of a sister,
Sadly missed by sisters, brothers and families.
