Fire Razes Auburn School Annex

Suspect Arson in Destruction After Vandalism

Find Attempts to Ignite Main Brick Building; 600 Pupils Vacation

By SYLVIA de STEIGER

State Police today are investigating the possibility of arson in a fire which destroyed a frame wing of the Auburn Heights Elementary School containing three classrooms, a cafeteria and a kitchen early this morning.

Detective Willis Myers of the Detroit State Police Fire Marshal Division, said the fire apparently was started after vandals had ransacked the principal's office and every teacher's desk in the adjoining 12 room brick school building.

Several fires were started but one near the door of the entrance to the passagway of the wing was the one which swept into the frame building and burned it to the ground.

Another fire was attempted in the basement of the brick building. A rack containing the safety boys' raincoats was burned. The fire did not spread because of the cement ceiling, floor and walls.

Raymond Baker, superintendent of the Avondale Schools, said he could not estimate the total damages although new kitchen equipment was recently purchased which would add to the total cost.

Flames were first noticed by Mrs. Marcella Westfall, 312 S. Squirrel, Auburn Heights, about 3:30 a.m.

Over 35 volunteer Pontiac Township Firemen fought the flames from 4 to 7:45 a.m., using three tankers and two pumpers.

Supt. Baker said the destroyed frame building had been built about 15 years ago and was to be temporary until a million dollar building project of additions to schools had been completed. He said this fire may halt some of the building plans.

Only two rooms in the main building were damaged. Firemen had to break several of the windows of two classrooms and the flames damaged the exterior of the two rooms.

Eva Yarger, principal of the school, said nothing was taken from the building, although all teacher desks and her office was entered. Drawers and cupboard doors were opened and contents was strewn around.

Classes for 600 students will be discontinued this week, according to Baker, although he thought they would begin Monday. There is a possibility that the community center or the Presbyterian church may be used to accommodate several classes, he added.

Israel and Egypt Refuse to Alter Their Positions

U.N. Fears Blowup as Withdrawal Deadline Draws Near

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Rival Israeli-Egyptian positions on a Middle East settlement hardened today as the midnight deadline neared for Israel's troop withdrawal from Egypt and the Gaza Strip.

Israel again told the U.N. it would not quit the Mediterranean coastal strip and the area controling the Gulf of Aqaba without concrete guarantees of protection.

That continuing stand was seen in Cairo as an urgent sign the U.N. must act swiftly to avert another violent explosion in the Middle East.

Egypt and the other nations of the Asian-Egypt bloc expected to demand that the U.N. impose economic penalties on Israel to force withdrawal from the two areas on the Egyptian side of the 1949 armistice line.

The 80-nation General Assembly set the midnight deadline for a report from Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold on Israel's response to the U.N. demand.

Hammarskjold was not expected to announce his findings until tomorrow, but Israel's reiteration of its stand seemed to make obvious what he could report.

ANOTHER DEBATE

The latest Israeli statement, delivered to Hammarskjold in a seven-page memorandum, apparently set the stage for another major Middle East debate in the Assembly starting Monday.

Diplomats said it would deal not only with Israeli troop movements but also would go into the whole future of the U.N. Emergency Force in Egypt.

Pontiac Police Halt Train; Save 3 Stalled Cars

Quick work by two Pontiac patrolmen yesterday halted a Grand Trunk & Western Railway passenger train seconds before it reached an intersection where three cars were stuck.

Patrolmen Billy Jones and Fred Stormer spotted the cars at the slippery Franklin road crossing. Knowing a train was due, Stormer ran up the tracks to flag the train. Jones tried to help the motorists push their cars away.

The cars were still in the train's path as it braked to a stop 40 feet away. The intersection finally was cleared and the train resumed its run.

Frame House Destroyed by Explosion of Heater, Fire Officials Believe

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG

Dead is Mrs. Sally Wilson, 24, of 4124 West Highland Rd.

MRS. SALLY WILSON

Aided by strong winds, flames swept the six-room wooden frame structure in a matter of minutes.

Mrs. Wilson's husband, John, 26, was sleeping in a room with their four children when the fire broke out shortly before five a.m. Mrs. Wilson was asleep in another bedroom.

Wilson carried his children Christina, 4, and Robin 1, through the flames and to safety outside. He then returned for Dana Sue, 5, and John Jr., 2.

Christina, in critical condition, was taken to Ford Hospital in Detroit for extensive skin grafting. Conditions of the others are listed as serious at Pontiac General Hospital.

TRIES THIRD TIME

Wilson attempted to enter the blazing building a third time for his wife but flames had blocked all the entrances. His chest and arms black from burns, he suffered severe gashes of his right wrist and shoulder as he attempted to climb in through a broken window. Flames drove him back.

Mrs. Wilson's bedroom was cut off by flames shrouding her doorway. Trapped in the room, her pregnant condition made her unable to reach the high windows, according to Highland Township Fire Chief James Allie.

Neighbors Mr. and Mrs. James Sadler of 4142 W. Highland Rd. said, "We ran to our door, and Wilson was standing there burned black, and bleeding terribly from a gash on his arm and shoulder. We tried to keep him here, but we couldn't hold him. He ran back to his house, and we called the fire department."

The Milford and Highland Township fire departments sent five trucks to the scene. Time was lost during Wilson's rescue efforts before he ran to a neighbor's home to summon aid. The blaze had been going about twenty minutes by the time the fire trucks arrived.

Temperatures in the teens at night and 20s during the day are expected to steady a roller-coaster thermometer which has bobbed from spring-like readings back to more customary winter temperatures.

Tuesday night's snowfall is still keeping the Oakland County road crews busy salting and sanding to clear hazardous highways of ice. A spokesman said many roads remain "generally slippery," with the most slippery conditions reported in the southern part of the county.

The forecast is for light snow tonight and tomorrow with tonight's low around 12. The high tomorrow is predicted to reach 20 to 24 degrees. Friday night's prediction is for a reading between 16 and 20.

The Weather Bureau said temperatures and snowfall were above normal for the first half of the winter which ended Tuesday. Close to 26 inches of snow had fallen. The normal at mid-season is 18.5 inches.

The lowest temperature in Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 7 degrees. At 2 p.m. the mercury registered 20 degrees.

Had Altitude, Pilot Says

Report Faulty Gauge in Willow Run Crash

A report of a faulty altimeter was being studied today as the possible cause of the crash of a four-engined Navy plane which crashed Tuesday night near Willow Run airport.

The R5D transport was bringing the body of former Pontiac resident Lt. Cmdr. Charles R. Walton to Detroit for services today in Birmingham. He was killed along with another Naval Reservist in a crash Sunday near Albuquerque, N. M.

A member of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Dept. quoted Lt. Joseph M. Pietro, 32, the pilot, as saying: "I thought I had plenty of altitude for a landing. My altimeter registered between 600 and 900 feet when we crashed."

Navy spokesmen at the Grosse Ile Naval Air Station investigating the accident, withheld comment pending completion of the inquiry.

KILLED IN CRASH

Killed in the crash, which occurred during a blinding snowstorm, was Coast Guard Lt. Cmdr. William E. Sale, 35, of San Diego, Calif. He was coming to Detroit to buy a new car.

Six crew members survived the crash which came as the plane was attempting to make a radar assisted approach to the field.

Co-pilot Cmdr. Benjamin G. Preston, 43, of Glenview, Ill., and crewmembers Floyd C. Birt, 32, of Arlington Heights, Ill., and Adolph P. Meisch, 30, of Glenview, were listed as in satisfactory condition in University Hospital at Ann Arbor.

Pietro and Ensign Thomas T. Burke, 22, of Chicago a passenger, both were discharged today from Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti. Seaman Eric N. Starr, "hitchhiking" a ride to Boston from San Diego, was treated and released for cuts and bruises following the crash.

Civil Aeronautics Administration spokesmen at the field were tracking the plane and had "a fairly good radar picture until it vanished." The CAA took over control of the landing while the plane was 18 miles away, they said.

What Is Ideal Boss? Secretaries Tell All

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles chapter of the National Secretaries Assn. says these are some qualifications of the ideal boss:

Always remember your secretary has your best interests at heart.

Turn your back when she comes in late and think of all the hours she has worked overtime.

Don't ask her to work on her day off; she probably needs the rest.

Don't shout.

And above all, take her to lunch once in a while—she can't afford to eat out on her salary.

Train Wins Race as Car on Track Backs Up Fast

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — What do you do when your automobile is headed down a railroad track and a train is coming the other way?

Back up as fast as you can, 39-year-old Edward Payne of Marion, Ind., told state highway patrolmen last night.

Payne's car had skidded into a warning sign at a New York Central crossing in nearby Stony Ridge and slewed around until it partially blocked the tracks.

He shifted into reverse, jammed down the accelerator and went bumping backwards along the tracks.

A slow-moving freight train ended the race by nudging the automobile into a ditch about 50 feet down the tracks.

Suspect Nabbed in Sister Deaths

Dishwasher Quizzed in Mystery Killing of Two Chicago Girls

CHICAGO (INS)—A young dishwasher was held as a suspect today in the baffling double murder of the Gilpin sisters in Chicago.

Identified only as a part-time dishwasher, he was arrested last night by Cook County Sheriff Joseph Lohman.

The nude bodies of Barbara Grimes, 15, and her sister, Patricia, 13, missing since last Dec. 28, were found Tuesday in a culvert near the suburb of Willow Springs.

The suspect was seized at the Star and Garter movie theater by sheriff's officers working on a tip provided by the restaurant operator and a taxi cab driver.

Investigators seeking clues in the slaying of the sisters were confronted today with a new mystery —the cause of their deaths.

Science may furnish the answer. But it was not apparent to expert pathologists after a five-hour examination of the girls' bodies yesterday.

The autopsy findings disclosed the sisters had not been molested sexually; did not die by strangulation, or carbon monoxide poisoning; no signs of external violence on the bodies that could have caused death; and that the bodies appeared to have been exposed to cold temperatures for some time.

Celebrate Birth of Princess

Monacans Rock Rafters With All-Night Dancing

MONTE CARLO (AP)—The joyful Monacans rocked 'n' rolled throughout the night to celebrate the arrival of their royal baby, Princess Caroline. But the happy and weary father, Prince Rainier III, went to bed early.

The mother, Princess Grace, slept quietly in her bedroom in the palace. Beside her, in a crib once occupied by Prince Rainier, slept the blue-eyed, dark-haired baby born yesterday morning.

Doctors said the former Grace Kelly's condition was excellent. She was expected to be up and around the palace in two or three days.

The rejoicing residents and visitors in this 367-acre principality on the Riviera gathered in a singing and dancing throng before the palace early last night.

They lit a bonfire and shouted "Long live the Prince—long live the princess!" far into the night.

After yelling themselves hoarse, the Monacans scattered into cafes and other night spots around the principality. They danced rock 'n' roll, mambo, and almost every other gay kind of dance. The dawn advanced and so did the celebrating. The swank night club in the famous gambling casino was packed.

2 Fliers Jump Safely; Jet Just Avoids House

CADILLAC (INS) — Two Air Force fliers parachuted to safety yesterday shortly before their F89 Scorpion jet crashed in an isolated area 16 miles southwest of here.

The crewmen were identified by officials at Wurtsmith Air Force Base at Oscoda as Jacques A. Suzanne, 23, of Levittown, N.Y., the pilot, and Charles M. Edwards, 21, of Tucson, Ariz., the co-pilot.

The plane, based at Wurtsmith, was on a routine training flight when Suzanne radioed that he was running out of fuel and would have to bail out. The jet narrowly missed a house before it crashed with such force the wreckage was spread over several acres.

The Day in Birmingham

Fire Department Report Shows One Run Per Day

BIRMINGHAM — Averaging slightly over one run per day, or 398 for the past year, the Birmingham fire department's annual loss shows a per capita loss of $.77 during the past year.

Woodward avenue, with its greater length and many places of business had a total of 40 alarms, followed by Maple avenue, 25; Southfield road, 15, and Lincoln avenue, 10 for the "high danger" areas. October with 19, and May with 18, lead the parade of months in hours spent fighting fires. A total of 360 fires were "no loss" alarms.

The department answered 63 first aid calls, but according to Chief Park Smith, defective electrical appliances caused more fires, 40, than any other means. Heating devices were responsible for 37 blazes.

The water department report showed 803,031,309 gallons of water pumped, 245,687,809 of which came from SEOCWA. This is an annual average of 34,914 gallons per person.

A total of 71 specimens were taken from the city's six active wells for analysis, all of which met state health department specifications for purity, Chief Smith said.

In addition to regular department duties, two captains, M. Fuller and C. Nunnelley, conducted first aid classes for other city workers, with 15 receiving Red Cross First Aid cards.

"We've had a good year," Smith said, "the lowest fire loss in four years."

Slippery roads have delayed the arrival here of the 'Don Egbert' tree which will be planted in Shain Park as a memorial tribute to former city manager Donald C. Egbert for his many years of service to the city.

The twenty five foot Norway spruce will be dedicated in a brief ceremony at noon Saturday Feb. 2.

Israel, Egypt Refuse to Come to Terms

Israel would have trouble clearing the Assembly.

★ ★ ★

Reports from Cairo said Egypt might halt the clearing of the Suez Canal if the U.N. turned down a demand for sanctions. They declared the situation would then become more critical than the period that preceded the October invasion of Egypt.

SLOWDOWN NOTED

A slowdown in canal clearance work already was reported by some Egyptian and U.N. sources in Egypt.

★ ★ ★

The Cairo newspaper Al Messaa also warned Egypt may resort to military action as well as clearance delays to force the Israelis out.

Bad Day for Smiths

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — The Smiths had it yesterday in Bowling Green. A car driven by Cecil A. Smith of Bowling Green hit the rear of another car driven by Oval C. Smith of Weston and then careened into a parked car owned by Leonard L. Smith of Grand Rapids.

Advise School Workers on Forming Association

Mary Slater, Oakland County School lunch consultant, last night explained to Pontiac School cafeteria workers how they could form an association, at a meeting at Wever School.

A bylaws committee and nominating committee were chosen by the group and a meeting to hear these committee reports was set for Feb. 25.

Vern Schiller, treasurer of Pontiac's School Board, attended the meeting.

Your Income Tax

This is one of a series of articles prepared by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service to help you prepare your Income Tax Return.

ARE YOU AN EMPLOYE?

Are you an employe? Does the boss reimburse you for money spent for him in connection with your employment (other than travel or transportation)? Add the reimbursement to your gross income and then subtract the expenses of this type that you had, but not more than the reimbursement.

Any ordinary and necessary expense of this type in excess of your reimbursement, may be deducted under miscellaneous expenses if you itemize your deductions.

Expense for actual travel or the business portion of your own car expense if it is used in connection with the performance of services for your employer may be deducted from your gross income.

Any reimbursement of these expenses must be included in gross income. The cost of transportation between your residence and your principal place of employment is a personal expense and not deductible.

Further information on income tax problems is available, without cost, to taxpayers at the Internal Revenue Service office, 53½ West Huron St. Phone FE 1-0200.

Asks Congress to Trust in Ike

Dulles Claims Mideast Plan Cannot Succeed Without Faith

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary Dulles pleaded today that Congress trust President Eisenhower to make good use of the 200 million dollars the administration asks for military and economic aid to Middle East nations.

Pressed by Sen. Russell D-Ga. for more information on how the money would be spent, Dulles told a Senate hearing:

"If we have to pinpoint everything we propose to do, this program will not serve its purpose.

Dulles said too that the Middle East situation could end in "a great disaster to the United States" if Eisenhower was not given the military and economic powers he asks.

President Eisenhower's Middle East doctrine is expected to receive overwhelming—and possibly unanimous—approval of the House Foreign Affairs Committee today.

There was every indication that the doctrine will be approved without major revision.

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex), who has thrown his powerful support behind the Eisenhower doctrine, has stated the resolution will probably be called up in the House next week, if approved in time by the committee.

Also taking part in the program will be Class President James Cornforth and the Pontiac High School band under the direction of Dale C. Harris.

'Nuri Has Not Resigned,' States Iraqi Minister

BAGHDAD (AP)—A Foreign Minister spokesman has denied flatly a report from Lebanon that Iraqi Premier Nuri Said has resigned.

The spokesman called the report in the right-wing Lebanese newspaper Beirut part of a war of nerves being waged against Iraq. Nuri has been under fire from Egypt and Syria because of his pro-Western views.

Voisine Files Motion

DETROIT (AP)—Attorneys for Ecorse Mayor William Voisine and three Ecorse councilmen indicted by the Bohn Grand Jury have filed a federal court motion for information in the case. Assistant Atty. Gen. Joseph A. Sullivan objected to the move as an attempt to "get into the secret files" of the grand jury. The request for information was made preliminary to a federal court hearing on constitutionality of the grand jury.

Chicago Police Note Likeness in Two Killings

CHICAGO (INS)—Chicago investigators are making a careful study of the striking similarity between the murders of the Grimes sisters and the unsolved murder of three boys.

The bodies of Barbara and Patricia Grimes, aged 15 and 13, were found yesterday near suburban Willow Springs. The boys—Robert Peterson, 13, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother, Anton, 11—were found slain Oct. 16, 1955.

Police and psychologists believe that the same person, or persons, may have been responsible for both crimes.

Here are the parallels:

* * *

1—In each case the naked victims were dumped a few feet from a road in an isolated, wooded area.

* * *

2—The disposal scene was near a river—a unique mark of other unsolved child killings.

3—In both cases, inclement weather may have helped the killer, or killers, lure the children into automobiles.

* * *

* * *

5—Only half-hearted efforts were made to conceal the bodies.

6—The victims were not shot, but beaten or stabbed to death.

BULL-RING BALLERINA — Pretty Rosemary Hatherly, 19, practices for ballet and bull fights and can't make up her mind which career to follow. Daughter of an English businessman living in Portugal, she recently made her debut as a dancer at the San Carlos Opera House. Above, she executes a graceful "veronica" with the matador's cape as her bull-fighting teacher, Julio Procopio, plays the part of the bull, during a practice session in Lisbon.

Calls $440 Certificate 'Unconscious Mistake'

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — For $2 at an auction sale, a Lincoln woman got a dresser, a box containing a doll and other items—and a stock certificate worth $440.

Lancaster County Judge Herbert Ronin ruled, after a trial, that the buyer, Mrs. Robert Martin, was the rightful owner of the certificate, found in the box after Mrs. Martin had bought her purchases home.

The auction was held to dispose of household effects of an estate whose executor contended inclusion of the stock certificate in Mrs. Martin's purchase was an "unconscious mistake."

Over half of Argentina's annual horsehide output now is sold to Japan.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The last of the homes owned by Alonzo E. Horton, founder of modern San Diego, is being torn down to make room for a parking lot. The 2½ story wood and brick structure was the first house Hurton built for himself after he came to San Diego in 1867. The house, constructed in 1868, had a fireplace in every room.

Security for You

Make Less Than $1,200, And 65, No Tax

What do you do about federal income tax when you reach 65 and start drawing pensions and other retirement payments?

The Internal Revenue Service has a ready answer: It all depends on the kind of retirement payments you're getting.

There are four rules which complete the IRS's answer:

1. If you have a retirement income — including any money from working, from pensions or other payments — of less than $1,200 a year, you don't have to pay any tax. In fact, you don't even have to file a tax return. If you and your wife both have reached 65 and have a combined income of $2,400 you don't have to pay any tax. However, if either of you has an income of more than $1,200 you must file a return.

2. If you're 65 or over and are receiving Social Security payments, Railroad Retirement pensions or veteran's pensions or compensation, there is no income tax to pay on them. They're tax free. If you have income from other sources, such as insurance, employment, etc., which make it necessary for you to file a tax return, you don't even have to enter your veteran's, Social Security or Railroad Retirement payments on the return.

3. If you're receiving an annuity or pension — such as a company pension — you have to report the entire amount as income if you didn't contribute to the fund from which the pension of annuity is paid.

4. If you're receiving a retired employe's pension or an annuity based on contributions made by both you and your employer, part of the pension or annuity is taxable and part of it isn't.

CITE DOUBLE RULES

There are two rules on this:

The first rule applies to a pension or annuity from which you'll receive in payments within three years after you retire an amount at least equal to what you contributed.

If you fall under this rule, all the payments you receive are not considered taxable until you've been paid an amount equal to what you put into the pension. After that, you must report the payments on your return and pay any required tax on them.

For example: Suppose you're now getting a pension of $100 a month and your total contribution while you worked was $2,500. At the $100 a month rate, you'll receive a total of $3,600 in payments during your first three years of retirement. The first $2,500 — your contributions — of this total is tax free. But, any money you receive after that is taxable.

Incidentally, this rule usually applies to persons who retire and receive federal Civil Service Retirement payments.

The second rule applies to a pension or annuity from which you will not receive in payments during the first three years of retirement the full amount you've contributed to the pension or annuity.

Under this rule, as long as you receive payments, part of each year's payments will be taxable and part won't.

The way in which the tax is figured depends on your life expectancy, total expected payments, total contributions and yearly payments.

If your pensions or annuity pay-

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

DOWN IN DAVY JONES' LOCKER—4
Underwater Actors

Here is a second frogman, a tropical fish and a jelly fish for your deep sea tank.

Paste this picture down on cardboard and color brightly with crayons. The fish is a green with yellow patches and fins. The jellyfish is pink.

Cut out all the parts carefully. Don't forget to cut the slits on the straps of the frogman's harness as indicated by dotted lines. Slip tabs A and B on the bottom of the helmet into these harness slits. Fold the helmet straps behind the frogman's head (arrows).

Put a black thread through the hole in his right flipper. Then he can be lowered into the tank and drawn along from end to end as if swimming.

Put threads into the holes on the fish and the jellyfish where the arrows point. Then they too can be lowered into the tank.

Tomorrow you'll meet the strange looking hammerhead shark and other fish for your tank.

Sentence Youth to Walk and Walk and Keep Walkin'

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A 17-year-old boy will do a lot of walking in the next three years—or go to prison. That was the choice given Willis Gilbert of Sand Springs by District Judge Eben L. Taylor as a condition of his probation on a second degree burglary count.

Taylor made the unusual requirement after observing an automobile was where Gilbert got into trouble with four other boys who went on a drinking spree last Nov. 10. It was climaxed by a burglary and setting fire to a stolen car.

Probation Officer Al Reed said Gilbert will be permitted to ride in an automobile only with his father or mother.

Proposed Postage Hike Would Eliminate Debt

Five cent air mail for all letters is in the offing. This would mean the abolition of the current three cent rate for rail dispatch and the current six cent rate for airplanes.

All would go by air.

All would go for a nickel.

Any time the postal rates are touched, a heavy protest arises from several sectors of the economy. No one wants his own private ox gored. That's basic.

All of us are paying the annual half billion dollar deficit as things stand now. Certainly, it would be more business-like to affix a couple cents extra on each letter and thus end the necessity of making up the annual half billion dollars in a variety of taxes. Those that send the most letters would pay a little more.

Presidents and Postmasters General have been striving to balance the postal deficit until memory of the oldest inhabitant runneth not to the contrary.

Always, they fail.

Hence, it has always been strictly a rear guard action with each class of postal users loudly insisting their particular sector should be left untouched while the increases were dumped indiscriminately on the various brethren using the other classifications.

"Raise 'em all but me."

This newspaper has long contended that the postal deficit should be eliminated by charging what the service costs. Why should your letter to Aunt Minnie show a cent loss that the taxpayers have to make up? We believe both you and Aunt Minnie are willing to pay your own way. Direct mail users who clutter mail boxes with unwanted and unasked-for trash should pay what it costs. Are YOU anxious to foot a part of their bill?

★ ★ ★

Publications should also bear their own expense. There is no reason why you should pay part of the actual expense of delivering Collier's Weekly, even if the magazine runs in arrears and is doomed to extinction. The Federal government can't grant subsidies to all businesses to guarantee their existence. That's a personal battle you have to win yourself, and if the task is too much, you're simply on the way out.

Sales of Crop Surplus Decreasing Stockpiles

In a year of record crop production more surplus commodities have been sold out of storehouses than have been moved in and the prospect is for a year to year decrease in the stockpile.

The huge surplus of farm products held by the Government as a means of supporting prices paid to farmers is shrinking slowly. At the peak, March 1, 1956, the Government held $8.9 billion worth of commodities. By June 30, 1956, it had decreased to $7.5 billion.

Actually, a two price system approved by Congress had been set up. The Government supports all farm products at domestic prices. But the other price is set at a level needed to move the surpluses abroad and large foreign sales have resulted.

The U.S. uses the money, which can't be converted into dollars, to pay expenses it incurs in those countries. About 50 per cent has been loaned back to the purchasing nations for economic development. In return for $400 million worth of surplus traded to other countries, we have received strategic materials. Another $800 million worth was given to needy nations.

★ ★ ★

Although this policy has been criticized by some Government officials, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz says that "we are learning to use these surpluses as a positive factor in our foreign policy." He believes we are making friends in many countries which we've been trying to keep from slipping under Russian influence. Our dollar sales also are increasing.

The Department of Agriculture indicates that this policy is to continue. There is a vast overseas market to be tapped as long as U.S. taxpayers continue to foot the bill and make the price right, says U.S. News & World Report.

That may be true, but in any case our surplus commodities are not spoiling in warehouses nor are the taxpayers paying for storage. If our State Department can use them as instruments of policy also, so much the better.

David Lawrence Says:

Informal Words Reveal Our Policy

WASHINGTON — Sometimes a spontaneous answer to a searching question tells more than a President of the United States can say in all the addresses and statements he may have carefully prepared for public utterance. And this is exactly what happened at the press conference on Wednesday when President Eisenhower gave, in a nutshell, what might be called America's world policy.

The question asked was whether Mr. Eisenhower would care to name three or four things he hoped to accomplish in his second administration. This was the reply:

"Look, everything else fades to unimportance beside this one: That we do make progress toward better world understanding—achieved, I would say, in several steps.

"First, a better understanding among the free nations of the world, that is, better and stronger confidence among them;

BETTER UNDERSTANDING

"And, after that, particularly better understanding with the Russians—the Russian government;

"And, finally, agreements in which we could all trust them."

The sequence is especially significant. The President believes that priority must be given now to the necessity of strengthening the friendships and alliances of free nations. This means the further development of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the Middle East agreements, the Southeast Asia pacts, the inter-American understandings and in fact, the molding of a partnership of the whole free world.

As this is being achieved in diplomacy, concurrently comes the building up of their economic strength as well as their military potentiality. When all this is accomplished, then, and only then, can there be an "understanding" with the "Russian government." The President doesn't say what kind of government this would be, but he does speak of "agreements in which we could all trust them."

FREE GOVERNMENT

This means, of course, that only a free government—one chosen by the people of Soviet Russia in a free election and responsive to the wishes of the people—would make the kind of agreements that the rest of the world could trust.

For, as Mr. Eisenhower said in answering another question at the same press conference about the oft-discussed proposal for a negotiation to bring about a withdrawal by both sides of the troops stationed in central Europe, this "could be accomplished only under mutual agreements in which we both, again, had some means of knowing they were being carried out."

At another point the President was asked whether his proposals for disarmament and control of guided missiles might affect long-term spending for military purposes and especially for research programs. This was Mr. Eisenhower's reply:

"Well, they are not going to affect them at all until we have some certainty that we have reached agreements that are enforceable, that is, where there is good faith on both sides—demonstrated good faith. Now, after that happens, then I would expect long-range programs such as you talk about and expenditures to come down markedly. But until the world can feel safer, I can think of nothing more foolish than to weaken our defensive structure."

The Woodrow Wilson slogan of 40 years ago still stands — "The world must be made safe for democracy." It has not been and never will be safe as long as autocratic governments remain in power that can make war instantly without consulting the people.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Here's a Grain of Wisdom: Oatmeal No Aid to Diabetic

Are fresh blueberries good for people with diabetes? How about oatmeal? Honey?

On p. 5 and again on p. 18 of Volumette 23 of the Pocket Cyclopedia of Health, "Training for Diabetes 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope) I recommend the finest guide book, "A Book for Us Diabetics," by Dr. Don H. Duffie. Volumette 23 was published in March, 1956.

Soon afterward I learned with regret that Dr. Duffie's book was no longer available. I have not yet found a suitable substitute I can recommend to diabetics or potential diabetics.

Years ago I was so impressed by reports received from readers that I called an optimal daily ration of vitamin B complex — that is, two or three times as much as nutrition authorities estimate a person must receive daily in order to maintain nutritional well being or good health — "poor man's insulin."

WAS EMBROILED

At the time I was embroiled with the fabulously wealthy AMA over the organization's shameful espousal of the patenting of insulin, which, I think, contributed to the high cost of insulin.

All I have ever suggested is that an optimal daily ration of vitamin B complex seems to make less insulin necessary to keep a diabetic sugar-free (that is, to keep the level of sugar in urine below 1 per cent or down to a trace or none at all).

In careful study of the effects of vitamin B complex deficiency it has been shown that the blood sugar level fails to return to normal within three hours after the individual has taken a large quantity of glucose sugar, candy, other sweets), but when an optimal ration of vitamin B complex is given for a reasonable time the blood sugar returns to normal within an hour or two after such a gorge.

NO MAGIC

No, there's no magic in blueberries, oatmeal, or honey. Blueberries contain 15 per cent of carbohydrate (sugar or starch), about the same amount as is present in apples, pears, huckleberries, currants, cherries, apricots, or raspberries.

A few fruits contain 20 per cent — notably bananas, plums, and prunes.

Other fruits contain 10 per cent — such as oranges, peaches, pineapple, strawberries, lemons and watermelon.

Oatmeal contains 67 per cent carbohydrate, mostly starch. Wheat contains 76 per cent; white bread, 53 per cent; corn bread, 46 per cent. Some fifty years ago Von Nogrden introduced a diet for diabetes which included some oatmeal.

This probably accounts for the vague idea that oatmeal is "good" for diabetes. Calorie for calorie it is no more and no less suitable for a diabetic than bread, potato, or candy.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Condemns Proposed Law by Legislator in Georgia

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Personal note to lady who asked whether all the members of the Pontiac General Hospital board live in Pontiac; the records show they do.

I read recently that some representative in Georgia's legislature wants to make unwed mothers subject to criminal prosecution. If that's the type of thinking everyone down there does, it's no wonder they're having such a hard time settling things.

Besides increasing illegal operations immeasurably, a law to that effect would create a situation that provides the poor babies not only with unwed mothers, but with mothers who are jailbirds, besides. I can't see that it would benefit anyone.

Not only would it aggravate an already unhappy situation and make rehabilitation all the harder for the mothers, but for those who think in dollars and cents, it would put an additional expense on the taxpayers. Everyone — mother, baby and public — gets punished, but no one is helped in the least. Seems to me it's a reversal of the law's intent.

I have a question I wish you'd answer for my benefit and for the benefit of thousands of others who are probably curious. Is the Whitmer that is playing forward and playing it so well for the Pontiac High a son of the superintendent?

School Concerns 'Mother of Five'

In view of the imminent need for school buildings, I would like to know how the design for the new high school compares with the present building in cost of building, maintenance and student housing capacity. Isn't a building of this new type more expensive and won't eight separate units require more heating, plumbing, lighting and other materials than a two- or three-story structure of a more compact type?

Practical parents and citizens in general shop for the needs of their household with an eye for the future as well as the present. Is this the case in building our schools?

In our community, several of the newly completed schools of this type were inadequate for the needs of the community before they were finished. Did the people who planned and approved these structures sacrifice possible additional classrooms for design and beauty?

An answer to these questions will be appreciated by many people like me, who feel a responsibility for the value received when we invest our time and money.

'Don't Single Out the Mentally Ill'

I think the public should be educated to the fact that those who are mentally ill are not to be singled out any more than if they had a broken leg and were wearing a cast or had braces on their teeth, and they should be treated with respect and not as characters.

It could happen to anyone, and we should thank God for mental hospitals and the wonderful people who dedicate their lives to that service of rebuilding lives.

"Dr. Crane, you may have forgotten my case," she said during a tea which her Woman's Club recently held.

"But seven years ago I was on the verge of a divorce. I had even called an attorney to file for a divorce.

"My clergyman, however, insisted that I see you as a last resort and he telephoned you for my appointment.

"I had thought my husband was cruel and a brute. I planned to use the 'Mental Cruelty' charge for my divorce action.

"I told you that our personalities were entirely incompatible. But you showed me that I had a false notion about the physical side of marriage and jolted me by stating that most divorces start in the bedroom, due to a wife's sins of omission.

"Well, I didn't believe you, but I went home with your booklet 'Sex Problems in Marriage' and my promise to give my marriage at least another month.

"Now I am as happily married as any wife I have ever met. I think my husband is wonderful and he worships the ground I walk upon. And our two children are darling.

"Just think of the tragedy that would have happened if I had filed suit for divorce. Yet in a recent magazine article I saw a report that sex is not one of the real marital problems. How do you explain such a viewpoint?"

CAMOUFLAGED SEX

In America, sexual maladjustments are still the major cause of divorce.

Most marriages are wrecked in the bedroom, as Norma's case shows so clearly.

But our prudish older generation has refused to face reality, so has comouflaged many sex problems by calling them "Mental Cruelty" or "Incompatibility."

Ask the average judge of a divorce court and he will tell you that many happily married wives occasionally suffer as much "mental cruelty" as any of the divorce litigants in his courtroom, yet these wives never think about filing for a divorce.

Dr. Freud pointed out that the two most basic hungers of mankind are the gastric (self-preservation) and the erotic (love).

In luxurious modern America, few people are underfed, so that gastric appetite causes little marital feuding.

In fact, few men charge their wives in their divorce action with being poor cooks or with starving them in the kitchen.

STUDY THE LION

At the zoo you may have witnessed the male lion who has been made active by being starved for 24 hours.

He snarls. He paces the floor. He bats his cubs across the cage and nips at his mate.

If Mama Lion were to go to a divorce court, she could then easily charge him with cruelty, mental as well as physical, couldn't she.?

But this cruelty of Papa Lion is just due to a gnawing stomach. Feed him a few pounds of raw beef and he will purr like a kitten. He'll let his cubs bite his ears and climb all over him with hardly any protest.

Well, in modern marriage the erotic-starved male acts much like that hungry lion. He snarls if the toast is burned. He yelps if his wife buys a new hat.

He criticizes the children and belittles his mate in various ways. Yet if he is fed his proper ration of erotic calories, he'll be wonderful!

So send for my booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It has stopped many divorces, desite the statements of "ivory tower" psychologists who belittle newspaper booklets.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Could Hit Planes 50 Miles Away

New Nike to Double Travel Space

FORT BAKER, Calif. (AP) — The Army will soon have in operation a Nike guided missile capable of knocking down a hostile plane 50 miles off the coast.

The Nike Ajax, a 25-mile-range missile supplied antiaircraft batteries guarding vital American cities, is being replaced by the bigger, more lethal Nike Hercules, with approximately twice the range.

* * *

Described as able to destroy any present supersonic plane, Hercules is controlled by an improved electronic "brain."

Known as the missile master system, this brain collects target information by radar, feeds it through an intricate computer and, electronically locking onto the missile, directs it to the intruding plane.

A direct hit is not necessary to destroy a plane, Nike experts say, because of the terrific blast and fragmentation.

* * *

The missile master system, now in production by the Glenn L. Martin Co., is operational already at Ft. Meade, Md., where a pilot model is in service at defense batteries guarding the Washington-Baltimore area.

Nike defenses today guard many of the key centers.

In a broad sweep north from Washington through New England, across the industrial Midwest to the industrial complex around Hanford, Wash., the Nike defenses reach out to Seattle and down the Pacific Coast as far as Los Angeles. The Army plans to similarly protect San Diego soon.

* * *

New York, Boston, Pittsburgh, Buffalo-Niagara, Chicago-Gary, Detroit, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles are among the cities where Ajax will be replaced by Hercules.

Nike, named after the Greek winged goddess of victory, actually is a family of weapons. The Army is developing other missiles, such as Zeus, with probably greater range.

Broad Education Is Foundation for Good Citizenship

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Ohio State University dean says liberal arts graduates, including those with "non-technical" training, are being placed in good jobs by industry.

"Industry and business are waking up to the fact that they've been overlooking a bet in their recruitment programs," says Prof. James F. Fullington, dean of OSU's College of Arts and Sciences.

He said industry and business find that a liberal education, regardless of the major field of study developes capabilities that they can use "in management, sales, and, believe it or not, production."

Discussing the functions of the college of arts and sciences, he said the college "is dedicated to the conviction that the primary aim of undergraudate education should be the development of the man, and that specialized technical training should be secondary." He added that "this is not a matter of the exclusion of specialized technical training, but of relative emphasis."

"The college believes," Dean Fullington said, "that the man who is broadly educated in the sciences social sciences, arts and humanities may become a happier man, a better husband and father, a better citizen, and a better leader in his vocational field than the narrowly trained specialist.

Smooth Escape Route

ANADARKO, Okla. (AP) — Sheriff Ty Yount tried to figure out where a robbery suspect would be hiding, so he took to the back roads and spent a bumpy and fruitless afternoon.

The suspect was caught at the same time—on one of the smooth highways.

First Florins 'Godless'

LONDON—The British 2-shilling coin—worth 28 cents in American money—is called a florin. The first florins were minted in Queen Victoria's reign and were known as "Godless florins" because of the omission of the usual Latin initials signifying "by the grace of God" after the Queen's name.

Former jockey Johnny Gilbert, who led the nation's riders in 1932, now is a trainer of horses at Gulfstream Park in Florida.

Still Gives Folksy Forecasts, Tuned to 1957

Old Time Almanac Stays Up-to-Date

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — John Baer's Almanac, 132 years old and as buoyant as ever, serves a pungent and sometimes provocative 1957 smorgasbord of weather prophecy, folklore, irony and homely philosophy.

The flavor is all-American, without a trace of exotic subtleties. The lightest sampling conjures the savor of maple sugar, cornpone, farm-cured bacon, and all the ripeness of this Pennsylvania Dutch country.

The Almanac prides itself on keeping up with the times. Tradition counts for much, naturally, considering that the almanac is only 49 years younger than American independence, itself.

The editors feel they needn't be ashamed of their weather forecasting. They called the shots for inauguration day — wet, foggy, generally mucky.

Most people would be pleased to let it go at that, for, as Baer's sees it, the outlook for the rest of the year is hardly inspiring. A summing up of month-by-month forecasts indicates most sections of the country will have to put up with a lot of unpleasant weather, including chilly spells in the summer.

With editorial wryness, the Almanac makers say: "So long as none of us can do anything about the weather, why not just for fun?"

Passing from weather to other predictions, the Almanac reports the finding of a manuscript, 100 years old, hidden in an old stone barn by one "Abner Americanus," who in reality probably was Joe or Steve or Elmer somebody-or-other.

Abner, in an access of clairvoyance, said that in 1957 "people will spend more for their playthings than for their tools; will give more excuses than money to charity; will perform a new arithmetic in which they will multiply speed, divide distance, add alcohol and subtract lives." What's more, he prophesied, "many homes will have what are known as picture windows, without having anything for the windows to picture."

The forerunner of Baer's, presumably, was a German language affair, also published in Lancaster. It was that Almanac, says Baer's, which first called George Washington "The Father of His Country."

PULLED BY THE NOSE—"Schnozzola" could be the name for this Air Force C-124 Globemaster. It sports a Pratt and Whitney T-57 engine in its nose. The company is using the aircraft as a test bed for the new propeller-turbine engine intended for transcontinental transports of the Air Force. The entire forward structure of the huge plane had to be altered for the testing at East Hartford, Conn.

Wins Right to Disarm

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Luther O. O. Craft, 50, a one-armed motorist, proved his point to Municipal Judge Clark M. Olmstead. Craft demonstrated in court that he was unable to turn the steering wheel freely if he wore his wooden arm. Judge Olmstead agreed that Craft should be exempt from the state law requiring a one-armed person to wear an artificial arm while driving.

Visitors to State Last Year Spent $600 Million

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Tourist Council estimated today that nine million vacationers visited the state's resort areas in 1956 and spent $600 million.

Half of them stayed for periods of three days or longer, the council said, and the others remained for a shorter period.

In a review of last year's vacationing activity in the state, the council said the volume of tourist revenue tied with that of agriculture for second place behind the automotive industry.

The successful season was chalked up despite one of the state's wettest summers, marked by 39 rainy days in July and August.

The travel business was computed on the basis of the highway traffic road count and money spent on the basis of a survey by a national publishing concern. The survey ranked Michigan as the fourth most popular vacation state.

The tourist council reported it spent $400,000 to advertise and promote the state's vacation attractions during the year, including purchase of 33 color and black and white advertisements in 22 national magazines reaching an estimated 28 million readers.

Special Group May Probe Labor Rackets

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders, moving to set up a special committee to investigate alleged racketeering in labor unions, faced problems today in deciding which senators should make the inquiry.

★ ★ ★

They hope for an agreement in time to present to the Senate tomorrow a resolution to establish the new committee. It would be authorized to make a nationwide search for evidence of alleged corrupt deals, tax dodging and misuse of union funds.

The Republican and Democratic Senate leadership agreed yesterday to ask the Senate to assign the inquiry to an eight-member bipartisan group headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark).

The special committee is to take up where McClellan's Senate Investigations subcommittee leaves off in an investigation of unions.

Test Value to Athletes of Meat Before Game

CHICAGO—Three Boston physicians reporting on their research in the American Medical Association Journal say they have found that eating red meat before a football game may make a player think he is stronger and thereby improve his play, but it probably has little physical value.

The researchers reported that if a player is regularly eating a well-balanced diet, special planning for his pre-event meal will probably not enhance his performance.

Doc Got the Bird

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP) — Somebody gave Dr. M. H. Roszmann the bird the other day. The doctor was walking out the door of his home when a pheasant fell at his feet. Apparently wounded elsewhere by hunters, the bird managed to reach the Roszmann home before falling.

Leading Rival Will Vote for Oscar for Bergman

The talks are expected to pave the way for the U. S. administration to put some Polish aid proposals before Congress.

★ ★ ★

The possibility of American aid was first opened last October in a speech by President Eisenhower. Since then, there has been some disappointment among Poles that progress has not been faster. Few Poles realize the complicated procedures involved.

Poland's dollar needs for long-term development have been estimated in the neighborhood of 500 million dollars — to expand and modernize the coal industry, develop electric power and exploit newly found deposits of sulphur, copper and iron ore.

Communist circles believe results of Sunday's single-list election are likely to help their quest for credits. They charaterize the 94 per cent turnout as a sign that Poland's disturbed political situation now can be stabilized and that the "communism without tyranny" policies proclaimed by the new leadership of the United Workers (Communist) party have the support of the great majority.

Final official returns said 98 per cent of those voting "gave their votes for candidates of the National Front of Unity."

Only National Front candidates —Communists or those acceptable to the Reds—were on the ballot.

All but one of the 458 parliamentary seats went to the candidates the National Front picked to win. But final returns confirmed a trend for voters to cross out Communist candidates rather than those standing as independents or from the fellow-traveling United Peasant and Democratic parties.

in Mail Equipment

NEW YORK—Railroads furnish more than four-fifths of the transportation required to move mail between cities. To do this job the railroads have invested a billion dollars in mail-handling facilities and equipment, ranging from a simple trackside crane at small stations, from which single pouches can be picked off moving trains, to elaborate installations of chutes and conveyor belts at major cities.

Prison Inmates Dip

BELFAST—Ireland's prisons receive 400 persons, including 25 women, during 1955. The governor of Mountjoy Prison said recently that the figure was the lowest recorded and probably the lowest prison population in the world in proportion to the total population.

Paying our way in Oakland County

New schools, new roads and other new developments spell progress in hundreds of Southeastern Michigan cities and towns. One way Detroit Edison helps in this progress of your community is through taxes.

For 1956, our local, state and federal taxes are expected to total $37,500,000. More than 350 villages, cities and townships in Southeastern Michigan will benefit by about $18,900,000.

Over $7,000,000 of this amount will go to support local school districts alone.

The American system of business brings the highest standard of living and greatest development to our communities. By paying taxes, by being good citizens, Detroit Edison is a working partner in helping Southeastern Michigan grow and prosper.

Kindergarten Training: Pays Off In:

Kiddie 'Car Instructors'

PHOENIX, Ariz. (INS)—A driver training course for pupils at a Phoenix elementary school is paying off in better safety habits by their parents.

A course teaching children highway "ABCs" while their minds are young and impressionable was started four years ago at the Garfield School by Capt. Haskell Welch of the Phoenix police department's traffic safety division. The course has been given to some 2,400 kindergarten through third grade pupils.

An integral part of Garfield's curriculum, the driving school is equipped with 12 miniature automobiles that are pedal-propelled by the children, a traffic course that includes almost every conceivable highway situation and a complete set of highway and traffic signs.

The idea has spread to some 24 other grade schools throughout the country.

Welch pioneered the course when he realized that the basic concepts of traffic safety must be "ingrained" in children before they are exposed for too long a period to the bad driving habits practiced by most of their parents.

Mrs. Thelma J. Bennett, Garfield principal, gave Welch's plans concrete form by convincing her teachers that this was the "best way to curb the nation's mounting toll of highway deaths."

"I became convinced," Mrs. Bennett said, "that teaching the three Rs to children is futile unless we teach them at the same time how to save their lives and the lives of others from being snuffed out in traffic accidents."

The Garfield course starts in the classrooms, where pupils are given intensive instruction in safety rules. Then they are allowed to drive the miniature automobiles over the black-top course on the school playground.

The youngsters are taught how to make hand signals, to examine the vehicle and check its tires before starting out, to keep both hands on the wheel except when giving signals, who has the right of way in various traffic situations and speed limits.

A tabletop model of the course is used to familiarize the children with the outside layout before they are issued drivers' permits. Children practice hand signals from their desk seats.

"The benefits of the course have spread to parents who are kept on their toes by the children," Mrs. Bennett said. She explained:

"We have instructed the youngsters not to distract their parents by criticising them or calling mistakes to their attention while the car is in motion."

She said one father told her that his eight-year-old son maintained complete silence in the back seat of the family car on a recent drive through the downtown area. When they arrived back home, the father related, his son said:

"Dad, I've got a few things I want to talk over with you." The youngster then proceeded to outline in detail the traffic rules and safety regulations he had violated during the trip.

Fingerprints of 6,891 individuals engaged in racing were taken during 1956, reports the Thoroughbred Racing Assn.

Ingenuity — Imagination May Open Door to a Job

NEW YORK, N. Y. — "Getting a job is like a big game of musical chairs, with 20 competent people vieing for 18 available niches.

"In order to succeed," says author Ralph Ginzburg in a recent issue of a national magazine, "you've got to bring your own folding chair."

Ginzburg's article, "The Job of Getting a Job," describes one classic approach to the job hunting problem as involving a carrier pigeon.

This ingenious applicant delivered the bird to the office of a prominent TV executive with the following message attached to its leg:

"Please check one and release this homing pigeon:

"(1) I would like to interview you for a job on ..... at ..... o'clock.

"(2) I think you are inane, presumptuous and completely odious and I will not interview you under any circumstances."

The executive checked a convenient time for the interview and promptly released the pigeon. Thus launching also the career of one of television's top young producers.

Another example of imagination described in the article occurred when an eager young would-be advertising man had himself nailed into a crate and delivered right along with the morning mail.

Among the famous personages listed in the piece as getting their starts through their inventiveness are Irvin S. Cobb, the famed newspaper writer, and Leonard Lyons, the Broadway columnist.

Quartet Has Primer in Trunk of Auto

KINGSTREE, S.C. (AP) — The Williamsburg County sheriff's office found it a little difficult to believe the alibi of a "quartet" that it was fulfilling singing engagements.

When the four were arrested, officers found 12 gallons of bootleg whisky in the trunk of their car. Convicted of liquor law violations, the quartet will have to do its singing in the county jail.

Would Up Deer Quota

FERNIE, B.C. (AP) — Suggestion that the deer hunting kill should be raised to 100,000 annually was made here by James Hatter, chief game department biologist. He estimated about 50,000 were killed last year but said the 100,000 target could be reached eventually without seriously depleting British Columbia herds.

Predict Drop in New Homes

Senator Says Number May Slump to Million in Tight Market

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala) said wednesday that construction of new homes may drop to a million or less this year because of what he termed the tightness of the money market.

In 1955, 1,300,000 new homes were built and in 1956, 1,100,000. The National Assn. of Home Builders has estimated that 1,400,000 new homes must be built this year to meet the housing demand.

In a prepared address at the national convention of the association, Sparkman, who is chairman of the Senate subcommittee of housing, said that 1957 would be a year of decision for the housing industry.

He added:

"The question we face is: 'Can the industry continue to be dominated by financial policies which do not fully take into account either housing needs or the necessity for maintaining a healthy industry?'"

★ ★ ★

Federal Housing Administration applications for new housing in the year ended Dec. 31 were down 28 per cent below 1955 levels, Sparkman said. He said Veterans Administration requests for housing loans are 25 per cent below 1955 levels.

If private lending sources remain inadequate for housing loans it may be necessary to step up government participation, Sparkman said.

Tourist Trade Revenue Up 43 Pct. in Germany

BONN — Revenue from tourist trade in Germany during the first half of 1956 was 43.5 per cent higher than in the same period of 1955, according to the German Tourist Information Bureau.

American travelers to Germany were 18.6 per cent more numerous than in the comparable 1955 period.

Mail Takes Long Route

PARIS (INS) — Mail in France always gets through, but there's no telling how long it takes.

Red-faced French postal officers have admitted it took a letter 71 days to cover some nine miles between the village of Dodeille in the Pyrenees to the town of Bourg-Madame.

In the meantime, postmarks showed the letter had traveled half around the world to China and back.

Islands OK Trade Pact

TAIPEI, Formosa—The Nationalist Chinese Government has concluded an agreement with a trade mission from the Ryukyu Islands under which tobacco, rice, wine, tea, coal, textiles, and miscellaneous goods will be exported from Formosa in exchange for railroad ties, iron scrap, and marine products from United States-administered Okinawa.

Finland is preparing for TV.

Police Follow Tune

DETROIT (INS) — When Detroit Police went to the Duke Theater to arrest James W. Ingram on an alleged larceny charge, they found their suspect on the stage singing a rock and roll number for the audience. The name of the song he was crooning was "Carried Away."

Holland's worker shortage now is estimated at 85,000 men and women.

Driver Training Takes New Twist

Driver Education courses at Pontiac High School will take a new twist with the beginning of next semester, George Stewart, PHS driver education instructor, reports.

The new program will involve a new-type instruction where more students will do more driving with less instructors required to teach them.

Basis of the new program will be development of the parking lot at Wisner Stadium now used informally for instructional purposes. The lot will be turned into a complete and well-planned driver training area.

Pontiac Motor Division has donated 11 new cars to complete this training program which was formed to make room for more students to take the course.

NEW STATE LAW

Reason for this increase is a new law in the state which will become effective on Feb. 1. The law says that driver education is a requirement for application for an operator's license by all persons under 18 years of age.

It also says that a driver education program must be made available to all persons under 18 without tuition or fees prior to the time they become eligible to apply for an operator's license.

So besides Pontiac High students, the course will be available to any other person between 15 and 18 who is a resident of the Pontiac School district.

9-WEEK COURSE

Before the change in program four instructors and four cars taught a potential 312 persons per semester. The course itself is just nine weeks or half a semester long.

With the new program which requires one less instructor, a potential 420 students can be handled per semester, Stewart said.

This will be achieved through the use of the additional cars. One instructor will be on duty at the Wisner training area and all 11 cars will be filled with learning drivers.

Stewart said students who finish the driver course will act as buddies for the next batch of learners, riding with them in dual-controlled autos.

TRAFFIC TEST

Actual highways and traffic driving won't be left out of the program either, he said. The course itself calls for 36 classroom hours of instruction plus eight hours actual driving at the multiple car area and two hours behind the wheel on city highways and in traffic with an instructor present.

The new program designed by the Board of Education and the driver training instructors is an economical move as well as practical. Costs per student in Pontiac for the course have been $58 which is $9 over the national average. The new program after the initial cost of development should be lowered to $30 per student, said Dr. Russel Curtis, coordinator of secondary education for the Pontiac schools.

The cost of the Wisner improvement should be made up in one semester and one summer course through the savings expected per student, Dr. Curtis said.

"We'll emphasize safety first in the new program," Stewart said. "Each car will be equipped with first aid kits and fire extinguishers.

"We're emphasizing safety ahead of skill in actual driving, too," he continued. "We feel the better driver is the safer one rather than the skillful one who has no respect for other drivers."

Stewart gave credit to civic leaders, civic officials and private industrial representatives who are cooperating with the program to the fullest extent. They have all helped to make this new program available, he said.

Odd Prescription for Birth Control

Tadpole-Swallowing Fad Hit

HONG KONG (INS) — Communist Deputy Shao Li-tzu and Yeh Hsuchun, Deputy Director of the Chekiang Provincial Health Bureau, have been taken to task for their "tadpole-swallowing" prescription to prevent child-birth.

The "prescription," disclosed at the National People's Congress by Shao Li-tzu who quoted Yeh Hsuchun, resulted in married women draining ponds, creeks and shallow rivers for tadpoles which they swallowed alive in accordance with the original instructions.

The Peiping newspaper, People's Daily, reported that the practice, in Chekiang province alone, became a menace to health.

Cheng Feng, writing in the People's Daily, said: "Today, many young married women swallow tadpoles alive. Some women workers of the Hanchow Cotton Mill swallowed them alive and some pregnant women took tadpoles to procure abortions."

The tadpoles were obtained from the Hsishih River which, Cheng Feng pointed out, "contains not only liver fluke but also ova of hookworm and ascarid and the river water is filthy and offensive.

* * *

As a layman, he asked: "Isn't there a chance for the women to swallow the ova of other parasites together with the tadpoles?"

Cheng Feng said that the medical personnel of the Mill and the Hangchow Municipal Health were "perplexed for an answer."

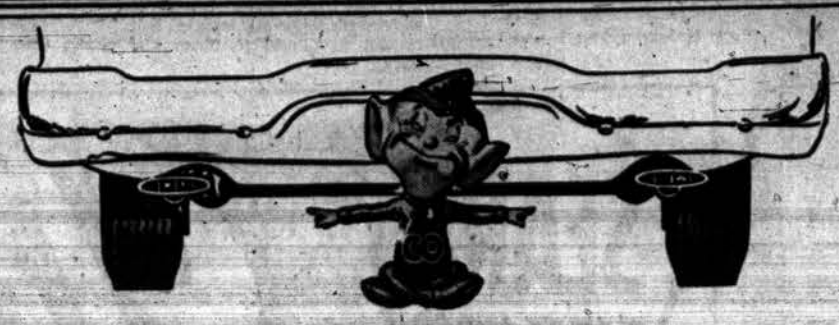

Cheng Feng asked further: "If tadpoles are obtained from creeks and ponds likely to be infested with parasites and if such tadpoles are swallowed alive, how could it be ensured to be "safe and reliable and with no ill-effects," as stated by Yeh Hsi-Chun.

At the National People's Congress, Shao Li-tzu told delegates of the "prescription" which he said was confided in him by Yeh. The subject came up when birth-control was being discussed.

According to the prescription, the swallowing of a certain number of live tadpoles, washed clean in well-water, could sterilize a woman for five years. A double dose at the end of that period would result in permanent sterility.

Yeh has now admitted that the prescription is just an old wives' tale. When Cheng Feng interviewed him, according to the People's Daily report, he said: "The single prescription has been handed down verbally. It is not in the books: neither does it have any scientific basis. It is merely said to be simple, economical, safe, reliable and without any ill-effects."

TWIN TRACTION...
a Studebaker-Packard FIRST
so good other cars will copy it

WHAT IS IT? Twin-Traction Differential gives you new pavement-gripping traction and new safe control impossible with conventional differentials. The secret lies in the fact that the Twin-Traction Differential delivers the major part of the engine's power to the rear wheel with the best traction—instead of the wheel with the poorest traction (as in a conventional differential). The result—roadability that's better in six important ways:

1. In ice, snow or mud, Twin Traction gets you out of spots where cars with conventional differentials would "spin their wheels."
2. In highway driving, it protects against skids that might otherwise occur when one rear wheel hits a slippery spot.
3. On sharp turns, it improves roadability by applying the major driving force to the inside rear wheel. This also tends to compensate for over-steering.
4. On rough or washboard roads, it reduces the rear-end bounce, sideway or swerve which results from a fast-spinning wheel suddenly hitting the pavement again.
5. When one rear wheel goes off the pavement onto a soft shoulder, Twin Traction directs the driving force to the other rear wheel, assuring safe, positive control.
6. In ordinary driving, Twin Traction cuts tire wear by assuring more positive traction.

They Do Daily Variety Act

Delivering Milk Only Part of Job

Mechanic, electrician, family adviser, bookkeeper, weatherman,—a full variety of occupations.

For a composite of all these — turn to your milkman. People turn to him all day long.

The byword of the Navy's Construction Battalions, or Sea-Bees, was "Can Do," and most Pontiac area milkmen have the same attitude when it comes to conquering problems of their customers.

"I don't know what she did the days I didn't deliver", explained Albert West, 6050 Pontiac Lake Rd. West, a carrier with nine years experience, was referring to a "job" he held for two years.

★ ★ ★

His customer, an elderly woman who lived alone, used to sit in the kitchen waiting for him to tie her shoes.

★ ★ ★

A few situations are common to many Pontiac customers, and their milkmen seem to come in handy to help relieve them. They are: locked out of the house without a key; buying too many heavy parcels to carry them all from the auto at once; not being able to start the automobile on cold mornings.

A frequent assignment given by the lady of the house to her carrier is to be on the lookout for anything from lost children to dogs and cats.

The lady's notes via the milk bottle are one of the main means of communication between she and her milkman. Besides routine orders for dairy products, postscripts may be found. Common ones are: "Please let the dog outside", "Please close the back door if the house is cooled off", or "Don't wake us this morning".

Ray Hurst, 324 Voorheis, Rd. found one note which asked him to do everything but his job. According to Hurst, it was short and simple: "Let the dog out, feed the parakeet — the food is on the sink — and fix the furnace. No milk today."

Wayne Thomas, 583 Peacock Ave., still remembers the time he was a locksmith. He removed the lock from the bathroom door to recover an unhappy and scared little boy.

Carlton Randolph, 146 Thorpe St., now a "swing man" (takes over the routes for those who have days off) claims that changing tires and pushing or pulling the family auto is a "routine" duty in this weather.

According to Horace Young, 170 Riveria Rd. a 20 year man in the business, the job doesn't require too much physical work. "It's the mental fatigue of giving advice on everything," Young claims.

"How's the weather? Can I wash today? Is it going to rain? What should the children wear?" are some of the daily questions which R. J. Higgins, 1050 Genella Rd., had to answer during his 20 year job.

A milkman's job is anything but routine. Pontiac milkmen are no exception to this rule. They are mighty handy people to drop in just when you happen to need a machanic, electrician, adviser, bookkeeper, weatherman or, some milk.

YEOMAN SERVICE — A bottle of milk and 1957 license plates were delivered to James McKee, 193 Leota St., by his milkman Raye Hurst. Hurst had picked up the plates for his customer . . . another one of the many unscheduled activities of a milk man.

WILLING HANDS—Careful hands reach out for Graham Davies, 2-year-old tot, who was jammed upright in a 14-inch hole near Perth, Australia, for 22 hours yesterday. The youngster fell in while playing with friends, and was wedged 25 feet down before being rescued by workers. Doctors said his condition was good.

Skating Club to Present Program at Ice Carnival

Gracing the ice at Pontiac's Northside Skating Rink, Montcalm at Edison streets this weekend will be the Pontiac Skating Club.

The club which boasts some 30 members will present a program during the annual Northside Ice Carnival Saturday and Sunday.

Some 14 acts directed by Mrs. Peggy Bowman, will be given by the young skaters. There will be comedy numbers, ballet, rhythm and precision specialties as well as a hoola, tango and a trip through toyland, all on ice.

The solo numbers will be handled by club members, Jane Bentham, Sandra Stockhon, Jane Rhinefusz, Janet Burt, Jeannie Harris and Geraldine Bowman.

★ ★ ★

The club which has been in existence eight years got its start at the Northside Rink. Last year's appearances included shows at Birmingham's Eton Park Rink and another at Grayling.

★ ★ ★

The one performance of the group this weekend will be at 7:30 Sunday night.

Would Get Hare Off the Hook

Suggests State Take Loss

LANSING (AP) — A legislative committee recommended today that Secretary of State James M. Hare be taken off the hook in a situation that threatens to cost him more than $16,000 in personal funds.

★ ★ ★

The case involves the flight of Mrs. Anna Thorpe, department of state branch office manager at St. Clair Shores, who disappeared last March, leaving behind a shortage in her accounts of nearly $75,000.

A firm which wrote Hare's personal bond has advised Hare that it will reimburse the state for funds that cannot otherwise be recovered, but will hold the secretary personally liable.

Most of the loss has been recouped through payment of a $50,000 blanket bond which covered Mrs. Thorpe and other employes of Hare.

The recommendation that the state assume any liability that otherwise might wind up on Hare's doorstep came from the legislative Audit and Appropriations committee, which investigated Hare's department last year.

The committee criticized administrative practices of Hare and called for improvements in functions of his office relating to motor veicle services.

Informed of the recommendation, Hare said:

"It makes me very happy."

He had said before of the prospective claim against him, "I don't have that kind of money." He talked of giving up the equity in his home here and selling a car as steps toward meeting the obligation.

Besides the money recovered by the state under the blanket bond, Hare said that a total of about $9,000 more was in sight.

He said that much could be obtained through liquidation of a bank account Mrs. Thorpe left behind and sale of a house she owned in which an equity of about $5,500 might be realized.

Sale of the house is expected within a week or 10 days, he said.

Ike 'Citizen Committee' Meets With Nehru

NEW DELHI (AP) — President Eisenhower's "citizens committee" to assess American foreign aid policies met today with Prime Minister Nehru.

The committee headed by former U.S. Steel President Benjamin Fairless conferred with Nehru about 30 minutes. Before leaving tomorrow, the Americans also were to see top Indian finance and economic planning officials.

The United States has given India about a billion dollars in economic aid. India gets no military aid.

State GOP Leaders to Meet in Lansing

State Republican leaders will meet tomorrow in Lansing to begin drafting a preliminary platform for their convention Feb. 9 in Detroit.

Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo, GOP nominee for governor in last November's election, and other defeated state candidates are on the drafting committee.

Richard C. Van Dusen of Birmingham, who ran for attorney general and Arthur Elliott Jr. of Pleasant Ridge are among the 30 committee members.

The convention will adopt a platform and name candidates for 10 state posts in the April 1 election.

Dangerous Duo Seized by FBI

Arrest Pair With Girl; Sought for Bank Holdup in Baltimore

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Two men listed by the FBI as among "the most dangerous criminals at large," and a teen-age girl were seized early today in connection with a $14,000 Baltimore bank robbery.

FBI agents and police, in a mass raid on an apartment at the edge of the downtown district, captured the three without any resistance.

Cal Howard, special FBI agent in charge, said the three are Louis R. Arquilla, 26; Martin Francis Feeney, 41; and Dorothy Frances Borchard, 19, all of Boston.

Howard said the trio was wanted for the holdup of the Fidelity Baltimore National Bank and Trust Co., Freedom Branch, last Nov. 26. Agents said a snub-nosed .38-caliber pistol and a sawed-off shotgun, with ample supplies of ammunition, were found in the apartment.

"These men currently had been listed as two of the most dangerous criminals at large," Howard said. "They had stated they would shoot any officer attempting to arrest them."

Howard said Miss Borchard had been accused as the driver of the holdup getaway car in the bank robbery. He said the trio would appear in federal court to answer to the bank robbery warrants.

Revive Paddle Wheel Boats in Carolinas

CONWAY, S. C. (AP) — It has been many years since paddle wheelers have plied South Carolina rivers, but the old form of transportation is being revived here by W. H. Reed and Roscoe Gore.

The men are building a 26-foot boat that will draw only 12 inches of water for ready navigation of shallow rivers. An unusual feature is two stern paddle wheels, which can be operated independently for steering.

Shovels Standardized

WASHINGTON — Until recently the Army Corps of Engineers stocked 28 round-pointed shovels that embodied various combinations of grips, handles, and blades. These now have been standardized to two models which serve the purpose equally as well.

Panel members include Carlos Richardson, moderator, with Alfred Beebe, Jerry Root, Frank Williamson, Robert Beattie and Thomas Belton assisting in the discussion.

Missing Pen Found After Three Years

Recently he and Mrs. Aiken, were in New York City. As Mrs. Aiken was leaving their hotel at its 45th St. entrance she spied a pen on the street.

Sure enough, it was her husband's, with his name inscribed on it in two places just as it was when he received it as a gift.

End Cheese Experiment

AUCKLAND—New Zealand has stopped making cheese from chilled milk. Experiments indicated no commercial advantage was gained by chilling milk before processing.

Greeks Come Bearing Dramatic Gifts

By LEE CARSON

NEW YORK (INS) — If the Greeks have a word for it—it's "coexistence."

Theodore Kritas, traveling under the blessing and banner of both State Department and the U.N., states, "We in Greece are very definitely Western-minded. But America must see that for the time being at least it is best to maintain some manner of exchange—with these countries under the so-called Communist domination and with Russia herself."

Mr. Kritas, a tall blond and handsome Greek who is his country's leading impresario, columnist and unofficial diplomatic representative, is convinced that the Soviet does not want war, that it is possible to "reach the Soviet people through your music, plays, movies and other cultural media."

"It is very nice—and most popular—that you sent over 'Porgy and Bess" but you must also have back the theartical and musical talent from these countries. It must be a two-way street."

At present Mr. Kritas is busily paving the two-way highway for an American visit of Greece's topflight Logotheoditis Theater with a modern Greek comedy very roughly translated as "The Screwball."

The all-Greek company, headed by Logotheoditis himself, will arrive aboard the Greek ship Olympia May 18 and play its opening night at Carnegie Hall in New York May 20th under the auspices of ANTA, the St. Basil Orphanage Academy and the Greek Ladies Society for the Poor.

(Not at all incidentally, this ladies society includes such well-known socialites as Mrs. Spyros Skouras, Mrs. Basil Goulandris and the wife of millionaire Greek shipowner Onassis. If you count the shekels this is indeed the nicest ladies society the poor could have.)

The show will then move on to Philadelphia, Detroit, Chicago, Washington, D.C., Pittsburgh, Boston, and then come back to New York for a farewell appearance.

"We do not, of course, expect to be any competition for 'My Fair Lady', and the whole thing is very modest," explained Mr. Kritas, "but there are one and a half million Greeks in this country—and perhaps another million Americans who would be interested in the modern Greek theater."

For that other million un-Greek Americans, the Logotheoditis Theater program will print the story of the play.

"If a play is good—and this one is very good indeed—anyone should be able to follow and enjoy it. Language is no barrier if the play and the actors are good."

★ ★ ★

American troupes, actors and movies have enjoyed tremendous success, untranslated, in Athens, Mr. Kritas continued. Even such stars as almost-wordless Gary Cooper, who has been known to stump his fellow countrymen unless they understood the nuances of "yup."

VERY SYMPATHETIC

"I think if you Americans carry this a little farther you will find very sympathetic and enthusiastic audiences almost everywhere in the world."

★ ★ ★

When Mr. Kritas is not importing and exporting talent as No. 1 Greek impressario, he is the nation's leading political columnist. He has also had pertinent and private talks with Tito of Yugoslavia, the foreign minister of Syria, and the prime ministers of Turkey, Lebanon and Jordan.

Kritas, as he refers to himself, also had the rare privilege of wandering around Soviet Russia for several months without visible chaperonage.

Not wishing to bring about Mr. Kritas untimely demise, I can only report on one angle of his observations:

Belgian Coal Dwindles

BRUSSELS—A drop in coal production is creating a serious problem for Belgian industry, which is becoming increasingly dependent on imports of United States coal, particularly coking coal.

Flare Starts Flareup

FREDERICK, Md. (AP) — When Norman Stilley's truck broke down he placed a warning flare and went for help. He returned to find the truck in charred ruins. State Police said a passing vehicle knocked the flare under the hay-laden truck.

Will Open Meetings of Senate Committee

LANSING (AP) —Routine meetings of the Senate business committee, which passes on appointments by Gov. Williams to key administrative posts, hereafter will be open to the public.

The point was made specifically by Sen. Edward F. Hutchinson (R-Fennville), committee chairman, in an announcement from the Senate floor.

Hutchinson said the committee, as it has done in the past, would resolve itself into executive session, with the public excluded, when discussing appointees or taking a vote on whether to approve them.

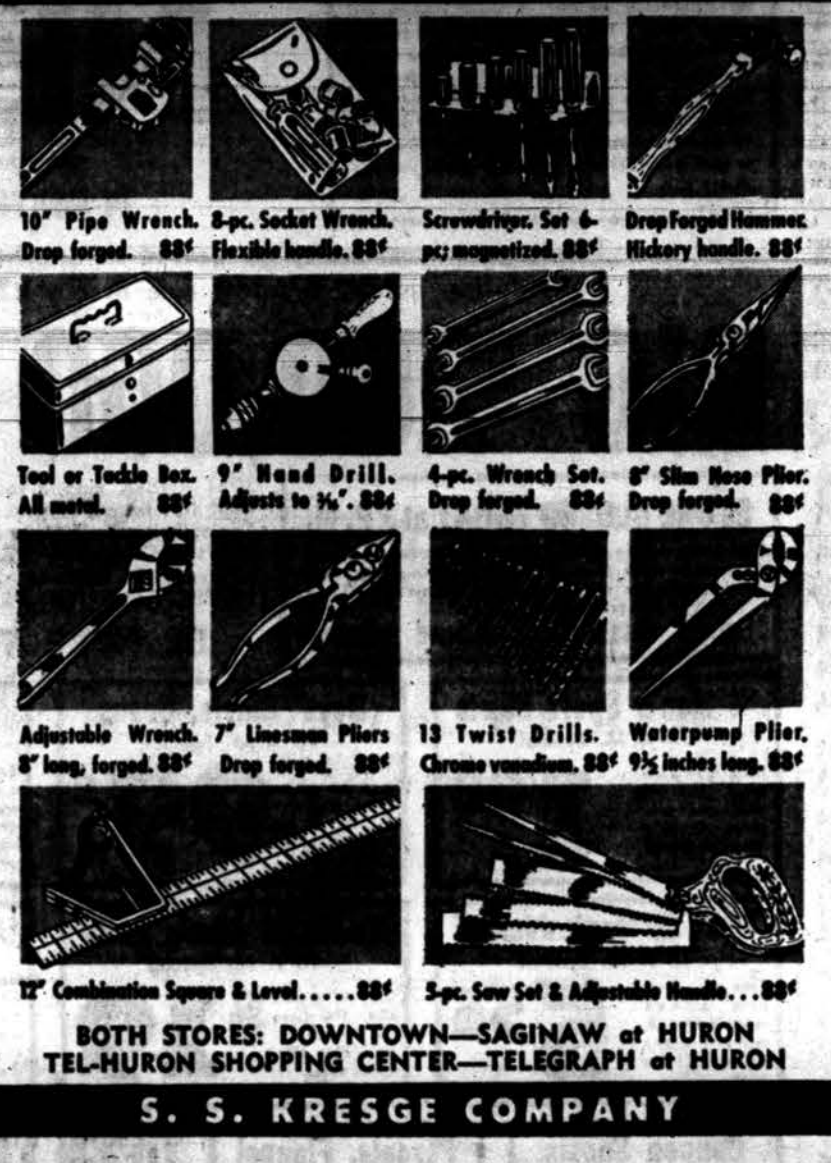

Insofar as it can reasonably be done, he said, announcement of persons to be called before the committee and committee meeting times will be made in advance.

Hutchinson told a reporter that a challenge issued by Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart Jan. 9 to open more legislative committee hearings to the public "had nothing to do with our action."

Aussies' Modern Conveniences Scant; but Socially, Politically Enlightened

WELLINGTON (INS)—Picture a nation of two million people who have few modern conveniences in the physical sense, but is miles ahead of the rest of the world in social and political experimentation and you have New Zealand.

A dominion of the British Commonwealth made up of three main islands whose overall length is about one thousand miles and whose width is little more than 200, New Zealand was planned by its founders as kind of a "transplant" of the British Isles.

The British influence is strong—most of the residents are of English stock—but there are overtones of South Pacific culture which make the country unique.

Completely integrated with the English immigrants and their dependants are the Polynesian Maoris, who are citizens in every sense of the word.

The Maoris are engaged largely in agricultural work although they have their doctors, priests and professional men. Compared to this Polynesian tribe the American Indians are displaced persons.

The Maoris bear no resemblance to Polynesian peoples on other Pacific islands who are in what might be called the kindergarten stage of economic development.

Like other New Zealanders the Maoris never have to wait for the mailman to deliver the doctor bills. The government picks up the tab under the world's first "Cradle to Grave" social security program.

116 YEARS OLD

A country only one hundred and sixteen years old, New Zealand is suffering from the customary growing pains in its efforts to attract desirable immigrants and tourist dollars. There is a saying among travelers that if Australia is fifty years behind the United States, New Zealand is seventy-five years in arrears.

And that would seem true to the casual traveler who gets just a glimpse of the old-fashioned wooden frame homes and finds sanitary facilities of the backwoods variety.

When it was first settled New Zealand had little native animal life. Deer, goats, hares and other animals were imported and "liberated" in many cases.

Today the deer is officially labeled "a noxious animal" in New Zealand and the government does everything to encourage hunting or "deer stalking" as the New Zealander calls it.

During the past year—there is no closed season—approximately 155,000 deer were killed, a bit of intelligence which might bring a tear to the eye of the American lover of the gentle - eyed beasts.

There is even a move afoot to use poison bait to kill deer because they wreck the forests and are blamed for erosion of scanty farm lands.

This land of plenty where there are no very rich and no very poor—just one great middle class despite its problems — moves at a leisurely pace just short of the "manana" spirit of Pan America.

Ulcers, which that government doctor would take care of quickly, are virtually unknown.

County Law Group Elects President

Waterford Township Police Chief Frank Van Atta yesterday was elected president of the Oakland County Law Enforcement Association.

The association, comprised of law enforcement heads from each police department in Oakland County, met at the Sheriff's office to ratify a proposed constitution and a set of by-laws.

Other officers elected were Walled Lake Police Chief James Decker, first vice-president; Farmington Police Chief Joseph DeVriendt, second vice-president; Wolverine Lake Police Chief Theodore Robertson, secretary, and Oxford Police Chief Albert Roberts, treasurer.

Elected to two-year terms on the board of directors were Capt. Oliver Lemeaux, of the Pontiac Police Department, and James Parker, police chief of Holly. Serving one-year terms will be Oakland County Sheriff's Safety Director Stephen Navarre and Capt. Robert Richardson, of the Madison Heights Police Department.

* * *

Four major purposes of the association were outlined at the meeting.

1. For the separate police agencies in the county to know each other better.
2. To work out common problems.
3. To encourage cooperation among all law enforcement agencies.
4. In order to have a representative body to Lansing to present suggested legislation as a unit when the occasion demands it.

The association, conceived only a month ago, already has begun work on two projects "of immediate consideration."

Steps have been taken for this organization to work in conjunction with the Oakland County Judicial Association to set up a traffic school for violators.

* * *

Under the program, the violator would be put on probation, in many cases, instead of receiving a fine or jail sentence.

As soon as a probation officer is appointed, the program will begin. It is anticipated that such an officer will be named by February 1.

Steps have also been taken to establish a central file system for the county to be located in the Sheriff's office. This too will be an Oakland County first in the state.

* * *

With the central file system, judges and justices will be able to obtain reports on violators appearing before them in a matter of minutes by phone. It now often takes hours to receive a report on a violator by teletype from Lansing.

* * *

It was announced today that the Oakland County Board of Supervisors allotted $4,720 for the establishment of this central file system in the Sheriff's office. The system should be ready for use in a few months, a spokesman said.

The law enforcement association will hold meetings on the second Wednesday of every month. The next meeting will take place Feb. 13.

Work Relay Crews for Cave-In Victim

BELLEFONTE, Pa. (AP)—A dozen workers, laboring in relays, dug throughout the afternoon and night in hopes of finding a power shovel operator alive after he was buried under tons of limestone.

* * *

The crashing slide yesterday at the Valley View Lime Co. killed one man. However, rescue workers were hoping to reach Floyd Hockenberry, 50, who was trapped in the cab of his machine under the rock.

* * *

Lee Shaffer, 35-year-old truck driver and father of two children, was pulled from the limestone but died last night from internal injuries.

Extremists Strike Again, Blow Up Irish Bridges

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—Dynamiters of the outlawed Irish Republican Army today blew up two bridges over the Blackwater River near Anughnacloy, in County Tyrone.

It was the fourth foray in tw days by the IRA, which has recently stepped up its violence campaign seeking to unite British Northern Ireland's six counties the Irish Republic.

Marine Pleads Guilty

DETROIT (AP) — Marine Pfc. William G. Grimshaw, 18, pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of a fatal accident in which Robert McCarthy, 42-year-old father of five, was killed Christmas morning. Sentence was set for Feb. 14. McCarthy, walking home from midnight Mass, pushed his son, Terrance, 12, to safety before he was struck.

16 Presumed Dead

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—Sixteen persons are presumed dead in the crash of a two-engine Nicaraguan airliner on Mt. Concepcion. All were believed to have been Nicaraguans.

UNESCO Team to Study Problem of Tropical Soils

PARIS (INS)—The world's lowest standard of living prevails in an area most favorable for the cultivation of food.

A United Nations survey has shown that one-third of the earth's usable land, although warm and rainy, is so plagued by disease, bacterial decay, and soil erosion that it cannot offer even a minimum standard of life to its inhabitants.

* * *

Of 15 million square miles classified as "humid tropics" four-fifths are in America, Africa, Australia, and New Guinea. The population in these areas never exceeds ten persons per square mile.

In tropical Asia, especially India and Cochin China, the rate climbs to 1,200 and in the Red River delta of Tonkin the population is 4,000 persons per square mile.

The U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization pointed out that where the need is greatest, there is very little land available for the growing of food. The heavy rains that contribute to rapid plant growth also flood off the rich top soil. This requires the growing of crops like rice which are in no danger of losing precious soil as they remain under water constantly.

* * *

Excessive heat causes bacterial decay so rapid as to prevent the formation of humus essential to plant growth. Moreover, the prevalence of insect-born disease lowers the health level to the danger point.

* * *

UNESCO plans to convene some of the world's greatest tropical research experts to deal with this problem. Among some of the recommendations to be made will be studies in the classification of tropical soil and the identification of many hitherto unknown insects. Methods of soil conservation and irrigation will also come under discussion.

Canadians Say Soviet Jets Make Flights Over Alaska

OTTAWA (AP)—Competent Canadian officials say they believe Russian planes occasionally make reconnaisance flights over northern Canada and Alaska.

They say that as far as they know no Canadian or American plane has ever been able to intercept such a flight. The United States has jet fighters stationed in Alaska but Canada has no interceptors based that far north.

* * *

Thus there has not been positive identification of a Soviet plane flying over northern Canada. Generally only vapor trails of aircraft have been seen, so high that the planes themselves were not visible.

* * *

Such vapor trails have been spotted over the Queen Elizabeth Islands — Canada's northern archipelago—at a time when it was known that no Canadian or American planes were in the area. Therefore it was assumed the vapor trails came from Russian reconnaisance planes. It was also assumed that the intruders did not penetrate deeply over Canadian territory.

Authorities say they believe the only purpose of such reconnaissance flights is to take high-level photgraphs of terrian where the DEW (Distant Early Warning) radar line is being built along the 70th Parallel. There is an airfield at each major Dew Line station.

* * *

No particular alarm is expressed in Ottawa about the Russian reconnaissance flights, if that is what they are. It is believed the Russians can gain little or no valuable information from them.

The Canadian officials declined to speculate whether the U. S. Air Force makes similar high-level flights over Russian territory. They indicate privately, however, that the Americans do.

Army Post Host to Mothers; View Life in Barracks

FT. JACKSON, S. C. (AP) — How does the Army make its beds?

More than 500 women from 35 cities have come here during the past eight months to see for themselves—and to watch Uncle Sam train their sons in the military life.

The program of having mothers and women civil leaders visit this infantry training post began here and is being adopted by other Army centers training 17 and 18-year-olds under the Reserve Forces Act.

This post serves an 11-state area, and women have come from each in groups averaging 15. They have toured barracks, mess halls, rifle ranges, chapels and physical education classes.

Church leaders, women newswriters, Parent-Teacher Assn. of-one-day visits. They are flown here by the Army. The teenagers training under the Reserve Forces Act put on an "Escort of Honor" ceremony for each group.

Mothers get a chance to have lunch in the Army mess hall with their sons, who are relieved of training duty for the day to escort their mothers on the tour.

Surprise Experiment

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) — A balanced diet experiment in Anne Gardner's fourth grade class here got entirely too unbalanced. Two rats were acquired, and fed different diets, and were weighed daily. The experiment got out of hand when one rat had seven little ones, the other five.

About 4,100,000 babies were born in the U.S. in 1955.

Williams Scoffs at Excuses

Ziegler Explains Delay in Highway Program

LANSING (AP) — Steel and cement shortages brought on by strikes were the major reason that Michigan's multi-lane highway building program fell behind schedule last year, State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler states.

Ziegler, in a letter to Gov. Williams, said 140 miles of super highways were completed last year, 60 miles less than scheduled.

In addition, he said, 15 miles of highways scheduled for 1957 were opened in 1956.

Steel and cement shortages, labor disputes, rainstorms and tornadoes, court injunctions and a delay in reaching agreements with local governments slowed work on uncompleted sections, he said.

Newsmen were still digesting Ziegler's reply when the governor issued a statement saying, "It is noteworthy that he (Ziegler) did not inform the public of this failure until I asked him about it."

"If I hadn't asked him, he presumably would have allowed everybody to believe he had carried out his promises."

Williams said Ziegler's "excessive excuses have a hollow ring in view of his statement of a few months ago that delayed power to issue bonds, steel shortages and adverse weather would not delay the program."

"He failed to mention the most important factor in delaying Michigan's highway program—the political operations of the Republican highway commissioner," Williams said.

Ziegler, in his letter, said strikes in the steel and cement industries held up construction on about 31 miles of highway. This included sections of US-23 north of Ann Arbor and north of Fenton, six miles of US-16 west of Farmington, 10 miles of M-78 northeast of Charlotte and nine miles of US-12 northeast of Galesburg to the east connection with Kalamazoo.

Rainstorms and tornadoes last spring, he said, caused a delay in work on 12 miles of US-27 north of St. Johns.

Ziegler said court injunctions involving lands necessary for right-of-way slowed construction on about four miles of US-16, the Norton-Glade expressway, at Muskegon.

Delays in reaching agreement with the city governments in Dearborn and in the Grand Rapids area held up work on about eight miles of US-24 and US-16, he said.

A union jurisdictional dispute also was partially responsible for the scheduled slowdown on the five-mile section of US-23 north of Ann Arbor, Ziegler said.

DRAGON LADY — Rose Wong, 23, top contender for Queen of San Francisco's Chinese New Year celebration, prepares the ceremonial dragon that will lead the traditional parade. The three-day fiesta, starting Feb. 1, will mark the year 4455—the "Year of the Rooster."

Break Broke Record

LA MESA, Calif. (AP) — Until Mrs. Ida Pierce of Yakima, Wash., came here to visit a daughter, she had never been hospitalized in her 68 years. Even her eight children were born at home. The record ended when she sat on the arm of a chair to admire the view from her daughter's home. The chair tipped over. Mrs. Pierce went to the hospital with a broken wrist.

Youths Start Uprising

Kremlin Gets Resistance From Students

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (NEA) —Diplomats say there is much more than wishful thinking behind the reports of mounting unrest among Russia's students.

According to U. N. diplomats just returned from Moscow, the Kremlin dictatorship—for the first time since the bloody peasant uprisings in 1932—is meeting with open resistance in the universities and also among young Russian workers and peasants.

Western diplomats strongly cautioned against "premature hopes" that Russia's "awakening youth is ready for anything like that which led to the students' uprising in Hungary."

But they saw the present wave of unrest as "going much deeper" than the sporadic student riots in Tiflis, Soviet Georgia, earlier this year.

One diplomat said: "The crisis in communism is shifting from the satellite countries to the very heart of Russia."

Even the Soviet press now concedes that increasing numbers of young Russians are turning their back on "Communist activity" and deserting the Komsomol, Russia's Young Communist League.

"Things are getting out of hand in many Komsomol organizations in the villages," writes the magazine Young Communist, a copy of which recently reached this country.

"More than half of the Komsomol organizations in the rural areas of Lithuania, Leningrad, Archangel and other districts have dismally failed to replenish their ranks in the past year."

The official University News reports an alarming increase in rowdyism and drunkenness among students and large-scale failure to engage in "Communist activity."

BRAZEN STATEMENT

A secretary of the Young Communist League "stated brazenly that he came to the university to study and not engage in Communist propaganda," University News complains editorially.

With schools in Tiflis now under tight police control, the center of discontent seems to have shifted to Moscow where students are boldly questioning the correctness of the Communist doctrine and demanding more information than is dished out in official sources.

Since the student-inspired revolts in Hungary and Poland, Moscow's Pravda has been printing almost daily frantic editorials urging Russia's "intellectuals" to fall behind the Communist Party and "do their patriotic duty."

Only the Kremlin's versions of the anti-Communist revolution in Hungary — denouncing the freedom fighters as Fascists and American agents—have of course been printed by the Soviet press.

But, as the diplomat quoted earlier in this dispatch said, "the ordinary Russian, who has long ago learned to read between the lines of official propaganda, is increasingly aware of the crisis in the Communist world."

Eyewitness accounts of the Hungarian uprising—which have since spread like wildfire among the Soviet population—have also been brought back to Russia by returning Red Army soldiers.

That the Kremlin rulers are in panic over the mounting unrest among the college youth is clearly indicated by the recent speech of Nikita Khrushchev. He bluntly threatened that student discontent will be crushed ruthlessly—and not allowed to go to any such lengths as occured in Hungary and Poland.

Speaking to Moscow members of the Young Communist League, Khrushchev said:

"The enemies of socialism place special stress on youth, trying to deceive them with false ideas and to divert them from the proper path."

He warned that it was necessary "to keep vigilance and pay more attention to the correct education of young people."

Obviously to revive faith in the vanishing Communist ideal the Russian press is now devoting much space to praising the "Soviet intellectual."

"We have given much to our intellectuals and therefore demand much of them!" Pravda shrilled in a recent editorial. "Our nation needs loyal, educated, experienced specialists."

Youth's disillusion with communism seems to be spreading irresistibly — if cautiously — to Soviet Russia, 40 years after the Bolsheviks seized power and proclaimed their intention to create a "new Soviet man."

Wash Salt Away, Apply Paste Wax to Protect Finish

LANSING (INS) — William J. Buxton, General Service Manager of Oldsmobile, has a tip for motorists bothered by salt used in the winter to reduce driving hazards.

He suggests frequent washings followed by the applications of motor oil or paste wax to minimize salt corrosion of exterior chrome-plated automotive parts.

Buxton says the simple formula should be applied every two or three weeks.

"Washing removes the heavy salt concentration trapped in frozen slush and dirt and is the biggest single factor in reducing destructive salt action on chrome finishes," he says. "Application of motor oil or paste wax serve as a protective coat between washings."

The Oldsmobile official says stainless steel parts, although more resistant to corrosion than chrome, also will develop minute surface pits after prolonged exposure and should be treated the same way.

Objections may be raised against a heavy oil film because it may rub off on clothing, or to a thick wax layer as being unsightly. Buxton says, however, the excess coating can be wiped off without impairing the protection too much.

He added that spray protectors that leave a transparent finish also offer protection against salt action.

Double Features Frequent in Young Mother's Life

SHERWOOD, Ore. (INS) — It was no shock to Mrs. Betty Duffield, 29, to learn that she was going to have twins.

The girls, named Cheryl Lynn, 6 pounds, 7 ounces, and Carol Lee, 6 pounds, 4 ounces, are her third set of twins since 1952. The early sets both were a girl and a boy.

Don't Fight It, Practice It

STOUGHTON, Wis. (AP) — The Imperial Kustom Klub, formed here by a group of teenagers, was organized to stimulate safe and courteous driving among all motorists.

Its slogan: "Safety and courtesy are contagious; don't fight it, you are outnumbered."

Fox, Crow, Chickens in Deadly Drama

UKIAH, Calif. (INS) — Known as a control pitcher when he was throwing in the Western Baseball League some years ago, rancher Fred Crow can still hurl with remarkable accuracy.

Surprising a red fox chasing his poultry on his Potter Valley ranch, Crow let fly with a rock with fatal results to the four-legged hen fancier.

Crow reports hearing the howl of a mountain lion near the ranch recently. He suspects the big cat is also after a chicken dinner. Crow says he will try his high hard one on the lion if the opportunity arises.

Expect Chemical Gains

BOSTON—United States chemical manufacturers expect their productive capacity to increase by 29 per cent by 1959—or more than double that of 1950.

Youth, 18, on Probation, but Throws Tomatoes

NORWICH, Conn. (AP) — Kenneth A. McLeod, 18, was placed on probation for three years in Superior Court here some time ago after pleading guilty to burglary and theft charges.

On Nov. 3 he was arrested for throwing tomatoes at passing automobiles.

Louisiana has about 4,794 miles of navigable rivers and waterways.

Roosevelt Comes to Rescue in Plots Against FBI

Editors Note: The following article is the sixteenth in a series of highlights from the new book "The FBI Story," by Pulitzer Prizewinner Don Whitehead. Today's account is one of 30 chapters about the fabulous history of the Federal Bureau of Investigation appearing daily in The Pontiac Press.

By DON WHITEHEAD

In 1940, President Roosevelt and Atty. Gen. Robert H. Jackson saved the FBI from being destroyed by attacks as savage as any ever seen in the jungle of Washington politics.

J. Edgar Hoover once told a visitor: "No one outside the FBI and the Department of Justice ever knew how close they came to wrecking us."

Who were "they"? The records from the archives of the FBI tell the story, a story of plots and intrigues and insinuations.

The main attack began after Hoover went before a House subcommittee on appropriations on Jan. 5 to make his annual report on how the FBI was spending its share of the taxpayer's dollar and performing its duties.

In discussing President Roosevelt's proclamation of Sept. 6, 1939, announcing the FBI's broadened responsibility for national security, Hoover said:

"... when this work was assigned to us we organized... the General Intelligence Division, which will have supervision of espionage, sabotage, and other subversive activities, and violation of the neutrality regulations...

"We have also intiated special investigations of persons reported upon as being active in any subversive activity or in movements detrimental to the internal security.

COMPILE INDEX

"In that connection, we have a general index, arranged alphabetically and geographically, available at the Bureau, so that in the event of any greater emergency coming to our country we will be able to locate immediately these various persons who may need to be the subject of further investigation..."

Hoover's statement was like the steel point of a dentist's probe touching an exposed nerve in a decayed tooth. The reaction was violent.

The first attack came from Rep. Vito Marcantonio, left-wing Congressman from New York, who told the House that Hoover's security preparation "lay the foundation... for a Gestapo system in the United States."

An informant gave the FBI a report on a Feb. 8 meeting of Communist leaders in Washington where plans were made for a campaign against Hoover and the FBI. This report said:

"It was proposed at this meeting that the campaign should have two principal phases, one an attack upon the Bureau as violating civil liberties and secondly a personal attack upon the director... Communist writers were assigned to this second phase of the campaign.

LAWMAKERS' AID

It was also planned at the meeting that the service of certain Congressmen would be enlisted in endeavoring to obtain Congressional restrictions upon the Bureau's activities."

The rumor in Washington at this time was that Hoover had lost his strongest supporter when Atty. Gen. Frank Murphy left the Department of Justice to become an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court—and that the new, liberal attorney general, Jackson, would put the handcuffs on Hoover and the FBI at the first opportunity.

The storm broke against the FBI on Feb. 6. Special agents arrested 10 men and a woman in Detroit and a man in Milwaukee who had been indicted on charges of conspiring to recruit volunteers for the Spanish Loyalist Army.

All of them were either admitted Communists, members of known Communist-front organizations or openly Communist sympathizers. The arrests had been ordered by the Justice Department.

The cry arose across the country that these arrests were an example of the FBI's persecution of people who happened to have political views contrary to those of Hoover.

Hoover was called a greater menace than "a nest of spies." The FBI was described as an OGPU, a Gestapo, a sinister menace to intellectual freedom.

DOUBTS WITHOUT FACTS

There were doubts raised in the minds of honest people who then voiced these doubts without waiting to hear the facts.

The New Republic discussed the arrests in an editorial headed "American OGPU." The magazine said:

"In foreign countries people are forced by their governments to submit to their Gestapos. In this country, Hoover has the voluntary support of all who delight in gangster movies and ten-cent detective magazines..."

Many FBI critics had been hopeful that Jackson would take their side against Hoover and the FBI. But Jackson startled them. He stood by Hoover.

One explanation was given in a column by Joseph Alsop and Robert Kintner, who reported that Jackson had looked into the FBI's activities and "to his surprise" discovered that the Bureau was operated along legitimate lines.

Early in March, an FBI informant had reported that the national committee of the Communist Party had met in New York City and agreed that "the time is ripe" to make the Detroit cases a national issue.

A decision was made, the informant said, to "canvass trade unions and all kinds of progressive organizations throughout the country asking them to demand an investigation of the FBI."

ATTACKS COME

These demands came — in a flood of mimeographed resolutions purportedly adopted by labor groups. They said, "There is every evidence to believe that J. Edgar Hoover is preparing for a repetition of the shameful Palmer raids, in which he participated, with the object of attacking and destroying the various unions."

They called on the President and the attorney general to suspend Hoover pending an investigation.

Rep. Emanuel Celler of New York was among those to defend Hoover. He told a radio audience that Hoover "...was a special assistant attorney general (who) had nothing to do with the arrest or so-called persecution of individuals. He simply handled the cases in the courts as they were presented to him."

One of those listening to Celler's broadcast was attorney Morris Katzeff, then living in Boston, who had been one of the lawyers defending those rounded up for deportation in the Palmer raids, Katzeff wrote Hoover:

"The cases of 1919 immediately came back to my mind and I also recalled that you had nothing to do with the irregularities and harsh treatment of aliens suspected of being Communists; I also recall a hearing ... at which you deplored as sincerely as we did the incidents attending the circumstances connected with arrests of aliens in New England, and I recalled how genuinely I was impressed by your sincerity as well as with your thoroughness in presenting your argument, and I felt it my duty as being one of the very few footloose men up to the present moment who could from personal knowledge say a word in defense of a man unjustly accused of wrong-doing."

HEAT COMES OFF

The attacks on Hoover and the FBI began to diminish and lose force after an incident during the dinner given on March 16, 1940, by the White House correspondents.

President Roosevelt was the guest of honor at the head table, which was placed on a raised platform to give the hundreds of diners a view of the Chief Executive. Roosevelt spotted Hoover among the guests and called to him. "Edgar," he said, "what are they trying to do to you on the Hill?"

Hoover shook his head and replied, "I don't know, Mr. President."

Roosevelt grinned and turned his thumbs down in the table. "That's for them," he said.

The word soon spread around Washington that Roosevelt had turned thumbs down on the attackers of Hoover and the FBI.

INVASION OF THE MOON? — In eerie light that suggests the mountains of the moon, Italian paratroopers descend toward a 7,500-foot-high plateau amid the forbidding crags of the Italian Alps at Conca Di Corvara. Marking a new era in mountain warfare, the drop was made in sub-zero temperatures.

Hope to End 10-Year-Old Fire in Mine by $2 Million 'Big Dig'

CARBONDALE, Pa. (AP)—A "big dig," aimed at stamping out a 10-year-old mine fire, is under way here in the heart of the Pennsylvania anthracite region.

The federal and state governments, along with authorities of this city of 15,000, expect to spend more than two million dollars in a massive excavation job in the 120-acre area affected by the underground blaze.

The project may take as long as 10 years. Some 320 families will be relocated in "temporary" homes and 357 dwellings will be torn down.

Three years ago, an elderly couple died of carbon monoxide poisoning caused by fumes which escaped from the mine fire during a drilling operation. The community's young pharmacist mayor Frank P. Kelly Jr. declared a "state of emergency."

A city planning commission and a redevelopment authority were set up. The Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency granted nearly a million dollars to start the program.

According to plans, the fire will be attacked from three directions at once. The average "cuts"—the area actually will be stripmined—will reach a depth of 90 feet and a width of 270 feet.

The first job is to contain the blaze and prevent its spreading across a line which borders the approaches to the downtown business district.

The fire, fed by rich coal deposits, originally affected only a 15-acre area. It began in an abandoned strip mine on the west side of town in August 1946.

Today, inspectors maintain a round-the-clock check on gas concentrations in West Side homes. Residents are forced to keep windows partly open, even in winter, and they use circulating fans in their cellars to prevent the deadly gas from gathering there.

The over-all redevelopment plan also includes study of new housing developments, traffic conditions, industrialization and other municipal improvements.

A portion of the cost of the project will be paid off by an estimated $425,000 in royalties on coal unearthed in the course of the work.

Plan to Establish Vets' Hall of Fame

LANSING (AP) — Establishment of a Michigan Veterans Hall of Fame is planned in connection with the annual marking of Michigan Week, to be celebrated May 19 to 25 this year.

★ ★ ★

Lawrence J. LaLone, executive secretary of the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund and chairman of the Veterans Committee for Michigan Week, said state historians will be asked to study possible candidates before their names are submitted.

The project is aimed at honoring Michigan veterans, dating back to the earliest wars, who contributed to the betterment of their community, state and nation.

LaLone said various veterans groups also agreed to encourage their posts to adopt some specific project to better their community as a part of the Michigan Week observance.

Fungi Could Interfere With Control of Missile

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N.M. (AP)—A specialist in fungi says a careful watch is necessary to keep such plant growths off rockets in tropical climates.

Howard Aronson, experimenting with tropical fungi at this rocket test base, says the growths appear on missiles after unpacking in tropical climates, much like mold on bread.

He says such growths could interfere with tracking rockets in flight and also that the missiles might veer off course.

RISING RED — Amid recurrent reports that Hungarian puppet Premier Janos Kadar has lost out with the Kremlin, observers see Minister of State Gyoergy Marosan, above, as the coming top man in the Communist Hungarian regime. Kadar's downfall was predicted for his failure to win any semblance of popular support.

Motorist Car-eens Into Official Trouble

APPLETON, Wis. (AP) — A young motorist careening down a busy Appleton street not only did the wrong thing, in multiples, but at the wrong time, raised to several powers.

Wheeling wide around one car, he forced an oncoming vehicle to the sidewalk, then cut back in front of the passed car to halt that one too. Then he leaped out of his own vehicle and began to berate the other drivers and a couple of scattered pedestrians.

Claims Way to Predict Weather Years Ahead

By RENNIE TAYLOR
Associated Press Science Reporter

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A veteran solar researcher says he has found a way to forecast fairly accurately the rainfall of a community for as much as 10 years in advance.

Such a system of forecasting if established in about 30 areas east of the Rocky Mountains could be of enormous value, he asserts.

The method was developed by Dr. Charles C. Abbott, research associate for the Smithsonian Institution. He reported it in the Journal of Solar Engineering Science and Engineering. This is a new publication sponsored by the Assn. for Applied Solar Energy, with headquarters here.

Dr. Abbott, who is 85 and has been studying solar problems for more than a half century, says weather bureau officials and professional meteorologists doubt the value of his method but adds that he has checked its accuracy by "forecasting" the weather of past years.

The procedure is based upon his finding that variations in weather are identical with minute changes in the amount of solar radiation reaching the earth's surface.

Variations ranging from 1-50 of 1 per cent to 1-4 of 1 per cent in solar radiation are paralleled, Dr. Abbott says, by changes of 5 to 25 per cent in normal average rainfall and by 1 to 5 degrees in temperature fluctuations.

Weather men generally do not believe that such small solar changes can produce such large weather variations, Dr. Abbott says. Nevertheless he asserts that his forecasting based on this idea has been 50 to 90 per cent correct.

The sharp peaks and valleys of daily weather graphs have to be averaged and "smoothed out" before they will match the solar graphs of the same dates. The weather lags behind the solar activity by varying lengths of time, depending on the community, the condition of the atmosphere, the extent of sunspots at the time and even the activities of the populations of large metropolitan areas, Dr. Abbott says.

Springfield Slate to Be on Ballot

First Dem Group in 30 Years Reconsidered as Candidates

SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHP — Following a political "scare" here, a full slate of Dem officials (the first in 30 years) today was assured that petitions will be certified and their names placed on the Feb. 18 primary ballot.

The Township Election Commission had previously turned the petitions down because of "apparent discrepancies and carelessness in signing of names."

However, after all-around protests and a hasty appeal to the State Election Commission, the story has changed.

Two officials from the state division called on Democratic candidate for Township Clerk, Mrs. Margaret Ward and advised her that they do not think the discrepancies serious enough to prevent the candidates from running for office.

A meeting of the township election commission here has resulted in the decision to reconsider the candidates. They have sent the following letter to the secretary of the state election division.

Gentlemen: Whereas a conference with Mr. Farnum and Mr. Apol held this date (Tuesday) at Davisburg, Oakland County, Springfield Township discloses that apparent irregularities in nominating petitions of the several Democratic candidates for all township offices do not invalidate the said petitions. Therefore the election commission for Springfield Township will certify the said petitions and place the names of the candidates on the primary ballot for the election Feb. 18, 1957.

MR. AND MRS. FREDRICK HAYNES

Lutheran Evening Rite Marries Area Couple

WATERFORD—A 7 p.m. service on Jan. 12 in Christ Lutheran Church here united in marriage Florence Ruth Ashbaugh and Fredrick Robert Haynes. The Rev. Arvid Anderson performed the ceremony before 200 guests.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ashbaugh of 50 S. Roselawn, Pontiac, was dressed in a white ballerina length gown with long sleeves tapered at the wrists and Chantilly lace ruffled from the waist down with net. On her head she wore a white cap holding a fingertip veil. The bouquet consisted of roses, carnations and an orchid all white, tied with ivy and white satin streamers.

Attending as matron of honor was Mrs. Harold Copeman of Pontiac with bridesmaids Mrs. Jerry Mosley of Pontiac, Kathryn Haynes of Waterford, Donna Copeman of Pontiac and Dianne Williams of Clarkston, assisting.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Arthur Haynes and the late Mr. Haynes of 6455 Andersonville Rd., had as his best man Ronald Gornowicz of Springfield. Robert Ashbaugh of Pontiac, Raymond Haynes and John Schmitt of Waterford, and Jerry Mosley of Pontiac were ushers.

Top Democrats to Pool Views in San Francisco

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders will gather in San Francisco next month for a national conference on social and economic issues. The conference will stress the "Western viewpoint."

The Democratic National Committee said today more than 1,000 Democrats are expected to attend the conference. It will be held in conjunction with a meeting of the national and the advisory committee.

This will be the first Democratic National Committee meeting ever held west of the Mississippi.

Chairman Paul M. Butler said the decision to meet in San Francisco was made as a "fitting tribute to the spectacular gains registered by the Democratic party in the Western states and Alaska and Hawaii in recent years."

3-Hour Wait for Medical Aid

Girl, 9, Burned

FLINT (AP) — State Police said it took more than three hours yesterday for a 9-year-old girl burned critically in a home accident to receive medical attention, although hospitals were within a 15-minute ride of the child's home.

Bertha May Taylor was burned when she pulled a coffee pot across the top of an electric range. A shower of sparks set fire to her dress.

The child ran screaming into the living room of her home on the outskirts of Flint where her mother, Genevieve, 50, beat out the flames. Troopers said the mother told them she spent an hour and a half telephoning relatives and friends in a frantic attempt to get someone to drive the child to a hospital.

Troopers said the mother could not explain why she did not contact police or firemen.

GOT NEIGHBOR

The mother said she finally contacted a neighbor who drove the girl to the Flint Osteopathic Hospital. Authorities there said they were not equipped to handle such serious burns and called an ambulance to take Bertha to Hurley Hospital in Flint.

★ ★ ★

Physicians at Hurley said the child suffered first, second and third degree burns over 34 per cent of her body. She was listed in critical condition.

Doctors said, however, she is "responding to treatment."

Drinks 86 Proof Whisky Trying for Truth Proof

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — William C. Rose, a 238-pounder who drinks his whisky straight—and often—proved in court he can down 20 slugs without getting drunk.

Whether he drank himself scott free of a drunken driving charge still is undetermined. City Court Judge Francis A. Sobieski said he probably will hand down a decision tomorrow.

Rose hoped to prove that a reading by the city's drunkometer was no accurate measure of a man's ability to hold his liquor and still drive a car safely.

The 44-year-old apartment house manager, who likes his pint of spirits every day, was arrested Dec. 15. Tested by the drunkometer, his reading came up .246. A person who gets a reading of .150 — which indicates 150 thousandths of 1 per cent of alcohol in the bloodstream—is considered drunk within the meaning of the law.

Rose came in with three pints of an 86-proof blended whisky.

He drank almost a pint and a half in about 4½ hours. He took it straight, with ice water chasers. He had several cups of coffee during that time and half a sandwich at lunch.

But he never got drunk. The judge halted the test after the 20th shot and Rose took a drunkometer test. The reading was .122 shy of the "drunk" minimum and less than half the reading officers reported the night he was arrested.

At this point he was slurring his words a bit and talking much louder, but he still was able to navigate without any particular stagger or sway. Visual and reaction tests showed his efficiency had dropped in all phases except depth perception.

When it was over, the judge instructed his attorneys to get him home safely — with someone else driving.

Rose said he'd brought a friend along for that purpose, just to be on the safe side.

Structure Named Will Rogers

200 Defy Weather to See New School

Despite near zero weather last night, nearly 200 parents and friends turned out to see newest of the schools in the Pontiac School System dedicated and given a new name.

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, dubbed the newly occupied Walton boulevard school, 2600 Dexter Rd., the Will Rogers School. He made the announcement by reading a telegram from Will Rogers Jr. which thanked the Pontiac Board for naming the school after his father.

Dr. Robert Martin, consultant for elementary education with the Michigan State Department of Public Instruction was the evening's main speaker.

He congratulated parents of the district for their advanced thinking in seeing the need for new schools. He stressed that the new eight-classroom building was not an educational program but merely the "facility" to aid and help make a good educational program easier.

ALSO ON PROGRAM

Also on the program was Louis H. Schimmel, president of the Board of Education, who accepted the building; Ray F. Ward of Schley and Ward, architects for the structure, who presented a flag to the school; Mrs. Ann Galbraith, principal, who accepted the flag; Mrs. John Adomitus, president of the PTA, in charge of the welcome and the Rev. Gordon Lindsay, pastor of the Five Points Community Church, who gave the invocation.

Mrs. Effie Mitchell, teacher at the school, was mistress of ceremonies. Entertainment was provided by the Elementary School Brass Ensemble, composed of representatives of Longfellow, McConnell, Wisner, Willis and Central schools and a chorus of the new Will Rogers School children.

Following the program an open house was held so that parents could see the $410,550 facility.

The one-story structure has two large kindergartens, a multi-purpose room large enough for gymnasium activities with stage attached, plus the classrooms. The school which now houses 261 students from kindergarten through sixth grade has a capacity for 360 students.

Last Witness Heard in Widow 'Murders'

EASTBOURNE, Eng. (INS) — The 44th and last witness at the "murder" hearing of Dr. John Bodkin Adams completed his testimony just after noon today.

Crown attorneys immediately asked the Eastbourne Magistrates Court to commit the middle-aged society doctor to trial on a charge of murdering one of his wealthy widow patients.

This was a signal for the defense formally to submit that no case had been made against the chunky doctor in nine days of hearings in the Victorian resort town's tiny courtroom.

The hearing may end today if summations are completed by the prosecution, which contend Dr. Adams poisoned patients with narcotics to benefit from their wills, and the defense which claims the doctor is exactly what he appears to be—a quiet-living, honorable, bachelor.

'Given Under Duress' Says Lawyer

Singer Confession Forced?

DETROIT (AP) — Counsel for Philip J. Singer says he will object to the introduction of a signed confession at Singer's arraignment today in the sex-slaying of JoAnn Gillespie.

Singer is charged with first-degree murder in the Jan. 2, 1953 death of the 18-year-old Detroit co-ed. He was to be examined before Recorder's (criminal) Court Judge John A. Ricca.

"The confession was given under circumstances that make it highly questionable whether it was voluntary," attorney G. Leslie Field said. "Duress was used."

Ralph Garber, chief assistant prosecutor, denied duress was used to obtain signed statements.

"In statements made to me," Garber said, "Singer was asked if the statements were made under duress. He also was asked if we had made any promises to him. He answered 'no' to both questions and signed statements to that effect."

Singer was picked up this Jan. 12 on a morals complaint. He described the Gillespie slaying to detectives Glenn D. Coller and William E. Sheedy.

'Veterans of Jail' Favor Treatment by Local Jailer

DANVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Eight self-tagged "veterans of jails and penal institutions across the United States" have rallied to defense of their host — Boyle County jailer Joe Edwards.

"We know what we are talking about," they wrote in a letter to the editor of the local Advocate-Messenger, answering criticism of jail conditions made by the county grand jury.

"Mr. Edwards is one of the best jailers we have ever seen," they wrote. "He does his job to the best of his ability and handles the prisoners with human respect. . . This is one of the cleanest jails we were ever in . . . The food here is a lot better than over at the workhouse. The grub over there is so rough you have to wear gloves to eat it."

NEWEST AND FASTEST — This is the first unrestricted photo of the newest and fastest weapon in the U. S. Air Force jet-age arsenal, Lockheed's F-104A Starfighter. The plane is shown here free of the hoods used in earlier pictures to conceal the shape of its air scoops. The Starfighter reportedly can zoom to the attack as fast as it flies straight and level. From nose to tail it measures 54 feet, 9 inches. Its height is 13 feet, 6 inches. From wingtip to wingtip, the span is only 21 feet, 11 inches.

Youth Kills Himself in New York Home

LAKE KATRINE, N. Y. (AP) — A 17-year-old boy, leaving a note expressing worry over his high school report card, killed himself yesterday with a .22-calibre rifle.

Paul William Roggencamp, a pupil at Saugerties High School in Ulster County, was found dead at his home with a bullet wound in the head.

Birds Get Along

UNION, S. C. (AP)—Birds of different feathers are finding much in common at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Workman.

Workman, a lawyer, picked up a young dove that had fallen from its nest. He put the bird in a cage with the family parakeet—and the two have been chattering and cooing ever since in amiable companionship.

Hollywood Headlines

Piper Laurie Determined to Escape From Old Self

By BOB THOMAS

★ ★ ★

She has taken an eight-month lease on an apartment in New York and plans to do a Broadway play and study acting there. She will be earning much less than she could in movies, but she doesn't care.

The fact is that she wasn't too happy with a film commodity named Piper Laurie.

"When I left Universal a year ago," she said, "I had been seven years at the studio and did 12 or 15 pictures, none of which gave me any particular satisfaction.

"I decided that was silly. Why should I go on doing work that didn't give me pleasure? So I decided to do only those things which I felt would advance me as an actress.

"I did one live TV show and then another one. Then I did a filmed show. All of them were challenges, and I worked hard to prepare for them. In December, I went to New York, figuring to stay there and do some serious work. I came back here for a Playhouse 90, but now I'm going back to New York to stay."

At one point, she even considered changing her name.

She decided against it. Advisers convinced her it was senseless to toss away the millions of dollars in films and publicity that had contributed to her buildup.

Despite her frivolous publicity, Piper has always been a serious girl. She seemed deadly intent on an acting career when I saw her, and her appearance belied any attempt at glamor. She wore no makeup and her copper-colored hair was drawn back tightly in a pony tail.

She still has a picture a year to make for Universal, the first on the contract being "Kelly and Me" with Van Johnson. She made a comment that may cause some pain in film circles:

"I learned more from TV directors in the past year than I ever did in pictures. TV directors are young and talented and eager to try new things."

Zoo Claims Champion for Longevity of Snake

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The San Diego Zoo claims it has a new champ in its African black-lipped cobra.

The snake passed its 28th year in captivity, and is still going strong. The zoo said the former longevity record for snakes in captivity was held by an Anadonda that lived for 28 years in the National Zoological Park in Washington, D. C.

Bob Considine Says:

GOP's Roosevelt Wants No Office

NEW YORK (INS)—John Roosevelt, youngest son of F.D.R., towered over fellow Republicans at the various functions surrounding the inauguration of Dwight Eisenhower.

He was among many regular air travelers who were grounded in Washington's pea-souper the morning after, and had to take a train. So did I.

It gave us a chance to talk briefly with the engaging young man, a GOP orator referred to as the White Sheep of the Roosevelt clan.

Q.—Who'll succeed your leader?

A.—Wait a minute. I'm not a political soothsayer. I'm a businessman. But on the other hand, I've always had the highest regard for Dick Nixon. I believe he has gained tremendous stature during these past four years, and should continue.

Q.—There's talk of a Symington-Kennedy ticket for the Democrats, with their names being presented maybe two years in advance. Would that be tough for the Republicans?

A.—The Democrats are too smart to do a thing like that. You put somebody up in the public's eye that far in advance and all you'll get is somebody throwing at them. They'd be ruined if they got a parking ticket.

ANY REWARDS?

Q.—Did the Eisenhower administration offer you anything as a reward for your work in defeating Stevenson?

A.—Nope. And I wasn't looking for anything.

Q.—There's some talk in Washington that you may get the job your father had, and Teddy Roosevelt before him — assistant secretary of Navy.

A.—Are you kidding? I've got four kids. I couldn't afford to take one of those government jobs. Somebody's got an idea that we should pay the President a million a year and $100,000 to Cabinet officers. If that ever goes through, you might have a new boy in politics.

One of the abler performers at the Inaugural Festival in honor of the President and vice president came harrowly close to the world's worst moment in the course of a lively clowning act.

Introducing his next number he said, "I've done this for our beloved President several times and it's by far his favorite. I never saw anybody laugh like he did the last time. Laugh, I thought he'd . . ."

There was an almost imperceptible but, in retrospect ghastly pause. But the crack performer was up to the emergency. He finished ". . . I thought he'd never stop laughing."

HARD FOR NANCY

The attractive woman who stood in the aisle in Section C during the swearing in of the President and vice president—and had no place to sit, even in a section which was Nancy Kefauver.

It's tough to be a runner-up in the political league.

Washington-to-New York trains were filled all through the shrouded hours of Tuesday morning and afternoon with people who had planned to fly back to the big town from the inaugural events.

Fifty private planes alone were refused clearance by the Washington tower. The birds weren't walking. They wouldn't venture out of their nests, or off the iron and marble hat brims of the Capitol's well-littered Civil War generals.

Those who made the 1 o'clock Pennsy advanced on its lone dining car with the determination of a cloud of locusts on a bosky dell.

Among those who swayed for an hour or two behind a mythical plush rope, wating for a table, were Prince and Princess Mike Romanoff. Mike parlayed a plush rope, a well-bred sneer and a very good kitchen into a fortune in Beverly Hills. Now he knows.

Ever notice how slowly people eat when you're waiting in line for a diner seat? And how you can work up a genuine dislike for the guy who, having finished his meal orders a brandy, a cigar, loosens up a notch, leans back and says, "Now, I'll tell you . . ."? And how easy it is to forget the people standing in line, once you've got your place?

English MPs Earn $2,800 Annual Salary

LONDON — Members of the House of Commons have a duty to take part in the work of the House and are paid an annual salary of £1,000 ($2,800). The Government pays the leader of the Opposition £2,000 a year to oppose the Government.

House members are elected by voters in the more than 600 constituencies throughout the country. Commons' real power lies in its control of the national finances, for the House of Lords has no power to reject a financial measure.

They Practice What They Preach

EFFICIENCY PERSONIFIED — Bernice LaFreniere sits down at a cutting board to pare apples. This board pulls out from a table and is the proper height for working while sitting. The table itself has large casters that allow it to be rolled wherever it is needed. In the background Mrs. Mary Hixon puts the dishes away which have been allowed to drain dry. The open cupboard shows the step shelves that make it possible to store dishes without piling one kind on top of another.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

What happens when three home economists keep house together? Is it a case of too many cooks spoiling the broth? Do they disagree on how to keep house? Not in one case we know about.

Mary Hixon, Suzanne Sturgis and Bernice LaFreniere, all home economists, live together in a remodeled farm house on Runyon road, east of Rochester. The first two are a home demonstration agent and 4-H club advisor at the Oakland County Extension Bureau. The last named is a home demonstration agent for Macomb county.

Their house is interesting in itself. Incidentally, it belongs to a fourth home economist, Jean Hardy, who works in Rochester. She fell in love with the old house, reportedly once a stage coach stop and about 125 years old. At present she lives in a three-room apartment at one side, while her tenants share a six room "flat" on the other side.

Among the three girls—Hixon, Sturgis and LaFreniere—they accumulated enough furniture to fill the rooms. They had lived together in a Birmingham apartment for three months before moving into their new-old home. They aren't completely settled yet. Sue was working on curtains the day we visited them.

★ ★ ★

Before moving to their new, larger quarters the three girls sat down one evening to make out a schedule of work. In the apartment things had gotten done, but occasionally life was chaotic because no plan was followed. Here is what they came up with:

MEAL PREPARATION
Shop for food and prepare all meals
Soak and stock pots and pans
Provide food for lunches
Keep adequate supply of household supplies on hand
Care for freezer and food that goes in it.

DISHES
Wash and put away dishes
Dispose of garbage and paper
Clean stove
Sweep and clean kitchen
Change towels
Defrost refrigerator

HOUSE CLEANING
Straighten house and dust daily
Vacuum all floors and rugs weekly
Keep bathroom clean
Lay fire in fireplace, bring in wood, clean weekly

Each girl does one of the above sets of chores for a week at a time, from Sunday through Saturday. If the cook is going to be away one evening, she either makes advance preparation or exchanges time with someone else.

Because their schedules are both full and flexible, they rarely eat dinner together all week. But they always eat breakfast as a group. Each member of the household indicates daily whether she will be home for dinner.

Using the weekly market information supplied by Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, also of the county extension service, the cook tries to get the most food for her money. All three talk over the menus to check on their nutritional values. Each cook keeps a record of money spent so that in time a budget can be set up.

These young women are truly attempting to put into practice the things they learned in their home economics courses. In fact, in their work, they are learning all the time. They use all the time and motion saving methods they have ever studied.

While a family cannot be run just like this household, there are suggestions here for all homemakers. Perhaps making a schedule of the things that have to be done daily or weekly will make you work more efficiently. Perhaps you can set up a schedule with your family (note that we said WITH, not for) that will divide the work and keep things running smoothly.

Bernice was the cook the day we were invited for lunch. The food was good to look at and delicious to eat. Since she comes from the Upper Peninsula, we begged a Pasties recipe from her.

CORNISH PASTIES
By Bernice La Freniere
Crust:

3 cups sifted flour
¾ cup lard or shortening
1½ teaspoons salt
6 tablespoons water (approximately)

Cut lard into flour and salt. Sprinkle with water and gather dough into a ball. Roll out as for pie crust. Put one to two cups of meat mixture on one half of dough. Turn other half over and crimp edges. Make several slits on top to allow steam to escape.

Place on a cookie sheet. Bake about an hour at 400 degrees. When the pasty has baked for 30 minutes, add 2 tablespoons of water through the slits on the top.

Filling:
1½ pounds round steak
½ pound pork
2 potatoes
2 carrots
2 onions
1 cup rutabaga

Cut meat into half-inch cubes. Cube vegetables. Mix and use raw as the filling for the dough.

Pretty as a picture: White layer cake covered with a pale-orange colored frosting and decorated with tiny clusters of seedless green grapes.

SHE'S THE FIRE TENDER—Suzanne Sturgis puts another log on the fire. It is her week to clean the house and keep the fire burning. Sue is the newest and youngest member of the three home economists who keep house together.

Apple Charlotte Is Homey Dish

If your family likes the more homey desserts, with the emphasis on taste and flavor instead of frills, they're sure to enjoy today's delicious Apple Charlotte. And, even if you're a new homemaker you'll find the preparation easy with this simplified recipe.

Be careful to select apples which hold their texture (and flavor) while cooking, because you don't want the fruit to be mushy. A good choice for desserts like this is the all-purpose winesap, a late-harvested, rosy red apple which has a tangy spicy flavor and is crisp and fine-grained.

Winesaps are good "keepers" so you can buy in larger quantities and have a supply on hand for eating as fresh fruit, in salads and other delicious apple dishes.

Fresh Apple and Raisin Charlotte

4 apples, pared, sliced
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup raisins
1 cup sugar
Dash salt
4 slices white bread
½ cup milk

Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine and add sliced apples, raisins, salt and 1-3 cup sugar. Cook slowly for about 10 mins. Stir frequently. Combine remaining 4 tbsps., melted butter or margarine and milk. Dip one side of each bread slice in the butter-milk mixture, then in remaining sugar.

Line a 2-quart baking dish with the bread, sugared side down. Spoon apple-raisin filling into bread-lined dish. Heat oven to moderately hot (400 degrees). Cut remaining bread slices in half for topping. Dip one side of bread in fat-milk mixture; then in sugar, as before. Place over filling, sugar side up. Bake 45-50 mins. Serves six.

Fold Cottage Cheese Into Scrambled Egg

Scrambled Eggs with Cottage Cheese

4 eggs
¼ teaspoon salt
Pepper
2 tablespoons milk
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup creamstyle cottage cheese

Beat eggs slightly (just enough to mix yolks and whites) with salt, pepper to taste and milk. Melt butter over low heat in 10-inch skillet until it hisses. Add eggs and scramble to desired doneness.

Just before eggs are set, stir in cheese. Makes 4 small servings; 2 large servings.

BARBECUE 'BURGER MIX — It's easy to entertain when you serve buffet style. Here a chafing dish is filled with rich tasting Barbecue 'Burger Mix. This delicious ground beef mixture is spooned into slices of French bread for serving.

Chafing Dish Barbecue Mix for Buffet Supper, Snacks

A clever hostess knows the secret of informal entertaining—she prepares an easy menu and lets her guests serve themselves. Whether she's planned a supper on the back porch or snacks in the game room, a successful hostess knows that family and guests alike are fond of eating buffet style.

A chafing dish is handy for use on a buffet table, and a main course which lends itself well to both chafing dish and buffet service is barbecued 'burgers.

The barbecue mixture can be made early in the day and then reheated and placed in the dish at serving time. Guests can can make their own sandwiches as they pass by the buffet.

Unusual buns for these barbecue sandwiches can be made from a loaf of long French bread. Slice the bread in half lengthwise and then cut diagonal slices about four inches long crosswise. An average loaf of bread will make 6 or 8 buns. Toast and butter the bread before spooning on the hot mixture, if you prefer.

This barbecue mixture uses ground beef, an especially economical meat for serving a crowd, and has a nice consistency for easy spooning on the bread. The ground beef is cooked with green pepper, onion, celery, and ripe olives for a rich barbecue flavor. Double this recipe for more servings.

Barbecue 'Burger Mix

1½ pounds ground beef
2 tablespoons fat
½ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped ripe olives
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
½ cup chili sauce
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 teaspoon chili powder
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Brown beef in melted fat. Add onion, green pepper, and celery, and cook 5 minutes or until tender. Add remaining ingredients, cover pan and cook over low heat 20 to 30 minutes. Six servings.

Putting chocolate frosting on a chocolate cake? For a variation on this classic treat, stir a dash of mint flavoring into the frosting.

Many Stores Featuring Meat Bargains This Week

A cold day in January is a good time to take inventory of what is happening in the market place. January sales in clothing and house furnishings are annual affairs, but food marketing is a weekly event that takes priority in the use of the family's income. Decreasing supplies of pork, increasing supplies of beef and eggs, and weather conditions throughout the country affect the choices available in food stores, says Consumer Marketing Information Agent Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

MEATS — Remember when fried chicken was a Sunday treat? Those were the days before broilers became a year 'round business. If the shopper is looking for an inexpensive meat, fryers are now a wise choice. For the best fresh flavor, use chicken within a day or two after it is purchased.

Wholesale prices of beef hindquarters have dropped slightly. This reduction is noticed on some retail cuts. If the budget can include steaks or a juicy standing rib roast, it will pay to shop around. One reason prices vary is the difference in quality or grade. The top quality beef such as U.S. Prime or U.S. Choice makes juicy tender steaks that may be broiled, pan-broiled or pan fried. Steaks from other grades are best when panbroiled.

A heavy uncovered frying pan and low heat make panbroiling much easier. Do not add fat or water. Simply turn occasionally and pour off fat as it gathers.

Increased wholesale prices have also affected retail pork costs with most cuts showing a slight increase. When comparing pork with other meats, the thriftier cuts include picnics, rib-end roast, and whole smoked ham.

For variety in meats include fish on the menu. Frozen food counters boast good supplies at a variety of prices. Ocean perch, cod and haddock fillets are the thrifty buys.

EGGS—Eggs are eggsactly right for the market list. Besides being one of nature's most perfect foods, they are now several cents a dozen less than last month. More large size high quality eggs are being produced at this time.

Fresh flavor is soon lost unless eggs are kept refrigerated. Eggs, like cheese and meats, are more tender if cooked at low temperatures.

VEGETABLES — The weather is up to its usual tricks. This week, lighter supplies of greens, green beans and the lack of color in some vine-ripened tomatoes can be related to cold weather.

Something new in vegetables is fresh corn on the cob from Florida for about 9 to 12 cents an ear. At the same time, canned corn is prominently displayed at about 10 cents for a No. 303 can which holds two cups.

Potatoes are about tops in vegetable economy. Around the clock, potatoes fit into any meal. Try adding grated cheese or creamed tuna to mashed potatoes for a different treat.

FRUITS — Three- and four-pound cello bags of Michigan apples are the prize packages at the fruit counters. These small size McIntosh, Jonathan, and Delicious apples are just right for after-school nibblers.

Sunny grapefruit, oranges and tangerines are good selections to liven winter appetites. Supplies of tangerines have passed their peak in quantity and quality, but both grapefruit and oranges are in generous supply and their quality is good. The brown russeting on the skin of citrus fruit has no affect on its quality or flavor.

Michigan hothouse rhubarb has been on produce counters for about two weeks. Perfect for pies or sauce, bright pink rhubarb will spark menus with its tartness.

Napa Valley Barbecued Chicken

1 3-lb. ready-to-cook broiler-fryer, cut up
Seasoned flour
¼ cup butter, margarine, or bacon drippings
1 cup catchup
¼ cup sherry
½ cup water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 minced medium onion
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1 tablespoon brown sugar

Coat chicken with seasoned flour. In hot melted butter in large skillet, cook chicken until evenly browned. Remove to 2-quart casserole. Start heating oven to 325 degrees F. In saucepan, combine catchup and next 7 ingredients; bring to boil; pour over chicken. Bake, covered, 1¼ hour, or until tender. Makes 4 servings.

Use Canned Fruit Juice in Dissolving Gelatine

When using canned fruit in a jellied dessert, utilize the liquid from the fruit to dissolve the unflavored gelatine. Follow the basic lemon dessert recipe on the envelope of unflavored gelatine, and substitute 1¼ cups of hot fruit syrup for the 1 cup of boiling water and the sugar called for in the recipe. Make the dessert according to directions on the envelope.

Almonds Dress Up Fish

Like almonds to dress up broiled fish fillets? Then lightly brown a half cup of the slivered blanched nuts in a quarter cup of butter or margarine and pour over the fish.

CHOCOLATE REFRIGERATOR CAKE — Who would guess that this fancy dessert started out to be a jelly roll? Actually it's much easier to make and so delicious to eat! The rich chocolate cream filling makes this refrigerator cake a real appetite tempter.

Chocolate Icebox Cake Is Dessert to Remember

Just when is a jelly roll not a jelly roll? When you make this handsome Chocolate Refrigerator Cake, that's when!

The first step in the recipe, you see, is to make a sponge cake batter—a superb one, thanks to the grated orange rind enhancing its delicate flavor—and bake it in a jelly roll pan. It comes out velvet-textured and feathery light, but here the resemblance to a jelly roll ends.

For instead of promptly rolling it up on removal from the pan, you let it cool and then cut it into four slices crosswise. The fun now begins as you lavishly spread the chocolate cream filling between each golden layer.

It's positively the smoothest, fluffiest frosting imaginable. Rich creamy butter deserves a lion's share of the credit here, as do the beaten egg whites folded in at the last minute.

Yes, Chocolate Refrigerator Cake is a real party dessert. You needn't be an expert to produce it but everyone will enjoy it to the last forkful.

Chocolate Refrigerator Cake

⅔ cup sifted cake flour
¾ teaspoon baking powder
4 egg yolks
⅔ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
4 egg whites
¼ teaspoon salt

Filling and Frosting

2 squares baking chocolate
⅓ cup sugar
¼ cup water
4 eggs, separated
1 cup butter
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

For cake, sift flour and baking powder together. beat egg yolks until light. Add sugar and beat well. Then mix in vanilla and orange rind. Add flour and blend. Fold in egg whites which have been beaten with the salt until stiff but not dry.

Spread batter in a jelly roll pan which has been buttered, lined with waxed paper and buttered over the paper. Bake in a 375 degree preheated oven for 13 minutes. Remove from pan to cake racks. Cool. When cool; cut in 4 crosswise slices.

For filling, put chocolate, sugar and water in saucepan. Cook until chocolate is melted. Add a small amount of hot mixture to egg yolks, then return to the mixture in the saucepan. Cook 2 minutes longer. Cool.

When cool, cream butter and confectioners' sugar. Gradually beat in chocolate mixture. Add salt and vanilla. Fold in egg whites which have been beaten until they are stiff but not dry.

Spread filling between pieces of jelly roll and over the top. Garnish with chopped nuts if desired. Chill

Tempting Facsimile of Southern Delight

Achieve a tasty facsimile of a favorite Southern Delight next time you have some leftover ham. Cut the ham in bite-size pieces (or small slices) and add it to a can of condensed cream of chicken soup to which ¼ cup of milk has been added. Warm gently and pour over squares of hot corn bread that have been split and buttered. Muchroom soup can be substituted for the chicken, if you prefer.

They'll Come A'running for Hot Bacon Bread

Certain to bring them on the run to the breakfast table—Bacon Bread — hot out of the oven.

Purchase a package of two brown 'n serve loaves of French bread. Cut them, diagonally, into 1-inch slices, not cutting quite through the bottom crust. Combine 1/3 cup crisply cooked bacon with ¼ cup soft butter. Spread between slices. Place loaf on a baking sheet and heat in hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 10 minutes.

Use Cream Soup, Tuna to Make Seafood Bisque

A memorable seafood bisque results when you heat together one each of condensed cream of asparagus and cream of mushroom soup, with one can of frozen shrimp soup, two cups of whole milk or light cream, and one can of tuna fish flakes, drained.

Serve with hot-brown-and-serve rolls and a snappy-seasoned green salad. Chocolate pie and coffee bring this supper to a perfect conclusion.

'Quickie' Can Be Tasty Meal, Too

"It can be quick but let's make it tasty." That's the lord of the manor's only compromise with the meal planning problems that beset his harassed 20th century lady.

There's no reason why "quickie" meals have to be served the same way every time. A dash of reasoning here and a pinch of ingenuity there, can produce some pretty exciting variations in foods that are basic favorites . . . and in short order, too.

A good example of what can be done when appetites are strong and time is short, is found in this recipe. It features scallops, the succulent Atlantic Ocean Shellfish that lends itself to so many delightful dishes. The recipe comes from New Bedford, Massachusettes where most of the country's scallops come from.

Sea Scallops Supreme

2 lbs. sea scallops
3 cups boiling water
1 bay leaf
1 slice lemon
2 cloves
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 tablespoon salad oil
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 can (8-oz.) tomato sauce
1 cup sour cream
½ teaspoon marjoram
½ teaspoon oregano
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains coarsely ground black pepper

Cover scallops with boiling water; add bay leaf, lemon and cloves. Simmer gently 10 minutes. Meanwhile cook onion in salad oil until soft but not brown. Add remaining ingredients. Drain scallops; arrange in shallow baking dish. Pour sauce over scallops. Broil, with surface of food 4 inches below heat, about 3 minutes. Serve at once. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

'Some Punkins' Make Taste Treat in Gingerbread

Pumpkin Gingerbread

1 cup sifted flour
2 teaspoons double-action baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup dark brown sugar (finely packed)
1 egg
2 tablespoons molasses
½ cup canned pumpkin
½ cup chopped (medium-fine) Brazil nuts

Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, cinnamon, ginger and nutmeg. Cream butter and sugar; beat egg in thoroughly, then molasses and pumpkin. Stir dry ingredients into pumpkin mixture until blended. Fold in chopped nuts.

Turn into greased pan (8x8x2 inches) and bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 to 35 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Delicious Taste Treat: Strawberry Muffins

Here's a new idea for muffins. You enjoy muffins with cranberries, with blueberries when they're in season, and with chopped dates. Now it's strawberry muffins.

You make these muffins with frozen sliced strawberries — and they're delicious.

Here's what you do. Let the sliced strawberries thaw following label directions and drain off the syrup into a measuring cup. Use your favorite muffin recipe and add the strawberries to your dry ingredients after you have them all blended. Use the syrup to replace the equivalent amount of milk, and there you are.

Mix as you would for ordinary muffins, and that means with a minimum number of strokes, and bake as usual. You'll love the fresh flavor of the strawberries coming through.

Good results are obtained from using either iron pans or heat-resistant glass custard cups for baking popovers.

POPCORN SNOWBALLS — Think what fun you'll have when you serve Popcorn snowballs. Use any desired flavor of ice cream. Shape into balls of any size and roll in glazed ground popcorn. Make ahead of time and freeze until needed. Serve with chocolate sauce if you like.

Fun to Make, Fun to Eat Are Popcorn Snowballs

Popcorn is for everybody — and so are Popcorn Snowballs! Fun to make and good to eat, this recipe can be a do-it-ahead-and-freeze-it type of dessert.

For these popcorn Snowballs can be made hours or days ahead and stored in your freezer. Or they may be made and served immediately. The recipe is a simple one, too, as well as one which opens up avenues of variations.

To make Popcorn Snowballs, use any desired flavor of commercial or homemade ice cream. Shape the ice cream into balls with a medium-sized scoop, then roll each ball in the glazed ground popcorn. (See recipe.)

To freeze, place the "snowballs," unwrapped, on a baking sheet or piece of aluminum foil in the freezer for a few hours or until quite firm. Then wrap each frozen ball separately with freezer wrapping paper or foil, fasten with freezer tape, and store in the freezer.

The crackly crunch of the popcorn combined with smooth and flavorful ice cream make a "different" dessert enjoyed by all ages. And don't think for a minute that this recipe is a "for children only" one; for grown-ups like popcorn and ice cream, too! And for chocolate lovers, try serving this dessert with chocolate suace.

Serve the Popcorn Snowballs on dessert plates lined with pretty, paper doilies. And, for a fancy fun dish, form balls with the round tablespoon of your measuring spoon set, or a large melon ball cutter in place of the medium-sized scoop; use a variation of ice cream flavors, and use 3, 4, or 5 balls for each serving.

Popcorn Snowballs

1 quart popped corn
½ cup sugar
¼ cup light corn syrup
1 tablespoon dark molasses
¼ cup water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon vinegar
1 quart ice cream

Pop popcorn, measure and pour into a buttered 2-quart bowl. Combine together in heavy 1½ quart saucepan the sugar, corn syrup, mollasses, water, butter or margarine, and vinegar. Stir over moderate heat until sugar is dissolved. Cover; bring to boil and let boil briskly for 3 minutes. Uncover, insert candy thermometer, and cook to 300 degrees (very hard crack stage).

Pour syrup slowly over popped corn, stirring with a large buttered spoon to coat each kernel. Spread out as much as possible on large buttered baking sheet, to separate the kernels; cool completely. Put glazed popped corn through food chopper, using coarse cutter of grinder.

Using a number 12 ice cream dipper, form 10 ice cream balls. Quickly roll balls in ground glazed popped corn. Pat mixture onto balls for a heavy coating. Serve immediately or store in freezer until serving time.

Save Plastic Bags

Save the plastic bags in which carrots and other foods come. They may be used many ways in the kitchen. One idea: shake seasoned flour and meat cubes together in one of them when you want to coat the meat before browning.

Salt Free Diet Need Not Be Dull and Monotonous

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

If all the flavor has gone out of your life because the doctor has put you on a salt-free diet, don't give up in despair. There are a good many foods you can still eat and there are seasonings you can still have.

It is going to take more imagination than you have used in the past, perhaps, to fix food that is not flat tasting. First of all, you realize that your doctor tells you what foods to omit and what ones to eat. Ask him if you may use monosodium glutamate. Have him decide if one of the salt substitutes is on your diet.

Be the best reader of food labels in town. Only in that way will you know whether a canned food has salt in it. The federal government says all producers must list ingredients on food packages and cans.

There are, of course, many salt-free and low sodium foods processed especially for folks like you. You will find some in your regular grocery store; others are available only in specialty shops.

Using herbs is one of the simplest ways of making foods taste more interesting. Buy tiny bottles or packages of savory, marjoram, oregano, rosemary and thyme for a start. Savory and oregano are good in salad. The other herbs add much to meats and stews and main dishes. Don't forget parsley and its close cousin, chervil.

Use sparingly at first, deciding which herbs you like on certain foods. Mix some with salt-free butter for spreading on crackers or topping vegetables.

Worcestershire sauce, mustard, ketchup, chili sauce—all of them come in salt-free form and add much to the enjoyment of your food. Lemon juice is invaluable in seasoning fresh vegetables and on salads.

If your doctor has said you may use a salt substitute, try blending it into the food rather than sprinkling it on top. When it is on top, it is the first thing you taste and is apt to be rather unpleasant.

Here is a delicious way of preparing green beans. After cooking the beans add some mushrooms. Then brown your salt-free butter, add your salt substitute and stir into the hot beans at once. Browned butter has a special flavor all its own that is particularly good in vegetables.

Grilling meats on a shiny pan will give them a delicious flavor. With this method you need no fat or salt. By adding a drop or two of water you can even pan fry liver this way.

Talmee Surola who is an expert in preparing food for people on various diets suggests this way of making a good macaroni dish.

SALT FREE MACARONI CASSEROLE
By Talmee Surola

½ cup macaroni
1 can salt-free tomato paste
Oregano
Low sodium cheese

Cook macaroni in boiling water. Drain. Add tomato paste, a tiny pinch of oregano (it's an herb that comes in powdered form) and the cheese. Mix and heat in oven.

We'd be the first to admit that salt is important in the taste of foods. But you can live without it if the doctor says so. And you can have palatable meals. Maybe you'll have to cultivate a better imagination.

Crushed Pineapple Piled in Onion Shells

Pineapple Stuffed Onions: For an interesting, edible vegetable garnish for roasts, fill partially cooked, hollowed-out white onions with crushed pineapple, dot with a bit of butter, ½ teaspoon brown sugar and top with bread crumbs.

Place in a shallow baking pan with a little water and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 30 minutes or until tender.

Ever add chopped prunes to muffin batter? Soak the raw prunes in very hot water for about 15 minutes before removing the pits and chopping.

Banquet Held at Central Methodist Church Marks 50 Years

By MARY ANGLEMIER

"Back in 1907 when the subject of a second Methodist Church was considered, Pontiac was a booming small town of 13,000 people.

"Carriage manufacture was the main industry with nine plants in three groups, north end at Oakland avenue and Clark street, south end at Osmun street, and in the Walnut street area in the west," stated Lloyd W. Pardee at the Golden Anniversary Banquet Wednesday evening in Central Methodist Church.

Members are celebrating the 50th anniversary of the church all this week.

* * *

He went on to say, "Transportation was horse and buggy, walking or a city loop street car line, commonly called the dinky. Many members thought it a long walk to First Methodist."

The Rev. George W. Jennings of First Methodist Church guided the 97 members who withdrew to form the congregation for a new church.

The old Osmun home on Oakland avenue where the Garner Apartments now stand was bought and remodeled by the members. The first worship service was held May 13, 1907.

* * *

The Rev. Charles E. Eastman and the Rev. Henry C. Northrup were supplied as pastors until a permanent pastor, the Rev. Dunning Idle, was secured in September of that year.

Mr. Pardee, a high school student at that time and also a charter member, reported the members had a constant struggle to meet the first budget of $1,500. The pastor received $800 annually.

* * *

Robert Field, chairman of the Golden Anniversary Committee, presided during the Wednesday program and spoke of the plans for the new church.

Six pages today in Women's Section

"We are hopeful for the future," said Mr. Field. "The congregation gave us a vote of confidence last week to go ahead and build a new church on the present site. We will begin with the educational building."

The first unit, Mr. Field told the guests, will house adequate educational facilities for children, young people and adults, as well as a small chapel.

* * *

The second unit will contain the sanctuary, seating 850, a fellowship hall of sufficient size to seat 390 at banquet tables, with a kitchen and offices for the staff.

MUSIC PRESENTED

Singing several selections were members of the church quartet, Freeman Williams, Joseph Davis, Rose Jorgenson and Mrs. George H. Putnam.

* * *

The Rev. Reginald Becker of Birmingham gave the invocation and the Rev. John W. Mulder of Walled Lake gave devotions.

The Rev. Cecelia Learn of Flint spoke of those who have served at Central Methodist Church.

Coming from Boston to bring greetings from the ministerial students was James Braid who is studying theology at Boston University.

Mrs. C. Russell Nachtrieb, whose husband was an assistant pastor at Central, gave a talk for the former ministers' wives. The Rev. Mr. Nachtrieb is now at Aldersgate Methodist Church, Detroit.

* * *

The Rev. Dudley C. Mosure, chaplain of Goodwill Industries, Detroit, spoke for those who have gone into Christian service from Central.

ATTENDED BY 400

Nearly 400 members and friends of Central Methodist attended the banquet, with two present who had joined the church prior to 1910, Lloyd Pardee and Mrs. Alec Baldwin.

* * *

Sunday morning at 10:45, Dr. William O. Moulton, superintendent of Flint District, will speak on "Teammates."

His subject will include subtopics, "Heritage of the Past," "Opportunity of the Present" and "Vision of the Future."

The youth of Central will be in charge of the congregational worship at 7 p.m. Sunday. The Junior Choir will sing and one of the young people will present the message, "Facing the Future."

14 Attend Meeting

Fourteen members of the Happy Wanderers Extension Club met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Harold Wagg of Ogemaw road. The lesson, "Accessories in the Home," was presented by Mrs. Robert Anderson and Mrs. Walter Messer.

Mary Margaret Poole is fluffing out the perky bow on the dress of her sister, Betsy, while Charles Porritt ties shoelaces for his small brother, Matthew. The children were just about ready for the anniversary festivities at the Central Methodist Church when they were photographed. The girls are daughters of the Fred J. Pooles of Watkins Lake, and they are great-granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Porritt, charter members of the church. Charles and Matthew, sons of the Donald Porritts of Washington street, are grandchildren of the late Dr. Lloyd H. Nixon, former pastor of the church. Another great-grandfather was Dr. William G. Nixon, former minister at First Methodist Church.

Robert Field, chairman of the golden anniversary committee, is pictured as he greeted Rosa Bradley (center), former deaconess of Central Methodist Church, and Mrs. George Alexander, an early member of the church. Four hundred parishioners attended the celebration.

Shown just before the banquet are (left to right) Lynn Carson, president of the High Fellowship; the Rev. Calvin Rice, assistant pastor of Central Methodist, and James Braid who is studying for the ministry at Boston University School of Theology. The banquet was followed by a program commemorating the church's 50 years of progress.

Preparations for the 50-year celebration were made by (left to right) Mrs. G. Richard Jarvis, chairman of the banquet; Mrs. George Dietrich, assistant chairman of local church activities, and Bessie Carpenter, chairman of local church activities.

Sweaters are a vital element in any man's wardrobe. In addition to traditional standbys as solid-colored pullovers, most men welcome a smartly styled lounge and ski sweater, like this one.

Gems Bring Sparkle

Men's Jewelry Has Dash

NEW YORK (INS) — Costume jewelry, including cufflinks, can give traditionally somber men's clothing a bit of flash and dazzle.

Not many men these days are interested in putting out a minor fortune for a diamond stickpin or real ruby cufflinks. But they can get the same bejeweled effect with the latest links that feature false stones.

Ruby, sapphire and diamond effects are popular for 1957, combined with highly polished gold and silver, with matching tiepins.

One set of links feature a blue, iridescent, oval stone, something like an opal, held in a gold frame.

Men who think imitation stones are too "pretty" can have the more rugged version in imitation marble and even tortoise-shell.

Tie-bar and cufflink combinations can display a man's sporting interests, too.

For the hunter in the house there are cuff links featuring a three-dimensional setter's head. The tie-bar is a narrow, sleek looking rifle.

Fish, horses, golfers and birds on the wing are the designs handpainted in gay colors on imported mirror crystal cufflinks, combining sports with sparkle and color.

Easy-Wash Curtains

Most everyone knows that terry-cloth towels make wonderfully washable and colorful bathroom curtains. For an elegant touch use monogrammed bath towels. They are just as easy to launder in your washer with hot soap or detergent suds, and will fluff up in your gas dryer—ready to hang again in no time.

Coming Events

Maple Leaf Luncheon Club will meet at Hotel Waldron for a 12:30 p.m. luncheon Friday with election of officers.

Pontiac Unit of WCTU will meet Tuesday with Mrs. Ray Fleming, 144 Cottage St., at noon. Mrs. Hazel Green, president of the 18th district, will speak.

Guest Asks for Closing of Window

Hostess Shuts Out Draft, but Appears to Be Annoyed

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter tells me: "The other night I was invited to play cards at a neighbor's house. I was seated near a window which was open quite a bit from the top. It was a rather cold night and I could feel a terrible draft on my back.

"I stood it for as long as I could and then asked the hostess if she would please close the window. She did so, of course, but she didn't seem very pleased about it. Will you please tell me if I was wrong to make such a request?"

Answer: It would have been best to have asked for a scarf to protect your back from the draft. Your hostess then could have either brought you a scarf or closed the window.

"Dear Mrs. Post: It is the belief of many of my friends that when a young woman marries she drops her maiden name and substitutes her maiden name in its place. For example: Mary Jane Smith would sign her name Mary Smith Jones after her marriage to John Jones.

"I, on the other hand, believe that when a young woman marries she drops her maiden name entirely and adds her husband's name to her own given one. Will you please tell me which is right?"

Answer: She may sign her name whichever way she pleases, but legally, as well as socially, her correct signature is Mary Smith Jones because it establishes who she was.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a man and woman are leaving their seats in a theater, does it seem rude if the man goes out of the row ahead of the woman if he happens to be sitting nearest the aisle, or is he suposed to stand and let her pass in front of him so that she may go out first?"

Answer: They go out in the order in which they are seated. When he gets to the aisle he stands aside and lets her go first, or else they walk out together.

Don't Save Luxuries--Use Them!

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I am not by nature an "aginer" but I am "agin" saving those Christmas gifts which are in the luxury class for another day. Many women save these for some "special occasion." What could be more special than today?

* * *

It is natural to use discretion in expending luxuries which we cannot afford as a habit, but some women save their perfume until it evaporates, their fancy soap until it melts with summer heat and their new bag until it is out of style. Today is a wonderful day and it might seem even more wonderful if we enhanced it with a few frills.

Your perfume should be kept on your dressing table. The general rule is to apply it at pulse spots . . . one of these is behind the ear.

Since fragrances are among the most popular luxury gifts, let me give you a few suggestions:

In the first place keep these in a convenient place. Place your bath accessories, soaps, bath softeners, toilet water and colognes, on a bathroom shelf near your tub. You can buy one that hangs on the wall. These and the accessories are most decorative, and you will use them if you have them nearby.

Put the bath softener or oil, bubbles or crystals or whatever, in the tub shortly after you turn on the water. This will allow the product to foam or dissolve, as the case may be, before you get into the tub.

Your perfume should be kept on your dressing table or bureau. You will want to use it later on in your routine. The general rule is to apply it at pulse spots, inside the elbow, inside the wrists, at the temples and behind the ears.

If you are going out for the evening, you may like to insert small pieces of cotton in your bra. Before doing so dampen them with your perfume. This is an especially good idea when going dancing.

DO NOT DELAY

If you received sachets for Christmas do not delay in putting them among your lingerie, handkerchiefs or in your pillow.

* * *

The temperature at which you keep your lipstick makes a great difference in the skill with which you can apply it. If it is too cold, the rouge will cake. If too hot, it will run. The room should be warm but do not keep the lipsticks too close to a radiator.

I hope you have a happy time with those luxuries which soften the rough corners of daily living!

If you would like our leaflet "General Reducing Routine" send a stamped, self addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 1 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Clock News: High Time for Black

CHICAGO (INS)—Black is showing its face again in home fashions. It has been booted out from modern furniture but it's the latest style in contemporary wall clocks.

The most luxurious versions introduced at the International Home Furnishings Market in Chicago were either black or big—so big that they served as the focal point for an entire wall.

The biggest model was a black metal gong four feet wide with only brass hands. The numerals for telling time were set on smaller brass circles, hung separately on the wall around the blank face.

Besides expensive marble, more moderately priced wall clocks also adopted the luxury look in stone-like plastic. One of the most attractive was pie shaped with brass studs to mark the hours and a brushed brass center dial supporting enameled white hands.

* * *

Another round clock featured a black scroll pattern on clear glass, a brass dial for the center and black hands.

Other wall clocks introduced at the show were fashioned from aluminum and metals finished in bronze and silver as well as black and brass.

New Air Freshener

A new air freshener that destroys odors is contained in an aerosol container. The company is introducing also a deodorizer in conventional wick form. Both are in delicate scents of blossoms and evergreen.

The Spring Flower Show scheduled for May 25 at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building will be sponsored by the garden clubs of the area.

* * *

The general outline of the show was tentatively set up when the club presidents and chairmen met Tuesday with Mrs. Fred Bohlman of Coleman drive.

There will be artistic arrangements as well as horticulture featured in the show. The public is urged to attend and participate in the classes.

Mrs. Bohlman is general chairrading, and rfrshmns wreeeete man of this third annual flower show. It will be a standard show and will be judged.

Students to Gather at Sweater Swing

The annual Sweater Swing, sponsored by the St. Michael Athletic Association in cooperation with the school cheerleaders, will be held this evening from 9 o'clock to midnight in St. Michael Hall.

Prizes will be awarded and a local disc jockey will make a guest appearance. There will also be a featured vocalist.

Committees are headed by Mary Raymond, Yvonne Koprince, Pat Harbert, Betty Cronan, Sharon Walsh and Shelagh O'Rourke.

Hold Frozen Shrimp Under Cold Water

Frozen shrimp can be separated easily if placed in a strainer or colander and held under cold running water.

Green bartlett pears will ripen in two or three days if kept in a paper bag at room temperature, 65 to 70 degrees. Once ripe, the pears should be kept in the refrigerator until ready for use.

Colored Pencils Have Many Uses

Although household pencils won't replace a mink stole for Mom, she'll find special pencils for marking freezer packages, home preserves and garden stakes useful right through the year. Dad, too, may like a special carpenter's pencil or an all-weather pencil for outdoor marking.

Pencil caddies, to hold pencils near the telephone or on the night table, and sharpeners for the study or kitchen, also are perennially welcome gifts.

Love Comes First for Royal Baby

Caroline to Be Disciplined

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS) — Princess Grace and Prince Rainier, now in the first happy flush of parenthood, have some definite ideas about how to bring up children.

Little Princess Caroline, who made her worldly debut to the booming of 21 guns yesterday in little Monaco, "will be spanked, if necessary"—but she'll find her parents will not be strict disciplinarians.

"I believe in spanking," Princess Grace told me with a laugh in her first and last interview with an American reporter during her visit to the United States last November.

"Royal children," Grace confided with a chuckle, "probably need more spanking than others."

But Grace and the Prince do not believe that spanking and stern discipline are all the answers to bringing up a child properly.

★ ★ ★

The Princess—nee Grace Kelly of Philadelphia and who was herself part of a large family—is firm in her belief that "love and understanding" are what children need most.

SENSE OF IMPORTANCE

"A child must feel needed and wanted," she said. "And it must be given a sense of individual importance."

★ ★ ★

The Prince, present at that November interview, agreed that "love" was the big thing in training a child for life—a royal child or any other.

"Give a child love and proper understanding," is his view, and the discipline will come. "All comes from love," he said, "including discipline."

Grace originally had wanted the child to be born in a hospital, but the Prince prevailed upon her to have it in the palace because "this is our tradition."

But the Princess held firm on one count—that her husband would be kept out of the delivery room.

"The delivery room," she told me emphatically, "is no place for husbands."

So, in Grace's words, the Prince like most husbands everywhere "paced it out nearby."

That both Grace and the Prince would have preferred a boy as their first child was no secret, but the princess was prepared for the possibility of a girl.

WANTS 3 OR 4

If it turned out to be a girl, she told me, it wouldn't matter too much because "I want to have three or four children anyway, and I want them close together."

★ ★ ★

Grace inferred thereby that one of the "three or four" was almost sure to be the longed-for boy.

Caroline, along with the many other advantages of a princess, will have lots of playing room.

Long before the birth, Grace disclosed last fall that "we have built a complete nursery in the palace, across the passage from our apartments."

The 8-pound, 4½-ounce princess will lie in the same gilt cradle, with lace canopy, that Ranier occupied.

"I found it in the palace cellar," the Prince told me.

When Caroline is christened two weeks hence, she will wear Rainier's christening dress, according to what the royal couple told me.

"My mother," the Prince said, "is sending it to us. It is lace and satin."

YELLOW LAYETTE

Princess Grace, when she did her layette shopping in New York, was taking no chance on the sex of her child. Traditionally, the color is blue for a boy and pink for a girl.

★ ★ ★

"I," the Princess confided in our interview, "have taken care of that. I've bought blue and pink and yellow—lots of yellow because it's a color I've always loved."

But the girl from Philadelphia by way of Hollywood proved, too, that whatever has happened to her, she hasn't lost either her sense of humor or sense of values.

"I promise," she told me gaily, "there won't be any monograms on the baby's diapers!"

House Isn't Really Home Till It's Been Rearranged

Little Changes and Adjustments Make That Lonesome Feeling Disappear

By RUTH MILLETT

A new house doesn't feel like home until—

You know where to lay your hand on the things you use every day and quit going through a "Now where did I put that?" routine.

You have your pictures hung and your knickknacks placed just where you want them.

You can cook a meal with a minimum of effort. This means you have probably rearranged the kitchen at least three times since you have found it would be handier to have this here instead of there.

Your dog finds his favorite spots for stretching out or curling up as he follows members of the family from room to room.

You have planted at least one shrub in the yard with your own hands.

You've rearranged the furniture at least once—after you have discovered that arrangements which looked all right to the eye weren't as livable as they might have been.

Your mail starts coming correctly addressed.

You give or write your new address and telephone number without hesitation, without having to stop and think that they've been changed.

You've begun to plan what you are going to do to the house and yard in time to come.

You've had your first guests to a meal, met them at your new door and welcomed them into your new home.

Then that, which for a lonesome bit of time has seemed just a house, suddenly begins to feel like home.

Small Pressing Board Is Handy

AMES, Iowa (INS)—A small pressing board comes in handy when you do a lot of sewing at home.

Clothing specialists advise that women can make one easily from the small, sturdy cardboard frame leftover from a bolt of fabric.

To do so, pad the cardboard frame with good quality outing flannel or a piece of old blanket and cover with muslin.

Then you can press a garment or small articles without the bother of getting out the large ironing board.

The pressing board also comes in handy on trips.

Necklace Brings In $385,000

NEW YORK (AP) — A 213-carat diamond necklace was auctioned off yesterday for $385,000—apparently a new high in American auction prices for a single item.

★ ★ ★

The necklace was from the collection of the late Mrs. John E. Rovensky. The auction of her personal property at the Parke-Bernet Galleries has thus far brought $2,182,935.

The necklace was sold to Julius Furst, a New York jeweler.

Two Oriental pearl necklaces, once exchanged for a 5th Avenue mansion valued at more than a million dollars, went to an unidentified buyer for $151,000.

Rovensky is the former board chairman of the American Car and Foundry Co.

Exhibition Starts Feb. 4

Abstract Art to Be Shown

A collection of art from the realm of the abstract will be presented at the Little Gallery in Birmingham beginning Feb. 4 and continuing to March 15.

★ ★ ★

This collection is being presented to indicate the history, range, variety and application of the abstractionist movement. It includes reproductions of Miro, Braque, Klee, Picasso, Gris and others.

★ ★ ★

Also included in the exhibition are drawings, watercolors and original prints by Buch, Sarkisian, Cavagnaro, Widdige and Palazola.

Paintings by Whitehorne, Kubichek, Gale, Spiller, Ellis and Boot will also be shown.

Tip on Toe Coverings

When you're buying a soft-shell pump (which means it has no boxing, only a soft leather lining), buy a half size smaller than your regular shoe size. Otherwise, when it loosens up a bit, it will be too large.

Topping for Cookies

When making refrigerator and rolled cookies, keep them crisp by sprinkling with crushed peanut brittle while they're still hot from the oven. The brittle melts slightly, giving them a delightful topping.

Don't Try to Face Tragedy Alone

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Tragedy enters most lives at one time or another. We meet it the best we can and find what help we can.

But one thing is sure. The worst thing we can do at a time like that is to cut ourselves off from people.

I was reminded of this, recently, when a nice woman, who was doing a survey on perfume, rang my doorbell.

I asked her in, partly because I once did market research myself and know what it's like and partly because her face had such a combination of sadness and courage that it fascinated me.

I answered her questions about perfumes as best I could and then offered her a cup of tea. It was a cold, blustery day, and she accepted my invitation.

Then she blurted out, almost fiercely, "You have no children?"

I explained that I did have a son, away at school. Then her story came out.

She had lost her only child, a girl, four years before.

"It nearly killed me. I can't have any more and I just couldn't reconcile myself to such a tragedy. I hardly spoke to my husband—poor darling, it was just as tough on him — and I withdrew from my friends and family.

"I spent two years practically alone.

"Finally," she continued, "the doctor said he wouldn't vouch for my sanity if I didn't get around and see people.

"But the trouble was, I didn't want to see my friends or anybody who had known Claire. I just couldn't talk about her.

"That's when the doctor suggested I do this kind of work. At first, I didn't think I could do it, but I find it has done me a world of good!"

She smiled.

"Now I'm able to talk about Claire again. I've met such nice people and I am kept so busy. In the last two years, I've become a new woman.

"And we're beginning steps to adopt children, something I wouldn't even consider before!"

KEEP SEEING FOLKS

When tragedy strikes, the most important thing is to keep seeing people

No matter how numb we feel, no matter how much we want to retire and resign from the human race, our only hope for healing comes from seeing people.

Where La Swanson Made Top Movie

'Ghost' Mansion to Be Destroyed

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The musty, 30-room "ghost" mansion where Gloria Swanson tried to vamp her way into the heart of William Holden in "Sunset Boulevard" is being torn to the ground to make way for a less romantic $1,000,000 office building.

★ ★ ★

The colorful old Spanish style home, which also served as the mysterious setting for James Dean's midnight escapades in "Rebel Without A Cause," cost oil tycoon William O. Jenkins around $200,000 when it was built back in 1925.

Today the same structure would cost $600,000.

More than 50,000 souvenir hunters have paraded through the 33-year-old house ogling the Roman-style bathroom, the marble fireplaces (large enough to hold 10 people), the walnut paneling, and pilfering door knobs and other movable objects.

Visitors walking through the silent, empty rooms point out the spot where La Swanson supposedly swooned on her bed of unrequited love and Holden brooded over his dismal plight as the kept lover of a faded movie queen.

The swimming pool in the garden where the actor met violent death at the hands of his tragic ladylove is boarded over and the old coach house where he struggled over the movie queen's life story is covered with dust and chips of glass from broken windows.

The property, which was never lived in more than a year or two, now belongs to multimillionaire oil man J. Paul Getty who recently won a court fight to replace the famous old mansion with an office building.

Only a few romantic souvenir hunters and a nostalgic past stand between it and ultimate destruction.

We Saw Firsthand

How Russians Really Live!

By the Journal editors Bruce and Beatrice Gould

They shook off their official Russian guides to visit housewives in their homes. They traveled with a young American graduate student who spoke Russian fluently and helped them talk freely with workers, students, teachers.

Now, in the February Ladies' Home Journal, these two American editors share with you the everyday side of Russian life that party officials try to hide . . . the thoughts, reactions, attitudes of Russian people that newspapers can't tell. The findings may startle you. Don't miss "We Saw How Russians Live." Also, "Report on Russian Youth" tells of realistic conversations with Russian boys and girls.

You'll read:

- What Russians think of American women and fashions.
- Why Russians are more apt to discuss political views on the streets rather than in their own homes.
- How the attitudes of Russian youth differ from ours on sex and dating.

Ballet Guild Impresses Washington

New Organization Adds More Luster to Capital Culture

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Premier performances by the Washington Ballet Guild, Inc., have enhanced this town's claim to be the cultural capital of the world.

Art lovers from all over the world come to visit our National Gallery with its priceless collections. Our National Symphony has won great prestige among the top-ranking orchestras of the world.

We have yet to boast our own opera and theatrical groups, but now we can look to the newly formed guild, with its accomplished and dedicated directors, Lisa Gardiner and Mary Day, to give us a permanent ballet company of professional stature.

The guild, formed in October 1956, got off to an auspicious start with its performance of "Cinderella," accompanied by the National Symphony Orchestra with its music drawn from the works of Mozart.

Reviews were encouraging and the audience, which later went to a champagne supper and other gala shindigs, was highly enthusiastic.

The group of some 45 qualified amateur and professional dancers, recruited from various ballet schools in the city, included some youngsters who have studied or danced with the famed Sadler's Wells of England.

Marcia Barrett, daughter of Mrs. Esther Barrett, a local musician, won praise as "Cinderella," as did Adrienne Miller, daughter of an Army colonel, who portrayed the "Fairy Godmother."

YOUNG MEMBER

One of the youngest members of the Washington Ballet Guild is Anna Barbara Larson, 16-year-old daughter of Arthur Larson, the newly appointed director of the U. S. Information Agency.

Anna says she first became interested in ballet at the age of 6 when her father, author of "A Republican Looks at His Party," was professor of Law at Cornell University.

Later, when Larson spent some time in England writing his exhaustive two volume work, "The Law of Workmen's Compensation" (it costs $40, his son, Lex, 17, advises me), Anna studied with the Sadler's Wells School.

Eisenhowers Opening Social Season Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The President and Mrs. Eisenhower resume an official social season tonight after a two-year lapse.

More than 1,000 persons have been invited to a diplomatic reception—the first of a series of big formal gatherings at the White House.

Because of Eisenhower's illnesses no big White House social event has been held since a diplomatic reception Jan. 21, 1955, which closed the 1954-55 official social season.

The State Department says the invited guest list includes chiefs of foreign missions, all ambassadors and ministers, consular and senior attaches, and some government officials.

The social season usually starts sometime in November and runs to the eve of Lent with about six big receptions and five state dinners.

This year, with a very late start, the official social calendar has been limited to three receptions and three dinners, ending March 5.

Former Official of Garden Club Presents Talk

Mrs. Frank Chapman, past president of the Michigan Division of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association, spoke on "International Relations" at a recent meeting of the Sylvan Lake Branch of the association.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Leon Skelley of Woodland avenue was hostess for the meeting, assisted by Mrs. William H. White, Mrs. William J. Walkerdine and Olga Zander.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. F. A. Moon spoke on the culture of the African violet.

Ten Sylvan Lake members were guests at a luncheon and card party given Friday by the Waterford Branch of Women's National Farm and Garden Association.

Quilted Plastic Has No Stitching

Worth looking for is a new plastic upholstery material "quilted" by heat-sealing, instead of by stitching! This foam-quilt material can be used to make your furniture look as though it had an expensive tufted and quilted job.

Since it is plastic, this upholstery needs only a sudsy cloth or sponge to keep it clean. You'll find it available in various thicknesses and different patterns.

Police Magazine Reflects Lives of Unsung Soldiers

By RELMAN MORIN
for Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—"Spring 3100" is a magazine about the life of a man you see every day.

★ ★ ★

It shows him playing many parts, even, on occasion, the role of a midwife. Mostly, though, he appears as a soldier in a war that never ends. Usually, he is a family man, but he never knows when he goes to work whether he will come back.

Want to come into a policeman's world?

"Spring 3100" is the journal of the New York police, but the man it mirrors is the good cop in any town.

TERRIFIC PRIDE

He has terrific pride in his uniform, his mission, and his outfit—

"Memo to the new men in the command: the 5th (precinct) is always first.

"Frank Duca did it again while off duty on his way home. Captured three men after a two-mile, movie-style chase at 60 miles an hour. Good work and the kind that will reduce the amount of auto larceny cases."

He is anxious to qualify for promotion—

"The department once again receives its most severe test this month when about 11,425 patrolmen compete for the rank of sergeant. This represents almost half the total force. The study will not be lost or wasted because such effort makes patrolmen 'better cops'."

FAMILY BUSINESS

His esprit de corps extends to his family—

"The two sons of a police lieutenant proved the adage 'Like father like son' Nov. 12 when they ran into two youths breaking into a clothing store. Edward and Walter Marks, sons of Lieut. Marcus Marks, grappled with the two burglars, one of whom stabbed Edward in the abdomen with a switch blade knife. Walter held the other until police arrived."

★ ★ ★

He never knows what the next moment may bring—

"Saw Herman Perry this morning; had his face splashed with acid last night. Answered a family fight and this female met him at the door with a jar of lye.

"Patrolman Burnett Harris, noticing a man brandishing a revolver in a grocery store, quickly overpowered him. The thug's gun was more than 100 years old.

"Deputy Chief Inspector Michael Ledden stopped a suspect in Corona who had some 65 gallons of 190-proof booze in his auto."

FRIENDLY SPIRIT

Few men enjoy as much camaraderie in their work—

"Our precinct is forming a debating team. The first two applicants were Foghorn Walsh and Honeytones Mammola.

"An arm wrestling match we would like to see: Vince Roberts versus Stanley Finkelstein, the winner to take on Sailor Magee."

Muscle and fast reactions are no longer enough—

"Browsing in the Library" advises him to study "density and refractive index, their application in criminal identification," and "the police and the public."

He likes to kid himself and his buddies—

"What new sergeant, meeting Sgt. Cerrone—in civilian clothes—asked, 'Look here, sonny, is that your car parked outside? Wow!'

"Definition of the WORD cop: It DOES not mean C-aught O-ff P-ost. The word stems from the gaslight era, meaning C-onstable O-n Patrol."

WAR CASUALTY

And he feels it when there is a gap in the ranks—

"The posthumous award went to Patrolman William G. Long who was killed when shot by a man tampering with an auto. Patrolman Long left a widow and three children.'

★ ★ ★

He is a soldier in the war without a cease-fire who would be embarrassed if you called him a hero.

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

While the United States Lawn Tennis Association is attempting to figure out ways for developing the game in this country, Jack Kramer just keeps taking the top amateurs by the hand and putting them to use in his pro tennis mill.

What other profession or in what sport is there a one-man rule as there is in pro tennis?

If you know of any, it probably is being sued by the government for violating anti-trust laws. But in tennis there is no one else to give Kramer competition.

Right now Kramer is reported hauling in a loot in his pro tour of Australia. He pulled one of Australia's great amateurs, Ken Rosewall, into the pro ranks and signed him to a minimum contract of $67,000 for 13 months of tournament play.

The first two nights, playing before crowds bettering 12,000, the tour netted $40,000 and before he leaves the Australia-New Zealand circuit, Kramer figures he will head for the United States with at least $130,000.

KRAMER GETS BEST AMATEURS

The past few years, Kramer yanked many of America's and Australia's best amateurs into his troupe, including Tony Trabert who saw the $100,000 guarantee too hard to pass up.

Frank Sedgman, the great Aussie backhander and his teammate Ken McGregor split a $200,000 pie between them but Pancho still couldn't be handcuffed.

Now, Rosewall may give Gonzales a few close matches, but Kramer would rather have persuaded Lew Hoad into his ranks, knowing Hoad would have given Pancho a tougher time of it.

But either way, the Kramer troupe is riding the gravy train while the USLTA is in a dither about the future of the game.

Top officials of the USLTA aren't very happy over the annual drubbing taken from the Aussies in the Davis Cup and they also see a dire need for a good selling job to the American people.

Renville McMann, president of the USLTA, has organized committees for the purpose of development of Little League Tennis similar to that of Little League Baseball and Football.

Elk Keglers Ready for 2nd Weekend

By CHUCK ABAIR

Bowlers from Battle Creek, Flint and Petoskey invade Pontiac this weekend to do battle with keglers from this city and Detroit as the Michigan State Elks Tournament goes into the 2nd of eight weekends here.

Team competition gets underway at the alleys of the Lodge 810 Saturday at 2 p.m. and will continue through the day with an all-Pontiac session slated for Sunday afternoon.

Doubles and singles start Saturday at 2 at the Huron Bowl and go all day with more of the same planned for Sunday morning and afternoon beginning at 11:30 a.m.

Chief among these are the singles figures compiled by John Gavie of Detroit. He made a strong bid for the coveted all-events trophy by hitting an actual score of 691 with 724 for handicap. Gavie tops both divisions.

The teams to beat in five-man event play are Hinges by Brown of Detroit and Pontiac's Drewry's No. 2 unit. Hinges had the high team actual with 2611 and Drewry's paced for handicap with 2983.

Local bowlers Leland Gutzke and Russell Dickman combined for a 1139 to lead the doubles department in actual pinfall. Best handicap total was 1262 by a Traverse City duo.

None of those scores approached any of the records for this event now in its 37th year but tournament manager Wiley McClellan predicted Gavie "might be hard to beat." He said the other leaders would likely be dethroned as the weeks roll by.

Highlight of weekend team action will be the appearance of the defending champion Chuck's Shack of Pontiac Sunday at 3:30. This group, led by Capt. Jim VanAtta, was team handicap victors last winter under the name Little Horns. Skidmore's of Battle Creek is another highly-rated aggregation.

Jack Bender, Exalted Ruler of the host lodge, will be among the title-seekers in action Saturday. Bob Nisbet, Don Hainline and Ed Tessmer are outstanding Battle Creek hopefuls. One of the big favorites of the tourney will be seen Sunday when Harold Allen of Detroit swings into action.

He gained national recognition with his late brother several years ago when they were the youngest pair ever to win an ABC doubles meet. Hal and P. Scribner hold the all-time Elks state record for actual pinfall in doubles. They hit 1396 in 1937.

Herb Case, a well-known star in Detroit bowling, and Petoskey's Syd Whelan are others on a long list of top keglers to be here this weekend.

"No-Hit" Larsen Says No to Contract

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The perfect game Don Larsen pitched in last fall's World Series is going to cost the New York Yankees more money than the world champions have offered their glamor pitcher.

While most of the Yankees have signed their 1957 contracts without any noticeable kicks, two show pieces—Larsen and Mickey Mantle—are making no bones about wanting more money. And plenty of the green stuff at that.

Larsen, who posted an 11-5 regular season record before hurling the first perfect game in World Series history, said from his San Diego, Calif., home yesterday that he had returned his contract and wants $27,500.

The big righthander, who received nearly $9,000 as his winning share of the World Series and picked up at least that much in post-season appearances, declined to say how much he received last year or how much the Yankees offered this time. But it's a pretty safe guess the $27,500 is mighty close to twice the value of his 1956 contract. Unofficially it was believed the Yanks offered him $15,000 this year.

"If they don't do better than the offer they sent me," Larsen said, "I may end up tending bar." He added he is about five to 10 pounds above his regular pitching weight.

"But I'm starting to get in shape now and will be ready when I report to camp."

Bob Cerv, a former Yankee, signed his Kansas City Athletics contract. Righthanders Tom Brewer and Frank Sullivan, aces of the Boston pitching staff, signed up quickly after talking with Red Sox General Manager Joe Cronin. Jim Hearn, also a righthanded pitcher, agreed to Philadelphia Phillies' terms. And St. Louis reduced its list of unsigned Cardinals to six with the signing of pitchers Don Liddle and Lloyd Merritt and first baseman Glenn Nelson.

34 Entries in Annual Jr. Mr. Michigan Events

Entries closed last night for the annual Junior Mr. Michigan Physique and Weightlifting Championships which will be held Friday evening at the Pontiac YMCA.

A total of 34 young men will vie for 21 trophies in seven weight classes in the weightlifting portion of the program, and nine will complete for the title in the physique division.

The Pontiac YMCA will be represented by nine entries in the weightlifting events and two in the physique division.

Local entries include Sam Savvas, 123 pound class; Dennis Roberts, 132 pounds; Sam Karaguleff and Rod Morrill, 148, pounds; Bill Copeman and Tom Beaudoin, 165 pounds; Doug Hills, 181 pounds; Vern Post, 198 pounds and Cal Rhodes, heavyweight.

Gary O'Neil of Waterford is entered in the 148 pound weightlifting class. Other entries were received from Waterford, Detroit, Dearborn, Flint, Linden, East Lansing and Bay City

In the physique events, Dennis Simonson, PHS swimmer, and Rod Morrill of the YMCA are entered along with Linden, Dearborn and Detroit entries.

The program gets underway at 7:30 p.m. Friday night with tickets available at the Y. An exhibition in physique will be given by Vic Seipke, Junior Mr. America champ from Detroit. He will also serve as judge in the physique events.

7 Big 10 Teams in MSU Relays

Early Entries Include UM, State, 12 Others; Spartans Favored

EAST LANSING (AP)— Seven Big Ten schools are among 14 early entries for the 34th annual running of the Michigan State Relays here Feb. 2.

Michigan State, with a squad bolstered by runners from its NCAA cross country team, is expected to set the pace in the relays events. A total of 18 events will be contested in the afternoon preliminaries and evening finals.

Relays events include the shuttle hurdle, distance medley, two mile, sprint medley, college one mile and university two mile.

Big Ten schools already entered include Purdue, Wisconsin, Northwestern, Iowa, Ohio State, Michigan and Michigan State. Early entries outside the conference include Kansas State, Drake, Notre Dame, Western Michigan and Loyola.

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)—A field of some 150 pros and 11 amateurs tees off today in the $5,000 Imperial Valley Open.

Other money winners: Charles Sifford, Philadelphia, 135, $150; Mario Laureti, Rye, N.Y., 136, $100; John Pott, Shreveport, La., 137, $75; Doug Higgins, Midland, Tex., Everett Vinzant, Vernon, Tex., Bill Johnston, Provo, Utah, and Ed Rubis, Chicopee Falls, Mass., all 138, $18.75 each.

Maples Head EML Swimming Circuit

Birmingham's unbeaten (in league competition) Maple swimmers are leading the Eastern Michigan League with three straight wins, and on Friday go outside the circuit to host Royal Oak Dondero in a night contest. Acorns are strong and a tight meet is expected.

★ ★ ★

No change was made by last night's Hazel Park and Ferndale meet, won by the Dales 49-47 with disqualification of Parkers' medley relay team making the difference. Dales trailed at that time 30-33, but the loss of the event turned the tables. Parkers' Jerry Pierce set two school marks, 55.5 for the 100-yard freestyle and 1:19.7 for the 160-yard medley. Loss was Parkers' 2nd of the week, Edsel Ford taking a 56-40 win on Monday.

Calls Detroit Top Threat

Casey Sees Yankee Pennant

Another of a series of managerial views on the pennant races, written under the managers' own bylines—New York Yankees.

By CASEY STENGEL

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — The New York Yankees will open the 1957 season not only as world champions but strengthened by valuable prospects in the pitching department and in the infield.

We should win the pennant unless Detroit, Chicago or Cleveland has strengthened considerably over last year. Detroit, you know, played the best baseball in the American League the last month of the 1956 season. Cleveland and Chicago have changed managers and that may enliven the players.

Detroit had our number last year, winning the season series from us 12 games to 10. This was the second season series the Yankees have lost in my eight years as manager. So you see I got to like Detroit . . . and then we all know Cleveland and Chicago and Boston are going to be in this pennant fight.

But let me talk about the Yankees. We had a good team in 1956, with good power, good speed and good defense. And it was a young club. The pitching wasn't what you would call excellent until those last five World Series games.

Then it was simply three-mendous. My pitchers gave me five straight complete games in that series and I think that's going to give fellows like Ford, Turley, Larsen, Kucks and Sturdivant all the confidence in the world. I look for improved pitching in '57. Remember, we also have Grim, Morgan and McDermott plus such fine young prospects as (Jim) Depalo, (Al) Cicotte, (Ralph) Terry, (Mark) Freeman and (Jack) Urban.

I don't have to worry about my catching with Yogi Berra working every day. Just in case, I have Elston Howard.

Our infield is strong with a lot of our fellows able to go two ways. Billy Martin, Gil McDougald and Jerry Coleman can play any one of three infield positions and in an emergency I can use Bill Skowron at third or Andy Carey at short.

I think we're deep enough in the outfield to be protected in all three positions. We have no problems, of course, in center and right field. Mickey Mantle, who swept all honors last year, may be better than ever.

We're still a young club but we're world champions and we've got a club that's liable to hold up for years.

Toronto Tied By Rangers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Rangers today had a short reprieve in the race for the last National Hockey League playoff position and it was Lou Fontinato, their bruising defenseman, who acted as judge and jury.

With the Rangers trailing the fourth-place Toronto Maple Leafs 4-3 last night late in the final period, Fontinato took a pass from Andy Bathgate, pushed the puck between two Leaf defenders, and bulled his way through to pick it up and push it into the net.

The tie kept the Rangers within striking distance, five points behind Toronto. New York has played two fewer games than the Leafs.

George Armstrong and Marc Reaume gave Toronto a 2-0 lead, before Andy Bathgate picked up his first of two goals in the opening period. Bathgate opened the next period with his second score and Parker MacDonald make it 3-2 New York. Bob Pulford tied it up at 12:04 of the second.

Each team scored once in the final stanza. Ron Stewart put the Leafs ahead before five minutes had elapsed, but Fontinato evened the game at 15:19.

Waterford Loop in 3-Way Fight

The topsy - turvy Waterford League basketball race was involved in a three-way tie for the lead today after Davis Machinery of Ortonville nosed out Boyle-Stone Front of Milford, 56-54, last night at Isaac Crary gym.

Davis Machinery is now deadlocked with Drayton Drug and Philgas for 1st place. Each team has a 6-2 record.

Pete Palshan scored 19 points for the winners in a nip-and-tuck battle which saw the lead change hands several times. Harold Render of Stone Front grabbed game honors with 20 points.

Louie's Tavern defeated Johnson & Anderson, 54-48, in another closely-contested affair. Louie's Don Scott led all point-makers with 22 while Walter Combe tallied 19 for J&A.

Shooting Accuracy Pays Off for Bucks

CHICAGO (AP) — Team accuracy from the floor and foul line is paying off for Ohio State although the league-leading Buckeyes have only one man among the top 14 scorers in the Big Ten basketball race.

In five straight conference victories, Ohio State has hit .457 per cent of its field goals for a record pace and is second to Indiana in free throw accuracy with .714. The Hoosiers (2-2) have .732.

Illinois by far has taken the most shots from the floor, hitting 144 in 340 tries in four games. Ohio State in five starts has 147 out of 321.

Nestor's All-Stars, champions of the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's Junior Hockey Tournament, will clash with an all-star team Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in an exhibition hockey game at the North Side ice skating rink.

The junior skaters will compete as part of the annual City Ice Carnival, scheduled Saturday and Sunday on North Side ice.

Opposition for Saturday's encounter will come from personnel of seven other teams which participated in the tournament.

Chuck Nurek of the Auburn Heights Boys Club and Tom Nelson of the White Lake Flyers have been named co-managers of the 14-member all-star squad.

Gary Thomas of Dick & Wes will be the starting goalie with Auburn Heights' Clayton Clark in reserve.

Other members of the all-star team will be Larry Herron of Auburn Heights, Jim Preston of Dean's Waterford Hardware, Kenneth Young and Bill Gibson of Briggs Sporting Goods, Richard Plourde and John Page of Dick & Wes, John Schuett and Mel Raymond of the Flyers, Dick Singleton of Rogers Triggers and Leroy Crow of the Sports Shop.

CIO Cagers Upset Royals

CIO Local 594 upset the Lakeside Royals, 73-57, Wednesday night at Pontiac High to highlight the City League basketball program. The convincing win allowed the Union cagers to tie the Royals for 2nd place in the American division.

Ex-PHS star Willie DeWalt of Lakeside took scoring honors with 20 points, but his efforts were more than offset by the CIO's well-balanced assault. Chet Woodmore paced the Union club with 18.

Jim Bates poured 29 points through the hoop to lead Walled Lake Super Market to a lopsided 83-39 victory over the Clarkston Merchants. It was Clarkston's 7th straight loss.

By H. GUY MOATS

Saginaw Valley Conference basketball spotlight will be turned full on Pontiac's front-running Chiefs, come Frid / night. The encounter here with Arthur Hill's hopeful Lumberjacks is the only loop game of the night.

It is a very important battle for Art Van Ryzin's club. While the unbeaten PHS five is the favorite the club's mentor isn't taking anything for granted. "We know there is always the possibility that we will face a 'pointed, hopped-up' squad, and we can't let down in any particular," Van Ryzin explains. "Every game is important."

we have been spoilers ourselves several times," Art added. "Any time a club hangs up an unbeaten mark in this league, everybody else in it goes gunning for the leaders."

Where much of the 'Jacks hopes for an upset would have to center on stopping fast-improving Hudson (Goose) Ray, 6-5 Pontiac center, Chiefs will have to do some stopping themselves, says Van Ryzin. He pointed out today that Jim Rae, junior forward who hit 15 points against Flint Central last time out, and center Jim Appold are potential threats and will have to be checked carefully. The "goose" is currently leading SVC scorers with 90 points.

Only other Valley quintet in action Friday will be Bay City, which entertains former SVC member Owosso.

After Friday's setto Chiefs will be away from league competition for two weeks. One week hence (Feb. 1) they play a return game at Catholic Central (Detroit). Then comes a Feb. 8 date at Flint Central.

In the meantime other Valley clubs will be busy. Saginaw plays Handy, Northern tackles Sexton next Tuesday; Hills goes to Midland, Vikings, Trojans tangle at Saginaw, Wolves are at Flint Central Feb. 1; Saginaw plays Midland Feb. 5. On Feb. 8 a full SVC schedule is on tap.

Friday's game (Jayvees play at 6:30 p.m.) is set for 8 o'clock.

Get Top Sports Honors of '56

McCormick, Mantle Feted

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Two great, but humble athletes — Mickey Mantle and Mrs. Pat McCormick —last night received sturdy, silver trophies signifying their eminence in the world of sports.

The baseball star and the queen of divers were honored for having been selected the Male and Female Athletes of 1956 in the annual Associated Press poll.

A crowd of 1,000, including Air force Gen. Emmett "Rosie" O'Donnell, attended the Fraternal Order of Eagles-Frederick C. Miller Awards Dinner. The trophies honored the memory of Miller, a local sportsman.

O'Donnell, an outstanding athlete in his own right back in the late 20's when he attended West Point, mixed praise of Mantle and Mrs. McCormick with a plea for an ever-alert America.

He also congratulated the sports writers and broadcasters who participated in the AP's year-end poll for showing "discernment and good judgment" in selecting Mantle and Mrs. McCormick.

The three-star general said he didn't see how the New York Yankees batting wizard "could help but get to the top."

Of Mrs. McCormick, Gen. O'Donnell said, "the little lady did everything that could possibly be done in the Olympics" at Melbourne and showed "she certainly learned the lesson of self-discipline well."

Mrs. McCormick, pretty, 26-year-old housewife and mother from Lakewood, Calif., is the only woman ever to win the springboard and platform diving titles in successive Olympics.

The General said "no other group is more sincerely dedicated to doing away with war" than the military and "sports give us a means to this end.'

"With the world seething in unrest, neurotic frustrations, tension and conflict," he said, "We must not lose sight of the importance of maintaining, as a nation, the healthy athletes, easy humor, soldierly posture and vigorous self-discipline."

Ted Smits of New York, general sports editor of The Associated Press, told the gathering agency is "quite proud of our 'athletes of the year' awards."

Noting that the awards were made for the 28th time, Smits said Mantle and Mrs. McCormick "are in the finest tradition" and "bear up to the glories" of the winners who preceded them.

Misfortune at St. Fred — Mountain Bows Out

A blessing for St. Frederick when the 1956-57 basketball season started will become a misfortune tomorrow night.

The blessing came to the southside school in the person of Bill Mountain. Second semester ineligibility is the impending misfortune.

Athletically speaking, Mountain is a 2nd semester senior. He will finish the school year at St. Fred, but will be ineligible for further competition when the 1st semester ends.

Mountain has been a tremendous asset to what were sagging cage fortunes. The big senior literally picked up the Rams by the bootstraps and started them off to a winning season.

The Rams have posted a 6-2 record to date and Mountain has played a vital hand in that success. The 17-year-old 6-foot-2 center has compiled 163 points for an average of 20.3 per game, one of Oakland County's top figures.

Mountain came to St. Fred from Pontiac High. He saw only reserve action for the Chiefs, but came into his own with a resounding smack at St. Fred.

When the Rams take the floor against Royal Oak St. Mary tomorrow night at Royal Oak, it will be the final trip for Mountain.

Thunderbird Starts Today

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Forty leading nomads along golf's winter tournament trail today began four days of earnest effort to collect a few more dollars toward their future travels.

At hand was the sixth annual Thunderbird Country Club Tournament, an invitational affair to 30 top money winners of PGA golf in 1956, plus 10 extra guests.

For the first two rounds the affable and influential host club members get their kicks. They with the pros in best-ball competition (the low score by a three-some on each hole counts, and most often it is the pro who shoots the score, not the member, as might be expected).

The pros, of course, such as Ed Furgol, Cary Middlecoff, Mike Souchak, Art Wall, Jr., Doug Ford or Tommy Bolt, keep their own individual score, and then play the final two rounds of the 72-hole event alone.

It is their 72-hole score that counts in the $15,000 event, an affair that started as a sort of stopover picnic for the invited stars en route from California to Arizona and on into Texas and the remainder of the winter schedule.

Oddly enough, this is not a PGA official tournament. The winner's purse isn't counted in the PGA money-winning total, nor is the winner even invited to Las Vegas' $35,000 Tournament of Champions. But the PGA recognizes both tournaments and also runs them.

Sports Briefs

Eddie Brown of the Chicago Bears completed 96 passes in 168 attempts for 1,667 yards to lead the National Football League in 1956. Eleven of his passes were good for touchdowns.

★ ★ ★

Racial Barrier Gone in Majors — Robinson

DETROIT (AP) — Jackie Robinson says the color line in baseball now is thoroughly broken even though several Major League teams still do not have Negro players.

★ ★ ★

Robinson was in Detroit yesterday in a new role as head of a fund raising drive for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

★ ★ ★

He embarked on the nationwide tour just after his final decision to retire from baseball. When he joined the Brooklyn Dodger organization in 1946 he was the first Negro to enter organized baseball.

Robinson said that all baseball scouts are looking for now are ballplayers, regardless of color.

The Detroit Tigers is one of the few teams in the majors without a Negro player. The club, however, has several Negroes on its Minor League rosters.

Speaking of the Dodgers, who traded him to the New York Giants just before his announcement that he was retiring, Robinson said:

"I think they can win the National League pennant. They have the pitching and hitting—but it won't be easy."

Close Point Race in County

By BILL CORNWELL

Agile Larry Hughes of unbeaten Walled Lake is the No. 1 point-maker in Oakland County today, but he can't afford to rest on his laurels.

The 6-foot-4 Viking center tops all schoolboy shooters with 133 points in six games for a 22.1 average.

Hughes has plenty of competition, however. His nearest rival, Waterford's Chuck Gillis, trails him by only one point. In fact, a skimpy 2.1 separates the leading six shot-makers.

Gillis has amassed 148 points in seven games for a 21.1 average. Right behind the 6-4 Skipper center is Bob Hutchings of Ortonville with 205 points for a 20.5 figure.

Only two-tenths of a point shy of Hutchings is St. Frederick's Bill Mountain, who will play his last game for the Rams Friday night. Mountain has accumulated 163 points.

Deadlocked for 5th place are classy Dave Peters of Rochester and Birmingham's Bob Isbell.

Peters and Isbell are both averaging an even 20 per contest. Peters vaulted into his high position mainly on the strength of a 40-point effort against Fitzgerald last week.

* * *

Bespectacled Torm Ropers of Shrine comes next with a 19.8 average, followed by Lake Orion's Nick Niera who boasts a 19.1 mark.

Another Rochester cager, Jim Van Nocker, shows an 18.5 average and Dave Richey of Royal Oak, All-Oakland County star a season ago, is climbing right up the ladder with an even 18.

Bruins Approve of New Goalie

BOSTON (AP)—Dom Simmons, the Boston Bruins' third goalie within 10 days, held a vote of confidence from his new teammates today as he prepared for his National Hockey League debut.

* * *

"It looks as if he'll do," was the general feeling among the Bruins after the 25-year-old Simmons gave a fine performance in an hour-long scrimmage yesterday.

* * *

Simmons is scheduled to make his NHL bow in a nationally televised game against the New York Rangers Saturday afternoon at the Boston Garden.

* * *

He was acquired from Springfield of the American Hockey League after rookie goalie Norm Defelice failed to fill the gap left by Terry Sawchuk, who quit the club for at least a month because of nerves Jan. 15.

Wings Summon Strate to Replace Al Arbour

DETROIT (AP) — Gordon Strate, a strapping bruiser from the Red Wings' Edmonton farm club, makes his National Hockey League debut tonight against the Chicago Black Hawks.

* * *

The 6-foot-1, 190-pound Strate has the reputation of being one of the roughest body checkers in the Western Hockey League.

Reports on Arbour from the Detroit Osteopathic Hospital indicate the rookie defenseman could be away as long as two weeks.

Arbour was believed injured in Sunday's game against New York.

Strate will have a hard row to hoe in filling Arbour's place. The be-spectacled Arbour, who also was called up from the Edmonton Flyers shortly after the season opened, has shown himself to be one of the better NHL defensemen in his 22 games with the Wings.

The Wings, after holding and losing the NHL lead five times this season, can move back into a first place tie by defeating Chicago tonight. League-leading Montreal, two points ahead of Detroit, is idle. The Wings have won six, lost one and tied one against Chicago this season.

Rupp Says Bonus Rule Hurts Cage Game

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The top collegiate basketball powers are resting between semesters but outspoken Adolph Rupp, coach of fifth-ranked Kentucky, is still on the attack.

Rupp, never one to let success stop the search for improvement, has leveled a blast at rules he feels cut spectator interest.

He believes professional basketball is "way ahead of the colleges in progressive rules and I predict the next great development and growth in sports will be that of professional basketball. It has been forced to make progressive rule changes to hold spectator interest."

But the change he wants most is elimination of the bonus free throw—where a player is given a second free throw for making the first.

"The bonus free throw must go—it has no place in a competitive game," he said in outlining suggestions he has made to the NCAA for rules changes.

* * *

"The Big Ten has taken not only a sensible but a progressive step to clean up this cheap way of winning a game," Rupp said. He referred to the Big Ten's "six-foul" rule. This disallows the bonus free throw on the first six fouls committed by a team in each half.

"When one-half of the score in a game is from free throws, it's time to check on the spectator interest," Rupp said in an interview. "The delay in the game and the parade from one end of the floor to the other has little appeal."

"I'll go along with the Big Ten with six or eight fouls per half before a bonus free throw is given," Rupp said. "That will encourage good defensive play."

* * *

"I have advocated for years that an offensive foul be only penalized by loss of the ball; a defensive foul be penalized with one free throw unless in the act of shooting; 'no harm' fouls in the backcourt be overlooked."

Rupp complimented the Big Ten for its "no harm, no foul" policy on calls away from the foul circle.

20 Million With Hook and Line

Ice Fishermen Don't Mind Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ice fishing, to hear the congealed victim of an inadequately advised initial venture tell it, is a sport particularly suited to — if not invented by—those untrammeled souls who would rather die than stay home with their families.

This is not, really, such an extreme view as it might appear to the observer except that it does not work any more. Nowadays the family goes along.

Nevertheless, fishing through the ice everywhere that the water gets cold enough to stand on is riding along on the angling boom that lured nearly 20 million Americans out-of-doors with hook and line last year.

One of the arguments in support of ice fishing is its modest requirements in the way of equipment — only a few crude tools, most of which can be stolen from the neighbors, in a pinch.

These include an ax or hatchet to cut holes in the ice in areas where the ice is less than three or four inches thick. If it is much less, a stout line affixed to a tree on the shoreline will occur to the foresignted.

As a matter of fact, it is remarkable how many ice fishermen fall wallowing into the icy waters of various lakes during the course of a winter, and how few of them come to any great harm as a result.

It's even more remarkable how many people who clearly ought to know better drive their shiny automobiles to the bottom of the same lakes. While there might not be much risk as far north as Canada's Lake Simcoe — where a regular resort industry is building up around providing comforts to the ice fisherman — it's enough of a factor on Wisconsin's Lake Winnebago to establish a good-sized business devoted to fishing sunken cars out again and drying them out.

★ ★ ★

But back to equipment. Better than an ax for the fisherman bent on a day of hole chopping — and that's the real secret of successful ice fishing — is a huge, long handled chisel called a spud. Blacksmiths in the ice-fishing country turn these out comparatively cheap because of the large turnover where amateurs are concerned. The first dozen times or so that the beginner chops a hole with a spud, the stroke that breaks the last layer of ice also sends the spud plummeting through to the bottom.

★ ★ ★

Once you've got a hole close to the hole of some glowering expert who is catching fish, actual fishing can begin although that's usually the least of your troubles. A handline, a small No. 12 or so hook and maybe the tip of a discarded flyrod will do for the pan fish. Bait may be minnows, exotic worms or artificials. A line-holding and signaling device called a tip-up is used by fishermen who have fixed dislike for having their hands frostbitten. Extra gloves are in order, too, because if you catch a fish you'll either have to get your hands wet unhooking it or else carry it home that way.

★ ★ ★

Another word on clothing: The usual advice is to "wear enough clothes." For the benefit of those who live in sunny climes and otherwise are sheltered, there just isn't any such thing as enough clothes when ice fishing. More realistic: Wear all you can.

★ ★ ★

There are many more niceties —refinements may be too strong a word—for the hopeless addict. These include portable shelters ranging up to small houses on sleds, heating devices capable of warming up to the point where they melt a hole for the whole works to fall through, depth sounding equipment and other helpful items, most of which are desired in direct ratio to the warmth.

★ ★ ★

Andros, Stauber Follow Elliott to California

They are Dee G. Andros, 32, and Gene Stauber, 35.

Greg Englehard, Cal. athletic director, announced their appointment yesterday. Andros played guard at Oklahoma three years, graduating in 1950. Stauber played halfback at the University of Toledo, graduating in 1947.

Americans Lead Six-Day Event

CLEVELAND (AP)—An American team passed the favored Australian combination to take a one-lap lead on the field in the six-day bicycle race at the Cleveland Arena last night before a crowd of 3,000.

★ ★ ★

Jack Heid of Rockaway, N.J., set the pace as he and Bill Jacoby of Chicago went to the front after peddling 388 miles around the wooden track. They also had 116 points in the sprints. The points, however, have no bearing on the outcome of the race except in the event of a tie in the lap competition.

★ ★ ★

The Australian team of Alfred Strom and John Tresidder started the second night of competition with a slim lead. They were ahead in sprint points with 192 after the first 26 hours of the 146-hour grind.

The field was cut from 12 to 11 two-man teams because of an injury suffered by Nin DeRossi of Italy on the opening night and the illness of Joe Amettle of Spain. Their partners teamed up to continue the race.

Chiefs Gunning for 1st Wrestling Win

"We're anxious to get this one," said Pontiac High wrestling Coach Bill Willson today looking towards Friday's home match against Fitzgerald as a good opportunity for his winless Chiefs to post that elusive 1st triumph.

The locals have been defeated five straight times in their initial season in the mat game but on each occasion the beating was administered by a team which ranks near the top in state circles. Fitzgerald is the 1st opponent rated on an even par with the Chiefs.

Coach Vito Perrone's Spartans have also had their lumps in trouncings by Berkley and Garden City. Against Berkley, Fitzgerald was blanked while the Chiefs bowed 46-7. That should give the home club a slight edge if comparative scores mean anything.

Willson will go along with his regular starting lineup with the nucleus made up of Mel Nosenchuck, Willie Duncan, Dave Paynex, and Duke Reilyea.

Maturity Stakes Has 13 Entries Saturday

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Thirteen starters probably will face the barrier Saturday as Santa Anita holds its tenth running of the Maturity Stakes for a purse of $172,230.

The weather man indicates that rain is likely, and if so, it will be the third time in the last four years that the Maturity has been run in off going.

★ ★ ★

Racing Secretary Jimmy Kilroe says King Ranch's Beam Rider would move up in the mud. Beam Rider flew in last week from Winter quarters in Columbia, S. C. He worked a mile between races yesterday in 1:38 4-5, and Ralph Neves had him in restraint after the first quarter. He will go coupled with Better Weapon for King Ranch in the mile and one-quarter fixture.

Magnate, Golfer Will Be Honored

NEW YORK (AP) — Industrialist John Jay Hopkins and Clinton F. Russell, 61-year-old blind golfer from Duluth, Minn., will be honored tonight by metropolitan golf writers.

★ ★ ★

Hopkins will receive the Gold Tee for the contributions he made to the sport in organizing and furthering the International Golf blind champion, will receive the Ben Hogan Award, given yearly to a man who has continued the game after overcoming a handicap.

★ ★ ★

'Plump and 36' Maxim in Comeback

By BERT OKULEY

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (INS) — Joey Maxim, once formidable light heavyweight boxing champion, appears determined to prove Leo Durocher's famed assertion that nice guys finish last does make some sense.

For likeable Joey, now 36, and, to say the least, plump at 186 pounds, will once again step into the ring at Miami Beach tomorrow night against young Eddie Machen, 5th-ranked heavyweight contender.

What's more, in addition to throngs of local witnesses who will assemble at the Miami Beach auditorium, the bout is being beamed to a national television audience.

The 24-year-old Machen began his ring career in March, 1955, and has gone undefeated in 19 outings, scoring knockouts in 14 of the encounters. The Redding, Calif., battler has KO'd Nino Valdes and John Holman.

Maxim, on the other hand, first slipped through the ropes in 1941 and proceded to engage in 111 battles, winning 82, losing 24 and drawing four times. His list of KO victims numbers 21.

The once-proud Cleveland titleholder and his manager, Doc Kearns, are counting on "experience" in tomorrow's bout. "Just because a guy (Machen) comes along and wins 19 fights," Kearns declared, "Everybody thinks he's never going to lose."

Maxim and Kearns, apparently after a big money match, want a shot at young Floyd Patterson, primarily because Maxim was able to administer a defeat on the current heavyweight champ in 1954, when the latter was 18 years old.

★ ★ ★

Optimists Kearns and Maxim admit they'll have to get by Willie Pastrano—if they succeed against Machen—before getting a possible shot at Patterson. Oddsmakers are dubious and will give you 3½ to one that the ex-champ's "comeback" ends abruptly.

Birmingham Dog Favored

HERNANDO, Miss. (AP) — Quail hunt performances by two Michigan pointers yesterday made the dogs favorites in the National Amateur Shooting Championship.

Joining the favorites' circle were Mighty Little Willie, handled by Perry Gray of Hillsdale, Mich., and Cover King, handled by Norm Ellis of Birmingham, Mich.

Fifteen prize birddogs, most of them handled by their sportsmen owners, have yet to show—12 today and 3 tomorrow.

West Virginia Pair Duel for NAIA Honor

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Two West Virginians are locked in a duel for the NAIA individual basketball scoring leadership.

Ken Hammond, West Virginia Tech forward, barely held the lead after last week's games over center Joe Miller of Alderson-Broaddus at Philippi, W.Va. Miller averaged 33.2, trailing Hammond's 33.6, NAIA statisticians said today.

FBI Holds Man Who Posed as Pro Grid Star

MIAMI, Fla. (INS)— A 33-year-old man who allegedly posed as professional football star Lou (The Toe) Groza in several eastern cities was held in Miami today.

Charles E. Weeks, special agent in charge of the Miami office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said last night that federal officers had arrested Anthony Brown in Miami.

Seabiscuit Trainer Is Taken by Death

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — Death taken "Silent Tom" Smith, 78, who trained Seabiscuit, Kayak II, Mioland and other stars of the Charles S. Howard Stable for several years. He died in a sanitarium yesterday from the effects of a stroke he suffered several months ago.

Smith induced Howard to buy Seabiscuit at Pimlico. It was a fabulous investment at a low price and Smith developed the small, stocky bay horse into the winner of the 1940 Santa Anita Handicap and eventually to the all-time winning thoroughbred of his day.

Challedon, now famous as a sire, won the Pimlico Special twice and also won the Futurity and the Preakness over the Baltimore track.

IT'S THE NEW FORD RANCHERO

HAULS LIKE A TRUCK! No need to hold back on load. Pile it on—the Ranchero packs a greater payload than many standard pickups! Power aplenty, too—Short Stroke 144-hp Six or either of two Short Stroke V-8's, up to 212 hp. Fordomatic or Overdrive available at extra cost.

HANDLES LIKE A CAR! Ball-joint front suspension and outboard-mounted rear springs—first time on any pickup—give true passenger-car ride. Cab interior is exactly like that of the '57 Ford Ranch Wagon. Power steering, power brakes, power seat and power windows available at extra cost!

Looking at the boldly modern styling of the new Ford Ranchero, you may find it hard to believe that it's actually a man-sized truck, built to do a man-sized job. But it won't take you long to find there's a lot of heft behind the Ranchero's glamour.

It carries more than half a ton. That's more capacity than many standard pickup trucks offer you. The all-metal body floor is over six feet long. Loading height is less than any pickup. No matter how you look at it, the new Ford Ranchero is a real workhorse.

And it's a show pony, too! The Ranchero looks, rides and handles like a passenger car. Its low, crisp lines have a wonderful way of saying how progressive you and your company are.

The new Ford Ranchero is surprising in many ways, not the least of which is its low price. Never before has so much style and luxury been packed into so rugged a vehicle at such a low price. See the Ranchero at your Ford Dealer's now!

Capital Pitfalls Threat to Pages

Sen. Johnston Demands Dormitory, Supervisor for Messenger Boys

WASHINGTON (INS) — Congress, which has gone to great lengths to guard the morals of American youth, is being prodded to protect its page boys from the pitfalls of Washington.

The first thing to recognize, according to Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D) S.C., is that a rooming house is not a home.

If the 14 to 18 year old messenger boys are to be kept from becoming juvenile delinquents, he says, they need a dormitory to shelter them from temptation and a housemother to lay down the law.

Johnston introduced legislation to the effect yesterday, advising Senators that they and house members have a "duty and moral obligation" to give the $70-a-week pages a home of their own.

He said that in the private rooming houses where now live without adult supervision, some boys "are paying exorbitant rents and in many cases are exposed to the evils of a large city."

Capitol page school Principal Henry L. De Keyser told a newsman that he hasn't heard of any major shenanigans by the pages in the last couple of years, although some have run afoul of police in the past and, if the mischief was serious enough, lost their jobs.

There are 80 pages in De Keyser's school. Fifty work in the House, 24 in the Senate, four in the Supremem Court and two in the court's library. Each house picks its pages by a political patronage system similar to the way presidents appoint postmasters.

Dedicate Oslo Center for Industrial Research

OSLO — A large new Central Institute for Industrial Research was dedicated recently on the outskirts of Oslo by the Norwegian Council for Scientific and Industrial Research. At the same time the council marked its 10th anniversary.

One wing of the institute houses laboratories for physics, another for chemistry, and the third for administration.

Deterrent to War

VICTORIA, B. C. (AP)—Because of the fear of atomic war, world peace is almost assured, Dr. D. H. Copp of the University of British Columbia said in an address here. A member of the Canadian delegation to the Geneva Conference on Atomic Power last year, he said nuclear power should be brought completely under control of the United Nations or a similar body.

Volume was on the light side, and there was an absence of leadership by any key division.

The market was trying to follow through yesterday's rally, in which the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $1 to $176.70. The general market improvement followed President Eisenhower's optimistic economic report to Congress.

YOUNGSTOWN UP

Other gainers included United Aircraft, Douglas, Westinghouse, American Tobacco, American Cyanamid, Texas Co. and New York Central.

Superior Oil of California, highest priced stock on the "big board," tacked on 30 at 1,405 then fell back some. Another petroleum issue, El Paso Natural Gas, opened on a block of 6,300 shares up ¼ at 33⅝ and then fell back to hold about steady.

Off a shade were U. S. Gypsum, General Motors, General Electric, Phelps Dodge, and American Airlines.

Wheat Fades, Others Steady

CHICAGO (AP) — While wheat dropped around a cent at one time, the rest of the grain market held fairly steady on the Board of Trade today.

Selling in wheat followed reports of snow or rain over sections of the winter wheat belt, including Kansas, and the forecast of more to come during the day. Rye eased in sympathy with wheat.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅞ to 1⅛ lower; March $2.40½, corn unchanged to ¼ higher, March $1.35, oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, March 79⅛, rye unchanged to ¼ lower, March $1.48, and soybeans unchanged to ¾ higher, March $2.52¾, and lard 5 to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $15.40.

★ ★ ★

As a result of the moisture new crop wheat futures were soft from the start. Old crop wheat, only slightly lower at the opening, quickly extended its losses. Grainmen felt any improvement in 1957 crop prospects would cause selling of cash wheat now held in the country.

Square Dancing Classes Offered in Waterford Area

Adults living in the Waterford Township vicinity will have an opportunity to register for instructions in square dancing at 7:30 p. m. Monday at the Community Center on Williams Lake road.

"This class will be the second such dance program offered by the recreation department this winter. Public requests for a second session coupled with the huge success of the first session is the reason," according to Tom Belton, recreation director.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Allen, well known dance leaders in the area will give instruction. Fundamentals of square dancing will be stressed.

Registrations will be taken at the door, and residents may call the recreation department for further information.

Ponder Autopsy of City Resident

Find R. C. Breeding Lying in Back Yard of Yale Street Home

Although "presently, there is nothing to indicate foul play," officials were undecided today whether an autopsy would be held concerning the unusual death of a 29-year-old Pontiac man Wednesday, according to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

R. C. Breeding, 58 W. Yale, was pronounced dead about 4:15 p.m. Wednesday "due to exposure," by Deputy Coroner Leon F. Cobb. Breeding was found lying face up in the back yard of his home.

Thirteen-year-old John Lawson, 101 New York St., found the body on his way home from Lincoln Junior High School about 3:25.

According to Detective Thomas C. Mitchell, Pontiac Police, Breeding's wife had taken their two children and left Monday to go to Kentucky.

From cuts on Breeding's hands, police theorized he may have been trying to enter the locked house. Glass in one of the doors was broken.

Fight Over Marker in Upper Peninsula

LANSING (AP)—A lively competition between Upper Peninsula communities anxious for a state historic marker was reported today by the Michigan Historical Commission.

The Negaunee city council has asked the commission to reconsider location of a marker at Marquette to memorialize the Marquette—iron range, oldest in the Lake Superior district.

Ralph Sheehan, manager of the Greater Ishpeming chamber of Commerce, wrote saying either Ishpeming or Negaunee should be selected as the site for the marker, asserting both communities are closer than Marquette to the heart of the iron ore country.

Dr. Lewis Beeson, the commission executive secretary, said that markers on other subjects would be placed in the complaining communities—although perhaps not by this summer.

"We're going to try to get around to all of them," Beeson said, "but we have funds for only a limited number of sites this summer."

FBI Captures One of 10 Most Wanted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI today announced the capture of Alfred James White, one of the agency's "10 Most Wanted Men" at Memphis, Tenn.

In an announcement here, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said White, 53, "was not armed and was arrested without incident."

The fugitive had been living in a small Memphis hotel under an alias since last November, Hoover added.

White had been sought since June 7, 1954, for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for assault. It was on that date, the FBI said, that White escaped from police at West Hamlin, W. Va., after a gun battle that started when officers broke up an attempted burglary.

The FBI said White, a native of Mount Sterling, Ohio, has had previous convictions for larceny, automobile theft and robbery, and was listed as a parole violator.

Tear Gas Quells Jail Riot

LAREDO, Tex. (AP)—Five prisoners in the Webb County Jail rioted last night and it took some 20 police officers and eight firemen to quiet them.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Porfirio Flores said the prisoners started a demonstration when jailers took them their supper in a tank cell on the third floor.

Flores did not give a reason for the riot. He said the supper consisted of fried eggs, fried beans, coffee, cream and sugar.

He said the prisoners armed themselves with sharpened broom sticks which they jabbed at the jailers. Two of the prisoners slashed their legs with razor blades, he said.

When that failed, officers fired tear gas into the cells, Flores said that quelled the men.

Fishermen Have Malice Toward Bear Friends

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Kodiak bears like Alaskan salmon for lunch, so fishermen don't like bears. But a University of Michigan pathologist claims the bear is the best friend the fisherman has.

Professor Dow V. Baxter thinks the fishermen shouldn't chase the bears away. He says the bear's scavenging is a blessing in disguise to the fishermen.

The hungry bears, Baxter explains, don't care whether their fish are dead or alive. On the dead ones, a mold called saprolegnia collects and this causes infection among salmon eggs and prevents hatching.

Operation for Emcee

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ralph Edwards, emcee of the NBC-TV show This Is Your Life, enters Good Samaritan Hospital today for minor surgery. An associate said he will miss at least one of his weekly shows. Actor Ronald Reagan will substitute. Nature of the surgery was not disclosed.

The home of the extinct dodo bird is said by the National Geographic Society to be the island of Mauritius in the Indian Ocean. The island is British, but the natives speak a French dialect.

Jack Rabbits Save Crop —With Aid of Hunters

Fooling With Mail No Joke in England

NOTTINGHAM, Eng. (INS) — Brian Crossman and his friend Richard Tribe, both 19, stumbled over a mailbag on a station platform.

Nottingham magistrates put Crossman on probation for two years after the prosecuting attorney explained that "Even if a mailbag is moved one foot the penalty can still be 14 years imprisonment.

The daily average coffee consumption of persons over 10 years of age last winter was 2.68 cups, slightly higher than the 1955 rate, but 12.6 per cent more than in 1950.
