

James H. Curran Shows Where He Was On USS Oklahoma During Attack

2 Local Men Relive Pearl Harbor Attack

By LOIS MANDIBERG

Some war stories read like fiction but are true — like the accounts of Wilbur Hinsperger and James H. Curran, two Pontiac men who were on the USS Oklahoma the day the ship "turned turtle" in Pearl Harbor.

Hinsperger, today a mail carrier, was a 22-year-old gunner's mate on Dec. 7, 1941.

He was ready for leave when he heard an officer's voice over the intercom: "Everyone man battle stations."

He thought it was strange because the sailors rarely drilled on Sunday — until he heard the next order, "Man stations on the double. Japs are after us."

Describing how he ran to work his position in the turret of a 14-inch gun, Hinsperger recalled the torpedoes hitting; the ship shaking intensely.

SHIP LISTED

As the ship listed starboard, he and nine others ran into the shell room.

Then, as the Oklahoma rolled upside down and water flooded the rooms, they began swimming — into an ammunition room.

"Miraculously," says Hinsperger, "one of the men had a flashlight. We found a trunk, a passageway going straight up and down, and swam to it."

The water was within two feet of the room's ceiling when the men climbed up the trunk, — really going one story deeper into the overturned ship — where they found a "lucky bag," a water-tight compartment for storing clothes.

'LUCKY FOR US'

"And it was lucky for us," Hinsperger said.

They closed the door before the water reached them and waited. They slept, talked and waited for uncounted time.

"It all happened so quickly that no one had time to react emotionally. But as we waited, no one seemed to panic. I don't think any of us really realized the situation we were in, and I'm not sure many of us thought we'd get out alive," he recalled.

The white-haired postman recalls betting a Bostonian, Stephen Young, $1 that they'd never get out alive.

"UNCOLLECTABLE" "I figured I'd never have to pay up," chuckled Hinsperger.

Young, now a career Navy man, displayed the dollar bill on a national television program about Pearl Harbor two weeks ago.

The trapped men thought they heard tapping sounds so one grabbed a wrench and pounded on the bulkheads.

Workers cutting through the ship's bottom to search for survivors located the nine men.

The rescuers cut a "pencil-sized" hole in the bulkhead preparatory to sawing one large enough for a man.

"As they cut through, all of the room's air pressure escaped in a long whistling (Continued on Page A-13, Col. 3)

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Clyde E. Triplett, 21, was charged with murder today in the slaying of Dr. Neil Holland Sullenberger, formerly of Pontiac.

Sullenberger, who had practiced in Michigan and Texas before coming here Nov. 17, had been missing since Nov. 17 when he left John Gaston Hospital, where he had been working as an emergency room supervisor.

His body was found Sunday floating in a Wolf River sand pit.

Police Commissioner Claude Armour said police found four men who had abandoned the doctor's 1966 car near Stanton, Tenn., and these men in turn led them to Triplett.

An autopsy showed that Sullenberger had been beaten and shot twice. (Earlier story, page D-7).

ELEVATED ACCIDENT — Dangling from overhead tracks, this elevated train car rests on an automobile after derailling today in Chicago. The wheels of another train car are in the foreground. One person was killed and 25 injured when the derailment occurred at a rail station on the South Side. The train was headed south after discharging its morning rush crowd at the Loop.

Rights Drive Slowed, Not Halted—Wilkins

By PAT MCCARTY

The civil rights movement has been checked, but not halted, in 1966, Roy Wilkins told an Oakland University audience yesterday.

The executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) addressed nearly 1,000 persons, mostly students, in OU's Sports and Recreation Building.

Wilkins listed setbacks Negroes have faced in education, housing, employment, police relations and legislation, and said the worst was the failure of the Congress to enact a 1966 civil rights bill.

The effect of "white backlash" in the elections of members to the 90th Congress cannot be ignored, he said, but this will not deter Negroes in their striving for equal opportunity.

"The mere existence of re-juvenated opposition to the civil rights movement is testimony to its forward movement," Wilkins said at a press conference following his speech. "If there were no forward movement, there would be no frantic effort to stop it."

MORE SUBTLE

It remains to be seen, he said, whether Negroes and their friends will be able to combat the more subtle forms of opposition to the civil rights movement today.

Wilkins said it is presumed the U. S. is entering a period when congressmen will use the Viet Nam war, inflation and other issues to confuse and "hamstring" the war on poverty and civil rights causes.

Demonstrations in behalf of civil rights are not as useful as they once were, he noted. They have served two purposes — to call attention to a long-ignored situation and to involve people on a wide scale.

Now, Wilkins suggested, young people could better channel their energy into such projects as voter registration drives, tutorial programs and slum dwelling surveys. The NAACP is encouraging programs in these directions, he said.

'UNREALISTIC'

Wilkins described as "extremely unrealistic" the theory that Negro leaders should be able to "control" Negro urban concentrations.

Wilkins criticized a society in which "murderers of Negroes go free... police mistreatment is glossed over... civil rights legislation is killed and the enforcement of existing laws is hamstringing."

When these conditions exist and "housing, employment and school policies represent stubborn stand-patism, no honest Negro leadership can ignore the cold facts and seek to generate confidence in a zero."

Wilkins noted that in a very real sense the fate of racial peace is in the hands of white Americans.

"If, as some predict and others fear, we are to have a 'conservative' Congress, then the maintenance of racial peace will present problems," he said.

"Contrary to the popular tale, the Negro is now so far down in all categories that any slowdown imposed on his forward movement will be in effect a complete halt."

Two Youths Assassinate Viet Politico

OU VISITOR — Roy Wilkins (left); executive director of the NAACP, chats with Oakland University Chancellor D. B. Varner before delivering his speech on "Human Rights in 1966" at the university yesterday. Nearly 1,000 persons, mostly students, turned out to hear the third nationally prominent person to appear in OU's current University Speakers Series.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two youthful gunmen assassinated a leading South Vietnamese politician in Saigon today, and police announced that one of the assassins confessed he was a Viet Cong terrorist.

The gunman, still at close range from a motorcycle, killed 58-year-old Tran Van as he rode in his car to his office.

A short time later, one of the pair was seized when he fell off the motorcycle near the residence of U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. The other assassin escaped.

The captured youth was identified as Vo Van En, about 20.

After questioning him all day, the police made the announcement that he was a Viet Cong ordered to kill Van.

LEADER IN ASSEMBLY

Van, a wealthy, Paris-educated landowner long prominent in Vietnamese politics, was a leading member of the Constituent Assembly which is writing a constitution for South Viet Nam.

Draft Overhaul Call Expected at Confab

CHICAGO (AP) — A national draft conference is expected to call today for a major overhaul of the nation's Selective Service System — with the emphasis on limiting the authority of local draft boards.

The consensus seemingly emerged after more than four days of wrangling debate on the draft and its alternatives.

The conferees made it clear that they agreed, along with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, that the present draft laws are a haze of inequities.

The Massachusetts Democrat told a news conference last night that revision of the draft will emerge as "one of the most important and significant issues Congress will address itself to in the next few months."

"There is a concern around the country about the draft," Kennedy added. "It is foremost in the minds of our young people."

He predicted Congress would act because the present Selective Service laws are not always fair, lack flexibility and have no degree of predictability.

Gov. George Romney in Lansing, Mich., today said he has written to the chairman of the National Advisory Commission on Selective Service, urging a congressional review of the national draft system.

The conferees listened yesterday to at least four proposals for national service.

County Gives Partial Support to Airport Deal

T-Hangars' Retention by City Is Vetoed by Special Committee

By JOE MULLEN

Transfer of ownership of Pontiac Municipal Airport from the City of Pontiac to Oakland County received initial county endorsement today, but a bargaining issue looms.

Oakland County's special six-member committee engaged in a study of the airport acquisition recommended that three parts of the city's offer to transfer the airport to the county be recommended, but the fourth consideration was vetoed by the committee.

Agreement was reached on the provision that the county deed to the city its parking lot at Huron and Saginaw, the site of the former county courthouse.

Also agreed upon was that the county would deed its building at 1 Lafayette and nearby parking area to the city.

Committee members concurred also with the third point of the city's proposal that the county be allowed to occupy the building at 1 Lafayette rent-free until Dec. 31, 1968.

The point of disagreement was the fourth provision of the city's offer calling for retention of ownership by the city of 30 T-hangars at the airport during the period the county continues to occupy the 1 Lafayette property.

Today's committee action, taken at a closed-door session, still has two hurdles to clear at the county level before becoming a formal proposal.

It must win the approval Friday in a joint meeting of three committees of the County Board of Supervisors, ways and means, building and grounds and aviation.

Then the recommended land transfer will become an issue at a meeting of the 86-member board of supervisors next Wednesday.

If approved by the full board, the land transfer's fate will rest with the City Commission.

California Flood

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — National Guardsmen evacuated some 200 families from their homes in the Porterville area today as central California's worst storm in a decade sent the Tule River over its banks.

Dark, Dismal Days Due

Dark, dismal and dreary with rain is the outlook for Pontiac area residents tonight, tomorrow and Friday.

Temperatures are expected to register a balmy 43 to 50 tonight, rise to a high of 50 to 55 tomorrow, then turn colder Friday.

Variable morning winds at 5 to 15 miles per hour will become south-to-southeast tonight.

Fifty was the low reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 3 a.m. At 2 p.m. the mercury stood at 46.

Including anthropologist Margaret Mead's suggestion that everybody — women, too — be asked to perform some national duty.

Her proposal was bluntly criticized by other delegates, some of whom described it as just another form of coercion because young men would be faced either with the draft or with compulsory national service.

Shoppers Find Something for All in Glittering Silver

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the second in a nine-part series on shopping tips for Christmas gift buying).

By JEANNE NELSON

If all that glitters isn't gold, it must be silver. Shoppers will find the shimmering color in great abundance this Christmas season throughout area stores.

Chiffon scarfs in vivid colors are bordered in silver sequins to wear after dark. They can be purchased for about $3. Pinching pennies is "in" as a silver-plated "piggy bank" that costs about $7.

For teens following the pierced-car fad, there are tiny silver earrings under $2. Pendant watches, too, will tick away the hours of 1967 in their silver settings. Prices run from $13 to $20.

Just right for the glamor gal is the new hostess ensemble. This is nothing but layer upon layer of silver sequins over white silk. The top is sleeveless with graceful long colletes. The price is about $100. High-heeled silver slippers for less than $9 complete the look.

Silver plate bread baskets will add elegance to any holiday table. These run from $9 to $16. Long-burning butane candles can be found this season in a silver color priced close to $5.

CHARMS FOR BIG AND LITTLE

For big girls and little ones, too, there are sterling silver charms to add to her collection. Most run from $1.50 to $4. Real stones are found in antique reproductions of pierced earrings with sterling silver mountings. These semiprecious jewelry items run from $18 to $60.

Men will come in for the silver treatment, too. A six-ounce bottle of popular cologne is contained in a silver candle at $10. With the return of the identification bracelet, shoppers will be able to choose between silver plate or sterling from $5 to $17.

LBJ to Ask $9 Billion More for War

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson estimates Vietnam war costs between $8 billion and $10 billion more than earlier budget projections by $9 billion to $10 billion.

He plans to ask Congress next month for a supplemental appropriation to bridge the gap, he told a news conference Tuesday in his Federal Building office suite.

Key Witness Forces Delay in Cheyz Trial

By JIM LONG

The bribery trial of White Lake Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz was recessed early today when a key prosecution witness, Mrs. Estella Dawson, broke down and cried under cross-examination.

She told Circuit Judge William J. Beer that she did not want to continue until her attorney was present.

"I'm sorry that I ever got into this mess," cried the 66-year-old widow as she stepped down from the witness stand.

The incident occurred while Cheyz's attorney, Joseph Louisell, was questioning her about matters leading up to the arrest of Richard Hanson, former public relations director for the Oakland County Planning Department, and the later charges brought against Cheyz by the Oakland County Grand Jury.

Cheyz is accused of conspiring with Hanson to make a deal whereby he would use his influence to secure a parcel of property rezoned so that Mrs. Dawson could develop an apartment complex.

'Legislature's Work Undone'

Romney: Tax Base Lacking for Programs

LANSING (AP) — Republican Gov. George Romney told the departing Democratic Legislature today its two-year record would be "impressive, but incomplete."

In a special message to members of the 1965-66 Legislature, which met today for an expected brief adjournment session, Romney said the lawmakers' record is "incomplete in the sense that it creates serious problems for the new Legislature which will be convened next month."

What he meant, Romney said, is that the Legislature enacted new programs without providing what he termed "an adequate and equitable tax base" to finance them.

In fiscal 1967-68, the governor said, projected revenue of $945 million will be added to a beginning surplus of $73 million for a total of $1,018 million.

He predicted a "standstill" budget, which "includes no new programs or any enrichment of present programs," would cost $1,107 million and cause a deficit of $89 million.

And the estimated $73 million surplus may be too high, he added, because an accelerated mental health program and the state's new "Medicaid" program may be costing more than has been appropriated for them.

"These projections, as I have indicated, assume no new programs," he said. "They do not include the $21.5 million increase in state sales taxes recently approved by the Civil Service Commission."

"They do not allow for increases in school aid or facility salary increases for colleges and universities. They allow for no increase in state funds to halt water pollution."

Deaths as the result of accidents jumped from the three-year average of two to five for 1965, nonfatal injury accidents increased from an average of 248 to 290; and property damage accidents increased from a 698 to 786.

Along with his commendations, the council made several recommendations for improving the city's traffic safety efforts.

It strongly recommended that citizens become more involved in traffic safety. The key to traffic safety is teamwork, the report stated, and officials and citizens must work together with each assisting their rightful responsibility.

The city's traffic engineering is in "excellent shape," according to the report, but its record for arrests of violators in accidents is less impressive.

The council recommended that an effort be made to discover and arrest a higher proportion of violators in accidents.

One of the few criticisms was leveled at the number of convictions on pedestrian violation charges. There were none in 1965.

Both Ford Motor Co. and American Motors said they had no immediate plans for layoffs but added they were considering some form of cost-cut.

Earlier this week, GM and Chrysler announced production cutbacks that would put industry-wide December auto production at less than 70,000 units below the same month last year.

General Motors announced Nov. 18 a two-stage production cut totaling 8.3 per cent. The first step took effect this month with several thousand GM employees laid off around the country.

Although Treasury and Budget Bureau officials earlier had recommended announcement of a tax decision by about Dec. 10, the chief executive gave no indication he'll tip his hand that soon.

Actually, the question has been up in the air for nearly 10 months.

The new money request for Vietnam War will boost the defense budget to $67 billion and $68 billion for the 1967 fiscal year that began July 1. That compares with a budget estimate last January of $68.5 billion.

How much of the defense total is being spent on the war, no one will say.

Johnson made his announcement after devoting much of the day to conferences with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Johnson went on to say, in response to another inquiry, that he would not speculate whether the new Vietnam War cost estimate plus results of the business investment survey would make a tax hike more or less likely.

"The answer is yes," Johnson replied. "It gives me help. If you are trying to find out if a decision has been made, it has not been."

New Appointee Named for School Board Post

BIRMINGHAM — The board of education last night appointed a new member to replace E. Ross Hansen, whose resignation becomes effective Dec. 31.

The new appointee is Mrs. George N. Hingee, 1966 Dunblaine, Beverly Hills, who will complete the current year of Hansen's term.

In other action, the board approved a new salary schedule for its administrators.

The raises, which vary with the position, averaged about $2,500.

The base salary for elementary principals increased from $8,190 to $12,900; for senior high principals, $9,375 to $14,600; and for the deputy superintendent, $10,170 to $15,200.

Walter J. Pie, administrative assistant, said all building recommendations made by the planners are already "on the drawing boards."

The eventual population does not warrant a third high school, according to the report.

The school district can expect an ultimate population increase of 3,500 pupils with the peak period around 1971 or 1972, according to a report presented to the board last night.

Prepared by Villacian-Leman Associates, Inc. of Southfield, the report also recommended that the district maintain two high schools instead of three as has been considered a possibility.

CLAYTON B. LEACH

Pontiac Names Design Chief

The appointment of Clayton B. Leach as executive engineer in charge of design for Pontiac Motor Division was announced today by Stephen P. Malone, chief engineer.

For the past three years, Leach, 54, has been assistant chief engineer for Adam Opel General Motors' German subsidiary.

Leach will be in charge of body and chassis design and engineering releases and specifications groups.

The appointment is effective immediately.

Leach originally joined Pontiac in 1937 as a draftsman. He later served as assistant motor engineer and chassis engineer before becoming executive engineer in 1961. He assumed his Germany assignment in March 1963.

GM INSTITUTE

Born in Birch Run, Leach is a graduate of Park College and the General Motors Institute.

He is married and has a daughter and two sons. He lives at 2210 Lake Angelus Shore, Lake Angelus Village.

Safety Plaudit to Birmingham

Traffic Efforts Draw Council Pat on Back

By JANICE KLOUSER

Birmingham received a verbal pat on the back from the National Safety Council yesterday for its traffic safety efforts in 1965.

State Police Sgt. Fay Johnson, who presented the annual traffic inventory for the Safety Council, said if the council had given awards this year, Birmingham would have received one for its "outstanding report."

Although the report shows that fatal accidents in 1965 increased 100 per cent over a previous three-year average, the figures are somewhat misleading, Johnson said.

In 1965, there were two fatal accidents compared to the 1962-1964 average of one.

Deaths as the result of accidents jumped from the three-year average of two to five for 1965, nonfatal injury accidents increased from an average of 248 to 290; and property damage accidents increased from a 698 to 786.

Along with his commendations, the council made several recommendations for improving the city's traffic safety efforts.

It strongly recommended that citizens become more involved in traffic safety. The key to traffic safety is teamwork, the report stated, and officials and citizens must work together with each assisting their rightful responsibility.

The city's traffic engineering is in "excellent shape," according to the report, but its record for arrests of violators in accidents is less impressive.

The council recommended that an effort be made to discover and arrest a higher proportion of violators in accidents.

One of the few criticisms was leveled at the number of convictions on pedestrian violation charges. There were none in 1965.

Both Ford Motor Co. and American Motors said they had no immediate plans for layoffs but added they were considering some form of cost-cut.

Earlier this week, GM and Chrysler announced production cutbacks that would put industry-wide December auto production at less than 70,000 units below the same month last year.

General Motors announced Nov. 18 a two-stage production cut totaling 8.3 per cent. The first step took effect this month with several thousand GM employees laid off around the country.

Soviet Missile Estimate Low

McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says U.S. intelligence experts underestimated the number of ocean-spanning missiles the Soviet Union will have in place by mid-1968.

But he says U.S. estimates of the number of long-range missiles now deployed by the Soviets are "remarkably accurate."

McNamara's disclosures, made Tuesday as he talked with newsmen at President Johnson's Texas office, followed his postelection announcement last month that the Soviets are erecting an antimissile defense around major cities.

McNamara made these points:

* The United States still maintains a 3 or 4 to 1 advantage over the Soviet Union in intercontinental ballistic missiles.

* Even if new intelligence estimates for mid-1968 Soviet nuclear strength are correct, the United States will hold a "substantial quantitative and qualitative lead" without taking any actions beyond those already planned and financed this fiscal year.

* Heading against a possible intelligence error, the United States accelerated development of the submarine-launched Poseidon missile, pushed work on penetration aids to insure that missiles get through any enemy defense, and decided to deploy the improved, land-based Minuteman III ICBM.

Along with his commendations, the council made several recommendations for improving the city's traffic safety efforts.

Local Goodfellows Fall Far Short of Goal

"There's going to be a lot of kids without a Christmas basket — we've never had anything like this before."

In those words, Pontiac Police Lt. William Nesbitt dejectedly summed up the poorest Goodfellows newspaper sale in memory. Final receipts from the drive totaled about $400, just over 25 per cent of the $1,500 goal.

Nesbitt, president of Metropolitan Club Spirit No. 6 — composed of city police, fire, and postal personnel said only five club members were actually selling special editions of The Pontiac Press.

"I think the money was out there and people were willing to give it," he said, "but we just didn't have the men on the streets."

Last year's drive netted about $1,000.

NEW APPROACH?

Nesbitt hinted a different approach might be needed for a successful Goodfellows sale next year.

"We're considering asking for assistance from other groups," he said. "This was tried once before, but was not real successful."

He also pointed out this year's drive could be pushed higher through continued mail to Pontiac Post Office, c/o Spirit No. 6.

There Are Technicalities In Student Support

Take Full Advantage of Tax-Savings Now

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first in a two-part series on how to save money on your income tax "before" the year has ended.)

By RAY DE CRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

By the end of December all doors will have closed on your opportunity to trim your 1966 income tax.

After Dec. 31, the only thing you can do is to take full advantage of every tax-saving device on a fixed set of figures. So the moves you make in these few days can establish a successful savings pattern before all opportunity is lost.

This opportunity for reducing your yearly tax is available whether you are a low, medium or high bracket taxpayer. These are the three areas to watch carefully — income, exemptions, deductions.

Many people are in a position to control their income in the final month and set the stage themselves for diverting income from one year to the next.

A doctor, dentist, architect, accountant or lawyer, to cite a few groups, can defer income until next year by the expedient of delaying billing to patients or clients. This type of move would be made by one who already has substantial earnings for the year and is fearful of moving into too high a tax bracket with the addition of still more income.

HIGHER TAX POSSIBLE

Deferring income is a risk at best. You are gambling on the unknown — what the next 12 months might bring. Furthermore, there is a possibility of a higher tax rate for next year that would minimize any possible gain in a postponement of income. Safest move in this direction is to let it go natural and take the income when it normally comes due.

Time might be better spent establishing definitely your exemptions and credits for dependents.

Do you have a son or daughter who graduated from high school or college last June and then started to work? Perhaps you furnished total support until graduation time.

But how will you fare when support is reckoned on the full year's basis? Remember, unless you furnished the chief support for the full year you can't claim the dependent on your return.

WEIGH CAREFULLY

Weigh carefully your contributions toward support as contrasted to the support furnished by your son or daughter. If the amount is fairly equal, perhaps an additional expenditure on your part this month could swing the balance in your favor and give you an additional $600

Perhaps you are helping to support an aged parent. Again chief support is required before the dependency credit is allowed. An additional $50 check before year end might save you money if your claim is now a borderline one. additional $50 check before year's end might save you money if your claim is now a

Remember, too, that the medical expense deduction for persons over 65 changes drastically beginning Jan. 1. If you are furnishing the chief support of your mother or father, then all the medical expenses you pay for them are fully deductible on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

In 1967, medical deductions for senior citizens will be handled as they are for all under-65 taxpayers, that is, not deductible until they exceed 3 per cent of total income.

PAY BEFORE YEAR ENDS

If you have any unpaid medical bills for your over-65 parent whom you are supporting, be sure to pay them before year's end. It could be advantageous to borrow the money to make the payment and win the deduction.

Next, quickly review your allowable deductions — contributions, medical expenses for yourself and your children (if you are under 65, remember only the excess of 3 per cent of income is deductible), interest, taxes and "miscellaneous" deductions.

Compare your tentative total with your alternatives — 10 per cent of income, $1,000 if income is $10,000 or higher.

If you plan to settle for a flat deduction allowance instead of itemizing, then defer until next year, if possible, payment on any deductible items.

WORTHWHILE

If you are close to the flat allowance figure, then pack in this month all those deductible items you can so that it will be worth your while to itemize.

FBI Joins Probe in Killings of State Girl, Woman

DETROIT (AP) — The FBI Tuesday moved into the investigations of the slayings of two suburban Detroit women. Police said they still were not sure whether there was any connection between the two murders.

The FBI's Detroit office said it would check to see if any federal law had been violated.

The victims, Eileen Marie Alex, 18, of Allen Park, Mich., and Mrs. Janet Stewart, 22, of Dearborn Heights, Mich., had lived in adjacent suburbs.

The body of Miss Alex was found near South Bend, Ind.,

Nov. 25. She was shot to death. Mrs. Stewart's body was discovered in a creek bed near Dry Ridge, Ky., 30 miles south of Cincinnati, a day later. She had been strangled.

TWO MEN SOUGHT

Two men, identified as Robert Lee Gawne, 27, formerly of the Detroit area, and Thomas Banks, 23, with no known address, were being sought for questioning in the Stewart slaying.

They were last seen driving a yellow Mustang, reported to be the one driven by Mrs. Stewart at the time of her disappearance, near Baggs, Wyo., Sunday. Sheriff C. W. Ogburn of Carbon County, Wyo., said he believed the two men, sought on a burglary warrant in Wyoming, were headed for Mexico.

"Gawne was in Lincoln Park around the time when Miss Alex disappeared," said Sgt. John L. Morin of Dearborn Heights Police.

He said Gawne and Banks returned to Lincoln Park and left again about the time Mrs. Stewart vanished.

Morin said the two men and the victims "ran around pretty much with the same crowd" but he said he had no evidence that the victims and Gawne and Banks were acquainted.

Morin said he hoped to question Philip Adams, a friend of Mrs. Stewart, who reportedly was on his way to Detroit from South Portsmouth, Ky.

The possibility of a link between the two slayings cropped up Sunday when police in Hawling, Wyo., said Gawne and Banks may be connected with the two killings.

Sheriff William J. Locks of St. Joseph County, Ind., said later, however, he knew of no information placing one of the two fugitives in the missing Alex car. She was driving a 1965 bronze Plymouth when she vanished. Locks said evidence linking the slayings was "pretty sketchy."

Mrs. Stewart left Dearborn Heights in a yellow Mustang 10 days before she was found slain.

Japanese Cast Die at Pearl Harbor

Today marks the 25th anniversary of the Day of Infamy—the Day that the Japanese military launched its sneak attack on Pearl Harbor and drew the United States into World War II.

The attack—Incredible as it sounded to millions of Americans listening contentedly to their radios on a Sunday afternoon—resulted in the worst one-action loss ever inflicted on the American Navy: 2,403 seamen killed, 1,178 wounded, 18 ships stricken.

(All but two battleships Arizona and Oklahoma—were salvaged and reactivated.)

With the passage of time, the events leading up to the disaster and assessment of responsibility for our vulnerability to enemy attack become increasingly complex and inconclusive.

But with American-Japanese diplomatic relations grown critical during the preceding year and outbreak of hostilities virtually certain, American intelligence proved unexplained by tragically incompetent—further sapped by lack of meaningful communication between the U.S. military high command in Washington and Army and Navy commanders at Pearl Harbor.

In the context of history and as an act of incalculable international significance, Pearl Harbor may well have served a necessary purpose—grim and tragic as was its price.

On the assumption that the nazism of the crazed Hitler had to be stopped before it overran the world, and given the apathy on this side of the Atlantic toward the distant ideological threat, the stunning blow at Pearl Harbor could be viewed as the necessary catalyst arousing and uniting America for the long ordeal of arms ahead.

But we will never know. Fate and History stop short of spelling out definitive alternatives.

History Points to Horrors of Rampant Tribalism

Perhaps it is because we are used to news of turmoil, but the recent massacre of hundreds of Ibo tribesmen in Hausa territory in Nigeria and the retaliatory massacre of Hausa tribesmen in Ibo territory elicited little notice in this country.

There are more than 700 different ethnic groups living south of the Sahara. Nigeria, on the verge of breaking up, is a prime example of the problems tribalism can cause.

Africa's tribes are being asked to put aside centuries of isolation and "emerge" as sovereign nations. Of 36 new nations admitted to the United Nations since 1960, no less than 27 are African.

The so-called Afro-Asian bloc of 72 nations already constitutes two-thirds of the membership in the world body.

Europe itself once had a tribal problem. CAESAR wrote of the Gauls, the Alemanni, the Goths—names for a collection of innumerable rival tribes. These barbarians eventually overran the civilized world and plunged it into centuries of darkness before they gradually forged themselves into nations which only in our time have made progress toward living in peace.

Ibos and Hausas—strange names, but ones we cannot afford to ignore.

War's Weaponry Has Added Ballots to Bullets

Observing that America's involvement in Viet Nam has brought a new wrinkle to warfare—the publicity war—a national magazine wonders what some of the decisive battles in history would have been like if this democratic approach had existed in the past.

A Roman scribe, for instance, might have written:

"A sharp debate has broken out among the generals, tribunes, procurators and publicans in Cisalpine Gaul as to the advisability of GAIUS JULIUS CAESAR's crossing the Rubicon.

For Crossing Rubicon LVIII% Against XXXIII% Don't Know XIX% "Standing outside his purple tent surrounded by the golden eagle of Rome, CAESAR read this brief statement:

"There is nothing sacred about the XLVth parallel. Except for a few nervous Nullae, I think the majority of legionnaires and citizens, as shown by this spot poll here in my pocket, are behind me in the Rubicon thing... After all, I am merely trying to bring Pompeii to the negotiating table."

Fishing Was Poor on That Day...

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—Twenty-five years ago today was a gray day, cold, even in Louisiana. I was fishing in Salt Bayou, 30 miles from New Orleans, with a man who had taught English in some of the best schools in the East. He had an elegant touch, even toward fish. We didn't catch any.

And when the sun began to dissolve behind the trees we went across the bayou, into the channel with the tall grass, kept the outboard motor low. We pulled up at the wharf near Big Sam's boat house. The little man who worked for him came skipping and hopping down to see us.

"This place is loaded with crappies," he said. "You ought to try them." We did. He kept telling us where they were: here, there, there. But we didn't get any. We were shaking in the cold. The sun was gone. We pecked up and went up to the boat house.

Big Sam was there, behind the counter where he sold soft drinks and sandwiches. But he hardly said hello to us. He was looking up at a radio on a shelf on the wall, and listening. There were two strangers there, too, looking up and listening.

And the voice on the radio was saying the Japanese had sunk the battleship Arizona. We thought we had come in late on a program. I asked Sam what the program was. He said there was no program. He said the Japanese had attacked Pearl Harbor. I asked him if he was kidding. He said: "No, just listen." The voice was saying more.

FORGOT ABOUT IT

I looked at the little man who had been jumping up and down about the crappies. I asked him: "Did you know about the Japanese when you came down to the dock?" He said: "Yes." I said: "Why didn't you tell us?" He said: "I never thought about it."

The English teacher and I listened a few minutes more. We walked out into the dark cold. Then, and I don't know why, we suddenly shook hands as if we were saying goodbye to each other or to something.

And one of us said: "This is where our lives change." And they did. And, while the little man who liked crappies forgot about Pearl Harbor, practically nobody else has, ever since, or could.

There were a lot of changes. For, while trying to blow up Pearl Harbor was just a part of World War II, what really blew up was the roof of a world which had become a mixed bag of blessings and dismay for the next quarter of a century.

REARRANGING FURNITURE

Has man learned much from World War II? Not much, basically. In many ways he has only rearranged the furniture.

And there is no one alive able to predict whether man suffered enough or learned enough from World War II to avoid World War III.

David Lawrence Says:

Soviet Satellite Plight Ignored

WASHINGTON—The biggest paradox of our times appears to be unnoticed by the peoples of the free world.

Plenty of indignation is being voiced because a white minority in Rhodesia will not allow the right of self-determination to be exercised by the black majority in that country.

But, ironically, nobody seems to care about the fate of the white majority not only in the Soviet Union but in the six Communist countries of eastern Europe and the three former Baltic states, which are frequently referred to as "captive nations" because their present regimes were imposed by Moscow.

A small minority known as the Communist party rules the Soviet Union and insists that there shall be no opposition. Nobody can vote against the party in power. The same thing is true in Poland, East Germany, Hungary and the other countries in the Communist bloc.

It is surprising that even the United Nations is being urged by some of the African nations to enforce "sanctions" on Rhodesia in order to punish the white minority. But no such measures are being suggested to deal with the exercise of a dominant authority by the white minorities in each of the Communist-bloc countries.

Would the same thing be true if the Communist party consisted only of white, and the vast majority of the people in the Soviet Union, Poland, East Germany and Hungary were black? Would there be talk of "sanctions" to punish the minority for its refusal to grant liberty to the majority of the population in each country?

EASY ANSWER

The answer is not hard to find. For only the small, white minorities who rule colored majorities are assaulted today, while white majorities are suffering an agony of enslavement.

Is this because the members of the United Nations are afraid to band together and take collective action to establish freedom for the majority of the population in each of the "captive" countries?

It is easy enough to punish the white minority in Rhodesia and to cut off the trade of that country and inflict hardships on the entire population—all in the name of human freedom.

But commendable as is the objective of those who want to see the majority rule in Rhodesia, there is an obvious inconsistency in the unwillingness of the principal nations of the world today to do anything about the subjugation of vast numbers of people—indeed, the majority—in each of the Communist countries.

Until public opinion throughout the world insists that the principle be applied everywhere, not just where black people are concerned, there will be little progress made toward the establishment of equal rights for all majorities.

JAKARTA—It is not enough to say that years of autocratic rule by Sukarno left Indonesia, a nation of 107 million persons, in chaotic state.

The country, sixth largest in the world and fifth in population will continue for some time in chaos under apparently responsible leadership which has stripped Sukarno of most of his powers.

Habits acquired during years of abject poverty and rule by fiat cannot be altered in weeks, months or probably years. Gen. Suharto's team has been in charge since last March 10.

In the opinion of America's able ambassador, Marshall Green, "the new order" could very well work the miracle of turnaround if given a proper helping hand by all the powers who have a stake in wanting to keep these people out of the grip of Peking.

But a surface view to this visitor offers scant change from what things were like three years ago. Sukarno was at the peak of his nutty reign.

Corruption hangs over the decaying remains of Sukarno's political machine.

His handpicked members of Parliament whose salaries are actually $4 a month, continue to tool around in expensive foreign cars and hire themselves out to their mountain retreats and mistresses each weekend. They'll bite like mad to keep their seats in the 1968 elections, if any.

Indonesia owes $2.4 billion, $1 billion of it to Russia. There is no chance of paying this debt at present or in the foreseeable future, however noble the intentions of Gen. Suharto. Gen. Nasution, Foreign Minister Adnan Malik and the others now trying to steer this almost rulerless ship.

has not been cured. It has only been arrested.

Sukarno still holds the title of president and prime minister. He lives as grandly as ever with his wives and girls. His romanticized picture is on every piece of paper money and on virtually every wall, silently commanding people not to listen to dastards who clipped his power and want to introduce the evils of honesty, integrity and clean living into this diseased paradise.

Professionals Strike

Chicago Tribune

Striking teachers picketed Chicago's eight junior colleges in a lawless attempt to force the junior college board to negotiate on a contract with the teachers' union. The board filed suit in circuit court for an injunction against the strike and it was granted promptly by Judge Daniel A. Covel.

This strike is the first in Illinois involving college teachers, who in the past have prided themselves on their standing as professionals. Several walkouts of elementary and high school teachers and custodial employees have taken place in recent years. There is no question about the illegality of these strikes. The Supreme Court of Illinois, firmly declared that it is unlawful for school employees to strike and to picket in support of their strike.

The decision was rendered in a case strikingly similar to the Chicago junior college dispute. A group of custodial employees of public schools in Bond County walked out and set up picket lines in an effort to compel the school board to bargain collectively. The local circuit court refused to enjoin the strike. On appeal, the supreme court reversed

Voice of the People:

Proposal Needs Approval for Mental Health Funds

A Federal staffing grant of $250,000 would go to Pontiac State Hospital to develop a health center to serve the surrounding locality. The center's services would include an emergency in-patient clinic, and out-patient clinic, as well as a consultation and education program. Why the County Mental Health Board would block a grant that would help insure these critically needed services is a mystery to us. If this grant is not given approval before January 1, 1967, the funds are in danger of being lost.

The Board's last meeting before the January 1 deadline will be on December 9. If this Board does not reach a decision or resolve a solution by that time, our needed mental health services will again be delayed.

If the Board rejects this proposal, they will be short-changing themselves and the county mental health program, and also will be denying services to those troubled adults and children who want help now.

Comments on Bus Cancellation Reports

Monday, students were at the bus stop because we were told by the radio station that Waterford Township High School would be open and buses running, but they would be late. After students left home, the school changed the plans and closed.

We received a memorandum from the school stating they would check road conditions at 4:30 a.m. and we would know by the 6:30 news. We feel this statement is false, as twice this year this has happened.

Replies to Comment on Conduct of Youth

To "A Concerned Citizen," are you really a Negro? Then sign your name and be accountable for when you choose to ridicule the Negro race. I don't condone the activities you witnessed, but I know another large percentage of Negro students who don't fit into your category and who are very much ready for equality.

If you feel so strongly about curbing the abusive language to make "our" people ready, why don't you turn to organizations who are responsible to our youth, like the Urban League, N.A.A.P.C., etc., instead of the Pontiac Press which commends your penetrating analysis against Negro children. I still question your racial heritage.

Question and Answer

We've been wondering if and when Elizabeth Lake Road will be widened from the Mall to MSB. The traffic is lined up half a mile some hours of the day. Why don't they at least widen the new entrance to the Mall?

WONDERING

REPLY

Mr. Grady of Oakland County Road Commission reports several ideas have been suggested for handling the traffic in that location but at the present time nothing definite has been decided.

the lower court, holding that a strike of municipal employees for any purpose is illegal.

The supreme court noted that it could see no compelling difference between striking teachers and striking custodial employees, adding that "to be thorough and efficient, school operations cannot depend upon the whim of its employees, or their union, or others, but must necessarily be controlled only by duly constituted and qualified school officials."

The court went on to say: "The underlying basis for the policy against strikes by public employees is the sound and demanding notion that governmental functions may not be impeded or obstructed, as well as the concept that the profit motive, inherent in the principle of free enterprise, is absent in the governmental function."

The principles set forth by the supreme court were accepted by Circuit Judge Cornelius J. Harrington last February when he ruled that the Chicago board of education could hold an election to determine a sole bargaining agent for teachers. He held, however, that any agreement which the board entered into with a teachers' union must prohibit strikes and disruptive picketing. In the hearing on this case the attorney for the teachers' union explicitly conceded that, under the supreme court's decision in the Greenville case, teachers in Illinois have no right to strike.

With this legal background, the Chicago board of junior colleges is on solid ground in its decision on a no-strike pledge from the union. "We cannot operate in an atmosphere of threat and expect either our teachers or staff to perform their proper function, nor expect our students to obtain a significant educational experience in such an atmosphere," said Dr. John W. Taylor, president of the board, in a letter to the union.

In view of the supreme court's decision, Judge Covel's decision was to be expected. If the teachers' union defies the courts there will have to be a showdown to determine who is running the government of Illinois.

Masons Will Be Installed

High Priest Carlston C. Carter of 4117 Silver Birch, Watford Township, will be installed in a ceremony for Oakland Chapter No. 5 Royal Arch Masons, Saturday.

The public installation of officers will be held at 8 p.m. at the Masonic Temple, 18½ E. Lawrence.

Other officers being installed are James Chipman of 6097 Ortonville, Independence Township, as treasurer; and Robert Byrnes of 122 Marquette, as secretary.

Building Fires Show Increase

The number of brush and grass fires in Waterford Township declined sharply last month, but there was a marked increase in building blazes.

Of last month's 29 fires, only four were of the brush and grass variety. However, 17 building fires were reported.

In October, when the township fire department answered 48 fire calls, 23 were classified brush and grass and 9 building fires.

A similar pattern occurred in November 1965 when 46 fires were extinguished.

The first 11 months this year, township firemen battled 496 fires, 22 more than for the same period last year.

DIRECT DAMAGE

However, direct fire damage through November last year totaled an estimated $212,710 against $179,775 the first 11 months this year.

Total number of alarms answered by township firemen last month, including rescue and emergency runs, was 45.

By comparison, 62 alarms were answered in October and 69 the previous November.

With one month remaining this year, township firemen have answered 739 alarms, the same amount answered the first 11 months of 1965.

Copter Units Aiding Thais, U.S. Admits

BANGKOK (UPI) — The United States acknowledged for the first time today that American helicopter units are helping Thai government troops in their anti-Communist guerrilla war in northeast Thailand.

"We do have some helicopters that are helping out until helicopters are available in sufficient quantity to take care of the situation," said Adm. Ulysses S. Grant Sharp, commander of U. S. forces in the Pacific.

Sharp arrived here for a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) military advisory council meeting.

There have been fears that the communist activity in Thailand could lead to a Viet Nam-type war in which American forces would be heavily committed.

The United States has acknowledged it has 25,000 men in the Asian kingdom, but authoritative estimates place the figure at 35,000. There are also five air bases in the country from which U.S. pilots fly up to half their bombing missions against Viet Nam.

PUBLIC CONFIRMATION

Sharp's statement to a Bangkok post newsmen was the first public confirmation by a high U.S. official that Americans are now directly involved in a second guerrilla war in Southeast Asia.

The presence of America helicopters in the Thai anti-guerrilla campaign was only divulged by reliable sources about two weeks ago.

Peking Bars Congressman

MANILA (AP) — Rep. Lester Wolff, D-N.Y., said today the Communist Chinese government had refused to grant him a visa to visit Red China.

The congressman applied for a visa at the Communist China Travel Agency in Hong Kong 10 days ago. His trip was approved by the U.S. State Department, but he said he would travel as a private citizen.

He said his request for a visa had been "a test of many statements by Red leaders who have said their hostility is not directed towards the American people but at our government."

"This action by the Chicomos of refusing to permit an American citizen to travel after the U.S. had extended its hand closes the door once more and underlines the emptiness of these statements," Wolff said.

The congressman said he planned to leave for South Viet Nam Thursday to check on reports that large amounts of U.S. aid is going into the black market.

What Quality Beef Does A&P Sell?

That's a fair question. But not an easy one to answer because we have our own quality standards, different from any other meat merchant.

These standards don't fit exactly the familiar terms you know for grades of meat. As an example, did you know that some beef, graded U. S. Choice, just doesn't meet our "Super-Right" specifications? It's true! You see... we don't buy by grade. We use our own high standards to bring you the best values.

That doesn't mean we don't approve of such grading—not at all. It just means we're very fussy about the beef we label "Super-Right." It stands to reason we have to be or A&P wouldn't be America's number one meat merchant.

If you haven't learned the true meaning of "Super-Right" Quality—try it. Let the taste be the test. After all, it doesn't matter what the label or grade is. It's the EAT in the MEAT that counts.

The EAT in the MEAT is unconditionally guaranteed in "Super-Right" Beef. Either you agree that the "Super-Right" Beef you buy is as flavorful, as tender as you think it should be or you get your money back.

Is it any wonder with a quality guarantee like that, that "Super-Right" Beef is the choice of thousands?

Pearl Harbor Survivors Recall Their Disbelief

By MALCOLM BARR

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (U) — More than a generation has passed, but tiny droplets of oil still filter to the surface of the water, bursting into a kaleidoscope of color above the sunken battleship Arizona.

Twenty-five years later, the memory of Dec. 7, 1941, lingers, a recollection of horror, of disbelief.

The men who died that day, 2,409 of them, now are names on the walls of a gleaming white memorial.

The memorial, inside Pearl Harbor, straddles the sunken battleship from which the oil still seeps and aboard which remain the bodies of 1,102 officers and men of the U.S. Navy.

Gene Lindsey of Jefferson City, Mo., president of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association, has led an unprecedented number of survivors to Hawaii for the 25th anniversary of the Japanese attack.

Lindsey was a signalman aboard the destroyer Chew, moored about 500 yards from famed Battleship Row when the first bombs fell.

"Everything happened all of a sudden," he recalled. "When the Arizona was hit, she just exploded."

A bomb set off the battleship's forward ammunition magazine. A "one-in-a-million" bomb went down her stack. She was hit by torpedoes. More bombs dropped on her decks and flames shot hundreds of feet into the air. Throughout that day, Pearl Harbor's waters—now so tranquil, so serene—were aflame with burning oil, with men struggling toward the shores of Ford Island.

In the 110 minutes the Japanese attack lasted, the U.S. Navy lost more men than it lost in the Spanish-American War, World War I, and Korea, combined.

It plunged the United States into World War II.

It was a lesson of unpreparedness, and something that military men say will not happen again.

Today, few ships are seen in the harbor. They come, they go. But there is never the assembly of warships like the fleet that was riding at anchor 25 years ago.

18 VESSELS BLASTED

On that day, 18 vessels were sunk or seriously damaged. Nine of the 18 were the battleships Arizona, California, Maryland, Nevada, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Utah, Tennessee and West Virginia.

The Utah, like the Arizona, went down with part of her crew trapped aboard. She remains a tomb for 58 men.

Most of the people who were there, or who lived in nearby Honolulu, say today it took them some time to realize that that Sunday morning attack was real.

Martin Vitousek, an associate geophysicist at the University of Hawaii, was with his father in a light plane when the Japanese bombers and torpedo planes dipped down over the Waianae mountain range and sped across the harbor.

Vitousek recalls shouting to his father, "Look! P40s." He was identifying the planes as U.S. fighters.

And Roy L. Vitousek replied, "P40s hell: They're Japanese."

Somehow, the two men got their tiny Aeronca down at Honolulu Airport, which also was used by the Army Air Corps at Hickam Field.

They dodged bullets as the Japanese began strafing, and made it to cover inside a hangar.

"The people there hadn't realized even then that it was the Japanese," Vitousek said.

Though one of the airport employees was dead, the others thought he'd been killed by an American plane whose pilot had forgotten to empty its guns.

At Hickam, Pvt. Frank Frucci of Niles, Mich., was waiting for his buddy, Bernard Cullinane of Kalamazoo, He looked at his watch.

"Bernie, it's five before eight. If we're going to make it to Mass, we'd better hurry," said Frucci, peering through a barracks window to see what all the noise was about.

At the same time, Pfc. Gabriel Christie of Brooklyn, N.Y., slapped a baseball into a glove, and hung around outside the same barracks waiting for friends. Hearing an explosion, he thought, "Heck, the Navy's working at war games on a Sunday."

In a few seconds, Hickam Field was also to feel the fury of the Japanese attackers.

More than 200 Army Air Corps men, some of them buddies of Frucci and Christie, were killed and more than 350 were injured as the attacked immobilized the grounded U.S. planes.

Hickam is adjacent to Pearl Harbor and was a prime target that day.

JOHNSON MESSAGE

Lindsey brought with him a message from President Johnson which will be read at the ceremonies by Paul H. Nitze, secretary of the Navy.

"All we want to do," said Lindsey of his fellow association members, "is remember Pearl Harbor... and our men who were killed. This is not just a trip to Hawaii for these men. There will be a lot of tears shed Wednesday and yours truly is not excluded."

Twenty-five years later—The memorial over the sunken battleship Arizona sits on shimmering water off Hickam Field at the big Navy base in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. This is approximately the view that Japanese pilots had 25 years ago today when they made their bombing runs that launched the United States' entry into World War II.

Yet Memories of Oppression Linger

Japan's Ties With Asians Improving

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Twenty-five years have passed since the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. What is Japan's image today in the lands it occupied before its defeat? Associated Press bureaus around Asia sought the answers.)

TOKYO (AP) — A quarter of a century after Pearl Harbor, Japan is again established as a giant among Asian nations. It wants to be a friendly giant.

Relations with its neighbors range from uncomfortable to cordial. They are steadily improving, with World War II fading into the past.

Yet memories of the war and earlier occupations linger in some places. And there is some fear of economic domination by resurgent Japanese industry.

Here is a country-by-country rundown of Japan's image in the eyes of other Asians:

PHILIPPINES

The Filipino is gradually losing his hatred of his former conquerors. A few pockets of resentment remain.

SINGAPORE

Many here still hate the Japanese. Unwritten immigration laws ban any Japanese involved in the occupation from returning. The government has urged people to forgive and forget.

INDONESIA

Japan is moving fast to gain a foothold in Indonesia. Particularly interested in developing oil fields, mining and industry, Japan gave Indonesia a $30-million credit this year.

MALAYSIA

Japanese advertisements flash in Malaysian cities. Japanese traffic includes businessmen, tourists, Peace Corps volunteers, aid missions and nightclub performers.

The economic invasion is likened by one merchant to the military invasion of 25 years ago. But this time, he said, "The Japanese are welcome — they offer all the good things in life, carpets to pearls, at a cheaper price."

NATIONALIST CHINA

The shadow of Red China darkens relations between Taipei and Tokyo. President Chiang Kai-shek's regime discounts a Japanese belief that Japanese trade with the mainland can be separated from politics.

SOUTH KOREA

To many Koreans, Japan is still a former enemy and colonial ruler with whom their government restored normal relations just a year ago.

HONG KONG

Japan is Hong Kong's biggest supplier after Red China. Imports from Japan in the first six months of 1966 totaled about $14 million compared to $20 million from China.

But it is generally acknowledged that there is an undercurrent of feeling — possibly minor — among middle-aged residents.

THAILAND

Thailand and Japan have excellent relations. But hints are dropped here from time to time about the dangers of an imbalance in trade.

SOUTH VIET NAM

The Vietnamese, engrossed in war for a fifth of a century, have little time or inclination to think about Japan's role in World War II.

Nguyen Ngoc Linh, editor general of the official Viet Nam Press, said they appear to harbor little or no animosity over the Japanese occupation.

Notables Tell How They Heard of Attack

It was Dec. 7, 1941 — one-quarter of a century ago.

A senator named Harry S. Truman was sound asleep in a small hotel in Columbia, Mo. Dwight D. Eisenhower, just promoted to brigadier general, was catching a nap in his quarters at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

Brig. Gen. Omar N. Bradley was admiring the flowers in the yard of his home at Ft. Benning, Ga.

A scrawny, 17-year-old farm hand, Audie L. Murphy, was trudging down a muddy road near Floyd, Tex.

AFTER-DINNER STROLL

Lt. Col. Mark Clark of the U.S. Army was taking an after-dinner stroll through a woods in Virginia.

At the Defense Department in Washington, a young captain of military intelligence, Dean Rusk, was poring over papers in his office.

Another young Army officer, William C. Westmoreland, was in his car near Ft. Bragg, N.C., and Greensboro, N.C.

All were about to hear that the Japanese had attacked Pearl Harbor, plunging the United States into World War II.

VARIOUS REACTIONS

They heard it at various times, by various means and with various reactions.

Westmoreland is now the general commanding U.S. forces in another war — in Viet Nam.

As he recalls it: "On 7 Dec. 1941, I was a young captain on duty with the newly activated 9th Infantry Division at Ft. Bragg, N.C."

"The division had just returned from extensive maneuvers in North and South Carolina, as I was driving from Ft. Bragg to Greensboro to visit friends, I heard the news of the Pearl Harbor attack over my car radio."

EXCITING YEARS

"I realized that this was the beginning of exciting years ahead. I considered myself fortunate to be a part of a ready unit of the U.S. Army. Shortly thereafter I was on my way to North Africa, not to return until over four years later."

Harry S. Truman, who became president before the war ended, was chairman of a special Senate committee investigating the defense program.

Exhausted by his long hearings, he had gone to Columbia

TRUMAN

"I did not even know where Pearl Harbor was, or how it related to the United States," Murphy recalls. "But the man was highly indignant over the bombing so I thought I might as well be indignant, too."

Murphy tried to enlist in the Marines and paratroopers but they took one look at his skinny, 117-pound frame and turned him down. He finally got into the infantry on his 18th birthday, June 20, 1942.

During two years of combat in Europe, Murphy won the Medal of Honor and two Silver Stars for valor in combat, was wounded three times and was reported to have killed 240 of the enemy personally.

He is now a movie actor with a long string of screen credits.

GENERAL'S AIDE

Dwight D. Eisenhower had spent most of the day working on a report on Louisiana maneuvers. In this general peace-time military war game he had been chief of staff to Lt. Gen. Walter Kreuger.

He went to his quarters in the early afternoon, ate lunch and lay down for a nap. He was bone tired. "Under no circumstances," he told his wife, Mamie, was he to be disturbed.

Eisenhower had barely closed his eyes when the telephone rang. It was an aide who informed him of the attack on Pearl Harbor. Five minutes later the future Allied military commander and U.S. President was back in his office.

Mark Clark, who led the Allied military assault on Italy in 1943, recalls: "We had finished dinner — this was out in the country in Virginia — and we were walking in the woods when we heard somebody running up calling to us to tell us Pearl Harbor had been bombed."

BACK TO HEADQUARTERS

"Immediately I hurried to my car with Mrs. Clark and went right back to my headquarters at what is now Ft. McNair in Washington."

Dean Rusk, now secretary of state, was one of the first persons in America to hear about Pearl Harbor. It had yet to be announced by the White House when an officer for the Japanese section of the army intelligence staff ran into Rusk's office with the news.

Gen. Bradley, who led U.S. ground forces in their drive into

RUSK

Nazi Germany after D-Day, says: "I was stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., commandant of the post. I was out in my yard, looking at some of my flowers, when a friend came along and told me about the bombing. I was not too surprised."

"I got out of my casual clothes and into my uniform and went to post headquarters. I stayed there until 3 a.m. the next day putting into effect what we called then 'Emergency Plan White' — which sent detachments to all key critical points which needed guarding."

And where was Lyndon B. Johnson, then a congressman from Texas; now the President of the United States?

Says Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary: "He doesn't have any special recollection of that day, including where he was."

MURPHY

Perfect Holiday gift for Maria Tallchief, Mickey Spillane, Jan Peerce, Sessue Hayakawa, Hope Hampton and anyone else you know.

(When you give Fleischmann's Preferred Whiskey, it's the surest and subtlest way to get invited to a shot-in-the-dark party.)

In the very likely event someone gives you a bottle or two of Fleischmann's Preferred, here's how to throw your own holiday shot-in-the-dark party.

Invite some people. Before they arrive, pour a shot glass full of Fleischmann's Preferred Whiskey for each. Tuck the shots and bottle out of sight. After everyone's there, and you feel the moment has come, disclose the shots, prepare the whiskey drinks, hand them to your guests, turn out the lights and ask them to guess the brand name and the proof. When you've given them enough time to voice their "oohs and aahs" and wrong guesses, turn the lights back on, flash the Fleischmann label and enlighten everybody.

Fleischmann's Preferred. Made at 90 proof because it's a better way to make it. And $4.21 a fifth. Code #260 sounded. The tremendous water pressure bent the door in, and water began streaming around the sides.

"It was hard to say whether we would escape before the water covered us," Hinsperger recalled.

The water was up to his shoulders when the rescuers pulled him out.

9:30 A.M.
On shore, Hinsperger asked a man for the time.

"9:30 a.m.," he was told.
"We were in there an hour," Hinsperger recalls remarking.

"The man looked at me strangely and said it was Monday."

25 HOURS
When I realized I'd spent 25 hours in that room I began to get scared," added Hinsperger.
He didn't have very long to react as he spent a night in the hospital and checked into another ship.

The rest of the war, he spent in the Pacific theater, with time out in 1943 to marry his wife, Charlotte.

They live with their two sons, Thomas, 19, and Jerry, 16 at 61 Putnam.

A few blocks to the east lives the James H. Curran family whose head was also on the Oklahoma 25 years ago today. He and Hinsperger say they've never met.

Curran, who works in plant protection at GMC Truck and Coach Division was in the ship's mail room when he first learned of the attack.

A blast blew the 26-year-old marine 10 feet across the room. Then he heard a voice over the intercom announcing the Japanese attack.

"By that time I was trying to reach the deck as the ship was badly listing," he said.
REACHED TOPSIDE

Curran reached the deck and tried to crawl and pull himself to the port rail.

He said he realized if he went off on the listing side he would have been sucked under the ship.

"A bomb exploded near me blowing off all my clothes, except my shoes, but its force flung me to the railing and I jumped overboard," said Curran.

He swam to the U.S.S. Maryland, climbed aboard and helped man a "Chicago piano," a four barrel antiaircraft gun, during the remainder of the attack.

"It was like a nightmare. You had flashes of reality, but the scope of action was too big to believe it was actually happening to you but you were in it."

"I was scared stiff," he admits. "But the instinct of self-preservation keeps you going. And as the shock wears off, a pride in country and corps keeps you running."

Curran spent much of the remainder of the war in South Pacific battle areas.

Probe Urged on 'Athletes Avoiding Draft' States Vary

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Rep. Lucien N. Nedzi, D-Mich., also directed the Pen- sion Committee today called to provide him with de- tails of the enlistments of every that some professional athletes now serving in a guard or reserve unit. * * * The Michigan Democrat said that if some of the athletes were admitted to a Guard or Reserve unit before others waiting to get in he wanted to know why. Nedzi noted that the ranks of the guard and reserves have swelled during the Viet Nam war and that there are long on Safety Rules

None Meeting All U.S. Road Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — No state now complies with all of the highway safety standards proposed by the federal government — and there are still more to come. Degree of compliance with the first nine standards suggested for inclusion in state programs by the national highway safety agency varies widely. Only three states, for example, require motorcyclists to wear crash helmets. But 20 states and the District of Columbia require periodic vehicle inspection. The nine interim proposals were submitted to the states this week for discussion and study. Details are to be worked out later. BY FEB. 28 Dr. William Haddon Jr., agency administrator, said he hopes to send all proposed standards to the states by Feb. 28. States must be implementing a safety program approved by the government by the end of 1968 or face possible loss of their highway safety funds and 10 per cent of their federal road building money. There was little apparent criticism of the proposed highway safety standards during three meetings the agency held this week with state, county, local and other safety officials. Most officials seemed more concerned with getting legal details — not yet available — turning proposals into hard legislation, obtaining federal aid and finding out how best to set up their programs. NO STATE One proposed standard with which no state does now comply would require comprehensive driver training programs or significant expansion and improvement of existing programs. The National Education Association said all states have some form of driver education program working through local school districts although programs vary widely.

Detroit Police Facing Grand Jury

DETROIT (AP) — Amid reports that the Mafia is chortling because of dissension in the force, the police department of the nation's fifth largest city today faced a grand jury probe requested by its chief. Police Commissioner Ray Girardin said he wanted the investigation to clear away "malicious rumors, insinuations and distortions of truth" about his department's organized crime expert, Vincent Piersante, chief of detectives. —That federal agencies have skipped exchanging information with Detroit police for fear of leaks to the underworld. —That the Mafia is delighted with the mess and may have a hand in it.

May Break a Ruling This Time

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I am an orphan and have been brought up by a wonderful family who have twin daughters just my age. They are as close as sisters to me, and now I am to be married and am terribly concerned about choosing my maid of honor.

I cannot have one twin without hurting the other and neither is married. I simply don't want to choose a friend who means much less to me, so Mrs. Post, could I possibly have two maids of honor? Worried Sick

Dear Worried: Although it is most unusual, I recommend that you do ask both twins to be maids of honor.

Every rule has its exception, and rather than ruin your wedding and your close relationship with the twins, this is the moment to make such an exception.

TEEN-AGER

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a 15-year-old girl and I find myself in a very embarrassing position every time I go to a dance. As soon as I enter the door a certain boy makes a bee line towards me and asks me to dance.

When the dance is over, he escorts me back to my seat and sits down beside me. Then I am stuck with him for the rest of the night.

What I want to know is whether I can excuse myself and join my girlfriends or whether I have to sit there until he or someone else asks me to dance. Diane

Dear Diane: Sad but true, girls have a much harder time when it comes to choosing partners or circulating at a dance. But don't let this fellow monopolize you and ruin your fun.

Rather than insult him by saying you'd prefer to join the girls, tell him (after one dance) that you want to powder your nose or comb your hair and then, when you come out of the powder room, casually join the nearest group of friends.

What to Wear Is the Question

ROME in — The Italian government is considering forming a women's military corps. The first big question is not what they will do, but what they will wear.

If Latin ladies march to war, they expect to do it to a wolf whistle and not to the roll of drums.

Some of Italy's best known couturiers — Schuberth, the Fontana Sisters, Carosa, Fourquet, Antonelli and Sarli — have rushed to their aid.

They came out with sketches for a complete wardrobe for the women warriors.

Not one of the stylists suggested anything resembling Brunehilde's winged helmet or Joan of Arc's plated armor. The emphasis was strictly on the feminine — and knees were showing.

Only three of twelve proposed uniforms had slacks. Sarli suggested a sporty jacket that ended in culottes bobbed off well above knee boots.

Several designs had the girls in almost knee-length shorts; skirts were above the knee, even if not quite mini-brief.

One outfit proposed for a women's Alpine auxiliary was a mummy model that would look well this winter at St. Moritz or Sun Valley.

Most of the jackets had a double-breasted look, achieved either by buttons, pockets or pleats.

The designers steered well away from the severe, mannish cut uniforms that caused such a squawk four years ago when Italy's first women's police force was formed.

The flat-chested, low-heeled look kept enrollment lagging until authorities finally hiked the hemline to the knee and allowed fullness in the jackets to provide more room where it would do the most good.

That taught the authorities what to expect if they want to form a military legion of women.

Teen-Age Panel Has Discussion

A panel discussion on "Parents: Pros and Cons" took place Tuesday at a meeting of the Child Study Group III.

Mrs. Edward Forsyth of Orion Circle was hostess for the event with Mrs. Howard Decker and Mrs. John Collins as co-hostesses.

Following a brief business meeting, Mrs. Robert Irwin introduced Patty Looman, speech teacher from Waterford Kettering High School. She presented a panel of Waterford Kettering students: Bonnie Bone, Pam DeMott, Pete Teuwissen and Rodney Reinhart.

A discussion ensued, covering communication with parents, choice of friends, dating, respect and morals.

Mrs. Robert Bego of Bloomfield Hills will host the January meeting.

Thiede of Verona Drive, West Bloomfield Township.

Original fantastic corsages worn by members and their guests will be judged and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Hays will play records made by the late Alfred Burt from their holiday collection.

Mrs. Ivan J. Stretten, Mrs. Lewis Serraton, Mrs. John C. Wick and the co-chairmen will decorate the serving center and the large U-shaped table for the diners. Mrs. Russell P. Foukes will design arrangements for the foyer.

The Woman's Literary Club took in two new members at Monday's meeting in the Weneah Drive home of Mrs. Wendell Green.

Mrs. Charles Campbell and Irene Dawson are the names added to membership roster. Mrs. Floyd Crawford and Mrs. Herbert Lake were guests at this meeting.

The group contributes to Loch Rio Girlstown, Interlochen National Music Camp and the Oakland County Federation, nurses scholarships.

Give Inexpensive Gifts

Put an End to Hypocrisy

By ABBIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What can be done about Christmas and the single person? Last Christmas I bought 22 gifts for my family and got back three in return. I have two brothers and one sister, all married. And they have a total of 16 children.

I bought expensive gifts for my sister and her husband, and for both brothers and their wives, and all the kids. I spent $250 all told.

And guess what I got? One gift from each family which couldn't have added up to $20 in value. Does this seem fair to you? What do you suggest?

ABBY

GYPPEDEAR GYPPEDE: I suggest that since you obviously do not give for the joy of giving, you put an end to the hypocrisy and quit giving expensive gifts. Face it, the only way you'll ever be able to come out even with that cheap clan is to get married and have 16 children.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter recently married a fine young man, and they live in another state. My daughter advised me that his parents address all their letters to "MR. AND MRS." and I should do the same. Abby, I do not object to this as long as what I have to say is to be shared by both her and her husband, but my daughter and I have always enjoyed a very close relationship, and there are still things I would like to write to her in confidence — just between her and me.

She says that now that she is married there should be no secrets from her husband, and he should know everything. I can't help but feel that I have lost the closeness I once had with my daughter. She is all I have. Please give me your opinion.

SOMETHING LOST DEAR SOMETHING: If your daughter is determined to share with her husband everything you write to her, including personal messages, try the telephone for matters you wish to be strictly for her two ears.

DEAR ABBY: How can people be so rude? I am one of those people who eat like a horse and look like a walking skeleton. Most of my friends have told me that I am skinny, and someone is always giving me a remedy that will fatten me up. I have tried everything, but I can't seem to gain any weight.

Sometimes people I hardly know will walk up to me and stretch their fingers around my waist, and say, "Gee, you're skinny." They would never walk up to a person and say, "Gee, you're fat."

My mother says I am not that thin, but I know she's just saying that to make me feel better. I have been hurt so many times by these rude remarks. How can I answer them?

SKINNY DEAR SKINNY: Silence is always the most eloquent response to a rude remark. But do see a doctor, honey. He may enjoy fattening someone up — for a change.

CONFIDENTIAL TO STANLEY: Ask her. No girl is insulted by a proposition that has a genuine ring to it.

Troubled? Write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Why Grow Old? by JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Sleep habits are almost as individual as fingerprints. People vary greatly in the amount of sleep they need and what puts one person to sleep will keep another awake.

For instance, some people are put to sleep by music from a nearby radio as others are lulled by the sound of the surf pounding on a beach. On the other hand, the pounding of the surf makes some nervous while any noise at all keeps others awake.

So, whether you listen to radio before trapping some shut-eye, or don't, is up to you. It seems reasonable that the radio program should not be too exciting, but soothing, that is, if you really want to go to sleep.

Some advice, "Never try to read yourself to sleep." I disagree! Of course, it does depend somewhat on the kind of book you are reading. If it is a book which is so intriguing or exciting that you cannot put it down until 2 a.m., that's no good. However, a book which is mildly interesting, takes you out of the everyday world and breaks the cycle of your usual routines, thinking, and worries.

Of course, the very best and most luxurious sleep-trapper, if you can manage it, is to have someone read to you.

STRONG HOLD

Habits have such a very strong hold on us! Therefore, it is wise to go to sleep at about the same time every night, as a general rule. I know that you may not be able to do this, if the baby has colic, unexpected guests arrive, your loved dog has to be rushed to the vets, or the plumbing goes haywire. However sincerely, this is a sound scientific idea, and I hope you can swing it!

Whether or not to eat before going to sleep, that's a question! It depends on what you eat just like it does on what you read or listen to on radio. Don't make it heavy and rich, just something simple like a glass of warm milk and a few crackers. That will put you to sleep. There is a scientific reason for a very light something or other.

I do not have to tell you that if you sleep on a lumpy mattress or your covers are too heavy or the room is too hot, or you are harassed by loud noises, you will not sleep well. I do hope that if you investigate 'my nonsense I may have brought you some helpful suggestions.

And, as you know, I believe that a couple of stretching, relaxing, and deep breathing exercises are conducive to sleep. Here is one of them. Stand erect with your feet comfortably separated and your arms at your sides. Slowly, raise your right arm forward-upward to overhead. As you do so inhale deeply. Stretch toward the ceiling with your right arm. Lower your arm to your side in a slow relaxed manner as you exhale. Do the same thing with your left arm. Continue, alternating.

This exercise should be done in a slow, stretching, deep breathing, relaxed way, and it will relax you.

Larry Evons Honeymoon After Vows

Pfc. and Mrs. Larry Francis Evon left for a trip to Burlington, Iowa and Chicago after recent vows and reception in the Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church.

The former Pamela Jane Grayhek is the daughter of Mrs. Frank Grayhek of Rochester. The bridegroom, son of the Francis J. Evons of Hunters Ridge Drive, will return to Fort Dix, N.J.

A gown of white peau de soie and French lace for the bride was styled with ruffled hemline and back panel forming her train.

She wore a tiered veil of silk illusion and carried white Sweetheart roses, carnations and ivy.

Norma Luther was maid of honor with bridesmaids Jane Shelton, Carol Haag and Shirley Evon, the bridegroom's sister.

Case No. A-588

He's a Peeping Tom

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE A-588: Joel X., aged 40, has been arrested.

"Dr. Crane," his married daughter confessed, "I am so ashamed that I can hardly talk about it."

"For my father lives in a small town. Mother died three years ago."

"But we didn't know that my father had been peeping into the windows in the neighborhood to watch young women disrobe at night."

"So of the young husbands caught him, and threatened to have him arrested, but let him go on my father's promise not to do it again."

"But he failed to keep his promise, so now he is in jail. 'What could ever have made him do such a thing? Is he losing his mind?'"

SEX HUNGER
If a person were starving for dinner table food, would it be abnormal if he pressed his face against the front window of a bakery or grocery store?

If he showed such hunger for gastric viands, he would not be arrested. But the erotic hunger is likewise a powerful force in mankind.

When unsatisfied, it leads to all sorts of deviations, of which this "Peeping Tom" behavior is typical.

One of the chief differences between Joel and the middle-aged business men of the larger cities, is the fact that Joel peeped into windows, for free!

The businessmen simply pay a couple of bucks and sit down front at a burlesque show!

If they are more cultured males and have their wives along, they shift to a higher class "leg show" disguised under the euphemism of a musical comedy or an esthetic exhibition of "interpretive dancing."

We medicals know that there would be little patronage of burlesque, musical comedy or similar leg shows if the males were all emaculated.

Which means, bluntly, that sex is the chief motivating force that prods the male into such sexual stimulants. Nudist Camps, too, are usually pioneered and ardently defended by men, especially those past 40 years of age.

Did you ever hear of women showing great interest in starting an all-feminine Nudist Camp? Why don't they?

Because the Nudist Cult is chiefly a rationalized attempt by men to cover up their "Peeping Tom" desires under the disguised "health" argument.

Medically, nudism is actually NOT healthful but is harmful.

But it is true that total nudism is not as sexually titillating as semi-nudism.

The burlesque girls thus gain their greatest applause in the act of disrobing; not when they are entirely naked!

Joel's case, a second marriage to an interested wife would have solved his problem.

and they stop such bizarre symptoms of erotic malnutrition!

So send for the 200-point "Test For Happy Husbands and Wives," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c. Get married and live normally!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long, stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Club Reception After Vows

The James Lee Jarretts greeted guests in the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club after their recent marriage, in the Lake Orion Methodist Church.

The former Catherine Eileen Sheldon is the daughter of the James E. Sheldons of Summer Avenue, Orion Township and her husband's parents are the George D. Jarretts of Leonard.

Bugle beads and seed pearls accented the bride's ankle-length gown of pea satin styled with Chantilly lace jacket and chapel train.

Completing her ensemble was a bouffant illusion veil and nosegay of miniature white carnations and lilies of the valley.

With Mrs. James S. Anderson, her sister's honor attendant, were the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Robert W. Cranmer and the bride's cousin, Beth Sheldon, as bridesmaid. Robert W. Cranmer was best man. George W. Jarrett, and James Anderson were groomsmen. Ted Jarrett and Thomas Sheldon seated the guests.

Avoid Christmas Fires, Flameproof Greens

During the holidays your home is more susceptible to fire than at any other time of the year. All fire-causing components are present . . . greens and your Christmas tree trappings for fodder and to ignite them, heat from the tree lights and candles.

So for a safe and happy holiday, follow these simple precautions:

1) Saw the Christmas tree trunk off at an angle at least one-inch above the original cut end; then use a stand that provides for a water well. Keep well filled to above the cut line.

2) Station the tree and greens well away from any heat-producing devices such as radiator, fireplace or television, or from where smokers are apt to sit.

3) Before decorating tree, give it a fire-retarding treatment. Dissolve 1/4 pound alum (available in drugstores) and 1/2 pound kitchen shelf baking soda in a gallon of water. Fill a flit gun or other squirt-type contraption with the solution and spray it on the tree.

Remember, however, that this treatment is merely a fire retarder. Fire can still break out although it will be a slow smolder instead of a fast blaze, so don't be lulled into a false sense of security.

4) Before installing lights, inspect them carefully and dispose of any with faulty sockets or frayed wiring. Then inspect lights periodically to see if needles around them have turned brown. If so, move them.

5) Use only foil or flameproof or fireproof material to cover the Christmas tree stand.

If you want to use an old sheet, flameproof it first by dipping it in a solution of 9 ounces of pure borax, 4 ounces of boric acid powder and a gallon of water. Wring by hand, hang to dry and iron if you wish.

6) Use only glass, metal or fireproof trimmings on the tree.

Give greens a fire-retarding treatment by dunking them in a solution of 1/2 pound alum, 1/2 pound kitchen shelf baking soda and a gallon of water. Spray Christmas tree with the same mixture, using a flit gun or other squirt type contraption to safeguard it against fire, too.

Bethel Names Area Student

Sandra Shepard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shepard of Green Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township was chosen to serve as sophomore representative on the Homecoming Queen's Court at Bethel College.

Sandra was chosen after a talent competition Nov. 19, and by a student body election. She was officially named to the court that evening during the homecoming basketball game.

Portable Dryer

For the woman who prefers not to string small laundry around the bathroom, there's a new appliance which can dry up to two pounds of wet clothes.

The portable dryer takes up little space (10 1/4 by 15 by 12 inches) and operates on regular house current.

Real Success Story

Hannah Troy, who was one of the panelists to speak before the Conference of Home Economics College Professors recently, got lots of response as she described her career in fashion — especially when she described her visits to Europe, and her design innovations.

Hannah feels her greatest contribution to the industry has been in the creation of the "Troy Petite" sizes, which are meant for women who outgrow junior-style clothes, but keep their junior proportions.

She made a study of feminine figures when she became involved in doing uniforms for women in the service, and found that 80 per cent of American women are short-waisted, and alterations in this department are very costly. She scaled down her patterns so they would fit women who retained their slighter, shorter-waisted frames though they may have added a pound and a year or two. The petites were a great success, and Hannah now does the Troy collection for two different size brackets.

When asked how she started out, Mrs. Troy mused "I think I just grew, like Topsy. When my father asked me what I wanted to do, I said be a dressmaker. He flipped! "Be a DRESSMAKER!" he howled "You'll be working all your life." "And he was so right!" concluded the attractive dark haired chief of one of fashion's most glamorous houses.

Economics Studied in City Grade School

By PAT McCarty

Most Americans would not hesitate to tell you that capitalism is superior to communism.

Few could tell you why.

The question that has left many an adult tongue-tied is being answered in part for fourth and fifth graders at McConnell Elementary School.

They're getting some early exposure to basic economic principles that eventually should make better citizens of them.

Reexamination of the American educational system — given impetus when the Russians orbited their first Sputnik in 1957 — recently has been extended to economics.

The physical sciences were the first to feel the impact of new teaching methods. Introduction of "new math" into the elementary curriculum is a prime example of the revolution taking place in many classrooms.

The term "organic curriculum" is coming into wider usage among educators. It refers to the idea that basic concepts should be taught to youngsters as soon as possible and reinforced in succeeding years.

"So far, economics is the only one of the social studies to be restructured for basic concepts," said James R. Showkier, one of several persons concerned with the McConnell experiment.

Showkier is director of the Mott Center for Strengthening Community Institutions, in Flint which is among organizations supporting the University of Chicago's Industrial Relations Center.

BASIC LESSONS

The center's Dr. William D. Rader developed a series of basic economics lessons two years ago and began testing their effectiveness in elementary schools.

He found the lessons were well-received by children from middle- and upper-income families.

However, he lacked any research data on children from lower-income homes.

The McConnell experiment is twofold: it will provide Rader with the data he needs and it will give local educators a chance to see whether the curriculum is worthwhile for Pontiac children.

TWO WORKSHOPS

Rader, who conducted two workshops for McConnell teachers earlier this year, stressed that he has not written a textbook, but rather "a book of student reading to enhance their understanding while keeping them interested."

Rader and Showkier indicated they were convinced the study of economics can be meaningful to children who have lived in near poverty.

"Economics," said Showkier, "starts with the problem of scarcity. These youngsters are familiar with scarcity."

By the time a child enters school, he can understand that he can't have everything he wants.

As he learns more about the organization of society, he can grasp the fact that families, cities and nations can't have everything they want, Showkier said.

The study of economics begins as simply as that — with an understanding of scarcity, he said.

Next come the concepts of allocation, exchange and modification.

"In the United States, the consumer decides how goods will be allocated," Showkier said. "Exchange — or how to get goods to the people who want them — is done through the market in this country."

PUBLIC POLICY

Finally, this system is modified by public policy in a democracy, he noted.

"Every one of these principles can be understood by youngsters in the fourth and fifth grades," he said.

"In the U.S.S.R., the theories of Marx and Lenin are taught to first graders," Showkier said. "Ours is the most productive system and the least understood."

Sirens Ring In Polish Yule

Common Christmas
Activity: Overeating

WARSAW (UPI) — One of the traditions of Christmas in Poland is the siren of ambulances rushing through Warsaw on their yearly errands.

It's not the Communist regime's substitute for Santa Claus and his sleigh. It's the part of Christmas that residents of Warsaw and other Polish cities take very seriously — eating.

In fact, they eat so much that there are hundreds of cases of indigestion and liver ailments on Christmas Day. Thus the ambulances.

On the whole, Christmas in Poland is about as semiformal as it can get behind the Iron Curtain. The streets are lighted in yuletide colors, carols are heard on the radio and stores are crowded with shoppers from mid-November to Christmas Eve.

Workers are given a few hours off on Christmas Eve and the streets of Warsaw are empty by six in the evening.

Then families gather for what traditionally has been about 36 hours of constant eating.

Son, 7, Receives Medals for Father Killed in Viet

FT. MONMOUTH, N.J. (AP) — Thomas Patrick Lyons, staff sergeant's stripes on his sleeves, stood tall and proud as a general pinned a Purple Heart with oak leaf cluster and a Bronze Star over his chest. Thomas is 7 years old. The stripes and the medals belong to his father, a victim of the Viet Cong.

In a ceremony Tuesday, the boy received the medals for Staff Sgt. Frank E. Lyons, a 30-year-old weapons squad leader who was mortally wounded as he cleared an enemy bunker of booby traps.

The 18-year veteran died June 16, two months after he arrived in Viet Nam.

As Maj. Gen. William B. Latta, commander of Ft. Monmouth, placed the medals over the boy's heart. Lyons' blonde widow, Marga, wept. Nearby were her three daughters, Margie, 14, Laura, 12 and Nancy, 11.

Thomas, handsome and blond, shook hands with the general as an aide read the commendation: "For outstanding devotion to duty and courage in keeping with the highest standards of military service . . . reflecting great credit upon himself, his unit, the 25th Infantry Division and the U.S. Army."

Lyons' unit was the 1st Platoon, B Company, 4th Battalion, 9th Infantry Regiment. He was struck by fragments of a concussion mine June 7 as he was clearing the bunker

His son received the medals/pocket and chevrons on the them was a color guard with silver helmets, green uniforms, white belts and combat boots with white laces.

In front of the dais, 17 friends and relatives watched. Behind

Famous Forefathers

Another Stilwell at the Front

AP Wirephoto

CARRIES ON NAME — Capt. Joe Stilwell III wears earphones over his helmet and stands beside a command bunker deep in War Zone C in South Viet Nam near the Cambodian border. The third-generation Stilwell is air operations officer for the 1st Battalion, 18th Infantry, 1st Infantry Division.

DAU TIENG, South Viet Nam (AP) — His grandfather was "Vinegar Joe," his father was a famous general, too, and for Capt. Joe Stilwell III, it's like being "in a goldfish bowl."

Fame of his forefathers has put the 27-year-old officer on the spot. He's the third Stilwell to go to war in Southeast Asia.

"Pressure?" he says. "Yeah. Do something right and everybody says, 'Of course, look at his family.' But do something wrong and listen to them howl. Hey, lookit what Stilwell did now!"

He is the air operations officer with the 1st Battalion, 18th Infantry, 1st Infantry Division. It's a job with responsibility, but Stilwell wants command of a rifle company.

HE'S HOPEFUL
"I'm hoping to get a company in the next couple of months," he said during an operation in the jungles near the Cambodian border.

His helmet was cocked to one side as a bulbous earphone pressed against one ear. His eyeglasses slipped down his nose.

The battalion was establishing an encampment in a clearing deep in War Zone C, about 80 miles northwest of Saigon. Helicopters swirled in with ammunition, equipment and supplies.

Stilwell, with a slight beard on his jutting chin, barked into a field phone. There might have been a resemblance there to "Vinegar Joe," the caustic Gen. Stilwell of World War II who won fame in Burma against the Japanese and with airlifts into China.

CHASING CONG
The 1st Infantry troops were in pursuit of a Viet Cong force that made War Zone C its home, headquarters and long-time sanctuary.

Jets frequently swooped across the tree tops, unleashing napalm and bombs. GIs were moving through the jungles and the air strikes had to be closely controlled. Stilwell spent hours on the phones, coordinating with air observers, brigade headquarters and troops in the field. During quiet moments, Stilwell, with earphones still clamped over his head, sat on a sandbag and worked on a crossword puzzle.

"It's interesting here," he said. "But I'd rather be on the line somewhere. That's the place to be."

Do FALSE TEETH
Rock, Slide or Slip?

PASTEDITE, an improved powder to be sprinkled on upper or lower plates, holds false teeth more firmly in place. Do not slide, slip or rock. No stummy, goopy, pasty taste or feeling. PASTEDITE is alkaline—does not sour. Checks "stomach breath." Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Gifts of Homemade Food Appreciated by Everyone

WHEAT GERM RAISIN BREAD—This is a special loaf of raisin bread that will serve admirably as the holiday loaf on Christmas morning. Wheat germ and cinnamon are mixed into the dough. A simple frosting and candied fruit decorate the top.

ZIPPY CHEESE LOG—Here's a gift you can make early as it improves with age. A zesty cheese spread is rolled into with parsley flakes and chopped ham. The outside is coated with nuts and more parsley.

Parsley and Ham Rolled in Cheese Log

Zippy Cheese Log is the sort of gift the busy woman likes to get. Not only is it delicious and easy to make, but it improves with age. Send or take it wrapped in foil with instructions to keep refrigerated until it's used.

Chopped nuts and parsley make the bark on this Zippy Cheese Log. Chopped cooked ham fills the center, and cream cheese, cottage cheese, and Parmesan salad dressing mix are blended to roll around it.

Remember to skip the salt whenever using salad dressing mix for seasoning.

ZIPPY CHEESE LOG

2 packages (8 oz. each) cream cheese (at room temperature)
1 cup creamed cottage cheese
1 envelope Parmesan salad dressing mix

1/4 cup chopped parsley
1/2 cup chopped cooked ham
1/2 cup chopped nuts
Thoroughly blend cheeses with salad dressing mix; pat into a 1/2-inch thick rectangle, about 12x3 inches, on a wax paper-lined baking sheet or jelly roll pan. Chill about 30 minutes in freezer or 1 hour in refrigerator, or until firm.

Spread half of the chopped parsley on about 1 inch of one longer edge of rectangle; then sprinkle ham over the remainder. Roll up tightly like a jelly roll, beginning with long edge covered with parsley and using a spatula to loosen the cheese from the wax paper while rolling.

Combine nuts and remaining parsley; sprinkle over roll to cover. Wrap in wax paper and chill overnight to allow flavors to mellow.

Serve as a cheese spread with crisp crackers for an hors d'oeuvre. Makes about 2 cups cheese mixture or 1 cheese log.

Raisins Add Interest to Confections

If you're dreaming of a sweet Christmas, put seedless raisins into the season's best confections. Santa's favorite popcorn balls have raisins and pieces of peppermint stick candy in them. Stack the miniature balls together with toothpicks to build a Christmas tree centerpiece and trim with the biggest, plumpiest raisins strung on a thread.

Chocolate covered bonbons hold an angelic combination of peanut butter, raisins and chopped nuts.

Golden pralines are easy to make with a package of butterscotch pudding mix, evaporated milk, raisins and pecans.

A light vanilla syrup holds balls of popcorn, raisins and peppermint candy sweetly in shape.

RAISIN POPCORN TREE

2 1/2 quarts popped corn
1 1/4 cups sugar
1 cup water
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1/4 teaspoon salt

Heat popcorn in shallow pan in very slow oven (about 275 degrees F.) while preparing syrup.

To make syrup, combine sugar, water, corn syrup and vinegar. Stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Cover and boil slowly 5 minutes. Remove cover and boil to 300 degrees F. (hard crack stage). Remove from heat and stir in vanilla.

Combine popcorn, raisins and candy in large buttered bowl. Slowly pour on hot syrup, tossing to coat evenly.

Using buttered hands, shape into 46 small balls. Arrange balls in shape of tree using toothpicks to hold in place. Makes 1 popcorn tree.

RAISIN BUTTERSCOTCH PRALINES

1 cup sugar
1/2 cup brown sugar (packed)
1 (4-ounce) package butterscotch pudding mix (not instant)
1/2 cup undiluted evaporated milk
1 tablespoon butter
1 cup seedless raisins
1/2 cup chopped pecans

Combine sugars, pudding mix, milk and butter. Stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Boil to 234 degrees F. (soft ball stage). Remove from heat and add raisins and nuts.

Beat just until creamy and mixture barely begins to hold its shape. Drop quickly in small mounds onto waxed paper from teaspoon. Makes about 1 1/2 dozen pralines.

To keep the chocolate coating from smudging, store these candies in the refrigerator. It's almost impossible to eat only one of them.

RAISIN PEANUT BUTTER BONBONS

1 cup smooth peanut butter
2 tablespoons soft butter
1 cup sifted powdered sugar
1 1/4 cups seedless raisins
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 (6-ounce) package semi-sweet chocolate pieces
2 tablespoons shortening

Combine peanut butter, butter and powdered sugar, mixing until smooth. Stir in raisins and nuts. Shape into small balls. Melt chocolate with shortening over warm (not hot) water. Dip balls one at a time into chocolate. Place on waxed paper until set. Makes about 3 dozen bonbons.

Point Pie Trim

Trim for holiday pies—roll scraps of pie crust 1/2" thick and then cut holly designs. Paint over warm (not hot) water. Dip balls one at a time into chocolate. Place on waxed paper until set. Makes about 3 dozen bonbons.

CRANBERRY CAKE

Bake crimson cranberries, orange rind and chopped walnuts into a delectable Cranberry Orange Cake to serve during the holidays. It's made tender with buttermilk and moist with a special orange glaze.

Think of Food for the Dieters

Know someone who can't have sugar? Make up a recipe of Coffee Pot Creams for his special benefit. Non-dieters will like this dessert too.

POTS DE CREME AU CAFE

(Coffee Pot Creams)
2 cups skim milk
8 teaspoons instant coffee
4 teaspoons sucaryl solution or 32 sucaryl tablets
6 egg yolks

Scald milk; add instant coffee and sucaryl. Beat egg yolks until light and lemon colored; add the hot milk, stirring constantly. Pour into 6 custard cups or "petit pots."

Set cups in a pan of hot water and bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) 15 minutes, or until a knife inserted in center comes out clean.

Serve chilled. Top with low-calorie topping and shaved chocolate, if desired.

Makes 6 servings. Each serving contains 90 CALORIES; 5.6 grams protein; 5.4 grams fat; 4.2 grams carbohydrate.

Fragrant Raisin Loaf Makes Welcome Gift

CINNAMON RAISIN WHEAT GERM BREAD

5 1/2-6 cups unbleached flour
2 pkgs. or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
1 cup warm water (105 degrees-115 degrees F.)
1 cup warm milk (105 degrees-115 degrees F.)
1/4 cup sugar
3/4 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
2 tablespoons shortening
1 cup wheat germ
2 eggs

1 cup seedless raisins
Measure flour onto wax paper. Dissolve yeast in warm water. Stir. Combine warm milk, sugar, salt, cinnamon and shortening in large mixing bowl. Stir to dissolve.

Beat in yeast mixture, wheat germ, eggs and 2 cups flour with rotary beater until smooth. Stir in raisins. Add 3/4 to 1 cup of remaining flour gradually. If necessary, use enough more flour to make a soft dough which leaves sides of bowl.

Turn out onto lightly floured board. Knead 5-10 minutes or until dough is smooth, elastic and no longer sticky. Place in lightly greased bowl. Grease top of dough. Cover with wax paper.

Let rise in warm place (80-85 degrees) until doubled (1 1/4 hours). Punch down. Divide dough into 2 equal portions. Shape into 2 round loaves or 2 regular loaves, as desired.

Place round loaves on greased baking sheet or in 2 greased 8-inch pie pans. Place regular loaves in greased 4 1/2x8 1/2x2 1/2-inch loaf pans. Let rise in warm place until doubled (1 1/4 hours).

Bake at 375 degrees for 30-35 minutes or until done. Remove from pans immediately. Cool on racks.

Decorate with powdered sugar icing, candied cherries or raisins, if desired.

Ever Make Jelly With Dry Sauterne?

Send this wine jelly to a friend. It will look attractive in a goblet or sherbet glass.

ORANGE-SAUTERNE JELLY

4 cups sugar
1 teaspoon finely grated orange peel
1/2 cup fresh orange juice
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1 1/4 cups dry sauterne
1/2 cup bottled liquid pectin

In saucepan, combine sugar, orange peel, citrus juices and sauterne; mix well. Place over low heat and cook 2 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in pectin. Skim off foam and pour into sterilized jars and seal.

Makes eight half-pint jars.

Simmer Peel in Syrup Before Sugaring It

Use the peel of California oranges for this recipe. Florida juice oranges have color added to the rind.

CANDIED ORANGE PEEL

6-8 oranges
Water
2 teaspoons salt
2 cups extra fine granulated sugar
Food coloring, optional

Remove orange peel in wedges; cut peel in thin strips. Cover 1 quart peel with water and salt. Boil 30 minutes; drain. Cover with water again and simmer 15 minutes. Drain.

Combine 2 cups sugar and 1 cup water and cook to 225-234 degrees or thread stage. If desired, tint with 2 drops yellow and 1 drop red food coloring. Add peel and simmer slowly 30 minutes.

Drain well, roll in granulated sugar until well coated; shake to remove excess sugar. Dry on cake racks several hours. Store in tightly covered container. Yield: about 1/2 lb. peel.

Flavored With Orange Cranberry Cake Is Handsome

Consider the cranberry. Do you reserve it for holiday dinners only? Do you serve it only as a sauce for meat? This year, do things differently. Discover how refreshing the cranberry can be in other foods like cookies, cakes and hot breads.

This holiday season, bake a cranberry studded cake that gives new dimension to the fruit cake idea. This one's not made with the usual multitude of spices and chopped candied fruits. Its flavor-makers are tart-sweet cranberries, tangy orange rind, chewy sweet dates and chopped walnuts.

Buttermilk adds its wholesome goodness and makes the cake moist and tender.

CRANBERRY-ORANGE CAKE
1 cup cut-up dates
1 cup finely chopped walnuts
1 cup cranberries, halved
1/2 cup sifted regular all-purpose flour
1/2 cup butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
3 tablespoons grated orange rind
2 cups sifted regular all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda

Turn into buttered 9-inch tube springform pan. Bake in preheated 350 degree oven 1 hour or until done. Cool on wire rack 15 minutes.

Meanwhile, in a small saucepan heat 1/2 cup sugar and orange juice until sugar is dissolved. Remove cake from pan; place top side up on a wire rack over a shallow pan. Pour cake, orange juice mixture over cakes, catching drippings and pouring back over cakes.

Cover and refrigerate at least 12 hours before serving.

Canned Milk for Smooth Fudge

How delighted your friends will be this Christmas when you offer them creamy smooth homemade fudge to nibble on!

The tasty fudge adds to the fun at Christmas-time but not to the holiday work for the homemaker, because it is easily made the five-minute way.

The recipes featured here for Pecan Log and Five Minute Chocolate Malt Fudge were developed in the test kitchens of Carnation Company.

With just five minutes cooking time, the fudge is even-flavored and smooth-textured.

PECAN LOG

2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup (small can) undiluted

velvetized evaporated milk
2 cups firmly-packed light brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon each: vanilla, maple extract
1/2 cup peanut butter
1 cup chopped pecans
1/2 cup ground or finely chopped pecans

Combine butter, evaporated milk, sugar and salt in saucepan over medium heat. Bring to boil; boil 4 to 5 minutes, stirring constantly.

(Begin timing when mixture starts to bubble around edges of pan). Remove from heat.

Add vanilla, maple extract, peanut butter and 1 cup pecans. Beat until well blended.

Chill until stiff enough to handle and shape into 12-inch roll on waxed paper. Roll in pecans. Cut into 1/2-inch slices. Store in refrigerator. Makes 2 dozen slices.

FIVE MINUTE CHOCOLATE MALT FUDGE
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup (small can) undiluted velvetized evaporated milk
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup powdered malt
2 cups (4-ounce) miniature marshmallows

1 1/2 cups (1 1/2 6-ounce packages) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Combine butter, evaporated milk, sugar, salt and powdered malt in saucepan over medium heat. Bring to boil; boil 4 to 5 minutes, stirring constantly.

(Start timing when mixture begins to bubble around edges of pan). Remove from heat.

Add marshmallows, chocolate, vanilla, and walnuts. Stir vigorously 1 minute until marshmallows melt and blend.

Pour into buttered 8-inch square pan; cool. Cut into squares. Makes about two pounds.

HOMEMADE CANDY—Christmas wouldn't be Christmas without delicious homemade fudge. Prepare an extra batch for hostess gifts and personalized presents.

Hargitay Says Son Improved

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP)—Actor Mickey Hargitay says he is confident that his son will recover from the spinal meningitis that set in after he underwent surgery for injuries inflicted by a lion.

"He's holding his own, and he's getting better, they say," Hargitay said after talking to doctors at Conejo Valley Community Hospital Tuesday night.

"He's more alert and his temperature has dropped."

The actor spent the day near 6-year-old Zoltan, his son by his former wife, actress Jayne Mansfield.

The boy was mauled Nov. 26 by a lion at a Thousand Oaks compound for show-business animals. After brain surgery for the wounds, the boy underwent an operation for removal of his spleen. Meningitis followed.

JAYNE RECOVERING

Miss Mansfield, who spent 10 days at the hospital with her son, was reported by Hargitay to be recovering at her home from an attack of viral pneumonia.

ROMNEY BOOSTER — Detroit businessman Richard Holloway announces the formation of a volunteer organization to boost Michigan's Gov. Romney for president in 1968. He said yesterday he hopes the organization, which he plans as a coordinating committee for similar clubs across the country, will influence the governor to run.

NASA Claims Action Needed

Observatory Satellite Program Near-Failure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) review board claims that drastic action is needed to salvage the agency's failure-plagued $741.2 million observatory satellite program.

The board, set up by NASA last April 21, did not lay the blame for the program's failures on any individual or organization, but in a report issued yesterday it recommended:

- Redesign of outmoded electronic equipment which went haywire in space.
- Stronger management of observatory programs with surveillance of performance at contractors' plants.

The board said NASA's various orbital observatories still have a useful role to play in space. But it also made it clear that their past performance has, on the whole, been pretty dismal, and that a stern program of redemption is in order.

Congressmen, the scientific community, the budget makers, and NASA itself have been deeply troubled by the way the observatory program has been going.

The program goes back to 1959 when astronomers proposed space platforms, orbiting high above the earth's obscuring ocean of air, which could for the first time get a clear look at the sun, the planets, and the stars, not to mention the earth below.

SPACECRAFT FAMILY

In the period since then, NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center at Greenbelt, Md., has developed and launched an entire family of heavy and costly observatory spacecraft — the Orbiting Solar Observatory (OSO), Nimbus (an advanced weather satellite), the Orbiting Geophysical Observatory (OGO) and the Orbiting Astronomical Observatory (OAO).

N-Powered Sub Is Commissioned

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (UPI) — The U.S. Navy yesterday commissioned its 64th nuclear-powered submarine, the Queenfish, in ceremonies at the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co.

The 292-foot, 4,000-ton submarine is the second to bear the name Queenfish. The first Queenfish destroyed 153,000 tons of Japanese shipping in World War II and its commander, Rear Adm. Charles E. Loughlin, was the featured speaker at yesterday's ceremonies.

Rusk in Taipei to See Chiang

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk arrived today from Tokyo for discussions with President Chiang Kai-shek and other Chinese Nationalist leaders.

Rusk goes next to South Vietnam, en route to the meeting in Paris of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's council of ministers.

EXOTIC BRUNCH DISH—Sausage patties you mix yourself and cook in an Oriental sweet sour sauce makes an interesting brunch dish. Serve with sweet rolls or pass a dish of hot steamed rice for accompaniment. Remember this for holiday entertaining.

Cook Sausage Patties in Sweet Sour Sauce

Brunch, a truly great American invention, it borrows the best from both breakfast and lunch.

Its popularity has been increasing and it is becoming an easy way to entertain or to have the whole family together at least one day a week.

Numbers can be flexible and the time can be just as relaxed; its only restriction—it usually takes place on weekends or holidays.

"Far East Sausage" fills the menu fare for something extra. It is borrowed from the Orient, whose cooks are famous for blending of different flavors that please the appetite.

The idea of using smoked sausage, pineapple and ginger together takes it out of the realm of ordinary everyday cooking. It is easy to fix and is second-thing good — so prepare enough.

Far East Patties
2 large green peppers
2 1/2 lbs. skinless smoked sausage
1 egg
1/2 cup fine saltine cracker crumbs
1/2 cup salad oil
2 1/2 cups chicken bouillon
1 cup dry sherry
6 tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 cup vinegar
1 cup light corn syrup
1 8-oz. can shredded pineapple, drained

Broiler Finish for Eggplant

Here is a savory main dish from skillet and broiler.

Eggplant With Tomato Sauce
1 eggplant, about 1 pound
1/4 pound butter or margarine
1 small onion, chopped
1/2 medium green pepper, chopped
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Wash and dry eggplant; do not remove skin; cut into 1/2-inch thick crosswise slices — there should be 8 to 10.

In a 10-inch skillet that may be put into the broiler, heat a couple tablespoons of the butter; fry eggplant over moderate heat, one layer at a time, until cooked through and browned on both sides. Use all but a tablespoon of the butter adding it as needed.

Drain eggplant on paper toweling. Add remaining tablespoon butter to skillet with onion and green pepper and cook vegetables until wilted. Add tomato sauce and heat.

Return eggplant to sauce; sprinkle with cheese. Broil until very hot and lightly browned. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

They're Different

Try these for something new at your next party. Dip two-inch rounds of dry bread in French toast batter and fry until golden. Spread lightly with canned mushroom steak sauce; cover with chopped California walnuts and sprinkle with salt to taste. Bake in a hot oven until crisp.

Ach, Such Wonderful Pancakes

Chanukah — the eight-day festival of Lights (Dec. 8-15) — is a season for delightful dishes, feasting and merrymaking. And unlike other Jewish holidays, the traditional dishes of this happy time are based on legend and custom — instead of law and ritual.

Foodlore, handed down from generation includes an explanation for eating Latkes (pancakes) at Chanukah time. It is said that when the Battle of the Maccabees was at its height, the women behind the lines made flat little cakes as food for their men.

The variations of Latkes — are as endless as the stories behind them. In the European countries of yesterday, when it was difficult to get cottage cheese in the winter, a substitute had to be found. This was the beginning of the now internationally famous Potato Pancake.

To the traditional cheese, potato and just plain Latkes, the Israel of today has added some new Fruit Fritters. Americans have become devoted to Blueberry Pancakes and of course Buckwheat Cakes.

In short, there are as many variations of the pancake as there are imaginative cooks to invent them.

VIENNESE LAYER PANCAKE
Traditional and brand new — all at the same time... These mouth-watering cottage cheese cakes — filled with a spicy applesauce filling and served in not pie-shaped wedges.

Pancakes
6 eggs
2 cups sieved small curd cottage cheese

1/4 cup (one-half stick) margarine
6 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar (optional)

Beat eggs until light and foamy. Stir in cottage cheese and melted margarine. Add flour and salt to the cheese mixture and mix well. Make eight 8-inch pancakes in an 8-inch fry pan or griddle.

Filling
4 cups (two No. 2 cans) applesauce
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 cup brown sugar
Combine applesauce, cinnamon, nutmeg and sugar in a saucepan. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring often.

Put alternating layers of pancakes and applesauce filling into an 8-inch spring form pan. Put pan into a preheated moderate oven 350 degrees, for about 10 minutes or until hot.

Put on serving dish, remove spring from sides of pan. Sprinkle with confectionery sugar on top and cut into pie-shaped wedges to serve.

VIENNESE LAYER PANCAKES—A Tower of Viennese Layer Pancakes—a dreamy dish, cut like a pie and built—step by step of thin pancakes—each spread with a spicy applesauce filling. The delectable dessert follows Chanukah tradition by way of its cottage cheese pancakes, but makes news in its new form and flavoring.

Muffin Mix Base Is Glamourized

Serve these muffins straight from the oven.

Banana Cocktail Muffins

1 large egg
1/2 cup milk
1/2 of a 14-ounce package (about 1 1/2 cups) banana-nut muffin mix
1/2 cup well-drained canned fruit cocktail

In small bowl of electric mixer, beat egg until thick and ivory color. Stir in milk, then muffin mix and fruit cocktail — do not stir smooth. Turn into 8 buttered muffin-pan cups (1/2 cup capacity) — they'll be about two-thirds full.

Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven until well browned — about 20 minutes. Allow to stand in cups a few minutes, then remove and serve at once. (Fruit will sink to bottom.)

Save the Crumbs to Make Cookies

Use those leftover crumbs from holiday breads to make these delightful Crumb Macaroons.

For three dozen cookies, combine 1 cup fine dry enriched bread crumbs, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1 cup chopped nuts. Stir 1 teaspoon vanilla extract into 2 beaten eggs. Add egg mixture to crumb mixture and mix well.

Drop by teaspoonsful onto well-greased baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 12 to 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove from baking sheet to cooling rack at once.

16 to Seek Title Saturday as Waterford Junior Miss

Sixteen high school seniors will compete in the Waterford Township Junior Miss Pageant at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Mason Junior High School.

Waterford Township Jaycees, who are sponsoring the pageant, claim the turnout is one of the largest ever for their local Junior Miss competition.

Leading the way with nine entrants is Waterford - Kettering High School. Four of the girls attend classes at Our Lady of the Lakes High School. The other three are from Waterford Township High School.

There's much at stake in the pageant.

The title-bearer will be awarded

Last Year's Winner

ed a $250 college scholarship plus a trophy.

And equally important, she will automatically qualify for the Michigan Junior Miss Pageant at Pontiac Northern High School Jan. 27-28.

Pageant cochairmen are Norman Wood and Mrs. Ted McCullough Jr.

Expected to be present to crown the new Junior Miss is last year's titleholder, Gayanne Mansfield, now a freshman at Michigan State University. A graduate of Waterford Township High School, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mansfield, 5106 Durham.

Contestants from Waterford Township High School are Pamela Mackavich, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mackavich, 3749 Lake Front, Waterford Township; Marilee Mason, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Mason, 7725 Locklin, West Bloomfield Township; and Jennifer Siegwart, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Siegwart, 3258 Wormer, Waterford Township.

Representing Our Lady of the Lakes High School are Sharon Lilley, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Lilley, 450 Cole-dale, White Lake Township; Rose A. Mariucci, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orcinio Mariucci, 447 S. Winding, Waterford Township; Linda Pietrak, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pietrak, 3858 Mariner, Waterford Township; and Monica Regan, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Regan, 4226 Greendale, West Bloomfield Township.

Contestants from Waterford Kettering High School include Mona Arseneau, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wagner, 4818 Meigs, Waterford Township; Kathy Eudis, 17, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Eudis, 2200 Kingston, White Lake Township; and August Eudis; and Lynn Hammond, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Hammond, 5790 Crowwell, Waterford Township.

Also entered from Kettering are Dawn Mercer, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Mercer, 4145 Windiate, Waterford Township; Karen Meyers, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Meyers, 3567 Lakewood, Waterford Township; and Wanda Quartermou, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Quartermou, 4212 La Forest, Waterford Township.

Other Kettering entrants are Marcia Reinhardt, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene H. Reinhardt, 6251 Balmoral Terrace, Independence Township; Carole Richardson, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Richardson, 2834 Silverstone, Waterford Township; and Sue Strohmeyer, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Strohmeyer, 3925 W. Embarcadero, Waterford Township.

AIR BOAT IN VIET—A U.S. Navy patrol air-cushion vehicle (PACV) churns up a mud-dry spray as it comes alongside a Viet Cong sampan in South Viet Nam's Mekong River Delta during the recent operation Quai Vat (monster). Three of the vehicles, which ride on cushions of air, left their base at Cat Lo on the coast 35 miles from Saigon and dashed across the Plain of Reeds to Moc Hoa—a distance of 150 miles — to join the operation. They got plenty of action, providing reconnaissance, search and rescue mission, medical evacuation and logistical support.

Yanks Want Yanks off-Limits

By EDDY GILMORE
LONDON (U) — "Take us to a night spot where there won't be any Americans," said the visitor from the United States. "That's right," said his wife, "some place where we won't be falling all over Americans like we were in Paris and Rome."

But, you and your husband are Americans.

"Of course we are, honey, but we see enough of them at home. When we're in London, we want to see Britshers. You know, the swinging ones in their swinging places."

HARD TO FIND

Told that in London it is very difficult to find a minus-American night spot, the husband replied with a resigned sigh: "If it's really like that, all right. But please, some place where there won't be too many."

Years ago, someone said that there are few hatreds as intense as the hatred of one American tourist for another.

Generally, this is still true today.

Although Western Europe's nightclubs were not specifically designed for the American tourist, many were certainly founded with the free-spending, big-tipping American visitor in mind.

SOME EXCEPTIONS

Some notable exceptions are: Dolly's Scotch of St. James, Blaise's, The Conventual, The In-Place, and reopening soon, the Ad Lib.

Dolly's is big, packed, explosive, loud and very dark. So dark that you may find yourself sitting next to a member of the Rolling Stones and not even know it for... maybe a minute or two.

Here you find members of the new aristocracy, the disc jockeys, some pop musicians, photographers and racing drivers. Blaise's is really crazy, man.

Here you can see a girl with a bare midriff dancing with a man wearing gloves. Gloves are in-things now. Blaise's even has a place for low-stake gambling. The croupiers look like de-mure schoolgirls in their blouses and prim ties. Maybe they are, for strange things are happening in London 1966.

All these places have food, drink and music. They are clubs, and if you're not a member and British, there may be trouble getting in.

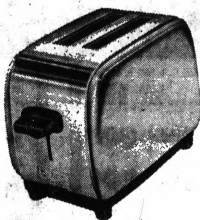

If you are an American, brandish your passport and you're as good as in. Understandably, there are membership fees.

Unlike the open-to-everybody nightclub, these so-called private clubs remain open very late. You can find customers at Dolly's and Scotch of St. James at 5 and 6 o'clock in the morning.

The Ad Lib, which was originally situated next door to a church, is moving but its owner, John Kennedy, says that when his doors open in June, The Ad Lib's going to be so far out, it's going to be in.

On its menu, chicken in several forms is listed. A footnote reads: "Served live if you prefer it but the feathers are hell on the tonsils, but very sexy with applesauce."

Oxford Warned of 15-Year Wait for Sewer Arm

OXFORD — Village and township officials were told last night that it may be as long as 15 years before the Paint Creek arm of the Clinton-Oakland Sewer is extended to their area.

In the meantime, if the area wishes a sewage treatment plant it will have to go to considerable expense to build one and it would be allowed only on a temporary basis.

So stated Donald Ringle, deputy director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works, speaking before an informal gathering called by Township Supervisor Lee Valentine.

Oxford for the past four years has been seriously considering some type of sewage treatment system to replace its septic tanks. The south portion of the township has now asked that it be included in any plans.

Two alternatives which arose to the Clinton-Oakland extension plan were that of a lagoon system of disposal in the township and the participation by Oxford and Oxford Township in a Lake Orion sewage disposal plant.

STATE ORDER

Lake Orion has been ordered by the State Water Resources Commission through the Circuit Court to build a plant which will be in operation by 1969.

Pollution of Paint Creek by part of the village is cited as the reason.

Temporary repair of facilities has improved scattered pollution situations in Orion Township, cited along with many other municipalities in the area.

The repair work has eased the necessity of that township's participation in a sewerage plan, though Orion Supervisor John Lesslie told The Pontiac Press this morning that his board would be willing to study the problem and would perhaps go along with a common plan.

MOVE FEASIBLE

Oxford area officials felt construction of an interceptor south-eastern extension to the Hill-Gazette American Legion would be financially more feasible than construction of lines two miles northwest of town to the only available area for a lagoon disposal system.

The interceptor toward Orion, they felt, could become a part of the Clinton-Oakland system once the Paint Creek arm is extended.

Ringle said probable delay in the interceptor extension is based on the financial ability of the area. Such an arm at this time could be expected to service only about 8,000 people, he said.

Harold Pickford, an Oxford banker, pointed out that the $3 million with interest still might conceivably be cheaper than the area's construction of a $430,000 lagoon system which would become obsolete by State Health Department requirements in about 15 years. He also pointed out the estimated $60,000 a year required to operate it.

MIGHT LURE INDUSTRY

Valentine said that within 10 years the populations of Oakland, Orion and Oxford Townships would probably approach 30,000 people.

He said with payment based on connections, it is possible that such service would entice more residents and industry to the area to help bear the cost.

Ringle said that it would be two to two-and-a-half years before the Paint Creek arm was now planned north to Tienken Road in Rochester would be in operation.

When asked about federal grants to help such a project, Ringle said the outlook is not good.

WILLINGNESS ON STUDY

He said the DPW would be willing to conduct a study in connection with the engineering firm of Johnson & Anderson to seek a solution for the area.

Valentine pointed out that with the exception of a sewer problem now being corrected at the Dominican Academy on Drexler Road, the township is not being forced into a sewerage plan.

He said his board felt the opportunity time to do something in that regard was now, however, rather than to wait for 10 or 15 years.

The village has applied for federal funds to build sewers. Should money be forthcoming, it feels it could have a plan in operation within 18 months using the lagoon type of disposal.

County Dairy Farmers Feted

The top producers of milk and butterfat received awards at the annual Oakland County Dairy Banquet last night.

Highlight of the event was the presentation by The Pontiac Press of a trophy to the Oakland County Dairy Farmers of the Year.

Board Okays Pay Addition for 3 Rochester Teachers

ROCHESTER — In response to a grievance filed by the Rochester Education Association (REA), the Board of Education has voted to increase compensation to three teachers.

The three to benefit are those who teach a sixth class during the day at the junior high schools in place of having a sixth hour study hall period.

The teachers will receive an added $6 a day while they teach the extra class.

The board reiterated its feeling stated in a letter to the REA last Nov. 23 that there was no grounds for a second grievance concerning lunch hour duty for teachers.

Settlement of the grievances was discussed by the board during executive session.

EVENING USE

Harlan Johnson, director of instruction and personnel, proposed evening use of the senior high school library for students two or three evenings a week.

He reported that elementary students from the four-room Avon School are being transported to Brooklands School twice a week for use of the library there.

Reports on a meeting to explore the need for a community recreation plan were presented and another meeting Dec. 15 at the school board offices was announced.

A report on bids to construct Long Meadow School and addition was also presented.

Unionist Elected to National Post

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Kenneth Bannon, 5586 Castleton, has been elected to serve a three-year term on the board of directors of the Family Service Association of America.

The agency is coordinating and standard setting agency for all 332 local marriage and family casework counseling agencies throughout North America.

Bannon is a member at large on the UAW's Executive Board and director of the union's national Ford department.

He is also a member of the board of directors of the local Family Service of Oakland County.

Services Sought by Subdivision

FARMINGTON — residents of Woodcroft Subdivision in the newly annexed section want the city to install sewer and water lines in their area.

In response to petitions received Monday night, the city council authorized City Manager John Dinan to have engineering plans and cost estimates drawn up.

The 457 acres, formerly part of Farmington Township, were annexed to the city in the Nov. 8 election.

In other action Monday night, the council voted to accept the minimum standards for police training set up by the Law Enforcement Council in order to be eligible for state aid.

Dinan was instructed to draft an ordinance meeting the minimum standards. He said it would probably be adopted at the next council meeting.

REIMBURSEMENT

A community is eligible to receive up to 50 per cent reimbursement for the cost of training and recruiting if it meets the minimum requirements.

The council also decided to take its $11,000 share of the cost of paving Nine Mile from Farmington Road to I-96 out of the general fund.

Dinan said it was decided to finance the project this way rather than through general obligation bonds to avoid the interest costs.

News of the Area

Board Fills Vacancy in Farmington Twp.

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — James Skillman, 2825 Forestbrook, has been appointed to the Township Board to replace Thomas Duke who recently resigned.

The board appointed Skillman to serve out the remainder of Duke's term ending April 1969.

An attorney, Skillman was formerly chairman of the zoning board and a member of the board of review.

In other action the board approved a special assessment district for a $71,300 water main project in the Brookhill Estates Subdivision on 12 Mile.

The assessment will cost the individual lot owner an average of $859.

FIRST PUBLIC HEARING

The board also held the first public hearing on construction of a sewer system on Orchard Lake Road between Bond and Burbank.

The $89,000 project would serve numerous businesses in the area.

A study recently undertaken on the possibility of consolidation of the city of Farmington, the township, and the villages of Wood Creek Farms and Quakertown received tacit approval from the board.

While agreeing to go along with the study, the board let it be known that it neither approved nor disapproved of the idea of such a merger.

EFFECT OF MERGER

The Board of Commerce, the Jaycees and the League of Women Voters have undertaken the study in an attempt to determine what effect unification would have on each community.

In other action the board agreed to match funds with the West Bloomfield Township Board and with the Ward Eagle Elementary School PTA to construct a sidewalk in front of the school.

Each township will pay a cost not to exceed $1,000 or up to 25 per cent of the cost.

Supervisor-Elect to Fill Webber Seat

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — Billy Van Arsdell, winner in the Nov. 8 race for supervisor, has been appointed by the board to fill the unexpired term of Frank Webber.

Van Arsdell would normally take office April 10, Webber, a long-time supervisor, declined to run in the November election. He resigned Nov. 15.

The board also accepted the resignation of Fire Chief Elmer Powell who said the hours were too long.

Powell, who will remain in the department, was replaced by John Hoch, former fire lieutenant. Harold Klein was elevated to the lieutenant's position.

Robert McCallum, township treasurer, remains assistant fire chief.

Parkedole Appointee

ROCHESTER — Appointment of James F. Nykanen as section head in the Parkedole Biological Division of Parke, Davis & Co. has been announced. He resides with his wife and son at 330 Parkdale, Royal Oak.

Dow Prices Up

MIDLAND (AP) — The Dow Chemical Co. has announced a $2 per ton increase in the price of chlorine and caustic soda effective immediately. The increase applies across the board to all forms and quantities of chlorine and caustic soda and applies in both the eastern and western zones of the United States.

Sodium chloride has been called the "edible gem" and is the only stone eaten directly by man. It's common salt.

Yule Party Slated

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — Every child in the township has been invited to a Christmas party at 8 p.m. Dec. 17 in the township hall.

Addison Township firemen will play host, and will also fill baskets for needy families for distribution at Christmas.

Saturday Sale by Goodfellows

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Firemen and Metropolitan Club members of Pontiac Township's three stations will sell Goodfellow newspapers Saturday at main street intersections in the township.

A goal of $1,000 has been set to pay for the annual Christmas parties for underprivileged children and baskets for needy families. Some 2,500 issues of The Pontiac Press have been ordered for the sale.

Fire Station No. 1 will play host to the children at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 14 at the Auburn Heights Fire Hall, Douglas Sparks is chairman.

Co-sponsoring the affair are the Hill-Gazette American Legion Post No. 143 and the Auburn Heights Lions Club.

The Station No. 2 Christmas party will be at 2 p.m. Dec. 18 at the hall on Opdyke. Glen Hartung is party chairman.

Gets State Labor Post

LAPEER — Lynn E. Mantikieski, 26, assistant personnel officer at the Lapeer State Home, has been named to a new post in the State Labor Department. He will be administrative assistant to Thomas Reumell, director of the department.

Lapeer Acts on Site, Cost for City Hall

LAPEER — A new city hall may be provided here under provisions of a projected urban renewal project.

City Manager Arnold Whitney reported that under the Public Acts of 1966 a city hall would be considered part of an urban renewal project.

He said the federal government would pay as much as 25 per cent of the total or $2.5 million, which ever is less.

Councilmen instructed him to take soil boring tests on two pieces of property in the central business district, now being considered for urban renewal.

He was asked to investigate site costs as well.

PLANNING GRANT

The council passed a resolution permitting acceptance of a $117,539 planning grant for its proposed $2.2-million urban renewal project in the business district.

In other business last night the council adopted a new codification of city ordinances effective Jan. 1.

An amendment to the tavern regulation ordinance prohibiting the employment of anyone under 21 was passed.

The council voted to purchase a $7,000 billing machine and to secure cost estimates on a sidewalk renovation program for 1967.

Three Varieties of Fresh Pears Available for Winter Eating

Buttery-smooth, juicy, aromatic pears grow in thousands of varieties, though fortunately, only a few are commercially important in the U.S.

To help you identify the pears, average pear. Although generally a summer pear, Bartletts are expected to be available along with the winter varieties for a few weeks.

The short-necked, greenish-yellow Anjou rates as the major winter pear. It is a particularly good keeper, thus will be found in food stores from October through May.

Juicy, smooth-textured and spicy-flavored, Anjous are good for fresh eating and salads.

A long, tapering neck and rich golden brown, or "russet" color make Bosc easy to identify. This is a favorite for baking or broiling as well as fresh eating.

Aromatic flavored, juicy and buttery, Bosc are available from October through March.

Comice are noted for their large size and aromatic fragrance. Rather round in shape, these yellow-green pears often have a crimson blush.

Perfect for salads and fresh eating, Comice are found mainly from October to March.

SUNBURST SALAD
3 ripe pears
1 cup diced celery
1 cup Tokay grapes, halved and seeded
¼ cup salted peanuts
Mayonnaise or salad dressing

Wash pears and set one aside. Halve, core and dice remaining two pears. Combine with celery, grapes and nuts. Mix with enough mayonnaise to moisten.

Heap into lettuce-lined salad bowl.

Slice remaining pear in eighths, arrange in sunburst pattern on top with maraschino cherry in center. Serves 4-6.

FRESH PEAR AND ORANGE SAUCE
4 large fresh pears
¼ cup water

2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 large oranges

Wash, pare and quarter pears. Place in saucepan with water. Cover and cook slowly until soft (15 to 20 minutes). Mash pears, add sugar and salt. Peel and section oranges, dice and add to pear sauce. Blend well and chill.

Makes a surprisingly versatile sauce, tasty on hot gingerbread, shortcake, vanilla pudding... even entrees of roast pork or beef.

White Cap on Apples Is Fluffy Sweet Meringue

It's unfortunate that apple trees don't come true from seed. We may sow 100 seeds from the same apple tree and raise 100 different varieties of apples, not one like the parent tree.

On the other hand, some of our greatest apple varieties — Delicious, McIntosh, Jonathan, Winesap — "just grew" from seeds and were discovered by men with a taste for a top apple.

These outstanding apples are propagated by budding or grafting from the parent tree onto the selected form of rootstock. In this way all desirable characteristics are transmitted to the young tree.

It is due to men like Johnny Appleseed that the United States ranks among the top five of the world's apple growers.

Fresh apples have good amounts of vitamins and minerals, are low-calorie, low-sodium and provide an alkaline reaction in the body.

Meringue-Topped Fresh Apples
6 large baking apples
¼ cup graham cracker crumbs
¼ cup walnuts, finely chopped
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 cup sugar
¼ cup water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Preheat oven to 350°F. Peel a 1-inch strip around stem end of apples. Core, being careful not to cut through to blossom end. Place in 12x2x2 inch baking dish.

Mix together graham cracker crumbs, nuts, butter, sugar and cinnamon. Spoon into center of each apple.

Combine 1 cup sugar, ¼ cup water, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons lemon juice and salt in small saucepan. Heat to boiling; pour over apples. Cover.

Bake in preheated moderate oven (375 degrees) basting several times during baking, for about 45 minutes. Cool.

Beat egg whites until foamy. Beat in sugar and salt. Frost top of each apple with meringue. Bake in preheated hot oven (425 degrees) for 5 minutes or until brown. Yield: 6 servings.

MERINGUE TOPS — Baked apples take on an exciting appearance when they're topped with piled-up meringue. Five more minutes in a hot oven gives the meringue a golden hue.

Add Mincemeat to Apple Crisp

Top off a holiday dinner with mincemeat crisp. Combine 1½ cups of moist mincemeat and 1 cup of diced raw apples in an 8-inch square baking pan.

Combine 1½ cups of sifted all-purpose flour, ¾ cup of rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked), ½ cup of firmly-packed brown sugar and ¼ cup of melted butter or margarine; sprinkle over mincemeat mixture; press lightly.

Bake in pre-heated moderate oven about 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Add Beans and Cream to Chili for a Soup

Like chili? Like tomato soup? Like green beans? Like sour cream? Like zesty seasonings? Well, you'll find them all in "Something-for-Everyone Soup," a robust creation aimed at appeasing appetites on a cold day.

The beans are Blue Lakes, the pole beans that are a special variety originally developed for canning and grown in the lush Pacific Northwest for packing under various brand names.

Something-for-Everyone Soup
1 can (1 lb.) cut Blue Lake green beans
1 can (15 oz.) chile (without beans)
1 can (10½ oz.) condensed tomato soup
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¾ teaspoon seasoned salt
½ teaspoon onion powder
½ teaspoon oregano
½ cup dairy sour cream

1 teaspoon freeze-dried or chopped fresh chives
2 drops Tabasco
Combine undrained beans, chile, soup, butter, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon onion powder and oregano in saucepan. Heat slowly to just below boiling point.

Meanwhile, blend sour cream, chives, Tabasco and remaining salt and onion powder. Serve soup in bowls with about 1½ tablespoons cream mixture on top of each. Makes 5 or 6 servings.

Chill at Once
Place hard-cooked eggs in cold tap water or ice water as soon as they have been cooked. You then will have no trouble in removing the shells, and the yolks will have no dark rings.

ELUSIVE HUSKIE — Pontiac Northern Huskies' Dana Coin (54) breaks away from Highland Park's Dwight Downing (31) but Tony Perkins (43 left) cut him off before he could reach the basket in first half action last night on the PNH floor. Coin scored 10 points as PNH won, 57-40.

Huskies Pound Highland Park for 2nd Win

Skippers Roll Past Milford in Opening Game, 73-59

By FLETCHER SPEARS

My what a difference a year can make. At just about this point in the proceedings last season Pontiac Northern and Waterford were the unhappy owners of 0-2 basketball records.

Now, between them, they sport a 3-0 mark.

The young Huskies of PNH opened last season with losses to Flint Southwestern and Highland Park. They made their debut this season by pining an overtime loss on the Flint five last week and they routed Highland Park last night, 57-40.

Waterford handed Milford its second loss of the campaign by rolling to a 73-59 victory.

SAME TEAM

Coach Dick Hall has just about the same personnel on the floor now that he used in those two losses last season, but they're better now.

The Huskies took their lumps last season in a 4-11 campaign, but indications are that the tide has turned.

This one was easy for the Huskies, made so to a large extent by the visiting Parkers who managed to hit on only 15 of 76 shots.

With the Parkers having a bad night, PNH, hitting the net at a 40 per cent pace (23 of 57), jumped to a 12-6 first-quarter lead and fashioned a 28-17 advantage at intermission.

The third quarter was disastrous for the Parkers, who failed to get a point until only 2:17 remained in the period and they wound up on the short end of a 42-20 score heading into the final frame.

SHARP ON BOARDS

Center Bob Traylor and forwards Dana Coin and Don Hayward sparked in the rebounding department for the Huskies, although the visitors posted a 52-48 advantage in the collection of loose balls.

Senior guard Jack Brown, who had 22 points in the Huskies' first two games last season, scored in 21 last night to lead all scorers and now has 48 in two outings.

Hayward pitched in 16 and Coin added 10 in the scoring column.

Milford stayed with Waterford's Skippers through three periods, but the winners cracked the Redskins' press in the fourth period and romped to a 57-40 edge to sew up the game.

Center Karl Arrington led the Waterford attack with 24 markers while teammates Bill Hill contributed 18 and Ron Stafford 11.

Scoring boards with 27 points and Mark Giegler rebounded 35. Waterford held a 30-20 lead at halftime and the two traded baskets in a 19-19 third period.

Weather Idles Laker Quintet; FOLS Wins

Fog slowed Waterford Our Lady of Lakes' bid to pick up its second victory of the season in Macomb Parochial League play.

The Lakers were scheduled to take on Marine City Holy Cross last night, but the Holy Cross quintet called saying they were fogged in and couldn't make it. The game will be rescheduled.

One game was played in the Macomb circuit, and that one, Anchor Bay Catholic trimmed St. Rose, 54-48, behind the scoring of Randy Flea (16) and Larry Schmid (11).

In Northwest Parochial League action, Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows downed St. Rita, 78-61, Ferndale St. James belted Highland Park St. Benedict, 73-62, and Royal Oak St. Mary downed St. Francis de Sales, 66-53.

In another area parochial game, Detroit St. Phillip handed Utica St. Lawrence an 81-55 setback.

HOT COMBINATION

FOLS brought its record to 2-1 with the nod over St. Rita.

The scoring combination of Frank Carrico and Tim Doyle was all that FOLS needed. Doyle led all scorers with 30 points and Carrico added 23. Larry Alexander (24) and Jim Dion (19) led St. Rita.

Down 26-14 after one quarter, FOLS found the range and pushed in 26 points in the second frame to take a 40-30 lead at halftime.

Holly, Brandon Suffer Losses

Broncos Halted by Fenton's Press

Holly and Orionville Brandon both found themselves victims of 33 field goal salvos by their hosts in losing prep basketball trips last night.

Arch-rival Fenton pressed Holly (1-1) into submission during the final half for a 74-52 victory, while Flint Holy Rosary had a too much backboard strength for Brandon, 94-65.

Fenton pulled away after a 29-23 first half edge. The Tigers' pressing tactics and fast break offense produced a 29-20 third-period advantage. Don Madden tallied 26 and Vance Huff 17 for Fenton.

Holly's only consistent scorer was Mike Beely with 18. Joe McCullough's 21 points for Brandon (9-2) had some help from the 11 each by Gary McDowell and Bill McDonald, but that was no match for Holy Rosary's triple punch. Joe Fisher (27), Doug Gauthier (21) and Chris Jeffries (20) formed a potent attack underneath the basket for the taller Flint quintet.

The rough contest saw 70 personal fouls called, and 307 free throws shot.

Utica Halts Romeo

Rochester, Avon Roll

Avondale and Rochester jumped off to winning starts as they opened the Oakland A League basketball race last night.

Roy Kibbe led Orion with 10 markers.

Lake Orion was a 61-41 victim of Avondale, while Rochester turned back Madison, 70-51.

In another O-A game, Warren Cousino ripped Troy, 71-47.

Elsewhere, Utica pinned a 58-34 setback on Romeo's Bulldogs.

BIG LEAD

With the Dragons bobbling the ball, Avondale took advantage of the breaks and rolled to a 31-18 lead at intermission and stretched it to 50-28 after three periods.

Four of Avon's Yellow Jackets wound up in double figures. Bob Burt led the way with 15.

13, followed by Steve Morris (12), Lee Saunders (11) and Archie Anderson (10).

Roy Kibbe led Orion with 10 markers.

Rochester came up with 70 points for the second time in two outings and this time it was enough to win. The team fell to Clarkson last Saturday, 77-70.

Madison grabbed a brief 1-4 lead, but the flying Falcons took charge quickly and romped to a 34-22 halftime lead and stretched it to 64-37 late in the game.

LEAD ATTACK

Don Gidding and Jim Burton, who supplied the punch in the Falcons last Saturday, were again against Madison. Gidding poured in 21 markers and Burton chipped in with 19.

Tim Blach picked up 16 to pace Madison.

Utica's Chieftains had little trouble in taking their opener, while Romeo was saddled with its second loss.

Romeo was ice cold in the first half, collecting only 12 points. Meanwhile, Utica came up with 28 at intermission and has easy sailing through the second half.

Gerry Lane paced the Chieftains attack with 22 points and Jim Jilek, who collected 16 rebounds, picked up 17 markers.

SPARK ROMEO

Dwight Ford and Jim Micieli led Romeo with eight points apiece.

Cousino, the O-A's preseason favorite, made Troy its third victim of the campaign.

Paul Papak led the Cousino onslaught with 22 points followed by Randy Hayes (13) and cousin Bob Papak (12).

Lynn Quallmann picked up 17 points to lead Avondale.

Country Day Wins by 29; Emmanuel Tops New School

Country Day of Birmingham opened its season basketball Tuesday evening with an impressive 74-45 rout of Hart as three players hit 18 points or better for the winners.

Returnees Paul Miller (23 points), Tim Baughman (22) and Dave Swift (18) took turns riding the visitors' defense.

The 6-9 Swift dumped in nine in the opening quarter as Country Day took a 15-11 lead. Baughman's long jump shots accounted for 12 in the next period that saw the Yellow Jackets move to a 39-22 half-time margin.

Miller's drive-in baskets produced eight in the third and nine in the last session as the game continued to grow.

The victory was the 25th straight for Country Day over three regular seasons. Swift was credited with 22 rebounds.

IMLAY WINS

In other games, Imlay City rolled past Capac, 61-52, and Emmanuel Christian dunned Utica Stevenson, 53-48.

Tony VanderMeer picked up 16 points and Ted Spiegel added 10 to pace Emmanuel to a come-from-behind win over visiting Stevenson, who is playing a limited, initial varsity schedule.

Down 23-29 at halftime, Emmanuel poured in 29 points in the third to forge ahead, 40-31. VanderMeer tallied 12 of his 16 points in the second half and Spiegel picked up eight markers in the third during which Emmanuel hit on 9 of 15 shots.

John Topie collected 18 points to spark Imlay past Capac's Chiefs.

Celtics Whip Piston Quintet

DETROIT (AP)—Getting away from Sam Jones, the Boston Celtics' sharpshooting forward is okay with the Detroit Pistons.

The Pistons are back in town today after dropping a 130-111 decision to Boston in New York Tuesday night. Detroit meets the New York Knicks tonight at Cobo Arena.

In other National Basketball Association games, Philadelphia trimmed Chicago 129-119 and San Francisco bumped New York 126-116.

Jones, nursing a sore left hand, did not play in three previous Detroit victories over the Celtics this season. But he came off the bench to pump in 23 points as the Celtics snapped the jinx.

South Lyon Crushes Foe

South Lyon exploded for 56 points in the first half Tuesday night to coast to its first victory of the basketball season, a 107-57 beating of Pinckney.

The Lions had a 36-15 lead after one period and led, 56-24, at the intermission. In all, 13 players scored in at least one field goal as South Lyon tallied 39 times from the floor.

Forward Larry Brown of the host Lions led all the marksmen with seven field goals and 19 points. Bruce Taylor and Scott Bennett had 12 each. At least six points were tallied by 10 of the 13 winning players.

PROPER BILLIARDS

by Jim Lidey

Bridge Important — No. 2

Building a correct "hand-bridge" is important in all forms of billiards.

If you are right-handed place the cuestick between your thumb and index finger of your left hand approximately six inches from the cue tip, with your thumb pointing toward the ceiling and the cuestick dangling in a vertical position.

You then bring your cue to a horizontal position. Without changing your left hand's position on the cue, place your left hand on the table "bed," opening the remaining three fingers with the ring and little fingers spread out to give you a solid bridge.

Hold your cuestick firm enough to move the flesh on your index finger, when you begin to stroke your cuestick, and this will tend to help you to guide the proper direction of the cue, which will create a smooth, even stroke.

Butch Beard Paces Victory by Louisville

UCLA Awaits Duke;
Texas Western Nets
Triumph No. 3

By the Associated Press

Low Alcindor of UCLA isn't the only sophomore in college basketball to make an impressive varsity debut. There's also Butch Beard at the University of Louisville.

Beard's debut Saturday night was overshadowed by Alcindor's 56 points as the top-ranked Bruins crushed Southern California 106-90. Beard got 27 as Louisville defeated Georgetown, Ky., 99-81.

Beard, 6-foot-3 and 175 pounds, had the stage all to himself Tuesday night with UCLA and Alcindor awaiting the weekend invasion of the Duke Blue Devils. The soph from Hardinsburg, Ky., demonstrated his opening night performance was no fluke with an other sparkling home court effort.

He tossed in 21 points to again top the Louisville scoring as the Cardinals, fourth-ranked Nationally to UCLA in The Associated Press poll, whipped Northwestern Louisiana 107-68.

ONE SUSPENDED

Texas Western, the defending national champions and No. 2 in the AP poll, made it three in a row with an easy 61-30 conquest of East Texas State at El Paso. The Miners played without their star, Bobby Joe Hill, who was suspended indefinitely before the game for disciplinary reasons. Coach Don Haskins termed the suspension "temporary."

Wake Forest pinned Virginia Tech 78-75 and Minnesota edged Drake 71-58 in two home overtime triumphs while on the road Dayton dunned Miami of Ohio 80-71 and Princeton beat Villanova 48-37.

Abe Aikins' three-point play in the last 34 seconds gave Hofstra a 71-60 home court victory over Seton Hall. Tom Ringlemann came off the bench and scored three quick baskets to spark Syracuse over Cornell in another home court triumph.

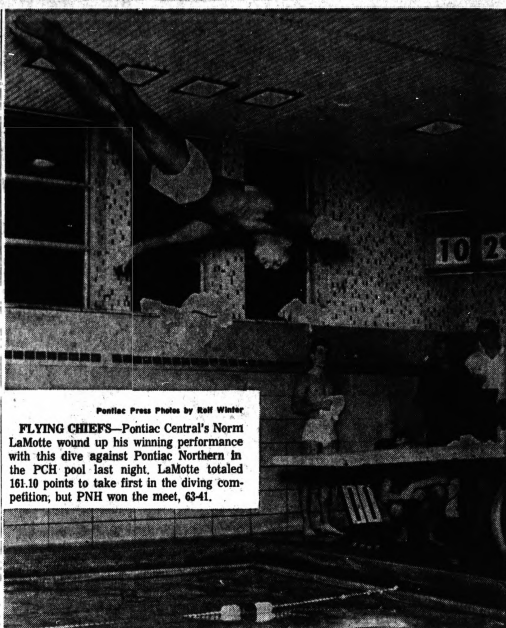

In other leading games, all home court victories, San Francisco beat Hardin Simmons 72-61, Southern Methodist edged Oklahoma City 81-78, Baylor downed Centenary 91-73, Auburn overcame Louisiana Tech 88-77, Davidson defeated Furman 84-71, George Washington whipped Richmond 78-68 and New Orleans Loyola rolled over Texas Christian 91-75.

Oakland U. Takes Tilt at Foul Line

Foul-plagued Oakland University struggled to free throw line Tuesday night to pull out an 87-81 conquest of visiting Spring Arbor's junior varsity.

Six free throws in the final minute and a half of play enabled the Pioneers to break an 81-81 deadlock and post their second victory against one defeat this season.

The host Oakland quintet trailed at halftime, 51-46, and didn't go ahead until 10 minutes into the second half when Oakland's D. J. Yemior took control of the contest.

FLYING CHIEFS—Pontiac Central's Norm LaMotte wound up his winning performance with this dive against Pontiac Northern in the PCH pool last night. LaMotte totaled 161.10 points to take first in the diving competition, but PNH won the meet, 63-41.

Central No Match for PNH Tankers

Pontiac Northern turned on the speed and splashed past Pontiac Central in the PCH pool last night, 63-41.

It was an easy victory for the Huskies, who won nine of 11 events, losing out to PCH only in diving and in the 400-yard freestyle relay.

A minor upset came in the 100-yard backstroke where Central's Ken Hughes edged Central's ace John Mason. Hughes was clocked at 1:01.4 and Mason at 1:02.

Northern's Carl Hiller captured the 160-yard individual medley in 1:44.6 and came back to finish first with a 1:07 time in the 100-yard breaststroke.

Senior Chris Skillman posted a 3:10 clocking to win the 600-yard freestyle and he joined Hughes, Frank Yedlin and Mike Harrow in winning the 100-yard freestyle relay.

Gary Cotter won the 100-yard butterfly for Northern and Dave Pennypacker grabbed the 400-yard freestyle.

Central's Norm LaMotte and Ken Franks placed 1-2 in diving, an event that Northern failed to enter.

Four Winners Pound Losers in Rec Play

Four lopsided contests were played last night in the city recreation department's men's basketball program.

The National League games had McDonald's Drive-In whipping Acker Construction, 63-44, and the All Stars whipping Auburn Hills, 84-37.

In International League openers, defending champion Coulaas Insurance drubbed Orchard Lanes, 75-48, and Local 596 dunned Town & Country Lumped, 63-46.

The All Stars poured in 40 field goals against Auburn Hills with the winners' Russ Collis and Willie Ratliff each tallying 23 points.

Dennis Diehm hit 22 in McDonald's victory and Bill Hayward totaled 25 for Coulaas who had 34 field goals against Orchard Lanes; but the night's top point production was the 32 markers by Walt Johnson for Local 596 (38 field goals).

U. of M. Gridders Named by North for Blue-Gray Tilt

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Seven Northerners and two Southerners have been picked to play in the Christmas Eve Blue-Gray football game.

Additions to the Blue line-up announced late Tuesday were halfback Jim Detwiler, defensive linebacker Frank Nunley and defensive back Richard Sygar, all of the University of Michigan, and Curt Marker of Northern Michigan College.

Quarterbacks Virgil Carter of Brigham Young and Frank Stavroff of the University of Indiana were named earlier to the Blue squad. So was a teammate of Stavroff, center Robert Van Pelt.

Two Southern Mississippi standouts, Ken Avery and Troy Craft, were named to Gray Squad. Avery is a 215-pound linebacker, Craft a 205-pound end.

GLENVIEW

NEW YORK (AP) — There were about 100 people in the stadium and most of them were football heroes of the first or second decades of today vs. the greats — notably their Army team — of two decades ago.

There were Jay Berwanger and Dick Kazmaier and Duffy Daugherty and Ara Parseghian and Pappy Waldorf and Jim Brown and Pete Pibbs and Charley Conerly and Capt. Bill Carpenter and Red Blaik and you name him.

And there were Lt. Col. Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis. Somehow it wasn't too surprising that they drifted together in a small corner of the crowded room, and, somehow, it wasn't too surprising to find them talking football.

Bucs Obtain Ribant From New York

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates have acquired pitcher Dennis Ribant from the New York Mets, pulling off their third major trade within a week in an all-out effort to fashion a permanent winner in 1967.

Ribant, a right-handed pitcher who was the Mets' top pitcher with an 11-4 mark and 3.21 earned run average, and outfielder Gary Kolb came to Pittsburgh Tuesday in exchange for veteran pitcher Doc Cardwell and outfielder Lou Piniella. Cardwell was 6-4, 31, 32 games.

MOST WANTED

"Ribant is the man we wanted," said Pirate general manager Joe L. Brown. "He is one of the fine young pitchers in the league and we are tremendously pleased to get him. He is a good pitcher now and has a chance to be an outstanding a.c. 12."

Part of Swamp Now Sanctuary

By DON VOGEL

The Andersonville Swamp, largest piece of near virgin land remaining in Oakland County, has long been avoided by developers because the cost of draining and backfilling would be prohibitive.

As the population continues to grow and the demand for housing and commercial buildings increases, all available land in the county will be utilized.

This will not happen for another generation or two. By then the engineers will have perfected economical ways to drain such large swamplands as the 900-acre Andersonville.

Even after the land fill experts get done with their work, there should be at least one parcel still in a wild state.

That will be the 160-acre Timberland Swamp Nature Sanctuary.

The sanctuary has been created by the Eastern Michigan Nature Association which hopes to add smaller parcels to the present site in the years to come.

Andersonville Swamp is located south of Davisburg in southeastern Springfield Township. It is bounded by Andersonville, Hillsboro, Crosby Lake and Big Lake roads.

NEXT APRIL

When the sanctuary is opened to the public April 30, 1967, access will be from the south end of Ware Road.

EMNA, a nonprofit organization dedicated to the preservation of local native wildlife, established the Lakeville Swamp Nature Sanctuary in northeastern Oakland County in 1963. The organization was then known as the Macomb Nature Association.

The name was changed in 1965 and the members have a goal of 20 new sanctuaries in Southeastern Michigan in the next three years. Timberland is the sixth.

Ralph O'Reilly Jr. of Davisburg is the EMNA member who did much of the legwork in acquiring the property for Timberland.

"It's very wild country," he said. "I would recommend that anyone going into the Andersonville Swamp carry a compass. Just last week I guided a lost deer hunter out."

It is this type of wilderness that the EMNA is trying to preserve.

In its nature sanctuary brochure, EMNA declares that "such swamps as remain today are of great scientific and human interest, being the last strongholds of native plants and free-ranging animals."

The brochure describes Andersonville Swamp as a swamp hardwood forest with elevated dry islands.

"Here basic cycles of nature continue in age-old patterns in a wooded fastness that has been bypassed by development and suffered only the disturbances of logging and occasional fires."

There are no roads into the swamp.

The Timberland committee is attempting to raise $4,000 by March 1, 1967 to complete the goal of funds needed for Timberland.

Miss Bertha A. Daubendiek of Saginaw, executive director of EMNA, said the committee hopes to obtain the funds from within a 20-mile radius of the swamp.

Purchase funds were made available by EMNA members, McGregor Fund and the Ralph C. Smith Foundation. Pontiac Audubon Club and several Pontiac area residents also have contributed.

HITCHHIKER — A mother opossum gives one of her young a ride in the newly established Timberland sanctuary. The area also has other wildlife, including a large herd of deer.

Restrictions Requested for Deadstream Area

A proposal to dedicate the Deadstream Swamp area west of Houghton Lake, so as to protect its wilderness values will be presented to the Conservation Commission.

The commission will meet tomorrow and Friday in Lansing.

Also on the agenda is a proposal to ban all fishing in the federal government's newly acquired 18,000-acre Sylvania Tract until May 1.

The Conservation Department's statement of dedication calls for restricting all motorized land equipment to public roads and designated interior roads in 17,000 acres of the Deadstream Swamp, which overall embraces over 25,000 acres.

Exceptions for travel would be made under special permits issued by the department for the temporary harvest of timber, wildlife habitat development, all operations and improvements within a limited part of the total area.

The proposed restrictions would not interfere with these activities, but would prevent the area from being sliced into a disorderly network of motoring routes as the result of wholesale trailblazing, which is becoming a growing problem.

Another protective measure would place a 7½-horsepower limit on all boats launched from state lands within the area's 2,000-acre impoundment.

The reason for this is to maintain the flooding for wildlife production and as a unique wildlife showcase for public viewing rather than let it become a water arena for speedboaters.

As proposed, the stiffer controls on water and land travel within the area would go into effect June 1, 1967.

The fishing restriction covering Sylvania, located in the western Upper Peninsula, would go into effect immediately.

State Obtains Splake Eggs From Ontario

Plans of the Conservation Department to help rejuvenate fish populations of Lake Huron starting within the next few years got another shot in the arm last week when about 20,000 splake eggs donated by Ontario were flown to Sault Ste. Marie.

The eggs, taken from a hybrid strain of lake trout and brook trout developed by the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, were immediately transported to the Thompson State Fish Hatchery near Manistique.

Fish hatched from the eggs at Thompson will be transferred early next year to the department's Marquette hatchery for rearing as brood stock for introduction into Lake Huron in 1969 or 1970.

Rochester Hunter Wins Heaviest Deer Contest

Now that the deer season has come and gone, hunters have started staking the hot stove fires with stories and comments on big game hunting in Michigan during 1966.

The topics of conversation probably will include: 1. Fewer hunters than a year ago. 2. Continuance of weekend openers. 3. Antlerless deer permits. 4. The new deer tags. 5. The improved kill in Southern Michigan.

The most frequently heard story will be "How I got my buck." It will be told countless times.

One hunter will get something extra for his big deer. Wilford Nickel, 521 E. Hamlin, Rochester, will receive $150 in savings bonds for entering the heaviest buck in The Pontiac Press Big Deer Contest.

He downed the 212½-pounder near Oxford. It carried eight-point antlers.

This is the second straight year that the contest winner has come from the Oakland County area. Last year's top buck was taken near the Oakland-Livingston county line.

Although no figures are yet available, hunter numbers probably declined about 100,000 from the record 600,000 of 1965. Several factors were involved in the drop, but the most important was the cutback in antlerless deer permits.

STILL GRUMBLE

Many hunters still grumble over the taking of does and yearlings and will insist on a moratorium. But the protests aren't expected to reach the furor of the 1965 season.

Hunter pressure for returning opening day to Nov. 15 isn't expected to be as strong this time around. Possibly the openers for the next three years will be an influencing factor.

All three fall on the same Saturday.

The 1967 season for both peninsulas will start Nov. 18. The following year it will be Nov. 16. In 1969, the season will open on the old date of Nov. 15. The U.P. again will open earlier in 1970.

The Conservation Department, however, is requesting legislation to go back to the Nov. 15 opener for the entire state. The legislature will be given this proposal in January.

Hunters success on bucks in Oakland County increased over a year ago. In the northwest corner, over 50 bucks were checked by the Conservation Department, including 14 last weekend.

The kill was up slightly in the northeast section, but down in the Highland area. Twenty-two bucks were known to have been taken in Macomb County.

Kennel Club Show Set Jan. 22

Premium lists are being distributed for the Pontiac Kennel Club's annual winter all-breed dog show.

The show is scheduled Jan. 22 at the Community Activities, (CAI) building on Williams Lake Road, Waterford Township. Deadline for entering is noon, Jan. 10.

Lists are available from Bow Dog Show Organization, 9999 Broadstreet, Detroit, 48204. Bow will be superintendent for the AKC licensed show.

There will be no obedience because the necessary space is not available in the building.

Six judges will handle the conformation with Nelson B. Grah, Poland, Ohio, determining the best-in-show. The Pontiac Press Trophy will be awarded to the owner of the winner.

Other judges will be Hayden

H. Martin, Gary, Ind.; Lee E. Murray, Fort Worth, Tex.; Gordon M. Parham, Salem, Mich.; Ray L. Perso, Royal Oak; and R. J. Schulte, Cincinnati, Ohio.

E. A. Kraft is chairman of the show committee. He is being assisted by Burt Johnson, Mrs. Barbara Porter, Don Lawicki and Mrs. Kraft. Robert F. Hawkins is president of PKC.

The show is expected to draw close to 600 entries.

Mentally Retarded Man Leaves Institution Behind

LANSING (AP) — Considered incapable of coping with life on his own because he is mentally retarded, Chuck spent 13 years in an institution.

The state still is watching over him closely, but he is now a Lansing resident, earning his own living as a hospital custodian.

"I like it real well," he said. "I'm having no problems getting along."

And Chuck, 30, is just one of more than 200 former residents of state institutions for the mentally retarded who are living and working on the outside.

NO REASON

"Just because someone is retarded doesn't mean he can't do a specific job and live on the outside," said Vincent Farrell, director of the agency which has moved the former state patients outside.

Cost of the "Training Opportunity Placement" (TOP) program for its first full-year of operation is estimated at $180,000, with the U.S. Department of Labor paying the State Mental Health Department to run the program. The state will take over support beginning Jan. 1.

The department estimates that patients have earned four times as much as the program cost — and they now are taxpayers.

"There are approximately 2,000 retarded persons in Michigan either in institutions, on waiting lists or in the community who could potentially use our service," he said.

He added that his agency is working to a large part with persons on the waiting lists, to keep them out of institutions if possible.

SIGN OF OPPOSITION—When two Albion College students heard of proposals to tear down the State Capitol and replace it with a modern building, they sent Gov. George Romney this "stop" sign. Michael Travis and W. Edward Wendover wrote on the sign: "Please don't destroy our Capitol Building." Mrs. Robert L. Ancel, a secretary in Romney's office, shows the sign to Budget Director Glenn Allen. A postscript said the sign was salvaged from a junk heap.

Michigan Banks Balk at Student Loans

LANSING (AP) — Spokesmen for Michigan's biggest banks made plain Tuesday they don't like making long-term loans to college students at 6 per cent interest per year.

Even though the state guarantees 100 per cent of the loans and takes out life and disability insurance on the borrowers, bankers said they are unhappy with the State Guaranteed Loan Program because:

- Six per cent isn't enough and they're losing money;
- The program involves too much time and paperwork;
- It's too much trouble to track down an in-debt student once he graduates and vanishes;
- Some greedy and irresponsible parents and students are spoiling the system.

Although 11 of the state's 20 biggest banks are participating in the loan program, spokesmen for all 20 told the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority Tuesday they didn't like the current setup.

"It's just a dollars and cents situation," said William Rutter, assistant vice president of Detroit's City National Bank. "At 6 per cent simple interest, you're asking a great deal of the banks to serve the entire community. We think we're losing money."

"DOING IT GLADLY" "We're doing it gladly," Rutter added, "but I think this goes beyond the banks. Somebody else has got to pick up the ball somewhere along the line."

Other bankers said they are making loans only to upper-classmen—juniors, seniors and graduate students. Some said they would make loans only to the children of their depositors.

A student doesn't have to start repaying the loan until nine months after he graduates. He may have as much as 10 years to repay it.

3-Car Collision Hurts Woman

Crack-Up Occurs in Independence Twp.

Injuries received last night in a three-car collision on the Dixie Highway at Maybree Road have hospitalized an Independence Township woman.

Mrs. Dorothy E. Curry, 56, of 5967 Warbler is listed in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said a car driven by Mrs. Curry hit head-on an automobile driven by Mrs. Thomas Williams, 23, of Durand.

Following the initial impact, deputies said, Mrs. Curry's car collided with a car driven by Richard J. Amante, 17, of 6028 S. W. Apple, Independence Township.

Mrs. Thomas, an 11-year-old passenger in her car, and the Amante youth received serious injury.

The mishap occurred about 6:30 p.m. in Independence Township.

Waterford Schools Given VW Engine

Waterford Township and Kettering high schools were given a Volkswagen engine by three companies this morning.

One engine, the tools necessary to work on it, and technical literature were given to the schools jointly.

The engine and components were given by Autobahn Motors Inc., Bloomfield Township; Import Motors Limited, Grand Rapids; and Volkswagen of America.

Innocent Plea Is Entered in Break-In Case

A Pontiac man arrested yesterday on charges of breaking into a store at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center pleaded innocent at his arraignment before Bloomfield Township Justice Alice Gilbert.

Examination for Theodore Gholson, 32, 473 Detroit was set for Dec. 14. He is being held at Oakland County jail on $1,000 bond.

Gholson is charged with breaking into the New Center Electronics Television Store. He was apprehended as he attempted to escape.

A second man escaped into a field behind the shopping center and has not yet been found, according to police.

Boys' Club of Waterford Will Start All Over Again

The Boys' Club of Waterford Township, which suspended operations in September because of a budgetary deficiency, will start over again next month. It was disclosed last night at the annual meeting of the organization's board of directors.

Depending strongly on volunteer help and donated equipment, the club will resume operation at the Community Activities, Inc. building, 5640 Williams Lake, Waterford Township.

The club previously conducted activities in a $225-a-month rented building at 1580 N. Williams Lake.

In an expense-slashing action in September, the board voted to relocate the facility and release executive director Charles Sifton from his paid position.

John Stefanski, of 4500 South Shore, Waterford Township, who was elected president of the club's board of directors last night, said "woodworking, electronics, leather craft and air rifle shooting will be offered to members at the outset of the revamped pre-STEFANSKI gram."

Youth Takes Pursue From City Woman

A Bloomfield Township woman was knocked to the ground and had her purse stolen last night in front of a Pontiac church, it was reported to Pontiac police.

Mrs. Madeline Koeck, 44, of 2173 Klingensmith was walking home when she was robbed in front of the Bethlehem Temple Church, 533 Franklin road, about 9:30 a.m.

In the purse, police were told, was an endorsed pay check for $50.55 from the Nino Salon in Birmingham.

Mrs. Koeck described her attacker as a Negro youth, about 13. The youth fled on foot after taking the purse, Mrs. Koeck said.

Death Claims Magnate's Heir

NEW YORK (AP) — James (Jimmy) Donahue, grandson of the late dime store magnate Frank W. Woolworth, was found dead Tuesday in the apartment of his mother on swank Fifth Avenue. Police said he died of natural causes.

Police said Donahue, 53, was found lying in bed by his mother, Mrs. James P. Donahue. A doctor from the Lenox Hill Hospital pronounced him dead. Police said his body has been released to the family.

Donahue was a cousin of another Woolworth heir, Barbara Hutton. He maintained a mansion on a 100-acre estate off Cedar Swamp Road in Old Brookville, Long Island.

Donahue, long a patron of the arts, gave $100,000 in 1960 for the new Metropolitan Opera House in Lincoln Center. He was a former president of the New York Foundling Hospital.

In October 1964, while he was on an extended holiday in Greece, thieves broke into his New York apartment and carried off $100,000 in antique art treasures.

The 100-acre estate was purchased in 1956 for a reported $400,000 from Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt.

Municipal Leaders Eye Money Plans

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Municipal leaders, including an eight-man contingent from Pontiac, meeting in this city of green felt tables covered with money, considered a series of resolutions today which would allow them to go home winners.

Delegates attending the 43rd Congress of the National League of Cities, representing 14,000 communities, had a common goal — more money.

Many of the resolutions proposed sought more federal money.

Some requested a direct tap on federal income taxes and others sought increases — or at least a status quo — in urban renewal and highway spending.

The tone of the conference, scheduled to adjourn today, was set early in the week when NLC President Jerome Cavanagh, mayor of Detroit, called for an equal amount of federal money for cities as goes into the U.S. space effort.

COMPARE WARFARE

Speakers compared the guerrilla warfare in the streets of U.S. cities with guerrilla warfare in the Mekong Delta in asking for an all-out effort in the war on poverty.

In Washington, D.C., Sen.

Robert F. Kennedy echoed the warning that there would be an explosion among Negro youth if President Johnson decided to finance the war in Viet Nam at the expense of the war on poverty.

Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, threw a damper on the money aspirations of the 3,000 civic leaders attending the NLC convention.

VIET COMES FIRST

If federal spending were turned over to the urban renewal, "their demands would make the architects of the Great Society look like pikers," he said.

Mahon admitted cities had their problems but said military spending in Viet Nam came first.

He predicted probably cuts in the anti-poverty program — the exact opposite of requests made by the NLC.

The seven members of the Pontiac City Commission, led by Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., are attending the Las Vegas confab. City Attorney Philip E. Rowston is also in attendance.

Youth Assaults City Woman

A youth armed with a knife pushed his way into a Pontiac apartment early today, sexually assaulting one woman and molesting another, it was reported to Pontiac police.

The victims, a 19-year-old single girl and 21-year-old married woman, said the youth, "about 19," came to the front door of the apartment on Mechanic Street about 1:40 a.m.

Described as white, having "red, bushy hair" and wearing a "short-sleeved yellow knit shirt," the attacker drew a five-inch knife and forced his way inside the house.

The women said their assailant then fled the home, taking with him two $1 bills from a purse.

PSALMS

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence cometh
my help" Psalms

QUESTION: Why is the Book of Psalms so famous and who wrote it?

ANSWER: The Book of Psalms in the Bible is generally regarded as a collection of the most beautiful poetry ever written, and beyond this as a source of man's deepest spiritual wisdom.

The Psalms were hymns used by the ancient Hebrews, originally sung to the accompaniment of such instruments as the trumpet, harp and cymbals.

With the passing of time, appreciation of the Psalms spread beyond the Hebrews.

Since these magnificent hymns expressed universal ideas, they became the possession of the whole of humanity.

People of different creeds and religions feel in them an echo of something in their own hearts—the impulse to turn toward loftiness of thought and action, to search for goodness and truth.

The Psalms have comforted those who were discouraged, humbled them when they became too proud, inspired them to climb upward instead of sliding downhill. It is difficult to say exactly who wrote the Psalms. King David is regarded as the author of a number of them. Some were written by Asaph, the Korahites, and others of whom we know little.

FOR YOU TO DO: Select your favorite Psalm and memorize it.

'Cinderella' Too Hot for British TV

LONDON (AP) — The British Broadcasting Corp. today banned a contemptuous Cinderella in a mini-skirt and a sex-starved Prince Charming who strangles her at midnight from its Christmas television schedule.

The BBC canceled plans to put on "Almost Cinderella," a version of the fairy tale by playwright Dennis Potter.

"I can arrange my career so that I never have to write for BBC television again, I intend to do so," said Potter.

"I wanted to bring out the impact of the story on adults. I saw Cinderella as a modern girl in a mini-skirt, pretty contemptuous of everything. She doesn't really want to go to the ball."

PLAYBOY

"Prince Charming comes out as a somewhat unstable character who has sexual problems because he cannot find satisfaction with other girls. He's a playboy and not a pleasant one."

"The story ends at midnight, and we use the cinematic clichés of Hollywood. Prince Charming, who we have seen under great emotional stress, begins to strangle Cinderella in a very stylized way as the clock strikes."

"It is part of the mockery of the cliché of love at first sight."

Two weeks ago the BBC banned a "psychological" version of Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland" which it will show on Dec. 28 might upset children. It will be televised late in the evening.

The National Basketball Association started keeping rebounding records in the 1950-51 season.

Santa and the Giant Fighter

By LUCRET BEALE

Synopsis: An elf persuades the boy who believes in giants to go to Santa Land and fight the giant who has captured the Fairy Queen.

CHAPTER THREE

They Meet A Toad

It's a very long way to Santa Land and a very few people know the way.

William Henry Christopher Preserver — now known as Billy the Giant Fighter — was glad he had the elf to guide him because, even with directions, he was sure he would never find his way.

It was very dark. At first, this was no problem because the elf wore earmuffs and each muffed had a little light attached to it.

All Billy had to do was follow the twin lights bouncing ahead of him through the woods.

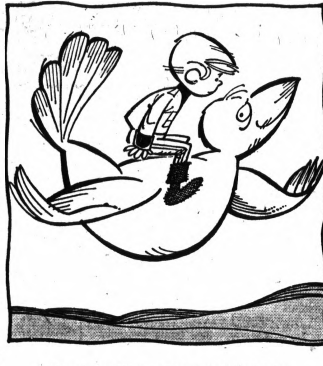

But, after awhile, even the elf appeared to be lost. "Of course, it would be much easier if we had the moon," he complained.

"But since Goko the giant has stolen it out of the sky, everything is all mixed up and there's no telling where we might end up."

They went north, east, west and south. They seemed to be going in circles and the elf hurried along muttering, "Oh, dear! There's really no time to lose."

As he rushed along, he bounced higher and higher as if to make up for their lack of progress. Billy stumbled after him, bobbing his head up and down as he tried to follow the bouncing lights.

Suddenly the lights disappeared.

The airchoo bird rose gracefully into the air

"Where are you?" cried Billy. "I've lost you!"

"There was no answer. Bill ran back and forth calling frantically."

He stumbled over a log and sprang on the ground. Right beside his face were the two lights — very dim.

"Say something!" he cried. "What happened?"

"Gallopp!" was the reply.

Billy reached out and picked up a huge soft toad. Two lights blinked dimly inside the toad.

Billy cried, "You ate the elf? You horrible toad!"

"Not at all," said the toad giving a huge belch. "I was here in my own bed having a rather restless night. I opened my mouth to yawn and something hideous bounced in."

"I assure you I find whatever it is very indigestible and also a most extraordinary invasion of privacy."

All this time, the two little lights inside the toad were going blink-blink-blink. Billy drew his wooden sword and held it over the toad.

"What on earth do you think you are going to do?" asked the toad in alarm.

"You'll see!" retorted Billy and he brought the flat of his sword down on the toad's far rear end.

The astonished toad gulped, and his enormous jaw dropped open. The elf bounced out and streaked away through the woods with Billy at his heels.

Fortunately, daylight had now come and the elf was able to find his way to a shrunken oak that stood in a nearby forest.

Here the elf stopped and said, "This is as far as I go. The airchoo bird will take you the rest of the way."

He knocked three times on the trunk of the tree. The branches parted and a small white bird fluttered to the ground.

"This is an airchoo bird," explained the elf. "He can fly fast as an airplane and steady as a choo choo. He'll take you straight to Santa Land."

"But how can I ride him?" exclaimed Billy. "He's almost as small as you."

"Try and see."

Billy straddled the bird and a curious thing happened. Either the airchoo bird grew big or Billy grew small.

Whatever it was, the bird rose gracefully into the air with Billy riding ever so easily on his back.

They zoomed over cities, across oceans, past mountain peaks and landed finally in a snow blanketed valley.

It was Santa Land! Billy climbed off the airchoo bird's back and ran as fast as he could towards Santa's little red house.

As he ran, he held his wooden sword ready in case Goko the giant was already there.

Tomorrow: Fairy Tootledee.

He Tunes Up on Fun Circuit as Overture to Senate Pitch

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK — Barry Goldwater, who hasn't been seen much around the Glamour Belt in a couple of elections, sat one of the choice tables at El Morocco early the other morning with Mrs. Goldwater and a prominent Wall Street. Surely this is a sign of something or other, and not only that, it's something or other significant. B.G. seemed ruddy, vigorous, chipper, "somebody remarked, and the inevitable somebody else said, "The way things have been going for LBJ, maybe he did."

"I've just returned from St. Louis, Carbondale, Ill., and other Middle Western points — where I heard guys calling their gals "Sugar Dimples." Strikes me as much better than "Baby, Honey, and Darling." How about "Sugar Dimples-in-g" your Sugar Dimples for a while and see if it gets results?

Billy Daniels is so great in the new Copacabana show and it's so nice to learn that he and his wife patched things up and she sent him flowers. ... Comedian Charles Manna, appearing with him, seeks definitions of Losers.

"A loser is a guy who sticks his hand out to make a left turn and hits a cop right in the mouth" ... "A loser is a gargoyle with chapped lips ... a deaf lumberjack." My idea of a loser would be a kid singer who's prematurely bald, or a politician with chronic laryngitis. You got any?

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

George Hamilton finishes filming "Jack of Diamonds" in Europe in two weeks, returns to N.Y. and Lynda Bird after Jan. 1. ... Broadway backstage pilfering stunt "Penny Girl" someone swiped a showgirl's wig and Phil Ford's TV set ... Candy Bergen — now in "Sand Pebbles" — may have a lead in "Valley of the Dolls" ... Kim Novak Not Injured in Car Crash

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Kim Novak, twice injured in horse-riding and traffic accidents within the past 12 months, apparently escaped uninjured from a collision of her station wagon with another car on Sunset Boulevard.

Miss Novak, 33, refused medical treatment after the accident Tuesday, officers said.

The occupants of the other car, Nancy L. Freed, 42, Los Angeles, and Shirley Harrison, 25, of suburban Encino, were reported in serious condition at the University of California at Los Angeles Medical Center.

Last Aug. 27 Miss Novak was treated for hand injuries after a wheel came off and her vehicle plunged 120 feet down an embankment and flipped over twice at Santa Maria, Calif.

IN HOSPITAL 5 WEEKS

She fell from a horse in November 1965, during filming of a movie in France. She was in a hospital for five weeks with a back injury.

Miss Novak, who was not cited in Tuesday's accident, was reported to have been returning to her house in nearby Bel Air from a residence she maintains at Carmel in Northern California.

It's a Small World for Florida Suspects

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Three men learned it's a small world when they got off an airliner that flew from Miami to Los Angeles Tuesday.

In the Los Angeles airport sat Miami police detective Sgt. John Haywood, waiting for a flight to Miami.

Haywood's superiors said he recognized the three travelers as men wanted for questioning about a Miami crime. He had Los Angeles officers arrest them on suspicion of robbery.

TALENT DIRECTOR—The Peace Corps today named Margaret M. Conroy of New York City as director of the Peace Corps talent search to recruit experienced executives for Peace Corps staff jobs in Washington and abroad.

Dixie White to Be Tried in Negro Killing

OPELIKA, Ala. (AP) — A white man was called to trial in state court today for the killing of a Negro student who had been active in the civil rights movement at nearby Tuskegee. The student, Samuel Younge Jr., 21, was shot to death last Jan. 3 a few feet from a service station where Marvin L. Segrest, 38, worked as a night attendant. A second-degree murder indictment was returned against Segrest by a Tuskegee County grand jury at Macougee.

The trial was moved to Opelika, in adjoining Lee County, after Segrest's attorney said the defendant could not get a fair trial in Tuskegee, for many years a focal point of racial unrest.

Younge, a student at Tuskegee Institute, was found dead in a taxi stand driveway near the service station where Segrest worked.

'ADMITS SHOTS'
Sheriff Harvey Sadler said Segrest admitted firing two pistol shots at the Negro after an argument. He told officers he did not believe at first that either of the bullets struck Younge, Sadler said.

Younge's body was found about 100 feet away and around a corner from the service station. Sadler said a bus driver who was making a brief stop in Tuskegee at the time told investigators Younge was still walking toward the taxi stand after the second shot was fired.

Peach World's Picasso Cited

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The state dedicated a special historical marker today to Michigan's "million dollar peach scientists."

The marker, outside Michigan State University's South Haven experiment station, honors Prof. Stanley Johnston, who has been developing new peach varieties at the station since 1924.

In a good crop year, it has been estimated Johnston's peaches return an average of $1 million in higher prices to Michigan peach growers because of their high quality.

Dedication ceremonies were held at Grand Rapids.

Willis Dunbar, chairman of Western Michigan University's History Department, quoted from letters from peach growers and scientists in Italy, France, Israel, Canada and Argentina, praising Johnston's accomplishments.

'A PICASSO'
"He is truly a Picasso among peach breeders — a plant breeding artist who has created fruits of unequalled beauty and taste," said Dr. M. John Carew, chairman of MSU's Department of Horticulture, in a message for the event.

"Prof. Johnston has skillfully blended pollen from thousands of peach blossoms to give growers a range of high-yielding varieties and to give consumers a longer season of well-colored, delicious fruit," Carew said.

Johnston has released eight Freestone fresh market peach varieties that have become internationally known — Halehaven (1932), Kallhaven (1936), Redhaven (1940), Fairhaven (1946), Sunhaven and Richhaven (1955) and Cresthaven and Glohaven (1960).

REG. 39.99

You can't ask for better quality than Strombecker race sets, and this one is made exclusively for us! Two crack race cars—Chaparral and Lotus—streak along straightaways, around hairpin turns, up spiral curves in tense competition. Each opponent holds his own rheostat control—to speed-up his car, or "brake" it on the curves. Built to 1/32 scale, it's loaded with power. 4x8' layout contains 38 feet of track and the set includes complete equipment for realistic racing! A gift the whole family can enjoy!
