Hope Growing for Ike's Complete Recovery

Winner Gets $1,100 Check

With a dream she dared not dream now come true, Mrs. Irene Crisp today was back at her desk in the Pontiac Motor Division administration building, her bank account enriched by $1,100.

Mrs. Crisp, the 53-year-old grandmother who was the second and final winner in the Pontiac Press Bonanzagram Contest, yesterday was presented with a check for $1,100 by Howard H. Fitzgerald II, Press business manager.

Mrs. Crisp and her husband, William A., were vacationing in the Upper Peninsula when she was announced as the winner in the puzzle contest conducted for 25 weeks by the Press. Her son, William A. Jr., was the first winner and earned $1,400.

"I was very surprised," said Mrs. Crisp. "I didn't dream I would win because I knew there were four mistakes in my entry when we went up North."

But later, in copies of the Press the Crisps had mailed to them, Mrs. Crisp noted that the best entry had 5 errors. She hurriedly phoned her daughter-in-law, Neale, and told her to take her claim check to the newspaper office.

Mrs. Crisp, who lives with her husband at 1570 N. Perry St., has no immediate plans for her winnings. Her son is using his money to help finance a new home.

Her husband, a Pontiac police captain, not wanting to give the little woman too much credit, managed to admit: "She's a bright little thing, with a good head on her shoulders."

FINAL BONANZAGRAM WINNER — Mrs. Irene Crisp, secretary at Pontiac Motor Division and wife of Police Capt. William A. Crisp, accepts a $1,100 check as her prize for solving the Pontiac Press Bonanzagram Contest. Presenting the check is Howard H. Fitzgerald II, Press business manager. Mrs. Crisp, of 1570 N. Perry St., learned of her good fortune while vacationing at Au Train in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Her son, William Jr., 30, was the first to solve the puzzle three months ago. He won $1,420.

Stock Market Holds the Line Against Sell-Off

Big Price Comebacks Limited to Few Issues; Ticker Late 3 Hours

NEW YORK (INS) — Stock market bulls held the line today against a repetition of yesterday's violent sell-off, although important price recoveries were limited to a relatively small number of issues.

The market began in encouraging fashion with most sections of the list pushing ahead for gains of $1 and more under an overnight accumulation of buying orders attracted by the spectacular character of Monday's break.

Soon after the opening, an intense tug-of-war got under way between buyers and sellers with the feverish pace of trading activity forcing the high-speed ticker to fall as much as 19 minutes behind actual floor transactions. It was not until early in the fourth hour that the ticker finally caught up.

During much of the three hours that the ticker ran late, the Stock Exchange resorted to its usual practice of printing "flash prices" to permit board-room traders to learn the actual state of conditions on the floor.

Once the furious trading pace let up, it was evident that some of yesterday's severely battered favorites had emerged from today's turbulent dealings with worthwhile gains, although far short of the severe declines posted yesterday.

Among the old line favorites, Anaconda was up $2.75; General Motors up $2.38; Chrysler up $2; Bethlehem Steel up $1.87; Kennecott up $1.75; and Phillips Petroleum up 1.

Volume swelled to a monumental five million shares, although far short of Monday's record-shattering 7,720,000-share turnover.

President Shows Progress After Full Night Sleep

2-Week Waiting Period Without Complications Will End Crisis

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower enjoyed "a very good night," his hospital physicians reported early today.

A 7 a.m. MST bulletin from Fitzsimons Army Hospital said:

"The President had a very good night.

"He slept almost continuously from 8 o'clock last night until 6:15 this morning."

The medical advisory note was put out by Col. George M. Powell, chief of the hospital's medical department, and Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, the White House physician.

The hospital bulletins reporting Eisenhower's satisfactory progress served to raise hopes for his full recovery another notch.

But the cautious optimism was sharply tempered by the note of warning sounded by one of his heart specialist physicians.

TWO WEEK WAIT

"For the first two weeks we keep our fingers crossed," said Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston in reporting here yesterday on the President's condition.

The two weeks won't be up until Oct. 6.

White did say the prospects for Eisenhower's complete recovery within two months are "reasonably good," barring complications. But he added that complications "can still come," particularly during the first two weeks after an attack.

At a news conference before flying back to Boston, White also said the President should be "physically able" to serve a second term if he wants to.

But the physician called the presidency one of the toughest jobs in the world and declared he had "no conviction one way or the other" as to whether Eisenhower should run for re-election.

The likelihood remained that members of the President's family will urge him to stand aside in 1956. For that matter, it seems quite likely they won't need to urge him. Eisenhower, who will be 65 Oct. 14, said in August the state of his health would be a factor in his decision about running again.

SATISFACTORY PROGRESS

A bulletin from Fitzsimons Army Hospital at 9:10 last night said:

"This has been a very comfortable day for the President. His sat-

Chess, Checkers Show Activates Local Players

Local checkers and chess players are sharpening their wits and practicing opening and defense moves as they prepare to try their skill against a world champion at mixed play in the Pontiac Press-sponsored exhibition next week.

The event is scheduled for Stevens Hall, Pike at Williams Sts. at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 4.

NEWELL W. BANKS

Newell W. Banks, who holds the world's championship speed record at mixed chess and checkers, will take on all comers simultaneously, and in addition will play three games of blindfolded checkers at the same time.

The competition is open to all and no admission will be charged.

Competition was razor-edged today, as checkers and chess fans in Pontiac and nearby communities rounded up some stiff opposition for Banks.

Top interest centered on a 16-year-old chess player, Dennis Gibson of 137 Osceola Dr., who beat Banks in a similar exhibition last year in Detroit.

"I don't expect to beat him a second time," Dennis said. "I think he knows I'm coming and he'll pay a tight game. But I'll be in there trying!"

But others were not so sure of Denny's defeat. Donald G. Rofe of 64 Matthews St., a tool and die maker with Fisher Body Division and member of a local Chess and Checkers Club, thinks Denny will offer stiff competition.

"I've played against Banks — he has memory plus ability and that's hard to beat," Rofe said. "He's top flight, but I look for Denny to give him a real battle."

Denny, a all-A student at Pontiac High School, has been playing since he was 9. His dad, Fred Gibson, also a chess fan, said he'd be there rooting for his son, and might play himself "just for the fun."

Rofe, who plays in postal tournaments said he expected to take Banks on at the exhibition.

"I've played Banks twice but never won, although I was among the finalists in one exhibition. This time I hope for a draw. I've been playing by mail, and my game has improved," Rofe said.

UF Volunteers Receive Briefing

Three Division Workers Meet for Breakfast, Planning Session

The first of three pre-campaign breakfasts for Pontiac Area United Fund solicitors was held at the Hotel Waldron this morning aimed at briefing workers for a strong start in this year's drive which begins Oct. 11.

Assembled today were volunteers in the foods, automotive and public service divisions headed by Ralph Eastridge.

H. Wayne Gabert, Commercial Division chairman, pointed out that the job of raising $562,175 must be done if 55 service agencies in the UF package are to function effectively in 1955.

Solicitors received their campaign material, were briefed on their use and given opportunity to ask questions. They were then shown a film outlining efficient methods of solicitation.

Eastridge was assisted by three group chairmen: James F. Nye, foods group; Robert B. Oliver, automotive and David R. Ewalt, public service.

Tomorrow morning the second group, under Addison K. Oakley, will meet at the Waldron. The last session will be held Oct. 4 under co-chairman Dr. George N. Petroff.

The construction and government groups, headed by Harry J. Woodman, are briefing their workers in small groups. Woodman's group chairmen are Daniel Murphy and J. Cecil Cox.

Date to Be Set in Sewer Suit

A date will probably be set within two weeks to try a suit brought by Pontiac against Waterford Township alleging the township illegally connected a new sewer line to the city system.

Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty yesterday continued a temporary injunction stopping Waterford from opening an eight-inch feeder line into the city's Elizabeth Lake Road sewer.

Pontiac claims the township "misrepresented their sewer project as a dwelling house connection" in order to win state approval for its construction.

The city contends the sewer will eventually serve a large shopping center. Under a 1935 agreement Waterford was allowed to connect to the city system, the city states, but any changes, enlargements or additions must have city approval.

Such approval was not given for the current project, city officials assert.

City Attorney William A. Ewart yesterday said Pontiac's sewer system is already overloaded and the addition of a large commercial development would seriously increase the burden.

Waterford Attorney John W. Bell said the township contends the line is a connection, not an enlargement, and therefore does not require city approval.

Expert testimony is needed, he declared, to determine if the project is of a type which should be passed on by the city under terms of the agreement.

In urging that an immediate trial date be set, Bell said "the city charges the township with fraud. This is a very serious charge against the governing body of a unit of 40,000 population."

Judge Doty said a trial would be arranged as soon as possible.

Italy Helps Flood Victims

ROME (AP)—Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino has instructed Italy's ambassador in Washington to offer the American Red Cross $20,000 for flood aid to New England.

Eddie, Debbie Married at Resort in the Catskills

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (AP)—Singer Eddie Fisher and actress Debbie Reynolds were married last night in a brief ceremony at the Catskill Mountains resort where Eddie embarked on his career to stardom.

Six years ago, Eddie was introduced to a hotel night club audience here as a "young man who will be one of the country's most important singers."

Last night Sullivan County Judge Lawrence Cooke united him with the blonde, diminutive actress in a three-minute ceremony attended only by some 30 relatives and close friends.

The ceremony, originally planned for Sunday, was postponed until last night because of Yom Kippur, Jewish day of atonement. Eddie is of the Jewish faith.

Debbie is a Protestant.

The newlyweds smiled throughout most of the ceremony, except when they repeated their marital vows. Their voices rang clear in the living room of a cottage of a friend adjoining Grossinger's Hotel.

Clad in a white lace ballerina-length dress with a full skirt and velvet trimming, Debbie carried a Bible that had belonged to her grandfather. On her head was a white cap with a short veil.

Rochester Goes Dry for 1 Day as Strike Erupts

Rochester went "dry" yesterday, but only briefly.

Bars and package liquor stores were closed all day by Police Chief Sam Howlett, as a precautionary measure following a strike at the Higbie Manufacturing Co. But the doors opened again this morning on some 17 bars and package outlets.

"A couple of hundred men were milling around there, and to avoid possible trouble, I closed the bars and liquor stores," Howlett said. There was no violence.

V. J. McAvoy, treasurer of the Higbie firm, stated this morning that the company contract expired Sunday, and that a new one has not yet been negotiated. Only eight pickets resumed pacing today.

Rain, Cloudy Skies Predicted for Today

Raincoats and umbrellas will have to be worn this afternoon according to the U. S. Weather Bureau. The weatherman says it is to be mostly cloudy today and tonight with occasional light showers ending this evening.

Tomorrow is expected to be partly cloudy with a high near 70 degrees.

The weatherman foresees temperatures averaging about normal. The normal maximum is 69 degrees and the normal minimum 50 degrees. It will be cooler Thursday and warmer over the weekend.

Today's high in Pontiac is expected to be between 65 and 69 degrees. Tonight the mercury may drop as low as 56.

Downtown today's low before 8 a.m. was 51 degrees. The thermometer registered 61 at 2 p.m.

Fenton Flier Lost in Hurricane Chase

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Caribbean's waters, whipped to a white frenzy by Hurricane Janet, were being searched by plane and ship today for a hurricane hunter aircraft missing on a storm mission with 11 men aboard.

One of the crewmen is Lt. (j.g.) Thomas R. Morgan, 24, of Fenton, Mich.

Janet, stepping up her forward pace to about 20 miles an hour and bearing down on Swan Island, a little U.S.-owned group off the Honduran coast, was moving out of the area of search but the seas remained rough. Janet shifted her course during the night to increase her threat to British Honduras and the Yucatan peninsula.

Walter Davis, storm forecaster in Miami, said Janet has shifted her course a little more toward the northwest, but her general path is still west-northwestward.

"She is spreading out and last night reached as far as the Jamaican coast with 40-mile winds," said Davis.

2 Robberies Hit Service Stations

Bandits Strike Twice, Collect $1,367 During Evening Raids

Two armed robberies within 20 minutes of each other netted pistol brandishing bandits $1,367 during the night, Pontiac and State Police said.

Troopers of the Pontiac Post said two men, armed with a long-barreled revolver, took $217 from the till at the Square Deal filling station, Drayton Plains, after forcing attendant Floyd Mayo, 23, to lie on the floor. They also took Mayo's billfold containing $15.

Mayo told officers that only one of the men described as about 25 and blond, entered the station while the other remained outside. He was unable to tell whether the pair fled in a car or on foot.

Twenty minutes later, at about 12:10 a.m., two men, one armed with a snub-nosed, blue steel revolver, entered a Speedway filling station at 125 Oakland Ave., where they took $1,150.

Attendant Norman Lilleyman, of Drayton Plains, said the pair ordered him to open the safe at gunpoint, struck him on the jaw and tied him to the safe handle with a piece of electric cord.

Lilleyman, who was making out the day's reports at the time, was freed minutes later by customers. He said the bandits fled on foot.

Officers stated Lilleyman was able to describe only one of the men as follows: 32-35 years old, 160 to 170 pounds, wearing a khaki jacket and blue jeans.

Science Is Winning the War Against Heart Disease

Editor's Note — The amount of work your heart does is almost beyond belief. In a year, it beats 38 million times. Often it goes on and on, until some other disease brings death. More often, it gives up. Why? Medical science doesn't know all the answers, but it is making progress. What it is doing is outlined in a series of four articles, of which this is the first.

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower's heart attack comes just at the time medical science is scoring its first dramatic victories against the nation's leading killer.

Just 30 years ago, heart attacks like his killed 50 per cent of the men they struck.

Today 80 to 90 per cent survive the first attack.

And best of all, many go back to normal lives and normal or nearly normal work. Most can live happily for many years.

This radical change was born of new knowledge, new drugs to combat high blood pressure, new heart surgery to repair defective hearts, heart-lung machines putting your own heart on a holiday and new tips of how to live with your heart and avoid trouble.

38,000,000 TIMES

Consider, first, this instrument of life's vitality, an organ the size of two fists. It beats and pulses 38 million times a year. Daily it pumps 4,320 gallons of blood through 60,000 miles of blood vessels—a distance 2½ times the earth's equator.

It rarely complains. It adjusts blood flow to the demands of your body. But your heart has a secret—it rests between strokes.

Slightly less than half the time is it working. Better than half the time, it relaxes.

Why is it vulnerable to the heart attack, the coronary thrombosis which the President suffered?

LIKE RUST IN PIPES

Your heart is a muscle. It also must have nourishment, brought to it by the blood. So your heart sends some of its refreshed, oxygen-carrying blood through its own private system of arteries and veins.

These arteries, alone with others in the body, are susceptible to a clogging and narrowing process.

Deposits of fatty material can form inside the artery wall, narrowing and impeding the blood flow, much like rust collecting inside iron pipes. This process is called atherosclerosis, and is a form of hardening of arteries.

The clogging sometimes gradually cuts off the blood flow. Much more often, blood clots begin to form as the blood flows past the roughened area. The clot then can suddenly shut off the blood flow. This is the coronary thrombosis.

The shutdown prevents oxygen and food from reaching part of the heart muscle. Cells in the area served by the blocked artery die.

But the heart is tough and sturdy. It can recover, if not too large an area of muscle has been hit.

Other coronary arteries can expand and stretch to begin taking blood into the affected area, or new blood vessels grow into it.

Normal repair processes form scar tissue in the deadened area. Scar tissue is not as good as normal healthy muscle tissue, but the heart can make a comeback to resume its pumping duties.

Complete rest gives the heart time to make repairs. Blood-thinning drugs can't dissolve the clot blocking an artery, but they can prevent it from spreading, or prevent complications such as clots forming in arteries of the legs during the long period of rest. Drugs help relieve the pain.

NEW DRUGS HELP

Judicious use of blood-thinning or anticoagulant drugs, such as heparin and dicoumarol, is credited with a large role in boosting survival from heart attacks. Strict rest for a time, oxygen, digitalis, or other drugs as indicated, and other improvements in medical care have contributed a heavy share.

Another aid is the electrocardiogram—a map of the electrical action or conductivity of the heart. It can pretty well locate for physicians where the clot occurred, what areas of the heart were blocked, hence how serious the damage is, how treatment should be tailored.

Dr. Paul D. White, noted special-

Administration Aides Working

Ike's Team Tackles Job of Keeping Government Running Smoothly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower team worked today on plans for keeping the government running smoothly while the President recuperates from a heart attack.

A National Security Council meeting was scheduled for Thursday and a Cabinet session the following day, both under the gavel of Vice President Nixon.

Nixon announced yesterday these two top-level conferences would be concerned with matters "of a normal routine nature." But the question of how much presidential authority can be parceled out while Eisenhower is unable to perform his full duties was almost certain to arise.

BROWNELL RETURNS

A formal opinion on the delegation-of-authority matter was awaited from Atty. Gen. Brownell, who was due in New York after cutting short a vacation in Spain to return home and handle the problem.

Meanwhile, the possibility arose that Eisenhower may be able to resume some of his administrative work within a few weeks.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston heart specialist who attended the President, said last night Eisenhower "will be much better off to take up some of his duties than to worry over neglecting them while he recovers."

M24 Widening Suit Dismissed

Township Couple Seek Order Halting Removal of Building

A suit asking a permanent order against removal of a house on the right-of-way for the M24 widening was dismissed by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ossie Gates of 4365 Lapeer Rd., Pontiac Township, had filed the suit against the State Highway Department claiming they had not been given a fair chance to purchase the building back after selling it to the state as part of the right-of-way.

The couple said they offered $1,553 for the house plus an extra ten-foot-deep slice of land across their property which they said the highway department wanted.

They alleged their combined offer was higher in total value than a $3,252 cash bid which won the building.

Highway department officials argued yesterday the state had only suggested grading an additional ten feet to make a more gentle slope from the new road and the land could not be included as part of an offer for the house.

UM Professor, Public Librarian Named Trustees

New Twins Tip Scales at 17 Pounds, 14 Ounces

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — A set of twins, reportedly the heaviest ever known to be registered in this country, were born yesterday at St. Agnes Hospital in South Philadelphia.

Doctors said the twins are healthy, normal girls. One weighed 9 pounds 2 ounces while the other tipped the scales at 8 pounds 12 ounces.

The girls' mother is Mrs. Margaret Margavitch. Her husband, Bruce, is an accountant for a grocery chain.

Hope Grows for Ike's Complete Recovery

isfactory progress, as reported previously, has continued throughout the day."

An earlier bulletin, issued at 4 p.m., gave this account:

"The President had a very comfortable day. He had a moderate lunch of meat, vegetable, fresh fruit cocktail and milk. Mrs. Eisenhower joined the President and visited with him at lunchtime."

The First Lady chatted with her husband again shortly before he had dinner on the first day he was permitted more than fruit juices at all three meals.

The President's evening menu was consomme, spinach, beets, a broiled tomato and sliced peaches.

Another step in the slow recovery process was removal at intervals of the oxygen tent in which Eisenhower had been since Saturday afternoon, when he was hospitalized.

OUT OF TENT

The President was out of the tent three times yesterday—about 30 minutes each time. It is standard practice to place heart attack patients under oxygen to assure greater rest in the early, critical days.

Meanwhile, the Denver White House announced it was putting no pressure on the Justice Department for a requested legal opinion concerning to what extent presidential powers could be delegated in event of an emergency.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said Vice President Nixon and Eisenhower aides had surveyed the situation and concluded that "there is nothing in the immediate future that requires the President's signature, or anything that amounts to delegation of powers."

Until yesterday no one had been permitted in Eisenhower's eighth-floor hospital room except doctors, nurses, Mrs. Eisenhower and his son John, an Army major who flew here from Washington Sunday.

Then the restrictions were eased a bit and the President had two other visitors, both of whom saw him only very briefly.

One was Hagerty, for whom he had a cheery "Hello, Jim." The other was his Army aide, Col. Robert L. Schulz.

OUTLOOK IMPROVED

The outlook also is vastly improved today for the average man suffering his first heart attack.

"There is no justification for the pessimism and psychological invalidism which have been present up until now," declares a well-known New York specialist, Dr. Arthur M. Master, in a recent medical journal report.

Lately, scientists are turning up clues to answer the most critical question—the cause, and prevention, of the clogging of arteries.

MAJOR CAUSES

Heredity, diet, hormones, and physical and emotional stress all appear to play roles in this complicated chemical picture, says Dr. Robert Warner, assistant medical director of the American Heart Assn.

Some researchers suspect the main culprit is large molecules of a fatty material, cholesterol. It is contained in many foods; arteries also manufacture it. Some other authorities suspect diets too rich in fats generally.

Women are far less susceptible to coronary attacks. Does female sex hormone somehow protect them? One research team is giving female hormone to men who have had coronaries, to see if the hormone protects them from further attacks.

ATTENTION, FAT BOYS

Obesity is blamed for increasing chances of heart attacks. So is high blood pressure. Recent studies suggest obesity may not be a cause of coronaries in women, but is definitely related to such attacks in men.

Heart attacks claim far fewer victims among men in some other nations than the United States. Why? Diet, heredity, what?

Is the clogging or atherosclerotic process just a consequence of growing old? Evidence of coronary disease was found in three fourths of 300 young men, averaging 22 years old, who were killed in battle in Korea.

From such questions, from laboratory findings, from research, are coming clues to solve the mystery. There is no answer yet, no proven way to predict who may have a heart attack, or how to prevent the deadly toll exacted each year.

The great reason for optimism is that the search is on, and the pace is quickening.

Skeleton Rumor Reduced in Size to Three Bones

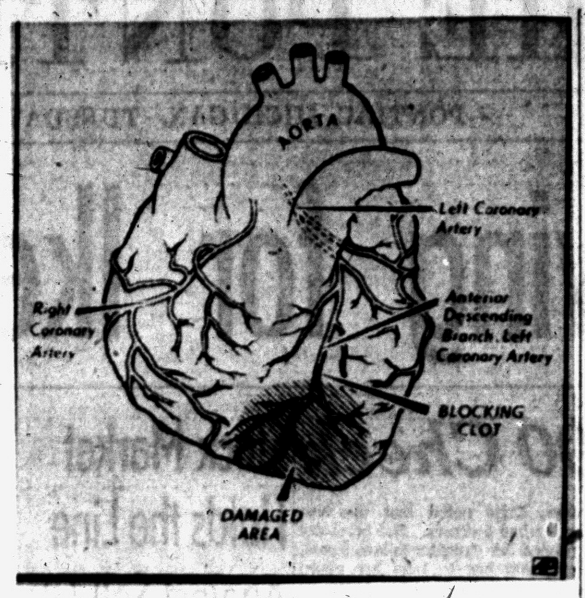

What had been rumored to be a human skeleton found by a Leonard man while enlarging his basement proved only three small bones, when investigated by law officers yesterday.

Chief Investigator for the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office Robert C. Miller and Sheriff's Detective Leo Hazen secured the bones from their finder, William Berndt, of 951 E. Leonard Rd. The biggest is six inches long.

Berndt said he found them Sept. 19 while digging about seven feet below ground level. They were in what appeared to be a wooden box about two feet wide and two feet deep. The wood had rotted making it impossible to determine the length of the box, he explained.

A similar box had been buried about three feet away, but Berndt found no bones in it. He moved into the home recently and could cast no light on origin of the find, said Miller.

The investigator took the bones this morning for examination by Dr. Richard E. Olson, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital pathologist.

Board Reports Pupils Increase

Bloomfield May Have to Speed Up Second Bond Issue

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Although the need for "Step Two" in the school district's building program was not foreseen by research experts until 1958, attendance reports submitted to the Board of Education has brought on consideration of a speeded-up schedule.

At a meeting held Sunday, Supt. of Schools Eugene L. Johnson reported that attendance now stands at 1,500, an increase even greater than was anticipated by a survey committee last spring, when 1,210 students were enrolled. Two years ago, the total enrollment was 600.

The first in a five-step program was accomplished voter-wise in July, when an $800,000 bond issue was passed to provide funds for a new elementary school, an addition to Wing Lake School, conversion of Vaughan to an elementary school, and the acquisition of four elementary and two junior high school sites.

However, in order to maintain classes of 25 students each, board members felt the second bond issue would have to be pushed up. Further, studies will be made and the board will consult with the Michigan State University Bureau of Research and Service, who conducted the original survey on projected needs.

The board will meet Monday with two architects doing the Wing Lake addition and new elementary school.

In other action, a $50,000 contract was awarded Harry White and Son for landscaping at the new high school and immediate action will be taken to secure two more school buses, in addition to three others added this year, for a total of 14.

Mental Health Head Examines Hospital

Director of the State Mental Health Commission Charles F. Wagg this morning inspected the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium to determine if it might be used to house mentally retarded children.

Wagg made the trip at the suggestion of Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart. The buildings have had decreasing use over the past few years and now have about 60 vacant beds.

The county has a backlog of about 100 mentally deficient youngsters who have been committed for institutional care, but remain at home because no space is available in existing institutions.

Sea Defeats Chadwick

DOVER, England (INS)—Rough seas forced American long-distance swimmer Florence Chadwick to give up her second attempt in five days to make a round trip, nonstop crossing of the English Channel. Miss Chadwick entered the water at 11:35 o'clock last night and was taken aboard the accompanying launch some five hours later.

NEW YORK (INS) — Two men accepted the invitation early today and walked into Richard's Open Door Bar & Grill in New York. They also walked out—with $110.

Goff Stands Mute Upon Arraignment

Ray Goff, accused of first degree murder in the fatal shooting of a Flint mother of three Aug. 22, stood mute when arraigned in Circuit Court today and Judge George B. Hartrick entered an innocent plea for him.

Goff, 32, of Flint, is charged with shooting Mrs. Rita M. Cummings, 27, four times with a .22 pistol after ordering her escort from a car near Holly.

At a justice court examination Sept. 15, the victim's escort, Dean Worges, 25, of Flint, said Goff followed the pair from Flint to the death site on M87.

The accused is held in Oakland County Jail pending trial.

Eden, Queen May Talk on Margaret's Romance

LONDON (INS) — Arrangements have been made for Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden to visit Queen Elizabeth next weekend in Scotland—possibly to discuss the Princess Margaret - Peter Townsend romance.

There have been increasingly frequent reports that some statement settling the truth or falsity of the rumors that the two will wed will be made.

The Day in Birmingham

City Commission Awards Eton Park Rink Contract

BIRMINGHAM — A $54,250 contract was awarded Ackerman Refrigeration Co. by the city commission last night. The bid for refrigeration equipment for the Eton Park ice skating rink was recommended by the architect, over two lower bids which did not meet specifications.

After reviewing costs totally $154,546, excluding parking facilities for the rink, law makers slashed $4,000 worth of hockey boards from the figure and will use Detroit Edison Co. lighting for the project, reducing somewhat the $4,500 it would cost the city to install its own system.

Mayor Charles Renfrew said he foresaw an expenditure of $175,000 before the job is finished, in expressing his concern over exceeding the $125,000 bond issue by that much.

Originally, the recreation board proposed a $110,000 bond issue to cover costs and the commission recommended an additional $15,000 to provide parking. Later, the law makers saw merit in providing a more substantial shelter and warming area than the board's proposed $3,500 building.

$85,000 FOR BUILDING

In addition to refrigeration costs, figures submitted by O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenback last night show $85,000 for the building, $10,000 for a concrete slab and $3,696 for plastic pipe, another contract awarded last night to Johnson Plastics.

Remaining expenses cover music, lighting, etc. Serious consideration was given to omitting the slab which can convert the rink into tennis courts for summer time use.

Sleeping Sickness Deaths Reach 10

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Two deaths in Evansville hospitals Monday increased to 10 the recent fatalities believed due to encephalitis sleeping sickness in the tri-state area of Indiana, Kentucky and Illinois.

The outbreak has been worst at Fort Branch, where 10 cases have been diagnosed as encephalitis and five persons have died.

Altogether there have been 22 suspected cases and 10 deaths in the area, including two in Kentucky. Dr. A. L. Marshall Jr., director of communicable disease control for the state board of health, said some of the cases have not been confirmed.

Dr. Marshall said the outbreak apparently has leveled off. It was believed to have been started by mosquitoes which fed on infected animals.

Water—Cause of Sectional Battle

By ROGER D. GREENE

WASHINGTON (AP) — America today is locked in a gigantic seesaw battle over one of nature's most abundant resources—water.

With the huge increase in population and the postwar industrial boom, the resulting scarcity of water in many sections of the country finds farmer pitted against farmer for irrigation water, city against city and state against state for domestic supplies, and industry, biggest consumer of all, struggling to find enough water to survive.

The long-range outlook is far from bright. Experts say that by 1975, an additional 145 billion gallons will be needed daily — equivalent to the flow of about 11 Colorado Rivers.

Even the supply we have today is put to hard usage. The water we drink and use for cooking is often "reclaimed" water — filtered and chemically purified — that has run through sewers.

In Ohio's Mahoning River, along a 25-mile stretch near Youngstown, so many steel mills and other industrial plants use and reuse the river water that at times it has become too hot (as much as 130 degrees) to be employed for cooling purposes.

Every gallon of the Mahoning's average flow of 500 million gallons daily is drawn into use 3 to 15 times.

For the first time, U.S. industry now uses more water than farm irrigation, and shortages in some sections of the industrial East have caused factories to look elsewhere for better supplies.

A TON OF STEEL

It requires 65,000 gallons of water to produce a ton of steel, 320,000 gallons for a ton of aluminum, 600,000 gallons for a ton of synthetic rubber, and 15,000 to make a new automobile. The water is used mostly for cooling.

Ohio is drilling 2,000 wells a month. Baltimore has just completed a new reservoir holding 23 billion gallons of water. Dallas will foot the bill itself for a dam-reservoir costing 20 million dollars.

Texans are talking of importing water from the Mississippi River. And some dreamy-eyed Californians have suggested towing icebergs up from the antarctic to bolster California's dwindling water supplies.

Southern California, the nation's fastest growing region, expects to reach a population of 10 million by 1975, but experts say its present water supply will support only 8,100,000.

EAST VS. WEST

And in Colorado there's a bitter fight over water between east and west. The western slope country around Grand Junction, booming uranium capital, is battling to prevent Denver from tapping the Colorado River basin via a tunnel through the Rockies.

What is the government doing to alleviate the situation? The story of the Federal Reclamation Bureau's multibillion-dollar water projects is too long to be recounted here in detail.

At present the government is spending around three quarters of a billion dollars a year to develop water resources such as flood control, irrigation, navigation and hydroelectric power.

WASTE CRIES

Loud outcries have gone up in the East against funneling so much money for reclamation in the 17 Western states. There have also been bitter complaints against boondoggling "waste" and costly duplication by prestige-hungry rival federal agencies. No less than 25 U.S. agencies have a thumb in the water conservation pie.

But the Federal Reclamation Bureau says once arid Western lands have flourished to such an extent under irrigation that they have paid more than four billion dollars in U.S. income taxes since 1916.

With the magic touch of water, the bureau says, these reclaimed lands now produce crops worth more than 800 million dollars a year — some 25,700,000 tons of prime fruit, vegetables, meat, dairy products, etc.

Aside from the Reclamation Bureau, the Agriculture Department's Soil Conservation Service has helped avert water shortages by providing technical or financial aid to build 425,000 farm ponds in the last 15 years.

Mrs. Gatewood said today she slept in the open or in a trail lean-to. She wore dungarees and a lumberman's jacket and carried a 25-pound pack.

Wanna Make 2 Million? Dream Up a Game

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — America seems to be pretty evenly divided between the people who think they can write a better song than those things on the Hit Parade, and the people who think they can devise a better game than Parchesi ever was.

The amateur song people are slightly more successful than the amateur game people, because they generally get their ideas down on paper.

IT'S LOTS OF WORK

"The game people are apparently not that game," says Henry Hassenfeld, a man who knows. "Putting a game idea in shape to play takes a lot more work, so a lot of wonderful games are still resting comfortable up in people's minds. A pity too . . .

"Because selling a game is an awful easy way to make a million bucks!"

Hassenfeld is asking for trouble when he makes a statement like that. He is a toy and game manufacturer from Pawtucket, R.I., and if he is not besieged with a thousand variations of tiddly-winks by Christmas, I'll forfeit my Kresge's gift certificate.

"Well now, young lady, I hope you're right—I'd like to be besieged," he says. "Do you realize that more than 60 per cent of the parlor games that make big money in America today were originally suggested by folks just sitting at home getting flash ideas?

MOTHERS CREDITED

"Why, some of the best-selling games in the country were dreamed up by distracted mothers trying to keep their kids from killing one another at lunchtime of a rainy day."

For instance, he says, in the Midwest a pair of parents taking a motor trip was trying to keep their youngsters quiet in the back seat. They started a game of Bingo, but the motion of the car kept the wheel from operating properly, and mama was being accused of prejudice and collusion every time a game was concluded.

Finally," says Hassenfeld, "she hit on the idea of substituting the numbers on the Bingo cards for makes and colors of autos, and then called out this data on the cars passing by. The result was 'Spot-a-Car Auto Bingo,' a game which provided the children with not only amusement, but with funds for college."

SOUTH PACIFIC GAME

"Chonca," a new game that is not even out yet, was picked up by a GI just back from duty in the South Pacific. He watched the natives playing this game with seashells in the sand, and described it to the toy maker. So the sand is being replaced by a plastic board, and everybody in Pawtucket is presumably rummaging around for shells, and the GI hopes to come out of the Army a better, richer man.

Of course some of the ideas are unuseable, Hassenfeld admits, and he would prefer that would-be gamesters refrain from sending any cute and novel ideas involving the use of TNT or live animals. Like a cowpuncher in Arizona who devised a miniature race track, with a small stable of white mice to do the racing. "Expensive," explains Hassenfeld, "and unlikely to appeal to women."

And an old lady in California tried to sell a game called "H-Bomb," which produced a minor explosion when a player moved his marker over specific points on the board.

"The game business is booming," he says. "But this is ridiculous!"

Anxious Nation Prays for Ailing President

News that President Eisenhower had suffered a coronary thrombosis gave the Nation an anxious weekend.

The shock of this diagnosis was softened somewhat by the fact that it first was called a mild thrombosis. Similarly the news that the President was able to walk to his car for the trip to Denver's Fitzsimons Army Hospital with assistance tempered public anxiety. So did later news that he was resting comfortably and that there were no complications.

If there were need for proof of the President's popularity, it came immediately after the real nature of his illness was made known. From that moment the switchboard at the White House and those in newspaper, radio and television offices around the country were jammed with inquiries. At the same time messages of sympathy from many parts of the world poured in to the summer White House.

Happily the outlook for the President's recovery is favorable, though he may have to have complete rest for some weeks. That fact and the illness itself undoubtedly will cause Republican leaders to reconsider their plans for next year.

So far they have considered only the President for the 1956 nomination. There is a hopeful note, however, in the opinion of the President's physicians. He is reported as saying it is wholly conceivable that Mr. Eisenhower would be physically able to be a candidate to succeed himself.

Meanwhile, it should hearten the Nation's first citizen to know that every American regardless of political belief or affiliation is praying for his early and complete recovery.

Dems Count on Farm Vote to Win Election in 1956

Democratic leaders are talking a lot about winning next year's election with the farm vote.

That, of course, explains their increasing efforts to exploit farmers' dissatisfaction with current agricultural prices. That these politicians are counting some chicks that never will hatch, is clear from a brief look back at 1952 farm vote statistics.

Usually the Farm Belt is said to include nine Middle Western States. These are Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, the Dakotas, Nebraska and Kansas. In the 1950 census each of these had a rural population well over 35 per cent. Geographically nearby Ohio, Michigan and Illinois had less than a 30 per cent rural population each.

Another thing the Democrats either are forgetting or ignoring is that in 1952 all the Farm Belt states with their 81 electoral votes went to Eisenhower. Even if they had all gone Democratic, Candidate Stevenson still would have had less than half as many electoral votes as the President.

From this it seems clear that to win next year the Democrats will have to do much more than capture all the Farm Belt states. Furthermore, any anti-Republican trend in these states would have to be drastic to turn them away from the GOP next year.

It is significant that six of these nine states gave the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket more than 60 per cent of their votes—Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas and Wisconsin. Indiana and Minnesota gave it more than 55 per cent.

Only in Missouri was the Eisenhower-Nixon margin narrow. In the nine states the GOP had more than 60 per cent of all the votes, 6,081,000 to 4,042,000 for Stevenson-Sparkman.

Therefore, it appears that the Democrats must win much more than the farm vote if they are to recapture the White House next year.

Another Subway Series

When the Yankees won their 95th game of the year from the Boston Red Sox they made certain that New York would see its sixth subway series in seven years.

Brooklyn's brilliant Dodgers had done their share toward insuring that the 1955 classic would open in Yankee Stadium on Wednesday by clinching the National League flag September 8.

For the Yankees that victory over Boston was historic. It won them their 21st American League pennant after a magnificent stretch drive featured by eight straight victories.

We'll leave the matter of forecasting the series' outcome to the experts. But it is fair to mention both that well known old law of averages which might favor the Dodgers and the Yankee's winning ways.

Dodger Manager Walt Alston says his team is ready for the big test. While its record includes seven National League pennants, the Dodgers never captured a World Series.

There are many who think the Yankees will win. Their theory is that the Dodgers have been coasting since they won the flag and won't be "up" psychologically. On the other hand the Yankees had to fight right down to the wire and have been playing championship ball.

Whatever the case, two great teams are going to fight it out and every game will be worth watching.

Hobby That Pays

Steady Production on Small Tract of Land Does the Trick

Buttons: What when a merchant has a shortage of he advertises a bargain sale in the Pontiac Press—and then sweeps up the floor.

A really constructive hobby is that of

of 84 West Chicago Ave. He has a concentrated production of fruits, vegetables and flowers that should win him wide recognition. With the help of his good wife he has turned a plot of ground 95x260 feet in size into a productivity that beats some 160-acre farms. He raises apples, peaches, pears, plums, grapes, apricots, quinces, cherries and other tree fruits, and berries, also all manner of vegetables and flowers. Starting in a meager way 17 years ago, his project has grown into something that keeps him very busy, and happily interested in his spare time, outside of his factory hours.

Wondering what is the natural life of a squirrel is of Walled Lake. She says the same pair have been housed in a hollow tree near her home for over 20 years. She is sure one of them is the same squirrel, as it has but one front paw—which does not materially interfere with its tree climbing.

The architect of this column has vivid recollections of the time he talked to

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower

in their private car as the campaign train toured Michigan on Oct. 27, 1952. Never before or since have I seen a healthier looking pair.

The Dictator's Fate

David Lawrence Says:

The Republican Party Could Destroy Itself by Developing Antagonism Against Nixon

WASHINGTON—The Republican Party, as a consequence of the unavailability of President Eisenhower, could conceivably destroy itself and hand over the victory in 1956 to the Democrats by default. Already there's a fight to prevent the nomination of Vice President Nixon—a fight that can really break up the party.

But that's what the Democrats want and that's why they already are inspiring stories here trying to prevent Nixon from being chosen for the presidential nomination. What is really foreshadowed by this is a "Left Wing" and "Right Wing" war which could split the party beyond hope of repair.

For several months now certain "Left Wingers" have been aiming their fire at Nixon and trying to prevent his renomination for the vice presidency. Many of the opponents are Democrats. Their particular grievance against Nixon is that he refused to smother the anti-Communist issue in the speeches he made during the congressional campaign of 1954.

The underlying objection of the "Left Wing" to join Nixon is that, while a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, he helped to uncover the perjury of Alger Hiss. For this he never has been forgiven by them. The reason is that many of the "Left Wingers" in America have felt a guilt complex over the whole attack on Communism because they are Socialists at heart and they think that, if Communism is stifled in America, so will its twin brother—state socialism—be tabooed.

OPPOSED RED HUNT

They have argued all along and still argue that the crusade against Communists is really an attack on "an individual's beliefs" or "political concepts" and that to delve into what a man does with government documents and to ask to whom he gives copies of secret papers is to raise the issue of "guilt by association."

"The Daily Worker"—the Communist newspaper in New York—has kept up an almost daily campaign against Nixon. It has been paralleled in the "Left Wing" press here and abroad.

Vice President Nixon cannot be accurately classified either as a "Right Winger" or a "Left Winger." He differed with Senator McCarthy last autumn by campaigning in New Jersey to help elect to the senate an archfoe of McCarthy—Clifford Case, the Republican nominee.

Nixon is basically regarded as a "middle of the roader" on many issues, just as President Eisenhower has been. He has won favor with the President in the last three years because of his skill in handling the most delicate questions on Capitol Hill and because of his keen understanding of national and international affairs. His trips abroad have won friends for America.

LEADERS WOULD UNITE

There's no doubt that the President would have declared himself in favor of the selection of Nixon as his successor. What pressures will be brought now to dissuade the President is something that depends on the ambition of rival candidates and the tactics of their friends close to the White House. If the President were incapacitated or resigned and the vice president took over, the party leaders would unite behind Nixon.

If it seemed to them that Eisenhower wanted Nixon picked, even though no public statement to that effect had been made, the majority of the delegates would line up for Nixon.

There is a distinct probability nevertheless that a fight will be engineered outside of Washington against Nixon. This could result in cleavages and factional fights and the kind of split that handed the presidency to the Democrats in 1912, when reckless zealots tried to block the renomination of President William Howard Taft and finally walked out of the regular convention to pick Theodore Roosevelt on a third-party ticket. The combined Republican vote cast at the polls that year exceeded the vote for the victor—Woodrow Wilson.

Nixon, politically at least, represents continuity and a chance for harmony in the Republican party in the campaign. It would be paradoxical to find Eisenhower Republicans of the so-called "Liberal" school and their organs trying to sidetrack the man on whom Dwight Eisenhower has all along heaped unqualified praise.

Woman Credits Calcium for Well-Knitted Fracture

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

I have been reading and profiting by your articles for a long time. If anything new comes out I wait for your comment on it. If you say it is good I'm interested—but if you say it is not good, I feel that you save me a lot of time.

I started taking vitamins 25 years ago, as you suggested, and I never knew what it was to feel so well before—vite, you call it.

Last winter I broke my heel and had my leg in a cast for six weeks. Incidentally I am 63, my hair has been white over thirty years, I have had store teeth about the same length of time and I have worn bifocals for nearly thirty years . . .

Wait a minute! There's nothing tragic about a woman at her peak having white hair—after all, isn't that the type of beauty the peroxide users strive so vainly to imitate?

STORE TEETH AT 35?

But store teeth at 35? The very thought of it appalls me, Ma'am. Not only is the loss of one's teeth at such a tender age deplorable but your casual reference to it gives me great chagrin, for if an inveterate reader of better than average intelligence has not learned the very first lesson in the ways of health — Save Your Teeth, booklet mailed on written request accompanied with 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope—I wonder whether all my yakety-yak on physiology, hygiene, health, nutrition, vite, functional efficiency, good looks and longevity has done any good. Please pardon the interruption, Ma'am. I've regained my composure now. You were saying . . .

Now people say to me "Didn't you break a leg or something last winter? It certainly doesn't look like it now!"

Pretty gams, eh? Well, that's interesting, but those artificial teeth still hurt my pride.

CREDITS CALCIUM, D

For perfect healing of the fracture I give credit to calcium and "D" which you suggested as part of my daily regimen (Ray-D) (details free in pamphlet Young Folks and Old Folks, for which send Dr. Wm. Brady stamped self-addressed envelope).

After a lapse of 14 years I had another child (8½ pounds, the heaviest of four). I had had two major operations in the meantime, too.

In spite of all those indications of age, I got along the best of any time during pregnancy—no swelling feet, very little heartburn, the minimum of discomfort, and the quickest recovery of vigor of any time. I believe it was because I was in better physical condition due to better nutrition. And so I say again God bless you, Dr. Brady.

Very sincerely,
Mrs. —

Voice of the People

Pontiac Might Turn Out More Pro's With Rink

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature

I am writing this in regards to the letter written by Mrs. Warren Dubay. I agree with her wholeheartedly in regards to the idea of an artificial ice rink in the city. I think that would be just wonderful.

We have many boys and girls in this town interested in ice skating. In fact, we have a skating club which puts on a show every winter. They only have two or three weeks to practice for this because of the limited cold spell.

If their show is good enough to be asked up to Grayling every year, just think what it would be like if they could practice druing the whole winter.

If one of our girls (June Sapelak) is good enough for the Hollywood Ice Revue in the little bit of ice skating we do get, I think many more could accomplish this if we had an artificial ice rink.

I know there are many people in this city who would be more than glad to back me up. I hope something can be done about this.

The ladies are no longer content to rule the world by rocking a cradle. Their hands are reaching for the cash register.

The influx of the petticoat crowd into industry is truly startling. Nearly one out of three of America's 65 million employed now powder their noses on the job.

Women first began punching time clocks in large numbers during the first world war. The trend mushroomed during the second world war, and then, after a brief abatement, picked up again.

The most significant development: More married as well as single women now seek steady work outside the home.

WOMEN WON'T LOAF

Why? Some hold that the invention of labor saving devices has made housekeeping so simple wives are no longer content to spend their extra leisure loafing at home.

A more likely answer: Papa's paycheck no longer will pay the installments on all the bright new gadgets that modern couples now feel are necessary for a rich full life—a new car, television set, automatic dishwasher, and the like. The only practical solution—mama has to go out and get on a payroll too.

Each year women go into new fields once ruled only by men. There are lady steeplejacks, lady stockbrokers, lady riveters, lady building contractors, lady channel swimmers, lady wrestlers. So far there have been no major league lady baseball players — although this possibility is mulled over from time to time—or a really promising lady heavyweight fighter. Women still prefer to do their fighting at home.

The statistics show that women prefer indoor jobs to those that offer them the benefits of fresh air and exercise. There were 5,122,000 women clerks and office workers compared to 2,772,000 men, but women common laborers were outnumbered by men 107,000 to 3,319,000. This does seem a pity, considering science's discovery that women are actually stronger than me.

INTO SELLING

In the art of selling—where the big money lies—the girls are steadily creeping up on the weaker sex. The figures: 1,475,000 women salespeople, 2,482,000 men.

But what about a young man just getting started in life? Is there no vocation where he can feel safe from the increasing feminine competition?

Yes. In the area of private household employment. There are still 1,770,000 women in this line of work compared to only 58,000 men. But women are abandoning it by the tens of thousands every year. They'd rather work in an office or factory than clean other people's houses.

The best bet for an ambitious young man who wants a quiet indoor existence is to—get a job as a maid. In addition to good pay, good meals and short hours it has another advantage: It is a wonderful training for a lad who later wants to get married and have a home.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Persons Under Hypnosis Can Become Children Again in Voice and Personality

When George and Philip hypnotized various people, notice how readily the patients would regress to an earlier age and spontaneously adopt the vocal level, the handwriting and even the jealousies of those earlier years. Dentists and physicians are now using more hypnosis because of the modern stress on psychosomatic ailments.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-350: George and Philip, aged 25 and 24, are the two oldest of our five children.

They were home from military service for a few days recently and began to talk about hypnosis, for both of them are greatly interested in abnormal psychology and had hypnotized classmates at college and elsewhere.

"Dad, I was at a party out in Hollywood," George began, "where one of the movie picture executives scoffed at hypnosis.

"Some of the girls had seen me perform hypnosis, and they insisted that I show this man his error.

"So I hypnotized some of the folks at the party. One girl proved to be an excellent subject. When she was under hypnosis, I told her she was 12 years old and asked her to sign her name, which she did.

WRITING MATCHES

"Next, I told her she was eight, and again had her sign her name. Her hand writing was more child like. Her mother had saved some of her old grammar school papers and her handwriting matched perfectly her 8-year-old script.

"Then I told her she was seven years old, and had her write her name. Without any suggestion from me, she now printed her name, for at the age of seven she hadn't yet known how to write in script.

"Then I told her she was in bed, aged five, and thirsty, so she should ask her mother for a drink of water, and she called out, 'Mommie, I wanna drink.'

"Next, I told her she was three years old and in bed for the night but she needed a drink, so I told her to ask her mother for one, and now, in a high childish voice, she cried 'Dink, dink, dink'."

VEILED JEALOUSY

Philip then volunteered an interesting case about an attractive coed at the University of Michigan.

"Dad, I hypnotized a girl at a party one night in Detroit," he began, "and told her she was in the third grade at school. So I asked her to tell me the names of the kids who sat around her and without the slightest hesitation she named all of them, though when I woke her up, she couldn't do this.

"Then I asked her who was her best girl friend in third grade, and she immediately offered the name Sally. I asked her if she had a boy friend, and she named Johnny.

"But when I awakened her from hypnosis and asked her if she had had any boy friends in grammar school, she denied that fact. Even when I mentioned the name of Johnny, she quickly replied:

"Oh, he wasn't my boy friend. He was Sally's boy friend."

"But her sister was in the crowd and laughingly told us that Sally and Johnny were constantly invited to their home during the third grade, so maybe this girl had never admitted to herself that she used Sally as a camouflage to get Johnny over for a visit

"Dad, can't hypnosis be used to uncover many other hidden feelings and jealousies?"

HYPNOSIS VALUABLE

Yes, hypnosis is a valuable medical and psychological technique, although not as widely employed as it may be in another decade.

Many cases of amnesia have quickly been corrected by finding the true facts from the victim while he was under hypnosis.

Dentists and physicians are employing a light stage of hypnosis to relieve undue apprehension and cause greater relaxation. Hypnosis is thus a great aid in child birth cases.

And with the zooming interest in psychosomatic medicine, hypnosis is coming back into prominence as a scientific technique.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Jersey Police Solve Money 'Debris' Case

FAIR LAWN, N. J. (AP)—Police took up Joseph Mondelli's "Let them figure it out" challenge and came up with an explanation for the $297 in bills he found cluttering the inside and outside of his car as he was about to leave a picnic.

Some youths, on an alcoholic lark, had ransacked autos near the picnic area, taken $335 from orchestra leader Chick Mahon's car, and for a joke stuck most of the money all over Mondelli's car.

OUR FRIENDS THE TREES—2

How They Grow

You know of course that such fruit as apples, peaches and pears grow on trees. Inside each fruit is a seed or seeds from which new trees can grow.

That is why, when you toss a peach pit on the ground, you may see a little peach tree sprouting there next year. It was seed taken from apples that Johnny Appleseed, of whom you may have read, planted by the roadside so that people who lived after him might have apples to eat.

Other trees bear different kinds of fruit or seeds. Oaks have acorns. Squirrels love them and often bury them for later use and forget them. Oak trees sprout from the acorns. Maple seeds whirl to the ground on tiny wings. Carried by the wind, they fly quite a distance to start new trees.

Acorn tops make pretty little cups for a small sister's doll house tea table. Two small, well-formed acorns carefully cleaned and slightly waxed to make them shine, tied with a couple of red and brown oak leaves, make a very good fall coat ornament that mother would be proud to have. Half shells of the English walnut will sail in the tub like little boats. You can make a tiny mast and sail stand up in one if you press the butt of the mast into a lump of modeling clay.

Driving Teacher Hits Wrong Pedal; Goofs

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—"What happened?" police, surveying the damage, wanted to know.

"I was teaching my son Georgie to drive," explained Dale W. Oliver.

Oliver, 47, told officers he tried to step on the brake when 10-year-old Georgie took a corner too wide. Instead he hit the accelerator. The car shot forward, caromed off a parked car and crumpled the living room wall of a house belonging to Mrs. Lillie Schmitt.

Mrs. Schmitt was in the back yard but a visitor was shaken up when knocked from her rocking chair. Georgie and his dad received minor cuts and bruises, police said.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Sen. Smathers (D-Fla) says President Eisenhower's heart attack has removed him as a candidate for re-election in 1956. He also forecast that the President would be forced to give up his office before his term was up in order to conserve his health.

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — The Mecklenburg County Commission has approved a plan to allow its dog catchers to carry pistols. They don't plan to shoot dogs. Some touchy dog owners have been pulling their own shooting irons lately.

Rocket Sled Clocked at 1,280 M. P. H.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A new land speed record of better than 21 miles a minute has been set by an unmanned rocket sled at the naval ordnance test station at China Lake, Calif.

W. D. Drinkwater, Navy scientist, said the steel-shod runners of the sled turned red-hot as it hit 1,280 miles an hour over a 4.1 mile course. Ten rocket motors hurtled the heavy sled to peak velocity in two seconds.

The highest speed previously announced for an unmanned sled was 1,100 m.p.h. over a 10,000-foot track at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

Let's take a walk around the

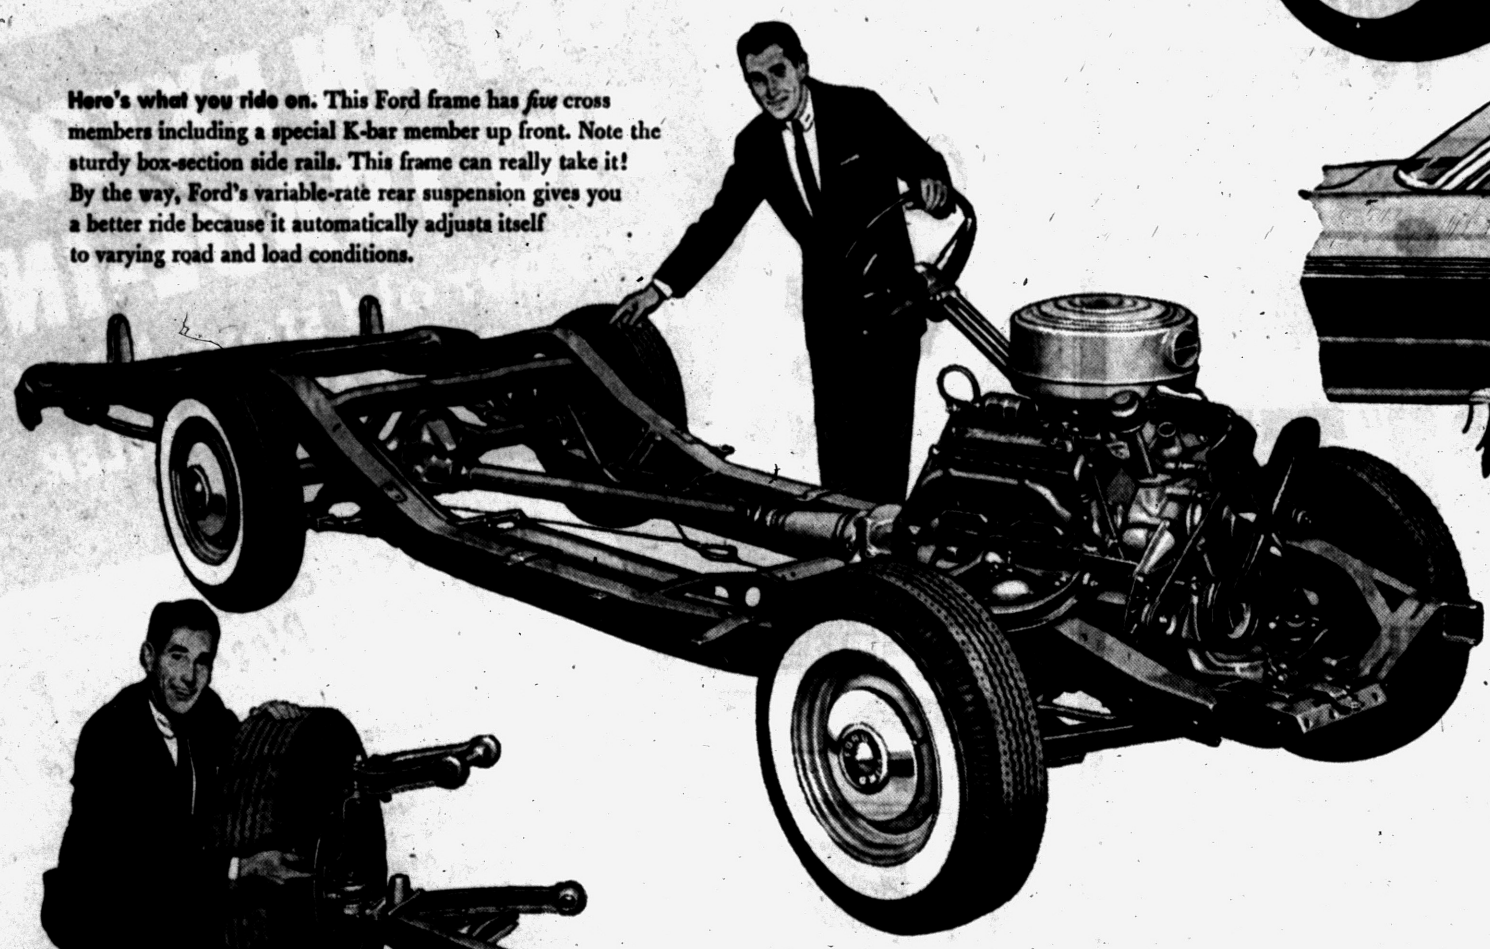

It's the fine car at half the fine car price!

We would like to show you some of the things that make the new 1956 Ford one of America's finest cars—despite the fact it is one of America's lowest-priced cars. Let's start with these long, low lines. Looks like it hates to stand still, doesn't it?

Here's what you ride on. This Ford frame has five cross members including a special K-bar member up front. Note the sturdy box-section side rails. This frame can really take it! By the way, Ford's variable-rate rear suspension gives you a better ride because it automatically adjusts itself to varying road and load conditions.

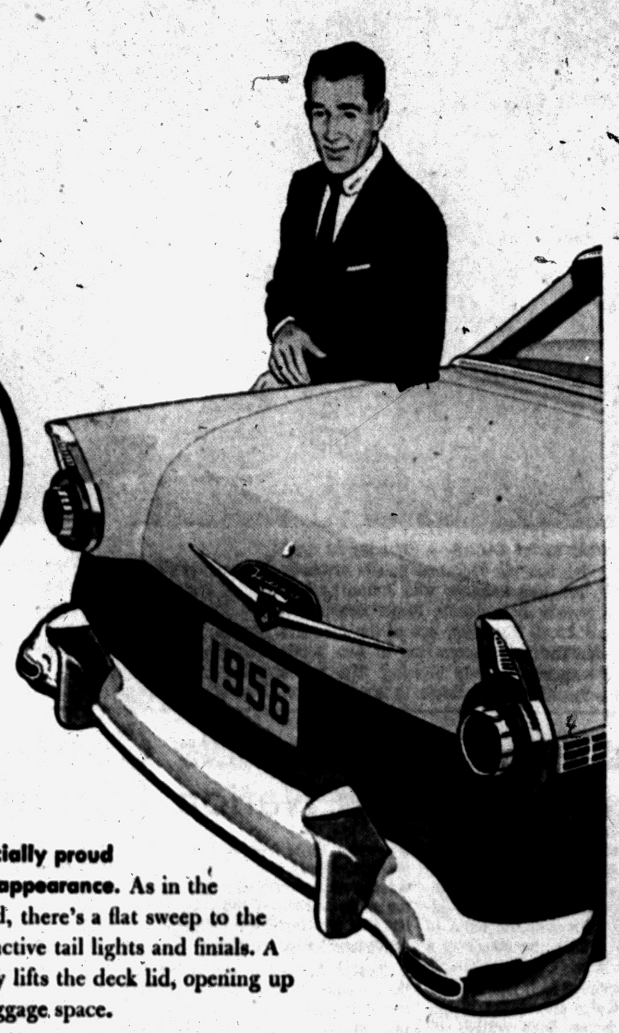

Here's Ford's new Lifeguard door latch. It is a member of Ford's exclusive new Lifeguard family. A double-grip locking engagement reduces the chance of doors springing open under unusual strain of impact. Safety statistics show that chances of serious injury in accidents are less when passengers remain within the car.

This is our Angle-Poised Ball-Joint Front Suspension. Angle-mounting of suspension arms means a better ride—by far—because the wheels can cushion out the head-on shock as well as the up-down shock of bumps. And only Ford in its field has it! The tires are tubeless, by the way.

Note the deep-center design of this new Lifeguard steering wheel. The rim of the wheel is more than three inches above the top of the steering post to help cushion the driver from the post in case of accident. And while we're talking safety, it may interest you to know that Ford's King-Size brakes are double sealed to give reliable stops in all weather.

new '56 FORD

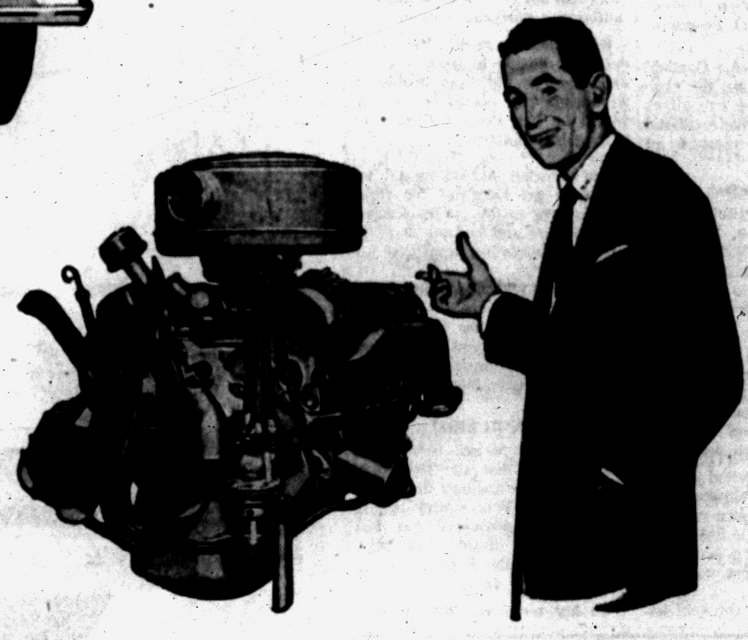

Here's the inspiration for the styling of the '56 Ford—the famous Ford Thunderbird—America's most talked-about car.

You can see the similarity from any angle. Look at those broad flat hoods, those visored headlights, for example.

We're especially proud of the rear appearance. As in the Thunderbird, there's a flat sweep to the deck—distinctive tail lights and finials. A turn of a key lifts the deck lid, opening up plenty of luggage space.

Here's the new 202-h.p. Thunderbird Y-8 . . . and we assure you, this new engine will give you a new lease on driving enjoyment. At any driving speed, a toe-touch gets an instant answer. You'll pass with new confidence. Steep hills will melt. This engine, and all the fun that goes with it, can be yours in Fordomatic Fairlane and Station Wagon models. You can have the "GO"-packed 176-h.p. Y-8 in Fordomatic Mainline and Customline models. And Ford's new 137-h.p. Six is available in all 18 Ford models for '56.

Well, that covers the important points. But there's a lot more. So we'd like to invite you to come in and see the new '56 Ford for yourself. Then you'll see the colorful new exteriors and interiors, the quality workmanship that is evident everywhere. Then you'll learn the full story on the things we have just described. When you do, you'll know that Ford is in every way the fine car at half the fine car price!

A little background on Ford's Lifeguard Design: More than two years ago, Ford began a research program to determine the causes of accident injuries so that a safer car could be built. In cooperation with universities, medical associations, and safety experts it was discovered that most serious injuries were caused by the driver being thrown against the steering post—occupants being thrown forward against hard interior surfaces, or thrown outside the car. To give you added protection against these hazards, Ford developed its family of Lifeguard safety features. These include the steering wheel and door latches described before. Also included are optional cushioning for instrument panel and sun visors to help lessen injuries from impact, plus new optional seat belts to help keep occupants in their seats for added safety.

AT TEMPLE BETH JACOB — Standing in front of the Ark which has six engraved panels symbolic of the Jewish religious holidays was Julian Levine, president of Temple Beth Jacob, Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein and Jacob Kovinsky, one of the founders of the Temple. The panel engraving of two hands represents the ancient priestly blessing. The scales portray the weighing of one's deeds in life. The Shofar or ram's horn on the other panel depicts the calling of the worshipper to fight his faults. Mr. Levine and Mr. Kovinsky were holding the Torahs. These Scrolls, written on parchment by hand, contain the first five books of Moses. These were opened on Kol Nidre Eve, Sunday, which was the beginning of the Day of Atonement.

Ike's Attack Resurrects Controversy Over Who Runs Nation During Illness

WASHINGTON (INS)—The heart attack suffered by President Eisenhower recalls an age-old controversy over whether the vice president should take over the helm of government during the illness of a Chief Executive.

The question—which has become a national issue only twice in history—has never been settled although virtually every President has been ill at various times while in the White House.

Library of Congress historians reported today that they knew of no precedent by which a President has formally delegated his duties to another government official.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty has announced that the Justice Department is looking into the delegation of power problem as a result of Eisenhower's illness.

Presidents James A. Garfield and Woodrow Wilson are the classic examples of chief executives unable to discharge their official duties because of reasons of health.

AUTHORITY NOT USED

And while the Constitution provides that the vice president should take over the White House when the Chief Executive is disabled, this authority to remove a man from the high office has never been exercised.

A reading of books on the subject available at the Library of Congress indicates that this is one of the most controversial, yet obscure, aspects of the presidential succession method.

Garfield, who was felled July 2, 1881, by two bullets from an assassin's gun in a Washington railroad station, lived 80 days before he died of blood poisoning and other complications, including coronary thrombosis.

During the 80 days, Garfield underwent three operations and performed only one official act involving an extradition paper while the main burden of the office was handled by Garfield's cabinet.

CONTROVERSY ARISES

Chester A. Arthur succeeded to the presidency when Garfield died. But during Garfield's illness a nationwide controversy developed in which some newspapers editorially objected to the cabinet's control of the presidential office. At one point, there were reports that a railroad planned to file suit in the federal courts for a writ of mandamus to force Arthur to take over the presidency.

Wilson's illness was longer lasting and caused a greater national furor. During his second term, on Oct. 2, 1919, the President, who had not been in good health, suffered a parlyzing stroke.

For at least a month, the President was unable to leave his bed and when he did, was unable to sit upright and his associates reported he had great difficulty in writing his signature.

One historian said Wilson did not not meet his Congress for eight months, was unable to see foreign ambassadors and had problems in handling legislation approved by Congress.

Rumors of Wilson's death flooded the country and there were charges that the White House was keeping news of the President's illness secret, not only from the nation but also from high government officials.

MRS. WILSON RULED?

During this period, there were also charges that the first lady had become the nation's first woman President. This matter is still subject to controversy but historians deny flatly that Mrs. Wilson forged the President's signature on state papers.

In her memoirs, Mrs. Wilson wrote that the President's physician advised against Wilson relinquishing his post in favor of Vice President Thomas R. Marshall.

She stated: "So began my stewardship. I studied every paper sent from the different secretaries or senators, and tried to digest and present in tabloid form the things that, despite my vigilance, had to go to the President."

According to the former first lady, she personally never made a single decision regarding public affairs.

Ruth C. Silva, author of "Presidential Succession," says that Mrs. Wilson and an attending physician determined "many questions of public policies, however, by deciding whom the President might and might not see," the length of the interviews and what papers he would study.

NO MOVE TO REMOVE

Historians agree that the Wilson cabinet joined with Mrs. Wilson and the White House staff to keep the government operating with some duties informally delegated to administration officials.

But never once was action taken by Congress or through the courts to remove Wilson as President. Resolutions were introduced in the house to determine the President's ability to carry out his duties and a special senate foreign relations subcommittee called on Wilson at one point to investigate his illness.

The subcommittee was reported impressed by the President's mental alertness during the interview in Wilson's bedroom. But despite debates in Congress on Wilson's health, neither house took any action to force the President to vacate his office.

This, historians say, stems mainly from the lack of any precedent which could be applied in removing a Chief Executive on health grounds. One of the big controversies involved in the matter is the problem of defining when the President is unable to perform his duties and who should make that determination.

SIX CASES

Also involved is whether a President who is removed for health reasons can be reinstated in the office when he regains his health.

Besides Arthur, there have been six other cases in history where vice presidents have been elevated to the presidency on the death of the Chief Executive.

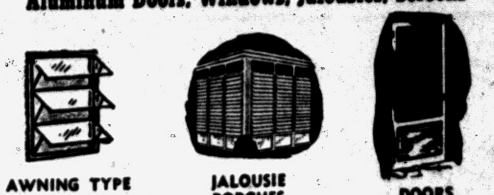

They were John Tyler, who succeeded William Henry Harrison, a pneumonia victim who succumbed April 4, 1841; Millard Fillmore, who succeeded Zachary Taylor on his death July 9, 1850 from an intestinal infection; and Harry S. Truman, who succeeded Franklin D. Roosevelt in April, 1945, when Roosevelt died suddenly of a cerebral hemorrhage; Calvin Coolidge, who succeeded Warren Harding on April 2, 1923, when Harding died of a heart condition involving a ruptured blood vessel and an enlarged heart, combined arteriosclerosis and a cerebral hemorrhage.

Two other vice presidents became Chief Executives on the assassination of the President. They were Andrew Johnson who succeeded Abraham Lincoln on April 15, 1865, and Theodore Roosevelt, who succeeded William McKinley on Sept. 14, 1901.

Golf Helped Ike Delay the Attack

Heart Specialist Claims President May Resume Links Playing

DENVER (AP)—"It is quite possible."

That remark by a foremost heart specialist who examined President Eisenhower would surely have put a wide grin on the chief executive's face if he had been there to hear it.

For Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston was saying "it is quite possible" Eisenhower will be able to play golf again—provided of course, he has a normal recovery from the heart attack which hospitalized him Saturday.

The doctor also said that all the golf the President has played possibly "helped to delay" the attack.

To Eisenhower, golf is one of life's joy. He loves it. And his friends have been saying they can't think of anything he would miss more.

From the time the President came to Colorado Aug. 14 for a work-and-play vacation until he was stricken four days ago he played hundreds of holes of golf at Denver's Cherry Hills Country Club.

Dr. White said at a news conference:

"Now I know there is a likelihood of some people thinking the golf he played the day before his illness might have been instrumental in the production of this attack, or the high altitude at which he had been lately.

"I believe they have no influence in having precipitated this attack.

"We just don't know, but we don't think exercise itself is responsible.

"In fact, I am of the impression that it really helped to delay the onset of this (rather) than to cause it."

Turnpike Killer Dies in Electric Chair

BELLEFONTE, Pa. (AP) —John Wesley Wable, outwardly calm, died last night in the electric chair for the "phantom slaying" of a sleeping truck driver on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Brought to Rockview State Penitentiary here yesterday after two desperate last-minute appeals failed, Wable made no last statement as he walked into the death chamber and sat quietly while watching guards strap him to the electric chair.

Wable, 25, of Ohiopyle, a small town in western Pennsylvania, was convicted of the shooting of Harry F. Pitts, 39, of Bowling Green, Va., on July 25, 1953, as Pitts slept in the cab of his parked truck.

Wable was charged, but not tried, with the slaying of another driver and the wounding of a third on an approach road, all within a few days and under almost identical circumstances. Wable, who maintained he was innocent, was arrested in Alburquerque.

Benson Testifies in Probe Today

Neely and Young Clash in Ladejinsky Hearing on Security Methods

WASHINGTON (AP) —A Senate Civil Service subcommittee called Secretary of Agriculture Benson today to tell his side of the Wolf Ladejinsky story.

Harold E. Stassen, who gave Ladejinsky a job with the now defunct Foreign Operations Administration after Benson had denied him security clearance, told the Senators yesterday that he did not consider Ladejinsky a security risk.

Most of the fireworks at the opening of the three-day hearing yesterday involved a clash between Sen. Neely (D-WVa) and Philip Young, chairman of the Civil Service Commission.

Young reported that from May 28, 1953, to last June 30, a total of 3,614 federal workers had been fired for security reasons.

He said 5,696 others had resigned where their files "were known to contain unfavorable information under the security criteria."

There were 2,355 separations from federal service among persons whose files Young said included "information indicating, in varying degrees, subversive activities, subversive associations, or membership in subversive organizations."

Neely said there were Republicans, "including the President," who were using these numbers "to smear the Democratic party."

Young shot up in his chair. "I resent your remark about the President," he snapped. "I think it's in bad taste."

Much-Jailed Grunewald Gets Excess Taxes Back

WASHINGTON (INS) — Henry (The Dutchman) Grunewald's bouts with Uncle Sam are beginning to turn in his favor.

The Washington "influence" man has been jailed for contempt of congress; convicted for conspiring to fix a tax case (now under appeal); indicted for perjury, and arrested on a charge of failing to pay $69,207 in income taxes for 1949, 1950 and 1951.

But today Grunewald is the proud possessor of a government check for $2,148. Seems he paid too much in income taxes this spring.

Beulah the Bloodhound Ends Her Police Career

LIVE OAK, Fla. (AP)—Beulah, an 8-year-old bloodhound famed for tracking down 64 fugitives, died yesterday of a heart attack.

Sheriff Hugh Lewis, her owner, said, "It's like losing a member of the family."

Lewis said most fugitives thought they had a good chance until they learned Beulah was on their trail. She wouldn't fall for any of their tricks.

Jet's Bullets Bounce Off Target, Hit Plane

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A high-flying target, the Air Force says, "shot down" a plane in an aviation freak yesterday.

The F86 Sabre Jet came roaring in on the 20-foot, nylon streamer at 30,000 feet. The pilot, Lt. Col. Walter E. Williams Jr., placed the target in the sights and squeezed off a burst.

One of the .50-caliber slugs ricocheted off the metal tow line that fixed the target to the towing T33 trainer. It caught the Sabre Jet in the nose. Williams force-landed at nearby Nellis Air Force Base.

Arresting Officer Defines a Drunk; Woman Acquitted

BOSTON (AP)—The fine line between drunkenness and intoxication was drawn yesterday in Municipal Court.

The subject came up during Police Sgt. Daniel Perry's testimony against a woman he had arrested.

Judge Daniel J. Gillen, seeking Perry's opinion, asked if he thought the woman was drunk.

Perry said he thought the woman was intoxicated, pointing out that in his opinion there is a difference.

The sergeant said: "Intoxication means only that a person is not acting normally."

Judge Gillen agreed and acquitted the woman of drunkenness.

Negro Leader Faces Segregation Charges

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP)—The Negro superintendent of schools at Red Bird, an all-Negro community in neighboring Wagoner County, is accused of violating the U.S. Supreme Court ruling on desegregation.

A complaint was filed against Elmer Jenkins by U. Simpson Tate of Dallas, regional attorney for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Jenkins is accused of refusing to allow the transfer of 14 Negro students from his district to nearby white schools.

Chile Provinces Placed Under Martial Control

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Five Chilean provinces today were under a state of siege—modified martial law. President Carlos Ibanez's government said it needed the added authority to deal more effectively with "subversive activities and movements aiming at overthrowing the constitutional regime."

The Cabinet decided on the move after efforts failed to end a six-day strike in the Chuquicamata copper mine in Antofagasta province, a subsidiary of the U.S. Anaconda company.

Invitations Should Ask for Replies

Otherwise, Guests Are Not Obligated to Send Answers

By EMILY POST

"Recently I gave a tea at my house to introduce my new daughter-in-law to my friends. The invitations were informal personal notes. Because to my mind a request for a reply is almost as insulting as asking people to behave correctly, I purposely omitted any such request and later had reason to regret it.

"While a great many of the guests did reply, there were quite a few who did not. I heard later that those who sent no reply did not think it was necessary because I did not ask for one and others felt that a tea invitation required no reply.

"Am I wrong in thinking that any invitation deserves the courtesy of a reply whether one is asked for or not? Just to clear up this point in my own mind, will you be good enough to give me your opinion on this matter?

Answer: It is always correct for a hostess to ask for replies if she wishes them. Otherwise, those invited are not obliged to answer.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have a pair of hand-cut crystal candelabra which I keep on my dining table at all times as a decoration. They are lighted only at dinnertime.

"My daughter tells me that it is improper to leave them on the table when not in use and that they should be removed when dinner is over along with the other table appointments. Will you please tell me if she is right about this?"

Answer: Your daughter is right. They should be removed from the table when their light is not to be used.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My boy friend will soon have a birthday and I would like to give him a monogrammed belt for a present. Would this be in good taste?"

Answer: If you know that is what he would like, it would be very nice.

Gelatin, Fruit and Cream Are Layered

Unusual Dessert — Cracked Glass — Is Multi-Colored

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Want a recipe that's "out of this world"? Mrs. Anthony Zielony of Lower Straits Lake highly recommends this one. It has the odd name of "Cracked Glass."

Mrs. Zielony leads an active life. During the winter months she has a part-time job, in addition to caring for her family. The Zielonys have two school-age daughters.

She works in Girl Scouting, the PTA and the Katherine Booth circle of her church. With her husband she participates in two square dance clubs.

CRACKED GLASS

1 package each of lemon, lime, orange and raspberry gelatin
1 can (No. 2½) fruit cocktail, drained
1 pint whipping cream
1 cup crushed nuts
1 bottle maraschino cherries
1 large clear glass bowl

Make up each package of gelatin separately. When firm, spoon alternate layers of each color into the bottom of the bowl. Cover with half the drained fruit cocktail. Whip the cream and make a layer over the fruit with half of it. Make another three layers of gelatin, fruit and whipped cream. Top with nuts and cherries. Serves 12-16.

Plain cake or tiny sandwiches are good to serve with this dish for afternoon or evening refreshments.

Fears 'Lady's Man' Will Steal Girl

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I've fallen deeply in love with a girl who lives on our block. But complications have set in. A fellow who thinks he's quite a lady's man has started to make a play for my girl!

"I could, I guess, make things simple by using my fists on him. But an added complication is that the fellow is my best friend. What do you suggest that I do?"

Answer: Fisticuffs wouldn't unscramble this for you. But a little strategy might, plus a bit of self-confidence and initiative.

First of all, remember that though your best friend may think of himself as a successful lady's man, he may not have any appeal to the girl in your block. She just may not be impressed.

That ought to perk up your own efforts. Which, if your boy friend doesn't also happen to live in your block, can be on your own and plenty frequent.

If your boy friend only sees your girl when he comes around to see you, adopt a new schedule for yourself. When he's around avoid the girl. Do a dozen other things to entertain the two of you.

When he's not around, make your play for your girl. Go to see her, take her places, work around her house or yours doing something constructive together.

Clinch your own deal with her so that she realizes she's your girl. Then when she sees your boy friend, he'll be an amusing and entertaining addition to a smooth-running duet.

"Dear Miss Woodward: The gang I go around with makes fun of my boy friend. They have nicknames for him, and repeat what he says in fun.

"I've grown to like him very much, but I'm afraid to let them know because at one time I made fun of him, too. If they find out I've been dating him they'll make fun of me, too.

"Now my boy friend wants to double-date with my best friend and her steady. But if I tell them that, I'll be the laughing stock of the rink. Should I continue to go with him and ignore all the teasing?"

Answer: Some miracle made you suddenly see this boy's charms. And another miracle has kept your dates with him a deep, dark secret. You imagine that if the truth were told you'd share the ridicule that has previously been heaped on him. A third miracle might keep that from happening.

Begin with your best girl friend. Find out what she really thinks of him. Then tell her what you know about him. Persuade her to have one double-date with you to see how it works out.

The rest of the crowd needn't find out about it. If it's a success you can date double without caring what anyone else says.

If you three take him seriously, maybe the rest of the crowd will. But it won't matter if they don't.

Sewing Business Requires 'Angle'

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Thousands of women, it seems to me, love to sew and wish they could make some money at it.

This is particularly true of the older women whose children are now grown and whose early training automatically included "sewing a fine seam."

"I sew beautifully," they will write, "and have done so ever since I was a little girl. But how can I get sewing to do at home? It seems that, nowadays, everybody buys ready-made clothes."

It is true enough. The days of the home seamstress are gone and the wise woman faces the fact.

Nowadays, in order to make money from sewing, you have to figure some "angle," some new approach.

A lot will depend on your own community, but here are some ways in which women I know are making money from their sewing skill:

HELP CAREER GIRLS

Specialize in alterations for business girls.

They seldom have the time or the skill, to take up hems, let out waists, refurbish last year's dress, or make a neckline more becoming.

By making this your specialty, your business will grow by word of mouth. You can also advertise it in your local paper as your specialty and tell business clubs about it.

Start a mending service, at reasonable rates, for busy mothers and bachelors.

Sewing on buttons, darning socks, turning shirt collars, making pillow cases out of old ripped sheets. These skills usually find a ready market.

GOOD BUSINESS

One clever woman I know has a good business doing just this. Most brides, she found, will pay a little extra for a really beautiful custom-made gown and many times they have family lace they want used.

And the dresses for the bride's mother which are readily available in most shops—unless you can pay a fortune—are apt to be dumpy, overly fussy monstrosities.

Make smart smocks for mothers-to-be. These, if inexpensive and attractive, find a ready market.

Specialize in attractive linen table mats, handmade and with interesting designs.

This list is offered just to get you thinking; because if you put your mind to it, you ought to be able to add a dash of imagination to your skill with the needle and come up with a salable idea!

Mrs. Edwin Lally assumed her duties as new president of the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council at a Board of Directors meeting in the activities room of the Scout office Tuesday.

Mrs. Jay Bendall and Mrs. Lally will represent the council at the National Conference of Girl Scouts in San Francisco in November.

A council meeting, Oct. 18, at 10 a.m. at the Grace Lutheran Church on South Genesee avenue, will replace the October Board meeting.

Pre-Adolescent Problems Told at Club Meeting

The topic, "Preadolescent Problems" was chosen by Mr. Paul Sullivan, consulting psychologist of Pontiac Public Schools, when he spoke to 40 members of the Sylvan Shores Women's Club Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Byron L. Cole of Sylvan Shores drive was hostess to the group. Mrs. Walton Adams, Mrs. Donald Bradford, Mrs. G. H. Dorris, Mrs. Russell Grover and Mrs. Louis B. Livingston were welcomed into the club by Mrs. Edward F. Collins, president.

During the evening members worked on their project for the American Cancer Society.

Refreshments were served by cohostesses Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Clarence A. Failing, Mrs. George Newton and Mrs. Lyndon S. Salathiel. Hostess prize gift was won by Mrs. Duane Lemaux.

Sewing Club Fetes Mrs. Sol Hoover

The Sew and Chatter Club observed Mrs. Hoover's 35th wedding anniversary when the group met with Mrs. Theodore Carlson.

Mrs. Glen Dolan assisted with serving of refreshments and the group sewed on its project for the American Cancer Society. A 'mystery ride' for members of the club and their husbands was discussed before adjournment.

Mrs. Hoover has invited the group to her home on South Marshall street for the next meeting.

Willis Teachers Meet for Dinner

Bride-elect Barbara Cullen and Vida Walker, principal of Whittier School, were guests of Willis School teachers at dinner on Monday evening.

Mrs. Rudolph Kempf opened her home on South Pemberton road for the affair. Both Miss Cullen and Mrs. Walker were former teachers at Willis School as was another guest of the evening, Mrs. Robert Foust.

Dance Scheduled by Sorority Council

One of the projects planned by the Pontiac City Council of Beta Sigma Phi will be a square dance. The members discussed plans for this project when they met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. George Pudduck on Barnes road.

Mrs. Ralph Ellsworth assisted the hostess for the meeting at which 15 members were present.

Admits Plotting to Kill Husband

Police Says Spouse's Friend Beat Jerseyan; Cite Brother in Plan

WEST NEW YORK, N.J. (UP) — The petite brunette wife of well-to-do embroidery manufacturer Michael Mortel today admitted her part in what was called an "abortive murder plot" against her husband, police said.

Mrs. Mortel, 38, was charged with atrocious assault and battery and assault with intent to kill and rob along with her brother Albert DeVarti, 35, and Alexander Rafalko, a 37-year-old machinist.

The manufacturer, 43, attacked in the Mortel apartment here Sunday while his wife and daughter were at church, is in St. Mary's Hospital at Hoboken, where 39 stitches were taken to close cuts on his head.

Authorities said Rafalko, of Union City, inflicted the beating with a lead bar after DeVarti drove him to the Mortel apartment. In addition, police said DeVarti, of Hoboken, had filled a bathtub with water and that the assailants planned to dump Mortel in it.

Mortel said he was beaten into unconsciousness, but recovered in time to find himself being dragged toward the bathroom. He managed to grab a vase and hurled it through a window, apparently scaring off his attacker.

During intensive questioning last night and early today, Mrs. Mortel said she helped plot the attack because her husband devoted most of his time to the business and was neglecting their married life, police reported.

Authorities said Mortel's business and property were valued at more than $100,000, and that he recently made out a new will in which his wife was chief beneficiary.

The wife, police said, promised money to her brother and Rafalko.

Mackinac Bridge Workers Fear Falling Rivets Most

ST. IGNACE (UP) — Workers clambering on the towers of the giant Mackinac Straits bridge don't fear a fall.

They're used to scaling heights on towering skyscrapers. And they view the 200-foot deep water below as a softer spot to land than the pavement of a city street.

But they are afraid of and take extra safety measures against one big danger—falling objects.

A hurtling rivet can go through a man's steel helmet like a pencil poking paper. And on the steel webbing of the bridge girders, there's no place for a man to step back out of the way.

Because of this, special safety devices have been put into use on the bridge project, says Walter Clasen, safety engineer for the American Bridge Division of U. S. Steel Corp., superstructure contractors.

SPECIAL SCAFFOLD

A special scaffold, built of sturdy timbers, moves up and down the tower sides on a cable suspended from a crane. Bridge workers ride it when they go up to bolt a new section of steel on the tower.

The scaffold protects them from red hot bolts tossed by riveters, who work in wire cages to shield themselves from above and to keep their rivets from dropping on workers below.

When riveters go inside the dark towers to work, they wear miners' lights on their caps. Hatchways leading from one level to another are kept closed to guard against falling metal.

HALF CAN SWIM

Men stepping from workboats to the bridge foundation piers are protected from being crushed by the boat by a framework of 12-by-12 timbers forming a recessed area.

Although only an estimated half of the bridge construction crew can swim, they wear life-belts only when working on barges or riding boats.

However, all have safety buckles on their belts. They permit instant unhooking of the belt if a man falls into the water—so that the heavy tools won't become an anchor.

The bridge contractors are hoping to keep up a safety record that has seen a broken foot as the most serious injury on the project this summer. That was caused by a falling steel block.

So far there have been no deaths in this second year of the construction job. Last year three men were killed in the task of sinking the bridge foundations.

Flying an American helicopter, French pilot Jean Moine has made two landings on Alpine peaks — first on the Dome du Gouter, 14,116 feet high, then on Mont Blanc, 15,782 feet.

Prayer and penance could do more to secure true peace than any weapons devised by human ingenuity, Cardinal D'Alton said in laying a church cornerstone in Armagh, Northern Ireland.

Jac LeGoff asks:

HOW CAN BUSINESSMEN HELP BUILD BETTER FUTURE CITIZENS?

JAC LeGOFF, well-known television newscaster, WJBK-TV, Detroit

LEE BAUER,
Standard Oil Agent,
Stonington, Illinois:

"Out in the farming area, businessmen think mighty highly of such activities as 4-H and Future Farmers of America. They help these programs in any way they can because both organizations train young people to be better farmers and better citizens. My son is active in 4-H work and I have helped in the 4-H Tractor Program since it was started. The youngsters learn by doing and get a good start toward success."

H. P. DENDEL,
Sales Manager, Consumer;
Standard Oil Company, Indianapolis, Indiana:

"The best way to help young people get a good start toward success is through organizations where you can reach the greatest number of people at one time. Junior Achievement, 4-H and Future Farmers of America are three outstanding examples of organizations helping large numbers of young people. Many of us at Standard Oil take part in these important activities."

OLIVER C. FISCHER,
Standard Oil Voucher Clerk,
St. Louis, Missouri:

"Businessmen can give young people the benefit of their experience through organizations like Junior Achievement. Boys and girls from 15 to 21 form their own companies, issue stock, pay rent, and manufacture and sell a useful product. Men and women in business are their advisers. I have been a Junior Achievement adviser for more than four years and have seen many young people get successful starts in life."

E. L. MILLER,
Division Automotive Engineer,
Standard Oil, Billings, Montana:

"Efficient farming methods help to keep food prices down, so you can see how important it is to teach young people the best farming methods and the latest developments in agriculture. And, of course, this training also helps them toward success. That's why programs sponsored by 4-H and Future Farmers of America receive the support and active aid of businessmen out here. My company and I have been actively interested in both programs for many years."

Thousands of Standard Oil employees voluntarily serve their communities in many important fields of youth activity. And the Standard Oil Company itself, through the Standard Oil Foundation, gives financial support to such character-building organizations as Junior Achievement, 4-H Clubs, and Future Farmers of America. These organizations help to train young people for successful careers on the farm or in the city. The Standard Oil Foundation also allocates funds to the state associations of independent colleges in 14 Midwest states and to certain universities. It has established scholarships and graduate fellowships. Among the Foundation's many other beneficiaries are such organizations as the National Fund for Medical Education, Community Funds, and the United Negro College Fund.

Fruit Growers Act to Protect Crop in Romeo Area

Old Orchards Cause Problem

Group Meets to Study Untended Trees' Effect in Macomb County

ROMEO—Members of the Macomb County Council of Fruit Growers drafted a resolution last night to invite representative orchard men and state specialists to study the effect neglected orchards are having on the fruit crop in the Romeo area.

Bill Rupp, County Agriculture agent, pointed out to the group that the value of the fruit industry in the Romeo area amounts to between one half and three-quarter million dollars. In order to protect the orchard men's investment, it is necessary, he reported, to take action to meet the problem of insect damage resulting from neighboring untended orchards.

Although the fruit growers themselves carry out an efficient job of spraying and orchard care, a recent inspection of both partially and entirely uncared for orchards revealed enough worms to thoroughly menace crops in a ten mile area with Romeo as the hub.

Karl Bailey, district horticultural agent from MSU continued by explaining the life cycle of the codeling moth, the insect menace. He told how the moths are now under the bark of trees and in the apples to such an extent that the 1956 crop is in jeopardy. He added that the insects, after emerging from the hibernating stage in the spring can fly one-quarter to a half mile with the prevailing winds into nearby orchards.

ENDLESS BATTLE

No matter what care is taken of present producing orchards, fruit growers find it almost impossible to keep ahead of the blight caused by moths from these neglected trees.

Tom Bowerman, Romeo fruit grower who is chairman of the county council, acted as chairman of the meeting held at the home of Herman Rapp on VanDyke. He reported the damage to fruit is "apt to increase before it is brought under control."

He explained, "Twenty-five applications of spray did not solve the problem," and that if the spray schedule were relaxed, "from five to eight days, the grower was in trouble."

Suggested methods of eliminating or controlling the damage were blossom thinning in the spring, custom spraying, or complete tree removal in the present untended orchard areas.

Before adopting a program of education or drafting an insect control schedule the fruit growers decided to call upon specialists and fellow orchardmen to study the situation in the area.

TO CONTACT SPECIALISTS

The men to be contacted include: C. A. Boyer, Bureau of Plant Industry, State Department of Agriculture; Dr. Alfred Dowdy, entomologist, MSU! Don Hootman, extension specialist in horticulture, MSU, who is also secretary of the State Horticulture Society.

Others are J. N. Erwin, of Farmington; Ralph Foreman of Northville, member of the State Apple Commission, and W. K. Bristol of Almont, all orchardmen.

Before the session ended, volunteers offered to furnish lists of lot owners in recently subdivided orchards so that they too can be appraised of the fruit growers' problem.

For seven years, businessmen, industrial firms and local organizations have combined forces to make Halloween one of the biggest events of the year for the children. According to general chairman, Edward Nealer, more than 2,000 children joined in the festivities last year, with many coming from Commerce, Wixom, Highland and Clyde.

Last year eighteen organizations divided the various activities into specific committees which included floats, favors, entertainment and games, cider and its dispensation, sound truck, judging of costumes, painting of store windows and the big dance at the Teen Canteen which climaxed the evening.

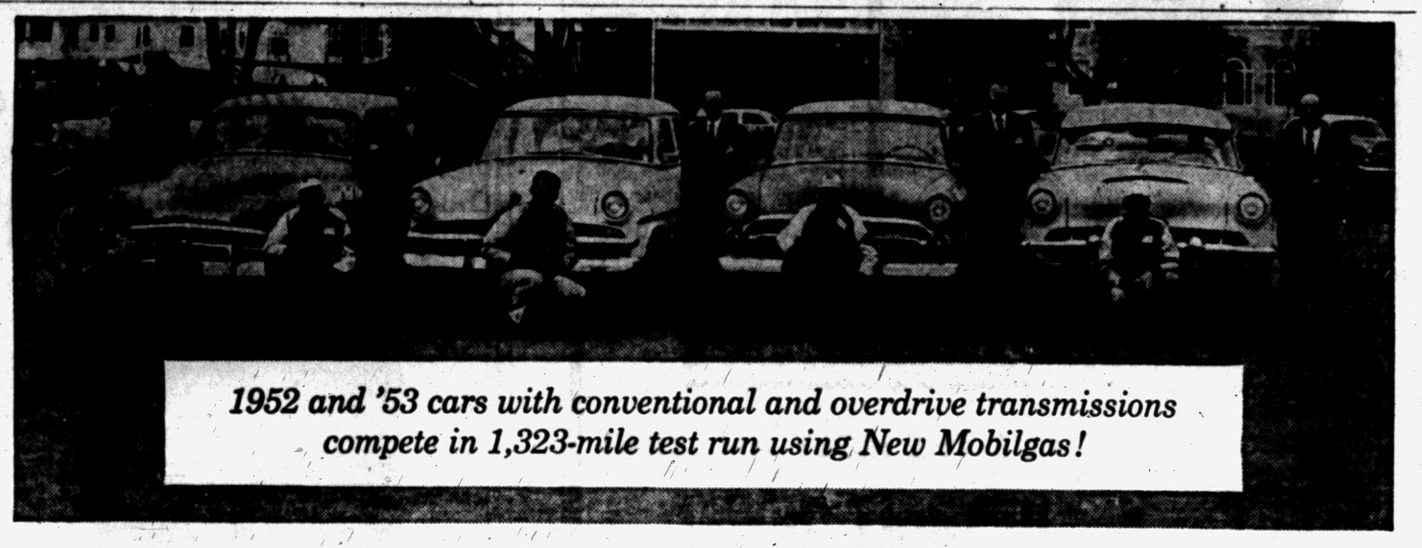

Police reports indicated that with interesting, supervised activity, property damage and other 'tomfoolery' has been cut to a minimum.

"This is the one project of the year that the whole area devotes much time and expense," Nealer said, "consequently, this meeting is one of the most important to the community."

Yanks Steady Favorites on Eve of Big Series

NEW YORK (AP)—Probable starting lineups for Wednesday's World Series opener at Yankee Stadium. (Yankee order based on possibility Mickey Mantle may not start).

BROOKLYN	NEW YORK
Gilliam, lf	Bauer, rf
Reese, ss	McDougald, 3b
Snider, cf	Noren, cf
Campanella, c	Berra, c
Furillo, rf	Collins, 1b
Hodges, 1b	Cerv, lf
Robinson, 3b	Martin, 2b
Zimmer, 2b	Rizzuto, ss
Newcombe, p(20-5)	Ford, p(18-7)

NEW YORK (AP)—Even though Manager Casey Stengel doesn't know who is going to play, his New York Yankees today remained steady 13-10 favorites to win the World Series from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The first game is scheduled for the Yankee Stadium at 12 noon (EST) tomorrow, and Stengel may not decide on his lineup until just before start of the game.

"I don't know what my infield or my outfield is going to be," he said, "and I won't know until just before the game. All I know is that I have a couple of starting pitchers ready—Whitey Ford for the first game and Tommy Byrne for the second."

The forecast is for rain all day tomorrow, and possibly Thursday too. If the opener is postponed, the elements would work in favor of the Yanks because Mickey Mantle's ailing leg would have additional time to heal.

At the moment, Mantle, the Yanks' leading batter and home run hitter, is far from optimistic. In fact, if the first game goes on as scheduled, he probably won't start.

"It feels better," said Mantle, "but I still haven't tried to put any pressure on it."

If Mantle is unable to make it, Irv Noren probably will move from left field to center field. Bob Cerv or Elston Howard then probably would move in to left field.

Except for Mantle, the Yanks are in fine shape. Their only other doubtful spot is shortstop, where it's a tossup between Phil Rizzuto and Gerry Coleman. Yogi Berra will catch, Joe Collins play first base, Billy Martin (his Army leave has been extended) second, Gil McDougald third and Hank Bauer right field.

Brooklyn Manager Walt Alston, as usual, has been going about his job in strictly a businesslike manner—no fuss, no indecision, no turmoil. Long ago, he had decided on his series lineup and for the next 24 hours he needs only to hope his men stay in top shape.

Right fielder Carl Furillo has a cold, but he reported he expected to be ready for action.

Alston met yesterday with his board of strategy to talk over the Yank weakness and reported he was "very pleased" with the conference.

In answer to an observation by a reporter that he must have had some trouble keeping his club "up" for almost a month—the Brooks clinched the National League pennant Sept. 8—Alston replied:

"No major league ball player has to get 'up' for a World Series. They all know this what they've been fighting for all year and they're not going to stop now."

Perhaps the only big question mark on the Dodgers is their pitching staff. Big Don Newcombe, who goes in the opener, is the only flinger on whom Alston could count on day in and day out through the regular season.

The Dodgers' lineup, in addition to Furillo and Newcombe, will have Roy Campanella behind the plate, Gil Hodges at first, Don Zimmer at second, Pee Wee Reese at shortstop, Jackie Robinson at third base, Junior Gilliam in left field and Duke Snider in center.

After Newcombe, Alston probably will start Billy Loes in the second game, and follow with Carl Erskine for the third game, Johnny Podres or Karl Spooner for the fourth and come back with Newcombe for the fifth.

After Byrne in the second game, Stengel probably will send Bob Grim against the Brooks in the third game, then Bob Turley in No. 4 and Don Larsen in No. 5.

Ted Picks Yankees

Yanks' Fine Bench Big Factor, Bosox Ace Says

By TED WILLIAMS
(Boston Red Sox Slugger)

NEW YORK (INS)—I think the Yankees will win the world series—again.

I can give you one big reason. They've got the finest bench in baseball. Any team has to hurt you when it can replace its key players with men so good it can go right on winning ball games.

All year long, I thought the Yankees were the team to beat, mainly for that reason. If a player was hurt or in a slump, Casey Stengel could replace him. He could juggle his lineup, stacking it with right or lefthanded power, depending upon the other side's pitching.

And—this was important—he could rest his men occasionally coming down the stretch. Teams like the Cleveland Indians, the Chicago White Sox and our own Boston Red Sox didn't fold up in the stretch. We got tired. None of us had the replacements that the Yankees had.

Take Mickey Mantle, a really great young player. The Yankees will miss him plenty if he can't go full tilt in the series. But not as much as any other team in baseball would. Don't forget, they clinched the American League pennant with Mantle out with a pulled muscle and Bob Cerv and Irv Noren in center.

Don't write off the Yankee pitching, either. It is a lot better than it is painted, and it improved very greatly toward the end of the season.

Lou Baldacci Rated Close to Ron Kramer

U. of M. Fullback Real Scoring Threat; Is Shadowed by Star

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Behind their mignificent end, Ron Kramer, the Michigan Wolverines have another seldom mentioned but potent scoring threat in fullback Lou Baldacci.

But the Akron, Ohio Senior, looks about to spend his 2nd season hidden by the shadow of Kramer.

Last fall Kramer ripped off 32 points to lead the Wolverines in scoring. Right behind him, without fanfare, was Baldacci with 31.

Last Saturday Kramer scored three touchdowns and converted five times in five tries. Baldacci scored twice, but he also passed for two of Kramer's three touchdowns.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan is fully aware of Baldacci's value.

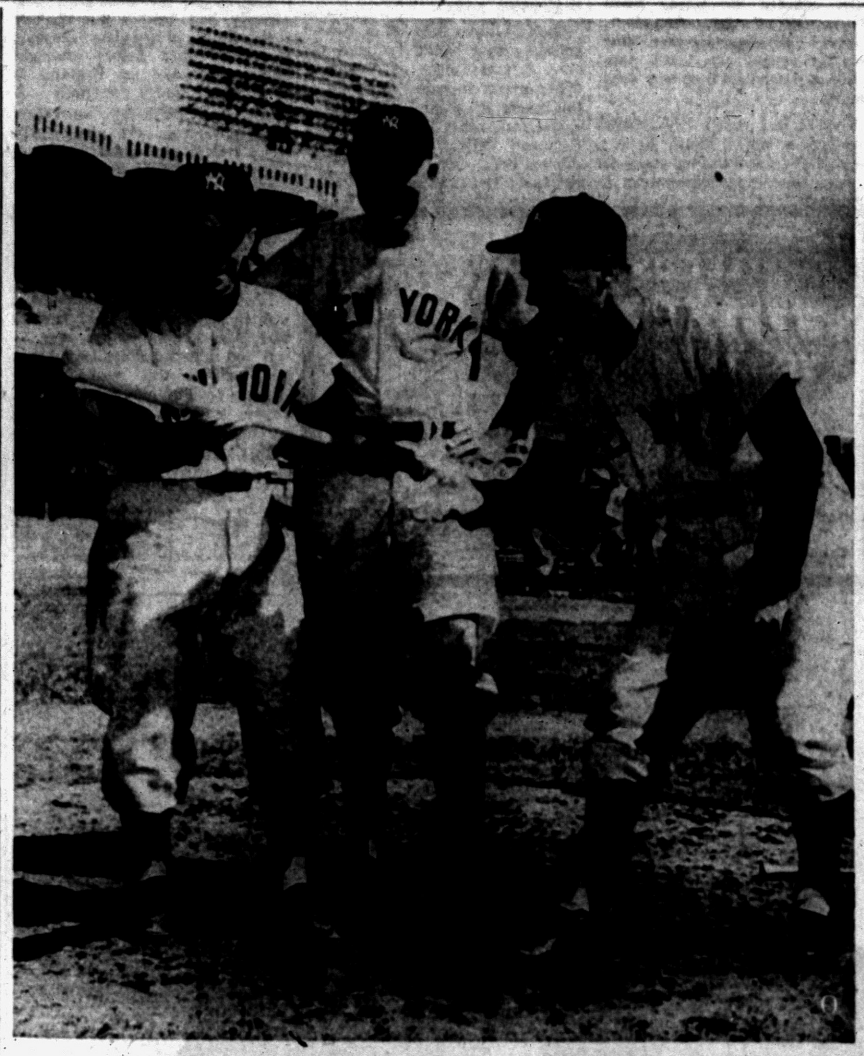

"He's one of the finest single wing football players we've had," Oosterbaan said, "and he could play equally well in the old single wing (known for power) or the new single wing (known for deception.)"

Baldacci, one of the most poised and good-natured young men on the Michigan squad, is a well knit 6-foot-1, 196 pounder.

As an 18-year-old sophomore, he burst into the Michigan lineup as the regular quarterback learning the intricate Michigan manuevers as he went along.

Then, last season, Oosterbaan found another quarterback and moved the rugged Baldacci back and forth between quarter and full. This season he's the full time, first-string fullback.

To Baldacci it makes little difference where he plays, so long as he plays. "I just like football, that's all, anywhere and any place," he said.

Spartans Start 'Special' Drills for 'Big' Battle

Bruised Peaks Given Light Work, Will Be Ready Saturday

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Michigan State football squad, forewarned with scout reports on Michigan, began specialized drills today in preparation for their Big Ten game Saturday with their Arch-rivals.

Backfield coach Bert Smith scouted the Michigan-Missouri game last Saturday in the hope of spotting weaknesses in the Wolverine squad the Spartans can capitalize on.

He gave his report to the Spartan squad.

Light drills made up the practice session yesterday.

Spartan star left halfback Clarence Peaks was limited to light workouts as a result of bruised ribs suffered Saturday in MSU's Big Ten victory over Indiana.

Dr. James S. Feurig, team physician, assured coach Duffy Daugherty, however, Peaks will be ready to play against Michigan.

Outside of Peaks the rest of the 1st two squads reported for drills in good shape.

Reese Praises Alston's Work

By PEE WEE REESE
(Special to Pontiac Press)

All the experts in their pre-series dope seem to forget the most important Dodger, manager Walter Alston. They praise Hodges, Snider, Campy, Robby, Newk, or some of the rest of us, but the biggest guy in the picture gets left out.

This is really Walt's year. He took a bad beating from everybody in '54—got all the blame. Now he ought to get the credit. He's been the skipper all year and he's no push-button manager either.

Walt had some bad days. Lots of spring injuries, bad ball games, rhubarbs, plenty of everything that makes a manager look bad, but he handled everything magnificently.

His shifting of Gilliam from 2nd to left, his development of Hoak and Zimmer, his use of Labine in the bullpen, his starting Bessent and Craig — so many smart moves that have paid off.

He didn't waste those tough years battling his way up from the bushes to the big time.

This is the year of vindication for a nice guy and we are going to make it complete, along about next Sunday night. I know that Casey Stengel is a great manager and he has plenty of good ball players but right now the Dodgers have a confidence and a drive I don't think any team can match.

This is our year — and Walt's. Today's workkout was a good one. Everybody raring to go. I'm looking for Robby to have a big series and Carl Furillo too. His sinus seems better. We've got a good gang and it's our year.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A surprising turnout of 26,359 fans saw quarterback Jimmy Finks toss two touchdown passes to give the Pittsburgh Steelers a 14-7 victory over the Chicago Cardinals in a National Football League opener for both clubs last night.

With only 52 seconds of the final quarter remaining Finks hit halfback Ray Mathews with a 27-yarder which broke a 7-7 tie.

The Steelers took a 7-0 lead in the third quarter when Finks climaxed a 77-yard drive with his short toss to end Jack O'Brien in the end zone.

The Cardinals tied the score in the final quarter when Lee Sanford, a 220-pound linebacker, intercepted a Finks pass on the Cardinal 8-yard-line and rumbled 92 yards to pay dirt.

Doug Ford $7,000 Richer After 12-Under-Par 276 Wins Sponsors Tourney at Charles River

NEWTON, Mass. (AP)—Doug Ford the National PGA titleholder who passed up a promising baseball career for golf, was $7,000 richer today after a hard-earned victory in the $43,000 Sponsors Tournament at the Charles River Country Club.

The 33-year-old son of a former golf pro in New Haven, Conn., appeared to welcome the tingling pressure in the 72-hole competition and wound up with a score of a 12-under-par 276.

"I felt great, the course was great and the shots fell right most of the time," Ford said as he pocketed the big check which boosted his earnings for the year to more than $34,000.

As a boy, the husky resident of Yonkers, N.Y., looked forward to a major league baseball career. However, he unknowingly was destined to play golf for a living from the time he shot his first round at the age of six.

An outstanding player who had many baseball scouts eyeing him, Ford won a scholarship for his diamond ability to Manhattan College. But while still 17, his first love switched from baseball to golf when he won the New York State Amateur championship.

Ford turned pro in 1949 and almost immediately became known as a fierce competitor with ice in his veins. His coolness paid off yesterday.

With Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., and Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the non-practicing dentist from Memphis, Tenn., pressing him, Ford fired a three-under-par 69 over the 6,431-yard course in his final round.

However, he needed luck to gain his victory. Leading by one stroke coming into the 18th hole, his approach shot went wildly to the left and struck a person in the gallery. The ball bounced back into the center of the fairway some 50 yards from the green.

Ford, a master with a short iron and a putter, then chipped to within six feet of the cup and sank his putt for a par 4 and a one-stroke victory.

Wall carded a fine 68 on the final 18 holes for a 277 and second-place money of $3,750.

Long Time, No Loss!

Chief Harriers Today Seek 33rd Straight Dual Meet Victory, Against Skipper Team

By H. GUY MOATS

It's "long time, no defeat" as far as the dual record for Pontiac High School's fine cross country team is concerned.

As another season opens here today, for the fall sport that takes a lot of that well-known fortitude, Chiefs' harriers will be shooting for their 33rd straight dual meet victory. That record, a phenomenal one, began away back in the 1949 season, and has gone on unbroken since.

Coach Wally Schloerke, who also coaches the spring track team, current state champions, figures he has another fine harrier squad, one that's capable of extending that long dual mark.

Five of last year's key runners are back at work. Matter of fact, they've been working out daily for a long time, and today were fit and ready for the start of the 1955 season against Waterford's Skippers. Meet will be run at 4 p. m. over the twisting Beaudette park course of two miles.

In a time test, indoors, last of the week, the Chiefs looked impressive, with state champion half miler Bill Douglas and miler Perry Williams both setting fast times. Others in the PHS team, all but one members of last year's team, include: Rod Treais, half miler; Gene Cretal, miler; Alex Barge, state champion high jumper; Don Evans and Pete Cox, sophomore hope.

Today's meet sets off a 9-meet schedule that winds up with the Nov. 5 state meet at Ypsilanti. Other meets include—Thursday of this week at Wyandotte; Oct. 4, Royal Oak here; Oct. 11, opening Saginaw Valley test with Flint Central here; Oct. 14, Flint Northern here; Oct. 20, Saginaw Valley meet, held here last year, (may be returned to Pontiac); Oct. 22, Albion Invitational; Oct. 29, at Birmingham state regionals; Nov. 5, state meet.

Rough Water Forces Florence to Quit

DOVER, England (AP) — Florence Chadwick of San Diego, Calif., was defeated by the rough water early today in her 3rd attempt to swim the English Channel this year.

The 35-year-old swimmer, who already had beaten the channel three times in previous seasons, struck out just before midnight hoping to make an England to France and return crossing.

She was lifted into an escort boat at 4 a.m. (11 p.m., EST) when freshening winds made it obvious she could not carry on.

Miss Chadwick had covered about 7½ miles from the English coast.

Area's Prep Grid Squads Open League Action Friday

Key issue will be league standings Friday night as six Inter-Lakes high school elevens open title competition with experience gained from two non-league encounters tucked away.

Walled Lake Vikings will attempt to better their 1-0-1 record as they travel to Waterford to do battle with Dave Freeman's gridders. Skippers trounced West Bloomfield in their opener, 58-0, and came out on the short end of a 24-6 tussle with Pontiac last week.

Bears from Berkley will not only be after their 1st victory Friday as they clash with the Southfield Bluejays at Southfield, but will be seeking their 1st touchdown. They have been blanked twice, by Ferndale, 25-0, and last week a strong independent Alpena team dumped them 55-0.

Farmington and Van Dyke will match identical 1-1 records when they meet at Farmington. Farmington Falcons squeaked by Rochester, 14-13 after losing to W-O Clarenceville 7-0 in the 1st tussle.

In independent contests, Bloomfield Hills will attempt to erase a 47-6 defeat by A. E. Smith High when it kicks off against Country Day of Detroit at Detroit. Rochester Falcons, suffering from two one point margin loses, will entertain inter-sectional Flint Tech.

Oxford will be after win No. 1 against South Central member Millington. Romeo Bulldogs will meet Oakland-B Troy and will be seeking their 3rd triumph. Unscored upon Lapeer will meet ex-Saginaw Valley member, Owosso.

Junior Highs Clash

Washington Junior High Braves, defending champions of the five-team Junior High Football League, will meet Waterford Junior High tomorrow at Waterford at 4 p. m. in a non-league contest. The Braves, coached by Em Ghianni, hope to protect a 14-game winning streak.

University of North Dakota football teams have won eight North Central Conference titles.

Army Again Leads Nation in Total Offense, Rushing

NEW YORK (AP)—Army has taken up right where it left off last year and leads the nation's colleges in total offense and rushing.

The Cadets, who finished No. 1 in both departments, are right back at the top, according to statistics of the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau released today.

After one game, an 81-0 decision over Furman, the Cadets have piled up 567 yards in total offense, including 518 on the ground.

Strung out behind Army's fast start in the offense rankings are Oklahoma, which amassed 483 yards enroute to a 13-6 score over North Carolina, Boston College, Holy Cross and Illinois. The same five, plus potent Texas Christian, top the ground-attack listings.

West Virginia averaged almost 15 yards per forward pass attempt in its Richmond opener Saturday, getting 206 yards and 3 touchdowns on just 14 throws, 9 of them completed. Of those that have been tested in two outings, however, Texas and Stanford rate as air travel leaders, with 185.5 and 182-yard-per-game averages.

Duck-Calling King on OCSC Program

Art Beauchamp, the world's champion duck-caller, will be the featured guest, and the show is a film "Duck Hunting in Arkansas" for members of Oakland County Sportsmen's Club Wednesday evening.

Art will demonstrate his calls and pass on some valuable information to the duck shooting hopefuls.

The film made at Stuttgart, Ark., wild-duck capital of the United States, will depict hunting at its best in the famed pin-oak swamps and rice fields where one can see "a half million green-head mallards in an 80 acre rice pond."

Major Leaguers Make Demands of Club Owners

Bonus Players, Armed Service Tenure Among Resolutions Drawn Up

NEW YORK (AP)—Major league owners today were mulling over four new demands of the players—although they haven't been put forth formally yet.

1. That each major league squad be limited to two bonus players and that these not be included in the regular 25-player limit.

2. That players be given a chance to deal directly with the South American and Cuban winter leagues instead of the negotiations going through the owners.

3. That service in the armed forces be counted in the players years of baseball service for pension purposes.

4. That owners be forced to consult with player representatives before completing deals for radio and television for the World Series and All-Star Game. This is now handled by the commissioner's office.

The players said they felt idle bonus players on a roster kept veterans out of work, so they asked that they not be counted on the limit.

Lewis said the players did not resent the owners' refusal to permit them to play in the winter leagues if the owners thought it was unadvisable.

"It's just that they want to know when they're being sought for the winter league," he said.

On the final two points, Lewis observed that service in the armed forces is counted toward a player's 10-year status but not included for pension purposes, and that since 60 per cent of the TV and radio money of the series and all-star game goes into the pension fund, the players ought to have something to say about their signing.

Hospitalize Boxer After Kayo in 6th

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Pachito Gonzales, 173, of Havana, Cuba, was rushed to a hospital last night after a six-round knockout in a preliminary fight here with Alvin Green, 170, of Houston, Tex.

Gonzales was knocked down in the fifth round but returned for the final round of the scheduled six-round fight. Green knocked him through the ropes and ringsiders said the Cuban apparently landed on his head. He regained consciousness but was rushed to a hospital when he began having recurring dizzy spells. There was no immediate announcement of his condition.

For strike action, the backup or reverse ball is as outmoded as knickers are in golf. Oddly, the backup went out about the same time, 30 years ago. It does, however, still play a secondary role—in spare shooting. A good many of the topflighters use it in making right hand Nos. 3, 6, 9, and 10 pins, individually or in a group. So that it's well to know how to handle the delivery.

It's quite simple. The thumb, as sketch shows, is slightly to the right of ball-center, with the fingers to the left of center. You bowl from the left of all-center, and in taking your position, you face the spare pin or pins. You turn your body to the right. As with a straight ball delivery, wrist action is nullified. The position of the hand remains the same throughout the swing. Most important is that your stride and swing are smooth. No rush. No jerk. Direction is the big thing, and to get it you must follow-through. Complete the swing, all the way.

You'll have to use only one finger to summon the magic of

'M' Follows Terps in Nation's Top 10

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If you want to be champ, the best thing to do is lick the champ. Maryland followed this reasoning, in effect, to assume today the role of No. 1 college football team in the country.

Before they invaded College Park, Md., last weekend, UCLA's Pacific Coast champions had won ten straight games. They had scored in each of their last 40. They had been picked by sports writers and broadcasters in the pre-season Associated Press poll as the best bet for the mythical national championship, and they had led the first weekly ratings.

Maryland's revenge-bent Terrapins knocked the Uclans from this proud station with a 7-0 shellacking.

Today the Terrapins were rewarded by being placed No. 1 in The Associated Press poll in a vote of 135 football experts.

In a close fight with Michigan, the pride of the Big Ten, the Marylanders rolled up a total of 1,113 points to jump from fifth to first in the standings.

Michigan, which received three more first-place votes than Maryland but lacked the overall voting strength, gained second place with 1,032 points.

Points are awarded on the basis of ten for a first place vote, nine for second, etc. Michigan 42-7 winner over Missouri, drew 48 first place votes, Maryland 45.

Completing the first ten were: 3. Georgia Tech, 4. Notre Dame, 5. Oklahoma, 6. Army, 7. UCLA, 8. Ohio State, 9. Southern California, 10. Texas Christian.

Notre Dame made an impressive debut against Southern Methodist, winning 17-0. Army smothered little Furman 81-0 and Texas Christian ran up a 32-0 score on Texas Tech. These are the three newcomers to the Top Ten, replacing Pittsburgh, Mississippi and Navy.

All ten of the top teams face tough opponents this weekend.

Maryand plays Baylor, Michigan has a date with Michigan State, Georgia Tech engages Southern Methodist, Notre Dame faces Indians, and Army meets a strong Penn State eleven.

UCLA travels to Washington State, Ohio State takes on Stanford, Southern California meets Texas in a Friday night game and Texas Christian opposes last year's Southwest Conference champion, Arkansas.

The top teams with first place votes and won-lost records in parentheses (points based on 10 for a first place vote, 9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1):

	Points
1. Maryland (45) (2-0)	1,113
2. Michigan (48) (1-0)	1,032
3. Georgia Tech (11) (2-0)	701
4. Notre Dame (3) (1-0)	671
5. Oklahoma (12) (1-0)	622
6. Army (1) (1-0)	437
7. UCLA (1-1)	358
8. Ohio State (1) (1-0)	209
9. Southern California (3) (2-0)	269
THE SECOND TEN:
11. Rice (1-0)	208
12. Pittsburgh (1) (2-0)	200
13. West Virginia (3) (1-0)	153
14. Iowa (1) (1-0)	141
15. Navy (1) (1-0)	125
16. Duke (1-0)	82
17. Wisconsin (1-0)	59
18. Penn State (1) (1-0)	53
19. Washington (1) (2-0)	50
20. Baylor (2-0)	49

Majors Start, End Season on Record Effort

Wally Moon's Homer, in Last NL Tilt Sets Two Marks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The 1955 major league baseball season started and ended on a record note.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, newly crowned National League champions, started it by reeling off 10 straight victories—a major league high for triumphs at the beginning of a campaign.

And when Wally Moon of the St. Louis Cardinals hammered a home run off Chet Nichols of Milwaukee in the ninth inning yesterday for an 8-5 Cardinal victory, two more records went into the books. It was No. 1,263 by National League batters and 2,224 by hitters of both leagues for new standards.

Moon, by coincidence, also won a game with a home run in his last time at bat in the last game of the 1954 season.

In between the accomplishment of the Dodgers and Moon's feat, there were enough other records and high lights to make 1955 one of the most interesting in years.

The Dodgers clinched their pennant on Sept. 8, the earliest date in history. And the New York Yankees pulled away in the final week after one of the closest battles in years.

Brooklyn wound up with a 13½ game advantage over the second-place Milwaukee Braves, with the New York Giants, 1954 winner, another five games back. The Yanks beat the American League's defending titleholders, Cleveland Indians, by three games.

Buffalo Baffles Mentor by Going AWOL at Half

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—The University of Colorado campus buzzed today over the disappearance of football guard Joe Connors during the second half of the CU-Arizona game here Saturday.

Coach Dal Ward said Connors played part of the first half. But when Ward called for him to enter the game in the third quarter, the 205-pound linemen was not on the bench.

Ward said he could not explain Connors' absence.

"Have no idea where he is," the CU coach added, and declared: "I'm not going looking for him—he'll have to come back on his own."

Connors, a 23-year-old native of Pittston, Pa., enrolled at Colorado in the fall of 1954 after a hitch in the Marine Corps. He was ineligible last year because he played at William & Mary in 1950.

He reported to the Buffalo varsity as an end last spring, was switched to guard, and later was listed as one of the best new linemen on the squad.

End Coach Ray Jenkins said going AWOL at the height of a game is without parallel in collegiate football.

"We've lost them the day before a game and a week before a game but never during a game," he told newsmen.

The Colorado team knocked over Arizona, 14-0, in the rain last Saturday and is preparing for a Big Seven Conference game with Kansas here next Saturday.

Golfing Party Tonight Honors Immortal Jones

Friends Fete Famous Bobby Who 25 Years Ago Shot Grand Slam

ATLANTA (AP) — The famed golfing grandslam made by Bobby Jones 25 years ago will be celebrated tonight at Atlanta's biggest golfing party.

Friends of the golfing great will assemble at the Atlanta Athletic Club to honor the man who has done so much for golf.

It was 25 years ago today that Jones completed his sweep of the four major American and British titles. He defeated Eugene Homans, 7 and 6, to win the U. S. Amateur at the Marion Cricket Club.

Earlier in the year he won the British Amateur at St. Andrews, the British Open at Holyoke and then came home to capture the U.S. Open at Interlachen, Minneapolis, Minn.

Jones retired from competitive golf soon after winning the U. S. Amateur and devoted much of his time to building up the course at the Augusta National Club in Augusta, Ga.

Early Matches Hardest

Doug Ford won six matches in taking the 1955 PGA championship at Meadowbrook. His 1st two matches were the toughest. In them he scored 2 and 1 victories over George Fazio and Ted Kroll.

Bob Considine Says:

Word Shadings Tell Story of Ike's Attack

NEW YORK (INS) — One wonders if ever in history as many people were as deeply interested in the shadings of words as they have been since President Eisenhower's heart attack.

It was described first as "mild." After Boston's great Dr. White appeared, talked to the five other specialists and to the President, it was described as "moderate." Jim Hagerty knew that scores of reporters on hand would want to know what "moderate" meant. They knew what the dictionary said; they'd want to know what White meant. He meant, it was finally decided, that the heart attack was somewhere between mild and serious.

Eisenhower's first condition was "good." A day later it became "satisfactory." The Concise Oxford Dictionary" says of "good" — having the right qualities, satisfactory, adequate . . . gratifying, agreeable, favorable, advantageous . . . going well, etc." It says of "satisfactory," among other things, "satisfying expectations or needs, leaving no room for complaint, causing satisfaction, etc."

One groped through the jungle of semantics, mistrustfully eyed the mirages of philology. For a day it was reassuring to know that Ike had walked to his car. Dr. White commented optimistically on that before taking off from Boston on a trip to Denver which ended so harrowingly: with his military plane bronco-busting along the runway after blowing a tire on the 100 M.P.H. landing.

IKE "ASSISTED"

But then Hagerty, pounded for reasons why three doctors attending the President at Mrs. Doud's home and aware now that his trouble was a heart attack not indigestion permitted the sick man to walk to a car, came to their defense.

The President had not walked, Jim said. He was "assisted" and reached the car "without any pressure from himself." One reporter wrote "carried" but Hagerty wanted it known that he was not "carried" as on a stretcher. That might have been "dangerous," Jim said. There was no explanation why.

By a stroke of irony, the first item that had to be stricken off Eisenhower's agenda for the coming week was his conference on physical fitness Tuesday. The subject is one of his pets. Many sports leaders and authorities were already on the way to Denver, or had arrived there, when the blow fell.

Irony No. 2, concerns a Luce publication that features pictures. The company has an incredible knack of putting a hex on people favored either by a picture on the front page or a kind word inside.

The editorial page of the issue being distributed while the President was being rushed to the hospital reads:

IKE QUOTED

"You have all these old fellows sitting around getting sore," says Dwight D. Eisenhower in discussing the paradox that while Americans are living longer they are still having to retire early. "We are going to have a revolution of old men," he added, "and I am going to be in it."

Let's hope (the piece continues) that 64-year-old Eisenhower will lead this revolution by running again. In a week when 79-year-old Konrad Adenauer was fielding all the hot grounders fired at him by Moscow's Murderers' Row, when 85-year-old Bernard Baruch was sounding off about the dangers of cutting the arms budget, when 71-year-old Harry Truman was still exhausting his walking companions and Eisenhower himself was dropping a 235-yard drive straight down the fairway—it was plain that the phenomenon of the "young old man" is no longer a parity.

Walter Winchell, exhuberantly back on Broadway again (1440 B,way, Mutual), and better than he has been in years, comforted Republicans Sunday by reminding them that F.D.R. was elected four times in a wheel chair. But it seems to me that Ike, once well, will hang up his political gloves for keeps.

An important point about stock car racing that may not have occurred to you:

and Chevrolet is the big winner

Auto races aren't won by brute horsepower. Roadability, acceleration, precision steering and stamina — the very qualities that make a car safer for you —are the keys to victory on the track! And that's why Chevrolet is top car by far, on the rugged NASCAR (National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing) Short Track circuit.

Faster acceleration means safer passing

Chevrolet's cannonball acceleration has punched past many a bigger car to victory. But the same blazing surge is a vital safety factor on the highway — one that can whisk you more safely around other cars and out of critical situations.

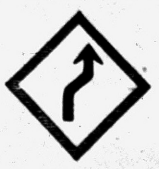

Easier, super accurate steering

Nimble is the word for Chevrolet. But you don't have to see them in action on a tight quarter-mile track to judge how they make other cars seem clumsy. You can feel that yourself in the press of traffic, and sense the feather-light precision of Ball-Race Steering in every curve. There's extra safety, too, in Glide-Ride front suspension that sops up the harshest bumps—that lets your car "keep its feet under it" for maximum traction on the roughest roads.

More stability on curves

Chevrolet's famous stability means money in the bank to the race driver—it lets him broadside through turns faster and smoother. But it means peace of mind to you on the road—more comfort in every curve and less body-roll with broad-based Outrigger rear springs, extra security if you have to swerve sharply to meet an emergency, a solid "one-piece" feel that is a delight to any driver.

The ability to slow down and stop quickly and smoothly

Those big 11-inch brakes have averted many a disaster in the close-packed battle of racing. But they weren't designed for that; they were made to give you "heads-up" stops and extra stopping power in traffic, on mountain grades, on high-speed expressways. Competition has merely proved their margin of superiority!

Come in and try out this new winner yourself . . . and see how easy we're making it to buy a Chevrolet right now!

Manhunting Gals Don't Need Help to Catch 'Em

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — We were just brooding about what advice we should give to the girls who can't get husbands when we happened to collide with Miss Celeste Holm.

★ ★ ★ ★

Cleste is in the movie, "The Tender Trap," with Frank Sinatra and Debbie Reynolds, and the whole theme is about the dames who practically bust down any young guy's door here in New York lavishing their favors on him in the hope of misleading him to the altar.

There are so many wolfesses at the door, bringing him cake 'n' candy 'n' argyle socks 'n' chicken liver, that the guy wants to meet just one tomato who isn't a tomato.

"Do you think modern girls are really as aggressive as Max Shulman paints them in that story?" we asked Miss Holm, who has been married a time or three.

We got the drift of that remark real quick. Celeste meant she isn't the aggressive type and would hardly know any such low persons.

"But I've noticed," she said, "that Southern women do all right and they seem to cultivate, not an attitude of aggressiveness, but one of helplessness.

"That's supposed to engender in the made a protective attitude," Celeste went on.

"These Southern babes," continued Celeste, "will tell a guy they can't cook. 'Honey, Ah cain't even boil water,' they'll say. 'This gal can probably tile the bathroom!'"

The dolls from Dixie don't have as much trouble with their man-trapping as those out in the west, according to statistics. We asked Celeste, who isn't married now, what if she wanted to get better acquainted with some good-looking unmarried young slob.

"Would you call him?" we were so bold as to ask. "And ask for a date?"

"Of course not! But maybe"—and Celeste batted her eyelashes — "I would happen to be giving a large cocktail party and I'd call him up and invite him. But this," she added, "would have to be quite a fella."

This remark started me wondering if all the cocktail parties are the plot of some female, married or unmarried, to show her person and personality off before some prospect. We are sorry we planted this man-hunting idea in any chick's mind because we thing they've got enough tricks up their sleeves — I mean sleeveless gowns—now.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

One reason Rita Hayworth shifted hotels here: Her rooms were reserved for people attending the fight . . . "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" (with cuties Tina Louise and Jayne Mansfield) arrives on B'way Oct. 12.

Dr. Jonas Salk is working on a flu vaccine . . . Gregory Peck took a bow at the "Left Hand of God" premiere, then dashed to the fight. (At the star-studded opening, Joe DiMaggio got the biggest cheer).

Public Relations Course Advises Genteel Arrests

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic policemen in Chicago today were urged to take the positive approach giving tickets for traffic violations and to disregard such phrases as "Where's the fire, bud?"

A police training outline on public relations advises officers to take a polite, impartial attitude—something like this:

"Good evening, sir. I stopped you because you were exceeding the speed limit. May I see your driver's license?"

The brochure also asked police to avoid nicknames and sarcasm. "Many people object to being called 'bud,' 'chum,' 'pop' or by their first names." And the brochure added, "They don't want to be called 'wise guy,' 'jerk' or 'dope'."

Hollywood Headlines

MGM Emphasizing Films Which Spur Controversy

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—MGM, once the citadel of escapism, has developed a split personality in recent years.

The studio's films once presented no greater problems than whether Joan Crawford should or should not submit to Clark Gable's charms. But now MGM makes two kinds of pictures: (1) musicals, comedies and adventures that require no thought power to enjoy; (2) dramas about real problems in American society.

Hollywood used to stimulate public opinion with films on social injustices, racial problems, etc. Now MGM is the only studio that regularly treats such issues. Production boss Dore Schary said:

"We think there is room for two kinds of picture. There is the kind that provides pure entertainment and there is the kind that makes people think about problems in the contemporary scene."

Schary admitted that the latter often stir up much controvedsy "but that doesn't scare us off."

The most recent case was "Blackboard Jungle," a story of brutality in a school. It was blasted from all sides.

MGM has another blockbuster in "Trial." While the picture lacks logic, it is a stirring treatment of how Communists take over the cause of a Mexican boy accused of murder. It is bound to arouse controversy.

The studio has other social themes coming up: "I'll Cry Tomorrow," a woman's alcoholism; "Fearful Decision," a parent's responsibility in a kidnaping; "The Rack," brainwashed soldiers; "The Power and the Prize," ethics in big business; "Bannon," labor unions.

New Oral Penincillin Announced by Lab

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—Wyeth Laboratories of Philadelphia has announced the development of a new type of oral penicillin that is highly resistant to destruction by stomach acids and is readily absorbed in the bloodstream.

The firm said the product solves the long standing medical search for an oral form of the drug that would be as effective as penincillin, administered by injection.

The major disadvantages of earlier oral forms have been that their effectiveness was curbed considerably by stomach acids and they had difficulty in reaching the bloodstream in potent force.

Soda Pop for Flavor

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Police today were trying to locate the vandals who broke into the Homestead Baking Co. and tried a new recipe. On the bakery floor the vandals mixed 1,500 pounds of sugar, 1,500 pounds of flour, 50 gallons of salad oil and a case and a half of soft drinks.

School Plans Approved

MT. PLEASANT (AP) — The Mt. Pleasant Board of Education has approved plans for a new 600-pupil high school and has set Nov. 2 as the date for opening bids. The one-story school will be built in octagonal shape of ten units so it can be expanded to handle up to 1,200 pupils if needed.

Murder-Suicide Act Costs Three Lives

OGDEN, Utah (UP) — A railroad switchman shot to death his recently divorced wife and his 10-year-old stepdaughter last night, then killed himself as another daughter watched.

The eyewitness, 8-year-old Christine Socwell, was hysterical when police reached the scene.

The switchman was 30-year-old John David Socwell. His ex-wife Mary Louise, 28, was dead on arrival at a local hospital and Mrs. Socwell's daughter by a previous marriage, Shana, 10, died on the operating table within an hour.

City Judge Charles Sneddon, acting coroner, called the shootings "murder-suicide."

Come Now, Lady, You Can Repaint the Car Again

PASADENA, Calif. (UP) — Police Sgt. Keith McKay was on the desk yesterday when a worried woman called.

* * *

"I've just had my car painted a pale pink," she said, "and the yellow numerals on the license plates clash so badly with the color scheme. It's all right if I paint the tag numbers pink too, isn't it?"

"No, it isnt, ma'am," replied McKay. "That's against the law."

"That's ridiculous," snapped the caller. "I see cars with different-colored plates every day."

She hung up before the officer could suggest that perhaps the other colored plates were on out-of-state cars.

No Money in House; Thieves Still Search

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UP)—Potential thieves have been advised, in effect, that there is no reason for breaking into the home of the late Winifred Devine, 80.

Attorneys for her estate said the heirs are satisfied there is no more money hidden in the Darby Street house.

Fully $29,506 was found in the house shortly after Mrs. Devine died. In addition, there were bank books with deposits of $69,000.

Since that disclosure 10 days ago thieves twice broke into the Devine home, once slashing stuffed furniture and another time ripping stones from the fireplace.

The Australia, 26-year-old Royal Australian Navy cruiser, is now being scrapped at Sydney.

Soybeans Drop Several Cents

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans dropped several cents and the rest of the grain market had a weak tone on the Board of Trade today.

Dealings were active but not as much so as during the same period yesterday when prices were advancing.

Profit-taking after a long, sharp rise, climaxed by the big gains of the previous session, appeared to be the main reason for the soybean slump. Beans have been booming ahead since Labor Day. The rest of the market also has scored good gains since that holiday.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ to 1⅝ lower, December $2.03¼; corn ⅜ to ⅝ lower, December $1.35⅜; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, December 64½; rye ¼ to ¾ lower, December $1.11¾; soybeans 3½ to 5 cents lower, November $2.44¼, and lard unchanged to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower, October $10.77.

Flint Doctor, 80, Called Foremost Family Physician

GRAND RAPIDS (INS)—An 80-year-old Flint doctor has been named Michigan's "Foremost Family Physician" of the year.

Dr. Walter H. Winchester was honored yesterday from among 40 candidates by the House of Delegates of the Michigan State Medical Society, which is holding its 90th annual convention in Grand Rapids this week.

The octogenarian has delivered more than 4,000 babies since he first began practice 53 years ago in Sheboygan, Wis. He moved to Flint in 1909.

Dr. Winchester, still active despite his years, attended more than 1,000 patients last year. He has been medical director of the Genesee County Hospital since 1910.

In World War I, he commanded a field hospital with the 88th Division and was discharged as a major.

Stock Market Moves Upward

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market whipped up a spirited rally today in early dealings in a move to recover some of yesterday's extensive losses.

Yesterday's break on news of President Eisenhower's heart attack caused a decline estimated at nearly 13 billion dollars in the total value of all securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Gains today ran to between 1 and 4 points. Losses amounted to a point at the outside. Most were small.

Senator Douglas Tells Wall Street to End 'Gloom'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) called today for an end to "gloom and doom" in Wall Street because, he said, "God reigns, the government in Washington is still alive and American institutions are still sound."

Douglas said this in commenting on sharp breaks yesterday not only on the New York stock market, but in those of Paris, London, Chicago and Toronto.

The break was interpreted as a reaction to President Eisenhower's illness. The reason apparently was uncertainty.

In what appeared to be a move to steady things, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey said yesterday:

"Our policies and programs are definite and firmly established. There is no reason to anticipate any change. We will carry on during his (Eisenhower's) absence exactly as previously planned. There is no reason for others to do otherwise."

Newsman Tells of Paper Costs

Increases in Production Are Not Offset by Rise in Gained Revenue

NEW YORK (AP) — Newspapers are having a hard time keeping income up with costs, Cranston Williams, general manager of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, said Monday.

The top problem of the newspaper business, he said, "is the constantly rising cost of production, with the income not going up as fast."

Speaking at the convention of the Institute of Newspaper Controllers and Finance Officers, Williams said:

"To stay in business a newspaper must turn back a part of the money it makes into better news coverage, finer features and all the things which go into the making of a superior daily product.

"Newspaper publishers today are looking for more and more ways to increase their efficiency and reduce the costs of publication."

He said that since 1945, the cost of newsprint has gone up 104.8 per cent and wage scales in five craft unions have gone up 94 to 128.3 per cent.

Williams said the ANPA, through its research institute, is undertaking a general study of the costs to newspapers of fringe labor benefits.

The ANPA has compiled information on cost-saving ideas "found practical by daily newspapers of varying sizes," Williams said, and has supplied 294 such plans to one or more papers.

$100 Million Invested by Packard-Studebaker for New Products

Studebaker-Packard Corporation today demonstrated its full lines of automobiles for 1956 — Studebaker, Clipper, and Packard cars and Studebaker trucks, which will offer new styling and major engineering innovations and advancements — to more than 500 press representatives at the company's proving ground near Utica.

James J. Nance, president, reported that the corporation has invested more than $100 million to date in new product development.

Nance said the new cars being shown, which will compete for sales in the three major price classes, will represent completion of an intense product development program launched immediately following the Packard last Oct. 1.

The corporation's full lines for 1956 comprise:

New V-8 and six-cylinder Studebaker passenger cars, the biggest and most powerful the company has ever produced; a line of high-powered, sports-type Studebakers; a series of sedan-type station wagons; and an increased horsepower line of trucks for the ½-ton to two-ton commercial classes.

Clipper cars covering the medium price field in sedans and hardtops with a line of deluxe torsion bar suspension and new, and custom models. All will have more vowerful V-8 engines.

Reuther and Ford Express Regret Over Ike's Attack

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther, president of UAW-CIO and President Henry Ford II of the Ford Motor Co. have expressed regret over the illness of President Eisenhower.

Reuther offered his sympathy at a news conference yesterday following his return from a three-week tour and the Middle East.

He said in a telegram to Eisenhower:

"My personal good wishes and prayers for your complete and speedy recovery are joined in by all the millions of CIO members in the United States."

Ford said in a statement:

"The President's illness is a matter of personal concern and regret to me as it must be to every American.

"President Eisenhower has done such a tremendous job of leading America into an era of sound and sane properity that the momentum of this job will carry us forward until the time when the President can again pick up the guiding reins of government."

Says Rising Car Output Stimulated Other Sales

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department said yesterday that sharply rising automobile production and sales led the way for the 1954-55 economic boom, as "powerful stimulants" to general business activity.

The effects of the flow of income from the automobile industry, the Commerce Department said, "quickly spread to other sectors of the economy, with gains recorded on all fronts."

Briggs Says Tigers Made Profit in '55

DETROIT (AP)—Walter O. (Spike) Briggs, president of the Detroit Tigers, said today the Tigers made a profit from baseball this season "for the first time since 1946."

But Briggs declined to say exactly what that profit is.

The Detroit News said today that "increased attendance at home and away has turned a $250,000" profit for the Tigers.

Briggs said "that figure is a little high."

The News story quoted Briggs as saying, "In other years we had to lean on football rental and other income."

The Tigers drew 1,181,828 at home this season. It was the 10th time in the last 11 years they had topped the million mark, missing only in 1953.

Detroit's all-time high for home attendance was 1,951,474 in 1950, a year it missed winning the pennant in the final weeks.

U.S., Latin America Back Seat for Spain

UNITED NATIONS (AP) —The United States and Latin America lined up today behind Spain's application for membership in the United Nations. There was no immediate reaction from the Soviet Union and other U.N. members.

The Spanish observer at the U.N., Jose S. de Erice y O'Shea, submitted the Spanish membership application to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold yesterday.

There seemed little likelihood, application would get past the Security Council veto of the Soviet Union.

Texans Live With Well

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP)—The Charles Giarraputo family at 1915 N. Crockett St. feels as if that oil well were just a member of the family.

"That oil well" is actually just outside the window, flush up against the south wall of the Giarraputo home.

But its huge motors throb, the drills stem clanks as it's slammed into place in the rig, towers, and the Giarraputo home shakes and groans with the noise. It's been going on for three months.

"Sometimes I don't even notice it at all," Mrs. Giarraputo told a reporter. "But sometimes (she raised her voice a bit as the noise rose outside), when I'm hot and tired and the children have been difficult, the noise just seems to bounce off the walls."

"Pony Jim"—that's 5-month-old James Anthony—has lived with the noise for four fifths of his life and doesn't know anything different.

Jeannette, 2, was frightened at first by the big diesel trucks but has grown used to it.

"I asked the doctor if the noise would damage the children's ears," said Mrs. Giarraputo. "He said the noise wouldn't, but they will probably have some trouble adjusting to silence again."

The drillers still have about a thousand feet to go before they reach the 11,050-foot depth where they hope to hit oil.

Meanwhile, life gets difficult. The heat from the rig makes it impossible for Mrs. Giarraputo to use her kitchen much during the day. She washes the dishes in the evening. Most family dinners are cooked on an electric bean pot, a gift of Mrs. Giarraputo's mother.

The Giarraputos have one consolation: They can dream of some measure of wealth, or just think about it when the noise is too much. They have an interest in the well and are rooting for it to pay off.

AAA Official Attacks Forced Auto Checks

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams' proposal for a state-directed system of compulsory auto inspections at local garages was attacked yesterday by E. S. Matheson, general manager of the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Matheson said the people of Michigan "will never stand for the abuses which have been shoved off on the motorists of Pennsylvania."

Secy. of State James M. Hare, author of the Williams' program, said it was proposed to set up in Michigan a system modeled after that of Pennsylvania where 10,000 garages are licensed to inspect cars.

Legislators last week told Williams they feared such a system would lead to cheating the public. They said motorists would be at the mercy of unscrupulous garage owners who would refuse to issue safety stickers until expensive repair jobs had been obtained.

Air Guard Jets Grounded; Pair Objects to Noise

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Michigan National Air Guard jet planes at Kellogg Field remained grounded today under a court order.

Circuit Judge Harold E. Steinbacher granted the temporary injunction yesterday on the petition of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Brown whose home on U. S. 12 is near the field runway.

The couple complained the planes endangered their lives and made it impossible to sell the property. They asked a permanent injuction or $14,000 damages in compensation for the value of the house and land.

Judge Steinbacher was expected to set a later date for a hearing.

He granted the temporary injunction after conferring with attorneys on whether his court had jurisdiction.

U.S. District Atty. Wendell Miles said the U.S. Air Force did not direct activities of the state air guard although the federal government supplies equipment and money for the group. Operation, he said, was under state direction.

Dearborn's Mayor Wins Renomination

DETROIT (AP)—Incumbent Mayor Orville L. Hubbard and his six candidates for city council won renomination yesterday in suburban Dearborn's primary election.

Unofficial returns gave Hubbard 11,075 votes to 4,368 for Ray H. Parker, his nearest challenger. Three other candidates were eliminated in the election.

Hubbard, 53, will be seeking his eighth straight two - year term when he opposes Parker, a high school government teacher, in the finals Nov. 8.

Hubbard suffered a setback in the race for municipal judge.

John T. McWilliams, long opposed to the mayor, received 6,171 votes to 3,511 for Hubbard's candidate, B. Ward Smith.

Roadside Zoo Rulings to Be Aired Thursday

LANSING (AP) — The State Conservation Department said today if will hold a public hearing Sept. 29 on new regulations for exhibiting wild animals.

Michigan has some 25 roadside zoos and animal exhibits, regulated by state law. The proposed regulations spell out in more detail the types of pens allowable, the distance the public must remain from the animals and the number of animals than may be housed in one pen.

A man was badly mauled by a "tame" bear at a private zoo near Manistique last week. The new regulations provide for guard fences outside the pens.

The hearing, to be held at the Higgins Lake training school, will start at 10 a.m.

Winnie Asks Pub Owner Not to Use His Name

AYLESBURY, England (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill's fans in this sleepy Buckinghamshire town are disappointed — they won't be able to put his name on their pub sign.

When a new tavern was planned, the suggestion arose, "Let's call it the Churchill Arms."

That's a big honor in Britain, where the best-loved personalities in history are immortalized in pub signs.

But Churchill isn't having any. He wrote back to the brewers this week to say that while he is most appreciative of the offer, he would rather they found another name.

Laughs Almost Break Up Show

Featured Singers Tell What It's Like to Work With Midnight Comic

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (INS) — One of the most important qualifications for a singing spot on the Steve Allen show is the ability to keep quiet.

That's what Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme say, explaining that a great deal of the program is spontaneous, and even those parts which have been planned often haven't been rehearsed.

"I'm the one who breaks up," Eydie explained. "Once, when I first came on the show, I almost got fired. We were doing a trio of 'Mine.'

"Little Steve," she said, referring to Lawrence, "was on one side of a picture frame and I was on the other. Big Steve was peering through the picture frame in a 'Three Musketeers' costume.

"We hadn't rehearsed it and I took one look at big Steve in that picture frame with a plume drooping down over his face and I broke up. I laughed and laughed, I couldn't sing—I was practically doubled over. Big and Little Steve kept on singing furiously, which only made me laugh harder.

A FRIEND IN NEED

"But I haven't broken up like that since. I laugh at times, but it's always under control so I can finish my song."

Talented "Little Steve," who's pretty quick with a quip himself, said that while it can be pretty nerve-wracking to work with a man who is liable to throw almost any type of line at you at any time, Allen will come along and get you off the hook if you're stuck.

"He's the greatest," Steve said. "If something happens he comes in and unhangs you. For instance, one time I was lip-singing—just moving my lips while a record played off stage."

"No one's supposed to know when you lip-sing," Eydie broke in to explain.

SAVES THE DAY

"At any rate, the record slipped," Steve continued, "and it began playing at a weird, slowed down tempo. I tried to move my lips with it, but of course the audience caught on and pandemonium broke loose.

"Steve came in with a quick 'Thank you, Mario Lanza' to save the situation. I've got a pretty good straight face ordinarily, but that one broke me up."

Eydie admitted they were both "shy and awkward" during their breaking-in period, but then added with a wicked gleam in her pretty eyes:

"We're more likely to break Big Steve up now than he is us. We get the biggest kick when he laughs at something we do."

Little Steve agreed, saying: "Steve's got a high pitched giggle. You don't even have to know what he's laughing at to laugh with him. Once he starts, he has trouble stopping.

"I broke him up once. I came on stage playing a hoodlum, with a turtle neck sweater and my hat pulled over my eyes. Steve got hysterical," Lawrence concluded proudly.

They both agreed that working for Allen has been an education. They've learned to be quick with an answer, learned to take part in sketches—even learned to decide on musical arrangements over the phone.

"I find myself writing songs on the air," Lawrence said, because they weren't rehearsed and he couldn't remember the lyrics. "Often the lights prevent you from seeing the cue cards. The audience hears different lyrics and decides they're wrong."

Steve summed up the amount they've learned from Allen, whom they claim is the most relaxed performer going, by saying:

* * *

"We've taken on a lot of his characteristics. Why, I can't go on unless I'm wearing glasses. Seriously, though, we've come off pretty lucky so far."

He held up crossed fingers.

for FUEL OIL PURCHASES!

AUBURN HEIGHTS, MICHIGAN Phone FEderal 2-0233
107 Squirrel Road

Dear Customer:

Remember how those fuel oil bills came at just the wrong time last winter . . . especially around Christmas?

Now you can avoid high fuel bills by using Church's convenient FUEL OIL BUDGET PLAN . . . at no extra cost to you.

Here's how the plan works.

Church's estimate how much fuel oil you'll use during the next heating season (based on past delivery records.) Then we calculate your total fuel bill for the season and divide it into TEN EVEN MONTHLY PAYMENTS. The first payment is due in September with the same amount due each month thru May.

At the end of the heating season, we compare the ACTUAL COST of the fuel oil delivered to your tank with the total paid into your Budget Plan account. If there is a credit, you get a refund. If there is a balance, you receive a final bill.

What's more . . . there's no service charge for this convenient Budget Plan. IT DOESN'T COST A CENT to spread your fuel oil cost evenly over ten months. This is another free Church's, Inc. service designed to give you heating comfort without a care.

Cut those big fuel bills down to size the easy Budget Plan way by signing and mailing the coupon below. If you prefer, just call FE 2-0233 for details.

Yours truly,

Navy Jet Plane Buying Attacked

Investigation Ordered for F3H-1N Aircraft Which Crashed

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Rep. Holifield (D-Calif) says the House Military Operations subcommittee, of which he is chairman, will make an inquiry of the Navy's handling of its jet fighter plane procurement program.

Holifield made this announcement in a statement issued yesterday from his Washington office, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat said.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo) and Rep. Karsten (D-Mo) had called for congressional investigations after a Globe-Democrat copyrighted story that the Navy has admitted it has 21 jet fighters costing $28,350,000 which probably never will fly because of insufficient engine power.

Rep. Cannon (D-Mo), chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, sent a telegram to Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas demanding an explanation.

The first secretary of the Air Force, Symington said he believed the Navy and Westinghouse Electric Corp., manufacturer of the engines, shared responsibility for the failure of the engines to supply sufficient power.

But a Westinghouse spokesman said after publication of the story Saturday that his firm merely produced the type of engine the Navy had ordered.

Production of the plane, the Demon F3H-1N, made by the McDonnell Aircraft Corp. of St. Louis, was halted after 56 were delivered to the Navy. Six of the planes crashed, five in the St. Louis area, killing two pilots.

Dentists to Convene

DETROIT (AP)—A number of Michigan dentists, including official representatives of the Michigan State Dental Assn., will attend the 96th annual meeting of the American Dental Assn. in San Francisco Oct. 17 to 20. The state delegates will include members of the association's house of delegates.

WW III Would Cost—

DETROIT (AP)—A staff member of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces says a third world war would cost some four trillion dollars — 10 times as much as the last world war. Cmdr. Eugene R. Blandin told the opening session of the college's resources conference the cost of each war since the mid-19th century has increased 10 times.

Diphtheria, formerly a scourge, killed only nine British residents of Britain in a recent 12 montths.
