Military Junta
Gaining Over
Bosch Forces

Ex-Leader's Followers
Still Hold Center of Dominican Capital

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Young army men and civilians trying to return Juan Bosch to the presidency battled today to hold the center of this capital.

Brig. Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin's air force and army units opposed to Bosch, appeared to have the upper hand, however, fighting resumed.

A military junta was expected to be sworn in later in the day. It will be dominated by Wessin, although he may not be a member.

The country was without a government. The presidential palace was empty and badly scarred by the three days of heavy fighting.

Rafael Molina Urena, installed by the pro-Bosch forces as provisional president after they kicked out the U.S.-backed civilian junta Sunday, took asylum in the Colombian Embassy.

The Wessin forces described the fighting as a mop-up, but the pro-Bosch forces held the downtown area and Coudad Nueva, a low-income housing development where many students and young people live.

The number of dead and wounded was not known, but it was believed several hundred persons may have died in the strafing, bombings, navy bombardment and fighting since Sunday.

The Pentagon said today a detachment of about 40 Marines went ashore in the Dominican Republic "for a short period of time to assist in the dock area while the evacuation of U.S. personnel was in progress."

It said this after Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., Marine Corps commandant, announced in Viet Nam that a Marine Corps battalion landing team had been sent ashore at Haïna in the Dominican Republic to help in the evacuation of 1,000 U.S. citizens.

A battalion landing team normally numbers about 1,500 men.

Awaits Liver Transplant

Raising Funds for Orion Girl

Residents and organizations in the area are rallying to the aid of a Lake Orion police officer faced with the necessity of raising $15,000 to pay for a crucial operation for his four-year-old daughter.

Kathy Leach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Leach of 12 Indians, Orion Township, is awaiting a liver transplant operation at the University of Minnesota Hospital. The transplant represents her only chance for life.

Kathy suffers from extra-hepatic biliary atresia, a disease that can be dealt with only by giving her a new liver.

The rare operation has never been successful, but doctors have given her no more than 12 months to live without it.

Spearheading the drive to help Leach meet the cost of the surgery is the Lake Orion Lions Club, which has set up a Kathy Leach Fund Committee.

Also working on the fundraising project are students at Lake Orion Senior High School.

William L. Bonning, chairman of the Lions committee, said that a little more than $1,000 has been contributed by individuals, groups and businesses to date.

He pointed out that the Leach's insurance has been exhausted on previous treatments for Kathy.

U-M Asks Fund Hike to Stay 'First-Class'

LANSING (AP)—University of Michigan spokesmen insist that to remain "a first-class operation," the schools must have $5.6 million more in operating funds than Gov. George Romney recommended for its 1965-66 year.

President Harlan Hatcher asked the Senate Appropriations Committee at a hearing yesterday to boost the state's outlay of operating funds to $55.7 million.

Romney proposed $50.1 million—an increase of $6 million over the $44.1 million appropriated for the current year. The 1965-66 request of the university would represent an increase of $11.6 million, up 25 per cent over 1964-65.

Vice President Roger Heyns called 1965-66 "a crucial year for this university. It is slipping. It has taken a great effort that it hasn't slipped more. But there is no more capacity inside the system to make up for state support.

The flood-swollen Mississippi River smashed through a levee south of Quincy, Ill., today inundating an industrial and residential area as well as farmland.

Belcher Given Life in Prison

Sentence Mandatory Under Michigan Law

Harry M. Belcher was sentenced to life in prison today for the 32-year-old Ferndale man was convicted by an Oakland County Circuit Court jury April 9 of setting the fire that killed his wife, Catherine, 35, and their six children Jan. 25, 1965.

The sentence was ordered by Judge Philip Pratt and was mandatory under state law. Belcher was charged with first degree murder only in the death of his wife.

In sentencing Belcher, Judge Pratt made no specific reference to psychological tests given to Belcher, but said that there had been "no evidence, presented to the court that would cause this court to consider any other disposition."

Prior to sentencing, Belcher's attorney, John McIntosh, told the judge that his client still maintains his innocence.

Belcher showed no emotion at all when sentenced.

The psychological tests were conducted on the request of Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson three days after Belcher was convicted.

Bronson said at the time that he was concerned over Belcher's flippant attitude toward the case.

"If the budget is not kept up for three or four years, the university will not retain its position among leading schools."

Heyns said allocation of only Romney's recommendations would lead to:

• Further lag behind other institutions in salary increases with consequent loss of personnel.

• Inability to hire 106 needed new teachers.

• Further slippage in the library program.

• No rehabilitation in older buildings.

• Inability to buy needed equipment.

Heyns ticked off a list of teaching personnel who he said were being offered jobs by other universities at salaries in some cases double those being paid by U-M.

"You must have in this state a first-class operation," said Hatcher, adding:

"You can't have four or five or six or ten institutions of this type. But having one, it is important that it stay well-supported."

Hatcher told the committee he is concerned by any tendency to equate costs among the 10 state colleges and universities strictly on a per-head basis.

River Smashes Dike; Illinois Area Flooded

By The Associated Press
The flood-swollen Mississippi River smashed through a levee south of Quincy, Ill., today inundating an industrial and residential area as well as farmland.

Flood officials said an estimated 60 families fled to higher ground as the water, pouring through a 100-foot long breach, flooded about 5,500 acres in the South Quincy Drainage District.

Army engineers on duty in the area said 15 industrial plants, a radio station, 26 summer cottages, a power substation and about 60 residences were flooded by the break. The Burlington Railroad right-of-way through the area also was affected.

Meanwhile, upstream, the rampaging river crested in the embattled quad-cities area where thousands of volunteers worked on to hold back the worst Mississippi flood of this century.

The Army engineer corps said emergency dikes thrown up around the quad-cities appeared to be holding against the pounding flood.

They said the river crested at 22.6 feet, seven feet above flood stage and one-tenth of a foot above the predicted crest of 22.5 feet. The higher crest was attributed to overnight rain in the area.

The peak of the flood arrived as water rolled through the streets of Rock Island, Moline and East Moline, Ill., and Davenport, Iowa—the quad cities.

Peace Talks

Johnson Views War and Fiscal Matters
at Press Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson says he is very hopeful a way can be found to spark Viet Nam peace talks. But he says the American desire for peace is coupled with a "refusal to retreat."

The air-jungle war in Southeast Asia dominated Johnson's 34-minute news conference late yesterday before 300 reporters gathered around television and radio microphones in the historic East Room of the White House.

On the home front, Johnson announced some good budget news. He said red-ink spending by the federal government in the bookkeeping year that ends June 30 now is estimated at $5.3 billion or less — a drop of $1 billion from the January prediction.

Johnson also replied to critics of the antipoverty program —

"I think it will be one of the great monuments to high government jobs."

Asked about criticism of his postponement of planned Washington visits by the leaders of Pakistan and India, Johnson said he had explained to them it would be better if they came after Congress acts on foreign aid, which both will be seeking.

NUCLEAR WEAPONS

Johnson, in response to another inquiry, declined to be drawn into a discussion of positions on nuclear weapons.

Foster Stands Mute in 1st Wife's Death

tion death of 14-year-old Connie Crossland in July of 1963.

"He was invited to talk about either of them (the two killings)," Schmier said, "and made the statement he wanted to talk to a lawyer first."

Schmier talked to Foster as he was returned from the Southern Michigan State Prison at Jackson yesterday morning by Pontiac Police.

The strangulation death of Mrs. Foster originally was ruled a suicide.

The Pontiac Police and the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, working with pathologist Richard Olsen, later discovered the woman was killed before she was found hanged in the basement of the couple's home.

Foster showed little emotion at the arraignment as he heard Judge Cecil McCallum set the preliminary examination for May 6.

WRINKLED SUIT

Wearing a wrinkled grey suit and a white shirt open at the collar, he clutched a carton of cigarettes throughout the proceeding.

At his side was Pontiac attorney J. Robert Sterling, the man who defended Foster when he was charged with the strangulation killing of Mrs. Maurice Crook on Dec. 12, 1964.

During that pretrial hearing Sterling questioned the validity of Foster's confession and succeeded in getting the first degree murder charge reduced to manslaughter.

Foster, 29, pleaded guilty to this charge and was sentenced to serve a 10-15 year term at the state prison.

STANDS BY

Sterling, however, has not yet been asked to defend Foster this time. He stood by at the arraignment on a request from the slayer.

The court indicated that an attorney would be appointed to defend Foster.

Sterling who said he had a great interest in the case said he would accept the job if he had the approval of his employers, the Sauer and Girard law firm of Pontiac.

Before the arraignment yesterday, Schmier said he thought the people had a strong case against Foster, stronger than the case which involved the death of Mrs. Crook.

UNDER BRIDGE

The body of Connie Crossland of Corona was found under a bridge in a water-filled ditch southeast of Lake Orion.

-She had been strangled and a rope was looped around her neck.

EDWARD R. MURROW Shown During World War II

Dies After 18-Month Battle With Cancer

PAWLING, N. Y. (AP) — Tributes from President Johnson and others poured in today for Edward R. Murrow, the chain-smoking newscaster who became internationally famous during World War II with his blizzards from London that began: "This is London."

Murrow, who turned 57 last Sunday, died Tuesday at his farm after an 18-month battle with lung cancer. A funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at St. James Protestant Episcopal Church in New York City.

Murrow's voice was deep, resonant. Some compared it to a voice of doom. His face was high-domed, lopsided, worried. A cigarette dangled from his mouth.

His London broadcasts produced for American radio listeners distinct, lifelike images of the courage and determination of the British under Hitler's air blitz.

TV JOURNALIST After his stint as a Columbia Broadcasting System correspondent in London, he won fame as a pioneer television journalist and later in government service as head of the United States Information Agency.

President Johnson, who gave Murrow the Medal of Freedom — the highest civilian honor — the White House can confer — last Sept. 14, said:

"We who knew him knew that he was a gallant fighter, a man who dedicated his life both as a newsmen and as a public official to an unrelenting search for the truth. He subscribed to the proposition that free men and free inquiry are inseparable. He built his life on that unbreakable truth."

Heart Attack Fatal to Utica Schoolboy, 16

A 16-year-old boy died of a heart attack late this morning as he participated in a regular physical education program at Utica Senior High School.

George Miller, a junior, was running in the spring track program when the incident occurred. Witnesses said Miller stopped running and began walking, then fell to the ground.

He was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Bruce Wiley, Macomb County deputy coroner.

Miller's body was taken to St. Joseph Hospital in Mount Clemens for an autopsy.

The youth was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Miller of 6650 Powers Court, Shelby Township. School officials said the boy had no record of a medical deficiency.

Commission Thanks Ewart

The City Commission last night formally thanked City Attorney William A. Ewart for his 33 years in city service.

The commission passed a resolution commending Ewart for "long and faithful service to the city." The resolution expressed the people's thanks and appreciation for his service.

Mayor William H. Taylor said an open house is being planned to honor the city attorney. Ewart resigned last week from his post as city attorney effective July 1. He plans to return to private practice of law with offices in Birmingham.

Johnson Proclaims

May 9 Mother's Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson today proclaimed May 9 as Mother's Day, urged all people to express their love and gratitude to mothers and asked mothers to be mindful of their responsibilities that children are prepared for citizenship. "The rapidly changing nature of our world requires more than ever that the American home shall be a haven of stability in which our people can develop their spiritual, intellectual and physical capacities to the fullest," Johnson said.

New Principal Whimer Will Discuss McConnell Vacancy

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Air strikes against North Vietnamese roads, bridges and railroads are not choking off aid to the Viet Cong.

PARIS (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko has expressed Soviet agreement to take part in an international conference on Cambodia, a spokesman for the French cabinet announced today.

The Pontiac Board of Education will name a new principal for the McConnell School at their regular meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. at 350 E. Wide Track. Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whimer will discuss the post with board members during the session.

The board is also scheduled to consider changing their policy for denying students their privilege of attending school.

The policy was first adopted in September 1961. The proposed changes would clarify the policy and expand its usage.

The present policy lists 11 reasons a student may be denied the right to go to school.

Board members will also hear a report on a proposed pre-kindergarten summer program.

The project, called "Head Start," would be financed under the general provisions of the Economic Opportunity Act.

The Pontiac school system has submitted a plan for the project to the federal government for approval.

The school board will also hear a financial statement, a review of operating expenditures, and will hear a statement by the Pontiac Education Association human relations committee.

A dedication ceremony for the first three units of the new Children's Village is slated for 2 p.m. next Wednesday with judges, county officials, and civic leaders participating.

Construction of the first units of the facility was partly financed by a $223,000 federal grant.

Delay Possible in Steren Case

The Madison Heights Steren Assembly Club gambling case, scheduled for trial in two weeks, faces another possible delay.

Defense attorney Carlton Roeser of Pontiac said he would file an application to appeal the denial of his motion to have the case dismissed.

While rejecting the motion for dismissal, Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondore yesterday took under advisement another motion by Roeser for a change of venue in the location of the trial.

Roeser suggested Wayne County because it would be "convenient and economical to all parties."

"It would be impossible to get a fair and impartial trial in Oakland County because of the notorious and sensational publicity given the case by news media," Roeser told the judge.

SUBMITS SCRAPBOOK

He submitted a scrapbook to Dondore containing more than 140 articles pertaining to the case.

"All these have biased the case of the defendants," Roeser claimed.

Roeser is representing 21 men arrested in the state police raid on the club at 25300 John R. on Oct. 11, 1963.

The application for leave to appeal does not necessarily mean that the Michigan Court of Appeals will hear the case, but it does honor the application, the trial would have to be postponed until the appeal can be reviewed.

TO BEGIN MAY 11

The trial is scheduled to begin May 11.

Roeser was seeking a dismissal on the grounds that Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle abused his discretion in hearing the lower court examination of the case after he had signed the search warrant for the raid.

Roeser said Ingle had "prejudged" the case because it was that a crime was committed in order to sign the warrant.

He claimed that the defendants were illegally arrested, and it was seven days after the prosecutor's office issued a complaint against them.

PROSECUTOR'S OFFICE

He said that the prosecutor's office has not established its case, and referred to excerpts of testimony in the lower court which indicated certain individuals were not involved in any conspiracy as they are charged.

Dondore said that the testimony taken as a whole, however, provided enough information to have the men bound over for trial.

Another motion, asking for the return of $10,000 confiscated in the raid, was granted by Dondore.

The order excludes several bills whose serial numbers were recorded by State Police, and then circulated by Peggy Ann Allen, an undercover agent, while she was in the club.

$714,100 Budget OK'd in Bloomfield Township

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A $714,100 operating budget for 1965-66, up some $37,000 over this year's figure, has been approved by the Township Board. Trustees adopted the budget following a public hearing Monday night.

Most of the additional amount they agreed to spend will be used to expand township services — primarily those in the growing police, fire and building departments.

Largest single chunk of the funds will be used by the police department. Its $234,800 allocation will include $185,000 for the salaries of regular and auxiliary officers.

The police department sum is up some $20,000, while that for the fire department was jumped from $175,000 to $194,900. The latter includes $164,000 for salaries.

$400 RAISES Employees in both departments will get $400 raises this year. Other totals in the budget include general government, $219,300, and building department, $65,100.

In other action, the board established special assessment districts for two water mains and a sanitary sewer following public hearings.

Approved were water mains for the Wing Lake Shores area, $55,500, and Wingcroft and Carey Lane, $18,950. The $22,000 sanitary sewer will be installed along Sandy Lane.

The board denied a rezoning request which would have allowed expansion of Wiggs Colony Shop on the west side of Telegraph south of West Long Lake Road.

RECOMMENDED The change from office to local business classification had been recommended by the township planning commission.

Now beset with traffic problems at the intersection, township officials had asked that an alley be provided at the back of the store.

Melvin Beckner of 830 N. Pemberton, owner of the property, indicated he was unwilling to grant an easement for the alley at the present time.

Officials noted the entire corner is under consideration for possible changes to correct the traffic situation.

School Vote Deadlines Are Nearing

The final day to register to vote in the June 14 Pontiac School District election is May 17.

Application for registration should be made to the clerk of the city or township in which the voter resides.

The last day for candidates to file nominating petitions for the election is May 15.

Petitions, which are available at the school's administrative offices at 350 E. Wide Track, must contain the signatures of at least 50 qualified voters to be valid.

Two board posts, presently held by William H. Anderson and Victor P. Sutt, will be filled at the June election.

Neither man has filed for reelection as yet.

Defends Yard Vapors

The Sam Allen & Son, Inc. scrap trial entered its fourth week yesterday with an expert acoustical engineer testifying for the defense that vapors from a pulverizing machine were not harmful to health.

Gordon C. Harrold of Royal Oak said, however, that the firm at 22 Congress had adopted his recommendation to install a burner on the machine to minimize the vapor.

RELIABILITY OF TAPE Harrold also questioned the reliability of a tape recording that was introduced into evidence by the city earlier in the trial.

After listening to the tape, he said he had concluded that the sounds on the tape were much louder than his own findings and that there was distortion.

The nonjury trial is being heard by Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

City Employee Pacts Delayed

Consideration of "working agreement" proposals between the city and Pontiac police and firemen has been held up on the question of the legality of the contracts.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren reported informally to the City Commission last night on a meeting Monday with representatives of the Pontiac Fire Fighters Association.

Warren said that the fire fighters were told there was a legal question involved.

The fire fighters and the Pontiac Police Officers Association have submitted "working agreement" proposals, which would put in writing their wages, hours and working conditions.

He added that no useful purpose could be served by "speculation on remote contingencies" in which such weapons might be brought into play.

The President began by reading a statement on Viet Nam in which he said:

NOT CHANGED "America has not changed her essential position, and that purpose is peaceful settlement. That purpose is to resist aggression. That purpose is to avoid a wider war."

He said anew that "I will talk to any government, anywhere, any time, without any conditions," about peace. And later, replying to a question, he said:

"I am very hopeful that some ways and means can be found to bring the parties who are interested in Southeast Asia to the conference table. Just what those ways and means will be, I don't know."

"But every day we explore to the limit of our capacity every possible political and diplomatic move that would bring that about."

In his statement, Johnson said he would continue a Viet Nam policy which he described in these words: "Firmness with moderation, readiness for peace with refusal to retreat."

In a 15-minute television and radio "fireside chat," de Gaulle condemned the war in Viet Nam but avoided any direct criticism of U.S. military action there.

De Gaulle said French policy holds that "no hegemony exercised by anyone, no foreign intervention in the internal affairs of any state, no prohibition made to any country whatsoever to maintain peaceful relations with any other country whatsoever, can be justified."

"On the contrary," he continued, "as we see it, the higher interest of the human species demands that each nation be responsible for itself, free of any encroachments, and aided in its progress without conditions of obedience."

"Hence, our severe disapproval of the war which is spreading in Asia more and more from day to day."

The 74-year-old French leader offered no new approach to a solution of the Vietnamese crisis. He repeated his old call for neutrality and independence of the nations of Southeast Asia, site of France's former Indochina possessions.

Speaking an hour after de Gaulle, President Johnson told a news conference in Washington that U.S. strategy in the Viet Nam war was not being run as a popularity contest.

In line with what Johnson said, U.S. officials discounted the impact of the disapproval of the war expressed by de Gaulle. In Saigon, reaction to de Gaulle's comments was sharp. "His statement is consistent with the whole line of French policy," a South Vietnamese official said. "This policy is not consistent with the interests of a free Viet Nam."

After de Gaulle recorded his speech, he met with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko who is visiting Paris. There was no hint of any joint Soviet-French action toward settling the Vietnamese war.

While his comment on Viet Nam was terse, de Gaulle spelled out in measured, vigorous phrases one of his favorite themes: that France must remain independent and free to act as it wishes "in all domains" regardless of friend or foe.

He said some were "astonished and scandalized" by France's independent actions. In an obvious reference to the United States, he said: "The fact that we again have taken up our faculty of judgment and action toward all problems seems sometimes to offend a state which could, because of its power, think that it has a supreme and universal responsibility."

"But who knows? Some day this friendly country may have a higher interest in finding a France that can stand on her own feet, and this may supercede by far the disagreements which now exist."

The First World War

Agony on the Eastern Front: 22

Written By PHILIP VAN DOREN STERN for Newspaper Enterprise Association

Illustrated By John Lane

Many things were wrong with Czarist Russia in 1915, but worst of all was the shocking unpreparedness of its armies.

Men sometimes went into battle without weapons (they were instructed to pick up rifles on the field), without shoes (they were told to take them from the dead); and without any idea of what to do except die and barricade the way with their corpses.

Before long, there was a serious shortage of officers, for the best of them had been killed in the early fighting and there were few replacements. Russia had vast supplies of manpower, but it was short of educated leaders.

That these badly trained, badly equipped, badly fed troops should have done as well as they did is a miracle.

They withstood poison gas in January 1915, captured the Austrian fortress Przemyśl in March, lost it in June, yet went on fighting during a year that was marked with disasters in the field and a steady worsening situation at home.

DOMINATION

The court was a nightmare where the all-powerful czar was dominated by his German-born empress.

And she in turn was under the influence of one of the strangest creatures in history, the peasant monk Rasputin, who has been called "a charlatan, a grafter, a simonist, a drunkard, a blasphemer and a debauchee."

That this incompetent trio should control the fate of millions would be unfortunate at any time. In 1915, their appalling misrule brought on revolution as surely as if they had been working under Lenin's direction.

gust 5 was a calamity, but what happened a month later was even worse, for the inept czar then took command himself.

Only the coming of a Russian winter saved the country when puny Nicholas II played at being a soldier while the monstrous Rasputin was undermining him at home.

The snow and bitter cold that paralyzed the armies in the field did not stop dissension from going on in Russia's major cities.

The people, who had been stolidly submissive to autocratic rule for centuries, were beginning to resent the lack of leadership that was losing the war and ruining the nation.

Heat Determinator

2nd Reentry Probe Scheduled

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Within five years, a three-man Apollo spaceship returning from the moon is scheduled to make a meteoric dive into earth's atmosphere.

The astronauts' lives and the success of their historic mission will depend on a blunt heat shield and its ability to fend off rays from a fireball of gases with temperatures approaching 20,000 degrees.

To make certain that scientists have correctly predicted the reentry heating a moonship will face, the federal space agency developed two small spacecraft to be rammed toward earth at the 25,000-mile-an-hour speeds of craft returning from the moon.

The Natural Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) announced today that the second of the instrument-laden probe fire probes is set to be launched next Tuesday.

The first probe fire payload was driven into earth's atmosphere a year ago at speeds up to 25,800 m.p.h. It indicated that scientists may have overestimated the reentry heat that will be felt by moonships.

FURTHER STUDY

Next week's spacecraft is designed to confirm the first probe's measurements and make a more thorough study of high-speed reentry heating.

As a result of the first shot, NASA said "scientists are able to predict much more accurately" for design purposes, the heat that Apollo craft will encounter on returns from lunar flights.

20 Years After Death

Italian Mourners for Mussolini Are Few

ROME (UPI) — A woman screamed, a Communist partisan squeezed the trigger of a submachine gun — and Benito Mussolini, the iron-jawed "duce" of Italian fascism, died by the side of a road in northern Italy. That was 20 years ago today.

Mussolini's lovely young mistress, Claretta Petacci, who had cried out, "You can't do it, you can't," was the first to die. Then Mussolini, seeming older than his 61 years, fell dead beside her.

Mussolini had been captured by the partisans the previous day near Dongo as he tried to flee the country hidden in a German truck. Claretta had been separated from her lover in their flight but asked the partisans for permission to join him.

That night the bodies were taken to Milan and strung up by the heels from the roof of a half-finished gas station in Piazzale Loreto.

There, with kicks and curses, an enraged crowd tried to avenge a nation for the death and destruction unleashed by fascism.

GRUESOME MEMENTO

Mussolini's battered corpse, photographed in its utter humiliation, has become one of the more gruesome mementos of history.

Twenty years later, in an Italy more concerned with automobiles and steaks than empires, the mourners for Mussolini are few.

The Fascist party was outlawed in postwar Italy and the followers of Mussolini's ideas now call themselves the Italian Social Movement (MSI).

But the ranks of the MSI are thin — an odd mixture of nostalgic oldsters and youths who had not been born when a black shirt was a symbol of power.

FIVE PER CENT

The neo-Fascist MSI usually polls about five per cent of the vote in national elections. It appeals to the younger generation with a combination of militant nationalism and fierce anticommunism. But this younger generation appears more interested in the Beatles marathon dance sessions and cars.

The surviving Mussolinis themselves — the first family of Fascist Italy — have to a surprising degree adapted to the new, postwar Italy.

The "duce's" youngest son, Romano, is a jazz pianist and it is a toss-up whether his contentment knows him better as "Mussolini's son" or "the man who married Sophia Loren's kid sister."

Mussolini's youngest daughter, Annamaria, is the wife of a nightclub entertainer and master of ceremonies. Her sister, Edda, who as Countess Ciano held court in Fascist Rome, is now a grandmother.

RUNS RESTAURANT

The late dictator's widow, Rachele, runs a restaurant in the Mussolini's home town of Predappio. She caters in part to visitors to Mussolini's tomb but mostly to prosperous family groups on Sunday outings with a taste for the robust cooking of the Romagna countryside.

Claretta Petacci rests in an elaborate tomb in Rome's Verano Cemetery. The luxurious lovenest Mussolini built for her high on a hill over Rome is now a fashionably expensive restaurant.

The Palazzo Venezia, from which Mussolini launched his country into war with the slogan "Vincere, vincere," (win, win) is used for art shows.

Here and there throughout Italy one may still occasionally glimpse a wall on which the words "Duce, Duce" are still decipherable.

Twenty years after Mussolini's death no one seems to care enough one way or another to either paint over the word "Duce" or whitewash it out.

Rocky Vetoes Bill on Teaching Policy

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Upholding objections of the State Education Department, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller vetoed a bill Tuesday that would have required public schools to teach about contributions "all races and nationalities" have made to America.

The Education Department contended the bill was unnecessary "because its intent is being fully complied with."

Denies Airborne Unit for Detroit

LANSING (AP) — A spokesman for the Michigan National Guard Tuesday denied reports that Detroit has been chosen as the site of the first airborne infantry unit in state history.

The officer, a member of the troop list committee charged with selecting the membership of the new battalion, said a published report "must have been the result of someone's speculation."

The officer, who refused to be identified, also denied reports that Col. Clarence Schnipke, acting adjutant general, had disclosed the choice of Detroit as a site for the unit at a pre-camp conference at Camp Grayling last Saturday.

Schnipke, in California for a conference, could not be reached for comment.

Michigan has been selected as the site for the new paratroop unit as the result of the merger of the National Guard and Army Reserves.

"It is possible that the unit might be in Detroit," he said. "Much of the thinking and talking revolves around Detroit."

He also branded as inaccurate reports that the battalion would be part of an airborne brigade. "It could be designated as part of a regular brigade—with

Forgotten Tradesman Vital Economic Force

Unheralded and largely unnoticed amid the shoutin' and shootin' of the Administration's grand design to remake America, is mounting evidence from the Country's grass roots that independent business proprietors are quietly, persistently but effectively waging their own private war on poverty.

These entrepreneurs, 4.5 million strong, have in the past 12 months by projection invested over $25.5 billion in expansion — and in so doing created 3.5 million new jobs.

This conclusion is based on the computerized returns for the first quarter of 1965 correlated with the continuous survey initiated Jan. 1, 1964, by the National Federation of Independent Business.

Of the 17,009 respondents from 46 states and the District of Columbia, 32.7 per cent report that they have expanded, spending a total of $96.5 million to create a total of 13,267 new jobs, or an average of 2 1/2 jobs per expanding business. The average number of employees per respondent firm is 10.

Paradoxically, one of the Nation's bright spots insofar as the expansion of independent business is concerned is dissection-torn Alabama.

The survey shows that not only have 39.7 per cent of independent firms there expanded, higher than the national average, but in so doing, invested an average of $33,412. This is high for the United States and almost double the national average of $17,357. Also, Alabama's rate of 2 1/2 new jobs per expansion slightly exceeds the national average.

In sum, the survey produced cheering revelations that with some minor changes in legislation, independent business, entirely without cost to the taxpayers, would cut even greater swaths in the ranks of the unemployed.

Anthony Krepis

In the death of ANTHONY KREPIS the area lost a highly respected businessman and civic figure.

Long the proprietor of Tony's Beauty and Barber Shop, he had served his home city of Sylvan Lake as justice of the peace and mayor.

Mr. Krepis was active in all areas of social life, holding membership in many professional, athletic, service and fraternal organizations. He had a keen interest in community welfare, and no call on his interest or purse for a worthy cause went unanswered.

The warm and outgoing personality of TONY KREPIS had won him a host of friends who will deeply mourn the passing of this sterling character.

A Record Performance Set by Auto Fuel

The next time you pull up to a gas pump and nonchalantly call out "Fill 'er up," you might give a moment's thought to the taken-for-granted boon that is flowing into your car's fuel tank.

Comparatively, gasoline is one of the cheapest essentials of the American way of life. Take away taxes, and the average price of a gallon of gas is about 20 cents. Distilled water costs about 65 cents a gallon.

And gas has been getting cheaper during years when almost all other prices have been rising. The general price index rose more than 13 per cent between 1953 and 1963, while in the same decade gas went down more than 4 per cent.

In the field of performance, today's motorcar premium gas is more powerful than that used in World War II fighter planes. Or, to give it statistical treatment, a 1930 gallon could move one ton of car for 28.9 miles at 40 miles an hour. A gallon of 1960 gas could move the same weight 47.8 miles at the same speed.

In short, the oil industry has provided us with better gas for less money and, indications are, will keep right on doing it.

Few enterprises can say as much.

U.S.-Red Tussle Due to Be Long

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—Pat, prosperous America, although disturbed right now about the war in Viet Nam, had better get used to the idea of trouble around the world for many years to come and U.S. involvement in it.

This gloomy forecast is pieced together from statements by President Johnson in the past month. The central theme of his philosophy in foreign affairs—as with Presidents Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy—was this:

Communism, determined to spread its gospel, will try aggression where and when it thinks it can and the job of this country, for its own sake and survival, is to stop the expansion.

At that time when the American policy was to help the people of South Viet Nam defend themselves against Communist attack to preserve their independence and to prevent the spread of communism.

2 THINGS HAPPENED
In the 20 days since that talk two things have happened: the Communists have ignored his proposal for "unconditional discussions" and criticism of Johnson's policy has increased, particularly at home.

Then yesterday at his news conference, before reporters could ask a question, he again set forth upon this explanation about Viet Nam, but the emphasis now was almost entirely upon this:

He said defeat in South Viet Nam would not only deliver a friendly nation to "terror and repression" but would "encourage and spur on those who seek to conquer all free nations that are within their reach."

He added: "Our own welfare, our own freedom, would be in great danger."

BASIC U.S. POLICY
This makes the basic American policy self-interest. Johnson didn't put it that bluntly. But John Foster Dulles did back in the 50s when he was secretary of state. He said American policy was "enlightened self-interest."

To show that he was not originating a policy of stopping communism wherever it tried to push, but only continuing one laid down long ago by his predecessors and that it had been blessed by success, Johnson said:

"Wherever we have stood firm, aggression has been halted, peace has been restored, and liberty has been maintained."

David Lawrence Says:

LBJ Stresses Real Viet Story

WASHINGTON — President Johnson felt that it was necessary to reiterate the American government's desire for peace negotiations to end the Viet Nam war, so he used a televised press conference yesterday — especially called for the occasion — to dramatize the issue.

For there LAWRENCE is no doubt that the situation in Southeast Asia is causing anxiety and a feeling throughout this country that the war might be widened as well as lengthened. So the President is wisely explaining the Viet Nam problem to the American people even though repeating what he has said many times before.

The United States finds itself criticized as an "aggressor" by the Communist countries, and it is necessary to emphasize the truth. This is that the Communists are continuing their aggression in South Viet Nam despite opportunities to settle the war by a peace conference.

As the President says, there can be an end to the war and a peace agreement the moment the Communist countries decide not to send troops and supplies from North Viet Nam into South Viet Nam.

Mr. Johnson is careful to point out that the United States has no alternative to the bombing of bridges and supply lines in North Viet Nam.

LOSS OF LIFE
The President stressed the fact that the bombing is being conducted primarily against bridges and installations and that there is a minimum loss of life. The United States, therefore, is not waging a war in which it is going to extremes.

In fact, Mr. Johnson ruled out any possibility of using nuclear weapons to achieve the present objectives and declared at his press conference that no steps involving nuclear weapons had ever been suggested by anybody in the government here.

The whole purpose of the administration is to present to the other peoples of the world a true exposition of American policy in Viet Nam so that public opinion everywhere will begin to put pressure on both Red China and the Soviet Union to initiate the necessary steps to withdraw their guerrilla henchmen from South Viet Nam.

The risk today is that the enemy may come to believe that, if the war can be prolonged, the United States will grow weary of the conflict and, in the case of Viet Nam, withdraw her forces and abjectly surrender. President Johnson realizes the danger of such a misinterpretation and takes every opportunity to remove it.

NO CONDITIONS
He has declared again that the United States will be glad to talk peace without requiring any conditions in advance. But he says the United States will not cease to use military force to protect the people of South Viet Nam in the meantime and, in fact, until there is a peace arrangement which can be trusted to be effective.

The President pointedly referred in his press conference to the almost universal approval that has come from our allies since he made a comprehensive statement of policy in his recent address at Johns Hopkins University. He said he didn't think America had lost any friends because of a firmness in policy.

He might have added that, among the governments which had not expressed any opinions publicly, there is a feeling that the United States is really fighting a war in behalf of all the smaller nations of the world, any one of which might become the victim of aggression if the Viet Nam conflict turns into a victory for the aggressors.

A major principle of far-reaching consequence to world peace is really at stake.

'Spirit of Selma' Sparks New Washington 'March'

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON—The so-called "spirit of Selma," which for the first time inspired active involvement by large groups of American citizens in the civil rights movement, has sparked a new crusade to meet local civic crises.

The same coalition of Washington religious leaders and civil rights off-MONTGOMERY cials that participated in the Selma-to-Montgomery march has now launched a campaign to improve welfare services in the nation's capital.

Participants believe that the movement will spread rapidly to many hundreds of other communities whose resident clergy responded to the original Selma challenge.

Calling itself the "D. C. Coalition of Conscience," the 40-member interdenominational group staged a community mass meeting here last Sunday to rally support for welfare improvement.

If clergymen of America now determine to take equally dramatic action in their own areas to attack local abuses, the voice of the church may be heard as never before through this land.

NATIONAL SCANDAL
Poverty-ridden slums breed criminals, but teen-agers crime is rapidly becoming a national scandal in wealthy suburban communities as well.

It is good that a coalition of churchmen and civil rights leaders will campaign for adequate welfare measures to help the poor, but let the moving spirit not stop there.

It is to be hoped that an aroused clergy will plunge with equal dedication into the task of eliminating the causes of all types of juvenile crime.

Let them enlist restless, well-to-do teen-agers in their cause, showing them that there is a greater thrill to be had in helping others than in manipulating high-speed automobiles and easy-to-purchase revolvers.

Our grandmothers were right when they used to chide that "the devil has work for idle hands to do." Let's put those idle hands to work in local community service instead.

Let's show both the pampered youths and the school dropouts that America needs their talents.

They have much to give, if properly inspired.

The Hampton (Iowa) Times

With the migrant birds returning, an old, old question presents itself again. Why do they come back?

Migration has baffled man for a long time. We now know far more about it than ever before, but most of our knowledge is about the how rather than the why, the way birds migrate rather than their reasons.

Why should hummingbirds return all the way from Central America? Certainly not because they are crowded there, nor because they are hungry for the nectar from bee balm and jewel weed.

Why do the swallows return? Northern mosquitoes surely are no more tasty or nourishing than those that breed in Southern swamps.

Why should orioles come back? Merely to hang their nests in Northern Elms?

The migrants filter in and begin to sing. And as the chorus grows, all through April, the puzzle becomes more baffling. The birds sound almost exuberant. They sing like ex-

Just a word about this so-called great society. For the past few years I have been trying to find a job. When asked the last time I worked, have replied with a clear conscience, "18 years ago." In reply to letters complaining about college students demonstrating for peace, can you wonder why they are restless with the future some have mapped out for them? According to the papers, 50 per cent of the people in Viet Nam are indifferent to the outcome of the war. Why are we so hepped up if they don't care? M.E.

'Why Bus Students to Another School?'

Do those promoting the busing of children to different schools think of the physical welfare of these children who must walk for buses in the early morning, no matter what the weather, when they could go to a school in their own neighborhood within minutes' walking distance.

There is also the matter of the sick child reaching home easily or remaining home at noon. Many have moved near schools to prevent the hazards of children traveling distances. These mothers will resent any move on the part of our school board to bus children out of their own neighborhood within minutes' walking distance.

David Lawrence suggests a rather peculiar test to determine what matters are of federal and what are of state concern: "Research on weather is, of course, a federal responsibility, because storms do not respect state lines." Where in the U.S. Constitution is the authority for this statement?

At the time the 2nd amendment was adopted, the court observed, men called for military service were expected to appear bearing arms supplied by themselves and of the kind in common use at the time. Several changes have taken place since then. Men called for military service are given arms by the national government now. And these arms are of a complex character, not very useful for private citizens in private life.

Conversely, the arms commonly held by private citizens could hardly be considered decisive weapons for modern warfare. The pistol, for example, while admirably designed for robbing liquor stores, committing suicide, averaging personal slights, settling family quarrels or transforming disconsolate wives into merry widows, has no more than limited utility for repelling missile attacks or even for coping with guerrilla warfare in the jungle of Viet Nam.

We think the efficiency of the militia will not be affected in any way by rigorous gun control legislation; but the safety and welfare of the average American will be immensely enhanced.

Several changes have taken place since then. Men called for military service are given arms by the national government now. And these arms are of a complex character, not very useful for private citizens in private life.

Conversely, the arms commonly held by private citizens could hardly be considered decisive weapons for modern warfare. The pistol, for example, while admirably designed for robbing liquor stores, committing suicide, averaging personal slights, settling family quar

Is Peacemaker Passe?

By K. C. THALER

United Press International
LONDON — One by one the traditional "mediators" and would-be conciliators in major world conflicts of the postwar period have been forced out of the go-between business.

Changes in the world power balance, the breakup of the Communist international, disputes weakening the United Nations organization and, last but not least, the emergence of Red China as a major force in Asia all have combined to undermine the role of the "peacemaker."

Little by little the scope for "goodwill" intervention by a third party has shrunk until today there is virtually none left of sufficient stature, influence and independence to command the attention of the parties to a major conflict.

The present crisis over Viet Nam that has the United States and Red China on a potential collision course has spotlighted this development sharply.

To date there are only parties or partisans to the conflict, onlookers and some would-be helpers — but no capable mediator has appeared.

CLASSIC EXAMPLE

The classic example for the change traditional "conciliation" has undergone is provided by India.

In the immediate postwar period and well into the 1950's, India, under the late Premier Jawaharlal Nehru, was the classic self-appointed mediator in the worst phases of the East-West conflict.

Acting as the representative of "neutral and unaligned" India, Nehru had at the time the ear of both Moscow and Peking. Both considered him as trustworthy and sympathetic to their cause.

***
The West, though often angered by and suspicious of Nehru's "meddling," nevertheless accepted that he offered a direct channel, in need, both to the Communists and the Asians.

CHANGED ALL THAT

Red China's attack on India changed all that. Today, the two are enemies who face each other across an uneasy truce line. From Moscow's, and the West's, viewpoint India has become a partisan. There is also the fact that in India today there is no Nehru.

Russia, too, has lost its role as a go-between in international conflict. Once a spokesman for the entire Communist world, including Red China, the Kremlin no longer has influence in Peking.

Britain, often ready to seek the role of peacemaker, also is probably out of the picture.

The Communists say that by aligning herself so closely with American Viet Nam policy, Britain is ruled out as mediator or conciliator in the conflict.

MIGHT BE ABLE

Peking and Hanoi have refused even to receive a British peace emissary.

There have been suggestions, in his acts and in emanations from Paris, that French President Charles de Gaulle believes he might be able to intercede constructively in the Viet Nam situation.

But de Gaulle, while French recognition of Red China gives him a pipeline to Peking, appears to have blocked any such opportunity by his persistent antagonism of Washington.

The United Nations secretary general, by the nature of his office a traditional conciliator, also has lost much influence, partly as a result of the blow to the organization's stature that necessitated the temporary adjournment of the General Assembly.

Thus Secretary Thant's recent approaches for conciliation in the Viet Nam conflict have been rebuffed or ignored.

Ask More Aid for Victims of Disasters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., testified Tuesday before a Senate banking subcommittee in support of a bill to provide additional aid to victims of floods, tornadoes and other disasters.

The bill, cosponsored by Nelson and Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who presided at the hearing, would amend the Small Business Act to give additional assistance for disaster victims, such as those hurt by the recent floods and tornadoes throughout the country. Victims of all future natural disasters also would be covered.

The Small Business Administration makes available to disaster victims interest-bearing loans which are fully repayable, Nelson said. The bill would extend the payment period from 20 to 30 years. It would also empower the SBA to suspend payment on disaster loans for up to five years.

Nelson said the agency also would be empowered to pay off enough of a disaster victim's home indebtedness so that his home payments would not exceed 25 per cent of his net income.

Eugene P. Foley, head of the Small Business Administration, told the committee that he could not recommend at this time that the SBA's authority to cope with disasters be changed, except for extending the maximum term on home loans.

Tell Increase in Catholics

Below Protestant
'65 Population Gain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Roman Catholic population of the United States increased by 766,248 persons during the past year to a record high of 45,640,619, the Official Catholic Directory revealed today.

The increase of 1.7 per cent was roughly equivalent to the growth rate of the over-all U.S. population, and was below the 2.3 per cent increase in Protestant church membership reported earlier by the 1965 Yearbook of American Churches.

This is the first time in many years that Protestants have held an edge in reported growth rates. Last year, the statistics showed a Catholic gain of 2.3 per cent and a Protestant gain of only .8 per cent.

Since 1955, the Catholic population has grown by about 13 million persons, or 40 per cent. The Protestant population has increased by about 10 million, or 18 per cent.

Protestants still outnumber Catholics by a substantial margin, however. The 1965 Yearbook of American Churches shows a total Protestant church membership of 66,854,200.

NOT INCLUDED

And the Protestant total does not include millions of children under 13, who are not counted as full members in most Protestant bodies, whereas the Catholic figure includes baptized infants.

The Official Catholic Directory is published annually by P. J. Kennedy & Sons, New York. It is the most comprehensive and authoritative statistical picture of Catholicism in the United States.

Here are some of the highlights of the new directory:

- An increase of 1,304 during the past year brought the total number of ordained priests to an all-time high of 58,632.

- The increase in clergy was 2.2 per cent, or slightly more than the increase in membership. This indicates an improving trend in the ratio of communicants to priests, which now stands at 730 to 1.

- The drop-off in feminine vocations to religious life, which has been detected and lamented by many bishops, was graphically documented by figures showing that the number of Sisters actually decreased by 61 during the year to a total of 179,954.

Last year's directory had showed an increase of 2,861 in the number of Sisters, and even that increase was held by authorities to be far below the urgent needs of the growing church.

- Enrollment in 13,396 Catholic elementary and high schools crept up to 5,662,328 — an increase of only 37,288, or seven-tenths of one per cent, over last year.

The modest size of the increase is striking in view of the fact that enrollment in Catholic schools has in the past increased at a rate averaging more than 5 per cent a year.

- With a growing percentage of Catholic children attending public schools, the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine (CCD) and other agencies stepped up their efforts to provide them with religious instruction in "released time" classes and vacation religious schools.

The number of Catholic public school children receiving such instruction leaped to 5,060,366 — an increase of 17 per cent in a single year's time.

- The number of adult converts to Catholicism during 1964 was recorded as 128,300 — an increase of 2,223 over last year's figure, which was the lowest in 10 years.

- The number of infant baptisms was 1,310,413 — a decrease of 11,902 from the previous year, and some 34,000 less than would have been necessary in order to keep up with the pace of population growth.

'Antipoverty War Is New Revolution'

DETROIT (UPI)—R. Sargent Shriver Jr., director of the federal war on poverty program, said last night the nation is on the verge of a revolution in the fight against poverty.

Shriver, special assistant to President Johnson, was in Detroit to receive the 1965 Education Citation from the Wayne State University College of Education.

He was cited by the university for his support of education, his direction of the federal antipoverty program and as architect and director of the Peace Corps.

He called on the educators to "lead people out of poverty and into opportunity" by making rapid, radical changes in past methods of education.

"We are," he said, "with the enactment of the poverty program and the passage of the education act . . . on the verge of revolution."

OLD DAYS OVER

He said "the days of splendid isolation . . . based on the assumption that the middle-class style and culture is the only correct — and the only acceptable style — are over."

He said this isolation "has kept the schools away from the community, the poor away from the schools and the professionals away from them without professional status."

"We can no longer afford the price of such isolation," he warned.

Shriver said the poor people are the real educators—"educators for an entire society that needs badly to learn why it has failed one-fifth of its people—and that needs even more to learn the meaning of those words attributed to St. Vincent De Paul—'Before you set out to help the poor, you must first beg their pardon.'"

STATE PROJECT

He pointed to a project in the unincorporated community of Willow Village, Mich., as a demonstration that residents of "an urban-fringe pocket of poverty can help organize and learn to manage their own self-help program."

The project, jointly undertaken by Wayne State and the University of Michigan through the Institute of Labor and Industrial Relations of the two schools, started as a federal housing project near the Willow Run bomber plant in World War II.

He said about 30 per cent of Willow Village's 5,000 population, half of which is Negro, receives some form of welfare aid.

He told newsmen he expected the young antipoverty program begun last Oct. 8 to reduce poverty substantially in the next several years in a demonstration that the poor can help to organize and learn to manage their own antipoverty program.

time being, and the monsoon season hasn't begun.
A newcomer in town has the creepy feeling he is walking through a role in a grade B movie thriller for which there is no script.

He also feels isolated and alone in a sea of general conspiracy. Everybody seems to have a secret but him. He is left out. There is an almost furtive air of close-mouthedness here that is curiously unnerving. Nobody speaks out loud. They carry on discussions in semiwhispers, as if the very walls had ears—and I suppose they well may have.

WHITE MEN

All the white men you meet are carrying leather brief cases, and you can't help wondering whether they are bulging with terribly secret war papers—or just dirty laundry. But if you nod to someone you don't know, he merely stares at you suspiciously, grips his briefcase a little tighter, and marches on past. Strangers here don't even have the time of day for each other.

The first friendly approach to me came from a slender, dark-skinned fellow who looked like an illegitimate son of Mata Hari.

Giving me an ingratiating, 24-karat smile, he whispered: "Changee money?"

He was one of the street bankers who infest the city. The official rate for American money here is 73 piastres to the dollar, but these itinerant financiers here range from 140 to 150.

RAISED VOICE

"No, thankie," I told him. Then, realizing that I was whispering, just like everybody else in town, I raised my voice and said real loud:

"I prefer to do my business with banks that have a corporate address."

"No changee?" he said dolefully, and slunk away.

The simmering center of Saigon is packed with the small sidewalk stands of outdoor merchants.

SELL SUNGLASSES

Half the population seems to be wearing sunglasses and black market cigarettes. The other half appears to make its income by peddling jackknives and cotton undershirts.

At every corner and before every important building stand white-uniformed police packing black leather gun holsters. Americans call them, "the white mice" and sometimes make jokes about them. But the bravery they showed at the scene of the recent bombing of the U.S. Embassy won them a new respect.

There is an air of fatalism about the periodic grenade and plastic bomb attacks by Communist terrorists. Some cars and restaurants are protected by wire grids.

A few bars have covered their windows with old boards. The U.S. Information agency building is guarded by a circle of round heavy concrete sewer sections. Theoretically, a bomb-laden truck would bounce off them.

NO PROTECTION

But many public places take no protective measures whatever. The Americans who patronize them simply shrug and say, "What if they should toss a bomb in here sometime? I probably won't be here when it happens."

This surface calm vanishes, however, if a passing truck suddenly backfires. The natives on the sidewalk skitter a few steps toward shelter like a startled deer. And inside the crowded restaurants the well-fed Americans look up from their plates and gaze silently into each other's eyes. Nobody voices the quick-fear.

The moment passes, they return to their food, and the war seems far away again.

Birmingham Official Renamed Chief of County Unit

David Levinson of Birmingham yesterday was named to his seventh consecutive one-year term as chairman of the powerful ways and means committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Appointments to the county's various standing and special committees were announced by Board Chairman Delos Hamlin and confirmed by the full board.

Named as new members of the ways and means committee were Hugh G. Allerton Jr., Southfield Township supervisor, and James E. Seeterlin, Waterford Township supervisor.

Allerton, who was elected earlier this month as vice chairman of the board of supervisors, was named to the ways and means committee in place of Frank F. Webber of Addison Township.

Webber was vice chairman of the board last year. Due to illness he did not seek reelection to this post.

REPLACES EDWARDS

Seeterlin, who has been a member of the aviation committee, replaces Charles B. Edwards Jr., on the ways and means committee. Edwards, of Madison Heights, was not reappointed to the board.

Seeterlin was elected Waterford Township supervisor two years ago and won reelection last fall.

Luther Heacock of Birmingham was renamed chairman of the buildings and grounds committee and Carl F. Ingraham, also of Birmingham, was appointed to a new term as chairman of the legislative committee.

Reappointed chairman of the equalization committee was Vance C. Fouts of Hazel Park and named to another term as chairman of the intercounty committee was Levinson.

REAPPOINTED CHAIRMEN

Other reappointed committee chairmen are Wallace B. Hudson, aviation; Thomas C. Tiley, boundaries of cities and villages; S. James Clarkson, by-laws; Roy F. Goodspeed, county coordinating and zoning; and Curtis Potter, drain.

Others are Elizabeth W. Mitchell, flowers; Cyril E. Miller, health; Abraham Brickner, juvenile affairs; Louis F. Oldenburg, local taxes; Hugh Charteris, miscellaneous; Curtis H. Hall, salaries; and R. W. Lahli, welfare; Duane Hursfall, airport zoning board; and John B. Osgood, home rule study.

New committee chairmen announced yesterday were:

Earle G. Grisdale of Clawson, auditor general; Victor Woods of Pontiac, civil defense; Louis Demute of Royal Oak, cooperative extension service; and William L. Mainland of Milford Township, markets.

Others were Seeley Tinsman of Holly Township, roads and bridges; Vernon B. Edwards of Keego Harbor, veterans; and John D. McKinlay of Sylvan Lake, human relations.

Pontiac City Affairs

Fee for Water Will Be Policy

An "in lieu of special assessment" charge was approved last night by the City Commission for a projected Bloomfield Township firm that seeks to buy city water.

The commission okayed the $247 charge to Alfred C. Fisch, who plans to build a tool and die shop in the Bloomfield Township side of Golf Drive.

Fisch had asked last week that he be able to buy city water. The commission tabled the request to study a possible fee system to be charged outsiders who want city water.

It was decided by the commission that Fisch should pay a fee equal to the special assessment paid for the water main by city residents on this side of Golf Drive.

The assessment — $2.25 per front foot — totaled $247 for his proposed building.

FOLLOW POLICY

Mayor William H. Taylor said a similar fee policy would be followed in other future requests where the assessment plan could be applied.

In other business last night, the commission gave final approval to the sale of land at Pike, Lawrence and West Wide Track Drive for a drive-in bank.

Purchased by Community National Bank for $65,606, the land is in the urban renewal R44 project.

A public hearing was held on the city's intention to construct sanitary sewer in an area bounded by Motor, Wrenn, Arthur and Fildev.

ASSESSMENT ROLE

The commission authorized the city assessor to prepare the special assessment role and present it May 4.

Urges City Finance Study

It's time for a study of city finances, the Citizens Committee on Taxation said last night.

Charles P. Nasstrom, committee chairman, addressed a letter to the City Commission asking that a study begin, if one is to be made.

The citizens committee opposed the city income tax proposal that was defeated last month at the polls.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. referred consideration of Nasstrom's question to the next informal meeting of the commission.

Nasstrom said that it has been over a month since the election and his committee is ready to assist in a study of the city's financial problems.

WAS PROPOSED

Such a study, he said, was one of the recommendations made by the citizens group in a 16-page report prior to the election.

A similar suggestion was echoed by other interested citizens, said Nasstrom.

Taylor Invited to D.C. Confab

Pontiac Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. has been invited by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to a Washington conference next week on urban problems.

The afternoon conference is for medium-sized cities. It will be held next Wednesday.

Mayor Taylor and City Manager Joseph A. Warren are slated to attend the confab.

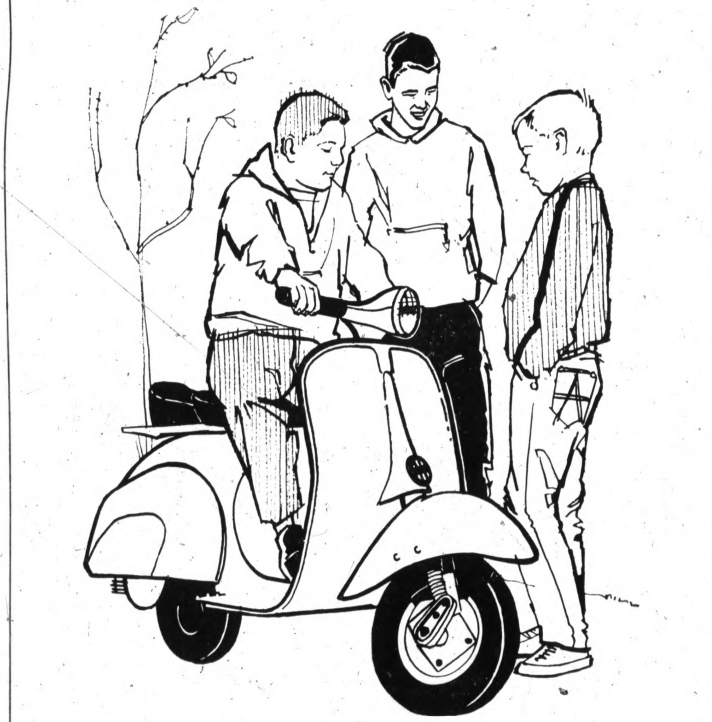

In his telegram to Taylor, Humphrey said the object of the meeting was to exchange views on problems of medium-sized cities and the administration's programs to help.

Other top-level Washington officials are slated to attend the one-day conference.

Rose Township Home Burglary Is Probed

Thieves broke into a Rose Township home last night and stole household goods, camera equipment and tools valued at more than $2,000.

Donald Franklin, owner of the home at 11400 N. Milford, told sheriff's deputies he was at work when the break-in occurred.

REMAINS OF EXPERIMENTAL PLANE

A helicopter hovers over the wreckage of the XVSA vertical takeoff plane which crashed at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., yesterday, killing the test pilot. The depression in the field (lower right) was made by the impact when the pilot, W. L. Everett, hit the ground when his chute did not open in time.

Collapse of Berlin

By JOHN O. KOEHLER

BERLIN (AP) — If you stand atop a wooden platform at Potsdamer Platz in downtown Berlin and look slightly to your left across the concrete and barbed wire of the Red wall, you will see a grass-covered mound.

Occasionally, East German Communist border guards walk past the gently sloping, 15-foot mound. Sometimes the guards walk up on it and observe the area around them, watching for refugees.

It is a macabre spectacle; considering that under their feet, beneath this mound, lies the tomb of Adolf Hitler's Third Reich — the bunker where his murderous madman gave his last orders, before shooting himself.

It will be 20 years ago Friday that the fuhrer's suicide ushered in the Goetterdaemmerung of Nazi Germany and was the climax of Berlin's collapse in flames.

RUSSIAN ADVANCE

The guns of the Red army were pounding the city and Soviet infantrymen were less than a mile from the Reich Chancellery.

Hitler was in his bunker, surrounded by a dozen of his faithful men, his bride, Eva Braun, and his favorite German police dog "Blondi."

Rather than fall into the hands of the Russians, who probably would have marched him through the streets of Moscow, he killed himself. Eva Braun, his mistress of many years and wife of a day, swallowed cyanide. The dog was poisoned.

BODIES IN CRATER

Survivors in the bunker wrapped the bodies in blankets and tossed the bundles into a huge bomb crater outside. Adolf and Eva lying side by side with the dog on top of both.

Gasoline was poured over the bodies, a match was struck and, as the flames shot up, the burial party left the scene.

AP SPECIAL REPORT

broadcast that the fuhrer died "the death of a hero at the head of his troops defending the Reich capital."

But when the war ended, the story of his death was pieced together from testimony of those who survived.

Over the years rumors bubbled through the world that Hitler had survived; had escaped in a submarine to South America; had holed up in the Alps.

Until recently, the Russians kept silent about what they found.

They finally talked, they said, because a West Berlin prosecutor had filed charges against Hitler to assure his prosecution for crimes against humanity if he should ever turn up, after the expiration of the statute of limitations.

Yelena Rshetskaya, a member of a Soviet army intelligence team charged with arresting top-ranking Nazis, said in a radio report there was a refutable evidence that Hitler had died.

Miss Rshetskaya described in detail how the bodies of Hitler and Eva Braun were found in the bomb crater but did not say where the remains eventually were buried.

'Shadow of Death' Her Companion

BENTON, Ark. (AP) — Factor 10, a mysterious blood substance, has cast a shadow of death over the life of 16-month-old Miki Milton.

What's Factor 10? Doctors don't know, exactly. They don't know where it is manufactured in the body, or precisely what it does. They do know that Factor 10 has an influence on clotting.

Miki, whose body isn't producing Factor 10, begins bleeding internally at the slightest bump or strain. Doctors at the University of Arkansas Medical Center in Little Rock have told Miki's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milton, that they know of no other child suffering from the ailment.

7 TRANSFUSIONS

So far, Miki has had seven transfusions. She faces a life-time of them at ever more frequent intervals. As she grows, she'll need more and more Factor 10.

The Miltons, who live near this central Arkansas city southwest of Little Rock keep constant watch over Miki, their only child. They have split their work schedules — he works days for an airline; she works nights as a laboratory technician.

Neither had ever heard of Factor 10 until Miki's illness was diagnosed a year ago.

The Miltons have turned to doctor after doctor.

The Miltons were married early in 1963. Miki was born on Christmas Eve that year. Since then the couple has not dared to have other children.

WAIT A WHILE

"The doctors have told us to wait a while before having others," Mrs. Milton said.

There is no trace, Mrs. Milton said, of a Factor 10 deficiency in either her family or her husband's.

Miki, like her mother, is blonde and blue-eyed. After a transfusion, she appears as healthy as any other child of her age.

Wanted Detroit Youth Arrested in Chicago

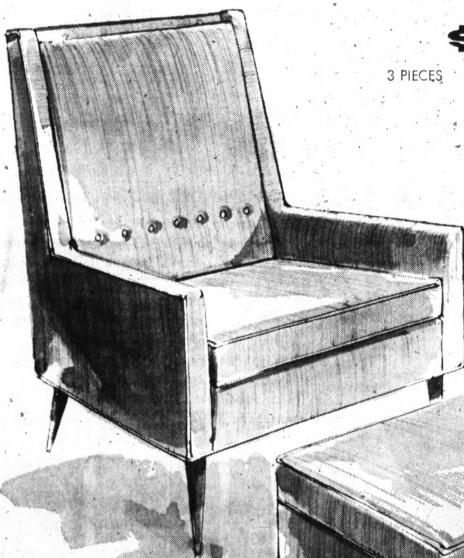

DETROIT (UPI) — Two Detroit detectives were scheduled to return from Chicago today with Ivory Thomas, 18, Detroit, charged with the first-degree murder of Michael Rallsback, 18, last March 30.

White, sought since last Friday, was arrested by Chicago police while going into the apartment of his brother, Willie on the South Side. He waived extradition before a Chicago magistrate yesterday.

Modern Woman's Life Divided Into Seven Stages

Mrs. John H. Bryant, Birmingham, is the mother of three school age children. She watches Randy, 12, and Linda, 15, as they leave for Bar-nun Junior High School. Randy broke his leg in a skiing accident a few weeks ago.

Mrs. William Rexford, Birmingham, has three young children. Shown here in a loving pose with her mother is five-year-old Susan. Not pictured are nine-year-old John and three-year-old David.

Many young married women work for a few years before they have children. Mrs. Brian Murphy, Ferndale, not only teaches English at Oakland University, but is doing graduate work at Wayne State University. No wonder the books pile up!

Virginia Walter, Birmingham, is a single woman with a job. She is a secretary in the Detroit firm of J. Walter Thompson Company.

When a woman's children go away to college or marry, she has many hours of free time on her hands. These hours are no problem for Mrs. Ethel Higgins of Birmingham. She is director of Christian education at Christ Church, Cranbrook where this picture was taken.

Now that her husband has retired, Mrs. Howard J. Liverance of Walbri Drive intends to take up golf. She made it clear to the photographer that it is HER clubs she is polishing. Golf is her husband's hobby and she intends to enjoy it too.

Woman's Role Today Contrast to the Past

Yesterday's woman grew up, married, had her babies and settled down to be a domestic person for the rest of her life. Her job was done within the confines of the family and she neither wanted nor expected anything else.

All of a sudden the picture has changed. Today's woman is not one but several persons, depending upon her age and her family situation.

For the past year, Mrs. Priscilla Jackson of the Mott Center at Oakland University has been talking to women's groups about the seven stages of their adult lives.

Women who are actually in these stages are shown on this page. They are the women who will speak of their problems, their necessary knowledges and skills, their plans, their hopes and their failures at the May 6 women's conference at Oakland University.

For the third successive year area women will have a chance to take a good look at "Women's Alternatives in Amiable America."

After the first general meeting, three other meetings on May 13, 20 and 27 will give women the opportunity to explore more in depth what their alternatives are in education, volunteer work and employment.

Women may attend one or all of these conferences. Speakers of both national and local reputation will appear on the programs.

Attends Congress

Mrs. E. G. Clark of Silver Lake Road attended the 74th Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The congress was held last week in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Carl Clifford of North Telegraph Road has returned from Orlando, Fla.

Mrs. William Lloyd Kemp, Bloomfield Village, is in the seventh stage of a woman's life; she is the widow of the late Dr. Kemp, a Birmingham pediatrician. Mrs. Kemp travels often to visit her grown children and is active in such organizations as the Bloomfield Hills branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

Face the Music

Grow Up and Light Up

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for eight years. I have been smoking for ten years but I have never smoked in front of my in-laws because they think it's a crime for a woman to smoke a cigarette.

My children (4 and 6) have seen me smoke, and I am on edge all the time for fear one of them will mention something about it to their grandparents.

I have never TOLD the children not to say anything about it because, knowing children, that's the first thing they'd tell.

I feel very guilty about this. Should I continue to hide the fact that I smoke from my in-laws, or should I smoke in front of them and take the consequences?

TWO-PACK PATTY
DEAR PATTY: A woman

who is old enough to be a wife and mother is old enough to smoke if she wants to.

Either quit smoking and make an honest woman of yourself, or light up in front of your in-laws.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MRS. X" IN MADISON: One woman's left-overs can be another woman's banquet.

Robert Yarbroughs Take Trip to Niagara

The Robert W. Yarbroughs (Patricia A. Gottschall) who were wed recently in the Central Methodist Church, are in Niagara Falls for their honeymoon.

The Nolan R. Gottschalls of Wisner Street are parents of the bride who chose white Rochelle lace over taffeta with chapel train for vows pledged before Dr. Milton Bank.

ORGANZA CAP

A lace-trimmed organza cap caught her bouffant illusion veil. She carried red roses and cascading white carnations.

Mrs. Joel Brown, honor matron, and Mrs. Charles Ryan, bridesmaid, wore semi-sheath Empire dresses of yellow taffeta and white tulle. They carried white daisy pompons.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Loran A. Yarbrough of West Ypsilanti Avenue and the late Mr. Yarbrough, had David Knight for best man.

William Gottschall and Nolan R. Gottschall Jr. ushered at their sister's wedding.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. William O'Sullivan of Boston, Mass., attended the wedding and the reception in Fisher-Body Union Hall.

Safety Head Speaks to Study Group

Lt. Donald Kratt, head of the Safety Division of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, spoke to members of the Child Study Group III Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Fred Mills of Niagara Road.

Lt. Kratt, who was introduced by Mrs. Robert Irwin spoke on safety around the lakes and showed a film stressing mouth to mouth resuscitation.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Donald Rath, Mrs. John E. Hubbard and Mrs. Charles Miller. Guests for the day were Mrs. Richard Zimmerman and Mrs. Donald Dawson.

TO MEETING

The in-coming president, Mrs. Edward W. O'Brien and first vice president Mrs. Emil Bair will attend the Southeastern Child Study planning meeting Saturday in Holly.

The all-day affair will include instructional sessions conducted by state officers on programming, participation in civic activities, and accomplishments and goals of clubs. Featured speaker will be Esther L. Middlewood, chief of the education section of the Michigan Department of Mental Health.

On May 25, the group will attend a luncheon at the Onaga Trail home of Mrs. Carl W. Bird.

Republican Club Meets

Twenty-five members of the Pontiac Republican Women's Club met recently at the Mark Street home of Mrs. Emma Pelican.

Guest speaker Jack Hays of Judge Philip Pratt's office was introduced by Mrs. Philip Pratt. He spoke on criminal activities among the youth of today.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Charles Allen, Miss Mary Robert and Mrs. Paul Gorman.

Mrs. Pratt will open her West Iroquois Road home for the May 24 meeting.

Pair Goes to Florida

Mr. and Mrs. William Smith of Mark Avenue who were wed recently in the Central Methodist Church, left for a three-week honeymoon in Tampa, Fla.

The bride, who is the former Maxine Allen, resided on Cameron Avenue.

Dr. Milton H. Bank performed the ceremony.

St. Trinity Sets Dinner

The Parent Teacher League of St. Trinity Lutheran School will hold a Swiss steak dinner from 5 to 7 p.m., Thursday at the school.

Tickets may be purchased at the door. Proceeds from the dinner will be donated to the school's sports program.

Assisting committee chairman Mrs. Bruce Burmeister with the dinner is Mrs. Arnold Altemann.

Revolving Racks Are Now Available

If your closet is small, a revolving clothes rack such as those used in department stores will help you to save space.

These now are available in sizes small enough to permit you to double your present clothes-hanging capacity.

What Mother Should Tell You If You're Getting Married

Don't risk disappointment by having a friend attempt to photograph your wedding. Photographs can't be taken over again. In years to come your wedding picture story will recall the happy moments. Don't trust it to an amateur.

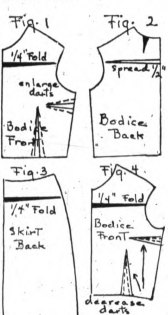

Professional portraits are not as expensive as most is about the same as paying brides think. Per picture cost for your own film, flash bulbs and having prints made.

Visit two studios before you decide on a photographer—compare quality and price but don't be talked into black and white. It's obsolete. Look into a mirror. Much of your beauty is color. Months make your appointment. If your wedding is within 6 months soon as professionals take only one wedding a day and most are already booked for months. Kendale Studios, who have been photographing weddings for 20 years, has a complete b/w wedding for $89.50. Price includes four extras—5x7 newspaper glossy, car wedding sign, album and information sheet for newspaper.

center back 3 inches below the waistline, tapering to nothing at the side seams. This will make more of a curve at the waistline and a shaped facing for the skirt will be more satisfactory than the ordinary waistband which is cut straight.

● EXTREMELY FLAT CHESTED: Take a 1/4 inch fold at center front of bodice, 4 inches below shoulders, tapering to nothing at armhole. Decrease the size of both the underarm dart and the dart under the bust.

Dear Eunice:

I am planning to make some linen dresses for summer, but after the experience I had last summer I'm afraid to begin. I made a beautiful linen dress, had it cleaned and it came back at least one size smaller.

Should linen be preshrunk like wool?

Mrs. P. McM.

Dear Mrs. P. McM.:

Linen is very unpredictable and it is certainly well worth the effort to avoid the same catastrophe. There is no way to tell just how much linen will shrink. It will also depend on whether it is dry cleaned or washed. For anything you intend washing, I would place it in hot water, dry and press before making your garment.

If your garment is to be dry cleaned, I would send it to the cleaners and have them shrink it before construction. This will take a little extra time and probably cost a few cents but it's better to be safe than sorry.

Expect Britain to Reveal Plans to Nationalize Steel

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson is expected to announce in the next day or so his Labor government's plans for nationalizing Britain's steel industry.

The issue is so controversial some observers think it could topple his precariously balanced government if fought in the House of Commons.

Wilson's "White Paper," which may be issued either tomorrow or Friday, is expected to give details for nationalizing the nation's 12 biggest steel firms, the so-called "commanding heights of the economy" producing some 90 per cent of Britain's steel.

It is an undoubted political gamble.

The opposition Conservative and Liberal parties have promised to fight tooth-and-nail to block state ownership of steel. The vast resources of the steel firms themselves will be thrown into the fray. Three of Wilson's own Labor Party members of Parliament are on record as opposing the step, and the party has a paper majority of only three seats in Parliament.

Defeat and the possible collapse of the government over steel is quite possible. Wilson could go to the country again in a new election but there is no guarantee he would win an election fought on the steel issue.

LABOR PARTY PLANK

Steel nationalization always has been a Labor Party plank. During last October's winning election campaign, Wilson promised to bring in a nationalization bill just as quickly as he could. He now seems about to do it.

Wilson himself is ideologically committed to steel nationalization. In a dozen speeches, he has accused the private steel firms of hogging profits, of failing to modernize, of lagging in exports, of price-fixing.

Labor says it wants a sweeping modernization of Britain under a planned economy, and steel nationalization is part of the plan.

When Labor presents its measure it is not expected to touch the majority of Britain's 300-odd steel firms. But by nationalizing the major firms, responsible for nine-tenths of the nation's output, it could have a direct effect on the world steel market, where Britain holds fifth place behind America, Russia, West Germany and Japan.

WHITE PAPER

Wilson's first hurdle will be the debate on the "White Paper" itself. He has said he will not regard a defeat in this debate as reason for resigning.

Then will come the debate and committee hearings on the bill itself. As it will select certain firms for nationalization, rather than bring the entire industry into the arms of the state, it is expected to be a vastly complicated bill that could take months — or as much as two years — to pass.

If it fails, Wilson possibly would be compelled to resign and call a new election.

The Conservatives claim Labor's "hybrid bill" will enable the firms concerned to take the issue to court. The result could be endless litigation.

Britain tried steel nationalization once before, during the last 1945-1951, Labor government. The bill to nationalize the whole industry passed in 1948 and nationalization began in 1950.

OUT

Eight months later, Labor was out of office and the new Conservative government dismantled the whole steel nationalization structure, except for one firm, Richard Thomas and Baldwin in Wales.

Critics claim today that that nationalization failed. But Labor says it was in effect too briefly for any real assessment of its impact on British production, prices and industrial quality.

'Eye Ball' Is Slated by Waterford Lions

The Waterford Lions Club will hold its third annual "Eye Ball" at 7 p.m. Monday at Pine Knob.

A buffet supper will be followed by dancing to the music of the Scarrotto's and entertainment featuring the comedy of Jack Ripley.

All proceeds for the event are used to aid the blind. Tickets are available from club members or at the door.

Theater in Area to Show Films on Cancer Danger

Three cancer education films will be shown to the public free of charge from 1:30 to 3 p.m. Monday at the Huron Theatre, 94 W. Huron, Waterford Township.

The pictures are sponsored by the American Cancer Society as part of its 1965 Crusade, and by the theatre owners who have volunteered their facilities for the event.

The films will present the two-sided danger of cigarettes, the curability of uterine cancer, and the hopeful side of cancer.

Surprise Vehicle Check Nets Host of Violators

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP)—State motor vehicle inspectors and Bridgeport police stopped 1,200 cars and trucks Tuesday in a surprise crackdown.

In all, 560 warnings were handed out and 55 drivers were arrested on a variety of charges involving unsafe vehicles. Police said they found one car that couldn't make a left turn.

New Southern Senator Sees Necessity for Segregation in 'Many Areas'

EDITOR'S NOTE — South Carolina's Democratic Sen. Donald Russell is the newest member of the Senate. After less than a week on Capitol Hill, he gives his views in this exclusive interview on a wide range of subjects.

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Donald Russell, D-S.C., who has been called a civil rights moderate, said today he feels racial segregation "in many areas is necessary and it's for the best interest of both races."

Russell, who resigned last week as governor of South Carolina and was appointed to the Senate vacancy created by the death of Sen. Olin D. Johnston, D-S.C., called for compliance with the 1964 Civil Rights Act but said he opposes the pending Negro voting rights bill.

In an interview with The Associated Press, Russell:

—Said he believes President Johnson has lost political support in the South by his advocacy of the voting rights measure but has "gained immeasurably in esteem" by his firm policy in Viet Nam.

OUT OF SOUTH?

—Said Negroes are moving out of the Southern states and the proportion of white population is gaining, thus offsetting increases in the Negro vote.

—Said the South seems to be moving toward a two-party status politically.

Here, in answers to questions, are his views:

Q. You're a moderate on civil rights and represent what is called the new South. How do you define your role?

FAIR AND JUST

A. I don't know where you got the characterization. I have attempted in my policies as governor to be fair and just to all.

I do feel that there are areas in which it is better for both races that we follow the policy of some segregation. On the other hand, we have observed punctually and very carefully any court orders and we have tried to comply with the law.

I think that in keeping with the feeling of the majority of the people of South Carolina, and I think we have made quite a record in that regard.

I think, as a result of it, it has contributed to a spirit of racial peace that has aided in the growth and development of our state.

Q. You're still in favor of limited segregation?

NOT JUSTIFIED

A. Yes, I think that there are many proposed acts that I don't think would be justified at the moment, and I certainly am opposed to the voting rights bill that is now pending. I do not think there is any need for it as far as South Carolina is concerned.

I was governor for two and a half years approximately and so far as I know there was never a complaint at any time during that period that the literacy test had been used to discriminate against anyone on account of his race, color or creed. We have attempted to be fair and just and I think the registration would show that.

Q. In what specific areas do you think segregation is the best policy?

A. Well, I do not believe that immediate integration of schools, facilities — and here I'm speaking about the public schools — would be in the interest of either Negroes or whites.

Q. Yet, you put the first Negro into a white public school in your state, isn't that true?

A. That is true. There was an order of court that provided for it. We observed that order of court.

NOT GENERAL

Q. But you're still not for general school integration?

A. Right.

Q. Are you for integration in public facilities, such as theaters, bowling alleys, restaurants and things like that?

A. Most of, practically all of, your restaurants and your theaters are covered by the Civil Rights Act of '64. So, it's not a question of whether we think it's right or not, it's a matter that it is the law and we have to observe it.

Q. You campaigned for President Johnson in your state and the Republicans carried it. How does Johnson stand there now?

A. I think there are two new currents and what effect the two of them may have, I don't know.

FIRM POLICY

Q. One, I think the President has gained immeasurably in the esteem of the people of our state by his firm policy in Viet Nam. I think on the contrary he has undoubtedly lost support on account of his support of the voting rights bill.

Now to what extent they'll be pluses and minuses this year—to what extent it balances out, I wouldn't want to say.

Q. Do you think the Negro vote eventually will become a decisive factor in Southern states?

A. Of course the size of the Negro vote has been increasing. On the other hand, the Negro population has been moving out of many of the Southern states in heavy numbers, and that's true in our state.

PROPORTION HIKE

The proportion of white population in South Carolina has been constantly increasing over a period of the last 30 or 40 years. We are increasing in population, but we are increasing because of migration of whites, despite heavy out-migration of Negroes.

I assume that same pattern might be occurring in most of the other Southern states.

Q. Is it politically dangerous to be a civil rights moderate?

A. Well, I don't know. I would think that most of the people in South Carolina — and I can only speak of my own judgment there — believe that we should try to observe the law. I think what most of us feel is that segregation in many areas is necessary and it's for the best interests of both races.

On the other hand, there is no

Responding yesterday were Los Angeles police officers.

Possession of a machine gun is illegal, Alexander was told. But Alexander, a plastering contractor, explained that his Tommy gun is the pneumatic type — it shoots only plaster.

disposition on the part of our people to violate the law or to engage in any violence.

Q. Has the Republican party become a permanent fixture in South Carolina at this point?

A. I feel that it probably has, although I think it's a little premature to say that it has. But certainly the Republican party in South Carolina at the moment is a very active and very aggressive party with a dedicated group of workers.

I don't think any Democratic nominee could take lightly a Republican opponent in South Carolina and I don't think any will.

Q. Do you think the South

eventually is coming to the two-party system?

A. I think that probably is true, that it will move into a two-party situation.

Independence Near

Election Stakes High in Mountainous Basutoland

Maseru, Basutoland (UPI) — A catchy tune called "Come and Vote on April 29" is at the top of the hit parade in this mountainous British colony.

The elections will prepare the way for independence next year.

The gay guitar rhythms of the song — the idea of the Basutoland information department — are heard over loudspeakers throughout the territory. The song is followed by lectures to Basutoland's 400,000 voters on what is a stake.

Independence for Basutoland will bring with it more than the usual share of problems experienced by new Africa nations. Basutoland is poor, like its neighbors; and campaigning has been bitter — four men were killed last fall by political rivals.

But the biggest problem is Basutoland's location. It is entirely surrounded by the white-ruled republic of South Africa, and its economy depends totally on that of South Africa.

How to deal with South Africa is the main dividing point among the three evenly matched contenders for political power when Basutoland becomes the new kingdom of Lesotho in 1966.

These are the parties: The Basutoland Congress Party (BCP), the best organized and the favorite to win in the towns. It is an African socialist party with strong pro-Ghanaian leanings. It gets money from Accra and Cairo but derides reports that Communist China aids it financially.

Last year, BCP leader Ntsu Mokhele visited Accra, Cairo, and Peking, but not Moscow. Basutoland's small communist party, which is not contesting the election, is bitterly anti-congress, and follows the Moscow line.

The BCP is strongly anti-British and favors a boycott of South Africa to force it to change its racial policies — even at the cost of Basutoland's economic ruin.

The Marema Tlou Freedom Party (MFP), which draws its main support from the traditional chiefs. It is anxious to cooperate with both Britain and South Africa.

"We do not want to lose British protection until we are able to stand on our own feet," MFP leader Justice Mokotso said. "In addition,

Killer of Bus Driver Gets Life in Prison

DETROIT (UPI)—A sentence of life imprisonment was imposed on Maes White, 32, Detroit, for the murder of a DSR bus driver last Nov. 18.

The sentence was mandatory. White had been convicted of first-degree murder in the death of Lucian Frying, 40, in an attempted holdup. Police said the gun used in the shooting was found in the trunk of White's car.

healthy relations must be established between Basutoland and South Africa without putting ourselves at the mercy of the Republicans (in South Africa)."

The Basuto National Party (BNP), which calls itself a conservative party but is labeled reactionary by its opponents. They charge it is financed by prominent white nationalists in South Africa and wants to integrate Basutoland into the native republics or Bantustans being set up by the whites there.

The BNP denies these charges and says it would not want to amalgamate with South Africa even if it were ruled by blacks.

LOWER ECHELON

The BNP is supported mainly by lower echelon chiefs and the Roman Catholic one-third of Basutoland's population. Like the MFP, it is prepared to accept foreign aid from any country, but favors the West.

Basutoland will need foreign aid to survive. It has few

Won't Go Very Far as a Prize-Winner

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Herbert E. Harrison, who lives in Middletown, Pa., 10 miles from the state capital, won first prize when he submitted the winning name for a new state office building.

His prize — an all-expense-paid trip to the capital.

The first successful plastic substance was discovered a century ago, when a manufacturer of billiard balls offered a $10,000 reward to anyone who would produce an adequate substitute for natural ivory.

Johnson Wants Support for His SE Asia Policy, but Vows Not to Yield to Aggression

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — President Johnson clearly wants to win as much support as possible over the world for his policies in Viet Nam but he is also grimly determined not to run U.S. strategy in the Vietnamese war as a popularity contest.

These two attitudes were sharply defined by a presidential statement and replies to questions at a White House news conference Tuesday.

In line with what the President said, officials discounted the impact of "severe disapproval" of the war which was expressed by French President Charles de Gaulle in a speech at Paris an hour earlier.

This was the second time in five days that a top administration spokesman had dealt directly with criticisms of the U.S. role in Viet Nam which had been made both at home and abroad.

Last Friday night Secretary of State Dean Rusk assailed critics for talking "nonsense" when they say the United States should find some quick way of getting out of Viet Nam or should at least halt the bombings in the north.

When the President was asked specifically whether he thought the United States was losing friends around the world because of its military operations against the Communists, he summed up his reaction in these words:

"We're resisting aggression, and as long as the aggressors attack we'll stay there and resist them whether we make friends or lose friends."

MANY UNDERSTAND

But actually, he said, this country has many friends throughout the world, and he argued in substance that many other governments understand what the United States is trying to accomplish in the defense of South Viet Nam.

He asserted that a successful Communist conquest would threaten all free nations and would endanger the freedom of the United States itself.

The issue of the popularity of the anti-Communist fight in Southeast Asia is regarded here as an important one. It bears upon the judgment of North Vietnamese leaders and behind them the leaders of Red China as to whether the Reds can eventually win in Viet Nam or whether they may have to settle the conflict on terms acceptable to South Viet Nam and the United States.

Earlier this month the North Vietnamese called for organization of a worldwide movement to bring pressure on the United States as "an imperialist aggressor" to get out of South Viet Nam. The call was enthusiastically endorsed by Red China in a declaration in which it also threatened to send its own people to fight against the U.S. forces in Southeast Asia.

DEMONSTRATIONS

Authorities here believe the Reds in Hanoi and Peking may hold strong hopes that demonstrations against the United States will force the President to change his policies and move toward a willingness to make peace on terms acceptable to them.

In various ways Tuesday Johnson seemed to be saying to the Communists that they should abandon any such notions because he is determined to see the fight through to a finish — and the only conclusion acceptable to him will be one which leaves South Viet Nam free and independent.

New York City's Empire State Building, tallest office structure in the world, attracts nearly 2 million visitors a year. It offers an 80-mile view on a clear day.

North Viet Boats, Barracks and Roads Blasted in 7 Air Raids

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American and Vietnamese planes hammered North Vietnamese patrol boats, barracks and roads in seven raids today, military spokesmen reported.

A U.S. spokesman said Navy jets and Skyraiders left one boat burning in the water at the Quang Khe naval base, two beached and a fourth damaged slightly. Quang Khe is 50 miles north of the border between North and South Viet Nam.

All the U.S. and Vietnamese planes reportedly returned safely.

Four U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs made another attempt to bring down three-span Bai Duc Thon bridge but apparently failed. The pilots reported moderate damage to the bridge.

PREVIOUS RAIDS

The Bai Duc Thon bridge is in a valley 160 miles south of Hanoi and was the target of three previous raids. Air Force pilots reported Tuesday they had bucked one of the spans.

On the ground the Viet Cong smashed into a Vietnamese ranger outpost 20 miles west of Saigon, killing 35 government troops, wounding 10 and seizing a large quantity of arms, including a light machine gun and seven submachine guns. Ten rangers were reported missing.

The attackers also poured 81mm mortar fire into the Bao Trai post, two miles from the ranger position, killing one government soldier and wounding six. Some of the rounds fell into a civilian concentration camp, wounding 30 prisoners.

U.S. light jet bombers made a vain search of North Vietnamese highways Tuesday night for military convoys. A U.S. spokesman said the eight B57s finally dropped 4½ tons of bombs and a quantity of rockets on Routes 7, 8 and 12 in an effort to cut the roadways.

GROUND WAR

In the ground war, 1,600 government troops began an operation 60 miles south of Saigon, along the swampy coast of Kien Hoa Province.

The troops drew heavy fire from the guerrillas, but it was not immediately known how extensive the engagement was. Two Viet Cong companies are reported in the area.

One battalion of troops landed by helicopters and the second moved in from the sea in landing craft. About 80 helicopters, including 22 armed ones, were involved. The landing zone was softened up earlier by American F100 and B57 bombers.

A Viet Cong, identified as a Communist province chief, was wounded and captured in the landing.

TOXIC CHEMICALS

Radio Hanoi charged that the "United States and its agents" used toxic chemicals in an air raid Sunday on North Viet Nam's Con Co Island.

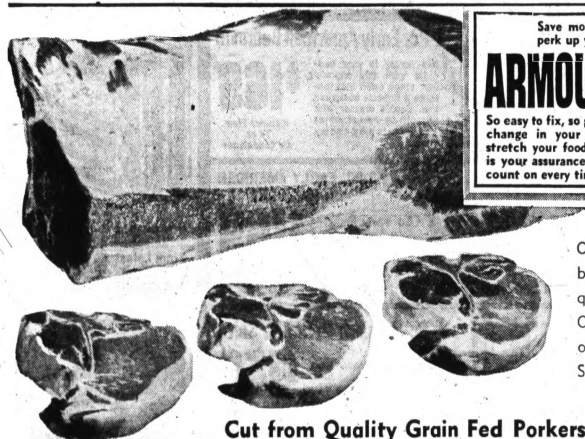

The broadcast said the chemicals caused trees to wither and inflamed or burned the skin of persons who came in contact with them.

Diplomatic sources in Moscow said that one of the senior leaders of the Soviet Union told a visitor in the last 10 days: "We are sending equipment to North Viet Nam for them to shoot down American planes." Neither the official nor the visitor was identified.

Rice a Complementary Food

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

When the family gets tired of potatoes, give them rice.

We sometimes think that rice is not properly appreciated in the United States. Much of the world uses it as a staple food, but we sort of relegate it to second place.

Any of these recipes may be made with the regular white or brown rice. But if a recipe calls for uncooked rice, you can't use instant rice.

Straight from the Southland comes this first recipe for Herbed Chicken and Rice.

This way of preparing rice makes it suitable for serving with almost any kind of meat, poultry or fish.

Herbed Chicken and Rice

3 pounds chicken, cut in serving pieces
Salt and pepper
1/4 teaspoon each savory, rosemary, and tarragon
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups uncooked rice
1 1/2 cups diced celery
3 cups hot chicken broth, optional
1 can (4 oz.) sliced mushrooms

Season chicken pieces with salt and pepper. Mix savory, rosemary, tarragon, and lemon juice and add to butter.

Dip chicken pieces in seasoned butter. Place in a baking pan and bake at 400 degrees for 35 to 45 minutes, or until tender.

Meanwhile, cook rice and celery in remaining seasoned butter until rice is golden. Add broth. Heat to boiling. Stir once. Cover. Reduce heat and simmer 15 minutes or until liquid is absorbed.

Remove from heat and toss lightly with peanuts and mushrooms. Serve with chicken. Makes 6 servings.

Serving rice in a ring makes for an attractive dish. To make a rice ring, butter a ring mold and pack it full of hot rice.

You can unmold it at once or place in another pan of hot water and keep it warm in the oven until serving time.

To unmold, run a spatula around the edge and carefully invert the mold onto a heated platter.

Seasoned Rice with Dressing

3 cups cooked rice
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon celery salt
1/2 cup chopped chives
Dressing:
1/2 cup crumbled blue cheese
1/4 cup sour cream
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Paprika

Heat rice in butter until hot through. Add celery salt and chives. Combine cheese and sour cream; add lemon juice and pepper; stir to blend. Serve rice topped with dressing and a sprinkle of paprika.

In this last recipe, you may use instant rice, if you like. Otherwise, cook white or brown rice, according to directions on the box. Then make an interesting Rice and Vegetable Souffle Salad.

Rice-Vegetable Souffle Salad

1 package lime flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1/2 cup cold water
1 tablespoon vinegar or lemon juice
1/2 cup mayonnaise
2 cups cooked cooled rice
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1/4 cup finely chopped cucumber
1/2 cup finely shredded cabbage
1/2 cup grated carrots
Salad greens

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water, vinegar or lemon juice and mayonnaise. Blend well with a rotary beater. Pour into refrigerator freezing tray.

Place in freezing unit and leave until firm about 1 inch from edge but soft in the center. Pour into a bowl and whip with beater until fluffy.

Fold in rice, onion, cucumber, shredded cabbage and carrots. Pour into a well greased or oiled ring mold, or other mold. Chill until firm. Serve on salad greens. This recipe makes 9 servings.

Little Drumsticks

Chicken wings please the budget-minded homemaker, go into a wide variety of dishes. Use the tips for stock or soup, suggests the National Broiler Council, and make miniature drumsticks of the second joint by breading and frying. The little "drumsticks" are great for out-of-hand nibbling party fare.

Mix Seeds, Cheese for New Seasoning

Irene Bernhard's All-Round Seasoning

1/2 teaspoon celery seed
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
1 teaspoon poppy seed
1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1 teaspoon paprika

1 teaspoon sesame seed
1 teaspoon finely grated Parmesan cheese
With a small mortar and pestle grind the celery seed; stir in the remaining ingredients. Sprinkle a suspicion of this seasoning over buttered snap beans, boiled new potatoes or rice; or over greens tossed with salad oil and lemon juice.

Egg Preference a Give-Away

Eggs — or personalities — show when a person voices a preference for a style of cooked eggs... or so an unknown psychiatrist claims.

For example, hard-cooked eggs are supposedly preferred by one who is persistent, dynamic and sincere.

Soft-cooked eggs are preferred by a gentle, patient, kind person.

Medium-cooked selection indicates a calm, cool and collected composure.

Poached eggs supposedly are preferred by the speedy, peppy and intelligent. Scrambled — first choice of most Americans — suit the artistic, nervous and passionate.

Among fried egg styles, differences exist. Sunny-side up eggs are selected by the happy, healthy and wise, while the versatile, magnetic and dominant prefer turned-over eggs. Shirred eggs suit the fancy of the fastidious, romantic and sensitive. A sturdy, reliable, conservative type is likely to choose an omelet.

Turning the tables, now, and "reading" the personality of eggs, one might label them sensitive (to heat); artistic (as in meringues); practical (in general use) and versatile (as shown by the many and varied uses).

All of which indicates — if nothing more — that eggs can be fixed in many ways... and all are popular.

Furthermore they can be served economically, too, because of the attractively priced abundance currently reported by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Use Honey for Sugar?

When using honey instead of sugar in baked goods, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service recommends reducing the amount of liquid by  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup for each cup of honey used. Use the same amount of honey as sugar required.

Add a little extra salt to bring out sweetness and prevent over-browning. Lower the baking temperature 25 degrees.

Canned Pears Go in Curried Lamb

Spring and lamb are synonymous. But what to do with the lovely meat left from Sunday's leg of lamb? Here's a meal suggestion that could never be classed as a left-over.

Savory, spicy lamb curry, rich with lamb gravy, onions, mushrooms and juicy canned pears. Pile it high on a bed of fluffy white rice and serve with the traditional chutney and peanuts. Delicious enough for company fare.

With convenience foods like canned Bartlett pears and button mushrooms on hand, gourmet dinners can be prepared with many of the planned-over meats. Be sure to refrigerate left-over gravies and meats immediately.

Meat left on the bone tends to dry more quickly so take an extra minute to slice it before refrigerating in a good wrap. If you don't plan to use it in 2 or 3 days, freeze the meat for future use.

Bartlett pears from the Pacific Coast are canned at their peak flavor. This delicate, tender fruit adds just the right texture and flavor to the spicy curried lamb.

Easy-Do Lamb Curry
1 (1 lb.) can Bartlett pear halves
2 tablespoons oil
1 medium onion, chopped
1 small green pepper, chopped
1 cup lamb gravy
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon curry powder
2 cups cooked lamb, cut in bite-size pieces

1 (4 oz.) can whole mushrooms
Drain pears. Cut enough halves into bite-size pieces to make 1 cup. Heat oil in skillet, sauté onion and green pepper until tender, not brown. Add lamb gravy and curry powder. Heat and blend together.

Add lamb, cut-up pears and drained mushrooms. Cover and heat well. Serve over hot fluffy rice. Use chutney, salted peanuts and remaining pear halves for accompaniments. Makes 4 servings.

Surprise Waits in Chowder

Pickle-Clam Chowder is a satisfying soup for lunch or supper on a meatless day. Sweet fresh cucumber pickles impart a piquancy to this popular dish.

Pickle-Clam Chowder

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup chopped onions
1 cup boiling water
2 cups potatoes, cut in  $\frac{3}{4}$ -inch cubes (about 2 large potatoes)
 $1\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoons salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon pepper
1 jar (6 ounces) whole clams
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup sweet fresh cucumber pickles
 $2\frac{1}{4}$  cups milk
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup light cream

Melt butter. Add onions and cook over medium heat, stirring occasionally, until onions are browned. Add boiling water, potatoes, salt and pepper. Cover and cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, 15 minutes, until potatoes are tender.

Add undrained clams and pickles. Heat to serving temperature. Combine milk and cream; scald. Add milk mixture to clam mixture. Serve immediately. Makes about 2 quarts.

ICE CREAM PUNCH — Food for teen-agers should be both filling and nutritious. Ice cream punch is both. Combine 1 6-oz. can frozen pineapple juice concentrate, defrosted, with 1 10-oz. package frozen strawberries, defrosted, and 1 pint strawberry ice cream. Blend until smooth. Pour into chilled punch bowl. Add 4 7-oz. bottles chilled lemon-lime carbonated beverage. Spoon 1 pint strawberry ice cream over top. Serve in punch cups. Makes about 9 cups punch.

Fit the Crust

When making a two-crust pie, cut the top crust to fit the size of the pan so it will be inside the outer crust. You will have a nicer-looking pie without so much outside crust.

To Baste Fish

Ever mix a little orange juice with melted butter and use this blend as a baste for broiled fish fillets? Garnish with curls of orange peel and membrane-free orange sections.

Spicy Cookies Full of Dates

There are quite a few ingredients in the recipe for "Spicy Date Crackles" but these cookies are easy to prepare and their wonderful fresh California date flavor makes them worth every minute spent in the kitchen.

Spicy Date Crackles

1 cup California dates
 $2\frac{1}{2}$  cups sifted all-purpose flour
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon allspice
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon ginger
2 teaspoons baking soda
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup soft shortening
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup butter or margarine
1 cup brown sugar, packed
1 egg
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup molasses
Grated sugar for dipping
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup sliced almonds

Cut dates into small pieces; sprinkle with a little flour. Sift together remaining flour, salt, spices and baking soda.

Cream shortening, butter and flour mixture. Chill.

Shape dough into  $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch balls; dip one side in granulated sugar. With sugared side up, arrange balls 2 inches apart on greased cookie sheet. Garnish with almonds.

Bake in 375-degree (moderately hot) oven about 12 minutes, or until done.

Lots of Good Things in Salad

Let a hearty lettuce salad made with seafood or cheese and vegetables give welcome variation to your meatless meals. Served with toasted French bread, a filling soup and warm gingerbread for dessert. It's a meal that will bring your family to the table in a hurry.

It will also give them the protein, minerals and vitamins they need to grow on.

On the minerals and vitamins side of the ledger, western iceberg lettuce, green beans and red apples rack up a good score, especially on vitamin A.

According to the USDA Table of Food Values, a 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch head of lettuce contains 2,700 International Units of vitamin A, or half the amount an adult needs each day.

Three ounces of shrimp provide exactly the same amount of protein as a 3-ounce, or average-sized, hamburger.

In this Mediterranean Shrimp and Lettuce Salad, 2 pounds of shrimp are used, so if served to 6, each person is getting more protein than he would from a hamburger.

In addition, the salad also has cottage cheese — another good source of protein. So rest easy about feeding your family well when you serve —

Mediterranean Shrimp and Lettuce Salad

1 head western iceberg lettuce
1 package (9 ounces) frozen Italian green beans
2 packages (12 ounces each) frozen shrimp
1 jar (3 $\frac{1}{2}$  ounces) cocktail onions
2 cups cottage cheese

$\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup low calorie French dressing
2 red apples, cored and sliced

Core lettuce; wash in cold water and drain well. Place in plastic bag or wrap in transparent plastic wrap; refrigerate.

Cook green beans according to package directions; chill. Combine green beans, shrimp and onions with liquid.

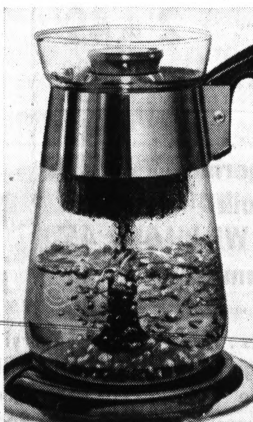

Line bowl with outer lettuce leaves; shred remaining lettuce and place in center of platter. Sprinkle cottage cheese with salt and place in center of lettuce.

Toss shrimp-green bean mixture with French dressing and arrange around cottage cheese in four parts separating with apple slices. Serve with ad-

Your Family Is Sure to Like Well-Prepared Vegetables

What is more monotonous than the same vegetables appearing in the same way at each meal? If you are heroically trying to poke vegetables into your family, take time for a second thought: you get tired of the same vegetables too.

Let your family out of the vegetable doldrums by serving something different such as eggplant, okra, artichokes. You may be surprised at how fast some of these vegetables are.

Or take the old favorites and dress them up.

Creole Corn combines corn and tomatoes topped with a sprinkling of buttered-herb seasoned stuffing croutons.

Your family really does like vegetables, but they'll like the old regulars even more when served in these special ways.

Creole Corn
1/2 cup finely chopped onions

1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 cups (1-lb. can) whole tomatoes
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 cups (1-lb. can) whole kernel corn, drained
1 cup herb seasoned stuffing croutons

Cook onions in 2 tablespoons of the butter until tender. Add tomatoes, green pepper, sugar, salt and pepper. Simmer 10 minutes. Stir in corn and heat thoroughly.

Melt remaining butter in small frypan. Sauté stuffing croutons until lightly browned. Pour Creole Corn into heated serving dishes; top with buttered croutons.

Serve immediately. Yield: 6 servings.

Swiss Green Beans
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon grated onions
1 cup dairy sour cream
4 cups drained, cooked French cut green beans
2 cups ready-to-eat high protein cereal
2 cups (1/2 lb.) grated process Swiss Cheese

Melt butter, stir in flour, salt, pepper, sugar and onions. Add sour cream gradually, stirring constantly. Cook until thickened, stirring occasionally. Fold in green beans; heat thoroughly. Pour into greased 1 1/2-quart baking dish. Combine high protein cereal and grated cheese. Sprinkle over beans. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) about 20 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

Fresh Carrots Au Gratin
2 cups corn flakes or 1/2 cup packaged corn flake crumbs

3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

2 cups fresh carrots, thinly sliced
1/2 cup finely cut onions
1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup flour
1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup grated Cheddar cheese
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

If using corn flakes, crush into fine crumbs. Combine corn flake crumbs and melted butter; set aside.

Simmer carrots and onions in water seasoned with salt and pepper until tender; drain. Melt butter, stir in flour. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook until thickened, stirring occasionally.

Pour into greased 1-quart baking dish. Top with buttered crumbs. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) about 20 minutes. Yield: 4 servings.

New Peanut Butter Chips and Toasted Filberts Make This Candy Roll Outstanding

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you are in the mood to try a new sweet, we think you will like this candy roll. It was much enjoyed at our house.

This candy is made with the new peanut - butter flavored chips and it is rolled in filberts.

The filberts, by the way, take on extra flavor when they are blanched, sliced and toasted according to our directions.

One caution: serve this candy promptly. It softens if it is allowed to stand around at room temperature; on the other hand, if the finished product is chilled over-long, the filberts lose their crispness.

Peanut Filbert Candy Roll

¾ cup butter
3 cups unsifted confectioners' sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons milk
1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter

¼ cup milk
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
1 package (½ cup) peanut butter flavored chips
3 tablespoons milk
1 tablespoon butter
½ cup filberts (blanched, sliced and toasted)

In a mixing bowl beat the ¾ cup butter; gradually beat in half the confectioners' sugar until fluffy.

Beat in the remaining confectioners' sugar and the salt alternately with 2 tablespoons milk so mixture is creamy and smooth.

In a medium saucepan, stir together the brown sugar, 2 tablespoons butter, ¼ cup milk and the corn syrup. Over medium heat, cook and stir constantly until mixture comes to a boil.

Continue boiling, stirring occasionally, to 248 to 250 degrees on a candy thermometer, or until 1 teaspoon of the mixture dropped into ¾ cup very cold water forms a firm ball when removed from the water. Remove from heat.

Gradually beat in the confectioners' sugar mixture so mixture is smooth and thick. Quickly pour out onto a buttered platter. Let set until firm — about 10 minutes.

Knead ¼ cup of the peanut-butter flavored chips into the mixture and form into 2 rolls; wrap each in wax paper, chill.

Into a small saucepan, turn the remaining peanut - butter flavored chips, 3 tablespoons milk and 1 tablespoon butter.

Over low heat cook and stir constantly without boiling just until the chips are melted and the mixture is smooth. Cool slightly.

Spread 2 tablespoons of the filberts over one end of a sheet of wax paper; with a small spatula spread one-quarter of the slightly cooled chip mixture over half of one of the candy rolls; turn over onto the filberts.

Spread the other side of the roll with another quarter of the chip mixture and turn over onto another 2 tablespoons of the filberts. Coat the second candy roll the same way.

Wrap each roll in wax paper; chill. Makes 2 pounds. Serve as soon as possible after candy rolls are coated and chilled so filberts will be crisp.

To Prepare Filberts: Generously cover shells filberts with boiling water; allow to stand until brown skins will come off easily with the fingers and the help of a small sharp knife.

While filberts are still soft, slice into fairly thin rounds. Spread out on a baking sheet; bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven stirring a few times until light brown and toasted — 8 to 10 minutes.

Mrs. Karl Greimel And One Of Her 'Animals On Call'

Runs 'Noah's Ark' to Escape Routine

By ALLAN S. COLES
How does one find personal freedom?

For Mrs. Karl Greimel of 5719 Lost Lane the feeling of freedom comes while she lies on the floor of a car for hours at a stretch, or perches atop a ladder or fireman's pole.

Donna Greimel is not eccentric — she's just doing the only job she's found that frees her from time clocks and monotony.

Her odd positions are the result of trying to keep one or another of an assortment of animals quiet and happy enough to pose for commercial photographers.

Owner and operator of Animals On Call, Mrs. Greimel supplies animals to advertising agencies for use in TV commercials, newspaper and magazine ads, store displays, movie promotions and the like.

RENTAL AGENCY
Animals On Call is a rental agency operated out of her home, providing almost every type of animal imaginable through agreements with their far-flung owners.

While she has only five dogs, a cat and a horse at home, Mrs. Greimel has hundreds of animals available for work at almost a moment's notice.

A former teacher, she broke away from a more regulated life on an indirect route, guided at first by her collie, Duffy.

Seven years ago, when Duffy (officially 'Royal Scot's MacDonagel Duffy') was three years old, Mrs. Greimel saw an ad. featuring a dog, that upset her.

ANGRY LETTER
She dashed off an angry letter to the advertising agency, complaining about the unattractive appearance of the dog in the ad and offering to find obedience-trained dogs for future ads.

A year and a half went by with no response from the agency. Then, unexpectedly, came a call asking if Mrs. Greimel could furnish a trained dog for a TV commercial.

Not long after, Duffy made his first TV appearance as the pet of the little girl who opens the door to the "Citizens Man" in the insurance commercial.

BUSINESS SNOWBALLED
Business has snowballed to the extent that Mrs. Greimel's book of available animals now includes just about everything except reptiles.

Multiple calls have been developed, such as the recent "Big Top Animal Show" at downtown J. L. Hudson's.

That show used animals provided only by Mrs. Greimel, and included a baby elephant, a bear, a lion cub, a toucan, monkeys, a kinkajou, a llama, a porcupine and trick dogs, among others.

During February's "big snow," an exhibit of 51 different breeds of dogs, titled "Unusual Dogs of the World," opened at Nordland Center, again using animals rounded up from all over the state by Animals On Call.

PERSISTENT KNOCKING
Describing the train of events that led to her present level of activity, Mrs. Greimel attributed success to persistent knocking on agency doors.

"You can't create a demand for the animals," she said. "They don't call you until they need you."

So she makes the rounds of agencies, keeping them stocked with pictures of the animals she has on call and trying to meet their demands, oftentimes near by impossible.

"The best kind of job is when they call and tell you just what they want the animal to do," she said. "Then you can offer them an animal that can do it."

IDEAS IMPOSSIBLE
Sometimes the agencies must be convinced that their ideas are impossible. "They'll call me up in the middle of the winter and want a lamb or a kid. You just can't find them at that time of year — there's no such thing."

In an effort to provide a kid for one agency in the "off-season," she managed to find a midget goat that filled the bill quite nicely.

Success and hard work have really spoiled things for Mrs. Greimel. "It's a fun kind of work," she says, "because you wind up doing really nutty things."

"We had a call for a Dalmatian to be used in a car commercial, and the dog was supposed to look up at a fireman sliding down his pole," she said.

GOT ON POLE
"The dog kept looking at me instead, so I got up there on the pole and it worked out."

In most cases, she takes the animals to the photographers herself, assisted by two girls when necessary.

The owners rarely accompany the animals, but Mrs. Greimel has no trouble getting them to obey her commands.

"They just respond — I don't really know why," she says.

OBEDIENCE CLASSES
"I've trained obedience classes for about eight years, feeling this is a way to give dogs more individuality."

"But I've gone overboard," she admits, "and now everyone calls me 'Duffy's mother.'"

In addition to her work with Animals On Call, Mrs. Greimel teaches beginners to ride at the Stoney Creek School of Horsemanship at 1460 Mead, Avon Township, and worries about the woods house she and her architect husband have been building for more than a year.

"I'm busy, but not regimented," she says, "that's why I started this, really. I never was happy-punching a clock."

AAUW Election Is Scheduled Tonight

ROCHESTER — Election of officers highlights the agenda for tonight's meeting of Rochester Branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW).

Also scheduled for the 8 p.m. gathering at the Avon Township Public Library, 219 W. University, will be discussions on various aspects of the arts in Japan.

Acting Business Exec

Holly Principal Takes New Post

HOLLY — Bruce Mitchell, former Holly Junior High School principal, yesterday assumed new duties as acting business manager for the Holly school system.

The board of education appointed Mitchell to the newly created post on a trial basis.

The position is to be subject to review by a new schools superintendent, expected to be named by the board early next month.

Benjamin Sherman, industrial arts teacher at the junior high school, was named to succeed Mitchell as acting principal.

In his new capacity, Mitchell was assigned three immediate tasks: reorganization of the transportation department, supervision of the school census and supervision of the district's building program.

12 YEARS
Mitchell, 37, has worked in the Holly system for 12 years, the last four as junior high principal.

A resident of Swartz Creek, he holds a master's degree in agriculture from Michigan State University and is earning credits toward one in school business administration.

Sherman, 36, lives at 15387 Mackey, Holly Township. He has been varsity basketball coach at the senior high school and currently is completing work on a master's degree in school administration at the University of Michigan.

Th school board also appointed a new transportation supervisor, Howard Metz of 4220 Bald

Metz retired last week as a sergeant after 25 years with the Detroit Police Department. He succeeds Arthur Bedezny, who resigned from his post as transportation supervisor and has been offered another position in the district.

2 Romeo Classes Set
Reunion on May 23

ROMEO — A class reunion of the graduating classes of 1950 and 1951 of Romeo High School will be held May 23 at the Romeo Youth Center.

School Head 'Overlooked' in Pay Hikes

Nearly everyone who works for the Avondale School District has been given a raise for the 1965-66 school year — except the superintendent.

Schools Supt. George E. Shackelford was denied a requested raise this week by the board of education.

Board members gave Assistant Supt. Charles Johnson a $500 raise, hiking his salary to $12,500.

No one moved to give Shackelford a raise, although the increase awarded Johnson puts him just $500 below the superintendent's salary.

Board Trustee Herbert Mills explained the inaction by saying that "it would have been inconsistent to give a raise to Shackelford when the board has already put itself on record as considering his one-year contract extension as terminal."

AGREEMENT

The superintendent was given the extension until June 1966 last December, under a "gentleman's agreement" that he would leave the district when his contract ran out.

Shackelford called the situation an "inequity."

Mills said the board was unanimous in not wanting to give the superintendent a raise. "I want to put myself on record as being very willing to raise the salary of the superintendent, but not until we have a new one," he said.

Board Agrees on 4 Changes

SOUTH LYON — Among four administrative personnel shifts in the South Lyon school system this week were the appointment of an assistant schools superintendent and the resignation of the district's high school principal.

School board members also have reached agreement on the need for a building bond issue to be placed on the June 14 ballot.

They are expected to adopt a bonding resolution at their May 7 meeting.

Donald Burns, South Lyon Elementary School principal, was appointed to serve as the first assistant superintendent the district has had in a decade.

The post has been vacant since the resignation of Howard Parr 10 years ago.

RESPONSIBILITY

Burns, 37, of 60799 Marjorie Ann, Lyon Township, will be responsible primarily for transportation, building maintenance and accounting.

Now in his ninth year in the system, Burns holds an educational specialist degree from the University of Michigan.

The school board also accepted the resignation of Gerald E. Hartman, who has been high school principal for 18 years.

Hartman plans to continue as a high school mathematics teacher in the district.

Appointed to succeed Hartman was William Adams, Sayer Junior High School principal.

Adams, 46, of 382 Second, has been in the system for two years. He came to South Lyon from Union City, where he had been high school principal for 15 years.

Donald Heidt, 29, of 678 Center Ridge, will become junior high school principal. A graduate of Western Michigan University, Heidt has taught shop here for seven years.

The two-year contract of Schools Supt. Frank Bartlett was renewed.

SALARY SCHEDULE
The board currently is working on a salary schedule for administrators.

It has retained its current teachers' salary schedule for the 1965-66 school year.

The schedule provides a $4,800 starting salary for the holder of a bachelor's degree with a maximum of $7,200 after 12 years.

Teachers with masters' degrees start at $5,100 and work up to $7,740.

In effecting the schedule, board members turned down the request for improvements made by the South Lyon Education Association.

Avondale Chief Moves Up Date for Resignation

Avondale School Board President George Granger will be leaving his post sooner than he originally planned.

Granger resigned effective June 29 several weeks ago, but had to change his plans this week.

In order to give candidates for the vacancy on the board a chance to file nominating petitions for the June school election, Granger will leave the board officially on Friday.

The deadline for filing petitions is May 15.

Granger's resignation, for a combination of personal reasons, "creates three openings to be filled by the electorate in June. Up for reelection are Trustees Herbert E. Mills and Thomas Galloway (board secretary).

U. of M. President Reaffirms Intentions for Permanent Expansion on Flint Campus

LANSING (AP) — President Harlan Hatcher reiterated Tuesday the University of Michigan plans permanent expansion of its controversial Flint campus.

He drew no argument from the Senate Appropriations Committee—a key cog in providing the university with its operating funds. Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, chairman of the committee, told Hatcher with a series of questions designed to draw out favorable argument for expansion of the U-M Flint campus from a two- to four-year operation.

The State Board of Education has recommended that after this fall, U-M admit no freshmen at Flint and that any four-year college in that area be independent and physically removed from present site adjacent to Flint Community College.

Gov. George Romney and a blue-ribbon study commission support the board's position. Flint philanthropist Charles Mott, donor of a $2.4 million building, and Lane are on U-M's side.

"We're going to start it (the four-year operation) and continue it," declared Lane. "That's all the statement that's necessary."

"That's right," said Hatcher. "Once authority is given to you (to begin the program), under the Constitution you can carry on and only you can yield the authority, isn't that right?"

"Yes," said Hatcher. "But if the city were ever dissatisfied with your operation, does it not have the right to move ahead on its own?" the senator asked.

"Yes," said Hatcher. "People who don't know what we have in Flint (a cultural center) are saying we shouldn't have what we want," said Lane. "I just can't understand it."

Lane has often said people of Flint want their children to be able to earn U-M degrees, not from an independent school. Hatcher, referring to a library used jointly by the community college and U-M Flint campus, said "It's folly not to use available facilities."

"All I've heard against the adjacent site is dogma."

Shastri: India Ready for Cease-Fire in Fighting With Pakistan

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri said today India is ready to call a cease-fire in the Rann of Kutch fighting along its western frontier with Pakistan. But he added that his country is "prepared for the alternative."

Shastri also told Parliament his government rejects all Pakistan's claims in the Kutch area near the Arabian Sea.

Pakistan President Ayub Khan had appealed earlier for a cease-fire and negotiations. But Shastri's statement indicated that India and Pakistan would remain deadlocked over the issue of territorial claims that led to the fighting.

NINE TANKS

India has claimed that at least 300 Pakistanis have been killed, wounded or captured in the fighting in the sparsely inhabited area. An official spokesman said nine Pakistani tanks have been destroyed and one disabled. He put Indian losses at 65 men killed, wounded, or missing.

In Karachi, a Pakistani Defense Ministry spokesman denied the India claims of Pakistani losses.

The Pakistani spokesman said after four days of heavy fighting the Indian military outpost of Biar-Bet fell into Pakistani hands and that Pakistani troops have pushed about 20 miles across what India claims is its border along the disputed frontier.

The report means that Pakistani infantry had driven twice as far south as last announced.

The Pakistani spokesman declined to give casualty figures for either side.

Man's Menace to Wildlife Spurs Charles Lindbergh Crusade

WASHINGTON (AP) — The "Lone Eagle" is striving mightily to save elephants, white-winged doves, grizzly bears, prairie chickens and other wildlife from extinction.

Why is Charles A. Lindbergh doing this? Why is he contributing generously from his wealth, why is he twisting the arms of friends to do likewise, why is he talking the subject up zealously, in his quiet, publicity-shy way?

There are two reasons:

He is awed by "God's miracle of life," and he knows that many of God's other creatures are menaced by mankind's all-encompassing advance into the habitats of animals.

He sometimes wonders if progress — as typified by his solo flight over the Atlantic in the little "Spirit of St. Louis" — is worthwhile if it leads to the disappearance of species it took billions of years of evolution to produce.

INTENSE INTEREST

Lindbergh, now 63, has been working quite a while on his more-than-hobby. His intense interest in it was highlighted this week when it was announced that he had been named a director of the World Wildlife Fund.

This organization raises money to save birds and beasts by such activities as preserving natural habitats of dwindling species; encouraging law officers to crack down on poachers; trying to breed rare animals in captivity and then releasing them to the wild.

Lindbergh, whose home is in Darien, Conn., comes to Washington often, and whenever he does, he drops in at the office of the Wildlife Management Institute to ask how the campaign is going.

The president of the institute is Dr. Ira N. Gabrielson, 75, former director of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and world authority on ways to save creatures facing extinction.

LITTLE TO SAY

Knowing Lindbergh's retiring disposition — the flier is extremely averse to news interviews — Gabrielson had little to say about Lindbergh's intense interest in wildlife projects. But other sources pointed to an article Lindbergh wrote for Reader's Digest last year in which he said:

"Is civilization progress? The challenge, I think, is clear; and as clearly, the final answer will be given not by our amassment of knowledge, or by the discoveries of our science, or by the speed of our aircraft, but by the effect our civilized activities as a whole have upon the qualities of our planet's life — the life of plants and animals as well as that of men."

Here is one prime example of what conservationists are doing to meet the challenge mentioned by Lindbergh:

The wild brushlands of the lower Rio Grande Valley have been a paradise for the white-winged dove and many other birds, not to speak of acacia and jaguarundi, a kind of wildcat. But the brushlands have been cleared at an alarming rate to grow cotton, vegetables and citrus.

The Caesar Kleberg Foundation of Texas contributed $200,000, the largest donation Dr. Gabrielson ever set eyes on. Happily he has bought up nearly 9,000 acres of brushlands as a nature preserve, and as more money comes in "I will spend it as fast as I get it."

Businessmen Told to Please Consumers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Commerce Secretary John T. Connor today warned businessmen that they will face more government controls unless they pay more attention to consumers.

"Nothing is more precious to business than consumer confidence."

"Yet today we can detect signs of consumer unrest about some phases of product and service merchandising," Connor said in a speech prepared for delivery to the final session of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce's 53rd annual meeting.

He noted that bills have been introduced to require "truth in packaging" and "truth in lending," and he predicted that there would be more legislation unless businessmen heed the voice of the consumer "before it becomes a shout."

Connor spoke as more than 1,000 Chamber delegates from all over the country prepared to vote on a policy declaration calling for the U.S. government "to explore steps to more effectively open channels of communication with the people of mainland China."

At a news conference yesterday, the Chamber's newly elected president, Robert P. Gerholz of Flint, Mich., came out strongly for more contacts with the Red Chinese, including possibly trade talks.

Typewriters Prove a Hit

ATLANTA (AP)—There is little screaming by children brought by parents to the offices of a suburban pediatrician these days but plenty of typing of sorts.

The doctors sawed the legs off an old table and put several battered old typewriters on it. Now the delighted youngsters bang on the keys while waiting to see him.

They cry when they leave.

King Calls for Vote-Drive Help

WEST LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. yesterday called for 2,000 student volunteers for a "domestic freedom corps" to work this summer in a voter registration drive in 120 southern communities.

Speaking before 4,500 students at the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA) campus, King said there already had been much progress in the Negro civil rights movement.

"But," he added, "we have a long way to go before the problem of racial injustice is solved."

The Nobel Peace Prize winner said that the solution of the civil rights problem is "morally compelling" and referred to those who have died in its pursuit.

"If a man has not discovered something he is willing to die for, he isn't fit to live," King added.

The Baptist minister called upon the students to join him in a massive drive in 120 communities, where voter registration drives will occur. He said his groups needs 2,000 students to work in what he termed a "domestic freedom corps."

King called it the Summer Committee to Organize Political Activity and said it would work in the southern communities after the latest civil rights legislation on voting rights is passed by Congress.

He said the students would be needed to inform the "Negroes of their rights under the bill."

Women Work on High Seas

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP)—The girl-in-every-port tradition doesn't go for some members of the crew of the Norwegian grain carrier Belinda.

There are five women in the crew and four of them are the wives of officers.

Capt. Rangleford Rove says one effect is that there is less swearing among the crew. General behavior and dress among the men have also improved.

Practically all steward's jobs on Scandinavian ships now are filled by women and many Swedish ships carry female radio operators.

Even in Norway, with its seafaring tradition, it's becoming difficult to get men to go to sea, so women are being recruited to fill certain jobs.

ONE PROBLEM

There's one problem, Capt. Rove says. The marriage rate among such women is high. Some ships have solved this problem by recruiting wives of crew members.

Southfield Site OK'd

Little Leaguers to Use County Property

Little League baseball players Edward Maier from Pontiac and Alex Perinoff from Southfield.

The board of supervisors honored Albert Weber and J. Wesley Duncan for their long and distinguished service to the county.

Weber, of Pontiac, was presented a plaque in recognition of his 20 years service as a member and chairman of the board of trustees of the Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

Duncan, in recognition of his 19 years as a supervisor from Rose Township, was awarded a certificate of merit.

Both men retired from public service at the end of last year.

The board purchased the land last June for a future health facility to serve the southern part of the county.

When a request came to the building and grounds committee for use of the land by the young athletes, the committee recommended to the board that a five-year lease be approved at $1 per year with a one-year cancellation clause.

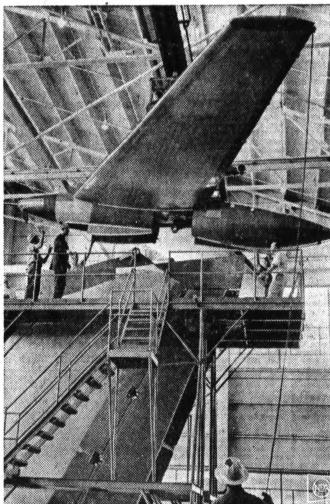

In other business yesterday, the board authorized the County Social Welfare Commission to add 10 new employees at a cost of about $37,000 in order to implement the pilot welfare program as soon as possible.

21 NEW EMPLOYEES

Provision for 21 new welfare department employees was made in the tentative 1966 county budget to allow a stepped-up rehabilitation program aimed at eliminating causes that result in long-term welfare care.

Also yesterday, the board approved the annual report of the Board of County Road Commissioners and approved the road commissioner's appointment of Irwin P. Nichols as its secretary-clerk.

The board of supervisors also filled two vacancies on the county planning commission due to the resignations of Hollis W. Jencks and Ernest W. Seaholm. Named to replace them were

Link Leftist Unit in Plot to Kill Shah

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Iranian security authorities today accused a leftist group with close ties to Communist China of being responsible for a plot to assassinate the Shah of Iran.

In a communique, the security officials said the group persuaded a conscript soldier to fire at the monarch as he entered his office 18 days ago.

The communique said the soldier, Reza Shamsabadi, 22, sprayed bullets at the shah and two of his bodyguards.

As the two guards fell under the burst, they fired back.

GUARDS KILLED

The communique said that after the one-minute battle, both guards and the assailant were dead — but the shah had survived.

The communique said the attacker was influenced by a close friend, a radio technician who worked under Ahmed Mansouri Tehrani Moghadam, a Manchester University of England electricity engineering group who heads Iran's newly formed Communist party group.

The communique said the group has been in close contact with a "foreign power" and has been publicizing Peking ideologies by printing and distributing leaflets. The group also allegedly planned to set up partisan movements against the present regime.

The communique did not elaborate on how the plotters were in contact with Communist China but said they were extremist ideologists who "do not even believe in Soviet communism nor agree with Iran's banned Communist party."

Expect Fast OK on Steel Plan

Agreement Will Delay Walkout Four Months

PITTSBURGH (AP) — United Steelworkers officials with an encouraging nudge from President Johnson, were expected quickly to stamp approval today of a four-month steel strike postponement.

"I hope and I expect that it will be approved by the union's committee," Johnson said in a Washington news conference yesterday.

The President's statement, which also included a pat on the back for union and industry negotiators for their "statesmanlike agreement," reflected the nation's relief at the strike reprieve.

Steel stocks made a strong showing in the wake of the agreement, already inflated by union president David J. McDonald and chief industry negotiator R. Conrad Cooper.

The union's executive board and wage policy committee were expected to give final approval to the agreement postponing Saturday's 12:01 a.m. strike deadline in exchange for an 11.5-cent pay raise for more than 400,000 workers in 10 major steel firms.

Johnson also expressed confidence the union and industry will use the four-month postponement to reach a final settlement. The new strike deadline is Sept. 1.

Fined $56 for Insult

SOUTHEAST, England (UPI) — Swimmer Terence Smith, 19, who ran naked from the sea and demanded a towel to dry himself from two startled women sunbathers, was fined $56 yesterday for "insulting behaviour."

2 Radio Hams Prove It's a Small World

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Thanks to two radio hams 3,000 miles apart, elementary school pupils here and in a village near Quito, Ecuador, joined forces in a bilingual assembly program.

The local children exchanged greetings, songs and descriptions of themselves, their schools and communities with youngsters at Yumbicho, a village near Quito.

Seven Harrison sixth graders spoke in Spanish, while the schools Spanish teacher, Mrs. Elena Zayas, translated the South American descriptions.

C. Robert Fine, who has a ham station in his home here, piped the program by telephone to the Harrison school, where it was heard on a loud-speaker. Dr. Richard Stewart of Atlanta, Ga., on a medical mission in Quito, was host in his station near there.

American families spend an average of 18 1/2 per cent of their incomes annually on food purchases.

Marine Sergeant From Michigan Finds S. Viet Nam Hot in More Ways Than One

By PETER ARNETT
DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — How are U.S. Marines reacting to South Viet Nam, the Viet Cong and the first ground combat with an enemy since the Korean War?
The Reconnaissance Company of the 3rd Marine Regiment has been bearing the brunt of patrol work deep into Viet Cong territory in the past week. Two men were killed and seven wounded in clashes with the enemy.
"I've never sweated so much in my life. This is the hottest country in the world," said M. Sgt. H. W. Rogers of Allen Park, Mich., a World War II veteran.

"Before we came here, I thought that enemy contacts would be few and far between. But now that we are in Viet Nam I find that we are clashing with them every day," said Lt. William Van Kat, a platoon leader from East Paterson, N.J.
ABOUT PEOPLE
About the Vietnamese people: "The peasants out in the villages have amazing endurance. We saw a woman running through a village where we were attacking with intensive ground fire the other day. We arrived inside and she hadn't even been hit, but, man, was she scared."

said Lt. Carmine del Grossi of the Bronx, N.Y.
"We can already tell when we reach the enemy territory. In their villages there are no men. The women and kids appear to hate us. You can feel it. But in the friendly territory people take our candy, salute, smile and wave," said Capt. Pat Collins of Grosse Ile, Mich., the company commander and a veteran of the Korean War.

ABOUT VIETNAMESE SOLDIERS:
"Once we are working with are green infantrymen and they appear hesitant," said Capt. Collins. "They need better leadership and we can give it to them by working with them in four-man teams of two Marines and two Vietnamese. We did this in Nationalist China and in Thailand. This way we can show by example."

ALWAYS SMILING
"They're got terrifying endurance and they are always smiling — well-led, they'll be good," said S. Sgt. Albert Kihlstrom of Worcester, Mass.
About the Viet Cong: "I think they have been built up as supermen but they are just a bunch of bandits," said Lt. Carmine del Grossi.

They charged into a machine-gun nest. They don't need any coaxing," said Del Grossi.
"Morale is starting to lift now that we are getting some combat, doing what we were trained to do. There are no disciplinary problems," said Collins.

Then, talking of tactics, Collins said:
"We can beat the Viet Cong with small unit actions and constant patrolling to keep them off balance. Our strong point is good platoon sergeants and we need quick reaction. The job of our company is to find an enemy and fix him. The infantry zips him. We have brought in a couple of times so far and we are trying to perfect our reaction right now.

"We have two Indian scouts over the hill waiting for a sniper who has been harassing us. They've been there for 24 hours with just an apple and orange each and they will stay there until they get him."
"We are on a defensive role now. Turn us loose and we will show them!"

Junior Editors Quiz on GRAND CANYON

QUESTION: Why haven't other rivers carved out Grand Canyons such as the Colorado has done?

ANSWER: To produce such a stupendous gash in the earth's surface as the Grand Canyon, a very special set of conditions would have to exist, conditions which have not been exactly duplicated anywhere else.

First, there would have to be a river rampaging along at a furious clip of the Colorado—up to 20 miles an hour. This speed—using the half million tons of grinding pebbles and sand it carries through the canyon every day—make it an extremely efficient cutting tool.

It also enables the river to move vast loads of material out of the canyon, giving room for more to tumble down.

To duplicate the Canyon, the rock plateau would have to be a very dry rock strata, capable of being eroded by lashing wind and rain so that enormous amounts of material could roll down to be carried away.

Still another very important condition would be necessary. Over a long time, the Colorado plateau has risen a mile upward because of stresses underneath.

By cutting down, the river has remained about at its original level. These two movements working against each other have helped the Colorado grind out the most majestic bit of natural sculpture nature has to show us.

FOR YOU TO DO: The colors of the canyon walls are amazingly rich and beautiful, ranging from reds and pinks to gold, buff, lavender and gray. These colors are softened by the distance across, with the shadows turned to rich blue and purple. Color the picture, trying to get this magnificent effect.

Fishing Expected to Improve

The fishing outlook is expected to brighten with the weather this week.

Except for two locations, there are plenty of trout remaining in Oakland County's lakes and streams. The bluegills are starting to become active and the smelt are running.

Last weekend's trout opener failed to live up to expectations on Oakland County waters mainly because the anglers stayed away in large numbers. Cold weather Saturday and rain Sunday were the major factors. A warming trend the latter part of this week should bring out the anglers.

The two hotspots were Fenton special trout ponds and the Huron River in the Proud Lake recreation area. Results were fair on Paint Creek and the Clinton River.

Union, Elizabeth and Hart-wigs lakes produced good catches of rainbows although the pressure was light on these waters.

Over 50 anglers congregated around the big hole on the Huron River where it crosses Wixom Road. Several limits of newly planted rainbows, browns and brooks were taken.

"Everyone had at least one or two trout," said Conservation Officer Warren Kendall.

FIVE-POUNDER

Rainbows and browns from 12 to 24 inches and one five-pound brookie were caught with regularity on the two Fenton "flies-only" ponds. Nearly 100 fishermen were observed at the ponds at one time.

The "flies-only" pond at Davistown produced good catches Saturday afternoon.

At least a dozen large brook trout spawners were taken at the special Bald Mountain pond. These squaretails weighed from two to six pounds and were released 10 days ago.

The two new trout lakes in the Bald Mountain recreation area were lightly fished. Randy Meador, 13, of 1421 3rd, caught a 19-inch rainbow that weighed two pounds 10 ounces on Lower Trout using a spinner.

Jim Weakland, 17, of 1940 Alendale, caught a 14-inch spake while casting in one of the Cass Lake canals Saturday morning. He was using a small Daredevil. Spake, a cross between lake trout and brook trout, were planted in Cass last fall and became legal Saturday.

Bluegills and crappies are hitting on Lakeville Lake. Wall-eyes fishing is fair off Peche Island in the Upper Detroit River.

Smelt started running Monday night in the Tawas area. A good run of the silvery fish is reported under the Blue Water Bridge in the St. Clair River at Port Huron. The Pt. Pelee run was strong last weekend and is expected to continue this week.

Scouts Perform 'Good Deed' at Recreation Area

Members of Boy Scout Troop 120 of Waterford Township turned other people's bad deeds into a good deed last Saturday at the Pontiac Lake recreation area.

The troop, under the direction of Bob Becker and Al Martin, formed a cleanup detail for three hours at the request of area manager Paul Wigg.

"They were on a regular outing," explained Wigg, "and we asked if they would help us out. They were more than willing."

The scouts picked up bottles, illegally dumped refuse, and other litter at outlying picnic areas and along a three-quarter mile stretch of one road.

"Most of the trash was from people using the area as a dump," said Wigg. "This is illegal and those responsible can be fined if caught."

'Greatest Personal Satisfaction'

Paris Greeting Elates Lewis

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Long starved for recognition of his comic talent, Jerry Lewis finally had his feast this month. But he had to go to Paris to have it.

For some time now, the comic had been hearing rumors that he had been embraced by intellectuals of France and England. But he didn't realize the extent of his acceptance until he flew to the French capital for location scenes of "Boeing Boeing" with Tony Curtis.

He was mobbed at the airport, then at a news conference. He was interviewed in reverent tones by Paris film critics. The summit of Jerry's happiness was reached when the critics presented him with an award for best direction because of "The Nutty Professor."

"It is hard to express what I felt," says Jerry, whose eyes get misty as he thinks about it. "This was the greatest satisfaction I have ever known in my career. The whole visit to Paris was unbelievable. I was walking 11 feet off the ground most of the time."

COMPLICATED CHARACTER

To realize his joy you must understand the complicated character that is Jerry Lewis. Like all comedians, he needs desperately to be accepted. Despite his 16 years of toil in motion pictures, during which he has been virtually the sole full-time comic star, he has found acceptance only from the public.

"I'd like to hear the eulogies before I'm dead," he said wistfully. "It won't do me any good to have George Jessel say it at the funeral."

That point was driven home to Jerry on his meeting with Pierre Eleix, a French comedian and film maker he was coming about. Jerry said the Frenchman's new film, "The Yo-Yo," and admits that he was "overcome with envy."

The French comedian's first question through the interpreter was: "Have you ever poured your heart and soul into your work, struggling to perfect every line of dialogue, every piece of action — and then find that you are denied the recognition you feel you deserve?"

WERE SOULMATES

Jerry smiled knowingly. By the end of the evening he and Eleix were soulmates. The Frenchman, who has lately been embraced by American highbrow critics, is as little appreciated in France as Lewis is in this country.

Understandably, Jerry has profound respect for the Paris critics. They are truly experts of the cinema, he said, and could discuss with him nuances of individual scenes he had filmed years ago. What pleased him most was that they cherished the films he directed himself.

Does this recognition mean that Jerry is satisfied? Naturally not.

"I'll never be satisfied until I get some kind of recognition from the critics in this country," he said. "I'll never rest until they accept me."

Due to Testify on Auto Treaty

U. S. - Canada Pact Gets Hearing Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Auto industry officials were scheduled to testify before the House Ways and Means Committee today on the workings of the U.S.-Canadian auto trade agreement signed last Jan. 16.

Under the agreement, Canada agreed to eliminate all tariff barriers on autos and auto parts, and the United States agreed to do likewise. However, Congress must act on it.

Republican Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., charged the agreement was "one-sided" in favor of Canada.

However, in Ottawa, members of the government opposition in parliament questioned the value of the treaty to Canada. Some contended the agreement would spell the doom of auto parts production in Canada and have a serious effect on employment in related industries.

The agreement calls for auto manufacturers to expand their Canadian operations by boosting production levels by one third over the next three years.

DEFEND TREATY

Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor, one of the big guns sent by President Johnson to defend the treaty before the House Ways and Means committee, said the arrangement would boost Canada's share of the $5.5 billion North American auto market from its present 4 percent to 5.1 percent.

Connor argued, however, that the growth of the Canadian market would make up for the shifting production pattern and maintain or possibly increase the total volume of U.S. exports.

In addition, the arrangement is reported to guarantee Canada an additional 60,000 automotive jobs by the end of 1968.

Thomas Mann, under secretary of state, said U.S. companies operating in Canada have agreed to increase their Canadian production by about $241 million over the next four years.

Rep. Byrnes, voicing his objections, said "The advantage is on the Canadian side. All we do for our domestic industry is to provide some 'adjustment assistance' at taxpayer expense."

Finds Sunken Treasure off Florida Coast

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A weekend treasure hunter says he has discovered a sunken Spanish galleon off the Florida west coast in shallow water.

Some coins, two solid gold statues, silver bars and silver-laden swords were stored in a St. Petersburg bank after two state agents catalogued them Monday.

"The state has begun an investigation to check their authenticity," agent Philip Tibbadeau said. He said he could not estimate the treasure's value.

John Charles Sykes, 31, made the discovery. He said what he had already salvaged was worth about $50,000 to $75,000 and that he had not begun to work the hulk in earnest.

"It's worth what somebody will pay you," said Sykes, an architectural engineer. "We have been offered $10,000 apiece for the statues."

Sykes said he ran across the wreck by accident more than a year ago.

$15-Million Loan Negotiated by Newspaper Ad

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — As a gimmick, a Cleveland bank ran a newspaper ad which said, "Want to borrow $15 million?" It got a taker, Edward J. DeBartolo shopping center developer, clipped the ad and sent a letter requesting the loan.

The loan, for $14,350,000, was approved Tuesday by the Cleveland Trust Co. to finance construction of a shopping center in Akron.

"This is probably the largest mail order loan in the history of banking," said George Gund, bank chairman.

Raps 'Privacy-Invasive' Questionnaires

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep.

Cornelius E. Gallagher, D-N.J., asked his colleagues today if they would like to answer such true-false questions as these in order to get a job in Congress:

I feel very guilty about my sins.

I like Westerns on television.

I am contented with my sex life.

I love my mother.

I sometimes think that I failed in life.

Flirting is often a lot of fun.

TEST SAMPLE

This test, he said, is a speech prepared for the House, uncovered by House investigators in government files, and is an example of the kind of psychological questionnaires some federal employees and job applicants have to take.

This particular test, he said, goes on for 300 questions "but question 221 really takes the cake." It asks, true or false:

I find answering these questions to be a rather unpleasant task.

"I guess if you answer true to that one, it makes you suspect," said Gallagher, a member of the House Government Operations Committee.

RIGHTS ASSAULTED

Gallagher contended that Americans' right to privacy is being assaulted by "electronic eavesdropping, mail checks, peepholes in work areas and restrooms, trash snooping and other equally alarming intrusions."

But, he contended, that instead of Uncle Sam being in the forefront of the fight against such privacy invasions, some U.S. agencies are among the chief offenders.

Eisenhowers End Stay in California

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Former President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower ended their annual winter vacation in the California desert Tuesday.

Before their train headed east, the Eisenhowers granted a rare visit to six students from the Dwight D. Eisenhower High School in nearby Rialto, and promised to return early next January.

It was the first time that strangers have been permitted aboard the Eisenhower private car.

Tokyo Students Protest

TOKYO (AP) — About 2,000 leftist students held two separate rallies in downtown Tokyo today protesting American action in Viet Nam. The two-hour rallies were noisy but there were no clashes.

Cairo Protests Assail Tunisia

CAIRO (AP) — Several hundred youthful Egyptians attacked the Tunisian Embassy today, denouncing President Habib Bourguiba as a "Zionist" and "son of a dog."

The demonstrators, most of them students, broke through a cordon of baton-wielding police around the embassy and hurled rocks at the police.

Several thousand others massed outside the Arab League headquarters where Tunisian Ambassador Mohammed Badra was conferring with Arab League Secretary-General Abdel Khalek Hassouna.

The demonstrators were protesting earlier anti-Tunisian demonstrations in various Middle Eastern capitals.

The Tunisian Embassy has been under special police guard for more than a month following earlier statements by Bourguiba that the Arabs and the Israelis should settle their differences peacefully.

The guards were strengthened following the attack on the Egyptian Embassy in Tunis.

Former Prodigy Killed

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Ferruccio Burco, 26, former child prodigy who at 10 had conducted famous orchestras in such places as New York's Carnegie Hall, was killed Monday in an automobile accident.

Sub-Cabinet Posts Reshuffled

LBJ Will Name 8 to High-Level Jobs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A new government trustbuster and a new team to direct regulation of U.S. civil aviation are among the changes in a major reshuffle of top sub-Cabinet posts in the Johnson administration.

The President told his news conference yesterday he intended to name eight men — seven of them already in government — to such high-level jobs as chief of the Justice Department's antitrust division, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) and administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA).

Named were:

• Donald F. Turner, 44, a visiting professor at Stanford University and a former law clerk to Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, to replace retiring William H. Orrick Jr., 49, as assistant attorney general in charge of the Justice Department's antitrust division.

• Charles S. Murphy, 63, a veteran public official now serving as agriculture undersecretary, to serve as CAB chairman.

• Alan S. Boyd, 42, now CAB chairman, to be undersecretary of commerce for transportation.

• Retired Air Force Gen. William F. McKee, 58, now serving as assistant administrator for management development of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), to replace Najeeb E. Halaby as FAA administrator. Halaby, named to the FAA post by President Kennedy four years ago, said, "I told President Kennedy when I took this it would be for four years. I feel I have fulfilled my obligations."

• John A. Schmittler, 40, now director of agricultural economics for the Agriculture Department, to take over Murphy's job as undersecretary.

• Wilbur J. Cohen, 51, now assistant secretary of health, education and welfare, to succeed former Madison, Wis., Mayor Ivan A. Nestingen as undersecretary. Nestingen has resigned.

• Leonard C. Meeker, 49, now deputy legal adviser to the state department, to be the department's top legal adviser, replacing Abram Chayes, who resigned.

• Warren W. Wiggins, 43, who has been with the Peace Corps since its inception in 1961, to be deputy director of the corps, replacing Bill D. Moyers who has become a member of the President's own staff.

SLAYER RETURNS — Carl Foster (left) was booked at the Oakland County jail yesterday after his arraignment in Pontiac Municipal Court. With Pontiac Police detective Sgt. John DePanw (right), Foster returned to Oakland County from the state prison at Jackson to face a murder charge in the death of his first wife.

Stands Mute in Wife's Death

Carl Foster, admitted slayer of a Bloomfield Township divorcee, yesterday stood mute at his Pontiac Municipal Court arraignment on a charge of first-degree murder in the death of his wife, Angela, in February 1964.

He also refused comment when Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Walter E. Schmier asked him about the strangulation death of 14-year-old Connie Crossland in July of 1963.

"He was invited to talk about either of them (the two killings)," Schmier said, "and made the statement he wanted to talk to a lawyer first."

Schmier talked to Foster as he was returned from the Southern Michigan State Prison at Jackson yesterday morning by Pontiac Police.

The strangulation death of Mrs. Foster originally was ruled a suicide.

The Pontiac Police and the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, working with pathologist Richard Olson, later discovered the woman was killed before she was found hanging in the basement of the couple's home.

Foster showed little emotion at the arraignment as he heard Judge Cecil McCallum set the preliminary examination for May 6.

WRINKLED SUIT
Wearing a wrinkled grey suit and a white shirt open at the collar, he clutched a carton of cigarettes throughout the proceeding.

At his side was Pontiac attorney J. Robert Sterling, the man who defended Foster when he was charged with the murder.

Raising Funds for Area Family

Girl, 4, Needs Liver Transplant Operation

Residents and organizations in the area are rallying to the aid of a Lake Orion police officer faced with the necessity of raising $15,000 to $18,000 to pay for a crucial operation for his four-year-old daughter.

Kathy Leach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Leach of 12 Indiana, Orion Township, is awaiting a liver transplant operation at the University of Minnesota Hospital. The transplant represents her only chance for life.

Kathy suffers from extra-hepatic biliary atresia, a disease that can be dealt with only by giving her a new liver.

The rare operation has never been successful, but doctors have given her no more than 12 months to live without it.

Spearheading the drive to help Leach meet the cost of the surgery is the Lake Orion Lions Club, which has set up a Kathy Leach Fund Committee.

Also working on the fund-raising project are students at Lake Orion Senior High School.

$1,000 CONTRIBUTED
William L. Bonning, chairman of the Lions committee, said that a little more than $1,000 has been contributed by individuals, groups and businesses to date.

He pointed out that the Leach's insurance has been exhausted on previous treatments for Kathy.

Bonning said the Lions are serving as a central collection point for donations.

10-Millionth Car Cause for Group Celebration

Pontiac Motor Division's 10 millionth car was the occasion for a Chief Pontiac gathering yesterday at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Some 200 area business and professional men attended.

General's Units Seem to Have Command of Dominican Fighting

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (P) — Young army men and civilians trying to return Juan Bosch to the presidency battled today to hold the center of this capital.

Brig. Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin's air force and army units opposed to Bosch, appeared to have the upper hand, however, as fighting resumed.

A military junta was expected to be sworn in later in the day. It will be dominated by Wessin, although he may not be a member.

The country was without a government. The presidential palace was empty and badly scarred by the three days of heavy fighting.

DOWNTOWN AREA

The Wessin troops described the fighting as a mopup, but the pro-Bosch forces held the downtown area and Coudal Nueva, a low-income housing development where many students and young people live.

The number of dead and wounded was not known, but it was believed several hundred persons may have died in the straining, bombings, navy bombardment and fighting since Sunday.

Kathy Leach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Leach of 12 Indiana, Orion Township, is awaiting a liver transplant operation at the University of Minnesota Hospital. The transplant represents her only chance for life.

Kathy suffers from extra-hepatic biliary atresia, a disease that can be dealt with only by giving her a new liver.

The rare operation has never been successful, but doctors have given her no more than 12 months to live without it.

Spearheading the drive to help Leach meet the cost of the surgery is the Lake Orion Lions Club, which has set up a Kathy Leach Fund Committee.

Also working on the fund-raising project are students at Lake Orion Senior High School.

$1,000 CONTRIBUTED
William L. Bonning, chairman of the Lions committee, said that a little more than $1,000 has been contributed by individuals, groups and businesses to date.

He pointed out that the Leach's insurance has been exhausted on previous treatments for Kathy.

U-M Asks Fund Hike to Maintain Status

LANSING (P) — University of Michigan spokesmen insist that to remain "a first-class operation," the schools must have $5.6 million more in operating funds than Gov. George Romney recommended for its 1965-66 year.

President Harlan Hatcher asked the Senate Appropriations Committee at a hearing yesterday to boost the state's outlay of operating funds to $55.7 million.

Romney proposed $50.1 million—an increase of $6 million over the $44.1 million appropriated for the current year. The 1965-66 request of the university would represent an increase of $11.6 million, up 25 percent over 1964-65.

Vice President Roger Heys called 1965-66 "a crucial year for this university. It is slipping. It has taken a great effort that it hasn't slipped more. But there is no more capacity inside the system to make up for state support."

"If the budget is not kept up for three or four years, the university will not retain its position among leading schools."

Heys said allocation of only Romney's recommendations would lead to:

- Further lag behind other institutions in salary increases with consequent loss of personnel.
- Inability to hire 106 needed new teachers.
- Further slippage in the library program.
- No rehabilitation in older buildings.
- Inability to buy needed equipment.

Heys kicked off a list of teaching personnel who he said were being offered jobs by other universities at salaries in some cases double those being paid by U-M.

"THE STAKES ARE HIGH" — President Johnson emphasized the gravity of the Viet Nam war at his news conference yesterday, saying "... to stand firm is the only guarantee of a lasting peace."

Woodward 'Racers' Are Racked by Judge

To prove their point, Bloomfield Hills police officers yesterday took six traffic offenders before acting Justice of the Peace Alice Gilbert.

They came back with six convictions: Two $100 fines, three $40 fines and one 90-day jail sentence.

"If they want to keep racing, we're going to continue taking them straight to court," Capt. Walter Sluiter said.

The communities lining Woodward annually face the spring parade of young motorists up and down the busy thoroughfare.

Neighboring Birmingham and Bloomfield Township recently announced they were instituting crackdowns on violators.

"With us, it's a continual crackdown," Sluiter said.

Frederick C. Nissley, 20, of 1532 Mansfield, Birmingham, and Richard J. Martz, 19, of Detroit were stopped while racing each other April 18.

Convicted of reckless driving yesterday, each was fined $100 and put on probation, Nissley for one year and Martz for six months.

Fined $40 each for drag racing were Daniel S. Danielak, 26, of Berkley; Parul A. Lynch, 21, of 1298 Highland, Highland Township; and Leonard G. Langkam Jr., 23, of Detroit.

Richardson C. Hanson, 21, of Royal Oak, was found guilty of driving under the influence of liquor on Woodward.

He was sentenced to 90 days in the Oakland County jail.

Stands Firm on Viet Policy, Wish for Talks

President Reports on War, Fiscal Matters at Press Conference

WASHINGTON (P) — President Johnson says he is very hopeful a way can be found to spark Viet Nam peace talks. But he says the American desire for peace is coupled with a "refusal to retreat."

The air-jungle war in Southeast Asia dominated Johnson's 34-minute news conference late yesterday before 300 reporters gathered around television and radio microphones in the historic East Room of the White House.

On the home front, Johnson announced some good budget news. He said red-ink spending by the federal government in the bookkeeping year which ends June 30 now is estimated at $5.3 billion or less — a drop of $1 billion from the January prediction.

Johnson also replied to critics of the antipoverty program —

See Stories, Pages A-3, B-4, B-10, B-11 and D-14

"I think it will be one of the great monuments to this administration" — and announced eight appointments to high government jobs.

Asked about criticism of his postponement of planned Washington visits by the leaders of Pakistan and India, Johnson said he had explained to them it would be better if they came after Congress acts on foreign aid, which both will be seeking.

NUCLEAR WEAPONS

Johnson, in response to another inquiry, declined to be drawn into a discussion of possible use of nuclear arms in Southeast Asia but did say, "I have never had a suggestion from a single official of this government or employee of this

EDWARD R. MURROW
Shown During World War II

Dies After 18-Month
Battle With Cancer

PAWLING, N. Y. (AP) — Tributes from President Johnson and others poured in today for Edward R. Murrow, the chain-smoking newscaster who became internationally famous during World War II with his blunt broadcasts from London that began: "This — is London."

Murrow, who turned 57 last Sunday, died Tuesday at his farm after an 18-month battle with lung cancer. A funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at St. James Protestant Episcopal Church in New York City.

Murrow's voice was deep, resonant. Some compared it to a voice of doom. His face was high-domed, lopsided, worried. A cigarette dangled from his mouth.

His London broadcasts produced for American radio listeners distinct, lifelike images of the courage and determination of the British under Hitler's air blitz.

TV JOURNALIST
After his stint as a Columbia Broadcasting System correspondent in London, he won fame as a pioneer television journalist and later in government service as head of the United States Information Agency.

President Johnson, who gave Murrow the Medal of Freedom — the highest civilian honor — the White House can confer last Sept. 14, said:

"We who knew him knew that he was a gallant fighter, a man who dedicated his life both as a newsmen and as a public official to an unrelenting search for the truth. He subscribed to the proposition that free men and free inquiry are inseparable. He built his life on that unbreakable truth."

strangulation killing of Mrs. Maurice Crook on Dec. 12, 1964.

During that pretrial hearing Sterling questioned the validity of Foster's confession and succeeded in getting the first degree murder charge reduced to manslaughter.

Foster, 29, pleaded guilty to this charge and was sentenced to serve a 10-15 year term at the state prison.

STANDS BY

Sterling, however, has not yet been asked to defend Foster this time. He stood by at the arraignment on a request from the slayer.

The court indicated that an attorney would be appointed to defend Foster.

Sterling who said he had a great interest in the case said he would accept the job if he was appointed, and if he had the approval of his employers, the Sauer and Girard law firm of Pontiac.

Before the arraignment yesterday, Schmier said he thought the people had a strong case against Foster, stronger than the one which involved the death of Mrs. Crook.

UNDER BRIDGE
The body of Connie Crossland of Coloma was found under a bridge in a water-filled ditch southeast of Lake Orion.

She had been strangled and a rope was looped around her neck.

Authorities have speculated that the killer may have attempted to hang her from the bridge.

The similarity of all three deaths first prompted sheriff's deputies to list Foster as a possible suspect.

INVESTIGATION

Since the investigation began, it has been revealed that Foster had access to a car similar to the one in which the 14-year-old was last seen alive.

It has also been revealed that he frequented the "drive in" store along Woodward, known "hang-out" for the girl that he may have known, and that he refused to take a lie detector test on the Crossland killing.

Set Dedication of Village Units

Probate Judges Will Preside at Ceremony

A dedication ceremony for the first three units of the new Children's Village is slated for 2 p.m. next Wednesday with judges, county officials, and civic leaders participating.

Oakland County Probate Judges Donald E. Adams and Norman R. Barnard will preside at the dedication of the $775,000 facility.

Approximately 50 children will be housed in the village which includes a special services building for boys and girls with special problems and two rehabilitation cottages for boys.

The cottages have been in use since early this year at the facility west of the County Service Center on 50 acres adjoining the state police post on North Telegraph.

The entire village complex, expected to take several years to complete, calls for a total of 15 buildings.

FEDERAL GRANT

Construction of the first units of the facility was partly financed by a $223,000 federal grant.

The public is invited to the dedication ceremony.

Commission Thanks Ewart

S. Viet Air General
Says Invade North

The City Commission last night formally thanked City Attorney William A. Ewart for his 33 years in city service.

The commission passed a resolution commending Ewart for "long and faithful service to the city." The resolution expressed the people's thanks and appreciation for such service.

Mayor William H. Taylor said an open house is being planned to honor the city attorney.

Ewart resigned last week from his post as city attorney effective July 1. He plans to return to private practice of law with offices in Birmingham.

Johnson Proclaims May 9 Mother's Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson today proclaimed May as Mother's Day, urged all people to express their love and gratitude to mothers and asked mothers to be mindful of their responsibilities that children are prepared for citizenship.

"The rapidly changing nature of our world requires more than ever that the American home be a haven of stability in which our people can develop their spiritual, intellectual and physical capacities to the fullest," Johnson said.

U.S. Marines Start Hunt for Viet Cong

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Marines struck out from the Da Nang air base today in their biggest operation of the war against the Viet Cong.

Size of the Marine search and clear force was not announced but it involved several companies. Gen. Wallace M. Greene, the Marine Corps commander, said his men will fan out as far as necessary to defend the Da Nang air and missile base from attack.

"The one job I want them to do is to find Viet Cong and kill them," Greene told newsmen at a briefing at the end of an official inspection tour.

"We got one today and we're going to get more."

There are almost 10,000 marines in the Da Nang area 350 miles northeast of Saigon and there were reports a new battalion was ready to land shortly.

MARINE MISSION
Today's operation was a search and clear mission in an area 10 to 15 miles west of Da Nang. An advance company of Marines moved out yesterday, setting up a forward command post.

Several other marine companies on foot and aboard troop-carrying helicopters were involved, making it the biggest operation since the U.S. Marines invaded North Vietnam in 1964.

The 34-year-old general has flown three of the missions himself and was greeted by enemy flak on one of them. Three of his pilots have been shot down.

"The raids against communications are not really effective," he said. "The Communists can always find ways of moving through the jungle."

But if we were to set up a kind of "national liberation front" in the north, we could do the same things to the Communists that they've been doing to us here. We have superiority in the air over North Vietnam's central area from the 17th to the 20th parallels, and we could easily supply guerrillas of our own there.

"The people in that area are basically anti-Communist and I'm sure they would help us. Then we could really start cutting their supply lines and giving them something to worry about."

Ky is a native of Hanoi. "For that matter, what's wrong with sending up regular troops now? Our intelligence proves that North Vietnamese regular units are already in our highlands, so there can be no bar to sending troops north."

"Physically there would be no problem. We would have no shortage of skilled trained volunteers."

"And we would be in a better position to supply them than the Hanoi regime is to supply the Viet Cong, because we control the skies and sea."

After lunch at a lakeside hotel he was given a quick briefing on the activities of the seven-nation European Free Trade Association by its secretary-general, Frank E. Figueres.

He also talked with John W. Evans, No. 2 man in the U.S. delegation to Gatt (General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade), on the slow progress made so far in the Kennedy Round global tariff-cutting negotiations.

ROMNEY (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan called on Western Europe Tuesday to join with the United States in developing the impoverished nations of the world "and help the people there to rise out of their misery and poverty."

Romney, head of a Michigan trade mission, made a two-hour stopover here en route to Paris for the next leg of the group's European trip.

Delay Possible in Steren Case

Will Appeal Denial of Dismissal Motion

The Madison Heights Steren Assault Club gambling case, faces another possible delay. Defense attorney Carlton Roesser of Pontiac said he would file an application to appeal the denial of his motion to have the case dismissed.

While rejecting the motion for dismissal, Circuit Judge Stanton C. Dondoro yesterday took under advisement another motion by Roesser for a change of venue in the location of the trial.

Roesser suggested Wayne County because it would be "convenient and economical to all parties."

"It would be impossible to get a fair and impartial trial in Oakland County because of the notorious and sensational publicity given the case by news media," Roesser told the judge.

SUBMITS SCRABOOK

He submitted a scrapbook to Dondoro containing more than 140 articles pertaining to the case.

"All these have biased the case of the defendants," Roesser claimed.

Roesser is representing 21 men arrested in that state police raid on the club at 25300 John R. on Oct. 11, 1963.

The application for leave to appeal does not necessarily mean that the Michigan Court of Appeals will hear the case, but if it does hear the application, the trial would have to be postponed until the appeal can be reviewed.

TO BEGIN MAY 11

The trial is scheduled to begin May 11.

Roesser was seeking a dismissal on the grounds that Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingles abused his discretion in hearing the lower court examination of the case after he had signed the search warrant for the raid.

Roesser said Ingles had "prejudged" the case because it was necessary for him to believe that a crime was committed in order to sign the warrant.

He claimed that the defendants were illegally arrested, and it was seven days after the prosecution's office issued a complaint against them.

PROSECUTOR'S OFFICE

He said that the prosecutor's office has not established its case, and referred to excerpts of testimony in the lower court, which indicated certain individuals were not involved in any conspiracy as they are charged.

Dondoro said that the testimony taken as a whole, however, provided enough information to have the men bound over for trial.

Another motion, asking for the return of $10,000 confiscated in the raid was granted by Dondoro.

The order excludes several bills whose serial numbers were recorded by State Police, and then circulated by Peggy Ann Allen, an undercover agent, while she was in the club.

Ferndale Post Office Hit Again by Burglars

FERNDALE (AP) — Burglars struck the U.S. Post Office here Tuesday for the second time in three months, taking some $10,000 to $12,000.

Ferndale police said the robbery was similar to a break-in Jan. 24 which netted some $12,000. The burglars broke into a vault and opened two safes.

FIRM POLICY

In his statement, Johnson said he would continue a Viet Nam policy which he described in these words: "Firmness with moderation, readiness for peace with refusal to retreat."

Romney denied an allegation that he was using the trade mission for political rather than economic purposes.

"We believe in two-way trade and two-way profit," he said. "We want to sell our goods to Europe but we hope that European businessmen will recognize the international investment potential in the state of Michigan."

Asked about the possibilities of increasing trade with Communist countries Romney replied: "We are more interested in developing markets within the Atlantic community."

COMBINE RESOURCES

"It is in our great common interest to combine the resources of the United States and Western Europe to help the poorer nations of the world."

Romney denied an allegation that he was using the trade mission for political rather than economic purposes.

Birmingham Area News

$714,100 Budget OK'd in Bloomfield Township

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A $714,100 operating budget for 1965-66, up some $37,000 over this year's figure, has been approved by the Township Board.

Trustees adopted the budget following a public hearing Monday night.

Most of the additional amount they agreed to spend will be used to expand township services — primarily those in the growing police, fire and building departments.

Largest single chunk of the funds will be used by the police department. Its $234,800 allocation will include $185,000 for the salaries of regular and auxiliary officers.

The police department sum is up some $20,000, while that for the fire department was jumped from $175,000 to $194,900. The latter includes $164,000 for salaries.

$400 RAISES

Employees in both departments will get $400 raises this year.

Other totals in the budget include general government, $219,300, and building department, $65,100.

In other action, the board established three assessment districts for two water mains and a sanitary sewer following public hearings.

Approved were water mains for the Wing Lake Shores area, $55,500, and Wingcroft and Carey Lane, $18,950. The $22,000 sanitary sewer will be installed along Sandy Lane.

The board denied a rezoning request which would have allowed expansion of Wiggins Colony Shop on the west side of Telegraph south of West Long Lake Road.

RECOMMENDED

The change from office to local business classification had been recommended by the township planning commission.

City Employee Pacts Delayed

Consideration of "working agreement" proposals between the city and Pontiac police and firemen has been held up on the question of the legality of the contracts.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren reported informally to the City Commission last night on a meeting Monday with representatives of the Pontiac Fire Fighters Association.

Warren said that the fire fighters were told there was a legal question involved.

The fire fighters and the Pontiac Police Officers Association have submitted "working agreement" proposals, which would put in writing their wages, hours and working conditions.

$21,296 Given OU in Research Grant

The Public Health Service of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, has approved a grant of $21,296 to Oakland University.

The grant will be used to finance research in biochemistry in the field of bacteria.

James E. Davis, assistant professor of biochemistry at Oakland, will direct the research.

Two board posts, presently held by William H. Anderson and Victor P. Sutt, will be filled at the June election.

Neither man has filed for reelection as yet.

"The sole purpose of our visit is economic," Romney told a questioner. "We have been involved only in those matters which will accomplish the purpose of our group."

MUSIC SCHOLARSHIP

Before leaving Geneva, Romney announced a $1,200 music scholarship which the group awarded to the City of Geneva.

The scholarship will be used to send a Swiss music student, aged between 14 and 18, to the National Music Camp at Interlochen, Mich., from June 27 to Aug. 27.

The scholarship was handed over to the president of the Geneva Conservatory of Music, Pierre Vidoudez, by H. L. Doan, president of the Dow Chemical Co.

Agony on the Eastern Front: 22

Written By PHILIP VAN DOREN STERN for Newspaper Enterprise Association

Illustrated By John Lane

Many times were wrong with Czarist Russia in 1915, but worst of all was the shocking unpreparedness of its armies.

Men sometimes went into battle without weapons they were instructed to pick up rifles on the field; without shoes they were told to take them from the dead; and without any idea of what to do except die and barricade the way with their corpses.

Before long, there was a serious shortage of officers, for the best of them had been killed in the early fighting and there were few replacements. Russia had vast supplies of manpower, but it was short of educated leaders.

That these badly trained, badly equipped, badly fed troops should have done as well as they did is a miracle.

They withstood poison gas in January 1915, captured the Austrian fortress Przemyśl in March, lost it in June, yet went on fighting during a year that was marked with disasters in the field and a steadily worsening situation at home.

DOMINATION
The court was a nightmare where the all-powerful czar was dominated by his German-born empress.

And she in turn was under the influence of one of the strangest creatures in history, the peasant monk Rasputin, who has been called "a charlatan, a graffer, a simonist, a drunkard, a blasphemous and a debauchee."

That this incompetent trio should control the fate of millions would be unfortunate at any time. In 1915, their appalling misrule brought on revolution as surely as if they had been working under Lenin's direction.

The Germans moved troops from the Western Front. Joined with those already in the East and with the Austrian army there, they made a formidable array. Their great assault met with little resistance.

A SLAUGHTER
Russian troops were slaughtered, and literally hundreds of thousands of prisoners were taken, some of whom seemed glad to surrender. The attackers were able to push ahead as fast as a big force can move.

As had been the case in Napoleon's time, and as was to be the case again in the Second World War, Russia's best defense was her enormous size.

It takes time to march across huge areas with heavy artillery and all the paraphernalia of modern war.

All summer long the Austro-German advance went on along a 700-mile front. After city fell, position after position was taken.

Since the invaders had not expected to move ahead so quickly, they had not adequate preparations to bring up supplies to feed men and guns.

KEPT GOING
But despite internal quarrels and occasional slow-downs, they kept going.

The fall of Warsaw on August 5 was a calamity, but what happened a month later was even worse, for the inept czar then took command himself.

Only the coming of a Russian winter saved the country when puny Nicholas II played at being a soldier while the monstrous Rasputin was undermining him at home.

The slow and bitter cold that paralyzed the armies in the field did not stop discussion from going on in Russia's major cities.

The people, who had been stolidly submissive to autocratic rule for centuries, were beginning to resent the lack of leadership that was losing the war and ruining the nation.

Heat Determinator

2nd Reentry Probe Scheduled

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Within five years, a three-man Apollo spaceship returning from the moon is scheduled to make a meteoric dive into earth's atmosphere.

The astronauts' lives and the success of their historic mission will depend on a blunt heat shield and its ability to fend off rays from a fireball of gases with temperatures approaching 20,000 degrees.

To make certain that scientists have correctly predicted the reentry heating a moon-ship will face, the federal space agency developed two small spacecraft to be rammed toward earth at the 25,000-mile-an-hour speeds of craft returning from the moon.

The Natural Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) announced today that the second of the instrument-laden project fire probes is set to be launched next Tuesday.

The first project fire payload was driven into earth's atmosphere a year ago at speeds up to 25,800 m.p.h. It indicated that scientists may have overestimated the reentry heat that will be felt by moonships.

FURTHER STUDY

Next week's spacecraft is designed to confirm the first probe's measurements and make a more thorough study of high-speed reentry heating.

As a result of the first shot, NASA said "scientists are able to predict much more accurately" for design purposes, the heat that Apollo craft will encounter on returns from lunar flights.

The agency said that reentry heating on such flights is significantly greater than the temperatures produced by Mercury and Gemini capsules returning from earth orbits at 17,500 m.p.h. speeds.

Mercury spacecraft were heated up to about 3,500 degrees by air friction. But NASA says at the higher velocities of lunar craft entering the atmosphere, heat radiating from the super hot layer of gases ahead of the heat shield is more important than friction heating.

Tell Increase in Catholics

Below Protestant '65 Population Gain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Roman Catholic population of the United States increased by 766,248 persons during the past year to a record high of 45,640,619, the Official Catholic Directory revealed today.

The increase of 1.7 per cent was roughly equivalent to the growth rate of the over-all U.S. population, and was below the 2.3 per cent increase in Protestant church membership reported earlier by the 1965 Yearbook of American Churches.

This is the first time in many years that Protestants have held an edge in reported growth rates. Last year, the statistics showed a Catholic gain of 2.3 per cent and a Protestant gain of only .5 per cent.

Since 1955, the Catholic population has grown by about 13 million persons, or 40 per cent. The Protestant population has increased by about 10 million, or 18 per cent.

Protestants still outnumber Catholics by a substantial margin, however. The 1965 Yearbook of American Churches shows a total Protestant church membership of 66,854,200.

NOT INCLUDED

And the Protestant total does not include millions of children under 13, who are not counted as full members in most Protestant bodies, whereas the Catholic figure includes baptized infants.

The Official Catholic Directory is published annually by P. J. Kennedy & Sons, New York. It is the most comprehensive and improving statistical picture of Catholicism in the United States.

Here are some of the highlights of the new directory:

- An increase of 1,304 during the past year brought the total number of ordained priests to an all-time high of 58,632.

- The increase in clergy was 2.2 per cent, or slightly more than the increase in membership. This indicates an improving trend in the ratio of communicants to priests, which now stands at 730 to 1.

- The drop-off in feminine vocations to religious life, which has been detected and lamented by many bishops, was graphically documented by figures showing that the number of Sisters actually decreased by 61 during the year to a total of 179,964.

- Last year's directory had showed an increase of 2,861 in the number of Sisters, and even that increase was held by authorities to be far below the urgent needs of the growing church.

- Enrollment in 13,396 Catholic elementary and high schools crept up to 5,662,328 — an increase of only 37,288, or seventeen-tenths of one per cent, over last year.

- The modest size of the increase is striking in view of the fact that enrollment in Catholic schools has in the past increased at a rate averaging more than 5 per cent a year.

- With a growing percentage of Catholic children attending public schools, the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine (CCD) and other agencies stepped up their efforts to provide them with religious instruction in "released time" classes and vacation religious schools.

- The number of Catholic public school children receiving such instruction leaped to 5,050,366 — an increase of 17 per cent in a single year's time.

- The number of adult converts to Catholicism during 1964 was recorded as 128,200 — an increase of 2,623 over last year's figure, which was the lowest in 10 years.

- The number of infant baptisms was 1,310,413 — a decrease of 11,902 from the previous year, and some 34,000 less than would have been necessary in order to keep up with the pace of population growth.

Modern Woman's Life Divided Into Seven Stages

Mrs. John H. Bryant, Birmingham, is the mother of three school age children. She watches Randy, 12, and Linda, 15, as they leave for Barman Junior High School. Randy broke his leg in a skiing accident a few weeks ago.

Mrs. William Rexford, Birmingham, has three young children. Shown here in a loving pose with her mother is five-year-old Susan. Not pictured are nine-year-old John and three-year-old David.

Many young married women work for a few years before they have children. Mrs. Brian Murphy, Ferndale, not only teaches English at Oakland University, but is doing graduate work at Wayne State University. No wonder the books pile up!

Pontiac Press Photos by Edward R. Noble
Virginia Walter, Birmingham, is a single woman with a job. She is a secretary in the Detroit firm of J. Walter Thompson Company.

When a woman's children go away to college or marry, she has many hours of free time on her hands. These hours are no problem for Mrs. Eliot Higgins of Birmingham. She is director of Christian education at Christ Church, Cranbrook where this picture was taken.

Now that her husband has retired, Mrs. Howard J. Liverance of Walbri Drive intends to take up golf. She made it clear to the photographer that it is HER clubs she is polishing. Golf is her husband's hobby and she intends to enjoy it too.

Woman's Role Today Contrast to the Past

Yesterday's woman grew up, married, had her babies and settled down to be a domestic person for the rest of her life. Her job was done within the confines of the family and she neither wanted nor expected anything else.

All of a sudden the picture has changed. Today's woman is not one but several persons, depending upon her age and her family situation.

For the past year, Mrs. Priscilla Jackson of the Mott Center at Oakland University has been talking to women's groups about the seven stages of their adult lives.

Women who are actually in these stages are shown on this page. They are the women who will speak of their problems, their necessary knowledge and skills, their plans, their hopes and their failures at the May 6 women's conference at Oakland University.

For the third successive year area women will have a chance to take a good look at Women's Alternatives in Amiable America.

After the first general meeting, three other meetings on May 13, 20 and 27 will give women the opportunity to explore more in depth what their alternatives are in education, volunteer work and employment.

Women may attend one or all of these conferences. Speakers of both national and local reputation will appear on the programs.

Attends Congress

Mrs. E. G. Clark of Silver Lake Road attended the 74th Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The congress was held last week in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Carl Clifford of North Telegraph Road has returned from Orlando, Fla.

Mrs. William Lloyd Kemp, Bloomfield Village, is in the seventh stage of a woman's life; she is the widow of the late Dr. Kemp, a Birmingham pediatrician. Mrs. Kemp travels often to visit her grown children and is active in such organizations as the Bloomfield Hills Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

Face the Music

Grow Up and Light Up

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for eight years. I have been smoking for ten years but I have never smoked in front of my in-laws because they think it's a crime for a woman to smoke a cigarette.

My children (4 and 6) have seen me smoke, and I am on edge all the time for fear one of them will mention something about it to their grandparents.

I have never TOLD the children not to say anything about it because, knowing children, that's the first thing they'd tell.

I feel very guilty about this. Should I continue to hide the fact that I smoke from my in-laws, or should I smoke in front of them and take the consequences?

TWO-PACK PATTY
DEAR PATTY: A woman

who is old enough to be a wife and mother is old enough to smoke if she wants to.

Either quit smoking and make an honest woman of yourself, or light up in front of your in-laws.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MRS. X" IN MADISON: One woman's left-overs can be another woman's banquet.

Women Work on High Seas

HALIFAX, N.S. (P)—The girl-in-every-port tradition doesn't go for some members of the crew of the Norwegian grain carrier Belinda.

There are five women in the crew and four of them are the wives of officers.

Capt. Rangevald Rove says one effect is that there is less swearing among the crew. General behavior and dress among the men have also improved.

Practically all steward's jobs on Scandinavian ships now are filled by women and many Swedish ships carry female radio operators.

Even in Norway, with its seafaring tradition, it's becoming difficult to get men to go to sea, so women are being recruited to fill certain jobs.

ONE PROBLEM

There's one problem, Capt. Rove says. The marriage rate among such women is high. Some ships have solved this problem by recruiting wives of crew members.

Little Leaguers to Use County Property

Little League baseball players soon will be swinging, sliding and stealing bases on county-owned property in the City of Southfield.

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved a recommendation from its buildings and grounds committee authorizing use of a portion of the 29-acre parcel by District 4 Little Leaguers.

The board purchased the land last June for a future health facility to serve the southern part of the county.

When a request came to the building and grounds committee for use of the land by the young athletes, the committee recommended to the board that a five-year lease be approved at $1 per year with an annual cancellation clause.

In other business yesterday, the board authorized the County Social Welfare Commission to add 10 new employees at a cost of about $37,000 in order to implement the pilot welfare program as soon as possible.

21 NEW EMPLOYEES

Provision for 21 new welfare department employees was made in the tentative 1966 county budget to allow a stepped-up rehabilitation program aimed at eliminating causes that result in long-term welfare care.

Also yesterday, the board approved the annual report of the Board of County Road Commissioners and approved the road commission's appointment of Irwin P. Nichols as its secretary-clerk.

The board of supervisors also filled two vacancies on the county planning commission due to the resignations of Hollis W. Jencks and Ernest W. Seaholm. Named to replace them were Edward Maier from Pontiac and Alex Perinoff from Southfield.

The board of supervisors honored Albert Weber and J. Wesley Duncan for their long and distinguished service to the county.

Weber, of Pontiac, was presented a plaque in recognition of his 20 years service as a member and chairman of the board of trustees of the Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

Duncan, in recognition of his 19 years as a supervisor from Rose Township, was awarded a certificate of merit.

Both men retired from public service at the end of last year.

Link Leftist Unit in Plot to Kill Shah

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Iranian security authorities today accused a leftist group with close ties to Communist China of being responsible for a plot to assassinate the Shah of Iran.

In a communique, the security officials said the group persuaded a conscript soldier to fire at the monarch as he entered his office 18 days ago.

The communique said the soldier, Reza Shamsabadi, 22, sprayed bullets at the shah and two of his bodyguards.

GUARDS KILLED

The communique said that after the one-minute battle, both guards and the assailant were dead — but the shah had survived.

The communique said the attacker was influenced by a close friend, a radio technician who worked under Ahmed Mansouri Tehrani Moghadam, a Manchester University of England electricity engineering group who heads Iran's newly formed Communist party group.

The communique said the group has been in close contact with a "foreign power" and has been publicizing Peking ideologies by printing and distributing leaflets. The group also allegedly planned to set up partisan movements against the present regime.

The communique did not elaborate on how the plotters were in contact with Communist China but said they were extremist ideologists who "do not even believe in Soviet communism nor agree with Iran's banned Communist party."

Expect Fast OK on Steel Plan

Agreement Will Delay Walkout Four Months

PITTSBURGH (P) — United Steelworkers officials, with an encouraging nudge from President Johnson, were expected quickly to stamp approval today of a four-month steel strike postponement.

"I hope and I expect that it will be approved by the union's committee," Johnson said in a Washington news conference yesterday.

The President's statement, which also included a pat on the back for union and industry negotiators for their "statesmanlike agreement," reflected the nation's relief at the strike reprieve.

Steel stocks made a strong showing in the wake of the agreement, already initiated by union president David J. McDonald and chief industry negotiator R. Conrad Cooper.

The union's executive board and wage policy committee were expected to give final approval to the agreement postponing Saturday's 12:01 a.m. strike deadline in exchange for an 11.5-cent pay raise for more than 400,000 workers in 10 major steel firms.

Johnson also expressed confidence the union and industry will use the four-month postponement to reach a final settlement. The new strike deadline is Sept. 1.

Fined $56 for Insult

SOUTHEAST, England (UPI) — Swimmer Terence Smith, 19, who ran naked from the sea and demanded a towel to dry himself from two startled women sunbathers, was fined $56 yesterday for "insulting behaviour."

2 Radio Hams Prove It's a Small World

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Thanks to two radio hams 3,800 miles apart, elementary school pupils here and in a village near Quito, Ecuador, joined forces in a bilingual assembly program.

The local children exchanged greetings, songs and descriptions of themselves, their schools and communities with youngsters at Yumbicho, a village near Quito.

Seven Harrison sixth graders spoke in Spanish, while the schools Spanish teacher, Mrs. Elena Zayas, translated the South American descriptions.

C. Robert Fine, who has a ham station in his home here, piped the program by telephone to the Harrison school, where it was heard on a loud-speaker. Dr. Richard Stewart of Atlanta, Ga., on a medical mission in Quito, was host in his station near there.

American families spend an average of 18 1/2 per cent of their incomes annually on food purchases.

Computer Errors to Rate Insurance

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Sam Dawson is ill. Today's business column is written by Les Erickson of the Associated Press.)

BY LEIF ERICKSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Humans, you can take heart in this computer age.

A market is developing for insurance to cover the costs caused by computer boobies.

The liability coverage for electronic data processing firms was originated two years ago by Fireman's Fund Insurance Co.

It now is available in most of the 50 states through Fireman's Fund or a competitor, St. Paul Fire Marine Insurance Co.

A group of about 20, armed with blankets, books, radios, clean clothes and some home work, camped for the second night Tuesday night in makeshift quarters in Copernicus Junior High School, which also houses the school board office.

School board officials and officers of Local 1054 of the American Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, were to meet again today to try to work out a new contract. Union and school board members met Tuesday in Lansing, the state capital, with the state superintendent of public instruction, Lynn M. Barrett.

HEARING TODAY

A hearing was scheduled for today in Wayne County Circuit Court on a school board request for a restraining order against the demonstrators.

The union seeks a step up from $5,000 to $5,400 for beginning teachers and $8,500 for all others instead of the current $7,850 after 12 years.

Also sought are three weeks paid vacation in addition to summer vacations, hospitalization, life insurance and duty free lunch periods.

The teachers claim they now earn about $1,000 less than teachers in other Detroit areas.

POLISH AREA

School board members estimate 3,800 students were sent Tuesday morning from schools in Hamtramck, a predominantly Polish area surrounded by the city of Detroit.

Dana Wall, 22, a first-grade teacher who has been living in the school building since early Tuesday morning said she brought a suitcase with clean clothes, a blanket, some pillows and other necessities.

"I went home for three hours this afternoon," Dana said. "We had meetings during the night, and I didn't get a single minute of sleep."

She said the four women who stayed in the building slept on couches in the women teacher's lounge.

One group of men spent the night wrapped in blankets on the deck of the school's indoor swimming pool "because it was the warmest place in the building."

Business Notes

Marion Gusmano of Detroit, a sales clerk at the Shoe Store in the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center, has been awarded the firm's national Oscar for outstanding service to customers in 1964.

Gusmano was selected from the firm's 50 salesmen in 508 stores in 42 states.

James J. Hough of 7424 Fisher, Romeo, superintendent of the services and facilities section at Ford Motor Co.'s Michigan Precision Molded, Inc., has been named the company's highest award for community service — a Town Crier's Bell.

Mounted silver scrolls bearing the engraved commendation of Henry Ford II were received by Floyd J. Boone, 11488 Crown Uicic, and Angeline Caramitaro, 11245 22 Mile, Uicic.

The new company will continue to operate at the same address.

Grain Mart Trade Is Cautious, Mixed

CHICAGO (AP) — Trade was rather cautious and mixed in the grain futures market today with prices generally showing little change in early transactions.

Shortly before the end of the first hour soybeans were 1/4 to 1/8 cents a bushel lower, May 1.45 1/4; corn unchanged to 1/4 higher, May 1.34 1/4; oats 1/4 lower to 1/8 higher, May 72 1/4; rye 1/4 lower to 1/8 higher, May 1.16 1/4.

Ford to Add 'Bronco' to 1966 Utility Lines

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. plans to add to its 1966 line a small, four-wheel-drive utility vehicle to be called the "Bronco."

It will be built by Ford's Lincoln and division general manager Donald N. Frey said it will "draw on the broad experience Ford has had in building the M-151, a military vehicle known as the 'Mutt.'"

Extend Sit-In in Hamtramck

Teachers in 3rd Day of Pay-Hike Protest

DETROIT (AP) — Teachers prepared to extend their sit-in for higher pay to a third day today as their union officials met with school board officials.

Some 120 of the school district's 156 teachers have been participating in the sit-in since Monday.

A group of about 20, armed with blankets, books, radios, clean clothes and some home work, camped for the second night Tuesday night in makeshift quarters in Copernicus Junior High School, which also houses the school board office.

School board officials and officers of Local 1054 of the American Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, were to meet again today to try to work out a new contract. Union and school board members met Tuesday in Lansing, the state capital, with the state superintendent of public instruction, Lynn M. Barrett.

HEARING TODAY

A hearing was scheduled for today in Wayne County Circuit Court on a school board request for a restraining order against the demonstrators.

The union seeks a step up from $5,000 to $5,400 for beginning teachers and $8,500 for all others instead of the current $7,850 after 12 years.

Also sought are three weeks paid vacation in addition to summer vacations, hospitalization, life insurance and duty free lunch periods.

POLISH AREA

School board members estimate 3,800 students were sent Tuesday morning from schools in Hamtramck, a predominantly Polish area surrounded by the city of Detroit.

Dana Wall, 22, a first-grade teacher who has been living in the school building since early Tuesday morning said she brought a suitcase with clean clothes, a blanket, some pillows and other necessities.

"I went home for three hours this afternoon," Dana said. "We had meetings during the night, and I didn't get a single minute of sleep."

She said the four women who stayed in the building slept on couches in the women teacher's lounge.

One group of men spent the night wrapped in blankets on the deck of the school's indoor swimming pool "because it was the warmest place in the building."

Business Notes

Marion Gusmano of Detroit, a sales clerk at the Shoe Store in the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center, has been awarded the firm's national Oscar for outstanding service to customers in 1964.

Gusmano was selected from the firm's 50 salesmen in 508 stores in 42 states.

James J. Hough of 7424 Fisher, Romeo, superintendent of the services and facilities section at Ford Motor Co.'s Michigan Precision Molded, Inc., has been named the company's highest award for community service — a Town Crier's Bell.

Mounted silver scrolls bearing the engraved commendation of Henry Ford II were received by Floyd J. Boone, 11488 Crown Uicic, and Angeline Caramitaro, 11245 22 Mile, Uicic.

Howard T. Keating, president of the Howard T. Keating organization, Beverly Hills land developers, builders and brokers, has announced that Gordon Walker and a group of associates have purchased the stock of the Birmingham branch operation of the Howard T. Keating Real Estate Co. at 325 S. Woodward, Birmingham.

The new company will continue to operate at the same address.

Grain Mart Trade Is Cautious, Mixed

CHICAGO (AP) — Trade was rather cautious and mixed in the grain futures market today with prices generally showing little change in early transactions.

Shortly before the end of the first hour soybeans were 1/4 to 1/8 cents a bushel lower, May 1.45 1/4; corn unchanged to 1/4 higher, May 1.34 1/4; oats 1/4 lower to 1/8 higher, May 72 1/4; rye 1/4 lower to 1/8 higher, May 1.16 1/4.

Ford to Add 'Bronco' to 1966 Utility Lines

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. plans to add to its 1966 line a small, four-wheel-drive utility vehicle to be called the "Bronco."

It will be built by Ford's Lincoln and division general manager Donald N. Frey said it will "draw on the broad experience Ford has had in building the M-151, a military vehicle known as the 'Mutt.'"
