Welfare Cost Rise Persists Despite County's Prosperity

By JOE MULLEN
In this era of peak prosperity in Oakland County, a nagging incongruity exists. Welfare costs are on the rise. This year, the Oakland County Department of Social Welfare budgeted $5,034,192 in county funds to meet relief requirements. The department was allowed $6,895,017 in a tentative 1966 budget, subject to final approval this fall by the County Board of Supervisors. These totals include a 1965 county general relief expenditure of $1,650,000 and a proposed 1966 outlay for general relief of $2,150,000. RELIEF OUTLAY This represents 70 per cent of the total general relief outlay.

State and federal funds are granted for the remaining 30 per cent. Besides the county welfare agency which provides hospitalization, medical care and general relief assistance, a state welfare agency also is operative within Oakland County. The Oakland County Bureau of Social Aid (BSA) administers Aid to Dependent Children, Aid to the Blind, Old Age Assistance, Aid to the Disabled, Medical Care for the Aged and Cuban Refugee Aid programs. In the fiscal year just ended, the BSA operated on a budget of $6.8 million compared to $5.6 million the previous year. HIGHER BUDGET? Indications are that the coming budget will be higher, according to Ora L. Hinckley, BSA supervisor. Why the rising relief costs in a period of low unemployment? As far as the county agency is concerned, most of the increase, or about $1 million, is in hospital costs. George H. Williams, director of the Oakland County Department of Social Welfare, said that rising hospital costs, plus more public assistance hospital cases, accounts for the increase. CITE TRANSFERS Transfer of patients from the former TB Sanatorium — sold to the Oakland Community College — to the county's medical care facility last May, required an added $700,000 in the proposed 1966 budget.

"Hospital costs were raised $3 to $4 per patient day last year," Williams said, "and it looks as though another boost is coming this year." The county agency's hospital budget is $1,947,000 for the current year. Proposed for 1966 is a budget of $2,385,000. Funds saved by the county in (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Medicare to Carry Insurance Extras

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the eighth in a 14-part series on the new health care and Social Security bill by John Troan, special writer for Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

By JOHN TROAN
Besides the basic health benefits provided by Social Security, persons past 65 will be able to buy supplemental insurance through the government to help with other medical bills.

Such insurance, effective July 1, 1966, will cover doctor bills such as house calls by physicians, office visits, and services rendered in a hospital, nursing home or other institution.

However, routine physicals won't be covered. Neither will vaccine shots, nor exams for eyeglasses or hearing aids. But diagnosis and treatment of eye and ear ailments will be included.

Plastic surgery will be excluded if done purely for cosmetic reasons. But if it's "required for the prompt repair of accidental injury," or to fix an impaired limb or other malformed part of the body, the surgery will be covered.

DENTAL CARE
Also covered will be services of dentists for jaw or other facial-bone surgery required by accident or disease but not ordinary dental treatment.

If a patient is treated outside a hospital for a "mental, psychoneurotic or personality disorder," the insurance will cover half of the bill — up to a total of $250 a year.

Up to 100 visits a year to a patient's home by part-time nurses, nurse's aides, medical social workers, and physical, occupational and speech therapists will be covered.

Under the basic Social Security Medicare plan, such visits will be covered only if the patient is hospitalized first. The supplemental insurance will provide such care even if the patient hasn't had prior hospital treatment.

Or it can be used to get 100 visits in addition to the 100 offered by the basic Medicare program.

To obtain such benefits, the home care must be spelled out in a plan drawn by the patient's doctor.

He also must certify that the patient is confined to his home and needs either "skilled nursing" or "skilled nursing" (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Britain Will Try 30 B52 Bombers Pound Cong Mountain Stronghold on N-Accord

Claim Allied Nuclear Force Would Not Be Violation of Any Pact

GENEVA (AP) — Britain hopes to persuade the Soviet Union that a Western Atlantic nuclear force will not violate any treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons, Minister for Disarmament Lord Chalfont said today.

The Russians have told newsmen the Soviet Union will not sign such a treaty if the West sets up its proposed nuclear force. "It is our job here to convince the Russians it is possible to formulate a treaty which makes the dissemination of nuclear weapons impossible both within and outside the Western alliance," Chalfont told a press luncheon.

"But at the same time we have to reserve our right to make our own strategic and defensive arrangements. There is no question of negotiating the Atlantic nuclear force with the Russians here."

Chalfont claimed the Atlantic force is a "minor nonproliferation agreement" which prevents proliferation of nuclear weapons. NO BIG DIFFERENCES

Chalfont said there were no important differences between Britain and the United States over a draft treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

"The differences in approach are very, very small and very tactical," he said. "They are likely to be resolved within the alliance in a very short time."

He claimed that the United States is basically agreed with the British plan for a treaty which would bind nuclear powers not to give atomic weapons to nonnuclear powers and oblige the latter not to make their own nuclear weapons.

Clauses on verification arrangements and guarantees by the nuclear powers to protect nonnuclear powers against attack could be worked out later, the British say.

The United States would like the treaty to contain more details than the British envisage.

Scattered showers yesterday dropped two-tenths of an inch of rainfall on the Pontiac area, helping but not solving the existing drought conditions.

It will be fair and cooler tonight with the low ranging between 46 to 55.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and a little warmer with temperatures in the 70s.

Today's low prior to 8 a.m. was 55. By 2 p.m. the mercury reading in downtown Pontiac was 56.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers made their seventh reported strike in South Viet Nam today, dropping their bombs in the northernmost raid so far announced for the jet bombers.

Others saw the pilot rolling.

Across the border, a U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief was shot down in an attack on the Thanh Hoa railroad bridge, 80 miles south of Hanoi. The pilot was parachuted.

A U.S. spokesman said 30 of the Strategic Air Command's eight-jet bombers dropped 500 tons of bombs during a 45-minute raid on "Viet Cong installations in Quang Tin Province, approximately 350 miles north northwest of Saigon."

SUSPECTED BASE

The raid was carried out at the request of the South Vietnamese government "against a suspected Viet Cong base near the Dax," the spokesman said.

The Dax is a mountainous, mist-shrouded area north of Kontam that the Viet Cong has controlled for years. U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops joined in a regimental-sized strike that overran the Viet Cong-dominated village of Chan Son, 10 miles south of the Da Nang base.

Striking in the face of sniper fire, they killed 25 persons, including about five civilians, and rounded up 80 suspects.

FROM GUAM

The B52s flew today from their base on Guam. Last week they made a raid southeast of Saigon from Okinawa, after being moved there because of a typhoon threat to Guam.

On the ground, a big U.S. sweep southwest of Saigon ended today with meager results.

The Viet Cong battalion supposed to be in the area was never found.

Three Viet Cong guerrillas were reported killed and three captured in the operation which nearly 2,000 American paratroopers and 1st Division artillerymen into the field last Thursday.

PRECEDED BY STRIKE

The ground operation was preceded by the B52 bomber strike from Okinawa.

When arrested, Griffin and Adams were armed with a rifle and a shotgun. They were both charged with attempted murder and are being held at the Oakland County Jail.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON

GERALD R. FORD JR.

Man Is Shot; Duel Blamed

The art of dueling has definitely deteriorated in the past 100 years, and Gabe Van would be the first to admit it.

Van, 41, of 237 Harrison was shot in the back early yesterday morning as he stood in front of a window in a dining room at 410 S. Jessie.

Pontiac police believe Van was the innocent victim of what was described as "a duel" between Henry Adams Jr., 20, of 45 Lake and Thomey Griffin, 18, of 71 Wall.

When arrested, Griffin and Adams were armed with a rifle and a shotgun. They were both charged with attempted murder and are being held at the Oakland County Jail.

Reports Imply Ford Target of President's Ire

Won't Be Baited Into Verbal Donnybrook, Says GOP Leader

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has caused a political stir by accusing a top congressional Republican of violating his confidence and releasing "untrue and perhaps malicious" information about deliberations on the Viet Nam war.

Johnson did not name the man he had in mind but a number of newspapers implied the President's target was House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford Jr. of Michigan.

"Ford said today he would not be 'baited into a verbal donnybrook' with Johnson. To do so, Ford said in a statement, 'would play into the hands of Hanoi, Peking and Moscow.'"

Johnson, using language that was perhaps stronger than any he has publicly aimed at a Republican since entering the White House, spoke out at a session with newsmen yesterday at the LBJ Ranch.

The President was asked about published reports that he was dissuaded from calling Reservists to duty at this time because of a memo from Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

SPECULATION
On Wednesday, the President ordered 50,000 more U.S. troops to Viet Nam. The action followed a week of consultations during which there was speculation that the troop increase would be larger and reservists might be ordered to active duty.

Replying to a newsmen's question regarding the Mansfield report, Johnson said: "That was the result of a man 'who broke my confidence, and not only broke it but distorted it. I would brand it untrue and perhaps malicious.'"

Johnson said the man he was talking about was "one of the prominent members of another party" who had participated in one of the White House conferences that preceded the President's Viet Nam decisions.

Lions Not Wasting Any Time

Time! Time! Time!

That's the big factor for the Detroit Lions who began full squad operations today at Cranbrook to get ready for the annual Blue-White intra-squad game at Washtenaw Stadium Saturday night.

New head coach Harry Gilmer doesn't plan on wasting any of that precious time to round the team into shape.

In fact, Saturday morning won't be the time for the Lions to relax as in past years.

"We will work out Saturday morning, like every other morning, and I expect everyone to be in tip-top shape for the Saturday night squad game," said Gilmer.

COMPLETE GAME
The game won't be an offense vs. defense scrimmage as in past years at Washtenaw. It will be a complete game with the entire squad broken in two teams.

Community National Bank sponsors the game with the cooperation of the Pontiac Jaycees.

Russell: S. Viets Would Vote for Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., says he thinks the people of South Viet Nam probably would choose to go under the rule of North Viet Nam's Ho Chi Minh if they were given a chance to vote.

"I think that it would be highly likely that they would vote in a plebiscite to place themselves under Ho Chi Minh (North Vietnamese Communist leader)," he said Sunday on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation."

The Georgian linked his statement to a belief that the South Vietnamese have little faith in their own government, primarily because repeated shifts in leadership make it difficult for many to know who or what they are fighting for.

"How many people do you suppose know the present leader in South Viet Nam, Gen. Ky?" he asked.

VITAL TO SUCCESS

"He called for a greater political effort, saying: 'I think we have overlooked the fact that a stable government in South Viet Nam is vital to military success in South Viet Nam.'

"Our greatest mistake has been in overemphasizing the military and not putting sufficient emphasis on the civilian side."

"The people there don't have much sense of nationalism to start with. And no cause can ever win that hasn't got a champion that the people admire."

On another topic, Russell said the U.S. military force on this continent should be maintained at the same strength as before troops were sent to Viet Nam.

FILL GAPS

He said any gaps left by departing forces should be filled by "men who have seen no service" rather than from the Reserves and National Guard.

Russell is chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee. Two other members of that group also discussed Viet Nam Sunday.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., appearing on a television-radio program, NBC's "Meet the Press," said President Johnson had received a Senate report on military equipment shortages in Viet Nam. But Stennis added: "We are not at any peril point."

Said Stennis: "It is a secret report of necessity because of matters pertaining to security."

But it has no finding that there are any critical shortages," he said.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., said there is no realistic middle ground if the Viet Nam war is to be won.

"We must either apply our power to win the war or get out, either now by surrendering, or later, after more casualties, through negotiations, if they ever come to pass," Thurmond said in his weekly news letter to constituents.

Thurmond said the victory will require more air and sea power, and: "It may also require that we use troops from the Philippines, Korea and Nationalist China. Such actions would involve a risk of confrontation with all communism, including the Soviets."

U.N. Stand Disappoints Eisenhower

MINOCQUA, Wis. (AP) — Former president Dwight D. Eisenhower has expressed disappointment with the United Nations' position on South Viet Nam.

"I am disappointed that the United Nations has not shown the initiative to get the facts and marshal world opinion behind South Viet Nam's fight for life," he said.

Eisenhower, winding up a Wisconsin vacation Sunday, called for support of President Johnson's policies in the Viet Nam conflict.

The former president said the White House has facts not available to the public, adding:

"It is futile and difficult for the private citizen to talk about what should be done in Viet Nam. To develop opposition in times of crisis is to split the country."

CROWD OF 200

Eisenhower made the comments to a newsmen as he and his wife left nearby Woodruff by private railroad car to return to Gettysburg, Pa., after a 13-day vacation in the Northern Wisconsin lakes region.

A crowd of about 200 turned out in cold and rainy weather for the departure. The former president said, "I hope people come to see me because I was square with them as president and kept the country prosperous and at peace. I'm glad they aren't throwing rocks."

The vacation was his sixth in the Minocqua area since World War II. He stayed at the private estate of New York art dealer Howard Young.

"I had a wonderful time loafing, shooting and fishing," he said, adding he caught nearly the limit of bass in each of four outings.

Asked if he would return in 1966, Eisenhower, 74, replied, "I can't predict a year ahead. At my age you can't plan that far away."

'Red Vow May Halt Bombing'

WASHINGTON (UP) — Undersecretary of State George W. Ball says it is possible the United States may halt bombing raids on North Viet Nam if the Communists publicly pledge to stop infiltrating men and supplies into South Viet Nam.

But, said Ball yesterday, "the proper context for a discussion of that kind is in the total consideration of how we end violence in the whole of that unfortunate country."

He said there are "two elements in what the North Vietnamese are doing."

"Not only are they infiltrating men and supplies into South Viet Nam, but they are also — through the agency of the Viet Cong, which is really their own creation — conducting a guerrilla war against the people of South Viet Nam."

Ball appeared to rule out, at least for the time being, any new bombing "pause" such as the United States ordered earlier this summer. He said that both North Viet Nam and Russia "responded by contempt to that move."

Polaris Sub Named for Negro Scientist

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (UP) — The first nuclear vessel named for a Negro will be christened Aug. 14 by Negro singer Marian Anderson.

The ship is the Polaris submarine USS George Washington (SSN-594). It was named for the scientist whose discoveries of synthetic products from peanuts and sweet potatoes figured importantly in the South's economic development.

It Seems to Me . . .

Crime Growth So Alarming LBJ Orders Investigation

President JOHNSON has named a 19-man commission to dig into the disgraceful crime conditions facing this Nation today.

Almost concurrently, comes J. Edgar Hoover's annual FBI investigation report. The situations that it outlines are an absolute disgrace to this — or any other — country. A group of savages in a jungle would be completely ashamed of such utter disregard for the rights of their peaceful, law-abiding citizens.

We're in a state of collapse. We ought to hang our heads.

Throughout this sheer disrespect for decency stands the figure of J. Edgar Hoover personally who unquestionably ranks as the greatest police officer in the world. He heads the resistance in this country against communism.

Hoover is a stalwart figure. It is he who rips aside the cringing plea we often hear for juvenile delinquents. He insists on classifying them for what they are: "juvenile criminals." He turns a contemptuous ear on the do-gooder's plea of "there's no such thing as a bad boy."

"I," says Hoover grimly, "have encountered a frightening number." His statistics disclose that the crime rate in 1964 leaped 13% over 1963. We're losing ground. The criminals are gaining.

Fifty-seven police officers were murdered last year in the discharge of their duty. One out of every 10 was actually assaulted.

And the Nation has read repeatedly of men and women stabbed, robbed, beaten and even murdered with bystanders lending no aid. The President recognizes that it's high time for an investigation at the top level. The subject is discussed and deplored from coast to coast. The New York Daily News concludes an editorial on the subject with this paragraph:

"How about some determined digging into the question of whether softhearted judges and softheaded Supreme and other court decisions aren't encouraging commission of a large number of crimes."

Britain is currently experiencing a wave of criminal activities similar to ours. This is no particular comfort to us, but is merely added proof that the average man needs more protection. The President's commission faces a big and very, very important assignment.

Where do YOU stand?

Government Workers .

About 35 years ago, one out of every 16 employed citizens worked for the local, State or Federal Governments. In 1953—23 years later—the figure had increased to one out of nine.

Today it's one out of seven. That's absolutely startling. And YOU pay the shot. We are approaching an ultimate objective of outright socialism, which wants EVERYONE working for the government — just as they do in communism.

We're nearing the target. In this the way YOU want it?

America was founded on the opposite principle but the professional politicians who control the country are definitely leading us to the day when private initiative and individual independence may be deadlier than a dodo.

Foreign Aid . . .

CHESTER BOWLES, U.S. Ambassador to India, tells us that our foreign aid handouts should be increased from $435 million a year to $900 million.

He means for one (1) year.

This would double it.

Our nation has given India more than $6 billion and vociferous critics of Uncle Sucker's largesse swear the bulk of it was wasted. Now our Ambassador wants an increase of more than 100%. Of course, this is YOUR money that the profligate Bowles wants parceled out.

I have a better idea. Let's give 'em CHESTER.

And In Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Scouts tell me Michigan's Henderson shows great talent nabbing passes in early workouts. Overheard: "JOHNSON himself picked HUMPHREY as the V. P. candidate. JOHNSON knew no one would ever shoot the President after that."

Scouts tell me Briana Wheatley should be named as one of the most attractive young ladies in our area.

A French family returning from the U. S. said: "We saw the U. S. It's one nation, indivisible, four lanes wide with a stripe in the middle."

THE UN gains two good speakers in the acquisition of Arthur Goldberg. The Supreme Court justice is really talented—and his wife, Dorothy, is a whiz in her own right. The Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus will be on NBC-TV in November in a full hour show.

Oakland County is the motor capital of the world. Chevrolet's "PETE" ESTES and Ford's DON FLY live across from each other on Waddington in Birmingham. Between 'em, they build 47% of all the cars sold in the U.S. Current TV ratings show the leaders in this order: "Bewitched," "Peyton Place," "Dick Van Dyke," "Bonanza," "Beverly Hillsbillies," "Gunsmoke" and "McHale's Navy." News From Home!

David Lawrence Asks:

Does U.S. Really Mean to Fight?

WASHINGTON — The President has spoken, the newspapers on both sides of the Iron Curtain have spoken, and the critics inside the United States have had their say, too. But the crucial answer to what lies ahead in Southeast Asia is still unrevealed by LAWRENCE

The Communists have used the last few days to analyze Mr. Johnson's remarks at his news conference last Wednesday and doubtless have come to some conclusion.

It can only be guessed what they have decided, but it would not be surprising if they became convinced that, despite all the brave words, the American government doesn't really mean to fight to the bitter end and now is desperately seeking a way to extricate itself from a frustrating situation.

For, while President Johnson talked eloquently about America's unwillingness to surrender or appease, his speech reflects a discomfiture over the demands of many Americans, inside and outside of politics, who feel the United States government should get out of Viet Nam as gracefully as possible no matter how prolonged the peace conferences may be.

The Red Chinese and the Soviets, although permitting their press to cry out loudly that America is bent on "aggression," are likely within their private councils, however, to conclude that Mr. Johnson's speech was a turning point in policy, for he spoke of a "measured" operation.

DO NOTHING

This could be interpreted to mean limited forces which might do nothing decisive to checkmate the growing escalation of guerrilla warfare in Viet Nam.

The President in his speech made no reference to the Russians, as, it is said, he didn't want to hurt their feelings and even counts on their help behind the scenes in restraining the Red Chinese.

But who sent technicians and supplies recently to build the missile bases in North Viet Nam? Obviously it was the Russians.

The plain truth is that Red China and the Soviet Union today are engaged in a war against the United States, just as Moscow and Peking made war against the United States in Korea in 1950.

SAME THING

The United Nations responded to diplomatic pressure from Great Britain and France and refrained from bombing the supply lines across the Yalu as the Red Chinese invaded South Korea.

Today it looks as if the same thing is developing in Viet Nam, as American airmen have been cautioned to limit their bombing attacks instead of waging all-out war against the enemy bases and supply lines.

Another stalemate, therefore, is in prospect. For, while professing no willingness to retreat, the administration has adopted a standard strategy.

Will the enemy now misconstrue this as weakness, and will this necessitate in the long run bigger and bigger military commitments anyway and greater sacrifices by American troops? Peking and Moscow alone know the answer.

U.S. Is Anchoring Defense of S. Viet Nam to Seacoast

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (U)—As the Viet Cong takes over more and more of South Viet Nam, the United States is anchoring its defense of this war-torn nation to the seacoast.

"This coastal perimeter we're establishing won't necessarily win the war for us," said one American official, "but without it I hate to think what might happen to us."

Inland military installations have become increasingly hard to secure and supply in recent months.

In the past three months, air-lifts of supplies to inland U. S. installations have increased by nearly 1,000 per cent, and air-lift capabilities are stretched to the cracking point.

During the same period, the number of roads useable for carrying supplies without mounting major operations has dwindled to less than 35 per cent of the nation's total mileage.

HIGHLANDS CAPITAL

The highlands provincial capital of Pleiku, for example, is almost completely isolated from major supply centers. Two weeks ago 4,000 government troops were used to open route 19, 150 miles from the coast to Pleiku so supply convoys could get through for a few days.

But such large numbers of troops cannot be used permanently to keep any road open.

The nation's only railroad in normal times would supply all the coastal towns north of Saigon. But it is cut in dozens of places and unable to supply even the minimum needs of U. S. detachments along the coast.

This has resulted in dangerous shortages at many points.

NOT ENOUGH

At Hap Tan, only 65 miles southwest of Saigon, there has not been enough gasoline to operate generators to light the town. U. S. detachments in many towns have had to go without electricity.

De Nang was the first major American stronghold on the sea. The strategic American airbase there relies almost entirely on ocean shipments.

Several months ago, U. S. landing forces established two coastal bases farther south, at Chu Lai and Cam Ranh Bay. U. S. forces are relying increasingly on the sea for artillery support also. Shore bombardment by 7th Fleet destroyers and cruisers has become routine and a major part of the air support for South Vietnamese ground operations is coming from 7th Fleet carriers.

Increasing numbers of landing ships have been pressed into service to move supplies along the coast.

The Viet Cong in the past let most supplies pass if the drivers paid taxes at checkpoints. This year the Communists apparently decided to close the roads altogether.

The stranglehold has hurt civilians almost as much as military establishments.

Central Viet Nam, which comprises about two-thirds of the land area of South Viet Nam, relies for food mostly on the abundant rice lands of the Mekong River Delta. But with overland supply lines cut, rice is not moving into Central Viet Nam.

Contending that Eastern Air Lines has a "virtual monopoly" of the Boston-New York air route, Senator Edward Kennedy is demanding an immediate investigation. As is the case with too many Washington anti-trust attacks, however, the basis for the charge is somewhat shaky.

What disturbs the Massachusetts Democrat is Eastern's air shuttle service, which operates a flight every 30 minutes between New York and Boston.

There are no advance reservations but every passenger is guaranteed a seat, even if this means that the airline must roll out an extra plane to accommodate a single traveler — which actually has happened 16 times in the shuttle's four-year history.

Establishment of the service, still the only one of its kind, was an experimental effort to convert a liability into an asset.

Eastern was flying more passengers on short-haul routes, like the one from Boston to New York, than most

U.S. Wealth Dissipated on Foreign Aid Programs

A great American once said: "You may fool all of the people some of the time; you can even fool some of the people all of the time; but you can't fool all of the people all of the time." This was before America started the foreign give-away program.

Requests for NEW foreign aid funds so far this year amount to $7,512,467,000. On June 30, 1965, unliquidated funds from prior year's authority to the credit of 15 items amounted to $10,605,738,000. If the Congress approves the full PASSMAN additional $7,512,467,000 that the Administration has requested in new funds this year, then there will be a staggering total available for disbursement in the amount of $18,118,205,000.

The $7 billion requested in new funds this year does not include an appropriation of $1 billion, tacked on to a recent appropriation bill for the International Monetary Fund. Neither does it include the $4 billion annual interest we are paying on the money we have previously borrowed to give away.

How any Administration could dissipate America's wealth on foreign aid as we are doing is beyond the realm of sane, human understanding. I hope that the startling information contained in this letter will be broad enough to cause the American people to demand an explanation.

States Views on Selection of Circuit Judges

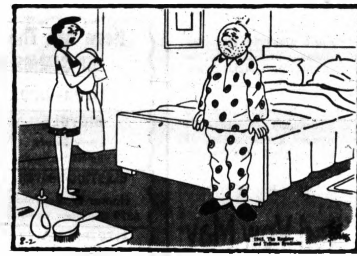

I wish to defend the judicial branch section of the new constitution as it pertains to the selection of Circuit Court Judges. I take sharp issue with the Romney/Kelley proposed amendment to the constitution. It would be a great step backwards. I am quite happy with the judicial section and with the fact that the power of the governor to appoint judges was removed from the new constitution.

I thought the delegates wanted to take the judicial branch of the government out of politics. I thought we were fighting for a principle. I am not ready to say that we were wrong. The Governor and Attorney General have not given this section ample time to prove itself. How can they say it failed? Where are the facts to prove their claim?

I know both political parties love patronage. I can trust the people to make the right decisions. I am sure the majority of delegates to the Constitutional Convention agree with this proposition and that is why it's part of the constitution today.

Gen. de Gaulle refused to participate in the proposed NATO nuclear weapons committee. When the United States Secretary of Defense McNamara launched the idea at a NATO conference last May, it was regarded as an American gesture toward France to induce the general to become more favorably disposed toward cooperation within NATO.

But de Gaulle prefers to take care of his nuclear arms on his own and is of the opinion that such a committee would only bind France's strategic planning. This most recent expression of de Gaulle's jealous attitude toward NATO coincides with his boycott of the E. E. C.

The general's distrust of all organizations which might limit France's freedom of movement is unmistakable.

House Armed Services Subcommittee Resumes Check of Plan to Regroup Reserves

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Armed Services subcommittee resumes today its investigation of the Pentagon plan to reorganize the Army Reserve.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has proposed merging the Reserve into the National Guard. He also would reduce their combined authorized strength from 700,000 to 575,000.

Two weeks ago, when a call-up of some Reserves appeared imminent because of the situation in Viet Nam, McNamara said there was no contradiction between a call-up and a further reorganization of the Reserves and National Guard "to increase combat readiness of the remaining units."

The subcommittee chairman, Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., said more than the current situation in Viet Nam was involved in the hearing.

"What is involved is the long-term strength and stability of the Reserves, not just today, but in the future," he said Sunday night.

The chairman of the Senate Armed Services Preparedness subcommittee, Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., suggested congressional rejection of the merger proposal.

"In my view," he said, "the existing international situation is so tense as to make a merger of the National Guard inadvisable at this time."

Appearing later Sunday on the

NBC radio-television program "Meet the Press," Stennis added:

"As a practical matter, I think it is too late to work out a plan and legislate on it and provide the ground rules. I think our Reserves ought to be given the word to go for another year on the programs they are in now, and take another look at this when it can be done."

Parched Crops Get Brief Relief

Rainfall throughout Oakland County yesterday evening brought brief hopes of an end of drought conditions which have become serious.

Parched crops didn't receive enough moisture to do them much good, however, according to county agricultural experts. "It just rained enough to keep the crops alive a while longer," said Jay Poffenberger, Cooperative Extension Service agricultural agent. "We need a long, steady downpour to get things growing again," he said.

Marshall Mohney, county chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said north Oakland received from one to two-tenths of an inch of rainfall.

REQUESTS AID A shortage of up to six inches in the total accumulation for the summer has prompted Mohney to request federal aid for area farmers.

Poffenberger said corn and forage crops will fall far short of normal yields this year if relief from the prolonged drought doesn't come soon.

Early maturing small grains, such as oats and wheat, will produce satisfactorily, Poffenberger said, thanks to a near-adequate amount of rainfall last spring.

But many area farmers are in danger of losing most of their corn and have already given up hopes for their second cutting of hay, the agent said.

The weatherman today offered little hope of lasting relief, with predictions of scattered showers for Wednesday.

Fire Sweeps Home in Troy TROY — A fire of undetermined origin Saturday afternoon caused extensive damage to the home of Dr. Maolin Han, 6608 Coolidge.

COLLAPSIBLE BARN — Old makes way for new as a dairy barn comes down to make room for the new Crittenton General Hospital on Walton Boulevard at Livernois in Rochester. Land clearing began last week for construction of the hospital, which is scheduled for completion in about two years. The six-story, 207-bed hospital will be equipped to employ the latest in medical procedures and surgical techniques.

Rochester Man MEA Chief

RAY H. LAWSON

ROCHESTER — Ray H. Lawson, head of Rochester High School's English department, has been installed as president of the Michigan Education Association.

He will head the MEA's drive for professional negotiation agreements between educators and boards of education. He will also work for the establishment of a state professional practices act.

Lawson started his teaching career in Pewamo in 1941. He has been with the Rochester schools since 1946. Married and the father of three children, Lawson lives at 144 Linwood.

He is a member of the National Education Association, the Michigan Council of Teachers of English, and the National Council of Teachers of English.

He is also past president of the Michigan Interscholastic Press Association and formerly represented Oakland County on the MEA Board of Directors.

New for children at the Michigan State Fair this year will be a $10,000 grant from the Mott Foundation for Community Affairs and $10,000 in matching funds from the school district.

Director Hired for Program

ROCHESTER — The school system has hired a director for its Mott community school program which will be put into operation Aug. 16.

He is Walter Cooper, a teacher in the Flint public schools. For the past year he was in the Mott training program.

His duties will include getting up community programs, recreational activities, classes, cultural programs and adult tutoring and social agencies in the Brooklands school area.

The program is financed by a $10,000 grant from the Mott Foundation for Community Affairs and $10,000 in matching funds from the school district.

Scouts to Take 10-Day Cruise

23 Boys, 13 Adults to Participate in Trip

ROCHESTER — Members of Sea Scout Ship No. 138 will embark Friday on a 10-day Great Lakes cruise.

Some 23 Rochester area boys, accompanied by 13 adults, will participate in the Lake Huron-Georgian Bay cruise aboard the 72-foot yawl Katherine II and the 65-foot ketch Great Bear.

Sailing from Port Huron, the group will dock at Mackinac Island for sightseeing. The return trip will include stops at several Canadian ports.

The scouts sailed on both ships last summer. They plan to make the Great Lakes cruise an annual event.

Advisers to the unit are Harry S. Huber of 167 Winny, Avon Township, skipper; Donald Campbell of 2745 Tallahassee, Avon Township, first mate; Edward Handyside of 1100 N. Livernois, Avon Township, second mate; and James Kemler of 424 W. 4th, third mate.

State Fair Will Honor Old Timers

Outstanding senior citizens and veteran fairgoers will be honored on the special day set aside for them at the Michigan State Fair this month.

Three contests will highlight their activities at the State Fairgrounds in Detroit.

Old Timers' Day will be on a Monday (Aug. 30) this year instead of a Wednesday as it has been in the past.

Deadlines for entering the contests are less than a month away.

Two "Senior Citizen of the Year" awards will be presented — one for community service and the other for leadership.

NOMINATION FORMS Nomination forms can be obtained from William J. Hahn, director of special events, and should be returned to him at the fairgrounds by Aug. 20.

Shut-ins who write the best letters describing fair experiences of 50 or more years ago will receive cash prizes and special awards.

A panel will judge the entries, which also should be sent to Hahn by Aug. 20.

In addition, five prizes will be given for the best pictures taken at any Michigan State Fair before 1920.

QUALIFIED PHOTOGRAPHS Persons who have qualified photographs—but are not Old Timers can have them entered by any Michigan senior citizen. Photos, which will be returned if requested, must be in Hahn's office by Aug. 25.

Singleton Unit to Hold Meeting at Golf Club

Mexico City Cleaning Up

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The grime of centuries is being scrubbed from ancient buildings as Mexico City gets ready to play host to the 1968 Olympic games.

Structures so old they are considered national monuments dot this capital of 5.5 million.

City officials have ordered the old structures cleaned up, and once dark buildings are emerging ivory to almost white.

Says Negro Faces Long Road on Rights

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Negro faces a "long and difficult road" in taking advantage of new rights he has won, says Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League.

"The gap remains wide, intolerably, needlessly, unbearably wide," Young told the organization's opening session of its annual conference Sunday night. He proposed a "revolution of fulfillment" calling for federal help in improving Negroes' living standards and meeting their health and welfare needs.

"We used a major effort to break the color line in child adoptions," he said. "The courts must abandon the use of racial factors in adoptions."

HOUSING LEGISLATION

Young urged a federal housing act "to break up the immoral and restrictive covenants which have produced a system of intolerable and inhuman ghettos."

He told the conference, attended by about 1,000 delegates: "The Negro citizen wants racial peace, but a peace based on justice. He wants order, but the same law for black men as for white."

Another speaker, Lawrence Cardinal Shehan, archbishop of Baltimore, urged cooperation between whites and Negroes and avoidance of extremism.

He said expressions of hatred could "negate that step-by-step progress by which alone true victory can be won." The cardinal also said Roman Catholic priests "have a definite role to play" in civil rights demonstrations that are peaceful and legal.

Young, speaking of Negro opportunities, said, "We are tired of seeing every second colored family living in poverty as compared with every fifth white family. We are tired of trying to live on an annual income of only $5 per cent of that enjoyed by the majority of American families. We are tired of an unemployment rate more than twice that for white workers."

"We can no longer endure a condition in which twice as many Negro infants die during their first year because of discriminatory medical care. We cannot bear witness to 44 per cent of our citizens living in slums compared with 13 per cent for whites."

Bill Berry, Urban League head in Chicago, told a news conference: "There is a spiritual lynching of Negroes in the North. They suffer from slum shock. They are being killed a little every day as long as they live."

Korea to Get These Birds

TOKYO (AP)—More than 2,000 pigeons that have been playing havoc with the flowers in Tokyo's Hibiya Park will soon find a new home in Seoul, South Korea.

The Korean Carrier Association offered to give the pigeons a home in Seoul's birdless Namsan Park.

Park attendants began catching the birds with nets today but could not say how long the job would take. The pigeons will be flown to Seoul by jet airplanes.

Ex-Policeman Questioned in Statue Theft

SANTA FE, N.M. (UPI)—A former Albuquerque policeman was being held in the Santa Fe city jail today on suspicion of being implicated in the theft of an estimated $12,000 in religious statues from New Mexico churches.

The suspect, John F. Sandoval, 25, was charged with grand larceny and possession of stolen goods by Santa Fe Dist. Atty. Al Sanchez early yesterday.

Santa Fe police said Sandoval was picked up in the city late Saturday for questioning. He was booked and jailed early yesterday.

Albuquerque police said they recovered one of the statues, a figure of St. Anthony and the Christ child. The figure of Christ, however, was missing.

A total of 18 statues was recovered—13 by the Santa Fe city police, 4 by state police and the one in Albuquerque.

Other statues are still missing but believed in Albuquerque or Taos, N.M.

Hitches Ride to Aquarium

Pacific Sea Lion May Be Maryland Escapee

NEW YORK (AP)—A hitchhiking sea lion far away from its Pacific Ocean habitat hopped aboard a barge once too often and landed in the Coney Island aquarium.

The 60-pound two-year-old female jumped aboard the vessel Saturday 10 miles out in the Atlantic, leaped off, and then hopped on deck again. Crewmen caught her and took her to the aquarium.

"Finding a Pacific Coast sea lion in Atlantic waters is like finding a polar bear in Hawaii," said aquarium director Paul Montreuil.

"Girl," as she has been named, may have been among the more than a dozen sea lions that escaped several weeks ago from an Ocean City, Md., aquarium.

She is bothered by a 12-inch patch of tar on her chest.

Montreuil said she would get antibiotics today by mouth if she is eating, or by injection if she refuses food.

The first modern Westerner to visit the Hawaiian Islands was Capt. James Cook, British explorer who was killed in 1779 during a fray with the natives over a stolen boat.

Fossil Fish Are Moving Into Field of Art

By JERRY BUCK
NEW YORK (AP) — Painters of soup cans and sculptors of smashed automobiles had best look to their innovations — the fossil fish has arrived.

This newest thing in art is the brainchild of a New York stockbroker, Joseph S. Clark Jr., 36, son of the Pennsylvania senator.

The fossil fish was a long time reaching the market. Clark, an amateur geologist, figures they may be as old as 62 million years. His interest in geology led him to discovery of the aesthetic value of fossils.

The reddish fossils, embedded in slabs of creamy limestone, are hung on the wall like pictures. The delicate skeleton of the fish appears to have been sculpted.

OPTICAL ART
"The fossils are op art," said Clark, who noted that op art, or optical art, leans heavily on naturalistic objects.

The fish command a price of $100 to $1,700, depending on size. Most are only a few inches long, but a seven-foot alligator garfish now being prepared is expected to bring up to $30,000.

The fossils come from the Green River basin in southwestern Wyoming, where Clark's partner, Carl J. Ulrich of Kemmerer, Wyo., digs up the limestone slabs and readies them for shipment. The partnership is named, appropriately, the Pescadora Co.

Clark sells the fossils from his apartment. His wife, Felicia, handles the business end of the partnership.

BEGAN IN JULY
His association with fossil art began last July.

Driving from the Grand Tetons in Wyoming, to Denver, Colo., with his wife and four children, Clark happened onto a desert trail called Fossil Road.

"We decided to take it, and the road led us several miles through the desert to a mesa, perhaps 600 or 700 feet high," Clark said. "The road turned almost into a gully and after

Crash Kills 3 in Kentucky
CUB RUN, Ky. (AP) — Three people died, two of them children, and six were injured Sunday in a collision near Cub Run in Hart County.

They were identified as Billy Ramsey, 8, Bonnierville, Ky.; John Ed Thompson, about 40, Hart County, and John Brewer, 7, Wayne, Mich.

In critical condition were the Brewer child's parents, Roger, 45, and Mignon, 46; their nephew, Kenneth Stodard, 1; Delmas Ramsey, 40, Bonnierville, and his two daughters, Wanda, 14, and Dorothy, 11.

The Brewer family was heading for Paducah, Ky., to visit relatives while the Ramseys were bound for home after visiting relatives at Cub Run.

Over 2,000 Employees in Cadillac's Industry

CADILLAC — Industrial employment here passed the 2,000 mark for the first time since the community began keeping records six years ago. July employment totaled 2,011, 49 more than in June and 323 more than July 1964.

some nerve-racking near-falls, we reached the summit.

"We spent several hours digging and found a number of small reddish fossils resembling guppies," he said.

BIG ATTRACTION
Later in the day, they drove into Kemmerer, where virtually the entire population of 900 milled around a carousel in the square. Running the carousel was a tall, sandy-haired man he soon discovered to be Ulrich.

Ulrich took him to his studio and Clark said, "As he opened the door and I saw his beautiful collection, the idea of selling them as op art occurred to me."

Clark said he was struck by the resemblance of the fossils to the cave paintings at Lascaux, France, and Altamira, Spain.

"The limestone is cut out of the ancient riverbed in blocks. Ulrich splits the block in hope of discovering a fish. Sometimes he turns a block to rubble before finding one."

ETCHING PROCESS

When he does find a fish, Ulrich etches out the skeleton. The slab's sides are polished, its back is reinforced and the fish is given a protective coating of clear plastic.

Clark said Ulrich built up a huge collection of limestone blocks before their two-year federal digging permit expired. Clark has exhibited the fossils at his children's school, but has yet to be approached by any art museum.

UF Will Be Seeking $16 Million in '66 Drive

DETROIT (AP) — At least $16 million will be sought by the United Foundation in its 1966 drive to raise funds to provide new buildings and equipment for 150 nonprofit health and social agencies.

Ralph T. McElvenny, chairman of the organization's Torch Drive, said funds will be sought from some 1,200 corporations.

Individuals will not be solicited, he added.

The Oklahoma Driver License Division finds one driver in 10 unlicensed — a total of 100,000 people.

She Should Explain Her Preference

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: When going to the theater with several women friends, shouldn't the one approaching the row first take the farthest seat in the row and the others follow in order; the last person entering, taking the aisle seat?

A: Unless she has a very good reason for wanting to sit on the aisle (which she should explain to the others), it is indeed rude and thoughtlessly selfish of her to sit in this seat and force the others to squeeze past her.

RELATED SHOWER

Q: My son was married over a year ago but as he and his bride were both still in college, they never set up housekeeping. They recently graduated.

A: They have very little money and could really use help in the furnishing of their apartment. I was considering having a shower for my daughter-in-law.

Would this be socially correct after a year of marriage?

A: I'm sorry, but it would not be proper for you to give a shower for your daughter-in-law.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Pianist Will Perform for Festival Concert

Sylvia Lin, pianist, will be soloist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra for Oakland University's Meadow Brook Music Festival concerts Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Performances will be at 8:30 p.m., with Staten Ehrling, conducting in the Howard G. Baldwin Memorial Pavilion.

EX-PATRIATE

Born in the United States, the Swedish-American artist will be making her first appearances in this country in eight years with these performances.

In Europe she is one of the most noted solo pianists on the concert stage.

Thursday and Friday night Miss Lin will play the Schumann "Concerto in A Minor" on a program which will include Rossini's overture to "William Tell" and Rachmaninoff's "Symphony No. 2 in E Minor."

Saturday, Miss Lin will play the Ravel "Concerto in G Major" on a program which will include Weber's overture to "Euryanthe," Beethoven's "Symphony No. 4 in B Flat Major" and Liszt's "Concerto for Orchestra."

Mr. Ehrling returns from Los Angeles Wednesday morning after guest conducting the Los Angeles Philharmonic in the Hollywood Bowl.

Pavilion seats and grounds admission for Meadow Brook are available at Oakland University's festival office.

Gregory Arrives

Dr. and Mrs. Clare G. Johnson, Menominee Road, announce the arrival of their son, Gregory Michael, July 28 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The child's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson, Soden Street, and the Floyd Fawcetts, Major Street.

MRS. DAVID ALAN DOIDGE

Mary Louise Francisco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Francisco of Midland, exchanged vows with David Alan Doidge of Pontiac, Saturday, in the First Baptist Church, Midland. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. William A. Doidge of Rotterdam, The Netherlands.

Evening Vows Taken by David A. Doidges

An evening ceremony and garden reception at the First Baptist Church in Midland, marked the Saturday vows of Mary Louise Francisco to David Alan Doidge of Pontiac.

Parents of the couple presently in northern Michigan for a honeymoon, are Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Francisco of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. William A. Doidge of Rotterdam, The Netherlands.

JEWELLED HEADPIECE

A beautiful silk illusion veil with jeweled lace headpiece complemented the bride's gown and train of rose polka French lace over tulle.

While Sweetheart roses and Stephanotis covered her small white Bible.

Teachers' Picnic

Retired Teachers of Pontiac and vicinity will gather for their annual picnic at 12:30 Wednesday in the Lakeview Street home of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Brewer.

Honhart-Anderson

Benton Harbor Vows

Airman I.C. and Mrs. James Fredric Honhart (Judith Kay Anderson), who were wed Saturday in the Methodist Peace Temple, Benton Harbor, will make their future home in Orlando, Fla.

Judith Kay Anderson, daughter of the Clifford J. Andersons of Benton Harbor and Airman I. C. James Fredric Honhart, son of the Louis Honharts of Curwood Street, spoke vows Saturday in the Methodist Peace Temple, Benton Harbor.

A reception in the Temple Hall and a buffet supper in the Benton Harbor home of the bride's parents, the Clifford J. Andersons, followed the vows spoken before Rev. Howard Lyman.

The bridegroom is the son of the Louis Honharts of Curwood Street.

With her Empire gown and train of white silk styled with Venice lace bodice, the bride wore her mother's wedding headpiece of orange blossoms with a veil of tiered illusion. She carried Amazon lilies, Stephanotis, and camellia foliage arranged in a long cascade.

With Mrs. Paul Trevarrow of Rochester, Mich., honor matron, were bridesmaids Jean Honhart, Mrs. Judson Ross, Evanston, Ill., and Marilyn Kesler of Altos, Ill. Fred Breckenridge of Tallahassee, Fla., was his cousin's best man. James Cole, Clayton Roth, Donald Sayles and Paul Trevarrow were ushers. The couple left for a northern honeymoon. She is a graduate of Michigan State University where he was a former student.

Chanel Stays True in Her Own 'Style'

PARIS (AP) — Suits and slender redingotes and some sexy new dresses are being shown by Chanel this season.

The Chanel suit stands alone as a shade closer to the body, and there is less complexity in the trimmings, but the essential look remains.

Chanel continues to use wrapover skirts, most often lapped back and front. Sometimes the wrap conceals a double pleat for walking ease. Silk cuff fascias, ribbon-smooth or plicated or both, often swing up gantlet-style along the sleeve, following cuff buttonings like those on a man's suit coat.

Linings come up out of jackets and turn over to make a double collar.

What goes inside a Chanel suit or coat is as important as she outside, and often costs more.

Chanel says that she likes her things to look as pretty draped over the back of a chair, as on the back of a client.

Both Say Abby Unfair

Two Points of View

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You are so ridiculously prejudiced in favor of the men that it gets quite nauseating at times.

A man practically has to beat his wife to death before you will condemn him.

A woman wrote to ask if it was "stealing" to pick her husband's pants pockets while he slept, and you said it was!

As usual, you lit into the wife, completely ignoring the sin of her stingy husband, who gave her so little she had to steal to make ends meet.

When my husband and I had pre-marital instructions, our minister told us that money was community property between husband and wife, to be shared equally.

Now, I ask you, how can anyone "steal" a portion of what is hers in the first place?

ABBY

Just because the husband gets his greedy fingers on the money first is no reason for HIM to steal HER share.

I hope your attitude improves in the future.

"HOT IN THE SOUTH"

DEAR ABBY: I have always suspected that you hated men.

Now I'm positive. A poor, neglected husband asked you what to do about a wife who has to spend every day with her mother or else talk to her for hours on the phone.

You told him he married a "mamma's girl" and to learn to live with it. A lot of good that did him.

Why didn't you tell him he ought to give his wife a good hard boot in the bustle and tell her to stay home and act like a wife?

And if that didn't knock some sense into her, pack her up and send her home to her mother?

EX-READER

DEAR ABBY: Why, oh, why do people get dogs, tie them up and let them bark from sunup until sundown?

I can't get any rest in the afternoon because the dogs bark. When I go to bed at night, I can't sleep because the dogs bark louder than an ever.

What am I to do? I am not a well man, and I'm...

NO SPRING CHICKEN

DEAR NO: If you know the owners of the barking dogs complain to them directly. If the barking persists, call your local police department or sheriff's office.

I don't know what the law enforcers of your community can (or will) do about it, but it's their job to maintain the "peace."

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law lives with me and she gets her mail here. Last week she received a letter.

My three-year-old son tore the envelope halfway open took the letter out and handed it to me. I was as surprised as anyone could be.

I quickly put the letter back into the envelope and sealed it up again as best I could. Anyone could tell at a glance that the envelope had been torn open and resealed. When my sister-in-law came home and saw that letter, she gave me the funniest look, but she didn't say anything.

I didn't say anything, either, because I don't think she would have believed me anyway.

How can I make things right with her? Or is it too late? I feel so guilty, and yet I have nothing to feel guilty about. Please advise me.

J. Y. Tell your sister-in-law exactly what happened and try to clear the air. If she doesn't believe you, you'll be no worse off than you are now.

Miss Kramp Wears White Linen Gown

Off to Nassau and the New England States on their honeymoon are the Donald J. Maxims (Ruth Ann Kramp) who were wed Sunday in St. Thomas Eastern Orthodox Church in Detroit.

The Louis S. Kramps of Cutler Street and the Maxims of Shawnee Court are parents of the newlyweds who chose Roma Hall, Livonia, for their reception.

Sharon Ann Hale was maid of honor for the bride who appeared in a gown of white silk linen and Venice Lace. She wore an illusion veil and carried Fuji chrysanthemums and ivy.

Bridesmaids were Judith Kern, Gladys and Evelyn Maxim. Mary Beth Maxim was flower-girl and Daniel Girdler carried the rings.

With best man, Alexander Maxim, were the ushers, Bruce Norton, Jeffrey Braumagel, Michael Plourde and Gus Gorguz.

The couple was graduated from Western Michigan University.

MRS. DONALD J. MAXIM

Pledging vows Sunday in St. Thomas Eastern Orthodox Church, Detroit, were Ruth Ann Kramp, daughter of the Louis S. Kramps of Cutler Street, and Donald J. Maxim, son of the Max Kramps of Shawnee Court.

Sell House if It's Financial Burden

By MARY FEELEY Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:
We have a problem we are stumped to solve! We've been married 10 years and have three children — ages nine, five and two.

Two years ago, through tight budgeting and "doing without," we had $500. A tremendous sum to us, with just my husband employed.

My wonderful husband, as a surprise for me, went out one day and put $500 down on a three-bedroom brick home for us! When I saw it, I was too thrilled to say we couldn't afford it.

It was 15 miles from his job each way — but who cared! It would be ours after renting old and shabby places for eight years.

But now, after almost two years, our dream is turning into a nightmare. The notes on the house are high for our salary. The car gave out commuting 30 miles a day.

No churches or shopping center for four miles. The expense is terrific. No recreation we can walk to.

Yet we don't feel we're living here long enough to sell the house and get back anything. My husband averages $83 a week take-home-pay — although some weeks he makes $87.30.

Our expenses are: $92, mortgage and insurance; car note, $60.73; gas for car, $25; clothing, etc., $15; utilities, $25; life insurance, $16.83; note on fence, $8.86.

Out of my husband's gross earnings, we buy savings bonds $45 a week — most of which we use to repair the TV. Regular payments are also taken out for retirement, income taxes, and hospital insurance. We have a cash value from his insurance of $650, as an emergency fund.

As you can see, we're not lightly or irresponsibly, just young and inexperienced. What do you suggest we do — sell the house and make enough to get our money back?

Mrs. R.R. Meraux, La.
Dear Mrs. R.:
When you're young, the heartaches heal quicker. I agree that it was a wonderful thing for your husband to do, presenting his family with a new home and lifting you out of the shabby rented quarters you had been putting up with.

But dreams don't always work out on the first go-round, and part of growing up is facing up to the facts of life. As I see it, your financial burdens can only get greater, not smaller, as you're situated now.

You're a long commuting trip from his job and all other centers of activity. Your children are growing by the year, eating more, needing more expensive clothes and educational supplies. Also, you're beginning to worry too much.

If you could sell this house and have, say, $1,000 after closing costs on another purchase, you might find yourselves better off living closer to your husband's work. If you decide to make this move, remember that you should keep the mortgage payments on a new home — plus insurance, taxes, heat, and upkeep — no more than one week's take-home pay.

This would undoubtedly mean taking a mortgage for a longer period of time. Also, you'd have to make up your mind to give up all the little extras for a while — such as that ailing TV set.

You'd probably have to even give up that $5 a week which you're devoting to buying savings bonds. And you can imagine me saying that! But if you're going to have a monthly housing expense of say, $87 a month, and eat, too, you'll have all you can do making ends meet.

But I just don't see how you can win with a monthly housing expense of $92 — or $117 with everything included — which you have now, plus the car payment — and $25 for gas. And the food bill for the five of you on top of that.

The Richard John Averys (Glenna Kay Hall) left for Upper Michigan and Niagara Falls after vows and reception Saturday in the First United Methodist Church. Their parents are the Harold F. Hall, Esquire Drive and the Richard C. Averys of Dorchester Avenue. Re-embroidered Alen lace accented the bride's gown and train of white silk organza chosen for the rite performed by Rev. Kenneth Pennell.

Polly's Pointers

Tambourines for Kids

DEAR POLLY — Your children will have a wonderful time with tambourines made with soft drink bottle caps.

Remove the lining from the caps and punch a hole in the center of each. Take an embroidery hoop, cover with heavy paper.

Loosely sew the bottle caps at intervals to the paper.

Give the children a few pieces of old bread and some cookie cutters so they can cut out food for the birds. Hang the bread on string on the trees. It teaches them to love and care for birds. — MRS. O. E.

DEAR POLLY — I am in desperate need of a Pointer. After one or two washings and dryings it is impossible to work the zippers on my son's pants. I have to lubricate the zippers after every laundering by running a bar of soap along both rows of teeth. Is there anything I can do to prevent this problem from arising?

Many thanks for any help I can get. — JULIA

Julia and others with the same problem: A zipper repair company tells me that your trouble comes from putting the pants in your drier, as this seems to harm the teeth of the zipper.

We are assuming that you close all zippers before laundering any garment. There is a commercial stick available, under several trade names and quite inexpensive, that will relieve the existing problem and is better than soap for lubricating zippers. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — Another hint for the typists. Place an extra sheet of paper back of a single sheet that you may be typing on. The cylinder will last longer than if used with just a single sheet. Credit for this Pointer goes to my typing teacher. — MIKE

DEAR POLLY — My Pointer concerns an old shower curtain from which I made curtains for my bathroom window.

I left the original holes and used the hooks for same. With the material left over I made covers for suits and coats, using a store-bought cover as a pattern. — MRS. M. L. R.

GIRLS — I am sorry but I must repeat that we cannot answer letters personally. I know it seems to each of you that just your one letter would take little time but multiplying that by the number of requests received makes it impossible.

Please try to understand. I only wish time allowed for writing each of you a long detailed letter repeating some hint you have missed or advising you personally on some matter. — POLLY

East Coast Destination for Couple

Off on an eastern honeymoon are Kenneth Leroy Spencer Jr. and his bride, the former Cheryl Lynne Bond, who chose the Franklin Community Church for their Sunday noon and reception. A cathedral-length train of Chantilly lace highlighted a princess-line gown of white chiffon and lace for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cash D. Bond Jr. of Pickering Road.

MRS. K. L. SPENCER JR.

Her bouffant illusion veil fell from a forward headpiece of pearls and crystals. White orchids centered her bouquet of roses, Stephanotis and lilies of the valley. Diane McGrath of Farmington was honor attendant at the evening ceremony, along with the bridesmaids, Mrs. Gerald McCall, Mary Patricia Ivory and Gail Burton.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hargraves of Williams Lake Road, had Joel E. Smith for his best man. Seating guests were Ronald Brown, William Martin and Gerald McCall.

Test Hearing of Infants

LONDON, England — Hearing tests can and should be made on infants soon after birth, and should be repeated frequently if there is any reason to suspect impaired hearing. This is the conclusion of a British hearing specialist who warns that the sooner a hearing disability is detected the better the chance that it can be corrected.

Parents should report any of the following signs to a physician so that he can take appropriate steps if he thinks it necessary:

- Failure of an infant to respond to a loud, unaccommodated sound;

- Failure of an older baby to react to its mother's voice;
- Failure of a child to make sounds or to start forming words.

A one-year-old can be fitted with a hearing aid, and a two-year-old with severely impaired hearing can begin to learn to read lips.

And parents, too, can be taught how to work with and speak to their handicapped children so as to reduce the effect of their impairment.

LBJ Draft Hike to Call 315,000

Expect Most Eligibles in Uniform by June

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense manpower experts believe most of the eligible young men now in the draft pool will be in uniform by next summer. President Johnson's call for 35,000 inductions a month from October through June would absorb 315,000, or a little less than half of the present pool.

The manpower experts hope, however, that with draft boards breathing down their necks, many of the eligibles will choose to enlist, perhaps at a rate of two for every three inductions.

In addition, only 150,000 of those in the 1-A pool have been examined and found acceptable. Hence, a loss of a third of the remaining 500,000 through rejections is in sight.

The Defense Department believes that a steady draft at the rate set by Johnson, coupled with stepped-up recruiting drives, will add 325,000 men to the strength of the armed forces over the nine-month period.

NEAR 3 MILLION

This would bring them close to 3 million. There are now 2.6 million men in uniform.

The Army hopes to increase its strength by 225,000. Additions totaling 100,000 are expected in the Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force.

With Selective Service continuing its present deferment policies for married men and students, the draft drain is expected to fall heavily on the present pool of men between the ages of 19 and 28.

Rain Giving Brazil Bountiful Harvests

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazil, a traditional victim of drought, is experiencing one of its most bountiful harvests because of generous rainfall. Although the nation normally imports corn, Brazil this year will have 1.9 million tons available for export. Increases in other crops range from 6 per cent in dried beans to 75 per cent in peanuts.

Final Congress Action on Voting Bill Is Expected This Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress expects to send to President Johnson this week the voting rights bill he urgently requested last March.

And the controversy over state legislative reapportionment that erupted after the one-man, one-vote ruling by the Supreme Court may reach a showdown in the Senate.

Also in the Senate, the judiciary committee has set a hearing for Thursday on Johnson's nomination of his friend and adviser, Abe Fortas, to succeed Arthur J. Goldberg on the Supreme Court.

The House Judiciary Committee is expected to act Tuesday on an administration bill to abolish the national origins quota system of immigration.

FUND MEASURE

And with congressional hopes still pinned on adjournment around Labor Day, the Senate Labor Committee may complete work on a House-passed bill to double the funds available for the second year of the antipoverty program.

The voting rights bill was whipped into final form by a Senate-House conference committee last Thursday and will be taken up in the House Tuesday.

Senate action may follow later in the day, although Southern forces could throw up a temporary roadblock if they renew their denunciations of it as an unconstitutional invasion of the rights of the states to determine the qualification of voters.

Farley Will Lecture

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Former Postmaster General James A. Farley will speak at Kalamazoo College Thursday in the final lecture on "The Roosevelt Era" series.

The bill is designed to enforce the 15th Amendment's ban on denial of voting rights because of race or color. In the states affected by the measure's automatic coverage formula, literacy tests and similar voter qualification requirements would be suspended.

The reapportionment battle centers on a constitutional amendment proposed by Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to get around the Supreme Court's decision that both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned on the basis of population.

Dirksen's amendment would permit geography and political subdivisions to be taken into account, in addition to population, in apportioning one house if the people approved in a referendum.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Dirksen announced last week that at today's session they would seek an agreement for a showdown, vote Wednesday.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara plans to go before the Senate Appropriations and Armed Services Committees Wednesday to report on additional funds that will be asked for expanded military operations in Viet Nam.

Congressional action was completed last week on the bill boosting Social Security benefits and establishing a health-care program for the elderly and also on a $7.5-billion housing bill that includes rent subsidies for low-income families.

One of the early agencies established by the Congress was the Bureau of Lighthouses in 1789. The service became a part of the Coast Guard in 1939.

Residents Flee Forest Fire Along the French Riviera

TOULON, France (AP) — Raging fires whipped by a dry wind from North Africa destroyed at least 25,000 acres of pine forests along the French Riviera and forced vacationers and home owners to flee.

Shortly after dawn, the south wind died, and officials said the fires were brought under control in all areas.

Five persons were reported injured and at least 20,000 fled as the flames spread rapidly through an area parched by months of drought. Many vacationers were overcome by smoke but recovered quickly.

Pine forests from the sea to a point, nine miles inland were destroyed.

Other outbreaks were reported in Nanterre, where farm families were forced to flee before the rapidly advancing flames. Homes in the bone-dry forests were burned to the ground.

One fireman said: "The flames sometimes covered up to 15 kilometers (9 miles) in little more than a quarter of an hour. It was a terrifying night. The flames themselves often rose to heights of more than 20 meters (65 feet)."

Former French President Vincent Auriol, vacationing at his home in Cap Beni, was evacuated during the night by a launch as the flames swept close to his property.

Many of the camping vacationers who were forced to flee took refuge on the Riviera beaches. Police allowed them to establish new camping areas.

On the island of Corsica, fires burned out thousands of acres of forest.

HOSPITAL REUNION — Herschel Babad, 9, of Brooklyn, N.Y., is kissed by his father, Abba, in a Monticello, N.Y., hospital yesterday where he is recuperating from his harrowing four days lost in the heavy woodlands of the Catskill Mountains. An airman found the boy sitting beside a tree in a forest clearing.

Boy's Had Fill of Woods After Ordeal in Catskills

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP) — Herschel Babad, a frail 9-year-old boy who survived three nights and four days in dense Catskill Mountain woodlands, says: "I never want to go into the woods again."

Herschel was recovering to day at Monticello Hospital. He took his first solid food Sunday since he wandered off Wednesday from Camp B'nai Belz at nearby Woodridge.

Doctors said the Brooklyn lad, who weighs 53 pounds, was in remarkably good condition. He had been without water.

Abba Babad, his overjoyed father, said: "He's weak, but he's very good. We thank everybody for helping find my son. Everyone was praying, Jew, Catholic, Protestant, everyone was praying for my son."

More than 800 persons with bloodhounds and helicopters joined the search for Herschel.

Airman Theodore T. Huoy from Stewart Air Force Base came upon Herschel sitting beside a tree Saturday. Huoy and another airman made an improvised stretcher and carried the boy a mile and a half to a road where an ambulance was waiting.

Herschel told his father he cried sometimes, "but only a little," and that "animals bothered me while I was sleeping." Wildlife in the region includes skunks, deer and rabbits. He said his only food was two pieces of candy he had and some leaves he chewed. He had wandered away from the camp, telling campmates he was going to look for berries.

South Viet Nam Court Will Try Yank in Slayings

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A South Vietnamese court will try Robert Kimball for the killing of his American boss and a Vietnamese woman, a U.S. government spokesman said today.

The spokesman said that if convicted, the 37-year-old American adviser to the Vietnamese police would face a maximum penalty of life imprisonment and a minimum of five years in jail.

He added that Kimball is not subject to trial under U.S. law. Last week police said Kimball confessed killing Jack E. Ryan, 44, chief of the U.S. AID mission's public safety division, and Mrs. Nguyen Thi Hai, 26, the wife of a Vietnamese air force captain. They were shot in the yard of Ryan's home on the night of July 23.

Kimball reportedly signed a statement saying he had been dating Mrs. Hai for two years and became jealous of Ryan.

How to Protect Yourself - 7

Alertness, Common Sense Can Cut Danger for 'Woman Alone'

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the seventh in a 12-part series on "How to Protect Yourself on the Streets and in Your Home," serialized from a book by Gene Accas and John H. Eckstein.)

monplace for women to be "on their own" — as career women, business girls just starting careers, widows, divorcees, teenagers, college girls, and the just plain-unmarrieds. These women, because of their status, must seek their own recreation and entertainment.

No longer are public places such as bowling alleys, cocktail lounges, restaurants, race tracks — to say nothing of theaters, movie houses, and ball parks — "off limits" to unescorted ladies. Thus, there exist today more opportunities than ever for women to be alone in public places, often as the potential prey of undesirables.

But recreation for the woman who is alone need not be marred by frightening incidents or spoiled by an atmosphere of danger. Alertness and the observance of some common-sense rules can help her avoid unpleasantness.

In a theater, a woman should:

- Try to sit near a family group if possible. If you are annoyed, change seats or appeal to someone in the family group for help.

- Try to sit in an aisle seat. This will make it easy to get up and change seats quickly.

- Avoid dark corners and the rear of the theater.
- Avoid sitting in the rear rows of the mezzanine or balcony. These are the favorite gathering places for trouble-some teen-agers who are often bent on annoying unescorted women.

- If someone is bothering you and you can't cope with it, don't be embarrassed to raise your voice — yell.

IN PUBLIC PLACES

In restaurants, bars, cocktail lounges, bowling alleys:

- 1. Be wary of the "look-you-overs," the type of man who scans, as if she were merchandise, every female who enters a public place.

- 2. Don't let a stranger "buy you a drink; either via the direct approach or through an intermediary, such as the bartender, who says, "The gentleman in the corner would like to buy you a drink."

- 3. Don't get involved in conversation with a stranger. If, for some reason you do, however, don't be quick to give him your name, to reveal where you work, where you live, or whether you're married or single, or to give him your telephone number. And don't accept a ride home!

WARNING: Always try to arrange in advance for your trip home. Have a male relative or friend pick you up; or set up a car, taxi, or bus pool. Plan ahead as to who drops whom off where. Make certain you and your friend (s) have arranged to leave at the same time.

- 4. Avoid getting "high" when you are drinking in a cocktail lounge or bar. That's a sure invitation for trouble.

CAUTION: When leaving any public place, be absolutely sure you are not followed. Make certain of this by observing closely anyone who leaves with you and keep watching for several blocks. If someone seems to be following you, change your direction immediately — go into a store; get on a bus or into a taxi; get away!

Follow these suggestions and you will be sure to cut down the chances of having your pocket picked:

- Anticipate that your pocket might be picked whenever you are about to enter a crowded place. Beware of getting involved in distracting, animated conversation with strangers at close quarters.

- The safest place to keep cash in a crowded place is in the front left- or right-hand trouser pocket, preferably held with a money clip.

- Never keep large amounts of cash in an envelope or wallet in your inside jacket or overcoat pocket.

- A hip-pocket wallet is of course, safer in the winter than in the summer when you are without an overcoat.

- Don't display money in public places. If you have a large amount of cash with you, keep it concealed in your wallet or purse, separate from the smaller amount you need for fares, restaurant checks, etc.

- If you catch someone in the act of picking your pocket, try to grab the person's wrist and hold on. The "one-finger hold" can be especially effective. Then, yell, scream, or otherwise attract attention, so that a bystander or police officer will come to your assistance quickly.

PURSE SNATCHERS

- 1. The ordinary hoodlum preys on unwary women in the street, on buses and subways, or in railroad, bus, and airline terminals. He waits for the opportune moment, grabs the handbag and runs for it.

- 2. The professional watches for women leaving handbags on department store counters, theater seats, etc.

Here are some hints to follow that can save you a great deal of trouble:

- 1. Never leave your purse on a store counter. Even if you turn away just for a moment, to take something off a shelf or ask a question of a sales person, always hold your purse in your hand.

- 2. If you use a bag with a shoulder strap, don't let it hang open, but keep a grip on it at the clasp.

- 3. In a theater or restaurant, or on public transportation, never place your purse on the seat next to you. Always keep it in your lap.

- 4. If you work in an office, never leave your purse on your desk, even if you just step outside to the water cooler. Take it with you, or keep it locked inside your desk.

- 5. In taxicabs, keep your purse on your lap, to avoid accidental loss.

Know what you are carrying at all times, to make it easier to redeem or replace lost items. Men and women should make a complete inventory of the contents of their wallets and handbags. This list should include any important personal papers, such as driver's license, car registration, service identification — all the myriad, sometimes hard to replace or even irreplaceable items people carry with them.

If you carry credit cards, keep a complete inventory of them with exact addresses of credit concerns, identification numbers, and other relevant data. If you should lose your wallet or purse, immediately advise the respective concerns of your loss, giving them accurate identifying information. This will prevent your cards from being used by unauthorized persons.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months. Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

Room With Skeletons Unearthed?

NEW YORK (AP) — Workmen at an excavation job in Washington Square in Greenwich Village report they have uncovered a sealed underground room containing about 25 skeletons.

The men were sinking a 12-foot shaft for Consolidated Edison Co. They said that when they broke through the domed roof of the room they peered in, saw the bones and immediately filled in the shaft.

Police said today they had received no report of a skeleton discovery. A spokesman for Consolidated Edison said he knew of no such find.

Abraham Marcus, president of the Marcus Substructure Corp., a Consolidated Edison subcontractor, said the room appeared to be "a tomb of some sort." It contained "quite a few skeletons," he said.

HALF-BURNED COFFINS

A workman at the site said there were three half-burned coffins and about 25 skeletons in the enclosure.

The area that is now Washington Square Park was a city cemetery from the 18th century until 1823. It also was the public hanging ground.

Neither of these facts would necessarily account for a sealed room. One theory advanced was that it was built especially for persons who died in one of the 18th century plagues.

A Consolidated Edison spokesman said workmen frequently find single graves when digging in the Washington Square area.

First Beauties Are Arriving for Pageant

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)

The first of a contingent of about 100 beautiful girls began arriving today from the four corners of the world for the 14th annual International Beauty Pageant.

The pageant, sponsored by the International Beauty Congress, will be held Aug. 4-14 in Municipal Auditorium. The Lafayette Hotel serves as pageant headquarters.

This year's contest was expected to draw entries from all 50 American states and 59 countries.

Scheduled to be among the earliest arrivals were Gemma Cruz, reigning International Beauty Queen, Miss Philippines, and Linda Layman, American Beauty Queen and first runner-up to the IBC queen.

Other early arrivals were to include contestants from Nicaragua, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, Holland, Italy, Liberia, Luxembourg, Scotland, South Africa, Turkey and Wales.

The new International Beauty Queen will be chosen Aug. 13.

Inventor Dies at 80

CALTO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Cornelius Bol, 80, inventor of the mercury vapor light, died in his home Friday. Dr. Bol, a former research associate at Stanford University, perfected the lamp in 1939.

The youths wrecked all the moving parts in the engine and put sand in the gas tank.

Actress Faces New Ordeal

Patricia Neal to Enter Hospital for Childbirth

LONDON (AP)—Actress Patricia Neal, 39—whose real life courage has matched the movies' best make-believe bravery—will enter a hospital tonight for another trial.

Felled by a cerebral hemorrhage in Hollywood only six months ago, and now recovering from a crippling paralysis, she will go into an Oxford hospital to have a baby.

It will be her fifth child in a motherhood three times married by tragedy.

Five years ago, a taxi cab but crushed to death her infant son, Theo, as he was being wheeled across New York's Madison Avenue in a baby carriage. Critically injured, he has undergone eight major skull operations.

Three years ago, her eldest child, Olivia, caught measles — and was dead within an hour.

IN FEBRUARY — Back in February — when expecting a baby — she was left paralyzed and speechless from a triple stroke.

She fought back with fierce determination, to walk again, speak again, and have the child she was carrying.

Achieving the first two objectives to a considerable extent, she now takes on the third.

"My sickness," she said very slowly — for that's the way she now speaks — "did not damage my child in any way, and I want to have it."

UPPERMOST IN MIND

With that uppermost in mind, she returned to her British home last May with her English husband, Ronald Dahl, a 47-year-old writer.

She returned with her right leg in a steel and leather support, a black patch over her left eye, her face etched with lines of tragedy — and with a quiet resolve to get better and bear her child.

"Her spirits are excellent," said her husband today as he added that she would enter the Nuffield maternity wing of Oxford's Radcliffe Hospital this evening.

Asked about her health, he answered: "She has made progress. Her health — that's fine too."

The baby, he said, is expected to be induced tomorrow or the next day.

12 Arrested in Try to Kill King

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — Twelve persons have been arrested following an abortive attempt to kill the king of Bhutan, reports from the neighboring kingdom of Sikkim said today. The Bhutan government said a hand grenade was thrown and several shots were fired Saturday night as King Jigme Dorji Wangchuk was visiting the Kyichu Monastery about 30 miles from Thimphu, the capital of Bhutan. The king was not hurt, the announcement said.

The assassination attempt was believed to stem from a personal grudge.

Premier Jigme Dorji Palden was assassinated on the Bhutan-Indian border in April 1964. India, which subsidizes the tiny Himalayan kingdom, blamed Chinese Communists for the killing.

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — President Mohammed Ayub Khan has charged the United States with delaying new aid commitments in an effort to force a change in Pakistan's foreign policy.

Ayub, in a nationwide broadcast Sunday, referred to a July 3 message from President Johnson saying America would ask the World Bank to postpone the aid-to-Pakistan meeting scheduled for July 27. Pakistan has received more than $5 billion in foreign economic and military aid since 1961 and needs more.

The U.S. pledge to help finance a third of Pakistan's five-year plan was blocked ostensibly by congressional difficulties, Ayub said. But "neither the mood of Congress nor procedural difficulties prevented the United States from pledging assistance to India," he added.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A Swissair Conair jetliner carrying 94 persons made an emergency landing at Beirut airport today with the tires shorn from its left landing gear. No one was hurt.

The U.S. pledge to help finance a third of Pakistan's five-year plan was blocked ostensibly by congressional difficulties, Ayub said. But "neither the mood of Congress nor procedural difficulties prevented the United States from pledging assistance to India," he added.

PANAMA CITY, Panama (AP) — A prayer crusade led by the Rev. Patrick Payton, an Irish Roman Catholic priest, drew the biggest crowd ever to assemble in Panama City.

The National Guard said 12,000 persons turned out Sunday. Father Payton has taken his crusade to 46 countries.

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Huh Chik, an opposition politician who set fire to himself July 21 in protest against the Japan-South Korea amity treaty, died Sunday of his burns.

The treaty was signed in Tokyo June 22 to restore diplomatic ties between Japan and South Korea.

HIGHLAND APPLIANCE CO.

It's the Same Old Story Every AUGUST!...

Wrong time of the year for us!... Great for fishing and swimming... but fish hooks and sun glasses are not our business... Home appliances are! Except that the appliance business in August is like selling ice to Eskimos... too late for summer appliances—too early for TV and stereo. Regardless, you may still need that new refrigerator or air conditioner now, or perhaps you'd like that color TV or stereo Hi-Fi right now instead of next month. If so, we're giving you good reason to buy it immediately... UNUSUAL SAVINGS!... Buy at our lowest prices of the year!... For instance, what other month of the year can you buy a completely frost-free refrigerator-freezer combination for just $228... or a new color TV for $279... a stereo console for $69... See for yourself... check our prices... check your savings. Everything goes, including new 1966 models. Everything is "top-notch", top-brand. Floor models priced accordingly. You'll be glad you bought during this August Sale at Highland—where you pocket the savings. Better get to Highland now. Your family may be there waiting for you.

LBJ Signing Paves the Way for Extra Social Security Benefits

You may sign up Sept. 1 for the and, if you wish, the voluntary basic hospital and insurance medical plan.

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's an extra check in your future if you are one of the 20 million persons now receiving Social Security benefits.

That check, due to be mailed in late September, will be a retroactive payment reflecting the seven per cent increase provided under the Social Security health care bill signed Friday by President Johnson.

The bill is retroactive to January. To figure what your check may be, let's assume you received $100 monthly January through August for an $800 total.

The separate September check will be seven per cent of $800, or $56.

The first regular checks reflecting the increase will be mailed in early October covering September.

Social Security Commissioner Robert M. Ball mentioned the upcoming check Sunday in outlining what some people should do to receive new benefits.

Some needn't do anything. If you are a Social Security or railroad retirement beneficiary 65 or older, you automatically will be certified for the new basic hospital insurance which goes into effect July 1, 1966.

And if you are a beneficiary interested in the voluntary supplementary plan covering physicians' fees and other benefits, you will receive automatically by mail an enrollment card in September or October. The voluntary program also is effective next July 1.

Some people, however, should check how at their nearest Social Security office, Ball said. These groups include:

Persons 65 or over who are insured under Social Security but never have applied for benefits. Apply now — even if employed full-time — for hospital insurance. This will assure you of getting any cash benefits you may be entitled to beginning in 1966 under more liberal retirement test provisions.

Persons 72 or over not now receiving benefits because they or their husbands hadn't worked long enough to qualify under previous provisions. You now may qualify for $35 monthly benefits with as little as three-fourths of coverage under Social Security.

Widows 60 or 61 years old. You can file application now to start getting cash benefits at 60, at a reduced amount, instead of 62. This provision becomes effective in September.

Students 18 to 22 whose Social Security benefits have stopped. Apply for benefits retroactive to January if you've been dropped from the Social Security rolls. If you are nearing 18 and plan to stay in or return to school, fill out an information form which will start benefits when you reach 18.

Severely disabled workers. You now may collect disability insurance if the disability has lasted or may last 12 months. Previous provisions stipulated that the disability had to last a long and indefinite time.

Widows past 60 who have remarried or women at least 62 who were divorced after 20 years or more of marriage. You should inquire about possible new benefits.

Persons over 65 who have not worked under Social Security.

Labor to Woo Public Workers

New State Laws Spur Organizing Drives

DETROIT (AP)—With some 250,000 public employees now allowed to join unions and bargain collectively, at least six labor unions are expected to launch membership drives in Michigan.

Police officers, firemen, employees of road commissions, sanitation workers and other persons employed by city and county governments are eligible to join unions under laws signed by Gov. George Romney July 23.

State civil service employees and elected officials still are prohibited from joining labor organizations.

Labor officials said the Teamsters union will concentrate at the start on recruiting personnel such as drivers and other employees of county road commissions, but will also take applications from other public employees.

DIVISION FOUND

A member of the State Labor Mediation Board, Philip Weiss of Detroit, said a new division, the labor relations section, is being formed to handle all matters relating to labor-management relations.

He said all petitions from unions regarding representation elections will be handled as they are submitted, and elections will be held as quickly and efficiently as possible.

Funnels Seen Over Western Part of State

By The Associated Press
Tornado funnels were reported over west Michigan Sunday as thunderstorms and drenching rains hit other sections of the state.

Three funnels were reported sighted over Berry County. None touched ground. No injuries or damage was reported.

Lightning caused three fires in the Upper Thumb district. Heavy rains fell, ending a drought in the area.

A downpour delayed play four hours in the Western Amateur Golf Tournament at Benton Harbor. Tourney finals were delayed until today.

Both Reluctant to Add to Tension

U.S., Russia Handling Viet Delicately

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Moscow is underplaying aspects of the Viet Nam war which might directly concern the Soviet Union, and Washington appears to be bending over backward to avoid provoking the Kremlin.

The appearance of delicate treatment of the situation in both capitals testifies to the depth of the Viet Nam crisis and the reluctance of the two great nuclear powers to generate dangerous tension between them. Soviet skittishness has become obvious. The Soviet press paid scant attention to the dramatic news that U.S. planes attacked antiaircraft missile sites in North Viet Nam, installations presumably placed there by the Russians and possibly manned by their technicians.

The Communist party paper Pravda carried two paragraphs — a Tass news agency dispatch from Hanoi at the bottom of page five. There was no mention of missile sites. It simply reported a "pirate raid" by American planes on "densely populated regions." It included the Hanoi claim of six U.S. planes downed and three American pilots captured.

NO MENTION

The government paper Izvestia of the same day made no mention of the action.

President Johnson said Wednesday he knows of nothing the U.S. government has in mind which might excite Soviet distrust or provoke the Soviet Union. The whole tenor of his news conference was distinctly low key, and the picture he displayed of U.S. policy in Viet Nam was one of carefully measured steps.

If Russians were maiming the missiles in North Viet Nam, the Kremlin may have decided that they were expendable chips in this poker game. It is possible, of course, that no Russians were on the scene at all.

In any event, the Kremlin leadership shows no enthusiasm for heating up the atmosphere, despite strident scolding from the Red Chinese.

REAL AIM

"What the Russians call support for Viet Nam and aid to Viet Nam are just tricks for deceiving others," complained a

Peking paper this week. "Their real aim is to bring the Viet Nam question into the orbit of Soviet-U.S. cooperation for world domination and stamp out the Vietnamese people's struggle against U.S. aggression."

The evidence seems to indicate the Soviet Union and most of its European allies would like to see some approach to the conference table worked out. The problem is how to leap the hurdle of Chinese obstruction.

Canadian Parliament members who visited Premier Alexei N. Kosygin Thursday reported him "unhappy about the international situation." They represented him as opining that "all progressive forces must unite to do away with the problem of Viet Nam," and pictured him as deeply worried about increasing world tensions.

But the Red Chinese do not appear to be anxious to "do away with the problem of Viet Nam." They seem satisfied with the idea that, although the war in Viet Nam may be long, the Communist Viet Cong in effect have it won and thus there is nothing to negotiate. Indeed, Peking probably would welcome the prospects of U.S. resources being sapped in Viet Nam.

The war is likely to become more costly in lives and material, and this can put a heavy strain on American patience. The Red Chinese leadership appears to be outraged that the Russians are not willing to apply new strains.

'Climb Every Mountain' Still Their Aim at 77 and 72

REDCLIFF, Colo. (AP) — H. Russell Briggs, 72, and his 77-year-old wife started climbing Colorado's highest peaks on their honeymoon 45 years ago and they're still at it.

The Madison, Wis., couple set out from Georgetown Sunday morning to climb the 14,005-foot Mount of the Holy Cross, a snow-crowned peak looming over this community about 150 miles west of Denver.

The Briggs thought they had climbed every peak higher than 14,000 feet in Colorado — so they decided to start over. Then the U.S. Geological Survey reported this spring that the Mount of the Holy Cross actually was 14 feet higher than its previously listed 13,991 feet.

The Briggs have planned a two-day ascent, hoping to be back in the old mining center of Georgetown by Tuesday morning. In the past, they spent their nights between mountain climbing jaunts in a tent, but this year, Briggs says, they've set up base camp at a motel.

GETTING OLDER

"Well," he said, "we're getting old."

The couple made their first climb as newlyweds in 1920, hiking up towering Pike's Peak near Colorado Springs.

Back in Colorado last week, the Briggs made successful assaults on Mount Evans (14,264 feet) and Gray's Peak (14,270 feet).

In the early days, Mrs. Briggs said, they used ropes, pitons

and "all those crazy things," but gave up the fancy equipment when their reflexes slowed.

SCRAMBLE NOW

"Now we scramble," she said, "with hands, feet and elbows." Briggs, who runs a market research business, says his wife is the superior climber of the two.

"She can look over a 1,000-foot cliff with her toes hanging over the edge," he said. "Me—I like to hold on to something."

A few years ago, he fell 20 feet from a crumbling rock on 14,018-foot Pyramid Peak near Aspen. A finger smashed in the accident had to be amputated. It has been their only climbing accident.

Lions Fullback Faces Disciplinary Action After Diner Fracas

Ex-Colt Looney Will Talk With Gilmer

Rookie End Flynn, Policeman Involved in 3 A.M. Scuffle

Fullback Joe Don Looney faced disciplinary action by the Detroit Lions today after a fracas in a Royal Oak restaurant early Sunday morning.

Police said the commotion ended with Looney, rookie Lions end Joe Flynn and a policeman in a pile in the restaurant parking lot. The incident took place about 3 a.m.

"I definitely will do something about it," coach Harry Gilmer of the Lions said this morning.

"When we made the bed check (after the 12:30 a.m. curfew) Looney was not there, which in itself was a violation of the training rules. I don't know at this time what the disciplinary action will be. I'm sure he will be fined."

Looney came to the Lions with the reputation of being a "problem boy."

Detroit obtained the 225-pound fullback in an off-season trade for linebacker Denny Gaubatz.

Looney, a 1962 All-America at Oklahoma, was bounced off the 1963 Sooners team after scuffling with an assistant coach. He was signed by the New York Giants who traded him to Baltimore before the 1964 season.

KICKED DOOR

While with the Colts, he was fined $150 for kicking in the door of a young couple's apartment. Flynn, also from Oklahoma, is Looney's roommate at the Cranbrook training camp.

Gilmer was scheduled to talk with Looney and Flynn this afternoon.

"In my mind," said Gilmer, "anything that embarrasses this team is a serious situation. Looney has a job to do and I expect him to do it. If he's not man enough to get the job done then he will fail by the wayside."

"One thing is certain, I won't send him back to Texas."

The normal 11 p.m. curfew was extended to 12:30 a.m. for Saturday only.

The incident took place in the Golden Griddle Pancake House.

It apparently started when there was some question whether Looney's party had paid its check.

At one stage, Looney, Flynn and the policeman were lying in a heap on a parking lot. They landed there when Looney stumbled on his last charge and others hanging onto him also went down.

Both Flynn and Looney were taken to the police station, but no charges were filed. There were no formal complaints signed.

According to police, Looney, Flynn and a girl companion were leaving the restaurant when a waitress informed them they had not paid the bill. The football players said they had left money on the table, but it was gone.

An argument started and police said Looney made a lunge at an employee and another man. Flynn finally got Looney out of the parking lot.

Golf Title Won by Gene Bone

By BRUNO L. KEARNS Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Three weeks ago Gene Bone was ready to withdraw his entry from the Michigan Open golf tournament because he was "playing so badly."

A short practice session with Roy Beattie, assistant pro at Plum Hollow, gave him a change of heart and fortunately so, because today Bone is Michigan's Open champion and $1,000 richer.

The Pontiac pro took the lead with an opening round of 68, added rounds of 67-69-70 and finished with a 14-under-par total of 274.

This was 11 strokes ahead of runners-up Walter Burkemo of Dearborn with 286 followed by Pontiac's Stan Brion, assistant at Tam O'Shanter who had 287 and earned $400.

CHANGES MIND

After changing his mind to continue in the tournament, Bone decided to practice daily. He played nine rounds of golf in 12 days, the last two over the Brookwood layout.

In his 67 on Saturday, Bone's putting was phenomenal, except for the 18th hole where he missed a two-foot uphill putt. Otherwise he had birdie putts of six, 12, 12, six, 30 and 35 feet.

It was Bone's first tournament win of any sort, state or national. In 1963 he fired four rounds under 70 and finished sixth in the Texas Open. On many occasions in state tournament play he held opening round leads and then faded out of the picture.

"He didn't do any fading or choking in this tournament," commented Burkemo, "his game was really on."

Bone has been the pro at Lancaster Hills in Southfield since leaving Warwick Hills and the PGA tour.

Other area golfers won a share of the $7,500 purse, including Jim Picard, of Tam O'Shanter with 291 in ninth place; Ron Aleks of Royal Oak Golf Club with 294 and Todd Brackett of Silver Lake Golf Club.

CONCENTRATION—Pontiac's Gene Bone scored his first tournament victory of his pro career putting together his entire game in sharp fashion and winning the Michigan Open with a 14-under par 274 at Brookwood Golf Course in Flint yesterday. Bone's putting and chipping were the big factors in his victory.

Tiger Pitchers File Complaint

From Our News Wires

CHICAGO — Several Detroit Tigers said today the Chicago White Sox slipped them frozen baseballs in Sunday's doubleheader.

"Those balls were playing with me were frozen," Hank Aguirre, the Tiger pitcher who lost the first game, said.

"All those balls were cold, ice cold. I never noticed a cold ball before in all my life, but freeze a baseball and it sure won't go any place."

Not many balls did go any place in the two games. The White Sox won the first game 1-0 on a three-hitter thrown by Joel Horlen.

The Tigers won the second game 2-1. No home runs were hit.

Dave Wickersham, who started the second game for Detroit, said, "You could hold one of those balls in your hand and feel that it was cold."

FOOT SLIPS

No one knew it at the time but the first game was lost in the second inning when Aguirre balked, advancing Pete Ward Danny Coker a base each. Ron Hansen then hit a sacrifice fly and Ward scored after the catch.

The three Chicago players who were involved in scoring the lone run also were involved in a triple play by Detroit in the fourth inning. Ward and Coker again singled, putting them on first and second. Hansen fanned, and the runners were caught in a double run-down.

Both runners wound up on

St. Catharines Rowers Capture Henley Trophy

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (AP)—The St. Catharines Rowing Club rallied for three victories and four second-place finishes Saturday at the 83rd annual Royal Canadian Henley Regatta to capture the Maple Leaf Trophy for the fifth consecutive year.

The Detroit Boat Club and Toronto Argonauts placed second and third, respectively, in the over-all standings.

'Night Train' Runs Late to Lion Camp

The "train" pulled into Cranbrook a little late yesterday.

In this instance it was Dick "Night Train" Lane, veteran defensive back, who at the age of 37 will be trying to win a spot with the Detroit Lions.

When Lane failed to appear for picture day sessions yesterday afternoon, coach Harry Gilmer expressed that as far as he was concerned Lane was late and would be treated accordingly.

At first there was speculation that Lane's absence may have meant he decided to retire, but he was in camp last night and prepared to begin drills this morning.

The Lions meanwhile cut 10 rookies after the Saturday scrimmage. Trimming was done by Fred Beig, of the University of Detroit, fullback William Johnson of Maryland State, a flanker back Preston Love of Nebraska, halfback Wardell Ward of Virginia Union, line-

LEANS TO VICTORY — Russia's Pyotr Bolotinikov leans forward to cross the finish line in the 5,000-meter event ahead of America's Bob Schul (left) yesterday. The winning time was 13:54.2. The Russian men's team defeated the United States for the first time.

Russians Rule Track

U.S. Team Licks Wounds

KIEV, U.S.S.R. (AP)—A dazed U.S. track and field team licked its wounds today from their worst debacle ever in international competition — a loss to the Russians — and asked:

"How did it happen?"

Were the Yanks too complacent and over-confident, as suggested by Russian Coach Gabriel Korobkov and seconded by high-ranking U.S. officials?

Did many of their stars wear themselves out in a month of campaigning on the continent prior to the seventh annual U.S.-Soviet meet Saturday and Sunday?

Scoring upsets in such American specialties as the pole vault and sprint relay and winning the 5,000 and 10,000-meter runs, in which the United States had Olympic champions, the Soviet team beat out the U.S. men 118-112 and won for the seventh time from the women, as expected, 654-454.

Wymia Tyus of Griffin, Ga., established herself as the fastest woman runner in the world by winning the 100 meters in world record-time of 11.1 seconds, coming from far behind to spearhead a victory in the 400-meter relay and then finishing second Sunday in the 200 meters behind Edith McGuire.

A 15-year-old school-girl named Marie Mulder of North Highlands, Calif., had even the Russians cheering for her in finishing a strong second in the 800 meters with the fastest time ever recorded by an American woman — 2 minutes, 7.3 seconds.

In the men's division, Ollan Cassell of Natick, N.J., emerged as a giant by winning the 400 meters and then stealing the 1,600-meter relay out from under the noses of the Russians with a come-from-behind anchor leg.

Big Randy Matson of Pampa, Tex., awed the Russians with a 56 foot, 6½ inch jump put; six-foot-seven Dave Weill captured the discus with 192 feet, 5 inches and Jim Grelle, who won the 1,500 meter run in the first meet in 1958, did it again with a meet record of 3:39.2.

But this was not enough to soften the bitterness of the Americans over losing to the traditional international track and field rival, whom they clubbed in a similar meet a year ago in Los Angeles and in the Olympics at Tokyo.

Western Golf Final Delayed by Rainfall

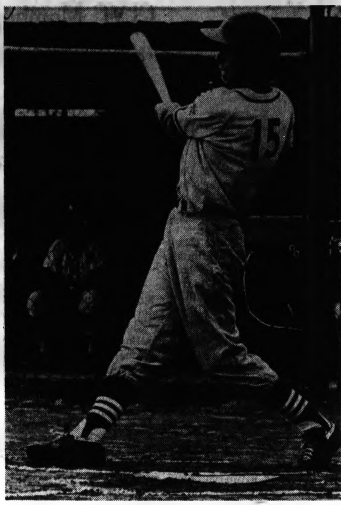

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Bob Smith, a weatherwise ex-army private, and George Boutell, on a hot winning streak, met today in the rain-delayed championship match of the 63rd Western Amateur Golf Tournament.

The meet was scheduled to end Sunday, with the 18-hole semifinals to be followed in the afternoon by the finals, but 2 1/4 inches of rain in 24 hours delayed the Point O'Woods course.

With a tornado alert to the north and a prevailing wind whipping the drenched links, the semifinals were played after a four-day delay.

Boutell, 21-year-old Phoenix, Ariz., senior at Arizona State, advanced with a 5 and 4 victory over Michigan's Big Ten titlist Bill Newton.

Smith, a 22-year-old Sacramento, Calif. State physical ed senior, disposed of Bunky Henry, a Georgia Tech senior, 3 and 2.

BIG FACTOR — Jim Hagen is a big reason why Birmingham's Federal League All-Stars reign today as champions of the District 4 Little League Tournament. Hagen, a lanky 12-year-old, hurled two no-hitters and hit three consecutive home runs at one stretch during the team's sweep through four foes last week. Here, shortstop Hagen pops into a double play started by North Farmington third baseman Mike Gou on a fine play Saturday in the title game won by Birmingham 7-2.

Tony Cloninger Now 14-8

Braves' Ace Adding Stock

By The Associated-Press
Milwaukee's Tony Cloninger wants to stay on the farm, and four National League pennant contenders would like the Braves to send him there immediately.

Cloninger extended his mastery over the Braves' first-division opposition Sunday, pitching a seven-hitter in Milwaukee's 4-2 first-game triumph over San Francisco.

The Braves completed the doubleheader sweep, defeating the Giants 6-3 in the nightcap and moving into third place, 3½ games behind the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

The victory was Cloninger's 14th against eight defeats, but even more painful to the other teams in the first division it gave the North Carolina farmer a 7-0 record against the Dodgers, Cincinnati, San Francisco and Philadelphia.

Cloninger pitched the second 4.62 ERA against the second-place Dodgers.

He now has 55 acres of land, six quarter horses, two bird dogs and six coon dogs. He soon hopes to start raising quarter horses.

As far as those four teams are concerned, the sooner the better.

In other National League games, Los Angeles edged St. Louis 3-2, Cincinnati defeated Houston 6-4 before losing 7-6, Pittsburgh swept Chicago 8-2 and 3-1 and Philadelphia nipped New York 3-2.

Ed Matthews' 22nd homer, a three-run blast in the third, put the Braves ahead to stay in the nightcap. Billy O'Dell's ninth-inning relief job saved Wade Blasingame's 13th victory in 20 decisions.

FIVE HITTER

Sandy Koufax stopped the Cardinals on five hits for his 18th triumph against only four defeats. Koufax struck out 11 and drove in the deciding run with a seventh-inning sacrifice fly. Ray Sadeck held the Dodgers hitless, but Wes Parker homered in the sixth and Jim Lefebvre connected in the seventh.

Two-run homers by Pete Rose and Tony Perez, plus a two-run single by Deron Johnson, carried Cincinnati past Houston in the opener. Reliever Ted Davidson scattered 11 hits over 7½ innings for his first major league victory.

Joe Gaines singled across Houston's winning run in the ninth inning of the second game. The Astros charged to a 6-5 lead with three runs in the seventh, but Bob Lillis' double, but Frank Robinson's 19th homer tied it in the Reds' half of the inning.

Manny Mota and Donn Clendenon each stroked three hits and drove in two runs, supporting Al McBean's victory in his first start in two years. Don Schwall saved the triumph for McBean, pitching the last three innings for Pittsburgh.

Joe Gibson and Schwall combined to limit the Cubs to three hits in the nightcap. Gibson didn't allow a hit until Larry Jackson led off the sixth with a triple and scored on Ellis Burton's sacrifice fly. Bill Virdon scored one Pittsburgh run and singled across another.

Philadelphia's Jim Bunning won his 12th game but had to leave after seven innings because he reinjured his right arm. John Callison hit a two-run homer, his 24th, and Tony Gonzalez added a bases-empty blast, offsetting a two-run homer by the Mets' Charley Smith.

WEEKEND FIGHTS
SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico — Jose Torres, 12, New York, outpointed Tom Dandridge, 24, Boston, 10, non-title.
NUEVO LAREDO, Mex. — Manuel Avila, 14½, Mexico, outpointed Gaspar Ortega, 16½, Mexico, 10.

CLYC Member 'Cat' Champ

The North American Shearwater Calamarian championship remains in the possession of the Cass Lake Yacht Club although it changed hands Sunday morning.

Club member Ed Stack won the title this year, dethroning defending champion and fellow club member Ro Redner in the three-day competition that concluded yesterday on Cass Lake.

Stack won two of three races Saturday in the five-race regatta which began Friday morning. However, Redner—who won the lone race Sunday—might have retained his title had he not been disqualified after winning Saturday.

Runner-up to Stack was Wallace Johnson of Livonia who won one Saturday race.

Pick Staubach, Butkus
All-Star Co-Captains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Quarterback Roger Staubach of Navy and linebacker Dick Butkus of Illinois will co-captain the College All Stars Friday when they meet the Cleveland Browns in Soldier Field. The two were elected Sunday by their teammates.

Pontiac Cyclists Win

The weather didn't stop the Pontiac Competition Team motorcycleists from their weekly action yesterday and the members brought home five trophies from the Ontario - Michigan Scrambles championships at Kingsville, Ont.

Race winners were Carl O'Neil in Class B Heavyweight and Ned Newton in the Featherweight event. Ray Pace was runner-up to O'Neil.

Student Must Know Value of Homework

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Too often during the past half century the student has been left with no clear idea of why homework has been assigned or what he is supposed to gain by doing it.

More important, he has been given little or no idea how to approach the work so as to gain the maximum benefit from the exercise. Little attention has been given to what goes on in the student's mind while he studies.

Since World War I, educational psychologists have emphasized behaviorism, which contends that the mere experience of solving homework problems automatically conditions the pupil and causes him to gain sufficient skills for future work.

They have completely ignored the attitude of the student toward the exercise.

Contrary to this view, what a student gains through working problems depends heavily on what he is trying to gain through the exercise. The student, not the teacher, is the key player in the learning game.

SHOULD 'FORCE' STUDENT

For example, suppose the homework assignment in algebra is 50 problems in factoring. According to the behaviorists, this should "force" each student to develop the needed skill for future use.

In the case of a student we will call Jack, the exercise was not sufficient. Jack was concerned primarily with getting the homework completed and ready to hand in. Two days later, he remembered little of the processes of factoring. The homework produced no lasting effect on Jack.

Another student, Bill, thought of the homework assignment as practice in factoring. While doing his homework, he consciously trained his mind with an eye to the future. His target was to gain skill in the process of factoring—and so he was successful in doing so.

It is this exercise of will and intent during the learning process that the behaviorists have ignored. It is the most important element in the process, and it is indeed unfortunate that it has been so often ignored in recent years.

QUICK RECOGNITION

The teacher should have assigned the 50 problems in factoring as material for practice, discussing ways of quickly recognizing various types.

The students should have been urged to practice doing the same exercise several times, if necessary, to attain speed and accuracy in the process. An appropriate speed goal of say, one or more problems per minute, could be mentioned.

I have used this approach successfully in the teaching of algebra.

By JACOBY AND SON

An Ohio reader suggests that the column might give a few examples of unusual results due to the sort of mishaps that one does not always associate with experts.

We go back 36 odd years to the days before there were any ways to ask for aces. Our hero is the late Sherman Stearns of New York, winner of several national titles in the '30s and one of the greatest players of all time. The game was rubber bridge. He said to himself, "I have no spades," and the words, "Two spades," came out of his mouth.

He tried to correct to four hearts, six hearts and six no-trump, but eventually found himself at seven no-trump when his partner persisted with spades.

North had to give up at that point and Sherman proceeded to play the hand. As you can see the contract was an apparently hopeless one. Sherman could count on eleven tricks in top cards and a possible twelfth trick if diamonds broke but he had no trouble making the grand slam.

It seems that Sherman never gave away the fact that his bidding was wrong with the bidding and as he ran off his heart tricks each opponent threw away a diamond in order to hang on to spades. The rest was a matter of taking his tricks.

Of course, they should have known that there was something peculiar about his two spade opening since he showed up with seven hearts and the ace of clubs but it turned out that neither one was able to visualize the actual spade void.

TO BOLT DEMS—Rep. Prentiss Walker (right) Mississippi's lone Republican congressman, said yesterday that Rep. John Bell Williams (left) plans to bolt the Democratic party next week and eventually become a Republican. Walker, in a prepared talk, said Williams had told him he would first declare himself an independent and then run next year as a Republican.

High Waves Capsize Boat; Three Saved

DETROIT (AP)—One of three fishermen who spent 10½ hours Saturday night clinging to their capsized boat in the Detroit River, says the boat went "straight down" after it was hit by sudden high waves.

Travis French, owner of the 15-foot outboard, said Sunday he and two relatives, Cecil Nance, 61, of suburban Redford, and James Brewer, 21, of Paris, Tenn., were fishing when they were hit.

"We had turned back, and the water got kind of rough, but there wasn't much wind," Travis, 39, of suburban Lincoln Park said.

"Suddenly, this one huge wave, almost like a tidal wave, crashed over the back of the boat, swamping it," he added.

"It went down within 15 seconds," he added. The boat settled in about 15 feet of water, but its bow remained above water.

Berry Picker Held in Assault

BENTON HARBOR (UPI)—Police at New Troy held a berry farm picker today after they said he fired five arrows at them and threatened to kill his boss with a shotgun.

Allen Moates, 25, was held on assault charges. He had threatened to shoot his boss, Spencer Castle, with a shotgun. Moates called police and told them of his plans. But before he could carry out his actions police arrived at the farm and Moates retreated to a barn where he picked up a bow and some arrows.

One of the five arrows he fired at officers narrowly missed striking one of the men in the head.

To Gear Up Training Centers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Army is planning to gear up its present training centers to meet the mass of new recruits expected this fall when the draft more than doubles.

President Johnson, at his news conference last week, ordered the draft doubled as part of America's stepped up military commitment to Viet Nam.

This would mean calling about 35,000 draftees a month starting in October of November, compared to the present monthly draft rate of about 17,000 inductions.

If enlistments increase in the same proportion—and some officers think they will—the Army may be turning out 600,000 to 700,000 soldiers annually compared to a rate of 340,000 annually toward the close of the fiscal year which ended July 1.

The 1965 training schedule, which taxed the present training staffs to the limit, was close to the minimum necessary to keep the Army near its authorized strength of 360,000 men. The new schedule is expected to increase the ground forces to well over a million men.

Whether or not additional training camps will be opened has not been definitely decided, but it appears that the nine centers now receiving recruits can absorb the increased load if given additional staff.

The centers are Ft. Dix, N.J.; Ft. Polk, La.; Ft. Ord, Calif.; Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.; Ft. Jackson, S.C.; Ft.

Knox, Ky.; Ft. Gordon, Ga.; Ft. Sam Houston, and Ft. Bliss, Tex., and Ft. Sill, Okla.

Experts believe the forts could meet the President's stepped-up schedule for the Viet Nam build-up by adding around 80 trainers for each additional 1,000 recruits.

If providing trainers proves too much of a strain on other Army activities, it is still considered possible that one or more civilian reserve training divisions will be called to active duty. The 100th Reserve Train-

Shameless Art Models Really Babes-in-Woods About Posing

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A shameless art model in Baltimore. A worm honor system in Omaha. An odd anniversary in Chattanooga and a matter of frows and dulcimers in Kentucky. These make up this week's glimpses from the U.S. scene.)

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The nude dark-haired model stretched languorously under the steady gaze of 29 art students. Artists—men and women, amateurs and professionals—tried to sketch the exact skin tone, the shadowing, and particularly the pert form of the pink derriere.

The model—earning $2.25 an hour for posing in the sun-drenched studio—was absolutely without modesty. After all, pay was 25 cents an hour more for being naked rather than clad in a bikini. Nearby, pretty Eva relaxed, nude from the waist up, and the artists were indifferent.

IN DIAPER

The model was Gabriel Kroiz, 3 months old. He was helping in a new concept in a life-drawing class. Eva was another baby model standing by in a diaper.

Albert Sangiamo, a teacher at the Maryland Institute, said he was using babies as models because artists get too used to drawing a good-looking male of female model.

"That's the type of body they are usually drawing and that's the concept they get of the human figure," he said.

He said babies provide a completely different challenge because of skin texture and skeletal structure.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — This proud city, famed for Lookout Mountain and the "Chattanooga Choo Choo," is celebrating its 150th birthday this year, just 26 years after it observed its 100th anniversary.

That may explain why so many men remember growing beards for the 100th anniversary. Thousands of Chattanooga men are doing the same this year for the "150th birthday," which will be climaxed in the fall by a round of festivities.

If you read the fine print of the city's publicity-burbs, you discover that 1965 is really the 150th anniversary of the establishment of Ross Landing, a Tennessee River trading post which was located where Chattanooga now stands. Chattanooga was incorporated in 1839.

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — The three young Vinduska boys aren't much concerned about teen-age competition for summer jobs. They've gone into business for themselves.

The trio—Jarel, 14, Gary, 13, and John, 11, sons of Mr. and Mrs. M.J. Vinduska—organized a worm sales business for the summer and are doing quite well, thank you.

The firm, with Jarel as general manager, is grossing better than $100 a month according to its well-kept ledgers. Gary is president and John is executive vice president. Overhead costs are close to zero.

The boys dig for worms along a nearby creek in the morning when it's cool. Explains General Manager Jarel Vinduska, "the worms go deeper when it gets hot." And on nights when it rains they explore their large yard for nightcrawlers.

The firm maintains a stand outside the Vinduska home. A feature of the business is a "worm honor system" as a sign on the stand proclaims. The honor system goes into effect when the young executives leave the stand open during absences from home. Customers help themselves and deposit the fee in a box. Jarel reports the system works satisfactorily, that nearly everyone pays for the worms taken, and that many leave a tip.

MOSCOW (UPI) — Doctors who examined Russia's 160-year-old man of the mountain, Spirali Mislmov, found his pulse, blood pressure and nervous system typical of men aged 30 to 40, the Tass news agency said Saturday.

"Spirali Mislmov's pulse is 70-72, his blood pressure is 125 by 75, and his nervous system is good," Tass said. "These figures are typical of a man aged 30-40."

Tass said radiological examination of his heart and lungs showed the organs "almost normal."

The agency said although Mislmov lost all but two teeth 50 years ago, his gums have hardened and he is able to chew meat without trouble.

Welfare Cost Rise Persists Despite Country's Prosperity

By JOE MULLEN

In this era of peak prosperity in Oakland County, a nagging incongruity exists.

Welfare costs are on the rise.

This year, the Oakland County Department of Social Welfare budgeted $5,024,192 in county funds to meet relief requirements.

The department was allowed $6,895,017 in a tentative 1966 budget, subject to final approval this fall by the County Board of Supervisors.

These totals include a 1965 county general relief expenditure of $1,650,000 and a proposed 1966 outlay for general relief of $2,150,000.

RELIEF OUTLAY

This represents 70 per cent of the total general relief outlay.

State and federal funds are granted for the remaining 30 per cent.

Besides the county welfare agency which provides hospitalization, medical care and general relief assistance, a state welfare agency also is operative within Oakland County.

The Oakland County Bureau of Social Aid (BSA) administers Aid to Dependent Children, Aid to the Blind, Old Age Assistance, Aid to the Disabled, Medical Care for the Aged and Cuban Refugee Aid programs.

In the fiscal year just ended, the BSA operated on a budget of $6.8 million compared to $5.6 million the previous year.

HIGHER BUDGET?

Indications are that the coming budget will be higher, according to Ora L. Hinkley, BSA supervisor.

Why the rising relief costs in a period of low unemployment?

As far as the county agency is concerned, most of the increase, or about $1 million, is in hospital costs.

George H. Williams, director of the Oakland County Department of Social Welfare, said that rising hospital costs, plus more public assistance hospital cases, accounts for the increase.

CITE TRANSFERS

Transfer of patients from the former TB Sanatorium — sold to the Oakland Community College — to the county's medical care facility last May, required an added $700,000 in the proposed 1966 budget.

"Hospital costs were raised $3 to $4 per patient day last year," Williams said, "and it looks as though another boost is coming this year."

The county agency's hospital budget is $1,947,000 for the current year.

Proposed for 1966 is a budget of $2,985,000.

West to Offer Treaty Draft to Curb N-Spread

Feel Rejection Would Put Russians in Bad Position in the U.N.

GENEVA (AP)—A joint Western proposal for a treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons is to be offered to the Soviet Union during the next two weeks.

Western negotiators at the 17-nation disarmament conference doubt the Russians will show any constructive interest, but they want to present the treaty draft before the conference adjourns next month for the U.N. General Assembly.

The Western allies figure the Russians then would be left to explain their negative attitude to the General Assembly, which has been pressuring the nuclear powers for progress toward disarmament.

The Western draft would permit the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to proceed with the creation of a NATO nuclear force.

But conference sources said it would require the United States and Britain to keep their nuclear weapons under the control of their own nationals and retain a total veto on their use.

SOME SAY Nonnuclear nations participating in the NATO force would be given some say in advance planning and would be consulted before nuclear weapons assigned to the force were used.

The draft would make clear that such planning and consultation would not be a treaty violation.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin already has brushed aside this limitation on the Atlantic force, terming it meaningless.

He has told the conference repeatedly that the Soviet Union will sign a treaty to restrict the spread of nuclear weapons only if it explicitly outlaws the proposed Atlantic force or any other arrangement giving West Germany "direct or indirect" control over nuclear weapons.

Commons Vote to Heat Debate

LONDON (AP)—Britain's House of Commons got ready today for a session of verbal fireworks from Prime Minister Harold Wilson and the Conservative opposition's new leader, Edward Heath.

But the Tories' last attempt of the summer to overthrow the Labor party government was doomed in advance.

The Liberals planned to throw their 10 votes against Heath's motion of no confidence charging Wilson is unable to end the nation's economic woes.

Labor whips thought their margin of victory might run as high as 20 instead of the usual 2 or 3.

The debate was the third in a week in which the Conservatives pressed a no confidence motion.

At least six ailing Laborites prepared once more to go to the House by ambulance to vote.

Although much of the ground was covered last week in debate on rising prices and Labor's deferred election pledges, the drama this time was higher. Heath, one of the ablest debaters on the Tory benches, now had the stature of party leader.

Wilson, billed to wind up the debate, entered the battle at peak form.

His speech last Thursday was rated even by opponents as the most effective performance seen in parliament in years. One Conservative commentator called it "iced lightning."

After tonight's debate, the government could look forward to 10 weeks of relative calm.

No other major vote was scheduled before the House recesses Thursday until October. Some commentators believe that during the recess Britain's shaky trading position could bring renewed pressure against the pound sterling.

Time! Time! Time! That's the big factor for the Detroit Lions who began full squad operations today at Cranbrook to get ready for the annual Blue-White intra-squad game at Washtenaw Stadium Saturday night.

New Head Coach Harry Gilmer doesn't plan on wasting any of that precious time to round the team into shape.

In fact, Saturday morning won't be a time for the Lions to relax as in past years.

COMPLETE GAME The game won't be an offense vs. defense scrimmage as in past years at Washtenaw. It will be a complete game with the entire squad broken in two teams.

Community National Bank sponsors the game with the cooperation of the Pontiac Jaycees.

Boys Missing; One Diabetic

2 Gone Since Friday; Father Bewildered

MILLINOCKET, Maine (AP)—The father of a 17-year-old diabetic and his 3-year-old brother, who are missing in the Mt. Katahdin area, says ordinarily the boys would never leave the family camp site without telling their parents.

George Mott, 43, of Rochester, N.Y., expressed bewilderment today over the three-day absence of his sons, Robbie, 17, and Timothy, 3, as teams of military personnel and civilian volunteers continued the search.

The boys vanished from the family camp shortly before supper Friday. Robbie's life is in danger if he does not get the 40 units of insulin he needs daily for his diabetes.

Mott said he and his wife are avid campers and "Robbie is an old hand at it." Although he is mentally retarded to the age of about seven, Robbie "adjusts well to camp life and enjoys going to new places," the father said. "Both boys are adventurous, but not at suppers."

County Crash, Drowning

Accidents Kill Two

A man was killed in a motorcycle crash and a teen-ager drowned in two accidental fatalities which occurred this weekend in Oakland County.

Dead are Robert L. Steinaway, 25, 78 E. Barrett, Madison Heights; and George VanKuren, 16, of 354 Midway.

Steinaway died Saturday night at about 9:10 p.m. when the motorcycle he was driving crashed into the rear of a station wagon on Rochester Road in Avon Township.

The driver of the station wagon, Robert E. Fitzpatrick, 34, of 1509 Donald, Royal Oak, told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies he had just backed out onto Rochester Road when the crash occurred.

The accident took place in front of 3200 Rochester Road, Steinaway, who was dead at the scene, was reportedly traveling south on Rochester Road at a high rate of speed prior to the mishap.

DROWNED YESTERDAY

VanKuren drowned yesterday at 2:30 p.m. in Bridge Lake in Springfield Township.

Ronald Gilmore, 15, of 698 Pleasant Ridge, Orion Township, a companion, told sheriffs deputies that VanKuren had called for help prior to going under.

Gilmore attempted unsuccessfully to rescue the youth.

Man Is Shot; Duel Blamed

The art of dueling has definitely deteriorated in the past 100 years, and Gabe Van would be the first to admit it.

Van, 41, of 237 Harrison was shot in the back early yesterday morning as he stood in front of a window in a dining room at 410 S. Jessie.

Pontiac police believe Van was the innocent victim of what was described as "a duel" between Henry Adams Jr., 28, of 45 Lake and Thoney Griffin, 18, of 71 Wall.

When arrested, Griffin and Adams were armed with a rifle and a shotgun. They were both charged with attempted murder and are being held at the Oakland County Jail.

Van is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

SEARCH FOR CONG—American paratroopers of B Company, 1st Battalion, 173rd Airborne Brigade, move through a jungle near Long Cat in South Viet Nam during a search for Communist guerrillas. The big U.S. sweep southeast of Saigon ended today with meager results. The Cong battalion supposed to be in the area was never found.

B52s Hit Cong Positions in Mountain Stronghold

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. B52 bombers made their seventh reported strike in South Viet Nam today, dropping their bombs in the northernmost raid so far announced for the jet bombers.

A U.S. spokesman said 30 of the Strategic Air Command's eight-jet bombers dropped 500 tons of bombs during a 45-minute raid on "Viet Cong installations in Quang Tin Province, approximately 350 miles north northwest of Saigon."

The raid was carried out at the request of the South Vietnamese government "against a suspected Viet Cong base near the Dox," the spokesman said.

The Dox is a mountainous, mist-shrouded area north of Kien Giang that the Viet Cong has controlled for years.

U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops joined in a regularized strike that overran the Viet Cong-dominated village of Chan Son, 10 miles south of the Da Nang base.

Striking in the face of sniper fire, they killed 25 persons, including about five civilians, and rounded up 80 suspects.

FROM GUAM The B52s flew today from their base on Guam. Last week they made a raid southeast of Saigon from Okinawa after being moved there because of a typhoon threat to Guam.

On the ground, a big U.S. sweep southeast of Saigon ended today with meager results.

The Viet Cong battalion supposed to be in the area was never found.

Under Medicare Bill

Extra Insurance Is Available

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the eighth in a 14-part series on the new health care and Social Security bill by John Troan, special writer for Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

By JOHN TROAN

Besides the basic health benefits provided by Social Security, persons past 65 will be able to buy supplemental insurance through the government to help with other medical bills.

This insurance, effective July 1, 1966, will cover doctor bills such as house calls by physicians, office visits, and services rendered in a hospital, nursing home or other institution.

However, routine physicals won't be covered. Neither will vaccine shots, nor exams for eye diseases or hearing aids. But diagnosis and treatment of eye and ear ailments will be included.

Plastic surgery will be excluded if done purely for cosmetic reasons. But if it's required for the prompt repair of accidental injury, or to fix an impaired limb or other malformed part of the body, the surgery will be covered.

DENTAL CARE

Also covered will be services of dentists for jaw or other facial-bone surgery required by accident or disease but not ordinary dental treatment.

If a patient is treated outside a hospital for a "mental, psychoneurotic or personality disorder," the insurance will cover half of the bill — up to a total of $250 a year.

Up to 100 visits a year to a patient's home by part-time nurses, nurse's aides, medical social workers, and physical, occupational and speech therapists will be covered.

Under the basic Social Security Medicare plan, such visits will be covered only if the patient is hospitalized first. The supplemental insurance will provide such care even if the patient hasn't had prior hospital treatment.

TAYLOR RELAXES—Retiring U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam Maxwell D. Taylor relaxes yesterday outside his quarters at Fort DeRussy, along Waikiki Beach in Hawaii. Taylor read from a book while beachgoers walked along the ocean front, unaware of who he was. Taylor will leave tonight for Washington to make final reports to President Johnson.

Italian Police Round Up 9; 'Link Mafia, Cosa Nostra'

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — Italian police, moving with precision from one end of the country to the other, rounded up today nine men described as links between the Sicilian Mafia underworld and the American Cosa Nostra.

Among the nine were the reputed head of the Mafia and an Italian-American once rumored to be the successor of Charles (Lucky) Luciano.

The nine and five others being sought were charged with associating to commit crime.

Among the 14 were eight men who had lived or live in the

SEPARATE TEAMS

The swoop, carefully planned in tight secrecy, involved seven separate teams of police, each under the direction of a Palermo police official.

Zero hour was shortly after the teams were into action simultaneously, making the nine arrests in seven different cities, from Bologna in the north to Taormina on Sicily's east coast.

Giuseppe Genco Russo, 72, was taken into custody in a Bologna eye clinic. Genco Russo, long reputed to be the head of the Mafia, had been living in northern Italy under police orders to stay out of Sicily.

On a farm just outside Rome, police picked up Frank (Three Fingers) Coppola, 75, deported by the U.S. government in 1948. He had been active in Kansas City, Mo.

LUCIANO'S CROWN

Three years ago, shortly after Luciano died in Naples, Italian papers carried reports that Coppola had inherited Luciano's crown. Coppola then told newsmen it was absurd to call him Luciano's heir.

"I'm going straight," Coppola said. "I want only to live in peace — that's all."

Unit to Eye Academy Applicants

Congressman Billie S. Farnum announced today that he will begin selecting members of a committee to screen local applicants for the three U.S. service academies.

Only persons residing in the 19th Congressional District will be eligible for board membership, said Farnum. The district comprises western Oakland County plus Pontiac, and Livonia, Northville and Redford Township in Wayne County.

Farnum, who is entitled to make one appointment a year to each of the three military academies, said the board will report on the moral character of applicants and also on their leadership abilities.

"This last quality is all important, since the academies graduate the generals and admirals of the future," said Farnum.

In addition to making appointments to West Point, the Naval Academy at Annapolis and the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Farnum said he would attempt to interest young men in seeking entrance to the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., and the Merchant Marine Academy at King's Point, N.Y.

MUST PASS EXAMS

Farnum said that each candidate for appointment to an academy must pass an examination in academic subjects and undergo a thorough physical examination before he may be seriously considered by the screening board.

"It is my intention that we shall do our utmost to send from our district only the best of those who meet the strict qualifications for academy training," said Farnum.

Lion 'Problem Boy' in Fracas

No One Charged in Restaurant Incident

ROYAL OAK (AP)—Fullback Royal Looney, who has built a reputation as a "problem boy" in the National Football League, was involved in a 3 a.m. Sunday fracas in a restaurant here.

It ended, police said, with Looney, his training camp roommate, rookie end Joe Flynn, and a policeman in a heap in the restaurant's parking lot.

Looney, bounced out of the University of Oklahoma in 1963 after a scuffle with an assistant coach, was acquired this year from Baltimore by the fullback-short Detroit Lions.

While police became involved in the restaurant fracas and confirmed it, no one was charged, although the 23-year-old, 225-pound Looney and Flynn were taken to headquarters.

PANCAKE HOUSE

Police and the management of the Golden Griddle Pancake House refused to identify a waitress or the other men involved in the fracas, and the night manager insisted, "It wasn't anything," adding, "I've had more commotion from youngsters than that."

Police also said they didn't get the name of a girl whom they said accompanied the two football players to the restaurant and then followed the scout car in which they rode to headquarters.

The incident, in which Looney reportedly attempted to break a beer bottle against a wall, developed from the question of whether the football players had paid their $3.38 check.

Looney was quoted by police as saying he had been threatened with a knife. Police said they searched the man he pointed out but found no knife.

The two football players and the girl were quoted by police as saying they had asked for their check and had left money to cover it on the corner of their table.

Tanker capsized, 2nd Damaged in Japan Collisions

TOKYO (AP)—One Japanese tanker capsized and another was damaged in two collisions in thick fog off central Japan early today.

The 995-ton Meiko Maru was cut in two and capsized in a collision with the 37 crewmen of the American freighter Arizona about 100 miles southwest of Tokyo. Eighteen Japanese crewmen were missing and one was rescued. The Maritime Safety Board reported.

There were no injuries reported among the 37 crewmen of the Arizona, which is owned by the States Steamship Co. of San Francisco. It was en route from Yokohama to Manila.

the sale of the TB Sanatorium are not reflected in the welfare department budget.

Williams said that $300,950 of the half-million-dollar increase for general relief is the result of added nursing care expenditures.

Higher rates and a boost from 550 to 700 persons in nursing homes account for the increase. Many of these had been in the medical care facility.

The other major general relief cost increase from 1965 to 1966 is $125,000 for food due to upgrading in requirements and a slightly higher caseload.

TOTAL CASELOAD

Presently, the county department has a total caseload of 2,511 which compares to a 2,169 average last year and an average of 2,041 in 1963.

The 1965 total includes 736 direct relief cases, 465 supplementary to low income and 1,311 cases receiving supplementary help to grants from the BSA.

Direct relief cases, the so-called hard core cases involving unemployed, are below levels of recent years.

The supplementary aid cases are up.

Both the county and state agencies presently are conducting pilot programs aimed at helping the unemployable to acquire a salable skill.

UNEMPLOYED

The state agency is concerned with unemployed men who become eligible for relief last year when the unemployed were included in Aid to Dependent Children cases.

Though the county's caseload involving unemployed persons is relatively low, Williams is convinced it can be reduced even further through the training program which presently is still in the research stage.

Miss Hinkley, who also feels training will be helpful, said the state agency's ADC caseload climbed sharply in April, 1964 when the unemployment provision was enacted.

"Aid to the disabled also is on the increase due to liberalized requirements," Miss Hinkley said.

REMAINS STEADY

"Aid to the Blind remains steady from year to year and a downward has been experienced in Old Age Assistance due to increase of other programs for the aged."

Proposals to merge state and county welfare departments are an almost annual discussion topic in the state legislature.

Some counties have tried it but most, including Oakland, maintain the separate agencies.

talking about was "one of the prominent members of another party" who had participated in one of the White House conferences that preceded the President's Viet Nam decisions.

"Most of the people you deal with respect the confidence, but once in a while an inexperienced man, or a new one, or a bitter partisan has to play a little politics," Johnson said.

START OF SESSION

Ford was chosen at the start of the current congressional session to serve as House Republican leader.

Asked if the incident would affect future bipartisan consultations, Johnson said, "No, I'm not going to provoke any fight."

He told newsmen Mansfield did not mention Reserve forces in a written memo "and it was not in any of his discussions."

Ford's statement:

"I am deeply concerned by the White House comment on Sen. Mansfield's statement Tuesday afternoon at the White House conference made no mention of the callup of the military reserves. I have made no subsequent comment to anyone concerning Sen. Mansfield's views with the President's decision not to call up reserves to active duty at this time."

Extra Benefits Offered by Bill

visits in addition to the 100 offered by the basic Medicare program.

To obtain such benefits, the home care must be spelled out in a plan drawn by the patient's doctor.

He also must certify that the patient is confined to his home and needs either "skilled nursing care" or physical therapy or speech therapy in which event, the other home benefits also will be available.

OTHER SERVICES

Other medical services include diagnostic tests, including X ray and laboratory tests, performed in a legally approved lab or in one operated by a physician or hospital.

Radiation therapy (treatment with X rays, radium or radioactive isotopes).

TRANSPORTATION

Ambulance service to the nearest hospital if ordinary transportation would endanger the patient.

Artificial limbs, artificial eyes, and braces (but not orthopedic shoes).

Other prostheses (such as an artificial heart valve or synthetic artery) designed to replace part or all of an internal organ. (But no false teeth, hearing aids or eyeglasses.)

In any case, you will have to pay for the first $50 worth of such "supplemental" services which you get each year. You'll also have to pay 20 per cent (one-fifth) of the balance.

NOT COUNTED

Not counted toward your "$50 deductible": anything you pay for drugs, for inpatient hospital or nursing home care, and for any dental care except dental surgery required by an accident.

The monthly premium for supplemental insurance (which may be raised every two years) will start at $5 a person.

Of this, the federal government will pay half. If you're on relief and will be 65 before Jan. 1, 1968, your state may pay the other half.

Otherwise, you must put up the $3 or have it taken out of your Social Security, Railroad Retirement or Civil Service Check.

If you fail to buy the insurance during the first enrollment period, the premium will go up 10 per cent for each year you delay.

To illustrate: If you'll be 65 before Jan. 1, your first enrollment period ends March 31, 1966.

FAIR EXECUTIVES—Three area residents are serving on various committees making plans for the Michigan State Fair which will open Aug. 27. The trio is seen here with Charles Flyg (seated), chairman of the event. Standing are Richard H. McManus (left) of Southfield and Mitchell Kafarski of Bloomfield Township. Mrs. Allen Strom is the Birmingham member of the State Fair Authority.

Three Named to Serve on Committees for Fair

Two Birmingham-Bloomfield area residents and a Southfield man are members of committees for this year's Michigan State Fair, scheduled to run from Aug. 27 to Sept. 6.

Appointed by Gov. Romney to serve on the Michigan State Fair Authority were Mitchell Kafarski, 6790 Telegraph, Bloomfield Township; Mrs. Allen Strom, 1130 Wakefield, Birmingham; and Richard H. McManus, 16100 W. Eight Mile, Southfield.

Kafarski is a member of the development committee, which is concerned with future planning and year-around use of the facilities at the fairgrounds in Detroit.

He also is a member of the salary and wages committee.

The industrialist was appointed to a term which expires in April 1967.

NAMED VICE CHAIRMAN

Mrs. Strom is vice chairman of the premium exhibits committee and is a member of the entertainment committee, which handles grandstand and music shell activities.

She will serve on the authority until April 1968.

As authority secretary, McManus is automatically a member of the executive committee. In addition, he is on the development committee.

His term expires in April, 1966.

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission tonight will hold a public hearing on a proposed rate increase for taxicabs operating in Birmingham.

The effect of the change would increase the charge from 60 to 75 cents for the first mile and from 25 to 30 cents for each additional mile.

The rate hike has been recommended by the City Taxicab Board, acting on the request of Veteran's Cab Co.

The hearing will be held during the regular 8 p.m. commission meeting.

Test Arm Bands to Prevent 'False Identity' Escapes

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department is testing a new arm band for prisoners in an attempt to stop "false identity" escapes.

During the past year, instances have occurred where a prisoner would assume the identity of another prisoner to get out of the Oakland County Jail on bond or other means.

Sheriff Frank Irons said his men are testing an armband which is similar to the type used in hospitals.

Once fixed on the prisoner's arm, the white, plastic band cannot be removed unless it is cut off.

The prisoner's name would be written on the band, providing an easy method of identification, Irons said.

Only 3 Days in 90s

Resort Weather in July

Summer resort weather . . . the kind you read about in travel folders . . . was enjoyed by Pontiac area residents during the month of July.

Sleeping under blankets, became normal for the area, rather than just something you read about on postcards from friends vacationing in the north.

There were only three days during which the temperature climbed to the 90s, with tops at 95 degrees on July 24th. The average high for the month was a pleasant 80.2 degrees.

This compared with 14 days of 90 or above in July last year, and a high of 98. Nights were also warmer last year, although it did get down to 54 degrees on the 31st of July.

This July 30th, the temperature went down to 48 degrees and furnaces came on during the night, if they weren't set too low.

MEAN TEMPERATURE

Last month's mean temperature was 70.3 degrees, compared to 76 degrees in the same month a year ago. Precipitation was 3.3 inches this year, compared with 2 inches last year.

However, two inches of last month's rain fell in a short time on the 18th and a fast run-off did the farmers of the area little good.

In Pontiac, canoes and rowboats came out for a brief time as many streets were inundated for the second time this year.

Summing up, the weather was wonderful for the average person, but a little too dry for the farmers' crops in the area.

Russell: S. Viets Would Vote for Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., says he thinks the people of South Viet Nam probably would choose to go under the rule of North Viet Nam's Ho Chi Minh if they were given a chance to vote.

"I think that it would be highly likely that they would place a plebiscite to place themselves under Ho Chi Minh (North Vietnamese Communist leader)," he said Sunday on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation."

The Georgian linked his statement to a belief that the South Vietnamese have little faith in their own government, primarily because repeated shifts in leadership make it difficult for many to know who or what they are fighting for.

"How many people do you suppose know the present leader in South Viet Nam, Gen. Ky?" he asked.

VITAL TO SUCCESS

He called for a greater political effort, saying: "I think we have overlooked the fact that a stable government in South Viet Nam is vital to military success in South Viet Nam."

"Our greatest mistake has been in overemphasizing the military and not putting sufficient emphasis on the civilian side."

"The people there don't have much sense of nationalism to start with. And no cause can ever win that hasn't got a champion that the people admire."

On another topic, Russell said the U.S. military force on this continent should be maintained at the same strength as before troops were sent to Viet Nam.

FILL GAPS

He said any gaps left by departing forces should be filled by "men who have seen no service" rather than from the Reserves and National Guard.

Russell is chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee. Two other members of that group also discussed Viet Nam Sunday.

U.N. Stand Disappoints Eisenhower

MINOCQUA, Wis. (AP) — Former president Dwight D. Eisenhower has expressed disappointment with the United Nations' position on South Viet Nam.

"I am disappointed that the United Nations has not shown the initiative to get the facts and marshal world opinion behind South Viet Nam's fight for life," he said.

Eisenhower, winding up a Wisconsin vacation Sunday, called for support of President Johnson's policies in the Viet Nam conflict.

The former president said the White House has facts not available to the public, adding:

"It is futile and difficult for the private citizen to talk about what should be done in Viet Nam. To develop opposition in times of crisis is to split the country."

CROWD OF 200

Eisenhower made the comments to a newsmen as he and his wife left nearby Woodruff by private railroad car to return to Gettysburg, Pa., after a 13-day vacation in the Northern Wisconsin lakes region.

A crowd of about 200 turned out in cold and rainy weather for the departure. The former president said, "I hope people come to see me because I was square with them as president and kept the country prosperous and at peace. I'm glad they aren't throwing rocks."

The vacation was his sixth in the Minocqua area since World War II. He stayed at the private estate of New York art dealer Howard Young.

"I had a wonderful time loafing, shooting and fishing," he said, adding he caught nearly the limit of bass in each of four outings.

Asked if he would return in 1966, Eisenhower, 74, replied, "I can't predict a year ahead. At my age you can't plan that far away."

'Red Vow May Halt Bombing'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Undersecretary of State George W. Ball says it is possible the United States may halt bombing raids on North Viet Nam if the Communists publicly pledge to stop infiltrating men and supplies into South Viet Nam.

But, said Ball yesterday, "the proper context for a discussion of that kind is in the total consideration of how we end violence in the whole of that unfortunate country."

He said there are "two elements in what the North Vietnamese are doing."

"Not only are they infiltrating men and supplies into South Viet Nam, but they are also — through the agency of the Viet Cong, which is really their own creation — conducting a guerrilla war against the people of South Viet Nam."

Ball appeared to rule out, at least for the time being, any new bombing "pause" such as the United States ordered earlier this summer. He said that both North Viet Nam and Russia "responded by contempt to that move."

Polaris Sub Named for Negro Scientist

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP) — The first nuclear vessel named for a Negro will be christened Aug. 14 by Negro singer Marian Anderson.

The ship is the Polaris submarine USS George Washington Carver. It was named for the scientist whose discoveries of synthetic products from peanuts and sweet potatoes figured importantly in the South's economic development.

Room With Skeletons Unearthed?

NEW YORK (AP) — Workmen at an excavation job in Washington Square in Greenwich Village report they have uncovered a sealed underground room containing about 25 skeletons.

The men were sinking a 12-foot shaft for Consolidated Edison Co. They said that when they broke through the domed roof of the room they peered in, saw the bones and immediately filled in the shaft.

Police said today they had received no report of a skeleton discovery. A spokesman for Consolidated Edison said he knew of no such find.

Abraham Marcus, president of the Marcus Structural Corp., a Consolidated Edison subcontractor, said the room appeared to be "a tomb of some sort." It contained "quite a few skeletons," he said.

HALF-BURNED COFFINS

A workman at the site said there were three half-burned coffins and about 25 skeletons in the enclosure.

The area that is now Washington Square Park was a city cemetery from the 18th century until 1823. It also was the public hanging ground.

Neither of these facts would necessarily account for a sealed room that it was built especially for persons who died in one of the 18th century plagues.

A Consolidated Edison spokesman said workmen frequently find single graves when digging in the Washington Square area.

First Beauties Are Arriving for Pageant

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP) — The first of a contingent of about 100 beautiful girls began arriving today from the four corners of the world for the 14th annual International Beauty Pageant.

The pageant, sponsored by the International Beauty Congress, will be held Aug. 4-14 in Municipal Auditorium. The Lafayette Hotel serves as pageant headquarters.

This year's contest was expected to draw entries from all 50 American states and 59 countries.

Scheduled to be among the earliest arrivals were Gemma Cruz, reigning International Beauty Queen and "Miss Philippines," and Linda Ann Taylor, American Beauty Queen and first runner-up to the IBC queen.

Other early arrivals were to include contestants from Nicaragua, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, Holland, Italy, Liberia, Luxembourg, Scotland, South Africa, Turkey and Wales.

The new International Beauty Queen will be chosen Aug. 13.

Actress Faces New Ordeal

Patricia Neal to Enter Hospital for Childbirth

LONDON (AP) — Actress Patricia Neal, 38—whose real life courage has matched the movies' best make-believe bravery—will enter a hospital tonight for another trial.

Felled by a cerebral hemorrhage in Hollywood only six months ago, and now recovering from crippling paralysis, she will go into an Oxford hospital to have a baby.

It will be her fifth child in a motherhood of three times married by tragedy.

Five years ago, a taxi all but crushed to death her infant son, Theo, as he was being wheeled across New York's Madison Avenue in a baby carriage. Critically injured, he has undergone eight major skull operations.

Three years ago, her eldest child, Olivia, caught measles — and was dead within an hour. IN FEBRUARY

Back in February — when expecting a baby — she was left paralyzed and speechless from a triple stroke.

She fought back with fierce determination to walk again, speak again, and have the child she was carrying.

Achieving the first two objectives to a considerable extent, she now takes on the third.

"My sickness," she said very slowly — for that's the way she now speaks — "did not damage my child in any way, and I want to have it."

UPPERMOST IN MIND

With that uppermost in mind, she returned to her British home last May with her English husband, Roald Dahl, a 47-year-old writer.

She returned with her right leg in a steel and leather support, a black patch over her left eye, her face etched with lines of tragedy — and with a quiet resolve to get better and bear her child.

"Her spirits are excellent," said her husband today as he added that she would enter the Nuffield maternity ward of Oxford's Radcliffe Hospital this evening.

Asked about her health, he answered: "She has made progress. Her health — that's fine too."

The baby, he said, is expected to be induced tomorrow or the next day.

Bulldozer Damage Reported to Police

Pontiac police are looking for youths who recently caused an estimated $15,000 damage to a bulldozer parked at East Walcott near the Grand Trunk railroad tracks.

The piece of equipment is owned by Mobile Crane Rental Service of 2249 Edinburgh, Watertown Township.

The youths wrecked all the moving parts in the engine and put sand in the gas tank.

12 Arrested in Try to Kill King

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — Twelve persons have been arrested following an abortive attempt to kill the king of Bhutan, reports from the neighboring kingdom of Sikkim said today.

The Bhutan government said a hand grenade was thrown and several shots were fired Saturday night as King Jigme Dorji Wangchuk was visiting the Kyichu monastery about 30 miles from Thimphu, the capital of Bhutan. The king was not hurt, the announcement said.

The assassination attempt was believed to stem from a personal grudge.

Premier Jigme Dorji Palden was assassinated on the Bhutan-Indian border in April 1964. India, which subsidizes the tiny Himalayan kingdom, blamed Chinese Communists for the killing.

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — President Mohammed Ayub Khan has charged the United States with delaying new aid commitments in an effort to force a change in Pakistan's foreign policy.

Ayub, in a nationwide broadcast Sunday, referred to a July 3 message from President Johnson saying America would ask the World Bank to postpone the aid-to-Pakistan meeting scheduled for July 27.

He received more than $5 billion in foreign economic and military aid since 1951 and needs more.

The U.S. pledge to help finance a third of Pakistan's five-year plan was blocked ostensibly by congressional difficulties, Ayub said. But "neither the mood of Congress nor procedural difficulties prevented the United States from pledging assistance to India," he added.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A Swissair Conair jetliner carrying 94 persons made an emergency landing at Beirut airport today with the tires shorn from its left landing gear. No one was hurt.

Pontiac will host a half-day meeting tomorrow of area health and heating inspectors and related business representatives featuring a panel discussion of electronic air cleaning.

The panel at the 9 a.m. meeting will be made up of two state industrial hygiene officials, the city engineer and the city health inspector.

An estimated 200 persons are to attend the confab at city hall.

Crash Hurts Area Woman

A Commerce Township woman was under observation at Pontiac Hospital following an auto accident this morning at Bernstein and West Maple.

Mrs. Richard Hobson, 31, of 673 Sherbrook, was a passenger in a car driven by her husband when the mishap occurred.

Hobson, 34, told police he was traveling south on Bensten when the car skidded on wet pavement and struck a utility pole.

The airliner was en route from Cairo to Karachi. Immediately after taking off from Cairo, Pilot A. Zuberuehler radioed Beirut that the four tires on his left landing gear had been torn off.

PANAMA CITY, Panama (AP) — A prayer crusade led by the Rev. Patrick Payton, an Irish Roman Catholic priest, drew the biggest crowd ever to assemble in Panama City.

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Huh Chik, an opposition politician who set fire to himself July 21 in protest against the Japan-South Korea amity treaty, died Sunday of his burns.

The treaty was signed in Tokyo June 22 to restore diplomatic ties between Japan and South Korea.

'Climb Every Mountain' Still Their Aim at 77 and 72

REDCLIFF, Colo. (AP) — H. Russell Briggs, 72, and his 77-year-old wife started climbing Colorado's highest peaks on their honeymoon 45 years ago and they're still at it.

The Madison, Wis., couple set out from Georgetown Sunday morning to climb the 14,065-foot Mount of the Holy Cross, a snow-crowned peak looming over this community about 150 miles west of Denver.

The Briggs thought they had climbed every peak higher than 14,000 feet in Colorado — so they decided to start over. Then the U.S. Geological Survey reported this spring that the Mount of the Holy Cross actually was 14 feet higher than its previously listed 13,981 feet.

The Briggs have planned a two-day ascent, hoping to be back in the old mining center of Georgetown by Tuesday morning. In the past, they spent their nights between mountain climbing jaunts in a tent, but this year, Briggs says, they've set up base camp at a motel.

GETTING OLDER

"Well," he said, "we're getting old."

The couple made their first climb as newlyweds in 1920, hiking up towering Pike's Peak near Colorado Springs.

Back in Colorado last week, the Briggs made successful assaults on Mount Evans (14,264 feet) and Gray's Peak (14,270 feet).

In the early days, Mrs. Briggs said, they used ropes, pitons

SCRAMBLE NOW

"Now we scramble," she said, "with hands, feet and elbows." Briggs, who runs a market research business, says his wife is the superior climber of the two.

"She can look over a 1,000-foot cliff with her toes hanging over the edge," he said. "I like to hold on to something."

A few years ago, he fell 20 feet from a crumbling rock on 14,016-foot Pyramid Peak near Aspen. A finger smashed in the accident had to be amputated. It has been their only climbing accident.

Woman Nearly Hit by Driverless Auto

SAN CARLOS, Calif. (AP) — A driverless car smashed into a living room Sunday and stopped three feet from a 65-year-old housewife who was sewing.

Police said Mrs. Gene Horn was shook up but unhurt. Brakes on the car failed after it was parked in a driveway across the street.
