Judge Refuses to Quit in Little Rock Squabble

Racket Probers Call Hoffa's Chief Aide

DETROIT (AP)—Senate investigators today served a subpoena on Owen (Bert) Brennan, chief lieutenant of Teamsters Vice President James R. Hoffa, calling for Brennan's appearance before the Senate Labor Rockets Investigating Committee in Washington Tuesday.

SET TRIAL DATE

Brennan, president of Teamsters Local 337, is scheduled to appear in New York Monday with Hoffa when it is expected a date for their trial on a wiretapping charge will be set.

A federal grand jury indictment charges that the two, with Bernard Spindel of New York, allegedly conspired to tap a telephone in the Teamsters' Detroit headquarters.

Brennan has not appeared before the Senate Rackets Committee previously, but his name was mentioned frequently during Hoffa's recent appearance before the committee.

PROBE AFFAIRS

Robert Kennedy, counsel for the rackets committee, recently spent several days in Detroit with his aides probing affairs of the Teamsters' Union here.

★ ★ ★

A Detroit newspaper said subpoenas also had been served on several teamsters business agents in the Michigan area calling for their appearance before the committee Tuesday.

During Hoffa's recent appearance before the committee, the committee brought out that the Teamsters in Detroit loaned $50,000 to the Northville Downs trotting track where Brennan races his horses.

Hoffa testified he makes between $5,000 and $10,000 a year under a horse betting arrangement he has with Brennan.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, in Washington an attorney who stalled off Hoffa's attempt two years ago to swing a New York City Teamsters election sought today to block Hoffa's drive to become the union's national president.

The lawyer, Godfrey Schmidt, planned to seek an immediate restraining order in Federal District Court to block election of new officers at the Teamsters international convention opening Sept. 30 in Miami Beach, Fla.

On behalf of 13 union members from the New York City area, Schmidt filed suit yesterday contending that 80 per cent of the nearly 2,000 delegates to the convention were hand-picked to vote for Hoffa.

The way they were chosen, the suit alleged, violates the union's constitution.

Schmidt told a reporter he wants a court restraining order to delay the union election until new

STILL CONFIDENT — Teamsters' vice president, James R. Hoffa, in Miami Beach, Fla., repeats his claim that he will be elected president to succeed Dave Beck at the Teamsters Union Convention opening there Sept. 30. He was attending an executive committee session when he reiterated his confidence of victory.

Russia Blames U.S. for Hotbed in Middle East

Gromyko Lashes West for So-Called Attempts to Dominate Area

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union warned the U.N. today it cannot watch impassively while Western nations are turning the Middle East "into a permanent hotbed of military conflicts."

Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko declared the tense situation in that area bears closely on Russia's security.

He struck back vigorously at charges made by Secretary of State Dulles that the Kremlin was risking a Middle East conflict by sending arms to Arab countries.

The real cause of the trouble, he said, is Western attempts to dominate the area.

He declared the Soviet Union will press for world disarmament but, until agreement is reached, will "take all necessary steps to safeguard its security in close coordination with its allies."

Gromyko told the 82-nation General Assembly "The Soviet Union cannot place itself in the position of an impassive observer while the Near and Middle East — an area close to the frontiers of the Soviet Union, is being turned into a permanent hotbed of military conflicts."

He took copious notes yesterday while Secretary of State Dulles was leveling his charges against the U.S.S.R.

Dulles called on the United States to intervene in the Middle East, saying Soviet arms in Syria raised military dangers.

On disarmament, Dulles said U. S. nuclear tests will continue until Russia agrees to a disarmament plan that will prevent surprise attacks.

Informed sources said last night the British government is convinced Syria is so completely under Russian domination that it may be too late to save the Arab state.

More Than 1,000 Stricken by Flu at 2 Universities

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Doctors went on 24-hour duty in all 10 dormitories at the University of Colorado today and Dr. Lawrence Holden, chief physician, estimated 600 students were victims of the flu.

He said he wouldn't be surprised if several thousand students come down with at least mild attacks by next week. He said there is no confirmation it is Asian flu.

The symptoms are high temperatures, headaches, sore throats and, in some cases, acute bronchitis.

The campus population, including faculty, is estimated at 11,700.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Extra beds were set up in the corridors of Texas A&M Hospital today and Dr. Charles Lyons, hospital supervisor, estimated 450 Aggie students were down with the flu.

About 250 had been admitted to the hospital, and another 200 were ordered to bed in their dormitories.

Dr. Lyons said he doubts it is Asian flu.

Members of the football team got Asian flu shots two weeks ago, and none has been treated for the flu yet.

★ ★ ★

High schools canceled eight football games scheduled for today because of flu outbreaks. A dozen cities and towns reported hundreds of pupils absent from school.

About 500 students at Texas Christian University were flu victims.

Winter Comes to Utah

COOL BEAUTY — Marlene Thorkildsen, in Salt Lake City, hardly knew what to wear as Utah weather teetered between summer and fall, and finally ended up with a wintry blast of snow. So she slipped into a bathing suit and went romping in the snow in the Wasatch Mountains. Day temperatures of around 70 have been dropping to near freezing at night.

History-Making Lawsuit Starts; Faubus Absent

Davies Claims No Bias; Will Stay On Integration School Case

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) —Attorneys for Gov. Orval Faubus suddenly and dramatically walked out on the injunction hearing against the governor today after declaring they do not recognize the jurisdiction of the U. S. District Court.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—U. S. Dist. Judge Ronald N. Davies overruled a motion to disqualify himself today in the hearing for a preliminary injunction against Gov. Orval E. Faubus, and testimony began in the history-making lawsuit.

Faubus, who had asked the judge to step down because of alleged bias and prejudice was not in court as the proceeding began.

Davies said the Faubus motion was "not legally sufficient" and not timely.

These were the two principal arguments brought against the motion by government attorneys.

Donald C. MacGuineas, arguing against Faubus' motion, spoke for 18 minutes. Kay Matthews, one of the three attorneys representing the governor, spoke for seven minutes in response.

★ ★ ★

Matthews challenged the government's right to file a countermotion to strike down the claim that Davies was biased and prejudiced.

This cleared he way for the presentation of evidence.

Like Faubus, Arkansas Adjt. Gen. Sherman T. Clinger also was absent from the courtroom.

It was Clinger who, at Faubus' orders, deployed National Guardsmen around the high school to prevent Negroes from entering—a move the governor said was taken to prevent violence.

Clinger is a codefendant with Faubus in the injunction suit.

UNDER SUMMONS

The governor was under summons to appear in the case in which the government is seeking to enjoin him from further interference with integration at Little Rock Central High School.

It was the second consecutive day on which he declined to come into court.

Yesterday, he refused a federal court subpoena for another civil rights lawsuit.

Meanwhile, quiet prevailed at Little Rock Central High School

Libel Case Jury Reported Split

Learn Group Going Against Confidential by Vote of 9 to 3

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The jury considering libel and obscenity conspiracy charges against Confidential Magazine was reported today to be split 9 to 3 in favor of conviction.

However, it has not reached a verdict and there was no indication of when one would be decided.

The six men and six women jurors have been deliberating the case, which took six weeks to try, since Tuesday.

Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker told the jurors that they would be expected to continue deliberations over the weekend if they don't return a verdict today.

Co-defendants in the trial, Fred and Marjorie Meade, operators of Hollywood Research, Inc., an alleged scandal gathering organization for the magazines, waited out the decision in the now-lonely courtroom.

CAMP BY PHONES

Deputy District Attorney William L. Ritzi and defense attorney Arthur J. Crowley camped by their telephones, as did the nearly 100 reporters assigned to the trial.

Following their day's deliberation, the jurors are locked up in a downtown hotel.

They each have a single room and there is one main room used as sort of a recreation hall. A county sheriff bailiff and a woman deputy are assigned to the group at all times. They are not allowed to discuss the case even with each other except during actual deliberations. They are allowed one phone call a day under supervision of the bailiff.

AMC Switch Called 'Remarkable'

Auto Industry-Wide Bargaining Proposed

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers union says that George Romney's support of industry-wide bargaining is a "remarkable" reversal of position.

Romney, president of American Motors Corp., came out yesterday for industry-wide bargaining in the automobile field to fight what he called inflationary demands of organized labor.

Other companies expressed no immediate reaction to Romney's stand.

The AMC head, previously an opponent of such bargaining said in changing his position that an "excess concentration of union power" has led to inflation.

Commenting, Vice President Norman Matthews of the UAW said "Romney exhibits a reversal of position remarkable even in American industrial management for its suddenness and completeness."

Matthews, director of the union's AMC department, said that Romney last May rejected a union proposal for a joint labor-management committee on a shorter work week on grounds this would lead to industry-wide bargaining.

Always in the past the UAW and the auto companies have negotiated contracts independently, new contracts are to be negotiated next spring upon expiration of the present three-year pacts.

ROAD TO MONOPOLY

Romney, in a talk to the National Assn. of Life Underwriters, said he previously opposed industry-wide bargaining because it might "start us down the road of cartelization (monopoly) and the corporate state." However, he added that "there is no use talking about

Phone Workers Return to Jobs

New Agreement Ends Nationwide Strike; Lasted 4 Days

NEW YORK (AP)—The nationwide four-day strike of 23,800 telephone exchange equipment installers ended today with agreement on a new contract. A back-to-work movement began almost immediately.

★ ★ ★

The installers, employes of Western Electric Co., and who are members of the Communications Workers of America, were reported here to be streaming back to their tasks in the 44 states in which the strike was effective.

Long distance operators, who had been observing the picket lines of their striking fellow employes, also returned.

Negotiators for the company and the union settled on pay increases ranging from 6 to 12 cents an hour plus other benefits.

The 6-to-12 cent boost had been offered by Western Electric in recent negotiation sessions but had been rejected by the union until today.

Both sides expressed satisfaction with the settlement, reached after months of negotiations.

The AT&T has said it maintained normal long-distance service throughout the country despite the fact that many thousands of operators and other employes honored the CWA's picket lines.

Supervisory personnel handled a large part of the work load.

Most local telephone service was virtually unaffected because of automatic dialing equipment.

Cooler for Tonight, Warmer on Saturday

Cloudy and cooler is the weather outlook for this area tonight. The low will be near 55 degrees.

Tomorrow's forecast is mostly cloudy with scattered showers and thunderstorms and warmer. The mercury will climb to a high near 76.

Downtown Pontiac's lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 70. At 2 p.m. the temperature was 62.

Plans Called Inadequate

More Mental Care Beds Needed in City Hospital

Facilities planned to care for mental patients in the $4,000,000 Pontiac General Hospital wing are "totally inadequate," the Board of Trustees learned from Carl I. Flath, new hospital director last night.

Hearing the impromptu report from Flath, trustees called a meeting of the Building Committee to study possible changes in plans.

"During these crossroads of development and expansion," Flath said, "The limited facilities for such a big social problem would be severely criticized by history."

In a series of recent articles, The Press pointed out the lack of emergency facilities in Oakland County to care for mental patients.

BIG PROBLEM

Plans in the new addition at Pontiac General are for 10 rooms on three floors to be set aside for psychiatric treatment.

"This type of patient suffering from acute psychosis is becoming more and more of a care on the local level," said Flath

There is a possibility also that other plans in the addition might be altered when the committee meets Monday under the direction of Edward P. Barrett, chairman.

He asked last night that members be informed as to what changes have been made to date in the plans.

WHITTLED PLANS

In an attempt to cut down on expenditures due to the defeat of the May 20 bond issue, trustees have, with the advice of architect Leo J. Heenan, whittled away at plans.

Former board chairman William P. Babcock demanded the board get credit for providing 10 rooms in the new wing when Flath interjected his analysis of the provisions.

Flath suggested the hospital "find the total social and medical problem involved and find the way of meeting these demands.'

Babcock's statement followed his criticism of a newspaper article in which it was said Pontiac General was not proposing any room to care for the mentally ill.

Montana Blanketed by Heavy Snowfall

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Subfreezing temperatures gripped parts of the Rocky Mountain area today in the wake of one of the heaviest snowfalls in Helena's history.

★ ★ ★

Nearly 14 inches fell during a 24-hour period ended yesterday. A transient laborer was frozen to death as the blizzard snarled traffic and disrupted communications.

The body of Stephan Hat, about 50, Crawford, Neb., was found yesterday at Spokane, Wash., in an open railroad car that had crossed the Montana Rockies.

The U.S. Weather Bureau put out frost warnings as far south as Denver. Temperatures in many cities in Montana, Wyoming and Colorado were expected to dip into the 20s.

Ohio, Missouri Justice Systems Checked

Outside Study May Affect Courts

A recent study of new lower court systems in Ohio and Missouri may affect the proposed reorganization of Michigan's justice courts.

State Rep. Farrell E. Roberts (R-West Bloomfield Township) said the Ohio and Missouri systems have reduced the number of judges, replaced the often-criticized fee system and raised qualifications for office holders.

★ ★ ★

These reforms are the aim of a special legislative committee, which hopes to propose modernization of Michigan JP courts during the 1958 session in Lansing.

Roberts is a committee member. Roberts, committee chairman Sanborn (R-Mt. Clemens) and Waterford Township Justice Donald E. Adams, chairman of a special Michigan State Bar association sub-committee, this week visited legislators in Columbus and Jefferson City to get first-hand observation of the new system.

★ ★ ★

The Ohio system, Roberts said, goes into effect in January. It abolishes JP courts in favor of county courts, replacing the fee system with straight salaries.

JUSTICES REPLACED

In Missouri, justices have been replaced by magistrates, who in counties under 30,000 population are combined with the office of probate judge, Roberts said.

The committee, Roberts pointed out, has not only undertaken the difficult task of deciding how to change or replace the JP system. It also must study methods used in other states to push the reforms through, he said.

In order to make any change, the legislature must agree to a state-wide vote on a constitutional amendment. The committee is aiming for a November, 1958, vote, Roberts said.

Roberts agreed that Oakland County, which has more JPs than any other Michigan county, would be the most affected by any change.

Sanborn, who is planning to study proposed changes in Illinois, New York and New Jersey, said he hoped to call a full committee meeting sometime next month.

Flu Vaccine's Value Probed

Asian Serum Ordered, Says Physician, But Questions Its Effects

The value of the Asian flu vaccine "is still open to question," according to Dr. Arnold L. Brown, chief of staff at Pontiac General Hospital.

Dr. Brown's evaluation of immunization against the disease came after William P. Babcock, member of the hospital Board of Trustees, last night questioned what steps had been taken in Pontiac against the disease.

Assistant Director Warren W. Simonds told trustees 250 doses of the vaccine were on order.

★ ★ ★

The chief of staff warned against vaccinating key hospital and city personnel together because of the after affects of the shots. He said persons have been known to become ill from the vaccine.

The new hospital director, Carl I. Flath, said if the shots were given it should be on a volunteer basis.

German Auto Show Features Small Car

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Pint-size family cars boasting many features of futuristic American models were the top attraction at the 1957 German automobile show which opened today.

Among the products of some 628 automotive firms, the small four-seaters with engines in the 600 C.C. neighborhood were the top attraction.

★ ★ ★

What makes them even more desirable for car-conscious West Germans was the fact that most sell for roughly $1,000.

Germany's top selling car, the beetle-shaped Volkswagon, came out with few alterations — a bigger rear window, newly-styled dashboard and added luxury. Its price averages around $1,100.

There were, of course, the glittering chrome-packed American cars — street cruisers, as the Germans call them.

Is the hurricane season over? Why do these storms strike only in the east?

No, the hurricane season is not over. These storms often occur in October and even into November. By December they are usually a thing of the past.

Hurricanes strike the eastern United States, and occasionally the middle states via the Gulf, because they spawn over water. Their course is either north or northeast, though they sometimes move northwest out of the Gulf.

They seldom if ever strike the west coast of the United States and should they do so, the Rocky Mountains protect the western states, acting as a barrier which breaks up such storms as they move westward.

★ ★ ★

Thus, the western states are free from these tropical-bred maritime cyclones.

Special Plates Given Fast Car Buyers

LANSING (AP)—Starting next Friday, new car buyers will be able to drive away from dealer show rooms with temporary license plates affixed to their cars immediately after sale is completed.

The new plates, good for 10 days, were authorized by the 1957 Legislature to take care of car sales made in the evening or on Saturday afternoon when state license offices are closed.

The temporary plates, red and white, are made of heavy cardboard. They carry the words "Temporary Michigan Plate" and the letter "Y" followed by four digits. The plates also show in ink the day issued, the day they expire, the make of car and the vehicle's serial number. They are obtainable only through franchised automobile dealers.

Move by Faubus Countered by U.S.

where national guardsmen have been stationed on Faubus' orders to prevent entry of nine Negro students. The militia force today totaled 15 men.

★ ★ ★

The North Dakota jurist, a five-foot, one-inch specimen of legal tenacity, is expected to see the impending injunction suit through. Faubus then may carry his complaint of partiality to a higher court, when and if he appeals the government's action.

The governor has three attorneys representing him but probably will boycott the hearing personally.

Legal experts expect the Justice Depariment to lay down a barrage of evidence and win a temporary injunction directing the 47-year-old Arkansas Democrat and his National Guard units to stop blocking integration at Little Rock's Central High School. The decision could come today, tomorrow or early next week.

WITHDRAW GUARD

Only a last-minute compromise involving some surrender by Faubus is now likely to head off an ultimate constitutional test of whether the government in Washington has authority to prevent a governor from defying the federal courts.

★ ★ ★

Faubus, it was widely predicted in tension - strained Little Rock, will withdraw the National Guard or modify its orders once he is enjoined. This could throw the burden of protection for 10 Negro students authorized to enter Central High onto city police.

Some segregationists have forecast trouble at the school if the Guard is withdrawn. But there is a feeling in the "liberal" southern capital that Little Rock is fed up with its integration crisis and wants to see it settled.

President Eisenhower's impatience with the governor's delay in withdrawing the militia also was reflected in this White House statement from Newport, R. I.

"The President is deeply disappointed that voluntary means have not been found to comply with the court's order."

NO COMMENT

The governor had no comment on this. Seeking a haircut, he left his militia-guarded mansion last night for the first time since he returned from seeing Eisenhower last Saturday.

Through two fantastic weeks, Faubus has been sleeping soundly, eating regularly, chatting by telephone with his son in college, perusing his mail, and relaxing in books about his favorite character, Abraham Lincoln.

In short, they say at the governor's mansion, "he's going along just about as he always did before this thing came up."

ORDERED INTEGRATION

Judge Davies, as early as Aug. 30, ordered integration of Central High to proceed as planned by the Little Rock School Board. At that time he enjoined "all persons" from interfering with such integration.

TELLS OF DEFENSE CUTS — Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson tells newsmen of an additional cut of 100,000 men from the armed forces. The new cuts will oblige the Air Force to drop four wings, the Army to deactivate one division and the Navy to lay up more ships, Wilson said. In addition 35,000 to 40,000 civilian employes probably will be dropped.

Orders Further Manpower Cuts

Wilson Claims U.S. Gains in Relative Arms Strength

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Wilson says he believes "we have gained on the Russians in relative military strength since 1953," despite manpower cuts and other Pentagon economy moves.

Claiming gains from better weapons, including missiles, Wilson hinted at still further manpower cutbacks as he discussed at a news conference a 100,000-man force reduction ordered yesterday. That cut, to be effective by next June 30, will reduce the nation's military strength to 2,600,000 men.

★ ★ ★

He called it a fair assumption still further cuts may be made in connection with the next fiscal budget which goes to Congress in January.

★ ★ ★

The 100,000-man cut, Wilson said means the Air Force will have to drop at least four wings, the Army will have to deactivate one more division, and the Navy will have to take more ships out of active service.

The secretary said this can be done "without impairment of our national security" and without materially affecting deployment of troops overseas.

This cut and an earlier 100,000-man reduction ordered in July are calculated to reduce military spending by about a billion dollars. The Pentagon is trying to keep its outlays within 38 billion dollars this year.

Wilson also disclosed plans to pare the Defense Department's civilian payroll by 35,000 to 40,000 workers. This would be in addition to a 53-000-worker reduction announced earlier. There was no estimate of the saving from this move.

The defense chief said the manpower cutbacks were approved by President Eisenhower.

★ ★ ★

At the same news conference, Wilson discounted the importance of a Russian claim last month that Soviet weaponeers had made a successful test of an intercontinental ballistic missile.

★ ★ ★

Wilson said that what the Russian report said "is probably actually true." But he contended the Soviets made only a general statement that they had developed a missile, that it had performed as it was intended to do, and that the test results indicated such projectiles could be directed toward any part of the world.

The secretary added that "the United States could have said the same thing months ago."

★ ★ ★

Wilson said that in his opinion the Russians don't have an operational missile. But he said they will have one someday — "and so will we."

★ ★ ★

Later, William M. Holaday, Wilson's special assistant on long-range weapons development, said in a speech to a scientific meeting that the United States "has sent a test ballistic missile thousands of miles."

A defense official said Holaday referred to a successful launching last November of a modified Army Jupiter, an intermediate range missile designed to travel 1,500 miles. On this test, the Jupiter went 3,000 miles.

In explaining the reasons behind the new manpower trimming, Wilson said, "We are so close to the debt limit that the Treasury can't even borrow the money." The legal ceiling on the national debt is 275 billion dollars.

The 2,600,000-man force now scheduled for next June 30 would compare with American troop strength of 1,460,000 when the Korean War broke out in June 1950. It would be about a million below the peak during that conflict.

★ ★ ★

Under the two manpower cut orders, the Army was assessed 100,000 men, the Air Force 50,000, the Navy 30,000 and the Marines 20,000. When the reductions are finished, the Army will have 900,000 men, the Air Force 875,000, the Navy 645,000 and the Marines 180,000.

★ ★ ★

Military officials said they expect to absorb most of the initial 100,000-man cut by early discharge of reserve officers now on extended active duty, and by eliminating the less competent enlisted men. This same course probably will be followed in carrying out the second reduction of 100,000 men.

Report 100,000 With Asian Flu

Half of Cases Found in Two Southern States Opening Schools Early

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Public Health Service said today Asian flu has hit an estimated 100,000 Americans since June, almost half of them in Mississippi and Louisiana where some public schools traditionally open early.

★ ★ ★

The service said the number of cases jumped this week by about 35,000 — largest single increase since weekly nation-wide reports began.

★ ★ ★

The service still refrained from describing Asian flu as being in the "epidemic" stage, declaring it is "too early to tell" because the disease is "still regional, sporadic and local in nature."

Assistant Surgeon General William H. Stewart said the "next few weeks will tell" whether the Asian Flu will die out or flare up into epidemic proportions, striking as many as one in every five Americans.

He added the expert opinion is that an epidemic is "highly probable."

The government agency said from 20,000 to 25,000 cases have been reported from Mississippi, with another 15,000 to 20,000 in Louisiana.

Believed Air Force Thor

Fire Cigar-Like Missile

MISSILE TEST CENTER, Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—A big, gleaming, cigar-shaped missile, believed to be the Air Force Thor, was blasted into the sky from the missile test center at 9:45 a.m. today.

★ ★ ★

The missile rose straight up for perhaps 15 to 20 miles, then curved to the eastward and kept climbing on an arc.

Rising with a flaming tail, the missile discharged white smoke at high altitude like a skywriting plane. Then as it turned on a more curving course, it left a streak of gray.

It sounded in the air like a squadron of bombers. It was perhaps half a minute after it left the launching pad before the sound could be heard.

★ ★ ★

The sky was crystal clear and the missile could be seen for at least two minutes after it left the ground.

If it was the Thor, it was the fourth and only successful launching of this missile to date.

Chief to Return Film Projector

Straley Won't Appeal $165 Judgement Signed by Municipal Judge

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley will return a disputed movie projector rather than appeal a judgment for $165 signed by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

The judgment was issued early this week in favor of Kenneth M. Young, 197 Chippewa Rd., after the chief failed to hand over the projector on a writ of replevin issued by the judge.

★ ★ ★

The writ was served on Inspector Clark Wheaton who said that it disappeared from his desk before he remembered to notify the city's legal department.

The projector was seized in a police raid June 28 and Young was convicted of showing obscene films at his home.

At first, the chief indicated that he did not have to return an item taken in a raid and used for illegal purposes.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday, however, City Attorney William Ewart said the chief, who faced a garnishment of his wages, had decided to return the property rather than appeal to circuit court.

★ ★ ★

delegates can be chosen democratically.

And in Miami Beach, two men in the drivers' seat left no doubt today of the Teamsters Union's course, regardless of whether the crusading AFL-CIO makes the road a rocky one.

Dave Beck, retiring Teamsters president, and Hoffa both said they hoped the union could retain AFL-CIO affiliation but not at the expense of sovereignty.

Hoffa fired a double blast at AFL-CIO opposition to his candidacy and threats to disown the Teamsters Union.

"It's up to the delegates to this convention to decide who they want for general president of the Teamsters Union, and no one else has anything to say about it," Hoffa said.

The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee has attacked both Hoffa and Beck in its anticorruption drive.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa said he expects to be elected union president despite the committee's objections.

Jobless Retraining Project Under Way

LANSING (AP) — A program designed to find jobs for one-time employes of the defunct Kaiser-Frazer Corp. gets under way today with the signing of an agreement in the office of Gov. Williams.

The pact between the state and the Kaiser-Frazer social security fund provides $115,000 for retraining of physically handicapped workers unable to find jobs since the auto firm shut down four years ago. The fund will provide $50,000 and the federal government another $65,000.

Moore Is Overweight But Will Lose ¼ Pound

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lightheavyweight champion Archie Moore was one-quarter of a pound over the 175-pound limit at today's 10 a.m. weigh-in for his title bout tonight with Tony Anthony. The challenger came in easily under the limit at 172.

Archie left the Olympic Auditorium ring to attempt to work off the excess ounces. He was expected back within an hour to weigh in again before the California Athletic Commission.

The champion was expected to make the required weight for the 7 p.m. nationally televised 15-rounder.

Therapeutic Swimming to Start Again on Oct. 2

BIRMINGHAM — Therapeutic swimming will open again on Oct. 2. Handicapped persons residing in the Birmingham school district will have the use of the Barnum School pool from 7 to 8 p.m. Wednesdays. The only requirement is that a doctor's certificate be filed with the Recreation Board at the City Hall.

★ ★ ★

Other recreation activities will include a swimming program for school children. Registration will begin Sept. 23 at the Recreation Department. Swimming activities will get under way on Oct. 5.

★ ★ ★

Recreation Director Robert Girardin said registration for the Barnum, Derby and High School pools would be on a first-come first-served basis.

"Those who are particularly interested in swimming should register early," Girardin said.

★ ★ ★

He added that no registration is necessary for those desiring to use the new archery range at Eton Park.

In conclusion, Girardin reminded senior men in Birmingham that all who are past 65 years are invited to meet with their group at the Community House Tuesdays and Fridays.

F. E. McCleary is supervising the activities of the outdoor shuffleboard court. Bridge, cribbage and other card games continue to occupy a prominent part in the senior men's program.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Donald Parry, 836 Mohegan St., has been named to the Birmingham Board of Education. The mother of four, Mrs. Parry will fill out the remaining three years of the term of Mrs. Elaine H. Parnie. Mrs. Parnie and her family are moving to California.

MRS. LYDIA K. BOURBONNAIS

Service for Mrs. Lydia K. Bourbonnais, of 244 W. Brown St., will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., with the Rev. Robert Dewey of First Congregational Church officiating. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Saginaw.

A native of Saginaw and a resident of the Birmingham area for the past 50 years, Mrs. Bourbonnais died yesterday at the Alexander Nursing Home in Royal Oak, after a prolonged illness.

She was a member of the North Congregational Church of Detroit and a charter member of the Northwestern Women's Club of Detroit.

Her only survivor is a son, Dr. Wilfrid A. Bourbonnais of Birmingham.

Auto Industry-Wide Bargaining Proposed

principle or being abstract when a house is burning down."

Matthews said that Romney now proposes a "method of bargaining which, had it been in effect in 1955, would not have permitted the relief which was then so eagerly sought by the corporation."

The present auto industry contracts were negotiated in 1955. In that year AMC charge the UAW with unfairly trying to force the same concessions it got from the larger auto companies. The UAW denied this.

★ ★ ★

"In its earlier days," Matthews said, "the UAW sought industry-wide bargaining . . . Among those rejecting the proposal were the two companies which later merged into American Motors (Nash-Kelvinator and Hudson)."

Matthews said the UAW later revised its position to favor separate negotiations as "more beneficial to UAW members, more practical for the companies, and in the best interest of the consumers."

St. Charles Youth Dies in Accident

SAGINAW (AP) — Gerald Mendyk, 17, of St. Charles, was injured fatally last night when his car plowed into a culvert on a rural road about 25 miles southwest of Saginaw. The youth was alone.

Mendyk's death brought Saginaw County's 1957 traffic death toll to 43, compared to 42 for all of 1956.

Gerald was a first cousin of Dennis Mendyk, leading yard-gainer for the Michigan State football team last year, now playing pro football with the New York Giants.

Let Army Handle Seaway-Potter

Senator Fears Railroad Interests; Urges Ike Not to Shift Authority

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich) said he has heard on reliable authority that President Eisenhower plans to transfer jurisdiction over the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. from the Army to the Commerce Department.

He urged Eisenhower not to do it. Potter said in a letter to the President that he believes railroad interests are behind the proposal, which he described as the latest development in a continuing effort to strangle the seaway.

★ ★ ★

The Seaway Development Corp. is the agency created by Congress to administer the U. S. portion of the 27-foot-deep international seaway linking the Great Lakes with the Atlantic Ocean.

Potter said transfer of the corporation to the Commerce Department would be unwise and sure to work a hardship on Michigan and the entire Middle West.

"The railroads, especially the Eastern roads, traditionally have fought the new water route," he wrote Eisenhower. ". . . the New York Central, Pennsylvania, and Baltimore and Ohio railroads led the destructive effort."

Since passage of the act, Potter continued, enemies of the seaway "have pressured the Interstate Commerce Commission to set discriminatory freight storage charges at lake ports which might benefit from seaway traffic.

"I urge that any move to alter the status of the seaway corporation be brought under public scrutiny and the scrutiny of Congress," Potter wrote.

Court OKs Distribution of Dixie Crosby's Estate

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Distribution of the estate of Bing Crosby's wife has been approved by Superior Court.

★ ★ ★

The executor presented figures yesterday showing that the estate, after taxes, included $614,934 in cash and interest in a $125,000 home in North Hollywood and a $100,000 home at Pebble Beach, Calif.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Dixie Lee Crosby, who died Nov. 1, 1952, left the interest in the homes to Bing and established two trust funds for relatives, one for the Crosbys' four sons, Gary, 24, twins Phillip and Dennis, 23, and Lindsay, 19.

Hal Boyle Says:

Needn't Be Mental Giant for Business Top

NEW YORK (AP)—You may need a lofty intelligence to get rich on a television quiz show, but you don't have to be a mental giant to succeed in business.

Sweat and boldness are the payoff qualities there. So says Erich Hirschfeld, a onetime immigrant who at 43 has become head of the world's largest camera store.

★ ★ ★

"Business is the most exciting thing in the world," said Hirschfeld, "and to succeed in it you should live it every hour you're awake. Intelligence is not so important as endless hard work—and daring.

"You must always be on the search for new ideas and be willing to try them when you find them. A man who feels his job is dull or routine is already stalemated.

"You must take action then—even if the action turns out to be a mistake. At least by the mistake you have learned something. You must always be willing to take a chance. You must always be daring to keep life exciting."

Hirschfeld is in a position to know. A short, dark, smiling man with a Napoleonic self-confidence and the effervescent temperament of an operatic tenor, he has never let his own life become commonplace.

In 1938 he bade farewell to Nazi Germany and landed here virtually penniless.

"I knew so little English I couldn't even buy a stamp," recalled Hirschfeld, whose accent now would baffle a philologist, since it is a heady mixture of German, English, Spanish and Portuguese.

Erich went to work for a new tire firm and in a few years his ceaseless industry won him a partnership. Looking around for new worlds to conquer, he decided to export cameras to South America. He went to the late Charles G. Willoughby, an Ohio farm boy who had become the tycoon of "camera row" here, and placed a $30,000 order.

★ ★ ★

Impressed by his daring, Willoughby invited Hirschfeld into his own firm to head its export division. Erich soon worked it up to a multimillion-dollar annual volume. Two months ago he was elected president of Willoughby's.

Its clientele ranges from teenage kids to Emperor Haile Selassie.

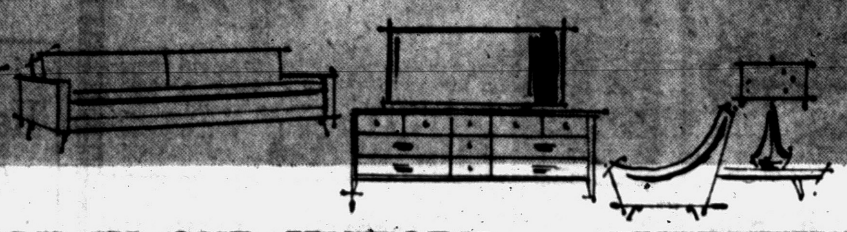

But to get back to his success recipe:

"There is a magic in belief, and most people miss success because in their hearts they don't believe the effort to achieve it is worthwhile to them. They don't find hard work exciting, and they don't like taking chances."

Right Solution Now Brings Winner $200

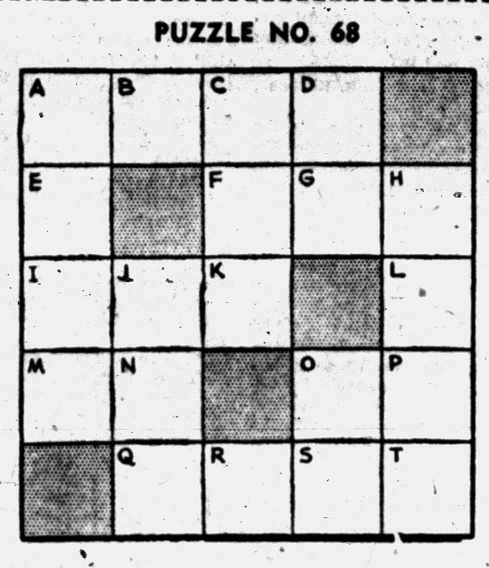

Winners may have emptied the pot, but already it's back at the $200 mark. Surely it's worth a few minutes of time and fun for a try at removing the cash from Pot-O-Gold again.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

Say Cyanide Dangers Past

Bulldozers and Trucks Used to Scrape, Haul; Area Neutralized

THAMESVILLE, Ont. (AP) —The 1,100 residents of this southern Ontario town heaved a collective sigh of relief today. Workers had removed 25,000 pounds of deadly cyanide dumped in the streets by a truck-train collision.

Chemical experts said all dangers from the poisonous dust and pellets was past.

★ ★ ★

Workmen using bulldozers and trucks scraped up the spilled cyanide yesterday and hauled it to a disposal ditch two miles from town. From there it will be transferred to a plant at Niagara Falls, N.Y.

A load of 10,000 pounds of sodium hyperchloride was spread at the crash scene in the center of Thamesville to neutralize any dangerous cyanide properties remaining.

★ ★ ★

The cyanide — 55 drums of copper cyanide dust and 155 drums of sodium cyanide in egg-sized pellets — was aboard a truck that was chopped in two by a Canadian National Railways passenger train shortly before midnight Wednesday.

The dangerous cargo spewed out along more than 300 feet of road and right-of-way. Cyanide dust piled up two to three feet high in some spots.

North and South Dakota separated in 1889, each becoming a state.

A Common Market for South America

The most important development to come out of the Buenos Aires Inter-American economic conference was the decision to establish a Latin-American common market.

This would be patterned after the European Common Market (ECM) and has been under study for a year. Latin America fears, and with good reason, that the six nation ECM would be inclined to direct more trade to colonies and Allies in Africa and less to the southern hemisphere.

★ ★ ★

Last year, reversing a trend, the United States bought more goods from Latin America than it sold there. The Export-Import Bank loaned those nations a record $396 million in 1956. Over 300 North American firms had invested $600 million in Latin America before realizing $55 million in profits, says a Commerce Department report.

Of the 20 South American Countries, each with its tariff wall, six are mentioned as taking the lead in the common market idea. They are Argentina, Brazil, Bolivia, Chile, Paraguay and Uruguay and together they would have a consumer market of 95 million.

★ ★ ★

The U.N.'s Economic Commission for Latin America has been doing good work. The big need is for more rapid industrialization and with it increased consumer buying. The Economic Declaration of Buenos Aires is a long step in the right direction but it is going to take a lot of planning, hard work and capital.

Thailand's Army Coup Setback for Democracy

Since the end of World War II Thailand has been a stronghold of the West in Southeast Asia.

★ ★ ★

News that strongly pro-Western Prime Minister Pibulsonggram had been deposed by an army group came as a shock. Field Marshal Sarit Thanarat, leader of the army officers who staged the uprising is friendly to Communist China and is the owner of the anti-American newspaper Sarn Seri which opposes SEATO.

★ ★ ★

Thailand's first postwar premier, PRIDI PHANOYONG, ousted by PIBULSONGGRAM in 1947 and at present in Communist China, is reported planning a comeback. PIBULSONGGRAM, SARIT and General PHAO, chief of police made up the three man power block which governed Thailand's 20 million people for the past ten years.

The present situation was brought about by a dispute among these three which broke out on August 21. The country is now under martial law and SARIT claims to have been appointed "custodian of Bangkok for military affairs" by King PHUMIPHON.

★ ★ ★

Sarit says that Thailand will continue to receive U. S. military aid in accordance with previous agreements but there may be some question about that. In the last few years the U. S. has supplied $100 million in economic aid and $300 million in military aid to that country.

Neutralism and nationalism are strong talking points in Asia and it can be hoped that this uprising does not mean that Thailand will be the next to go behind the Bamboo Curtain.

One Fell Swoop

David Lawrence Says:

'Liberals' Squelch U.S. Freedoms

WASHINGTON — "Book Burning," interference with free speech, censorship of radio and television so that American history and old folksongs are inaccurately presented to the people—all this goes on in freedom-loving America nowadays without much protest from the so-called "liberals" or their "civil liberties" organizations.

LAWRENCE

Strange inconsistencies emerge. Thus, Senators Humphrey of Minnesota and Douglas of Illinois, Democrats, have joined in suggesting that President Eisenhower should "personally take those colored children by the hand and lead them into school" at Little Rock, Ark.

LEAD WORKERS

But did any of the so-called "liberals" ever suggest or would they venture to recommend that the President of the United States take workingmen by he hand and lead them into plants and factories where their right to work—a basic constitutional right—is denied them?

Nor has the governor of any state come forth with such a solution for the problem created when labor unionism does what Congress is forbidden to do—abridge the freedom of the press under the color of law.

"Collective bargaining" rights and picketing powers are, of course, derived from Federal law. Yet none of the so-called "liberals" has risen to protest the closing down of newspaper plants in many cities through the establishing of picket lines which labor unions that are not themselves parties to the dispute refuse to cross.

ACTION CORRECTED

This is a concerted action that deprives many thousands of workers of their opportunity and right to work and just as effectually denies freedom of the press as if Congress had ordered it.

The California Federation of Labor is so stirred up over the Little Rock situation that it has just urged impeachment of President Eisenhower for not taking forceful action of some kind to get the colored children into the high school in Little Rock. But that same organization would hardly favor any forceful measures to enable honest, law-abiding white or colored workingmen to enter a plant when there's a strike.

For many years now, the unions have denounced any use of the National Guard to protect citizens in labor disputes. Yet today there are calls for the government here to "federalize" the National Guard and use such troops to "enforce" desegregation.

★ ★ ★

The hysteria has gone so far that demands have been made for the use of Federal Bureau of Investigation agents as U.S. marshals to escort the colored children into schools in Arkansas. Director J. Edgar Hoover deplores any such suggestion, and the "Wall Street Journal" implies in an editorial that the pressure for such a move came from the extremists inside the department of justice.

Worst of all is the sudden infringement of free speech and freedom of assembly, which heretofore have been widely championed as guarantees written in the First Amendment to the Constitution.

A Federal court order issued in Nashville, Tenn., last week—duplicating ones previously issued at Hoxie, Ark., and Clinton, Tenn.—forbids not only a "boycott" of the public schools but any picketing in the vicinity under penalty of jail without jury trial. This intimidates parents who fear they cannot get together even to discuss with others the sending of their children to private schools.

★ ★ ★

Yet, if these citizens were to assemble to espouse the philosophy of communism or even advocate doctrines that favor the overthrow of the government by force, they would be immunized from prosecution according to recent decisions of the Supreme Court. That's "the law of the land" today. And such are the hypocrisies of the times.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Have the gates of death been opened unto thee? or hast thou seen the doors of the shadow of death?—Job 38:17.

★ ★ ★

The character wherewith we sink into the grave at death is the very character wherewith we shall reappear at the resurrection. — Thomas Chalmers.

Dr. Brady Says:

New Methods Ease Pain of Mending Broken Hip

A break or fracture of the neck of the femur (thigh bone) is commonly called broken hip. Most frequently it happens to elderly persons and usually from comparatively slight injury.

DR. BRADY

Years ago, when an elderly person suffered a fracture of the hip, the poor soul was doomed to many weeks of suffering and was likely to succumb to sheer exhaustion.

That was the prospect when the crude treatment, then standard, was applied — what was known as Buck's extension.

The patient was strapped in a splint reaching from armpit to ankle, with sandbag or other weight (perhaps 10 or 12 pounds) constantly pulling on the leg. This, theoretically, kept the fragments properly aligned.

Actually it was impossible to keep the fragments aligned unless the victim remained in a fixed position for, say, 8 or 10 weeks. Therefore every little movement of the victim, such as necessary nursing care, cleanliness, change of linen required, not only altered the position of the fragments but added to the suffering of the victim.

MANY NEW METHODS

So it is no wonder that in the past 25 years various new methods of treating fractured thigh or hip have been introduced, nearly all of them purporting to keep the fragments in place ("reduced") without subjecting the victim to prolonged confinement in bed.

These methods vary from a plaster of paris cast applied from armpit level to instep; to an immediate operation; to nail, screw or other device to hold the fragments together.

The chief advantage of these new methods is that they enable the patient to get out of bed and perhaps move about, with some help, within a week. This is a tremendous boon.

Race Integration Dispute Brings Varied Comments

All this trouble in the South is giving the United States a bad press around the world. Those that are critical of the U. S. are leaping on this golden opportunity and making it appear that we're the snobs of snobs and don't like anyone except white U. S. citizens.

Laury

If there's one thing the news is carrying now, it's integration. I personally don't think there's anything wrong with Negroes. As I start high school, there are Negroes all around me, but they don't bother me a bit. I just think that if I am friendly with them, they'll be friendly with me. They're just like us (human) only they're a different color. We're a different color from them, too.

They used to be slaves for Southern people many years ago, and I still hear of some being held in other countries, so why can't we at least give them some freedom and dignity by, for instance, letting them go to the same schools and churches with everyone else. Why are some people against giving them freedom and letting them associate with us?

B. Kitchen

Should the GOP give up the fight? Since when have the Negroes asked the GOP to fight their battles? How small can a person get to use the mess in Little Rock to blast the whole Democratic Party?

Eleanor Roosevelt has done more for the Negro than any one person since Lincoln. In The Press Sept. 9 "Harry Truman Lauds Federal Judge Davis." The Democratic party in Michigan (three cheers for Soapy) has done more for Negroes than it has for Southern whites. But that's all right. No one's crying. Let them keep it up so we can all be happy Americans, black or white. Yes, I think most intelligent Negroes will keep right on voting Democratic.

Milt King

247 W. Cornell

David Lawrence is unique among journalists in that he intimates there might conceivably be another side to the integration issue. He also shows keen insight by calling attention to the very real peril resident in the usurping of more and more power by the Federal government. Even the eminent sociologist, Earl Warren, must know what the result would be if the present problems were resolved by a referendum. But a referendum would interfere with rule by bureaucracy.

R. F. Dohner

36 S. Tasmania

Clyde E. Peters overlooks the fact that Negroes are people, too, and United States citizens to boot. What about their vote, Mr. Peters? I might add that the larger per cent are fine, Christian citizens at that.

G. Kuklaw

Clarkston

I enjoy reading your fine newspaper, but I'd like to know why one day last week you used nearly the entire paper telling how rotten us Southerners in Nashville are and only had room for about two lines to tell about the Negro who raped the white grandmother in the same city?

Frank A. Nance

79 Montcalm

What's going on in the world today? It's about time someone did something about the situation in the South, and even in the North. White people must realize Negroes are going to school with them even if they don't like it. What makes me mad is that white people don't make a fuss over who fights in a war. They're side by side and they die together. How are we expected to keep peace with the world if we can't keep peace among ourselves? I feel sorry for all white people who have any part in the cause of this problem, because God doesn't like ugliness.

Brenda Austin

39 Clovese St.

Some of my Negro friends tell me the reason they don't vote GOP is that they don't like soup lines. Another reason is that we can vote for our choice, even if we are Negroes.

C. Carter

363 Irwin

I would like to enlighten Mrs. A. Stephens on a few things. I was born in Louisiana and lived there many years until my employment brought me to Michigan. Many years ago white and colored leaders of the South met and agreed it was up to the white and black men of the South to solve their own problems, that therein lay their salvation. Today their trouble is caused from outside interference, particularly from the North.

The colored man is needed in the South. If you took him away, it would upset the economy so bad they'd never recover. You speak of the poor, ignorant slave as though the present colored citizen of the South is ignorant. Mississippi alone has sent more educated colored people out into the world than any other state of the Union.

If it were so bad, they would all leave. They are free. As for intermarriage, that's up to the individual. Just because a man's skin is black doesn't mean his heart is black also. I admit the colored man has fought a tough battle against many odds. But I still say it's up to white and colored leaders of the South to settle their own problems and if left alone, they'll do it. This newspaper hassle has set progress back many years.

I honestly believe you have more segregation in Michigan than we have in Louisiana. I've never seen a sign in Louisiana saying "We reserve the right to refuse service to anyone."

Patrick Thomas

8300 Pontiac Lake Rd.

Since it's pretty obvious that this integration thing will go through whether the Southerners like it or not, I'm wondering how many will look back and think what idiots they made of themselves standing in the streets screaming dirty names at Negroes.

Blood Pressure Related to Weight

My Aunt's blood pressure dropped 65 points when she reduced 52 pounds in weight. And she didn't use any drugs to do so! If you wish to have more pep and also increase your feminine allure, then lose 10 pounds in 10 days by the simple method outlined below. It's a good way to lower high blood pressure, too.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-395: Ruby M., aged 55, was an aunt of mine who weighed 212 pounds and had a blood pressure of 200.

DR. CRANE

She was a very energetic, efficient personality. One day, while driving her car in Chicago, she got a little excited.

A motorist behind her increased her tension by tooting his horn angrily.

And that extra prodding to her already high blood pressure may have been the straw that broke the camel's back.

Anyway, she suffered a stroke of apoplexy. Before she slumped over the steering wheel in complete unconsciousness, she managed to pull to the curb.

A police car arrived and she was able to give them my name, so they called me at once. When I checked her blood pressure after we put her to bed it was 220, but may have been 250 at the moment of the stroke.

Well, she finally recovered enough to get around on her own feet and even go on shopping trips to the Chicago Loop.

★ ★ ★

But she never drove her automobile again. Meanwhile, I dieted her down to 160 pounds. Her blood pressure then was only 155.

That meant her blood pressure dropped 65 points while her weight was reduced by 52 pounds.

No drugs were used to explain this loss, so the simple expedient of shedding 52 pounds was the chief factor in this marked reduction in her blood pressure.

LOWER YOUR BLOOD PRESSURE

Not all high blood pressure is due to fat. Some people are as skinny as the proverbial bean pole, yet have blood pressures of 250.

But if such a skinny bean pole were then to add 50 pounds in weight, he would probably zoom his blood pressure an additional 25 points.

For obesity alone will zoom your blood pressure just for mechanical reasons alone.

And here's the scientific explanation, based on engineering facts. Each additional five pounds of surplus fat demand that our bodies sprout an extra three miles of blood vessels.

★ ★ ★

If you are now 25 pounds heavier than on your wedding day, your heart must pump blood through 15 more miles of "pipes."

And your heart must do that with every beat — 72 or more times per minute;

Obviously, it requires more pressure from your heart to keep blood flowing in those extra pipe lines.

Go on a diet, therefore, and you not only add more allure to your figure, but will reduce your blood pressure somewhat.

LOSE 10 LBS. IN 10 DAYS

Besides, every pound of fat that melts away from your "equator" will save you at least $2.50 in groceries.

Since slender people are much less liable to cancer and diabetes, heart attacks and apoplexy, plus many other ailments, you will thus gain in vigor and longer life.

Indeed, we benefit in so many ways that we should all try to keep slim. And if you wives are approaching 40, it will certainly be a tonic to your morale to lose 10 pounds in 10 days by my sensible, drugless dehydration plan.

To do so, women should stay on 800 calories of food per day, and men on 1,200. Include at least 400 calories worth of protein foods so you don't shrink your muscles and grow weak.

★ ★ ★

But, to kill your appetite, limit your fluid intake, unless you are doing vigorous physical work where you perspire greatly.

Limit yourself to one full glass (8 oz.) of total fluids the first day; two full glasses the second, and three glasses from the third through the tenth.

You'll then be down 10 pounds; For further details, send for my "Diet Chart," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

★ ★ ★

It is the easiest drugless plan for dieting I have ever seen. Mrs. Crane and I have used it, too.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

★ ★ ★

Lord Cobham, governor general, summoned Holyoake to Government House to confirm the appointment. The new Prime Minister immediately renewed positions of the present National party Cabinet ministers and members of the Executive Council.

Plan to Tow Huge Whale in San Francisco Street

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Maybe it shouldn't happen to a mammal, but a 42-foot whale is to be towed up Market Street today . . . to ballyhoo National Fish Week.

The parade was to have taken place yesterday but nobody could catch a whale in time.

After the parade the whale will be towed to a reduction works at Richmond.

4 Young Golfers to Play a Round With President

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Four teenage golfers who had hoped to caddy for President Eisenhower hit the jackpot and get to play a round with him today.

★ ★ ★

The president ijvited the four youths, who are among the best junior golfers in Rhode Island, to join him for a match at the Newport Country Club.

The quartet, recently finalists in the state's Junior Chamber of Commerce tournament, includes Robert Fitta, 17, East Providence, the tournament winner; Gary Letiecq, 15, Middletown; Robert Dalessio, 14, Barrington; and William McGuiness, 14, Warwick.

★ ★ ★

The youths volunteered to caddy for Eisenhower when they first learned several weeks ago that he would vacation in Newport. The President suggested that instead they play a round with him.

Queen Elizabeth's Visit Sets Capital Society Seething With Party Fever

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
INS Special Writer

WASHINGTON — If all the broken hearts in Washington were laid end-to-end today, they could pave the line of March for Queen Elizabeth's triumphal entry into our capital city next month.

The gold-encrusted invitations to rub shoulders with Her Majesty at the White House state dinner, at the secretary of state's banquet, and at her own afternoon soiree hit the town's mailboxes today, and there simply weren't enough bids to accommodate all of our panting dowagers.

Ike, resplendent in white-tie-and-tails, will break bread with only 80 members of American and British upper crust at his White House dinner the first evening of her arrival, Oct. 17.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles—fortunately for diplomacy—can use the facilities of the more spacious Pan American Union to squeeze in 120 diners the following night, despite the space-demanding crinoline of the ladies' shimmering ball gowns.

At the British Embassy the next evening, the Queen and Prince Philip will play host to Ike and Mamie, the President's Cabinet and a few protocol-ranking members of the diplomatic corps, but the exact number of fat-cats who can look at the Queen is still undecided.

MANY REPEATERS

Unfortunately for local residents, most of the elegantly clad diners are repeaters on all three occasions, and some people think there oughta' be a law against it.

The traditional line of march from the airport to the White House has been extended 10 blocks to allow a few more thousand hoi-polloi to view Queen Elizabeth and her dashing consort, but capital society believes that parades are for the birds and the tourists.

★ ★ ★

Their big chance will come at the British Embassy reception Oct. 18, to which 2,500 have now been invited. Alas, for our usual party-goers, however, the massive list includes all 531 members of Congress and their wives, plus all Supreme Court Justices, cabinet officers, foreign ambassadors and their ladies, and a smattering of officials from local civic organizations. This gobbles up more than half of the coveted bids and leaves a multitude of our cocktail devotees to sip their warm martinis elsewhere.

Our British cousins, anxious for purse-holding Uncle Sam to believe that their Queen is just as democratic as you or you, have condescended a few tactful words of advice to Americans who will get to meet the No. 1 exhibit of the empire.

The tips go like this: Even though it is unthinkable for a guest to wear black—unless in mourning—in the Queen's presence at Buckingham Palace, she won't mind if American women should choose black.

It is perfectly all right if we do, or don't wear gloves in the royal reception line.

★ ★ ★

Although Her Majesty is never to be addressed unless she first addresses you, she won't be shocked if Americans ignore the rule.

We may curtsey or not—thanks to the Boston Tea Party.

With those generous admonitions firmly fixed in mind, a few Washingtonians can continue to hold their collective breath until the week end.

NIXON BIDS TO COME

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, usually the very soul of efficiency, is the only American host to the royal couple who has yet to close his guest list. Dick will entertain a cozy 60 at luncheon in the capitol the second day of the visit, but hasn't mailed the invitations.

If Dick knows his politics, however, it's a safe bet that he will scrupulously confine the bids to committee chairmen and officials of Congress. Otherwise, for every friend he makes with that stiff white card of admission, he'll earn 10,000 enemies.

Ex-prexy Harry S. Truman, who played host to the royal couple at the White House several years ago when Elizabeth was the mere heir-apparent to the throne, won't get a look-in at the Washington festivities this trip.

However, Harry will have his day of glory in New York, if he and former first lady Bess decide to accept Mayor Robert Wagner's invitation to lunch with the Queen at the Waldorf Monday, Oct. 21.

★ ★ ★

The Democratic mayor, who is asking a whopping 1,200 to his wing-ding, has also included ex-president Herbert Hoover and former first lady Eleanor Roosevelt among the honorees.

★ ★ ★

After all, Eleanor once had the pleasure of serving hot-dogs to Queen Elizabeth's parents, when they graced the British throne.

Find New Tool in Heart Study

Denver Doctor Credits Curiosity, Late Dinner for Discovery

DENVER (INS)—A Denver doctor reported that curiosity and a late dinner added up to the discovery of what he and a co-researcher regard as a significant new tool in heart research.

Dr. Gardner Middlebrook, a Pasteur medal winner in 1954, called the tool a "new phenomenon," and said it is a new method for measuring fatty acids in the blood, important in the study of the causes of heart disease.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Charles Coleman, who works with Dr. Middlebrook at the National Jewish Hospital at Denver, also was responsible for application of the new method.

The researchers said the method particularly is important in three respects:

—It is 10 times more sensitive than previously available methods for measuring long chain fatty acids.

—The equipment required is within the scope of any basically equipped chemistry laboratory.

—It eliminates the necessity of highly-skilled personnel.

What Dr. Middlebrook refers to as "simple" sounds complicated to the layman. Briefly the doctor discovered chemical action in methylene blue dyes can be caused by fatty acids. Through a simple calculation small amounts of some fatty acids may be measured.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Middlebrook said previous methods of measuring fatty acids were "cumbersome, expensive, not sensitive enough," and that is was necessary to have "specialized technicians."

The researcher said the new method will lead to a better understanding of the function of fatty acids, components of fat which are believed to have a role in the cause of heart disease.

He said it is "amazing" the discovery had not been made many years ago, and added: "It was really very simple."

French Guinea Gets Higher Standard

CONAKRY, Frenche Guineea — New industries are bringing better living to the people of French Guinea, on the northern coast of West Africa.

No longer largely dependent on their cash crops—bananas, coffee and palmetto—this territory's 2,500,000 people have made substantial gains by establishment of industries using some of the local materials that formerly were exported. French Guinea now has some factories producing plastics, paints and varnishes, explosives, compressed fuel, oxygen and acetylene and metal construction.

These have largely been made possible by the Grandes Chutes hydarulic works completed near Conakry, the capital. There are also two thermal power plants. The territory is rich in bauxite and has iron ore reserves estimated at two billion tons.

Federal Funds Eyed for Drain

May Seek U.S. Aid in $6 Million Project —Commissioner Barry

Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry is considering seeking federal assistance next year for a sewage interceptor project estimated at $6 million, in southeastern Oakland County.

The project calls for an interceptor connecting the Twelve Town Drain with Detroit. Engineering and financial studies are under way, said Barry.

The proposed interceptor would run along Dequindre road from 14 Mile Rd. to Detroit's treatment plant at Connant and Mt. Elliot Streets. At 14 Mile, Barry said, it would connect with a Red Run weir planned as the terminous of the proposed Twelve Town storm and sanitary sewer system.

The present interceptor along the same route is capable of carrying less than half the load necessary when the Twelve Town system is completed, Barry said.

STALLED NOW

The Twelve Town project presently is held up by legal complications. But Barry thinks that a new interceptor is necessary to stop Red Run pollution, whether the Twelve Town project is constructed or not.

The estimated $6 million cost includes fees to hook onto Detroit's system, Barry said.

Barry believed the project may get up to $250,000 in federal funds earmarked for projects to halt river pollution. He is holding up his request for funds until next year, Barry said, in order to complete final plans and specifications.

Postmaster Brings Card 43 Years Late

REMUS (AP)—A post card sent 43 years ago by her mother in London, Ont., was delivered to Mrs. Lena Baumann yesterday by her brother—Remus Postmaster William Flack.

In forwarding the card, the London postmaster said he hoped the Remus postmaster would be able to locate Mrs. Baumann.

The post card apparently had been dropped by mistake by the late Mrs. Ann Flack between a mailbox and a wall in the London railroad station.

It was found a few days ago when the mailboxes were torn down.

Mrs. Flack was in London 43 years ago to attend the funeral of a brother-in-law.

The card said: "Arrived 7:45 a.m. this morning. Mother."

Frog No Longer Will A-Wooing Go

LONDON—Frogs are disappearing from Britain, in the opinion of Alfred Leutscher who, boy and man, has been an expert on frog, toad and tadpole. Within a generation, he says, small boys will be lucky to own one. From research as a member of the Herpetological (or reptile studying) Society he gives these reasons:

The spread of construction, entailing drainage systems, in which frogs do not live; disappearance of ponds for spawning grounds; the great demand for frogs for use in biological and medical research.

He sounds a warning, too: When frogs die out, other water-dwellers will lose their staple food. This could set off a vicious spiral affecting the whole nature life of the country.

County Board Asks Notification

By-Laws Committee of Supervisors Asking for Tipoff on Meetings

A committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors will recommend Tuesday that advance notice of committee meetings be given from now on to all supervisors and interested persons.

★ ★ ★

The By-Laws Committee came to that conclusion after a two-hour meeting yesterday, chairman William C. Hudson, of Royal Oak, said.

The Board will be asked to act on the recommendation Tuesday. Supervisors had referred the problem to the By-Laws Committee after it was raised by Supervisor Frank Stephenson, of Farmington Township.

Stephenson complained that major decisions were made by committees without his knowledge and that later he was asked at Board meetings to vote on matters with which he had little acquaintance.

★ ★ ★

Hudson said he will recommend that advance notice be given of the time, place and date of committee meetings. The By-Laws Committee will continue to study a suggestion that complete agendas be made available before meetings, he said.

"This suggestion would be hard to follow up," Hudson said, "Often subjects are brought up at committee meetings about which the chairman has no prior knowledge. But it's easier to begin discussiong them at once than to put them off and call another meeting later."

Hudson agreed that chairmen could make public, however, the main purpose behind each meeting.

"It was the feeling of the whole By-Laws Committee," he added, "that committee meetings should always be open to the public. As far as we're concerned the more publicity given Oakland County government, the better. We have nothing to hide and don't want the public to have the impression that anything secret is going on." Hudson thought this was the proper attitude for the board as a whole and for all of the committees.

These Answers Would Have Won

The following are the correct answers and explanations for the Pot-O-Gold puzzle which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

A. (1) MAINLY. A movie actress who is chiefly preoccupied with her looks isn't taking the trouble to learn acting technique, and is hardly likely to give a performance worthy of an Oscar. or to perfect herself in other ways, She could well be vainly concerned with her looks — conceited about her beauty — and still take time for acting and singing lessons that would bring her closer to the big award.

B. (3) FRIGHTFUL. If a child has a terrible temper, he is obviously in need of better handling by his parents. Many children show a fretful temper at bedtime because they are overtired, have played too hard or become overexcited — and this may happen in spite of careful handling by parents.

C. (5) WORMING. The Senate committee hearings brought out that racketeers were stealthily trying to edge their way into control of some labor unions. They weren't working their way; their idea is not to work!

D. (8) SALUTARY. The introduction of plumbing into Asian villages has more than a sanitary effect. It not only makes for better hygiene and cleanliness, but helps in the fight against various diseases — a SALUTARY, or healthful effect.

E. (10) DYING. We've all seen people at parties who could hardly wait to seize the conversation; colloquially, they're DYING, or bursting with eagerness, to tell a story. Many persons embroider or exaggerate the facts to make a story good, but it's not always possible to tell at which points they are lying.

F. (12) ENDEARING. When a man marries a girl of lovable charm, he is too bewitched to think abouth whether her charm will be lasting, or enduring. Nor will he know of this aspect until years later.

G. (13) RELAYING. Since a message is a communication sent through some medium, the person who passes it on is RELAYING it. Relating suggests a narrative, rather than a message.

H. (16) APPALLING. One is shocked and dismayed to see a child who is not getting enough to eat. Though the sight of an undernourished child arouses symphathy, appealing has the secondary meaning of being attractive.

I. (18) MUNCHING. A busy hairdresser at midday usually has sandwiches sent in. He rarely has time for lunching; he just nibbles in odd moments when he can.

J. (19) SCUTTLING. Two men scuffling in a dark alley are fighting something out between themselves, which usually is no concern to the passerby. If they are SCUTTLING in a dark alley, they are running away fast, which suggests some criminal activity.

K. (22) THEATER. A man who invests his money "carefully" looks up references, and steers clear of a cheater. In the THEATER, he may carefully invest his money, with a good producer, a big star, and what looks like a sure-fire hit play — only it isn't, and he loses.

L. (23) EERY. It's the spine-tingling excitement and fear in a ghost story that fascinates many readers. All sorts of other books make easy reading.

M. (25) GUNNER. Since marksmanship requires a sense of perspective and an accurate eye, it's a skill that gets rusty without practice. A runner is not likely to forget any basic rules about conserving his energy in a race; if he keeps in good condition he should retain without "a lot" of practice, his natural skill as a runner.

N. (27) BUMMING. Motorists are advised against picking up anyone who is begging a ride, whether he is doing it with his thumb — thumbing a ride or just waving, to get attention.

O. (30) INCENTIVE. Inventive ideas are helpful, new devices to increase production being always welcome. But it's the workers who produce, so that an INCENTIVE, an inducement in their own self-interest, really has a mass effect on quantity.

P. (32) SPITES. An in-law who slights you can be ignored in return. But it's hard to ignore someone who does or says malicious things — who SPITES you. That could spoil a family gathering.

Q. (33) RESTIVE. On the day before Christmas, children can hardly wait. The time seems to drag and they're fidgety with excitement. Christmas is the day for feeling festive and gay.

R. (35) WEAKENED. A golfer who's out of practice is likely to shoot badly; it's not a good, competitive game for his partner or the rest of the foursome. This would be true whether it's a weekend game or not.

S. (38) FATEFUL. In a mystery novel, suspense is often built up to a meeting of several characters that will have a great bearing on how the plot develops. They could be fatal meetings, in which someone gets killed, but that is not necessary.

T. (40) TINGED. Some girls are delighted to have hair with reddish highlights, whether they were born with hair that color, or have it tinted, or dyed.

King of Hoboes: Don't Be Bum

Advises Young People Stay Home and Lead Good Christian Life

DETROIT (INS)—Tje "King of the Hoboes" says today's children should become educated . . . not bums.

Sixty - eight - year - old Sam H. "King" Cole, who says he hit the rails at the age of 13 after his parents broke up, doesn't recommend life on the road for modern youth. He said:

"Tell the young people to stay home and go to Sunday School and Church regularly and lead a good Christian life."

Cole says he has traveled around the world seven times in 54 years of "bumming and thumbing." He became head of the hoboes several years ago when his predecessor Jeff Davis, died.

★ ★ ★

He heads the strictly independent Tourist Union 63, International Brotherhood of Hoboes of America.

The Knight of the Road explained:

"I've been everything — wino, boozehound, but I gave it all up. I used to drink it by the barrel and I don't touch it now. My motto is: if the hogs won't drink it, why should I?"

He said "youngsters today need a good education to get along in the world. To get that they must stay home."

★ ★ ★

However, Cole says he wouldn't swap his life with anyone.

"The life I lead is the best in the world. I never grew up. You miss a lot of life if you do."

He gave this recipe for Mulligan stew, the favorite of hoboes for ages:

"Throw in so much salt pork, add beef, pork and veal. Let it muddle (simmer) for so long, dump the whole mess into boiling water in another drum, toss in potatoes, peas, beans, onions, tomatoes. By this time it is getting pretty thick, so add corn to sweeten it and eat."

Financial Pinch on Student Called Greatest Ever

ANN ARBOR (AP) — There is a greater financial pinch on college students this fall than ever before, University of Michigan officials said today.

They have a two-fold reason: Higher costs for attendance and a noticeable drop in well-paying summer jobs.

★ ★ ★

"I've never head so many students say they spent their summer mowing lawns," one admissions officer said yesterday as classes began.

"This has been about the tightest year we've seen for getting students summer jobs off campus in this area."

The University's admissions office said there has been a great increase this year of freshmen who had to cancel their applications after acceptance. The most common reason was economic difficulty.

★ ★ ★

Of the more than 23,000 students, about one in five work for the University during the school year, the officials said.

The University increased its tuition and fees about 25 per cent beginning this semester.

2 Persons Injured in Two-Car Collision

Two persons were injured Wednesday night in a two-car collision at the intersection of Okdyke road and Knollwood street, Pontiac Township.

Betty Jean Bracken, 30, of Utica was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with a fractured pelvis and possible internal injuries. Her condition today is satisfactory.

Her car collided with one driven by James Hutchinson Sr., 76, of 2007 Knollwood St., Pontiac.

A passenger in her car, Dale Lover, 33, of 8241 Pontiac Lake Rd., White Lake Township, was also admitted to the hospital with a possible dislocated right hip. He is in satisfactory condition today.

Charleston, S.C., has foreign consulates from Brazil, Cuba, Denmark, France, Norway and Uruguay.

Eskimos to Learn Arts of Money, Finance

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — The latest word from out of the frozen north is that a large number of so-called civilized money-lenders, bookkeepers and stockbrokers is sneaking by snowshoe into northern Alaska —last output of financial ennui.

The Canadian government's "Northern Affairs Department" is much excited about it. Isn't it dandy, they report, that the Eskimos are learning loan and finance procedures, how to recognize hundred-dollar bills, and the art of trading furs for money instead of a ton of blubber or a whaler's daughter?

Maybe, for the invaders from the big city, it is. But one cannot help but observe: More's the pity for the wised-up Eskimo . . .

It always had been so soothing, in times of cynicism about civilization, to think about slipping away to the dome of the world, where the only sound to quicken the nerves might be the honest whine of a straight-from-the-shoulder harpoon, or the friendly sizzle of whale oil at suppertime.

★ ★ ★

How lovely, we have always thought, to crunch off by yourself with only an occasional bear to growl at you—not the consistent growls of irritable associates. And how comforting, when the city's face and pace get you down, to dwell calmly on the dream of dwelling in an igloo—of mushing after moose—of tarrying timelessly o'er the tundra.

TIME TO FACE FACTS

But now the time has come to put away those dreams and face facts. With the coming of financial savvy, the Eskimos probably are in for a moral and spiritual deterioration as crippling as the physical deterioration they suffered during the war, when servicemen introduced them to "civilized" foods like candy, cookies and K-rations.

★ ★ ★

I was visiting the northernmost tip of Alaska three years ago, and in talking to doctors and newsmen, discovered that the standard of health among the northern natives had declined sharply and steadily since they had been encouraged to develop U.S. Army eating habits.

From his teeth to his toenails, the northern Eskimo who willingly adapted himself to sweets and starches was suffering. For centuries before, on a diet of fish and meat (there was little more he could scrounge from the frozen earth and tundra), he had been a specimen of virility.

This physical setback was bad enough, now that money is entering "operation take-over," the peacefully primitive life is all but vanished from the Arctic.

★ ★ ★

Right now, finance is only an interesting novelty to these small, sturdy, happy people, but sooner or later they will be forced to get it through their parkas that where there is money, there is likely to be greed. And where there is greed there is likely to be tension, ambition, social disparity and crime.

★ ★ ★

It'll take some time, perhaps, but someday there will be stories out of Pt. Barrow about a skirmish on the ice floes between the "Caribou Kids" and the "Northern Light-heads."

Sociologists will hurry to Nome to quell the riots between igloo dwellers and tentmen.

Psychiatrists will discuss whether fur trappers should allow their daughters to go kayaking with soapstone carvers.

★ ★ ★

And one cold day, an Eskimo banker will announce to the world the disillusioned discovery of—then they will truly be civilized!—the first "blubber check."

Says 12 Heads Better Than One

Judge in Brink's Robbery Speaks for Jury System

BOSTON (INS) — The judge who sentenced the Brink's robbery gang to life in prison said today that 12 average jurors do a better job of analyzing evidence than any one judge.

★ ★ ★

Superior Court Judge Felix Forte answering critics of the jury system who claim it is too expensive and an unnecesary luxury in the modern world, said:

"You get as good decision as is possible from juries, because each member has lived life. Each examines the evidence from a slightly different point of view.

"When the time comes for the jury to discuss evidence the resultant decision is just in the overwhelming majority of cases."

★ ★ ★

The veteran jurist made it clear that he is aware that the jury system is not perfect. He admitted the system is expensive and that a jury will go wrong "once in a while."

SOME DRAWBACKS

"Jurors have pet peeves and there are occasional instances of corruption," he said. "The human element is present, of course, but still the system is the best yet devised."

Without naming any specific cases, Judge Forte admitted he had disagreed with jury verdicts only to be convinced in later conversations with the jurors that he was wrong.

Judge Forte said he liked the present system of unanimity of verdicts which assures deliberation, but he appeared interested in the movement to have verdicts accepted on 11 to 1 or 10 to 2 majority votes.

★ ★ ★

Some critics of the jury system charge that lawyers can sway juries by playing on their emotions, but Judge Forte thinks it seldom happens. He commented:

DISCUSSION HELPS

"Certainly, an attorney will play on the emotions of a jury on occasion, but when the jurors sit down to talk it over they will come up with the right decision."

The judge said he was concerned about the expeneses involved in the operation of the jury system and suggested it might be possible to cut down the number of jurors in the jury pool.

He said he might work for a reduction in the number of challenges without cause allowed each side of a case, noting there were 262 peremptory challenges by the defense in the trial of the Brink's robbery gang.

Rocket Fans Watch for Atlas

Spectators Gather at Test Site Hoping for Glimpse of Missile

MISSILE TEST CENTER, Cape Canaveral, Fla., (AP) — Optimistic rocket fans were on hand at this launching site today in hopes of seeing the first blastoff in months of an intercontinental ballistic missile.

A brisk firing program this week and the presence of a high Defense Department official stimulated speculation that the ICBM Atlas would undergo a new test.

★ ★ ★

The Atlas, as far as is known, is the United States' Sunday punch in the rocket line. It was designed to propel a nuclear warhead 5,000 miles in a few minutes.

One Atlas roared aloft from Cape Canaveral last June. It appeared to blow up early in flight. Later it was learned a minor part malfunctioned and the rocket was destroyed for the sake of safety and security.

SAW TEST YESTERDAY

The public can't get closer than three miles to the security-ringed missile test center, but watchers on Cocoa Beach nevertheless glimpsed parts of tests yesterday.

One launching they could follow. The other they never saw, and noticed only the effect — a plume of smoke rising from the sea.

★ ★ ★

Rocket No. 1 went up at 9:46 a.m. Observers reported seeing the slender missile rise eastward on a long, low trajectory and vanish in a cloudbank. Two balls of fire, possibly booster charges, flared as the rocket disappeared.

The rocket was believed to be the Snark, a guided missile. Guided missiles differ from ballistic missiles in the respect that they can be controlled in flight, after the firing.

WATCHED SMOKE

Rocket No. 2 was not seen to leave the cape launching pads, but a loud concussion drew observers' eyes seaward at 3:14 p.m. Associated Press staffers Gene Plowden and Jim Kerlin said they saw a pall of black smoke rise from the Atlantic and drift westward.

★ ★ ★

They thought at first a boat had exploded, but later a missile test center spokesman confirmed a firing had occurred. The spokesman agreed the explosion looked as if it was a surface or undersea blast.

Donald Quarles, assistant secretary of defense, arrived at Cape Canaveral Wednesday on what was described as a busman's holiday. Quarles was expected to remain several days at the missile experiment station.

Interrupts Haircut to Stab, Shoot Man

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—A barber interrupted a haircut yesterday to stab a friend, returned to his job and then stopped again to shoot to death the man he stabbed, Sheriff Dave Starr reported.

Herman L. Allen, 33, was jailed on an open charge in the slaying of Little Wes Kersey, 24, Stillmore, Ga.

★ ★ ★

A customer, Harry F. Ryan, told officers that Allen was cutting his hair while engaged in an argument.

Allen suddenly stabbed Kersey in the chest with scissors, then forced him to sit in a chair while he continued to cut Ryan's hair, Starr said.

★ ★ ★

After a few moments Kersey bolted for the door and Allen pulled a pistol and fired twice, hitting him the second time in the back, the sheriff said.

Ryan was unharmed.

Ban on U.S. Ship Lifted After Crash

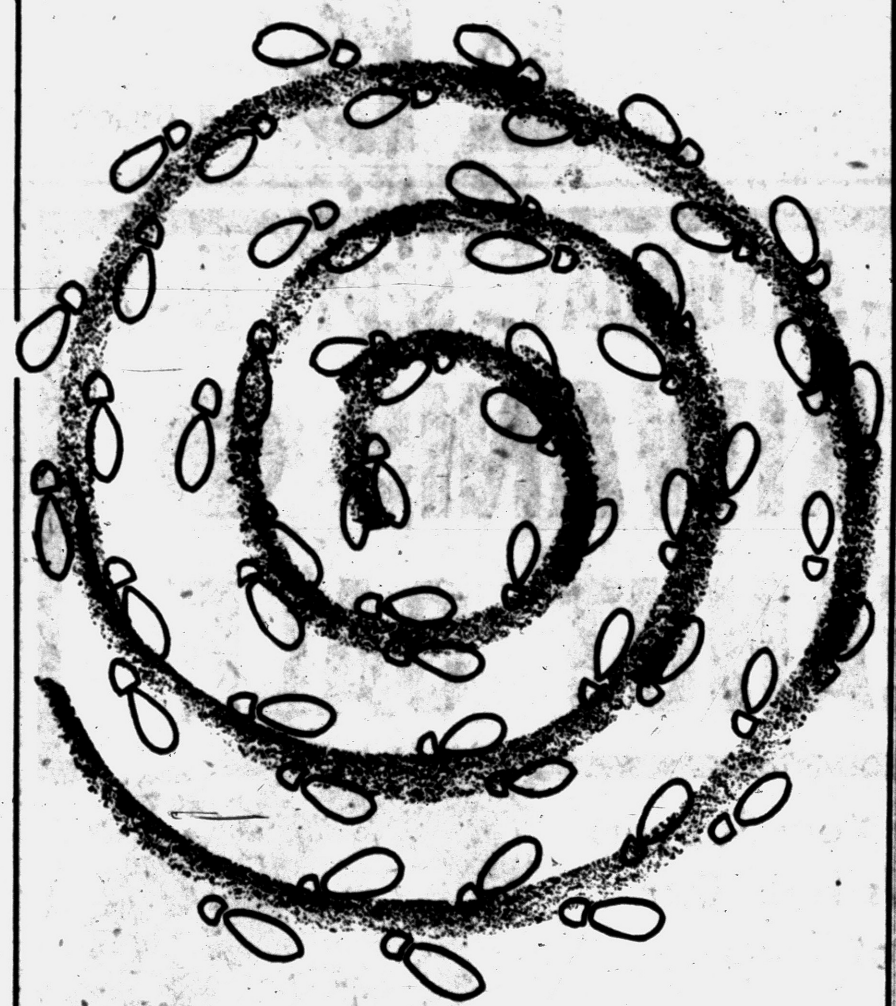

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—A federal court last night removed sailing restrictions imposed on the American freighter Mormacksurf after a collision with an Argentine River steamer last Aug. 27.

The Moore-McCormack Line's 7,890-ton ship had been restricted to the Buenos Aires port while the government investigated the night collision. At least 94 aboard the 3,754-ton steamer died.

There was no announcement of the government's findings. The ships collided in rain and fog 78 miles north of Buenos Aires.

Racial Tension Hangs Heavy on Birmingham

(This is the fifth of six articles in which a famed reporter describes vividly what he and a reporting team have found to be the causes behind the crisis over school segregation in the South today.)

By BOB CONSIDINE

BIRMINGHAM (INS) — Dr. John H. Whitley, 57, medium and muscular, runs a modern drug store in the industrial suburb of Tarrant. Business is good. It is an all-white business.

The doctor is the president of the Tarrant County Citizens Council. He outlined some of its workings to a member of the International News Service team of reporters covering the integration problem in the south.

SECTION UNIQUE

"This section of the country is unique," Dr. Whitley said. "We have a lot of ordinary working folks. Our Citizens Council was organized from the grass roots up, rather than from the top down as in the Mississippi Delta.

"We're irrevocably against integration in this area. My council is 1,500 strong with ordinary, law-abiding working folks. I'm the only businessman in it. The rest here are scared to join.

"We tolerate no violence. Ace Carter and Jesse Maybry (local racists) were expelled from our chapter for their part in the attack on the Negro entertainer — Nat Cole. (Carter has since formed his own group of "preservators," generally believed to be less restrained than the doctor's outfit.)

"Each of our councils is autonomous. Occasionally, one of them is involved in an incident of violence. We always repudiate these.

★ ★ ★

"Our real fight here is for states rights. If we get states rights we'll have segregation and as long as I'm in the council we'll use only legal means of fighting. We intend to work toward the election of responsible public officials who believe in states rights. We won't go any further than legal means.

"If they whip us in the elections and the courts — then that's that.

"Right now we're going to try and elect a governor like Faubus — one that will maintain states rights. The people of the South have been greatly heartened by his stand against integration in Arkansas.

"If worst comes to worst, I'll still do everything in my power to stop violence. I don't want anything to do with the likes of that fellow Kasper."

NOT POPULAR

Richard Maxwell, head of the sociology department at Miles University in Birmingham, is a Negro educator who is not too popular with some members of his race. Maxwell believes, with others, that the integration program must proceed with great deliberation.

"I'm first of all a social scientist," he said, "and secondly a Negro. The progress of the Negro is primarily one of constant evolution. The deplorable, dramatic violence isn't going to alter it much in the long run.

"I'm considered somewhat radical because I feel, as a matter of tactics, that it would be better to forego integration a few years, to avoid bloodshed.

★ ★ ★

"As a social scientist I can tell you that peoples' attitudes don't change overnight. It's largely an imperceptible and even unconscious process.

Racial tension lies on the city like soot from its steel plant stacks. Police must patrol the city at large, because of the scattered pattern of the housing, rather than a tightly-packed Harlem or ghetto. Negroes compose 40 per cent of the population. Many of them have been aroused, as never before. Mass meetings are sometimes boozy hymn-fests, and a rosy picture is painted of the day to come.

And high on the hill overlooking the restless city sit the upper and middle class white families who have the most to lose, financially, if there is any violence below. These are the people who made Birmingham an industrial giant in a land once all but doomed to its poor crops. New industry will pass up Birmingham as a bad risk when it seeks an area in which to alight. Old industry, if there is a race war of any dimension, will shutter its windows.

(Next — A general look-around.)

Junior Editors Quiz on EYES

QUESTION: Why do we have two eyes?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: When you look at an object, two images are formed because each eye sees it from a slightly different angle. If the object is far away, the difference in the images is slight, but becomes very great for an article only a few inches from the eye.

Both images are relayed to the brain, which instantly merges them into a properly focused picture and thus helps you determine how far an object is from you, whether it has dimensions, whether it is flat or deep and whether it is in front of or behind another object.

If you close one eye and look at something, you will find that it looks more flat than when you look at it with both eyes.

In photography, stereo cameras have two lenses, the same width apart as our eyes, to reproduce the impression of three dimensions. The two separate views can be seen in hand viewers.

FOR YOU TO DO: Hold a pencil in front of your eyes. Look at it with one eye, then the other and then with both eyes and you will notice the difference.

Country All Mixed Up

Many West Germans Fear Tyranny, Long for National Glory of Past Days

BONN (INS) — Many Germans are all mixed up.

There is an honest fear that tyranny might return; but, among many, there is an equally honest hankering for the national glory that tyranny twice brought.

YEARN FOR PAST

Two stories illustrate these points.

The first comes from a high-ranking Japanese diplomat.

"Twice in recent weeks," he said, "strangers approached me in German beer halls. Each time they asked if I was Japanese. In each instance, after I told them, they pumped my hand and said how wonderful it would be to revive the German-Japanese alliance of the old Axis days.

"Also, in each instance, they said this time Italy should be left out."

The other story is probably more important because it was written by far more people. The 31 million Germans who voted last Sunday wiped out the extremist parties whose candidates had called for the return of Nazi-like rule.

NOT ENOUGH VOTES

Not one of these parties pulled enough votes to send a man to parliament.

In addition, the one thing that worried many Germans more than anything else about re-electing Chancellor Konrad Adenauer was fear of a return to an autocratic regime. Even some people who voted for him expressed feelings of disquiet about the absolute majority his Christian Democrats won. One young German said:

"We know he is a great man. He has done remarkable things for us Germans in eight years. We are wealthy now and are accepted as a nation in the Western alliance. But, with our history, I still cannot help worrying about one man's having absolute majority control of the government."

The Social Democratic plea to the voters to deny Adenauer an absolute Bundestag majority was the most effective issue raised against him, even though it failed.

It was the issue Germans talked most about during the final days of the campaign and in the days after the election.

NO OTHER ISSUES

In the beerhalls and other gathering places there was little discussion of the other issues the Social Democrats raised, such as military conscription, nuclear weapons and a possible new approach to Russia on German reunification.

But there was talk about whether West Germany could safely give too much power to Adenauer or anyone else.

Hitler brought Germany defeat, humiliation and misery. So did the Kaiser in his time. But 14 years after the Kaiser fell the Germans were ready to make another try with Hitler.

Twelve years already have passed since the Hitler debacle. Some remember his days with pride and pleasure. But many are now revolted by the excesses the Nazis committed and moreover are conscious of the misery he brought the nation.

To some, Adenauer seems safe enough for several reasons. They realize he runs his own party, cabinet and aides with an iron hand. But so far he has not been a despot over Germany.

His insistance on strict civilian control of the military has had good effect. (Part of the early German resistance to rearmament is based on memories of such practices as having to rise in restaurants to salute each officer who entered.)

Besides, even if Adenauer did turn tyrant, the Germans figure he is too old to hold power long enough to do much damage.

On the other hand many Germans look on Adenauer as their indispensable man, if not the traditional man on horseback. A man who once served as a paratrooper in Hitler's army said on election eve:

"I just can't imagine what we Germans would do if we lost him."

Alert Armed Troops for Haiti Elections

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—The ruling military junta today alerted all armed forces in Haiti for Sunday's presidential and congressional elections.

The junta issued steel helmets to 2,500 troops and police. Three thousand reserves also can be called up if violence breaks out.

Brig. Gen. Antonio Kebreau, chief of the army staff and head of the three-man junta, pledged the armed forces will guarantee free and honest elections. He vowed any disorders would be crushed.

★ ★ ★

All men and women over 21 are eligible to vote, about 1½ million out of Haiti's four million population. Ninety per cent of the voters are illiterate. They will vote by dipping a finger in indelible ink and making a mark on the ballot.

Three men are seeking the presidency—ex-Sen. Louis Dejoie, Dr. Francois Duvalier and Clement Jumelle. A fourth candidate, Daniel Fignole, popular with the masses, was exiled to New York June 14.

Fignole then was acting president. Other candidates suspected him of using the office to strengthen his own candidacy. After a period of disorders the military junta moved in and took over.

Haiti's last election was in 1950. Paul Magloire was elected president. When he tried to prolong his tenure in violation of the law last December he was ousted by a general strike. Strikes or military coups have overthrown five other governments since.

Bob Considine Says:

If Hoffa Can Win, He Can Conquer U.S.

NEW YORK (INS) — Jimmy Hoffa has got himself on a spot from which not even Edward Bennett Williams can extricate him. The action of the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Commission, stating that if Hoffa remains a Teamsters official the huge union will be thrown out, surely means the end of the man's reign of terror.

If Hoffa can beat this rap, he can take over the country.

QUEEN JUMPS

Merryle Rukeyser, the distinguished financial authority, recently was presented to Queen Frederika at a reception given by the royal family in Athens. Just as he took the Queen's extended hand, 'midst all the pomp and splendor, his wristwatch alarm went off.

The queen jumped a foot.

"What in the world is that?" she asked.

Rukeyser, with the aplomp of a man who doesn't need a Murad, said, "You majesty, it was supposed to have awakened me just twelve hours ago."

PAY-TV AIRED

Pal in the pay-TV business sends what may be a clarifying note:

"Here's the difference between the two systems of toll television, Broadcast and wired. Broadcast pay-TV is a proposed system to employ a maximum of 15 per cent of the broadcast time of only independent TV stations, thus insuring continuation of all present network programs, while offering the public, for a fee, but at their own choice, premium or box office quality programs they now can't get.

This would be first-run movies, broadway plays, Metropolitan opera, blacked-out sports, and so forth. It simply means the home TV set becomes a dual purpose instrument.

"Wired TV will presumably and ultimately deliver all that and more, too. Strictly speaking it is not television at all, other than using that home receiver. It is simply a telephone line to each subscribing home, said line able to bring up to six separate programs at the same time, six programs from which to take your choice and pay according to what the operators want to charge for each and any or those six.

It can inject advertising as it wishes, and charge what the traffic will bear. It will not be restricted, being free from the F.C.C.

"Right now it's pretty much a matter akin to the consumption of strawberries, come the revolution. Subscription TV is the way, but it seems to me the public should be given the Broadcast, or selective, side of it before it is saddled with the wired — so Joe Doakes can see whether he wants any part of it."

Hollywood producer John Farrow, author of "Pageant of the Popes," is kind enough to forward a correction:

POPE'S HISTORY

Pius XII does not spring, as you stated, . . . from an ancient, aristocratic Italian family,' " the film man-historian writes. "He comes from good, honest, middle-class people. His father was the Vatican lawyer and was ennobled for his serivces to the Holy see, being made a Marquis at the time of the Concordat between Mussolini and Pius XI. It is true that the present Pope's nephew is now a prince. Most of the occupants of the Chair of St. Peter usually raise their nephews and nieces to such a dignity.

"In recent times, however, Pius X, of peasant birth, broke from this tradition when his spinster sister petitioned him for a title. 'You are the Pope's sisters,' he replied, 'is that not title enough?' "

LIKES DEDICATION

My friend Cornelius Ryan, one of the abler reporters of our day, went down the drain (with a distinguished clockwise motion) when Collier's magazine abruptly folded. In the ensuing months, he has put together a stirring pocket-sized Ballantine Book called "One minute to Ditch!" They are his stories on the ditching of a passenger plane in the Pacific, the sinking of the Andrea Doria and his moving story of an incident during the Normandy Invasion — "The Major of St. Lo."

I like the dedication:

"This book is for the editorial staff of Collier's magazine who were killed in action Friday, December 14, 1956."

Sentences Man to Stay 5 Minutes With Marshal

BOISE, IDAHO (AP)—A federal judge yesterday ordered a man to serve his entire sentence in the custody of a U.S. marshal. It didn't take up too much of the marshal's time.

★ ★ ★

Alan R. Tendore of Pocatello, Idaho, declined to contest a charge of making false unemployment benefit claims under a federal act. U.S. Dist. Judge Chase A. Clark could have fined him $30,000 and sentenced him to three years in jail.

★ ★ ★

The judge said Tendore was supporting a family, had no prior court record, was attending College of Idaho on a scholarship and was accused of earning $3 weekly during weeks in which he drew $30 in unemployment benefits. Tendore also paid back the money when informed of the conflict of earning that much money.

★ ★ ★

Then Judge Clark handed down the sentence — five minutes.

Leaves Mark on Cars to Owners' Displeasure

DENVER (AP) — It was only his second day on the job, but Jose Salazar really left his mark on things.

Salazar was helping clear a site for a new high school. He loaded a truck with tree trunks and branches for delivery to the city dump.

En route, police said, his shifting load scratched and dented almost every car parked on the right hand side of the street.

Officer JHN Woodward said more than 50 complaints had been made by irate motorists.

The only comment Salazar could offer, after seeing the damage: "Frankly, I'm sick."

6 Negro Marines Accused of Murder

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)— A court-martial on murder charges was ordered today for six Negro U.S. Marines accused of attacking two white American servicemen, killing one and inuring the second.

Hospitalman Adrien R. Nokleby, 19, Wells County, N.D., died of injuries after he was beaten, kicked and stomped in an assault in the Sukiran area of Okinawa, the Marines said. A second victim, Sgt. A. H. Carillo, 22 El Paso, Tex., was hospitalized with minor injuries.

Asked whether racial feeling figured in the violence, a Marines spokesman replied, "It was just an attack on two Caucasions by Negroes." Additional details could not be obtained.

A trial date will be set soon for the six Marines, who are in custody today and have had military defense counsel appointed.

The six are: Pfc. Robert Allen Jr., 22, Nashville, Tenn.; Pfc. Willie Brown Jr., 24, Savoyard, Ky.; Cpl. Eddie Chestnut, 21, Walterboro, S.C.; Pfc. Henry Moyer Jr., 20, Oak City, N.C.; Pfc. Jim Williams Jr., 19, Dayton, Ohio; and Pfc. Wilbur L. Jones, 23, Raleigh, N.C.

Psychologists Bare Findings

Dark World of Suicide Probed by 2 Doctors

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two psychologists have invaded the shadowy world of suicide in a search for clues left by the 15,000 Americans who kill themselves each year.

If the doctors could learn to recognize the subtle hints thrown out by a mind plotting self-destruction they would be on their way to solving what has become a major health problem. So say Dr. Edwin S. Shneidman of the University of Southern California and Dr. Norman L. Farberow of UCLA.

★ ★ ★

By painstaking detective work the two scientists have reconstructed the lives of thousands of men and women who have committed suicide, paying special attention to their activities in the final week. They have read and analyzed nearly 800 suicide notes.

Their findings have just been published in a book called "Clues to Suicide."

The psychologists found that most suicides occur between the ages of 40 and 59, that three times as many men kill themselves as women, that three times as many whites commit suicide as nonwhites.

They found suicides more common among the economically well off than among the poor. They found far more Protestants kill themselves than do Catholics or Jews. They found that the suicide rate for married persons is lower than for those who are single, widowed or divorced, and that there are fewer suicides proportionately in rural areas than in cities.

★ ★ ★

They found that women generally favor barbiturates as instruments of suicide, while men are more liable to use guns or other violent means.

And they found the things that supposedly trigger the suicide—ill health, emotional stress, financial loss, and the other motives usually listed in newspapers—are not the real causes and are actually not very important in the study.

★ ★ ★

"Most of the letters we have give ill health as the reason," Dr. Shneidman said in an interview. "But obviously everyone in ill health doesn't commit suicide just as everyone who lost money in 1929 didn't jump out the window. It goes much deeper than that."

"But what we're trying to learn is not so much why people commit suicide as how they act once the idea of suicide has taken hold.

★ ★ ★

"We believe there are definite signs that indicate the suicidal attitude—obvious things such as loss of appetite, sleeplessness, lowered sex drive and others not so obvious.

"We hope to make these signs so explicit that they can be recognized for what they are and the individual can get the care and understanding that could save his life."

Avondale to Continue Bus Service for All Students

Board Orders New Routes

150 Parents Turn Out at Stormy Meeting; Fund Woes Unsolved

AVONDALE — Parents of students in the Avondale district gained a concession and schools Supt. Raymond Baker gained a big headache when the Avondale School Board voted last night to continue to transport all students to and from school, but ordered a new route system set up.

The board voted to have school buses pick up all students, even those within the controversial 1½-mile radius of the school where a curtailment of bus service had been ordered.

★ ★ ★

But board members stated that school buses could stop only at designated points along the main highways.

Where the buses will stop and how the routes are to be rearranged was left up to Supt. Baker and his assistants.

Meanwhile the original problem of where the school district will find funds to pay for transporting all students remains unresolved.

STATE CUTBACK

The decision to cut bus transportation for some students within a 1½-mile radius of the school was made because of a state cutback in school transportation funds which left the schools pinched for money.

Parents protested the ruling, and last night's meeting was called to offer a compromise proposal by the school board.

Some of the 150 parents who turned out at last night's meeting in Avondale High School expressed themselves as satisfied with the board's decision.

★ ★ ★

Others argued that the proposed new bus routes will cost the schools as much as before and create unnecessary hardships for children by forcing them to walk further to bus stops.

At times tempers ran so high at last night's meeting that mothers began a verbal squabble on their own, shouting their views from one to the other, while school board members continued to conduct their meeting.

Supt. Baker today said he and Asst. Supt. Arnold Ojala were starting today on the "tremendous job" of rerouting and rescheduling the buses.

'COMPLICATED, DIFFICULT'

"Few people realize how complicated and difficult it is to work out a new school bus system," Baker said.

"We have a deadline of next Friday to get a count of all students riding school buses for the state. We're hoping that we can get the new schedule set up before then.

"Parents will be notified as soon as the new system is ready to operate. Meanwhile buses will keep to the old schedule."

★ ★ ★

Supt. Baker said he did not believe the school district would save any money under the new system.

"There are still the same number of students to transport," he concluded. "And the big problem remains — how to finance it?"

Lake Orion Newlyweds Return From Honeymoon

LAKE ORION — Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Watson are living on Broadway street in Lake Orion, following a honeymoon to Torch Lake.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Watson is the former Bonnie Jean Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Lemmons of 54 E. Sheffield St., Pontiac. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Watson of 940 N. Heights Rd.

The couple were united in marriage by the Rev. Albert Johns, at the Lake Orion Methodist Church. The altar was flanked by palms for the Saturday ceremony, read before 125 guests.

★ ★ ★

The bride chose a strapless gown of Chantilly lace over net and silk, with a long-sleeved jacket styled with a Peter Pan collar of Chantilly lace. Her fingertip veil was secured to a lace cap.

Mrs. Lewis Lucas was matron of honor, and Peggy Tomanek of Pontiac and Dorothy Watson, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids.

Lewis Lucas was the best man. Glenn Clark, brother of the bride, and William Watson Jr., brother of the bridegroom served as ushers.

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP—At a special meeting of the Township Board last night, street and water special assessment bonds amounting to $57,000 were sold to Goodbody & Co. of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Board Will Get Rezoning Issue

Planners in Farmington Indicate New Action Despite Opposition

By WILMA GREENWAY

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—Despite strong opposition from residents, Farmington Township Planning Board members have indicated they will recommend the rezoning of 1,000 acres of land in the township for industrial development.

It is expected that the rezoning proposal will be presented to the Township Board for final action Oct. 8.

Approximately 60 persons living in the area bounded by 9½ Mile, Howard, Halstead and Haggerty roads attended a recent public hearing to discuss the proposal. All present opposed the rezoning.

Vilican-Leman planning consultants and Planning Board members have long urged that the township provide for commercial and industrial development. They point out that this is a must if the township is to establish a sound tax base.

★ ★ ★

A majority of citizens also appears to recognize this necessity, but "want it somewhere else."

Township Supervisor Frank J. Stephenson said the township needs approximately 1,600 acres set aside for industry. At present only two small areas are zoned industrial — one on Grand River just west of Farmington city limits; the other along 8 Mile road between Middlebelt and Whitlock.

Rochester Sells School Bonds

Funds Will Be Used for Purchasing Sites, Construction

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Board of Education sold $875,000 in school building bonds to low bidder Harriman Ripley Co. Tuesday night. Interest rate will be 4.2 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Three bids were received, ranging from the low to a high of 4.41 per cent interest.

The bond issue was voted recently for purchase of school sites and construction of an elementary school and classroom additions.

The board also discussed changes in the transportation code with a group of parents attending the meeting. A station wagon had been purchased for transporting special education children, parents were told.

★ ★ ★

The board also agreed to share with Avon Township the cost of constructing a sidewalk, as a safety factor, along Walton road from the edge of the village to the new Rochester High School.

The double-ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Fred Clark last Saturday evening at the Oxford Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kimmel, and the bridegroom is the son of the Fred Millirons of Benzonia.

The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white Chantilly lace over satin with a cascade of tulle ruffles in the front of the skirt. Her shoulder-length veil fell from a Juliet cap, and she carried a white Bible under her traditional white bouquet.

★ ★ ★

Attending her sister was Mrs. Roger Whiteway of Scottsdale, Ariz. Fred Hawkins of Benzonia acted as best man.

The Rosebush quadruplets, Keith, Kenneth, Kristine and Krystal, served as ringbearers and flower girls, with the little girls gowned identically to the matron of honor.

Includes Coeds in Reports

Diary of Collegian in 1864 Parallels 1957 Interests

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A college boy a century ago wasn't too different from his counterpart today.

This is illustrated by the diary of Albert Farley, a University of Michigan student during Civil War days from Romeo. His college writings are now part of the University's historical collections.

★ ★ ★

The 19th century collegiate even writes of a coed.

Here are a few entries from 1864:

"May 7—A refreshing thundershower this morning. Went up to the museum with Emma.

"May 14 — Grant successful. Seven thousand prisoners. Called on Emma and had a jolly time.

"May 16 — Holiday today, for Grant has driven Lee but not routed him. Walked to Ypsilanti and back. (A roundtrip of about 20 miles.) Think it is a very pleasant place. The union school has a handsome building, as well as the Normal (now Eastern Michigan College), either of which is better than the union here.

★ ★ ★

"June 3—Went to the observatory this evening. Saw Jupiter and Saturn and several satellites. First strawberries.

"June 17 — Elected officers in Adelphi. Ice cream at Hangstoffer's. Serenaded on the way home by the freshman band.

And from 1865:

"Jan. 9—Dr. Palmer lectured on anatomy. He had a skeleton hanging upside down beside him and by rattling its bones, he succeeded in keeping us awake.

"Jan. 18—Getting along fine reviewing and I guess we shall be ready for the examination when it comes. Taught Bigelow how to tie his necktie after the most approved style."

Independence Sets $8,329 UF Goal

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—The 1957 Independence Township United Fund goal of $8,329 was announced today by Campaign Chairman Merle Bennett. The campaign kick off is Nov. 4 and it will run until Nov. 25.

★ ★ ★

"At first glance the goal may seem quite high," said Bennett, "However, this year's drive truly typifies a 'give once for all' effort with the inclusion of cancer, Boy Scouts and Big Brothers."

★ ★ ★

This fall's drive marks the first time these national agencies have been included in the local UF campaign. Therefore, none of the three will run separate drives in the area.

★ ★ ★

The largest single appropriation is earmarked for the newly-formed Independence Township Recreation Program, $1,850.

"The township's ever-growing population now stands at 7,620 residents after almost doubling since 1950. So by simple arithmetic, if every family would contribute at least $3 we would go 'way over the top," Bennett stated.

PONTIAC AFFILIATION

Other firsts for 1957 include the recently arranged affiliation with the Pontiac Area United Fund which has agreed to supply both materials and professional manpower in a genuine effort to help Independence go over the top.

The PAUF's familiar torch and feather symbol will be used locally, as will its slogan for 1957 — "Give 'Til It Helps."

"An added advantage gained by the Pontiac affiliation is the automatic drop in administrative costs and the addition of its successful pledge system to the Independence drive," Bennett said.

★ ★ ★

Girl Scouts, Catholic Social Services, Michigan Children's Aid Society, Salvation Army, Oakland Child Guidance Clinic, American Red Cross, American Cancer Society and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Clinic.

★ ★ ★

In addition, the Michigan United Fund which annually supports 15 state and 20 national agencies is again included in this year's drive. These organizations are involved in medical research, providing recreational facilities for servicemen, education and social research.

Pontiac State Hospital Honors Its 47 Family Care Therapists

Pontiac Press Photos

Family Care Therapists of Pontiac State Hospital were honored by the hospital for their continued interest in caring for patients placed in their homes for rehabilitation. Dr. Albert Wilson, assistant clinical director, discusses patients being cared for by (left to right) Mrs. Ray Newberry of Fenton; Mrs. Beryl Butterfield of White Lake, and Mrs. Walter Vancil of Giddings road.

Forty-seven Family Care Therapists who have served Pontiac State Hospital were honored at a luncheon and program Wednesday at the hospital.

Following a welcoming address by Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, medical superintendent, awards to the four original therapists were presented. Those receiving awards were Mrs. Anna Healy of Milford, Ira Clevenger of Holly, Mrs. Elsie Lockwood of Holly and Mrs. George Martin of Royal Oak.

A letter from Gov. G. Mennen Williams to the therapists was read by Dr. LaCore.

TOUR HOSPITAL

Honor Day opened with registration in the morning followed by a tour of the hospital. Dr. Anne W. Becker, clinical director, addressed the group on "Modern Treatment."

Afternoon sessions led by hospital personnel entailed discussion of "Modern Treatment of Geriatric Patients" and "Rehabilitating Patients in Family Care."

Organized in 1942, the Family Care Program at Pontiac State Hospital claims four of the original 10 therapists. During the years the program expanded, and at the present time there are more than 300 patients in 47 homes.

THERAPISTS PRAISED

The therapists were praised for their understanding and interest in the patients, and for their part in rehabilitation work.

Mrs. George Martin, who lives in Royal Oak, is a typical therapist. A jovial Irish woman, she cares for two ladies who have been with her for a number of years. For a time she cared for 18 elderly women with a great deal of success. She took her first family care patient into her home in 1942, a pioneer in the field, and since that time has continuously cared for one or more patients.

When she spent a month in Florida a few years ago, she took her family care patient with her, paying all the expenses.

Another outstanding therapist is Ira Clevenger, who with the late Mrs. Clevenger, opened his home in 1943 to a patient. Mr. Clevenger has continued the work, devoting himself to these patients as did Mrs. Clevenger.

Mrs. Healy provides a home for 10 patients at her home near Milford. Patients in her home consider her an excellent cook and homemaker. A family care therapist who sees to it that her patients receive the latest beauty treatment is Mrs. Elsie Lockwood of Holly, a beauty operator. She cares for four patients.

Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, medical superintendent of the hospital, presents a letter from Gov. G. Mennen Williams to Mrs. George Martin, a family care therapist. Mrs. Johanna Schettler (left) supervisor of the Family Care program, is shown reading the letter praising Mrs. Martin for 15 years of service to the hospital and the community.

Women Get More Jobs in Politics

Willing to Accept Sharp Criticism of Opponents

WASHINGTON — Eleanor Roosevelt once said that women who go into politics have to be willing to "stand up and be shot at."

Most women who have battled their way to the top of the field, long dominated by men, would say the same thing.

★ ★ ★

Despite this hurdle, Miss Bertha Adkins, assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee, has announced there are more women in public offices now than ever before in this country's history. And, she adds, the trend is toward still more.

"We are gratified there are more women serving and the variety of jobs increasing," "Miss Adkins said, "but we recognize the need to get more into public service."

Combining responsibility at home and holding a public service position doubles the challenge for a woman, she added.

"It is also true that the minute you become a candidate you become a focal point for all kinds of publicity, good and bad," she explained.

"I would remind women candidates they are the symbol of the opposition and are going to be the butt of criticism. This is just as true with the men, but women are more sensitive to criticism in general than men."

★ ★ ★

In "Women in the Public Service," a series of surveys compiled by the Women's division of the Republican National Committee, of which Miss Adkins is also director, some 576,000 women are listed in federal government service as compared with 80,000 in 1923, when official government reports were first issued.

134 APPOINTEES

"As far as women appointees in this administration are concerned," Miss Adkins said, we are gratified we have as many as we have, 134. We are always trying to get more appointments on the federal level.

"But it is not easy to get women of experience capable of top policy positions who are willing to make the sacrifice to come here."

Many women who have reached the top find they cannot afford to give up the retirement and security benefits accrued in private business, nor to divest themselves of investments as required under the "conflict of interests" law governing federal appointees.

"The glory, fun and excitement of serving their country has to be weighed against the very real consideration of taking care of their needs in an older age," Miss Adkins said.

The miniature golf course appealed to Ira Clevenger of Holly when the family care therapists were taken on a tour of the hospital grounds. Here he shows Mrs. Elsie Lockwood of Holly, also a family care therapist, and Marguerite Parrish, how he gets a "hole in one." Miss Parrish is director of the Social Service Department which supervises the Family Care program.

Queen to Stay at White House

U.S. Going All-Out for Royal Visit

WASHINGTON (AP)—American officials are going all-out to make sure British Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip enjoy their visit to the United States.

For their part, the British apparently are taking pains to see that Elizabeth makes the best possible impression on the American people.

LOOK AT QUEEN

From all indications, lots of Americans will make an effort to get a look at Elizabeth, the first reigning British monarch to visit the United States in 18 years.

Elaborate preparations have been under way for months, pointing to the royal couple's arrival on United States soil on Oct. 16 to begin a six-day state visit.

After a four-day stay in Canada, Elizabeth and Philip will fly to Jamestown, Va., to take part in a festival marking the 350th anniversary of the first English settlement in the new world.

TRAVEL TO WASHINGTON

From there, the Queen and her prince will travel to Washington, where for four days they will be guests of President and Mrs. Eisenhower at the White House.

Elizabeth and Philip were here briefly in 1951, but that was before she ascended the throne.

Mrs. Eisenhower, now vacationing in Newport, R. I., reportedly is supervising arrangements for the royal couple's stay at the White House.

The Queen's tastes—she prefers simple food and doesn't like shellfish — are being studied by those planning menus.

At the White House, the Queen and her husband will stay in the Queen's Suite, rose-decorated second floor quarters which five queens have used before.

★ ★ ★

In Williamsburg, Va., their first overnight stop in the United States, they will occupy a suite in the Williamsburg Inn. That suite normally rents for $66 a day.

EXPECT CROWDS

Big crowds are expected for all the Queen's public appearances. Wherever she goes, it will be at a walking pace to give as many people as possible a chance to see her, State Department spokesmen say. Secret Service agents and State Department security officers have been making a step-by-step check of the routes she will cover.

On her brief visit to New York City, Oct. 21, the Queen will get a ticker-tape parade up lower Broadway and a ferryboat ride. She'll speak to the United Nations Assembly although she will miss Congress, which is not in session.

Reports from Britain say Elizabeth is brushing up on television technique because four TV companies plan to film many of her appearances. It's also reported the Queen has ruled out fur coats and large hats because they might obscure her face or form.

Indicative of the royal pair's drawing power is the flood of requests for invitations to official functions for them. Wiley Buchanan, U.S. chief of protocol, says there has been an "enormous number."

The University of Maryland, where Elizabeth and Philip will attend a football game Oct. 19, has added 10,000 seats to its stadium at nearby College Park, Md., and the new total of 46,000 seats is practically sold out already. Requests for tickets have come all the way from Canada and Puerto Rico.

Prosecutor Addresses Zonta Club

Frederick Ziem, Oakland county prosecutor, spoke to Zonta Club members when the group met Thursday noon at Hotel Waldron.

He explained the types of offenses, cases and enforcement proceedings under his jurisdiction. He pointed out that the rapid growth of Oakland County has made part of the county fourth most congested in population in the nation.

Mrs. L. Raymond Sampson announced the progress of plans for annual Zonta card party to be held Oct. 1.

Has Applicator

One new home permanent comes with a squeeze comb applicator. The liquid is put into the tube-like contraption and squeezed through the plastic comb

City Home, Garden Club Sees Films

Mrs. Alfred Rothweiler was chairman of the day when Better Home and Garden Club met Thursday afternoon at the YWCA. She was assisted by Mrs. Fred Carr, Mrs. Lulu Luby and Mrs. Maude Place.

Orsen Phelps of the Pontiac Police Department showed motion pictures on Michigan Conservation.

Mrs. Lucille Young gave a report on Michigan Conservation Department's Higgins Lake Training Camp. The camp offered a basic education in the principles and practices pertaining to conservation and management of natural resources.

Men's Shoes Go Continental

Young men headed back to school will go jauntily, handsomely and above all comfortably, reports a national shoe institute's fashion advisory committee.

The slim continental styling so prevalent in men's shoes has sifted down to the younger generation. This look is apparent in the laced or laceless oxford type and, of course, in the slip-on — essential to every young man's wardrobe.

★ ★ ★

Brown continues to be the leading color but adds variety with the new range of tones—from the golden to the deep, warm, reddish shades.

Black will be increasingly important.

Textures add dramatic highlights. This fall will see more grained leathers, alone or in combination with the smooth leathers.

Brushed leathers, now more durable and easier to care for due to the deeper pile, are on the upswing.

Past May Hold Profitable Ideas

By ANNE HEYWOOD

I think we'll all agree that it's a mistake to live in the past. But there's no harm delving into it once in awhile, especially if you bring back a good idea.

★ ★ ★

That's what the Browns did, and it was the beginning of a profitbale hobby.

LIMITED BUDGET

The Browns are friends of mine, a young couple who are raising three children on a limited budget.

★ ★ ★

For some time, they tried to think of something to do at home in the evenings that would bring in a little extra money.

"But neither of us is really good at business nor specially talented in arts and crafts," Mrs. Brown told me.

"Jim is pretty good at refinishing furniture and I'm pretty good at upholstery, but neither of us is good enough to set up a business.

★ ★ ★

"We had just about given up when, one day, a fit of nostalgia for 'the good old days' saved our lives.

A RURAL SCENE

"We were driving past an old farmhouse on a country road. The farmer and his wife were on the porch, rocking.

"The scene reminded be of my grandmother's house and the charming upholstered rocking chairs she and my aunts and uncles always used to sit in. Nowadays, I thought, people don't use rocking chairs nearly enough.

"Well, Jim and I both got thinking about it. Then we began going to auctions, buying up the old shabby rocking chairs and putting them in shape.

"We figured out ways of upholstering even the plain wooden ones with foam rubber and thumb tacks! Jim refinished and repaired them, and I upholstered them.

"We used them at home — the children loved them. Friends commented on them and wanted to buy them and now we have a nice little business. We'll fix up old rockers for a fee, or we'll sell 'new' ones.

QUITE A REVIVAL

"We're really responsible for quite a revival of the rocking chair in our community!"

★ ★ ★

If you're looking for a product or service to help add to your income, delve back into your past or poke around in the family's attic or even the old photograph albums. You may find an idea that will really spark you.

That's what I call making good use of the past!

Shape Should Be Complementary

Buy Earrings That Flatter Face

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "How does one know what type earring is most becoming? Sometimes I buy them and think they flatter me, but my family and friends will say that they are unbecoming. Maybe I am swayed by the way the earrings themselves look. Are there any rules?"

A. Yes indeed! Here are some: The inverted triangle, or the face which is wide at the top and narrow at the bottom, should have rings which are close to the cheek. They should not be long, or of the drop variety.

The round face needs long earrings. The long, thin face should have heavy and short or round ones.

Q. "How can I prevent lipstick from spreading into the skin about the mouth. My mouth always looks smeared after I eat."

A. You probably are using a lipstick which is too oily. However, when eating things like corn on the cob most all of them smear. The indelible ones are less apt to spread, but these are too dry for some women.

★ ★ ★

Q. "I have a nice skin which is very white and blonde except for high color in my cheeks. Each summer I try and try to get a suntan but all I do is freckle or burn or just look dirty. Am I lacking some vitamin?"

A. Some fair skins do not react well at all to suntanning—in fact this is true of most skins of this sort. Do not try to get a tan. You receive plenty of vitamin D from the sun porch.

Very fair skin is usually drier than the more brunette skin. Therefore it ages more rapidly, especially when exposed to the direct rays of the sun in a suntanning project.

There are definite rules to follow when buying earrings. Be sure they fit your face.

Q. "Please give me some exercises for large knuckles. My fingers are normal in size but my knuckles are large and I cannot get a ring to fit them."

A. If your knuckles are swollen, you should see a physician. This condition is sometimes caused by arthritis.

The large knuckles are probably much more noticeable to you than to anyone else. In fact, others probably do not notice them at all. There is no exercise which will reduce bone. Sorry.

★ ★ ★

Q. "Is mineral oil good to use as a lubricant for the complexion?"

A. No. It is even considered drying by some. You would do much better to buy one of the good brands or to make your own cream. You can do this by adding olive oil to cosmetic lanolin.

Plenty of Grandmas Like to Take Care of Kiddies

They Derive Pleasure From Helping With Their Grandchildren

By RUTH MILLETT

There are still plenty of "old-fashioned" grandmas left in the world who think it is a privilege to babysit with their grandchildren.

How do I know. Well, I had so many letters from grandmothers who claimed they were fed up with being unpaid baby sitters that I based a column on their letters.

Right back came a flood of letters from grandmothers who sawred at the idea that it is an imposition.

Let's hear from a few who feel this way about the matter. Here is how one grandma feels:

"My daughter, her husband and four lovely (but very lively) children live near me.

"I am their official sitter and my ego is inflated when they call on me. It is wonderful just to know they trust me.

★ ★ ★

"When bedtime comes, prayers are said and four pairs of little arms have encircled my neck with 'Goodnight, Grandma, we love you.' I only wish it could happen more often."

FUNNY GRANNY?

Another grandmother writes: "I can't understand why any grandmother should resent being asked to look after her grandchildren now and then.

"Maybe I am just a funny old grandma, but I love my grandchildren (I have three) so much that I want them any time I can get them and I consider it a blessing to have them visit me."

★ ★ ★

And here's a letter from a grandmother who speaks for herself and grandpa, too. She writes:

"This grandma and grandpa just love to babysit and I know there must be plenty of others who feel as we do. We realize it's good for young folks to have a little breathing spell from the responsibility of child care and that stepping out occasionally helps to keep young love in bloom.

"In fact, in our family Saturday is grandpa's day and wild horses couldn't drag him away. He arrives to take care of the grandchildren promptly at 11 o'clock and he wouldn't miss that weekly date for the world.

"We certainly extend our sympathy to any young couple whose parents resent babysitting."

★ ★ ★

Well, there's the other side of the story. And fortunately for young couples, there is this other, brighter side.

The Trick Is Not to Worry About Your Worries

Talk, Religion, Relaxation Ease Women's Tensions

(Tension is a fact for the 20th Century American woman. The important thing is what you do about it. Here, in the last of a series of five articles, experts in a number of fields offer their suggestions on learning to live with tension.)

By OLGA CURTIS
INS Women's Editor

Having tensions is nothing to be ashamed of. Everybody has them.

Ever since Adam and Eve, the National Association for Mental Health reassures us, each human being has had the capacity to live through emotionally upsetting situations, even crisis, and to bounce back when they're over.

★ ★ ★

The trouble with tension comes when you don't bounce back.

Fortunately, even the woman who's lost her bounce can regain resilience with a simple formula. It's plain ordinary talk, the association says, and it's weapon No. 1 against tension.

Just talk it over, talk it out. It will relieve your strain; it may even provide the answer to your problem.

★ ★ ★

But you must talk to someone your trust—perhaps your husband, your parents, your clergyman, your doctor, your dearest friend — or your God.

TWO COMMANDMENTS

"The real answer to tension," says playwright Mary Chase of Denver, "lies in the First and Second Commandments."

★ ★ ★

It's easier to love God, she admits, then to "love thy neighbor as thyself." But the famed author of "Harvey" believes that concern for the lives of others brings a fuller, happier life for today's woman.

Evangelist Billy Graham believes a great many tensions are related to "the spiritual side." He says, "Faith in Christ can break these tensions."

And many women are turning to religion to escape modern tension, adds Naomi Flax of the Women's League of United Synagogues of America. She says:

"There as been a considerable increase in religious feeling, more so among women than among men. But women influence their whole families.

★ ★ ★

"Some people may laugh at the slogan 'the family that prays together stays together.' But prayer does increase the loving nature and ability to stay together. And togetherness eases tension."

ON MANY FRONTS

The battle against tension is best fought on many fronts. The most logical thing to do when you're jumpy is see your doctor; make sure the cause is not physical.

★ ★ ★

The second most logical thing to do is to sleep enough, eat the right things and exercise a little — observe the basic rules of health.

Two of Washington's best-known and busiest married women offered similar suggestions to their harried sisters.

Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, treasurer of the United States, believes "systematic planning reduces tensions — it cuts down time and is much better than the running around you will do if you meet things haphazardly."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Priest also finds a few minutes' relaxation, whenever she can squeeze it in during the day, helps cut down tension.

BUDGETS HER TIME

Capital hostess Mrs. Owen Cafritz, who works as hard in social and civic activities as any career woman, says her own private recipe for avoiding tension is "to do one thing at a time and budget my time." Included in that budget is time "to get some real relaxation."

★ ★ ★

These tips are among the "relaxers" listed by the National Association for Mental Health as possible aids for persons "feeling trapped," suspicious of others and tortured with self-doubt. Here's the list:

— Talk the problem out.
— Escape for a little while, if only to a movie or your TV set.
— Work off anger, with plain hard work.
— Take one thing at a time.
— Give in occasionally and go easy with criticism.
— Do something for other people — it will take the steam out of your own woes.

These rules, a guard against tension, add up to a formula against loneliness too. Loneliness is one of the worst tensions — and the lonely person is most apt to crack up.

When New York City investigated 547 attempted suicides by barbituate poisonings during an eight-month period of 1955, the results astounded tension experts.

Of the 547 attempted suicides, 407 were women, 140 men.

They were mostly married women, a good percentage of them working women. Yet not a single one could name a hobby, any interest in the community "outside" themselves.

SOMEONE TO TALK TO

The official New York City Department of Health conclusion was:

"Most of the problems could have been worked out if these people had had someone to talk to."

★ ★ ★

But they didn't — and swallowed sleeping pills, the way too many women today swallow tranquilizers or whisky.

Having fun with others and helping others has always been a sure cure for your own blues. Misery still loves company — but the woman who thinks her own troubles are unsurpassed may be able to ease her tensions when she discovers a lot of other women have the same troubles.

No human being can stop worrying so long as he lives. The trick is not to worry about your worries.

Borrowed Silverware Incomplete

Lender Discovers That Fork, Spoon Are Missing

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently, the daughter of our next-door neighbor was married. She had a rather large reception at home. One evening shortly before the wedding the mother came over to tell us of the wedding plans and asked if she might borrow our punch bowl and some silver.

"My husband and I entertain a great deal and have an ample supply of silver. I was only too glad to help out. The day after the wedding, the bride's mother came over and returned the things she had borrowed.

"After she left and I was putting the silver back in the silver chest, I noticed that a fork and spoon were missing. I am very much upset over it and don't know how to bring up the subject to my neighbor without offending her. Can you help me?"

Answer: You can most properly ask her please to look and try to find the fork and spoon that are missing.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be proper to give a couple who will be celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary something not in silver if you happen to know of something else they'd rather have and would get more use out of than silver?"

Answer: By all means give them what you happen to know would please them most. You can carry out the silver motive by having the package done up in silver wrappings.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend and I have been having an argument as to the correct way to eat a hamburger. She says it is bad manners to pick up a whole round hamburger roll sandwich in the fingers and that it should always (except perhaps at a picnic) be broken or cut in half before eating. Is this true?"

Answer: Usually it is cut in half, but if you have no knife, it is best to eat it whole since it is very difficult to tear in half neatly.

It's Childish to Tell Youngsters Everything

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

When Greg was first told his parents were going to have a baby, he showed no interest. It was clear he regarded their news as just mysterious adult decisions which it's silly for children to even try to understand.

★ ★ ★

However, a couple of days later when his mother was undressing him for bed, he suddenly asked, "What's this baby doing now? Where are you going to get it?"

Now all his mother needed to say was, "It's growing inside of me now. When it's big enough, it will let me know and get itself born."

★ ★ ★

But instead of giving him this casual, simple answer, she sank down on his bed — and began an anxious, long-winded explanation of the psysiology of birth.

Why do some of us feel it necessary to give children more sex information than they ask for?

Well, I think our talkativeness is a holdover from our childhood when we rushed to tell Mommy "everything" lest she imagine we'd been up to something naughty.

A LITTLE NAUGHTY

I think that some of us do feel a little naughty when we are required to tell our first child how we begot our second one. We become defensive, not only because we're forcing displacement on him, but because that displacement is the result of our sexual activity.

So when Greg asks us how we're getting the new baby, we feel pretty much the way we felt when Mommy used to say, "Who tore up that book?"

We're as anxious to retain his good opinion of our innocent intentions as we were to retain Mommy's.

Let's watch this childish impulse to tell "everything" to small sons and daughters.

★ ★ ★

It's part of the American parent's fear of claiming any privacy for himself. If we don't get on to this fear early, it can betray us, not only by making us overtalk sex too soon to children, but by making us uncomfortable with any experience we can't share with them.

It can do all kinds of destructive things to us, from keeping us at home every night when we would be seeing our friends, to neglect of our retirement plans.

★ ★ ★

We've no more right to try to share everything with children than we have to demand that they share everything with us.

Hopes to Save Youth's Sight

'Revenge' Lye Attack in High School Class Perils Boy's Vision

NEW YORK (AP) — A specialist says he is hopeful of saving the sight of 16-year-old David Ozersky, partially blinded by liquid lye tossed into a Brooklyn high school classroom yesterday.

Ozersky's alleged assailant, Maurice Kessler, 17, a fellow student, is scheduled for arraignment today on a felonious assault charge.

★ ★ ★

At St. Clare's Hospital last night, Dr. Loren P. Guy expressed optimism about ultimate restoration of the youth's sight, but said it would be 10 days to two weeks before the full extent of damage to his eyes would be known.

As of last night, Guy said, Ozersky had some vision. He was suffering from lye burns of the eyes, face, neck and back.

★ ★ ★

Police termed the attack by Kessler as a revenge attack. Kessler, a Negro, had been free in $1,000 bail pending trial on a morals charge brought last summer by Ozersky, who is white.

Yesterday, Ozersky was sitting in a history classroom at Thomas Jefferson High School when a back door opened and a youth hurled a beer bottle full of lye. Another boy was badly burned, and 18 other students and a teacher suffered burns from the splattering of the searing liquid after it shattered on the floor.

★ ★ ★

A science teacher, Isidor Auerbach, rushed into the room when he heard hysterical screams coming from the pupils. One girl told police some students had opened windows of the second-floor room and were preparing to jump out.

Auerbach grabbed Ozersky and rushed him into the school shower room. Then he dashed back and bathed the rest of the injured with water until ambulances arrived.

Defendant Charged With Killing Juror

CHICAGO (AP) — When the name of Mrs. Margaret de Franko was called for jury duty in the trial of three men charged with armed robbery, the bailiff told Judge Julius H. Miner: "She is dead."

★ ★ ★

"This man," the bailiff said pointing to one of the defendants, Robert Smith, 28, "is charged with murdering her."

★ ★ ★

Smith and two accomplices yesterday were sentenced to long prison terms for the robbery of a drugstore. They go on trial today for the murder of Mrs. de Franko, 45, last Feb. 21. She was fatally shot, police said, when she walked in on the holdup of a liquor store.

'Romantic Handshakes' in Style for the Duration

Asian Flu Will Surely Bug You This Winter

WASHINGTON (NEA) — You'd better become a snob if you don't want to get bitten by the Asian Flu bug.

You may be forced to give up that miracle diet even if it means you won't be able to squeeze into your winter clothes.

GIVE UP KISSING

And if you're in love, just develop a romantic handshake and give up kissing for "the duration."

This is the price you'll have to pay if you follow advice the Public Health Service is about to distribute on how to fight influenza.

The easy-to-follow set of rules has been prepared to help reduce the number of victims if Flu strik this country in epidemic proportions and NEA is dble to present an exclusive preview.

ALOOF MANNERS

They add up to the fact that aloof manners are one of the best defenses you'll have if you can't get a shot of the new flu-fighting vaccine.

★ ★ ★

If flu should break out in your town, get away from crowds. Breaking that date for the big dance may be what save you from waking up with a cough, muscle aches, chills, fever ranging from 102-4 degrees, headache and sore throat.

If you've got a cold, start snubbing even your best friends. Stay home and don't answer the doorbell. The PHS warns that callers may bring in new germs.

Shun anyone who doesn't use a handkerchief. During a flu epidemic, the germs he sprays make him a menace.

GAIN POUNDS

If you're existing on cottage cheese to trim down an embarrassing wasteline, you better risk gaining a few pounds, PHS doctors advise regular well-balanced meals plus plenty of rest.

Romance is taboo. The Asiatic Flu bug flourishes in the nose and mouth. So when your girl friend snuggles up close, play it tough like those hard-to-get Hollywood movie heroes.

But if you become the most antisocial person in town and still catch the flu, here's what to do:

Go to bed as soon as symptoms start.

Call your doctor.

Keep warm and stay away from drafts.

If you get out of bed, put on a warm robe and slippers.

Eat simple foods that agree with you.

Stay in bed until your doctor decides the chances of your catching pneumonia have passed.

If you're taking care of someone in your family who has been stricken by Asiatic Flu, follow these simple rules:

★ ★ ★

Keep his dishes away from those used by the rest of the family.

COVER SNEEZES

Make sure he covers his sneezes and coughs with tissues. Have him deposit the tissues in a paper bag and replace the bags frequently.

Wash your hands several times a day, especially before preparing food.

Physicians stress that you should not take antibiotics until your doctor gives his okay. These drugs are used to combat other infections that might follow on the heels of Asiatic Flu and have no effect on the virus itself.

★ ★ ★

Doctors believe these additional complications are what killed four Asiatic Flu victims in the United States. The PHS is bracing itself for more deaths.

But medical experts explain additional fatalities will not mean the relatively mild flu virus is picking up strength. Especially vulnerable targets in the expected small death rate will be elderly people whose resistance is lowered against respiratory diseases.

The PHS doesn't look for the virus to increase its potency. And even if it does, doctors say there's no reason to believe the present vaccine will lose its expected effectiveness.

★ ★ ★

If an epidemic hits, health officials believe it will strike during the fall or winter months. Already between 20,000 and 25,000 people in the United States have contracted the disease. Whether or not it could sweep the country before cooler weather sets in "is anybody's guess," one PHS doctor explains.

Frosh Class President Enjoys Luxury Hazing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The president of the freshman class at Pasadena (Calif.) Nazarene College was shanghaied and put aboard a plane for San Francisco last night by sophomores.

Lon Tuin, 18, of Brighton, Colo., who is studying for the ministry, enjoyed the hazing.

He said the flight, his first, was "real nice." And the sophomores took him to dinner too.

PHS Student Union Collects $5,800

By JACK HENDRICKSON

Two days of collection has given the Pontiac High School Student Union over $5,800 to pay for the privileges it obtains for its 1,300 members, according to Donald McMillen, Student Union faculty adviser.

Basketball games are not included in this years Student Union benefits program. Due to cost and because some students are not able to attend football or basketball games, there is now a choice.

A season pass to all basketball games is optional. However, students need not belong to the Student Union to obtain this pass. They will go on sale November 1.

INCLUDES MORE THAN SPORTS

The benefits the student receives by joining the Student Union for five dollars is worth $11.50. His membership card entitles him to five football games, four assemblies, 30 Tomahawks, the school newspaper and one Quiver, the yearbook.

The A Capella Choir is in full swing now practicing for the coming Informal fall Concert, November 4. Guest conductor for the concert will be Dr. William L. Dawson, of Tuskegee Institute, Alabama.

Choir officers elected recently were Larry Beamer, president; Emmanuel Williams, vice-president; Vickie Vandecar, secretary; David Kimball, treasurer; and Pat Brown and George Palaian, librarians.

Other concert dates throughout the year include the Community Christmas Concert, December 15 and the City Wide Vocal Music Festival, February 19. The big Spring Concert will be staged May 6, 8, and 9.

SELECT SWIMMERS

At the Dolphins tryouts this week, new members were chosen. The swimmers selected were: Judy Dearing, Gail Gibson, Ann Gillies, Kathy Hunter, Shirley Hutchinson, Pat Kline, Betty Lawery, Carol Murphy, Carol Stacey, Barbara Strang, Sandra Turrel, Sally Vogel and Joan Wood.

St. Fred's Holds Class Elections

Select Marty Koenig to Lead Senior Class to Graduation

By PAT FOSTER

During the past two weeks the dazed looks on the faces of the St. Fred's freshmen have been wearing off and projects for the year have been taking definite shape.

★ ★ ★

Among the main topics of conversation are the senior class rings which have just arrived, and plans for the yearbook.

Rumor has it that a certain group of junior girls can be seen crawling up stairs and limping down halls. Investigation reveals they are Mary Louise Theeringer, Mary Jean Brandt, Karen Gullet, Pat Meagher, Lorri Haps, and Carol Lawlor who compose the new junior varsity cheerleading squad.

Class elections were on the agenda recently.

★ ★ ★

The senior class has elected Marty Koenig, president; Ellen Schachern, vice-president, Dick Powe, treasurer and Ingrid Soderberg, secretary.

The junior officers consists of Frank Palopli, president; Cynthia Moloney, vice-president; Frank Zwicker, treasurer, and Pat Doyon, secretary.

★ ★ ★

Heading the sophomore list is Dennis Pearle, president; Colette Schaeffer, vice-president; Phil Bieri, treasurer and Theresa Dobski, secretary.

The freshmen will wait a little longer to get acquainted before electing their officers.

The freshmen were informally welcomed at a get-acquainted record hop in their honor at the school hall last Friday night.

Our football team will meet Holy Cross of Marine City at Wisner Stadium Sunday night in the opening game of the season. The game was preceded by this year's first pep-rally this afternoon at the school hall.

★ ★ ★

We won a scrimmage Sunday against St. Agatha by a score of 47-0.

County High Schools Hold Post-Game Dances

This week has been a busy one for students of the Lake Orion Community High School because of the first club meetings and election of class officers and student council representatives.

Clubs forming this year are art, band, camera, forensic, future teachers, future homemakers, girl's glee, Hi-Y, Y-teens, O-club, and the pep club.

The National Honor Society which was established in Orion just a year ago, is beginning its first year as a regular chartered society.

Before the football game with Roseville tonight at 8 p.m., a pep meeting will be held featuring the band and cheerleaders this afternoon.

★ ★ ★

The Student Council had a special meeting this week to iron out the establishment of a hall monitor system, concessions for the games, and many problems to be met in a new school.

A committee met Tuesday to decide the type of furniture for the school lobby. The class of 1957 left funds to purchase the furniture, a tradition at Orion for the students to do something for the school, themselves.

The three big display cases in the lobby now contain the trophies won by the school in recent years; a display by the Art Club advertising in a forceful manner the benefits of the organization; and news about scholarships and general school interest.

Officers at Monday night's P.T.A. board meeting suggested their desire to have the students in a parent, teacher, student association to represent the high school in the near future.

★ ★ ★

Plans to introduce the idea to the student body should be ready soon.

AT AVONDALE

Avondale High School will meet Dearborn-Roosevelt High in the first home football game of the season tonight at 8.

★ ★ ★

Following the game is a Kick-Off dance in the gymnasium, sponsored by the Future Homemakers of America Club. The dance will be 15 cents stag and 25 cents drag. Booster buttons are being sold by the cheerleaders.

Eckert Keller, our foreign exchange student, will be the recipient of an official Avondale High School class ring and commencement announcements from the Balfour Company. Charles Burgess, representative of the company will present them to Eckert.

According to forensic leader, Leonard Passint, the debate topic for this year's high school debators is foreign aid.

Approximately 60 boys are competing for positions on the football team under the direction of head coach Frank Crowell.

★ ★ ★

Four returning lettermen of last year are Richard Freeland, Bob Grusnick, Chuck Nurek, and Duane Lau, the 1957 captain.

AT WEST BLOOMFIELD

The school term this fall at West Bloomfield High School started with a schedule change. Students agree that the new time schedule, school starting at 8:00 and dismissing at 2:45, is much improved from last year.

★ ★ ★

Friday, the thirteenth of September, was the first social event at West Bloomfield. The Superstition Dance was sponsored by the cheerleading squads under the direction of Mrs. M. S. Waters, girls athelic coach. Proceeds from the dance were for cheerleading outfits and equipment.

AT WALLED LAKE

Uniforms pressed, instruments polished, and the Walled Lake High School band practiced marching drills this week to prepare to perform at Briggs Stadium on Sunday, for the Detroit Lions-New York Giants game.

The game will be televised and although Detroit stations will be blacked out, the Lansing and Toledo stations will cover the game.

Three other high school bands will participate. They are Waite of Toledo, Bedford, and Lincoln of Van Dyke.

Director Helmut Holland-Moritz has been rehearsing the four numbers: Star Spangled Banner, Show Boy, East Side, West Side, and Gridiron Heroes, which will be played.

The majorettes plan to do a dance-twirling routine to East Side, West Side. This year's high steppers include Carol Pickard, chairman; Lorene Payton, Bonnie Woolley, Dorothy Williams, Beth Schultz and Barbara Schultz.

Legion Members Head for Europe on Goodwill Visit

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — A thousand or more American Legionnaires headed for Europe today on a "pilgrimage for peace" after winding up their 39th annual convention.

★ ★ ★

The exodus began after the veterans elected John S. Gleason Jr., 42, Chicago banker, World War II veteran and father of six boys, as their new national commander.

While most of the conventioneers set out for home, others took off on visits to old battlefields on a good will mission.

★ ★ ★

They did not travel as a unit, but in various groups. All will get together for a reception to be given by the French government later in the month in Paris, birthplace of the 2,800,000-member Legion.

This is the fourth such trip at 10-year intervals.

★ ★ ★

Chief item of interest among the delegates was adoption of a resolution calling upon Congress to approve a limited pension plan — to aid veterans in the 65-year age bracket who have small incomes.

★ ★ ★

The Legion estimates that more than a million World War I veterans will be 65 or older by next June 30. So will 22,000 World War II veterans.

Junior High Pupils Join Clubs This Week

Talk of the whole student body at Lincoln Junior High has been what club to select from the thirty offered by the various teachers as sponsors.

The hobby, skills, or interest groups meet twice a week in an activity period which includes games, sports, and handicrafts of wood, metal, clay, art materials, and home-making, photography, printing, and many book clubs.

William Sturgeon, chairman of the Lincoln Student Council committee, with his committee of Beryl Roush and Mrs. George E. Gary, are organizing representation for each home-room to meet as a student law-making body under its student-elected president, Tom Eley.

The teachers had some fun this week as they gathered in the cafeteria after school on Monday to enjoy the Meet-The-New Teachers' Tea which was planned by Sydney Jones and his social committee. He was assisted by Donna Gregoire, Bobbie Comparoni, Gladys Wilkinson, Jerry Smith, Richard Hall, and James Bruno. Mrs. Al A. Stolzman of the home-making department and Clinton Lefter, guidance instructor, were the honored guests.

★ ★ ★

Students are polishing up old acts and skits and planning new ones as they get ready for the All-School Talent Show to be presented October 4 and 5. John Mittledorf is chairman and will be assisted by all the teachers in the speech department.

Lincoln Junior Band rehearsals are in full swing for the fall program as Eldon C. Rosegart, director, puts the members through their paces getting ready for the first appearance of the band.

It joins all junior high bands and the Pontiac Senior High marching band in a half-time performance at a football game in November. Dan Taylor is the student manager; Bruce Linebaugh, librarian; and John Young, equipment manager. The full band rehearses daily in the school auditorium.

★ ★ ★

Try-outs for the Choralines have been held for two weeks as Sue Eckley, music instructor, selected members for the all girl singing group.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Forest Evashevski's denials of statements he made for a national publication about Indiana coach Phil Dickens and about football in general brings up an interesting item.

The Hoosiers are now paying the highest coaching salary in the country, and that is because they are actually paying three head coaches.

They bought up Bernie Crimmins' contract for this year. Then there's the head coaching salary for Dickens. As a result of Dickens' suspension, Bob Hicks is listed as "coach in charge," and he is being paid a head coaching salary.

The exact figures are not known, but reports are that the 1957 football season is costing Indiana about $45,000 for three head coaches.

ABOUT DICKENS' SUSPENSION

The suspension of Dickens was a topic of discussion recently at a gathering of football people, and regardless of whether Evashevski admits or denies he made the statement that the Hoosier coach was penalized instead of the school, it is said to be the truth.

The violation was based on how much aid Indiana could tender a boy under the new Big 10 Code.

Indiana was served and indicted on the charge that 22 boys were offered more than the code permitted. These boys were promised $50 a month and three plane trips home a year.

★ ★ ★

The Big 10 Commissioner and a committee of three headed the hearing, and according to the rules, the penalty was to be suspension of the school from the Big 10.

Indiana waived the right to appeal, but in its plea it asked for leniency on the basis that the coach was new, that the rules were new and that the provisions were not fully understood.

Instead of suspending the school it was the coach who was penalized. In most thoughts, the former would have been the more severe so Dickens was the man to pay.

Many Big 10 people now figure that the conference will have a tougher time imposing full penalties for violations because of "leniency" in the Indiana case, where the penalty by its own code was not imposed.

Pitt-Sooner Tilt Tops College Grid Card

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oklahoma runs into a stiff test right off and Maryland, a one-time powerhouse, will try to start the long road back tomorrow as the 1957 edition of the college football season opens with top games in every section of the country.

The Sooners from Norman, Okla., play Pittsburgh in the Steel City and, despite coach Bud Wilkinson's foreboding of disaster, rate 13 point favorites to win their 41st straight game.

Pitt is strong, perhaps the strongest outfit in the East. But despite the loss of 18 lettermen, Oklahoma has no intentions of permitting a blotch on its record which includes:

1. 40 straight victories.

2. 116 straight games in which it has scored.

3. Undefeated in the Big Eight since Wilkinson took over as coach in 1947.

If the Sooners follow their usual pattern, they'll start shaky, then slowly warm up to the task and pull ahead in the final quarter. That's how they do it at the beginning of the season.

★ ★ ★

Maryland ran into a series of bad breaks last year in Tommy Mont's first season as coach and wound up with an unimpresive 2-7-1 record. Now they must play Texas A&M in their opener in Dallas in the NCAA's TV game of the week (NBC-TV, 4 p.m., EST).

The Aggies, still smarting over being barred from the Cotton Bowl last January by the NCAA, possibly are even stronger this time around. They are the logical choices for the Southwest Conference crown.

And Maryland? Well, Mont must be wondering when he ever is going to get a break. Some observers thought the Terps might win the Atlantic Coast Conference championship. But only last Tuesday, his No. 1 fullback, Phil Perlo, broke a blood vessel in his right thigh and will be lost for at least a week.

★ ★ ★

Other important clashes send Southern Methodist against California, Texas against Georgia, Navy against Boston College and North Carolina State against North Carolina.

The SMU-Cal clash will send two new coaches against each other. Bill Meek starts his first year at the helm of the Mustangs, while Pete Elliott succeeds Pappy Waldorf at Cal. wrench into the Southwest Conference race, and this one will be a tipoff on what league foes can expect later. Cal. however, is favored.

Bunning Goes After 20th at KC Tonight

KANSAS CITY (AP) — If Jim Bunning wins his game against the Kansas City Athletics tonight he'll be the 32nd Detroit Tiger pitcher to join the exclusive list of 20-game winners since Roscoe Miller first cracked the barrier fifty-six years ago.

If he makes it, his name will be enshrined along with Tiger heroes of the kidney of Wild Bill Donovan, George Mullin, and the later day giants like Schoolboy Rowe, Tommy Bridges, Bobo Newsom, Dizzy Trout and Hal Newhouser.

The hottest pitcher in the major league today, Bunning may be the first of either league to hit the magic number this season.

He's being pressed by Warren Spahn, however, who takes his third shot at his 20th victory when the Milwaukee Braves meet the Chicago Cubs in Chicago today.

Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox, another 19-game winner, has muffed one chance to get in the charmed circle, this season.

Bunning, with a 2.40 earned run average, has lost only 7 of his 26 starts.

He has pitched 248 innings, given up 193 hits and 67 bases on balls while striking out 166.

★ ★ ★

He has beaten every club in the circuit at least twice. Cleveland and Chicago he has nicked for three victories and Boston five.

All this is a far cry from the performance of the 26-year-old Kentuckian who posted a 5-1 record in part of a season with Detroit last year.

His position with the Tigers remained shaky even through spring training this season and he admits he had no idea at that time of the turn of fortune the season would bring.

★ ★ ★

A victory in the opening of the three-game series against the A's could move the Tigers into a tie for third place in the American League standings. That is, if the New York Yankees take Boston in their night meeting in New York. Detroit is a scant two games behind the Red Sox and the Yanks are anxious to wrap up the pennant race.

Moore, Anthony Rated Even for Title Bout

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Young Tony Anthony, who was just two years old when Archie Moore began fighting main events, battles to relieve the crafty but aging boxing master of his light-heavyweight title tonight.

Odds on the fight opened in the challenger's favor, then swung to even as Moore's weight problems decreased. By ring time, the champion probably will be favored.

★ ★ ★

That's largely because Anthony's ability to take a solid smash remains questionable. He failed to finish four times while campaigning as a middleweight, thus leaving some glass jaw impressions. He hasn't lost, however, since moving into the 175-pound class in late 1955.

Scheduled for 15 rounds or less at the Olympic Auditorium, the title battle starts at 9 p.m. EST. It will be televised nationally by NBC with the Los Angeles area blacked out to a radius of 150 miles.

★ ★ ★

The champion, who might be anywhere between 40 and 44 years old, goes after a knockout early while Tony plans to stay away during the early rounds and then close against a foe he expects will be tiring.

Anthony at 22 carries his poundage on a 6-foot, 1-inch frame. He emphasizes speed rather than slugging ability, although he stopped 23 of 35 foes since turning pro after being on Uncle Sam's 1952 Olympic squad.

Tony earned the title shot by knocking out Chuck Spieser in Detroit last April 4 but could only gain a draw against French-Canadian Yvon Durelle on June 14.

Venerable Archie, vastly proud of his boxing honors, which arrived at an age when most fighters have retired, puts his crown on the line for the sixth time since he captured it from Joey Maxim in St. Louis on Dec. 17, 1952. Twice he beat Joey in return matches and stopped Bobo Olson, Harold Johnson and Yolande Pompey.

★ ★ ★

Tonight he collects a $90,000 guarantee while Anthony works mostly for the opportunity to become champion. In addition to the undisclosed television guarantee, believed in the neighborhood of $70,000, the house was scaled for a $116,000 business with no assurance it would be packed. Tony's contract calls for 33⅓ per cent of gate proceeds over $40,000.

Davidson Sidelined in Tennis Tourney

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The latest international star to bite the dust at the Pacific Southwest Tennis Tournament—a black-haired Swede named Sven Davidson — blames the hard cement courts for his downfall.

★ ★ ★

"These cement courts here completely frustrated me," said Davidson, who lost a match yesterday to defending champion Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., 1-6, 6-3, 10-12, 6-1, 6-2.

★ ★ ★

Davidson joined in defeat other foreign stars such as Ashley Cooper, Neale Fraser and Mal Anderson, all of Australia, who were beaten earlier in the tourney.

In other matches yesterday, Althea Gibson of New York dropped her first set to Sally Moore of Bakersfield, Calif., but rallied and defeated the 17-year-old high school coed, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2.

State Football Action Gets Heavier

Titans Meet Rival Marquette

DETROIT (AP) — The first big weekend of football action gets started in Michigan Saturday with several games on the agenda highlighted by the University of Detroit clash against rival Marquette in Titan Stadium.

The two Big Ten schools, Michigan and Michigan State, open their seasons next Saturday, Sept. 28.

★ ★ ★

Detroit will embark into its initial season with the first crop of players who have been recruited under the Gus Dorais Memorial Foundation.

The foundation was setup a year ago for the purpose of making academic scholarships available to prospective athletes. The current crop of 32 sophomores, brought in under the foundation, are now eligible for varsity competition.

At least three of the sophs will be in the starting lineup, which according to coach Wally Fromhart, has more depth than at any time since World War II.

★ ★ ★

"We have depth but it will be inexperienced," said Fromhart, "but we should do well barring injuries."

The Titans have beaten Marquette twice in a row by the same 20-7 score, but in the all-time rivalry between the two schools, the Warriors from Wisconsin hold the edge with 12 wins, 10 losses and two ties.

The key to Detroit's success will be junior Bill Dando, an ex-Marine who has taken over the quarterbacking after a season at the halfback post. He is a southpaw passer and will operate the new Winged-T system installed by Fromhart this season.

★ ★ ★

Little Billy Russell, a 5-9 Pennsylvania speedster and sophomore Bruce Maher of Detroit will be at the halves. The deep fullback slot is still a tossup between Vic Henning and huge Dave Paden, 160 and 210 respectively.

Captain Dick Chapman, 215, of Marine City will hold down one of the end posts. There's plenty of beef in the line with 220-pounders Emerson Dromgold and Tony Sterlitz at the guards, and 230-pound tackle Denny Schroeder and 200-pound Dick White.

The game is Saturday afternoon at right half for the Ypsi eleven contest has Central Michigan playing host to Western Michigan and in Saturday night games, Eastern Michigan will visit Hope College in Holland, and Hillsdale hosts Lakeland College of Wisconsin.

★ ★ ★

The Chips saw their 15 game winning streak shattered by Bradley last week, and they meet Western without Pontiac halfback Phil Officer who was hurt in the game at Saginaw.

Coach Muddy Waters puts a 25 game winning streak on the line in his opener with a large group of area players on the squad. Quarterback Doug Maison of Imlay City, fullback Wayne O'Shaughnessy, and halfback Walt Poe of Pontiac are in the starting backfield.

Waterford's Kerry Keating starts at righ half for the Ypsi eleven with quarterback Jerry Wedge of Birmingham calling the signals.

Other state games include Indiana Central at Alma, Defiance at Adrian, Albion at Wabash and Kalamazoo at Valparaiso.

YPSI STARTER—Kerry Keating of Waterford will be back in the starting backfield for Eastern Michigan College of Ypsilanti when the Hurons open the season Saturday at Hope College. He will start at halfback with Jerry Wedge of Birmingham at quarterback.

Kuzava Bought by Cardinals

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals bought Bob Kuzava of Wyandotte, Mich., from the Columbus Jets yesterday to bolster their pitching staff in their pennant strentch drive.

The veteran lefthander, who began the season with the Pittsburgh Pirates, was to join the Cardinals today in time for the start of their three-game series at Cincinnati.

Kuzava had an 8-1 record with Columbus and an earned run average of 3.41.

Monaghan Trophy Test Open to Any Area 4-Man Plant Team

Paul Bada, Walt Latozas, Charley Barker and Chuck Cappel, comprising the defending champion golf team for the new (2nd year) P. J. Monaghan Industrial Golf Championship, were expected to return for the 1957 defense of the handsome award. This quartet represented General Motors Truck & Coach company, first winners of the trophy that replaced the former Babcock trophy, retired two years ago by GMT.

Coach team carded a medal total of 300 for the 18-hole event to edge Fisher Body's team by three strokes. Ron Rothbarth, Jack Ross, Harley Hyatt and Ed Tarchalski comprised the team, and all were expected to be back for another try this fall.

Tournney is set for Oct. 5 at Pontiac Country Club, starting at noon. Tourney chairman Jim Hanes of Pontiac Motor's team, says entries will close Sept. 26 to permit pairings to be set up sufficiently early so all may know their starting times.

Hanes says teams were tentatively listed now for GMT, Fisher, Pontiac Motor, American Forge, Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Avon Tube and Rochester National Twist Drill were said to be considering entries. Any industrial firms in the Pontiac area are invited to enter teams, says Hanes, and they should contact him at either FE 2-8111 or FE 4-6000.

Schedule 'Y' Swim Trials

Another swimming season gets under way at the Pontiac YMCA Sept. 30 when tryouts begin for positions on the prep and junior teams which will represent the local organization in competition this year.

★ ★ ★

Intermediates begin trials Oct. 4 at 7:30 p. m., divers start Oct. 5 at 12:45 p. m. and the men's team opens training sessions Oct. 7 at 7 p. m.

The prep team will be limited to boys between the ages of 9 and 12, while swimmers 13 and 14 are eligible for the junior group.

Pontiac will meet various "Y" teams throughout the area in the different age groups during the coming season in conjunction with its annual swimming program.

Baylor Faces Able Villanova Saturday

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Baylor shoves off on what is fervently hoped will be a championship season tomorrow night when the Golden Bears tackle tough, willing and able Villanova in an important intersectional game.

★ ★ ★

This is supposed to be the most experienced Villanova team in four seasons, its massive line spearheaded by talented tackle Don Luzzi, and its backfield headed by a passing man, Billy Magee, who gave unbeaten Texas A&M some anxious moments in 1956.

★ ★ ★

Baylor comes out with the fellow who never has been able to finish a season—he couldn't even start one of them—because of broken bones. He's Doyle Traylor, artist with the forward pass.

Larry Hickman, massive fullback, and Bobby Peters and Farrell Fisher, a couple of fine running halfbacks, round out the starting quartet behind the 210-pound line.

Lou Little Calls 'em

Oklahoma-Pittsburgh is the big one tomorrow, and if the fabulous march of the Wilkinson raiders is to be interrupted this season, this is more likely than any other to be the day.

I'm not surprised that many, especially in Pittsburgh, are giving the Panthers more than an outside chance. Pittsburgh is a good football town, as the old home of Jock Sutherland would have to be, and a knowledgeable one.

This is a tremendous opportunity for Pitt. Victory would be for the Panthers and for Eastern football a great chunk of prestige.

★ ★ ★

Significant games in uncommon number dot football's first weekend of strife — Navy-Boston College, Texas A & M-Maryland, Georgia Tech-Kentucky, California-SMU, Oregon State-USC among them. But if Pitt were to outscore Oklahoma, the date would be remembered by many for that game alone.

The Sooners are one of the teams that have stayed largely with the split-T. They have used variations, of course. But this has been an offense based on a single theme put into play by good personnel well taught. Most successful systems have been built on a basic theme.

I'm thinking now of Rockne, Warner, Dobie, Stagg and some others. But this, of course, requires the kind of material on which a coach may rely from year to year. It is when the material is good one year, spotty the next, that the coach is forced to improvise.

★ ★ ★

The manner in which Bud Wilkinson has taught his teams to execute the option play, with its often slight but deceptive variations, has put probably as much burden on the defense as any series college football has seen.

In the last couple of years, Pitt has employed the option play too with great effectiveness, much of it based on the skill of the able and now absent Salvaterra.

Pittsburgh has not gone so generally with the split-T, but has mixed it with the straight-T and first-rate passing. If John Michelosen has been able to replace Salvaterra adequately, and if that Pitt line is as good as we have been hearing it is, this can be an interesting game.

LOU LITTLE PICKS

NAVY over Boston College. Navy's greater depth, able personnel

TEXAS A & M over Maryland. Maryland on way back, but not quite this far yet.

OKLAHOMA over Pittsburgh, but it's Pitt's big chance, and can be a real battle.

BAYLOR over Villanova. Baylor's fine manpower built on a splendid line.

WEST VIRGINIA over Virginia but they'll have to watch Virgina's passes.

ARKANSAS over Oklahoma State. Arkansas defense has been improved.

DUKE over South Carolina but S. C's good backs could surprise us.

DETROIT over Marquette in a battle of sophomore teams.

UCLA over Air Force Academy. Uclans have troubles, but it's early for AF debut.

GEORGIA TECH over Kentucky. Tech's top veterans will balance sophomores.

TEXAS over Georgia this can go either way but Texas has edge.

RICE over LSU another puzzler. Both have line troubles.

MIAMI over Houston but Miami sophomores must avoid mistakes.

NORTH CAROLINA over N. C. State with wary eye on Hunter and Christy, State backs.

CALIFORNIA over SMU, the edge to Cal, as two new coaches build.

KANSAS over TCU risky, but Kansas is coming, TCU was hit by graduation.

TULANE over Virginia Tech., this may be a shaky one, too.

VANDERBILT over Missouri. Vandy's backs, led by King, the difference.

NEBRASKA over Washington State first for Bill Jennings as Husker coach.

COLORADO over Washington, the Buffs carry over from bowl triumph.

OREGON STATE over USC, the test comes too early for Trojans.

Grandfather of American Football

Heigh-Ho, my zillions of gentle readers! Let the welkin resound with cheers as we kick off for another grand season of the game of which I facetiously refer to myself as the grandfather —heh-heh.

Your favorite correspondent faces the first big football Saturday refreshed from a zestful vacation hewing timbers in the pine woods.

Though apparently removed from the busy scenes of grid preparation, I am as well posted on the activities as possible through the intelligence conveyed to me by special messenger from my scouts, Benny the Bookie and Paul "Pigskin" McPartridge, the only man in the world who can see through a brick wall.

Thus I can give you six upsets for the curtain-raising contests — Boston College over Navy, Southern Methodist to defeat California, North Carolina State over North Carolina, South Carolina over Duke, Missouri over Vanderbilt and Wyoming to beat Kansas State.

An additional surprising game will be the 14-to-14 tie between Oregon State and Southern California — according to my astronomer, Dr. Vladimir McGrath.

With these thrills in front of you, read the rest of the scintillating forecast!

Wood Duck Hunting Forbidden in State

LANSING (AP) — Again this year, Michigan hunters are forbidden to shoot the wood duck, a once-populous variety whose numbers have dwindled sharply in recent years.

Game experts say hunters may see large number of "woodies" on opening day Oct. 1, since they're early migrants. Actually, population of the species is only about 20 per cent of what it was 10 years ago in northern states of the Mississippi Flyway.

Here's how to identify the wood duck: look for a medium sized bird with a long tail which makes the proportion ahead and behind the main body appear equal. Other identifying features are also a choppy wing motion, white underparts and a high-pitched "weep-weep" call unlike the quack of most ducks.

Predict Banner Season for Pheasant Hunters

LANSING (AP) — Field surveys point to another million-plus season for pheasant hunters this year, the State Conservation Department reported today.

More than 1,126,000 ringnecks were taken last year, the fourth straight year the bag surpassed one million. Estimates indicated hunters took 60 to 70 per cent of the cock pheasant population.

Dots Favored to Take Chiefs

Wyandotte Aims for Revenge of '56 Humilation

Pontiac Holds Edge in Series; Dots Have 23 Lettermen

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Pontiac High School's 60th football season under its 21st head coach kicks off under the lights of Wisner Stadium tonight when the Chiefs meet a vengeful Wyandotte eleven at 8:00 p.m.

This is the 6th game between the two schools in a series which started in 1952 as a season opener each time. Tonight the Bears are favored.

★ ★ ★

The Chiefs have won four of five played. Lone defeat came in 1955 on the Wisner gridiron where the Bears took a 25-6 decision.

Last year the Chiefs humiliated the Wyandotters with 39-7 verdict after the Dots fumbled eight times, five of which led to PHS touchdowns. Proving that the Bears were not as bad as the score, they finished with a 6-3 season record of which four were shutout victories.

Pontiac will be facing a big experienced line headed by 210 pound center Steve Stieler and 215 pound tackle Joe Carollo a 6-2 senior.

Quarterback Gerry Noble directed the running attack which includes a pair of 160-pound senior backs John Winn and Bill Jeffrey along with big 195 pound Dan Galeski at fullback.

The Dots actually have a wealth of returning backs. Emanual Contino at 170 and Art Browne at 175 are both senior halfbacks. The end who took Wyandotte's lone touchdown pass last year, Ron Cronell, 6-2 at 175 pounds returns. He also is used in the defensive backfield.

Coach Dick Hoffheins has been at Wyandotte for 15 years, but this is his 5th season as head coach. During this time he has a record of 19-13-1. The Dots finished third in the Border Cities last year with a 3-2 mark including a 19-0 win over Royal Oak a team which whipped Pontiac by the same score.

Coach Jesse MacLeay sent the Chiefs through a light workout under the lights last night. Several players were down with flu, none seriously except that it kept them out of practice for awhile.

★ ★ ★

Larry Douglas and Les Watkins, a pair of halfbacks, were both down with the flu, however, all hands were reported in good shape physically for the game except for end John Phlegm.

Junior Gary Andrews may start at end in place of Phlegm who suffered a bruised hip in practice.

Dondero Strong Opening Foe

Skippers Underdogs

By BILL CORNWELL

A gigantic high school football show goes on stage today and Waterford and Royal Oak Dondero will help raise the curtain for the 1st act.

★ ★ ★

Dondero invades Waterford tonight for an 8 o'clock engagement with the Skippers as the 1957 prep grid season moves into the spotlight for the next two months.

Royal Oak provides Waterford supporters with a terrific opening attraction and the Skipper stadium should be filled to capacity. The two schools have never met on the gridiron before.

The momentum furnished by a winning tradition installs the Oaks as favorites. Both teams are expected to be strong in their respective leagues this fall, but there is nothing like the impetus of prestige in a season opener.

Ivy Loftin, in his 1st year as head coach of the Oaks, has one of the area's better ends in rangy Hewitt Hornbeck, a pass-catching specialist. There is experience in the forward wall, led by 210-pound tackle Gary Bryce, guard Bill Knotts and center John Kerr.

Dean Flippo, junior quarterback, may see only limited action tonight. Flippo broke his nose this week in a freak accident while posing for photographers. Mike Omalev will run the team in Flippo's absence.

Waterford coach Dave Freeman will counter Dondero's veteran line with one of his own, headed by center Doug Hales, 220-pound guard John Rise, tackle Barry Campbell, a 225-pounder, and end John Keating.

Jim Green and Wendy Meyer have been fighting for the all-important quarterback job and Freeman has decided to give Green the 1st call. Bill Loveland, a transfer from Brighton, and 145-pound Jerry Nelson will be the starting halfbacks.

Tonight's game will match two of the area's biggest fullbacks — 215-pound Jim Sierns of Royal Oak and the Skippers' Olin Wright, a 220-pound "five-by-five."

Waterford, figured to be the top contender for Walled Lake's Inter-Lakes Conference title, posted an impressive 8-1 record last year. The Oaks had a 5-3-1 mark in 1956.

Rote Called On to Stop Giants

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT — It will be Tobin Rote's turn to quarterback the team Sunday afternoon when the Detroit Lions meet the World Champion New York Giants at Briggs Stadium in the final exhibition game of the season for both teams.

"The recent incident involving Bobby Layne, has nothing to do with Rote starting Sunday," said head coach George Wilson, "according to our plan or ratation, it's Tobin's turn to start."

Layne started last week against the Browns in Cleveland where Detroit lost its second straight pre-season contest 23-7 after winning three straight.

★ ★ ★

The kickoff is set for 1:00 p.m. and the game will be televised nationally on CBS. Locally, however, Channel 2 will carry the Detroit Tiger-Kansas City game.

Coach Jim Lee Howell and the Giants are again favored in the Eastern Division and the NFL championship game because of their 47-7 victory over the Chicago Bears in the title game last December.

They have beaten the Bears 24-17 in pre-season competition this year also.

★ ★ ★

Howell has 31 returning veterans from last year's title team, plus three other players who were formerly with the team. Heading the Giant cast is one of the finest ball-carrying backfields ever assembled in the NFL.

★ ★ ★

Frank Gifford, Mel Triplett and Alex Webster, the Giant stalwarts, all are averaging better than 5.0 yards per carry for five early season games.

Dennis Mendyk, former Michigan State star, and John Bookman, a defensive halfback from Miami, Fla., are the two top rated rookies still bidding for posts with the defending champs.

★ ★ ★

Mendyk, a bright baseball prospect in the Detroit Tiger chain, has been described by Giant backfield coach Vince Lombardi as having "the greatest natural running motion I have ever seen on a rookie halfback."

★ ★ ★

Tickets for the game are still available and will be on sale at Briggs Stadium on the day of the game. Bleacher tickets will go on sale Sunday at 11:00 a.m.

McGuire Picks 2 More

NEW YORK (AP)—Dick Duckett of St. John's, Bkn., and Win Wilfong of Memphis State were selected today for the all-star squad which will meet the New York Knickerbockers in Madison Square Garden, Oct. 19.

Duckett and Wilfong, chosen by all-star Coach Frank McGuire, join Charlie Tyra of Louisville and Manhattan's Gerry Paulson on the 10-man squad.

Bears Favored Against Browns

NFL Rivals to Tangle at Soldier Field in Armed Forces Game

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears are a seven-point favorite to win their second game in history tonight against their old nemesis, the Cleveland Browns.

They will clash in the annual Armed Forces benefit exhibition football game in Soldier Field in the season's only scheduled meeting of the professional rivals.

The Bears have met the Browns in nine games, scoring their only triumph, 24-21, in the 1955 Armed Forces game.

Both teams will make free use of the new players. The Bears have one of the most promising new stars of the season in Willie Gallimore, a rookie halfback from Florida A&M. He has been a standout in the Bears 3-1-1 record in exhibition play.

Dress Rehearsals for "M" and MSU

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The preliminary stages of football practice have ended at Michigan and Michigan State and now the final grooming begins.

★ ★ ★

The annual dress rehearsal scrimmage will be staged in Michigan Stadium tomorrow. The opening game is scheduled against Southern California in Los Angeles.

★ ★ ★

"We've gone through the blocking and tackling, the passing and pass defense, and we've learned the plays," said coach Bennie Oosterbaan. "Now we have the polishing up to do.

"After the big scrimmage, I doubt if we'll do much actual head knocking. The problem will become learning the Southern California plays and preparing our defenses for them."

The first session against the S-C attack will come Monday. Oosterbaan is sending aides Matt Patanelli and Bob Hollway to Portland, Ore., to scout the Trojans in their first game Saturday with Oregon State.

"We know very little about Southern California because of the new coach there," Oosterbaan said. "We've only heard rumors about a professional type attack."

Practice yesterday was limited to the milder sort of a workout at East Lansing after the gruelling mid-week workout. Duffy Daugherty plans his last severe test under game conditions in the stadium Saturday.

"End is our strongest position," declares Daugherty.

Daugherty is in the role of a boss who has just two jobs to fill and eight eligible men, all of them good and some with special talents, to fill the positions.

His solution is going to be to use them all as much as possible.

The Spartans actually do not have an end coach. The position, as such, was abolished when Bob Devaney left for a head coaching job. The two line coaches now handle the ends.

The end talent available include Dave Kaiser, 22, 6-1, 200, senior; Larry Harding, 21, 6-4, 205, senior; Dave Northcross, 20, 6-1, 190, sophomore; Willie Boykin, 24, 6-4, 220, sophomore; Tony Koldziej, 21, 6-1, 185, senior; Sammy Williams, 26, 6-5, 225, junior; Bob Jewett, 22, 6-2, 195, senior; and Harold Dukes, 23, 6-2, 195, senior.

Kaiser and Kolodziej are the leading starting candidates.

Pee Wee Gridders Have Full Schedule

Three teams that won their season openers in impressive fashion a week ago return to action Saturday afternoon on a four-game Pee-Wee football League program at Beaudette Park.

Western Division games will have the Lakers making their debute against the once-beaten Cubs and the Indians and Crusaders, both winners last Saturday, tangling. The Bears, who top the scoring with 26 points, meet the Lions and the Rams vs. Giants in the east. First games start at 3:30.

The standings:

WEST	W	L	EAST	W	L
Crusaders	1	0	Rams	1	0
Indians	1	0	Bears	1	0
Lakers	0	0	Giants	0	0
Cubs	0	1	Lions	0	1
All-Stars	0	1	Red Devils	0	1

Major League Races Near End

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's the beginning of the end in the National League pennant race with the second place St. Louis Cardinals riding a "play and pray" parlay at Cincinnati before opening what should be a three-game showdown at Milwaukee against the first place Braves Monday night.

A sweep of the three-game weekend set at Cincinnati is a "must" for the Cards to guarantee they'll still be close to the Braves going into the final week.

★ ★ ★

The Braves, leading by four magic number of "4," are at won three straight, junking a slump that whittled their 8½-game bulge to 2½. Both the Braves and Cards have nine to play, with any combination of six Milwaukee victories and St. Louis defeats giving the Braves the flag.

The story will be on the Crosley Field scoreboard for the Cards when they take the field at Cincinnati tonight. The Braves play an afternoon game at Chicago against the frisky Cubs with southpaw Warren Spahn making a third pitch for his eighth 20-victory season.

In the American League, the pennant race is over for all practical purposes. All that remains is the mopup. The New York Yankees, with a six-game lead and a magic nkumber of "4", are at home to Boston tonight while Chicago's second place White Sox are at Cleveland.

★ ★ ★

The White Sox prolonged the inevitable in the only game scheduled yesterday with Nellie Fox and Minnie Minoso slamming consecutive home runs in a four-run 13th that defeated Washington 7-3.

The Cardinals, who have split eight games at Cincinnati but lead the Redlegs 11-8 for the season, bump into an old southpaw hex tonight with young Don Gross (6-9) starting for the Redlegs. The 26-year-old lefty, who has taken two in a row from the Cards starting with a 3-1 Labor Day decision that ended his nine game losing streak, is 7-3 lifetime against St. Louis — with a 13-14 overall record in three major league seasons.

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell (8-10) opens for the Cardinals. He's 3-2 against the Redlegs.

★ ★ ★

Mizell was the Cards' lone southpaw until yesterday, when they bought Bob Kuzava (8-1) from Columbus of the American Assn. and Morrie Martin (14-4) from Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League. Both have been around. Kuzava is 34, Martin 35.

To make room for the pair, St. Louis released relief veteran Hoyt Wilhelm and sold infielder Eddie Miksis to Baltimore.

★ ★ ★

The Braves, with hard-hitting Eddie Mathews and Wes Covington ill and slugging Bob Hazle bothered by a sore shoulder, don't figure to have an easy time with the seventh place Cubs. The Bruins, with Ernie Banks on a homer hitting binge, have won five in a row and stand 9-10 against Milwaukee.

Riley Reaches Quarter-Finals of Trans-Miss

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Polly Riley, the straight-shooting legal secretary from Fort Worth, Tex., moved into the quarter-finals of the women's Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament yesterday by downing Dale Fleming of Tulsa, Okla., 3 and 1. Miss Riley has won the tourney three times.

★ ★ ★

Former National Amateur champion Mrs. Barbara Romack Porter of Sacramento, Calif., a pre-tournament favorite, defeated Sue De Voe, Medford, Ore., 4 and 3.

Mrs. Jim Ferrie, Gardena, Calif. had a close battle in defeating Barbara Williams, Richmond, Calif., one up on the 19th hole.

In Golf, Not Politics

4 Youths Hope to Beat Ike

NEWPORT, R.I. (INS) — Four youthful Rhode Island golf champions get a chance to show off their prowess today in competition against President Eisenhower.

The quartet, ranging in age from 14 to 17, are playing the chief executive and his usual companions as a reward for their skill in a Junior Chamber of Commerce tournament earlier this year.

The J.C.'s offered the chief executive the services of the winning youths as caddies when he began his Newport vacation several weeks ago.

Mr. Eisenhower turned down the offer but suggested that they join him in foursome golf matches — an offer that was snapped up immediately.

The lads are Robert Fitta, 17, of East Providence, R.I., champion of the J.C. tournament, and runners up Garry Letiecq, 15, of Middletown; Robert Dalessio, 14, of Barrington, and William McGuiness, 14, of Warwick.

While two of the boys are competing against Mr. Eisenhower and Newport club pro Norman Palmer on the first nine holes, the others will be paired against White House news secretary James Hagerty and club president Howard Cushing.

Then, on the back nine of the trap-pitted Newport Country Club course, the boys will switch opponents so that all will get a chance to match their games with the chief executive.

Earlier in the morning, the Newport Chamber of Commerce was giving President Eisenhower a silver plaque to commemorate his stay in Newport.

The boys stand a chance to win from the President and Palmer. Mr. Eisenhower has not been playing his best golf during this Indian summer vacation.

Michigan Fish Get a Break; Less Anglers

LANSING (AP) — Michigan lake fish got a break this year — sale of fishing licenses has fallen by slightly more than three per cent.

Reports show some 677,000 resident license sales through Aug. 31, a decline of 20,000 from the figure reported for the same date last year.

The number of non-resident anglers fell eight per cent to 100,000 and the total of 15-day non-resident sales four per cent to 57,000.

Trout fishing maintained its popularity with sale of 165,000 trout stamps through Aug. 31, about the same number as last year.

At the present rate, license sales for the year should come to 1,100,000, compared with 1,138,000 during 1956, the State Conservation Department estimated. The record is 1,188,000 sold in 1954.

They're Off! Grid Year Begins

They're coming up to the starting gate—they take their positions—and they're off!

That's race track jargon to announce that high school football teams all over the state of Michigan begin their mad rush on the fall sport today.

Oakland County is no exception to this annual schoolboy hysteria. More than 40 games involving area teams are scheduled today with another half a dozen slated for Sunday.

Two Wayne-Oakland Conference games — West Bloomfield at Milford and Bloomfield Hills at Clarenceville — are the only league attractions on the huge program.

The rest of them, for the most part, match traditional opening day foes, such as Clarkston at Oxford, Davison at Rochester, at Berkley.

★ ★ ★

One of tonight's better traditional openers sends Walled Lake to Redford Union. Redford took a 32-7 pasting from the Vikings a year ago.

The Vikings, defending Inter-Lakes Conference champs and proud holders of an eight-game winning streak, may find out how good they're going to be this fall when they tangle with the Panthers.

All-State fullback John Walker is gone and so are a flock of others, but coach Dave Smith still has the nucleus of a winning squad, led by halfback Don Yeargan and quarterback Frank Fink.

Fink, a brilliant halfback last year as a sophomore, may not play tonight in his 1st crack at the signal-calling post. Fink injured his ankle and Smith said he would be used only if needed! Bill Havel is expected to start in Fink's place.

Birmingham and Cranbrook renew their old rivalry tonight at Birmingham in another top-flight game. The Cranes are invariably the underdog in this series, but they always give Birmingham a busy time.

Lake Orion and Troy, figured to be contenders for the Oakland B League crown, encounter tough opponents. Roseville, ex-Oakland B member, plays host to the Dragons while Troy invades Detroit Lutheran.

Clawson, defending Oakland B champion and pegged as a cinch to repeat, goes to Center Line to meet the only team that could beat it in 1956.

Avondale takes on a brand new opponent tonight. The Jackets will be visited by Inkster Roosevelt, defending co-champ of the Metro-Suburban circuit.

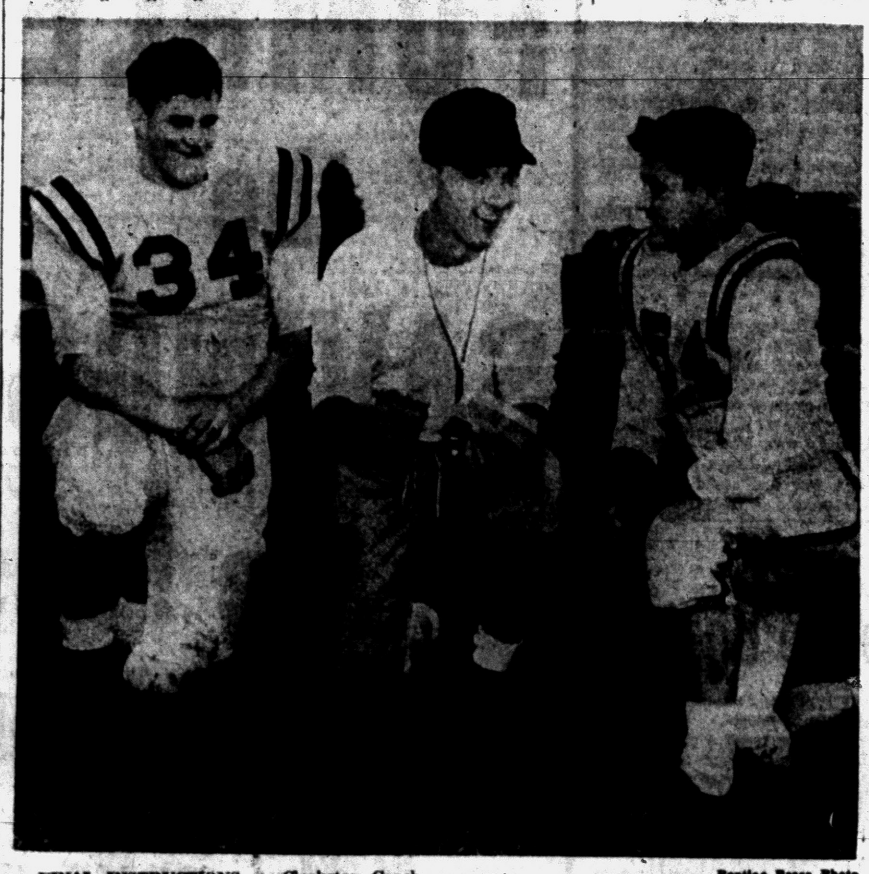

Southfield helps the new Kimball school make its debut in prep football at Royal Oak while Farmington plays at home against Livonia Bentley. Holly tackles a rough customer at Grand Blanc, which boasts All-State halfback Bob Suci.

The Bloomfield Hills - Clarenceville struggle will mark the official entrance of the Hills into the Wayne-Oakland Conference.

★ ★ ★

Other leading games in the area today are Utica at Fitzgerald, Plymouth at Northville, Goodrich at Ortonville, Peck at Dryden and Flint Atherton at Almont.

State Boaters in Big Regatta

MADISON, Ind. (AP)—A field including virtually every outboard racing champion in the United States will compete Saturday and Sunday in the first of two Madison Regatta weekends.

Regatta officials expect at least 250 boats in this weekend's eight classes, including both utility and hydroplane outboards with engines ranging from 7½ to 60 horsepower. Races will start at noon each day.

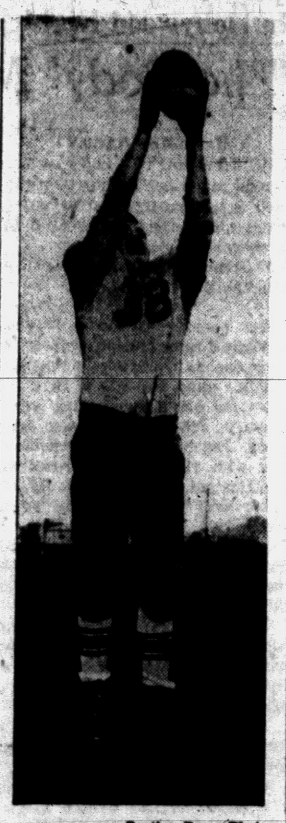

Bill Holloway of Monroe, Mich., national champion in the 60-mile-an-hour D stock hydroplanes for the second straight year, is in the field.

Other national champions entered include Dave Haggard of Trenton, Mich., A stocks; John Ennenga, Grand Haven, Mich., C utilities and Glenn Forcier, East Lansing, Mich., D utilities.

Buffalo Wins Third

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The Buffalo Bisons hold a commanding lead today in the International League final playoffs as the series moves to Miami.

Afternoon Meeting May Decide Fate

Brooks May Go West Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The Dodgers, already leaning to the West, may get their final push toward Los Angeles today.

★ ★ ★

Sentiment apparently withered under the stark reality of cold financial figures. New York's board of estimate was expected to inform Dodger boss Walter O'Malley it would cost the city too much to keep the club in Brooklyn under the conditions he has outlined.

O'Malley's next step conceivably would be to accept Los Angeles' offer for the National League franchise, which O'Malley has called "very fair and attractive" and "worthy of serious consideration."

Whether it would come today was a matter of speculation in the wake of countless other "days of decision" that were met with little but official shrugs. O'Malley has until Sept. 30 under baseball law to tell the National League his final decision.

O'Malley was scheduled for an afternoon meeting (2 p.m., EST) at City Hall with Mayor Robert Wagner, oil tycoon Nelson A. Rockefeller, and Thomas Goodfellow, president of the Long Island Railroad.

They were to discuss possible modifications in Rockefeller's offer of financial assistance in helping O'Malley obtain land in downtown Brooklyn for a new ballpark.

Although no official announcement was made, it was learned the board after two long executive meetings was strongly opposed to Rockefeller's proposal. City Hall sources said despite Rockefeller's generosity in putting up two million dollars for the land, the city would stand to lose as much as 6½ million dollars in the transaction.

★ ★ ★

The prohibitive cost would come in condemnation of the Flatbush and Atlantic Ave. site, now occupied by a station of the Long Island Railroad, a large meat market and other structures. Estimates of the condemnation, razing the buildings, clearing the land and relocating the tenants and public utilities has been estimated at 8½ millions.

In addition to buying the land for two million, Rockefeller offered to lease the site for 20 years rent free to the Dodgers, who would pay all real estate taxes and assessments. The Dodgers would build a park on the site, estimated to cost 8½ or 9 million dollars, and would have the option to buy the land during the lease period for two million plus 2½ per cent interest.

Orion Kids Will Have Better Baseball Fields

Baseball facilities for the youngsters of Lake Orion could go from among the worst in the area to the best come next spring thanks to the recent efforts of a group of men and boys in that town.

A recent working drive at Atwater Park already has the three diamonds there taking shape for future games.

Cash donations by the Rotary and Lions clubs, the Board of Commerce and individuals helped get things started. Twenty loads of topsoil have been spread over the field and graded by the various volunteer crews. Next project is seeding the field.

Trucks, equipment, gasoline for all vehicles and refreshments for the workers have all been donated by various businesses.

★ ★ ★

A total of eight men and 41 boys tackled the rough, stony play area the first day and many others have joined in since.

"A fellow named Pat Babcock got the idea for the field project one day recently when he saw me driving by with a load of dirt," said Milt Evans, one of the early organizers of the plan. "Everything happened too fast for anyone to say no after that," he added.

The ambitious group is hoping to be able to install lights at the field sometime in the future and want to block off the area on all sides to prevent cars from entering.

Included on the long list of men working at the park are Peter Himmeloff, Clarence Harold, Chuck Mann, Harold Smith, B. W. Robinson, Preston Kenyon, Harry Shoup, Charles Gilmore, Tom Arthur, Bob Pageau, Marty Carlson, Gordon Carman, Joe Zikewich, Lindy Smith, Babcock and Evans.

EVERY YEAR 700,000* RADIATORS "DIE YOUNG"
WILL YOURS?

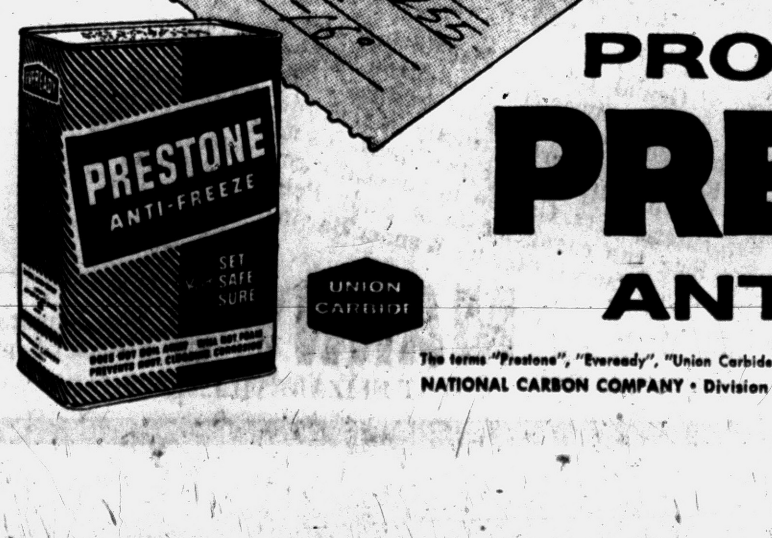

*OFFICIAL AAA FIGURES

Not if your dealer installs "Prestone" anti-freeze, the brand with Magnetic Film, to protect against corrosion and rust clogging!

$52,500,000! This is what motorists spend for car radiator replacements in a year. The principal cause: Rust! You can beat the rust and corrosion danger by making sure you get "Prestone" brand, the anti-freeze with Magnetic Film. This exclusive Magnetic Film, a development from the laboratories of UNION CARBIDE, coats the entire surface of the cooling system . . . It provides protection all winter long for all seven metals commonly found in a cooling system. Be sure you get the extra protection of Magnetic Film by insisting on "Prestone" brand anti-freeze.

The GREEN TAG, attached to your radiator by your dealer, proves you have "Prestone" anti-freeze and not a substitute! For your own protection, be sure to look for the Green Tag as soon as your anti-freeze is installed. The "Prestone" anti-freeze guarantee is printed on the tag.

Installing anti-freeze in the modern car can be a difficult task. Have your dealer, an expert, do the job.

'The Body' Makes Debut

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —Marie McDonald made her Hollywood nightclub debut last night on the same stage where she last appeared as a chorus girl.

This time she was the star of a $180,000 show.

★ ★ ★

Her opening at Frank Sennes' Moulin Rouge theater restaurant was one of Hollywood's biggest nights — and also one of hers.

It was her 11th wedding anniversary, and her millionaire husband Harry Karl overwhelmed her with 11 baskets of roses at the close of her act, plus a $10,000 mink coat as a dressing room surprise.

The couple had been estranged for better than a year, but she recently moved back to Karl's Bel Air mansion.

For that trip back home, the shoe tycoon gave her a diamond ring and bracelet that blinded the eyes of ringsiders at last night's show.

For her debut, Marie wore a revealing gold gown that accented her famous label of "The Body."

Composer Jimmy McHugh, in the audience, had written a special song for her called "I Found Myself a Guy."

She dedicated it to her husband and quipped: "It should have been called 'I Found Myself a Guy—Again.'"

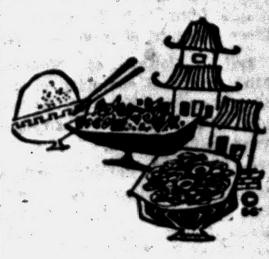

A house full of celebrities — Desi Arnez, Lucille Ball, Danny Thomas, James and Pamela Mason, George Raft, Joan Collins, Steve Allen — and 2,000 other people made her a little nervous.

The way she looked she didn't have to sing. But she sang well nevertheless.

★ ★ ★

Marie had appeared as a chorus girl before World War II when the late Earl Carroll operated the night club.

Nationalists Engage Reds Off Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist and Communist warships battled last night near the offshore island of Matsu, the Defense Ministry reported today.

It said three Communist warships were engaged and routed and that one of them was possibly sunk. The type of the ships involved was not given. They probably were gunboats. The ministry also gave no hint of the number of Nationalist ships engaged.

During the action, the ministry said, Communist guns on the mainland fired more than 100 shells at the Nationalist warships but caused no damage.

Typhoon Heading Toward Luzon

MANILA (AP)—Typhoon Faye and another tropical storm bore down on the main Philippine island of Luzon today.

The new storm, still unnamed and not yet classed as a typhoon, was 200 miles east of Manila. It is expected to hit early tomorrow. It carried winds of 60 m.p.h.

Typhoon Faye was reported 400 miles west of Guam with winds of 150 m.p.h. It was moving west-northwest at 12 m.p.h. in the direction of north Luzon. It should hit in three or four days, the Manila weather bureau said.

Deny Government Falling in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—High government and military sources denied today that the provisional Aramburu is threatened by Argentina's current labor crisis.

Troops took up positions yesterday at struck telegraph and telephone offices, touching off reports that the government was endangered.

★ ★ ★

Government informants said the communications strike was "a great problem" but said it does not mean the regime is weakening. There were no reports of any incidents of violence and Buenos Aires was calm.

Specialists in the armed forces late yesterday restored some service in telegraph and telephone offices, replacing striking workers. Although some cables were trickling out, the walkouts have snarled internal and external communications.

Filmland Awaits Return of Barbara Bel Geddes

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — After almost seven years Barbara Bel Geddes is coming back to Hollywood Oct. 10 for one of the top roles in "Amongst The Dead" for Paramount. She will play Kim Novak's rival, and that will put Kim on her mettle, because Barbara never gives a bad performance.

Barbara has been living in Ireland with Windsor Lewis, her husband, and has been refusing all offers for stage and screen. Her last big stage play was "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" on Broadway and before that "The Moon Is Blue."

In checking I find that Barbara's last picture was "Fourteen Hours" which was made in 1951, so it is high time she comes back.

If the two-year-old Alexander Mason cries, he's out of a job. He and the whole Mason clan, James, Pamela and Portland are on Dean Martin's first TV show on Oct. 5. They play a day in the Mason family, and so far Alexander has never whimpered when he's been seen on the screen.

He's also changed his name to Steve, because he neither likes the name Alexander, nor his nickname "Poopsie." He's as much of a character as his sister, Portland, and that's saying a lot.

Dean Martin is agreeable to all these changes.

★ ★ ★

I'm extremely interested in producer Ross Hunter's recipe of putting over young players because Ross planted Rock Hudson on the road to fame. He gave Rock his first lead opposite Yvonne De Carlo in "Scarlet Angel"—and then put him in seven films after that.

Now Hunter has the same "keep 'em busy" program in mind for John Saxon. "A young actor can't be put over with one or two performances. They have to hit the public in film after film. In Saxon's case—I think he's headed for the top—and I'm going to keep him in picture after picture."

By way of proving it, Johnny, who just finished with "Teach Me How to Cry," starts next week with Debbie Reynolds in "For Love Or Money" (Curt Jurgens is the older lead), next year goes into "Bon Voyage" also for Hunter at U-I.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Sonny Whitney has gone East to talk to Eleanor about his freedom. So far she has made no move, which leaves his planned marriage to Mary Lou Hosford pretty much in the air.

Irene Selznick, daughter of Louis B. Mayer, flies in from New York Saturday to see her father, who is continuing to improve, although there is still the "no visitors" sign on his door.

Jack Dempsey and the late Walter McCarty's niece, Florence Castle, who inherited a million dollars are very much that way. They met at the Merry-Go-Round and had a reunion there last night.

Nicholas Schenck is visiting his brother, Joseph Schenck. And I am very happy to report that Joe is much better.

Nedda Harrington, now Mrs. Josh Logan, is having a ball in Hawaii. Josh prevailed upon her to accept a one line role, that of a planter's wife, in "South Pacific."

Ernie Kovacs tells me he's lost six pounds and expects to take that many more off before appearing on TV.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

REAL CORNY — Corn stalks reaching more than 15 feet in height are grown in Waterford Township, by Norman Tick, of 5466 Brunswick. Tiny Mrs. Tick, on a step ladder, is dwarfed by her 6-foot-4-inch husband and the giant corn stalks.

Ears Measure Up to 24 Inches Long

Waterford Corn Stalks Reach Height of 15 Feet

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Of Our Waterford Bureau

In Waterford Township, the corn grows high and mighty — at least in the back yard of the Norman Tick family at 5466 Brunswick Ave., where the stalks reach skyward some 15 feet.

★ ★ ★

Although the plants do not produce in quantity, the quality is unexcelled. Only a few ears are on each stalk but they measure up to 24 inches in length.

"When we have corn for dinner, that's all we need," Tick said.

"It takes about a half an hour to wade through one ear, and by that time, you're not hungry any more," he added.

Norm and his wife Dorothy do not know the name or variety of corn that grows in the Jack-in-the-bean-stalk-style. She said that an aunt in Virginia sent the seeds to her last spring.

★ ★ ★

"We just cannot understand what happened," Mrs. Tick said. "The seeds were not planted until late June, and they just keep on growing."

NO FERTILIZER

Back of their home, there is a ravine that probably was a river bed at one time, Tick thinks. The black, swampy soil also produces over-size tomatoes, cucumbers, melons and huge potatoes. No fertilizer is necessary.

★ ★ ★

Although the Tick family rent their home, next year they plan on planting the entire backyard area with every possible type of fruit and vegetable.

Owner of the house, Alex Nelson said, "And I'll clear the area for them to work that soil."

Beginners Should Start With Standards

Plan Spring Bulb Beds Now

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Ass't County Agricultural Agent

Beautiful beds of tulips, borders of hyacinth, clumps of daffodils and early spring crocus are by no means just accidents which appear in a garden or lawn. Careful planning and wise choices are important parts of this success.

★ ★ ★

For gardeners who are making their planned bulb beds, it seems wise to stay with old standard varieties. They grow well, bloom very early and continue to bloom for several years.

Darwins are probably tops in this group. They are usually in solid colors, but are tall and rugged. Cottage tulips are very prolific, have wide range of colors, but are not too tall. The lily flowered group is a variation of the cottage group with pointed petals instead of rounded.

There are many other groups which every tulip fancier has eyed up. These are very large, flowered, tall, exotic varities that are extremely beautiful as individual blooms, but disappointing in a mass effect. Some of these are Rembrandts, Parrot, and doubles. These seem to have rather poor survival. Instead of blooming every year and increasing in size and number of plants, the reverse is often the case. Decrease in size, and very little increase in number of bulbs.

DON'T BUY SMALL BULBS

Sometimes bargains aren't really bargains at all. With tulips, the larger the bulb, the larger the bloom and longer the stems, not more flowers from each bulb. Tulip bargains where the bulbs are an inch or less in diameter are unsatisfactory — usually they will not bloom, or the stems are short and flowers very short.

With daffodils, the diameter is not as important as the number of growing points. When large bulgs have two or more growing points, these are mature and usually produce a flower from each growing point.

★ ★ ★

Bulbs of most other spring flowering plants produce one flower stalk per bulb—but often divide the first year so two bulbs, and flowers, exist the second spring.

Tulips, hyacinths, daffodils, crocus', snow drops, and grape hyacinths are well adapted to Oakland County, if properly planted. Many of the bulbous iris have very poor survival.

Soil, from what I've seen, doesn't seem too important. A good bulb garden can be grown on any soil. Clay is poorest because it holds so much water. Too wet conditions will destroy a bulb planting. So look first to drainage.

BALANCE FERTILIZER

For one season program, fertilizer doesn't matter either. But for second, third, and fourth year blooming, good soil fertility makes the difference. A balanced fertilizer such as 12-12-12 is much preferred over high nitrogen lawn fertilizers like 12-6-6. Five pounds per 100 square feet is adequate. If this can be broadcast prior to deep spading, the results are far better.

★ ★ ★

What about running out of bulbous flowers? With some varieties, it is bound to happen. More often the fault is the result of lack of proper care. Picking leaves with the flowers is the most common fault. Most bulbous flowers do not start making new bulbs until flowering time. If the leaves are picked at that time, new bulbs cannot be formed.

DON'T PICK LEAVES

Sometimes the leaves are destroyed as soon as the flowers leave because they are unsightly in the lawn or bed. Here again, you must have leaves to make new bulbs and flowers for next year. When the foliage begins to turn yellow, ripening has begun. Pulling or clipping can then be done and be very beneficial because insects and diseases attack these dying plant parts, and may attack the bulbs as well.

★ ★ ★

Many gardeners have noticed certain plants begin to grow when the ground is partly frozen. The blooms from these plants are usually frozen off. Often this is due to too shallow planting.

PLANT DEEP ENOUGH

A rule of thumb that rarely fails is to plant the bulbs 2½ times as deep as the heighth of the bulb. This means 2½ times to the tip of the bulb. If the bottom of the bulb was at the 2½ times level, the top of the bulb would actually be only 1½ times as deep.

Mulching is usually unsatisfactory because it prevents deep freezing and encourages early growth when frosts may still be a threat.

Match Flower With State

Here's a chance to test your knowledge of flowers . . . at least as far as where they are specially honored and representative throughout the country.

Identify each state flower with its own particular state. Beware, because some states have the same state flower.

★ ★ ★

You should be awarded a purple ribbon (outstanding) if you score 40 to 48; blue ribbon (excellent) for 35 to 39; red ribbon (good) for 20 to 38; and a white ribbon (honorable mention for at least trying) for 19 or below.

Cheap Rocket Used to Fight Forest Fires

MENTONE, Cal. — An inexpensive short-range rocket, originally developed for the armed services, has been added to the arsenal of forest-fire fighters.

The rocket's Mentone manufacturer says its solid-propellant device will drench a 50-yard circle with 10 gallons of water or chemicals. It is said to be a quick weapon to use against small fires just getting under way in inaccessible spots.

The rocket's working parts come packed in a strong waterproof cardboard cylinder that can be attached and filled as a "warhead."

78 New Firms Join Pontiac C. of C.

The 1957 Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce membership drive added 78 new firms to the organization's rolls, according to John W. Hirlinger, manager.

Chamber President Howard O. Powers produced the most new members during the three-day "very successful."

Crowned division champion was the group headed by Raymond H. Storm. The team of Max Kearns' captured top team honors. There are now 878 business firms as Chamber members.

Plant Tree Peonies During Fall Months

Peonies are best planted in the Fall in a rich, well-drained alkaline soil. According to a Gallup Poll, the peony is the 11th most popular flower in the U.S.

Tree peonies as well as the more usual garden variety are exciting in flower, the blooms ranging from 6 to 12 inches in diameter. Flowers are single or double.

Peonies have been planted over a wide range of climate for many years and still maintain considerable of their popularity, though competing with the much wider selection of perennials than in Grandmother's day.

They are best planted in the Fall, since they start to grow before the snow is off the ground in the north and while the ground is still frozen. Colors range from pure white with red center to deep red-rose.

Garden Facts

The 15 most popular flowers are, respectively: the rose, gardenia, gladiolus, carnation, tulip, lily, lilac, lily-of-the-valley, violet, orchid, peony, dahlia, chrysanthemum, pansy and camellia, according to the American Association of Nurserymen.

★ ★ ★

Exciting color and form can be added to the rose garden by planting Golden Showers and White Bouquet.

★ ★ ★

A drop of rain caught in a leaf of lilac flashes in the sunlight with an eternal splendor that outshines the glistening jewels of a monarch.

★ ★ ★

Some pines keep their cones closed for years and artifical heat must be employed to make them open and give up their seed.

MIXED BOUQUETS CREATE INTEREST—The color, beauty, and homey atmosphere of a mixed bouquet such as this will add to any room in your home. Get out in your garden now and choose your own assortment of flowers. Make sure you keep the blooms well separated to preserve the natural form of each.

Killarney to Have Souvenir Factory

KILLARNEY—Killarney, in the lake-strewn area of Eire, is about to cash in on its own reputation. Thousands of tourists buy hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of souvenirs there every year, but only about five per cent of them are made in that town or locality. Now Killarney's Tourist Development Company plans to get into the do-it-yourself business by starting a toy and souvenir factory.

★ ★ ★

It would provide a winter industry, just as tourists create the lively summer business, according to Michael O'Sullivan, secretary of the company. One storekeeper recently got a $700 order from America for model jaunting-cars, a few inches in length, made of Arbutus wood.

Business Lack Declines Wheat

CHICAGO (AP)—Most grains eased in a mixed trade on the board of trade today.

Wheat declined mainly because of lack of business. Export demand continued slow and there was very little demand from flour millers or large bakery interests.

Weather developments in the northern corn and soybean producing areas — where freezing temperatures had been forecast — were not as severe as expected and this resulted in easiness in corn and soybean futures.

The weakness with which most September futures expired yesterday was a factor in early dealings today. The market still lacks important news or trade developments to stimulate trade.

★ ★ ★

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was ¼ to ⅜ lower, Dec. $2.16¾; corn was ⅜ to ¾ lower, Dec. $1.22½; oats were ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, Dec. 68½; rye was ¼ to ¾ lower, Dec. $1.30⅝; Soybeans were ⅞ to 1¼ lower, Nov. $2.31⅝; and lard was 15 to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower, Oct. $11.90.

Stocks Slacken Toward Noon

NEW YORK (AP) — Oils, steels and aircrafts paced a decline in the stock market early today. Losses in key stocks ran from fractions to around a point.

Dealings were active at the start with some moderately large blocks changing hands. The pace slackened within a short time, however.

Selling in oils was based on concern over the Middle East situation and a report by the petroleum department of the Chase Manhattan Bank saying demand for petroleum products in August was disappointing.

Gulf Oil dropped nearly 3 points. Only fractional losses were rung up in Texas, Sinclair and Standard Oil (New Jersey).

In the steel group Youngstown lost a point while U. S. Steel and Bethlehem were off fractions. Curtiss Wright fell more than a point among the aircrafts with Douglas and Boeing off lesser amounts.

Transamerica rose a major fraction against the main market trend as it announced a plan for reorganization.

Among the larger opening blocks were 4,000 shares of U. S. Steel, off ⅝ at 62⅛, 3,500 shares of General Electric, off ⅝ at 63 and 3,000 shares of General Motors, off ⅝ at 41⅛.

Harrison Wants to Leave Show

Bilko's Creator Hiken Unable to Pen Script for Marx Brothers

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—NBC-TV is absolutely certain Hal March will emcee its "What's It For" quiz Oct. 12, although Hal's $64,000 Question sponsor still is deep in the backstage legal battle to head him off at the alleged breach of contract . . .

Rex Harrison wants to get out of his "Crescendo" star spot. Script trouble . . .

"Sgt. Bilko" creator - owner Nat Hiken was offered a huge sum to write an NBC spectacular for the Marx brothers but Nat can't because he's a satisfied CBS slave . . .

Some 17 shows starring singers have been aimed at TV this fall as a result of Perry Como's vast success, leading TV row into a new and wary cry: "We don't want to be too much like the Perry Como Show" . . .

Pat Boone isn't the only chirper chasing an education—Carole Bennett of ABC radio's Herb Anderson Show is a Hunter College psychology major.

SALLY, NOT MOLLY

Joan Caulfield's CBS series is called "Sally" because Gertrude "Molly Goldberg" Berg insisted on her considerable prior legal right to "Molly," Joan's original title.

Ray Bolger now agrees with the TV critics who called his "Washington Aquare" a woefully presented program . . .

Ray's conclusion: "It was overproduced, one of TV's biggest mistakes. What you need is simplicity. Perry Como proves that. He just stands there with a plain backdrop and nothing but talent."

Bob Hope's syndicate paid $3,000,000 for a Rockford, Ill., TV channel . . . Lowell Thomas' group laid out $3,500,000 for its new Stockton, Calif., TV outlet . . .

Stan Musial's TV asking price has bounced up to match his batting average: $1,000 . . .

NBC's thinking of making "21" a radio show, too, in a simulcast.

SPANKY TO EMCEE

Spanky McFarland, ex - Our Gang comedian, turns up in Tulsa, Okla. ,where he'll emcee a TV series of his old films (with Mickey Rooney, Nanette Fabray, Farina, etc.) . . . Spanky's now 29, married, has a junior Spanky, a year old.

Hugh O'Brian joins the gang of nice folks appearing on an upcoming Nat King Cole NBC-TV variety at short money . . .

Dean Martin wants to own both his own NBC show and the one Polly Bergen will star in . . .

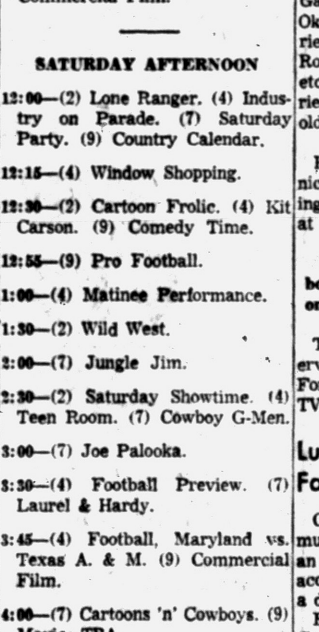

There's a Ford in Groucho's otherwise Chrysler future: Robert Ford signed on as film editor for TV's wittiest Marxman . . .

Lumberjack in U.P Faces Murder Trial

CALUMET (AP) — A first-degree murder trial has been ordered for an Upper Peninsula lumberjack, accused in the Sept. 8 slaying of a drinking companion.

Eric Hendrickson, 46, of Copper City, was bound over to Circuit Court yesterday in the fatal shooting of Arthur Mattson, 33, a fellow lumberjack.

Mattson was killed by a shotgun blast during a drinking party with Hendrickson and four other men.

Sheds Shoes in Rain; What Would Sister Do?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The B.W. (Barefoot Wife) romped home and exclaimed, "June Havoc came into the House of Chan barefooted! It was raining and she didn't want to ruin the dancing shoes she wore on Arthur Murray's TV program. She ate dinner barefooted."

Goodness sakes alive! Good thing it wasn't her sister Gypsy Rose Lee who was bouncing in out of all that wet.

WILSON

Lauren Bacall phoned publicists (she's filming "Our Love" with Bob Stack) and said she didn't want to discuss London reports of possible marriage to Frank Sinatra, even to say "No comment." 'Twas her 33rd birthday and we hope a happy one for one of Hollywood's finest women.

So you know TV? Half a dozen hep Broadwayites the other night couldn't name the gal who played Art Carney's wife on "The Honeymooners," nor the name of the character she played . . .

Bob Feller said one of his best hunks of advice was from an early baseball manager whom he told, "My baseball cap's too big for my head." The manager replied, "Just keep it that way."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Steve Allen checked into the Beverly Hills Hotel and found a bouquet in his room with the note: "Welcome, Ed Sullivan!" (Ed's registered there, too) . . . Turk Murphy, the Bourbon Street maestro, played for the Lamott Duponts at Camden, S.C.—and got a 1929 Rolls Royce as a bonus . . . True Love: Aly Khan named one of his horses Rita, another Yasmin . . . Della Reese's big new hit record is "And That Reminds Me."

DELLA

Meyer Levin, who wrote the somber book, "Compulsion," wrote the song for a cafe scene in the play . . .

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A young Texan told his parents he'd have to bring his gun to school—the teacher said they were going to learn to draw . . . That's earl, brother.

Hospital Annex to Be Retained

Board Votes to Keep Extra Facilities to Aid Main Building

Based on the recommendation of the medical staff, the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees have decided to keep the hospital annex in use.

"There is a feeling of the doctors that there is a definite medical need for this facility," trustees were told in a letter from Dr. Arnold L. Brown, chief of staff. templated shutting down the former Oakland County Contagious Hospital because of failure to fill the the beds there which in turn resulted in added expense.

★ ★ ★

Brown did ask that doctors and other personnel be provided a vehicle to shuttle them to and from the main hospital to the annex. Trustees said they would study the proposal.

They learned from Assistant Director Warren W. Simonds that there were 72 patients at the annex the past two days. This accounted to 73.1 per cent of occupancy, he said.

★ ★ ★

The city leased the county institution in January to provide more room necessitated by the cramped conditions at Pontiac General due to the building program.

"The annex is taking a burden of long-term" patients from reported.

Other action taken by the board last night included the appointment of Dr. Clayton H. Gordon of Birmingham to the medical staff.

★ ★ ★

In their continued move to lessen costs of the new wing, trustees approved deleting plans calling for the $2,000 steam cleaning of the present building so it will match the addition in appearance.

★ ★ ★

Trustees commended Dr. John J. Marra and the pathology department for its fine record in cancer registry, judged superior recently by a survey by the American College of Surgeons.

Likes Mechanical Mule

TOLEDO (AP) — Army Ordnance has accepted the first production model of the M-274 half-ton weapons carrier, commonly called the "mechanical mule."

★ ★ ★

The vehicle was produced by the Willys Motors, Inc., plant here. It has four-wheel steering and is powered by a four-cylinder, air-cooled engine. It can carry 1,000 pounds, plus the driver. The operator can drive the mule while sitting on it, walking, or crawling on the ground.

Waterford Parents Seek More School Bus Service

More than 100 Waterford Township parents presented petitions to the board of education last night in an effort to procure more bus service for their children.

Representing almost every school in the district, the parents contend that "walking along the highway to and from school has become a hazard for their children."

★ ★ ★

Although the board members suggested a special election to raise school tax millage, the group felt it would take too long to put this into effect. No action was taken by the board.

State Revokes Coroner Permit

Port Huron Mortician Charged With 'Holding' Dead Man's Money

LANSING (AP)—The State Board of Mortuary Science today announced it is revoking the mortician's license and the funeral home license of Robert F. Hartley, Port Huron coroner.

Hartley was charged with unethical practices at a hearing on Aug. 13. It was charged that he withheld $338 in cash found on the person of Andrew Sorenson of Perth Amboy, N.J., who died in a Port Huron hotel in February.

James J. Flynn Jr., Perth Amboy mayor and himself a funeral director, made a complaint to Gov. Williams in the case and demanded an investigation.

Flynn said that Sorenson's widow complained she had never received the money and declared he was "shocked that a person in his profession would withhold money in such a case."

Hartley admitted at the hearing that the money was turned over to him by police but said he "hadn't got around to" forwarding it to survivors. The Board of Mortuary Science said the money was finally forwarded to New Jersey after the hearing.

Thelma Whitlock, executive secretary of the Mortuary Science Board, said the suspension of the mortician's and funeral home licenses, effective Oct. 31, will be permanent unless Hartley successfully appeals the decision to the board or has the order overruled by an appeal to Circuit Court.

Man's deepest descent into the earth is marked by the 9,876-foot-deep Crown Mine at Johannesburg, South Africa.

The objecting parents' group, un-Blair, plan to meet at 3 p.m. Sunday at the William Beaumont School and all interested persons have been invited to attend.

★ ★ ★

Other business of the board was to authorize Attorney William B. Hartman to start condemnation proceedings against the Chapman property, located south of Cass-Elizabeth Lake road and E. Cooley Lake road.

The school board has been negotiating for the 11 acres as the site of the new Elizabeth Lake school for more than a year, according to Assistant Superintendent James Den Herder. He said it is the most suitable vacant property in that area.

The board also approved the calling in of $26,000 in bonds for the Pontiac Lake School. The cancellation of $2,650 in high school athletic field revenue bonds was approved.

★ ★ ★

The board of education voted to become affiliated with the Michigan School Board Assn. and also approved Superintendent William Shunck's recommendation for 20 new teachers.
