Ike Says He'll Continue Fight for Reinsurance

Claims People of U. S. Are Losers in House Act Killing Health Bill

WASHINGTON (A P)—President Eisenhower said today those in the House who killed his health re-insurance program simply don't understand the facts of life.

The President told a news conference he will carry on the fight for such a program as long as he is in office. And he declared, in tones of indignation, nobody lost except the American people when the House rejected his plan.

At the Capitol, House GOP Leader Halleck (Ind) gave up any idea the proposal could be revived in this session of Congress.

"It's dead," he said of a proposal for federal reinsurance of commercial health insurance plans to encourage them to expand coverage and benefits.

The House voted 238-134 yesterday to send the reinsurance proposal back to the House Commerce Committee—to the astonishment of House Republican leaders, who had been confidently forecasting easy passage.

Halleck told the House that recommittal of the bill would kill it because Congress is working for adjournment in a little over two weeks.

Halleck told newsmen the plan's death is traceable to "Democrats

Bingo Petitions Face Challenge

Elections Director Says 16,000 More Valid Signatures Needed

LANSING (UP) — Robert M. Montgomery, state elections director, said today that it still remains "questionable" whether sufficient valid signatures have been filed on petitions seeking a November referendum to legalize charity bingo.

Montgomery said elections bureau workers thus far have counted 269,060 acceptable signatures on petitions filed July 2 by the Michigan Association of Non-profit. Petitions bearing some 57,000 additional signatures were set aside as subject to possible challenge.

Montgomery said he still expects to complete the check in time to report at next Monday's Board of Canvassers meeting whether petitioners have filed the required number of 286,586 signatures to force the state-wide referendum.

"There are a lot of good signatures on the petitions which were set aside on the first check," Montgomery declared.

"Just how many there are, however, we cannot say at this time."

Workers must find more than 16,000 valid signatures in the petitions set aside in order to satisfy the legal requirement for at least 286,856 signers demanding the referendum.

Montgomery estimated that of the petitions bearing some 57,000 signatures approximately 10,000 names have definitely been thrown out as invalid for a variety of reasons.

Soiled Clothing Breezes Away From Breezeway

For a year Mrs. Albert J. Bryner has been leaving soiled clothes in the breezeway of her Birmingham home for the dry-cleaning man. She did so yesterday and the result was startling.

When she returned from some errands she found the clothes gone and figured the cleaning man had picked them up in her absence. A few minutes later there was a knock on the door of her home at 347 S. Glenhurst.

It was the cleaning man—asking if she had any clothes to send out. Mrs. Bryner has no idea who swiped her husband's summer suit, sport jacket and two pairs of his slacks.

Beauty Christens Scenicruiser

FIRST OF NEW FLEET — Mrs. Wanda Jennings, "Mrs. America," is shown christening the first of 500 new Scenicruisers being built for Greyhound Lines by GMC Truck and Coach Division, here this morning. The new buses, incorporating many new features, are to be placed in service on Greyhound routes throughout the nation in the near future.

New Greyhound Scenicruisers Are Christened

Something radically new in motor coaches was unveiled at GMC Truck & Coach Division here this morning when the first of the new Scenicruiser buses being built for Greyhound Lines was christened.

Mrs. Wanda Jennings, "Mrs. America," christened the new bus, first of a fleet of 500, and delivery of the first 43-passenger coach was accepted by Orville S. Caesar, president of Greyhound, from P. J. Monaghan, general manager of GMC Truck.

The new Scenicruiser incorporates latest engineering developments for comfort of passengers. The new coaches are deck-and-a-half high with provision for 33 passengers in the elevated portion.

Greyhound expects to have scores of the new coaches in operation on principal routes throughout the nation in the near future.

Children Drown in Boat Mishap

Eight or Nine Missing as Crammed Craft Tips in Canadian Lake

MONTREAL (AP) — Eight or nine children were missing today in a mountain lake northwest of here where at least 12 tots were drowned when an overloaded pleasure motorboat capsized yesterday.

The bodies of three girls and a boy were recovered before darkness suspended search operations last night. Two adults and several other children were rescued.

The tragedy occurred as about 62 Montreal children 5 to 12 years old romped happily at a picnic on the shore of Lake of Two Mountains, 20 miles northwest of the city.

Jack Seligman, a Montreal man who has a cottage near Ile Bizard, offered to take the youngsters on boat rides around the lake. On the third trip, he said, water started splashing over the side of the heavily loaded boat. The children panicked, some jumped overboard and the boat overturned.

Seligman and Jack Harrison, a camp counselor also in the boat rescued several children. Bus drivers who had brought the children to the picnic and a Sea Scout saved others.

Police said last night they were certain eight and possibly nine bodies were still in the lake.

Official Ceremony to Open Pontiac's New Parking Lot

A ribbon-cutting ceremony will officially open Pontiac's new 250-car municipal parking lot at the northwest corner of E. Pike and Parke Sts. tomorrow at 9 a. m., City Manager Walter K. Willman said today.

Mayor William W. Donaldson and H. Wayne Gabert, president of the Pontiac Retail Merchants Assn. division of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, will take part in the program.

The lot will be open for parkers on a pay basis from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. on weekdays and Saturdays as stipulated in an ordinance regulating municipal lots passed last night by Pontiac City Commission.

Designed to accommodate short-term users, the lot will have a three-hour parking limit at five cents per hour. The meters will take pennies, nickles and dimes. Free parking will be allowed on Sundays and holidays.

The ordinance provides penalties for persons leaving their car over the limit and states that vehicles should be locked and the emergency brakes set.

The lot has been blacktopped, meters installed and lanes painted this week. Lights will be installed as soon as the light poles arrive, said Willman.

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley said any vehicle used for personal transportation can use the lot, but no commercial vehicles will be allowed except light panel delivery trucks and small pick-up trucks.

There are four inlets on Parke and one on Pike, with all used for both entrance and exit, said Straley.

Total cost of the lot, including the price of the land, is expected to be about $160,000.

Accident Severs Commuter's Foot

The left foot of a Highland Park mechanical engineer was severed this morning when he tried to jump aboard a moving commuter train in Pontiac and slipped under its wheels.

The victim, A. Roger Tyslan, 24, of 1256 Third St., was rushed to Pontiac General Hospital and underwent immediate surgery.

He is reported in fair condition.

Tyslan's wife, Gloria, 23, said she drove her husband to the Grand Trunk Western Railroad's downtown depot and they arrived late. The train started moving and her husband ran after it.

Mrs. Tyslan told Pontiac Police that her husband leaped for the rear steps of the second passenger car, missed a hold on the hand rail and fell to the tracks.

The Tyslans were staying at the cottage of Mrs. Tyslan's parents on Walters Lake near Clarkston. Tyslan had been commuting to the Chrysler Central Engineering Building in Highland Park.

Osmun's Town & Country, Tel-Huron. Open every night 'til 9 p.m.

Cooler Weather on Its Way Here

Mercury at 94 Degrees to Bring Hottest Day of Year to Pontiac

7 a.m.	73	11 a.m.	91
8 a.m.	77	12 m.	92
9 a.m.	81	1 p.m.	94
		2 p.m.	94

Cool air moving toward Michigan is expected to bring relief tonight from a heat wave that shoved the mercury to 94 degrees today, making this the hottest day in Pontiac this year.

W. W. Oak, chief meteorologist at the U. S. Weather Bureau's Detroit office, said cooler air from the northwest should reach this area tonight and end a three-day hot spell of 90-plus temperatures.

The Weather Bureau says temperatures will drop to a comfortable 64 to 68 degrees tonight and not rise beyond 82 to 86 degrees Thursday.

The mercury climbed from a low of 67 degrees Tuesday to a simmering 92. Thermometers began today with a bigger head start. Sunrise found them hovering at 71 degrees. The temperature climbed to 77 by 8 a.m. and to 94 by 2 p.m. today.

Pontiac's 92-degree reading Tuesday was cool compared with much of the Midwest. Three Kansas cities and the Oklahoma town of Ponca City recorded 114 degrees.

All-time records tumbled in Tulsa, Okla., with 111 degrees and Springfield, Mo., with 108.

Pontiac has been catching the heat wave's northern edge as the hot air moves east. Tonight's breezes should push back that heat—but weather forecasters don't think relief will last much more than two days.

Small's Father Collapses as Defense Begins

Heart Attack Forces Recess in 1st-Degree Murder Trial

ALLEGAN (A P) — The father of murder charge defendant Dr. Kenneth B. Small collapsed in the court room today, forcing a recess in proceedings.

The parent, Jacob Small, 62, retired bricklayer and service station operator, was hospitalized, reportedly suffering from a heart attack induced by "strain" at his son's trial.

In another day of emotional incidents, Dr. Small's wife, Edith, 30, fled from the court room for the second time.

Mrs. Small rushed away during the defense counsel's remarks about her attempted divorce and went to an open window, where she wept.

Her 31-year-old society dentist husband is on trial on a charge of first degree murder in the gunshot slaying of her New York industrialist-playboy admirer, Jules M. Lack, 45.

Lack was shot to death last may 29 at a Memorial Day weekend house party at a Lake Michigan cottage near here.

The collapse of Dr. Small's father interrupted presentation of the case for the defense. Earlier the prosecution—which demands life imprisonment for Dr. Small—had rested its own case.

The elder Small was to have been the first defense witness.

As Defense Attorney Leo Hoffman was making his opening statement to the jury, Small collapsed in his first row seat.

He was taken to a couch in the corridor. Two physicians were called. Small then was taken to Allegan Health Center.

Dr. Peter Brockman of Allegan said the attack was "brought on by court room strain." After an examination he said he did not believe Small in immediate danger.

Yesterday the petite Mrs. Small, 30, mother of three small boys, told on the witness stand of happy days with Dr. Small during their college romance and in their early years of married life.

But she frankly admitted she fell in love with Lack during a

But Oh, Our Heat and Humidity!

Pretty Alaskan CAP Girls Fly Into Michigan for Visit

By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH

It wasn't the heat. It was the humidity that bothered eight pretty Alaskan Civil Air Patrol members when they swung down the ladders of two Air Force planes at Selfridge Air Force Base in Tuesday's blistering 90-degree heat.

"It was 90 in Juneau on June 1," said Rosemary Kronquist, 16. "But, you don't mind because it's dry."

Alaska's frigid reputation was melted further by another 16-year-old girl, Billie Burnett of Anchorage.

"You can even wear sun clothes and go swimming in outdoor lakes in the summer months," she said.

"In Juneau, we swim a quarter of a mile from a glacier — and it's lukewarm," said Virginia Barril, 16, who belongs to the Juneau squadron of the Alaskan CAP.

The eight girls, along with a WAF lieutenant and a CAP lieutenant, are spending 10 days in

U. S. Will Send Diplomat Smith Back to Geneva

America Prepared to Guarantee Areas Kept by French

PARIS (INS) — The Big Three Western foreign ministers, resigned to partition of eastern Indochina, wound up their Paris unity conference today with an agreement designed to get the best possible Indochinese peace terms from the Red bloc.

The U. S. decided to send Undersecretary of State Gen. Walter Bedell Smith back to Geneva for the final round of talks with the Communists. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is departing for Washington tonight.

Unimpeachable sources said Dulles informed French Premier-Foreign Minister Pierre Mendes-France of United States' willingness to guarantee, jointly with the Allies, any part of Indochina that may be saved from communism.

These sources said Dulles indicated President Eisenhower is prepared to commit the United States, by an executive agreement, to such a guarantee through a Southeast Asia defense pact.

A communique issued after two meetings of the ministers today said they had reached a "clear understanding" of their "respective positions in relation to Indochina."

But Mendes - France said it really amounted to a "firm agreement." The French Premier described the talks as "fruitful" and said: "Consequently we are all very satisfied with the results of our meetings."

Mendes - France and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden returned at once to Geneva to see whether they can conclude an Indochinese settlement with the Communists before expiration of the Tuesday deadline set by the French premier.

It was considered likely that Mendes - France will suggest a settlement on the basis of partition of Viet Nam along the 18th

Pontiac Merchants Offering Special Bargains on Value Days

Wilson Pontiac-Cadillac's New Showroom Will Be Opened Friday, Saturday

BIRMINGHAM — A red brick colonial styled automobile showroom complete with white pillars, formal cupola and a Williamsburg interior opens Friday and Saturday at 1350 N. Woodward Ave., Birmingham.

Co-owners and managers of Wilson Pontiac - Cadillac are Edward E. Wilson and Charles E. Wilson Jr. Their business was formerly located at 275 N. Woodward, Birmingham.

Highlight of the two-day opening, July 16 and 17, will be a showing of the General Motors "Previews of Progress" with the latest in scientific and engineering developments. These are exhibits from the General Motors Motorama.

Included in the opening display will be the new Pontiac Strato-Streak, the Cadillac Park Avenue and the new Pontiac sports car, the Bonneville Special.

The new home of the Wilson Pontiac - Cadillac dealership covers over 20,000 square feet. The entire building, owned by the Wilsons, has 26,000 square feet and there are offices located in the south portion of the building.

Built on a terrace, a depressed parking area runs across the front with a raised walk paralleling the entire front of the building. Parking facilities are also provided at the rear of the building.

The interior of the showroom is in typical eastern decor with formal white woodwork and doors and white wainscoting. Upper walls are painted in blue-gray. Acoustical plaster forms the ceiling with a huge circular depressed area featuring recessed lighting to display the cars at daylight advantage. A matching circle, directly below the ceiling mark, is outlined in the all-gray marble floor.

Completely air - conditioned, the Wilson building includes, besides the large showroom, office quarters and a complete service and parts department.

In the service division, there are 26 service stalls, two lubrication racks with their own entrances and exits, nine hydraulic hoists, together with front - end pits to handle wheel alignment. Underground installations house exhaust systems and cooling and exhaust fans.

A customer lounge is adjacent to the service area.

Harry M. Denyes Jr., A. I. A. of Birmingham was architect for the building and the general contractor was the Schurrer Construction Company of Pontiac.

Growing by leaps and bounds is the auxiliary police group, which has been reactivated to fit into the civil defense picture here.

Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley said 27 men attended yesterday's session, which was spent in revolver practice at the police shooting range. At the first meeting of the group, June 2, 15 men turned out.

Moxley said Dr. Maurice Thome of Pontiac will start instruction in first aid at a meeting scheduled for July 27.

their visit, the female visitors were taken to a drive-in theater. Today, they visited Greenfield Village and tonight will be guests of honor at a picnic at Springdale Park.

Tomorrow, they will be driven in a CAP caravan to Clarkston, where Flint air patrol members will pick them up for the second portion of their visit.

They also will visit Muskegon and Kalamazoo, winding up their tour with a three - day visit to Detroit starting Monday. Thursday they will board the planes for the return flight to Seattle, then to Alaska.

While some of the visitors have been to the West Coast before, none of them has ever been this far into the country.

Lt. Lucille Bivins, the CAP officer accompanying the group, said there were about 175 boys and girls in the Alaskan wing, with squadrons in Anchorage, Fairbanks, Juneau, Nome, Kenai and Dillingham.

Capt. George Renholt, executive officer of the Birmingham squadron, explained that under the AF-sponsored program, overseas CAP members "come to circulate among our squadrons and we send people there."

Later this month, a Birmingham cadet will be sent to Belgium as part of the delegation from the Great Lakes CAP region, comprised of six states.

The other members of the Alaskan exchange group are Judy Carr, 16; Mildred Pickett, 18; and Alice Sweeney, 16, of Juneau and Jerry Fagerstrom, 18, of Nome.

Miss Fagerstrom was the only member really bothered by the heat. In Nome, about 1,000 miles farther north than Juneau of Anchorage, the temperature was 60 when she left.

Brownell Seeks Employe Ban

Would Forbid Handling of Federal Matters by Ex-Government People

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell today asked that Congress bar former federal employes from ever handling for private interests any government matter with which they were associated while in government.

His proposal, sent to Vice President Nixon and House Speaker Martin (R-Mass), would involve a rewriting of the "conflict of interest" laws.

* * *

Brownell described the existing statutes as inadequate. He suggested that the present penalty for "switching sides" after leaving federal service be increased from the present one year in prison or $10,000 fine.

The present laws forbid such "switching" for a two-year period after an employe has left government service. The statues are so written as to appear to apply principally if not solely to attorneys.

* * *

Application of these laws was further narrowed by a district court ruling last year that the prohibition against an ex-government employe's representing a private employer in dealing with the government only applies in cases where there is a claim for money or property against the United States.

Safe, 2 Checkbooks Stolen in Breakin

A 24x24-inch safe, containing two company payroll checkbooks, was taken during a breakin at the Spadafore Beverage Co., 922 Oakland Ave, Tuesday night, according to Pontiac Police.

Owner William Spadafore said the checks were numbered 695 to 1,000 in one of the books and 4,029 to 4,500 in the other. The safe also contained titles to the company's trucks, he said.

Police said entry was made by breaking in a side window.

U.S. Economy Stabilizing, Nation's Governors Told

BOLTON LANDING, N.Y. (AP)—Presidential adviser Gabriel Hauge told the nation's governors today that the economy is stabilizing and the country is "catching its breath" for a possible advance to a 450-billion-dollar gross national product in five years.

Speaking at a panel session of the 46th annual Governors Conference here, the White House economist said Eisenhower's legislative measures already approved and now before Congress contain "billions of dollars of economic punch and stimulation."

* * *

Contending that what he called the "recession or readjustment" which has been in progress since July, 1953, has been halted, Hauge said that a reorganization now is going on that should bring a forward surge.

While Hauge did not mention it specifically, governors agreed generally that President Eisenhower's proposal to superimpose a 10-year 50-billion-dollar interstate highway building program on normal outlays of 40 billion in that period would help stimulate the economy.

Gov. Theodore McKeldin, Maryland Republican, told his colleagues that the governors have been "suffering a severe attack of buck fever" in expressing fears that the President's proposal means that they would be barred from controlling highway programs of the future.

* * *

In a prepared speech defending the President's proposal McKeldin said Eisenhower "seeks to dictate nothing" about the form the program should take.

Alluding to demands that the federal government get out of the gasoline and auto tax field and let the states' collect such levies to finance highways, McKeldin said the president was not foreclosing such a system.

All the President was asking, McKeldin said, was for the governors to get together on a national program.

* * *

Hauge told the governors that the nation's economy appears to have gone through a "moderate readjustment," insisting that such "wrinkles" in the business curve are inevitable under a free economy and play a part in avoiding any deep depression.

He mentioned as factors a lengthening of the average work week, resurgent retail buying, lowering of savings, shrinkage of the number of those unemployed for more than 15 weeks, the rising stock market, more stability in prices, an increase in industrial output and higher average weekly earnings.

Hauge said, however, that attention still must be paid to cost-price relationships, that the farm surplus situation must be "cleaned up" and that large industries need strengthening.

* * *

Among Eisenhower's legislative proposals he said would add impetus to the economy he listed tax revisions, farm price support changes, social security expansion, housing and slum clearance, increased unemployment compensation and the St. Lawrence Seaway project.

Hauge said Eisenhower has a four-fold program for economic development:

1. Removal of "hampering restrictions" on private enterprise.

* * *

2. "Equality of opportunity for everybody" in education, jobs and every other area.

3. "Recognition that the government has a responsibility to construct a sturdy floor over the pit of personal disaster."

4. Creation of new opportunities for private enterprise, including the fostering of technological advances.

He said in this "grand project" the states, as well as the federal government, have a role to play.

Dulles Reveals Sovereignty Plan

U. S. Will Ask British, French to Back EDC Alternative

WASHINGTON (AP) — A British-American effort will be made to break Europe's defense deadlock by proposing immediate sovereignty for West Germany while postponing German rearmament, Congress was told today in a letter from Secretary of State Dulles.

Dulles advised the lawmakers that the French and British will be asked in a day or two to support this alternative, to be employed in case the French Assembly adjourns Aug. 15 without ratifying the proposed European Defense Community.

Dulles' letter, dated July 12 before he flew to Europe on his current trip to talk to British and French leaders about EDC and the possibilities of peace in Indochina, was addressed to Chairmen Chipperfield (R-Ill) and Wiley (R-Wis) of the House and Senate Foreign Affairs Committees.

who didn't think it goes far enough and some Republicans who think it goes too far." He also placed some of the blame on the American Medical Assn., which he said exerted considerable pressure against the proposal.

The bill would authorize the federal government to underwrite up to 75 per cent of the losses suffered by private and nonprofit insurance firms as a result of voluntary expansion of their health and medical programs.

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. Nellie Elwood

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Nellie Elwood, formerly of 205 Florence Ave., in Traverse City this morning.

The body is being brought to the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

Harold I. Frack

Funeral for Harold I. Frack, 46, of 4170 Foley, Waterford Township, will be Friday at 10:30 a. m. from Sparks-Griffin Chapel. The Rev. Wright Van Plew, pastor of the Waterford Community Church, will officiate and burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Mr. Frack died Tuesday morning.

Michael Rimies

Funeral for Michael Rimies who resided at the Lincoln Hotel will be Thursday at 2 p.m. from St. George Greek Orthodox Church on Mariva St. The Rev. Soterios Gouvellis will officiate and burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Rimies, who was employed at Red Lion Cafe, was dead upon admittance at Pontiac General Hospital Friday morning. There are no survivors. The body is at the Pursley Funeral Home.

James H. Smith

After an illness of a year, James H. Smith, 81, of 41 Lewis St. died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lettie Hancock at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Born in Branch County March 11, 1873 he was the son of Zacharias and Harriett Phillips Smith. He married Nettie Eddy at Walton in 1893 and came to Pontiac from there to live in 1916. He was last employed at Wilson Foundry Division of Willys Motors, Inc.

Besides Mrs. Hancock he is survived by two other daughters and four sons, Mrs. Mable Campbell of Auburn Heights, Mrs. Thelma Hardenburg, William E., Clinton, Lester H. and James H. all of Pontiac.

Also surviving is a sister, Mrs. Alice Everling of Pontiac, 20 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be Friday at 1:30 from the Huntoon Funeral Home. The Rev. James H. Luther of Silvercrest Baptist Church will officiate and burial will be in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

Urges Homeowners Buy Dwarf Fruit Trees

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—A University of Wisconsin horticulturist says homeowners who have limited space for gardens should invest in dwarf fruit trees.

G. C. Klingbeil said the tiny trees require little ground, bear fruit at an early age, are easy to prune and spray and "the fruit is generally above average size, highly colored and easy to harvest."

The disadvantages are that "high soil fertility and adequate moisture are required and yields are generally not high."

The dwarf trees are produced by grafting the desired variety on a dwarfing rootstock or by grafting a short piece of dwarfing stem between the normal root and the desired variety top.

MRS. W. A. SANDS

Pontiac Woman, 97, to Be Buried Friday

Mrs. William A. (Ellen) Sands, 97, well-known Pontiac resident, died at 28 Foster St., where she had been living, at 6:55 p.m. Tuesday. She was taken ill four weeks ago.

She was born at Komoka, Ont., on Sept. 15, 1857, but she moved to Milford with her parents when she was very young and lived there until she came to Pontiac in 1927.

A member of Central Methodist Church, she rarely missed a Sunday in her attendance. She also was a member of the Chi Theta Sunday School class and the Susannah Wesley unit of the WSCS and the DAR.

Mrs. Sands not only attended her Sunday School Class and unit meetings, but took an active part in their programs. She knew many poems by memory and often recited these for the pleasure of her friends.

Surviving is a daughter, Mrs. Annette Sands Jefferson of Pontiac, one grandchild and two great grandchildren.

Funeral will be Friday at 2 p.m. from Sparks-Griffin Chapel. Dr. Milton H. Bank, her pastor, will officiate and burial will be in the Milford Cemetery.

'Playing Into Red Hands,' Dulles Told

LONDON (AP) — Former Prime Minister Clement Attlee accused U.S. Secretary of State Dulles today of "playing right into the hands of the Communists" by failing to return to the Geneva conference.

Attlee, whose Labor government first recognized the Chinese Communist government in 1950, spoke in a House of Commons foreign affairs debate.

"We must recognize that if we can get a standstill or an armistice in Indochina there remains the very difficult question of Korea," he declared.

"I believe that a settlement of this question is entirely bound up with the problem of a seat for China in the (U.N.) Security Council and with the problem of Formosa."

Dr. Small's Father Collapses in Court

Florida vacation last winter after her husband declined to go with her. Upon her return, she said, she told her husband she wanted a separation.

Dr. Small began drinking after that, she said, and on one occasion beat her after asking her about the "other man."

Defense Counsel Leo Hoffman asked her:

"You were in love with Lack after three dates, and that's why you asked your husband for a separation and a divorce?"

Mrs. Small replied:

"That's the basic reason. But there were other basic differences of ideology. He (Dr. Small) wanted to be conservative."

Hoffman then asked if she wanted her husband to be "a big spender," and she answered that she "wanted a bigger person than he is."

At another point Mrs. Small testified that she asked for a separation "because I felt I didn't love him any more.

Hoffman has announced plans to attempt to prove that Dr. Small was temporarily insane at the time of the shooting.

Asked why her feelings about her husband changed, Mrs. Small said: "It was an accumulation of grievances, so many I can't go into them."

"Isn't it true," Hoffman pressed, "that it was because of your love for Lack that you wanted a separation?

"Not completely," Mrs. Small responded.

She said, under questioning, that there was no other man in her life until Lack came along.

After the Florida meeting, she said, she saw Lack in New York and it was there that he "let me know how he felt." Then she filed suit for divorce.

Bar Robbery Nets $130 From Juke Box Machines

Thugs broke into Boulan's Bar at 3985 John R. early this morning taking between $100 and $130 from three vending machines.

According to Troy Township Police Chief David E. Gratopp, the burglars made their entry by breaking the glass in the rear door and forcing the lock. The money was taken from a juke box and two bowling machines. Nothing else has been reported missing at this time.

Detroit Council Approves Parking Lot Construction

Detroit Common Council approved construction of a 327-car municipal parking lot on Harper near Chalmers Tuesday.

Tentative approval also was given for three neighborhood off-street parking areas. Estimated cost of the four facilities was placed at $814,000.

Big Three Agrees on Indochina Policy

parallel. The Communists want a more southerly demarcation line, but have abandoned their original demands for a division at the 13th parallel.

The communique said Dulles explained the "limitation" the U. S. desires to observe in connection with the Geneva parley on Indochina, since the U. S. does not have primary responsibility in the problem.

The other major part of the announcement said President Eisenhower and Dulles are asking Bedell Smith to return to the Geneva Conference table. He probably will leave Washington late Friday.

The talks in Paris apparently bolstered the hand of Mendes-France in his forthcoming talks in Geneva.

Informants said the ministers agreed on a fairly clear platform on which the West will stand at the Geneva parley.

It is Dulles' hope that Mendes-France can obtain a partition settlement which will save the free world a good part of southern Viet Nam and Cambodia and Laos, the two other associated states.

The use of an executive agreement by President Eisenhower to set up a defense system means such a pact could be brought into beging at any time.

However, Dulles told his British and French colleagues he feels congressional approval would have to be obtained before the U. S. could commit its armed forces to any combat operations under the terms of such a pact, if necessary.

The unimpeachable source said that under the plan discussed in Paris, President Eisenhower would summon the Senate into emergency session to ratify the agreement should the need arise to implement it during the congressional recess.

It was learned the three ministers also discussed the possibility of a joint proclamation announcing the intention to create a Southeast Asian security pact to coincide with any peace settlement reached at Geneva.

No decision was taken and the three governments will continue to consider this plan.

During its years of operation the Federal Housing administration has insured more than $16 billion in loans for buildings and improvements.

Temple Wing Found in Egypt

Archeologists Unearth Tomb Section Dating to 1300 B.C.

ABYDOS, Upper Egypt (UP)—Archeologists have unearthed from under a palm grove hill in this ancient city a completely new wing of the pillared temple of Pharaoh Seti I, the warrior ruler of Egypt 13 centuries before Christ.

The sand - clearing excavations brought to light an uncharted hall of the temple extending on its southern side, as well as a massive enclosure wall bearing colored battle scenes of the wars in which the pharaoh fought.

These buried and forgotten vestiges of Seti's reign in the 19th dynasty were dug up after months of arduous shoveling deep into the heart of the hill by teams of diggers directed by archeologists of the Egyptian antiquities department.

A part of the covering hill and a few houses standing on it had to be razed by the sand - bitten diggers before the archeologists could reach the temple's new southern wing, hidden for centuries under the mound. The rubble - filled hall was found flanked by pillars on both sides, and the floor was paved with large limestone tiles.

A clue the archeologists are now following is that the level of this hall is four - and - a - half meters above the rest of the temple. This has spurred the belief that there may be yet other sections of the temple blocked under the sands in the same hilly region.

The newly discovered enclosure wall stands three meters high and more than one meter thick, on the eastern side of the ancient temple. Multi - colored battle scenes and hieroglyphic inscriptions on the wall represent an account of the many wars Seti I waged in Palestine, Syria and Asia—the crowning successes of his reign.

In the area between the enclosure wall and the temple itself, the archeologists struck upon three square - shaped wells. These are believed to have been used for water storage by the ancient Egyptians.

Construction of the temple was started by Seti I, and after his death was completed by his son Rameses II at a time when Abydos was a glittering city where the pharaohs held court. The temple ruins now are surrounded by desert wastes dotted by clusters of palm trees.

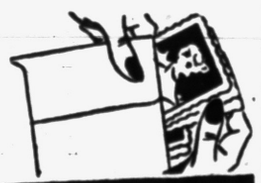

Hurricane Club Adds 18 More to Membership

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP) — The exclusive Century Club of Weather Squadron Four at the Naval Air Station here has added 18 new members from among the hurricane hunters.

The squadron flies into the heart of tropical hurricanes to chart wind velocity and direction. The Century Club is limited to those pilots and crewmen who have encountered hurricane winds of 100 knots or more.

To chart these terrific winds, the hurricane hunter planes must enter near the "eye" of a hurricane at about 200 feet from the water surface so the velocity can be estimated. Since the squadron was commissioned in 1952, 102 of its members have been initiated into the Century Club.

Bomber's Jet Engines Given "Highball" Shots

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UP)—Water and alcohol "highballs" are being served to jet engines powering the Air Force's B-47 bombers to give extra power for takeoffs.

A mixture of water and alcohol is injected into the combustion chamber of each of the B-47's six jet engines. This increases the flow of fuel into the engines and the velocity of the jet gases, thereby providing greater thrust.

Safety Experiment

Around the country a good many communities are breaking out of the staid old pattern of traffic regulation and trying out new ideas. Mentioned on this page recently was a trial Midland is making with gun-type movie cameras that record the speed of a car and its identifying license plate.

In Harrison, New York, the Hutchinson River Parkway produces a flood of traffic and the usual run of traffic violators. The town is thinking of building a drive-in traffic court along the parkway where violators can pay their fine and continue on their journey.

This may be rough justice, but most violators are willing to concede their guilt and square up. Enabling them to do so quickly is in line with modern banking and merchandising practice.

Milwaukee's juvenile court, working with the police department, has set up a traffic school for teen-age violators. Kids in the jurisdiction of juvenile court are not let off with a reprimand, or even a note to their parents. They go to a school conducted by the cops, have to complete a set of homework and get their driving privileges back only if they pass their final test.

★ ★ ★

And Oak Park, Illinois, has added a gimmick to its high school driver training course which makes sense. Parents have to go to class along with the students, and sign an agreement to supervise eight hours of practice in the family car. When the course is finished both the youngster and the parent know what is required of the safe driver.

★ ★ ★

There's no one answer to traffic safety. It's still a matter of keeping everlastingly at it, and new ideas all deserve a test. Each one that works in communities venturesome enough to try them will add one more weapon in the arsenal of safety.

Do It Ourselves Council

The patriarch of American merchants, J. C. Penney, is recovering from a brief illness incurred when he left his Florida home for a trip to Washington. The trip was to announce formation of the National Council for Community Improvement, with headquarters in St. Louis, pledged to persuade communities to do improvement jobs themselves. The idea is to discourage running to Washington.

Mr. Penney is board chairman and Paul C. Stark is president of the Council. After eight years of pilot studies in picked cities the Council is going national, with the hope of organizing a branch in every State.

"We've been getting soft," Mr. Penney explained.

"One group can't do the job of getting communities to do things for themselves," Mr. Stark added. "So we have as members 60 organizations to get things done on a State and local basis. Among them are the General Federation of Women's Clubs and the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce."

★ ★ ★

The whole story of the Council is told in the "pledge of community responsibility" it asks members to sign. It reads:

"I believe that the strength of America is in the people; that the communities of our Nation are the foundation of our National life.

"I believe that a sense of individual responsibility and cooperation among organizations is fundamental to the improvement of the Nation's communities as a main source of National vitality.

"I pledge, therefore, that I will take an active interest in the problems of my community; that I will encourage the fullest use of local resources and efforts in all aspects of community affairs."

★ ★ ★

Every American can sign, and help carry out, that pledge.

Children and Fires

Summer is the season when more outdoor fires are built. Leaves and rubbish are burned. Fires are built in back yards and at beaches.

★ ★ ★

Fires interest children. There is motion and excitement and mystery about a blaze which completely enthralls a youngster.

★ ★ ★

For that reason parents need to be especially watchful where fires are concerned. Every young person should be warned, seriously and repeatedly, about the danger of fire. Everyone should be told what to do in case a child's clothes catch fire.

Just to know where your child is at all times may be important. Summer is the season when schools are out and children have much more leisure time.

When time hangs heavily on young people's hands, they look for interesting experiments and pastimes. Starting a fire, or playing with one if one happens to be handy, may seem intriguing at such a moment.

★ ★ ★

No Sentiment for Admitting Red China to United Nations

Daffynition

Shirt: What you won't lose if you keep your sleeves rolled up.

Polls taken in some of the larger cities show that a few people favor Red China's entry into the United Nations. But such is not the case in Pontiac. Interviews with 50 people, picked at random, does not reveal even one who now favors it. A few said, "Possibly, if China mends its ways," or words to that effect. Nobody was non-committal. The poll was taken in the court house, city hall, court house annex, bank lobbies and among pedestrians on Saginaw St.

George Richman Suggests Parking Slugs; Says City Could Sell Them to Merchants

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

We hear a lot about people putting slugs into the city's parking meters. Why doesn't the city make slugs that would fit the meters and sell them to Pontiac merchants?

I believe many merchants would be glad to buy such slugs and give them to their customers. Then any person patronizing such a store would know his parking fee would be provided by the store.

The parking slug could be given the customer when he made his purchase. No merchant would have to buy these slugs, but those could do so who wished to buy them.

The cost of the slugs and the cost of changing the meters, if any change had to be made to accommodate them, could be met by charging six cents or even seven cents for the slugs.

Reduce Greyhound Speed Urges Mary L. Johnson

I am an average wife and mother who travels the Dixie highway. Accidents happen and for awhile they disturb people but no one ever does anything about them.

Well, I am mighty discouraged with the Sheriff's Department, the police of Pontiac and our own township police, including the State Police, for the manner and speed with which they allow the Greyhound buses to travel. In all my years of riding and driving I have never seen a bus getting a ticket. Are they an exception to the rule?

Recently, my husband, myself and our two oldest children were traveling to Flint and it was raining so hard we could hardly see the road. We were traveling very carefully and on three different occasions a Greyhound passed us like a man from Mars.

Now we have had an accident in our own county killing a small boy and seriously injuring his mother. If the bus driver was driving 30 miles an hour would this have happened?

I know the drivers have schedules to meet but is it necessary to meet them at the price of a youngster's life. What can we do to stop the speed with which the buses travel?

Case Records of a Psychologist

Dad, Don't Worship Money So Excessively That You Haven't Time for Your Child

Ronnie is unhappy because his Daddy worships a Golden Calf and thus hasn't time to be a pal and athletic teacher for the boy. You Dads must take care lest you, too, are a slave to $$$$. You readers already have almost every advantage that millionaires enjoy, so study this Case Record and get a new perspective.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case L-357: Ronnie D., aged 11, was standing shyly on the sidelines at a ball game.

"Why don't you go out and play with the other kids?" I asked.

"They don't want me," he ruefully confessed, "cause they call me 'butter fingers.' I drop the ball.

"But how will I ever learn how to be a good player, Dr. Crane, unless somebody will play with me?

"I don't have any brothers or sisters at home and my Daddy says he is too busy and for me to run along and play with the kids.

"But the kids don't pick me when they choose up teams. So what can I do?" and he looked at me wistfully.

Later that night I casually talked to Ronnie's Daddy about the situation. He explained that he was working hard to get ahead in his company and didn't feel he had time for Ronnie.

"Besides, that's why I contribute to the YMCA and the Boy Scouts," he laughed.

But I explained that you can't hire substitutes for parents, at least with a $10 contribution.

A good Dad should have given Ronnie a couple of brothers and sisters within a year or two of his age, so he could have had playmates in his own home.

If that were medically impossible, then encourage him to bring playmates home. And teach him to be reasonably proficient with ball and bat and other kid games.

If you Dads launch them adequately in their social and athletic careers, they will not need your participation so much when they get to Boy Scout age. But if you fail your youngsters, they will probably be athletic wallflowers all through high school.

And never worship a Golden Calf! Don't spoil your home life by excessive concern over $$$.

If you are an average American worker, you already have almost everything a millionaire enjoys, and I'm not joking.

You eat 3 meals per day, but that's all he craves.

You wear only one suit or one pair of shoes at a time, and he can do no more.

Both of you read this newspaper, and eat bread from the same bakery. You drink the same pasturized milk. You get water from the same city supply.

You travel in an auto and so does he. Maybe he spends more for his, but it doesn't go any faster or any more safely.

So why destroy your homelife and alienate your children by madly worshipping a Golden Calf?

True the millionaire isn't forced to get up and go to work each week day. But most millionaires do! And work is the best health insurance we have, so actually you are better off by needing to work each day.

Father's Day shouldn't be limited just to a Sunday in June. It should be 365 days in the year. But so should Son's Day for Ronnie.

A good father must pay a certain price in time and energy, training his kids. However, it is only for a few years because after the age of 12, they usually shift to their pals.

But until 12, teach them to swim and to ride a bicycle and to administer first aid and how to study and to attend church or Sunday school faithfully.

Encourage them to earn their own money, as by carrying a newspaper route.

And don't bawl them out unduly. Mix at least an equal dose of compliments with your scoldings. By all means, let them know you love them.

And to help raise your parental batting averages, send for my 200-point "Rating Scales for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus a dime.

It may be that the good and the wicked get their deserts in this world. It don't seem true if we're poor, but maybe we ain't quite as good as we think we are.

David Lawrence Says:

Cold War Now Standing at Fork in the Highway

WASHINGTON — The Moscow and Peiping governments have been given a chance to demonstrate whether they believe in "peaceful co-existence" or unabated aggression.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles went to Paris to find out whether there is any chance for a real negotiation to end the Indo-China war. If there is, he will return to Washington this week and send Under Secretary Walter Bedell Smith to carry on at Paris or Geneva.

If there is no chance, Dulles will, when he comes back here in a few days, explain the situation to the American people. Then the United States will disassociate itself from any settlement that appears to be heading toward an abandonment of the opportunities of the three associated states of Indochina to realize their hopes for freedom from Communist domination.

Any idea that the whole Indochina problem is going to be solved either at Paris or Geneva in time for the July 20 deadline set by Premier Mendes - France can be dismissed now. For unquestionably, if there is any tangible hope for an agrement, it will take many weeks to iron it out.

Thus the French premier is expected to resign next Tuesday, but President Coty will not accept the resignation and will ask Mendes-France to continue on for a while at the head of the government. The French parliament undoubtedly will grant the extension of time.

If the situation looks hopeful, the negotiations at Geneva may take at least three or four weks.

Memories of Panmunjom, where the Korean armistice was negotiated during several months, make that estimate a bit optimistic but the pressure on both sides for a settlement is greater in this instance.

It all depends on how far Moscow and Peiping are willing to go to exploit a new position they may assume as peace-makers. It's a rare opportunity for their propaganda, and, if they really want "peaceful co-existence," the Indochina War offers a constructive opportunity to show their good faith.

There are some folks in the world who naively believe the Indochina War is just a natural movement by the people there to gain independence and that the rebels are merely persons who have embraced communism as a political philosophy. The evidence shows clearly that Red China has been guilty of aggression in neighboring countries.

Here are the words of Secretary Dulles bearing on this point, taken from a confidential session with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee of just a few weeks ago, as officially released now by the Senate for publication:

"The situation in Indochina is fraught with danger, not only to the immediate area, but to the security of the United States and its allies in the Pacific area. That area is one which is vital to the peace and safety of the United States.

"Communist China has been supplying to the Viet Minh an ever increasing volume of munitions and military supplies. There is also evidence that Soviet arms have been supplied in increasing quantities to Communist forces in Indochina.

"In their classic manner the Communists have sought to capitalize on local aspriations for independence, and have used these aspriations to gain control of a movement which was primarily nationalistic in its inception.

"The rulers of Communist China train and equip in China the troops of their puppet, Ho Chi-minh. They supply these troops with large amounts of artillery and ammunition made in Soviet bloc countries. They supply military and technical guidance in the staff section of Ho Chi-minh's command, at the division level, and in specialized units such as the signal and engineering corps, artillery units, and transportation.

"The plan is not only to take over Indochina but to dominate all of Southeast Asia. The struggle thus carries a grave threat not only to Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia but also to such friendly neighboring countries as Thailand, Malaya, Burma, Indonesia, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand."

The secretary advocated the grant of flexible authority to use the current appropriations for whatever may be needed in any new situation that arises in Southeast Asia. If there is a cease - fire and an armistice, it is likely that military support will be built up behind the lines to guarantee that the settlement will not be violated. America will help to finance this just as is the case in supporting the Korean armistice line.

Once a cease-fire is attained in Indochina, the military stalemate there will resemble the one in Korea, but the free world will wait now to see if there is any sincere desire by the Communists to set up such a line at all and end the aggression or whether for a while it will merely relieve the Communists' mischief - making strategists from duties in Southeast Asia and turn all such energies toward fomenting more trouble in Tunisia and Morocco. The "cold war" has reached a significant stage.

When Winsome Churchill goes super-marketing the world is his basket.

We don't know what he's after until we miss it.

When he arrives we roll out the coast - to - coast plush carpeting. When he leaves we rush up and count the Great Lakes.

In return Winnicker usually leaves us some great apothegm to show he was here. We all remember, "We shall fight on the streets, on the housetops, in the hills and possibly with the wife's mother."

He gave us the Iron Curtain and numerous biting stencils. But this time Winnie blew an oratorical gasket. Nothing.

Nothing unless you accept, "It is better to jaw-jaw than to war-war." Either Winnie thinks he is the two-headed boy, he is stuttering or he is getting paid by the word.

Winsome this time you have let us down like a well-digger's lunch.

This repetition of words is called jabbinosis and is common to croupiers, street car conductors and nurseries. We are afraid the tide has turned and Winnie is starting to look like all the babies.

So far this double - dose of jaw-jaw hasn't worked so hot with the Veet-Veets or the Mau-Maus.

Dr. Brady Cites Again His Firm Belief That B Complex Is Poor Man's Insulin

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

"Several years ago, during my periodic health examination, my doctor told me I had a "suspicion of sugar" and that I had better be watchful of my diet. He said he should examine specimens at intervals."

"The doctor even sent me to the laboratory for a blood sugar test, which proved to be normal. Since then I have tried to be moderate in eating sweets and starches."

(This is a good place to interpose a suggestion, not just for the correspondent but for every one who may be training for diabetes: The suggestion is simple enough—no dessert.

After all, it is just a bad habit stuffing oneself with sweets after a square meal. This does not apply to growing children who play as hard as normal children should or to athletes.

If you wonder what training for diabetes means, send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for Little Lesson 23, Training for Diabetes.)

* * *

"One day six years ago you explained why vitamin B complex is especially good for people in my situation. I rushed to the phone and told my doctor about it.

He said 'Yes, you have been reading Dr. Brady's column. That is very good advice. I'll call your druggist and tell him to give you B complex'."

"I have taken a tablet after each meal ever since, as you recommend in your booklet. Each time I send a specimen of urine for examination I am told it is clear. Last week I had my annual examination and in talking about you I said how glad I was that I had read that particular column, and my doctor said:

'Dr. Brady is all right. Lots of doctors disagree with things he writes, but I don't. He's a good, old-fashioned doctor'."

(That's like the comment of the Minnesota Medical Journal editor. Deploring my teaching about the tonsillectomy atrocity he conceded that "Brady is right half the time." I don't know whether to bat my eyes or grit my teeth.)

One physiological function of B complex, particularly thiamin (B-1) and riboflavin (B-2) is to promote good metabolism of carbohydrate (starch and sugar).

Upon this physiological function and reports from many diabetics who have found they required less insulin when they take an optimal daily ration of vitamin B complex, I base my belief that vitamin B complex is "poor man's insulin."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Leprosy Control Work Advances

Sulfone Drugs Arrest Disease but No Cure Found Yet

WASHINGTON (UP) — Leprosy, ancient scourge of man, is finally being controlled by modern medicine.

While there still is no known cure for the disease, the Leonard Wood Memorial for the eradication of leprosy reports that drugs of the sulfone group have proved most effective in "arresting" cases.

Progress in checking the disease has been furthered in recent years by increased interest on the part of governments of countries throughout the world where leprosy occurs, the organization reported.

Its president, Perry Burgess, said these governments are aiding in the construction of clinics and in establishing colonies for segregation of active cases.

Burgess and his wife recently returned from a six-month world tour during which they traveled 30,000 miles inspecting leper colonies. The memorial estimates there are between 3,000,000 and 5,000,000 persons afflicted with leprosy in the world today.

Burgess found that interest in stamping out the disease had increased particularly in Burma, Thailand and India, where the number of persons with leprosy has doubled in the past 20 years.

Leprosy is most prevalent in tropical and sub-tropical regions — Africa, India, China, southeastern Asia, and certain parts of Central and South America.

In India, where the Burgesses were guests of the government, they visited leper colonies and made recommendations for the treatment of 400,000 Indians afflicted with the disease. Here Burgess found inadequate hospital facilities and suggested instruction in preventive hygiene and home treatment.

One of the chief problems in control of leprosy is protecting children who are more susceptible than adults. In Brazil, Burgess reported, there are 37 leper colonies. Children born to parents in leprosariums are transferred at birth to special institutuons to be reared without contact with the disease.

Burgess said one of the most striking changes in recent years is the absence of unsightly cases. He attributes this to the effect of the sulfone drugs which have done much to control disfiguration.

Korea to Defend Islet Against Jap Trespassers

SEOUL (UP) — A stony outcropping in the Japan sea which admittedly is not normally habitable will be defended against "trespassing" of Japanese fishermen by a 20-man Korean garrison force, according to South Korean police.

The islet — Tokto the Koreans, Takeshima to the Japanese — is in the center of a fishing area. Both Japan and Korea claim the islet which lacks drinking water among other things.

Democrat Tells Tricks of Political Engineering

WATERVILLE, Me. (UP) — A Democratic candidate for governor in the dominantly Republican state of Maine has told party workers how he acts when he goes into a town where he is not known.

"No matter how good the food is at the restaurant where I eat, I complain about it," explained Attorney Edmund S. Muskie.

"No matter how good the service is, I find fault with it. And as I depart without leaving a tip, I tell the waitress, 'Don't forget, vote Republican.'"

Gold was first discovered in quantity in Australia during 1851.

Child Is Born at Self-Service Gasoline Station

HERMOSA BEACH, Calif. (UP) — When Mrs. Daniel Baker realized her husband couldn't reach the hospital in time, she ordered him to stop their car.

That is why Anna Danette Baker entered the world yesterday at a serve-yourself gasoline station.

Her parents, sheriff's deputies and station attendants who helped with the delivery are recovering. Anna Danette, who weighed in at 7 pounds 3 ounces, is doing fine. She's in a hospital maternity ward now.

Penny newspapers made their appearance in the 1830s.

Taxidermist Needs Year for Whale-Stuffing Job

TOKYO (UP) — It was a whale of a job for a year, but who wants another whale stuffed?

Fifteen strong men carried off the year's work of a Tokyo taxidermist, a stuffed 30-foot whale weighing almost a ton, to a berth in a whaling museum here.

THE DRIVER LIVED—A Cincinnati attorney was pulled alive from his small foreign make auto, after being trapped in the vehicle for 45 minutes when a loaded fruit truck overturned on the machine on Cincinnati's busy Reading Road. The attorney, William Hauer, 27, was taken to a hospital where his condition was described as fair.

Sweden Builds Big Underground Installations

STOCKHOLM (UP) — Stockholm has started a large - scale air raid shelter construction program.

The largest shelter built so far is being constructed in connection with the last stage of the city underground system in downtown Stockholm. It will be completed next year and will have a capacity of 20,000 people. Work on another for 10,000 began this year. Both are blasted deep in solid rock.

Sweden started going underground early in World War II when shelters strong enough to withstand the strength of the heaviest conventional bombs were constructed for more than 1,000,000 of Sweden's 7,000,000 inhabitants.

At the same time, the air force blasted its way into mountain sides close to the military airfields, and the navy was reported to have constructed at least one giant underground pier. Scores of important war-time industries have constructed huge underground factories.

The air force has advanced its program most. A recent short movie about the life and a jet fighter pilot proved that underground-stored fighters are airborne less than a minute after the concrete underground hangar doors are opened.

The civil defense, with less money at its disposal, has been forced to work slower. With the terrific power of the H-bomb revealed, a modification of construction plans seems unavoidable. More than a tenth of Sweden's population is enrolled in the civil defense.

Only 35 pounds of a 1,000-pound steer are the "fancy" porterhouse, T-bone and club steaks. Only 450 pounds can be utilized as retail cuts.

Seek New Markets for Quarry Slate

ALFRED, N. Y. (UP) — Slate quarry operators will have new markets available to them if experiments of the Alfred University Research Department are successful.

Work is under way to discover a practical method of expanding slate. Such bulky filler could be used in place of cinders in mixing cement and concrete and for insulation. Donald Dickens, head of the project, said the "bloating" is being done through kiln firing.

New York's commerce department asked the university to undertake the project when it was realized a substitute was needed for cinders in fill and that northern New York quarries were seeking new markets.

Shots Only Encouraged Him to Keep Running

DETROIT (UP)—Police accused John M. Hart, 17, of jumping out of his car and running when officers stopped him for speeding.

Hart surrendered eight days later and was fined $75 on a speeding charge.

"The policeman threatened to lock me up, so I just took off," the youth told the judge. "I wanted to surrender after the first shot, but every time I slowed down he'd fire another shot."

New York City has almost 45,000 elevators, including 30,000 passenger lifts. Each day approximately 18,000,000 rides carry passengers a total of 125,000 miles.

Canadian Town Gets Female Veterinarian

SASKATOON, Canada (UP)—Dr. Gisela Seer leads a dog's life, but the sick canines at the Saskatoon Animal Hospital love it, and so does Dr. Seer.

The slim veterinarian describes herself as a city girl who developed a love for animals and a desire to help them from holidays on her grandparents' farm.

She came from Germany three months ago, where she says women veterinarians are quite common.

Dr. Seer has a degree from the University of West Berlin, but she is studying to write provincial examinations here. She's most interested in the number of cocker spaniels and Labradors she has seen in Saskatoon.

She says the dogs and cats in this country are stronger and less excitable than those in Germany.

Sailors Fail to Cement Relations With Truck

HIGHLAND PARK, Ill. (UP) — A couple of sailors from Great Lakes Naval Training Base were driving a ready-mix concrete truck when police caught up with them.

Owners of the truck refused to press charges, and the 21-year-old seamen apprentices were turned over to Naval authorities.

Pill-Testing Contraption Gives Stomach Reactions

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP) — The world's champion pill - gulper bears the unlikely name of Duncan de Dunker.

That's what laboratory workers at the Arner Co. here call a mechanical device reproducing what happens when pills and tablets dissolve in the stomach or intestines.

The machine, in a controlled dipping action, conducts 18 tests simultaneously in water or synthetic gastric or pancreatic juices. These liquids are thermostatically controlled to body temperature, or 98.6 degrees F.

Father of Five Killed in Bus-Car Collision

DETROIT (INS) — The father of five children was killed and his wife critically injured in Detroit yesterday when their car was rammed boadside by a Greyhound bus at Gratiot and East Outer Drive.

Five of the six witnesses to the accident told police the bus ran a red light before striking the auto and hurtling Chester Cichowski, 52, and his wife, Clara, 46, to the pavement.

Nine of the 18 passengers on the chartered bus, badly jolted by the crash, were released from Receiving Hospital after first aid treatment.

1-Man Phone Company Doubles Its Service

SPENCER, Ohio (UP) — Kent D. Firestone is a one-man utility. He owns, operates and maintains the Spencer Telephone Co.

The 48 - year - old Firestone acquired the company, which was founded in 1904, in 1930 when it had 200 customers. Now he has 400. He converted to the dial system in 1934 and claims it was "the first small independent company to be converted to the dial system."

Beside handling all paper work, Firestone must maintain 158 miles of wire and 34 miles of pole line.

He's never been able to free himself from the 24-hour commitments of being a utility executive long enough to take a vacation, but he hopes to do so once he finishes helping convert a similar nearby system to dial. He's doing that in his spare time.

Bees by Mail Popular With New Jerseyites

TRENTON, N. J. (UP) — Packaged bees are best sellers in New Jersey.

Paul L. Holcombe, bee culture supervisor of the state department of agriculture, said they were extremely popular with beekeepers and hobbyists.

The packages, sold in a variety of sizes and combinations, come complete with directions for installation. The bees are shipped by mail in a small, wire-covered box with or without a queen.

Most popular size is a three-pound package with a queen and enough workers to start a new colony.

Army Creates Enemy Force

Adds Note of Realism With Distinctive Tactics to Train Troops

WASHINGTON (UP) — Realism is a necessary part of training a new recruit into a hard-fighting soldier, but enemies can't be brought into training camps for realism.

So the Army has devised its own method of realism in the form of "aggressor" forces consisting of well-trained American soldiers in distinctive green uniforms and crested helmets. These aggressor forces are known as the "Circle-Trigon" army.

In maneuvers, the "aggressor" army plays the role of a sparring partner, thus giving the spirit of competition and lending realism to the battlefields. The aggressor force even has a fictional general staff, war office, and high-ranking officer complement.

"Enemy" troops that happen to be captured during the exercises have maps, credentials, messages and other information which contain important information and "enemy" intentions. Circle-Trigon troops even speak foreign languages and plant spies in U. S. forces to check security measures.

Prior to 1946, forces participating in maneuvers were divided into two sections. However, this did not prepare the soldiers for combat with an enemy that used foreign tactics, spoke a different language, and wore strange uniforms.

The aggressor force has been given a fictional history to lend realism to training. It is assumed that after World War II some of the defeated nations banded together under a dictatorship to form the "Circle-Trigon" party.

It is assumed that this force pushed occupying forces out of Europe and made landings in California, Alaska, the St. Lawrence waterway, Panama and the Caribbean.

From this point training maneuvers and exercises have been developed by the Army to train the American soldier for real combat.

WARRIOR'S GRIEF—Maria Trinidad Cruz, the only woman soldier in the liberation army of Col. Carlos Castillo, kneels before the tomb of her husband in Guatemala City, Guatemala. A leader of the anti-Communist group, he was shot to death by a firing squad of the ousted regime.

Head-on Crash Kills Detroiter, 3 Others

GRAND MOUND, Iowa (UP)—Four persons, including a Detroit woman, were killed instantly Tuesday in a head-on crash on U. S. 30 a mile west of here.

The victims were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Dominico Marchione, both about 60, Reseda, Calif.; Mrs. Rose Brincic, Detroit, a passenger in the Marchione car, and Burton Grage, 34, Calamus, Iowa, driver of the other car.

Pontiac Resident Bound to County Circuit Court

Joseph D. Johnson, 18, of 293 South Blvd.; charged with nighttime breaking and entering, waived examination and was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court Tuesday when he appeared before Pontiac Judge Cecil McCallum.

Returned to Oakland County Jail when unable to post a $1,000 bond, Johnson is scheduled to be arraigned at 9:30 a.m. Monday. He is accused of stealing $570, an $8 check and $19 worth of cigarettes from the Quality Drug Store, 94 Bagley St., Sunday night, according to Pontiac Police.

HAVE you been thinking you can't afford a new Buick? Listen:

If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick—and we boldly show our price here to prove it.

Look again, and you'll see that this is the local delivered price of the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan. Compare, and you'll learn that this price is just a few dollars away from those of the so-called "low-price three."

But—dig a little deeper if you want the real clincher. That's when you find that those few dollars more you pay for a Buick buy you a lot more automobile.

They buy a whale of a lot more power—Buick V8 power—plus the new economy of Power-Head combustion.

They buy a lot more luxury and comfort and solidity—more room, more glass area, more frame strength, more tread width, more ride steadiness—including the million dollar "feel" of all-coil springing and torque-tube stability.

They buy, too, the most advanced styling of the times, and the great panoramic windshield, and the surety that such fresh-looking beauty will stay in the style parade for seasons to come. (That means a better deal for you come resale time.)

And get this—That's the local delivered price of the New Buick Special V8

2-DOOR, 6-PASSENGER SEDAN Model 48D (illus.)

*Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges. All prices subject to change without notice. Even the factory-installed extras you may want are bargains, such as: heater & defroster . . . only $81.70.

Is it any wonder, then, that Buick now outsells all other cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three"?

Come in for a demonstration—this week, for sure. And learn, in the doing, what a big trade-in allowance our volume sales can bring you.

Mine Workers Are Ambushed

Nonunion Outfit Forced to Close as Employes Refuse to Work

PENNINGTON GAP, Va. (AP)—A nonunion coal mine near this community in the tip of southwest Virginia was closed down today after nine miners were ambushed yesterday as they prepared to go to work.

None of the miners was hurt at the C. R. Tomblinson mine about 11 miles north of here in Lee County. Tomblinson, the mine's owner, said "a dozen or more" men shot at his working force "for about 15 minutes."

* * *

He said he picked up "a pound of empty cartridges" after a fusillade of shots from a wooded area surrounding the small mine's entrance.

A man called him up yesterday, Tomblinson said, asking "if I were ready to sign up." The caller did not identify himself.

Tomblinson said he had worked under a United Mine Workers contract the past three years but canceled it April 19 "because we just couldn't make it paying union rates."

* * *

Lee County Sheriff W. P. Bays, venturing an opinion the attackers were bluffing, said his office investigated but made no arrests.

Tomblinson said his miners refused to work now and he would not reopen unless he "can get somebody to work it."

UMW officials were not available for comment.

Policeman Duffers Work, Play in Search for Gang

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Several Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) policemen have a choice assignment.

The cops, all golfers, will go out on the three county golf courses next week. They'll look like the average fellow trying to break par.

But they have orders not to worry too much about their scores. They've been ordered to keep on the lookout for an apparently well-organized gang of boys stealing golf balls.

Harpoons Swordfish While Lobster Fishing

BLOCK ISLAND, R.I. (AP) — Arthur B. Rose, a fisherman, wasn't equipped yesterday to land a 160-pound swordfish—but he did anyway.

He sighted the big fish while hauling lobster pots. He tied the end of his striking line to a stack of pots, had his partner, Edward Conley, tie him to the mast for safety's sake, and then proceeded to harpoon the swordfish.

Willow Run airport, serving metropolitan Detroit, is the only commercial field operated by a university, the University of Michigan, which acquired it from the Government after World War II as surplus property.

Libyan Prime Minister Confers in Washington

NEW YORK (AP) — Mustafa Ben Halim, 33-year-old Prime Minister of Libya, arrived yesterday for North African air base talks with U.S. officials in Washington.

The young Prime Minister said one subject to be discussed with American officials is making permanent a temporary agreement of 1951 which allows the United States to build air bases in Libya.

Hold 3 in Sabotage

BERLIN (AP) — A Communist court has opened a trial in Halle of six East German mining experts charged with attempted sabotage of production in copper mines.

Father of Five Killed in Bus-Car Collision

DETROIT (INS) — The father of five children was killed and his wife critically injured in Detroit yesterday when their car was rammed boadside by a Greyhound bus at Gratiot and East Outer Drive.

Five of the six witnesses to the accident told police the bus ran a red light before striking the auto and hurtling Chester Cichowski, 52, and his wife, Clara, 46, to the pavement.

Nine of the 18 passengers on the chartered bus, badly jolted by the crash, were released from Receiving Hospital after first aid treatment.

1-Man Phone Company Doubles Its Service

SPENCER, Ohio (UP) — Kent D. Firestone is a one-man utility. He owns, operates and maintains the Spencer Telephone Co.

The 48 - year - old Firestone acquired the company, which was founded in 1904, in 1930 when it had 200 customers. Now he has 400. He converted to the dial system in 1934 and claims it was "the first small independent company to be converted to the dial system."

Beside handling all paper work, Firestone must maintain 158 miles of wire and 34 miles of pole line.

He's never been able to free himself from the 24-hour commitments of being a utility executive long enough to take a vacation, but he hopes to do so once he finishes helping convert a similar nearby system to dial. He's doing that in his spare time.

Bees by Mail Popular With New Jerseyites

TRENTON, N. J. (UP) — Packaged bees are best sellers in New Jersey.

Paul L. Holcombe, bee culture supervisor of the state department of agriculture, said they were extremely popular with beekeepers and hobbyists.

The packages, sold in a variety of sizes and combinations, come complete with directions for installation. The bees are shipped by mail in a small, wire-covered box with or without a queen.

Most popular size is a three-pound package with a queen and enough workers to start a new colony.

Army Creates Enemy Force

Adds Note of Realism With Distinctive Tactics to Train Troops

WASHINGTON (UP) — Realism is a necessary part of training a new recruit into a hard-fighting soldier, but enemies can't be brought into training camps for realism.

So the Army has devised its own method of realism in the form of "aggressor" forces consisting of well-trained American soldiers in distinctive green uniforms and crested helmets. These aggressor forces are known as the "Circle-Trigon" army.

In maneuvers, the "aggressor" army plays the role of a sparring partner, thus giving the spirit of competition and lending realism to the battlefields. The aggressor force even has a fictional general staff, war office, and high-ranking officer complement.

"Enemy" troops that happen to be captured during the exercises have maps, credentials, messages and other information which contain important information and "enemy" intentions. Circle-Trigon troops even speak foreign languages and plant spies in U. S. forces to check security measures.

Prior to 1946, forces participating in maneuvers were divided into two sections. However, this did not prepare the soldiers for combat with an enemy that used foreign tactics, spoke a different language, and wore strange uniforms.

The aggressor force has been given a fictional history to lend realism to training. It is assumed that after World War II some of the defeated nations banded together under a dictatorship to form the "Circle-Trigon" party.

It is assumed that this force pushed occupying forces out of Europe and made landings in California, Alaska, the St. Lawrence waterway, Panama and the Caribbean.

From this point training maneuvers and exercises have been developed by the Army to train the American soldier for real combat.

WARRIOR'S GRIEF—Maria Trinidad Cruz, the only woman soldier in the liberation army of Col. Carlos Castillo, kneels before the tomb of her husband in Guatemala City, Guatemala. A leader of the anti-Communist group, he was shot to death by a firing squad of the ousted regime.

Head-on Crash Kills Detroiter, 3 Others

GRAND MOUND, Iowa (UP)—Four persons, including a Detroit woman, were killed instantly Tuesday in a head-on crash on U. S. 30 a mile west of here.

The victims were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Dominico Marchione, both about 60, Reseda, Calif.; Mrs. Rose Brincic, Detroit, a passenger in the Marchione car, and Burton Grage, 34, Calamus, Iowa, driver of the other car.

Pontiac Resident Bound to County Circuit Court

Joseph D. Johnson, 18, of 293 South Blvd., charged with nighttime breaking and entering, waived examination and was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court Tuesday when he appeared before Pontiac Judge Cecil McCallum.

Returned to Oakland County Jail when unable to post a $1,000 bond, Johnson is scheduled to be arraigned at 9:30 a.m. Monday. He is accused of stealing $570, an $8 check and $19 worth of cigarettes from the Quality Drug Store, 94 Bagley St., Sunday night, according to Pontiac Police.

Bob Considine Says:

Heart Research Programs Make Impressive Progress

NEW YORK (INS) — New York cab drivers are, by and large, the best in the world. But one of them shot through a red light at 40 or 50 m.p.h. the other day. The cab I was in, driven by a man named Seymour Stern, stopped on a dime, throwing us both forward. But the stop enabled the speeding cab to miss us by inches.

"A bum like that could give you heart trouble," observed Mr. Stern, and when my own ticker slowed down enough, I agreed.

By coincidence, there was waiting for me at the office an impressive brochure on research progress in heart diseases, as reported by the National Heart Institute. The findings are impressive. To wit:

Hypertensive heart disease (high blood pressure) affects 4,500,000 Americans, causes more than 13 per cent of the 775,000 deaths each year from heart troubles. Some 165,000 young men were rejected from military service during World War II because of hypertension. That's the problem. As for the progress:

A substance from the root of the Indian snakewood plant, rauwolfia serpentinia, manufactured under various trade names, has been found to be effective in reducing high blood pressure without distressing side effects often caused by other drugs.

Also, rhododendron leaves have yielded a new compound which lowers blood pressure. High blood pressure in elderly victims may be relieved by a new synthetic drug, I-Hydrazinophthalazine, the creation of Dr. Nicholas S. Assali, University of Cincinnati College of Medicine.

The big killer, arteriosclerotic heart disease, causes more than half of all deaths from heart disease, causes nine out of 10 heart attacks, and killed more Americans last year than any other single disease (about 350,000.) The progress:

Drs. C. B. Anfinsen, R. K. Brown, Edwin Boyle, and J. H. Bragdon, of the National Heart Institute, Bethesda, Md., have come up with a chemical "clearing factor" system which converts to normal forms the abnormal giant molecules commonly found in the blood of persons with arteriosclerosis. Their drug, heparin, looks more useful than before.

Rheumatic heart disease is a leading killer and crippler of the young. Dr. Charles H. Rammelkamp, Cleveland, states: "The possibility of heart-damaging rheumatic fever can be prevented by a single shot of a new long-lasting form of penicillin given whenever a child has a strep sore throat." Cortisone, ACTH, and improved diets have been brought to bear in this field, as well as surgery on the mitral valve.

Heart research, and research in general, pays better than a good longshot. It is estimated that in the past ten years the lives of more than 1,000,000 persons who would normally have died have been saved by research and development. They pay about 300 million dollars in federal income taxes annually!

First foreign salute to American sovereignty was fired in 1776 by the tiny Dutch colony of St. Eustatius in the West Indies.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . . .

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

U. of M. Librarian Dies in Canada

CHATHAM, Ont. (AP) — Miss Hilda Margaret Rankin, 61, librarian of the school of dentistry at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor since 1939, died today.

Miss Rankin, born in Chatham, has been living recently at Highbank, a summer resort on Lake Erie about 17 miles south of here.

She was the sister of R. J. Rankin, president of the Canadian Press and managing editor of the Halifax Chronicle - Herald.

Under her direction, the dental library at the University of Michigan became one of the outstanding dental collections in the United States.

Ferguson Votes Yes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) Tuesday voted in favor of an amendment that sought a 40 per cent increase in the nation-wide scale of unemployment benefits. The Senate defeated the amendment 56-30. Sen. Potter (R-Mich) was not listed as voting.

DRAMATIC DUO — Sparkling young Elizabeth Montgomery and versatile John Newland are more or less the stars of TV's Robert Montgomery Presents summer theater series. The duo has appeared many times in Montgomery productions, their roles varying weekly from minor parts to leads. The young couple was seen recently in The Decision.

Eddie Finds 'Lost' Wife as Detroit Shows Its Heart

DETROIT (UP) — A confused man today offered thanks "from the bottom of my heart" to a big city that proved it had a heart, too.

Police, newspapers, radio stations and just plain citizens all pitched in to help Eddie Tuxford, 67, find the rented room in sprawling Detroit where he had "lost" his 65-year-old invalid wife, Amanda, last Thursday.

Eddie got a scolding from Amanda when he finally showed up at the room Tuesday.

"Go away, you bad man," she told him.

But then Amanda cried and Eddie explained he had walked for miles trying to find his way back, and the policeman who drove Eddie to Amanda turned away.

The couple arrived here from Grand Rapids last Thursday. A cab driver took them to a rooming house. Eddie paid $8 for a week's rent and then went on downtown on a streetcar to pick up their baggage at the bus station.

He forgot the address of the rooming house and the long search began — as Amanda awaited his return in mounting fear.

Eddie tried every street off Michigan avenue for almost three miles from downtown. He finally went to the police.

Meanwhile, Amanda's landlord, William Allen, looked after her as best he could but called police himself Monday. Officers checked but decided it wasn't the right house.

Allen called again Tuesday, after hearing reports on the radio and reading front-page stories in local newspapers.

This time, Eddie went along with the police.

"It was worth all the driving around," said one officer as the two were reunited. Eddie said it was the first time they had been separated in 40 years.

Couple on Superior Missing Fourth Day

SAULT STE MARIE, Ont. (AP) — An intensive air search has failed to locate Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ginther of Grand Rapids, Mich., missing since Sunday in Lake Superior, 125 miles north of the Soo.

Provincial authorities centered their search between the Montreal River harbor and Montreal Island. The couple had set out for their summer home on the island in a 12-foot aluminum motorboat.

Police, called when Ginther, 47, and his 38-year-old wife, Edith, failed to arrive at the island, said that a strong wind blew up shortly after the couple began their voyage. They had 17 gallons of reserve gasoline.

Thre other members of the Ginther family where scheduled to make the trip but changed their minds at the last minute.

"Bhinneka Tunggal Ika" is the motto of the young republic of Indonesia. Literally, it means "Many Remian One."

Coast Guard Boat Joins Huron Grappling Job; Four Still Missing

DE TOUR (AP) — Drummond Twp. Supervisor Buster Bailey said another attempt will be made today to raise the 15-foot metal boat that capsized and drowned five persons on a holiday outing July 5. One one body has been recovered.

The boat was located Monday in 45 feet of water 60 feet off Scammon's Point on the southern shore of nearby Drummond Island.

* * *

A Coast Guard boat from Mackinac Island joined Tuesday in the attempt to raise the boat. A group of men from Drummond Island led by Bailey has been attempting to recover the bodies.

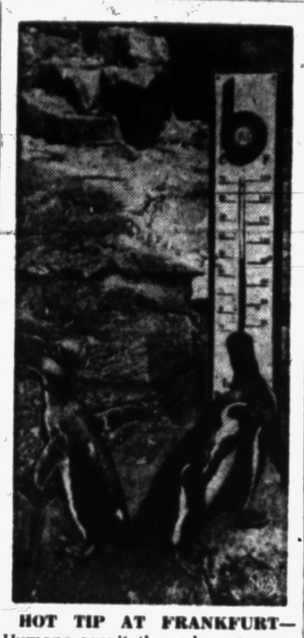

The boat was lifted almost to the surface four times Tuesday but rough weather caused the grappling hooks to slip or the one-inch rope lines to break. Heavier lines will be used if weather permits grappling operations today.

A yellow colored object was spotted in the boat, Bailey said one of the victims, Larry Onnela, 6, was reported to have had on a yellow life jacket.

The body of George mick, 61, of Dearborn was recovered a week ago near the shore. Those still missing are George Onnela, 52, Drummond Island resort operator; his brother, Roy, 40, Oak Park, Mich., and his two children, Betty, 13, and Larry, 6.

State Fights Road Trash

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Virginian highway department is spending about $500,000 a year cleaning up the beer cans, bottles, garbage and trash thrown from cars. Citizens are forming anti-litterbugging societies to combat the nuisance.

HOT TIP AT FRANKFURT— Humans aren't the only ones concerned with the hot weather. Here, one penguin studies the rising temperature on a large thermometer while his pal is making tracks for the beach to beat the heat, in Frankfurt, Germany.

The first coins of nickel were issued by Switzerland for use in 1881.

Urge Better School Use of Playgrounds

PASADENA, Calif. (UP) — A civic-minded architect proposes that playgrounds of the nation's schools be turned into year-round recreation areas as a major move to combat juvenile delinquency.

The architect, Wayne R. Williams, believes that many communities fail to take full advantage of recreational facilities "right under their noses," and that such facilities should be redesigned to be more attractive to youth.

"When playground blacktop is removed, for example, and replaced by landscaped features — I call this 'earth sculpture' — the area draws more juveniles," he said. "And it may not cost less eventually as the area may come under partial jurisdiction of a park department."

Williams, facilities chairman of the Youth Services Division of the Pasadena Welfare Council, said taxpayer dollars are lost when facilities are not utilized fully. He advocates conversion of present facilities and incorporation of landscaping in future planning.

There is plenty of parking space in Indonesia. The huge southeastern Asia republic is one-fourth as large as the United States, with more than 35,000 miles of hard-surfaced roads.

Senate Facing Power Debate

Issue May Delay Ike's Broad New A-Energy Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Anderson (D-NM) said today a long Senate look at a proposed government contract to buy electric power in the TVA area may delay President Eisenhower's broad new atomic energy program.

A controversy has been raging in Congress over the President's directive to the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) to negotiate a contract for construction of a new private power plant to serve the Memphis, Tenn., area over Tennessee Valley Authority lines.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), administration floor leader for the 101-page Atomic Act revision bill, said the power issue promises to provide the main battle on a measure designed primarily to allow giving certain atomic information to allies and to permit private operation of nuclear facilities.

Hickenlooper said he also expects considerable debate on authority provided in the measure for the Defense Department to furnish allies with what he calls "sharply circumscribed" data on the "tactical employment of atomic weapons."

He told the Senate last night that the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, of which he is vice chairman, had provided "carefully stipulated safeguards" to withhold information on the "design and fabrication of the nuclear part of atomic weapons . . . (and) detailed engineering information on other sensitive parts of our weapons."

The United States, he said, still possesses "vast superiority in weapon power," although "traitors, spies" and captured German scientists have permitted the Russians "to make atomic weapons several years earlier than under their own independent efforts."

He said the United States also is ahead in the development of peacetime power from atomic energy.

He and Anderson said in separate interviews they did not expect the battle over the electric power issue to kill the entire bill, as some Democrats have predicted. Hickenlooper predicted the measure will pass the Senate after "considerable debate."

Heart Ailment Kills

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — William G. Robertson, 55, retired head of the U. S. Treasury alcohol tax unit in Western Michigan, died Tuesday in his Grand Rapids home of a heart ailment. He retired only last January.

HEIRESS? — Mrs. Grace Pike Davis holds the 1890-vintage dress which may be worth $420,000 to her. All she has to do is prove that she is the aunt of a Cincinnati, Ohio, woman lawyer who died June 21 without a will. Mrs. Davis says she is the woman shown in a picture found in the dead lawyer's home. The woman was wearing a dress similar to that shown above.

State Police Officer Promoted to Captain

EAST LANSING (AP) — Det. Lt. Edward C. Johnston, commanding officer of the newly - established State Police headquarters detective bureau, has been promoted to the rank of captain, Commissioner Joseph A. Childs said today.

Under a recent reorganization, the special investigation division, the security investigation squad and the racket squad were consolidated in one bureau. The bureau also includes the scientific crime laboratory.

Johnston joined the State Police in 1931 and has served at Marquette, Iron Mountain, Flint, Blissfield and Jackson as well as the East Lansing headquarters. He has five citations for meritorious service.

Nebraska Farmer Plants Rich Corn Field Crop

STELLA, Neb. (AP)—Farmer Herbert Walker stood watching the hot winds blow over his corn field and casually remarked that even if the crop did burn up there was money in the field.

He had plowed under his pocketbook, containing $87, while cultivating the crop.

Hal Boyle Says:

Industrial Designer Sees Fantastic Things for 1960

NEW YORK (AP)—If the world of today has you down, folks, just hold on—the world of tomorrow will be better.

A designing young man named Paul Wrablica, whose job is to help create new industrial products better geared to the needs of mankind, says that in 10 years our civilization will be more fun for everybody in the family—mama, papa, and all their litle two-legged tax deducts.

* * *

First, let us take up Wrablica's vista of joy for Dad a decade hence:

"The average man, because of greater production efficiency, will work only 30 hours a week—and for more pay than he gets now.

"This will give him longer weekends, more leisure to enjoy the hobbies he likes. And their cost will come down. Suppose he likes sailing. Motor boats and sailboats will be molded from a single piece of plastic, as the bodies of some cars are now.

"That long wearisome ride from his job in the city to his home in the suburbs won't take so long. He'll speed there in a fraction of the present time in a jet-propelled monorail train.

* * *

"Even the parking problem will be solved to some extent with smaller cars and more automatic multi-level garages."

The housewife will have it even better, if the view in Warblica's crystal ball is clear:

"Most homes will be air-conditioned the year around. This means less housework. There will be no danger of falling down stairs. There won't be many stairs. They will be replaced by elevators or inclined planes.

* * *

"The need for maids will practically disappear. The kitchen will become less important, because families will eat out more in restaurants that are truly homelike. There will be little formal entertaining in the home.

"Wives complain today about having to push or carry a heavy vacuum cleaner around. That won't be necessary at all. A woman will be able to plug a hose into an ordinary wall outlet and—zip—the dust will be sucked down into a disposal unit in the basement. Wives will have more and more time to spend caring for their children, going into politics or doing community work."

Wrablica is sure household gadgets of all kinds will be simpler, more durable, and less likely to need repairs.

* * *

And look what a pleasant life lies ahead for the kids in 1964—if he's right:

"Movies will be piped directly into the home.

"Toys will be designed better for a child's real needs, and they'll be safer. In fact, life in general will be safer because of better design.

"Television will be commonplace in the schools.

"The TV-telephone will be coming into general use."

Personally, I am not so sure about this TV-phone gadget. What businessman wants to look another businessman in the eye when he is quoting prices over the phone? Teen-agers, of course, will enjoy seeing each other in those long phone calls about their home work they make each evening.

* * *

But why pamper them? It's a mystery to grownups why any teenager can stand looking in a mirror, let alone look at another kid in the same age bracket. Most adults, remembering their own youth, are convinced that the kindest thing you can build for teen-agers is a cocoon in which they can hibernate until they're old enough to vote.

Wrablica, who teaches design at Pratt Institute, has another prediction that makes me even more unwary about his drafting board dreams of life in America in 10 years. It's about beds.

"You won't have to worry about electric blankets in the bed of the future," he said. "It'll have thermostatic controls built right into it. It'll have vibrating equipment—so you can lie in your own bed and enjoy a massage before jumping up to go to work."

* * *

Jump up and face work when a man can lie in a bed that will automatically keep his neuroses at the right temperature, and give him all the exercise he needs, too? It'll never happen.

Why, put a few beds like that in the nearest poorhouse — and who'd ever take a job, or get up and face life?

Tank Accident in Tokyo Kills Three U. S. Marines

TOKYO (AP) — One U.S. Marine was killed and three were injured yesterday when a tank plunged off a 15-foot embankment and burned at the 3rd Marine Division Camp Fuji tank range about 50 miles south of here, it was announced today. Names were withheld.

Port Huron to Go Easy on Low Water Supply

PORT HURON (AP) — City officials asked Port Huron householders to take it easy on the city's hardpressed water supply Tuesday. The water department says the hot weather and lawn sprinkling have put a drain on storage tanks.

Some 22½ million gallons of water are pumped daily but pressure has fallen to a trickle in some sections of the city.

Rarest of all United States one-cent pieces is that of 1799. One in uncirculated condition is known and this was discovered in a London pawnshop years ago. Until then, no 1799 cent in mint condition was believed extant.

THE PONTIAC PRESS

WEDNESDAY, JULY 14, 1954 PONTIAC, MICHIGAN, SEVENTEEN

DURING TRIAL RUN — One of the $49,000 Scenicruisers is shown as it makes a trial run in front of the Cranbrook Institute of Science in Bloomfield Hills. The builders, General Motors Truck and Coach Division, say the coach is one of the most luxurious ever to be put into passenger service. Designed to carry 43 passengers, the bus features air suspension, tinted glass, power steering, air conditioning, special reclining seats and new-type upholstery.

New Scenicruiser Bus Gives 'Cloud-Ride' Comfort

Ever stretch out under a tree and watch the fluffy clouds drift through the blue summer sky? Of course, we've all done just that and who hasn't wished to go sailing along a highway on an out-of-this world adventure, cradled in a cloud!

Here is news! A trip on a new Greyhound two-level Scenicruiser bus is as near to cloud-riding as we can get.

For the past ten years Greyhound planners, working with GMC Coach engineers have been developing a cross-country bus that's the last word in beauty and safety. When the first Scenicrusier came off the production line it was christened by "Mrs. America," Wanda Jennings of St. Louis, and "presented" to her by Greyhound President Orville S. Caeser. He did this to symbolize the fact that he was presenting the new bus ot American women everywhere.

Built on two levels, the Scenicruisers carry 43 passengers in luxurious, carefree comfort through the countryside.

Huge glare-resistant picture windows and ceiling glass panels lend a soft radiance to the landscape.

The seats are upholstered with foam rubber and covered in smooth gay materials. Generous pockets for the little gadgets every woman needs on a long trip are at each place. Individual reading lights at every seat make it pleasant to read a bedtime story to Junior or catch up on a favorite Who-Dun-It.

Individual smoke vents make it possible to puff a cigarette without worrying about others' discomfort. The seats recline or sit up at a finger touch and there are foot rests for relaxing.

Every surface in the Scenicruiser is either curved or padded. Gay colored upholstered bulkheads divide the upper and lower levels. All the chair arms and railings are rounded. No fear of the small fry's exploring fingers finding a sharp edge anywhere.

A washroom installed on the lower level is reached by three broad easy steps.

The bus is equipped with a two-way telephone system for the use of the driver. It's comforting to knew that if Grandma sets off on a cross-country trip by bus, she can tell the driver where she wants to get off and the Greyhound Company will telephone ahead her time of arrival, so she can be picked up in the family car.

Everything for comfort and convenience that can be thought of is installed in the beautiful Scenicruiser.

The engineering feats of the designers and builders are no less amazing. Twin engines, set in the rear are Diesel driven with fans to expel exhaust gases. There is a fresh delightful atmosphere in the bus at all times.

Complete air-conditioning changes the air every 40 seconds. Ducts are set in the walls of the bus to avoid draughts or blasts of air, hot or cold. The window frames can be opened or shut by hand, if desired of course, but the experts say that with the new air-conditioning system they are more efficient when closed.

One of the great features of bus travel is the beautiful scenery viewed on super highways across the land. This is played up by unusually wide picture windows and large curved panorama windshields at the front of the bus.

It can be said with perfect truth that every seat is a seat "with a view." Overhead rooflights of special safety glass allow a skyview through the tinted glare-resistant panels.

Most wonderful engineering feature is the use of air cushions to act as springs on the Scenicruisers. Hung on fat special bags of air, the bus rides like a feather and can be moved up and down with the pressure of a foot.

As these big boys weigh several tons, it is amazing to see the gentle rise and fall brought about by a small amount of pressure. To keep the Scenicruiser on an even keel while rounding sharp curves, a stabilizer has been built in the center near the aircushions and there's no sidesway or slipping to be felt. Baby can sleep in peace while winding through the hills.

Speaking of youngsters, on the Scenicruiser, babies up to five years old ride free if they don't use a seat. Children through twelve ride for half fare. This makes a family jaunt by this super bus stretch those vacation dollars a long way.

Big pieces of luggage are safely stowed away in long lockers underneath the seating section. Shelves provide protection and ease of unloading. That brand-new luggage set will arrive in apple pie shape at journey's end. An extra locker provides room for small parcels, too. All luggage compartment doors are hinged on rubber hinges and there's no squeak to startle the youngsters out of their sleep.

If a cross country trip by Greyhound bus isn't one of your experiences, now's the ideal time to take that first one. Travel in cool comfort and enjoy the landscape as you glide along in your Scenicruiser.

Courteous and attentive personnel at all times are a "must" on Greyhound lines. So if a vacation far away is on the cards, you couldn't do better than to travel by Scenicruiser.

Commissioners Approve 5 SDD Liquor Licenses

"GLAD TO BE BACK"—Capt. Vance Hanger, head of Pontiac Police patrol division, shares Leroy Hartman's smile as he pins to the patrolman's shirt the badge he left behind last fall to join the Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Police Dept. Patrolman Herbert C. Cooley (right), once a member of the Fort Lauderdale police force, was on hand to welcome Hartman back to the Pontiac force. The Hartmans returned here after six months in Fort Lauderdale, because they were "homesick."

Two Members Oppose Action

Man Asks to Circulate Referendum Petitions on Sunday Sale Ban

Five new SDD package liquor licenses were approved last night by Pontiac City Commission, although two commissioners opposed them saying the city already had enough liquor outlets.

Commissioners Floyd P. Miles (District 4) and Harcourt S. Patterson (District 2) voted against approval.

Mayor William W. Donaldson said the licenses had been authorized by the state Liquor Control Commission and would be approved without City Commission support unless commissioners could present some valid reason why they should be turned down.

The mayor said if the licenses were held at the present total the action would "only maintain a monopoly for present distributors."

Miles asked if commissioners favored an unlimited number and Commissioner Dr. Roy V. Cooley (District 1) said Pontiac could issue no more than the LCC approved.

The new licenses went to Paul I. Spadafore at 706 W. Huron, Stephen Tsineff and Sophie Cardzinski at 78 Lull, Don Deni at 904 Mt. Clemens, John Phillips at 360 Franklin and Robert C. Gifford and Laney C. Jones at 284 State. The Gifford-Jones license is subject to approval of city departments.

In other action, a petition was received from attorney George A. Cram announcing intention to circulate referendum petitions aimed at getting a city-wide vote on the recently passed ordinance banning furniture sales on Sunday.

Cram's petition was referred to City Attorney William A. Ewart for study and a report next week on its validity. Cram represents a local furniture store.

Action was deferred one week on reports from the City Plan Commission including:

A recommendation that lots 17 to 20, inclusive, and part of lot 22 of assessor's plat 97 be rezoned to C-1, providing an alley is furnished.

Approval of assessor's plat 161 plus approval of the plats of Walton and Cheryl Gardens subdivisions.

The city attorney was ordered to prepare an ordinance rezoning lots 9 and 10 of Citizens Development Suvidivision to C-1, provided an alley is deeded.

Special assessment rolls were confirmed for:

Curb, gutter and drainage on Strathmore from Baldwin to University.

Two-inch blacktop paving on Shirley from Pike to Fiddis.

Other commission moves included:

Holding a public hearing and ordering a special assessment roll prepared for July 20 on planned construction of a combined sewer on Columbia from Barkell to 400 feet east.

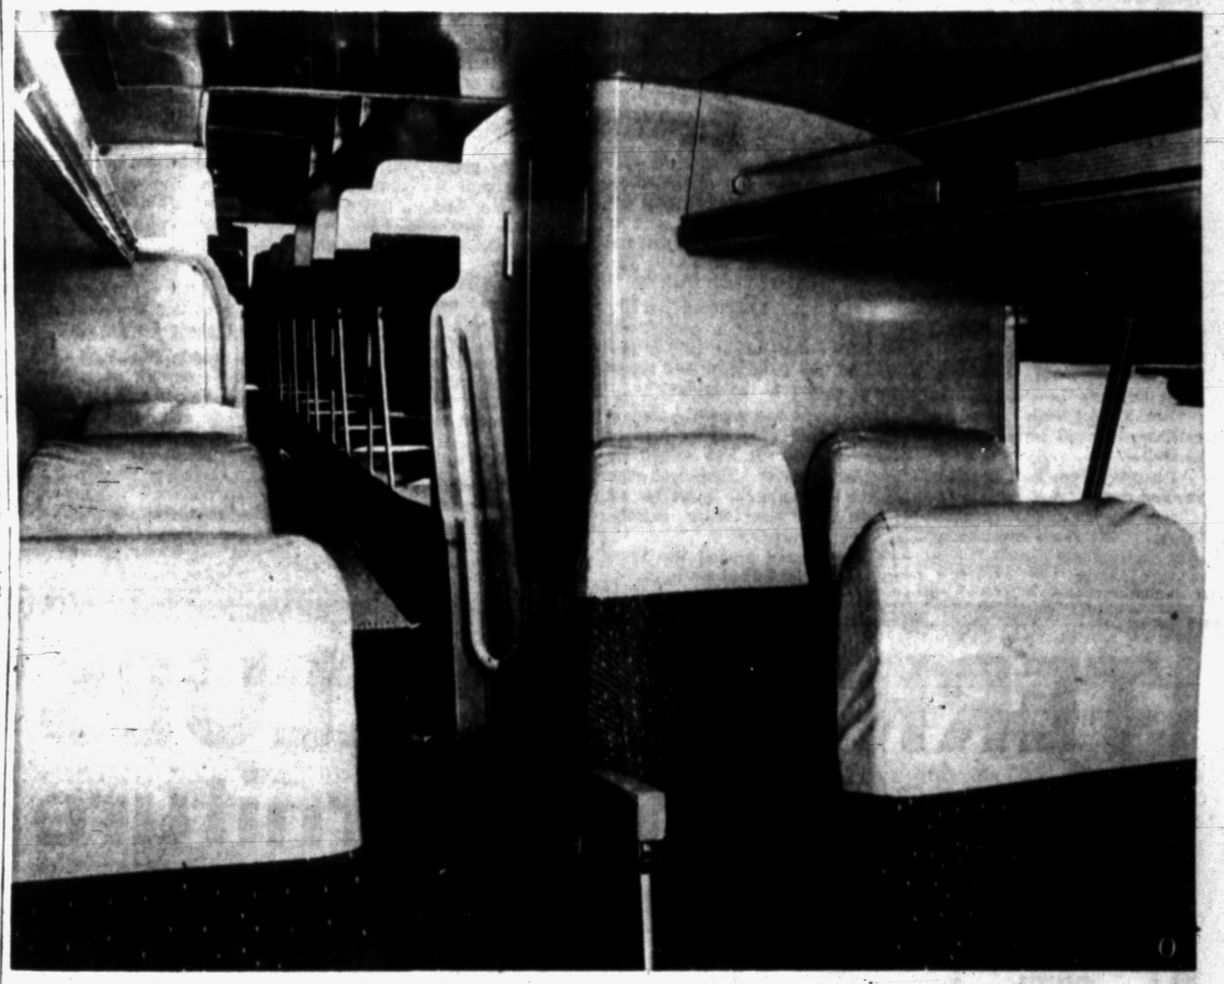

A public hearing was set for July 20 on an engineer's cost estimate of $5,890 for planned grading, graveling and culvert construction on Princeton from Highwood to the east line of the subdivision. Highwood from Sheffield to Princeton and Laurel from Sheffield to Princeton.

A special assessment roll was received for road-mix oil on Second from Joslyn to Ivy.

A group of residents from Going street questioning a special assessment were asked to check the official records and return next week if they still felt they may have been improperly assessed.

A Century of Waiting

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP) — Albert Schulz, 101, broke a hip in a fall from bed and was hospitalized for what he said was the first time in his life.

Local Policeman and Family Prefer Living in Pontiac to Joys of Florida

Last November, Leroy E. Hartman, 25, quit his job as patrolman with the Pontiac Police force.

With a gilnt in his eye he sold his home at 118 Center St., auctioned his furniture and, for less than half the price of his new police uniforms, disposed of his blues for $150.

His wife Ruth had been making arrangements, too. Their two daughters, Karen, 5, and Nancy, 3, also were happy about the long trip they were about to take — to the Sunshine State they would call home.

Hartman, who joined the force July, 1951, and his wife had been planning the trip for six months. They had heard "many wonderful things about Florida."

First, a job with the Ft. Lauderdale Police Dept. was obtained by Hartman.

"This makes it complete"; he recalled exclaiming to Ruth. "Now we can move to where there's never winter and I can stay in police work."

Once in Fort Lauderdale:

"We got to know new friends. The job was going fine. Besides they have a better retirement system in Ft. Lauderdale and we get free uniforms."

These and many other wonderful things at Fort Lauderdale were to compensate for all the Hartmans had left behind.

But six months later, Hartman again found himself parting with his colorful Fort Lauderdale police uniforms, sold the furniture and bid friends farewell.

Upon returning to Pontiac, Hartman bought a new home at 714 Robinwood Ave.

He went to Patrolman Howard Lenigan's home and bought back the uniforms he had sold, and reclaimed his old job as patrolman here after a short session with Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

Ruth was busy furnishing their new home and the kiddies were calling on old playmates.

The Hartmans had become "homesick."

"We sure love Pontiac," he told fellow officers, who held a homecoming party for him recently.

Ruth said, "We just couldn't stay away from our old friends, no matter how pretty Florida was."

Added Hartman:

"I guess Florida was O.K. though our four-months old daughter, Patricia, can say she was born there."

Prophet Beats Elements With Weatherproof Home

OMAHA (INS)—Omaha meteorologist Ed Stapowich is one of the coolest men on the sun-baked central plains these days as his home, designed to combat the extremes of the Nebraska climate, gets its first test of 100-degree weather.

The home, dubbed "Weathering Heights," was completed last fall on a hill northwest of the Omaha city limits. Besides providing the usual living facilities for the Stapowich family, the novel home serves as a laboratory to solve the problems of building comfortable housing in a region where mother nature pulls no punches.

The features of Weathering Heights include wide, overhanging eaves to keep out the direct rays of the sun and to save furniture and curtains from sudden storms.

But the feature receiving the most attention today is an 18-inch concrete tube that runs underground and brings cool air into the basement. When the temperature at Omaha reached 107° in the shade Sunday afternoon, Stapowich said, it was only 82 degrees inside.

Crime Becoming Dominant on Children's Television

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The National Assn. for Better Radio and Television reported today that crime themes have become more dominant this year than ever before in television programs for children.

AP Wirephoto

LAST OF HER KIND — The Pacific Queen, last full-rigged ship to fly the American flag, is steadied in a San Francisco drydock as marine engineers prepare to survey and test her hull. If she passes the tests, the 68-year-old vessel will be purchased by the San Francisco Maritime Museum. Shipyard firms and labor unions have offered to refit her free for use as a floating exhibit of the days of sail. Built in Scotland, she sailed in the grain and Alaska fish trade before retirement. She later served as a set for the movie "Mutiny on the Bounty."

"Murder, torture, sadism, morbid suspense and other fear and tension inducing elements are saturating children's minds and physical senses to a degree never before experienced by any generation," the association said in its fourth annual report on children's radio and television programs.

"Television, more than any other medium, is responsible for this crime deluge.

"Programs which use crime as their basic story theme have always dominated children's TV programing, but at first these crime programs were mostly inherited from the theatrical film industry. Today, crime programs for children are being produced specifically for television in a volume approximately four times greater than in 1951.

"During the period of our 1954 survey, 29 children's crime programs (20 different series) produced on film for TV were being televised each week by the seven stations in Los Angeles. In 1951 there were five such series; in 1952 there were nine; and in 1953 there were 15. This crime programing is preserved on film for distribution and redistribution throughout the United States and other countries."

Based on surveys made by an evaluation committee, the association listed children's TV programs fair, poor, objectionable, and most objectionable. Listed as excellent were: Adventures of Blinkey, Campus Farmers, Contest Carnival, Ding Dong School, Kukla, Fran and Ollie, Little School House, Mr. Wizard, Super Circus, The Princess, Who Knows This? Winky Dink and You, Youth Takes a Stand, Youth Wants to Know and Zoo Parade.

The Caine Mutiny

Copyright

Synopsis: Willie Keith is the decoding officer on an old worn-out minesweeper, the Caine. The new commanding officer, a Capt. Queeg, pulls a few boners and is hauled up for explanations. These are accepted, doubtfully, but the Caine is ordered back to the States for overhaul just to get Queeg out of the active Pacific area.

CHAPTER 13

When the dispatch came, it was New Year's Eve, Fourth of July, and every man's birthday and wedding day aboard the Caine.

Willie Keith wrote to May and to his mother, hinting strongly to May that her presence on the pier when the Caine pulled into San Francisco would be an overwhelmingly fine surprise (he omitted any such hint to his mother).

The talk in the wardroom at lunch next day was warm and jolly for the first time since the change of command. Old jokes were revived about romantic escapades in Australia and New Zealand.

In the midst of the merriment Queeg said, "By the way, none of you fellows have used up your liquor ration at the club, have you? Or if anyone has, say so." None of the officers spoke up. "That's fine. Anybody have any objection to selling his ration to me?" Queeg caught his officers off guard; with varying shades of grumpiness they all consented.

That same evening, therefore, the Caine's officers, shepherded by the captain, lined up at the liquor counter of the club and bought 31 quarts of scotch and rye whisky.

Capt. Queeg directed them one by one, with many thanks, as they came away from the counter carrying armloads of bottles, to a jeep that stood outside in the gloom of the doorway.

Carpenter's Mate Second Class Langborne was summoned to the captain's cabin next morning at seven-thirty and asked to fix up a partitioned crate for thirty-one bottles.

Late that afternoon he came staggering into Queeg's cabin, his face pouring sweat, bearing on his back a box made of fresh-sawed white boards. Mopping his streaming face with a red bandanna, he said, "J-s, sir, them sheet-lead partitions are heavy—"

"Sheet lead?"

"Metalsmiths were fresh out of sheet tin, sir—"

"But Ch-t, lead. Good stiff cardboard would have done just as well—"

"I can rip them lead sheets out, sir, and make it over—"

"No, never mind," grumbled Queeg. "Get some excelsior and pack away those bottles."

"Aye, aye, sir."

"Now hear this. General drills will commence at 1400."

Capt. Queeg came on the bridge at two minutes before two, squinting around in an irritated way. Willie Keith was junior officer of the deck.

At a nod from the captain he walked to the red-painted general alarm handle in the wheelhouse, and yanked it. Then, while the whang-whang-whang shook the air, he inspected with satisfaction his image in one of the bridge windowpanes.

Comforting him was the shadowy figure of a World War II sea warrior, complete with bulbous helmet, bulky gray kapok life jacket and attached flashlight, and gray flash-burn paint on his face and hands. Everybody on the bridge was similarly dressed.

Elsewhere on the ship things were different. Half of the crew appeared at their battle stations minus either helmet or life jacket, or both. Queeg peered here and there, frowning horribly.

"Mr. Keefer!"

"Yes, sir?"

"I want you to make the following announcement over the loudspeaker: 'Every man who is not wearing a helmet or a life jacket is docked one day's leave in the United States. Every man who is wearing neither is deprived of three days' leave."

The men at the gun stations, hearing the words from the loudspeakers, could be seen turning their heads toward the bridge, their faces showing incredulity and rage.

Then a boiling activity began among them, and helmets and life jackets began to appear magically, mushrooming all over the ship and passing from hand to hand.

"Now I want that knocked off!" roared Queeg. "I want the names of those men and I don't want any man putting on any jacket or helmet until every single name is turned in to the bridge! Mr. Keefer, you announce that!"

"What shall I announce, sir?"

"Don't be so g--d--n, stupid, sir! Announce that they're to stop putting on that g-d-n gear and report those names to the bridge!"

The words had scarcely died in the speakers when the deluge of gear stopped. It had served its purpose, however. There was gear on the deckhouses to spare for all hands, and they were rapidly dressing themselves.

Queeg peered around the ship, with an angry balked glare. "Kay, he said. "Kay, I see these birds think they have me licked."

He walked into the wheelhouse, and picked up the microphone. "This is the captain speaking," he said, and the angry tone filtered through all the distortion of the speakers.

"Now, I am displeased to note that some misguided sailors on this ship believe they can pull a fast one on their captain. They are very much mistaken. I have asked for the names of the men who came to GQ out of uniform. The names don't seem to be forthcoming. Kay. Since I have no other way of dealing out justice to the numerous cowards who are disobeying my orders to turn in their names, I am hereby depriving every man on this ship of three days' leave in the States."

* * *

The convoy ran into stormy seas halfway to San Francisco, and Willie Keith began to get a clearer idea of the limitations of World War I destroyers.

Day after day passed of rough seas and lowering skies; of rolling and pitching, cold winds, and cold damp eating into bones softened by tropic warmth. Willie lost track of time.

He stumbled from the bridge to his coding, from coding to correcting publications, from corrections back up to the bridge, from the bridge to the table for an unappetizing bolted meal, from the table to the clipping shack for sleep which never went uninterrupted for more than a couple of hours.

One morning Willie stirred in his bunk, opened his eyes, and felt a strange and delicious sensation: The bunk was neither rolling nor pitching, but remaining level. He bounded out of the clipping shack in his underwear, craned his neck out over the life lines and peered forward.

Above the green round bulge of a hill he saw the piers of the Golden Gate Bridge, misty red, far inland. His eyes filled with tears; he dived back into the clipping shack.

He was on the bridge when the Caine steamed under the vaulting crimson span. But his poetic thoughts were jangled by a colloquy between the captain and Gorton, standing behind him.

"Kay, when we pass Alcatraz we'll head over to Oakland. Give me a course, Burt."

"Sir, Pier 91 isn't in Oakland—"

"I know. We're going to lie off Oakland for a while before we tie up at the pier."

"Aye aye, sir."

"Mister Keith, get that crate in my cabin—get yourself a working party—and load it into the gig. You'll be boat officer."

At the expense of sundry mashed fingers, splinters under fingernails, crushed toes, and a spectacular fireworks of obscenity, the working party lodged the captain's stores-heavy crate in the boat.

The Caine lay to near the Oakland shore, and the gig went puttering toward a concrete landing at the foot of a deserted street.

Queeg sat in the stern sheets, his feet on the crate, rolling the balls and squinting around the bay. When the gig reached the shore, Queeg leapt off the gunwale to the landing. "Kay. Bear a hand with that crate. I'm late as h---."

Two of the working party jumped to the dock, and the third sailor with Horrible and Meatball got one end of the crate up over the gunwale with much heaving and grunting. The men on the dock seized the crate and pulled; those in the gig pushed from below. The box hardly moved.

"Well, well, what's taking so long?"

"Sir, she won't slide," panted Horrible, his black hair falling over his eyes. "Too heavy."

"Well, stand up on the gunwale and lift her then. Haven't you any brains?"

The captain looked around and saw Mackenzie standing on the dock with the bowline in his hand, staring vacantly at the struggle. "Well, what are you doing, standing there with your mind in neutral? Bear a hand."

Mackenzie at once dropped the line and jumped to help the men on the dock. This was a mistake on the part of the captain and sailor alike. Mackenzie had been performing the necessary function of holding the gig close to the dock. With the bowline free, the gig fell away, imperceptibly at first and then faster.

A crack of open water widened under the crate. There was an instant of chaotic yelling, cursing, and crunching, over which rose the soprano scream of Queeg. "Watch out for that g--d--- crate!"

Horrible and the crate fell into the water with a tremendous splash, soaking Queeg. Horrible floated, a blob of white on the muddy water. The crate went down like an anvil, with a bubbly groan.

The gig was halfway back to the Caine before Queeg spoke again. "Willie, who was in charge of that working party?"

"I--I guess I was, sir."

The captain stared out from under his eyebrows at nothing for several seconds and said, "I don't appreciate a foul-up by a working party for which you are responsible, Willie, especially when the foul-up costs me about a hundred and ten dollars."

"Sir, that crate is pretty close to shore, after all. I'm sure the harbor police can grapple for it and recover it, if you—"

"Are you out of your mind?" said the captain. "And have them ask me about the contents?"

* * *

Seventy or eighty people, most of them women, were crowded on Pier 91 when the old minesweeper drew near. They fluttered handkerchiefs and uttered thin sweet cries, and in their brightly colored coats they made as decorative a welcoming display as rows of flags.

"Kay," said Captain Queeg, "I can see this approach is going to be fun — Tell the line handlers to stand by their line-throwing guns. All ahead two thirds! Right full rudder!"

The Caine churned forward against the brown tumbling tide, and swung in toward the pier. In a few seconds the ship drew parallel to the dock—but yards and yards of open water lay between. "Kay, we'll breast her in! All stop! Shoot those heaving lines over!"

The line-throwing guns cracked fore and aft, and the crowd cheered as two arcs of white cord came sailing across the water.

The forward line reached the dock, but the after line spashed short. "Ch—, what's the matter with that after line-handling party? stormed Queeg. "Tell 'em to shoot over another line on the double!"

Gorton, standing at the captain's elbow, said, "It's not going to reach, sir. We're drifting too fast —"

"Why are we drifting too fast? The Caine came crashing into Because these g-dd--n line handlers are all g-dd--n zombies! Kay, recover all lines! I'm going to make another approach."

The Caine backed out into the the wharf at an angle of about twenty degrees, still going fast. A hideous splintering din arose, mingled with the shrieks of the lady spectators scurrying to the other side of the wharf.

"Back down emergency full! Emergency full!" squeaked the captain, as the destroyer, its bow imbedded in the dock, quivered like an arrow shot into a tree trunk.

The Caine pulled clear in a moment, with more tearing and banging, leaving a monstrous shaving several feet thick and twenty yards long gouged out of the pier.

"Kay, we'll try once more," announced Queeg, as the old ship backed into open water, "and this time we'd better make it, for the sake of all hands, that's all I've got to say! All ahead two thirds!"

The Caine shuddered and started forward again.

"Right full rudder! All engines stop!"

Willie cautiously came up to the bulwark and saw that the Caine was slipping fairly into position alongside the dock, except that the bow was closer than the stern.

As the ship swung perpendicular to the wharf, Ensign Keith heard the cry of a very familiar voice: "Will—EE! Will—EE darling!" His mother stood near the manila line, waving a handkerchief!

At last, with the help of a passing tug, the ship's stern was pushed in toward the dock. When the Caine was finally secured, Queeg came into the pilothouse, his face white his forhead crawling with wrinkles, his eyes glaring out at nothing. "Officer of the deck!"

Lieutenant Maryk followed him through the door. "Officer of the deck, aye aye."

"Kay," said Queeg, with his back to Maryk, rubbing the steel balls in his fingers so that they made a loud rasp.

"You will pass the following word: 'Due to the lousy seamanship of the after-line handling party, the entire crew is deprived of two days' leave!"

Maryk stared at the captain, his blunt face showing disbelief and disgust. He did not move. After a few seconds the captain whirled. "Well! What are you waiting for, Mr. Maryk. Pass the word."

All over the ship, and on the dock, where the announcement was clearly heard, faces were drawn with shock and dismay — young faces of sailors, weary faces of chiefs, pretty faces of sweethearts, and old faces, such as the face of Willie Keith's mother.

Mrs. Keith did not yet have the consolation of realizing that Ensign Keith was an officer and therefore exempt from the penalty.

When the gangplank was put over Willie was one of the first to disembark. He saw no escape from his situation; it would simply have to be faced. Mrs. Keith was standing at the foot of the gangway; and May, her expression a touching mixture of confusion, gladness, and fear, had placed herself directly at the mother's elbow.

Mrs. Keith embraced Willie wildly. "Darling, darling, darling!" she exclaimed. "Oh, it's so wonderful to have you close again!"

Willie disengaged himself gently, smiling at May. "Mother," he said, taking her hand and May's hand, "I'd like you to meet — ah — Marie Minotti."

Girl, 12, Hospitalized by Stray Bullet

Sharon Yadon, 12, was hospitalized last night when a stray bullet struck her in the leg while she was playing near her Troy Township home.

Sharon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Yadon, 2115 VanCourtland, was playing with several friends in the back yard of her home when a bullet hit her in the calf of the leg, almost coming out the other side. Officer Schwandt transported her to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where the bullet was removed.

No one in the area heard a shot, according to police chief David E. Gratopp. Sharon is listed in fair condition today.

Navy Seeking Husbands for Wards on Pacific Isle

AGANA, Guam (UP)—The Navy needs you—if you are a healthy, young American interested in marriage.

It needs at least four of you to propose—and be accepted—by a quartet of attractive girls living on tiny Chichi Jima in the western Pacific.

Address all applications to Lt. Cmdr. G. A. Kirby, island government officer, COMNAVMARIANS, Agana, Guam. The Navy has given Commander Kirby the job of finding husbands for its eligible wards on the former Japanese island.

By rights this marriage broker's job belongs to President Eisenhower, who, after all, is commander-in-chief of the Navy and the lawful custodian of Chichi Jima and its 163 citizens of American heritage. But it's the grey-haired commander, a well-married man from Long Beach, Calif., who is in the husband-hunting business.

Chichi Jima lies some 550 miles off the coast of Japan and was a nine-square mile piece of Japanese real estate until the end of World War II. The first settlers, however, were a group of Yankees headed by Nathaniel Savory, who settled on the island in Civil War times.

They always claimed American citizenship and were the only inhabitants allowed back on Chichi Jima after the war. The 163 residents have so intermarried down through the years that everybody is somebody's cousin, and new blood is needed.

This is no problem for the men of the island who are allowed to marry Japanese wives and bring them back to Chichi Jima. Two of the Bonin islanders have already married Japanese girls, and two more are still in Japan looking for brides.

With the girls it's a different story. The United States forbids them from marrying Japanese, there are no eligible males on the island, and they are unable to leave home to seek husbands.

Thus the Navy, ever-ready to deal with international complications of any sort, has gone into the matrimonial agency business, with Commander Kirby as chief broker.

Kirby hopes to entice Americans from Guam, Hawaii or the mainland to make their homes on Chichi Jima. In addition to the prospect of getting a good wife, the island offers an ideal climate averaging 75 degrees, good land, pineapples, palm trees and scenic beauty.

The commander said there are now four young women on Chichi who are interested in marriage, and another half dozen or so who will come of age in the next three or four years.

The Navy has several ideas in mind, Kirby said, including one of offering homesteads to young farmers.

"However," the officer explained "nothing has been decided upon, as Japan wants the islands returned to her. That is a matter of high level policy to be handled by Washington. My problem is to find husbands. Do you have any suggestions?"

Less People Leaving City Jobs This Year

The average monthly turnover among Pontiac city employes during the first half of 1954 was 1.71 per cent, compared with 3.18 per cent in the same six-months of 1953. City Personnel Director James R. Stelt said today.

"This means that less people have been leaving city jobs for other employment this year," said Stelt.

Some 79 full-time workers have been hired since March 1 this year, Stelt explained, raising the total from 584 to 664.

Most of the new employes are seasonal workers hired to take part in the street improvement and recreation programs, the personnel director stated. The Department of Public Works hired 47 persons, he added.

Those Psychopathic Comic Books Should Be Kicked Out of Homes

By BILLY ROSE

Although this column appears in quite a few family newspapers, I seldom write anything which would interest a child. Today I'd like to make amends by summarizing three stories which are exclusively for the kiddies . . .

BILLY ROSE

Story No. 1 is about a curvaceous blonde who, though married, has a couple of boy friends on the side. One day, for want of something better to do, she poisons her husband. When her boy friends call on her, she tells them her husband is asleep, plays on their jealousy, and goads them into shooting and stabbing his corpse.

This trick confuses both coroner and police, and as we take leave of the blonde charmer we can tell from the sweet, sensual smile on her face that she has gotten away with the murder.

Story No. 2 is about a sadistic policeman, secretly the head of an underworld organization, who persuades criminals to join his gang by the simple device of having his desk sergeant beat them into a pulp.

One day, unbeknownst to this crooked cop, his own son is picked up on a minor charge, and the desk sergeant goes to work on the boy with a rubber hose and brass knuckles.

Unfortunately the youth is beaten to death and, as our story ends, we see the sadistic cop staring down at the beaten and bloody remnants of his son on the floor.

Story No. 3 is about a prison camp boss, Lester Hoag, who delights in beating his charges with a leather whip. One night a prisoner named Tom Herrick decides to kill Hoag, and steals a knife from the mess hall.

His problem is how to reach the warden's quarters without being torn to bits by his savage, half-starved watchdogs. How does the prisoner solve this problem? Simple.

On his way to Hoag's cottage he throws chunks of raw meat to divert the howling hounds. Where does he get this meat? Simple.

By slicing chunks off his own chest and left arm. Obviously he can't mutilate his right arm—he needs it to wield the knife!...

There you have my three stories for kiddies, and before a million irate parents denounce me for writing a piece in the worst possible taste, I'd like to tell you where I got them.

They appeared a few months ago in a children's comic book called "Crime SuspenStories," which is published bi-monthly by the L. L. Publishing Company at 225 Lafayette Street, New York. It sells for a dime, and its circulation is nationwide . . .

I hope you don't get the idea that I'm arguing for the suppression of these sadistic little sheets. Far from it.

In these touchy times, I would hate to be branded as a Red—and "SuspenStories" insinuates that anyone who raises his voice against kid comics is a Red.

Matter of fact, in the issue from which the stories were taken there's a full-page spread entitled, "Are You a Red Dupe?" Its text includes such statements as, "Here in America, we can STILL publish comic magazines, newspapers, slicks, books and the Bible. We don't HAVE to send them to a censor FIRST. Not YET!" . . . "THE GROUP MOST ANXIOUS TO DESTROY COMICS IS THE COMMUNISTS!" . . . "The NEXT time some joker gets up at a PTA meeting, or starts jabbering about the 'naughty comic books' at your local candy store, give him the ONCEOVER. We're not saying he IS a Communist! . . . He may be a DUPE who has SWALLOWED the RED BAIT . . . HOOK, LINE AND SINKER!"

In effect, "SuspenStories" is telling its juvenile readers that the way to deal with people who criticize comic books, be they teachers, clergymen or the parents themselves, is to hit them over the head with the word "Communist" and watch them squirm. . . .

Now, it so happens that I'm opposed to the official suppression or censorship of comic books—or anything else. However, there's one kind of censorship I approve—and which is the most devastating of them all. That's home censorship.

I would recommend that everyone with a rooting interest in a kid waste no time in checking on how said kid spends his dimes. If the child spends them on funny comics, or the recommended educational ones, fine.

But if the kid is buying psychopathic slop like "SuspenStories," I would try to reason him out of it, or threaten him out of it. And if reason and threat didn't work, I'd reach for a pingpong paddle.

Either method will hit the publishers of bilge where it will hurt them the most—their pocketbooks.

NATURALLY CLEANER GASOLINE!

PHILLIPS 66

Flite-Fuel

PHILLIPS 66 FLITE-FUEL does not require an additive to combat spark plug fouling and engine deposits. Its clean burning qualities are the result of using high purity natural and aviation gasoline components.

FOR YOUR CAR...the only gasoline with the added super aviation fuel component Di-isopropyl.

Phillips was the first to make Di-isopropyl and HF Alkylate. These two fuel components are so valuable to smooth motor performance that only recently they were restricted by government order for use exclusively in high performance aircraft gasoline. But now authorities have removed the restrictions and they can be blended in Phillips 66 FLITE-FUEL for your car.

FLITE-FUEL brings you more power, higher anti-knock, longer mileage, plus the important advantages of Phillips 66 controlled volatility. You also benefit from the clean burning qualities for which Phillips 66 Gasoline is famous. Get FLITE-FUEL at stations where you see the famous orange and black Phillip 66 Shield.

ANOTHER PHILLIPS FIRST... NEW TROP-ARTIC MOTOR OIL

The toughest standard ever set up for automobile motor oil is the Mil-0-2104 Supplement 1 test. And the first all-weather motor oil to meet the severe requirements of this test is new Phillips 66 TROP-ARTIC.

Compared to ordinary motor oils, new TROP-ARTIC reduces wear 40% or more! It cuts oil consumption 15% to 45%. It keeps pistons cleaner. This new oil can even double the life of your car's motor! And it extends gasoline mileage by reducing friction.

Get new TROP-ARTIC Motor Oil for year around engine protection that will save you money.

Yugoslavs Get Credit Facilities

Communists Also Relax Land Sale Restrictions to Spur Production

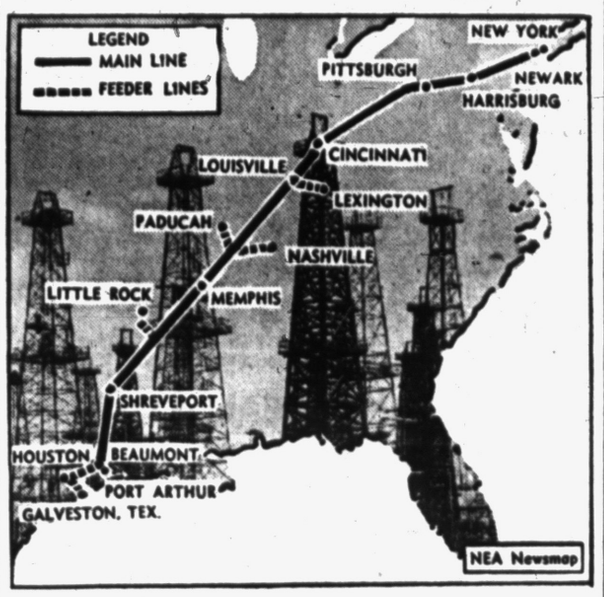

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UP) — Things are looking up for the independent peasant in Communist Yugoslavia.

The government has opened credit facilities for him and relaxed restrictions on the sale and purchase of land to let the farmer own up to 25 acres.

At present some holdings are composed of a number of disconnected fields, often miles apart. The owner spends much of his time getting from one tract to another. Now he will be able to trade a field, or sell one and buy another, in order to unify his farm.

The sale-and-purchase law also is intended to spur the little farmer to increase production to earn enough to buy more land.

The new law provides peasants with credit for a year to purchase fertilizer, seeds, building materials, farm equipment and other items needed in their business. It also provides two-year loans for purchase of household furniture, radios and other consumer items. The interest rate is 6 per cent.

LONGEST PIPELINE—Map shows course of the world's largest petroleum pipeline, construction of which is expected to start within a month or so, according to the American Pipeline Corp., of New York. The $170,000,000 line will run from the Houston-Beaumont, Tex., area to Newark, N. J. At first it will move 250,000 barrels of petroleum products a day—half of its capacity. Main line will be 1,425 miles of 24 and 26-inch pipe, plus 485 miles of smaller pipe in feeder lines.

Cancer Stricken Priest Dies in Parsons, Kan.

PARSONS, Kan. (INS)—The Rev. Julius Busse, who when stricken with cancer stirred world admiration with his words of courage and faith, died last night at Mercy Hospital in Parsons.

Death came to the 47-year-old Passionist priest after months of suffering. To him it was the answer to prayers and the beginning of a "journey to heaven."

Last Jan. 17, after he had been told his death was near, Fr. Busse wrote of his attitude toward death:

"I am like a young boy who has been promised a present. Why should we regard death with fear. It is a journey from earth to heaven, and who would say the change is not for the better."

Henry Ford Estate in Final Settlement

DETROIT (UP)—The third and last accounting of the estate left by the late Henry Ford shows $2,361,802.62 remaining after taxes and debts. Most of it was in government securities.

Ford's grandsons, Henry Ford II, Benson Ford and William Clay Ford filed the accounting with Probate Judge James H. Sexton who said the estate will be finally closed when a receipt is returned from the Ford Foundation.

The foundation will get all of the estate. It originally lent the money to pay off inheritance taxes.

The largest bats in the world are found in the old world tropics. They have a wing spread of about five feet and are popularly called "flying foxes."

Young Ham Is Blind

ATLANTA (UP) — Johnnie Ferron, 9, blind since birth, says he does not figure he's handicapped much and proves it by transmitting 30 words per minute on a "ham" radio set. He has been called the youngest holder of a general class amateur radio license in the nation.

SWP HOUSE PAINT lasts longer...saves money

$6.45 Gal.

• It pays to be "choosy" when you select the brand of house paint to be used on your home. Whether you employ a painting contractor or not, the price difference between world-famous SWP® House Paint and house paint of ordinary quality will mean less than $5.00 for the average-size, complete house job. This slight difference in cost pays for years of extra wear and is one of the wisest economies you can make.

Boat Manager Drops Gloves; Boat Leaves

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UP) — White gloves once played a big part in steamboating on Narragansett Bay.

According to tradition, tea was served to passengers before a steamboat left Providence for New York. And the steamboat line manager — wearing white gloves — would help serve.

The steamboat would leave the pier when the manager stripped off his gloves and threw them into the water.

Search for New Townsite; Community Begins to Sink

OTTAWA (UP) — A 10-man survey party is seeking a new site for the remote arctic community of Aklavik on the MacKenzie River delta 70 miles south of the Arctic Ocean.

The 42-year-old settlement, largest in the Canadian arctic, is in danger of sinking through melting permafrost. Summer heat, ground warmth created by buildings and excavations and roads turn the present permafrost terrain into a quagmire.

Lack of an adequate year-round water supply and sewage disposal system has created a serious health problem for the 400 whites, 250 Eskimos and 125 Indians who live in the community.

Cities Devising Ways to Combat Starling Menace

CHICAGO (UP) — Pigeons and starlings infesting business district buildings soon may have to find new roosting places, according to the American Public Works Association.

The association said new preventive measures are being tested in efforts to get rid of the pesky birds. It cited exueriments under way by two professors at State College, Pa., who got the squawk of a scared starling down on tape in an hour-long recording.

Next, they amplified the sound up to 120 decibels and aimed it into starling-filled trees. The birds flew away, presumably because a distress call by one meant danger for all.

The association said city officials of Cincinnati, Ohio, tried the same tactic recently. They put a loudspeaker truck into operation, blaring the distress call through the downtown area for two and a half hours. Nothing much happened.

Experts believe the starlings may have to hear the cries several times before they get the idea and take off.

Cincinnati also has been considering putting a chemical compound along roofs, ledges, eaves troughs and the like. It is supposed to irritate the birds' feet.

"Pigeon slides" have been used in St. Louis, Mo., to keep birds off the City Hall. The slides are pieces of metal placed on entryways at angles so steep that when pigeons sweep in for a landing they slip off.

Measles Cases Rise Slightly

Dr. John D. Monroe Gives Weekly County Health Report

Chicken pox kept dwindling in Oakland County last week but measles showed a slight increase.

The weekly report from the Oakland County Health Department, released by Dr. John D. Monroe, director, showed nine new cases of chicken pox were found last week, compared to 15 the week before.

Measles struck 35 people, six more than the previous week. Mumps dropped to 26 cases, 10 less than the preceding week's total of 36.

The report, covering the whole county except Pontiac, reads as follows:

	Past Week	Week End July 3, '54	Week End July 11, '53
Chicken pox	9	15	16
Measles	35	29	66
Pneumonia (all forms)	0	7	1
Poliomyelitis	6	3	4
Scarlet fever	2	9	0
Tuberculosis, all forms	2	11	0
Whooping cough	9	3	3
Mumps	26	36	18
Rubella	3	3	3
Hepatitis	2	3	4
Diarrhea	4	1	0
Encephalitis	1	1	0

Pontiac City Health Department reported not a single case of chicken pox or mumps in the city last week.

The city report, also released by Dr. Monroe, listed seven measles cases—one more than the week before.

The complete Pontiac report follows in full:

	Past Week	Week End July 3, '54	Week End July 11, '53
Chicken pox	0	10	3
Gonorrhea	2	8	8
Measles	7	6	0
Rubella	0	1	1
Scarlet fever	1	2	0
Syphilis	0	3	2

Bid on Boat Harbor

PENTWATER (AP) — The Pass brothers of Spring Lake placed a low bid of $15,672 for building a small boat harbor at Pentwater Tuesday. The village council referred the bid to the Michigan Waterways Commission.

Caveman Spirit Prevails; Woman Weds Assaulter

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Daniel De Vito, 42, appeared before Chief Magistrate Harry Pine yesterday on a charge of the assault and battery of Virginia Howard.

Detective Michael Skurla charged that De Vito quarreled with the lady in a tailor shop June 25 and beat her severely about the head and body.

But when she took the stand yesterday, she refused to testify, claiming a wife's immunity. She said she and De Vito were married a week ago while he was out on bail.

Judge Pine dismissed the charges.

To Be at Legion Meet

CALUMET (AP) — Billy R. Wickens of Midland, state commander of the American Legion, will be the principal speaker at the Legion's Upper Michigan convention in Calumet this weekend. Delegates from 55 Legion posts will attend.

THE 'BARE' FACTS—Wearing only a shadow in an attempt to keep cool, four-year-old Jimmy Kelly, of Long Beach, Cal., moves in high gear as he is pursued by his mother, Mrs. James M. Kelly. Long Beach, along with the rest of Southern California, has been going through a heat wave, with temperatures hitting 93 degrees.

Negotiations Begin for Release of 7 GIs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has opened diplomatic negotiations with Czechoslovakia for the release of seven American artillerymen seized by a Czech border patrol July 4.

State Department officials said today the U.S. government still doesn't know where the Communist Czechs are holding an American captain and six enlisted men who apparently wandered across the West German frontier while sightseeing.

But Garret Ackerson, charge d'affaires at the U.S. Embassy in Prague, was said to have attended "several meetings" at the Czech Foreign Office during the past week. There was no indication of the nature of the talks.

The Czechs have accused the Americans of spying. But a strongly worded U. S. note rejected that charge and accused the Czechs of abducting the soldiers.

NO MORE TROUBLE—Yma Sumac, phenomenally ranged Peruvian singer, points to a sign on a New York pier after she was cleared at an immigration hearing on Ellis Island. Miss Sumac was detained by officials recently following her arrival from Europe, then was paroled in the custody of the Peruvian Consul general. Although she has been admitted to the United States, no reason for her detention was announced.

All Glasses Union Made

OUR FORMER PRICE $20 - $25
OUR PRICE NOW ONLY:
$8.98 COMPLETE WITH FRAMES AND LENSES
No More No Less You Can't Pay More
Prescription Sunglasses at Same Low Price!

WHY PAY MORE?
Though the price is low, the quality of our glasses is beyond compare. If we wanted to make glasses to sell for $35.00, we couldn't use finer materials or better workmanship than that which goes into these glasses.

AMAZING OFFER! THIS WEEK ONLY!
SAVE OVER $10.00! LIMITED OFFER! COME AT ONCE!
Once again the King Optical Co. presents its most astonishing offer. For a limited time of ONE WEEK ONLY, we offer you the Rim-King, with a genuine engraved, 12-karat gold-filled bridge. This is positively the last word in styling, looks and durability. Combines the strength and beauty of the "Tortoise Shell" color, hand carved and polished Zylonite, and the smartness and invisibility of a rimless mounting. Featherweight, comfortable and good to look at. Buy now — sale lasts this week only, positively ends Saturday, July 17, and may never be repeated!

100 STYLES, SHAPES and COLORS
AT ONE PRICE! YOU CAN'T PAY MORE!
You may choose the Rim-King, or select a frame to suit your personality and facial contour, from our tremendous assortment of over 100 styles, shapes and colors. Complete with lenses, ground to your exact needs, regardless of your prescription or lens strength, they are truly a sensational value at $8.98. YOU JUST CAN'T PAY MORE! (Bifocals, if desired, $4.98 additional)

NO KICK-BACKS — NO EXTRAS — JUST $8.98
Frankly, our difficulty is convincing the public that they can purchase complete glasses at the one price of $8.98. After being "flim-flammed" for years by people who advertise one price, then charge for "extra tint," "extra shape," "extra strong correction" and extra high profits, it is understandable that the one price of $8.98 with no extras, irrespective of the type or style of frame, is hard to believe. Now prove to yourself, without cost or obligation, that you can get complete glasses for $8.98!

$1,000.00 Reward
We will pay $1,000 to anyone who can purchase glasses here for more than the price quoted in this advertisement. Reward offer guaranteed by two leading London, Eng., insurance companies.

OCULISTS' PRESCRIPTIONS
We also fill oculists' prescriptions at the same price. Your prescription promptly filled.

Rhee Trip Prompted by Geneva Failure

SEOUL (INS) — The United States Embassy in Seoul tonight confirmed unofficial reports that Republic of Korea President Syngman Rhee plans to visit Washington this month.

The embassy said Rhee will discuss with President Eisenhower the failure of Big Four representatives to work out a permanent Korea peace at the Geneva Conference.

The aged ROK statesman is expected to leave next Monday, July 19 and will address both houses of Congress during his stay in Washington.

The embassy said Rhee will arrive in Washington July 26 and leave on July 30.

Rhee will be accompanied by Mrs. Rhee, his Austrian - born wife and a party of aides on his trip to America.

Reds Protest 'Fascist Terror' in Guatemala

BERLIN (AP) — The Communist Federation of Trade Unions in East Germany has protested in a letter to the secretary general of the United Nations against "brutal Fascist terror" in Guatemala.

The five-million-member organization charged that 45 union officials have been murdered. It demanded that the U.N. Security Council meet immediately to agree on actions against the "raging of military dictatorship in Guatemala."

It is estimated that 85 to 90 per cent of the driving accidents in many large cities are caused by persons who have violated the traffic laws.

When you raise a frosty bottle of Coke to your lips, you'll agree that the flavor is unique and delicious. Refreshing, too. But you might ask—how is it made? Is it wholesome? Pure?

Well, let's take a look behind the scenes.

The water you drink may be good enough for ordinary use. But Coca-Cola needs something more—a treated water made neutral to taste to protect the delicate flavor of the drink. Nine sunny climes contribute the good things that go into Coke and each ingredient is tested for taste, strength and purity. Sparkling clean bottles scurry along the lines of stainless steel to be filled and crowned under the eyes of trained operators.

Quality is maintained in other ways, too. The Coca-Cola Company holds classes for bottling plant personnel. Traveling laboratories, manned by graduate chemists and engineers, criss-cross the nation, bringing to plants everywhere the latest refinements in quality control.

At our bottling plant, precaution and vigilance are everybody's job for we all know that a product is known by the quality it keeps.

YOU ARE INVITED . . . to visit our bottling plant. Why not arrange to drop in with the children and see for yourself why Coca-Cola comes to you pure as sunlight. Call

Repairing Helps Army Save

Over 1 Billion Dollars Saved by Patching Wornout Equipment

MAINZ, Germany (UP) — More than a billion dollars has been saved the American taxpayer because the U. S. Army in Europe is following the old housewife's trick of patching things instead of throwing them away when they show signs of wear.

The Army in Germany has rebuilt like new $1,500,000,000 worth of worn-out ordnance items. Cost of this repair job was $400,000,000—mostly for labor and new parts. Had these weapons been scrapped, taxpayers would have financed their replacement.

To do the "patching," the Army uses 13,000 German tecnnicians. They work under uniformed Army supervisors in six U. S. "ordnance maintenance depots" in Germany.

To give them the incentive to patch, the Army pays the Germans cash awards—about $25 each—for ideas that save time and money.

The largest of the Army's combat overhaul workshops in Europe is the Mainz ordnance maintenance depot, which also runs regular ordnance checkups on the 12 U. S. atomic cannon in Germany.

Since its 1951 opening, the $10,000,000 plant has "reclaimed" $215,000,000 worth of wornout weapons. Three hundred thousand separate small arms, artillery pieces, optical instruments, tanks and other "track" vehicles have been rebuilt here.

Business is brisk because ordnance experts say European maneuvers beat up Army equipment just as much as combat. Some of the estimated 300,000 U. S. troops in Europe maneuver six months a year.

Navajo Tribal Leaders Pay Tribute to Priest

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP)—Navajo tribal leaders have paid high tribute to Fr. Berard Haile, Roman Catholic priest who has done missionary work on the reservation almost half a century.

The priest was told by a Navajo medicine man recently:

"You came to the Navajos to make Christians out of us. The Navajos have made a Navajo out of you."

Romanian Shakespeare

VIENNA (UP) — The Romanian state press soon will begin publication in Romanian of Shakespeare's collected works, according to official reports from Bucharest. The translation, first of its kind in Romanian, was done by a "writers' collective" and is to be published in six volumes.

FIERCE FERRET — This furry little fellow who boasts a relationship with the illustrious mink is not as gentle as he looks. A close portrait of the ferret reveals that he is a vicious killer of game birds. The young female ferret above is being offered a tid-bit from a worker at the Boston Museum of Science.

Cow Only 1 of Many Sources of Milk

WASHINGTON (UP) — The average American thinks of the cow as the chief producer of the milk that appears on his table, but in other parts of the world "Bossy" has stiff competition.

The National Geographic Society points out that in the Arctic the reindeer is supreme as a giver of milk. Laplanders store the milk by letting it freeze into chunks which will keep all winter.

In Africa, Bedouins and Somalis drink the sweet milk of camels, while Egypt's fellahs and other East Asians milk water buffaloes. Asses' milk and goats milk have been drunk in other parts of the world for centuries.

Even the milk of mice is being put to use now for medical research in New York. Several thousand mice are milked each day—by machine—and their two-quart yearly output is valued at $20,000.

Airliners Often Carry Insects, Other Pests

GENEVA (UP)—Millions of insects travel throughout the world on the fuselages of aircraft and are responsible for the spread of such crippling diseases as malaria, yellow fever, sleeping sickness, typhus and plague, the United Nations World Health Organization reports.

Sanitary control authorities can't always detect such stow-aways which may lodge in the cabin or luggage hold of a plane, or be taken aboard on the clothes of passengers or on flowers presented to them.

WHO also noted that certain insects lay their eggs at various places on aircraft and that these eggs survive, altitude and temperature changes.

WHO cited one example where thousands of larvae emerged from such eggs and swarmed all over the surface of a plane.

Airborne insects are most often mosquitoes, flies, lice, sometimes ticks, beetles, cockroaches and Colorado beetles.

The presence of rats, birds and snakes has also been noted on aircraft. They have been carried long distances and "it is not difficult to imagine the resulting difficulties and the danger to the aircraft itself."

"Strict surveillance of aircraft and of airdromes is, therefore, absolutely essential," the WHO report said, adding that "this passive defense can only be effective, however, if it is complemented by more active measures which will remove all possibility of transporting live insects in aircraft."

Model Exhibits Stand

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—Clarence J. Hendler can stand like a wax figure for an hour and a half without blinking an eye or moving a muscle. He started as a model and has put on exhibitions for 31 years.

Japanese Industry Seeks Dye Exports

TOKYO (UP)—Japanese dyemakers hope to recover their overseas markets by underbidding the United States and European nations.

World War II shattered Japan's dye industry, and exports now are 90 per cent below the record 15,420 pounds shipped to foreign markets in 1939.

The best potential buyers for dyestuffs, Japanese manufacturers believe, are India, South Korea and Argentina. But local producers know they will meet stiff competition from the United States and a handful of European countries.

In Argentina, for example, Germany, Britain, France, Switzerland and Italy are battling for dye contracts, but Japan expects to win a foothold in that valuable South American market.

Confederate Bills to Pay to Send Girls to College

DALLAS (UP)—A Dallas man plans to send his two daughters through college, using confederate money.

The optimistic father, Leonard W. Stark, pointed out that although most persons believe paper money issued by the Confederate States of America is worthless, some of it is worth four times face value.

Stark has been collecting Confederate paper money for several years. Those bills, along with Governement of Texas and Republic of Texas currency, and a few old land grant certificates, he values now at $2,600.

By the time his two young daughters start to college, he estimates his collection, with additions, will be worth $15,000.

Much Confederate money is of only sentimental value. But Stark said a $5 note called the "Indian princess bill" because of its engraving is worth $20. The bill is dated Sept. 2, 1861.

Another piece of Confederate money worth saving is the July 25, 1861 $5 issue, now worth $10, and the Sept. 2, 1861 $5 issue, worth $5.

Stark, a salesman, collected much of his money in his travels. Friends who knew of his hobby frequently find someone with Confederate money and put them in touch with Stark.

He also collects other tiems in use during the Civil War and during Texas' days as a republic. He has a collection of Confederate stamps, old newspapers, treasury warrents and coins. Some of his finds are vaulable enough that he keeps them in a safe deposit box.

The Dallas salesman estimated there are about 3,000 active collectors of Confederate money in the United States. There are as many in the North as in the South, he believes.

But he has a warning for anyone who believes he has found a rare supply of money issued by the Confederacy. There were many counterfeit bills floating around during the Civil War, and the counterfeits are still worthless. Some of the counterfeiting, he said, was done by the Union to ruin the economy of the Confederacy.

An expert can tell the difference between the good money and the worthless paper. And it's that good Confederate money Stark counts on using to give his daughter a college education.

Log-Rolling King Has Appropriate Name for Sport

MILWAUKEE (UP)—The world's champion birler bears a name appropriate to a sport that entails some of the fanciest footwork of any athletic activity.

He is James Running of Eau Claire, Wis.

Although a birler, or log-roller, doesn't go anywhere—except into the water, if he loses—he does a lot of running.

The idea is for one man—usually a lumberjack—to "run" another man off a log whirled around in the water by their flashing feet. When Running isn't birling in competition, he's giving exhibitions at sports shows.

Birling had its beginning in the early days of logging in Maine, then spread westward with the lumbering industry.

It now has a set of rules that has resulted in the game being regarded as one of the fastest exhibitions of competitive footwork.

Running first won the world's championship at a "roleo" in 1942 and has held the title ever since except for one year.

He will defend it in a competition sponsored by the National Roleo Association, official governing group for log-rolling, in June in Idaho.

Old Blacksmith Shop Closed After 63 Years

ROCKFORD, Ill. (UP) — Rockford's last blacksmith shop has closed. Gust Djupstrom, who remembers the day when three smiths in his shop shoed 86 horses a day, has extinguished the last flame in the forge. The 63-year-old shop will be torn down.

Old-timers who congregated daily at the blacksmith shop to exchange stories of the past recall the time a man, unable to find a place to tie his horse, took it to a nearby saloon and ordered schooners of beer for himself and the horse.

Likes Her Parents, but —

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—An amazed judge granted a divorce to Mrs. R. B. Jones Jr., when she testified that her husband liked her parents and they liked him, but she and her husband couldn't get along. In fact, Mrs. Jones told Judge F. T. Denny her husband even took her parents on a vacation three months after he and she separated.

Doomed Slums Serve Good Final Purpose

CHICAGO (UP)—Slums about to be wrecked serve one last useful purpose in two cities, the National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials report.

The shaky structures in Detroit, Mich., and Memphis, Tenn., are used for practice of civil defense and fire-fighting crews

Seventy city employes who are part of the Detroit civil defense organization held a training session recently in the area of the Gratiot redevelopment project.

At Memphis, slums marked for destruction served as a laboratory for a national fire instructors' conference.

TV Fans Guzzle

WATERBURY, Conn. (UP)—City engineers reported that television was causing a sharp rise in water consumption. They said the reservoir no longer fills up at night because late viewers make frequent trips to the faucets.

Virginia Dems Narrow Field

Choose 2 Candidates to Oppose Republican Congressmen

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The task of recapturing two of Virginia's seats in Congress from the Republicans was handed to Ernest Robertson and John C. Webb — both members of the House of Delegates—by Democrats yesterday in primary elections in the 6th and 10th districts.

Robertson, a 39-year-old Roanoke County salesman with six years' experience in the State Legislature was the somewhat surprising winner over Powell Glass Jr., Lynchburg newspaper publisher and grandson of the late U.S. Sen. Carter Glass. A third candidate in the race, Dr. J. Carl Poindexter, Salem College professor, was no factor.

Webb, 38, a Fairfax attorney and a newcomer to the Legislature this year, topped a field of four in the northern Virginia 10th with his closest opposition coming from Dean Brundage, 30, an Arlington High School teacher. Two other attorneys in the race, J. Walter White and Charles Lewis Knight, were also-rans.

When Associated Press tabulation of the vote was halted with 196 of the 6th's 206 precincts reported, the vote was Robertson, 5,982; Glass, 4,699; and Poindexter, 936.

Complete unofficial returns from the 10th's 104 precincts showed Webb, 4,696; Brundage, 3,741; White, 1,247; and Knight, 715.

In 1952 the GOP captured three of Virginia's 10 seats in Congress in the Eisenhower sweep. Robertson will go against Republican Rep. Richard Poff in November. Webb will try to unseat Rep. Joel Broyhill (R-Va), the first congressman to represent the new 10th. The Democrats nominated Sheriff Pat Jennings of Smyth County several months ago to take on the third Republican 1952 winner — Rep. William C. Wampler of the southwest 9th District.

The seven Democratic Virginia congressmen had no primary opposition although at least four of them face opposition in the general election. Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D-Va) had no Democratic opposition in the primary although the Republicans are holding a convention Saturday at Roanoke to pick a candidate to oppose him.

Representatives Record Voting on Insurance Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)— Here's how Michigan representatives voted Tuesday as the House killed a bill to allow the government to underwrite losses incurred through expansion of private health insurance programs (the vote was on a motion to recommit):

Republicans for — Clardy, Dondero, Hoffman, Meader, Shafer, Thompson.

Democrats for — Dingell, Lesinski, Machrowicz, O'Brien, Rabaut.

Republicans against — Bennett, Bentley, Cederberg, Ford, Knox, Oakman, Wolcott.

U. of M. ROTC Is 98

ANN ARBOR (UP) — The University of Michigan got its first ROTC unit in 1856. The first group consisted of 90 students. The program died out before the Civil War and wasn't started again until World War I.

'Devil Rides Outside' Ruled Obscene Book

DETROIT (AP)— Recorder's Judge John A. Ricca, in effect, has adjudged "The Devil Rides Outside" to be an obscene book.

He did so yesterday by convicting Alfred E. Butler, Detroit book store operator, on a charge of selling an "obscene" book in a test case. Butler was fined $100.

The Detroit Police Department censor pressed the charge.

John H. Griffin of Mansfield, Tex., the author, took the witness stand during the trial to defend the book as an "adult" literary work. So did several university professors and ministers.

Nylon yarn used for women's stockings in 1953 would reach to the moon and back 4,263 times.

The population of India increases by 13,000 every 24 hours.

Farmer Loses Argument When Bear Intervenes

WEST HOLLAND, Vt. (AP)—Farmer Bernie Wheeler was arguing with a stuborn cow in his pasture yesterday when a powerful blow on the back knocked him sprawling.

"That was no cow's tail," he muttered.

And it wasn't. A huge black bear stood there with her paw raised protecting two cubs.

Wheeler said he ran.

The University of Michigan in 1870 became the nation's first major school to admit women.

Courtship Hours Spent Making New Furniture

ATLANTA (UP) — The "do-it-yourself" trend and the suggestion of a tree surgeon led a couple into building their own furniture—before the wedding.

Ann Kollock and Tony Hamilton plan to be married in June. But in the meantime, most of their dates are in a basement workshop at Ann's home, where the couple is making enough furniture to outfit an apartment. To date, they have enough for living room and bedroom, and have spent only $216. Furniture includes an oak coffee table, a dining table and chairs and a bookcase-table combination.

Tony's only training in woodshop course. He furnishes the muscle while his fiancee provides the know-how. She works as a kitchen planner.

The project started with a suggestion from a tree surgeon friend who had cut down a disease oak. He thought that slabs from the oak would make attractive coffee tables. A lot of sanding turned the gnarled wood into a table. For legs, they used steel rods, securing them with a drill press, and then slipping a section of lead pipe over them, bending it to the desired length.

Many varieties of orchids are as common in their native tropics as daisies and milkweed in our northern fields. The orchid family, which comprises more than 15,000 species, has several members native to the United States.

South American Indians Trace Culture to 1100s A. D.

WASHINGTON — The Wild West in North America has swapped its guns and tomahawks for dude ranches and open-air movies, but the west is still wild in parts of South America.

Recent reports from Sangarara in the highlands of southern Peru tell of Indian attacks with stones and clubs on a party of mining prospectors. The trouble — quelled by troops and civil guards — was attributed to the aborigines' fear that mining development would bring encroaching settlement and loss of their lands and homes.

The Indians of the high, barren country in the Andes scratch out a meager but independent existence, says the National Geographic Society. Descendents of the Incas, they look back to a civilization that was old in the 16th century when the Spaniards came.

Cusco, only 40 miles northwest of the little town of Sangarara, was the capital of the famous Indian empire that stretched from what is now Peru into Bolivia, Ecuador and Chile, and even sections of Brazil and Argentina.

Legends and relics trace the origin of the Inca movement to the 12th century, when a tribe of Quechua - speaking, sun - worshiping herdsmen settled in the 11,000-foot Cusco valley.

Some students say the cradle of the civilization they founded was probably the mysterious city of Machu Picchu, whose ruins were discovered by Dr. Hiram Bingham in 1911, and excavated by the National Geographic Society and Yale University.

Whatever their beginnings, the Incas, like the Romans, won and held an empire by conquest and organization. Their supreme ruler was called the Inca, from the Quechua word for prince. The power the dynasty came to wield, as its territories expanded and tribute poured in, was one that later dictators might have envied.

Skillful engineers, the Incas built roads and bridges and raised elaborate stone houses and etmples whose mortarless remains baffle present-day architects.

The Inca chiefs organized a vast agricultural kingdom, with fertilized fields, rotated crops, and a grain-storing system. They constructed irrigation works, including walls, steps, and aqueducts still in use. Their metallurgy, pottery and weaving showed striking artistic design and executation.

As with other empires, dissolution of the Inca domain came when the central government was weakened by family and civil strife. Spain's Francisco Pizarro and his gold-seeking followers, having captured and killed the ruling Inca in 1533, met but faint resistance from the demoralized rank and file.

The world's first railroad train to be run by electricity was operated in the United States in 1887.

Find Australian Jellyfish Deadly

SYDNEY, Australia (UP) — A jellyfish found in northern Australian waters is considered the deadliest animal in the world by Frank McNeill, marine zoologist here.

McNeill believes the floating tentacled jellyfish, which stung and killed eight-year-old Clarke Currow at Darwin, was a Cubamedusa jellyfish, also known as a sea wasp.

Clarke was standing in shallow water when the creature drifted against him and wrapped its long wispy streamers about him. The child ran screaming to the beach, collapsed and died within a few minutes.

"The Cubamedusa is deadlier than the most poisonous snake," McNeill said, "and has caused death in less than three minutes."

"More than 12 people have been killed by Cubamedusa stings in northern Australian waters. It is common only in tropical waters, but it has appeared off the Queensland coast.

"The Cubamedusa is about the size of a man's hand, with tentacles between two and four feet long."

Whale Entertains Crowd

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A big whale cavorted under the famed Golden Gate bridge for half an hour, spouting and flipping its tail. Speceators on the bridge thought the whale, more than 200 feet below them in the greenish water, was about 40 feet long.

Super Luxury Dining Cars Seen Ahead

DALLAS, Tex. (INS) — Dining cars with glass-domed tops and elevators to transport the food to three levels are just around the curve on the nation's railroads.

To make dining while traveling even more pleasant, the newest rooms will be equipped with distinctively-colored table linens and dishes.

H. L. Norris of Omaha, Neb., who is manager of the dining cars for the Union Pacific, furnished this look into the future of rail-travel eating at the regional meeting of American Railroad Dining Car Officers in Dallas.

Norris said almost all railroads are experimenting with new equipment in the dining car field.

The Union Pacific's latest, he said, is a three-level car — domed-top upper level, normal level and a step-down dining room.

He explained that the railroads are spending millions on new dining car equipment because:

"A dining car can make awfully good friends for a railroad," and "Well-fed travelers make happy travelers."

Fast Family Foiled

NEW MILFORD, Conn. (AP) — State Policeman William Wallace clocked two automobiles following each other at between 70 and 75 miles an hour. One was driven by Francis Westfall; the other by Westfall's wife, Evelyn. Each was fined $45 in town court on a speeding charge.

Woman Always Travels With Crowd on Journeys

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Sixty-five-year-old Mrs. Alice Thompson of West Chester, Pa., goes places —and takes a crowd with her.

Mrs. Thompson is a travel agent, but a rare one. Maybe the only one of her kind.

She doesn't have a formal organization, and she doesn't make money.

"But," she says. "I sure have a lot of fun."

In the last six years, the tiny, energetic woman has taken thousands of tourists on trips along the eastern coast from Quebec, Canada, to St. Petersburg, Fla.

"About 160 trips," she said, "some long, some short."

She is founder of The Friendship Travel Club, an unusual and loosely knit organization with no charter, an everchanging membership, and dues which hardly anybody pays.

"Anyone who's been on a tour can consider themselves a member," said Mrs. Thompson. "Members are supposed to pay 25 cents a year but they rarely do.

Mrs. Thompson doesn't care. She just wants to travel and she doesn't like to travel alone. That's why she began arranging tours.

"If by some chance we do get a little money in the informal treasury, we turn it over to a needy family," she explained.

Mrs. Thompson hadn't been out of West Chester before she got the idea in 1948 for her travel club.

One of her cousins, who was 85, asked her to go along on a trip to Atlantic City. Mrs. Thompson thought the trip would be more fun if they took a crowd. She ran an advertisement concerning the proposed trip and found others interested. So she hired a bus, arranged for hotel space, and everyone including her 85-year-old cousin had a rip-roaring time.

She decided more tours along the same line would be fun, and started planning them after her son and his family, who had lived with her, moved to Germany.

She put another ad in the paper and answers poured in. In short order, Mrs. Thompson and a bus-load hit the road again.

Now, she knows members of chambers of commerce, hotel owners and restaurant men throughout the East.

Mrs. Thompson says that except for her wanderlust, she's an "old fashioned" woman. She doesn't drink or smoke and prides herself on being a good housekeeper and cook.

Her husband, Frank, a druggist, appreciates her home-making more than her hobby. He has taken only one trip with her.

"He enjoyed it," said Mrs. Thompson. "But he enjoys staying home more."

The nation's first "drive-in" gasoline filling station was believed opened in St. Louis, Missouri in 1905.

Juror Gets Promotion

WAYNESBORO, Va. (AP) — Kenneth R. Givens, a juror, was listening to the evidence in a case in corporation court, when there was an urgent message for him.

There was an emergency and Givens was the only citizen the hospital knew who had a needed type of blood. Judge C. G. Quesenbery recessed court an hour at Givens request. When he returned the jurors made him foreman.

Warners Lure Ethel B. Away From TV Set

By DOROTHY MANNERS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — It will be a sentimental moment when Ethel Barrymore, grand lady of the theatre, drives onto the Warner lot for the first time to join Doris Day and Frank Sinatra in "Young at Heart."

Many years ago John Barrymore was a great star at this studio and although the velvet-throated Ethel has made many films, she has never before worked at Warners.

For the past few years she's been in semi-retirement so it must be a good script to lure her away from her favorite baseball games on TV.

The picture started Monday with Gordon Douglas directing and Henry Blanke producing.

Reason Judy Holliday is out of "My Sister Eileen" is because she must undergo immediate surgery on her foot and she prefers to have the operation done in New York.

Even before she finished "Pffft" she was in great pain—but her mind was eased on learning the growth which has bothered her for some time is not malignant.

Her New York doctor, however, has told Judy that she will be on crutches for at least three months, which means she won't be in any condition to do any high kicking with Janet Leigh when "Eileen" starts at Columbia.

Call him Jack O'Benny from now on! On the level—when Jack was playing in Vancouver the Queen's crack regiment, the Irish Fusiliers, with bagpipes tooting and full ceremony, made Hollywood's Mr. Benny a full honorary colonel and put an "O" in front of his name.

Jack, who's been on tour for months, had a ball in Vancouver. Along with the military honor he also was feted with Jack Benny Day at the racetrack with each race named for one of the characters on his TV program.

Benny is currently in Seattle, recuperating from all the honors heaped on him in Canada.

Hollywood in Shorts: The Van Heflin baby boy, dangerously ill in an incubator for two days, is reported much better.

Anna Marie Alberghetti tripped leaving the stage at the Italian village in San Francisco and sprained her ankle so badly she has to do her act barefoot.

Sugar Ray Robinson didn't get the part of the prizefighter in "Carmen Jones" because Otto Preminger thought he didn't look enough like a fighter! So it went to Joe Adams, KWOL disc jockey.

BEACH PEACH—A pretty girl, a sunny beach and the roar of the sea in the distance, makes the perfect summer symphony of sight and cound. Nancy Kilgas, young starlet, is getting her movie break in the forthcoming musical "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers." In the naughty but nice production, Miss Kilgas plays one of the seven shanghaied brides, co-starring with Jane Powell and Howard Keel.

Pathologists Begin Examination of Body

CHICAGO (AP)—A top-flight team of pathologists began a final examination today of the body of mail order heir Montgomery Ward Thorne in an effort to determine the cause of his mysterious death.

Thorne's body was dug up from its grave yesterday when Coroner Walter E. McCarron obtained an order from the Criminal Court.

McCarron is seeking to determine whether Thorne died a natural death, succumbed to a possible overdose of drugs or was slain June 19, nine days after he made major changes in his will.

Dr. Harry Leon, coroner's physician, has concluded that the 20-year-old Thorne died from a combination of narcotics, a sleeping potion and wood alcohol. He opined that a second person administered narcotics into the youth's veins.

Mexican Dies at 114

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jose Soto died yesterday.

This would not be news except that he was born 114 years ago.

Members of his family who attested to his age said Soto was a young farmhand of 22 when Maximilian's forces invaded his native Mexico.

Ex-Communist Prisoner to Make Freedom Films

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A former prisoner of the Communists—a Polish Army officer—has joined with seven other men in forming the non-profit American Motion Pictures for Freedom.

The ex-prisoner, John Much, now a naturalized citizen of this country, said yesterday:

"We plan to make pictures dealing with life in America and with life in Russia—to show people the difference. The films will be made in various languages."

Child, 3, Plays Tarzan on Automobile Bumper

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Herbert Grageda Jr., 3, grabbed a car's rear bumper yesterday and hung on.

When the car started, he was still there, unbeknown to the driver, Herbert Escarcega, 31.

Three blocks later, shouting pedestrians caused Escarcega to stop. Young Herbert let go, nursing a couple of scraped shins but otherwise okay.

Actress Will Wed

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Kathleen Hughes, 25, and film producer Stanley Rubin will be married next month in a civil ceremony in Los Angeles.

America Helps Out Again: Suez Canal Peace in Sight

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The news that a settlement of the Suez Canal dispute seems to be in sight emphasizes the amazing range of American influence in world affairs.

New proposals which Great Britian has made to Egypt promise to result in an early agreement for the evacuation of the Canal Zone, long the chief British military base in the Middle East.

The United States played a leading part in the negotiations which led to the British proposals.

It played a similar part in the overthrow of the Red-tinged government of Guatemala.

It is playing a similar part in the negotations to end the Trieste dispute and the British-Iranian oil dispute.

All this in in addition to the current United States attempts to get France and Italy to ratify the European Defense Communtiy Pact, to prevent a sell-out peace in Indochina, to keep Red China out of the United Nations and to organize a Southeast Asia security pact.

The Suez Canal dispute is one that does not concern this country directly but has its impact on the determined effort of the United States to settle all issues which keeps the free world divided.

Egypt was long under British influence. Egypt's attempt to win complete independence—and the British withdrawal from Egyptian soil—goes back to the end of World War I.

In 1936 a treaty was signed under which Egypt was to be completely independent. But British troops were to remain in the Canal Zone until the Egyptian Army was strong enough to take it over.

In December 1945, Egypt asked that the 1936 treaty be revised. In 1951, Egypt denounced the treaty.

There were various attempts at negotiations. Things looked promising a year ago but a dearlock was reached last October. Negotiations were stared again in March.

It is understood that President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Winston Churchill agreed on the new British proposals at their recent meeting in Washington.

As in the negotiations of other disputes, an American ambassador has played a key part. This time the part fell to Jefferson Caffery, United States ambassador to Egypt.

For months he has worked in Cario to bring the two sides together. The 67-year-old diplomat from Lafayette, La. has been a State Department trouble shooter at times for more than 40 years. He has served in 13 countries.

One of the handsomest men in the dipolmatic service, he gets along with people and has been called a man who gets things done. He remained a bachelor until he was 50. He says of diplomacy:

"It is an art and not a science. There are no rules in the game."

Revival Signs Shown for Quarry Industry

GRANVILLE, N. Y. (UP)—Quarrying, an industry that has been on the decline in upstate New York for more than a generation is showing signs of revival.

Slate quarry owners and employes in the industry believe the upswing is due partly to recent trends toward more colorful home building designs which originated in Florida and California.

The local district around Granville is said to be one of the best producing areas in the United States and is the sole source of richly colored slate.

Slate quarrying in the section was begun by a group of Welshmen who settled in there in the 1850's and put the industry on a paying basis. Soon after their arrival more than 100 uses of colored slate were developed.

In the early 1900s the industry prospered, but wars and depressions later hit it hard.

Water-Softeners Can Kill House Plants

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP) — Water-softeners can kill house plants, reports a noted flower expert.

Prof. Richard C. Andreason, Cornell University floriculturist, said water-softeners, to be effective, must remove calcium from water and replace it with sodium. But house plants and sodium are non-compatible.

Andreason explained that plants take up water, but leave the sodium in sufficient quantities to kill the plants.

He added that potted plants may perish in a few days, but plants in open soil watered by rain as well as from a tap, may live for several years before death comes.

Before the softening process is set up, the calcium found in the water rarely injures the plant, according to Anderson. He advised use of non-softened water such as rainwater or melted snow.

He also urged that plumbing be changed to permit outside taps and the basement outlet to draw water straight from the main before it goes through the softener.

Double Entries

SPOKANE, Wash. (UP) — Spokane County voters may be somewhat confused when they ballot for sheriff this fall. The incumbent, Ralph M. Smith, a Republican, is expected to run against Ralph M Smith, who has filed on the Democratic ticket.

Jailed for Leaving Accident Scenes

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (UP) — Sammy Casina of Aliquippa is in the Beaver County Jail awaiting grand jury action on charges of failing to stop at the scenes of a number of accidents.

Police said he:

1. Drove through an Aliquippa service station, knocked down a pole and didn't stop.
2. Collided with a car near Aliquippa and didn't stop.
3. Collided with another auto in Coraopolis and didn't stop.
4. Punched a motorist who asked him why he was driving recklessly.
5. Shattered a window pane in his mother's home.

Ice Water Is the Thing for Cooling the Tummy

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UP) — A glass of ice water drops stomach temperature more than a third. That was the report a group of University of Pennsylvania researchers made here at a meeting of biologists.

After you drink a glass of ice water, your stomach temperature falls from around 98 degrees to 63 degrees and doesn't return to normal until 35 minutes later.

Houses, Schools Push Waterford Building to $1,239,322 Valuation

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Construction reached its peak for this year in June, with 213 building permits issued, valued at $1,239,322.

Homes topped the list, with 122 under construction, at a valuation of $866,160. Four additions to schools added another $230,585 to the total.

Four commercial buildings, a garage, two gas stations, and a store, added $60,200. Forty permits were issued for remodeling and additions to homes, valued at $41,882.

Twenty-eight garages, 11 garage and breezeways, a house moving and two remodelings of commercial buildings completed the report from the township supervisors office.

Soldier Presents Scouting Award to Brother, 15

CASS CITY — The only other holder of the Boy Scout "God and Country" award in the area, Pvt. Roger Little presented the award to his brother, Stuart, 15, in a ceremony in First Presbyterian Church Sunday.

The elder Little, who is home on furlough, received the same award four years ago in the same church.

As part of the requirement for the award, Stuart compiled 168 hours of church work.

Imlay Voters OK School Annexations

IMLAY CITY — Voters of Imlay Township Monday approved annexing 24 rural school districts.

Of 71 votes cast, 69 favored the move. The rural schools will vote on the annexation at a later date. It is considered necessary that the school district will have to erect either a new elementary or high school to provide the necessary class rooms.

The second grade this year, with 60 pupils, will hold classes in the Congregational Church house.

Incumbents C. R. VanWagoner and William Knight were re-elected.

New Board of Education officers are H. G. DeCamp, president; James D. Morrice, secretary; Dr. M. C. Van Conant, treasurer.

School Post Filled

NORTH BRANCH — Chris Margrif was elected to the school board Monday, filling the post vacated by Warren Crawford.

New Support Method Urged

Official Says Changed Price Plan Only Key to Dairy Problem

WASHINGTON (INS) — A government farm planner said today he does not believe America can fully solve its dairy surplus problem until it finds a new method of price supports.

The high official, who declined to be quoted publicly, explained that a way must be found to prevent the channeling of huge quantities of fluid milk into the manufacture of butter, cheese and dried milk.

The government now supports dairy products by purchasing these three commodities from processors. The processors, in turn, are supposed to have put the full support price—now 75 per cent of parity—to milk producers.

The official, a close advise to Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, said, however, that the dairy industry must find ways of selling more fluid milk and of making less butter, cheese and dried milk.

He explained that there still is great room for promotion of fluid milk. With the U.S. population continually growing, the spokesman foresees increased outlets for milk.

He said the government may have to work out a system whereby dairy supports are made directly to milk producers. This would keep the producers from selling their milk to processors for manufacturing purposes.

Although both the Agriculture Department and the dairy industry have been promoting increased sales of fluid milk, the official said this is an avenue that still is relatively unexplored.

He believes the American public would drink more milk if better marketing methods were found.

School Distict 4 OKs Tax Boost for Maintenance

METAMORA — Voters of School District No. 4 Monday approved a tax boost of 7½ mills for school maintenance next year.

School will start Sept. 13, with an additional teacher and an added room planned for the district. Six teachers will be on the faculty.

In other action, Percy Clark was elected to succeed Mrs. Mary Andison as trustee. Neville Wood was elected president, succeeding Mrs. Andison; Larry Smith was re-elected secretary and Frank Best was re-named treasurer.

Metamora School Region Names New Officers

METAMORA TOWNSHIP —Mrs. Donald Travis was elected president of Metamora Township's Blood School district.

Other officers named were Donald Travis, secretary, and Mrs. Lloyd Deitz, treasurer.

Gingell Re-elected to Board of Education Job

THOMAS — Lawrence Gingell was re-elected to the board of education for a three year term Monday.

Voters approved Oakland County's coming under the Special Education Act to educate handicapped children.

Marlette Holds Annual School Board Election

MARLETTE — George Teale was re-elected to the Marlette Township Board of Education in the annual balloting Monday.

Unsuccessful candidates were Holgar Rasmussen and Dr. John McCrea.

In the annual school meeting Monday night, the old slate of officers was re-elected. Charles Wood remains as president, Robert Willis as secretary and Teale as treasure

The school board learned that footings are being poured for the new elementary school. The village is putting in water lines and installing fire hydrants around the building. Power lines to the school are being installed by the Detroit Edison Co.

Ferguson Hits Rigid Supports

Senator Says Present Farm Price System Has Failed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) urged the Senate today to scrap the present system of rigid farm price supports which, he said, "has failed."

"It has failed despite the fact that the government now has about 6½ billion dollars tied up in price supports," he said in a speech prepared for Senate delivery. "By the end of this year the figure will probably rise to around 9 billion dollars."

Ferguson, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, is supporting the Eisenhower Administration's proposal to replace the present system with a system of flexible supports for basic crops.

The administration recommended supports ranging between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, a legal standard for farm prices said to give producers a fair return in relation to their costs. The House has voted for flexible supports between 82½ and 90 per cent of parity. But the Senate Agriculture Committee has voted 8-7 to continue the present rigid 90 per cent props for basic crops.

Senate debate on the farm bill is now scheduled to start Monday.

Ferguson said the costs of past farm programs "might not be too alarming if the program was actually working for the over-all benefit of farmers, but when the program actually hurts rather than helps agriculture the cost seems indefensible."

Dublin Voters OK 6-Mill Tax Increase

DUBLIN — Voters approved a 6-mill tax increase, 88-55 Monday, and elected Calvin Coffey and C. L. Breit to three year Board of Education terms.

The millage increase will be used to create a building fund for future construction.

Defeated candidates for the posts were Ferdinand Vetter and Ralph Bergsma.

New officers of the school board, named at the annual meeting following the election, are Nicholas Lup, president; Carlton Richmond, secretary; and C. F. Coffey, treasurer.

Scouts to Hold Potluck

IMALY CITY — The newly organized Cub Scout pack here will hold a family picnic and potluck supper at Roadside Park tomorrow. The Lions Club sponsors the pack.

Board Expects Data in 2 Weeks

Survey Is Being Made With View to Providing Fire Protection

DRAYTON PLAINS — Within two weeks, a report on potential water sources in this area will be presented to the Waterford Township Board.

The board has employed the Layne Northern Co. to make a water supply survey test, with an eye to providing fire protection for village residents and merchant

In case of fire now, firemen must obtain water from the Clinton river, according to Lloyd Anderson, township supervisor.

The long-range view has a water system for the entire area in mind. Currently, water is supplied by individual wells, with septic tanks used for sewage.

If the Layne Northern tests prove positive, drilling will be ordered, said Louis Berry, township clerk.

In other business at this week's meeting, the Township Board approved paying half the cost for lowering the level of Crescent Lake road, from the south boundary of the high school to M 59. The lowering will provide a better grade.

The remaining 50 per cent will be paid by the school board.

The contract for remodeling firemen's quarters at Station No. 1 was let to Stewart and Sons, the low bidders.

Styles Asphalt and Paving Co. will blacktop the Drayton Plains parking lot and alley, with area merchants financing 50 per cent of the cost.

In addition to accepting the June reports from the police chief and treasurer, the board approved a plat for the Lloyd E. Thomas subdivision, off Andersonville road.

Ferndale Restricts Ice Cream Vending

FERNDALE — Stemming from an accident in which a 7-year-old boy was killed after buying ice cream from a street vendor, an ordinance which regulates the sale of ice cream on city streets was passed by the City Commission yesterday.

Under the ordinance, sales to children under 12 are barred unless they are at the sidewalk and salesmen are required to be at least 18 years old.

Timothy Hodgson of 1177 Earl was killed recently when he stepped into the path of an auto after making a purchase from a vendor.

Romeo School Board Picks Temporary Head

ROMEO — Board of Education member Allen Rush was elected temporary chairman last night, pending an organizational meeting scheduled for July 20.

Board member Walter Sewell, elected Monday was sworn into office. Dr. Ralph G. Renwick, also elected Monday, will be sworn in when he returns from a vacation.

Pontiac Man Elected President at Reunion

CASS CITY—Robert Pearson of Pontiac was elected president at the 32nd annual Vance Family Reunion held last week near Imlay City. Mrs. R. C. Vance of Pontiac was named secretary-treasurer.

Next year's reunion will be held in Pontiac.

DIANA TARDUGNO

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Tardugno of Lake Orion have announced the engagement of their daughter, Diana, to Henry Hoppe, son of Henry Hoppe St., also of Lake Orion.

Oxford Council Hears Bids on Storm Sewers

OXFORD — At a special meeting of the village council last night, members heard bids varying from $28,889 to $90,710 for storm sewers.

Representatives of excavation firms gave their estimates of the cost of eliminating standing water on certain streets during the spring.

A special meeting to discuss the problem further was set for July 19.

Farm Proprietors Set to Host Guernsey 'Assn.

Hosting the annual picnic and judging school of the Thumb District Guernsey Assn. tomorrow will be the Shue and Plagens Farm proprietors at Memphis.

The affair will get under way at 10:30 a.m., with lunch planned for noon.

All Guernsey breeders and their friends are welcome to attend the meeting, according to Alfred G. Engelhardt, of the association.

25 More Planning Agents to Aid New Farm Families

By BURDETTE B. ASHLEY
Associated Press Farm Writer

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — When all of the 25 new farm and home planning agents have been assigned and start work throughout the state a program of tremendous long range importance will be underway for younger farm families expecially.

Emphasis will be on well rounded plans for all phases of farm operation and farm living.

Much of the past work of farm agents and MSC extension specialists has been of a "spot" nature; that is, how to grow a crop, or how to raise a certain type of farm animal.

That kind of advice will have its place, as D. B. Varner, director of MSC Extension Service points out. But for the younger families, still trying to win and hold a start in the farming business, an over-all plan has become vitally important.

Farm investment figures indicate just how important that is. Varner says in 1940 the average investment per farm worker on an average farm was $4,000. Today that investment is about $20,000, he says.

School Board Gets Two New Members

OXFORD — New Board of Education members as a result of Monday's elections are Robert Parenti and Ralph Curtis.

They succeeded board president Lee Van Wagoner and Harold Campbell, who retired after six years of service.

Voters approved Oakland county's participation in the Special Education Act for the schooling of handicapped children, 67-9.

The school board set the school year at 9½ months. The board members also approved transferring 60 per cent of the excess tuition money from the general fund to the debt retirement fund.

New officers of the board are Carl Buechler, president; Parenti, vice president; Mrs. Harold Houck, secretary; and Edmund Unger, treasurer.

Oak Grove Camp Rally to Begin Friday Night

Holly Folks Delight in New Beach

By HARRY J. REED

HOLLY — Youngsters and adults of the Holly area are taking summer heat pretty cool — in their own recently created community beach.

And although the sandy shore is only a few weeks old, plans are underway to enlarge it, perhaps to two or three times its present frontage.

The history of the 250-foot frontage off Thomas street on Bush Lake shows complete cooperation of the entire community since plans were laid in 1952.

What was a black muck stretch of weeds and cattails was turned into a pleasant bathing spot, complete with tables and stoves for picnicking.

Voters approved a $2,000 sum to spuchase the land in 1952 and the project was underway. The muck was blown out into the lake, and a gently sloping sandy beach stretching out 15 feet into the water replaced it.

The gradualness of the descent makes it a haven for mothers with small children in the hot weather. Their youngsters can play safely without danger of drop-offs.

Local contractors did much of the work at cost, and funds for the equipment came from the community chest, and Board of Commerce, and the Kiwanis Club and residents.

With a construction committee of Morris Fein, William Wheller, Walter Lentz, and Ray Dubbert, work advanced rapidly. Fifteen picnic tables appeared on the site, donated by local merchants. A neighboring stove manufacturer placed his company's products out for cooking picnic meals. The Junior Chamber of Commerce came up with a raft to be anchored in the deeper section of the beach.

Much of the funds for the project came from residents in the area enthusiastic over the idea of a community beach.

Local officials are now discussing expansion along the northern shore of the lake, perhaps doubling or tripling the present site.

Do you realize how fast America is growing?

(...and making new opportunities for you!)

Right now America is in a period of tremendous growth. In the long run, this means more jobs, more money, more security, more homes and more opportunities for all of us. Whether you're an industrial worker, a farmer, a housewife or a businessman—you can profit from America's new and soaring growth. Here are nine ways America is growing now as it has never grown before – giving millions of Americans opportunities they have never had before!

11,000 BABIES are born in the U.S. every day! Each month we add to our population enough people to make a Richmond, Va., or a Syracuse, N. Y. This means a huge new demand for everything we eat, wear or enjoy.

MORE JOBS— Even though employment in some cases has fallen off, we still have twenty million more jobs than in 1939. And every time a new invention comes along it means even more jobs.

MORE MONEY— In spite of inflation and higher prices, the American people have over twice as much spending power now as they had in 1940. Nine times as many Americans now have an income of $5,000-plus.

FARM MACHINES produce far more than ever before. Though our population has had a net shift of almost six million away from farms since 1940, there has been a 52% increase of farm out-put per man-hour.

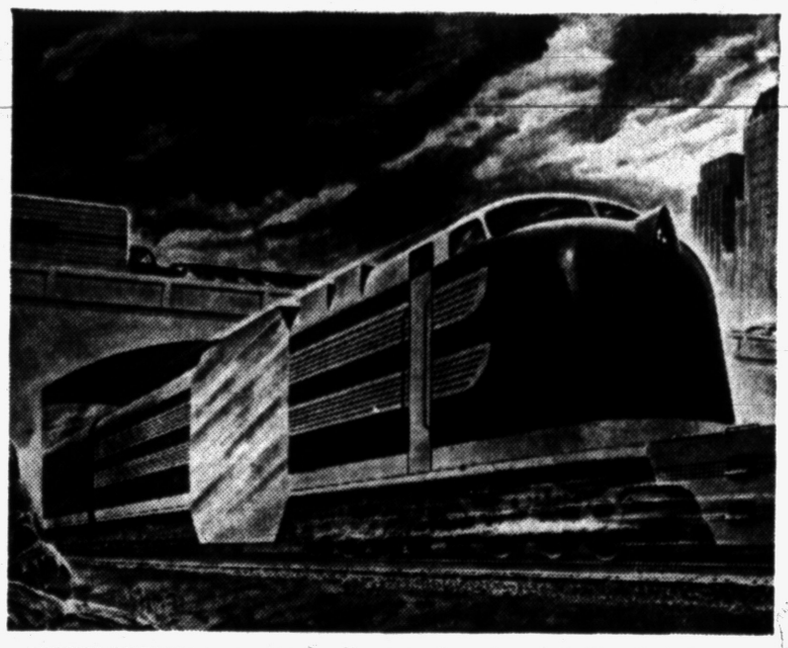

MORE STUDENTS are in our high schools and colleges. (Present college enrollment: 2,377,000.) This means that tomorrow's American public will be the best-informed and most productive public in our history.

INDUSTRIAL GENIUS — America's know-how with machines has tremendously increased output. Today 98% of all work is done by machines. There's more power in a modern automobile than in the average factory of 1890.

LEISURE TIME and travel time are on the upgrade in America. Forty million Americans get paid vacations. This is a great boon to the hotel and transportation business, to the sports, hobby and entertainment fields.

ATOMIC ENERGY opens up a dazzling new vista of opportunities. Soon locomotives can be driven by atomic energy, as well as power plants, planes, cars. Barring war, the atomic age should be America's greatest age!

SPIRITUAL INTEREST in the U.S. is growing fast. Membership in religious congregations has increased at twice the rate of our population growth. Our religious gains will help us make the most of our material gains.

The better you know America, the better the future looks!

Women's Favorite, the Suit, Gains Glamor

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—The American woman's first love, the suit, gains new glamor as presented by that old master tailor Ben Zuckerman in a trend-setting collection for fall.

The longer (wrist-length) semi-fitted suit, in high-color tweed, with matching satin lining, weskit, revers or Ascot, is the star of the collection. It is shown in vivid ceramic blue, ruby red, jade green and purple, as well as in the less sensational vicuna and steel gray tones. The flat round collar is a signature this season.

* * *

The semifitted, carefully shaped silhouette emerges at its best in this collection in both coats and suits. There is an ease and smoothness to the line that denotes perfect fit and room to breathe.

Next to the long-jacket suit in importance is the suit with tapered loose jacket that gently hugs the hips. Many of the dressier suits are collared in white mink or dark sable, while a number of fur scrafs are shown with coats. Dressmaker touches such as jeweled buttons and pins add a feminine touch to many of the suits.

* * *

The "Blouson" suit is starred by Harry Frechtel, who shows it in many fabrics and versions, along with the wide-collared corseted midriff suit and the costume consisting of seven-eighths coat and coordinated dress.

Open, stand-away collars, flat and wide, give a new look to many of the suits. Some are horseshoe-shaped, others square or portrait in line.

Herbert Sondheim places his bets on "palomino" beige and "burnt sugar" brown as favorite colors for everything from suits to evening gowns. He also spotlights a new rustic slub weave of a blend of Dacron, worsted and silk in a group of outfits perfect for travel or office wear.

* * *

An outstanding collection of today was that designed by Patric for Miss America, featuring glamour cocktail and evening gowns and suits with low, round collars starting sometimes halfway to the shoulders. Important is the "double petunia" tiered silhouette for after-5 dresses.

Firm-textured black and white imported tweed for a narrow-line box jacket costume highlights the Herbert Sondheim fall collection of suits. The small-collared black wool jersey bodice of the dress is tied under with a red taffeta bow matching the jacket lining. Rhinestone buttons fasten the skirt tabs and the jacket.

Harry Frechtel's notched shawl-collared suit is of imported black and white pepper tweed. Buttonholes are worked into one side of the collar and buttons are dotted on the other side.

Playthings Grow More and More Realistic

America's Do-It-Yourself Trend Even Invades Santa's Toyland for Christmas '54

NEW YORK (INS) — Toys with a "do-it-yourself" motif will crowd Santa's pack next Christmas.

The "do-it" fad that's sweeping adult America was reflected today at the annual Toy Guidance Council exhibit of new American playthings in production for the 1954 Christmas season.

Old favorites like cuddly toys, cowboy outfits, fancy dolls and toy cars were still very much present, but even the old favorites showed new ideas. Most of the 600 items on display were planned to permit children to build, assemble or create something.

Youngsters who made model old cars last year now can put together low-slung European sports cars, either in metal or cheaper plastic sets.

Dollhouses now are being made ranch style, with modern-style furniture to match. Even rocking horses have put on an extra speed and now offer a choice of trot or gallop.

Melvin Freud, president of the Toy Guidance Council, said the toys are getting more realistic than ever. He pointed to the fact that model cars now feature workable windshield wipers, and the latest items in doll's wear are real miniature nylon stockings, wired bras, and girdles with a two-way stretch and satin garters.

There were many more toys permitting children to copy their parents — and learn household chores at the same time.

Fancy metal or plastic kits now permit youngsters to do a real job on everything from floor mopping to car washing. Toy vacuum cleaners come powered by flashlight battery and really suck up dirt.

Toys for little girls particularly emphasized grownup ways. The newest dollhouse, a one-story affair with patio, brags five full rooms of furniture intended for rearranging.

Baby dolls will be sold in cradles, complete with satin comforters. And precocious young ladies with a serious eye on the future can practice getting married with a new bride's set that contains wedding veil, bouquet, pearl necklace and a shiny wedding ring.

Little boys will be more western than Martian. According to Freud, "space" toys are losing popularity, but the two-gun trend is as strong as ever. The newest in rifles for the junior marksman even shoots bullets—of cork.

Freud said three old favorites—stilts, pogo sticks and miniature pool tables — are enjoying an unexplained revival. Another revived item—toy golf clubs—he traced to the influence of President Eisenhower.

The toy expert had a soothing word for parents. He said prices will remain at '53 levels, and there's a faint possibility prices will go down on some toys.

Philip Moses' Poodle Proudly Shows Off Nine Puppies

Flossie Puts On the Dog for Her Bloomfield Owners

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Flossie, the beautiful silver miniature poodle belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Philip Moses of East Long Lake road, presented her owners with a litter of nine thoroughbred puppies on Monday. This is a large family for a little dog who is properly listed as "Road Coach Bagatelle".

Mrs. Saunders

Flossie's last family developed five show dogs out of seven puppies.

Mrs. Moses is devoted to her dogs, among which are several other poodles who have entered the show world.

Next Wednesday Mrs. Moses will entertain at a luncheon and a few close friends will be allowed to see the new arrivals.

Joan Yenor Is Honored at 2 Parties

Showers Given for the Bride-Elect of James Peters

Joan Yenor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Yenor of Drayton Plains, was honored at two bridal showers. She will speak her vows on Aug. 21 in Our Lady of the Lakes Church with James Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip A. Peters of Martell street.

The Royal Oak home of Mrs. Philip M. Peters was the setting for a miscellaneous shower on Sunday. Local guests included Mrs. Yenor, Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Roy Biehn, Mrs. R. A. Lamb and Barbara Barret.

Others were Mrs. Bud Meeker, Mrs. William Morrison and Mrs. Richard Brockton, all of Birmingham, and Mrs. Richard Morrison of Clawson.

Mrs. George Morrison, Mary Ellen Morrison, Mrs. Hugh Morrison, Mrs. Robert Morrison and Mrs. Joseph Morrison came from Midland, and Saginaw guests included Mrs. Herbert Heffernan, Mrs. James Loviska and Mrs. Charles Haas.

On Saturday Mrs. Charles Starrs opened her Lake Orion home for a shower attended by Joan's Nazareth College classmates.

Guests included Mrs. Yenor and Mrs. Peters, Mrs. David McEvoy, Adelaide Miller, Rosemary Euth, Mrs. Albert Leslie, Frances Shields, Diana Pilara, Pat Sweet and Mrs. Robert Budnik.

Mrs. L. C. Anderson, Mrs. George Cocian, Ethelyn Best and Mrs. Bud Ferrara completed the list.

Mrs. Koop Feted at Combined Party

Mrs. Arthur Koop of Drayton Plains was honored Monday evening at a combination farewell party and baby shower. Mrs. Koop will be leaving soon to make her home in Florida. Mrs. Philip Beehler and Mrs. Elton Caudle were hostesses at the Georgeland street home of Mrs. Beehler.

Guests at the shower were Mrs. Val Glover, Mrs. Bruce Hetherington, Mrs. Linwood Koop, Mrs. Robert Caudle, Mrs. Rudolph Koop, Mrs. Richard Koop and Mrs. Douglas Laidlow.

Others were Genevieve Smith, Mrs. Fred Koop, Doris Koop, Mrs. Louise Megiveron, Mrs. Leslie Powell, Mrs. Harry McGrath, Mrs. Willard Taylor, Mrs. Bernard Fulkerson and Bertha Koop.

MR. and MRS. EARL W. SKROBECK

Honeymooning in northern Michigan are Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Skrobeck who were married Saturday evening in Oakland Park Methodist Church. She is the former Ann Fitzpatrick, daughter of the Emmett Fitzpatricks of West Hopkins avenue, and the Wesley Skrobecks of Drayton Plains are his parents.

Ann Fitzpatrick Speaks Vows in Methodist Church

Ann Fitzpatrick and Earl Wesley Skrobeck spoke their marriage vows Saturday evening in Oakland Park Methodist Church.

She is the daughter of the Emmett Fitzpatricks of West Hopkins avenue, and the Wesley Skrobecks of Drayton Plains are his parents.

A waltz-length gown of white satin and Chantilly lace with a Peter Pan collar and long pointed sleeves was chosen by the bride. Her seed pearl crown held a fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis on a white prayerbook.

Doris Miller wore a sea blue gown of tulle over taffeta with a matching headpiece for her duties as bridesmaid. She carried a bouquet of roses.

Gail Fitzpatrick, the bride's sister, Mrs. Mary Bridgewater, another sister, and Kay Trager were the other attendants. They were gowned in blue, pink and yellow, respectively.

James Laufner was best man, and seating the guests were Robert Rowan and Douglas Magrum.

A honey beige dress of soft nylon was worn by Mrs. Fitzpatrick for Ann's wedding, and Earl's mother wore an organdy dress of cocoa brown with pink accessories and a pink rose corsage. Mrs. Fitzpatrick chose a corsage of yellow roses.

Knights of Pythias Hall was the setting for the reception, after which the new Mrs. Skrobeck donned a blue linen suit with white accessories for a two-week trip to northern Michigan. When they return the newlyweds will reside on West Longfellow avenue.

Women of Moose Hold Chapter Night

Women of the Moose held Officers Chapter Night in the clubrooms Monday evening. Officers of the Loyal Order of the Moose were honored guests.

Giving brief addresses for the evening were Ben Seymour, Whitney Murphy, John Baxter, Lloyd Labarge, Richard Huck and Lawrence Cavalier.

Mrs. Henry Godin was installed as treasurer. Candidates initiated in honor of Mrs. Howard McCandless were Mrs. Norman Carle and Edith Downing. July 19 is the date for the next meeting.

Accent Black Outfit

Don't overlook the importance of black and white for summer. You might include in your wardrobe just one black cotton dress, and follow the vogue by accessorizing it with only black and white, even including your jewelry. It will provide a refreshing change from your many colored ensembles.

Designers Create Extra Nooks

Storage Space Increases

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Storage space turns up in unexpected places, even under the bed and behind twin mirrors.

Designers show great ingenuity in building storage room into all kinds of furniture — they're constantly discovering extra inches where there seems to be none at all.

A bedding box sofette stays slim, although its top lifts up to show room enough for two pillows, sheets and blankets.

The tweedy fabric and the bolsters provide daytime seating style, but the bedding is always close at hand when the clock strikes bedtime.

The twin mirrors are sliding doors on an unusual top deck storage unit. It follows the trend toward reaching upward for starage room so no extra inches of floor space are used.

With all that mirror surface and the room behind it, this unit performs vanity dressing table service for the room that would otherwise do without.

It's State of Being Useful

Employment Not Just Holding Job

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mr. A., an architectural draftsman, has recently been dismissed from his job. Though he has no immediate cause for money worry, this fact does not comfort him.

Loss of his job has sunk him into a depression from which he emerges only to find fault with the children and shout at Mrs. A.

She writes, "My husband insists that the children treat him with less respect and that I condone it. The hurt has gone so deep I can find no way to comfort him . . . "

What a hypnotized man! Why is he hurt? What is the fact of Mr. A.'s experience that seems so humiliating? One man has told another man that he does not find him useful. Well?

Human beings are constantly telling each other this sort of thing. There's nothing unusual about it. And indeed, they have a right to their disparaging opinions of our usefulness. They have the right to fire us if they believe we've lost it.

But our usefulness just happens to be something we control. Oh, an employer can reject it for himself and his clients. He can say, "Mr. A., so far as I'm concerned, you're a dud."

But beyond the range of the office, factory or plant where he exerts control, we are free as air to be as useful as we please.

The trouble is, we have the word "employment" all tangled up with commercial gobbledgook.? We've been hypnotized into believing it's involved with wages, timeclocks, help-wanted ads and hirings and firings.

But the dictionary definition of the word "employment" makes no reference to this external stuff at all. It defines employment as a "state of being useful."

So employers have really no control whatever upon our employment. We are its directors.

Once we know this, the opinions of employers cease to exert much influence on this.

Oh, of course we take the practical steps to regain commercial employment. But to confuse it with usefulness? No, sir. Instead of wasting time in depression, we affirm our usefulness with increased vigor.

We build kitchen shelves we've never had time for. We sit in on classes at the children's school. We plant and dig in the garden. We operate on the idea that our employer's rejection of our usefulness gives us a chance to give it elsewhere.

It is not a job, but moral perception which Mr. A. needs right now.

Whether we're in jobs or out of them, our basic work is claiming our right to unbroken continuity of usefulness.

IF tall figure—

Belted tweed, double-breasted low buttoning, hemline near the top of the calf, larger hat, these contribute to a shorter silhouette.

Mrs. T. F. — The trend is to larger hats, many tunic suits, both belted and princess tunics, flaring gracefully or pared down over slim skirts. Handsome tweeds, hairy fleeces and velours make up the fall luxury fabrics.

Dried Toast Helps to Strengthen Jaws

After Baby gets his first teeth, you can start feeding him unsweetened zwieback or toast dried in the oven. He will welcome it as a snack, or after meals. Chief reason for giving Baby dried bread is to let him exercise his jaws.

You may also give him dried fruits (apricots or prunes but crackers do not replace the bread since they soften up in his mouth.

Girl Engrossed in Work Arouses Men's Interest

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Meeting new friends, particularly men, is one of the biggest problems of the young career girl in a big city.

Many times, her efforts to solve the problem are worse than useless. She joins church groups, takes endless courses, does all kinds of volunteer work.

But too often, she pays no attention to the little matter of her own interests.

If she joins a church group just to meet men, and without any sympathy or interest in the work of the church or what it stands for; if she takes courses that have no meaning for her; and if she does volunteer work that her heart isn't in—she is going to attract nobody.

She will look like what she is — a frenzied opportunist, lonely and wistful and trying to fill her time with busywork.

Josephine learned that the hard way.

When I met her she was 29, with a "good" job, nice clothes, and a tiny apartment of her own.

But she had no men friends, and she was worried to death at the prospect of never marrying.

She had done all the wrong things, joined all the wrong activities—wrong, because they hadn't interested her.

We dug and dug, and found that she was honestly interested in the prevention of polio. As a child, she had the disease and had recovered.

She was deeply interested in the research going on in the field, and every year she made a generous contribution in response to the fund-raising campaign.

At my suggestion, she became a volunteer herself, and when campaign month came along Josephine was one of the girls who rang doorbells to solicit funds for research in polio.

She knew what she was talking about, and she was intensely interested. She did a wonderful job —almost nobody could resist her sales talk.

At one of the apartments in her territory, the door was answered by a very attractive young man. He and his mother were painting the bookcases, but he asked her in and listened to her sales talk.

The mother got interested, too, and shortly they had asked Josephine to stay for coffee and chat while they finished their painting.

That was last January.

Josephine and the young man have been going steady ever since, and just the other day I got their wedding invitation.

The moral is that you can only attract other people when you're so interested in what you're doing that you forget to think about whether you're attracting anybody!

Should Go to Another Restaurant

No Other Way for Reader to Escape Boring Company

By EMILY POST

A young woman asks: "How can one avoid having lunch with casual acquaintances when an absorbing book is preferred to the dullest of routine conversation?

"So often it happens that fellow workers in our company will come into our neighborhood restaurant and ask if they may set at my table. Away goes the book and on comes boring conversation.

"But for the life of me I haven't been able to think of any polite escape. Have you any suggestions?

Answer: I'm sorry, but the only solution I can think of is to choose another restaurant at a greater distance from your office.

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me at which side of the plate the napkin is put—the right or the left? (2) I would also like to know if, when serving a shrimp cocktail in a stemmed glass, it is proper to put a doily between the glass and the plate on which the shrimp cocktail stands?

Answer: (1) Correctly the napkin is put on the place plate—meaning whichever plate is put at each place when the table is set. If the first course is served on this plate when the table is set, then the napkin is folded and put at the left of the place plate. (2) No doily is necessary.

Dear Mrs. Post: How old should a flower girl be? I would like very much to have my niece, who is almost 8, act as flower girl at my wedding, but I am told she is too old. If so, is there any other way that I can include her?

Answer: Unless she is very small for her age, it will be best for her to be a junior bridesmaid. From 4 to 6 years is the ideal age for a flower girl.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

Jimmy's mother never gets in a car pool with other mothers, or offers to take her turn at driving. Instead she apparently tells Jimmy to see if he can't get a ride with someone else.

It's poor training to teach a child to bum his way instead of paying as he goes.

The most famous apple tree in the world is the one under which Gen. Robert E. Lee surrendered to Gen. U. S. Grant on April 9, 1865, at Appomattox, Virginia.

Try It

Make Rustic Club Award

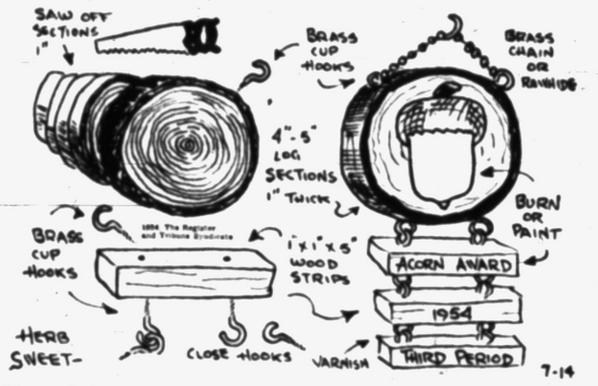

Perhaps you belong to a club which gives simple awards for various activities. It always seems nicer to me if these awards can be made by club members, and this not only means more to the person who receives them, but it also is inexpensive.

This simple award is durable, rustic, and easily made. It would be fine for any kind of an award for an out-of-doors group.

The main part is cut from a section of tree trunk 1-inch thick. The bark can be left on or taken off. Fasten brass cup hooks into the top and bottom, and run brass chain or rawhide through the top ones for hanging.

Short sections of wood strips can be added below this for wording. Use screw eyes for this, only pinch them closed. Put your club symbol and the wording on with a burning pencil or paints, or use the two together.

You might like to make a large one of these to keep for the club, then make miniature ones for the different awards. This idea could be used too for making a roll call of all of the member's names.

Karen Stark Bets Upon Snug, Rounded Look

'Oh, You Beautiful Doll' Will Be High-Fashion Theme for Fall

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — To be in the fashion swing next fall and winter, a woman must look like a little doll — or a big doll, depending upon her preference and physique.

That is the word, anyway, of Karen Stark, prize-winning designer for Harvey Berin, Ltds., who showed her newest collection before visiting fashion editors from throughout the nation.

Miss Stark believes in snug, doll-waisted dresses with picturesquely rounded hips and rounded shoulders. Collars are Peter-Panish, only larger than usual. And large, sometimes fringed bows pop out primly at the neckline.

This silhouette, just as molding as last year's, is designed for women with well-proportioned figures. There is no artifice in it.

For women who have things to conceal — or who just like pretty, easy-going clothes — Originala coats has the plushest line of loose fall and winter coats in many a stylish year.

Their designer predicts that the smartest new shape for '54 will be the moderately full, big-collared fleece or vicuna coat.

The three-word description that best describes the new coat picture is "straight, full-bodied and swaggery."

Originala has many double-breasted straight coats in its latest collection, with a new kind of lapel that is notched low across the bustline, rather than between bust and shoulder.

The military look returns to the coat picture too, in the form of a guardsman coat with a half-belt in back and double-breasted gilt buttoning in front.

Camel's hair is making a big comeback in high-fashion coats, and Originala shows many of them —not only for the career and school girl, but also for the chic woman-about-town to wear during the day.

They are not the straight boy's coat models that are classic in camel's hair. Instead they're made with wide collars and high-placed flap pockets, to give them a new oomph.

For women with plenty of good taste and good money, there are two interesting new fashions: A snow-colored vicuna coat lined in tawny nutria and a reversible model that is Russian sable on one side and creamy, furry vicuna on the other.

The latter is undoubtedly a practical fashion, but it's not cheap even at half the price — $10,000!

Black silk satin is embellished with Alencon lace in this Harvey Berin cocktail dress designed by Karen Stark for fall. The lace cutouts are appliqued on nude satin and worked around stitched sections of the satin.

Originala's afternoon to after-dark coat of white Originala fleece is trimmed with nutria. The fur continues in tuxedo banding down the sides.

Poise Develops Happy Outlook

Some older women, who've learned the art of make-up, possess a good figure and have excellent clothes sense, could be stunning.

But a few unbecoming manners, isms prevent them from being the poised, extremely attractive women they should and could be.

Like the woman, for instance, who'll whip out her compact, comb and lipstick to repair her makeup in a crowded restaurant, in the middle of her dinner partner's conversation.

Or another, who twiddles her unusual bracelet while her friend desperately tries to describe her new dress.

John M. Sheck Claims Bride in Rochester Rite

Eria Elvira Roundy became the bride of John Martin Sheck Saturday afternoon. The Rev. William H. Collycott performed the service in his home in Rochester.

For her wedding, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Roundy of Rochester chose a crisp white sleeveless organdy gown with a portrait neckline which descended into a deep V.

The fitted bodice was accented with tiny covered buttons to the waist. The shirred tiered skirt was ballerina-length, and her elbow-length veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls and iridescent sequins.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white shattered carnations centered with a white gardenia. Her only jewelry was a seed pearl necklace.

The bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. George Sheck, served as the bride's only attendant. Her yellow marquisette ballerina-length gown was accented with a colonial type bouquet of blue carnations.

Performing the duties of best man for his brother was George Sheck. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Sheck of Pontiac.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Roundy wore a black and white stripe nylon frock with white accessories. Her corsage was composed of red roses. Mrs. Sheck chose a beige faille dress with red accessories and a corsage of red roses.

A lawn reception for 75 guests was held in the evening at the home of the bride's parents. The newlyweds are residing at Watkins Lake.

How Short Is Short?

We have had many inquiries concerning the length of hair for hot weather. The term 'short hair' or shorter hair is relative. It has to be. What is cute on one will be ghastly on another. The variety of short hair styles this year gives most of us an opportunity to wear it short and be in the swing. I wish to caution you in your choice of one of these shorties. The proper choice for you depends on the texture of your hair, your features and height. Line is often more important than actual length of the hair. So you can see that length of hair and style of hairdress is individual and a decision must be made by each person. But this, I think, is an advantage for it keeps us from all looking alike. Imagine a whole Pontiac of Italian boys or pixies.

Cocoa Cake Real Study in Brown

Chocolate Creation Topped by Mocha Frosting

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

A brown study — that's what this Quick Cocoa Cake with Mocha Frosting is. Mrs. Rudolph Hartman says it is her stand-by whenever she is asked to take a cake to a potluck.

Like so many mothers of today, Mrs. Hartman has a part-time job. She saves as many free hours as possible for her three children. Membership in Hadassah and occasional meetings with the Queen of Clubs, a bridge group at the YWCA, is all she manages to find time for in the way of recreation.

QUICK COCOA CAKE
By Mrs. Rudolph Hartman

6 tablespoons cocoa
2 cups sifted flour
1¼ cups sugar
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
¾ cup butter or margarine, melted
1 cup cold water

Sift dry ingredients into bowl. Add the rest of the ingredients, but do not stir until all are in. Beat well. Bake in 2 greased layer pans or one 8x8-inch pan. Bake in 350-degree oven 20-25 minutes for layers or 40 minutes for loaf. This recipe may be made half again as large for a 9x13 pan. Frost with Mocha Frosting.

Mocha Frosting

1 pound XXXX sugar
2-3 tablespoons cocoa
2 tablespoons instant coffee
½ cup butter or margarine
4-8 tablespoons milk

Cream butter, add sugar gradually with milk. When about half of the sugar and milk have been used, add the instant coffee and enough cocoa to make the frosting a light brown to contrast with the darker brown of the cake. Add rest of sugar and milk until mixture is proper consistency for spreading.

Much of the central area of Australia is considered unproductive, due chiefly to a lack of natural water.

Investigation, according to Prince Christopher, disclosed that the lady had been ill-treated by her husband and had died of grief. After her burial, her ghost got to be such a nuisance about the place, constantly appearing to people occupying the room in which her portrait hung, that the picture was taken out of the house proper and put in the gallery where people went only occasionally. So then she formed the habit of roaming the countryside, appearing mostly to persons with titles.

"I don't know why I see ghosts when others do not," Prince Christopher said to me thoughtfully. "But even if I hadn't seen them I'm sure I'd never say, as some people do, that they don't exist."

Prince Christopher was my first real contact with royalty — and curiously enough, as I explained to him, when he met me he added still another ghost to his list, for I ghosted his life story for a magazine. He had never heard the American expression "ghost," denoting one person who writes for another, and was enormously entertained.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Royal Greek Was Trailed Through Life by Spirits

Alice, who had just been in an auto wreck, burst excitedly into the room last night to tell about it, and somebody said, "She looks as if she's seen a ghost."

I hadn't heard the expression for a long time, and I began to think right away of the most persistent ghost see-er I've ever known, the late Prince Christopher of Greece.

Miss McBride

Even his little dog, I remember, was constantly barking at something that, for me at least, had no form and substance. But the dog's behavior ruffled the prince no more than his own odd experiences

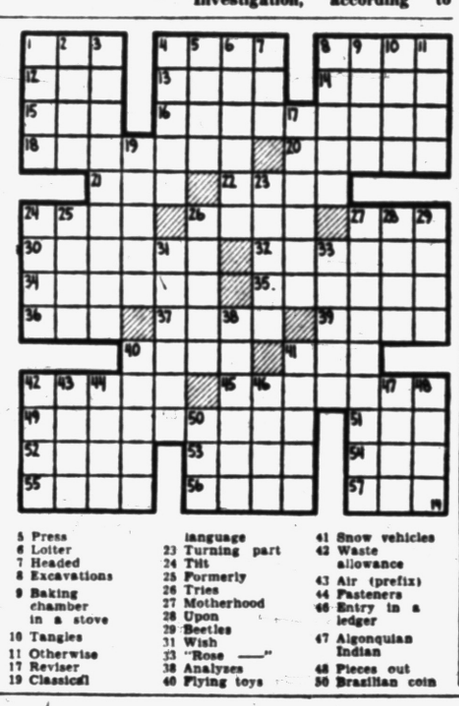

The ghosts began, he told me, when he was a little boy in the old palace in Athens where he lived with his royal father and a number of brothers and sisters. The first haunt was a noise that sounded as if a big iron stake were being driven into the wall down in the cellar three floors below.

The next was a shuffling and muttering in a locked, unused room next to his own. When a key was found and the connecting door opened, thick dust lay on everything and it was obvious that no living person or thing had been there for weeks. But the shuffling and muttering continued night after night, alternating with the stake-driving.

The first shade the prince actually met face-to-face was at Sandringham House where he had gone to visit his aunt, the late Queen Alexandria of England.

One evening as he was getting ready for dinner, he saw a woman's face looking at him out of the mirror of his dressing table. She stayed long enough for him to note her tight, curly hairdo of the early 17th Century, her puffed sleeves and the small black mask over her eyes.

The next day when his Aunt Alix took him to an untenanted castle 12 miles away to see some objects of art, one of the portraits was the lady in the mirror, only this time she held the mask in her hand.

Comfortable Men's Slacks Becoming Stylish as Well

DALLAS, Tex. (INS — Slacks, the increasingly popular men's pleated trousers, are what happened when U.S. males sought more comfort in their dress.

But what is now happening to slacks is putting the popular pants into the style as well as the comfort class.

This is the word from the world's largest manufacturer of men's slacks, who turns out more of the pleated pants in a half hour than the average man owns in a lifetime.

Ed R. Haggar, youthful president and overseer of the company's four Texas plants, explains it this way:

"Slacks gained their first real popularity with the advent of the 40-hour week. Men had more leisure time and they wanted more comfortable clothes to spend it in."

Now they've become so attached to the easy-wearing pants, he added, that designers and manufacturers have gone all out to style them so they'll be equally acceptable on the golf course and in a business office.

In fact, the slack and sport coat combination has become so popular, the conventional suit designers are more than a little worried.

The present trend in slacks (anything new in men's clothing is just a trend because the males won't accept drastic changes) is toward high colors and comfortable, easy-to-care-for materials.

Port wine is named after the town of Oporto, Portugal.

Power Brake Engineers Credited for Saving Lives

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

SANDOVAL, Ill. (INS) — I've been a bit of an engineering snob about power brakes, but right now I'd do anything in my power for their inventor.

At dusk last night they saved my boys and me from a hideous crash —or worse.

Though our speedometer had clocked up about 1,100 miles before we left home on this tour, those 1,100 were city or suburban miles, and for the life of me I couldn't see what was so great about power brakes.

Then came last night. We had entered the Prairie State late in the afternoon, crossing the Wabash from Vincennes, Ind., and with open rolling country ahead and a bit of evening coolness blowing in at last, we were ready for another 100 miles or so.

It was that tricky time after sundown, just before your headlights "take hold," but traffic was light on route 50 and I'm an old hand at night driving.

A road marker said "curve;" my foot eased up on the gas pedal. Another marker said "narrow bridge;" my foot shifted to the brake.

The next instant, a forest of lights whammed around the far end of the curve — a string of five huge trailer trucks, highballing at 60 miles an hour or more toward the narrow bridge and us.

The first two stayed in their lane; the third swung wide, way over the line bisecting the bridge.

A few lengths away, at the full legal speed limit, we were approaching that wild truck — I knew we'd sideswipe or smash head on.

I hit that brake, hit it with everything I had.

The road shoulder was level for only 12 or 15 inches, falling off into a ditch beyond. Reflex action made me pull over 10 inches worth as I braked, and that put us dead in line for the steel frame of the bridge.

I killed that brake pedal; our tires screamed, burning black skid scars on the road. We stopped — two wheels on cement, two on grass, our front bumper a hand-span away from that lethal steel.

I'm no weakling, but with old-style brakes, I could never have made it.

Shakily I said, "That was close," and my older son said, "I thought we'd hit sure."

My knees were water. Never in all our thousands and thousands of miles of touring had we come so close to disaster. Never before had we been in a spot you could justly call "a narrow escape."

Fan out your five fingers wide—that's how narrow it was.

My automobile club card says I'm an honor member for safe driving over many years, but this time the honors went entirely to the engineering miracle called "power brakes."

The five trailer trucks, outlined in squares of light, had roared off eastward, leaving black hatred in my heart for their lordly thundering all over American highways at 60 miles per hour. Still shaky, I backed up a bit, then drove ahead just far enough to clear bridge and ditch, to pull off the road onto level ground.

The three of us got out of the car and sat on sweet-smelling grass, to wait till our nerves quit twanging.

We talked out what had happened, step by step, openly confiding our fear to each other, and then went over it all step by step again.

It had been so fast; we had had so little time, so little leeway.

"Without power brakes," I said at last, "we'll never drive cross country again as long as we live."

I looked at both my boys, and suddenly the word "live," seemed the most blessed word on earth.

Banana-Distributing Group Botches Case

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — One patient of a young psychiatrist at the veterans hospital was always telling him about the "banana lady" who came to see him every day just before the doctor came in. The psychiatrist considered this a symptom of mental trouble and entered it on his report.

Then he saw a cart laden with bananas passing his desk. When he asked the nurse what it was, she explained that a civic group periodically distributes bananas to the patients.

"Oh, my gosh. Now, I'll have to do my whole case history over again," the doctor said.

20-Year-Old Automobile 'Built to Last,' Owner Says

MENDOW (UP) — Sherman Bennett was out for a ride in his 20-year-old Graham automobile. The 89 - year - old motorist had an accident. His car collided with a new truck at an intersection.

Damage to truck, $80; damage to car, $10.

"It was built to last," said Bennett.

Many birds have a poor sense of smell. The buzzard depends almost entirely on sight to locate his special diet and the horned owl's favorite dinner is skunk.

Rosen Sparks Americans to 11-9 All-Star Victory

By JOE REICHLER

CLEVELAND (AP) — A slowly-mending finger, a thing called pride and a big booming bat all played a prominent part in the American League's return to the winners' circle. The finger, pride and bat all belonged to one person . . . Al Rosen of the Cleveland Indians.

* * *

The box score of yesterday's 11-9 American League All-Star victory over the Nationals shows it was a bases-loaded single by Nellie Fox in the eighth inning—a real "bleeder"—that drove in the winning runs to end the war of 13 pitchers in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium.

* * *

But the 68,751 cash customers who came within approximately a thousand of setting a new All-Star attendance record knew who was the real batting star for the Americans.

* * *

Rosen's visible demonstration of power was far from the whole story, however. The real story was a behind-the-scenes drama that none of the fans, and few of the writers and players, had any inkling of. It didn't come to light until after the first inning because he felt he "might hurt the team."

* * *

"Yes, I went to Casey before the game with the idea that I be taken out of the lineup," aditted Rosen in a clubhouse interview after the game. "I didn't sleep a wink all night worrying whether I'd be a detriment to the team.

* * *

"But pride got the beter of me. Instead of begging off altogether, I suggested to Stengel that I give it one try because I felt I owed it to the fans who voted me on the team to bat at least once.

* * *

"Well, I struck out in the first inning and felt terrible. The finger hurt like the dickens—it hurts more when you strike out—but I didn't say anything to Casey. Call it foolish pride but I didn't want to bow out that way. If I had at least flied out, it wouldn't have been so bad. I might have quit then. But not that way. I wanted to bat once more. Well, the next time up I hit a home run. You can't imagine the feeling. And would you believe it, the finger didn't hurt. . .not much, anyway."

* * *

The homer, hit off starter Robin Roberts in the third inning, came after the Philadelphia right-hander had walked Chicago's Minnie Minoso and had given up a single to Cleveland's Bobby Abvila. Ray Boone of Detroit followed with a home run to give the Americans a 4-0 lead.

* * *

The Nationals fought back with five runs against Chicago's Sandy Consuegra and Cleveland's Bob Lemon in the fourth, and added two more runs on a homer by Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski in the fifth, forging ahead 7-5, after the Americans had scored again in the fourth.

Rosen was not through yet, finger and all. After Yogi Berra had singled in the last of the fifth, the 29-year-old converted first baseman walloped a second home run, even longer than the first. This 400-foot drive tied the score at 7-7. Rosen got his third hit in the sixth, a hot single off the third baseman's chest which didn't figure in the run that put the Americans ahead 8-7 in that inning.

* * *

Al's walk, however, played a major part in the eighth when the Americans tallied three times to overcome a 9-8 deficit. The Nationals had taken a one-run lead when pinch hitter Gus Bell of Cincinnati hammered a home run off Bob Keegan of Chicago, the sixth of seven pitchers used by Stengel.

Trailing 9-8, the Americans tied the score on Larry Doby's pinch-hit homer off Gene Conley of Milwaukee. Singles by the Yankees' Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra preceded the walk to Rosen. Carl Erskine of Brooklyn, sixth pitcher used by Manager Walter Alston, replaced Conley and fanned Mickey Vernon for the second out but Fox blooped a Texas leaguer in back of second base, just out of the reach of shortstop Alvin Dark, to chase in the winning runs.

The victory ended the National's four-game victory streak. It was the first triumph for Stengel, who had not won one in four previous tries. It was by far the wildest of the 21 games of the series, which the Americans lead 13-8. New records were set for most hits by one team, 17 for the American; most hits by both teams, 31; and most runs scored by both teams, 20. The six homers tied a record as did the two by Rosen and the five runs batted in by the slugging infielder.

A total of 43 players were used, 22 by the Nationals.

ALL-STAR DOUBLE PLAY—Stan Musial is forced at 2nd as American League shortstop Chico Carrasquel fires to 1st to get Ted Kluszewski for double play in the 2nd inning of yesterday's All-Star game. Umpire Jim Honochick calls play, Kluszewski grounded to 2nd-baseman Bobby Avila who relayed to Carrasquel to retire Musial. American Leaguers won, 11-9.

Attempted Steal Proves Costly to NL Stars

Durocher Claims Stone Balked; 8th Inning Play Vital for AL

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mild-mannered Walter Alston, the rookie manager who piloted the National League All-Stars to their first defeat in five years, wondered today "how much it may have cost us" when Red Schoendienst was out at the plate in an eighth-inning attempt to steal home.

The Nationals didn't score again after that play and lost to the American Leaguers 11-9 in the bottom of the inning the American stars won it with three runs.

Alston said he didn't feel "too bad" about losing a game "that could have gone either way," but he couldn't help wondering what the outcome might have been if Umpire Bill Stewart had ruled a balk on pitcher Dean Stone instead of waiving the red-haired St. Louis Card runner out.

"It would have given us a two-run lead," Alston said. Duke Snider of Alston's own Brooklyn Dodgers was at bat, and "Snider is the kind of fellow who is likely to knock one out of the place anytime," Alston added.

Umpire Bill Stewart stoutly denied a charge by Leo Durocher that he wasn't watching on Schoendienst's attempted steal of home. The New York Giant pilot, coaching on third base, called the plate umpire's failure to rule a balk on Washington's Dean Stone "a disgrace."

The umpire said when Stone "saw the runner break he immediately brought his hands to his belt and threw—he quickened up his motion and just came to a brief stop—but that's all right."

The only American League pitcher who didn't see action was Baltimore's Bob Turley whose eye was cut when he ran into the right field fence chasing a pre-game fly.

Gene Conley, the tallest National Leaguer pitched only one-third of an inning and was charged with the loss for his first All-Star game.

Reynolds Gains Spot in Jaycee National Test

Waterford Boy Makes Grade Along With Dick Weyand of Birmingham

Jack Reynolds of Waterford made a sparkling comeback Tuesday to gain a berth in the National Junior Chamber of Commerce golf tournament at Albuquerque, New Mexico, in mid-August.

Representing the newly-formed Waterford Jaycee chapter in the state tourney at Arbor Hills, Jackson, Reynolds had been counted out after an opening round of 81 Monday.

But Reynolds, a Waterford High School junior, fired the tourney's best round, a 2-under-par 36-34—70, to beat out the much-publicized Davey Hill of Jackson by one shot. Hill is the youngster who made a fine showing in the last week's state amateur.

Two steady rounds by Arnold Nedelman of East Lansing gave him the state title with 73-75—148. Bob Zimmerman of Jackson, the 1st day leader, took 2nd with 149. Dick Weyand of Birmingham; who qualified in the Detroit Jaycee tourney, tied with Reynolds at 151, calling for a playoff for 3rd.

Reynolds won with a birdie on the 1st extra hole, but both players qualifed for the National test. The Waterford shotmaker booked 11 pars and 5 birdies on his round and was over par only twice, a bogie on the 6th and a double bogie on the 9th

Jack's dad, Chester Reynolds, caddied for his son.

Reynolds' card:

Par out	433	438	444—36
Reynolds out	443	336	446—36
Par in	343	334	435—36—72
Reynolds in	335	383	435—34—70

Bob Shaver, Jack Morris, Dick Murphy, Pete Green and Warren Sumner represented the Pontiac Jaycees, while Tim Baldwin and Jim Kraus of Birmingham, as well as Weyand, were members of the Detroit team.

Reynolds' Waterford teammates were Dale Wheeler, John Wettlaufer, John Woodman and Frank Syron Jr., who went as an alternate. Jackson won the team title.

Scores of area players:

Jack Reynolds, Waterford	81-	70—	151

Old Star Speaker Misses Big Feature

CLEVELAND, O. (UP) — Tris Speaker, American League's famed center fielder who was elected to Baseball's Hall of Fame in 1937, was reported in "fair condition" today following a heart attack on the eve of the All-Star game.

Speaker, 65, collapsed at his home on Monday night and was rushed to Lakeside hospital. Scheduled to see the All-Star game, the famed outfielder wasn't able to even view the 21st classic on television.

Bay City's Kennedy Beats Canadian Boxer

DETROIT, July 14 (AP)—Alan Kennedy, 142½, of Bay City, Mich., stopped Ken Hohner, 146½, London, Ont., at 2:36 of the sixth and final round of their bout at the Motor City Arena Tuesday night.

It was Kennedy's ninth straight pro victory.

In another televised feature of six rounds, Henry Hanks, 152½, Detroit, knocked out Henry Bronko, 156, Jackson, Mich., at 1:46 of the fifth round.

Double Round Today

Outstanding Favorite Is Absent in Publinx

Two Pontiac area golfers advanced in Wednesday's round of the National Publinx tourney but another, Roy Iceberg of Pontiac, was eliminated, Iceberg bowed to Ted King of Washington, 3 and 2. Winners yesterday were Mike Andonian of Pontiac and Wallace Smith of Royal Oak.

DALLAS (AP)—The gruelling double round that separates the men from the boys starts today in the National Public Links golf tournament without an outstanding favorite but a lot of eyes cocked on young Hal McCommas, Larry Robertson, Jimmy Wilbert and Rodney Funseth.

* * *

McCommas, the Southern Methodist sophomore, and Funseth, the long hitter from Spokane, lead the youth movement. Among the mature contenders are Wilbert, 32-year-old from San Francisco, and Robertson, 38-year-old real estate man from Minneapolis.

* * *

And not the least bit overlooked are T. Moultrie McKelvin of Charleston, S.C., and Louis Burtner of Oklahoma City. They were the men who knocked out former champions in the field yesterday.

McKevlin went 19 holes to eliminate Andy Szwedko of Sharpsburg, Pa., the 1939 champion, and Burtner traveled the same distance, ousting Stan Bielat of Yonkers, N.Y., who took the title in 1950.

With the fall of Szwedko and Bielat, McCommas, last of the high finishers in 1953, moved up in the ratings. The 19-year-old featherweight (120 pounds) has encountered little trouble yet in his drive toward the championship. Yesterday he whipped Sherman A. Conrad of Toledo, 5 and 4.

Funseth, 22, and a solid 153 pounds, hits the ball out of sight. He was devastating with his drives and terrific with his approaches in blasting Donald Hess of Miami, Fla., 9 and 8, for the most lopsided victory in the tournament thus far.

Forty-eight matches today will trim the field to 16. There were 32 matches on the morning card and 16 for the afternoon.

Veteran Stays in Tourney on a Missed Putt

Miss Wall Eliminates Pine Laker in Sudden Death Playoff

DETROIT (AP)—The veteran Mary Agnes Wall would be out of the running today for the Women's State Amateur Golf title—if it weren't for a short missed putt and questionable strategy by her teenaged opponent.

Miss Wall, tourney medalist with a neat 74, was on the verge of defeat yesterday at Detroit Golf Club.

But her 17-year-old opponent, Sally Sharp of Pine Lake, missed the short putt on the 17th hole. That left things all even at the end of 18 and the two went into a sudden death playoff.

Sally got into a trap at the 19th green. Using a putter, she failed to get out and conceded victory to the veteran from Menominee.

Like Sally, three other golfers from the younger set were eliminated in the 1st round.

Alyce Howard, 18, of Battle Creek, who upset Miss Wall in the opening round a year ago, bowed to Mrs. Don Watkins of Birmingham, 5 and 3; Mary Margaret Lovell, 18, of Birmingham, lost to Helen Grinnell of Detroit, 6 and 5, and Judy Reynolds, 20, of Gull Lake, lost to Mrs. J. L. Scripsma of Grand Rapids in an overtime match.

Last Year Miss Reynolds upset the experienced Mrs. Irene Bretzlaff. Yesterday Mrs. Richard Marsh of Detroit did likewise, 2 and 1.

Margaret Russell of Detroit, a former champion, also fell by the wayside, defeated by Mrs. T. O. McLaughlin of Detroit on the 19th hole.

Two other ex-titlists Pat DeVany of Grosse Ile and Mrs. Don Weiss of Flint, survived 1st round matches. Miss Devany ousted Mrs. Bruno Minkley of Detroit, 6 and 4. Mrs. Weiss turned back Mrs. C. P. McLain of Ypsilanti, 6 and 5.

Second-round pairings:

Miss Wall vs Mrs. Watkins; Mrs. Scripsma vs Mrs. Eddelon; Miss DeVany vs Miss Grinnell; Mrs. Ryden vs Mrs. Fox; Mrs. Marsh vs Mrs. McLaughlin; Mrs. Reynolds vs Mrs. O'Rourge; Mrs. Thompson vs Miss Watkins; Mrs. Catherwood vs Mrs. Weiss.

Merchant '9' Takes 6-1 Win Over Unionmen

Pound 2 CIO Hurlers for 11 Hits; Score 3 Runs in 1st Frame

By BILL MARTIN

Auburn Merchants took over undisputed possession of 4th place in City Class A Baseball League standings yesterday, evening its season record at 6-6 with a 6-1 victory over CIO No. 594.

Merchants, who pounded two CIO pitchers for 11 basehits, pushed across three runs in the opening inning to wrap up their victory early.

Five Auburn players—Bob Doan, Les Stone, Daryl McGlashen, Dwayne Sheffer and Bob Flanders—got to Union Hurlers Pete Palshan and Clark Rouse for two safeties apiece. Ken Campbell went all the way for the winners, striking out seven, walking none and giving up five hits.

CHICAGO (AP) — Two Southern Methodist aces, guard Jerry Clem and triple-threat halfback Jerry Norton, have been named to the collegiate squad for the All-Star football game against the professional champion Detroit Lions in Soldier Field August 13.

Remember?

REMEMBER?

One of America's great distance runners in the 30s, today's personality is familiar to many in the Oakland County area. He won the NCAA 2-mile run 20 years ago in faster time than was recorded in last month's meet at Ann Arbor. His identity is on today's final sport page.

MGA Meeting Slated

Metropolitan Golf Association will hold its regular meting at Bob O'Link Golf Club, near Novi, Thursday, with golf at 2 p. m. and the dinner meeting at 7 o'clock. The MGAs drive for daylight saving time is in operation with petitions being circulated.

Rosen, Fox, Stone Are American Loop Heroes

By JERRY LISKA

CLEVELAND (AP) — Muscular Al Rosen, tiny Nellie Fox and Did-He-Balk Dean Stone shared the spotlight, in that order, after the wildest All-Star baseball game on record.

* * *

The unquestioned No. 1 hero was Rosen, Cleveland's first-third baseman, whose celebrated sore finger wrote most of the drama in yesterday's hectic 11-9 American League triumph over the Nationals.

* * *

Rosen was mobbed in the American League dressing room by writers and photographers after his two home runs drove across five of the Junior Circuit's first seven runs in the rollicking contest.

"I slept on whether I should play the entire night before," said Rosen. "As a matter of fact, I didn't sleep a wink. I even asked before the game to be taken out after my first time at bat."

Rosen's right index finger is so puffed he can hardly wrap it around a bat. But with nine well-curled digits, big Al matched an All-Star record in RBI's and homers set by Arky Vaughan in the 1941 game and tied in 1946 by Ted Williams.

After he struck out with men on second and first in the opening inning, Rosen decided against blowing the whistle on himself.

"I told myself I wanted one more crack," said Rosen. "Then it happened. It turned out to be my day."

Despite the four American League homers—two by Rosen, one by Ray Boone of the Tigers and one by pinch-hitter Larry Doby of the Indians — the game-winning blow was a blooper single by the White Sox' Fox which pushed across the 10th and 11th American runs in the eighth.

* * *

Said Marty Marion of the White Sox, American coach: "Fox's hit was catchable. It didn't even hit the outfield grass. Dark was playing so far towards third, it looked like he was playing for a right-handed pull hitter."

Fox is a lefthanded hitter who seldom hits for distance. Dark claimed he was playing a "normal" shortstop position.

* * *

The biggest beef in the disconsolate National dressing room surrounded the attempted theft of home by Red Schoendienst of the Cardinals in the eighth with the Nationals then ahead, 9-8.

The fuss hinged around whether Stone—the winning American hurler on only three pitches—balked when Schoendienst suddenly bolted for home with two out and Duke Snider at bat.

Three Teams Near Top Spot in Class D Junior League

By JACK SAYLOR

Only a half-game separated the top 3 teams in the Class D City League today after Tuesday victories by Nicholie Realty and Pontiac Police.

Nicholie drubbed Clarkston, 10-1, to tie Griff's Grill for 1st place with a record of 4-1. Police made their record 4-2 by beating Rochester, 6-1.

Jim Jones tamed Clarkston with 3 hits, striking out 9 for the Nicholie nine. Trueman (Hoot) Lamphere collected 3 of Nicholie's 8 hits. Dave Kives matched Jones' 3-hitter and fanned 11 in the Police club's triumph.

He had a no-hit shutout until 2 were out in the 6th when George Kleino doubled and Marv Evans singled him home. Bob Smith and George Thrasher each had 2 hits for the Police.

In Class E, Lytell-Colegrove climbed into a 1st place tie with Rosebud Market, but nearly came a cropper as Cass Ponts was barely beaten, 9-8. It took rallies for 6 runs in the last 3 innings to pull the Lytell nine through.

Ron Kind was the hero for the winners with a triple, double and single, all of which figured in the scoring, and a hitless relief pitching stint.

Larry LaForge hurled a 1-hitter in Class F as Avondale downed Boys Club, 10-1, and Williams Lake Specs blanked St. George, 5-0, on the combined pitching efforts of John Keating and Butch Farrer.

In the Knothole circuit, Boys Club shut our Avondale, 5-0, with David Jones and Tom Mays hurling; Yankees tripped Whitfield, 8-4; Red Sox downed the White Sox, 11-4; and the Senators handed the Orioles another loss, 13-4.

Heart Attack Takes Grantland Rice, Veteran Chronicler of U.S. Sports

By TONY GALLI

NEW YORK (INS) — Grantland Rice, dean of American sports writers who was known to three generations as "Granny," suffered a fatal stroke yesterday while writing his syndicated column, "The Sportlight."

* * *

The end to the 73-year-old Rice's colorful 53-year career of sports reporting came last night with his wife, Kate Hollis Rice, whom he wed 48 years ago, at his hospital bedside.

Surviving besides Mrs. Rice is a daughter, Mrs. Fred Butler of Venice, Calif., who appeared on the stage and in films as Florence Rice.

Funeral will be held Friday in New York's Presbyterian Church

Rice was born in Murfreesboro, Tenn., Nov. 1, 1880 and was graduated from Vanderbilt University in 1901—the same year he began his newspaper career on the Nashville News.

His columns often led off with poems, many of which have appeared in book form. He collaborated with Theodore Roosevelt Jr. on a book of verse published in 1932.

He narrated motion picture sports shorts and authored countless magazine articles besides many books.

It was Rice who in 1924 labeled Knute Rockne's famed Notre Dame backfield of the period "The Four Horsemen."

With his own panel of experts, he picked an All-America football team for years—first for Collier's magazine and then for Look magazine.

Rice, who held the rank of first lieutenant in the Army during World War I, was an authority on golf and a first-class player. For years he won the artists and writers competition and on several occasions, played on even terms with many of the pros. He was a close friend of Bobby Jones from the latter's days as the "boy wonder" of the golfing world.

Rice covered his first World Series in 1905 and since then had been a familiar press box figure during the fall classic.

Rice's favorite sports were football, baseball, racing and golf. He liked boxing, when it was good, with the Dempsey-Firpo fight tops in thrills, in his opinion. He regarded Jim Thorpe as the best all-around athlete and Babe Ruth and Ty Cobb as the greatest baseball players.

* * *

Rice also worked on the Forester magazine in Washington, D. C., then went to the Atlanta Journal for three years and on to the Cleveland News, Nashville Tennesseean and old New York Evening Mail.

In 1914 he joined the New York Tribune and started his celebrated column, remaining there until turning into a syndicated columnist in 1930.

Collapse of Cardinals With Six .300 Hitters Is Top Mystery in Break-Up of Close National Race

Editors Note: This column was received in advance of the recent illness, which resulted in the death of sports writing veteran Grantland Rice Tuesday.

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—Can anyone explain how it is that the National League, after breaking all records for compactness and closeness for the first month, should suddenly explode so violently through the next six weeks?

Teams which were only one or two games away from the top early in May are now from six to 16 games away from the spot where pennants offer their glamor to the public at large.

* * *

Above all else what happened to St. Louis? By July Fourth they were the league's best hitters with a mark of .284 to .269 for the Dodgers and .259 for the Giants. They have had Stan Musial, Red Schoendienst, Jabbo Jablonski, Bill Sarni, Wally Moon and Solly Hemus, all hitting over .300.

To what was considered a good pitching staff, headed by the brilliant Harvey Haddix, they added Vic Raschi.

I know last March in St. Petersburg the owners, plus Eddie Stanky, figured they were set for a good shot at the pennant, in spite of the Dodgers and Giants. They had so much outfield strength they were able to cut loose Country Slaughter, one of their former stars. Stan Musial, in place of his former slow starts, got away at full speed, hitting around .380 for the opening weeks.

Eddie Stankey was known as one of the best of the younger managers. With the experience he had picked this was supposed to be his banner year.

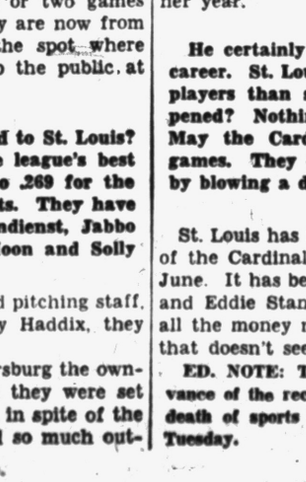

* * *

He certainly had the best material in his career. St. Louis had more good young ballplayers than she remembered. What happened? Nothing except after the middle of May the Cardinals couldn't win any ball games. They celebrated the Fourth of July by blowing a double-header.

* * *

St. Louis has been stunned by the dizzy drop of the Cardinals through late May and all of June. It has been a terrific blow to Gus Busch and Eddie Stanky. Busch is willing to spend all the money needed to rebuild the team but that doesn't seem to be the answer.

ED. NOTE: This column was received in advance of the recent illness, which resulted in the death of sports writing veteran Grantland Rice, Tuesday.

Dodgers, Braves Play Lone Game Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With no complaints from the newly organized players "Association," the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Milwaukee Braves will resume the National League pennant chase a day ahead of schedule at Milwaukee tonight.

* * *

The day before and the day after the All-Star game traditionally are days off in the majors, but this is the only opportunity the two clubs will have to make up a postponed game, so it will go on.

The Brooks will have an opportunity to shave a half-game off the New York Giants' lead of 5½ games, but if they're going to do it, they have to beat Jim Wilson, who has yet to lose a game in six decisions. The Brooks will go with Russ Meyer who shows a 6-2 record for the year.

* * *

The big news in the Braves camp concerned Bobby Thomson, who has yet to play a game because of a fractured right ankle suffered in spring training. Thomson who was dealt to the Braves by the New York Giants during the winter, hit a two-run pinch-hit homer in an exhibition game in Toledo Monday night.

He's not ready for full-time service yet, but Manager Charlie Grimm said he will not hesitate to use him as a pinch hitter immediately.

Giant Manager Leo Durocher, who got the better of the deal—at least temporarily, because of the fine hurling he has been getting from Johnny Antonelli—was not particularly optimistic over Thomson's chances of getting back into action.

As it is, the Braves, who thought Thomson would give them the added punch to win the pennant this year are too far out to make a bid. They're in fourth place, 10 games off the pace. They're only a game and a half behind the Philadelphia Phillies and a few Thomson hits could boost the Braves into third place.

The Brooks had a little good news of their own. Johnny Podres, the 21-year-old rookie lefthander, who underwent an appendectomy June 23, is back with the club, although not quite ready to pitch.

The Brooks also will have a new pinch hitter available in Sandy Amoros. Amoros was hitting .361 in Montreal of the International League before being recalled.

Jackson, Valdes Tangle Tonight in Garden Ring

'Hurricane' Is Favored Over Higher - Ranked Foe in Important Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—If Hurricane Tommy Jackson ever is going to rate a title shot at heavyweight champ Rocky Marciano tonight should tell the story.

The Hurricane a restless 22-year-old Negro from New York's Rockaway Beach section boxes big Nino Valdes the Cuban giant in an important 10-round heavyweight bout at Madison Square Garden. The match will be carried on network (CBS) television the first of a series of alternate Wednesday shows from the Garden.

Vales a 6 foot 3 207-pounder is ranked No. 2 among Marciano's contenders right behind Ezzard Charles although he beat Charles last year at Miami. Despite the high ranking Jackson the No. 5 boy is favored.

Marciano is expected to give Charles a rematch in September provided his eye cuts heal properly. If anything goes wrong with that match tonight's winner would be ready to step in and meet Charles. A 1955 bout with the champion would be another possibility.

The Hurricane stirs up the fans more than any other new heavyweight has done in years. Either you think he is sensational or you think he can't fight a lick. The rav that followed his victories over Rex Layne Clarence Henry and Dan Bucceroni turned to jeers when he was deflated by "spoiler" Jimmy Slade April 26.

Thompson May Get First Trial Today for Braves

By CHRIS EDMONDS

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Bobby Thomson probably will swing a Milwaukee Braves' bat for the first time in a National League game during a series opening tonight against Brooklyn, the team he knocked out of the 1951 pennant with a playoff home run.

The big outfielder, who fractured his right ankle in a spring training slide four months ago yesterday, was back on the active list today and said he was ready for a few swipes as a pinch hitter. Actually, he took one swing in a pinch role Monday night during an exhibition against the Braves' Toledo farm club—and hit a 400-foot home run.

* * *

"You know," he laughed, "I didn't know what to do at first. I sort of forgot and just stood there for a moment.

"My ankle didn't hurt a bit when I swung in fact I didn't even feel it. I think I'm ready to get back in there, at least for pinch-hitting occasionally."

Thomson, who came to the Braves from the New York Giants last winter in the Johnny Antonelli trade, but who has seen no action because of the March 13 injury in Florida, wouldn't venture a guess as to when he'd break into the regular lineup.

Tavern Squad Wins 6-5 Tilt

Scrapes Past CIO '9' in Extra-Inning Men's Softball Game

Louie's Tavern won its 2nd victory in 14 City Men's Softball starts last night, edging CIO No. 594, 6-5, in nine innings.

Game went into extra innings when the score was tied 5-5 at the end of regulation play. Tavernmen scored the winning run in the last of the 9th, when Bill Hunter gained base on an error and scored on Bob Gravelle's fly to centerfield.

Shaw's girls took over 2nd place in their league by scraping past General Motors, 3-2. Jewelry nine overcame a 2-1 deficit with two runs in the 5th inning.

Big Hits by McClellan, Larr Pave Way to 14-0 Win for Recreation

Don Hill recorded his 7th win of the Waterford Township Softball League season Tuesday, a shutout of Gidley Electric, as Dixie Recreation took an easy 14-0 victory at Township Park in Drayton Plains.

Hill struck out 6 and walked one and got 10-hit support from his mates, including a bases loaded double by Al McClellan, and a triple by Chuck Larr also with the sacks jammed.

In the Junior League, White Brothers and Drayton Drug struggled 7 innings to a 9-9 tie.

Lea Lane Is Favored in Arlington Lassie Stakes

CHICAGO (AP) — Lea Lane, the sprightly filly who looks like one of racing's coming greats, gets her fourth outing today in the $101,920 Lassie Stakes at Arlington Park.

* * *

Charlton Lane's classy 2-year-old victorious by from 8 to 14 lengths in winning her three previous races, is a 6-5 favorite to cop the Lassie's $62,750 first-place money.

Top competition in the six furlong feature is expected to come from two New York imports, Maine Chance Farm's entry of Fantine Busher and Belle Busher.

* * *

Other highly regarded entries are Claiborne Farm's Delta, Ralph Love's Miss Occupy, Hal Price Headley's Sofarsogood, and Greenacres Stock Farm's Mrs. Mark.

Rounding out the field are Hasty House Farm's Alspal, Mrs. Thelma Ott's Blue Vezzano and W. Haggin Perry's Trying.

* * *

Lea Lane has been by no means extended in earning $25,145 going into the Lassie. She won her first race by eight lengths, captured the Miss America Stakes at Lincoln Fields by 14, and walked away with Arlington's Pollyanna Stakes by 10 lengths.

Second place in the Lassie is worth $20,000, with $12,000 to third and $6,000 to fourth.

Texas Champ Sets Trans-Miss Pace

By FRANK PITTMAN

DENVER, July 14 (AP) — Ernie Vossler Texas Amateur champion shot a 6-under-par 66 over the Cherry Hills Country Club course to win medalist honors in the 51st Trans-Mississippi golf tournament here Tuesday.

The 25-year-old Fort Worth plumber, winner of the last six amateur meets he has entered, shot 74-66—140 for the 36 holes of qualifying play.

He paced 63 qualifiers from the field of 204 golfers into the championship flight.

Guest speakers at the Pontiac Rotary Club's luncheon meeting Thursday will be Budd Lynch, Detroit sportscaster, and Ross Wilson, assistant trainer of the Detroit Red Wings. Movies of the Red Wings' Stanley Cup playoff games will be shown.

The correct name of Kid Gavilan, world's welterweight champion, is Gerardo Gonzalez.

When you drive 1,400 miles a month through big city traffic, you ordinarily can't set any gasoline mileage records.

But Joseph Slawek, insurance salesman, 3814 Irving Park Road, Chicago, has boosted his city gasoline mileage to 18.6 miles per gallon—a saving of 1¼ gallons of gas in every tankful.

He makes this saving by using New Super Permalube Motor Oil. Change to New Super Permalube at your Standard Oil Dealer's today.

When you buy for price these days, you never can be sure.

It's unwise to pay too much but, it's worse to pay too little.

When you pay too much, you lose a little money, that's all.

But, when you pay too little, you sometimes lose everything because the thing you bought was incapable of doing the thing it was bought to do.

The common law of business balance prohibits paying a little and getting a lot. It can't be done.

If you deal with the lowest bidder, it is well to add something for the risk you run. And, if you do that, you will have enough to pay for something better.

Nobody expects the finest suits to be the cheapest. It can't be done. Everybody should buy the finest suits they can afford because, while quality is important all the time, there are times when it is crucial.

Major League Crowds Are Up

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—The enthusiasm of followers of Willie Mays and the New York Giants, the continued merry turnstile clicking in Milwaukee and the sad plight of the Philadelphia Athletics are reflected in a mid-season survey of major league attendance figures.

* * *

The survey conducted by the Associated Press disclosed today that attendance in the majors is up 834,028 paid admissions over a year ago with 11 of the 16 clubs showing increases.

* * *

American League clubs have played before 4,368,584 customers and those in the National to 4,248,197 for a grand total of 8,616,781. In the same number of home dates in 1953, the aggregate was 7,782,753.

The Giants, National League pace-setters, have attracted 670,273 fans for 39 home dates, a gain of better than 150,000 over 1953. All last season, Horace Stoneham's hired hands drew only 811,518.

Milwaukee, which set an all-time National League attendance mark last year with a draw of 1,826,397, also is ahead of its pace of a year ago. The Braves have attracted 965,006 fans—the most in the big leagues—which compares most favorably with their 954,878 total in 36 '53 dates.

The Athletics actually have climbed over last season's attendance figures, 96,662 to 184,355, for 32 dates at home. But it has been reported they will have to draw close to 400,000 customers in the Quaker City. To date, the A's have played before slightly higher than 6,000 fans per contest.

Baltimore's improvement at the gate over the defunct St. Louis Browns and the fine showings made by the Detroit and Chicago teams are responsible for most of the American League gain of 701,546.

* * *

The Orioles already have surpassed the entire Brownie total of admissions for '53. The cellar occupants have attracted 661,746 and could well reach the 1,000,000 mark in their first American League campaign since 1901.

* * *

The fourth-place Tigers are 163,304 customers ahead of last year and the White Sox, in third position, are up 105,178. The Sox have drawn the most American League customers, 704,444. The figures include games of Sunday, July 11.

The five major league clubs below their 1953 figures are: The Philadelphia Phillies (91,110), Pittsburgh Pirates (71,387), New York Yankees (64,839), Brooklyn Dodgers (38,861) and the Washington Senators 30,729.

Qualifying Play Starts July 23 for National Am

Third Largest Field in History Is Entered in Tournament

NEW YORK July 14 (AP) — The third largest field in the history of the U. S. Amateur golf championships — 1,275 entries — will begin qualifying play July 23 for the main event at the Country Club of Detroit Aug. 23-28.

* * *

Entries closed on Monday and the sectional qualifying rounds at two of the 38 locations, Boston and Milwaukee, will be played July 23. Three other sections, Honolulu, Salt Lake City and Seattle are scheduled for July 26 and the others July 27.

* * *

The record entry for the amateur 1,416 was established in 1951. In announcing this year's total the U.S. Golf Assn. said the figure was subject to a recheck of entries.

Of the 1,275 entries 28 are exempt from sectional qualifying for various reasons leaving 1,247 to shoot for 172 places in the match play bracket at Detroit. The field for the Amateur is limited to 200. This gives one place for every 7¼ players in the sectional tests.

The exempt list with some duplications includes six former U.S. Amateur champions four former British Amateur champions, the 1953 Canadian Amateur champion and members of the United States, Canadian and Mexican teams which will compete for the Americas Cup at London, Ont., Aug. 12-13.

* * *

The former U. S. champions are Chick Evans of Chicago Willie Turnesa of White Plains N. Y. Dick Chapman of Pinehurst N. C., Stanley E. (Ted) Bishop of Boston, Charles R. Coe of Oklahoma City and Sam Urzetta of Rochester, N. Y. Chapman, Turnesa, Bob Sweeny of Palm Beach Fla. and Frank Stranahan of Toledo Ohio are the former British champions in the field. Don Cherry of Garden City, N. Y. is curent Canadian Amateur champion.

TWO FOR A TON—Latest big game fishing headlines from monster-famous Cabo Blanco, Peru, featured the landing of this fabulous matched pair of giant black marlin. This is the first time that two fish over 1,000 pounds have ever been taken the same day on the same boat. Conquered, in turn, on 39-thread line by Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Meyer Jr., of Elberon, N. J., "his" weighed 1,200 pounds, while "her's" went 1,240 pounds.

Trabert Rests, Doubles Up in Clay Courts Test

CHICAGO (AP)—Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, having taken his first real rest in several days, had a heavy schedule before him as play resumed today in the National Clay Court tennis tournament.

* * *

He had a third-round match with Sammy Giammalva of Houston nd, should he beat Giammalva, another following with Al Kuhn of Northwestern University.

Trabert, the country's No. 1 player and top-ranked for the Clay Court meet, took the court briefly yesterday after 25 hours of steady traveling from Europe.

* * *

He defeated Bernard Frank of Evanston 6-1, 6-2 in a second-round match that took only 36 minutes. Trabert drew a first-round bye. After beating Frank, he received permission from tourney officials to rest and then double up today in order to catch up with the field

Meantime, the men's tourney lost its first seeded player. Fred Hagist, of Berkeley, Calif., seeded No. 6 for the meet, was eliminated by veteran Seymour Greenberg of Chicago, 6-2, 6-2.

Another upset occurred in the women's division, where third-seeded Althea Gibson, Negro ace from New York, was upset by unseeded Lois Felix of Meriden, Conn., 6-1, 6-0.

Americans Face BWI Netters in Davis Cup Test

USLTA Sends 2nd-Line Players to Meet First Round Opponents

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, July 14 (AP)—The United States begins the annual long climb to the challenge round of the Davis Cup today when it meets the British West Indies in a first round American Zone test.

That the Americans will win and go on to the semifinal of the American Zone is taken for granted. The U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn. assigned its second-line players to the task of whipping the local team. Last year, the United States, again using its younger players scored a 5-0 conquest over the BWI.

* * *

Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., had been given the first singles test against Geoff Inglefield while Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif., will meet Ralph Legall. The other member of the American team is Hal Burrows of Charlottesville, Va.

* * *

Tomorrow the doubles match will be held and Burrows might get into action. The final two singles are slated for Friday, although by that time the Americans hope to be safely in the semifinal.

Cuba has drawn a bye in the first round and will play the winner of the British West Indies-United States tie in the semifinal which must be completed by Aug. 2. Mexico already has advanced to the semifinal while Canada and Chile will complete their first round tie over the weekend.

2-Year Grid Series for Illini, Uclans

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., July 14 (AP)—Illinois and U.C.L.A., whose football rivalry began with a 45-14 Illini victory in the 1947 Rose Bowl game, have signed a home-and-home series for 1957 and 1958, Athletic Director Doug Mills of Illinois, announced Tuesday.

The Illini will go to Los Angeles for a Friday night game in the Coliseum Sept. 27, 1957, and U.C.L.A. will play at Illinois Saturday, Sept. 27, 1958.

In addition to the 1947 Rose Bowl, Illinois defeated U. C. L. A. 14-6 in Los Angeles in 1950 and 27-13 at Champaign in 1951 in the only previous game between the two teams.

AL's Winning Pitcher Didn't Get Man Out

CLEVELAND, O. (UP) — The 1954 All-Star game produced this all-time oddity — Dean Stone of the Washington Senators was the winning pitcher, although he never finished pitching to the only batter he faced.

The rookie southpaw was called on to face Duke Snider of the Dodgers in the top half of the 8th inning with runners on 1st and 3rd with two out. On Stone's 3rd pitch to Snider, Al Schoendienst of the Cards was thrown out trying to steal home.

Stone thus still was the pitcher of record when the American League rallied for three runs in the last half of the 8th inning.

Dead-Heat Marks End of WLYA Sunday Race

Jim Parshall and Don Zannoth sailed their Thistle - Class crafts to a dead-heat in Sunday's Watkins Lake Yachting Club race to mark the 1st time in history that such a finish has taken place.

John Noble won the Lighting event and Guy Duffield was 1st in the small-boat race.

New Villanova Coach to Be Named Today

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The new coach at Villanova University will be announced by school officials at a sports luncheon today.

One report has it that the job recently vacated by Art Raimo, is signed, sealed and about to be delivered to Francis X. Reagan, assistant coach for the professional Philadelphia Eagles and former backfield star at Pennsylvania.

Bud Dudley, Villanova's high-powered athletic director, said scores of applications have been received for the post, including some from "big name" coaches.

Powell Boosts Hopes for Chance at Title

OAKLAND Calif. (AP) — Rangy Charley Powell, 213½, San Diego, who has aspirations to be a challenger for the heavyweight title, knocked out Rocky Jones, 179, Chester, Pa., in the first round of their scheduled 10-round fight at the Oakland Auditorium last night.

Powell smashed Jones with a left hook to the head 50 seconds after the first bell and Jones went down for the full count. Powell quit professional football with the San Francisco 49ers for a boxing career.

This was Powell's ninth victory in 10 starts. He had one draw.

Pull Hands Straight Down From Top of Backswing

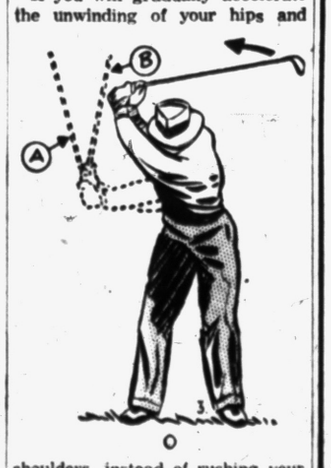

By SAM SNEAD
Pull Straight Down

Here's a bit of elaboration on the last lesson about keeping your wrists cocked until they have reached hip-level on the downswing.

The dotted line "A" shows the wrong club position which will result if you uncock your wrists too early. The dotted line "B" illustrates the correct position of your club on the downswing if you have kept your wrists properly cocked.

You should pull your hands straight down from the top of the backswing, without any wrist action, until they reach the point of the dotted lines showing the arms and hands in today's drawing. You don't have to worry about swinging the clubhead out and around, as the turning of your hips and shoulders will do that automatically.

If you will gradually accelerate the unwinding of your hips and shoulders, instead of rushing your stroke, you will swing the clubhead into the ball in a smooth, accurate, inside-out motion.

Signs Mutilated by Superstitious Indians in Canada

GORE BAY, Ont. (AP)—Here on Manitoulin Island "Smoky the Bear," symbol of fire prevention, has run into Indian supersititions. A beaver has been called in to do Smoky's job.

Smoky was created by the U.S. Forest Service to carry the message of protection against forest fires. Canada's provincial governments and the pulp and paper industry have adopted him. But here posters showing Smoky and two cubs leaving their fire-blackened forest home have been mutilated.

John F. Walker, resident manager for the Ontario Paper Co., first noted destruction of Smoky posters serve. The picture of the bear was, in some cases, torn out of the poster, leaving the fire-prevention message intact.

* * *

Then the company learned of the superstition and forester Art Racey, on a hunch, replaced the smoky posters with Canadian Forestry Assn. signs using the beaver as a symbol. These weren't touched.

Frank A. Myers of Cleveland, honorary president of the Manitoulin Historical Society, said he had learned some Indians believe the bear-walker is a person who can appear in another form—animal, bird or ball of fire—and can put the curse of death on an enemy.

Warm Weather Aids Fisherman in State

By JACK PATTERSON

Weather like this isn't conducive to any serious purpose, except maybe studying cool liquids, writing a column included. But for the dedicated fisherman this warmish spell means good fishing throughout the state. Recent cool nights in the north stalled mayfly hatches but they're back in force on eastern streams particularly. Still a chance to hit a "big" hatch and get top-notch trout fishing. The Manistee is currently one of the top trout producers, but with the recurrence of hatches in the east, the Au Sable system should be equally good for the next few days. Water in streams throughout the state is nearer normal than it has been all season.

PATTERSON

Dave Gerhard reports good rainbow fishing in the Manistee but is a little wary about precise locations. Hayward Whitlock also has some kind words to say about the same stream.

Don Williams reports the Platte River near Honor is producing many trout in the pleasantly keepable ten and eleven inch range.

Lee Voorhees, Jim Clarke, Vern Abbott, et al. of the Woodland Springs club report that 18 and 19 inch rainbows are finally succumbing to dry flies on the club's Crystal Lake. First time all season the fish have shown interest.

Howard Huttelocher and Art Taylor are representatives of a group who recently caught limits of bass in Lake St. Clair and if the fishing was as good as the sunburning, they did right handily.

Ed Ladd reports local bass fishing is very good, which is in line with advice from Al Martini, Elizabeth Lake. Shorty Hook at Pine Lake reports good bluegill and bass catches, and at Upper Straits Lake Bill Shaw claims some big bass are being taken by evening fishermen.

In fact the only guy we know that can't catch fish these days is Oliver "Red" Lemeaux, longtime casting champion, fly tying expert and general fishing authority of the local police force. Red fished for two days on private lakes and failed to score, unless you want to count a couple of scrubby rock bass. Maybe Red had better stick to raising coon dogs.

Farther afield perch fishing is good all around the littoral line of the lower peninsula. Smallmouth fishing is very good in the tip of the thumb area and off Waugoshance point in Lake Michigan. Herring are running in force from Harrisville to the Straits and are murder on dry flies.

Houghton Lake is good for bass, walleyes and panfish, and Black Lake is a close second. Walleye fishing is currently very good in the Mio backwaters of the Au Sable, in Burt and Mullett lakes and in Lake Cadillac.

For them as likes it, catfishing continues to be very good in Saginaw Bay, particularly near Rose Island.

So whatever you're after, in the line of fish, that is, now is the time to exchange that cold drink for your fly or spinning rod and get with it.

Water Skiing Show Slated

Will Mark Mid-Summer Season at Metropolitan Beach

Spectacular water ski shows by an even dozen of America's top champions headed by Charles R. Sligh, President of the American Water Ski Association, will climax the mid-summer season at Metropolitan Beach this weekend.

The famous Sligh family of Holland, Mich., heads the Macatawa International Championship Troupe which also includes Cinorama star Sandra "Sandy" Swaney, World's Jumping Champion (Women's Division) and Dave Ver Sluis, Midwest Jr. Boys Champion.

Shows will be given on Lake St. Clair at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. Saturday, and again on Sunday. There is no charge except the parking toll.

Set Ring, Foils Card

EAST LANSING (UP)—Michigan State College will compete in seven fencing matches and eight boxing matches during the 1955 season, athletic director Clarence (Biggie) Munn announced today.

3 Take 1st Bluefins

Three fishermen from the United States shared the honors, last week for taking the first big bluefin tuna of the year at Wedgeport, N.S. They were J. S. Speilberger of Dayton O. (396 pounds); Irving Schlussel of Brooklyn N. Y. (493 pounds), and Ray Commann of Summit, N. J. (530 pounds). The fish are reported plentiful on the Soldier Rip, off Wedgeport.

Michigan State's Bob Hoke, who has won 2 Big Ten titles and one N. C. A. A. wrestling championship, was awarded the 1954 Big Ten Medal for proficiency in scholarship and athletics.

Detroit, Port Huron Entrants Win Rifle Titles

County Shooters Also Take Trophies, Medals in State Meet

Top honors in the State Smallbore Rifle championships held at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club last week end were won by Anthony Bigda of Detroit and Kathryn Sager of Port Huron.

Bigda won the senior men's title, while Kathryn Sager copped the state ladies' crown and trophies and medals in several matches.

Leading Oakland County shooter was Robert Gubbins of Birmingham, who won the Abdite, Williams Gun, Shirley and Nee Moor trophies, placed 2nd to Miss Sager in the ladies' championship and was 1st in Class A in match No. 3.

John Treeful of Ferndale won the Geake's trophy, placed 1st in marksman class in matches 1-5-14 and 2nd in marksman class in matches 11-15.

Other medal winners included Nancy Newman, Cora Garbutt, Kjell Danielson, Cash Bond and Elvis Henry of Pontiac, Maggie Guy of Ferndale and Gayle Hinsberger of Roseville.

OCSC's No. 1 team placed 3rd in Class A, and OCSC team No. 2 was 3rd in Class B.

Pontiac Couple Enjoying Trip to Manitoulins

Among a large group of Michigan residents enjoying the crisp northern air of the Canadian Manitoulin Islands, and testing the famed summer section's fishing capabilities are Mr. and Mrs. George Zimmerman of Pontiac.

The scrivener who conducts this page and his wife met the Zimmerman's and their party at Tobermory, Bruce Peninsula, and George told of plans for a fishing visit to the north channel and lake region. He expected to go for some big bass, muskies and probably some of those gorgeously colored Manitoulin brookies.

Zimmerman has been active in preparation for the National Skeet Shooting Championships at Oakland County Sportsman's Club next month, and was enjoying a respite from the job.

Bright, fresh days, and snappy, fresher nights were the rule on the big Georgian Bay island the last week and weekend.

Today's Identity

A native of Vermont, today's figure gained fame as a prep school miler in Pennsylvania; made the U. S. Olympic team in 1932 while at Manhattan College in New York, now works in Oakland County and lives in Clarkston. Pictured after he had won the I.A.A.A. cross country run in 1931, he's Frank Crowley.

Springer Water Trial Scheduled

English Springer Spaniel Club of Michigan will hold its Annual AKC Sanctioned water trial Sunday at the Multi-Lakes Conservation Association site on Red Lake Classes will include stakes for puppies, novice, and open all age dogs.

Judges for the trial are Tom Clute of Adrian, Mich., and Tom Stabler of Detroit. Classes will begin promptly at 9 a. m. Trophies and ribbons will be awarded in all events.

Site selected for this year's trial is expected to prove an ideal location for a water trial. It will afford dogs entered in the Open All Age Stake a real test of their abilities as water dogs. On the other hand, it is adaptable to provide a fair test for dogs entered in the Puppy and Novice Stakes.

Big Bass Landed

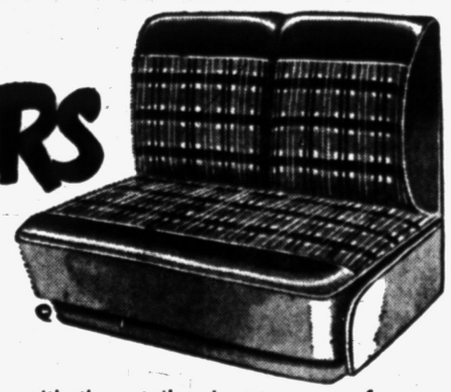

Mrs. Norman Underwood of 1171 James K. Blvd. last Sunday landed a 5-pound 4-ounce large-mouth bass while fishing Upper Pettibone Lake. She used a daredevil lure.

Siberia Camp Contains 'Black Sheep' Prisoners Fostering Spark to Resist

Editors: Soviet Russia's "Devil's Island" is Vorkuta slave labor camp, sealed off from the outside world. Its existence was first revealed by several hundred German war prisoners repatriated from the camp since last September. This is the Vorkuta story, as gathered by United Press from personal prisoner interviews, the German Red Cross and western authorities.

FRANKFURT — (UP) — The "silent ones" are marching to the Siberian coal mines every day.

During the nine-month winter, Arctic winds whip 50 degrees below zero over the nearby Ural Mountains.

In summer, the blood-red Russian sun beats down, raising the temperature to 115 degrees.

But the prisoners keep marching, for two jackbooted Russian soldiers walk behind every detail, their tommyguns at ready.

This is Vorkuta, a poetically-named Russian frontier town astride the Archangle Tundra, 75 miles north of the Arctic Circle just west of where the Urals run into the Kara Sea.

Its story has been pieced together here for the first time from reports by hundreds of Germans recently repatriated from the camp.

Western intelligence experts who quizzed the Vorkuta returnees estimate that 250 to 300 individual concentration camps pack a 200-square-mile area around Vorkuta.

At least 40 camps work the rich coal seams, digging some 14,000,000 tons annually for the Russian industrial machine. Inmates of other camps build roads and various structures.

Western authorities say 60,000 enemies of Communism have been condemned to eternal exile at Vorkuta, but some returnees estimated the real total as high as 500,000.

Yesterday, these prisoners had been Russians who opposed the Soviet system, or East German leaders of the June 17 anti-Red rebellion, or Hungarian intellectuals, Ukrainians who consorted with the Nazi occupation, Baltic patriots, Polish aristocrats, Romanian farmer opponents of agricultral collectivization, or faithful Catholics, Baptist and Jehovah's Witnesses.

Today, they are the "silent ones." They may neither write their families left behind nor hear from the world outside.

Most prisoners serve a standard 25-year sentence for "political crimes." But, except for the Germans, there is no road back.

Russian, Baltic and Balkan prisoners remain in permanent exile near Varkuta, even after they are "released." The Germans were freed to meet a Soviet promise, made to the puppet East German government last August, to repatriate all remaining German POWs' except major war criminals.

Varkuta prisoners are considered the "black sheep" among the Soviet Union's millions of slave laborers. Unruly prisoners with the spark of resistance, they were moved to Vorkuta from other camps as special punishment.

Unrest seethes in the prisoner ranks. Not even the presence of MVD secret police tanks quells the will to resist.

But even the prisoners have a breaking point. Thousands of the inmates reportedly have committed suicide by throwing themselves down the coal shafts.

An American soldier who spent years at Vorkuta, Pvt. Homer H. Cox, 33, of Oklahoma City, reported that the daily fodder for prisoners is fish, wet bread and an ounce of sunflower oil instead of butter or margarine. Tuberculosis thrives on this diet.

At least 4,500 women inmates crowd three female compounds at Vorkuta. Those of Camps one and two labor in the brick factories. Camp three prisoners cut timber, make bricks, build roads. The work day begins at 5 a. m. and ends at 5 p. m.

In winter, the women fight the cold by wearing every piece of clothing issued to them — two bright green cotton undersuits, a thin cotton dress, two pairs of black stockings, a petticoat of overall fabric, a padded cotton jacket, cotton trousers and old German army boots—usually too large.

One of the prisoners who survived to tell about it in her native Berlin this winter is Hergart Wilmans, 25-year-old cousin of Bishop Otto Dibelius, head of the Protestant Evangelical Church in both Germanys.

"I was stoker at a giant furnace, which we had to supply with tons of wet, low-quality coal," she said. "They made me transport the ashes to a slag heap.

Heat Pushes Up Grains Market

CHICAGO (AP) — Prices for the Midwest's two big crops, corn and soybeans, were marked up on the board of trade today as hot, dry weather continued over the main producing belt.

It was strictly a weather market. An aggressive buying move started first in soybeans, which have shown themselves most responsive to the hot weather all this week, and then spread to new crop corn. July corn eased as did most wheat futures.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ½ lower to ⅛ higher, July $2.03, corn ¼ lower to 1 cent higher, July $1.59¼, oats ⅛ to ⅜ higher, July 71⅝, rye ¼ to ¾ higher, September $1.07, soybeans 1¼ to 2½ higher, July $3.88 and lard unchanged to 12 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $16.35.

State Produces Third of Cars

Survey Has Missouri Replacing California in Second Place

Michigan, the automobile hub of the nation, produces nearly one-third of the country's over-all car total.

This is one of the findings in a state-by-state survey of car production by the trade paper Automotive News. Other findings include:

Missouri has replaced California as the second largest car-producing state.

Twenty of the 48 states have car assembly plants.

Indiana, in fourth place last year, dropped to 12th place in the first half of 1954, because of reduced output by Studebaker and Plymouth, the only car producing plants in the state.

Automotive News says the big reason for Missouri's climb to second place, with only four assembly plants compared to California's 10 last year, is that Chevrolet's top assembly plant is in St. Louis.

An Automotive News tabulation of production by states for the first half of 1954 lists the following percentages:

Michigan 30.8; Missouri 10.4; California 9.4; New Jersey 5.9; Georgia 5.1; New York 4.7; Maryland 3.5; Wisconsin 3.4; Kansas 3.4; Ohio 3.3; Massachusetts 2.9; Indiana 2.8; Texas 2.7; Illinois 2.0; Delaware 2.0; Pennsylvania 1.7; Minnesota 1.7; Virginia 1.6; Tennessee, 1.4; Kentucky 1.3.

Business Briefs

Thirty-three members of the Honor Council, national organization for outstanding Ford Tractor district supervisors, will arrive in Detroit Monday for a week of award activities, according to O. L. Wigton, general sales manager of Ford Motor Co's. Tractor and Implement Division in Birmingham.

Irving A. Duffy, vice president and general manager of the Tractor and Implement Division, will speak to the group Monday night and each supervisor will receive an Honor Council diamond ring Tuesday, they will visit the Ford tractor production line and the Ford Rotunda before leaving for Montreal. On July 21, they will tour Montreal, later boarding a steamer for Murray Bay, where they will spend four days at the famed Manoir Richelieu resort.

Membership in the Honor Council is awarded annually to one district supervisor from each Ford Tractor distributorship for outstanding personal leadership.

Chrysler Corporation states exports of its passenger cars and trucks during the first five months this year were up 21.3 per cent over last year. C. B. Thomas, president of Chrysler's export division, said truck exports were up 30.8 per cent and passenger car exports were up 15.8 per cent.

S. S. Kresge Co., variety chain, reduced its quarterly dividend yesterday to conserve funds for a modernization and expansion program now under way, president Franklin P. Williams announced. The company declared a dividend of 40 cents, payable Sept. 9 to stock of record Aug. 17. It paid 50 cents in previous quarters.

1953 Apparel Sales Upped Six Per Cent

CHICAGO (UP) —The reappearance of two-pants suits and the increased popularity of sports shirts among businessmen helped the apparel industry increase its business six per cent in 1953, according to the 1954 yearbook of the American Peoples Encyclopedia.

The use of colorful contrasting combinations for business wear became widespread, influencing the large sale of sports shirts, the article said.

More than 11,000,000 such shirts were sold in 1953 compared to 9,000,000 in 1952.

In the field of women's apparel, sweaters and jerseys recorded steady increases in production and sales during 1953. Women's and girl's underwear and nightwear sales were estimated at a two per cent increase over the 1952 mark.

MECHANICAL MULE — Here is the Army's new mechanical mule which weighs 750 pounds and is the first military vehicle to carry a load greater than its own weight. It will tote half a ton at speeds from one to 25 miles per hour, can be driven, led like a mule or guided by one hand. At top, a soldier guides it with one hand. At bottom it negotiates a grade of 36 per cent. The "mule" was developed by Willys Motors, Inc., Toledo, and is undergoing Army tests.

Carpet and Furniture Store Now on Huron

After seven years at its South Saginaw street location, the Modern Floor Covering Co. will open a new store tomorrow at 932 W. Huron St., one half block west of the Tel-Huron Shopping Center.

Harold P. Chapman, owner of the new store, believes that the showroom will house one of the most complete lines of carpeting and furniture in the country. Taking on the furniture line has forced a change in the name of the store to the Modern Carpet and Furniture Co.

Natural lighting and a 100-car parking lot are just two of many items that will make shopping at this store convenient, Chapman says. Store hours will be from 9:30 to 6 Monday thru Wednesday, and 9:30 to 9, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

COLUMBUS, Neb. (UP) — Sheriff Herb Person hit the jackpot when he followed up an auto accident report. In one car were two Omaha youths wanted by Person on a charge of breaking and entering. In the other car were two Barrington, Ill., girls who admitted they had left home without notifying their parents.

Business Survey:

Building Permits Increase in Number and Valuation

Building permits gained in the business survey made by the Pontiac Press in June in both number and valuation over May and June, 1953. Permits issued for new dwellings also gained over the two periods compared.

Less than in May and June, 1953 were bank clearings, payrolls, passengers carried on City Bus Lines, Railway Express Company shipments, incoming and outgoing freight shipments.

More than the May totals but less than June of last year were postal revenue electric and water consumption. Cubic feet of gas used was less than May but more than June, 1953.

The number of families on welfare in both the city and county was slightly under the total for May of this year, but higher than the total in June, 1953.

GM, Journal Settling Quarrel

Auto Firm Gives News to Wall Street Daily Once Again

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp. and the Wall Street Journal today appeared to be patching up their quarrel which began as a result of a story in the Journal forecasting 1955 automobile models.

GM canceled all advertising in the business daily, stopped sending the newspaper its press releases and made its officials unavailable to Journal newsmen as the result of a May 28 article showing drawings of the 1955 Chevrolet and unannounced models of 1955 cars of other manufacturers.

GM said on June 19 that the Journal story involved the company's property rights, had been obtained from sources "in a confidential relationship with us" and adversely affected the sale of 1954 cars.

The Journal said at the time it was hard to believe GM "would use this sort of pressure" to express disapproval of news policies.

GM had been spending more than $250,000 a year on advertising in the newspaper.

Signs of a reconciliation appeared today in an exchange of letters between Harlow H. Curtice, president of GM, and Bernard Kilgore, president of the newspaper.

In his answer to Curtice's letter, Kilgore said he was gratified to see that GM for the past three weeks had been sending its news releases once more to the Journal and that GM officials were once more making themselves available to Journal reporters.

Nothing was said by either Kilgore or Curtice in their letters as to resumption of advertising, however, and no comment on this could be obtained from either side.

Curtice, in his letter explaining GM's action in discontinuing "our private business relations," with the Journal said:

"It was never our intention to interfere in any way with your publication of news or your editorial policies, and I am surprised that anyone would seriously think otherwise."

Curtice said that GM rights were infringed and the company chose to stop its business relations with the Journal rather than to take legal action.

Couple Delays Honeymoon So 'Laura' Can Run

The old tradition, "the show must go on," is deeply rooted in Mr. and Mrs. V. Glen Washburn.

The Washburns were married in Petoskey Monday but they postponed their wedding trip until September so they could remain behind the scenes of the Petoskey Playhouse. They were backstage Tuesday night when "Laura" opened at the playhouse.

Mrs. Washburn is the former Kay D. Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cornell of 35 Henderson St., Pontiac.

Business Notes:

Grocers' Sales to Remain High

But Manufacturers Say Second Half of Year to Bring No Price Hikes

Grocers anticipate high sales in the second half of this year, after higher-than-normal sales in the first six months, according to Paul S. Willis, President of Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc.

He said retail sales for January through May were 3.5 per cent ahead of last year and incomplete returns for June indicated a continuation of the upsurge. Wholesalers were about 2 per cent ahead of the 1953 period.

Although sales may drop slightly this month and next, due to the summer vacation season, they are expected to pick up later and remain high for the rest of the year.

Willis attributed the high sales chiefly to forceful advertising and promotion efforts.

"A majority of grocery manufacturers this year have been operating on advertising and promotion budgets about 20 per cent higher than last year and it can be expected that this accelerated selling effort will continue," he said.

He pointed out that the grocery trade does not foresee any significant change in food prices.

Magma Copper Co. announced today in New York net income for the six months ended June 30 of $3,285,423, equal to $3.29 a common share. This compared with $2,301,363, or $2.30 a common share, in the same period last year. Production during the initial half this year totaled 29,181,096 pounds of copper as against 25,466,048 in the 1953 period.

Lehman Corp. of New York reported today net asset value of its investment holding on June 30 equal to $38.14 a common share, compared with $32.80 at the same time last year. Among the stocks added to its portfolio in the last three months were 15,000 shares of Florida Power and Light, 7,500 shares Union Carbide, 20,000 shares Canadian Breweries Ltd., 10,000 shares American Cyanamid and 13,000 shares General Foods. Sales included 5,000 shares of Amerada Petroleum, 20,000 shares Pacific Gas and Electric, 10,000 shares Pittsburgh Plate Glass, and 15,192 shares of United Gas.

Farmington Township school building bonds totaling $1,500,000 were purchased by a Halsey, Stuart & Co. group at a net interest cost for the 1957-71 issue of 2.345 per cent.

Bonds in the amount of $550,000 were bought by a group including H. V. Sattley & Co., McDonald-Moore Co., and three other houses from the School District No. 10 Fractional which covers parts of Avon, Troy, Pontiac and Bloomfield townships.

The Croswell-Lexington Rural Agricultural School District's bond issue of $165,000 was purchased by the Sattley and McDonald-Moore firms.

Dealers' Outlook Much Brighter

Ready for Good Sales After Production Slash and Profit Cutting

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's auto industry is getting a firmer hold on its retail inventories.

For the second consecutive month, dealer stocks have shown a substantial decline, both in new cars and trade-in units.

Automotive News' monthly survey of new car inventories shows dealers throughout the country now hold 517,500 units. This is a drop of nearly 50,000 units from June 1. On May 1 there were more than 607,000 unsold new cars in the field.

From whatever angle the inventory situation is viewed the industry is in better shape for orderly operations and a normal switchover to new models later this year than it has been for a long time.

All signs now point to fewer distress sales and less bootlegging of new car stocks than marked the latter half of 1953.

It may be a bit early to say the industry has licked all its problems. It cannot be denied, however, the outlook for this year's July-December period is considerably brighter than even the more optimistic of the car makers anticipated six months ago.

It is true that to get inventories down the factories have had to cut production schedules and most dealers have had to sacrifice profits. But to shave nearly 100,000 units off the inventories in two months is a noteworthy achievement.

As the inventories go down, bootlegging, another major problem for the car makers and merchandisers, also becomes less worrisome. On the basis of current factory schedules and the sales planning of the dealer body, it seems like a fair guess that another 50,000-unit bite will have been taken in the field stocks by Aug. 1.

When new car inventories are down once more to 400,000 units, bootlegging probably will have disappeared entirely. At least it will have diminished to the point where relatively little will be heard about it.

Meanwhile the National Automobile Dealers Assn. is urging its members to avoid the wholesaling of surplus new cars to used car dealers. It hopes to have anti-bootlegging clauses in dealer contracts legalized through congressional action.

The Justice Department already has refused both manufacturer and dealer requests for approval of such contracts.

Melting the biggest stockpile of new cars in industry history has not been an easy task for the auto makers and retailers. It has been achieved almost entirely through the cutting of profits.

For the dealers the increased sales volume has resulted from cutting of prices, high trade-in allowances and some giveaway projects involving free television sets and other items.

The manufacturers, too, have gone to unusual lengths to increase sales efforts and volume.

Bonus offers by the manufacturers to their dealers have become commonplace. In some instances these range up to as much as $200 for each car sale above a specified number. In other instances "extra trading allowances" have been granted by the manufacturers.

Chrysler is one of the latest of the car makers to give its dealers an "extra trading allowance." Chrysler declined to comment on the arrangement but through dealers it was learned the allowances, to be granted for the remainder of the 1954 model run, are $90 on Chryslers and DeSotos, $80 on Dodges and $30 on Plymouths.

Big Bond Issue 'Feeds Inflation'

Professor Claims Road Money May Have to Be Paid With Dear Dollars

EAST LANSING (UP) — A Michigan State College professor has cast doubt in proposals for a 500 million dollar bond issue to build state highways.

Gov. Williams has picked up a Republican - sponsored proposal for the bond issue and coined the phrase "Build Tomorrow's Roads Today."

Prof. A. Engelsman of the MSC social science department told the MSC governmental forum yesterday that "the dollar is very cheap today and we might have to pay that back with very dear dollars. A bond issue tends to add fuel to the flames of inflation."

Engelsman said road costs have risen 134 per cent, but the state gasoline tax only 50 per cent — to 4½ cents per gallon. He said a six cent tax would be near the national average.

State Controller John W. Lederle said highway builders want 2½ billion dollars for new roads and that the state institutions want 250 million dollars for new construction. These are pressures against future balanced budgets, he said.

Three state fiscal experts agreed the state treasury is better off with a deficit than a surplus.

They were state treasurer D. Hale Brake, Charles J. McNeill, legislative controller, and Clarence W. Lock, deputy state revenue commissioner.

McNeill said a deficit permits better control over spendthrift state agencies and Brake said that a deficit is a good answer to pressure groups which want state funds for their pet purposes.

Border Flood Added to Disaster Survey

LANSING (UP) — A Michigan State College survey of the Flint tornado disaster is being extended to the Mexican border flood disaster.

Two MSC sociologists, Dr. Charles P. Loomis and Dr. Roy Clifford, have left for the Mexican border to study effects of the disaster.

The project is sponsored by MSC, the University of Texas, the National Research Council and the Carnegie Foundation.

As after the Flint disaster, the college authorities will seek ways to improve the techniques of warning, rescue, organization during an emergency, and the rehabilitation of individuals and communities involved.

Tabby, mother of two new kittens, did away with three of the rats, but couldn't resist the fourth. She adopted him and now all four drink milk from the same saucer.

Vetoes Wider Social Security

Senate Finance Group Is Against Broadening Compulsory Coverage

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower suffered a setback yesterday when the Senate Finance Committe turned down compulsory social security coverage for 3,600,000 farm operators and 500,000 professionals.

The committee, working behind closed doors on the administration's big social security bill, voted to allow persons in those groups to decide for themselves whether they want to be covered.

However, several committee members said today other main provisions in the bill probably will emerge just about as the President wants them.

Meanwhile, the Senate itself passed 78-3 a bill that for the first time would earmark all the proceds of the federal unemployment compensation tax for the federal-state jobless aid program.

The tax comes to three-tenths of 1 per cent of payrolls. The House passed the bill last year so the measure now goes to conference for compromising of minor differences.

Thus, the states seemed assured of being able in a few years to utilize for actual jobless pay benefits about 70 million dollars a year that has been going into the federal treasury.

Before the bill was passed, the Senate rejected 56-30 an effort by Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass), 15 other Democrats and Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) to boost unemployment compensation benefits about 40 per cent. Eisenhower has urged the states — which now decide the amount and duration of payments — to broaden the benefits.

The social security bill would increase benefits for the 70 million persons already in the system and raise the tax base to $4,200 of annual wages from the present $3,600.

Moral Buildup Aids Guatemala

Other Latin American Nations Also Boosted by Rearmament

MACKINAC ISLAND (INS) — A recent visitor to Latin America says that moral re-armament has become a new ideological force in Guatemala and other Central American and Caribbean countries.

Michael Blundell of Miami, in an address before the Moral Rearmament Assembly at Mackinac Island yesterday cited as an example of this force a Guatemala radio mechanic who had been attracted by Communism prior to attending the MRA meeting in 1952.

Blundell said the mechanic was so convinced by MRA that he returned to his country and helped give more than 100 broadcasts on moral re-armament. He added:

"Anti-communism is nothing. It is negative. We must have a positive answer and that is what moral re-armament is giving."

Another speaker, Mrs. Basil Entwistle of Louisville, Ky., who recently returned after three years as a missionary to Japan, said she was convinced that America's present position should be used "to restore moral standards to the world."

TIRE BECOMES BEEHIVE — A swarm of bees that streaked over downtown Pontiac yesterday is shown on the wheel of a tire in a parking lot at 15 S. Perry St. Parking lot employes thought a tornado had struck when the buzzing hoard swirled down from the sky. The bees — packed together like sardines — are massed on the lower right section of the tire.

'Thought It Was Tornado'

Becker Boxes Busy Bees, Business Area Is Relieved

A swarm of wandering bees which streaked over Pontiac's business district in an arrow-shaped formation Tuesday was settled in its new home today.

The throng of honey bees, which swooped into a parking lot at 15 S. Perry St. and swarmed on an auto tire for two hours, finally was enticed into a beehive by bee-keeper Albert H. Becker, 68, of 635 Ditmar St.

Becker, a retired city employe and bee-keeper for the past six years, was summoned by police when lot owner Charles O. Graine, 51, of Birmingham, complained the swarm of about 5,000 bees was interfering with business.

For Becker—the swarm was a real find — they will produce about 100 pounds of honey during the summer.

But for Graine and his attendant Glen D. Wallace, 20, of 24 Henderson St.:

"We thought it was a tornado, coming toward us."

Pontiac Patrolman Euel L. Flanagan, walking past the lot at the time, estimated the swarm to be about 30 feet long, and funnel-shaped as it buzzed down on the lot attendants.

Many curious onlookers attempted theories to explain the swarm's flight into the city.

One thought they were "evicted" by a stronger colony. Another said the bees were a rebellious force in search of freedom.

But to Becker, it was simple:

"They'll always follow the queen," he explained.

Funeral Service Set for Lynn H. Felton

ROCHESTER — Funeral service for Lynn H. Felton, 63, of 146 Griggs Rd., will be at 1 p.m. Thursday at the Pixley Funeral Home, with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

He died yesterday after a long illness. Mr. Felton was district superintendent of the meter department of the Detroit Edison, and had been with the firm for 44 years.

A past president of the Plymouth Rotary Club, he was also a member of Plymouth Lodge F&AM No. 47.

Surviving are his widow, Anna, two sons, LeRoy and George; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Felton, of Plymouth; a brother, George, of Philadelphia, Pa.; and two sisters, Edith Felton, and Mrs. Pearl Hopkins.

U.S. hospitals in 1953 had a total of 1,168,564 employes.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR daughter Ita Lee who passed away July 13, 1942.
Because your life's such a beautiful memory
To grieve that it's gone seems unfair,
Like begrudging you more time in Heaven
When our only hope is meeting you there.
Sadly missed by Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Johnson, Aunt Avis and Uncle Al, Lucy and Chuck.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF LOUISE M. Wall who left us 4 years ago today, July 14, 1950. Sadly missed by mom, sister and brothers.

Had a Couple Big Breaks

Now Packs Halls and Hotels; People Love His Simple Songs

NEW YORK — In the nine years Eddy Arnold has been recording, his record sales have reached 30,000,000 and have established him firmly as the nation's greatest singer of country music.

But his popularity is not limited to records. He is also recognized as one of the country's top performers in radio, television, motion pictures and theaters.

The warmth and simple homespun quality of his performances have been acclaimed enthusiastically by varied audiences — at hoedowns in the Smoky Mountains of Tennessee as well as in swank hotel supper clubs in Las Vegas and elsewhere.

Eddy Arnold was born on his father's farm near Henderson, Tenn. As a child he joined his two brothers and sister in the work of the farm, picking cotton, husking corn and plowing the land.

He attended a one-room school house in Henderson and later went to Pinson High School. He was forced to quit school when his father lost the farm during the depression years of the 1930s.

Eddy's first big break came when he signed up with Pee Wee King and his Golden West Cowboys and went on tour.

From there he landed a six-days-weekly radio program over station WSM, Nashville, Tenn., singing and playing the guitar. He called himself the Tennessee Plowboy.

The second big break occurred in 1943, when a music publisher friend recommended him to Victor executives, and he was signed to a recording contract.

Eddy has been in demand for guest appearances with such TV stars as Milton Berle and Bob Hope. In 1952 he starred on his own TV program, and the next year was star of the summer show that replaced the Dinah Shore program.

Many stations in the United States and Canada carry daily Eddy Arnold programs. On personal appearance tours he has packed such places as Constitution Hall in Washington, D. C.; the Shamrock Hotel in Houston, the Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas, football fields, fat stock shows and livestock expositions.

He has appeared in every state except Montana and the Dakotas. He has made two pictures, Hoedown and Feudin' Rhythm.

Eddy is married to the former Sally Gayhart of LaGrange, Ky. They met in 1940 in Louisville. She was working as a sales clerk in a five-and-dime store and, he recalls, at that time she was making more money than he.

They now live on a 107-acre farm in Brentwood, Tenn. They have two children: Jo Ann, eight, and Dickie, five.

The Philippines have seven private universities of recognized standing.

Finn Twins Get Ruling Today

Fasting Brothers Jailed for Arresting Attorney; 23rd Day of Abstinence

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The fasting Finn twins learn today if it's food for supper or just the 23rd day of a starvation strike.

The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals is slated to rule on an appeal for bail for the twins, who were sentenced to a year's jail term for interfering with a government officer.

The 40-year-old identical brothers, protesting against the "injustice" of their sentence and the government's seizure of their war surplus transport plane, have vowed to shun food until they die or are released.

Whatever the outcome, the case of the Flying Finns has become the biggest human interest story locally in many a year.

Los Angeles newspapers report on the brothers' starvation rigors with banner headlines. Finn fan clubs have sprung up. Auto stickers with "Hurry up and help the Finns" have appeared on the highways. In Bakersfield money is being collected to help them.

* * *

Charles weighed 138 at the start of the fast and George, 135. Their latest weights are 112 and 111.

The Finn case started with purchase of a C46 from a school district near Bakersfield, where it had been used as a classroom. The Finns spent several thousand dollars reconditioning it and flew it 18 months. The government then began action to get it back, holding that the contract with the school district forbade its resale except for scrap.

That touched off a comedy of errors with the twins flying the ship from Bakersfield to an airstrip near Death Valley. The FBI arrived to serve a contempt warrant for removing the plane in violation of a government order.

George had taken over Charles' post as guard and the FBI served the wrong warrant. In court, George wouldn't tell if he were George or Charles and got jailed for contempt. They were acquitted when their lawyer showed the government never had legal possession of the plane.

With the acquittal, the Finns thought the government acted illegally when the Air Force was ordered to remove the ship to Nellis Air Force Base near Las Vegas, Nev.

That's when they slapped handcuffs on U.S. Atty. Laughlin E. Waters as he left a hotel. The Finns said they wanted to make a citizen's arrest of the prosecutor but a federal judge thought otherwise. He gave them the year in jail.

That started the fasting. The Finns drink water and officials at the California Medical Facility at Terminal Island have given orders to force feed the two only if their condition becomes critical.

History of Rose Clouded in Crossed Antiquity

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP) — Ask any average gardener from what flower the rose was developed and he probably won't be able to give an answer.

The rose is one of the most popular of American flowers, but its history is somewhat hazy. It has been crossed and re-crossed a great many times in past centuries. And there are more than 250 different species of the true rose and many hundreds of varieties.

However, the experts believe that many of the older types descended from the Provence Rose (Rosa Gallica) which is a native to southern and central Europe.

Forgotten Convicts Obtain Hearing After 23 Years

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Two convicts, "forgotten men" for almost a decade, have won a new trial after spending more than 13 years in prison.

They received the new chance on their claim that they did not have the benefit of legal advice in the original hearing back in 1941.

For a while in 1945 and 1946 it looked as if they might get a new trial. Then confusion and a quarrel between courts closed the state penitentiary gates once again.

Years went by until a sympathetic lawyer intervened to give them a new chance.

* * *

Here's the story:

Joseph Montgomery, then 21, and Lawrence E. Young, 23, were charged 13 years ago with kidnaping, first-degree robbery and car theft in St. Francois County, Mo. They admitted in court they got drunk and took a man in his automobile to St. Louis.

On their pleas of guilty, the St. Francois County Circuit Court judge sentenced each to life imprisonment on the robbery and kidnaping charges and five years for car theft. The judge, Frank Fenwick, has been dead for many years now.

* * *

After four years in the state Penitentiary here, Montgomery and Young hired a lawyer and filed a plea for release in the Cole County Circuit Court, Circuit Judge S. C. Blair, upon being told the men did not have an attorney in their original hearing, ordered them returned to St. Francois County "to be dealt with according to law."

* * *

But the St. Francois County judge, Norwin D. Houser at that time, said one circuit court couldn't undo the action of another circuit court. He said the record of the St. Francois court stood unblemished and ordered Montgomery and Young back to prison.

At first, prison officials wouldn't take them because two contrary circuit court decisions hung over the men. There was no prison commitment order by which they could be held as convicts once again.

Finally penitentiary officials put them in receiving cells — the separate quarters for new prisoners. They stayed there six months with no action taken either for or against them. Then prison authorities classified them for work in prison shops and for more than eight years they were forgotten men.

* * *

A few months ago Sam Haley, Jefferson City lawyer, heard about the case from inside the prison. He appealed to the Federal District Court in Kansas City.

Federal Judge Richard M. Duncan upheld Circuit Judge Blair's order that they be sent back to St. Francois County for a new trial.

Said Haley:

"They may come back to prison, but they have a right to a fair hearing in court first."

Nonchalant Numbers Man Gets Tip in Court

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Octavio Flores, 19, was feeling pretty chipper today — and very much relieved.

Flores and Lupe Perez, 17, were wrestling yesterday when Perez playfully pointed a .32 revolver he thought was unloaded at Octavio and pulled the trigger.

The pistol belched smoke and flame and Flores crumpled to the ground holding his stomach and gasping.

But all the doctor at a local hospital did about it was place a small strip of adhesive tape on the youth's abdomen and tell him to go home.

A Navy-style web belt stopped the bullet from point-blank range. The slug was found between Flores' belt and his khaki trousers. Flores had a sorely bruised midsection.

Cooler Too Hot So Prisoners Loaf on Lawn

MIAMI, Okla. (AP) — It was even too hot in the "cooler" here yesterday.

With the temperature at 115 degrees, Ottawa County Sheriff James A. Alleman ordered seven prisoners out of the jail, marched them onto the courthouse lawn under shade of trees and permitted them to play cards.

"It was too hot in that fourth floor jail," the sheriff remarked, "even for law violators."

A single Army Quartermaster bakery company of 119 men can supply approximately 26,000 soldiers with one-half pound of bread per man per day.

Proposes Imprisonment for Highway Speeders

ARTESIA, N.M. (AP) — The Eddy County Safety Council has recommended jail sentences of two to five hours as punishment for speeders.

A council spokesman says a $15 fine may mean nothing to one driver but really hurts another. "Everyone has just 24 hours a day, and a two-hour sentence would penalize the rich and poor equally," he said.

The Army Signal Corps Training Center at Camp Gordon, Ga., saved more than $500,000 in a single 12-month period. Most of the saving came from eliminating paid overtime for civilian employes at the post.
