Rare Heart Surgery Performed at Pontiac General Hospital

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Women's Editor, Pontiac Press

A rare heart operation, one of the new surgical techniques being used to save the lives of cardiac victims, was performed recently at Pontiac General Hospital by a Pontiac surgeon.

So far as is known, this is the first time this operation has been done in Michigan.

Developed by Dr. Claude S.

Beck of Western Reserve University in Cleveland, the operation is known as Beck I, to distinguish it from another heart procedure also developed by him.

Principals and essential facts about the pioneering operation at Pontiac General are these:

The Patient: The Rev. Edwin DuBois, 61, of Drayton Plains.

The Surgeon: Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger.

The Complaint: Angina pectoris, a disorder in which reduced blood flow to the heart muscles causes intense pain, and reduces or halts the patient's normal activities.

The Treatment: Restricting flow of blood from the heart muscle to encourage additional formation of vascular channels in the muscle; 2. Irritating the heart by rubbing the surface with steel wool, and injecting powdered asbestos between the heart and the sac in which it is enclosed . . . for the purpose of creating additional circulation and more adequate blood supply where most needed.

The Result: Rev. DuBois was discharged from the hospital Tuesday, 12 days after the operation. Tests indicate his condition is near normal. He may look forward to a goodly number of additional years of active life.

The above paragraphs reduce Rev. DuBois' operation to the simplest possible terms, for ease of understanding.

The operation, of course, is not that simple. In fact it is not simple at all. Like all heart surgery it is quite complicated.

The operating surgeon is backed up by competent assistants: trained operating-room teams do their part; sensitive instruments and machines assist every step of the way. All possible emergencies are anticipated and plans made to meet them. These things are discussed later in this article.

Here is what happened in the operating room at Pontiac General Hospital:

(Highly technical terms have been eliminated where possible, and this reporter's observations put in simple words for easy reading.)

PREPARATION, SAFEGUARDS

At the start of the operation these things were done to safeguard the patient and assist the surgeon:

1.—An anesthetic drug was given in the vein of his arm.

2.—A tube was inserted through his mouth into his windpipe, to supply extra oxygen as needed.

3.—A cardiograph was attached by wires to his arms and legs. Through these wires electric impulses registered at all times on the machine the patient's heart beat. This electronic "watchdog" would warn the surgeon instantly through irregular heart beats of any impending danger.

4.—Ready for use also was a machine (called Jefferson ventilator) designed to fill and empty the lungs, thus taking over the actual breathing for the patient as necessary during the operation.

5.—Finally, tubes were inserted in the patient's veins in order that extra blood, other fluids and medicine could be administered quickly if needed.

With these preparations, the operation could proceed. The patient lay on his right side, with his head toward the head of the bed.

Benefits of Operation on Eden Not Determined

BOSTON (AP)—The doctor who operated on former British Prime Minister Anthony Eden said today "it is too early to determine the ultimate benefit that will be obtained from the operation."

Dr. Richard Cattell, who operated on Eden for a bile duct obstruction last Saturday, also said in a morning bulletin that "it is impossible to predict whether there will be a recurrence of the obstruction."

Union Officials Called Terrorists to Testify Today

McCiellan Says Grilling of 3 Teamsters Agents to End Scranton Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Teamsters business agents from Scranton, Pa., described as "terrorists" by prior witnesses, testify today before Senate racketeering investigators.

One of them, John Durkin, a vice president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, invoked the Fifth Amendment on the only question asked him yesterday—his occupation. The others are Robert Malloy and Joseph McHugh.

Chairman McCiellan (D-Ark.) of the special Senate committee said this may be the last day of the Scranton phase of the committee's search for evidence of racketeering and other wrongdoing in the labor-management field.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said all three are mentioned in the tape recordings made by Paul Bradshaw, a convicted dynamiter, and Bradshaw's pretty woman friend Helen Canfield.

Bradshaw, a former Teamster member and key witness in the inquiry, has sworn he is innocent of the May 1, 1954, dynamiting of a home being built by nonunion labor for Andrew Ruby of Scranton. He was convicted of the crime, but says he "took the rap" for the real dynamiters, and that the tape recordings prove this.

He said the blast was ordered by higher union officials and that Durkin among others double-crossed him after promising to take care of him financially if he were convicted. He is awaiting sentence on the charge, and trial on perjury and obstruction of justice counts.

McHugh and Malloy have been indicted on charges of having helped a squad of other labor men to demolish the wall of another building under construction in Scranton.

Bradshaw has specifically accused Malloy of ordering trouble-making union members to beat up, and "rigging" union elections, in which he said some members voted as often as six or seven times.

Bradshaw's sister Mrs. Margaret Kolra testified yesterday that Durkin told her the men "shouldn't have used dynamite" to wreck the Ruby house, but should have sawed the beams.

Tigers Face Rain for Home Opener

DETROIT (AP)—The Weather Bureau said today the home opener of the Detroit Tigers will be marred by light rain or drizzle through most of the afternoon.

The weatherman said the temperature would be around the 50-degree mark but that the skies would be cloudy with some fog. The chances of a heavy rain are remote, he added.

The Tigers are due to meet the Cleveland Indians, with Billy Hoef, the Tigers' 20-game winning southpaw, opposing another 20-game winner, righthander Bob Lemon of the Indians.

Witness Sounds Off

UNINHIBITED — Helen Canfield, a 27-year-old divorcee from Scranton, Pa., lets fly a broadside at male members of the Teamsters Union during testimony before the special senate racketeering investigating committee. "Men!" she exclaimed, "how can they sleep at night when they sit by and let a woman do their fighting for them?" Miss Canfield, an egg candler, is a member of the Teamsters Union.

'Wife Has Amnesia or Is Captive'—Scott

DETROIT (AP)—Leonard Ewing Scott, facing charges of juggling his wealthy wife's money and murdering her, says she is "alive and either being held against her will for profit or suffering from amnesia."

Scott's 63-year-old wife, the five times married Los Angeles socialite Mrs. Evelyn Throsby Scott, disappeared from her swanky home two years ago. She was not reported missing until a year later and no trace has been found other than some personal effects in the backyard of her home.

Scott, sought 11 months by the police of two countries, was apprehended Monday at the Canadian end of the International Tunnel that connects Detroit with Windsor, Ont.

He is in jail here awaiting an extradition hearing May 7. Scott, meeting with newsmen after spending a night in jail, said he jumped bond and fled California last May because he feared for his life. A "strange car" forced him off a highway, he said, and he decided to "keep going while I was still around."

At the time he was free under $25,000 bond, he had been indicted by a Los Angeles Grand Jury on a charge of mishandling his wife's estate. The estate was estimated at $600,000.

Five months later Scott, a 60-year-old retired Los Angeles investment broker, was indicted by a Los Angeles Grand Jury on a charge of murder in the disappearance of his wife.

GIVES MESSAGE

Scott declined to elaborate on his theory that his wife is alive and being held captive or is a victim of amnesia, but in answer to a newsmen's question he said he would like to get this message to her:

"I would like to tell Evelyn to return if she can and clear this thing up. She does not have to explain any of her actions or where she has been, any more than she has in the past."

He said his wife's wealth was "ludicrously" less than the "fantastic figure" of $600,000.

Civilians Hear Present Plans for Wilson Gift

School Official Reports Progress in Setting Up 4-Year College

By HAROLD S. COHEN
A local branch of Michigan State University will open its doors to some 1,000 Oakland-Macomb County students in the fall of 1959, if all goes according to present plans, Durwood Varner, MSU vice president told the Pontiac Civitan Club at a luncheon meeting yesterday.

An architect has been engaged for the first building to be erected at Meadowbrook Farm, the 1,400-acre estate between Pontiac and Rochester given last January to the university by Mrs. Alfred Wilson, he said.

Dr. Varner added the architect was now doing site studies and the construction contract should be let in about one year, with 18 months for completion.

Funds for this first building will come from the $2 million given MSU by Mrs. Wilson along with the $3 million estate, he said.

A complete four-year college is planned, Dr. Varner told the club, based on the recommendations of a citizen's committee.

The committee rejected both a junior college and a senior college alone as inadequate for the needs of the two counties.

It suggested a broad liberal arts university, with emphasis on schools of engineering, business administration and teacher training.

Turnpike Hopes Pinned on Bill

Senate Eyes Legislation Giving Road Authority Financial Boost

Hopes for the dormant Michigan Turnpike Authority and its plans for a north-south toll road east of Pontiac are pinned on legislation placed yesterday before the Senate in Lansing.

Authority Chairman George N. Higgins, of Ferndale today said he is hopeful for enactment of the bill to provide a financial shot in the arm for his agency.

State gasoline taxes derived from turnpike use would be pledged by the measure to back up retirement of turnpike bond issues, if tolls fell short of expectation.

This guarantee would make sale of bonds attractive enough, Higgins believed, to interest purchasers who last summer flatly refused to invest in the toll road.

The bill was reported favorably out of the Senate Highways Committee yesterday. If passed by the Senate, and by the House, Higgins is sure bonding companies will be willing to invest.

If the measure is not passed, however, another Senate action looms in the future.

Some legislators have urged stripping the authority of its funds when the fiscal year ends in June, thus dooming turnpike activity in the state.

Offices, Stores Plan 3-Hour Closing

City and county offices and most downtown stores will be closed tomorrow from noon until 3 p.m. in observance of Good Friday.

Most shops in the Tel-Huron Shopping Center will be closed then also.

Both downtown banks, their branches, and savings and loan associations must remain open but will be operating on "skelton crews," officials reported.

Most of the business and government offices closing for the three-hour period will resume business at 3.

2 Auto Insurance Groups Won't Up Rates; Third Has

Two major auto insurance companies said today that they will not boost their rates, while a third said a rate hike is already in effect.

Robert Gibbons, district manager for State Farm Insurance Co., said auto insurance rates were raised recently to meet higher repair costs and company losses.

But at the same time, spokesmen for Allstate Insurance Co. and the Inter-Insurance Exchange of the Automobile Club of Michigan said they did not contemplate rate boosts at this time.

These announcements followed yesterday's report that 250 companies in the state, writing policies under two national bureaus, had hiked their rates.

Unmarried males under 25 years are expected to bear the brunt of the increases because of rising number of accidents in this classification, Joseph A. Navarre, state insurance commissioner, said.

Gibbons reported that in this classification for liability insurance on an annual scale, rates went up April 1 from $56 to $78. Minor increases were noted in the over-25 class, while comprehensive insurance was boosted 18 per cent, he said.

Gloomy Is the Word for Weather Outlook

The U. S. Weather Bureau reports that "gloomy" is the word best describing the weather expected this weekend. But gloom or no, temperatures will be mild.

Occasional rain or drizzle and fog are in tonight's outlook, low near 48.

Tomorrow will be mostly cloudy with scattered showers and a high of 56 to 60.

Last night's fog forced Detroit area airports to close and caused cancellation of Willow Run commercial flights from 8 p.m. until early today. Heavy fog also caused 54 freighters to drop anchor near Detroit.

Downtown Pontiac's lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 47. At 1 p.m. the mercury read 52.

City Bus Drivers Reject Contract

Seek Larger Increase, Other Fringe Benefits in New Agreement

City bus drivers last night rejected a proposed company two-year contract as the drivers' union and Pontiac City Lines, Inc. continued negotiations to prevent a stoppage of bus service here.

The contract included a seven cents hourly wage increase and additions to driver vacation plans, according to John Sytsma, president of Local 1079 of the Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America.

Forty drivers have asked for a 20-cent wage boost. They presently receive $1.65 an hour.

Sytsma said a walkout of the drivers "will perhaps" occur, but added, "we will exhaust all possible efforts to reach an agreement first."

"The contract didn't include anything on holidays or insurance fringe benefits we had asked for," he added.

He said he knew of no immediate plans for another company meeting. Officials of the company were not available for comment.

City Manager Walter K. Williams sat in on part of yesterday's session at the request of the union.

Foreign Pilgrims Gather in Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—Foreign pilgrims began gathering in Jerusalem today for visits to holy places over the Easter weekend.

Groups of 34 from Denmark, 30 from Italy and 20 priests mostly from Canada arrived at the Israeli port of Haifa yesterday aboard the liner Messapia.

This year's Easter tourist season is the poorest in years. Only about 1,500 foreigners had arrived in Israel or Jordan by Monday to make the pilgrimage to the holy places. Last year the number was 15,000.

The slump is attributed to the tense Middle East situation.

2 Bengal Tigers Fight Fatal Battle in Circus Arena

NEW YORK (AP)—Two tigers staged a jungle-style fight to the death before 15,000 spectators in the circus arena at Madison Square Garden yesterday.

A 7-year-old female royal bengal tiger named Ila—valued at nearly $5,000—was killed by a 4-year-old male named Rajah. The fight lasted three minutes.

The two first cuffed and snarled at each other during their act, in which they were part of a team of 12 tigers handled by trainer Trevor Bale.

Bale apparently managed to pacify them but at the end of the act, as the tigers were being herded into a runway to leave the ring, Rajah pounced on Ila and the mauling, clawing death battle ensued.

Rousters of the Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey Circus, armed with steel bars, finally separated the two tigers and got them out of the arena. Ila bled to death while a veterinarian worked over her.

Rajah suffered only a few scratches and will stay with the act.

Coulacos, 30, is leaving the club almost four years to the day he was appointed to direct the local club. He will remain in Pontiac as a life insurance agent.

"Bill has built this club up to one of the outstanding boys clubs in the country," Addison K. Oakley, president of the club, said as the board accepted the resignation with regrets.

"The philosophy he has used to get down to the level of the boy in program and guidance techniques has been recognized as the success factor for the boys club movement in this city," Oakley commented.

Before being appointed executive director in April 1953, Coulacos held assistant directorship at the Holyoke, Mass. Boys Club.

After leaving there, Coulacos, appointed physical education director here, a position he held before being appointed executive director.

Edgar Disclaims Breach With Ike

Brother of President Insists No Differences Exist in Family

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edgar Eisenhower says "a breach in our family is the last thing that could ever develop."

Edgar, the President's older brother, also said last night: "I want to make it very plain there are no differences between my brothers and me. We can differ on a friendly basis and no rancor is involved."

He caused quite a stir earlier this week when he was quoted as criticizing the size of the President's budget.

When the President was asked yesterday about this and about reports that Edgar was "disturbed about the liberal influence of Milton and Sherman Adams," he told his news conference good humorously:

"Edgar has been criticizing me since I was 5 years old."

Edgar Eisenhower, 68, is 22 months older than the President. Milton Eisenhower, another brother of the President, is head of Johns Hopkins University and sometimes has been consulted on various matters by the chief executive. Sherman Adams is Eisenhower's top aide.

Edgar, a Tacoma, Wash., attorney, attended a White House stag dinner last night, along with brother Milton and a number of other guests of the President.

Later, he told an interviewer that "Dwight and Milton kiddingly gave me some advice about dealing with the press."

In Chicago, Earl Eisenhower, a young brother of the President, said "it's nothing new" for Edgar to be critical. He added that Edgar has "been that way for about 60 years."

The Day in Birmingham

Pastoral Institute Slated to Open for Studies Soon

BIRMINGHAM (AP)—Operating in collaboration with Christ Church Cranbrook, an interdenominational institute for advanced pastoral studies will be opened shortly in Bloomfield Hills.

Designed to fill the post-ordination training needs of the clergy, the institute has been established under the auspices of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

The Rev. Ruel L. Howe S.T.D., professor of pastoral theology at the Protestant Episcopal seminary in Virginia for 13 years will direct the newly founded institute.

Planned jointly by members of the clergy and laity, it will be operated as an experimental pilot project. Services will be offered to ministers of all denominations who were ordained five or more years ago. The curriculum will be centered on the study of pastoral theology, emphasizing the various aspects of adult education, parish administration and community relations.

The rector of Christ Church Cranbrook, the Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, and a group of lay members in his parish have been instrumental in establishing this center. Incorporated separately it will operate under its own board of trustees. A group of laymen have raised $100,000 to finance the two year experimental period of the institute.

After five months without a pastor, Peace Lutheran American Church of Birmingham installed the Rev. Edward E. Brown at services last Sunday morning. Rev. and Mrs. Brown and daughter will reside in the parsonage at 17280 W. 13 Mile Rd. Mr. Brown is a native of Norwalk, Ohio.

He completed studies at Harvard after his Navy discharge and in 1952 was graduated from the seminary at Capital University. He served churches in Dearborn, New Lebanon, Ohio before coming to Birmingham.

Mrs. Brown, also a graduate of Capital University, has a degree in public school music and taught for two years in the Detroit system.

The work of 15 Michigan artists is being shown at a group-exhibit now through April 28 at the Bloomfield Art Assn. in Birmingham. Oil paintings, water colors, lithographs and etchings will be shown.

Birmingham Village Players will present their final show of the season on April 26 and 27, and May 3 and 4.

Tickets for "The Seven Year Itch" may be purchased at Grinnell's or from Mrs. Marcia Arthur, 16661 Dunblaine, Birmingham.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Spite was blamed by police for the killing of Mrs. Maude Barney's 11 prize-winning cats. Detective E. H. Riviere said someone had opened their cages with a clawhammer and set a dog on the cats. The animals bore teeth marks on their bodies and tracks of a big dog were in the yard, he said.

Downtown Merchants Plan City Face-Lifting

Pontiac's Downtown Merchants' Association gives every indication of becoming one of the liveliest organizations functioning in the City. The executive committee held another meeting this week and it was apparent that the spirit "to-do" is uppermost. President A. C. GIRARD outlined a full and busy program. It will require man hours and dollars and the group pledges both.

A thorough modernization program is "in the mill." This generally includes active participation in hastening a new through-way and especially one which will aid downtown. Secondly comes the question of "skid row" and Federal aid in clearing these sub-standard Saginaw street blocks if possible, and replacing them with the most modern retail establishments possible. Also, the group believes downtown Pontiac needs a general face lifting, in addition to the big skid row project.

Merchants will be urged to modernize the interiors of their stores and add new fronts. The question of parking is another big problem which the group will study and consider. Plans are laid for personal visits to other cities which are ahead of Pontiac. A few have already launched downtown improvement programs and the local group plans to study their operations and profit from their mistakes and their triumphs. Also, there will be concerted merchandising events in which the group participates.

The entire program will be worked through close cooperation with City Manager Walter K. Willman who will constitute the clearing house for all coordinated activities.

Labor Force in U.S.A. Almost Fully Employed

According to the Commerce and Labor Departments total employment in the United States reached 63.2 million in February, the highest in history for that month.

Commerce Secretary WEEKS announced a few days ago that the figure for March would be almost 64 million, indicating a healthy increase in the number of jobs.

In January when employment declined to 62.9 million after the holiday season, the number of persons classified as unemployed totaled 2.9 million, slightly more than in January, 1956. But of this total almost half, 1.4 million, had been out of work four weeks or less. Only 188,000 had been jobless for more than 26 weeks—a half year.

Individuals in the "over 26 weeks" group represented the hard core of the unemployed. Yet in January they were only three-tenths of one per cent of the U. S. civilian labor force of 65,830,000. This is such a small percentage that at the present time the goal of "full employment" in this country virtually has been attained.

A WESTERN woman whose husband gave her 25 cents a day to use as she wished saved these quarters until she accumulated enough to buy a divorce. There are some women a man can't afford to be nice to.

Soviet Citizens Cheated

The Soviet Government has announced that it is preparing to suspend for 20 to 25 years any further payments in interest and principal on about $65 billion worth of bonds it has sold to its people under pressure.

In breaking the bad news Soviet Secretary KHRUSHCHEV, anticipating criticism, hoped to soften the blow by this propaganda barrage:

"The capitalist merchant who would cut his father's throat for one-half per cent of profit," said KHRUSHCHEV, "will never understand the soul of the Soviet people. He will never believe you are doing this of your own free will. He will read the papers and say they have intimidated the workers and peasants into accepting this measure."

And the "capitalist merchant" would be right. In other words the workers' forced loans to the Soviet government of from two to four weeks pay every year are being confiscated.

In JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, a 105-year-old bachelor who became engaged to an 87-year-old woman told a reporter, "At last I've found the right woman."—News item. In this case the saying, "Better late than never," probably applies rather weakly.

The Man About Town

An Early Spring?

Many Indications of It, but Some Contradictions

Fat man: One who usually can be trusted, because it's difficult for him to stoop to anything low.

Despite some reports to the contrary, a glorious spring season seems to be waiting in even a little ahead of time. With forsythia bushes resplendent with a yellow glory more intensive than in former years.

Responding to a treatment of forced growth (which she says is a secret), pansies in the yard of Narcissus plants in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Corwin Sullivan of Elizabeth Lake Estates, are given a consistent heat treatment by the furnace chimney, and already have flowers nearly six inches across.

Even the hens are doing their share to make it a prolific spring, with one in the flock of Frank Peterson of Columbiaville, laying an egg 3x6 inches in size.

However, still a firm believer in the old theory that the frogs must be frozen up three times before spring is here for keeps,

And It Is Like Pulling Teeth!

David Lawrence Says:

Propaganda Funds Foolishly Cut

WASHINGTON — Billions for war, but a mere pittance for the dissemination of ideas that could influence peoples abroad, restrain capricious rulers curious! That's the curious result of "meat-axe" method of cutting the budget which seems to have been adopted by the Democratic Party that controls Congress today.

The proposed cost of armament runs to $38 billion. It is a vital part of the federal budget, because it is counted on to help deter potential enemies from attacking the United States and its allies.

But less than one-third of one per cent of what is being spent for armament now has been appropriated by the House of Representatives for the U.S. Information Agency, which has the main responsibility for transmitting the American viewpoint on peace throughout the world.

A cut of $38,000,000 just made by the House of Representatives leaves the U.S. Information Agency $104,000,000 for next year. This is $7,000,000 less than was voted for the current year. Yet the problems of the Middle East and the Far East are no less critical than they were, and the task of cementing relations with our allies in Europe has not by any means diminished in importance.

RUSSIA SPENDS BILLIONS Soviet Russia spends billions where America spends a few millions in communicating with other peoples, especially in the areas of most strategic importance.

The United States is relatively new at the business of exporting ideas. Some mistakes have been made—but not as many perhaps as in the doing out of billions to foreign governments to help rehabilitate their economic structures since World War II.

The objective—to prevent the spread of international communism—is admitted everywhere in Washington to be worth while. But when it comes to supplying the necessary funds to carry on that phase of the "cold war," Congress seems indifferent.

This is not because of partisanship alone. There are other factors. One is the lack of familiarity of members of Congress themselves with the many influences that are operative every day in foreign lands to check American diplomacy and threaten the defeat of our efforts to win the friendship of other peoples.

The Soviet auxiliaries among the intellectuals are numerous in many countries, and the press is actually controlled by agents of Moscow in various parts of the world where the U.S. information service is trying to offset Communist propaganda. It's a battle that America cannot afford to lose, and it takes money to fight that kind of warfare.

The U.S. Information Agency makes available free, for instance, the texts of important American pronouncements of policy because the newspapers abroad couldn't possibly afford to pay the heavy costs of cable tolls to get those speeches transmitted. There are literally dozens of other worthwhile projects which are designed to inform the peoples abroad concerning America's peaceful intentions and her humanitarian interest in the welfare of other nations. Instead of encouraging this work, Congress is shortsightedly discouraging it.

AMERICANS SHOCKED

It is shocking to any American who travels abroad to discover how little is known about the United States even in the English-speaking countries. Very few newspapers and periodicals are sent from America to other countries—only a few thousands here and there. The vast population of the rest of the world has a scant knowledge of America's purposes and policies. As a consequence, the distortions distributed by the Communists have to be challenged again and again. If Congress doesn't furnish the necessary money to the U.S. Information Agency, the growth of anti-American sentiment will go unchecked.

The potentialities of the various means of communication are limitless. Yet the House of Representatives has actually cut down the program of the U.S. Information Agency and evidently prefers to give a clear field to the Communists in this "Cold War." Will the Senate do likewise?

What the House has just done is a tragic development—a failure to recognize that war can be prevented only by getting peoples to reject the policies of dictators and by winning the hearts and minds of peoples. Ideas are plentiful, but money to convey them is almost as necessary as any other deterrent force.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Rabies Season on Way -- Watch Out for Phobias!

Well, here we go again. The "rabies season" is coming! It seems to me it is high time that the medical profession re-examine phobia and try to take a 20th century view of it.

Such as the view of Drs. Dowling and Denison after

DR. BRADY many years of experience in dealing with the rabies problem in Birmingham, Ala. They say:

"Rabies is primarily a veterinary problem. Regardless of its prevalence in dogs, it will probably never cause sufficient mortality among human beings in this region" (the rabies capital of North America). "To allow its classification as a public health problem of importance."

That, I believe, is the most sensible thing that any authority has said about the phobia since I began "quacking it" in the newspapers.

Please understand clearly that anything I say about the treatment of dog bite is merely my opinion. Certainly, I don't know any more about it than any other doctor knows or should know.

TREAT AS OTHER WOUNDS

I believe the treatment of dog bite is or should be the same as the treatment of any other fresh wound: Wash out the wound with soap and water, cut away dead tissue, close the wound with stitches, if necessary, apply a sterile or mildly antiseptic dressing to protect against secondary infection. Then administer tetanus antitoxin or toxoid.

That's all the treatment I'd want if I were bitten by an animal that a veterinarian suspected or believed rabid. Under no conceivable circumstance would I submit to so-called Pasteur treatment.

In my opinion, the practice of cauterizing dog bite with fuming nitric acid or other destructive agent is unjustifiable, for two reasons.

First, it leaves the wound in the most favorable condition for the growth of clostridium tetani (tetanus bacillus, lockjaw germ) and production of its deadly toxin. Second, it leaves an ugly scar—if the victim recovers.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 150 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Psychology Can Work Wonders

Jed was a veritable "bearcat" at the office. However, his secretary used good strategy. Soon he not only liked her, but she no longer hated him. Remember the old story about the contest between the sun and the wind who tried to make the traveler shed his coat? Well, sincere compliments create a sunny atmosphere and melt down the coldest type of personality.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
Case U-358: Jed Z., aged 43, is typical of a certain type of boss.

"Dr. Crane, he was a bearcat at the office," his secretary informed me.

"When I first started to work for him, I was in tears twice before the day ended. I finally decided I couldn't stand him any longer."

"He would scold everybody else for his own mistakes and even snoot around my desk just to find some minor flaw so he could criticize me."

"Nobody in the office liked him. One of the other girls told me he had three secretaries in the last year who quit."

"So I determined to do the same. But the salary was good and I have a widowed mother living with me, so I hesitated."

"That's when I decided to take your course in applied psychology. I figured if I couldn't learn how to get along with him by the end of the first six weeks of your class, then I'd look for another job, regardless."

City Commission Replies to Letter of Paul Kern Jr.

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Mr. Paul A. Kern Jr., a resident of Orchard Lake, recently raised the question as to why we pay more for a city manager than the City of Toledo, a city four times the size of Pontiac.

The present city manager of Toledo held a similar position in Pueblo, Colo., a city much smaller than Pontiac. He was hired by the City of Toledo within the last three months at an annual salary of $17,250. The Ohio Municipal League has recommended that the position should eventually pay $25,000.

Pontiac's city manager, Mr. Gilbert W. Long, is a veteran with 33 years experience and is nationally recognized as one of the top men in his profession. This is proved by hardly a month going by without some city bidding for his services and also by the fact that Mr. Kern's father was one of the City Commissioners who succeeded in enticing Mr. Willman to leave Port Huron and to come to Pontiac.

In 1951 Pontiac was employing a director of public safety and a civilian defense director at salaries of $7,500 and $5,200 per year, respectively. Mr. Willman has assumed these duties himself and has thus saved $12,700 a year without disrupting the smooth operation of the City of Pontiac.

A good city manager will save the city his salary many, many times over. Pontiac is fortunate to have such an able man to administer our city affairs.

Offers Suggestion to Boost Business

I see Saginaw street assessments have been reduced and I guess it's justified. However, if we get that new road near downtown, we may be able to restore the former figure. We need the money and the business.

'Congress Didn't Know Better'

I think Mr. Summerfield should not have caused so much disappointment and expense to the people by not opening the post offices on Saturday just because some Congressmen held up his appropriation. They probably did not know better.

It was probably the same Congressmen who built a $128,000 cow barn in Lebanon just to show the farmers what kinds of barns they wanted on the farms. What a joke, when the best of the farmers lives on $100 or less a year.

It was probably the same Congressmen that gave India $20.5 million worth of new railroad equipment. Only three nations in the world have better equipment than India, and her ruler could have given millions, if needed.

For more facts and figures read the article of George Meador of Michigan which recently appeared in a national digest.

Tired of Paying Postal Deficit

Before World War II the Post Office Department lost less than 50 million dollars a year. Now it runs ten times that. The Government handles every class of mail, except parcel post, for less than cost. The bigger the volume of mail, the more the taxpayers will have to dig up.

All mail rates should be increased. I, for one, am tired of paying the postal deficit for a lot of other people. These gigantic firms that use the mail on enormous scales can pay their own bills.

'We Earn Living Just like You'

"Reader's" letter was slightly ridiculous. There are no hands than feed us save God's and our own. We work hard for what we get just like anyone else. We pay taxes, buy food, clothing, etc. Nothing is given to us.

Wages are good here, but the cost of living is much higher here, so a person doesn't come out ahead.

Starving? Not by a long shot. People of the South put fine meals on their tables and there's always enough in case company drops in. We don't really know why we came, so don't ask us. It would be hard to answer. Michigan is far from being the land of plenty.

School Policy Is Criticized

When a person spends thousands of dollars to buy a home within five blocks of a school, you would think his worries about a school would be over. But the School Board says the policy is not, to have over 650 students in an elementary school. Therefore, it is necessary to send our children 12 blocks to school, across four main intersections with worry of the shop traffic going to and from Pontiac Motors.

Maybe the board is going to buy some new property to build a million dollar building for another small school, when a few thousand could put a good addition on some of the present buildings and make a lot of tax paying parents happy. As it is a lot of parents are dissatisfied with the way the Board of Education is being operated.

Pontiac Man, 60, Will See Brother for First Time

A 60-year-old Pontiac man was scheduled to leave for New York today to see his brother for the first time.

Harry G. Pappas, of 740 E. Pike St., retired city restaurateur, expects to greet the ship Queen Frederica Tuesday. A brother, Stefanos, 41, is sailing in on the ship after serving as a Greek clergyman for its Easter voyage.

The elder Pappas said his brother, born 10 years after he left Greece for the United States in 1907, is both a minister and a student at the Mt. Athos Monastery in Daphni, Greece.

"Even though he has no visa to land in this country, I hope to talk to some people in New York so I may have a visit for at least a day," an excited Harry Pappas said.

Boy, 10, Hurt Saturday, Reported Improving

Ten-year-old Walter Jones Jr., involved in an accident while riding his homemade bicycle Saturday, was taken off of the critical list today at Pontiac General Hospital.

A hospital spokesman said the boy was "fairly good." He was operated on Saturday night for a fractured skull and "severe concussion."

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones, 111½ E. Huron St.

Civilians Hear Plans for Branch of MSU

city is still an unsettled problem, Dr. Varner said. He listed three possibilities:

1. Funds from industry.
2. Direct state grants by appropriation.

3. A state law which would permit MSU to finance a building program bond issue by pledging all student fees to repayment.

Dr. Varner said he thought the third proposal would go a long way to solve the growing pains of the state's colleges and universities.

In discussing the need for a university in the Oakland-Macomb area, Dr. Varner cited both population growth predictions and projected increases in MSU enrollment.

He said Oakland-Macomb will hit a combined population of 873,000 persons by 1970 and 2 million by 1980.

COLLEGE NEEDED

Even today, he continued, the area is probably the only one of its density in the country without a single post-high school educational institution.

Dr. Varner said predictions of MSU growth, which have always been too low in the past, show a student body of 44,000 by 1970, compared with 19,125 now and 6,900 before World War II.

"This is more than we want on one campus," he said. "We would like to limit our East Lansing enrollment to around 30,000."

The only answer, he added, is to diffuse the student body with local branches of the university. This would prove a great saving to parents, by permitting their youngsters to live at home while attending college, he stated.

Meadowbrook Hall, the fabulous Wilson home, would probably not be used for offices or a student union, but would be preserved as a cultural center, Dr. Varner said.

The Sarah Van Housen Jones gift of 300 acres, northeast of Rochester, which was made just before the Wilson gift, he said, would not be developed in the near future, but would become a valuable adjunct to the branch university in years to come.

Congress Faces Easter Dilemma

Must Cancel Vacation or Recess Without Vote on Fund for Needy

WASHINGTON (INS)—The 85th Congress must decide today whether to take an Easter recess without voting funds to keep up payments to the nation's needy.

That was the big political issue — and the big political risk — in a deficiency resolution hanging fire in both houses on the eve of a planned ten-day Easter holiday.

Both houses halted work last night after a day of battling the deficiency measure back and forth, with each chamber refusing to give in completely on the several issues involved.

Major point of dispute affected 275 million dollars of federal grants to the states for continuation of assistance payments to the aged, blind, disabled and dependent children.

This was being held up by a fight over a House demand for a $16,728,000 limitation on administrative expenses for the program. The Senate was insisting that the present 50-50 federal-state division be continued.

Detroiters Bound Over on Hazel Park Theft

Two Detroit men waived examination and were bound over to Circuit Court yesterday charged with stealing sheet metal from a Hazel Park awning company. After failing to furnish $2,000 bonds, William Madison, 26, of 3589 28th St., and Jesse White, 36, of 3550 29th St., were returned to the Oakland County Jail until arraignment in the higher court Monday.

CMC Graduate to Head Camp

John Leroy, 27, Takes Post at Boys Ranch; to Supervise 20 Lads

A Central Michigan College graduate has been named resident superintendent of Camp Oakland, operated by Oakland County Juvenile Court on Handsome Lake between Oxford and Lake Orion. John R. Leroy, 27, takes over duties as superintendent of the year-round Boys' Ranch, Camp Director William Matus announced.

The $5,000-a-year job was left vacant by Richard Wagner, who resigned recently for a teaching profession.

A former resident of Mt. Pleasant, Leroy was graduated in February with a major in psychology. Married, he will live at the camp to supervise the activities of an average 20 boys, placed there as wards of the court.

This program is in addition to summertime activities for 200 boys of the Oakland County Children's Home and the wintertime work program for a smaller number of youths housed at the home as wards of the court.

Charge Policeman With Manslaughter

PHILADELPHIA (P)—A policeman faces manslaughter charges today in the death of a pedestrian which he allegedly reported to his superiors as a hit-run accident.

Authorities said the patrolman, Thomas Murgitroyde, 47, phoned yesterday while off-duty that he had found a hit-run victim lying in the street. The victim, Michael Toth, 37, a trucking firm employee, was dead on arrival at Hahnemann Hospital.

Traces of blood and human hair were found on the front of Murgitroyde's own car in a routine investigation, said Capt. Joseph P. Cuneane of the Accident Investigation Division.

Name Low Bidders on Road Projects

Low bidders on two Oakland County road projects were announced today by Charles M. Ziegler, State Highway Commissioner.

Contracts were expected to be awarded soon to a Wyandotte firm, Loselle Construction Co. for $462,739 of construction at the new Lincoln Motor Division plant at Wixom and to Lake and Howell Construction Co., of Howell, for 7.1 miles of improvement on Dequindre Rd.

The Wixom project calls for 1.5 miles of a four-lane, divided highway on M218 from U.S. 16 to West road. It is designed for heavy plant traffic.

New concrete will be laid on Dequindre from Fourteen Mile road to existing M50. The low bid was $190,525.

Astronomy Prof Explains Setting Date for Easter

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Why is this Sunday Easter? Because last Sunday there was a full moon, explains Miss Hazel Losh, University of Michigan professor of astronomy. She says the date for Easter was fixed in 325 A.D., when the church fathers gathered in council. "It was set as the Sunday following the first full moon that occurs after the sun enters the Equinox," Miss Losh states. The first full moon of spring was April 14. Easter can actually fall anytime during the 35-day period between March 22 and April 25, depending upon the moon, of course, says Miss Losh. "In 1943, it occurred on this latest day, but this will not happen again until 2038," she says. "A March 22 Easter will not take place until 2285."

The first sky writing is attributed to a group at Amherst College in 1909.

This Spring Brings Memories to 'Bud' — Plane Rides With 'Slim' — Chute Jumps

NEW YORK (INS) — This spring is bringing back to men like H. A. Gurney memories of the day of the Jenny, and of wing-walking and barnstorming, and of a lanky lad called "Slim."

It was back in 1921, 36 years ago, that "Bud" Gurney was working his way through High School by helping around Lincoln Standard Aircraft Corp. at Lincoln, Nebraska.

"They advertised for students," he said in an interview the other day. "Slim was the only one that showed up with $500." The two young men took their first airplane ride together.

"Within a week after that first ride," Gurney said, "Slim talked to a man who made parachutes. We took two old balloon chutes. We both made jumps."

"But the company didn't want 'Slim' to solo—they didn't want to risk the airplane."

Five years later, on May 20, 1927, "Slim" took off on one of the great flights of aviation — from Roosevelt Field, L. I., to Le Bourget, Paris. When he landed on May 21, 1927, Charles A. Lindbergh, known as "Slim," had become a world hero.

But most of the time "Bud" Gurney knew him, he was just another pilot, perhaps more aware of aviation's future—"he dreamed, lived and was aviation"—but still full of fun.

Gurney, now a senior captain with United Airlines on the Los Angeles to Honolulu flight, was swept back to the days of the 1920's in his many hours as technical adviser for the motion picture, "The Spirit of St. Louis."

"I'd hear my name," he said, "but it's kind of difficult these days to realize there's much connection between the Bud Gurney today and the one that existed then."

Now Gurney is the father of five, living on a 38-acre ranch in Woodland Hills, Calif., in the west end of the San Fernando valley. One of his sons is an Air Force pilot and West Point graduate.

PLAYED BY EAR
"In our day there were so many unknowns," he said, "You played it all by ear and took your chances. Now all the major answers are in. It's a scientific game. My son has a better background, and an education in all those things that took us years to learn."

Boy, 8, Bags Moose

QUESNEL, B. C. (AP) — Eight-year-old Wesson Bryant is the youngest hunter in this area to bag his Moose. He saved up to buy a restricted fire-arms license and dropped the animal with a single shot from his 30-30 rifle.

He Ruined the Effect

HOLDENVILLE, Okla. (AP) — The Holdenville Daily News as an advertising gimmick drenched its columns with perfumed ink. And next to the story explaining the stunt was a picture, by coincidence of Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson tightly holding his nose.

Mrs. Wilson Anticipates Retirement

BY JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Charles E. Wilson is all set to leave town the minute her husband resigns as secretary of defense. She's been making her plans for weeks, and three handsome houses, 15 grandchildren and a most happy spirit await the day.

A June leave-taking had been talked of, she admitted, but she told me "the exact date has not yet been decided."

The outspoken Cabinet wife, whose criticism of the President for his rebuke of her husband last January caused something of a furor, has denied urging her husband to resign. She admitted, however, "we think he has the right to take it easy now."

Part of Jessie Wilson's plan for helping her husband "take it easy" has been adding an extra room to the handsome, seven-room ante-bellum mansion at Richlands, their 4,000-acre plantation in Louisiana, "a sort of recreation room where the men can go after hunting, or fishing."

The property, she added, also has been repainted, redecorated, and furniture bought with the place has been reupholstered.

TRAVEL SOUVENIRS
"When we leave here, we'll take some of the things we've collected in our travels from our Washington apartment to Richlands," she went on.

"I bought a lot of beautiful things in Paris, a beautiful hand-carved screen with the original tapestry I got for a song, about 40 pieces of Limoges, and some French furniture. Any drawing room has to have the French touch."

Some of the Meissen figurines she collects will go to the Wilsons' Bloomfield Hills home, as will additions to the Rose and Snow and Button and Daisy early American glass she keeps in two Georgian corner cupboard cabinets in her French blue dining room.

Mrs. Wilson said she had no special plans for the future. "I will do what my husband does, go where he goes," she said. "I always have."

If he goes hunting or fishing, she'll go along, though she doesn't

MRS. CHARLES E. WILSON

LAUGHS AT ARTICLE

Mrs. Wilson laughed over an article describing her as "sitting quietly with her needlepoint and grandchildren."

"I haven't touched needlepoint for 15 years," she told me, "and anyone knows you can't sit quietly with 15 grandchildren."

She doesn't expect to spend all her time at the plantation, either.

"We have three homes," she explained. "Besides Richlands and the home in Bloomfield Hills, we have our summer place at Walloon Lake in northern Michigan. We also have leased a ranch in Florida, but that will be mostly for the children."

Right Product Makes Selling Fun

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Sometimes ignorance is bliss — at least, that's how Elsie K. feels.

Elsie is a young mother of four children, who are all in school. For a long time, she had wanted to take a vocational test. Finally an old college friend of her husband's, who is a vocational counselor, gave her the works.

"But," Elsie wailed, "I was better off before. He tells me I'm a natural for the selling field, that I would have wonderful fun in it and make a lot of money. But the trouble is, I can't like a full-time job."

"All that's left is selling things door to door — and I just couldn't stand that. After all, I would have to interrupt busy housewives and push products at them — and I know what that's like!"

TYPICAL MISTAKE
This woman is making a typical mistake — thinking that selling is just selling. There's a world of difference between selling one kind of product and selling another.

I know women who believe so much in the product they sell that they honestly feel they're doing their customers a favor.

I have seen women, who were miserable selling cosmetics, become blissfully contented when they switched to vitamins — and vice versa!

The first thing for this woman to do — and for all of you who are

Preserve Beauty While Cleaning House in Spring

Even if you don't do an annual spring housecleaning, spring does somehow lend itself to tasks that have gone untended all winter. Among these are cleaning out the closets and kitchen cupboards and scrubbing same. While this is fine for the house, it's rough on beauty.

So, before you start your cleaning campaign, undertake the protection of your good looks. Hands should be sheathed in rubber gloves and creamed when you've finished work. Hair should be protected by a scarf tied turban style.

Give your face a thorough cream-and-lotion cleansing as soon as the cleaning jobs are finished. If the weather permits, have the windows open while you work so that you breathe as little dust as possible.

interested in sales — is to analyze yourself and see what kind of product would be best for you.

Make a list of the kind of products you enjoy using the most. Make a list of the kind of shop windows that fascinate you. List the kind of ads you invariably read in your paper, whether you're planning to buy such a product or not.

MAJOR INTERESTS

You'll come up with quite a list of major interests, of products which you might so enjoy selling that, as the saying goes, "It doesn't seem like selling at all!"

As for the business of selling door to door, that too, has changed. Many firms arrange the work so that you can make appointments in advance.

Then, again, today's housewife is often so busy with boring chores, and so lonesome working by herself, that she actually welcomes a salesperson to break the monotony!

If you'd like to find out what kind of product you could sell best, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you a list of all the different companies in the direct sales field.

Browse through it and you're bound to find one you'll like!
