

Thursday, September 4, 2003

Engineering professors awarded grants

Professors Michael Polis and Zissimos Mourelatos of Oakland University's School of Engineering and Computer Science each won grants to continue their research.

Polis received $54,918 from MEDC and $9,538 from Autodesk Inc. for his project titled, "Economic Development Job Training - Autodesk-2." He also received a $3,259 award from MEDC and Altair Engineering Inc. for his project titled, "Economic Development Job Training - Altair Engineering Inc."

Professor Zissimos Mourelatos received a $25,000 award from General Motors Corporation for his project titled, "Optimal Design of an Automatic Transmission Park System for Engagement Speed Performance Considering Uncertainty."

Mourelatos also received a $23,000 award from General Motors Corporation for his project titled, "Optimization of an Engine Head Gasket Thermo - Structural Performance Considering Uncertainty."

SUMMARY

Professors Michael Polis and Zissimos Mourelatos of Oakland University's School of Engineering and Computer Science each won grants to continue their research.

Created by CareTech Administrator (webservices@caretechsolutions.com) on Thursday, September 4, 2003
Modified by CareTech Administrator (webservices@caretechsolutions.com) on Thursday, September 4, 2003
Article Start Date: Thursday, September 18, 2003