Girl Is Arrested; Parents Flying to Pick Up Tot

Sitter Claims She Took Dick to Replace Her Own Who Died

HUGO, Okla. (AP)—A 5-months-old baby boy giggled and cooed today while a 17-year-old former carnival strip teaser, who admitted kidnaping the infant, resolutely announced that when he is grown "I'm going to get him back."

Mrs. Tommie Dene Doughty, arrested about midnight at the Red River valley farm home of her father, was placed under $20,000 bond at her arraignment about six hours after her arrest.

She did not enter a plea.

She was charged with kidnaping Richard Lee Stammer Friday night and taking him from his Evansville, Ind. home by bus and hitchhiking to the farm north of Bokchita in southeast Oklahoma.

The child's parents, Richard Duane Stammer, 20, a sailor who got emergency leave after the child was taken, and Mrs. Shirley Stammer, 18, are flying to Durant to claim their baby.

Mrs. Doughty was baby sitting with their child when she said she decided to take him.

"In a way I'm glad it's over, but I still wish I could have kept him for a few days," Mrs. Doughty told an Associated Press reporter.

"He is just the age of the one I lost," she said in halting tones after her arraignment before U. S. Commissioner D. A. Stovall.

"I fell in love with him when I first saw him. He reminded me of my child. He didn't give me any trouble at all during the trip.

"I had some money when we left Evansville and I bought what he needed along the way. He didn't cry at all . . . was just a perfect baby."

She told the commissioner after the arraignment:

"The mother can have her baby

Area Accidents Claim 2 Lives

Ortonville Man Is Auto Victim; DPW Foreman Dies of Crane Injuries

Death claimed the lives Sunday of an Ortonville man involved in an automobile accident Saturday night and a Pontiac DPW foreman seriously injured last week by a falling crane.

Robert G. Hill, 23, of 3385 Sherwood Rd. died at 6:30 p.m. Sunday in Pontiac General Hospital of injuries suffered when the car in which he was riding left Doris road in Pontiac Township and hit a tree, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Claude Kirkham, 58, of 165 Euclid Ave. died after a four-day fight for life at Pontiac General Hospital. He suffered severe head injuries Wednesday when a 40-foot crane boom snapped from its suspension cable at Richardson Park, falling on him and another DPW worker, Herbert Hardy, 29, of 387 Highland Ave. Hardy was treated for head cuts.

Hill was riding with William H. DeLisle, 20, also of 3385 Sherwood, Ortonville, when the car went out of control about one-half mile north of Featherstone road at 11:15 p.m.

DeLisle, who was unable to make a statement at the time of the accident, will be questioned by sheriff's deputies after his release from Pontiac General Hospital. He was treated for a concussion and is in good condition today, according to the hospital.

King Ibn Saud Dies Following Short Illness

BEHREIN, Persian Gulf (AP) — Word reached this island that King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia, the world's richest and most powerful absolute Monarch, died today.

The crippled, one-eyed king was stricken with angina pectoris on Oct. 9, but on Oct. 27 a message reached the outside world that he had passed the crisis.

The king, a 6-foot, 4-inch giant of a man in his prime, had been crippled in recent years by arthritis. He would have been 73 this month or next. His exact birth date was not recorded.

Ibn Saud's skill and daring as a desert warrior carved out for him his kingdom of Saudi Arabia, with six million subjects. American capital which tapped his country's vast oil resources gave him an income of more than 200 million dollars a year.

Baseball Keeps Reserve Clause

High Court Upholds '22 Decision; Game Isn't Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today ruled professional baseball is still only a sport and hence is not subject to federal anti-trust laws.

Court's decision was given on three appeals attacking the much-discussed player "reserve clause," keystone of organized baseball.

Appeals had asked the court to overturn a 1922 unanimous decision delivered by Justice Holmes that baseball is a sport, not a business. Decision was announced in a "per curiam" opinion — that is, one not signed by any member of the court.

It said the tribunal was upholding the Holmes' decision of 1922 "so far as that decision determines that Congress had no intention of including the business of baseball within the scope of the federal anti-trust laws."

Today's ruling came less than a month after the high court heard three hours of arguments stretched over two days.

Appeals were taken to the high court by two former minor league players and the former owner of the El Paso, Tex., baseball club.

They contended baseball exercised an illegal monopoly over activities of its players by use of the "reserve clause."

This clause — included in all baseball contracts — puts a player under complete control of the club that owns his contract. The club may sell the player's services to another club, but the player may not make any deals of his own with other clubs.

Dem Challenge Called Dishonest by McCarthy

Raps Proposal to Put Spy Charge on Truman Up to Grand Jury

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell's challenge to the Eisenhower administration to lay before a grand jury the charges that former President Truman promoted a Russian spy was termed "completely dishonest" today by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Atty. Gen. Brownell, who made the politically explosive accusation in a speech at Chicago Friday, made no comment on Mitchell's challenge.

Mitchell, appearing on a CBS television program yesterday, accused Brownell of "low politics" in saying that Truman had promoted the late Harry Dexter White in the face of FBI reports that White was a spy. Truman has denied it.

"The Republicans may have an armful of porcupines before they get through with this," Mitchell said.

McCarthy, in an interview, said the Democratic national chairman knows it was "completely dishonest" to suggest that the whole matter be laid before a grand jury, and he declared:

"Anyone with an ounce of brains knows you can have a completely documented case of espionage which would not be a legal case.

"It is completely dishonest to say that unless you can send them to jail they are innocent.

"If Truman and his crowd protected people who obviously were espionage agents, such as White, that doesn't mean you can indict them. The important thing is that the people know the facts. I think Atty. Gen. Brownell performed a tremendous public service."

Truman has said White was fired "as soon as we found out (he) was wrong."

Truman, asked why White was not prosecuted, told newsmen in Kansas City Saturday: "It was never proven that White was a spy. He denied any such connections before an investigating committee. He was never indicted by a grand jury."

Officer Reports Another $10 Bill Found in Detroit

Tourist Camp Operator Identifies Kidnap Money and Hands It to FBI

PETOSKEY (UP)—A $20 bill from the missing Greenlease kidnap ransom was passed here last Tuesday, Chief of Police Philo Wakeford said today.

He said another $10 bill also was passed in Detroit. The bill here was received by Mrs. Henry J. Krauser, a part-time nurse at Little Traverse Hospital who also operates a small tourist camp near here.

Wakeford said Mrs. Krauser, a widow, took the bill in last Tuesday and out of curiosity checked its serial number with the list of numbers of the missing ransom put out by federal authorities.

It matched one of the "B" series bills on the FBI list and she called the FBI in Traverse City immediately. Wakeford had no further knowledge of the $10 bill passed in Detroit, but said it was reported to him by the FBI.

Finding of the $20 ransom bill was the first public break in the mystery of the missing $303,720 since the kidnap-killers of little Bobby Greenlease were apprehended.

The boy's father, Robert C. Greenlease, paid $600,000 ransom Oct. 4 for the safe return of his son. The boy's body was found in a shallow grave near St. Joseph, Mo.

It was learned that at least a half-dozen FBI agents have been in this northern Michigan area for the past six days, checking travelers in an attempt to trace the bill.

Wakeford said all strangers in the top tier of northern Michigan counties were investigated quietly. He said he had no knowledge of the FBI's success.

An investigation is under way in St. Louis into the mystery of the missing ransom. Unconfirmed reports circulated that the money had been "fenced" in the Chicago underworld for 30 to 50 cents on the dollar.

These reports were, however, that the professional "fences" were to hold the money for 10 years before putting it into circulation.

But police officials called the reports "fantastic." They said the money probably still was in the St. Louis area. However, this was before the bill was found in Petoskey.

The confessed kidnaper and killer of Bobby, Carl Austin Hall, was picked up Oct. 6. He had two suitcases containing only $293,000 of the $600,000 ransom.

Offices Close Here Wednesday, Armistice Day

City, county, state and federal offices, banks, courts and post offices in Pontiac will be closed Wednesday in the observance of Armistice Day.

All will resume regular hours Thursday.

Stores, other business places and industrial plants will remain open.

Essential governmental operations, such as police, fire and sheriff's departments, will continue over the legal holiday.

O'Brian Given Psychopath Tag

3 Psychiatrists Report Decisions; Attorney to Decide on Jury Request

Donald V. O'Brian, 27, confessed rape-slayer, was declared a criminal sexual psychopath today by three psychiatrists in separate reports filed with Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

The unaminous decision leaves the next step in the disposition of the case up to O'Brian's attorney, Harold W. Geddes of Detroit, who was given 15 days to decide whether to request a jury hearing on the doctors' findings.

If a jury is requested, it will have power to refuse commitment of O'Brian to a mental institution. Otherwise the decision is left up to the presiding judge.

If committment is refused, O'Brian will face a first degree murder charge in the death of Mrs. Hallie O. Perkins, 55, of 76 W. Longfellow Ave. on Aug. 4.

However, if the judge and jury decides enough evidence has been submitted to indicate that O'Brian is a criminal sexual psychopath, he will be turned over to a state mental hospital.

The psychiatric examinations were held on petition from O'Brian's wife.

O'Brian was captured Sept. 9 after attempting to attack a Pontiac housewife. He later confessed the rape-slaying of Mrs. Perkins and another attack on a 16-year-old girl.

Weather Forecast: Generally Fair

A low of from 30 to 34 tonight and a high of from 48 to 52 on Tuesday are predicted.

Sunday brought the mercury rising from a low of 34 to a high of 39 degrees. A trace of snow was recorded in the city yesterday.

Today at 8 a.m. the reading was 38, but at 2 p.m. in downtown Pontiac the mercury registered 41 degrees.

Climb to 93 Pct. of Goal

Awards Luncheon Planned for Fund Workers Today

Pontiac Area United Fund has run up $453,883—over 93 per cent of its campaign goal—as volunteers prepared for the first annual "Awards Luncheon" today.

C. W. "Bill" Otto, Pontiac Chamber of Commerce's first executive and present manager of the Lansing Chamber, is main speaker for the noon program at Pontiac Elks Temple.

Awards are being given to local men and women who have turned in outstanding service to the community through the United Fund and its agencies.

Tally sheets in United Fund headquarters this morning showed drive personnel have less than $34,000 more to pick up to reach their $487,200 goal.

Campaign headquarters in Hotel Pontiac processed $10,000 in commercial division money and $2,000 from the geographical division's house-to-house canvassers Saturday.

Fire Breaks Out in GM Division

Small Blaze Is Quickly Curbed in Hydramatic Willow Run Plant

DETROIT (AP)—A short-lived but potentially dangerous fire disrupted operations at General Motors' hydramatic transmission division last night.

The blaze broke out in the heat treat department of the division's recently leased quarters in the Kaiser Motor Corp. Willow Run plant.

It was the second time in three months that fire has struck the GM hydramatic transmission division.

Company officials said the fire started near a number of cyanide tanks in the heat treating department. When streams of cold water from the plant's fire-fighting equipment poured on the tanks, they exploded, spreading flames throughout much of the plant.

A night force of 1,200 workers was sent home, but company officials said the midnight shift reported on schedule.

One person was hospitalized for treatment of smoke inhalation. Three others received first aid treatment for injuries suffered in fighting the blaze.

Less than three months ago, a disastrous fire destroyed GM's transmission plant in Livonia, Mich. Four persons were killed.

Transmission production was transferred to the Kaiser Willow Run plant. The first transmissions rolled off assembly lines there last week.

Oil Well Fire Snuffed Out

NEWAYGO (AP) — A blazing oil well fire, fed by a roaring new gusher eight miles west of here, was snuffed out today by Michigan experts.

Allied Fire Fighters of Mt. Pleasant sent several trucks to the scene and brought the fire under control by packing it with mud. At first the blaze was believed so serious help might be sought from the oil fields of southwestern states.

The fire started shortly after 6 a. m. in a well that Conservation Department geologists said may have tapped a new oil field.

The conservation department rushed forest fire fighting equipment to the scene, but it was reported incapable of a direct attack on the oil well blaze.

The well was drilled by Otto Carlson of Detroit and Max Groom of Saginaw on the farm of Lewis Charles in Sheridan Township, Newaygo County.

Community Is Issued Invitation to Visit Public Schools During Education Week

Teachers and parents' groups sent out an open invitation to the community to visit Pontiac's 25 public schools as American Education Week opened today.

Almost all schools have planned special education week "open house" festivities this week.

Pontiac Education Association has planned a program of "reminders" to jog the city's school consciousness.

The education association has passed out special American Education Week Seals to schools and sent out letters to churches, service clubs, American Legion posts, PTAs, Pontiac Junior and Senior Chambers of Commerce and Mayor Arthur J. Law. Window displays and posters will greet shoppers at downtown stores.

Parents of school students are especially urged to discuss their youngsters' work with teachers during open house affairs. Teachers will also welcome parents who drop in during school hours this week to see classes in action.

First open house festivities this week are planned for Tuesday by Pontiac High School from 7 until 9 p. m. and Eastern Junior High, 7:30 until 9 p. m.

Jefferson Junior High plans a special program of music, short talks and a one-act play to climax its Wednesday night open house, starting at 7 p. m.

Other Wednesday night festivities are at Emerson School from 7 until 9; Owen, 7:30 until 9; Whitfield, 7:30 until 9:30 and Whittier, 7 until 9. Wever Junior High hopes its parents will drop in between 10 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Thursday programs are planned by Lincoln Junior High, 7:30 until 9 p. m.; Bagley, 7 until 8 p. m.; Bailey, 7 until 8 p. m., followed by an open PTA meeting; Crofoot, 7 until 9 p. m. and Baldwin, 7 until 8:15.

Another Thursday night highlight is Central's open house starting at 7. Robert Martin, elementary education consultant from Michigan Department of Public Instruction, will speak in a special program.

LeBaron School plans its open house Thursday from 7 until 8 p. m.; McCarroll, 7 until 9 p. m.; McConnell, 7 until 9 p. m.; Willis, 7 until 8:30; and Wilson, 7 until 9 p. m.

Wisner, which staged its open house during its school festival in October, and Webster School are asking the public to drop in during school hours any day this week.

Longfellow, Malkim, Hawthorne and Washington Junior High Schools have delayed their open house programs until Nov. 19. Hawthorne's will be part of a regular PTA meeting at 2:30 p. m. that day. Longfellow's door will open from 7:30 until 9:30 p. m.; Malkim's, from 7 until 9, and Washington's, 8 until 10.

21 Dead in State Mishaps Over 1st Wintry Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter drove its way across the state this weekend bringing wind-driven snow and rain to Michigan and the surrounding lakes. There were at least 21 accidental deaths, most of them tied to the weather.

Eighteen were killed in traffic accidents, one drowned, one was shot while hunting and another died of burns.

John Joseph Jesky, 37, of Detroit drowned in the St. Clair River. His body was found Sunday, and the search continued today for at least four others, feared drowned in rough waters.

Abraham Lacrosse, 43, of Lincoln Park, was killed Sunday night three miles east of Vassar when his car swerved out of control on a gravel road, ran into a field and turned over.

Two Van Dyke brothers, Green Baker Jr., 24, and Paul D. Baker, 28, were killed near Richmond Saturday. Their car skidded in the snow on M-19 and crashed into a tree. Police said they had been hunting.

Five persons were injured fatally in the wreckage of six cars on a backwoods Ogemaw county road Friday night. Seven others were injured in the crash.

Two cars collided at first, then four other cars piled into the wreckage.

The dead were Eugene Klemmer, 22 and Darold Rabidue, 17, both of West Branch, Dorothy Blair, 14, of Rose City, James Turland, 40, of Selkirk, and Elda Thompson, 17, of Rose City.

Turland died of injuries Sunday, and Miss Thompson Saturday night.

Birmingham to Consider Triangle, Pembroke Area Water, Sewage Proposals

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—Proposed agreements for water, sanitary and storm sewage facilities are slated for discussion tonight by the city commission.

The first is the $200,000 agreement allowing the construction of the Pembroke school and development of the northeast section of the city and adjoining Troy Township land.

As planned, land developer Arthur Nechman will pay $102,622; developer Frank Goebel, $48,665; the Presbyterian Board of Church Extensions of Detroit, $31,225, and the Birmingham Board of Education, $18,961.

Water and storm sewer connections will be handled through Troy Township, and sanitary sewage will flow through the Birmingham system into the Southeastern Oakland County Sewage Disposal District.

Two other proposed agreements concern the triangle of Troy Township land bounded by Adams Road, Buckingham, and the Grand Trunk Railroad, owned by developer Arthur Nechman.

Basically the proposed agreement for the area below Derby Road calls for beginning of annexation proceedings, by the owner, and payment of cost of needed additional sewage facilities in the city.

Double rates for sewage and water facilities would be charged urtil the areas were annexed. A similar agreement for the northern portion of the triangle includes that 5,000 square feet of land is provided for every housing unit.

The required area for single family residences is 4,500 square feet in the city. Developer Nechman had revealed tentative plans for a 104-unit terrace in the northern triangle, which was opposed by a neighboring property owners association.

Art Objects to Go on Display Nov. 10

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — "Artists and Potters of Vallauris," an exhibition of about 80 works done at the famed French ceramic center, will be on display at the Museum of Cranbrook of Art from Nov. 10-29, museum director Eva I. Gatling has announced.

The museum is open free to the public from 2-5 p.m. daily, except Mondays.

Although Vallauris, the little Riviera town Cannes had for centuries been known for its fine pottery, it was Picasso who made it world famous when in 1948, he settled there to work in a local ceramic shop. Some of the platters he designed there are in the current exhibition.

St. Anne Guild Sets Doll Tea for Tuesday

BIRMINGHAM—Glamorous, chic and sophisticated dolls outfitted in the latest Paris creations of Dior, Fath, Balmain and others will set the tone at the fifteenth annual Doll Tea to be held by St. Anne Guild of St. James Episcopal Church.

The event will again be held at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club, from 2-5 p.m. tomorrow.

Even the baby dolls will have their share of European finery, with one gowned in a christening robe trimmed with imported lace, brought from Europe by Mrs. Ernest Breech. There will also be an ample stock of separate doll clothing.

Other "treasure and gift tables" will feature Christmas selections.

General chairman this year is Mrs. Urcan U. Woodhouse, Mrs. James S. Moon is in charge of the doll committee.

Kidnaped Baby Boy Recovered Safely

until he's grown and then I'm going to get him back."

A physician examined the child and said he was in perfect physical condition.

Mrs. Doughty is being taken to the federal jail at Muskogee, Okla., by U. S. Deputy Marshal W. A. White.

At Evansville, Mrs. Stammer was stunned when told that her baby and abductor had been found.

"We can just be thankful he's OK," she said. "I was awfully bitter against her, but not too bitter now."

James C. Ellsworth, agent in charge of the FBI in Okahoma, said Mrs. Doughty lost a child at birth in June 1953, in Chicago. He said she told agents she gave birth to a child at Dallas in 1951 but two weeks later her husband took it away and she never has seen it since. The FBI identified the father of the baby as Lamar Mitchell.

At Gainesville, Tex., across the Red River from Durant, B. R. Doughty said he was seeking an annulment of their marriage.

He said she had been married previously and he had lived with her only three weeks.

Doughty, a taxi driver, told Gainsville Police Chief Louis Theobald his wife is "sort of crazy" about babies and once tried to claim another woman's infant as her own in Dallas.

Mrs. Doughty was neatly dressed in a gray print dress and bright red coat at her arraignment. At first she was reticent but later consented to talk to an Associated Press newsman.

Workers Meet Today at Fund Luncheon

close to its goal early today that drive personnel said it might "go over" when cash and pledges in headquarters this morning are counted.

The division had reported $12,424 on its $14,000 goal when the campaign office opened today. Pontiac city had raised $8,002 on a goal of $9,000; Pontiac Township, $1,939 on a goal of $2,000; and Waterford, $2,483 on its $3,000 quota.

Commercial division workers turned in about $10,000 Saturday to boost their division's returns to $89,730, including Waterford. Division goal is $129,000.

Returns from the industrial division, already "over its goal Friday with $336,729, stayed unchanged over the weekend.

Also unchanged was the $15,000 earmarked for Pontiac from Detroit United Foundation canvassing in Birmingham-Bloomfield-Franklin area.

Local United Fund officials hope Pontiac will get some $22,000 as its share of the area's gifts when all returns are in.

Baxter Slaying Trial Opens Here Today

The second-degree murder trial of Gilbert Baxter, 22, who fatally shot his wife Ellen, 19, on June 2, opened today before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Chief Assistant County Prosecutir George F. Taylor explained the charge to the nine woman, three man jury, while defense attorneys outlined their case to the jurors.

Baxter has maintained that he shot his wife when a deer rifle discharged accidentallyafter an argument in their home at 87½ S. Parke St.

Head-on Collision Injures Four Sunday

A Drayton Plains man and three members of a Hazel Park family were injured yesterday in a head-on crash on US-10 at Kennett Road in Waterford Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Victor R. McKay, 21, of 2405 Georgeland Ave., Drayton Plains was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for bruises.

Mrs. Geraldine Towers, 35, of 1008 E. Mahan, Hazel Park, was admitted to the hospital with a possible fractured jaw. Her condition today is good, the hospital reports.

Mrs. Towers' husband, F. Emmett, 35, and a daughter, Marcia, 2, were treated for bruises.

DR. IRENE G. PLACE

U-M Women's Group Schedules Speaker

BIRMINGHAM — In a society where more women work than ever before, University of Michigan Alumnae Association has chosen Dr. Irene Glazic Place, of the University of Michigan to address the group on "Where Women Work."

Dr. Place, assistant professor in the School of Business Administration, will speak at the meeting to be held at 8 p. m. tomorrow at the Bloomfield Village home of Mrs. Robert A. Reid.

Nationally, this is membership drive month for all University of Michigan alumnae groups. All graduates, those who attended or friends of the university are invited to attend the meeting, or join the group.

Dog Causes Crash Which Injures Man

A dog which ran in front of an auto on Maple road near Pontiac trail was the cause of an auto accident in which a Farmington man was injured Sunday according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Chris Bundoff, 26, of 40141 12 Mile Rd., was admitted to University Hospital in Ann Arbor with a fractured nose and face cuts. His condition today is listed as satisfactory.

Bundoff was riding with James W. Herren, 21, of 359 S. Lake Dr., Walled Lake. Herren said he slammed on the brakes when he saw the dog in his path, and his auto skidded out of control.

Hurt in Auto Crash, Woman Is Critical

A Waterford Township woman, injured Friday in an auto accident at Airport and Dwight Rds., has been put on the critical list at Pontiac General Hospital.

Mrs. Eileen L. Irwin, 26, of 3886 Dwight St., earlier was reported in fair condition. She suffered second and third degree burns over a third of her body.

Her husband, Harry B., 38, received second degree burns to hands, wrists and face when his car burned after the collision.

Two Men Seize Girl in Yard, Attempt Attack

An 18-year-old girl was seized in the backyard of her home last night by two men who forced her into the house and attempted to attack her, according to Pontiac Police.

Detective William Hanger quoted the girl as saying she was seized when she went outside to bring her pet dog into the house. Both men fled when an auto, making a turn, drove into the driveway.

Police said both men were described as Negroes, about 23 years old, and 5 feet, 8 inches tall.

Believe Missing Men Drowned

Searchers Locate Body in St. Clair River; Say 4 Still Lost

MT. CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — State Police presumed today that at least four persons reported as missing in the St. Clair River were drowned.

But the grim search that yesterday located the body of one, John Joseph Jesky, 37, of Detroit, continued today on the cold, dreary river.

Missing still were at least three fishermen whose cabin cruiser was found wrecked and smashed by the riled waters, and Walter Wells of Detroit, a duck hunting companion of Jesky.

The missing fishermen were Leo Renkowski, 58, and his son Jerome, 17, of Detroit, and Phillip Price, 35, of Mt. Clemens.

State police, compiling information brought by Coast Guard and Air Force boats, believed that two of the three boats found in open water belonged to Wells and Jesky.

The first, believed to be Wells', was found Saturday by fishermen. This boat was anchored and was described as an 18-foot duck boat. Inside were found a shotgun and hunting equipment.

It was found several miles from the spot where the Coast Guard recovered Jesky's body, snared in lines from another duck boat.

Both boats were found near Harsen's Island, Jesky's near the south shoals, the other believed to have been Wells' in the middle channel.

Mrs. Leo Renkowski reported her husband and son missing Saturday night. Shortly after boats from Selfridge Field's Air Sea Rescue Service and the Coast Guard took up the search.

They failed to find the cabin cruiser in the rough waters. Later, Sunday, a plane from Selfridge Field spotted the wreckage. A Coast Guard boat hurrying to the location stumbled on Jesky's body.

Carl P. Peterson of Detroit was the last to see the fishermen, according to police.

Royal Oak Couple, Son Injured in M59 Crash

A Royal Oak couple and their son were injured Sunday in an auto accident on M 59 in Waterford Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Adolph R. Fraus, 49, of 208 N. Alexander, his wife, Anne V., 48, and their son Thomas A. 8, were treated at Pontiac General Hospital for multiple bruises.

Fraus told deputies he could not avoid a car, driven by Seymour Karp, 39, of 6129 M 59, Waterford Township, which was attempting to cross the road.

Weekend Accidents Hurt 16-Year-Old Girl, 2 Men

BIRMINGHAM — A 16-year-old Kingswood student from Flint received a broken right leg when she walked into the side of a car Saturday afternoon, according to police.

Nancy Wagner was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Driver of the car was Myrtle Ann Snedeker, 54, of 316 Arlington.

Lester B. Henderson, 30, of 229 E. Walton Blvd. Pontiac, received chest injuries and John Sharp, 17, of 3883 Allen, Detroit, facial cuts when the car driven south on Woodward Sunday afternoon by Henderson failed to negotiate a turn and hit a large sign.

Rochester Girl Injured When Car Leaves Road

Doris Bryant, 17, of 3070 Melvin, Rochester, was injured when the car in which she was riding left Dequindre road and struck a tree south of Avon road in Avon Township Saturday, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Miss Bryant was treated at Woodruff's Clinic in Rochester for shock and face cuts. She was riding with Thomas H. Swiney, 25, of 380 Lowell St., at the time of the accident, deputies said.

Burns Kill Greenville Tot

GREENVILLE (AP) — Andrea Rich, 3, of Greenville died Friday night of burns suffered Friday when her clothes caught fire while she was playing with matches. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rich.

Panama is only about six air hours from Miami, according to present flight schedules.

2,000 Vials Wash Ashore in Florida

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Tiny glass vials, apparently dumped by a ship at sea, washed up by the thousands along a 40-mile stretch of beach yesterday—and created a bit of excitement until they were found harmless.

Police, fearing they contained narcotics, ordered the beaches barricaded and warned citizens to leave the little tubes alone. The Navy and federal and state narcotics agents were notified

Over 2,000 of the vials were gathered.

1st Charge: 70 Miles Per; 2nd: Drunk Driving

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Mildred Louise Buster, 35, of Indianapolis, was insulted yesterday when the highway patrolman suspected she might have been drinking.

He didn't book her for drunken driving when he clocked her car at 70 miles an hour. But he did insist she delay her trip to Cleveland for a while.

Mrs. Buster was indignant. She demanded and got an intoxication test.

Why are So Many Sufferers from Pains of ARTHRITIS, RHEUMATISM Turning to PRUVO for Sure Relief?

At first a few—then hundreds—then by the thousands the victims of arthritic and rheumatic pain have turned to PRUVO Tablets for special soothing relief. "At last", they say, "we have found the answer.

If you suffer nagging or even almost torturing, unbearable pain in arms, neck, back, legs — you too may right today change the entire course of your life by turning to PRUVO for quick soothing relief. Pruvo therapy, based on the latest findings of a famous medical research authority, is so sound and logical, so safe and sure that it just naturally will appeal to your good judgment.

The function of PRUVO is to break the vicious cycle of pain — the pain which prolongs the spasm of the muscles around the joints and causes the sufferer to refrain from movement. This inactivity can result in atrophy or wasting away and finally deformity of the joints.

PRUVO offers the quickest, longest lasting, non-narcotic relief known to medical science. It contains prescription type ingredients, completely harmless to all organs of the human body, is recommended frequently by doctors. Among these important medications is salicylamide with 5 times the analgesic potency of aspirin — and even those who have found the aspirin type preparation nauseating can take PRUVO without the slightest discomfort or annoyance.

Directions with each bottle tell you how to get the most effective results — and as those aches and pains fade away, it is important that you become gently active — very light massage — easy movement of the affected areas. This is the way to make nature help you by stimulating blood circulation. These simple rules are intended to enhance the pain-relieving effects of PRUVO Tablets.

Is it any wonder that so many are turning to the common sense PRUVO program. Why not join the thousands who are living a better life with PRUVO — only $1.50 for the trial size bottle of 75 tablets — and if you do not start getting pain relief before using half the tablets just return the balance and your money will be refunded in full by PRUVO. Your druggist has PRUVO — and you don't even need a prescription to get this wonderful preparation. Start today!

Don't give up! No matter what you have tried or what you may be using right now — give the PRUVO pain relief program a fair trial. Learn for yourself what thousands of others know about PRUVO for control of arthritic, rheumatic and other attacks of muscular aches and pains when they occur. 99 out of every 100 users have found satisfaction in PRUVO — you, too, can obtain its special soothing relief. Start today!

Remember, PRUVO is the only medication with these prescription type ingredients which costs you not $2.00, not $3.00, not $5.00 — but just $1.50 for the trial size bottle. Leading drug stores also sell PRUVO in the Economy Home Size at $4.00 and the Hospital-Clinic Size at $7.50.

Grace Lutheran Honors Pastor

Services, Banquet Mark Rev. Otto Schultz' Tenth Year as Minister

A capacity audience attended the Grace Lutheran Church Sunday when the congregation observed the 10th anniversary of the coming of its pastor, the Rev. Otto G. Schultz.

Two morning services at 9:30 and 11 a. m. were followed by a banquet at 12:30. The Rev. Richard F. Jesse Jr. of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church in Detroit conducted the worship services while the Rev. Mr. Schultz and his family occupied a pew with the congregation. The Rev. Mr. Jesse was a former classmate of Pastor Schultz.

Also taking part in the program were the Rev. Theodore Wuggazer of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer in Birmingham, the Rev. George Kurz of St. James Lutheran Church at Grosse Pointe, Henry Elling who furnished piano music and Miss Maxine Schroeder, organist for the banquet.

Roy E. Woods, chairman of the congregation, acted as chairman of the affair.

'HOME' FOR EISENHOWER MEMENTOES—Nearing completion in Abilene, Kan., President Eisenhower's home town, is the museum that will house the Chief Executive's war trophies and mementoes, valued at a million dollars. The structure is being built by the Eisenhower Foundation, which expects to open it to the public in 1954. On June 4, 1952, the President laid the cornerstone for the museum and later in the day opened his campaign for Republican presidential nomination.

California Faces Congress Vote

2 Candidates on Each Ticket Split Forces in Year's Final Contest

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Republicans and Democrats, their forces split by two candidates on each ticket, wound up their campaigns today in the 24th District, where the year's final congressional contest will command national attention tomorrow.

To the Republicans the race may mean further jeopardy for their slim House majority. To the Democrats the balloting may mean a crowning triumph for recent victories east of the Mississippi. There are now 218 Republicans and 215 Democrats in the House of Representatives.

The registrar of voters has forecast a 40 per cent ballot—perhaps 66,000 votes—in the special election. In the district there are 81,691 registered Democrats and 75,289 Republicans.

The seat was vacated by a Republican.

• • •

The one who gets the highest number of votes will win, even though his total may not represent a majority of the ballots cast.

Candidates are Glenard P. Lipscomb and John L. E. Collier, both Republican state assemblymen; and George Arnold, attorney, and Irving Markheim, veterans' service officer. The Republican party is supporting Lipscomb. Arnold has Democratic party endorsement.

The Republican campaign in Lipscomb's behalf has concentrated on the theme that his election will constitute a vote of confidence in the Eisenhower administration. Lipscomb, an accountant in private life, was executive secretary of Richard Nixon's vice presidential campaign.

• • •

Arnold, whose father, Thurman Arnold, was assistant attorney general in the Roosevelt administration, is the son-in-law of columnist Drew Pearson. He has the backing of several labor organizations, as well as his party's support, and he has campaigned in favor of tax reduction, against a national sales tax and against "Communist aggression wherever it occurs."

Philippine Voters to Elect President

MANILA (AP)—President Elpidio Quirino and challenger Ramon Magsaysay wrapped up their free-swinging campaigns tonight and left it to the voters to decide tomorrow who will be the new chief executive of The Philippines.

Despite military precautions, violence grew in the last tense hours before the polls opened.

Both sides claimed victory—the incumbent Liberal party by 400,000 votes and the opposition Nacionalista-Democratic party coalition by a million to 1½ million votes.

• • •

The election board said definite results probably would not be known for three days.

The angry, hot-worded campaign ended in Manila with both candidates home from quick, last-minute trips to the outlying districts.

Quirino returned from the north for a last pre-election broadcast and a rally.

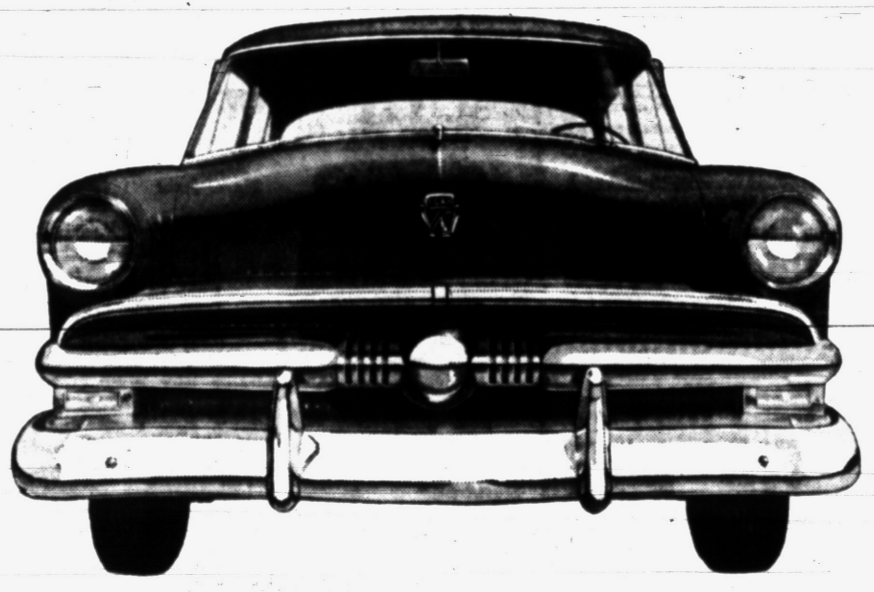

Magsaysay flew back from the south for rallies.

From throughout Manila torchlights flickered in the humid night as parades from various districts converged in the downtown area.

In his prepared radio speech, President Quirino again stressed his charge of American intervention in the election—the issue on which he has based his campaign.

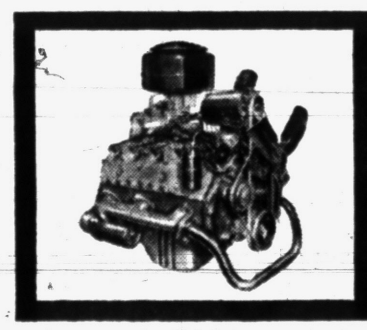

Why more than a million owners this year have chosen the "Worth More" FORD!

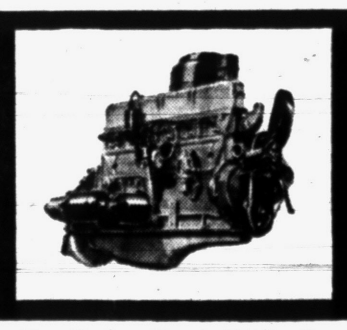

They have discovered first hand what the surveys show... Ford, with all its fine-car features, is worth more when you buy it, and worth more when you sell it!

OVER A MILLION OWNERS can't be wrong! Ford is the one fine car in the low-price field. It gives you the "Go," the style, the comfort, and "build" of cars that sell for far more. And, it's only natural that Ford keeps its value better, in resale, than any other car on the American Road. Check the features below for some of the "Worth More" reasons for the swing to Ford.

Lowest-priced V-8 in America! And the only V-8 in the low-price field. Ford's high-compression V-8 power plant delivers its "Go" on regular gas!

Most Modern Six of all is Ford's high-compression, low-friction Mileage Maker. With Overdrive, it was the winner in 1953 Mobilgas Economy Run.

Smoother Ride, with front end road shock reduced up to 80%, is another Ford big-car feature... and you get it without gas-eating extra weight.

Fine-Car Build means using steel of the same quality and thickness as in the costliest cars. And Ford is the most completely insulated car in its field.

Fordomatic Drive is the only "automatic" in its field to offer the "Go" of an automatic intermediate gear plus the smoothness of a torque converter.

Finest Power Steering — that's Ford Master-Guide. It does up to 75% of the steering work yet retains the normal steering "feel" on the straightaways.

Farouk's Yacht Still Unsold by Egyptians

The ornate ship Mahroussa—it means "Protected"—has been in dry dock since Farouk's exile in 1952. It used to be an ordinary royal yacht, luxurious to be sure, but nothing extra special. Then Farouk gave it his extravagant touch.

* * *

On his orders, the yacht underwent several transformations — at a cost to the state of more than $2,870,000. Solid gold doorknobs were installed. Suites, living rooms, a music room, ball room and several studios all were furnished with priceless works of art.

Some have suggested Egypt's President Naguib take over the ship as a presidential yacht. But it's far from likely the modest, austere President would even consider the idea.

* * *

A plan to use the yacht for luxury cruises by millionaires is under study, but no decision has yet been made.

Meanwhile, maintenance costs are mounting daily.

An accurate estimate of the wealth Farouk left behind when he was exiled has yet to be made. It once was thought his estates in Egypt would amount to more than 28 million dollars. But later government figures show Farouk's confiscated assets, including the Mahroussa, may well run more than 43 million dollars.

* * *

Main assets include: more than 35,000 acres of Egypt's best land; $562,520 worth of corporation shares; two large palaces, a number of smaller homes and rest houses; and several seagoing launches and river crafts. Avaluable art collection, liberally stocked with nudes, rounds out the list.

The government plans to sell everything at public auctions starting early next year. Some of the proceeds will go to pay Farouk's personal debts and to reimburse those who were forced to make "donations" to the ex-King. The balance, if any, will be used "for the benefit of the people," a government spokesman says.

Will Offer College TV Courses for Credit

EAST LNSING (AP)—When Michigan State College's UHF television station goes on the air in January, MSC will offer courses for college credit through the airwaves.

The college's "University of the Air" will present evening classes between 7 and 8 p.m. MSC announced. They will match in duration and sequence the regular school terms and will be conducted in the fields of education for work, health, citizenship, home and family activities and education in the use of time.

Students who are not able to continue in college may register for telecourses and obtain three units of credit per term for each of the courses taken as part of their planned college course. Students not yet in college may obtain provisional credits to apply after they enter college.

Italians Pause to Honor Dead

Nation Halts Work Ten Minutes to Mourn Six Killed in Trieste Riots

ROME (AP)—Italians from Trieste to the toe of the peninsula laid down their tools today in a 10-minute "memorial" work stoppage for the six persons killed by police during Trieste rioting last week.

The suspension was called by all three of Italy's big labor federations, representing nearly all Italian workers. They said only essential public services continued during the period. Many schools in Rome observed 10 minutes silence.

The nation-wide demonstration followed a bitter accusation yesterday against the British commanders of the Trieste civil police by the Italian government.

Its report said the bloodshed in the disputed Adriatic city "was caused by riot squad tactics of the police, which were characterized by extreme severity and the hasty use of firearms."

The report charged the police measures were unjustified. It added that the British had failed to heed advance warnings by Italian officials or Italian pleas to ease the situation. Two British officers were named as being among those at fault.

Today's work stoppage marked the second consecutive day of calm following the bloody riots that swept Italy last week.

Gets U. S. Top Medal for War Leadership

WASHINGTON (INS) — First Lieut. Edward R. Schowalter Jr., an Army infantryman from Metairie, La., was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor yesterday.

Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens said the 25-year-old officer exhibited "unflinching courage, extraordinary heroism and inspirational leadership" in action against the enemy near Kumhwa, Korea, Oct. 14, 1952.

Stevens declared that despite three painful wounds, Schowalter continued to direct and encourage his men until the enemy was completely routed during an attack upon an enemy strongpoint.

Illinois Solon Will Ask Manufacturers' Levy

LASALLE, Ill. (AP)—Rep. Mason (R-Ill) plans to propose a 5 per cent federal manufacturers' excise tax to replace what he calls the present "hodge-podge system of excise taxes."

In a radio speech yesterday, Mason said he would introduce a measure when Congress reconvenes in January proposing to levy such a tax on all manufactured products except food and medicine, and to repeal all federal excise taxes except those on liquor and tobacco.

Asks Minimum Speed Law

Representative Marshall of Allen is only one of thousands of motorists who believe slow poke drivers create needless traffic hazards.

But, unlike the others, he is in a position to do something about them and has announced his intention to introduce a bill setting a minimum speed for Michigan highways.

While he isn't prepared yet to say what that speed should be, it's a safe guess that he will have at least the moral support of countless fellow drivers. The minimum speed idea isn't new. For many months on some of the Nation's busiest highways drivers have been ticketed for slowing up traffic.

Most anyone who has seen how slow drivers irritate even the most careful motorist into taking grave risks in passing them on a two lane highway, will welcome the Marshall proposal.

We believe such a law could promote safety provided the minimum is set only after careful study and if wisdom is used in enforcement. It also seems to us the time has arrived for the Legislature to consider establishing a maximum highway speed limit.

Unlimited speed is a major cause of traffic fatalities. But the fact that slow drivers also contribute to the highway accident death toll no longer should be ignored.

Warning But No Trend

It is true that Republicans suffered setbacks in New Jersey just as they did in Wisconsin's Ninth District. It also is true that there is voter discontent over taxes, drought relief and farm price decline.

We think the voting should be taken more as a warning to the GOP than as a forecast of things to come. In most cases Democratic successes can be written off as normal with the races decided mainly on local issues.

For example, it was normal for Democrats to win mayoralty races in Northern cities. Yet in Virginia, where Republicans never have elected a governor, the losing GOP candidate Ted Dalton ran a better race than any previous nominee of his party.

Also in normally Democratic Cook County, Ill., Republicans fared well, electing eight of 14 candidates for seats on the bench. Even in New Jersey's sixth district which never before had sent a Democrat to Congress, the winner's margin was only 2,000 votes and he campaigned on the policies of his GOP predecessor.

Certainly local rather than national issues contributed to the defeat of Paul L. Troast for the New Jersey governorship. Besides local corruption, Troast's letter urging clemency for the extortionist Joey Fay was a factor.

Aside from the normal tendency for the party in power to lose strength in off year elections, other factors influenced the results. Since the Eisenhower Administration took office, it has been busy reorganizing the Government and eliminating waste. It's most spectacular achievement was the Korean truce, now so clouded in uncertainty that it yielded no election dividends.

While we believe the Administration has made a good start in developing its program, it undoubtedly has suffered because so much of it had to be left over for the second session. In addition there has been a notable lack of party unity on both foreign and domestic issues.

Actually these elections may prove to be a blessing in disguise. They will be if they convince party leaders of the urgent need for greater unity and effort to implement the program on which President Eisenhower was elected.

Can Opener Cookery

Though American housewives take canned foods for granted, they might be surprised to learn of the great effort being made in Europe to expand that industry.

This was evident at the recent International Postwar Luxuries Exhibition in Cologne, Germany. Exhibits from 38 Continental and overseas countries showed great efforts to catch up with the United States in the art of preserving foods.

Among the most interested visitors were German housewives, who traditionally, have been slaves to pots, pans and cook stoves. They were fascinated by the displays of dehydrated, packaged and canned goods.

Meanwhile from Chicago comes news of the latest development in our own canning industry — the meal in a can, including everything from soup to nuts. Another step forward is an electronic processing method which enables food merchants to stock rare tropical fruits with flavor virtually unimpaired.

★ ★ ★

Housewives here are quick to take advantage of every new development in food processing. But probably few know that a Frenchman gave the canning industry its start. He was Francois Appert who invented the vacuum jar used to help transport food for Napoleon's armies.

Two Sergeants Want to Know Where This Free Booze Issue Is Being Distributed

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

We are two sergeants with about 24 years service between us. We wonder where this "free booze issue" is taking place.

When did Uncle Sam get so free with the taxpayers' money? Is that why they are trying to take away the Commissary, so "these recruits can have booze to make demons out of them," while seasoned men are resigning?

During World War II we got about 40 bottles of 3.2 beer per man during 32 months overseas service on an island smaller than Pontiac. Some men drank, some didn't. No one twisted their arms. Those who didn't drink, sold it to their comrades for $1 a bottle. (Cost 12 cents).

Where is all this taking place? We could salt away some cash if we knew. Every camp we have seen conforms to local and state laws. If the soldier is not of the prescribed age, he cannot buy beer as his I. D. card carries "bearer's" photograph.

Look into what is being done toward taking away the essential benefits of the serviceman. Then we would need fewer replacements, and some of these unadulterated sons could stay in their back yards where they could grow up to be helpless.

Deprived Sergeants

I learned recently that the army is selling intoxicants to our young people in all military schools and camps illegally. This practice is so firmly entrenched that it will be almost impossible to stop them.

Furthermore, a bill is to come before Congress to make this sale legal. I am asking you to do all you can through your paper and thus help all other loyal Americans to stop the liquor forces from violating our laws.

Lawrence Astonished at Truman Claim of Firing White; Facts Look Different

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Former President Truman should not have been surprised when he read that Attorney General Brownell accused him of sending to the Senate the nomination of the late Harry Dexter White for a high government post, even though the Democratic administration knew that reliable witnesses had said that White was a "Russian spy."

* * *

For the famous FBI memorandum, which not only accused White and Hiss of being a part of the Soviet spy ring in America, but named a number of others inside our government, was dated Nov. 25, 1945.

It was followed by another memorandum on Feb. 4, 1946, two days before the Senate confirmed White, then an assistant secretary of the treasury, to be U. S. executive director of the International Monetary Fund.

But the information was never sent by the Truman administration to the Senate Banking and Currency Committee which handled the nomination.

What is astonishing, however, is that Truman claims now to have "fired" White as soon as disloyalty was discovered.

But, as Attorney General Brownell points out, when White resigned as assistant secretary of the treasury on April 30, 1946, Truman sent him a laudatory letter of regret, and said "I am confident that in your new position (U. S. executive director of the International Monetary Fund) you will add distinction to your already distinguished career."

* * *

White did not resign his subsequent post on the monetary fund, nor was he fired. He died without action being taken on the FBI report by the Truman administration.

Although Harry White is dead, two of his principal assistants, who are accused of playing an important part in the Soviet espionage ring, are alive and have already been questioned by the Senate Internal Security Committee.

Both refused recently to answer questions on the ground of possible self-incrimination, claiming the privilege of the 5th amendment.

One of them even refused to tell the Senate committee the list of his assignments — the jobs he held in the executive branch of the government both here and abroad.

And one of these jobs was that of adviser to the secretary of state, George Marshall, in the spring of 1947 at the conference of foreign ministers in Moscow.

The list of influential posts held by the two assistants to Harry White is a long one, and it is obvious that White and his assistants had access to confidential information, not only in their own bureaus, but in other parts of the American government.

The first FBI memorandum of which Attorney General Brownell speaks was made available to the press on Aug. 24 last by the Senate internal security subcommittee, but its text has never been published in most of the newspapers of the country.

One reason is that the press associations missed the point of the story when it was first released.

* * *

But there seems no justification for the failure of the press associations afterward to carry the sensational facts in the Senate committee report when attention was publicly called almost immediately afterward, to the significance of the FBI memorandum.

* * *

Some newspapers did reprint it subsequently in their Sunday sections, and some published it serially, but in most communities the Senate report still has never seen the light of day.

It would seem that Truman would have become aware of the importance of this FBI memorandum as early as 1945 when, as the Senate subcommittee says, it was distributed to him and key officials of the government.

But if he didn't himself see it then, he might well have asked for a copy of the FBI memorandum when Rep. Richard Nixon of California, then a member of the House Un-American Activities Committee, made a speech in the House in 1950, quoting one important paragraph from the FBI memorandum, which he said then was in Truman's hands.

Many people do not know that the FBI cannot prosecute anybody unless higher authority in the executive branch of the government says so.

Many people do not know also, that an earlier FBI memorandum on Alger Hiss was in the hands of the executive officials of the Democratic administration for many years before the FBI memoranda of 1945 and 1946 were submitted.

Yet it was in 1948, when a House committee exposed Alger Hiss, that Truman called it "a red herring." This ought to dispose of the argument that "it can all be left to the FBI."

Anybody who has read the report will wonder why it required a speech by Attorney General Brownell to direct the attention of the country to these same facts about the Communist conspiracy in our government.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Says No Public Speaker Is 'Calm as a Cucumber'

Calvin wants a simple formula for making an interesting speech. The best one I have ever seen is described below. I've used it in my 30 years of professional platform work, and so have most of the other orators whom I have met. It fits high schoolers like Calvin, as well as the clergy and all business men.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case J-337: Calvin G., aged 17, is a high school senior.

"Dr. Crane, I'm taking a course in public speaking," he began.

"I know it will be very helpful to me in later life, but I am so nervous that my hands shake and I feel hot all over whenever the time draws near for me to take the platform.

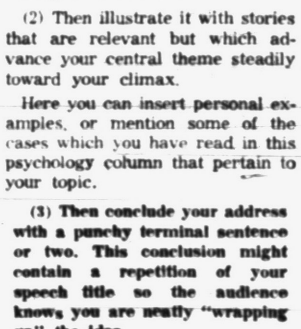

"Besides, I find it hard to remember what I want to say, even though I memorize my talk, word for word.

"So what advice can you give me so I will be calm as a cucumber?"

No talented platform artist is "calm as a cucumber" when he mounts the platform.

If he were, his words wouldn't flow smoothly. For it is nervous tension which speeds up the heart and thus furnishes a better blood supply to the brain.

Our thoughts then percolate faster and we are more alert. So you amateur speakers can be grateful you are jittery. All professional performers are likewise keyed up before an important address.

But you can avoid showing your excessive nervousness if you will hold your hands behind your back at the start. Or clasp the edges of the pedestal.

And if you have no pedestal in front of you, but must hold your notes or sheet music, then previously mount those pages on a cardboard background to avoid their rattling unduly.

Another bit of clever strategy is to hold the sheet of paper with both hands and then pull gently in opposite directions. This will instantly make your hands lose their tremor.

An ideal speech formula is this: (1) Pick out your text and general topic for discussion. Suppose it is "How to Carry on Interesting Conversation."

(2) Then illustrate it with stories that are relevant but which advance your central theme steadily toward your climax.

Here you can insert personal examples, or mention some of the cases which you have read in this psychology column that pertain to your topic.

(3) Then conclude your address with a punchy terminal sentence or two. This conclusion might contain a repetition of your speech title so the audience knows you are neatly "wrapping up" the idea.

If you can open and close your talk with an appropriate quotation from some famous person, past or present, that will add scholarly richness or "oomph" to your address.

For example, suppose you were to begin by quoting Benjamin Franklin's comment: "As we must account for every idle word, so we must for every idle silence."

Then you could go on to show that failure to pay compliments and speak up when we ought to do so, actually hurts most of us worse than excessive talk.

Such a deft formula is ideal for a clergyman to use as his sermon pattern, too. But it is equally good for high schoolers like Calvin.

Baering Down

Doc Bush buzzes we're wronger than left-handed buttons about our atomic publicity.

He told the institute of power pundits our flare for publicity will ride us up mud creek with the tide out.

And the hatching should be incubated in respectful ignorance.

Doc was war-time director of retaliatory curiosity in the upper parentheses. And knows his stuff like teacher looking in the back of the book.

Doc, we now know that secrets are harder to keep than a pet whale in a drought.

How about the fission foundries where they leaked like a paper tin-cup at a picnic? How about Washington where the alien agents even stole carbon copies of weather reports? How about Fort Monmouth? A secret was just a marginal notation on Barnum and Bailey's tattooed lady.

We catch some of those earmongers in our investigations. But a lot of fleas will slip through a garden rake.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Every Wise Man After 50 Should Lessen at Least the Amount of Food He Eats

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Here the other day Mrs. John Doe, who signed her real name but not her address, said that she had weighed 228 pounds when she was 12 years old, 300 pounds when she was 35 years old.

Then she began reducing and lost 150 pounds but the lady did not say how long it took to lose 150 pounds nor what reducing regimen she followed, if any.

She did say that her physician prescribed the Iodin Ration and that the Iodin Ration has been a daily habit for the past seven years.

She now looks, feels and acts a smart 30, at the age of 43, and she has landed a job with a firm that has a 35-year age limit.

To readers concerned about prematurely graying hair and a melancholic outlook, I'll send the pamphlet The Iodin Ration, provided they ask for it in writing (no clipping) and inclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.

I know of only one instance of intentional reduction that parallels Mrs. Doe's achievement, and that is possibly legendary.

I refer to one George Cheyne, born in Scotland in 1671. At the age of 30 he weighed 448 pounds.

It was BT (before television) but nevertheless the young man drank a good deal of beer, wine and hard liquor to keep up his strength, for it tuckered him out something cruel carrying around that 450 pounds of blubber.

Like all crapulent persons George was lethargic and short of breath. Except in eating and drinking, and maybe smoking, George could not keep up with other men of his age —no doubt his consciousness of his inferiority (when sober) made him dring to forget for awhile about it.

This explains why cocktails are so popular among morons, weaklings and perverts.

Unlike most habitual eating and drinking hogs George Cheyne somehow snapped out of it, quit drinking, restricted his diet to milk and vegetables, began a rigid schedule of graduated exercise and reduced to 150 pounds.

Osler says:

"Every wise man, after Fifty, ought to begin to lessen at least the quantity of his Aliment" ($1.98 word for food), "and if he would continue free of great and dangerous Distempers and preserve his Senses and Faculties clear to the last he ought every seven years go on abating gradually and sensibly, and at last descend out of Life as he ascended into it, even into the Child's Diet."

Milk, that is. We can go along with the last suggestion, except that the degree of physical activity and not the person's age should govern his or her "abating gradually and sensibly."

That is, one who does all her own housework instead of hiring it done; or one who takes care of his own lawn and garden instead of hiring it done; in short one who prefers an active life to passive existence can continue to enjoy and burn a quantity of "aliment" or fuel (carbohydrates) which would inevitably accumulate as reserve fat in the body of a sedentary person.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

"JUST WHAT THE DOCTOR ORDERED"...

L&M Filters are the newest, best and purest of Filter Tip Cigarettes. This statement from our Director of Research, Dr. F. R. Darkis explains why:

LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

NEW YORK 20, N. Y.

DR. F. R. DARKIS
DIRECTOR OF RESEARCH

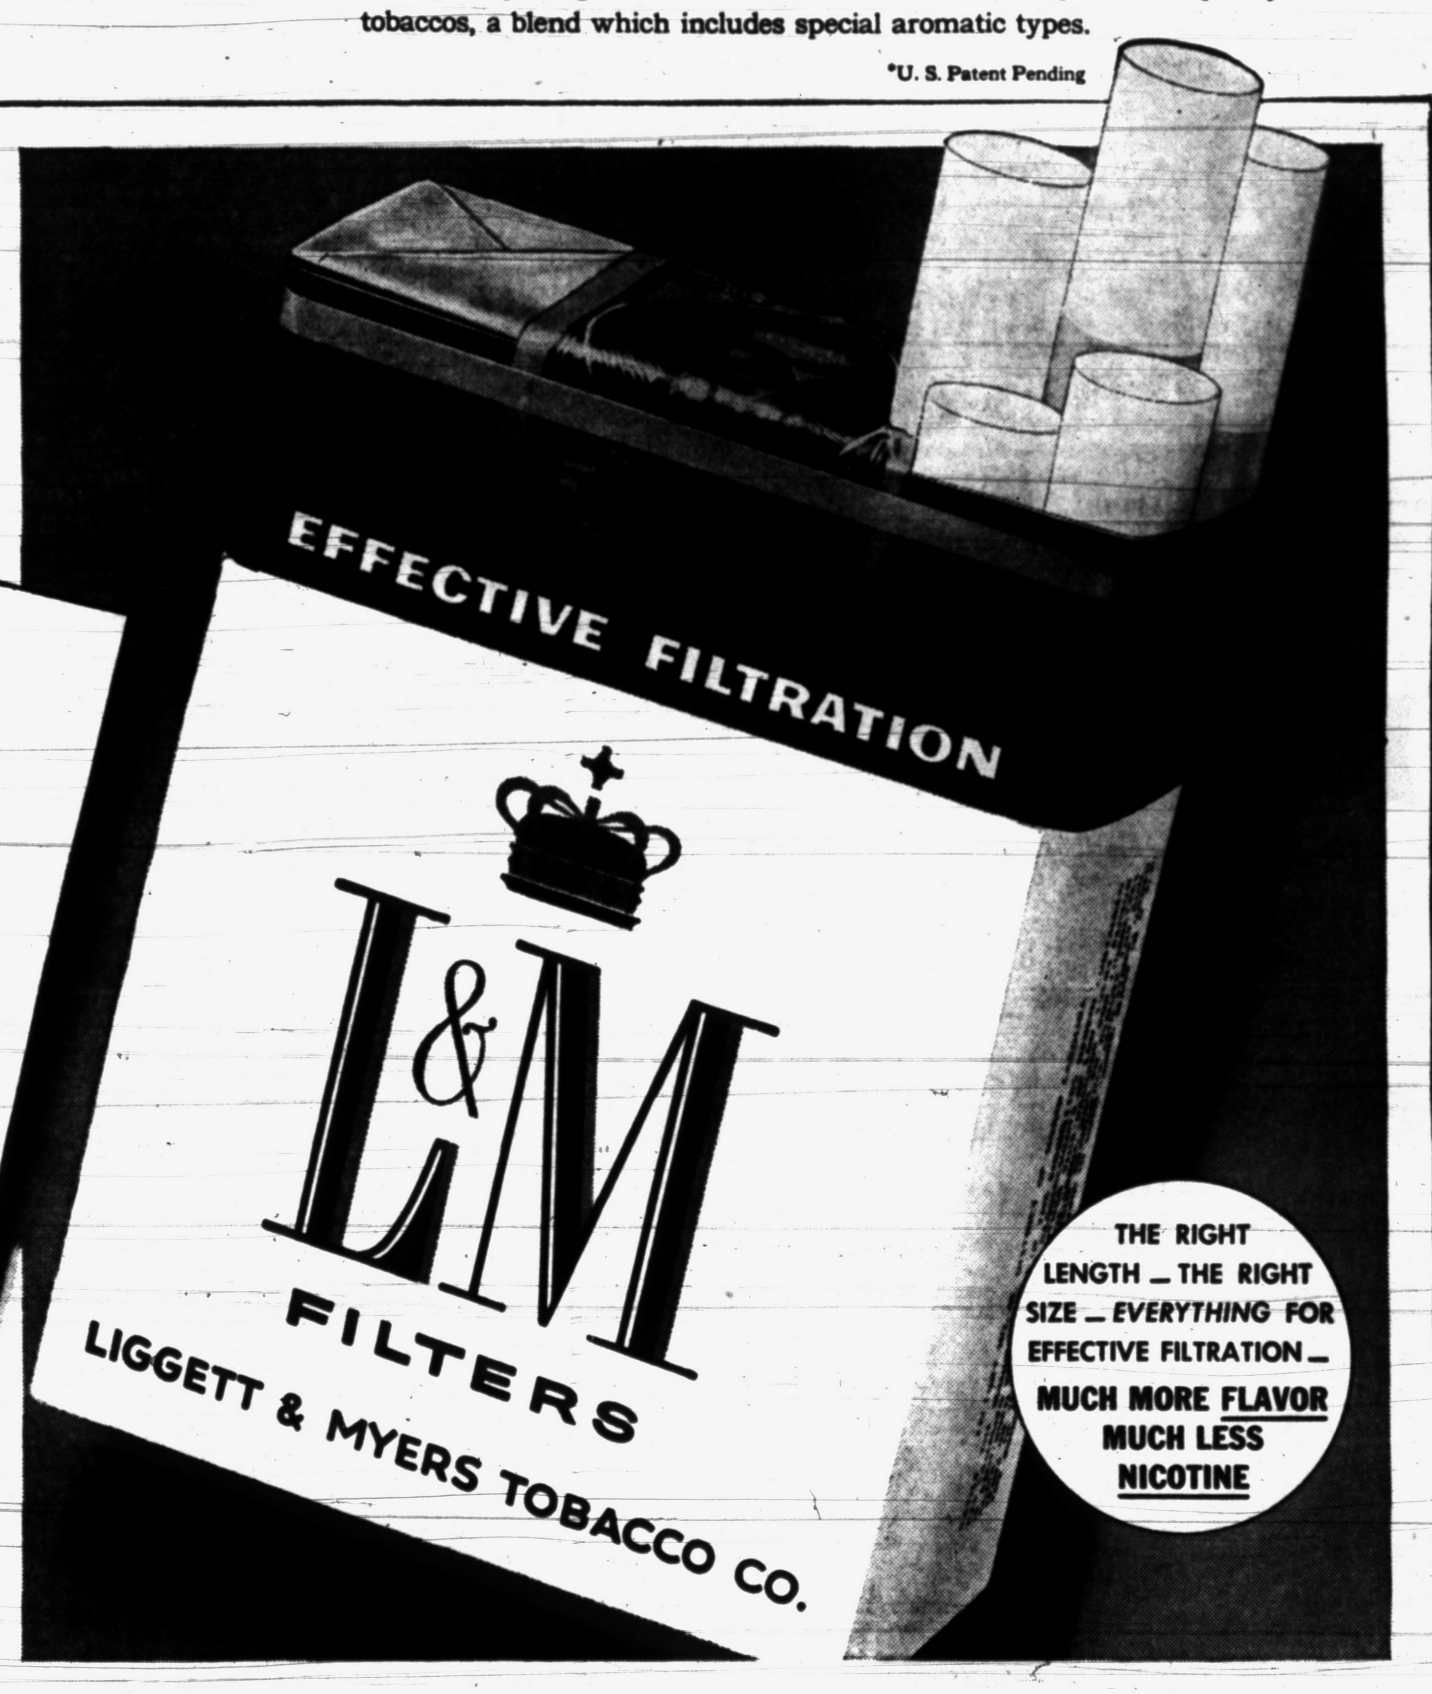

Extensive investigations of possible filter media were initiated in our laboratory and by our consultants early in 1951. The search continued until a strictly non-mineral material was found that effectively filtered the smoke. This is the material used in "L&M" Filter Tip cigarettes and is a highly purified alpha cellulose. Pure white in color, and used as an additive in certain foods, it is entirely harmless to health.

Alpha cellulose is the purest material now available to filter cigarette smoke. It removes over one-third of the smoke without impairing its satisfying taste. The "L&M" alpha cellulose filter is specially designed to remove the heavier particles from the smoke stream leaving a truly light smoke.

When you smoke "L&M" cigarettes, made and guaranteed by Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company, you draw into your mouth much less smoke with much less nicotine and other nitrogenous constituents.

Complaint Asks Straley Ouster

Attorney M. R. Henry Requests Issue Be Put Before Trial Board

A sworn complaint asking removal of Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley was filed today with the city clerk's office by Pontiac attorney Milton R. Henry.

Henry said he has requested that the complaint be placed before the Police Trial Board at its next session.

The complaint has been referred to City Manager Walter K. Willman and City Attorney William A. Ewart for study.

Under the city charter the manager is called upon to submit such complaints to the Police Trial Board.

The board sits as a trial body, hears evidence and is sole judge as to the existence of an offense. It has full power to pass judgment and pronounce and enforce penalties.

The complaint charges that during his tenure as police chief, Straley has allowed uniformed police officers to invade the constitutional rights of citizens and has refused to order an investigation when it has appeared probable that his officers have acted illegally.

In support of the charges the complaint cites incidents. The death of Herbert and Eugene Sallee in July, 1952, the search of patrons after a tavern shooting in Oct., 1952, and the arrest of Shedrick and Frederick Corr in July.

Henry, Oakland County chairman of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, does not mention specifically a scuffle between a patrolman and a Pontiac resident, two weeks ago.

Pontiac City Commissioners told Henry last week to carry a verbal complaint at that time "through the proper channels."

MRS. ARTHUR T. IRWIN

To Live at Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — Nancy L. Vaughan of Dayton, Ohio became the bride of Arthur T. Irwin of Westacres Saturday morning in St. Albert The Great Church in Dayton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Vaughan of Dayton. Arthur's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Irwin of 7227 Arrowwood Dr., Westacres.

Guests from Walled Lake, Detroit and Kitchener, Ont. attended the 10 a.m. ceremony which was held before an altar with white mums.

Nancy wore a white gown of skinner satin. The fitted bodice was designed on princess lines and buttoned down the back with tiny satin buttons as did the long sleeves which tapered over her hands.

Serving as maid of honor was the sister of the bridgeroom, Mary Kay Irwin. Bridemaids were her sister, Pat Vaughan, Peggy Mayl and Jane Caldwell of Dayton.

Lurten E. Diver from Middletown, Ohio served as best man. Groomsmen were Thomas Hosea of Detroit, Joseph Stack of Pontiac and William Vaughan of Dayton.

A breakfast was given following the ceremony at Dayton Country Club. An evening reception was also held at the country club.

Following a honeymoon in Miami Beach, Fla., the couple will live at 9220 Lakeview, Walled Lake.

The bridgroom was a student in General Motors Institute where he received his degree in mechanical engineering. The bride attended the University of Dayton.

Saginaw Man Hunting Owner of Suitcase

WATERFORD — An honest Saginaw man is looking for the owner of a suit case and a small white sweat shirt with "Waterford Village School" across its front.

In a letter to Ida Kent, principal of the school, Charles A. Spencer said he found the suitcase and the sweat shirt on a road up north. The bag had several other articles of clothing in it.

Spencer said he made several inquiries along the road but could not locate the owner of the mysterious articles. He asked Miss Kent to ask school children if one of their families lost the bag while traveling during the Labor Day weekend.

Spencer said the owner could claim the bag by identifying it and its contents. His address is 419 South Adams St., Saginaw.

Hal Boyle Says:

Model Prefers European Over American Wolves

NEW YORK (AP) — Well, men, we might as well start off by firing both barrels:

"The American wolf today is about as menacing as a defanged rabbit, but a European wolf . . . m-m-m-m-m-m.

This crushing verdict on the tameness of the native American wolf, as compared to his foreign cousin, comes from an international student of this form of two-footed animal life — glamorous Dorian Leigh, the famous model.

Miss Leigh earns 35 dollars an hour — that's 700 dollars for a tiresome old 20-hour work week — modeling in Hollywood, New York, London, Paris and Rome. She attracted movie offers as the girl in two recent dramatically colorful lipstick and nail polish ads called "Fire and Ice" and "Cherries in the Snow."

They helped draw a pack of this hep modern Little Red Ridhowling wolves to the door of ing Hood from San Antonio, Tex.

"Most so-called wolves in this country," she said, "are just inhibited and introverted men of wealth who depend on a girl's glamor to draw attention to themselves.

"In both Hollywood and Manhattan there is a circle of men whose only social goal in life is to be seen in a night club every night with the newest and prettiest girl in town. They aren't name droppers. They're model droppers.

There is no use trying to have a conversation with one, because he can't listen. He is too busy looking across the room to see if any of his pals has a newer, lovelier cover girl."

Miss Leigh said this made a girl feel more like a hand-painted necktie than a date. When I asked whether she was not confusing wolves with gay old dogs, she replied:

"Well, they pass for wolves, and they think they're wolves. But they aren't romantic. They're dull and tired.

"They are all trying to impress each other, and the only other thing they have in common is they have enough money to go out on the town every night. Most of them are married, but seem to have a working agreement with their wives.

"They feel it's safer to be married. Then no pretty little girl can snap them up and carry them away."

"The European is more leisurely," she said, dreamily. "He concentrates on one girl at a time, and doesn't go in for any high-pressure, tonight-is-all approach. He takes you to an intimate little restaurant rather than a crowded night club, because he is trying to impress you, not his business friends.

"That makes the European wolf more interesting.

But Miss Leigh says a wise girl will avoid getting involved too deeply with any wolf.

"In dealing with a wolf, either in Europe or here," she said, "the letdown is likely to be the same. A wolf is only a wolf, no matter what language he howls in."

It is estimated that six million tons of water flow into the Dead Sea daily, all of which eventually is removed by evaporation.

One Reader Gives Her Rule of Thumb for Putting Fair Price on Handiwork

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Every day I hear from women who are doing it so successfully that they are making a profit; and from others who are thinking of going into it professionally in the future.

Mrs. C. S. in New Jersey is typical of the latter group.

She says: "I am that older woman that you write about. We are pension people, and find it hard at times to make ends meet.

"I would like to make aprons to sell," she goes on, "but don't know how to determine the proper price. For each apron I use a yard of goods—cotton print or denim—with rickrack or cotton rug yarn as fringe.

Later on, I will make others with pique, organdy and chintz. Please tell me how to decide on the proper price for my aprons."

This always varies with the kind of community you live in, and what the traffic will bear. But Mrs. R. G., in Maryland, who is selling her aprons successfully gives this rule of thumb.

"I jot down the total price of the material, including trimming. Then I add 50 cents for the wear and tear on the machine, needles and thread, and general odds and ends. Then I add a dollar for my time in making it.

"I make them rapidly, and this way my really inexpensive materials, made up, make an apron that sells for $2 to $2.50.

"My more expensive materials, such as fancy nylon and organdy ones run sometimes as high has $4."

Check first to see what similar aprons sell for in the stores in your community. Yours must either be cheaper, or much, much more attractive. Try to think up an individual touch. One reader tells me of a man's apron which she makes.

"My husband, like most men, occasionally feels like dreaming up a dish — sometimes indoors, sometimes in our yard. He needed a big, plain apron, long enough to cover his good trousers.

"I made one up, and then, in red embroidery trim, I put the words: 'Danger! Man cooking!' Everybody thought it was so attractive that I kept getting orders. I now sell them through a local store."

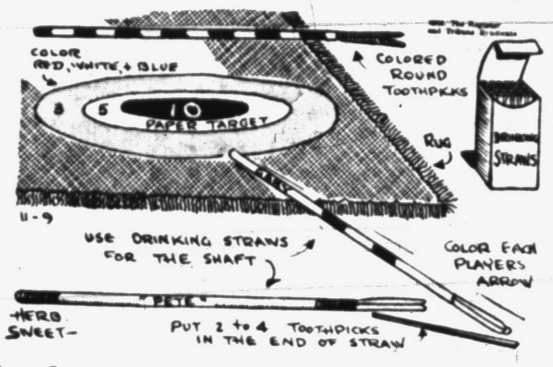

Another reader made aprons with horoscope signs. One woman made very fancy cocktail aprons of nylon with silver embroidery, which were almost part of a costume for formal wear at home.

There is no ironclad rule for pricing a homemade apron, but remember these three important points:

Figure the cost of material: add a small sum for year and tear on equipment, replacements, etc.; add salary for your own time.

Give aprons a finishing touch, something individual and unique for which you can charge more and which will attract customers.

Dart Game Uses Straws

Here is a game which was sent in by Gary Levi of Milwaukee. This is a game which will be fun to play, and it is especially nice to hear of original games. You see Gary made this game up.

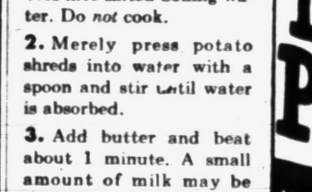

Do you have a game which is original with you? Perhaps you have some game which you play in a different way which would be fun for other Try-Iteers to hear about?

This is a dart game made of drinking straws, toothpicks and a floor target. Dart games are fun, but younger children should always play them with someone older helping them.

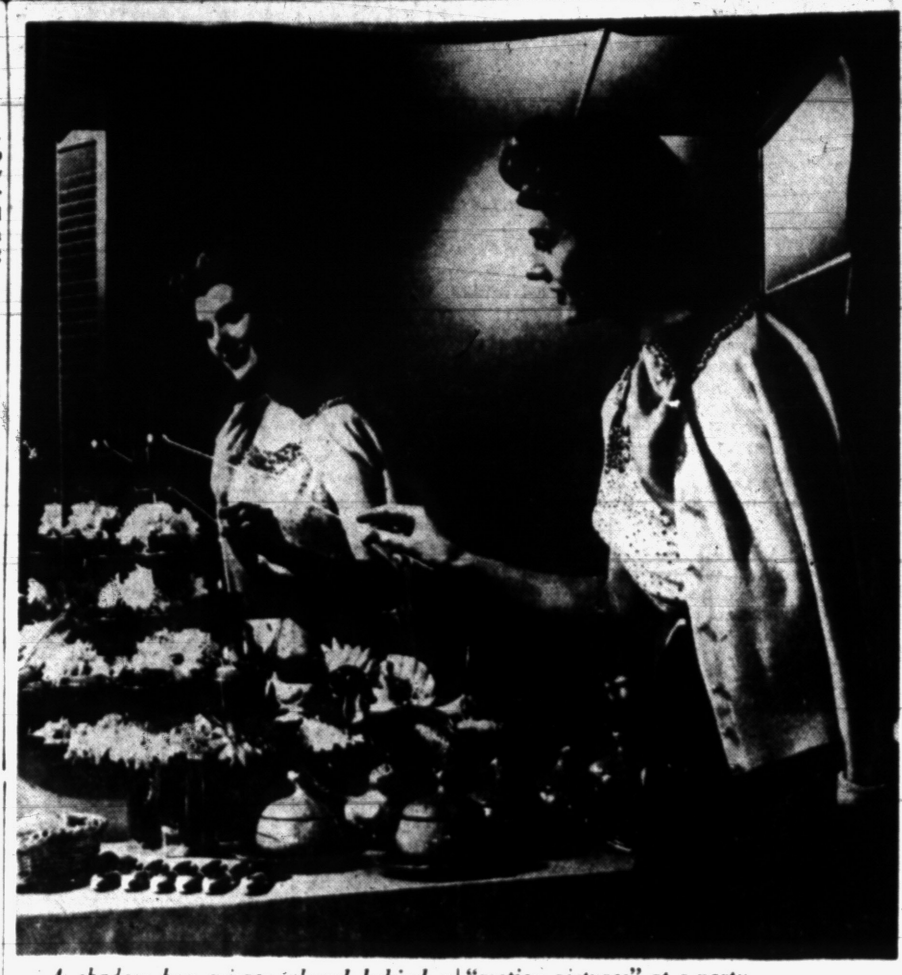

The darts are made by sticking toothpicks into the end of a drinking straw. most straws will only need two toothpicks, but use as many as you need to make them fit tightly.

Make five or six darts so that your whole family can play. Color the straws with different colots of crayons so that each player can tell which is his dart.

You will now need a target for the floor. Make this from a large sheet of paper, and color it red, white and blue. Number the colors 3, 5 and 10. Let each player take a turn for five times. The one with the highest score is the winner.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Omar Bradleys Untainted by Fame, Fawning People

It's never happened before and probably it never will again, but I've just had a really lovely time at a Broadway first night. The reason was a woman named Mary Bradley.

Mostly I loathe first nights because I feel so drab and unsure of myself amid the sables and ermines, diamonds and emeralds, snobbery and arrogance that invariably accompany the presentation of a new play to New York's most sophisticated audience.

MISS McBRIDE

They were all there, too—the men and women who have let a little success or money swell them up like puff adders, critics with sharpened weapons, Hollywood and society preening and posturing, celebrity-hunters peeking and pestering. It's the very setup that always depresses me. But this time there was Mary for an antidote.

I went to school with Mary Quayle in Missouri. She came from Moberly, population 13,000, and I from Paris, population 1,500.

Most of the girls at our coeducational college played the field when it came to boys but Mary stuck to one beau, a tall, quiet-mannered young man who was a West Point cadet. His name was Omar Bradley and when they finished school they got married as they'd apparently known they would do since they were 14.

I lost track of Mary for awhile and then there she was at West point and her husband had become one of the most famous of all the generals in the second World War. Since then Mary and Omar have seen a good part of the globe, met most of the people worth meeting, had honors heaped upon them, been sought after and fawned upon.

You'd certainly think by this time Mary would be just another blase cosmopolite in a first night audience. That's why it was so wonderful to see her, enjoying herself as excitedly and eagerly as if she'd just come from Moberly for her first visit to the big city.

A friend was pointing out all the sights—Frankie, Marlene, Georgie Jessel, a plutocratic playboy—and Mary was staring unashamed, so thrilled she could hardly speak. She didn't feel drab or inferior among the sables, emeralds and preening.

You could tell that she was having such fun she wasn't thinking of herself at all. I felt a glow of pride for Missouri as I watched and found myself saying, "She hasn't changed a bit." For that matter, neither has Omar Bradley.

I remember when he first came back from the war, sought-after hero and multi-starred general. Our radio station was startled to find the two Bradleys standing quietly and as a matter of course in the line that was waiting to get into my broadcast. It had never occurred to either of them to ask for special favors.

It's just wonderful to me to find two people whom no honors, no elevations can spoil. I like to think that the Middle West has something to do with it, but maybe I'm prejudiced.

Crepes Get Crepier

In these days of bigger and better things it should come as no surprise that even crepes are getting "crepier." This new twist is the result of a highly twisted yarn which makes possible a flattering range of crepes with more firm, full bodied textures.

Joanne Limp Wed in Birmingham Rite

The First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham was the setting Saturday evening when Joanne Louise Limp became the bride of Robert Harrison Flentke.

The Rev. W. Glen Harris performed the 7:30 ceremony. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Limp of Birmingham, chose a gown of ivory satin and tulle trimmed with Alencon lace.

Stephanotis surrounding an orchid formed her bouquet.

Joanne L. Limp became the bride of Robert H. Flentke Saturday in Birmingham. The George J. Limps of Birmingham are the bride's parents and the bridegroom is the son of the George H. Flentkes of Evansville, Ind. The couple will reside in Maryland.

MRS. ROBERT H. FLENTKE

Mrs. John Reiman of Farmington was matron of honor in an ankle-length gown of iridescent blue tafeta. She carried a muff of white chrysanthemums and blue cornflowers.

In similar attire were Mrs. Philip Leighton of Detroit and Mrs. John Carvey of Indianapolis, Ind., the bridegroom's sister.

Also dressed in similar gowns were Louise Mount, the bride's cousin from Evanston, Ill., who was junior bridesmaid, and her sister, Helen Mount, who was flower girl.

Mr. Carvey was best man for Robert, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Harrison Flentke of Evansville, Ind. Seating the guests were Benjamin Redding of Evansville, Ind., Oliver Nicholas Jr. of Byer, Ind., and the bride's brother, George Limp Jr.

A gown of misty blue silk chiffon with matching accessories was worn by Mrs. Limp as she received guests at Oakland Hills Country Club after the ceremony. Mrs. Flentke chose a gown of crushed berry taffeta with matching accessories.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Flentke, both graduates of Indiana University, will reside in Aberdeen, Md.

Dr. LaCore Is Honored at Dinner

Annual Event Held by Employes Club of State Hospital

Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, new medical superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital, was honored at the annual Employes Club dinner held Saturday evening in the clubrooms on the State Hospital Grounds.

Mrs. Clare Young was toastmistress for the evening and Grace Clark gave the invocation.

The welcoming address was given by Earl Hudnell, club president, and a brief history of the club was presented by Mrs. Orben Wilkins.

Bartlett Wager, business executive, gave a brief summary of Dr. LaCore's career before assuming his duties at Pontiac State Hospital.

The superintendent was introduced by Dr. John M. Stevens Jr., newly appointed assistant medical superintendent. Dr. LaCore spoke briefly on his impressions of the hospital and its personnel. He, in turn, introduced Mrs. LaCore and their children, Van and Kathy.

Serving on the committees for the evening were Lyle Saum, Mrs. Harold Hudak, Mr. Wager, Kenneth Elmquist and Robert Hilliker.

Mary Margaret Younce Speaks Vows

Before an altar decorated with palms and white chrysanthemums, Mary Margaret Younce, daughter of Mrs. Lucille M. Younce of West New York avenue, became the bride of Nicholas M. Zdunic at a nuptial High Mass Saturday morning in St. Vincent de Paul Church.

The Joseph Zdunics of West Walton boulevard are his parents.

The bride's gown was fashioned of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. It was styled with a basque bodice and long, tapering sleeves coming to points at the wrists.

MRS. NICHOLAS ZDUNIC

A Juliet cap of lace and satin held the fingertip veil of French silk illusion and she carried a bouquet of white fugi chrysanthemums and plumosa.

Mrs. Carl Smith wore a gown of royal purple velvet with an empire waistline and a portrait neckline for her duties as matron of honor. Her bouquet was composed of orchid fugi chrysanthemums and plumosa.

Ann Zdunic and Patricia Zielinski were bridesmaids and their gowns were fashioned like the honor matron's. They carried bouquets of fugi chrysanthemums and plumosa.

Wearing gowns designed as minature replicas of the honor maid's were Zora Zdunic and Dianne Demo, flower girls.

John Ernoznik was best man and the other attendants included Donald Younce, Harold Beaubien and George Preides.

A wedding breakfast was served at Fox and Hounds Inn, and Dublin Hall on Union Lake road was the setting for a reception Saturday evening.

The bride changed to a moss green tweed suit with brown accessories for a honeymoon trip through Canada and down the East Coast to Florida. Upon their return, the newlyweds will reside in Rochester.

Pictures Shown at DAR Meeting by Norman Roth

A three-dimensional colored picture program entitled "Our Country" was presented by Norman Roth when members of Gen. Richardson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met Thursday with Mrs. Maxwell L. Shadley of Ottawa drive.

Mrs. Lloyd D. Porter was chairman for the afternoon. Members of her committee include Mrs. Porter Francis, Mrs. Eldon Gardner, Mrs. E. V. Howlett and Myrtle Hudson.

Others were Mrs. M. H. Luttrell, Mrs. William Ormiston, Mrs. Orrin Huntoon, Mrs. Allan Monroe and Mrs. George Waller.

Mrs. Monroe and Blanche Avery presided at the tea table which was centered with an arrangement of chrysanthemums, colored leaves and fruit.

Mrs. Gardner, approved schools chairman, is preparing a box of Christmas gifts for the children at Tamassee, the DAR school for mountain children in South Carolina.

MRS. VERNON L. ASHBY

Mrs. Ruby Veazey of Russell street and Raymond Hibbs of Bliss street are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Geneva Hibbs, to Vernon L. Ashby, son of the Lawson Ashbys of Mariva avenue, Thursday in the Congregational Church of Angola, Ind.

Hadassah to Hear Songs

Modern Palestinian folk songs and American classics will be on the program Tuesday evening when the Pontiac Chapter of Hadassah holds its Honor Roll and cultural meeting at 8:30 in Congregational B'nai Israel.

The program will be presented by the women's choral group of the Music Study Club of Detroit under the direction of Don Frohman.

Hadassah, the Women's Zionist Organization of America, has as its purpose social welfare, child rescue rehabilitation and vocational education in Israel.

Mrs. Herman Stenbuck, program chairman, welcomes the public to this program.

Meat Loaf Is Colorful, Good Tasting

Mrs. Herman Gall's Recipe Gets Plenty of Compliments

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

If you like compliments from your guests, serve them a meat loaf made the way Mrs. Herman Gall makes hers for company. It is both colorful and tasty.

Mrs. Gall keeps busy with her family and home care. An active worker in the Commerce PTA, she spent many hours recently getting ready for their annual fair. She is also a Sunday School teacher.

FANCY MEATLOAF
By Mrs. Herman Gall

2 pounds ground beef
1 large onion, chopped
1 large egg
¾ cup tomato juice
¼ cup milk
Salt and pepper
Cracker crumbs to make a firm mixture
4 to 6 hard-cooked eggs
Stuffed olives

Mix together the tomato juice and milk. Add all the other ingredients except the eggs and olives. Spread half the mixture into a greased loaf pan.

Make two hollow trenches in the meat mixture and lay end to end the hard-cooked eggs. Press over them the remaining meat mixture and finish shaping into meat loaf form.

For an added touch press stuffed olives in the top of the loaf in fancy pattern. Bake in a 350 oven for 1½ hours. Baste with additional tomato juice while baking, if desired.

When the meat loaf is sliced, the green and red of the olives, together with the bright yellow and white of the hardcooked eggs, make a very pretty sight. Wait for your guests' compliments; you'll get them.

Victorian Patterns Being Reproduced

The Metropolitan Museum of New York has inspired many designers this year to reproduce fabric replicas of old Victorian print patterns. It seems such a shame that our ancestors couldn't benefit from today's science.

All of these new materials, you see, are washable and can be sudsed in a wonderful invention called the "washing machine."

This cleanser is made, it is claimed, to work deep into the pores and to kill the bacteria causing many blemishes.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

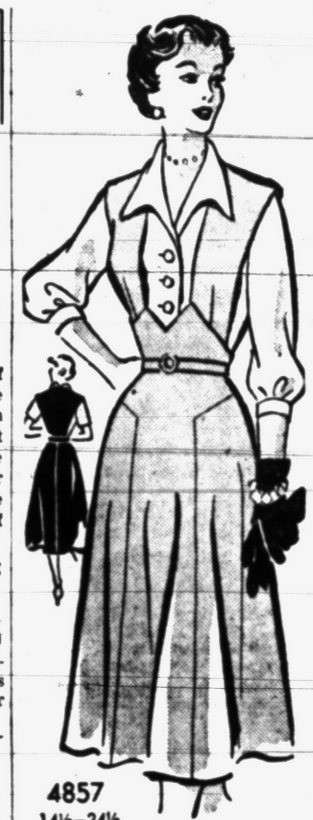

Promptness is a fundamental of good manners. But it is even more important in some situations than in others. One time you must not be late is when you are going some place with a group, when your tardiness will keep everyone else waiting. They will have plenty of time to think while they wait.

And what they will be thinking of you won't be complimentary.

A Self-Evident Truth

The great discovery of all brand-new housekeepers is as simple as a law of nature: Soap and water get things clean.

Man Wants Wedding Bid for Fiancee

Asks Bridegroom for Permission to Bring Her

By EMILY POST

A girl writes: "My fiance received an invitation to the wedding of a friend. Although I have never met this friend, he knows that we are engaged. However, I was not sent an invitation.

"As my fiance would like very much to go to the wedding, but does not want to go without me, he wrote and asked the bridegroom if he might take me to the wedding. Was this the proper thing to do?

"I think not, as it puts the person asked on the spot. He cannot say other than yes when asked point blank. Will you please give your opinion?"

Answer: It was not at all improper to do what your fiance did, and I'm sure the bride will be glad to invite you.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have lived in this community only a short while. Just recently we were invited to a large reception given by a very well-known family in this community.

The hours were from 7 to 10. We arrived about 8:30, passed down the receiving line, had some refreshments and left about 9. Guests were still streaming in so we left without a word to our hosts.

We have since been accused of extreme rudeness for leaving without saying goodnight to our hosts and thanking them for inviting us. Will you please tell me if we were wrong?

Answer: I see nothing improper in what you did. To have gone up and said goodbye so short a time after you had arrived would have been conspicuously discourteous.

Dear Mrs. Post: I work in an office consisting of 10 people — both men and women, some of whom are married. I would like to invite them all to my wedding, but the problem is what to do about their wives and husbands whom I have never met.

Can I send one invitation to the office and invite them as an office group, or am I required to invite their wives or husbands, as the case may be?

Answer: Since your wedding is fairly small, you could just invite them as an office group.

American Style to Be Worldwide

Students From All Over Globe Study U. S. Designing

NEW YORK (UP) — U. S. styles serve as the inspiration for young designers from all corners of the globe who come here to study the American look and take it back to women of their own countries.

Teenagers in Bangkok will be wearing bobbysox and mothers will soon be shortening skirts in Teheran, if this eager group of fashion design students is a fair sample of things to come.

They sketch American models and vie for prizes in designing American clothes. When they get their designing diploma, they head back home with a personal wardrobe of American-bought clothes and a headful of ideas — all American girl-style.

"We like the way you dress and the idea that every woman can be dressed very smartly without spending so much money," said Rachel Goldsweig, a young blonde from Tel-Aviv, Israel, who wants to go back home and design clothes "for the middle class incomes."

In the room with her were three other design students — Badieh Fassihi from Teheran, Monique Laumont from Liege, Belgium, and Fabio Lara, a young man from Manila.

They had just come from classes at the Parsons School of Design, where approximately 150 fashion students, including students from Japan, China, Siam and Greece, are enrolled in a three-year course.

"It's the rising standard of living all over the world," Pierre Bedard, president of the school, said to explain the influx of hopeful dress designers.

"American fashions are more adaptable to smart, middle-income women than Parisian fashions are," said Miss Godsweig.

"Men make better fashion designers in any country than women," said Fabio Lara. He got looks of disbelief from young women of three countries.

"A man thinks whether it is becoming to a woman," insisted the Manila student, ignoring the reaction. "Women think more whether it is an unusual dress. They cannot be so objective as men."

Most of these students hope to open small, exclusive salons in their own countries and cater to customers who can afford to pay. They plan to use some of their native fabrics and take advantage of cheaper labor by adding more handwork to their clothes.

"We wore clothes much like yours for many years," said Miss Fassihi. "But we were maybe two years behind you in fashion."

Now, with their knowledge of American pattern cutting and designing, these young students think they can keep their customers strictly up-to-date.

Marlene Mae Leitner Becomes Bride

Palms, bouquets of white chrysanthemums and candelabra set the scene for the candlelight ceremony in White Lake Presbyterian Church Saturday evening when Marlene Mae Leitner became the bride of Allen Fisher.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Leitner of Oakwood avenue, and the bridegroom's parents are the Raymond McKinley Fishers of Clarkston.

Mrs. Harold W. Fitzgerald was matron of honor dressed in red velveteen styled like the bridal gown, but in a waltz length with capped sleeves. Her headpiece was a Juliet cap trimmed with seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of white chrysanthemums and ivy.

In similar gowns as bridesmaids were Mrs. O. J. Leitner, Mrs. R. L. Leitner, Mrs. William Newman, Mrs. Ronald Newcomb and Mrs. Gerald Johnson.

Mrs. Fisher chose a taupe-colored dress with brown velvet trim and accessories and a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums.

For the wedding trip to Washington, D. C., and New York, the bride changed to a suit of dusty rose wool with pearl and rhinestone trim.

On their return, the couple will reside on State avenue.

MRS. ALLEN FISHER

Honeymooning in Washington, D. C., and New York are Mr. and Mrs. Allen D. Fisher, who were married Saturday evening in White Lake. The Orin Leitners of Oakwood avenue and the Raymond M. Fishers of Clarkston are their parents.

Pomp, Heraldry Prevail at Coronation

King and Queen Heralded at All Saints

Hugh Ambler was crowned king of the Order of Sir Galahad Sunday afternoon at All Saints Episcopal Church, and Julie Hutchins is the new queen of Fleur de Lis.

A fanfare of trumpets opened the coronation ceremony which included vesting, enthroning and crowning of the chosen representatives by the Rev. C. George Widdifield.

The church chancel was arranged as an abbey church with flags and banners of many nations, and shields with heraldic devices decorated the nave.

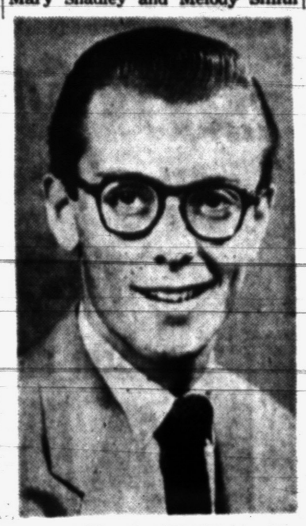

Musical background was provided by the choir of All Saints Church under the direction of Wilha Hutson, and members of the organizations were robed in the costumes of their degrees.

Participating in the ceremony were Carl Christenson, Gerald Barnfather, Floyd Harper, William Heffernan, Kenneth Hoyt, James Wilcox, Elbert Hatchett, Lyle Lampert, William Cole, Brent Hall, Richard Savedge, Frank Crawford and Victor Thomas.

Scott Cousens, Don Sweetman, Ernest Wilcox, Richard Parker, Robert Parker, Michael McDonald, Norvel Sears, Richard Singleton, Gerald Frederiksen, David Richards and Bernard Wright were others.

Children Face Trouble More at Home Than Out

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Remember how you always worried when junior left the house to play when he was small?

Well, Ralph Kuhli of the National Safety Council says you should have worried more while junior was at home until he reached four years of age.

Kuhli said children under four are more likely to be injured, crippled or killed by accidents in the house than anywhere else.

Cortisone and ACTH Used for Snake Bite

CHICAGO (UP) — Cortisone and ACTH have proved of value in the treatment of snake bite poisoning, according to an article in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

A report on three cases was made by Drs. William W. Hoback and Thomas W. Green of the Clinch Valley Clinic Hospitals, Richlands, Va.

They told of three children bitten by poisonous snakes. Each recovered after cortisone or ACTH therapy, in addition to standard treatment.

In each case, the doctors said, the swelling, pain and high temperatures resulting from the bites subsided within a few hours, and recovery occurred within a few days.

Sounds Kinda Feeble

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UP)—When officers made a routine inspection of the Brownsville jail cell of a prisoner listed as Robert E. Lee, 32, they found a hole had been made in the brick wall behind his bed. Deputy Sheriff Bill Gatliff asked what the hole was for. "Oh, I was just trying to make bond," Lee replied.

Wife Gracie in Agreement

Say Variety in Friends, Interests Are Essential for Wedded Bliss

HOLLYWOOD — Absence is the best panacea for a happy marriage, points out George Burns, whose marriage to Gracie Allen is one of the happiest in show business.

"I agree with George," chimes in the omnipresent Gracie Allen, who has been agreeing with George ever since she aped him at the altar by saying "I do."

Burns explains that different careers, different interests and even different friends are basic requirements for an interesting and permanent marriage union.

Too many people try to set meticulous plans for their marital life, Burns feels. Nothing, agree Gracie and George, TV stars, can take the surprise and interest out of the connubial state more than planning every move. By living a life according to blueprint, both the husband and wife rob it of the unexpected little incidents that add flavor and color.

"Georgie and I tried working out our lives according to a set pattern," admits Gracie. "But we had to give it up after a few days. It was all too cut and dried.

"We depend upon each other for certain things, but at the same time, we can work out individual problems as they arise.

"It isn't necessary for us to be together all of the time. As a matter of fact, after each separation, no matter how brief it may be, we both appreciate each other that much more."

George and Gracie do not see each other as often as the public suspects, even though they are teamed together on the same television program, "The Burns and Allen Show." George leaves his home at 9:30 every morning, goes to a hotel to work with the writers of the show and be with them for the greater part of the day.

"Outside of our work," Burns explains, "our interests are varied.

"Even as far as the children are concerned," he says, "we worked out a feasible plan. I am in charge of disciplining Sandra and Gracie takes care of Ronnie. In that way, even the rearing of the children has worked out without a hitch."

Heart Sufferers May Get Help From Marathon

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Knowledge of the effects of exercise on persons suffering from heart diseases may be increased because of a 26-mile marathon run staged here yesterday.

The 30 distance runners competing in the first annual Valley Forge Marathon over Philadelphia streets and suburban roads each underwent a series of medical tests before and after the race.

The tests will determine, their sponsors hope, the impact of tremendous exertion and systematic exercises on the heart and arteries.

X-rays were included in the battery of special examinations administered by technicians from two hospitals who cooperated with the Middle Atlantic Amateur Athletic Union.

Dr. Charles Robbins, a 33-year-old Philadelphia physician for the U. S. Public Health Service and a veteran distance runner, won the race in 2 hours, 26 minutes and 7 seconds.

Three Rivers Man Dies; Is 5th Hunting Fatality

THREE RIVERS (AP) — Dale C. Blood, 39, of Three Rivers, became Michigan's fifth hunting fatality of the season Sunday.

State police said Blood was hunting with a companion, James Herman, also of Three Rivers, just outside of Three Rivers in Flowerfield Township, St. Joseph County.

C. R. Sligh Urges Businessmen to Visit Schools

NEW YORK (INS)—Charles R. Sligh Jr., president of the National Association of Manufacturers, has urged businessmen to observe American Education Week, Nov. 8-14, by visiting schools and learning first-hand about what he called the "major crisis" in education.

In an open letter to the association's 20,000 members, Sligh, a Grand Rapids furniture manufacturer, emphasized that business and industry have a stake in education and should aid in solving the "real problems," which, he said, are facing the nation's schools from kindergarten through graduate school.

From coast to coast, he said, "cities are reporting overcrowded classrooms, deteriorating facilities and underpaid teachers." Enrollments in public schools, he pointed out, are up about a million over last year's peak of 27½ million children.

No Sign of Break in Aircraft Strike

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Negotiations are continuing in two major segments of the aircraft industry—Lockheed and Douglas—but there is no sign of a break today in the 17-day-old strike that has virtually halted production at North American Aviation plants.

North American produces the Sabre jet and Super Sabre, interceptor and fighter planes for the Air Force at plants in Los Angeles and Fresno, Calif., and Columbus, Ohio.

Fears of a general tieup in the aviation industry were eased still further yesterday when members of the AFL International Association of Machinists turned down the latest offer of Lockheed but voted for a continuation of negotiations while they stay on the job. Last week Douglas workers represented the IAM at Santa Monica did the same thing and those at El Segundo voted to accept a company offer of a 5-cent hourly wage boost.

Israeli Ambassador Hopeful for Peace

WASHINGTON (INS) — Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban expressed hope yesterday that world opinion will influence the Arab states to negotiate a peace settlement with his country.

Eban cautioned against impatience in seeking a solution to the thorny Middle East problem. He pointed out that the state of Israel is only five years old.

Eban added that if the Israelis had to wait a decade to obtain peace with their neighbors, the process could not be regarded as too slow.

Eban appeared on NBC's American Forum of the Air. Next week, Dr. Charles Malik, Lebanese ambassador to the U. S. and a leading Arab spokesman, will be given an opportunity to speak. He declined an invitation to appear with Eban.

Kellogg Hospital Head President-Elect of MHA

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Andrew Pattullo, director of hospitals for the W. K. Kellogg Foundation at Battle Creek, is new president-elect of the Michigan Hospital Association.

He will succeed the Rev. William C. Perdew, superintendent of Bronson Methodist Hospital, Kalamazoo, who, as previous president-elect, takes over office today.

Democrats Arm to Beat Senator

Condemn Ferguson for Voting Against the Best Interest of Farmers

LANSING (AP)—In two moves, the Democratic State Central Committee yesterday showed its determination to beat U. S. Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) if he runs for re-election next year.

The central committee adopted a resolution condemning Ferguson for "consistently voting against the best interests of Michigan farmers."

Assembling a record 325 women for an instruction session, party leaders broke them up into congressional district sections to hear the voting records of each Republican congressman from Michigan, but in each one, Ferguson was also the target.

The committee voted to seek an operational and campaign fund for 1954 of $195,000, to be raised by the counties on the basis of 3 cents per capita.

The Democratic State Convention for next year was ordered held in Grand Rapids Aug. 14.

Gov. Williams told the party leaders he would be "pleased to blush" for the Republicans if the GOP-controlled Legislature would pass stronger workmen's compensation and unemployment compensation laws and a fair employment practices bill. This was a reference to a newspaper story the Republicans will try to make Williams "blush" by doing that.

Dies in Car-Pole Crash

KALAMAZOO (UP) — Thomas Blevins, 20, died at Bronson Hospital Sunday of injuries he suffered last Thursday when his car struck a utility pole.

Postal Authorities Check on Magazine

NEW YORK (AP)—The magazine New World Review says its October issue has been held up by postal authorities for the past two weeks pending an examination of its contents.

The monthly magazine—which says its predecessor was the publication Soviet Russia Today—adds that the Post Office Department says it is acting under regulations banning matter "advocating or urging treason, insurrection, or forcible resistance to any law of the United States."

In a formal statement, the New World Review said yesterday that it "does not and never has advocated any of these things."

The monthly said it "is devoted to bringing the American people the facts about the Soviet Union, the Chinese Democratic Republic and the Eastern European people's democracies."

Soviet Submarines Capable of Damage

TOKYO (AP) — Adm. Robert C. Carney, U. S. chief of naval operations, said today Russia has been steadily building up her naval power throughout the world and, in event of war, Soviet submarines could give the American fleet "Serious trouble."

But he said he believes the United States would maintain control of the seas despite probable losses from Russian subs.

He reaffirmed at a news conference that the U.S. Navy has the capability of delivering the atomic bomb in the Far East.

Lake Elizabeth Post Office Kept Name 10 Years, Becoming Waterford Centre

By MAURICE F. COLE

Over a century ago, on the north shore of Elizabeth Lake, there existed a post office known as the Lake Elizabeth post office.

During one of the early trips of exploration into the interior of Michigan made by prominent citizens of Detroit, this beautiful body of water was named "Elizabeth" in honor of the wife of the governor, Lewis Cass.

On the same trip the governor himself was honored in the naming of Cass Lake. Another member of the party was Austin E. Wing, a member of the early Pontiac Company and a renowned citizen and statesman. Wing Lake was named in his honor.

Elizabeth Cass was formerly Elizabeth Spencer of the Virginia Spencers, and she played an important part as Michigan's "first lady" in the early days of the territory.

She was a charter member of the Presbyterian Church, at that time located at the northeast corner of Larned and Woodward Avenue.

Mrs. Cass was also active in other religious and charitable enterprises of early Detroit, and deserves the recognition given her in the naming of one of Oakland County's beautiful lakes.

The Lake Elizabeth post office was established on May 2, 1835. It was located in the farm home of William Terry, the first postmaster, a prominent citizen of the area who earlier that same year had acted as moderator of the organization meeting of Waterford Township.

Terry served the township as justice of the peace and in other capacities. He later moved from Oakland County, upon his appointment as keeper of the lighthouse, on one of the islands in Thunder Bay, an arm of Lake Huron.

Lake Elizabeth post office kept its name for less than ten years. On July 13, 1841 the name was changed to Waterford Centre, and the location of the office was moved to a point nearer the center of the township.

The new postmaster appointed at the time of this change was Caleb Horton, who had come to Michigan from New York state in 1835, and settled in Section 20 of the township.

From the fragmentary records available it would appear that Horton served as postmaster until the office was discontinued on May 7, 1858.

The communities on Saginaw Trail to the north, Waterford and Drayton Plains, were developing as centers of trade, and the need for a post office at Waterford Centre gradually diminished.

There is no record of any covers from this obsolete office, and it, too, must be added to the growing list of Oakland County post offices that flourished for a day, served well their communities of pioneers, and then passed into oblivion.

Monteux Conducts for Ailing Toscanini

NEW YORK (AP)—Pierre Monteux was a hale and hearty 78-year-old conductor taking over for the usually hale and hearty 86-year-old Arturo Toscanini yesterday at the NBC Symphony's first concert of the season.

Toscanini is recovering from a light attack of flu; so Monteux, who is here for the Metropolitan Opera opening a week from today, took the baton for the broadcast, which originated at Carnegie Hall.

It was announced that Toscanini might be able to conduct next week.

Indian to Face Reds on Issue

Meeting May Decide Commie Program on PW Interviews

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The Indian chief of the Korean repatriation commission went to Kaesong today for a face-to-face meeting with the Red high command that may determine the future of the straggling Communist program to woo back thousands of its former soldiers.

The trip by Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya came after the Communists defied a set of ground rules for the interviews which he laid down Friday night.

The 90-day interview program reached its halfway point Monday with only about 10 per cent of the 22,400 Chinese and North Koreans interviewed—a direct result of Communist delaying tactics.

* * *

Thimayya told the Reds to call 500 prisoners (one compound) a day and forget about those they are unable to get to each day. Otherwise, he indicated, the Indians might have to take over the program themselves.

However, the Communists Monday morning again demanded the remaining two thirds of a Chinese compound which was one third interviewed Thursday on the last day of explanations.

Since then the remaining prisoners have refused to come out for interviews. Thimayya told the Reds to call for another compound because it would be nearly impossible to separate the partially interviewed group.

* * *

There has been considerable speculation that the Communists may be seeking to force an argument and bow out of the entire interview program with a propaganda blast that they were treated unfairly.

Their propaganda has been given a shellacking by the overwhelming number of prisoners who have refused to return home—only 64 of 2,205 interviewed have accepted the Red pleas.

Thimayya said his meeting with North Korean Lt. Gen. Lee Sang Cho and Chinese Gen. Ting Kuo Yu would probably last into the night. He said he did not plan a news conference on his return.

* * *

Meanwhile, Allied and Red staff advisers met secretly for the second time in efforts to write an agenda for top-level diplomats who will plan a Korean peace conference.

U. S. Delegate Kenneth Young said the Reds offered a statement which he studied during a recess, but he did not disclose its contents.

Douglas Blames Ike for Farm Recession

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) last night blamed the Eisenhower administration's failure to give farmers the price support "they are entitled to" for a depressed agricultural situation.

Douglas, appearing on a CIO United Automobile Workers television program, said the current farm recession was gaining momentum and would "soon reach into other industries."

He said he was alarmed over the nation's farm situation, particularly over the slump in farm machinery production brought on by the slumping agriculture and cattle prices.

"Farm machinery plants in Moline, Ill., and other places are laying off men and working on a drastically shortened schedule," he said.

Douglas said the Republican administration has failed to meet farm price supports.

Boys Club Elects First Mayor

White Praises Administration

NAACP Official Lauds Certain GOP Actions, Criticizes Others

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A national Negro leader praised the Eisenhower Administration for steps toward ending segregation, and for appointing Negroes to posts not previously held by that race.

Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People, also criticized some actions of the Republican administration. He addressed the Alabama NAACP convention here.

White voiced resentment of the appointment of Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina as a United States delegate to the United Nations. He also said he is disappointed over the Eisenhower administration's failure to submit a civil rights legislative program to Congress.

The NAACP official said the administration was trying to fulfill a promise of President Eisenhower that he would use his executive powers "to eradicate racial discrimination and segregation in all areas under Federal jurisdiction."

White listed these among achievements he said the Eisenhower administration has made in the field of civil rights:

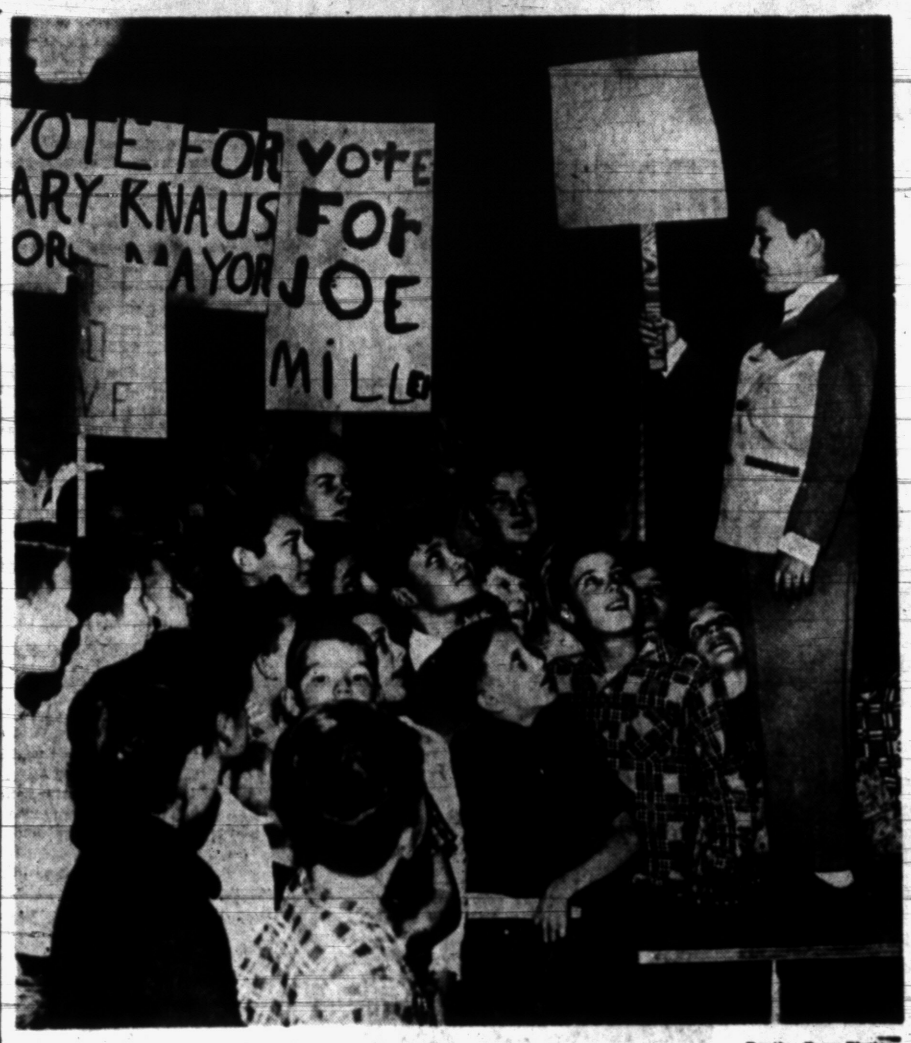

1. The order to cease segregation in schools maintained for the children of military personnel on military posts.

2. The order to abolish segregated facilities for the use of civilian personnel in Navy yards at Charleston, S. C., Norfolk, Va., and elsewhere.

3. Approval of the supreme court decision banning exclusion of Negroes from some restaurants in the District of Columbia.

4. Appointment of Negroes to offices not previously held by members of that race.

White said that in some instances the executive measures extended steps initiated by previous administrations.

TABLE TOP ORATOR—Contender for mayor at Pontiac Boys' Club during the club's first election, Leonard Sharp, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jones of 88 N. Sanford St., instructs members: "Go to the polls and vote." A major talking point on the young politicos' platforms were school marks and other achievements. He lost to Dick Green by eight votes.

Aldermen Also Named by Youths in Group's Initial Contest

Pontiac Boys' Club elected its first mayor and five aldermen over the weekend with all the fanfare of a highly spirited election campaign.

The closeness of the race for mayor was underscored when William V. Coulacos, executive director of the club, announced that Dick Green, 16, won over Len Sharp, 12, by a plurality of eight votes. Green received 144 and Sharp trailed with 136.

GREEN

Serving as aldermen are Joe Miller, 12, Bob Hewitt, 13, Robert Heverly, 12, Ronald Miller, 13, and David Strainer, 11.

Coulacos assigned a two-fold purpose to the election.

"This election, we hope, will spur boys to learn more about the mechanics of our own government and to help them assume leadership whenever possible, as all good Americans should," he said.

The tasks of the mayor and aldermen will be to meet with the club's executive at weekly luncheons to consider improvements at the club. Besides heading various departments at Boys' Club, the newly elected officials will submit weekly reports on activities.

Coulacos said he expects to make the elections a yearly affair in order that more boys will take interest in government, and civic responsibility.

The boys cast votes in secret following a hotly contested campaign for nominations. Potential office holders first submitted petitions signed by 15 boys, which made them eligible as candidates.

Coulacos said that next year's election will be conducted on a party level instead of individual platforms.

"Each year we will tend to make the election a little more complicated gradually teaching the youths the intricacies of American government," Coulacos added.

The officers will be installed in a special ceremony at Boys' Club today at 6 p.m.

The club's mayor is a junior at Pontiac High School and is active in sports and other extra-curricular activities. He is past president of the junior Optimist Club.

CASTING VOTE—David Strainer, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Strainer of 249 Whittemore St., smiles as he casts vote which helped elect him alderman at Pontiac Boys Club. William V. Coulacos, the club's executive director, said that 591 boys cast votes for mayor and five aldermen.

4 Planes Lost but Pilots Safe

Head Winds Eat Up Gas for Corsairs on Way to Florida Base

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Eight Marine corps fighter pilots on a 1,100-mile flight from Puerto Rico to Miami are back at their station today but four of the planes were lost.

Three of the F4U Corsair one-seater planes were ditched at sea and another was wrecked at nearby Homestead yesterday after strong headwinds ate up their fuel supply.

The other four landed safely at Homestead with insufficient fuel to carry them the 30 miles to their Miami base after maneuvers in Puerto Rico.

The three pilots who glided to the surface of the water and abandoned their aircraft — Lt. Thomas H. White of Murfreesboro, Tenn., Capt. William H. Johnson of Parkridge, Ill., and Lt. Forest Dawson of Tucson, Ariz. — were rescued quickly by surface craft.

The other planes headed for the Homestead airport. Four of them landed safely but the fifth, piloted by Capt. Donaold Edwards of Miami, came in with its engine dead, bounced on rough land and slid into a canal. Edwards climbed from the wreckage unscathed.

Pilots who landed safely were Maj. Mervin B. Porter, Maj. William A. Shepherd, Lt. Thomas R. Wiseman and Lt. Gordon W. Holm. Their home towns were not available.

Eight Long Years

Red Prisoner Marked; Gets 72 Hours in Water

This is the first in a series of five articles by New York-born Frank Rohrbacher Jr., who has spent 8 of his 26 years in Russian and Hungarian prison camps. The Rohrbacher family moved to Hungary during the 1930s and Rohrbacher was forced into the German army in the opening days of World War II. He was captured by Russians when he attempted to escape to Allied lines. Released two weeks ago through efforts of the U.S. State Department, he plans to return to the United States before Christmas to live with his family at Stamford, Conn.

By FRANK ROHRBACHER JR.
As Told to International News Service

VIENNA — The Russian officer stood behind a wooden desk and shouted at me: "You are a spy! You have received instructions for espionage from the United States!"

He referred to a letter I had just received from my parents who live in Stamford, Conn.

The "instructions" he referred to were just a message from my mother and father, whom I hadn't seen for three years, that they were healthy and hoped to see me once again in their lives.

The Russian officer, boss of the Soviet secret police in the slave labor camp near Tiflis, where I was a prisoner, was white in the face with rage.

He told the Russian guards to take me to the "cellar" and "leave him there till he drowns." He meant a small concrete basement filled with water more than two feet high, the exact level of the cell's only furniture, a wooden cot.

This was in early 1947. I had been a prisoner of the Russians, at that time, for two years.

I had had one earlier encounter with this same Russian officer, a month before. On that occasion, I was awakened one night by a guard who told me I was wanted at the "NKVD hut," the secret police headquarters in the camp.

The burly, mustached Russian officer sat facing me across the back of a rough, wooden chair when I walked into the room. One weak lightbulb dangled from the ceiling.

"Your name," he demanded.

I told him.

"Where were you born?" was his next question.

"In New York, United States of America," I replied.

"You are a liar!" he shouted. "You are not an American."

"I am an American," I repeated.

He rose from the chair and rushed toward me. "You are a liar!" He roared again, and struck me in the face. He kept pounding my face with his hands and fists until I fell back against the wall.

He seized me, spun me around, faced me to the door and planted his foot in my back, kicking me through the door into the arms of the waiting guard.

"Don't ever," were the officer's parting words, "lie to me like that again."

And then came the second "interview" that ended with my being thrown into the water cell. It was a terrible hole, about six feet wide and five feet long, and the water in it was ice cold.

I was left in that wet dungeon for 72 hours, and for one day of that time I had a cell partner, as miserable as me. But he was an informer—a "stool pigeon."

This man who was thrown in with me was a Romanian and also an inmate of our slave camp. But I knew him for an informer. He had been pointed out to me by a friendly interpreter.

For 24 hours the two of us shared the water cell, and during all that time I ignored him. Finally they took him out and, shortly after, I was brought out, too—my miserable prison clothes soaked, my skin raw, cold and swollen.

"Do you confess you are a spy?" he demanded.

"No," I said.

Why he let me go then I don't know, but he just turned to a guard and ordered, "Throw him out!"

I went back to my barracks to collapse in sleep. And from that time on, for the remaining six years of my captivity in Russia and Red Hungary, I was a marked man.

226 Tots Receive Vision Tests Here

The Junior League of Birmingham, which has just concluded a four-week vision screening program in Pontiac, reports that 226 preschool children were processed through their clinic.

Of those tested, over 10 per cent were discovered to have faulty vision.

The vision examinations, given free in order to insure that youngsters will get a good start in school, again will be offered next spring, league officers say. The program is conducted in cooperation with Pontiac Board of Education and state, county and local health departments.

Rolay Oak Man Wins Lay Leadership Citation

DETROIT (UP) — Ray W. Labbitt, of 1809 Sycamore, Royal Oak, and Wilbur Barnhart of Indianapolis, Ind., today held citations for "outstanding lay leadership in the U. S." from the Board of Managers of United Church Men.

The board awarded the citations at a Saturday night dinner meeting. United Church Men, a unit of the National Council of Churches, was organized three years ago and now claims a membership of 12,000,000.

Pitching Horseshoes

Elderly Gaffers Happy Over Sande's Kadoodle

By BILLY ROSE

As a student of the passing scene—especially that part of the scene which passes on crutches—I'd like to thank Earl Sande and Winthrop Rockefeller for bolstering the morale of the middle-aged people of this country . . .

The youhg squirt with the hand-painted tie says I ought to stop talking about middle-aged folk and put on the lantern slides of Marilyn Monroe? Ushers! Throw the youth out!

BILLY ROSE

Take first the case of Sande, the retired jockey who, at the age of 54, threw away his cane and hot-water bottle, and took up where he left off 20 years ago.

On his eighth time out, the old boy whipped in a winner, and is currently in Florida waiting for the racing season to start.

Now, sir, it so happens that I'm a diffident 54 myself, and unless you're in the same age bracket you can't imagine what Sande's comeback has meant to me.

For a long time I've been thinking of myself as dumpy, droopy and doddering, a candidate for the obit page, up the Styx without a paddle.

Suddenly a gent also born in 1899 hops out of his wheel chair, jumps on a horse and goes lickety-kadoodling around the track at approximately a mile a minute.

Well, make no mistake about it, Sande isn't riding alone. I and a million other aging gentlemen are in the saddle with him, feeling the wind in our thinning hair and the roar of the crowd in our failing ears.

* * *

In our book, Earl Sande, bless his balding little head, is the biggest thing that's happened since an oldster named Ezio Pinza stepped out in "South Pacific" and became the hero Mary Martin couldn't wash out of her hair.

* * *

Am I planning to get myself a pony and go clattering down Broadway? I doubt whether I'll go that far.

However, if Sande wins a couple of races this winter, who knows—I may dash off a note to Marlene Dietrich and ask what she's doing Friday night . . .

So much for us elderly gaffers. On the distaff side, it's my opinion that Winthrop Rockefeller is performing an equally meritorious service for the gals who are 30 or better.

His first act as national morale builder-upper, of course, was his marriage to the divorced daughter of a coal miner—a deed which confirmed what our old maids have long been proclaiming—that women, like whisky, improve with age.

But Rockefeller, trained in the spirit of public service, hasn't stopped there. Just the other day the news leaked out that he was about to settle five million spondulicks on Bobo.

His purpose, of course, is to prove that a second-hand Cinderella can not only marry a prince—she can also divorce him and wind up with his castle and moat.

As I see it, his payoff to Bobo is going to cost the Communists a lot of votes. There are more women voters than men in this country, and no matter how Moscow-minded a gal is, she can't help but be impressed by Winthrop's conscientious and public-spirited use of his great wealth.

Come to think of it, however, the young man is merely following in the footsteps of his remarkable grandfather who, with his own hand, used to pass out shiny dimes to little girls and boys.

Now, you'd think that after these two great public benefactions Winthrop would be content to rest on his laurels. But you don't know the Rockefellers.

If the public prints are to be believed, as soon as he gets his divorce, Winthrop has it in mind to marry—get this—a lady even older than Bobo!

Can you imagine what a wheeler-upper this one is going to be for the morale of the aging dolls who are still paying for their own cornflakes?

"Get in there and pitch" is what Winnie will be telling them. "Strut your stuff, Mabel—faint heart ne'er won fair meal ticket."

Well, I could go on for chapters about what Messrs. Sande and Rockefeller have contributed to the emotional well-being of the nation, but I'm afraid it would only embarrass them.

They are currently the recipients of tremendous public acclaim, and it must all be very depressing to men who are only doing what they think is right.

Eve's Fatal Apple May Have Been Acacia Fruit

That famous apple in the Garden of Eden possibly wasn't an apple at all. It may have been a hard, dry acacia fruit.

While visiting an Arab village at the junction of the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers in southern Iraq last winter, Dr. Robert T. Hatt, director of Cranbrook Institute of Science, was shown a log, traditionally that of the Tree of Knowledge.

Since this log is the only known relic alleged to be part of the original tree, he took some shavings from it and had them analyzed by B. Francis Kukachka of the United States Forest Products Laboratory.

Kukachka definitely identified the log as that of a acacia tree which bears pod-like fruits with hard, dry shells an unappetizing seeds.

Scientists Measure Effect

Think Polio Development May Be Stopped by GG

ATLANTA (AP)—Gamma Globulin, first used widely last summer in an attempt to ward off the crippling effects of polio, may actually have prevented some persons from developing paralytic polio at all.

Some scientists working on a nationwide survey to measure the effectiveness of "GG" think as many as 800 cases may have been prevented—but they don't expect to be able to prove it.

"We confidently expect that the survey will give the first conclusive answer to the question whether or not Gamma Globulin, if given in the week just before a person comes down with a paralytic attack of polio, actually modifies the paralysis."

If it were established that GG can prevent crippling, he said, "it would be extremely important from the public health standpoint — almost as important, in fact, as actually preventing paralytic polio."

The public Health Service's communicable disease center in Atlanta, headquarters of the evaluation work, hopes for other important findings also when information is collected about GG injections given 185,000 children in 23 epidemic areas.

Langmuir said the survey is expected to:

1. Point to leads that might suggest improved methods for predicting polio epidemics in specific areas.

2. Provide some indication whether it is possible "to set up a program of mass immunization with Gamma Globulin in a given epidemic area in time to be effective."

3. Determine the value of giving GG to household and other contacts of established polio cases.

To Open Stretch of New Road in St. Clair County

LANSING (UP) — The State Highway Department announced today that a 5.7 mile section of new concrete pavement on the relocation of M-19 from Emmet to Brockway in St. Clair county will be opened at 5 p. m. Tuesday.

The new section links M-136 at the north with M-21 and replaces an old blacktop road, the department said.

'For the Record'

Show-Business Folks Are Not Gods and They Make Mistakes, Too

Maurice Zolotow, author of "No Business Like Show Business," pays a return visit to For the Record to pin-point the underlying cause of the Godfrey-LaRosa tiff and tell why the public itself is to blame.

Nobody has been more amazed by the nationwide hullaballoo over the firing of a curley-headed baritone by a red-headed basso — than the insiders of show business.

You would have thought the incident was as sensational as if Eisenhower fired the secretary of state because John Foster Dulles wanted to do a guest shot on the Sullivan show.

* * *

We, who professionally live with the stars of stage, screen and television, and conscious—often unpleasantly conscious — that these glamorous creatures are human beings—with all the frailties and foolishness, all the stupidity and crudeness, all the passions and sinfulness of the average man and woman.

* * *

It genuinely puzzles me why people should imagine that just because a man is a superb entertainer, this automatically has to make him a god.

Well, it does nothing of the sort. In fact, very often, the enormous wealth and adulation that is poured out upon actors and baseball players and prizefighters in our society has the opposite effect.

Much of the marital troubles in which Frank Sinatra has been involved, I blame on the fact that when he first exploded into stardom in 1944 he received the kind of wild reception from audiences — that would be enough to make any mortal think he is a king.

The result is that when one of these gods is caught in an embarrassing lapse — the public feels a reaction of horror. And yet the same public will refuse to be told the facts of life about its idols.

It never wanted to be told, for instance, that the late Babe Ruth, for all his genius on the baseball diamond, was a coarse, profligate, hard-drinking, rude individual in his personal life.

Toots Shor, Broadway's most fabulous saloon-keeper, once told me: "Babe Ruth drank at least two bottles of whisky every day—and it didn't hurt his batting average one 'pernt'."

But to reveal these human weaknessess in our idols would contradict the delusion that they are heroic, clean-living gods and so all of us, all the writers who function as transmission belts between the stars and the public, find ourselves trapped in a conspiracy of silence.

* * *

I remember a few years ago when "The Jolson Story" was breaking records in movie attendance, I composed a cynical little article in which I attempted to describe the real Al Jolson and contrasted this with the fantastic myth offered by the movie.

I could not sell the piece to any magazine. The editors all told me the public would prefer not to give up its illusions about Jolson.

This sort of adulation is what Godfrey has enjoyed for years and it translated itself into domination over his satellites and employes.

And this is how a great number of other great stars, whom the public regards as sweet and lovable human beings, behave in their everyday relations with people.

So Godfrey is no exception. The fault, really, is not in him. He cannot help behaving like a human being—anymore than Dick Haymes or Frank Sinatra or Lucille Ball. None of them can help making mistakes.

No, the fault lies with our great American audience which insists on idolizing the men and women of show business—and confusing the roles played on television or in the movies with the reality of these men and women.

Korean Peace Talk Plan Meeting Held

PANMUNJOM (AP) — U. S. and Red diplomats met secretly today on an agenda for planning a Korean peace conference and the Communists offered a statement which obviously interested the American negotiators.

Although the lower level meetings are secret by agreement, U.S. delegate Kenneth Young told newsmen he had taken a 10-minute break "to study carefully their remarks."

Young would not discuss the Red statement, but said:

"We hope we can get an agreement."

Monday's 1 hour and 45 minute session was the second held by staff officers after top-level diplomats in 11 meetings couldn't agree on what to talk about first.

In past negotiations, the Reds often have made their concessions in lower level, closed-door sessions rather than in the publicized high-level meetings.

Existence of "blood prints," that are almost as distinctive as fingerprints, has been announced. They are patterns of the migration of colloidal particles in blood plasma under the influence of an electric field.

Bob Considine Says:

Cause of Night Blindness Long a Mystery to Man

NEW YORK (INS)—During the big war, the last one, that is, considerable consternation was stirred up by a report that RAF night fliers, bombing great blocks of German cities, were told to shoot at Luftwaffe interceptors not by aiming down the barrels at them but by looking a bit to the side.

The enemy could be seen better at night by that method, the manual said. We also heard these men lived on a carrot diet.

Well, sir, all this remained a very dark mystery to me until the other day I attended a luncheon at which the Albert and Mary Foundation awards for 1953 — beautiful miniatures of the winged victory of Samothrace — were given to a group of distinguished contributors to the well-being of man.

One of the winners was Dr. George Wald, 47, professor of biology, Harvard, ". . . in recognition of his outstanding achievements in explaining the chemistry of vision in man."

Dr. Wald turned out to be a quiet spoken man with a sense of story that indicates he would have been a top man in journalism too. For instance he briefly traced the recorded history of "night blindness." Man's first recorded complaint about it is found on papyrus dating back to 1870 B.C., and so is man's first recorded (and still valid) treatment of the trouble.

A papyrus dealing with the complaints of womanhood listed as a treatment for night blindness" . . . make her eat the liver of an ass, raw." It was another way of ordering vitamin A, Dr. Wald told us.

But it took a long time to identify the relationship between vitamin A and night blindness, he went on.

In 1917 the German U-boat blockade became so acute that Denmark was denied fodder for its cattle. Butter production fell off 90 per cent. It was severely rationed. Almost instantly, Danish clinics were filled with children suffering from night blindness. And so, in the midst of a great war, medical science comprehended that the suffering children were suffering only because their systems had become accustomed to vitamin A as received through butter.

But mainly he spoke of the eye and its odd way of receiving light and gloom. One part of it takes light better than another, another part needs to be aimed at an object obliquely, and is further complemented by vitamin A.

Gen. Dean Says U. S. Should Not Woo POWs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. William Dean says the Korean War seems to have given Americans "a bigger comprehension of what communism is, (but) we still have a great deal to learn."

Dean, who spent nearly three years in Communist prisoner camps in Korea, said on an NBC television program yesterday the United States should not seek to persuade prisoners who have elected to stay with the Reds to return home.

"We should tell those individuals what they can expect there but we should not make an emotional appeal for their return," he said. "If we have nothing to offer—let them stay."

WASHES CLOTHES CLEANER THAN YOU EVER THOUGHT AN AUTOMATIC COULD!

Exclusive SPIRALATOR ACTION

The washing action 2,000,000 women like best! The Spiralator's curved vanes travel clothes in a constant spiral path, giving equally thorough washing action to all the clothes in all parts of the tub. No "loafing" at the top, no "overscrubbing" at the bottom. Reduces tangling wear and tear. Deep Overflow Rinse with Spiralator Action loosens, then flushes suds and soil up and over the tub—never through the clothes.

MASTER MIND DIAL gives you two separate completely automatic washing cycles

One for regular fabrics — another for fine fabrics with shorter wash, rinse and damp-dry periods—so important for new "miracle" fabrics. And, if necessary, you can skip, repeat, lengthen or shorten any part of either cycle.

Guests Flee, None Hurt, in Hotel San Diego Fire

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Fire broke out in the Marine Roof Garden on top of the Hotel San Diego last night, forcing 35 persons on the sixth floor to flee their rooms. There were no injuries.

The fire was brought under control in about an hour after virtually destroying the roof Garden. Firemen said a smoldering cigarette was believed to have started it.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Find Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. *Trade Mark

1st Dance Marathon Sponsor Dies at 57

WILDWOOD, N. J. (AP)—Sebastian B. Ramagosa, 57, millionaire race horse and store owner, died tonight in Burdette Tomlin Memorial Hospital of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Ramagosa was said to be the first person to sponsor dance marathons during the 1930s. Among those employed by him were Red Skelton, Frankie Laine and June Havoc.

His enterprises were concentrated in Wildwood, where he owned 76 stores, a local bus company and a turkey farm. Other interests were nationwide. He owned a stable of racing horses which were in meets throughout the East.

He had operated 110 marathons throughout the nation prior to World War II.

By his side when he died were his wife Jeanette and three sons, James, William and Gilbert.

Mitchell Will Quit as Dem Head by '56

WASHINGTON (AP)—Stephen A. Mitchell says he intends to step out as chairman of the Democratic National Committee in plenty of time to work for Adlai E. Stevenson for the party's 1956 presidential nomination.

The party chairman, he said on a CBS television program yesterday, should be neutral among various aspirants for the nomination, and "I'll be partisan." Stevenson selected Mitchell for the post after winning the 1952 presidential nomination.

Mitchell said he intends to serve through next year's campaign for control of Congress, but that if the Democrats want a new chairman before then, "I'm awfully easy to get rid of."

Hits at Permanent, Large Investments

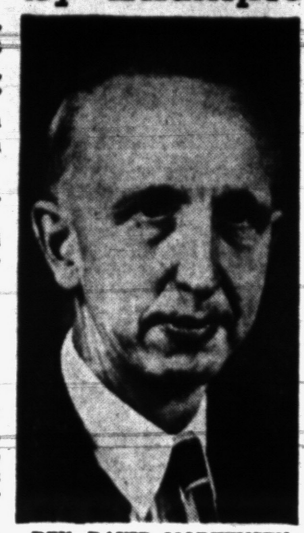

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Jose Figueres, Costa Rica's new American-educated President, has taken office and declared his opposition to "permanent large-scale investment" in this banana-growing Central American republic.

Speaking at inaugural ceremonies yesterday at the National stadium, Figueres said such outside investments constitute "an economic occupation similar in some aspects to military occupation."

When Napoleon invaded Portugal in 1807, the government of the country was moved to Brazil.

Heard in a Pontiac Church Sunday

A Christian Must So Live He Converts by Example

REV. DAVID MORTENSEN

The Aev. David Mortensen, pastor of the Marimont Baptist Church since February 1951, used "Your Gift to Posterity" as the subject of his sermon Sunday morning. The church was dedicated in 1938.

Have you ever considered your gift to succeeding generations?

One of the many joys of the Christian is the privilege which is ours to so live our lives that we will influence others, not only for good, but for God and for glory.

Elisha's life was characterized by miracles so that the people who lived in Elisha's day saw at least 13 mighty miracles.

As a church, we are thankful to God that during recent weeks we have witnessed modern miracles; men and women and boys and girls have been transformed by the power and grace of God.

God uses human instrumentalities in the accomplishment of His purposes, the transformation of human lives. Elisha's life reveals a three-fold secret of the life which can share in this miraculous change, the conversion of the non-Christian to a genuine Christian.

First, Elisha was a man of spiritual dependence.

Elisha was a man of faith and a man of prayer. We cannot influence others for God and the Lord Jesus Christ unless we have become intimately acquainted with Him as personal Saviour and Lord.

The Bible declares "Now abideth faith" and Elisha's life was characterized by abiding faith.

The Word of God teaches, "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much" and Elisha utilized this power.

If our supreme desire is to influence others for God, we must, like Elisha, be men and women of personal faith in Jesus Christ as Saviour and we must make earnest, prevailing prayers for the spiritual welfare of our fellowmen.

Secondly, Elisha was a man who possessed a Divine message and spoke with Divine authority.

When the Israelites were in danger of conquest by their enemy, Elisha spoke, saying, "Thus saith the Lord." In the crises Elisha spoke with authority and delivered God's message.

The message of the Bible is man's primary need today. It is by the Word of God that men's lives are changed to a life of worthwhileness.

It is by seeing Christ in our lives and hearing the "Way of Life" explained by us that people, will experience the "New Birth."

If we are to have the privilege of sharing in this change we must possess a conviction of Divine authority and we must impart to others God's Divine message of forgiveness and life.

Thirdly, Elisha was a man of incorruptible integrity.

Elisha's life was beyond reproach. After the miraculous healing of Naaman, the captain of Syria, Elisha refused the offered remuneration because he knew all of the honor, resulting from the miracle, belonged to God.

We can only share spiritual values if our lives are characterized by uprightness, strict honesty and soundness of character. If we would serve God we must completely surrender to the Lord Jesus Christ.

Of Abel, God's Word says, "He being dead yet speaketh."

Through a life of spiritual dependence, Divine authority, and incorruptible integrity we can influence others so that our life's contribution is truly a "gift to posterity."

In ancient Druid ceremonies, men were placed in straw cages made in the shape of giants or animals and became religious sacrifices when they died in the flames when their cages were set on fire.

Trial Is Stormy for Mossadegh

Challenges Competence of Court, Weeps, Rages, Threatens Suicide

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Angry ex-dictator Mohammed Mossadegh, challenging the competence of a military tribunal to try him as a traitor, today threatned to commit suicide, fired his lawyer and warned the court he might boycott future sessions.

Clad in his customary pajamas, the 73-year-old former Premier told the court he would not appeal any sentence it might mete out.

"I will not accept any forgiveness. I will stay in this prison until I die. If you release me, I will commit suicide as soon as I get hold of the means," he shouted.

"I am not going to attend the coming sessions even if you cut off my head," he declared at the climax of a heated argument with Gen. Nasrollah Moghbeli, chairman of the five-man tribunal.

It was the second day of the trial for Mossadegh's life. As he did on the first day, Mossadegh wept, panted, pounded the table and gesticulated. He made fiery speeches against the British whom he had fought to a deadlock over this nation's vast oil riches.

At both sessions, Mossadegh declared the military court was not competent to try him on charges he tried to overthrow the monarchy, defied the Shah and illegally dissolved the Majlis (lower house of Parliament).

And at each, he used the old argument — the British were the cause of Iran's woes—that once had brought him unprecedented power until his overthrow and subsequent arrest after a bloody Aug. 19 coup led by supporters of the Shah.

Greek Queen Asks Smiths to Breakfast

CHICAGO (AP) — Three young farm children were the envy of their Oswego, Ill., playmates today after breakfasting Sunday with the king and queen of Greece in Chicago.

The youngsters, children of Mr. and Mrs. J. George Smith of Oswego, came to Chicago with their parents to meet 36-year-old Queen Frederika who was unable to visit the Smith farm Saturday because of a cold. King Paul, 51, spent three hours touring the farm and eating a fried chicken dinner prepared by Mrs. Smith.

The Smith's eldest daughter, Nannette, 11, had wept Saturday when she learned the vivacious queen was not with the king when he arrived at the Smith place.

So Saturday night, Queen Frederika telephoned the Smiths to come to breakfast at the Drake Hotel Sunday, and to bring their oldest children, Nannette, Cheryl, 9, and Kent, 5. The Smith's baby daughter, Lois, remained at home.

Ferndale St. James gave St. Michael a big assist Sunday as the Shamrocks won a share of the Suburban Catholic League's 1953 football championship.

Pontiac parochials ended their league season with a 13-6 triumph over Orchard Lake St. Mary in Wisner Memorial Stadium, but 4th-place St. James proved to be the determining factor in the title race when the Dales tied once-beaten St. Rita, 13-13.

The tie game produced a 3-way deadlock between Mikes, St. Rita and idle St. Benedict. This year marks the 1st championship season in 12 years for St. Michael. Shamrocks won clear-cut titles in the old West Side Second Division setup in 1939 and 1941.

Coach Bob Mineweaser's northsiders rolled up 241 yards on the ground against St. Mary, but found the Orchard Lake defense extremely tough inside its own 25-yard line. With the exception of a 43-yard scoring march in the final period, Mikes never penetrated St. Mary's 20.

Shamrocks capitalized on a blocked punt early in the 3rd quarter for its 1st touchdown after a scoreless 1st half. End Richard Adams blocked a kick by St. Mary's John Kujda on the Eaglets' 28, and fell on the ball in the end zone. Conversion try failed. Carl McKinnon intercepted an Orchard Lake pass late in the quarter to start the Pontiac team on its only scoring march.

Mikes marched 42 yards in eight plays, and quarterback Russ Shindorf sneaked over from the one early in the last quarter. Danny Droppa kicked the point-after.

St. Mary's only marker came in the final four minutes. Ed Pilarski hit end Tom Kalasz on a 41-yard scoring pass.

Shindorf and Bud Schwartz were workhorses for St. Michael. Each carried the ball on 17 plays, with Schwartz rolling up 91 yards and Shindorf adding 75. Shamrock line, sparked by center Bob Schmidt, held Eaglets to only 33 net yards rushing.

Lions Win on 2nd Half Spurt

By JACK SAYLOR

DETROIT — Throughout their drive to the 1952 National Football League championship, the Detroit Lions gained reknown as a 2nd half team.

They reverted to form in Saturday night's 17-7 victory over the stubborn Baltimore Colts and were rewarded with a share of 1st place in Western Division of the NFL Sunday when the San Francisco 49ers knocked off the Los Angeles Rams to throw the race into a three-way tie.

Lions spotted the Colts an early seven-point lead before a chilly crowd of 46,508 at Briggs Stadium, but gained a halftime tie and outplayed the visitors after intermission to take their 5th win in seven games.

A mammoth defensive line and bull-dozing efforts of John Huzvar provided Detroit with its principal resistance. Huzvar, 6-4, 240-pound refugee from the Philadelphia Eagles, grounded out nearly two-thirds of the Colt's rushing yardage.

He totalled 107 yards (close to 6 per carry), including 62 in the 1st period. Baltimore's air arm, however, was well checked.

Alert secondary of the Lions pilfered five Colt passes, three by Jack Christiansen. Chris also had a 4th interception nullified.

Lion coach Buddy Parker started Tom Dublinski at quarterback, but the experiment was short-lived. On the 1st series of downs, Dublinski fumbled and Baltimore's Tom Keane recovered on the Lion 38.

Huzvar led the Colts in and Carl Taseff scored from the one. Buck McPhail added the point. Christiansen's 1st interception (in the end zone) saved another Colt TD late in the quarter.

Detroit, fortunate to salvage a 7-7 halftime tie, put on its only 1st half drive to score two minutes before the half. Bobby Layne's passes featured the push. Payoff pitch was to Bob Hoernschmeyer, 10 yards to the end zone. Doak Walker converted.

Lions penetrated deep into Colt territory four times, but the ponderous Baltimore line, held on all except one occasion. Forming the rugged barrier were Alex Agase (220), Art Donovan (270), Sisto Averno (240), Art Spinney (230), Jim Winkler (255) and Barney Poole (250).

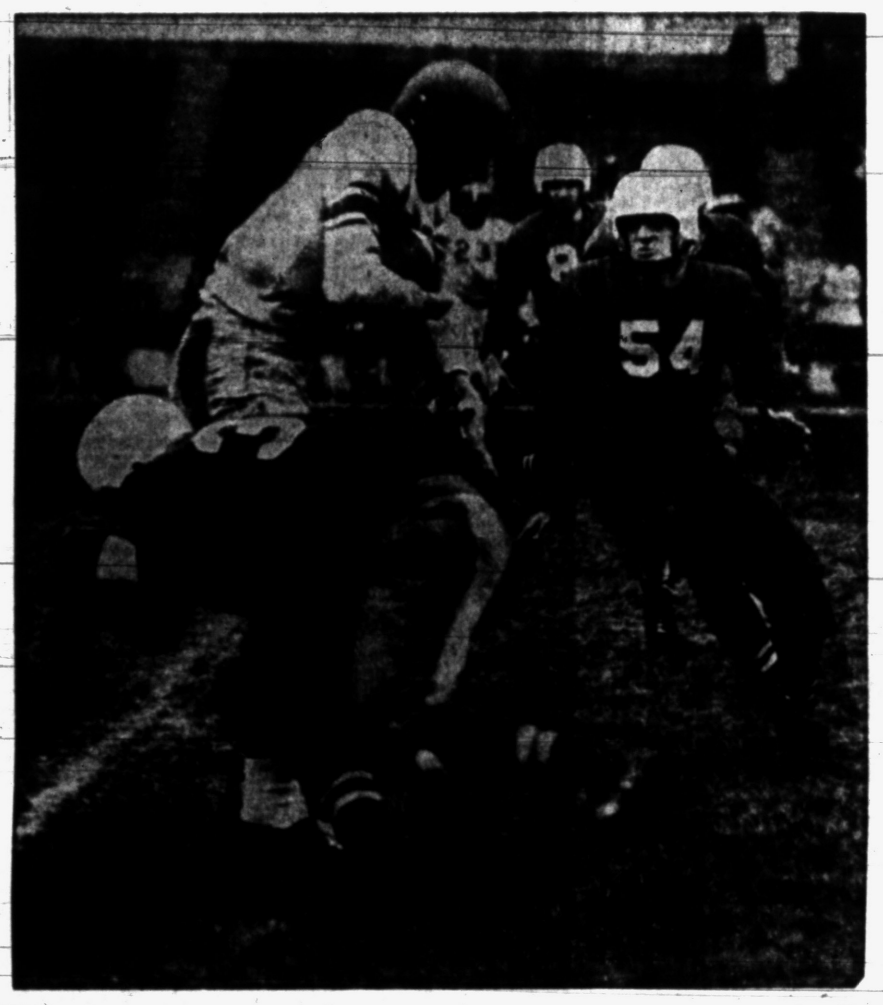

In the 3rd period, Detroit marched to the five and settled for a 14-yard field goal by Walker. Baltimore held another time on its two and again early in the 4th period when Layne fumbled at the one.

Lions finally scored again after 10 minutes of the final quarter. Hoerschmeyer set it up with a 37-yard sprint to the 29. On the 3rd down, Layne passed eight yards to Leon Hart for the tally.

Cline made 61 yards in nine carries for Detroit, while Hoernschmeyer picked up 53 in seven, plus 79 yards on four pass receptions. Lions play at Green Bay and Chicago before returning to Briggs Stadium to meet the Packers Thanksgiving morning.

Notre Dame Pass Defense Is Secret to Success; Lattner Stars for Irish

By BOB HOOBING

* * *

All America Johnny Lattner's outstanding performance enabled the Irish to remain unbeaten after a 28-20 battle with surprisingly tough Penn. Lattner returned a kickoff 92 yards for one touchdown and set up two more. But it was his end zone pass interception in the final quarter, killing a Quaker drive, that assured victory.

It's an old story for the country's No. 1 team, which uses a skilled pass defense as a major weapon in its campaign for the national championship.

* * *

Irish quarterback Ralph Guglielmi threw a scoring pass on the first play after intercepting an Oklahoma aerial to put Notre Dame safely ahead in a game it won 28-21.

And good pass defense is just what the doctor orders for UCLA against Washington, Georgia Tech against Alabama and Maryland against Mississippi as the three teams battle for bowl assignments.

* * *

Ninth-ranked UCLA, idle last week, fights for a chance to tie Stanford's Pacific Coast Conference leaders in the race for the Rose Bowl while the Indians go outside the PCC against San Jose State. The Bruin problem is to stop Washington's sophomore passer Sandy Lederman.

Georgia Tech, No. 6 prior to its 20-7 victory over Clemson, is being mentioned frequently for the Sugar or Cotton Bowl. It draws Alabama, which has come up with a fine passer in sophomore quarterback Bart Starr.

Second-place Maryland, fresh from a 27-6 conquest of George Washington and almost a cinch for the Orange Bowl under the recent Atlantic Coast-Big Seven Conference tieup, bumps into an improving Mississippi team.

* * *

Oklahoma halfback Larry Grigg batted away a pass at the Sooner 16 to stop a Missouri threat and from there the nation's No. 8 team marched to the touchdown that gave them a 14-7 triumph.

* * *

Notre Dame plays North Carolina. Duke, No. 10, which was fought to a scoreless standstill by Navy, will be idle.

PGA Advisory Body Favors 'Czar' for Professional Golf

DETROIT (AP)—Professional golf is going to get a czar, similar to baseball's—if the PGA takes the advice of its advisory committee.

The Professional Golfers Assn. Executive Committee will consider the recommendation later this week. President Horton Smith is on record as favoring a commissioner of pro golf.

The advisory committee's recommendation came shortly after it had elected Chicago's George S. May as chairman to succeed comedian Bob Hope.

"Our committee," May said in a statement, "strongly urges that one man be given the power to make and enforce all decisions involving PGA tournament players.

"Such a man would have authority to handle all the details of the tour and would work on the policy level, of course under the control of national PGA officials."

* * *

May made it plain the proposed commissioner would not "impinge" on any PGA executive powers, but pointed out that while the PGA now has a traveling supervisory staff no one man is designated to enforce decisions.

* * *

Topping today's PGA program is the association's annual banquet, at which its "Golfer of the Year" award will go to Ben Hogan.

'One-Line' Team

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Red Wings have been playing erratic hockey this season, and the reason is simple: they've been a "one line" team.

Their famed "Production Line" of Ted Lindsay, Gordie Howe and Dutch Reibel has been clicking at a record pace. But the other two lines— flops as far as scoring goes.

Lindsay - Howe - Reibel combination has been overpowering, piling up 46 points to monopolize the National Hockey League scoring lead. Howe has 16 points while Lindsay and Reibel 15 each.

So-called "second line" of Alex Delvecchio, Johnny Wilson and Metro Prystai is far behind with only nine points. The "third line" numbering five different players who play at various times, has accounted for only eight points.

In fairness it must be pointed out that Howe, Lindsay and Reibel get all the breaks in so far as scoring goes—they spend the most time on the ice and usually play when the other team is shorthanded.

But the second and third lines have displayed almost no punch in the Wings' first 13 games. For instance, Delvecchio and Wilson have scored only two goals each while Prystai has netted only once.

It was the veteran Lindsay who gave the Wings their 2-2 tie with New York at Olympia stadium Sunday night. He scored with less than three minutes to go, poking in a long shot by Reibel. Rangers had held a 2-1 lead when Lindsay clicked at 17:14.

Wilson scored the Wings' first goal, netting in the second period. New York goals were scored by Ike Hildebrand (his 2nd against Detroit this season) and Bones Raleigh.

Baylor, Texas, Rice and SMU in Virtual Tie for SW Conference Lead

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP) — It'll be probably two weeks before the Cotton Bowl picks its visiting team but there's no hurry about it anyway. The Southwest Conference champion is host and there's such a tangle in the championship race that it'll require more time than that to clear it up.

* * *

As of now Baylor, Texas, Rice and Southern Methodist are in a virtual tie for the lead, each having lost a game. Eight games involving those four teams remain and they won't all be played until Nov. 28.

Leonard Green, chairman of the Cotton Bowl selection committee, said today that it might be two weeks before any team is approached. However, Baylor, Texas, Rice and Southern Methodist are being polled for their preferential lists and by the end of the week, the teams that will be acceptable will be known.

* * *

Mississippi, Kentucky, Georgia Tech, West Virginia, Auburn and Alabama admittedly are being eyed but they have some important games coming up in the next two weeks.

The Southwest Conference race was thrown into a frenzied jumble last week when Texas rose up to lick undefeated, untied Baylor 21-20. Southern Methodist and Rice stayed in the title race by downing Texas A&M 23-0 and Arkansas 47-0 respectively. Saturday Texas plays Texas Christian at Austin, Rice meets Texas A&M at Houston and Southern Methodist engages Arkansas at Dallas, while Baylor takes out from conference strife for a game with University of Houston of the Missouri Valley Conference at Waco.

Freds Absorb Worst Beating of '53 Season

Saturday Loss, 31-0, Administered by RO St. Mary's Eleven

Royal Oak St. Mary handed St. Frederick's hapless Rams their worst drubbing of the season, 31-0, Saturday night in Wisner Memorial Stadium.

Recovery of a St. Frederick fumble on a punt led to the 2nd score in the following period. Halfback Al Belanger scored the marker on a 13-yard run. Irish recovered an offside kick on the following kickoff and marched 47 yards for their 3rd touchdown. Quarterback John Wagner sneaked over from the four.

Belanger shook loose on a 70-yard TD dash late in the 3rd quarter, and Bob Casman ended scoring by plunging three yards early in the finale. Belanger converted on the final tally.

Rams threatened only once, driving to St. Mary's 15-yard line early in the game. However, a holding penalty set the Freds back to the Royal Oak 34 and ended the thrust.

Convalescing ND Coach Sees Team Edge Penn

By FRANK LEAHY
Notre Dame Coach

It certainly was good to be back on the sidelines in Philadelphia Saturday although neither the weather nor the Penn players provided much in the way of comfort for a convalescent.

Game was less than four minutes old when we knew that Penn was geared to take up where they left off one year ago when they tied Notre Dame. From that time until Joe Heap intercepted a Penn pass with four minutes to go in the final period Penn was never out of the ball game.

John Lattner had one of his best days running for Notre Dame and it was his return of two kickoffs and one put which kept us ahead as Penn threatened constantly.

It is interesting to note how the progress of a football season brings out certain factors via scouting reports which makes games much closer than anticipated. For instance, Saturday the Penn attack featured the majority of type plays which previous opponents had worked successfully against us.

And, conversely, our straight ahead running game which has been our bread and butter offense to date was pretty well bottled up by Penn. The fact that Penn was the first single wing team we have faced this fall made them that much tougher to defense.

I'm produd of our team's performance against a fine Penn team whose play was a sincere tribute to a fine coaching job by George Munger.

Illinois was the big news in the Midwest as they hurdled their biggest obstacle en route to the Rose Bowl. Illini still have to meet Wisconsin and Northwestern but their win over Michigan stamps them as one of the nation's best and the team most likely to be seen in Pasadena on January. 1.

To coach Eddie Price of Texas goes the top salute of the week for his upset of Baylor. We played Texas just last fall and so were not too surprised as they have a fine team.

Now that they have hit their stride they will be tough to beat in that Southwestern Conference race.

Bates, Watkins Big Ten Leaders

CHICAGO (AP) — Mickey Bates of Illinois, who threatens to erase an old school scoring record set by Red Grange, has jumped into a tie with Ohio State's Bob Watkins for the Big Ten individual point-making lead.

Bates scored twice Saturday as the Illini beat Michigan 19-3. This gave him a total of 11 touchdowns for 66 points in Illinois' seven games against conference and non-conference opponents. Bates is just two TDs shy of Grange's mark.

Few Fans Know Status of Ivy League, Former Ruler of College Grid; Writer Gives Cornell Title Edge

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—The race in the Ivy League may not hold the close attention of the South, Midwest and Far West. But don't forget this is where football started and it ruled the game for 30 or 40 years.

* * *

It isn't the fault of Ivy League teams or coaches that their ranking has fallen in late years. They took away spring practice from them and that important month meant more than one who is not a football coach, or a player, might imagine.

* * *

They were denied all scholarship aid where any number of sections grant this help to 100 or more players each season. This action may have been a big help to the amateur spirit and their scholastic standing, but it was of no assistance in a football way.

* * *

After all, the average good college player today is working to be a pro for the next 10 years, not to be a doctor, lawyer, banker, grocer, teacher or politician.

Maybe it's just as well. I get word through my good friend Billy Vessels of Oklahoma, now in the Canadian League, that he is picking up from $20,000 to $25,0000 in his first year out as a player, and a job on the side. Not so bad for a kid.

But in connection with the Ivy League, it might be said it is now facing the hottest stretch it has known in some years.

* * *

November can be on fire.. Dominance of the Princeton Tiger is a thing of the past. Hardly a team is out of the running. Lou Little's Columbia team has drawn the worst of the breaks but has battled along with consistent gameness.

* * *

* * *

Princeton has Yale and Dartmouth left.

Cornell, from now, meets Dartmouth, and then Pennsylvania in the last game of the season for both.

First 'D' Cage Loop Managers' Session Tonight

First Class D basketball manager's meeting will be held at the Pontiac Parks and Recreation's office, 35 Hill Street, tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Class D represents teams with players 18 years or under. A player who will reach his 19th birthday before May 1, 1954, is ineligible to compete in this class.

All prospective and past managers or team representatives who are interested in entering a team in the "D" league are urged to attend this meeting.

Purpose of the meeting is to get an indication of the possible number of teams likely to enter the league, issue contract cards, arrange practice periods and discuss other procedures of league operation.

It's Time Out!

Bucks Spanked as MSC Retains 2nd Place

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State was still runner-up in the race today despite its 28-13 victory over Ohio State in what had been advertised as a crucial game at Columbus Saturday.

The trouble was that Michigan didn't cooperate, as all Spartan fans had hoped, by putting Illinois also in the one-game-lost bracket with MSC.

Leroy Bolden, prize football package from Flint Northern High School, is still only a junior and will be around when Michigan State makes its bid again next year.

Bolden had another three-touchdown day Saturday. It was very similar to his performance against Minnesota that ended in a 21-0 MSC decision.

"He was the clutch player of the day," said coach Biggie Munn. "He was magnificent."

Bolden, who started starring as a freshman, had probably his greatest day so far and made a solid bid for All-America honors before a sellout crowd of 82,328.

He was the leading ground gainer with 128 yards on 18 carries.

Bolden's first touchdown came on an all off-tackle smash from four yards out after he had accounted for 38 yards of a 60-yard Spartan drive.

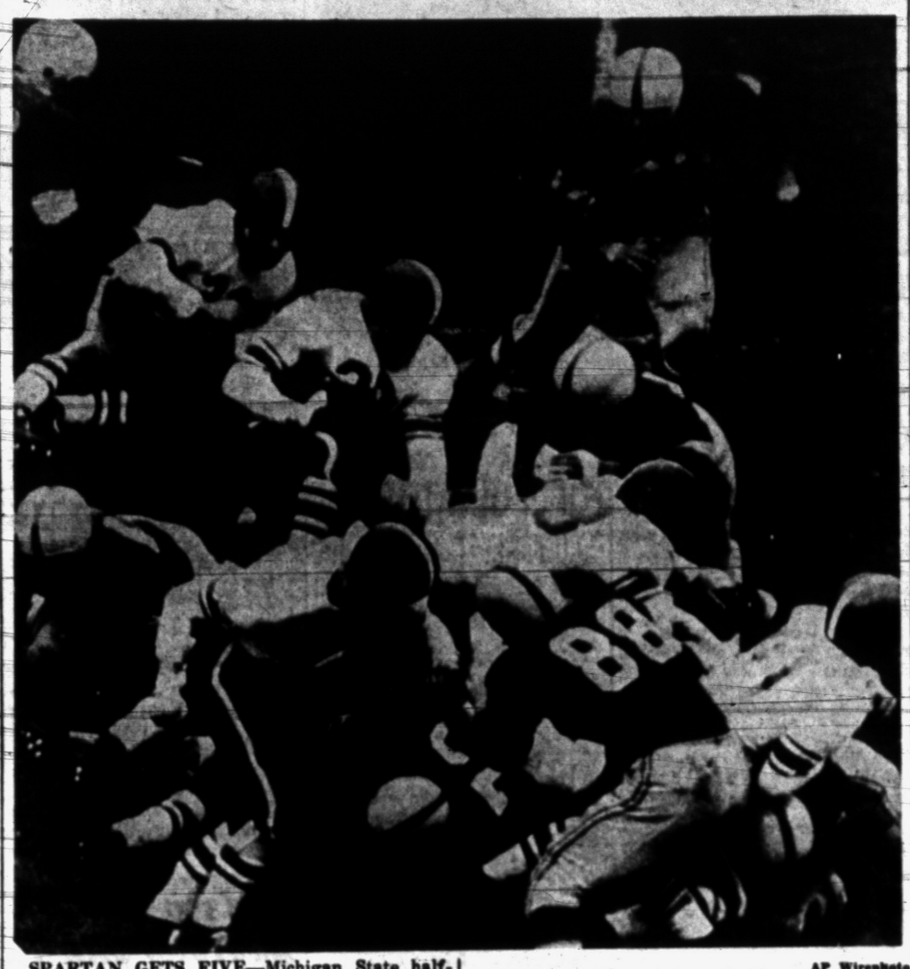

For his second score, Bolden had to do all his own down field blocking through a difficult 38 yards of enemy territory. He brushed off several Ohio State tacklers and out-faked three others at the goal line.

Bolden was seemingly trapped behind his line on his third touchdown run but the combination of a straight arm, some dancing and his terrific speed and drive carried 20 yards for the score.

Bobby Watkins, from 15 yards out, and Tom Hague, on a pass from Dave Leggett, were the Ohio State scorers. Ohio State lost its last chance to get back into the game when the fast-charging MSC line broke up a field goal attempt when MSC was ahead 14-13.

Munn believed his squad came through the encounter in good physical condition, making it easier to get the team down to earth quickly for its classic with Michigan here next Saturday.

SPARTAN GETS FIVE—Michigan State halfback LeRoy Bolden (39) piles through the center of the Ohio State line to the Bucks' 37-yard-line in the 1st quarter of Saturday's game at Columbus. Bolden gained five yards on the play. AP Wirephoto

Illinois Wins, UM Faces Sorry League Season

One More Loss Could Make It Worst in 15 Big 10 Years

ANN ARBOR (AP) — In the wake of a 19-3 defeat by Western Conference leader Illinois, Michigan today faced the possibility of its worst Big Ten football season in 15 years.

Five earlier victories had already assured the Wolverines of a winning overall record this season, however, in conference competition Michigan stands with two victories and two losses and looks forward with little relish to remaining games with powerful Michigan State and arch foe Ohio State.

If Michigan drops either game, Wolverines will have lost three league contests and the most in any season since 1937's 3-3 record. That coach Bennie Oosterbaan's team would drop one of the last two appeared almost a certainty. That it would drop both seemed a fair possibility at least.

Predictions were based on the fact that Michigan was a tremendously keyed up team against the unbeaten Illini. Wolverines made few mistakes and they lost decisively. Revitalizing the team at this late date, appeared as a huge assignment.

Wolverines had the spirit but not the offense to take advantage of two quick breaks in the first five minutes. Tackle Jim Balog recovered an Illinois fumble on the Illini 15. Four plays lost five yards. Illinois took over and ran only one play before J. C. Caroline, spectacular halfback fumbled and end Bob Topp recovered for Michigan on the Illinois 31. Quarterback Lou Baldacci kicked a 35-yard field goal for Michigan's only points.

From there on it was Illinois all the way. With Caroline stepping off five and ten yards at a clip, Illini went 76 yards in the first period. Halfback Mickey Bates scored from the six.

Michigan held the balanced Illinois team off until Caroline's fumble on the Michigan four was recovered in the end zone by end Steve Nosek for a touchdown.

Bates scored again in the third period on a four yard tackle run to cap a 54-yard march in seven plays.

Caroline came out with a 184 yards in 30 carries, while Michigan's best running efforts made by halfback Tony Branoff was 27 yards in seven tries.

Quarterback Duncan McDonald engineered Michigan's one sustained drive that went to the Illinois six before expiring in the fourth period.

Orioles Will Make Pilot Decision Today

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles will decide today whether to keep Marty Marion as field manager or add him to the pay-for-nothing list and hire somebody else.

Art Ehlers, Oriole general manager, was to meet with Marion to discuss the situation.

If Marty goes, the situation would develop into a Hornsby to Marion to "Mr. X" triple play.

Marion's contract with the old St. Louis Browns has a year to run. The Orioles have another year to pay on the old Brown's contract held by Rogers Hornsby, Marion's predecessor.

Badgers Hope to Upset Title Bound Illinois

By TOM BRANNAGAN

CHICAGO (AP)—Wisconsin's Badgers, still nursing hope for the Big Ten title themselves, were looking around today for a large-size monkey wrench to throw into Illinois' high - geared championship special.

Badgers play the undefeated Illini at Madison Saturday. They're the last real hazard in Illinois' drive to the conference crown and a subsequent trip to the Rose Bowl.

Once the Illini get past Wisconsin, their lone remaining opponent is Northwestern—a club that hasn't been able to win a Big Ten game yet. Wisconsin smashed the Wildcats 34-13 Saturday, running the Badger Big Ten record to three wins against one loss.

Michigan State eliminated Ohio State from all but mathematical contention by dropping the Buckeyes, 23-13. Spartans, who play Michigan in their Big Ten finale Saturday, have won four and lost only one conference game.

Even so, the Spartans—considered "a near cinch for the championship in pre-season estimates—now can only hope that Illinois somehow will be tripped up by either Wisconsin or Northwestern.

In this case, the probability would be that there would be either a 2-way or 3-way tie for the title, with Illinois, Michigan State and Wisconsin all in the running.

That's assuming Michigan State can dispose of Michigan Saturday and Wisconsin gets by Minnesota in the Badger finale Nov. 21.

Minnesota and Ohio State each have dropped two Big Ten games but still must be given a mathematical chance—although a highly improbable one—on the basis of their 7-game conference schedules. All other teams play six Big Ten games.

Mihalo Sets Record for 6-Mile Event

DETROIT (UP)—Bill Mihalo of Detroit, unperturbed by snowflakes and 29-degree weather, set a new world record in the six-mile event Sunday in the world walking championships.

The fast-trudging veteran stepped off the six-mile distance in 41 minute, 57 second to top the old mark of 43 minutes, 41 seconds set in 1882 by Jim Meager in New York. Mihalo also won the half-mile and quarter-mile events with times of 3.37 and 1.32.

Judy Back for 1st Film in 4 Years

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Judy Garland is working in a movie for the first time in four years. By her own admission, she's better than ever.

Miss Garland is acting in "A Star Is Born," a remake of the 1937 film classic that starred Janet Gaynor and Fredric March. For a variety of reasons, the set has been closed until recently.

The first two weeks of shooting had to be scrapped when Warner Brothers decided to make it in Cinemascope instead of the normal screen. Also, there were reports of tantrums.

But when I saw Judy on the set, she was just as nice as pie. She giggled her way through a comedy scene in a projection room and was jolly with the crew.

When she finished the scene, she plumped down in her dressing room and remarked that she thought she had improved in her four-year absence. Her last film at MGM was "Summer Stock" with Gene Kelly.

"I think I've become much better since then," she said candidly. "I know it sounds awful to say, but I never really liked myself on the screen before. But now I go to the rushes and I actually enjoy them. I even cry a little at the sad scenes.

"The four years have done me a lot of good. I got out and met the people and sang before live audiences. It improved my timing, and my voice is better, too. I think I look better. I don't have that 'little girl' look any more."

I asked if she felt any trepidation in doing a remake of a movie that is so well remembered by many people. "A Star Is Born" still plays regularly on the TV circuit.

"No, I think we're on safe ground," she remarked. "We are adding elements that the first movie didn't have. We have songs in this one, and Cinemascope. In some ways, the story is improved. The first picture had no scenes to show why the two leads became top stars; there were no scenes from their own pictures.

"But our picture will show why the girl reaches the top. There will be six musical numbers" (by Harold Arlen and Ira Gershwin).

Charles Bickford is the producer, the Adolphe Menjou role, and Jack Carson is the press agent, which Lionel Stander did.

Judy added that the best remembered scenes have been retained. These include the actor's drunken spectacle at the Academy Awards and the unforgettable shot when he swims to suicide into the surf at sunset.

She had to dash off to lunch, and I asked her future plans.

BACK FROM VACATION—Rapidly-rising Universal-International star, Kathleen Hughes, has been on vacation for a week. This, however, did not mean lolling on the sands (as above) for Kathleen. She attended the convention of the Theater Owners of America in Chicago. The star is currently in "The Glass Web," a suspense thriller.

1st Nationalists Leaving Burma

Chinese Withdrawing to Formosa Head for Disarming Point

TACHILEK, Burma (AP) — The first batch of Chinese Nationalists being evacuated to Formosa broke through the Burmese jungle at 9 a. m. today to emerge onto the winding path leading to the disarming point a mile and a half from here.

This group of 50 was headed by Maj. Gen. Li Kou-Hui, commander of the 193rd Division of the 25th Chinese Army.

Earlier the chiefs of the three-nation commission and the U. S. ambassador in Bangkok, Maj. Gen. William Donovan, walked up the 13-mile trail to greet the withdrawing Chinese.

The Nationalists bore aloft a large colored portrait of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and a white banner with blue lettering in three languages — Burmese, Thai and English — which said:

"The United States, Thailand, Burma and Indochina must unite to fight Communists."

Circuit Court Gives 261 Years to 18 in One Day

Eighteen persons were sentenced to a total of 261 years and 30 days in prison during Friday's session of Oakland County Circuit Court, and another person was imprisoned for life.

This is the highest volume of maximum sentences ever handed down in one court day for the past several years, according to Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

Three persons received almost one third the total, with maximum sentences of 40, 30, and 20 years for second degree murder.

Five others received maximum terms of 15 years each on breaking and entering charges, while two received similar sentences for armed robbery and ne for unarmed robbery.

Ziem said an unusually high number of persons facing sentence in one day plus the presence of several bad records accounted for the high volume.

Press Search for Youngsters

All-Night Hunting Yields No Clue to Lost Girl and Brother

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP) — Efforts were redoubled today in the search for a young brother and sister after a posse of more than 100 failed to find any clue to their whereabouts in an all-night floodlighted search.

Objects of the wide search are Thomas Gilmore, 8, and his sister, Carol Anne, 7, who disappeared from their backyard yesterday morning.

Floodlights were brought on the scene by firefighters and police as local officials, neighbors and volunteers combed the wooded area in the hope of finding the children asleep.

The children's mother is Mrs. Dora Gilmore, 42, who was reported near collapse from the all-night vigil. She is separated from her husband.

U. S. Jurist Pay Before Group

Senator Kilgore Offers Idea of Special Bonus in Busy States

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Kilgore (D-WVa) said today one solution to the problem of paying federal judges adequately would be a special bonus for those in populous states.

Kilgore said in an interview he feels this plan would have the best chance of adoption in the 1954 congressional session.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, on which Kilgore is a senior member, approved a pay raise bill for federal jurists in the 1953 session. Each judge under this measure would get a $10,000 boost, except the chief justice of the United States, who would receive a $14,500 hike.

This measure also includes a pay raise of $10,000 for all members of Congress. It never made any progress on the Senate floor.

Kilgore said he was not optimistic about enactment of a salary hike for judges next year. But he suggested it might be possible to put through a cost-of-living bonus for judges in the larger states.

The small estate left by the late Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson is expected to lead to demands in Congress next year for pensions for widows of federal judges. Under present law a federal jurist may retire at 70 on full salary, but no provision is made for his widow.

Witness Continues Testimony on Reds

DETROIT (AP) — Government witness John Lautner took the stand in federal court for the fifth day today as the conspiracy trial of six Michigan Communist leaders went into its third week.

He is the first government witness to take the stand against the defendants Saul Wellman, Mrs. Helen Winter, Philip Schatz, Nat Ganley, William Allan, and Thomas Dewitt Dennis Jr.

The six defendants are charged with violating the Smith Act by conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

Committee to Study Military Pay Scale

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee has undertaken a study of the adequacy of pay scales in the military services.

One facet of the situation which it may examine is the increasing number of resignations in recent years from the military academies at West Point and Annapolis.

Chairman Short (R-Mo) of the House group said he would not propose now a general pay raise for service personnel but would oppose any further cuts in pay or "fringe" benefits.

For avowed reasons of economy, Congress in recent years has cut down on such things as special bonus pay and housing allowances, post exchange services and medical benefits for military dependents.

Earth's Population Now at 2.5 Billion

NEW YORK (AP)—Two scientists say the world now has 2½ billion persons and that its population should continue to grow before stabilizing itself at about four billion.

The scientists—W. S. Woytinsky and his wife, E. S. Woytinsky—said the earth's population had quadrupled in the past 300 years and should reach the 3½ billion mark by the start of the next century.

The couple reached their conclusions in a study financed jointly by the Rockefeller Foundation and the 20th Century fund, which made public part of their report yesterday.

City Feller Goes Scientific, Runs Successful Farm

LANCASTER, N. Y. (UP)—That old adage that a "city feller can't become a farmer" has been defied by a man whose philosophy of farming has been based largely on "labor-saving devices."

Cedric F. Smallidge, of Lancaster, was once owner of the Metalizing Service Co. of Buffalo. He read a few farm journals and decided to take the plunge.

Today, Smallidge owns 200 acres of farmland, has 22 registered Holstein cows and two bulls. The farm is self-sustaining, has 40 acres of pasture and 160 acres cropped with oats, wheat and hay.

And Smallidge operates the whole business alone.

One innovation was the use of surplus rubber conveyor belting for the floors of the stalls. He said straw bedding was pushed aside by the cows and they ended up sleeping on a concrete floor.

"I save time, money, labor and straw by bedding my cows on rubber," he said.

Rubber flooring also covers other parts of the floor and makes for easier cleaning, he said.

He also plans to use an endless chain of steel paddles to carry waste to a spreader. Operated by a two-horsepower electric motor, the chain will save time and energy.

"We've thrown away our pitchforks and cut labor to a minimum," the modern farmer said.

Grains Advance Briskly Today

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains advanced in fairly brisk dealings on the Board of Trade today, all cereals responding to general commission house demand.

In back of the upturn were such items as large impoundings of wheat under the government loan, disappointingly smaller receipts of cash corn and a growing conviction Congress will extend high rigid price support levels when the present farm act expires next year.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¾-1⅛ cents higher, December $1.99¾; corn was ⅛-¾ higher, December $1.48⅞, and oats were ⅛-⅜ higher, December 78⅛. Soybeans were ¾ to two cents higher, November $2.80½, and lard was two cents lower to 50 cents a hundred pounds higher, November $15.25.

Theater Stocks Leading Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market was mixed today with an irregular movement of major groups.

Changes went from around a point lower to major fractions higher. Trading was brisk in the beginning and then turned quiet as weekend orders were cleared.

The entire motion picture and theater division was active and higher with RKO Theaters a feature.

Higher groups included the railroads, steels, chemicals, and utilities. Unchanged to lower were motors, air lines and coppers. Other divisions were mixed.

DeSoto Designs New Idea Car, the 'Adventurer'

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler's DeSoto division is the latest of the cars to turn up an "idea" car—a four-passenger model it calls the "Adventurer."

Built on a modified, 111-inch wheelbase, Desoto chassis, the body was fashioned by a Turin, Italy, body builder. It is powered with DeSoto's 170-horsepower V-8 engine.

The body has long lines with sloping front and rear glass areas. Sixteen-inch chrome-plated wire wheels, somewhat larger than standard, are set off by white sidewalls and fully cut out fender openings, both front and rear.

DeSoto's announcement said the new car offers a means of road testing some new theories of design, but that there is no plan at present for quantity production of the new vehicle.

3 Cars, Truck Pile Up Sunday

4 of Royal Oak Family, 2 Alpena Residents Hurt in Crash

Three cars and a pick-up truck collided Sunday night, injuring four members of a Royal Oak family and two Alpena persons, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

The injured were: John J. Schang, 44, of 3114 Shenandoah, Royal Oak, his wife, Marie K., 47; two sons, Robert, 17, and Thomas, 14; Miss Betty L. Niles, 19, and Norman C. Male, 20, both of Alpena.

Schang suffered fractures, his wife and Miss Niles each received a broken leg and multiple cuts, and Male sustained a fractured pelvis and face cuts. All were admitted to Pontiac General Hospital and are in fair or good condition today.

A northbound car driven by Lawrence Wurdarcki, 62, of 2790 Bald Eagle Rd., Ortonville, on M15 at Oak Hill Road in Brandon Township had stopped for a left turn, when Male's auto struck it in the rear and then crashed head-on with Schang's car, according to deputies.

A pick-up truck, driven by Floyd T. Morris, 50, of 346 Midway Ave., crashed into the wreckage after the accident. Morris told deputies he did not see the warning flares.

Pontiac Woman Treated for Cuts After Car Crash

Mrs. Helen A. Barker, 38, of 147 Hudson Ave. was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for face cuts suffered Sunday night in an auto accident, while a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Charles V., 45.

Barker told Pontiac Police that his auto went out of control when it started to skid and hit a building at Sanford St. and Midway Ave.

Red Magazine Sent to Family

Ex-POW's Parents Call Propaganda Publication 'Pack of Lies'

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — The parents of a soldier who was a prisoner of war in Korea received a magazine from the Communists last week. "Just a bunch of filthy lies," the father exclaimed when he looked at it.

The magazine, postmarked London, England, was delivered here to Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Rollins. It claims to be a souvenir of "the good food and good times your ex-prisoner of war relative had while a prisoner of the Chinese People's Volunteers."

* * *

The Rollins' only son, Charles, 23, a released POW, came home last month and re-enlisted.

Young Rollins was indignant. He phoned Greensboro Postmaster J. Tracy Moore "to see why they let such propaganda go through the mails."

Postmaster Moore said:

"If it contained lottery tickets or obscene pictures we could remove it from the mail. But we have no local authority here to remove it from the mail even though it is lies."

* * *

He asked Rollins to turn it over to postal authorities, however, for forwarding to Washington.

The 94-page magazine was published by the Chinese Peoples Committee for World Peace, Peking, China. It was sent to Rollins by the Britain-China Friendship Assn, 228 Grays Inn Rd., London, W.C.1, England.

The magazine contains several dozen pictures of POWs apparently having happy times in prison, eating Thanksgiving Day feasts every day in the week, swimming and playing games, and living in "a typical POW camp on the shores of the beautiful Yalu River. The scene is pleasant and peaceful."

* * *

A mimeographed letter inside the front cover says, "Should you or your ex-prisoner of war relative wish to be kept in touch with developments in China, we should be glad, on the payment of two dollars per annum, to send copies of "China Reconstructs," the bi-monthly periodical published in China, and other material published by this association."

Note to Pacific Veterans: New Zealand Still Glows

AUCKLAND, N. Z. (UP)—In case you other South Pacific veterans are still wondering after all these years, New Zealand is still "good duty."

The things you liked about it are still there—perhaps more so.

Nixon, a Pacific veteran himself, never missed a chance on his recent visit to thank the New Zealanders for their hospitality to the thousands of Americans who trained there or enjoyed leave from Pacific campaigns.

The land is prosperous and the cities growing. They look brighter and fresher with the drabness of wartime austerity behind them.

But the marks of the war are still on the country.

A big hospital known to thousands of servicemen as "Mob six," Navy Mobile Hospital No. 6, now houses a high school at Auckland.

On the green flats at Paekakariki near Wellington, where thousands of Marines trained for Guadalcanal, only the concrete foundations of an old mess hall and the remains of a concrete reservoir stand as mementos of the immense military encampments of 10 years ago. Sheep graze around them and on the steep green hills above.

In St. John's Cathedral hangs a Marine flag alongside the Stars and Stripes as a constant memorial to the New Zealand-trained Marines who died in keeping the Japanese from threatening New Zealand shores.

Hundreds of American dead once slept in a green hillside cemetery near Auckland. Their bodies have been removed to other resting places.

But over the spot, Old Glory flies daily to let Americans know New Zealand still remembers.

The sun still sparkles on the bright blue of Auckland harbor which once teemed with American vessels. But today, only two trim New Zealand cruisers across the harbor lend any military note.

But the pubs still close tight at 6 p. m. After that you have a hard time finding even a beer unless you are registered in a first-class hotel, where the private lounges serve until 10 or 11.

No matter how modest your hotel, you will still be awakened at 7 a. m. with the inevitable tea and pastry.

You may never get back, but if you do, you'll like it. And so will the New Zealanders.

McCarthy to Quiz GE Plant Employes

"Preliminary reports from the staff indicate the situation may be rather bad there," McCarthy told newsmen yesterday in announcing the forthcoming hearings by the Senate investigations subcommittee he heads.

At Schenectady, GE said in a statement issued by A. C. Stevens, manager of relations and utilities at the plant there, that it "takes great pains and goes to considerable expense" to safeguard secret areas and materials.

But, Stevens added, "the company itself does not, and cannot, grant 'secret' security clearances to its employes. That is the function of the government."

Chiefs Are Disappointing 9th in State Class A Run

Grand Rapids Union repeated as "A" titlist with 56 points, followed by Jackson with 140 and Ann Arbor with 146.

Chiefs were in contention through the first half of the 2-mile run until pace-setter Shelley Ford took a bad spill that cost him a chance for a high finish. Pontiac's first team across the line was sophomore Bill Douglas, in 17th place.

Trenton's 104 points earned first place in Class B, while Alma took second with 119 and Walled Lake third with 125. Don Pounds and Jerry Avery were fifth and sixth, respectively, for Walled Lake. Milford was eighth in the division with 244 points.

Class C-D honors went to Spring Arbor (40), Lansing Everett (61) and Napoleon (93).

Western NFL in 3-Way Knot

49ers Trip Rams Again, 31-27; Cleveland Stays Unbeaten in East

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Unless they meet San Francisco in a post-season playoff for the Western Conference title, the Los Angeles Rams won't be seeing 49er end Gordy Soltau again this National Football League season—and it'll be just fine with them.

* * *

Soltau, former Minnesota star, grabbed off a 17-yard Y. A. Tittle aerial in the end zone yesterday with a little more than a minute left to give San Francisco a 31-27 victory over the Rams. The result left both teams and the Detroit Lions locked in a 5-2 tie for the divisional lead.

While the Western half's big three feverishly were battling for position, the mighty Cleveland Browns continued to power their way past all opposition. They held a 2½-game lead in the circuit's eastern conference today after yesterday's 34-16 triumph over the Pittsburgh Steelers.

* * *

In other games yesterday, the Philadelphia Eagles roared to a 30-7 win over the New York Giants, the Washington Redskins came with a fourth-quarter rush to down the winless Chicago Cardinals 28-17 and the Chicago Bears and Green Bay Packers battled to a 21-21 tie.

Pheasant Contest Approaching Finish

Pontiac Press' big pheasant derby comes to an end Tuesday with the close of the state pheasant hunting season. Hunters will have until noon the following day to enter their birds.

Current leader in the contest is a 3-pound 11-ounce ringneck entered by Edward Keith of 5640 Oster Drive in Pontiac.

Only full-time Oakland County residents are eligible to enter the derby. Entries must be brought to the Pontiac Press for weighing, measuring and photographing. A $50 U. S. bond will go to the winner, with weight only considered in the judging.

Bullet in Head Fails to Stop Baltimore Horse

Lariat Is Near Lead in NY Show Despite Handicap

NEW YORK (AP) — Less than eight months ago, Lariat, a courageous chestnut gelding, hovered between life and death with a bullet between his eyes.

Today, the bullet still is in his head, and he's jumping at full blast in the National Horse Show in Madison Square Garden and still has a chance to retain the open jumping title he won last year.

Lariat is owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Di Paula of Baltimore, but for the past four years, the only human who has been on his back is Linky Smith.

"When I saw Lariat lying in his stall, blood flowing from his head the night of March 17, I would have killed the person who shot him right there if I could have gotten my hands on him," Smith said seriously. "I've never seen a more callous thing."

Smith and the Di Paulas didn't think Lariat was going to live and for 24 hours it was touch and go with blood transfusions and someone in the family watching over the horse every minute.

"But he came around," Smith continued, "and in about six weeks we took a blood count and everything was okay — except that the bullet remains in Lariat's head."

Since he has been back in competition, Lariat has won 16 championships.

3 Champs Picked to Successfully Defend Crowns

Gavilan, Jimmy Carter, Carruthers Favored in Bouts This Week

NEW YORK (AP) — Kid Gavilan, Jimmy Carter and Jimmy Carruthers are favored to retain their world championships this week in the busiest boxing program of the year.

Despite Gavilan's troubles against Carmen Basilio in September, the Cuban Keed is an 8-5 choice over Johnny Bratton at Chicago Friday in his 3rd welterweight title defense of the year.

Carter, gaining new support every time he risks his lightweight championship, is a topheavy 5-1 favorite over Montreal's Armand Savoie Wednesday at the Montreal Forum. Savoie won a non-title bout from the champ earlier in the year.

This also will be Carter's 3rd defense in '53. He knocked out Tommy Collins and George Araujo.

Wednesday—Willie Troy - Randy Sandy middleweight rematch from Washington (CBS).

Friday—Bratton-Gavilan, welter title bout from Chicago (TV NBC—radio ABC).

Fair Tops in Hard Tops for '53 Race Season

Joy Fair of Pontiac walked off with the lion's share of the prizes for the past racing season of the Land O' Lakes Racing Association.

Awards were made Saturday night at the association's annual dinner, attended by an estimated 150 hard top drivers, car owners, mechanics and their wives. Party was held in Gingellville.

Fair, who drove for Red Chester of Drayton Plains, piled up the 2nd place finisher, Chuck Partello of Rvochester, who had 710. Other leading drivers were Wayne Bennett of Hazel Park (629), Carm Ragatz of Waterford (605) and Jim Hasselle of Troy (567).

Separate points were kept to determine the leading cars. Owners of the top three were Chester, Russ Dickman of Waterford and Bennett.

BRANOFF GAINS SIX—Michigan halfback Tony Branoff (17) is away for six yards in the 1st quarter of Saturday's game with Illinois at Champaign. It was Illini back Mickey Bates (44) who raced in to bring him down. On the ground is Wolverine back Ted Kress. Final score was Illinois 19, Michigan 3. (See page 23 for game details.)

AL Clubs Must Provide Player Help for Orioles

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles announce they will have $500,000-plus to spend for players before they pay any income taxes, and it will be extremely interesting to see if the rest of the American League has the good sense to make a number of key performers available to the infant club.

If it has, and the Orioles are improved sufficiently to come off the bottom and get up in the race, everybody will make money and there will be a revival of interest in the league, which has been badly over-Yankeed. If it has not, then the men who fought so hard to get Baltimore back in the big show have been flim-flammed.

* * *

Without help in the form of players of proven character, there is little chance that the former St. Louis Browns can climb more than a notch or two at best, no matter how loyally their new home fans support them. The potential simply is not there for another "miracle of Milwaukee."

* * *

Unless they are given the decent treatment they deserve, the Orioles will go into camp somewhere next spring with one of the slowest and weakest hitting sets of athletes of modern record. The Browns stole only 17 bases last season and stretched only 26 hits into triples, both new American League marks.

The club was a poor last in batting with a collective average of .249, and it did not boast a regular who hit even close to .300.

Yankee Builder Nearing His End

Ed Barrow Discovered Wagner, Made Fielder Out of Hurler Ruth

PORT CHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Ed Barrow, the man who discovered Honus Wagner, changed Babe Ruth from a pitcher into an outfielder and built the New York Yankee baseball empire, is near death.

Barrow, 85, has been in a semi-coma for two days. He is not expected to rally, a spokesman for the united hospital said. He entered the hospital July 7 with cancer, the spokesman said.

In 26 years as business manager, general manager and president, Barrow saw the Yankees win 14 American League pennants and 10 world championships. He retired in 1946 as president.

City Skater Turns Pro, Joins 'Hippodrome' Show

Eighteen - year- old Jacqueline Downer, one of the Pontiac Rolladium's leading competitive skaters, became a professional this weekend with the announcement that she will join the "Hippodrome of 1954" company.

Miss Downer has been an active member of the Rolladium Skating Club since its organization in 1950. Club presented her with a bouquet of roses at the Rolladium Saturday night.

Tom Smith Back in Big Time With Main Chance

By CHARLEY MCMURTRY

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — Tom Smith, one of the nation's leading thoroughbred trainers in the 30's and 40's, soon will be shooting for the heights again — with Mrs. Elizabeth Graham's Maine Chance stables.

Smith, now in his 70s, divulged the good news today. Reluctantly, he said, because his good fortune meant that another trainer was out. He had expected to let Mrs. Graham break the news.

But there was no question that he was proud, and hopeful. He couldn't control a boyish grin, nor the sparkle in his eyes. He's been hoping for that big comeback chance.

Smith has scaled the heights. Twice he was the nation's leading money winning trainer — in 1940 for Charles S. Howard with Sea Biscuit, Kayak II, Molland and others; in 1945 with Mrs. Graham's Star Pilot and Beaugay, War Date and War Jeep, Lord Boswell, Knockdown, Colony Boy and others.

That made Howard the nation's money winningest owner with $334,130, a near record, and Mrs. Graham ditto with $589,170, at that time the second highest in history for one year.

Four months later, in May, 1947, Smith was back on top. He won the Kentucky derby with Jet Pilot.

CASE — Straight Arm Swing

Feel Weight Of Ball — An important bit of advice: Don't break the arm too soon in the forward swing. As the illustration of Junie McMahon shows, you must feel the weight of ball at the bottom of the swinging arc to avoid pulling the ball out of the groove.

That's when the arm pulls to the left and the ball is pointed high on the head pin, inviting splits. Note, in the sketch, the position of the hand. Fingers are behind and slightly to the right.

The hand is about to turn to the right to apply hook turn. The turn must be smooth, unhurried, to a full follow through for accuracy.

Annual Events Now Under Way at Pontiac Rink

First race in a season-long series of speed events was held Saturday, with Gerald Hamlin and Judy Wagner winning in Class A (12-13 years), Richard Hamlin and Karen Gullet taking honors in "B" (10-11) and Henry Ball and Sandra Smith finishing first in "C" (9 and under).

Sixteen area couples competed in the first dance contest of the season Sunday evening, with Shirley Davis and Richard Dahlberg of Clawson taking top honors. Five more contests will be held on consecutive Sundays, with the six winning pairs vying in a grand finale on Dec. 20.

Sad Sam Happy Over Winning Kick for USC

Tsagalakis' Field Goal Beats Stanford in Last 30 Seconds

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sad Sam was a happy man and kicking proof today that the day of the football specialist hasn't passed entirely from the gridiron.

For Sam, last name Tsagalakis pronounced with the T silent, went into the game Saturday with less than a half minute remaining and place kicked a perfect 38-yard field goal that gave the Southern California Trojans a 23-20 win over Stanford.

"I've always dreamed of a day like this," laughed Happy Sam after his teammates carried him from the field on their shoulders. "I was just hoping and I kicked like I usually do."

Even before the referee signaled the field goal was good, the 79,015 fans in Memorial Coliseum had a sign from Sam. He jumped about six feet straight into the air.

A 20-year-old, 160-pound junior, Tsagalakis attsended Manual Arts High School just a few blocks from USC. He lettered last year and gained the Sad Sam monicker as a place kicker. He became even sadder this season with the new limited substitution rule figuring it would limit his activities and perhaps give him a seat in the grandstand.

In Memoriam 1

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR Dear Husband and Father, Adam W. Yate, who passed away November 9 1952.
No one knows the silent heartache,
Only those who lose can tell;
The grief we bear in silence,
For the One we loved so well.
Some day, sometime, our eyes shall see
The face we keep in memory
And God will link the broken chain
Still closer when we meet again.
Sadly missed by Wife Ida and Mr. & Mrs. Frank Yates & Son Robert.

Says Nazi Subs Given to Russia

Whole German U-Fleet Ceded, Wilson Charges in Magazine Interview

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Wilson said today that after World War II "we were dumb enough to turn over the whole German submarine fleet to the Russians."

Wilson, in a copyrighted interview with the magazine U. S. News and World Report, also said he had been misquoted as saying during Senate hearings on his nomination that "what's good for General Motors is good for the country."

He did not elaborate on his remark about German submarines, nor say how many the Germans had when they surrendered. Asked about reports that Russia has the world's second largest navy, Wilson said:

"The first thing I would like to do in my job down here is to work over some of the mistakes of the past.

"When anyone mentons the Russian submarines and the fact that we were dumb enough to turn over the whole German submarine fleet to the Russians, I get a little hot and stay hot for several minutes."

Asked, "did we agree to do that" Wilson replied: "Yes. They got the submarines."

Asked about his controversial statement of a few weeks ago that he does not think the Russians have the capability of waging a sustained atomic war, the defense secretary said:

"I did think we were getting too panicky . . . I know the people would like to have us tell them what we think the nation ought to do . . . I don't think the Russians are going to start a war and move in on us first because they have A-bombs and more than they did just because they've got big land armies on the other side of the line in Europe."

Officer Fires Shot to Halt Actor-Driver

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP)—A policeman said he had to fire a warning shot to bring actor Steve Cochran's $6,000 sports car to a halt yesterday. Cochran posted bail of $325 on booking of reckless driving and evading arrest.

"I just wanted to show my friends how my new sports car would corner," police said Cochran explained.

Officer Roger Deveux said he chased Cochran five miles at speeds up to 65 miles an hour through heavy Sunday traffic. He quoted Cochran as saying, "You never would have caught me if you hadn't shot—that wasn't very fair."

Muskegon Man Named to Head State De Molay

Fire Takes 3 Lives in Kentucky Home

FULTON, Ky. (AP) — Desperately Mrs. Thomas L. Dedman groped last night for her children in the wildly blazing room. The lights had gone out and the room was full of smoke.

But the rapidly spreading fire, started when an overturned oil heater exploded, forced them to give up. They fled with face and neck badly burned.

Mrs. Dedman's two older daughters, Patsy, 15, and Anita, 12, escaped too. Left in the house were Terry Lynn, 7, Donna Fay, 4, and Tommy, 2.

Signature Campaign Off to Slow Start in State

LANSING (AP) — The Prohibition Party's campaign for signatures to keep a place on the 1954 Michigan ballot is off to a bad start — but party officials are not discouraged.

A campaign "kickoff" here over the weekend attracted less than a dozen persons, but state Chairman Ralph C. March of Mendon said petitions would be mailed out to party members. He blamed the poor attendance on lack of preliminary publicity and planning.

The party needs 14,464 signatures to win a place on next year's ballot, but seeks 16,000 to be safe.
