ONE COLOR

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican members of Congress from Michigan are backing Gov. George Romney as a favorite-son candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

Rep. Gerald Ford said he hopes the 46-member Michigan delegation to the party's 1964 convention will give Romney, Michigan's first GOP governor in 14 years, the same backing.

Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County, said he believes Romney should have the Michigan delegation's endorsement as a favorite-son candidate "although it is a little premature to consider him for president."

Broomfield expressed hope that Romney will hold himself off as a serious candidate for the White House at least until 1968.

"He has the qualifications for being an excellent candidate, but the people of Michigan need him greatly now," Broomfield said. "As of now, it would be a mistake to push him too fast."

Meanwhile, Mrs. J. Willard Marriott termed "ridiculous" reports that a reception in her home today for Romney is a quiet effort to push him as a possible Republican presidential candidate.

'ON CHRISTMAS LIST'

Mrs. Marriott, the Republican national committeewoman for the District of Columbia, said most of the names of the 300 guests invited to the reception were "taken from my Christmas list."

Romney is a guest with Mrs. Marriott at the home of the Marriotts. He addressed the annual meeting of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce here yesterday.

Through the Republican National Committee, it was announced that Romney would have a news conference at the Statler Hotel at 2 p.m.

A committee spokesman said that so far as he knew the conference was arranged simply because a lot of newsmen had said they would like Romney to hold one.

The Michigan governor has said repeatedly he is not and will not be a candidate for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

The New York Times in a Washington dispatch said Romney would be "quietly put forward."

Fear Violence in Haiti When OAS Departs

Washington Charges U.S. Embassy Official Searched at Gunpoint

From Our News Wires
PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti — Diplomats feared today that the departure from Haiti of an inter-American investigating commission would be followed by new and bloody repression of President Francois Duvalier's political foes.

Concern also spread because Duvalier's regime had offered safe conduct out of the country for only 15 of 22 Haitians who took asylum in the Dominican Republic's Embassy during a weekend wave of terror.

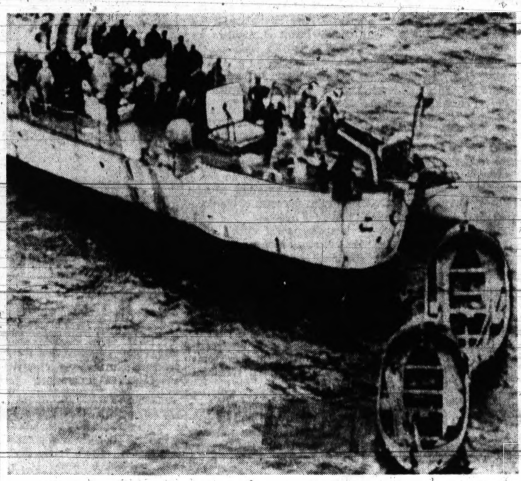

The Dominican government was expected to insist that all 22 be allowed to leave, prolonging the crisis between the two neighbors on the island of Hispaniola.

In Washington, the State Department charged that a U.S. Embassy official in Haiti was ordered out of his car at gunpoint and searched by Haitian police early this morning.

State Department spokesman Lincoln White said the situation in Haiti remains "potentially explosive." The department warned Americans to "avoid unnecessary travel" to that country.

The five-nation mission from the Organization of American States planned to fly today to Santo Domingo, the Dominican capital, to discuss the question of the refugees and continue its investigation.

Informed sources said the Haitian government was refusing to let alleged leaders of plots against Duvalier leave the country, but was willing to allow those considered lesser conspirators to go.

SEAMEN RESCUED — Crewmen of the Red Chinese freighter Yue Jin Ho which sank in the East China Sea are shown aboard the Japanese Maritime Safety Agency's patrol boat Koshiki after their rescue yesterday. The Chinese claim their ship was torpedoed.

Claim of Torpedoing Doubled by Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese government and shipping officials expressed doubt today of claims by Chinese sailors that their freighter, the pride of Communist China's merchant fleet, was torpedoed and sunk by an unidentified submarine in the East China Sea.

The Japanese tended to blame the sinking of a submerged reef off South Korea or floating mines which Red China laid during the Korean War.

A Navy spokesman said no Japanese or American submarines were in the area when the freighter met disaster.

The ship was the 11,482-ton Yue Jin Ho (Leap Forward), making an inaugural trade voyage to Japan with 14,000 tons of corn and other products.

Relaying a report from Japanese rescuers, Japanese maritime officials said the Chinese crewmen claimed their ship was followed by a sub for four hours yesterday and was hit by three torpedoes at about 1:15 p.m. 120 miles southwest of South Korea's Cheju Island.

The crewmen said they took to three lifeboats about four hours later when the ship, the first large ocean-going freighter built by Communist China, went down.

A Japanese fishing boat picked up the captain and 58 crewmen. At Red China's radioed request the Japanese patrol ship Koshiki took them aboard and headed for the Communist port of Shanghai. None of the Chinese was reported injured.

Water's Effect on Equipment to Be Checked

Fear Bursting Pipe May Have Disabled Craft's Controls

From Our News Wires

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. — The Navy was scheduled to conduct tests today on simulated submarine compartments in an attempt to find the cause of the Thresher disaster.

A spokesman for the Navy court of inquiry probing the loss of the Thresher with 129 men aboard said the compartment would be flooded to see what happens when sea water strikes electrical switchboard and other equipment.

The Navy said the test would be closed to press and public. However, it said it would issue a statement at its conclusion.

The Navy was trying to find out if a bursting pipe could have disabled the submarine's controls, causing it to drop to the ocean bottom.

Vice Adm. Bernard L. Austin, president of the court, said shipyard workers constructed equipment similar to that aboard the Thresher and subject it to severe tests.

Some such tests have already been conducted at Portsmouth Naval Shipyard and at Vallejo, Calif.

The court of inquiry was given classified information behind closed doors today prior to watching the tests.

Hails System of Law in U.S.

It's a system of law such as America's that makes possible a society with the seemingly contradictory qualities of "equality and individuality," said Royal Oak attorney James Renfrew.

He spoke yesterday at a County Courthouse ceremony observing Law Day, U.S.A., America's answer to the Soviet Union's celebration of May Day on May 1.

Mrs. David Pence of Pontiac, head of Lawyers' Wives of Michigan, also spoke at the ceremony before a full house in the courtroom of Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem. Circuit Judge William J. Beer presided.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams presented awards to three winners of a Law Day poster contest among high school students.

Winners were Michael Bright of Rochester High School, 1st; Michael Koski, Southfield High School, 2nd; and Patricia Devine, Shrine of the Little Flower High School, 3rd.

New County Judges May Be Named Soon

By JIM DYGERT

Although Oakland County will not get its two new Circuit judges before September, their identity may well be known by the end of May.

Gov. George Romney is expected to name his appointees to the new vacancies soon after signing into law the bill creating them.

And indications are that Romney may sign the bill, approved by both houses of the State Legislature, some time next week.

The legislation would not take effect until 90 days after the Legislature adjourns its 1963 regular session. Since the adjournment date is scheduled for June 7, this would make the county's new judgeships effective Sept. 5.

This gives the county time to make room at the county courthouse for its sixth and seventh judges.

But, the sooner Romney announces his choices, the more merciful it will be for a number of county hopefuls for the posts — which may be why the governor will not keep them too long in suspense.

Leading prospects for the appointments, according to a number of observers, are attorneys James S. Thornburn of Royal Oak and Philip Pratt of Pontiac. Thornburn is currently president, and Pratt is currently president, and (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Kozlov Misses May Day Fete

Speculation Aroused About Nik's Favorite

By HENRY SHAPIRO

MOSCOW (UPI) — The unexpected absence of Frol Kozlov from May Day festivities stirred speculation today that he is ill and possibly out of the running as eventual successor to Nikita Khrushchev.

Kozlov, 55, is deputy Communist party leader and has been pegged publicly by Premier Khrushchev as his choice to be the next party first secretary, the most powerful post in the Soviet Union.

The failure of Kozlov to join Khrushchev and other Kremlin leaders at the big May Day parade carried as much stir in diplomatic circles as the presence of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro, who has been in the Soviet Union since last Saturday.

News Analysis

Rumors about Kozlov started earlier in the week when he failed to appear at any of the welcoming ceremonies for Castro. As is customary here, the Russians offered no explanation, and it was thought that Kozlov may have been on vacation or indisposed in a minor way.

But when the deputy party leader did not show up on Lenin's Mausoleum in Red Square yesterday, the speculation (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Boat Overturns, Youth Drowns

A late evening boat ride on Elizabeth Lake in Waterford Township turned into tragedy last night when the craft overturned and one of the four young people aboard drowned.

The body of 19-year-old Randall R. Rupprecht, 19, of 2069 Dexter, Pontiac Township, was recovered shortly before 6 a.m. today, nine hours after the accident.

The youth's companions, Margaret Stuart, 16, 801 Mt. Clemens St.; Jeannette Duong, 15, 577 Lowe, and Ronald Goldworthy, 17, 795 Lyle, Waterford Township, were treated for shock at Pontiac General Hospital.

Goldworthy's boat tipped deputies that his boat shied when Rupprecht and the Stuart girl attempted to trade places.

Rupprecht's body is at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

In Trial of Local Teamster

Teamster boss James Hoffa's question on the duties of a Teamster business agent, two regarding previous testimony at Harmon's Grand Jury hearing, and two regarding Harmon's private cabin cruiser, "The Princess Enterprise."

The government has charged Harmon, financial secretary for Local 614, with embezzling $2,085 from the union treasury by using gasoline credit cards to purchase supplies for the boat.

Harmon, who lives at 2990 Barnes, Waterford Township, has contended that it was used for union conferences and that other persons had used the credit cards to purchase supplies.

U.S. Atty. Richard Coleman has introduced testimony that Harmon repaid $1,500 of the total amount after the Grand Jury called in bookkeepers of the local for questioning.

He was indicted last June following an audit of Local 614 records by federal Labor Department investigators.

The case, being tried before Judge Talbot Smith, is expected to go to the jury early next week, according to U.S. Atty. William Merrill.

The other two were Frank Orsini, a former vice president of the local, and Leann Harrelson, local president.

Harrelson is free on bond, awaiting trial in federal court on charges of embezzlement and making false entries in Local 614 financial records. He was indicted last September by a federal grand jury.

Representatives Kill Bill to End Death

BOSTON (AP)—The Massachusetts House has killed a bill to abolish the death penalty in a night-session vote which was a resounding defeat for the top Democratic leadership on Beacon Hill.

The bill went down to defeat last night when a roll call vote of 124 to 108 struck out the execution clause, reversing a previous House stand. The bill had passed the Senate. However, it was possible House members could move for reconsideration of the vote, which would renew the battle.

Remote Exam Technique Checks Heart Under On-Job Stress

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Is mental tension harder on the heart than heavy physical strain? Which is more likely to increase blood pressure—brain work, especially under stress, or strenuous manual labor?

The answers to these and similar questions about man's health in his workaday environment may be assured—in time—by a new technique which has given science another weapon against one of the modern world's chief killers.

This weapon, in use by the Sun Oil Co., is a remote heart-checking technique by means of which a man's heart is tested while he drives a truck, flies an airplane, swings a sledge, climbs stairs, lifts or carries unusual weights.

Sun Oil's medical staff, in partnership with a research group at Lankenau Hospital, is completing the first year of a five-year study dealing exclusively with employees engaged in hard labor. Upon completion of this phase of an even longer range program, the doctors expect to test white collar employees and make comparisons with the blue collar ones.

"Right now," said Dr. Charles S. Ryan, of Sun Oil's medical staff, "we want to concentrate on further defining what we mean by abnormalities. We want to find out more about the conditions under which these abnormalities show up. What are the determining factors—tension, exercise, family history of weakness, temperature, humidity, high cholesterol count, heavy smoking, faulty man's work, carries heart impulses to a tiny transmitter in the employee's pocket. The impulses are relayed by radio waves to technicians—some as far away as 500 feet—who supervise the conversion of the impulses to tracings on a chart."

AT REST, ON JOB

The standard electrocardiogram has been helpful in determining these factors, but not helpful enough.

The customary cardiogram is recorded while the patient is at rest. The remote test is given while an employee is going about his job.

Equipment fastened to the body, and in no way interfering with the man's work, carries heart impulses to a tiny transmitter in the employee's pocket. The impulses are relayed by radio waves to technicians—some as far away as 500 feet—who supervise the conversion of the impulses to tracings on a chart.

So far, Sun Oil's medical division has tested 352 employees, in age groups from 20 to 60, since the program was started last June. Of that total, 82 were found to have abnormalities.

Most of the 352 men, when tested, were working in temperatures of 100 to 110 degrees, doing heavy lifting, climbing the equivalent of a three-story building, inside tanks at the company's huge plant at nearby Marcus Hook. The others, though working in more comfortable temperatures, and some of them out-of-doors, put forth nearly as much physical effort.

(A similar type of heart test has been conducted by the Bell Telephone Co. among its linemen, who also were examined as they worked aloft.)

The heart-charting process takes five minutes now. Ryan says that's long enough to determine whether there is an abnormality. Eventually, however, the equipment will be left on longer, perhaps two to three hours, for exhaustive testing.

Looking beyond that, Ryan said, the time will come when a person can take home a heart-testing outfit, make use of it there for an indefinite period, later turning it over to a technician for conversion of impulses to tracings on the chart.

Tracings will be transmitted by telephone, from one part of the country to another, he proposed, and by something akin to television, that is, the tracings will be flashed on a screen, again over long distances. A bell will ring when an abnormality shows up, alerting the attending technician.

This British colony of the Bahamas consists of about 3,000 islands and covers an area that stretches out to more than 800 miles in length.

Churchill: Britain's Greatest Leader Quitting Commons

LONDON (AP)—The House of Commons is losing its greatest son.

After 60 years of triumph and trial in the mother of Parliaments, Sir Winston Churchill announced Wednesday he is quitting politics because of his health.

The 88-year-old statesman's regretful decision evoked deep feeling of sadness throughout Britain that he felt he had to go and pride in all that he had done. "We will never see his like again," said many.

The old war horse, slowed by age and physical decline, said he will not be a candidate in the next general election, due by October 1964. He will remain a member of Commons until Parliament is dissolved before the election.

Churchill wrote his Conservative supporters in his electoral district of Woodford that his accident last year when he fell and broke his left thigh, "greatly decreased my mobility, and it has become difficult for me to attend the House of Commons as I would wish. "I need not tell you what sadness I feel constrained to take this step," he said.

UNMATCHED CAREER

Churchill's 60-year career in Commons was unmatched for brilliance and achievement.

From a brash, outspoken striping legislator of 26, he rose to immortality in his own lifetime. He made a shaky start, failing in his first race for Commons in 1899. He made it the next year. Except for two years in the political wilderness, when he was voted out of office in the 1920s, he has been a member of Commons ever since. Priding himself on being a child of the House of Commons, he declined a peerage to remain there.

His career included nearly every cabinet office except foreign secretary. The highest prize came when he was 65, on May 10, 1949. He made a shaky start, failing in his first race for Commons in 1899. He made it the next year. Except for two years in the political wilderness, when he was voted out of office in the 1920s, he has been a member of Commons ever since. Priding himself on being a child of the House of Commons, he declined a peerage to remain there.

It was the first of the many majestic, memorable and defiant speeches that were to rally Britain and the democracies. His oratory became a war weapon. His matchless phrases passed—like much of Shakespeare—into the day-to-day language.

In 1945, with victory at hand, the British voters turned their backs on him and elected a labor government. For six years he headed the opposition. In 1951 the Conservatives were returned to office.

Retired General Dies
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Brig. Gen. Joseph Merit Tully (ret.), 69, whose troops were the first to land in France by sea on D-Day died Wednesday.

Churchill at 77 became prime minister again. But his health was waning, and in 1955 he stepped aside for Anthony Eden.

In recent years his appearances in the House have grown fewer and fewer. He last spoke there on his 87th birthday, Nov. 20, 1961. As he walked in and sank into his usual corner seat, the House rose in cheers.

The Yorkshire Post suggested today a unique reward, making Churchill the first honorary member of Parliament. The United States showed its appreciation last month by making him an honorary citizen.

Ex-Representative Dies
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Jessica McCullough Weiss, 62, Republican representative in Congress for two terms, 1958-1962, died Wednesday.

Fulbright Investigation Safeguarding Taxpayer

Recent disclosures have been made that lobbyists with an inside track because of political ties are in a position to profit quite handsomely. This is not really shocking.

Probably a lot more of this sort of thing goes on than many of us ever would believe. But when the fainting is brought to light, we feel the guilty parties should be made to pay for making suckers out of the U. S. taxpayers.

FULBRIGHT

The inquiry led by Sen. J. WILLIAM FULBRIGHT which uncoiled the operations of JOHN O'DONNELL is the kind of investigation we like to see. O'DONNELL was a member of the old Philippine War Damage Commission and was making a killing with money intended as an honest debt.

No one questions the Filipino war claims. They were justified long ago. The problem seems to be the manner in which payments are made. As the law stands, the method of payment apparently would allow lobbyists to collect fat fees.

Shenanigans which mix cash and politics are disturbing. Rules to guard against such actions are called for. We hope some legislation results from the Fulbright investigation to guard against the taxpayers' money being used as payoffs to lobbyists.

Warning for Everyone— Beware of ALL Dogs

Warmer days are ahead. And then: summer. Therefore, we provide you with a sobering statistic that deserves to be written into your inner conscience and kept there for future reference.

An Illinois Health Commissioner is authority for the statement that 600,000 Americans are bitten by dogs each year. The startling and disturbing feature of this lies in the fact that about one-third of the attacks are apparently without reason or warning. Hence, you should avoid strange dogs and you should explain this in detail to children who impulsively run up and throw their arms around dogs of all classes, ages and in all circumstances.

And don't forget: this bit of information can be of just as great help to you personally as it is to the youngsters.

Look out for dogs. This means ALL dogs.

'Academy' Unnecessary to Combat Communism

A new congressional effort to establish a Freedom Academy to train Americans to counter Communist Cold War tactics has been touched off.

Testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Democratic Sen. Karl E. Mundt said Communists have been training their conspirators for more than four decades in "new techniques of political, ideological and psychological assault."

The goal of such an academy, said the Senator, is to teach men and women how to defeat the destructive tactics of the Reds and how to create abroad a desire to build strong, free societies. We are heartily in accord with any idea which will halt the spread of communism.

But since communism the world over is experiencing economic and sociological ills of considerable magnitude, we believe the United States—still the shining example of governmental efficacy—can achieve the purpose of the academy proponents by deed rather than word.

This means unrelenting efforts toward establishment of unquestioned integrity in government on all levels. Correlative sound and progressive fiscal policies would be included. Also needed is the application of realism and contraction in the area of Government paternalism which has had an undeniable softening effect on the spirit of independence which made America great.

It is often the case that a pint of liquor brings on a peck of trouble.

JFK, Nikita Quiet After Near-Crash

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev act like two tanks which collided and, chastened by the experience, shut their motors off to let them cool. True, there's grim tension in Laos. But there was tension there a year ago. Fighting in Viet Nam continues from 1962. This time a year ago the Secret Army Organization was killing Moslems in Algeria. Now there's war in Yemen.

These troubles, compared with what would happen if the big powers cut loose, are only miniature reminders that in an age when man talks of being civilized it is still easier and more cultural for him to be primitive than reasonable.

In Moscow yesterday the Russians turned on the phonograph record about smashing an aggressor, although there's none in sight, and Khrushchev had the visiting Fidel Castro out to his house for dinner.

But Khrushchev, who recently discussed 60 almost mournfully, isn't making any threats on Berlin and he isn't starting new nuclear tests although he isn't agreeing to ban them, either.

He has been almost astonishingly quiet in recent months, like a man who found that putting around in his own Russian garden was enough to keep him fully occupied, which it probably was, since his garden isn't all roses.

There's been nothing boisterous about Kennedy, either. A year ago business was mad at him for not letting steel raise its prices. Now it seems happy that he did just the opposite a few weeks ago.

PAINFUL ITEMS

Even on such painful items as Castro and Russian troops in Cuba, Kennedy has been rather reticent, too. This may indicate he doesn't have a solution but doesn't indicate he's not looking for one.

Not even a political fireman could detect a tiny flame of anger in Kennedy at a Congress where his programs have been making small progress although his Democrats overwhelmingly outnumber the Republicans.

He talked almost wistfully last week of the House Rules Committee, run by Democrats, when he said he thought the House would approve much of his program if the committee would just let it out to be voted on.

Kennedy and Khrushchev, ever since they got so unintentionally intimate that they were eyeball-to-eyeball over the Russian missiles in Cuba, have both been restrained in their public statements.

It was almost as if, in that close-up look, they got a glimpse of eternity and haven't recovered from the shock.

Thus the world is in one of its quiet moments, like evening on a pond when the wind dies down. Nevertheless, under the calm and glassy surface the bass still chase the minnows.

Verbal Orchids to—
Mrs. W. A. Winters

Italian Election Warning to Latins

WASHINGTON—Why did the Communist party make such substantial gains in the national election held in Italy in the last few days? Thirty million persons went to the polls, and nearly 8 million voted for the Communist party. This was a gain of more than 1 million over their previous strength and means an additional 25 seats in parliament, so that they now have the second largest number of seats in the Chamber—166 as against the 260 of the party called "Christian Democrats."

Yet communism itself has been vehemently opposed by the Vatican. Also, the overwhelming majority of Italians are Roman Catholics.

About five years ago, this correspondent happened to be seated on a train alongside a Catholic bishop who had been attending the annual conference of the Catholic bishops in Washington.

The conversation turned toward the influence of the Roman Catholic Church in opposing communism in different countries of the world. This correspondent asked the Catholic prelate the following question:

"Why is it that in Italy, where nearly everybody is a Catholic, there are so many Communists?"

The bishop answered unhesitatingly and forthrightly: "If I had been born and raised in Italy, and if I had not become a priest, I believe I might well have become a Communist."

SAME LINE

The explanation that followed was along the same line that one hears today with reference to this same problem in Latin America, where the Catholic Church is also the dominant religious influence in every country there.

The main point is that economic and social conditions have caused people in the lowest income group to grasp at communism as a means of improving their lot. The church has no way to influence economic trends.

Italy today is rated high in economic growth and is enjoying a kind of national prosperity. But inflation prevails, and this is hurting the low-income groups. The man in business has not solved the problem of better wages for the middle and lower income classes.

Criticism is widespread that a better distribution of national income is needed in most Latin countries and, incidentally, neither Italy nor France is an exception. Despite the popularity of General de Gaulle, for instance, there is widespread discontent among the farmers and low-income groups in France.

Italy's leaders in all parties are well aware of the basic economic factors that are affecting politics. But there is no agreement among the leaders of the various parties as to how to handle the dilemma.

The effort of Premier Fanfani in recent months to move toward the "left" didn't seem to hold in line the voters who wanted to go even further toward the left, and hence embraced the Communist party. Meanwhile, the "Liberal" party, composed largely of conservatives, gained 1 million votes. So the "middle of the road" policies cost the premier votes from both radical and nonradical supporters.

It is not clear to the outside world how much influence Moscow has wielded in recent months inside the Italian Communist party. Not a single Russian appears openly.

The same thing is true in other countries where the Communist party is led by native sons with a socialist or left-wing proclivity.

Some Thoughtful Words From General, Detroit

NEW YORK—People . . . Places Things . . . Encouraging statement by Gen. John K. Gerhart, commander-in-chief of North American Air Defense, after an intensive two-day defense of San Francisco and Los Angeles and surrounding bases, missile sites, industries, research labs and shipyards.

"What was proven by this extensive and proven exercise? Simply, that the 28th NORAD region can perform its assigned mission with signal success and that air defenses can destroy a significantly high percentage of bombers, higher than even the most optimistic predictions of just a few years ago."

Sobering addendum: "At this particular point in time, our chief worry is the long-range missile, the ICBM. This is a threat today. As a matter of fact, we are at present crossing the threshold of the period when the ICBM will become the major threat to our security."

"Today we can perform only two of our four basic actions against the ICBM—we can only detect and we can identify."

No fancier of wessel words is D. A. Coape-Arnold, president of Massey-Ferguson, Inc., Detroit industrialist who has held important management positions both in the U. S. and Canada since World War II.

He recently told an industrial group at Brantford, Ont.: "I regard myself as a North American businessman. It is the world's largest single consumer market. Part of that North American market—the largest part, by far—is the United States."

WITH LONGING

"It is the part most often eyed with longing and desire by Canadian businessmen. And yet I have been shocked at the lack of basic knowledge of that market by those same businessmen."

"It has become a Canadian weeping-towel cliché to complain that the U. S. and its residents know little or nothing about Canada."

"How many Canadian businessmen with designs on the U. S. market can list the 36

'Examine Bus Law in Supreme Court'

The law calling for the transportation of children other than those attending the public schools, should be tested in the State Supreme Court. I have nothing against any religious group, race or color, but I do believe in the absolute separation of church and state. I'm sure many others feel the same about having this law tested in the courts.

'Manufacturers Help Children'

How many realize in how many ways the manufacturer tries to help the grade school child to learn? Here are examples which have been brought into my schoolroom: metal states with capital, area and population, in boxes of breakfast foods; states and capitals as well as names of our presidents on milk bottle caps; birds and animals in boxes of tea; states and landmarks on soft drink bottles; presidents and famous quotations on writing paper.

For Michigan We have received lovely pictures and information on automobiles. Busy businessmen even took time to write to the children.

Reader Asks— What's With Cuba?

Experts were telling President Kennedy that Russia had 15,000 troops in Cuba. Subsequently the President asked that they be removed and within two weeks they were said to number 10,000. Mr. Kennedy was hopeful this would soon be reduced. Now comes a news report that the experts believe Russia is keeping 30,000 troops in Cuba. What kind of jass is this?

The Almanac

By United Press International Today is Thursday, May 2, the 122nd day of 1963 with 243 to follow.

The moon is approaching full phase. The morning stars are Venus and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury and Mars.

On this day in history: In 1863, Civil War Gen. Thomas (Stonewall) Jackson was shot during fighting outside of Chancellorsville, Va.

In 1865, President Andrew Johnson offered a reward of $100,000 to anyone capturing Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy.

In 1933, Adolf Hitler abolished labor unions throughout Germany and created a so-called "labor front."

In 1945, the Allies announced the unconditional surrender of Nazi troops in Italy and southern and Western Austria.

'Too Many Frills in Today's Schools'

Waterford taxpayers will be subjected to a high pressure campaign to increase their high taxes. There will be appeals to parents because of their concern for their children. They will be told that unless more money is available their children will suffer.

I say prove it. If the money were used to construct functional schools to be used as a place to instill needed knowledge in children, instead of a show place to fertilize the ego of architects and an unrealistic school board, there would have been plenty of funds for the needed number of schools.

Aid 'Clause' Protects Investors

By PETER EDSON
WASHINGTON (NEA)—American investors looking for business opportunities in developing nations now have an assurance that debts contracted by the government of a foreign country will be paid by a succeeding administration which seizes power by revolution.

A four-year-old test case on this issue—involving Howard International, Inc., of New York and the government of Turkey—has just been approved by the Turkish parliament.

This action makes it unnecessary for the United States to threaten a cutoff of American aid to Turkey as a means of enforcing payment.

In view of President Kennedy's recent proposals to promote greater private investment overseas, settlement of the Howard case sets an important precedent for furthering the aid program.

Howard International, headed by Sidney A. Lowry, is an importing company that has brought large quantities of Turkish chrome into the United States.

In 1964 Howard officials were approached by Ahmet Oguz Akal who had large personal mining interests and also headed a government ministry for resource development. He wanted to find a small steel mill in the United States which could be brought to Turkey to make construction industry bars and shapes. Such a mill would cut down Turkish dollar purchases of steel products, thereby forcing exchange and reduce aid.

Howard located a 50,000-ton mill owned by a company in financial difficulty. Contracts were signed in July 1956 to export this mill to Turkey for sale to Akal at $24 million.

The Turkish government issued the necessary import permits and the Agricultural Bank of Turkey, Ziraat, issued a guarantee of payment letter to Chase Manhattan Bank of New York, for benefit of Howard.

The mill was shipped in August 1959 and Howard received payments in 1960 of approximately $15 million. The Ziraat bank acknowledged delivery of the mill in Istanbul and released Howard from its performance bond. The contract did not call for Howard to erect the mill.

All this happened during the regime of Turkey's Premier Adnan Menderes. But in May 1960, it will be recalled this government was overthrown by the Army under Lieut. Gen. Camal Gursel.

Parliament was dissolved, President Celal Bayar, Menderes and several hundred members of parliament and businessmen, including Akal, were arrested, tried and sentenced to prison for crimes against the Turkish constitution. Menderes and two cabinet officers were executed and President Bayar was confined.

The new government soon found itself in strained financial condition. It was charged that purchase of the mill had been an extravagance of the old regime.

The mill was never erected and the $900,000 debt Howard owed went unpaid. The Turkish press took up the case and it became a hot political issue.

The consequences of nonpayment could have been serious for Turkey. Section 620-C of the 1962 Foreign Aid Act provides that when a bank owned or controlled by a foreign government fails to honor a guarantee issued in favor of an American firm, further foreign aid will not be granted.

The U. S. State Department and Ambassador Raymond Harp in Ankara moved in to support Howard's claim. For over two years, even diplomatic pressure was exerted to persuade the Turks to pay the debt.

The new government, now under Premier Ismet Inönü, would not take responsibility for payment of the claim. Instead, after several cabinet meetings, Inönü introduced a bill in parliament, asking authorization of payment. It passed.

It is expected that Howard's claim soon will be paid, re-establishing Turkey's claims that its credit is good.

Jordan King Hussein: Under-Paid, Hard-Working Executive

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — President Gamal Abdel Nasser, flushed with the prospects of merging Iraq, Syria and Yemen under his own Egyptian banner, has haughtily spurned the offer of Jordan's King Hussein to federate with a united Arab world.

"We will have nothing to do with monarchies," Nasser declared piously, as he stepped up efforts to overthrow the youthful king who has previously survived several RUTH Nasser - in MONTGOMERY spied attempts on his life.

What manner of man is this young Arab monarch, who presides over the Biblical land of Moses, David, John the Baptist and Christ?

Americans, inured to the lavish spending sprees of Saudi Arabian King Saud and deposed Egyptian King Farouk, are prone to assume that all Middle East potentates have tremendous wealth which they use solely for their personal pleasure.

Actually, King Hussein is an underpaid, hard-working executive whose sole income is his salary of approximately $38,000 a year.

By contrast, the American president receives $100,000 a year as salary, an additional $60,000 expense account, and millions more to operate the executive mansion.

Jordan has two palaces, but the king lives in neither of them. One is used for government offices, and the other is occupied by his step-grandmother, the widow of King Abdullah.

King Hussein spends his days at his palace office, but towards sundown he drives to a simple, one-story ramblar in the suburbs, like many another government worker.

This unostentatious villa—the only piece of property he owns—is shared by his wife, Princess Muna, the former Toni Gardner; their baby son, Prince Abdullah; and the king's daughter by a previous marriage.

Toni's father, a retired British army officer, is now a colonel in the Jordanian army and lives nearby.

The king's salary not only covers his household expenses, but is also being stretched to pay off monumental debts left by his grandfather, King Abdullah.

With King Hussein at the helm, graft has virtually disappeared from the Jordanian government. His personal bravery has become a legend throughout the western world, and during Nasser's subverting demonstrations last week, Hussein calmly announced that he would stay at his post "until death is necessary."

Why, then, is he not more popular in the "west bank" half of his kingdom? The answer is simple.

Many of the Palestinian Arabs around Jerusalem are refugees from Israel, who lost their homes after the partition of the Holy Land.

More sophisticated and better educated than most of the loyal Bedouins of the east side of the Jordan River, they believe that their best hope for restoration of their lost property is union with the United Arab Republic, because Nasser is more likely than Hussein to foment a war against Israel.

Hussein, like all Arab leaders, is a sworn enemy of Israel, but he is a moderate rather than a firebrand. In the Mideast political pendulum, the Egypt-Iraq-Syria triumvirate represents the left, Saudi Arabia the right and Hussein's Jordan the center.

An unusually progressive ruler who not only builds schools and universities, but encourages advanced study by Jordanian students abroad, he points with pride to the fact that his nation's chief export is "technicians and teachers" to less-educated neighboring countries.

This Biblical desert, and virtually without natural resources, has had to absorb tens of thousands of Arab refugees from Israel. Thanks to Hussein, it has nevertheless been a stabilizing influence on turbulent Mideast politics.

Arabs have an old saying: "A friend of my enemy is my enemy." Nasser is not only out to get King Hussein, but to leave him friendless as well.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Kidney Stones Rate High as Pain Inducer

BRANDSTADT

High on the list is the kidney stone. These may be composed of various salts, chiefly urates, oxalates, phosphates, and carbonates of calcium and magnesium.

When such salts precipitate out of solution, they appear first as tiny particles much like grains of sand.

These may be passed in the urine, frequently without pain, but if not passed promptly more of the salt precipitates on the outside of the small stone, causing it to increase in size.

A stone sometimes grows so large that it fills the funnel-shaped pelvis of the kidney which leads to the ureter, the tube that carries the urine to the bladder.

Although such a stone is not painful, it may result in serious damage to the kidney.

If, before reaching such proportions, a stone starts to descend the ureter and is about the same caliber as the ureter, there is excruciating, colicky pain.

When one of these stones completes the journey to the bladder, it may be too large to be passed in the urine. It may then increase in size until it almost fills the entire bladder.

EASY FOR INFECTION

To make matters worse, these kidney and bladder stones make it easy for infection to gain a firm foothold in the urinary tract.

Until recently the only treatment for a person with a large stone was surgical removal.

This major operation, sometimes necessary to prevent complete destruction of the kidney, had the disadvantage that, unless the cause of stone formation could be removed, the stone would form again.

For this reason doctors have long endeavored to find some compound that would dissolve the stones.

These chemicals that would dissolve the offending salts in a test tube either worked too slowly or were too irritating to the lining of the urinary tract, and would thus further promote infection.

If a person had a urate stone he could sometimes keep urates in solution and thus keep the stone from getting any larger if he drank a large amount of water every day and kept the urine alkaline.

AVOID FOODS

Persons with oxalate stones must avoid such foods as rhubarb, spinach, string beans, asparagus, prunes, and currants. But on the whole, dietary measures have not been found to be a very important means of preventing or treating most kidney stones.

New for the first time, Dr. W. P. Mulvaney, a well-known urologist, has found a substance that will dissolve the phosphates and carbonates of calcium and magnesium.

These salts are the offenders in about 40 per cent of persons with kidney stones.

The substance used, hemiacidrin, is a mixture of lactones and organic acids that is closely related to a solvent that cleans calcium salts from dairy equipment.

Unfortunately, hemiacidrin will not dissolve stones composed of urates or oxalates.

It is essential, therefore, to know before treatment is begun what kind of stone is present.

The solvent must be introduced into the kidney or bladder through a catheter four or five times a day and, since the use of a catheter always involves the risk of introducing infection, antibiotics are added to the solvent.

The procedure is simple and the patient can be taught to make the injections himself.

16 Are Convicted for Picketing Bobby

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Sixteen men who protested Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's recent visit to Alabama were convicted yesterday of parading without a permit. The city decided not to prosecute a 17th defendant.

The men, who range in age from 19 to 73, all pleaded innocent. They were arrested last Thursday shortly after Kennedy entered the state capital where he discussed racial problems with Gov. George Wallace.

The attorney general did not see the pickets.

Irish Boroughs to Honor JFK

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—The corporations of seven Irish boroughs voted unanimously Wednesday to confer on President Kennedy the freedom of their cities when he visits Ireland this summer.

The seven are Dublin, Wexford, Cork, Ennis, Limerick and Waterford. Informants said the President, who will visit cousins at the home of his great grandfather at Dunganstown in County Wexford, is unlikely to accept in person more than one or two of the honors because of a crowded schedule.

Cavanagh Talks to Solons

Urges More ARA Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh of Detroit testified at a hearing on the ARA Administration's request to increase loan authorization more spending under the Area Redevelopment Act to help stimulate the economy in depressed areas and provide jobs for the unemployed.

"The mayors of this nation must live with unemployment as a reality," Cavanagh told a Senate banking subcommittee. "We must live with these men and women with a hunger to be productive who seek to join the mainstream of our society."

Cavanagh said the ARA program so far has not been able to "cure all our ills" but has helped to "give us a new spirit and confidence in ourselves."

He said Detroit is "the largest city classified as having substantial and continuing unemployment."

The amount was not stated, but Stein said the fellowship will cover tuition and living expenses for a year.

Fly Boys Start Bird Watching Over Coastline

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP) — The Air Force made plans yesterday for a bird-watching exercise it hopes will solve a major air traffic hazard.

Tactical Air Command (TAC)

headquarters said jet planes will fly over many islands along the northeast coast during the next two weeks to photograph and count sea gulls and their nesting places.

A TAC spokesman said the planes would fly at an altitude of about 250 feet from Long Island to the Canadian border under a program financed by the Federal Aviation Agency.

Section of Use Tax Ruled Illegal

LANSING (AP) — A section of the state use tax applying to business firms doing work for the federal government is 'discriminatory and unconstitutional, Circuit Judge Sam Street has ruled.

The opinion was issued in connection with a suit against the State Revenue Department by Merritt-Chapman and Scott Corp. of Detroit and A. J. Elkin Construction Co. of Oak Park, who have held contracts for work for the federal government.

Both firms contended the use tax is discriminatory because it applies to contractors doing business with the state and federal government but not to those doing business with other political subdivisions, such as school districts, cities and townships.

Maneuvers Are Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Exercise Swift Strike III, with more than 75,000 ground soldiers and airmen participating, will begin on July 21 in the Carolinas and Georgia, the Pentagon announced yesterday.

Swift Strike will involve units of the Strike Command, a joint organization of combat ready outfits of the Regular Army and Air Force called "Stricom," and elements of the Air Force Reserve, National Guard and Air National Guard. The exercise concludes Aug. 16.

The reserve units will enter the exercises beginning Aug. 3.

Need Some Gags to Break Up Parties?

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (AP) — Every good host and hostess need to have a few gags they can use in emergencies to make certain their guests leave on time.

Following are a few gags that I have picked up recently and that I will now pass along for the benefit of any readers who might be entertaining soon.

They are practically guaranteed to start your guests moving toward the door. Let us begin with Mrs. Kennedy's delicate condition.

POLITICAL OMEN
Radio-television commentator Joseph McCaffrey views the current air of expectancy at the White House as a political omen.

"The President," says McCaffrey, "is prepared to carry the art of baby-kissing to the ultimate degree of perfection. He is even supplying the babies."

Exit the first wave of guests.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., also detects political overtones in the fact that three Kennedy wives are anticipating.

He suggests that the next campaign may shape up along the lines of the classic race between the hares and the hounds. At some point one hare turns to another and says, "Shall we run some more or stop and outnumber them?" Exit second wave. Now let us switch to Congress.

FANCY OFFICE
As everyone knows, the House of Representatives is spending upwards of $100 million on a fancy new office building for its members.

Bob Loftis, a local public relations man, recommends that it be called the "Tax Mahal."

A Loftis gag will break up a party faster than anything I know of, except maybe an air raid.

Next we have a congressional gag by Oscar Johnson of the Capitol Hill Weekly Roll Call. It concerns charges that congress has been dawdling this year.

According to Johnson, the charges are baseless. He contends that our lawmakers haven't had a chance yet "for any really serious dawdling because of all the recesses."

If there are any guests still hanging on after all of this, you can tell them comedian Mark Russell's gag about the outbreak of street crimes in the capital.

"I didn't know we were having a crime wave," Russell says. "I thought it was like this all the time."

As a last resort, if one guest still hasn't gone and he happens to be a politician, tell him this:

"You know what scientists produced by crossing a politician with a gorilla? A retarded gorilla."

Continues Over 1962

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's traffic death toll was 129 during April, 19 more than were killed in the same month last year, state police report.

The 17 per cent increase for April over the 1962 total marked the fourth consecutive month the death toll has gone up, compared with last year.

Demonstrator Dies in Portuguese Riot

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Security police fired into a crowd of demonstrators last night and killed Agostino Fizeis, a 45-year-old printer's assistant.

The demonstrators were mobbing offices of the pro-government newspaper Diario de Noticias. Windows in the newspaper building were smashed, and several demonstrators were injured in clashes with police.

Leaflets attributed to the outlawed Communist party of Portugal had appealed for general demonstrations on May Day, but police precautions held them to a minimum.

State OKs Borrowing

LANSING (AP)—The Lake Fenelon school district has received approval to borrow $25,000 against its anticipated 1963-64 state school aid according to the superintendent of public instruction office.

Four Will Die in Execution in California

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Calif. (UPI) — The first quadruple execution since the gas chamber was installed in San Quentin prison 25 years ago apparently will be carried out tomorrow on schedule.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, a staunch opponent of capital punishment, announced yesterday he would not intervene in the cases of three convicted murderers scheduled to die.

The fourth was refused a stay of execution by both U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and the California Supreme Court.

The governor's action concerned Joseph Roseto, 39, John F. Vlahovich, 31, and Donald G. Franklin, 34, all sentenced to death for the shotgun slaying of Anaheim tavern operator Leslie J. Simpson in 1959.

Pontiac Municipal Must Expand

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third in a series of articles on Pontiac Municipal Airport — present and future.

By DICK BUCK
Telegraph Editor

Airports, like people sometimes have growing pains.

The pains come partly in having to tell nearby residents that the land where their homes stand is needed for airport expansion.

Such may be the situation soon at Pontiac Municipal Airport, which is getting to be like a robust 15-year-old boy trying to wear the trousers which fit him when he was 8.

The city's energetic airfield needs a new runway to both handle and stimulate continued growth.

There may well be some homes on the land needed to build that runway. For those who live in them, the growth may also be painful.

Airport Manager Homer Hoskins discussed a proposed $5-million expansion project.

"Our master plan calls for a new north-south runway which would enable us to handle larger planes with the wind blowing from any direction," Hoskins said.

"This would be either east or west of Williams Lake Road. Land acquisition, involving 175 acres, has been estimated at $2.5 million. It would include condemnation of some homes. It's sometimes necessary to do this when an airport expands."

Hoskins added that once land has been acquired and cleared, actual construction of the runway, related taxiway and drainage would cost about $1.5 million.

TENTATIVE PLANS

He emphasized that the master plan is still in its tentative stage.

Teachers Set for Mass Rally
New York Pickets Hit School Budget

NEW YORK — Several hundred picketing teachers, some of whom had spent the night, continued a vigil outside City Hall today in preparation for a mass rally at 4 p.m.

Many of the pickets had blankets draped over their shoulders in an effort to ward off the chill in the air.

Charles Cogen, president of the United Federation of Teachers, joined the pickets shortly before 7 a.m. and said the demonstration "shows the teachers mean business in their efforts to obtain a better budget for the school system."

The proposed education budget bill will be presented to the Board of Estimate and City Council today. The teachers contend it falls far short of their minimum hopes.

Members of the teachers union started gathering outside City Hall at 6 p.m. Wednesday. The number picketing was estimated between 500 and 1,000 at various times.

Cogen said the teachers were interested not only in higher salaries but in better working conditions and "better learning conditions for children."

Their present one-year contract expires July 1 and they have threatened to strike when school reopens next September unless a new pact is negotiated.

They previously engaged in two one-day strikes.

Day Care, Hospitals Will Be Discussed

Day hospitals and day care will be discussed at the annual meeting of the Oakland County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Health at noon Friday, May 10, at Devon Gables, Long Lake and Telegraph Roads, Bloomfield Hills.

Dr. Henry Brill, deputy commissioner, Department of Mental Hygiene, New York, will speak on the values of day care and hospital treatment.

A program of day care is scheduled to be instituted at Pontiac State Hospital next year, according to John McKay, president of the Oakland County Chapter.

and not something that'll become a reality tomorrow.

"The Federal Aviation Agency and State Department of Aeronautics are studying the plans and may suggest changes," Hoskins said. "Then, the City Commission must give its approval. And, finally, we must get the money."

Such appropriations come on a matching-fund basis. The federal government offers the "biggest chunk, but won't actually chip in until the state and local units put up their share."

The City Commission has asked the Oakland County Board of Supervisors to help with the local share.

This brought an observation from Supervisors Chairman Delos Hamilton that the Pontiac Municipal expansion plans might be a bit excessive.

Hoskins countered with an observation of his own.

"It would cost the county about as much just to relocate the Edison power lines at its Allen Airport site as this project of ours will."

Hoskins was referring to the over-all $5-million cost of the project involving the new north-south runway and other improvements.

Compass-Point Runways

Airport runways are numbered according to compass directions.

The direction in which an airplane must face when landing or taking off from a given end of a runway determines its number.

The compass reading from this position is rounded off to the nearest 10 degrees. Then the final zero is dropped.

Thus, a runway which headed to 257 degrees would be called Runway 26. Since a runway is used from opposite ends, it has two numbers with one 18 (180 degrees) higher or lower than the other.

Runways at Pontiac Municipal Airport are numbered 9-27 (east-west), 18-36 (south-north) and 4-22 (south-west-northeast).

He emphasized that he wasn't opposed to the county's ambitions for the Orion Township field, but said he used the comparison to illustrate how costly—almost any airport improvements can be.

A separate expansion project would pull up some homes east of Airport Road. This would involve a 900-foot lengthening at the east end of the 5,300-foot-long runway and other improvements.

While the lengthening itself could be confined to airport property, the homes would have to go to provide required approach clearance. Estimated over—all price tag of this plan is $250,000.

The new north-south runway would be 5,000 feet long and 150 wide. That's the width of the east-west strip and conforms with federal recommendations.

Why the need for the new runway? Doesn't Pontiac Municipal have one running north and south now?

"We do, but it's only 2,500 feet long and 60 feet wide," said Hoskins. "It can't handle the bigger multiengine planes."

Is this a barrier to attracting a corporation like General Motors into basing at least part of its sizable air fleet here?

"We've talked with General Motors and they've expressed some interest in our airport," Hoskins admitted. "But they want to be able to take off and land no matter which way the wind is blowing. They couldn't with the runways we have now."

GM bases most of its fleet of twin-engine turbo-prop Convairs, DC-8s and Beechcrafts at Detroit's Willow Run Airport. The others are housed at Detroit City Airport.

Pontiac Municipal is closer than Willow Run for Tech Center traveling. GM executives from the Pontiac area and is handier than Willow Run for Tech Center travelers.

GM flights occasionally visit Pontiac on a transient basis now. With the new runway at least some of them, along with those of other corporations, may be based here.

The third runway at Pontiac Municipal, southwest-northeast, is 2,500 feet long and 60 feet wide. There are no extension or replacement plans for it. (Next: Cracking the fog barrier)

K May Yank Troops

WASHINGTON (UPI) — W. Averell Harriman's Moscow talk with Nikita Khrushchev reinforced the high-level impression here that the Soviet leader is willing to pull more troops out of Cuba if he can do so without loss of face.

This was reported today by reliable sources familiar with those parts of the undersecretary of state's report to President Kennedy which he has not discussed in public.

Harriman persuaded Kennedy to let him visit Moscow to urge Soviet cooperation on Laos. That was the only subject on which he was empowered to negotiate.

But last Friday's conversation in the Kremlin also touched on Cuba, Berlin and nuclear testing.

MORE MAY LEAVE

Informants said the impression Harriman got from Khrushchev's remarks on Cuba was that the Russian leader would like to take out more military personnel if the United States refrained from making a big issue of it so he would not appear to be giving in to American demands.

Khrushchev was understood to have indicated that he had been impressed by Kennedy's steps to halt refugee hit-and-run raids on Cuba and the moderate nature of the President's public comments on the continued Soviet presence there.

The theory here has been that after pulling out his medium range missiles, Khrushchev no longer feels the need of troops on the spot to guard against Cuban irresponsibility.

He is believed to feel the troops have become a propaganda liability because they emphasize the truth of charges that Cuba is a completely controlled Soviet satellite.

This impression has damaged Soviet efforts to spread Communism influence elsewhere in Latin America.

Seek Entries for CAI Queen

Contestants for the title, "1963 CAI Queen," must file entry applications by next Wednesday, CAI director Robert Bauer announced today.

Single girls from 15 to 19 years old are eligible. Applications are available at the CAI building.

This year's winner will reign over the annual CAI Fair slated for June 14-16 and will receive a one-week, expense-paid trip to a northern Michigan dude ranch.

CARD PUNCHER — Either C. Moffit of the village of Highland operates the Pontiac school district's keypunch machine. The machine prints a card containing such things as rate of pay, number of hours, social security number, and payroll deductions on every employee in the system.

Supervision of Spending

Data Processing Aids Schools

By GARY THORNE

Behind the facade of the building at 40 Patterson, a complex maze of typewriters, adding machines and telephones represents the Pontiac school system's central nerve center.

Presided over by Vernon L. Schiller, director of financial management, this beehive of activity is where the spending of money—about $9 million a year—is supervised.

Like a conscientious wife, the central business office checks, double checks and generally oversees such things as a weekly payroll for 1,500 employees, biannual social security reports, income tax accounting and the preparation of half a dozen reports to state and federal governments.

To prepare this vast mountain of statistical information, Pontiac has been a pioneer in the use of data processing machines.

The business office rents a keypunch machine, which makes out a card on each employee. The card contains such information as the number of hours worked, overtime, deductions and other pertinent data.

TIME SAVER

Schiller said that in the past, payroll preparation was a tedious and time-consuming process. It now takes about two and a half hours for all 1,500 full-time employees.

Data processing also provides employees with more services. He said, for example, an employee can have payroll deduction changes made with greater ease.

The biggest advantage for the business office itself is that the high-speed IBM operation permits growth—greater volume.

"In other words," Schiller explained, "we can accommodate a larger payroll with the same personnel."

Data processing may have other uses in the future. He said two schools, Madison Junior High and Pontiac Northern, already are making out reports cards by data processing.

Schiller said class scheduling is another area being studied. He said the machines could take some of the load off counselors and principals who must set up class schedules.

Planners Recommend Commercial Denial

After a lengthy hearing involving arguments by doctors, dentists and residents, the City Planning Commission last night recommended that a commercial zoning for land at West Huron and Lincoln be denied.

The commercial zoning had been asked for by Dr. H. H. Swanson, a dentist, for a parcel on the northwest corner. Dr. Swanson is planning a new dentists' office building on the site.

The parcel is next to the site of a larger doctors' clinic now under construction. Both the clinic and Swanson's property are presently zoned for personal service use.

Swanson wanted the commercial zoning because it would enable him to construct a large building and provide more off-street parking.

The personal service zoning requires considerable set-back area from streets and the clinic property. Under commercial, Swanson noted, that set-back space could be converted to parking space.

CITES 'PROBLEM'

"This is particularly vital in the Pontiac General Hospital area where there is a serious parking problem," he said.

Doctors who own the clinic objected on grounds that their investment of about $250,000 in the clinic would be endangered by a commercial zoning next door.

They feared that in years to come, anything under the commercial classification could be built on the corner parcel.

The question of closing an alley at the rear of the property also came up. It runs along property owned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cissel, 13 Lincoln St., and is an access route to the clinic's interior parking area.

The Cissels asked that the alley be vacated and closed "because the constant traffic of cars, trucks and tractors is creating a mess."

The planning board recommended that the question of set back lines be taken before the Zoning Board of Appeals and that the alley remain open and be improved and maintained by the city.

The recommendation will go to the City Commission for action Tuesday night.

Killed in Collision

SARANAC — Robert L. Long, 19, of Saranac, was killed last night when the car in which he was a passenger collided with another car on a rural road about three miles east of here. Two other persons were seriously injured.

Daughter Grows Up Rapidly, Columnist Discovers

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It's amazing how age does tell on younger people.

They get older so fast.

My daughter, Tracy Ann, who will be 10 next month, seems to me all at once to have taken great strides toward adulthood. Although there were earlier moments when I yearned for it, now that it is happening I am suddenly unprepared.

How do you tell when a modern child is growing up? Well, in many ways. Such as:

How no longer thinks it is the height of sophistication to use the word "stupid."

It isn't absolutely necessary always to shout everything at the top of one's voice. Enthusiasm is more muted.

She would rather cook cornbread than skip rope.

LESS QUARRELS

Her quarrels with her mother are no less intense, but they are fewer—and they have more fun together.

One moment she says boys are a nuisance and the next moment she brags that every boy in her class secretly likes her.

She decides that she must have a room of her own.

Eight times she changed her mind before she settled on the kind of furniture required.

After the furniture is bought, she arranges and rearranges it nine times in her room—and plans to move it around just once more to get it absolutely right.

FAVORITE COLORS

Pink is no longer her favorite color. As a matter of fact, during the course of a single day she may have as many as five different favorite colors.

If she preferred bacon to candy as a baby, she now prefers candy to bacon. Whatever food you tell her is good for her, she decides is bad for her—except salads, which she eats by the bucket.

Most of her waking hours she spends parading around the house in borrowed old high-heeled shoes. She can tell you how old Paul Anka and Brenda Lee are, but she never heard of Bing Crosby. She can spell the word "scientist."

When she brings home a report card marked "excellent" in four subjects, she is so proud she can't sleep and wakes up hollow-eyed. So do her parents.

PHONE BILL RISES

The phone bill goes up monthly. But somehow you don't mind. It's exciting for you to know so many of her classmates want to talk with her.

She gets up early on Sunday to go to church. She is very interested in religion. She likes to say grace before meals. She speaks of God as if He were a neighbor.

She shouts in anger less often, but cries more easily. She can't stand to see an animal in pain. She plants onions and potatoes in water because she hungers to see things grow.

She keeps tadpoles and feeds them lettuce, and can't wait until they turn into frogs.

KEEPS SOUVENIRS

She begins to hoard money, collect stamps, and keep souvenirs of all kinds.

One day she says, "Daddy, did you ever watch me play jacks?" She shows you how she can pick up one to 10 jacks and never miss catching the bouncing rubber ball.

You feel the parental tears start as you watch her, because you realize she is letting you know in her own quiet way that this is a goodbye to her childhood.

Next year she won't be playing with jacks.

'Libraries Guardians of Academic Liberty'

NEWARK, N.J. (U.S. Supreme Court Justice William J. Brennan said that libraries, to a great extent, are the "guardian of academic liberty."

Speaking at the 75th anniversary dinner of the Newark public library, Brennan suggested closer cooperation between public libraries and schools in the teaching of democracy.

Quarter Grain of Iron for Good Nutrition

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

Physiologists, chemists, nutritionists and physicians generally estimate that less than a quarter of a grain of iron a day will maintain good nutrition and good health. It is doubtful that more than a quarter of a grain of iron a day is required by child or adult in any circumstance.

Doubtful to whom? Doubtful to me. But remember I'm no authority about this — my opinion is of about the same weight as your doctor's opinion.

It is notable here that for many years it has been and still is the practice of physicians to give anemic persons, not just a quarter of a grain, but from five to 10 grains of iron a day.

This practice is based on the belief that most of the iron ingested, whether as a natural constituent of food or as medicine (organic or inorganic), reacts with sulfur compounds in the intestine to form insoluble iron compounds that are excreted, and only a tiny fraction of the iron is absorbed.

To this argument in favor of large doses of iron, I can only say "Well?" (I do not say "So what?")

If you are anemic you may imagine iron "shots" are superior to any kind of iron pills, tablets or liquids taken in the ordinary way. This may be true in exceptional cases where some digestive disorder interferes with the absorption of iron from the intestinal tract, but as a general rule iron injections are not more effective than iron by mouth. Besides, iron

Negroes Get Own Textbook of U.S. History

DETROIT (AP) — Negro protests that their role in American history was not given the proper attention resulted yesterday in introduction of a 57-page supplement to a textbook in Detroit public schools.

The booklet, "The Struggle for Freedom and Rights," will be used as a supplement to a history textbook — "Our United States"—used in the seventh and eighth grades.

Detroit leaders of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People complained last year the textbook did not portray in enough detail the contributions of the American Negro.

The Detroit Board of Education, under whose direction the pamphlet supplement was prepared, said the original textbook will remain in use.

The pamphlet traces contributions of Negroes from their role as soldiers in the war of 1812 to President Kennedy's order banning segregation in buildings financed by the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration.

The number of major fires dropped also, from a record high of 393 in 1961 to 342 in 1962.

Injections are likely to be painful.

In a healthy person there is perhaps a teaspoonful of iron in the body, most of it in the hemoglobin, the red coloring matter of the red corpuscles. The red corpuscles give the blood its red color, the liquid part of the blood, the serum, being only a pale straw color.

UNITS WITH OXYGEN

The hemoglobin unites with oxygen in the lungs (oxyhemoglobin) and carries it throughout the body. In the tissues and organs of the body, it gives up its load of oxygen and picks up a load of carbon dioxide to carry back to the lungs where it is blown off into the air and exhaled.

Hemoglobin has an affinity for carbon monoxide gas that is nearly as strong as its affinity for oxygen, so if there is a wee bit of carbon monoxide in the air inhaled (by a cigarette smoker, for instance), hemoglobin unites with it and carries it throughout the body, thus depriving the cells and tissues and organs of some of the oxygen they require to function and live.

The effect of this (anoxia, hypoxia, oxygen deficiency, diminished supply of oxygen) is of course impairment of health, functional efficiency and vitality. A cigarette smoker gets a wee bit of carbon monoxide in every puff, a cigar smoker gets a little less, a pipe smoker gets the least, if any, carbon monoxide. This oxygen deficiency is a greater handicap or weakness than ordinary anemia.

Some physicians believe organic iron compounds (animal or vegetable sources) are better remedies for anemia than inorganic iron compounds (mineral sources). Again it is doubtful that there is any practical difference — evidence of the superiority of one kind of iron over another is not convincing.

Indeed, I have often wondered whether any kind of iron is more effective than a diet that includes a fair proportion of foods of high iron content, such as string beans, dried beans, peas, beets, raw cabbage (coleslaw), lettuce, carrots, asparagus, spinach, beet greens, dandelion greens, watercress, lean beef, egg yolk, potatoes, apples, tomatoes, prunes, oatmeal, cauliflower (and please don't hit me) cucumbers.

For years I recommended, and many followers praised, a simple domestic remedy for anemia — a quarter ounce of Iron - and - Ammonium - granules, dissolved in four fluid-ounces of boiled water.

One-half teaspoonful of this after food twice a day. But for some reason I have never discovered, this iron preparation, formerly included in the U.S. and British pharmacopoeias, is no longer available.

Anyway, druggists nowadays, intent on making a fast buck, can't be bothered selling 30 cents worth of iron. That is, unless they can soak off the fancy label, put their own label on it, giving the doctor's directions, and charge you $7.75 for the service.

Signed letters, not more than one page each, should be sent to Dr. William Brady, c/o The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Halleck, Administration Juggle Job Figures

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

MATHEMATICAL MIXUP: The way Charles A. Halleck figures it, 300,000 more people are out of work in private industry since President Kennedy took office.

The way the Labor Department figures it, the House Republican leader isn't very good at figures. The quibbling over job figures began at a televised Republican leadership news conference Halleck held jointly Wednesday with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

The two top Republicans charged the Democratic administration with not being able to solve the nation's unemployment problem. In making his point, Halleck reasoned this way:

When Kennedy took office in January 1961, unemployment totaled 5,385,000. Two years later, the figure was 4,672,000—a net reduction of 713,000.

But the federal payroll increased by 125,141, the armed forces added 132,000, and state and local governments, 680,000.

"This means there have been, office," Halleck said. "From 1,007,141 people added to the government's tax-financed payroll at all levels since Mr. Kennedy took office, there are 300,000 more people out of work under private employment than there were when Mr. Kennedy took office."

Later, at the Labor Department, a spokesman said the Hoesier's calculation was incorrect and took no account of the number of young people who have moved into the labor force.

CUTTING THE CUT: A Senate Appropriations subcommittee has voted to restore about $64 million of the $92 million sliced by the House from the Post Office Department's budget for the coming year.

Thus, Postmaster General J. Edward Day, who had declared he would have to make heavy cuts in service if the reduction stood, scored a partial but significant victory.

VETERANS: The Senate has sent to President Kennedy three bills authorizing higher benefit payments to certain disabled war veterans and to survivors of veterans.

The legislation, passed Wednesday by voice vote, bears the administration's endorsement and so the President is expected to sign the bills into law.

They would:

- Grant a 10 per cent increase in monthly dependency payments to 44,900 children and 39,900 parents of veterans who died of service-connected causes. The Veterans Administration has estimated the cost at approximately $5 million for the first year. Rates of payment are geared to the deceased veteran's basic service pay.

- Authorize an additional $47 a month for service-connected loss of speech, raising the payments to $297 a month. The Veterans Administration says there are only 20 known cases of service-caused total loss of speech.

Coed Ham Is on Air

JAMESTOWN, N.D. (AP) — College coed Sharon Olson sat down in her dormitory room and made her first ham radio try after getting a full amateur permit.

She contacted a man and they chatted for a time, mostly about college life. Finally Sharon, 19, a sophomore at Jamestown College, asked the man what he did for a living.

"I am a United States senator," replied the man. "My name is Barry Goldwater."

The radio conversation occurred Sunday night. The Arizona Republican told Sharon he had been an amateur radio operator since 1922 but only recently resumed the hobby.

Solon Pushes National Lottery

WASHINGTON (U) — To Rep. Paul A. Fino, there's only one way to cut taxes, reduce the national debt, and still have enough money for schools, housing, disabled veterans, and health care: Adopt a national lottery.

But thus far, the New York Republican's one-man fight—he calls himself the No. 1 advocate of a national lottery—has been stymied by what he calls hypocrisy and pussyfooting by Congress.

Fino, however, is a determined man and this week's signing of a state lottery bill by Gov. John N. King of New Hampshire has reinforced that determination.

"It breaks the ice in this country," Fino said in an interview. "There's no question that the New Hampshire action will have a tremendous impact on members of Congress. It will provide impetus for Congress to take a second look at the national lottery bill."

The lottery bug first bit Fino in 1935—the year the St. John's University Debating Society with Fino as one of its members argued this question: "Shall we have a municipal lottery?"

When Fino was elected to the New York State Senate after World War II, he spent six years arguing unsuccessfully what he felt were the merits of a state lottery.

He introduced his first national lottery bill in 1953, the year he came to Congress. He has introduced similar bills every two years since.

"It's only a question of time before the government does something about it," Fino said. "The New Hampshire action is the catalyst that will get this thing going."

on the natural gambling urge of the American people.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, where revenue bills are sent after introduction, has asked the Treasury Department for its lottery views.

Find said, however, that the Treasury previously had rejected it on grounds the American people are unsympathetic and it would be an unsuitable substitute for taxes.

Mysterious Odor Remains Hidden to LA Firemen

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Firemen say they still don't know the source of an obnoxious odor that spread over 30 square miles of East Los Angeles and forced the evacuation of more than 14,000 school children.

That the odor Wednesday was caused by a major natural gas leak or excessive spraying of weed killing chemicals along the freeways.

Fifteen schools were evacuated for 2½ hours as a precautionary measure. The Fire Department said it would continue its investigation.

One Million Enter U.S. Since War

NEW YORK (UPI) — About one million refugees have come into this country since World War II, aided by federal contributions of $1,344,665,131, according to Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., chairman of the House Committee on Immigration and Naturalization.

In a speech prepared for delivery to a dinner of the American Council for Judaism Philanthropic Fund, Walter said that "never in history has a nation done more than the United States for victims of war and oppression."

The Pennsylvania Democrat currently is hospitalized in Washington. His speech was read by a long-time friend, Judge J. Cullen Gandy of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The 20th anniversary conference of the fund's parent organization, the American Council for Judaism, continues through Saturday.

Urethane foam has been found to be a better filler for tree cavities than concrete. It adheres firmly to the wood and is flexible.

The fund's annual meeting will be held today. In what was called the "most complete audit of America's refugee aid" since World War II, Walter said, "critics of America's immigration policy have stressed the inadequacy of our effort rather than our unprecedented achievements."

Delaware Endorses Antitax Legislation

DOVER, Del. (AP) — The Delaware Senate, after once turning it down, has voted to endorse the 33rd Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

The state thus became the 33rd state to ratify the amendment prohibiting the payment of a poll tax as a voting requirement in federal election. The legislatures of 33 states must ratify it.

The Delaware House approved the proposed amendment earlier.

Duchess Flies to Chicago

WASHINGTON (AP) — Grand Duchess Charlotte of Luxembourg left Washington today for Chicago after a two-day visit with President Kennedy.

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball called her visit a "great conquest of the heart of Washington."

"At the conclusion of this stage of your visit, you can be assured it has been a very great success in fact a great conquest of the heart of Washington," Ball told the grand duchess in bidding her farewell at Washington's national airport.

JFK Sets Salute to U.S. Heroes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy gives his annual social salute to the military services today, with special tribute to winners of the highest award for valor, the Medal of Honor.

The White House expected 234 men who have won that medal-most of them during World War II, but others dating back to the Spanish-American War — to be on hand for the President's two-hour military reception starting at 5 p.m. Pontiac time.

The outdoor affair, on the south lawn of the executive mansion, promised to be one of the most colorful events of the White House social season, with about 1,000 guests, including numerous high-ranking military officers, expected to attend.

For entertainment, the White House arranged for a demonstration by an Army file and drum corps in Revolutionary War uniforms and a performance by the killed Air Force baggage band.

This will be Kennedy's first reception for the Medal of Honor winners. The White House invited 234 of them, and 234 accepted, with 196 planning to bring their wives.

The White House announced yesterday that a telegram had been received from one Medal of Honor holder who had planned to attend, but then decided not to so that he would not be an "embarrassment" to the President.

Grand Rapids Man Charged in Slaying

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Robert Wees, 41, of Grand Rapids was held without bond today at Circuit Court arraignment on a charge of murder in the slaying of his wife, Alice, 40.

He waived examination yesterday on the charge in Municipal Court.

Sheriff Arnold Pigorski said Wees, unemployed, was introduced to the jail Tuesday and admitted shooting his wife Easter Sunday and later dropping her body in the Grand River near Ada.

Metal Lockout in W. Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — Metal industry employers in the state of Baden-Wuerttemberg locked out 500,000 workers today in a growing labor crisis that threatened to spread across West Germany.

All but a few plants shut down to defy the metal-workers union, which has been calling open strikes to back its demands for a 8 per cent wage hike. The union claims 1.7 million members.

Its leaders moved to press their demands throughout the country. Metal employers outside Baden-Wuerttemberg were expected to follow the lockout pattern.

Several firms within the key industrial state broke the pattern, however. They offered their employees a 7 per cent increase and remained open.

Government officials called for mediation efforts, but neither side appeared willing to budge.

FDA, State Warn on Candy Pills

LANSING (AP) — State Health Commissioner Albert Heustis today said the Federal Food and Drug Administration has warned against so-called candy pills being sold in drug-type containers.

The federal agency said the sale appeared to be against the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, in that the candy was falsely represented as pills.

The candy is in the form and color of pills, the label includes the word "pills" and the container is similar to the type widely used for the distribution of pills, Heustis said.

"Anything that would encourage children to buy and consume products named candy-pills is definitely contrary to the public interest," Heustis said.

"It certainly does not discourage children from consuming products in the future which may look like candy but which can result in serious if not fatal consequences."

DEDICATES SHIP — Mrs. Henry H. Arnold smiles yesterday in Cape Canaveral, Fla., after dedicating the United States' newest and most sophisticated missile tracking ship, which was named for her husband, Gen. H. H. (Hap.) Arnold of the Air Force, who died in 1966. Flanking her are her three sons (from left), Army Col. H. H. Arnold Jr., Mrs. Arnold, Air Force Maj. David Arnold and Air Force Lt. Col. W. Bruce Arnold. At rear left is Gen. Bernard K. Schriever, head of the Air Force Communications System.

Pacific Solo

Readies Next Flight

HONOLULU (AP) — Aviatrice Betty Miller, rested and smiling, wasn't sure today when she will tackle the next leg of her solo flight from California to Australia, but indicated she hopes to leave tomorrow.

Her departure time depends, she said, on the weather and minor repairs to her plane's radio.

She experienced difficulty cranking the antenna on her California-to-Hawaii flight

Tuesday, and couldn't send or receive long-distance messages for much of the trip.

The 37-year-old Santa Monica housewife is attempting to become the first woman to fly solo 7,100 miles across the Pacific to Australia.

She is delivering a twin-engine Piper Apache to a buyer in Brisbane.

Mrs. Miller already has achieved one first on the flight. She is the only woman ever to fly from California alone. The late Amelia Earhart did it the other way in 1932.

From Honolulu, Mrs. Miller will make a 14-hour trip to Canton Island and a 10-hour hop to Fiji before reaching Brisbane.

The route approximates — in reverse — the flight Miss Earhart was flying when she disappeared in 1937 with navigator Fred Noonan.

Lao Neutral Premier Renews Peace Talk

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma flew back to Pathet Lao headquarters in Khang Khay today to resume peace talks with the pro-Communist leaders.

The premier said the neutralist commander, Gen. Kong Le, had agreed to Pathet Lao demands that the talks range over all questions splitting the coalition government.

To Study Road Finance

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Good Roads Federation has named a special seven-man committee to study highway finance to suggest "a sound fiscal program for continued high way, road and street progress."

The committee will study highway finance to suggest "a sound fiscal program for continued high way, road and street progress."

Reds Are Mobilizing to Fight a Drought

HONG KONG (AP) — The Chinese Communists are mobilizing two million men to combat a critical drought in the South China province of Kwangtung, arrivals from Red China reported today.

The travelers said lack of rain during the past eight months has caused severe damage to crops in many parts of the coastal province.

Powers' Ex-Wife Making Deal to Sell Life Story

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga. (AP) — The divorced wife of Francis Gary Powers, former U.S. reconnaissance pilot, is selling her life story under an arrangement which reportedly could net her as much as $250,000.

The project was announced Wednesday by Mrs. Powers, 28; her attorney, Robert H. Green; and W. W. Diehl, a writer-photographer from Detroit.

Diehl said the contract included shirt pocket, serial, book and movie rights. Diehl said a serial entitled "The Order of Barbara Powers" would be run under Barbara's byline in a new tabloid issued by Allied Publications, Chicago.

Package of Cigarettes Stops Gunman's Bullet

United States Cuts Major Fire Losses

Boston (AP) — The United States substantially cut its loss from major fires last year, the National Fire Protection Association reported today.

Large-loss fires — those costing $250,000 or more — destroyed property worth more than $284 million during 1967, the association reported.

This was a drop of more than $72 million from the previous year and was the lowest total since 1954.

Hundreds Attend Achievement Day

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Between 300 and 400 women attended Home Economics Extension Achievement Day Wednesday at Central Methodist Church.

They heard Charles Rutledge of DuPont Company's Textile Fibers Department speak on "I Remember Mama."

To punctuate his talk on advances made in housekeeping equipment, Rutledge brought a dozen packing cases full of artifacts.

The oldest item he displayed was a hatchel dating back to 1530. This instrument was used for combing flax before spinning it into thread.

He has a fantastic collection of irons, including those heated by kerosene, gasoline and charcoal. Rutledge said that sadirons were not so named because of the grief they caused their users, but because they were made of "sadd" or heavy iron. It is a Scottish term.

Wash 'n' wear is not new. Grandfather had his celluloid collar that he scrubbed each night and wore until the edges became yellow.

WASHING MACHINE

In speaking of an old hand-operated washing machine with a cedar tub, the speaker said that this machine was manufactured WITHOUT ANY CHANGES FROM 1891-1929.

Rutledge concluded his talk by stating that although homemaking has been made easier for women, they are just as busy as they ever were.

About 40 exhibits were on display showing extension lessons that have been taught in Oakland County this past year by Michigan State University Extension Agents.

Prizes for the best exhibits were won by the Domestic Executives, Rochester; Bloomfield Group, Bloomfield group; Bloomfield Township and Modern Homemakers.

Pontiac Homemakers, Pontiac.

Honored as 25-year members of Extension were Mrs. Cecil Dunn, Mrs. Carl Carlson, Mrs. Forrest Bernstein and Mrs. William Scramlin.

Others completing a quarter of a century were Mrs. Pearl Gordon, Mrs. Graeme Snow, Mrs. Basil Thompson, Mrs. Thomas Primeau, Mrs. Frank Middleton and Mrs. Marvin Middleton.

Mrs. Herman Trost, incoming president of the county Home Economics Council, was in charge of the program. She was assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Butterfield, Mrs. John White and Mrs. William J. Thery.

Others working on the day's preparations were Mrs. Edward Schultz, Mrs. Berle Dean, Mrs. Alfred Volz and Mrs. Gerald Shaler. Concluding the list were Mrs. Robert Sanford and Mrs. Victor Munson.

Berry Festival Date Selected

Strawberry Festival, the annual fair sponsored by Bloomfield Country Day School on East Square Lake Road, is set for May 11, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Each year parents and students of Bloomfield Country Day get together to earn money for scholarships and maintenance of the school.

Local merchants and alumni will join in the fair festivities. There will be a Thieves Market, with the variety of white elephants, and the Farm and Garden Booth. The latter will feature five different kinds of geranium plants. Candy, antiques, books, games and fashions are only a few of the attractions for youngsters and adults during the fair.

A special booth for Mothers' Day gifts will be featured, plus the display and sale of works by glassblower Ralph J. Shanks.

Edison Storing and his trained dogs will be there as will the surrey with the fringe on top and Mr. and Mrs. James Scribner's puppet show.

Refreshments range from strawberry delicacies to hot dogs or box lunches for families who wish to picnic on the school grounds.

Chairman of this year's Strawberry Festival is Mrs. Stewart M. Cram. Mrs. Arthur J. Brandt Jr. is her co-chairman.

Others assisting include Mrs. William Appelhof, Mrs. M. J. Kripke, Mrs. Drew C. Haneline, Mrs. Lou R. Jacobs and Mrs. Read Jenkins.

Mrs. Donald A. Nichol, Mrs. Charles Mosier, Mrs. David W. Raymond and Mrs. J. D. Richardson Jr. are also working on plans for the festival.

Concluding the list of chairmen are Mrs. Edmund E. Saperston, Mrs. Robert G. Wild, Mrs. Charles Bricker and Mrs. Dorothy Siddall.

Send Note of Thanks for Flowers

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Last week, my husband asked me to bake two cakes for a luncheon the men in his shop were having. One of the other men asked his wife to do the same. That afternoon, after the luncheon, I received a bouquet of flowers and a thank-you note from the men.

I told my husband to tell them how happy and pleased I was with their kind thought and that the flowers were perfectly lovely. The other wife also received a bouquet of flowers and she wrote a thank-you note for them.

Should I have sent one too? I thought that as this was their way of thanking me for having baked the cakes, a thank-you note was totally unnecessary.

A: Even though the flowers were sent to you with their thanks for your cakes, they were actually a gift and you should have written a thank-you note for them.

Q: Will you please tell me the correct way to serve both hot and cold liquids at table?

I am a waiter and there is a difference of opinion among the other waiters here about this. Most of them say that all liquids should be served from the right.

I know that coffee, tea, water, wine, etc., should be served from the right, but does this include hot soups and juices as appetizers?

A: All foods, including soups and juices, are served from the left. Coffee, tea, wine and water are served from the right.

Q: How should I address a letter to a divorced friend who has taken back her maiden name?

I've been told that she is carrying herself with the title prior to her marriage, using the title Miss. Isn't it supposed to be incorrect to do this?

A: Socially, yes. But you can't do other than address her as "Miss" if this is the name by which she has re-established herself.

Junior League Selects Officers in Birmingham

Birmingham Junior League members elected officers at their general membership meeting at Birmingham Country Club recently.

New officers are Mrs. John McNaughton, first vice president; Mrs. Howard Fitzgerald, second vice president; Mrs. Richard Halsted, recording secretary; and Mrs. Aben Johnson, treasurer.

Admissions chairman Mrs. Vesslau Wright announced the names of provisional members who will begin their provisional course in the fall.

Class members are Mrs. William Aikens, Mrs. George Beech, Mrs. John Bull, Mrs. Nelson Bone and Mrs. Hazen Carroll.

Also included are Mrs. Jerome Chase, Mrs. Lee Durham, Mrs. Charles Grissom, Mrs. Cranston Jones, Mrs. Karl Keifer and Molly Marshall.

The list concludes with Mrs. John Mandell, Mrs. Robert Neumann, Mrs. William Pierce, Mrs. Woods Proctor, Mrs. Cornelius Ray, Mrs. William Reynolds, Mrs. Robert Saffell, Mrs. Robert Scott, Mrs. Willard Vandewater and Linda Stevenson.

Three league members will attend the 41st annual Association of Junior Leagues of America conference in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Mrs. Sidney Smith, president of the Birmingham League, Mrs. Halsted and Mrs. Robert Campbell will represent Birmingham at the May 5-10 conference.

Nurse Worries Too Much About Doctor's Business

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a nurse and I see things many other people don't see.

For some time I have been watching the comings and goings of a young married woman.

She "visits" the hospital frequently so that she can see a certain doctor, who is also married and has a family.

This young woman has a fine husband and a lovely home. The entire hospital personnel is aware of the situation.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for twelve years to a man who absolutely refuses to try anything new when it comes to food.

When we are invited out to dinner, if it isn't meat and potatoes, he won't even touch it. I have tried to interest him in molds, fish, chicken, salads, casserole dishes and desserts, but it's futile.

I finally threw away my cook book. What is wrong with a man like that, and how can I cope with it?

Mrs. Mary Jane VanMeter (left), new Oakland County Extension Agent in home economics, was welcomed to the annual Extension Club Achievement Day

Wednesday at Central Methodist Church. Greeting her is Mrs. Raymond Zona, Loan-Lake Shores, who was in charge of exhibits for the occasion.

When the young fellow fitted the yoke to his girl friend's shoulder, she knew their marriage was a certainty, explained Charles H. Rutledge of DuPont Company. The Pennsylvania Dutch antique stooled yoke is worn by Mrs. Herman Trost, Troy, who introduced Wednesday's speaker to Extension club members.

Set Election of Officers

The Waterford Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will elect officers at its annual meeting Thursday.

Hostess will be Mrs. George Stout of Forest. Mrs. D. E. Edstrom and Mrs. Garrett Pribble will assist.

Sorority Is Holding Observance

Epsilon Sigma Alpha (ESA), one of the oldest off-campus sororities in existence, is observing ESA International Week, according to a proclamation issued by Mayor Robert Landry.

Mrs. Lawrence Hartman, president of Pontiac City Council of ESA, speaking at a recent council luncheon, recalled the group's founding in 1929 at Jacksonville, Tex. "The sorority developed into an international organization," she said, "soon after E. Robert Palmer assumed command of the sorority in 1941. He is a widely known educator, philosopher, author and lecturer."

During this week, some 1,500 chapters and more than 40,000 members of ESA are placing special emphasis on philanthropic projects. Besides local contributions, more than $1 million annually is donated by ESA chapters toward the welfare and comfort of the needy.

LINDA ELIZABETH STEVENSON

The John K. Stevensons of North Glastonbury, announce the engagement of their daughter Linda Elizabeth to Donald Bruce Murphy, son of the Thomas A. Murphys of Chappaqua, N.Y. The bride-elect is a graduate of Hathaway Brown School, Shaker Heights, Ohio, and Briarcliff College, Briarcliff Manor, N.Y. She is a member of Tau Beta and a provisional member of the Junior League of Birmingham.

She is the granddaughter of the late Lt. Gen. and Mrs. William S. Knudsen of Detroit, and R. M. Stevenson, Grose Pointe, and the late Mrs. Stevenson.

Her fiancé, a graduate of Yale University, is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. William P. Gatehouse of Brooklyn, N.Y., Mrs. James J. Murphy of Mitchelstown, County Cork, Ireland, and the late Mr. Murphy. A summer wedding is planned.

City 'Y' Officials to Attend Confab

Pontiac YWCA will be represented at the national conference, Central Region, this week by Alice Serrell, president of the board of directors; Connie Griesbach, a Y-Teen from Waterford Kettering High School; Eleanor Logan, teenage program director; and Mrs. Sixten Netzer, executive director.

Largest of four national YMCA conferences, the Chicago affair is expected to draw more than 1,800 delegates.

"The Lives of Women" is the theme of this year's conference, with forums on five aspects of it: "Careers at Home and at Work;" "Education for Living and Being;" "The YWCA in the Community;" "Citizenship Responsibility of Women;" and "Leadership Outlook for the Future."

Principal speaker at the opening session will be Margaret Hickey, public affairs editor of the Ladies Home Journal.

Miss Serrell, who is just beginning her term in office, has been a member of the PWCA Board for five years.

She has served as second and first vice president.

Her other interests include the Oakland County Historical Foundation; the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research; DAR and Daughters of 1812. Until retirement, she was secretary-bookkeeper for Van Hoesen Farms.

Serving with Miss Serrell are Mrs. Edward Ladd, first vice president; Mrs. John Streil, second vice president; Mrs. Arthur I. MacAdams, corresponding secretary; Maude Chambers, recording secretary; and Mrs. Richard Palmer, treasurer.

All officers were installed at the April Board meeting.

Match Them

Appearance, Personality

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Does your physical appearance match your personality? Or do you feel youthful and gay but look stiff and old? Do you feel gallant and courageous but slump in a tired and defeated way?

If you find life an adventure and feel young in spirit, why handicap yourself with poor posture, careless grooming and burdensome overweight?

It is important to have our appearance match our personality and outlook because our appearance has an impact on others long before they have an opportunity to discover any good or enchanting qualities we may have.

It is also a smart idea to match your clothes to your figure. For instance, if you are overweight:

- Remember that prints are dangerous. If you use these at all use only very small prints. I do not know why it is so, but many overweight women wear large prints.

- Do not wear your clothes too tight. Many women make the mistake of thinking that tight clothes make them look smaller. The opposite is true. This emphasizes bulges.

- As a general rule, stick to solid colors and those materials which have a dull finish, or materials without sheen. This makes a great difference. Of course, black is slimming.

- Do not wear extremely high heels or shoes with ankle straps.
- Wear in-between-hats. Extremely large ones flatten the short plump woman, while a very small one looks like a peanut over a round face.

- Skirt lengths should be conservative. They should be within the limit for the current style, and extremes should be avoided.

If you would like to have my free leaflet "Clothes to Fit Your Figure and Personality," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 54 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Hold Party for Class on Citizenship

Here's Budget for Six-Member Family

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Mary Feeley: As a representative of four of us mothers sitting her talking budgets, I've been elected to write to you. We all enjoy your column.

It seems to us that all guides are based on families of four and we each have four children, making families of six. Could you please supply a guide for spending an average income of $7,000-$7,500, based on a six-person family?

Mrs. E. G., Wilmette, Ill.
Dear Mrs. G.: You girls take out your pads and pencils and see how close you actually come to matching these figures, based on a spendable income of $600 a month:

Housing (rent or mortgage payments), $120; household operating costs $30; food at home, $170; clothing, including upkeep, $60; savings, including insurance, $30; miscellaneous, including gifts, church, etc., $35; medical costs, $30; recreation and vacation, $15; education, books, magazines, $10; car, $30.

If you're wide of the mark keep calm. The above items total $630, so I leave you $70 a month to grease the budget machinery where it squeaks the loudest.

You may be able to juggle both the food and clothing allotment so you can allow for small personal expenses. While the amount earmarked for recreation is slim enough, you can have fun planning family outings and picnics that cost next to nothing.

And surely among the four of you, you can dispense with baby-sitter services!

You might also check my budget suggestion booklet which you can obtain free by writing this in a newspaper and enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dear Miss Feeley: Friends of ours, out of town, asked us if their son, who attends medical school here in Detroit, and his wife, who works here, could come and live with us.

We are on Social Security, have the room for them, but wonder what they should contribute to the expenses. I would do the cooking and laundry for all. What would you suggest?

Mrs. F. C., Detroit

Dear Mrs. C.: Starting with the big item — food — you can expect to more than double your present food bill, since young people tend to have hearty appetites.

To give you some idea, the U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates the weekly food cost for a young couple at from $14 to $19. So plan to add $19 or $29 a week to what you're now spending.

Then, allow a small amount to cover electricity, gas, water, telephone, and laundry. You're entitled to some compensation, too, for the additional work involved in having them live in your home.

Everything included, $40 to $50 a week seems a reasonable figure to ask. Perhaps you can find out, in a friendly conversation, whether this fits into the salary the wife will be earning.

Dear Miss Feeley: My husband and I will be buying a home sometime within the next two months. I want to know the maximum amount we can spend for a home, with a net income of $6,000 a year.

We have an additional income from stocks, but prefer to save it. We are in our late 20s. We have $2,500 for a down payment.

Mrs. H.P., Cincinnati

Dear Mrs. P.: It's generally considered sound to figure the cost of a home at no more than two and one-half times your gross annual income.

In your case, I judge this to be about $18,000. So do your house-hunting with this figure in mind. Of course, if you can find what you're looking for at a lower price, so much the better.

That $2,500 you mention as a down payment is on the low side. To be sure that monthly commitments won't prove too heavy a burden on your income, keep in mind that the interest and amortization, taxes, insurance, and heat for your new home should not exceed one-fourth of your monthly take-home pay, of $125 in your case.

She will answer questions of widest interest in her column.

Swedish Exercises Are Popular

Pert Mrs. Octavia McCall has degree in physical education from Michigan State University and Washington Junior High School. One of the most interesting parts of the course is the time spent on Swedish exercise.

Have You Tried This?

Bake Rice and Chicken

By JANET ODELL,
Pontiac Press Food Editor

It's nice to have someone blow another's horn, for a change. Mrs. Carl C. Steinman sends us a recipe originated by her sister, Mrs. Samuel Ostoin of Milford. This is what she wrote:

"She loves to experiment with cooking and came up with this excellent recipe. She has others that are her very own too. She is a wonderful cook, has two sons and has an immaculate house at all times."

And here is the recipe.

CHICKEN AND RICE

By Mrs. Samuel Ostoin

1 fryer, cut up and salted

1½ cups uncooked rice

¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon black pepper
¼ teaspoon paprika
3 cups water
4 chicken bouillon cubes

Combine and mix rice and seasonings and place in bottom of 8 x 11 pan. Brown chicken pieces on both sides in fat. Remove from pan and save drippings.

Mix water and bouillon cubes and heat to boiling. Measure and add more water if necessary to make 3 cups. Add to drippings. Pour over rice mixture. Stir.

Place chicken pieces on top and cover with foil. Bake at 300 degrees for 1½ hours or until chicken is tender. Makes 4-6 servings.

member of the senior gym team which toured and gave gymnastic exhibitions.

Newly introduced at Washington Junior High is a club for those selected gym students who show promise and interest in gymnastics. The club meets after school and girls are given added instruction in Swedish gymnastics and creative rhythms.

Mrs. McCall has also worked with the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation, teaching an adult evening class in Swedish exercise. These two-hour classes were held weekly for eight weeks.

In working with the two different age groups Mrs. McCall found that the girls were more interested in the exercise for its aesthetic value while the older women were more concerned with how it would help trim their figures.

Mrs. McCall, who will celebrate her fourth wedding anniversary in December, is married to a Warren businessman.

Demonstrating gymnastics to her gym classes, Mrs. McCall then scores the girls on their ability to perform the exercises. Swedish gymnastics and creative rhythms are some of the most interesting phases of the class program.

A club has been formed for those who show interest and talent in gymnastics.

Hobby Night Is Set

Fashionette Club members will hold a hobby night Tuesday at the Adah Shelly Library, 7:30 p.m. Anyone interested in losing weight may attend these meetings each week.

Tea Party Time Made for Cake

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Let's give a party for Mother's day. Let's invite friends in for a social afternoon. Let's bring back some gracious entertaining in this hurried world.

Perhaps you can plan a Sunday afternoon tea and invite all the family to share your hospitality.

If the occasion is to honor Mother, you'll want to serve a delicate white cake with a lemon filling. This same recipe can be baked in a large flat pan or as cup cakes.

Mother's Day Cake

2½ cups sifted cake flour
½ cup sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
4 egg whites
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup corn oil
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix and sift together flour, ½ cup sugar, baking powder and salt. In a large bowl, beat egg whites until slightly mounded when beater is raised; gradually beat in ¼ cup sugar and continue beating until mixture stands in firm peaks.

Make a well in the dry ingredients; add corn oil and ½ cup of the milk. Blend, beat 100 strokes, or until batter is smooth. Add remaining milk and vanilla, blend and beat an additional 100 strokes. Pour this mixture slowly into the meringue, gently folding until completely blended. Fold, do not stir.

Turn into two 9-inch greased and waxed paper lined layer pans; cut through with spatula to remove large bubbles. Bake in 350 degree (moderate) oven for 30 to 35 minutes or until cake springs back when touched lightly with finger. Cool.

Spread one layer with Lemon Cake Filling, put the other layer on top, and frost top and sides with White Frosting.

Lemon Cake Filling

½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons corn starch
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup water
1 egg or 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
¼ cup lemon juice

1 tablespoon corn oil margarine
1½ teaspoons grated lemon rind
Blend together sugar, corn starch and salt in top of double boiler. Gradually add water. Place over boiling water and cook, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Cover, and cook 10 minutes longer, stirring occasionally.

Stir a small amount of hot mixture into the egg. Immediately pour back into remaining hot mixture over boiling water; blend well. Cook 5 minutes longer, stirring constantly.

1. Remove from heat; add lemon juice, margarine and lemon rind.

White Frosting

¼ teaspoon salt
3 egg whites
1 cup light corn syrup
¼ cup sugar
1½ teaspoons vanilla

Add salt to egg whites and beat until whites hold soft peaks when beater is raised. Combine corn syrup and sugar in small saucepan; cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is completely dissolved and mixture just reaches a full boil. Beat hot syrup into egg whites a little at a time until all is added. Beat in vanilla, continue beating until mixture holds firm peaks when beater is raised.

Flower Cake

Prepare recipe for Mother's Day Cake and turn into a 12 x 9½ x 2-inch oblong pan. Bake in 350 degree (moderate) oven for 35-40 minutes. When cool, frost with Ecru Frosting.

Ecru Frosting

Cream ½ cup corn oil margarine. Add 1 pound sifted confectioners sugar, ½ cup at a time, beating until smooth. Beat in 1 egg. Add another 1 pound confectioners sugar, beating just until smooth and blended.

Reserve 1 cup frosting; chill. Add water to remainder and beat until blended; then tint desired color. Chill 30 minutes and spread on cake. Color the reserved 1 cup of frosting as desired; use to decorate cake with flowers, leaves and a border design.

Cup Cakes

Prepare recipe for Mother's Day Cake and turn into 1½-inch cup cake pans. Bake in a 350 degree (moderate) oven for 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 2½ dozen cup cakes. Frost half the cakes with Peanut Butter Fudge Topping, and the rest with Quick Peanut Butter Frosting.

Peanut Butter Fudge Topping
Combine ½ cup chocolate flavored syrup and ½ cup creamy peanut butter. Add ½ cup light corn syrup. Stir until well blended.

Easy Peanut Butter Frosting
Combine ½ cup creamy or chunk style peanut butter and ½ cup dark corn syrup. Stir until well blended.

If you have youngsters coming, make a special treat for them. Even though it is sweet, it has protein in it in the form of peanut butter. These Cocoa Peanut Logs are a good lunch-box dessert too.

Cocoa Peanut Logs

1 cup (6-oz. pkg.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
½ cup peanut butter
4 cups cocoa sweetened toasted rice cereal
Melt chocolate with peanut butter in heavy medium-sized saucepan over low heat, stirring constantly until well blended. Remove from heat. Add cereal, stirring until coated with chocolate mixture. Press mixture firmly into lightly buttered 9 x 9-inch pan. Let stand in a cool place until hardened. Cut into bars. Yield: 32 log-shaped bars, about 2½ x 4 inches.

Note: In warm weather, bars may be refrigerated.

Honey Butter

Cream a half cup butter or margarine with a quarter cup of honey; cover and refrigerate until you are ready to use this delicious blend as a topping for breakfast pancakes.

Artichoke Salad Is Gourmet Treat

No salad necessary when you serve a first course such as this.

Marinated Artichoke Hearts

1 package (9 ounces) artichoke hearts
2 tablespoons olive oil
1 tablespoon white wine vinegar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon Dijon mustard
Cook artichoke hearts according to package directions; drain. In a shallow container mix together the remaining ingredients; fill thickened.

mix in artichoke hearts. Add a little more oil if marinade seems too sharp. Cover tightly and refrigerate for an hour or so before serving, turning artichoke hearts in the small amount of marinade once or twice. Makes 6 servings.

Gravy for Roast Pork

When you take that roast pork loin out of its pan, make some gravy. Pour off the fat and then spoon back about four tablespoons of it; add 4 tablespoons of flour. Blend with a wooden spoon over low heat. Add two cups of water and cook and stir constantly until thickened.

PORK TOSTADOS—A bowl of shredded western iceberg lettuce; a "loaf" of mashed kidney beans (frijoles), and strips of browned pork are the topping that turn a tortilla into a delicious Mexican sandwich, called a tostado.

Mexican Sandwich Is Popular Food to Serve

Quick and easy is a Mexican salad-sandwich, known as a tostado. Crisp tortillas are topped with mashed kidney beans, diced meat, hot tomato sauce and crisp shredded western iceberg lettuce. Garnishes run the gamut—from avocado slices, radishes, pimiento-stuffed olives, chopped onion and hard-cooked eggs to grated cheese.

The fun comes from concocting your own sandwich from the assortment set forth on the table. All the cook has to do is fry the tortillas; her family will take over on the assembly job and stack them up with the fillings of their choice.

Pork Tostados With Shredded Lettuce

- 1 medium head western iceberg lettuce
- 12 tortillas, canned or frozen
- 1/4 cup salad oil
- 1 large onion, finely chopped
- 2 cans (1 pound each) kidney beans, drained
- Salt and pepper
- 1/4 cup grated Cheddar or Parmesan cheese
- 1 medium tomato, sliced
- 1 pound pork cutlets or ground beef, fried (or leftover pork roast, finely chopped)

- 1 medium avocado, peeled and sliced
- Texas sauce*

Core lettuce; wash in cold water and drain well. Shred lettuce with sharp knife. Fry each tortilla in hot oil about 2 seconds; drain on paper towels. Drain off all but 2 tablespoons oil; add onion and cook until tender. Add beans, salt and pepper and mash until thick paste is formed.

Mound onto plate or mold in oiled loaf pan; sprinkle with cheese and garnish with tomato and avocado. Let each person make tostados by layering each tortilla with bean spread, lettuce, meat and Texas sauce.*

Texas Sauce

Melt 3 tablespoons butter or margarine in saucepan; add 1 clove garlic, finely chopped; 3 tablespoons flour; 1 1/2 teaspoons to 1 tablespoon chili powder; 1 teaspoon salt; and 1/4 teaspoon ground cumin. Slowly add 1 1/2 cups water. Cook and stir until thickened.

Protein Foods Are Still on Bargain List

The month of May will indeed be merry for food shoppers: predicts the Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Meat counters will continue to offer a bonanza of beef, pork and fowls. Expect increasing supplies of fresh produce and promotions to move canned and frozen foods as a new processing season begins.

A check of prices for this week indicates that most cuts of beef and pork are priced at lower than usual prices in many stores. Since pork supplies will begin to be smaller by the end of the month, perhaps this is the week to freeze several pork cuts for summer use.

The Boston butt roast, from the front shoulder, continues to be one of the best pork values. Or choose a rib-end roast and have it cut for thick country-style ribs. This cut has more lean than spare ribs and is also priced at less per pound. Center cut pork chops are at this season's low in cost.

Shoppers may notice that egg prices have taken a considerable drop. A price comparison shows that all egg sizes are comparable with a cost of 39¢ per pound is checked. So, choose the size the family likes best.

This is the in-between season for many fresh food items. For example, lettuce production in one area of Arizona is declining while cutting in one of the large California areas is just beginning.

The last of any volume of California Navel oranges has been picked and recent cool weather has delayed the maturity of Valencia oranges there.

Dry weather in many production areas of the country has also influenced the volume of recent produce supplies. However, shoppers can expect increasing amounts of fresh foods during May. Michigan asparagus tops the list of goodness in fresh vegetables for May. The crop is dependent upon weather conditions, but usually the volume supplies arrive from May 15 to June 1.

May brings peak supplies of fresh pineapples. Pineapples from different countries are different in flavor, so why not ask about this.

A leaf may be pulled with ease from the crown of a ripe pineapple. When at room temperature, ripe pineapples have a fragrant, fruity, pineapple odor.

May is also the month for peak supplies of strawberries from states other than Michigan. Michigan berries arrive in June. Prices average about 29 to 39 cents a pint or 49 to 59 cents a quart this week.

Peaches, applesauce, cherries, pears, and green beans appear among the canned food "specials" this weekend. Meat and one area of Arizona is declining while cutting in one of the large California areas is just beginning.

Dip Diamonds of Dough Into Butter, Overlap in Pan

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Sleuthing around among recipes, we find that bubble loaves and monkey breads are kismet kin.

Bubble loaf came into being some years ago when cooks discovered how easy it was to pinch off pieces of yeast dough, dip them in melted butter or margarine, and toss them into a pan to bake.

Next monkey bread appeared on the scene. Some ambitious cook decided to roll and cut the dough into diamonds instead of pinching off pieces of dough at random. The neat diamonds were then given a coating of melted butter or margarine and layered in a tub pan.

The trick here is to stagger the diamonds as they're layered in the pan. After baking, this monkey bread turns into one of the prettiest concoctions we've laid eyes on. So pretty in fact that we've renamed it Petal Bread.

The following recipe results in one of the lightest yeast breads we've ever encountered. When you bring it to the table, no slicing is necessary. Eaters can help themselves to the diamond-shaped "rolls" from the whole loaf because they come away at the touch of the fingers.

This recipe makes two loaves. Serve one right away; store the other in the freezer and reheat before serving.

Petal Bread

1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup corn oil margarine
1/4 cup warm water
1 package active dry yeast
3 eggs, beaten
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
4 to 5 cups sifted flour
1/4 cup corn oil margarine, melted

Scald milk; add 1/4 cup margarine and let it melt; cool to lukewarm. Pour water into mixing bowl. Sprinkle yeast over water; stir until dissolved. Blend in eggs, sugar, salt and milk mixture.

Add enough flour to make an easily handled dough. Knead until smooth on lightly floured board. Place in greased bowl; brush lightly with a little melted margarine; cover.

Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 45 minutes. Punch down. Divide in half.

Roll out each half to 3/4-inch thickness on floured board. Cut into diamond shapes with 3-inch cookie cutter. Arrange about half the diamond shapes in 3 layers in well greased solid bottom 9 by 3 1/2-inch tub pan, brushing each layer with melted margarine and staggering layers so diamonds are not directly over one another. Arrange remaining diamond shapes in similar fashion in greased 9 1/2 by 5 1/2 by 2 1/2-inch baking pan. Cover both pans; let dough rise until doubled in bulk, about 30 minutes.

Bake in moderate oven until golden brown, 30 to 40 minutes, brushing with melted margarine a few minutes before bread is done.

SEPIA PIE — This pie has a crust of crushed bite-sized shredded rice biscuits, brown sugar and butter has a custard layer over chocolate. It's a tasty combination.

Anchovy Toast a Base for Scrambled Eggs

Scrambled eggs are good on anchovy toast. Combine 3 beaten eggs with 3/4 teaspoon of chili powder and salt and pepper to taste. Cook in 2 teaspoons of melted butter or margarine over low heat, stirring constantly until done.

Spread 3 slices of toast with a blend of 2 tablespoons of butter or margarine. 3 anchovies, minced, and 1 teaspoon of garlic powder. Top with scrambled eggs, sprinkle with 1-3 cup of grated sharp cheddar cheese and serve hot. Serves 3.

Pork Storage

Make a note on your freezer memo pad that fresh pork should be kept no longer than three to four months, beef no longer than six to eight months.

This One Is a Delicious Black Bottom Pie

Sepia Pie is a modern version of our old friend, Black Bottom Pie. The crunchy, caramel-like crust is made of crushed bite-sized shredded rice biscuits, brown sugar and butter. The custard filling is chocolate on the bottom and coffee-rum on top.

Make the pie in the morning and let it chill in the refrigerator until dinner. If you want to be real fancy, melt a few semi-sweet chocolate pieces. Put a few dollops topped by fondant mints on top of the pie. They add that springtime look.

The longer the pie is chilled, up to eight hours, the easier it is to cut and to serve. Don't forget to dip the pie plate in hot water for a minute before serving. The butter that lines the plate will melt and the pieces will come right out.

SEPIA PIE

Crust

4 1/2 cups bite-sized shredded rice biscuits crushed to 1 1/4 cups
1/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1/4 cup soft butter or margarine

Heat oven to moderate (350 degrees). Butter 8 or 9-inch pie plate. Combine crumbs and sugar. Add butter. Blend until uniform pad that fresh pork should be kept no longer than three to four months, beef no longer than six to eight months.

of crust, not on rim of plate. Bake 10 minutes. Cool.

Filling

2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 cup and 1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 cups milk
3 eggs, separated
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
1 1/2 squares semi-sweet chocolate, melted
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
4 teaspoons instant coffee
2 tablespoons hot water
1/2 teaspoon rum extract

Combine cornstarch, 1/2 cup sugar and salt. Add milk. Heat and stir until filling thickens and boils. Add 2 1/2 tablespoons hot filling to beaten egg yolks. Stir constantly. Stir egg mixture into filling. Heat and stir 2 minutes or until thickened.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add to filling. Stir to dissolve. Add chocolate and vanilla to 1 1/4 cups filling. Pour into cooled pie shell. Chill.

Dissolve coffee in hot water. Add to remainder of filling. Stir in rum extract. Beat egg whites until foamy. Gradually add sugar. Beat until soft peaks form. Fold into coffee mixture. Gently spoon onto chocolate layer.

Chill until firm, about 2 hours. Yield: 1 (8 or 9-inch) pie.

Junior Editors Quiz on JUTE

QUESTION: Why are burlap bags called gunny sacks?

ANSWER: This is because such bags are made out of "gunny cloth," a coarse but strong material woven from jute fiber.

Jimmy and Jim are accustomed to seeing the feed they give their horse delivered in such sacks, but they little realize that the material baggie bags has come to their home all the way from India.

The jute fiber is taken from the stems of the jute plant, which has tall stalks up to 14 feet high. After these plants have bloomed, the jute farmers cut the stalks close to the ground and soak them in water so the gum which holds the fibers together is loosened.

Then the fibers are beaten out, dried, and made into large bales. These are shipped to manufacturers in many places who spin the fibers into thread and weave them into gunny.

This cloth is used for many other purposes besides bags. As burlap, it is made in different weights and used as a support in upholstering furniture and inside automobile seats.

It is a base material used in make linoleum and is very useful in packaging large objects.

FOR YOU TO DO: Here's an old sport from horse and buggy days with which you can still have a lot of fun. Get a few gunny sacks and a friend for each sack; then get the friends into the sacks, have them hold the sacks up under their arms, and start to race. All sorts of things will happen!

Michigan Traffic Volume Up

LANSING (AP) — Traffic volume on Michigan highways has been on the increase for 17 consecutive months, reports the State Highway Department.

The increase over the corresponding month the previous year ranged from one tenth of 1 per cent in February 1962 to 8.4 per cent last February.

Traffic volumes in the first three months over 1963 were 6.6 per cent above the same period a year ago.

40,000 Dead in Flu Attack

ATLANTA (UPI) — The chief statistician for the U.S. Communicable Disease Center (CDC) said yesterday a report that 40,000 persons were killed by the recent flu epidemic in this country "probably was a conservative estimate."

Dr. Robert E. Serfling said actual figures on deaths caused by influenza are not available.

But based on preliminary reports from 186 selected cities "it would appear that between 40,000 and 50,000 deaths are directly connected with the recent flu epidemic," he said.

Another spokesman for CDC pointed out that this would make the winter of 1962-63 the worst as far as deaths in the United States are concerned since the winter of 1957-58 when the nation suffered its first Asian flu epidemic.

He said that excess deaths attributed to influenza totaled only 24,000 in 1961-62 when typhoid rather than Asian flu hit the country.

Each hour of the day and night, U.S. railroads perform the equivalent of moving 69.6 million tons of freight and 3.6 million passengers one mile.

Democrats Striving to Meet Recount Deadline

LANSING (U) — Democrats were hustling to meet the deadline today to file for a partial recount of the April 1 vote approving the new state constitution.

"We will file for a recount of enough precincts to establish the accuracy of the vote beyond a reasonable doubt," said Zoltan Ferency, Democratic State Central Committee Chairman.

The official vote shows the constitution was adopted by a margin of 7,859.

Ferency said more than 1,000 of the state's 5,200 precincts will be recounted. Precincts will be selected on a widely representative basis throughout the state and will include some in the Upper Peninsula, he said.

The latest tally of cash contributions showed slightly more than $8,000 on hand for the recount. Democrats will have to post $3 bond a precinct.

The money will be forfeited if the recount fails to overturn the vote favoring the constitution but will be refunded if it is successful.

MIDNIGHT DEADLINE

Democrats have until midnight to file their list of precincts and post their money with the elections division of the secretary of state's office. Ferency said it would probably be done this afternoon.

The coordinating committee for the new constitution planned to file counter-petitions to recount some precincts after the Democrats file.

Area State

Edward McLogan of Flint, executive director of the group, said to finance a recount are being raised by the executive committee.

"We had hoped Democratic party leaders would call off this to act as recount chairman in nearly all of the state's 5,200 counties.

Republican Party officials, volunteers who worked in Gov. George Romney's campaign for governor and a former constitutional-convention delegates also have pledged their cooperation, McLogan said.

On the legislative front, a joint House - Senate study committee met to draw up a suggested agenda on implementing the new state constitution.

The study committee's findings will be used by an 18-member interim committee in formulating a package of laws needed to activate the constitution.

A report will be submitted by the study committee by the end of the week.

Among statutes to be recommended for review are those dealing with civil service, elections, finance and taxation and judicial structure.

Sen. Garry Brown, R-Schoolcraft, study committee chairman, said some 40 items in the new constitution may require the attention of the special session of the legislature this fall.

Another 100 may need legislative implementation later.

"Probably the most troublesome task will be reworking the election laws to set up such things as staggered terms," Brown said. "It will be a substantial job involving a great amount of time."

Vote on School Tax Is Due

Denies Colburn After Med-Plan

Lawyer Counters Blue Shield Charge

Detroit (U) — The attorney representing Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn yesterday denied Colburn was trying to wreck Michigan Medical Service, Inc. (Blue Shield).

The denial by Myron A. McMillan followed a charge by Blue Shield attorney Henry H. Sills that "it is the intent of the commissioner to destroy Blue Shield as it has existed for 22 years."

The exchange took place at a court hearing before Circuit Judge Theodore Bohn on Colburn's petition for a permanent injunction to prevent Blue Shield from putting a 19.3 per cent rate increase into effect June 1.

A temporary injunction prevented Blue Shield from sending out bills at the higher rate yesterday.

It was Sills' contention the court had no jurisdiction to rule on the dispute and he said Colburn had no authority to bring the suit into court.

He added that Blue Shield has no reserves and cannot continue to meet its obligations without a rate increase.

Blue Cross, which pays hospital bills, and Blue Shield are associates in the insurance field.

Blue Cross was granted a 23.4 per cent increase by Colburn effective June 1, provided it make certain changes in procedures.

Colburn rejected a companion increase by Blue Shield.

Convict Tip at Coldwater Fizzles Out

Coldwater (AP) — A search for four convicts escaped last week from Southern Michigan Prison centered on a wooded area near here yesterday. But state police called off the hunt after they failed to turn up any clues.

An airplane, two dogs and 50 policemen rushed to the scene after a fisherman reported four men were standing near his car and that one of them pulled a gun when he asked what they were doing.

The fisherman fled and said he saw the four men enter the woods. The search was called off at 4 p. m.

Police have not turned up any clues since the four escaped by sawing their way out of their cells.

Boy Scouts Are Receiving Good Deed From Painters

By JIM LONG

Here's a switch. Boy Scouts on the receiving end of a good deed.

On the giving end are 25 teenage boys from Detroit's Trembley Trade School, where they are learning commercial painting.

Their goal is to transform the main dining hall of the Clinton Valley Boy Scout Council's Camp Agawam near Lake Orion into a replica of a desert trading post.

The project is the idea of their instructor, John Parmenter, 1666 Beverly, Sylvan Lake.

"I only got the ball rolling," he explained. "They've kept it going."

An example of the complete enthusiasm in the project, Parmenter said, is the fact that a few students who were planning to quit school have changed their minds.

BIG THRILL

"Now we can't get started painting fast enough," he said. "There will be work but it will be a big thrill. Most of these kids have never been outside the city."

The painting-renovation project is scheduled for the first week in June. During that time the boys will live and study at the camp. Meals will be furnished from government surplus food.

Supervising the painting operation during the day will be volunteers from Painters Union Locals 420 and 1401. The job is expected to be completed just prior to the official camp opening.

The Detroit Board of Education has shown considerable interest in the project, according to Parmenter.

"This is the first time an outside training operation like this has been attempted," Parmenter said. "If it is successful, others could be undertaken each year."

About 125 gallons of paint will be used to cover the outside of the L-shaped, cinder block dining hall. All the paint has been donated by six Pontiac area firms.

Parmenter said that paint and labor probably would cost about $2,000 if the Council were paying for it.

Art work with an Indian theme will decorate the exterior of the building. Large merit badge emblems will be painted on the interior walls. A set of king sized steer horns will be placed over the entrance.

To complete the change the mess hall will be named "Ulcer Gulch."

Faced with the council decision, hospital promoters took their case to Oakland County Circuit Court.

Judge Arthur E. Moore sent the case back for the City Council's reconsideration in light of a recent State Supreme Court decision.

The high court ruling confines consideration to whether the proposed hospital would be injurious to surrounding property. Factors such as protests by area residents were not to be taken into account, according to Judge Moore.

Hike Endorsed in Rochester

Education Board Asks Mills for Operation

ROCHESTER — The proposed four-mill tax hike for operational funds — endorsed unanimously by the board of education — will be decided in Monday's special school election here.

The additional millage, should it be approved, will provide $200,000 which will be used primarily to raise teachers' salaries.

Also included in the single proposition will be a request for renewal of a three-mill tax.

If passed, the proposal will mean a tax rate four mills higher than the amount district residents paid this year, or $29.40 per $1,000 of assessed state equalized valuation, assuming allocations from the county remain the same.

The millage issue received the backing of the entire school board only two weeks ago, when Trustee John Patterson agreed with the need for additional funds.

In return for this, the board promised to "study and assess fully" some of Patterson's ideas on school operations.

Prior to the April 14 session, Patterson had indicated opposition to the millage request.

COMPETITIVE BASIS

If Monday's proposal is turned down the district certainly couldn't offer the salary to teachers to put us in a competitive basis," Schools Superintendent Donald D. Baldwin said today.

"We've been optimistic hoping that people would see the need and approve the millage," he added, speaking for the board.

Of the total $200,000 raised about $165,000 would be used for teachers salary increases and the remaining $35,000 to hire the pay of principals, assistant superintendents, secretaries, bus drivers and custodians, Baldwin said.

Some $350,000 of the 1963-64 budget, already submitted to the county, is based on voter okay of the total 7-mill issue.

The questions of the three-mill renewal and the four-mill increase will be combined in one proposal on the ballot.

"The school district needs both," Baldwin added.

GROVELAND TOWNSHIP

The dispute over the township supervisor's office here is headed toward the legal arena.

Attorney William E. Jackson said yesterday he planned to file suit in Oakland County Circuit Court today in behalf of Earl B. Rhinevalet, until recently the possessor of the now contested post.

With a favorable judgment, Rhinevalet hopes to pick up at least one vote and unseat William Scramlin, who was sworn into office before the votes were tied by a recount.

Scramlin, a sticker candidate in the biennial spring election of April 1, originally tallied 213 votes against 211 for Rhinevalet and 45 for Democrat Alice A. Brooks. Both Rhinevalet and Scramlin are Republicans.

RESULTS IN TIE

Rhinevalet requested a recount the result being a 211-211 tie.

In such cases the winner can be determined by flipping a coin, cutting cards or some other method involving chance.

But Rhinevalet said he will have better than 50-50 odds in the courtroom.

He places his strongest hope on one ballot. On it someone apparently tried to cross out the X next to Mrs. Brooks' name, Jackson said.

Rorke's Raiders Carry on Clandestine Anti-Castro War

By JOHN RAYMOND
Copyright, 1963, Boston Traveler

BOSTON (AP) — Behind last Thursday's abortive bombing raid on a Havana oil refinery lies an amazing, even frightening, story. It is a story of secret Florida "agents" . . . a makeshift air "fleet" . . . gun running missions to the Cuban coast . . . and a band of American adventurers willing to risk war to gain Fidel Castro's overthrow.

Their raid on the Cuban refinery last week was merely one facet of their operations. I got a first-hand look at some of the others during four hair-raising days spent with these self-styled freedom fighters earlier this month.

Among other things:

I watched some of their Cuban-exile comrades load hand grenades in a Miami apartment.

I saw a 100-pound high explosive bomb in a backyard Miami shed.

I flew to a hidden arms cache on a tiny key in the Caribbean.

I spent a harrowing night in the Florida Straits, on a boat which dropped off guns and ammunition on a Cuban beach for anti-Castro guerrillas.

U.S. LEADER

The trip began with a phone call from Alexander L. Rorke Jr., a 36-year-old New Yorker who is head of a group known as U.S. Freedom Fighter and is their chief recruiter.

He was later to take part in the air attack on Havana.

I first had contacted Rorke several days earlier to ask about his efforts to sign up students at Harvard, Boston College and other local campuses for his clandestine organization.

"I'm flying to Florida and the Bahamas tonight to get my boat back and annoy Castro," he told "me" to come along.

The boat Rorke referred to was Violynn III. It had finally turned up in Miami with its crew of 16 Cuban exiles and one American. They had been thwarted in an attempt to run guns into Cuba and then attack a Russian ship heading for the Red-Head Island.

Picked up on Norman's Key by Bahama police and British Royal Marines, the raiders were slapped into Fox Hills prison on Nassau for four days, then released. Their guns were returned but not their ammunition.

GUN'S VANISHED

When Violynn III pulled into Miami, U.S. Customs agents seized the 35-foot motor boat but let the crew go. The guns had "vanished."

I met Rorke that night at La Guardia Field in New York. With him were a pilot and copilot, Jan Dorfman, a documentary film director who recently moved to New York from Boston, and Sid Hershan.

Herahan used to be Tahombe's public relations officer at the Katanga Information Service in New York. Business got bad when the United Nations put the squeeze on Tahombe.

We climbed aboard Rorke's twin-engine Beechcraft and roared down the runway. As the plane gained altitude the world of flickering lights below seemed to stand still.

I asked Rorke about the U.S. Freedom Fighters.

He said there were more than 200 in the group, all Americans. They operate out of Florida and the Bahamas — also the Caribbean area — and include a number of college students, some from the Boston area.

He continually referred to those in his group as "freedom technicians" and said they assist other exile groups in their anti-Castro activities.

Rorke is a tall—6-foot-3—non-smoking, nondrinking, 1 1/2 inch-haired Irishman who radiates the conviction of a fundamentalist preacher and the publicity flair of any Ivy Lee.

las must be well-armed if they are ever to stage a successful revolt. But that, he insists, still isn't enough.

"We should attack Soviet ships bringing weapons and other supplies into Cuba," he said. "We should throw a total blockade around the island." To fill the breach, "Rorke's Raiders" — as they are known around Miami and the Bahamas — are engaged in arming Cuban guerrillas and planning "hit-run" commando raids.

Some of Rorke's critics say he said.

is sitting atop a nuclear powder keg with political machinations. But he shrugs off such comments.

"We're already fighting a war," he said. "Now it's just a matter of whether we win or lose."

The sun was shining when we reached West Palm Beach after braving stomach-churning headwinds all the way from New York. "That was quite a trip," I said to Rorke.

"It hasn't even started yet," he said.

Will United States Seek Arms Caches?

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. government agents may be investigating a report of Cuban refugee arsenals in Miami. But, if so, they are doing it in secrecy and silence.

Official spokesmen in Washington refuse to say whether they are investigating or, in fact, have the duty to investigate the report. John Raymond, in a story copyrighted by the Boston Traveler, wrote Wednesday that he had spent four days with Cuban Freedom Fighters in Miami last month and had seen Cuban exiles loading grenades in an apartment and had noticed a 100-pound bomb in a backyard shed. The Traveler said Raymond, in future articles, would describe Cuban arsenals in Miami.

WASHINGTON MUM

The stories, which are being distributed nationally by The Associated Press; provoked a round of "no comments" in Washington. The FBI said, "We can't have any comment on that at all."

The Customs Bureau said it would have no jurisdiction in the matter unless some attempt was made to export arms.

The State Department said, "We're not in the law enforcement business. That's the job of the Justice Department."

The Justice Department said it would have nothing to say about the specific case except: "We investigate, and have investigated, violations of the Neutrality Act."

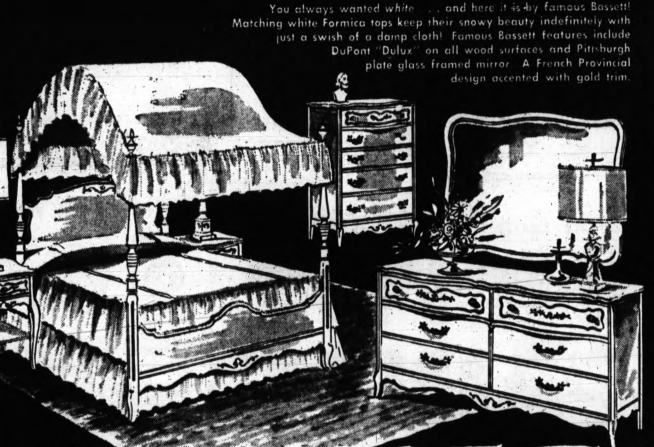

The Neutrality Act forbids anyone from launching an invasion from American soil against countries that are not at war with the United States.

When asked if the Justice Department, in general, would investigate caches of arms in Miami, a spokesman replied: "We can't answer any hypothetical questions."

"We're not in the law enforcement

'Labor Strife Shouldn't Halt Newspapers'

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg says he is confident a means to keep newspapers on the streets during labor disputes will be found "without abridging management's or worker's rights."

He also says the recent 114-day newspaper shutdown in New York City showed that neither publishers nor unions recognized their obligations to continue publishing.

Goldberg, former secretary of labor and before that counsel to the AFL-CIO, gave these opinions last night in addressing the annual tri-state Law Day dinner of the Federal Bar Association of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

He said he wished to remind both sides in the newspaper industry that they are "not engaged in an ordinary manufacturing industry" since "a free press is indispensable to the preservation of democracy under law."

Detroit Bank Executive Dies Day of Retirement

DETROIT (AP) — Victor G. Gersch, 64, assistant vice president of the National Bank of Detroit, died yesterday—the same day he retired.

Gersch, who had been in the banking business since 1913, had been with NBD for 30 years.

Rene Schick Sworn In as Nicaragua President

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Rene Schick has been sworn in as president of Nicaragua, taking the oath of office before a joint session of the national congress in Managua.

Schick was elected to succeed Luis Somoza, son of the late dictator Anastasio Somoza, who was assassinated in 1956.

Philippines' War Claims Spark Battle

WASHINGTON (UPI)—All signs today pointed to a possible fight between the House and Senate over how the United States should pay $73 million in war claims to the Philippines.

The Senate passed by voice vote yesterday a $15-billion supplemental appropriations bill which included a provision for making a lump sum payment to the Philippine government instead of paying the $73 million to individual claimants.

The Senate rejected, 88-26, a proposed substitute by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., which would have retained the original plan to pay individuals but prohibited any money from going to Washington lawyers, lobbyists who once served on the Philippine War Damage Commission.

The measure now goes to a House-Senate Conference Committee. The chief House negotiator, Rep. Albert Thomas, D-Tex., said his thinking was that the claims money should be paid to the Philippine people and not the government.

Thomas said, however, that he would look at the issue "very carefully" and consult with the House-Foreign Affairs Committee.

The second-ranking Democrat on the Foreign Affairs Committee is Rep. Clement J. Zablocki of Wisconsin, original sponsor of the war claims bill who is violently opposed to the Senate move. Zablocki said U.S. taxpayers stood to lose between $12 million and $25 million if the Senate provision prevailed.

Police Find Man Dead, Woman Sick in Home

PORT HURON (AP)—Health officials and city police entered the home of an elderly couple yesterday and found a 77-year-old man dead and his wife too ill to seek help.

Dead is Arson G. Kelch. His wife, Pearl, 73, was taken to the Port Huron Hospital, where officials said she was in fair condition. She is suffering from malnutrition.

'One-Penny' Vacation

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP)—The letter said a weekend vacation for a mother and her two sons will cost one penny. The mother said a prayer was answered.

Phyllis Dark of College Park, Ga., wrote to the Panama City Chamber of Commerce. She had her two sons, 10 and 11, had saved $11 between them out of their allowance during the past year for a vacation in the beach area. What would be the cheapest accommodations be for one day and night?

The chamber answered: One penny, meals and lodging for three included, Friday night through Sunday.

"We have prayed nothing would prevent the trip," she said. "I think the Lord answered our prayers. We are so happy."

Pearson in Talks With British Heads

LONDON (UPI)—New Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson began three days of talks with British leaders today.

The Canadian leader, whose Liberal party ousted Conservative Prime Minister John Diefenbaker in a bitter election contest last month, arrived in London from Toronto yesterday.

Lights Are Turned On for May Day in Warsaw

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—The lights went on again in Warsaw for May Day.

The Polish capital was ablaze Wednesday night with the most light seen since cost supplies ran short and a feverish save-electricity drive was started during the past severe winter.

"The job," he said, "was offered under conditions which in no way limit my freedom to accept employment as a pilot with Continental Airlines when such a job is concretely mine."

The Supreme Court last week ruled in Green's favor in a long legal battle with Continental Airlines. Green had charged the airline refused to hire him because of his race. Green said his attorney advised him Continental has 25 days to file for a rehearing of the unanimous high court decision, which overturned a Colorado Supreme Court ruling.

Green said the bureau job, under civil service, does not pay as well as the commercial airlines. "But money is not the primary concern right now," he said. "When you are unemployed as long as I have been and have a wife and six children, any salary is better than zero," he said.

Search Is Called Off for Pair Lost on Lake

LUDINGTON, Mich. (UPI)—The Coast Guard yesterday called off the search for two men lost and believed drowned in Lake Michigan.

The two, Albert Boertman and Arthur Cramer, disappeared Sunday after departing from Sheboygan, Wis., in a 25-foot cabin cruiser. The boat was found Tuesday 50 miles west of Muskegon.

Reds' Fallout Declines

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Radioactive fallout from Russian nuclear tests appears to be declining throughout the country, the government said yesterday. But Palmer, Alaska, is still receiving a warning-level dose of radioactive iodine.

Planners Ask Street Vacation for Rec Center

The City Planning Commission at its May meeting last night recommended that the city vacate about a half block of Walnut at the old water works site to clear the way for a new recreation center.

The recommendation to vacate Walnut from Wessen south to the end of Walnut will go to the City Commission for action next week. That portion of the street is surrounded by city property. Vacating it would permit better use of the land in planning the recreation and swimming pool facility.

50-Cent Investment Nets 800 Dollars

PISTOIA, Italy (AP)—A young local coin collector found a bronze coin in the wheelbarrow of a junk dealer. He bought it for 500 lira (fifty cents).

Specialists said the coin was minted in the Fifth Century B. C. and was worth half a million lira ($500).

The lucky buyer was Moreno Diddi, a 20-year-old carpenter in this north Italian town who collects coins for a hobby.

The junk dealer said he had found the coin near an abandoned airport.

Italian Fire Damage Runs Into Thousands

LA SPEZIA, Italy (UPI)—Fire destroyed thousands of dollars worth of pine woods, olive groves and crops near here yesterday. Five fire-fighting teams plus naval personnel and local farmers of this Italian Riviera port area helped fight the flames.

Dies in 2-Car Crash

MARYSVILLE (AP)—Mrs. Elva Brown, 53, of nearby St. Clair Township, was killed yesterday in a two-car collision in this St. Clair County Community. A car driven by her husband, Byron, 55, collided with another at the intersection of Gratiot Street and M29.

The highway department said bids will be opened June 6 for construction of the center, to be located in a roadside park. Both the center and the park will be completed by fall.

Sanford Proves He Can Finish Job

By The Associated Press
Jack Sanford slapped down some impressive statistics when he talked contract with the San Francisco Giants this spring, such as a 24-7 won-lost record, including 16 in a row, a World Series shutout and a strong playoff effort.

But Jack, said the management in an effort to keep the price down, you didn't finish what you started.

WIN STREAK

There was a point there. Sanford started 29 games during his winning streak and completed only six, and had just 13 complete games in 38 starts for the season.

Jack came to terms after a brief holdout, and set out this season to eliminate that talking point. Wednesday night he threw his third complete game of the young season, a 5-1 seven-hitter over the Pittsburgh Pirates, for his fourth victory. It snapped a four-game Pirates' winning streak and showed the Giants into third place in the National League, only two games out of first.

The four-game winning streak of the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals was also snapped. Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs, always a terror in St. Louis, did most of the damage in a 13-8 Cub victory.

Banks entered the game hitting .222, with two homers and six runs batted in. He crashed two three-run homers and drove another run with a single. Now his homer total is four, his RBI total 13 and his batting average .247.

In the only other National League game, Jerry Lynch slammed the 13th pinch-hit homer of his career for a 4-3 Cincinnati victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

The Houston at New York and Los Angeles at Philadelphia games were rained out. The Colts and Mets played three innings before the rains came with the Colts on top 1-0.

While Sanford was establishing his new route-going pattern, his Giants mates were working on a new winning habit of their own. They are now 6-1 on the road and only 6-8 at home. Last year on their way to the pennant they had a 42-41 mark on the road, and were 61-21 in friendly Candelstick Park.

There's no letup in making the Buick Open golf tournament one of the top attractions on the golf circuit each year.

Few years back, the $50,000 purse was one of the best on the tour. Today, very few tournaments can talk terms in anything less than this amount.

Rather than just adding money to the purse, tournament officials are looking for ways to add new features to lure spectators and average golfers into the picture.

When Buick Open officials announced the $100,000-enter-and-park setup a few seasons ago, the fans flocked to Warwick Hills in record numbers.

Now, in an indirect way, the tournament itself is being made available to non-tournament players and weekend golfers across the country.

The feature of this year's tournament, June 6-9, will be the Buick Open Sweepstakes, to be held Saturday June 7th.

FOR GOLF FANS

Golf fans will qualify themselves by pre-registering at auto dealerships around the country. Those selected will team with one of 15 golf pros.

These pros will be the 15 leaders after 36 holes of the tournament.

They will drive for the 17th hole, a 155 yarder from a special built tee, since PGA rules forbid practice shots from championship tees during a tournament. The hole is normally 222 yards, and last year Jerry Barber's hole-in-one was actually filmed here and earned him a brand new car.

The prizes for the sweepstakes will be $50,000 for a hole-in-one; $15,000 for the closest ball for the hole; $7,500 down to $250 for the other closest shots and $100 for each pro who doesn't score.

The pro and his golf-fan partner will split the winnings down the middle.

If the pro should drop in all three of his shots, unlikely but not impossible, he would get $50,000 for each ace to be split equally.

Figuring out all possible combinations of hole-in-ones and close golf shots by he and his partner, one pair could win as much as $177,500 or $88,750 apiece. Again, this is unlikely, but it will certainly draw the golfers to give it a least try.

The Buick Open Sweepstakes will be received a full hour of national television, and then on Sunday June 9th another one and a half hours of the tournament finale will get national telecasting.

Another feature to dress up the

Hills Posts W-O Victory

Bloomfield Hills, Capac and Armada posted league triumphs yesterday in prep baseball action.

In non-league contests, Emmanuel Christian took St. Frederick's 8-1, and Cranbrook took Ferndale 8-6.

The Barons blasted Clarenceville 12-1, in a Wayne-Oakland League game by scoring seven runs in the fourth, 10-1. The kept up the barrage by adding two spots in the second and third.

A three-run triple by starting hurler John Augusten was the big first inning blow. Doubles by Mike Miller, Bruce Perkins and Dick Janz helped the attack in the first three frames.

SHUTOUT

In a Southern Thumb League game, Capac remained the class of the circuit by whipping Brown City under the lights, 10-0. The one-hit shutout was carved by right-hander Gerald Withum who fanned 15.

Ken Kobayashi had a single, winning hurler.

NBA Officials Vote Kennedy for President

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Basketball Association has followed the widespread trend by picking a vigorous new leader in a move to consolidate its status as a major sport. J. Walter Kennedy, 49-year-old mayor of Stamford, Conn., is the man.

Kennedy will take over Sept. 1 when 73-year-old Maurice Podoloff retires. Podoloff has guided the league through its many twists and turns over the last 17 years.

Dealing with the nine owners has taxed Podoloff's ingenuity at times. Undoubtedly it also will give Kennedy his share of headaches. However, at a reported $35,000 a year, Kennedy isn't worried.

"I do not anticipate any more differences with the nine men than I had as mayor of a city of 100,000 people," said Kennedy.

Webb Traded to Cleveland for Tackle

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions made a move to bolster the defensive tackle spot vacated when Alex Karras was suspended by securing Floyd Peters from the Cleveland Browns in a trade for fullback Ken Webb today.

Peters, from San Francisco State, will enter his fifth season in the National Football League. Webb, from Presbyterian, was a with the Lions for the first five seasons.

Coach George Wilson said the Lions traded for Peters to help fill the gap opened when commissioner Pete Rozelle indefinitely suspended Karras in his NFL probe of gambling.

"The recent suspension of Karras left us short in the defensive line," Wilson said.

Wilson said Peters, a 255-pounder, would battle second-year man Mike Bundra for the open, left tackle berth.

Yanks Avoid Pan-Am Track Disaster

SAO PAULO, Brazil, (AP) — Only Yankee strategy which sprung loose a building, Irish-bred mite, and a high-flying Sooner with iron muscles kept American track men from a Black Wednesday disaster in the Pan-American Games.

Amidst explosion of four Pan-Am records in five men's events contested Wednesday, 5-foot-4, 125-pound Pete McArdle, a 34-year-old New York mechanic, soundly trounced Argentina's defending 10,000-meter champion, Osvaldo Suarez, and Oklahoma's J. D. Martin won the decathlon in record-breaking style.

NO MEDALS HERE

Otherwise, the Yankees were belted out of the gold medal picture in three of their specialties—the 200-meter sprint, 800-meter run and the 400-meter hurdles—by a Venezuelan, a Canadian and an Argentine.

The track and field forces rested today, awaiting the final 10 men's and four women's events Friday and Saturday. Despite Wednesday's reverses, the big Yankee all-sports battalion counted a whopping total of 76 gold medals with a lot more to come.

McArdle's victory, which came after Canada's Don Bertola stormed to a record 800-meter triumph and Venezuela's Rafael Romero Sandres won the 200-meter in a photo finish, ruined Suarez' bid for a third successive Pan-Am crown.

McArdle's clocking of 29 minutes, 52.1 seconds broke the Pan-Am record of 30:17.2 set by Suarez in Chicago in 1959.

Decathlon winner Martin, poker-faced, former pole-vault champion from the university of Oklahoma, used his specialty to wrap up the grueling, two-day, 10-event contest.

Martin collected 1,122 vital points by clearing 14 feet, 11 1/4 inches, and wrecked the bid of the first day leader, Venezuela's

Hector Martinez, and Canadian champion, Doug Gairdner. The Javelin and 1,500-meter run, last two events, didn't make any difference to Martin, who just went through the motions in both.

The day's fourth record—in addition to Bertola's 1:48.3 win in the 800—was a surprise 50.2 triumph in the 400-meter hurdles by Argentina's Juan Dyrka. He beating, won the 200-meter sprint in the USA's favored Willie Atter-berry by two-tenths of a second. In the only women's final, the USA's Vivian Brown, who set a Pan-Am mark of 23.8 in qualifying, won the 200-meter sprint in the USA's favored Willie Atter-

U.S. Skippers Get Financial Backing

By WM. TAYLOR MCKEOWN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

An association has been set up to see that America's top sailors take part in international competition.

The Iron Curtain countries particularly have been giving their Olympic Games skippers government aid and subsidies. They believe winning a gold medal afloat or ashore is important politically.

American helmsmen, however, are amateurs who sail for the fun of it.

We have been notably successful so far in finishing ahead of the sail-for-salary boys, but United States teams have to travel abroad on their own.

In the past, the best skippers could not always afford the expense.

The result is the United States International Sailing Association. Already the group has seen to it that stateside skippers sailed for the Olympics in Italy in 1960 and other world championships abroad.

GOALS

Present goals are to ship full American sailing teams, along with all their boats, to the Pan American Games in Brazil this summer, and off to the Olympics in Japan next year.

Stars, Lightnings, Snipes, Finns, Flying Dutchmen, Dragons and 5.5 Meter classes will go to South America.

Membership in the U.S.I.S.A. is open to interested sportsmen, according to President Henry S. Morgan.

Dues are $5 a year for juniors under 18, $18 for associate membership and larger sums are received for advanced classifications.

In addition to Commodore Morgan, the trustees include Bob Bavie, Britton Chance, Henry du Pont, Commodore George Hinman, Bob Mosbacher and Dooley Roosevelt. The membership roll reads like a roster of famous American yachtsmen.

The money goes to U.S.I.S.A., 37 West 44th Street, New York, in the New York Yacht Club home of the famed The America's Cup.

And though our government does not pay our winning yachtsmen, it allows dues and contributions to the U. S. International Sailing Association as income tax deductions.

Hoffa Going Continental? It's Among Teamsters' Goals

A. Never, because we couldn't win it. We'd never strike more than half because we know the competitive nature of transportation. That's why we've been able to make our strikes work. Because we know this business.

Put on the light look: the lighter shadings that say Summer '63... the lightweight coolness of finespun imported fabrics... the easy comfort of Hart Schaffner & Marx "total lightness" tailoring. If you're used to fine custom tailoring, you'll know at once why the HSM 100 suit sells for $100 and is worth every cent of it.

Open-Mouthed Gum Chewers Are Atrocious

By PHYLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK — It has been proven, through agonizing surveys of Americans, that the most loathsome sound to the average ear is that of a spoon scraping across the bottom of a pan.

I agree that this is a nerve-shattering. But as terrible as it sounds, go it. BATTELLE has its merit: It is quick and temporary. No housewife who accidentally commits such a crime against the eardrums allows herself to repeat the action.

Far more insidious, then, is the second most atrocious sound known to man — the snap, crackle and pop of the open-mouthed gum-chewer.

This common species of the human family (it's almost never male) is most commonly found nesting next to you in the theatre, the bus, the subway. Unfortunately, it is illegal to shoot it.

Hildegard — the incomparable — is a very sweet person, and people who like very sweet persons may want to buy her new book, "After 50 — So What?"

In it she gives the only possible defense for wild, over-enthusiastic gum-chewing.

She confesses that she, herself, chews, "to exercise away mouth wrinkles."

But she does it only, of course, in private. Distorting your mouth in public, even for purely therapeutic effect, is about as ladylike as creaming your face, donning your leotards and perpetrating push-ups in Times Square!

EXECUTIVE THEORY

Speaking of ears, which remotely we were, a business consultant in France has come out with a theory: he claims that the way an industry can be assured of picking a reliable executive is by comparing the length of the applicant's ear and thumb.

A good executive will almost always, the expert says, have thumbs that are as long as his ears.

President Wins Victory on Jobs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy won a tough legislative victory yesterday when the Senate defeated a Republican move to cut his public works program for areas of chronic unemployment.

The Senate rejected, 60-36, a move by Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., to cut $200 million from the $450 million provided for the program in a $1.5-billion appropriations bill.

The big money bill later was passed by voice vote and sent to a House-Senate Conference Committee.

The program was in trouble just a few weeks ago. The House Appropriations Committee refused to vote any of the $500 million originally sought by the President.

Kennedy issued a strong appeal, and the House then put back all but $50 million.

Woman Dean Expires

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cathryn Sackler-Hudson, 61, dean of American University's school of government and public administration, died Wednesday of cancer.

Castro Pix on Stamps

MOSCOW (AP) — A new set of Soviet commemorative stamps dedicated to visiting Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba was issued this week.

number of acquaintances and have yet to find anybody who would NOT make a good executive.

The upshot of this is that I now have a lot of frustrated acquaintances who think the world owes them an executive suit.

They are not comforted in the least by a story Sam Levenson told me about a high school teacher who, after writing laudatory letters of recommendations to colleges for her students, received this request from a university:

"We have enough leaders. Can't you send us one good follower?"

There is a story in the May Good Housekeeping titled "How Motherhood Changed Princess Margaret."

It opens with a description of a day in Margaret's life. She is having luncheon at an elegant west end restaurant. Over coffee, she studies a paper and decides she will go to a movie.

After the movie she goes home to see her 18-month-old son David, and greet her husband coming in from the office.

Two hours later, in full evening dress, she and her husband leave for a banquet — "well away," the story relates, "from work, movies and babies."

ONE GREAT FEAR

The reporter goes on to state that Margaret's one great fear is to appear "mumish." But "such fears appear groundless. Already her small dinner parties — never more than 12 people — are famous in London."

The princess is described as hating to see people "making a fuss over the baby." When a friend asked what she hoped the baby would attain in adulthood, she is said to have replied unsmiling, "my looks and his father's camera."

She tries to wheel the baby for a walk once a week whenever possible, she is home for his inattentions; but "she has not yet turned down a single invitation because of the baby," although "on three occasions she has hurriedly left a party when her son appeared to be ill."

After reading of the "changes" in Princess Margaret since motherhood, we figured that the most remarkable one was giving up long cigarette holders in public.

Chrysler Negotiates With Firm in Greece

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiation with a company in Greece, which has been producing vehicles for use in underdeveloped areas, was confirmed yesterday by Chrysler Corp.

The company declined to elaborate on its purposes or expectations. The vehicle, called the "armobil," has a two-cylinder 35-horsepower engine, weighs about 1,300 pounds and sells for $1,100. Mass production — only 75 units are built each month at present — could cut the price to $800.

U.N. Delegates See Astronauts

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Twenty-five United Nations delegates — on an eight-day tour of Texas visited with a pair of astronauts Wednesday.

They were told about problems of manned space flights to the moon by the astronauts, Capt. Thomas P. Stafford and Edward H. White.

One delegate asked if the flight could be accomplished without risking men.

"I feel very strongly that the only way to bring back the type of information we need is by sending people up," Stafford said.

Aid to Thailand to Be Slashed?

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Changes are contemplated in the U.S. aid program.

Thanasit Khomant told newsmen he was understood Thailand might get about $10 million in technical aid, a spokesman for the U.S. State Department said, as opposed to the $25-$30 million-level of past years. He emphasized there had been no official communication from the United States to this effect.

If the reports were true, he said, Thailand is prepared to rely on its own resources but added some development projects may have to be delayed.

Selectmen Nix Request From Damaged Driver

BOLTON, Conn. (AP)—The board of selectmen last night rejected Richard Morra's request for $100 damages because a towed vehicle backed into his truck.

The board, said the town's vehicle was driven by Morra.

Road Officials Pursue Change in Route Name

LANSING (AP)—The State Highway Department reports it will make every effort to change the route number of the freeway from Grand Rapids to Muskegon from its present I-196 designation to I-96.

The Detroit-Muskegon freeway is known as I-96 from Detroit to Grand Rapids, where the number changes to I-196 for the remaining distance to Muskegon.

Commissioner John Mackie said he never has been satisfied with this numbering arrangement and will make a formal request to the Route Numbering Committee of the American Association of State Highway Officials for the change.

OK Pay to Thresher Kin

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The labor department has approved payments averaging $436 a month to families of civilian federal employees who died aboard the submarine Thresher.

Teen-Age Dances Defy Togetherness

LOUISVILLE (AP)—Togetherness is certainly not the trend in teen-age dancing. Not only do the partners stand apart from each other, they don't always "think" together.

"What," one couple was asked at a recent dance here, "the name of that thing you all were doing?"

"The Scoot," said she.

"The Waddle," said he.

And the dancers were more surprised at the nonunanimous answers than their interrogator was!

Film 'Greatest Story' in Barren Nevada Desert

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

PYRAMID LAKE, Nev. — The Paiute Indians have a name for it — Evil Land.

Nothing but the scrubbiest of brush grows here. The flat desert land slopes gently to the placid, deep-blue lake.

The planiness of the landscape is relieved by dramatic outcroppings of rock and bulbous, monolithic mounds created by eons of mineral springs.

George Stevens chose this barren place to depict ancient Capernaum beside the Sea of Galilee. Here he is nearing the end of filming what is planned as his masterpiece, "The Greatest Story Ever Told."

It will be the most expensive film ever made entirely in the United States. The projected cost was $10 million; the finished product may double that.

ERECT CITY

A small city has been erected on this dismal plain. Three hundred film workers are housed in luxury trailers, rented from an Air Force contractor in Idaho, and in aluminum-sided shacks, built from the floor up.

Huge tents contain the mess hall — the food is well above average for film locations — wardrobe and makeup departments and theater.

The logistics of the human acrobats who portray the come and go, and their availability is more complex. Max Von Sydow, who plays Jesus, and the other performers schedules.

HOLY LAND IN NEVADA — A dismal plain at Pyramid Lake, Nev., 60 miles from Reno, is the location for "The Greatest Story Ever Told," George Stevens' film on the life of Christ now nearing completion. Its final cost will run close to $20 million. Here workers prepare a scene alongside a lake depicting the Sea of Galilee.

Standing by at this location were Joseph Schildkraut, Sal Mineo and Shelley Winters.

PROBLEM

One cast problem was presented by Joanna Dunham, the English actress who plays Mary Magdalene. The scenes of her stoning were being hurried because she is eight months pregnant.

Busts of extras, some of them card dealers, are brought each morning from Reno, 60 miles away. Others are recruited from the ranks of the Paiutes, on whose reservation Pyramid Lake stands. Costumes and makeup were required for 350 Israelites, Roman soldiers and other atmosphere people.

The cost of all this — an estimated $75,000 per day. When some of those days are blustery or rainy, not a foot of the movie is filmed.

"The Greatest Story" has hit bad weather in its locations in Utah, Arizona and Nevada.

The winter shooting had been a calculated risk by Stevens. He wanted the dramatic effect of the slanting winter sun on the Western landscapes. A resolute man as well as a perfectionist, he gets what he wants.

Graham Says 'No Interest in Political Spot'

MONTREUX, Switzerland (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham said today he is not interested in any political office.

Graham was commenting on a report by the Dallas Times Herald that oil millionaire H. L. Hunt is thinking of supporting him for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

Hunt later said he did not favor anyone for the nomination and said it wasn't likely the evangelist has political ambitions.

"I have a much bigger job as preacher of the gospel than any political office in the world," Graham said. "I intend to continue preaching the gospel as the Lord gives me breath."

Graham is here for the wedding tomorrow of his daughter Virginia to Stephan Tchividjian, son of a Swiss financier.

Reappearance of 4 Drawings Leads to Global Controversy

NEW YORK (AP)—Four pen and pencil drawings by Paul Cezanne, the late French artist, bought for $30 each and now worth up to $5,000 apiece, have become the center of an international controversy.

An American artist disclosed some complications, which have mysterious aspects.

The drawings had been the property of the Louvre Museum in Paris. Last November they fell into the hands of the FBI. But during the last eight years that they were missing, the Louvre reportedly did not even know they were gone.

SECOND ASPECT

That's one aspect of the mystery. The other is: How did they disappear from the Louvre in the first place?

The FBI says it is investigating, but will give no details. The American artist who disclosed the matter, Harry Jackson, 39, a native of Meeteetse, Wyo., says he purchased the drawings for $30 each in September, 1954, from a man he believed to be the caretaker of the Cezanne Studio, made into a little art museum in Aix-en-Provence, France.

'GIVEN TO FATHER'

Jackson said the man claimed his father once worked for Cezanne and that the painter had given him the drawings.

Last November, Jackson, living in New York, decided to sell three of the drawings and keep one for himself.

Art historian John Rewald of New York, appraising the drawings to find out if they were indeed Cezanne's, called the Louvre and substantiated that the four were missing, without the museum's knowledge.

Rewald called the FBI, which has the four sketches.

Jackson wants them back. The Louvre also wants them back.

No court action has been brought yet, and the FBI says no arrests have been made.

To Use Huge Balloons

LOS ANGELES (U)—A scientist, Dr. Eugene B. Konecny, says the United States is planning to use huge balloons to float men for 30 days or more in sealed capsules at up to 100,000 feet to test life support systems for future spacecraft.

The United States Treasury collects nearly a quarter of a million dollars in tobacco taxes every hour — day and night. In addition, states, cities and counties collect another one-eighth of a million dollars from tobacco, a million hours around the clock.

School Bus Flips, Injuring 38 Students

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—A school bus overturned near Greensboro Wednesday, injuring 38 of the 48 Negro students aboard.

Seven of those injured required hospitalization, but none was reported in serious condition. The others were treated and released. The bus skidded while making a 90-degree turn and went over a 15-foot bank, overturning. The student driver, Arthur Daniel Gee, 16, told policemen the brakes failed.

75,000 People

Fail to File for 15 Pct. Tax Cut

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—The Colorado Legislature approved a 15 percent cut in personal income taxes this year, effective with the 1962 returns.

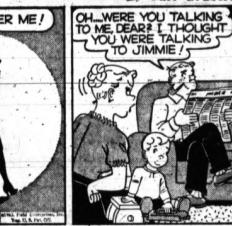

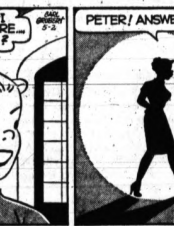

But a state official says 75,000 persons failed to take advantage of the cut. "We are absolutely unable to explain it," said Harold Drake, deputy state director of revenue. Drake said the 75,000 taxpayers will get refunds as soon as state auditors refigure their returns.

Ken writes, "I don't suppose you approve of my partner's heart response, his pass to one spade, or his double of two hearts, but we wound up with a top score."

I don't approve of the one heart response. East should respond one diamond since there is no future for his side in hearts unless West can bid the suit. Then East might have tried one-trump instead of a pass. Finally his double of two hearts against any defense, but now see what happened to South.

Nix Injunction for Rail Union

PORT HURON (P)—These federal judges yesterday denied an interim injunction sought by the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employees to halt any laying off of employees in the consolidation of the Baltimore & Ohio and the Chesapeake and Ohio rail ways.

Three other brotherhoods intervened in the action.

The decision followed a hearing in the federal courtroom of Judge Clifford O'Sullivan.

The hearing, preliminary to a lawsuit May 21 in the same courtroom, was conducted by Judges James T. Thornton and Stephen J. Roth of the Eastern District of Michigan, and Judge O'Sullivan of the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals, Cincinnati, Ohio.

In effect, the judges continued the restraining order issued by Judge Thornton in Federal Court in February following approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission which permitted the two roads to consolidate, subject to review by the three-judge panel.

Recommends Cut in Credits

EAST LANSING (P)—Michigan State University's academic council has recommended lowering the number of credits required for a bachelor's degree from 192 to 180, eliminating credits formerly required in physical education and ROTC.

The recommendation, which must be approved by the university's board of trustees before taking effect, would bring MSU into line with the standard used by many universities on the quarter system.

BLOSSOM QUEEN — Gerri Ann Gliddon, 18, of Mat-tawan, was chosen queen of southwestern Michigan's Blossom Festival at a contest in Benton Harbor.

Would Up Teachers' Pay

Mill Hike on Waterford Ballot

A 2½ mill tax levy to raise the teacher salary schedule was approved last night by the Waterford Township Board of Education.

This proposed millage hike, along with a one-half mill increase spread over 30 years for school construction and an additional 2½ mills for operation of these proposed new facilities, will appear on the June 10 ballot.

In addition to this six-mill package, voters will also elect two board members in the school election.

The proposed teacher salary schedule increase, approved unanimously by the school board, specifies a $4,900 salary for a beginning teacher with a bachelor's degree and a rate of $5,133 for a new teacher with a masters degree.

Under the present schedule, beginning teachers with four-year training receive $4,750 and those holding a masters degree receive $4,900.

CALED NECESSARY

Dr. Don O. Tatroe, Supt. of Schools, called the adoption of the proposed new schedule necessary if the school system is to maintain a competitive position with other county districts.

The 2½-mill levy would raise $225,000 locally based on estimated revenue of $90,000 per mill on present valuations. Approximately $45,000 per mill in distressed state aid would also be received, bringing the total revenue to finance the pay boost to $377,500.

Waterford Township's current teacher pay schedule is about at the average of the county's 29 school systems, according to Dr. Tatroe.

A teacher pay schedule boost last August, financed by state aid funds over and above budgeted expectations, was designed

TV Psychiatry Poses Problem

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — During the current television season, there has been one hour-long dramatic program, "11th Hour," focusing on the problems of mental illness and the mentally ill, but all of the medical shows have frequently moved into that area.

Next season, there will be a second entertainment program about psychiatry, "Breaking Point," and if that is popular with audiences, there will undoubtedly be others by 1965. Meanwhile, there is real concern about this "entertainment" treatment of the delicate subject, particularly among psychiatrists and psychologists.

HOLD MEETING

Last month broadcasting representatives met with mental health professionals for two days at West Point, N.Y., to try to find a way to eliminate some trouble spots.

Will Permit Table-Hopping at Waldorf Party for JFK

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — President Kennedy and Jackie will adorn the Waldorf-Astoria Empire Room . . . Vice President Johnson and Ladybird will sit across the lobby in the Serf Room . . . and then they'll swap rooms . . . and begin table-hopping at a 40th birthday dinner dance for JFK on Thursday night, May 23.

Six days ahead of the President's birthday, it'll be very, very exclusive . . . probably pretty expensive, too . . . and the Park Avenue entrance will be closed to all but the Kennedy guests. There'll be a glamorous reception for JFK's death at the Grand Foyer chandeliers.

By coincidence, the Iron and Steel Industry will be having its dinner the same night in the Grand Ballroom, in case they want to wish each other happiness. Ray Bolger was in his suite at the new Athens Hilton Hotel in Greece, when his wife Gwen said, "You can't mail that!" He'd written to his mother-in-law, Edna Faye Richard, who lives with the Bolgers in Los Angeles. "Dear Edna: I'm sitting her looking at the ancient ruins and thinking of you."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Dick Gregory, who wasn't graduated from Illinois Southern, has been asked to be a trustee . . . Aileen Pagan says she and Red Button'll wed next January, when his divorce is final . . . Lionel ("O'Hair"), Bart is starting a new style-his vest has sleeves, his suit jacket hasn't . . . Chuck ("The Rifleman") Connors bought into a San Francisco model agency . . . Maestro Stan Kenton reassembled a big band again, planning a "farewell" cross-country tour.

Asks Rule Review of Prison Guard Job

LANSING (P) — A comprehensive review of employment rules for prison guards will be requested by State Corrections Director Gus Harrison.

The director said yesterday he will ask the State Civil Service Commission to make the review. Harrison said he believes retirement age requirements for guards should be made similar to such requirements for state policemen.

While present Corrections Department rules set the retirement age at 70, state policemen may retire after 25 years of service and must retire at 56.

Canada Island Covered With Flood Waters

HAY RIVER, North West Territories (AP)—Flood waters from the ice-choked Hay River covered three-fourths of this island town of 1,800 today.

Between 80 and 100 women and children were flown out Wednesday night.

About 800 persons took refuge in a school located in the Great Slave Lake. But ice flows on the river made flood waters from the spring runoff back up over the town.

Mayor W. R. MacBryan said food supplies were sufficient but reported growing shortages of drinking water and fuel.

Tiny Laos Improbable Spot for East-West Tug-of-War

By ROY ESSOYAN
VIENTIANE, Laos, (AP)—Laos is one of those improbable never-never lands. Only a few years ago, it might have been the country least likely to be caught in an east-west tug-of-war.

The 2 1/2 million people of Laos, mixture of tribes and minority groups, would never have cast a vote themselves mainly because 85 per cent are illiterate. Most have never heard of democracy or communism, many don't know the name of their prime minister and some have never heard of the name Laos.

Laos is the size of Great Britain but two-thirds of its tangled jungle and rugged mountains are inaccessible except to tribesmen. There are no railroads, no highways in the modern sense and few roads suitable for trucks or cars.

You travel by jungle path or plane.

PEACE LOVING
Laotians have been frequently described as peace loving. This applies to the ordinary Lao who is gentle, easygoing and fun-loving. It has not always applied to royal families that have ruled him for centuries.

King Savang Vatthana, the meditative 55-year-old figurehead ruler of Laos, once told a Western ambassador "Laos is not really a national community."

According to Lao legend, all Laotians came out of a pumpkin thousands of years ago. They are all related, and like some relatives they, or their princely leaders, have been squabbling for centuries.

The rest of the world paid little attention to them until about 19 days around the turn of the century, the French used Laos as a hunting preserve.

The French tired of the sport and under pressure from nationalist and pro-Communist forces they pulled out.

GENEVA AGREEMENT
The Geneva agreement of 1954 gave Laos its independence.

The United States moved in with advice and assistance to fill the political vacuum and Laos became a pawn between the East and West.

The United States has put $400 million into Laos since 1955, first in an effort to create a pro-Western bastion in the heart of Southeast Asia, and recently in an attempt to salvage a neutral buffer between East and West. It has been a losing game.

Three years ago the Communists held the two northernmost provinces. Today they control two-thirds of the country.

The United States appears to be following a policy of buying time, mainly because the alternatives are even less palatable.

They are. Cut your losses and pull out entirely, handing Laos over to the Communists, or pour in arms and possibly American troops and risk a major Southeast Asian war.

The importance of land-locked Laos is in the heart of Southeast Asia. It is a buffer state between Red China and North Viet Nam in the north and anti-Communist Thailand and South Viet Nam in the southwest and southeast.

If Laos falls to the Communists, Thailand and South Viet Nam will be immediately threatened.

PRO-WEST RULERS
Pro-Western governments ruled Laos from the time it became independent until August 1960 except for a brief and abortive experiment in integrated government in 1958.

On Aug. 9, 1960, a young and apparently dedicated paratroop captain named Kong Le overthrew the then pro-Western government. Kong Le said he was disgusted with years of corruption and civil war, proclaimed himself a neutralist and called for an end to the fighting and withdrawal of all foreign troops.

Prince Souvanna Phouma, a soft-spoken, pipe-smoking politician who has always pictured neutrality as the only hope for peace in Laos, took over the government.

Civil war broke out when right-wing Gen. Phoumi Nosavan set up a rebel headquarters in the south and with American support drove Souvanna and Kong Le out of Vientiane in December 1960.

Kong Le joined the pro-Communist Pathet Lao and set up headquarters in the Plain des Jarres, the most important military focal point in north-central Laos, 110 miles northeast of Vientiane. The Pathet Lao regrouped and, backed by Soviet, Red Chinese and North Vietnamese supplies and assistance, started pushing again, inflicting several defeats on Phoumi's larger but not so well organized forces.

A cease fire was proclaimed last July with the signing of the Geneva agreement forming a coalition government in Laos.

POSITION WEAKENED
By this time the Communists controlled so much of Laos that the bargaining power of the neutralists and West had been gravely weakened.

Under the truce-type coalition, Souvanna returned as neutralist premier. Souvanna's half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong, a pro-Communist prince of royal blood, and anti-Communist Phoumi Nosavan became deputy premiers.

The pro-Communist Pathet Lao and neutralist Kong Le's forces assumed joint control of the Plain des Jarres, a 3,000-foot plateau ringed by peaks rising another two to three thousand feet.

Disension soon ripped the ties between Kong Le and the Pathet Lao.

After a series of assassinations and other incidents the Pathet Lao broke the cease-fire agreement March 3, pushed Kong Le off the eastern perimeter of the Plain des Jarres and assumed control over supply routes between Communist North Viet Nam and Communist Viet Cong rebels operating in South Viet Nam.

The Communists have made no move to bite off any fresh territory since they agreed to a cease fire April 21. But that was the third cease fire in as many weeks. They shattered the first two and the third one has been shored up by daily exchanges of fire.

It is generally believed that at best, current negotiations will patch up temporarily the fragile structure of the coalition government which has, after a fashion, ruled Laos since July 1962.

Romney Gets Favorite-Son Boost for President

ONE COLOR
MAKE OVER/PAGES

WASHINGTON (U) — Republican members of Congress from Michigan are backing Gov. George Romney as a favorite-son candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination. Rep. Gerald Ford said he hopes the 48-member Michigan delegation to the party's 1964 convention will give Romney, Michigan's first GOP governor in 14 years, the same backing.

Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County, said he believes Romney should have the Michigan delegation's endorsement as a favorite-son candidate "although it is a little premature to consider him for president."

Broomfield expressed hope that Romney will hold himself off as a serious candidate for the White House at least until 1968. "He has the qualifications for being an excellent candidate, but the people of Michigan need him greatly now," Broomfield said. "As of now, it would be a mistake to push him too fast."

Meanwhile, Mrs. J. Willard Marriott termed "ridiculous" reports that a reception in her home today for Romney is a quiet effort to push him as a possible Republican presidential candidate. "ON CHRISTMAS LIST" Mrs. Marriott, the Republican national committeewoman for the District of Columbia, said most of the names of the 300 guests invited to the reception were "taken from my Christmas list."

The Michigan governor has said repeatedly he is not and will not be a candidate for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination. The New York Times in a Washington dispatch said Romney would be "quietly put forward" as a potential candidate at the reception today. The Times story said the reception was organized by Mrs. Marriott, Leonard W. Hall, former Republican national chairman, and J. Clifford Folger, twice the chairman of the GOP's National Finance Committee. But Mrs. Marriott said the reception was strictly her own and added, "It has nothing to do at

Royal Oak Attorney Speaks at Courthouse

It's a system of law such as America's that makes possible a society with the seemingly contradictory qualities of "equality and individuality," said Royal Oak attorney James Renfrew.

He spoke yesterday at a County Courthouse ceremony observing Law Day, U.S.A., America's answer to the Soviet Union's celebration of May Day on May 1.

Mrs. David Pence of Pontiac, head of Lawyers' Wives of Michigan, also spoke at the ceremony before a full house in the courtroom of Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem. Circuit Judge William J. Beer presided.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams presented awards to three winners of a Law Day poster contest among high school students.

Winners were Michael Bright of Rochester High School, 1st; Michael Koski, Southfield High School, 2nd; and Patricia Devine, Shrine of the Little Flower High School, 3rd.

New County Judges May Be Named Soon

By JIM DYRGENT

Although Oakland County will not get its two new Circuit judges before September, their identity may well be known by the end of May.

Gov. George Romney is expected to name his appointees to the new vacancies soon after signing into law the bill creating them.

And indications are that Romney may sign the bill, approved by both houses of the State Legislature, some time next week.

RANDALL R. RUPPRECHT

Boat Overturns, Youth Drowns

A late evening boat ride on Elizabeth Lake in Waterford Township turned into tragedy last night when the craft overturned and one of the four young people aboard drowned.

The body of Randall R. Rupprecht, 19, of 2069 Dexter, Pontiac Township, was recovered shortly before 6 a. m. today, nine hours after the accident.

The youth's companions, Margaret Stuart, 16, 801 Mt. Clemens St.; Jeanette Duengel, 15, 577 Lowe, and Ronald Goldworthy, 17, 795 Lyle, Waterford Township, were treated for shock at Pontiac General Hospital.

Goldworthy told sheriff deputies that his boat tipped when Rupprecht and the Stuart girl attempted to trade places.

Rupprecht's body is at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

But, the sooner Romney announces his choices, the more mercurial it will be for a number of county hopefuls for the posts — which may be why the governor will not keep them too long in suspense.

Leading prospects for the appointments, according to a number of observers, are attorneys James S. Thorburn of Royal Oak and Philip Pratt of Pontiac. Thorburn is currently president, and Pratt is a past president, of the Oakland County Bar Association.

Thorburn and Pratt, however, are not the only names in the speculation. A total of 10 already are slated for review next Tuesday.

Japan Doubts China Claim of Torpedoing

Blame Sunken Reef for Ship's Sinking Off Coast of Korea

TOKYO (U) — Japanese government and shipping officials expressed doubt today of claims by Chinese sailors that their freighter, the pride of Communist China's merchant fleet, was torpedoed and sunk by an unidentified submarine in the East China Sea.

The Japanese tended to blame the sinking on a submerged reef off South Korea or floating mines which Red China laid during the Korean War.

A Navy spokesman said no Japanese or American submarines were in the area when the freighter met disaster.

The ship was the 11,482-ton Yue Jin Ho (Leap Forward), making an inaugural trade voyage to Japan with 14,000 tons of corn and other products.

Relaying a report from Japanese rescuers, Japanese maritime officials said the Chinese crewmen claimed their ship was followed by a sub for four hours yesterday and was hit by three torpedoes at about 1:15 p.m. 120 miles southwest of South Korea's Cheju Island.

The crewmen said they took to three lifeboats about four hours later when the ship, the first large ocean-going freighter built by Communist China, went down.

A Japanese fishing boat picked up the captain and 58 crewmen. At Red China's request the Japanese patrol ship Koshiki took them aboard and headed for the Communist port of Shanghai. None of the Chinese was reported injured.

Billy Hoffa Refuses to Testify

Teamster boss James Hoffa's brother took the Fifth Amendment five times yesterday as a witness in the trial of fellow Pontiac Teamster Floyd B. Harmon on charges of embezzlement and falsifying union records.

Billy Hoffa, 52, business agent for Pontiac Local 614, was one of three Pontiac Teamster officials who refused to answer prosecution questions on the grounds of self-incrimination during the trial in Federal District Court, Detroit.

The other two were Frank Orsini, a former vice president of the local, and Leann Harrelson, local president.

Harrelson is free on bond, awaiting trial in federal court on charges of embezzlement and making false entries in Local 614 financial records. He was indicted last September by a federal grand jury.

In yesterday's trial testimony, Billy Hoffa refused to answer one question on the duties of a Teamster business agent, two regarding previous testimony at Harmon's Grand Jury hearing, and two regarding Harmon's private cabin cruiser, "The Princess Enterprise."

The government has charged Harmon, financial secretary for Local 614, with embezzling $2,065 from the union treasury by using gasoline credit cards to purchase supplies for the boat.

Harmon, who lives at 2990 Barnes, Waterford Township, has contended that it was used for union conferences and that other persons had used the credit cards to purchase supplies.

U.S. Atty. Richard Coleman has introduced testimony that Harmon repaid $1,500 of the total amount after the Grand Jury called in bookkeepers of the local for questioning.

He was indicted last June following an audit of Local 614 records by federal Labor Department investigators.

The case, being tried before Judge Talbot Smith, is expected to go to the jury early next week according to U.S. Atty. William Merrill.

Fear Haitian Violence if OAS Leaves

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Diplomats feared today that the departure from Haiti of an inter-American investigating commission would be followed by new and bloody repression of President Francois Duvalier's political foes.

Concern also spread because Duvalier's regime had offered safe conduct out of the country for only 15 of 22 Haitians who took asylum in the Dominican Republic's Embassy during a weekend wave of terror.

The Dominican government was expected to insist that all 22 be allowed to leave, prolonging the crisis between the two neighbors on the island of Hispaniola.

The five-nation mission from the Organization of American States planned to fly today to Santo Domingo, the Dominican capital, to discuss the question of the refugees with President Juan Bosch and continue its investigation.

Informed sources said the Haitian government was refusing to let alleged leaders of plots against Duvalier leave the country but was willing to allow those considered lesser conspirators to go.

Duvalier's government reportedly made a similar offer with regard to nearly 100 others who have taken refuge in the embassies of Brazil, Chile, Venezuela and Ecuador.

Duvalier raised the threat of new repressions in a speech Tuesday night to a rally of 10,000 supporters.

"Those who are uncertain about what to do had better put themselves on my side," he declared.

Tension and fear gripped Haiti's ramshackle capital. More arrests were reported.

Absence of Kozlov Arouses Speculation

By HENRY SHAPIRO

MOSCOW (UPI) — The unexplained absence of Frol Kozlov from May Day festivities stirred speculation today that he is ill and possibly out of the running as eventual successor to Nikita Khrushchev.

Kozlov, 55, is deputy Communist party leader and has been pegged publicly by Premier Khrushchev as his choice to be the next party first secretary, the most powerful post in the Soviet Union.

The failure of Kozlov to join Khrushchev and other Kremlin leaders at the big May Day parade created as much stir in diplomatic circles as the presence of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

Castro, who has been in the Soviet Union since last Saturday, continued his sightseeing and talks with Khrushchev today.

Rumors about Kozlov started earlier in the week when he failed to appear at any of the welcoming ceremonies for Castro. As is customary here, the Russians offered no explanation, and it was thought that Kozlov may have been on vacation or indisposed in a minor way.

But when the deputy party leader did not show up at Lenin's Mausoleum in Red Square yesterday, the speculation picked up. Soviet leaders (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Probe Effects of Salt Water on Equipment

Think Bursting Pipe Could Have Disabled Lost Craft's Controls

From Our News Wires

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. —

The Navy was scheduled to conduct tests today on simulated submarine compartments in an attempt to find the cause of the Thresher disaster.

A spokesman for the Navy court of inquiry probing the loss of the Thresher with 129 men aboard said the compartment would be flooded to see what happens when sea water strikes electrical switchboard and other equipment.

The Navy said the test would be closed to press and public. However, it said it would issue a statement at its conclusion.

The Navy apparently was trying to find out if a bursting pipe could have disabled the submarine's controls, causing it to drop to the ocean bottom.

Vice Adm. Bernard L. Austin, president of the court, said shipyard will construct equipment similar to that aboard the Thresher and subject it to severe tests.

Some such tests have already been conducted at Portsmouth Naval Shipyard and at Vallejo, Calif.

The court of inquiry was given classified information behind closed doors today prior to watching the tests.

Several civilian employees of the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard where the Thresher was built and overhauled were scheduled witnesses on the 15th day of the exhaustive investigation into the disaster.

The court has heard 80,000 words of testimony covering 1,000 pages from 67 witnesses, and has been given 130 exhibits entered as evidence.

At sea, 220 miles off Cape Cod, a six-ship flotilla of Navy and oceanographic vessels resumed the search for the Thresher's watery grave.

Capt. Frank A. Andrews, in command of the search, said the same 10-square-mile area would be covered again.

Fair and mild weather is predicted for the Pontiac area tonight.

Temperatures will dip to a mild 46 and rise to a warm 67 tomorrow. Showers arriving tomorrow afternoon will continue through Saturday.

Thirty-eight was the low reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The thermometer registered 62 at 1 p.m.

College Supporters Poised to Get Issue on June 10 Ballot

Supporters of a proposed Oakland County community college are keeping one eye on the calendar and another on Gov. George Romney's pen hand.

The County Board of Education faces a May 11 deadline in getting the community college proposition on the June 10 ballot. Otherwise, a costly special election would be necessary.

Oakland County School Supt. William J. Emerson said today that Gov. Romney was expected to sign the community college bill late this week or the first of next week.

Meeting last week, the school board tentatively agreed to three propositions to go before the voters. However, the board must formally approve the ballot proposals after Romney signs the community college act.

The propositions ask voter approval of the community college, a one-mill tax levy to finance the college, and the election of a six-man board of trustees to run the junior college.

Rules Hughes Must Default

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge ruled today that the failure of Howard R. Hughes, elusive millionaire industrialist, to appear personally in an antitrust suit constituted a default in the case.

The ruling could mean that the Hughes Tool Co. may have to pay Trans World Airlines up to $15 million in damages.

Judge Charles M. Metzner of Federal District Court said that Hughes' failure to appear was "a deliberate flouting of an order of this court" and constituted a "willful, deliberate default" in the case.

He said he will refer the case to a special master, who will hold hearings on the exact amount of damages to be awarded the airline.

Warmer Spell to Thaw Out Nippy Nation

From Our News Wires

Unseasonable cool weather, with light snow in some areas, chilled much of the eastern third of the nation today but a warming trend appeared on the West Coast.

Spring crops in the Midwest and Ohio Valley were tested by the unseasonable temperatures. Record cold covered the area yesterday.

Brisk northerly winds fanned cool air from eastern Pennsylvania northward into New England. Snow fell in scattered sections of Pennsylvania and Vermont.

Rain ended in eastern Maine as the storm that spread from the Midwest moved out to the Atlantic.

Clear weather was reported in most other sections in the eastern half of the nation.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Rain and showers will fall to night in northern Pacific Coast, northern Plateau and northern Plains, while showers and thunderstorms will be scattered through the mid-Mississippi Valley, southern Plains and south Atlantic Coast. It will be generally warmer in eastern third of nation and in the southern Plains with cooler air west of the Mississippi Valley.

LUNCH HOUR — "This is a luxury compared to what William Moore had," said one of the Freedom Marchers hiking to Mississippi along Moore's route. The Baltimore postman was slain last week while carrying a sign like the one pictured.

'Freedom Walk'

Ten Continue South

WILDWOOD, Ga. (UPI) — Ten Negro and white integrationists began the second day of their "freedom walk" today in the heart of the Deep South into the heart of the Deep South and headed toward apparent arrest in Alabama.

"Gonna keep on walking, gonna keep on talking, on to Alabama," Mrs. Addie Combs, 36, Beggs, La., said.

The group said they expect to reach the Alabama border early tomorrow afternoon. Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace has made it clear the group will probably be arrested.

Temperatures dropped to the 30s during the night. The marchers had to scrounge wood for the stove in the tiny church where they spent the night.

"Oh boy, was it ever cold," said one.

The group said they expect to reach the Alabama border early tomorrow afternoon. Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace has made it clear the group will probably be arrested.

Eight Negroes were taken into custody in Alabama yesterday when they attempted to retrace a portion of the march made by William Moore, the Baltimore postman killed last week on a civil rights march.

The assignment clerk's office on the second floor would become the sixth judge's chambers; the assignment clerk would be moved and juries probably would assemble in the new auditorium soon to be completed at the courthouse.

This would give the courthouse three circuit courtrooms on each the second and third floors.

Present plans do not call for a seventh courtroom, but for having the presiding judge work only in his chambers, which may go into the new auditorium building.

Annual cost of the new two judges to the county has been set at $750,000, a 1968 county budget. This would include salary, staff and expenses, but does not cover changes in the courthouse to make room for them.

The Democratic State Central Committee voted to ask for a recount despite warnings from party leaders that hopes of changing the result were extremely slight.

Eleven percent of the Federal Government's white-collar workers are in scientific and engineering jobs — about 165,000 people compared with 34,000 in 1935.

Area Pair to Rescue

Saved in Fiery Crash

A 60-year-old White Lake Township woman had two area men to thank for her life today.

Mrs. Addie Combs, 36, Beggs, La., escaped death when the pair pulled her from the flaming wreckage of her car after an accident on Highland Road at Duck Lake Road yesterday afternoon.

Credited by state police with risking their lives were Alfred Couture, 35, of 422 Kenilworth, and George Martin, 61, of 4727 Duck Lake Road.

"If it hadn't been for Couture and Martin the woman would surely have burned to death," a state trooper said.

CAR DESTROYED

The accident occurred just before 5 p.m. when Mrs. Combs' car collided with Couture's auto at the intersection.

Mrs. Combs made a left turn in front of Couture's car from the eastbound lane of Highland Road onto Duck Lake Road according to police. Couture was traveling west on Highland.

Couture rushed from his car and with the aid of Martin was able to pull the woman over the driver's seat and out the rear door, police said. The collision had jammed the front doors shut.

Couture, a test driver for the Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors, was only slightly injured in the accident.

Mrs. Combs suffered a broken hip and leg cuts. She was reported in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital.

all with politics. It was not intended to be.

The Romneys are old friends, and always stay with them when they come to Washington, Mrs. Marriott said.

"This is the first vacation Romney has had," Mrs. Marriott said, meaning the first since he took over as governor of Michigan the first of the year.

At the time Mrs. Marriott was reached, her husband and Romney were out on the golf links.

COMMENDS WORK

Rep. Ford, chairman of the House Republican Conference, said Romney is doing an excellent job as governor and he has no doubt of Romney's qualifications for any other office.

In Ford's view, the contest for the presidential nomination appears to be between Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

"The Republicans need a vigorous, controversial convention," Ford said. "It would be most unfortunate if there were no hard contest for the presidential nomination and it became a cut-and-dried affair."

At the same time, Ford said, it is his judgment that "because he (Romney) inherited so many problems from the previous Democratic governors in Michigan," Romney cannot put himself in the race for the nomination.

Ford said this does not mean, however, that the Michigan delegation to the convention cannot push him for the No. 1 spot on the ticket. He said Romney, who became governor at the beginning of the year, has "made a substantial impression—national."

Doubt China Claim of Torpedoed Ship

The freighter left Tsingtao, a Yellow Sea port, on Tuesday. It was to be the first Red Chinese ship to visit Japan under a private trade agreement signed with Japanese businessmen last year.

At 1 p.m. Wednesday, about the time the Chinese reportedly said they were torpedoed, the ship radioed an SOS.

The Japanese fishermen communicated with the Chinese by hand signs and a drawing and then radioed the torpedoing story to Japan, officials said.

After transferring the Chinese crew, the Iki Maru resumed fishing and could not be contacted.

Officials based their doubts of the story on these factors:

1. No crewmen specifically reported seeing a torpedo.

2. Experts said it was unbelievable that a freighter the size of the Yue Jin Ho could stay afloat for four hours after taking three torpedoes.

3. No crewman was injured and no debris was found floating where the freighter was supposed to have sunk. Experts said there would have been injuries and debris if the ship had been torpedoed.

4. The reported position of the ship when it went down is in an area where mines have been found and near Scott Rock, a submerged reef that poses a threat to all shipping even though it is well marked on most navigation charts.

day night by the Oakland County Republican Executive Committee.

The GOP committee will forward its recommendations to Romney after reviewing the candidates.

Besides Thorburn and Pratt, the 10 names are Birmingham Municipal Judge John C. Emery Jr.; Royal Oak attorney Theodore F. Hughes; Pontiac attorney and former State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge; Waterford Township Justice of the Peace John E. McGrath; Birmingham attorney Maurice Merritt; Southfield attorney Clarence A. Reid Jr.; and County Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

AWAIT ANNOUNCEMENT

While the county awaits the governor's announcement, county officials are using the time judges to get ready for the next judges, wherever they turn out to be.

The five current circuit judges have turned a committee of three to work with the County Board of Auditors on plans to provide facilities. On the committee are Circuit Judges William J. Beer, Stanton G. Dondoro and Arthur E. Moore.

A sixth courtroom is expected to be completed by remodeling and renovating the large assembly room on the second floor.

No estimates of cost on this is yet available, according to John C. Austin, chairman of the County Board of Auditors.

Three Youths Named to Service Academies

BIRMINGHAM — Two Birmingham youths and one from Madison Heights will become cadets at the armed services academies, U.S. Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland, has announced.

Scheduled to attend the Naval Academy is Charles V. Gardiner Jr., son of Cmdr. and Mrs. Charles V. Gardiner of 607 Hawthorne.

Charles was graduated from Washington-Lee High School, Arlington, Va., while his father was stationed at the Pentagon with the Department of the Navy.

Slated for West Point is Richard W. Kline Jr., son of Col. and Mrs. R. W. Kline, formerly of 5515 Poplarville.

Richard attended Wyllie E. Groves High School and was graduated from Tallahassee High School, Fla., where his father is doing postgraduate work at Florida State University.

Stuart G. Bostrom of Madison Heights is to attend the Air Force Academy.

Broomfield said the future cadets were selected from among 51 applicants and scored highest on elimination examinations.

Each will enter his respective academy in July and will be graduated as an officer after four years of schooling.

The congressman urged youths interested in attending the Air Force Academy or West Point next year to contact him before June 1 at room 1222, House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

There will be no vacancy for the Naval Academy next year, he said.

The gardens and park of Cranbrook House in Bloomfield Hills, which attracts thousands of visitors each year, will open officially Saturday.

Occupying 40 rolling acres, the gardens feature formal and casual plantings, pine walks, cascades, fountains and statuary surrounding the home of Cranbrook's founders, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Booth.

The grounds will be open through October from 2 to 5 p.m. daily except Mondays and major holidays.

Tickets may be purchased at the Academy of Art galleries and on Sundays at the Lone Pine gate. Proceeds benefit the scholarship funds of the Cranbrook schools.

Half of County Set for Recount

More than half of Oakland County's precincts are expected to be involved in a statewide recount of the April 1 vote on the new state constitution.

James M. McNeely, executive assistant to County Democratic Chairman Sander M. Levin, said today that 199 of the county's 340 precincts are slated for a recount in the petition of the Democratic State Central Committee.

Democrats planned to file for a recount in slightly more than 1,000 of the state's precincts by today's deadline.

Finances are limiting the number of precincts included in the recount petition, according to McNeely.

The party, already deep in debt, must put up $5 a precinct. The state has 5,200 precincts.

Oakland County Democrats have raised about $500 toward the recount, McNeely said. This included $100 from Pontiac and $125 from Royal Oak.

The cost of recounting 199 Oakland County precincts for the party would be $995, although it is estimated that the recount will cost the county about $40 or $50 per precinct.

McNeely said one of the reasons why about a fifth of the total precincts slated for a recount were in Oakland County was a peculiarity in the county's voting that had nearly as many votes cast on the constitution as in the partisan race for state superintendent of public instruction.

There was only a 1,000 - vote difference, representing a much smaller percentage difference than the rest of the state.

The Democratic State Central Committee voted to ask for a recount despite warnings from party leaders that hopes of changing the result were extremely slight.

Note Written From Lost Ship?

NEW YORK (AP) — The Coast Guard announced today that it has received a note purportedly written by a crewman of the tanker Marine Sulphur Queen which disappeared in early February in the Florida Strait.

The note was turned over to Coast Guard by Pedro Serrano, of Corpus Christi, Tex., who said he found it in a bottle near Spoil Island, near Laguna Madre.

One side of the note read: "S.O.S. Sulphur Queen, help." The Coast Guard said the writing was a crude drawing of Florida, Cuba, and a ship in the Florida Strait.

The back of the message said: "Our ship was sailing steadily, suddenly there was an explosion. Two men were hurt. This is all I have to say, because I am get..."

Speculation Over Kozlov Stirs Moscow

always make it a rule to be on the reviewing stand on May Day if they are in the country.

Kozlov is known to have suffered a mild heart attack several years ago and there have been unconfirmed reports in Moscow for some time that he has been ailing, although it is Soviet practice never to admit such things officially.

Diplomatic observers believe a second serious illness at this time would cast grave doubts on Kozlov's fitness to some day take over Khrushchev's job as party leader.

The observers discounted the possibility that Kozlov might be in political trouble. His picture still was hanging throughout the city today alongside those of Khrushchev and President Leonid Brezhnev as mementos of May Day.

Pontiac Municipal Must Expand

CARD PUNCHER — Esther C. Moffit of the village of Highland operates the Pontiac school district's keypunch machine. The machine prints a card containing such things as rate of pay, number of hours, social security number, and payroll deductions on every employee in the system.

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third in a series of articles on Pontiac Municipal Airport — present and future.)

By DICK BUCK
Telegraph Editor

Airports, like people sometimes have growing pains.

The pains come partly in having to tell nearby residents that the land where their homes stand is needed for airport expansion.

Such may be the situation soon at Pontiac Municipal Airport, which is getting to be like a robust 15-year-old boy trying to wear the trousers which fit him when he was 8.

The city's energetic airfield needs a new runway to both handle and stimulate continued growth.

There may well be some homes on the land needed to build that runway. For those who live in them, the growth may also be painful.

Airport Manager Homer Hoskins discussed a proposed $5-million expansion project.

"Our master plan calls for a new north-south runway which would enable us to handle larger planes with the wind blowing from any direction," Hoskins said.

"This would be either east or west of Williams Lake Road. Land acquisition, involving 175 acres, has been estimated at $2.5 million. It would include condemnation of some homes.

It's sometimes necessary to do this when an airport expands."

Hoskins added that once land has been acquired and cleared, actual construction of the runway, related taxiway and drainage would cost about $1.5 million.

TENTATIVE PLANS

He emphasized that the master plan is still in its tentative stage.

roll for 1,500 employees, biannual social security reports, income tax accounting and the preparation of half a dozen reports to state and federal governments.

To prepare this vast mountain of statistical information, Pontiac has been a pioneer in the use of data processing machines.

The business office rents a keypunch machine, which makes out a card on each employee. The card contains such information as the number of hours worked, overtime, deductions and other pertinent data.

This information is fed into a high-speed computer, which is rented from the county on an hourly basis. The computer prepares a master payroll card from which a check is issued.

TIME SAVER

Schiller said that in the past, payroll preparation was a tedious and time-consuming process. It now takes about two and a half hours for all 1,500 full-time employees.

Data processing also provides employees with more services. He said, for example, an employee can have payroll deduction changes made with great speed.

The biggest advantage for the business office itself is that the high-speed IBM operation permits growth — greater volume.

"In other words," Schiller explained, "we can accommodate a larger payroll with the same personnel."

Data processing may have other uses in the future. He said two schools, Madison Junior High and Pontiac Northern, already are making out report cards by data processing.

Schiller said class scheduling is another area being studied. He said the machines could take some of the load off counselors and principals who must set up class schedules.

They are not only in higher salaries but in better working conditions and "better learning conditions for children."

Their present one-year contract expires July 1 and they have threatened to strike when school reopens next September unless a new pact is negotiated.

They previously engaged in two one-day strikes.

and not something that'll become a reality tomorrow.

"The Federal Aviation Agency and State Department of Aeronautics are studying the plans and may suggest changes," Hoskins said. "Then, the City Commission must give its approval. And, finally, we must get the money."

Such appropriations come on a matching-fund basis. The federal government offers the biggest chunk, but won't actually chip in until the state and local units put up their share.

The City Commission has asked the Oakland County Board of Supervisors to help with the local share.

This brought an observation from Supervisors Chairman Delos Hamlin that the Pontiac Municipal expansion plans might be a bit excessive.

Hoskins countered with an observation of his own.

"It would cost the county about as much just to relocate the Edison power lines at its Allen Airport site as this project of ours will."

Hoskins was referring to the over-all $5-million cost of the project involving the new north-south runway.

Compass-Point Runways

Airport runways are numbered according to compass directions.

The direction in which an airplane must face when landing or taking off from a given end of a runway determines its number.

The compass reading from this position is rounded off to the nearest 10 degrees. Then the final zero is dropped.

Thus, a runway which headed to 357 degrees would be called Runway 36. Since a runway is used from opposite ends, it has two numbers with one 18 (180 degrees) higher or lower than the other.

Runways at Pontiac Municipal Airport are numbered 9-27 (east-west), 18-36 (south-north) and 4-22 (southwest-northeast).

He emphasized that he wasn't opposed to the county's ambitions for the Orion Township field, but said he used the comparison to illustrate how costly airport improvements can be.

A separate expansion project would pull up some homes east of Airport Road. This would involve a 900-foot lengthening at the east end of the 5,300-foot-long runway and other improvements.

While the lengthening itself could be confined to airport property, the homes would have to go to provide required approach clearance. Estimated over all price tag of this plan is $550,000.

The new north-south runway would be 5,300 feet long and 130 feet wide. That's the width of the east-west strip, and conforms with federal recommendations.

Why the need for the new runway? Doesn't Pontiac Municipal have one running north and south now?

"We do, but it's only 2,500 feet long and 60 feet wide," said Hoskins. "It can't handle the bigger multiengine planes."

Is this a barrier to attracting a corporation like General Motors into basing at least part of its sizable air fleet here?

"We've talked with General Motors and they've expressed some interest in our airport," Hoskins admitted. "But they want to be able to take off and land no matter which way the wind is blowing. They couldn't with the runways we have now."

GM bases most of its fleet of twin-engine turbo-prop Convairs, DCs and Beechcrafts at Detroit's Willow Run Airport. The others are housed at Detroit City Airport.

Pontiac Municipal is closer than Willow Run for Tech Center traveling GM executives from the Pontiac area and is handier than Willow Run for Tech Center travelers.

GM flights occasionally visit Pontiac on a transient basis now. With the new runway at least some of them, along with those of other corporations, may be based here.

The third runway at Pontiac Municipal, southwest-northeast, is 2,400 feet long and 60 feet wide. There are no extension or replacement plans for it. (Next: Cracking the fog barrier)

Supervision of Spending

Data Processing Aids Schools

By GARY THORNE

Behind the facade of the building at 40 Patterson, a complex maze of typewriters, adding machines and telephones represents the Pontiac school system's central nerve center.

Presided over by Vernon L. Schiller, director of financial management, this beehive of activity is where the spending of money — about $9 million a year — is supervised.

Like a conscientious wife, the central business office checks, double checks and generally oversees such things as a weekly payroll for 1,500 employees, biannual social security reports, income tax accounting and the preparation of half a dozen reports to state and federal governments.

To prepare this vast mountain of statistical information, Pontiac has been a pioneer in the use of data processing machines.

The business office rents a keypunch machine, which makes out a card on each employee. The card contains such information as the number of hours worked, overtime, deductions and other pertinent data.

Teachers Set for Mass Rally

New York Pickets

Hit School Budget

NEW YORK (AP) — Several hundred picketing teachers, some of whom had spent the night, continued a vigil outside City Hall today in preparation for a mass rally at 4 p.m.

Many of the pickets had blankets draped over their shoulders in an effort to ward off the damp chill in the air.

Charles Egan, president of the United Federation of Teachers, joined the pickets shortly before 7 a.m. and said the demonstration "shows the teachers mean business in their efforts to obtain a better budget for the school system."

The proposed education budget bill will be presented to the Board of Estimate and City Council today. The teachers contend it falls far short of their minimum hopes.

Members of the teachers union started gathering outside City Hall at 6 p.m. Wednesday. The number picketing was estimated between 500 and 1,000 at various times.

Cogen said the teachers were interested not only in higher salaries but in better working conditions and "better learning conditions for children."

Their present one-year contract expires July 1 and they have threatened to strike when school reopens next September unless a new pact is negotiated.

They previously engaged in two one-day strikes.

Day Care, Hospitals Will Be Discussed

Day hospitals and day care will be discussed at the annual meeting of the Oakland County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Health at noon Friday, May 10, at Devon Gables, Long Lake and Telegraph Roads, Bloomfield Hills.

Dr. Henry Brill, deputy commissioner, Department of Mental Hygiene, New York, will speak on the values of day care and day hospital treatment.

A program of day care is scheduled to be instituted at Pontiac State Hospital next year, according to John MacKay, president of the Oakland County Chapter.

K-May Yank Troops

WASHINGTON (UPI) — W. Averell Harriman's Moscow talk with Nikita Khrushchev reinforced the highest impression here that the Soviet leader is willing to pull more troops out of Cuba if he can do so without loss of face.

This was reported today by reliable sources familiar with those parts of the undersecretary of state's report to President Kennedy which he has not discussed in public.

Harriman persuaded Kennedy to let him visit Moscow to urge Soviet cooperation in Laos. That was the subject on which he was empowered to negotiate.

But last Friday's conversation in the Kremlin also touched on Cuba, Berlin and nuclear testing.

MORE MAY LEAVE

Informants said the impression Harriman got from Khrushchev's remarks on Cuba was that the Russian leader would like to take out more military personnel if the United States refrained from making a big issue of it so he would not appear to be giving in to American demands.

Khrushchev was understood to have indicated that he had been impressed by Kennedy's steps to halt refugee hit-and-run raids on Cuba and the moderate nature of America.

the President's public comments on the continued Soviet presence there.

The theory here has been that after pulling out his medium range missiles, Khrushchev no longer feels the need of troops on the spot to guard against Cuban irresponsibility.

He is believed to feel the troops have become a propaganda liability because they emphasize the truth of charges that Cuba is a completely controlled Soviet satellite.

This impression has damaged Soviet efforts to spread Communism in Latin America.

Seek Entries for CAI Queen

Contestants for the title, "1963 CAI Queen," must file applications by next Wednesday, CAI director Robert Bauer announced today.

Single girls from 15 to 19 years old are eligible. Applications are available at the CAI building.

This year's winner will reign over the annual CAI Fair slated for June 24-26 and will receive a one-week, expense-paid trip to a northern Michigan dude ranch.

Planners Recommend Commercial Denial

After a lengthy hearing involving arguments by doctors, dentists and residents, the City Planning Commission last night recommended that a commercial zoning for land at West Huron and Lincoln be denied.

The commercial zoning had been asked for by Dr. H. H. Swanson, a dentist, for a parcel on the northwest corner. Dr. Swanson is planning a new dentists' office building on the site.

The parcel is next to the site of a larger doctors' clinic now under construction. Both the clinic and Swanson's property are presently zoned for personal service use.

Swanson wanted the commercial zoning because it would enable him to construct a larger building and provide more off-street parking.

The personal service zoning requires considerable set-back area from streets and the clinic property. Under commercial, Swanson noted, that set-back space could be converted to parking space.

"This is particularly vital in the Pontiac General Hospital area where there is a serious parking problem," he said.

Doctors who own the clinic objected on grounds that their investment of about $250,000 in the clinic would be endangered by a commercial zoning next door.

They feared that in years to come, anything under the commercial classification could be built on the corner parcel.

The question of closing an alley at the rear of the property also came up. It runs along property owned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cisse, 13 Lincoln St., and is an access route to the clinic's interior parking area.

The Cisse's asked that the alley be vacated and closed "because the constant traffic of cars, trucks and tractors is creating a mess."

The planning board recommended that the question of set-back lines be taken before the Zoning Board of Appeals and that the alley remain open and be improved and maintained by the city.

The recommendation will go to the City Commission for action Tuesday night.

Sanford Proves He Can Finish Job

By The Associated Press
Jack Sanford slapped down some impressive statistics when he talked contract with the San Francisco Giants this spring, such as a 24-7 won-lost record, including 16 in a row, a World Series shutout and a strong playoff effort. But Jack, said the management in an effort to keep the price down, you didn't finish what you started.

WIN STREAK
There was a point there, Sanford started 30 games during his winning streak and completed only six, and had just 13 complete games in 38 starts for the season.

Jack came to terms after a brief holdout, and set out this season to eliminate that talking point. Wednesday night he threw his third complete game of the young season, a 5-1 seven-hitter over the Pittsburgh Pirates, for his fourth victory. It snapped a four-game Pirates' winning streak and shoved the Giants into third place in the National League, only two games out of first.

The four-game winning streak of the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals was also snapped. Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs, always a terror in St. Louis, did have a 42-41 mark on the road, most of the damage in a 13-8 Cub victory.

Banks entered the game hitting 222, with two homers and six runs batted in. He crashed two three-run homers and drove in another run with a single. Now his homer total is four, his RBI total 13 and his batting average .247.

In the only other National League game, Jerry Lynch slammed the 13th pinch-hit homer of his career for a 4-3 Cincinnati victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

The Houston at New York and Los Angeles at Philadelphia games were rained out. The Colts and Mets played three innings before the rains came with the Colts on top 1-0.

While Sanford was establishing his new route-going pattern, his Giant mates were working on a new winning habit of their own. They are now 6-1 on the road and only 6-8 at home. Last year Banks of the Chicago Cubs, on their way to the pennant they had a 42-41 mark on the road, and were 61-21 in friendly Candelstick Park.

There's no letup in making the Buick Open golf tournament one of the top attractions on the golf circuit each year.

Few years back, the $50,000 purse was one of the best on the tour. Today, very few tournaments can talk terms in anything less than this amount.

Rather than just adding money to the purse, tournament officials are looking for ways to add new features to lure spectators and average golfers into the picture.

When Buick Open officials announced the $100,000-enter-and-park setup a few seasons ago, the fans flocked to Warwick Hills in record numbers.

Now, in an indirect way, the tournament itself is being made available to non-tournament players and weekend golfers across the country.

The feature of this year's tournament, June 6-9, will be the Buick Open Sweepstakes, to be held Saturday June 7th.

FOR GOLF FANS
Golf fans will qualify themselves by pre-registering at auto dealerships around the country. Those selected will team with one of 15 golf pros.

These pros will be the 15 leaders after 36 holes of the tournament.

They will drive for the 17th hole, a 155 yarder from the special built tee, since PGA rules forbid practice shots during a tournament. The hole is normally 223 yards, and last year Jerry Barber's hole-in-one was actually filmed here and earned him a brand new car.

The prizes for the sweepstakes will be $50,000 for a hole-in-one; $15,000 for the closest ball for the hole; $7,500 down to $250 for the other closest shots and $100 for each pro who doesn't score.

The pro and his golf-fan partner will split the winnings down the middle.

If the pro should drop in all three of his shots, unlikely but not impossible, he would get $30,000 for each ace to be split equally.

Figuring out all possible combinations of hole-in-ones and close golf shots by he and his partner, one pair could win as much as $177,500 or $88,750 apiece. Again, this is unlikely, but it will certainly draw the golfers to give it a least try.

The Buick Open Sweepstakes will be a full hour of national television, and then on Sunday June 9th another one and a half hours of the tournament finale will get national telecasting.

SHORT PUTS
A free golf school will be held

Hills Posts W-O Victory

Bloomfield Hills, Capac and double and triple for two runs batted in and Dan Petz had two singles and a double for two rbi's. Al Nagy's fifth-inning two-out single was the only hit for Brown City.

Two unearned runs in the last inning gave visiting Armada its first Thumt loop victory, 2-0, over Almont last night. Almont right-hander Dave Bechtel had effectively scattered eight hits until the last inning, when a single, three errors and a sacrifice fly did him in.

Cranbrook used four walks and two singles for three runs in the third inning that broke open its game with Ferndale. The Eagles rallied for four runs in the fifth and knocked out starter John Billeston in the sixth.

Terry Martin's triple sparked a three-run first inning for Emmanuel Christian which defeated St. Fred's for the second time this season. Tim Mayer was the winning hurler.

Ken Kobayashi had a single, winning hurler.

Vote Kennedy for President

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Association has followed the widespread trend by picking a vigorous new leader in a move to consolidate its status as a major sport. J. Walter Kennedy, 49-year-old mayor of Stamford, Conn., is the man.

Kennedy will take over Sept. 1 when 73-year-old Maurice Podoloff retires. Podoloff has guided the league through its many twists and turns over the last 17 years.

Dealing with the nine owners has taxed Podoloff's ingenuity at times. Undoubtedly it also will give Kennedy his share of headaches. However, at a reported $35,000 a year, Kennedy isn't worried.

"I do not anticipate any more differences with the nine men than I had as mayor of a city of 100,000 people," said Kennedy.
