Clear Weather Should Permit Launching of Capsule Friday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — Officials said today chances are good that America's first astronaut will hop into space Friday morning.

El Col. John P. Powers, information officer of the Mercury man-in-space project, said:

"The weather man tells us that it looks like the weather will be clear enough for us to go."

Prime astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr. and the Redstone rocket which will shove him and his Mercury cabin into space also were ready.

Barring a weather change for the worse, the shot could come at 7 a.m. Pontiac time Friday. Shepard will be fired 115 miles up and 250 miles down the Atlantic missile range in a 15-minute ride marking America's first venture into space.

FORECAST IS 'FAIR'

The forecast for Friday was fair weather throughout the launching area here. The cloud cover is expected to be well within the minimum set by Mercury officials.

Pontiac Auto Sales Hit '61 High in April

In six car lines totaled 49,334 units last month compared with 53,730 in March which had two additional selling days. The daily rate of sale increased 30 per cent, the corporation said.

Combined figures of Lincoln-Mercury and Ford Division showed Ford sold virtually the same number of cars in April as in March—137,683 against 137,854—but the daily rate of sale increased 8 per cent due to the fewer selling days.

But reported a volume increase for the division but did not break down its total of 27,741 sales between the standard Buick and the compact Special. Last month the division sold 24,889 cars. The two-month total of $2,607 is the best March-April in four years, Buick said.

Herbert A. Jones, 28, a brother of one of three men who have admitted the actual killing, denied on cross-examination his testimony for the state was part of a deal in which his brother Richard, 25, was allowed to interrupt his first-degree murder trial and plead guilty to second-degree murder.

Herbert Jones admitted, however, Richard asked him to come to Detroit and tell what he knew, adding: "He (Richard) said it would help him, but he didn't never say how."

He added: "I don't know if he could make a deal with the law and I don't know if he did. I never made any deal with the law and I've been in trouble all my life."

Herbert denied he ever had been in a penitentiary, but admitted he had served time in a Tennessee work camp as a convict. The charges weren't brought out.

He told the court Wednesday that he was originally slated to die the killing.

The Chattanooga, Tenn., construction worker testified as a co-conspirator but not as a defendant.

move to change the appropriations nor any differences that cannot be resolved.

A number of controversial bills were still on calendars in both houses. They must be cleared before next Tuesday.

The final three days of the 1961 regular session will be for conference committees to iron out differences between the two houses and resolve any deadlocks that might develop.

Democrats attempted to amend each appropriation bill in both houses to bring budgets up to the level recommended by Swainson, Republicans, who control both houses—the Senate by a 56-44 edge—were steadfast on holding money down to the level recommended by appropriating committees.

The attempts to increase the budget were half-hearted in many cases and apparently all just for the record.

Miller was sales manager of Jerome Motor Sales in Pontiac, and prior to that was acting postmaster of Pontiac.

of the anxious moments between the time she learned of the sinking and when word came her son was safe.

"Now I'm worried about the parents of the boys who didn't survive," she said after learning Thomas was alive.

The entire family was enthusiastic when Thomas signed up for the ill-fated voyage before the vessel sailed from Darven, Conn. last September, Mrs. Lalle said.

But she said she later had misgivings when she thought of her son on the high seas and had been worried about him.

Last week she said, she confessed her doubts to her husband but added, "I suppose he's taller out there than he would be here driving a car."

"That's what I thought then," Mrs. Lalle said. "Now look what happened."

The Day in Birmingham

School Census Planned for Last 20 Days in May

BIRMINGHAM — The annual school census will be taken throughout the Birmingham School District the last 20 days of this month, Sept. Otis M. Dickey said today.

The purpose of the school census, according to Dickey, is to determine the number of children in each age group from birth to 20 years of age.

This information, he explained, helps to plan services required of the schools, prepares to meet the building, instruction and financial needs of the district and establishes the legal base for allocations of primary school interest funds to the district by the state.

The adult count also serves as the only means of determining accurately the total population of the school district, the superintendent said.

Canvassers will contact each family in the area assigned to them. Badges signed by the superintendent will be worn on the outer clothing.

Dickey said that all the information will be confidential.

The following information is required—parents' full names and addresses; names of each child in the family between birth and 20 years old; age; sex; physical handicaps if any; type of school; and the grade and name of school each child is attending at the date of the census.

The census takers will be prepared to give the dates of the various kindergarten roundups to parents with children five years old or before Dec. 1, added Dickey.

The roundups are intended to help prepare the children for their first school experience and to inform parents of the kindergarten program and services through the school.

"We ask the cooperation of all residents in this endeavor," Dickey said, "so that we can obtain this vital planning information as efficiently as possible."

The Franklin branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association will hold its first "Country Fair" Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Franklin Community Church on Franklin Road.

Proceeds from the fair will go toward civic projects sponsored by the 50-member organization, according to Mrs. Thomas Adams, program chairman.

Plants and homemade baked goods will be on sale as well as aprons and needlework. A gift booth has been set up and there will be a white elephant sale.

"Oh, no, I'm not," protested the boy. "I swapped him for two $5,000 cats."

Ike Takes Test for Beginner's Driving License

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower received a distinguished visitor.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower showed up unexpectedly Wednesday at the State Police barracks—a few miles from his farm home—to take an eye test required to secure a learner's permit to drive an automobile in Pennsylvania.

Eisenhower first tried to read the eye chart without his glasses, but was unable to do so. He passed easily with them on. Capt. Danny F. Brennan said, "The general 'did very well.' He said he has 20-40 vision with his glasses on."

The White House said the board's activities "are to be distinguished from the much more limited study" that Taylor is heading on called paramilitary operations which entail intelligence as well as guerrilla and other limited war activities.

Britons Apply Pressure for Probe of Security

LONDON (AP) — Pressure mounted in Britain today for a top-level probe into the nation's security system following the conviction of another agent who spied for the Soviet Union while working for the government.

Fear grew that the United States might reconsider sharing its own secrets with Britain lest they fall into Communist hands.

The Pontiac and Oakland County Health Departments reported no drastic change last week in communicable diseases in this area. Mumps and chicken pox showed slight increases in Pontiac while the county recorded its only sizeable increase in new cases of measles.

In Pontiac there were 16 new cases of chicken pox reported last week as compared to 9 the week before. New cases of mumps hit 25 compared to only 6 the preceding week.

Measles dropped from six new cases in the city two weeks ago to five last week and hepatitis was down from four cases to one new case last week.

New cases of measles reported last week outside Pontiac were 109 as compared to 88 the week before.

The following is a list of new cases of communicable diseases in Oakland County, excluding Pontiac, as reported to the health department for the past two weeks.

Polish Find Mass Grave With 50 Nazi Victims

WARSAW, Poland (U) — Polish authorities have discovered a mass grave of about 50 inmates of the Gross Rosen Nazi concentration camp who were shot or beaten to death, the Polish Press Agency reported Wednesday.

Polish investigators said the grave was uncovered near the Western Polish city of Swidnica (formerly Schwidnitz), the agency said, adding that the inmates apparently were slain during evacuation of the camp in 1945.

Segregation Busters Take Buses to Dixie

WASHINGTON (UPI) — More than a dozen Negroes and whites planned to board buses today and head south to break the color barrier on Dixie's highways.

The travelers, picked and trained by the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), will ride the commercial buses through Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi. They planned to complete the tour in New Orleans May 17.

The group will be led by National CORE Director James Farmer. Others aboard the buses will be ministers, student leaders, retired school administrators, a longshoreman and an architect.

CORE said the group would challenge segregation not only aboard the buses but also in terminal eating places, waiting rooms and rest stops.

Long-Term Foreign-Aid Plan Looked to by Administration

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is planning to use its proposed new long-term foreign aid program to promote "social reform" and narrow the gap between rich and poor in the world's underdeveloped countries.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk says the carrying out of such reforms will mean sacrifice on the part of recipient nations and they may be reluctant to take the necessary "radical and difficult steps" unless the United States can assure them of long-term assistance.

In a speech to the United States Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night Rusk called for steady and quiet support from the nation for President Kennedy's projected foreign aid operation. It now depends on congressional action on Kennedy's request to make funds for foreign aid loans available over a five-year period.

Foreign aid programs of the past have, for the most part, been dependent on annual appropriation by Congress. This limited the extent of commitment which the United States could make to other countries.

Rusk argued that in helping countries which are trying to build their economies from the ground up the annual appropriations system no longer is adequate.

In arguing for support from the business community for assistance to the underdeveloped nations, Rusk said the need would be compelling even in the absence of the Soviet-Red Chinese promotion of world revolution.

"But the bloc is there," he said, "and what would be compelling becomes a matter of life and death for freedom itself. The bloc has moved into economic and technical assistance with increasingly large resources and with considerable effect."

"They have found a device by which they hope to leap over or outflank the bastions of the free world and the means for pressing their campaign into every continent."

Follow Business Lead, Farmers Are Advised

We acknowledge a letter from L. MERLIN ROWE enclosing an editorial from The Lapeer County Press with the suggestion that it makes good reading in Oakland County as well. We reproduce it herewith:

"The present recession would be quickly cured if business and labor would adopt the Benson-Farm Bureau philosophy for themselves. They won't, of course, and that is why farmers should not be expected to adopt it either.

"Benson-Farm Bureau philosophy basically calls for the free play of supply and demand. If we let farm prices fall to free-market levels, it is argued, supply and demand would balance. The Government would be out of the price support business.

"A lot of farmers would be out of farming, too, but that's just free enterprise and survival of the fittest, we're told.

"The idea would work, too, if applied across the board. Under that philosophy, we would not permit General Motors to maintain prices on cars when it had produced too many. We would force GM to sell them for what they would bring.

"And when UAW members were out of work, we would not permit the union to maintain high wage levels. Wages would be allowed to fall until all the unemployed found jobs.

"No one suggests it because they know such a program would never be adopted. Yet 200 years ago that's the way the world was run. Then the manufacturers became powerful enough to set prices and to produce only what the market would absorb at that price.

"A generation ago labor won that power. The union set the price and the employer paid it, regardless of the supply of labor available.

"The farmer must live in this kind of a world. He pays an artificial price for everything he buys. If he doesn't buy, the worker simply shuts down and the worker is laid off.

"Prices don't fall. Eventually the farmer must pay the set price.

"In this kind of an economy, how can the farmer be the last remnant of a world that long ago slipped into the shadows?"

"He can't. He must produce for the market. Either through the Government or through his own organizations, he must regulate his production and set his price. The alternative is a second-class existence.

"Compared to 1947, farm machinery prices are up 85 per cent, car and truck prices up 62 per cent, building materials up 42 per cent, gas and oil 36 per cent. During this period, gross farm income increased only 10 per cent.

"Twelve million farmers have been played for suckers long enough. It's time they got for themselves the same deal that industry and labor got long ago."

Neighboring Wisconsin Has State Income Tax

Just as a reminder to those advocates for state or local income taxes for Michigan, we would like to point out what's happening in nearby Wisconsin.

The state income tax is not new to Badger citizens. Wisconsin pioneered in this type of taxation. They now have a graduated income tax with the rates running from 1 per cent to 8.5 per cent depending upon income after personal exemptions and credits for dependents.

If anyone thinks for a minute this is not a healthy slice off your income just talk with a few folks living in the land of cheese and milk. It has become so burdensome a tax that recently some business executives have worked a plan to move their place of residence to another state and run their business on a consultant status and thus escape the state income tax.

Now to add fuel to the fire a bill recently was introduced in the Wisconsin Legislature for an across the board increase of one per cent.

We mention this merely as evidence to show that the initial tax is not at all sacred. Once you get the tax, like all other taxes they have a habit of increasing.

The citizens of Wisconsin or Michigan are at the mercy of the legislature or administration whenever they feel the need for increased revenue.

Once you have a tax it's a mighty easy procedure to just increase it.

If the average person's conscience has an inertial guidance system, said system is highly inefficient and often malfunctions.

"WE CANNOT expect to solve the farm problem in a day or in a year, or perhaps in this Administration," says President KENNEDY. Or in this century, this millennium or this eon.

The Man About Town

First in 51 Years National Boy Scout Meet Coming to Neighbor City

College: What never hurt anyone willing to learn after graduation.

Clinton Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America, which comprises most of the area of Oakland and Macomb Counties, including the cities of Pontiac and Mt. Clemens, is preparing to do the good neighbor act on June 2 and 3.

At that time about 2,000 members of the National Council will assemble in Detroit for their 51st annual meeting. This is the first time the event has been held in that city, because it did not have an assembly place or other facilities large enough to handle it. Cobo Hall now goes a long way toward solving that difficulty.

According to our Executive Secretary, Edwin H. Leland, Clinton Valley Council will act in the good neighbor status, and local group Scouters are being urged to attend the sessions as spectators or otherwise.

With around 15,000 in our council, either as Boy Scouts or affiliated with the work in other capacities, our impact on the meeting can be appreciated.

It is the candid opinion of

They Don't Stop at Capturing Men's Minds

David Lawrence Says:

Why Not Try a Convention Bonus?

WASHINGTON—At last there's a solution to the expense account problem so far as its major aspects are concerned.

The government will get more tax money—hundreds of millions that the Treasury is not getting now.

The companies will be able to send their men to conventions and trade-association meetings.

The salesmen will be able to take their wives along and continue to entertain their business friends and wives.

Also, the hotels, restaurants, theaters and auto rental companies will be able to do about as much business as before, and unemployment, therefore, will not be increased as has been feared ever since the crackdown on expense accounts was announced by the Treasury more than a year ago.

The method is simple, and it's lawful. Each company simply pays a special or temporary increase in salary or bonus to its representatives, to cover extra expenses as well as his federal and state income taxes on this added compensation.

To put it another way, when a company sends out a traveling salesman to attend a convention and he takes his wife along, the total cost of the special trip might, for example, be $600.

The salesman is out-of-pocket not only $600 but an additional $200 that he would be expected to pay in income taxes. So the company gives him a bonus of $800 to cover all extra expenses.

It becomes part of his salary and, like any other bonus for services rendered by an employee, the $800 payment is deductible as a salary item by the company itself.

A company can pay any salary it wishes to a salesman and an additional bonus for services rendered. Going to conventions is one way to make friends and help get orders. Many a sales representative works long hours at conventions.

EMPLOYER LUCKY

If he were in the classification of employees comparable to that of a trade union, he would be getting time-and-a-half for overtime beyond eight hours a day and beyond a five-day week. Often conventions require travel on weekends, but the salesman isn't compensated for this.

So the companies really are getting a break today since they don't have to pay their traveling salesmen time-and-a-half overtime.

Hence, many companies probably will be willing to give the salesman a travel bonus when he has to go to a convention and remain there for several days and wants to take his wife along.

Now all this will be feasible for the employer because the cost of the convention bonus is deductible as a salary item

By Dr. William Brady, M.D.

The bulk of the expense account spending in America, however, is done by the men who get salaries of less than $20,000 a year. It is they who are being hurt by the new expense account rulings.

But, with the new plan, they would cover all their own actual expenses and those incurred for any members of their family they took along on trips.

Because the company itself would be scrutinizing the expenses involved in order to determine the exact amount to pay to cover his regular income. For, after all, his own expenses in going to and from a convention would still be an expense account item and subject to deduction by him or by the company.

(Copyright 1961)

Dr. William Brady Says:

Prevent Aches and Pains With Calcium Supplement

"Over a year ago I was in constant pain in arms and shoulders, especially my left arm, which I couldn't move without severe pain. I could use my right arm to lift my left hand over my head. Couldn't stand it. It was terrible."

"So I commenced taking calcium and D to supplement my diet, as I was suggested in your column. After three weeks I noticed some change for the better. I kept on with it and kept getting better and better. For several months I have been just fine—I can move my arm any way without any pain whatever. (E. S. H.)"

From time to time readers report some such experience as that of E. S. H., whose trouble was probably shoulder buritis.

For instance, Mr. L. F. writes: "I suffered headaches nearly all the time and two attacks of buritis in left shoulder, but since I have been supplementing my diet with calcium and D, no headaches and no buritis."

"So I know the increased intake of Ca and D may have nothing to do with the relief these correspondents describe."

After all, buritis—inflammation of one of the pads or sacs placed between bony prominence and muscle tendon—is generally due to strain, overuse, sprain, or prolonged pressure—as in tennis elbow, glass arm of baseball pitchers, housemaid's knee (if housemaids anywhere still scrub floors).

CA AND D NO HELP

"Buritis runs its course and the pain abates when the inflammation subsides. Rest, local heat, diathermy, needling, or aspiration of the bursa and other remedial measures relieve pain and hasten recovery."

Even after the pain has ceased, recovery of normal function and prevention of permanent stiffness or disability depends on proper, graduated passive motions (manipulation) and active exercise. Neither a Ca and D supplement nor high calcium diet is of any particular benefit.

On the other hand, one of the physiological functions of calcium is to regulate excitability of nerve fibers and nerve centers—the young person whose diet provides an adequate daily intake of calcium has "steady nerves."

In my opinion, on optimal daily intake of calcium at least twice as much as the minimum daily requirement tends to prevent or alleviate ache or pain.

Please remember that the calcium and D I recommend is not medicine, so you can't "try" it for a few days as you might try medicine. It is food, food essential for good nutrition, and you must eat it every day for weeks or months, as you might eat bread and milk or meat and potato, if you want to see whether it will do you any good.

"I can't promise it will do you any good, but I do assure you it can do no harm."

CASE H. - 476: Donnie B., aged 8, is a mentally retarded child.

"Dr. Crane," his parents began, "Donnie has an I.Q. of 75, which they tell us is in the borderline between feeble-minded and dull normal."

"He can barely do the work of the first grade pupils, though other normal children of his age are in the 3rd grade."

"What advice can you give us parents of retarded children so we can do a better job of helping them?"

There are 5,000,000 retarded children, says the National Association for Retarded Children (386 Park Avenue, South, New York City).

I.Q. (mental horsepower) is determined by dividing a child's mental age by his calendar age, and multiplying by 100.

Thus, Donnie's 6/8 equals 75, by that formula.

And we estimate a child's brain reaches its maturity at about the age of 16, so when Donnie is a grown man, he will have the mental capacity of a 12-year-old.

Since a child of 12 finished the 6th grade, Donnie will have the comprehension of such a youngster, even when he is a man.

But 6th graders can be a whiz at spelling, reading, typewriting, and many other traits "22".

And that big "22" means, if they are taught properly and motivated with love, affection and proper rewards.

So you parents of retarded chil-

MAKE EDUCATION FUN

Some retarded children have an I.Q. of 25, which means their adult mental age will be only 4 years, so you must not expect them to read and write, or solve simple mathematical problems.

Tongue-tied as an I.Q. of 55, will level off in adulthood at the mental stage of an 8-year-old, or 3rd grader.

Use those facts to set your sights as to goals.

Donnie, however, should be able to finish the 6th grade, though he will be much older than such pupils when he can do so.

But his parents can give him the correct English of a college graduate if they try to use proper language in a frank of him.

For correct language is imitative, like music, and can be acquired by people of very low I.Q. if you expose them to good grammar.

Donnie can also be aided greatly by the use of "flash cards." Take his school reader. Let him point to the words he doesn't know.

Then get a home printing outfit and show him how to print one such word on each flash card.

After you have many of them printed, hold up two printed flash cards. Name each word. Show Donnie their major contrasts in meaning. Length, letters that dis-below the line, as those with "g," such as "dog."

Then shuffle the two flash cards and expose them, one at a time. You will be surprised at how much

Voice of the People:

'Will Authorities Consider Holland Case As Murder?'

If twelve bullets in the bodies of two little girls and a knife jammed three inches into a boy's heart aren't murder, they'd better rewrite the dictionary. But the parties penologists will insist it's just a "rough play that turned out unfortunately." Whatever charges the prosecution makes, our crying toddler brigade will clamor to get them reduced. Bah!

One of those little Holland girls was shot five times and the other seven. I suppose our penologists friends will write to the Voice of the People and demand mercy, pity and forgiveness for the butcher.

Maybe they can show in court that the killer didn't wait two days between the eighth and ninth shots so they could try to establish it wasn't "premeditated."

What a field day the amateur do-gooders can have now trying to soften the punishment of the brutal murderer.

Perhaps they can get him off entirely. Wouldn't that be just dandy?

Reader Blames Senate Republicans

The GOP "22 early old dogs"—aptly named by Supreme Court Justice Black—have you disturbed with their usual mishandling of everything. Your favorite project, MSUO, is getting their usual treatment.

Don't hold your breath until this group of unrepresentative representatives face their responsibilities, as they haven't got what it takes to be statesmen.

Now that the newspapers (including The Press) no longer have Soap Williams as a whipping boy, they will discover what are the real careers of "Michigan's Bad Climate." And they have the election laws so rigged we can't get rid of them.

That last line of your editorial brings tears of joy to my eyes.

"Oakland's needs really transcend party lines, anyway." Surely you don't think they'd play politics.

Would Disallow Luxury Items

Treasury Asks Tighter Restrictions on Expense Accounts in Tax Return

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury said today many businessmen now claim luxuries as income tax deductions. It asked tighter restrictions on expense accounts to add $250 million a year to government revenues as part of a general tax revision.

"There are few of the luxuries of life which a large number of taxpayers cannot in some way deduct on tax returns as business expenses," Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said.

Dillon appeared before the House Ways and Means Committee to present the case for President Kennedy's program of tax revision — a broad plan for changes to encourage business investment in new equipment without cutting overall Treasury revenues.

Dillon said the program, if enacted in full, would give American business a $1.7-billion assist in modernizing its plants to compete better, and still keep revenue into the Treasury at present levels.

CHECK REDS' GNP

Supporting special tax incentives for business to invest in more efficient equipment, he cited a Central Intelligence Agency estimate of the growth of Soviet gross national product.

Soviet output has been growing at the rate of seven per cent a year, Dillon said, while the U.S. growth rate has fallen to two per cent.

To offset the $1.7-billion revenue loss from special incentives for investment, Kennedy has proposed a series of other actions these are a withholding plan for taxes on dividends and interest, and restrictions on expense accounts.

He Carves Ugly Faces; Folks Love to Buy 'Em

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — Neighbors in the little Negro community of Seatack call Clarence Williams "the man who carves those ugly faces."

But people like and buy them. Williams, who began wood carving when he was confined with tuberculosis, sells them for $5 to $25 and Walter Thrift, operator of the Seatack Gallery here, says the sales have averaged one a day. Williams had never done any carving before his illness.

Say Ike Blames Tactics for Cuba Failure

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was represented today as believing that inadequate military planning contributed to the Cuban invasion failure.

The former president, who has given his backing to President Kennedy in the Cuban and Laotian crises, was reported to have criticized in a discussion Monday the view that most of the heavy military equipment was loaded into a single old Liberty ship that could hardly withstand any shore battery fire or aerial attack. He reportedly said this seemed inconceivable to him.

Without attempting to assess any blame, Eisenhower was quoted as wondering if the Joint Chiefs of Staff had been consulted in any detail about the mounting of the invasion.

The former president was reported to have expressed the view that most of the heavy military equipment was loaded into a single old Liberty ship that could hardly withstand any shore battery fire or aerial attack. He reportedly said this seemed inconceivable to him.

Senator McNamara Wins Annual Award

NEW YORK — Sen. Patrick McNamara, D-Mich., Wednesday was named winner of the eighth annual award given by the Volunteers of America for "outstanding service to the people of America."

Sen. John Mahon, chief officer of the Volunteers, said the special Senate committee on services for the aged which McNamara heads "did much to develop research that has resulted in legislation that has helped the aged."

The award, which will be presented at the annual meeting of the organization May 18 in Indianapolis, Ind., is known as the Balington and Maud Booth Memorial Award.

As an old military man, Eisenhower was represented as feeling that anybody who had studied the battle of Gallipoli would have known in advance that it would be almost impossible to make the kind of landing that was attempted.

In 1915 the Allies attempted landings on Turkey's coast in an attempt to seize the Dardanelles but were repulsed with heavy losses after months of fighting.

The former president was said to have made it clear he was speaking from a military standpoint only. He is known to have told the Republicans he feels they should avoid criticizing Kennedy in the grave crises of the world today.

Some of these leaders said it was Eisenhower's view that it is possible the United States should avoid acting alone in attempting to solve any crisis. They quoted him as favoring cooperation with allies.

Eisenhower's reported view that much of the military equipment was loaded onto a single ship virtually coincided with information pieced together by a U.S. official tables and chairs.

B70 Program Cut to Push Transports

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — The Chattanooga Times today said President Kennedy decided to slow the B70 program because, among other things, he prefers direct development of a 2,000-mile an hour commercial transport plane.

The Times, in a Washington story by its correspondent, Charles Bartlett, said in line with this Federal Aviation Administration plan, Najeeb Halaby has been authorized to ask Congress for $12 million to finance initial design studies of such a plane.

The plane, the newspaper said, could cross the country in 90 minutes at an altitude of 70,000 feet or higher.

Dies of Cancer at 56
WASHINGTON (AP) — Carl Huhndorf, 56, research director for the International Association of Machinists, died Wednesday of lung cancer. Huhndorf was regarded by his colleagues as an authority on union-management relations in the atomic energy, aircraft, missile and electronic industries. He was born in San Antonio, Tex.

Fugitive Youth, Found in S.D.,

State Officers Leave by
Back to Holland

KADOKA, S. D. (U) — James Scott Stephens, 26, was held by Michigan authorities for from home in this prairie country town today after police said he admitted the rifle slayings of two Holland, Mich., schoolgirls.

South Dakota officers said Wednesday night that the teenage boy scout admitted the slaying "with no emotion" after being questioned all day. Stephens was quoted as saying the shootings were accidental.

Don Licht, State Crime Bureau agent, and Warren Pearson, Jackson County sheriff, refused to give details of the youth's statement, saying they had been so instructed by authorities at Holland.

Two Michigan officers left Holland by car Wednesday to take custody of Stephens in Kadoka and return him to Michigan. Under sheriff Jack Frost of Michigan's Allegan County said the officers were expected back with their prisoner some time Saturday morning.

Home in Holland, an attorney said the youth's mother and stepfather were "taking it very well and have faith all will work out all right." The parents had issued a public plea to young Stephens to give himself up.

The slender, brown-haired high school sophomore carried a knapsack and had $5 when his 1,200-mile flight from home was halted, tower fell.

Film Available for Boy Scouts on Outboating

Continuing a boating program for boys that will include knowledge required for the new Motorboat Merit Badge to become available this summer, the Boy Scouts of America have announced the film "Outboard Scouting."

The new Boy Scout 27-minute motorboating film, "Outboard Scouting," will be distributed throughout the Scout organization to promote safe boating and encourage interest in the new merit badge.

"The film makes an important contribution to our merit badge program," said Carl N. Helstad, Assistant Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America at the film's premiere showing. "Outboard Scouting" will increase the interest of hundreds of thousands of boys—and their families—in outboating.

Hits Design, Building of Fated Texas Tower

WASHINGTON (U) — Leon B. DeLong, a pioneer in underwater engineering, said today the techniques and design for the Texas tower radar station which collapsed into the ocean came "pretty close to dooming it" from the start.

DeLong, chairman of the board of the New York firm of DeLong Construction Corp., said his company refused to have anything to do with the project under the construction terms set forth by the Navy.

He testified at a Senate Armed Service Preparedness subcommittee inquiry into the collapse of the tower 85 miles east of Atlantic City last Jan. 15. All 28 men stationed aboard died when the mile flight from home was halted, tower fell.

Latin America Talks (on Cuba?) Coming

WASHINGTON (U) Consultations with Latin American nations are reported to have raised hopes among American officials for a meeting of the hemisphere's foreign ministers to plan what to do about Cuba. It may come in June.

President Kennedy announced April 24 that the consultations would be held, but he did not say at that time precisely what procedure would be suggested.

The June date for an emergency meeting would be just before a session of the hemisphere's finance ministers, also suggested by Kennedy, to consider new moves to speed economic progress.

Two Union Men Arraigned in Teamsters Suit

DETROIT (U) — Two Teamsters Union business agents were arraigned Wednesday on charges of attacking or interfering with two police detectives and a man who had accused Teamsters President James R. Hoffa of choking him.

The two, Roland McMasters, 48, and Charles O'Brien, 26, stood mute at their appearances in Recorder's (criminal) Court.

Examination of McMasters, charged with interfering with the police officer, was set for May 11.

Detective Lt. Thurmond McKinney and Detective Ralph Plamer accused McMasters of struggling with them when they tried to stop O'Brien from attacking Melvin Angel, 36, of Utica, in Teamsters Local 299 hall.

Angel, an unemployed member of Local 299, Hoffa's home local, had charged that Hoffa threatened and choked him in the hall on April 16.

2 Will Seek Re-Election to Pontiac School Board

Both Pontiac School Board members up for re-election in the spring school election have announced their candidacy.

William H. Anderson and James R. Jenkins filed nominating petitions at the Pontiac Board of Education offices today, according to Vernon L. Schiller, director of financial management for the school district.

The deadline for filing nominating petitions is 4 p.m. Saturday, May 13.

Anderson, 44, of 451 Lynch St., will be bidding for his second four-year term on the board. He was first elected in 1957.

He is vice president of the board, having been elected to the office in February when former vice president Monroe Osmon was named president.

Although he participated in community school activities and civic groups, Anderson had never sought a public office before 1957. He also is an active Mason.

Anderson is a partner in the Webster Elementary School, Washington Junior High School and has been active in parent-teacher associations at all three.

Jenkins has been particularly interested in working with children's groups. He has served as a member of the board of directors of the Pontiac YMCA and the YMCA Camp Mahan-Go-Tub-See board.

JAMES R. JENKINS

He also has been active in boy scout work.

Jenkins is a member of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce and has been with the Downtown Pontiac Kiwanis Club five years. He was the club's president in 1960.

The school election will be June 12. Persons eligible to vote in the election must register at the city clerk's office by May 15 unless already registered.

Only persons living within the school district may vote. The district includes all of Pontiac and parts of Orion, Avon, Bloomfield, Pontiac, Waterford and West Bloomfield Townships and the City of Sylvan Lake.

Jenkins, E. of 62 Wrennash Drive, was appointed to the board to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Louis H. Schimmel at the same time Jenkins was elected vice president.

A certified public accountant, Jenkins has shown a keen interest in school activities since coming to Pontiac in 1951.

Plan No Appeal in Minor Case

Judge Denies Request to Drop Suit Against Ex-Chrysler Official

No appeal will be made of Circuit Court Judge Clark J. Adams' ruling Monday denying former Chrysler Corp. official Jack W. Minor's request that a lawsuit against him be dismissed in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Minor's attorney, Edward P. Echlin of Detroit, said today that no application for leave to appeal the ruling will be made within the 10 days Judge Adams granted for possible appeal.

The corporation sued Minor, of Birmingham, asking an accounting of assets he received from his association in several subsidiary firms doing business with the corporation.

Echlin said he would now file answers to the corporation's original bill of complaint for Minor's City Hall riots against the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

A jury of 10 women and two men deliberated less than three hours before returning the verdict in the court of superior Judge Harry J. Neubarth.

During the two-week trial, contradictory testimony was presented by prosecution and defense witnesses.

President Wants to Reorganize CAB

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy sent Congress a plan Wednesday to reorganize the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) to give it "greater flexibility" in regulating the nation's airlines.

The plan will go into effect unless either house of Congress objects within the next 60 days.

Under Kennedy's proposal, the board could delegate its authority to CAB divisions, individual board members, hearing examiners and in some cases even CAB employees.

Kennedy said the reorganization would result in greater efficiency, economy and speed in the CAB's operations.

Africans Pushing Demonstrations

Defiant Leaders Call for
3-Day Strike May 29
Halting Public Services

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Defiant African leaders vowed today to press on with their plans for nationwide demonstrations against the new South Africa republic despite country-wide raids by 1,000 armed police Wednesday.

Nelson Mandela, honorary secretary of the All in Africa national council, called the raids "unwarranted interference" and said word was going around for all nonwhites to redouble their efforts to make the demonstrations a success.

Mandela's organization called for a three-day strike beginning May 29, two days before South Africa becomes a republic, and non-violent gatherings protesting the denial of political rights to the nation's nonwhite majority.

The aim is to bring industry and public services to a standstill with the idea of building up public resentment against Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd's white supremacy government.

Mandela emphasized that no violence is planned and said the demonstrators are being urged "to ignore the provocative actions of the police."

Astronauts to Put Magazine Money Into Real Estate

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)

The seven astronauts have decided to invest in apartment and industrial real estate the $500,000 they are getting from a national magazine for their stories.

C. Leo De Orsey, Washington attorney and financial adviser to the seven, told this to a reporter today.

He said they are planning to acquire apartment land in the Congress Heights section of suburban Washington, D.C., and industrial ground in Landover, Md., another suburb of the capital.

Plans call for the astronauts to build and own a 330-unit apartment development.

Warehouses and manufacturing units would be built on the industrial land and then leased.

JFK's Program Gets Lift as Wage Bill Passes

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's legislative program has been given a tremendous boost by passage of his minimum wage bill after it was nearly throttled in the House.

The measure, cut and trimmed in minor areas in a successful effort to pick up support, emerged from Congress Wednesday with its key provision for extending minimum wage coverage.

The Senate, as expected, approved it roundly 64 to 28. The big surprise was in the House, which had twice rejected similar measures. The House approved it 230 to 136.

Hard prodding by the White House and the House Democratic leadership on wavering members, plus concessions written into the bill, combined to give the administration its comeback victory.

NEW COVERAGE
The bill, as it goes to the White House, raises the minimum wage for those covered from $1 an hour to $1.15 in four months and to $1.25 two years later. Its chief provision, over which Congress has been battling for more than a year, deals with new coverage.

Under the bill minimum wage protection will be extended for the first time into the retail and service area, with 3.6 million workers being brought in. Concerns doing $1 million annual business and handling at least $20,000 in goods that cross state lines are covered.

A conservative coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats failed to limit new coverage for their various maneuvers and approach the House accepted just a month ago and also last session.

The key to winning Southern support was a series of exemptions for specific groups written into the bill during the conference. These removed certain cotton gin employees, tobacco processors, livestock auctioneers and others from coverage.

In the House debate before the bill was passed, the Democratic leadership branded the Democratic leadership as cynical and unprincipled for their various maneuvers and concessions in bidding for Southern support.

UNEXPECTED SUPPORT
Unexpected heavy support also came from Republican ranks as 33, mostly from industrial areas, deserted the GOP leadership and supported the administration.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg applauded the action as a great advance in social legislation. He said the bill would afford "long overdue protection to a large group of underprivileged Americans."

Advises Schools to Teach Classes in TV Viewing

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A noted educator suggests that schools teach classes in TV viewing.

Surveys show that children spend as much time in front of TV sets as they do in schools. Dr. Samuel B. Gould, chancellor of the University of California at Santa Barbara said Wednesday.

"Whether or not we like it," Dr. Gould told the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, "our children are learning something during all these hours in front of the television—even when what they learn is, inane, repetitious, coarse, or even false."

Blasts Inadequacies of Health Insurance

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—A United Auto Workers Union vice president has told the Nebraska State Medical Association that "society will not tolerate the inadequacies of today's health insurance."

Leonard Woodcock addressed the association's 33rd annual convention last night. He said:

"Whether government will occupy a vastly expanded role will depend largely on whether voluntary agencies can develop a system which goes a lot further toward solving the basic problems of medical economics."

Demand Probe of 120 Strikes

Senate Group Hears Testimony That Alleges Unjustified Walkouts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Testimony that unjustified strikes at missile bases helped to widen the Soviet lead in the man-in-space race brought fresh demands today from Senate investigators for tougher labor laws.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, called for testimony from more officials of the Convair Astronautics Division of General Dynamics Corp.

They are to spell out how a string of 120 strikes in 13 months affected the company's efforts to develop the Atlas as an intercontinental missile and a vehicle for manned space flight.

Robert H. Birn, a Convair vice president, testified Wednesday that there is a "missile gap" in which the Soviet Union holds an edge and that the 120 strikes put the Atlas program behind schedule.

"Unless there is marked improvement in the (strike) situation, I don't think we will catch up," Birn said.

McClellan asked the work stoppages "actually contributed to the Communist conspiracy for mastering outer space" and developing missile weapons.

"That is absolutely correct," Birn answered.

Some government and missile company witnesses have charged that many of the strikes were concerted so that strikers would be able to draw overtime pay when work resumed.

The subcommittee is investigating labor troubles at the missile bases and their effects on missile programs.

Spring Is Here! U. of M. Students Try Pantie Raid

ANN ARBOR (AP)—That sure sign of spring, the pantie raid, blossomed Wednesday night on the University of Michigan campus.

Dean of men John M. Hale said between 200 and 300 male undergraduates converged on Mary Markley Hall, a women's dormitory. He said a window was broken and three boys climbed in but were quickly ejected.

The student newspaper, the Michigan Daily, estimated the number of students involved at 500.

Police said no arrests were made.

Daily Fire Cost High.

BOSTON (UPI) — Major fire cost Americans nearly $1 million a day last year, the National Fire Protection Association said today.

WHOLE WORLD IN HER HANDS — It seems like such a small planet of Laura Shepard, 13, since she was told her father may become the first American to venture into space. The daughter of Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. is holding a globe at the Principia School in St. Louis where she is a student.

State Reshuffle Plans Dying

Expect House to Finish Job of Killing 7 Today — Some Already Aged

LANSING (UPI) — The House was expected today to finish the job of killing seven plans for reorganizing state government. Four of the plans submitted to the legislature by Gov. John E. Swainson were blocked Wednesday by the Senate.

Party-line votes killed moves to combine the economic development department and the State Tourist Council in a department of business and tourist development; merge the workmen's compensation department, commissioner of labor and state superintendent of private employment bureaus into a department of industrial relations; make a single department of corporations and financial institutions, out of the banking department, department of insurance and corporation and securities commission; and shift the weighmaster section of the highway department to the Enforcement Division of the State Public Service Commission.

"These proposals would produce cash savings in government operation," Swainson said. "But the Senate majority's veto action indicates that its professed interest in economy applies only to measures of its own authorship."

"If the Republicans had better proposals — if they felt they had to produce some with a 'made by Republicans' label on them — they failed to produce them," he said.

Water System to Cost Around $12.7 Million

The present estimated cost of the proposed Waterford Township interconnecting water system is $12,756,516 according to reports in Township Clerk James Seeterlin's office.

However, he added, "Under the present construction cost increases of approximately 1 per cent, this figure would reach about $13 million within a couple of years."

The first stage of construction, as proposed by township engineers Johnson & Anderson would cost $6 million. This figure does not include interest costs. Seeterlin said that in the first stage, the project would be to connect the 10 water systems together and install an elevated storage tank.

Woman Will Appeal Shoplifting Conviction

Convicted of shoplifting in Municipal Court yesterday, a Pontiac woman has appealed the case to Circuit Court.

A hearing has been set for May 15 on the appeal of Mrs. Myrtle Williams, 44, of 47 Thorpe St. She was fined $100 and sentenced to two days in the Oakland County Jail — or 17 days in jail if the fine is not paid. She had been found guilty before Judge Cecil McCullum of stealing a $4.98 slack suit from the Hill Bros. Clothing Mart, 125 W. Huron St.

About two out of three first graders troubled with learning to read failed to produce them," he said.

Hard-of-Hearing Children Get Aid

By JOE SINGLETON

Three to five per cent of all children have some sort of hearing problem.

However, not all children in this group have a serious enough problem to require special educational training.

For those who do require acoustical training in Northern Oakland County, the Pontiac School System, in cooperation with the Oakland County School System, provides it at the Willis Elementary School in Pontiac.

As part of the special education program of Pontiac, headed by William G. Wright, three rooms are provided at the Willis School with three full-time teachers to provide the special training.

The teachers are Mrs. Dorothy Herd of Rochester and Joyce Steiner and Sheila Dougherty of Lake Orion.

In this program, the children's hearing handicaps are classified into four groups: hard of hearing, the moderately deaf, severely deaf, and profoundly deaf.

TAUGHT TO TALK

The average classroom consists of from 8 to 10 children. They are taught to speech read and to talk through the auditory training program.

Contrary to popular opinion, only one-half of one per cent of all children are profoundly deaf.

In this auditory training process for the acoustically handicapped, children are taught and conditioned to adjust to the amount of hearing they possess. The amount of hearing of each child usually does not increase, but through this training he is able to make the maximum use of that which he possesses.

Also contrary to popular opinion, there is no greater rate of mental illness among the acoustically handicapped than children with any other physical handicaps.

These children do most of their learning in the experiences which they encounter such as games, dancing, field trips and other such activities.

An additional room has been approved for the Willis School, of which Perry Ninotti is principal.

However, according to Wright, since there is a great shortage of teachers in this field, a teacher has not been secured as yet.

TAKE AUDIOGRAM

Children usually start in this program at the age of 3. The child begins by taking an audiogram, a graph showing the hearing level of a subject in relation to the minimum intensity of sounds perceptible to the ear.

If the child is found to be acoustically handicapped, it is then enrolled in this special program.

According to the teachers in this program, many a child who presents a problem in school is merely having difficulty because it cannot hear.

They add that in a study of two cities it was found that hard of hearing children repeat grades three times more often than do other children.

But with special training, the children usually can keep up with or even surpass nonhandicapped youngsters of the same age.

NOW IN REGULAR CLASS—In the auditory training spaces for the acoustically handicapped, students are taught and conditioned to adjust to the amount of hearing that they possess. Many times when this adjustment is made students can then take their places in regular classrooms. Pat Dodge, 9 (center), is shown in such a classroom with Linda Hill, 8 (left), and Linda Kelsey, 8, while the teacher, Mrs. Kathleen Andrews, 871 Walton Blvd., goes over an assignment. Pat spends one hour a day in the special training program, and the rest of the day in the regular classroom.

DEMONSTRATING — Sheila Dougherty, 845 Indianwood Dr., Lake Orion, demonstrates the Warren Walk Away Auditory Training Unit. The instrument picks up sounds from anywhere in the room through sound waves carried about the room by small cables around the walls. The unit is not attached to wires, but works by sound waves like a radio. When sound is projected into the microphone, which is hooked to the cables, it can be heard with this unit. This makes it possible for students to participate in many types of games. The cost of this one piece of equipment alone is around $250.

LEARNING WITH MIRROR — The mirror plays an important role in teaching children speech reading. In speech reading, not only does the student read the teacher's lips, but the position and action of the entire face of the

A MATH LESSON — Six-year-old Michael Bader raises five fingers as his teacher, Joyce Steiner, 845 Indianwood Dr., Lake Orion, strikes a gong. Michael has his back turned to the teacher so that he can depend on his auditory training unit to hear the number of times the teacher strikes the gong.

BEING TAUGHT TO READ—Reading is taught in the classes for the acoustically handicapped first by nouns, colors, and action verbs. Mrs. Dorothy Herd of Wimberly Drive, Rochester, is shown teaching her students to read with the help of words on the SOUND CAN BE FUN—At first, most children in the acoustically handicapped classes don't like sound when they hear it through their auditory training units. Then they are taught that sound can be fun. Joyce Steiner is shown with her students listening to rhythm on a record and keeping time with sticks.

Other Lines Suffer as Compact Cars Gain

By BEN PHILEGAR

AP Automotive Writer
DETROIT — Four years ago, one of every three new cars buyers picked a medium-price brand. This year the ratio is one out of six.

Spring of 1957 marked the peak for medium-price cars. They've been headed downhill ever since, both in volume and in their share of the over-all auto market.

There were 11 names from which to choose and the ill-fated Edsel which appeared late in the summer of 1957 made it 12. Now there are only seven.

From a peak share of 35 per cent, the medium-price class has tumbled to barely 17 per cent of the total new car market. The three biggest sellers — Pontiac, Oldsmobile and Buick — have sprouted miniature versions.

Dodge and Mercury have moved almost their entire output into the low-price field, Hudson, Nash and then Packard were discontinued. The Edsel disappeared quickly. De Soto followed into oblivion last November.

Some market analysts feel the doom is compact cars is mainly responsible for the troubles of the medium-price class.

When the mediums first went into a tailspin, the big gainers were the low-price names which had been adding fancy versions in direct competition and the small economy imports.

COMPACT SHARE ROSE

American Motors and Studebaker more than made up for their former medium-price cars with their compact models.

Then came the compacts from Ford, General Motors and Chrysler.

The compact market share with 16 names in the compact field.

The analysis suggests the advent of the compacts forced the traditional low-price names to invade the medium-price territory.

When the medium-price names started offering compacts of their own some buyers obviously switched sizes. Some observers feel this switch has become more pronounced with the addition of ultra-fancy models in the compact field.

Invariably, when a manufacturer announced a compact he spoke of plus business and stoutly maintained the junior version would not hurt sales of his standard-size cars.

While it may be yet too soon to pass judgment on each individual make, it's obvious the compacts have hurt the standards to some extent.

The whole marketing picture in the auto industry is becoming confused that within another year it may be impossible to make the traditional price-class comparisons.

The major change to come this fall will see Ford and Chevrolet adding another series of cars between the present compacts and the standard-size models.

Speculation is that at Ford, for example, what now is the standard-size car will be limited to the Galaxie series and the Sunliner convertible. All other models will be moved to the shorter-wheelbase line.

JFK Lauds Inspiration of Judaism in Speech

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—President Kennedy told the American Council for Judaism today that the "variety and strength of our national democratic character owe much to the ethical inspiration of Judaism."

Kennedy pointed out in a message to the council's 17th annual conference that "Religion has played a great and constructive role in the development of American life."

Enters Running for Con-Con

Veteran Hills Official Seeks GOP Nomination in 3rd District

A real tussle is in store for the Republican nomination for the 3rd District constitutional convention seat with the announcement today of another contender.

Henry L. Woolfenden, former president of the State Bar of Michigan, declared his intention to bid for the nomination from the normally GOP district in the July 25 primary.

The former mayor of Bloomfield Hills, and a commissioner of his city since 1957, will match votes with Mrs. Berrien C. Ketchum of Birmingham, former president of the State League of Women Voters.

Woolfenden, 54, of 1575 Kensington Road, said this about the coming Oct. 3 convention which will be charged with rewriting the 1908 state constitution:

"It is essential to the success of the convention that every senatorial and representative district in the state elect a delegate who is truly representative of his community."

"As a resident of Oakland County for 31 years and the 3rd District for the last 19 years, I believe that I understand, and can effectively represent in the convention, the viewpoints of citizens from all walks of life in our district."

Receiving his law degree in 1929 after night studies at the Detroit College of Law, Woolfenden started to practice law in Pontiac that year. He is a partner in the Detroit law firm of Dahlberg, Simon, Layne, Woolfenden & Gawn, which he joined in 1944.

His political career includes being a GOP delegate from his city for many years. He once was chairman of his county's delegation to a state state convention. In state affairs, Woolfenden has been a member of the Michigan Public Service Commission, Teachers' Tenure Commission and a member from the state which helped prepare the Hoover report.

A former member of the board of governors of the American Bar Association, the candidate is also a life member of the Federal Judiciary Conference representing Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee.

State Hospital Employees Delegates to Convention

Eleven members of Chapter 29 Pontiac State Hospital, will be delegates to the Michigan State Employees Association 11th annual General Assembly at Grand Rapids tomorrow through Sunday.

They are Peter Gormley, Solon Spears, Lois Schanstra, Kathleen Hart, Ted Panaretos, Don Krupp, Raphael Rushnik, Grace Wacker, Ann Coates, John Banycyk and B. Boots.

Union Racketeers at Canaveral Peril U.S.

WSU Board Loser Wants Con-Con Job

By BOB CONSIDINE

CAPE CANAVERAL—America's blood will boil at the congressional disclosures of union racketeering on this missile testing base and at Vandenberg in California.

We are behind the Russians in racketeering for a number of reasons, and high among them is the fact that a number of locals have seized upon the frantic effort to close the missile gap as an excuse to rob the taxpayer blind.

You've seen some of the figures involved.

Bums who can't tie a knot make bigger salaries, through overtime, than the incredibly endowed and dedicated astronauts who have bet their lives that we can catch up with the Soviets.

A lay ditch-digger can earn a bigger income than Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, who gave up a fortune to serve his country.

Elevator operators in a low-building part of the country command a better income than colonels who send satellites around the sun.

An apprentice electrician at Canaveral drew $748 a week for a period. That's about $20,000 a year more than is made by the genius who gave this nation an incomparable lead in naval warfare, Adm. Rickover.

Granted, money isn't everything and most of all of that stolen by exorbitant union demands is plowed back into the economy.

Still, there's the compelling question of where the hell we are headed when we tolerate some of these obscene lacinations on the morality that made the country great.

One could applaud a young man, not quite adept at his job, who makes $748 a week, but there cannot be any hurrahs over the methods by which he made the money.

"We've got some people working for us who have only contempt for their locals," a representative of a major defense contractor told me here last night.

"They'll walk off the job and go fishing, or if worse comes to worse take the wife and kids to Miami for a couple of weeks without the slightest fear the union will pick up their cards.

"When they come back, the project they're working on is behind schedule, so that means overtime pay. And in short order they've made money by staying off the job.

"We'll say a work day starts at eight in the morning and ends at four.

"They'll come to work at six and work until ten, then back at two and work until six, and demand—and get time and a half for four hours that day.

"I go to the military and say, 'Fire these bums if they go off the job without legitimate reason. There are plenty of out-of-work and decent laboring people in this country, who'd be glad to fill their jobs."

"But the military man, though he might have a chest filled with ribbons, usually refuses to become 'involved' as he puts it. He just wants to get his mission accomplished.

"So we pay through the nose, often for a job badly done. And in time the bill is presented to the taxpayer."

There are, of course, countless decent working men furthering our progress in the space age. They can be proud of their contribution to the country's posture in the space age.

What has been said above is directed at frauds, and perhaps even infiltrators, who brought about more than 300 work stoppages resulting in the loss of about 170,000 man-days of work at one of the cost critical times in the history of the nation.

HOLLAND (UPI) — Ralph E. Richman, who lost the closest race of the general spring election in a bid to retain a seat on the Wayne State Board of Governors, today announced his candidacy for the constitutional convention.

Richman lost the WSU post to Republican Thomas B. Adams of Bloomfield Hills. Richman said today he would be a candidate for the con-con seat on the Democratic ticket from the 2nd State Senate District. The district includes Ottawa and Muskegon counties.

Lions Club Elects Slate of Officers; 3 Are Educators

One of the first motions before newly elected officers of the Pontiac Lions Club may be to hold all future meetings in the city's board of education building, since three of the four top-ranking Lions are officials in the local school system.

Director of Special Education William G. Wright was elected president of the Lions Club yesterday at a noon meeting in the Waldron Hotel, succeeding Philip Wellmeyer.

And, Vernon Schiller, director of school finances, is the club's new vice president, while William Anderson, a member of the Pontiac School Board, is now third vice president.

Robert Ramirez of the Pontiac Credit Union, Inc., was elected second vice president; Tom Kent is now club secretary; and Lewis Jarrard is treasurer.

The club's new lion tamer is John Haller, and John Zeunen is tall twister.

New club directors are Adolph Magnus, Ray McDonald and Warren Wasmuth, who was a write-in candidate.

The new officers will be installed at a meeting in June.

Ex-Captive McCann Is Dead of Cancer

MANILA (AP)—Robert E. McCann, American businessman held prisoner in Red China for 10 years on espionage charges, died today of cancer, almost a month after gaining his freedom. He was 60 years old.

McCann died at Clark Air Force Base hospital north of Manila, where he was brought the day after crossing the Chinese border into Hong Kong on a stretcher April 6.

Florida Police Refuse Stunt of Bed Pushing

VALDOSTA, Ga. (AP) — Bed pushing, the latest college craze, has penetrated the Deep South, but can't get over the Florida line.

A Valdosta State College fraternity, Sigma Phi Epsilon, planned to roll a brass bed across the state line to Tallahassee, Fla., home of Florida State University. But the Florida State Patrol refused to permit the stunt, saying it would take three weeks to arrange for the safety of the bed pushers.

The students then reversed course. With the fraternity sweetheart, Miss Mary Dickey, seated on the bed they shoved off to South Georgia College, about 30 miles away at Douglas.

The Georgia State Patrol raised no objections.

In France, JFKs to Stay at 'Royal Apartments'

PARIS (AP) — President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy will stay in the "royal apartments" of the French foreign ministry on the Quai D'Orsay when they visit France May 31-June 2, French sources said Wednesday.

The suite is usually given to illustrious guests. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Premier Khrushchev and the late King George VI have stayed there.

Women to Make Dust Fly at Waterford Library

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
It's spring house cleaning time for everyone, and members of the Waterford Township Faculty Wives plan on "digging in" tonight to make the Community Center library a thing of beauty and a joy forever.

That's what Kay Koch, cleanup chairman, is telling her group, and the girls really mean business.

For many years Mrs. Kenneth Valentine was chief librarian, book reviewer, secretary, and organizer in Waterford. When she moved to Clarkston, Mrs. (Pat) Valentine spent all her off-time hours trying to find some one or some group to take over her duties in Waterford.

Finally, the Faculty Wives agreed, and what a job they are doing! They each take turns registering new customers, repair and process books, handle the bookkeeping and file newly donated works.

Not only that, but the colorful drapes get a thorough periodic washing, and the bulletin boards are posted with up-to-the-minute reading material and informational announcements.

Of the 6,000 volumes in Waterford's only public library, almost 50 per cent have been contributed. Some recent improvements include the addition of two new book cases donated by the Waterford Book Review Club, and the materials for three large bulletin boards which were donated by the Waterford Lumber Co.

Mrs. Gerald Justin and Mrs. Balfour Palmer have assisted as unit leaders in organizing the work of 14 volunteer librarians, thus enabling the library to open its facilities to the public free of charge, three days a week. Mrs. Joyce Lewis is general chairman.

The hours are from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays, and from 10 a.m. to 12 noon Saturdays.

The general cleaning session tonight will have the women washing down the many shelves, dusting books, cleaning cupboards and separating some 200 newly donated books.

Approve School Merger
HASTINGS 18—Voters of Woodland and Lake Odessa school districts which touch four counties have approved a merger into a single unit and hope to build a new high school within two years.

JFK to Meet With Newsmen on Censorship

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy plans to discuss with a group of newspaper executives next Tuesday problems facing a free press in times of international dangers.

The meeting was arranged at the request of publishers and editors, the White House said.

In an address last week to the Association, Kennedy advocated self-restraint in news stories that conceivably could give valuable secret information to the enemy. The President said in the address that "no war ever posed a greater threat to our security" than the Cold War threat of communism.

The publishers and editors requested the meeting after that speech, Andrew T. Hatcher, assistant White House press secretary, said Wednesday. Their telegrams were received Tuesday.

Red Arms for Ghana?

Young Briton Playing Third Southern Role

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD — Laurence Harvey, the angry young Briton in "Room at the Top," is playing his third angry young Southerner.

Having fought through the Alamo and Tennessee Williams' psychotic jungle ("Summer and Smoke"), Harvey is now the Neanderthal son Algren hero in "A Walk on the Wild Side."

Where else but in Hollywood would one of England's finest young classical actors be spouting drawls? This is Harvey's fifth American film. Despite some missteps, he seems happy with the experience. "I like it here," he said happily. "The living is wonderful and the people are great. There can be no doubt that Hollywood has the best facilities in the world for making films."

But he admitted that he has not achieved the dramatic heights in Hollywood that he did in England. Why?

"Censorship," he commented. "You simply can't make films here that deal with human problems in complete honesty. Pictures like 'Room at the Top,' 'Expresso Bongo' and 'The Long, the Short and the Tall' couldn't be made in Hollywood."

GOOD ONES BETTER

"Don't get me wrong—I've done plenty of bad films in England, too. But the good ones are better than those made here because they can be frank. It's possible because of our classification system in England, which limits certain films to adults only or children if accompanied by adults."

"The system can be costly; we lost thousands because 'Room at the Top' couldn't get a family rating. But at least we were able to treat the story in utter honesty."

The actor spoke openly about his misadventure in Hollywood. One was "Butterfield 8," for which he drew less than king reviews.

"The actors take the beating when a picture is bad," he sighed. "Everyone thinks it is their fault. 'Butterfield 8' was a disaster. We started with a poorly written script and then ran into the writers' strike. The only thing that saved the picture was Liz Taylor's performance. She was magnificent."

Harvey's opinion of "The Alamo": "Without the continual drive, it was an excellent example of its type—the big, brawling spectacle. The mistake was in trying to sell it as one of the great films of all time. It isn't."

Nikita Receives Arabs

Congress to Back JFK on Red China

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators reached bipartisan agreement Wednesday on a resolution to give congressional backing to President Kennedy's statement he will oppose admission of Communist China to the United Nations.

The compromise resolution would put Congress on record as supporting the President "in his affirmation that the United States shall continue to meet its commitments to the people and government of the Republic of China and shall continue to support that government as the representative of China in the United Nations."

School Boards 'Falling Down on Leadership'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The president of the National School Board Association said today that local boards are falling down on the job of providing dynamic leadership in education. Roy O. Frantz of Pueblo, Colo., told the association's annual meeting, "We have a commission for leadership from the American people," adding "it is in that area that we are falling short."

school systems moves quickly and, for many, this is their last opportunity for formal education.

Frantz said two other major problems are a lack of communications between school boards and a lack of evaluating the programs of education.

Charge Windsor Boy Slew His Brother

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Gary Parent, 18-year-old high school student, was charged today with murdering his older brother.

The brother, 31-year-old Lawrence Charles, was found dead of a rifle bullet wound in the family's West Windsor home Tuesday night.

No details of the shooting were made public, and no evidence was taken at the younger brother's arraignment.

The accused boy was described as a top athlete and student. The shooting was the latest in a series of misfortunes to strike the Parent family.

A grandmother and great-grandmother died in the past month. The boy's father Alex A. Parent, 51, is seriously ill in hospital after undergoing major surgery.

Head of Schools Calls for Money

Dr. Lynn Bartlett Tells Governor Student Rate Up 50,000 Each Year

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's public school chief today called for broad new spending programs to finance growing needs of elementary and high school education.

The proposals ranged from substantial increases in state aid to local school districts to a $9,000 minimum salary for experienced teachers.

Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, outlined the proposals in his biennial report to the governor on the state's educational conditions. For the most part, the report rounded up recommendations he has made previously.

Public school enrollment, now at 1.67 million, is going up at the rate of 40,000 to 50,000 a year, Bartlett pointed out.

Present tax sources at both the state and local level are inadequate to meet education needs, he told Gov. Swainson. Local property owners pay too big a share of school costs, he said, and the state should take up a bigger share of the burden.

Bartlett made no specific suggestions on how to boost state aid, calling only for "a system of taxation based more equitably on a taxpayers ability to pay."

Bartlett recommended a thorough statewide study of the whole financing program to serve as the basis for revision.

State UF Committee Asks $3.5-Million Budget

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Michigan United Fund Committee has recommended a budget of $3,531,197 for next year to meet the needs of member agencies.

Included in the budget was $25,000 for the Leukemia Society, Inc., in the fund group for the first time.

The total is a 10 per cent increase for operating expenses over last year. The recommendations still must be approved by the fund executive committee.

Nine U.S. Presidents have been Episcopals.

Ten Employees of Credit Bureau to Be Honored

Ten employees of the Pontiac Credit Bureau, Inc., will be feted at the firm's 10th annual Service Award dinner to be held at 6 p.m. Tuesday in the Waldron Hotel.

Those receiving awards will include: Flora Ostendorf, for 15 years of service; Robert Radwin, 12 years' service; Adelle Fuld-kamp, 14 years and Ethel Bigler, 17 years.

Others are Elita Snow, 9 years' service; Elvira Lindgren, 1 year; Jennie Lindquist, 5 years; Pearl Stull, 5 years; Barbara McMinis, 2 years; and Barbara Moran, 2 years.

U. of M. Prof to Seek Election to Con-Con

ANN ARBOR (AP)—James K. Pollock, professor of political science and chairman of the department at the University of Michigan, said Wednesday he's running as a Republican seeking a delegate's spot to the constitutional convention next fall.

Pollock said he is running from the 1st Representative District of Washtenaw County.

Father of Five Waives Robbery Examination

MUSKEGON (AP)—Gerald P. Mackey, 33, father of five children, waived examination Wednesday on charges of armed and unarmed robbery in the $15,000 Fidelity Loan Corp. holdup.

Circuit Court Judge Henry L. Beers ordered Mackey, a fireman, remanded to jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Police said Mackey admitted last Thursday's holdup. They quoted him as saying he needed money for personal debts.

Shepard Knew 3 Weeks Ago

Told of Tentative Pick to Be 1st Man in Space to Prepare Family

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Alan B. Shepard knew he had been tentatively picked to be the first American shot into space some three weeks ago.

Shepard was apparently told by National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials so he could prepare his family.

Officials confided the fact that Shepard had been forwarded to members of Congress who were on hand to witness the event Tuesday when it was postponed because of bad weather.

The selection, of which Shepard was informed, was contingent on his passing the final physical examinations which were held and will be held again shortly before launching time.

The selection was not made public apparently because of the contingency.

Uganda Blasts Famed Waterfall on Lake Victoria

LONDON (UPI)—Uganda is blowing up a famous waterfall. But it doesn't matter much—the waterfall is under the water anyhow.

Chunk by chunk, Uganda is dynamiting Ripon Falls on Lake Victoria, once believed to be the source of the Nile River, according to information reaching here.

Five years ago Uganda built the Owen Falls Dam, which raised the river to the level of the lake itself, putting Ripon Falls under water. But the falls stayed there, an enormous rock barrier which cut the flow of water at low lake levels.

To get a steadier flow to the power stations which feed Uganda with electricity, more than 60,000 cubic yards of rock is being blasted away from the submerged "falls."

Visible Persuasion Helps Patients Socialize

NEW YORK (UPI)—A central figure of focus in the design of a tile floor can stimulate socialization among hospital patients.

And when the furniture's grouped about the focus point, the patient gets a sense of security.

The claims are made by Dr. Robert Sommer, research psychologist at the Saskatchewan Hos-

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (UPI)—Dannell (Speed) Cooley, former western singer under indictment for the April 3 slaying of his wife, was at Kern General Hospital again today with recurrent heart trouble.

USIA Has Been Ordered to Stop Opinion Polls

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. has plunged under the Eisenhower administration.

Information Agency has dropped its poll taking abroad on who's winning the cold war, a spokesman said today.

He said the agency will continue its secret broader studies on foreign thinking involving the United States.

The decision on the controversial USIA studies was said to have been made with White House approval last February.

Under the revised program, informants said USIA will not sample foreign opinion on the U.S.-Soviet race but will use polls and other data to analyze why foreigners reach the conclusions they do on matters of importance to the United States.

Both the source material and interpretations of it in the future reports are to remain under security wraps, the informants said.

USIA studies figured in the 1960 campaign argument, over U.S. prestige. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, alleged—and Richard M. Nixon, the Republican nominee, denied—that U.S. prestige abroad

Senate Okays $90,000 as Aid for Oak Park

The State Senate inched another step toward getting Oak Park out of the hole by approving a $90,000 appropriation to the city.

Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, said today that he, in cooperation with Rep. Raymond L. Baker, R-Berkeley, had been successful in tacking on the amendment to an education deficiency appropriation House bill which then passed the Senate.

Sen. Roberts said Oak Park needed the funds to reimburse the City of Detroit after the old Carver School District was annexed to Oak Park.

Detroit officials said the money was due for tuition of Carver students enrolled in Detroit schools.

Roberts said he believed the House would concur with the amendment.

Denies Gary Cooper Has Fallen Into Coma

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A spokesman for Gary Cooper, critically ill from cancer, denies reports that the actor is in a coma.

"Mr. Cooper is under heavy sedation for pain, and he sleeps a great deal," the spokesman said Wednesday. "But he remains lucid and talks calmly with his family and doctor while awake."

Cooper, 59, is at his Bel-Air home.

Milkers estimate it takes 340 to 350 squirts during the milking process to yield a gallon of milk.

SURPRISES FOR FAIR—Not only will there be the usual school booths and entertainment at the William Austin Burt School Fair in Waterford Township Saturday, but a large basket of "surprise" packages will be available. Peering wonderingly at a few of these items are (from left) Michael Cochrane, Geri Rose, Barbara Van-

...and Clark Boyles. Needlework, indoor-outdoor plants, white elephant and used clothing booths will be featured at the fair which will be held from 4 to 8 p.m. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Merrill Grant and Mrs. William Hammond, who urge all area people to "H. Ho and come to the Fair."

U.S. to Claim 2 Records When Astronaut Hits Air

CAPE CANAVERAL, (UPI)—America will claim two official world records for manned space flight when its first astronaut takes his rocket ride down the Atlantic missile range.

The Soviets already have laid claim to three man-in-space records for Yuri Gagarin.

But they will not be certified officially by the Federation Aeronautique Internationale in Paris until full details on the spaceflight used in the April 12 Gagarin orbital flight are provided by the Soviets.

FAI is the governing body of sporting aviation and custodian of official world flight records. Alan B. Shepard Jr. has been tagged for the first U.S. man-in-space effort, a suborbital rocket ride.

As a result of some fast last-minute footwork by the National Aeronautic Association (NAA), FAI's American representative, official timers and observers will be on hand for the Shepard flight.

The two records he will seek are for the highest manned flight into space without earth orbit and for the greatest weight lifted into space with a man aboard but without orbiting.

The records Russia has requested FAI to certify are for greatest duration of manned flight in orbit, heaviest manned spaceflight in orbit and greatest altitude in orbit.

Expansion Planned by Berry Door Corp.

The S. S. Kresge Co. has brought the five-and-ten-cent store from nickle to diamonds.

This week, four Pontiac area Kresge stores are opening a "Genuine Diamond and 14 Karat Gold Jewelry Department."

At the Downtown Pontiac, Tel-Haven, Miracle Mile and Birmingham stores, matched diamond watches and diamond-encrusted sets, diamond pendants, set friendship rings went on sale today for the first time.

Introductory diamond ensembles are featured from $17.77 with a large selection of style and price ranges available.

This marks the first time the people will be able to purchase engagement and wedding rings in a variety-department store.

The Pavilion Diamond Co., manufacturers of quality diamond products, is introducing this innovation in diamond merchandising in one Indiana and 22 Michigan Kresge stores.

The new expansion in the Kresge Company's selling program is coincidental with the firm's extension of its credit plan which makes it possible for diamond purchasers to pay for their diamonds on a convenient charge plan with extended monthly payments.

"HERE'S HOW"—That's what Mrs. Jay Benda said at the conclusion of a camp-packing session of a Girl Scout Trainer course held at the Waterford Township Community Center yesterday. The advanced trout training group of the North Oakland Girl Scout Council are preparing for "graduation" exercises with a weekend campout Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Pontiac Recreation area. They will be required to sleep on only a blanket, and must roll all their personal belongings in the blanket to be carried on their backs.

Elevates Role of Supermarket Carry-Out Boys

EAST LANSING (AP)—Supermarket carry-out boys "are the most important public relations men the food industry has today," delegates to a wholesale grocers conference were told here.

Robert K. Liston of Hudson-Thomson, Inc., of Montgomery, Ala., said at the National Wholesale Grocers Association conference at Michigan State University:

"Except for the busy checker, the carry-out boy is probably the only contact the consumer has with any employee in the entire industry. If their contact is with a pleasant helpful guy with friendly conversation and a warm smile, the customers will return."

"This key public relations man," he said, "needs more training and gets less attention than anyone in the business."

Extend Course in Great Books

Guidance Instruction Available to 5 County Libraries

Registration for the Great Books Leadership Guidance Course has been extended at five Oakland County libraries to accommodate the growing need for leadership training, announced James Johnson of the Great Books Foundation.

The local libraries that have extended the registration deadline for the tuition-free course are the township public libraries in Oxford, Waterford, West Bloomfield, Orion and Independence.

The guidance course is sponsored by all local libraries in Southeastern Michigan in association with the Adult Education Department of the Detroit Public Library.

The leadership classes will be devoted to an examination of discussion methods in theory and practice. Demonstration and practice, with critical and directed assistance, will be given to each individual.

Special attention will be given to an analysis of the different types of discussion problems.

Books of authors whose writings probe into the perennial problems of mankind are used for the demonstration and practice.

14 State Lights at Lake Orion to Be Revamped

LAKE ORION — The Detroit Edison Co. will more than double the capacity of 14 state lights and add three new ones here under a plan approved by the Lake Orion Village Council.

The replacement of old fixtures in present lights will increase the capacity from 1,000 to 2,500 lumens in 14 locations in the village.

New street lights will be installed on Front Street between Broadway and Lapeer streets, Shadblow Street between MD4 and Lapeer Street and on North Andrews between Beebe and Church streets.

The new lights will be 2,500 lumens.

There will be no installation charge for the work, but the extra facilities will increase the village's lighting bill by $358 per year.

Councilman Gilbert Woodcock suggested the locations for the new lights after personally inspecting Lake Orion's existing facilities. Although stating that the lighting system in the village needed to be completely revamped, Woodcock said the partial program he proposed was "at least a step in the right direction."

Proceeds will be used for projects undertaken by the sponsoring organization.

Fruitport to Decide Tax

FRUITPORT — Voters of Fruitport school district will decide May 22 on a millage increase to finance $125,000 in new high school and additional elementary school facilities.

YESTERDAY'S WINNERS — At the annual Spring Achievement Day sponsored by the Oakland County Home Economics Extension department, these three women from the Pontiac-Waterford Township area represented the "Extensionists" group

Hundreds of Women at Center

Achievement Day Big Success

By REBA HENTZELMAN
Women—350 of them—swarmed around the big Community Center in Waterford Township yesterday and learned about wardrobe planning, effective use of time and energy, furniture refinishing and family fun and recreation.

They came from 13 communities in the Pontiac area to celebrate Spring Achievement Day, sponsored by the Oakland County Home Economics Extension department.

After a rousing community sing at 1 p.m., Lyle B. Abel, cooperative extension service director, introduced the main speaker, James W. Hunt, director and referee of the county Juvenile Court. One could hear a pin drop as the women listened to some of the problems with county adults as well as teen-agers.

EXHIBITS OUTSTANDING
All around the big gymnasium there were outstanding exhibits indicating the original creativeness of Oakland County homemakers. Healthy green plants growing in odd-shaped bottles and in rare antique cups set in saucers drew interest from many spectators.

Old World flavor of "just a pinch of herbs" seemed to be the main theme in many exhibits. There was herb bread and saffron cake placed among three tiny tomatoes and one lovely egg even looked dramatic in one of the projects.

Several areas projected hand-made fashions with everything from hats—glorious and dramatic—to coats, gloves and dresses on display. One booth featured "Fashion from the Gay '50s" concerning today's look with that of the fashions of the past.

The "Let's Plan a Party" table featured a Chinese motif, with a menu of chop suey, rice, broiled pineapple chunks and all the trimmings. Literature showed how to select guests, correct dates, table settings and easy ways of serving the food.

Ten area women were honored for being 25-year members, and the "Extensionists"—a Waterford Township-Pontiac extension group walked off with the first award. Their display showed various ways of "stretching" the dollar.

The Michigan Extension Women's service creed of "an open door to more abundant living, physical, mental, moral and economic" was evident throughout the day-long activities, the friendly buzzing that went on as the women waited in line for tea indicated a highly successful, entertaining and informational meeting at Waterford.

Mrs. William Winer will be the hostess Wednesday at her home at 7377 Pepple Creek Road, Birmingham. Mrs. Merle Schneider, league president, will be the speaker.

On Thursday Mrs. Nerve Alix will entertain at her Birmingham home at 5546 W. Maple. The speaker will be Mrs. Campbell Harvey.

The final tea, on Friday, will have Mrs. Joel Warren as the guest speaker at the home of hostess Mrs. Finley France of 2323 N. Pine Center, Orchard Lake.

Further information about the tea can be obtained from Mrs. Schneider, Mrs. Serdyarian, membership chairman, or Mrs. Leonard Melman.

Linda Shull, the regular soloist, will be joined by Nancy Shull and Norman Thompson in the choral accompaniment. Mrs. Lester Eitinger will provide organ accompaniment.

Proceeding the program, a pot-luck supper sponsored by the Youth Education Division will be held at the church.

Proceeds from the dinner and dance program will be used to further the Youth Camp activities of the church.

To Install Officers of PTA Association

AVON TOWNSHIP—New officers of the Brooklands-Pontiac Parent-Teacher Association will be installed at the association's 5 p.m. meeting next Wednesday at Brooklands School, 480 E. Auburn Ave.

Sgt. Donald Kraft of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department will show a film of month-to-month respiration.

The program also will feature the Brooklands Chorus, directed by Alex Dubbs, singing several songs and the Brooklands Band, led by Kenneth DeVoy.

Mrs. Ted Allen will preside at the installation, and refreshments will be served by the kindergarten mothers.

Widow, 62, Dies in Blazing Home

Suffocation Death Is the First Fire Fatality in Huntington Woods

HUNTINGTON WOODS — A 62-year-old widow who died of suffocation when a blaze swept through her home today became the first fire fatality in the 34-year history of this city.

The victim, Mrs. Anthony A. (Max) Kasper, was found early this morning in the closet of her bedroom by Huntington Woods firemen.

Fire Chief John McQuater said the blaze, apparently touched off by a lighted cigarette in the living room, mushroomed through the one-story brick home at 10075 Nade Road.

The house was completely enveloped in flames when his department reached the scene, according to McQuater. He said a neighbor called the fire department at 4 a.m.

APPARENTLY CONFUSED
The fire chief said Mrs. Kasper apparently became confused in trying to escape from her burning bedroom and entered the closet by mistake.

She was found on the closet floor in her night clothes.

Mrs. Kasper was not burned, but she was pronounced dead from suffocation by Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. H. G. Mettner.

Damage to the home was estimated at $25,000 by McQuater. He said the interior of the home was gutted by fire and the roof was destroyed.

McQuater said this is the first fire death here since Huntington Woods was incorporated as a city in 1927.

Mrs. Kasper's body was taken to the William Sullivan Funeral Home, Royal Oak. She was the mother of two sons, Arnold J. of Avon Township and A. F. Kasper of St. Clair Shores.

NCCC to Greet the Community, Discuss Roles

AVON TOWNSHIP—A week of activities is planned by North Central Christian College beginning Sunday to acquaint the community with the college and the college with its neighbors.

Progress Week, as the six-day observance is called, will feature programs by student groups in Rochester stores and business places, a Ladies Night Tuesday and a parade and choral concert May 12.

Maurice C. Hall, assistant to the president of NCCC, has enlisted the aid of area businessmen to familiarize residents with the purposes and people of the college.

All women from Rochester and environs have been invited to the Ladies' Luncheon program at 8 p.m. Tuesday. The Senior Association, an affiliate organization, is co-operating with the college administration in planning an educational and entertaining evening, according to Hall.

Work done by the approximately 500 Associates to provide furnishings and equipment for the college will be explained.

MRS. COVERT TO SPEAK
The principal speaker will be Mrs. Frances Covert, recently retired Avon Township clerk. She will tell how NCCC has contributed to the cultural and intellectual atmosphere of the area.

In addition, there will be musical entertainment by the Women's Ensemble of the college. Piano selections will be played by Mrs. Fred Alexander of NCCC's music department; and to Ellen Schaefer, Monroe Peach Queen and Miss Rochester of 1960, will sing.

The grand finale of the week, marking over a year and a half of existence for NCCC will be a parade May 12. It will begin at the college at 6:30 p.m.

The parade will proceed through Rochester and out West University Drive to Michigan State University, Oakland.

A choral concert will be presented on Fourth Street between Main and Walnut streets at 7:30 p.m. by the A. Capella Chorus, directed by Fred Alexander.

The liberal arts college opened its doors in September 1959 to a class of 150 coeds. It plans to complete the transition from junior college to four-year college status by 1964.

The school occupies a 37-acre site at 800 W. Avon Road.

First Graders Will Precede Installation Rite

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—New officers of the Scotch Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association will be installed Tuesday at the 8 p.m. meeting of the organization.

Prior to the installation ceremonies, first grade pupils will demonstrate what they have learned in the use of the abacus.

The officers to be installed are Leonard Grossman, president; Mrs. Harry Koller, teacher vice president; Mrs. Theodore Kieffer, mother vice president; and Mrs. Arthur Paddy, treasurer.

Others to take office are Mrs. Henry Pascou, recording secretary; Mrs. Douglas Sutton, corresponding secretary; Mrs. George Perkins, historian; and Mrs. Hugh MacDuff, parliamentarian.

WALLED LAKE — The Ladies Guild of St. Matthew Lutheran Church, 2040 S. Commerce Road, will host members of Orchard Lake's St. Mark Ladies Guild at a 7:30 p.m. meeting tomorrow.

Gene Schmel, Wall Lake Justice of the Peace, will be the guest speaker. He will discuss "How a Christian Home Influences the Community."

2 Youth Groups Help Set Airport Passenger Mark

Patronage on North Central Airlines leaped upward last month, thanks to two youth groups that flew to Flint on field trips.

The 76 outbound passengers at Pontiac Municipal Airport made the highest monthly total since service was inaugurated in December.

There were 35 outbound passengers in March.

In April, the airlines carried 5,292 pounds of outbound mail, 4,389 pounds of express freight and 940 pounds of regular freight. Inbound, there were 41 passengers, 1,889

Good to See and to Eat

Prevue of Strawberry Desserts

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor
With the worst April in years just behind us, it's hard to believe that in 6 weeks we'll be having some local strawberries. Southern berries have been in the stores for the past month, but we're sure everyone looks forward to the home grown ones.

Down in Bloomfield Hills Saturday, May 13, might be called Strawberry Day. The Mothers Club of the Bloomfield Country Day School is holding a Strawberry Festival for the benefit of the new school building. Luncheon will be served from 12 to 2, at which time there will be a large variety of strawberry dishes offered.

When the committee got together for planning and sampling, we managed to get both a picture and some of the recipes. Clip them out for use now with a new twist and for more extensive use during the Michigan season.

Mrs. John D. Richardson, chairman of the Festival, served her special cheese cake garnished with strawberries to her fellow committee women. The verdict—"Excellent!"

NO BAKE CHEESE CAKE

By Mrs. John D. Richardson

Crumb crust:
2 tablespoons melted butter
1/2 cup white sugar
1/2 cupraham cracker crumbs
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup milk
Mix ingredients together. Press into bottom of waxed paper lined 8 or 9-inch square pan. If de-aired, filling may be poured into 8-inch spring form pan and topped with crumbs instead.

Filling:
1/2 cup strawberries
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup cream
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup lemon zest
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped

Mix together gelatin, 1/2 cup sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Beat egg yolks and milk and add to gelatin mixture. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until gelatin dissolves and

Cream Custard

1/2 cup milk

1/2 cup cream

1/2 cup lemon juice

1/2 cup lemon zest

1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped

Beat eggs enough to combine yolks and whites; add sugar and salt; beat enough to combine. Gradually stir in light and heavy cream and vanilla. Turn into custard cups — 5 one-half cup size. Place in shallow pan of hot water that comes up about as high as custard.

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 to 40 minutes or until silver knife inserted near center comes out almost clean. Cool and chill. Serve with any desired fruit.

Spoon Bread Recipe Is Given New Flavoring

Spoon Bread once went by another more prosaic name—Mush Bread. In late Victorian cook books devoted to dishes of the Old South, the nomenclature is explained: "Bake the bread," an old-time recipe directs, "in the serving dish as it is too soft for turning out, requiring to be dipped on the plates with a spoon. Hence the name in some mouths: Spoon Bread."

The ingredients of old-fashioned Spoon Bread consist of corn meal, milk, eggs, butter and salt; here along with the milk, tomato juice, and because tomato takes to onion, that seasoning. The baking powder added helps to make this Spoon Bread like a soufflé—heavily leavened.

Tomato Spoon Bread

1 cup enriched corn meal

1 cup tomato juice

2 cups milk (scalded)
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 small (1/2 tablespoon) finely grated onion (put in add juice)
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg (beaten)
Mix corn meal with cold tomato juice. Slowly stir corn meal mixture into scalded milk; cook until thick, stirring often. Remove from heat; add butter, onion, baking powder and salt.

Beat egg yolks, then gradually add hot mixture, stirring vigorously to blend. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold into corn meal mixture. Turn into greased baking dish (1 1/2 quarts). Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 40 to 50 minutes or until silver knife inserted in center comes out clean. Rush to table. Makes 6 servings.

mixture thickens, about 10 minutes.

Remove from heat, add lemon rind and cool. Stir in scalded cottage cheese, lemon juice and drained pineapple. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from spoon.

Beat egg whites stiff, but not dry. Gradually add remaining 1/2 cup sugar and beat until very stiff. Whip cream. Fold both egg whites and whipped cream into gelatin mixture.

Turn into pan and chill until firm. Garnish with whole strawberries before serving. Serves 10-12.

Gold cake frosted with party pink strawberry icing is a cake worthy of serving for any occasion. This is a specialty of Mrs. N. C. Carroll, another member of the committee.

Beat them into the butter mixture.

Sift flour, measure and sift 2 times with other dry ingredients. Add alternately with milk. Beat thoroughly. Add vanilla.

Bake in greased 9-inch tube pan about 45 minutes at 350 degrees.

Strawberry Frosting

Cream together 1 1/2 cups confectioners sugar and 3 tablespoons butter. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Add fresh strawberries, one at a time, and continue to beat until mixture is of spreading consistency. Frost top and sides of cooled cake. Trim with fresh strawberries.

Mrs. Charles L. Bricker of Birmingham used to pick strawberries for her then future mother-in-law to make preserves. Local residents may remember the "Eck-Mead" Guernsey Farm at what is now the vicinity of 13-Mile Road and Grand River, this was the Bricker farm.

We are often asked for this preserve recipe; we'll put it in our files too.

STRAWBERRY PRESERVES

By Mrs. Charles L. Bricker

Hull 2 quarts of strawberries.

Pour boiling water over them and let stand for 2 minutes. Drain.

Beat egg yolks until lemon colored. Add 2 1/2 cups sugar and 1 tablespoon vinegar. Boil 3-4 minutes. Cool slightly. Add another 2 1/2 cups sugar and boil again for 3-4 minutes.

Pour into shallow pan. Stir twice daily for 3 days. Pour into jelly glasses and cover with hot paraffin. Makes 5-6 glasses.

Mrs. Drew C. Haneline, treasurer of the Mothers Club, chooses this for her favorite strawberry recipe.

Cream Custard

1/2 cup milk

1/2 cup sugar

1/2 cup cream

1/2 cup lemon juice

1/2 cup lemon zest

1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped

Strawberries

Beat eggs enough to combine yolks and whites; add sugar and salt; beat enough to combine. Gradually stir in light and heavy cream and vanilla. Turn into custard cups — 5 one-half cup size. Place in shallow pan of hot water that comes up about as high as custard.

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 to 40 minutes or until silver knife inserted near center comes out almost clean. Cool and chill. Serve with any desired fruit.

Spoon Bread Recipe Is Given New Flavoring

Spoon Bread once went by another more prosaic name—Mush Bread. In late Victorian cook books devoted to dishes of the Old South, the nomenclature is explained: "Bake the bread," an old-time recipe directs, "in the serving dish as it is too soft for turning out, requiring to be dipped on the plates with a spoon. Hence the name in some mouths: Spoon Bread."

The ingredients of old-fashioned Spoon Bread consist of corn meal, milk, eggs, butter and salt; here along with the milk, tomato juice, and because tomato takes to onion, that seasoning. The baking powder added helps to make this Spoon Bread like a soufflé—heavily leavened.

Tomato Spoon Bread

1 cup enriched corn meal

1 cup tomato juice

2 cups milk (scalded)

1/2 cup butter or margarine

1 small (1/2 tablespoon) finely grated onion (put in add juice)

1/2 teaspoon baking powder

1/2 teaspoon salt

1 egg (beaten)

Mix corn meal with cold tomato juice. Slowly stir corn meal mixture into scalded milk; cook until thick, stirring often. Remove from heat; add butter, onion, baking powder and salt.

Beat egg yolks, then gradually add hot mixture, stirring vigorously to blend. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold into corn meal mixture. Turn into greased baking dish (1 1/2 quarts). Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 40 to 50 minutes or until silver knife inserted in center comes out clean. Rush to table. Makes 6 servings.

Remove from heat, add lemon rind and cool. Stir in scalded cottage cheese, lemon juice and drained pineapple. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from spoon.

Beat egg whites stiff, but not dry. Gradually add remaining 1/2 cup sugar and beat until very stiff. Whip cream. Fold both egg whites and whipped cream into gelatin mixture.

Turn into pan and chill until firm. Garnish with whole strawberries before serving. Serves 10-12.

LOW CALORIE DESSERTS—Combine a favorite canned fruit with whipped nonfat dry milk crystals and unflavored gelatin for a dessert that is light and refreshing and low in calories. This chiffon dessert needs no cooking and may be served as a festive mold, as a spoon pudding, or as a pie filling.

It's Fruity, It's Yummy, It's Low Calorie Chiffon

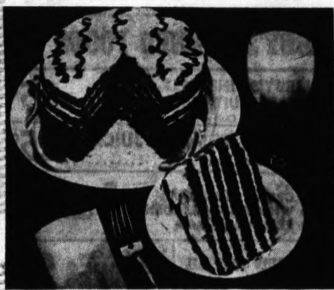

Oscar Wilde once claimed that he could resist anything but temptation. Most dieters have the same problem, particularly at dessert-time. Chiffon desserts are spectacular enough to provide temptation . . . but there's no struggle with the conscience involved. The waistline-whittler can have her fill of the low-calorie sweet.

Three-Way Fruit Chiffon
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 cup sugar, divided
1 can (1 pound) low calorie fruit cocktail, blueberries or peach slices
4 tablespoons lemon juice, divided
1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals

Mix together unflavored gelatin and 1/4 cup of the sugar in saucepan. Drain syrup from fruit into saucepan. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat; add 4 tablespoons of the lemon juice and drained fruit. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white.

While mixture is chilling, whip instant nonfat dry milk. Pour ice water into mixing bowl; add instant nonfat dry milk crystals. Whip until soft peaks form, 3 to 4 minutes. Add remaining 1/2 cup sugar. Beat in cottage cheese until stiff, 3 to 4 minutes longer. Add remaining 1/2 cup sugar. Fold in gelatin mixture.

Turn mixture into a 9-inch pie plate; put vanilla wafers around sides. Or, turn into a 6-cup mold or 1 large serving bowl.
Yield: 6 servings.
Cut peach slices into small pieces.

CHEESE FUDGE TORTE—What but a goblet of well-chilled milk is needed to complement this sour cream frosted Cheese Fudge Torte that features creamy cottage cheese?

Chocolate Dessert Packed With Dairy Products

Cottage cheese in a fudge cake? It's true. Cheese Fudge Torte owes its delectable uniqueness to the creamy cottage cheese that is beaten into the butter and sugars.

The delicate flavor and exceptional moistness of the cake are the only clues to tip you off that this cake boasts cottage cheese. The usual go-alongs of nut meats and chocolate are included in the recipe with the milk and flour. Since this cake is nicely moist, it will keep in the refrigerator for several days.

Chocolate syrup is artfully drizzled atop the cake for another colorful highlight.

Cheese Fudge Torte
1 cup cottage cheese
2 tablespoons baking powder
1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1 egg

Pork Roll Uses Canned Product

There's a taste treat, as well as some good, solid nourishment, in the cans of pork and gravy which are going to families receiving food donated by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and distributed through the local welfare agency.

Canned pork and gravy can be served in dozens of different ways, many of them making use of other foods which are included in the Government donations. One dish developed by home economists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture is a Pork Roll, which uses half of a 28-ounce can of pork and gravy, and makes 6 servings.

Sift 1 1/2 cups of flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, and 2 tablespoons nonfat dry milk. Mix in 1/2 cup shortening until well blended with the flour mixture. Slowly mix in 1/2 cup water, using just enough to make dough that is soft but not sticky.

Turn dough into lightly floured board and knead a few strokes. Roll until 1/4 inch thick. Chop 1/2 can of pork and gravy; mix 1 tablespoon chopped onion with chopped pork; spread evenly over dough.

Roll up dough and meat like jelly roll. Place cut side up on greased baking pan and bake in a hot oven (450 degrees) for 20 minutes. Serve hot with gravy.

One half cup of whole cranberry sauce folded into 1/4 cup of marshmallow creme makes a delicious topping for ice cream.

Peanut Butter Is Low Cost Protein Food

Peanut Press Home Editor.
That old standby, peanut butter, is much in evidence these days. It has been a plentiful food most of this year and is now being given out to families receiving surplus foods.

Children will eat just so many peanut butter sandwiches. There have to be other ways of using it, the spread that is so high in protein.

If you're serving a fruit salad, make little balls of peanut butter to place on the plate. This is especially good with pears. Mix some peanut butter with the mayonnaise you put on Waldorf salad. Spread stalks of celery with peanut butter for a salad or an after-school snack.

How about a loaf of peanut butter bread. This is a quick loaf that will slice better after it stands overnight.

Peanut Butter Bread
2 cups sifted, all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup peanut butter
1/2 cup shortening
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup raisins (optional)

Sift flour, measure and resift 3 times with baking powder, sugar and salt. Add peanut butter and shortening and cut into dry ingredients with a fork until mixture is crumbly. Beat egg, add milk and orange rind and add all at once to flour mixture. Beat until well mixed. Stir in raisins.

Four into well greased hot pan. Bake 40 to 70 minutes at 350 degrees. Make 1 loaf.

Cream of Peanut Butter Soup is different and nutritious.

Heat 3/4 cups milk in top of double boiler with 2 slices onion; blend 2 tablespoons flour with additional 1/4 cup milk; add to hot milk, cook and stir until thickened. Mix 1/4 cup peanut butter with some of the cooked sauce and add to the remainder in top of double boiler; season to taste with salt and a few drops of Tabasco; remove onion before serving and gently stir in 1 teaspoon chopped parsley.

The next time you make chocolate or butterscotch brownies, substitute peanut butter for the shortening called for in the recipe. Or use peanut butter instead of butter or margarine in a "butter" frosting recipe.

Common as they may sound, peanut butter sandwiches can be interesting and unusual. You'll need an unsliced loaf of bread for this recipe.

Raisin-Peanut Butter Pinwheels
1/2 cup peanut butter
4 tablespoons chopped, seedless raisins
2 tablespoons orange juice
1 package thin slices enriched bread (cut from unsliced sandwich loaf)

Combine peanut butter, raisins and orange juice. Spread 1/2 cup raisin-peanut butter mixture on each slice of bread. Cut each slice crosswise into equal halves. Roll grater.

each half slice of bread up like a jelly roll.

Wrap each roll in waxed paper, twisting ends of paper. Place on a flat surface so that rolls rest on last turn of bread; chill. To serve: unwrap and cut each roll into 6 slices. Yield: 2 dozen sandwiches.

Shredded Hamburger

If you've forgotten to take hamburger out of the freezer and aged the meat immediately, hold the solid block in your hand and shred it on an old-fashioned cabbage grater.

Toledo Museum of Art Has Old Roman Helmet

TOLEDO, Ohio (U)—An ancient Roman parade helmet, typical of those worn by high-ranking Roman officers during the time of Christ, has been acquired by the Toledo Museum of Art.

The silver helmet is decorated with gold foil and is thought to have come from the eastern provinces of the Roman Empire. Four such helmets are known to exist.

The strawberry is grown successfully in all of the 50 states.

Heat-Resistant Fiber Will Not Char or Melt

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. has developed a fiber which retains its flexibility and part of its strength after exposure to intense heat.

The new fiber, available as a fabric, will not char or melt. Its possible uses include fire-protective curtains and lining for the motor compartments of missiles.

Almost 90 per cent of all household goods is transported by motor truck.

Red Cross Volunteer Renders Unusual Aid

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Mrs. L. M. Armstrong said she saw an American Red Cross volunteer aid a majorette during parade here in most unusual way. She said the majorette's hair trimming had been torn off her shirt.

Western Movie Fame Inspires German Music

TUCSON, Ariz. (U)—University of Arizona Prof. Jean R. Beck returned from a trip to Ravensburg, Germany, and reported the municipal band had a number called "The Arizona March."

Eighth District Residents to Air Views on Issues

WASHINGTON (U)—Residents of Michigan's 8th Congressional District will get a chance to give their opinions next week on issues coming up during this congressional session, Rep. James Harvey, R-Mich., said today.

Harvey said newspapers in Clinton, Shiawassee, Montcalm, Saginaw, Grafton and Ionia counties will run a questionnaire in their May 11 editions asking readers for their views on seven major issues.

"While the final voting responsibility ultimately rests in my hands," Harvey said, "I believe the people should have an opportunity once again to express their views on any and all national legislation. Certainly it should be beneficial to me in determining a final voting decision."

'Corridor' Will Link 2 Wayne Campuses

A new "medical corridor," approved by the federal government as a $100-million project, soon will link Wayne State University's two campuses.

The medical college buildings near the river have hitherto been separated from the other campus by a crowded two-mile expanse of residential and retail structures. The new development will be concentrated upon this intercampus area in which a number of Detroit's major hospitals already stand.

The corridor, 235 acres in extent, will be landscaped to facilitate exchange among medical facilities, both existing and proposed. Wayne's present undergraduate medical training site will be relocated into this redeveloped area.

Changes on the present medical campus itself, still in the discussion stage, may include the conversion of this campus for graduate work and graduate teaching and for research in neurology and psychiatry.

The state's neuropsychiatric training center, known as La-bayette Clinic, already is on this site.

CHILI BEEF PINWHEELS—There is no need for a second call to dinner when the fragrant odor of chili-beef pinwheels wafts through the kitchen. A spicy beef mixture is rolled up in biscuit dough and served with gravy dotted with green peas.

Pinwheels of Dough Hold Spicy Chili Beef Mixture

Along about this time of year comes the urge to keep kitchen time to a minimum and to spend more sunshine hours out of doors. But, mindful of the increased appetites created by outdoor activities, be careful to serve hearty, substantial meal-in-a-dish dinners which can be put together in a jiffy. While they are baking set the table and make the salad and dessert.

Chili-beef pinwheels often get the starring role in these dinners because they're deliciously flavorful and satisfying enough to please all the family. First prepare the spicy chili filling by browning the beef and onion in fat. Add the spices and flour and blend with care. The tomato sauce and Worcestershire sauce should be added slowly and cooked until the mixture is thickened.

Fold in the cheese and set aside to cool while the biscuit dough is prepared and patted into a rectangle. Spread the filling.

CHILI BEEF PINWHEELS

Filling:

- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 cup coarsely chopped onion
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon flour
- 1/2 teaspoon chili powder
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 cup tomato sauce
- 1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

Biscuit dough:

- 2 tablespoons fat
- 1 cup prepared biscuit mix
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup milk

Sauce:

- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen peas
- 1 cup coarsely chopped onion
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup beef gravy
- 1/2 teaspoon chili powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Prepare filling. Brown beef and onion in fat. Add flour, chili powder, salt and pepper; blend well. Add tomato sauce and Worcestershire sauce. Cook until slightly thickened. Remove from heat; fold in cheese. Set aside.

Make biscuit dough. Cut fat into biscuit mix. Stir in parsley and milk to make soft dough. Knead on lightly floured board 8 to 10 times. Pat or roll into a rectangle 10 x 15 inches. Spread with meat mixture; roll up jelly-roll fashion. Cut into 6 to 8 slices. Place slices on greased baking sheet to form circles. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) until done and browned, about 20 minutes.

Meanwhile make sauce. Combine peas, onion and water in saucepan. Cover tightly; cook over low heat until peas are almost tender. Add gravy, chili powder and salt; heat. Spoon over pinwheels after serving. Yield: 6 servings.

The French word "dessert" means "to clear the table" and is the origin of our word dessert.

Sweet and Sour Brownie Treat

A brownie is a brownie is a brownie? Taint necessarily so. There are plain brownies, frosted brownies, brownie-crusted ice cream pies and now... brownies topped with sour cream!

We think you'll pronounce them "Best of all."

Made from a brownie mix and baked in a pie pan, the sour cream is spooned over the brownies, garnished with shaved semi-sweet chocolate, and then popped back in the oven just long enough for the cream to set.

Cool and then cut into pie-shaped pieces. Ummmm, good! You'll love the flavor and texture contrasts between the rich, chewy brownies and tangy sour cream.

Brownie Sour Cream Delight
Buttered pie plate, 10-inch
1 package brownie mix
Chocolate syrup or shaved semi-sweet chocolate

Prepare brownie mixture according to package directions. Spread batter in pie plate. Bake recommended time. Remove from oven. Spread sour cream over baked brownie—drizzle a stream of chocolate syrup lightly over cream or garnish with shaved semi-sweet chocolate.

Return to oven for 5 minutes. Cool. Cut into pie-shaped pieces. Best when served the same day as prepared.

Candied Apple Rings Garnish for Breakfast

CHICAGO (UPD)—Apple ring syrup is an extra special topping for sausage, pancakes or waffles. Core 3 red apples and cut each into four rings.

Fry rings in 2 tablespoons of butter until lightly browned. Add 1 cup of dark corn syrup, 1/2 cup of water and 1 teaspoon of vanilla. Cook slowly until apples are tender. This makes enough sauce for pancakes or waffles made from 1 box of packaged mix.

Cheese Biscuits Blanket Vegetables and Eggs

Nourishing, easy to prepare main dishes are always in demand. Meatless dishes, that are high in protein, as well as taste appeal, yet easy on the budget, will be a favorite with any homemaker. Just such a combination of features is found in this Cheese Egg Bake.

Milk, Cheddar cheese and eggs are all substantially rich in protein as well as many other essential nutrients. These important ingredients combine to make a tasty combination in a creamy smooth sauce chuck full of mushrooms and green peas, seasoned perfectly and topped with tender cheese-flavored biscuits.

When planning this week's menus include the following for one evening's dinner: Cheese-egg Bake, tomato and onion salad, cheese biscuits, butter, chocolate ice cream sundae and milk.

Cheese Egg Bake
1 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup dry mustard
1/2 cup pepper
1/2 cup Cheddar cheese, shredded (about 2 cups)
1/2 cup mushrooms, sliced (about 2 cups)
1/2 cup green peas, frozen peas (about 2 cups)
1/2 cup eggs, sliced
2 cups prepared biscuit mix

Saute onion and mushroom in butter. Blend in flour, salt, mustard and pepper. Add 2 and one-third cups milk and cook, stirring constantly, until smooth and thickened. Add 1/2 cup cheese; stir until melted. Fold in peas and eggs. Pour into shallow 2-quart baking dish. Place in hot oven, 425 degrees, to heat 10 minutes.

Meanwhile combine biscuit mix and 1/2 cup cheese. Stir in remaining two-thirds cup milk. Pat dough out into a 9-inch circle on a lightly floured board. Cut dough into 8 wedges. Remove caserole from oven. Top hot mixture with biscuit wedges.

Return to oven and bake until biscuits are done and browned, 10 to 12 minutes. Remove from oven. Sprinkle biscuits with remaining 1 cup cheese. Return to oven and

Herbs Pick Up Gravy

Apothecary jars of all shapes and sizes are invading the kitchen. Filled with spices and herbs they remind the cook that a "pinch" or "dash" adds zest to foods. Remember this the next time you use canned beef gravy (10% ounces) to stretch your gravy!

ES! TO STRETCH YOUR GRAVY! Before heating, add a little thyme, oregano or ground cloves; simmer 5 minutes to blend flavors.

Abby Reminds You Again

Children MUST Be Warned

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I had an experience the other day which greatly disturbed me. While sitting in my car eating my lunch, a little girl (about 4 years old) came up to my car and asked me to take her for a ride.

You can well imagine what tragedy could have resulted had she approached the wrong type of man. When will parents realize that they MUST train their children not to speak to strangers, and even to run away if approached?

Many little ones would be alive today or spared a terrible experience had they been so trained.

GORDON Y.
DEAR GORDON: Most parents DO train their children never to talk to strangers, and certainly not to go for "rides" with them. But because some parents may need to be reminded again, I will print your very worthy letter. Thank you for writing.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is city decorated mother-in-law. When my husband was in Germany for a year, he bought a complete dinner set. It cost almost $100. He gave it to his mother, not thinking of the sweetheart he would meet one day.

Then he met me. I was invited to his home for dinner many times. His mother would never use that dinner set. I always thought she was saving it for me because I mentioned how much I liked it. When I married, she still didn't give it to me. Now she is dead and the dinner set is in the home of my husband's sister. I don't know how she got it, but it is there. I think that since it was bought with my husband's money, I should have the set. How can I get it without appearing grasping?

NOT GRASPING
DEAR NOT: If you are "Not Grasping," I don't know how better to describe your attitude. Your husband bought this set for his mother. Had she wanted you to have it, she would have given it to you or made provisions for your having it eventually. Quit coveting, and use your energies for more important things.

DEAR ABBY: I am an Alaskan girl who just read your book DEAR TEEN-AGER. Several of my friends have borrowed it and we have all enjoyed it very much. You have such a witty way of setting advice for "teens" on paper.
In your chapter "How Late Is Late," I was glad you didn't say "be in before dark" because in ALASKA "dark" is 3 p.m. during the winter months and 3 a.m. in the summer.
Sincerely,
ALASKA LASS

Most Say They Are Satisfied With Quality of Education

Teen-Agers Claim They Favor Homework

By EUGENE GILBERT
Press, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

We've listened to the experts. Now it's time to hear from you—the teen-ager presently in high school—on the subject of whether you're getting a good education. You can hear educators and politicians compare this country's schools with the European and Russian.

And almost every adult has opinions about whether schools are better now than they used to be and how instruction can be improved.

But what is your opinion of the education you are getting for the needs of your own life in your school?

Do you agree with the 971 teenagers who answered that question for us recently?

Eighty per cent of them said they are satisfied with the education they are getting.

"We have superior instructors in most cases," said Mickey Moucha, 17, Oakland, Minn., in typical fashion, "and most teachers demand top performances in class."

But also there were criticisms of schools and some concrete suggestions for improvement.

WANT IMPROVEMENTS

Both Mary Himebreich, 16, of Louisville, and Melvin Kline, 15, of Philadelphia, told us instruction in their schools is aimed at the level of slower students.

"Certain classes could be separated as to abilities so that the better students are not held back, and the slower students pushed," proposed by a Nebraska, John Russell, 17.

Joan Liebel, 16, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., said, "I'm sure a course in fast reading could prove invaluable."

Other recommendations:

"Better advice for college preparation," said Ernie, 17, Bridgeport, Conn.; "more discipline," Sally Fickholm, 18, Vermillion, S. D.; "more equipment in science laboratories; tape recording books in foreign language classes," Ron Steinbach, 17, Austin, Minn.; "more gym equipment," Penny Nickle, 17, Buffalo, N.Y.

If you think most teen-agers are happy with their schools because they are breeding through, consider their replies to our questions about easy courses and homework.

Far from rushing into a schedule full of "snaps," 68 per cent of the boys and 76 per cent of the girls asserted they aren't enrolled in even one.

And surprisingly enough, an even greater per cent—81 per cent of the boys and 84 per cent of the girls—said NO! when asked whether they think homework should be abolished.

Fewer than a fourth of the teen-agers think snap courses are often found in the curriculum. Mary Connors, 16, Vermillion, S. D., told us her school doesn't have any.

Charles Bishop, 17, Camden, N. J., said, "We have good teachers who are hard for our benefit."

HOMEWORK SUPPORTED

Fred Madonia, 16, St. Louis, one of the majority willing to continue hard work on his subjects after school, said:

"You get more out of it if you study by yourself."

Other homework boosters said: "Like any sport you have to practice until you are good," Dennis Lemley, 16, Cheektowaga, N.Y.

Homework gives the student an opportunity to develop skills and use his knowledge to solve problems," Shari Colton, 17, Grand Island, Neb.

City PTA Council Convenes

The Pontiac Council of Parent-Teacher Associations' May meeting was observed at the Benjamin Franklin School.

Following the invocation by Conklin Bray, Jefferson Junior High School principal, Mrs. George Gray, council president, called for a report from the scholarship committee by Warren Abbott.

Mr. Abbott listed students Cynthia Williams and Charles Wiergo of Pontiac Central High and Barb Ann Krump, Pontiac Northern High, who will receive four-year scholarships, including one recently given by the Pontiac Police Officers Association.

Chairmen for the annual dinner and mass installation on June 6 at 6:30 in Madison Junior High School were announced. They are Mrs. Melvin Norberg, general chairman; Mrs. Charles Coppersmith, program; Mrs. Russell Bell and Mrs. Fred Goines, reservations; Mrs. Raymond Elsworth, Mrs. Virgil Everett and Mrs. Edwin Christie, decorations; Mrs. John Turner, Mrs. Roland Newman, Mrs. John Stevenson, hospitality; and Mrs. Earl Ovesig, publicity.

The evening's program, presented by Mrs. Coppersmith, was an evaluation of the year's progress, using the theme "Have We Stepped Ahead Together?"

Announcement was made of the District 7 workshop and meeting May 15 at Pontiac Northern High School. The district is comprised of all PTA groups in Oakland County.

Franklin, Bagley and Will Rogers schools' PTAs served refreshments. Bagley School youngsters made name cards.

Civil Defense Proves Itself in Test

By PETE LOCHMILLER

With the injured bandaged, the fires out, the roads cleared and the coffee served, more than 150 Civil Defense people gathered in the multipurpose room of Hawthorne School yesterday and decided they were ready for a tornado, if one should hit Pontiac this summer.

The official evaluation was that the biggest tornado preparedness test in Pontiac history was a big success.

"It was a well-executed exercise as far as the training setups were concerned, with the Civil Defense teams turning in efficient, rapid performance," reported Assistant City Manager Robert A. Stierer, deputy Civil Defense director.

"There were some deficiencies in communication and over-all coordination, but these were to be expected in the first big test of this kind."

Aware that the summer tornado season is near, the Civil Defense teams went through their various paces in a highly realistic series of tests, beginning at 8:45 a.m. when the "tornado" was supposed to have struck Hawthorne Park in Northwest Pontiac.

Fire trucks from the station at Montclair Street and Glenwood Avenue were on the scene at 9:50 a.m. In the following minutes the park filled up with crews from the Police Department, Oakland County Sheriff's Department, Michigan Bell Telephone Co., Consumers Power Co., the Oakland County Red Cross, the State Police, and various city departments.

Representatives from the Oakland County Radio Club and other radio hams provided emergency communications.

Fifty-eight minutes after the "tornado" struck, Red Cross first aid experts had bandaged up some 25 Hawthorne School safety patrol victims and Pontiac detectives were carrying them by stretcher into an emergency hospital in the multipurpose room of the school.

Women volunteers served the coffee from a mobile Red Cross canteen.

To make the test realistic, trees that had been previously felled on the Hawthorne Park woods were laid across the North Telegraph Road entrance to the park.

Fire trucks dragged them to the side of the road and Parks and Recreation Department crews went to work chopping them up to get them out of the way.

Police detoured Walton Boulevard traffic away from North Telegraph Road until 9:23 a.m.

By 10:30 a.m. all the jobs were finished and the teams met in the school to review the exercise.

Johnson to Visit Far East Cities for Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson will visit a number of Far Eastern countries on a mission for President Kennedy. Exact dates have not been fixed, but he is expected to leave next week.

At the same time, diplomatic sources reported today that Under-Secretary of State Charles W. Bohlen has canceled a trip he had planned to the same area, apparently because of other commitments here.

Philippine Ambassador Carlos P. Romulo said Johnson is going to Manila to meet with President Carlos P. Garcia and other Philippine government leaders on the situation in Southeast Asia.

Johnson also is scheduled to go to South Vietnam and Thailand to reassure those Western governments of U.S. support in the face of growing Communist pressure.

Set Wednesday Exam in Break-In Attempt

Examination of four men accused of the attempted burglary of a Pontiac supermarket will resume Wednesday in Municipal Court.

Pretrial hearings for the accused burglars were started a week ago and were to have been continued yesterday.

Charged with attempting to break into People's Food-O-Mat, 485 E. Park St., April 16, were Charles W. Knapp, 45, of 20 N. Edith St.; Eulus Zimmerman, 41, of 47 Hillside St., Bloomfield Township; and Franklin Brock, 35, of 484 Westwood, 47, both of 543 Melrose Ave.

A statement of Leon C. Hendrix, 38, of 234 Wilson St., who is charged with having received property stolen in a burglary, was postponed to Wednesday.

Also postponed to that date was the trial of Clarence Williams, 38, of 395 Luther St. He is accused of making a false report to Pontiac police.

Accepts Arbitration

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg today asked National Airlines and its 1,100 striking employees to submit their dispute to binding arbitration. The airline accepted.

"VICTIMS" AWAIT TREATMENT — Five members of the Hawthorne School safety patrol lounge on the grass in Hawthorne Park while a Red Cross first aid team checks the "injuries" they suffered in yesterday's mock tornado. The "injuries" were listed on tags around the "victims' necks. A fifth boy (at rear) is already being bandaged. Police photographer Charles E. Jehle captured these scenes of the Civil Defense exercise.

COMMAND POST — The Oakland County Sheriff's mobile communications unit formed an important part of the command post in the Hawthorne parking lot. Top ranking officer and Civil Defense personnel worked the exercise from this point.

Waterford Area Board to Expand Plans With Extra $5,000

The Waterford Township Recreation Board last night approved a 1961-62 budget of $36,000. This is an increase of $5,000 over last year's budget and will be used in expanding the summer playground program.

It is now up to the two supporting groups—the School Board and the Township Board—to take final action on the budget.

Paul Alvord, a Pontiac school teacher, was rehired as playground coordinator, and the same people that were employed in the summer program last year, were rehired for this summer.

Robert Beedle, softball director, told the board that there are 400 boys and 300 girls now engaged in softball league play, and added that this is the largest number of children ever registered for the program.

One of the board members, Lewis Ruelle, presented a report on men's softball league play and recommended that the board hire Robert Beedle as director of the men's softball league. The board approved the recommendation.

Second-Degree Murder Warrant Being Drawn Up Against Scruggs

Under the baton of Richard L. Morse, instrumental music instructor, the Pontiac Central High School Band will present its spring concert tonight at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The band will depart somewhat from the usual formality of 10 annual concert, employing an informal, clinic format by a wide variety of selections.

Special numbers will include a baritone trio by David Todd, James Forman and James Nickolopoulos; an obse solo by Larry Reynolds, and a drum solo by Mike Pierce.

The flute section will also be featured in one selection. Included on the program will be marches, overtures, toccatas, a tone poem, a Latin American selection and the famed folk song "Greensleeves."

SYMPHONY FINALE

The program's major symphonic contribution will be the finale of Saint-Saëns' Symphony No. 1 in E Flat Major.

Morse is assisted by Charlene Carr, a Michigan State University student teacher.

Grain Futures Back on Downward Trend

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market resumed its general downward trend during the first several minutes today on the board of trade.

Soybeans were under heavy pressure and slumped 1/2 cent or more on old crop contracts.

Declines in the grains limited mostly to minor fractions although wheat slipped a bit more on pressure described as outright liquidation.

Brokers said the selling reflected discouragement over the long absence of any steady or bullish to attract more substantial long positions in the market.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The click of a club hitting a golf ball replaced, momentarily, the familiar sound of rattling dice today as the ninth annual Tournament of Champions gathered under way for a $40,000 purse in this Nevada gambling resort.

Twenty-six name professionals headed by a pair of top experts locked in a duel for current money honors, but the odds were to tie off over the par 36-36—72, 7,000-yard Valley Desert Inn Country Club course.

The winners will collect $10,000 when the 72-hole, spring classic winds up Sunday, and the smart money boys think it will be either Arnold Palmer or young Gary Player.

Only one man, Gene Littler, has won it more than once, and the San Diego pro did it an incredible three times in succession—in 1954, 1955 and 1956.

DETROIT (UPI) — Showboat Lanes of Las Vegas, Nev., made a gallant bid for the regular division lead at the American Bowling Congress Tournament last night, but had to settle for second place.

Only 24 hours after the Meyerland Builders of Houston, Tex., had rolled 3134 for the top spot, the Showboat team came back with a 3103 total including 1123 for high tourney game.

Anchorman Jerry Steinberg picked up a 718 series on games of 265, 224 and 290, and scored the first 700 series in team play.

In the afternoon minor events action, Fuzzy Shimada, a 38-year-old Japanese bowler from San Mateo, Calif., rolled into fifth place in classic singles with 670 while Dale Wasson, 49, of Tucson, Ariz., tied for second in regular singles with 608.

Fairgrounds Bowling of Milford rolled 2567 last night led by Jim Roberts' 575. Vince Schutt followed at 514.

McDougald Will Scout for Former Yank Boss

McDougall is ready to start a new career as a baseball scout at the age of 32. The former infielder who quit the New York Yankees because he didn't want to travel has hooked on with the New York team in the National League.

McDougall is reunited with his old boss, George Weiss, president of the new club. He will scout the central and northern New Jersey areas, concentrating on high schools and colleges.

AL Leaders Find New Clubs Pesky

By The Associated Press

Those new American League clubs, the Washington Senators and Los Angeles Angels, are at the bottom of the heap as expected, but try telling Detroit and Baltimore that they're a couple of posies. Between them they've dropped the Tigers out of the undisputed lead and kept the Orioles from staying over .500.

The Senators, who kept New York from moving into a first place with Detroit last Sunday, turned on the Tigers Wednesday night for a 5-4 victory. That gave the Yankees a share of the lead with Detroit after the defending champion whipped the Minnesota Twins 7-3.

And the Angels knocked the Orioles out of a chance to tie for third with a 7-6 job on the Birds, coming from behind on two-out home runs by Ted Kluwe and Earl Averill in the ninth in-

Cleveland scored a last-inning, one-run decision over the Chicago White Sox for the second time in two nights, winning 4-3; and Kansas City, after blowing an eight-run bulge, beat Boston 9-8 in 10 innings.

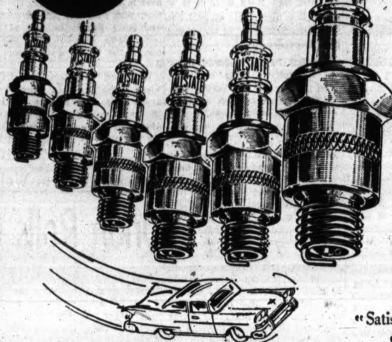

The Angels came from five runs behind against the Orioles, who scored all their runs on two homers by Jim Gentile and a solo shot by Whitey Herzog. Kluwe started the winning rally with his sixth-home run, off losing reliever Sidney Brown (0-1), and Averill, who was 4-for-4 put it away after Ken Hunt singled. Tex Clevenger won his second in relief.

Oriole starter Chuck Estrada, bothered by arm trouble this spring, left the game after being struck above the right ankle by Ken Aspromonte's line drive in the fifth inning. And the Angels lost shortstop Ken Hamlin, who was carried off on a stretcher after colliding with Hunt while chasing a fly in the ninth.

The Yankees scored three unearned runs in the fourth off Pete Ramos (2-1), then beat the Cuban right-hander with another unearned run in a four-run seventh. Hector Lopez' single drove in the clincher and Roger Maris capped the inning with a three-run homer. Bob Turley (3-1), pitching his first complete game of the season, was the winner, he gave up six hits, all singles.

A pinch single by Bob Hale broke it up for the Indians after a two-out double by Johnny Romano in the ninth. Romano, ex-White Sox catcher, also homered with a man on in the seventh. The White Sox, blanked on five hits for eight innings by Jim Perry, tied it 3-all in their ninth before reliever Frank Funk cut them down for his second victory. Gerry Staley was the loser in relief for a 0-2 record.

The A's blew an 8-0 lead when the Red Sox scored twice in the seventh and then ganged up on Ray Herbert for six in the ninth that tied it. Kansas City finally nailed it when Andy Carrey doubled in the 10th and Jerry Lumpe singled off reliever Mike Fornieles (0-1). Don Larsen was the winner.

PCH in Valley Meet Friday

The Saginaw Valley Conference track meet Friday at Saginaw Arthur Hill will have Flint Northern's speed opposing Pontiac Central's field event strength and overall team depth.

The other seven teams — Flint Central, Flint Southwestern, Bay City Central, Bay City Handy, Saginaw Eastern, Arthur Hill, Midland — have good individual performances.

Birmingham Seaholm, Waterford and Grosse Pointe are expected to battle for team honors in the Dick Waters Relays Saturday at Monroe. Seaholm is the defending champion, Pontiac Northern is entered in this meet.

Defending Valley champion Flint Northern already is being rated the top contender for state Class A honors, won by PCH last spring. The Vikings held a 62-41 win over the Chiefs this spring.

Northern has speed in the dashes and 800-yard relay. The Vikings have strength in the broad jump and high jump.

Dean Wilson's PCH team is weak in the hurdles, mile and to some extent in the dashes.

The half mile relay team of Bill Campbell, Bob Crockett, Jim Nelson and Ken Byrd is favored in the Valley meet. This quartet has a top clocking of 3:31.7 — against Flint Northern.

Brendell Pritchett should have no difficulty making off with shot put honors. Bob Trotter and Paul Williams are top contenders for high jump honors.

Nelson and Flint Central's John Shaw will do battle in the 800. This should be a close race. Shaw bested the PCH runner in a dual meet earlier this spring.

Other Central runners who should score points are John Stewart, pole vaulter; Paul Wilson, 440; Trotter, broad jump; and Dick McCauley, dashes.

Birmingham's chances of repeating in the Waters Relays would be much better if Steve Jacobson was available. But the Seaholm sprint star, who holds the broad jump and 100-yard dash marks for the relays, is not competing because of leg injury suffered in football.

When it comes to a meet with several relay events however, the Maples become a top contender. They proved this at Mansfield and again at the Central Michigan Relays.

Tom Sweeney is one of the best broad jumpers in the state and also is a top 440 runner. He will team with Pete and Bill Henderson and Scott Purvis on one of the relay teams. Bob Tichman will be one of the better shot putters in the meet.

Waterford will have Joe Falls, who has the best high hurdle time in the state, Mike Kaines, who has the lowest mile time, and dashman Mike Siskels as top threats. Dennis Tripp in the hurdles and Ed

Stigers on the relays are good point producers.

PNH will have Chris Payne in the high hurdle and Bill Young in the 100 as its leading threats.

The preliminaries will be held in the afternoon. The field events get under way at 5 p.m. and the first running event will be under the Navarre Field lights at 7:30.

There are 25 teams entered in this meet.

Falcons, Romeo, Wolves Win

Orion Rolls On in Track

Lake Orion romped to its 6th straight dual track triumph yesterday led by a record — setting performance of the mile relay team and Doug Gawne's four 1st places.

Rochester edged L'Anse Creuse, Romeo whipped Lapeer, Clarkston drubbed Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes, West Bloomfield was 2nd in a triangular and North Branch took Oxford on a busy day for the thindals.

Ron McCoy, Tom Reed, Dave Norton and Chris Williams teamed for a time of 3:40 for an Oakland B record in the 800.

Clarkston kept seniors on the sidelines but still breezed, 92-17. Ron Bray was the standout with two 1st places followed by Willie Knox and Mike Simonson. Shuler of OLL tied for 1st in the pole vault.

Detroit Lutheran West scored 79-19, West Bloomfield 30-19 and host Claremontville 26. Jack Newton had a win and two 2nds and Jeff Ryden a 1st for the Lakers.

A game at Pittsburgh with the Steelers, Aug. 16, a meeting with the St. Louis Cardinals here, Sept. 1, and a return match with the Browns at Cleveland, Sept. 9, round out the exhibition schedule.

North Branch took the relays and swept the pole vault in beating Oxford 61-23 — 47-1-3. Frank Perkowski set a North Branch record in the 800 but still bowed to Jerry Risinger. Ward had a 4-6 mile for the victors. Jerry Gaines of Oxford had his best broad jump yet, winning at 13 feet, 6 inches.

The Tri-County meets were at Romeo. Rochester clinched a close battle by slaming the mile led by Neiger in 4:57.7. Dan Bird had three 2nd places. Earl Peoples had four 1sts and anchored the relay win for L'Anse in the 56-53 loss.

From the Skipper

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

The Family Cruise Club of the Pontiac area had its shakedown cruise on Cass Lake recently and is planning its first outing of the season Sunday, May 14th, with a 14-boat trip to Saginaw River.

Mrs. Lillian Choler, publicity chairman of the FCC, said that all the motors received a good test on the shakedown and a big season schedule is planned.

The club will launch at Saginaw Park and set out for Lake Huron via Saginaw River.

The outboard caravan will leave Drayton Plains shopping center a 6:30 a.m. and the estimated time for the trip back is 6:00 p.m.

TESTING OF ALL MARINE PRODUCTS
All marine products on the market are going to be given tests by the Yacht Safety Bureau, an independent safety testing organization for the boating industry.

The Bureau, recently reorganized and financed by the National Association of Engine and Boat Manufacturers, will label all tested items for public information.

The Bureau will indicate whether the products are in compliance with established minimum safety requirements for a particular classification.

NOTES TO THE SKIPPER

The desire for speed thrills diminishes with age. Jack Niggeman over at Community National must admit to it. "When my son was home and during his college days we enjoyed a little boat with a fast motor, but now he is in the service and soon will be taking a job in New York. So, now I guess I'll exchange this speed for some slower moving craft," he commented. Just don't give up boating, Jack.

This was the poorest April I've ever experienced in the boat business," says Paul Young out on Dixie Highway, blaming the lack of interest on the cold rainy month. Edgewater Beach Ski Club, now with 35 members, is meeting Saturday night at Waterford Inn.

The Coast Guard Water Safety program at Pontiac Central will graduate 300 next week. Plans are already being made for another course in the near future. The first race of the season for the PONTIAC YACHT CLUB takes place Sunday afternoon. When it warms up, the races will go back on a Sunday morning schedule. The Nile Owl series for the PTC lightnings starts, Wednesday, May 31st. Some local outboard races are getting ready to get the season started May 21st with a race in River-Cunard near Windsor. CHUCK CARTWRIGHT has put away his ice boats and is ready for speed boat racing. Others of the area include DICK BADGERO, HARRY MCCAUGHNA and TIM BUTTS all of Lake Orion. The hydro races held for the first time last August under the sponsorship of the Drayton Kiwanis will not be held this year despite the fact the area near Loon Lake drew a jammed crowd. Some of the boat and yacht club secretaries and publicists are starting to stir with their club notes, but there are still some unheard from. THINGS ARE QUIET FROM THE WATKINS LAKE YACHT CLUB.

What? No Crow's Nest?

The Harrison King family of Savannah, Georgia, apparently have absorbed admonitions of writers on boating safety. They reported to Outboard magazine that for their cruise down the inland water way in Florida last summer they took the following equipment aboard their 17-foot Glaspar powered by twin Johnson 35s:

"Two bunks, four seats, four six-gallon tanks; two 12-gallon gas tanks, two anchors, six seat cushions, two flashlights, four life preservers, two compasses, two flags, two bumpers, two ski hooks, five fishing outfits, two knives, three bait buckets, two ski belts, two outriggers, two cameras, one 12-volt battery, one canvas top for cockpit, one marine head, one two-burner stove, one ice chest, one set of flares, radio direction finder, speedometer, fire extinguisher, running lights, electric horn, cabin light, generator, paddle, first aid kit, 150 feet of line, set of skis, tool kit, binoculars, electric windshield wiper, outside fuel connectors, outside vents, a mirror, underwater spear gun, fathometer, 110-volt AC converter, bilge pump, and television set."

The King report appeared in Outboard's "In the Wake" column under the editorial comment: "What? No crow's nest?"

UP PERISCOPE—Seven is not a lucky number when they're all in one overloaded small boat. The passengers in this picture could be ready to submerge at any moment, but new FTC regulations may require builders to state the maximum weight hull can support.

FTC Warns of Overloading

By WM. TAYLOR MCKEOWN

Newspaper Editor, Assn.

How many is too many in a boat? This question received serious attention at a recent hearing of the Federal Trade Commission.

A boat builder, like any other manufacturer, must make sure his advertised claims tell the true story about his product, and the FTC wanted to know if the builder wouldn't indicate how much his boats—particularly small ones—are able to carry and still stay afloat. You can't walk home from an overloaded boat that gets in trouble, and many of them do, according to Coast Guard accident figures.

Already some runabouts have a plaque stating how many pounds of passengers and gear will fit safely aboard, and how much horsepower a motor can handle.

Workshop on Water Safety, Aug. 20-26

The American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, and the American Red Cross jointly will sponsor an aquatic leadership workshop at Indiana University, August 20 to 26, for college men and women physical educators currently teaching water safety.

The workshop will offer a review of water safety and first aid instructor training, skin and scuba diving, water skiing, small craft safety including sailing, and a water safety seminar that will cover special interests such as competitive swimming and officiating.

The workshop is open to all persons holding a Red Cross Water Safety Certificate or equivalent. Those interested should contact Dr. Bernard I. Loft, Department of Health and Safety, Indiana U., Bloomington, Ind.

Whole Boaters to Race

OAKLAND, Calif.—The grueling seamen's sport of whaleboat racing returns to the Pacific Coast Thursday in the first major competitive races since World War II. Twelve naval and Coast Guard ships, and a Canadian entry are entered in the half mile races on the Oakland-Alameda estuary.

Preliminary races are scheduled for Thursday afternoon. In the final race Saturday, there will be three surviving U.S. crews and the Canadians, who have been seeded into the finals.

The whale boats are 26-foot roomy surfboats, with crews of 10 oarsmen and a coxswain.

This is a good trend, and boat purchasers should require this performance information before buying any boat. The number of seats in a small hull does not mean that they can all be filled and still keep the craft seaworthy. Too much horsepower hitched on the transom is dangerous as well, and the Federal Trade Commission is studying ways to encourage manufacturers to properly warn careless buyers about overloading and overpowering.

The FTC also wants to require boat companies to be pretty sure an advertising picture shows the same thing that is described in print in the ad.

If a boat is photographed with six passengers and the ad copy claims the craft is a 30 mile an hour model, it should mean 30 with all those six people aboard, points out the FTC. Equipment displayed such as lights, non-ventilable top, lines, anchor, and other basic accessories should be included in the advertised price, unless otherwise stated.

Overall size of a boat is another interesting quality. Some builders like to give gaudy measurements—which is the distance

Canada to Hold Powerboat Date

Race for Harmsworth Aug. 5-8 Will Still Be Held in Ontario

TORONTO (AP)—The chairman of the Harmsworth Committee in Canada said Wednesday the powerboat race still will be held Aug. 5-8 at Picton, Ont., despite a complaint that it is scheduled at the same time as a big-money event in the United States.

Commodore R. A. Finlayson, also executive director of the Canadian Boating Federation, said Canada will win by default if no American competitor appears because the U.S. issued a challenge in December, 1960.

The Harmsworth, won the last two years by Miss Supertest III of Canada, is international powerboat racing's most prized trophy.

Commodore Finlayson was commenting on a statement in Detroit Tuesday by Lee Schoenheit, who said the Seattle Seafair Regatta—carrying $40,000 in prize, appearance and qualifying money—conflicts with the Harmsworth race. It will be held Aug. 6.

"Americans can't afford to pass up the Seattle race to spend thousands of dollars on the Harmsworth, which carries only prestige," Schoenheit said.

A boat's parking brake is its anchor, the Mercury outboard company says. And they add that a long anchor line will help hold a boat in stormy weather, with seven to eight times the water's depth as a recommended length.

A look at the FTC's new requirements for boat builders shows they all appear to be reasonable and sensible. All are designed to keep the buying public from being deceived. But if the suggestions for statement of load and power maximum go through, the FTC may prevent some of the buying public from being deceived as well. While keeping careless boat buyers from being fooled, it looks like the FTC may accidentally take a major step in boat safety.

Boaters Must Watch for Dangers in Fog

The chill air which you encounter when boating in the early morning and late evening hours of Spring and Fall brings with it the possibility of fog.

The romantic "mist of the moors" is fine in poetry, but can be a very formidable adversary to an inexperienced outboarder. A basic knowledge of the causes and peculiarities of fog is easy to acquire, says Mercury outboard authorities.

Fog is simply a cloud which forms on the earth's surface, rather than higher in the sky. It consists of billions of water droplets which have condensed on microscopic solid particles floating in the air.

Fog and high humidity go together. When weather reports tell you that the relative humidity is near the 100% point, you'll know that you're more likely to encounter fog while boating. Adjust your cruising plans accordingly and don't plan to venture too far from shore.

A radiation fog is the type which occurs on still nights, when the chilled air flows downhill and collects in low spots, such as lakes and bays. The still-warm water passes off moisture into the air and fog forms. Such fogs are usually local and can be expected to lift when the morning sun again stirs up breezes.

An advection fog is caused by moving air masses and can be encountered at any time of day on large lakes, in river valleys, and on the ocean. It can blot out visibility rapidly, threat for shore immediately on sighting such a fog during the day.

If you get truly lost in a fog, anchor and wait it out. Remember that fog makes sound behave weirdly, so be sure to drop your hook well away from marine lanes and channels and avoid hasty decisions about the source of anything you hear.

To solve traction problems on a steep incline, the Mercury outboard company says, some boaters attach an additional trailer hitch to the front of their cars.

The trailer is then moved into the water, with the car's drive wheels on higher, drier ground.

Female Investments Are Broken Down

NEW YORK (UPI)—The typical woman shareholder who owns shares by herself has a financial plan worth approximately $12,760, according to the National Association of Investment Companies (NAIC). Of this amount 39.9 per cent is in savings accounts and U.S. savings bonds, while 53.6 per cent is invested in mutual funds, the NAIC said.

ible, binary research machine capable of performing either fixed-point or floating-point calculations." * * * And the brochure added: "This explanation is just about as technical as most people care to get."

She Knew Essential Secrets Pretty Early

DENVER (U)—A Denver father was disturbed to learn, in a meeting of parents with the kindergarten teacher, that his 5-year-old daughter was the only one in class who didn't know how to tie her shoelaces. When he asked her about this, she said: "I don't tie my own shoes at school because the little boys tie them for me." Tin from Malaysia is said to be 99.97 per cent pure.

Kennedy Offers Full-Scale Sift of Spy Efforts

White House Move Is Follow-Up to Activating Intelligence Board

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today formally ordered a full-scale review of this country's foreign intelligence effort.

The President's order, latest in a series of actions following the Cuban invasion fiasco, was an amendment of Wednesday's White House announcement that the President was reconstituting his board of consultants on foreign intelligence activities.

Today, the White House made public an executive order by Kennedy which reactivates the board "under broadened terms of reference" and appoints new members to it.

The six-member group, drawn from outside the government, "will be responsible for conducting an objective, independent review of the foreign intelligence and related activities of the government," the White House said.

The group will report periodically to Kennedy "with respect to its assessment of the objectives and performance of those activities by the Central Intelligence Agency and the several additional civilian and military agencies engaged therein."

As announced Wednesday, the board will be headed by Dr. James R. Killian Jr., chairman of the corporation of Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT).

Family Flies to Survivor of Sinking

Will Greet Teen in Florida

By PETE LOCHBILER

A Pontiac area family of four planned to be on hand today in Tampa, Fla., to welcome 16-year-old Thomas R. Laile to dry land after his 24-hour ordeal at sea.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert J. Laile, 8321 Cooley Drive, White Lake Township, were to arrive by airplane in Tampa early this morning to be at dockside when the Dutch freighter Gran Rio arrived with their son and 12 other survivors of the luxury yacht Albatross.

The latest arrival time was listed as 10:35 a.m.

Scheduled to fly with Mrs. Gilbert, a 51-year-old registered nurse at the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, were another son, Robert, 25, and a daughter Linda, 13.

The father, a field engineer for an aircraft parts company, was in St. Paul, Minn., yesterday afternoon when reached by his wife by telephone.

Learning the news, Mr. Gilbert arranged to fly to Tampa from St. Paul.

Governor Hopes to Dent GOP Stand-Pat Policy With 'Nuisance' Lure

From Our News Wire

LANSING — A $463-million operating budget which heads of state agencies and institutions say will cripple their activities in fiscal 1961-62 was all but through the legislature today.

Senators passed last the money bills Wednesday with only major change an additional $153,000 for the Revenue Department.

The house spent the afternoon and evening talking about the rest of the budget bills. Appropriations bills appeared to be the only major stumbling blocks in the way of a May 12 adjournment.

Gov. Swainson—still hoping to break through the Republican "hold-the-line" barrier on appropriations—reportedly has offered to extend some $14 million in so-called nuisance taxes to get more money for Michigan's 1961-62 budget.

An informed source said the governor made the offer in a closed-door conference Wednesday with Senate Majority Leader Frank D. Beidler, R-St. Clair, but did not get much encouragement.

Swainson's budget recommendations called for expenditures of some $462 millions for the next fiscal year, plus $38.5 million for a state construction program.

But legislative appropriations committees slashed some $20 million from individual agencies.

Two weeks ago, Swainson said he would give "thoughtful consideration" to a continuation of the entire $30 million package of nuisance taxes if his budget—which he described as tight—were restored to its original form.

EXPIRE JUNE 30

The nuisance taxes were levied in 1959 on such items as beer, tobacco, and communications services as emergency measures to help the state through a cash crisis period.

They are due to expire automatically June 30, and Swainson (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Laos Government OKs Peace Talks

From Our News Wire

VIENTIANE, Laos — The royal government today accepted Premier Souvanna Phouma's invitation to peace talks Friday on the front north of Vientiane.

It was the biggest breakthrough so far in getting major cease-fire and political talks started between the government and pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels, who agreed Wednesday to stop fighting.

Earlier in the day, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, the pro-Western military strongman of Laos, said both sides have halted military action in this troubled Asian kingdom.

Phoumi, deputy premier and defense minister in Prince Boun Oum's government, said that according to all information he could gather there has been no fighting since 5 p.m. (5 a.m. Pontiac time) Wednesday.

Premier Boun Oum said the government will send a military delegation to a point just north of the town of Hin Heup, 50 miles north of Vientiane on the main north-south highway.

Government acceptance of Souvanna's invitation still left unsettled a major point: The government has insisted combat officers of both sides meet in the field to draw up an armistice line and other details of the cease fire before political leaders meet.

In Manila, meanwhile, the Philippine government believes the timing has come for the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization to intervene militarily in Laos.

Informants said this was agreed upon today by the Philippines' highest officials at a meeting of the National Security Council.

In Washington, President Kennedy appeared to be drawing the final line against Communist expansion in Southeast Asia in South Viet Nam and Thailand.

Officials said this does not mean the United States has given up hope of saving Laos, where both sides have halted military action. But it does mean that Kennedy is facing up to the possibility that the Geneva Conference scheduled for May 12 may lead to Communist domination of Laos.

Planners Study Proposals for 3 Shopping Centers

Proposals for three new shopping centers, two of which reportedly have commercial leases signed or nearly signed, are under study by the planning commission today.

After hearings last night, the planning board called for a broad study of the plans and indicated action may be taken on zoning changes for them in a month or less.

The big spurt in commercial interest in Pontiac involves action on Glenwood Avenue near Perry Street, Baldwin Avenue between Merriman and Montclair streets, and East Walton Boulevard between Perry and Giddings Road.

Some details of the proposals were presented in behalf of Detroit developers involved.

John H. Ridgway, Pontiac real estate salesman, said 200,000 square feet of store space is projected for the Glenwood site, between Gage and Glenview Streets. A cost figure of $2 million was mentioned.

SLIGHT TENTATIVE LEASES — Glenwood developers Irving Stollman and Herman Ross said tentative leases for 100,000 square feet have been signed, contingent on a zoning change. Without divulging any names, they said a "department store" has signed up for 60,000 square feet.

August O. Hoyt, a Pontiac realtor, turned over to the Planning Commission a letter from the company's interest in the Baldwin site (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

60-Degree High and Fair Skies Expected Friday

Fair and not so cool is the prediction for the Pontiac area today. The low will be a mild 41.

Temperatures are gradually climbing; Friday's high is expected to reach near 50. Skies will be partly cloudy. Occasional rain is the outlook for Saturday.

Morning northerly winds at 5 to 12 miles per hour will become light and variable tonight.

Thirty-six was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 3 a.m. The thermometer reading at 1 p.m. was 38.

Principal of Bagley Receives 2 Awards

By JOE SINGLETON

John F. Perdue, principal of the Bagley Elementary School, received two awards last night at the Urban League's 11th annual dinner meeting in the Elks Temple.

Perdue was presented the Principal of the Year Award, a national honor given annually by Arthur C. Croft Publications, which publishes educational materials. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac public schools, made the presentation.

Perdue also received the Urban League's annual award, presented to the person or organization contributing most to racial understanding in the community.

Rev. Dr. Richard H. Dixon Jr., former pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church and now pastor of the Macedonia Baptist Church, Mr. Vernon N. Y., spoke to the group on the "Challenge of the New Age," and the role of the Urban League must play in helping young leaders to meet this challenge.

Sam H. Jones, new executive director of the Pontiac Urban League, was introduced to the group.

Jones outlined plans of the league to broaden vocational horizons of the young people in Pontiac by developing vocational workshops and developing career club-type projects.

"During the past 20 years there has been an involvement of Negroes in most occupations and the spread has improved considerably," said Jones.

Business commitments prevented Howard O. Powers and Dr. Dana P. Whitmer from seeking re-election to the board.

Chances Good for Astronaut

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — Officials said today chances are good that America's first astronaut will top into space Friday morning.

LI. Col. John Powers, information officer of the Mercury man-in-space project, said:

"The weather man tells us that it looks like the weather will be clear enough for us to go."

Prime astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr. and the Redstone rocket which will shove him and his Mercury cabin into space also were ready.

Barring a weather change for the worse, the shot could come at 7 a.m. Pontiac time Friday. Shepard will be fired 115 miles up and 290 miles down the Atlantic missile range in a 15-minute ride before landing America's first venture into space.

FORECAST IS 'FAIR'

The forecast for Friday was fair weather throughout the launching area here. The cloud cover is expected to be well within the minimums set by Mercury officials.

There will be a southeasterly surface wind of less than 17 miles an hour, and the sea will be running at from 2 to 3 feet.

In the Bahamas and the Caribbean area where Shepard will make a sea landing, it will be partly cloudy with a few widely scattered showers, the forecast said.

The prediction for the landing area 80 miles northeast of Grand Bahama Island, where the recovery fleet is deployed, called for winds well below the 21-mile-an-hour maximum set by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Pontiac Car Sales Set '61 High in April

Pontiac Motor Division had its best monthly sales performance of 1961 with the deliveries of 38,062 Pontiacs and Tempests in April. S. E. Knudsen, division general manager, and General Motors vice president, announced today.

The division recorded a 54 per cent increase in deliveries during the last 10 days of the month, Knudsen said.

The April total, including 27,572 Pontiacs and 10,490 Tempests, represents an 11 per cent advance over division sales in March, he said.

Pontiac dealers recorded 17,706 sales in the last 10-day period of April to further enhance the division's third-place position in the industry. Medium-price Pontiac sales of 12,833 showed a 50 per cent increase, while the Tempest deliveries of 4,373 were 50 per cent higher than in the previous 10-day sales period.

Von Braun Talk Is Postponed

Astronaut Launching to Keep Space Expert From MSU Address

America's attempt to loft an astronaut into outer space has forced Werner Von Braun, the nation's top space expert, to postpone his address at Michigan State University Oakland tomorrow.

Dr. Von Braun was forced to cancel because of his required presence at Cape Canaveral, Fla., for launching of the United States' first spaceman.

His address had been rescheduled for 7:30 p.m. June 2 at the MSU Student Center as an event of the university's lecture-recital series.

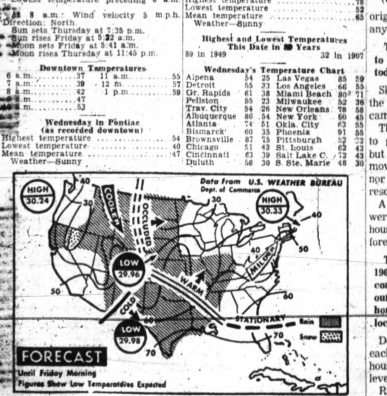

At 11 a.m. on that date, he will deliver the MSU Science Club. A speech by Von Braun at Michigan State University (East Lansing) scheduled for today also has been postponed. It was rescheduled for June 1.

Von Braun is director of the George C. Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala., and will speak on "Why We Must Conquer Space."

Hoyt said a supermarket, discount department store, drug store and smaller service stores are projected by the developers. Canvasser Investment Co. of Detroit.

Another developer, Morris K. Green of Detroit said there are no plans yet for his 2,600-foot site fronting on the north side of Lake Boulevard. If it is rezoned, plans will be drawn for a shopping center on part of the site and a subdivision on another, he said.

All three developments hinge on the City Commission's rezoning the proposed sites from a residential classification to a commercial.

—Daniel Venazy, chairman of the planning board, said a recommendation on zoning would be made to the commission after the board studies an analysis of the plans which the city planning staff has been asked to complete.

If the analysis is ready before the next planning meeting, June 7, a special meeting of the board may be called, Venazy indicated.

Jaycees Elect Officers, Board

James W. Huttenlocher to Be President With James Rahl as Aide

The Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce last night elected James W. Huttenlocher as its 1961-62 president.

Huttenlocher, 28, of 6201 Middle Lake Road, Clarkston, has been a Jaycee four years. During the last three years he has served as director, treasurer and vice president.

The new president is a partner in the H. W. Huttenlocher Insurance Agency of Pontiac. He will officially take over leadership July 1 from outgoing Jaycee President E. W. Watchpeter.

Other officers elected at the Jaycee's annual meeting were James Rahl, first vice president; William Bean Jr., second vice president; James Hudson, secretary; and Roger Rummel, treasurer.

Members elected to the board of directors included Robert Costello, Robert Oliver, Richard Fitzgerald and Thomas Hunt.

Other new directors are Irving I. Merkovitz, Richard Jorgensen and Al Olson.

originally said he would oppose any move to continue them.

The house tentatively agreed to vote on appropriations bills today.

Skids appeared prepared to ease the measures through just as they came from finance committees.

The money bills were expected to go to conference committees, but there was no indication of any move to change the appropriations nor any differences that cannot be resolved.

A number of controversial bills were still on calendars in both houses. They must be cleared before next Tuesday.

The final three days of the 1961 regular session will be for conference committees to iron out differences between the two houses and resolve any deadlocks that might develop.

Democrats attempted to amend each appropriation bill in both houses to bring budgets up to the level recommended by Swainson. Republicans, who control both houses—the Senate by a 22-21 margin and the house with a 56-54 edge—were steadfast on holding money down to the level recommended by appropriating committees.

The attempts to increase the budget were half-hearted in many cases and apparently all just for the record.

The Day in Birmingham

School Census Planned for Last 20 Days in May

BIRMINGHAM — The annual school census will be taken throughout the Birmingham School District the last 20 days of this month, Supt. Otis M. Dickey said today.

The purpose of the school census, according to Dickey, is to determine the number of children in each age group from birth to 20 years of age.

This information, he explained, helps to plan services required of the schools, prepares to meet the building, instruction and financial needs of the district and establishes the legal base for allocations of primary school interest funds to the district by the state.

The adult count also serves as the only means of determining accurately the total population of the school district, the superintendent said.

Canvassers will contact each family in the area assigned to them. Badged by the superintendent will be worn on the outer clothing.

Dickey said that all the information will be confidential.

The following information is requested—parents' full names and addresses; names of each child in the family between birth and 20 years old; age; sex; physical handicaps if any; type of school; and the grade and name of school each child is attending at the date of the census.

The census takers will be prepared to give the dates of the various kindergarten roundups to parents with children five years old on or before Dec. 1, added Dickey.

The roundups are intended to help prepare the children for their first school experience and to inform parents of the kindergarten program and services through the school.

"We ask the cooperation of all residents in this endeavor," Dickey said, "so that we can obtain this vital planning information as efficiently as possible."

The Franklin branch of the Women's National Fair and Garden Association will hold its first "Country Fair" Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Franklin Community Church on Franklin Road.

Proceeds from the fair will go toward civic projects sponsored by the 50-member organization, according to Mrs. Thomas Adams, program chairman.

Plants and homemade baked goods will be on sale as well as aprons and needlework. A gift booth has been set up, and there will be a white elephant sale.

Family Will Greet Survivor of Sinking tic when Thomas signed up for the ill-fated voyage before the vessel sailed from Darwin, Conn. last September, Mrs. Laile said.

But she said she later had misgivings when she thought of her son on the high seas and had been worried about him.

Last week, she said, she confessed her doubts to her husband, but added, "I suppose he's safer out there than he would be here driving a car."

"That's what I thought then," Mrs. Laile said. "Now look what happened."

Congratulates De Gaulle

PARIS — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower offered his congratulations to President Charles de Gaulle for his victory over the rebellious Algerians generally in a letter made public today by the Elysee Palace.

Weekly Plunge Into Antiquity Tomorrow

The Pontiac area will return to the dress of yesterday again tomorrow, when residents don their Centennial garb for another dress-up Friday.

There will not be any Keystone Cops on patrol, and people not wishing to participate in the festivities will not be embarrassed.

Long skirts and tall hats will again be on parade as Brothers of the Brush and the Centennial Belle turn out to remind the community the Centennial is approaching.

Britons Apply Pressure for Probe of Security

LONDON (AP) — Pressure mounted in Britain today for a top-level probe into the nation's security system following the confession by the Soviet Union while working for the government.

Fear grew that the United States might reconsider sharing its own secrets with Britain lest they fall into Communist hands.

Doomed Subway Stirs Old Memories

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Every time I ride one of the old Senate subway cars nowadays, I get a lump in my throat.

This is not, I might add, the part of my anatomy that usually gets lumps when I ride the subway.

In this case, however, the lumps aren't caused by the roughness of the ride.

The reason I have this lumpy sensation is because I never know when I board one of the cars but what it will be my last ride.

I have had that feeling before, but in the past it was mostly a matter of fright. Now it's mostly a matter of nostalgia.

Any day now, the famous old trolleys will make their final run between the Capitol and the Senate office building. Then they will be carted off to the barn, or to the Smithsonian Institution, or to some other repository for semihistoric relics.

This melancholy event will transpire as soon as the tracks to the new $4 million subway terminal under the Senate steps are completed.

The terminal itself already is open, and I must admit that it is a thing of beauty, anything that cost that much ought to be.

It has rest rooms and telephone booths for the convenience of the passengers. Escalators will carry them from the subway level to the elevator level. There is even a "wheel chair" elevator for elderly senators.

From the terminal, two jazzy new electric cars, which cost $75,000 each and look like something stolen from a roller coaster, whisk people back and forth between the Capitol and the new Senate office building.

Pretty soon, probably about mid-May, two more of them will go into service on a branch line to the old office building. And that will be the end of the faithful old Toonerville-type trolleys that have plied that route since 1912.

Is this not sad?

I'll admit the cars weren't the most comfortable in the world. Those cane-bottom seats could get mighty hard even on a 700-foot ride.

But there was something deeply satisfying about climbing into the front seat and feeling the wind trying to whip off your hat as you rounded the first curve.

Then there was the added thrill of knowing that the cars had jumped the tracks once or twice or failed to stop at the end of the line.

The new cars will still blow your hat off, but they are equipped with all sorts of safety devices to prevent accidents. So the thrill is gone.

When the old trolleys are taken out of service, the monorail track will be abandoned and the tunnel will be used as a storage area.

That is why a ride on them now sort of tugs at my heart strings. A ride on the new cars will just tug at my purse strings.

Chillingworth Slayer Will Go to the Chair

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Floyd A. "Lucky" Holzappel was sentenced to death in the electric chair Wednesday for the 1955 murders of Circuit Judge and Mrs. C. E. Chillingworth.

Circuit Judge Russell O. Morrow told the bawling, 38-year-old ex-convict he committed a crime which "not only shook the county and the state, but mankind everywhere."

He and Negro moonshiner George (Bobby) Lincoln, who was granted immunity for his testimony in the trial of Joseph A. Peol—said they drowned Chillingworth and his wife at sea in June 1955. Peol is under a life sentence for hiring the assassins.

Four-fifths of the old cigar store Indian statues were those of boys—and their families—in squaws.

Film Available for Boy Scouts on Outboarding

Continuing a boating program for boys that will include knowledge required for the new Motorboating Merit Badge to become available this summer, the Boy Scouts of America have announced the film "Outboard Scouting," made in cooperation with the Kiekhaefer Corporation, manufacturers of Mercury outboard motors.

The new Boy Scout 27-minute motorboating film, "Outboard Scouting," will be distributed throughout the Scout organization to promote safe boating and encourage interest in the new merit badge.

"The film makes an important contribution to our merit badge program," said Carl N. Heistand, Assistant Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America at the film's premiere showing. "Outboard Scouting" will increase the interest of hundreds of thousands of boys—and their families—in outboarding.

MAKE OVER PAGES 2 Will Seek Re-Election to Pontiac School Board

Both Pontiac School Board members up for re-election in the spring school election have announced their candidacy.

William H. Anderson and James R. Jenkins filed nominating petitions at the Pontiac Board of Education offices today, according to Vernon L. Schiller, director of financial management for the school district.

The deadline for filing nominating petitions is 4 p.m. Saturday, May 13.

Anderson, 44, of 431 Lynch St., will be bidding for his second four-year term on the board. He was first elected in 1957.

He is vice president of the board, having been elected to the office in February when former vice president Monroe Osnum was named president.

Although he participated in community school activities and civic groups, Anderson had never sought a public office before 1957. He also is an active Mason.

Anderson is a partner in the Columbia Non-Ferrous Foundry and Machine Co. of Pontiac. Jenkins, 42, of 62 Wenonah Drive, was appointed to the board to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Louis H. Schimmel at the same time Anderson was elected vice president.

INTERESTED IN SCHOOLS
A certified public accountant, Jenkins has shown a keen interest in school activities since coming to Pontiac in 1951.

Married and the father of five children, Jenkins has sons in Webster Elementary School, Washington Junior High School and has been active in parent-teacher associations at all three.

Jenkins has been particularly interested in working with children's groups. He has served as a mem-

He also has been active in boy scout work.

Jenkins is a member of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce and has been with the Downtown Pontiac Kiwanis Club five years. He was the club's president in 1950.

The school election will be June 12. Persons eligible to vote in the election must register at the city clerk's office by May 13 unless already registered.

Only persons living within the school district may vote.

The district includes all of Pontiac and parts of Orion, Avon, Bloomfield, Pontiac, Waterford and West Bloomfield Townships and the City of Sylvan Lake.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII Wednesday told 2,000 delegates of the World Catholic Union that they served a valuable mission promoting unity in the family, the state and the world in modern times of "practical materialism and egoism."

The women are in Rome for an international conference of their organization which represents 35 million women in 29 countries.

Judge Denies Request to Drop Suit Against Ex-Chrysler Official

No appeal will be made of Circuit Court Judge Clark J. Adams' ruling Monday denying former Chrysler Corp. official Jack W. Miner's request that a lawsuit against him be dismissed in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Miner's attorney, Edward P. Echlin of Detroit, said today that no application for leave to appeal the ruling will be made within the 10 days Judge Adams granted for possible appeal.

The corporation sued Miner, of Birmingham, asking an accounting of assets he received from his association in several subsidiary firms doing business with the corporation.

Echlin said he would now file answers to the corporation's original bill of complaint for Miner's May 5 City Hall riots against the W & M partnership. Minor owned half interest in the partnership which was the sales agency for the other firms.

The attorney has until May 18 to file the answers. The corporation then has the right to reply to these answers. Trial of the lawsuit comes next.

Student Innocent of SF Riot Assault

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Robert Meisenbach, 22-year-old University of California student, was found innocent Wednesday of assault charges arising out of last May's City Hall riots against the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

A jury of 10 women and two men deliberated less than three hours before returning the verdict in the court of superior Judge Harry J. Neubarth.

During the two-week trial, contradictory testimony was presented by prosecution and defense witnesses.

The prosecution sought to prove its claim that Meisenbach struck Police Patrolman Ralph E. Schaumliefel on the head with his own night stick during the demonstration.

Defense witnesses testified Meisenbach did not commit the attack — but was the victim of three separate attacks by police.

Adlai Thinks of Laos, Longs for Other Days

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, after "three lively months" as chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations, sometimes longs for the good old days.

Stevenson told a lunch of the U.S. committee for the United Nations Council of Member Organizations Wednesday: "With the Congo, Cuba, Korea and now Laos, I sometimes yearn for the simple brutalities of bipartisan politics."

President Wants to Reorganize CAB

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy sent Congress a plan Wednesday to reorganize the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) to give it "greater flexibility" in regulating the nation's airlines.

The plan will go into effect unless either house of Congress objects within the next 60 days.

Under Kennedy's proposal, the board could delegate its authority to CAB divisions, individual board members, hearing examiners and in some cases even CAB employees.

Kennedy said the reorganization would result in greater efficiency, economy and speed in the CAB's operations.

Serve Lobster for Company

The French are noted for exceptional talent when it comes to preparing food. A perfect example of this kitchen art is Lobster Thermidor. A combination of lobster and mushrooms in a rich cream sauce accented with mustard, cooking wine and cheese... also a picture to look at as well as to eat, when served in the lobster shells.

Dairy foods play an important role in blending together the suitable flavors in Lobster Thermidor. Blending together the delicious flavors as well as extending the protein this can truly be considered a nutritious entrée. This elegant main dish will be the crowning touch to a company dinner along with asparagus in browned butter, avocado and orange salad with cottage cheese, hot rolls, butter, lemon chiffon pie and milk.

Lobster Thermidor

- 1 1/2-cup frozen lobster tails
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/2 cup milk for 1/2 milk and 1/2 cream
- 1/2 cup Parmesan cheese
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
- 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Boil lobster as directed on frozen food package. A metal skewer threaded parallel to the back next to the shell will keep it from curling. Cut tails open lengthwise through tough outer shell. Remove meat from shell and cut meat into 1/2-inch cubes. Save shells.

Saute mushrooms in butter; blend in flour, mustard and salt. Add milk or half and half stirring constantly. Cook until sauce is smooth and thickened. Stir in cooking sherry, lemon juice and egg yolk. Fold in lobster meat and heat.

Sprinkle half of the cheese over bottom of 4 lobster shells and fill with creamed lobster mixture. Sprinkle remaining Parmesan cheese over top; sprinkle with paprika. Brown in moderate oven, 375 degrees, 7 to 10 minutes. 4 servings.

Can You Define All Milk Terms

Grocers' shelves contain such a wide variety of milk products that many people have difficulty learning which is which. To clear up the confusion, Good Housekeeping magazine offers this simple glossary.

Raw Milk is fresh whole milk just as it is taken from the cow.

Pasteurized "Grade A" Milk has been heated, then cooled rapidly, to destroy harmful bacteria. It usually contains from 3.5 to 3.8 per cent butterfat (the natural fat in whole milk).

Certified Milk, raw milk which has an extremely low percentage of bacteria, is produced under sanitary controls established by the American Association of Medical Commissions, Inc. It may sometimes be pasteurized.

Homogenized Milk has been forced through a machine that breaks up the butterfat into very small particles. The cream is thus evenly distributed throughout the whole milk.

Premium "Extra Rich" Milk, which has an unusually high butterfat content is drawn from certain breeds of cows, particularly in the Guernsey and Jersey.

To produce one bushel of corn requires about 40 minutes work on the part of an average American farmer.

LOBSTER THERMIDOR—Lobster Thermidor served in the shell makes an elegant entrée for a company meal. The shells themselves provide a bit of color to the rich creamy mixture topped with grated Parmesan cheese.

Inexpensive Pork Steaks Given Spicy Fruit Sauce

Pork dishes can have great individuality. Since many pork cuts, with the exception of roasts, are best cooked by braising, this provides an opportunity to blend many flavors with the pork.

You can add spice to menus with this tasty combination. Cinnamon, allspice and cloves provide the seasonings for pork arm or blade steaks. Dried apricots and prunes cooked with the pork give a different, appealing taste. Fruit and pork are a popular pair.

A meat cookery fact to keep in mind when preparing pork is always to cook it well-done.

Spicy Pork Steaks

- 1 pork arm or blade steak, cut 1 1/2-inch thick
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1 tablespoon pepper
- 1/2-cup water
- 1/2-cup brown sugar
- 1/2-cup vinegar
- 1/2-cup cinnamon
- 1/2-cup allspice
- 1/2-cup cloves
- 12 prunes
- 12 dried apricot halves

Brown steaks in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Mix together water, brown sugar, vinegar, cinnamon, allspice and cloves. Pour over steaks. Add prunes and

Try Swiss Cheese With Your Eggs

Just right for two: Scrambled Eggs With Swiss Cheese

- 4 large eggs
- 1/2-cup salt
- 1/2-cup Swiss cheese, sliced
- 1/2-cup butter
- 1/2-cup milk

Beat eggs and salt with a whisk just until whites and yolks are combined. Dice cheese very fine. Melt butter in 4-inch skillet until sizzling; add eggs; turn heat low. As egg congeals on bottom of skillet scrape up with spoon; do not stir constantly. Scrape up center as it congeals. When eggs are as firm as you like them, remove from heat and immediately stir in cheese. Lift from pan with pancake turner or wide spatula and sprinkle with paprika. Makes 2 servings.

Dieters Salad Flower Shaped

Salads are a wonderful help to the weight watcher. Having a pretty one makes the eating more interesting, without adding any extra calories. A tulip salad will please both grownups and children alike. Serve with Dilly Dressing.

1. For the pot, split a green pepper in half, so that pepper lies flat.
2. Make tulip stems from strips of celery and place on plate as if they are growing from pot.
3. Place leaves of romaine or endive at side of stem for tulip leaves.
4. For tulip, use one-half of peeled tomato, sliced lengthwise. Put this, rounded side up, on plate above stem. Cut indentations on top of tomato for tulip profile shape.
5. Pipe cream cheese around tulip and indentations to outline petals.

Dilly Dressing
Serve Dilly Dressing on your tulip salad. Here's how to make it:
1/2-cup yogurt
1/2-cup lemon juice
1/2-cup chopped dill
1/2-cup chopped hard cooked egg
1/2-cup small dill pickle, chopped fine
Mix yogurt, hard cooked chopped egg and lemon juice. Add salt and pepper, chopped dill, and chopped pickle. Keep in refrigerator. Chill before serving.

Pre-Packaged Foods Have Advantages

Packaging food in consumer-size units has helped make the self-service supermarket system possible. Shoppers may select packages, put them in a shopping cart and reach the checkout counter in a shorter time with a greater variety of items than ever before.

The Marketing Information lists these advantages of food packages:

- Protect quality. Packages protect food from contamination, dust, and handling by others. Proper packaging will help the quality of some food to remain high.
- Offer convenience and save shopping time. Food packages are easy to recognize and handle. They save shopping time.
- Carry helpful label information. Products in packages can carry brand names on the label and information on ingredients, quality, use, and quantity that help shoppers select food wisely.

May cost less than products sold in bulk. Sometimes you pay less for the service of packaging because products trimmed of excess bulk have reduced transportation and handling costs. For example, topped carrots in film bags have less bulk and weight than carrots with tops... and therefore cost less to transport to market.

Chicken and Egg Prices Down Again This Week

Food shoppers will notice that the prices of chicken and eggs are down again this week. The Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Supplies are larger than usual for May. When supplies are larger, prices are lowered to the point necessary to move the product through the normal market clearing channels.

Signs pointing to a lower price than a year ago for choice spring lambs in May, and already there is evidence of this. Many stores are emphasizing one lamb cut for week-end buying.

If you choose leg of lamb, count on about 3 servings from each pound. If you choose lamb shoulder, count on 2 1/2 servings from each pound and remove the thin blade bone before cooking. (This makes carving easy). Lamb breast will serve one or two persons from each pound. Barbecue lamb breast or stuff it with dressing for a very thrifty, flavorful dish. The economy-buy is a lamb liver which serves 4 to 5 persons from each pound.

Some retailers report a very slight decrease in beef prices during the last two weeks. Marketings of grain fed cattle have been larger than in the spring of 1960 and this trend is expected to continue this month. Prices on cows and other grass cattle will hold up well in May and then decline seasonally into the summer and fall.

This report explains why so many stores can highlight some beef cuts each week. Tender steaks and the rib section for roasts and steaks are the attention getters this week.

GRADE STAMP

If beef has been graded by U.S. government inspectors, the grade should be clearly marked within a purple shield-shaped stamp on the side of the cut. Much of the grain fattened beef will grade U.S. Choice. Roasts and steaks from the loin and rib are tender and juicy. Cuts from the round or chuck, which are more suitable for braising and pot roasting, should be tender with a well-developed flavor.

There is also a large supply of turkeys this month. There are millions of frozen turkeys (about 15 per cent above May, 1960) and a record number of early season young turkeys. This adds up to low-cost-per-serving turkeys for food shoppers.

If you choose a small turkey weighing from 4 to 9 pounds, it will serve 4 to 10 persons. The small size turkey is easy to use as a roast. Or cut it into pieces for broiling or frying.

Three-fourths of the calcium in our diets comes in the form of milk and cheese. To be sure your family gets its quota, allow 15 to 20 cents of each food dollar for dairy products, each week.

The average price for whole-sale grade A large white eggs in Detroit in May is expected to be 5 to 6 cents a dozen less. This means that shoppers will find a decrease at retail also. Current, retail prices for large size eggs range from about 45 to 55 cents a dozen.

Fresh produce continued to increase at major receiving markets during the past week. Shoppers may see increasing supplies of California long white potatoes and Valencia oranges. The New Jersey asparagus harvest is beginning.

Once-Poor Hamlet Booming

Tourists Enrich Spanish Town

BENDINORM, Spain (UPI)—Less than a decade ago, Bendinorm was a sleepy village on the Mediterranean coast, cut off from the pulse of the 20th Century.

Old women in black knitted in open doorways.

Bendinorm bore the stamp of near-poverty.

Then someone "discovered" the town's miles of sand beach, towering palms and near perfect year-round climate.

Within a few years, the bikini-clad, pleasure-seeking, money-spenders of 20th Century had come to stay.

What happened here is representative of what is taking place all along Spain's once-unknown Mediterranean shores from the now-famous Costa Brava to Torremolinos and on down the Costa del Sol.

"Bendinorm was a small, poor village," exclaimed real estate promoter Mario Torrubia, a sailor who came home to cash in on the tourist boom and is now an official spokesman for the community.

NO NOTHING

There was no industry, no water for agriculture, no commerce, no port. We were very poor. Almost half the men of Bendinorm had to leave home and become fishermen or sailors," he said.

At that time, there were a couple of hotels, few shops, no theaters and, naturally, no night clubs.

Choice property on the palm-lined promenade overlooking the wide beach and blue sea, sold for a song. One could buy lots for a few hundred dollars and put up a house for next to nothing.

Then, beginning in 1955, the tourists came.

Four new hotels opened last year, bringing to about 50 the number here. There are two movie houses open the year round, plus four that operate only during the summer and three night clubs.

In addition, side streets are lined with smart shops featuring fashions in resort wear, the other Nice or Cannes.

English, French and German sports cars jostle the buxos off the streets.

Bendinorm's regular 4,000 inhabitants find themselves playing host to an estimated 30,000 guests during August and September.

The waterfront real estate, once a bargain, has increased 10 times in value. The minimum price for a lot overlooking the sea is $20,000.

Three modern apartment buildings, catering to the part-time resident, have been put up on the waterfront. Though the "high season" last only from July through September, Bendinorm has a warm, dry, year-round climate. Hundreds of persons come here for the winter.

"There are no poor families now," Torrubia explained.

"Almost everyone has a new problem — what to do with our money," he said. "It is a better worry than the one we had when we were poor."

Torrubia, a far-sighted young man, who toured the world as a ship's radio operator before Bendinorm's tourist boom, believes the transformation is only beginning.

"In a few years, we will be as fashionable in resort wear, the other Nice or Cannes."

On Top of This Autos Getting More Complex
Every Year

NEW YORK (U)—Whenever Mel Turner sees traffic flowing along busy thoroughfares he almost automatically begins to pine him in blocs of 100, a vision that pains him.

For to Turner each bloc is a fresh reminder that the United States there is an average of only one mechanic to service every 100 or so cars.

"What's more important," Turner says, "is the question of how many mechanics can service or repair automobiles which have complicated systems for air conditioning and automatic braking, steering and window control."

Turner, a Chicago service operator who is director of the Automotive Service Industry Association's vocational education program, says that the day is long past when a man could practically repair anything on his car with a screwdriver and wrench.

"The home grown grease monkey can't possibly keep up with the new developments," he says. "For a nation whose economy really depends on wheels, this is a serious threat, and it could be disastrous in case of a national emergency."

Turner, in New York for an ASIA convention, spells off these figures to show the growing gap between the number of cars and the men available to service them:

In 1950, there were 49 million vehicles and 67,000 mechanics — 73 cars per mechanic. In 1955, it was 62 million vehicles and 78,000 mechanics — a ratio of 83 to 1. By 1965, there'll be an estimated 81 million vehicles and 745,000 mechanics to keep them rolling — or one mechanic for each 108 cars.

"We consider 60 to 1 as being a healthy ratio," says Turner. "What is the industry doing about it?"

"We work closely with schools throughout the nation to help them develop programs for modern up-to-date shops," Turner says.

"The manufacturers train some mechanics to familiarize them with new models but the number who get this training represent a drop in the bucket."

Obviously, an inventive kid who likes to tinker with a car isn't going to learn by himself how to service the new and highly intricate power plants of new cars.

So they must get this training in vocational schools. What we want to see is schools that are adequately equipped and up-to-date instead of having them trained in some shop where they do their learning on an old Reo."

World Small;
Schools Urged

MIDDLEBURY, Vt. (UPI)—The nation's largest universities should create centers for intensive study of at least a dozen of the more widely spoken languages of Africa, says Dr. Stephen A. Freeman, vice president of Middlebury College.

He said that until recently, knowing the languages of the European powers was enough for our political and economic contacts there.

But, he added, "All this is changing. Colonialism is dead. Young Africa is in a hurry, is gaining independence and self-government."

Dr. Freeman said the situation is far from simple because there are more than 700 languages in Africa, with no one of them common enough to be understood generally.

Road Commissioners of Past to Be Honored

LANSING (U)—Eight former highway commissioners will be honored during the May 21-27 Michigan Week by the dedication of roadside parks named after them, the State Highway Department has announced.

"The parks are yet to be selected," the former commissioners and their years of office:

Horatio S. Earle of Detroit, 1903-1909; Townsend A. Dy of Alma, 1909-1913; Frank F. Rogers of East Lansing, 1913-1929; Grover C. Dillman of Houghton, 1929-1933; Murray Van Wagoner of Bloomfield Township, 1933-1940; G. Donald Kennedy of Pontiac, 1940-1942; Lloyd B. Reid of Detroit, 1942-1943; and Charles M. Ziegler of Lansing, 1943-1957.

Four of the former commissioners — Dillman, Van Wagoner, Kennedy and Reid are still living.

Grand Rapids Sells Bonds

GRAND RAPIDS (U)—The city Tuesday sold $13,120,000 in revenue and general obligation bonds to finance water and sewer expansion programs and pay its share of an urban renewal project. Spokesmen said all three issues were sold at net interest rates of 3.4 per cent.

Brooks told the boy he thought the dog would sell better with a higher price tag. So the boy changed the sign to read, "PUP FOR SALE—$10,000."
