Absence From Post Explained

By JOE MULLEN

Terming himself "the man in the middle," George H. Williams today lifted part of the shroud of mystery connected with his absence as director of the Oakland County Department of Social Welfare.

Williams was asked for a six-month leave of absence and left his job June 17 when the leave was still subject to county approval.

The six-month leave was never approved, but the County Board of Auditors has approved 67 leave days for Williams without pay.

With vacation time added to this, Williams is due back the latter part of next month.

Whether he will come back to the county remains a mystery.

TAKES JOB

Williams took a job July 1 as administrator of the Abbey Medical Hospital in Warren and still holds that position.

He said today that he planned to attend a meeting early in September of the county's social welfare board.

"I expect to make a decision after that meeting whether to stay where I am or return to Oakland County," Williams said.

Williams said that the six-month leave of absence he asked for resulted from the long period of consideration.

LBJ Marks 58th Birthday Following Three-State Tour

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson, refreshed anew by a speech-making, handshaking tour of the West, celebrates his 58th birthday today in familiar surroundings—Texas hill country.

Johnson reached the LBJ Ranch last night after a brisk one-day tour of Idaho, Colorado and Oklahoma highlighted by an appeal to the Soviet Union to join with American efforts to end the danger of nuclear devastation.

HUD Official Visits Pontiac

Workable Program Tie-Up Is Explained

Telegrams to the city's congressional representatives on the status of the workable program for community improvement bore fruit yesterday afternoon with a 30-minute visit of a troubleshooter from the federal Housing and Urban Development (HUD) agency.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren and Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. met with Kermit G. Baier of the agency's workable program standards and services staff.

Baier's visit was in response to telegrams sent by the mayor asking for information on why the city's 1966 workable program, which expired April 1, had not yet been reauthorized.

Annual reauthorization of the program is necessary if the city is to continue to receive federal funds for various projects, including urban renewal.

According to Warren, the workable program troubleshooter indicated that numerous complaints had been received by the federal agency on alleged lack of citizen participation in the workable program.

ADVISORY UNIT

Baier, according to Warren, discussed the composition of the 21-member Civic Improvement Advisory Committee.

The HUD representative said the city's workable program had to be reviewed carefully because of the number of communications received by the federal agency.

Meanwhile, Warren said that he would meet Monday with an investigator for the Michigan Civil Rights Commission on an allegation that the city's urban renewal program is discriminatory against Negro citizens.

The city manager said that an application for a formal complaint against the city was filed last March, charging public funds are being used without due consideration to the Negro community.

The application was filed by Robert G. Newby, head of the Progressive Action Committee for Equality.

UF Group Sets Date to Start Drive

Key members of the commercial division of the 1966 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign met yesterday to appoint group chairmen and set a kickoff date for the commercial division drive.

Chairman of the commercial division, Charles B. Woodhead, said the division would begin its drive Oct. 5, with a goal of $258,501.

The 1966 UF campaign officially gets under way Oct. 11 with a total goal set at $1,942,000.

The campaign is slated to end Nov. 4.

Commercial division group chairmen named yesterday are John Napley, chapter plans; Harold Davis, small teams; Joseph Warren, government; Al Little, professional; and Mitchell Tendler, education.

Group goals are chapter plans, $154,481; small teams, $8,057; government, $26,164; education, $36,976; and professional $32,823.

Woodhead, who expects over 700 volunteers will be working for the division, urged group chairmen to name their solicitors by Sept. 1.

128th Cosmos Is Up

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet launched Cosmos 128 today in its program of outer space exploration begun March 16, 1962. Tass said the unmanned Earth satellite, with all systems functioning normally, has an apogee of 226 miles and a perigee of 132 miles.

Speaking later in the day at convocation at the University of Lwów, the President said U.S. foreign policy "must always be an extension of our domestic policy."

"For us, that real test is not to prove which interpretation of man's past is correct; our real test is to secure his future," he said. "And our purpose is no longer only to avoid a nuclear war; it is to enlarge the peace."

'Hawks' May Force Battle at Convention

Controversial Issue Is Omitted From Republican Platform

DETROIT (AP)—What the "doves" did to Michigan Democrats a week ago, the "hawks" threatened to do to state Republicans today.

Both parties are facing the war in Viet Nam an issue that is impossible to be right on. And ignoring it appears to be no solution.

Republicans left the issue out of their platform which was to be presented to 1,508 delegates for ratification today at their fall nominating convention.

The war issue, and a possible conservative - versus - moderate fight over a statewide income tax, were expected to enliven an otherwise routine convention.

Republicans also were to select candidates for lieutenant governor, attorney general, secretary of state, Michigan Supreme Court State Board of Education and the governing boards of the University of Michigan and Michigan State and Wayne State universities.

LITERATURE DISTRIBUTED
Without mention of the war in the 27-page document, there was almost sure to be one on the convention floor.

"Breakthrough," a right-wing, anti-Communist organization whose main concern is the Viet Nam war, set up a suite at one of the convention hotels in downtown Detroit and distributed "total victory" literature to delegates.

Said chairman Donald Lobsenz, "If there's no mention of the war in the platform, I'll do all I can to see that we get one."

Lobsenz is a delegate from Detroit's 14th Congressional District, a conservative stronghold headed by Richard Durant.

Senate Boosts Minimum Wage

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed its version of minimum wage legislation that would extend the law's coverage to at least seven million more workers and boost base pay from the present $1.25 to $1.60 an hour.

The Senate version, approved by a 57-17 vote Friday, now goes to a conference with the House. The House approved a similar bill 303 to 93 last May 26.

Sponsors said they are confident the conferees will be able to come to agreement quickly on a compromise version.

The Senate action was a substantial victory for President Johnson, who has pushed the bill, and also promised to give the AFL-CIO its first major success of the 89th Congress.

A Senate filibuster earlier this session killed the AFL-CIO's top-priority item — a measure that would have repealed Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act. The section allows states to ban the union shop.

The minimum wage bill won the votes of 42 Democrats and 15 Republicans on final passage. Opposed were eight Democrats and nine Republicans.

CONFEREES

Conferees on the bill will have to decide whether to make the new $1.60 wage floor effective Feb. 1, 1968, as the Senate voted and Johnson asked, or a year later as the House stipulated.

They also must act on a Republican amendment inserted in the bill yesterday over strong opposition that would reduce coverage of the bill by 185,000 workers.

The amendment, sponsored by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., provided that coverage of retail stores, hotels, motels, restaurants and some other businesses would extend in 1969 only to those doing more than $500,000 of annual business. It passed on a 41-38 vote.

The House bill, following the administration position, would include those doing $250,000 or more in 1969.

Both versions would cover such enterprises next year if they do $500,000 or more of annual business.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen sought to prevent any extension of coverage below the $500,000 level but lost on a 41-41 tie vote. This would have knocked out coverage of 967,000 employees.

Sunny, Warmer Weather in Store

Pontiac area residents will enjoy sunny, warmer weather for the rest of the weekend with cooler temperatures expected on Monday, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

The day-by-day forecast looks like this:

SATURDAY—Fair and warmer today and tonight with highs in the 80s.

SUNDAY—Fair and warm with highs of 84 to 90 predicted.

MONDAY—Cooler with a chance of showers.

Don't Let the Bats Bug You

By DAVID J. COOK

They haven't "struck" a Pontiac home in 10 days... but if the weather continues cold, don't be too surprised to find one in your house.

This is the educated guess of a veteran Cranbrook naturalist asked to explain an apparent descent of bats to the city.

In a 18-day period up to Aug. 17, Pontiac police responded seven times to residents reporting bats in their homes.

"I would guess in each instance it is the little brown bat, common to this area," said Dr. Walter P. Nickell, a senior staff member of the Cranbrook Institute of Science.

"I think they're probably showing up in homes as they seek protection from this cool weather we're having."

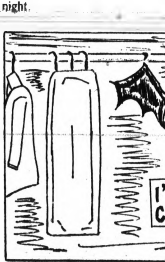

NO PROTECTION

Protection, however, is something the winged, mouse-like creatures have failed to find in the seven instances where the local bat patrol has been called for assistance.

Three times the bat has been "removed" by police: on three other occasions "disposed of," and in a single incident the intruder was "G. O. A." (gone on arrival).

Without exception, the "victims" in each instance have been women.

The pattern of "inferences" breaks down at that point, however, for the bats have shown up at random hours, ranging from 2 in the morning to 10 at night.

The forcible ejection and in some cases untimely end met by the small animals may not entirely do justice to their basic good manners, according to Dr. Nickell.

"Bats — at least the small variety we have in this area — don't attack people and women's get in your hair," he declared.

"Sure, if they are cornered or grabbed by someone, they'll protect themselves."

"They can bite and they can draw blood."

Even if a bat does bite, according to Dr. Nickell, the consequences are not necessarily serious.

HANDS-OFF POLICY

"Sure, they've been found to carry rabies in some instances," he said, "but no more than dogs or squirrels or raccoons, or any other small mammal."

In the event the city's bats resume their search for protection inside city homes, Dr. Nickell recommends a strict "hands-off" policy.

"Take a broom," he advises, "gently knock the bat off whatever it's hanging onto, and carefully sweep it out the front door."

In any case, Dr. Nickell said, the problem should take care of itself in a few weeks.

"Bats eat insects just as birds do," he explained. "As the weather gets colder and the insects die off, the bats will migrate south or hibernate."

Development Pact Said Near

City Has Contract on Plans for Downtown

Tentative agreement between the city and Developer A. Alfred Taubman of Oak Park for the redevelopment of a portion of downtown Pontiac reportedly is near.

After more than a year of planning and negotiating on Taubman's plan for an enclosed mall-type shopping center on downtown urban renewal land, a proposed contract has been drafted.

Signed by Taubman, the contract has been received by the city.

Formal presentation to the City Commission is expected at their regular meeting Tuesday.

However, the commission is expected to study Taubman's proposal prior to any final action.

Details of the agreement were not available.

North Viet Hit With Record Yank Strikes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—American warplanes pounded North Viet Nam yesterday with the greatest number of missions of the war, the U.S. command announced today.

The command said no U.S. planes were lost in heavy raids, the second time this week American pilots set a record for strike missions.

It said U.S. pilots, hitting fuel depots and other military targets, flew a record 156 missions, 10 above the previous high that was reached only last Wednesday. U.S. planes hammered the Communist north with 123 missions Thursday.

In yesterday's record assault, more than 300 transportation vehicles and water craft were attacked by Navy pilots who flew 73 of the missions.

An Air Force spokesman said Air Force jet attacks touched off more than 35 secondary explosions and 25 fires in strikes on supply storage areas, convoys, gas pipelines and fuel dumps in the southern panhandle of North Viet Nam.

FORTY BARGES

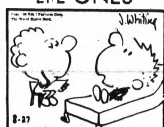

Earlier reports said U.S. planes had knocked out 40 barges near Thanh Hoa.

Aground, U.S. Marines beat off an attack by hordes of Red suicide troops south of the demilitarized zone. The Marines fought the enemy hand-to-hand from tents and sandbag emplacements around their camp.

In yesterday's air raids, pilots reported destroying or damaging 102 barges, 19 trucks, 42 trucks and 20 supply buildings. They attacked 17 oil depots but said damage assessment was hampered by smoke, dust and darkness.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Arthur James Davis was in New Haven State Jail today, awaiting a court appearance to face five counts of murder.

Davis, 26, is charged with killing five persons in a New Haven apartment early Friday morning.

He was apprehended in New Jersey by police after a high-speed automobile chase Friday. Davis waived extradition, and was brought back to New Haven by detectives shortly before midnight.

The other victims of the shooting were still hospitalized. Francine McCleese, 14, was reported in poor condition at Yale-New Haven Hospital with a bullet wound in her stomach, and Troy Sykes, 4, in satisfactory condition with a bullet wound in his chin.

Humphrey Son Married Today

Weds Blonde Beauty in Minneapolis Rites

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Donna Erickson, whose musical post of Secret Servicemen once helped her win a beauty contest, married Robert Humphrey under their watchful eyes today.

Fair skies and temperatures in the 90s were forecast for the once-postponed marriage of Miss Erickson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's son at St. Olaf's Roman Catholic church at the edge of downtown Minneapolis.

Six hundred and seventy-five guests were invited to the nuptial high mass.

The 21-year-old blonde bride appeared fully recovered from a bout with pneumonia, which struck after her graduation from Mankato State College, where she and Robert, 22, met at a fraternity party. She was released from a hospital July 9, which was to have been her wedding day.

WEDDING GOWN

Donna chose an ivory pure silk gown with a high collar and a long train. She carried an arm cascade bouquet of white roses.

Miss Erickson, daughter of Marcella Erickson of Hampton, Minn., was the niece of Larry Doffing of Hampton, to escort her to the altar. Her father died last July.

former John Birch Society member who has at times been at odds with Gov. George Romney.

Durant said "We have 19 congressional and one senatorial candidate. We certainly should take a stand on national issues on our platform."

"Our district has called for victory in Viet Nam," he added. "We should win or get out. And the Johnson administration is not trying to win."

The Republican platform, so guarded that copies were distributed to platform committee members and then collected before their meeting adjourned, is devoted to about a dozen state issues.

One of them is a fiscal reform plan — virtually synonymous with an income tax. Durant led a move at a 1965 convention to put Republicans on record as opposing any income tax without a statewide referendum.

over merger of the county and state welfare departments.

"OPPOSED TO MERGER"

"The leave application was suggested by Jack McDonald, Williams added.

McDonald, who was chairman of the social welfare board died Aug. 5. He was bitterly opposed to the proposed merger, Williams said.

"He felt the merger issue would be better resolved while I was gone," Williams added.

Last October when the State Senate passed a mandatory merger bill for all county and state welfare departments except those in Wayne and Oakland counties, Williams made a public declaration.

He said that Oakland County's two departments would merge, probably early in 1966.

The social welfare board then instructed him to avoid comment that a merger was imminent, Williams said.

"My assumed stand against merger hurt my chances of heading the combined departments when the merger occurred," Williams said.

He noted that officials of the Michigan Department of Social Services in Lansing have strongly endorsed merger.

Williams said that as pressure for merger increased, the welfare board has continued to state publicly that not enough information is available to know for certain that merger would benefit the county.

Recent studies by the County Board of Auditors, however, indicated that merger would save the county money.

Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the board of auditors, urged passage of the merger proposal two months ago, saying it would save the county from $200,000 to $325,000 annually.

The proposal was tabled for future consideration.

Wounded in the left leg, Bowen was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released.

S. VIET RAIDS

In air action today, Guam-based B52 bombers staged two raids on South Viet Nam. The eight-engine giants struck at suspected Viet Cong troop areas 30 miles north of Qui Nhon and at an enemy base camp and troop area 60 miles northwest of Saigon.

This is in War Zone C, long a Viet Cong stronghold near Cambodia and target of repeated B52 raids in recent weeks.

South Vietnamese military headquarters reported the biggest kill of the day. It said a multinational force of government troops, supported by air and artillery killed 132 Viet Cong yesterday 120 miles southwest of Saigon.

A spokesman said the Viet Cong carried off another 100 dead in sampans, the bulk of which were sunk by South Vietnamese helicopters.

U.S. paratroopers uncovered one of the biggest Viet Cong supply and arms bases of the war about 40 miles from Saigon.

Units of the 173rd Airborne Brigade came upon three battalion-size enemy base camps yesterday and found another today with bunkers, classroom buildings and the big armory cache.

Willie Sutton Is Operated On at N.Y. Hospital

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — Willie (the Actor) Sutton, one of the nation's most notorious bank robbers and jail escape artists, was in satisfactory condition today at Buffalo General Hospital following major abdominal surgery.

Sutton, 65, underwent the surgery yesterday after being transferred to the hospital from Atlanta State Prison.

He is serving a long sentence at Attica, a maximum security complex, for a $64,000 New York City bank robbery.

He faces additional jail terms of from 30 years to life.

Kidnaping Try Foiled by Dog

Prevents Abduction of Three Brothers

A pet German Shepherd dog is credited with preventing the abduction of three Springfield Township brothers shortly after noon yesterday.

The three young sons of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Valentino of 9633 Gibbs were playing about a quarter of a mile from home at about 12:30 p.m. when the attempted kidnaping occurred.

A man, described as being about 5-11, 180 pounds and a bearing a scar on his face, approached Paul, 8, Ernest, 7, and Victor, 4, and told them he was going to take them away in his car.

The man managed to get Ernest into the car before chasing the other two boys.

Then the boys' dog attacked the culprit, biting him several times and drawing blood, according to the brothers.

Meanwhile Paul smashed a window of the car to help Ernest escape.

The boys told their parents and sheriff's deputies that the man was bitten so severely he had trouble getting to his car.

The Valentinos have offered a $500 reward for information leading to the capture and conviction of the subject.

Cavanagh Reveals Threats on His Life

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh has revealed recent threats on his life and the lives of his family and members of his staff.

A police squad car followed Cavanagh for two days after the mayor received a "very serious threat" to "kill Cavanagh within an hour," officers said.

Another telephone threat warned that the mayor's home would be bombed. A special police watch was set up at Cavanagh's home.

Although most of the calls have been blamed on cranks, Detroit Police Commissioner Ray Girardin said he does not share an apparent lack of concern by the mayor on threatening calls.

Birmingham Area News School Superintendent Sees Attendance Mark

BIRMINGHAM — Birmingham Schools Supt. Dr. John B. Smith estimates that a record 17,379 students will be in attendance in the district schools when classes begin Sept. 8.

Of the 17,379, about 9,491 are expected in elementary grades, 7,780 in junior and senior high schools and 106 in special education groups.

This represents an increase of 1,269 students over last year, said Smith.

The rapid enrollment growth indicates that, since 1961, there has been an increase of 4,642 students.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Dennis Fruhauf, of 550 Lowell, will be guest recitalist at Christ Church Cranbrook at 4 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 4.

Fruhauf, who studied with Percival Price at the University of Michigan, was recently elected a member of the select Guild.

McKinlay and Councilman Thomas McHugh left the meeting before the vote was taken.

Referring to the suit, McKinlay said that when a few people seek to set aside an election decision by the people, that is a serious situation.

"The council's action was contrary to what the city attorney ruled could be done," McKinlay added.

A hearing on whether an injunction should be issued against McKinlay's removal by the council is scheduled Sept. 7 in Circuit Court.

Lake Pollution Aid Is Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was asked Friday by Sen. Walter Mondale, D-Minn., to attack the pollution problem in lakes.

In introducing a bill to authorize grants to states to develop better methods of removing wastes and sediments, Mondale said a pollution epidemic is smothering the nation's lakes.

Worst Decline Since '62

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market took another plunging loss this week. Its worst decline since the big plunge of spring 1962.

The market which was heading for the fabulous goal of "Dow 1,000" in early February now was said to be heading for around 750 in the Dow Jones industrial average. That would be the lowest level since November 1963.

The same old worries—light recession, fear of a squeeze on profits by inflation and higher labor costs, possible devaluation of the British pound—were blamed. These added up to a fundamental lack of confidence in the market.

By the end of the week the Dow industrials had fallen another 24.06 points, closing at 780.56, their lowest reading since Jan. 21, 1964.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 8.9 to 280.1, its lowest figure since Nov. 29, 1963, when they closed at 278.6.

The 200 points that the Dow industrials lost in the spring of 1962 was now exceeded. The average had plunged 215.58 since it reached its record high of 995.15 last Feb. 9. At that time, no reasonable observer would deny that "Dow 1,000" was only a matter of time. Now, the gradual upward progress of more than two years has been wiped out.

For example, a share of American Telephone & Telegraph common—the most widely held stock—which cost $62.50 on Feb. 9, closed Friday at $50.62. Other blue chips also joined the decline. General Motors has dropped from $105.88 on Feb. 9 to $71.37; U.S. Steel from $52.75 to $39.37.

At no time were there any clear signs of panic, of the so-called "selling climax" which market technicians believe is needed in order to prepare the ground for a sustained recovery. Volume this week was 40,561,854 shares compared with 32,632,280 the week before.

Another Bad Week for Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market took another plunging loss this week. Its worst decline since the big plunge of spring 1962.

The market which was heading for the fabulous goal of "Dow 1,000" in early February now was said to be heading for around 750 in the Dow Jones industrial average. That would be the lowest level since November 1963.

The same old worries—light recession, fear of a squeeze on profits by inflation and higher labor costs, possible devaluation of the British pound—were blamed. These added up to a fundamental lack of confidence in the market.

By the end of the week the Dow industrials had fallen another 24.06 points, closing at 780.56, their lowest reading since Jan. 21, 1964.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 8.9 to 280.1, its lowest figure since Nov. 29, 1963, when they closed at 278.6.

The 200 points that the Dow industrials lost in the spring of 1962 was now exceeded. The average had plunged 215.58 since it reached its record high of 995.15 last Feb. 9. At that time, no reasonable observer would deny that "Dow 1,000" was only a matter of time. Now, the gradual upward progress of more than two years has been wiped out.

For example, a share of American Telephone & Telegraph common—the most widely held stock—which cost $62.50 on Feb. 9, closed Friday at $50.62. Other blue chips also joined the decline. General Motors has dropped from $105.88 on Feb. 9 to $71.37; U.S. Steel from $52.75 to $39.37.

At no time were there any clear signs of panic, of the so-called "selling climax" which market technicians believe is needed in order to prepare the ground for a sustained recovery. Volume this week was 40,561,854 shares compared with 32,632,280 the week before.

Of 1,568 issues traded, 1,366 declined and 132 advanced.

GOOD NEWS

The trading week began with the good weekend news of the settlement of the 43-day strike against five major airlines.

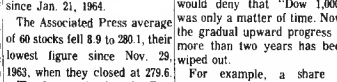

Stocks were firm to higher at the market opening Monday but soon began to drop.

Pessimism was increased by news of the United Auto Workers Union request for immediate raise for skilled workers.

By the end of the day the Dow industrials had fallen below the once "magic" 800 line for the first time since Nov. 1964.

Rare Tree May Aid in Leukemia Fight

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Leukemia victims may one day be helped by a substance drawn from an obscure Chinese tree.

Tests on laboratory animals with a type of experimental Leukemia (lymphoid Leukemia L-1210) have shown that the extract, known as camptothecin, has high antitumor properties. However, no tests on humans have yet taken place.

Chemists are now trying to synthesize the substance, whose only known natural source is the rare Camptotheca acuminata tree. More than 30 years ago seeds from China were planted as part of a long-term program to introduce new plants to the United States. Today two 25-foot trees survive in Chico, Calif.

Hurricane Nears 2 Republics

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A history-making attempt to tame the fury of Hurricane Faith was canceled today as the storm lumbered relentlessly toward the southeastern Bahamas.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Faith, her full fury still away from land, lumbered menacingly close to the northern shores of the Dominican Republic and Haiti today.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said high seas were expected to lash the republics' coasts today, and the southeastern Bahamas were warned to expect much of the same before nightfall.

Faith moved north of densely populated Puerto Rico Friday, hurricane continues on its giving it high winds and rain. The island, prepared for 24 hours, suffered little damage.

The storm brushed the Leeward Islands with high winds. Power lines were snapped and limbs ripped from trees on St. Martin.

The hurricane's top winds dropped to 85 from 100 miles an hour Friday night, and a slight swing to the north increased the chances of scientists being able to seed the storm. They were hoping Faith would move into the target area where U. S. Project Stormfury experts wait to bombard her with silver to hide crystals. A decision on whether to seed probably will be made today, the Weather Bureau said. If the present course, it probably will miss the target area by 150 to 200 miles.

One-time seeding of past hurricanes showed that a sustained bombardment with silver iodide might weaken the storms.

Scientists are not sure enough of the outcome to risk seeding near populated areas.

At 5 a.m. today, the storm's center was about 160 miles north-northwest of San Juan and 300 miles east-southeast of Miami. She was moving toward the west-northwest at 15 miles an hour.

Florida Insurance Commissioner Broward Williams warned, "Hurricane Faith is apparently headed toward Florida. Naturally, it's too early to tell just what the big storm will do during the next few days."

For the next 24 hours at least, said the Weather Bureau, it is expected to stay on the same course. No change in size or intensity was expected but weathermen said the storm probably will slow down.

Wage Bill Supported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Sens. Philip Hart, Democrat, and Republican Robert Griffin voted in favor of a minimum wage bill Friday. The Senate passed the bill 57-17.

'65 Hike Listed in Men, Women Median Income

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau reports the median income for men in 1965 was $4,824, up 4 per cent from the previous year, while that for women advanced 8 per cent to $1,564.

For white males, the median was $5,135 compared with $2,672 for nonwhites, the bureau said. The racial difference wasn't as sharp among women, with the median $1,648 for white females and $1,213 for nonwhites.

Median income is reached by picking the point at which there are an equal number of persons below and above the figure. The bureau's study covered only money income before tax deductions.

Students, Hatcher Meet

U. of M. Reply to Subpoena Protested

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A group of 14 students met yesterday with University of Michigan President Harlan Hatcher and Vice President Richard Cutler to protest the school's reply to a House Un-American Activities Committee subpoena.

The committee subpoenaed lists of names of numbers and sponsors of three U. of M. organizations which have opposed the war in Viet Nam.

The organizations were the W.E.B. DuBois Club, Student Committee to Aid the Vietnamese, and Voice Political Party.

The student asked to be allowed to speak at a meeting of the university's executive officers and were given one-half hour with Hatcher and Cutler after the meeting had ended.

Eric Chester, a student, told the two that the university should have allowed the students to challenge the relevance of the subpoena and its scope.

"TO ABIDE BY LAW"

"Why were not the students included in the decision whether or not to send their names to the committee?" asked Gary Rothberg.

"The decision has been made and there it stands," Hatcher said. "The university will abide by the law by accepting the legal compulsion which is served on it."

"These groups are my nature public activities organizations," Hatcher added. "By their very nature they cannot expect to remain secret."

"This is a question of the power of Congress and the duty of the university and disagreements with the committee's action should be contested through the courts and not through the university's administration."

Salute Ike's Military Service Idea

With Selective Service as an instrument of supplying national military manpower becoming more and more bogged down with inequities and escape expedients, the suggestion of former President Dwight Eisenhower that the U.S. adopt universal military training has much to recommend it.

EISENHOWER

Historically, the Country has opposed the concept as incompatible with American ideals and democracy.

But as the isolation that once afforded hemispheric security has metamorphosed into global involvement, the need for armed might to back our commitments has grown apace.

The present draft machinery, a carry-over from World War I, is a crazy quilt of contradictory exemptions involving marital, academic and economic questions.

Although no program for military conscription can be foolproof, Eisenhower's has the merit of simplicity and impartiality.

With exemptions based solely on physical or mental incapacitation or extreme hardship, it would call all youths of 18 to the colors for a year's service in the armed forces.

Such a program would dispel the present uncertainty related to educational or matrimonial inclinations while providing an unblurred picture of the immediate future for young Americans so far as their obligation to government was concerned.

Needless to say, we abhor the necessity for any form of enforced military service. But until the world climate so ameliorates as to make unnecessary the maintenance of a huge military establishment, Ike's proposal for implementing it reflects the common sense so characteristic of him.

Fabulous Wealth Seen Cashed in Ocean Depths

One of the most fantastic stories of the century has to do with under-sea exploration and drilling for oil. Fifteen years ago, 30 feet of water was considered "deep" when the first offshore drilling rigs were put to work. By the end of 1966, some of the 150 mobile units in use around the world, valued at $800 million, will be able to drill exploratory wells in water 1,000 feet deep.

In another five years, the number of offshore mobile rigs is expected to reach 200, with a total worth of about $1 billion. By that time, oil-men believe technology will make it possible to drill exploratory wells from floating rigs in water 3,000 feet deep.

The reason for this intense activity and development in offshore drilling is the result of the belief that the continental shelf may contain close to 700 billion barrels of hydrocarbons, and that in the next 20 years the free world may obtain one-fourth of its oil and gas requirements from beneath the oceans.

The story of the oil industry, aside from being a fantastic record of achievement from the time of its founding more than a century ago, provides a living demonstration of the initiative that is synonymous with private enterprise. It explains the miracle of America as a Nation, where rivers of oil in many forms flow day and night to meet its astronomical energy requirements.

Diet Cracks Problem of Egg 'Overcrack'

You have to break eggs to make an omelet, as the French say. But the millions of eggs that are accidentally cracked before they reach the market annually cost farmers and retailers about $4.6 million.

That's an expensive omelet that benefits nobody, and the industry has long been looking for a way to prevent it. Now researchers at the University of California have reportedly found that when bicarbonate of soda is added to hens' food, the egg shells they produce are about 12 per cent tougher.

What bazaar does the digestion of the birds is not revealed, but it promises to brighten the dispositions of poultrymen.

Country Looking to Rich 'Uncle'

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON — This week New York Mayor John V. Lindsay went before a Senate subcommittee looking into what it called the crisis in the cities and talked about the plight of his city.

"He said it would take $50 billion more in federal funds in the next decade to transform New York City into a 'thoroughly livable and exciting place in which to live.'"

He said, "Without more federal money, the cities just can't make it." And not long behind Lindsay came the mayor of Detroit, Jerome P. Cavanagh, who said his city would need $15 billion in federal aid in the next decade.

This so startled Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., a member of the subcommittee, that he did some hasty arithmetic and announced that, if all the urban areas asked proportionately as much as Lindsay and Cavanagh, the train on the federal treasury in the next 10 years would top $1 trillion.

WELL-ADJUSTED

It may be a good deal more than 10 years before the government gets involved with the cities to the tune of $1 trillion, but the fact that no one screamed in pain at Kennedy's mention of $1 trillion shows how well adjusted the country has become to looking to Uncle Sam for help.

It wasn't always that way, but the foundations of the government's feeling of responsibility for the general welfare — and today's opposition to that idea — were all laid down 100 years or more ago.

In 1864 President Franklin Pierce vetoed a bill to provide government help for the insane poor, saying the welfare clause in the Constitution didn't give Congress power to provide for the poor, insane or not.

He said help to the poor makes them more helpless and dependent.

Gifts to Railroad

That was one viewpoint. But between 1850 and 1871 Congress gave railroads 131,350,000 acres of land as outright gifts, while Western states added 49,000,000 acres more, or a total area larger than Texas.

And during the next few years the railroads sold the land at an average price of $5 an acre. At the same time, however, Congress established the foundation for what was to follow in the next century.

In 1862 it set aside public lands to support agricultural and engineering colleges.

And in the same year, under the Homestead Act, Congress gave away more public lands in the West, 160 acres to each man who was willing to slay on them five years and farm them.

Yet, as late as 1887, when Congress voted only $10,000 to buy seed grain for drought-stricken farmers in Texas, President Grover Cleveland, like Pierce before him, vetoed it.

It was not the job of the government, he said, to spend money for the relief of individual suffering.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

"He who makes possible the education of his neighbor's child, it is as though he were his parent"

—Talmud

The vibrant faith of Rabbi U. S. Lipschitz has led him into many areas of educational activities to sustain the Orthodox faith in his fathers. Born into a family of Rabbis, the son of Grand Rabbi Moshe Lipschitz of Philadelphia, he has carried on fervently the tradition of Orthodox education in films, radio, television and the press. In 1945 he founded the Beth Jacob School in Philadelphia, serving as its executive director and principal until 1950. For the past 16 years he has been executive director of the Community Service Bureau of the Yeshiva Torah Vodaath and Mesivta. He has helped it to grow to the largest Orthodox Seminary in the world with over 2,000 students from 25 states in the Union and 27 countries of the world. Now he is busily involved in the building of the new home for the Seminary in Brooklyn, New York.

Rabbi Lipschitz says, "Orthodoxy is on the march forward and has made great progress in the United States and throughout the world."

Confident Living:

'Don't Think Maybe; Think Sure'

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How are you fixed for confidence? That's a mighty important question, believe me, because confidence is one thing that everyone needs plenty of—and then some. A friend of mine who does a really fabulous job of overcoming difficulties, some of which would completely floor the average person, explained how he does it. "I just pour a lot of confidence on a situation," he says. "I give it all the confident thinking I can come by. That's all there is to it."

Well, that may be all there is to it but it's a really good formula, that of pouring confidence on a situation and practicing confident thinking. Indeed that is a creative secret of doing things well.

A man in Ulica, N.Y., faced a job problem plus a home budget situation that might have been considered hopeless. But he and his wife were praying people and they prayed about it every night and at the same time confidently believed guidance would come. You might say they "poured" confidence and faith on their situation. After quite a while ideas began coming to them that resulted in the invention of an ingenious implement for use in homes. They finally had a small plant employing nearly 100 people. Their lives became creative and successful through the power of confident thinking.

Confident people really accomplish things in this world and the reason is that their abilities seem to expand to correspond with the quality of undefeatable thinking which they practice. For example, there is the case of Cassius Clay whom certainly no one could ever accuse of lacking confidence. He is quoted as saying, "I never think maybe. I always think sure." Clay, too often written off as bumptious and conceited, but I have yet to hear of anyone beating him.

An impressive illustration of the power of confident thinking is that of champion golfer Gary Player. He declares that often the difference between a good golfer and a champion is just plain confidence. Player explains that when the average golfer approaches the green he will think to himself that he will chip the ball up as close to the cup as he can get it, then hole out on the next shot.

But Gary Player goes at it differently. He tells himself that he is going to sink the ball on the chip shot, and amazingly, he often does just that. At least the ball usually rolls so close to the cup that it is never more than a short putt situation.

Gary Player practices the principles of confident visualization. By this is meant the procedure of seeing confidently in advance the desired result.

Player said that when he walked into the club house to compete in the 1965 U.S. Open he saw engraved on the wall the names of previous champions, the last being Ken Venturi in 1964. Gary Player looked at the blank space following 1965 and in visualization saw his own name engraved there. He felt deeply that he would win.

Now let us hasten to point out that this man had worked and practiced and slaved to perfect himself, but to that necessary hard discipline he had added the powerful creative, mental quality of confident thinking.

The principle and practice of pouring confidence onto a practical situation can be utilized in everyday life. See yourself not failing but succeeding. Believe in yourself, fix your capacity, in your ability to get good results. Remind yourself at all times that Almighty God who made you made good, and with the help of the good Lord you can do more with yourself than you have ever before believed.

Gadgets Spell Fun at Any Age

By WASHINGTON STAFF
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Presidential staff people traveling with Lyndon Johnson carry trim little walkie-talkies to communicate with each other and with such bases as they may establish along the way.

"Hello, this is Joe, I'm calling Lyndon here. We're just crossing the bridge. How far is it from here?"

So it goes. Except, recently, at Quonset Point, R. I., two staff men were observed in earnest chatter over their electronic gadget. A reporter not far off drew closer. Then he pointed out that they were talking to each other, though standing back to back just a few feet apart.

Sheepishly, they turned around and resumed talking, face to face, in the old-fashioned way.

Some of the people who set down President Johnson's speeches have heard his favorite anecdotes so often they no longer scribble out the details. They just use numbers to designate the tales.

Voice of the People:

U.S. Controls Swallow Vitamin Products, Food

The new regulations of the Food and Drug Administration's Food Supplement Order will deny the individual the right to fortify his diet with vitamins and minerals unless he secures a costly prescription. He will also be denied knowledge in detail of the ingredients of food and food supplements he may wish to use.

Perhaps a deluge of letters to Washington can stop this tide of tyranny.

'We Must Learn to Cope With Each Other'

I agree that the bombing of Hiroshima was a necessity, but I believe it was a disaster as all mass murders are. I can't help but wonder if the picketers are not right about picketing against bombing. They don't want the same things to happen again. It seems we should be able to solve our problems in more mature and intelligent ways than by blowing each other to smithereens. One day we will have to learn to cope with each other.

Be thankful we are allowed to voice our opinions. It was the picket lines that gave us unions, women's suffrage and rid us of merciless child labor.

Decries U. S. Government's Liberal Policies

The article by Ruth Montgomery on your editorial page was excellent. She expressed exactly what many of us have been saying about the U.S. Supreme Court which helps Communists and encourages criminals. While murderers and rapists avoid the penalties their vicious crimes merit, our federal government goes on providing welfare and giveaway programs, squandering the tax money we have to pay.

Those who don't want to work for a living are all for this policy of waste.

Those of us who care about our way of life should make every effort to support our police. There may come a time when no man will take the job of law officer and there will be no protection between honest citizens and the savage, jungle mob.

Upcoming Walled Lake School Bond Issue

If the pool proposal is approved, we may all enjoy it and save our wallets at the same time.

Motivations Questioned in Casting of Ballots

Some people are opposed to campaigning at the polls. Apparently, they think voters have their minds made up before they get that far. What predominating factor persuades a voter to vote for a certain candidate? How many voters are "billboard" voters and know nothing of a candidate's qualifications? How many vote for a name? How many simply follow the party line?

Can we deny that if the candidate has money, or if his party is running strong, or if he has a famous "name," he is practically "in"? What motivated your vote?

What are the yellow numbers painted near the center line of Mt. Clemens Street used for?

JUST CURIOUS

REPLY

Mt. Clemens soon will become part of M-59, and City Traffic Engineer Koren tells us the yellow markings are indications to workmen and utility companies of preliminary work that must be done before road work can be done.

Morocco Choice

Road Points to West

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — (Gaulle angrily withdrew the French ambassador from Rabat — and at least temporarily lost his influence among Moroccan policymakers.

Officially, nonalignment remains the basic principle of Moroccan foreign policy.

In reality, the strategically located nation at Africa's north-western tip has become a bulwark against the "revolutionary socialism" proclaimed by anti-Western leaders in Asia and Africa, and a sure American ally in any East-West conflict.

Once a spearhead of the anti-Western movement, Morocco has come a full circle since it sponsored the short-lived 1961 Casablanca pact with Egypt, Mali, Guinea and ex-President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana.

DISCRETION

The reversal was accomplished discreetly because Hassan, despite his absolute rule, still faces pressure from anti-Western conservatives and neutralist leftists inside Morocco.

Exasperated by sterile political squabbling between these groups, the king last year suspended the constitution and Parliament. He has been ruling by royal decree ever since. With the well-equipped army and the mass of the rural population behind him, he seems to hold most of the trump.

One Western diplomat says the policy shift may prove to be almost as big a setback to Communist world strategy as the overthrow of Nkrumah or the downgrading of Indonesia's President Sukarno.

Following the collapse of the Casablanca pact, Hassan for a while tried to steer a neutral course between the "revolutionary" and "reactionary" extremists in Africa and the Arab world.

FORCED HAND?

Ever-increasing hostility from Egypt and Algeria and the wrath of French President Charles de Gaulle may well have forced his hand.

De Gaulle became infuriated with Hassan when the king refused to fire Moroccan officials alleged to have staged the Oct. 29 Paris kidnapping and disappearance of a Moroccan leftist leader, Mehdi Ben Barka. In the still smoldering dispute, De Gaule angrily withdrew the French ambassador from Rabat — and at least temporarily lost his influence among Moroccan policymakers.

This paved the way for a corresponding rise in American influence and the quiet abandonment of the neutralist hitherto encouraged by the French. "We existed for 13 centuries before the French came, and we'll survive another 13 without them," Hassan says. And to a group of visiting American professors he observed: "No matter what happens, the United States should know it has a friend on the opposite shore of the Atlantic."

MILITARY PACT

There is a shroud of secrecy over Morocco's military involvement with the United States. But as Rabat drops more and more of its neutralist posture, the shroud becomes increasingly penetrable.

At Kenitra, 20 miles up the coast from Rabat, the United States maintains an embryo air and naval base complete with long-range radar and other devices. The base — officially a "technical assistance" post for training Moroccan pilots and technicians — has been streamlined so it can become fully operational at 24 hours' notice.

In Algeria, which has a long-standing border dispute and a record of misunderstanding with Morocco, government sources recently complained of an alleged secret agreement for the supply of American combat planes, tanks and other military equipment to Morocco.

The Moroccan government denounced the complaint as an unfriendly act, but did not deny its substance.

A LONE ENEMY

The defense planning of Algeria's powerful, Soviet-equipped army and air force is directed against only one theoretical enemy: Morocco.

Government-controlled radio stations and papers in Egypt and Syria have begun attacking Morocco for joining the "imperialist camp" and approving the Islamic pact sponsored by King Feisal of Saudi Arabia.

Feisal wants to bring together all the world's Moslem nations in a loose community of primarily religious, historic and cultural interests. The pact is now taken seriously in Rabat, and Hassan had long and friendly talks recently with two of its sponsors, King Hussein of Jordan and Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi of Iran.

Feisal is scheduled to make a state visit to Morocco soon. In October, Hassan flies to Moscow, mainly to balance last year's visit there by Algerian President Col. Houari Boumedienne. On his way back, Hassan will stop in Ankara to talk to Turkish leaders.

In late November, the king goes to the United States to address the United Nations General Assembly and to meet President Johnson. Officially, economic aid for Morocco will be his main theme.

The presence of storage fat could plug tooth passages and hinder tooth metabolism.

Dental investigators have given little attention to fats in teeth because they account for only about 1 per cent of the total weight, but Dr. Robert S. Harris, director of the Oral Science Laboratories of the department of nutrition and food science, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Dr. Sali K. Das, a staff member, experimented with diets of rats and discovered a difference in the teeth of underfed and well-fed animals.

Underfed rats developed "lean teeth with no storage fat, while the teeth of well-fed rats contained as much storage fat as they did nonglyceride lipids that are useful in tooth metabolism.

Zolton Charges DSR Sending Back News Blackout Buses to Ohio Firm

'Must Crack Detroit Metropolitan Papers'

MOUNT PLEASANT (UPI) — Zolton Perency charged yesterday that his campaign for governor is being "blackened out" by the Detroit newspapers.

"If I can crack the news media I'll be in very good shape," the Democratic candidate said in an interview.

"The outside papers have covered my campaign. I am, however, blacked out completely by the Detroit metropolitan papers," he said.

Perency said he would need 65 to 70 per cent of Wayne County's votes in order to win. He said Gov. Romney is still leading him 60-40 if the election were today.

AT COUNTY FAIR

Perency campaigned at a county fair and shook hands at a factory gate.

"If I'm elected, one of my primary goals will be to change Michigan's tax structure," he said. "It should be made more equitable, adequate and flexible."

"I am wholeheartedly in favor of amending our constitution to graduated income tax," he said. He also predicted, "Next January, there will be talk of taxes in Lansing no matter who is elected."

Board to Mull School Site in Waterford

The Waterford Township Board Monday night will consider the proposed purchase of a 27.5-acre park which now is part of the Mason Junior High School site.

The Waterford Township Board of Education has offered the beach property to the township for $40,000.

With 850 feet of frontage on Loon Lake, the parcel includes 16.5 acres of dry land, five of swamp land and 12 under-water.

The Township Board has indicated it will come to a decision on the proposed purchase by Thursday.

School and township officials have been discussing the matter off and on since the board of education purchased the 80-acre school site in 1963.

Swimming classes were conducted by the Waterford Township Recreation Department on the beach this summer.

No Fast Action on Air Fares

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board indicated today that it will take no immediate action to bring about the air fare reductions urged last week by Chairman Gardner Ackley of President Johnson's Council of Economic Advisers.

In an interview, CAB Chairman Charles S. Murphy told The Associated Press that: "The board's study of the airlines fare structure — to have been completed before the end of this year — was delayed by the six-week strike against five airlines until early next year."

The board has decided to permit the trunk airlines to continue until next April 23 the temporary extra charges for jet services as well as the "Discover America" excursion fares. The added fares had been scheduled to expire Dec. 31.

Murphy said the "implication of these developments is that one need not expect any major move on the part of the board to do anything about fares until results of the fare structure study are in and more experience has been gathered on excursion fares and jet surcharges."

Ackley said at the end of the machinists' walkout that the council regretted that the strike settlement substantially exceeded the council's guidelines for wage boosts.

TREND DOWNWARD

He added: "Fortunately, in this particular case, the extensive settlement will not require higher prices to air passengers or shippers."

"The high rate of productivity advance which has characterized the airline industry, and is expected to continue, means the airline fares can continue to trend downward, despite this excessive settlement."

Airline fares over the years have developed in haphazard fashion. Rates were applied piecemeal as new areas of the country received service, new routes were authorized or new equipment introduced.

The result has been a mushrooming variety of fares and rates, ranging from unduly high to unduly low. In some cases the rates bear little relationship to the type of service provided.

The CAB accordingly ordered its thorough study of the domestic air fare structure. It asked for and received help from the airlines in assembling data.

Murphy said one goal of the study would be to provide guidance so that in the end "the various fares will have the proper relationship to each other."

TEMPORARY AUTHORITY

Last year the CAB gave the airlines temporary authority to charge higher fares on older, jet equipment than on the modern, slower aircraft, if in the same period they offered experimental promotional fares at a level that would stimulate traffic.

Among the responses to this action were the "Discover America" fares introduced by all of the trunk airlines and several local service companies.

These provided a 25 per cent discount on the regular round-trip jet coach fares and on trips completed within 30 days.

Murphy said extension of the discount fares to April 23 will help the public plan travel through the winter and early

War Notification Policy Is Defended by Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has defended its method of notifying and assisting relatives of servicemen missing or captured in Viet Nam, although it acknowledges that "undoubtedly, there are occasional slip-ups."

These slip-ups, the Defense Department added, "should not obscure the fact that the program is a good one and that the problems of these families are receiving and will continue to receive compassionate attention."

In a news release, the department said yesterday it maintains "a continuing interest in matters relating to casualties occurring in Viet Nam."

"The initial notification of casualty status as well as the follow-up assistance to dependents are conducted in person by a service representative who makes every effort to assure that dependents' needs are accommodated," it said.

The department gave no reason for issuing the news release at this time.

CITED PROBLEMS

An Associated Press article Wednesday described the problems some wives said they encounter when their husbands in Viet Nam are captured or missing.

Some wives reported they had been forced to tackle walls of red tape and bureaucratic indifference in coping with legal and financial problems and in trying to learn the fate of their lost men.

The Pentagon said relatives are given information on missing and captured men as rapidly as it becomes available. "Frequently, the information is fragmentary," it said, "not from any reluctance on the services' part to release it, but from the fact that information on personnel held by the enemy simply is not readily available."

Silly Reason for Making Him Wait

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: What do you think of girls who keep boys waiting every time they have a date? My girl never puts in an appearance in less than 15 or 20 minutes after I call for her. I asked her why, and she said she had always heard that girls were expected to keep boys waiting so they don't seem over-eager.—Bill S.

Dear Bill: Your girl friend's answer is one of the silliest misconceptions I know of. I agree she might look over-eager if she were sitting out on the front steps waiting for you, but to be ready at the hour she expects you is just plain good manners.

ONE PRESENT

Dear Mrs. Post: Friends of mine recently adopted a baby and gave a party to celebrate the event. Although it was not a shower or christening party, all the guests brought gifts. Now the christening is to be held shortly and we were wondering if we need to take gifts again?—Alice.

Dear Alice: No, you certainly don't need to take another gift. The ones given at the first party would be considered christening presents.

MRS. R. L. JOHNSON

R. L. Johnson and Bride Take Vows

Reception in St. Benedict's Parish Hall followed the marriage of Margery Alice Donaldson of West Huron Street to Richard Leroy Johnson, today, in St. Michael Catholic Church. The Edward E. Eldreds of Southfield escorted the bride, niece of Herbert C. Donaldson of Myra Street, at the nuptial rite performed by Rev. Charles Rooney.

Dr. and Mrs. Leroy C. Johnson of Hammond Lake are the bridegroom's parents.

TIRED VEIL

A four-tiered illusion veil with pearl and crystal trim complemented the bride's modified A-line gown of Chantilly lace over white silk organza. She held white orchids and carnations.

With Judith Ghaslin, honor maid, were Michele Donaldson and Susan Kidd as bridesmaids. Thomas M. Johnson was his brother's best man. David L. Sluka and Mark Walker seated the guests.

The couple left for a wedding trip in Upper Michigan.

Wraps Are Off French Fashions

White continues to be one of the most important daytime colors featured by Paris couturiers. Guy Laroche uses this double-layered fabric of "Orlon" acrylic and wool woven in a checked pattern to create a three-dimensional effect. A deep back opening adds sitting comfort.

Stripes were important in all Paris fall collections, and Gerard Pipart worked his on the bias in this straight-line coat for Nina Ricci. By Nattier, the double-woven fabric of "Orlon" acrylic and wool sets satin stripes of purple, green, mustard, black and mauve in spiral motion.

Contrasting-colored geometric jacquard patterns create the neatest little suits in Philippe Venet's fall collection. Clear color combinations of turquoise with orange, and violet with lemon, are made possible by the presence of "Orlon" acrylic in the triple-woven fabric of "Orlon" and wool by Nattier. Color-coordinated helmets and fleecy back-wrapped or loose-fitting coats give the costumes a fast-moving, contemporary look.

Duck's Eggs Just as Good as Chicken if They're Fresh

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You certainly don't know much about eggs. A woman wrote to say that her husband came home with some eggs he had bought from a farmer, and they tasted horrible.

They later found out that the farmer had sold him DUCK eggs. And you let it pass as though they should have expected duck eggs to taste horrible.

Abby, fresh duck eggs are every bit as delicious as chicken eggs. We raise geese and ducks especially for the eggs. The eggs are wonderful, and the only difference is in the size.

MRS. E. Dear Mrs. E.: Twenty lashes with a duck feather for this Iowa-born writer who should have known better. Of one thing I am certain, duck eggs on the face is every bit as embarrassing as chicken eggs.

DEAR ABBY: Let me start out by saying that I love animals. I have had pet dogs, cats, birds, skunks, and even two king snakes. I recently read in the newspaper where someone left nearly $200,000 to a pair of cats!

And it stipulated that in twenty years, or after the cats died, the remaining money should go to a hospital and church. Now if that isn't the most ridiculous thing you have ever heard of, what is!

I can see leaving enough money to feed and care for pets, but for a hospital and a church to have to wait 20 years for a donation because a couple of animals have inherited it, is downright disgusting. There ought to be a law against leaving money to animals. Will you see what you can do about it, Abby?

DISGUSTED DEAR DISGUSTED: I think any law attempting to limit the individual's right to dispose of what is lawfully his would be unconstitutional. If not, it should be. So we'll just have to suffer such extravagance sentimentality and be glad it doesn't happen everyday.

DEAR ABBY: For eight years now I have had this neighbor-

Miss Knisley Is Bride in Friday Rite

Reception in Forest Lake Country Club followed the marriage of Betty Sue Knisley to Charles William Lazear, Friday, in the Central Methodist Church.

Their parents are the W. Harold Knisleys, Orchard Lake, and the H. R. Lazears of Charlton, Iowa.

PEARLS, LACE Pearl-frosted Alencon lace accented the bride's Empire gown silk-faced white peau de soie worn with matching pillow and illusion veil.

For the vows before Rev. William Brady, pastor of the Four Towns Methodist Church, she held white orchids, miniature carnations and Stephanotis.

With Karolyn Knisley of Playa Del Ray, Calif. her sister's honor maid were Brenda Allen, Boone, Iowa; Virginia Fagen, Orchard Lake; Mrs. Paul A. Romans, Des Moines, Iowa; Carol Cappell, Atlantic, Iowa.

Peggy Knisley was junior maid, Kathy Sexton, flower girl, and Jeffrey Bernard, ring bearer.

Songs Inform Villagers About Family Planning

NEW YORK (UPI) — Muslims set up for a songfest in a remote village in Pakistan.

A crowd gathers. A song the people never heard before fills the ears. The first line: "You know how much trouble if a lot of children you have..."

In question and answer form, the lyrics go on to tell the people, in the midst of a population explosion, how they can control the size of their families.

Songs emphasize economic and family health aspects of family planning, reports Harvey M. Choldin, population council consultant at Comilla, Pakistan.

14 YEARS OLD

The council is a foundation established in 1952 for scientific training and study in population matters.

In Pakistan, Korea, Thailand and Taiwan, the council reports, unusual methods are used to spread the word about family planning.

The family planning singers in Comilla perform regularly in bazaars and villages. They gather large numbers of listeners, mostly male.

The singers were recruited from among local artists. BRIEFED Before singing the praises of family planning, they attended sessions aimed at giving them enough knowledge to answer questions about "having a baby only when you want one."

At Taichung in Taiwan mail order distribution of birth control pills is being researched.

Ayraults Receive Guests in Hotel

A reception in the Hotel Whit-ter, Detroit, followed the nuptials of Sandra Lee Freeman and Joseph Allen Ayrault, today in St. Paul Catholic Church, Grosse Pointe.

The Harry S. Freemans, East Gunn Road, Oakland Township, and the Robert Ayraults of Grosse Pointe Farms are parents of the couple who left on a wedding-trip to New York City.

Ivory silk organza accented with Alencon lace fashioned the bride's gown and cathedral train worn with mantilla of lace and illusion. She carried white orchids and white Sweetheart roses.

With Kathryn Ayrault, maid of honor, were bridesmaids Mrs. John Freeman, Mrs. Harry Freeman III, Royal Oak, Betty Gillen and Marjorie McCueen.

David Ayrault was his brother's best man. Ushers were William Gmuer, Bloomfield Hills; Harry Freeman III, John Freeman, Terrace MacDonal and Harold Johnson, Grosse Pointe; and Frank Chinsky, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

The bride is an alumna of Central Michigan University. Her husband attends Ferris State College.

Vows at Noon for Couple in Beverly Hills

The Beverly Hills' Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Catholic Church was the setting today for the noon vows of Carole Brodie and Douglas Michael Glaza.

Their parents are the Robert Brodies of Harrow Circle and the Frank X. Glazas of Petoskey.

EMPIRE GOWN

A white organza gown with Empire waistline and chapel train was chosen by the bride whose bubble veil fell from a simulated orange blossom spray. Her flowers were white roses, ivy and cymbidium orchids.

Linda Haack of Birmingham was maid of honor with bridesmaids, Mrs. William Richardson of Annapolis, Md., and Cheryl Stevens of Petoskey at the rite performed by Rev. Arnold Kosco.

The bridegroom's brother, David, of Flint, stood as best man with ushers, Thomas and Ronald Brodie, Joseph Flynn and Donald Jones, both of Petoskey and Curtis Fonger of Romeo.

After a reception in the Holiday Inn, the couple left for northern Michigan. They are seniors at Michigan State University.

Snidemanns Take Trip to Florida

After recent evening vows and reception in the Trinity Methodist Church, Keego Harbor, the Robert Lewis Snidemanns (Jennifer Marie Persinger) left for a honeymoon at Jensen Beach, Fla.

Their parents are the Junior Stanton Persingers, Keego Harbor, and the Wilber Snidemanns of Detroit and Keego Harbor.

With her floor-length gown of white peau de soie and brief veil of nylon net, the bride carried a bouquet of gladioli.

Her attendants were Alice McCord, honor maid, with Susan Persinger and Mrs. Richard Long.

Paul Kinzer was best man with Craig Fairbrother and Dan MacMillan seating the guests at the rite performed by Rev. Forster Pierce.

The bride will attend Eastern Michigan University this fall. Her husband is a graduate of Central Michigan University.

This fall's favorite look is the team of overblouse and matching hose made of printed jersey. Printed pattern 4753 includes both, plus the swinging skirt. Pattern comes in misses' sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18. All hosiery sizes included with every pattern. Send 50 cents in cash for the pattern to The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., P.O. More Women Enter Field

Since 1920, the proportion of women accepted by medical schools has increased from 4.5 to 81 per cent of enrolled students, the Association of American Medical Colleges reports.

And probably, the association adds, more women are likely to choose careers in medicine because of "growing shortages of medical personnel and the increasing roles in medicine compatible with the accepted roles imposed on women by our culture."

Need Extras on Vacation

NEW YORK (UPI)—Don't forget to pack medical supplies when going on vacation, the Medical and Pharmaceutical Information Bureau reminds.

If you are on regular prescription medications, take along a sufficient supply. Have the doctor give you an extra prescription in case something happens to pills and capsules.

Also take along extra glasses — plus a prescription from your eye doctor in case both sets get smashed or lost.

DEAR POLLY — Before we bought new linoleum for our kitchen floor we measured all the kitchen cupboards and ordered enough of the linoleum for them. After the men installed the floor we put what was left on the cupboards shelves. — MRS. S.

DEAR POLLY—I do not have a double boiler but often need one for certain recipes. My husband suggested placing a french fry basket inside a large saucepan half filled with water. Place a smaller saucepan inside the basket. You can cook in the smaller pan which is held up over the boiling water by the wire basket.

He has used this same basket for boiling eggs. Put the eggs in the basket and then place it down in a pan of water. When they are cooked you simply lift it out and let the eggs cool in the basket.—D. J.

DEAR POLLY — My pointer saved me money and really gave my vacuum cleaner representative a job. He said I should have a Polly Dollar for being so hard up.

After a hole developed in the cloth bag on my cleaner I knew that dirt getting to the motor would ruin it and I also knew buying a new bag was spending money I just did not have at the time.

It did not take me long to think of iron-on tape. I turned the bag wrong side out, placed a folded towel inside and ironed on a blue jean patch. —MRS. A. W. S.

DEAR POLLY — I used to dread cleaning the sliding glass doors of my tub enclosure. There was water on the floor, down my arms and on my clothing until I discovered a way that is almost a pleasure.

When I am finished with all my other housework and ready for a shower I first clean all the aluminum tracks around the enclosure with an old hairbrush and cleanser. I undress, ready for my shower, and then clean the inside doors with a sponge and cleanser. Rinsing is then no problem, just splash away with no fear of wet floor or clothing.

When the doors are rinsed and shiny, I shower and then wipe the doors down afterwards with an old towel kept specifically for that purpose. It hangs at one side of the towel bar above the tub. — ANNA

DEAR POLLY — I like to send in jar labels on new products for the refunds offered. I usually soak the container in warm water to loosen the label but sometimes this does not help at all. How do others remove stubborn labels without shredding them? Should I add something to the water and if so, what?—MRS. W. V.

PAYING TOO MUCH?
Some people believe that the medicines they use to relieve their ailments are too expensive. However, the President's Council on Economic Advisors, in its 1965 Annual Report, emphasized that the cost of prescription medicines and other drugs has steadily declined over the past few years, while costs of all other consumer items have increased.

Today's modern medicines and medical care are truly worth the investment you make in good health for you and your loved ones.

Junior Editors Quiz on 'FUNNY' BONE

QUESTION: Why does your funny bone hurt so much when you strike it?

ANSWER: The strange, partly painful, partly tingling sensation that you get when you bump what is called the funny or crazy bone, seems to be located in the bone itself. Bones are not really as lifeless or dead as they may seem to be, for about a third of their substance is made up of organic material and certain nerves are present. But it is not the bones of your elbow which give you a funny or crazy feeling when struck. Instead, it is the ulnar nerve, which winds around the elbow point on the outside and lies directly under the skin, so that it has little protection. When you bang your elbow against something, you are giving a jolt to this nerve. This stimulates it to register the queer sensation which may travel down the arm into the third and fourth fingers of the hand. As many other nerves of the body do, the ulnar, in this case, is sending you a report—and also a warning. It says: "Your elbow is extremely important to you, and is easily damaged. Don't hit it that way again!"

FOR YOU TO DO: Take the report of your ulnar nerve seriously. Realize that your elbows are sensitive areas and protect them.

Urges Camouflage of Toy 'Violence'

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Bernard F. Grabowski made a speech this week in which he urged toy manufacturers not to advertise toys of violence and death.

"Who is to say that toys which promote violence and death do not psychologically and adversely affect our children?" the Connecticut Democrat asked.

I can't answer that question but I am prepared to testify that such toys psychologically and adversely affect parents.

That, however, is another story. Back to Grabowski.

"Would it not be better to advertise a toy as one of constructive beneficence rather than one of destructive powers?" he reasoned.

STUDY RESULTS

I rather doubt that his appeal will be heeded, but let us spend a little time musing over what the results might be if it were.

Here we have the Violence & Death Toy Co. The big buying season is approaching and it has a warehouse full of toy pistols, rifles, machineguns, bayonets, swords, hand grenades, bazookas, flame throwers, tear gas pellets, Gatling guns, mortars, howitzers, missile launchers, etc.

The problem is to advertise these toys in such a way as to give them an aura of constructive beneficence.

"Hi there, boys and girls. Know what this is? Looks like an arsenal, doesn't it? But appearances can be deceiving, kiddies. This is our new 'daddy's little helper' combat kit."

"Yessiree, boys and girls. With a box of these gadgets you can have a realistic backyard barbecue, just like daddy."

LIKE DADDY

"See this thing that looks like a flame thrower? It's a charcoal lighter, kiddies. Shoots a stream of sparks 18 inches. Almost burns the carport down, just like daddy."

"And what have we here? No, not a sword, it's a skewer for shish-ka-bob. You stick hunks of meat on the end and occasionally jab yourself in the hand, just like daddy."

"Our kit includes a box of pellets that explode when you drop them. They may smell like tear gas but they're really insect repellents."

Students Offered 2 More Chances on Draft Exam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Selective Service says youths wishing to take its college qualification tests will be given two more chances — on Nov. 18 and 19.

Officials said Friday the tests will be similar to those held last May and June. Eligibility will be limited to registrants who voluntarily apply to take the test and who have not taken any previous Selective Service qualification tests.

Scores will be graded by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N. J., and sent directly to the applicant's local draft board, a spokesman said.

Rail Strike Felt in Canada

OTTAWA (AP) — Canadians face a virtually trainless weekend with no action scheduled on the nationwide rail strike until Monday, when Parliament meets in special session to try to get the trains rolling.

Key industries say layoffs will be necessary if the strike lasts more than a few days. Grocers predict food prices will go up.

The nation's $5 billion annual mining and newsprint industries began immediate stockpiling.

Canadian newsprint industry officials estimated that domestic and U.S. customers had enough supplies on hand to last 10 to 35 days.

A spokesman for International Nickel Co. of Canada Ltd., the world's largest nickel producer and Canada's largest copper producer, said there "are bound to be some delays in delivery," adding that layoffs would be necessary if the strike does not end quickly.

SEEK WAGE HIKE

The strike was called by four unions representing 118,000 employees of eight railroads serving nearly 50,000 miles of track. Eleven smaller railroads are unaffected.

The striking workers, who earn an average of $2.23 an hour, are seeking wage increases averaging 30 per cent and have rejected a wage settlement of 18 per cent over two years, as recommended by three different conciliation boards.

Union representatives met Friday with the two major railroads—the government-owned Canadian National Railways and the privately owned Canadian Pacific—for the first time across a bargaining table in five months.

Labor Minister John R. Nicholson said after the meetings that the railroads are in a financial bind which prevented any progress on the wage issue. But he said the fringe benefits question has been eased.

NEW LEGISLATION

The government has promised to unveil Monday new rail legislation which is expected to give the railroads more freedom in rate-setting and permit the abandonment of uneconomical lines and services.

Railroad freight rates have been frozen since 1959.

Nicholson said he will call both sides together again Monday after the railroads have a chance to study the new legislation.

Woman Teller Really Works Under the Gun

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Three times in the last 25 months, the same branch of the Valley National Bank has been robbed.

Karen Leerssen was the teller who faced a gun on all three occasions.

Friday the bank was held up for the fourth time. The bandit jolted Mrs. Leerssen to hand over $1,400.

Police said Robert Kaplan, 26, was arrested outside the bank with $1,400. Kaplan was charged with bank robbery and held on $10,000 bond.

American firms are expected to export $445 million worth of computing machines this year.

Koufax Knocks Giants From First With 21st Victory

Aussie Netters Bid for Crown

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—With the chips down, Australian ace Roy Emerson is getting a big helping hand from Fred Stolle in a bid for a share of the U.S. National Doubles tennis championship for the fourth time since 1959.

Stolle, somewhat of a disappointment this year, flashed his old time form, serving with booming power and moving with deft speed, Friday as he and Emerson defeated England's Mark Cox and Graham Sullivan 9-7, 11-9, 6-3.

"Fred's a pressure player," Emerson said. He praised his 26-year-old partner from Sydney after the pair moved to a semi-final showdown against U.S. Davis Cup players Arthur Ashe and Emerson defeated England's Mark Cox and Graham Sullivan 9-7, 11-9, 6-3.

Stolle and Emerson, who captured the U.S. title with Neale Fraser in 1959 and '60, upheld their No. 1 seeding in defense of the crown in ousting Cox and Stowell, who had been rated eighth.

Stolle, who was eliminated in the second round at Wimbledon and is not needed in the upcoming U.S. singles, and Emerson rested today before meeting Ashe and Riesen in semifinals Sunday.

Ashe, a Davis Cup player for three years, and Riesen, former Northwestern University captain, romped to a 6-3, 6-4, 15-13 victory over Australia's Owen Davidson and William Bowrey.

SEEDING SECOND RALSTON and Graebner, seeded second as America's top tandem, met Mexico's Marcelo Lara and Joaquin Loayza-Mayo today, while the three-seeded team of Tony Roche and John Newcombe of Australia faced young Californians Stan Smith and Bob Lutz in the other quarter-final. Smith and Lutz were the No. 7 seed.

Top-seeded Maria Bueno of Brazil and Nancy Richey of Farmers Branch, Tex., and second-seeded Billie Jean Moffitt and Emerson defeated England's Mark Cox and Graham Sullivan 9-7, 11-9, 6-3.

Sandy Pitches 4-Hitter as LA Posts 4-0 Win

Pirates Regain Lead With 7-4 Triumph Over St. Louis

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—Bob Bolin started out like the present Sandy Koufax but wound up like the past Sandy Koufax.

Koufax himself stayed in the present, and the result was a 4-0 Los Angeles victory over San Francisco Friday night that topped the Giants from first place in the National League.

The loss dropped the Giants one-half game behind the Pittsburgh Pirates, who defeated St. Louis 7-4.

Koufax held move the third place Dodgers to within 1½ games of the top, pitching a four-hitter for his 21st victory after seven defeats.

When the game was only a few batters old, though, Bolin looked as if he were going to steal the strikeout pitch right out of Koufax's glove.

FANNED FIVE—The Giant right-hander fanned the first five Dodgers he faced, tying the modern major league record for consecutive strikeouts at the start of a game.

But Bolin couldn't maintain the pace and instead walked over to the base on balls pitched, the one Koufax threw so well in the first half of his major league career. Bolin walked six batters, including two in the eighth inning when Los Angeles scored all four of its runs.

Koufax, on the other hand, walked only one, which is less than the 2½ walks per game he's averaged in the last six years. The story in his first six years was a lot different in that period he walked 53 batters a game.

Bolin finished with eight strikeouts to Koufax's seven, but the Dodger left-hander leads the majors with 261 and easily should win his fourth strikeout crown in six years.

In becoming the winningest pitcher in the majors, Koufax reduced his major league losing earned run average to 1.61 and completed his first game in 32 starts.

Elsewhere in the National League, Cincinnati trimmed Philadelphia 2-0. Atlanta downed New York 6-3 and Houston defeated Chicago 7-4 after taking a 3-8 deficit in the completion of a game suspended Aug. 11 after seven innings because of a curfew.

FAMILY BREAKFAST — Alva Jean Carter, family helper for the past 18 years, pours coffee for her employers, the Malones. Mrs. Tom Malone (left), Debbie, 7, and Dr. Tom Malone enjoy the rare treat of a family breakfast under the canopied picnic table at their home on 1045 Dover. Dr. Malone is pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church and Mrs. Malone keeps busy working for the Church and its two schools.

COUNSELS YOUTH — Included in Mrs. Tom Malone's duties is the counseling of young women at the two Baptist schools and the young men in the music department.

Student Kathy White of 3680 Loreva, Waterford Township, listens carefully as Mrs. Malone advises and guides her.

David, 5; and Steven, 1, carefully look over one of the family bicycles. Rev. Jackson came to Pontiac in 1960 and was minister of education at Columbia Avenue Baptist Church. He was pastor of Hillcrest Baptist since its founding in 1963.

Senior Choir Is Observing 3rd Anniversary

Springfield Missionary Baptist Church, 25 S. East Blvd., is observing the third anniversary of its senior choir this weekend. A musical program featuring the Skylarks of Detroit will be held at 7:30 p.m. today. C. H. Pennington is chairman.

Tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. members of the O.A.C. Baptist Church will be the Church's guests. Their pastor is Rev. A. B. Moore.

A vocal recital tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. will climax the anniversary. Mrs. Arthur L. Jackson will be soloist at the concert of sacred music.

Mrs. Jackson of the New Bethel Baptist Church, is youth director for her church, a Sunday School teacher and a member of the church choir.

Mrs. C. L. Jones is choir director at Springfield Baptist Church.

Elected Trustee

At the 36th annual convention of the Lutheran Ladies Auxiliary, Inc., Lydia Hoemke, of 124 Rochdale, Avon Township, was elected a trustee of the group. Two hundred delegates and guests representing 7,000 members from all parts of Michigan and Faribault, Minn., gathered for the Detroit meeting.

Every Day Is a Busy One

There is no such thing as an "average" day for Mrs. Tom (Joyce) Malone due to her varied and oftentimes demanding role as a minister's wife.

Her husband Dr. Tom Malone, is founder of the Emmanuel Christian School and Midwestern Baptist Schools. He is also pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church.

The Malones' children are Debbie, 7, Tom, 11, 20, and Mrs. Luther Clyburn. Mrs. Malone has been minister of music, choir and orchestra director at Emmanuel Baptist Church for the past 24 years.

Annually she directs the church's large sacred musical cantatas and Christmas pageants.

She majored in music, and Fine Arts at Bob Jones University. She also has training in voice, piano and speech.

MUSIC TEACHER

For the past 12 years Mrs. Malone has taught music rudiments and theory, music appreciation, the study of great composers and choral conducting at Midwestern Baptist College and Seminary.

In addition to her daily household and teaching duties, she counsils and advises young women attending the two schools and advises young men in the department of music.

Part of the role of a minister's wife involves making numerous hospital calls and visiting shut-ins every week.

Mrs. Malone has also devoted many hours to the Red Cross Gray Lady program at Pontiac General Hospital.

A minister's wife is on call 24 hours a day to give assistance wherever she is needed. Mrs. Malone has reached the bedside of many injured or dying persons.

"Spreading the Word" is also an important task for any minister's wife. Dr. and Mrs. Malone travel extensively in Bible Conference work, this spring visiting Europe and the Holy Land.

Another of Mrs. Malone's talents is that of interior decorator. She is frequently called upon to assist in church and school decor.

All of these activities add up to a busy day, every day, for Mrs. Tom Malone.

She greatly enjoys her life's work and sums up her feelings in this way: "The demands and de-times and many mistake the life of a minister and a pastor's wife at a very soft and glamorous one.

"It can only be understood by others who are in the ministry to serving God and others rather than self. I have been repaid many times with their (the congregation's) generous and kind acts and their respect and devotion as their pastor's wife."

CHORAL CONDUCTING — For the past 12 years Mrs. Tom Malone has taught choral conducting at Midwestern Baptist College and Seminary. She is also choir and orchestra director at Emmanuel Baptist Church and annually directs the Christmas cantata there. She teaches both night and day sessions at the school.

Church Is Built in Anchorage

Due to the efforts of Greg Stuckey and 11 other youths, the exterior portion of Anchorage, Alaska's first Congregational (Christian) Church has been erected.

Greg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stuckey, 4176 Fieldbrook, West Bloomfield Township, spent six weeks helping raise the walls of the Church of the Northern Light. This is the only full-fledged Congregational Church in the 49th state.

The 12 young men arrived arrived July 4 to participate in Alaska Work Camp — 1966, sponsored by the Missionary Society of the National Association of Congregational Christian Churches.

The exterior of the structure is up and all that needs completion is part of the interior which the church members will finish.

Containing more than 8,000 square feet of floor space, the sanctuary itself is 56 by 55 feet plus a smaller rectangular wing with full basement. The wing has double sliding glass doors opening onto a deck that faces the majestic outline of the mountains. Thus, the lounge-reception area can be nearly doubled, weather permitting. Seating capacity is 250 persons.

Besides putting up walls, placing windows, flooring, roofing and doing some electrical work, the youths found time for mountain climbing expeditions, hiking and fishing trips, water skiing, boating trips and panning gold.

The volunteer workers hail from St. Johns, Mich.; Minneapolis, Minn.; Marshalltown, Iowa; Racine and Wauwatosa, Wis.; Chicago, Ill.; Santa Ana, Calif.; and Middletown, Conn.

The church was first used Aug. 14 in a going-away service for its builders. It is hoped that the building will be completely finished this fall.

Greg returned home Sunday. He and his family are members of Pine Hill Congregational Church, 4160 Middle Belt, West Bloomfield Township.

Rolling Site Of The Oscar Mezeys' Colonial Influenced One-Story Is Located On Nearbrook Drive, Bloomfield Township

Window Walls Bring Outdoors Inside

By JODY HEADLEE

Home Editor, Pontiac Press
Fond of outdoor living, the Oscar Mezeys adapted the floor plan of their former Florida home to Michigan's climate when they designed their one-story colonial on Nearbrook Drive, Bloomfield Township.

Sliding glass walls are found in both the living room, which opens onto the Florida room, and the Florida room, which opens onto the broad landscaped patio.

"The expanse of window," said Mrs. Mezey, "brings the outdoors in and we like it that way."

Coordinated, both rooms feature an ice-blue background with the cable-twist area rugs in the Florida room duplicating the color and texture of the living room carpeting.

Furniture pieces in the Florida room are of ice-blue wrought iron with sparkling white cushions. A color change of pace is introduced in the throw pillows of a deeper blue and green.

A kitchen pass-through adds to the feeling of depth in the spacious room. It also can be set up as a serving buffet for entertaining. Cupboards are tucked under the counter and open on both sides of the cabinet.

In the living room, the mood switches to a more formal approach.

The Borsato over the fireplace enhances the room's blue theme and repeats the black of the fireplace slate.

Matching French Provincial chairs in avocado and ivory stripe are served by a round fruitwood cigarette table.

Fruitwood Italian Provincial end tables flank the sofa, covered in a quilted floral in shades of blue and olive green on white. Mementoes and a planter of philodendron decorate the black and white marble cocktail table before the sofa.

Antique gold, beige and white linen draperies on brass rods dress the windows in the nearby cherry paneled den. A plaid throw on the room's shades-of-gold sofa was discovered in Denmark.

"It was hand-loomed by a Hungarian artist," said Mrs. Mezey.

Wood Deck Accents Home's Beauty

You don't have to live on the face of a cliff to make good use of a wood deck. Sure, even more interesting to touch there's no land available for a yard and the usual patio treatment. But flat-landers, too, have found many reasons for preferring a wood deck to an ordinary paved patio.

For one thing, the wood doesn't absorb or retain heat, so the deck's useable even at high noon. For another, it's easier to build eye-appeal into a deck because the wood framing and floor boards can be arranged to produce just about any shape or pattern desired.

People used to stick to a rectangle when they built a deck. Today, you see everything from full circles and crescents to rhomboids and trapeziums. Some are just plain free-form.

When a deck adjoins the house, it's always a good idea to raise it to the level of interior floors — 12 to 18 inches for standard house construction on a level lot. Then let the deck step down to the lawn at one or more sides.

While the deck can be set directly against house walls, it's even more interesting to touch to the home only at points of entrance, swinging it away elsewhere and pushing it out into the garden.

LANDSCAPING DETAIL

Open areas between deck and house walls can be planted, and the result is a welcome softness.

Women Ease Labor Shortages

Reminiscent of World War II labor shortages is the situation at Lafayette, Indiana, where the National Homes Corporation is hiring women to make up the deficit caused by draft calls.

Thirty women, out of a factory force of 650, are "doing just as well as men" assembling component house parts, working trim machines and installing insulation batts.

Step-Saver Hint

If you live in a two-story house, keep a lightweight ladder on the second floor to help reach closet shelves that need to be washed off with a sudsy cloth once a month.

The ground-bugging deck doesn't need railings for safety, but something here and there along the edges gives it a bit of extra zip. A bench or two and good planter pots are the most logical things to use.

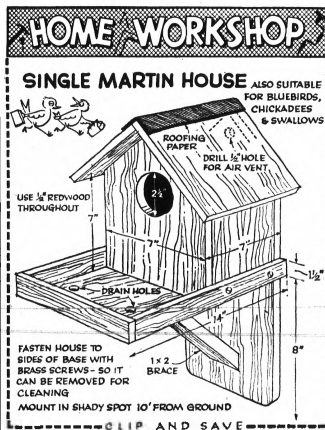

Some sort of edging around the deck is needed at lawn level, too, not only to make an easy transition between the two planes, but also to facilitate lawn mowing.

A skirt of river rock or gravel, will do the job nicely, provided there's a raised wood border to keep the gravel out of the grass. A skirt of brick paving also works well and complements the wood decking.

A couple of tall planters set on the skirt and designed so that their upper edge is slightly higher than the deck is a good accentuation.

A deck built low to the ground is relatively easy work for a weekend carpenter, but it's always wise to use preservative-treated Douglas fir lumber for the project.

Treated fir weathers beautifully and will also take a stain finish well. Paint is not recommended since it forms a hard film that causes sun glare. Paint also shows scuffing from foot traffic rather quickly.

FLOOR PLANS: This is a well laid-out circulation pattern, with cross-traffic at a minimum, a not inconsiderable designing feat when a fairly narrow lot makes it practical to place the entrance foyer to one side rather than at the center.

House Hunters Urged to Follow Check List

More than 40 million people will come away from touring new home models this year richer in the understanding of what makes a quality home and a good buy.

If you are included in this group, or are among the one million persons who will buy, you should begin now to determine what you should look for.

Quality workmanship and quality products are the best indicators.

Dry-wall, which is now considered an acceptable material in well-built homes, may be your clue to workmanship.

A good dry-wall job should show no seams, tape on the seams or nail heads.

In checking products, look for such long-standing measures of quality as ceramic tile, which now has a lower installation cost than it did 30 years ago.

HOUSEHOLD EFFICIENCY
Although you can't check out all of the more than 30,000 items that went into the new home, you can somewhat predetermine the efficiency of many household systems.

Hot Water tanks, for instance, should hold 40 gallons if they are to do the job for the average family. And they should come with a guarantee. Electrical systems, too, should be able to accommodate your family's activities.

Heating systems can be tested to see if they deliver enough heat within a reasonable time. Turn up the thermostat and go to the room farthest from the furnace. Fifteen minutes is more than adequate time for the heat to be delivered.

And if you note that some items, such as appliances, are marked "optional," you can be fairly certain that they will cost extra above the stated price of the home.

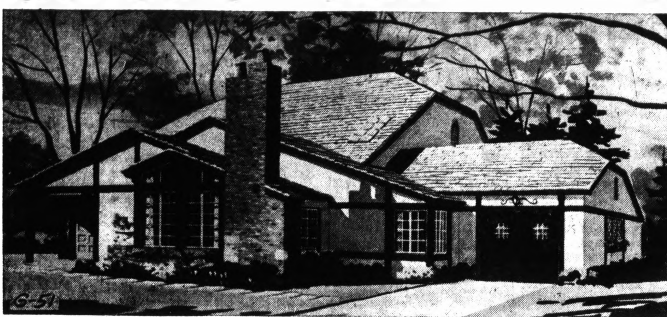

Next to forming a sound mental checklist, the best method of judging new homes is comparative shopping.

Match 'Eye-Sore' to Room's Walls

Here's a coordinating trick to play with that one "eye-sore" in an otherwise perfectly furnished room.

Simply match it to your walls with left-over enamel from a woodwork make-over.

This bit of underhanded paint-manship will camouflage that sore thumb, blend it into its surroundings, giving your room a "total look" of loveliness.

ENGLISH TUDOR: The well-earned reputation of the English Tudor architectural style for solid construction is reflected in this modified version, which has a look of strength as well as more than 2200 square feet of living space in its 1 1/2 floors.

English Tudor Fits on Narrow Parcel

Houses with individuality usually come in large sizes. But here's one that will fit on a fairly narrow lot. It's a version of the old English Tudor houses that dot the countryside from London to Liverpool to Plymouth.

Much of the distinctive charm of this 1 1/2-story house comes from its triple-gable front view.

The second floor rooms are roofed from front to rear instead of from side to side. Adding to the over-all effect is the interesting combination of exterior materials—smooth stucco, half timber and brick.

Note, too, how the front entrance porch is weather-protected by a gable roof extension.

50-FOOT LOT
Using the F.H.A. minimum side yard aggregate requirements of 10', this home, with out garage, could be built on a 50-foot-wide lot.

With a one-car garage, as shown in the first-floor plan, only a 60-foot lot would be needed.

G-51 STATISTICS

Design G-51 has a sunken living room, dining room, kitchen, breakfast room, three bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths, a porch and a garage on the first floor. Total habitable area on this floor, not including the porch and garage, is 1500 square feet. Two bedrooms, and a bath, plenty of closet space and a spacious studio are on the second floor, with the living area totaling 731 square feet. Overall dimensions are 50' by 53' 2", which includes the garage.

Teen-Ager Injured in Novi Crack-Up

A Brighton youth remained in satisfactory condition today at Botsford General Hospital, Farmington, with injuries incurred in an auto accident in Novi.

Novi police said Robert J. McCon, 19, of 8005 W. Grand River, Brighton, was driving west on 12 Mile Road just west of Meadowbrook just before 8 p.m. Thursday when he ran off the south shoulder of the road and struck a tree.

The front end of the car was severed and the rest of the vehicle continued about 45 feet past the tree, police said.

'Sam' Eggar and Columnist Chew Over Vegetarianism

By EARL WILSON

LONDON — Actress Samantha Eggar, whose intimates call her "Sam," gave me quite a stern lecture here, quite a Tom Stern lecture, you might say, on the glories and beauties and benefits of vegetarianism.

It's quite surprising what one may learn nowadays from talking to any pretty young European star.

A French actress quite freely talked to me about her illegitimate baby, not hesitating to mention the rather famous father's name. And now "Sam" came right out against meat-eating. I tell you . . .

"The reason I'm against meat-eating," said "Sam," "is because the good that you get out of it isn't worth the effort you put into the chewing . . ."

She has discussed this fairly thoroughly with her husband Tom, who will have a big role in the coming Broadway show, "We Have Always Lived in the Castle," and she may spoil him by cooking him a steak once every week or two . . . but hardly more often.

"Eating meat is just nonsense," Sam told me.

We had just had lunch in the pleasantly beautiful village of Castle Combe where she was filming "Dr. Doolittle" with Rex Harrison. While Rex had feasted on roast beef and I had eaten chicken, spirited, red-headed Sam blissfully consumed her vegetables.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . . Barbara Streisand says she'll take her baby with her everywhere. "My mother used to leave me at home and go to work, and I hated it!" . . . Joan Fontaine, meeting Rocky Graziano at the Chateau Madrid, asked, "Was he as good a boxer as he is a comedian?" . . . Sweet Swanson's again broke the acoustic dance spin in "A Joyful Noise" that broke his nose. . . . Mel Tormé's shelving 15 lbs. for his Basin St. E. opening Sept. 8. . . . Walter Matthau'll make a 26-city tour with "Fortune Cookie" . . . Errol Garner's T-taping his concert tour for BBC. . . . Lena Horne'll have a 40-piece orchestra — including 15 fiddlers — at the Concord on Labor Day weekend.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Joe E. Lewis says he went on a non-drinking diet: "And in just one week I lost five pounds and my act."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: You can't even call what Phyllis Diller has a hair-do. It's more of a hair-don't—Bob Orben.

EARL'S PEARLS: Marriage results when a man meets a woman who understands him. So does divorce.—Arnold Glasow Rip Van Winkle, who's slept for 20 years, was found by his wife (relates Charlie Isaacs). She finally shook him awake, and he mumbled, "Just five minutes more dear." . . . That's Earl, brother.

GIRL SCOUTS
It would be difficult indeed, to put your finger on the ideals of a Girl Scout. She is a healthy, happy, human being. She has faults and idiosyncrasies, sentiments and deep sadnesses, sometimes a flash of temper but underneath these human traits she has developed one attribute that is far and away above the norm . . . she is a chord of honor. Scouting is, in essence, the Scout Promise is idealism in its highest form: "On my honor, I will try: To do my duty to God and my Country, To help other people at all times, To obey the Girl Scout Laws." The Girl Scout Uniform is itself, a badge of honor; to be respected. They prove that integrity is a strong vital force in American Youth. I'm proud of them, aren't you?

The search was launched and led to the park, a half mile through brush and trees from the Jensen home.

Jensen said his son would have had to cross bridges and railroad tracks to reach the park alone.

"There could well have been foul play," Jensen said. "It's a long way for a little boy to go. He's only 3."

ONE OTHER CHILD
The Jensens have one other child, a 5-year-old daughter, Diane.

"It just doesn't make sense," Jensen said.

Yank Denies Killing Wife as Murder Trial Opens

MWANZA, Tanzania (UPI) — know what you're talking outwardly calm, an American about," Georgiadis snapped. Peace Corpsman on trial for his life sat quietly in a sweltering East African courtroom yesterday and heard the state formally accuse him of bludgeoning his wife to death because she had been unfaithful.

Under Tanzanian law, a judge and two assessors were hearing the case against William Haywood Kinsey, a 24-year-old English teacher from Washington, N.C.

The bespectacled Kinsey denied the prosecution's charge. He said his wife, Beverly, 23, of Riverside, Conn., had died in a fall.

In an opening statement, the prosecution alleged Kinsey and his wife had cycled to a lonely boulder — strewn with pieces from their isolated Peace Corps post in the village of Mwas on March 27.

The state charged Kinsey struggled with his wife, then bludgeoned her to death with a rock and an iron bar that was part of an improvised camera tripod.

REMOTEST OUTPOST
Kinsey said his wife of 18 months who worked with him as a teacher in their remote outpost, was fatally injured when she fell and struck her head on a rock.

The opening session of the trial was marked by a bitter exchange between Kinsey's defense attorney and a self-styled African doctor who testified Mrs. Kinsey died of a fractured skull after being struck with a blunt instrument.

Defense attorney Byron Georgiadis, East Africa's top criminal lawyer, challenged the medical testimony offered by Mwasa doctor Philip Mwanga and established that Mwanga had no medical qualifications.

Georgiadis said Mwanga's findings were rejected after a post mortem by qualified physicians.

2 Robbed Outside City Bar

Two men were robbed of $307 in cash, and checks worth another $532 outside a South Strand Street bar yesterday morning.

City J. Black, 49, of 224 Odette, Waterford Township, said city police he was confronted by several men, one flashing a revolver.

He said his wallet contained $280 and two checks worth $281 and $251.

Black's friend, Gary Campbell, 27, of 6752 Dandison, West Bloomfield Township, said he was robbed of $27.

He told police he and Black were seated inside a car across the street from the bar.

Western Democratic Leaders Boost Bobby--but Not at the Expense of Humphrey

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK, Mont. (AP) — Western Democratic leaders say they think highly of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy—but they don't believe West-erners want him to replace Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey on the 1968 presidential ticket. Delegates from eight of the 11 states represented at the Western Democratic Conference said Friday in an Associated Press survey they have found no sentiment in favor of President Johnson dumping Humphrey for the New York senator.

Earlier this week, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Democratic differences over Viet Nam policy and Kennedy's growing popularity in the polls might prompt Johnson to shake up the ticket when he seeks a second full term.

Kennedy scoffed at the suggestion by Republican Nixon, who was defeated by his late brother, John F. Kennedy, for president in 1960. Western Democrats also rejected the suggestion.

"WELL LIKED"
"I haven't heard any sentiment on this," said Lucy Redd of Salt Lake City, Utah's Democratic national committeewoman. "Humphrey is well liked."

Kennedy is well liked. Humphrey just happens to be vice president."

"I think the Democrats of Montana will be for Humphrey," said Lee Metcalf, Montana's senior U.S. senator.

Tom Brown, New Mexico national committeeman, said, "As far as right now is concerned, I sure would" like a Johnson-Humphrey ticket again.

"They compliment each other nicely," he said.

Frank Keller, Washington State Democratic chairman, said "the Kennedy name in Washington is a very popular name." Asked if there was any one in favor of replacing Humphrey, he said, "No, not really."

Roger Kent, former Democratic state chairman in California, said there was "no chance" of the President replacing Humphrey, whom he called "a good soldier."

A transistorless pocket radio using microelectronic circuits will be marketed soon. The microcircuits have been used previously in space, military and industrial equipment.

LBJ Marks 58th Birthday Following Three-State Tour

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson, refreshed anew by a speech-making, handshaking tour of the West, celebrates his 58th birthday today in familiar surroundings—Texas hill country.

Johnson reached the LBJ Ranch last night after a brisk one-day tour of Idaho, Colorado and Oklahoma highlighted by an appeal to the Soviet Union to join with American efforts to end the danger of nuclear devastation.

HUD Official Visits Pontiac

Workable Program Tie-Up Is Explained

Telegrams to the city's congressional representatives on the status of the workable program for community improvement bore fruit yesterday afternoon with a 30-minute visit of a troubleshooter from the federal Housing and Urban Development (HUD) agency.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren and Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. met with Kermit G. Baier of the agency's workable program standards and services staff.

Baier's visit was in response to telegrams sent by the mayor asking for information on why the city's 1966 workable program, which expired April 1, had not yet been recertified.

Annual recertification of the program is necessary if the city is to continue to receive federal funds for various projects, including urban renewal.

According to Warren, the workable program troubleshooter indicated that numerous complaints had been received by the federal agency on alleged lack of citizen participation in the workable program.

ADVISORY UNIT
Baier, according to Warren, discussed the composition of the 21-member Civil Improvement Advisory Committee.

The HUD representative said the city's workable program had to be reviewed carefully because of the number of communications received by the federal agency.

Meanwhile, Warren said that he would meet Monday with an investigator for the Michigan Civil Rights Commission on an allegation that the city's urban renewal program is discriminatory against Negro citizens.

The city manager said that an application for a formal complaint against the city was filed last March, charging public funds are being used without due consideration to the Negro community.

The application was filed by Robert G. Newby, head of the Progressive Action Committee for Equality.

Absence From Post Explained

By JOE MULLEN

Terming himself "the man in the middle," George H. Williams today lifted part of the shroud of mystery connected with his absence as director of the Oakland County Department of Social Welfare.

Williams was asked for a six-month leave of absence and left his job June 17 when the leave was still subject to county approval.

The six-month leave was never approved, but the County Board of Auditors has approved 67 leave days for Williams without pay.

With vacation time added to this, Williams is due back the latter part of next month.

Whether he will come back to the county remains a mystery.

TAKES JOB

Williams took a job July 1 as administrator of the Abbey Medical Hospital in Warren and still holds that position.

He said today that he planned to attend a meeting early in September of the county's social welfare board.

"I expect to make a decision after that meeting whether to stay where I am or return to Oakland County," Williams said.

Williams said that the six-month leave of absence he asked for resulted from the long period of consideration

'Hawks' May Force Battle at Convention

Controversial Issue Is Omitted From Republican Platform

DETROIT (AP)—What the "doves" did to Michigan Democrats a week ago, the "hawks" threatened to do to state Republicans today.

Both parties are finding the war in Viet Nam an issue that is impossible to be right on. And ignoring it appears to be no solution.

Republicans left the issue out of their platform which was to be presented to 1,508 delegates for ratification today at their fall nominating convention.

The war issue, and a possible conservative - versus - moderate fight over a statewide income tax, were expected to enliven an otherwise routine convention.

Republicans also were to select candidates for lieutenant governor, attorney general, secretary of state, Michigan Supreme Court State Board of Education and the governing boards of the University of Michigan and Michigan State and Wayne State universities.

LITERATURE DISTRIBUTED

Without mention of the war in the 27-page document, there was almost sure to be one on the convention floor.

"Breakthrough," a right-wing, anti-Communist organization whose main concern is the Viet Nam war, set up a suite at one of the convention hotels in downtown Detroit and distributed "total victory" literature to delegates.

Said chairman Donald Lobinger, "If there's no mention of the war in the platform, I'll do all I can to see that we get one."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed its version of minimum wage legislation that would extend the law's coverage to at least seven million more workers and boost base pay from the present $1.25 to $1.60 an hour.

The Senate version, approved by a 57-17 vote Friday, now goes to a conference with the House. The House approved a similar bill 303 to 93 last May 26.

Sponsors said they are confident the conferees will be able to come to agreement quickly on a compromise version.

The Senate action was a substantial victory for President Johnson, who has pushed the bill, and also promised to give the AFL-CIO its first major success of the 89th Congress.

A Senate filibuster earlier this session killed the AFL-CIO's top priority item—a measure that would have repealed section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act. The section allows states to ban the union shop.

The minimum wage bill won the votes of 42 Democrats and 15 Republicans on final passage. Opposed were eight Democrats and nine Republicans.

CONFEREES

Conferees on the bill will have to decide whether to make the new $1.60 wage floor effective Feb. 1, 1968, as the Senate voted and Johnson asked, or a year later as the House stipulated.

They also must act on a Republican amendment inserted in the bill yesterday over strong opposition that would reduce coverage of the bill by 185,000 workers.

The amendment, sponsored by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., provided that coverage of retail stores, hotels, motels, restaurants and some other businesses would extend in 1969 only to those doing more than $350,000 of annual business. It passed on a 41-38 vote.

The House bill, following the administration position, would include those doing $250,000 or more in 1969.

Both versions would cover such enterprises next year if they do $500,000 or more of annual business.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen sought to prevent any extension of coverage below the $500,000 level but lost on a 41-41 tie vote. This would have knocked out coverage of 967,000 employees.

Sunny, Warmer Weather in Store

Pontiac area residents will enjoy sunny, warmer weather for the rest of the weekend with cooler temperatures expected on Monday, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

The day-by-day forecast looks like this:

SATURDAY—Fair and warmer today and tonight with highs in the 80s.

SUNDAY—Fair and warm with highs of 84 to 90 predicted.

MONDAY—Cooler with a chance of showers.

Don't Let the Bats Bug You

By DAVID J. COOK

They haven't "struck" a Pontiac home in seven days... but if the weather continues cold, don't be too surprised to find one in your house.

This is the educated guess of a veteran Cranbrook naturalist asked to explain an apparent 10-day descent of bats on the city.

In that period up to Aug. 17, Pontiac people have responded seven times to their homes.

"I would guess in each instance it is the little brown bat, common to this area," said Dr. Walter P. Nickell, a senior staff member of the Cranbrook Institute of Science.

"I think they're probably showing up in homes as they seek protection from this cool weather we're having."

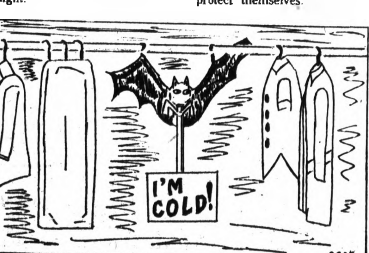

NO PROTECTION

Protection, however, is something the winged, mouse-like creatures have failed to find in the seven instances where the local bat patrol has been called for assistance.

Three times the bat has been "removed" by police: on three other occasions "disposed of," and in a single incident the intruder was "G. O. A." (gone on arrival).

Without exception, the "victims" in each instance have been women.

The pattern of "offenses" breaks down at that point, however, for the bats have shown up at random hours, ranging from 2 in the morning to 10 at night.

Some forcible ejection and in some cases untimely end met by the small animals may not entirely do justice to their basic good manners, according to Dr. Nickell.

"Bats—at least the small variety we have in this area—don't attack people and won't get in your hair," he declared.

"Sure, if they are cornered or grabbed by someone, they'll protect themselves.

Even if a bat does bite, according to Dr. Nickell, the consequences are not necessarily serious.

HANDS-OFF POLICY

"Sure, they've been found to carry rabies in some instances," he said, "but no more than dogs or squirrels or raccoons, or any other small mammal."

In the event the city's bats resume their search for protection inside city homes, Dr. Nickell recommends a strict "hands-off" policy.

"Take a broom," he advises, "gently knock the bat off whatever it's hanging onto, and carefully sweep it out the front door."

In any case, Dr. Nickell said, the problem should take care of itself in a few weeks.

"Bats eat insects just as birds do," he explained. "As the weather gets colder and the insects die off, the bats will migrate south or hibernate."

Development Pact Said Near

City Has Contract on Plans for Downtown

Tentative agreement between the city and Developer A. Alfred Taubman of Oak Park for the redevelopment of a portion of downtown Pontiac reportedly is near.

After more than a year of planning and negotiating, Taubman's plan for an enclosed mall-type shopping center on downtown urban renewal land, a proposed contract has been drafted.

Signed by Taubman, the contract has been received by the city.

Formal presentation to the City Commission is expected at their regular meeting Tuesday.

However, the commission is expected to study Taubman's proposal prior to any final action.

Details of the agreement were not available.

North Viet Hit With Record Yank Strikes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American warplanes pounded North Viet Nam yesterday with the greatest number of missions of the war, the U.S. command announced today. The command said no U.S. planes were lost in heavy raids, the second time this week American pilots set a record for strike missions.

It said U.S. pilots, hitting fuel depots and other military targets, flew a record 156 missions, 10 above the previous high that was reached only last Wednesday. U.S. planes hammered the Communist north with 132 missions Thursday.

In yesterday's record assault, more than 300 transportation vehicles and water craft were attacked by Navy pilots who flew 73 of the missions.

An Air Force spokesman said Air Force jets attacks touched off more than 38 secondary explosions and 25 fires in strikes on supply storage areas, convoy staging points and fuel dumps in the southern panhandle of North Viet Nam.

FORTY BARGES
Earlier reports said U.S. planes had knocked out 40 barges near Thanh Hoa.

Around, U.S. Marines beat off an attack by hordes of Red suicide troops south of the demilitarized zone. The Marines fought the enemy hand-to-hand from tents and sandbag emplacements around their camp.

In yesterday's air raids, pilots reported destroying or damaging 102 barges, 19 bridges, 42 trucks and 25 fires in strikes on supply storage areas, convoy staging points and fuel dumps in the southern panhandle of North Viet Nam.

former John Birch Society member who has at times been at odds with Gov. George Romney.

Durant said "We have 19 congressional and one senatorial candidate. We certainly should take a stand on national issues on our platform."

"Our district has called for victory in Viet Nam," he said. "We should win or get out. And the Johnson administration is not trying to win."

The Republican platform, so guarded that critics were distributed to platform committee members and then collected before their meeting adjourned, is devoted to about a dozen state issues.

One of them is a fiscal reform plank — virtually synonymous with an income tax. Durant led a move at a 1965 convention to put Republicans on record as opposing any income tax without a statewide referendum.

over merger of the county and state welfare departments.

"OPPOSED TO MERGER"

"The leave application was suggested by Jack McDonald," Williams added.

McDonald, who was chairman of the social welfare board died Aug. 5. He was bitterly opposed to the proposed merger, Williams said.

"He felt the merger issue would be better resolved while I was gone," Williams added.

Last October when the State Senate passed a mandatory merger bill for all county and state welfare departments except those in Wayne and Oakland counties, Williams made a public declaration.

INSTRUCTIONS

He said that Oakland County's two departments would merge, probably early in 1966.

The social welfare board then instructed him to avoid comment that a merger was imminent, Williams said.

"My assumed stand against merger hurt my chances of heading the combined departments when the merger occurred," Williams said.

He noted that officials of the Michigan Department of Social Services in Lansing have strongly endorsed merger.

Williams said that as pressure for merger increased, the welfare board has continued to state publicly that not enough information is available to know for certain that merger would benefit the county.

Recent studies by the County Board of Auditors, however, indicated that merger would save the county money.

Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the board of auditors, urged passage of the merger proposal to the board of supervisors two months ago, saying it would save the county from $200,000 to $325,000 annually.

The proposal was tabled for future consideration.

Wounded in the left leg, Bowen was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released.

According to police Nadolski was southbound on Coolidge when he hit the eastbound car.

although the total of 156 missions set a new record, the number of sorties — individual plane strikes — did not quite reach those in the heaviest raid of the war on Wednesday. The number of sorties are not announced but Wednesday's total was unofficially estimated between 400 and 500.

S. VIET RAIDS

In air action today, Guam-based B52 bombers staged two raids on South Viet Nam. The eight-engine giants struck at an enemy base camp and troop area 60 miles northwest of Saigon.

This is in War Zone C, long a Viet Cong stronghold near Cambodia and target of repeated B52 raids in recent weeks.

South Vietnamese military headquarters reported the biggest kill of the day. It said a multi-battalion force of government troops, supported by air and artillery killed 132 Viet Cong yesterday 120 miles southwest of Saigon.

A spokesman said the Viet Cong carried off another 100 dead in sampans, the bulk of which were sunk by South Vietnamese helicopters.

U.S. paratroopers uncovered one of the biggest Viet Cong supply and arms bases of the war about 40 miles from Saigon. Units of the 173rd U.S. Airborne Brigade came upon three battalion-size enemy base camps yesterday and found an other today with bunkers, classroom buildings and the big arms cache.

Kidnaping Try Foiled by Dog

Prevents Abduction of Three Brothers

A pet German Shepherd dog is credited with preventing the abduction of three Springfield Township brothers shortly after noon yesterday.

The three young sons of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Valentino of 9838 Gibbs were playing about a quarter of a mile from home at about 12:30 p.m. when the attempted kidnapping occurred.

A man, described as being about 5-11, 160 pounds and bearing a scar on his face, approached Paul, 8, Ernest, 7, and Victor, 4, and told them he was going to take them away in his car.

The man managed to get Ernest into the car before chasing the other two boys.

Then the boys' dog attacked the culprit, biting him several times and drawing blood, according to the brothers.

Meanwhile Paul smashed a window of the car to help Ernest escape.

The boys told their parents and sheriff's deputies that the man was bitten so severely he had trouble getting to his car.

The Valentinos have offered a $500 reward for the capture and conviction of the suspect.

Cavanagh Reveals Threats on His Life

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh has revealed recent threats on his life and the lives of his family and members of his staff.

A police squad car followed Cavanagh for two days after the mayor received a "very serious threat" to "kill Cavanagh within an hour," officers said.

Another telephone threat warned that the mayor's home would be bombed. A special police watch was set up at Cavanagh's home.

Although most of the calls have been blamed on cranks, Detroit Police Commissioner Ray Girardin said he does not share an apparent lack of concern by the mayor on threatening calls.

Berry Picker Import Is OK'd

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The U.S. Department of Labor has approved import of 1,000 Mexican nationals to harvest strawberries in California. The approval brings to 7,776 the number of Mexican farm laborers allowed into the state so far this year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was asked Friday by Sen. Walter Mondale, D-Minn., to attack the pollution problem in lakes.

In introducing a bill to authorize grants to states to develop better methods of removing wastes and sediments, Mondale said a pollution epidemic is smothering the nation's lakes.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks fell 9.9 to 280.1, its lowest point since Nov. 29, 1963, when they closed at 279.6.

The 200 points that the Dow 1962 was now exceeded. The average had plunged 215.59 since it reached its record high of 595.15 last Feb. 9. At that time, no reasonable observer could deny that "Dow 1,000" was only a matter of time. Now, the gradual upward progress of more than two years has been wiped out.

For example, a share of American Telephone & Telegraph common stock, which had held steady at $62.50 for 9 years, closed Friday at $50.82. Other blue chips also joined the decline. General Motors has dropped from $105.88 on Feb. 9 to $71.37. U.S. Steel from $27.75 to $23.97.

At no time were there any clear signs of panic, of the so-called "selling climax" which market technicians believe is needed in order to prepare the ground for a sustained recovery. Volume this week was 40,818,484 shares, compared with 32,832,380 the week before.

Of 1,568 issues traded, 1,366 declined and 132 advanced.

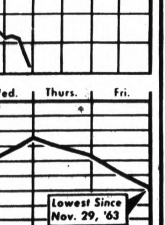

GOOD NEWS

The trading week began with the good weekend news of the settlement of the 65-day strike against five major airlines. Stocks were firm to higher at the market opening Monday but soon began to drop.

Pessimism was increased by news of the United Auto Workers Union request for an immediate raise for skilled workers, a request refused by the industry. By the end of the day the Dow industrials had fallen below the once "magic" 300 line for the first time since Feb. 27, 1964.

It was the lowest point since Nov. 29, 1963. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials closed at 280.56, down from 284.82 a week ago.

'Sam' Eggar and Columnist Chew Over Vegetarianism

By EARL WILSON

LONDON — Actress Samantha Eggar, whose intimates call her "Sam," gave me quite a stern lecture here . . . quite a Tom Stern lecture, you might say, since that's the name of her husband . . . on the glories and beauties and benefits of vegetarianism.

It's quite surprising what one may learn nowadays from talking to any pretty young European star.

A French actress quite freely talked to me about her illegitimate baby, not hesitating to mention the rather famous father's name. And now "Sam" came right out against meat-eating. I tell you . . .

"The reason I'm against meat-eating," she said, "is because the good that you get out of it isn't worth the effort you put into the chewing."

She has discussed this fairly thoroughly with her husband Tom, who has had a big role in the coming Broadway show, "We Have Always Lived in the Castle," and she may spoil him by cooking him a steak once every week or two . . . but hardly more often.

"Eating meat is just nonsense," Sam told me.

We had just had lunch in the pleasantly beautiful village of Castle Combe where she's been filming "Dr. Doolittle" with Rex Harrison. While Rex had feasted on roast beef and I had eaten chicken, spirited, red-headed Sam blissfully consumed her vegetables.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

Barbra Streisand says she'll take her baby with her everywhere. "My mother used to leave me at home and go to work and I hated it!" . . . Joan Fontaine, meeting Roger Granziano at the Chateau Madrid, asked, "Was he as good a boxer as he is a comedian?"

Sven Swanson's again doing the aerobic dance spin in "A Joyful Noise" that broke his nose . . . Mel Torme's shaving 15 lbs. for his Basin St. E. opening Sept. 8 . . . Walter Matthau'll make a 26-city tour with "Fortune Cookie" . . . Errol Garner's TV-taping his concert tour for BBC . . . Lena Horne'll have a 40-piece orchestra — including 15 fiddlers — at the Concord on Labor Day weekend.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Joe E. Lewis says he went on a non-drinking diet. "And in just one week I lost five pounds and my act."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: You can't even call what Phyllis Diller has a hair-do. It's more of a hair-don't—Bob Orben.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "A woman's advice is not worth much, but he who does not heed it is a fool." —Pedro Calderon.

EARL'S PEARLS: Marriage really when a man needs a woman who understands him. So does divorce — Arnold Glasgow.

Rip Van Winkle, who'd slept for 20 years, was found by his wife (resembles Charlie Isaacs). She finally shook him awake, and he mumbled, "Just five minutes more dear." "That's earl, brother."

CLAREN H. GRIFFIN

It would be difficult indeed, to put your finger on the ideals of a Girl Scout. She is a healthy, happy, human being. She has faith and idealism, sentiment and good nature, sometimes a flash of temper but underneath these human traits she has developed one attribute that is far and away above the norm . . . she is a child of honor. Scouting is, indeed, in integrity. The Scout Promise is idealism in its highest form:

"On my honor, I will try; To do my duty to God and my Country, To help other people at all times, To obey the Girl Scout Law."

The Girl Scout Uniform is itself, a badge of honor; to be respected. They prove that integrity is a strong vital force in American Youth. I'm proud of them, aren't you?

MAKE OVER PEACE Corps Yank Denies Killing Wife as Murder Trial Opens

MWANZA, Tanzania (UPI) — know what you're talking about," Georgiadis snapped. Mwangi stuck to his testimony.

The prosecution introduced an entry from Kinsey's diary alleged supporting the unfaithfulness claim.

"What a bore it is to get to know people. Don't you think they're nicer before you know them. That's what's good about the old days," the other fellow got the girl," the entry read.

Kinsey, who has been detained since the incident, could be hanged if convicted. Tanzanian President Julius Nyerere has almost invariably commuted death sentences to terms of imprisonment, however.

In an opening statement, the prosecution alleged Kinsey and his wife had cycled to a lonely boulder — strewn with two miles from their isolated Peace Corps post in the village of Mwasa on March 27.

The state charged Kinsey, 28, with murdering his wife, 29, on March 27 at the Mwasa post. Kinsey's wife, 29, was found dead on the boulder. Kinsey's wife, 29, was found dead on the boulder. Kinsey's wife, 29, was found dead on the boulder.
