

China's Ouster From Red Movement Expected

MOSCOW (AP)—A world conference of Communist parties will be called shortly and the expectation is that the Chinese Reds will be expelled from the international movement, a non-Soviet Communist source said today.

The informant said the build-up already has begun, the call probably will come from Moscow, but there is no indication of a date. But he said there is enough evidence to indicate an early call is likely.

What is happening is this: Throughout the world, various Communist parties have expressed their support of the Soviet Union in its ideological battle with Red China. Almost every expression of support contained the statement that the Chinese are working against the international brotherhood of Communists.

Red China also will be invited, as well as those backing Peking, notably the Communist parties from Albania, North Korea, Japan and New Zealand.

A program will be drawn up for the meeting, the source said, based strongly on the Soviet position.

If the Red Chinese attend they will reject the program. After that, the source added, expulsion procedure will be started.

The informant cited two especially significant articles as indicating the preparation being made to put the Red Chinese under fire as opposed to the international Communist association.

One was the republication in Pravda, the Soviet Communist party paper, of a large section of an article in the Soviet Party Central Committee magazine Kommunist which accused the Red Chinese of trying to break up the party and give it a bad name.

A second was an article in Renascita, weekly organ of Italy's Communists. The magazine claimed the Red Chinese have swung into full support of Communist splinter groups breaking away from the party in such nations as Brazil, Belgium, Australia and in Italy itself, excerpts carried by the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

In turn, Pravda and the magazine Kommunist accused the Red Chinese of trying to break up the Communist party and of giving it a bad world reputation.

"This amounts to opposing the solidarity of the international Communist movement and to helping the enemies of communism," Tass commented.

Ike Studying VP Candidacy

But 'Shuns' Joining '64
Republican Ticket

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is "exploring the possibility" of running for vice president next year, The Evening Star said today.

But The Star's copyrighted story added:

"The former President laughs off the prospect of his actually joining the 1964 Republican ticket, telling visitors he finds the idea as unappealing as anything that could be mentioned."

The story, by David S. Broder, said Eisenhower "asked his longtime attorney general, Herbert Brownell Jr., to check the legality of such a move."

Broder, writing from Gettysburg, Pa., said Eisenhower "believes, on the basis of Mr. Brownell's advice, there is no constitutional bar to his candidacy."

Eisenhower, who has lived in Gettysburg since he left the White House in 1961, will be 74 years old next Monday.

At Gettysburg, an Eisenhower aide said the former president was not immediately available for comment.

The question of legality hinges on the 22nd Amendment to the Constitution, which says "no person shall be elected to the office of the president more than twice."

Eisenhower himself first mentioned the issue, a year before he left the White House. It came up as he talked about politics at a Jan. 13, 1960, news conference.

LISTENS TO STORY—Visiting U.S. Rep. Williams S. Broomfield (left), R-Oakland County, listens to newsmen John Sharkey of the National Broadcasting Co. tell of being beaten by South Viet Nam police after witness-

In Buddhist Suicide

Mme. Nhu Lashes Newsmen

From Our News Wires
Paris — Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu flew to New York today after bitterly denouncing American newsmen who reported Saturday's suicide of a young Buddhist priest.

"I cannot understand the criminal and incredibly cruel attitude of American correspondents," she said.

"Imagine that someone in France announced in advance that a woman was going to jump out of a window. What would you think of newsmen who, knowing that if beforehand, would satisfy themselves by watching the scene with cameras without alerting police?"

Ten Western correspondents had received telephone calls last Saturday telling them that "something" would happen in the main square of Saigon.

They had not been advised in advance that the Buddhist had intended to burn himself to death.

Mme. Nhu took off aboard a Pan American jetliner enroute to the United States to seek American support for the current Saigon regime.

N-Shelter Plan Turned Down by House Unit

$1.5 Billion Slashed in Appropriations Unit,
but Total Tops '63

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today voted deep slashes in the nation's civil defense, space and science programs.

Among other things, it turned down the entire $195 million asked for a nationwide fallout shelter program.

In a bill financing 56 executive agencies and offices, the committee approved only $12,182,518,700 of the $14,653,588,000 requested by President Kennedy for the present fiscal year.

But even with the $1,555,769,300 cut, the bill's total as it went to the House floor for consideration later this week was $1,233,067,400 higher than the same agencies received last year.

Two big departments, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Veterans Administration, accounted for more than $10 billion of the bill's total.

The space agency was allotted $3.1 billion of the $5,712,000,000 the President had originally requested. Congress itself, in a separate authorization act, previous U.N. RESOLUTION

South Viet Nam is expected to counter the criticism in the assembly with an invitation to an international inspection team to see the situation first hand.

American, Mexican Explorers All Reported Safe by Pilot

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico (UPI)—Fourteen Americans and three Mexicans who were feared lost in the wild canyon country of northwestern Mexico are all safe, a pilot reported from the scene today.

Jesus Acosta Munoz, a pilot who took U.S. Vice Consul Robert Homer to the area where the men were feared lost, radioed back that all were safe.

Acosta Munoz said he was able to land and talk with the explorers and said they were in good shape.

Reports that the Americans—13 men and 3 women—were lost and perhaps starving had caused a big air search to be mounted today. Two U.S. Air Force helicopters and a twin-engine C47 were ordered in from El Paso, Tex., to help search.

A U.S. Air Force Rescue Command plane earlier left El Paso to fly over the mountains and deep gorges of the Sierra Madre country. The Americans were exploring the Rio Urique, a treacherous, swollen river. An earlier dispatch to a Mexico City newspaper said six rubber rafts had been sighted in the river.

The Americans were from Utah, California and Pennsylvania. Acosta Munoz said they turned up in Creel, a city 160 miles west of Chihuahua.

Creel is the edge of the Canyon country. It is the take-off point for people going into the Sierra Madre. The Americans were expected to take a train from Creel to Chihuahua late today and arrive about midnight.

Eduardo Mendoza, a business man in the area, first sighted the adventurers. They were hiking out of a canyon, and Mendoza showed him the way to Creel.

They told him they had rested two days in the Canyon and rationed their food. Although short of food, they were by no means starving.

It's Indian Summertime!

Indian Summer wrapped the Wis., Ill., Milwaukee, 89; and Chihuahua area in a heap of hot, 94.

It's been 13 years since October temperatures simmered above 85. The last time was Oct. 5, 1951, when the temperature reached 87, so Pontiac broke no records with 88 on Sunday.

Records were broken elsewhere, however, as the entire Midwest sent up smoke signals with midsummer temperatures. 8 a.m. was 55. By 2 p.m., it had risen to 84.

Pontiac Sets Sales Record

Pontiac Motor Division announced today that its dealers sold a record 17,081 new 1964 models during the announcement weekend, up 24 per cent from 13,751 announcement sales a year ago.

E. M. Estes, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac, said that in the three-day period dealers took 43,707 retail orders, up 24 per cent from a year earlier.

Estes said almost 2.47 million people visited Pontiac showrooms from coast to coast during the announcement weekend.

"Public acceptance of our new line has been sensational," Estes pointed out. "Both the crowds and sales figures are the best in our history."

"Advance publicity about our new six-cylinder Tempest and our greatly improved regular line had raised car buyers' anticipation of the new models to a peak by announcement day," Estes said. "Introduction period sales topped all our expectations."

Action on the appointment of a chairman of the county board of auditors was deferred until next month by county supervisors this morning.

The County Board of Supervisors also delayed setting the chairman's salary and appointing a new member to the board of auditors.

David Levinson, chairman of the ways and means committee, presented a resolution recommending the chairman's salary be set at an average of $29,000 a year.

In addition, Levinson recommended extending the duties of the chairman of the board of auditors.

Action on both recommendations was deferred until next month. Thus, the appointments were automatically deferred.

County supervisors also received the resignation of Robert Y. Moore from the board of auditors effective Jan. 1. Moore is retiring.

Robert E. Lilly, 46, secretary member of the board of auditors, entered his candidacy for the chairmanship.

Lilly and County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy are the only announced candidates for the chairmanship. Murphy would have to be appointed to the board before becoming eligible for the chairmanship.

In other action, the supervisors held a public hearing on 1963 county taxes. The 15 mills allowed by state law will bring in $33 million for schools, townships and county government next year.

TO PREPARE STUDIES

Meeting in the new courthouse auditorium, the board of supervisors approved hiring Harry M. Denyes Jr. Associates, Inc., of Pontiac, to prepare preliminary architectural studies on the renovation of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium and medical care facility.

In related business, the supervisors okayed design of a central control panel for the operation of the heating, ventilating and air conditioning systems in the court tower, administrative wing and the auditorium building.

The estimated cost of the control system is $60,000, according to Levinson.

The design work will be handled by Hyde & Bobbio, Inc., of Detroit, who were mechanical consultants on the new court house.

Deficits Get Fatter but Dollar Shrinks

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

The big-time spenders of the taxpayers' dollars never had it so good in peacetime as during the past three months. These months comprise the first quarter of the 1964 fiscal year.

Treasury Secretary C. Douglas Dillon believes big-time spending and treasury deficits are good business for everybody including the common man and, of course, the Democratic party.

If Dillon is right about that, they will be looking up for Democrats as they go into the 1964 presidential campaign — and for the common man.

Dillon, Democrats and the common man should rest easy. They are assured of another big fat deficit when the books close next June 30 on fiscal '64.

Some citizens will not be as enthusiastic as Secretary Dillon about first quarter treasury figures. They will be citizens with life insurance policies, pensions, money in the bank and other assets measured in terms of U.S. dollars.

These big fat deficits gradually are creating a currency inflation that sweats the dollar of its purchasing power.

DOLLAR WORTH LESS
The U.S. dollar was worth 45 cents in October, 1962, in comparison with its purchasing power in 1939. When Bureau of Labor Statistics publishes its consumer price index for October of this year, the dollar will have slumped a little to about 45 cents.

Not much perhaps, but overall it adds up to 55 cents in 24 years.

At that rate we will have a two bit dollar in 10 years or so and then a dollar worth a dime, a nickel and a penny. At that point pensioners, prudent savers, the family collecting life insurance on a breadwinner — all of them are likely to be out in the woods fighting the squirrels for nuts.

The treasury does not regularly publish figures for expenditures and receipts. It did at one time on a daily basis. What is published now is an accounting of "withdrawals" from "deposits" in the treasury.

These figures roughly represent expenditures and tax revenues. The daily figure also includes the public debt, gold balance and some additional matter, including figures for the same period in the last previous year. There is a lag of several days.

Thus, the treasury has reported that as of Sept. 30, 1963, withdrawals since July 1 were $31.3 billion compared with $29.4 billion in 1962. Deposits were $28.9 billion so far this year and $26.8 last.

DEBT INCREASED
Since Sept. 30, 1962, the public debt increased by $7.3 billion to $306.9 billion, a record that should encourage Secretary Dillon, if not the Democratic party.

The U.S. Gold Board, meantime, had shrunk since Sept. 30, 1962 by $485 million to $15.5 billion — a statistic that will encourage nobody unless, perhaps, it is Nikita Khrushchev.

The treasury probably will collect more than $100 billion in taxes in this fiscal year. But that won't be enough to pay bills incurred by politicians in behalf of the U.S. government.

Deposits so far in this fiscal year are more than $2 billion greater than in the like period last year. But the spenders still are able to get rid of dollars faster than they roll into the treasury.

It is a fact little noted that most of these tax dollars are from pockets of the little fellows, the common man. The little guys $306.9 billion, a record that should find out about that some day.

QUESTION: How can Telstar send TV pictures to Europe?

ANSWER: Once, only ships, planes, the telegraph and radio spanned the Atlantic — the distance was too great for television signals.

But a new communications era opened when Bell Telephone Laboratories, assisted by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, launched the tiny satellite Telstar into an orbit around the earth. Our picture shows briefly how Telstar operates.

Telstar receives and rebroadcasts electric signals by "microwave," which is of an extremely high wave length. The satellite measures only 34 inches across and weighs 170 pounds. Inside are 3,600 solar cells which turn sunlight into electric energy, giving the power needed to amplify the faint signals received and rebroadcast them to England or France.

This signal fades as it heads for Europe; but when received it is amplified by the amazing new invention, the maser, so that it becomes strong enough to recreate the sounds and pictures originally sent from America.

Since Telstar moves around the earth, it can only broadcast messages from America at certain times. Other satellites are planned which can be used continually.

FOR YOU TO DO: See what you can find out about these new satellites developed since Telstar: "Relay," and "Syncom."

Educators Start 'Sellathon'

FARMINGTON — School officials here are engaged in a seven-week "sellathon" for a $5-million bond issue and two operational millage requests.

Board of education members and school administrators will speak at each of the district's 20 schools before the Nov. 18 balloting.

They are also ready and willing to take their message to other groups in the community.

Educators are seeking the $5 million for three elementary schools, a junior high school, a 24-room addition to one of the existing junior highs and remodeling of the older buildings.

ASKS CONTINUATION

Also on the ballot will be a proposition asking for continuation of a two-mill operating levy due to expire in 1964.

The third request is for a three-mill increase in operational millage from 1964 through 1972.

One mill currently nets about $100,000 in taxes in the district, according to Supt. Gerald V. Harrison.

The speaking schedule next week lists Beechview, 8 p.m., Oct. 14; 10 Mile, 8 p.m., Oct. 14; North Farmington High, 8 p.m., Oct. 15; and Kenbrook, 8 p.m., Oct. 15.

For the rest of the month, the educators will speak at Bond, 8 p.m., Oct. 21; Gill, 8 p.m., Oct. 22; Dunckel Junior High, 7:30 p.m., Oct. 29; and William Grace, 8 p.m., Oct. 29.

November begins with Cloverdale, 8 p.m., Nov. 4; Middlebelt, 8 p.m., Nov. 4; Wooddale, 7 p.m., Nov. 5; Shiawassee, 8 p.m., Nov. 6; East Junior High, 8 p.m., Nov. 10; Farmington Junior High, 8 p.m., Nov. 11; and Flanders, 8 p.m., Nov. 11.

Concluding the schedule are Highland, 8 p.m., Nov. 12; Highland, 8 p.m., Nov. 13; and 22; Dunckel Junior High, 7:30 p.m., Nov. 14.

Firemen Sponsor Competition

The Avondale Fire Department is attempting to find out if Avondale High School students know why fire prevention is necessary in the area.

An essay contest, in search of answers to this question, is being sponsored by the department this week in conjunction with National Fire Prevention Week.

Entrants can turn in their essays at the high school office. The winner, to be determined will win a $25 savings bond for his school class. All high school students are eligible to enter.

The writer of the best paper will be announced at a dance from 8 to midnight Saturday at the high school. Fire Chief Victor Camp will make the presentation, which will include a trophy in addition to the bond.

Music at the dance will be provided by the "Blue Valley Mountain Boys." Students will be admitted free. Adults are also invited.

Weekend State Traffic Fatal to 17

By The Associated Press

Five young Holland residents died in a two-car collision near that southwest Michigan community Saturday as weekend traffic accidents in Michigan claimed at least 17 lives.

In addition, a young Owosso housewife drowned in Cummins Lake and a young Detroit man was killed in a fire.

The Associated Press weekend fatality count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

TRAFFIC

The five who died in the collision near Holland Saturday were Thomas Fairbanks, 17, and his sister, Jeanne, 13; Pamela Bradley, 15; David Van Overloop; and Michael Hilbink, 20. All were from Holland.

A. Jay Savage, 22, of Mount Pleasant was injured Saturday when his car plunged off North Mission Road in Isabella County and struck a tree. Police said Savage apparently fell asleep.

Hal Brown, 15, of Perkins died in an Escanaba hospital yesterday of injuries suffered Saturday night when he and his brother, Warren, 17, were struck by a car while walking along a Delta County road.

Mayors Stall on Fiscal Plan

Conference Views Romney's Program

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan conference of mayors is holding back for the time being on any stand related to Gov. George Romney's fiscal reform program.

A committee is to make a study and report later.

Nineteen Michigan mayors, holding a meeting of the newly organized conference, declined Saturday to endorse the program after some questioned certain parts.

A motion to endorse, offered by Mayor William Vandervoort of Battle Creek, died for lack of support.

Named to the committee to make the study and report to a future meeting at Ann Arbor were mayors George Kuhn of Berkeley, Ronald Stempion of Lincoln Park, John Calder of Ypsilanti, Richard Wernette of Plymouth and Jerome P. Cavanagh of Detroit.

Kuhn, head of the Vigilance Tax Committee of Detroit suburbs, said the mayors conference should oppose city taxes on non-residents without voter consent.

Kuhn's suburban group, which fought Detroit's 1 per cent income tax on residents and nonresidents, is seeking legislation to meet with its position.

Janet Milligan Wed in Candlelight Rites

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — In candlelight rites Saturday evening, Janet Louise Milligan became the bride of Richard Thomas Olson. The ceremony was performed in Calvary Baptist Church, Waterford Township.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Chester O. Milligan, 7265 Clintonville, and the Otto Olsons, 3225 McClure, Troy.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor-length white satin gown with a Chantilly lace over satin bodice. It featured a scalloped V neckline and long, tapered sleeves.

A crystal and pearl crown held her elbow-length veil. She carried a white orchid and three sweetheart roses surrounded by white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Kenneth E. Baker of Clarkston was matron of honor for her sister. Other sisters, Mrs. Harold Reed of Trinity, Ala., and Mrs. Thomas Baker of Union Lake and niece Brenda Baker and Nancy Milligan of Clarkston, were bridesmaids.

On the esquire side, David Olson served his brother as best man. The guests were seated by Howard and Donald Milligan, brothers of the bride.

Cheryl Lennon, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl by Raymond Barry, nephew of the bride, attending as ring bearer.

Kiwanis to Hear Finance Talk

ROCHESTER — In observance of United Nations Week, Rochester Kiwanians will feature Dr. Erich Rombach, economic counselor to the German Consulate, Detroit, at 7:15 p.m. meeting Oct. 14.

Arthur Kolini, Rochester Kiwanis Club president, announced that Dr. Rombach will discuss "Germany's Stake in World Trade."

Thomas Kruger, program chairman, said Dr. Rombach's appearance is timed to make a United Nations Week, which begins Oct. 21, more meaningful.

The meeting will take place at Bobo's Restaurant, 406 Main. Guests are invited, but due to limited space, those planning to attend should contact Edwin Forbush, at the Dillman & Upton Lumber Co., 543 Main.

Dr. Rombach is a doctor of national economics and has served as deputy representative at the London Seat of the Federation of German Industries and worked at the German Foreign Office in Bonn.

Ben Bella Troops Stiffen Line Around Tribal Rebels

ALGIERS (UPI)—Troops loyal to Premier Ahmed Ben Bella tightened a machine-gun cordon today around the mountain stronghold of 8,000 tough Berber rebels who threaten the nation with civil war.

The first major uprising in Algeria's one-year history as an independent nation has so far been almost exclusively a war of words.

Shots were fired for the first time last Friday, when a rebel soldier was wounded and six loyalists captured.

Ben Bella's troops, dressed in battle garb, set up roadblocks around Bida and on the highways to Medea, Michel, Berrouaghia and Boufarik in an attempt to seal off the insurgent Patrois fanned out overland.

There were indications Ben Bella was planning to try to end the week-old "war" soon by moving with force against the rebels. He said in a newspaper interview yesterday he would "not tolerate much longer" the division of Algeria. At the same time he said there was no question of negotiations with rebel leader Hocine Ait Ahmed.

Ait Ahmed's outlawed Socialist Forces Front (FFS) launched off the current crisis with a big rally in the "Berber capital" of Tizi-Ouzou last week.

Since then, more than 8,000 troops under Col. Mohand Ou Hadj, have gathered in the Kabyle Mountains to support Ait Ahmed. Almost all of the rebels are battle-toughened veterans of the war against France.

'UNKNOWN QUANTITY'

Most of Ben Bella's 30,000 troops are an unknown quantity. Many of them sat out the seven-year war against France as refugees, while the Berbers shouldered much of the brunt of the fighting.

Ait Ahmed and El Hadj have demanded Ben Bella's resignation. They accuse him of setting up a dictatorship and ignoring the two million Berbers who make up one-sixth of Algeria's population.

In the interview yesterday, Ben Bella hinted he might agree to meet with El Hadj — "He is not on the same wave-length as Ait Ahmed."

The rebels charged that Ben Bella was "more than Stalin" and declared that "we have decided to destroy this regime."

South Africa Holds 300 Without Charge

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—There are believed to be about 30 people held without charges in South Africa. Authorities decline to give precise figures. They are detained under a security law which authorizes police to hold suspects 90 days — and the 90-day detention can be repeated indefinitely. Commenting editorially on this situation, the independent Johannesburg Star last week called on Justice Minister Balthazar Vorster to make a full statement giving the numbers held, released, charged and still to be charged.

It Seems to Me....

Probe of Mutual Problems Binds U. S., Latin America

Pontiac has just entertained five friendly, intelligent visitors from Colombia who came here to observe our daily activities in many diversified branches of government. Previously, a delegation of Oakland citizens visited these splendid people in their own country to discuss ways and means.

It's always a delight to meet Latin Americans. My association with these fine citizens over a period of years produces great respect and affection. The U. S. Federal Government believes we may assist our Southern compatriots by outlining current North American methods. And we, in turn, may learn from them.

I'm convinced we face a greater obligation in our own hemisphere than we do in Europe, Asia or Africa. As North Americans, our primary interest in common should be Colombia, Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Mexico, Peru, etc. Their problems are more nearly our problems and more important to us than those in Italy, Britain or France. I would like to believe they share this sentiment equally.

The Inter American Press Association is an outstanding example of hemisphere cooperation and mutualism. Composed of more than 600 newspapers in North, Central and South America, a primary objective is the Freedom of the Press for both hemispheres. We devote two full days to this in every meeting. Probably the IAPA constitutes the greatest foe communism has in the combined Americas.

Newspapers are better equipped to fight the domination of ruthless Soviet dictation than automobile manufacturers, bankers, lawyers or even the churches. Our battle is unrelenting and unending; and we oppose individual dictatorships just as steadfastly and just as stoutly as we do the Red menace.

We believe in democracy.
We fight for a free world.

Friendliness and understanding are best brought about by knowing "the other chap" and understanding his problems and his commitments. The United States Government is behind this forward-looking Colombian exchange. It is interested in the development through Congressman BROOMFIELD.

Here is a challenging experiment on an international basis and one that should produce fruitful results.

Political Tour....

Why were we treated to all that political nonsense about President Kennedy's "conservation tour"? There's nothing improper in a political junket to bolster the flagging cause of the errant brethren, or to repair a few sagging fences. That's par for the course.

Both sides do it.

Why twist, duck and evade?

These are days when the general public wants to call a spade a spade without attempting to disguise it as "an auxiliary gardening implement." This newspaper doesn't begrudge President Kennedy the necessary ground work for his bid for a second term. It isn't unbecoming.

But let's face it.

"Conservation" — phooey.

Most Disgusting....

If I had a hand in the CHRISTINE KEELER case in London, the little punk would be headed straight for a consequential stay in one of Britain's most undesirable hoosegows. This little tart didn't originate her calling and from that angle, she isn't any more reprehensible than her professional sisters. But she flouted decency far beyond "the call of duty" and she has reveled and even gloried in mass notoriety.

I really believe most girls would be humiliated by this brazen little prostitute has waved and smirked her way past the photographers and the curious throngs. She needs to be put in a stout basket where they're trained to administer to her ilk. Some misceans are just more offensive than others. She's such a one. The object lesson to the world is important. And as I've said before, I'm ashamed of my profession for seemingly making a heroine out of a low-grade slut.

Cuban Trip....

Hold everything!
Another group of senseless, cock-eyed students plans a trip to Cuba.

The U. S. taxpayers have had enough. The first contingent made idiots of itself and even greater idiots of spineless government officials that ducked, twisted and fawned before the misguided nitwits. If the usual authorities are terrified of half a hundred undergraduates, let's take the matter out of their hands and place it in a competent source where the honor of the United States is no longer in danger from governmental cowardice and stupidity.

Students as disloyal as this to their own country should be restrained by open force, iron bars or equally formidable substitutes.

Whoa!

And in Conclusion....

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Bowling has gone "high society" in England. London just opened Tennyson Lanes with white tie and tails. Princess Grace bowls at Monaco and in France some fashionable gals had a famous designer produce new bowling costumes. The Damon Runyon Cancer Fund is receiving $500,000 from a will that raises the all-time total to better than $30 million. Warner Brothers next movie will have a lady President of the U. I can't prove it, but I'll bet a sugar cookie that if your TV screen is blurred, most of the time you had better see an eye doctor instead of a repair man.

Concessions Made to Reds?

WASHINGTON — America's foreign policy is going through a critical stage. There is a growing feeling that, in order to "reduce tensions," secret diplomacy has taken over and that important concessions have been or will be made to the Soviets.

The peoples of Eastern Europe are reported to be most apprehensive about an American tendency to grant such concessions — as, for example, on the sale of wheat — without achieving anything in return.

Thus, former Vice President Nixon, in an article in this week's issue of The Saturday Evening Post, says flatly that, while the signing of the testban treaty may have decreased the danger of war, "the danger of defeat without war has been substantially increased."

Nixon writes that "A great new Communist offensive is being launched against the free world, an offensive without resort to war, an offensive all the more dangerous because it is so difficult to recognize and to meet effectively."

GREATEST DANGER

He adds: "I believe that we are now entering a period of the greatest danger of Communist expansion in the free world since immediately after World War II."

Nixon, who has just returned from a trip to Europe, says that an American foreign-policy adviser there said to him: "If the Kennedy administration had not watered down the captive nations resolution as it did this year, Khrushchev might never have agreed to the test ban."

Nixon doesn't believe that such an assumption is correct, but he asks, "was the test ban worth the price we paid? Did we sell out freedom for expediency?"

Do people know what flashing red lights on a stopped school bus mean?

Twice this year I've had cars zoom by my school bus — once while loading and again when stopped to unload. These are not teen-age drivers, but grown adults. If I had opened the bus door and let the little girl off, the car on Franklin Road would have struck her.

More Write on Waterford Taxes, Cityhood

The renewal of the 10-mill school tax in Waterford is a necessity not only to maintain but advance our present sound educational program. I'm sure the school system is proud of the support of the taxpayers and taxpayers should be pleased to continue this support.

Waterford Taxpayer

Do the people who complain about taxes stop to think what Waterford is paying out now as a charter township? We have a governing body, trustees, justices, lawyers and engineers. Under a city we would realize a greater portion of highway tax. We would receive sales tax and liquor tax revenue. These alone amount to a large amount.

Therefore, if we have the additional funds coming in as a city for improvements that are and will be needed, why the big cry "Taxes will go up"? Are we to sit still and live in the "township" and be swallowed up by outlying districts?

We have 36 square miles that can be kept intact and be a beautiful, well-run, prosperous city without any more cost to its residents.

Venezuela on Trial

The Miami News

Americans have more than a casual interest in the trial held in Caracas, Venezuela, for former Venezuelan dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez.

Perez Jimenez was a resident of Miami Beach, presumably with the status of a political refugee. Then the government of his country filed criminal charges. Some were thrown out by our federal court, but a charge that he had embezzled $13 million was found to have sufficient substance to warrant a trial.

Under our extradition treaty with Venezuela, our government saw fit to extradite him to his home land last week. Nobody could complain about this provided he was assured a fair trial instead of political persecution.

Now the news reports are that he is being brought to trial in a fortress prison, San Juan de los Morros, about 70 miles from Caracas where he has been confined since he was flown back to Venezuela. He was to have been informed yesterday by the 15 judges of the Supreme Court. First stages of the trial were to be in secrecy.

Perez Jimenez's guilt or innocence should be decided after a full disclosure of the facts. We do not think that a group of supreme court justices, of

Reuther in Trouble

The Jackson Citizen Patriot

Walter Reuther is in trouble. That in itself is no cause for comment — he has been in trouble before. But Reuther and his United Auto Workers union find themselves in the middle of a labor dispute raised by the union's own organizers. They have formed a union of their own and now want a contract from the UAW. This must be embarrassing to the UAW president and his executive board.

The board now must bargain with the union or face the possibility of having the new union carry an appeal to the National Labor Relations Board for a representative election.

Thus, the UAW finds itself in the position into which it so often has forced management—bargain or else.

And now, finding itself in management's plight, it is using phrases which management has used time and time again in trying to cope with UAW demands.

Says the UAW: "In any large organization there always will be staff problems. The UAW is not immune. The union is confident, however, that any problems of this nature will be resolved in a spirit of goodwill and cooperation in the democratic tradition of the UAW."

Strange and unfamiliar words coming from one of the most powerful unions in the country which has not been noted always for goodwill and cooperation in its dealings with industrial management.

But now the shoe is on the other foot.

Former Red Soldier on Trial for Shooting

STUTTGART, Germany (U) — A former East German army corporal went on trial here today in the fatal shooting of a refugee on the Iron Curtain border. It is the first case before a West German court.

Fritze Hanneke, 22, is charged with manslaughter in the death of a young East German worker who was shot when trying to flee the Communist country in the Harz mountains June 5, 1962.

When Hanneke fled to West Germany early this year, other Communist soldiers passed the word to West German police that he had fired the fatal shot.

Grace Offered Movie Role and $1 Million

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (UPI) — Princess Grace was reported today to be considering an offer of $1 million, tax free, to star in a new film, "The Great Adventure."

A representative of the producers of the film said the offer stipulated the money would be paid to the former Grace Kelly personally or to the Monégasque Red Cross or any other charity she might name.

"The Great Adventure" concerns the destruction of the German heavy water plant in Norway during the war by the Norwegian underground — a feat which helped keep Nazi Germany from building an atom bomb.

Fitz said the role offered Princess Grace was "made to order" for her.

Forest Fire Is Controlled

PARMA (U) — A forest and grasslands fire that swept an estimated 400 acres near here Saturday was kept contained yesterday. The fire for a time had threatened a rural school and homes.

Mac Facing Demand to Quit

Begins Crucial Week of Political Activity

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, faced with new resignation demands from within his own party ranks, today began a crucial week of political activity.

Macmillan's Conservative party will open its annual conference Wednesday at the seaside resort of Blackpool. It will be the last such meeting before the general elections Macmillan must call within the next 12 months, and the conservatives must use it to recapture the initiative from the opposition Labor party.

ENDS CONVENTION

Labor wound up its convention last week with a rare show of unity between left and right wings, a series of attacks on Macmillan for permitting large-scale unemployment and the sex and security scandals, and a sweeping program of social reform.

Opinion polls have been showing a Labor lead over the Conservatives for many weeks.

In contrast to this public expression of unity, Macmillan had criticism from two groups within his party. One is the influential Monday Club, said to be advising its 300 members it would be "utterly wrong" for the 69-year-old prime minister to remain in power until the elections.

Paul Bristol, chairman of the club, said Lord Hailsham, Macmillan's minister of science, was the leading candidate to replace the premier.

The club today mailed a "manifesto of its beliefs" to all Conservative members of Parliament. Bristol said it claims Macmillan "has lost the confidence of the elector because of his inability to communicate, or rather his unconscious desire not to."

"The country has a right to know, not just to be allowed glimpses of future political thought," it added.

Last of Quints Hits the Bottle; All Doing Fine

ABERDEEN, S. D. (UP) — The last of the 23-day-old Fischer quintuplets was on the bottle today. All of them continued doing fine.

First born Mary Ann, named for her mother, took an ounce of formula by bottle for the first time at noon yesterday and another ounce at 3 p. m.

The quint's doctor, James Berbos, said Mary Ann, who has been the tiniest since the birth, "enjoyed it very much." The other four have been on the bottle more than a week.

Mary Ann weighed 3 pounds 4 ounces at her last weigh-in. The others were Mary Margaret, 4 pounds 2 ounces; Mary Catherine, 3 pounds 14 ounces; Mary Magdalene, 3 pounds 12 ounces; and James Andrew, 4 pounds 13 ounces.

Ex-Kentucky Governor in Hospital for Check

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Former Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler entered the A. B. Chandler

Medical Center Sunday for a check-up.

A hospital spokesman said the 65-year-old former senator, baseball commissioner and two-term governor probably would be in the hospital a day or two.

The father of modern rocketry was an American, Dr. Robert H. Goddard. He stated in 1920 that a rocket capable of soaring from the earth to the moon was feasible. His research resulted in more than 150 patents.

Backed Honduran President

Junta Dissolves Civil Guard

By ROBERT TBERRELLEZ
TEGUICIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — To end the last organized armed opposition to its rule, the Honduran military junta says it will dissolve the Civil Guard created by deposed President Ramon Villeda Morales and revive the National Police under military control.

Opponents of the deposed president claim he used the Civil Guard to repress and intimidate voters in the 1962 municipal elections member Civil Guard in 1959 to replace the National Police after the latter surrendered with little opposition to forces that tried to overthrow the president. The guard was responsible only to the chief executive.

The junta claimed that Cuban Communists led the snipers who fought a spectacular rooftop battle against army patrols in the downtown area of this capital Saturday. The junta said two Cubans were among the six snipers killed and four Cubans were captured.

The junta claimed it suffered no casualties. Other sources said at least eight bodies were seen in the city.

Foreign Minister Jorge Fidel Duron said capture of the four Cubans "is the most dramatic proof" of junta charges that Villeda Morales' government was infiltrated by Communists.

UNSUCCESSFUL COUP

Col Armando Velasquez, who led an unsuccessful 1959 coup against Villeda Morales, arrived from Nicaragua where he has been living in exile. Authorities immediately hustled him out of Honduras, explaining no general amnesty has been granted to political exiles.

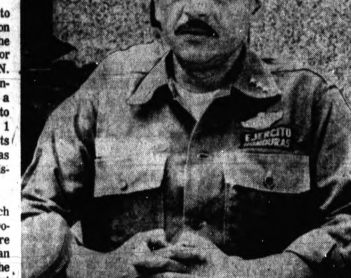

Lopez told newsmen some constitutional changes probably would be made by the Constituent Assembly. There was no intention to repeal any of the social legislation approved under Villeda Morales' administration.

Other developments in Latin America:

• The Guatemalan military junta, which seized control March 31 from President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes, offered diplomatic recognition to the Honduran military government.

• A Brazilian congressional justice committee approved a watered-down substitute for the 30-day state of siege requested by President Joao Goulart to meet a "grave internal commotion." The committee's measure would sharply limit the government's powers during the state of siege and would maintain many constitutional guarantees which would have been suspended.

• Venezuelan President Romulo

AP Photo/...

'HEADS REGIME' — Col. Oswaldo Lopez Arellano, who led a coup that overthrew the regime of Honduras President Ramon Villeda Morales, said the new government — eight civilians and two military men — would keep power for a year. The military claimed the deposed president was soft on Communism.

Fishing Conference Ends

TOKYO (AP) — Delegates from the United States, Canada and Japan today ended a three-week conference after failing to agree on a revision to the North Pacific Fishery Convention.

In a joint communique they said they will recommend to their governments that a third conference be held in Ottawa sometime next spring. The first conference held in Washington last June also ended in disagreement when Japan objected to U.S. and Canadian demands that it abstain from fishing for salmon and halibut in an area off the Alaskan and Canadian coast.

The conferences are aimed at drafting an agreement to replace a 10-year treaty adopted in 1953. Japan agreed then not to fish for

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Various Plants Cause Allergy Reactions

You don't have to go on a hayride to have hay fever, but you do have to be allergic to one of the pollens produced by certain types of plants.

A tendency to allergy is inherited, but you will not necessarily be sensitive to the same pollens your allergic relatives were sensitive to.

If you have the hay fever-asthma type of allergy, now is the time to plan ahead so as to get through the season with BRANDSTADT as little discomfort as possible.

There has been some confusion about what kinds of pollen cause allergies. Self-pollinating plants such as violets do not cause them.

Others, like daisies and golden rod, have a sticky pollen and depend on cross-pollination by bees and other insects.

These plants have often been wrongly accused of causing hay fever, because their flowering coincides with that of ragweed and other plants whose pollen is wind-borne.

The pollinating season for these plants varies because of variations in climate.

A frequently overlooked source of trouble is the fungus or mold that forms on grass and other vegetation in the summer.

The common Penicillium, the mold from which penicillin is made, is a frequent offender. Others are Alternaria and Hormodendron.

SKIN TESTS

For any form of allergy caused by inhaling the allergen, skin tests give the quickest means of diagnosis. But, since even skin tests are not infallible, careful observation by your doctor is essential.

Because allergens promote the production of histamine by the body, a group of antihistamine drugs have become popular for temporary relief of the acute attack.

These may be taken by mouth or inhaled. Although they usually give quick relief, their use may be attended by such side reactions as drowsiness, lightheadedness, or increased nervous tension.

COMBINATION

In many of the popular hay fever remedies they are combined with an older remedy—epinephrine. The adrenal cortical steroid hormones are also useful in some persons with severe hay fever.

Preventive measures include avoidance of the causative pollen. When indoors hazards are greatly reduced by air-conditioning, since it effectively traps pollen in its filtering system.

Since few persons can remain constantly indoors with the windows closed, community efforts should be encouraged to eradicate ragweed, the chief offender, by cutting it before it pollinates or by the use of weed killers.

If desensitization is started about six weeks before the pollen season begins, it can be a very effective way to avoid trouble.

The old system of injecting small doses of the allergen at frequent intervals has been replaced in some clinics by prolonged-action injections.

The allergen is given in an oil emulsion which allows it to be absorbed slowly. Although this method is less bothersome it is not foolproof.

It carries an increased risk of abscess formation. For this reason, many doctors still prefer the older method.

Hay fever is still an annoying ailment. But with modern methods of treatment most victims can get through the season in relative comfort.

Shortage of Sailors Locks Royal Navy

LONDON (AP)—Raymond Blackman, editor of Jane's Fighting Ships, said yesterday that a shortage of 20,000 men in the Royal Navy has kept 120 warships out of full commission.

"So many men have to be on shore undergoing nuclear and technical courses that there are not all that many men to commission ships," he said.

There are only two sizable cities in Turkey, Istanbul has a population of almost two million and Ankara, the capital, has about 1.3 million residents.

Grandmother in High School

STANLEY, Wis. (AP) — Mrs. Ethel Stangret, 44, a grandmother, and her youngest daughter, Dorothy, both are full-time students at Stanley High School.

After her husband, Joseph, died last summer, Mrs. Stangret decided to return to high school and get her diploma. She had dropped out of high school after two years.

Dorothy and her mother have no classes together.

House Faces Rights Skirmish

By JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — A civil rights skirmish looms in the House today when a bill to extend the life of the Civil Rights Commission comes up for a vote.

The bill is a stopgap measure to keep the commission alive until Congress acts on an omnibus civil rights bill. The commission is due to expire Nov. 30.

The House action ushers in a heavy week of congressional activity, with a $47-billion defense appropriation bill, a major education bill and a bill providing funds for more than 20 government agencies coming up in either the House or Senate.

TOUCH OF SUSPENSE
A parliamentary situation requiring a two-thirds majority for passage of the Civil Rights Commission extension adds a touch of suspense to what otherwise would be a fairly routine vote.

House attendance is generally light on Mondays, with most of the missing members coming from metropolitan areas in the Northeast where support for civil rights legislation is strongest. Southern opponents of the commission can be expected to turn out in force.

The bill provides for only a one-year extension of the commission, whereas the omnibus bill now being considered by the House Judiciary Committee would make it a permanent agency. The one-year extension has been approved by the Senate.

A three-part education bill provides the chief legislative action in the Senate. Due to come up today, it combines three programs into one measure. They are:

—A major expansion of federal support for vocational education. The bill would add $200 million over three years for state-run vocational education programs, compared to $450 million in a House-passed bill.

—A three-year extension of various programs under the National Defense Education Act, including a substantial increase in funds for the popular college student loan program.

—A three-year extension of the $350 million-a-year program whereby the federal government aids public school districts with large numbers of children of federal employees.

ment was reached Friday by representatives of each body meeting in conference.

On Thursday the House will vote on a bill providing funds for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Veterans Administration and about 20 smaller agencies.

Murrow Satisfactory After Lung Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward R. Murrow, director of the U.S. Information Agency and former nationally known news commentator, was reported in very satisfactory condition after an operation to remove one lung.

The husky voice of the 55-year-old Murrow had long been familiar to millions of Americans as he opened his nightly broadcasts with the pronouncement — "This is the news."

Murrow is recuperating in a Washington hospital center after the three-hour operation Saturday. Tests have been ordered to see whether a tumor on the lung was malignant.

Indonesia Ends Fete for 18th Army Birthday

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia wound up a two-day celebration marking the 18th anniversary of its armed forces Sunday with a war exercise on the outskirts of Jakarta.

and 1,000 infantry men took part in the exercise designed to show the armed forces' striking power.

Jackie Sails Ahead; Liked Istanbul City

ISTANBUL, Turkey (UPI) — Jacqueline Kennedy sailed today for an unknown Mediterranean destination after a one-day visit to Istanbul, an exotic city she plans to revisit "when my husband is no longer President."

For the First Lady, recuperating from the death of her third child, it was a "dream vacation." With one of the world's most luxurious yachts at her command, she sailed the blue Mediterranean with a dozen glamorous ports to choose from.

Greek ship owner Aristotele Onassis' yacht, Christina, left Istanbul with Mrs. Kennedy and 10 guests last night. The captain told Turkish military authorities the destination was "undecided."

Other officials said they had been told the Christina would return to Athens — its point of departure — with stopovers at the Greek isles of Rhodes and Crete.

It was believed that Onassis was waiting to see how Mrs. Kennedy felt after her tiring sight-seeing jaunt through Istanbul — the half-European, half-Asian city astride the Straits of Bosphorus.

The Christina arrived in Istanbul at midmorning. Mrs. Kennedy apparently slept late and missed the trip up the Bosphorus. On the 15-mile return journey she watched the scenery while lunching on the top deck with her guests beneath green umbrellas.

Lord Rushes to Bedside of Sick Siamese Cats

LONDON (UPI) — Sir John Smyth and his wife said today they broke off their vacation on Majorca and flew back to London because their two Siamese cats fell ill.

"The fact that we were at their bedside helped them to recover," Sir John said. "The Siamese is the most intelligent animal I have ever come across. They can very nearly talk, you know."

Supreme Court Begins Its Busiest Term

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court convenes today for a new term, confronted with the heaviest docket in its long history.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, beginning his eleventh year on the high bench, has seen a steady annual increase in appeals during his regime. The total at term-opening now stands at almost 1,200 cases.

Representing an increase of about 300 cases over last October's opening, the total includes appeals expected to produce momentous decisions in the coming winter and spring.

Under court routine dating back many years, opening day is a short one devoted to admission of attorneys to practice before the high court.

Next Monday the court will announce what actions will be taken on hundreds of cases filed during the summer. The number to be announced is expected to exceed 600, compared with 425 set on at the start of the 1962-63 term. Appeals granted will get hearings late in the fall or winter.

Questions left undecided in the Tennessee legislative reapportionment ruling of 1962 will be taken up soon. The court already has agreed to hear new apportionment cases from New York, Georgia, Alabama, Maryland and Virginia.

In the Tennessee case the tribunal decided the division of seats in state legislatures is subject to judicial scrutiny. Now the justices are faced with the question of what apportionment standards satisfy the Constitution.

New appeals have been filed in apportionment cases from Michigan, Florida, Delaware, Washington state, Ohio, Oklahoma, Colorado and New York.

The court also is faced with another stack of civil rights cases, most of them developing from sit-in and freedom rider demonstrations. The big question in these appeals is whether the Constitution's 14th Amendment bars the use of state trespass laws to enforce private racial discrimination.

Before leaving for summer vacation, the justices set up a heavy preliminary work load by agreeing to hear 95 cases early in the new term.

Among these is an appeal questioning constitutionality of an Ohio law making it a crime to knowingly possess or show obscene motion pictures. This case was argued last term, then ordered reargued in the new term, presumably because the court was unable to reach agreement on a final decision.

Validity of the Ohio law was questioned by the manager of a theater in Cleveland Heights, Ohio. He was fined $2,500 for showing a French film entitled "The Lovers." The movie won prizes in Europe, ran in 100 cities in this country, and was rated in a New York Times listing among the ten best for 1959.

Another appeal of wide public interest also will be scheduled for argument soon. In this case the justices will consider for the first time author Henry Miller's "Tropic of Cancer." The question for decision is whether this much-discussed novel may be suppressed under California's anti-obscenity law.

Other appeals to be argued soon include:

- Contempt convictions of two officials of the States Rights party for distributing copies of their newspaper in Fairfield, Ala.
- Outlawing of the practice of chiropractors in Louisiana.
- The question whether state courts, or the National Labor Relations Board, may enforce state bans on agency shop labor con-

• A Virginia case barring the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen from operating its legal aid department for benefit of union members.

• A contention by Gov. Ross R. Barnett of Mississippi that he is entitled to a jury trial on criminal contempt charges. The charges developed from opposition to admission of Negro James H. Merriam to the University of Mississippi.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible To Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so—even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H. In addition to actually shrinking piles—Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

French Envoy, JFK to Confer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy sits down with French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville today for an expected frank exchange of views on U.S.-French foreign policy differences.

"There will be a reciprocal explanation of policies," the French envoy said on his arrival here for talks with Kennedy and other U.S. officials, including Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

De Murville is scheduled to see Kennedy in midafternoon and talk with other officials today and tomorrow.

There was no advance indication of what replies the French spokesman will give to U.S. questions on the clash between French President Charles de Gaulle's go-it-alone course and Kennedy's desire to knit a tighter Atlantic community alliance economically and politically.

One Out of Eight Has the Snoring Habit

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

If you snore, it may be because you are too fat. Obesity is listed as a common cause of snoring.

As are excessive smoking, enlarged tonsils and fatigue. Incidentally, one out of eight people snore habitually.

Of the nation's 24 million female jobholders, 55 percent are wives. Why do they work outside the home? Most do so not because they are interested in careers, but because the family needs the money.

If your child's teeth are far apart, he is destined to travel to distant places; if his teeth stand close together, he will remain at home all his life.

Last year a record 49,800,000 Americans were incapacitated a day or more by accidents, a daily average of more than 135,000 injured.

their infant's cradle, and a lullaby played by the phone company will put the child to sleep.

In 1937 only one out of seven cancer patients survived; today one out of three does. In 1937 admission to a mental hospital was considered almost tantamount to a death sentence; today two-thirds of the new patients are released in 12 months or less.

Sugar Exec Succumbs

DETROIT (AP) — Robert J. Connolly, retired executive vice president of the W. W. Edgar Sugar Co., died at his home Saturday. He was 72. He was a native of Bronson.

There was speculation the advertisement was suggested by Blaik and Royall as a first step in the hiring of Negro policemen, a major demand by Negroes.

A mass meeting was scheduled for tonight at the St. James Baptist Church, and it was considered likely that King would announce his decision there.

"I am taking seven of my co-workers," King said at his home in Atlanta yesterday. "They are the same people I had with me during the movement (demonstrations) in April and May."

"I will meet with local leaders in the community and determine whether it is necessary to resume demonstrations."

Blaik and Royall, who met with both Negro and white leaders during a two-week period, were expected to file their report to the President sometime this week.

They were sent here by Kennedy after the Sept. 15 bombing of a Negro church which killed Royall and ex-West Point football coach Earl (Red) Blaik.

Guarantee my family immediate financial security?

How?

With your life insurance... and the help your agent is trained to give you!

YOU: You mean I had this security the moment I got my policy?

YOUR LIFE INSURANCE AGENT: That's right. Your financial estate immediately increased by the full amount of the policy.

YOU: Though I'd only paid the first premium?

AGENT: Yes, and there's another point, too.

YOU: What's that?

AGENT: Well, suppose there were no such thing as life insurance. You'd still want to provide financial security for your family, wouldn't you?

YOU: Naturally.

AGENT: Then think how much you would have to save—even to attempt this. Think how long it would take to save the amount you needed.

YOU: I get it. My life insurance immediately guaranteed my family more money than I could save in years.

AGENT: Exactly. That's one of the unique advantages of life insurance.

Congress Asked to Aid U. S. Shippers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., today asked Congress to force the Maritime Commission to protect U. S. shippers from unfair competition in international commerce.

His bill would require the commission to disapprove any rates detrimental to the foreign commerce of this country. A joint House-Senate Economic Committee already has underscored the need for the legislation, Dingell said in remarks.

prepared to accompany his measure.

He quoted a study by the committee as characterizing the commission's activities as "inadequate, shocking, disgraceful, and giving every indication that the commission has been grossly negligent and gravely derelict in their duty to protect American industry, the public interest, and U. S. national interest."

Dingell cited examples to support his charge that U. S. shippers suffer from "outrageous and discriminatory treatment" at the hands of international shipping conferences.

"It costs less to send a Rolls Royce from England to the U. S. than it does to send a Chevrolet from the U. S. to England," he said. "The cost of shipping a bicycle is as much as three times from the United States to Europe as from Europe to the United States."

OUTSTANDING EXAMPLE

Steel is an outstanding example of the unfavorable balance of trade, he said.

The committee report showed that rates on ingots, blooms, billets, and slabs were 86 per cent higher on exports than on imports, 71 per cent higher on wire rods, and 91 per cent higher on rails and accessories, he said.

Barbed wire costs $36.00 to export from Japan, but only $18.75 to import from that country to the U. S., Dingell said.

He said this kind of discriminatory treatment contributes heavily to the outflow of gold from this country.

CAUGHT CAT — Pixie (right), came home Saturday dragging this steel trap behind her. Mr. and Mrs. Rex Crance of Jackson, owners of the cat, report its injured leg is mending.

Pixie's kitten helps her mother during her ordeal. Pixie will probably think twice before tackling the steel adversary again.

General to Calm Pakistan?

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

PAKISTAN: The nation's top military man, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, may go to Pakistan next month to try to help ally suspicions raised there by the shipment of U. S. weapons to India.

Serious frictions have developed in U. S.-Pakistan relations since this country started beefing up India's military forces in the face of a serious threat from Communist China.

PAKISTAN ANGERED

This in turn has angered Pakistan, a traditionally strong U. S. ally, but a bitter opponent of India.

Pakistan has been warming up to Red China while protesting U. S. military aid to India, despite this country's assurances that American weapons are not increasing India's capacity for any assault on Pakistan.

YUGOSLAVIA: President Kennedy has aroused some congressional ire by ruling Yugoslavia eligible for $1 million in U. S. military aid on grounds it is not controlled by the international Communist conspiracy and therefore not subject to the ban set by Comgress on assistance to such countries.

"This phony classification is certainly a mockery," said Rep. William Minshall, R-Ohio.

"The first thing you know, they will say (the Chinese Communists) are no longer allied with Khrushchev's brand of communism and, therefore, under this reasoning they would be eligible," chimed in Rep. Otto Passman, D-La.

SPACE RACE: Dr. Edward C. Walsh, executive secretary of the National Aeronautics and Space Council, has cautioned Americans not to underestimate Soviet space capability.

Speaking Saturday night to a dinner of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Walsh said: "We seem to go through cycles of upgrading and downgrading the space ability of the Soviet Union."

"The correct approach is to recognize that the Soviets got a head start, have an orderly, well-planned and vigorous space program and will continue to impress us with their technological accomplishments and their space spectaculars," he said.

To Increase Flight Coordination

Military Planes Going Under FAA System

By ROBERT J. SERLING

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) is bringing all military aircraft under its Traffic Control (ATC) system.

The move is designed to reduce the possibility of collisions between fast-flying fighters and private planes. The FAA has tried out the concept in the Indianapolis, Detroit and Chicago Air Traffic Control (ATC) center areas with "very successful" results.

This major air safety action was revealed in the FAA's monthly publication "Aviation News," which contained a digest of a hitherto unpublished speech by the agency's top Air Traffic Control official, David Thomas.

Thomas said nearly half of the 2,500 near-collisions reported to the FAA in the past five years involved military aircraft. Several near-misses between fighters and airliners have occurred this year.

Thomas said as soon as expanded equipment and personnel requirements are met, all intercept activities will be under ATC guidance except for the actual intercept portion of a mission.

He said the FAA also is providing personnel to assist the Air Defense Command in setting up a training program for all personnel in fighter-intercept operations. The civilian agency also is encouraging the military to conduct as many flights as possible under the FAA's ATC system — such as filing instrument flight plans which enables ATC to keep better track of military aircraft.

Thomas said the FAA's study of 2,500 near-collision reports since 1958 showed that:

- About 20 collisions involving civil aircraft occur each year. This rate has been fairly consistent since the immediate post-World War II days.
- Sixty to 100 accidents annually were so close that collision avoidance was pure luck rather than resulting from evasive action by pilots.
- Most "near-misses" occur in daylight, in clear weather and in the en route portion of the flight (contrary to a common belief that the congested airspace near airports is the main breeding ground for incidents).
- Filing an IFR (Instrument Flight Rules) plan offers no full protection if the "other guy" is flying VFR (Visual Flight Rules). In 1962 alone, there were 156 near-collisions between planes operating IFR presumably in protected airspace, and aircraft flying VFR.

• For no apparent reason, Thursday is the "most prevalent day for near-accidents."

Thomas said there are four main causes of near-collisions: Trying to fly without guidance from the federal ATC system, too much reliance on radar without understanding its limitations, lack of pilot vigilance and controller error.

The FAA official said the agency is striving to reduce controller instruction to a minimum to prevent overburdening of already busy pilots.

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special) — A new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calm anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma — the straining for breath, the gasping wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma studies breathing tubes become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers on new look forward to useful sleep.

Bosch Appeals for People to Demonstrate

MAYAGUEZ, P.R. (UPI) — Juan Bosch broadcast an appeal to his people yesterday to "take to the streets too revive liberty."

The tone of Bosch's speech suggested he was asking for demonstrations against the army-supported civilian junta that replaced him rather than an attempt at open revolt.

Bosch blamed his overthrow on opposition political leaders, specifically — Virgilio G. M. Viquez, who UCN party lost out in Bosch's PRD in last year's election.

The ex-president said UCN "conspirators" pretending to be Communists telephoned army leaders and told them they would be killed unless they got rid of Bosch.

The generals, who overthrew Bosch, complained that his administration was "soft" on Communism.

"I never have been a Communist," Bosch said. "The Dominican people hate Communism."

Grain Export to Red Nations No Threat to U.S. Supplies

By OVI DA. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The possible sale of 100- to 125-million tons of wheat to the grain-short Soviet bloc would barely make a crop—next year's—will be grown and harvested.

The plentiful American supply situation is in sharp contrast to that of the Soviet Union and some of its satellites. Because of poor crops and less skill in production than possessed by American farmers, the Soviets have found it necessary to turn to Canada, Australia and Western Europe—and now possibly the United States—for supplementary wheat.

Although this feeding capability is based on the assumption that no wheat would be exported, there is no need to restrict exports.

18-MONTH SUPPLY
At this time when wheat shortages are appearing in many countries, the U.S. government owns enough wheat to feed Americans more than two years.

This is in addition to this year's crop which is also sufficient to meet domestic food needs for an additional two years.

Present American supplies are ample to meet anticipated domestic and export demands for at least 18 months, probably 20 months. In the meantime, another crop—next year's—will be grown and harvested.

The plentiful American supply situation is in sharp contrast to that of the Soviet Union and some of its satellites. Because of poor crops and less skill in production than possessed by American farmers, the Soviets have found it necessary to turn to Canada, Australia and Western Europe—and now possibly the United States—for supplementary wheat.

Saturday diplomatic sources reported Hungary has told the United States it is ready to buy 800,000 tons — about 30 million bushels — of American grain.

Other informants said Cargill, Inc., of Minneapolis, one of the big American grain processors and shippers, already has requested an export license from the Commerce Department.

It was also reported that the Czech and Bulgarian embassies in Washington have expressed interest in buying about $60 million of American grain.

RED REQUESTS
Last Friday the State Department said there have been approaches from the governments of the three Communist countries for the purchase of American wheat.

The government owns what is popularly referred to as a big wheat surplus—supplies produced in past years and turned over to the Agriculture Department under farm price supports. This quantity was 1.03 billion bushels as of Aug. 31.

Farm officials object to the tagging of its wheat as surplus grain. They say it should more accurately be described as a reserve and surplus supply. They say it is in the public interest to maintain a reserve of at least 400 million bushels to protect against crop failure or other national emergencies.

Any Soviet buying also would have to come out of the reserve and surplus stocks owned by the government. There appears to be no likelihood, however, that export demands from these stocks will eat up the surplus portion of the government's holdings.

Sunday, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon gave his endorsement to sale of American wheat to the Soviet bloc.

TO AID PAYMENTS
The Treasury chief, a Republican who was undersecretary of state in the Eisenhower administration, said: "I want to emphasize the importance we attach to the possibility of sales of wheat and other grains to the Soviet bloc as a means of assisting us in the handling of our balance of payments problem."

Grain sales to the Soviet Union and to Eastern European satellites might add $200 million to $300 million—perhaps more—to American exports, Dillon said.

The government-owned wheat is stored in hundreds of big elevators or warehouses in big grain terminal markets as well as in Great Lakes and Atlantic seaboard.

TERMINAL ELEVATORS
Latest Agriculture Department reports show that about 458 million bushels are stored in terminal markets, where they are easily and readily accessible for domestic use or for shipment overseas. About 515 million bushels are stored in country elevators. Wheat stored here is constantly being moved to terminal elevators as grain is taken out for use at home or export.

The bulk of the wheat is kept in the Midwest where it can be readily shipped in all directions as needed arises. Fully half the American wheat moving abroad is shipped from Gulf ports, about one-fourth from Pacific ports and the remainder from ports in the

The farmer has the privilege of paying off his loan and selling his wheat in the market. He seldom does this because market prices usually are pretty well in line with the loan rate.

If the grower does not pay off his loan, the government takes it over the wheat and cancels his taining a price support loan on it.

NEW YORK (AP) — An aerial act of the Moscow Circus gained an unscheduled performer Sunday night—an anti-Castro Cuban girl who climbed to a 25-foot-high platform and unfurled a banner. "Russians get out of Cuba," it said.

Three other girls ran to the center of the ring before the 9,000 spectators at Madison Square Garden and shouted for Soviet soldiers to leave Cuba.

Other demonstrators tossed leaflets from the balcony. Special police escorted the six demonstrators from the building.

400 Attend Second Confab for Writers at Oakland U

By MADELEINE G. DOEREN

Four hundred typewriters were silent Saturday while their owners attended the second Writers' Conference at Oakland University.

"Craftsmanship in Creative Writing" was the theme for the event cosponsored by the Department of Continuing Education, Oakland University, and the Detroit Women Writers' Club.

Attendance which doubled last year's, was a fitting close to Michigan Writers' Week as proclaimed by Gov. George W. Romney.

Mrs. Otis Winn, president of the DWWC welcomed the assembly and Mrs. Walter N. Jackson, directed the workshop scheduled.

Twenty-Year-Old Delinquent Has Mother Baffled, Worried

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have three children. A boy of 20, and two girls, 16 and 13.

I am at my wits' end with the boy. He graduated from high school two years ago and has been sitting home ever since.

He never goes out. He has no friends and says he doesn't want any. He sits in the house all day watching television and complaining about the meals.

He is always criticizing me and picking on his sisters.

Nothing is wrong with him. He is big, strong and healthy.

I tried to get him to join the Army or get a job but he threatens to hit me if I don't quit nagging him. My husband is dead. What should I do?

WITS' END

DEAR WITS' END: A 20-year-old is not a BOY, he is a MAN — or should be. Your son could be lazy, spoiled or sick.

It is not normal for a "strong, healthy" man to withdraw from society and vegetate.

You can find out what ails him by getting him to a doctor.

DEAR ABBY: Recently our bridge club met at the home of one of the members. I won first prize and another woman won second prize.

When we opened our prizes hers was so superior to the little doodad that I won for first prize that I felt terribly cheated.

DISAPPOINTED

Everyone present commented on the nice prize she had won.

Don't you think the winner of the second prize should have said, "There must be some mistake?"

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: Not necessarily. If the hostess, who had bought the prizes, did not indicate that a "mistake" had been made, perhaps there was no mistake. If I were you, I'd forget it.

Lake Angelus Garden Group Views Films

Members of Lake Angelus Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association viewed films of outstanding Michigan gardens Friday in the home of Mrs. Lorne Proctor.

Mrs. Russell Hibbard will serve as president this year, with Mrs. Ray Hayes, vice president; Mrs. Alan Gray, recording secretary; Mrs. Clarence Butler, corresponding secretary and Mrs. T. J. Kerns, treasurer.

Members were asked to bring suitable greens to the November workshop meeting in the home of Mrs. Charles Kuhn.

Mrs. Alton Deuster spoke of the November ingathering of gifts for boys and girls at Northville Sanatorium.

Plans were completed for the greens market Dec. 11-12.

Sorority Chooses Year's Project

Support for the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children was chosen as a sorority project at the Oct. 2 meeting of Beta Mu Chapter of Epsilon Eigma Alpha.

Mrs. Gloria Freiburger of Berkley opened her home for the occasion.

Aunt Gets Wedding Honor Spot

By The Emily Post Institute Q: My fiancé's mother died when he was a year old and his maiden aunt (his mother's sister) raised him. In fact, he still lives with her. His father remarried many years ago and a very close relationship exists between my fiancé and his stepmother.

The question has come up as to who should be seated in the first pew and who should be seated just before my mother — his aunt or his stepmother? My fiancé thinks it should be his aunt and I think it should be his stepmother.

Will you please settle this point as we want to do the right thing and not hurt anyone's feelings.

A: His aunt who brought him up and with whom he lives should be the one to take his mother's place at the wedding and be seated just before your mother. The bridegroom's father and stepmother would, however, also be seated in the first pew with her.

Q: A boy I know has invited me to a dance at his school and I have accepted. A few weeks later my school is giving a dance and I would like to know if I have to ask this boy to go with me or may I ask someone else?

I had another boy in mind to ask to this dance but wonder if I am obliged to ask the first boy.

A: You may ask whoever you please in your school dance. Just because this first boy invited you to go to his dance is no reason why you have to feel obliged to invite him to yours if you prefer to ask someone else.

Q: Are gloves a must for the bride? My wedding dress has long sleeves and I would like to know if I may dispense with gloves.

A: With a long sleeved wedding dress you need not wear gloves.

Details concerning the announcement of an engagement are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Announcing the Engagement." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Hills Residents Go to the Symphony

Devoted ticket subscribers to the Detroit Symphony Orchestra again had the privilege of enjoying their orchestra.

We can well remind ourselves that a few months ago there was a time when it was questionable whether our orchestra would play another season. The audience at the opening concert was festive which is almost traditional; but above all there was an atmosphere of genuine appreciation.

DINNERS PRECEDE

Many dinner parties preceded the concert. At the Detroit Athletic Club, were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson, the LeRoy W. Dahlbergs, Mr. and Mrs. Max Fruhauf, Mr. and Mrs. John Coppins, Mrs. F. C. Reith, and Alan Gornick. At another table the Leroy G. Vandeviers were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Whiting Raymond and the Edwin Beresford. Still others were the Phillip Flanders, Mrs. A. Dale Kirk, Catherine Steffek, Mrs. Lloyd Grinnell, Dr. and Mrs. Herman Scarney, Mr. and Mrs. C. Allen Harlan.

Noted at the concert were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tilton, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Lang, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Beresford, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gahn, Ruth Cummings, Mrs. Richard G. English, Mrs. V. C. Genn and the Max Fishers.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Appleford of Broadway Blvd., have returned to their home after two months traveling in Europe.

They spent most of their time in England and the Scandinavian countries. They joined the W. H. Burlingames in Geneva, Switzerland and together they motored to Paris. After a few days there, they sailed on the SS France, arriving in New York on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Seaholm have returned from California where they attended their son Thomas' wedding on September 28 to Myrna Mackewich of Sacramento.

Junior Amies Members Honored at Sunday Tea

A membership tea was held by Amies Alumnae Inc. for its Junior Amies members at the home of Mrs. John Napley in Bloomfield Hills.

New members of the auxiliary are Judy Eames, Debbie Gordon, Kathy Kendrick, Pamela Kern, Diane Hutton and honorary member Telse Knudsen from Denmark.

Auxiliary officers are Kay Kendrick, president; Beki Lazalle, vice president; Linda Leonard, recording secretary; and Diane Brown, corresponding secretary. Others are: Anna Hubbard and Lynne Nelson.

A car wash will be held on Oct. 19 to raise money for the United Fund. The group is also contributing to the Pontiac Needlework Guild ingathering and the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra.

New officers for the alumnae group are Mrs. Donald Lloyd, Mrs. William Donnelly, Mrs. William Hansen and Mrs. Noyce Strait Jr.

Party Helps the Kitchen

The Rosary Altar Society of Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church in Waterford is sponsoring a fall "Mr. and Mrs. Card Party" in the high school gym Saturday at 8 p.m.

The Madonna unit will host the affair with Mrs. Richard Trowell as general chairman. Assisting her will be Mrs. Merlin Donnelly, Mrs. George Steiber, Mrs. Joseph Guzak, of Guardian Angel Unit; and Mrs. Fred Camas, of St. Francis of Assisi Unit.

The public is invited to attend and tickets will be available at the door. Proceeds will be used to complete the school kitchen.

Recital by Slenczynska Series' Auspicious Start

By ERIC W. ALLEN

A pleasant recital inaugurated the Oakland University-Community Arts Council winter cultural series Saturday evening.

Pianist Ruth Slenczynska excelled in the mathematics of Bela Bartok and Domenico Scarlatti, as well as the modern classicism of Sergei Prokofiev.

But the capacity audience at Pontiac Northern High School's auditorium was more attuned to the familiar romanticism of Frederic Chopin and Sergei Rachmaninoff.

Miss Slenczynska's impassioned attack of a Scarlatti sonata was well executed and disciplined. Connection of the two movements of the Scarlatti work was achieved by a contemplative interlude.

First portion of the sonata was so well executed that the audience was at times lost in its simplicity.

Miss Slenczynska occasionally fell victim to slight dynamic colorings that were never intended in such straight-laced Baroque composition.

This could be blamed partially on the instrument.

Harpsichord works, normally devoid of all emotional change, are often easily distorted on the piano, which almost naturally lends coloring and dynamic contrasts to any performance.

EVENING'S TRIUMPH

Miss Slenczynska carried the Scarlatti work through with clarity, however, especially in the final allegro section.

This concluding portion was programmed effectively to lead into Miss Slenczynska's triumph of the evening — a Bartok sonata.

She plunged into the Bartok allegro moderato with gusto built up in the preceding Scarlatti. She never once lost the difficult melodic line among the sometimes rattled Bartok rhythms, which pounded ceaselessly in the bass.

The demanding rigors of this work sometimes forced Miss Slenczynska onto the keyboard with unnecessary heaviness. But the sostenuto pesante, the song-like second movement, was executed with delicacy.

Miss Slenczynska lingering in the melody before rushing on to the final allegro molto.

This difficult third movement, with all its chordal-harmonic developments, was excellently performed; the melody was never obscured in the overpowering Bartok rhythms.

It was the most powerful and moving music of the evening.

Miss Slenczynska glided easily from the Scarlatti discipline and Bartok precision into Chopin's virtuosity.

But Chopin was anticlimactic, though the audience was pleased with the familiar brilliance.

Richness of his F Minor Fantasy, with its exquisite trimeric melodies, produced just the correct degree of magic beneath Miss Slenczynska's fingers.

Ten preludes of Rachmaninoff followed, providing another series of romantic contrasts, with single-note melodies and familiar heavy chordal elements rippling through the entire range of the keyboard.

Her stiffness detracted from the performance at times, but led naturally into the final selection of the program — Toccata, Opus 11, out of the voluminous and prolific library of Sergei Prokofiev.

The modern Prokofiev harmonies were beautifully blended, and Miss Slenczynska again displayed the command and facility of the earlier Bartok sonata.

Miss Slenczynska drove steadily through the accordeon-like study with precision, weaving the wild melodies into their fugual pattern with consistency.

The Toccata was a logical and fitting conclusion to a successful recital.

Trip North for Lacys

Palms and candelabra graced the chancel of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, Saturday, where Jo Anne Folsom and Lawrence Jan Lacy repeated their vows to Rev. Charles Colberg.

Daughter of the Thomas E. Folsoms of North Saginaw Street, the bride appeared in a gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta and veil of French illusion.

White and yellow cymbidium orchids comprised her cascade bouquet.

Donna Jean Folsom attended her sister as maid of honor, wearing turquoise satin styled with bell skirt. She held yellow carnations.

The bridegroom, son of the Earl Lacys of Detroit, had William Lacy of Pontiac for his best man, Dale Folsom ushered with John Maxwell of Roseville.

After greeting some 200 guests in the church parrors, the couple left for a trip to Northern Michigan. They will reside in Pontiac. The bridegroom attends Henry Ford Community College.

Buying Insurance Often Poses Problem

By MARY FEELEY

Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: We, and some of our friends, have been discussing the advantages and disadvantages of hospitalization insurance. My husband, an auto mechanic, is covered for any accidents which may occur at work.

However, no group plan is available to us and we have had to seek an individual plan. We have been paying $12 to $14 per month. But while we cannot afford to increase our premiums and thus our coverage, we do not feel we have an adequate plan.

We realize we are very fortunate in not having occasion to use our insurance, with the exception of one pregnancy. We also are aware that we cannot forestall the future. However, do you feel it would be just as well for us to deposit the same amount as our premium in a bank rather than keep up our insurance? Some of our friends are doing this.

My husband and I are both in our mid-30s, have one child and little hope for any more children. His take-home pay is $90 a week. What type of insurance allotment should we have in our budget? Mrs. G.M. Chicago

Dear Mrs. M.: You're pretty much aiming at the moon trying to buy adequate health and medical insurance on your income of $90 a week. For what every family really needs is a backlog to pay for the small illnesses, plus protection against a major catastrophe. But let's see what your choices are:

If you and your husband are in normally good health, 6 percent of your income — or $5 in your case — is a fair monthly allotment for health insurance. This is expected to cover dentist, drug bills, doctor, as well as policy premiums. You're now paying $12-$14 a month for hospitalization.

Suppose you put that $12-$14 a month into the savings bank. It would build up to $156 a year. In addition, that sum would earn interest — and then that total would earn interest. This would gradually give you a fund you could depend on for the small illnesses.

If you're lucky and stay healthy, then at the end of five years, say, you'd actually have more protection ready at hand than you would have through the health plan you are now buying. But — if you do need hospitalization before your savings accumulate, you'd be the loser.

Buying health insurance is another form of installment buying. You're just paying in advance rather than afterward. Like all installment buying, you pay for more than you actually get over a period of time.

A major medical insurance policy would take care of the calamity that could wreck you financially. But — can you afford it? For example, a $7,500 major medical policy with a $500 deductible and a 20 percent coinsurance would cost from $85 to $100 a year — or $7 to $8 a month. And you could afford that.

However, where is the money to pay for $500 worth of medical bills before your policy takes over? If you took a policy with $100 deductible, the payments would be too heavy for you to carry on $90 a week. You should also keep in mind, considering your young age, that no individual major medical policy covers pregnancy.

The whole health insurance picture is perplexing, to say the least. More and more companies are concentrating on $1,000 deductible clauses, rather than $500 or $500. Which leaves the small-income family out in the cold. Furthermore, there's no guarantee that any of these health or medical policies won't raise the rates at any time.

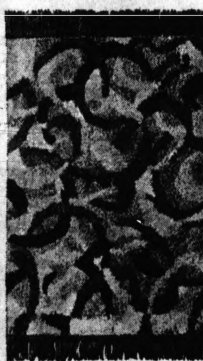

So it boils down to — what odds do you want? What risks are you willing to take? As for adopting the plan your friends are using, and putting regular monthly sums in the savings bank rather than into health insurance, there's this danger: will you actually deposit that money, month in and month out?

You must realize you take on a serious responsibility to the family if you choose savings rather than health insurance.

New York's Power Hitters Silenced as Dodgers Sweep Series

Koufax Tames Yankees, 2-1, for 2nd Win

Seventh Inning Error Brings Winning Run; Spoils Ford's 2-Hitter

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers' incredible four game World Series sweep over the New York Yankees could be the start of a new dynasty and the end of an old one.

The world champion Dodgers, loaded with youth, speed, confidence, pep and pitching, could rule the National League for years to come.

The ability to draw upwards of two million annually in their ever-growing area and their spacious new stadium is bound to pour additional millions of dollars into the already bulging treasury and enable the front office to pay handsome bonuses to promising youngsters.

The humiliating four game downfall not only is a loss to the Yankees' pride and prestige but it is bound to encourage the rest of the American League clubs which have acted as puppets on Yankee strings for many years.

STRONG PITCHING

Sandy Koufax' brilliant work Sunday in the 2-1 Dodger haymaker proved again what the Dodgers had shown during the entire Series—that strong pitching can beat good hitting, even such power-hitting teams as the Yankees.

The three Dodger starters—Johnny Podres, Don Drysdale and Koufax, with a one-inning assist from relief ace Ron Perranoski, stifled the Yankee sluggers with only 22 hits, an average of under six per game.

Koufax, who started the sweep with a 5-2 victory over Whitey Ford in the opener, permitted only six hits Sunday and lost his shutout when Mickey Mantle homered in the seventh.

The Yankees scored only four runs in four games.

"The Dodgers' great pitching beat us, nothing else," said Yankee Manager Ralph Houk, who accepted the defeat, his first in three World Series, philosophical. "We simply couldn't score enough runs."

"I've never seen such tremendous pitching all around in my 10 years with the Dodgers," said Los Angeles Manager Walter Alston, who also had led Dodger teams to world championships in 1955 and 1958.

HAPPY MOB SCENE — Pitcher Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers is mobbed by his teammates after defeating the Yankees, 2-1 in the 4th and final game of the World Series, Koufax won two of the four games, which was the first time any team has beaten the Yankees four straight in the Series.

BALL GONE — First baseman Joe Pepitone of the Yankees gives chase to a ball he missed for an error to set up the winning run for the Los Angeles Dodgers in the 7th inning of the 4th game yesterday. Jim Gilliam, who would have been out on the play, got to third and then scored the winning run a moment later.

Casey's Prediction A-OK, Dodgers' Pitching Is Great

By CASEY STENGEL

Special to The Pontiac Press

LOS ANGELES—When you hold the Yankees to four runs in four games you gotta win and that's what great Dodger pitching did in a World Series that was played so close to the vest you could hardly breathe, even in a tremendous ball park with all those open air seats.

I picked the Dodgers in seven games because I knew they had great pitching—and the Yankees found out, too—but it was so amazing that it musta surprised even their best rooters, and some of their own officials who lost their voices yelling for Sandy Koufax.

You see now what Mr. Koufax is rated so great. He had to mix his stuff to make it a four-straight Series and when he says he was sharper than in the first game you could believe him because it's in my scorebook where he didn't walk one Yankee.

It was like he was pitchin' his regular turn, with three days rest, while last Wednesday he had six days rest and couldn't find his best rhythm, even with 15 strikeouts.

This Series reminds me of the great pitching the Yankees showed in 1956 against the Philadelphia Whiz Kids because, while the Kids push across five runs in four games, the champion Dodgers' pitchers are so much on the ball that they almost forget about the top relief pitcher, Perranoski, who is in the bullpen and ready. They used him only for three bat-

Houk Angry With Reporter on NY Return

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees told a reporter to "get the h— away from me" when the Yankees arrived home in the early morning hours from Los Angeles where they had lost the World Series to the Dodgers in an unprecedented four games.

Houk became miffed about a question regarding the performances of Bill Skowron, one of the stars of the series who had been traded to the Dodgers by the Yankees, and Joe Pepitone, Skowron's replacement at first base. It was Pepitone's error in the seventh inning that led to the Dodgers' winning run in their 2-1 victory Sunday.

Houk pointed out that Pepitone, with a .271 batting average and 89 runs batted in, had a better regular season than Skowron who had only 18 RBI and a .203 average.

DIDN'T KNOW

When the reporter said he was a general assignment reporter and not familiar with baseball averages, Houk shouted "you get the h— away from me if you don't know baseball."

Earlier the Yankee skipper said "we've got nothing to be ashamed of, I think we played very well and I'm proud of the club."

He added that Pepitone's error would not affect his morale. Pepitone himself declined to talk to reporters.

Less than 50 persons were on hand when the Yankees arrived at Idlewild Airport, virtually all airport workers.

Meantime, back in Los Angeles the Dodgers were making merry at their victory party.

Shorter's Key Run Helps Browns

(Special to The Pontiac Press) CLEVELAND — In sports, one play can make a hero or goat of an athlete.

Former Pontiac Central grad Jimmy Shorter had that big play Saturday night as the Cleveland Browns defeated the Pittsburgh Steelers, 35-21, to stay unbeaten and hold first place in the Eastern Division of the NFL.

Today, Shorter has a souvenir to show for the victory. He was awarded the game ball as his happy teammates overlooked the great Jimmy Brown who picked up 177 yards rushing in the event to call Shorter's 52-yard runback of a punt as the key play in the victory.

The Browns were trailing 23-21 going into the final period. With nine minutes left to play,

Christiansen Debut Was Day of Irony

DETROIT — Jack Christiansen will remember his debut as head coach of the San Francisco 49ers, October 5, 1963, as a day of irony.

It was in Tiger Stadium where Christiansen started and ended a playing career during which he became recognized as one of the greatest defensive backs in the National Football League.

It was in the same stadium yesterday where the Detroit Lions showed their "ingratitude." Not only did Detroit win, 26-3, but in the process the Lions erased his name from two places in their all time record book and from a spot in the NFL all time statistics.

Once leader of the Lions' vaunted defensive backfield during the championship years of the 1950's known as "Chris' Crew," Christiansen was also recognized as one of the finest punt and kickoff return specialists in Detroit's history.

In 1951, his first year with the Lions after a brilliant career at Colorado State where he was also a top sprinter, Christiansen took a Green Bay punt Thanksgiving Day and returned it 89 yards for a touchdown. That same day he set an NFL record of 175 yards in punt returns.

The records stood intact until Sunday, and Christiansen had to be present, ironically as coach of the opposing team, to see Detroit's Tommy Watkins break the two marks.

Watkins took Tommy Davis' punt midway in the first period on the 10 yard line, raced down the sidelines right past Christiansen and the 49er bench, to score the touchdown that put Detroit ahead, 14-0.

Before the afternoon was over, Watkins had 184 yards in punt returns for a new NFL single game record, and for Christiansen it was just a bad day.

He not only suffered defeat in his debut but it was the poorest game statistically for the 49ers in Detroit where they have been known through the years to enjoy their greatest moments.

Detroit football fans however didn't forget Christiansen. When the players and coaches of both teams were introduced, he received the loudest ovation of the day. His day of irony.

DEBUT RUINED — Former Detroit Lions' defensive half-back Jack Christiansen made his debut as head coach of the San Francisco 49ers yesterday in Tiger Stadium where he had his greatest pro days. The Lions spoiled his debut by defeating the 49ers, 26-3, and in the process erased two of Christiansen's records.

Driver Shakes Woes at 'Prix'

BRITON'S LONG SLUMP ENDS DESPITE DEFECT

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP)—Graham Hill broke a season-long slump, won the Grand Prix of the United States Sunday in a dark green BRM that almost broke down.

Not since the season's opener at Monaco in May had the British driver, captured one of the 10 races counting for the world driver's championship. Hill took the title last year with four victories.

He won Sunday in record-breaking time, roaring around the 2.3-mile Watkins Glen course in 2 hours, 19 minutes and 22.1 seconds. He averaged 109.91 miles an hour for the 110-1/2-mile event.

Hill revealed after the race that his car's anti-roll bar worked loose halfway through the race. The mishap affected his steering before he finally discovered the trouble and compensated for it.

A crowd of over 65,000—the largest ever to see a Grand Prix race in the U.S.—cheered Hill as he fought it out early in the race with John Surtees, another Englishman who was driving an Italian Ferrari.

On the 33rd lap, with Hill trailing by 15 seconds, Surtees pulled off the course, his engine damaged by a broken valve spring. Then Hill and his teammate, Richie Ginther of Granada Hills, Calif., made a 1-2 sweep for the British racing motors team.

By BRUNO L. KEARNS Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT — There was nothing spectacular about the 26-3 Detroit Lions' victory over the San Francisco 49ers yesterday. In fact, most of the 49ers fans sitting in 91 degree temperatures found it easy to take naps between the punt returns of Tommy Watkins.

It was the poorest San Francisco showing in their 14 appearances in Detroit since 1946, and it was a bitter pill for former Lions' defensive halfback Jack Christiansen who was making his coaching debut since Red Hickey resigned a week ago.

Christiansen, who saw his greatest days on the Tiger Stadium gridiron during the championship years of the 1950's, watched helplessly as the 49ers finished with a total offense of only 47 yards, including minus-10 yards passing by quarterback Bobby Waters and Lamar McLean.

The Lions running offense was slightly more effective, by a margin of 51 more yards, and the passing by Earl Morrill and Milt Plum showed only six completions in 25 attempts for 119 yards.

But, it was a victory the Lions needed in hope of regaining some of the drive in the NFL title race which still has them two games behind the league-leading Bears.

WATKINS RUNS WILD

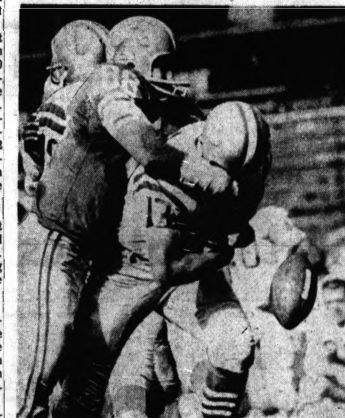

Watkins added salt to Christiansen's defeat. He set a new punt return record by going 90 yards for the second touchdown, breaking Christiansen's 1951 record of 89 yards against the Packers.

Before the game was over, Watkins also set a new NFL record of 184 yards in five punt returns, also breaking Christiansen's mark of 175 yards set against the Packers in the Thanksgiving Day game of 1951.

The total by Watkins would probably have been much higher, except that he fell on one occasion in the dirt of the Tiger Stadium infield.

Except for the punt returns the Lions could not muster any kind of a sustained drive until the final TD in the 4th period when they marched 77 yards in two plays.

The first touchdown came after Watkins returned Tom Davis' punt 32 yards to the Frisco 33-yard line. Danny Lewis, on the second (Continued on Page 20, Col. 5)

SLAMMING SAM — Lions' defensive end Sam Williams puts the squeeze on quarterback Lamar McLean (17) of the San Francisco 49ers causing him to fumble in the 2nd period of their game at Tiger Stadium yesterday. Detroit won the game 26-3.

Shorter took the punt on his own 15 and shot down the middle of the field, shoving tacklers until he was knocked down on the Steeler 33.

In three plays, Frank Ryan passed to Gary Collins for the touchdown.

HASN'T PLAYED

Shorter hasn't played since the exhibition game in Detroit when he suffered a shoulder injury. Used primarily as a defensive back he will see action on the punt and kickoff return teams. He is the fastest member of the Browns' squad.

The game was one of the hardest hitting affairs ever witnessed in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium where a record crowd of 64,689 saw Pittsburgh take the lead 26-

Sorrows Leads NWCL After Downing Eagles

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows took over the lead in the Northwest Catholic League race with a 14-7 decision over Orchard Lake St. Mary Sunday afternoon.

FOLS pushed across touchdowns in the first and fourth quarters in recording its fourth victory in a row. The setback was the first this season for St. Mary and dropped the Eagles into second place in the loop race.

Farmington's defense best in the league, used what coach Bud Webster described as a "seven-man crunch" to halt the potent St. Mary attack.

St. Mary's smooth attack had averaged more than 200 yards a game rushing along with a 26-point scoring average until the head-on clash with Farmington. The Eagles ground game, limiting them to 29 yards rushing and 94 through the air.

And it was the Lancers' defense that put the team into position for the first score.

The Eagles got the ball for their first offensive series late in the first quarter, and in three plays, they lost six yards putting the ball at their own three-yard line.

St. Mary's quarterback Conrad Kroglecki got away a short punt which halfback Rick Goyt returned to the Eagles' 14-yard line.

The Eagles took to the air opening the second half and came with their only score of the day, and the six points marked the first time that an opponent has crossed the Farmington goal line this season.

The score came on a 56-yard pass from halfback Frank Rempel to end John Stelmick that brought to a close a 63-yard scoring drive. Rempel

Comeback Trail for Patterson to Start in Sweden

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former two-time heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, who has been under "title pressure" for nearly seven years, said today he is confident that the "low pressure" comeback campaign he launches in Sweden, Jan. 6, will lead to a third title triumph.

Floyd, 28, has signed for a 10-round January fight in Stockholm's indoor Johanneshov Stadium, which seats 13,000.

His opponent — "A European heavyweight whom he never has fought" — will be announced later this week by co-promoters Edwin Ahlqvist of Sweden and Al Bolan of Championship Sports, Inc. (CSI).

The description of the Stockholm opponent eliminates former world champion Ingemar Johansson of Sweden and Brian London of England, both of whom Floyd has fought.

Gun Champ Needs 2 Perfect Rounds

DALLAS (AP)—David Bywater of Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, won the 12-gauge final of the Pan-American International Skeet Shooting Championships Sunday by registering a perfect score in both the main event and a shootoff.

He had 200x200 along with Ken Pendergass of U.S. Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Fla., Allen Buntrock of Patuxent Naval Air Station, Md., Tom Heffron of Lackland Air Force Base, and two civilians—Keith Van Kirk of Palatine, Ill., and Tony Kelly, Kingston, Jamaica.

In the shootoff Bywater was the only one to break 100 straight targets. Pendergass was second. Mrs. Evelyn Jones of Dallas won four of the five major trophies in the women's division plus the 410 open event. She took the 28 gauge, 20 gauge and the women's all-around titles, carding 482x500 with the four guns.

Kathleen McGinn of Harding won the 12-gauge with 197x200, one more than Mrs. Jones.

'Backward' Mark Set

MACCLESFIELD, England (UPI) — Tony Gerrity, 20, set a world record of Sports Saturday when he walked backwards from Macclesfield to Buxton — a distance of 12 miles — in two hours, 47 1/2 minutes.

ran the extra point to dead-end the game at 7-7.

The Lancers launched their winning drive early in the fourth quarter, and turned back a desperation passing attack by the Eagles in the waning moments of the game to lock up the victory.

Farmington OLS started the scoring from its 46-yard line, and Burke ended it 13 yards later with a six-yard touchdown toss to halfback Bob Allen.

Kroglecki moved the Eagles from their own 22-yard line to the Lancers' in the final minute, but the Lancers tossed the sophomore quarterback for a 14-yard loss on the final play of the game.

Coach Bud Webster employed a seven and eight man line in stopping the St. Mary attack.

"We wanted to get a lot of men in the backfield," Webster explained.

Webster, who has a lot of respect for the throwing arm of Kroglecki, said "Our only alternative was to rush the passer."

And rush they did. Kroglecki was spilled for losses totaling 34 yards and two of his passes were picked off by the Lancers.

Spearheading the rugged Lancer defense was captain Jim Brakora, a guard, along with Mike LaFond, Gregg Novak, Dave Hamilton, Tony Stencil and Mike Coleman.

Burke, Myles Kearney and Stan Secosky roamed the defensive backfield for the Lancers, with Burke and Kearney coming up with interceptions to halt Eagle drives.

RO St. Mary Whips Lakers by 33-0

Royal Oak St. Mary used its defense and the stand-out running of halfback Don Wells to jump back into the Northwest Catholic League title race yesterday by pounding Waterford Our Lady of Lakes, 33-0.

FOLLOW ME — Team captain Dick Lawson (15) of Emmanuel Christian ignited the Lancers attack Saturday with a 35-yard touchdown run that overcame an early 6-0 lead by Country Day. Lawson is shown leading two Country Day defenders toward their end zone on his scoring jaunt. Emmanuel

NOT THIS TIME — Emmanuel Christian's Ralph Wingate gets off pass while fending off charge by Bob Davenport (52) of Country Day Saturday afternoon at Winner Stadium. The Emmanuel quarterback hit three aeriels for extra points in the contest as his team built its success string to four straight this season, 35-12.

Lancers Run Past Country Day, 35-12

When Emmanuel Christian's top runner Ron Jackson was injured at Byron last week, there were some misgivings that the Lancers could continue their successful gridiron ways.

But quarterback Ralph Wingate filled the gap in the attack Saturday afternoon with some nifty, three touchdown running as Emmanuel trimmed Country Day from Birmingham, 35-12, at Winner Stadium.

The victory was the Lancers fourth straight this year and marked the ninth straight start for them without a loss in the past two seasons.

The visitors gave local fans a scare by taking a 6-0 lead in the first quarter on a three-yard run by Rett Nichols. However, Emmanuel team captain Dick Lawson scampered 35 yards to tie the score early in the second quarter.

When Wingate hit end Ron Dillingham with a pass good for the extra point, the Lancers had a lead they never relinquished. They produced what proved the winning score shortly thereafter.

SCORING RUN Wingate concluded a 92-yard drive with a seven-yard run. The big play in the drive was a pass from Dillingham — who shifted to quarterback freely — to end Danny Wingate that covered 36 yards and put the ball on the seven of Country Day.

The visiting Yellow Jackets were held to a minus-three yards during the scoreless third quarter, and Emmanuel finally began a scoring drive late in the session.

Ralph Wingate hit Lawson on a 27-yard pass play to conclude the stanza at the Country Day three. Davenport — who shifted back with one extra by running 57 yards for a touchdown.

Gillespie again ran the conversion. It was Wingate for six points again on the final play of the game. He picked off a Country Day pass and rambled 50 yards to score, then Ralph hit brother Danny with the extra point pass to conclude the game.

Halfback Jon Marks played a strong game for the visitors before leaving the contest with an injury that did not prove serious. The Lancers now will meet

Ritual, Piety, Human Flaws Mark Ecumenical Sessions

VATICAN CITY (UP)—What do Bishops do in the secret sessions of the Ecumenical Council behind the huge bronze doors of St. Peter's?

They pray and chat, make speeches and take notes. Some doze off.

A person who has access to the closed floor sessions gave United Press International a number of details on matters not covered by the law of secrecy. They resulted in a charming mixture of ceremony, piety and little human weaknesses.

There are early-comers and late-comers. Some Bishops arrive in St. Peter's for the council sessions as early as 8 a.m., a full hour in advance. Others drive up several minutes late and hurry up the stairs of the Basilica before the big gates are swung shut.

Sometimes, the gates are kept half-open after the start of the session, apparently for late-comers.

Bishops arrive by foot, car or bus. Two uniformed and two plainclothes gendarmes check the accreditation of priests serving as experts but let the Bishops enter without asking for documents.

MIGHT SNEAK IN
This means that theoretically a man disguised as a Bishop could sneak in without being stopped. In the first Vatican council in 1869-1870 a Romanian identified as a spy for Italy tried to do so, but was ousted by ushers who noted the unfamiliar face.

Cardinals have a separate entrance. They drive into the Vatican through a side door.

Waiting for the meeting to start, council fathers chat in small groups in the council hall—a red-and-green tapestried wooden structure that fills most of the central nave of the world's largest church.

Americans chat with Asians, Europeans with Africans. Official observers from non-Catholic churches often join the conversations.

At 9 a.m., an Augustinian friar of the Papal Sacristy of the Sistine Chapel signals the start of the meeting by ringing a hand bell of the kind normally used at Mass. Council fathers take their seats on the two huge bleachers that form the sides of the council hall.

Non-Catholic observers go to their stand, located where the nave widens in a curve on the right. Opposite them, on the left, are the priests who serve as council experts and a small group of lay Catholic "auditors."

DONS VESTMENTS
One of the Bishops, chosen as the celebrant of the day, dons Mass vestments at a cupboard near the bronze statue of St. Peter. The statue's foot has been worn by the kisses of generations of pilgrims.

The choir of the Sistine Chapel sings sacred music while the Bishop officiates Mass at the special council altar. He is assisted by two Papal masters of ceremonies and two clerics.

When Mass is over, a Bishop—also chosen by rotation—performs the rite known as Enthronement of the Gospel.

Accompanied by two acolytes, one chaplain and one master of ceremonies, he slowly carries a precious Renaissance manuscript of the gospel in procession down the right nave and up the main nave to the council altar. The master of ceremonies helps him place the heavy "Gospel" volume on a gilded stand or "throne" on the altar. The Sistine Choir accompanies the rite with motets.

At this point, Msgr. Pericle Felici, secretary of the council, gives the "extra omnes" (Extra all), an order to all persons not connected with the council to leave the hall under threat of excommunication.

Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, the bearded dean of the Sacred College, rises and, in his harmonious French-flavored Latin, intones the prayer "Adamus"

(We are present), an invocation to the Holy Ghost. All council fathers stand and join in the prayer.

Msgr. Felici then reads any communications about the agenda and procedure. His Latin words are translated into various languages by a group of Bishops to make sure that no one misses their meaning.

Brief remarks by one of the moderators—the four Cardinals who direct council work on alternate days—open the debate, which lasts about two hours, from 10 a.m. until noon.

While Bishops speak for 10 minutes in Latin, their colleagues listen, take notes and if they are not exceedingly interested or have difficulty in following the Latin discourse they chat among themselves or read documents.

Protestant and Russian Orthodox observers do much the same. A group of multilingual Catholic interpreters give them whispered translations of what the speakers are saying.

Council fathers who want some food or a nonalcoholic drink can go to one of two bars specially installed for the council—one in a side room of the Chapel of the Holy Sacrament and one in a corridor leading from the Chapel of the Choir to the Sacristy.

Sinatra to Appear Before Nevada Gambling Board

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UP)—Frank Sinatra was slated to appear before the State Gaming Control Board today in connection with accusations that he entertained underworld figure Sam Giancano at his Cal-Neva Lodge on Lake Tahoe last July.

Sinatra could face possible loss of his state gaming license for violation of state gambling regulations. Giancano is one of 11 alleged hoodlums listed in Nevada's "black book" which is circulated among casino operators.

The gaming control board has accused the singer-actor of using obscene language during a telephone conversation with the board chairman, and charged that a Sinatra aide tried to force money on two investigators.

Scientist Finds Another Early Race

DAR-ES-SALAAM, Tanganyika (UP)—British anthropologist Dr. L. S. B. Leakey reports he has discovered that two apparently different races of early man lived together.

Leakey, who earned international recognition for his discovery of the Zinjanthropus, one of the earliest known species of man, said he uncovered remains of another race living in the same location.

He named the new discovery the pre-Zin man. The fossilized remains were found in Olduvai Gorge where Leakey has been excavating for 20 years.

But Only for a Show

Bing Crosby's Wife Stolen by Bob Hope

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "Do you think it's significant," asks Bob Hope, "that this time they gave me a leading lady who is also a nurse?"

Not only a nurse, she's Mrs. Bing Crosby.

This peculiar turn of events is happening on the high-rated Bob Hope Chrysler Show. Besides six variety shows, the comedian is doing two hours with plots. One of the latter is called "The House Next Door," in which Kathryn Crosby, formerly Grant, plays his wife. Jill St. John is the girl next door.

Ask Mrs. Crosby how she likes working with Hope and she replies, "Fine, but then I know Bob; we lived together for three months in England."

She quickly adds that the Crosby and Hope families shared a castle two years ago when the husbands were making "The Road to Hong Kong."

GOT DEGREE

After a period of Crosby bearing (Harry, 5, Mary Frances, 4, Nathaniel, 2) and nurse training (she got her degree, now is studying for a state license), Kathryn is once more paying some attention to her acting career. She is doing so largely at the insistence of her agent, veteran talent mentor Max Arnow.

While talent head at Columbia, Arnow saw promise in the young girl from Houston, newly dropped by Paramount.

Her tenure at Paramount was not a total failure (she met Bing there).

"Max convinced Columbia to sign me," Kathryn recalled. "He was a committee of one who thought I could act."

SUMMER THEATER

When she indicated a desire to resume her career, Max booked her into summer theaters in "Sunday in New York." The result was both a business and critical success.

"I was amazed," she remarked. "I expected the reviews to be kind to me as Mrs. Bing Crosby. But I didn't expect them to be so generous."

Most important of all, she sold one theatergoer—Bing.

"He had never seen me work," she said. "After seeing the play, he decided to hire me for his next television special. The only trouble is there was too much kissing in the play. I've got to find another one with less kissing."

SEEMS TO APPROVE

Despite such complaints, Bing seems to approve of his wife's career. He is entering a period of activity, with television specials and a movie with the Frank Sinatra gang lined up. That means less time for the Crosbys at their various vacation homes, which include Palm Springs, a ranch in Northern California and a new house at Las Cruces in Mexico.

"Bing came back from Las Cruces raving about the fishing and the weather there," she said. "He told me to start thinking about building a house. Oh, no," she said. "I couldn't go through that again. I'll be darned if he didn't go ahead and do it himself!"

Kathryn has become an expert hunter.

"The only trouble is that Bing's dog takes everything I shoot to him," she says. She reports good luck at deep sea fishing, but her dry-ice score remains at zero.

Such activity will get the go-go while Mrs. Crosby re-activates her career. About the billing—she explained.

"More people know me as Kathryn Crosby than Kathryn Grant. I asked Bing if it was all right to change, and he said yes."

AP Photos

WHAT'S THIS — Bob Hope usually loses the girl to Bing Crosby in his movies, but in an upcoming Bob Hope Show, the comedian gets even. In a television skit called "The House Next Door," Hope plays the husband of actress Kathryn Crosby, Bing's real-life wife.

Jews Charge Bias by Auto Companies

From Our News Wires

The automotive industry's top executives, General Motors, Chrysler and Ford, were under fire today from a Jewish organization which charged discrimination by the automakers in their white collar work force.

The Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith said there were only 328 Jews among the 51,000 white collar employees of the nation's three major carmakers.

The charges were made in New York.

THE TOTALS

The organization said its figures indicated General Motors, which has 15,500 white collar workers, had only 80 Jews. Chrysler, with a white collar force of 18,000, with only 102 Jews, and Ford, which numbers 17,500 among its white collar employees, only 148 Jews.

B'nai B'rith blamed the lack of Jews in the executive ranks on discrimination at the executive level, college hiring methods which fail to clarify employment standards, department heads hostile to hiring of Jews and discrimination against Jews in residential areas and private clubs of top executives.

In Kalamazoo, paraders marched yesterday in support of equality of opportunity.

The march, biracially sponsored and supported, took place without untoward incident. The only police activity was the directing of traffic.

Three girls fainted in the unseasonable heat of the day but were revived. The thermometer hit 90 degrees.

An estimated 1,500 persons including Negroes and whites, took part in the milelong march and the total crowd was about 4,000.

City Councilman William T. Patrick of Detroit made a speech at a City Hall assembly after the parade in which he called Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett, a recent Kalamazoo visitor, a "symbol of racism."

He said the march was a chance to "purge ourselves" for the Barnett's visit. Barnett a segregationist, defended Mississippi in a talk recently at Western Michigan University.

Tonight's scheduled 19th consecutive civil rights picketing of the Ann Arbor City Commission meeting has been canceled.

The biracial Ann Arbor Fair Housing Association and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People have picketed in demands for what they call a nondiscriminatory housing ordinance.

A recently adopted ordinance applying to sale and rental of certain multiple housing units has been protested by the two groups.

The groups said they called off tonight's demonstration in view of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley's ruling last week that the new Michigan Constitution will pre-empt any local regulations on housing.

Brothers Reunited

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — The stranger placed an order in Bob Alton's Northvue Cafe and then asked, "Do you know who I am?"

"I don't know as I do," Bob said.

"I'm your brother," the stranger said.

It was the first time in 46 years that Alton had seen his brother, Albert Timmons, 56, of Burnside, Ill.

The mother of the two men died when Alton was 4 years old and the family became separated.

Outlining Text Takes Logic

By The Reading Laboratory
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Association

To get the most out of the following, you'll have to get rid of preconceived notions about outlining.

You probably remember outlining as a rather dull section of Freshman Composition.

Before you wrote themes, you had to make outlines of them. When you wrote, you followed the outline. We'll call this type of outline a writing outline.

The outlines we're going to talk about are fundamentally different from the outlines you use for writing. We're talking about outlines you use for reading.

They are analytical tools—scalpels for dissecting the thought-structure of a textbook.

In a reading outline, the ideas must be arranged according to their logical order. The most important idea in the text appears as the first point in the outline—no matter where it appears in the text.

1. _____
2. _____
- 2.1 _____
- 2.1.1 _____
- 2.1.2 _____

This type of outline labels the ideas. Anything marked "1." must be directly related to the main idea, or "1." In the same way, anything marked "1.1" is directly subordinate to "1."

The items don't have to be paired off in a reading outline.

In writing outlines, it's good form to pair off each item—if you have an item "a," you should have an item "b."

But in the sample outline above, "2.1" can stand without any subordinate idea under "2," there's no reason to invent another.

EQUALLY IMPORTANT

Notice that any entries into "1." and "2." must be of equal importance. The entries in "2.1.1," "2.1.2," etc., must also be of equal importance.

As an example of a reading outline, we could outline today's article as follows:

1. Reading outlines are analytical tools.
- 1.1 They organize ideas according to logical order not according to order of presentation.
- 1.1.1 Different from writing outlines.
- 1.1.1.1 Ideas are labeled.
- 1.1.1.2 Ideas don't have to be paired off.

(Tomorrow: An advanced analytical tool—the summary.)

New Program Changes

Kashmir Leader's Title

SRINAGAR, Kashmir (Indian Sector (AP))—Kashmir will have a chief minister instead of a prime minister under a program to reduce the northern state's special status and to promote integration of it as one of the Indian states. That will leave Jawaharlal Nehru as the only Indian prime minister.

Indian Kashmir also replace its chief of state with a state governor. The state is disputed and occupied in separate parts by India and Pakistan.

In Quite Active Trading

Stock Market Has Ups, Downs

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market fluctuated unevenly near its all-time peak early Monday.

Most price changes were relatively small while the trading pace held fairly active.

Many wall streeters were looking for price to break through the peak of two weeks ago.

At noon it was 746.13, up 1.07. The Associated Press 50 stock average was higher by 2 at 177.2.

At noon with industrials ahead 7, rails off 5 and utilities up 1.

Steels pushed to the upside as did aircraft, mail orders and metals. Rails were lower while utilities, the motors and chemical sections were mixed.

Xerox recovered about half of an early 8-point loss while Polaroid and IBM were ahead a point or two.

The generally favorable business news background continued to boost the hopes of brokers.

More price increases posted in a variety of industries. Lead and zinc experts predicted additional increases this year and next.

Numerous companies in the metals field reacted with small gains. They included International Nickel, American Smelting, Al-

AUTO STOCKS IRREGULAR

Auto stock fell into an irregular pattern with GM and American Ford and Studebaker unchanged. Chrysler, a recent market leader, was off 2 at one time but recovered more than half the loss.

Also actively traded were Electronic Specialty and Electronic Associates, each off more than 1.

The American Stock Exchange prices remained mixed in fairly active dealings.

Scientific Delegation

Interpreter Tops Wall

TOKYO (UPI)—An interpreter for a Communist Chinese scientific delegation climbed over the wall of the Soviet Embassy before dawn today and asked for political asylum, diplomatic sources reported.

The Japanese Foreign Office identified the defector as Chou long-ching, 44, who came here with the delegation last month for an international conference on all pressure machinery.

The sources said Chou made his way to the Soviet Embassy about 4 a.m. today, climbed over the 7-foot-high concrete wall, and asked Soviet officials for asylum.

Airline sources said five members of the delegation left for Moscow today, but three others, including the leader, remained in Tokyo.

DECLINE COMMENT

Soviet and Chinese spokesmen declined comment on the defection, the second of a Peking official in recent days.

In Moscow, Communist sources said yesterday that Chou Hsiang-ping, second secretary of the Peking Embassy in London, had elected to stay in the Soviet capital with his wife and two children.

Chou arrived in Moscow several weeks ago, ostensibly on his way home, but he did not continue his trip to China.

Since the Sino-Soviet split became public, there have been no known instances of Soviet defections to the Chinese.

RUSSIANS INFORM

Although the Communist officials in Tokyo refused to comment on the newest defection, the Japanese Foreign Office said it had been informed of the incident by the Russian Embassy.

There was speculation that the defection leader remained in Tokyo in an effort to persuade Chou to return to Peking.

The Russian Embassy is located across town from the Palace of the Soviets. Chinese delegation had been staying.

Its heavy iron gates usually are locked at night.

Grain Futures Up in Active Trading

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market moved higher in active trading on the board of trade yesterday, extending last week's advance.

Demand early in the session was heavy, especially for soybeans, with prices of some contracts up sharply. November soybeans were the most active.

Prices moved up to new highs for the season.

Fresh indications that President Kennedy has decided to authorize sales of surplus U.S. wheat to Russia and other members of the Communist bloc caused renewed demand for wheat and other grains as well.

Interest Is High

It's a Savers' Market

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Competition can be a boon to savers as well as to the spenders it usually is credited with helping. Few consumers' competition is supposed to hold down prices. For savers it can boost the rewards.

And many who could not put aside a few dollars from the weekly paycheck have been able to get higher yields—up to 5 percent from some Southern California savings institutions.

This is thanks to the competition among the many havens for savings—and also thanks to the increasing number of those who have been able to keep their money at home.

Where borrowers multiply savers prosper—if things don't go too far. And some warnings about that are being made by federal agencies.

Increased interest rates; both on some forms of loans and on the savings, which are the mainstay of international politics in today's complicated world of finance. The U.S. government has encouraged higher rates on some forms of savings, to keep money at home.

But, the informants said, the Russians have not made abandonment of the fleet plan by the West a condition for more major East-West agreements.

British diplomats, meanwhile, discounted a report that such a condition was laid down by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home last week.

Home, who reported yesterday to Prime Minister Macmillan on the New York talks, is said to have given the impression that the Soviets are not at this stage prepared to enter any new major agreements.

RUSSIA WILLING

But during the talks, the Soviet foreign minister had given the impression that Russia was willing to further the present atmosphere of relaxing tension.

The British sources said Gromyko made clear Russia's objection to the proposal for a NATO fleet of 25 ships, armed with Polaris rockets and sailed by crews drawn from different nations.

The Russians argued that this would amount to disseminating nuclear weapons to another power—in particular to West Germany. But, the sources said, the objection was not presented as a major barrier to all forms of East-West agreement.

On the question of disseminating nuclear weapons to another power, the West assurances that the Soviet Union would not provide them to Red China.

Business Notes

Kuhlman Electric Co. has named William E. Wrenn assistant director of engineering at its Distribution Transformer Division, 2565 E. Maple, Troy, Mich.

Wrenn, who plans to reside in the Birmingham area, joins the company with 15 years' experience at Westinghouse, where he was a manufacturing engineer. He holds a master's degree in electrical engineering from University of Pittsburgh.

Also promoted was Kamran Aghajani, 1608 Windemere, Madison Heights, who takes the post of manager of development engineering.

Merritt D. Hill, president of J. I. Case Co. of Racine, Wis., has been elected president of the Farm Equipment Institute, a manufacturers association. He retired last year as vice president and general manager of Ford Tractor and Implement Division, Birmingham.

Attorney Robert V. Parenti was recently appointed to the board of directors of Oxford Savings Bank.

Parenti, who is a partner in a Pontiac law firm, resides at 38 Pontiac, Oxf. He is attorney for the villages of Oxford and Lake Orion.

PARENTI is Chairman of the Oakland County draft board. Parenti is secretary of the Oakland County Bar Association and member of Elks and Rotary clubs in Pontiac.

Promotion of Richard P. Cottrill, 1675 Bolton, Walled Lake, from chief sales engineer to sales manager, has been announced by Detroit Branch & Machine Co., 850 S. Rochester, Rochester.

"I am 21 and was recently left $5,000 in cash. In addition, I will shortly receive $10,000 from the sale of my half interest in a house. I want to buy stocks, but not the 'get-rich-quick' type. Do you much should I invest? Do you have a general American Telephone and General Motors suitable?" E. M.

A. My good wishes on your newly acquired legacy—a particularly because of your sound investment thinking.

I certainly approve of your two choices as a start toward building up a well-rounded investment program. Remembering the policy of diversification by industry, I suggest additional purchases Standard Oil of New Jersey, Long Island Lighting, and Standard Brands.

Each $2,500 could be placed in each issue, and the remaining balance of about $5,000 could be deposited in your local bank as a reserve.

Q. "Who are the privileged few humans that exercise the prerogative of manipulating prices on the Stock Exchange? Prices are certainly not arrived at by gremios, angels, or other spirits, are they?"

A. The answer to your first question is that no one has the prerogative of manipulating prices.

One of the functions of the Securities & Exchange Commission is to prevent and punish improper manipulations of stock prices.

Any violent or unusual swings in a stock are likely to come under the sharp scrutiny of the SEC as well as the Exchange on which they occur. And believe me, the SEC swings a very effective club.

As to your second question, I have never encountered a gremio (or an angel, either) on the floor of the Stock Exchange.

BRASILIA (UPI) — Brazilian President Joao Goulart said today he was considering withdrawing his request for a "state of siege" in view of strong congressional, gubernatorial and press opposition to such a move.

Goulart flew back to this interior capital this morning from Rio de Janeiro following late night talks with military leaders and said he had scheduled a meeting today with Chamber of Deputies President Ranieri Mazzilli to discuss the possibility of withdrawing his state of siege request.

He acted in the face of indications that the legislators, who already have watered down the state of siege proposal in committee, would almost certainly turn down the request in a debate starting today.

Goulart told a delegation of Labor party congressmen this morning that his three military ministers "had ponderous reasons for justifying a state of siege."

But he added there "also are good reasons for withdrawing the request."

The Brazilian president conferred in Rio until the early morning hours today with War Minister Gen. Jair Dantas Ribeiro and Air Minister Brig. Anisio Botelho.

Dantas Ribeiro has been pointed out as a "strongman" among the military who has been pressing for the state of siege to end a series of crippling rail and bus strikes and quick heavy opposition to Goulart's government.

Even J. Bocuva Cunha, Chamber of Deputies floor leader for Goulart's Labor party, has refused to accept the state of siege measure.

Garage Flames Cause Building, Truck Damage
A garage fire at 103 Irene Saturday afternoon caused $1,700 damage to the building and contents and $800 damage to two trucks parked inside.

Pontiac firemen said the garage, owned by E. M. McCool, caught fire when wind fanned flames from a nearby rubbish burner.

Vicar Takes Service to Neighborhood Pub
DOWNHAM, England (UPI) — The Rev. Cecil H. Buckingham, Anglican vicar of St. Barnabas church, held his second annual Harvest Festival Service last night in the nearby Downham Tavern, the neighborhood pub.

"If the people won't come to us, we'll go to them," the vicar said. "So many people have the idea that those who go to church are a bit queer. We aim to show them we are just ordinary people."

Newspaperman Expires
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ralph W. Page, 82, an attorney, banker and columnist for the Philadelphia Bulletin for the past 25 years, died Sunday. His father, Walter Hines Page, was ambassador to England during World War I.

all had been captured during the 31-month campaign.

The equipment included British light machine guns, British and Belgian rifles, French and German automatic pistols, Italian grenades, British anti-personnel and antitank mines, and Russian explosives.

On show too, was an ammunition box bearing United Nations markings. Col. Ascencio claimed Russian and Czech weapons also have been recovered.

He said nearly all the fighting is being done by Holden Roberto's Union of the Angolan People (UPA)—and is directed from Leopoldville in the neighboring Congo.

DEAD SOLDIERS HONORED
Bronze plaques bearing the names of all Portuguese soldiers killed in action during the campaign cover two walls above a wide staircase in Portuguese military headquarters. There are 300 names.

The Portuguese believe there are 4,000 to 5,000 rebels in the fighting zones. The Portuguese say the insurgents usually take away their dead and wounded and it is impossible to estimate rebel casualties.

Maj. Marques Pinto, the military intelligence chief, claimed the Portuguese army exercises control everywhere in Angola but he conceded that some areas are more heavily infiltrated than others.

Rebel activity is centered today around the little town of Namabongongo, 100 miles north of Luanda, and around Bessa Monteiro, 100 miles farther to the north.

Cabinda, a Portuguese enclave north of the Congo River, also has seen a recent upsurge of rebel marauding. Portuguese officials claim the insurgents infiltrate across the frontier from the former French and Belgian Congo.

The war in Angola is costing Portugal $100 million a year. Forty thousand troops are based in the colony.

First Adventure — Initial program in the Pontiac Kiwanis Club travel and adventure series will be "Ireland" film-lecture by Willis Butler. He will appear at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Central High School auditorium.

'Might Stir Christians'

Clerics Decry Twain Attack

NEW YORK (UPI) — Church leaders denounced Mark Twain's long-suppressed attack on Christianity as the "jaundiced" writing of an old man sick with hate and anger. They said his humor, which produced Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn for the world, had dried up.

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, said Twain's attack might do some good, however, by stirring up a new loyalty in Christians who have become sluggish in their faith.

Twain's scathing remarks—entitled "Reflections on Religion"—were written in 1906, four years before his death. He asked that they be kept secret for 500 years but the restriction was lifted by his daughter for a quarterly literary magazine, Hudson Review in New York.

Twain called the Old Testament "the most damnable biography that exists" because it depicts God as a power "overcharged with evil impulses far beyond the human limit."

RIDICULOUS DOCTRINE
He ridiculed the doctrine of Immaculate Conception and charged that God "takes no interest in man, nor in the other animals, further than to torture them, slay them and get out of this pastime such entertainment as it may afford."

ARE PUBLISHED
The chapters are published, however, in the current issue of the Hudson Review.

Twain's daughter, Mrs. Clara Saunders, had lifted the ban shortly before her death. Previously, she had refused to have the remarks made public because she felt her father's views would "give aid and comfort" to the antireligious Soviet Union.

Also, Mrs. Saunders was a member of the Christian Science faith, a religion which Twain attacked with words such as these:

"There isn't anything so grotesque or so incredible that the average human being can't believe it."

FULLY BELIEVE
"At this very day, there are thousands upon thousands of Americans of a very intelligence who fully believe in 'Science and Health,' although they can't understand a line of it, and who also worship the sordid and ignorant old purveyor of the Gospel — Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, whom they do absolutely believe to be a member by adoption of the Holy Family and on the way to push the Savior to third place and assume the occupancy of his present place."

Twain had lost his wife and two of his three daughters when he dictated the chapters. But students of the humorist were unable to pinpoint the reason for his bitterness.

Charles Neider, who edited the most recent of three Twain autobiographies, said there was "no easy simple answer."

"Very early in his career ... he was antireligious, anticlerical," Neider said. "He attacked the way priests looked in Rome — well-dressed and comfortable. He couldn't understand why people would pay tithes to keep one class so well-fed when there was so much poverty."

ENTRENCHED POWER
"He didn't like injustice or any sort of entrenched power, and slowly the church seemed to him a symbol of entrenched power that professional church people stood between people and God."

Church leaders doubted that Christians would have their faith shaken by Twain's comments.

"The article, I feel, is much too jaundiced to have any real effect except perhaps to stimulate a little latent loyalty to the faith which he attacks," said Dr. Peale, prominent Protestant author and lecturer.

Ex-Press Employee Dies in Washington

Service for former Pontiac resident and Pontiac Press employee Donald F. Arthur, 68, was held last Wednesday at Bellingham, Wash.

Mr. Arthur once was an advertising solicitor for the Pontiac Press. He left to become advertising director for the Bellingham Herald, where he served from 1948 until 1953, when ill health forced his retirement.

He was a member of several Pontiac organizations and had been advertising manager for Walte's Department Store before joining The Press in the early 1940's.

Mr. Arthur died Sept. 30. He is survived by a brother.

Thieves Rob Pontiac Store

An undetermined amount of cash from a safe and merchandise was stolen from the downtown Grinnell Brothers store after thieves entered the store by breaking through a wall from an adjoining vacant store.

Explosives were used to knock off the safe door, according to police.

Shoe Repair Equipment Damaged by Vandals
Damage of over $2,000 to shoe repair equipment was estimated following a break-in Saturday at an unoccupied building at 4520 Dixie, Waterford Township.

Police said several stitching machines in the building, formerly occupied by a shoemaker, were damaged by a heavy object. Nothing was reported stolen.

Botulism Identified as Killer of Couple
KALAMAZOO (UPI) — State health authorities have identified the type of food poisoning that killed a Kalamazoo couple last week as Type E botulism.

The victims, Chester D. Mitchell, 44, and his wife, Blanche, 62, ate some tainted whitefish earlier in the week and died shortly afterward at Borgess Hospital here.

State authorities are still searching for the source of the fish, which apparently came from the Petoskey area where the Mitchells had just returned from vacation.

PARIS (AP) — After burglars entered her Paris apartment recently, Mrs. A. Bailly decided to keep her jewelry in hand at all times.

When she left Saturday night with a friend for her country home west of Paris, Mrs. Bailly, 72, wore rings and a pearl necklace and carried a sack containing other jewels she valued at $500,000. She said she also had $10,000 in currency.

Five masked men ambushed Mrs. Bailly and her friend as they neared the country home. They were bound, gagged and robbed of the jewels and the money.

Meat Packing Company Settles 2-Day-Old Strike

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Armour Automation Fund Committee today announced settlement of packhouse workers' two-day-old strikes at Armour and Co. plants at Omaha and North Platte, Neb., South St. Paul, Minn., Mason City, Iowa; St. Joseph, Mo.; Denver, Colo.; and Kansas City, Kan.

The committee chairman, Clark Kerr and George B. Schultz, said the work would resume today at the strikebound plants. Terms of the settlement negotiated between company representatives and officials of the United Packinghouse Workers were not disclosed.

Angola Rebels Getting Tougher

LUANDA, Angola (AP) — In the jungled hills of northern Angola, 12,000 Portuguese troops are fighting a hide-and-seek war with increasingly well-armed and well-trained rebels.

Since the savage uprising of March 1961, which produced the greatest massacre of whites in African history, and brutal reprisals, the Portuguese have steadily whittled down the battle zones.

Lt. Col. Castro Ascencio, assistant chief of staff of the Angolan People's Liberation Army (FAPLA), claims that if it weren't for the rebels receiving across the Congo border, Portugal could crush them within a year.

At a weekend press briefing, Portuguese officers claimed the rebellion was being kept going largely by American money.

Col. Ascencio said only 8 percent of Angola — about 28,000 square miles — is infiltrated now by African nationalist insurgents.

He admitted the rebels are becoming increasingly efficient as guerrilla fighters.

FOUGHT WITH MACHETES
When the revolt exploded, rebel forces fought fanatically with machetes, knives, old flintlock rifles, home-made guns and a few weapons seized from the Portuguese.

Within days 700 white men, women and children had been slaughtered. Almost 10,000 Africans fell victim to the rebels.

Today the rebels have a variety of modern weapons. Col. Ascencio displayed some of them, saying are 4,000 to 5,000 rebels in the fighting zones. The Portuguese say the insurgents usually take away their dead and wounded and it is impossible to estimate rebel casualties.

Maj. Marques Pinto, the military intelligence chief, claimed the Portuguese army exercises control everywhere in Angola but he conceded that some areas are more heavily infiltrated than others.

Rebel activity is centered today around the little town of Namabongongo, 100 miles north of Luanda, and around Bessa Monteiro, 100 miles farther to the north.

Cabinda, a Portuguese enclave north of the Congo River, also has seen a recent upsurge of rebel marauding. Portuguese officials claim the insurgents infiltrate across the frontier from the former French and Belgian Congo.

The war in Angola is costing Portugal $100 million a year. Forty thousand troops are based in the colony.

ROPE RESCUE — A rescuer in a light boat with a rope around his waist secures an auto to the boat during rescue operations in River Don at Kirkcaldy, Scotland, Thursday. Inside the car, which plunged 60 feet from a bridge into the river, are Norman Vaulkhard, 65, and his wife, Camilla, 64. Both were rescued, but Mrs. Vaulkhard died Friday from injuries.

Nazi and His Bride

Bizarre Rite Weds

LONDON (UPI) — The bride wore black leather and swastikas. The groom pledged his truth by letting a drop of blood fall on a copy of "Mein Kampf."

The assembled well-wishers sang the "Horst Wessel Song."

And the crowd uttered substituted milk bottles and rotten eggs for confetti.

Thus, with this bizarre rite, did Colin Jordan, the 40-year-old "fuehrer" of the British Neo-Fascist National Socialist Movement, take unto himself a bride, Francesc Dior, the 31-year-old divorcee niece of the late fashion designer Christian Dior.

Four hundred demonstrators massed outside Jordan's party headquarters in London last night to shout "Fascist swine" and hurl eggs, rotten fruit and milk bottles as the newlyweds arrived. Police had to hold back the crowd, and three persons were arrested.

SALUTE TO CROWD

Jordan and his bride responded to the jeers with Nazi salutes.

Inside, the new Mrs. Jordan removed her black leather coat to reveal the same black leather dress she wore Saturday at their civil wedding ceremony in Coventry — a city levelled by German bombs in World War II.

Then the "religious" ceremony began at a table draped with a swastika flag.

A few drops spilled on a copy of Hitler's "Mein Kampf" on the table.

Each placed a ring on the other's finger. They joined hands, the onlookers gave the Nazi salute and the "Horst Wessel Song"—the march of Hitler's legions—was played.

Real-Show Cooing Mates Seen in Billing Spates

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK — Tony Martin and Cyd Charisse are hoping they won't get into any fights while doing their husband-and-wife night club act . . . but you and I and everybody who's married know they'll battle.

"The only thing I could see causing trouble," Tony says, "would be if some critic said, 'Cyd is great but what does she need with this fella?'"

An so they're booked Dec. 21 in Las Vegas at the Riviera, and already it's started, in a nice way, of course . . . in reverse.

"I kept telling Cyd she should close the show," she said, "Why should I close it? You close it." Then came the billing problem . . .

"I can see the end of this togetherness thing we've worked out," Cyd says. "After 15 years of marriage, we'll get a divorce fighting over our billing."

"No," said Tony. "It'll be because when I work in cafes and Cyd's there as a guest, I always tell her after a show, 'I've got to relax. You go to bed and I'll shoot cars a while.'"

"But it'll break up because I'll go to bed and she'll shoot cars."

Amish Set for Court on School Rift

CAMDEN (UPI) — Eleven Amish fathers were scheduled to appear before Camden Township Justice Alfred Wagner today to face charges of violating the state's compulsory education law by insisting on Amish education for their school children.

The fathers face possible fines or jail sentences.

The warrants for the fathers' court appearance were issued last week as part of the state's crackdown on the Amish sect's two schools, which are taught by two teen-agers with eighth grade educations.

The state says the 11 Amish fathers must enroll their 32 children in Camden's public Frontier School.

Hillsdale County Prosecutor James B. Parker said if they don't, a court order may be sought to close the Amish schoolhouses.

BROUGHT TO HEAD

Their failure to obey the state ruling brought the disagreement to a head last Thursday.

Since the sect's eight-grade teachers cannot qualify for state certification, the state contends the Amish children are not really attending school.

Noah J. Schwartz, a spokesman for the Amish settlement, said he believed that under the constitution, his people have the right to teach their own children.

"We think Amish are better taught by Amish," he said.

Egypt Heads for Souvenirs?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Someone who attended a recent art reception at the Los Angeles County Museum is suspected of having reported two heads—one of an Egyptian.

An ancient Egyptian stone head was reported missing Sunday by Leonard T. Pellant, a member of the museum staff.

The head belonged to a statue, which was originally in two pieces with the head removable.

Pellant said when in one piece the statue is worth about $5,000, but is worthless headless.

Husband "too tired" for good times?

If your husband keeps coming home too "beat" to be gay and stimulating, too worn out to take you out, remember—the hectic "rat race" of today's business requires men to perform like human dynamo day after day, which builds up churning tensions that rob literally millions of husbands of energy and vigor they might otherwise enjoy!

What can you do to help counteract this tension-caused loss of vitality?

Many doctors recommend augmenting the daily diet with nature's remarkable "bounce-back" food, famous Kretschmer Wheat Germ.

Made from the germinating heart of the kernel, wheat germ has been established by official U. S. Dept. of Agriculture studies to be the most healthful food known!

KRETSCHMER

Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually supplies a whopping 30 nutrients important to good health, vigor and stamina!

Serve your husband this remarkable food every day and see how much more pep and vitality he has! Use these delicious, tiny toasted flakes as a cereal, on cereal, or add to pancakes, waffles, scrambled eggs, etc.

Thriftily, tiny Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, so be sure to get some. Look for it in vacuum-sealed plastic jars in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

GUARANTEE—(1) Kretschmer Wheat Germ is the most healthful food known; (2) Your family will like it as much as I do. If you are not satisfied, just write your name, address, and zip-printed on back of label and mail to Kretschmer, Cereson, Michigan, for full refund.

Pontiac Sets Auto Style With Red-Wall Tires on GTO

By The Associated Press
The new GTO sports model of the Pontiac Tempest series could set a new style in auto fashions with its red-wall tires, part of an otherwise quiet revolution in what meets the road.

The red-striped tire is just one feature on the GTO (Gran Turismo Omologato). For the more conservative, the 35-horsepower car also has the usual white wall tires as an option.

But the eye-catching red rings are the biggest 1964 model innovation for the changing U. S. tire industry.

The first sign of possible changes to come in the auto industry had its start last year with the Buick Riviera. This high-performance car came equipped with a frill-less sidewall design and a rounded tread area for improved high speed driving. SPECIAL DESIGN

A similar tire was used on the Chrysler Salon. Still another special design was built for Chrysler's experimental turbine-powered car.

Ford displayed in the 1964 Lincoln Continental and Thunderbird the most radical tire departure in years. These models carry low-profile tires with a cross-section that has been flattened to such an extent that the diameter of tires mounted on 15-inch wheels is actually less than that of conventional tires mounted on 16-inch wheels.

The wider, wrap-around tread of the new tire is designed for improved handling at turnpike speeds, less rolling resistance, better wet traction and improved tread life.

Explaining the new trend in tires, John J. Hartz, development manager of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., told a newsmen:

SPECIFIC TIRE DESIGN

"We are moving towards the day when each type of car may have a tire specifically designed for it. Logically, this may fall into three categories — high performance cars, the large luxury cars and want of a better term, the average family automobile."

Tire companies do not say so publicly but obviously they dread the day of the specialized original-equipment tire as their production problems will be multiplied many times. Good-year, for example, now makes more than 4,000 types and sizes of tires for autos, trucks and other vehicles.

If road tests of a proposed new model show any trouble spots — such as lurching on turns, too slow a response, or instability in rounding corners, the findings are reported to the tire industry. They follow exhaustive tests to determine if the faults are with the tire or the design and performance of the car itself.

One of the major problems the tire industry faces now is the ever-increasing speed on the nation's superhighways. Some people feel that a legal speed limit of 100 miles per hour may be possible within a few years.

LOW PROFILE TIRE

tions resulted in development of the very low-profile tire by the industry. Goodyear, a pioneer in the low-profile tire field described it as "in appearance, a tire with a cross-section that is more oval than round. The height of the sidewall is lower in proportion to the cross section width."

Several other auto makers are known to be studying the low profile tire which has a wider, flatter tread surface than the normal tire. This especially lengthens wear significantly and provides better traction. In addition, the sidewalls of the low-profile tires have less tendency to lean when the wheels change direction abruptly.

U. S. tire production in 1962 was almost 140 million and indications are that it will hit 150 million by 1967.

The foreign market for tires also has shown sweeping growth. In 1950, new foreign cars used 9.9 million tires. In 1962, the total was 39.2 million.

The annual model changes in automobiles usually require corollary changes in the tires that bear them.

Some tire engineers will tell you that cars "are built around late 's message into action. So out does the braking system.

ation, but it is true that the tire is playing an ever more vital role in highway travel.

TIRES VITAL

Horsepower and torque would be meaningless unless the tire satisfactorily transmitted them to the road surface over which the car moves. The steering mechanism depends on the tire to transmit its message into action. So out does the braking system.

The tire makers work closely with the auto companies in development of the new models.

Most motorists agree there is an ever-increasing need for tires with maximum wear, control and handling characteristics. Research teams of the tire companies are working hand-in-hand with the auto companies to turn out those better performance tires.

Probe of Moon Called Unlikely

No Joint Shot, Says U. S. Space Official

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top space agency official says prospects for a joint, Soviet-U.S. expedition to the moon are dim.

Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, gave this appraisal to a House Appropriations subcommittee Aug. 19 — a month before President Kennedy publicly suggested the venture in a speech to the U. N. General Assembly. Russia has promised to study the suggestion thoroughly.

In the testimony made public today, Dryden was not asked specifically about a moon expedition, but about discussions with Soviet scientists about cooperation generally.

He said there had been some talk of joint efforts in manned space flights but it was "pretty well dropped as something that was not practical."

CLASSIFIED PROGRAM

One main obstacle, Dryden said, was that the Russian space program "is an highly classified as our both program — in other words, no Russian citizen dares to talk about rockets and equipment."

At another point, Dryden said, "The Russians are proposing an international forum of scientists to discuss our program, not theirs."

NASA administrator James E. Webb told the same subcommittee he has seen on reliable evidence the Soviets are building a booster comparable to the Saturn V on which the United States counts for the lunar landing.

Asked whether it is "a pretty good guess that you will be first on the moon," Webb replied, "Yes, sir, I believe it is."

Asked about the exchange of weather photographs with Russia, Dryden said the pictures are "in quality and quantity commensurate with our own. If they do not furnish them, they do not get ours."

County Board Defers Naming Auditor Head

Supervisors to Set Chairman Pay, Duties at November Meeting

Members of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors this morning deferred action on naming a new member and chairman of the board of auditors until their November meeting.

Supervisors also voted to set the chairman's salary and added duties at the November session. County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy is expected to be named chairman of the county board of auditors at the October meeting.

Murphy is the only announced candidate for the membership on the three-man board.

If appointed to the board, he would then be eligible for the chairmanship.

Robert E. Lilly, 46-year-old secretary member of the board of auditors was expected to vie with Murphy for the position of chairman.

Currently, the chairman is paid $13,400 annually. Extension of the job's responsibilities is planned.

SALARY INCREASE
The ways and means committee, whose members are among Murphy's supporters, today recommended that the chairman's salary be increased to an average $20,000 per year because of additional duties as chief administrator.

While the chairman's duties as administrator are yet to be defined, generally he would make many of the day-to-day decisions that now must wait for periodic meetings of the ways and means committee.

The board of auditors new chairman's salary was recommended to be $19,500 the first year, $20,000 the second year and $20,500 for the third year.

NEEDS MAJORITY
Murphy, 40, will need the majority vote of the 35 supervisors to get on the board and the majority present at the November meeting to become chairman.

Lilly would bank his chances for the chairmanship on his 14 years experience as a member of the board of auditors.

He was an unsuccessful candidate for chairman last year when he was beaten by John Austin, 69.

COPPER GULCH — The treacherous Barranca del Cobre (Copper Gulch) in northwestern Chihuahua State, Mexico, is rugged mountain terrain where an expedition from the United States is reported trapped. The River Unique, which the party was attempting to conquer, flows through the canyon area, described as larger than Arizona's Grand Canyon.

U.S. Sends Copters in Hunt for Adventurers in Mexico

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico (AP) — The United States government moved in helicopters and a para-rescue team today in the mountain search for a group of American adventurers in desolate northwestern Mexico.

The river expedition of 12 men and two women hasn't been heard from or seen in more than a week during their quest to conquer the uncharted Rio Urique. The 15th member is hospitalized here after he had been sent for additional supplies.

The exploration-adventure group set out 13 days ago in four 15-foot rubber boats to travel the canyon which stretches along the winding, twisting Barranca Cobre—Copper Gulch. They had with them only enough food for a few days. They planned to pick up provisions from mining camps at intervals along the river.

The explorers include veteran Utah river runners, two California business executives on a vacation camping trip and a zoology professor.

The search area is about 300 air miles from this Mexican state capital.

SWIMS 7 MILES
James D. Dean, 31, of Salt Lake City, Utah, reached here last Friday after an exhausting 15-mile hike across rough terrain. He had to swim another seven miles.

Dean and Larry Davis of Price, Utah, were sent by the expedition for more food.

The explorers found the river's water level so low that it was taking them several days longer to float down the river than anticipated and their supplies were running low.

They felt Dean and Davis would be able to travel faster by finding easier terrain away from the treacherous river. The two sought a mining camp where a food pickup had been scheduled.

From his hospital bed, Dean expressed confidence Sunday that his mates are safe.

He said when he and Davis left the group Sept. 29, "everything" was fine. There were no injuries. Their spirits were high and morale wonderful.

Vice Consul Bob Homme said he was "not in a position to be an alarmist or overly optimistic" about the explorers. Davis left with a Mexican guide and two Indians to make his way back to the main body.

ALL ALIVE
"We all think they are alive," said Homme early today. "It's just a matter of pinning down their location. I believe they are on their way out."

He estimated it might take the group a week or more to cover the distance because of the rough going.

"There are only two ways for them to go, back the way they came or down river to their original destination." Homme, who flew in one of two private search planes Sunday, said the water in the river had been reduced to puddles. He said the two pilots saw what they flying helicopters probably would have found three beached boats, similar to those in use by the explorers.

He said shadows deep in the gorge created a problem for the planes diving in and out trying to spot the expedition. He said the two pilots saw what they flying helicopters probably would have found three beached boats, similar to those in use by the explorers.

Crops Suffer Severe Blow

Flora Hits Cuba Again

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Flora lashed Cuba today for the fourth day in a row, dealing a crushing blow to the already staggering economy of Fidel Castro's Communist regime.

Half of the island's sugar, rice, coffee, cotton and cocoa crops were reported wiped out by the wild wind and the torrential rain, and Flora was far from through with Cuba. At 8 a.m. (Pontiac time), she had started to move once again across the stricken nation.

The turbulent eye of the giant storm crossed the south coast near Santa Cruz del Sur and was thrashing very slowly toward the city of Camaguey.

"Sugar production, the backbone of Cuba's economy, already had fallen to the lowest level in 30 years because, Castro admitted, of poor Communist management. He said the breakdown of motor transport.

"As the wet, 100-mile-an-hour storm—which already has taken more than 400 lives—moved into Cuba for the second time, the Bahama Islands came once more into range and Florida was threatened.

In her first thrust into Cuba on Friday, Flora gave signs that she would thrash on northward into the Bahamas. But the storm stalled over Oriente Province, then turned westward back into the Caribbean.

Besides the crop destruction, the Cuban radio told of collapsing homes and buildings, serious floods and the evacuation of nearly 35,000 persons from Santiago de Cuba and Victoria de Las Tunas—a picture of havoc in Oriente and Camaguey provinces.

Only two deaths thus far have been confirmed in the guarded reports by the Cuban radio. The crews of two coastal fishing boats are missing.

N-Shelter Plan Turned Down by House Unit

$1.5 Billion Slashed in Appropriations Unit, but Total Tops '63

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today voted deep slashes in the nation's civil defense, space and science programs.

Among other things, it turned down the entire $195 million asked for a nationwide fallout shelter program.

In a bill financing 26 executive agencies and offices, the committee approved only $12,182,913,790 of the $14,638,589,000 requested by President Kennedy for the present fiscal year.

But even with the $1,555,700,300 cut, the bill's total as it went to the House floor for consideration later this week was $1,233,067,400 higher than the same agencies received last year.

Two big departments, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Veterans Administration accounted for more than $10 billion of the bill's total.

The space agency was allotted $5.1 billion of the $5,712,000,000 the President had originally requested. Congress itself, in a separate authorization act, previously had cut the program more than $400 million.

The committee was held to the authorization ceiling.

MOST FOR RESEARCH

The amount recommended for the space program was $1,425,385,000 more than Congress provided last year. Most of the money approved was earmarked for research and development.

An effort to cut the space agency funds further will be made on the House floor. Rep. Louis C. Wyman, R-N.H., called for additional reductions of $700 million, mainly in the program to send a manned space vehicle to the moon.

Wyman called the lunar project "daytime moon madness."

The veterans' administration's share of the funds was $5,372,300, almost the entire amount requested and a slight increase over last year. It included $1,075,186,000 to operate 12,486 hospitals and $3,921,000,000 for compensation and pension payments.

Without explanation, the committee rejected the entire $195 million requested to finance a nationwide fallout shelter program which the House overwhelmingly authorized — but did not finance — last month. The Senate had not acted on the authorization bill.

For all civil defense programs, including those now in operation, the President requested $344.9 million. The committee slashed this to $67.3 million.

The National Science Foundation, for which the President sought $389 million, was given only $323.2 million. The committee said the cost of government support of research programs was rising too rapidly and allowed no money for new programs.

OTHER ALLOTMENTS

Other large allotments in the bill included:

• $75 million for subsidy payments to air carriers.

• $60 million to begin development of a commercial supersonic plane.

• $152,540,700 for federal building construction in 34 cities.

• $100 million for payments on grant contracts for urban renewal projects.

Diem: 'Reds Losing in Viet Nam'

From Our News Wires

SAIGON, South Viet Nam — President Ngo Dinh Diem said today the Communists are losing the guerrilla war in South Viet Nam.

In an address opening the National Assembly, Diem said the Communist Viet Cong faces the "eventuality of an inescapable defeat."

He also told his hand-picked assembly, in which there are no opposition parties, that South Viet Nam's Buddhist problem had been settled. His regime's recent crackdown on the Buddhists is to be debated in the U.N. General Assembly, beginning this afternoon.

Speaking while police enforced maximum security regulations in downtown Saigon, Diem said: "At this very moment, it is with regret that we see some countries, intoxicated by false information on the situation in Viet Nam and on the Buddhist question in particular, request and obtain inclusion in the United Nations agenda of a problem already settled."

U.N. RESOLUTION

In New York, 16 Asian, African and Latin-American nations planned to introduce a resolution calling on U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to intercede in behalf of the Buddhists.

Diem has sent a special six-man mission to the United Nations to defend his government.

South Viet Nam is expected to counter the criticism in the assembly with an invitation to an international inspection team to see the situation first hand.

Diem again said the Buddhist crisis was Communist-inspired as "an ultimate maneuver" to avert an inevitable defeat.

He said the declaration of martial law after the wave of Buddhist demonstrations and suicides

"permitted the unmasking of the Communists and their accomplices, and now a tempered, true Viet Nam emerges from this undeniably great trial through history, victoriously surmounting this new assault of Communist conspiracy."

Pontiac Sets Sales Record

17,081 Bought During Announcement Period

Pontiac Motor Division announced today that its dealers sold a record 17,081 new 1964 models during the announcement weekend, up 24 per cent from 13,751 announcement sales a year ago.

E. M. Estes, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac, said that in the three-day period dealers took $3,707 retail orders, up 34 per cent from a year earlier.

Estes said almost 2,471 million people visited Pontiac showrooms from coast to coast during the announcement weekend.

"Public acceptance of our new six-cylinder Tempest and our new line has been sensational," Estes pointed out. "Both the crowds and sales figures are the best in our history."

"Advance publicity about our new six-cylinder Tempest and our greatly improved regular line had raised car buyers' anticipation of the new models to a peak by announcement day," Estes said. "Introduction period sales topped all our expectations."

Latins Join County for Cooperation

Alliance for Progress delegates from Cali, Colombia, and those from Oakland County will meet with U.S. State Department officials tomorrow to recommend a continued program of cooperation between the two communities on a local level.

In a final report and recommendation drafted Saturday, both groups agreed on a future program of cooperation through official ambassadors and "clearing committees."

The meeting, which wound up a 10-day visit to the Oakland County area by the Cali delegation, was held at Oakland University.

The county's official host, Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, felt the success of any future program would lie mainly in direct contact.

DEAL DIRECTLY

"We feel that a continuing program could be most effective if we could deal more directly with each other, somehow cutting the red tape of working through the federal government here and central government in Colombia," he said.

"To achieve this end, our joint report recommends establishing ambassadors from each community and committees to act as a clearing house for identifying problems and needs."

The report suggests a $45,500 budget to support such a program for the first year. It recommends the program "be in full operation no later than Feb. 1, 1964."

China Commies Says Defects to Russ

TOKYO (UPI)—An interpreter for a Communist Chinese scientific delegation climbed over the wall of the Soviet Embassy here today and asked for political asylum, diplomatic sources reported.

The Japanese Foreign Office identified the defector as Chou Hong-ching, 44, who came here with the delegation last month for an international conference on oil pressure machinery.

The sources said Chou made his way to the Soviet Embassy about 4 a.m. today, climbed over the 7-foot-high concrete wall, and asked Soviet officials for asylum.

Airline sources said five members of the delegation left for home today, but three others, including the leader, remained in Tokyo.

DECLINE COMMENT

Soviet and Chinese spokesmen declined comment on the defection, the second of a Peking official in recent days.

In Moscow, Communist sources said yesterday that Chou Hsiang-pao, second secretary of the Peking Embassy in London, had elected to stay in the Soviet capital with his wife and two children.

Chou arrived in Moscow several weeks ago, ostensibly on his way home, but he did not continue his trip to China.

Since the Sino-Soviet split became public, there have been no known instances of Soviet defections to the Chinese.

RUSSIANS INFORM

Although the Communist officials in Tokyo refused to comment on the newest defection, the Japanese Foreign Office said it had been informed of the incident by the Russians.

There was speculation that the defection leader remained in Tokyo in an effort to persuade Chou to return to Peking.

The Russian Embassy is located across town from the Palace Hotel, where the Chinese delegation had been staying.

Its heavy iron gates usually are locked at night.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon charged today that the nation's "civil rights crisis is to a great extent" President Kennedy's fault.

Nixon said it is "due to the fact that having made some symbolic gestures in the campaign and some extravagant promises about what he was going to do, he did nothing but give his civil rights program lip service."

"As a result," Nixon said in an exclusive copyright interview in the current issue of U. S. News and World Report, "a tremendous emotional development occurred which resulted in the demonstrations."

Nixon's comments were in response to the question: "On civil rights, would you have used troops in Alabama and Mississippi if you had been president?"

SHOULD HAVE KNOWN

The former vice president, Kennedy's opponent in the 1960 presidential election, said:

"I think that anybody sitting in the White House, with the lines of communication that he has, knew that this crisis was going to come up. And what would have avoided it would have been to the President of the United States, with his immense prestige, to call in the governors of the critical states, sit them down and tell them, without any equivocation, what was going to happen in the event that they did not comply with the law of the land."

"Now, I'm confident that, had that been done, the situation would not have developed to the point that it did. But once it had developed to that point, then the President of the United States had no choice but to enforce the law of the land and to use whatever means was necessary."

Advance Gifts up UF to 63 Pct. of Goal

The second tabulation of advance gifts pledged to this year's Pontiac Area United Fund campaign shows 63.5 per cent, or $57,462 of the advance goal has been reached.

Robert M. Critchfield, advance gifts chairman, said a number of increased gifts has put the amount recorded so far 7.2 per cent greater than at this time last year.

Critchfield said he anticipates the advance gifts total will hit the 100 per cent higher mark of $90,562 being sought for the 1963 campaign.

Among outstanding contributions pledged is $2,900 by Pontiac State Bank, $1,000 from Fleet Carrier, Buckner Finance, $700; Home & Auto Loan, $650; Motorcar Transport, $525; A & P stores, $500; Truckaway Corp., $500; Contract Cartage, $375; and Mrs. Catherine Nepler, $375.

Other major early gifts include Boutell Driveway, $350; Milo J. Express, $275; and Voss & Buckner, $260.

REPORT WEDNESDAY

Critchfield said the next report, $225; Oakland Loan, $200; Ted's, Inc., $200; Berkeley Voss, $200; National Cash Register, $225; Meets & Powers, $275; Norman Buckner, $275; White Owl date will be Wednesday. Advance gifts, composed of pledges from firms and individuals, precedes the regular fund campaign which begins Oct. 15.

Speaker Firm on Tax Relief

LANSING (UPI) — Rep. Allison Green, Republican speaker of the House, said today that he is firm on his position that the State House of Representatives from Kingston, returned to Lansing today still insisting Gov. Romney alter the property tax relief plan of his fiscal reform program.

The implication was that if Romney remains adamant, Green will find it difficult to push for acceptance of the governor's program in the legislature, which begins its first full week of work of the special session tonight.

The legislature has been in session since Sept. 24 for hearings around the state by the Senate and House Tax committees.

The breach between Romney and Green became public at City last week when the speaker said he did not think the governor's recommendation for a 20 per cent across-the-board cut in property taxes was a good idea.

Romney answered that he hoped Green would not scuttle the entire fiscal reform program by tying reform of the school aid formula to property tax reduction.

In an interview last night Green said, "I appreciate the position the governor takes but I would rather see us get out of the school aid question entirely unless he would be willing to use a different approach."

OBJECTS TO METHOD

Green said he agreed with Romney's statement that property tax relief is needed, but he objected to the method he has chosen.

Hawaiians Eye Volcano, Fear Further Eruptions

HILO, Hawaii (AP) — Kilauea Volcano rumbled into life over the weekend, spurred evacuation plans for a village and still hadn't been written off as finished today.

Volcano scientists were continuing their vigil at the volcano, 30 miles south of Hilo, although the rumblings had subsided to hisses of steam and a red glow. The first Kilauea's three eruptions occurred early Saturday in 1960, with the second following that afternoon and the third Sunday morning.

sen to get it. I like the $30 per pupil plan much better," Green said.

The speaker, considered one of the most powerful men in the legislature, said, "The property tax rebate is one of the vital links in the program. This has got to be greatly modified before anything else can move."

The other key features of the Romney program, Green said, are the income taxes on individuals, corporations and financial institutions and establishment of a uniform method of assessing property.

"If you are going to have an income tax you are going to have to give property tax relief," Green said.

Romney was out of the Capitol today, addressing fiscal reform meetings in Port Huron, Bad Axe, Bay City, Clare and Flint.

Unit on Aging Backs Home Levy Deferral

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Commission on Aging has sided with Gov. George Romney's proposed homebased property tax deferral for senior citizens.

The proposal, part of Romney's over-all fiscal reform program facing the legislature, has been under attack in some quarters because it contains a lien clause under which the state could collect deferred taxes when the citizens who had deferred payment no longer live in the home.

The commission said Romney's idea "will benefit the senior citizens themselves. It will permit the senior citizen to continue to live on his or her homestead, free of property tax, as long as he or she wishes."

"Outright exemption would do the same thing, but the principal benefit of exemption would go to the children or nephews, or other relatives who might inherit the property after the death of the senior citizen."

Commission Eyes Okay of Relief Sewer Contracts

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission is expected to award contracts tonight for the construction of three relief sewers designed to benefit hundreds of homeowners.

The Ruffner, South Elton and Cummings drain projects should be completed well before the March 31 deadline, according to City Engineer William T. Killen.

Killen has recommended that the contract for the Ruffner and Cummings construction be awarded to Sugden, Inc., of Oak Park.

ABOVE ESTIMATE

Sugden's bid of $75,388 was the only one of 13 which the engineering department found acceptable. It is 4.7 per cent above the engineer's estimate. Others ranged from $83,021 to $121,204.

Recommended to receive a $121,194 contract for the South Elton project was S. Weissman Excavating Co., Inc., of Detroit. Its bid was 1.3 per cent over the engineer's estimate.

Among the 11 other bidders, figures ran between $132,550 and $180,698.

Killen reported that both contractors are prepared to start work soon.

CITY'S SHARE

In each case, the city will assume 15 per cent of the cost.

However, the city is also responsible for the share of city-owned property within the special assessment districts.

Because a large portion of Elton Park is in the South Elton area, the city will pay about $71,000 as its share of the project.

The relief sewers, expected to eliminate basement flooding in the areas, will run into the 12-Town Drain.

Plans are now being made for the annual dinner of the North Trails Boy Scout District, to be held Nov. 14 at First Presbyterian Church.

More than 300 scout leaders, municipal officials, school authorities and civic figures are expected to attend.

MRS. SUSAN C. MALONEY

Requiem Mass for Mrs. Susan C. Maloney, 36, of 663 Harmon, Birmingham, was to be today at Holy Name Church, with burial following in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery. Troy, under supervision of Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co.

Mrs. Maloney, associate editor of the Town Hall, magazine, died Saturday after a brief illness.

She was a member of the Junior League of Birmingham.

Surviving are two sons, Charles T. and Michael, both at home.

CAREENING CAR

State police from the Pontiac post state Devine's car careened off the other vehicle and smashed into guard rails and then into two parked cars on the shoulder of the road.

DeVine, a 1944 graduate of the Detroit College of Law, has been active in politics since 1950, when he was nominated as Democratic representative for the 8th Congressional District. He lost to the incumbent.

DeVine was unsuccessful in his bid for nomination in 1954 for state attorney general and again in 1959 when he sought a Genesee County Circuit Court judgeship.

Active in veterans affairs since his discharge from the Navy after World War II, DeVine was Michigan commander of the VFW in 1950.

His body is at the Algeo-Gundry Mortuary in Flint.

Southfield Man Named PR Head for County GOP

Robert Dane, Dodge of Southfield has been named public relations director for the Oakland County Republican party, according to county party chairman Charles L. Lyle.

In making the announcement Lyle said that Dodge of 26229 Red Leaf Lane will begin working with all GOP groups and candidates in an effort to strengthen the overall Republican position in 1964.

Dodge was chairman of the 1963 Republican OK Roast. He served as chairman of the 1962 election day victory celebration and served on the steering committee to the 1963 state convention.

A 1946 Michigan State University graduate, Dodge is a marketing engineer.

MRS. EDWARD E. ROTHMAN

Private service for Mrs. Edward E. (Ruth) Rothman, 59, of 3665 Lakerest, Bloomfield Township, was to be today at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., Birmingham, with cremation tomorrow in the White Chapel Crematorium, Troy.

Mrs. Rothman died Saturday after a prolonged illness.

Daughter of the late Albert and Mrs. Kahn, Mrs. Rothman was a member of Temple Bethel, Detroit, a Delta Gamma sorority, the Women's City Club, Detroit, and the Birmingham Women's Village Club.

Mrs. Rothman attended Liggett School, Detroit, and Emma Willard School, Troy, N. Y. She was a graduate of the University of Michigan and completed postgraduate work at Harvard University.

Surviving besides her husband are two daughters, Mrs. William Brasher of Birmingham and Mrs. William Truettner of Chevy Chase, Md.; two sisters, Mrs. Harry L. Winston and Mrs. Martin L. Butzel, both of Birmingham; a brother, and four grandchildren.

JFK Ratifies N-Ban Treaty

'Clear Commitment' to Man's Survival

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy formally ratified the limited nuclear test-ban treaty today, calling it "a clear and honorable national commitment" to the cause of man's survival.

Kennedy, in a 10-minute ceremony in the historic treaty room of the White House, said the agreement to ban all but underground nuclear tests is "great with promise" and marks a beginning that could lead to further East-West agreements.

"If this treaty fails," Kennedy said, "it will not be our doing, and even if it fails, we shall not regret that we made this commitment."

The President said the United States "can and must keep our vigilance"—an obvious reference to his earlier promise that the nation would be in a position to quickly reverse atmospheric testing of nuclear weapons should any other power violate the treaty.

With 16 government officials and members of Congress looking on, Kennedy used 17 pens to sign four copies of the formal instrument of ratification.

Skipper, 4-Girl Crew Found Safe in Tahiti

HONOLULU (AP) — The 45-foot ketch Neophyte, with its male skipper and girl crew of four, has landed safely in Tahiti, says the Coast Guard.

The ship sailed Aug. 27 from San Diego, Calif., to Hawaii with an all-girl crew. Skipper Lee Quinn selected his present crew in Hawaii.

JFK Wants State in Dem Column

Hart Heads Kennedy Team

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy plans a strong effort to keep Michigan in his column in the 1964 election and has tapped Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., to head the strategy team.

Kennedy carried Michigan by a slim margin over Barry M. Smithey in the 1960 election and, sources close to Hart say, will go all out to nail it down again next year.

Part of the administration's concern is Republican George Romney, who took over the governorship last fall by defeating Gov. John Swainson to end 14 years of Democratic rule.

An indication of the effort to be made to strengthen Democratic chances in Michigan for the 1964 elections is seen in recent moves by Hart, who himself will be up for re-election next year.

LINES UP SPEAKERS

Hart has already lined up three cabinet members to speak in Michigan within a 10-day period.

The first was Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Anthony K. Celebrezze who spoke in Albion and Detroit yesterday, at Hart's invitation.

John Gronouski, the new Postmaster General, agreed to appear with Hart at the annual Polish Day celebration at Hamtramck Oct. 13.

And Secretary of Agriculture

Orville L. Freeman is scheduled to speak at a farmers' conference at Lapeer Oct. 15.

SENATORS TO COME

Hart also has lined up two senators for speaking engagements in the state — Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., a former Welfare secretary, and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., the President's younger brother.

Ribicoff will speak to a conference of Jewish community leaders in Detroit on Nov. 10 and Kennedy will address the 8th District Democrats at Pontiac Nov. 15.

Sources close to the situation said this is the first leg of a stepped-up campaign by the Democrats in Michigan for the 1964 presidential and other elections.

It is also understood that President Kennedy will make at least one swing through Michigan during the 1964 presidential campaign and is leaning on Hart for advice. The two have been conferring on the state's political situation at the White House.

TWO OU SCHOLARSHIPS

Oakland University has established two tuition scholarships for students from the Cauca Valley, in which Cali is located.

In announcing the scholarship Saturday Varner noted, "We hope this will provide tangible evidence of our genuine interest in furthering relations between your community and ours."

Gov. Balcazar said he and his committee will explore the possibility of reciprocal scholarships at the University of Valle. An exchange of professors was also suggested.

The annual budget recommended includes a $10,000 per year salary for the Cauca Valley and Oakland "ambassadors."

Also included are salaries for bi-lingual secretaries and operating and travel expenses. Office space and equipment would be provided free by the two local governments.

It is suggested that costs be borne by private foundations and Alliance for Progress funds.

To get the most out of the following, you'll have to get rid of preconceived notions about outlining.

You probably remember outlining as a rather dull section of Freshman Composition.

Before you wrote them, you had to make outlines of them. When you wrote, you followed the outline. We'll call this type of outline a writing outline.

The outlines we're going to talk about are fundamentally different from the outlines you use for writing. We're talking about outlines you use for reading.

They are analytical tools—scalpels for dissecting the thought-structure of a textbook.

In a reading outline, the ideas must be arranged according to their logical order. The most important idea in the text appears as the first point in the outline—no matter where it appears in the text.

The following is the recommended way to construct an outline:

1. _____
- 1.1 _____
- 1.2 _____
2. _____
- 2.1 _____
- 2.1.1 _____
- 2.1.2 _____

This type of outline labels the ideas. Anything marked "1." must be directly related to the main idea, or "1.1." In the same way, anything marked "1.1.1" is directly subordinate to "1.1."

The items don't have to be paired off in a reading outline.

In writing outlines it's good form to pair off each item—if you have an item "a," you should have an item "b."

But in the sample outline above, "2.1" can stand without any "2.2." If you find only one subordinate idea under "2," there's no reason to invent another.

EQUALLY IMPORTANT

Notice that any entries into "1.1" and "2.1" must be of equal importance. The entries in "2.1.1," "2.1.2," etc., must also be of equal importance.

As an example of a reading outline, we could outline today's article as follows:

1. Reading outlines are analytical tools.
 - 1.1 They organize ideas according to logical order not according to order of presentation.
 - 1.1.1 Different from writing outlines.
 - 1.1.1.1 Ideas are labeled.
 - 1.1.1.2 Ideas don't have to be paired off.
 - 1.1.2 (Tomorrow: An advanced analytical tool—the summary.)

New Program Changes

Kashmir Leader's Title

SRINAGAR, Kashmir (Indian Sector (AP)) — Kashmir will have a chief minister instead of a prime minister under a program to reduce the northern state's special status and to promote integration of it as one of the Indian states. That will leave Jawaharlal Nehru as the only Indian prime minister.

Indian Kashmir also replace its chief of state with a state governor. The state is disputed and occupied in separate parts by India and Pakistan.

Trading Fairly Active

Market Prices Are Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—Prices were irregular early today as the stock market opened the week's trading near its historical peak. Trading was fairly active at the start.

Some of the major groups that led the rise last week started in the plus column once again. These included the steels, motors and metals. Ralls were mostly off a bit.

Most changes were by small fractions. Some of the wide movers showed bigger changes. IBM was ahead by about 1 1/2 and Polaris advanced about 2.

Many Wall Streeters feel the market is about ready to break out of the relatively narrow trading range it has held to since late August. Some see signs of renewed interest in stocks by the small investor.

National Lead, Alcoa and Reynolds Metals added small fractions as lead and zinc industry leaders predicted additional price increases for both metals.

PRICE IMPROVEMENT
The steels are also in the midst of a selective price improvement, and U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic and Jones and Laughlin gained up to about 1/2 point.

Fractionally lower were Sas-to Fe Railroad, New York Central, Pennsylvania and Southern Pacific.

Mixed were the utilities and electronics. Some farm implement stocks fell back a small fraction.

Friday the Associated Press stock average fell 1 1/2 at 279.2.

American Stock Exchange prices also were mixed at the start with changes mostly narrow. Higher by small fractions were Synex.

Corporate bond prices were mixed.

Attack Starts Bankers Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sizzling attack on the policies and tactics of the controller of the currency, James J. Saxon, launched in controversy today the annual convention of the American Bankers Association.

David J. Rockefeller, president of the Chase Manhattan Bank, New York, charged Saxon with following "a policy of noncoordination," relying on "outright power" to gain his goals, and creating "embarrassment and confusion" by his clashes with other bank supervising agencies.

The plan espoused by Saxon to let national banks open branches even in states which forbid branch banking, Rockefeller said, "would sound the death knell of the dual banking system."

"I believe the controller would be well advised to show greater restraint in exercising the functions which he has assumed," Rockefeller said.

DIVIDED FORUM
The New Yorker, whose giant bank is state-chartered, prepared his speech for ABA's state bank division. The ABA gave Saxon a platform, too—a meeting, later in the day of the association's national bank division.

The divided forum symbolized growing stresses within the dual system, whose 100th anniversary the ABA is celebrating at this convention.

Yet the split on branch-banking policy is less a matter of national banks vs. state banks than of big banks vs. little banks. The ABA is expected to reaffirm, before the convention ends, its 1962 stand that national banks should not enjoy greater freedom to establish branches in any state than do the banks chartered by that state.

Saxon was expected to defend with vigor his view that the banking system must expand with a growing economy and rid itself of hobbles which, he maintains, actually retard economic growth.

DANGER DISCOUNTED
Rockefeller discounted that danger.

Since 1963, when the system of national banks was created to co-exist with state-chartered and state-regulated banks, he said, the dual system has been a bulwark against centralized control—"which in the wrong hands could become a potent tool for government management of the economy."

Rockefeller said that danger.

Frank B. Yelding Jr., president of the U.S. Savings and Loan Board, which regulates federally chartered associations. He says "hasty rate increases" might lead to federal restrictions.

His worry is that payment of 5 percent to savers can be assured only by continued heavy borrowing by the government.

It's a Savers' Market

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Competition can be a boon to savers as well as to the spenders it usually is credited with helping. For consumers competition is supposed to hold down prices.

For savers it can boost the rewards.

And many who could put aside a few dollars from the weekly paycheck have been able of late to get higher yields—up to 5 percent on some Southern California savings institutions.

This is thanks to the competition among the many havens for savings—and also thanks to the increasing number of those who borrow. Where borrowers multiply savers prosper—if things don't go too far. And some warnings about that are being made by federal agencies.

Increased interest rates, both on some forms of loans and demand deposits, have been made, have also been influenced by international politics in today's complicated world of finance. The U.S. government has encouraged higher rates on some forms of home rather than letting it go abroad where foreigners already have too many surplus dollars for our comfort when it comes to settling international payments.

DEMAND GREAT
But mostly, savers have been wooed because the demand for mortgages, insurance and other forms of credit—particularly in fast growing areas of the nation—has been so insistent that lending institutions were competing for available funds.

Competition to raise money for mortgages has started in Southern California has led several savings and loans associations to raise dividends to 5 percent. This has brought an expression of concern from Joseph P. McMurray, chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which regulates federally chartered associations. He says "hasty rate increases" might lead to federal restrictions.

His worry is that payment of 5 percent to savers can be assured only by continued heavy borrowing by the government.
